Fatal Duck-Hunting Accident Saddens Curtice

Steel Union Rejects New Industry Offer

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The basic steel industry today disclosed it had submitted a new contract proposal to the United Steelworkers Union. The offer was promptly rejected.

The Union in a formal statement said the industry proposal was made on Nov. 15 and was turned down the same day.

The new proposal, the Union said, represents virtually no change from the proposition the company made last Oct. 17. That offer was rejected by the full wage policy committee.

The Union estimated the latest offer as being worth about 24 cents an hour over the three-year period. It estimated the previous offer at 23.8 cents an hour.

In disclosing the latest offer, R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, estimated the new proposal would cost the companies 30 cents an hour over a three-year period.

The industry valued the Oct. 17 offer at 29.4 cents an hour over the three-year period.

On the basis of the industries' two estimates the new proposal is an improvement of six-tenths of a cent over three years.

Cooper said in a prepared statement:

"The proposal is a fair offer to do what can be done and still keep within noninflationary bounds in the cost of steel production."

★ ★ ★

The union statement said:

"The only difference between this latest company offer and the earlier offers is a small pension improvement which the union actuary estimates is worth less than one-third of one cent."

Referring to the industry's proposals on local work conditions, the USW said the latest offer is the "same old attempt to deprive steelworkers of hard-won gains and protections." The statement continued:

". . . They still are insisting upon a one-sided and unfair arbitration designed to permit them unilaterally to eliminate jobs and benefits won by the steelworkers in their contracts for many years.

"The only changes are a 'stay' of the sentence until June 1960, and some additional language which makes it even more clear than ever before that their objective is to eliminate jobs and workers.

"On other contract matters—seniority, schedules, vacation periods, discharge of employes involved, no matter how, in wildcat strikes—the new proposal is exactly the same as the old one.

"Thus they are still seeking to achieve the bulk of their infamous eight-point program."

★ ★ ★

This was a reference to the companies' demands for contract changes to gain more control over working conditions in the mills.

The union stated:

"To cap it all, the companies have the gall to insist that the price of this mess of pottage is agreement that all of the officers of the Union, both of the International Union and of each of every local, will 'actively cooperate and encourage' the members of the Union to submit to the companies job and benefit-cutting programs.

'Labor Unrest Major Concern'

Broomfield Tells of Voters' Attitudes After 6-Week Trailer Tour

During his six-week trailer tour to meet the county's voters, Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) said he found labor unrest the number one topic.

Broomfield said he found that "almost everyone" believed Congress right in passing the Landrum-Griffin labor reform bill, aimed at stopping corruption and driving those union officials misusing power out of the labor movement.

"I even had some visitors who said they believed they might be considered traitors for talking to a Republican," Broomfield said. "But they said they wanted to come in to voice their support for the bill."

Union members told Broomfield they disapproved of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa's threats to "get" the 56 lawmakers who voted for the bill. Broomfield was one.

He said his best receptions were in Hazel Park and other heavily-dominated Democratic areas.

The second-term U. S. representative moved out into 35 Oakland communities soon after the 86th Congress adjourned in September.

This was his third tour. Broomfield said he profits from them by learning voters' reaction to varied subjects, many of which will be voted on when Congress reconvenes next year.

"A number of workers thought that one provision of the new labor law ought to be changed," he said.

BONDING TOO STRICT

"They believed that the bonding requirements for union officials were too strict and would work a hardship on small unions."

"They have a point, and this matter should be considered by the House Education and Labor Committee next year."

During chats with an estimated 1,500 constituents, Broomfield found the problems of the aged another key issue. A Senate committee is currently touring the state seeking answers on this subject.

★ ★ ★

He said many voiced concern over the low fixed incomes they must live on.

Visitors seemed opposed to large federal spending programs, such as farm subsidies and new buildings for the House of Representatives and Senate.

"These people want to see some results from the vast amount of money they contribute to the operation of federal government," the congressman said.

Many favored his bill to abolish the farm subsidy program and return to free market conditions in agriculture.

Others urged abandonment of the huge multibillion-dollar farm surplus stocks.

APPROPRIATED EARLIER

Concerning new buildings in Washington, the Royal Oak Republican answered complaints of expenditures, saying funds for them were appropriated before his time.

However, he assured voters that since he's been in the House he has been attempting, so far without much success, to stop further expansion.

"Congress ought to be setting an example for our nation in wise use of the dollar," he said,

City Managers Honor Willman

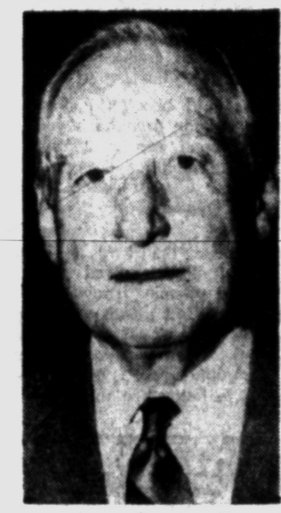

FETED AT LUNCHEON — R. V. Terrill (left), president of the Michigan chapter of the International City Managers Assn., came all the way from Grand Haven on Lake Michigan yesterday to help honor Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman (center) for his election as president of the ICMA. With them at a luncheon for Willman at Kingsley Inn is Virgil C. Knowles, president of the Southeastern Oakland County City Managers Assn. Terrill is manager at Grand Haven and Knowles is manager of Oak Park.

Longtime Friend Loses His Life by Tragic Shot

Harry W. Anderson Is Killed as He Stands Up in Front of Gun

HARRY W. ANDERSON

HARLOW H. CURTICE

WALPOLE ISLAND, Ont. (AP) — Pale and shaken from grief and shock, Harlow H. Curtice, retired president of General Motors Corp., accompanied the body of the friend he had accidentally shot and killed out of the St. Clair River marshes.

"Harry Anderson was my very dear friend for many years," the tall, dignified industrialist said.

Ashen-faced, the 66-year-old Curtice had difficulty mustering words in describing the hunting accident to Ontario provincial police Wednesday.

Harry W. Anderson, 67, a retired GM vice president, was killed by a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun fired by Curtice as they were hunting ducks on Ste. Anne's Island in the St. Clair River, between the United States and Canada.

For many years, Anderson was GM's top negotiator in contract talks with the United Auto Workers Union.

Around the General Motors Building and generally in Detroit today, they called Harry W. Anderson "one of the best personnel men who ever lived."

Provincial Police Constable Bud Collins, after questioning Curtice, said the shooting was accidental and that it would be so reported to provincial headquarters today. The Lambton County Coroner, Dr. C. A. Henrich, said a decision on holding an inquest will be made when police investigation is completed.

S. A. K. Logan, Crown attorney for Lambton County, said at Sarnia there appeared to be no doubt the shooting was an accident and that he didn't believe an inquest would be necessary.

Released by police, Curtice was driven by friends to Ann Arbor, where he expressed his sorrow to Mrs. Anderson. Then, with head bowed and refusing to talk with reporters waiting outside the Anderson home, Curtice got into a car with friends and drove to the seclusion of his own home in Flint.

SITTING SIDE-BY-SIDE

Provincial police said the accident occurred at 11 a.m. Wednesday. Curtice and Anderson were sitting side-by-side in a duck blind in the marshes. Anderson stood up just as Curtice raised his gun and fired at a flock of ducks passing over. The charge struck Anderson in the right side of the head.

A Chippewa Indian guide was hiding about 25 feet behind the blind. He saw the shooting and raced over to the blind of two other members of the hunting party, George W. Kennedy, 32055 Bingham Rd., Southfield, board chairman of Kelsey-Hayes Wheel

News Flash

A young mother who identified herself as a former Pontiac resident today told Chicago police of fears that her four-month old son was kidnaped last night.

Mrs. Marylin Vickers, 19, a restaurant employe, said the baby and his woman baby sitter disappeared from her apartment building after she had left for work at 6:30 p.m. last night. Police said the baby sitter was later reported seen on the street carrying the child.

Mrs. Vickers is separated from her husband, James, 29.

Names Ex-Governor to Replace Langer

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP) — Gov. John E. Davis today appointed former Gov. Norman Brunsdale to be U.S. senator from North Dakota, succeeding the late Sen. William Langer (R-ND). Both Davis and Brunsdale are Republicans.

Brunsdale, 68, will serve until a special election in conjunction with the North Dakota primary next June, when a senator will be named to fill out Langer's term, running through 1964.

Warming Trend Defrosts Area After Arctic Dip

More seasonable weather has returned to the Pontiac area following a record low of 11 on Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday the thermometer reached 30 and is hovering around that point today. Tonight the temperature is expected to drop to 26.

Friday is expected to be cloudy, with a high of 35 to 40.

He's Come Long Way From 'Dirty Dozen' Days

By PETE LOCHBILER

About 30 years ago a group of young fellows used to get together periodically at Norwood Inn in Berkley to discuss the woes of the peculiar, play-it-by-ear kind of job they had chosen to follow.

They were city managers from 12 Detroit suburbs and within their ranks was one Walter K. Willman, 33-year-old city manager of East Detroit, already gaining seniority in his profession by virtue of five previous years on the job in Mount Pleasant.

The group became known as the "Dirty Dozen" — it can't be recalled why — but perhaps it reflected some public skepticism concerning the new breed of public administrators.

"In those days we were not always too popular," recalled Willman yesterday as the successors to the original Dirty Dozen gathered, still known by the old nickname, to honor Willman upon his reaching the pinnacle of their profession.

Called more formally the Southeastern Oakland County City Managers Assn. and nowadays representing 15 communities, the Dirty Dozen feted Willman at a Kingsley Inn luncheon attended by 32 other managers from other parts of the state.

★ ★ ★

From as far away as Grand Haven came R. V. Terrill, head of the Michigan Chapter of the International City Managers Assn., to praise Willman for his recent election as president of the ICMA and to present him with a handsome leather briefcase in behalf of all of Michigan's 119 city managers.

There were only a couple hundred other city managers in the business when Willman, a graduate civil engineer from Michigan State University, got started in it 35 years ago.

Now of the 2,700 members in the ICMA, he finds himself third highest in seniority. As Pontiac city manager, Willman of course is the only charter member left in the Dirty Dozen.

★ ★ ★

"It took guts to enter the business in the old days and it still does. And courage to stay in it," said Willman, who entered the field himself as a road builder.

"Our profession is still growing in esteem and size. It's not a perfect type of government by any means, but I don't believe any other can produce any more for the taxpayers' money."

First promising that his ICMA duties would be strictly secondary to his job as Pontiac administrator — "I won't forget that I'm still working for my living" — Willman then stepped into the role of an elder and lectured the younger members of his audience:

★ ★ ★

"They tell me that participation in training courses has fallen down 11 per cent in the past year. Now

Edsel a Failure; Ford Drops Line

Loses Out to Compact Autos; Only 100,000 Sold in Two Years

DETROIT (AP) — The Edsel today became the first casualty of the new automobile battle of the compact car. Ford announced it will abandon the medium price car immediately.

Introduced only two years ago the Edsel never captured a market. Slightly more than 100,000 were sold. Less than 100 have been built in the last two weeks as Ford diverted scarce steel to its other lines.

Ford already has announced production plans for a "luxury-type" compact car, the Comet, to be marketed by Mercury starting next spring. Original reports said the Comet would be sold as an Edsel.

In an official statement Ford said sales of the 1960 Edsel model, which looks strikingly like the 1959 Pontiac, "have been particularly disappointing" while lines has been good.

"In view of this high consumer preference for the other company lines and the severe decline in the demand for Edsel cars, the continued production of the Edsel is not justified, especially in view of the shortage of steel," Ford said in its formal announcement.

Total 1960 model production of the Edsel has been approximately 2,800 cars. In all of 1959 only about 30,000 of the cars have been built.

Ford claimed sales of its other car lines during the first 10 days above sales of the same cars during of November jumped 40 per cent ing the similar period last year.

The Edsel has been assembled at Ford's Louisville, Ky., plant. This plant will continue to build Ford trucks. The Mercury-Edsel-Lincoln Division will become the Lincoln-Mercury division of the company.

Only last week Ford shifted all M-E-L assembly plants and purchasing into its big Ford division, a move which industry observers suggested heralded a complete merger of all Ford car-making operations.

The Edsel was first marketed on Sept. 4, 1957. Ford said it had been under development for three years at a cost of a quarter of a billion dollars.

The 1958 and 1959 models featured a prominent vertical oval grille. The Edsel started with four series and 18 models. It dropped to a single series and six models in its 1960 presentation.

Arrive From England After 13 Years

Mike, Dick Home at Last

By MAX E. SIMON

An English war bride who turned recruiting officer for the United States Air Force and her husband were sitting on clouds today.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Parker of 79 Prall St. were reunited yesterday with two teen-age sons they left in Great Britain when they came to Oakland County in December 1946.

The two youths, Michael, 17, and Richard, 16, arrived at Detroit Metropolitan Airport yesterday morning.

The boys ran from the plane into the arms of their overjoyed parents to end 13 years of separation.

Also there to greet them were three brothers and a sister the boys had never met.

★ ★ ★

Michael was 3 and Richard 2 when they last saw their parents.

The separation was to be temporary. But, as Mrs. Parker put it, "it turned out to be a pretty long temporary."

It was a letter from Mrs. Clark to the younger boy (containing Air Force recruiting literature) that sold him on coming to the United States. He sold his brother on the idea.

Richard wants to fly. He had his eye set on a career with the Royal Air Force . . . until mother convinced him otherwise.

Was Mrs. Parker really that interested in the Air Force?

"My boys are here. It's wonderful," the happy mother said.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Clark met her husband in Britain during the dark days of World War II. Parker, an American citizen, had joined the Canadian Essex Scottish Regiment before the United States entered the war.

He met his wife, who was serving with an anti-aircraft unit of the British Army, during a blackout.

The war's end brought a problem.

Mrs. Parker's mother disliked the land of the Yankees. "Mom didn't like what she'd heard of Americans," said Mrs. Parker.

And she convinced the pair to leave the two boys behind until they became established.

So Michael and Richard stayed

TIME FOR REJOICING — The two teen-age sons of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Parker, 79 Prall St., were united with their parents yesterday after 13 years of separation. Michigan State Seeks to Double MSUO Budget

Michigan State University Trustees in Lansing requested $1,065,495 budget for Michigan State University Oakland for fiscal 1960-61.

The figure is $515,495 higher than the $550,000 appropriated this year for the university's operations. The university budget for the present fiscal year is $670,000, with $120,000 of that sum coming from student fees.

The MSU trustees, faced with rising costs and a record enrollment, requested $35,471,221 for MSU next year. The MSUO sum is included in that request.

The budget request will be forwarded to the State Budget Division for another going-over and a probable trimming.

The Board voiced concern over the probability the Legislature will skip an appropriation for any new construction this year.

12-Town Suit in Judge's Lap

Beer Starts Writing Opinion on Storm Drain Court Battle

Circuit Judge William J. Beer has started writing his opinion on the Madison Heights' lawsuit which protests the County Drainage Board's apportioned new costs for the 12-Town storm relief drain.

He said it would be rendered before the end of the year.

At the same time, the judge will rule on a motion renewed yesterday—Judge Beer once denied it—by attorney Claude H. Stevens, the board's attorney, that the suit should be quashed.

In his arguments Wednesday, Stevens stressed that the same questions being raised by Madison Heights previously were ruled legal by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland and the State Supreme Court.

However, Madison Heights' special counsel, Harry N. Dell, said the three-member board, after the high court ruled in its favor, still failed to take into account what benefits the city will receive from the $47,102,000 drain in arriving at its share of $2,848,803.

Dell said if the law was followed correctly the city should be given more credit for existing drains.

Stevens said benefits and contributions to the problem of existing flood conditions in 14 south Oakland communities — which the drain would alleviate—were taken into consideration.

★ ★ ★

Fight over the long delayed project, initially conceived in 1952 and in the planning stages since 1956, erupted last month when the city was granted a writ of certiorari whereby Judge Beer must examine apportionment proceedings to determine if they are legal.

Drivers Warned Again About Icy Road Speeds

BIRMINGHAM — The normal stopping distances of automobiles will have to be increased from three to 10 times in the next few months when snow and ice cover the roads, Police Chief Ralph A. Moxley warned drivers today.

Serious accidents increase during November and December each year because many drivers have to learn again that slower speeds are necessary when roads are under icy conditions, Moxley noted.

"Fundamentally the solution to this problem lies with each driver," he added.

"Slippery roads, inadequate brakes, reduced visibility caused by rain, sleet and snow fogging windshields, do not cause accidents. The driver in control of his vehicle can and must allow for such conditions."

Moxley said the assured clear distance ahead is a matter of judgment.

"The problem, depends on how fast you are going and how far it will take to stop. Your perception and reaction time are as important as your braking distance."

★ ★ ★

Moxley said that during October "right of way" violations were once again the predominate factor in most accidents in Birmingham. "Following too closely" was second in causes of accidents.

He reported that in October there were 59 accidents resulting in injury to 19 persons. He reported no deaths due to accidents.

Construction of a two-story office building at 800 South Adams Rd. was announced today by Hamilton H. Paterson, president of the W. E. Reid Development Co.

The building, constructed of steel, concrete and brick, will have private parking spaces for 68 cars in the rear. To be built at a cost of $225,000, it was designed by Linn Smith Associates, Inc., of Birmingham.

Construction is being started at once and the building is expected to be ready for occupancy in early spring.

Wallace E. Reid, vice president, said "Birmingham makes an ideal location for new offices because of the ease in reaching manufacturing plants in all of the metropolitan area."

The police department will not have the power to impound vehicles and hold them until owners have posted $100 as had been stated in the proposed amendment to the city's nuisance ordinance.

The nuisance ordinance has been amended to prohibit vehicles from depositing dirt, grease, sticky substances or foreign matter on streets.

The amendment is designed to keep contractor's trucks and equipment from carelessly spilling their loads.

Commissioner Carl F. Ingraham, however, objected to the police having the authority to impound vehicles if the ordinance was violated. The amendment was consequently modified by the City Commission.

The Birmingham Board of Education has approved preliminary plans for the proposed Westchester Elementary School and the new building site.

The school is to be built on a 400-square-foot site at the southwest corner of Cranbrook and West Maple roads.

The first phase of construction calls for a 16-classroom structure. In addition, there will be a multipurpose room, kitchen and administration area.

In the future, six classrooms and two kindergarten rooms could be added.

Rank 'n' Filers Want Hoffa Out

Group's Attorney Acts on Grounds Leader 'Abused' Teamsters

WASHINGTON (AP)—Godfrey Schmidt, attorney for a group of rank-and-file members of the Teamsters Union Wednesday asked the ouster of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

Schmidt, in a motion mailed from New York City to U. S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts in Washington, asked for Hoffa's ouster on grounds that Hoffa deprived Teamster members of rights guaranteed by the new labor law. The motion further seeks Hoffa's trial on charges previously filed by Schmidt alleging misuse of union powers.

Teamster members bringing the action are Andrew Boggia, Ed McFarland, Frank Kennedy, Hobart Gale, Joe Malloy, Harold Will, Thomas Manning, John McGlynn, John Olsen, Steve Milone, John McManus and George Becker. All are from the New York City area.

The motion accused Hoffa of consistent unwillingness to cooperate with a three-man board of monitors appointed by the court to regulate Hoffa's administration of union affairs.

The formation of the board stemmed from legal action by Schmidt on behalf of rank-and-file Teamsters opposed to Hoffa's control.

Tragic Hunting Death of Friend Grieves Curtice

Corp. of Detroit, and Arthur Brown, 6200 Winkler Mill Rd., Avon Township, a manufacturer's representative. Kennedy and Brown were concealed about 100 yards away and did not see the accident.

The guide said Curtice aimed at the lead duck of the flock and as he fired Anderson stood up and stumbled directly into the line of fire.

The hunters had been waiting in vain for several hours for ducks to show up and were almost ready to quit.

Ste. Anne's island is separated by channels from the Canadian Walpole Island Indian Reservation. It was Curtice's favorite duck hunting area.

Kennedy has a hunting lodge on a site leased from the Indians. His firm has used the lodge to entertain friends and customers. Curtice and Anderson had been hunting companions for many years and were skilled in use of firearms, friends said.

Kennedy said, "it was one of those unfortunate things that you can't understand. They'd both been shooting guns all their lives. You can't understand why these things happen."

Curtice retired as president of GM Aug. 31, 1958. He is still a GM director. Anderson retired Dec. 31, 1956. He leaves his wife, Veda, 40, and a 4-year-old daughter, Jane Kristan.

Because of the remoteness of the hunting site, provincial police were not informed of the accident until midafternoon when Anderson's body was brought to the mainland.

Removal of the body was hampered by the marshy condition of the island and 15-degree weather. The island is 30 miles northeast of Detroit.

The body was taken to Muehlig Funeral Home in Ann Arbor.

A Mormon funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the First Presbyterian Church of Ann Arbor. The Mormon church at Ann Arbor was said to be too small to accommodate the expected large number of mourners.

Since Anderson's retirement, the family had traveled in Hawaii and Japan.

A rugged six-footer weighing 185 pounds, Anderson was hale and hearty after mandatory retirement at 65. Associates liked him for his genial manner. But he could be firm in contract talks.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther once told the War Labor Board in an obvious tribute to Anderson: "GM is tough, but you always know where they are going whether you agree with them or not."

Anderson liked his role as labor negotiator. He said, "In GM, labor relations is everybody's business."

GOP Rallies Tax Backing

State Senate Can Pass Bill if Difficulties Are Ironed Out Soon

LANSING (UPI) — Support for the GOP 74-million-dollar "nuisance" tax package was rallied today in a two-hour Republican caucus.

"I would say there is still sufficient support to pass it in the Senate if we can iron out certain difficulties," said Senate majority leader Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair) when the caucus recessed shortly before noon.

Beadle emphasized "no conclusions have been reached on the tax problem" and said the caucus would resume after today's Senate session.

Beadle said the emergency package had "a better chance of passage than anything else at the moment," which meant the income tax still had not developed strong GOP support.

The GOP leader said an income tax, payroll tax and corporation profits tax were "mentioned" in the caucus but that attention focused on the emergency package.

Republicans voted to try to get action today on resolutions calling for a referendum on sales and income tax plans.

"We want to dispose of these resolutions before taking up the emergency package," Beadle said.

The absence of Sen. Haskell L. Nicholas (R-Jackson) was one reason the income tax did not get much discussion in caucus. Nichols has been trying to force a vote on the income tax.

Making this junket around the county the best of the three, he explained, were many visits by young people.

He assisted some of his older visitors who came with social security problems. Others he helped order federal bulletins on various subjects.

Remembering that next year is election time, Broomfield said he hoped he would be back the following year after Congress adjourns—trailer and all.

Ford Foundation to Sell More Common Stock

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Ford Foundation announced today it will sell two million shares of Ford Motor Co. common stock to the public.

The price at which the shares will be sold will be announced later.

The closing price in trading in Ford stock on the New York Stock Exchange Wednesday was $78 a share.

Our U.S. Women, Bah!

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — What is the basic thing wrong with most American women?

There has been a rash of criticism about the henpecked U.S. male, but nobody has been putting the U.S. woman under the microscope for flaws.

These are certain traditional objections that are always voiced when the subject of what is wrong with women comes up:

1. When you first marry a woman she glows like the morning sun, but in time she gets to look like a rain-stained old copper roof.

2. A woman talks endlessly but rarely says what she really knows — or really knows what she says, so how can a man ever understand her? A man can understand only things that make sense.

3. A woman always keeps appointments by the calendar instead of the clock.

4. A woman is supposed to have the right to change her mind, but actually never does — and nobody can make her change it. A woman's mind also never lets go the memory of a fancied wrong.

5. A woman never knows the value of a sound dollar or a good man until both are gone.

Well, there is no doubt that most of these moss-grown objections are still fairly valid, and probably always will be.

But if you polled most American men I doubt these reasons would explain the fact there is a vast and growing grudge among many males against U.S. women.

What tends to annoy a man most today is that he is being made a sucker of in a new way by a new kind of woman. She demands the status of a man while still insisting peremptorily on all the ancient privileges accorded women by the etiquette of romantic chivalry.

As an elderly gentleman observed a bit bitterly:

"A woman goes into an office and takes a man's job away from him; then if they ride down in the same elevator, she expects him to take off his hat to her before he goes out to look for another job."

★ ★ ★

Are U.S. women becoming racketeers in girdles when it comes to the field of ordinary courtesy?

Many men think so. Many men think women have lost their manners and charm of gentility, and are more arrogant than appreciative for the little gestures of knighthood men still like to extend them.

How rare indeed is becoming the woman who can accept such tributes to her sex gracefully, or bothers to repay them with a smile or a "Thank you."

Maybe the country needs a National Kick-a-Woman-in-the-Knee Day to put the question of modern chivalry on a sounder footing.

Cave Trip Too Heady

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — Members of a Boy Scout troop here are in the market for some helmets before they take on their next cave exploration. All casualties from their first underground trip were from bumped and cut heads.

Family Reunited After 13 Years

with their grandparents in Somersetshire while the Parkers came to the states.

"From the moment we arrived, we were behind the eight-ball.

"There was sickness in the family and we just didn't have the money to bring the boys over here," said Mrs. Parker.

Only 14 months after they entered America, the family home in Metamora went up in flames.

"I'll never forget the date," Mrs. Parker said. "It happened on George Washington's birthday.

The boys entered English schools and despite Mrs. Parker's coaxing, decided to stay in Great Britain.

When Richard wrote his mother of his interest in a cadet training program of the Royal Air Force, Mrs. Parker went to work.

The Air Force wasn't the only thing which sold the boys on America.

"They realized they'd have more of a future here," said Mrs. Parker. "Class distinctions still exist in England and there is no opportunity for advancement there."

The boys were working as press operators in a brass plant when they decided to make the move.

The family has been on pins and needles as the boys were originally scheduled to arrive last Thursday. But bad weather postponed that flight.

Not only were the parents excited, Parker, a Fisher Body employe, said the rest of the children were all "steamed up" about their brothers' coming from across the ocean.

The other Parker children are Gregory, 14 and a St. Frederick's High School student; Raoul, 9, and Rhys, 6, Crofoot School students; and Jeanne Marie, 3.

Meeting th boys was a special thrill for Raoul. He considers his big brothers a birthday present, having just turned nine last Sunday.

Summit Confab Each Weekend?

That Seems to Be the Present Thought Trend of World Leaders

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—If things go right—and they probably won't—future heads of government will have a kind of international club where one push on the buzzer will bring them together for a weekend summit.

★ ★ ★

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain has just hammered on an old theme of his again: The coming summit conference must be followed by a series of such meetings. Premier Nikita Khrushchev is all for frequent get-togethers, too.

★ ★ ★

That isn't the way President Eisenhower saw it, at least until recently. Maybe he's changing his mind. No longer ago than last summer he was talking against summit meetings and yearning for the good old days of foreign ministers' meetings.

Soviet Composers Hear Their Works in Carnegie

NEW YORK (AP)—Three Soviet compositions were played Wednesday night by the Boston Symphony on its first fall visit to this city, and the three composers were present to acknowledge the warm and friendly applause.

Though the Soviet visitors, in the party of six now touring this country, have been in and out of New York intermittently, this was the first chance a Carnegie Hall audience has had to welcome them in person and hear a program largely consisting of their imported works.

A governor of Pennsylvania cannot be re-elected as his term ends but must wait for the following term.

3 Big Chicago Hotels in Zeckendorf Chain

NEW YORK (AP)—The Zeckendorf hotel interests have acquired three major Chicago hotels—the Sherman, the Ambassador East and the Ambassador West, for $6,615,907.

William Zeckendorf Jr. announced his group's expansion beyond the New York area Tuesday.

The group controls the Astor, Chatham, Commodore, Drake, Manhattan and Taft hotels in New York City. It is building a new midtown Manhattan hotel, to be called the Zeckendorf.

The Zeckendorf interests will assume control of the three Chicago hotels by Feb. 4.

After 300 Years, Oxford May Let Jew Hold Forth

OXFORD, England (UPI) — Oxford University's governing body today debated changing a 300-year-old rule to permit Jews to teach Hebrew at the school.

The chair of the professor of Hebrew is empty, but under rules in existence since 1630, only a clergyman of the Church of England has occupied it. Now it is suggested the post be open to Jews and members of other denominations.

Cigarette Firms Sued for Man's Death of Cancer

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A widow is asking seven cigarette companies to pay her and her two minor children $250,000 on grounds her husband smoked cigarettes and died of lung cancer.

The suit was filed on behalf of Hazel Shields of Holdenville, Okla. in Oklahoma District Court Tuesday.

She contends her husband, Ed Shields, smoked two to three packages of cigarettes per day and had smoked since he was 15 years old.

Mrs. Shields contended the companies and distributors named failed to protect the public health. The suit also alleges the defendants warranted their products were wholesome.

Army to Test 'Copter Toting Six Missiles

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A helicopter armed with six missiles capable of destroying tanks will be tested by the Army Missile Agency in Alabama, the Bell Helicopter Corp. said Tuesday.

The helicopter carries six SS-II missiles made by Nord Aviation of France. The missiles can carry anti-tank, anti-personnel, or smoke warheads, the company said. Maximum practical range of the missiles is 3,500 yards.

The 62-pound misiles were developed under an Army contract.

Consumers Hits Mark

JACKSON (UPI) — Consumers Power Co. President Dan E. Karn announced today that the firm's total number of gas customers has passed the half million mark — with 500,171 served at the end of October. He said this represented a gain of 100 per cent since 1944.

Vice Presidency Not for Humphrey

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) says he isn't interested in the vice presidential spot on the 1960 Democratic ticket.

He spoke at Democratic meetings here and at Idaho Falls Tuesday. In a news conference at Idaho Falls, Humphrey was asked if he would seek the vice presidential nomination next year.

"If I proceed as contemplated, I'll seek the presidential nomination. If not, only the Senate," Humphrey replied.

The Minnesota Democrat said he was encouraged during visits to 25 states in his campaign. He said he hopes to visit 10 more states by Christmas.

Humphrey planned to leave here by plane for a speaking engagement tonight at Topeka, Kan.

CBS Considers Better Balance for Evenings

NEW YORK (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System is considering ways of getting more of different types of shows into its schedule of evening television.

A memorandum from James T. Aubrey Jr., executive vice president of CBS-TV was distributed Tuesday night to employes of the TV network.

Neither Aubrey or any other CBS official was available for elaboration.

The proposal for a better balance of evening programs was seen as an answer to complaints that there is an excess of violent mysteries and Western dramas on TV at night.

The plan would allow the network to decide the proportion of different types of programs to be presented within a specified period. Advertisers now have the most to say about what time their shows will be seen.

Ecorse Cuts Down on Municipal Jobs

DETROIT (AP)—Mayor Eli Ciungan of suburban Ecorse Tuesday night ordered municipal jobs costing $80,000 a year abolished and salaries and expense accounts of remaining executives slashed.

Ecorse, a downriver steelmaking center, was hard hit by the 1958 recession and the 1959 steel strike.

Most jobs cut out were in the engineering and public works departments. City Engineer F. W. Liddle's pay was cut from $17,500 a year to $12,500, and controller William W. Jones was dropped from his $18,300 a year job. Jones' work was combined with that of purchasing agent Charles Coman, who gets $12,500.

Neuberger Asks More U.S. Funds for Cancer Fight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The United States is trying to fight cancer "with less than half of what we spend annually on permanent waves," says Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore).

★ ★ ★

Neuberger, himself a former cancer patient, was honored Tuesday by the City of Hope, a national organization devoted to medical research.

He was named the 1960 "Man of Hope" for his efforts in the legislative field.

Neuberger pleaded for greater federal spending on cancer research.

About 150 million dollars a year is going into the search for a cancer cure now, he said, compared with nine billion spent by Americans annually on liquor.

Maybe This Calls for Another Investigation

Who fixed the high westerlies, those normally friendly breezes which used to protect us from the Canadian cold?

★ ★ ★

For weeks we've known something was in the air. And now the Weather Bureau admits the westerlies have been pursuing a crooked course — meandering north and south rather than straight east and west. Bringing c-cold weather.

★ ★ ★

Is it a new front in the Russian cold war? The work of some unscrupulous thermometer company? Canadian retaliation for our economic influence in their affairs?

Whatever the cause, an investigation must be made. How about the northerlies, the easterlies and the southerlies? Are they off course, too.

European Competition Challenges Our Trade

Britain's dramatic order announcing the elimination of certain import controls, quotas and currency restrictions opens the British market to various imports from the dollar area and elsewhere.

This, together with prepayment of an Export-Import Bank loan after the Suez crisis, of $250 million plus $2.5 in interest, shows more than anything else Britain's postwar recovery and economic growth.

Europe, too, is feeling the impact of the Common Market (ECM). Led by France, which was expected to be the most reluctant, the fully effective date of the six nation trade agreement now is set for 1965 instead of 1970.

First mutual ECM tariff cuts went into effect on Jan. 1. Already exports between the six nations are up 9.5 per cent and imports 9.4 per cent. With nonmembers the rise in trade with ECM is 4.5 per cent in exports and 9.5 per cent in imports.

★ ★ ★

The new European prosperity, brought about with our assistance, is focusing attention on opportunities for American exporters. The Federal Reserve Board is of the opinion that much depends upon the readiness and ability of U.S. exporters to respond effectively to expansion of foreign demand.

★ ★ ★

An optimistic and challenging note is sounded by RICHARD G. LURIE, editor of The American Exporter and a member of the World Trade Advisory Committee of the U.S. Department of Commerce. In a recent letter to the N. Y. Times Mr. LURIE writes:

"... Much of our fear about loss of overseas markets is psychological. What we now have is simply a return to world competition for export markets such as existed before World War II ... It's a return to the 'hard sell.'

"Much of the world still has a built-in preference for U. S. consumer goods, particularly in Latin America ... We have to convince the discriminating buyer abroad that our goods give him the most for his money."

U.S. Adds to Display During Rocket Week

Since this is International Rocket Week, the United States contribution will be launching 10 instrument laden rockets to altitudes as high as 1,000 miles.

★ ★ ★

This "fireworks unlimited" display is good news. It points out that we are pushing space research.

Rockets are supposed to be cheaper and often better than satellites in exploring space for technical data. Several nations are collaborating in the worldwide rocket shoot under leadership of the International Scientific Committee for Space Research.

Also Getting it in the Neck This Year

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Reacts as States Shirk Duties

WASHINGTON — "Failure to prosecute" has, in effect, become a moral, if not a legal, defect in Mississippi, according to Atty. Gen. Rogers.

LAWRENCE

But will the sins of omission of New York State also be exposed to the same kleig lights of publicity? And who is now to monitor the cases dropped by the Department of Justice here?

Possibly it was thought that it would be good politics nationally to point publicly to the failure of a county grand jury in Mississippi to render any indictments in the lynching of an accused rapist.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, according to Rogers, was ordered into the case and spent about $80,000 in the investigation, although it was later decided that no federal law was involved.

★ ★ ★

Should federal money, therefore, also be spent to investigate the strange behavior of the New York State authorities in the TV scandals?

It is openly admitted that, although scores of persons lied before the grand jury more than a year ago in New York County, only one person has been indicted there for perjury.

"I believe in states' rights," says the attorney general. "But I also believe in state responsibility."

'DISREGARD RESPONSIBILITY'

Rogers called a special news conference Tuesday to say it was clear to him that "if the states are going to disregard responsibilities to the extent of not even calling witnesses" in such a case as the Mississippi lynching, "then the federal government must consider something else."

There are many things the federal government will have to start considering if this view of state responsibility is maintained.

One thing needed is a study of what causes lynchings and the extent to which technicalities in the law have been used to permit persons accused of crimes to escape punishment.

Technicalities often interfere with effective prosecution. Thus, for instance, residents of the national capital were reading Wednesday on the front pages all about Rogers' interest in the Mississippi lynching case, while on another page was an item revealing that a federal judge here had blocked the use of certain evidence against a suspected rapist in the District of Columbia, who happens to be a Negro.

The episode concerns a 33-year-old Negro woman who was forced into a garage, raped, and robbed of her purse. Two police officers went to the home of the arrested suspect and asked his mother if they could search the house for the woman's purse.

They said she gave her consent, and they found the billfold belonging to the raped woman.

WON'T ADMIT EVIDENCE

Now Federal Judge Youngdahl says this evidence cannot be used in court. He pointed out that higher courts have ruled that such consent must be "freely and intelligently given," and said that the mother admitted the officers because she thought she had a duty to do so.

The judge added:

"It is difficult to believe that this particular woman understood the significance of what the officers told her; it is quite implausible to believe she was aware a search warrant was a prerequisite to a valid search."

Atty. Gen. Rogers is to be commended for opening up the whole subject of why state grand juries or state prosecutors do not always prosecute.

Incidentally, he might look into the shortcomings of law-enforcement agencies in various cities and towns in those states where steel plants are located and where the supervisory personnel of the companies were in recent months forcibly prevented or threatened with bodily harm when they tried to enter their own offices during the steel strike.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Great indeed, we confess, is the mystery of our religion: He was manifested in the flesh, vindicated in the Spirit, seen by angels, preached among the nations, believed on in the world, taken up in glory.—I Timothy 3:16.

★ ★ ★

Whoever believes in a God at all, believes in an infinite mystery; and if the existence of God is such an infinite mystery, we can very well expect and afford to have many of His ways mysterious to us.—Ichabod Spencer.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Milk (No Chocolate) Helps Sick Headaches

Rev. ——, a Midwest pastor, reports: "I have been bothered with headaches" (presumably mild headaches) "for over 50 years. I had never drunk milk. But reading your column I noticed your repeated emphasis of the need of calcium, so started drinking three glasses of chocolate milk (plain milk gags me) a day last spring, and have not been bothered with headaches since.

"What complicated matters all these years was the fact that aspirin upsets my stomach, so it was usually a matter of transferring the pain from the head to the abdomen. Thanks so much for your good advice."

Three glasses of whole milk, skim milk or buttermilk (1½ pints) a day will supply only the minimum daily ration of calcium for an adult. Perhaps the pastor got additional calcium from other good food sources such as cheese, eggs (yolks), green leafy vegetables, peas, beans, nuts, peanuts.

In the free pamphlet Why Have Headache?, for which send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, I advise for most migrain (periodic sick headaches) sufferers not less than a quart, better three pints of milk daily.

Some readers may be aware of my repugnance against (I shudder at the very mention of) mashed potato. If you want to fight just slop a gob of mashed potato on my plate—I'll push it back into your face and rub it in with the back of my hand.

Hypothetically, I concede, my antipathy is as senseless or childish as the pastor's antipathy for milk.

★ ★ ★

A top-drawer nutrition authority, Adelle Davis*, states that the growth of young animals fed chocolate milk was retarded—children are young animals. "The fact that chocolate seriously interferes with the absorption of calcium is more harmful than the stimulating effect of the drug it contains ... mothers are indeed unwise to entice their children to drink milk by making it into cocoa" — or by flavoring it with chocolate.

★ ★ ★

Besides migraine (periodic sick headaches—each spell of which is ushered in with scintillating spectra or so-called fortification scotomata—zigzag flashes of light at one side of the field of vision) — many cases of ordinary "nervous" headaches are indicative of calcium deficiency.

*In her famous book "Let's Cook It Right," published by Harcourt, Brace & Co., ($3).

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

'Red Influence in Schools Could Destroy America'

America is beginning to reap a harvest of sin and moral degradation which has resulted from taking the Bible out of the schools and substituting the teaching of Freud, Karl Marx and other Communist writers.

★ ★ ★

Unless decent citizens of America arise and clean this rot out of our educational institutions, our nation will decay from within and we shall become a Red slave state.

★ ★ ★

Every true American ought to visit the schools in his community and keep tab on what transpires there. Remember, "The price of liberty is eternal vigilance."

'Why Pick Only on Cranberry?'

Why pick on the poor cranberry? The stores are still selling cigarettes, and they're not good for mice either. Turkey and cherries: Phooey!

'Have We Given Up Good Judgment?'

Today I passed the unemployment office and saw a long line of men and women waiting their turn to get a small check. I wonder how it feels to them to have to take the small sum and how many have to do it, not on their own desire, but for those whose ignorance causes strikes.

★ ★ ★

Many of these people have been forced to stand in front of factory gates with "on strike" signs so they can draw a few dollars. Has the time come when people have turned their back on good judgment? I'm not standing up for the ones who hire you, as I am poor, but the person that gives you work should be respected and be able to hire and fire as he sees fit.

★ ★ ★

It's his money that keeps you in work, feeds, clothes, pays your bills and without him you are like a babe lost in the woods. Take time out and think this over. Remember, he could close the gates forever. It's up to all working people to think this over carefully.

Firm Believer of Good Judgment

'Let Riffraff Know We Don't Like It'

Evidently the government at Lansing isn't the only refuge from Barnum & Bailey. Any American worthy of the dearly-bought freedom he's enjoyed until recent years should open his eyes to the caliber of men who "are dedicating their lives for the benefit of the working man," at a handsome salary plus extras.

★ ★ ★

Mazey condemned our President in slanderous terms. He accused him of accepting a bribe from the steel companies in the form of campaign funds and now says he had to pay up. The law forbids corporations from contributing to political campaigns but it also forbids unions, too, and Mazey knows how well the law is obeyed.

★ ★ ★

Due to his position, Ike can't very well defend himself, but the people he has served long and well can let the riffraff know their irresponsible statements are resented.

Fair Play

'Better to Hit Dog Than Kill Person'

I get tired of reading letters about hit and run drivers killing children's dogs. I have more respect for the driver that kills a dog than for the owner of the dog that turns the dog loose to go where he pleases.

★ ★ ★

A 16-year-old boy was killed on Huron Street last summer when a dog crossed in front of a truck. The driver slowed down suddenly or stopped to save some careless owner's dog and the boy on a motor scooter crashed into the back of the truck and was killed.

★ ★ ★

As I don't have time to look behind me when a dog runs in front of me, I will hit the dog, and I bet the truck driver will next time.

Dog Lover in Their Place

'What About Those Still Unemployed?'

Mayor Rowston sure painted a rosy picture in his views on Pontiac employment. I wonder if he knows there's still approximately 2,000 laid off at Pontiac Motor.

★ ★ ★

I've been laid off almost two years with more than six years seniority. I agree automation is a leading factor, although I blame management for calling back employes out of line of seniority and working all the overtime. Some few I know worked double shifts. I also blame our local for letting them get away with it.

Just think of the hundreds of unemployed that could be working if management would let everyone work 40 hours. Is there any hope for the poor, unskilled worker?

Still Unemployed

Portraits

By JAMES J. METCALFE

Patience is the medicine ... For problems large and small ... Too much hurry bumps our heads ... Against a solid wall ... Not that we should take our time ... And sit around and wait ... Idleness may well result ... In being much too late ... Patience is the cloak we need ... To think a problem through ... So we will be more confident ... Of what we have to do ... Hour hands that move around ... As seconds tick away ... No faster and no slower than ... Is normal, night and day ... Serious thinking bides its time ... Avoiding foolish haste ... Yet not allowing any part ... That might amount to waste.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

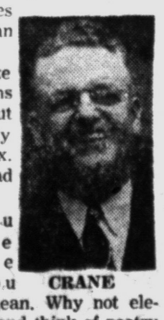

Divorce Is Product of Ignorance

Clara's case is a classic, so scrapbook today's column. She claims I overly stress sex to the point of exceeding Dr. Freud. And she adds that her home is happy without any such emphasis. But notice what her husband says and does. And please remember, children go wrong for lack of facts. It is ignorance, not knowledge, that produces divorce and delinquency.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE D - 404: Clara B., aged 46, is a housewife with strong opinions.

"Dr. Crane," she attacked me recently, "you may have a lot of college degrees but your column is terrible!

CRANE

"As a rule, I like reading columns such as yours, but you constantly deal with sex. You are as bad as Dr. Freud.

"I think you are a little touched on the subject, if you know what I mean. Why not elevate your mind and think of poetry or other noble thoughts and leave the sex cases out?

"I don't need any of your sex advice, I'd have you know, for I am not a sex maniac. My husband and I can be very happy on a purely platonic level."

WHO'S WRONG

Do you readers think Clara is a well adjusted wife? Or is she refusing to face a bad domestic situation by denying the very existence of such troubles?

Actually, her husband has been having an affair with his stenographer for 15 years and still is.

"Dr. Crane," he admitted to me a few months ago, "Clara is a wonderful woman but she is a sex fanatic, except her fanaticism is AGAINST everything that deals with sex.

"I'd never have been interested in any other woman if she had not had such an abnormal viewpoint.

★ ★ ★

When Clara says I constantly harp on sex cases, she is incorrect. You folks who have watched this column for years, know that I include one child case per week, plus two on love or marriage problems, another on personality improvement, one on mental health, and a final case on Applied Psychology in business or the professions.

But I do treat sex problems more frankly than any other columnist in modern journalism and I wish to pay tribute to your editor for granting me this privilege.

"The truth shall make you free," stated Jesus, and the prudish policies of past generations are largely responsible for our present sexy age.

★ ★ ★

Like the Bible, which describes all sorts of sex cases but tersely for an educational purpose, I deal bluntly with sex problems.

But I dissect them scientifically and show you where and why divorces occur. I thus warn teenagers against "trial marriage" and illicit affairs.

And I don't use platitudes but offer the concrete medical and psychological facts.

PRUDISH AMERICANS

Rarely does anybody protest against my frank dissection of human problems, for this is a clinical column, intended to vaccinate people against unhappiness.

Once in a while an older person may protest that I am too frank. But if such a letter is printed in the paper, the clergymen, Scout leaders and parents always overwhelm that prudish critic.

Thousands of high schools and churches are using the non-profit educational booklets offered via this column.

In Wisconsin a few years ago, the State Board of Education informed me that newspapers thus ranked third out of some 20 or 25 sources of legitimate sex information for high schoolers and it was due to the tens of thousands of these booklets obtained via Wisconsin newspapers.

Bob Considine Finds Out Bess Is Fine

Truman Talks and Talks

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. — "How is Mrs. Truman?"

We inquired this from one of the most remarkable and certainly one of the most courageous men who ever rose to the top of American politics.

"Just fine and dandy," H.S.T. said. "The operation was tough on her. Operations are tough on anybody. But she's feeling great now, thank you. She comes down here to the library nearly every day since a fine person we had here died two weeks ago."

"She's working for me again," Truman said with a sudden, proud smile. "Just like she did when I was in the United States Senate."

He leaned back in his desk chair in his momento-filled office. "She opens mail (the former President receives more than any other individual in the state), sorts things out and helps the office staff."

"Trouble is," he added with a twinkle, "Mrs. Truman doesn't know if she's on the payroll or no. You know how much Hell they raised in Washington years ago. What they didn't know was that Bess had to work, had to be on the payroll. Else we couldn't have gotten along. Certainly, nobody ever worked harder."

★ ★ ★

Truman's pride in his family is something every father would do well to emulate. He is looking forward with the liveliest enthusiasm to the Christmas visit of daughter Margaret and son-in-law Clifton Daniel and their two little boys.

"They're just wonderful children," he said with that extra feeling grandparents have summoned without effort since Adam and Eve became same.

Truman was not playing foxy-grandpaw this particularly busy day at the Truman library. What had reminded him that special moment of Margaret was that two Finns who escorted her as guides around Helsinki during her trip there early in 1959 had dropped in to see him before this reporter arrived.

They upped to 75 the number of nationalities which have called on the former President since the Truman library opened Sept. 16, 1957.

All of which reminded him of something he had read today. "I see where they're trying to cut the defense budget in Washington again," said the man under whose aegis the Strategic Air Command and separate Air Force was achieved, and who spearheaded U.N.'s first defensive war — in Korea.

"That's all the Russians want," he said. "They'd like to see us wipe out all armament, as we practically did after World War I. The odd thing is that a lot of people in this country would like to see the same crazy thing happen. A lot of people still think we're protected by the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, and, of course, we're not.

"We just keep forgetting our role, I mean our role as a world power—the greatest world power in history. We've got to stay strong.

"We've got to stay No. 1 and accept all the duties this involves. We're not under attack today for a simple reason: The Russians wouldn't dare hit us. Just wouldn't dare."

He said he hoped Khrushchev had learned something out of his visit to the U.S. Told that since the Khrushchev trip the Russians had stopped jamming the Voice of America, Truman exclaimed "That's fine. But will they keep it up? That's always the problem with the Russians."

What's in a Name? We're Wondering

RICHMOND, R. I. (AP) — Although there are five post offices in the township of Richmond, you can't find the dot for Richmond on the map because there is no village or town by that name.

The post offices are in the villages of Alton, Wood River Junction, Shannock, Kenyon and Wyoming. But perhaps this town of 1772 inhabitants is more famous for streets, ponds and locations.

Among the more colorful names are Smallpox Lane, Quarrelsome Corners, Skunk Hill Road, Moonshine Swamp, Coward's Hole, and Drying Pan Pond.

Of course it's always the woman who pays — but look whose money she's using! . . . Women who hear no evil, speak no evil, see no evil —well, they probably don't go to beauty parlors. —Earl Wilson.

Vote Higher Standards to Secure College Okay

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Beginning next Sept. 1 some 3,500 high schools in Michigan and 17 other states affiliated with the North Central Assn. of Colleges and Secondary Schools will have to abide by a new higher educational standard if they are to receive association approval.

The new goal, affecting schools in the amount of courses they offer students and teachers in the degree of qualification, has been approved by a 9 to 1 vote in a poll of the high schools, Dr. L. A. Van Dyke said yesterday.

Van Dyke is professor of education at the State University of Iowa and chairman of a committee which drafted the new standards for the association, a regional accrediting agency.

Heretofore, the high schools didn't have to offer a minimum educational program to students but that has been changed.

In the future they must offer 26 units of course work which includes language, arts, science, mathematics, social studies, foreign languages, fine arts, health and physical education and practical arts, such as business, homemaking and agriculture.

The foreign language requirement, however, does not take effect until Sept. 1, 1963.

Qualifications of a teacher are being raised, requiring at least 30 semester hours of college work in general or liberal arts.

Also teachers shall be assigned to teach only on subject fields in which they have had at least 18 semester hours of preparation. This was raised from 15 hours.

Townsend Tells of His Torment

Book Describes Voyage Around World After His Rejection by Margaret

LONDON (UPI)—Peter Townsend said today he traveled around the world after his famous romance with Princess Margaret because "nothing I laid my hands and my heart to ever seemed to succeed."

The dashing ex-group captain, who loved and lost Margaret in 1956 because a divorce made him unacceptable to the Anglican Church, wrapped up his memories in a book entitled "Earth: My Friend," which reached the bookstores today.

The book deals primarily with the 57,000-mile world tour on which Townsend embarked after the Princess had decided not to marry him and when he himself "had reached a stage in my life which I knew in my heart was decisive."

The 352 pages are heavily scented with the author's rather somber philosophy. At one point he warns: "We have no right to judge other men: for we never have all the evidence."

At another he tells his reader: "So when you are lost and in doubt and seek a light, I don't believe you could do better than I. I should go out into the darkness and put your hand into the hand of God."

★ ★ ★

The book, which sells for $3.50, features 64 pages of black and white photographs done by 20-year-old Marie Luce Jamagne who accompanied Townsend on his tour and to whom he recently announced his engagement.

Humphrey to Begin Southland Swing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) will head south Nov. 30 for speeches in Florida and Texas that will launch an 11-state, pre-Christmas speaking tour.

★ ★ ★

The swing also will take the Democratic presidential hopeful into the politically important states of New York and Illinois.

The "Humphrey - for - President" Committee said the tour includes a two-day stay in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands and one-day flying trips to Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa.

He will also make another two-day visit to Wisconsin, the scene of an important presidential primary next April 5.

★ ★ ★

Humphrey will speak in Fort Worth, Tex., on Dec. 4 in an invasion into the home state of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, another Democratic presidential possibility.

Record Pace for Economic Offensive

Soviets Pour on Nonmilitary Assistance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet block is pressing its economic offensive at a record pace that has nearly doubled the number of Communist technicians in foreign countries.

New figures disclosed by diplomatic officials today show that the Soviet Union, Red China and Eastern European allies have poured out 882 million dollars for long-term development projects in the first 10 months of this year.

The number of "nonmilitary" Communist technical experts accompanying the aid jumped from 2,760 last year to 4,675 by the end of June. The number is believed to be well over 5,000 now—and still going up.

The amount of Communist bloc assistance pledged this year promises to surpass 1958's record total of $1,029,000,000. If it does, it will hike the total the Sino-Soviet bloc has extended during the past five years to the some $3,400,000,000.

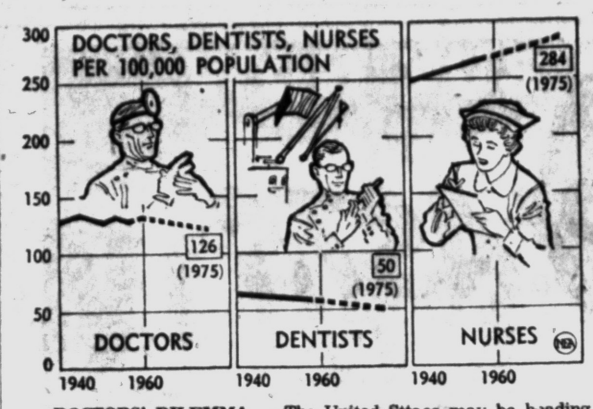

One key country — India — has been given almost half of the total aid the Reds have put out this year. The bloc assigned a 420-million-dollar allocation to Prime Minister Nehru's government along with 470 more Red technicians. This increased to more than 1,000 the number of such technicians on Indian soil.

Eleven countries have shared in the Communist bloc's 1959 aid credits thus far. They are: Ethiopia — 120 million; Iran — 3½ million; Iraq—137½ million; Turkey —5 million; Yemen—1 million; Afghanistan — 87 million; India — 420 million; Indonesia—63 million; Nepal — 7½ million; Argentina — 2½ million, and Guinea—35 million.

United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser, who has vigorously denounced communism, accepted a big increase of technicians in Syria. The number soared from 275 to 735 according to information available to American authorities.

These same figures show a big increase in Yemen, from 290 to 575. Iraq, which had no Communist technicians, accepted 200 from the U.S.S.R. Other changes in the number of technicians show Egypt increased from 535 to 655, Afghanistan, 600 to 800; Pakistan, 265 to 285.

Eisenhower administration leaders are expected to cite the Soviet bloc's record foreign aid spending, particularly in India, as a powerful reason why such funds should be increased rather than cut.

DOCTORS' DILEMMA — The United Sttaes may be heading for a serious shortage of doctors unless medical schools expand their graduating classes within the next 15 years, the Public Health Services warns. The PHS estimates there will only be about 126 doctors for each 100,000 persons if the present trend continues, as against an average of 131-135 for the past 20 years (see chart above). Ratio of dentists may decline even more sharply. Nursing however, has increased five times since 1910. The ratio, 268 in 1958, is expected to climb to 284 in 1975.

The ratio of one car to every 7.8 persons in Australia is second only to the United States, but Australia equals the U.S. in one motor truck to about every 21 persons.

Tackle Rochester Youth Problems

By LEE WINBORN

ROCHESTER — A survey is being conducted in the Rochester area to determine the attitudes of teen-agers and their parents on such home problems as dress, dating, smoking, driving and conduct in public places.

Sponsored by the Rochester Area Youth Guidance Committee, a survey of some 800 Rochester junior and senior high students has been completed, and the results are being tabulated.

Last night the committee gave several hundred more questionnaires to the general membership for distribution to Rochester area service clubs, church groups and PTAs.

The survey is designed to give a cross-section of thinking in the community on problems facing every family. When the tabulation is complete, the committee will decide whether the findings will be used to help form a youth code.

Thomas Pfeiffer, assistant director of protective services for the Oakland County Juvenile Court, said the committee is not yet sure whether a youth code will be recommended. It will depend, he said, on whether the results of the survey truly mirror the community and if the sampling is judged to be good.

He added, however, that he hopes the "attitude survey" will be representative.

★ ★ ★

Should such a code be adopted, the committee hastened to explain, it would in no way try to tell parents how to handle their problems, but serve as a guide to accepted behavior on the part of youngsters and adults.

Typical statements on questionnaires, with instructions to agree, disagree or decline comments, included:

Home should be the center of teen-age activity.

Dating behavior, such as parking, kissing, etc., should be discussed between the teen-ager and parents before he or she begins to date.

Parents should be firm in their decision to take away the car privilege when it is abused.

Smoking by those under 18 is prohibited by state law. This law has not been enforced and should be changed.

Michigan Law prohibits sale or use of alcoholic beverages to anyone under 21. Therefore, drinking should be avoided by teen-agers.

Parents have an obligation to supervise their working teen-agers' expenditures.

A curfew would be of benefit to our community.

A Parent-Teen agreement will be helpful to me and my family relationships.

Those filling out the questionnaires are asked to state only their age, sex and education.

Mrs. Robert Kusse, chairman of the Youth Code Committee conducting the survey, said the results from the school-age canvas are being tabulated on the basis of grade and sex. This will show how boys and girls agree or defer at certain age levels, she said.

The purpose of the questionnaire is to develop some agreement in the Rochester area concerning teen-age social behavior and teen-age parent social responsibilities, the form reads.

It was drafted by a committee of 14 Rochester area teen-agers, members of the Guidance Committee and professional consultants. In addition, Youth Codes now in effect in other municipalities were used as guides.

Industry to Pay Tribute to 4-H

6 Firms Give Awards and Sponsor Trips to Chicago Congress

Industry will pay tribute to Oakland County 4-H Club members named top winners in state-wide competition.

★ ★ ★

Stuart Braid, 2331 Lake George Rd., Lake Orion, will receive a plaque from the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. for his outstanding service to 4-H as a leader alumni.

Janet Long, Route 3, Milford, was selected as top girl in 1959 for 4-H achievement in Michigan. William Middleton, 2610 Stoney Creek Rd., Lake Orion, was named top boy agriculture winner in the state. His brother, Larry, was chosen state winner in soil and water conservation.

The three will go to the national 4-H Club Congress Nov. 28 through Dec. 3 in Chicago.

The Ford Motor Co. will sponsor Miss Long's trip; International Harvester will sponsor William Middleton's trip; and the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company will sponsor Larry Middleton's way.

★ ★ ★

Richard K. Foster, 1960 Baldwin Ave., Clarkston, was named state public speaking winner for 1959. He received a wrist watch from the Fuel Oil Co.

Paul Norland, 1950 Lone Pine Rd., Bloomfield Hills, was given a drill by the Republic Steel Corp. as his award in the handicraft competition.

Family Sighs Relief: 5,000 Turkeys Depart

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

As the last of more than 5,000 turkeys at a huge farm in Independence Township is prepared for shipment, the owners Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Weeks, are getting set to heave a sigh of relief come next Thursday.

★ ★ ★

For them, Thanksgiving Day will mean the end of six long, hard months of hauling 320,000 pounds of corn mash to automatic feeding hoppers and of supplying thousands of gallons of water.

"Those birds just eat and drink all the time," Mrs. Weeks said.

Thursday also will put an end to all of the anxiety associated with watching tiny 2-ounce balls of downy fluff grow into huge 20-pound broad breasted bronze turkeys.

"It only takes 23 weeks for a turkey to reach maturity, but sometimes it seems like 23 years," Weeks said.

When they arrived by freight car last May, the baby birds were put on two levels of a big hay barn, which had been converted into a brooder house.

HEAT SUPPLIED

Electric heat kept the chicks warm until they were turned out in July into a fenced area on the big 80-acre farm.

Weeks explained that over-all loss of a flock of turkeys has to be under 5 per cent "or you're out of business." He added that he had about a 2½ per cent loss the first few weeks.

The entire time they were growing up, Weeks slept in a "turkey shanty" in the center of the flock. This was necessary to protect it against fox, weasles, skunks and wild dogs.

Even huge owls sometimes swoop down and make off with some of the smaller birds, Weeks said.

★ ★ ★

"Tux" — a German shepherd — has been trained to round up any stray turkeys that might have "flown the coop."

At night the dog is bedded down among his feathered friends to help guard against hungry prowlers.

It's easy to know when there is danger in the area, Weeks explained.

"At the least sound of a strange noise, all 5,000 turkeys set up a terrific high-gobbling racket that shatters the sleep of both man and beast," he added.

With the help of their children Kenneth, 14, and Ann, 12, the family usually processes about 1,000 turkeys in the farm's specially equipped dressing house.

After a bird is killed and scalded, a huge electric roller with little rubber prongs literally makes the feathers fly when the turkey is held near the machine.

LIKE ASSEMBLY LINE

With assembly line precision the bird is then made ready for the freezer.

During the rush season five or six high school boys are hired to round up the turkeys and put each in a separate crate on the shipping truck.

They are then hauled to market where they are "dressed on the spot" for particular customers.

An ironic twist of fate takes place every year at the Weeks' big Pilgrim Pride Turkey Farm.

In the winter months he works for the Motorcar Transport Co. in Pontiac.

Every year for the last nine years, the family has received a turkey as a Christmas present from the company.

In spite of all the work in raising America's traditional Thanksgiving bird, the Weeks family plan next year on getting 7,000 more of "the hungriest birds in the world," known as the big gobblers to turkey-raisers.

SO LONG, CHUM — Leonard Weeks gladly gives the heave-ho to one of 5,000 turkeys he raised on his Independence Township farm for this year's holiday sales.

A question and answer period will follow, and refreshments will be served.

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Elmwood School PTA will hold open house for adults only at 7:30 p.m. today. Teachers in the first, second and third grades will be in their rooms to speak to parents between 8 and 8:30 p.m.

Kindergarten, fourth and fifth grade teachers will meet with parents at 8:35 p.m.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

Milford High Club Will Present Play

MILFORD—The play "You Can't Take It With You" will be presented by the Milford High School Dramatics Club tonight, Friday and Saturday at 8:30.

The three-act play, written by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, involves a family and friends, one of the zaniest groups imaginable.

★ ★ ★

Producing the play are Mr. Jean Terpstra and Jean Ross, Dramatics Club sponsors. Judy Finlan of the school's art department supervised construction of the props and scenery.

Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Has Long History in Walled Lake

Old Baptist Church Will Stand

By JIM LONG

WALLED LAKE—Although planning a $100,000 expansion program in the next year, the Walled Lake First Baptist Church has no intention of razing its present 105-year-old structure.

The Rev. Carl J. Grapentine, minister, and 57th pastor at the church, said that when the new church is completed the present church would serve as a chapel.

While the Early American style church was built in 1854, the Walled Lake Baptist congregation dates back another 20 years to the time of Andrew Jackson, seventh President of the United States.

This past year and ending this month the church has been celebrating its 125-year-old history with a jubilee year. Each month a guest speaker has been invited to conduct services. For the most part, former ministers of the church were chosen.

★ ★ ★

The original church was founded in 1834 when a group, lead by Caleb and Nehemiah Lamb, met in a one-room log cabin located in the vicinity of the present day cemetery for the purpose of organizing a church society.

It was this log cabin that served as a church until 1853 when it was sold at a public auction for $37.50 and moved to another location as a residence.

The following year the present church was built. It was constructed on a slight crest of a hill overlooking the north part of Walled Lake. Today it is located at 329 Market St.

The first pastor of the new church was the Rev. Augustus Morrill who was then followed by the Rev. Elijah Weaver till 1842.

LACKED FUNDS

Between the years 1842 and 1876, 24 pastors served the church. Evidence shows that lack of funds for their support was responsible for their short stays.

★ ★ ★

One arrangement, church records show, allowed a pastor $300 a year, plus a donation, and with the stipulation that he go to Commerce to hold services in the morning once in four weeks.

During lean periods ministers had vegetable gardens, kept chickens or secured a cow for milk to help augment the small salary.

In 1949 the first addition to the church was made. It was the educational building, which now houses a nursery, beginners room and primary departments and the pastor's study.

★ ★ ★

The church is about the same as it was when originally built except for addition of electric lights and the installation of a gas furnace.

'BAWL ROOM'

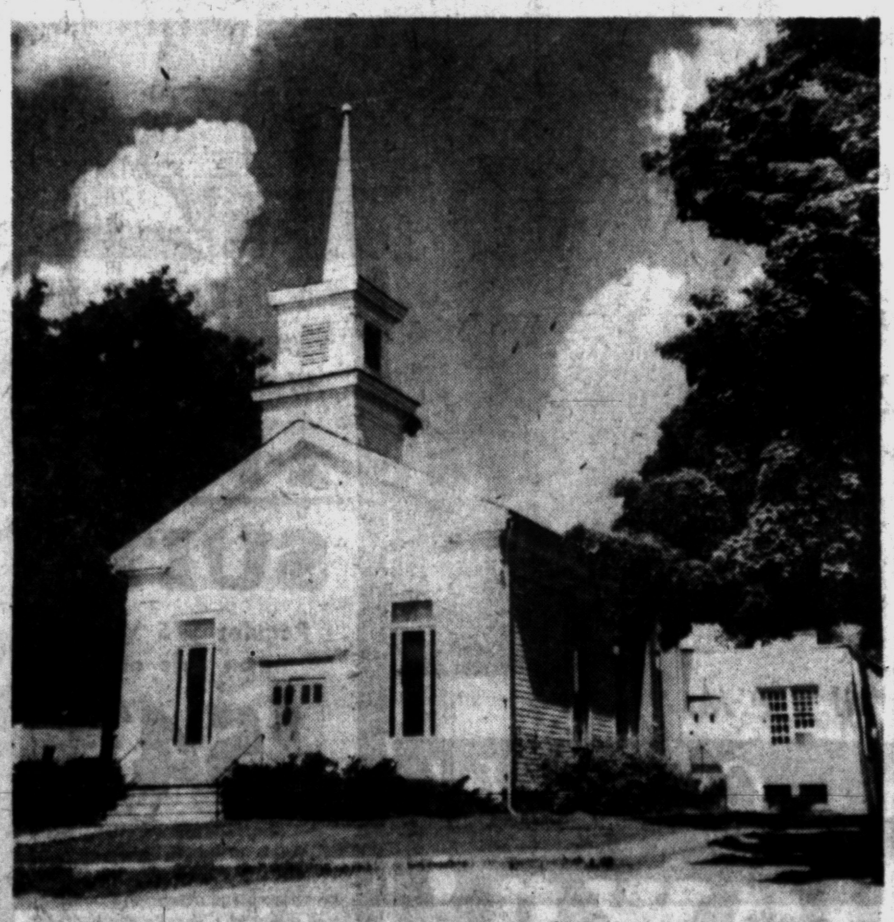

The only noticeable change inside the church is the addition of a "bawl room" on the balcony for mothers will small children.

Today membership is at a high. Rev. Grapentine said that from 250 to 280 persons attend Sunday services.

He added that in the past year the membership has almost doubled.

Rev. Grapentine has been pastor of the church since August 1957 when he came from the Wyandotte Baptist Church where he served as associate pastor.

He is married and has two sons, Carl and Chris. His wife, Eleanor, is music director of the church.

125 YEARS OLD — The Walled Lake First Baptist Church, one of the oldest in Oakland County, is now celebrating its 125th year. A one-room log cabin served as church facilities from 1834, when the church was founded, until construction of the present day church 20 years later. The Rev. Carl J. Grapentine, pastor, said a new church will be built in the near future but the 105-year-old church will not be torn down. It will serve as a chapel.

Music Teacher Finds Blindness No Handicap

ALAMOSA, Colo. (UPI)—Evelyn Tozier, a music teacher and composer here for 40 years, feels that concentration and keen senses have made her a successful musician.

Although blind since she was born during the 1890s in the mining camp of Rico, Colo., Miss Tozier in no way thinks of her blindness as a handicap.

★ ★ ★

"Contrary to the belief of the sighted, there is no sensation of blackness in being blind," she said recently. Instead, all thought of light is dismissed, she explained, "and the world then becomes a world of thought."

★ ★ ★

The result is concentration and a development of the senses so that nature itself can be enjoyed, according to Miss Tozier.

Nature, in fact, has inspired most of the compositions written by the Alamosa music teacher. Most of them concern the mountains, valleys and shifting sand dunes of the area around her home.

Campaign for Kincheloe Memorial Donations

CASSOPOLIS (UPI) — A civic campaign to raise $10,000 for a memorial honoring the late Air Force space age pioneer Capt. Iven Kincheloe Jr., was under way today in Cass County.

Kincheloe, killed last year in a jet plane crash which snuffed out plans for him to pilot the X-15 rocket craft, is buried in the National Cemetery at Arlington, Va. His parents live in Cass County's Penn Township.

The proposed memorial is a 12-foot granite shaft supporting a symbolic model of an experimental plane which Kincheloe flew to a record altitude of 126,000 feet.

The memorial committee has selected the Penn Township intersection of M60 and Decatur road, near the Kincheloe home, as the monument site.

At Smart Junior High

Slate First Performance

WALLED LAKE — The first play to be presented by the Clifford Smart Junior High School will be given by the Atwas Club (from the first letters of Shakespeare's quotation: All the World's a Stage—) today and Satuday at 8 p.m. in the activities room.

★ ★ ★

The play, "A Case of Springtime," tells of a young man's interest in magic to win back his girlfriend from a college student. When his magic backfires it involves him with the principal of the school, the PTA, the local zoo and police.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Proceeds from the play will be used to buy backstage equipment for the new school.

The public is invited. Tickets may be purchased at the school.

U.S. Envoy to Seek Amity in Panama

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Undersecretary of State Livingston Merchant will fly to Panama tomorrow in an effort to solve "misunderstandings" which resulted in anti-American violence in the Central American nation.

★ ★ ★

The State Department said it assumed there would be no new anti-American outbreaks during the talks. Department spokesman Lincoln White said he did not know how long Merchant would remain in Panama.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told Panamanian Ambassador Ricardo M. Arias Monday that he was willing to send a top U. S. official to Panama provided "the conversations could be conducted under normal conditions."

★ ★ ★

Arias promptly welcomed the move as helpful in view of present tense relations between the two nations.

Air Service Shuffle Proposal Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House armed services subcommittee has rejected a proposal to shift the shipment of military freight and passengers overseas from the Military Air Transport Service (MATS) to financially-pressed private airlines.

The subcommittee said the suggestion, designed to help the private carriers "strikes at the very heart" of MATS.

Clarkston High Senior Play Set for Tomorrow

CLARKSTON — The Clarkston High School senior class production, "The Night Is My Enemy," will be presented at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the high school with a cast of 10 students.

The three-act mystery drama by Fred Carmichael is about a mentally ill person who wants to rid the world of all imperfections. A blind girl nearly becomes one of his three victims.

Heading the cast is Paulette Etter as the blind girl, with two male leads, Uncle Ora played by Ronald Russell and Gerald Clayton portrayed by James Manning.

Others are Sandy Hollis as the cook, Robert Lawson, the butler, John Keith as Tom, and Georgia Robinson as Augusta.

The inspector will be William Paush; Lucy Oakley plays Aunt Hester and Diane Moller the maid.

Proceeds will be used to help pay for the senior class trip to Washington, D. C., April 6-10.

DEATH LURKS — Cast members of "The Night Is My Enemy" rehearse an emotion-packed scene where "Aunt Hester" shakes "Roane," a blind girl, before a frightened maid. In the three-act mystery to be presented by Clarkston High School seniors tomorrow, Paulette Ette plays the blind girl marked for death by a psychopath. Lucy Oakley is "Aunt Hester" and Diane Moller, the maid.

Cranberries Spotlighting State Food Laboratory

LANSING (AP)—The current cranberry rhubarb has put the spotlight on one of the state's most vital agencies — the Food and Standards Division of the State Agriculture Department.

"Right now our laboratories are analyzing a batch of Wisconsin cranberries picked up last week in Michigan warehouses," reported J. L. Littlefield, division chief. "But cranberries are only a small part of our overall operation."

The Food and Standards Division has 50 field workers scattered throughout the state.

They are constantly investigating the sanitary conditions under which foods and drinks are stored and sold.

"Keep it either hot or cold is our general advice," Littlefield said.

Continual checks of various food products are made for possible contamination or adulteration.

Vendors possessing or serving contaminated or adulterated food products are subject to stiff fines. The same goes for those serving food under unsanitary conditions.

"Generally," Littlefield said, "restaurants present us with no particular problem. Each one is an individual case and they are usually pretty good."

The scope of the division's operations and those of the dairy division can be grasped from highlights of the Agriculture Department's report for the month of September during which:

A dairy plant was found to be selling low fat ice cream and thereby gaining enough fat to defraud its customers of $1,400 in a two-month period. The owner was notified to make adjustments.

All stores in a large Detroit chain were asked to check all unsalted butter of a well-known brand when moldy butter was discovered in a retail store.

The sale of milk to schools in a Michigan city was halted due to the use of illegal containers.

A cheese manufacturer paid $100 in fines and costs for selling cheese with excessive moisture.

And a large number of convictions brought under control persistent attempts to market wormy and insect-infested peaches in the Benton Harbor area.

The biggest inland sea is the Caspian with an area of 169,330 square miles. By comparison Lake Superior has an area of 31,810 square miles.

Engineers Bring Industrial Show

Oakland Chapter 69 to Hear C. G. Schelly on 'The Cutting Edge

Pontiac Central High School auditorium will be the scene tomorrow night of a touring industrial show, "The Cutting Edge," featuring noted scientist, educator and author C. G. Schelly.

The program, scheduled to begin at 8:00, is brought here by Oakland County Chaper 69 of the American Society of Tool Engineers and the American Society of Quality Contorl, Detroit Branch.

A meeting of the two groups will precede the program at 7:30, according to Emerson Brown, chapter chairman. The program is designed for technical society, management and educational groups.

Aside from a vast display covering a million years of history and progress in cutting edges, the basic theme of the program will hinge on the theory that the space race will be won by the nation with the best cutting tools.

Schelly is director of the educational research department of the DoAll Company, the Des Plaines, Ill., firm that compiles and presents the touring program.

A specialist in technical communications, Schelly is the author of eight textbooks on technical subjects and has directed two previous educational presentations drawing an audience of more than 55,000 persons from coast to coast.

Some Days Just Nothing Seems to Fit Right

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The six freezers for the new Hale Junior High School cafeteria came with three-prong electrical plugs.

Two electricians arrived the next day. One changed the plugs to two prongs. The other changed the wall receptacles to three prongs.

Speedometer's Setting Wrong but That's Good

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — An unwritten law of the auto industry prevents most motorists from being quite the hot-rodders they think they are.

The industry intentionally sets the speedometers it puts on cars to register faster than the actual speed of the car.

No one in the industry knows just why this is done but everyone agrees it's a good idea and all companies do it.

Society of Automotive Engineers standards permit variations of up to six miles an hour in registered and actual speeds.

They don't say whether the speedometers should favor indications above or below actual speeds. But engineers, possibly in the interest of saving motorists from their own madness, take it upon themselves to favor the high side.

Engineers could build accurate speedometers but they would be expensive and most motorists wouldn't bother to keep them accurate. And they feel there's no harm in a motorist going a little slower than he thinks he is going.

The best part, they say, is that the motorist who drives fastest gets the biggest error.

REASON FOR DISTORTION

Seven factors contribute to speedometer distortion, the engineers say, but the major one is speed.

A car's wheels spin more — without propelling the car — at higher speeds. Presuming every turn of the wheel moves the car the same distance, speedometers merely record the number of revolutions of the wheel. A spinning wheel, therefore, indicates the car is going faster than it is.

To prove this, spin the wheels of your car on ice and watch the speedometer soar while you're barely moving.

Worn tires also lead to errors because the speedometer is calibrated on the assumption that a single turn of a wheel moves the car a distance equal to the circumference of a new tire. A worn tire is smaller than a new tire so the car doesn't move as far with each turn.

★ ★ ★

The manufacturers permit some allowances in the speedometer gears so one gear may be minutely smaller than another. The error is always allowed only on the side which makes the indicated speed faster.

With age, gears wear and again this leads to higher indicated speeds.

★ ★ ★

Temperatures also change the indicated speed, with readings higher in winter than in summer.

Connecticut state police reported earlier this week that only six of 100 cars tested had accurate speedometers and that 92 per cent of the faulty ones registered too high.

An auto industry survey showed a "typical" speedometer registered a mile an hour too high at speeds between 10 and 50 miles an hour, 1-3 mph too high at 60, and 2-7 mph too high at 80.

All the speedometer errors are reflected in the odometer which records the distance traveled. This device indicates you have traveled farther than you really have when the speedometer reads too fast.

★ ★ ★

Because of speedometer inaccuracies many police usually allow a five mile an hour difference in actual and indicated speeds before stopping a speeder.

The auto industry itself uses a fifth wheel, a bicycle wheel on the rear of the car, to get accurate mileage readings.

So, the speedometer is not perfect, but the auto industry and most police figure it is better than perfect.

High School Fund Drive Succeeds in Lansing

LANSING (AP) — A drive for $1,500,000 in pledges for constructing two Catholic high schools here has gone over the top.

Campaign officials said $1,556,000 has been pledged with $148,000 cash on hand.

★ ★ ★

Construction of the two high schools—one on the west and the other on the east side of the city—will begin as soon as $900,000 is received.

Five Named Monsignors in Lansing Diocese

LANSING (AP) — Five priests in the Lansing Catholic diocese have been elevated by Pope John XXIII to monsignors, Bishop Joseph H. Albers, has announced.

They are the Very Rev. Fr. John W. O'Rafferty, retired rector of St. Mary Cathedral in Lansing; Rev. Fr. Lawrence H. Soest, pastor of St. Mary parish, Flint; Rev. Fr. John Slowey, direcor of the Catholic Social Service Bureau of Lansing; Rev. Fr. Walter Mehm, chancellor of the diocese; and Rev. Fr. Joseph Green, vice chancellor and pastor of St. Joseph parish, St. Johns.

GEORGE'S
74 N. Saginaw Near Huron

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the 1960 Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Coupe!

PEOPLE SAY THESE ARE THE THINGS THEY WANT IN A CAR...and CHEVROLET for '60 comes closest to meeting every need!

Interviews with thousands of car owners across the country show clearly what they like or dislike about their present cars . . . and what they want most in their 1960 cars. Here's what the people tell us they want . . . and here's how Chevrolet meets their needs.

"Price, that's what's uppermost in my mind." All Impalas and Bel Airs with V8 engines are lower in price, as are automatic transmissions and many other popular options. Also Biscaynes now include as standard equipment conveniences formerly optional at extra cost.

"And how about operating economy? And resale value?" You keep right on saving after you buy your favorite Chevrolet, too. And Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value means you'll get more back when you trade.

"Give me plenty of good old-fashioned comfort." There's comfort and then some in this one. Chevy's long on space, for one thing. Once you're under way you'll know just how comfortable Full Coil suspension makes your ride.

"Safety—don't forget safety!" You're surrounded by safety features in a new Chevrolet. You've got big, sturdy brakes underfoot, for example, that last longer. As it has been for years, safety is standard equipment in Chevy.

"Let's keep upkeep down, too." More than ever, Chevrolet for 1960 is built to stay on the road and out of the repair shop. You can tell that from its hushed, unruffled way of going, from the solid thunk of Chevy's big doors. Of course, if you should need service, you're always near efficient, economical attention to your needs.

"I want a car that will stand up to the driving I do." For proof of Chevy's staying power, just spend a minute watching the nearest road. You'll see more Chevrolets traveling on it than any other car—evidence-on-wheels of Chevrolet durability. (And that higher resale value attests to it, too.)

"Me for a sweet-handling car." Handling's always been Chevy's forte, and 1960 is no exception. But really, this kind of lightness and precision you've simply got to enjoy for yourself.

"... a car you can look at and be smug about buying it." Chevrolet for 1960 leaves the low-price field far behind when it comes to fashion. But you're the best judge of styling, so take a good close look at Chevrolet. We warn you: you're about to fall in love.

"And performance. Let's have a hot one!" Chevy's spirited V8's have set the standard for ultra-efficient power in American-built passenger car engines. You've got a long list of performance-minded transmissions to pick from, too.

So that, friends, is what you told us you want. We think it can be summed up rather well in just one word: value.

Get the full story of Chevy's brand of value soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Nearest to perfection a low-priced car ever came . . . CHEVROLET

Hunting Fatals Now Stand at 26

Four More Die, One by Gunshot; Two Suffer Heart Attacks

By The Associated Press

Four more hunters have died, one of them by gunshot, to boost Michigan's 1959 deer hunting season death toll to 26. All died Wednesday.

The shooting victim was Jack Williams, 62, of Mullet Lake, formerly of Oxford. Williams was struck by a stray bullet while hunting in Northern Cheboygan County. He was the third hunter to die of gunshot.

Two of the dead suffered fatal heart attacks. John S. Maciarz, 43, of Hamtramck, collapsed while walking in a Cheboygan County woods. Alexander S. Baskey, 45, of Auburn, collapsed while hunting in Gogebic County. Their deaths brought to 17 the number of heart victims.

Frank Macyda, 36, of Dearborn, was the fifth asphyxiation victim. He was with two earlier suffocation victims who were trapped Sunday in a trailer near Lewiston and overcome by fumes from a gas heater.

In addition, another hunter has suffered a fatal collapse and died from undetermined causes.

Act to Free Cranberries for Holidays

WASHINGTON (UP) — The government today approved a plan for making plentiful supplies of uncontaminated cranberries available for Thanksgiving.

★ ★ ★

Secretary Arthur S. Flemming of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare said lots of cranberries already tested and found to be uncontaminated may be marketed if they contain this statement:

★ ★ ★

"Examined and passed by the Food and Drug Administration of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare."

Cranberries from lots totaling more than four million pounds already have been tested and found to be free of contamination from the weed killer, aminotriazole.

★ ★ ★

Flemming said the plan, worked out with representatives of the cranberry industry would:

1. Assure proper testing of fresh cranberries and processed cranberry products in all stages of marketing—wholesale and retail—before they are offered to the consuming public.

★ ★ ★

2. Provide for approved labels which the housewife can look for to be sure the package, can or bottle she buys is from tested cranberries.

Threat Comes In by Phone Call

Union Business Agent's Wife Told Her Husband 'Will Be Next'

CINCINNATI (UP)—"Your husband is next."

After issuing the telephoned threat, the caller hung up on Mrs. John Warnock, whose husband is business agent for the strife-torn Teamsters Local 100.

★ ★ ★

The local's trustee, John Curtsinger of nearby Florence, Ky., is still missing after receiving a similar warning 12 days ago. He disappeared the following day en route to a union meeting here.

Mrs. Warnock said that when the call came in Tuesday night "I thought it had something to do with Curtsinger. But all the man said was, 'Your husband is next.'"

Curtsinger, reportedly fearful for his life, was injured in a fight at the union's hall several months ago when a group of truck drivers, loyal to national President James Hoffa, attempted to take control of Local 100.

★ ★ ★

Curtsinger later filed assault and battery charges against Morris Isserson, a union member, but the trial was delayed after the trustee vanished.

Miss Norway, Barry Coe Will Be Wed Saturday

MOSS, Norway (UP) — Miss Norway of 1959 and American movie actor Barry Coe will wed here Saturday.

Jorunn Kristiansen, 19, was runner-up in this year's Miss Universe contest in Long Beach, Calif.

The tall, honey-haired girl and Coe will be married at the Moss Church by Dean V. Hanssen-Bauer. The church will be closed to the press.

★ ★ ★

The young couple was received with a roaring ovation when introduced to the Moss citizenry at the local premiere of Coe's latest picture "A Private's Affair."

Arrest Fired Official in Butchers 'Payola'

NEW YORK (UPI) — An ousted city official hired by Mayor William O'Dwyer 13 years ago was charged Wednesday with extorting "payola" from butchers in a multi-million dollar meat racket that victimized housewives in poor neighborhoods.

Fred J. Loughran, 47, director of the Bureau of Weights and Measures, was arrested as a result of a seven-week investigation of illicit butcher shop operations in depressed areas.

The racket included upgrading of meat meant for dogs to "prime," falsifying weights, and payoffs by butchers to city inspectors in return for looking the other way or levying meager fines of only $3 to $5 instead of the $60 to $100 allowed by law.

Loughran, who gained a reputation as a racket buster in his city post, testified before a grand jury that he never had accepted one dime illegally while heading the bureau.

6th Test on TV Control of Xway Traffic Due

LANSING (AP)—The sixth in a series of tests on the use of television equipment to control expressway traffic will be conducted on the John C. Lodge expressway in Detroit Tuesday, the State Highway Department announced.

The department plans eventually to install 14 closed-circuit TV cameras on the expressway to monitor traffic flow. The camera check will allow a central control point to direct traffic to avoid tieups.

But, at 70, Is Happy in Military Court Job

Ferguson Misses His Old Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — With more than 11 years of a 15-year judicial term still before him, former Sen. Homer Ferguson (R.-Mich.) probably won't return to the political wars.

But don't count him out entirely.

"I don't at the present time have any thought of running for any office," Ferguson says, "but of course I'm willing to serve my country in any way I can."

Still vigorous and fit-looking at 70, Ferguson is one of three judges who form the U.S. Court of Military Appeals—the Military Supreme Court.

President Eisenhower named him to the 15-year, $25,000-a-year job two years after he was bumped out of the Senate by Democrat Pat McNamara in the close 1954 race.

Before returnnig to his old job as a judge, Ferguson put in a short hitch as a $50-a-day legal consultant to the Defense Department and a year as U.S. ambassador to the Philippines.

He was hesitant about comparing his present job—involving close decisions on often obscure points of law—to the liveliness of his 12 years in the Senate.

"I WORK HARDER"

"I work harder now than I ever did in the Senate," he said. "But then some people treat politics as hard work. I never did.

"I enjoyed it all, every bit of it, and I'll always be very grateful to the people of Michigan for permitting me to serve them."

The military court considered more than 1,500 petitions for review of courts martial in 1958, he said, and agreed to hear more than 300 of these to a decision.

"That's a very heavy case load," he said. "It's not running quite so heavy this year, but we keep busy."

He said he was vitally concerned wtih establishment of the relatively new principle of supremacy of civilian justice over that of the military.

"This is a new court, first formed in 1951," he said, "and we're laying many new guidelines for the future in our decisions."

★ ★ ★

Ferguson worked hard in the Senate to have the words "under God" inserted in the U.S. Pledge of Allegiance, although he eventually relinquished the honor of sponsoring the bill to another Michigan Congress member, Rep. Louis Rabaut (D), to avoid a House-Senate deadlock.

"But it does no good just to put those words in the pledge and on our dollar," he said. "We as a nation must practice our religion if we are going to make our government work.

"I'm afraid as nations get older they tend to parrot their slogans instead of thinking and believing in them."

The current, much-publicized financial difficulties of his home state "just dumbfound me," Ferguson said.

"I cannot understand why the great state of Michigan, a great industrial power with great people, can't pay for the government it wants.

"I think perhaps they want too much government. And I think that some thought should be given to that point."

★ ★ ★

He noted that he once worked in the Hoover Commission campaign against waste and inefficiency in government, "and I think I can speak with some knowledge in the field. There are many ways to cut down, but the people have got to want to cut down. When families can't afford certain things they don't buy them. It should be the same with government."

On politics again, Ferguson emphasized that he has no thought of attempting to regain the Senate seat held by McNamara, who is up for re-election next year.

But with a hint of wistfulness, he added: "I do miss the active part of politics."

Britain Wants New Relations With Arabs

LONDON (AP) — Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said Wednesday Britain wishes to resume diplomatic relations with Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic and Saudi Arabia.

★ ★ ★

He made the statement in answer to questions in the House of Commons. Reports from Cairo have indicated that careful preliminary moves already are under way to restore the ties, possibly at the level of charge d'affaires.

Britain's ties with the U.A.R. and Saudi Arabia were severed in 1956 at the time of the abortive British-French Suez intervention.

To Ask Reduced Tax for Small Firms

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala) said Tuesday he will press at the next session of Congress for a bill to give small businesses a maximum tax deduction of $10,000 if they put $30,000 of their earnings back into the business.

The senator told the convention of the American Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages that inability of the average small company to retain enough of its earnings for expansion and improvements is "the most basic small business tax problem."

All colonies of Spain are in Africa.

The name of Wyoming was taken from Wyoming valley in Pennsylvania and it means a land of mountains and valleys. Original valley was the scene of an Indian massacre.

Religious Groups Praise Ad Drive to Boost Piety

NEW YORK (AP)— Religious leaders have joined to praise a multimillion-dollar advertising campaign to remind Americans of the value of religion.

The Advertising Council, made up of business interests, is making available more than eight million dollars worth of advertising during November stressing this message: "Find the strength for your life. Worship together this week."

This northern Minnesota village has the world's largest open pit iron mine.

Teacher Should Learn Her Pupils' Specialties

BUFORD, Ga. (AP) — A grade-schooler had a ready denial when his teacher called in a group of small boys suspected of throwing rocks at little girls on their way home from school.

"I'm not a rocker," he said indignantly, "I'm a pincher."

High Cost of Living Poking; Cost of Building Is Jumping

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP) — Think the rise in the cost of living has been pretty sharp?

If you do, chances are you haven't built anything lately. By comparison, the cost of living has been slow-poking along.

The cost of living is up 24.9 per cent from the 1947-49 average. But the cost of building is up 46 per cent on an index that figures in all elements of construction costs.

In other words, a house that could have been built in 1947-49 for $10,000 would cost $14,600 today.

That's for construction only. It doesn't take into account your mortgage likely would be bigger, the interest rates higher and the lot more costly.

The index figure is that of Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates, Inc., one of the world's larger firms of architects and engineers.

★ ★ ★

The index includes building material costs, freight rates and hourly pay of common and skilled labor, plus such intangibles as labor efficiency, contractor profit margins, bidding competition and contractor overhead such as taxes, duration of projects, material expediting and labor procurement costs.

★ ★ ★

From the beginning of 1947 to mid-1959 a mere 12½ years — that index has advanced 70 per cent. That of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, which keeps tab only on building commodities (materials) is up 62 per cent.

One kept by Engineering News Record, an industry publication that figures in both material and labor costs, is up 80 per cent. Neither of the latter adds in intangibles.

PERCENTAGE UP

Going back 33 years to 1926, when Smith, Hinchman & Grylls started its index and all three virtually paralleled, the index of the architects-engineers has risen 210 per cent; that of Engineering News Record, 198 per cent, and that of the BLS 160 per cent.

Peaks and valleys in charts of all three, while not exactly paralleling each other, start their ups and downs in the same periods.

Taking Engineering News Record's compilation of material and labor costs alone, here are the averages from 1926 (cement per barrel; steel per 100 pounds; lumber per 1,000 board feet; labor per hour):

Year	Cement	Structural Steel	Lumber	Common Labor	Skilled Labor
1926	$2.10	$1.96	$32.00	$.55	$1.27
1940	2.19	2.07	34.26	.70	1.47
1950	2.99	3.42	99.77	1.53	2.50
1959	3.98	5.50	111.47	2.45	3.83

Many things go into the ups and downs — there were some downs as recently as 1953-54 and 1958 — in building costs.

The best time to build, if you can lay your hands on the money then, is in time of recession or depression. For instance, between 1926 and the 1932-33 depression bottom, the SH&G index dipped 32 per cent. Other indexes went down with it. They did the same when costs dipped 7 per cent in 1949.

All three have pointed up since the beginning of 1959, and on July 1, the SH&G index had regained the 2.9 per cent it slipped in business—slow 1958.

It costs less to build in smaller and rural communities. There, lower paid, non-union and part-time help is available. It is likely the building codes will be more lenient there, also.

Many variables figure into building costs. Contractor bids on an identical job, for instance, may vary as much as 20 per cent and sometimes as much as 50 per cent.

SH&G once got bids varying 20 per cent on two identical buildings in the same area advertised at relatively the same time for different firms.

★ ★ ★

One contractor may be financing a project near where you want to build. He may not have another contract in sight. His crew is together and ready. His tools and equipment are handy. Naturally, the more you catch in this shape, the lower your bids.

★ ★ ★

If it is a factory you are planning, such as a steel strike can add materially to your costs. Even if you get steel before prices go up which they do in the wake of a strike, you may have to pay a premium.

Those who warehouse steel are likely to seek out architects or contractors and suggest they have just what is needed for an upcoming job, so why not buy right now at an upped price; the needed steel might be gone by the time bids are gathered.

What does the architect engineer do in planning something beyond, say, the expiration of a steel strike.

The answer is: The best he can, keeping his client advised as he goes along, how prices and wages are going, what it cost to add this and take off that.

"There are too many variations for an exact formula," says SH&G. "We round up the unit costs through all phases of what we've planned, check and re-check, then use our judgment and experience as well as research into construction conditions and business climate."

Saginaw C. of C. Has Plan to Ease Loop Traffic

SAGINAW (UPI)—John J. Shea, chairman of the Saginaw Chamber of Commerce downtown committee, told the chamber's directors yesterday that a plan for routing traffic around the Saginaw business area was ready for presentation to the State Highway Department.

★ ★ ★

Shea said the plan would be submitted to the highway department first and then to the City Council and City Planning Commission.

"It is not a cheap deal," Shea warned the Saginaw businessmen. It is an expensive proposition designed to do us the most good in the shortest length of time."

GM Cuts Bugs During Shutdown

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — An old line auto company long has proclaimed that when better cars are built it will build them.

Right now this particular company, Buick, isn't building any cars at all. Like the four other General Motors car-making divisions, it ran out of steel. Thousands of hourly production employes were laid off. But this doesn't mean that everybody at General Motors took a vacation.

The divisions are taking advantage of the production lull to study their 1960 products. And as a result better cars probably will be built when production resumes.

GM had no more—and possibly less—bugs than usual in its first 1960 models. But there always are problems for all companies with every model change. Production techniques are altered. Assemblies are modified. Switches have to be made.

Usually these changes have to be accomplished on a running basis—that is, while production lines are running full blast, or about one car per minute. Supervisory employes and manufacturing experts have to put in hundreds of hours of overtime until the problems are licked.

The steel strike and the ensuing shutdown of production gave GM the unusual opportunity to make any changes necessary at a much more orderly pace. The assembly lines are silent. Enough cars have been built so that assembly techniques are familiar. Now the finished, mass-produced product can be examined minutely.

If a change is desirable, it can be fully planned. And when production resumes no slowdowns will be necessary. The startup can be fast and clean.

Before the shutdown General Motors built about 390,000 cars. For the full model year it may build close to three million. Thus the shutdown, if it had to come, occurred at a time it could be put to good use. More than 85 per cent of production lies ahead.

Quality control has played an increasingly important part in American automobile manufacturing in recent years. All three of the major companies have established special pilot plants to assemble new models on an experimental basis.

Plant managers are brought in along with their immediate assistants and shown new techniques in actual operation. Both machines and parts receive severe scrutiny from experts.

As a result first models off the assembly lines have been noticeably free of trouble in recent years. Headaches are minimized for the companies and purchasers are happier.

Quality control experts have been stationed in each assembly plant to work out local problems. This helps assure you and the company that a car built in Georgia or Missouri will be of the same stands as one built in California, or Ohio, or Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The system is not yet foolproof and the companies admit it. At the same time old line observers of the industry say the factories appear much more alert now to customers complaints than in the past.

If you happen to buy a car in which something is radically wrong, the company honestly wants to know about it.

Critics of mass production say there are some problems that never will be solved. The auto industry feels it is making progress.

Burroughs Gets Air Work Worth $35 Million

DETROIT (AP)—Burroughs Corp. has announced it has received a 35-million-dollar contract for systems management work for the Air Material Command.

Burroughs will manage development of an airborne long-range input, a type of radar station to be carried aboard reconnaissance aircraft as part of the nation's early warning detection system.

THESE PEOPLE KNOW WHY

O-JIB-WA BITTERS

IS AMERICA'S NUMBER ONE AND BEST ALL-HERB TONIC.

Why don't you try it too and join the millions who have received amazing results during the past 45 years. Read the following true statements from pleased O-Jib-Wa customers:

MR. E. M., DETROIT— I was told to pack up and move to Arizona for my health. As a last resort I tried O-Jib-Wa, and now can't praise this wonderful medicine enough.

MR. W. A., BRADENTON, FLA.— Please send me two large bottles of O-Jib-Wa at once. We forgot to bring ours with us, and need it badly.

MR. J. L., BATTLE CREEK— I think O-Jib-Wa is a wonderful tonic, and believe people getting along in years usually need a tonic like this.

MRS. A. L., CLIO, MICH.— The Bible tells how God created herbs for the service of men, and after trying other medicines, I personally know that nothing compares with O-Jib-Wa Bitters as an all-round remedy.

MR. F. M., FLINT— Many of us in the shop use O-Jib-Wa Bitters with great success. Before taking it, I was afraid I would have to quit work.

MRS. M. B., FRUITPORT, MICH.— It is unbelievable that one medicine could do so much for me. I spent a lot of money, and even went to Hot Springs, but nothing helped like O-Jib-Wa.

MRS. S. C., ROMULUS, MICH.— O-Jib-Wa Bitters did more for me in three weeks, than everything else I tried put together in the last 17 years.

MRS. V. R., DETROIT— I always ended up disappointed with other medicines, as none of them measured up to their claims. Right from the first, O-Jib-Wa was different, as in just two weeks I was much better.

MRS. W. P., KINGSFORD, MICH.— O-Jib-Wa Bitters helped me in five days, and inside of a month, I was feeling like my old self again.

MR. J. C., INKSTER, MICH.— I'm retired now, and my friends often ask how in the world I always feel so good. I tell them to get a big bottle of O-Jib-Wa Bitters, follow the directions and let this wonderful medicine do the rest.

MR. G. P., PEORIA, ILL.— I want to congratulate you, and wish you continued success in manufacturing the most wonderful medicine in the world today.

SEASIDE HEIGHTS, N. J. (AP)— A 20th Century plane crashed into a 19th Century ship but the accident went undiscovered for years.

Skin divers came upon the wreckage while searching the ocean floor about five miles off the coast.

Cradled among the corroded wooden timbers of a sunken commercial vessel of the 1890s was the wreckage of a small aircraft of the type used for training at the beginning of World War II.

The plane had apparently crashed almost 20 years ago in exactly the same place where the ocean swallowed the old ship in the late 19th Century.

Convention to Feature Valuable Coin Displays

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Individual coin collections valued as high as a quarter of a million dollars will be displayed during the 4th annual Michigan State Numismatic Society convention here Friday through Sunday.

About 2,000 convention visitors are expected for the gathering from throughout the United States. A rare coins auction will be held in conjunction with the convention Friday and Saturday.

Rear Adm. O. H. Dodson (USN, Retired), president of the American Numismatic Association, will address a banquet session of the convention.

California Uses Demerit Points; Obey the Traffic Laws or Walk

(Editor's Note: Alarmed by an ever-increasing traffic toll, California last spring began lifting the licenses of drivers with poor safety records. At the same time, insurance companies began scaling their charges to the driver's accident history. Here's a report on results.)

By JOHN MORGANTHALER

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — To stop the highway slaughter, California has served notice on its 7¾ million motorists: Obey the traffic laws or walk.

A large segment of the insurance industry has told them: Shape up or pay.

★ ★ ★

The cheers and squawks have been loud. But so far results are encouraging.

The death and injury rates are down.

The total number of traffic violations has fallen off. Speeding has dropped off sharply. But, inexplicably, drunk driving is increasing.

On Oct. 28 the state's traffic death toll stood at 2,830, nine under the same date last year. With only two more months left in the year, that doesn't look like much of an improvement.

But wholesale license suspensions began only in April, and at that time traffic deaths were running 12 per cent over the previous year.

If nothing had been done last spring, Gov. Edmund Brown maintains, the toll by Oct. 28 would have been 3,180 instead of 2,830.

"It means that 350 people are alive who wouldn't have been alive if we hadn't done something drastic," the governor says.

Both the state and the insurance companies are using demerit systems to rate drivers. They give one or more demerits for every "moving violation," each of which is reported by the courts to the State Motor Vehicles Department.

After a certain number of demerits, the Motor Vehicles Department suspends or revokes a driver's license or puts him on probation.

Using a different scoring system, many insurance companies give safe drivers reductions as high as 20 per cent on their auto insurance premiums, or penalties up to 100 per cent if their record is bad.

NO EXCEPTIONS

One feature of the state rules has raised a legal storm. The state automatically suspends for at least six months the license of any driver on his first conviction of misdemeanor drunk driving—and Gov. Brown has ordered no exceptions.

"To me the only hardship cases are those persons hurt by a drunk driver," says Brown.

Many judges, however, claim the administration has exceeded its authority, and a test case in which a judge restored a license after only 30 days faces appeal to higher courts.

Meantime, the Motor Vehicles Department continues to crack down.

In September it suspended 7,151 licenses for negligent operation. Another 1,346 were suspended six months for drunk driving.

The state scores two demerits for each conviction of drunk, hit-run or reckless driving or driving with a suspended or revoked license. Other moving violations and each traffic accident in which the driver is at fault counts one demerit.

★ ★ ★

Suspensions are ordered for four or more demerits in a year, six or more in two years, or eight or more in three years. The department says some leeway is allowed depending on circumstances.

★ ★ ★

The "safe driving insurance plan," adopted by most of the stock insurance companies in California last May, and substantially revised in June, operates like this:

Using the motor vehicle department's records, drivers get five demerit points for drunk driving, hit-run driving, homicide or assault arising out of motor vehicle operation, or driving with a suspended or revoked license.

ONE TO SIX POINTS

Reckless driving counts three points. Other moving violations and accidents, except those in which the driver was not at fault, count one point each.

Insurance premiums are set by adding up the demerit points for the previous two years. A clean slate gives the driver a 20 per cent reduction in the "basic rate." One point means a 10 per cent savings, while two points puts him at the "basic rate."

Three points adds 20 per cent to the premium, four points 40 per cent, five points 70 per cent, and six or more points 100 per cent.

The June revision of the plan changed many features which had aroused criticism. Originally one point was charged for any moving violation, no matter how grave. Accidents counted against a driver no matter who was at fault.

★ ★ ★

John J. Savage, assistant manager of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, says that the plan, as revised, has "achieved excellent acceptance from the public, the press and the agents."

Motor Vehicle Director Robert McCarthy, strongly critical of the insurance plan before it was revised, still declines to endorse it.

"It is my intention," McCarthy says, "to make pedestrians of people who go on violating the traffic laws, so that they will have no need at all for automobile insurance."

Red Fishermen Worry NATO

Soviet Vessel Is Doing More Than Trawling, Says Adm. Wright

WASHINGTON (AP) — Operation of Soviet fishing vessels in the North Atlantic "is a matter of great concern to us," NATO commander Adm. Jerauld Wright said Wednesday.

The fishing craft, he said, ostensibly are interested only in commercial fishing but "they are probably engaged in other activities" such as oceanographic surveys and other tasks of military importance.

Wright also said Soviet ballistic military submarines will pose a significant threat against nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization within a year.

By 1963, he continued, the ballistic submarine fleet being built by Russia will be "a serious threat."

"We have conclusive evidence," Wright said, "that they are showing an increased interest in the East Coast of North America, a key area and an industrial complex of the first importance, not only to America, but to our NATO alliance."

★ ★ ★

Wright, in a speech before a conference of NATO parliamentarians, also called for increased contributions by all NATO nations to defense of the vital sea lanes between North America and Europe.

"The defense of the Atlantic," he said, "is not a one or a two or a three-nation task. It is what we call an 'all hands job,' one to which all NATO nations can contribute."

The first wholly reinforced concrete building in the United States was erected in New York City in 1875.

U. of M. Reports Teaching Grads Double Since '54

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Dean Willard C. Olson of the school of education said today more than twice as many University of Michigan students are starting teaching careers as did five years ago.

He said the number of provisional teaching certificates awarded to U. of M. students has more than doubled from 387 in 1954 to 950 last year.

He attributed the increase to, among other factors, increasing economic rewards for teachers, uncertainty in the labor market and increased financial aid given to students who enter the teaching profession.

No two punches used by railway conductors are exactly alike in pattern or design or the perforation. Each is registered in the name of the conductor who uses it.

To Study Plans for New Schools

Waterford Board Will Discuss Two Proposed Additions to System

Plans for new school buildings in the Waterford Township School district will be the main topic at tonight's monthly Board of Education meeting.

★ ★ ★

Further discussion on preliminary plans for a new elementary school at Pontiac Lake and Hickory roads is on the agenda.

The Board will also consider purchase of the Pontiac Lake road property. Sonsumation of an option, and a pre-agreement for purchase is expected by Board members, according to Superintendent William Shunck.

There will be a continued review of preliminary plans for a second Waterford Township senior high school, to be located on a 50-acre site off Hatchery road at the end of Bender street.

A report and discussion on liability insurance for the school system will be presented to the Board.

Shunck will present recommendations on three new teacher contracts, and also discuss operational procedure involving payroll deduction of union dues for maintenance employes.

A request of parents living in the McVittie school area for solving the transportation problem for their children will also be part of the business meeting.

Thomas Turns 75 Tomorrow

Socialist Battler, Now Respected, Still Fights for Man's Dignity

NEW YORK (AP)—The old warrior of American socialism, Norman Thomas, turns 75 Friday.

And he's still doing what he has done most of his life—battling against poverty, injustice and war and speaking out for the dignity of man.

"It's what makes life worthwhile," he says.

About 800 persons prominent in American life attended a dinner Wednesday night to honor the trim, white-haired man with gentle eyes and resolute face—the irrepressible rebel.

In his long career, Thomas suffered six defeats as his party's presidential candidate.

In the past Thomas has been harshly criticized for his views—even pelted with rotten eggs and driven from platforms.

But a speaker at the dinner, Frank P. Graham, educator, former senator from North Carolina, said that for more than 50 years the country "has been trying to catch up" with Thomas' ideals—"only to find him on some farther front wherever are the most forgotten and disinherited people."

Surveying those years, Thomas found much to be happy for, but much still to be changed.

"Our affluent society here in America," he said, "has pockets of unnecessary and disgraceful poverty. And in its wealth even the more fortunate among us have not found inner peace."

"Our only hope, the only hope of generations yet unborn is a world without war," he said.

"The bitter irony," he added, "is that the hideous social and economic waste of the arms race is a major source of what we Americans call prosperity."

Dag Defends Probe Into Laos Trouble

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold today defended his nine-day mission to Laos against Soviet criticism as he took off for New York.

"What I have been doing here and my reason for this visit to Laos are entirely within the charter of the United Nations," he said. "And I think all the members are well aware of this."

Hammarskjold left behind a personal representative, Sakari Tuomioja of Finland, to study the economic needs of the restive Southeast Asian kingdom and act as a watchdog against Communist infiltration.

Red Atomic Chief Completes U.S. Tour

NEW YORK (AP)—Russia's atomic energy chief urges less competition and more cooperation between the United States and the Soviet Union in developing nuclear power for peaceful use.

Prof. Vaily S. Yemelyanov, chief of the Soviet administration for peaceful utilization of atomic energy, concluded yesterday a 15-day inspection tour of major atomic research centers in this country.

Yemelyanov, who was accompanied by nine other Soviet scientists, said he was impressed by what he saw here. He said, however, nuclear development should not be a race or a football game but a cooperative effort.

Brave Family Uses Nestegg, Enjoys Jaunt Around World

SEATTLE (AP)—At first glance Cecil Emery Jr., appears to be a typical average American.

He is 39, married the sweetheart he met at the YMCA here as a GI from Chicago in World War II, has four fine children, . . earns $100 a week as a telephone equipment maintenance man, has the usual worries of trying to make his paycheck stretch.

But look again. He is no ordinary guy.

With the approval of his lovely wife, Patricia, 36, he sold his house and all their belongings to finance a four-month trip around the world for his doting family. It cost them $5,500. Only a tiny nestegg is left.

Tuesday they finished this dream other tens of thousands only talk about.

★ ★ ★

"We wouldn't trade it for all the money in the world," said Emery and his wife, "and that's just about what we don't have any of."

There were nods of agreement from Jim, 16, John, 13, Linda, 10, and Tommy, 4.

Emery said that with a family his size and a modest income it was impossible to save for a world tour. The only thing they had was the equity in the home he built with his own hands over seven years.

A newspaper article last March about Australia excited their interest. They wrote the Australian consul in San Francisco and after an exchange of letters were told they would be welcome as permanent visitors.

"It just started to snowball," Emery explained. "First we said that if Australia would accept us as possible immigrants we'd go, if not to heck with it.

"Then when that came through we thought of selling the house. If it didn't go quickly we'd back out. A buyer snapped it right up.

★ ★ ★

"That was the big step. I got a six-month leave from my job. Then we sold our belongings — some at auction, some to our friends. When it was all over we had about $7,000—all the money we had in the world. We budgeted $5,000 for the trip, and almost kept to it."

★ ★ ★

A 30-day voyage by freighter, starting July 14, took them to Honolulu, the Fiji Islands, then Australia. They remained five weeks in Sydney. After that came a 43-day trip by passenger liner around Australia to Ceylon, India, Arabia, the Suez Canal, through the Mediterranean to Southern France, Gibraltar, and London.

The Emerys have moved in temporarily with his in-laws, but plan to start building another house on a lot they own.

"We're going to start planning right away for another trip," said Mrs. Emery. "We want to see the Orient and Africa.

"This itchy foot disease is incurable."

Another MSU Frat Gets Year's Probation

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Another fraternity chapter on the Michigan State University campus has been given a one-year probation status as a warning against violating campus rules, it was disclosed Tuesday.

Edward Reuling, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council, said the Sigma Nu Chapter was put on probation as the result of an apartment party during homecoming weekend.

Last week Zeta Beta Tau fraternity was placed on probation after two of its pledges were sprayed with paint by initiated members.

Inflow Far Exceeds Outgo to U. S.

Canada Bustles, Gets In Workers

OTTAWA (AP)—War and a bustling postwar boom have plugged the long-standing drain to the United States of Canadian youth and professional and skilled workers.

The answer: increased immigration.

Since the end of World War II, nearly 1,800,000 immigrants have been brought to Canada by a vigorous recruiting campaign in Europe.

Early immigrants to this sparsely populated country mainly were farmers who helped open the West. Today the newcomers include a large proportion of professional, skilled and semi-skilled workers.

"Immigration has built Canada," says the immigration minister, Mrs. Ellen Fairclough. "Immigrants will continue to be needed to make possible further Canadian development."

INFLOW BEATS OUTGO

Canada still supplies the United States with more professional and technical workers than any other country. But the inflow to Canada of trained immigrants has more than filled the gaps they left.

About 685 Canadian engineers went to the United States annually in 1953-57. The number of immigrant engineers into Canada averaged 2,000 for each of the five years.

During the same period, 150 doctors left annually for the United States, but 439 arrived yearly as immigrants. There were 350 teacher departures, 1,114 arrivals; for auditors and accountants the score was 225 against 458 newcomers.

Canada's expanding economy has taken much of the luster off the traditional American lure to Canadians seeking higher pay and greater opportunity.

The flow south of the border in the five years 1953-57 totaled only 141,949—a fraction of the 90,000 annual rush in the 1920s and before.

Up to 1951 Canada's population rise for a century was 95 per cent native born. While 7,100,000 immigrants arrived in that period, 6,600,000 persons emigrated, nearly all to the United States.

The postwar flood of newcomers has led native-born Canadians to worry about the possible competition for jobs, but immigration officials say only a relatively small proportion of immigrants seek employment in the open labor market.

For example, Mrs. Fairclough said only 13,900 of the 124,851 arrivals in 1958 could be classified as workers who competed for jobs. And many had training that filled a need, especially in newly settled remote areas where many Canadians refused to go.

The effect of the immigrants on the country's economy has been tremendous, according to government figures. Since 1950 many have become employers, establishing 2,358 small businesses that provided 9,000 jobs, for native Canadians as well as for other immigrants.

Between 1950 and the end of last year they bought 3,879 farms and rented 849 others totaling $43,647,500 in value.

Immigrants have made a substantial contribution to Canada's over-all wealth in another field. From 1946-1958 they brought into the country an estimated $800,000 in cash and securities and 300 million dollars in settlers' effects.

And in 1957 alone they paid about 190 million dollars in direct taxes and saved about 146 million dollars.

Prepares 4-H Clubbers for What Must Come

RIVERTON, Wyo. (AP)—A Riverton 4-H club had a talk and demonstration on whittling with a knife as the first half of a recent program.

The second half: "First aid for cuts."

1959 Turkeys Easy to Prepare

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

A week from today most of you readers will be cooking turkey. It will be the best turkey you've ever cooked, because the birds grown today are better than in the past.

Although turkey has become a year-round meat, it holds first place on the Thanksgiving table. If you have a large family or expect many guests, you will buy a big tom turkey. For smaller groups there are turkeys of various sizes. If there are just two of you, you may want to buy only a thigh or a breast, depending on the kind of meat you prefer.

You will probably buy a frozen turkey since most of the birds come to market that way now. Be sure to read the label, not only to see what kind of bird you're getting, but to see if any further directions are given.

At the end of this article we are reprinting directions for thawing, preparing and roasting whole turkeys. These directions come from the kitchens of a famous meat packing company.

AFTER CARE

As soon as dinner is over, remove all stuffing from the turkey and store it separately in the refrigerator. Cover the turkey with wax paper or foil and store it too. If you are going to freeze leftovers, package enough meat in each unit to make a meal. Reheat stuffing just once; then throw out any that is left.

If you're tackling your first turkey next week, we wish you the best of luck. If you've done it too many times to count, we hope this Thanksgiving you'll agree that the bird was the best you ever ate.

THAWING:

Thaw turkey in refrigerator. Allow 1 to 2 days for an 8 to 12 pound turkey, 2 to 3 days for a 12 to 20 pound turkey and 3 to 4 days for a 20 to 24 pound turkey. For quicker thawing, place under running cold water.

PREPARATION FOR ROASTING

Free legs and tail from tucked position. Remove neck from main cavity. Rinse turkey inside and out with cold water.

Season body and neck cavities with salt. Fill lightly with stuffing, allowing about ¾ cup stuffing per pound purchased weight. To shape bird, return legs and tail to tucked position. Fold neck skin to the back.

There are two ways to roast this turkey. Use an uncovered pan for an attractive turkey to be carved at the table. Use a covered pan to shorten the roasting time. The bird may be less attractive if cooked by this method.

The approximate roasting times given below were determined using dark enameled roasters. If the shiny light-colored pan is used it may be necessary to increase time as much as one hour.

HOW TO ROAST IN AN UNCOVERED PAN:

Place turkey breast side up on a rack in an open pan. Use no water nor cover. Spoon melted fat over turkey. Cover turkey lightly with aluminum foil or several thicknesses of cheesecloth.

Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) Use chart as a guide to the length of roasting time. See tests for doneness.*

Wgt. as Purchased.	Approx. Roast. T.
8 to 11 pounds	4¾ to 5¾ hours
11 to 14 pounds	5¾ to 6½ hours
14 to 18 pounds	6½ to 7¼ hours
18 to 24 pounds	7¼ to 8 hours

HOW TO ROAST IN A COVERED PAN:

Place turkey breast side up on a rack in the bottom of a roaster. Use no water. Cover with top of roaster. Roast in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) Use chart as a guide to the length of roasting time. See tests for doneness.*

If bird is not sufficiently brown at the end of roasting time, remove cover and continue roasting 15 minutes or until brown.

Wgt. as Purchased.	Approx. Roast. T.
8 to 11 pounds	2¾ to 3¼ hours
11 to 14 pounds	3¼ to 3¾ hours
14 to 18 pounds	3¾ to 4½ hours
18 to 24 pounds	4½ to 5½ hours

TESTS FOR DONENESS:

1. Protect thumb and forefinger with paper or cloth. Pinch thickest portion of drumstick. Meat should feel very soft.

2. Insert roast meat thermometer into center of stuffing. Temperature should be a minimum of 190 degrees F.

TO STORE: When the turkey has been roasted, serve within ½ hour. After service, remove the remaining stuffing and store the stuffing and the turkey separately in the refrigerator.

TO COOK NECK AND GIBLETS:

Simmer neck and giblets in salted water until tender, about ½ hour for the liver and 2 to 2½ hours for the neck, heart and gizzard.

BROWNED PERFECTION — Can't you just smell this perfectly browned turkey? You know that the knife will slice into the meat as easily as it would cut butter. Take your choice of light or dark meat. The turkeys of 1959 are the best ever produced.

You Name It— State Grows It

When a San Francisco housewife serves cherry pie, chances are it's made with Michigan cherries.

And when a Boston bride surprises her new spouse with a batch of cookies, it's odds on that their flavor comes from Michigan's white wheat flour.

According to Carlton G. Denton, plant superintendent for the Farm Crest Bakeries in Detroit, Michigan is a leading supplier of ingredients for bakeries across the country. In fact, state growers market such a variety of products, in such abundance, that local bakeries need buy only a few items from out-of-state suppliers.

"I don't know of any spices grown here," the Farm Crest executive said, "but just about everything else we use is Michigan grown."

Sugar beets, grown in Sanilac, Tuscola, Bay, Saginaw, Gratiot, and Clinton counties, are the prime ingredient for the bakeries, with fruits running a close second.

Kent, Ottawa, Allegan, Barry, Van Buren, Berrien, Macomb, Oakland, Leelanau, Benzie, Manistee, Mason, Oceana, and Ottawa counties are the leading fruit-growing areas, with apples, peaches, and cherries being the top products.

Eggs and other dairy products also are furnished to bakeries by Michigan sources.

"And in case you should overdo it," added Denton, "you can always stop by Presque Isle, a major producer of bicarbonate of soda, or Wyandotte, where much of the soda is processed."

Lowly Onion Receives Glamor Treatment

This savory California Walnut-Onion casserole might accompany your Thanksgiving turkey.

Peel and cook two pounds boiling onions (or drain 2 cans—1 pound each—whole small onions.) Turn into a buttered casserole and pour over a sauce of one can cream of mushroom soup, 1-3 cup light cream, two tablespoons sherry, and ½ cup California Walnuts, coarsely chopped (2-ounce saran bag).

Sprinkle top with ½ cup grated Swiss or Cheddar Cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes or until bubbly.

Green Beans Can Have a Tasty Sauce

Green beans can be flavorful as well as colorful on your dinner table. All it takes is a suitable sauce to transform green beans from a bland vegetable into a delicious side dish for your main course.

Try either of these two tasty sauces the next time you serve green beans. You'll find they'll be eaten instead of ignored.

Green Beans with Hot Mustard Sauce

½ teaspoon dry mustard.
½ teaspoon flour.
¼ teaspoon salt.
2 beaten egg yolks.
¾ cup milk, scalded.
2 tablespoons vinegar.
3 cups hot green beans.

Mix mustard, flour and salt in a double boiler. Add egg yolks and beat well. Add hot milk slowly and cook until thick. Add vinegar and stir slightly. Pour sauce over hot green beans. Yield: 6 servings.

Green Beans with Browned Butter Sauce

¾ cup butter.
2 tablespoons vinegar.

Heat butter until it turns a deep golden brown. Add vinegar and stir together. Pour over hot green beans. Yield: 6 servings.

Beef Hors d' Oeuvres Go Hawaiian

For hors d'oeuvres, TV snacks, and exciting new entrees your family or guests will love, try these bite-size portions of meat. Meat is always the most nourishing main dish for your family meals; here it is presented in an exciting new form. As hors d'oeuvres meat is the best possible appetite appeaser for a long cocktail hour. TV snacks of meat provide healthful body-building protein, as well as delicious refreshments, instead of the calorie-rich snacks that so often become a habit!

Little cubes or strips of beef are prepared with meat tenderizer to insure skewers of tender, juicy meat; bite-size meat balls are sprinkled with meat tenderizer just before cooking to reduce shrinkage and retain juices and flavor. They can be panfried, broiled or barbecued.

For serving as hors d'oeurves or snacks, use small individual skewers or toothpicks. A sauce such as the Hawaiian recipe given below is used for dipping the cooked meat to add a special touch of flavor.

TO PREPARE MEAT: Cut round, chuck, or rump steak into bite-size strips or cubes. Sprinkle all surfaces with seasoned meat tenderizer as you would salt; do not add salt. Work tenderizer in with sharp kitchen fork to insure penetration.

Let stand at room temperature 30 minutes. For meat balls, form lean ground beef into bite-size balls and sprinkle with seasoned meat tenderizer just before cooking. This keeps the meat balls full-sized and juicy.

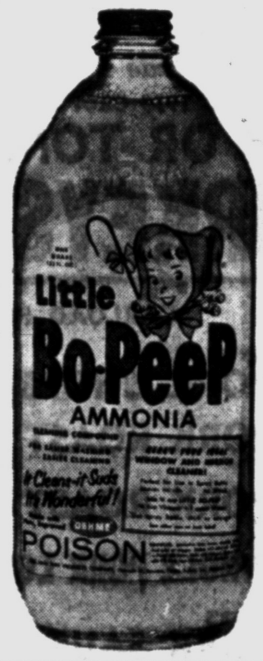

If you broil the meat, place it on quilted aluminum foil, then serve it hot right on the foil. For a patio party, or with a tiny indoor grill, have the prepared beef cubes, strips, or meat balls on skewers, so that each guest can barbecue him own to his taste.

Hawaiian Sauce

2 tablespoons butter or margarine.
1½ tablespoons flour.
1 cup milk.
1 clove garlic, pressed or minced.
1 piece fresh ginger root (1 inch long), grated.
1¾ teaspoons mild curry powder.
¾ teaspoon seasoned meat tenderizer.
2 tablespoons moist flaked coconut.
¼ teaspoon finely chopped crystallized ginger.

Melt butter in saucepan; blend in flour until smooth. Blend in milk a little at a time, stirring after each addition until smooth. Add garlic, ginger root, and curry powder. Simmer on very low heat until thickened. Add seasoned meat tenderizer, coconut, and chopped crystallized ginger just before serving. Serve hot.

An eggnog sweetened to taste with dark corn syrup makes a nutritious and tasty pick-up. Add a sprinkle of nutmeg for extra flavor.

Food for Thanksgiving Offered at Special Price

In anticipation of Thanksgiving Day, turkeys are again the outstanding feature in most markets. A complete line of other poultry are also on the good-buy list.

POULTRY: Turkey will be the "key cost" in most Thanksgiving dinners this year and many markets are featuring their holiday prices already. There is an abundance of small and medium sizes of birds and a slight scarcity of the larger birds this year, so prices are not at the low-low levels of a year ago.

★ ★ ★

Therefore, the difference in the cost per pound between the large and the small sizes is less than usual, though the larger turkeys are still the best values per serving—if you can stand the initial cost of the whole bird, if you can use the meat, or if you have storage space for leftovers. Markets are no longer differentiating in price between toms and hens.

Those who prefer smaller birds may also find the frozen stuffed turkeys, roasting chickens, geese and ducklings at more reasonable prices this week.

PORK: Heavy marketings have continued to drop hog prices to the lowest level in more than 3½ years. Such fresh cuts as loin roasts and chops are particularly low in cost. All varieties of smoked hams are being displayed at special prices for the holiday dinner. Roll and link sausage are good values and bacon prices have decreased to unusually low levels. Recent snows in the west may cause slight spurts in prices as farmers find it more difficult to get to market.

BEEF: Little change has occurred in the overall beef market and the tender-juicy standing rib roast appears to be the most popular feature for the holiday dinner. Ground beef may also be found at reduced prices for the budget menus which often precede the "big" meal.

FISH: Lake Erie perch continues to lead the list of good values in fresh fish.

There is also a good supply of smelt and such ocean fish as cod and halibut. Cold storage stocks of halibut are reported to be 20 per cent above a year ago. Medium and jumbo sizes of shrimp are still low in cost, but oysters are in short supply and higher in price than usual during this season.

EGGS AND DAIRY: Prices of the large Grade A eggs continue to slowly decline as production increases, but the medium sizes are still the best value. The difference in price between the large and medium sizes is still 10-12 cents per dozen, and when that difference becomes 8 cents or less the large sizes will be the better buy.

A wide variety of dairy specials are available this week. Butter, cream cheese, ice cream and both the vegetable shortening and the pure cream dessert toppings are good values. Remember that the pure cream toppings are slightly more in cost per ounce than the shortening toppings. All dairy biscuits are also being suggested for holiday menus and the first of the holiday eggnog has made its appearance.

VEGETABLES: All potato prices remain at about the same low levels of a week ago. Most of the Louisiana sweet potatoes are now kiln dried to allow longer storage life. This means that the prices on the kiln-dried are slightly higher—though they are less than a year ago because of the large acreage increases. Color and uniformity of size and quality are good.

Broccoli, Brussels sprouts and and celery are in ample supply to meet holiday demand. Heavy shipments of lettuce continue to bring low prices though caution should be taken in selection to avoid heads with decreased quality caused by rain and hail damage in the growing sections.

Parsnips are an economical choice in menu planning. Most stocks are now sold in bags and cost comparisons should be made between the bag sizes which run from one pound to 1½ pounds.

FRUIT: Michigan apples are still in good supply and low in price. The bulk of the movement is now coming from cold storage and prices have advanced fractionally to include storage costs. Banana imports and avocado shipments continue to be heavy and those fruits are good buys.

The Florida grapefruit and orange markets are slowly decreasing as supplies increase. California Valencia oranges are beginning to be replaced by the Navels. The quality of the early fruit is reported to be good though the development of color was slow due to cool weather. Tangerines and tangelas have made their appearance. Stocks of the Anjou pears are also increasing and the bulk of the new crop is reported to be in popular medium sizes.

Study Labels on Turkeys

This could be the year when you serve your family the finest turkey ever. It will be easy to do that, for two reasons: turkeys this year are like automobiles, in that each new model seems to be a little better than the good cars of last year; second, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has just issued a little purse-size folder that's packed with helpful ideas on "How to Buy Poultry by USDA Grades."

★ ★ ★

One of the first things to do is look for the Government grade label. Virtually all turkeys have been inspected for wholesomeness, and most of them also have been graded for quality. The grade mark, indicating quality, is shaped like a policeman's badge, or shield. The very finest, meatiest birds will be marked Grade A. Grade B birds usually are not so plump, or the skin may be broken, or they may have other defects.

In addition to giving you an indication, through the letters, as to how meaty the turkey may be, the USDA label also tells approximately how old the bird is, and whether it is a male or female.

★ ★ ★

Turkeys are labeled "Fryer-Roaster," which usually indicates a bird only three or four months old; "Young Hen" or "Young Tom," which would indicate usually a bird hatched last spring and marketed approximately six months later; or "Yearling" for a bird that has passed its first birthday. Many people believe that a hen is more tender than a tom, and it is generally accepted that a young hen or tom is more tender than a yearling.

TWO GRANDMOTHERS TORTE — Two Grandmothers Torte is a delicious and subtly flavored orange walnut torte. Crumbled bite-sized shredded rice biscuits add to the unusual flavor.

Orange Walnut Torte Is New Holiday Dessert

Two Grandmothers Torte — a delicious, light, orange walnut concoction — is for those families who prefer to concentrate on turkey and stuffing on Thanksgiving.

Oranges for Thanksgiving? Surely — as long ago as 1779, a New England family told of giving a rare and precious gift to the two grandmothers at the great feast. Each was presented with a golden orange. The rest of the family managed to get along on venison, pork, turkeys, pigeon pies and vegetables, to say nothing of many kinds of dessert pies and nuts.

That subtle, toasty caramel flavor is due to crumbled bit-size shredded rice biscuits combined with delicious ground walnuts. Make the torte layers early in the morning, or if more convenient, the day before. Since the orange filling is made with vanilla pudding, the to-be-cooked kind, it can be prepared quickly and stored in the refrigerator. Put the torte together just before dinner.

Though the two grandmothers received the most precious food gift of their day, we'd guess that they would have gladly traded them for just one bite of our delicious dessert.

Two Grandmothers Torte

6 medium eggs, separated (⅜ cup whites and ½ cup yolks)
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
3 tablespoons orange juice
½ cup sifted enriched all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon mace
1 cup finely ground walnuts
3 cups bite-size shredded rice biscuits crushed to 1 cup crumbs

Heat oven to moderate (350 degrees). Butter sides of two 9-inch cake pans. Dust with cereal crumbs. Line bottoms with wax paper.

Beat yolks until light. Add ¼ cup sugar gradually. Beat until thick and lemon colored. Beat in orange rind and juice. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and mace. Add walnuts and cereal crumbs. Combine with yolk mixture.

Beat egg whites until foamy. Add ¼ cup sugar gradually, Beat until stiff but not dry. Fold in yolk-crumb mixture. Spoon into pans. Bake 40-45 minutes or until top springs back when touched lightly.

After 5 minutes, remove from pan. Cool. Spread orange sauce between layers and on top of torte.

Orange Tea Sandwiches

Cream cheese flavored with orange peel and finely chopped nuts is an ideal filling for "substantial" tea sandwiches. Make up your favorite recipe for cinnamon, date-nut or orange bread for the base. Cut into horizontal layers; spread with cream cheese filling. Refrigerate until serving time.

Yogurt in Dessert Gives New Flavor

A nutritious gelatin dessert that is a bright pink color!

Molded Strawberry Dessert

1 package (10 ounces) frozen sliced strawberries
Boiling water
1 package (3 ounces) strawberry-flavored gelatin dessert
1 container (8 ounces) plain yogurt.

Thaw strawberries; drain thoroughly; there should be about ½ cup juice. Add enough boiling water to the strawberry juice to make 1½ cups; reheat so mixture will be hot enough to dissolve gelatin but do not boil. Pour hot strawberry mixture over gelatin; stir to dissolve; cool.

Whisk in yogurt until blended. Put the drained strawberries into individual molds; add gelatin mixture. Cover and chill until set. Unmold just before serving. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Peanut Waffles

CHICAGO (UPI)—Dessert waffles are extra good made with peanuts. Prepare batter from your favorite mix. Add ¼ cup of chopped unsalted peanuts to mix, shake well and bake to a golden brown. Serve with vanilla ice cream and chocolate sauce.

Master Your Tensions

Knock Down the Fences

By George S. Stevenson, M.D. and Harry Milt

Because of the uncertainties of life today, and because of the competitive atmosphere in which we live, there is a tendency for people to be on guard, to be concerned about "being taken" and "pushed around."

In the T. Company office the management noticed that for a number of months employe morale was very poor.

Quarreling, bickering, fault-finding—but no one could understand why. The firm had a good personnel policy, yet the employes were miserable and tense.

Finally a consultant firm was called in. It traced the trouble to a single supervisor who had come to work a few months before. He had worked with a firm where the "dog-eat-dog" rule prevailed. He had had to fight for survival and so he used the same tactics here — complain, criticizing, talebearing, back-stabbing.

To defend themselves, other supervisors adopted similar tactics. Employes working under these supervisors didn't know what it was all about but they began to squabble too. Tension spread like a plague. The problem was resolved when the supervisor left, undoubtedly to spread the disease elsewhere.

THREAT CONTAGIOUS

We don't have to accept mutual fear and suspicion and tension as inevitable. Each one of us can take action to make our surroundings safer for the other fellow and in that way safer for ourselves. Threat and tension are contagious, but so are assurance and cooperation.

One thing you can do is to reassure the people with whom you associate that you are no threat to them. Be the first to make other people welcome and accepted.

At social gatherings or at meetings don't wait for the host or chairman to introduce you. Walk over and introduce yourself. Ask the newcomer about himself, his community, his work. Three or four people doing this at a gathering can spread a wonderful feeling of ease and friendliness.

MAYBE YOU DO THREATEN

On the job, you can assure others you are no threat by being friendly, by being interested in what they are doing and by complimenting them on the job they've done.

Some people find it difficult to give compliments. They feel envious and resentful about the accomplishments of others. If you feel that way, your attitude does constitute a threat to others. The way to get over it is to make an extra effort to make people feel the warmth of your appreciation.

Conflict between people very often starts for no good reason. Jim, in a bad mood, interprets something Joe does as an affront. So Jim says, "I'll show you!" and goes ahead and does something to get back at Joe. The war is on.

If you find yourself in a situation like this, you can continue the senseless feud and take the consequences. Or you can do something about breaking it up.

If someone in your place of business thinks you're out gunning for him, don't just let it go. Let the other fellow know you've got nothing against him.

It can save you endless aggravation and tension. The thing to remember is this:

Someone who makes trouble for others generally does so because he's afraid. If you can help reduce his fear, you will make things easier for yourself.

Another way to reduce friction is to give the other fellow a break, particularly on minor issues. The mad race to excel generally begins with matters of importance but then spreads to trivialities.

Think of all the friction created every day by the rush for bus seats, the stampedes at bargain counters, the dash for parking space. The advantage may amount to only a minute or two or a dime or two, yet the anger generated is greater even in some cases than the emotion created by a serious crisis.

HELP OTHERS

The urge to hold on to every advantage cuts two ways. In its immediate effect, it may hurt only the victim. But it doesn't stop there. The victim becomes angry and retaliates—at the one who has hurt him, or at others through displaced anger. This creates additional "victims."

★ ★ ★

Also, think of the times people have asked you for a favor, and the times you have said no.

Virginia and Ben used to argue about this all the time. Ben would never stop to help a driver whose car had stalled. Virginia insisted that they ought to.

Eventually, Ben changed, but not before his own car broke down in the middle of a New Mexico desert road, and he had to wait two hours in the broiling sun before another motorist stopped to help him.

Another very common source of tension is the unwillingness to give in in a controversy. Insistence that you're always right is a childish trait that's guaranteed to give you a lifetime supply of tension.

Allen had the problem of being obstinate about the things he believed in. But for him the solution wasn't easy. He always had to be right to cover up the basic feeling of doubt about himself. If he shouted long enough, insisted hard enough, and did things exactly the way he wanted, people would believe him, admire him, and accept him as a wise person. But instead his tactics got him into quarrels, and lost him friends. Finally he went for psychiatric help, and one of the first benefits he got from treatment was the ability to say: "It's possible I could be wrong."

★ ★ ★

Another way to reduce tension between yourself and others is to come out of your shell and learn more about other people, to eliminate the suspicion and fear which comes from not understanding.

DON'T FENCE SELF IN

More than 100 years ago, Glen McN. settled in the Adirondack wilderness, five miles from the nearest neighbor. A great-grandson bearing the very same name, still lives in the house his great-grandfather built.

In the intervening years, many neighbors have moved to his mountain, new towns and new roads have come. But Glen McN. behaves as though he is surrounded by nothing but wilderness and as though he has to protect himself against other human beings the way his great-grandfather had to protect himself against wild animals.

The trait of self-isolation is not peculiar to Mr. McN. or to mountain people. Millions of people have it who live in the heart of large cities, yet keep themselves apart, suspicious and fearful of those who look, speak, think and dress differently than they do.

Self-imposed boundaries isolate them; "You can't trust those Catholics, Jews, Protestants, Italians, Germans. You have to be careful about those Northerners. You have to watch out for those Southerners."

Or the boundaries may be set up against people in general, as the result of having it drummed into your head that you "just can't trust anybody at all."

Regardless of what it is that makes you feel this way, you can be sure that so long as you continue to maintain this self-imposed isolation and stay inside your shell, you will continue to provide yourself with a constant source of tension.

Over 50 Cases of Chicken Pox Reported Here

More than 50 cases of chicken pox have been reported in Oakland County over the past few weeks, the county Department of Health announced today.

Five instances of the disease occurred during the last week of October, 25 cases the following week and 21 cases last week.

Six cases of chicken pox were reported this week in Pontiac.

The Health Department also reported a total of 37 cases of polio in Oakland County to date this year. At this time last year there were 59 cases reported. The total number of polio cases in 1958 was 66.

Envisions 20 Million Economy Cars

Gas Mileage a Third Better

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—A one-third increase in gasoline mileage of all cars and at least 20 million economy cars capable of 25 miles per gallon were envisioned here today by a Chrysler Corp. vice president.

★ ★ ★

Harry E. Chesebrough, who heads Chrysler's Plymouth-DeSoto-Valiant Division, told the Mobilgas dealers convention he was confident about the number of economy cars and "wouldn't be a bit surprised" about the increase in gasoline economy for all cars by 1970.

Chesebrough said he expected the total number of cars on the road to increase by 24 million by 1970 and at least 20 million of these would be economy cars.

Continued improvements in fuel, engine and transmission efficiency of all cars by 1970 will increase the average fuel economy of all cars, he said.

"It wouldn't surprise me a bit to find the average fuel consumption of all cars in 1970 a full third less than it is at present," he said.

Four U. of M. Alumni Will Receive Awards

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Four distinguished alumni of the University of Michigan have been named winners of outstanding achievement awards.

The awards will be presented to Chester M. Campbell, president of The Chicago Tribune; Herold Hunt, a Harvard University professor; Dr. Charles W. Shilling, deputy director of the Biology and Medicine Division of the Atomic Energy Commission; and George E. Holbrook, vice president of the E. I. DuPont Co.

Presentation will be made Saturday night by University President Harlan Hatcher.

Kiwanis Club Gives $1,000 for City Park

The North Kiwanis Club has donated its third gift of $1,000 to the city for improvement of North Kiwanis Park at Stanley avenue and Emiry streets.

★ ★ ★

The money will go into playground and picnicking equipment next summer, said David R. Ewalt, director of the Parks & Recreation Department.

The club is one of several in the city that has shouldered improvement of park sites. The city matches equally any private donations.

★ ★ ★

North Kiwanis Club took over improvement of the Stanley-Emiry site three years ago and since has donated $1,000 yearly.

Modern veterinary practices are believed to date from the establishment of a veterinary school opened in the city of Lyons, France, in 1761.

Pumpkin Praline Pie

Baked with the one BEST flour for tender, flaky, golden brown crusts

Bottom crust stays dry and delicate, separated from the spicy pumpkin-custard filling by a crunchy praline layer of pecans, brown sugar and butter. Traditional yet so deliciously different . . . from Pillsbury's BEST.

PUMPKIN PRALINE PIE

Adapted by Ann Pillsbury

BAKE at 450° for 10 min., then at 350° for 50 to 60 min. MAKES 9-inch pie.

Sift together.....1 cup sifted Pillsbury's BEST All Purpose Flour and ½ teaspoon salt into mixing bowl.
Cut in.....½ cup shortening until particles are fine.
Sprinkle....3 to 4 tablespoons cold water over mixture while stirring with fork until dough is moist enough to hold together.
Form.....into a ball. Flatten to ½-inch thickness; smooth edges.
Roll out.....on floured surface to a circle 1½ inches larger than inverted 9-inch piepan. Fit into pan. Fold edge to form a standing rim; flute.
Combine...½ cup finely chopped pecans
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
3 tablespoons soft butter; press into bottom of pie shell. Prick sides with fork.
Bake.....at 450° for 10 minutes. Cool 2 minutes.

Pumpkin-Custard Filling

Combine....in mixing bowl
3 slightly beaten eggs
½ cup sugar
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 tablespoons flour
¾ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon cloves and
¼ teaspoon mace.
Add.....1½ cups pumpkin, cooked or canned; mix well.
Gradually add.....1½ cups hot light cream; blend well. Pour into pie shell.
Bake.....at 350° for 50 to 60 minutes until a knife inserted halfway between center and edge of filling comes out clean. Cool.

*For use with Pillsbury's BEST Self-Rising Flour, omit salt in pastry. Decrease water to 2 to 3 tablespoons.

18th District Meets at Central Methodist

Broomfield Speaks to WCTU Here

Congressman William S. Broomfield was guest speaker at the eighth annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, 18th district, held this week at Central Methodist Church.

Presiding at the morning and afternoon sessions was Mrs. Joseph Green, district president.

Greetings were extended to the assembly by Mrs. Nellie Monroe, president of the Pontiac Federation of the WCTU. The district vice president, Mrs. Corrine Perkins, gave the response.

Dr. Milton H. Bank, pastor of the host church, welcomed the delegates and friends to the conference.

Mrs. William Carls led group singing, Mrs. John Veneman was piano accompanist. Mrs. Sadie Patten led the pledge to the American, Christian and Temperance Union flags.

Prayers were offered by Mrs. John J. Little, honorary president, and Mrs. Mary Wood of the Mary Morton WCTU Chapter.

During the business session the following officers were elected: Mrs. George Perkins of Royal Oak, president; the Rev. Mrs. Lola Marion of Pontiac, vice president; Mrs. Vivian Young, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Ruth Mason, treasurer.

Circle Has Meeting

The Rebecca Circle of Oakland Park Methodist Church met Wednesday evening at the Perry street home of Mrs. Lee Murphy.

Mrs. Paul Allen and Mrs. Bessie Slaybaugh directed the program.

Mrs. James W. Deeg was a guest.

Next meeting will be a Christmas party Dec. 16 at Mrs. Slaybaugh's Glenwood avenue home.

Mrs. Green, president for 17 years, received a gift from the incoming president.

A memorial service for former members was conducted by Mrs. Barton E. Smith of the Birmingham Union. Presidents of the unions extinguished a candle for each member who died during the past year.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Warren Lincoln of Detroit was soloist for the morning session. Accompanist was Mrs. Charles Cameron. Mrs. George Putnam of Pontiac was afternoon soloist.

The Rev. Mrs. Marion was in charge of devotions.

A chorus of 11 women of the Mary Morton Chapter sang "Lead Me" and "How Great Thou Art," accompanied by Mrs. Sarah Gary.

Making brief remarks at the luncheon were Daniel T. Murphy Jr., clerk-register of Oakland County, and Frederick Ziem, Oakland County prosecutor.

Young People With Symphony

Two talented young musicians, still students in high school are members of Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, preparing for their second program of the season Dec. 8.

Darwyn Apple, who attends Cass Technical High School in Detroit, is in the violin section for the second year. He won recognition at the National Music Camp at Interlochen this past summer as concertmaster of the All-State High School Orchestra and has been awarded an eight-week scholarship to the camp next year.

★ ★ ★

A violin student since he was eight, Darwyn has played in in the Cass Technical High School Orchestra and the All-City Orchestra in Detroit. He is a pupil of Jack Boesen, concertmaster of the Pontiac orchestra.

Playing the bassoon with the Symphony is another outstanding high school student, Sheila Murphy, who lives in Keego Harbor.

She is secretary of the Senior Class at West Bloomfield High School where she plays saxophone in the school band.

She also received an Interlochen Music Camp scholarship during 1958.

★ ★ ★

Last summer, Sheila shared the home of a family in Hedemora, Sweden, as an American Field Service representative.

This honor recognizes leadership, responsibility and academic achievement.

The orchestra will perform with the nationally known pianist, Emma Endres-Kountz, guest soloist.

Music Award Winners to Give Guild Concert

Iris Bala, mezzo soprano, and Karen Louise Taylor, pianist, winners of Grinnell Scholarship Awards, will present the musical program at the Cranbrook Music Guild Concert at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

A native of Windsor, Miss Bala is the winner of the $2,500 Grinnell Operatic Scholarship and a senior at the Juilliard School of Music. She studies with Edith Piper in the Opera Theater.

Miss Bala received her early training at the Western Conservatory of Music in London, Ont. and the Royal Conservatory of Toronto.

★ ★ ★

Other awards include the Gail Chamock Scholarship for talent at Juilliard, and the top scholarship at the Windsor Music Festival.

Lorraine Farina, Windsor pianist, will accompany the soloist in her program of arias and songs by Gluck, Mozart, Handel, Brahms and Faure.

A senior student of Professor Dexter at the University of Michigan, Miss Taylor won the Alfred Lockwood Scholarship for outstanding talent at the University School of Music as well as the Grinnell Piano Scholarship Award.

She made her debut with the Detroit Summer Symphony in 1958 and has appeared as soloist with the Michigan Youth Symphony. Her program will include works by Bach-Busoni, Liszt-Siloti and Ravel.

★ ★ ★

Assisting at the coffee table will be Mrs. Ronald Kasperzak, Mrs. John E. Graham, Mrs. Charles Himeloch and Mrs. Marshall Fredericks.

Hosts for the evening, identified by white boutonnieres, will include Mr. and Mrs. John E. Dinkeloo, the Ronald Diemers, the Phillip McHughs and Mr. and Mrs. James T. Baldwin.

Crofoot PTA to See New Math Methods

Mrs. C. L. Baker's first grade will demonstrate an experimental arithmetic program at the Crofoot School PTA meeting and open house at 7:30 tonight in the multipurpose room.

Classrooms will be open for inspection and parents will have an opportunity to discuss their children's work with teachers.

Serving refreshments will be Mrs. John Eddy, Mrs. Burton Waston, Mrs. Harold Stickley and Mrs. Donald Tracey, all mothers of students taught by Theresa Brookins and Mrs. Baker.

Welcoming parents to the school will be Lewis A. Crew, administrative intern.

Luncheon Hostess

Mrs. H. E. McCulloch of Silverhill road was hostess at a luncheon Tuesday for the January-March Group of the First Presbyterian Church.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Avery Shearer and Mrs. L. V. McCann.

Mrs. W. J. Baumgartner presented the Bible study on "The Spirit Speaks to the Church."

Members were asked by Mrs. Smith Falconer, who presided, to bring garments and toys to the Dec. 15 meeting at the home of Mrs. John Main of Bloomfield Hills.

The gifts will be sent to the National Mission School in Ganado, Ariz.

Have Some Spare Time?

Visitors Are Needed

The Friendly Visitors, a program geared to provide friendly visiting and companionship for the aged confined to their homes, will begin at 10:30 a.m. Monday with a 60-minute orientation and registration session in the Community Services Building on Franklin boulevard.

Men and women willing to devote a little time each week are invited.

Mrs. William Miller of Elizabeth Lake road, chairman, requests phone reservations be made to the United Fund office by 5 p.m. Friday.

The program, under the auspices of the newly reorganized Women's Division of the Pontiac Area United Fund, has been started because of the increasing number of requests for volunteer service of this type.

★ ★ ★

"We would like to start with a group of dedicated people who are willing to give of their own time each week so that an aged person may have companionship. Our Friendly Visitors will read, write letters, drive and complete minor errands for the person all with one intention—to care about the person and be a friend," Mrs. Miller said.

Parents, Teachers in Meeting

The Parent-Teacher Fellowship of Emmanuel Christian School met Tuesday evening at the school.

The group decided to purchase books for the school library and athletic equipment.

★ ★ ★

Speech students of the 7th and 8th grades presented a scriptural choral reading.

An organ solo, "Meditation" by Ethel Smith, was presented by Kenneth Brown.

The Rev. Herbert Noe, a former instructor at the school, gave a short devotional message on Thanksgiving.

Sue Foley—Quite a Horsewoman

If you were just 16 and making your first appearance in the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden, you'd probably feel "so scared" too.

Even if your name were Sue Foley and you had the luck of the Irish . . . even if your beautiful bay gelding were Irish too, name of Duffy, and your Mom and Dad were there, giving you confidence with their steady shining pride.

★ ★ ★

Sue, of Willow Lane, Birmingham, knew these feelings on a recent weekend when she rode her green hunter mount whose show name is Bantry Bay to saddle class blue ribbon in the junior hunter event.

A sterling silver trophy and $50 accompanied the blue ribbon. Unlike most teen-agers, Sue had no plans at the moment for her prize money.

Lithe and willowy, Sue epitomized the out-of-doors. Her brown tweeds and blue shirt echoed her brown hair and blue eyes.

SHE'S INTENSE

Beneath the well-bred restraint of her manner was a single-purposed intensity as she told of riding her five-year-old green mount in three events at the Garden.

She explained that "green" does not refer to the fact that Duffy is from Ireland, but that this is only his second year of showing.

★ ★ ★

She found Duffy through Bob Egan, her coach for the past year and a half, who prepared her to qualify for the American Horse Show Assn. competition last summer in St. Louis. His efforts were well repaid when Sue took her first at the Garden over 60 entries from all over the country.

★ ★ ★

Usually Sue rides with the Bloomfield Open Hunt. It was here at the age of 8 that she first began riding lessons under Violet Hopkins.

Showing horses spurred her on to become a talented horsewoman. Everybody in her family shares an interest in riding. Her father, Paul Foley, executive vice president of the McCann Erickson advertising agency, is an enthusiastic horseman.

So is brother Peter 12, who is an accomplished performer on his mount Leprechaun. Sister Jane, 8, is learning the fundamentals of showing. Though Mrs. Foley does not ride, she is the necessary ingredient in a family interest of this sort.

MOM DRIVES, WATCHES

"Mother drives us everywhere and watches," grinned Sue.

Duffy has four white socks and a white blazed face. "He's quick to learn and a good horse to work with," said Sue, "but he has a devilish Irish streak when it's cold."

Describing the singleness a rider and horse achieve in working together, Sue said, "By the time you get into the ring, you are working as a unit — good or bad."

Sue rides at least an hour every night she can. An 11th grader at Convent of the Sacred Heart, Bloomfield Hills, she is pursuing the usual busy course of a girl her age.

★ ★ ★

But for Sue, the accent is on horses . . . even on a bleak November day when the temperature doesn't make the 20's . . . even with a devilish mount who considers cold weather a personal challenge.

Teen-Agers Dig Old Time Jazz Musicians

By EUGENE GILBERT

The old masters of American jazz are still the favorites of American teen-agers.

We asked more than 600 youngsters to pick their favorite jazz musicians, and this is the musical group they put together:

On the trumpet, Louis Armstrong; clarinet, Benny Goodman; trombone, J. J. Johnson; tenor sax, Stan Getz; alto sax, Paul Desmond; baritone sax, Gerry Mulligan; bass, Ray Brown; at the piano, Erroll Garner; and on the drums, Gene Krupa.

In earlier surveys, teen-agers named Ricky Nelson and Connie Francis as their favorite vocalists, Marlon Brand and Debbie Reynolds as their favorite movie stars.

There is every evidence that teen-agers know their jazz and their jazz musicians.

There is a rendency to associate teen-agers with Rock 'n' Roll when it comes to music. But Rock 'n' Roll actually is decreasing in popularity.

Careful examination of the top hits in our top 20 records chosen each week by teen-agers discloses very few that are true Rock 'n' Roll. Most are jazz.

There is also evidence of a growing-up process in the normal young person's musical taste. Rock 'n' Roll appeals primarily to the preteener and the young teen-ager. At about 14 or 15, he suddenly becomes enthusiastic about jazz.

Jazz, the musical heartbeat of America, seemed to decline in popularity in the years after World War II. But today it has climbed to a new popularity.

In the last year jazz concerts have grown tremendously all over the country. In major cities, these concerts were sellouts or had an attendance beyond the promoter's most optimistic prediction. Most of the attendance was comprised of college and high school students.

In our poll we found many teen-agers who can identify a jazz musician on a new record simply by his technique, just as they can identify a baseball player by his batting stance.

The most surprising thing about our poll was the popularity of the older musicians. In the trumpet voting, for example, the modern great, Miles Davis, was in fourth spot.

Here's how the voting went:

THE DETAILED SCORES

TRUMPET: Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong cornered 51 per cent of the votes. Dizzy Gillespie ran a distant second with 16 per cent. Jonah Jones got 10 per cent of the votes and Miles Davis 8.

CLARINET: Benny Goodman also was a big winner with 51 per cent, trailed by another all-timer, Woody Herman, with 12. Pee Wee Russell was third with 7 per cent.

TROMBONE: J. J. Johnson got 22 per cent of the votes while Bob Brookmeyer got 10 and Kai Winding 9.

TENOR SAX: Voting wasn't as heavy in the less familiar sax departments. Stan Getz was chosen all-star tenor man with only 16 per cent. Charlie Ventura was second with 11 and Coleman Hawkins third with 8.

ALTO SAX: Paul Desmond got 14 per cent of the vote, Johnny Hodges 11 and Lee Konitz 6.

BARITONE SAX: This was a runaway victory for Gerry Mulligan, who got 41 per cent of the vote. Bud Shank, his nearest competitor, got only 6 per cent.

BASS: Ray Brown nosed out Oscar Pettiford, 9 per cent to 8.

PIANO: Erroll Garner took the all-star rating with 26 per cent of the vote. Dave Brubeck was second with 14, Ahmad Jamal third with 8, Count Basie fourth with 7 and Duke Ellington fifth with 6.

DRUMS: Gene Krupa received 26 per cent of the votes. Shelly Manne was second with 9 per cent. Cozy Cole and Buddy Rich each got 7 per cent.

We also asked the teen-agers to pick their favorite instrumental combo. The voting was close.

The Modern Jazz Quartet was first with 13 per cent of the votes cast. The Miles Davis Sextet was second with 8, Dukes of Dixieland next with 6 and the Chico Hamilton Quintet fourth with 4 per cent.

Real Home Looks Less Than Perfect

By RUTH MILLETT

If you want your house to be a home —

Don't try to be a perfect housekeeper. There is always some clutter in a house that is really lived in, where guests are always welcome, and where no hobby is too messy if it gives pleasure to a member of the family.

Don't strive so hard for an "effect" in choosing furniture and appointments for a room that you overlook comfort and convenience.

Don't be such a stickler for routine that you can't fall in with spur-of-the-moment plans — or take time out from your work to entertain the unexpected guest.

Don't be the kind of housekeeper who can't sit down to rest without noticing that the draperies are beginning to fade, or that a window needs washing, or that a picture isn't quite straight. If you can't relax in your own home, nobody else can.

Don't worry so much over possessions that you don't enjoy using them. If they are too good to use, there's not much point in giving them house room.

Give your house such warm and inviting touches as flowers growing in pots, logs burning in the fireplace, music coming from a radio or TV set, tantalizing fragrances coming from the kitchen, sunshine pouring in through opened draperies.

Make your welcome warm to anyone who comes through your door, whether it is a member of the family, a friend, or neighbor.

Don't be afraid to let your house reflect your taste, and your family's interests and enthusiasms. A house seems much more homelike if you can tell when you walk through it what its occupants are interested in.

Bake Sale

MRS. CHARLES W. CHANDLER

Pauline Vonda Nelson of Salt Lake City, Utah, is the bride of Charles W. Chandler, son of the Charles S. Chandlers of Ferndale avenue. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Nelson of Salt Lake City.

Charles Chandler Is Wed

Residing in Long Beach, Calif., are newlyweds Mr and Mrs. Charles William Chandler who exchanged vows in a nuptial Mass at Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church, Salt Lake City, Utah.

The ceremony was performed by Msgr. Patrick Maguire. His Eminence, Bishop of Salt Lake, presented the couple with a rosary blessed by Pope John XXIII.

★ ★ ★

The bride, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry William Nelson of Salt Lake City, has resided with her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Erdman of Salt Lake City. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Chandler of Ferndale avenue.

Given in marriage by M.G. Webb, the bride wore a floor length Chantilly lace gown and a Queen Anne crown with a veil of imported illusion.

Bridesmaids Ann Moody and Patricia Nielson and maid of honor Elizabeth Marie Angeuine wore matching gowns of mint green taffeta with chiffon back panels.

Ruben Jimenez was best man. Ushers were Leroy Bates of Corona, Calif., and Joseph Seaver of Salt Lake City.

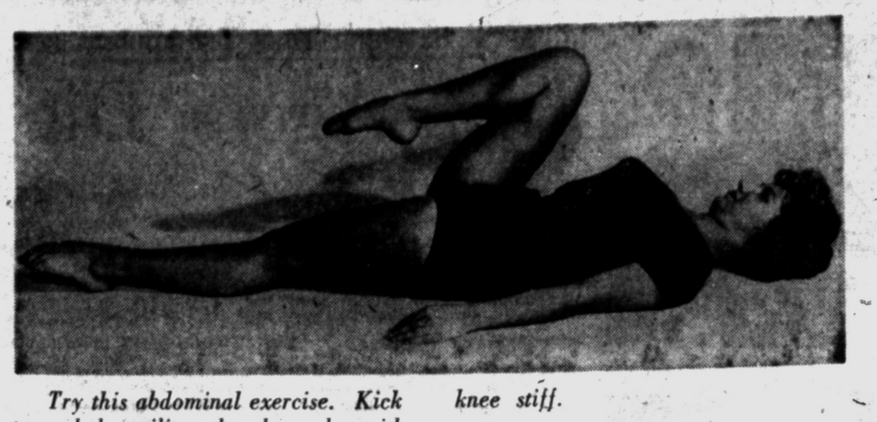

Mrs. Erdman wore a petal pink gray lace dress with white accessories. Mrs. Chandler selected a rose beige lace and satin dress with matching accessories. Both wore golden harvest carnation corsages.

A wedding breakfast and evening reception for 100 guests were held.

Mr. Chandler, a University of Utah mechanical engineering graduate, recently was discharged from the Navy where he served three years as a lieutenant junior grade. The bride was graduated from St. Mary of the Wasatch College, Salt Lake City.

Delight to Behold

Sight plays an important role in tempting appetites. An attractive meal combines foods that contrast in color, texture and flavor.

Try this abdominal exercise. Kick toward the ceiling, then lower leg with knee stiff.

For Health, Beauty

Strengthen Those Muscles

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Most persons know little about their intestinal tract and care less until it gives them trouble. This may come in the form of indigestion, ulcers, constipation or colitis.

The large intestine, or the colon, is a human tube through which food waste should pass without difficulty. The horizontal line of the colon from right to left should be straight across. It should not sag. I do not know why nature did this to us but there are three places were the colon bends sharply; at the right side of the horizontal line, at the left side of the horizontal line and far down in the left hand corner of the abdomen.

If the abdominal muscles are weak and bulging, the angle of these bends increases, and a new one even may be added. This causes trouble.

It is interesting to note how closely correlated food always has been with happiness and success. We are told that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach and that an army travels on its stomach. It is a well-accepted fact now that many cases of intestinal disturbance such as colitis come from emotional disturbances. We know that worry can cause ulcers. We seem to take out our frustrations on our intestinal tract.

We should not further handicap it, then, by putting kinks in it because of weak abdominal muscles. The condition of these affects not only your figure but your health. Regular exercise will strengthen these important supports and also take inches from your abdominal measurement.

Try this one. Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor at your sides. Bend the left knee up close to the abdomen. Kick toward the ceiling and lower left leg to the floor with a stiff knee. Bend the right knee and do the same. Continue, alternating left and right.

If or when your abdominal muscles are strong enough, take the same starting position but bend BOTH knees up close to the abdomen. Straighten both legs toward the ceiling. Lower both legs to the floor, keeping the knees stiff. Continue.

Remember that a lazy colon is one of the factors which contributes to constipation.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Are You Committing Suicide Slowly?" (constipation) send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 23. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Hear Decorating Talk

Mrs. Robert Nelson was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Child Study Club, Group III, at her home on Ottawa drive. Assisting were Mrs. Richard Heymann, Mrs. Walter Godsell and Mrs. Roy Corwin.

Mrs. Carolyn Schrock of the Cooperative Extension service of Michigan State University discussed six principles of interior decorating. They include unity, emphasis, balance, repetition, proportion and harmony.

★ ★ ★

"The best selling color this season is beige," Mrs. Schrock told her audience. "Yellow also is becoming popular and there is a trend toward white walls and carpeting."

Attending as guests were Mrs. Eddie O'Brien, Mrs. William Belaney, Mrs. Philip Rowston and Mrs. Robert Shorey.

Dear Abby:

Homework Shouldn't Take Till 12

DEAR ABBY: Why do teachers nowadays give the kids so much homework that an 11-year-old child has to sit up until midnight to get it all done? Don't tell me that we have to keep up with Russia because if we never get to the moon it will be all right with me.

ABBY

I think it is terrible the way our kids can't play outside in the fresh air any more. They come right home and have to start in with their homework.

I have three children (11, 13 and 16) so I know what I'm talking about.

They are all up studying at very late hours and when I have to wake them up at 6:30 in the morning they are dead tired. Can't something be done about teaching the children at school so that they won't have all that homework to ruin their health?

MOTHER OF THREE

DEAR MOTHER: The average 11-year-old shouldn't have to sit up until midnight doing homework — unless of course he doesn't get to it until 10:30 p.m. Go to school and talk to your children's teachers. I think you'll find that the child who is well organized and doesn't dawdle, has plenty of time for playing outside as well as finishing his homework at a reasonable hour.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: For obvious reasons I don't want to get too specific here, but I would like to know to whom a citizen reports a policeman who has been seen breaking the law repeatedly?

WITNESS

DEAR WITNESS: The County Attorney.

DEAR ABBY: Please help a very unhappy 16-year-old girl out with her problem. I have been begging my mother for three years to let me shave my legs. She says once you start, you can't stop, and there is no sense in rushing things. But, Abby, I am a brunette, and my legs are so hairy I feel like a gorilla.

I read in a magazine article once that a person CAN stop shaving if they want to. Who is right? The magazine article or my mother? I hate to go to school looking like this. Can you help me convince my mother?

HAIRY

DEAR HAIRY: Yes, a person CAN stop shaving any time he wishes. But the hair will keep right on growing. It is my opinion that a young lady who has a conspicuous growth of dark hair on her legs should be permitted to remove it. Shaving it is not the only method. Investigate "depilatories."

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO CAROL: He is more interested in a "BACHELOR'S" degree. If you are looking for your "MRS."—play the field.

Gold Star Mothers Install

More Than 150 See Mrs. Olive Burgess Assume Presidency

More than 150 friends and guests attended the fifth semipublic installation of Oakland County Chapter No. 34, Gold Star Mothers Inc., at the Pontiac Federal Savings & Loan Building on West Huron street.

Installed as president was Mrs. Olive Burgess. Other officers were Mrs. Cecil Briggs, first vice president; Mrs. Elna Riddle, second vice president; Mrs. Edward McDonald, chaplain; and Mrs. Clarence Sutton, recording secretary.

Also installed at the Wednesday meeting were Mrs. Leone Hagberg, treasurer; Mrs. Edward McDonald, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Eva Welch, hospital chairman; Mrs. Carl Rutherford, historian; Mrs. Cecil Briggs, custodian of records; Mrs. Luisa Mayotte, sergeant at arms; Mrs. Clarence Sutton in charge of music; Mrs. Eva Welch, flag guard; and Mrs. Elna Riddle, banner guard.

Mrs. Ruth E. Poppenger, state president and installing officer, was assisted by Mrs. Howard Nichols, Mrs. Robert D'Armond and Mrs. Clara Younglas.

William VanderVean was guest soloist, with Charles Wilson accompanist.

Past high priestesses were honor guards to Mrs. Burgess. Johnny and Dorothy Shorbe were her escorts and Peggy Briggs and Scarlet Rutherford, pages.

Representatives were present from the Blue Star Mothers, MOMS of America, the Navy Mothers, the Standish Group of the First Congregational Church, the All American University Women, the Pontiac White Shrine, the Shrine Drill Team, the Order of Eastern Star, Welcome Rebecca Lodge, the Amaranth Club and the Blue Stars of Pontiac and Rochester.

The barbecue habit hangs on. A good late summer project for the handy man is to build a sheltered barbecue of natural stone. There are easy-to-do plans available for a low cost unit. Once finished the barbecue is ready for late season cookouts or for early use next spring.

Age Can Be Protection for Couple

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am a widow in the late sixties and live alone. My children are married and live out of the state. I am very lonely.

"About a year ago I met a man who lives in this same apartment house. He is a widower and approximately my same age. He has been very kind to me, taking me for rides, to dinner, to the movies, etc. My life would be desolate without him. Neither of us want to marry again because of family reasons.

"This man would like to go to the coast and has asked me to go with him. I would share expenses and we would register at hotels and motels separately, en route. Would such a trip be proper?"

Answer: In view of your ages, I do not see how anyone could criticize you for taking the trip you describe.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to send Christmas cards to all those who send us cards? Every year we receive cards from quite a few people whom we haven't seen in years. In the past we have always sent cards in return.

"This year I would like to cut down on my Christmas list and thought of eliminating these names. My husband does not feel that it is the right thing to do and says that as long as these people continue to send us cards we are obliged to send them cards in return. I would like your views on the matter."

Answer: As long as you continue returning these people's Christmas cards, they will probably continue sending them to you. My advice is to simply stop sending your cards and thus put an end to this exchange.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When I am having dinner in a restaurant with a man friend, where am I supposed to stand to wait for him while he pays the check?"

Answer: You just walk slowly towards the door and wait, exactly as you do when he goes to the box office to buy theater tickets.

Mrs. Wood Works on Netherlands Fair

Green Thumb Grows a Career

By MARY PRIME

NEW YORK (UPI)—A green thumb has done more than grow healthy plants for Mrs. Anne Wertsner Wood. It has led to a career, a husband, and now a job helping organize a giant international horticulture fair.

Mrs. Wood, of Swarthmore, Pa., is a professional lecturer, author and horticulturist, and one of two women setting up the United States exhibit in the 1960 "Floriade," which will open March 25 for six months in Rotterdam, The Netherlands.

Displays will come from all over the world, including New Guinea and the Union of South Africa.

HELPS WITH FUNDS

Mrs. Wood is helping to raise funds and stimulate interest in the fair, and is chairman of the U. S. competition in the flower arrangements event. Amateur flower arrangers from various countries will compete for a world championship. For this, Mrs. Wood is lining up exhibitors "to show the women of the world what American women can do with flowers."

★ ★ ★

This tall, handsome woman, who has two stepdaughters and four grandchildren, calls herself a pioneer among women in horticulture. Her interest in gardening began at home when she was a child.

★ ★ ★

"I had always wanted to be a gym teacher, but I was talked into studying horticulture instead by my teacher and my parents," she said in an interview on a trip to New York. "I haven't been sorry. It's wonderful to combine work and a hobby because people never lose interest in a hobby."

She was graduated from the School of Horticulture in Ambler, Pa., and also studied at Cornell University. From 1930 to 1936, she was chairman of the floriculture department at Ambler—the youngest person to hold the post.

LECTURED IN 1926

She gave her first lecture in Boston in 1926 while still a student. That was to a friend's garden club group—free. Since then, Mrs. Wood has lectured across the U. S., in Canada and Bermuda, and may appear before the Royal Horticulture Society in England next year.

★ ★ ★

In the summers, she leads tours of public and private gardens in Europe, and this year will take the tour to England, the Isle of Jersey, and Scandinavia before going on to the fair.

★ ★ ★

It was through horticulture work that she met her husband, English-born Harry Wood, a lecturer on trees and shrubs, and horticulturist and grounds superintendent at Swarthmore College.

Mrs. Wood does her own gardening ("It's a small garden—just one acre"), and favors perennials that give "maximum effort for minimum upkeep because I'm a busy person." She keeps fresh flowers in the house at all times, and it is nothing to find her up at midnight arranging flowers.

★ ★ ★

"Money couldn't buy the things I've experienced," Mrs. Wood said. She recalled one incident which took place en route to a lecture at Pennsylvania State College. Her car, which was loaded with plants and lecture equipment, broke down. The only garage in the vicinity could not fix the car in time for her lecture.

Then a man stepped up and said, "Lady, I'll take you."

And he did—in an empty trailer truck used for delivering new cars.

Anne Hobnobs With Santa

LONDON, — "And what's your name, little girl?" asked the department store Santa Claus.

"Princess Anne," the girl said.

★ ★ ★

"Ho, ho, ho," said Santa Claus. "And I'm Father Christmas."

Then he did a double take. It WAS Princess Anne.

She whispered her Christmas wishes in his ear and he asked about her school lessons.

"They're not too bad," the Princess said. "I get every weekend off."

★ ★ ★

Then she wandered off with her governess to look at more toys.

Chapter Has Tour

Xi Pi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority met Tuesday evening at Michigan State University Oakland for a tour and explanation of the facilities.

Refreshments and a short business meeting followed.

★ ★ ★

The Christmas party will be Dec. 15 at the Hammond Lake home of Mrs. Enar West.

Guests present were Mrs. Kent Webb, Mrs. Sydney Baer, Mrs. Byron Davidson, Mrs. Jack Rolph, Ina Sisko and Mildred Barnett.

World as Field Is Presented by Lutheran Women

"The Field Is the World" was the topic presented by several women of Ascension Lutheran Church at the meeting this week.

★ ★ ★

Taking part were Mrs. Milton Freet, Mrs. William LaFountain, Mrs. Harold Wood, Mrs. Gordon Carlson, Mrs. Dale Platz, Mrs. Everett Given, Mrs. Clyde Christian, Mrs. Albert Hehl, Mrs. Truman Nelson, Mrs. Paul Kilar and Mrs. Howard Clayton.

Mrs. Woodrow Griffith and Mrs. Robert Elert sang "Grant Good Lord," a hymn set to an old Chinese air.

Hostesses were Mrs. John Friedly, Mrs. Claude Harroun and Mrs. Nelson.

★ ★ ★

An evening with emphasis on the true meaning of Christmas is planned for December.

Square Dancers Have Guests at Second Party

The Grand Square Dance Club met for its second dance of the season recently at Donelson School with Lee Kaines calling.

In charge of refreshments were Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Weed and their committee.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bevan, Audrey McGregor, Mr. and Mrs. George Ferber, Mr. and Mrs. George Pentuck, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hausauer, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Burt and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gilchrist.

Receives Sorority Degree

Mrs. Ronald Kasher was given her Ritual of Jewels Degree when Mrs. Donald DeVoe of Rochester opened her home Wednesday evening to the Alpha Omega chapter of Beta Sigma Phi for a Swedish Smorgasbord.

The chapter was invited to the annual Greens Market of the Waterford Branch of the National Farm & Garden Assn. on Dec. 11.

★ ★ ★

The group was also invited to the meeting on Nov. 23 at the United Fund office regarding the Friendly Visitor program.

During the business session, members decided to give a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family.

Mrs. Michael Gollogy of Milford will entertain the chapter at her home on Dec. 2.

Stork Shower Honors Woman by Proxy Here

Mrs. Harvey Hessel, who has joined her husband in Lynnhaven, Va., was honored at a stork shower by proxy Tuesday at the Summit avenue home of Mrs. Robert Conant.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Hessel is serving with the U. S. Coast Guard at Norfolk, Va.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Bruce McColl, the honoree's sister, and Mrs. Russell Thompson, the honoree's aunt.

Guests invited were Mrs. Irene Lane, Mrs. George Hicks, Mrs. William Gunther, Hazel Bibler, Mrs. Jack Hunt, Mrs. Ronald Hart and Kay Swenson.

★ ★ ★

Kathy and Betsy Seebald, Patty Huntwork, Donna Dusenbury, Jackie LaMar, Phyllis Rabaja, Mrs. Ralph Wilson, Carol Opland and Mrs. Harrison McColl also were present.

Two Talk for PTA

Emerson PTA met Wednesday afternoon at the school.

Mrs. L. D. McLauchlin, PTA Council vice president, and Lewis Sullivan, principal, spoke on the goals and merits of the conference method of reporting to parents.

★ ★ ★

They explored the values of conferences supplementing standard report cards.

The attendance award was won by Mrs. Evelyn Woodworth's room.

Crime Fight Described

George Woods, chief assistant U. S. Attorney General in Detroit, was guest speaker for the Junior Child Study Club meeting Tuesday at the Lakewood lane home of Mrs. Tommy Hutchison.

Speaking on "Federal Government and Crime," Mr. Woods told his listeners how they can help law enforcement agencies.

His suggestions included parent guidance, discipline and surrounding children with wholesome influences such as church, supervised social activities and a common sense approach.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Franklin Niggeman, Mrs. Allen Campbell, Mrs. Donald A. Cabral, Mrs. Richard DeWitt and Mrs. John Napley.

County Gets $76,960 Over '58

Gas Tax Share Goes Up

The Oakland County Road Commission will receive a $841,019 check as its share of the third quarter collections of 1959 state gas and weight taxes.

Total net third quarter receipts for the state came to $41,460,903, an increase of $3,166,228 from the $38,294, 675 collected in the third quarter last year. Oakland's share then was $764,059.

The commission's check for the second quarter this year totaled $821,600.

Forty-seven per cent of gas and weight tax receipts, after deductions, stays with the State Highway Dept. for maintenance of state trunklines, 35 per cent goes to counties, and 18 per cent to cities and villages.

Under this distribution formula, the department will receive $19,486,624; counties, $14,511,316, and cities and villages, $7,462,962.

Of the 45 Oakland County area cities and villages, Pontiac will receive the largest check. This totals $138,794, or $2,172 more than the $136,622 it received from second quarter receipts.

Following are the totals (not including cents) that the other area cities and villages will receive:

Addison, $1,289; Almont, $1,935; Armada, $1,960; Berkley, $24,490; Beverly Hills, $13,927; Bingham Bloomfield Hills, $4,930; Clarkston, Farms, $951; Birmingham, $25,793; $1,093; Clawson, $9,096; Dryden, $1,322; Farmington, $5,076; Fenton, $7,554; Ferndale, $38,826.

Franklin, $3,625; Holly, $4,737; Huntington Woods, $8,099; Imlay City, $3,072; Keego Harbor, $4,064; Lake Angelus, $115; Lake Orion, $3,680; Lapeer, $10,317; Lathrup Village, $4,981; Leonard, $1,176; Madison Heights, $29,020; Metamora, $1,019; Milford, $4,969; Northville, $4,778; Oak Park, $16,086; Orchard Lake, $2,369; Ortonville, $1,359; Oxford, $3,995; Pleasant Ridge, $4,547; Rochester, $7,005; Romeo, $4,153; Royal Oak, $85,406; South Lyon, $2,331.

Southfield, $46,013; Sylvan Lake, $2,379; Troy, $27,811; Utica, $2,111; Walled Lake, $4,608; Wixom, $4,002; Wolverine Lake, $3,182, and Wood Creek Farms, $1,249.

Swamp Death Autopsy Set

Lost Tecumseh Woman Found Frozen After Fleeing Car

TECUMSEH (AP) — An autopsy was to be performed today on the body of a prominent Tecumseh woman who apparently became lost in a desolate swamp and froze to death during a snowstorm.

Mrs. Mildred DesErmia's frozen body was found in the swamp, south of nearby Wampler's Lake, yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Police said they believed she died of exposure.

Mrs. DesErmia, 58, disappeared last Thursday night. Her body was found by members of a search party. Her car, sunk to the axles in a sandy road, was found nearby.

Police said they believed she left the car when she was unable to free it and tried to make it to a nearby cottage but became trapped in the swamp and died.

★ ★ ★

Her purse, containing nearly $600, was found beside her. Police said there were no signs of violence.

Mrs. DesErmia vanished after leaving her husband's furniture store in Tecumseh for their home on the northeast shore of Wampler's Lake.

Her husband Lyle, 58, said he spent the evening with friends and was not aware of his wife's absence until after he returned home late Friday.

Red Leaders Get Told of Progress in Cuba

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet leaders were told Wednesday "revolutionary battles in Venezuela and the heroic struggle of the Cuban people for their independence" show that Latin America is awakening to a big thaw in its relations with the Communist world.

An article on this subject, one of many reflecting a sudden lively Soviet interest in Latin American affairs, appeared in the official Communist Party newspaper Pravda.

It coincided with the visit of First Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan to Mexico to open a Soviet cultural, scientific and industrial exhibition.

Dairy Profits Expected to Be Same Next Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department said today net profits for dairymen in 1960 probably would be about as high as they were this year and possibly a bit higher.

★ ★ ★

Department economists forecast supplies of nonfat milk solids would continue to exceed demand at current support prices. But in 1960 and after, supplies of all dairy products on a fat-solids basis just about will be in balance with demand, they said.

★ ★ ★

The Department said it expected dairy prices to be up next year. But rising costs were expected to swallow up much of the extra income.

U.S. Develops Space Reactor

Nuclear Power Plant Five-Gallon Size, Has Big Potential

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nuclear reactor the size of a five-gallon can has been developed as a potential long-lasting power source for radios, TV transmitters and other instruments in space vehicles.

This was announced Wednesday night by Chairman John A. McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission.

He said the 220-pound reactor — designed to be linked with a football-sized turbo-electric generator — has been successfully ground-tested in recent weeks. Still in the experimental stage, it is designed to generate 3,000 watts of electrical current for at least a year.

The AEC, in a separate statement, said the device might well be the forerunner of devices much more powerful, but still weighing only several hundred pounds.

★ ★ ★

And these, said the AEC, "would make possible long-lived weather satellites, world-wide TV communications, deep-space information transmission and eventually interplanetary travel."

It was stressed, however, that these small reactors would be used only as auxiliary power sources inside space vehicles—and not for propulsion purposes.

About 10 per cent of the average U.S. family's income is spent for clothing and accessories.

Acting Postmaster Advises:

Mail Early for Yule, Mom

Acting Postmaster Robert C. Miller of Pontiac today directed an appeal to the housewives for cooperation in his "mail early for Christmas" campaign.

★ ★ ★

"She's the one who usually selects the Christmas cards, buys most of the gifts and sees to it that the Christmas mailing lists are up to date," Miller said.

Miller advises planning Christmas mailings so that cards and gifts for the most distant points are mailed first.

"Special effort should be made to get all your out-of-town packages and cards into the Post Office before Dec. 10," he said. "Those for nearby points will arrive before Christmas eve if they are mailed by Dec. 15."

The postmaster's suggestions are:

"1. Check your lists very carefully, making sure each address includes full name, street and number, city, zone and state.

"2. Stock up now on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord and paper adhesive tape to insure secure packing and wrapping of gifts.

"3. Buy stamps now, before the rush, and thus avoid those last minute Christmas mailing headaches.

★ ★ ★

"4. Use only first class four cent, or seven cent air mail postage on Christmas cards. This enables you to include handwritten messages on the cards. Also, first class mail is subject to forwarding or return service if necessary.

Cards mailed at three cent, third class rate, may include only your signature and will not be forwarded or returned.

"5. Include your name and address on every envelope. It is not only socially correct, but extremely helpful to the Post Office and those on your mailing lists."

★ ★ ★

Miller says the Post Office provides free labels which read, "All for Local Delivery" and "All for Out of Town Delivery" so that Christmas cards can be sorted into two groups before mailing with the addresses all facing one way.

This hastens their handling and delivery.

Miller predicts this year's Christmas mail will exceed even the all-time record 12,403,475 pieces handled here in the pre-holiday season of 1958.

Chicago Firm Buys Muskegon Camshaft Co.

MUSKEGON (UPI) — The Camshaft Co. of Muskegon has been sold to Maremont Automotive Products, Inc., of Chicago, it has been announced.

Maremont bought all Camshaft's stock for an undisclosed sum.

Camshaft produces camshafts in both original and replacement markets for automotive, aircraft, industrial, diesel and locomotive engines. Maremont manufactures automotive parts.

Jerome M. Comar, executive vice president of Maremont, will become president of the Camshaft operations.

All present personnel of Camshaft will be retained, it was announced.

Reds Are Blocked in Big Steel Order

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Commerce Department disclosed Wednesday it has blocked an effort by the Soviet Union to buy $15,556,207 worth of American stainless steel.

The department said the applications were disapproved under regulations prohibiting shipment to Communist countries of materials having strategic value in wartime.

In addition to the stainless steel sheet, plate and tubing, it turned down requests to ship Russia $176,455 worth of chemicals, plastics and synthetic rubber.

The department would not identify the U. S. firms involved.

Personal Income Still Climbing Despite Steel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The income of all Americans rose in October for the second straight month despite the steel strike, the Commerce Department said today.

★ ★ ★

Personal income, a broad measure of purchasing power, increased by one billion dollars to an annual rate of $381,900,000,000. A 200-million-dollar drop in rate of wage and salary payments was more than offset by increases in some other types of income.

★ ★ ★

Farm income, for example, was up 500 million dollars to an annual rate of $13,900,000,000.

Government benefit payments rose by 300 million dollars, largely because of unemployment benefits paid workers laid off by side effects of the steel strike.

With interest rates rising, interest income also increased by 300 million dollars.

★ ★ ★

Personal income hit a record rate of $383,800,000,000 in June, before the steel walkout. It fell to a low point of 380 billion dollars in August and has been climbing since then.

North Dakota is a top producer of spring wheat and durum wheat and also ranks second in barley. It is often first in flax and second in rye.

Mayor Names Today 'Equal Opportunity Day'

Mayor Philip E. Rowston has proclaimed today "Equal Opportunity Day" in observance of the 96th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's memorable Gettysburg Address and the 150th anniversary year of Lincoln's birth.

In his proclamation, the mayor said:

"I urge every citizen of the city of Pontiac to do everything in his power to advance this truly American cause of equal opportunity, so that all Americans will understand and appreciate the great advantages of our democratic way of life, and will also assume the responsibilities essential to the preservation of our freedom."

This day, sponsored by the National Urban League and its 63 local affiliates, including the Urban League of Pontiac, will focus attention throughout the nation on positive efforts to insure fair and equal treatment of all citizens, regardless of race, color, religion or national origin.

Former Vice President of Notre Dame Dies

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—The Rev. Patrick J. Carroll C.S.C., 84, vice president of the University of Notre Dame from 1926 through 1928, died Wednesday. He was editor of the National Catholic Magazine, Ave Maria, from 1934 to 1952.

State Police Find 2 'Deadly' Heaters

DETROIT (UPI) — State Police have stepped up a drive against sale of a small heater manufactured in Indiana which has led to the deaths of five Michigan deer hunters since Sunday.

In addition, three women were overcome and killed by fumes from one of the heaters last September.

State Police officers were notifying dealers to halt immediately the sale of the "Thurm" heaters manufactured by the Thurm Engineering Corp., Elkhart, Ind.

Capt. Clenroy Walker, chief of the fire marshal division of the State Police, said the heaters used bottled gas and were illegal under Michigan's liquified gas regulations.

A Lot of Inter-League Swapping Is Expected

Baseball Pilots Eye Trades

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball club owners and general managers expect a lot of swapping during the unprecedented three-week period of inter-league trades starting Saturday. But they don't think many "name" players will be involved.

Bing Devine, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, probably will be the busiest trader of them all. He's already agreed to swap Gene Green to Baltimore for Bob Nieman and is considering a Chicago White Sox offer of Billy Pierce, Billy Goodman and Jim Rivera for Joe Cunningham. He also has a bid in for Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees.

★ ★ ★

"We've talked with practically every club in both leagues," said Devine. "Most of our conversation has been with the White Sox, Tigers and Orioles.

Bill DeWitt, new president of the Detroit club, said he is seeking a shortstop, a first baseman and additional reserve strength.

"It looks like most clubs are shopping," he said. "They're trying to find out what players are available, going from one club to another."

★ ★ ★

The Tigers have rejected a Milwaukee offer of pitcher Carl Willey and second baseman Felix Mantilla for Frank Bolling. They may make a deal of lesser significance with Philadelphia involving Philly shortstop Chico Fernandez.

Kansas City General Manager Parke Carroll said the A's expect to complete a couple of deals with National League clubs. Kansas City is looking for a catcher, a third baseman and a pitcher. "We're not satisfied at first base either," he added.

★ ★ ★

"We're a crap-shooting ball club," Carroll said. "Arnold Johnson (club owner) has been a gambling man ever since he's had the club. We've made some deals I wish we hadn't, but we also made some good ones. We've gotten Bob Cerv, Roger Maris, Bill Tuttle, Hal Smith, Ned Garver and Bud Daley through trades. So you see why we're willing to take a chance."

★ ★ ★

Yankee General Manager George Weiss wants a left-handed pitcher and a left-handed hitting outfielder. He is dangling McDougald and Don Larsen as bait. Under consideration are offers from Milwaukee, San Francisco and St. Louis, all involving McDougald.

Calvin Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, expects brisk trading, judging from the feelers he's had for his players.

"Everybody wants Camilo Pascual. Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew," he said. "I told them these fellows can't be had."

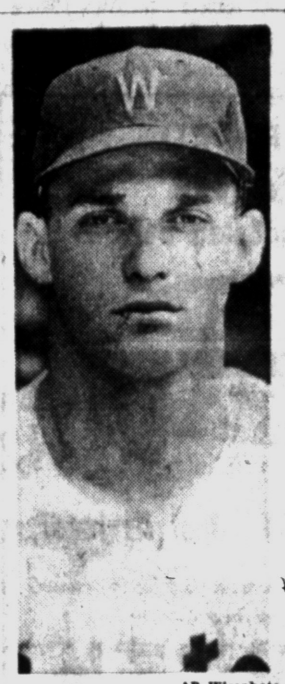

★ ★ ★

Washington Manager Cookie Lavagetto currently is in San Francisco discussing a deal for outfielder Felipe Alou of the Giants for relief pitcher Truman Cleveger and one of three infielders—Reno Bertoia, Ken Aspromonte or Billy Consolo.

The Boston Red Sox reportedly have closed a deal sending Dick Gernert to the Chicago Cubs for pitcher Dave Hillman and first baseman Jim Marshall.

★ ★ ★

Milwaukee's John McHale has a meeting scheduled with Cleveland's Frank Lane with Indians' second baseman Billy Martin the focal point. Lane also is considering a trade with the White Sox that would bring third baseman Bubba Phillips and catcher John Romano for Minnie Minoso. He has rejected an offer from Cincinnati of Frank Thomas for Herb Score.

Leafs Now Two Points Behind Second Place

Sawchuk Bats Away 32 Shots but Detroiters Fail to Knot Count

TORONTO (AP)—Put some fighting forwards and a stubborn goaltender together and you've got a hard-to-beat hockey combination. But it can be done: look at the Detroit Red Wings.

The Wings put on another of their famed rallies last night and Goalie Terry Sawchuk batted away 32 shots. When it was over, the Toronto Maple Leafs had themselves a 3-2 victory.

It was a heartbreaker for the Wings who battled desperately in the last three minutes to overcome a 3-1 Toronto lead. But the best they could manage was a single goal, a hard thrust by Jack McIntyre.

A heroic stand by Sawchuk kept the Maple Leafs' score from going any higher. He robbed several Leafs of what looked like sure goals but had no chance against the three that beat him.

★ ★ ★

The Maple Leafs, who now are within two points of the second place Red Wings in the National Hockey League race, jumped to an early 2-0 lead and never were headed.

Outshooting the Wings 13-7 in the first period, Toronto sent Ron Stewart and Bobby Pulford in with goals that slipped past hard-working Sawchuk.

Detroiter Alex Delvecchio halved the Maple Leafs' margin in the second period as the Wings caught fire. But in the final stanza, Toronto's Dick Duff fired in a hard smash at Larry Rega's rebound.

★ ★ ★

McIntyre's goal and several Detroit power plays were not enough to overcome Toronto and its goaltender, Johnny Bower, who made 12 stops in the final 20 minutes.

It was Toronto's ninth straight home victory and the first time Detroit has been defeated in Canada this season.

Detroit will be idle tonight and tomorrow night before going East Saturday for a game with the Boston Bruins. They meet the New York Rangers Sunday.

Bob Elliott Named KC Manager

Fiery Ex-Star Signs Contract for One Year

His Experience Includes 4 Years as Head Man in PCL

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "We wanted a fiery guy and we got him. I'm very happy with the choice."

That's how Arnold Johnson, president of the Kansas City Athletics, feels about hiring Bob Elliott as manager of his seventh place American League club.

Elliott, 43, a major league player 15 years and a manager in the Pacific Coast League four years, signed with the A's yesterday.

★ ★ ★

He signed a one-year contract, reportedly at a $20,000 salary, to succeed Harry Craft, whose contract was not renewed at the end of the season.

"It's one of the greatest thrills of my life," the husky Elliott said.

"When I was a kid my great goal was to be a professional ball player. Then I wanted to play in the major leagues. After that I wanted to be a member of an All-Star team. And after that I wanted to play in the World Series.

★ ★ ★

"I realized all these. Then I began managing in the minor leagues and my goal, my great hope, was to manage in the majors.

"This is the greatest challenge I've ever had." Then, with confidnece, Elliott added, "I'll make it."

He announced he would retain Don Heffner of the Craft regime as third base coach. He will hire two more and he indicated he has decided on the ones he wants.

★ ★ ★

Elliott played with the Pittsburgh Pirates from 1939 through 1946. With the Boston Braves in 1947 he batted .317, drove in 113 runs and was the National League's most valuable player. He later played with the New York Giants, St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox.

He managed San Diego of the Pacific Coast League from 1955 until early in 1957. He led the Sacramento Solons to fourth place in 1959 and had signed with them for next year. The contract had an escape clause, however.

★ ★ ★

Looking over the Athletics' park Elliott remarked:

"Those stands are pretty close to the playing field. I imagine the fans can hear pretty good what you say out there. I've got to be careful."

"You mean you're rough on umpires?" he was asked.

"Nope, I wouldn't say that," Elliott replied. "Only when I think I'm right."

Ski Resorts Get Ready for Action

DETROIT (UPI) — Nearly 60 ski areas are prepared to greet outdoor enthusiasts in Lower Michigan as plunging temperatures turn the "water wonderland" into a "Winter Wonderland."

Tourist and resort associations in Western Michigan and Eastern Michigan each list 29 winter sports parks in their area.

At least two new ski areas are scheduled to open this fall—Mt. Frederick operated on a limited basis a year ago but is fully prepared for the 1959-60 skiing season with a new $90,000 lodge, T-bar lifts, two ropes and a bombardier sno-packer.

At least two other ski areas in eastern Michigan will be open under new management, including Major Mt. near Harrison and Lovells Playland near Lovells.

★ ★ ★

There was a possibility that the extreme cold of mid-November might delay the opening of the Jordan Valley Lodge.

In fact, the sudden dip in temperatures caught a lot of winter sports park operators off guard.

Ordinarily, little skiing is expected in lower Michigan before the Christmas Holiday season and operators spend early December preparing ski runs, stringing rope tows and readying mechanical lifts for the post-holiday rush.

★ ★ ★

There's an element of danger in preparing for the skiing season during the last two weeks of November because of the thousands of deer hunters in Northern Michigan.

But the operators have been forced into action by the early cold and hope to be rewarded by an extra weekend or two of skiing in their areas this winter.

A bulk of the ski areas in lower Michigan are north of a line from Bay City to Ludington.

But there is a cluster of seven ski areas in Oakland County, only a half-hour drive from Detroit—Mt. Holly, Grampian Mt., Mt. Christie, Kandahar, Bald Mt., Teeple Hill and Kensington Park.

And Echo Valley near Kalamazoo offers skiing for southwestern Michigan residents.

Max Hinkle of the West Michigan tourist and resort association said seven of the 29 winter sports parks listed in the western half of the lower peninsula offer tobogganing, and five offer skating.

He said Jordan Valley is the only new ski area planned in western Michigan this fall. Two other ski areas—Ludington and Nub's Nob near Harbor Springs—were opened last year.

Allison AL's Top Rookie

HAVANA (AP) — Bob Allison gave winter baseball credit today for helping him win 1959 American League rookie honors.

The 6-foot-3, 210-pound Washington Senators center fielder was selected yesterday for the honor by the Baseball Writers Assn. of America in what amounted to a runaway vote.

The former University of Kansas fullback from a suburb of Kansas City polled 18 votes in the balloting of the 24-man committee. Jim Perry, Cleveland pitcher, was second with five votes and Kansas City's Russ Snyder, an outfielder, third with one.

"I definitely think last year in the Cuban Winter League helped me," said the 25-year-old father of two after first expressing surprise over his selection. "I went into spring training in good shape and then had my best spring in baseball."

★ ★ ★

Allison, currently playing with the last place Almendares in the Cuban circuit, had a .261 batting average in 150 games, hit 30 home runs and drove in 85 runs. He led the league in triples with 9 and also had 18 doubles. His home run production came within one of tying Ted Williams' AL record for most home runs by a first year man.

Almendares had Allison and the 1958 AL rookie, Albie Pearson, on his roster when they won the Cuban title last year. Allison proceeded to beat Pearson out of his center field job and the Senators traded Albie to Baltimore.

Allison admitted he thought he had a chance for rookie honors but "it came as a big surprise. It's something I always dreamed of if I got a chance in the majors."

He got his chance in the majors four years after being signed by the Senators off the Kansas campus for $4,000. He broke in with Hagerstown, Md. in 1955, moved up to Charlotte, N.C. in 1956, and then Chattanooga in 1957. He was brought up by the Senators late in 1958, but played in only 11 games.

★ ★ ★

The so-called sophomore jinx isn't worrying Allison one bit.

"I'm looking forward to another good year in 1960," he said "when Betty (his wife) and I became engaged I gave myself five years to make the grade. If by that time I didn't think I had a good chance of making the majors I planned to get out. Since I am running ahead of my time table I hope to be around for some time."

BOSTON (AP)—Here is a list of the American League rookie-of-the-year winners:

1949—Roy Sievers, St. Louis, outfielder
1950—Walt Dropo, Boston, first baseman
1951—Gil McDougald, New York, infielder
1952—Harry Byrd, Philadelphia, pitcher
1953—Harvey Kuenn, Detroit, shortstop
1954—Bob Grim, New York, pitcher
1955—Herb Score, Cleveland, pitcher
1956—Luis Aparicio, Chicago, shortstop
1957—Tony Kubek, New York, infielder
1958—Albie Pearson, Washington, outfielder
1959—Bob Allison, Washington, outfielder

Favor Casper in New Event

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — One of golf's hottest players at the moment, Billy Casper, is the favorite to win the first Mobile $15,000 open tournament starting today.

Casper, 28-year-old Open champion, has won three of his past four starts, including the Lafayette, La., open Sunday. He has not finished worse than seventh in his past seven outings.

Consecutive victories are rare, but the Apple Valley, Calif., pro nevertheless was the choice here.

Another top contender in the 72-hole medal play tournament is Arnold Palmer, who returned to the fall tour at Lafayette after a 10-week vacation. He started poorly but finished seventh with 69, 73 and 67 in the last three rounds. Palmer had a practice round of 70 here yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Wisconsin 'Hall' Honors 3 Sportsmen

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Three widely known sports figures will be honored Thursday night, one of them posthumously, when their names are enshrined in Wisconsin's Athletic Hall of Fame at an elaborate dinner in the Milwaukee Arena.

The two who will be on hand for the induction are Conrad M. Jennings, former Marquette University athletic director, and Hank Marino, one of the nation's best known bowlers. The third is Guy Sundt, former University of Wisconsin athletic director who died in 1955.

More than 1,000 persons will pay $10 a plate to attend the dinner sponsored by the Milwaukee Press Club. In addition, some 4,500 special guests will be admitted to the gallery for the program following the meal.

The selection of Jennings, Marino and Sundt by a special committee brings the hall of fame membership to 28 since it was started in 1951.

Jap Stars Interest Visiting Lefty O'Doul

TOKYO (AP)—Former baseball great Frank (Lefty) O'Doul arrived in Tokyo Thursday and promptly said he would offer a contract to the Nankai Hawks' sensational pitcher, Tadashi Sugiura, "if he's as good as they say he is."

★ ★ ★

"And any man who can win all four games in the Japan series has to be good," O'Doul stated.

O'Doul, a standout outfielder for the then New York Giants during the '30s, flew in by jet airliner to nail down final details of the planned trip of the San Francisco Giants to Japan next fall.

★ ★ ★

Sugiura, 23, a submarine throwing right-hander, won 38 and lost 4 during the past season in Japan's Pacific League, one of two top pro circuits.

One Opening Left for Church Team in 'Y' Cage Loop

There is still room for one more Church team in the Pontiac YMCA High School boys basketball league which starts play on Dec. 9.

Games will be played on Wednesday evenings on the 'Y' court with a registration fee of $2.50 per player required.

Any interested Church team should contact Bob Wisdom, YMCA youth director.

Aussie Group for International Tennis Control

MELBOURNE (AP) — A special Australian Lawn Tennis Committee Wednesday night recommended the international federation take over the control of professional tennis.

★ ★ ★

The committee—set up by the Australian Lawn Tennis Assn. to investigate the "problems of professionalism"—urged this in a report to the association's council meeting.

★ ★ ★

The council decided to take no immediate action, but to discuss the plan at the annual conference in February.

Cold Cancels Races

NEW YORK (AP)—Sub-freezing weather Wednesday forced cancellation of racing at the new 33 million dollar Aqueduct track. Marshall Cassidy, vice president and director of racing, said the course was frozen to a depth of 2 inches and was considered too dangerous for the horses and jockeys.

Miller Youth Versatile

Tigers Sign Detroit Boy

DETROIT (AP)—A young Detroiter who is equally adept at pitching, playing first base and the outfield has been signed by the Detroit Tigers.

Virgil Wood, a recent graduate of Miller High School, hit .310 and posted a 9-2 pitching record in a California semi-pro league last summer. While playing with the Detroit Stars of the American Negro League, the 200-pound, 6-foot-4 player hit 16 home runs and had a .350 average.

Wood will be assigned to the Duluth-Superior club of the Class C Northern League.

The Tigers also signed Alan Bunke, an 18-year-old Milwaukee catcher who averaged .325 in high school. He has been signed with the Decatur club of the Class D Midwest League.

Chief Pontiac Wins

Chief Pontiac Post won out by a margin of 269 pins over Cook-Nelson Post in a battle of local American Legion bowlers last night at Westside Recreation. Ten members of each post took part in the event brought on by a challenge from Cook-Nelson.

Caberfae at Cadillac Now Open for Skiing

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A preholiday present for skiing enthusiasts arrived Wednesday with announcement from the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Assn. of the season's opening at Caberfae near Cadillac.

Caberfae reported it would be open on a limited basis for the weekend. It claimed 6 to 10 inches of heavy, settled snow and skiing fair. The resort's T-bar lift is operating.

MacKay Will Compete in Philippine Event

MANILA (AP) — Barry MacKay, American Davis Cupper from Dayton, Ohio, who won the Japan national tennis title, has confirmed he will play in the Philippine tennis championships, starting Sunday, the Philippine Amateur Athletic Federation announced.

MacKay will probably be pitted against Raymundo Deyro, the one-time University of Michigan star, Philippine's top-ranking player and Asian games champion, whom he beat in the Japan semifinals last week.

Strong MVP Candidate

HOLLAND (UPI) — Co-captain Gene Van Dongen of Hope College's 1959 football team was in competition today for the R. C. Bosch award for the most valuable player in the MIAA.

Teammates of Van Dongen, a center from Grand Haven, voted him Hope's most valuable player of the season.

Patterson Will Tour Eastern Canada Cities

TORONTO (AP)—Floyd Patterson, who lost his world heavyweight boxing title last June to Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, will give a series of exhibition bouts in Eastern Canada next month.

His opponents will be sparring partners for his return bout with the Swede.

The exhibitions have been set tentatively for Windsor, London or Kitchener, Toronto, Sudbury, Montreal, Sherbrooke, Quebec City, Moncton, Halifax and Sydney. Loren Cassina of Toronto will handle arrangements for the tour.

Adios, you prep mudders. Now the Swamis must concentrate on the big boys for couple weeks trying to pick those juicy selections off the Grapevine.

Swami Cornwell took another game lead on Swami Abair as the Swami Association gets closer to adjournment for the season.

Oxford, Shrine, Wisconsin and Northwestern's loss to MSU set the Swamis for a roll. So this should be an interesting week with all the upset minded colleges and pros.

Kramer Not Seeking Australian Cup Stars

SYDNEY (AP) — Tennis promotor Jack Kramer is not interested in signing Australian Davis Cup players Roy Emerson and Rod Laver this year, Kramer's Australian agent Bob Barnes said Wednesday.

A Sydney newspaper had stated Kramer had approached all the Australian Davis Cup players.

★ ★ ★

"We are not interested in signing them this year under any circumstances," Barnes said. "The only players we are vitally concerned with at present are Neale Fraser and Alex Olmedo.

★ ★ ★

"Next year we may be after Emerson and Laver."

Spartans Enjoying Miami 'Hothouse'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The swift temperature change — from freezing Michigan to hothouse Miami — threw the Michigan State football team for a temporary loss today.

The squad left the near-zero temperatures of Michigan after a long delay and ran into a tropical rainfall during their first Florida practice.

"That's why we get them down here early," said coach Duffy Daugherty. "You sure need a little time to adjust from Lansing to Miami."

The departure from Lansing by the four-motor charter plane was delayed because someone had neglected to change from tropical to arctic type oil for the motors.

★ ★ ★

The plane was flown up from Miami for the trip and then wouldn't start. It took three hours to warm out the oil and the 10 a.m. takeoff was delayed until 1 p.m.

The Michigan cold also froze the water pipes in the Miami-based plane. Dr. James Feurig, team physician, had to use up some of his tape ordinarily used for players to bind the pipes that were springing leaks.

The noon dinner scheduled for the 38-man traveling team and followers was served around 4 p.m. and the plane didn't sit down at Miami's International Airport until after 6 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Coach Daugherty ordered a workout at a nearby high school field before players were fed. Meanwhile torrential rains came down.

"We ran off a few plays and then we were wading knee deep in water," Duffy said. "These boys sure have had a bunch of weather."

Players returned to the hotel soaking wet and plans for a tour of Miami Beach or a visit to one of the fabulous hotel night club shows were canceled.

Daugherty meanwhile warned his players that Miami had good bowl chances on its own and was just as anxious as Michigan State to win the Friday night game.

"We can't lose this game," he said. "Suppose we were fluked into the Rose Bowl and we lost this one just because we goofed off. We sure would look silly."

Disciplinary Action Costs OSU a Guard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ernie Wright, starting right guard of Ohio State University's football team for the last two years, has been "separated from Ohio State University for disciplinary reasons," it was announced Wednesday.

The announcement came from William S. Guthrie, director of student affairs. He explained that it is a policy of long standing of the university that it does not disclose the reasons for such action.

Wright, 6-3, 242-pound junior from Toledo, broke in as a regular last year and started the current season as tackle. He was returned to right guard after the first three games.

Pitt Turns Down Blue Grass Bowl

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A feeler to play in the Dec. 12th Blue Grass Bowl at Louisville, Ky., has been turned down by the University of Pittsburgh.

★ ★ ★

A university official said yesterday that Pitt's athletic committee felt the bowl date would keep the players out of the classrooms too long. Pitt's examinations start Dec. 14.

★ ★ ★

Pitt and the University of Alabama received the feelers from the bowl football committee Monday. Bowl Chairman D. B. Murrell said Alabama Coach Paul Bryant expressed interest.

Home-Bred Netter Beats Mimi Arnold

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Mimi Arnold of Miami, Fla. was beaten in the quarter-finals of the New South Wales tennis championships at White City today. She lost to home-bred Jan Lahane 4-6, 7-5, 6-2.

★ ★ ★

After the gruelling 2-hour match Miss Arnold had to receive medical attention for badly blistered feet.

Brazilian Maria Bueno beat Victorian player, Mrs. Beverley Rae, 6-3, 7-5 in another quarter - final.

★ ★ ★

In the men's quarter - finals Neale Fraser beat Bob Howe 6-4, 6-4, 6-2; Martin Mulligan beat Fred Stolle 6-4, 8-6, 1-6, 3-6, 6-2; Roy Emerson beat Bob Hewitt 6-4, 6-0, 6-4 and Rod Laver beat Warren Woodcock 6-3, 6-2, 4-6, 8-6.

Noskin Plays Final Against OSU Saturday

All 4 Starting Backs to End Grid Careers at U. of M.

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A dozen Michigan senior football players—including the entire starting backfield—will wind up their college grid careers in the season's finale here Saturday with Ohio State.

Beside the four starting backs who will depart, three regulars from the first team line—Capt. George Genyk and Alex Callahan at guards and tackle Jared Bushong—will play their last college game.

The quartet of senior backs is composed of quarterback Stan Noskin, halfbacks Fred Julian and Darrell Harper and fullback Tony Rio. Reserve backs finishing at Michigan are halfbacks Jerry Lieith and quarterback Jim McPherson.

Playing their final game in the line are second string guard Mike Fillichio and Tom DeMassa, a guard who has seen plenty of action this season under Michigan's three-platoon system.

Senior right halfback Brad Myers, who was injured earlier in the season, will watch the final game of the season from the stands. He is recovering from a knee operation.

★ ★ ★

Julian, Harper and Rio have combined to score a total of 44 points in eight games this season, with Harper's total of 26 being the major share. This trio has amassed a total of 605 yards on 166 carries for an average of nearly four yards per try.

Despite having had 14 of his aerials intercepted this season, Noskin has built a good passing mark with 54 completions in 105 attempts for 659 yards and four touchdowns. He has tallied one touchdown and connected on four pass conversions after touchdowns.

Moscow Drubs Yanks

Egad, my loyal devotees, never in more than half a century of close association with the game have I witnessed a season such as this.

★ ★ ★

The collegiate elevens are kicking over the dope bucket with an abandon as complete as that displayed by Mrs. O'Leary's cow when she gave Chicago history's greatest hot foot in October 1871.

But what happened last week, and the week before, and the week before that, is as nothing compared with what is yet to come. Get a firm grip on yourself and then gaze into my crystal ball for a look at the upsets foretold by the Hoople Sure Hit System.

On a precedent-shattering Saturday, Princeton, Minnesota, North Carolina State, Oregon State, UCLA and Pittsburgh will record spectacular upsets. Har-rumph!

Ex-Northville Gridder to Captain Eastern 11

YPSILANTI (AP)—Al Ifverson, a 23-year-old junior, was elected yesterday as captain of Eastern Michigan University's 1960 football team.

★ ★ ★

Ifversen, who plays center and linebacker, was graduated from Northville High in 1954 where he earned nine letters in three sports.

Al Day, a 21-year-old senior from Detroit, was named the team's most valuable player for 1959. He has alternated between halfback and fullback this season.

7 Elk Killed by Hunters

GAYLORD (AP)—Seven of Michigan's elk herd have been killed by deer hunters at the top of the Lower Peninsula.

Elk, much larger animals than deer and sometimes weighing 1,000 pounds, are protected by state law. The herd is concentrated in Pigeon River state forest east of nearby Vanderbilt.

No arrests yet have been made, but Conservation Department agents said they were working on at least one lead. The seven found killed have been abandoned in the woods.

Elk killers can be fined up to $500 and sent to prison for two years.

Meat from elk found killed is distributed to schools for use in their free lunch programs.

Tourists to Jam Rome at '60 Olympic Games

ROME (AP)—The Olympic games next Aug. 25 - Sept. 11 will probably create the greatest concentration of tourists in Rome's 2,500-year history.

It's a problem no games has had to contend with since the close of World War II. When the 1948 games were held in London, the world was too broke and too weary to travel. The 1952 games in Helsinki were too remote from the main channels of travel as were the 1956 games in Melbourne.

But almost everyone, it seems, is now saying: "Wouldn't it be a good idea to drop in on Rome in 1960 and see some of the Olympics."

Rome always is jam-packed with tourists in the summer. So what will happen now? The city is desperately trying to find lodgings in private homes. Tent colonies will be built in open fields. But any way you look at it, thousands of people will be disappointed.

★ ★ ★

There are 20,000 hotel beds in the city. Already all have been spoken for. True, many have been bought up in blocks by tourists agencies for resale later.

Rome expects an average of 120,000 tourists per day during the games. Alitalia, Pan-American, TWA and other airlines are heavily booked in and out of Rome for the summer. Some planes and ships to Italy are already completely sold out.

But despite all this every effort will be made to hold the price line. A deluxe hotel single costs about $11, ranging down to $5 for a good hotel and $3 for a lesser one.

Meals—and if you have money you can eat as well or better in Rome than any place in the world—run around $1.50 for a fair place with wine up to $6 or $7 for a fancy spot.

There are only 2,500 taxis in Rome and they don't cruise around but wait instead in ranks. Fares are low. Probably many games visitors will need to use busses or walk. After all, Rome is not a very large city in area.

The only place where gouging has come up is in the renting of apartments by private individuals. Some are reputedly signed up for $50 per day during the games.

★ ★ ★

Charlie Ornstein, Washington hotel man who is in charge of arrangements for the American team, says:

"The Olympic games are coming at the very time Rome will be at the peak of its tourist season. There are insufficient hotels here to handle the normal tourist traffic in August. Now put the Olympic games on top of that and you can see the housing problem the organizing committee faces here."

The teams have nothing to worry about. A modern apartment project—neat brick buildings on stilts near the soccer stadium—is nearly completed. It has 4,500 rooms and can house 7,000 athletes.

But the tourist to Rome next summer had better be sure before he starts that he has a place to sleep.

(Tomorrow: The Olympic program is overhauled.)

Doggone Good Fishing Story

CHICAGO (NEA) — Something new has been added to the old adage that big fish eat the little ones by a unique innovation in the art of catching trout and bass.

Now little fish eat dog food—making more big fish.

The new method consists of punching a few holes in a can of dog food and dropping it in what should be a good fishing spot, but isn't. Left overnight, the dog food seeps out of the can, providing a free lunch that attracts minnows, crayfish and other small aquatic life.

Then the game fish move in for a buffet of the small aquatic life, providing a perfect setup for the fisherman.

Utah Enters NBA

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—The Utah Boxing Commission has become an official member of the National Boxing Assn., NBA President Anthony Maceroni announced Wednesday.

The NBA line-up now includes all states but New York and Massachusetts.

Ogden, Utah, will be the site of the NBA middleweight title bout Dec. 4 between champion Gene Fullmer and Spider Webb.

Pistons Trounce Royals Behind Howell's Firing

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Almost anything can happen in pro basketball. Look at the Detroit Pistons, for example: they're pushing the leaders in the National Basketball Assn.'s Western Division.

The Pistons, who have a 7-8 won-lost mark, coasted to a 110-93 triumph over the Cincinnati Royals last night in notching their fourth victory in the last five games.

Only the St. Louis Hawks and a half-game stand between the Pistons and the top of the NBA's Western Division.

Rookie Bailey Howell was the heavy artillery in Detroit's attack last night. He poured in 27 points, topping veteran teammate Gene Shue who basketed 25.

★ ★ ★

Detroit led after the first quarter except for the first three minutes of the second half when the Royals held the Pistons scoreless while taking a brief 57-56 lead.

Paced by the sharp-shooting of Howell and Shue, Detroit found the range again midway in the third period and tucked the game away with an 82-64 lead.

The Royals, who now have lost seven in a row, jumped to a 25-21 lead in the first quarter, but Detroit connected with nine straight points and went ahead 30-25.

The Pistons had a 52-45 lead at halftime.

★ ★ ★

Top Cincinnati point-makers were Wayne Embry with 18 and Jack Twyman and Jim Palmer with 15 apiece.

Piston coach Red Rocha said after the contest that he was impressed with the play of Howell who, besides capturing scoring honors, did an outstanding job of boxing up Twyman.

Detroit is idle tonight. The club takes to the road tomorrow for a game with the Minneapolis Lakers.

Motel Fight Won by Folley

2nd-Rated Heavyweight Unanimous Victor Over Alonzo Johnson

By BOB WOOD

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Zora Folley, stretched out on a bright red sofa, shook his head in disgust and said, "I should have put him away twice."

Folley, the No. 2 heavyweight contender, was rehashing his unanimous decision over young and inexperienced Alonzo Johnson of Pittsburgh in their nationally televised 10-rounder last night.

★ ★ ★

The Arizonan, who used a punishing left hand and an occasional booming right, added, "I wasn't at my best. I saw the openings but just couldn't take advantage of them. This Johnson is a smart fighter."

Johnson, 189½, rested in one of the plush ground floor suites of the swank motel where the fight was staged for TV cameras and only 600 ringsiders, and griped, "Johnson might have slipped the first time, but I put him down once."

★ ★ ★

Folley was referring to the sixth round when he caught Johnson on the head with a solid right cross. Johnson dropped to one knee, then quickly leaped to his feet.

Notre Dame's assistant line coach Dick Stanfel coached under Irish mentor Joe Kuharich with the San Francisco Dons.

'M' Swimmers to Appear at PNH

NCAA Champs Visit Pontiac for 'Festival'

Northern Pool Is Site of Swimming Program Next Tuesday

University of Michigan's National Collegiate Championship swimming team will be featured at a "Swim Festival" next Tuesday evening at the Pontiac Northern pool.

★ ★ ★

The program, sponsored by the Parent - Teacher - Student Association, will have all the top stars of Michigan's great 1958-59 squad which won the NCAA title in decisive fashion.

Dave Gillanders, native Oakland County swimmer from Royal Oak, is the national butterfly champion. The NCAA runnerup in this event is teammate Tony Tashnik of Detroit who also won the 200 yard medley event for the last two year.

Diving champion Dave Gerlack will demonstrate the dives which took him to the national title.

Northern's all-girl swim club, the "Catalina Girls," will put on a synchronized drill.

★ ★ ★

Ticket price is 50 cents for students and $1.00 for adults. They can be obtained from members of PNH swim team, at the school offices or at the school window next Tuesday night.

The U. of M. swim team under coach Gus Stager has won the NCAA title the past two years.

Shannon to Compete for Teacher's Trophy

DUNEDIN, Fla.—Tommy Shannon, of Orchard Lake (Mich.) Country Club, will compete with 32 other sectional teachers' trophy winners in the annual Professional Golfers Association Seniors' Tournament scheduled here Jan. 26-31.

The 72-hole tournament is for PGA members who are 50 or older. The purse is $15,000.

APPEAR HERE — These are some of the members of the NCAA champion University of Michigan swimming team who will appear next Tuesday at the Pontiac Northern pool in a Swim Festival. Dave Gillanders of Royal Oak (left) is the NCAA 200 yard butterfly stroke champion and Tony Tashnik of Detroit is two-time winner of the 200 yard medley. The Festival is being sponsored by the Parent-Teacher-Student Association.

Sunny Jim Wins Rare 1st-Half of Race Double

BALTIMORE (AP)—The dean of horse trainers, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, had the first half of a rare racing double home today.

The 84-year-old trainer for Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable sent out High Bid yesterday to win the $20,000 added Gallorette Stakes at Pimlico.

On Saturday, he'll offer the same stable's Progressing as a contender in the $50,000 added Pimlico Futurity. If the 2-year-old colt comes through, it will be perhaps the first time known that a mother has had two offspring win a pair of stakes within three days at the same track.

Teams Eye Playoffs Early

Chicago Trips Rangers

By The Associated Press

The National Hockey League season still is young. But already quite a battle is shaping up to see who can avoid meeting the all-powerful Montreal Canadiens in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

★ ★ ★

The playoffs setup calls for the pennant winners, and just about everybody has conceded that to the Canadiens, to meet the third place club in the first round with the second and fourth place teams tangling in the other series. The problem is to keep from finishing third.

★ ★ ★

Right now the Toronto Maple Leafs are making a desperate effort to get out of the third spot. They closed in on second place Detroit last night with a 3-2 victory. The victory left the Leafs trailing the Wings by two points.

★ ★ ★

In another battle to keep out of the cellar, the Chicago Black Hawks spoiled the coaching debut of Alf Pike by downing the New York Rangers 5-3 in a penalty-packed game. Although each has won the same number of games, three, the Rangers still hold fifth place by a point.

The Rangers fought hard to present Pike with a victory over Chicago, reducing the Hawks' lead to 3-2 on a third period goal by Andy Bathgate. But Bobby Hull and Red Hay then rapped in their second goals of the game to sink New York.

It was only the third victory in 18 games for the Black Hawks and their second over the equally hapless Rangers.

Wisconsin, Wildcats Trail Saturday Foes Statistically

CHICAGO (AP) — If statistics showed on the scoreboard, Northwestern and Wisconsin would have the shudders for their showdown battles Saturday.

Last place Minnesota, Wisconsin's foe, has looked consistently better on paper than the Badgers during the season. The Gophers rank fourth in offense and fifth in defense, while Wisconsin is 8th in both, official Big Ten statistics showed today.

Illinois, Northwestern's opponent is No. 1 on defense, yielding only 9.8 points a game and an average of 184.5 yards. Northwestern ranks third in both offense and defense. Illinois is sixth in offense.

The Iowa Hawkeyes, who already have finished their conference campaign with a 3-3 mark, have cinched offensive honors. They lead in average points scored, 19.8; rushing yardage, 226.5; passing yardage, 125; number of plays, 70.7, and yards a play, 4.97.

Individual leaders include:

Rushing — Bob Jeter, Iowa, 443, and Mike Stock, Northwestern, 354; passing — Olen Tgeadway, Iowa, 63-111 for 663 yards and touchdown; Dean Look, Michigan State, 35-72 for 568 and 7 td's; total offense — Treadway, 637 (includes minus 26 rushing;, and Look, 597; scoring — Stock, 33 points; pass receiving — Don Norton, Iowa, 23 for 283 and 3 touchdowns; punting — Jim Bakken, Wisconsin, 28 for 39.2 average.

Reschedule Sugar's Fight With Pender

BOSTON (AP)—The Sugar Ray Robinson-Paul Pender title bout, originally set for Dec. 14, has been rescheduled for Jan. 22 in order to avoid television conflicts, promoter Sam Silverman said yesterday.

Silverman said he has secured a national television contract for $100,000 for the January date. Of that, Silverman said, Robinson will get $75,000 while he and Pender will split the rest.

Robinson, 38, is recognized as middleweight champion only in New York and Massachusetts. The National Boxing Assn. which controls boxing elsewhere, recognizes Gene Fullmer as the champion.

Pender, a part-time Brookline, Mass., fireman, is ranked seventh among the middleweights by the NBA.

Syracuse Is Also No. 1 College Team in Every Statistic

By The Associated Press

Anyway you figure it, Syracuse is the No. 1 team in major college football.

The unbeaten, untied Orange, ranked first in The Associated Press weekly poll and headed for the Cotton Bowl, lead the nation in:

1. Total offense
2. Total defense
3. Rushing offense
4. Rushing defense
5. Scoring

Syracuse also is among the top 10 in three of the other four team categories listed in NCAA service bureau statistics released today. The only one in which the Orange fail to appear is punting—having kicked fewer times than any other team (24 in eight games for a 36.2-yard average).

Syracuse has given up an average of 98.8 yards a game to top the total defense list, and is No. 1 in rushing defense with a 36.8 yield. That works out to 1.2 yards for each rushing play and a little better than 2 yards a crack rushing and passing.

Louisiana State is the total offense runner-up, giving up 143.7 yards a game, with Southern California No. 2 in rushing defense, allowing 77.6. Southern Cal is the only other major team with a perfect record, matching Syracuse's 8-0 mark.

Alabama, Mississippi and Stanford claim the leads in the other statistic groupings. Alabama is No. 1 in pass defense (47.5) yards a game), Mississippi tops in scoring defense (2.3 points a game) and Stanford is first in passing offense (208.6 yards).

The Orange, whose leading total offense and rushing offense figures are 443.6 and 296.1, respectively, are eighth in scoring defense. They've allowed 6.4 point a game—while leading in scoring with a 38.5 average.

The University of Michigan ranks ninth in punting among major teams, averaging 40 yards for 42 punts in eight games.

★ ★ ★

Seventh-ranked Penn State is keeping grimly silent about football bowl talk—at least until after Saturday's game with Pitt.

"To tell the truth," said Pat Botula, captain and fullback of the Penn State club, "the boys have not talked to me about anything but the Pitt game. If there is a bowl fever in the air, it hasn't reached the football team."

Coach Rip Engle, overhearing the remark, added:

"I've already called this team panic-proof. So now I should probably add bowl-proof to the list."

Everyone tabbed end Carroll Dale "Mr. Danger" on Virginia Tech's football team before the season began. But they overlooked halfback Alger Pugh, who has teamed with his captain to bring Tech to the brink of a Southern Conference crown.

Tech, with a 6-3 overall record and 3-0 in the conference, meets Virginia Military 4-0-1 Saturday with the winner succeeding West Virginia for the title.

It was Pugh and Dale who last Saturday knocked the Mountaineers out of contention, handing them their first conference loss in 31 games with a 12-0 defeat.

Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn described his team as a "tired bunch" while the Badgers drilled against an expected aerial onslaught by Minnesota Saturday in one of the Big Ten's key games. In the other one, Illinois will platoon all except guard Bill Burrell and tackle Joe Rutgens against Northwestern.

★ ★ ★

Tackle Bob Lilly and guard Ray Pinion came out of Texas Christian's scrimmage yesterday with slight bruises in prepping for Saturday's key game with Rice. The Owls first string center Boyd King was listed as a doubtful participant.

Notre Dame will have halfback Angelo Dabiero, injured against Pitt, ready to relieve starter Bob Scarpitto, who is filling in for the injured Red Mack in Saturday's game at Iowa.

California Vet Named Top Pro

Duino Will Receive High Golf Award Dec. 8

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Eddie Duino a caddie, caddiemaster, assistant pro and head professional in a 38-year career at the San Jose, Calif. Country Club Wednesday was named golf professional-of-the-year.

Announcement of Duino's selection came from Harold Sargent, president of the Professional Golfers Assn.

An anonymous committee selected the 50-year-old Duino from a group of 16 club pros for his all-around ability and contributions to golf.

He will receive the award during the PGA President's Dinner Dec. 8 at Clearwater, Fla. Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., will receive the PGA golfer-of-the-year award at the same time.

Duino's entire career has been at the San Jose club. He started there as a caddie at the age of 12 and worked up to be a pro in June 1932.

He served four terms as a national vice president of the PGA and served as chairman of the organization's educational committee three years.

Duino was a member of the five-man faculty of the PGA business school for assistants at Clearwater during the past two winters.

Harry Pezzullo of Northbrook, Ill., was selected golf professional-of-the-year for 1958.

Bowling Green 11 Tops Small Schools

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bowling Green (Ohio) today replaced Delaware as the nation's No. 1 team in United Press International's small college football ratings and Middle Tennessee State took over third place behind Mississippi Southern.

Delaware, which suffered its first 1959 defeat last Saturday when it dropped a 30-8 decision to Bowling Green, slipped to fourth. Coach Doyt Perry's Bowling Green Falcons, third in last week's ratings, handed Delaware its worst licking score-wise since Bucknell ran up a 33-6 edge in 1951.

Philly AFL Verdict Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bob Carpenter, owner of baseball's Philadelphia Phillies, announces today whether he'll join the American Football League as the owner of the eighth and final team.

Last week at this time it was thought he would bring the franchise to Philadelphia, and it is still rumored he would like to.

★ ★ ★

Now, however, the expectation has been tempered by reports the AFL has decided it would be unwise to compete with the well-established Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

★ ★ ★

Whatever Carpenter's decision, it will be announced at a noon (EST) press conference.

Harry Wismer, president of the New York franchise, said on Nov. 10 the final franchise would go to Philadelphia or Boston within 10 days.

Snead's 65 Lands U.S. in 3rd Place

Aussies Hold 7-Stroke Lead in Cup Match

66 by Leonard Keeps Canadian Golf Team in Runnerup Spot

MELBOURNE (AP) — America's Sam Snead, his putter blazing, came charging back with a 5 - under - par 65 today, but Australia clung to a 7 - stroke lead over Canada at the halfway point of the international Canada Cup golf competition. The United States moved into third place.

Stan Leonard, a weather-beaten little Canadian, almost matched Snead's performance with a sparkling 66 which sent him into a tie with Australia's Peter Thomson at 136 in the battle for individual honors. Snead was two shots back at 138.

★ ★ ★

Thomson, four-time British open champion, added a 69 to his first round 67 over the par 34-36 Royal Melbourne Club course. That, plus a second 70 by steady Kel Nagle kept the home forces in front with a total score of 276 in the 4-day 72-hole medal event.

Snead was little short of sensational as he bulled around the 6,853-yard layout with most of the gallery of 15,000 at his heels.

★ ★ ★

He canned five birdies in a stretch of seven holes. He one-putted 10 of the last 12 greens and came to the final hole needing only a par for a 64. Then he took his only bogey of the round, he missed a 2½-footer after a crashing drive down the middle of the fairway and a nice approach to the middle of the green.

Al Balding, Leonard's partner, nailed a birdie 3 on the final hole for a 73 which gave Canada a 36-hole overall total of 283.

★ ★ ★

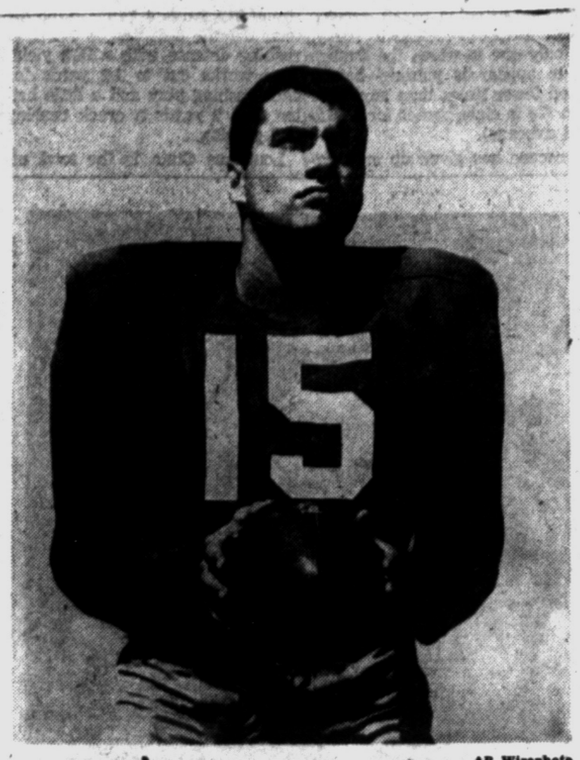

The United States was third at 285 and certainly would have moved into stout contention if the roof had not fallen on Dr. Cary Middlecoff. The Memphis dentist took seven 5's on the last nine holes for a 6-over-par 42. He finished with a 75 and was completely dazed over his sudden collapse.

"I don't know what happened," Middlecoff said dejectedly. "I felt wonderful. I thought I was playing well, but everything just went wrong. It was a nightmare."

★ ★ ★

After the United States came Wales with 287 and South Africa with 291.

South Africa's Gary Player 3-putted the final hole for a 72 and his partner, Harold Henning, skied to a 75.

British Champion Wants World Shot

LONDON (AP)—Henry Cooper, firmly established as the British and Empire heavyweight boxing champion, is confident his next fight will be for the world championship.

★ ★ ★

"I shall not fight again until next August," he said Wednesday. "I'm going to sit back and wait for the big one. Already British promoters Jack Solomons and Harry Levene have talked to my manager, Jim Wicks, about the possibilities of a world title fight."

★ ★ ★

Cooper retained his British titles in a stirring match against Joe Erskine at Earl's Court Stadium Tuesday night, displaying a killer instinct rarely seen in a British heavyweight.

South Dakota Gridder Ends With 394 Points

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Garney Henley of Huron, (S.D.) college has finished his four-year collegiate football career with a scoring record of 394 points.

★ ★ ★

His 141 points this season almost assures him of the scoring title in the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics, and left him only nine points shy of the NAIA record of 150 for a single season.

Jockey, Trainer Under Indefinite Suspension

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Jockey Merrill Faulkner and trainer De Wayne Branch are under indefinite suspension today for what Bay Meadows stewards term a "flagrant reversal of form" by Big Des, a 4-year-old gelding.

★ ★ ★

The stewards suspended Faulkner and Branch yesterday after considering the recent record of Big Des.

Eric Monti, 40, of Los Angeles played in only four pro golf tour events last year then won the Hesperia, Calif., open by four strokes.

Western Illinois Likely to Reject Football Playoff

MACOMB, Ill. (AP)—Unbeaten Western Illinois University has been invited to the four-team football playoffs of the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics but acceptance is doubtful.

★ ★ ★

Last month the Illinois State Teachers College Board banned four teacher colleges in the state, including Western, from all post-season competition.

The eventual playoff winner will go to the Holiday Bowl in St. Petersburg, Fla.

CHICAGO (AP) — A 26-game spring exhibition baseball schedule which includes two games in Las Vegas, Nev., has been announced by the Chicago Cubs.

Boat Designer Eyes Speed Record

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — A church furniture manufacturer who also designs hydroplanes says his new jet-powered creation should easily break the world water-speed record.

Les Staudacher of Bay City, Mich., will begin testing the sleek, all-aluminum Tempo Alcoa at Pyramid Lake next week in preparation for his record try.

The present record of 260.235 m.p.h is held by Britain's Donald Campbell. Wind-tunnel tests of a Tempo Alcoa model indicate the Allison J-35 turbojet engine can push the boat at speeds up to 500 m.p.h.

"That's too hot for me," Staudacher says. "I'll be happy just to break the record a little bit."

In preliminary runs on rough water, he has had it up to 225.

★ ★ ★

Staudacher has designed 34 conventional hydroplanes, including Hawaii Kai which holds the world record of 187.627 m.p.h. for propellor-driven craft. But he says the jet job is entirely different from the standpoint of handling as well as power. It's somewhat like launching a rocket.

"At half throttle, the boat begins to move and it accelerates slowly until 80 m.p.h.," he says. "At that speed the boat 'jumps out of the water and zooms to 150 before I can get off the throttle. It takes six seconds to go from 100 m.p.h. to 200 m.p.h."

The ultimate speed is limited by several factors, including the human element.

★ ★ ★

"I never could open it up all the way because it would peak out at about 500 m.p.h." Staudacher says. "The thrust behind the boat would spin it out of control. There is no control over steering once the boat gets up to 150. When you reach that speed, you're going where you're headed."

From start to finish, the ride is "real rough." Staudacher uses a safety belt to keep from being thrown out.

"It bounces enough to throw the driver out," he says. "If anything happens, I'd rather stay with the boat, so I use the belt."

To slow down, he hits the fuel cutoff switch. He says it would take two and a half miles to stop if he merely decelerated.

Russian Cagers to Play Americans in U.S. Tour

NEW YORK (AP)—Russian men's and women's basketball squads will arrive next Monday for a series of games with star American amateur quintets.

The tour will open Nov. 26 at Madison Square Garden, and will take the Soviet cagers to Peoria, Ill.; Cleveland; Lawrence, Kan.; Denver and Seattle.

Five of the Russian men took part in the 1956 Olympic Games in Australia. Included is Yan Kruminish, the 7-foot-3, 320-pound giant who was rather inept in the Olympic competition but who is reported to have improved tremendously.

Writer Claims NBC Will Drop Friday Fights

NEW YORK (AP)—Sports columnist Jimmy Cannon of the New York Journal - American said Wednesday the National Broadcasting Co. will try to cancel its contract to televise the Friday night fights.

Cannon said he had learned that NBC will make the attempt at a meeting next Monday. The contract is with the Gillette Razor Co., sponsors of the fight program.

NBC Sports Director Tom Gallery was unavailable for comment but another spokesman said he knew nothing of any plans to cancel the contract, which was renewed less than a year ago for three years.

"The diminishing audience, disgusted by revelations of gangster-controlled fights promoted by the defunct International Boxing Club, is responsible for the network's concern," Cannon wrote.

U.S. Gains on Canada in Fair Jumping Event

TORONTO (AP) — The United States picked up five points Thursday to narrow Canada's lead in the international jumping events at the Royal Winter Fair.

★ ★ ★

Canada placed first bringing its total to 25 points. The United States is second with 18 points and Argentina follows with 14. Brazil is in fourth position with 6 and Mexico trails with 4.

Syracuse Halts Celtics With 138-103 Walloping

By The Associated Press

All it takes is a record performance to make those Boston Celtics look human in the National Basketball Assn. this season.

They didn't lose until their seventh game, when they ran into Minneapolis and Elgin Baylor, who set a NBA record with 64 points for a 136-115 decision. Then the Celts clicked off five in a row before the Syracuse Nationals, bettering their own team record for field goals, whipped Boston 138-103 last night.

★ ★ ★

It was Boston's first defeat by an Eastern division team and left the Celts with only a 1½-game edge over idle Philadelphia in the East.

Detroit closed within a half-game of idle Western leader St. Louis by defeating Cincinnati 110-93, and the New York Knicks held off Minneapolis 106-105 after leading by 21.

Syracuse hit 19 of 31 field goal attempts in the first period and jumped to a 42-20 bulge. Dolph Schayes, who sank seven sets in the opening spurt, finished with 32 points while the Nats wound up with 58 field goals and tied their shooting percentage record of .527.

★ ★ ★

Sam Jones' 28 points led the Celts, who were out-rebounded 86-66. John Kerr of the Nats matched Bill Russell with 14 rebounds, a season low for the Boston big guy.

The Knicks, after losing five straight, now have won two in a row. Kenny Sears and Mike Farmer combined to hold Baylor to 20 points while Willie Naulls of the Knicks topped the scoring with 23. Laker Ed Fleming's two baskets in the closing seconds made it close.

Hollywood Headlines:

Ed Wynn Isn't Really 73 – in His Mind He's Only 57

By BOB THOMAS
AP MOVIE-TV Writer

ED WYNN

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ed Wynn had a birthday last week. The records show he is 73. He says he is 57.

In a way, both figures are correct. The reasoning behind this helps explain why Ed is enjoying one of show business's busiest careers at an age when many men are doddering around in retirement.

"Legally, I am 73; mentally, I am 57," he said with utter seriousness. "I know it sounds crazy, but it works!

★ ★ ★

"It started when I was doing my first dramatic role, in 'The Great Man.' I came on the set and everyone kept treating me like an old relic. They kept shoving chairs under me and asking me if I was all right.

"I got mad. I decided that I would not be treated like an old man. I would pick another time for my birthday, an occasion that was both joyful and important."

The date he picked was the most significant in his life: Aug. 8, 1902, the day he first stepped onto a stage.

"I actually think I am 57 years old," he said. "The self-hypnosis has worked. Of course, I'm not going to do anything foolish. I wouldn't go out with 18-year-old girls, as I might have when I was really 57.

"I know I'm not 57 in my body, but I think I am 57 up here (tapping his head). How else would I be able to do calisthenics like this every morning? (he touched his fingers to the floor.) How else could I be reading three scripts at one time? How else could I pursue my ambition to be a really good dramatic actor? I wouldn't have the nerve if I thought I was 73."

★ ★ ★

Ed has even gone to the extent of giving a birthday party for himself on Aug. 8. He was slightly annoyed when son Keenan showed up on the "Cinderfella" set with a birthday cake last week. Ed himself made no observance of his actual natal day.

Recently Ed took a physical exam required for films to get cast insurance. When asked his age, he explained his theory. Later, the doctor said he passed the test with flying colors and added, "You're in fine shape for a man of 57."

Hawaiian Volcano Continues Spouting

HONOLULU (AP)—Kilauea volcano continued today to blow molten lava and white-hot rock up to 1,100 feet into the air.

For the sixth straight day, the drizzling skies over the big Island of Hawaii were illuminated by the glow of bright orange and crimson lava flow.

Scientists continued to say there was no danger the lake of molten rock would overflow the huge crater, which is a mile long and a mile wide.

Russia Exudes Summit Cheer

Apparently Seeking to Pressure West Into a Few Concessions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union is taking a far more optimistic line than the United States about the results to be expected from the forthcoming East-West summit conference.

The purpose apparently is to put pressure on the Western powers to make concessions to Moscow to avoid disappointing world public opinion.

★ ★ ★

But the Soviet propaganda also seems to reflect some official hope in Moscow that the summit meeting actually will succeed in producing agreements on specific issues at the heart of the East-West conflict. There is little if any such hope in Washington at present.

Tass news agency reported from Moscow Wednesday night that Soviet leaders feel East-West summit talks will work out a peace treaty with Germany.

★ ★ ★

While American officials agree that this is one of the critical problems in East-West relations, they see no prospect at all of agreement on a German peace settlement for many years. Indeed, there is more pessimism than hope here about reaching even a temporary understanding with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on the future of divided Berlin.

Brando, Ex-Wife in Knock-Down, Drag-Out Battle

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor Marlon Brando says his ex-wife threatened him with a butcher knife and threw a tricycle at him. She says he beat her, threw her to the floor and terrorized her.

Both say the hair-pulling and spanking bouts were the other's fault.

A judge read details of their violent battles Wednesday, then clamped new rules on Brando's visits to their baby son.

Eighteen - month - old Christian Devi is the center of the turmoil.

Judge Mervyn A. Aggeler ordered Anna Kashfi to stay out of Brando's sight when he goes to see the baby.

The privacy-loving actor and India-born Miss Kashfi made their troubles public through documents filed in superior court.

★ ★ ★

Their dispute is over Brando's right to visit the child. She was given custody under terms of their April divorce, along with half a million dollars.

Asks Protection for Merchants

Donaldson Seeks Ban on 'Fly-by-Night' Yule Time Invaders

Commissioner William W. Donaldson has called on the city to erect barriers protecting local merchants from inroads by outsiders during the Christmas season.

★ ★ ★

Donaldson asked for provisions making it difficult for what he called "fly-by-night" merchants to set up shop here temporarily during the heavy December retail sales period.

"These outsiders have a practice of coming into Pontiac a few days before Christmas and doing a quick and lucrative business.

"They pull out before Dec. 31 and avoid paying any property taxes," Donaldson said.

COMPETITION UNFAIR

Such competition, Donaldson believed, is unfair to established retailers who pay yearly taxes and count on good business at Christmas time.

"It's unfair to let outsiders skim the cream of the Christmas business," he said.

Donaldson called on City Attorney William A. Ewart to draft an ordinance setting up restrictions against the transient Christmas retailers.

★ ★ ★

The commissioner suggested as a weapon occupancy permits which the city could grant to or withhold from retailers who are without long-term leases on the stores they occupy.

Hamtramck has an ordinance based on occupancy permits, Donaldson said. He asked Ewart to study it.

Water Meters Need Shielding

City Residents Urged to Use Caution After 8 Counters Freeze Up

Cold weather and unprotected water meters don't mix, warned Joseph W. Gable, city water superintendent, today.

★ ★ ★

There were at least eight water meters damaged in the city during the cold wave earlier this week, Gable said.

Gable yesterday inspected a flooded Pontiac basement, inundated when water poured out of a damaged meter.

The damage occurred, he said, because a basement window was left open while the occupants were away.

VALVE BLOWS OUT

"The water in the meter froze during the cold spell."

There is a safety device in Pontiac meters which generally assures they won't crack under the pressure of ice. Instead, a safety valve on the bottom of the meter blows out.

Occasionally, as in yesterday's case, water comes out, too, causing damage to the basement and any possessions there.

Whether the valve breaks or the meter itself cracks under pressure, the householder has to pay the repair bill or go without water.

Gable urged caution on the part of householders. "Almost all the trouble is caused by open basement windows which let the cold in," he said.

New U.S. Cabinet Space Department?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A space law expert proposed today a new cabinet department of space to end the "overlapping, duplicative, cumbersome, fragmented" bureaucracy hampering U.S. space efforts.

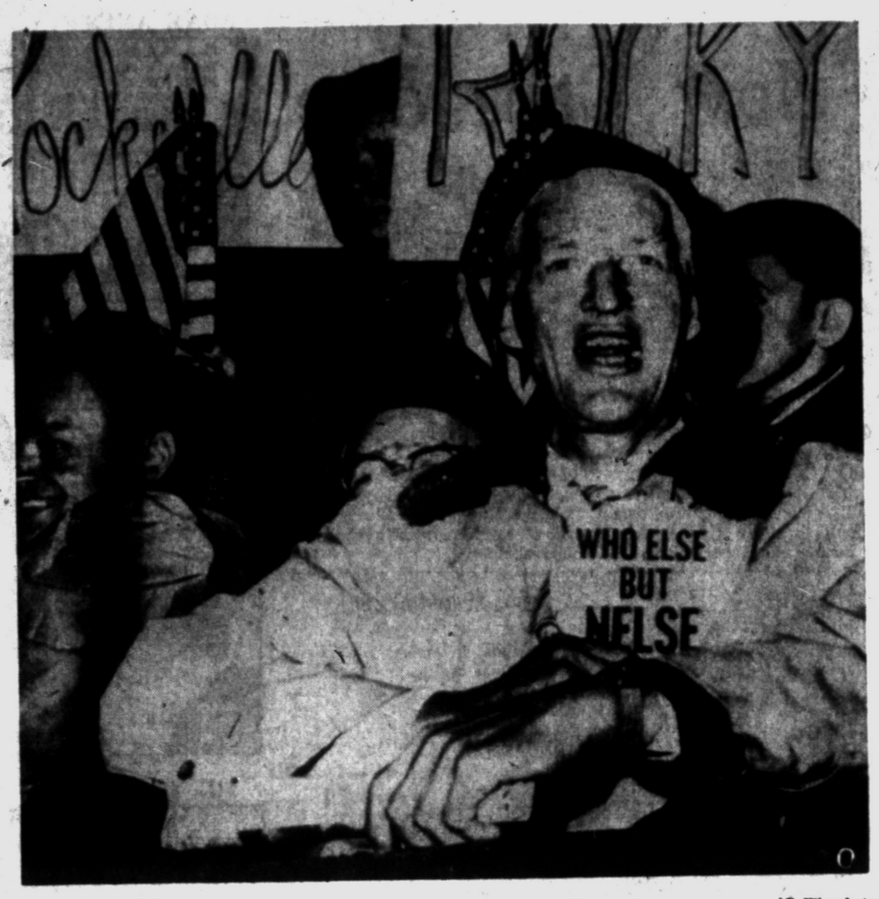

Ralph E. Becker, a member of the American Bar Assn.'s committee on outer space law, said this country was "trailing badly" in the space race with Russia because of the "overburdened labyrinth" of space agencies.

In a speech prepared for the American Rocket Society's 14th annual meeting, he suggested for the new secretary of space: Charles H. Percey, president of Bell and Howell and chairman of the GOP committee on long range party policy; Henry C. Alexander, New York City lawyer and banker, or George Romney, president of American Motors.

What Are Those Egrets Seeking So Far North?

CAPE MAY, N. J. (AP) — A team of naturalists wants to study a new type of New Jersey commuter—a bird from North Africa that suddenly turned up here.

The bird is the cattle egret, a type that forsakes water for the company of cattle. It feeds on insects stirred up by the cattle. Birdwatchers say they would like to find out how the cattle egrets got this far north.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A beatnik hangout that serves as a gallery for advance-guard modern art began closing down here only a few days after its opening.

★ ★ ★

The proprietor asked the artists to move out and take their creations with them after he saw what had happened to the two-room, second-floor apartment he rented last spring.

William Skinner, who manages the building on lease, said he first learned of the gallery's existence when he wandered into the apartment with some of the 300 persons who attended the opening last Sunday.

"I'll agree its art. I'm very fond of art," he said. "But I think it has to be shown in the right place. Up there I don't believe is the right place."

STARTLED? WHY NOT

If Skinner was slightly startled when he found the apartment turned into a modern art gallery called the "Gap," he couldn't be blamed.

★ ★ ★

The floors were bared and painted jet black and the walls and ceiling were covered with white paint.

Abstract paintings hung from every wall, while pottery and sculpture of contoured lines were set on the floor or on shelves.

★ ★ ★

"I had no idea it was going to be turned into an art gallery," Skinner said. "If I had known, I wouldn't have let them go ahead."

Skinner, who owns and operates a tavern below the fledgling art center, said "I've got a business to run and I can't have people running in and out of here and up there to look at art.

"Why, they had brandy in the coffee they were serving Sunday. What would that do to my business if it went on very long?" he asked.

The Pennsylvania turnpike links Philadelphia and the Ohio border, a distance of about 327 miles, and was built for about $211 million.

Harvard, Yale Rejecting Federal Aid Over Oath

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — Harvard and Yale universities announced Tuesday night they were withdrawing from the federal student loan program because of the loyalty oath required of participating students.

Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey, who called the required affidavit of disbelief "misguided," said the university was relinquishing $357,873 allocated by the federal government for needy students attending Harvard.

A spokesman for Yale at New Haven, Conn., said the university would give up $50,000 remaining from its allocation of $200,000.

Yale President A. Whitney Griswold, who termed the loyalty oath a "negative attitude," said he had ordered all university offices dealing in allocation of such federal funds to "make no further commitments to students for loans from funds allocated to Yale for 1959-60."

Both Pusey and Griswold said their universities had accepted the funds in the belief that the last session of Congress would "remove the objectionable requirement" from the National Defense Act, under which the funds are allocated. A bill which would have accomplished this was defeated in Congress.

Griswold, in a letter to Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, said the loyalty affidavit "partakes of the nature of the oppressive religious and political test oaths of history which were used as a means of exercising control over the educational process by church and state."

Pusey, who also announced Harvard's withdrawal in a letter to Flemming, termed the affidavit "misguided, ineffective and futile." However, Pusey made it clear that Harvard would rejoin the program if the affidavit is eliminated.

The affidavit requires a loan recipient to swear he neither believes in nor supports "any organization that believes in or teaches the overthrow of the United States government by force or violence or by any illegal or unconstitutional means."

Muskegon Safety Boss Quits Over Budget Slash

MUSKEGON (UPI)—Louis A. Meisch, Muskegon County safety director for the past five years, has resigned his post in a protest over a slash in the department's 1960 budget.

Meisch said yesterday afternoon he has "packed his bags" and is leaving for California next week, despite pleas from members of his committee to stay on and fight for an increase of the recommended budget.

Mikoyan Starts Calls in Mexico

Visits Manuel Tello but Avoids Any Trade Talk Temporarily

MEXICO CITY (AP)—If Anastas I. Mikoyan came to Mexico to increase Soviet-Mexican trade, he is beginning with the soft sell.

The Soviet first deputy premier, his government's top foreign business promoter, ignored the subject in his initial call Wednesday night on Foreign Minister Manuel Tello.

Tello told newsmen Mikoyan "explained to me fully his government's policy regarding various subjects such as disarmament and colonialism." He said they also discussed the cultural value of the ballet, "but the subject of trade absolutely was not discussed."

Mikoyan officially came to Mexico City to open a Soviet trade and scientific exhibit Saturday. But there has been widespread suspicion that his real purpose was to advance the Kremlin's economic penetration into Latin America.

Labor Changes Permit NLRB Balloting

Replaced Strikers Now Can Vote

(Editor's Note: This is the last of four dispatches by the general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board explaining the new labor reform law. This dispatch deals with votes for economic strikers and so-called hot cargo exemptions.)

By STUART ROTHMAN
General Counsel, NLRB

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A far-reaching effect on labor-management relations may result from the new Taft-Hartley amendment which permits employes out on a strike for wages or other economic aims to vote in NLRB representation elections even though other employes have been hired for their jobs.

This right to vote for economic strikers is the fruit of a campaign begun by President Eisenhower in 1953.

★ ★ ★

Under the law before the Taft-Hartley Act of 1947, replaced economic strikers as well as the employes replacing them were allowed to vote in board elections.

The Taft-Hartley law prohibited replaced strikers from voting.

Unions had condemned this as a "strike-breaking" provision and President Eisenhower agreed it should be changed.

Congress in the new amendments gave replaced strikers the statutory right to vote. They may vote in any NLRB representation election held within 12 months after the start of the strike.

Their right to vote is subject to "such regulations as the board shall find consistent with the purposes and provisions" of the law.

Under this, the board may well conclude that strikers who engage in serious misconduct during the strike should still be barred from voting.

The law has always permitted an employer to discharge a striker for such misconduct.

The other major changes made in the Taft-Hartley act by new amendments which I have not discussed are:

1. The building industry exemption from the "hot cargo" ban to permit employers and unions in this industry to make agreements restricting "contract or subcontracting of work to be done at the site" of the construction or repair. However, it appears that building trades unions cannot strike to enforce such agreements.

2. The provision permitting the building industry to make agreements which set up union-operated hiring halls and require employes to join the union within seven days after they go to work. This section also legalizes union contracts in this industry made before any employes are hired.

3. The clothing and apparel industry exemption from the "hot cargo" and secondary boycott bans as to contracts governing the subcontracting of work.

Under this provision, unions in the clothing industry may make agreements requiring that work contracted out go to firms with which the union has contracts.

This exemption, however, is limited to situations where the subcontractor is "working on the goods or premises of the jobber or manufacturer or performing parts of an integrated process of production." The clothing unions may strike to enforce such agreements.

Uncertainty has already arisen over the building trades exemption. After adoption of the law, one of the Senate members of the conference committee of Congress which drafted the new amendments said that this exemption was meant to apply to any work that "could be" done at the construction site.

A House member of the conference committee immediately rose to differ, declaring that it applied only to work "actually done" at the site.

These differing interpretations make a big difference as to what kind of agreements unions and employers in the building industry can lawfully make.

★ ★ ★

But from this point, the issue goes to the general counsel, the five-member National Labor Relations Board, and ultimately perhaps to the top federal courts.

We now have the ball, and we shall all try to carry it to the goal Congress meant.

Clark Smiles on 'Bandstand'

Thanks Youth Group but Says Nothing More About DJ Probe

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dick Clark, the nation's leading television disc jockey, used his "American Bandstand" show Wednesday for his first public reply to a congressional investigation of his profession.

"People have called me, said wonderful things," declared Clark, smiling slightly as he talked to the teen-agers gathered in the WFIL-TV studio. They gave him a big hand. He then thanked his friends for their "kind words and encouragement" but made no other comment.

★ ★ ★

Clark spent nearly an hour Wednesday night talking to an investigator from a House subcommittee.

★ ★ ★

Then the investigator was joined by another and the two left the studio, decling comment, not saying where they were going. It was their third talk with Clark since Tuesday night.

The subcommittee is investigating alleged payoffs to disc jockeys to play and promote records. The investigators—Charles Houze, a staff attorney, and James Kelly, a staff investigator—were sent here Tuesday.

They came after it was announced that Clark was told to either give up his business interests or his television programs.

The order came from ABC—under a new policy—the network said, and Clark elected to give up his outside interests, a record company and three music publishing companies.

State Police Stopping Thurm Heater Sales

SAULT STE. MARIE (UPI) — State Police manning road blocks at the Mackinac Bridge have discovered at least two trailers equipped with gas heaters of a type which health officials said have caused the deaths of five persons in the past two months.

★ ★ ★

The road blocks were set up yesterday after the State Health Department sent out an "urgent warning" against the use of the Thurm heater which uses bottled gas.

Two Michigan deer hunters and three women have been asphyxiated by gas fumes in trailers equipped with the heaters.

State Police also were ordered to check camping grounds and trailer camps in their search for the heaters.

★ ★ ★

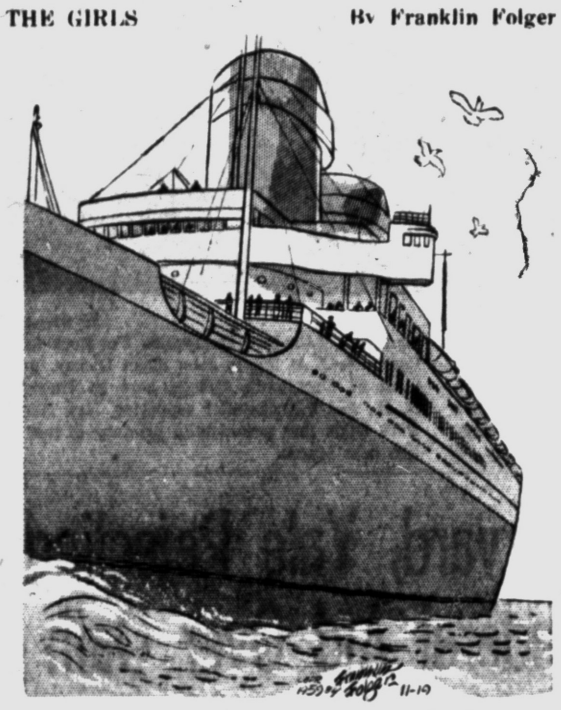

The State Health Department said any trailers equipped with a Thurm heater should be returned to dealers for replacement.

Propose Bigger Hospital Budget

Operating Cost Picture Appears Far Brighter for Coming Year

A 1960 operating budget bigger than this year's and probably far brighter was scheduled for presentation to the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees tonight for approval.

★ ★ ★

This year's budget of $3,217,150 was adopted last fall at the height of the hospital's fiscal crisis. It predicted operating losses of $45,000 while the hospital struggled to complete its expansion program and add more revenue-producing beds to its operation.

The hospital now is predicting completion of the five-year expansion program next spring and expects to have a full 390 beds available for occupancy for most of the year. Sixty of them should be ready by the first of the year.

Economies effected by the hospital's administration in the past 18 months are also expected to have a favorable influence on the forthcoming budget.

The ratio of employes to patients has been reduced to compare favorably with area averages, and the hospital has successfully stepped up its bill collecting.

The hospital also has gained more favorable arrangements with the county and state for treatment of indigent patients and has cut down on the number of nonpaying patients from outside the Pontiac area.

If it is adopted tonight, this will be the second straight year the hospital budget has been forwarded to the City Commission on or near the Nov. 15 deadline set in the city charter. For several years the budget was turned in several months late and in 1958 the hospital failed to adopt any official budget.

Seamless Tube Reports Good Sales, Dividend

The Michigan Seamless Tube Co. in South Lyon has reported gains of approximately 40 per cent in sales and net earnings over the best previous year, 1957.

A report to stockholders by William A. McHattie, president, accompanying year-end dividend checks of 50 cents a share, detailed progress toward substantially increasing productive capacity of the company's wholly-owned subsidiary, Gulf State Tube Corp. at Rosenberg, Tex.

Troy Man Dies in 4-Car Crash

Frederick W. Howard in Accident on Xway; Others Unhurt

A Troy man died in a four-car accident on the Lodge expressway in Detroit last night.

He was Frederick W. Howard, 68, of 5881 Houghton St., Troy.

★ ★ ★

Detroit police said Howard's car went out of control in the northbound lane, sideswiped a car, bounced off the guard rail and hit another car, sending it crashing into the fourth car.

The other drivers were unhurt. Howard was dead at the scene.

Police theorized that the victim might have suffered a seizure after papers on him identified him as a diabetic.

Howard, an automotive engineer employed at the Detroit Arsenal on Mound road, was on his way home from a meeting at the Masonic Temple in Detroit. The accident occurred at 6:20 p. m. near Wisconsin street.

★ ★ ★

He leaves his wife, Lelia, and two daughters. The body is at the Harris Funeral Home in Detroit.

Reuther Strips Gosser of Most UAW Strength

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther has stripped UAW Vice President Richard T. Gosser of the directorship of the union's important Competitive Shops Department and taken it over himself, it was learned today.

The move was outlined in an interoffice communication distributed yesterday among UAW staff members. It appears to represent one of the first major breaches in Solidarity House, the UAW's headquarters in Detroit.

UAW sources close to Gosser believe it is the culmination of bitter disputes between Reuther and Gosser since Gosser last spring signed a waiver of immunity and testified before a New York City grand jury which was investigating possible bribery of union officials. Gosser was under orders from Reuther to sign the waiver.

Gosser said he was informed by Reuther at a recent board meeting that he was to lose the department, which has a staff of 70. He declined to discuss the significance of this.

However, one high UAW source said that "what this means is that they have eliminated Dick's chief function and made him sort of an honorary vice president."

Gosser retains control of nine national shop departments and the skilled trades departments.

Gosser had directed the Competitive Shops Department for more than eight years. It is the basic organizing arm of the UAW. Because of its high priority among the union's activities, the department always has been regarded as Gosser's primary responsibility as well as the source of his own political strength within the UAW.

Reports have circulated in Detroit and Toledo recently that Reuther is waging a quiet campaign to force Gosser out of the active UAW picture. Adding impetus to these reports last week was the resignation of two of Gosser's Detroit staff—Joseph Mooney, one of his most trusted assistants, and his private secretary.

Gosser said today he knows nothing about such a move, but added that if it's true, "I'll fight it to the last breath."

Missilemen Hit Two for Four

Sodium Vapor Rocket a Success Last Night, Another Fails Today

WASHINGTON (AP)— A second sodium vapor rocket was fired early today from Wallops Island, Va., but it failed to eject its brilliant yellow cloud at the top of its flight. The rocket itself rose to 160 miles.

Civilian space scientists were unable to say immediately why the sodium vapor failed to spew out of the rocket.

Another sodium rocket fired Wednesday at dusk was visible for hundreds of miles along the eastern seabord.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration plans a third sodium flare try Friday morning. The sodium clouds help scientists study wind currents at high altitudes.

Another rocket experiment at Wallops Island Wednesday night also fizzled. That was an electron-counting device designed to travel up more than 1,000 miles.

This rocket, known as Strongarm II, was designed by a University of Michigan scientific team. Strongarm I was a success.

At Cape Canaveral, Fla., Wednesday night the Army launched a Jupiter ballistic missile on a 1,500-mile flight.

STREAKS SOUTH

The Army's Jupiter, an intermediate range missile, rose from its Florida launching pad trailing a mass of flame. It streaked down the Atlantic missile range on a scheduled 1,500 mile test flight and was to drop a dummy warhead near the island of Antigua.

The Wallops Island sodium vapor rocket rose above the earth's shadow into sunlight 150 miles up and spewed out a cloud of yellow sodium vapor for the study of wind conditions at that altitude.

The vapor trail was visible over a wide section of the Atlantic Coast, as far north as Worcester, Mass.

Judge Suggests Law to Aid Safer Driving

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)— A statute forging a sharper weapon to fight drunk drivers was suggested today by Kent County Circuit Judge Dale Souter.

He proposed Michigan adopt a bill similar to one in New York which declares that any person operating a motor vehicle shall be deemed to have given consent to a chemical test for alcoholic content of his blood. Copies of the proposal were sent to legislators from Kent County.

Judge Souter suggested the law provide for a test at the direction of a police officer and refusal to submit would be grounds for canceling the license of the accused.

The judge said a similar law has been in the statute books of New York since 1953 and recommended it be the law of Michigan "and every state in the union."

Mac, Adenauer Agree on Arms

Geneva Proposals of Last Year Still Basic; No Trade War Seen

LONDON (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today that he and Prime Minister Macmillan have reached complete agreement on the disarmament problem.

The West German chancellor told a news conference that western proposals at the Geneva Foreign Ministers Conference last summer remain the basic position on European security.

A 10-power commission — in which East and West will have equal representation—is to begin work on disarmament early in the coming year.

Adenauer, speaking to 350 correspondents, said he and Macmillan had had a successful exchange of views during his three-day stay here.

Adenauer expressed "full sympathy and agreement" with a phased disarmament plan introduced by British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd in the U. N. General Assembly in September.

Adenauer repeated assurances that West Germany would cooperate in averting a trade war between the six-nation Common Market, of which she is a member, and the rival "Outer Seven" economic group led by Britain.

The establishment of the two groups, he said, "must not lead to economic warfare." Such a conflict, he added, would wreck the hard work that had gone into the building European unity since the war.

Business Notes

Larry G. Troxell, 209 Going St., has been assigned to a SAGE (Semi-Automatic Air Ground Environment) Air Defense Sector installation at Battle Creek by the International Business Machines Corporation.

Troxell recently was graduated from a five-month SAGE computer field engineering training course of IBM's Federal Systems Division at Kingston, N. Y.

Troxell, his wife, Doris, and son, Thomas, 1, will relocate in the Battle Creek area.

★ ★ ★

Eugene Makie, 6300 Grandville, Detroit, has joined the Utica Division of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation as general manufacturing manager, it was announced today.

★ ★ ★

The S. S. Kresge Company has named Walter H. Teninga, 1390 Lake Park Dr., Birmingham, head of its West Coast Real Estate Office in Los Angeles.

He has been with the Kresge Real Estate Department close to four years.

Teninga, his wife and two children, will relocate in the Los Angeles area. A University of Michigan graduate, he played in the 1948 Rose Bowl game.

Pianist's Daughter May Face Narcotics Charge

TIJUANA, Mexico (UPI) — The 23-year-old daughter of pianist Carmen Cavallaro will find out today if she must stand trial on a narcotics charge.

Vice Consul Joseph A. Cicala of the U.S. Consul's office said last night he learned Mexican officials interrogated Dolores Cavallaro most of yesterday and expected to wind up their questioning later today.

They will then decide whether she should be held to answer charges of possessing marijuana.

Jailed 54 Years, Pleads Guilty, Goes Right Back

Lewis I. Moran, who says he has spent 54 years in jails and prisons, left Oakland County jail today long enough to plead guilty to breaking and entering before Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

★ ★ ★

Judge Beer set sentencing for Dec. 7 and ordered Moran returned to jail.

When he was arrested by Ferndale police last week, Moran somewhat proudly told police that he has been a criminal since 1918.

He was arrested Nov. 8 after tripping the burglar alarm while rifling desks and files in the Church of Christ, 210 Hilton St., Ferndale.

Since he gave his age as 67, police figure, based on his story of his escapades, that he has been out of jail but 13 years of his life.

Sullenberger Dropped in Suit

Out-of-Court Financial Settlement Is Reached in Surgery Case

An order has been signed by Circuit Judge Theodore H. Hughes dropping Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger as a defendant in a $100,000 lawsuit charging the Pontiac surgeon left a sponge in a patient following an operation.

Attorneys said an out-of-court financial settlement has been reached between Sullenberger and his former patient, Cecil J. Harrison, 38, now living in California. Attorneys declined to disclose the amount.

Because he has moved to California from his Pontiac residence since the suit was filed in May of 1958, Harrison has started a second suit in Detroit Federal Court. It names as defendants, as did the first one, Sullenberger, the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees, the medical staff and the city.

It was expected that Harrison's attorney here also would move to drop Sullenberger from the federal suit.

Judge Hughes said he has been informed that attorneys will not pursue the Circuit Court case against the remaining three defendants, but will continue the higher court lawsuit.

Harrison, a former factory worker, charged the surgeon performed three operations on him for stomach ulcers at the hospital in 1957 although the condition could have been cured without surgery.

He said the second operation was necessary to remove the sponge left from the first operation.

To Add Offices at Tech Center

GM Ternstedt Division Plans Building in 1960; Will Employ 600

Plans to construct a new divisional central office and engineering building adjacent to the General Motors Technical Center in Warren, were announced today by L. R. Schreiner, general manager of GM's Ternstedt Division, maker of automobile hardware.

Ground will be broken for the project early in 1960, Schreiner said. It is expected that the building will be ready for use by approximately 1,700 employes in the spring of 1962.

"Approximately 600 additional employes will be needed when we move into our new headquarters," Schreiner announced.

The Ternstedt building will be east of the GM Technical Center and the Michigan Central Railroad tracks and north of the general offices of Fisher Body Division and the Chevrolet Engineering Center.

The property, which has been owned by GM for some time, now is being used by the Beverly Hills Golf Course.

Auto Output Starts Weak Upward Climb

DETROIT (AP) — Automobile production began a long climb back toward normal levels this week after severe cutbacks because of steel shortages.

Automotive News reported today that the current week's production should total 67,377 cars, up from last week's 64,235. A year ago domestic plants built 138,727 cars.

This week's increase came on stepped up production schedules at Ford, American Motors and Studebaker-Packard. General Motors built no cars. Chrysler continued to cut its output.

Automotive News said the five millionth car of 1959 was built yesterday. Last year's full production total reached only 4,244,045 units.

Truck production continued to slip this week with 11,170 assemblies against 11,845 a week ago and 24,824 in the comparable week of 1958.

Business and Finance

Steel Hopes Rally Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to rally early this afternoon on renewed hopes of a steel strike settlement.

Key stocks were up from fractions to about a point in a moderate resumption of yesterday's advance.

News that the steel industry negotiators had made a new offer to the union firmed prices which had begun to turn a bit mixed after a fairly good early rise.

U.S. Steel wiped out a loss of around a point and traded about unchanged. Other major steels were ahead on a broad front.

Rails, coppers, tobaccos, drugs, aircrafts and selected electronics also worked higher. Motors were irregular. Oils declined.

Ford was up slightly following confirmation of previous report that the Ford Foundation would offer another 2,000,000 shares of Ford common. The stock showed a slight loss in routine dealings later.

Trading was quite active, pretty close to yesterday's rate.

Youngstown Sheet, far down from its year's high, rebounded more than 2. Jones & Laughlin added more than a point, as did Lukens Steel. Bethlehem and Republic Steel gained fairly good fractions.

General Motors and American Motors declined slightly. Studebaker-Packard was up a bit while Studebaker's when-issued stock was up a fraction after rising ⅛ to 18⅜ on a huge block of 87,830 shares.

Ampex, up a half dozen points, starred in a mixed "science" group. Texas Instruments, Radio Corp. and Raytheon gained fractions while Avco and Sperry Rand were off slightly.

Gains of more than 2 were posted for Union Carbide and Merck. Up about a point were Goodyear, Woolworth, International Nickel, Allied Chemical and American Tobacco.

Half-Year Licenses on Michigan Trucks

LANSING (UPI) — Heavy duty trailer and commercial vehicles began using the new black on white half-year commercial plates this week, the State Highway Department announced yesterday.

Under present law, heavy commercial units weighing 4,600 pounds with annual vehicle taxes of more than $50 per year may use half-year plates.

Department officials said they are considering the introduction of legislation to create a 15-day period during which both old and new plates will be valid. Present law dictates the half-year plates may not be affixed until the 15th day of May or December.

N.Y. Demands Books of 11 Record Firms

NEW YORK (AP) — Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said today his office has subpoenaed the books and records of 11 recording companies in an inquiry on alleged payoffs for plugging and selling records.

Hogan said 10 of the companies are in Manhattan and the 11th is in Queens.

Grains Slow in Dull Dealings

CHICAGO (AP)—Commercial customers were scarce again today and the grain futures market was mostly weak in early dealings on the Board of Trade.

Old crop wheat months held small plus signs during the first several minutes on scattered buying which appeared to be for export interests. India was reported to have bought about 600,000 bushels of hard wheat and Israel a small amount of corn.

Weaker markets for soybean oil and soybean meal brought out selling in the soybean pit. The market for soybean oil has dropped to its lowest general level in almost 19 years.

Trade had virtually stalled near the end of the first hour with wheat ⅜ cent a bushel lower to ¼ higher. December $2.00⅜; corn ¼ to ⅜ lower, December $1.12¼; oats unchanged to ½ lower, December 77⅞; rye unchanged to ¼ lower, December $1.32¾; soybeans ¼ to ½ lower, January $2.22¾.

IS THE "BIRD" TO SEE
BIG SQUEEZE?
Then look at this 8 room, almost new, attractive, 2 level home. Could be 5 bedrooms but set up now with 3 bedrooms, family room, den. Lower level rec. room & 2 baths. Play park right across secluded street and you overlook your lake for winter and summer fun. Near Pontiac. Priced realistically.
HAVE YOU A FRIEND?
Here are two very attractive places out Morey's Golf way. Just across the street from the lake which you can use. Both are almost new, good sized, 2 bedroom masonry homes, GI's need no money down — only mtg. costs. Surprisingly low down payments to others — or will TRADE! Full price $10,400 and $11,300.

Ex-Cashier Gets 2-Year Sentence

Dwight Halstead From Mount Clemens Told of Embezzling

DETROIT (AP) — Dwight F. Halstead, 33, former assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Mount Clemens, has been sentenced to two years in federal prison for embezzlement of $36,588.

★ ★ ★

U.S. District Judge Frank A. Picard yesterday denied the plea of Halstead's attorney, Kenneth Sanborn, for probation. The judge noted that under a two-year sentence Halstead would be eligible for parole in eight months.

Sanborn said much of the money Halstead admitted taking went to the benefit of his family in a down payment on a new home, a $4,000 boat, $5,100 in sporting equipment and $500 for sodding his lawn.

Judge Picard commented, "It is more important that a man leave for his family a good name. He was trying to keep up with the Joneses, to be a big shot in Mount Clemens."

★ ★ ★

Halstead made $425 a month as assistant cashier. He admitted the embezzlement over a 2½ year period after surrendering to the FBI in Detroit.

Since surrendering, Halstead said he had obtained an $80-a-week job at a gasoline station and was going to be promoted soon to $100, that his wife was going to work at $300 a month and he would attempt to make restitution.

College Building Cost $34,000 Higher

LANSING (AP) — A conference house which Central Michigan University reported was built for about $30,000 actually cost more than $64,000, including $35,000 in student fees, a state audit has revealed.

★ ★ ★

Aud. Gen. Otis M. Smith reported details of the financing of the facility on remote Beaver Island, a hunting and fishing paradise.

Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield), chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, recently expressed surprise at the State Board of Education approving "a thing like this in times of austerity."

The board met on the island in August to accept the structure, which is built on 40 acres of land purchased from the State Conservation Department for $1 about 20 years ago.

★ ★ ★

CMU President Judson W. Foust, in a July 1 press release, described it as a "natural science laboratory." Later he said he had been misquoted and that its purpose was for planning and conference sessions.

An average person has four to six quarts of blood weighing 12 to 15 pounds.

Predicts Detroit Transportation to Build Up City

DEARBORN (AP) — Metropolitan Detroit can become the world's most accessible city by fully exploiting its land, air and sea transportation advantages, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said today.

★ ★ ★

Potentially, he told a Dearborn Civic Club, the city is "a crossroads for all forms of transportation." To reach this goal, he said, it must continue to develop its port facilities, expressway system and Metropolitan Airport.

★ ★ ★

"One of Detroit's great assets is its expanding system of expressways," he said.

"In the years ahead, these traffice arteries will make Detroit a strategic connection between the wealth of the Midwest and the markets of the world via air transportation and great ships that will use the St. Lawrence Seaway."

More than 330 reservoirs have been built in north Brazil as an antidrought protection measure.

GETS 25-YEAR SERVICE AWARD — S. E. Knudsen (right), Pontiac Motor Division general manager, presents traditional watch award to E. M. Estes, chief engineer, on his 25-year service anniversary. Estes, a graduate of General Motors Institute and the University of Cincinnati, joined Pontiac Motor in his present capacity in 1955 following various assignments with GM Research Laboratories and car division engineering.

Disc Jockey in College

Dick Clark Headed for Radio Early

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — One night, during his high school days in Mount Vernon, N.Y., Richard Wagstaff Clark's parents took him to see a live broadcast of the old Jimmy Durante - Garry Moore show. He made up his mind then he wanted a career in radio.

To the thousands of teen-agers who idolize him, Richard Wagstaff Clark is known as Dick Clark, emcee of the popular "American Bandstand" and "The Dick Clark Show" television programs.

★ ★ ★

The handsome, soft - spoken Clark, who stands 5-9, was born Nov. 30, 1929, in Mount Vernon.

He graduated from Syracuse University in June 1951 with a bachelor of science degree.

During his undergraduate days he was a disc jockey, interviewer and newscaster at the student-operated radio station on campus.

He also worked as a staff announcer for a Syracuse station.

After graduation, Clark joined station WOLF in Syracuse. Later he transferred to WRUN in Utica, N.Y., and then to television station WKTV in Utica.

★ ★ ★

Early in 1952 Clark came to Philadelphia television station WFIL. In July 1956 he took over the "American Bandstand" show which originates at WFIL and is nationally televised by ABC.

Clark married his high school sweetheart, Barbara Mallery, in 1952. The couple and their son live in suburban Wallingford.

Rockefeller Offers Pan-American Plan

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller proposed last night that the United States, Canada and the Latin American nations get together in a Pan American economic union comparable to the recently-formed European Community.

The governor outlined his plan at the National Foreign Trade Council's world trade dinner.

He said the purpose of such an economic union would be to raise living conditions in the Western Hemisphere and meet competition from other regional economic blocs.

India's railroads cover 47,350 miles, world's fourth largest.

But Dapper Stevens Doesn't Mind

They All Copy Gunn

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Dapper is the word for Craig Stevens whose Ivy League wardrobe, impeccable manners and flawless haircut set the style for television's glut of private eyes.

The jazz background music, his sensually subtel relationship with the leading lady, and tawdry hangout provide a prototype for all TV detectives.

To name a few shows patterned after Stevens and "Peter Gunn" — "Hawaiian Eye," "Bourbon Street Beat," "Richard Diamond," "Staccato" and "77 Sunset Strip." The hero invariably dresses better than Beau Brummel, makes love as artfully as Casanova and solves crimes like the F.B.I.

Is the public expected to swallow all this?

Stevens gives a qualified "Yes."

"Dramatic license is absolutely necessary for detective shows, just as it is in any drama or comedy," he said. "Otherwise, all shows would be terribly dull. "We're not supposed to give a true picture of detectives."

What does he think of the copycats?

"I have no beef with them," said Stevens, who gives the appearance of being above playing a video snooper.

"They're just hurting themselves. Our program would not have been successful if we had copied 'Dragnet,' for instance. The new shows patterned after 'Peter Gunn' are saturating the idea, and could spoil the future of detective shows."

While Stevens doesn't believe whodunits will ever replace Westerns, he agreed they are essentially the same form of entertainment.

"The three basic elements are involved," he explained.

"It's the story of Robin Hood told in two different eras. There are the good guys, the bad guys, and a beautiful dame who doesn't want to tie down the hero.

★ ★ ★

"The formula runs the same way it did in motion pictures. But the fault lies in the same mistake movies made. Once one particular kind of story or setting finds a tremendous audience it is followed by scores of others. And it isn't long before the public tires of the trend."

Stevens, who appeared in more than 50 films and was almost unknown, has become a celebrity with his TV series.

"It's nice to be identified with my role," he said, "but I doubt if the association with the character will prevent me from playing other roles."

Red Buttons Will Play 'Junkie' in Mafia Movie

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Red Buttons was just cast to play a "junkie" or narcotics addict in a movie about the Mafia by Ben Hecht titled "Brotherhood of Evil." Red'll co-star with James Mason and Louis Jourdan.

In the picture, Red gets beaten to death.

WILSON

Red's one of the busiest actors — besides being in constant demand in cafes, he'll also do a TV dramatic show starting rehearsals this week. However, there was one part he was up for that he didn't get —the role of a piano player in "Butterfield 8," starring Elizabeth Taylor.

His agent phoned him, "Well, we blew that role." "Who got it?" asked Red. "Eddie Fisher," answered the agent. "Eddie Fisher!" shouted Red. "How did that happen?"

Ava Gardner's contract for "The Fair Bride" movie provides that she doesn't have to give newspaper interviews . . . Haya Harareet, the Israeli beauty in "Ben-Hur," talking about the picture (which runs 3 hrs. 33 minutes plus an intermission) said "You have to buy a season ticket to see it."

HAYA

Comedian Alan King — off to London to pick up his Rolls-Royce — says the first place he'll drive it will be to Police Precinct 5 at Elizabeth and Hester Sts. "When I was 12 years old," he recalls, "I was brought in there for stealing hub caps. I wanted to get initiated into a boys' club in the neighborhood, and to get in you had to bring in some hub caps you'd stolen. I want to show the cops that I've straightened myself out."

EARL'S PEARLS — It's a pity that some people hang onto their manners and a steering wheel at the same time.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: With 30,000,000 fishermen in this country, isn't it remarkable that the Russians can still outlie us?

Jayne Mansfield would certainly have been the first person on the far side of the moon—if only she'd known the Russians were going to take pictures . . . That's earl, brother.

Church Leader Indignant Over TV's BIG Fix

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A church leader chided ministers today for indignation at the disclosures of "fixed" television quiz shows and overlooking the "big fix" in television.

★ ★ ★

"Cheating on quiz programs is only a little fix, not worth the indignation that it has elicited," said Dr. Truman B. Douglass of New York, executive vice president of the home missions board of the Congregational Christian churches.

"The big fix," he added, "is television itself, with its contempt for and perversion of the minds of men."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Douglass said television programs are "corrupting, desensitizing and perverting the people."

Humphrey Insists He Is Like Harry Truman

PARSONS, Kan. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, campaigning for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination, said Wednesday night he's the same type Democrat as former President Harry S. Truman.

★ ★ ★

In a speech to 400 Kansas Democrats at a fund-raising dinner, Humphrey said: "If you haven't guessed it by now, I'm a Truman Democrat—and I want to say to you now, that's the only kind of Democrat that will ever win a national election."

★ ★ ★

"Truman is sanely liberal. He can talk sense to the American people. He is a great human being as well as a public official," Humphrey said.

Steel Hour's 'Autumn' Bogs Down in Last Act

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Steel Hour, a sturdy if not particularly inspired dramatic staple of the television week, had all the makings of a gripping show Wednesday night. "The Last Autumn" got off to a fast start: A 14-year-old preparatory school boy dropped from a high ledge during a class field trip and his shocked father, at the school, is determined to find out the circumstances of his boy's death and punish the guilty.

★ ★ ★

Was it negligence on the part of the school? What is the headmaster concealing? Why did the dead boy's roommate run away in fright? The play zipped along — until the final act. Then it became over-dramatic and obvious as the blame dropped neatly on the belligerent father's shoulders.

★ ★ ★

Pat Hingle, in his first acting role since a serious accident several months ago, had a tendency to overdo things a bit as the father. Alexis Smith as his fiance had little to do except look anguished and hold out restraining hands. House Jameson as the headmaster was crisply pedagogical. It was a good hour's entertainment in spite of the wobbly denouement.

Television producers, desperate for plot material to feed into the camera have scheduled the Margaret Bourke-White Story" on NBC early in January—based on Miss Bourke-Whites own magazine piece concerning her fight against a crippling disease.

One of the problems of redoing old movies as television special productions is that alert competitors to a network station can run off the screen originals around the same time. For instance, a local New York station is showing the old film of Hemingway's "The Killers" all this week, inviting comparison with tonight's CBS version.

Those luscious Thanksgiving turkeys featured on many a TV screen during this preholiday season are actually half-cooked birds made to look crisp and tempting by touches of make-up. Reason for part deception is that a thoroughly cooked bird would shrivel and pucker if allowed to cool. Exceptions to the half-baked rule are the birds which will be roasted by NBC's Josie McCarthy and other TV kitchen queens. They can pull a hot turkey out of a real 325 degree oven in full view of the camera.

Warming Winds Ease Ice Threat

Ore Ship Movements Speed Up After Early Lakes Freeze

CHICAGO (UPI) — Warming winds blowing across the Great Lakes today appeared to be ending a brief ice threat to iron ore shippers.

★ ★ ★

The Coast Guard reported up to six inches of ice still covering some Lake Superior bays and ports, but said shipping should continue until the normal freeze-up time early in December.

The warmer weather was good news for shippers racing to replenish depleted ore stockpiles at recently reopened steel mills.

Although the cold spell was the earliest in memory, most of Lake Superior and almost all of the lower lakes are free of ice.

★ ★ ★

The cold spell also slowed unloading of iron ore by as much as 46 hours when the ore froze on ships.

Peck Walks Out on Marilyn and 'Love' Film

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gregory Peck says he walked out of a movie with Marilyn Monroe because of a schedule conflict.

But rumor has it that it was the lines, not the times, that caused Peck to bow out. Peck reportedly argued with Marilyn and her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, over the size of their respective roles.

One source says Marilyn and Miller tried to build up her part, and that Peck objected.

No replacement has been named yet for Peck.

The movie originally was entitled "The Billionaire." Its new title: "Let's Make Love."
