Raise Giant Crucifix

Special Pontiac Press Photos

RISING INTO THE SKY — This giant bronze figure of Christ is shown here being hoisted by crane yesterday afternoon for placement upon a 55-foot redwood cross at an Indian River Catholic Shrine. The huge crucifix, weighing 18 tons, was created by Marshall Fredericks, world-noted sculptor from Birmingham. The crucifix is believed to be the largest of its kind in the world.

PLACED ON THE CROSS — Four-ton figure of Christ is placed on the cross and secured by workmen. Today, it stands atop the shrine's 20-foot Calvary Hill, 75 feet in the air, overlooking Burt Lake in the Indian River, northern Michigan resort area.

Tall Statue of Christ Lifted High

INDIAN RIVER (AP) — A towering crucifix, which its creator terms the largest in the world, stands today at the Catholic shrine outside this northern lower Michigan town.

A 31-foot tall bronze figure of Christ was placed yesterday on a 55-foot cross of redwood that stands atop the shrine's Calvary Hill on a bluff overlooking Burt Lake. The height of the cross is the equivalent of almost five stories.

Placing of the figure yesterday climaxed four years of work by sculptor Marshall Fredericks of Birmingham. Fredericks has plans eventually to add 14-foot figures of the Apostle John, Mary Magdalene and Mary, the mother of Christ, at the foot of the cross.

The redwood cross, made from a single California giant tree, weighs 14 tons, the figure four tons. There is a span of 23 feet between the nails in the figure's outstretched hands.

Christ wears no crown of thorns because Fredericks wanted "to eliminate the suffering and agony for the observer, and give the face an expression of great peace and strength."

Neither does the body bear a spear wound. Fredericks said research showed the wound was inflicted after death and he wanted to portray Christ as he looked just before he died, "when he reached the highest pinnacle of his existence on earth."

Michigan Bell Planning Big Expansion for Area

Anticipating continued growth in the Pontiac area, Michigan Bell Telephone Co. is planning an expansion program here to service 3,100 new customers by the end of next year.

The company is also planning more private, one-party telephones and increased facilities to meet an expected demand for more long-distance telephone service.

These are the main aims of a proposed $2,800,000 expansion program in the Pontiac area during the next 18 months, details of which were disclosed today by Raymond H. Storm, Pontiac district manager.

The expenditures are budgeted as part of a $171 million expansion program in Michigan, he said.

The company plans to spend $1,011,000 here for equipment on customers' premises, Storm said. Most of the equipment will be for new customers, but some will be replacements for existing customers, he added.

NEEDS FOR FUTURE

In order to handle the 3,100 new customers forecasted, the company is scheduled to spend $312,000 in new central office equipment in Pontiac, Storm said.

★ ★ ★

Storm pointed out that little, if any, of the expenditures will go to meet existing demands for new, or better, telephone service.

The Weather Ahead? Just Plain Pleasant

Sunny skies and not much change in temperature is the weekend forecast for the Pontiac area. Tonight will be fair and cool with a low of 55.

★ ★ ★

Northerly winds at 10-20 miles an hour will diminish tonight. Partly cloudy is the outlook for Monday.

★ ★ ★

Fair and not much change in temperature is the Sunday forcast for all of Lower Michigan. The bureau said Upper Michigan will be partly cloudy and warmer.

★ ★ ★

Sixty-seven was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the reading was 76.

Thailand Worried Over Laos Attacks

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Thailand's Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman said today he is concerned over attacks on Laos army posts in the north by Communist guerrillas.

"We are all worried about events in Laos," he said. "Not only Thailand, but I am sure many other countries in this area are worried."

The Communist activity began recently in the northern Laos Province of Samneua. Laotian troops moved into the area Friday and were reported battling more than 1,000 Communist rebels.

'Mutual Respect or Era of Fear'

Nixon Hurls Warning at Reds

Speaks Bluntly in Farewell to Soviet People

Hints He'd Like Visit to U. S. by Khrushchev, but Stays Uncommitted

MOSCOW (AP)—Vice President Nixon warned Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today of an "era of fear, suspicion and tension" if Russia tries to communize foreign countries.

In a farewell speech broadcast by radio and television, Nixon called for a "just peace based on mutual respect rather than the peace of surrender or dictation by either side."

"Putting it bluntly, both of our peoples want peace but both of us also possess great strength and much as we want peace, neither of us can or will tolerate being pushed around," Nixon said.

He hinted he favored inviting Khrushchev to visit the United States but stopped short of saying he would recommend this to President Eisenhower when he returns to Washington.

★ ★ ★

Nixon noted that First Deputy Premiers Anastas I. Mikoyan and Frol R. Kozlov have visited the United States and he added significantly:

"We should explore ways of increasing contacts of this type."

Nixon pledged that the United States would strive unceasingly for peace even though Khrushchev and American leaders "disagreed sharply" on key world problems.

Nixon's speech was carried on a TV network extending in a radius of about 300 miles around Moscow where there are several million viewers and on a radio network stretching throughout the Soviet Union.

Motorboat Overturns but Six Little League Baseballers Rescued

By MAX E. SIMON

Death was cheated on an Oakland County lake yesterday afternoon.

An ex-Navy frogman and a Little League baseball coach saved six Little League ballplayers, one with a cast on his leg, when a large cabin cruiser overturned suddenly on a man-made lake in Commerce Township.

The boys, ranging from 8 to 10, were pitched into water 10 feet deep, more than 100 yards from the shore of Lake Sherwood.

One boy was trapped in an air pocket underneath the boat. A youth whose leg was encased in a cast desperately thrashed about in the water.

The Little League coach, Robert Weinberg, 33, of 1187 Pleasure St., Milford, swam to the aid of eight-year-old Ricki Yeager, who had been sitting in the rear of the boat when it flipped over.

The Yeager boy's leg was in a cast, the result of being injured in an auto accident a week earlier.

TREATED FOR SHOCK

An ex-Navy frogman, Jeffers rushed to a rowboat, reached the capsized craft, and dove in after Bruce Erickson, 9, who was trapped in an air pocket under the boat.

★ ★ ★

Weinberg was treated for shock by Dr. W. D. Hackett after the incident.

The youths were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ferryman, 4815 Surfwood St., Commerce Township.

The Ferrymans, whose son Tom, 10, is a member of the team, had invited the boys to the home to celebrate the completion of the baseball season.

Nine persons were in the boat when it tipped over. Occupants were six Little Leaguers; Mrs. Ferryman's father, G. H. Cole of Middletown, Ohio, 69-year-old retired associate director of research for the Armco Steel Corp.; Weinberg, and the Ferryman's 13-year-old son, Frank Jr.

Weinberg was bringing the boat into shore when the accident occurred.

The 18-foot, Century cabin cruiser, valued at about $6,000, was approximately 100 yards from the beach when it turned over.

The cause of the accident is unknown. Milford Police said that Weinberg was near hysteria when he returned to the shore.

Cole, who was visiting the Ferrymans, shouted instructions to the boys near the boat while Weinberg swam to Yeager.

★ ★ ★

"All of the boys were calm. We were lucky," Cole said. "Most of them could swim and the boat

Escaped Lifer Being Hunted

Set Up Road Blocks in U. P. for Man Convicted Here in Slaying

The manhunt was concentrated in wooded areas near Marquette.

Police in Minnesota and neighboring Wisconsin also were alerted for 29-year-old Mike Gisondi who broke out of Marquette Prison yesterday by hiding in a garbage truck.

Gisondi and Harold Hummel were convicted of first degree murder in Oakland County Circuit Court here and sentenced to life imprisonment March 9, 1953. The two were convicted of killing two men in a brawl at a Hazel Park tavern on Aug. 16, 1952.

★ ★ ★

They were found guilty of the holdup-slaying of Vidos and Joseph Vinokurow, father and son, owners of the Oak Gardens Tavern.

★ ★ ★

Both fled the state. Gisondi was captured in California and Hummel in Arkansas. Both waived extradition and were returned to Michigan.

Gisondi, a native of Aliquippa, Pa., drew a knife on a trusty truck driver once outside the walls of the prison. The driver said Gisondi fled into wooded land just south of U.S. 41.

Prison officials said it was not known how Gisondi got into the garbage truck. But Warden Raymond Buchkoe said the fugitive "doubtless had a shield ready and lay down behind it because prison guards probed the load with iron bars before releasing it."

Prison officials said they were certain Gisondi spent the night in wooded areas near the prison. However, heavy road blocks were maintained at highway points near the Michigan-Wisconsin border and road blocks were set at the Straits of Mackinac Bridge.

Williams Takes Spotlight at Governors' Conference

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI)—Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams was due here today with bathing suit and briefcase for some time in the sun and the national spotlight.

Williams, the nation's senior governor, was prepared for a prominent role in the 51st annual Governors' Conference.

The 48-year-old potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination brought along charts, mimeographed statements and other materials prepared for delivery at what he hopes will be a national forum.

He also had a two-man task force to help promote his program—and himself.

★ ★ ★

"We have a very attractive package," said his executive secretary, Sidney H. Woolner. "Nobody is going to miss a sale."

★ ★ ★

Williams, who will be attending his 11th Governors' Conference, was scheduled to arrive late in the day on a National Guard plane that left part of its original cargo behind because of a controversy over National Guard regulations.

Woolner and Press Secretary Paul W. Weber accompanied Williams, who originally planned to also bring his three children, legal adviser Alfred B. Fitt and speechwriter John Murray on the Guard plane.

Williams changed his plans after Rep. Alvin Bentley (R-Mich) suggested to Secretary of Defense Neil

2nd Death Laid to Poorly Cooked Home-Canning

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — The paralyzing poison in a jar of home-canned beets, claimed its second victim Friday night. Of the four who survive, one is near death, two are in serious condition and the last may be out of danger.

All six were felled by dreaded botulism — a nerve-attacking poison produced by bacteria which grow in improperly cooked food. A doctor here calls it one of the most deadly poison substances known to man.

Fifteen-year-old Wanda Nelson died in her iron lung Friday evening. Early Thursday, Aaron Grunwell, 74, a east Idaho farmer, also died.

July State Toll Up 6 Per Cent

EAST LANSING (AP) — Death reaped an increased toll on Michigan highways for the fourth consecutive month during July, State Police reported today.

There were 126 traffic deaths in the state during the past month, a six per cent increase over the 119 killed in the same month a year ago. Delayed death reports are expected to swell the total.

Police said there have been 732 highway deaths so far this year, an increase of 42 over the 690 during the same period last year.

The increase represented a serious setback after three years during which the state reduced deaths more than 10 per cent annually. The trend has been national, police said, and a five per cent increase in fatalities in Michigan during the first six months of the year parallels the nationwide experience.

For seven months, however, the Michigan death count is up six per cent.

Police said the gain is due mostly to an increase in cars and miles traveled caused by an improvement in economic conditions.

CHICAGO (AP) — Some 17,090 traffic deaths—a five per cent increase—were reported on the nation's highways the first six months of 1959.

The National Safety Council said Friday the increase over a similar period in 1958 was attributed to heavier travel.

The Council also reported there were 3,150 traffic deaths in June, the sixth straight monthly boost over a corresponding period in 1958.

'Afraid the Cost Will Go Up'

Willman Glum on Sewage Setup

By PETE LOCHBILER

"I'm afraid the cost will go up."

That was City Manager Walter K. Willman's glum reaction to the State Health Department's decision to scrap Pontiac's present plans for more sewage treatment facilities and call for new ones.

How far-reaching the decision will be depends on what steps the city and state agree are necessary for Pontiac to curb Clinton River pollution in compliance with an order being readied by the Water Resources Commission.

Up to Thursday, the state had been giving tacit approval to the plan for $3,300,000 in improvements which Pontiac voters three times rejected in as many years.

The $3,300,000 plan had been approved by the State Health Department as recently as this spring and was deemed adequate to cope with Pontiac's pollution problems.

PROBLEM WORSE

"Now it appears that Pontiac's pollution problem is far worse than the Health Department suspected," Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, stated yesterday.

Willman said the first step in grappling with the change in the pollution picture would be a series of conferences with the Health Department.

He said that the city's engineer consultants, Jones and Henry, would be called in. The Toledo firm drew up the present plans for treatment plant expansion.

"We will have our consultants confer with the State Health Department to determine just what is demanded in the way of expansion," Willman said.

"When we have reviewed our plans and altered them to meet the state's demands, then we will know how much extra it is going to cost."

Under the Water Resources Commission's order, the city has until Dec. 1 to submit new plans that will meet with Health Department approval.

Willman indicated that the city's power to act independently of the state had been surrendered now that the Water Resources Commission has decided to intervene.

"The major decisions are in the hands of the state now," he said.

The Water Resources Commission gave Pontiac until July 1, 1960 to award construction contracts for more facilities and set Dec. 31, 1961 as the deadline to have sufficient facilities in operation to curb pollution.

★ ★ ★

If the city doesn't meet this December's deadline or next July's the Water Resources Commission is empowered to seek a Circuit Court writ backing up its orders.

It appeared that the city's big stumbling block would be financing.

Voters turned down general obligation bond issues for the plant in May 1957, November 1958 and again this past April.

It will be up to the City Commission to decide whether to appeal once again to voters to approve general obligation bonds or to let the city default on the July 1,

The Day in Birmingham

2 City Residents Escape Serious Injury in Air Crash

BIRMINGHAM — Two Birmingham residents and a Grosse Ile couple escaped serious injury when their small, single-engine plane struck a power pole while making a crash-landing near Gaylord last night.

★ ★ ★

En route from Detroit to Pellston were William L. Martin, 783 Puritan St., a Chrysler Corp. executive; Miss Nicholous Parsons, 18, 928 Poppleton St.; Donald Gustavson, 26, of Grosse Ile, the pilot, and his wife Marilyn, 26.

According to Gaylord State Police, the plane's oil line broke at 3,000 feet, blanketing the windshield and obscuring Gustavson's vision.

As he attempted a forced landing, the plane's wing hit the power pole.

Miss Parsons told her mother, Mrs. Marc J. Parsons, the pilot did "a tremendous job in getting the plane down."

Mrs. Gustavson was admitted to Gaylord Memorial Hospital with rib injuries.

According to Mrs. Parsons, Nicholous, who called last night from the hospital, was "just shaken up and jittery."

Mrs. Parsons said her daughter had flown a number of times in commercial planes but this was the first time in a light plane.

The four will return home by train Sunday night, said Mrs. Parsons.

The City Commission will discuss plans for the annual convention of the Michigan Municipal League to be held Sept. 11 at Mackinac Island in its weekly meeting Monday night.

The corporate term of the Municipal League expires June 24, 1960, and the extension of this term to 30 years will be the main business at the fall meeting of the League.

Plans by Linn Smith, architect, for the proposed addition to Baldwin Public Library will be reviewed by commissioners. Final detailed plans have already been accepted by the library Board of Trustees.

Upon receipt of a petition from Mrs. J. A. Anderson of 45 Merrill St., the Comimssion will discuss possibilities of complying with her request to resurface the alley adjoining her property, or else have the city vacate the property entirely.

Smith has submitted a bill for $500 for plans for the fire department training tower at the Adams fire station.

Although there has been no further consideration of the project since completion of the Birmingham 1959-60 budget, the Commission will consider payment of the bill for Smith's plans.

The Commission also will award contracts for its 1959 P-3 paving project which includes the North Woodward avenue access drive from Redding street south, the Southfield road access drive at Wakefield street and the Maple-Bates alley at the Monday night meeting.

Slate Truth Test for Tomorrow

Lloyd J. Tunnell Stays in Voluntary Custody in Murder Quiz

Lloyd J. Tunnell, 53, 1755 Williams Lake Rd., Waterford Township, in voluntary custody for investigation in the murder of Dr. W. Carleton Warrick, will take a truth serum test at Pontiac State Police Post tomorrow.

The test was postponed Friday because doctors were not available, according to Pontiac police.

Tunnell, who said he found Dr. Warrick moments after the 71-year-old physician had been shot twice, was arrested Monday night.

Lie detector tests Tuesday and Wednesday at the Redford State Police Post proved inconclusive, police said. He does not fit the description of the gunman given by Dr. Warrick.

Tunnell at first balked at aking the truth serum test, but later agreed to submit to it late Thursday.

"I will remain in voluntary custody until I am cleared," he told police.

Dr. Warrick was shot July 24, and died at Pontiac General Hospital Saturday night.

Los Angeles Mayor Hunts Cash for Dems

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Confident that Los Angeles will remain the site for the 1960 Democratic National Convention, Mayor Norris Poulson today sought a means to raise $360,000 needed to bring it here.

★ ★ ★

Poulson and Bart Lytton, liaison man for the convention, met last Thursday to discuss means of raising the money in case wealthy oilman Ed Pauley and the host committee whose job it is to raise the money fail to do so.

★ ★ ★

Pauley and Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler are engaged in a dispute over 5,000 tickets to the convention which Pauley said was promised the host committee. Butler says the committee can have no more than 1,500 tickets. Pauley has threatened not to raise the money unless he gets the tickets.

Canadian Air Cools Nation Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

A fresh surge of cool Canadian air poured into the midcontinent today as most of the nation enjoyed pleasant weekend weather.

★ ★ ★

This new assault, following on the heels of an earlier cold air advance, began a mercury drop throughout the region.

★ ★ ★

Vigorous thunderstorm activity which buffeted widely scattered points Friday had nearly dissipated in the early morning hours.

★ ★ ★

Scattered thundershowers still splashed parts of Missouri, Kansas and Arkansas. Showers and thunderstorms also were reported in a three-state sector, South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama.

Cooler nighttime temperatures reigned from the Ohio Valley through the Mid and North Atlantic states. The midnight reading was 66 at Columbus, Ohio—some 11 degrees below the previous 24-hour standard.

Showers and thundershowers also slightly cooled the Central Plains.

Nixon Warns Russians in Broadcast to Reds

1. Khrushchev and Eisenhower should agree to talk directly to each other's peoples in "regular radio and television broadcasts."

2. All of Eisenhower's foreign policy speeches should be printed in the Soviet Union in return for printing all such speeches by Khrushchev in the United States.

3. A new "sharply expanded" exchange of persons should be agreed upon along with more cultural exchanges.

4. The Soviet Union should stop jamming Voice of America broadcasts to let the Soviet people hear American views, and agree to allow more American magazines and publications into the country.

"Through this greater exchange of information between our two peoples, we not only learn from each other and improve our way of life but we reduce the suspicion, the mistrust, the fear and misunderstanding and assure the understanding and friendship which will lead to the peace we all want," Nixon said.

The speech, in English, was interrupted at short intervals to allow a translation into Russian by Alexander Akalovsky, an American. The idea was for him to translate it "thought by thought."

The vice president stoutly defended the ring of overseas military bases the United States and its Allies have built up around the world as a defense against possible aggression.

AGREE TO END BLACKOUT

The Russians agreed to end a virtual news blackout on the speech by carrying a series of announcements on radio and TV telling Russians to tune in.

This was announced at a news conference by Herbert Klein, the vice president's spokesman. He said three announcements would be made over 10 TV stations that extended the 300 miles outside Moscow.

Further announcements were promised over a radio chain reaching the whole of the Soviet Union.

Moreover, Nixon was put on a spot that normally attracts a big audience, the 8 o'clock light humor hour.

American radio networks have announced plans to broadcast Nixon's speech to the Soviet people today.

LIST BROADCAST TIMES

The Columbia Broadcasting System says it will carry the speech at 4:30 p.m. EST.

The National Broadcasting Co. says it will carry excerpts at 1:30 p.m. and the full speech at 6:05 p.m.

The Mutual Broadcasting Network says it has formally requested permission from Moscow to transmit the speech live and also plans a rebroadcast at 8:30 p.m.

The American Broadcasting Co. reported it was having trouble getting permission for either live transmission or recording, but will broadcast the speech if either becomes available.

Earlier this week the Soviets protested ABC's handling of the debate between Nixon and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev claiming ABC's English translation of Khrushchev's remarks was incomplete.

The Soviets had agreed to let Nixon make an uncensored radio-TV speech in exchange for the courtesy shown First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov in his visit to the United States.

Kozlov made an hour-long speech over a coast-to-coast television network from Washington which was well advertised in advance.

West Ministers Nearly End Berlin Settlement Hopes

GENEVA (UPI) — The Western Allies today all but abandoned hope of any Berlin settlement on the foreign ministers level and looked, instead, for intervention from higher up — possibly in the form of private talks between President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

★ ★ ★

Reports of a pending invitation for the Soviet Premier to visit the United States drew considerable attention here.

Western diplomats now feel such a visit might represent the only way of breaking the deadlock on Berlin that has developed during the nine-week Geneva conference.

None of the Western delegations could confirm that a Khrushchev visit actually was in the mill, but most officials indicate they would be immensely surprised if an official announcement of an invitation does not come in the near future.

Meanwhile, with only five days left to negotiate before Secretary of State Christian A. Herter returns to the United States, the foreign ministers talks have taken on the appearance of a hold-the-fort operation.

Although the intend to strive for some sort of agreement up to the last minute, the Western powers mainly are concerned now with how to end the meeting on a "friendly basis" so as not to generate an atmosphere of crisis.

Aluminum Safe on Strike Threat

NEW YORK (UPI)—The aluminum industry today could look forward to continued production without the threat of an imminent strike. But the steel strike dragged into its 18th day with no sign of a break.

The Reynolds Metals Co. and the Aluminum Workers International Union agreed early today to extend their present contract indefinitely in line with similar extensions signed earlier by other aluminum companies and unions.

The agreement averted a strike by 5,500 of Reynolds' 17,000 workers and climaxed a marathon bargaining session during which the strike deadline had been moved up from midnight to 2 a.m. EDT.

There was no sign today that the steel industry and the United Steelworkers Union were any closer than they were July 15 when the 500,000 steelworkers walked off the job.

Federal mediators apparently made no progress in a meeting with the union yesterday.

No further meetings were scheduled until Monday, when chief government mediator Joseph P. Finnegan and his panel will sit down with both sides at a joint session.

Backyard Pool Causing Trouble With Neighbors

DETROIT (AP)—It was bound to happen. The backyard swimming pool—newest in home refinements — has touched off a neighborhood squabble.

For the first time in the memory of traffic and ordinance court officials, a nuisance complaint has been filed by an objector to a neighbor's pool.

Mrs. Wanda Dudley said her neighbor's pool permits large groups of youngsters to congregate, and has led to loud laughter and shouting in the late evening hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Isler, owners of the controversial body of water, deny their pool is a nuisance. Mrs. Isler said a full-time maid supervises the pool and that swimming is permitted only during certain hours. The pool is off limits for everyone at 9 p.m., she said.

Court officials are trying to find if there are any specific laws covering the subject. The case comes up next Friday.

3 Convicts Flee From R. I. Prison

HOWARD, R.I. (AP) — Two tough criminals and a violent mental patient today scaled the wall at State Prison, forced a guard to drive them to Providence and then escaped in a waiting auto.

Authorities identified the prisoners as Gennaro D'Amico, 38, serving 20 years for attempting to kill a policeman, and Edward J. Andrews, 28, serving life for the rape-killing of an 88-year-old schoolteacher.

The third escaper was identified as Robert Hashberger, 19, who had been transferred to the prison hospital from the state mental institution because of tendencies toward violence.

Japan Christian School Grows to 775 Since 1949

In 1949, Japan International Christian University existed only on paper. This year, 775 students and 178 full and part-time members of the faculty live and work in the modern buildings on its 312-acre campus outside Tokyo.

"Ten years ago we built this university to serve God and the people," Dr. Hachiro Yuasa, ICU president, declared at the recent Founders' Days ceremonies in which he reviewed the past decade.

The university was conceived as a gesture of reconciliation between the United States and Japan because of the war and particularly because of Hiroshima, the large gathering was told.

Beginning as an English-language institute, it developed into a College of Liberal Arts in 1950. With the graduation of its first four-year class in 1957, the Graduate School was opened with the School of Education.

Other additions are an allied Institute of Educational Research and Service and a Social Science Research Institute, which will later become a graduate school of public administration. And this summer, ground will be broken for a $425,000 library with shelves for more than 157,000 volumes.

Among the students, ten per cent of whom are non-Japanese, is Masayochi Katsuta. A 23-year-old senior and social science major, he is studying at ICU under a full tuition scholarship endowed by the First Methodist Church of Palo Alto, California.

He is typical of many of the Japanese students whose families suffered heavily during the war, and who otherwise would have been unable to go to a university. He was baptized a Christian in his junior year and has served as vice president of the Tokyo UNESCO Students' Federation. Others in the student body come from the United States, China, Burma, the Philippines, Germany, Indonesia, Korea and Malaya.

Initial funds for ICU were raised in Japan, including gifts from the Emperor, the Bank of Japan and former U. S. Ambassador to Japan, Joseph C. Grew. Fourteen Protestant denominations in the United States contribute to its support through the Japan International Christian University Foundation, Inc.

India Reds Call Mass Protest

Want a Nationwide Stir to Show Reaction on Kerala Ouster

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's Communist party today ordered its followers to stage nationwide demonstrations protesting the central government's ouster of the Red regime in Kerala.

Prime Minister Nehru's government removed the Kerala regime Friday and placed the south Indian state under rule from New Delhi until a new legislature is elected.

Indian President Rajendra Prasad signed the proclamation decided on by Nehru's Cabinet, saying the Kerala government was unable to rule in accordance with the nation's constitution.

Ghosh said the party would not abandon the public pledge made last year to follow only constitutional methods in seeking power.

The Communist party ordered its organizations in India's 14 states to stage big protest demonstrations Monday. Leaders said they would be peaceful.

The constitution requires that Parliament approve the action on Kerala, which will probably be debated shortly after Parliament opens Monday.

Authoritative sources indicated the government, which has always tried to get along with the Communists inside and outside India, took the step regretfully.

The action came as a result of agitation against Kerala's Communist ministry by opposition groups. The groups said they would continue efforts to paralyze the administration until the Reds resigned, permitting new elections. The Reds refused to quit.

During the agitation that resulted, 15 persons were killed in stabbings, beatings and clashes with police. Authorities arrested more than 125 persons for picketing government offices and engaging in other forms of peaceful resistance.

One-Cent Boost in Milk Price Goes Into Effect

The hike is provided for in a contract negotiated last spring between the Milk Producers Assn. and the dairies. The penny increase will remain in effect until Jan. 31, 1960.

The association automatically has increased its price to the dairies, all of which are expected to pass the boost on to the public.

Under the increase, milk will cost 24½ cents a quart or 48 cents for the half-gallon bottle or carton.

There is no knowledge as to the original discovery or use of fire. Some scientists believe fire first permitted man to walk with protection against savage animals.

Conference Spotlight to Shine on Williams

STUDIES RULES

But the governor, after study of ANG regulation 76-6, announced he would board the Guard plane with his wife and aides "whose presence is needful to me."

Secretary McElroy later announced the Defense Department had waived regulations to allow governors use of Guard planes to travel to the conference.

Williams, who has been plagued with acute revenue problems at home, was named to preside at the Carribean conference over a panel Tuesday on state financial sources.

"There will be no senators around to shoehorn in this time," was Secretary Woolner's wry comment.

One of Williams' first appearances will be at a panel on civil defense called for 8:30 a.m. tomorrow by another possible presidential nominee, Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

On Monday, the nine governors who toured the Soviet Union a few weeks ago will report on their trip.

STOLE THUNDER

Williams stole some of their thunder while they were in Russia by fighting a running verbal battle with Soviet First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov, who was touring the United States.

Williams plans to hop to the Virgin Islands Thursday for a short visit.

Willman Is Glum on Sewage Setup

1960 deadline for lack of financing arrangements.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston saw "a slim chance" that the Commission might call for another election.

"This is a policy decision that has not yet been made," the Mayor said.

"However, we have no new arguments to present to the voters in behalf of sewage treatment plant bonds. The facts were before the people in the past and there's no particular reason they would feel any differently now."

If the city defaulted on the Water Resources Commission timetable and a Circuit Court order subsequently were issued, the picture would change.

The City Commission would legally be able to issue general obligation bonds to finance expansion without first going to the voters for approval. The bonds would not be subject to a referendum vote.

Willman told the Water Resources Commission that he preferred general obligation bond financing to revenue bond financing.

Not only would revenue bonds be more costly (in the form of higher interest rates), but a decision by the City Commission to issue them would be subject to upset by a referendum, he said.

Revenue bonds would have to be paid off solely through increases in the water and sewage rates, while general tax money could go into the retirement of general obligation bonds, it was pointed out.

Vandals Go Wild at City School; Damage $1,000

Vandals who broke into the Hawthorne Elementary School last night, smeared paint over classroom walls and smashed windows by hurling rocks and bottles through them, Pontiac Police said today.

The intruders are believed to have entered the building through a first-floor bathroom window.

They ransacked a paint cabinet and splashed paint over walls, furniture and the floors.

Police said the vandals painted obscene language on playground equipment and several windows.

Big Expansion Planned by Bell

demands as they occur. The new expansion program is designed to meet needs which we foresee will develop in the Pontiac area in the coming months.

"We want to be in position to meet new demands when and where they develop."

Storm said estimates predict that by the end of 1963, about 65 per cent of the Federal exchange (Pontiac city) customers will want private, one-party telephones. At present, about 43 per cent of the Federal exchange telephones are one-party, he said.

TO PLACE NEW CABLE

The biggest portion of the expansion program is earmarked for such outdoor installations as new cable, Storm said.

Five miles of new cable, costing $190,000, are planned on W. Huron street, from State street west into Waterford Township. A new main cable on Mt. Clemens street from the central office to the city limits is also planned, at a cost of $148,000.

The two big projects add up to more customers, better service and better long distance facilities between Pontiac and communities to the east and west, said Storm.

Another big cable is planned on S. Saginaw street, costing $37,500, and providing increased service and better long distance connections southward, he said.

These big cables are designed as trunklines with which local telephone lines connect in much the same way as small tributary streams feed into a big river, Storm explained.

Another $350,000 is scheduled to be spent on extensions of the telephone system to new homes, subdivisions and areas without telephone service at present, Storm said.

One project faced by the telephone company is relocation of telephone poles and cables in the vicinity of the upcoming Oakland County Expressway north of Pontiac. It's estimated it will cost $50,000 to re-route the lines, Storm said.

Maladjustment Can Hurt You Physically

By LELORD KORDEL
Instalment Eighteen

In America there are more than 10 million mentally ill people. Half a million hospital beds are filled by mentally ill patients.

One out of every 12 children born this year will suffer during his lifetime a mental illness severe enough to send him to the hospital.

Doctors find that most individuals have minor emotional disturbances, which too often go unrecognized. Many productive persons continuously maintain a chronic neurotic adjustment to life.

These people flood the doctors' offices with their psychosomatic illnesses. Nearly 60 per cent of all patients who consult doctors do so for complaints attributable primarily to emotional disorders.

Your mind can make you well . . . or it can make you ill, both mentally and physically.

Headaches, abdominal pain, diarrhea, nausea, vomiting, rapid heartbeat, shortness of breath, blurring of vision, and paralysis are just some of the symptoms caused by mental worries and anxieties.

Your emotions affect, favorably or unfavorably, the functioning of practically every organ of the body.

Emotions, stress, and tensions are the common causes of headaches. Resentment can prevent food from entering your stomach or from being properly digested.

Disgust can bring on skin rashes, long after you've forgotten all about the emotion.

A guilt complex can lead to distraction, carelessness, and accidents. Anger, particularly self-anger, can cause ulcers. Anxiety produces heart and blood disorders, and is often the cause of diarrhea.

MAJOR PROBLEM

The problem of mental health must be attacked by considering the total environment: the community, the schools, the home. And, since the major part of a man's life is spent in business, that part of his life must not be ignored.

★ ★ ★

Evidence now exists that as many as 80 per cent of mental patients, given adequate and intensive treatment, can be discharged during their first year of such treatment. How much mental illness might be prevented by the correction of glandular and organic difficulties and by proper nutrition!

The wrong diet, wrong thinking, and wrong living can upset the entire glandular system; your health, your personality and even your physical appearance can be drastically affected.

Years of uninterrupted malnutrition contribute to a gradual slowing down in the brain and nerve functions, and a lack of certain vitamins in the body can bring on severe mental disorders.

KEYS TO HEALTH

I looked at his drawn, anxious face, at the thin body and tired, drooping shoulders. The man who had come to see me needed help badly! It was plain to see: he was sick in both mind and body.

"Have you ever thought," I asked him, "how important food is, both psychologically and physiologically, in maintaining your total health?"

"Why, no," he said. "I never think much about what I eat."

"I want you to start thinking about it," I said, "to the extent of eating three good, nourishing, high protein meals a day.

"And supplement those meals with a reliable vitamin-mineral concentrate; take it every day, without fail. Food is just as important to your mental health as it is to your physical health."

Dr. Hans Selye, of Montreal University, tells us: "Even the well-fed body will suffer if you continue to generate emotional stress by trying to meet adult problems with childish reactions."

The immature attitudes and psychological mechanisms of mental ill health include the following: (1) avoidance of unpleasant situations, (2) daydreaming, (3) rebellion against society, (4) an inferiority complex, (5) a superiority complex and (6) sex conflicts.

Accept your physical and intellectual handicaps. Then plan a satisfactory life inside these limitations.

Don't use your handicaps as an excuse for not attempting some useful and satisfactory work. First, take stock of your assets. Next, turn your efforts in directions likely to afford you the greatest degree of personal satisfaction and accomplishment.

STEADY BALANCE

Learn to maintain a steady balance between the two opposing, instinctual forces—love and aggression. These two primitive drives meet and become inextricably entangled with each other in our psychological life.

Love is necessary to our emotional health. Lacking it, we destroy our marriages, ruin our careers, and impose intolerable burdens of frustration and despair upon ourselves and those around us.

Real love is selfless love. Its quality is measured, not by its emotional intensity, but by its lack of possessiveness. Do you value your own freedom? Of course you do!

But can you love another without imperiling her freedom? It's your right to be an individual, to have privacy of mind and spirit, but you must allow that same privilege to the one you love.

The surest test of your mental health lies in your answers to the following questions. Think them over, and when you can answer all of them positively, you'll have attained the standard of mental health that all of use desire:

1. Are you optimistic and confident?
2. Do you experience a joyous sense of well-being?
3. Do you look forward to tomorrow? To next week? To next year?
4. Do you make plans and never doubt but that you'll succeed in them?
5. Do you find life interesting . . . exciting . . . crammed with possibilities of adventure?
6. Do you expect good to come to you?
7. Do you go forward to meet new people eagerly, expecting to like them and to have them like you?
8. Is your chagrin over your mistakes and failures transistory?

Believe Taft Would Back Housing Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky) says he believes that the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) would have backed the Eisenhower administration's position on housing legislation.

★ ★ ★

Morton made the comment to a reporter after being asked about the strategy of Democrats on the Senate Housing subcommittee in playing a recording of a Taft speech made in May 1953, shortly before Taft's death.

Taft's speech endorsed strong federal housing programs, particularly low-rent public housing. Democrats made it plain they hoped this would aid their drive to get enough votes to override President Eisenhower's veto of the housing bill.

★ ★ ★

Morton, who is chairman of the Republican National Committee, said Taft's position in favor of broad housing measures was well known. But he added that Taft also was much concerned about a balanced budget and excessive taxation.

Boy, 8, Rescued From Forest Didn't Get Scared

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — "I saw some bear tracks and some snakes and a rabbit but I didn't get scared at all."

So reported Danny Oswald, 8, a woodsman who learned his forest tricks watching television. Danny survived 30 hours in the high timber country of east Idaho's Targhee National Forest after straying from a family berry picking outing.

He was found Friday night by two men who joined the widespread search for him. Danny was tired, dirty and slightly wet from wading across creeks. But he wasn't hurt.

"I stepped out of a bush, and scared them (his rescuers) and it scared me," Danny reported as he excitedly held court for his four brothers and sisters here, several hours after he was found.

Linkletter Shoots Film for Funny People Show

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Art Linkletter, back from what was supposed to be a three-week vacation in Europe, says the American tourist's trademark is now sloppy clothing instead of a camera.

"Many of them wear slacks or Bermuda shorts," he said. "You used to be able to tell them by their cameras, but now everyone has a camera dangling from a neck, shoulder or wrist."

Linkletter, who has made 10 trips to Europe, thinks that by and large American tourists acquit themselves well. The TV star thinks they irk foreigners by three habits.

"First off, sloppy clothing is no asset," he said. "Sometimes a dress looks fine, but tourists are seen too often in slacks or shorts.

★ ★ ★

"Then there's the good-natured American tourist who means well when he wants to change money. He'll go up to a fairly receptive Frenchman, smile and say:

"Well, how many francs do I get for this money?"

"Sure, he's proud of his American money, but without realizing it, he insults the Frenchman."

Linkletter said the third item most Europeans view dimly is the whirlwind tour which is on such a split second schedule that tourists have trouble remembering places.

WHICH IS VENICE?

"An Italian will ask an American if he liked Venice," Linkletter said. "Often the American, who's been in 24 cities in about that many days, will have to stop and ask if that's the place with all those canals.

"You can't blame someone for trying to see everything because he doesn't know just what he does want to see, but sometimes it's too much for someone to take in.

"The problem here is that usually a person goes to Europe once—he isn't going to go again. And yet, if he could, then he'd know how to do it. He'd be selective and would pick out a few things and really see them."

Linkletter said tourists frequently allow 15 minutes for the Louvre, 15 minutes for the Champs-Elysees and so on. He calls this "culture force fed by little jets."

He has no specific recommendations on what to see. Tastes are too different, he has found.

Linkletter's trip with his wife, Lois, and daughter, Dawn, 19, and several members of his staff took him into the Scandinavian countries, East and West Germany and France.

Add $100 or more to the value of your TV set!

For an investment of about $50, plus a nominal service charge, you can make the performance of your TV set equal to a brand-new set that would cost you $150 more. You can, if you make the right choice when you replace its picture tube. Just make sure the brand you buy has the same brightness and contrast manufacturers specify for their new TV sets. If you insist on a Silver Screen 85, the picture tube your serviceman installs will have the very same performance standard as the tubes Sylvania supplies to 7 out of 10 major TV set manufacturers. Sylvania has one and only one product quality—the finest. Today's Silver Screen 85 is just about 50% brighter and clearer than a new tube made five years ago. You'll be amazed at the difference this can make in your old TV.

"FOR WANT of A DAD"

J. L. VOORHEIS

Gus Griffith, Chaplain American Legion, said, "For want of a dad, a real dad, one he could trust, love and honor a boy went 'sour.' A child must trust somebody and if he cannot find love, understanding and kindness in his dad, he'll seek it elsewhere—and find disillusionment."

"Parental delinquency is all too common," he adds. "We're smug. We give our son an allowance and then bellow about his report card; give him rainment and storm when he makes an error; we're too busy—"

M. E. SIPLE

"There's one button a dad can push to which his son will respond, as he should and will. It is labeled love. Push that button all the way and that boy will respond in kind. Be a hero to your son," Mr. Griffith concluded. "Be the dad he wants you to be—his ideal. Go all the way and he will love you all the days of your life, and be your ideal."

P.S. "Trust" is as essential in business as between a boy and his dad.

It Seems to Me . . . .

Twelve Billion Largest Peace Time Deficit in U.S. History

Current statistics show the Federal Government's spending orgy has whipped itself into a new frenzy.

Think of it!

★ ★ ★

This is what Washington spent beyond the amount it took in. It's positively shocking to the downtrodden taxpayers who must repay this sum—with interest—in addition to all the taxes they have already poured into the bottomless pit of Federal seizure.

★ ★ ★

I should like to point out two facts. First, this deficit came about under President EISENHOWER who promised relief for the taxpayers in his campaign platforms. In January of 1958, EISENHOWER forecast an increase of 74.4 billion and expenses of 73.9 billion — a balanced budget. Senator BYRD and many other Democrats were openly dubious of his accuracy on the income. Now the Dems are loudly pointing out that receipts were 6.2 billion less — as they prophesied.

But they look out the window when attention is called to fact number two. The Democratic Congress spent 6.8 billion more than the budget. In the last 90 days the Democrats have discovered that the man back home with the ballot in his hand is getting wrathy over costs. In fact, they're having a spot of internecine warfare. It's that bad.

★ ★ ★

The Federal Government spent 30 times as much per person last year as it did in 1913. Federal spending, especially when it's deficit spending, is one of the greatest causes of inflation.

It's a mess.

At least it's a mess for those that pay.

The limit on earnings should be raised from the present level of $100 a month.

Once an elderly man or woman earns more, he or she loses social security for that period. This is a drastic penalty for someone that seeks to better a very modest social and economic status. Our "elderly statesmen" are entitled to a better break.

At the time this ruling was instituted, there was no "past experience" to serve as a guide. In the interim, many of the economic price levels and practices have been modified and changed.

Many men who retire at sixty-five actually welcome a few days work, and initiative should not be stifled.

I hope Congress takes this matter up and makes some sort of an upward adjustment. These oldsters won't be cutting regulars out of full time occupations but their odd-job activities will contribute to their own welfare and happiness.

McClusky Misquoted . . .

The other night I had a phone call from an old and valued friend, Dr. HOWARD Y. MCCLUSKY, U. of M. Professor of Education Psychology and consultant to various boards of education, Dr. MCCLUSKY was quoted as painting a dark and dreary picture of the educational delinquencies in Detroit, and I commented on it editorially.

★ ★ ★

The good Ann Arbor man told me he had been misquoted and the source has since corrected the interview. This is something newspapers are always happy and willing to do when they're in error. Hence, we find Detroit schools are much better than they had been painted.

Good!

Dr. McClusky is an authority.

★ ★ ★

He makes another very cogent and challenging point when he says that America's survival may depend on a better education for the average and less than average pupils. He favors the intensive crash program for those with superior intellects but warns that because of the huge number of the others, they deserve great thought and study. Here is a facet that hasn't been emphasized sufficiently. Dr. MCCLUSKY outlines a point the nation must study closely.

And in Conclusion . . .

Great excitement: MIKE THOMPSON may make an attempt to break the world's automobile speed record of 396 miles an hour and his car will be equipped with four Pontiac engines.....It was a blind corner and the cars of a Jewish Rabbi and a Catholic Priest collided. The two clerics climbed out, shaken but unhurt. The Rabbi raised his hand. "Father, I have a bottle of spirits. You must have a goodly potion." The Priest remonstrated, but the Rabbi poured a liberal drink which the Priest accepted. As the Rabbi put the bottle away, the Priest inquired: "Aren't you going to have one?" The Rabbi nodded. "Yes, Father. After the police arrive."....

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

A church was built in Stowe, Vt., 10 years ago in memory of a layman known affectionately as Brother Joseph Dutton. People of many faiths come to the Catholic Church of the Blessed Sacrament to pray or find inspiration in his life:

Joseph Dutton left Stowe in 1861 to enlist in the Union Army. He was a courageous soldier. Yet, after the Civil War he became a drunkard for 10 years. He conquered the habit and found faith. Regretting his wasted years, he determined to serve God. He learned of Father Damien's service to lepers on the Hawaiian island of Molokai. Joseph went to the leper colony and remained on the island over 40 years until his death there at 87. He was carpenter, mason and gardener; he dressed sores and performed surgery. He worked hard, arose early, sometimes didn't go to bed at all. At 84, he wrote, "The clock now strikes 4 A. M. and not one-quarter of what I hope to do is done." He took no money for his work and gave away all he had. He became head of the colony and watched it grow into one of the finest in the world.

When 16 U. S. Navy ships steamed by Molokai in 1908, they dipped their flags in salute to the veteran on orders of President Theodore Roosevelt.

"I was firm in at least one resolve," wrote Brother Dutton, ". . . to do what I could to help my neighbor in every way. It has been my hope never to falter in this . . ."

Transfiguration Is Still Puzzling

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

It is foolhardy of any writer to try explaining just what the Transfiguration means. Even those who were there as eyewitnesses didn't understand it, and nobody else has understood it since.

You remember the story, or if you don't you can read it again in St. Matthew's 17th chapter or St. Mark's 9th. Jesus took His three closest friends, Peter, James and John, from among the twelve Apostles and went with them to a mountain top. Tradition has always said it was Mount Tabor, but some modern scholars incline to the idea that it was Mount Hermon, which would have meant a 9,000 foot climb.

The location is not important. What does matter is that on this mountain He gave them all the vision of Himself in His historic and cosmic perfection. They saw Him in white and shining clothing, with Moses and Elijah beside Him talking with Him.

But this, too, is a shaky approach, for no man can presume to probe the Lord's mind and purposes. We can, however, see that the Transfiguration came at a critical point in the Lord's ministry. His mission apparently had failed.

The people who had at first welcomed Him had lost interest because He was not the nationalistic kind of Messiah they had hoped for. Church authorities were offended by both His teachings and His conduct, and plots to get rid of Him had already begun to take shape.

It is appropriate that the biggest annual abservance should be held in the East, for it was there that the festival began, probably in the fourth century. It was not adopted in the Wes unil 1457.

Take Time to Sign Letter if You Want an Answer

"I have written you many times about many things, but have never got an answer in your column. Why is this?" (Unsigned Postcard)

Answer—It would require a page a day to answer all queries in print. Only two or three queries of general interest can be answered daily. In no circumstance does a query rate consideration if it is obviously insincere.

"Bursitis in right shoulder . . . terrific pain . . . couldn't get to sleep nights. Doctor said only relief would be operation. Finally sent for your booklet THE CALCIUM SHORTAGE. You advised some foods that were lacking in my diet . . . changed to your high calcium diet supplemented with extra daily ration of calcium and vitamin D. No more pain, walk at least two or three miles a day, more on weekends, and ride bike . . . feel like a million dollars. So grateful . . . have told many people but they don't seem to understand." (L.C.)

Answer—Thank you. I'd credit your recovery to our old friend, A. J. Coincidence, but for the fact that so many victims of bursitis have reported similar experience and the additional fact that high calcium diet supplemented with extra Ca and D can do no harm in any case. For the booklet THE CALCIUM SHORTAGE (I don't remember whether I mentioned buraitis in the booklet) send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"I have been taking the iodin ration for nearly two years and I feel "just fine and dandy." Would like to know whether my mother, who has arthritis and takes cortisone, and my husband, who has diabetes and controls it by diet, without insulin, may take iodin ration . . . (Mrs. H.L.)

Answer—Only with the knowledge of their physicians. I believe everybody and his horse, dog and canary, especially in the Great Lakes Basin, needs a wee, wee tinge of iodine daily to supplement the iodine deficiency of food and water in that area. For further particulars send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for my FREE pamphlet The Iodin Ration.

"Could a woman aged 40 bear a first child successfully? Her husband is 37." . . . (H.W.F.)

Answer—Depends on her physiological age. Can she roll somersaults and run a mile? If so, she is fit for childbirth. Send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet Preparing for Maternity.

"Stainless steel representatives told us that we endanger the lives of ourselves and our children by using aluminum cookwear . . . (Mrs. H.S.)

Answer—We have used aluminum cookware and we have all thrived on it.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Urges Religion in Greeting Cards

Oral Roberts is one of the greatest religious leaders of modern times. So his warning today should wake up every Christian. For many of us run pictures of our children or beautiful snow scenes of our homes, on our Christmas cards, yet leave Christ out of the greeting card entirely: Church women, beware when you order your greetings for next Christmas.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE C-406: Oral Roberts, aged 39, is the famous modern religious leader who is doing a vast amount of good in expounding God's laws.

★ ★ ★

Oral Roberts decried the commercialization of Christmas, saying the Prince of Darkness was trying to strip religious idealism from this great event and reduce it to a secular carnival.

DR. CRANE

The reason why I mention this so far ahead of the Christmas season is to warn you good ladies who make up the backbone of all Christian churches.

★ ★ ★

For you often engage in money-raising projects, such as bazaars, suppers, and the selling of books as well as boxes of Christmas greetings.

If you are Christian people and wish to combat the Prince of Darkness, as Oral Roberts so well advises, by all means be sure your Christmas greetings have some religious keynote.

Christmas should not be a merry carnival of winter circus or widespread duplication of the Mardi Gras.

Christmas is basically a prayerful, holy event . . . a Christ mass!

So weed out your greeting cards at once. If there is no reference to Bethlehem or the Three Wise Men or a church spire or a picture of Mary and the infant Jesus or other pertinent religious items, then do not order such greeting cards for next Christmas.

★ ★ ★

Even if you develop your own personalized family greeting cards, with pictures of your children, as well as the dog, cat or other pets, be sure the Star of Bethlehem or some Biblical verses are also on the card to keynote the religious meaning of Christmas.

REAL CHRISTMAS CARDS

Many current Christmas cards contain beautiful snow scenes of New England or lovely arrays of poinsettias, but are devoid of a single reference to Christ or Bethlehem.

★ ★ ★

Although often very attractive, unless they tie-in with the basic meaning of Christmas in some way, the cards are just pagan symbols of a mid-winter carnival, instead of reminders of "Christmass" and reverence to God.

One reason why so many cards have omitted any reference to Jesus or Bethlehem, is the fact that 40 per cent of Americans (about 70,000,000) belong to no church whatever.

So, to avoid embarrassing these non-church folks, the publishers of such cards have deftly censored all references to the real basis for Christmas.

Let the pagans send pagan Christmas cards, if they wish, but you Christian people who try to teach your children the true religious idealism and morality inherent in the Bethlehem event, should never be guilty any longer of aiding such crass commercialism of a deeply religious event.

So—don't buy Christmas cards that leave Christ out of this significant occasion.

It is proper to use Santa Claus as long as you carefully instruct your children that God was the first Santa when He gave us the Christ Child at Bethlehem, and all other generous souls are simply foster Santas.

★ ★ ★

But be sure you heed the warning of Oral Roberts by preventing the Prince of Darkness from making Christmas into an irreligious carnival.

★ ★ ★

Remind your children that Christmas means "Christ-mass!" and is a holy day; not a pagan holly day!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Renters Receive Warning About Rent That's Owed

I hope this article will prevent other unfortunate renters from getting into the legal mix-up we did.

We rented a home for approximately eight months, paying $100 a month. However, we decided to purchase a home, as our payments would be practically the same as our rent. We gave notice that we would be moving.

The five days prior to our moving went past the date rent was due, so we tried to pay the landlord for that short period of time. This he refused, demanding $100 payment and 30 days notice. We refused to pay.

The case was settled, for legally our landlord was right. We paid for some scratches our dogs had made, and we paid for hearing charges. Now we are also paying the $100 rent due.

'Contribute Instead of Criticizing'

I am indignant at Mrs. Anti M.A.R.L. for thinking that the local humane society can take each and every animal offered them. Speaking from experience, I've had to turn down as many as 63 cats in one day.

★ ★ ★

Animals are kept in separate cages until they can be placed in good homes, provided the animal is suitable. The shelter always provides a home for injured animals. In fact, one that's been here for over six months is still waiting for its heartless owner to show up.

★ ★ ★

Does Mrs. Anti know that outside of the fees for the animals that the money has to be raised by a few women? Come on, Mrs. Anti M.A.R.L., contribute instead of criticizing.

'Keep Up the Fight'

Three cheers for Neale Hills — at least here is a man who is standing up for his rights and trying to get Michigan's out-dated and sometimes unfair divorce laws amended.

It's about time some of us realized men aren't just "economic machines" and the fault is not always theirs. Keep up the fight Mr. Hills and I hope others join you and succeed in making our divorce laws more just.

'I See No Future in This Place'

I have been noticing the immense ads on Easy Credit Terms. The Better Business Board "knocks it in the head." We and other stupid people will come to Downtown Pontiac Days, get a token with every two dollar purchase and ride a bus free, or park free and have their ticket stamped by our stores.

★ ★ ★

As far as the statements I make regarding the Loan and Credit racket I took the information right from the pamphlet, "Don't Be Garnished." Every teamster received one, so it must hold some weight.

I see no future in this worthless place; I can't get a job and I can't drive. I must have someone give me a ride, and then the F.B.I. warns about hitchhiking rides. I need a job, hear me?

"Some of our greatest successes have been the result of just being able to wait."

Starting 'at Bottom' in New Job

Yankus Moves Carefully in Australia

ADELAIDE, Australia (UPI) — Cautious as a Chinaman, and canny as a Scot, independent Michigan farmer Stanley Yankus mulls over every little point as he sinks his roots in Australia.

Yankus brought his wife, two sons and daughter to Adelaide on June 19, after deciding this capital city of the state of South Australia was a better choice than the hustle and bustle of Sydney, or the balmy semi-tropical attractions of Brisbane, in Queensland.

"This state has a go-ahead government, and I like the prospects of development a city like Adelaide offers," the ex-farmer told United Press International.

Yankus started as a clerk "at the bottom," with Pope Products, an Australian firm making refrigerators, television receivers, lawnmowers and washing machines. "They asked me whether I wanted a temporary job, or something that would lead to early advancement," he said. "I told them I'd be willing to start from scratch and see how I like it, and how they like my work." He's due for a chat with the boss in a few weeks time.

The lanky, bespectacled American catches a train to his 16.0.0 pound ($36.00) job, which nets him 14.11.0 pounds ($32.80) after taxes are deducted by the employer (customary Australian practice). "Since I've always been an active man, and since I have to sit all day, I like the walk to and from the station for exercise."

Russell Yankus, 14 next February, is doing exceptionally well at school. He topped his class in algebra last week, a subject he had not even touched in America. Russell goes to Henley High School, while his brother Dennis, 12, attends Grange Primary School. Both actually jumped one grade from where they left off in Dowagiac.

Chicken-farming still holds Yankus' interest, particularly with the Australia. On market values, tremendous possibilities for it in dressed poultry is about twice the price here that it is in America; in terms of earning power you can safely say it's almost four times as dear. "When I really get the feel of the place, I may be able to introduce American methods to raise chickens again," Yankus said. "But I want to take my time about it."

Yankus has put his money, some $28,000 he got from selling his Dowagiac farm, into a joint checking account with his wife. "We could run out and buy ourselves a house tomorrow," he said, "but we'd rather have a good look around. I wouldn't like to move into a new home, only to discover two or three months later that we would have been much better off somewhere else."

At the same time, Yankus would like to get his own home as soon as possible, for his wife's sake. "My wife doesn't react to new situations as quickly as I do," he said. "She never lived in someone else's home before, and I don't doubt at all that once she has her own home she'll really settle down and like it."

For the present, Mrs. Yankus still talks a lot about Michigan and the family and friends she left behind. Yet she's amazed at the similarity between Australia and the States. "Coming home from dinner with friends the other night," she said, "I remarked to Stanley how we had just been watching "Our Gang" on television, and there on the roadside were billboards to advertise Coca-Cola—just like the States."

They were coming back from dinner with Mrs. John Lasscock, and her son and grandchildren. The Lasscocks befriended the husband of Mrs. Yankus' sister, John Polishuk, of Route 1, Stevensville, Mich., during the war when he spent some eight months in Adelaide. When they saw in the papers that Yankus was in Adelaide, they called on them and asked them over for dinner.

Despite his reasons for leaving the United States, Yankus isn't bitter when he talks about it. "I don't like being in the public eye like this at all," he said. "All I want is to live quietly and build up a secure and prosperous future for myself and my family. I still think that the U.S. Constitution is the greatest in the world—but the trouble is that at the present time it isn't being upheld. Australia has a lot of funny laws, but so many of them are blatantly disobeyed. Australia offers the individual like myself more freedom—in reality," he added.

See Long Probe Over Viet Nam

Senators Will Take a Deeper Look Into the Conflicting Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional investigation into charges of waste, extravagance and maladministration of the foreign aid program in Viet Nam promises to be a long and perplexing one.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont)—after two days of public hearings—said his Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee will "go more deeply into all questions" raised by conflicting testimony.

He told reporters there is growing sentiment within the subcommittee, of which he is chairman, for an "on-the-spot" inquiry in Saigon, possibly by a committee investigator.

★ ★ ★

Mansfield said he will call his group into a closed session Tuesday to map a program for further inquiry.

★ ★ ★

Albert M. Colegrove, a Scripps-Howard writer, has charged in a series of articles that administration of the program in Saigon is "an outrageous scandal."

His stories have been denounced in turn by foreign aid officials as reckless, sensational and distorted.

Exchange Nuptial Vows at Church of Nazarene

Naomi Ann Maloney and Robert Lynn Key exchanged nuptial vows Friday evening before an altar banked with white gladioli, palms and candelabra. The Rev. Kenneth Hutchinson officiated at the First Church of the Nazarene in the presence of 200 guests.

The former Miss Maloney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Maloney of Carter street. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Key of College Park, Ga.

The bride wore a gown she designed and made herself. Of embroidered nylon, the dress featured a rounded neckline, short sleeves, and a bouffant floor length skirt of nylon organdy. An embroidered nylon panel enhanced the back of the gown. A crown of lace and net with iridescent sequins caught her fingertip silk illusion veil, and she wore a single choker burn Heights acted as flower girl.

MRS. ROBERT L. KEY

The senior attendants wore identical street length dresses of white nylon organdy over white taffeta with Sabrina necklines forming a V at the back and styled with short sleeves and full skirts. White taffeta cummerbunds accented the frocks, and each held a basket, made by the bride, of vari-colored daisies and roses. Their headpieces were fitted feather hats.

A white nylon organdy dress withfull skirt, Peter Pan collar, and puff sleeves was worn by the flower girl. The dress also featured a sash of embroidered nylon daisies and roses comprised her floral arrangement.

Paul Maloney, the bride's brother, was best man and soloist for the ceremony. Another brother, Richard Maloney, was groomsman. Ushering were Darnell Hawley and James Gee of Auburn Heights. Timothy Gee of Auburn Heights was ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Maloney chose a two-piece orchid dress of rayon with purple velvet trim, white accessories, and wore a white corsage of rosebuds. Mrs. Key was dressed in sapphire blue silk over organza with lace and wore white accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds.

The new Mrs. Key was wearing a two-piece print sharkskin ensemble in white with white accessories when the couple left for a wedding trip through Georgia and Florida. They will reside in University Park, Iowa, where Mr. Key is a senior at the Chicago Evangelistic Institute, from which Mrs. Key was graduated in May.

Cranbrook Sends Mom to College

Theater Slates Comedy

The comedy "Mother Is a Freshman" will be presented by Cranbrook Summer Theater Tuesday and Wednesday. Nancy Porter is director of the show, with Bernice Baumgartner and Robert Gregory assisting.

Mrs. Abigail Abbott, a widowed mother, played by Penny Townsend and Kitty Scripps, decides to go to college with her daughter, Susan, played by Chadun Chamberlain and Barbara Maxon, and finds herself falling in love with a professor, portrayed by John Rosier and Ronald Vener.

Dave Burnett is in charge of sets for the play. Katy Biggs and Miss Baumgartner are in charge of make-up.

"The Curious Savage", to be presented Aug. 7 and 8, and a musical "Stars in Her Eyes", with an original score by Carl G. Wonnberger of Bloomfield Hills, to be presented Aug. 11 and 12 will be the next undertakings of the summer drama group.

This pimiento-red dress and jacket costume of patterned silk features the new high-waisted short jacket. The slim-lined dress has a low square neckline.

Fashion Figure Club Crowns Queen at Picnic

Mrs. Wallace Rauch was crowned queen at the annual picnic of the Fashion Your Figure Club Thursday evening. Members gathered at the home of Mrs. Odes Case.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rauch lost more weight than any other club member in a contest observed the past three months. Dorthea Campbell was runner-up.

Trophies were presented to Mrs. Rauch, for losing the most weight during the past week, and to Miss Campbell, for the greatest weight loss last month. Games and swimming concluded the meeting.

★ ★ ★

Anyone wishing to lose weight is welcome to membership in the club. The group meets at 7 p.m. Thursday, at Adah Shelly Library and is sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

Try Brown

The rich browns and rusts of autumn leaves will dominate the accessory picture for fall and winter. Look for color-coordination in umbrellas and jewelry as well as gloves, handbag, hat and shoes.

The look of style this season is one of understated elegance and the effect will depend largely on careful choice of all accessories.

Men's fashion experts for Tycora are complaining that the Continental Look launched last spring in men's apparel hardly had a chance to get started before the ladies took it over. Even the dark-toned colors of men's wear have been copied, with deep brown the favored accessory shade for the grays featured in ready-to-wear. These adult fashion whims filter down to the school set and what they wear.

Other important accessory shades will be the darker casts of green, gold, and rust or, as it is currently named, red clay, and the entire range of wine colors. Blue, ranging from Dior to Royal, remains popular.

One glove manufacturer predicts that light shades of gray, varying from dove to gunmetal, will be a "sleeper" color. The extreme shorty glove has all but disappeared, having been replaced with the more becoming wrist-length that just covers the wrist-bone. Six-button lengths to go with Paris-inspired bracelet sleeves will increase their importance.

In knit gloves, the bulky look for sportswear is a definite style item and new tweedy flecked effects are being featured in both wrist and six-button lengths.

Called a "Happi-Kote," this topper is designed to go over swimsuits, dress, shorts or trousers. Completely reversible, one side is brilliant print, the other solid color.

Keep at Eye Level

A tall vase on top of tall shelves or bookcases may look like a totem pole. Extremely tall objects look better in a room when they are on or below eye level.

Greg Leach Feted

Greg Leach was honored on his seventeenth birthday at a family gathering held Thursday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Leach of Oakway drive.

Miss Sue Shanks Wed in Kirk in Hills Chapel

Dr. Joseph Blackburn officiated at the double ring candlelight ceremony before 125 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Talbot Shanks of Ferndale and Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Kennedy of Wauwatosa, Wis.

The bouffant skirt of the bride's gown formed a modified train and a small heirloom cap of Brussels lace held her full silk illusion veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of miniature roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Margaret Clarke of Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of embroidered white organza over baby blue taffeta with a fitted bodice and full skirt. Her headpiece was a matching baby blue silk chiffon bow and she carried a nosegay of miniature white roses and blue delphinium.

Bridesmaid was Sylvia O'Neill of Oak Park. She was dressed like the maid of honor but in baby pink and carried a nosegay of pink miniature rosebuds and baby white chrysanthemums.

★ ★ ★

After a motor trip to the West Coast, the couple will make their home in Oakland, Calif. where Dr. Kennedy is stationed with the U.S. Navy.

The bride attended Kalamazoo College and University of Michigan. She is a graduate of Newton Wellesley School of Nursing. Dr. Kennedy was graduated from Beloit College and University of Michigan Medical School. He was affiliated with Beta Theta Pi, Nu Sigma Nu and Omicron Delta Kappa fraternities and is now a lieutenant in the Navy.

Mrs. Shanks wore a blue satin sheath dress with a white rose corsage for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Kennedy wore a coffee-colored silk organza dress with a pink rosebud corsage.

Dianne Needle-Honored

Dianne Needle, bride-elect of Virgil D. Roberts Jr., was honored at a shower given Wednesday evening by Carol Lawlor, a bridesmaid, at her home on Wenonah drive.

★ ★ ★

Miss Needle, daughter of Mrs. Francis Needle of North Anderson street and the late Dr. Needle, will be married Aug. 8. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Roberts of Oakland avenue.

★ ★ ★

Guests were Mrs. Needle, Ms. Roberts, Donna Needle, Mrs. Hugh Lawlor, Mrs. Harrison Hanson, Kathryn Hanson, Patricia Hanson, Mrs. George Cummings, Carolyn Cummings, Mrs. Ivan Pierce, Mrs. Lloyd Mountain and Elizabeth Mountain.

★ ★ ★

Daughter May Send the Flowers

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter has been going with a young man for the past six months. He is a very nice person and we are very fond of him. My daughter tells me that his parents will soon celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. I have never met his parents.

"Would it be proper for my husband and me to send flowers to them on this occasion with our best wishes, or might this be presumptuous on our part. I would be more grateful for your advice."

Answer: Not having met his parents you should not send flowers, but if your daughter knows and likes them, she can send the flowers.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The son of a friend of mine is being ordained into the priesthood and I have been invited to the church for his First Mass and the dinner afterwards. I intend to give him a check. Would it be proper to mail the check to him at his parents' house, with a card, a few days before, or would it be more proper to hand the check to him, personally, at the dinner?"

Answer: It would be much better to mail it to him.

Balenciaga Styles 'Fabulous'

Combines Knee and Long Line Look

PARIS — Dressmaker Cristobal Balenciaga showed American buyers Friday how to make a winning combination of Dior's short above-the-knee skirt and the conflicting long line look that had swept the rest of Paris.

Buyers emerging from Balenciaga's fall fashion opening, which was off bounds to the press because of his asserted dislike of publicity, hailed his one-inch-below-the-kneecap skirts and long torso line as "fabulous."

The Spanish-born designer's line, they said, was more than a happy medium between the short Dior and the long Paris line that had this whole town talking.

It was distinctively Balenciaga, they said. This in terms of dollars and cents meant a winner, and also a collection that would be pushed hard in the direction of American women.

EASE OF MOVEMENT

Buyers said that the two most important factors in the Balenciaga collection were the long torso line of jackets and dresses and the ease of movement they achieved through sometimes flared skirts, with hemlines one inch below the kneecap.

Balenciaga showed wide cut coats with slightly broadened shoulders — but the effect never was exaggerated — in mohair and tweeds. Many were lined with the same colors in an unpatterned fabric.

★ ★ ★

Evening wear was described as "elegant and lady like," with emphasis always on the long torso line. Some of the evening gowns showed waists. The others did not.

Balenciaga showed almost entirely floor length evening gowns, except for those that were the short below the kneecap length. One white satin with multi-colored beaded cardigan won applause.

NEVER CLUTTERED

He used satin bows and jet necklaces that almost collared the neck and high helmet-like hats for adornment. But the clothes never were cluttered.

Balenciaga, considered a "dressmaker's dressmaker," achieved his long torso line through use of dramatic pockets or seaming at the hips.

His daytime dresses were belted jerseys with kidskin belts. There were a few chemises and three dresses with gathered hemlines.

Abby Has HER Day:

Beware of His Line, My Dear! It Sounds as Old as the Hills

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been a widow for 17 years. My children are married and gone. A man who recently lost his wife asked me to a drive-in movie. He slipped his arm around the back of my chair. I shook so bad my teeth chattered. Then he kissed me.

ABBY

It had been 17 years since I was kissed by a man and I'm afraid I wasn't very responsive. I held back quite a bit. Then he said he had been married to a frigid woman for 22 years and didn't intend to get stuck with another one.

I know he would be interested in me if I could show him I really wasn't frigid. But how can I do this, Abby, and still be a lady? I am lonesome so please don't tell me to forget him. LILLIAN

DEAR LILLIAN: This man's line is as old as the hills. A woman who gives too generous a sample of her "wares" is apt to end up with no sale. Be a "lady," and if he's a gentleman, he'll be patient.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Either my husband is crazy or I am, and I have to know which of us is. I never looked at another man before I was married or after, but he accuses me of all the dirty things he can think of. If I don't take one of the kids with me when I go shopping he says I am going to meet another man.

He tells me he is sure our last baby is not his and he asks the little boy not to call him "Daddy." I know it's hard to believe, but he is a real good husband (hasn't missed a day's work in 16 years) goes to church, and is good to the kids (all except the little one), but what makes him so jealous and suspicious? Is there a cure for it? END OF ROPE

DEAR END: Jealousy is a sickness of the mind. Try to get your husband to see a doctor who deals with mental and emotional illnesses.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Our home is in a continual state of disrepair and our yard is a disgrace because my husband spends all his spare time doing odd jobs for his mother, who is a wealthy woman and could hire a handy man and not even miss the money.

I can mow the lawn and weed, but I can't load and haul heavy trash, tighten the clotheslines, repair the walks, service the lawnmowers, trim trees and put up screens and storm windows.

Is there any tactful way I can suggest to my husband that his own home should come first? IRRITATED

DEAR IRRITATED: Perhaps your husband neglects his own home because he knows that you are a better sport than his mother. The squeaking wheel gets the oil. Squeak a little.

DEAR ABBY: I've been following your column ever since it started in this newspaper and I can't help but wonder what a visiting out-of-towner would think of our community if he were to read it.

I happen to be happily married to the same little woman I walked down the aisle with 19 years ago. She doesn't cheat on me and I don't cheat on her. I don't get drunk and beat her and she's never left me. We have two teen-aged children who respect us and they have never been in juvenile court. We consider ourselves normal, average citizens. I am sure there are lots of people in this town just like us. Be fair, Abby, and put this in your column just to prove that you don't have to go out and rob a bank to get your name in the paper. In Rome, Fontana Sisters Fashion House sponsored an art contest and then its designers created dresses to match the paintings. The transformation of this gown was simple — the painting was done in a fabric — by Salvatore Scarpitta, it is called "Entangle."

Planning Clothes for Trip?

Beware Experts Who Advise You to 'Travel Light'

NEW YORK (NEA) — It seems fairly certain that the people who write those little booklets on what clothes to take when you travel have never been anywhere at all.

Otherwise, they would never advise one to skimp through Europe on one suit, two nylon blouses and one nylon slip. Sometimes they are carried away to the extent of recommending that you take a lightweight coat, usually referred to as a "topcoat."

The bride on her honeymoon has double the confusion of the ordinary traveler. She's a traveler but she's also trying to make a highly favorable impression on her newly acquired husband. Further, she most consider all those people who persist in beaming fatuously at newlyweds.

The first thing she must NOT do is ask someone else who made the trip five years ago what to take. Conditions change rapidly in this world. What was good five years ago is outmoded now.

But there are some general, abiding truths by which to steer.

On any trip, even in summer, you need a lightweight woolen coat, a couple of well-cut sweaters, a gossamer woolen robe, a short dinner dress which can also double as a cocktail dress and enough nylon lingerie so that you aren't bent double by the end of the trip from stooping over a washbasin.

You need, in short, to strike a happy medium between taking everything in your trousseau and taking a half-empty suitcase on the theory that you'll buy as you go along. Neither extreme ever works out well.

Why to Keep Weight 'Ideal'

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Sometimes it is a good idea to review some of the penalties of overweight which have been well established.

Overweight is sometimes a factor in arthritis since it puts an extra strain on the joints, especially the knees.

It has been found that electro cardiograms (examination of the heart) more often shows abnormalities in the overweight than in those who are the correct weight.

Gall bladder and kidney disease, high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries, are more prevalent among those who have too many pounds. Gout appears much more often among overweight men than those of the correct weight.

Overweights are more prone to accidents.

When you are overwheight you are more likely to have a poor posture with resulting crowding of internal organs. Overweights are usually less active and this leads to poorer circulation.

This list of penalties is impressive and unrefutable. For the sake of your health and comfort you should take them seriously. Even if you are not interested in figure control you cannot afford these risks.

From middle age on it takes more effort and and thought to remain slim. Most folks become less active physically and the glandular system slows down also. Then, too, at this age there is apt to be more money to spend on fancy foods and the woman usually has more leisure to spend in social life. And you know that you easily can get over-caloried if you are active here.

Many women are soothed by the usual height and weight charts. These do not indicate the ideal weight but the average weight. Most people gain weight as they grow older for the reasons given above. Your ideal weight at 30 should be maintained all through life.

If you would like to have my calorie chart, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 36 to Josephine Lowman in care of this paper.

Staying slim is not only a beauty measure, but a health measure, too. In today's column Josephine Lowman reviews some of the penalties of overweight.

Now Plastic Looks, Acts Like Leather

At last somebody has taken a leather-look plastic and tailored it the way leather would be tailored. The result is a handbag that looks great, behaves beautifully, and practically takes care of itself.

Because these "Tempra" plastic bags won't waterspot, fade, or rub off, you can sponge them with thick soap or detergent suds to maintain their new-leather look always. The price is good news, too —just five dollars in most places—and there are colors and styles aplenty to please every taste.

Want to Try Egg Shampoo?

For those who haven't tried an egg shampoo and would like to, this is how it is done.

Take a well - beaten egg, pour it over the scalp a couple of times and then rinse.

You'll get a more thorough rinse if you don't use hot water. Many use just the egg whites but both yolk and whites may be used although the yolk is harder to rinse out.

Late Summer Idea

You'll probably want at least one set of glittering jet jewelry for late summer wear. It's perfect for dressing up trans-season cottons.

Taste in Packages Clue to Personality

NEW YORK (UPI) — Our taste in easy chairs and cooky packages may tell us more about ourselves than an hour on a psychiatrist's couch.

So says Myron J. Helfgott, a social psychologist and director of the Package Research Institute. The institute recently made a study of relationships of taste, social class, education and personality factors.

Results reached by psychologists and industrial designers who made the study showed that we women are repressed if we like cars with a minimum of chrome, simple easy chairs without extra visible parts and subdued colors on beer cans.

If we go for garish lamps, large designs, assymetrical silverware patterns, and highly decorated air conditioners, it shows we are probably uneducated, and in a lower income group.

★ ★ ★

SOCIAL CLIMBER TYPE

"It was not a study of mental health," Helfgott said. "But it did show that lower income groups are less repressed, Upper middle classes controlled their repressions intellectually. The higher the class, the more muted and subtle the colors.

"Lower classes responded impulsively to bright, sensual, more exciting colors. This study was conducted among women, but if men were tested, they probably would tend to differentiate between form, not color."

Housewives selected as the sample group were between 25 and 40, had children, and did not work outside the home.

One-third lived in working-class neighborhoods where the head of the family was a skilled or unskilled laborer. Another third lived in neighborhoods where the family head earned his living in a lower middle class occupation — retail sales, clerical work or grade school teaching.

The last third were from upper middle class homes where the breadwinner was an executive, manager or professional man.

Oil in Perfume Clogs Atomizer

Women who find that good perfume atomizers clog up frequently should bear in mind that perfume contains oil. It's this oil that can jam the atomizer so that it fails to deliver a fine, even spray.

The solution lies in cleaning out the atomizer with alcohol, which you can buy at your drug store, at least once a month. Spray the alcohol through the atomizer just as you would the perfume and the atomizer will clear up quickly.

But Dry Indoors

Britain's Federation of Women's Institutes has proposed one way to handle the problem of "filthy lucre." Make the five pound notes of washable plastic, say they, and give them a sudsy bath as needed!

Is Summer Slump Hitting Hair-do?

Your hair needs more care when exposed to sun, sand and water than during winter months.

Healthy Hair Is Dependent on Circulation

Circulation has a great deal to do with beautiful hair. Scalp massage can often return lank, limp hair to complete and glossy health. Any salon specializing in treatments for the hair relies heavily on scalp massage.

These salon methods can, to a large extent, be used at home. To massage your scalp, press your finger tips to it and move your scalp with a rotary motion. Cover one section and then move on to the next. You can do this while you're reading or watching TV but you should do it five minutes each morning and evening.

You may not get the technique the first few times but you'll gradually develop it. You'll know that you're getting the right results when your scalp takes on a tingly, alive feeling after each massage.

Suds and Shellac

Freshen up your straw handbag and hat for the season. Usually you can remove most grime with sudsing. Let the items dry and then shellac. Give each article as many coats of shellac as needed to stiffen the straw.

Pontiac Girl Awarded Scholarship to MSUO

Judy Thiese, 18, of North Perry street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Thiese, has been awarded a $255 tuition scholarship to Michigan State University Oakland by the Zeta chapter of Alapha Delta Kappa, national teachers' sorority.

Miss Thiese, an honor student at Pontiac Northern High School, graduated fourth in a class of 183 students last June.

She was a member of the school's Student Union, president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, and belonged to several high school clubs among them the French and Latin clubs.

She plans to teach high school after her college studies.

She was the 56th student to receive a scholarship to MSUO, which will open its doors to a charter freshman class in September.

In announcing the award, the Zeta chapter said it hopes to present a scholarship yearly to an outstanding student in the Pontiac area.

"COMMON RELIGIOUS TEACHING NOT ENDORSED BY THE BIBLE"
Roosevelt Wells
Whether men are willing to FACE THE FACTS or not is everywhere evident to the Bible believer and the Bible reader that many things are being taught religiously which are not endorsed by the word of God. To many this makes no difference, but if it is not necessary that our religious teaching bear the endorsement of the Bible, then WHY HAVE A BIBLE AND WHY PROFESS WE ARE BEING GUIDED BY THE BIBLE. Since many religious teachings do not bear the endorsement of the Bible, we wish to discuss with you in a series of lessons the subject which appears above.
In the twentieth century it seems that men have reached the conclusion that God was good and wise in days past but He did not take into consideration the FAST MOVING, FAST THINKING MAN OF THE PRESENT AGE THEREFORE IT IS PERFECTLY ALRIGHT FOR THE SMART INTELLECTUALIST OF TODAY TO DECIDE FOR HIMSELF WHAT IS RELIGIOUSLY RIGHT. THIS IS ONE OF THE BASIC ERRORS WHICH CONSTANTLY CONTRIBUTES TO RELIGIOUS DEPRAVITY.
In Rom. 10:17 we read, "So then faith commeth by hearing and hearing by the word of God. According to Paul in this verse we must conclude that when God does not speak faith cannot exist in religious matters. "When the word of God begins, our faith begins, when His word ends, our faith must end. When we say, "I believe" this or that in the divine realm we obligate ourselves as high as Heaven, as deep as the unseen, to show that God has spoken it. Yes, "I believe" means I can read it from God's word. If not it is man's opinion. What is the opinion of any man worth, I care not how great? Simply nothing at all. (A. G. Freed)
In the following series we shall discuss with you these important subjects:
1. Faith only. 2. Sprinkling for Christian Baptism. 3. Infant membership. 4. Baptism is not essential to Salvation. 5. Jesus only. 6. No eternal punishment. 7. Holy Ghost Baptism for Salvation. 8. The Law of Moses. 9. Healings. 10. Mechanical instruments of music as an addition to Christian Worship. You should want to study these articles with us in the light of the plain teachings of the scriptures. Therefore we encourage you to plan now to follow the entire series. Your questions and comments on these articles will be appreciated and received with joy and we shall also plan to personally answer each question submitted by return mail.

Confident Living

Southern Woman Attains Dominion Over Weakness

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Last March a friend sent me a clipping from a Vicksburg, Mississippi newspaper. It told the story of a gracious little lady who is known to her friends as "Miss Lou." And the reason for the story was that she had been selected by the United States Chamber of Commerce as a symbol of the spirit and courage and greatness in American womanhood. She was honored along with a half-dozen distinguished men as one of the great persons of the year.

PEALE

Well, I've known Miss Lou for a number of years. And believe me, she is worthy of this honor because she has really done a great thing with her life. I remember sitting with her one day on the porch of a hotel at Point Clear, Alabama, some years ago, and trying to help her with the future to her life. Her husband had died and, she told me, "There isn't much that I can do, but I must do something. I haven't got any ability. What am I going to do?"

"Let's pray about it," I suggested. "Let's ask the Lord about you." We had a word of prayer and then we began exploring to find the guidance we had prayed for.

"I am sure you must be able to do something," I said "No doubt you can sew?"

"No," she answered, "I can't sew — at least not in any unusual way."

"Well, then, certainly you can cook. All the Southern women I know are top-notch cooks."

"But you must be able to bake."

"No, I can't bake anything very exceptional."

★ ★ ★

We continued on down the list of home arts which might be turned into cash without any results until, suddenly, my prayer must have worked because it occurred to me to ask, "Did you ever make any candy?"

"Why, yes," she said. "That's one thing I do fairly well."

I asked her to make me a box of candy and send it to me. It came soon after. I disregarded my diet and sampled it and it was real good, superb in fact. In writing my thanks, I said, "That was some of the best candy I've ever tasted in my life. Why don't you go into the candy business?"

We had quite a bit of correspondence about whether a dignified Southern gentlewoman should sell candy to her neighbors, but finally she decided to start a little shop in her own home. Then she was persuaded to put out a sign and, eventually to put signs on the highways to attract tourists. And these are there now. They read: "Miss Lou's Shop — The Sweetest Spot on Highway 80."

Last year this little lady did an $18,000 business in that little shop. And the town she lives in has only eleven hundred people. Tourists who have bought Miss Lou's candy write from all over the country to re-order and they all remember so pleasantly this inspiring woman.

There was a sleeping giant within that little lady. And there is a giant in everybody reading these words. The Bible described what is within Miss Lou, within you and within each of us in these words: "What is man, that Thou art mindful of him? . . . Thou madest him a little lower than the angels; Thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of Thy hands."

In other words, you have been given dominion over failure, over weakness, over every negative thing. Have you taken that dominion? Over yourself? Over your cirmumstances? Over your defeats? You have the stuff in you to do all of these things. God put it there. But only you can get it out. Only you can awaken and use the giant within you.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Methodist Church is issuing a "U. S. Methodist tourist map" for use by travelers who would like to visit Methodist institutions on or near highways over which they take vacation trips.

Vacation Church School to Start at Bethany

Mrs. B. Lee Gillette will be general superintendent of the annual Vacation Church School opening Monday at Bethany Baptist Church.

Classes begin at 9:30 a.m. and close at noon Monday through Friday. Boys and girls of the community, ages 3 to 12, are invited to participate in the Bible study, recreation, music and fun, said Percy M. Walley, minister of Christian Education.

"The Lost Art" will be Mr. Walley's sermon topic at the two services Sunday. Assisting at the 8:45 hour will be Craig Allen. Karen Olsen will assist at 11 a.m.

Mrs. Charles Hazel of Crescent Hills Baptist Church and Mrs. Orville Manns will be soloists.

Guest Speaker Sunday

The Rev. Perry A. Temple will be guest speaker at the 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services tomorrow at the Donelson Baptist Church, Elizabeth Lake road at Tilden.

REV. WESLEY C. WIBLEY

Pontiac Pastor Called to Church at Battle Creek

The Rev. Wesley C. Wibley, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church, has accepted a call to the Four Fold Gospel Church in Battle Creek.

He will preach his farewell sermon here on Aug. 23.

When he came here as a new pastor, he found members had been worshipping in the basement church for 17 years. under his leadership the church was completed.

Adjacent lots were purchased and recently blacktopped. Two years ago a new parsonage was purchased.

A member of the Pontiac Pastor's Assn., he has served as chaplain of the Civil Air Patrol of Pontiac and is one of six presbyters of the denomination in in the state.

The Rev. Mr. Wibley came to Pontiac from the Assembly of God Church at Gladwin. Former pastorates were in Bellevue, Bedford and Marysville, Ohio. He has been in ministry 30 years.

The Wibleys have two sons. Wesley Jr. who is married and lives in Pontiac and John K. who will attend North Central Bible College in Minneapolis this fall to study for the ministry.

DR. JOHN H. DAWSON

Methodists to Hear College President

"Does God Care" will be the sermon topic of Dr. John H. Dawson, president of Adrian College, when he speaks at the 10 a.m. service Sunday in First Methodist Church.

Dr. Dawson will remain for the dinner meeting of senior and post high young people to speak of the college.

He is a member of Rotary International, the American Commons Club national fraternity, and in 1956 was the honor initiate at the national Congress of the Alpha tau Omega fraternity.

In 1956 he was a Michigan delegate to President Eisenhower's White House Conference on Education and in 1958 was president of Michigan Council of college presidents.

Congregation to Attend 'Cookout'

The Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin A. Bohn of 2288 Crescent Lake Rd., will be hosts to members of the congregation of Crescent Hills Baptist Church at a family "cookout" dinner at noon Sunday.

★ ★ ★

At the business meeting which follows, final action will be taken for completing the purchase of property south of the parsonage as a building site for the new church.

Members of the Board of Trustees have signed contracts this week in behalf of the congregation, the pastor said.

Communion will be observed at the close of the 10 a.m. service tomorrow. Patricia Ferguson will serve as youth leader and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Schmuck will be church greeters.

The last doubling of world population took about a century. At the current rate of growth, the next doubling will take place in about 40 years, reports the Population Reference Bureau.

NEW MACEDONIA BAPTIST CHURCH — The congregation of Macedonia Baptist Church will worship for the first time in the new building at Motor and Pearsall streets at 11 a.m. Sunday. The church was built of Chicago common brick at an approximate cost of $110,000. The sanctuary will seat 568 with three overflow areas. The Rev. Lenworth R. Miner, pastor, said present membership is 755. The church was organized on April 18, 1920 by the Rev. Ford B. Reed, pastor of New Hope Baptist Church.

First Service Set for Sunday

Friends, Members to Worship Tomorrow in New Building

Friends and members of Macedonia Baptist Church will hold the first worship service in the new church at 11 a.m. Sunday with the Rev. Lenworth R. Miner, the pastor, preaching the sermon.

★ ★ ★

The church was organized on April 18, 1920 by the Rev. Ford B. Reed, now pastor of the New Hope Baptist Church.

With less than 50 members the group held worship services in the home of Emanuel Whiters until a church was available.

A tent was purchased and set up on the corner of Highland and Nebraska avenues during summer months.

On Oct. 10, 1954 the congregation moved into the present site at Alton and Motor avenues.

Formerly the Baxter Mission, it was given to the Macedonia group by Dr. H. H. Savage and members of the First Baptist Church.

Members have purchased four lots adjacent to the present location for a parking lot to serve 108 cars.

★ ★ ★

The membership has grown to current enrollment of 755. Former pastors include besides the Rev. Mr. Reed, the Rev. C. L. Sateen, the Rev. John Powell, the Rev. S. M. Edwards, the Rev. W. L. Harris and the Rev. Mr. Miner.

The first Fellowship Builders' Caravan will leave the American Baptist Assembly Grounds at Green Lake, Wis. Monday to help rural churches and missions in repair and building projects.

Joining the caravan from Bethany Baptist will be Patty Looman who serves as a national leader at Green Lake during the summer, Senior Youth Fellowship at Bethand Susan Hamilton, president of any and a senior at Pontiac Central High School.

After completing three days of orientation and practice with equipment at Green Lake, the group will head for Harlan, Iowa where it will help in the preliminary work of a new Baptist Church.

On Aug. 12 the caravan will move to Anadarka, Okla. to assist in painting the American Baptist Christian Center.

The group will move again on program will consist of painting Aug. 22 to Geary, Okla. where the and laying acoustical tile at the American Baptist Indian Mission.

Selected through application, the fellowship builders will travel in station wagons, sleep in tents and cook their own meals.

The group will visit Saddle Mountain and the Indian Fair along the way.

After a workday of six hours, the young people will discuss problems of mutual interest with Indian young men and women.

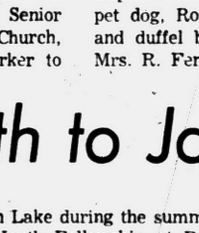

According to Percy M. Walley of Bethany Church, Fellowship Builders' Caravan plans to travel to other countries with the same purpose in future years.

The caravan will return to the Green Lake Assembly Grounds on Sept. 1.

Church Issues Notes

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time, the United Lutheran Church in America has entered the commercial money market. It is making a public issue of notes this summer, at interest rates up to 5½ per cent, to raise $1,500,000 as part of a three-year, 24 million dollar program to provide loans for new church buildings and acquisition of church sites.

Metal can production in the United States according to industry sources, will increase about two per cent in 1959, to 41.8 billion units.

House Receives Soft Labor Bill

Committee's Measure Is Likely to Encounter Rewriting on Floor

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new labor bill with less restrictions than one passed by the Senate last April has been sent to the House by the House Labor Committee.

Indications are that strong efforts will be made to rewrite the measure, approved late Friday by the committee, when it is called up in the House for action.

Only five of the 30 members had a kind word to say for the bill. Some said it was not strong enough to correct labor abuses. Others said it went too far.

The new House bill eliminates the Senate's penalties for violation of union members' rights, relaxes restrictions on secondary boycotts, sharply limits the authority of the secretary of labor to act in cases of violation and enlarges the National Labor Relations Board from five to seven members.

Telephone Rate Will Be Lower

Long Distance Callers to Save 5 to 25 Cents on First 3 Minutes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Phone rates will be cut 47 million dollars annually starting the middle of next month. It will save some long distance callers 5 to 25 cents on a three-minute call.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co. has notified the Federal Communications Commission that the cuts will affect only interstate station-to-station calls of more than 468 miles.

The charge for a daytime call between Washington and San Francisco, for example, will drop from $2.50 to $2.25 for the first three minutes. Each additional minute will cost 60 cents instead of 65.

★ ★ ★

Last week the FCC ordered a 50-million dollar cut in phone rates. AT&T, while notifying the commission of the mid-September cut, said an additional annual reduction of three million dollars would be made when it can work out necessary details.

Humor Hides Tragedy of Modern Pagliacci

LAS VEGAS — Red Skelton is trying to forget the tragedies of life, and of death, this summer, by working harder than he ever has before at his true role of a clown with a broken heart.

While still grieving for his son Richard who died of leukemia May 10, 1958, Red has come to the end of the road with his longtime friend and business manager, Bo Roos. It has not been a happy time.

Starring in this rowdy, raucous gambling town, Red is today a kind of American Pagliacci—he excites audiences to yelling, foot-stamping and table-pounding . . . after which he slumps in the wings, literally sobbing.

"I did a bad show," he said, a few nights ago, his face twisted like a crying child's.

His body was still shaking like a riveting machine. He had just finished a pantomime sketch which he call "Youth and Old Age Watching a Parade."

It was inspired by his son Richard bringing home a record of the "River Kwai" marching song and playing it for his parents, not many weeks before he died.

Red portrays a stooped, quiver-lipped, head-held-high old gentleman watching a parade beside a child. (Red occasionally holds his hand on the shoulder of the little boy who isn't there.) Finally, the old gentleman, unable to resist the martial music . . . joins the parade himself . . . limping and hobbling . . . but in the big parade.

On that recent night when Red sobbed that he'd done a bad show—despite the tumult from the audience—his attractive wife, Georgia, was there to comfort him and hand him an asthma pill.

SKELTON

"He's been in show business 37 years," Georgia said later. "Who was I to tell him he hadn't done a bad show?" She added with a wife's pride: "But I wouldn't have him any different."

Then comes the parade pantomime.

Richard, of course, is never mentioned in the act. Georgia says, however, that Red is constantly thinking of him, especially at show time.

When Red worries that he's not going to do a good show, she often encourages him by saying, "Yes, you are, because Richard is standing beside you." The recollection of Richard literally standing beside him on a TV show, and even telling a couple of jokes, shortly before he dies, is strengthening, Georgia is convinced.

"Dear friends," he says, "I'm sorry our hour has passed so quickly. I feel down deep in my heart that we are all put here for a purpose, and that is to build, and not destroy. And if at some later date something I have done here tonight can bring a smile to your face or a chuckle to your heart, then my purpose has been served for the Man upstairs. I want to wish you all abundant good health and happiness, and thank you for coming here tonight. Good night."

Then Red goes to his dressing room and they try to get him settled down. Red's show here has demonstrated that he's undoubtedly our greatest clown . . . equal often to Chaplin . . . his tragic touches just heart-tearing.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The adage about "Woman's work is never done" was written by a man whose wife belonged to a mah jongg club. . . . That's earl, brother.

Queen Bids Adieu to Canada Tonight

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II winds up her 45-day visit to Canada today with a glittering state dinner after meeting with the federal Cabinet and presenting new colors to the Canadian Navy.

★ ★ ★

The visit, which began June 18 and took Elizabeth and Prince Philip to 125 Canadian communities and to Chicago, ends tonight when the couple flies back to London.

But even the last day's schedule was heavy, calling for a 12½-hour day.

The Queen was to join the Cabinet at noon when it was expected she would announce the appointment of Maj. Gen. George P. Vanier of Montreal as Canada's new governor general. Vanier, former ambassador to France, would succeed Vincent Massey.

A 12-lane double-deck suspension bridge to be constructed over the Narrows in New York Bay will be the longest in the world when completed in 1964. The Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco now holds that title but at 4,260 feet, the new bridge will be 60 feet longer.

Alcohol Test Reacts in Opposite Direction

LONDON (UPI)—Three Volunteer motorists went through a road safety program on BBC television this week to prove that alcohol slows up reactions, but they didn't react very well.

The average time it took them to cover a specially selected obstacle-strewn course before imbibing was 43 seconds. After two large whiskys each, the demonstrators clocked in at the average time of 39 seconds.

Fishing Boat Blessing Set at UP Ghost Town

ESCANABA (AP) — The ruins of Fayette will come alive with people again on Sunday for the 11th annual blessing of the fleet.

Hundreds of persons father each year on the first Sunday in August to see the Bay de Noc fishing fleet blessed in ancient and colorful ceremonies reminiscent of Christ's teaching on the shores of the Sea of Galilee.

The event is sponsored by the parish of St. Peter the Fisherman of Fayette, one of the few organizations which remain in the old iron smelting ghost town. As in the past the Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Marquette will officiate and the blessing will be given to pleasure craft as well as to the fishing fleet.

The program will be open with an outdoor Mass at the Fatima Grotto at 11 a.m. and will include a public dinner served by the parish from noon, the blessing ceremony at 2 p.m. including a memorial service for the dead of the Great Lakes, and a band concert.

Fayette is Michigan's newest state park and one of the Upper Peninsula's scenic treasures. Its history goes back to the last century when the nation's iron industry used wood charcoal in its smelters.

Large tracts of hardwood were needed to make charcoal and in 1864 Jackson Iron Co. found large areas of suitable hardwood on the east side of big Bay de Noc, an arm of Lake Michigan.

The company purchased 26,000 acres of timberland and its tracts included Little Snail Shell harbor where ships could moor secure from the gales of Lake Michigan.

Here the charcoal iron furnaces and charcoal and lime kilns were built and the community was named Fayette for Fayette Brown, an official of the Jackson Iron Co. Soon hundreds of Irish, French and Belgian laborers were employed at the smelter and in the wood harvest.

The spiritual needs of these men and their families were first cared for by traveling missionaries, but in 1876 a parish was organized under the patronage of St. Peter and the first church was built.

The iron ore smelted at Fayette was mined on the Marquette range, hauled by rail to Escanaba and moved to Fayette on scows pulled by tugs. The furnaces were built in 1867 and turned out 75 tons of pig iron daily, while consuming 1,858 cords of hardwood in its charcoal kilns daily. By 1890 the timber was exhausted and Fayette declined. Many families turned to farming on the cleared lands while others engaged in commercial fishing.

The presence of so many fishermen prompted church authorities to hold the first blessing of the fleet in 1949. Although the rite is ancient in Mediterranean cultures and has long been practiced on the East Coast and in the New Orleans area, the Fayette blessing in 1949 appears to be the first held on the Great Lakes and to date the Bay de Noc ceremony still is unique in the region.

Grieving Mother Writes Letter on Segregation

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A mother grieving over the brutal slaying of her young son penned a letter to the editor:

★ ★ ★

"As long as we foster the sickness of slums and segregation we shall be infected by it," wrote Doris Bodenheimer, a hospital nursing supervisor.

★ ★ ★

Two Negro youths go on trial next month for last week's sex slaying of William M. Bodenheimer III. Police turned five others over to the custody of juvenile authorities.

★ ★ ★

The 12-year-old white youth disappeared on the afternoon of July 20 en route to a swimming pool clad in trunks and blue jeans.

Searchers found his nude and mutilated body the next morning stuffed in an ice box in an abandoned metal shack on a weed-covered lot.

Survival Rate Doubled

NEW YORK—An average young couple entering into marriage today has twice as good a chance to survive to their golden wedding as the average couple married 50 years ago.

Splits Lakes in Half

TRONTO—Lakes Erie and Ontario are almost exactly split in half by the border between the U.S. and Canada, about half of each lake lying within the limits of each of the countries.

Kennedy Calls Berlin Worth Nuclear War

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) said Friday night that "our position in Europe is worth a nuclear war."

Kennedy, in answer to a question on a television interview, said:

"Our position in Europe is worth a nuclear war because if you are driven from Berlin you are driven from Germany. And, if you are driven from Europe, you are driven from Asia and Africa, and then our time will come next.

Michigan Among Top 10 in Army Guard Strength

LANSING (AP) — Michigan is among the top ten states in percentage of Army and Air National Guard strength, Col. Howard E. Derby, acting adjutant general, reported today.

The Michigan Air National Guard is listed as seventh among the 52 states and territories with 1,731 officers and enlisted men and 95.4 per cent of its authorized strength.

The Army Guard force, with 11,074 officers and men, is ninth nationally with 103.3 per cent of its ceiling strength.

Derby said the guard has been authorized to recruit beyond its ceiling quota up to 11,257 officers and men.

96-Year-Old Cashes In on '13 Insurance Policy

Redman was presented yesterday with the cash value of a $1,000 life insurance policy he took out in 1913 because he has topped the insurance life expectancy table of 96 years.

Only one man in 10,000 living in this country today will reach 96, said the life insurance representative who handed over the money.

Redman, the only living graduate of the class of 1887 at Michigan State Unversity — then Michigan Agricultural College — is a retired civil engineer and farmer, and former Gratiot County drain commissioner.

U. S. Will Buy 353,895 Cases of State Cherries

TRAVERSE CITY (UPI)—The U.S. Department of Agriculture will purchase 403,875 cases of sour cherries valued at an estimated $2 million for use in the federal school lunch program, it was reported Friday.

More than 80 per cent of the cherries — 353,895 cases — would come from Michigan, including 150,000 cases grown in the Traverse City area, it was reported.

Each case contains six no. 10 cans of cherries.

'Evacuate' Is Common Cry

Living Near Missile Site Never Dull

Navy buses roll down the dusty streets and 35 to 40 men, women and children climb aboard.

At T minus 45 minutes, the buses roar away—and everyone in the countryside knows a big rocket is about to be fired.

Surf, Calif., is a stop on the Southern Pacific Railroad, which runs along the coast through the West's new missile launching area.

North of Surf is the 64,000-acre Vandenberg Air Force Base. To the south is Pt. Arguello, the Navy's 19,000-acre missile launching facility.

★ ★ ★

Discoverer satellite rockets arc southward from Vandenberg toward an orbit around the earth's poles. If one of them should explode or have to be destroyed, the debris might fall on Surf and Pt. Arguello.

★ ★ ★

The day before a Discoverer firing the people at Surf are alerted to get ready for evacuation. A few grumble but most of them, families of track maintenance workers, welcome this interruption of their quiet existence among the sand dunes.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Nick Juarez, mother of three says "It's like a picnic, except that you have to go whether you want to or not. The kids think it's wonderful."

Station master Bob Wolfe is the only one who doesnt leave. Just before shot time he ducks into a crude bomb shelter made of an old fuel tank and covered with sandbags.

★ ★ ★

The civilians evacuated from Surf go shopping in nearby Lompoc, see movies at Vandenberg, or visit friends. After the launching they are hauled back home.

But everything also stops at the Pt. Arguello facility, where missile and space vehicle launch sites are under construction. Twenty four hours before a Discoverer firing, all workmen are notified to take the next day off.

A contractor source estimates this cost currently at $25,000 a day.

Discoverer V, originally scheduled to be fired Tuesday, was postponed to Wednesday, then Thursday because of weather and technical problems. Late Thursday the shot was postponed again, for at least 48 hours. Each day the people at Surf were evacuated and the work at Pt. Arguello shut down.

At Midnight, With Green Lighting

Detroit to Get Premier

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan is going to get another world premiere of a movie at midnight Tuesday—and producer-director William Castle is in Detroit to help "The Tingler" get off to what he hopes is a shocking start.

First public screening of "The Tingler" will be in wide contrast to the dignified, dress-up first night of "Anatomy of a Murder," which had its Detroit premiere July 1.

For the midnight opening of "The Tingler," which deals with fear and what happens to a person who can't scream, Castle plans to have the Broadway Capitol theater lighted eerie green and is arranging for weirdly attired dancers to stage a "Tingler Dance" outside.

He's offering free admission and prizes, too, to anyone who shows up "suitably attired," representing famous murders or demons or sirens or the like.

Castle's "The Tingler" is an audience-participation show, in effect, and uses gimmicks somewhat similar to those he used in "Macabre" and "House on Haunted Hill" to produce audience action.

For instance, 100 seats will be rigged with electric vibrators that a projection room electrician sets off when "The Tingler" supposedly gets loose in the theatre.

"The Tingler," incidentally, is a monster, cockroach-like microbe, which, according to the story's theme, is present in every human and is fear.

"Because it is a representative city, with a good American cross-section, and becoming more and more of a show town. There's no connection between the show and anything in Detroit's history, past or future."

Castle keeps making horror-type, audience-participation movies that he hopes reminds the audience of the old carnival "fun house," because "You've got to do things people can't get on television if you're going to get them in the theater."

"I'm continuing the kind of showmanship that Mike Todd reintroduced.

Liberace Sues Comedian in Britain for Skit on Him

Al Hunt, Liberace's London manager, said today a writ had been issued against Thompson, script writer Peter Myers and the theatrical production firm of Linnet and Dunfee.

General Who Taught Ike to Fly Retires Friday

Lee, known as the "Father of the Philippine Air Force" for his work in helping organize it, stepped down as commanding general of the Amarillo Air Force Base.

It was in the Philippines in the 1930s that Gen. Lee taught Eisenhower how to fly. The President was stationed there with the Army.

More Planes Mean Better TV Reception

MIYAKO, Japan (UPI) — Residents of this northern Japanese city wish more airplanes would fly overhead. Then they could see more television.

Officials of television station SIPD said the plane reflects TV waves, enabling brief reception. They said they would try floating a huge silver-paper balloon over the area so Miyako residents can watch TV all the time.

TV Dealers to Send Sets to State Prisons

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Two Grand Rapids television dealers have agreed to send used TV sets to Marquette and Southern Michigan prisons for use as educational facilities, the Kent County sheriff has announced.

Sheriff Arnold O. Pigorsh said the arrangement calls for sending 12 sets to each prison for vocational rehabilitation work.

The inmates will learn TV repair by taking apart and rebuilding the sets, he said.

Officers Guarding Home of New York Police Boss

NEW YORK (AP)—The Queens home of Police Commissioner Stephen Kennedy has been under 24-hour police guard for the past two weeks because of telephoned death threat.

★ ★ ★

Police sources disclosed Friday that Kennedy, answering his home phone — which has an unlisted number—heard a man say:

★ ★ ★

"You know me. I'm going to give you a warning. He is going to kill you. He has got to get even with you."

Bosox Can't Even Give Contest Away

Three Detroit Homers Wasted on 6-5 Defeat

Nine Hurlers 'Work' in 3-Hour Contest; Tigers Leave 15 Stranded

Manager Jimmie Dykes said: "It was a night of frustration. Just brutal."

Boston's manager, Billy Jurges, said "this kind of baseball will make an old man out of me."

Boston's 6-5 victory over the Detroit Tigers probably made golfers out of the 31,916 paying spectators

And those who are arguing that baseball is not ready for a third Major League could get more than enough ammunition to support their cause by reviewing the thing they foisted off as baseball at Briggs Stadium last night.

The fact is, the Red Sox and the Tigers looked like third-leaguers. Former Tiger manager Bucky Harris would have said afterward "well, the best thing to do is forget it as quickly as possible." and another ex-Detroit pilot, Bill Norman, would have said "we weren't pretty."

★ ★ ★

There were nine persons on the pitching mound during the three hour and 14 minute marathon. One did some pitching and that one, Mike Fornieles, got the victory via an official scorer's ruling —despite the fact that the Red Sox were winning 6-5 when Fornieles entered with two out in the eighth.

It was only fair that Fornieles be the winner. He gave up only one walk and no hits.

The other Boston pitchers — four of them — issued 14 walks

The Tigers collected three home runs, but only two other hits. And all the homers came with the bases empty. Two came in the fifth, one an inside-the-park job by Kaline and the other a line smash into the right field seats by Gail Harris.

Another run scored in the same inning when second baseman Pumpsie Green and first baseman Pete Runnels played Alphonse and Gaston with pitcher Tom Morgan's easy pop-up and let it drop between them, Ted Lepcio scoring from second base.

Lepcio hit a home run in the seventh and the Tigers scored their final run in the eighth on two walks, a single and a sacrifice fly.

Right fielder Jackie Jensen robbed Neil Chrisley of a bases-loaded home run in the fourth inning when he reached over the nine-foot screen and snared Chrisley's bases-loaded smash with two out.

Boston starter Earl Wilson, making his Major League starting debut, was overwhelmingly generous. He walked nine batters in less than four innings, twice loading the bases on walks.

But the Tigers could not score off the fastballing righthander. Couldn't even get a hit off him, matter of fact. But he departed with two out in the fourth after loading the bases on walks. Frank Sullivan retired only one batter, getting Chrisley on Jensen's tremendous catch, before retiring with a sore shoulder.

Starter Jim Bunning took the loss for the Tigers, and he deserved to. Bunning, who had beaten the Sox four straight times this season and had a 12-5 lifetime mark against them, lasted only four innings.

Reliefer Ray Narleski deserved to lose, too, but rules forbid having two losing pitchers in a single game. He walked three batters in the eighth inning and Lepcio shared in the mess by committing his second error of the contest between Narleski's walks.

Narleski finally forced across what proved to be the winning run when he walked opposing pitcher Delock. Pete Burnside finished up for the Tigers after Dykes tired of seeing Narleski.

Chisox Keep Pressure on by Dumping Nats

Perry Wins 2nd as Starter

By The Associated Press

Take Cleveland. The Indians dropped out of the lead because their No. 1 relief guy, Jim Perry, failed 'em—but they've managed to stay close because the same relief man has won two in a row, as a starting pitcher.

The lean righthander blew a 3-0 lead, but hung on for a 5-4 victory over Baltimore last night that left the Injuns just one game back of Chcago. The White Sox kept the pressure on by beating Washington 7-1 behind the four-hit pitching of Barry Latman.

Kansas City's winning streak came to an end at 11 games as the New York Yankees walloped the third place A's 11-2. Boston beat Detroit 6-5.

The Injuns came from behind with two runs in the eighth on a bases-loaded walk and Billy Martin's sacrifice fly. The Orioles, who left 11 men on base, had taken a 4-3 lead with an unearned run in the sixth on an error, sacrifice and a single by Bob Boyd, who had three of their nine hits.

Perry (7-3), a 9-0 winner over Washington with a two-hitter as a starter last Sunday, had lost 8-4 in relief against Boston Tuesday, when the Indians fell a half-game behind. He struck out seven, walked five before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth against losing reliever Billy Loes (4-4). Al Cicotte pitched a hitless ninth for the Indians.

The White Sox, unbeaten in their last four games and winners in eight of their last nine, put it away with three-run bursts in the second and third innings against Pete Ramos (10-13), who lost his fifth straight as the last-place Senators dropped their 13th in a row. Earl Torgeson hit his eighth homer in the third for the Sox, after a walk, error, singles by Jim Landis and Jim McAnany and Luis Aparicio's sacrifice fly had scored three in the second.

Latman, pitching because Dick Donovan was sidelined by shoulder trouble, struck out 11 and had a three-hit shutout until the eighth, when rookie Bob Allison smacked his 27th home run.

Three home runs—by Yogi Berra, Elston Howard and Hector Lopez—powered a 13-hit barrage by the fifth-place Yankees while Don Larsen and Bobby Shantz combined for a four-hitter against the A's. Shantz (5-3) won it, blanking the A's on two singles in five innings of relief. Ned Garver (8-10), the stubby right-hander who has beaten the Yankees only once in four years, was the loser, giving up Berra's clinching 14th home run with a man on base in the third.

McCovey Sparks Giants to Win

By The Associated Press

The way this Willie McCovey's going he'll be playing for the National League in Monday's All-Star Game.

The 6-4 first baseman, a .377 hitter at Phoenix in the Pacific Coast League just two night's ago, followed up Thursday's somewhat sensational 4-for-4 debut with San Francisco by singling home an eighth inning run that beat Pittsburgh 4-3 last night.

That kept the Giants in first place by a half game. Second-place Milwaukee beat St. Louis 6-0 behind a three-hitter by Bob Buhl, who hadn't pitched a complete game since June 11. Third-place Los Angeles, also a half-game behind, beat Philadelphia 5-4 as Don Drysdale struck out 14 and won his sixth in a row.

Cincinnati beat the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in the other NL game.

The Giants twice came from behind against the Pirates, who have lost 10 of their last 11, then blew a 3-2 lead in the eighth. That's when McCovey, hitless in three trips against left-hander Harvey Haddix (7-9), ripped a two-out single that brought home Willie Mays, who had walked and then stolen second.

★ ★ ★

Ed Bressoud and Daryl Spencer hit solo home runs for the Giants, who had only six hits. The Bucs had seven off right-hander Jack Sanford (9-9), who won his second straight after being winless for more than a month. Dick Stuart, Bob Clemente and Don Hoak each had two hits and drove in a run for the Pirates.

★ ★ ★

That opening line about McCovey making the All-Star Game may not be a gag at that. NL President Warren Giles announced yesterday that Dodger Charlie Neal, whose absence from the original squad left Los Angeles fans howling, will replace Cardinal Bill White for the second "classic."

Neal's selection, likely to lure a few more cash customers to Monday's game at Los Angeles Coliseum, was made, said Giles, because White has an ankle injury.

★ ★ ★

White played the whole game for the Cardinals last night, and had one of their three hits off Buhl. The club, playing "out of necessity" according to a Giles spokesman, wants him to undergo treatment Monday.

The only other hits off Buhl, whose last complete game was a five-hit shutout over the Cards, were singles by Don Blasingame. The big right-hander walked just one and struck out five for an 8-6 record and his third shutout.

The Braves didn't have a hit off Dean Stone, an AL castoff making his first National League start, for five innings, Hank Aaron added his 28th home run, fourth in three games, in the eighth as the Braves made it three in a row and eight out of nine.

Los Angeles scored four in the first while chasing Gene Conley (9-7), then got the big run in the eighth on a homer by Norm Larker, subbing for the injured Gil Hodges. Drysdale (14-6), the major league strikeout leader with 173, fanned Joe Koppe for the final out after the Phils had scored once in the ninth and had the tying run on base.

The Reds came from behind, then blew a 4-2 lead on George Altman's two-run homer in the ninth before Johnny Powers' pinch-hit homer beat the Cubs with two out in the ninth. Jim Brosnan (5-5) won it in relief after Don Newcombe again gave way to a groin injury. Don Elston (5-4) was the loser.

Southfield Out of Legion Meet

Edison gained the finals with a 13-3 victory over Escanaba yesterday. Midland which only has 12 players on its squad, eliminated Grand Rapids 12-4 in the semi-finals and brought its tournament record to 2-1.

If Midland can upset Edison in today's morning game, a final and deciding game will follow. Edison is after its first state title since 1953. Midland is seeking its first state title.

The winner will represent Michigan in the National Regionals Aug 22-26 at Princeton, Ind.

Top-O-Michigan Outboard Race May Be Dropped

CHEBOYGAN (UPI)—There may not be a 12th annual Top-O-Michigan outboard marathon, officials said today.

A meeting at Conway race headquarters yesterday included a report that this year's race, the 11th annual running of the 87-mile race, was a financial failure. The race went $387 in the red.

The budget for this year's race, rated as one of the biggest outboard regattas in America, was $4,4000. Officials said most of the funds were used for trophies and cash prizes.

Cards Recall Rookie

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals recalled Bobby Miller, 20-year-old rookie right-hander, from their Rochester farm club in the Triple A International League Friday in a move to bolster their pitching staff.

To make room for Miller the Red Birds asked waivers on catcher Ray Katt to grant him his unconditional release so he may become a full time coach for the club.

Cawley Wins Hurdles Race in Norway

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Ray Norton, Warren Cawley and Bob Davis gave the United States three victories Friday in the final phase of the Yankee Track Meet at Bislet Stadium.

College Stars Seek to Smooth Rough Spots

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The College All-Stars Friday studied films of their Thursday scrimmage and then tried to eliminate their mistakes during a double workout on the Dyche Stadium practice field.

The Collegians, girding for the Aug. 14 clash with the champion Baltimore Colts of the National Football League, emerged from the scrimmage without serious injury.

However, Bob Reifsnyder, 240-pound tackle from Navy, nursed a sore shoulder. The squad will have another double workout today and then have a Sunday holiday.

Aussies Call New Pair in Zone Finale

MONTREAL (AP) — The Australians called on a new doubles combination of 20-year-old Rod Laver and 22-year-old Roy Emerson to wrap up their American Zone Davis Cup tennis final against Cuba today.

The Aussies took a 2-0 lead yesterday when Emerson crushed Reynaldo Garrido 6-0, 6-4, 6-4 and Neale Fraser defeated Orlando Garrido, Reynaldo's brother, 6-1, 7-5, 6-3.

The American-European Zone final is scheduled for Philadelphia next weekend with the winner going against India's Eastern title-holders at Brookline, Mass. Aug. 14-16 for the right to challenge the United States at Forest Hills Aug. 28-30.

Everybody Threatens to Sue Jesse Bowdry

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jesse Bowdry of St. Louis ran out on a fight Thursday night and everybody threatened damage suits Friday.

Bowdry, No. 4 light heavyweight contender, refused to battle Sixto Rodriguez of San Francisco because Bowdry's co-manager, Bernie Glickman, was refused a license.

Two-Week Tennis Clinic Starts Monday at PCH

A free tennis clinic sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department will begin Monday free of charge to those desiring to learn the fundamentals of the game.

Two of the Recreation Department's summer staff members, Claudia Wasik and Harry Wenzel will be the instructors. They will be assisted by some of Mrs. Jean Hoxie's students and members of the Pontiac Central tennis team.

Wenzel is on the PCH faculty. He is a graduate of Tufts University and the University of Michigan.

Classes will be held between 10:00 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. and between 4:00 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. each day until August 15th.

A tournament for novice and amateur players will be held August 13-15, eligible for all residents of Oakland County.

PUTT DROPS — Things were looking up for Mike Souchak after he sank an 8-foot putt on the par 4 No. 5 in the PGA tourney Friday. A hot run on the greens had him 2nd to leader Jerry Barber at 136 entering today's 3rd round.

Barber, Souchak Tilt Goes Into 3rd Round

Barber, tiny and frail looking, held the lead at the halfway point but the broad, ominous shadow of Souchak stalked him again.

Twice in the last four years the little man from Los Angeles has been on the brink of tournament victories only to have them plucked away by great Souchak finishes.

This weekend the stakes are higher. After a remarkable 5-under-par 65 at Minneapolis Golf Club course yesterday, the 43-year-old Barber is in a position to crown a 19-year pro golfing career with one of the most glamorous titles in the game.

Heading into todays third round Barber was 6-under-par at 134, two strokes in front of Souchak, the gentle-mannered mauler from the Pennsylvania coal country. Both had first-day 69s.

Arrayed behind them were Doug Sanders at 138, defending champ Dow Finsterwald and Gene Littler at 139 and Cary Middlecoff, National Open champion Bill Casper and Lionel Hebert at 140.

All the leaders save Casper and Littler cracked 35-35—70 par in the searing sun yesterday. Barber's 65, including a hard-to-believe 30 on the front nine, was the finest round ever played on the course.

Souchak shot a 67, Sanders 66, Finsterwald and Middlecoff 68s, Hebert 69, Littler 70 and Casper 71.

With that kind of line-up after 36 holes the 41st annual PGA was considerably more than personal duel between Souchak and Barber. But for the third round their threesomes—was the focus of the whole tournament.

Barber, only 5-foot, 5 inches and 135 pounds, gave no quarter to Sanders and Doug Ford off the tee in their threesome. Reputedly one of the shortest drivers in big time golf, he got out further than his partners a couple of times.

And when it came to the irons, Barber won all the blue ribbons. He put an approach 10 inches from the pin on one hole, wedged into the cup from 60 yards on another and putted home from 20, 17, 15 feet and points lower.

Souchak mauled the course where Barber masterminded it. He had three birdies and 15 pars and looked perfectly capable of scoring two or three strokes lower. Barber's birdie shooting seemed to infect Sanders, with whom he played. Doug, a fine golfer in his own right, had the second best round of the tournament with his 66.

The field was down to 97, with another cut to the low 60 due after the round.

Gold Blanket, Cash for Trotter Champ

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — A gold lame blanket inscribed "world champion 1959" and a horseshoe of red, white and blue carnations awaits the winner of the $50,000 International Trot tonight at Roosevelt Raceway.

For the owner of the horse who steps into the winner's circle after the first edition of the global go-round of 1½ miles there awaits $25,000. The race will be three times around Roosevelt's half-mile oval.

Eight champion trotters from seven nations are set for the big race, all with top drivers in the sulkies. A crowd estimated at 45,000, including many foreign dignitaries is expected to watch the race. Post time is 9:17 p.m. EST.

Trader Horn, the U.S. star owned by Arthur Nardin of New York and Miami, is expected to start as the favorite. The pre-race line quoted him at 6-5. Canada's Philip Frost, pride of Mrs. Jeanne Levesque, Montreal, is second choice at 7-2. The artichoke-loving French champion, Jamin, is next at 9-2.

McConner Hurls Benefit Game

Two interesting exhibition softball contests were scheduled tonight at 7 and 8:30 p.m. for the Drayton Plains field.

Both are benefit performances for shortstop Jerry Hesse, Sno-Bol team player who suffered a fracture of his right ankle four weeks ago during a league game. Injury was the 2nd for Jerry in three years. He broke his left ankle in the first accident.

Softball fans will see former star hurlers Perce McConner and Jake Mazur on the hill for former state champs Shaw's. Both are former Shaw moundsmen. McConner's team, the Royals, meets Drayton league's All-Stars in the first tilt.

Shaw's tangles with the Sno Bol club in the afterpiece. Fats Keith, Doug Hall and Dick Shell were slated for pitching chores for the Snobols.

From The PRESS BOX

Harvey Kuenn will pass up Monday's All-Star game because of his knee injury. He will leave with the Tigers for New York.

U. of M. Mat Trio Put Out During 3rd Round Action at 'Frisco

EAST LANSING (AP) - Frank Rosenmayr, a strongarm artist from the San Francisco Olympic Club, became the first entry competing in tryouts here to pin down a berth on the Pan American wrestling team.

Rosenmayr, NAAU titlist in the 192 pound weight class the past two years, won his first four bouts by decision. He was automatically in since his victims included the only other survivors in the class, Tim Woodin of Michigan State University and Bill Farrell of the New York Athletic Club.

The three University of Michigan entries were knocked out of the running in the third round of competition yesterday afternoon.

Mike Rodriguez, 147½ pounds, of Royal Oak, who previously lost by a pin and won by a decision, became sick overnight and was scratched.

Dennis Fitzgerald of Ann Arbor, at 174 pounds, was eliminated when he drew with Jim Peckham of Boston YMCA. Fitzgerald previously had won one decision and lost another.

Dan Corriere, also 174 pounds, of Ann Arbor, went out when he was decisioned by Dale Sullivan of Army. Corriere previously had a draw and a lost decision.

Finsterwald's Golf Tip:

Clubhead Strikes Sand

By DOW FINSTERWALD
PGA Champion

Confidence is an extremely important factor in playing well consistently, and especially when trapped.

A basic principle of an explosion shot from the green is that the clubhead contacts the sand under the ball and not the ball itself. This is the only shot in golf where the ball is not first met by the clubhead.

At address the clubhead is held about an inch above the sand and an inch or so behind the ball.

The feet are firmly planted in the sand to avoid slipping or moving.

Take the clubhead back slightly outside the line of intended flight in an upright arc as the wrists cock abruptly

I employ a three-quarter swing quite similar to that of an 8-iron shot.

The difference is that I am in more of an open stance and aim behind the ball.

Johnson Slaps TV Blackouts

Tells Senate Probers Such Agreements Not in Public Interest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) told the Senate antimonopoly subcommittee Friday agreements for television blackouts in organized baseball are against the public interest.

"I wouldn't favor a blackout any place, any time, any where... regularly scheduled games or World Series," Johnson testified. He is a former president of the now defunct Western League, and said he knows from experience what he's talking about.

At issue are agreements and proposed agreements designed to prevent televised major league baseball from competing with minor league baseball and reducing game attendance in the minors.

Johnson suggested legislation which would make blackout agreements subject to antitrust laws unless the participants gave up at least two-thirds of the television revenues. This would be divided among the players, their retirement funds, programs for encouraging school and college baseball, and public relations work for baseball.

New Pro Loop to Be American Football League

DALLAS (AP)—Lamar Hunt, wealthy Texan backing the new professional football league, said today the circuit would be called the American Football League.

He also said Dallas, New York, Denver, Houston, Minneapolis and Los Angeles will be the original six clubs with plans to begin operation in 1960.

The maximum number of teams will be eight, Hunt added, with the other two spots up for grabs. Currently Miami, Buffalo and Atlanta are the leading contenders.

He indicated the new league didn't plan to go out and challenge any National Football League teams right away. In fact, still immature plans for the new league calls for keeping competition "just among ourselves for at least two or three years."

Hurdle Rider Loses, Wins as Flat Racer

By The Associated Press

Jim Hobales, who usually confines his riding to hurdle and steeplechase races, was 50 per cent successful Friday at Monmouth Park when he attempted a rare double in consecutive races over the hurdles and on the flat. In between he reduced his weight four pounds.

Hobales finished second with Mahogany in the about 2-mile hurdle event. Then he rushed into the steam room in order to make 119 pounds for Mrs. Helen L. Murrell's 2-year old, New Order.

New Order, beaten 11 lengths in his only other start at Pimlico last spring, romped home under Hobales' guidance and paid $62.60 after winning by seven lengths in 1:13 for 6 furlongs.

Canadian Crew Drops Protest

PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont. (AP) — A dispute between the top contenders for the Royal Canadian Henley championship ended last night when the host St. Catharines Club withdrew its protest against a Detroit Boat Club victory in the junior 145-pound fours with Cox.

The race was a feature on the third day program of the four-day regatta.

Detroit won in the last strokes, holding off a strong St. Catharines challenge by only a few inches. The time was 7:49.9 for the mile, 350 yards. St. Catharines protested it had been bumped by the Detroit shell several times.

Quarterback Key Lion Problem Again

Rote, Morrall and Reichow Set to Battle

Coach Wilson's Plans Call for Alternating Them in Exhibitions

DETROIT (UPI) — Last season the Detroit Lions thought they had too many quarterbacks, so they traded Bobby Layne to the Pittsburgh Steelers.

This year the Lions may be faced with a similar 'problem." But coach George Wilson doesn't seem a bit perturbed by the situation.

Ironically enough, the quarterback who may be challenging veteran Tobin Rote for the job of No. 1 signal caller this season is 25-year-old Earl Morrall, the player who was received from the Steelers in exchange for Layne.

Morrall, who didn't get much of a chance to show what he could do in Detroit last year since he was injured shortly after being traded, looked very good in the first week of practice.

One veteran observer stated, "Morrall calls his plays with authority and passes well. He's smart and has what it takes to do the job for the Lions."

Wilson said, "Morrall should be better this year after having a chance to become acquainted with our system here." He had no such opportunity in 1958. He had to move in after the season started and learn as he went along.

The former Michigan State All-American has two factors in his favor. He has the advantage of youth over the 31-year-old Rote whose ten years in the NFL are matched only by Jim Martin, the team's extra-point and field goal specialist.

Although Rote reported yesterday that he was throwing without pain following minor surgery on his shoulder, Morrall would almost automatically take over the position should Rote's injury recur.

Morrall certainly has the edge in experience over Jerry Reichow, his other rival for the job. Reichow has a two-year total of three passes completed out of eight attempts for a net gain of 19 yards.

Reichow's chief value to the Lions in 1956 and 1957 was his pass-catching ability. He has a fine pair of hands and it's likely that he will see more action on the receiving end of the passes before the year is out. He was hurt in the All-Star game and put on the injured reserve list for the whole of last season.

Morrall, meanwhile, passed for a total of 1,900 yards at Pittsburgh in 1957. He has 202 completions in 445 attempts for a 45.4 percentage in three years.

There is a belief around the league that the quarterback spot, unlike many other positions, takes a few years to learn in the NFL, and Morrall's three years of seasoning make him just about ripe for a starting role.

As for coach Wilson, he refuses to give the edge to any one of his three quarterbacks. But he said that the signal calling in the preseason exhibition games will be split mainly between Morrall and Reichow.

Rote will play only about a quarter of each contest, according to the Detroit coach.

Yesterday afternoon with the team at full strength for the first time since training camp opened all three shared equal billing.

They alternated in ten-minute perfods of ten minutes each of running the team through both running and passing plays.

Today will be the first day of regular practice for the entire assembly of rookies and veterans—minus, of course, the six rookies who are working out with the College All-Star squad.

Elsewhere, Green Bay has obtained former Michigan State tackle Tom Saidock from the Eagles. Newcomer Dick Lynch and two veterans starred on defense in the 1st serious New York workout. Defensive tackle Chuck Ulrich of the Cards decided to retire. An advance sale of about 45,000 tickets were reported for tonight's game-conditions scrimmage by the Baltimore Colts.

First Defeat Handed U. S. Sprint Tankers

NAGOYA, Japan (AP)—America's sprinters were handed their first defeat by Japan in the 100-meter freestyle in a U.S.-Japan swimming meet Friday night.

The American swimmers, however, captured five first places against Japan's four and Australia's "guest swimmer" Murray Rose won the 200-meter freestyle in the final 10-event meet of the current U.S.-Japan series.

RELAXED HOLDOUT — Gil Mains, unsigned tackle, relaxed in uniform as the Detroit Lions posed for pictures at Cranbrook yesterday. Camp officially opens for all hands today with the exhibition opener next Saturday.

All-Stars Play 2nd Game Monday

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It doesn't require a course in motivational research to figure out why baseball's second 1959 All-Star Game is being played in Los Angeles. With a typewriter, you can hit squarely on the reason with the tap of a single key — $.

The season's second All-Star match — to be played at the Coliseum Monday — was scheduled after the New York Yankees came out here in May and met the Dodgers in an exhibition that drew 93,103 — the largest crowd in U.S. baseball history.

If the majors didn't know it then, they must surely realize by now that Monday's game probably wouldn't do that kind of business if they gave away free franchises between innings.

But they'll play it anyway. And the players, who get the proceeds for their pension fund, will just have to be satisfied with a crowd of perhaps 45,000 or 55,000 and maybe a half million dollars in revenue.

The rosters of the two leagues will be much the same as they were in Pittsburgh July 7, when the Nationals won 5-4 and cut the American League's lead in the 26-year-old series to 15-11.

Old-timers in the game will include Stan Musial of St. Louis, making his 17th appearance for the Nationals, and Ted Williams of Boston, playing his 16th All-Star Game for the Americans. Yogi Berra of the Yankees makes his 11th showing.

Although this is the first All-Star Game in West Coast history, and although most of the American League stars have never been seen here before, there are a couple of sound reasons why this game is not likely to break the All-Star attendance record. That record was set back in 1935, when 69,831 showed up at Cleveland.

In the first place, Los Angeles fans appear much more interested now in the National League standings than in a glorified exhibition game. The Dodgers ran seventh last year, but they've been strong contenders this season.

In the second place, it will be possible to see the game here on TV without fighting the battle of the freeways. This will be the first baseball game ever televised from the Coliseum and shown locally.

If a crowd of 50,000 materializes, the take will be about $25,000 after taxes. There will be another $250,000 in television revenue. NBC will handle the telecast — 6 p.m. EST — and also will carry the game on radio.

★ ★ ★

Proceeds will be used largely to expand the players' pension fund to provide benefits for players not now covered.

Hanebrink Rejoins Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Infielder Harry Hanebrink, optioned to Buffalo of the International League July 11, will rejoin the Philadelphia Phillies Monday.

In 17 games with Buffalo, he hit four home runs and a pair of doubles and batted in 11 runs.

Playoff Time for City Teams

Junior Baseballers Under Way, Softball Begins Sunday

There will be plenty of playoff action in Pontiac in both softball and baseball starting Sunday.

Softball action starts at 5:30 p.m. when Arro Realty vs Big Bear at Beaudette and Blue Star vs Harrisons at Northside in the NL Class C openers. At 7, the Lakeside Royals play the Elks at Beaudette in the AL "A" division while Casa Mia vs Deni's & Herks in the Class B group at Northside.

The Pontiac Merchants vs CIO in the same class at Beaudette at 8:30 with the Moose and Buttercup battling in NL Class D at Northside. A 9:30 tussle will have Autos of Europe vs Wrights in that group at Northside. Action continues Monday.

Junior baseball playoffs started yesterday. Kerry Rogers fanned 14 as State Farm whipped the Tigers 9-2 in Class F. Our Lady of Refuge coasted to a 12-8 win after leading 11-0 over the Junior Jets in "E". Gary Hintz had a three-run homer for the victors. East Side Rockets blanked Furtney 8-0 with Bob Church allowing one hit and fanning 12 in a Widget tilt. Other Widget scores were Moose 20, Preston 0, Ultra-Stone 18, Hudson 2, Aces (Hall) 5, East Side 2, and Ultra-Stone American 23, Atlas 0.

Eight junior games are slated tomorrow.

CHARMING COLONIAL — This two-story design has a total of eight rooms, with three bedrooms and a den upstairs. Recreation room, with fireplace, acts as informal living room downstairs. Center hall arrangement provides excellent circulation pattern.

Americans Asking Again for Two Story Homes

By DAVID L. BOWEN

Here's a plan aimed at that large and growing number of people who yearn for the stately splendor of the two-story house.

Although one-level design remains the most popular modern style, there are signs of a comeback by the oldfashioned two-story home. This plan is a good example of why many prospective owners are giving the two-story new attention.

Probably most important to the resurging interest in the two-story is its attractive exterior. It's hard to top the look of warm hospitality made possible by two-level design. Architect Herman H. York fully developed the potential in designing X-69 in the House of the Week series.

He achieved a Colonial effect, apparent in the long covered front porch and window arrangement, that will make the house look perfectly at home anywhere in the United States. Subtly blended in with these lines are two important contemporary details: a low roof pitch and wide overhang.

EFFICIENT FLOOR PLAN

But two-story advantages don't stop outside. Important to every house is its traffic pattern. In this layout the central foyer and rear hall form a core from which all living areas radiate. At the rear vestibule is a lavatory and mud closet, plus a laundry area. Once the family is up, the daily routine can be restricted to the ground floor level.

One of the special features downstairs is the big recreation room down two steps to the left of the foyer. York has put a big brick fireplace in this room, the theory that its cheery warmth is more appropriate to informal living here than to the formality of the main living room. The fireplace and exposed ceiling beams give the room an early American air that is bound to delight a home decorator.

The formal living room is on the opposite side of the foyer, joined to the dining room in the popular "L" shape. While the recreation room faces the informal area to the rear of the house, the living room overlooks the front.

The big kitchen is centrally located, handy both to the dining room and the rear service hall.

There's an abundance of counter and cabinet space, plus a bow window to make the room cheerful. The kitchen can accommodate a dining table with room to spare.

There are three bedrooms upstairs, plus a fourth room that can be used either as a den or as a fourth bedroom. Like the recreation room directly below it, this fourth room is equipped with a fireplace.

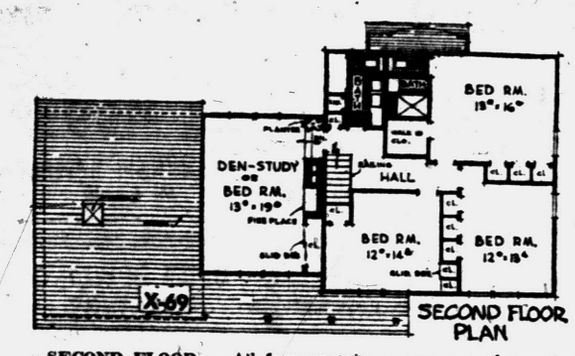

The master bedroom has a private bath with shower and a walk-in closet. The main bath has a double lavatory.

EXTERIOR MATERIALS

Wood shingles, brick and vertical boards and battens carry out the Colonial theme of the exterior. York points out that the covered porch does more than protect the front entrance from the weather—it creates a horizontal line which increases the apparent length of the house and closely links the two-car garage with the main house.

The plan provides 1,198 square feet of habitable area on the main floor. The second floor adds another 1,201 square feet.

Over-all dimensions are 66' in length by 35' 1" in depth. The house has a full basement. Basement stairway opens on the rear vestibule.

SECOND FLOOR — All four upstairs rooms are of generous size. Master bedroom has private bath and walk-in closet.

PRE-FAB HOUSE — The Guy Baker house in Troy township came to the site in units, ready to be assembled. There are no studs; it is laminated construction throughout. Three and a half days after the house was started, it was completely enclosed and ready for the inside finishing. The exterior is brick and Masonite siding. This is a Semico house, made in Seney, Michigan. The Bakers formerly lived in Huntington Woods.

PLANNED FOR COMFORT — This living room is planned for comfortable living. Mrs. Baker was at work when this picture was taken, but Mr. Baker posed for the Press photographer. Usually one of the couple's two Siamese cats is in his lap. This room is all done in rose beige. Draperies are white.

PORCH PLEASES — The glassed-in porch built on the back of the house gives the Bakers as much pleasure as any room can. Shut off from the living room by French doors, this porch is paneled in sycamore. Furniture is informal and comfortable. Around at the left (and out of sight) is a little alcove Mr. Baker uses as an office. This room can be entered from the bedroom also.

Your Neighbor's House

Pre-Fab Home Went Up in a Hurry

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

"Go see Guy Baker's house over in Troy Township!" Some one is always suggesting a new house for us to see, knowing we like the unusual.

★ ★ ★

This is a pre-fabricated house. It is laminated construction with no studs. The exterior is brick and Masonite siding.

★ ★ ★

The Bakers wanted a small house that was easy to live in and easy to keep up. Mrs. Baker, a nurse, is away part of every day. Mr. Baker has taught in Royal Oak for years. Their only daughter was married recently.

They had plans drawn to their specifications for a 26 by 44-foot house. At one end there is a two-car attached garage with utility storage. Their lot is 100 by 300.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Baker had been a roommate in college of one of the men who own the Semico Company in Seney, Michigan. He had often seen the pre-fab homes put out by this company.

CAME IN UNITS

Three and a half days after the house was started, it was locked up. The walls came in sections, averaging about four feet. The doors came all hung on their hinges. The kitchen came as a unit. The Bakers sub-contracted all the beginning rough work; then Mr. Baker did the finishing.

One enters directly into the living room. Here the walls are painted rosy beige. The floor is covered with beige textured carpeting. Three parts of a rose beige sectional sofa are scattered around the room. In addition there is a rose platform rocker.

The Bakers have a fireplace, a red brick one. The raised stone hearth extends out into the room with nothing under it. Above the brick work is a narrow wooden mantel with a mirror above that. There's a pole lamp at one side.

At the rear of the house is a 10 by 14 porch with a tiny office annex. This is one step down from the living room and can be closed off with French doors.

Mr. Baker did all the work in here. The walls are paneled in sycamore which came from a tree on his father's farm. He's had the wood about 15 years; originally there was about 1200 board feet of it. The grain is unusual.

Linoleum in a tweedy type pattern covers the floor. There are windows on three sides. The most eye-catching piece of furniture on the porch is an old maple rocker with cane seat and back.

In the kitchen there is ample space for a breakfast table at the front end. The Bakers planted their rose garden right outside this window so that they can enjoy it every time they have a meal.

★ ★ ★

In the terraced back yard there is a large garden spot and a nice grassy area under a big tree for picnics.

★ ★ ★

This is a gray and pink kitchen. The linoleum is gray with pink marbling. Curtains are white with a gray, pink and aqua print. Counter tops, stove and refrigerator are pink.

EASY CLEANING

The birch cabinets have an interesting feature that makes cleaning simple. All the doors simply lift out of their tracks and can be taken down.

★ ★ ★

Behind the kitchen is a utility room which opens into the garage. There is a small gray and white lavatory back here, too.

★ ★ ★

Pink and gray has been used in the main bath. There is a luxurious looking pink corner tub. All fixtures are pink. The vanity top is gray ceramic tile. The pink curtains have gray bubbles on them.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The second bedroom which was the daughter's has deeper pink walls. Furniture is oak. The white bedspread is quilted in gold thread.

★ ★ ★

background for LIVING

EATING AREA — This is at the front of the house, overlooking the rose garden. At the left, one wall is paneled in birch. Other walls are painted. The breakfast set is gray. This entire kitchen came as a unit to be set into the house. All the sliding doors on the cupboards can be lifted out for cleaning. Linoleum is dark gray with pink marbling.

Aluminum Windows Need Regular Care

Many owners of popular priced homes with aluminum window sash have the impression that their windows will never require attention beyond washing. Aluminum deteriorates like any other metal and if it is to be kept presentable, owner care is necessary.

Caring for your aluminum sash is not difficult, but it does require a degree of know-how. Aluminum rusts. This rust is not red like the rust of steel, but a dull grey. If allowed to remain, the corrosive action continues, working deeper into the metal, the surface may become permanently pitted and restoration to the orginal finish may be impossible.

Few aluminum windows are factory treated to retard this corrosion. Test the sash by rubbing your fingers or a cloth over the surface. If it comes off blackened, the window has not been treated.

Untreated aluminum should be thoroughly cleaned with a commercial phosphoric acid compound containing grease solvents. This can be obtained from the local hardware store. Be sure to dilute it according to instructions on the package.

Wear rubber gloves for the job. If the solvent is spilled on the hands, wash them immediately with soap and water. When completely dry, rinse with cold water and wipe dry. The surface is now ready for a weather resistant finish such as clear exterior varnish.

If the aluminum finish is not satisfacorily restored, or if it is desired to paint the sash to conform with eaves and other house trim, a coat of zinc chromate or other metal primer should be applied after the cold water rinse and trellis paint or exterior metal enamel used.

When all factors are taken into consideration, metal sash should not be regarded as the "end all". It requires maintenance to keep it looking clean and presentable.

Anti Dust Treatment Given Concrete Floor

Powdering or dusting is a problem with concrete floors but it can be conquered through the use of a sealer-finish—a transparent water emulsion which is easy to apply, durable, and water- and acid-resistant. It can be used on a new installation a week after it has been laid.

In the past it was necessary to treat the surface with chemicals to harden it, followed by sealing to protect it from wear. Before sealing, however, the concrete had to be allowed to dry for several months. The sealer-finish is sold through janitor supply outlets.

SCULPTURED WALL—Shadowal block gives a wall activity and interest. The units have two recessed corners which catch light and form any of a myriad pattern possibilities.

Bonus From Insulation

Although rock wool insulation is installed to make the home more comfortable and reduce heating and cooling costs, homeowners are also receiving two additional bonuses. Such insulation resists fire and retards the formation of dirt shadows on ceilings and walls.

There are 20 provinces in the domain of Chile.

These Ideas Weren't Mentioned on Label

Many a new product developed for a specific purpose has been found to be effective in ways its originators hadn't contemplated.

For instance, pressurized car upholstery cleaner recently put on the market was found to be ideal for cleaning plastic and leather furniture in the home. An automobile polish that contains a mild abrasive does a good job of restoring Formica, Micarta and other such sink and table tops that have become dulled by minute scratches.

A Western housewife notified Johnson's Wax that its space freshener destroyed the body smells of newborn lambs so that "orphans" were adopted by ewes other than their natural mothers—something rare in sheep raising. Another woman said the space freshener, sprayed into a corner her dachshund preferred, but where she did not want him to loiter, caused him to find a new resting place.

Concrete Block Industry Offers Sculptured Walls

A new concept in wall fashions, however, is beginning to change all that. The concrete block industry, with an offering of countless sizes and shapes of units, now provides the tools for dimensional wall patterns designed to render unlimited dramatic interest to interior and exterior walls.

Block wall patterns can be custom built from room to room for complete change of pace throughout. They can be as conservative or arresting as the builder wishes.

Some concrete masonry units have designs sculptured right into their face. Among them is popular Shadowal block, most recent addition to the versatile concrete block family. Either one or two of its face corners have been recessed at 30 degree angles. When light catches these angles, a pre-determined design is stylishly defined in third-dimension.

SOME ARE TOOLED

Besides design flexibility of mixing block shapes and dimensions, special tooling methods are sometimes used for other design effects. This is done before the mortar joints have been completely dried. Long lines of the wall can be emphasized by tooling horizontal joints and striking vertical joints flush.

Many other desirable qualities make block a natural choice for the structural walls of the new home. Block is completely firesafe, absorbs unwanted noise and acts as its own insulator to provide warm winters and cool summers indoors. Its natural texture eliminates the need for expensive wall coverings and requires almost no maintenance.

Point That Canvas

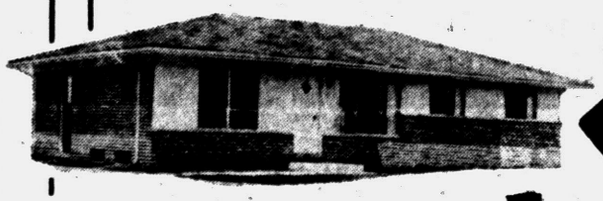

Don't be downhearted if your awnings and canvas chairs bid fair to make a dull looking terrace and lawn this summer. Get some of the special paints and enamels for just this purpose, and transform the whole nondescript assortment into a pleasing color scheme. Spray the paint on, busebtuerp Spray the paint on, but be sure to get the right kind for the purpose.

LAWN ORNAMENTS — The ornaments have many uses besides decorating a lawn. They may be used on mail boxes, gates, station wagons and things of that kind, where they make attractive insignia. Or, they may be made and hung on walls of children's rooms or even traced and painted right on the walls, or on children's furniture. You will find lots of uses for these gay little animals. Cub scout troops raise money by making them to sell. To obtain the full size patterns No. C-3 for making all of the lawn ornaments pictured here send $1.00 by currency, check or money order to Steve Ellingson, Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, Calif.

Avoid Certain Waxes on Asphalt Tile

Asphalt tile floors are hard and inexpensive, with interesting patterns and colors, but there is one thing about their maintenance that must always be remembered — never treat them with a polishing type wax.

Polishing waxes contain a solvent that softens the binder in asphalt tile, freeing the color so that it runs like the dye in fabric. It is the one type of flooring that is seriously affected this way, although some rubber flooring manufacturers recommend that polishing waxes, containing naphtha, not be used on their products either.

Self-polishing wax, which has a water base, is recommended for asphalt tile. It is also recommended that oil mops, strong soaps, scouring powder, turpentine and other harsh cleaning preparations be avoided in the tile's maintenance.

Paint Old Linoleum in Fancy Design

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — If the linoleum around your house is looking a bit ragged, you might consider painting it rather than replacing it, a University of Kentucky home furnishing specialist says.

Miss Beth Burr says you can get some professional effects with some rather unprofessional techniques. Among them are:

SPLATTERING: Tap a paint brush against a stick held a short distance above the floor. The result is a pattern of dots and small splashes in various sizes. You can even use several colors with this method.

STRIPPING: After cutting down the bristles of an old paint brush to make them stiff, tap on the floor in an up-and-down motion for an original effect. Several colors also may be used with this method.

SCRUMBLING: Rolling a cylindrical piece of chamois or paper across a newly painted floor removes part of the paint in an uneven, and interesting, design.

SPONGING: Dab paint onto the linoleum with a wad of paper or a sponge in an uneven design. Blots of paint also may be dabbed in an oval shape to simulate a throw rug.

Whatever method is used, Miss Burr notes, at least two coats of colorless varnish should be used after the application and should be followed by plenty of wax. A couple of coats of enamel should precede the artistry.

Miss Burr also suggests you might try the effect of your artistry on a large piece of paper to see what the effect will be before working on your floors.

Free Floor Booklet

A highly informative 32-page booklet on the selection, installation, finishing and care of oak floors can be obtained without charge by writing the Oak Flooring Information Service, 75 E. Wacker Drive, Chicago 1, Ill. Just ask for a free copy of "Oak Floors for Your Home." A postcard is sufficient.

Best Results Follow Proper Workmanship

Always prepare woodwork before painting by filling in all holes, cracks and chips with plastic wood or putty. All rough spots should be sanded and all grease and dirt washed off. If your woodwork has a glossy surface, first wash it with a solution of trisodium phosphate or sand lightly. If your finish is badly worn, it should be taken off completely with a good paint and varnish remover.

Always start at the top of woodwork, paint across the frame, then continue down. For windows, start with the dividers, saving the casing and sills for last. When painting doors, apply paint first to the panels.

A majority of Finland's estimated three and one-half million people make their living by farming and in the dairy industries.

Peg Board Walls Inspire Decorators

A home handyman can increase the display and storage potential of a bedroom by installing a panel of Peg-Board on one wall. This perforated paneling makes a clever accent area because it can be obtained at lumber yards in plain colors, woodgrains or marble patterns.

Special hooks are available to hang decorative objects, while shelves can be positioned in the perforations to display knick-knacks or hobby work. A clock radio is another bedroom accessory that can be put on the display wall. Children's art work and messages can be clipped on the board.

NEW IN CLARKSTON — Final touches have been put on the Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home at 5929 M-15 in Clarkston. George Heenan AIA of Pontiac was the architect and Freeman J. Brandt of Pontiac the builder. The building is white aluminum siding with charcoal gray brick chimney and trim. White wrought iron columns are used on the front portico. The Wints have a five-room apartment on the second floor.

Line Cupboards With Plastic Fabric

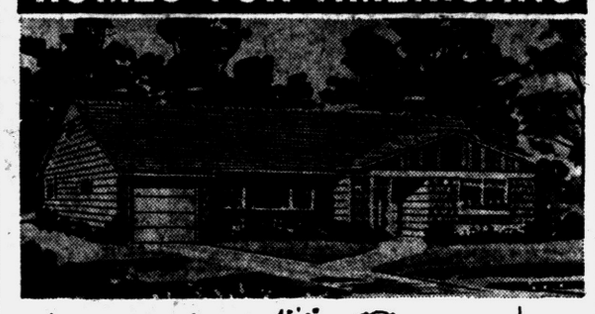

One of the better ways to keep basement storage rooms or laundry areas looking neat and tidy is to cover the cupboards and shelves with a material that can be wiped clean quickly and easily.

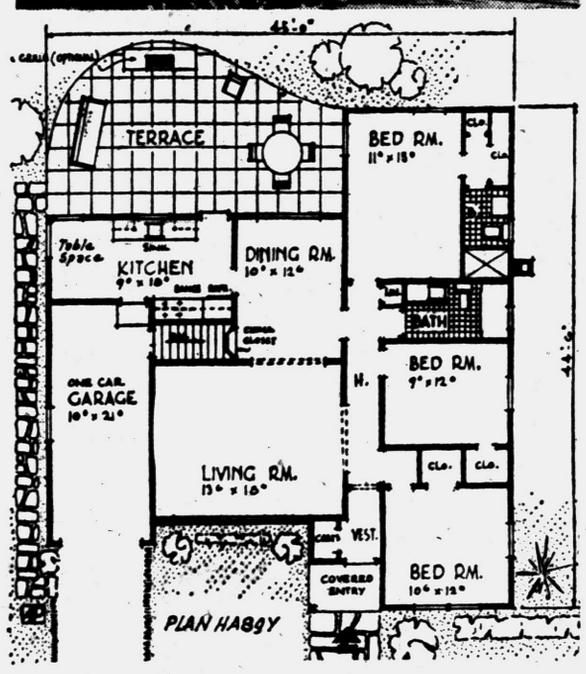

One such material is a plastic covering, either the regular shelf lining or the adhesive backed variety. This particular plastic-coated fabric can be cleaned with a whisk of a damp cloth, yet will not fade or discolor.

For shelf areas where there is apt to be a great deal of "activity" — that is where objects are stored and used with great regularity — it is probably best to apply the material with the adhesive backing. The material will adher firmly to any smooth surface.

Anti-noise ordinances date to as early as 1891.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

CENTER HALL — An efficient passageway down the center of this three-bedroom home controls traffic in the living and sleeping sections. Square footage has been held to 1,306 sq. ft. It's Plan HA89Y, by Architect Herman H. York, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 32, New York.

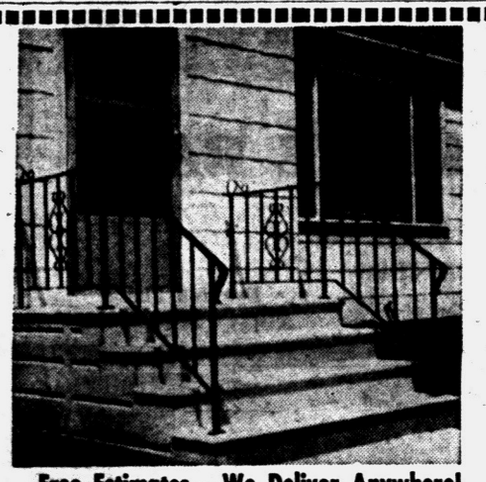

Arched Gutter Guards Prevent Clogging

A new plastic guard is said to eliminate clogging of roof gutters by falling twigs and leaves. Unlike the old wire mesh guards, the new product sheds air-borne litter in much the same way as a peaked roof. The guard arches high enough above the gutter edges to provide a natural slope.

★ ★ ★

Water flowing down over the guard enters the gutter through ports formed by scalloped eges around the guard's open side. The product is made by JO-LI-ET Gutter Guard Corp., Glenbrook, Conn.

Gay Nineties Charm

Gas lights are bringing a touch of nostalgia and charm to outdoor living. Today's gas lamps operate on the same principle as those of the Gay Nineties. The gas burner heats the mantel of aluminum oxide to incandescence. Contemporary and traditional fixtures are available for doorways, driveways, yards and patios.

Oak Is Tough

Resistance to denting is one of the most desirable qualities of residential floors, lumber dealers say. They explain that oak and other hardwoods meet this requirement especially well. Such objects as the legs of heavy furniture usually have little or no effect on the tough wood.

An estimated 300,000 homes a year are demolished in the U. S., say housing authorities, who note that as slum clearing and highway programs increase so will the demolition rate.

WHAT DOES IT COST — From a survey conducted by Owens-Corning Fiberglas it has been determined what the average homeowner will have to spend on heating and cooling. Insulation can make as much difference as $8 a month in the south and $4 a month in the north.

Floor Construction Vital to Welfare of Family

In her efforts to cope with peaceful coexistence, Johnny's inability to read and brittle nails, the American homemaker often overlooks one of the biggest factors in the health and welfare of herself and her family: floors.

* * *

Focusing attention upon this neglected part of the environment, the Tile Council of America, information center for most of the nation's ceramic tile manufacturers, offers the following fundamental facts:

1. Concrete floor slabs. When laid directly on the ground, they require a floor material that is unaffected by moisture and alkali. That's because ground moisture is absorbed by concrete and thereupon alkaline salts in the concrete are dissolved and carried up to the floor, where they can chew up alkali-vulnerable material.

2. Radiant heat. Efficient operation requires a floor material capable of transmitting heat readily. Materials lacking this ability act as an insulator and interfere with even distribution of heat.

3. Furniture pressure. A load of 40 pounds is imposed on each leg of a chair supporting a man weighing 160 pounds. When this fellow casually leans back to enjoy a long, deep pull on a cigarette, his lungs are protected by a filter. Unless protected by a permanent material, the floor will be deeply dented by the edges of the back legs. The tilt increases their pressure from 80 pounds to around 300 pounds per square inch.

4. Oil and grease. When left standing on some floor materials, oil and grease will soften the material to the point that it is easily indented, worn and discolored.

5. Resilience. This is no place to go deeply into the subject of semantics and the brain-numbing effect of opulent four-color advertisements. But plain talk on fancies about 'resilient' is long overdue. Resilience with respect to walking on floors is a measure of the instantaneous yielding of the surface to the impact of the foot, and return of the surface to its original position. The National Bureau of Standards has found that insofar as it affects human fatigue, thte resiliency value of various floor materials is of much less importance than that of the material of shoe soles.

Fix Up Antique Kettle

For the antique lover who is apt to boil water in an iron tea kettle, grease and rust can be removed by applying several good coats of oven cleaner and then scraping with a razor. When the metal is bare, paint the outside of the kettle with flat black paint. This gives it an authentic look and the black will not rub off.

Bermuda island has an area of 20.5 square miles.

The total number of homes in the U. S. has been increasing by approximately 900,000 a year for the last six years.

Investors Like Apartment Houses

The reasons behind this appeal are these: (1) Apartments at middle-income rentals are virtually depression-proof. Shelter is a basic requisite for living and is the last to be relinquished by a tenant in times of economic need. (2) The loss of a tenant in an apartment house affects only a small amount of space with a proportionately small loss of revenue. The loss of a major tenant in an office or industrial building can reduce the return of an investment substantially.

(3) The maintenance of an apartment building is relatively simple, consisting largely of repairs and redecorating whereas the landlord in a commercial structure is often burdened with such obligations as providing or changing interior partitions, lighting fixtures and flooring.

Free Booklet Offers Aid in Painting Wood Home

More than 8 out of 10 homes built today are made of wood. These homes depend on paint for color and beauty, and for finishes and coatings that will preserve and protect surfaces. A manual, prepared jointly by the National Lumber Manufacturers Association and the National Paint, Varnish & Lacquer Association, is a handy guide to the selection and application of exterior house paint for wood surfaces.

The booklet lists all the details you need to have at your fingertips for surface preparation, paint mixing, estimating the amount of paint needed, control of moisture, how to correct paint problems, and many other practices that will give your paint job satisfactory performance. For your free copy of "How to Paint Your Wood Home," send your name and address to the National Paint, Varnish & Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Avenue, N.W., Washington 5, D.C.

Fit Approximate Sizes to Own Personal Needs

How big do I make it? How much material do I need?

Those are two questions every handy man faces whenever he tackles any sort of building project, large or small.

For most things that you are likely to make around the house there are "standard" dimensions. Those needn't be followed slavishly, but they provide a base on which to figure.

For example: You want to put up some book shelves. The average book shelf is eight or nine inches deep. Shelves are generally 10 inches apart, but one shelf can be given more height to accommodate taller books.

The accepted height for either a table or a desk is 30 inches. The seat of a chair ought to be 15 inches deep and about 19 inches high, minimum. The full height of the back of the chair should be 38 or 39 inches.

Table and desk tops run from 30 to 42 inches in width. Length is handy man's choice. For the desk with a kneehole, leave plenty of space — 25 inches high and nothing less than 18 inches of depth.

The closet pole will be most useful at least 12 inches away from the wall and about 5½ feet from the floor.

In the kitchen, floor cabinets should have tops that are 24 inches deep, 36 inches high. Hang wall cabinets so that they are a minimum of 18 inches above the sink tops.

Example: an eight-inch riser would call for an eight-inch tread. A riser taller than six inches in height makes them too shallow. Ideal dimensions are seven-inch risers, 10-inch treads. Recall: the higher the riser, the narrower the tread and the steeper the stairs.

Outdoors, certain rules apply, too. A field fence, to be sturdy, should have 4x4 posts, 6x6s for corners and gates. If you use round posts, get them six inches in diameter.

A gate should be at least three feet wide. Get posts long enough so that a third of their length can go below ground. Thus, a six-foot fence would require nine-foot posts.

Posts should be set no more than 10 feet apart. If it's a rail fence, set the posts half-a-rail-length apart.

For rails, use 1x6s. A picket or a board fence may have a top and bottom rail. For such rails, use 2x4s or 2x8s.

As for width, 10 feet is the absolute minimum for a one-car garage, 14 feet is more acceptable. A two-car garage should be at least 20 feet wide. Minimum length should be 20 feet; 22 feet is btr.

Consult Contractor

Bathroom modernization should start with a frank talk with a plumbing and heating contractor. His advice on the entire project will be invaluable and will smooth the road to a modern bathroom. The plumbing contractor will assume the responsibility for the other workmen involved and will also be glad to arrange for the financing.

Press Gal Dances With Muscovite

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

MOSCOW — This land of caviar, sputniks and voldka is a remarkable contrast of studied rudeness and unexpected courtesies.

The Russian people, despite their shapeless clothes and runover flat heels, appear far more prosperous than is generally assumed. And despite the seeming apathy of deadpan expressions their eyes can suddenly light up with suppressed laughter.

Practically every male was tieless and coatless while many of their feminine partners on the jampacked dance floor were cotton ankle-socks instead of hosiery with their highheeled shoes.

DANCE CHARLESTON

The dancing was sedate and rather listless until George Healy, editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, and I, fortified with a vodka or two, decided to introduce the Charleston to Moscow. Our demonstration promptly emptied the ballroom floor as Muscovites watched in undiguised amazement and then applauded wildly.

As soon as the music resumed they flooded back to try their own imitations, swinging their partners and suddenly turning the cafe into swirling pandemonium.

Most of the private citizens we have met are obviously pro-American but amazingly uncurious about our country. They seem to think they already know all about it, but they like us anyway.

This is an apartment city composed almost entirely of grotesquely unattractive yellow brick 8-story flats all exactly alike even to windowboxes and morning-glory vines that decorate the many balconies.

Moscow subways are even more spectacular than we had been led to believe. Beautiful and brilliantly-lighted escalators descend with lightning-like dispatch almost straight down for what seems like five unbroken floors.

Ike's bombshelter beneath the treasury building in Washington seems much less secure than this incredible bottomless marble pit should war come.

'I'M A DISBELIEVER'

Our Intourist guide, a young man about to graduate in Oriental languages and depart for Red China, sneered disgustedly when we asked if he attended church. Rasping that he is a disbeliever, he added proudly, "My father is a Communist."

Most adults flash steel-covered teeth when they smile, and bra and girdle salesmen have a enviable virgin market in this vast land of shapeless women. Certainly they could afford the cost in this metropolis where thousands of taxis seem always full and stores are busy with shoppers.

At a tailor shop we learned that the manager, because he sits in an office, earns less than women workers doing manual labor.

A dress or suit sent to the cleaners requires 21 days. Meat is sold by weight only and you take whatever cut is coming up, or else.

Three tiny homegrown mushrooms cost $1.25, yet not one we have seen looks hungry or even unhappy.

Thousands of Russians queue up for hours every day to trudge past the Lenin Stalin tombs but Intourist guides invariably take us visitors to the head of the line.

"You are entitled to this privilege," they explained condescendingly. "You are a foreigner."

Confirm Postmaster Nominations in Area

President Eisenhower's nominations for postmasters in Holly and Bloomfield Hills have been confirmed by Senate, it was announced yesterday.

Robert W. Fagan, 36, will take the postmaster's position at Holly. He has been acting postmaster since Sept. 30, 1958. Previously, he was part owner-operator of Holly Tractor Sales.

Acting postmaster in Bloomfield Hills since May 15, Herbert J. Dyble, 50, will assume the position of postmaster.

He was regional executive overseas manager for both the General Motors Corp. and Harry Ferguson Inc. before assuming his duties at the Bloomfield Post Office. He had been assigned in the West Indies, and Central South America.

Don't Approach Buffalo Herds in Sports Car

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP)—The sports car set may not know it, but it's buffalo mating season in South Dakota. And if they plan a trip to the bison stamping grounds, it might be a good idea to take the old American sedan.

One of the bison ran over the back end of the car, crumpling both rear fenders, the trunk lid and putting a foot through the back window. Schild's party escaped injury.

Four Bricklayers Commute by Air Every Workday

SPRINGFIELD, Minn. (AP) — Aerial commuting isn't limited to stock brokers and salesmen.

Springfield has four bricklayers that do it.

For six weeks they have taken off regularly at 7 a.m. for Mankato, 60 miles away, where they are helping to build a new school. Just as regularly their homebound trip ends at the local airport at 5:15 p.m. Only once has bad weather forced them to use ground transportation.

★ ★ ★

The four-place Cessna 172 is owned and piloted by Archie Foster, president of the Minnesota Bricklayers Conference. Fellow workers who ride as passengers are Vic Rummel, Mike Kleper and Donald Mattson.

The International Bureau of Weights and Measures which set up the metric system of measurements was established in Washington, D.C., in 1875.

She died yesterday at Port Huron General Hospital following a short illness.

This Well-Digger Strikes Gold but It Doesn't Glitter

His firm drilling at a new housing development has struck gold twice—at 120 feet and at 194 feet. H. D. McKnight, a certified mineralogist, says the strike at 194 feet apparently is a low-grade gold ore vein.

McKnight says the ore can't be mined. "It's too near the city and the law wouldn't allow it," he says sadly.

MISSING YOUTH ALIVE — John Manson Owens III, 16, of Savannah, Ga., telephones his parents from a hospital at Grand Canyon, Ariz., to tell of his rescue from deep in the Canyon. Owens, whose two companions died on their hike into the mile-deep gorge, survived searing heat, treacherous trails and deadly river currents for six days. The youth was found on a sandbar by an Army helicopter crew. He was fatigued, footsore and hungry but otherwise unharmed.

Governor Kills Bus Tax Relief

Vetoed Bill Would Have Refunded Gas Levies for 26 Months

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has cut short the efforts of ailing local bus companies to get tax relief.

The governor yesterday vetoed a bill which would have refunded gas and weight taxes paid by privately owned local firms for a 26-month period starting Jan. 1. In lieu of weight taxes, they would have paid a flat $25 per bus.

The action came as a blow to more than 20 bus firms which stood to retrieve more than $300,000 a year in taxes. Some are in financial trouble.

Williams said the measure would have "opened the door to further raids on our much needed highway funds." Also, he said, it might damage the market for Michigan highway bonds by diverting constitutionally earmarked highway revenues to private concerns.

Highway officials told the governor the plan "could cost the highway department, counties and cities dearly in terms of higher interest rates upon future bond issues."

State highway commissioner John C. Mackie, many county road commissioners, the Michigan Farm Bureau, the Michigan Construction Equipment Dealers Assn., chambers of commerce and others joined in protesting against the bill.

The governor also vetoed a bill intended to levy "points" against a person convicted of driving without an operator's license as set forth in the secretary of state's point system for keeping track of driver convictions.

As it passed the Legislature, however, the bill prohibited charging points against such drivers — "exactly opposite to its original purpose," Williams said.

A two-thirds majority in both the House and Senate is needed to override a veto.

AF's Scientists Look Into History of Thunderstorms

★ ★ ★

Air Research and Development Command scientists are studying the growth of cumulus clouds over the San Francisco Mountains. They are gathering data on the minute-by-minute growth of clouds as observed by aerial photography, by radar and electric field meters.

The project is called "High Cue."

★ ★ ★

A similar but less elaborate study in the same area last summer demonstrated that cumulus clouds, contrary to previous beliefs, do not grow at a steady rate but by pulsation. Scrutiny of earlier cloud photographs showed that pulsation had been present in most clouds but always had been overlooked previously.

Robber Takes $3,478 at Bank

DETROIT (AP) — A branch of the City Bank in Dearborn Township was robbed of $3,478 yesterday by a gunman who terrorized a woman customer and her two children, then stole their car for a getaway.

Manager Frank T. Warner, 35, was alone in the trailer office when the robber, wearing dark sunglasses, entered and pulled a gun.

The manager turned over money in the cash drawer but locked the door to the cash section of the safe. When the gunman was told only coin money was left, he asked for the keys to Warner's car.

When Warner said he didn't have his car that day, the man turned his gun on Mrs. Rita Bosman and demanded her car keys.

Mrs. Bosman's station wagon was abandoned about four blocks away.

Buick to Complete '59 Run Next Week

FLINT — Buick will complete its 1959 model production next week, it was announced today by Edward D. Rollert, general manager of General Motors.

★ ★ ★

Model year production will total 284,089 cars when assembly operations are shut down at Flint and the Atlanta BOP plant on Aug. 6, and at the six other BOP plants on Aug. 7, Rollert said. Buick manufactured 211,908 cars during the 1958 model run.

Rollert said about 7,000 hourly workers would be furloughed at Flint by the annual inventory and model changeover.

About 85 per cent of the nation's grade schools have no gymnasiums but the number is decreasing.

Two-Car Crash in Ohio Kills 2 State Residents

WAUSEON, Ohio (AP) — Two Michigan residents were killed and a third was injured critically yesterday in an intersection collision of two automobiles.

Killed were Marguerite Brooker, 60, of Route 1, Rapid City, Mich., and Merton Whiteman, 84, of Dearborn, Mich. They were passengers in a car driven by Mrs. Maxine Campbell, 57, Rapid City, who was in critical condition in St. Vincent Hospital at Toledo with a skull fracture.

Macomb County Strike May Yield a Fortune in Oil

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI)—An oil driller who made a strike in Macomb County said today his discovery could result in a new multi-million dollar field.

★ ★ ★

Charles J. Moskowitz, 35, Mount Pleasant, said his drillers hit oil at 2,505 feet in a farm pasture in Chesterfield Township, six miles northwest of here yesterday.

Harrison Reinhardt Drilling Co., Detroit, is the driller on the job, making the strike on the farm of William Miller on Sugarbush Road, about a mile west of M59.

★ ★ ★

Moskowitz said it was a good grade "sweet, high-gravity crude oil, worth about $3 a barrel."

Godfrey Off to Hawaii, Looks Fit After Surgery

Daughter of Columnist Sues for Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ellen P. Arnold, daughter of Washington columnist Drew Pearson, has sued her husband, George, for divorce. She charges cruelty.

She asked court approval of a settlement by which they agree to divide community property and providing for support of her and their three children, Andrew, 11; George Jr., 8, and Joseph, 5.

Arnold, 37, is a Los Angeles lawyer and the son of Thurman Arnold, former assistant U.S. attorney general in charge of anti-trust prosecution.

Ferndale Firm Head Suffers House Burglary

New Seal of Approval

Poland's Gomulka Smiling Over Nikita, Nixon Okay

(This appraisal of Vice President Nixon's imminent trip to Poland comes from a correspondent who has spent most of the last year in that country.)

By STANLEY JOHNSON

The leader of a country sometimes at odds with both its Soviet allies and the West is now receiving a sort of seal of approval from both sides.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev recently finished a visit to Poland. He made it plain to both Stalinists and the liberal internal opposition that Gomulka is his chosen and trusted lieutenant in Poland. Former bitterness between the two was forgotten.

This weekend Vice President Richard M. Nixon is going to Poland. Intentionally or not, his visit cannot fail to convince a lot of the Polish public and the peoples of Communist nations that Gomulka is also Washington's fair-haired boy.

"We are delighted he is coming, but what is his motive?" was the reaction of some Poles this reporter talked to. They recalled it has long been U.S. policy not to indicate approval of a government in any manner which might discourage its people from hoping for eventual peaceful evolution from Soviet domination.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. thesis, backed by about 150 million dollars in loans and other help, is that Poland has moved peacefully toward greater independence and this tendency should be encouraged by every means.

Nixon was invited formally by the chairman of the Polish State Council, or president, Aleksandr Zapadski. The reasons for issuing the invitation seem clear:

Poland is an intensely nationalistic country, and even dedicated Communists boast of their independence and the "Polish way." They feel Nixon's visit will dramatize their standing and the freedom Poland enjoys within the Soviet bloc as compared to Czechoslovakia, for example.

Poland, through its plan for an atom-free zone in central Europe and a big power disengagement there, a plan named for Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki, likes to present itself as maintaining an initiative in foreign affairs. Perhaps Nixon will discuss these subjects in Warsaw. They could have a vital bearing on the future of Berlin.

★ ★ ★

Finally, the Poles believe Nixon's visit will boost their prestige and bargaining power with the West, with other countries of the Soviet bloc and, above all, with the Soviet Union.

What effect all this will have on the vast majority of non-Communist Poles and on the inhabitants of other East European countries remains to be seen.

'But I Prayed and Prayed'

Used Common Sense

★ ★ ★

That was the fervent explanation today of John Manson Owens III, 15, of how he survived seven days in the wilds of Grand Canyon, wandering about lost in heat as intense as 120 degrees. The Savannah, Ga. youth's natural instincts and common sense told the rest of the story.

FLASHES KNIFE

A deeply religious youth, he survived conditions which took the lives of his two hiking companions, another youth and a Catholic priest.

He said he saw planes overhead every day and tried to attract their attention. "I'd take a rock and scraped the rust off my knife," he said. "Then I'd flash it in the sun to try to attract an airplane, but it never did any good."

He bore few signs of his struggle with nature except a deep tan, a few scratches on his left arm, and feet bruised from walking around barefoot on rocks and sand.

Owens said he ate the pulp of cactus and mesquite beans.

HE ATE BEANS

He displayed a three-inch long bean, looking much like a wax bean and said "you eat them and get a sugar content, but I didn't know that before."

Owens said he slept in the sand each night. During part of his stay in the Canyon he floated down the Colorado River in a raft he made.

Asked if he had any Boy Scout training or if he had ever done much camping out, he said, "No. I just depended on natural instincts."

He said he had full recollection of each day after he lost his companions. He said he decided to get off the raft three days ago when he hit rough water at Chance Rapids.

"I thought I liked to drown," he said.

WAVES PANTS

In his frantic efforts to try to catch the eye of plane an dhelicoper pilots, Owens said he even took off his pants and waved them in the air. The pants were jeans cut down to knee-length.

The helicopter crew decided to make on last run over the Canyon, even though the boy had been given up for dead by most people, and then they saw the letter "H" (for help) which he had made on the ravine wall from rocks.

Kennedy Calling for Nikita Visit

Dem Senator Talks in Wisconsin; Is Testing Political Strength

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Sen. John E. Kennedy called for a summit conference between President Eisenhower and Russian Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev last night and urged that the Soviet boss be invited to the U. S.

★ ★ ★

The Massachusetts Democrat and presidential hopeful shrugged off Nixon's tour and his recent sharp debate with Khrushchev before the television cameras.

The debate did not make "any great contribution to peace, but I don't think it was especially harmful," Kennedy said.

He added that the Vice President's trip would have "no lasting effect on Nixon's chances of being elected President."

Kennedy was here to gauge his Wisconsin political support and to speak before the National Association of County and Prosecuting Attorneys.

He told the attorneys that "racketeers who have operated under the guise of businessmen" pose one of crime's greatest threats to society.

"I am talking about the real heart of the matter," he said, "the growing power of the organized underworld — the criminal syndicates which have achieved control over an increasing number of legitimate business enterprises."

Betty Hutton's Husband Cross-Files Divorce

Alan W. Livingston entered a denial Friday to the entertainer's charges in her divorce suit filed April 3. He said she is not entitled to any sum for support or maintenance because she earns more than $150,000 a year.

County Lags Blamed

Home Building Declines

The Detroit Regional Planning Commission has cited a lack of sewage, drainage and water facilities as cause for a decline this year in Oakland County housing construction.

★ ★ ★

Commission statistic reports show that Oakland County communities granted 11.3 per cent fewer permits the first half of 1959 than over the same period last year.

Only Bloomfield Township represented the county among the leaders, in 10th place.

Sewer and drainage projects in the lower half of the county have been hampered by legal squabbles in Lansing.

FORESEES SURGE

Still at issue is legality of financing the multi-million dollar 12-Town Drain and also the Eight Mile Drain System.

The Planning Commission foresees a surge of residential building when the sewer, drainage and water problems are rectified.

Tourist State Asks Clergy to Aid Safety

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP) — State safety officials have called on the clergy to help put over the theme "that we should not leave God behind when we enter our automobiles."

A booklet of suggested sermons was mailed to the New Mexico clergy by Safety Administrator D. K. Kelly.

The booklet was mailed out just at the start of the traditional peak of the tourist travel season. It includes one-minute sermons which could be used for each of 12 Sunday services, timed to run into October.

6 Negroes Assigned to White Schools

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Little Rock School Board has assigned six Negroes to once-white public high schools which the board intends to reopen in September, a board member said today.

Three Negroes were assigned to Central High School and three to Hall High under the first use of an Arkansas pupil placement law.

The board chose the pupil assignment system in order to obey a federal mandate for integration of the Little Rock School District and at the same time hold desegregation to a minimum.

Chief Justice Warren to 'Tour' in Moscow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren will visit Moscow this summer, but as a tourist—not as an American official.

The State Department emphasized that "the trip will have the character of a private visit" as it announced Friday that the chief justice and Mrs. Warren would be in the Soviet Union sometime during their August and September travels.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF A2-C Charles E. Gavette, who passed away August 1st, 1958.
His Country called, he went away,
How much we missed him we cannot say;
And in return he missed us too,
Away from home he was so blue.
He loved the State of Michigan,
And wanted to come home again;
A soldier though with deep devotion,
He lost his life in the deep, dark ocean
God reached our His hand from the Planet Earth,
And said "Come Son, I know your worth."
And we, who loved him dearly,
And whose passing caused sad tears,
Will cherish his memory always;
Down through the long, long years.
Sadly missed by Mom, Ken, Dad & Val. Sisters Cathy, Carmen & Brother Curt. Also Peggy & Bob Gram & Granddad Hooper; wife Dorothy & Sons. Also the Randall Family trust your TV tubes to a "do-it-yourself" tube tester, which in many cases is not capable of properly checking many of the multi-element tubes that are found in most TV sets. Remember, there is absolutely no regulation that requires the owner of these "tube testers" to keep them in good working order. There is no standard it must meet . . . in reality these "tube testers" are a joke compared to the testers independent television servicemen use.

WOULD YOU TRUST YOUR HEALTH TO A "QUACK"?

Of Course Not!

It is our belief that "do-it-yourself" tube checkers MAY be designed to sell tubes. We know of no establishment repairing TV sets that has one of these "do-it-yourself" tube testers.

Try this simple comparison and find out for yourself . . . bring any tube that has tested "bad" on a "do-it-yourself" tube tester to your nearest local TV repair shop and make sure. There is no charge of course.

Former Federal Official Steinberg Dies in West

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Col. A. Ralph Steinberg, 62, who rose from a New York City commissioner in 1932 to national posts with the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration, died here Friday of a heart attack. In 1936 he was national coordinator for the Democratic party and secretary of Tammany Hall. He later held many government posts.

New ABC Team Hawaii Sleuths

Fall Show Will Follow '77' Format of Solving Crime in Shifts

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Crime is paying nicely on the Warner lot these days, with the third brace of private eyes going to work in the 50th state.

Efrem Zimbalist Jr. and Roger Smith have had a successful season cleaning up the local crooks in "77 Sunsent Strip" with the aid of their kookie pal, Edd Byrnes. Richard Long and Andrew Duggan have gone to work on New Orleans baddies with "Bourbon Street Beat."

Now a couple of young actors named Tony Eisley and Bob Conrad are waylaying them in the isles for "Hawaiian Eeye." It starts on the ABC network Oct. 7. I dropped out to watch the series on its maiden voyage.

Eisley is a suave, slim Philadelphian of 34 years, University of Miami grad, always yenned to be an actor, worked in stock companies before joining "Mister Roberts" road company. He did Broadway shows, TV before coming to Hollywood, has son and daughter.

★ ★ ★

Bob Conrad is a 24-year-old Chicagoan with a haunting resemblance to the late Jimmy Dean. Real name: Conrad Robert Falk. He studied drama at Northwestern University, was urged by actor Nick Adams to try Hollywood. He is married, has two daughters.

"This is same set-up as '77 Sunset Strip,'" Bob explained. "Tony and I will trade off on the cases, though we both appear in each show."

"We shot a couple of weeks of background shogs in Hawaii," Tony added. "Nothing specific—just a lot of atmosphere shots that might be needed. We must have gone in and out of every doorway in Honolulu."

★ ★ ★

The major part of the shows are shot on one big stage, which includes a replica of Henry Kaiser's Hawaiian Village. The boys have their headquarters in the village, and Kaiser will reap the same publicity benefits of Dino's in "77."

I always like to talk to the enthusiastic starters in these series and then compare with attitude a year hence.

"If anything should happen to the series, I have my own form of job security," Tony said. "It's this mustache. I can always go into the executive branch."

New Members to Be Received

Congregation to Picnic at Bloomer State Park Wednesday Evening

New members of the United Presbyterian Church at Auburn Heights will be welcomed at the 11:15 a.m. worship service Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. F. William Palmer, pastor, will preach on the theme, "For Sinners Only." At the same service, he will speak on "A Little Girl Declares God's Power."

Games and contests will begin at 5 p.m. with supper at 6:30. Everyone is asked to bring his own hot dogs and a dish to pass, said the pastor.

Included in the evening activities will be group singing and a short devotional service.

Several plans for railroads to transport goods from the east coast to west coast in Mexico and Central America were begun in the 1880s, but proved too expensive. Then someone thought to dig the Panama Canal.

TV Viewer Has Right to Change Station

BY DAVID LEVY
Vice President, NBC-TV
Written for UPI

NEW YORK—The television networks and the independent television stations cannot please all of the people of America all of the time. Neither can any other institution or service, private or public.

It may be necessary to remind both the avid and the casual TV viewer that he feels no obligation to read every page of his favorite newspaper—edited to appeal to all segments of the population according to age, sex, economic status, etc.—nor to read all the magazines from cover to cover.

But, if the viewer appraises the programs being offered to entertain him or to inform him, he can exercise his judgment by selectivity, and this new season he can do so from an unprecedented storehouse of new and exciting programs and, in doing so, come away rewarded.

The discerning viewer who seeks mature entertainment (and who may have noted that the early impict of TV compelled the motion picture industry to produce films of an increasing adult nature) will perceive that at NBC, television is moving in that direction, too.

USING ADULT THEMES

For example, he will see that in NBC-TV's "Sunday Showcase"—a series of live color specials, concentrating on adult dramas featuring the finest in performers—we are not steering away from adult themes or from controversial subjects. This series will present the finest writing and directing available to TV.

NBC is assembling a team of top-notch talent either to supervise, to produce or to direct these and other specials—also including a Tuesday night series duced for TV for a single sponof the biggest hours ever produced for TV for a single sponsor, and a series of Friday night major specials running the gamut from musicals to live drama and one-man shows.

The viewer who yearns for new stars and personalities will find a galaxy of fresh and refreshing talent in starring roles on the host of new dramatic, comedy and western series slated for fall debuts on NBC-TV.

NEW PERSONALITIES

Two bright, new, romantic personalities will be paired in "Five Fingers," a new one-hour series dealing with international intrigue at high stakes, which will debut on the Saturday night schedule.

They are David Hedison, who should set female hearts fluttering across the country, and Luciana Paluzzi, an Italian beauty making her first appearance in the United States in this series.

Young Jody McCrea, who will co-star with his father, Joel, in a new half-hour Western series, "Wichita Town," on Wednesday night, promises to give teen-aged viewers a fresh, sparkling hero.

Allen Case, not yet 25, but set to co-star with Henry Fonda in "The Deputy," is another young star who in his role as a gun-shy store proprietor with a distaste for violence, will attract a following of all ages.

Prominent among other new programs to be showcased on NBC-TV this fall will be three hour-long adventure series — "Riverboat," starring Darren McGavin in the story of the important part the Mississippi riverboat captains and pilots played in the winning of the West (Sunday nights); "Laramie," with John Smith, telling the story of the challenges faced and overcome by three men and a boy living in a wild corner of Wyoming in the years following the Civil War (Tuesday night); and "Bonanza," starring Lorne Greene, in a colorful series set in the glory days of the Comstock lode and the Virginia City silver barons (Saturday nights).

Students of world and domestic controversy will find satisfaction in a succession of full-hour news and information special programs and in-depth studies of the days' vital issues being prepared by NBC news for presentation in prime evening network time.

"Project 20" is at work on a sparkling presentation of the life of Mark Twain, a drama by Archibald MacLeish on communism vs. democracy and others to be presented in prime time.

The NBC Opera Company will augment its schedule with at least four productions during the 1959-60 season, and "Continental Classroom," NBC's pioneering network educational television effort, will expand its early morning program with a two-semester course in chemistry.

And for the thousands of viewers who have discovered color television, we will be offering seven days a week of colorcast programming of unprecedented depth and diversity—more than 250 hours of top quality color entertainment during the last three months of 1959 alone.
