School Vote Facing Apathy?

Voter apathy may provide the biggest headache for school officials come the "morning after," the Oct. 2 special election in the Pontiac School District.

A poor turnout of "yes" votes on renewal of Pontiac schools' extra voted 8.75-mill tax could defeat the measure.

Generally, support of the measure has been widespread to date. However, school officials hope this "support" won't lull "Yes" voters into staying home Oct. 2.

Property owners in the local school district, who will pass on the 10-year millage at the special school election, so far have reacted favorably to it.

"I believe our greatest foe is apathy, rather than organized opposition," stated Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

The school chief, however, feels that there is general agreement that "renewal is reasonable and necessary."

ATTRACT OPPOSITION

Taxes, notably school taxes, frequently attract organized opposition. A Pontiac millage was defeated four years ago through organized dissent.

In 1960, a 2.80-mill proposal was rejected 2,782 yes to 3,410 no.

Whitmer described the reaction to the current millage proposal as "interested, serious and supportive."

★ ★ ★

Said Whitmer, "I think we're getting the feeling that by gosh, we've got good schools and we've got to keep them going."

EXTRA MILLAGE

The original extra voted 8.75-mill package was okayed by a substantial margin in 1954. Voters said yes 2,870 to 1,943.

The favorable reaction this year, say school officials, could keep "yes" votes at home.

Support has come from many quarters.

★ ★ ★

"The most important investment available to parents and property owners alike is the development and education of our youth," states Philip E. Rowston, attorney and former Pontiac mayor.

BIG STRIDES

"We cannot afford to jeopardize the tremendous strides achieved during the past 10 years . . .," he added.

Says Romney Could Assure Barry of State

Arizonan Will Stump in Michigan; Due to Appear on Saturday

LANSING (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's chief spokesman in Michigan said today the Arizonan could carry the state easily if Republican Gov. George Romney would endorse him.

Without Romney's blessing, however, Creighton Holden, state chairman of "Citizens for Goldwater - Miller," rated Goldwater's presidential prospects in Michigan as no more than a tossup.

Romney has steadfastly refused to endorse the senator because of their differing views of political extremism and civil rights.

Last week, in discussing the GOP's national ticket and platform, Romney said, "I accept them but I don't endorse them."

★ ★ ★

Saturday, Goldwater and Romney will come together on the campaign trail for the first time since the senator won the GOP nomination at San Francisco in July.

THREE CITIES

Goldwater is due to visit three cities — Niles, Midland and Detroit — and Romney will be with him in the last two.

At Midland, Romney is supposed to speak before the senator arrives and he intends to leave as soon as he can to do some campaigning on his own in Bay and Monroe Counties before rejoining Goldwater in Detroit.

At Detroit, a rally, with an expected audience of 14,000 or more, is planned in Cobo Hall, and Romney has promised to introduce the senator. Yesterday,

RACES OVER HILLSIDE — Flames leap from a brush fire sweeping over a hill on the outskirts of Santa Barbara, Calif., where between 17 and 20 homes were destroyed last night and this morning.

Nonmoney Issues Stall GM Accord

DETROIT (AP) — Controversial noneconomic problems appeared today to be the major roadblocks to a peaceful settlement in labor contract negotiations between General Motors and the United Auto Workers union.

Bargaining teams—faced with an impending strike deadline—met in morning, afternoon and night sessions yesterday seeking agreement on a pact covering some 354,000 UAW - represented employes at GM plants across the nation.

Their time was devoted almost exclusively to such matters as working conditions, production standards, union representation and disciplinary layoffs.

Both sides agreed there was still time to avoid a nationwide strike before the 10 a.m. Friday deadline set by the UAW for an agreement. But their comments to newsmen were anything but encouraging.

★ ★ ★

"There was no progress whatsoever—and a lot of work has yet to be done," said UAW President Walter Reuther between sessions.

SEATON AGREES

"There was no substantial forward movement," agreed Louis Seaton, GM vice president for personnel. "But if we work at it, there is no reason in the world why we can't reach a settlement on both economic and noneconomic matters."

In an effort to speed up the process, both sides agreed to scale down their representation at the main bargaining table to six members each.

Other negotiators formed subcommittees concentrating on such specialized subjects as pensions, insurance, skilled trades and the like.

★ ★ ★

This Friday's strike deadline is for an agreement on a national contract covering such items as wages, pensions, vacations, relief time and working conditions.

SECOND DEADLINE

But even if these matters are settled in time, the company faces a second strike deadline the following week on local at-the-plant demands.

Seaton said only four of some 130 bargaining units had resolved their grievances and more than 18,000 local demands are still unsettled.

GM, the nation's largest automaker, has offered the union virtually the same economic package accepted at Chrysler and Ford.

It included pensions of up to $400 a month as an early retirement incentive between the ages of 60 and 65 for a worker with 30 years service. After 65, the benefits decline.

Pattern Appears Set; Answers Big Question on Auto Economics

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors Corp., biggest of the auto makers, said today it has held the basic price line for the seventh consecutive year on its new cars which go on display tomorrow.

Ford Motor Co. said yesterday its 1965 Lincoln - Continental line also will have the same basic price the cars have had since they were introduced in September 1960.

See Story, Page D-18

Other Ford divisions, plus Chrysler Corp. and American Motors, will be announcing their 1965 prices shortly.

The pattern appeared already set, however, and one of the auto industry's big questions was answered.

★ ★ ★

That was whether the auto companies would hold the price line in view of contract talks with the United Auto Workers and increased costs of some materials.

SEVENTH YEAR

"This will be the seventh consecutive year in which Chevrolet prices have remained constant in spite of rising costs," said Semon E. Knudsen, GM vice president and general manager of Chevrolet.

Buick said that prices of four of its cars in the LeSabre series had been cut by $30 over 1964 listings. The prices of its convertibles in the Electra 225, Wildcat and LeSabre series were adjustcd upward to cover inclusion of a solid glass rear window as standard equipment.

List prices do not include federal, state and local taxes, or destination and dealer delivery and handling charges. These generally add several hundred dollars to the price of a car.

★ ★ ★

While the basic car price remains unchanged, customers may in some instances pay a bit more for their car as various items, formerly extra cost options, were made part of the standard package this year.

Wind-Driven California Fire Raging in Residential Area

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — A brush fire whipped by erratic winds raged on today through a residential area of expensive homes with no immediate prospect of control.

Scores of homes were evacuated during the night in the eastern part of Santa Barbara and the exclusive Montecito suburb.

Evacuation centers were set up in Municipal Recreation Hall and Santa Barbara High School.

An army of 1,000 men fighting the fire included bearded men from an artists colony working alongside county and U.S. Forest Service men and Mexican agricultural workers brought from nearby farm labor camps.

Officials said at least 2,000 acres had been scorched.

LOWER COUNT

The number of houses destroyed varied widely in official estimates. Officials once said 30 had been destroyed but today Sheriff James W. Webster said it was 20, and the U.S. Forest Service said at least 17.

Ten airplanes dropped fire retardant chemical solutions on the flames.

One dormitory housing 180 girls was evacuated at Westmont College, a four-year nondenominational private coeducational school, but the girls were expected to return today. The college canceled today's classes.

★ ★ ★

The fire began yesterday afternoon and for a time did not appear to be a major peril.

NEARLY CONTAINED

Firemen believed at one time they had it nearly contained or surrounded, but winds up to 45 miles per hour in the hills flanking Santa Barbara whipped it out of control.

To the north 350 miles, forestry officials were optimistic that they had gained the upper hand over two raging forest fires in California's wine belt. The fires have charred 50,000 acres and destroyed more than 100 buildings.

By last night the fast-moving flames had swept wide swaths across Napa and Sonoma counties, scenic country famous for its tall timbers and terraced vineyards.

★ ★ ★

The hungry fires stopped only when the winds quieted late in the day.

PUSHED LINES

Exhausted fire-fighters kept pushing their lines forward during the night, hoping to cut off any further spread of the searing fire.

Fire officials said it was miraculous that there had been no serious injuries.

Unseasonably high temperatures kept the forests tinder dry.

First of the two fires swept down Mt. St. Helena and into the resort town of Calistoga in Napa county early Monday morning.

Later that day the second fire broke out in Sonoma County, in the woodlands between Sonoma and the adjoining resort communities of Agua Caliente and Boyes Hot Springs.

The Division of Forestry said there were three major fire fronts.

Hundreds of fire fighters spent two desperate days holding fire lines from Calistoga on the eastern front to Santa Rosa on the west and Sonoma in the south.

An estimated 40 to 50 homes were destroyed in Calistoga early Monday and about half the town's 2,500 residents were evacuated. The Napa Valley resort village is about 60 miles north of San Francisco.

Bus Fare Hike Due Oct. 1

City bus riders face a proposed 5-cent fare increase Oct. 1.

The fare increase, subject to bus company approval, was passed by a 4-2 vote of the City Commission last night.

Commissioner Leslie M. Hudson proposed the fare hike from 25 to 30 cents for adult riders. A 90-day trial through Dec. 31, was part of Hudson's proposal.

The city will continue its subsidy of up to $1,715 per month during the three-month period. Student fares of 15 cents will remain the same.

The transit business in Pontiac was discussed to nearly midnight by the City Commission and American Transit Corp.'s K. E. Totten, regional manager.

★ ★ ★

Totten, who opposed the fare hike, reserved the right to reject the increased fares. He said that he would have to talk to other officials of the parent firm, American Transit Corp.

TERMINATION NOTICE

The regional manager said that if the city insisted on the fare hike and his company could not go along with it, 30-day termination notice would have to be given.

Pontiac Transit has furnished local bus transportation on a month-to-month basis since its agreement with the city expired in June.

The bus firm seeks a city subsidy to maintain transit service here. The current monthly contract expires next Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Previously, the city had paid a flat subsidy of $420 per month — $5,040 per year — to help off-

Land Sale Clears Way for Complex

City Commissioners last night removed the last hurdle for Pontiac's second multiple housing development in the R20 Urban Renewal project.

Final approval was given the sale of three parcels of land, for a 22-unit apartment complex, to developer Sheldon Goldman of Royal Oak for $13,500.

Charles Langs has begun construction of Pontiac's first multiple-housing project on urban renewal land at East Pike and Douglas.

Goldman proposes two 2-story buildings on property south of Cottage and east of Wide Track.

★ ★ ★

Total construction cost, including the price of the land, is estimated at $200,000. Construction is expected to take four months and begin almost immediately.

UNIT MAKEUP

Goldman will erect 14 one-bedroom units, renting for about $110 per month, and eight two-bedroom units, renting for $130 per month.

★ ★ ★

In related action, commissioners received a second proposal from Goldman for a similar apartment complex of 28 units for land on the west side of Wide Track, south of Whittemore.

★ ★ ★

Goldman said drawings on the second project would be submitted next week. The land was tentatively priced at $18,300.

Grim Reaper Patrols Home Stretch

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the fourth in an eight-part series of articles written in cooperation with the Governor's Committee on Traffic Safety and the Michigan Press Association.)

By BILL EASTHAM

It's Sunday evening and getting dark. You've had the family "up north" for the weekend and you're on the last leg of your homeward journey.

You've been humming along on the freeway at 70 or 75 for the last three hours and you're just a little tired. But you've left the freeway and the heavy traffic and you're on the home stretch.

A sigh of relief escapes you. But if you look carefully, you'll see the Grim Reaper sitting right on the hood of your car.

You have just entered his home territory. He's been expecting you ever since you left home Friday evening.

★ ★ ★

Freeway driving has a lulling effect on the senses. With no oncoming traffic, intersections, traffic lights or sharp curves to watch out for, the average driver soon becomes dull and lethargic.

CAN BE DISASTROUS

This phenomenon is known as "highway hypnosis." It can be disastrous in itself.

But the real danger point is when you leave the expressway and enter local driving conditions.

Most drivers have trouble adjusting to a lower speed and increased hazards of local traffic. Safety experts believe this may be a principal cause of a sharp increase in accidents on rural and urban county roads last year.

State Police figures show that 67 per cent of those killed and 70.3 per cent of those injured on Michigan highways last year met misfortune in their home county.

Relaxing on the "home stretch" is the worst mistake a driver can make.

There is probably no foolproof solution to this problem. Sgt. Mike J. Sibal, head of the Detroit District State Police Traffic Division, suggests that a sign reminding drivers of a change in driving conditions as they leave the freeway might be helpful.

"But signs will never take the place of common sense," Sgt. Sibal points out.

Even with the most elaborate signing systems marking freeway exits, an occasional motorist becomes confused and is involved in an accident or gets into the wrong lane of traffic when leaving or entering the freeway.

Only recently a Lake Orion youth was killed on I-75 in Troy in a collision with a car that witnesses said had traveled several miles in the wrong lane of traffic.

Perhaps a "wrong - way" warning on the backside of freeway signs would help prevent such tragedies.

Millions of dollars have been spent to provide Michigan with one of the finest road systems in the country.

★ ★ ★

New roads are being built the year around and older roads are constantly being improved. But road building is lagging behind car building.

Pontiac Holds Price Line for 7th Year

For the seventh consecutive year, Pontiac prices will remain unchanged for comparable and similarly equipped models in spite of product improvements and rising costs, E. M. Estes, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division and General Motors vice president said today.

The new Pontiacs and Tempests will go on display in dealer showrooms tomorrow.

Pontiac list prices for the 1965 Tempest, Tempest Custom, LeMans, Catalina, Star Chief, Bonneville and Grand Prix models are basically unchanged.

The Tempests incorporate many new styling and engineering advancements, Estes pointed out. Two new models have been added to the Tempest line — a

Johnson Urges Courage in Time of Smear, Fear

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called upon the nation today to pursue a course of justice, compassion and courage in a time when "smear and fear and intolerance are abroad in the land."

★ ★ ★

He said the voters in the Nov. 3 election will have "a choice between the center and the fringe — between the responsible mainstream of American experience and the reckless and rejected extremes."

★ ★ ★

The President continued that "the heart of our American way of life is under attack — and those who love it must go forth now to save it."

★ ★ ★

Johnson told a wildly cheering union convention that he needed their prayers.

GOLDEN RULE

Speaking to the convention of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers here and to five other union conventions by closed-circuit television, Johnson said never has there been a greater need for the world to live by the Golden Rule in order to preserve freedom — "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

★ ★ ★

Johnson did not mention the forthcoming election or his Republican opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater.

★ ★ ★

He spoke against extremism and factions that are "against the United Nations and the nuclear test ban."

★ ★ ★

Goldwater voted in the Senate against the limited test-ban treaty between the United States and the Soviet Union.

The President said "Americans are not presented with a choice of parties," nor with "a choice of liberalism and conservatism."

"Americans are faced today with a concerted bid for power by factions which oppose all that both parties have supported. It is a choice between the center and the fringe — between the responsible mainstream of American experience and the reckless and rejected extremes," he said.

TIDES RUN HIGH — Two Ocean City, Md., youths play a game of beat the wave as angry seas pushed by high winds and high tides from advancing Hurricane Gladys, push over the top of a jetty in this ocean-front community.

Coast May Feel Winds

Gladys Heading to Sea

NEW YORK (AP) — The Weather Bureau discontinued the hurricane watch for the populous Northeast today except for the eastern tip of Long Island, as Hurricane Gladys followed a course toward open sea.

With the storm centered 230 miles southeast of Atlantic City, N.J., at 11 a.m., EST, the Weather Bureau said Gladys was expected to pass 75-100 miles south of Nantucket after midnight.

★ ★ ★

Coastal dwellers from Eastport, Maine to Cape May, N.J., were warned however, for possible gale force winds up to 55 miles an hour late today and tides up to three feet above normal.

Heavy surf and rough seas were expected to erode some beaches along the New Jersey, Long Island and Cape Cod shoreline.

SHIFT CONFIRMED

The late morning advisory confirmed a predawn report of Hurricane Gladys' shift away from the mainland.

Before the forecast on the hurricane's course was revised, emergency measures had been rushed to protect hundreds of miles of the northeast coast from floods, beach erosion and property damage that had been threatened by the high winds over a vast area around the center of the hurricane.

The center had not been expected to hit the Northeast.

'CANE TURNS

Early today, Gladys turned to a more northerly direction and its forward speed increased to about 8 miles an hour. Highest winds were estimated at 85 m.p.h within 50 miles of the center.

The 6 a.m. forecast for the next 24 hours was that Gladys would shift more to the northeast into the Atlantic, with a considerable increase in the forward movement.

★ ★ ★

The center was expected to pass to the southeast of the Cape Cod, Mass., area tonight.

Beach erosion from heavy surf at some spots along the northeast coast was feared.

HURRICANE WATCH

A hurricane watch — a precautionary measure — remained in effect from the Virginia Capes to Block Island. It was discontinued from the Virginia Capes south to Cape Hatteras, N.C.

Warnings of gales of varying degrees continued from Cape Hatteras to Eastport on the northeast tip of Maine. All warnings were removed south of Cape Hatteras, but small craft in that area were advised to remain in port until winds and seas subside.

The Weather Bureau said that as the hurricane moves northeastward, offshore winds along the coast to the west of the hurricane are expected to range between 30 and 35 m.p.h., except that stronger gusts were forecast along southeastern New England late today and tonight.

columnists Rowland Evans and Robert Novak of the New York Herald Tribune said, "Romney has prepared in his own long-hand a speech of introduction which is courteous, cool and short on compliments for Goldwater."

Richard Milliman, the governor's press secretary, quickly denied the report. "He has not prepared a speech. We've talked about it and it certainly will be courteous," Milliman said.

REMAINS ALOOF

But no one can deny Romney has done his best to remain aloof, from Goldwater, and Holden is among the first to acknowledge the situation.

In a telephone interview, Holden observed that even the National Republican Committee's relations with the State GOP have been strained because of the Romney - Goldwater rift.

He said the Republican State Central Committee has been "desirious of cooperating in any way possible. But obviously, with these reservations the governor has, it makes it more difficult than if there was a unified effort from the presidential level right on down."

Holden said the Goldwater forces have tried repeatedly to sway Romney to their side, but now have given up making any further approaches because "only one man can fix it — the governor."

Holden indicated that in the long run, in his opinion, Romney might damage his own election prospects more than Goldwater's.

"My personal opinion is that this certaily does not help the total Republican cause," he said.

Pontiac Transit last asked for an added subsidy of $20,580 per year.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. and Commissioner Wesley J. Wood voted against Hudson's motion to raise bus fares.

Explaining his vote, Taylor said he had wanted the city manager to study the possible use of tokens.

Commissioner Emmett S. Wellbaum was absent during the vote.

Formal action will be taken next week on the proposed extension of bus service.

'Didn't Mean to Kill Anyone'

Trial Ordered for Engineer in Slayings

DETROIT (AP)—Locomotive Engineer John H. Frazier was ordered yesterday to stand trial on three separate charges of first-degree murder in the fatal shootings of his wife, Dorothy, and two men.

★ ★ ★

Sobbing as he was being led back to his jail cell from the courtroom, Frazier said, "I didn't mean to kill anybody. I just want to go home and show my kids how to cook the food."

Frazier, father of four children, is charged in the shooting Sept. 14 at former radio personality Pierre Paulin's announcing school.

The bodies of Mrs. Frazier and Clarence S. De Potie, a car dealer and father, were found in a recording studio.

★ ★ ★

Paulin's body was found in another room.

FRAZIER WEEPS

The balding, stocky Frazier, a New York Central engineer, wept as a medical examiner testified to the seven bullet wounds in his wife's body.

Defense counsel Robert Colombo said Frazier would plead temporary insanity.

Frazier's statement to police was read to the court.

Jury Acquits Teen in Killing

An Oakland County Juvenile Court jury yesterday acquitted a 16-year-old Oak Park boy charged with first-degree murder in the fatal shooting of his father.

★ ★ ★

The jury said the shooting resulted from an irresistible impulse over which the youth had no reasonable control, according to Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard.

Grant Collins had been charged with shooting his 42-year-old father Kenneth Collins last July 23 following an argument in their home at 24101 Manistee. Collins died 16 days later at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Collins, an Oak Park auxiliary policeman, was shot five times with his 38-caliber service revolver.

The jury of four women and two men recommended outpatient psychiatric treatment for the youth, but did not make it mandatory. The trial lasted one day.

Will Mark Birth Date of Cranbrook Founder

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A salute of 21 aerial bombs tomorrow will mark the 100th anniversary of the birth of George G. Booth, Cranbrook's founder.

The centennial ceremony will be held at 3 p.m. on the north terrace of Cranbrook House.

The heads of the six Cranbrook institutions, board members, alumni and students of the Cranbrook schools will attend. Flags of the six institutions plus that of the Cranbrook Foundation will be flown.

Three aerial bombs will be fired in behalf of each of the institutions and the foundation.

★ ★ ★

Booth was born Sept. 24, 1864 in Toronto. He immigrated to Detroit, entered the newspaper business and established the Booth Newspapers chain. In 1904 he and his wife purchased the Cranbrook property.

DEDICATE SITE

Several years later they dedicated the 300 acres to educational purposes, leading to the establishment of Cranbrook's six institutions — Brookside School Cranbrook, Cranbrook School, Christ Church Cranbrook, Cranbrook Academy of Art, Kingswood School Cranbrook and Cranbrook Institute of Science.

The Cranbrook Foundation was created by trust indenture Nov. 28, 1927.

Booth died in Detroit in 1949.

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission has joined the Bloomfield Township Board in deciding that a parcel of property on the west side of Adams, south of Big Beaver, should be zoned for multiple residences.

A small triangle of the property now under dispute lies within Birmingham.

The township portion of the property owned by Cranbrook Realty Co. was changed from single-family to multiple residence under the township zoning ordinance adopted in 1962.

The firm wants it changed to commercial, but the township has refused, a decision upheld this month in Oakland County Circuit Court.

The court decree left the Birmingham triangle unzoned. It now conforms with the rest of the 7-acre plot bisected by the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks.

Mr. Matus died Monday after a short illness.

He was a retired employe of the Jam Handy Organization of Detroit, having worked in the business theater department for 23 years.

Surviving are his wife, Thyra; a son, Eric K. of Pensacola, Fla.; two sisters; and three grandchildren.

ARTHUR P. JOHNSON

Ex-Principal to Head Center

A former school principal will head up Pontiac's new Hayes Jones Community Center, Walnut at Wesson.

Arthur P. Johnson, 52, of 272 S. Sanford, has been named community center supervisor by the city parks and recreation department.

Johnson, formerly of Jackson, Miss., will direct the center's activities. The center is slated to open about Oct. 19 with the fall and winter recreation program.

The new center supervisor has surveyed the community to determine what programs will be offered.

Included in the center's program might be teen dances, arts and crafts and other indoor individual and group activities.

Johnson is married, with four children. He spent seven years with the Jackson, Miss., recreation department, 12 years as Holmes County 4-H Agent there, and 10 years as school principal.

He is a 1934 graduate of Jackson State College.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Rain will fall from the middle Atlantic Coast to Canada tonight. Showers and thundershowers are expected from the Lakes area to the Tennessee and Ohio valleys and in parts of the southern Plains. It will be cooler from the Great Plains to the lower Lakes and Tennessee valley, but warmer from the southern Plateau to the Rockies.

New Treatment Method for Mentally Ill

Details of a new approach to treatment of the mentally ill, slated to be inaugurated Oct. 1 at Pontiac State Hospital were disclosed yesterday.

Dr. Szymon W. Maroko, director of the new unit plan, outlined the projected treatment at a staff meeting.

The program is being financed with funds from a three-year $300,000 grant from the National Institute of Mental Health, a federal government agency.

Still an innovation in the treatment of the mentally ill, the unit plan calls for intensive teatment throughout a patient's hospital stay.

★ ★ ★

Patients are housed in a separate ward and receive intensive care from the same set of staff therapists and doctors.

LENGTH OF STAY

Object of the unit plan, according to Dr. Maroko, is to reduce the length of stay in the hospital.

The intensive care differs from the present system whereby only a brief period of intensive treatment is furnished patients.

Also, patients are transferred to several wards as they progress. This will not be true under the unit plan.

★ ★ ★

The staff is organized into a team, working with the same patients throughout their hospitalization.

MAJOR FEATURE

Continuity is one major feature of the unit plan, said Dr. Maroko.

He described the unit plan as therapeutic care with optimism rather than custodial care with pessimism.

Pontiac State Hospital will begin the new program with 50 female and 50 male patients. Roughly one of four new admissions will be assigned to the unit plan.

All mental ills will be treated under the new plan, said Dr. Maroko.

THREE PHASES

The unit plan director said that the program's development would follow three phases:

- Decentralization — The established of semi-independent units where the patient is admitted, treated and discharged.
- Geographical — Arrangement of the hospital's 10-county service area into units.
- Community Organization — Hospital services will be integrated with other mental health services in the community.

Patients admitted under the plan will be between 18-65 years old.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Maroko presented statistics to show the success of a similar program initiated in 1956, at Osawatomie State Hospital, Kansas.

DISCHARGE RATE

That hospital had only 239 admissions in 1951, but in 1962 had 801 admissions. The discharge rate was 131 in 1951, but 875 in 1962, he said.

Also, the total cost of the average hospital stay has been reduced. Hospitalization in 1951 was measured in years, said Dr. Maroko, but in 1961 had been reduced to 3-6 months.

This reduction in the hospitalization period meant a dollar reduction from $9,000 to $4,700 for treatment of the average patient.

"Ninety-two per cent of all patients leave within one year," said Dr. Maroko of the Kansas hospital.

NO WAITING LIST

In addition, the out-of-state hospital does not have a waiting list.

The pioneering effort at Pontiac State Hospital will include a staff of two psychiatrists, four registered nurses, a social worker, an occupational therapist, a secretary, and up to two attendants.

★ ★ ★

Funds of $100,000 a year from the federal grant will cover the added personnel. Part-time service from other hospital staff members will also aid the project.

OK Accord for Visits to East Berlin

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and his West German Cabinet approved today an accord with the Communists to let West Berliners cross the wall for visits to East Berlin.

Erhard's spokesman said the Cabinet decision was unanimous.

★ ★ ★

Details of the agreement were not immediately announced. The spokesman, Karl-Guenther von Hase, said there would be a meeting of the negotiators in East Berlin to make the final draft. Signature is expected Thursday.

The accord is for the benefit of the 2¼ million West Berliners. The 55 million inhabitants of West Germany can visit East Berlin by going to a crossing-point in the wall and asking the East Germans for a pass.

GREAT DIFFICULTY

The 17 million Germans who live in East Berlin and East Germany have great difficulty visiting the West until they reach retirement age. Communist authorities have well-founded suspicions that many visitors to the West would never return. That's why they built the wall.

★ ★ ★

There was a most no restriction on movement between the two parts of Berlin until the wall was built in August 1961.

Demands Exam in Attempt at Bank Robbery

Robert A. Prince, 31, has demanded examination on an attempted bank robbery charge filed against him by the FBI.

The charge stems from an unsuccessful holdup Monday at a branch of the National Bank of Detroit, 32900 Middle Belt, Farmington Township.

★ ★ ★

Prince, 2010 Kingston, White Lake Township, turned himself in to Oakland County sheriff's officers Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

He was arraigned before U.S. District Judge Thaddeus M. Machrowicz in Detroit yesterday and was released on a $2,000 bond to await examination Oct. 7.

Plantation Worker Strike Raises New Viet Crisis

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A new labor crisis hit Premier Nguyen Khanh's hard-pressed government today.

★ ★ ★

Some 3,000 workers reportedly struck French-owned plantations in Bien Hao Province, demanding a 50 per cent pay increase and double rice allotments. There appeared a strong possibility that many more thousands of plantation workers in other provinces would join the strike.

★ ★ ★

Bien Hoa begins about 15 miles north of Saigon, and most of the province is controlled by the Communist Viet Cong. Unconfirmed reports said the workers struck at the demand of Red guerrillas who operate throughout the plantations.

A general strike in Saigon ended Tuesday night, but the new work stoppage underlined the uncertainty surrounding the government's future.

SERIOUS RESULTS

Crises have beset Khanh for the past two months at increasingly frequent intervals with increasingly serious results. In every case the government has won temporary peace only by making major concessions to political, religious and labor opponents.

The pattern has been one of steady undermining of central authority.

A revolt of mountain tribesmen in the highlands of central Viet Nam 150 miles north of Saigon still causes major concern. It began Sunday with a "declaration of independence" and a demand for regional autonomy by several hundred primitive "montagnards" whom U.S. Special Forces had trained and armed as guerrilla fighters against the Communist Viet Cong.

The revolt appeared today to be spreading throughout Darlac Province and apparently included many more tribesmen than had participated originally. The Saigon government ordered reinforcements of lowland Vietnamese troops into the area.

The tribesmen held five camps just outside Ban Me Thuot and refused to talk to government officials. American Special Forces men were trying to act as intermediaries.

Dangerous demonstrations by youths at the coastal town of Qui Nhon appeared quelled for the moment by government promises to oust a number of town officials.

Khanh has a mandate to rule as premier for only 36 more days. He has promised to relinquish his mandate at the end of that time to a "high national council" of 15 to 20 members being organized by the chief of state, Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh.

Should Khanh take things into his own hands and try to stay on without the council's approval, he is sure to face more hostile demonstrations by Buddhists, students, and other groups. This would increase the likelihood of another coup attempt by young officers who have demanded a stronger government.

LEADING TO COLLAPSE

Many observers believe this pattern is leading South Viet Nam toward a general collapse that can be averted only if the Saigon government regains some of its authority.

As political troubles mounted for Khanh, he sought to keep the army behind him. Late yesterday he flew south to meet with staff officers who tried to overthrow his government 10 days ago.

Khanh flew to My Tho, in the former 7th Division area and to Can Tho, headquarters of the 4th Corps.

Commanders of the two groups led the coup and have been put under house arrest. No action was ordered against junior officers who, the government said, were only carrying out orders during the attempt to seize power.

DISCUSSES POLICY

The semiofficial Viet Nam press said Khanh discussed "the national situation and explained the government's policy at the present phase."

Khanh also reportedly appealed to the officers to "strictly observe military discipline" to fight the Communist Viet Cong "and to help the government make good on its promises to the people."

Khanh is waging a major campaign to get the military behind his plan to start the country back on the road to civilian rule. Some military commanders are reported highly restive about the plan and think Khanh has been weak in dealing with student riots, demonstrations and religious warfare.

Technicality Snags Rezoning in W. Bloomfield Twp.

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Action on rezoning for a proposed multiple residence development here was snagged on a technicality last night.

Some 90 persons who had gathered at the Township Hall for a third public hearing on the matter found themselves instead at an informational meeting.

However, the three-hour session did serve to inform the Township Board and planning commission — emphatically — that there is strong opposition to the project.

Peter Popek filed the rezoning request nine months ago to develop a luxury apartment complex on his property at Mirror Lake on the south side of Pontiac Trail.

★ ★ ★

The 39 acres, which include the 16-acre lake, now are in the township's most restrictive single-residence zone.

RECOMMEND CHANGE

The change was recommended to the Township Board by the planning commission last week. The commission reported that no objections to the project had been voiced at a hearing on development plans in June or one on rezoning in July.

Protests were heard at a meeting of the Oakland County Coordinating Zoning and Planning Committee.

The county group declined taking action on the proposal, recommending that residents of Orchard Lake be given the opportunity to express their opinions to the planners. Popek's property borders Orchard Lake on the north and east.

The planning commission, however, reiterated its stand and sought Township Board approval without that of the county.

Last night's meeting was scheduled by the board as the third public hearing on the proposal, but Supervisor John C. Rehard announced at its outset that the request was back in the hands of the planners.

State statute, he said, requires the posting of property under consideration for rezoning before a public hearing. Repetition of the process is expected to take aonther month or two.

Preliminary architectural drawings for the proposed 96-unit development were presented last night. They indicated the apartment would be contained in eight buildings staggered on the hillside on the south side of the lake.

★ ★ ★

Cost of the "high-class" luxury complex was estimated at $2 million.

MAJORITY SPEAK

The majority of those in the audience spoke at the meeting. With possibly two exceptions, all were opposed to the creation of a multiple residence zone "in the heart" of the single-residence neighborhood.

Many of the objectors were from Sagamore Estates subdivision on the west of the property in question. A protest also was voiced by Frederic K. Graef, developer of Sagamore Estates and owner of property on three sides of Popek's.

Planners noted that the site is an unusual one, which they consider to be isolated.

★ ★ ★

"It could be developed independent of the surrounding property," commission chairman Henry Moses said. "Any time property is developed properly, we think it is sound for the township."

The chairman said he did not think the character of the community would be changed by the addition of what could be the township's first multiple residence complex.

It was noted that Popek would not be compelled to develop the property as proposed and that several more units could be added under the multiple residence provisions of the zoning ordinance.

Objections centered in the fear that the "country living" aspect of the residential community would be changed.

Commissioner Claude Whitmer said the township is "morally obligated to provide for multiple residences" and that property owners have the right to use the land to their best advantage.

"Zoning is not necessarily based on what's good for everybody, but what will hurt the least," he said.

Orion Schools Offer New Adult Classes

LAKE ORION — A whole new area in adult education will be offered in the classes scheduled to begin Oct. 12 at the Blanche Sims Elementary School and Lake Orion Community High School.

Such courses as charcoal drawing, water color painting, portrait photography, furniture refinishing, flower arrangement and upholstering have been added to subjects that were popular last year, the first year that such courses were available to adults of the area.

Registration will be held from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Monday at the high school; Tuesday at Blanche Sims; Wednesday at Carpenter Elemenary School and Oct. 1 at Proper Elementary School.

Registrations including payment for the course can be mailed to the Lake Orion Junior High School, Elizabeth St.

★ ★ ★

Any additional information can be obtained by calling the Lake Orion Junior High School between 8:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. on weekdays. Classes for which 1 or more register will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. on the nights indicated.

On Monday subjects offered include charcoal drawing, wood furniture refinishing, typing I, architectural blue print reading, beginning conversational Spanish, slimnastics for women and modern math.

The modern math course offers parents the opportunity to learn the new systems taught in grades 1 thru 9.

Tuesday's classes are water color painting, printing and developing photography, woodshop, refresher shorthand, beginning contract bridge, bookkeeping for small businesses, sewing and refresher algebra.

★ ★ ★

Others are machine shop, use of the slide rule, mechanical blue print reading, square dancing, flower arrangement, business arithmetic, typing II, china painting, conversational French and a review of basic grammar skills in English.

★ ★ ★

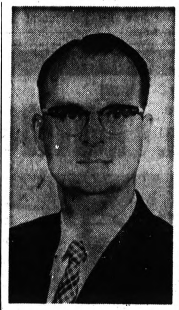

On Wednesday all classes except oil painting are new. Others are portrait photography, upholstering, speed typing, tailoring of men's clothing and slimnastics for men.

Being initiated on Thursdays are art, including use of clay and silk screening, making of bed spreads and draperies, mechanical drafting, modern dancing, knitting, beginning conversational German, cake decorating II and real estate.

Cake decorating I is being offered on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, with the classes limited to 12, as is the flower arrangement class.

★ ★ ★

Driver training will be offered all four nights with only six per night. This course is 10 one-half hour periods of actual driving.

Keego Church Gets New Baptist Pastor

KEEGO HARBOR — Rev. Lester T. Garrett has been called as pastor of the Keego Harbor Baptist Church, 1716 Cass Lake.

Rev. Garrett comes to Keego Harbor from the Melrose Baptist Church of Bentonia, Miss. He attended Mississippi College in Clinton, Miss.

The Garretts have moved into the church pastorium at 1712 Cass Lake. The pastor and his wife, Alice, have three children, Mike, Debbie and Pam.

PTSA Slates Activity Talks at Avondale

A special feature to interest new students is on the agenda for tomorrow's 8 p.m. meeting of the Avodale High School PTSA.

Representatives from the school's extracurricular clubs have been invited to give short informational talks on the activities of their clubs.

In addition, students and their parents will have the opportunity to meet new teachers at the high school and tour the building.

Principal Rosco V. Crowell will introduce the teachers and also this year's American Field Service exchange student, Vera Tharanon of Thailand.

Rochester Board OKs School Contracts

ROCHESTER — The board of education has awarded contracts to low bidders for base construction of additions on the West Junior High School and four elementary schools.

Contracts totaling $247,100 were awarded for the junior high addition and $616,750 for the elementary additions.

General contractor for the junior high addition is Bundy Construction Co. of Bloomfield Township, which bid $167,300.

Awarded the electrical contract was Scheper's Electric Shop of Utica with a bid of $18,200, and the mechanical contract, Allen Briggs Co. of Oak Park ($62,600).

Linn Smith Associates of Birmingham is the architect.

Waterford Construction Co. is the general contractor for additions to Brooklands, McGregor, Baldwin and Woodward elementary schools, with a bid of $372,000.

OTHER CONTRACTORS

Electrical contractor is Call-Ferguson Electrical Co. of Birmingham ($44,850) and the mechanical contractor, Lyons Plumbing & Heating Co. of Romeo ($199,900).

AREA NEWS

O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach Associates of Birmingham are the architects.

At a special meeting Sept. 28, the board will consider additional cost factors totaling an estimated $10,860 for the West Junior High School addition.

Several additional alternate factors for the elementary additions, which could either increase or decrease the total price, also will be taken under advisement.

EXPANSION PLANS

The expansion plans call for the addition of 12 classrooms at West Junior High School and a total of 18 classrooms to the four elementary schools.

★ ★ ★

The additions are part of a construction program established eight years ago, and will not require a further tax increase for financing.

Orion Man Will Depart for Peace Corps Work

ORION TOWNSHIP—John A. Wiltse, 24, son of Mrs. Dorothy Wiltse of 909 Hinford, will leave Sunday for a Peace Corps assignment in West Pakistan.

Wiltse is one of 10 other Peace Corps rural development workers headed for Pakstan, where their efforts will supplement the work of nearly 200 volunteers already in the country.

Wiltse, a 1958 graduate of Lake Orion High School, studied architecture at the University of Michigan for two years.

He received his BS degree in engineering and mechanical design from Western Michigan University in June.

JOHN A. WILTSE

★ ★ ★

The Pakistani government requested the new volunteers to provide technical expertise in the rural areas.

INTENSE STUDY

Wiltse trained intensively for 12 weeks this summer at Colorado State University, where study emphasized Urdu and Punjabi, two of the languages of West Pakistan.

Techniques of community development, history and culture of the area and a review of American history and institutions were also studied.

★ ★ ★

Wiltse will provide engineering assistance on a wide range of projects, as requested by the Pakistani government.

Registration on Saturdays

Extra Days Slated in W. Bloomfield Twp.

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — To register voters before the Oct. 5 deadline, Township Clerk Mrs. Dorothy M. Chamberlain will keep her office open two Saturdays.

Hours will be 9 a.m. - 2 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. Oct. 3 for voters who want to register for the Nov. 3 general election.

Mrs. Chamberlain noted that persons who have moved into the township or changed their address in the unit should notify her office.

Registrations will be received from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday.

★ ★ ★

Persons whose work prevents them from registering at these times or on either of the Saturdays can make an evening or weekend appointment, according to Mrs. Chamberlain.

Sashabaw Set for PTA Fair

CLARKSTON — The annual Sashabaw Elementary School PTA Fair will be held from 2 to 6 p.m. Saturday at the school.

Featured at the fair will be a carousel ride, country store, white elephant sale, a variety of games, prizes and refreshments.

The fair is open to the public.

Peanut Sale by Kiwanis in Rochester

ROCHESTER — The 1964 Kiwanis Peanut Sale will be held at eight locations in town Friday and Saturday it was announced today by W. V. (Tom) Sawyer, chairman of the event.

Sawyer said that the goal is to raise approximately $1,000 which will be used to help underwrite the cost of "Kids Field Day" activities to be held at Halbach Field Saturday, and the year-around activities of the Kiwanis "Boys and Girls" committee.

★ ★ ★

Members of the Rochester Kiwanis, including many local businessmen, will be selling peanuts from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

They can be identified by their special Kiwanis hats and will be stationed at the following locations; National Bank of Detroit, National Bank drive-in, University & Main, A&P, North Hill Plaza, Food Center, Main Street and Big Boy Restaurant.

First Meeting Is Slated by Area Chorus

LAKE ORION — The Lake Orion Community Chorus will hold its first meeting on Monday at 8 p.m. in the band room of Lake Orion Community High School.

Under consideration will be a rehearsal schedule, the year's performances and other activities to be planned.

★ ★ ★

The chorus offers an opportunity to anyone who enjoys singing, and will perform all types of music. Anyone interested in joining and developing this group should attend this initial gathering.

★ ★ ★

The chorus will be under direction of Keith Coble, vocal director in the Lake Orion Community Schools.

ROCHESTER—Delegates from the various Michigan chapters of Alpha Delta Kappa, an international honorary sorority for teachers, have elected a member of Rochester XI Chapter to state office.

Mrs. Opal Waker, kindergarten teacher at Stony Creek School was elected state treasurer at the East Lansing convention of the group.

Mrs. Waker also is manager of the Rochester Schools Credit Union.

For Troy Water Main

Contract Awarded

TROY — The City Commission has awarded a $285,457 contract for construction of the Beach Road water main to Moscone Excavating Corp.

The contract, awarded to the lowest of 15 bidders, is based on an alternate plan which calls for the use of a 20-inch main in the first mile of the project and a 16-inch main over the remaining portion.

The main, designed as a transition project, will run along Beach Road from South Boulevard to Wattles for about three miles.

The city will levy special assessments for the main in an amount equivalent to that necessary to pay for an 8-inch main for the entire length of the project.

The city will pick up the cost of the difference between the cost of an 8-inch main and the 20-inch and 16-inch mains that will actually be used.

OTHER ACTION

In other action, the commission set Oct. 26 as the date for a public hearing on the rezoning application for a parcel of 44 acres near the K-Mart site on Livernois.

★ ★

Rezoning from light industrial to multiple dwelling use has been requested by the owner.

Yankee Uneasiness Over Barry Views

Dems Eying Clean New England Sweep

BOSTON (UPI) — Fremont, Blaine, Hughes, Landon, Willkie, Dewey and Nixon — These were the men nominated for president by the Republican party who never made the White House. They all carried Vermont.

Vermont, haven for harried urbanites and stronghold of laconic Yankee humor, is the only state of the 50 which has never voted Democratic in a presidential election.

Democrats, who hold three of the four governorships and four of the five Senate seats up for election this November in New England, would like to give President Johnson a triumph which eluded even Franklin D. Roosevelt — a Democratic sweep of all six states in the region.

Besides carrying Vermont, this also would entail victories in Maine, which has not voted Democratic since the Bull Moose movement split the GOP vote in 1912, and in New Hampshire, which last succumbed to the lure of a Democrat when Roosevelt ran for a fourth term in 1944.

★ ★ ★

There seems to be little doubt among political observers that the three southern New England states — Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts, where Democratic rule has strengthened steadily in recent years — will support Johnson.

BIG ISSUE

Throughout the region the big issue in national and state contests is Barry Goldwater and his controversial opinions. Several Republican incumbents and office-seekers are playing down their political affiliation and avoiding taking a stand alongside the GOP presidential nominee.

Many newspapers which usually or always have supported Republicans have endorsed Johnson.

The three northern states have shown fissures in their rock-ribbed Republicanism of late. Politicians there, including many prominent Republicans, feel Yankee uneasiness about Goldwater's views, especially on foreign policy, may lead many to cast their first Democratic vote or to decide they cannot vote in good conscience for either presidential candidate.

★ ★ ★

Vermont, which has sent an internationalist like George D. Aiken to the U.S. Senate since 1940, has shown signs of political orneriness. It elected its first Democratic congressman in 106 years in 1958 only to turn him out two years later. Then in 1962 it elected its first Democratic governor in 109 years.

SEEKS REELECTION

Democratic Gov. Philip H. Hoff, a lawyer whose father was a Republican state legislator in Massachusetts, is running for reelection against Republican Lt. Gov. Ralph A. Foote. Republican Sen. Winston L. Prouty, who is not as well known in Vermont as Aiken, is seeking reelection against Democrat Frederick J. Fayette, a respected attorney. Both these contests are regarded as close.

In Maine, popular Democratic Sen. Edmund S. Muskie is running for reelection against conservative GOP Congressman Clifford G. McIntire.

Congressman Stanley Tupper, who was New England campaign manager for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's bid for the presidential nomination, is an example of the liberal Republicans in Maine who have repudiated Goldwater. He said he "cannot conscientiously support" the GOP presidential nominee.

★ ★ ★

New Hampshire's first Democratic governor in 40 years, John W. King, riding a crest of popularity resulting from his approval of legislation creating the only state sweepstakes in the nation, faces the same Republican he beat in 1962, former state legislator John Pillsbury.

TOO LIBERAL

In Connecticut, many top Republicans are too liberal to accept Goldwater's philosophy.

Even State Chairman A. Searle Pinney has made no secret of his displeasure with the Arizona senator. And Goldwater forces have not been helped by the penchant of their local chieftan, John Lupton, to make statements often deemed less than tactful.

Democratic Sen. Thomas J. Dodd is given a substantial edge over his GOP opponent, former Gov. John D. Lodge. There is also some thought that the Democrats will take all of the Connecticut's six seats in the House. They now hold five of them.

★ ★ ★

Massachusetts, where the state ballot will be headed by the apparently invulnerable Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, brother of the late president, has a complicated political situation internally.

ITALIAN DESCENT

The gubernatorial contest pits Democratic Lt. Gov. Francis X. Bellotti against Republican former Gov. John A. Volpe — the first time in state history that both parties have nominated candidates of Italian descent for governor.

Bellotti won the nomination in a bitter primary by toppling Gov. Endicott (Chub) Peabody, whose administration was enormously successful on paper but failed to catch the imagination of the electorate.

The dust has not completely settled from that fight, and it generally is felt that the Bellotti-Volpe fight still could go either way.

Rhode Island, strongly Democratic, seems sure to send Democratic Sen. John O. Pastore back to Washington for another six years. The governor's fight is between GOP incumbent John H. Chafee, who squeaked into office by 398 votes two years ago, and Democratic Lt. Gov. Edward P. Gallogly.

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — The first cars to flunk in an unofficial testing of a new city inspection law belonged to the police chief and fire chief.

One headlight on Police Chief James J. Robinson's car lacked sufficient candlepower, and another was out of alignment. Lights on Fire Chief Dan Sirmon's car were found to be out of focus.

Detective Promoted

EAST LANSING (AP) — State police have promoted Detective Wayne Buddemier of the intelligence division at the East Lansing headquarters to detective sergeant.

The Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in 1876 popularized the use of bananas.

Arf to That Excuse

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — A University of Colorado student complained to the police his college education is going to the dogs. Dogs running loose on the campus barked so loudly, he said, it upset his concentration and caused him to fail two examinations.

Solons Bag Nominees, Governors Hold Bag

The highway to the White House that once ran through the governor's office seems to have taken a detour via Capitol Hill.

From early times the statehouse was traditionally the springboard for presidential aspirants, but in recent times the Halls of Congress—particularly the Senate — have sprung the candidates hopeful of moving into the Chief Executive's mansion.

The last governor to make the jump from governor to president was Franklin Roosevelt in 1932. Adlai Stevenson, another governor, attempted it in 1952, but fell short.

With these exceptions, the senators seem to have stolen the show. Currently, our President is a former senator, as was his predecessor.

Looking toward the November presidential election, the Democratic running mate to Johnson is a senator, while the GOP ticket is headed by a senator with a congressman in the Number Two spot.

Four years ago, the losers in the presidential race were ex-senators: Richard Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge. Harry S. Truman was a senator when he was elected vice president in 1944.

There has been much conjecture by politicos on the shifting base of those who move into the focus of the White House spotlight. Many believe that the ascendancy of the Federal government over that of the states with resultant direction of national attention on Washington has worked to the advantage of Potomac-oriented figures while relegating the occupants of governors' chairs to mere sectional prominence.

But there is a cast of pretty accomplished governors, Michigan's included, waiting in the wings to answer a call to fill the top role, and it might be well to wait out a few more elections before subscribing to the idea that being governor "won't get you anywhere."

Red China-U.S. Talks Set Endurance Record

The longest running show in the world is not a Broadway musical but, of all things, the armistice talks at Panmunjom, Korea.

The word "show" is used advisedly because these negotiations — the longest in history, now going into their 12th year—have become tourist attractions.

★ ★ ★

Civilians and servicemen on pass, from both North and South Korea, visit the steel corrugated hut at Panmunjom where they can look through open windows to see the long table placed exactly on the truce line. Americans on one side and Chinese on the other trade stares and charges day in and day out.

Actually, Panmunjom is only one scene in the longest running show of all—the one called the Human Comedy.

Emotional Times Need Unemotional Outlook

This significant and timely excerpt emerges from a report of an education study conference embracing countries of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, recently held in Washington.

"One of the chief obstacles to a balanced judgment of world affairs among young people is the tendency to be carried away by emotion."

Citing sympathy with people in other countries, hatred of others, or passion arising from class consciousness or national prejudice, the report continues " . . . all these emotions, which are often generous in origin, are currently exploited for political ends, both by extreme nationalists and by advocates of world revolution.

"It is therefore a good rule for the serious student and teacher to counter or control emotion by reason and a discipline based, so far as possible, upon research for the facts in a historical perspective."

We heartily concur in this sound precept and commend it to educators and students everywhere.

Is Campaign Getting Hotter?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Perhaps now the 1964 presidential campaign, bumping along with little fire and less light, will finally get heated up.

MARLOW

The day after he got the nomination, Sen. Barry Goldwater predicted there'd be some "brickbats flying around all over the place" in this campaign.

He has been flinging some at President Johnson, who has tried to ignore most of them by using this tactic:

Stay above the strife, avoid personalities, talk generalities, and don't say anything to antagonize Republicans who don't like Goldwater and might come over to Johnson.

★ ★ ★

This has made for a dull campaign, although the tactic is understandable.

'WHY TAMPER?'

Since Johnson is away ahead of Goldwater in the polls, without any slam-banging on his part, he can ask: "Why tamper with success?"

But the restraint must have galled him, for now he has announced he will campaign all over the country.

Goldwater started roughing Johnson during the Republican convention when he called him a "faker" and a "phony."

★ ★ ★

But, as if he had never said this, a few hours later Goldwater was saying:

'SOLELY ISSUES'

"I intend to conduct a vigorous campaign. It will not be a personal attack. It will be waged on issues solely."

But time passed and Goldwater was complaining about Johnson's broadcast to the nation that he had ordered retaliation against North Viet Nam for attacks on U.S. ships in the gulf of Tonkin:

"I cannot imagine a Republican president warning the Communists in advance of an action such as that recently taken in response to the attacks on our ships. Certainly the element of surprise was shattered by the advance warning."

★ ★ ★

Goldwater repeatedly has talked of scandal in Washington saying the White House "is under a dark cloud" with the "shadow of scandal" falling across it.

HUBERT MOCKING

Up until now it has been Johnson's vice-presidential running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, who has had to do the infighting for the Democratic ticket, either with mockery or direct swipes at Goldwater.

Some Democratic senators, like J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, have pelted Goldwater, and so have some Cabinet members like Dean Rusk and Robert S. McNamara, secretaries of state and defense.

Rusk and McNamara called Goldwater "irresponsible" when some of his comments on Johnson's orders to naval commanders in the Tonkin area were interpreted as meaning he said Johnson told them they could use atomic weapons.

★ ★ ★

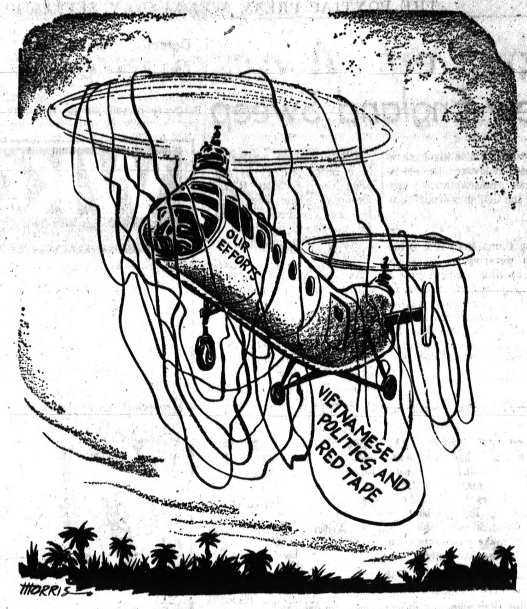

It was in this same instance that Johnson made perhaps his severest public criticism of Goldwater.

LBJ BLASTS

He accused him of making "loose charges without any shadow of justification," thereby "doing disservice to our national security and disservice to peace and, for that matter, a disservice to the entire free world."

Failure of U. N.

The Arab World

If anything, the establishment of the Palestine Liberation Organization reflects the failure of the United Nations to implement its resolutions regarding Palestine. For the past 14 years, the Arab people have been putting their faith in the United Nations to solve the Palestine problem. And for the past 14 years the Arabs have been getting words and resolutions and no action.

★ ★ ★

Since 1948, at every session of the General Assembly, the United Nations has passed resolutions reiterating and reaffirming the rights of the Palestine refugees to return to their homes and property now occupied by Israel, or the compensation of those not wishing to return. And every year, since 1948, Israel has defied these resolutions and turned a deaf ear to world and public opinion.

★ ★ ★

In the last session of the General Assembly, 83 countries at the United Nations joined in a resolution repeating and reaffirming past resolutions for the repatriation of the Palestine refugees. Israel stood apart from the world community in casting the only negative vote. The Palestinian Arabs have been more than patient. They have sought every peaceful means to restore justice. They have suffered in refugee camps, existing on starvation diets long enough.

★ ★ ★

At the conclusion of the Jerusalem Congress, the Palestine delegates took an oath pledging:

"Palestine is our homeland, our return is inevitable. Struggle is our way, knowledge our guide, faith our weapon and sacrifice our duty, discipline and unity our motto. Palestine is ours."

Second Can Save Life

The Holland Evening Sentinel

This we received from the Michigan State Safety Commission and it sounds like good advice.

Have you noticed people over the center line or straddling a lane, the State Safety Commission asks, jockeying people out of their right-of-way or disregarding stop signs and other traffic controls?

★ ★ ★

You may see some of them over the weekend, the Commission says. These are among the "seven deadly sins" cataloged from State Police reports as the cause of traffic tragedies.

Some of these may be self-conscious or unconscious. Mrs. X is a bit afraid of slipping off the edge of the road so she crowds in toward the center. Suddenly she sees some defect in the roadway or a bit of debris some litterbug threw out. She swerves over the line. A small violation perhaps — until she does it suddenly when someone is trying to pass or coming toward her.

Mr. X is a good driver. He gets impatient at all those stop signs, though. Lots of times there isn't a thing in sight. He gets the habit of what he calls a "rolling stop." Now, Mr. X, how can you be rolling and stopping at the same time! One time the glare of the sun or the glare of his wife makes him miss seeing a vehicle approaching on his blind side. Happens all the time.

To some people the "yield" sign is a synonym for "they shall not pass!" Actually the triangular yellow "yield" sign was put there to remind you that there is usually traffic moving on the cross street and the beholder should be prepared to give it the courtesy of free passage. If you are on the through street yourself, it is just as well to remember that a certain percentage of drivers may not believe this wholeheartedly. If too many people don't act civilized about it, the alternative is the less flexible octagonal stop sign that Mr. X took exception to. An even less agreeable alternative is a summons from the courteous gentlemen in the blue or tan coats. They are there to protect you — from yourself.

David Lawrence Says:

Contradictions Show Up in Survey of NY Whites

WASHINGTON—It is not surprising that a poll made by the New York Times shows that 54 per cent of the white persons interviewed in New York City think that the civil rights movement should slow down, and 80 per cent think the City School Board's plan to advance integration through "pairing" white and Negro schools is a "bad idea."

LAWRENCE

But what is surprising is that the same citizens, who are recorded as having voted 57 per cent for Kennedy in 1960, now would vote 61 per cent for Johnson.

This contradiction is even more puzzling when the question was asked whether the citizens have been affected in any way by a "white backlash."

While 27 per cent said they had changed their thinking in the last two months and are "more opposed to what Negroes want" than they were before, 62 per cent said they feel "pretty much the same" as they have always felt.

Yet, when specific questions were asked as to whether an individual would "feel uncomfortable about having a number of Negro families living near you," 40 per cent said "yes," and 40 per cent said "no." Then, when the further question was asked as to whether the white person would "feel uncomfortable about having one or two Negro families" living nearby, the answer was 57 per cent in the negative and only 18 per cent in favor, while 25 per cent said it would depend on whether they were "nice people."

Even more baffling were the answers to the questions about the way President Johnson has handled the civil rights situation.

'JUST RIGHT'

About 57 per cent thought he has handled it "just right," while 24 per cent thought he has "gone too far" and 13 per cent said they were "not sure."

About the only conclusion that can really be drawn at this time is that the civil rights movement has stirred up a good deal of feeling.

This was especially true when the question was asked as to whether the nonviolent demonstrations, such as sit-ins and picketing, have helped or hurt the Negro cause.

★ ★ ★

The answer of 40 per cent was that they have hurt, while 42 per cent said they have helped, and the other 9 per cent were noncommittal.

UNDISTURBED VOTE

It seems strange that so much commotion could be developed in the City of New York, and yet the Democratic vote would be undisturbed. This is contrary to the usual trend of protest movements.

Another clue is to be found in the questions on discrimination. The fair employment section of the Civil Rights Act, which prohibits discrimination in hiring, was approved by 66 per cent, while 27 per cent thought it "bad," and 7 per cent were "not sure."

Yet, when the question was worded differently to inquire whether Negroes who feel they are "qualified to join labor unions should be given a special opportunity to join them," the answer was 56 per cent negative, 41 per cent in the affirmative, and 3 per cent "not sure."

Voice of the People:

Recent Editorial Brings Opinions From Readers

You are harsh in your denunciation of the "swivel-chaired planners who never get shot at." General Johnson was on the Bataan Death March in 1942 and endured Japanese prison. General Train, recently Commandant of the Army War College, and another distinguished planner and combat veteran, recently lost his own son in Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

You state Viet Nam is of small consequence to the citizens of Oakland County, yet if we don't stabilize Viet Nam, Malaysia, Thai, Burma, India and all Asia could fall to China. Bolivia and Chile in South America are almost as distant. If we also write off the Asian and African continents we may yet have to quadruple our Armed Forces and spend $300 or $400 billion per year on defense. Preoccupation with Viet Nam is a matter not of glory but of national survival.

Top military planners are the best this world can boast, but some of the problems don't have satisfactory solutions. Let's show our maturity by not always insisting on a scapegoat. Let us face our problems with the courage of our forefathers.

'Let's Keep Bars Out of Bowling Alleys'

The recent reported effort of saloon keepers to sell liquor in the concourse of bowling alleys makes it most difficult to understand why any bowling alley is permitted to operate in connection with a bar. The law prevents minors from frequenting a bar, but by permitting them in a bowling alley which sells liquor and beer within, it sure looks like some addition or changes should be made to the law to give protection to the teen-agers who like to bowl.

'America Cannot Support Whole World'

In an editorial you ask: (1) can 200 million U.S. citizens police the three billion people on this globe; and (2) can we pay all their bills. You point out that American boys are sacrificing their lives to put out the so-called "brush-fire" wars, without the help of other countries. In answer to your questions, let me register my resounding "NO!" While I recognize that we have the Christian responsibility of giving assistance to our fellow man, I reject the notion that we must be his protector for all eternity.

★ ★ ★

The answers provide the reasons we must support men like Richard Kuhn, the Republican nominee for Congress. Richard Kuhn follows the philosophy indicated. If it is the will of the people that we put a stop to the present situation, a vote for Kuhn is a vote for a responsible policy. A vote for the Democrat nominee is a vote for a rubber stamp for the present administration which will carry out the wars that we are not committed to win.

In 1961 Humphrey was chairman of the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA). Here are the policies they openly advocated in 1961:

- Abolition of the House Committee on Un-American Activities (at the time the Committee was investigating Communists).
- Congressional investigation of the John Birch Society (a vigorous anti-Communist organization).
- Total disarmament under United Nations control (Russia holds every key position in the United Nations except three, which are held by known Communist sympathizers).
- U.S. recognition of Red China.
- Admission of Red China in the United Nations in place of Nationalist China.
- Drastic overhaul of our immigration laws (ease restrictions on immigrants from Communist countries).

Agrees We Should Keep TB Sanatorium

After reading the article "Ex-Patient" wrote, I too am in complete agreement with him. As to the fact that there are empty beds in Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, isn't it a fact that the Sanatorium has to keep ten per cent of the beds available for emergency cases? I am also of the opinion that the Oakland County Sanatorium is one of the better institutions in the area.

★ ★ ★

If the Sanatorium is sold and another is built, which would take a year or more, what happens to the present patients? What effect will it have on their mental anxiety? As an ex-patient myself, it was my belief that part of a patient's cure was keeping them in a worry-free environment. So, if they are transferred to a sanatorium a great distance away, far from family and friends, how will this affect their mental anxiety?

Hot Springs Croupiers Await Outcome of Arkansas Battle

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The big wait is on for the unemployed croupiers in this locked-up gambling town.

They're waiting for the chamber of commerce and the churches to finish the battle over legalizing the resort's fancy casinos.

Arkansas voters decide Nov. 3 on an initiated constitutional amendment to legalize casino gambling in Hot Springs.

The campaign is mainly between Hot Springs businessmen, who like to ring up the dollars brought in by resort nightlife, and church groups who say any money from gambling is inherently evil.

★ ★ ★

Businessmen say wallets are thin since Gov. Orval E. Faubus ordered the casinos and slot machine bars closed last March. The chamber of commerce says 400 croupiers and perhaps 1,000 other persons were put out of work by slackening of tourist business.

Nevada is the only state with legal casino gambling, but Hot Springs casinos flourished off and on illegally for 100 years before Faubus ordered them closed.

The gambling campaign has become mixed with the hot Arkansas governor race between incumbent Democrat Faubus and Republican Winthrop Rockefeller.

Rockefeller criticized Faubus for waiting nine years to fulfill a promise he made when he first campaigned for governor in 1954—that illegal gambling would be stopped.

★ ★ ★

Faubus acted after the state House of Representatives adopted a resolution suggesting that the state's antigambling laws be enforced. Faubus said this was his first mandate from the people on gambling.

CASINOS CLOSED

Rockefeller says he opposes gambling—legal or illegal. Faubus says that if the people vote against legal gambling, the casinos will stay closed.

But many Hot Springs residents believe the casinos will open illegally after the election even if the amendment is defeated. Some say this is a point in favor of legalization.

"But this is a cynical outlook," says the Rev. Sam J. Allen, executive secretary of the Arkansas Council of Churches. "If the people want the law enforced, they can get it enforced."

★ ★ ★

Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Assembly of God and Christian churches formed a group called Churches United Against Gambling (CUAG) to fight the amendment. Special offerings for the campaign were taken in churches Sunday.

WILL DEFEAT

CUAG has organized opposition to the amendment in all 75 counties, and its leader, Dr. Ralph Phelps, president of Quachita Baptist College at Arkadelphia, says confidently that the amendment will be beaten.

Mort Cox, manager of the Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce, says the proposal has a good chance of passing. One reason, he says, is an estimated $14 million a year in taxes the state would get.

The church front is not united. Other denominations have not joined CUAG.

★ ★ ★

One Episcopalian minister, the Rev. James S. Cox Jr., of Pine Bluff said he was for legalized gambling and criticized CUAG for presenting what he called the "half-truth" that it is Christian or religious to be against gambling.

'65 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan

'65 Chevrolet Impala

One look at it and—presto—last year's crop of cars seems like something that happened a long time ago.

And what sets this '65 Chevrolet apart even more is the fact that beauty's only the beginning of what's new. It's longer, lower, wider—with the kind of interior comforts that'll have many an expensive car wondering why it didn't think of them first. Over three inches more shoulder room in all closed models, more leg room up front and (thanks to a trimmed-down floor tunnel) more foot room too. Curved side windows, rich new fabrics and an instrument panel that's a conversation piece all by itself (in the Impala series it simulates the look of hand-rubbed walnut).

In fact, just about everything's new right down to the road. And even that'll seem newer because this year Chevrolet's Jet-smooth ride is smoother than ever. Our engineers came up with a new Full Coil suspension system. And they coupled it with a Wide-Stance design that improves handling and stability. But if all this seems like a bit too much to remember, don't try. Just take a drive at your dealer's. It'll all become unforgettable.

'65 Chevelle Malibu Super Sport Coupe

'65 Chevelle Malibu

New style, new ride—and plenty of V8 stuff. Here are all the things that have made Chevelle America's most popular new-sized car—plus some new surprises that promise to make it come on stronger than ever for '65.

Like those cleaner, bolder lines you see above. From its new V-shaped grille on back, it's beautifully proportioned between the regular Chevrolet and Chevy II with a fresh, youthful look all its own. Like the silky way it skims over the choppiest roads. Thanks to softer coil springs and other suspension system refinements, Chevelle now rides with a serenity you'd expect only in a bigger, heavier car. Like V8 power that'll make you think we stole some of Corvette's stuff—which we did. All told, five different power plants are now available from a quieter six to a V8 that comes on with 300 horses strong. And there's even a new choice of modestly priced Chevelles for '65—twelve models, topped by the bucket-seated Malibu Super Sports.

Some people might have expected us to stand pat after introducing a car this successful last year. It's worth a trip to your dealer's just to see how wrong they were.

'65 Corvair Corsa Sport Coupe

'65 Corvair Corsa

There's never been a Corvair—or any other car—like it. It's racier, roomier, sweeter going—with a higher powered range of engines for '65.

The entire line—topped by the new Corsa Sport Coupe and Convertible—now sports a totally new Body by Fisher, styled with fresh, sophisticated lines that would set a European's pulse fluttering. The longer, wider design gives all Corvair closed models a thin-line hardtop roof, accented by frameless curved side windows. It also allows more shoulder and entrance room in all models.

To go with the racier look, there's a new range of rear-engine power with up to 180 hp available in the Corsa series and up to 140 hp in the Monza and 500 series. Also a flatter riding independent suspension system, bigger self-adjusting brakes, more responsive steering—all solidly buttressed by a new, wider road stance for '65. Truth is, you've got to drive this one to believe it.

Here, for the first time is a car that blends the best in precision and beauty from both sides of the Atlantic. And it's as close as your Chevrolet dealer's.

'65 Chevy II Nova 4-Door Sedan

'65 Chevy II Nova

It may very well be the expensive-est looking thrift car you've ever laid eyes on. But thrifty it is. The big difference this year being that Chevy II's marvelous mechanical efficiency now comes decked out in a debonair new look.

And to keep things right in stride under the hood, there's a new range of six engines, no less. A gas-nursing 4 available in the lowest priced sedans. A pair of 6's and a pair of V8's available throughout the line. And then, specially designed to turn any Chevy II Sedan, Sport Coupe or bucket-seated Super Sport Coupe into an entirely new breed of cat, there's another V8 available that turns out 300 hp. Of course, with all this you still get those famous Chevy II maintenance reducers—like self-adjusting brakes, long-lived exhaust system, battery-saving Delcotron generator. And durable Body by Fisher handiwork, inside and out.

But if you go by all the fine new features in the '65 Chevy II, you could get the idea that saving you money was about the last thing we had in mind when we built this one. And in a way it was. Right up until we pasted the price sticker on the window.

Debate Opens at the Vatican

U. S. Bishops to Push for Liberalized Policy

VATICAN CITY (AP) — American bishops were expected to take the lead today in the opening debate on the Vatican Ecumenical Council's controversial declaration on religious liberty.

Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston listed himself as a speaker on the question of a liberalized Catholic attitude toward freedom of religion. He has not spoken in debate since the council opened in 1962.

The 230 U.S. bishops voted last week to press for a strong declaration defending religious liberty and to oppose attempts by conservative elements to water down the wording.

The move for religious tolerance was expected to encounter sharp opposition from bishops of predominantly Roman Catholic countries such as Spain and those of Latin America.

POPE'S FORECAST

However, Pope Paul VI said last April that council approval of a declaration on religious liberty could be "legitimately expected."

In essence, the declaration says every human has the right to free exercise of religion according to the dictates of his conscience. It adds that man should be immune from any outside force in his personal relations with God.

★ ★ ★

The declaration was introduced at the second council session last November, but the session adjourned before full discussion could begin.

Trouble was expected over a section that says man's right to follow the dictates of his religious conscience must sometimes be regulated for the common good, for example, through laws prohibiting polygamy or empowering officials to order blood transfusions for critically ill children.

"COMMON GOOD"

U.S. bishops were said to fear non-Catholic critics would charge that the words "the common good" were an attempt to justify Catholicism's trying to influence legislation in nations where it predominates.

Some Spanish theologians insist Spain has the right to oppose threats to her culture from "foreign religions" brought in by Protestants. Latin-American theologians have contended the state is justified in protecting illiterate citizens from non-Catholic missionaries.

The council also continued its series of ballots on collegiality —the concept of collective rule of the Church by the bishops with the Pope instead of by the pontiff alone. Voting had been completed Tuesday on 12 of 40 sections in the schema chapter establishing collegiality. In each case the vote was overwhelmingly favorable.

Some Crops Damaged by State Frost

LANSING (AP) — Scattered frost already has damaged many crop areas of Michigan, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture statistical reporting service.

Rainfall over the past weekend helped alleviate a soil moisture shortage throughout the Lower Peninsula.

Pasture conditions declined somewhat but still remained about average. The third cutting of hay continued in northern Lower Michigan. Silo-filling activity increased throughout the state.

Nearly 30 per cent of the dry beans were combined. Many bean areas needed warmer weather.

SOME SAFE

More than 40 per cent of the corn was reported safe from frost damage. Many fields needed more warm weather to ripen immature ears.

More than 20 per cent of the winter wheat was planted and planting activity was scheduled to be stepped up next week.

★ ★ ★

The fall potato crop was about 20 per cent harvested, ranging from 60 per cent in the south to 10 per cent in the northern part of the state.

The onion harvest was continuing. Harvesting of cucumbers for pickles was about completed. The tomato harvest was about 75 per cent completed in the Monroe area. The melon harvest was nearing completion in the southwest.

Cites Losses if Pennsy Pulls Out

LANSING (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad would lose far greater revenues than it expects if it tears up some 223 miles of track in Michigan, says a spokesman for a citizens' group fighting the abandonment.

John Morrison, attorney for the Committee for Retention of the Railroads, cross-examined a Pennsylvania Railroad traffic specialist in hearings before an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Pennsylvania has estimated it would lose 30 per cent of the revenues it now enjoys on the line from Reed City to Mackinaw City.

"The thrust of my questions is to show that it probably would keep less than half the revenue it now gets," Morrison said.

SECOND DAY

Morrison questioned R.H. Seip of the Pennsylvania in the second day of an expected six-day session of cross-examinations. The questions were intended to show that Pennsylvania could lose large amounts of its business to other railraods or other carriers if it attempted to reroute traffic now carried on the north-south line up the western side of the state.

★ ★ ★

The committee, backed by popular subscription and the Consumers Power Co., has joined the State Public Service Commission and the attorney general's office in fighting abandonment of some 300 miles of track by Pennsylvania and the New York Central Railroad in the northern part of the state.

Hopes Rise for U. S. Pilot

Flier Lost Near Arctic Had Survival Training

GOOSE BAY, Labrador (UPI) — Hopes for the safety of a U.S. pilot missing in his single-engined plane heightened today with word that he had survival training.

Officials said they learned that New York pilot Gene Wall was a former Air Force pilot and if he successfully landed his plane on Greenland could have survived.

"This adds to the chances of a safe rescue," an Air Force spokesman said. "The plan is to search indefinitely."

Wall was ferrying a four-seater Mooney monoplane to Europe from the United States when he disappeared Saturday on the hop from the island of St. Pierre to Iceland.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force believes Wall would be able to forage enough food to exist if he succeeded in bringing down his plane on the rugged terrain. Temperatures were reported above normal in the search area for the past few days.

ICE MASS

Seven search aircraft covered Greenland, restricting the hunt to the portion of the rugged ice mass below the Arctic Circle.

Almost four days of around-the-clock searching have produced no trace of Wall or his plane.

Wall left the French island south of Newfoundland with two other pilots who also were ferrying Mooney aircraft overseas. One of the planes crashed in the Atlantic after running out of fuel. Its pilot was rescued. The other plane made it safely to Reykjavik, Iceland.

★ ★ ★

The aerial search thus far has covered thousands of square miles including the Denmark Strait between Greenland and Iceland. Aircraft traced the scheduled flight pattern of Wall's plane without results.

More Airline Traffic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Passenger traffic on the domestic airlines increased 12½ per cent last month over the August, 1963, total, the Air Transport Association said yesterday.

Water ouzels walk underwater searching for food, using their wings much as they do in flying.

Miller Claims Johnson Avoiding Personal Fortune Issue

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — President Johnson is "hiding behind a smoke screen" to avoid campaign debate on his personal fortune and other issues, Rep. William E. Miller charged today.

★ ★ ★

The Republican vice presidential candidate continued his hard-hitting attack on the President as he swung into the second day of an intensive campaign swing that has been dominated alternately by slashing criticism of Johnson and vigorous defenses to allegations of conflict of interest against himself.

BAKER CASE

In a series of statements and speeches from Washington to Billings, Mont., Tuesday, Miller said Democrats were raising questions about his congressional service in an effort to divert public attention from the Bobby Baker case and other scandals.

He continued hitting at the personal financial activity of President Johnson, arguing that there was public "suspicion and doubt" about the way the Johnson family acquired a fortune centered on a television station, a federally regulated activity.

★ ★ ★

Miller described the President as a man without convictions, one whose ethics needed close public scrutiny.

The Republican nominee pressed his attack against Johnson in a statement issued today as he set out on campaign stops in Idaho Falls, Ogden, Salt Lake City and Provo, Utah, and Portland, Ore.

★ ★ ★

In stops Tuesday in Indiana, Iowa, South Dakota and Montana, Miller dwelt in detail on his connections with the Lockport Felt Co. in his congressional district in upstate New York.

Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey and some state Democratic chairmen have called upon Miller to explain his connection with that firm.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday night in Billings, Mont., Miller said, as he had previously, that he had opposed "discriminatory wool legislation," on behalf of the company and said he had done so to protect the jobs of its workers. He said he had no stock holdings in Lockport Felt.

★ ★ ★

Miller had said earlier he was an assistant secretary and director of the firm at a salary of $7,500 per year.

LIVELY CROWDS

Miller drew lively, enthusiastic crowds at several stops.

★ ★ ★

In speeches to farm audiences, he renewed his pledged that a Goldwater administration would mean a U.S agriculture secretary who was a farmer and was familiar with the problems of farmers.

★ ★ ★

Miller said Tuesday in a radio program recorded for the Mutual Broadcasting System that private polls within the last two weeks show that seven per cent of the Republicans who switched from the Barry Goldwater ticket have gone back to the GOP presidential nominee.

★ ★ ★

He said other polls which show Johnson ahead with about 60 per cent of the voters may not be "all wrong," but they fail to reflect hard-working dedication of Goldwater supporters.

★ ★ ★

He said if the trend of Republicans going back to Goldwater continued, "substantially all" of the GOP voters "will be for the ticket come Nov. 3."

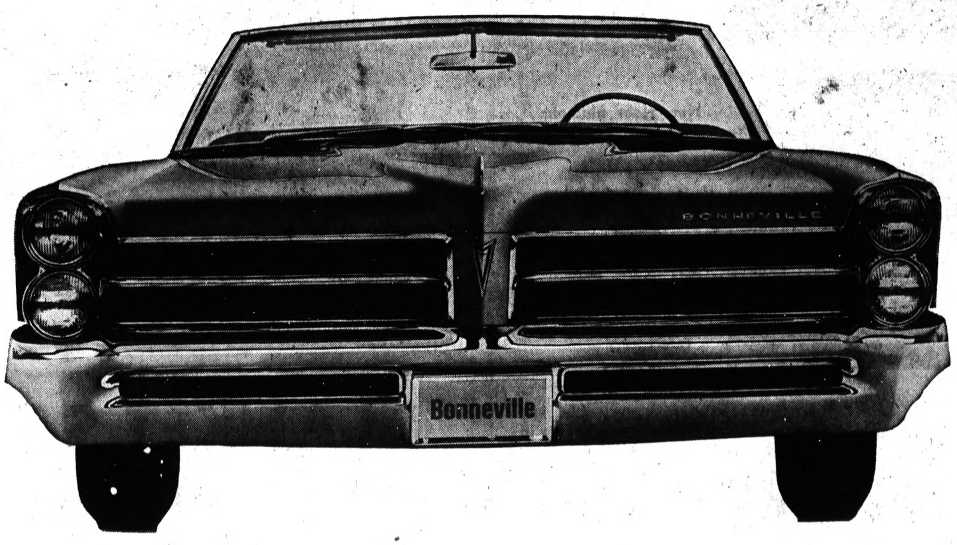

★ ★ ★

An independent poll published in last Sunday's Salt Lake Tribune gave Johnson 61 per cent and Goldwater 33 per cent of the voters in Utah, a state which hasn't gone for a democratic president since 1948.

Egyptians Place Ban on Soccer Television

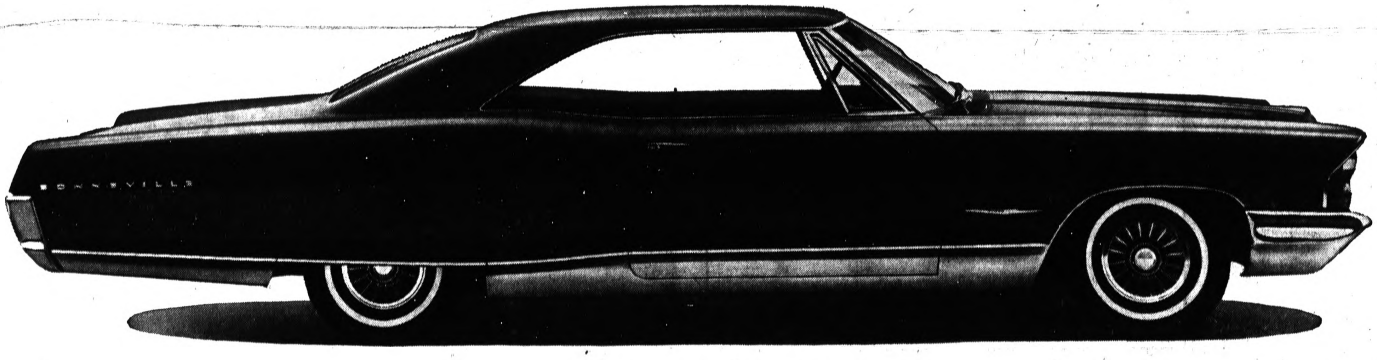

CAIRO (AP) — The soccer fans of Egypt have been pampered by television for four years, but it's all over now.

The United Arab Republic Soccer Federation has banned all live transmission of league matches because of a severe drop in ticket sales since the games started being televised.

Today is '65 Pontiac Day.

1965: The year of the Quick Wide-Tracks

'65 Pontiac Pontiac

How does the success car outdo itself for 1965? Beautifully, just beautifully. But this new Pontiac has no intention of getting by on looks alone, even though it could. You like performance, Pontiac-style? You just hook up our new Turbo Hydra-Matic (very quick) and our Trophy V-8 (very strong). Now who ever heard of a car this big and agile coming up with better gas mileage? You heard right! Our new low-ratio economy rear axle gets extra distance out of every gallon. And if you thought the Wide-Tracks rode smooth and easy before, just you drive this '65. Then you'll see how one success leads to another.

Humphrey Plugs 'Responsibility' in Indiana Campaign Tour

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey told Indiana voters today that if they want a responsible president they'll have to vote Democratic.

"In such a difficult and demanding period of history, this nation has no choice but to elect as president the man who knows the meaning of responsibility, who has demonstrated his capacity to bear the immense burdens of this office.

"Responsibility has been the hallmark of the Kennedy- Johnson administration and responsibility is the single quality which most distinguishes President Johnson from the leader of the Goldwater faction," the Democratic vice-presidential candidate told a courthouse rally in this southwestern Indiana city.

"Unlike the leader of the Goldwater faction," Humphrey said in his prepared remarks, "I come to Evansville today to reaffirm the conviction that we need not fear the future, we need not retreat to the past, we need only seek the help and the hands of the American people in our quest for a better America, in our pledge to keep America moving forward."

BARRY CAMPAIGN

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential candidate, campaigned in Evansville last Friday and centered his fire on the administration's fiscal record.

Humphrey defended this record and said the Democrats had demonstrated responsibility by "taking an economy which has suffered three recessions in eight Republican years and transforming it into an economy which produces 43 consecutive months of record-breaking growth."

★ ★ ★

"Responsibility," he continued, "is reducing the unemployment rate from 7 per cent in January 1961 to less than 5 per cent."

After speaking here Humphrey planned to skip northward to Terre Haute, near Illinois, and to Fort Wayne, in the eastern part of the state.

Humphrey figured to find friendly territory in both Evansville and Terre Haute, the hometowns of, respectively, Sen. Vance Hartke and Birch Bayh, both Democrats.

This campaigning around the state's edges also affords the chance of a bonus: what the politicians call "exposure" through television, radio and the press in neighboring states — in this case in Illinois and Ohio, as well as Kentucky.

★ ★ ★

Both Illinois and Ohio are among five big-vote states Humphrey plans to hit hard in his campaigning. The others are California, New York and Michigan.

Indiana is included on a longer list of what the Democrats consider "key states." None of them has been harder to woo politically than Indiana, which can shred a ticket into a jigsaw puzzle.

Four years ago, Hoosiers gave 55 per cent of their votes to Republican Richard M. Nixon against the late John F. Kennedy while electing a Democratic governor, Matthew D. Welsh, and sending seven Republicans and four Democrats to the U.S. House of Representatives.

All 11 congressional seats are at stake as is the Senate seat of Hartke, who was the first Democrat Indiana sent to the Senate in 20 years.

★ ★ ★

After stumping Indiana, Humphrey makes a late night flight to New York for a round of activities Thursday, including talks to businessmen, a motorcade down Wall Street and a campaign rendezvous with Robert F. Kennedy, seeking to displace Republican Kenneth B. Keating of New York in the U.S. Senate.

The former attorney general is to join Humphrey in a tour of Queens and Brooklyn — and Democrats are looking forward to it with gusto.

What do we mean by "quick"? Just this: A new-all-over Pontiac Pontiac offering a new Turbo Hydra-Matic —the silkiest, swiftest-shifting automatic transmission you ever touched a toe to; eager new Trophy V-8 power; new steering agility; a surer-footed Wide-Track ride. And a new Pontiac Tempest that's become even more of a Pontiac with new style, new length and Pontiac-quick reflexes to match. You never knew cars could be so beautiful, and so keenly alert to your touch. This is your year to drive a Wide-Track—quick!

'65 Pontiac Tempest

Tempest's even more of a Pontiac now? Yes, and what more could a car be than that! The freshly minted styling tells you right quick that this new '65 Tempest is every inch a Pontiac—longer, wider, with that unmistakable Pontiac look. And the family resemblance doesn't stop with the styling. Tempest, too, has a smoother, quieter ride; the road-wedded stability of Wide-Track; and Pontiac-quick response to your touch at the controls. Power? A smoother running 140-hp six is standard. Or you can order a tigerish Tempest V-8 with hp ranging up to 285. You'll wonder how we can keep the price so low on so much car.

Hired Hand Problem Faces State Farmers

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan farmers face the problem in 1965 of finding nearly 100,000 hired hands without one source which has provided many of them in past years.

The ban against importation of Mexican nationals, which takes effect Jan. 1, will remove a source of seasonal farm laborers although exact figures are not available on the percentage of Mexicans used in other years.

Statistics show Michigan farmers used slightly more than 97,000 hired hands each year since 1961.

The migration of seasonal farm workers starts in Michigan in April with about 7,000 in use, reaches a peak in midsummer when about 68,000 are employed, and slacks off to about 7,000 again in mid-November for the final harvests.

* * *

The Michigan Employment Security Commission has in the past accounted for about 10 per cent of the recruited seasonal farm hands, but most come from direct contact between farmers and workers.

INCIDENT AT EDMORE

An unfortunate incident at Edmore this year could well heighten the problem of bringing workers into Michigan in 1965.

At a pickle factory there, bankruptcy was declared and more than 400 Mexican and Puerto Rican workers were idled without pay for the season.

Some picking quotas set in Michigan's cherryland also caused some worker dissatisfaction.

* * *

There was indication the irritation prompted by half-days would be remembered next year and it would be difficult to get hands if quotas were imposed again in 1965.

NOT INSOLUBLE

In all, many farmers, in groups and as individual employers, are concerned about the prospect for harvesting crops and accomplishing the other work for which migrant workers are usually hired.

The problems are not insoluble, howevre, according to Herb Rubenstein, staff director for the Governor's Commission on Migratory Labor.

The 19-member commission appointed this summer is currently involved in an intensive two-week study to spell out specific recommendations to this and other farm problems.

* * *

Rubenstein was appointed staff director for the commission by the governor. His full-time work is in the capacity of associate director of the Michigan Welfare League.

CHAIRS UNIT

Mrs. Rebecca Tompkins, a former schoolteacher and wife of a cherry producer, is chairman of the working unit.

Other members represent the clergy, labor unions, education, migrant workers, the medical profession and producers who use the farm crops.

"At this point we are still mostly collecting facts and points of view on the various problems, but we do hope to come up with very specific recommendations for the governor," Rubenstein said.

* * *

These could be in three areas — voluntary action to be taken by farmers, administrative dictates by government agencies and legislative enactments.

2ND IN NATION

Michigan ranks second in the nation in the number of migrant workers used, so the problem of finding and keeping hired hands will be of major concern to the commission.

Only California steadily uses more seasonal laborers than Michigan. In some years, however, Texas places second and Michigan third.

Police Seeking Kidnaped Trio

French Children Abducted in Forest

POITIERS, France (UPI) — Police throughout France searched today for three small children kidnaped on their way home from kindergarten Monday.

The motive remained a mystery. The children all were from extremely modest homes.

Authorities identified the missing children as Patrick and Christine Guillon, aged 5 and 6 respectively, and Joel Biet, 5.

When last seen they were walking through a forest outside the village of Marnay in central France.

* * *

Yesterday Patrick's school bag was found alongside the roadside with this note headed by a skull and crossbones:

"The children are in safe hands. We will be unscrupulous if the police interfere. Instructions in 24 hours."

Last night Mrs. Hubert Guillon, who has two other children, appealed to the kidnapers over the radio.

"I am not rich," she said. "We have a 60-acre farm. I am prepared to sell it and give you the money if you return my children, who are my reason for living."

* * *

Little Joel, whose mother lives in Paris, had been staying with his grandparents near here.

Authorities questioned a 24-year old aunt of the Guillon children late into the night. The aunt, Mauricette Guillon was released from prison Friday after serving time for burglary. She had asked for a photograph of Patrick and Christine while in prison.

Police were attempting to determine whether she had shown the picture to people who might have planned the kidnaping.

The Guillon children's grandfather told police he had escorted the youngsters through the woods on their way home from school. "They are afraid of wild boars," he said.

But the elderly man said he bicycled ahead of the children, and did not know anything was wrong until they failed to show up at home.

He said he noticed a light-colored car pass them twice with a young woman driving and a middle aged man in the back seat.

Europe Unity Falls to Economy Rift

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

LONDON — European unity which was born out of fear of Communist military attack, swiftly is crumbling under the more subtle assault being waged by the Communists in the field of trade.

NEWSOM

Combined with the nationalism which was loosed by French President Charles de Gaulle, the result is a threat both to NATO, cornerstone of European defense, an dto the European Common Market, cornerstone of hopes for European political unity.

The NATO, structure, already weakened by de Gaulle's determination to develop his own nuclear deterrent and the withdrawal of most French forces under NATO command, now is further endangered by a frank scramble for rich contracts being dangled by the Soviet Union.

In this, Britain has led the way by signing with the Russians the first of a series of contracts ultimately expected to total $300 million.

LARGEST IN HISTORY

The initial contract, to build an $84 - million polyester fiber plant, was the largest in the history of British-Soviet trade relations.

Credit terms are for 15 years.

It brought Britain into sharp disagreement with the United States and West Germany, both of which held that it violated an agreement among NATO nations to limit credits to Communist countries to no more than five years.

★ ★ ★

Both nations held that the British deal threatened NATO unity and in effect amounted to foreign aid to the Soviets.

France, with hopes of its own for a vast increase in trade with Russia, indicated it soon would be following in Britain's footsteps.

COMMON MARKET

The conflict of interests evidence in NATO also are appearing within the Common Market.

The six-nation Common Market comprising France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg has been unable to agree on a uniform price for grains which in turn influence the prices of milk, cheese, butter, eggs, meat, bread and other food staples.

The Common Market structure is torn by the differing views of Gen. de Gaulle on the one hand and Germany on the other as to the market's political future.

★ ★ ★

Germany has refused to become a junior member of a community built around a Paris-Bonn axis and has promised to come up with a plan of her own.

TOTAL UNITY

Whatever the plan is to be, it probably will not be the total political unity which was the goal of the original planners.

Just as de Gaulle insists on preserving French sovereignty, so will the Germans but for a different reason. West Germany's chief goal remains reunification with the East and she will not sacrifice it for a United States of Europe.

Old Bristlecone Pines Thrive in Arid Setting

BISHOP, Calif. AP) — High on the barren upper slopes of the White Mountains of central California is a graveyard of twisted things that refuse to die.

They are bristlecone pines, some more than 4,000 years old and believed to be the oldest living things on earth.

They look their age.

Some have only one branch left with a few needles. The older ones have lost all but a narrow strip of bark and their bare trunks have been polished by centuries of wind and dust and sun.

LIKE DRIFTWOOD

They look like driftwood, but somehow they still live, with their gnarled roots sucking sustenance from soil too poor and dry for all other forms of life.

More than 100 of these botanical freaks have lived through 40 centuries and experts believe they're good for another millenium or two.

In an attempt to find out just how long the bristlecone pine can live in its natural environment, the U.S. Forest Service has set aside 28,000 acres in the White Mountains 20 miles east of here between the 9,000- and 11,000-foot levels, where the annual rainfall seldom exceeds 12 inches.

Unlike the towering 3,500-year-old sequoia, the starved bristlecone seldom reaches 30 feet in height.

WAFFLED SURFACE

It gets its name from its cone, much like other pine cones except for a bristle that extends from each section of the waffled surface.

Why does it live so long?

Dr. Robert Wright of the University of Redlands Biology Department, who has made a study of the bristlecone, credits a dry climate and little if any competition in its home above the timberline for what nutrients can be scrounged from the mountain soil.

Wet rot kills most trees at a comparatively young age. Even the giant redwoods, highly resistant to rot, eventually topple when they get so big their roots can't hold in soft, moist soil.

The scrubby bristlecone in its arid climate has no such problem.

Other bristlecones have been found in milder climates in mountain country eastward to Colorado, Wright says, but none begin to approach the age of those in the White Mountains.

Somehow, just learning to live in a virtually impossible environment, these tortured forms have found the secret of enduring longer than any other known kind of life on earth.

Dems Keep Senate Seat

WASHINGTON (AP) — There was no way of stopping Sen. Strom Thurmond from shifting to the Republican party, but the Democrats are holding on to John C. Calhoun's Senate seat.

The desk Calhoun used when he championed the Southern viewpoint before the Civil War will be inherited by Thurmond's fellow South Carolinian, Sen. Olid D. Johnston.

★ ★ ★

"I never asked for it," Johnston said Tuesday. "Thurmond asked for it after he came to the Senate as a Democrat and was assigned to it. But he couldn't take it with him when he went Republican."

Ike Due First Ride on 'His' Expressway

CHICAGO (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will take his first ride on the Eisenhower Expressway Thursday during his first visit to Chicago in four years.

★ ★ ★

His schedule includes an outdoor rally in the Loop and a speech at a dinner honoring Charles Percy, the Republican candidate for governor of Illinois, and other GOP candidates.

Cuba purchased $8.4 million in goods from Great Britain the first four months of this year compared with $2.8 million the same period a year ago.

Eagle Grounds Aircraft

MOSCOW (UPI)—Radio Moscow reported today that a large eagle flew into a Soviet airliner near Baku recently.

★ ★ ★

The eagle was killed. When the plane landed, a large dent was found in the wing and passengers had to continue in another aircraft.

First MSU Students Due This Weekend

EAST LANSING (AP) — The first of Michigan State University's expected 30,000 students begin arriving this weekend when more than 6,000 freshmen come to campus for Welcome Week activities.

Classes begin Oct. 1.

This year's enrollment compares with 27,597 last year, when MSU ranked as the nation's eighth largest university.

Two new six-story dormitories —Akers and Fee Halls—will be ready to house nearly 2,500 students.

Inconsiderate Driving

Pontiac General Women Begin Another Year

The Women's Auxiliary to the Pontiac General Hospital, Inc. opened the 1964-65 season Tuesday afternoon with a meeting at the Brookside Drive home of Mrs. Verne C. Hampton.

★ ★ ★

Chairmen for the day were Mrs. Joseph C. Walker and Mrs. Milo J. Cross.

Hospitality committee members included Mrs. C. J. Barret, Mrs. C. A. Scott, Mrs. Alex Capsalis and Mrs. B.B. Roush. Mrs. W. Fred Fuller and Mrs. William Freyermuth poured.

★ ★ ★

Announcement was made of the 16th annual workshop of the Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries. It will be at Boyne Mountain Oct. 13 through 15.

The Auxiliary project of obtaining new furnishings for the intern's home on West Huron Street has been completed.

A new hospital service, "The Gift Cart" will begin in October.

YEAR'S THEME

Mrs. Forest Wood reported from the American Hospital Association committee that the theme this year is "Education Communication Orientation — The Key to Today's Successful Volunteers" with emphasis on the education of youth in the field of public health.

The Pontiac Auxiliary will stress health careers.

The total volunteer program at Pontiac General Hospital is about 3,000 hours per month from all "In-Hospital Volunteers."

The Auxiliary goal for 1964-65 is "More In-Hospital Volunteers."

Announcement was also made that the third annual bazaar will be held in December.

High Fever Frolic date is Dec. 4.

Shatters Mom's Trust

DEAR ABY: I am 15 and so is my boyfriend. I promised my mother that I wouldn't let him in the house unless she was home.

ABBY

Well, last Saturday she was gone for a little while and my boyfriend came over with a record he had just bought and wanted me to hear.

I didn't see anything wrong with letting him in the house just to play the record a couple of times, so I did.

He knew I wasn't supposed to let him in the house unless my mother was home, but he only wanted to come in long enough for me to hear the record.

The record player belongs to me (it's a portable) and it is in my bedroom.

Well, my mom came home and I guess it must have looked pretty bad, because the wind had blown the door shut and we were both sitting on the bed.

My mother exploded like a keg of dynamite, and she kicked my boyfriend out of the house and told him never to show his face around there again.

Now she says I can't see him any more and all the trust she had in me has gone down the drain.

Abby, is this fair? We didn't do anything wrong. How can I get her to trust me again?

NOT TRUSTED

★ ★ ★

DEAR NOT: You broke your word and your mother was justified in resenting it.

I think she might better have disciplined you privately and admonished the boy with more dignity and less "dynamite."

Adults often lose face with childish outbursts of temper. You can get right again with your mother by being cooperative.

Your chances for getting another chance are better than 50-50 if you behave 100 per cent.

Mrs. Martin Kabcenell, Orchard Lake (left) president of Sisterhood Temple, Beth Jacob, greets new member, Mrs. Allen Waldman, Fountainbleau Court and youth speaker William Chafets, South Genesee Avenue. A tea Tuesday marked the opening of the fall season.

Tea Honors Newcomers

The Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob opened the fall season with a tea, Tuesday, in the Temple.

Corsages were presented to new members Mrs. Morton Metzger, Mrs. Harold Orman, Mrs. Isaac Grabelsky, Mrs. Allen Waldman and Mrs. Dayne Woodward.

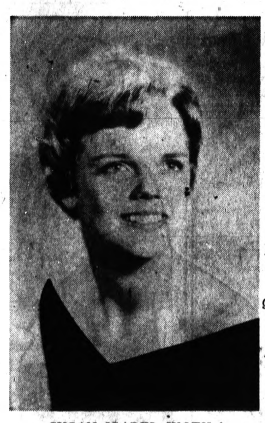

A religious school institute will be held in Lansing on Oct. 4. Mrs. Morris Mersky is chairman for the Michigan Federation of State Sisterhoods.

Mrs. Marvin Talan introduced Joannie Stolorow who told of her experiences at the National Federation of Temple Youth Camp in Georgia.

William Chafets, president of the Michigan State Temple Youth, reported on the national board meeting and leadership institute.

The program closed with solos by Mrs. Arthur Munson with Mrs. Bella Goldberg, accompanist.

A benefit sale is scheduled for Oct. 11 and 12 at the Temple.

SUSAN ISABEL WOTILA

June vows are planned by Susan Isabel Wotila, daughter of the Felix F. Wotilas of Sylvan Lake and Robert Lincoln Brackenridge, son of the Robert E. Brackenridge of Saugatuck. He is doing graduate work at University of Michigan. His fiancee is a senior at Kalamazoo College.

A Busy Schedule for Hills Residents

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

The Edward S. Wellocks are having a busy schedule showing Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith of Worthing, England, some special places to remember from the U.S.A. The Smiths have spent several months traveling here and in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellock motored to Toronto where the Smiths joined them and after a stop at Niagara Falls they returned to the Wellock home.

This week there will be a trip to Mackinac Island and after a few days at Hidden Valley, they will join the John Wellocks at Harbor Beach. Mr. Smith is a cousin of Edward and John Wellock.

From Harbor Beach the John Wellocks will take the Smiths to Montreal where they sail on the Empress of Britain to their homeland Oct. 2.

HOME FROM WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Booth with daughters Ginger and Nancy have been at Small Point, Maine, attending the wedding of their nephew, David Marentette. They spent a few days in New York before Ginger left for Briarcliff College and Nancy for the Bishop School at La Jolla, Calif.

Everyone is looking for good weather — come Friday when the Kingswood Alumnae Association will present its first program "An Evening With Clifford West" at the Greek Theater on Lone Pine Road.

Where could anyone find more enchanting environment in this country for a view of the architecture and art in the city of Florence, Italy?

Mrs. Richard T. Hartzell, ticket chairman, reports that among those who have made reservations are: Mr. and Mrs. William T. Gossett, the Henry Whitings, the William Mitchells, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Nash, the E. H. Lerchens, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Scales, Dr. and Mrs. Paul L. Connolly, the Frank Isbeys, the William Seiberts, Harold Ward, Mrs. Roy Hawkinson, Mrs. Dorothy Jurney, Svea Kline, and the Cyrus Osborns.

The Osborns who are now permanently located in Hot Springs, Va. are spending several months presently in Bloomfield Hills.

Mesdames William Hoglund and Frank Rockwell are co-chairmen of the Renaissance Film Festival (second performance on October 2. Alumnae, Mrs. Steele Sellers, assisted by board members, Mesdames William S. Morrison, Ronald Ballantyne, John Bones, D. F. Myers, Thomas G. Kelly, and others, have planned a buffet reception in the Kinsley Inn to honor Mr. West, following the performance.

'Septemberama' Planned by Adult Group

The St. George Greek Orthodox Senior GOYA (an adult youth group) is presenting its 12th annual Septemberama dance Saturday from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m.

Carl Angelo will be playing both Greek and American music in the Hellenic Hall on Mariva Street.

Proceeds from the semi-formal affair will go to the church building fund. The dance has an "Indian Summer" theme.

Space Will Be Clean

Nobody doubts that "Cleanliness is next to Godliness" at the giant factories where Saturn rockets and Apollo spacecraft are made.

Work crews are drilled to understand that a dirty thumb print in the wrong place could conceivably doom a space crew.

A speck of dirt — even if it were pure gold — could jeopardize a costly space mission.

Even tank bulkhead segments about to be welded are first scrubbed with alkali, acid and detergents.

To the workmen robed like surgeons from head to foot, soaps and detergents are vital space-age tools.

Reservations Being Taken

Mrs. Yolande Chambers, Detroit businesswoman, will address the Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Cranbrook Sept. 29 following a noon luncheon.

Anyone interested in hearing the talk on "The Church Without Walls" may make reservations for the luncheon by contacting the church office by noon Monday.

Mint Head at Kingsley

Mrs. Eva Adams, director of the US Mint, will speak at Kingsley Inn Sept. 30 at a luncheon sponsored by "Women for Johnson."

A reception at noon will precede the luncheon. Chairman of the day is Mrs. Robert Heilbrunn of Birmingham.

Coordinating the affair with the chairman are Mrs. George Googasian, Mrs. Carl Chamberlain of Grosse Pointe, Mrs. Walter M. Jackson and Mrs. G. Vernon Leopold.

Any interested woman may attend this luncheon. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Heilbrunn.

Between showers on Tuesday, members of Child Study Group III enjoyed the balcony on the lake-front home of M. C. Worster, Erie Drive (center). Mrs. Robert B. Shorey, Wenonah Drive (left), club president, presided at the first meeting of the fall. Mrs. Janet Odell of The Pontiac Press was the speaker of the day.

Child Study Group III Names New Committees

Child Study Group III opened the new season with a luncheon Tuesday in the Orchard Lake home of Mrs. M. C. Worster.

Mrs. Robert Shorey, president, announced the following committee chairmen: Mrs. William Hutchinson, courtesy; Mrs. Carl Bird and Mrs. Robert Flynn, finance; Mrs. Emil Bair, hospitality; Mrs. Robert Bego, house; Mrs. John Hubbard, membership.

The list continues with Mrs. William Belaney, publicity; Mrs. Richard Kieft, program; Mrs. Edward O'Brien, telephone.

Mrs. Walter Godsell and Mrs. Bego are Federation representatives.

Mrs. Janet Odell, Pontiac Press women's editor, chose for her topic "How Dare You Just Sit There!" which was coordinated with the Child Study theme for this year: "A Better World — If It's to Be, It's Up to Me."

It was a thought-provoking study of the past, present and future role of women in the world, with suggestions of how women can help the world situation.

Guest for the day was Mrs. John Looper. Mrs. Charles Miller was welcomed as a new member.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Robert Irwin, Mrs. Godsell, Mrs. Robert Knight, Mrs. Leslie Miller, Mrs. Maxwell Shadley and Mrs. Paul Gorman.

Music Guild Names New Chairmen

Charles Wilson hosted the Pontiac Music Guild Tuesday morning in the music room of the First Congregational Church. Assisting were Mrs. James Morris and Mrs. Carl Clifford.

★ ★ ★

Wendell Ecker, president of the group, was elected a delegate to the Michigan Music Teacher's convention to be held Oct. 11-13 in Ann Arbor.

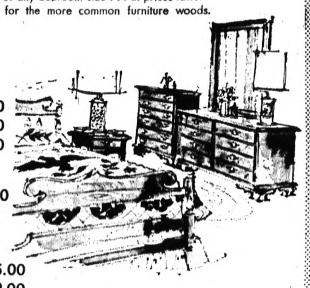

Alternates are Mrs. Don Derragon and Mrs. Lester Snell.

★ ★ ★

Committee chairmen for the year were appointed. They include Amy Hogle, Mrs. Emerett Harris, Mrs. Hazel Gessinger, Mrs. Jack Robb, Elda Sutter, Mrs. Walter Schmitz, Charles Wilson and Mrs. Philip Schurrer.

Armchair Travelers Tour World

Kick-off for this year's Village Woman's club Armchair Travelers series will take the audience around the world with Ralph Richardson, Circumnavigator, for whom Birmingham is home base.

* * *

Richardson's six-week trip by plane began in Hawaii and took him to Japan, Hong Kong, Singapore, Thailand, Ceylon, India, Egypt, Greece and London.

* * *

Returning, he found an invitation from the U.S. Information Agency to go to Warsaw, Poland to demonstrate a recent automotive development.

POLISH TRIP

He spent a month in Poland and in addition to pictures of his world travels, Richardson will show slides taken behind the "Iron Curtain."

Cleaning Percolator

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — When looking all over for something to clean the stem of my percolator basket, I thought of using a needle and thread and a bit of steel wool soap pad.

I tied the steel wool to the end of the thread, let the needle drop down the stem like a weight and pulled the tiny steel wool pad through.

★ ★ ★

You can do this several times until it is clean. Necessity certainly is the mother of invention.—MRS. G. C.

DEAR POLLY — Cut one side out of a big cardboard box and kneel in the box when washing the floor. It keeps your dress from getting wet and dirty.

If blood from a cut gets on a cushion it can be removed by covering the spot with a paste of cornstarch and water.

RUB IT ON

Rub it on and, if possible, put the cushion in the sun to dry. The sun draws the blood out into the cornstarch.

Brush off the dry cornstarch and if the spot is not entirely gone, repeat the procedure. — MISS F. W.

DEAR POLLY — I have seen at least a hundred ideas in the column that I have been using 20 years or more and didn't think they were different enough to send in.

The one about sticking the toothpick in baby's food prompted my husband to tell me I should write you about our frozen sucker idea.

I buy a large flat sponge about one-fourth-inch thick. It is cut into pieces 2x3-inch and a slit the width of a frozen sucker stick is cut in the middle of each.

When they are ready to eat a frozen sucker. I wet the sponge first and put the stick through the slit. Rinse sponge after each use.—BETTY

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice: I am sure that all of your readers would appreciate a few tips on the current styles so they could be guided wisely when planning a new ensemble. I am going to make a new coat for fall and am wondering about the new trends?

Mrs. N. D.

Dear Mrs. N.D.: Since planning your ensemble carefully before making a purchase of either pattern or fabric is so very important, I shall be happy to give you a few tips, this one about coats.

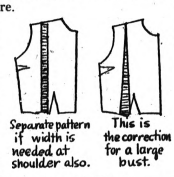

The new fabrics still are very textured in feeling. This could be tweeds, bohairs, bengalines (heavy ridged effects), etc. Most of the good ready-made coats have notched collars, simple, uncluttered lines.

Watch the length of the sleeves on the new coats. Most new styles will be showing full-length or bracelet-length sleeves, not too fitted or narrow. The emphasis of pockets has also changed, the new placement of pockets is at the hip line rather than the bust line (empire styling).

Dear Eunice: I need to know how to alter a pattern to make the bust larger. If I buy a larger pattern that will fit the bust, the shoulders are too wide and the neck is too large. After chatting with other women at the pattern counters, I decided you could be helping many of us if you could clear this up. Couldn't sew without you, you've helped me so often!

Mrs. B. B.

Dear Mrs. B.B.: There are several alterations you may make for adding extra width to the bust area. Use the one that seems to work best for your particular figure.

First, you may simply add a small amount, such as ½-inch to the side seam, usually the front only. If this does the trick, it is by far the easiest. Don't forget, if you add to the front side seams, you must also add the the same amount to the front underarm seam or the sleeve won't fit properly.

Second, you may separate the pattern from the shoulder to the waist and add the extra width at this point. This is a good alteration if your shoulders also need extra width. If the waistline is too large because of what you have added, you may add an extra dart directly under the bust.

Third, you may slit the pattern from the waist to ½-inch from the shoulder. Spread the pattern so that the extra width varies from 1 inch at the waist, to nothing at the shoulder. Here again, you may add an extra dart at the waistline if you don't need the extra width.

After you have tried these remedies for changing the bust measurement, please drop me a line and tell me about the success you have had.

Many of the dressy theater suits for fall are made of silk brocades and oriental type fabrics. I notice that many are corded in some way and also that the use of Chinese ball buttons is still very popular. Instructions for making them are included in my leaflet No. 4. Send 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Sew Simple, in care of The Pontiac Press for your copy.

Dear Eunice: I am knitting a coat of rather heavy yarn and hope to make it look like the expensive hand knits that are sold in the costume rooms. I am in doubt as to how to line the coat. Could you please help me? I don't know too much about sewing.

Mrs. W. H.

Dear Mrs. W.H.: After each section has been completed and blocked, cut a piece of lining to fit, allowing at least one inch at all edges for a seam plus ease. I would also suggest that you use an interfacing for the fronts of your coat to keep them in shape. Grosgrain ribbon could be used as an alternative.

Catch the lining to the underarm seams of the coat and whip with small invisible stitches to all outer edges. After the lining is completed, a quilted effect with the lining will keep the coat in shape. This can be done in 3-inch intervals by loosely tacking the lining to the coat with a small back stitch.

The longer stitch that you can't see, is slipped between the lining and the coat. Try to keep the lines even and it will be more worth the time and effort. The lining done in this fashion can't pull or slip and it will hold shape, just as lining a skirt would do.

Rough the Ruffle

Mrs. F. W. Davenport, Waverly, Ia., is this week's winner of a Tailor Trix pressing board for this suggestion:

I've always dreaded making ruffled chintz curtains because the ruffling attachment would slip over the material and only occasionally catch. I found that by unthreading the needle and running the ruffle through first, it roughed up the material enough to make it work much better. This would also work with organdy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruben W. Groves of Redford announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathy to Otis N. Walton III, son of the Otis N. Waltons of Orchard Lake. The December bride-elect is a junior at University of Michigan where her fiance is doing graduate work. His fraternity is Theta, Chi.

Parents of the bride are the William Niemans of Rochester. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Ididore Wolak of Watkins Glen, N.Y. and the late Mr. Wolak.

Alencon lace trimmed the bride's gown of white peau de soie styled with bracelet-length sleeves, fitted bodice and bell skirt with train.

A pearl-frosted pillbox securing her illusion veil and a bouquet of white chrysanthemums completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Bob Craig of Detroit was honor matron. Mary Jo Nieman and Mrs. Ronald Bowen attended their sister as bridesmaids with Mrs. Ralph Darby and Heather Sue Curran, junior maid.

ESQUIRE SIDE

On the esquire side were best man Jay Sullivan of Detroit with ushers Michael Zemke, Ronald Bowen and James MacQueen Jr.

After a northern honeymoon the couple will live in Rochester. They are graduates of Eastern Michigan University and University of Detroit, respectively.

Sanitation Is Problem Facing You

The recent typhoid epidemic in Aberdeen, Scotland, provided a sad reminder about a basic principle of health.

Press reports cited dirty public washrooms as largely responsible for spreading the disease — because not enough soap and hot water were available to maintain proper hygiene.

Public washrooms are everybody's concern in any community.

So complain about or report unsanitary conditions wherever you find them.

Washability Is Fall Style

Washability is the style for fall gloves — in a range from Orlon and grained nylon fabrics to deerskin, cabretta, and glace leathers.

Since many models feature bows and half bows, make sure to fingerpress these fashion details — as well as the gloves themselves — after sudsing, rinsing, and towel-blotting them.

Don't Take All Mints at Restaurant

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My husband and I had dinner in a restaurant recently. We had finished eating and were getting ready to leave when the waitress brought to our table a small fluted paper cup with after dinner mints.

I picked up the cup of mints and took them with me. My husband was embarrassed by my doing this. I feel that inasmuch as we were entitled to them I had a right to take them.

* * *

A: Taking the whole cup of mints from the table was rather odd and most properly you should have placed one in your mouth as you got up and perhaps taken a second one in your fingers to eat as you made your way out of the restaurant.

Q: My nephew is separated from his wife. I have remained on friendly terms with her and we visit back and forth quite often.

My son is going to be married shortly and, of course, my nephew will be invited.

Would it be proper to also invite his estranged wife to the wedding?

* * *

A: If it is to be a small family wedding, you should not invite her.

But if it is to be a large one where they need not speak to each other or even meet face to face, it would be quite all right to invite her unless your nephew's feelings toward his estranged wife are such that even her presence at the reception would be upsetting to him.

Sleeping Habits of Americans Seem Strange

In Brazil, there's a tribe of Indians who sleep pyramid fashion, according to age. The youngest sleep on top and the oldest on the bottom.

At first glance this may seem strange to us. But is it?

Here in America, some of us aren't doing much better. Two people sleeping in an old, small-size double bed may result in a pyramid of a fashion simply because there isn't enough space for them to sleep side by side.

* * *

Sleep experts tell us that we need at least 38" of sleeping area in width. This is because we don't sleep like logs. Rather, we toss and turn 20 to 45 times a night.

This is nature's way of getting all the kinks out our muscles. With this in mind, consider the old double bed.

One-half of its width is 27", almost a foot less than the needed 38" per person. No tossing and turning in this bed and so unfortunately the kinks remain.

* * *

The experts also tell us that we should have 10" more mattress than the tallest sleeper for toe and pillow room.

Concentrating all the mathematics involved, that means anyone over 5'6" probably has crushed or "hangover" toes or a bumped head as a result of sleeping in one of these old, short-size beds.

* * *

To end these mattress miseries, the bedding industry has added a new dimension to sleep — the king-size mattress and started Measure Your Mattress Month to introduce it.

People-size beds, 60 by 80 inches and bigger, provide 52 per cent more sleeping area.

Early Fatigue Is Symptom of Heart Attack

NEW YORK (UPI) — The occurrence of unexpected fatigue in the form of early evening tiredness has been tagged as the first stage in development of a heart attack.

* * *

According to a report by Dr. Robert S. Green, of Cincinnati, Ohio, this symptom is the first of three "preheart attack fatigue stages" which can begin months before the attack.

* * *

In the report in "Medical World News," a newsmagazine for physicians, Dr. Green also said the second stage is marked by progressively increasing fatigue during the early part of the work week and for longer periods each day.

* * *

This occurs three to six months before the attack.

The third stage, called "absolute fatigue," is marked by a washed-out feeling in which the heart has a time meeting the smallest demands.

Wipe Clean Not Enough

Many vinyl items are sold with care instructions which read "wipe clean."

However, merely wiping with a damp or a dry cloth is usually not adequate.

SPADEA DESIGNER PATTERN

Harvey Gerin co-ordinates a perfect harmony of design. Starting with the basic bias bodice that flows smoothly into sleeves, the straight cut skirt accents the whole with the subtlest of contrasts.

Then against this basic simplicity of form Harvey Berin combines on the collar — the contrasting facing and matching buttons.

The end result is the ideal balance of novelty and simplicity. A wonderful easy shape for the new smooth finished fabrics. To select your correct size, use Spadea's exclusive ready-to-wear size charts.

Employer Fails to Deduct Social Security

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: Is there a way out for me? I have worked for over 20 years in one place as a maid, and have earned from $40 to $60 a week. But my employers have never taken out any Social Security.

Twice I have had to have a verification of my income — once for a divorce action and this time for FHA — which they could not fill in because they said we would all be in trouble since no Social Security has been taken out.

MARY FEELEY

Is there any way I can start setting this right — without causing trouble? I like my job, but somehow feel cheated because of the past benefits I have missed. I know if I cause my present employers trouble I won't have a job or a reference. I need help desperately. W. T., Toledo

★ ★ ★

Dear T. W.: It's not too late to salvage some of the benefits you're entitled to, and it's certainly worth a try. Setting this situation right won't cause your employers trouble, but it will cost them a little money. And you, too, will have to be prepared to put out a substantial amount.

Under Social Security regulations, you can only go back three years in reporting wages. Future benefits will be paid on this basis, along with any future contributions made before you reach age 62 or 65.

For instance, figuring your wages at $50 a week over the past three years, your employers should have been withholding and reporting $1.85 out of that sum.

So in order to qualify you for Social Security benefits, they will have to pay $156 for the year $961; $63.28 for the year 1962; and $192 for the year 1963. Or a total of $511.28.

★ ★ ★

These amounts are based on the assumptions that your employers pay 3 per cent of your wages on a quarterly basis for 1961 and you match it with an year 1961; $162.36 for the year 1962, both of you pay 3½ per cent quarterly. And for the year 1963, each of you pay 3⅝ per cent quarterly.

TOTAL COST

In order to reinstate you under the assumption that your employers must pay the total cost — but they are entitled to collect half of it from you. Perhaps they could arrange to deduct your portion from future wages, a little at a time.

It's a shame that many wage earners are being deprived of their Social Security benefits simply because their employers failed to take the proper steps in reporting these wages.

Many of them undoubtedly just forgot to withhold these taxes in the beginning — and then were afraid to adjust the situation later for fear of legal penalties.

★ ★ ★

Of course, in some cases the employe doesn't want the Social Security tax deducted because she — or he — doesn't want it known that several jobs are being held. In that case, the employer needn't feel responsible.

Perhaps you can explain to your employers that they will not get into difficulties by reporting your wages at this late date.

They may even be willing to pay the entire amount necessary when they realize the injustice they're doing you.

Of course you don't want to lose your job at this point, but since you have been with them for 20 years surely they will have enough regard for you to try to put matters right.

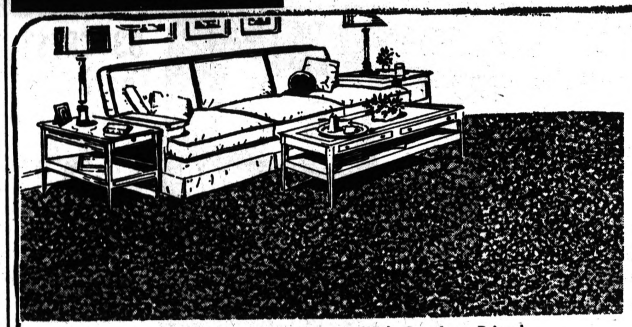

They can get Form 942H from the Social Security office and fill it out, paying the amount required based on your actual wages for the past three years. This will at least assure you of getting some part of what you're entitled to in the future.

Red Chinese Relax Restrictions on Foreign Travelers

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)— The coolies have gone from the waterfront of Communist China and the beggars have left her streets.

Women may be growing more style-conscious and businessmen are becoming less wary in their dealings with Westerners.

★ ★ ★

But it's still a land where the foreigner gets a 65 per cent discount while the natives pay top dollar for the goods they produce.

★ ★ ★

This is the report of Capt. John Lewis, 33, Welsh master of the converted oil tanker Stancloud.

RELAX RESTRICTIONS

In the 10 years he has been sailing to China he has noted a gradual relaxation of once rigid restrictions governing the movement of foreigners. While he finds it easier to get around in Communist China today, there are few places to go and little to do.

Lewis spoke of the changes he has seen since he first shipped to China in 1953 as an apprentice on a ship carrying fertilizer to Tsintao.

★ ★ ★

Today he is master of one of the hundreds of vessels of all registries — except those of Japan and the United States — that have carried some 6½ million tons of grain worth $500 million to Red China since early 1961.

The Stancloud's crew can be considered typical. There are 31 Britons and 12 Spaniards aboard. Shipboard soccer teams play each other while waiting to load in British Columbia ports. They play again while discharging cargo in Shanghai or Dairen.

NOT ENFORCED

"The Chinese regulations, such as the one stating you have to be back on board by midnight, are still on the books," Lewis says. "But they're not enforced as rigidly as they once were."

You can carry a camera in China, provided you don't take pictures within city limits or of military installations, and you have the film processed before leaving the country.

"As long as you comply with their regulations and don't cause them any bother, the authorities won't cause you any," Lewis says.

There are no coolies in evidence where the Stancloud ties up.

GET A WAGE

"Now they're called workers and get a wage — about $40 a month," Lewis says. "They reckon that's enough to feed a family of four and have a little left over."

Chinese women still work in the sheds and along the dockside. They don't carry heavy loads aboard the ships any more, but they toil aboard sampans and lighters.

In Dairen, his last port in China, Lewis saw converted stores with five or six beds to a room. "They've always lived 15 to 20 to a room and I guess they still live that way," he said.

In Shanghai he saw a sign of a changing China — a beauty shop.

STYLE-CONSCIOUS

"It wasn't anything like what you have here or in the United States, but it was an indication. The women seem to becoming more style-conscious. Once it was hard to tell the women from the men; they all wore trousers and denim shirts.

★ ★ ★

"Now the women, at least some of them, are wearing their hair swept back and they are taking to dresses and skirts."

Shanghai and Dairen are dull cities with little to do and there are only two places for Lewis and his men to go — the Seamen's Club and the Friendship department store. The discount allowed foreigners in the store is up to 65 per cent on anything to be taken out of the country.

On his latest trip to China, Lewis paid $6 for "a good pair of shoes."

COST TO WORKER

The shoes would have cost the $40-a-month waterfront worker the equivalent of $15.

Lewis says the ports of China are far more mechanized than they were 10 years ago.

"In 1961, the grain ships used their own gear to unload in China. When an order was filled, the ships would sell the gear to the Chinese. Now the main ports have all their own facilities and these facilities are being improved all the time."

"In 1961, it took us 21 days to discharge cargo. On our last trip we turned around in seven days," he said.

FEW CONTACTS

The sailor in Shanghai or Dairen makes few contacts, according to Lewis.

"You walk the streets and you have a crowd following you. They stare. They watch to see where you will go, what you will buy. It's just Chinese curiousity and it's been that way ever since I began running to China.

"They stare at you and you stare back. If you smile, they'll smile."

But Lewis has learned not to talk politics.

VIET NAM

"One chap tried to draw me out on Viet Nam. I told him that if the United States and the Chinese wanted to fight each other, that was their business."

During a recent stopover in China, Lewis went to a beach.

It could have been a beach scene anywhere — except that the women's costumes dated back to "about 1914."

"There certainly were no bikinis."

Boy Loses Feet After He's Tied to Railroad Tracks

BLANDFORD, England (AP) — A 17-year-old schoolboy with both feet cut off by a train was found bound and gagged on a roadside near this Dorset town today. Rushed to a hospital, he was reported in fairly satisfactory condition.

★ ★ ★

Police said marks indicated the youth had been tied to the track of a nearby railroad and struck by a train. Then he struggled up a 20-foot bank to the highway. Three men going to work found him.

★ ★ ★

The youth was identified as Stephen Hargreaves of Bryanston School, a private school.

★ ★ ★

David Hurley, one of the men, said all Hargreaves could say was: "They tied me up."

BEEN MISSING

Police said the boy had been missing from the school since Monday night.

State Legislator Votes for Judiciary Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. George Meader, R-Mich., joined other House Judiciary Committee members Tuesday in voting 20-13 for a Congressional investigation of the Justice Department. The investigation was ordered after complaints by the Teamsters Union.

Woman Gets Counsel in State Murder Case

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Attorney Harold Sawyer Tuesday was appointed by Superior Court Judge Claude Vanderploeg as counsel for Mrs. Garrett M. Laubenthal, 39, of Grand Rapids on a charge of murder. The woman, mother of six children, is held at Kent County Jail to await examination Friday. She is accused of slaying her 3-month-old daughter, Jill, and attempting to dispose of the body by burning.

The Cato Conspiracy in 1739 was an unsuccessful colonial uprising of Negro slaves near Charleston, S.C. About 70 lives were lost during the incident.

House Committee Chief Hoping to Delay Justice Dept. Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Judiciary Committee hopes to defuse a politically explosive investigation of the Justice Department and former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., whose committee ordered the inquiry Tuesday over his opposition, says he intends to try to keep anything from happening until after the November elections.

★ ★ ★

As chairman of the special subcommittee created to conduct the investigation, Celler will have a lot to say about when it gets under way, but he'll be under heavy pressure to act promptly.

Republicans, who offered the resolution ordering the investigation and backed it almost solidly in committee, would like to see it begun while Kennedy is campaigning for the U.S. Senate from New York.

CHIEF FORCE

The Teamsters union, which has been the chief force behind the investigation move, would like to see action before President James R. Hoffa's conviction for jury-tampering is heard on appeal in December.

★ ★ ★

After the 20-13 vote that set the investigation in motion, Celler told newsmen: "Nobody asked for this investigation except those involved with the Teamsters union. If it had not been for their agitation, there would be no investigation."

The Teamsters want the committee to look into charges that the Justice Department violated Hoffa's constitutional rights by its actions during his trial in Chattanooga. They first backed an investigation directed specifically to Hoffa's case.

★ ★ ★

The reluctance of many members to seem to be coming to the aid of Hoffa in an election year helped Celler bottle up that resolution. As a compromise, Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, came up with a resolution ordering an investigation of the Justice Department, but without mentioning Hoffa or anyone else.

The American Medical Association was organized in 1847 at Philadelphia, Pa.

Panic Over Toy Clock

LONDON (UPI) — A police bomb disposal team rushed to the Holloway Post Office last night, postal workers were ordered away, and a ticking parcel was gingerly unwrapped. It contained a toy clock.

POWER OF LIGHT — What appears to be a cross in the sky is formed above New York's Empire State Building by the combination of lights in its upper 30 floors and a low-hanging cloud. The lighting system bathing the upper floors of the huge building is turned on nightly except on foggy nights.

'Annoying' Excise Taxes Likely Target for Johnson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's pledge to cut excise taxes next year is most likely to be aimed at ending levies on cosmetics, luggage, furs, handbags and jewelry.

Tax experts believe that these are the levies most annoying to the public because they are among the few excises actually listed in the purchase price of the article.

Excise taxes on liquor, tobacco and gasoline are considered "untouchables" and probably will remain a permanent part of the tax system.

The President told the United Steelworkers' convention in Atlantic City, N.J., yesterday that "we will cut excise taxes next year."

Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon had said previously that the excise levies would be the next target of a tax cut.

LEFT OVER

The excise taxes are left over from World War II and the Korean conflict. They are expected to bring about $14.6 billion into the treasury this year.

The rates range from 5 to 20 per cent. Most are paid at the manufacturing levels and passed on to the consumer in the purchase price. About 43 products and services are among the taxable items.

Abolition of the levies on jewelry, furs, cosmetics and the other so-called retailers' excise taxes long has been popular in Congress.

A Republican proposal to end them received enough support to pass the Senate this year. But the House held firm after President Johnson said no excise levies should be repealed until Congress had a chance to complete a study of the entire tax system.

LITTLE IMPACT

The retail excise taxes on these items produce only about $500 million annually in revenue — hardly enough to act as a stimulant to the economy. This means that Johnson probably would have to drop a few more excise levies if a tax reduction is to have any impact.

But tax experts don't believe he will touch the levies on liquor and tobacco, which are among the biggest revenue raisers. They argue that such taxes have a "social benefit."

The same goes for excise taxes on gasoline, which are channeled into a special fund for construction of highways and other purposes intended to benefit motorists and truckers.

* * *

The President still has a long list of other excise taxes which are considered expendable. Among them are taxes on electric bills, light bulbs, radios and television sets, appliances, business machines, matches, photographic equipment, sporting goods and fountain pens.

Lunch Plan On Despite 35 Deaths

NEW DELHI, India (UPI)—An American-supported school lunch program was reported continuing all over India today despite the food-poisoning deaths of 35 small boys and the hospitalization of scores of others in a southeast Indian village.

The boys, all aged 4 to 10, were stricken at Maddikare village in Andhra State, after eating a midday meal whose chiew ingredients were corn meal, powdered milk and vegetable oil.

This food was supplied by CARE (Cooperative for American Relief Everywhere). The organization supports a school lunch program for 7 million Indian children, including 950,000 in Andhra State.

Both Indian and American officials were investigating the cause of the tragedy.

* * *

Officials in Hyderabed, capital of Andhra State, said, "School feeding in Maddikare had been suspended for some time because of the prevalence of cholera in the surrounding area. It was only this Friday that the school lunch program resumed."

NOT THE CAUSE

David Jack, CARE director for India, said, "We are confident that the food itself was not the cause.

"CARE believes investigation will show either local water or local hygienic conditions in the village contaminated the food after it was opened."

Jack said the Andhra State director of public information told him that the CARE school lunch program to several hundred other schools in the state was continuing.

* * *

Indian Education Minister M. C. Chagla told Parliament in New Delhi, "We must withhold judgment on the cause of death until the investigation is completed."

Steve Allen Ending Nightly TV Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Steve Allen says he is ending his nightly syndicated television production, "The Steve Allen Show," effective Oct. 23.

The actor said yesterday that Westinghouse Broadcasting Corp. had released him from his contract so he could devote full time to his role as host of the weekly "I've Got a Secret" program on CBS-TV.

Allen said that in recent weeks he has been commuting between New York and Hollywood to tape the shows. "It was just too much," said a spokesman for the actor.

Organized Crime Seen Playing Key Role

Arson-for-Profit Is Growing as Fast as the Flames It Feeds

NEW YORK (AP) — Arson-for-profit is a crooked business growing as fast as the flames it feeds. One reason: the "torch."

The torch is not a comic strip character. He is, in underworld parlance, the professional fire-setter, the criminal who uses flame for gain.

His main aim is to collect, or help someone else collect, fire insurance on property. The target is a big one. More than $2.2 billion in fire insurance premiums are written each year.

★ ★ ★

Organized crime is turning more and more to incendiary activity, in the opinion of fire marshals and insurance investigators.

"There is no slacking off in the trend," says insurance investigator Brendan P. Battle, manager of the Arson, Theft and Fraud Department of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

10 STATES

"Syndicate controlled hoodlums are believed to have been responsible for recent fire-setting in at least 10 states in the East and Midwest," Battle said in an interview.

He said there is "a definite connection between growth of professional arson rings and the increase in insurance fraud fires."

The number of cases investigated by his agency during the year ended April 30 reached a record 904. They involved $36.5 million in insurance.

The bureau's investigations did not include major metropolitan areas such as New York, Detroit, Chicago, Los Angeles and Philadelphia, which have their own fire-investigating agencies.

MORE ACUTE

But reports of fire officials in those areas indicate their problem is even more acute.

Since January 1962 there have been some 75 bombings and set fires in Chicago business firms.

New York City fire officials investigated 589 fires during 1963 that they termed suspicious and another 485 known incendiary cases including many for motives other than profit — revenge, mischief, pyromania.

★ ★ ★

But it is a clue to the effectiveness of the professional torch that, of all the investigations, there were only six convictions of persons for setting fires to collect insurance.

Also, say the investigators, the number of fires they know or suspect of being arson for profit is probably only a fraction of the actual total.

LOOKS ACCIDENTAL

The reason is that the professional torch knows how to set a fire so that it looks accidental, and fire tends to destroy the evidence of its origin.

★ ★ ★

How big a bite of fire insurance collection is taken by all arson for profit activity is unknown.

But in the decade ending in January 1963, fires known to have been set caused more than $144 million in property losses, a little more than 3 per cent of total losses. A big chunk of the figure was arson for profit — perhaps the greatest part.

"We have encountered with increasing frequency interstate travel on the part of gangland torches who have been given contracts calling for the destruction of business premises by fire," said Battle.

VERY LUCRATIVE

"Racketeers have learned that fire-setting can be a very lucrative source of income through insurance collections as well as a weapon to be used as intimidation for organizing purposes or for eliminating business competitors," Battle added.

One result has been that the U.S. Justice Department is taking a new look at organized arson at the request of the insurance firms. The Federal Bureau of Investigation has begun compilation of uniform statistics on arson.

★ ★ ★

But arson for profit and its impact on the multibillion-dollar fire insurance industry is only part of the picture. There also is the human element. Fires set for profit take lives.

Among recent tragedies was a case in New York. A landlord hired a torch to burn a tenement he owned in order to collect insurance. Four persons living in the tenement died in the flames.

BROKE CASE OPEN

Only a quarrel between the paid arsonist and his girlfriend broke the case open. She told authorities what she knew of the fire. Both the landlord and arsonist were convicted of first-degree murder and sentenced to life imprisonment.

The lives lost were among 10 deaths in New York City alone in 1963 from known arson or suspicious fires.

★ ★ ★

There are dozens of lives lost each year across the nation to flame for gain but, like the dollar cost of the torch, the true casualty totals is unknown.

Buys Hot Car From Police

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Vito Castelli recently bought a stolen car — from the St. Louis Police Department.

Here's what happened:

Mrs. June Ruff reported last April that her car was stolen. The car was found the next day but, police said, no one bothered to check the department "hot sheet," the published list of stolen cars.

The car, believed abandoned, was impounded for 90 days and then sold at auction. Castelli bought it for $70.

Mrs. Ruff's son spotted the car by accident and notified police. Everything was straightened out when the city paid Mrs. Ruff $200 for the auto, the price she had paid for it.

HOW TO HOLD FALSE TEETH More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at drug counters everywhere.

Hearing Due on Districting of Kent Board

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) —A motion to extend the appeal period in an apportionment case concerning the Kent County Board of Supervisors comes before Circuit Court Judge Fred N. Searl for hearing Friday.

The petition was filed by George R. Cook, legal adviser to the board, who seeks an order extending by 30 days the time for leave to appeal to the State Supreme Court. Cook originally had 20 days.

Cook also sought an order settling the record as to a concise statement of facts.

Judge Searl ruled Sept. 11 in an opinion watched closely by other states, that the board must be apportioned on a population basis since the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution requires that the board meet the same basic constitutional standard as required of the state legislature.

ANSWERS SUIT

His ruling answered a suit filed by five Grand Rapids college professors last June.

The judge has delayed immediate effect on his ruling in order to give the 1965 legislature opportunity to amend the statutes under which boards of supervisors are apportioned.

To Make Moscow Boots

LONDON (UPI) — A British shoe firm has contracted to make 15,000 pairs of fancy, wool-lined women's boots for Moscow shops to sell at about $45 a pair.

Jet Airliner Loses Wheels

SACREMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — A Western Airlines jetliner with 54 persons aboard skidded partly off the runway yesterday when its right main landing gear broke off during a landing at Sacremento Municipal Airport.

Western Airlines spokesman Darrell McConnell said one passenger and one stewardess were taken to a hospital for a check-up, but no other injuries were reported.

★ ★ ★

The Boeing 720B, regularly scheduled flight 658 from Los Angeles, carried 48 passengers and a crew of six. The passengers slid down emergency chutes immediately after the plane was brought to a stop and fire equipment sprayed one engine with foam.

Witnesses said the plane appeared to bounce as it landed and the gear fell off. The plane came to rest partly in dry grass, with the landing gear lying far behind.

Woman Dies, Leaving 192 Descendants Alive

ELBERTA (AP) — Funeral services will be held today for Mrs. Edith A. Gonyon, 75, of Elberta, who leaves 192 living descendants. They include four sons, four daughters, 49 grandchildren, 129 great-grandchildren and six great-great-grandchildren. Mrs. Gonyon died Monday at a Frankfort hospital after a brief illness.

Junior Editors Quiz on BALD EAGLE

★ ★ ★

QUESTION: Why say "Bald Eagle" when he's not bald?

ANSWER: It's true the bald eagle is not bald. His head and neck are covered with a cape of snow white feathers. But this makes him look bald from a distance, which is the reason for the origin of the name.

With his white head, wide wingspread and habit of soaring high up in the air, the bald eagle is truly majestic in appearance.

It was this which led the founding fathers to choose the bald eagle to represent the new nation of America, suggesting by this symbol that its ideals were high and lofty in character and also conveying the idea of strength.

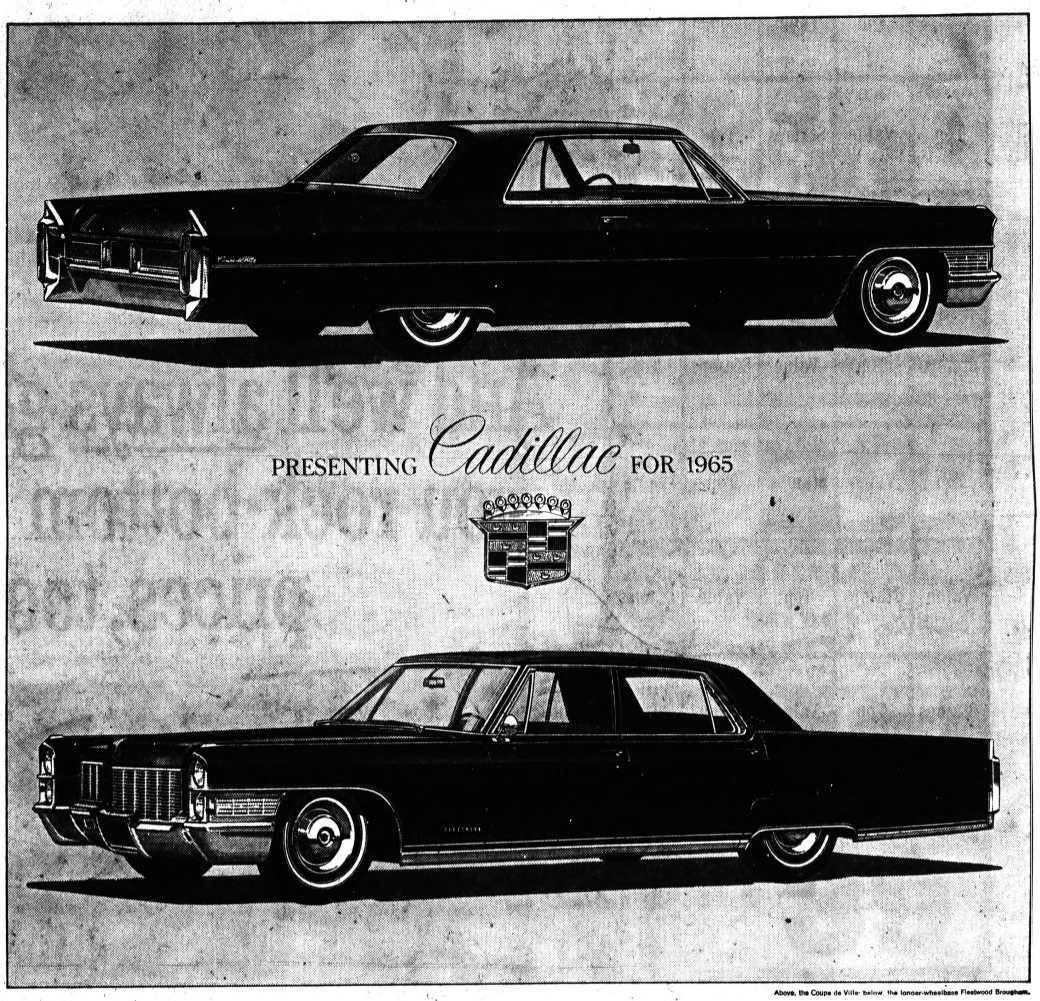

The bald eagle has remarkable eyesight. One was recorded to have dived down diagonally through the air for a distance of three miles to pick up a dead fish floating on a lake.

These eagles build huge bulgy nests in tall trees or in crevices of cliffs, where they raise their two or three nestlings. They eat small animals and birds, but are especially fond of fish.

Although spread widely over the temperate regions of North America, bald eagles have become rare, even though now fully protected by Federal laws.

SO NEW! SO RIGHT! SO OBVIOUSLY CADILLAC!

The 1965 Cadillac is the most dramatically new Cadillac in sixteen years; new from chassis to rooftop and new from start to stop. Its remarkable styling—elegant, majestic and impressive as never before—establishes it instantly as an all-time Cadillac great. And not only is it an inspiration to look at—it is a revelation to drive! The marvelous responsiveness of Turbo Hydra-Matic is now standard on all eleven models. A new concept of frame and suspension gives the car incredible steadiness and levelness of ride—even under the severest conditions of cornering and handling. And there is quiet—quiet beyond anything you imagined possible in a motor car! Cadillac's new and more spacious interiors are marvelously rich and luxurious—and include such personal options as an exclusive tilt and telescope steering wheel. Cadillac owner or Cadillac admirer—you owe yourself a journey at the wheel without delay.

You will know at once that this is—in every way—the new Standard of the World!

JOIN EXERCISE — Two Soviet destroyers are seen from the deck of the USS Independence as it took part in NATO exercises in the North Atlantic between Iceland and Norway yesterday. Adm. Kleber S. Masterson, U.S. commander of the NATO striking force, said, "We plan to utilize them as part of the exercise."

Barry a Warmonger? Ike: 'Tommyrot'

GETTYSBURG, Pa., (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower brands as "tommyrot" charges that Sen. Barry M. Goldwater is a warmonger.

Eisenhower made the comment during a half-hour television appearance with the 1964 GOP presidential candidate last night. The film, "Convention at Gettysburg," was produced by the Republican National Committee.

The show was filmed on the Eisenhower farm here last Monday. The general and the senator were seen strolling around the farm, chatting on major campaign issues.

It was Goldwater who brought 'warmonger' into the conversation. He told Eisenhower that the charge had been leveled at him and his running mate, Rep. William E. Miller, because in their campaign "We constantly stressed the need for a strong America. . ."

Eisenhower replied: "Well, Barry, in my mind this is actual tommyrot. Now, you know about war, you've been through one. I'm older than you, I've been in more.

But, I tell you, no man that knows anything about war is going to be reckless about this . . . you're not going to push a button here and start a war in another year . . . they're just crazy . . ."

He said the nation recognized Goldwater "as a man of integrity, of good will, honesty and dedication to his country."

Eisenhower himself defended the practice of "brinkmanship" in foreign affairs, which Goldwater also has advocated.

"After all, brinkmanship is absolutely necessary in this troubled world of ours to keep the peace," he said.

"But, it must be used intelligently and not recklessly throwing your weight around and criticizing your friends, and dividing them or being too unnecessarily arrogant even if they were hostile.

"It is something you do to show that you are not going to sacrifice a single vital interest of the United States, and therefore, you're not going to be pushed around, but they're not going that extra step and be a bull and say, 'Get out of my way, I'm coming through.'"

He called this "a fine line" that every person in a position of responsibility must think about.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Emphysema Is Chronic, but Not Catching

Q—Is emphysema contagious or is it an allergy? Is there any cure?

A—Emphysema is a very common and a very chronic lung ailment in persons over 50. It is caused by air being trapped in the lungs due to a valvelike obstruction.

BRANDSTADT

This obstruction occurs chiefly in heavy smokers, persons with chronic bronchitis and those who live in areas of extreme air pollution.

It is not contagious and not an allergy. Its effects are sometimes similar to those of asthma.

Although there is no cure, the best treatment is early diagnosis. This will enable your doctor to prevent serious lung damage.

If you have emphysema you should report to your doctor whenever you get a cold or other acute disease of the nose or lungs.

It is helpful to quit smoking and to keep fit through moderate, but regular exercise. If your work requires you to breathe dusty or sooty air, you can prolong your life by wearing a respirator or changing your occupation.

Your doctor can help you by giving you antibiotics for some types of complicating infection.

Other drugs, such as isoproterenol, will dilate the blocked air passages. Breathing exercises (humming, laughing and singing) are often useful.

Even victims with far advanced emphysema can be helped. Vanillic diethylamide, a respiratory stimulant, allows easier breathing.

Inhalation of oxygen may make the difference between being confined to bed and being up and about. Postural drainage of the lungs (hanging over the edge of a bed for 10 minutes with your head near the floor) is another favorite method of treatment.

Q—Is it possible to be desensitized to the pollen that gives me hay fever in the summer?

A—First you must identify the pollen that is causing your hay fever.

Desensitization must be started at least six weeks in advance of the time you usually get your attacks. It must be repeated every year.

Q—I have taken Placidyl every night to get to sleep for several years. Is it habit forming? What are the side effects and what would happen if I suddenly stopped taking it?

A—Ethchlorvynol (Placidyl) is not habit-forming. It is much safer than the commonly used barbiturates.

Side effects may include dizziness, headache, nightmares, nausea, a bad aftertaste and drowsiness.

If you suddenly stopped taking it you might have some trouble with insomnia because of your psychologic dependence on the drug, but in the long run it would be worth it.

Indonesian Guerrilla Slain in Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — British Gurkha and New Zealand troops have killed another Indonesian paratrooper and captured several others in new action in the Malayan peninsula, the Malaysian government announced today.

The latest kill brought to 19 the number of Indonesians slain since the paratroop landing in the Labis area of Johore State Sept. 2. More than 50 are believed to have been captured. About 20 guerrillas are believed still at large.

★ ★ ★

Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman announced today that intelligence reports indicated that Indonesia sent three transport planes on the paratroop mission, not two as previously reported, and that one crashed into the South China Sea.

In Jakarta, the official news agency Antara said Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, commander of the Indonesian armed forces, would fly to Moscow to join President Sukarno for "important talks" with Soviet leaders.

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Aly Sabry of the United Arab Republic flew to Czechoslovakia today with agreements for Soviet aid in his pocket. Premier Khrushchev saw him off.

The agreements cover use of $280 million in long-term credits promised by Khrushchev in Cairo last May. They provide for Soviet participation in construction of an iron and steel complex to turn out more than a million tons of steel annually, a plant building heavy machinery, a machine tool factory, a lubricants plant and a thermal power station.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet Union also will help create 20 centers to train industrial workers.

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — About 35,000 Communist-led demonstrators marched past the U.S. Navy base in this port city today shouting opposition to visits by nuclear submarines.

The Japanese government recently gave its approval to port calls by atomic subs provided they do not carry nuclear missiles.

ALL A MISTAKE — Sylvan Millerbernd, Cosmos, Minn., farmer, leans against a road sign near Winthrop as he hitchhiked back home Monday from Rochester after being picked up by the highway patrol on a traffic ticket he already paid. said Millerbernd: "The further I walked, the madder I got."

Traffic Ticket Aftermath Irks Minnesota Farmer

LITCHFIELD, Minn. (AP) — Sylvan Millerbernd, 29, a farmer, is thinking about hiring a lawyer about that matter of a $10 traffic ticket.

It wasn't the ticket that irked him. It was what happened after he paid it.

Millerbernd of Cosmos, Minn., was taken in a State Highway Patrol car 150 miles and jailed at Rochester for allegedly ignoring a traffic ticket issued in June. He paid it by mail Aug. 26.

Somehow his name wasn't checked off the patrol's warrant list.

★ ★ ★

He was arrested Sunday night at his home, where friends and neighbors were visiting, he said, and whisked away despite his protests.

A relay of six patrolmen took him to Rochester.

"They treated me like a criminal," he said.

RUINS BUSINESS

Worse yet, Millerbernd said the ticket had been instrumental in ruining a $1,000 engine and putting him out of the trucking business.

He was given the ticket for having insufficient brakes on a pickup truck for towing a disabled semitractor. Driving the tractor home ruined the motor, he contends.

★ ★ ★

Millerbernd said he wasn't offered a ride back from Rochester, so he hitchhiked the 150 miles back home, letting off steam on the way.

Seeking End of Arms Aid to Tshombe

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — An African delegation leaves for Washington Thursday to ask President Johnson to cut off military supplies to Premier Moise Tshombe's Congolese government.

The mission was announced Tuesday by Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta of Kenya. He heads a 10-nation committee set up by the Organization of African Unity to seek peace in the Congo.

"While the Congo is still supplied with materials of destruction," Kenyatta said, "the peace we intend to make in the Congo cannot be achieved."

Joseph Murumbi, Kenya minister of state, will head the delegation. Also on it are ministers from Ghana, Guinea, Nigeria and the United Arab Republic.

Kenyatta said a similar delegation might be sent, if necessary, to other countries.

Red China has been accused of giving counsel and money to various factions in rebellion against Tshombe's government.

★ ★ ★

The decision to send the delegation was made after the committee heard statements from Congo rebel leaders.

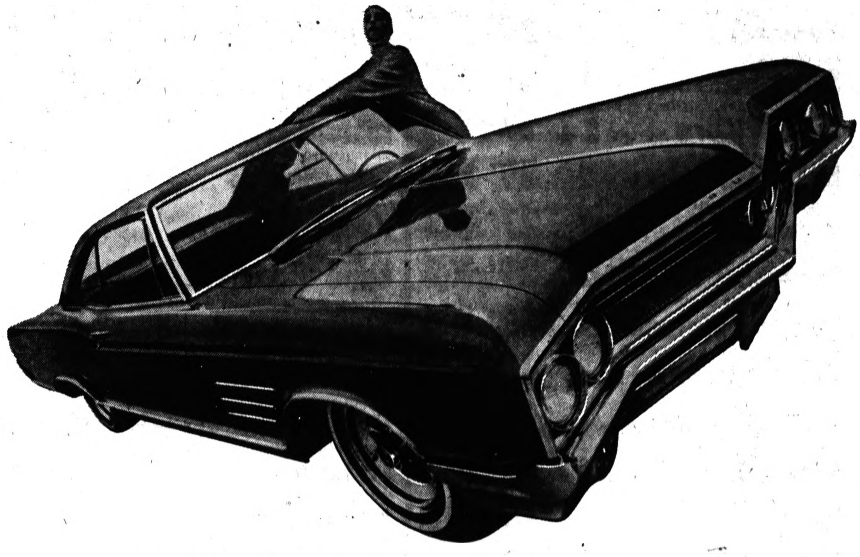

Testifying behind closed door were Laurent Kabilla, dissident chief of the eastern Congo; Bocheley Davidson, first secretary general of the Congo National Liberation Committee; Col. Louis Pakassa, a rebel army leader; and Gabriel Yubu, rebel secretary general for internal liason.

Details of their testimony could not be learned. In the past, they have attacked the United States for supplying military equipment to the Congolese national army.

Tshombe, who met with the committee last week, arrived Tuesday in Elizabethville, capital of the Congo's Katanga Province, whese he once headed a secessionist regime.

He told a cheering crowd of 40,000. "The whole country is not on fire," he said, "and I shall guarantee investors the safety of their possessions. I also guarantee the safety of your lives."

We changed the Buick a lot this year. And you may never be the same again yourself.

We doubt you'll want to be the same. Not once you set eyes on our new Buicks. On the Buick Special and the Skylark. The LeSabre, Electra 225, Riviera. And on the sleek, modified fastback of the wild, wilder, Wildcat in the picture.

True, there's a new high-style touch. But that's hardly all. Engineering still has the emphasis. It's a Buick tradition. So are the extras Buick spends a little extra on. Like finned brake drums that do a little better. And smoother drivelines. A tuned suspension to smooth ribcage roads. Now add Buick's Super Turbine transmissions—and you have an idea of what Buick owners have always liked about Buick. We think you'll feel the same.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick

4 Times in 20th Century

America Has Been Lucky With Her Vice Presidents

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third and last dispatch by the national reporter of United Press International reviewing the office of vice president. It describes the most effective vice presidents.

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Somewhere out in space there must be a benevolent star guarding and guiding the destiny of the United States. Four times in the 20th Century, a vice president has been summoned to the highest office, and at no time has that been disastrous.

In some cases, the No. 2 man has turned out to be a better President than the No. 1. Historians rank Theodore Roosevelt much higher than the assassinated William McKinley.

Calvin Coolidge may have drowsed away the afternoons in the White House, but who is going to challenge the statement that he was an improvement over Warren G. Harding?

★ ★ ★

Harry S. Truman brought vigor and decisiveness to some of the toughest problems a president ever faced, and nobody knows what would have happened if the ailing Franklin D. Roosevelt had lived out his last term.

FINAL JUDGMENT

History's final judgment on John F. Kennedy is still to be written, but it is a fact, that within 48 hours after taking the oath of office, Lyndon B. Johnson was firmly in control of the federal government.

American voters can take pride in the efficient way in whch our modern vice presidents have moved into the presidency, but they cannot claim any of the credit.

It was pure luck in most cases that an able man was standing by in the hours of emergency. Not since 1804 has the voter had anything but an indirect and tenuous choice in the selection of vice presidential candidates.

In that year, the 12th Amendment to the Constitution was ratified, providing that the electors vote separately for president and vice president.

MUCH SIMPLER

Previously, it had been much simpler. The electors took a vote and the man with the highest number was president. The man with the second highest number of votes was vice president.

Enactment of the 12th Amendment and the evolution of political parties removed the vice presidential choice from the arena of public opinion.

The presidential nominee picked his man and the party went along with him without question. About the only instance in modern times that the public had any voice in the matter was in 1956 when Adlai Stevenson told the Democratic National Convention to make the choice. There was a ballot and Estes Kefauver defeated John F. Kennedy.

The list of vice presidents who never succeeded to the presidency includes strong men and weak, scholars and fools. In his book "The Rise of the Vice Presidency," Irving G. Williams gives high marks to John N. Garner and Richard M. Nixon, but his discussion stops with the Eisenhower administration and there is no assessment of Lyndon B. Johnson as vice president.

DOUBTFUL CHOICE

It is doubtful whether Garner ever really wanted to be vice president, but once in the job he brought great skill to bear on his work and was invaluable to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He worked behind the scenes, led senators into a small office, put a bottle of bourbon on the table and invited them to "strike a blow for liberty."

As a former speaker of the House, he had immense prestige with congressmen and he used it to grease the way for FDR's bills whenever they got stuck.

One day he tried to tell Roosevelt it would be unwise to force any more legislation through Congress immediately ("The time has come to let the cattle graze a little bit, boss").

★ ★ ★

Roosevelt ignored the advice and tried to push through a bill to expand the U.S. Supreme Court.

One legend says Garner told friends "Here's where I throw in my cards," and in any event he went home abruptly to Uvalde, Tex., and staged a sit-down strike.

REFUSES TO RUN

When Roosevelt sought a third term, Garner refused to run with him and worked actively against his nomination.

In those days a vice president had nothing but prestige and political savvy to use in helping the administration, but Garner had both in abundance and used them effectively.

By the time Nixon came to the vice presidency the situation was entirely different. Congress passed a law in 1949 making the vice president a member of the National Security Council.

Dwight D. Eisenhower used it to put Nixon to work, largely in the field of foreign affairs. The vice president went to Russia and stood up to Nikita Khrushchev in a debate on the merits and demerits of capitalism.

ATTACKED BY MOB

He was attacked by a mob in South America.

The result of all this was that Nixon had considerably more identity than the average vice president. When the time came to pick a candidate for the 1960 presidential nomination, he was the obvious and almost automatic choice.

Lyndon B. Johnson thrives on work and President Kennedy gave him plenty of it. There were no governmental secrets that Johnson didn't know all about, and his long years in the House and Senate gave him vast influence with Congress.

'Don't Merge Health Units'

Gov. Romney Hears Advisory Council

LANSING (AP) — Combining the State Mental Health Department with other departments "would interfere with its ability to deliver quality service," a 12-member advisory council told Gov. George Romney Tuesday.

The council specifically opposed a proposal to combine the mental health department with the State Health Department.

★ ★ ★

That proposal was part of a Senate bill this year to reorganize state administrative agencies into not more than 20 principal departments, as required by the new Constitution.

State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis earlier had suggested a similar merger in a plan to bring all of Michigan's health agencies and services into one department.

ONE DEPARTMENT

Members of the Michigan Mental Health Advisory Council, created by a 1963 law, unanimously recommended that the mental health department remain as one principal department.

It suggested, however, bringing the State Board of Alcoholism into the mental health department because "alcoholism is known primarily as a behavioral problem."

★ ★ ★

The mental health department now is the largest in state government with a budget of more than $90 million a year, the council noted.

The report was prepared by a special committee of council members headed by George E. Gullen Jr. of Rochester, American Motors Corp. vice president for industrial relations. Dr. Peter A. Martin of Detroit is council chairman.

Organization Will Battle Right-Wing Propaganda

NEW YORK (UPI) — An organization of 80 prominent Americans launched a $500,000 radio-television campaign yesterday to counter propaganda "saturation tactics" of the John Birch Society and other "ultra-right" groups.

The group, headed by Dr. Arthur Larson, former director of the U.S. Information Service, said its purpose was to "expose and correct the principal errors currently propagated by radical reactionary organizations."

It said these organizations—and it named 13 of them — now produce 7,000 weekly radio and television programs at a cost of $10 million a year.

John Rousselot, national public relations director for the Birch Society, said it welcomed the "so-called exposure" and he offered to debate Larson on television or other public forum to "let the American people decide for themselves which organizations deal in truth."

Billy James Hargis, head of the Christian Crusade, also named by Larson's council, replied that it sounded as if it "does not believe in freedom of speech."

★ ★ ★

'Exposure' Welcomed by Birchite

SAN MARINO, Calif. (UPI)— A spokesman for the John Birch Society said yesterday it's proud of its record and "welcomes the so-called 'exposure' of its activities" by a newly formed committee of 80 persons in New York.

However, John Rousselot, national public relations director of the society, simultaneously challenged Dr. Arthur Larson, director of the new "Council for Civil Responsibility."

"It will be interesting to see if Dr. Larson and his committee will be equally desirous of exposing' the semisecret activities of the Council on Foreign Relations, of which he is a leading member, and which organization has been privately guiding our American foreign policy down the road to Socialistic ruin for many years," said Rousselot, a former congressman.

Rousselot issued a long statement which included six points he described as "observations" reached after he learned of the Larson council formation.

". . . The John Birch Society places great faith in the American concept of free and open discussion of issues affecting the public," he said.

JUDGE VALIDITY

"The society trusts in the ability of the American people to hear arguments for and against public policy and to judge the validity of these arguments for themselves.

". . . All the society asks is that Dr. Larson and his group present their views in an open, objective and honest manner," Rousselot said.

OTHER GROUPS

Other groups cited by the Larson committee did not reply immediately.

The committee headed and largely recruited by Larson, a former aide and speech writer for ex-President Dwight D. Eisenhower, is known as the National Council for Civil Responsibility. It named these organizations as the right-wing propaganda organs it would oppose:

The John Birch Society, the Christian Crusade, Americans for Constitutional Action, America's Future, Christian Freedom Foundation, Church League of America, Citizens Foreign Aid Committee, Conservative Society of America, Liberty Lobby, Manion Forum, National Economic Council, Dan Smoot Reports and We, the People.

Larson said that, as extreme examples of their propaganda activities, the Birchites and other right-wing movements have charged that Presidents Eisenhower, Truman, Kennedy and Roosevelt were traitors.

SUPREME COURT

They also demanded most of the justices of the Supreme Court be impeached, and said most of the legislation passed by Congress is either unconstitutional, Socialistic or both, he said.

"For years," Larson said, "many Americans including myself thought that the best way to treat the radical reactionary movement was to ignore it."

But he said he began to have doubts when he realized "Saturation tactics" of the right-wing were having an increasing effect on the American public.

"These organizations are beginning to get into the bloodstream of people who are not extremists at all," Larson said. "Their program has produced suspicions and fears that extend not only to the people in Washington but also your own neighbors."

SAID OMINOUS

Larson described the increase in ultra right-wing radio and television programs as "Ominous." He said the organizations spend upwards of $20 million a year, mostly on propaganda which is "quite literally undermining American democracy."

To combat this rightist propaganda, Larson said, the council will start radio and television programs across the country. These, he said, will be devoted to presenting first-hand experiences of persons who have suffered personally as a result of harassing tactics of extremists.

Larson said the council would expose "spying, nocturnal telephone calls, economic and social pressures, stonings and even bombings."

Appearing with Larson at the Overseas Press Club press conference where formation of the council was announced was the Rev. John G. Simmons of Paccima, Calif., a Lutheran minister.

Second Liquor-by-Glass Request Is Rejected

A second request to allow liquor by the glass on a bowling alley concourse was rejected last night by the Pontiac City Commission.

★ ★ ★

Upholding commission action last week, the City Commission turned down a request from Pontiac Elks Club Bowling Alley for "drinks" on their concourse area.

Last week, commissioners voted down a similar request from Westside Lanes, 199 Orchard Lake.

Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson explained that the commission's action was an effort to keep the bar and recreation areas separate.

★ ★ ★

In other business, a week's stay was continued on proposed legal action against Sam Allen & Son, Inc., 22 Congress.

REPORTS PROGRESS

Upon the recommendation of the city manager, who reported progress in muffling noise from the junk yard operation, the commission agreed to delay court action.

The city had threatened legal action in a dispute over noise, smell and dust from the yard.

Separate resolutions approving contracts for acquisition appraisal in urban renewal R20 also received commission okay last night.

★ ★ ★

The contracts were for William H. Knudsen of 1132 Voorheis, Waterford Township, $760; Nicholie & Harger, 53½ W. Huron, $520; and John D. Millis, 43½ N. Saginaw, $1,700.

City Commissioners also gave final approval to a contract with Stanley B. Jones for R20 site improvements. The contract was for $68,025.

Action was deferred one week on a resolution to set new salaries for personnel directly appointed by the commission in three city departments.

New wages were recommended in a recent Michigan Municipal League survey of city employes.

★ ★ ★

Affected by the latest resolution would be the city clerk, city assessor, city attorney and finance director.

Hospital Exec Defends Action

LANSING (AP) — Ionia State Hospital's director fielded a hot potato — from his own kitchen—Tuesday when he answered criticism of allowing use of the hospital's large oven for an Ionia County Republican banquet.

Dr. Alfred A. Birzgalis said 500 potatoes were baked for the Sept. 12 banquet by Earl Graham, hospital food steward, on his own time. This didn't cost the state anything and was not improper, he said.

Holden Cook, an Ionia Democrat and former hospital employe, had reported the incident to the State Civil Service Commission.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan Mental Health Department investigated. It said the poatoes were furnished by the county GOP women's organization and were baked when the oven was heated in preparation for cookin gthe hospital's evening meal.

Dr. Birzgalis said such service would be available to any such group in the community

'Plans Call for 700 Bombers Through 1969'

DALLAS (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told American legionnaires yesterday that present United States military plans call for a force of 700 manned strategic bombers at least through 1969.

"Whether it will be wise to move from research to production for the purpose of replacing our present bombers in the 1970s remains an open question," he said, adding that future needs ought to dictate future policy.

McNamara thus answered a charge by Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater that the Johnson administration was phasing out the manned bomber from the American arsenal.

Goldwater addresses the National Legion Convention here today.

* * *

As McNamara spoke of this country's capacity to utterly destroy any attacker, Goldwater was in the Texas Panhandle and said at Amarillo that McNamara was "trigger-happy."

INTRODUCTION

The defense secretary was introduced in Dallas by Texas Gov. John Connally, who accompanied him back to Washington after McNamara's keynote address to the Legion.

McNamara said American nuclear capability was able now and would be able in the future "to insure the destruction — and I mean the complete destruction — of both the Soviet Union and Communist China, under the worst imaginable circumstances" should war break out.

He said the Minuteman II intercontinental ballistics missile would be eight times as effective as the first model of the weapon, and ticked off these further facts regarding U.S. military preparedness:

* * *

- 1,100 strategic bombers, including more than 500 on 15-minute alert.

* * *

- 800 fully armed, dependable ICBMs on launchers, almost all in hardened and dispersed silos.
- 256 Polaris missiles deployed in 16 submarines, with 25 more Polaris submarines under construction.

Says Segregation Hurts Rich Whites

NEW YORK (AP) — Children in rich, white suburbs are being culturally deprived by their isolation from poor people, says a New York educator.

Dr. Harold Taylor, former president of Sarah Lawrence College, said Tuesday some wealthy suburbs are being made into "closed communities of a separate class of citizens."

Their children, he told a meeting of the Public Education Association of School Volunteers, "learn to believe that this is the natural condition of man and too often go through life with a class attitude ingrained in their minds as a by-product of their education."

"They are the new culturally deprived," he said.

William Henry Harrison gave the longest inaugural address of any of the U.S. Presidents.

Missouri Mule Joins Vanishing Breeds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The famed Missouri mule has joined the list of vanishing Americana.

Bred by pioneers to help carve homesteads from the wilderness, this hardy animal also helped win three wars — the Civil, Spanish-American and World War I. His fame spread across the country and around the world.

* * *

Decrying the mule's virtual disappearance in the wake of the tractor, the Missouri Farmers Association reports that none are being bred.

"Wherever there was hard work to be done, he was there, groaning and sweating and kicking but getting the job done," the association says in the latest issue of its magazine, The Missouri Farmer.

LESS NEED

The mule is a strong, sure-footed work animal, a creature for which there is less and less need in the world of diesel-powered.

To produce an animal which could stand up under the hard, endless labor of building homesteads, pioneer Missourians brought blooded jacks and jenneys from Kentucky and obtained large horse mares from Ohio to produce the hardy variety of mule.

KILL A HORSE

"The result of this breeding," says the magazine, "was a marvelous creature, big-boned, shambling, weighing about 1,200 pounds. The animal had an almost endless capacity for the hardest sort of work and could thrive under conditions that would kill a horse."

The mule helped build railroads, log the forests, plow the fields, harvest the crops, turn grist mills, force the sugar out of cane, haul coal from mines, and pull guns and wagons in war.

* * *

More than 5,000 Missouri mules were killed with the American Expeditionary Force in France in World War I.

"A great animal and a great tradition is disappearing from our state," lamented the magazine.

Premier Quits in Denmark

Loses Majority After Yesterday's Election

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Socialist Premier Jens Otto Krag's coalition government resigned today after losing its one-vote majority in Parliament. Krag began looking around for allies to join him in a new government.

In a general election Tuesday, Krag's Social Democratic party retained its 76 seats, but its coalition partner — the Radical Liberals — lost a seat.

* * *

Krag, 50, handed the government's resignation to King Frederik IX and told newsmen he would advise the king to ask him to form a new government.

Traditionally, the king follows the advice of the largest group in Parliament, which the Social Democrats have been for more than three decades and still are.

CLEAR LEAD

The Socialists have twice as many seats as the second-place Moderate Liberals, a conservative party.

* * *

Denmark's membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was not an issue in the campaign. There also was no suggestion by any major party that the welfare state be dismantled.

* * *

Danish papers termed the election results a victory for the Conservative party, which increased its holding to 36 seats, a gain of 4.

In the old Parliament, Krag's coalition had 87 seats —76 Social Democrats and 11 Radical Liberals. The opposition also had 87 — 38 Moderate Liberals, 32 Conservatives, 11 left-wing Socialists and 6 right-wing Independents — but the coalition created a one-vote majority by including one of five nonpolitical members of Parliament in the Cabinet.

GAINS SEAT

The Conservatives picked up one seat each from the Radical Liberals, the left-wing Socialists, the Independents and the German minority group.

* * *

The Communists, who haven't been in Parliament since 1960, again failed to win a seat.

Probe Food, Water in Hepatitis Outbreak

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Army authorities investigated water and food supplies at Ft. Sam Houston today because 15 soldiers are ill with what doctors tentatively have diagnosed as infectious hepatitis.

The 15 are students at the post's medical training center. Lt. Col. Jerome Greenberg, chief of the preventive medicine section under the 4th Army surgeon, said they apparently contracted the disease at the same time. No other outbreaks have been reported here by military or civilian officials.

Merger Four Years in the Making

Giant Railroad Empire Will Link Missouri Valley to East

NEW YORK (AP)—A mighty new railroad empire nearly four years in the making will link the Missouri Valley to the East Coast next month.

★ ★ ★

Its formal creation under sponsorship of the Norfolk & Western Railway will mark a giant step toward reorganization of the nation's rail network into perhaps a dozen regional systems.

★ ★ ★

The greater Norfolk & Western, barring an 11th- hour hitch, will begin taking shape Oct. 16 under a consolidation plan involving five other roads.

Combined, their tracks will sprawl 7,800 miles through 14 states and cross into Canada near Buffalo, N.Y.

ON THE WEST

On the west, the tracks will link Omaha, Neb., Kansas City, Mo., St. Louis, Mo., Des Moines, Iowa, Chicago and other cities to the bustling Atlantic Coast port of Norfolk, Va., on the far side of the rich Pocahontas coal country.

Hinged on the present N&W, a thriving coal-hauling line, the new system is expected to generate annual revenues of around $550 million. This would put it seventh among American railroads, although it will not place among the top 10 in mileage.

★ ★ ★

As a money-maker, it would rank at or near the head of the 100 major railroads. Assets will total $1.9 billion.

Joined with the N & W will be the Wabash and Nickel Plate railroads, both major properties, along with the 110-mile Sandusky (Ohio) line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the 171-mile Akron, Canton & Youngstown Railroad and the 132-mile Pittsburgh & West Virginia Railway.

The track for completing the merger was cleared last week when the Pennsylvania Railroad pledged to divest itself of 31.3 per cent of N&W voting stock.

★ ★ ★

Stuart T. Saunders, Pennsylvania chairman since last Oct. 1 — and prior to that architect of the merger as president of the N&W — called the pledge an "act of faith."

The Interstate Commerce Commission had conditioned approval of the N&W expansion program on divestiture by the Pennsy of N&W and Wabash securities totaling more than $400 million.

★ ★ ★

Earlier, the Pennsy had refused to give up its holdings pending ICC approval of a proposed merger of the Pennsy and the New York Central Railroad.

Persistent Pennsy refusal, railroad analysts agreed, would have torpedoed the vision nurtured by leading rail executives, of three competitively balanced regional rail systems in the East where several roads have suffered heavy losses in recent years.

★ ★ ★

The third system started taking shape last year when the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway was authorized to control the then-ailing Baltimore & Ohio.

★ ★ ★

The Pennsy, the nation's largest railroad, announced a major move under the divestiture agreement Tuesday.

Under a plan jointly announced with the N&W, 800,000 N&W shares held by the Pennsy —about one-third of the Pennsy's total holding—will be transferred to the N&W in 80,000-share installments over the next 10 years.

RECEIVE DEBENTURES

The Pennsy in return will receive new N&W 4% per cent debentures convertible after three years into common at $130 a share — but only by holders other than the Pennsy.

The merger plan calls for issuance to Nickel Plate holders of .45 of a share of N&W common for each share of Nickel Plate.

Next, the combined N&W-Nickel Plate would lease, and eventually acquire, the Wabash. The Sandusky line would come into the system on a straight purchase for $27 million.

The Akron, Canton & Youngstown likewise would be purchased, and the Pittsburgh & West Virginia leased in perpetuity.

Pretax merger savings were estimated by the N&W at $27 million annually after five years.

★ ★ ★

In negotiations leading up to the ICC approval, the N&W promised that if its merger plan went through it would study possible affiliation with the money-losing Erie-Lackawanna Railroad.

Hold Man Sought in '59 State Holdup

PORTLAND, Ore (AP) — A man arrested for a traffic violation is being held for Michigan authorities on charges of armed robbery and jumping bond.

He is Birney T. Havey, 32, and he is wanted in Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo.

★ ★ ★

Havey is charged with the 1959 holdup of the L. E. Phillips Jewelry Store at Grand Rapids. The loot included $10,000 in gems and $150 in cash.

Grand Rapids police said he jumped a $20,000 bond last spring.

FAILED TO APPEAR

Police at Kalamazoo said Havey also failed to appear for trial there April 13. He had been free on $5,000 bond in connection with the theft of some $2,000 from a church safe.

The FBI in Detroit, meanwhile, said that Havey was arrested May 15 in New York after returning from Brazil. Released on $5,000 bail Havey again fled, FBI agents said.

★ ★ ★

Grand Rapids Police Inspector Walter Gilbert said Havey was charged with the jewlery store stickup after his arrest in Kalamazoo.

Portland police arrested Havey on the traffic charge Sept. 14.

★ ★ ★

An FBI spokesman said Havey has waived extradition to Michigan but it was not certain when he would be returned there.

Saturn Satellite Falls Out of Orbit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An 18-ton satellite launched Friday by a Saturn rocket fell out of orbit yesterday over the Indian Ocean.

The 80-foot satellite, with a boiler plate version of the Apollo moon rocket at one end, was put in orbit at Cape Kennedy in the seventh successful test of the Saturn.

The end came 3 days, 19 hours and 37 minutes after launch. It had made 59 revolutions around the earth.

Pawnee Indians of Texas, Kansas and Nebraska provided scouting parties for Army forces in the government's early wars against other tribes.

Bad Luck Mars 1964 for U.S. Astronaut John Glenn

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — January 1964 dawned as a good year for Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. He was a national hero. There were plans for a senatorial race in Ohio.

Before two months elapsed, it was apparent that 1964 was to be the darkest year ever for the former astronaut who orbited an American spaceship around the earth in 1962.

★ ★ ★

The latest stroke of ill fate is the serious illness of his father, John Glenn Sr., of New Concord, Ohio. His mother also has been ailing. The astronaut's father-in-law, Dr. W. H. Castor of new Concord, has undergone two brain operations.

A dreary parade of bad luck started Feb. 26 with a fall in a Columbus, Ohio, apartment bathroom. The resulting head injury caused dizziness which knocked Glenn from the U.S. Senate race in Ohio. It also laid low a man who thrives on action.

Only now is he able to resume the things he enjoys most.

"Seems like old times," say the neighbors as they watch Glenn running along a country road. He also turns boaters' heads for a quick second look as the trim figure skims past on water skis.

★ ★ ★

"I am feeling much better," Glenn says, and he looks it. The twinkle is back in his eye. The quick, wry smile comes easy and often.

"It could be a lot worse," he said. "Annie's (his wife's) two operations proved to be successful. There were no signs of malignancy in the tissues. Our son David has enrolled at Harvard and our daughter Lyn is as bouncy and healthy as ever."

NO TROUBLE

Glenn says he doesn't have any trouble with dizziness unless he moves his head faster than a gentle nod.

"It takes about 10 to 15 seconds to straighten out," he said. "Doctors say it will be one or two months and I will be completely cured."

★ ★ ★

One of the big things in Glenn's life has been flying. He flew 59 missions in World War II and 90 in Korea.

"I haven't been in an airplane since the accident," he said, watching his wife knit a sweater.

FULL STATUS

"I hope to be back on full flight status before I retire from the Marine Corps. I will have to pass the flight physical first, of course. I want to keep flying after I get out of the Marine Corps."

The sandy-haired astronaut said he still doesn't know what he will do after he retires.

★ ★ ★

"I want to work with NASA some, not an 8 to 4 office job but part time as a consultant. I would like to keep my hand in youth work and the Freedom Foundation, and have some sort of business connection that involves international travel.

"But I am still at the mercy of the medics. I have to go to San Antonio next week for another medical checkup. There are no immediate plans."

College tuition costs have increased nearly 500 per cent in the last 30 years and are expected to rise another 50 per cent over the next decade, Sen. Winston Prouty of Vermont recently disclosed.

Cong Downs 2 U.S. Planes

American, Viet Pilots Presumed Captured

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Air Force planes were shot down early today and one American and one Vietnamese pilot were presumed captured by Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

The two Skyraiders with an American and a Vietnamese pilot aboard each were shot down while attacking guerrillas near Rach Gia, 125 miles southwest of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

The occupants of one plane bailed out. U.S. military spokesmen said the American was missing. The Vietnamese was rescued.

The second plane crash-landed and the American made his way to government lines. The Vietnamese pilot was missing and presumed captured.

CLOSE SUPPORT

The planes were giving close support with bombs and cannons to two posts and a town under attack by Viet Cong forces. A 50-caliber Viet Cong machine gun was reported in the area, and U.S. sources said it was assumed this downed the two planes.

The planes carry Vietnamese markings but are U.S. Air Force craft used to train Vietnamese pilots.

★ ★ ★

Government and Communist troops were reported still fighting in the area where the planes crashed.

★ ★ ★

In a separate action 40 miles south of Saigon, 50 government defense guards held off a Viet Cong battalion during a night attack on their post at Chau Phu. Scout planes reported the outpost still in government hands at dawn and a battle under way for the bodies of 50 Communists the pilots said they counted around the post.

★ ★ ★

The Civil Guards corpsmen finally brought in 37 bodies and 26 weapons, the government said.

Law Fights Violence in NFO Action

CHICAGO (UPI)—Law enforcement officers today stepped up their fight against a new wave of violence, vandalism and bomb-throwing in the National Farmers Organization (NFO) livestock market rebellion.

Minnesota Gov. Karl Rolvaag issued his sternest warning yet in the 35-day-old "holding action" which stretches from Idaho to Pennsylvania.

"Events indicate that some completely irresponsible individual or group has again embarked on a path of violence that can only lead to tragedy unless stopped," Rolvaag said. "I intend that they shall be stopped."

The NFO, youngest of the nation's major farm organizations, is trying to increase the on-the-hoof price paid to farmers by withholding cattle, sheep and hogs from market in 23 states.

★ ★ ★

Violence has periodically erupted during the campaign, although the NFO leadership has made repeated pleas for peaceful demonstrations.

DIFFICULT TO MEASURE

The success of the market rebellion has been difficult to measure. Cattle receipts were down at 12 major Midwestern markets for the first two days of this week, but hog and sheep receipts were up. Prices were generally steady or lower.

★ ★ ★

A black powder bomb was tossed beneath a truck returning to Lamoille, Ill., yesterday after delivering a load of livestock to the Chicago stockyards.

The blast, which police said could not be definitely linked with the NFO, knocked out both headlights on the truck and gouged a hole in the pavement but did not injure the driver.

★ ★ ★

Firemen early today brought under control a blaze that "severely damaged" the Illinois Livestock Producers Association stockyards at Princeton, Ill. Police said the fire was set by an arsonist.

Postal Melee From Squiggly Melange?

Stamp Could Cause Chaos

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — I feel sure that Postmaster General John A. Gronouski was motivated by high ideals and good intentions when he approved the issuance of an abstract postage stamp.

WEST

But I'm afraid he is letting the Post Office Department, as well as us letter writers, in for a lot of confusion.

My concern stems from a press release in which the department announced that a new commemorative five-cent stamp had been chosen as a salute to the fine arts.

It features a reproduction of a painting by the late Stuart Davis, one of this country's foremost modernists. And it marks the first time that abstract art has appeared on a U.S. postage stamp.

Okay so far. What gave me pause was the way the department described the stamp as "a melange of red, blue and black squiggles." There, I fear, is where the confusion is going to arise.

* * *

Every time that I address a letter I decorate the envelope with a melange of red, blue or black squiggles, depending on what color of ink I have in my pen.

NORMAL WRITING

This is not abstract art, however. It is my normal handwriting. No matter how hard I strive for legibility, my penmanship turns out squiggly.

It wouldn't be so bad if I were the only squiggler using the mail service. But judging from the letters I receive, the bulk of the rest of the population also writes in squiggles.

Through long experience, postal employes have become exceedingly adept at reading squiggles. Consequently, most of the mail eventually gets delivered.

But what will happen when the new abstract stamp starts turning up on envelopes? Something like this, I'll warrant:

* * *

A postal clerk will pick up a letter that has been addressed to somebody in Philadelphia. In haste, he will read the wrong set of squiggles.

WRONG SQUIGGLES

In other words, he will read the squiggles on the stamp rather than on the address. Then he will put the Philadelphia letter, in a mailbag destined for San Francisco.

At least the squiggles in Davis' painting looked like San Francisco to me. But I'm no expert either at squiggle reading or at interpreting abstract art. So it may be that all of the Philadelphia letters bearing the abstract stamp will wind up in St. Louis rather than San Francisco.

At any rate, it appears that the postal service is about to enter a period of jolly chaos. However, there may be a way to avoid this mix-up.

* * *

If you find that your letters are being misdirected, you can try sticking the stamp in the middle of the envelope and writing the address in the upper right hand corner.

Engineers Air New Device to End Skids

DETROIT (AP)—An electronic brake system for vehicles to prevent skidding was one of several topics discussed Tuesday by electronics engineers at Detroit's McGregor Center.

* * *

K. V. Bailey of Bendix Corp.'s research laboratories division proposed the device, which could detect a skid and release the brake to let the wheel turn.

* * *

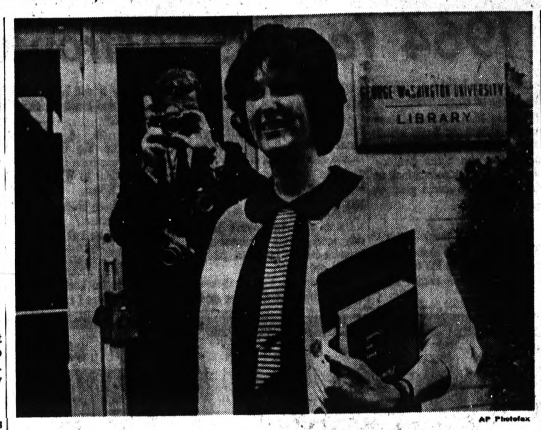

He was among 22 engineers who read technical papers at the Automotive Electrical and Electronics Engineering Conference.

* * *

"A fully locked wheel provides far less stopping force than one which is permitted to roll under braked conditions," Bailey said.

* * *

Another proposal, made by J. R. Cherry, of the applied research office of Ford Motor Co., would eliminate the familiar automobile radio antenna. Cherry suggested the use of an insulated trunk lid or windshield moulding as an antenna.

Hay Fever, Asthma, Eczema

Drug Aids Allergy Suffers

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Dr. Thomas F. Dougherty says heparin, a drug used to prevent blood-clotting, has been found effective against hay fever, asthma and eczema.

He thinks it does so by putting out of commission a substance called histamine which is a root-cause of the inflammation common to allergic diseases.

* * *

Dr. Dougherty of the University of Utah College of Medicine is a research scientist who pioneered in work developing a theory on destruction of cells under stress.

He and Dr. David A. Dolowitz, also of the university, administered heparin to patients with hay fever, asthma and eczema and report successful results and clinical confirmation of this theory.

JULY REPORT

Their work is reported in the July issue of the American Journal of Cardiology.

The theory goes like this:

A cell broken down releases histamine which in turn breaks down other cells which release more histamine to destroy more cells—inflammation.

Heparin occurs naturally in the mast cells of connective tissue and probably acts as a moderator of histamine damage in normal cellular breakdown.

Animal studies show that heparin does, in fact, chemically bind histamine and prevent its cellular breakdown activity.

ECZEMA FIRST

Drs. Dougherty and Dolowitz tried heparin first on eczema patients since, they said in their article, "It presents visible lesions produced by mixtures of inflammation, allergy and infection, all of which should release histamine."

The eczema cleared in 60 of 63 cases, they said.

* * *

They tried heparin in hay fever patients "during attacks of acute pollinosis" and said "the allergic symptoms of nasal obstruction, discharge, conjunctivitis, redness and itching of the skin were helped in most cases."

* * *

Twenty-four patients were treated within the first 24 hours of acute attacks of asthma and they said, "the wheezing was markedly relieved in 17 cases, moderately in six and poorly in one case.

COUGHING HELPED

"Coughing was helped in about the same manner, 15 being helped markedly, eight moderate and only one poorly.

"In 23 of the 24 cases, the breathing was eased both objectively and all of the patients mentioned a feeling of warmth and relaxation."

* * *

"We believe," they said, "that heparin has demonstrated clinically in these pilot efforts its ability to produce immediate relief in acute allergic, infectious and inflammatory states. We believe, too, that this is accomplished through the neutralization of the endogenously released histamine."

Laos Problem to Go to U.N. if Geneva Confab Setup Fails

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma said today the problem of Laos will be taken up in the United Nations if efforts to convene new Geneva conference fail.

* * *

Prince Souvanna, head of the neutralist Laotian faction, passed through Bangkok on his way home from Paris. Talks among the three Laotian factions — right wing, neutralist and Communist Pathet Lao — got under way there Monday after a delay of almost a month.

* * *

"We are still wide apart in our negotiations," Souvanna told newsmen, "but I always have hope for a settlement of the Laotian problem."

* * *

A report from North Viet Nam's news agency led observers in Tokyo to believe that the agreement in Paris on an agenda for the talks, which are being carried on by subordinates, was a face-saving solution to conceal lack of progress toward agreement on a coalition government.

LISTS DEMANDS

The agency listed a number of demands made by the Pathet Lao chief, Prince Souphanouvong. They appeared unacceptable to the neutralists and the right wing.

The demands included:

1. Punishment of the leaders of the April 19 right-wing coup in Vientiane. This would mean punishing Gen. Kouprasith Abhaby and the top leadership of the Royal Laotian Army.

* * *

2. Firing of Cabinet members recently named by Souvanna Phouma and reinstatement of Pathet Lao ministers be dismissed for failing to return to Vientiane.

3. "Neutralization" of Luang Prabang, the royal capital, which would give a sector of the city to Communist control.

4. No preconditions for reconvening the 14-nation conference on Laos.

* * *

5. Withdrawal of all U.S. weapons and military personnel from Laos and discontinuation of all military operations of the right-wing party aimed at regaining areas lost to the Communists in earlier engagements.

Too Tired to Walk

2 Hunters Steal Tractor

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Two footsore hunters used their shotguns to rob an unarmed worker of his tractor yesterday so they could ride to the nearest highway.

John Thomas Bennett, 34, said he was plowing in a field off Highway 51 when two men approached him wearing hunting clothing and carrying shotguns. They said they had been out all night and asked directions to Highway 51.

After Bennett had given them the directions, they pointed their shotguns at him and one of the men pulled him off the tractor. The men then climbed on the tractor and rode away toward the highway.

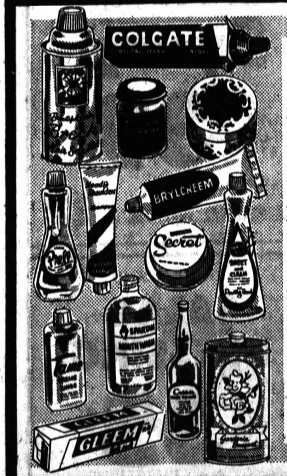

Police found the tractor abandoned about half a mile away.

How to Fold

To fold egg whites into a batter, use a rubber spatula, cutting it vertically through the mixture and turning over by sliding the spatula across the bottom of the bowl and up. Continue this action until the egg whites combine with the batter.

Honey and mustard make good extra seasonings for baked beans.

Fill Tomatoes With Egg Salad for Luncheon or Picnic Treat

Stuffed tomatoes are delectable treats, easy - to - fix salads and easy - to - serve. If carried to a picnic in an ice chest, they also make a good thirst quencher.

A small tomato will equal about one serving, assuring little or no leftovers. Further, this tomato wil provide nearly half the daily requirements of vitamin C, plus a good supply of vitamin A, says U.S. Department of Agriculture nutritionists.

Traditional stuffing favorites include salads of: turkey, chicken, egg, ham, shrimp, kidney beans or potato. With a bit of imagination, other delicious flavor combinations can be created and generously heaped into tomato shells.

Tomato Flower Salad

6 chilled tomatoes
Lettuce
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped cucumber
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
2 tablespoons mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper

Cut stem ends from tomatoes. Cut tomatoes four times from the top almost through the bottom, to form eight attached "petals." Spread petals apart on the lettuce.

Combine other ingredients, and put filling into centers of the "flowers." Chill. (one-half cup of cottage cheese may be used in place of the eggs.)

For a meat filling: Combine 1 cup diced cooked meat; 1 cup diced cooked potatoes; 1 tablespoon minced onion; and 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper.

Crumbs on Ice Cream

Crumb stale sponge cake and roll ice-cream balls in it. Serve with chocolate or butterscotch sauce. This combination is a popular one that has been served for years by a famous New England inn.

Evaporated milk must be chilled before whipping; it's a good idea to chill the bowl and beater, too.

Divide in Spoon

If you haven't ¼ teaspoon and ¼ teaspoon measures, use a level teaspoon of a dry ingredient and subdivide it when a recipe calls for these lesser amounts.

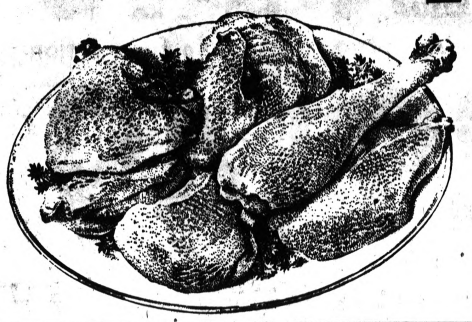

Whether you are boiling white or sweet potatoes, drain them as soon as they are cooked through so that they won't be heavy and over-moist from standing in the hot water.

Purple Plums So Easy to Freeze for Eating in Winter

Idaho's fresh purple plums are the easiest of all fruits to freeze, especially if standard ways (books are full of the sugar-layering and heavy syrup methods) are put aside and the plums — whole, halved or cut in the sizes needed for the made dishes, are prepared in this lazy but highly successful fashion.

To prepare for freezing (the unorthodox way!): wash firm purple plums in cold water. Remove at once and dry on old bath towels or plenty of paper towels.

Using dry cookie sheets, shallow pans or trays which will fit into the quick-freezing section of the freezer, arrange the whole plums or plum halves, cutside-up and not touching.

The halves have more practical uses and take up less space but it is fun to have a few whole plums to garnish a salad plate or make up into a wholefruit sauce.

Since purple plums are a freestone fruit, when cut in half lengthwise along the little "crease," a flick of the paring knife zips the seed right out.

Stack the cookie sheets in the freezing section with custard cups or something on each to deep the fruit from touching the top container. Freeze rapidly. Immediately put the completely frozen plums in freezer bags, twisting the ends tightly using a rubber band or wire-centered plastic tape strip to hold. Be sure to press out the air as much as possible.

The frozen plums will keep well for a year. But who wants them to, when there are so many purple plum treats to be enjoyed throughout the winter and spring.

Note: no lemon juice or ascorbic acid treatment before freezing is needed for the cut plums, as they do not discolor. Even when thawing, they do not turn dark. Frozen so, they do not stick together, which makes them pretty handy to have on hand.

To use: without thawing the whole frozen plums may be poached in a light syrup for a tasty sauce or put into a sweet pickling sauce for Spiced Plums.

The plum halves in their frozen state are easily cut lengthwise to use as a topping for a coffee cake along with a Streusel mixture.

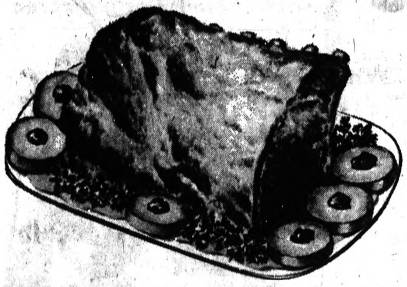

Cut them once again crosswise to use in pies, open-face, counterpaned, or lattice-top; in cobblers, pudding, and many other dishes.

Halves or quartered plums go into a variety of salads.

Junior Colleges Help Relieve Population-Boom Enrollment

WASHINGTON—(NEA)— The junior college, once looked upon as the kid brother of the nation's education family, is playing an increasingly important role in absorbing the college-age population explosion.

As the tide of the postwar population boom rolls upon them, educators are casting apprehensives eyes on the future; yet a ray of hope is provided by the junior colleges.

Recent statistics from the U.S. Office of Edgcation suggest that the country is over the population hump.

However, among the country's educational institutions, only elementary schools will feel the easing of pressure in the near future.

- In the school year now getting under way, elementary school enrollment is an estimated 35.4 million—a new high. But the increase, 1.4 per cent over 1963, is the smallest since 1951.
- High school enrollment will hit 12.7 million this year, up 4.1 per cent from last fall.
- Colleges will have 4.8 million, up 6.7 per cent. Office of Education estimates that half of the country's high school graduates are now entering college—another record.

Far more forbidding to college admissions directors are the results of a projected survey which reveals that by 1973 some 8 million students will be seeking degrees in colleges and universities, a whopping 67 per cent rise over this fall's enrollment.

During the same period, elementary and high school enrollments are estimated to hit 54 million, an increase of 12.5 per cent from 1964.

Two-year junior colleges are expected to shoulder a good part of this higher education burden.

The Carnegie Corp., a nonprofit foundation which sponsors many educational studies, describes the expansion of junior colleges as "the most important development in American higher education in the last quarter century."

National Education Association calls these schools "the most spectacular growth phenomenon on the education scene."

U.S. junior college enrollment, over 85 per cent of it in schools suported by state and local governments, currently totals 1 million full and part-time students. This is a 20 per cent rise over 1963.

It is expected to top 2 million by the fall of 1957.

The number of junior colleges has been slowly climbing in the last decade.

The opening of 20 new junior colleges this fall brought the country's total to 704, compared to 597 in 1950.

This expansion should ease the pressure on four-year colleges at a time when they are feeling most sharply the pinch of the post World War II birth explosion.

The impact can be seen already at the University of California.

By diverting beginning students to junior colleges, the university plans to reduce its proportion of freshmen and sophomores.

* * *

Next fall, the state of Florida will open a college limited to juniors, seniors and graduate students — Flordia Atlantic University at Boca Raton.

Anticipated initial enrollment will be 2,500, with the student body expected to grow to 10,000 by 1970. A similar institution is scheduled to open in Pensacola in 1965.

Public junior colleges — the admission requirements generally demand nothing more than a high school diploma—should lessen high school seniors' anxieties about meeting the stiffer admission standards of four-year colleges.

This Sandwich Packs

Mix ¼ cup toasted wheat germ and ½ cup peanut butter. Spread over four slices of white bread. Mix one 3-oz. package of cream cheese and 3 tablespoons honey. Spread over four slices of whole wheat bread. Make sandwiches of white and whole wheat bread slices with crisp lettuce leaf between.

Fruit Cocktail Squares Get Chocolate Topping

When you make canned fruit cocktail desserts such as "Festive Fruit Squares," it's a good idea to have the recipe handy for any friends you may be having in for dinner. They are virtually certain to ask for it.

Festive Fruit Squares

1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) fruit cocktail
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
¾ cup brown sugar, packed
½ cup roasted diced almonds
Chocolate Swirled Cream

Drain fruit cocktail, saving ½ cup syrup. Sift flour with sugar, soda and salt. Beat egg well; add reserved syrup and orange rind. Blend with dry mixture. Add fruit cocktail and mix lightly.

Spread in greased jelly roll pan (15x10x1-inch). Sprinkle with brown sugar and almonds. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven about 25 minutes, until well browned on top. Serve warm.

Cut into generous squares and top with Chocolate Swirled Cream.

Chocolate Swirled Cream

½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
½ pint whipping cream
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla

Melt chocolate over hot water. Combine cream, sugar and vanilla; beat until stiff. Add chocolate and mix lightly until chocolate is in ripples. Makes about 12 servings.

Serve Green Butter on Hot Rolls, Potatoes

Very French in origin is a sauce called Green Butter. This American version was adapted by home economists. It should be kept cold and served "hard" on top of hot meat, potatoes or bread.

To make Green Butter, mix one-half cup softened butter with 2 tablespoons mixed chopped herbs such as parsley or chives. Then chill.

Sauce for Cake

You can make a delectable sauce for cake squares by melting semi-sweet chocolate and stirring in sour cream. This sauce is good with vanilla-flavored, chocolate or spice cake.

Plum Roll Is Crunchy With Diced Almonds

Roll a batch of biscuit dough into a rectangle ½-inch thick. Top with thin wedges of fresh plums. Sprinkle generously with roasted diced almonds and sugar; dot with butter. Roll from long side; cut into 1-inch slices. Place in greased pan.

Bake in 400-degree (hot) oven 20 to 25 minutes. Serve warm—as-is as coffee cake or topped with whipped cream for dessert.

In Salmon Salad

Add juicy crunch and handsome color to salmon salads. Toss flaked salmon, diced cucumber and halved and seeded Tokay grapes with mayonnaise, capers and their liquid.

Standards Are Set for Canned Goods

Why do some canned foods have the ingredients listed, and why do others not?

Canned foods which do not have ingredients listed on the label are those foods which have "standards of identity" determined by Federal Food and Drug Administration specialists working with canning industry representatives who together have established a basic standard for a given product. With such products, the ingredients are always known to this regulatory agency.

The National Canners Association reports that the first legal standard of identity for any food, fresh or processed, was established for canned peas. It was developed in 1918 after four years of intensive study. Since then, many standards of identity have been established for canned foods.

★ ★ ★

Every canned food product you choose from your grocer's shelf has passed many rigorous tests, the majority of them developed by the canners themselves and every canned product you see in the store has earned its right to be there.

Sour Cream Dressing for Tuna Salad

Want a new dressing for tuna and celery salad? Thin commercial sour cream with a little white vinegar and stir in a crushed clove of garlic. Let all the flavors blend in the refrigerator before serving.

Choose a firm white-meat tuna for this salad; garnish with sliced pimiento stuffed olives.

Sundae Sauce Has Touch of Spice

Allspice and cloves add piquant flavor to red cherry sauce.

Spiced Cherry Sundae Sauce

1 1-lb. 4-oz. can frozen sweetened cherries, defrosted
1 cup light corn syrup
⅛ cup granulated sugar
3 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon ground allspice
½ teaspoon ground cloves
Pinch of salt

Drain cherries; save juice. Combine cherry juice, corn syrup, sugar, lemon juice, allspice, cloves and salt; mix. Heat to boiling point; cook to soft ball stage (238-140 degrees), stirring frequently. Remove from heat and stir in cherries.

Serve cold on vanilla or New York ice cream.

ANTIPASTO SANDWICH—This marvelous Sandwich serves four when it's prepared at New York City's sparkling new Trattoria restaurant. You can make it at home with a real Italian accent.

Italian Sandwich Serves Four

Can't get to Europe this summer? Don't despair; all the fun is in New York City anyway, whether you're planning to attend the great Fair or just discover the treasures and pleasures that abound in Manhattan.

If you long to see Italy, bone up on its fascinating foods by having breakfast, lunch, dinner, or after-theater supper at one of New York's newest, most modern and colorful restaurants, the Trattoria in the new Pan Am Building at 200 Park Avenue.

To give you a taste of eating in Italy, here is the recipe for an Emmanuel-sized Antipasto Sandwich as served at Trattoria, which you can duplicate at home. If this leaning tower of pleasure looks enormous, look again—it serves four!

Antipasto Sandwich

1 round loaf bread
Chianti wine vinegar
Olive oil
Oregano
Bologna slices (Mortadella)
Canned red and green peppers
Chicory
Lettuce, shredded
Tomato slices
Hard cooked egg slices
Anchovy fillets
Hard salami slices
Provolone cheese slices
Thin onion slices
Pimiento strips

Cut bread crosswise into fourths. Before each meat layer, sprinkle the bread with Chianti wine vinegar, olive oil and oregano.

Place bologna slices, red and green peppers, and chicory on bottom layer; top with second slice bread. Layer with lettuce, tomato and egg slices and anchovy fillets.

Top with third piece bread and layer with salami, cheese, onion slices and pimiento strips. Top with remaining bread and skewer to hold together. Cut in wedges to serve. Yield: 4 servings.

Dip Morsel in Cheese Dunk

Fresh garden vegetables and a tangy hot cheese sauce will be the hit of your party. Unusual dunks, such as celery, raw cauliflower buds, radishes and cabbage leaves will be enhanced by this smooth cheese dunk.

Hot Cheese Dunk

2 cups heavy cream
2 beef bouillon cubes
3 tablespoons minced onion
¼ cup butter
6 tablespoons flour
½ pound grated Swiss cheese
½ cup grated Romano cheese
2 teaspoons steak sauce

Scald cream, add bouillon cubes and stir until cubes dissolve. Saute onion in butter until soft. Add flour and mix well. Add cream mixture to onion mixture and cook for 5 minutes or until thickened, stirring constantly.

Stir in cheese and steak sauce and simmer over low heat until cheese melts. Serve with raw vegetable dunks. Makes 3 cups.

Pasta Is Shaped Dough That Calls for Boiling

Any dough made from flour and water and cut into various shapes and dried is called "pasta" by Italians. It includes everything from alphabet letters for soup to lasagne noodles. For cooking, use 3 quarts of water for each ½ pound of pasta.

Bring the water to boiling over high heat, then add the pasta. Stir occasionally and don't cover. Cooking time will vary from 6 minutes for fine pasta to 20 minutes for thicker varieties.

Cream Soup Is Full of Onions and Cheese

Just the right soup for a cool fall evening.

Cream of Onion and Cheese Soup

3 tablespoons butter
2 cups sliced onions
3 tablespoons flour
1 quart milk
Salt and pepper
1 cup shredded American cheese (¼ lb.)

Melt butter in saucepan over medium heat. Add the onions and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally until yellow; do not allow to brown. Blend in flour. Add milk, stirring constantly.

Cook and stir until sauce is smooth and thickened. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Add cheese; stir until cheese is smooth and melted.

Serve with crisp crackers or toast fingers. Makes 6 servings.

Put Fresh Peas and Cut Beets in Salad Mold

Here is a low-calorie salad that makes an ideal accompaniment for almost any meal — simple lunches, family suppers, or dinner parties. It is particularly suitable for serving on warm days.

★ ★ ★

You will find this vegetable salad mold low in calories, but full of flavor. Furthermore, it is easy to prepare.

Vegetable Salad Mold

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
1 cup very hot water
½ cup vinegar
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup shredded cabbage
½ cup diced celery
¼ cup cooked fresh green peas
¼ cup cooked diced fresh beets

Sprinkle gelatin onto cold water to soften, then dissolve thoroughly in very hot water. Stir in vinegar and salt. Chill to unbeaten egg white consistency. Fold in shredded cabbage, diced celery, peas, and diced beets. Turn into large 3-cup mold or 6 individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with salad greens. Yield: 6 servings.

New Book on Food From UNICEF

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — A mad-cap, fun-filled, lavishly illustrated book priced at only 50 cents will help the United Nations Children's Fund to fight hunger and malnutrition among millions of children who are fed the nutrient equivalent of an American school lunch every two days.

Jointly created by the Kellogg Company and the U.S. Committee for UNICEF, "Food Wonders of the World" is a history of the world through the foods we eat.

It contains hundreds of light-hearted anecdotes about the eating habits of 39 countries, and answers such questions as:

- Where did watermelon originate?
- Who grew the world's first spinach?
- What was the favorite dish of St. Patrick?
- What U.S. President introduced spaghetti to the United States?
- What famous American dish was created by a dedicated gambler?

From the Stone Age to the Space Age, the book explores dietary fancies and fads of kings, queens, diplomats, religious leaders, scientists, poets and philosophers, from Confucius to Henry VIII, from Napoleon to today's astronauts.

"Food Wonders of the World" runs the gamut from the reason for which the Chinese serve noodles at birthday parties to such scientific developments as hybridization, irradiation and algae-cultivation.

It reveals how the first coffee-house was started in Vienna, why Nigerian hosts welcome visitors with a bowl of nuts, how sauerkraut came (that's right, came) to Germany and who taught the Russians to cook borscht.

This book is not only a thoroughly documented work of value to students, hostesses, teachers, people who take their food seriously and people who don't—it is above all a truly fun book, one to whet the appetite of the whole family and to add the spice of light and unusual knowledge to conversation at many meals.

Orders accompanied by 50 cents per copy should be sent to Food Wonders of the World, P. O. Box 773, Detroit, Michigan 48232.

Kids Need Protein; Feed 'em Meat

Growing children usually need about three times as much protein daily, per pound of body weight, as adults do. That's why it is such a good idea to encourage youngsters to eat meat. The top quality protein meat provides is the kind that works so well in building sturdy bodies.

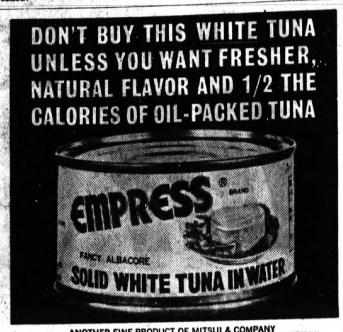

Meat also goes a long way toward meeting the body's daily requirements of B vitamins, iron and other important minerals, the American Meat Institute points out.

Herbs, Garlic in Fish Sauce

Butter sauce is always an elegant topping for lobster shrimp, trout or perch.

½ cup butter
1 clove garlic, crushed
2 tablespoons chopped chives
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Melt butter in saucepan. Add garlic, chives and parsley. Heat until bubbly. Spoon over cooked shrimp, or broiled lobster, trout or perch. Makes about ½ cup.

Spinach Salad Calls for Garlic

Have your friends over for a Roman banquet with one of the highlights being "Roman Salad," a taste treat deluxe! Ripe olive wedges are just one of the popular ingredients making this salad concoction the palate-pleaser it is.

★ ★ ★

Don't limit ripe olives to salads when planning your menus. They are delicious heated as a part of meat and fish sauces.

Roman Salad

¾ teaspoon garlic powder
⅔ cup salad oil
1 large bunch fresh spinach, washed and chilled
1 cup ripe olives
½ cup thinly sliced radishes
1 egg
¼ cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups crisp croutons
¼ cup shredded Parmesan cheese

Combine garlic powder and 3 tablespoons oil. Remove stems from spinach. Tear leaves into bite-size pieces into large salad bowl; cut olives into wedges. Add to spinach with radishes.

Add remaining oil, egg, lemon juice, Worcestershire, salt and pepper. Toss until spinach leaves are coated with oil mixture.

Drizzle garlic-oil over croutons; toss well. Add to salad with cheese; mix lightly. Serve at once on chilled salad plates. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Apple Pancake Baked in Oven Cut in Wedges

New green apples add crisp texture and tart flavor to a mammoth baked pancake.

Apple Pancake

3 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon baking powder
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
¼ cup sugar
3 tablespoons milk
1 large green apple, pared and finely diced
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 tablespoons sugar mixed with ¼ teaspoon mace

Stir together the flour, baking powder and salt. Beat egg whites until foamy; gradually beat in the sugar; continue beating until they hold straight stiff peaks.

Beat egg yolks until thickened; add milk and beat to combine; gently beat in the flour mixture; fold in egg whites and apple.

Melt butter in a heavy 10-inch skillet or shallow baking dish; add batter and spread evenly. Sprinkle with sugar-mace mixture. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until set and lightly browned — about 10 minutes.

Cut into quarters and serve at once with confectioners sugar if desired. Makes 4 servings.

To Spice Your Winter Meals

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

This isn't a stuck record playing the same piece over again. We know we talked about relishes last week. But we still have some good recipes for you and they can't be used at any other time of the year.

First of all, there's tomato chutney. This is the type of relish used with Indian dishes and there are many variations of this recipe.

Tomato Chutney

5 lbs. (11 cups) peeled and diced ripe tomatoes
1½ cups sugar
1 cup cider vinegar
1 cup seedless raisins
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon instant garlic powder
¼ teaspoon crushed red pepper
2 teaspoons ground ginger
4 cinnamon sticks, each 2 inches long

Combine all ingredients in a 4-quart saucepan. Bring to boiling point over high heat. Reduce heat to low and cook slowly 2 hours or until very thick, stirring frequently.

Ladle into hot sterilized ½ pint jars. Seal at once. After 5 or 6 weeks serve with meats, poultry and curried dishes. Yield: 2½ pints.

Spiced fruit is delicious and expensive to buy. But a little time spent in the kitchen will reward you with a supply of pretty fruit that is perfect on the relish tray.

Spiced Pears

3½ pounds (14 to 16) medium ripe pears
Vinegar-water (1 quart water plus 1 tablespoon vinegar)
2½ cups sugar
1¼ cups distilled white vinegar
1 cup water
2 teaspoons whole ginger
2 tablespoons whole cloves
7 three-inch cinnamon sticks

Wash, peel, core pears. Place immediately in vinegar-water to prevent browning. Combine sugar, 1¼ cups vinegar, 1 cup water; bring to boil. Add spices tied in cheesecloth bag. Cover. Boil 5 minutes.

Drain pears, add to syrup. Cover. Simmer 5 minutes or until soft but still firm. Remove spice bag.

Fill clean, hot jars with pears. Add syrup to 1 inch from top of jar. Adjust covers as jar manufacturer directs. Process in boiling water bath 15 minutes. Makes 3 to 4 pints.

Spiced Crabapples

4 pounds crabapples
2½ cups distilled white vinegar
2 cups water
4 cups sugar
1 tablespoon whole cloves
3 three-inch cinnamon sticks
1 teaspoon whole ginger

Wash and remove blossom ends of crabapples. Prick each apple several times. Heat vinegar, water and sugar to boiling. Add spices tied in cheesecloth bag.

Cook part of crabapples in syrup for 2 minutes. Remove, add more crabapples and cook, remove; repeat until all crabapples are cooked. Pour syrup with spice bag over crabapples; let stand overnight. Remove spice bag.

Pack apples in clean, hot jars. Heat syrup to boiling. Pour over fruit. Adjust covers as jar manufacturer directs. Process in boiling water bath 30 minutes. Make 4 to 5 pints.

Fruit catsup may be a new idea for you. But it is fully as good with meat as the regular tomato catsup.

Spiced Apple and Grape Catsup

3 pounds tart cooking apples
1 cup grape juice
1 cup cider vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons mixed pickling spice
3 cups sugar

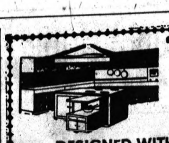

Peel, core and dice apples. Place in a 6 quart saucepan with next 3 ingredients. The pickling spice in a cheese cloth bag and add. Stir and cook until the mixture is the consistency of applesauce. Add sugar and cook 20 to 25 minutes or until of medium thickness.

Remove spice bag and ladle into hot sterilized jars. Seal airtight immediately. Serve as a meat accompaniment.

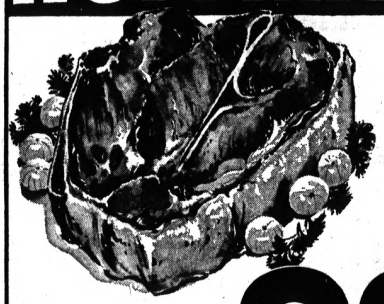

Wheat Germ, Cheese

To make a wheat germ "crumb" topping for casseroles mix two tablespoons of melted butter with ½ cup toasted wheat germ; season with herbs, seasoned salt, grated Parmesan cheese, or chopped onions.

Add wheat germ topping during last 5 to 10 minutes of casserole-baking time. Mixture for two-quart casserole.

Bake New Peanut Butter—Jelly Loaf

Once young bakers have tried their hands at working with yeast, and had the fun of feeling its aliveness under their hands kneading dough, they're sold on it. Children love the wondrous aroma of bread fresh from the oven — and then there's the fun of eating it!

★ ★ ★

But best of all is the fascination of the yeast itself. Yeast is a living plant, one that they can watch as it grows. So, breadbaking becomes a valuable learning experience as well as fun.

There's nothing better than homemade white bread for peanut butter and jelly sandwiches — except possibly a loaf with "built-in" peanut butter and jelly sandwiches. It's even presliced!

Peanut Butter and Jelly Sandwich Loaf

½ cup milk
½ cup sugar
1½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup (½ stick) margarine
½ cup warm water (105 degrees-115 degrees F.)
2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
2 eggs, beaten
4½ cups unsifted flour (about)
½ cup creamy peanut butter
¼ cup (½ stick) margarine, softened
¾ cup strawberry preserves

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt, ¼ cup margarine. Cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved.

Add lukewarm milk mixture, eggs, and half the flour; beat until smooth. Blend in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 minutes.

Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Cream together peanut butter and remaining ¾ cup softened margarine.

Punch dough down. Turn out onto lightly floured board; divide in half. Roll half the dough to a 12x16-inch rectangle. Spread with half the peanut butter mixture; cover with half the strawberry preserves.

Cut four 4x12-inch strips. Stack rectangles on top of each other, spread side up.

Cut into six 2x4-inch stacks. Place stacks in greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan, cut side down; side by side. Repeat with remaining half of dough and filling. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 30 minutes, or until done.

Salad Oils Important Staple Food

A third hand to make cooking, baking and salad making a thousand times easier is available to all homemakers in the variety of versatile, hard-working salad oils.

Salad oils are the pourable vegetable oils, ready for use as they come from the bottle in making home made salad dressings in particular.

Soybean, cottonseed, corn, peanut and olive oils, or combinations of these, are the most familiar. Olive oil generally is reserved for salad making, because heat tends to take away its delicate flavor.

★ ★ ★

But the other vegetable oils can be used in cooking, baking, frying and a variety of other ways in the kitchen, say U.S. Department of Agriculture home economists.

★ ★ ★

Each oil has its own subtle flavor, making it smart to keep more than one on hand. Keep small quantities at room temperature and use before the flavor changes. For long storage, keep oils in the refrigerator.

Liquid Diets Won't Work

"Rhythm Method of Girth Control" is one description that has been applied to the efforts of dieters to take off weight with the 900 calorie formula diets. With such a diet, a person's weight will of course decrease.

But, as pointed out by Dr. Merrill S. Read of the National Dairy Council, eating a 900 calorie formula from a can isn't exactly an attractive lifelong type of diet. So after awhile the slurper of the canned formula, goes back to ordinary food.

Sour Cream for Topping on Apple Pie

That American favorite, apple pie, gets dressed up with snipped California dates and a dairy sour cream topping for delicious "Dutch Date-Apple Pie." In markets you'll find fresh dates from California pitted as well as unpitted.

If you buy dates with pits, simply snip the fruit along one side with kitchen scissors and flick out the pits.

Dutch Date-Apple Pie

1 cup dates
2 apples
½ cup brown sugar, packed
3 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
Unbaked pastry for 9-inch double-crusted pie
Butter or margarine
1 egg
⅔ cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons granulated sugar

Snip dates into small pieces. Pare, core and slice apples thinly to make 2 cups. Combine brown sugar, flour, spices and lemon juice.

Line 9-inch pie plate with half of pastry. Arrange apples and dates in alternate layers in pastry shell, sprinkling each layer with sugar mixture. Dot with butter.

Roll remaining pastry to fit top of pie; cut into strips. Moisten edge of bottom crust; arrange strips lattice-fashion over fruit, pressing ends firmly to bottom crust. Crimp edge.

Bake in 375-degree (moderately hot) oven 35 to 40 minutes.

Beat egg slightly; blend in sour cream and granulated sugar. Pour over pie and continue baking 15 minutes longer, or until custard is set. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

Wine Book Is Free

"You don't have to be an expert to enjoy good wine."

That's the message of a new free booklet, "America's Twelve Favorite Wines," produced by the growers of California Popular Wines.

It whisks you through the fascinating world of wine in lively, but no-nonsense, terms, telling you how to find the wines you'll like, which wines to try first, how much to pay for wines and popular ways to serve wines. It also offers a wine diploma suitable for framing.

For a free copy of the booklet write to The Pontiac Press or Favorite Wines, Box 84, San Francisco, California 94101.

Met Musicians Work Under Temporary Agreement

NEW YORK (UPI) — Striking musicians of the Metropolitan Opera Company return to work today under a temporary agreement that will enable the Met to open on schedule Oct. 12.

★ ★ ★

Announcement of the extension of the old contract for six weeks to Oct. 31 was made last night after the personal intervention of Mayor Robert F. Wagner into the dispute between the American Federation of Musicians and the opera company.

City mediator Morris Tarshis said that Wagner telephoned the opera association during a break in negotiations. Shortly afterward, a joint session was set up resulting in the interim accord.

Representatives of both sides will meet tomorrow afternoon in an attempt to hammer out an acceptable agreement. Last week, the Met orchestra rejected a contract offer and has refused to work without one.

Monday and yesterday, the first two rehearsal days of the current season, opera stars Joan Sutherland and Robert Merrill went through their roles in "Lucia Di Lammermoor' without any musical background.

HUM, SING

Miss Sutherland and Merrill sang, hummed and talked along with the members of the chorus while dancers, stagehands and property men lingered in the background. The 108-member orchestra stayed away.

The union is seeking $280 weekly for a five-day work week during the regular season and rehearsals. Last year, they played seven times a week for $190 during the season and $150 during rehearsals.

★ ★ ★

The last contract offer made by the Metropolitan would have increased annual salaries from $8,800 to $13,500 over a five-year period with guaranteed year-round work and four weeks vacation.

The new season will be the 80th for the Met.

New York's Yogi Berra Looking Like a Genius

Yankees Take 2 From Tribe to Pad Lead

Yogi Predicted AL Champs Would Make Pennant Move

By United Press International

Yogi Berra can tell the world, "I told you so."

"Don't worry, we'll make our move and it'll be a big one," the resident genius of the New York Yankee dugout told the experts a month ago when the defending American League champions were floundering.

★ ★ ★

Only a few believed him. The Baltimore Orioles and Chicago White Sox were running 1-2 and Yogi seemed to be whistling in the dark while the Yankee empire was tumblin' down.

But now, suddenly, it looks like an old - fashioned Yankee cake walk.

With seven straight victories and nine wins in their last 10 games, the Yankees have opened up a 2½-game lead over the Orioles and a 3½ game spread over the White Sox.

What's more important is the fact that they hold a four-game advantage over the Orioles and a five-game advantage over the White Sox in the vital "lost column" of the standings.

PUSHED BACK

The Yankees drove a couple of more nails into the coffins of the Orioles and White Sox Tuesday night when they swept a doubleheader from the Cleveland Indians 5-3 and 8-1.

The Orioles had been beaten by the Detroit Tigers, 2-1, in an afternoon game and the White Sox were defeated by the Los Angeles Angels 1-0 in a night game.

Mel Stottlemyre, with ninth-inning relief aid from Pedro Ramos, scored his eighth victory since joining the club in mid-August in the opener.

Whitey Ford went seven innings to win his 16th game in the nightcap.

Roger Maris hit his 24th homer and three singles and Joe Pepitone also homered for the Yankees in the first game while Mickey Mantle and Phil Linz connected in the second game.

★ ★ ★

Fred Newman pitched a five-hitter for the Angels, who clipped rookie Bruce Howard of the White Sox for the only run of the game in the third inning when Jim Fregosi doubled and scored on Willie Smith's single. The victory was Newman's 13th of the season.

The Boston Red Sox blanked the Washington Senators 3-0 and the Kansas City Athletics outslugged the Minnesota Twins 10-9 in other AL action

British Golf Rates Yank Women High

SANDWICH, England (AP) — The "Beat the Yanks" cry went up today in the British Women's Amateur Golf Championship. But it was a French girl who won favor as a likely prospect to do it.

★ ★ ★

After the first two rounds of match play on the 6,017-yard, par 73 Princes' course, the surviving 32 players went into today's third and fourth rounds chasing five highly competent American girls.

The only casualty of the six-girl U.S. Curtis Cup team was the American champion, Barbara McIntire, who was knocked out Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Her conqueror was 19-year-old Catherine LaCoste, daughter of France's great tennis star of yesteryear, Rene LaCoste. And she played well enough to beat anybody.

Barons, Sarnia Tie

Sarnia scored a goal in the final 20 seconds to salvage a 3-3 tie with Bloomfield yesterday in the first soccer match of the season for the host Barons.

Bloomfield Hills second match will be Thursday at Windsor Kennedy.

Players Confident

Lions Tune Up for Packers

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

How much will the recent problems involving players, management and subsequent curfew fines affect the Detroit Lions, who now sit atop the Western Division in a first place tie with Los Angeles?

★ ★

With the big game against the Green Bay Packers coming up next Monday night, many of the players scoffed at the observation that everything that has transpired the past two weeks will break the morale of the team.

"We're in first place and we're going to do our best to stay there," said fullback Nick Pietrosante after a heavy workout at U. of D. yesterday.

"Phooey on all this talk," said Sam Williams, who was primarily accused of triggering so-called dissension talk on the club. "We know how important the game is coming up, and we'll all be seven feet tall for it."

★ ★

Bill Quinlan, the former Packer who alternates with Williams and Darris McCord at the defensive end post said, "We were kind of flat last week, but I think you'll see a different team out there next Monday."

LONG TIME

"Besides, I've waited a long time for this game," he added.

Jim Gibbons also voiced an enthusiastic remark. "We had a good workout today, and we're not looking back. I think we'll shake 'em up good."

★ ★ ★

One of the co-captains, Dick "Night Train" Lane, who is expecting to see his first full game of action since his knee surgery over a month ago added, "I'm in good shape, and I think the team is in high gear for this game."

"Sure we would like to have won in Los Angeles, but we're still on top and we're going to try to stay there," said co-captain Joe Schmidt.

Many other Lions including coach George Wilson reiterated statements that "the morale of this team is the best in years. There have been a lot of things recently which could have hurt us, but they may just make these guys mad enough to prove themselves."

The game with the Packers next Monday night is expected to jam Tiger Stadium.

Bleacher seats have been on sale this week and all remaining seats will be sold at the stadium ticket windows starting at 6:30 Monday night.

The Packers, who have been picked almost unanimously to win the division title and the championship this year, lost a 21-20 decision to the Baltimore Colts last Sunday.

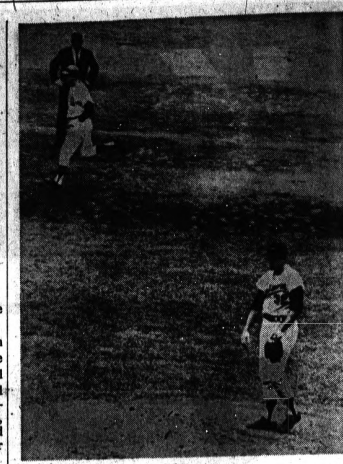

Paul Hornung, who has been the running star of the team since his one-year layoff due to the NFL suspension, missed the key extra point, his first miss since 1958.

The Packers, however, still had victory within grasp in the final minute, but a pass play call, which coach Vince Lombardi claimed was his and a "bad call," ended the threat after the Colts intercepted in the end zone.

How much the tie game with Los Angeles will mean to the Lions may not be known until after Monday and possibly until the end of the season, but Wilson pointed out that the Bears, who won the title last year, had two ties and it worked in their favor.

In 1956 the Bears also won the title, thanks to a tie game that eliminated the Lions. The Bears were 9-2-1 that year while the Lions were 9-3.

Kickoff Monday is 8 p.m.

BEGINNING OF THE END — Baltimore's ace hurler Milt Pappas lost the ball game in the opening inning yesterday when he served up a home run pitch to Detroit's Al Kaline, shown circling the bases. Jerry Lumpe scored ahead of Kaline and Tigers won, 2-1.

ON VICTORY ROAD — British challenger Brian Curvis grimaces after being knocked down in a title scrap with welterweight champion Emil Griffith last night in London. The trip to the canvas was one of three for Curvis. Referee Harry Gibbs gave the 15-round decision to Griffith.

Champion Griffith Retains Title

★ ★ ★

Griffith, 26, dropped the 27-year-old British Champion for counts of eight in the sixth round, nine in the 10th and nine again in the 13th before a sellout crowd of 10,300 at Wembley Indoor Stadium.

★ ★ ★

Griffith was full of praise for the plucky Briton.

PRAISES FOE

"He gave me a good fight and deserves a return," the champion said. "I'll be happy to fight him again any time he's ready."

British promoter Jack Solomons, who staged Tuesday night's show, immediately suggested an outdoor title fight between the two in Wales next summer.

★ ★ ★

"It's okay by me if my managers agree," said Griffith.

Gil Clancy, one of Griffith's two managers, said: "It's okay by me, too." and Clancy and Griffith shook hands on the deal.

Griffith said he was looking forward to his holiday.

"This fight was a lot tougher than I expected," the champion said.

KEPT RALLYING

"I tried to finish the fight earlier and thought I had him going once or twice — but he certainly wanted the title. He kept coming back and I couldn't polish him off."

Griffith set the pace from the start of the 15-rounder and battered the gallant Welshman so hard at times that it looked certain the challenger would be knocked out. Somehow the super-fit Curvis hung on. It was his second defeat in 32 pro bouts.

★ ★ ★

Griffith earned $56,000 for his 10th welterweight title fight. He has an 8-2 record for these, regaining the crown quickly each time after the defeats. His over-all record is 42-5. Curvis earned about $14,000.

Referee Harry Gibbs, the sole official, raised Griffith's right arm as a symbol of his victory. His scorecard, per custom, was not disclosed. The Associated Press had Griffith in front, 9-4 with two rounds even. Each weighed 145½.

★ ★ ★

"It was the old story of the amateur style of British boxing being unable to cope with the two-handed, non-stop fighting tactics of a trans-Atlantic champion," wrote Peter Wilson, boxing writer of the Daily Mirror.

Other writers had similar comment.

Walled Lake, Milford, Hills Harriers Triumph

Walled Lake's Vikings scored an easy triumph over North Farmington and Southfield in a triangular cross country meet yesterday.

The Vikings took four of the first five positions in piling up 19 points. North Farmington followed with 48 and Southfield collected 67.

Pacing the viking squad was Mark Karell with a first-place clocking of 11:20. Trailing Karell were Jim Lindler (WL), Tom Hartman (S), Don Colpitts (WL) George Ciot (WL) and Bill Wood (NF).

In a reserve run, Walled Lake led the way with 25 points. Southfield placed second with 47 and North Farmington third with 60.

★ ★ ★

Milford's harriers remained unbeaten in three dual meets by defeating Kettering 21-39 yesterday at Kensington Park.

Doug Johnson of the Redskins was first in 11:37 followed by teammates Clay Groomes and Harry House. Dave Aroand of Kettering was fourth and Lloyd Dyker of the Captains was fifth.

Tom Kearney of Bloomfield Hills led the Barons to a 21-39 cross country victory over Clarkston. He ran the Barons' course in 10:53.

Jerry Tilton of Bloomfield Hills was second and Chuck Swane of Clarkston placed third.

★ ★ ★

Orchard Lake St. Mary dropped a 25-30 cross-country decision to Brother Rice yesterday despite a record - breaking performance by junior Dennis Hackett.

SET RECORD

Hackett turned the 2 - mile OLSM course in 10:09, erasing a mark set in 1962 by Ervin Jaskolski. John Dziuba finished second for OLSM.

Brother Rice grabbed the next five positions to wrap up the victory. Pacing the winners were Pat Seehan (third), Reggie Steapczynski (fourth) and Jim Thorson (fifth).

★ ★ ★

Bill Hollis and Bob Wiggins finished 1-2 as Pontiac Central won at Waterford, 20-36. Hollis' time was 11:28.

John Meyer of Waterford was third, Marty Acosta of PCH was fourth and Bill Gray of Waterford was fifth. The Chiefs open Saginaw Valley competition Thursday at Beaudette Park against Flint Central and Midland.

Reds' Victory Adds Spark to NL Race

By The Associated Press

You know that pennant race in the National League. . .

It may just be starting.

The Cincinnati Reds saw to that Tuesday night, capitalizing on Chris Short's wildness and a homer by Frank Robinson for a 9-2 victory over National League leading Philadelphia that trimmed the Phillies' lead to 4½ games.

The second-place Reds and the third-place Cardinals, five games back after a 2-1 victory over the New York Mets, actually are in a better position than Baltimore and Chicago, trying to catch the New York Yankees in the American League scramble.

REMINDED OF '50

And Cincinnati Manager Dick Sisler knows it.

"It sure does remind you of '50 all over again," said Sisler, who played for the Phillies in 1950 when they blew a 7½-game lead in the final 11 games and had to win the pennant from Brooklyn on the last day of the season.

"We have momentum now which we didn't have before, that good spirit only winning produces," said Sisler. "This club is battling back when it's behind, which it wasn't doing earlier."

★ ★ ★

The Phillies also weren't losing as often earlier. The loss to the Reds was their second in a row and their fourth in the last six games. Philadelphia has 10 games remaining — three each with St. Louis and Cincinnati, including another with the Reds tonight.

In other games Tuesday, Pittsburgh's Bob Veale tied the major league strikeout high for the season by fanning 15 batters in a 2-0 loss to Milwaukee, Dick Estelle won his first major league game in San Francisco's 7-1 victory over Houston and the Chicago Cubs edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 1-0 behind eight innings of shutout relief by Cal Koonce.

SIMMONS SHARP

Curt Simmons got the job done for the Cardinals with a six-hitter, allowing the Mets a run in the first inning on a single by Bobby Klaus, Roy McMillan's double and a sacrifice fly by Jim Hickman before settling down.

Simmons, 16-9, got the only runs he needed in the fourth when Bill White's single, a triple by Ken Boyer and Dick Groat's sacrifice fly produced two runs off Tracy Stallard.

Runner Turns Defender, Earns Lineman Award

By the Associated Press

Larry Tollstam, a fullback turned linebacker for the Air Force Academy, was named Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press today for his outstanding play against Washington.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force upset the Huskies, ranked seventh in the preseason rankings, 3-2, Saturday.

Tollstam, a 206-pound senior from Lansing, Mich., made 18 tackles as the Falcon defense stalled the Huskies' running attack. He led the goal line stand in the closing minutes that stopped Washington's star fullback, Junior Coffey, inches short of a first down.

10 ASSISTS

Tollstam volunteered to play linebacker this season after losing out at fullback, his position the last two years. He was listed as a starting linebacker only a week ago by coach Ben Martin and made 10 assists in addition to his solo tackles.

"I like hitting," he said when asked if he missed carrying the ball.

Air Force plays at Michigan this Saturday.

In contention for the weekly honor in the voting by sports writers and broadcasters were end Bill Cronin of Boston College; Dick Pratt, Kansas guard; tackle Glenn Sasser of North Carolina State and tackle Stan Dzura of California.

★ ★ ★

Cronin snared the 45-yard pass in the closing seconds for the touchdown that gave the Eagles a surprise 21-14 victory over Syracuse. Pratt, a hefty 264-pounder, recovered a third down Texas Christian fumble a foot from the Kansas goal line with 12 seconds left to preserve Kansas' 7-3 conquest of TCU.

Alabama QB AP Selection as Top Back

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Quarterback Joe Namath credits the Alabama forward wall with making possible his selection as the first Associated Press Back of the Week of the 1964 collegiate football season.

★ ★ ★

"I felt I had a decent night, but the rest of the team did everything just right offensively and it made my work so much easier," the 194-pound senior field general said.

"Our blocking was exceptional and I know that I speak for all of our backs when I thank our linemen for doing such a fine job," Namath said.

The AP selected Namath on the basis of his leading the Crimson Tide to a convincing 31-3 victory over Georgia in the opening game for both teams Saturday night in Tuscaloosa.

Tigers Grab 2-1 Triumph

Two Relief Hurlers Decide Tense Win

DETROIT (AP) — The run-producing hits that used to drop out of an opposing player's reach or just in fair territory are beginning to land in the wrong places for the Baltimore Orioles.

★ ★ ★

Baltimore rode to the top in American League standings by close victories early in the season. But it dropped another one-run decision Tuesday and fell further behind the New York Yankees.

Al Kaline's two-run homer in the first inning and fancy relief work by Ed Rakow and Julio Navarro paced the Tigers to a 2-1 decision over the Orioles.

OUT OF FIRST

"Remember when they were winning all those games by one run at the start of the season?" Manager Charlie Dressen recalled. "Well, they're not winning them now and that's why they aren't in first any more."

After retiring the first two batters, Detroit starter Hank Aguirre walked four straight. The last walk, to Bob Johnson, forced in Boog Powell with the Orioles' only run.

★ ★ ★

Rakow pitched well until the ninth—scattering six hits.

When Rakow tired in the ninth, Navarro got the Orioles out after walking Powell and loading the bases.

The Orioles, who stranded 13 runners, couldn't have asked for a better chance in the final inning.

KEY BATTERS

Brooks Robinson and Sam Bowens, two of the team's top three key run producers, went to the plate after Powell.

Robinson popped to Jerry Lumpe. Bowens, after missing an extra-base hit by a yard, popped to Dick McAuliffe for the final out.

Going into the game, Robinson and Powell had batted in tying runs 19 times, and the lead runs on 27 other occasions.

Milt Pappas, who hadn't lost a game in two months and who had beaten the Tigers six straight times, suffered his sixth loss in 21 decisions.

He allowed the Tigers only four hits after Lumpe singled and Kaline homered in the first. Lumpe added two more singles. Kaline and Bill Freehan added one each.

City 11s Open Touch Season

Motor Mart, Packers, Orchard Lanes Win

Motor Mart, Orchard Lanes and the Packers emerged with victories in the first night's action of the city Adult Touch Football League Tuesday at Jaycee Park.

The tensest game was the Packers' 7-0 win over Emmanuel Baptist. Mike Marcum hit Al Costello on a 40-yard scoring play midway through the final period for the winners' margin. Costello also accounted for the extra point.

The defending champion MM Bandits easily whipped the Zephyrs, 37-0, as John Herrington threw four touchdown passes.

Dick Nichols caught two, Gene Luppino and Chuck Steinhelper one each, Jim Agee ran an interception over, and Luppino ran for another score. All the scoring plays covered at least 15 yards.

The scoring pass also dominated the 20-0 triumph by Orchard Lanes over Tom's Bar. John Lucadam threw three TD aerials, hitting Jim Drake, Earl McGee and Bill Bryce.

CRASH VICTIM — Stock car racer Jim Pardue died yesterday from injuries suffered in a crackup at Charlotte Motor Speedway in North Carolina. A blowout during a tire test sent his racer hurdling through a guard rail. He died two hours late in a hospital.

Detroit Squad in Showdown

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP) — Sunnyvale, Calif. and Detroit, only undefeated teams left in the World Softball Tournament, headed for a showdown clash tonight.

★ ★ ★

Detroit, paced by Sam Lombardo's four singles, eked out a 2-1 victory over Levittown, N.Y. Tuesday, while Sunnyvale scored twice in the second inning and held on for a 2-1 triumph over Aurora, Ill.

★ ★ ★

Sunnyvale pitcher Vern Grafton hurled a four-hitter in posting his fourth victory of the tourney.

In NFL Statistic Race

Rams, Vikings Lead Pack

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams have the biggest defensive line in the National Football League with Lamar Lundy, 6 - foot - 7, 250 pounds, Merlin Olsen, 6-5, 275, Rosey Grier, 6-5, 291, and Dave Jones, 6-4, 260. The latest statistics indicate they also have the best over-all defense in the league.

★ ★ ★

The defensive unit that Coach Harland Svare has fashioned in the Coliseum leads the NFL because it has allowed only 354 yards in two games. The Rams rank third on rushing defense with 159 and top the heap in pass defense with 195.

The Rams also have allowed the fewest points, 31, the fewest first downs, 22, the fewest first downs passing, 10.

★ ★ ★

Jack Pardee, Cliff Livinston and Mike Henry are the linebackers behind the front four with rookie Jerry Richardson and Bobby Smith at the corners and Ed Meador and playing coach Lindon Crow at safety.

OFFENSE LEADERS

Despite their defeat by the Chicago Bears last Sunday, the Minnesota Vikings dominate the offensive statistics.

★ ★ ★

Dutch VanBrocklin's Vikings are first in rushing with 421 yards; passing, 455 yards and total offense, 876 yards. Surprising Philadelphia is second, followed closely by St. Louis, Dallas and Green Bay in total offense.

★ ★ ★

Conversely, the leakiest defense belongs to the Baltimore Colts, who have given up 771 yards, and the least potent offense, despite an upset of New York, is Pittsburgh with a total of 381 yards in two games.

One shocker in the defensive figures is the Chicago Bears in 12th place, yielding 707 yards.

Louis Tells All

Names 'Greatest' Fighters

By JOE LOUIS

Jack Dempsey was the greatest fighter that ever lived. I always have thought so. I never saw Jack fight but I saw the movies of his fights with Gene Tunney and Jess Willard.

★ ★ ★

That Dempsey was a great fighter, a great puncher. He just kept coming at you all the time.

Hype Igoe, the old sports writer, used to tell me I could have beaten Dempsey because I had a better jab and could keep my balance better. This is the kind of fight I would have liked to get paid for but not fought. We'd have made a lot of money.

Jack Blackburn, my old trainer, told me that Sam Langford was the best of those oldtimers and he saw them all. But some of the other fellows I saw in the movies didn't look as good as the sports writers said.

When they ask me who was the best I boxed, I have to say Billy Conn on the night of June 18, 1941. He was the best all around boxer. The biggest problem Billy had was that he was too game for his own good.

★ ★ ★

Maxie Baer? He goes right up there in No. 2 spot. Maxie was very strong, a good puncher and colorful. When I boxed him I hit him 253 times so I guess he could take a good punch. The talk that Baer quit is a big laugh. I always thought that was my best fight. I felt I could fight all night.

CARNERA UNDERRATED

Max Schmeling, I put third. He was a good counter puncher and probably one of the smartest fighters I boxed, especially when he knocked me out in the first fight in 1936.

Joe Walcott has to come next. I think he was the smartest and the trickiest heavyweight that's ever been in the ring.

He really could make you miss and dance around you and back up. A lot of people thought I figured I lost my first fight with Walcott because I walked out of the ring before the decision. I was just plain disgusted. I always though I won that fight but I was disgusted.

Primo Carnera belongs right up there, too. He was no joke. Old Primo moved real good for a guy who weighed 260 pounds. He could beat a lot of fighters around today. Right now he could beat a lot of fighters around today. Right now he could be the champion.

Of the foreign fighters I fought I'd rate them Max Schmeling, Primo Carnera, and Paulino Uzcudun, a real tough guy. I hit Paulino so hard I knocked out one of his teeth and it stayed in my glove.

Another who really could take it was Tommy Farr, and he was in good shape.

That Arturo Godoy from South America gave me trouble the first time because he stayed way down near the floor. The next time I got the rhythm and weaved when he did.

Most of those foreign fighters have trouble because they don't have any champions to work with and no good sparring partners.

Rocky Marciano is the best heavyweight we've had lately.

I thought I could beat Rocky when I made my comeback because he was the kind of fighter you didn't have to go out looking for. But my legs wouldn't stand up. Rocky improved a lot after I fought him.

★ ★ ★

Sonny Liston is the best around today, no matter what they say about Cassius Clay.

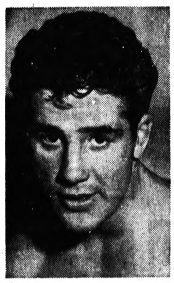

Ezzard Charles was better than people give him credit for. Only trouble, Ezzy was a good gym fighter but he didn't look so good in the ring. If he got a guy in trouble he didn't finish him.

Floyd Patterson was the same way, too kind to be a fighter. I think a fighter should be a little meaner. He did very well as champion and he's a real gentleman but I wouldn't say he was a great fighter. He just doesn't take a punch too good.

Ingemar Johansson had just one thing in his favor — he was a good puncher. If he didn't land that right hand he was just nothing.

And then there's Cassius Clay. He is a good boxer. He moves real good and everything. But he is not as good as he thinks he is. All I can say about Clay is he's a good boxer.

I just wish I was about 20 years old again. With all that closed circuit television money around, I'd sure like to fight Mr. Clay.

BILLIE CONN

MAXIE BAER

Gordie Howe Tallies Winner

LONDON, Ont. (AP)—Gordie Howe's first goal in four games late in the third period, gave the Detroit Red Wings a 3-2 victory Tuesday night over the Boston Bruins in a National Hockey League exhibition.

Howe slapped Ron Murphy's corner passout past Bruins' goalie Jack Norris near the crease at 17:29 to give the Wings their fourth straight win.

The Bruins scored three of the game's five goals—but one went into their own goal on a first-period play in which Norris came out of the goal in favor of an extra forward on a delayed penalty against Detroit.

WRONG WAY

Defenseman Bill Gadsby was credited with Detroit's first goal but it was scored by Boston's Reg Fleming whose intended pass from near the Detroit goal went out to the blue line, skipped past defenseman Leo Boivin and went off the boards into the goal that Norris had just vacated.

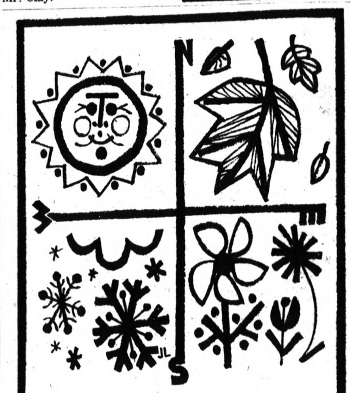

Fleming made up in the third period when he scored Boston's first goal at 2:57. Defenseman Ted Green sent the Bruins ahead 2-1 midway through the period. Detroit defenseman Gary Bergana tied the game three minutes later.

Black Hawk Okay

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (AP) — Ken Wharram, the Chicago Black Hawks' All-Star right winger, was in good condition today following corrective surgery for a fractured nose.

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Bear, Woodcock Legal, Too

Deer, Grouse Seasons Oct. 1

Deer start competing with ruffed grouse for the hunter's attention Oct. 1

These will be the primary targets of two select groups of nimrods. Archers will be in the woods after deer while shotgunners will be trying to line-up on fast escaping grouse.

Woodcock, squirrels and black bear will spice the early October hunting.

Rabbits will be legal, too, but most hunters have other targets in mind during the fall. They leave the rabbits until winter.

Bow hunters can take any deer in most sections of the state Oct. 1 through Nov. 5. The small game season opens Oct. 1 in the northern Lower Peninsula and above The Straits.

The opening of the pheasant season Oct. 20 triggers the small game season in Southern Michigan.

BEAR CUTBACK

There has been a cutback in the bear season in the northern Lower Peninsula — a brief Oct. 3-5 shooting being allowed. In the Upper Peninsula, with the exception of Keweenaw County, the season extends until Nov. 5.

The bow and arrow hunters get the first shot at deer. Only about 40,000 license applications are expected.

After a flurry of enthusiasm for the new sport, the number of applicants has declined. But more people from outside Michigan now are applying for such licenses and it is becoming a strong tourist attraction.

★ ★ ★

"We expect they will have good success due to the mild winter and the excellent condition of the deer herd," commented Andy Amon, of the State Conservation Department Game Division. "There are plenty of deer and a good bowman can get them."

Ruffed grouse are reported slightly up in population in the Upper Peninsula but down in the northern Lower Peninsula.

Sharptail grouse will be legal targets in the Upper Peninsula only starting Oct. 1, this excluding Drummond, Nebish and Sugar Islands and the five extreme western counties in the peninsula.

★ ★ ★

Sportsmen still go up there on opening day to try and get one of the sporty birds.

STEADY INCREASE

Woodcock shooting, say the experts, should be good. The take has been steadily increasing; with 1963 the third straight year. They explain it by a minor population explosion of the birds plus two warm autumns that have kept them in Michigan before they wing south.

Hunters are advised to take a fishing rod along. There are a lot of lakes yet open to trout and other hungry fish missed by the summer sportsmen and vacationers.

Geese 'Chatter' for Handout

Rainbows Still Legal on Area Lakes

Confusion has cropped up regarding trout fishing on Oakland County lakes this fall.

★ ★ ★

Conservation officer Warren Kendall of Rochester reported that four streams in the county are closed to fishing because they are designated trout streams.

But, he added, over 30 lakes remain open to taking rainbow trout through November. Rainbows will remain legal on the same lakes for ice fishing through February.

The four trout streams which closed Sept. 13, are the Huron, Kearsley, Paint and parts of the Clinton.

The county's four trout ponds — Bald Mountain, Fenton, Davisburg and Lower Petibone — will remain open through November. These ponds, however, contain few trout. The majority of the fish have been caught.

LIST OF LAKES

The following lakes will remain open for rainbow fishing during the fall and winter:

★ ★ ★

Alderman, East and West Bridge, Carroll, Cedar Island, Cemetery, Chamberlain, Commerce, Crochet, Crescent, Deep, Deer, Dollar, Elizabeth, Grahame, Green, Greens, Hartwig, Lotus, Maceday, Mohawk, Orchard, Proud, Oxbow, Reed, Little Silver, Shoe, Stony, Square, Sugden, Union, Van Norman, Wormer, Horseshoe and School House.

The Petibone pond will remain open for ice fishing. Moss Lake, open to fall fishing, will not be open to the taking of rainbows through the ice.

About 50 geese, some showing tags, are feeding on Pine Lake in West Bloomfield Township.

The Canada Honkers can be fed by hand, according to Mrs. Matthew Clevers of 3141 Interlaken.

★ ★ ★

"They come early in the morning and begin chattering for someone to feed them," she reported. They have been on the lake about a week.

Another flock of about 50 geese has been using Stewart Lake in Groveland Township. This is a favorite refuge during the hunting season.

Goose hunting starts Oct. 8.

★ ★ ★

The 18th annual Grayling to Oscoda canoe race, with an overnight stop at Mio, is scheduled along the Au Sable River Oct. 2-4.

40,000 Acres in Game Area

Allegan, Swan Creek, Fennville Combined

A new 40,000-acre state game area in southwestern Michigan is the result of the Conservation Department's reorganization program.

Combining the Allegan State Forest, Fennville State Game Area and the Swan Creek Wildlife Experiment Station into one unit — the Allegan State Game Area — the change is designed to cut administrative costs.

Long popular among goose hunters, the Fennville and Swan Creek centers will continue to provide shooting permits.

But most of the game management work which was carried on through them in the past will now be directed out of the new area's headquarters where the Allegan State Forest office has been located near the city of Allegan.

Supervision of the area will be under Charles E. Friley, Jr., who had been in charge at Swan Creek.

Solunar Tables

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

Jim Brown Is Protected

Cleveland Fullback Target of Threat

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police kept an around-the-clock watch on the east side home of Cleveland Browns' fullback Jim Brown following an anonymous threat that his house would be bombed.

The police vigil was ordered Tuesday after an official of station KYW-TV reported receiving a telephoned bomb threat from a woman shortly before Brown appeared on a show to discuss racial issues.

★ ★ ★

A police department spokesman said cruisers would pass Brown's house frequently to see that everything was okay. "This will continue until we think it's no longer necessary," the spokesman added.

Brown and his wife, Sue, have three children and live in a predominantly Negro neighborhood.

Challenger Ends Run on Billiards Champion

NEW YORK (AP) — Art Cranfield of Syracuse, N.Y., completed a run of 123 balls Tuesday night enroute to a 408-334 lead over world pocket billiards champion Luther Lassiter after two blocks of their world challenge match.

Cranfield, runner-up to Lassiter, of Elizabeth City, N.C., in the world title tournament last March, closed out his 200-157 afternoon victory with a run of 55. He ran 68 to open the evening block.

Texas Hunters Set to March on Capitol

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)— An organization of hunters, irked at regulations prohibiting hunting along streams, threatened to shoulder arms and march on the state capitol if resrtictions are not relaxed.

★ ★ ★

The hunters took up shotguns and rifles last week and invaded a shopping center in this city steeped in the tradition of the Alamo, where Davy Crockett and Jim Bowie fell.

The weapons were not loaded. Placards pasted to them read: "give us back our rights," and "the streams belong to the people."

The men were all members of an organization called the committee for the preservation of sportsmen's rights in Texas.

The organization is protesting a ruling by the Texas Game and Fish Commission barring hunters from public streams in Uvalde, Dimmit and Zavala Counties, all areas frequently used by Bexar County (San Antonio) hunters.

SOAP BOX

Bill Bowden, a founder of the sportsmen's group, walked on the mall of the shopping center and explained to anyone who seemed interested what the hunters were trying to accomplish. He called the expedition a success.

Following the march, the group held a meeting and affiliated with a similar group, the Tri-County Citizens Rights Committee of Uvalde, Tex.

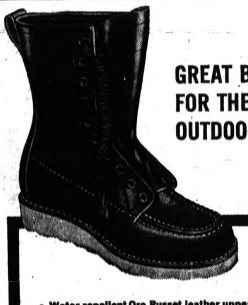

Bowden's group then became the Bexar County chapter of the parent organization, bringing the combined membership to about 500.

Bowden, 36, said a scheduled march on the state capitol at Austin has been postponed to see if any results are obtained by a formal protest and petition sent to Gov. John Connally and the commission.

If no results are obtained by Nov. 15, the opening date for deer hunting, he said, "we will march on Austin with the whole group."

Teen-Age Drinking Spurs Lively Debate in NY Suburb

DARIEN, Conn. (AP) — Teen-age drinking has provoked a lively debate in this commuter town, a fashionable suburb of New York City.

It was touched off by a judge's order for the arrest of 14 adults on charges of serving liquor to minors in private homes. They included prominent business executives, a psychiatrist and a public school teacher.

★ ★ ★

Many townsfolk applauded the arrests. Others indignantly questioned whether the charges constituted an invasion of privacy.

Many Darien teen-agers conceded there was too much drinking by their set, but they thought little could be done about it.

AWARE OF SITUATION

Town leaders have been aware of the situation. Last year the Council of Darien Parents said teen-age behavior had reached "a point of alarm."

Of the latest incident, School Supt. Gregory C. Coffin said: "I hope this will wake up some parents. I don't feel that under any circumstances there is call to serve high school students, or younger ones, alcoholic beverages. I think it is unfortunate that this has been blown up as it has."

★ ★ ★

The minimum legal age for buying beer or liquor in Connecticut is 21. In New York, only 10 miles from Darien, it is 18. Some teen-agers said it was difficult for those between 18 and 21 to abstain in Connecticut when they could drink in New York.

Circuit Judge Rodney S. Elelson ordered the adults arrested under a little-known 1933 state law that prohibits serving liquor to persons under 21, except by their parents. He acted after hearing testimony about young people drinking at a dinner and debutante parties last June just hours before a 17-year-old girl was killed in an automobile accident. Her 18-year-old companion was charged with reckless driving and negligent homicide. He pleaded innocent. His trial has been adjourned to Sept. 30.

NO DIFFERENT

Of teen-age drinking, Police Chief P. Edmund Brencher said: "I can't say that it's any different here. We're no different from any other community."

One woman said she thought it was wrong to serve liquor to teen-agers but added that "the only salvation is to teach them to drink at a young age, to show them how to drink in an adult way."

★ ★ ★

A gray-haired woman in a supermarket said: "I approve of the crackdown on parents who permit their children to drink, but let's extend it to other towns where conditions are just as bad or worse."

★ ★ ★

State Assemblyman John J. Curtis, who represents Darien, objected to the judge's order.

DRINK IN HOME

"I'd rather see the youngsters drinking in the home, if they must, than on the outside," he said. "I think that we bring about a police state when we invade the privacy of the home."

★ ★ ★

The two parties last June were at the homes of Dr. George S. Hughes, a psychiatrist, and Francis E. Dutcher, a vice president of the Johns-Manville Corp. Also charged were two couples described as cohosts of one party.

★ ★ ★

The others, including the teacher, were bartenders or caterers.

The 13 booked on the charge have been released in bail of $500 each. The 14th is reported out of the state.

State University to Help Dropouts

MARQUETTE (AP) — Northern Michigan University is setting out on a program to help the high school dropout under a $197,000 government contract.

The program, announced as a "new approach," is designed to aid disadvantaged rural youth.

NMU said it will bring 100 high school dropouts from Mackinac, Schoolcraft and Baraga counties to the campus for individualized attention in remedial education and vocational training.

In addition, a program at the local level is to be provided for 300 other high school dropouts.

The overall program is to start in November and last for 15 months.

Dr. Edgar L. Haden, NMU president, said results of the program are to be published.

Sophie Tucker Set for 60th Career Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Sophie Tucker celebrates her 60th year in show business tonight by opening a three-week stand at the Latin Quarter.

"I'm thinking of nothing but giving a wonderful show at the club," said the 77-year-old singer.

For Revitalized Aldo Ray

Life Is Peaches and Skim Milk

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Two years ago Aldo Ray returned from making a movie in Italy to find his career at its lowest ebb.

THOMAS

"The jobs just weren't coming," recalled Aldo, who had starred in top films like "The Marrying Kind," "Miss Sadie Thompson," "Battle Cry" and "God's Little Acre."

His resources were dwindling. He had to borrow on his insurance to pay the taxes on some property he had bought in Cucumonga. His British wife was expecting a baby.

★ ★ ★

Aldo took stock of his situation. For one thing, he was fat. The Italian film had taken him to the land of his forebears, and he had partaken of all the vino, pasta and bread his relatives had pressed on him.

When he flew home, he could find only one pair of stretchable pants that would fit. He had ballooned to 280 pounds.

LOVER OF FOOD

Aldo is a lifelong lover of food, and although it was never a problem, he belted the booze pretty well, too. He resisted when agents urged him to diet.

Aldo also examined his behavior as an actor.

"In a certain sense, I hadn't been professional," he remarked. "You see, I've always been a natural actor. I don't show a lot in rehearsals, but when that camera is on me, something happens.

"So I would always be kidding around on sets until the scene began; then I would be all business. A lot of people didn't understand this. They started to say, 'Oh, Aldo is a goof-off.' "

CRASH DIET

As his assets continued to plummet, he decided to take action. He put himself under a doctor's care for a crash diet that brought him down to 210 pounds, the trimmest he had been since he was lifted from the University of California campus to play a football player in "Saturday's Hero." As part of the diet, he knocked off the booze.

★ ★ ★

He defied his business manager's long-time ukase against hiring press agents. "When I was at Columbia, I had 60 people in the publicity department working for me. When I went free-lance, I had nobody to keep my name alive."

★ ★ ★

Sequel: Aldo Ray is now appearing in his first Hollywood movie in eight years, playing the stepfather who starts Carroll Baker on a life of sin in "Sylvia." He has also played recently in "Bonanza" and the Bob Hope show and is dickering for his own series.

★ ★ ★

Oh yes, half of that Cucomonga property he bought for $60,000 just sold for $210,000. Things are looking up for Aldo.

Musk Ox Domestication to Be Started in Alaska

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—After years of anonymity, the musk ox now is going to be shoved into the limelight—provided researchers can get close enough to it.

The W. K. Kellogg Foundation said Tuesday it had made a grant of $336,520 to the University of Alaska. The money is to be used to conduct a five-year experiment aimed at domesticating the musk ox.

★ ★ ★

Domestication may not be simple, however.

The World Book Encyclopedia says the musk ox is a "shaggy, dangerous-looking animal that . . . gives off a muskllike odor when it is excited."

SHEEP, OX

The animal looks like a cross between an ox and a sheep. Adult males are about 7 to 8 feet long and 4 to 5 feet high. They have "massive, sharp-pointed horns that curve down, outward, and up. A pair of horns may measure 29 inches across."

The Kellogg Foundation describes the musk ox as "a thousand-pound animal which resembles goat antelopes more than the oxen suggested by its name."

And if that isn't enough, Frank McInnis, director of the Detroit Zoo, said all attempts to bring musk oxen to this country and domesticate them have failed. He said they do not thrive in zoos, either. McInnis doesn't have a musk ox in his zoo but said the zoos at Edmonton, Alberta, and Copenhagen, Denmark, did.

The Foundation said the attempt to domesticate the musk ox, which has meat that tastes something like feef, and wool that can be made into "high-quality cashmere-like garments," was being made because:

TO AID PEOPLE

"Its domestication and multiplication are expected to contribute materially to the welfare of people living at a bare subsistence level. . . in arctic Alaska."

Alaskan researchers, under the direction of Prof. John Teal, last month captured 33 musk oxen calves from a wild herd on Nunivak Island by driving the animals into shallow water and then lassoing the ones they wanted. The animals then were flown to corrals set up near the university campus.

To Eye Building Sites

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Services Administration will send a team to Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 12-16 to inspect possible sites for a courthouse and federal building, Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., announced Tuesday. They will check on land in the area of Michigan Market, Fulton and Division streets and Monroe Avenue.

Legislator Can't Miss: Won Primary in Both Parties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Silvio O. Conte, who is running for reelection this fall, can't miss.

* * *

The 43-year-old Republican from the Berkshire hills of western Massachusetts has won both the GOP and Democratic nominations in his district and has no opposition.

* * *

For a politician, that setup is pure catnip.

"Who wouldn't want to hit a home run rather than a single?" Conte said with a grin in an interview.

STICKER CAMPAIGN

With the Republican nomination clearly in the bag, Conte decided just two days before the Sept. 10 primary to go for the Democratic one also.

Since he is a Republican, the only way he could do this was by a write-in and sticker campaign in the remaining 48 hours.

* * *

The only other contender, Frederick L. Luddy, also was forced to wage a write-in campaign for the Democratic nomination because a ballot law commission had ruled that he was not a duly enrolled Democrat for a long enough period before the election.

Conte swamped Luddy by more than 2,500 to 518.

NOT LEGITIMATE

"I argued that this guy was not a legitimate Democrat, and that the Democrats didn't put up a candidate against me," Conte said.

Behind Conte's desk on Capitol Hill are two outlandish totem pole headgears that he picked up on a trip to Nigeria. One of them is bright red. The other is bright yellow. Not exactly orthodox office furniture.

* * *

Conte's voting record in Congress is not exactly orthodox Republican either. He has jumped party traces repeatedly.

For example, his was the key vote on a House foreign aid appropriations subcommittee that refused this year to approve a big slash in the program backed by its chairman, Rep. Otto Passman, D-La.

FIRST TIME

It was the first time in many years that Passman's aid-slashing did not prevail. Conte was the only Republican member of the subcommittee who voted against him.

"I vote strictly by the dictates of my conscience," he declared. "If you want to call that maverick, then I guess it is."

Conte, of Italian descent, got into politics by running for state senator in 1950. He hasn't lost an election since.

He was an outspoken backer of Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania at the Republican convention in San Francisco, and also led the unavailing fight of the Scranton forces to modify the party platform.

Garfield won the 1880 Presidential Election contest over Winfield Scott Hancock, his Democratic opponent, by only 9,464 votes.

Lansing Balloons Found

LANSING (AP) — A Lansing man who sent up 45 small helium balloons this summer said yesterday he now knows where two of them went — both to the east, and at least 200 miles from Lansing.

Dick Christmas, 23, said he had a reply yesterday from Raymond Werwinski of Tonawanda, N.Y., who said he had found one of Christmas's ballons while hunting in Canada, 145 miles north of his home.

That would be more than 300 miles northeast of Lansing. Christmas said the 30-inch-diameter balloon was sent up Aug. 21.

Christmas said a balloon he sent up Aug. 20 was found the same day in Mantua, Ohio, about 200 miles southeast of Lansing, by Jay Stever.

Christmas said he sent up the balloons "just for kicks."

Airlines Show Gains

Mart Active, Moves Irregularly

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved irregularly early this afternoon with airlines the one strong group. Trading was fairly active.

Most changes of key stocks were fractional.

★ ★ ★

Airlines displayed a string of gains ranging to a point or better. Brokers said a big August increase in airline traffic plus Wall Street opinions that the group had been "oversold" helped them to rally.

All Big Three motors took small losses. General Motors took a fractional loss as the Friday strike deadline approached and GM said it would "hold the line" on 1965 car prices.

STEELMAKERS DOWN

The major steelmakers also took losses, mostly fractional.

Oils and drugs edged higher on balance. Chemicals declined. Cigarette stocks were mostly unchanged following news that cigarette shipments, after a large rise in June, had settled back in July to slightly above the year ago pace.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 325.5 with industrials off .6, rails up .5 and utilities up .3.

Corporate and U.S. Government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Technique Is Transferable

Skill in Studying Applies to Any Field

By Leslie J. Nason, Ed. D.

Skill in studying for complete understanding is essential to many people in adult life. The engineer, scientist, lawyer or accountant to name only a few.

DR. NASON

For students also, lack of this skill is a major cause of failure. On the other hand, ones who develop it become better and better students.

Once gained while studying arithmetic, accounting, chemistry or law, the skill is easily transferable to other subjects now or later.

Engineering, for example, is recognized as a fine background for the study of law, and vice-versa.

At the beginning of World War II, law students needed more mathematics as a background for officers' training.

They learned mathematics rapidly. Their learning skills, including the study for complete understanding which they had developed in the study of law, transferred to the study of mathematics.

Studying to understand completely should commence with beginning reading. Training should continue in every grade, particularly in connection with the study of mathematics, science and language.

Pupils do not acquire this skill by chance — at least not in sufficient numbers.

A teacher in a third grade summer school class set up for poor pupils, found their failure to grasp meanings through reading and study was alarming.

START EARLY

Parents and teachers should make it clear to students that they should be acquiring this skilll starting with teaching in the first grade, continuing to practice it as they are introduced to mathematics and science.

Algebra, geometry, foreign languages and chemistry are all excellent subjects on which to practice.

It will take some insistence to get a younger child to make the effort. But once he has made it, the pleasure of understanding what he reads will keep him practicing.

● Insist that your children explain what the arithmetic books say about their lesson. Forced to struggle for understanding children discover, sometimes for the first time, that they can achieve it.

● High school and college students need to be let in on the "secret." Let them know that studying for complete understanding is the goal for which they are to struggle. Suggest that they restudy their mathematics, chemistry and physics books. This time insisting on complete understanding.

● Have students check each illustrative problem with the statement of principles which precedes it. They should think long enough and deeply enough to discover that the principles were used in the solution of the problem.

● Explain that they will have difficulty acquiring this skill after so many years of neglect. They may even need the help of another student or of the instructor on their first ventures into this area of thinking.

★ ★ ★

● Sometimes success is attained only by a sequence of activities. First studying, then talking with the professor, restudying, sleeping on it and then another session of studying.

★ ★ ★

Whatever effort it takes, it is worthwhile.

Space Officials to Visit State

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper and James Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), are scheduled to visit here Oct. 7.

The trip was arranged by Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich.

★ ★ ★

The visit calls first for a news conference at Leer Siegler, Inc., facilities. The I SI Instrument Division here is working on orders for the Gemini space program in which Cooper is involved.

★ ★ ★

It also provides for Cooper, Webb and Ford to address a general assembly at Aquinas College, appear before Optimist and American Business Club members in joint luncheon session and address a Calvinist Cadet Corps audience in the evening at Civic Auditorium.

MSU Professor Urges 'Crushing' Barry Loss

EAST LANSING (AP) — Economics Prof. Robert F. Lanzillotti Tuesday called for a "crushing repudiation" of Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

★ ★ ★

Lanzillotti of Michigan State University told a University Volunteers for Johnson rally the result of a Goldwater defeat would be that the Republican Party "may be returned to responsible leadership."

When you base your business double of a freely bid game contract on the sound of the bidding you had better make sure that your hearing is working perfectly.

South's two no-trump is a horrible bid by modern standards. He has only 15 high card points. However, this hand was played in the days of honor tricks and South has better than three and a half honor tricks.

The bid also put North into spasms. He studied and studied his hand. Then he studied it some more. Finally he bid three no-trump.

There was nothing tentative nor infirm about East's double. He had spotted weakness in his opponents' bidding and he was ready for a diamond lead. Everything was going to come up roses.

East had a change of heart when North redoubled without any histrionics whatsoever. His roses had withered in the wintry blast but nothing could be done about it. East had been neatly harpooned.

There was nothing much to the play. East managed to take his two diamonds and one spade while he had a chance, so his side only paid off for one overtrick.

East did ask North, "What were you so worried about when you bid three no-trump?"

North replied, "I was worried about missing a slam."

REGISTRATION NOTICE
FOR GENERAL ELECTION
TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1964

To the qualified electors of the Township of White Lake (Precincts Nos. 1, 2 and 3), County of Oakland, State of Michigan:

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the Michigan Election Law (1 I, the undersigned Clerk, will upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said township, not already registered who may apply to me personally for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the thirtieth day before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such election.

Notice is hereby given that I will be in my office at 7525 Highland Road on each weekday, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.; on Saturday from 9 a.m. until 12 noon; and on Monday, October 5, 1964—last day, the thirtieth preceding said election as provided by Section 498, Act No. 116, Public Acts of 1954, from 8 o'clock a.m. until 8 o'clock p.m. on said day for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors in said township as shall properly apply therefor.

The name of no person but an actual resident of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

FERDINAND C. VETTER
Township Clerk
September 23 and 24, 1964

Death Takes Area Druggist

Service for Allen A. Olson, 41, of 2209 Fortress, Waterford Township, will be 11 a.m. Friday in St. Stephen Lutheran Church, Waterford Township, with burial in Ottawa Park Cemetery, Independence Township.

His body is at the Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home, Clarkston.

Mr. Olson, owner of Olson Drugs, 3415 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township, died yesterday at Pontiac General Hospital.

Appointed two weeks ago to fill an unexpired term on the Waterford Township Board, he had asked to be excused from the Monday night meeting because of illness.

★ ★ ★

Active in the Waterford Lion's Club, he held memberships in the American, Michigan and Oakland County Pharmaceutical Associations. He was a graduate of Wayne State University College of pharmacy.

Surviving besides his wife, Geraldine, are five children, Jeffrey, Craig, Gail, Jan and Allen Jr., all at home; two sisters and five brothers.

Hits Defense Cuts

Barry Blasts 'Suicide' Spending

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said today President Johnson wants to cut defense spending in favor of "handouts here, subsidies there," and declared: "That way lies national suicide."

Drumming criticism of the Democrats' foreign and defense policies, the Republican presidential nominee said that if the United States is to halt communism and safeguard freedom "we must be stronger than the enemy by far.

★ ★ ★

"We must realize that the responsible use of power — to deter those with hostile intent — is not so largely to provoke all-out war as it is to prevent war," Goldwater said in an address prepared for the American Legion's national convention.

"If the Communists believe the odds favor them," the Arizona senator said, "they will not hesitate to hit us with their most fearsome weapons."

'MESS OF PIE'

Goldwater said the administration now proposes "to cut our military spending in order to provide funds for sticking the government's fingers in a still larger mess of pie — for handouts here, subsidies there."

He said that effort is likely to end up "draining the public's purse" and doing more harm than good.

"There is no surer way to condemn this nation to the status of a second-rate power, incapable of exerting influence in the world at large, than to fritter away taxable capacity in dogooder schemes that waste our substance," he said. "The experience of Britain is a striking example of how that can happen."

Goldwater called for "true economy, not the false economy of weakening our defensees."

He said the only rein on Communist maneuvers in the cold war is "their hard-headed, cold-blooded assessment of the risk they must face.

"It is not compassion or decency which prevents their attacking us," Goldwater said. "They respect our power and they fear provoking its use against them."

'TOO EASY'

He said American foreign policy based on "false answers" to cold war threats has made Communist expansion "altogether too easy."

"The worst of the false answers is that the Communists will stop being hostile if we accommodate them." Goldwater said. He called that a naive misreading of Communist intent.

Youth Injured in Auto Crash

Clarence E. Burmeister Jr., 18, 994 Schyler, White Lake Township, is in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital following an auto accident yesterday.

Sheriff's deputies said Burmeister was driving east on East Highland in White Lake Township when he collided with a car driven by Eugene J. Smith, 43, 177 Winry, Avon Township.

★ ★ ★

Burmeister suffered possible head injuries in the crash. Smith was not injured, deputies said.

Brotherhood Sets Dinner to Mark $2 Million Sales

Area members of the Lutheran Brotherhood will gather tomorrow evening for dinner at Greenfield's Restaurant in Birmingham.

The Brotherhood, which is a life and health insurance organization for Lutherans, will mark passing the $2 - million point in sales.

★ ★ ★

Seventy-five such dinners will be held at the same time across the nation. A national telephone hook-up will join the meetings.

Members of the Brotherhood, Lutheran clergy, and government officials will attend the function.

Two Horses Killed When Hit by Car

Two horses were killed yesterday when hit by a car at Square Lake and Rochester roads in Troy.

Michael A. Walford, 20, of 3197 Harrison, Avon Township, said that the horses came out from a side road, and that he could not stop in time.

★ ★

The horses, both of which were saddled, belonged to Hank Shurmur of 1801 Square Lake.

Walford received slight injuries.

19 Die, 8 Hurt as Cattlemen, Rustlers Fight

MANILA (UPI)—The Philippine news service reported yesterday that 19 persons were killed and eight wounded yesterday in a gunfight between cattlemen and rustlers on the Southern Philippine island of Sulu.

★ ★ ★

The dead included two women and several other innocent bystanders, the report said, and only one of the dead was an outlaw.

★ ★ ★

It said that vigilantes tracing stolen livestock cornered the rustlers in Daneg Barrio (village).

★ ★ ★

Three police constabulary companies sent in units to track down the outlaws and prevent further bloodshed, the report said.

AROUND THE WORLD

Say Youth, 16, Killed Farmer

EAST LANSING (AP)—Shiawassee County Prosecutor Raymond Basso is seeking to try a 16-year-old Williamston youth as an adult in the slaying of Frank Hankinson, 55, of rural Morrice.

★ ★ ★

State police said Tuesday that four youths went to visit Hankinson, a physical culture fan, early Monday. One of them scuffled with the farmer and he fell down a flight of concrete stairs and was killed, troopers said.

★ ★ ★

They put the victim in their car, police said, and tried to race him to a Lansing hospital, more than 30 miles away. Their car overheated and the trip had to be completed in an ambulance. Hankinson was dead on arrival at Sparrow Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Basso has petitioned Shiawassee County Probate Court for permission to try the youth on a manslaughter charge. Three others, one from Lansing and two from Perry, were released.

STEAM BATH

"One boy said they wanted to use Hankinson's steam bath, but another said they just wanted to harrass the man," said State Police Sgt. Carl Harrison of the East Lansing Post.

Cigars Not for This Gal

LANSING (AP) — It doesn't pay for a woman to be seen with a handful of cigars—if she didn't pay for the cigars.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Helen Margaret Hall, 47, of Lansing, pleaded guilty Monday to stealing five cigars—valued at 28 cents—from a gasoline station.

★ ★ ★

Lansing Municipal Judge Earl E. McDonald ordered a 60-day jail term for her and charged her $50 fines and costs.

State Man Bound Over on Wife-Killing Charge

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Kenneth B. Brown Jr., 26, was bound over to Circuit Court after appearing Tuesday on a murder charge before Municipal Court Judge Louis E. Simhauser.

★ ★ ★

Brown is charged with the shotgun slaying of his wife, Helen, 23, in the kitchen of their suburban Wyoming home Sept. 5. Police say the slaying climaxed a series of domestic arguments.

Eight parties had candidates in the 1932 Presidential Election — Democrats, Republicans, Socialist, Communist, Prohibition, Liberty, Socialist Labor and Farmer Labor.

Auto Industry in Holiday Mood as New Models Go on Display

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry was in a holiday mood today as it lifted the curtain on the first of its 363 new 1965 models.

Ford Motor Co. unveiled its Lincoln-Continental line today, and American Motors put its Ramblers on display.

★ ★ ★

All General Motors Divisions will show their new products tomorrow, with Chrysler Corp. and the rest of Ford's lines due for public view Friday.

Salesmen in 40,000 dealer showrooms across the country had their pencils sharpened to resume the fast selling pace which marked the 1964 model run.

KEY QUESTION

One of the key questions in recent weeks was whether auto makers would hold the price line, in view of contract gains won by the United Auto Workers and increased costs of some materials.

★ ★ ★

A partial answer came yesterday when Ford announced that 1965 Lincoln-Continental prices would be unchanged. The four door sedan, for example, was listed at a $5,766 factory-suggested price, the same basic price the car has had since it was introduced in Sept. 1960.

General Motors announced today it was generally holding the price line for the seventh consecutive year on its five lines.

Basic prices of Cadillac, Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac and Chevrolet lines remained the same as in 1964, but there were some adjustments in prices of optional equipment.

In general, the trend in 1965 cars from Detroit's assembly lines was towards longer, more powerful vehicles.

LUXURY LINE

Roy Abernethy, president of American Motors—which is the chief champion of the compact car—added a more luxurious line to AMC's list this year with the comment:

"I don't know of any period in automotive history in which demand for variety of choice and luxury or extra features has been so vigorous."

★ ★ ★

On the styling front, the most noticeable thing about 1965 cars is that they generally follow long, clean lines with a minimum of "gingerbread." More engine options and a raft of accessories are available.

Chevrolet, with 45 models in its five lines, offers more choice than any other car maker. Ford division is next with 44.

INDUSTRY TOTAL

The industry total of 343 new models is the highest ever put out by the Big Three—Ford, Chrysler and General Motors—and American Motors. At the end of the 1964 model run, some 336 selections were available.

Especially heavy emphasis was laid on convertibles and hardtops in the new line, with American Motors joining the race for the so-called youth market.

★ ★ ★

As usual each year, there was a shifting of models with some added, and others dropped.

MORE MONEY

The fastback, a straight sloping line from the rear window to the rear bumper was noticeable on quite a few of the new cars.

The industry in general seemed to operate on the theory that customers had more money and wanted more than a stripped-down car.

Robert Anderson, Chrysler vice president for manufacturing, explained it this way:

★ ★ ★

"A customer goes into a showroom, orders a compact and then as a reward for his frugality, dresses it up with an air conditioner, power brakes, automatic transmission, power steering and an optional V8 engine."

★ ★ ★

Auto makers, with their eyes set on eight million sales, including imports in the U. S. market in calendar 1964, were equally confident that the nation's car buying tempo would pick up even more when customers look at the 1965 offerings.

A capsule summary of the new cars included:

GENERAL MOTORS

Cadillac—Will offer 11 models as in 1964, with a new series designated the Calais, replacing the Sixty-Two of recent years.

Oldsmobile—Will feature a newcomer, a fastback model called the Delta 88, as a replacement for the Super 88 line which was dropped.

Buick — The influence of Buick's sporty Riviera car will be seen strongly throughout the rest of the Buick line in 1965.

Chevrolet—Has 20 convertibles and hardtops included among its record high of 45 models offered this year.

Pontiac—Features fast flowing lines and prominent use of curved glass, with 14 standard Pontiacs and 12 Tempest models. Over-all length of the Catalina and Grand Prix have been upped nearly two inches to 214.6 and other lines were increased proportionately.

FORD MOTOR CO.

Ford Division—Styling changes include vertical-mounted dual headlights and modernistic, hexagonal-shaped tail lights.

A new super-luxury series called the Galaxie 500 LTD series will be marketed.

★ ★ ★

Fairlane — Slightly larger dimensions and new styling give the Fairlane a "bigger look" in eight basic models.

Falcon—Ford's economy car has been restyled and has a redesigned 200-cubic inch engine.

T-BIRD SAME

Thunderbird—Its three 1965 models retain the basic T-bird styling theme.

★ ★ ★

Lincoln-Mercury Division — A new hood with slightly raised center panel emphasizes the long, classic front line of the Lincoln Continental.

Mercury — At 214 inches is three inches longer than in 1964 and follows the classic, clean lines of the Continental.

★ ★ ★

Comet—Width was increased slightly, 1.5 inches, with wheelbase remaining at 114 inches.

CHRYSLER CORP.

Chrysler-Plymouth Division—Plymouth has reshuffled its lines and will offer 60 models in four series, compared with 46 last year. The Fury and Belvedere now are separate lines. The Barracuda, a fastback sports hardtop, will have the same styling lines and contours but will add a number of sports car options including a high performance engine and a rally pack.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler—Has a new longer and lower body with larger door openings and increased head room and leg room. The wheelbase is two inches longer at 124.

★ ★ ★

Imperial—Basic design of the car is unchanged but it has a new front-end design featuring dual headlamps protected by tempered glass.

MAJOR MOVE

Dodge — One of its major moves was building of the 117-inch wheelbase Coronet as an entry in the intermediate field.

AMERICAN MOTORS

American Motors will offer 29 models and seven engine options in its 1965 line, called the most diversified in the company's history.

★ ★ ★

AMC is pinning much of its hopes for a sales comeback on three versions of a high performance six cylinder torque command engine which it developed in a multimillion dollar project last April.

★ ★ ★

The American line will have a 106 inch wheelbase and 177 inch over-all length, the same as in 1964. The Classic line retains its 112 inch wheelbase, but has been lengthened five inches over-all to 195 inches.

★ ★ ★

The Ambassador wheelbase has been upped four inches to 116, but its over-all length remained at 200 inches, same as last year's models.

School Vote Facing Apathy?

Voter apathy may provide the biggest headache for school officials come the "morning after," the Oct. 2 special election in the Pontiac School District.

A poor turnout of "yes" votes on renewal of Pontiac schools' extra voted 8.75-mill tax could defeat the measure.

Generally, support of the measure has been widespread to date. However, school officials hope this "support" won't lull "Yes" voters into staying home Oct. 2.

Property owners in the local school district, who will pass on the 10-year millage at the special school election, so far have reacted favorably to it.

"I believe our greatest foe is is apathy, rather than organized opposition," stated Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

★ ★ ★

The school chief, however, feels that there is general agreement that "renewal is reasonable and necessary."

ATTRACT OPPOSITION

Taxes, notably school taxes, frequently attract organized opposition. A Pontiac millage was defeated four years ago through organized dissent.

In 1960, a 2.80-mill proposal was rejected 2,782 yes to 3,410 no.

Whitmer described the reaction to the current millage proposal as "interested, serious and supportive."

★ ★ ★

Said Whitmer, "I think we're getting the feeling that by gosh, we've got good schools and we've got to keep them going."

EXTRA MILLAGE

The original extra voted 8.75-mill package was okayed by a substantial margin in 1954. Voters said yes 2,570 to 1,943.

The favorable reaction this year, say school officials, could keep "yes" votes at home.

Support has come from many quarters.

★ ★ ★

"The most important investment available to parents and property owners alike is the development and education of our youth," states Philip E. Rowston, attorney and former Pontiac mayor.

BIG STRIDES

"We cannot afford to jeopardize the tremendous strides achieved during the past 10 years . . .," he added.

Little Fanfare in Fall Debut

Cooler Temperatures for Next Few Days

Fall slipped into Pontiac last night with little fanfare, bringing her vast array of dresses in red and gold. She passed summer at 7.17 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The weatherman said she brings cooler temperatures tonight, the low about 52 to 57. Tomorrow's high is expected to be in the mid-60s with skies clear.

The outlook for Friday is partly cloudy and cool.

South - to - southeasterly morning winds at 10 to 18 miles per hour will shift to northwesterly at 15 to 25 miles tonight.

Says Romney Could Assure Barry of State

Arizonan Will Stump in Michigan; Due to Appear on Saturday

LANSING (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's chief spokesman in Michigan said today the Arizonan could carry the state easily if Republican Gov. George Romney would endorse him.

Without Romney's blessing, however, Creighton Holden, state chairman of "Citizens for Goldwater - Miller," rated Goldwater's presidential prospects in Michigan as no more than a tossup.

Romney has steadfastly refused to endorse the senator because of their differing views of political extremism and civil rights.

Last week, in discussing the GOP's national ticket and platform, Romney said, "I accept them but I don't endorse them."

★ ★ ★

Saturday, Goldwater and Romney will come together on the campaign trail for the first time since the senator won the GOP nomination at San Francisco in July.

THREE CITIES

Goldwater is due to visit three cities — Niles, Midland and Detroit — and Romney will be with him in the last two.

At Midland, Romney is supposed to speak before the senator arrives and he intends to leave as soon as he can to do some campaigning on his own in Bay and Monroe Counties before rejoining Goldwater in Detroit.

At Detroit, a rally, with an expected audience of 14,000 or more, is planned in Cobo Hall, and Romney has promised to introduce the senator. Yesterday,

RACES OVER HILLSIDE — Flames leap from a brush fire sweeping over a hill on the outskirts of Santa Barbara, Calif., where approximately 30 homes were destroyed last night.

Nonmoney Issues Stall GM Accord

DETROIT (AP) — Controversial noneconomic problems appeared today to be the major roadblocks to a peaceful settlement in labor contract negotiations between General Motors and the United Auto Workers union.

Bargaining teams—faced with an impending strike deadline—met in morning, afternoon and night sessions yesterday seeking agreement on a pact covering some 354,000 UAW - represented employes at GM plants across the nation.

Their time was devoted almost exclusively to such matters as working conditions, production standards, union representation and disciplinary layoffs.

Both sides agreed there was still time to avoid a nationwide strike before the 10 a.m. Friday deadline set by the UAW for an agreement. But their comments to newsmen were anything but encouraging.

★ ★ ★

"There was no progress whatsoever—and a lot of work has yet to be done," said UAW President Walter Reuther between sessions.

SEATON AGREES

"There was no substantial forward movement," agreed Louis Seaton, GM vice president for personnel. "But if we work at it, there is no reason in the world why we can't reach a settlement on both economic and noneconomic matters."

In an effort to speed up the process, both sides agreed to scale down their representation at the main bargaining table to six members each.

Other negotiators formed subcommittees concentrating on such specialized subjects as pensions, insurance, skilled trades and the like.

★ ★ ★

This Friday's strike deadline is for an agreement on a national contract covering such items as wages, pensions, vacations, relief time and working conditions.

SECOND DEADLINE

But even if these matters are settled in time, the company faces a second strike deadline the following week on local at-the-plant demands.

Seaton said only four of some 130 bargaining units had resolved their grievances and more than 18,000 local demands are still unsettled.

GM, the nation's largest automaker, has offered the union virtually the same economic package accepted at Chrysler and Ford.

It included pensions of up to $400 a month as an early retirement incentive between the ages of 60 and 65 for a worker with 30 years service. After 65, the benefits decline.

Other Firms Yet to Reveal Cost of '65s

Pattern Appears Set; Answers Big Question on Auto Economics

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors Corp., biggest of the auto makers, said today it has held the basic price line for the seventh consecutive year on its new cars which go on display tomorrow.

Ford Motor Co. said yesterday its 1965 Lincoln - Continental line also will have the same basic price the cars have had since they were introduced in September 1960.

See Story, Page D-18

Other Ford divisions, plus Chrysler Corp. and American Motors, will be announcing their 1965 prices shortly.

The pattern appeared already set, however, and one of the auto industry's big questions was answered.

★ ★ ★

That was whether the auto companies would hold the price line in view of contract talks with the United Auto Workers and increased costs of some materials.

SEVENTH YEAR

"This will be the seventh consecutive year in which Chevrolet prices have remained constant in spite of rising costs," said Semon E. Knudsen, GM vice president and general manager of Chevrolet.

Buick said that prices of four of its cars in the LeSabre series had been cut by $30 over 1964 listings. The prices of its convertibles in the Electra 225, Wildcat and LeSabre series were adjusted upward to cover inclusion of a solid glass rear window as standard equipment.

List prices do not include federal, state and local taxes, or destination and dealer delivery and handling charges. These generally add several hundred dollars to the price of a car.

★ ★ ★

While the basic car price remains unchanged, customers may in some instances pay a bit more for their car as various items, formally extra cost options, were made part of the standard package this year.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Holds Price Line for 7th Year

For the seventh consecutive year, Pontiac prices will remain unchanged for comparable and similarly equipped models in spite of product improvements and rising costs, E. M. Estes, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division and General Motors vice president said today.

★ ★ ★

The new Pontiacs and Tempests wil go on display in dealer showrooms tomorrow.

Pontiac list prices for the 1965 Tempest, Tempest Custom, LeMans, Catalina, Star Chief, Bonneville and Grand Prix models are basically unchanged.

The Tempests incorporate many new styling and engineering advancements, Estes pointed out. Two new models have been added to the Tempest line — a

Wind-Driven California Fire Destroys 30 Deluxe Homes

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) —Erratic 45-mile-an-hour winds rammed a brush fire into an exclusive residential district near Santa Barbara last night, destroying at least 30 expensive homes.

To the north 350 miles, forestry officials were optimistic that they had gained the upper hand over two raging forest fires in California's wine belt. The fires have charred 50,000 acres and destroyed more than 100 buildings.

The Santa Barbara fire, reported contained yesterday afternoon, roared through the Montecito area east of the city, forcing evacuation of residents and 600 students at Westmont College.

U.S. Forest Service officials said there was a possibility the fire might extend into Santa Barbara proper, a coastal community of some 60,000 population about 50 miles north of Los Angeles.

★ ★ ★

The fire, shooting flames hundreds of feet into the air, broke out in a canyon in the afternoon.

NEW FURY

Aided by borate bombers, firemen had the blaze apparently contained at dusk before winds arose to drive it to new fury.

Fire fighters in both sections of the 700-mile-long state tempered their optimism with the hope that dry winds — which had whipped the fires at 70 miles-an-hour at times— would remain quiet, choking off the blazes.

By last night the fast-moving flames had swept wide swaths across Napa and Sonoma counties, scenic country famous for its tall timbers and terraced vineyards.

★ ★ ★

The hungry fires stopped only when the winds quieted late in the day.

PUSHED LINES

Exhausted fire-fighters kept pushing their lines forward during the night, hoping to cut off any further spread of the searing fire.

Fire officials said it was miraculous that there had been no serious injuries.

Unseasonably high temperatures kept the forests tinder dry.

★ ★ ★

First of the two fires swept down Mt. St. Helena and into the resort town of Calistoga in Napa county early Monday morning.

Later that day the second fire broke out in Sonoma County, in the woodlands between Sonoma and the adjoining resort communities of Agua Caliente and Boyes Hot Springs.

THREE FRONTS

The Division of Forestry said there were three major fire fronts.

Hundreds of fire fighters spent two desperate days holding fire lines from Calistoga on the eastern front to Santa Rosa on the west and Sonoma in the south.

An estimated 40 to 50 homes were destroyed in Calistoga early Monday and about half the town's 2,500 residents were evacuated. The Napa Valley resort village is about 60 miles north of San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

The Calistoga fire, whipped by winds that sometimes reached 70 miles an hour, raced about 20 miles west to a northern suburb of Santa Rosa.

★ ★ ★

A Catholic high school and convent and the Sonoma County Hospital were narrowly missed by the fire.

For All City Riders

Bus Fare Hike Due Oct. 1

City bus riders face a 5-cent fare increase Oct. 1.

The fare increase, subject to bus company approval, was passed by a 4-2 vote of the City Commission last night.

Commissioner Leslie M. Hudson proposed the fare hike from 25 to 30 cents for adult riders. A 90-day trial through Dec. 31, was part of Hudson's proposal.

The city will continue its subsidy of up to $1,715 per month during the three-month period. Student fares of 15 cents will remain the same.

The transit business in Pontiac was discussed to nearly midnight by the City Commission and Pontiac Transit Corp. officers K. E. Totten, regional manager, and Glen Crawford, Pontiac bus manager.

★ ★ ★

Totten, who opposed the fare hike, reserved the right to reject the increased fares. He said that he would have to talk to other officials of the parent firm, American Transit Corp.

TERMINATION NOTICE

The regional manager said that if the city insisted on the fare hike and his company could not go along with it, 30-day termination notice would have to be given.

Pontiac Transit has furnished local bus transportation on a month-to-month basis since its agreement with the city expired in June.

The bus firm seeks a city subsidy to maintain transit service here. The current monthly contract expires next Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Previously, the city had paid a flat subsidy of $420 per month — $5,040 per year — to help off-

Land Sale Clears Way for Complex

City Commissioners last night removed the last hurdle for Pontiac's second multiple housing development in the R20 Urban Renewal project.

Final approval was given the sale of three parcels of land, for a 22-unit apartment complex, to developer Sheldon Goldman of Royal Oak for $13,500.

Charles Langs has begun construction of Pontiac's first multiple-housing project on urban renewal land at East Pike and Douglas.

Goldman proposes two 2-story buildings on property south of Cottage and east of Wide Track.

★ ★ ★

Total construction cost, including the price of the land, is estimated at $200,000. Construction is expected to take four months and begin almost immediately.

UNIT MAKEUP

Goldman will erect 14 one-bedroom units, renting for about $110 per month, and eight two-bedroom units, renting for $130 per month.

★ ★ ★

In related action, commissioners received a second proposal from Goldman for a similar apartment complex of 28 units for land on the west side of Wide Track, south of Whittemore.

★ ★ ★

Goldman said drawings on the second project would be submitted next week. The land was tentatively priced at $18,300.

Grim Reaper Patrols Home Stretch

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the fourth in an eight-part series of articles written in cooperation with the Governor's Committee on Traffic Safety and the Michigan Press Association.)

By BILL EASTHAM

It's Sunday evening and getting dark. You've had the family "up north" for the weekend and you're on the last leg of your homeward journey.

You've been humming along on the freeway at 70 or 75 for the last three hours and you're just a little tired. But you've left the freeway and the heavy traffic and you're on the home stretch.

A sigh of relief escapes you. But if you look carefully, you'll see the Grim Reaper sitting right on the hood of your car.

You have just entered his home territory. He's been expecting you ever since you left home Friday evening.

★ ★ ★

Freeway driving has a lulling effect on the senses. With no oncoming traffic, intersections, traffic lights or sharp curves to watch out for, the average driver soon becomes dull and lethargic.

CAN BE DISASTROUS

This phenomenon is known as "highway hypnosis." It can be disastrous in itself.

But the real danger point is when you leave the expressway and enter local driving conditions.

Most drivers have trouble adjusting to a lower speed and increased hazards of local traffic. Safety experts believe this may be a principal cause of a sharp increase in accidents on rural and urban county roads last year.

State Police figures show that 67 per cent of those killed and 70.3 per cent of those injured on Michigan highways last year met misfortune in their home county.

Relaxing on the "home stretch" is the worst mistake a driver can make.

There is probably no foolproof solution to this problem. Sgt. Mike J. Sibal, head of the Detroit District State Police Traffic Division, suggests that a sign reminding drivers of a change in driving conditions as they leave the freeway might be helpful.

"But signs will never take the place of common sense," Sgt. Sibal points out.

★ ★ ★

Even with the most elaborate signing systems marking freeway exits, an occasional motorist becomes confused and is involved in an accident or gets into the wrong lane of traffic when leaving or entering the freeway.

Only recently a Lake Orion youth was killed on I-75 in Troy in a collision with a car that witnesses said had traveled several miles in the wrong lane of traffic.

Perhaps a "wrong - way" warning on the backside of freeway signs would help prevent such tragedies.

Millions of dollars have been spent to provide Michigan with one of the finest road systems in the country.

★ ★ ★

New roads are being built the year around and older roads are constantly being improved. But road building is lagging behind car building.

Johnson Defines Choice Before Voters on Nov. 3

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today voters in the Nov. 3 election will have "a choice between the center and the fringe — between the responsible mainstream of American experience and the reckless and rejected extremes."

Johnson, in an address prepared for six labor union audiences — five of them hearing him on closed-circuit television — said that "the heart of our American way of life is under attack — and those who love it must go forth now to save it."

★ ★ ★

The President said "Americans are not presented with a choice of parties," nor with "a choice of liberalism and conservatism."

"Americans are faced today with a concerted bid for power by factions which oppose all that both parties have supported. It is a choice between the center and the fringe — between the responsible mainstream of American experience and the reckless and rejected extremes," he said.

LOUD AND CLEAR

Johnson said that the challenge is loud and "the call of duty is clear."

"We are called to stand up and be counted," he said. "For we have a duty — a clear and compelling duty — to make it clear that America has not fallen and will not fall into the hands of extremists of any stripe."

★ ★ ★

The President, who arranged a personal appearance at the convention here of the International Union of Electrical Workers, aimed his remarks simultaneously, by closed-circuit television, to meetings of the United Rubber Workers in Chicago, the United Textile Workers of New York, the Tobacco Workers International Union in Miami Beach, the Missouri Labor Council in Kansas City, and the Minnesota AFL-CIO in St. Paul.

Johnson said that "the factions which bid for power over your lives — and control over your government — bear many names, wear many masks, espouse many causes."

'UNITED AS BEFORE'

"But they are united today — as they have been united for 30 years — by one determination: That your country shall not provide for the general welfare of its citizens," he said.

The President said that the factions he mentioned "may talk of changing the world, but they mean to change America first."

The Pontiac is virtually a new car with similar engineering and styling changes.

WHEELBASE UP

Wheelbase on the Catalina and Grand Prix has been increased to 121 inches and to 124 inches on the Star Chief and Bonneville models.

Catalina and Bonneville convertibles include the new tempered glass rear window, as standard equipment, for better visibility as well as durability.

Two other divisions of General Motors Corp. have made similar announcements.

★ ★ ★

Semon E. Knudsen, vice president of General Motors and Chevrolet general manager, announced that Chevrolet would also hold the price line despite improvements and increased costs.

PRICE LINE

GM announced today that all its division would generally hold the price line on most 1965 models.

Separated Twins Listed in Critical Condition

CHICAGO (AP) — Donald and Ronald Jaquet, Siamese twins separated surgically Sunday at Children's Memorial Hospital, were on the critical list today.

Donald, the weaker twin, had difficulty breathing Tuesday and a respirator was brought to aid him. Ronald, earlier described as "holding his own," was placed on the critical list so he would receive sufficient medical attention, a hospital spokesman said.

TIDES RUN HIGH — Two Ocean City, Md., youths play a game of beat the wave as angry seas pushed by high winds and high tides from advancing, Hurricane Gladys, push over the top of a jetty in this ocean-front community.

May Touch Long Island

Gladys to Spare Coast

NEW YORK (AP) — Most of the coast of the nation's most densely populated area will be spared the damage that had been threatened by fickle Hurricane Gladys, the U.S. Weather Bureau forecast today.

The eastern end of Long Island was a possible exception.

★ ★ ★

The Weather Bureau said no potentially dangerous winds were expected between Cape May, at the southern tip of New Jersey, and Block Island, R.I.

The major remaining threat seemed to be from flooding caused by tides two to three feet above normal.

MORE OPTIMISTIC

The U.S. Weather Bureau in New York City said the "latest indications are somewhat more optimistic."

At 6 a.m. reconnaissance aircraft placed the center of the hurricane about 220 miles east of Norfolk, Va.

★ ★ ★

Before the forecast on the hurricane's course was revised, emergency measures had been rushed to protect hundreds of miles of the northeast coast from floods, beach erosion and property damage that had been threatened by the high winds over a vast area around the center of the hurricane.

The center had not been expected to hit the Northeast.

'CANE TURNS

Early today, Gladys turned to a more northerly direction and its forward speed increased to about 8 miles an hour. Highest winds were estimated at 85 m.p.h. within 50 miles of the center.

The 6 a.m. forecast for the next 24 hours was that Gladys would shift more to the northeast into the Atlantic, with a considerable increase in the forward movement.

★ ★ ★

The center was expected to pass to the southeast of the Cape Cod, Mass., area tonight.

Beach erosion from heavy surf at some spots along the northeast coast was feared.

HURRICANE WATCH

A hurricane watch — a precautionary measure — remained in effect from the Virginia Capes to Block Island. It was discontinued from the Virginia Capes south to Cape Hatteras, N.C.

★ ★ ★

Warnings of gales of varying degrees continued from Cape Hatteras to Eastport on the northeast tip of Maine. All warnings were removed south of Cape Hatteras, but small craft in that area were advised to remain in port until winds and seas subside.

The Weather Bureau said that as the hurricane moves northeastward, offshore winds along the coast to the west of the hurricane are expected to range between 30 and 45 m.p.h., except that stronger gusts were forecast along southeastern New England late today and tonight.

Gale warnings for New York harbor were changed to small craft warnings at 4 a.m.

RAIN FORECAST

Rain — heavy at times — was forecast for Long Island.

The New York City Weather Bureau said the outlook improved because Gladys had not spread northward as rapidly as had been expected.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday night, Gladys had taken a more definite course toward the northeastern states after moving uncertainly for a day.

Could Assure Barry of State

columnists Rowland Evans and Robert Novak of the New York Herald Tribune said, "Romney has prepared in his own longhand a speech of introduction which is courteous, cool and short on compliments for Goldwater."

Richard Milliman, the governor's press secretary, quickly denied the report. "He has not prepared a speech. We've talked about it and it certainly will be courteous," Milliman said.

REMAINS ALOOF

But no one can deny Romney has done his best to remain aloof, from Goldwater, and Holden is among the first to acknowledge the situation.

In a telephone interview, Holden observed that even the National Republican Committee's relations with the State GOP have been strained because of the Romney - Goldwater rift.

He said the Republican State Central Committee has been "desirious of cooperating in any way possible. But obviously, with these reservations the governor has, it makes it more difficult than if there was a unified effort from the presidential level right on down."

Holden said the Goldwater forces have tried repeatedly to sway Romney to their side, but now have given up making any further approaches because "only one man can fix it — the governor."

Holden indicated that in the long run, in his opinion, Romney might damage his own election prospects more than Goldwater's.

"My personal opinion is that this certaily does not help the total Republican cause," he said.

ADDED SUBSIDY

Pontiac Transit last asked for an added subsidy of $20,580 per year.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. and Commissioner Wesley J. Wood voted against Hudson's motion to raise bus fares.

Explaining his vote, Taylor said he had wanted the city manager to study the possible use of tokens.

Commissioner Emmett S. Wellbaum was absent during the vote.

Formal action will be taken next week on the proposed extension of bus service.

'Didn't Mean to Kill Anyone'

Trial Ordered for Engineer in Slayings

DETROIT (AP)—Locomotive Engineer John H. Frazier was ordered yesterday to stand trial on three separate charges of first-degree murder in the fatal shootings of his wife, Dorothy, and two men.

Sobbing as he was being led back to his jail cell from the courtroom, Frazier said, "I didn't mean to kill anybody. I just want to go home and show my kids how to cook the food."

Frazier, father of four children, is charged in the shooting Sept. 14 at former radio personality Pierre Paulin's announcing school.

The bodies of Mrs. Frazier and Clarence S. De Potie, a car dealer and father, were found in a recording studio.

★ ★ ★

Paulin's body was found in another room.

FRAZIER WEEPS

The balding, stocky Frazier, a New York Central engineer, wept as a medical examiner testified to the seven bullet wounds in his wife's body.

★ ★ ★

Defense counsel Robert Colombo said Frazier would plead temporary insanity.

Frazier's statement to police was read to the court.

Jury Acquits Teen in Killing

An Oakland County Juvenile Court jury yesterday acquitted a 16-year-old Oak Park boy charged with first-degree murder in the fatal shooting of his father.

The jury said the shooting resulted from an irresistable impulse over which the youth had no reasonable control, according to Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard.

Grant Collins had been charged with shooting his 42-year-old father Kenneth Collins last July 23 following an argument in their home at 24101 Manistee. Collins died 16 days later at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Collins, an Oak Park auxiliary policeman, was shot five times with his 38-caliber service revolver.

★ ★ ★

The jury of four women and two men recommended outpatient psychiatric treatment for the youth, but did not make it mandatory. The trial lasted one day.

3 of 4 Men Rescued From N-Test Shaft

MERCURY, Nev. (AP) — The third of four men trapped more than 80 hours in a nuclear mine shaft was brought to the surface today at the Nevada test site.

It took 1 hour and 3 minutes to bring up Art Luhnow of North Las Vegas. He reached the top at 9:08 a.m. EST.

Only one of the original foursome remained below—George R. Cooper of Tucson, Ariz. With him was elevator operator Frank Solaegui, who will remain below until Cooper is hoisted up.

★ ★ ★

All three rescued men were reported in good condition. They were checked at a dispensary and sent home.

Luhnow followed Leland Roeder, 45, to the surface. About an hour earlier, Solaegui had taken Floyd Shaw of Santa Barbara, Calif., to the top.

New Lebanese Leader Takes Oath of Office

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Charles Helou, a former diplomat and lawyer, took the oath of office today as Lebanon's fourth president since independence from France in 1943.

He succeeds Gen. Fouad Chehab, who was elected in 1958 at the end of a near civil war during which U.S. Marines were called on to help quell the strife. Helou, 52, was elected for a six-year term by the Chamber of Deputies Aug. 18.

Will Mark Birth Date of Cranbrook Founder

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A salute of 21 aerial bombs tomorrow will mark the 100th anniversary of the birth of George G. Booth, Cranbrook's founder.

The centennial ceremony will be held at 3 p.m. on the terrace of Cranbrook House.

The heads of the six Cranbrook institutions, board members, alumni and students of the Cranbrook schools will attend. Flags of the six institutions plus that of the Cranbrook Foundation will be flown.

Three aerial bombs will be fired in behalf of each of the institutions and the foundation.

★ ★ ★

Booth was born Sept. 24, 1864 in Toronto. He immigrated to Detroit, entered the newspaper business and established the Booth Newspapers chain. In 1904 he and his wife purchased the Cranbrook property.

DEDICATE SITE

Several years later they dedicated the 300 acres to educational purposes, leading to the establishment of Cranbrook's six institutions — Brookside School, Cranbrook, Cranbrook School, Christ Church Cranbrook, Cranbrook Academy of Art, Kingswood School Cranbrook and Cranbrook Institute of Science.

★ ★ ★

The Cranbrook Foundation was created by trust indenture Nov. 28, 1927.

Booth died in Detroit in 1949.

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission has joined the Bloomfield Township Board in deciding that a parcel of property on the west side of Adams, south of Big Beaver, should be zoned for multiple residences.

A small triangle of the property now under dispute lies within Birmingham.

The township portion of the property owned by Cranbrook Realty Co. was changed from single-family to multiple residence under the township zoning ordinance adopted in 1962.

The firm wants it changed to commercial, but the township has refused, a decision upheld this month in Oakland County Circuit Court.

★ ★ ★

The court decree left the Birmingham triangle unzoned. It now conforms with the rest of the 7-acre plot bisected by the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks.

Alex E. Lofquist Sr.

Service for Alex E. Lofquist Sr., 70, of 1919 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills, will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at First Presbyterian Church, Royal Oak. Burial will follow at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Mr. Lofquist died yesterday after an illness of several months.

★ ★ ★

He was a retired chief engineer for R. C. Mahon Steel Co., Detroit. He also served as executive secretary of the Great Lakes Fabricators Association, Detroit.

★ ★ ★

His body will be at the Sullivan Funeral Home until 1 p.m. tomorrow.

Memorial contributions can be made to the First Presbyterian Church, Royal Oak, or to the local CARE office.

Kalman E. Matus

Service for Kalman E. Matus, 73, of 839 Randall, Birmingham, will be 1 p.m. Thursday at Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Cremation will follow in White Chapel Memorial Crematorium, Troy.

Mr. Matus died Monday after a short illness.

He was a retired employe of the Jam Handy Organization of Detroit, having worked in the business theater department for 23 years.

Surviving are his wife, Thyra; a son, Eric K. of Pensacola, Fla.; two sisters; and three grandchildren.

ARTHUR P. JOHNSON

Ex-Principal to Head Center

A former school principal will head up Pontiac's new Hayes Jones Community Center, Walnut at Wesson.

Arthur P. Johnson, 52, of 272 S. Sanford, has been named community center supervisor by the city parks and recreation department.

Johnson, formerly of Jackson, Miss., will direct the center's activities. The center is slated to open about Oct. 19 with the fall and winter recreation program.

The new center supervisor has surveyed the community to determine what programs will be offered.

Included in the center's program might be teen dances, arts and crafts and other indoor individual and group activities.

Located in the renovated water works plant, the Hayes Jones Community Center takes in the two-story building and an outdoor pool.

★ ★ ★

The pool yas opened July 15.

Johnson is married, with four children. He spent seven years with the Jackson, Miss., recreation department, 12 years as Holmes County 4-H Agent there, and 10 years as school principal.

He is a 1934 graduate of Jackson State College.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Rain will fall from the middle Atlantic Coast to Canada tonight. Showers and thundershowers are expected from the Lakes area to the Tennessee and Ohio valleys and in parts of the southern Plains. It will be cooler from the Great Plains to the lower Lakes and Tennessee valley, but warmer from the southern Plateau to the Rockies.

New Treatment Method for Mentally Ill

Details of a new approach to treatment of the mentally ill, slated to be inaugurated Oct. 1 at Pontiac State Hospital were disclosed yesterday.

Dr. Szymon W. Maroko, director of the new unit plan, outlined the projected treatment at a staff meeting.

The program is being financed with funds from a three-year $300,000 grant from the National Institute of Mental Health, a federal government agency.

Still an innovation in the treatment of the mentally ill, the unit plan calls for intensive teatment throughout a patient's hospital stay.

★ ★ ★

Patients are housed in a separate ward and receive intensive care from the same set of staff therapists and doctors.

LENGTH OF STAY

Object of the unit plan, according to Dr. Maroko, is to reduce the length of stay in the hospital.

The intensive care differs from the present system whereby only a brief period of intensive treatment is furnished atients.

Also, patients are transferred to several wards as they progress. This will not be true under the unit plan.

★ ★ ★

The staff is organized into a team, working with the same patients throughout their hospitalization.

MAJOR FEATURE

Continuity is one major feature of the unit plan, said Dr. Maroko.

He described the unit plan as therapeutic care with optimism rather than custodial care with pessimism.

Pontiac State Hospital will begin the new program with 50 female and 50 male patients. Roughly one of four new admissions will be assigned to the unit plan.

All mental ills will be treated under the new plan, said Dr. Maroko.

THREE PHASES

The unit plan director said that the program's development would follow three phases:

- Decentralization — The establishment of semiindependent units where the patient is admitted, treated and discharged.
- Geographical — Arrangement of the hospital's 10-county service area into units.
- Community Organization — Hospital services will be integrated with other mental health services in the community.

Patients admitted under the plan will be between 18-65 years old.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Maroko presented statistics to show the success of a similar program initiated in 1956, at Osawatomie State Hospital, Kansas.

DISCHARGE RATE

That hospital had only 239 admissions in 1951, but in 1962 had 801 admissions. The discharge rate was 131 in 1951, but 875 in 1962, he said.

Also, the total cost of the average hospital stay has been reduced. Hospitalization in 1951 was measured in years, said Dr. Maroko, but in 1961 had been reduced to 3-6 months.

This reduction in the hospitalization period meant a dollar reduction from $9,000 to $4,700 for treatment of the average patient.

"Ninety-two per cent of all patients leave within one year," said Dr. Maroko of the Kansas hospital.

NO WAITING LIST

In addition, the out-of-state hospital does not have a waiting list.

The pioneering effort at Pontiac State Hospital will include a staff of two psychiatrists, four registered nurses, a social worker, an occupational therapist, a secretary, and up to two attendances.

★ ★ ★

Funds of $100,000 a year from the federal grant will cover the added personnel. Part-time service from other hospital staff members will also aid the project.

Apathy Facing School Vote?

dent of the Pontiac Council, of PTA's, said, "We have quality education — good teachers, modern facilities and up-to-date equipment, we can continue (with the 8.75 millage)."

Urging a "yes" vote, Robert R. Turpin, president of the Pontiac School Study Committee, pointed out that better schools make a better community.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Turpin added that the need and demand for better education in ever-increasing and the Pontiac School District is rising to meet the challenge.

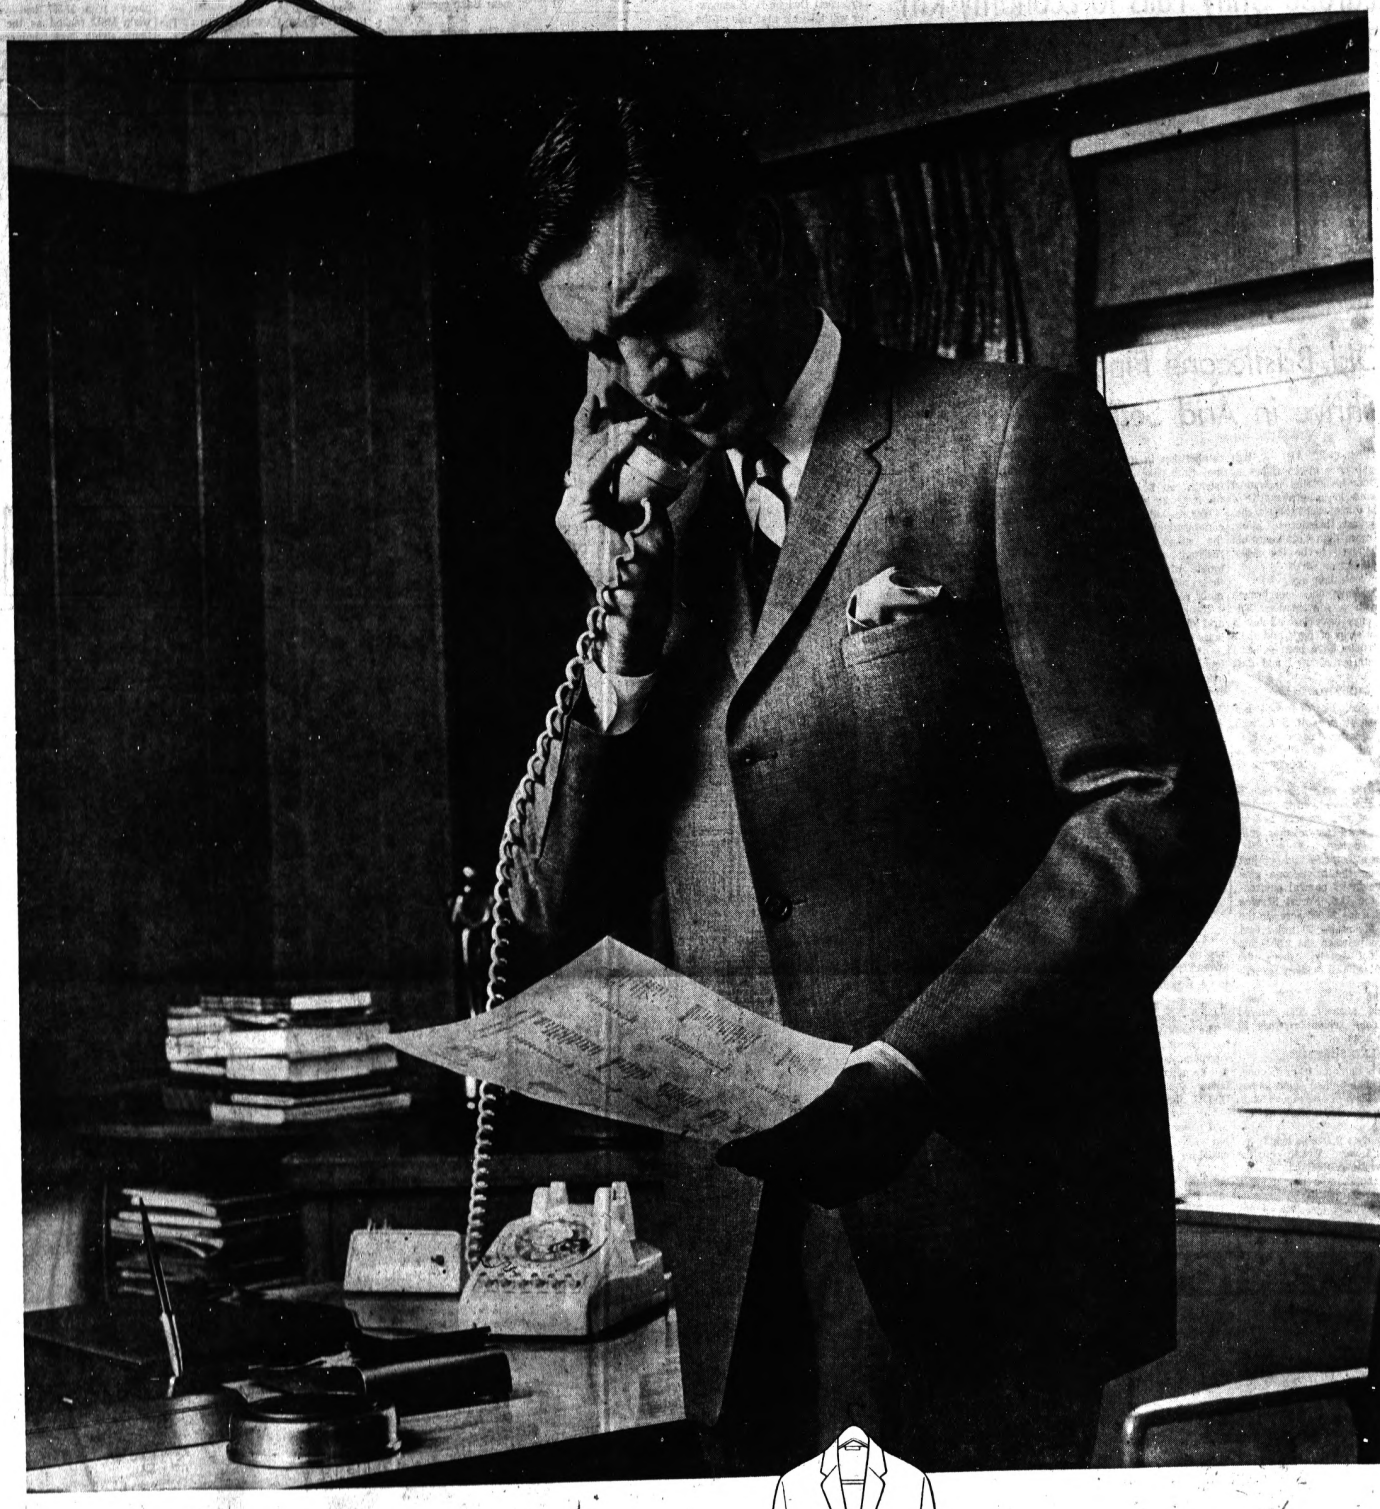

NO DOUBT

Former school board member Glenn H. Griffin said, "I sincerely hope there is no doubt in anyone's mind about the need for this (millage), and, also, that this is simply a vote to continue what we are now paying."

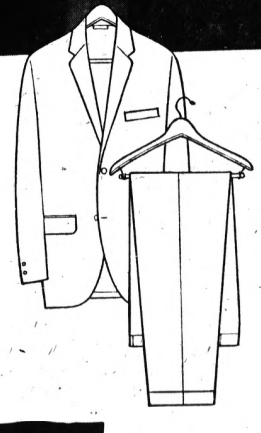

★ ★ ★

The Oakland County AFL-CIO Council, one of several groups supporting the millage, described the Oct. 2 proposition as "a must" and urged its members to vote yes.

2 PANT SUIT DAYS AT HUGHES HATCHER SUFFRIN

Want luxury? You'll find it in this imported all-wool sharkskin—a smooth and lustrous fabric that tailors beautifully, holds its shape, resists wrinkling. Want wearability? For all its luxurious appearance, sharkskin is one of the best-wearing fabrics; strong and tightly-woven. (And the trousers are permanently creased.) Or do you stress styling? You'll find these suits are meticulously tailored and detailed, in fresh new versions of the two- and three-button; with pleated or plain-front trousers. Is color a clincher? Just see how handsome you look in silver grey, medium grey, charcoal, dark blue, or deep brown—shades that sharkskin makes even richer. Searching for size? You'll find them in sizes from 36 to 52., proportions from extra-short to extra-long and from portly-short to portly. Or does sound value get your vote? You'll do a lot of looking to find a finer 2-trouser suit than this at 79.50.

this Custom Quality 2-pant suit of imported sharkskin is most exceptional from every standpoint

Big Three Motors Ease

Mart Fairly Active, Uneven

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved unevenly in fairly active early trading today.

Changes of most key stocks were fractional.

* * *

Big Three motors eased. The "little two" were steady.

A patchwork of small gains and losses prevailed over most major groups.

MART EXCEPTIONS

Exceptions were airlines and drugs which moved higher narrowly on balance.

General Motors eased but remained above 100 as the Friday strike deadline approached.

* * *

Tuesday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .5 to 325.5, a new high.

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange.
