Dozens of Twisters Hit U.S.

'57 Auto Sales Will Equal '56, Says GM Head

Curtice Reverses Stand Industry Would See 10 Pct. Increase

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—General Motors President Harlow Curtice has reversed a prediction that 1957 auto sales would be 10 per cent higher than last year and told stockholders "based on the current situation" the industry would sell about the same number of cars and trucks as in 1956.

"The market for passenger cars and trucks so far this year has not measured up to industry expectations," he told some 2,000 GM shareholders yesterday at the annual meeting in the firm's Boxwood Road assembly plant here.

"For the second succesive year, the historical spring rise in sales has failed to materialize."

Last year the automotive industry sold 5,850,000 passenger cars and 900,000 trucks.

Curtice's statement echoed that of Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co., who estimated Thursday at the Ford annual meeting that some 5,800,000 cars would be sold in 1957.

Curtice admitted that sales of GM cars this year "despite the excellence of our product" have declined in relation to the firm's competition. He added:

SOUND BASIS

Concerning the national economic picture, Curtice declared that he felt it is "on a sound basis" with both total consumer spending and capital expenditures by business "at an all-time high."

"It is generally expected that gross national products, now running at a net annual rate of $427 billion, will remain fairly steady over the next few months, with a moderate rise anticipated for the fourth quarter."

Stockholders by a majority of better than 9 to 1 adopted a new incentive program embracing stock options for top executives.

The plan provides that executives granted stock options in any year will be awarded as bonuses at that time 75 per cent of the total amount which would otherwise have been awarded them in cash. An executive would not be permitted to buy any stock under the option until after 18 months of employment following the date of the stock award and he may spread his stock purchases over an eight-year period.

Nationalist Troops Rule After Riots

Keep Tight Rein on Taipei

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Generalissimo Chang Kai-shek held this Chinese Nationalist capital under strict military rule today in the wake of violent anti-American rioting which wrecked the U. S. embassy and injured 13 Americans.

Taipei's half-million people were kept in tight check by 33,000 Nationalist troops swarming the streets, ready to put down any new eruption. Authorities sought mob leaders who turned a protest against an unpopular U. S. court-martial decision into an anti-U.S. rampage by 20,000 to 30,000 Chinese and Formosans. Some arrests already have been made.

Tension eased gradually today. The morning and most of the afternoon passed without disturbances.

On the Chinese mainland, the Communists launched a propaganda campaign calling the disorders proof that the people of Formosa oppose Chiang's alliance with the United States.

The Chiang government has formally apologized to the United States and indicated it will pay compensation for the damage to American property. In the long run, however, the United States apparently will end up paying at least indirectly for the damage. The fact is that Formosa has a deficit economy and U. S. aid makes up the deficit.

★ ★ ★

The 9,000 Americans on the island include advisers to the Nationalist army.

RELATIONS STRAINED

A U.S. military court's acquittal of a master sergeant of voluntary manslaughter charges touched off the rioting. M. Sgt. Robert R. Reynolds of Colora, Md., had admitted shooting to death a 33-year-old Chinese he accused of peeping through the bathroom window of his home at his wife, but contended he shot the man in self-defense.

Feeling ran high against the court-martial decision. After Reynolds and his family were flown to the Philippines yesterday en route home, a crowd of 3,000 Chinese stormed the two-story, gray brick U. S. embassy building.

They hauled down a U.S. flag and tore it to shreds. They broke windows. Surging inside, they smashed furnishings and tore up piles of classified documents.

Storms Slash Through Middle of Continent

Weather Bureau Calls Outbreak of Tornadoes Worst in Recent Years

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dozens of tornadoes hopskipped a wide path through the middle of the continent yesterday. The Weather Bureau called it the worst outbreak of twisters in recent years.

At least four persons were killed and a fifth death was attributed indirectly to the storms. Several persons were injured. Property damage ran to thousands of dollars.

Here is a rundown by states:

Oklahoma — Four persons were killed when a tornado hit a rural area 6 miles south of Lawton. A fifth death occurred when a man was stricken by a heart attack while running for a storm shelter.

At Wanette five persons were injured when a match, struck to light a kerosene lantern, exploded gas that had accumulated in a storm cellar.

Texas—More than 20 tornadoes raked scattered areas of the Panhandle and South Plains. At least 10 persons were injured and hundreds of homes were destroyed or damaged. The injuries occured at Olton, where a twister ripped through the Latin-American and Negro sections, demolishing 30 homes and damaging 25. Fire Chief Tom C. Smith credited radar tracking of the tornado with saving many lives. At Tahoka 100 homes and a large cotton compress were destroyed by a funnel that missed the business section.

Colorado-Wyoming — A government forecaster credited light rain showers with tempering the destructiveness of eight tornadoes that swirled through southeastern Wyoming and eastern Colorado.

He said the tornadoes probably would have been much more severe if the ground, cooled by rain, had been hot. There were no injuries. Two of the twisters caused minor damage to farm

The State's Top Headache

School Finance Mess Topic of Committee

EDITOR'S NOTE: Financial support of Michigan's public schools, both state and local, has become a major concern of lawmakers, school administrators and the public in general. The four-part series starting today will explore the problem, trace its growth and detail what one group of concerned citizens proposes be done to find a permanent solution.

By HAROLD S. COHEN

To many it seems hardly a day goes by but another alarm goes out from the state's schools that they are in serious difficulty—usually financial.

Voters are constantly exhorted to approve new bond issues, and millage increases; the Legislature is annually invaded by hordes of school administrators, teacher delegations, school board representatives, college presidents and interested laymen, all adding their voices to the swelling chorus of "We need more money."

Intimidated, or truculent, the Legislature has, in past years, either surrendered to the demands, or turned away, thereby imperiling the financial structure of the local school systems.

★ ★ ★

Year after year, a crazyquilt of laws have been stitched into the state's financial cloth until today few in the Legislature, let alone among the general public understand how state aid to the schools work.

CONFUSION COMPOUNDED

To compound the confusion, the school lobby, when it has been dissatisfied with the lawmakers' bounty, has gone to the people with constitutional amendments which have welded portions of school aid into the state's financial structure beyond the powers of the Legislature to amend.

The most significant of these is the sales tax diversion amendment, which gives two-thirds of all sales tax revenue, the major tax in Michigan, to the schools.

As a result, the schools, which derive anywhere from 30 to 90 per cent of their income from the state, are bound to a financial source which moves up and down according to retail sales.

The schoolmen are put in a position where they have to guess in planning ahead how many autos, mattresses and blue plate specials are going to be sold in the coming 12 months.

★ ★ ★

On the local level, as well, the school districts tax, from real estate, will slip up and down according to how the state equalizes the valuation set by a variety of assessors in the cities, townships and counties.

TAX MELON SLICED

They are dependent on how the county allocations boards split the property tax melon within the 15 mill limits which the constitution allows for county and school taxes together.

Enough has been said to show that school fiscal planning as it is presently malfunctioning in Michigan is more a subject for a convention of seers than for a business-like school board.

Acutely aware of the problem, a group of leaders in the educational field have banded together to demand a completely new deal.

In January of 1956, representatives of the state's Assn. of School Boards and Assn. of School Administrators met in Pontiac to form an Interim Committee of 20 to bring about a definitive study of Michigan's public school finances.

The committee chose Louis H. Schimmel, president of the Pontiac School Board and authority on public finance, as its chairman and launched a campaign to seek solutions to the present chaos.

★ ★ ★

The committee seeks to apply to the operational side of school finance, the same sort of study which successfully solved a school building problem two years ago and won for Michigan national recognition in that field.

★ ★ ★

"What we're after is a thorough investigation of the entire school situation by a group of the best and most respected minds in Michigan," Schimmel says. "We want a fresh start and recommendations that will give us a dollar's worth of education for every dollar spent."

Military Units to Join Parade

Local Forces Expected to Add More Color to Memorial Program

Marching alongside local civic and fraternal organizations in this year's Memorial Day parade will be the power and color of armed forces units in this area.

This will be the first year that armed forces units have paraded in the annual event, which promises to be more colorful due to their presence.

According to Floyd Cremer of the Pontiac Memorial Day association, the ceremonies will consist of three events. The first will be the parade, followed by a short memorial service and a graveside program at the Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

Dr. Harold A. Furlong of 207 Navajo St., a Congressional Medal of Honor winner, will act as Master of the Day and Fred Ziem, Oakland County Prosecuting Attorney, will be the speaker.

STARTS AT 10:30

The parade is to form at 10 a.m. on Saginaw street between Whittemore and Cottage streets and will start at 10:30 a.m.

Besides the armed forces units, it will include various floats, the Pontiac High School band plus those of Pontiac's junior high schools, and units made up of various local civic and fraternal organizations.

Since Armed Forces Day fell so near Memorial Day this year, the local Army, Navy, Marine, Air Force, and National Guard units decided to band together with local organizations for one big parade.

The parade will proceed up Saginaw street past the reviewing stands and the "Futurama" speaking platform donated by the General Motors Corporation, located on the corner of Huron and Saginaw streets.

Expected to last nearly an hour, the parade will disband at the junction of Saginaw street and Oakland avenue. There, in a 10-minute service, Dr. Furlong will dedicate a wreath to be placed on the memorial statue.

The parade participants and officials will then head for the veterans' plot at the Perry Mount Park Cemetery. The program, which will feature an address by The Speaker of The Day plus the presentation of memorial wreaths, is scheduled to begin around 11:45 and end in about 30 minutes.

According to Cremer, the association is taking color movies of the parade and program as an aid in planning next year's festivities.

Italian Youth Cries: 'Death to Americans'

ROME (AP)—Shouting "death to Americans," an Italian youth today whipped out a knife in the U.S. Information Service Library in downtown Rome, stabbed an assistant librarian and fled.

★ ★ ★

His victim was an Italian — Mrs. Eyiga Govoni, 53, who has been employed by the library several years. She was rushed to Rome's San Giacomo Hospital where her condition was described as serious.

No motive could be ascribed for the attack. Police said the youth probably was mentally unbalanced.

Bank Holiday Ends in Village With a Bang

GOODRICH (AP)—The 24-year bank holiday ended in Goodrich with a bang yesterday. A firecracker 85-year-old Steve Hagel had for almost 50 years was set off to celebrate the day.

Goodrich, a community of 500 people not far from Flint in southeastern Michigan, hasn't had a bank of its own since the late Gov. William A. Comstock closed state banks in Feburary 1933.

Hagel owns the building where the former bank did business. For 24 years he has faithfully oiled the hinges on the vault against the eventual day of reopening.

The firecracker he set off was one he had left in a dresser drawer in 1908. He found it years later and promised not to fire it until a bank was opened again in the town.

When he got the news that the state banking commissioner had approved plans for reopening a bank, Hagel set off his firecracker in the middle of main street in front of the bank building.

Singer Freed in Girl's Slaying

Jury Returns Verdict After Finding Evidence Not Sufficient

DETROIT (AP) — Philip Singer was acquitted yesterday in the slaying of Joann Gillespie. A Recorder's Criminal Court jury of 10 women and 2 men deliberated more than 12½ hours before exonerating the 38-year - old ex-Marine in the rape and murder of the 18-year-old Detroit coed.

★ ★ ★

Harry Rowley, jury foreman, said Singer was found innocent because the jury felt the prosecution had not presented enough evidence to convict him.

Singer's face remained expressionless seconds after he heard the verdict. Then he broke into a smile.

'OH MY GOD'

Mrs. Gladys Yocum, 36, a key defense witness who testified that she and Singer were together in an East Side hotel room the night Joann was slain, shouted "Oh My God" and ran from the courtroom.

★ ★ ★

Singer was charged with first degree murder in the Jan. 2, 1953 slaying of Joann as she walked home from a late movie. Her body was found across the street from where Singer lived, less than a block from her home.

"I don't know what to say," Singer said as he left the courtroom. "I'm too overcome to talk."

Rare Heart Disease Killed Clarkston Girl

A rare heart disease—interstitial myocarditis—caused the death of Jean Longton, 17, Clarkston High School senior who collapsed on the train taking her class to Washington, D. C.

Dr. Russell S. Fisher, Maryland medical examiner, last night arrived at his verdict of "death by natural causes." He described the disease as inflammation of the heart muscle.

Jean's body arrived this morning at Detroit, and funeral service was scheduled for 4 p.m. today at the Davisburg Methodist Church.

The body will then be sent to Kalkaska for a second service and burial beside her mother, who died of leukemia just three weeks before. The family is from the Kalkaska area.

The death of the popular student threw a blight on the remaining 69 classmates who had planned a gay weekend of sight-seeing in Washington. The class trip was continued however, and the group will be back in Clarkston Sunday.

2ND BLOW FOR FATHER

Jean's death came as a shattering blow to her father William, 45, of 8515 Ellis Rd., Davisburg, and the three other children who were just recovering from their mother's death.

Jean was in good spirits when she left on the trip Wednesday and sent her father a postal card from the Detroit depot before departing.

He received the card a short time before the news of her death. She wrote: "Having lots of fun."

Plan Hearing for Beck's Son

Senate Probers Confer After Successful Efforts to Find Witnesses

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate Rackets Committee's top command meets today to set a hearing date for Dave Beck Jr., son of the Teamsters union president.

★ ★ ★

Chairman John L. McClellan confers with Chief Counsel Robert Kennedy in the wake of the committee's successful efforts to find the younger Beck and other key witnesses in its investigation of the union.

U.S. marshals in Seattle yesterday served Beck Jr. with a subpoena to appear "forthwith." Also found were Fred Verschueren Sr., auditor of Beck Sr.'s personal accounts, and Teamsters organizer Joseph McEvoy. All three had been sought for a month.

Beck Jr. was intercepted in the men's room of a Seattle truck welding company. He waved the subpoena and said: "I got some wallpaper."

IN HOSPITAL

Verschueren was found in Seattle's Providence Hospital, ill with an undisclosed ailment. McEvoy surrendered voluntarily to Marshal W. Bud Parsons.

★ ★ ★

McClellan said yesterday that young Beck "should get in touch with the committee right away" and predicted questioning will begin as soon as the Teamster chieftain's son arrives in Washington.

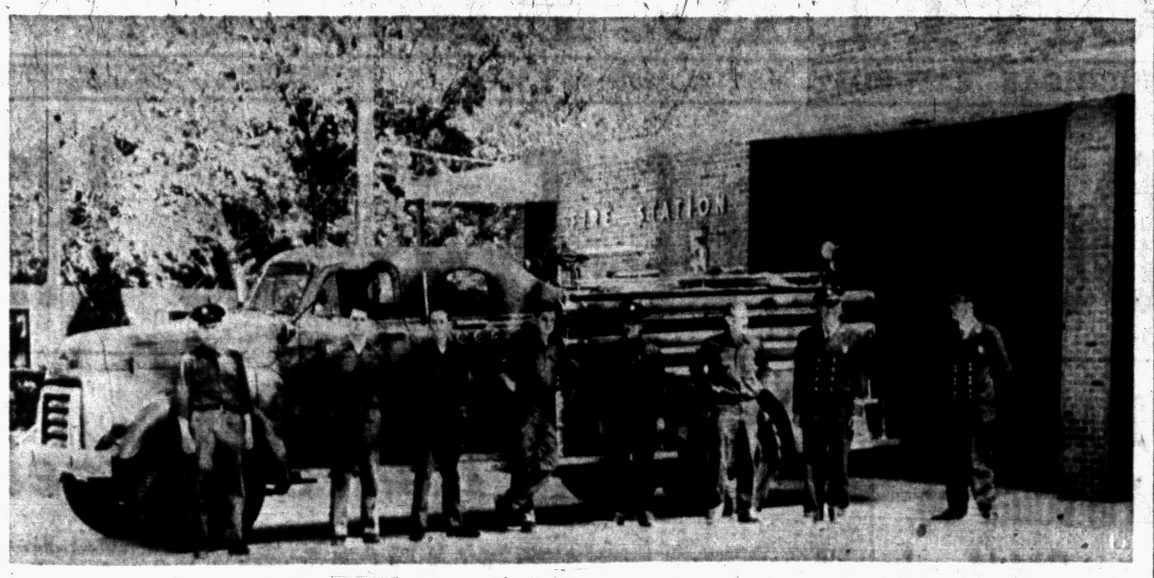

Witnesses have linked Beck Jr. with a Seattle beer and liquor distributorship and other business activities in which his father was involved. Beck Sr. is accused of borrowing $370,000 from the union treasury for his personal profit.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Is it true that rivers, ocean currents and other things veer to the right in this hemisphere? And do they veer to the left, as people say, in the southern hemisphere?

The experts do not agree that water in a basin, for example, always swirls to the right in the northern hemisphere—as you often hear — but it is now agreed that ocean currents, rivers, and other things, have a definite and noticeable right veer in our hemisphere.

Rivers usually cut more deeply into their right bank and ocean currents veer right in this hemisphere, but do the opposite in the southern hemisphere. This has long been studied and in old days was called Coriolis force.

The reason is believed to be the rotation of the earth, which has a tendency to cause moving things to veer right in this hemisphere, and left in the southern hemisphere. However, many old sayings about Coriolis force are not yet substantiated by the scientists and relatively little is known about our hemisphere's right veer.

Bomb Destroys Car of Ex-Dictator Peron

CARACAS, Venezuela (UP) — A bomb exploded in Juan D. Peron's automobile today about five minutes before the Argentine ex-dictator was to enter it, an aide declared.

Maj. Pablo Vicente said the blast occurred while Peron's chauffeur was driving to pick up Peron at his home in exile here. The chauffeur, Isaac Gilaberte escaped with slight injuries. The car was destroyed by flames.

Maj. Vicente charged the assassination attempt was planned at the Argentine Embassy. The Argentine provisional government has been charging that Peron was plotting a comeback. He was overthrown in September 1955 and fled into exile.

Addresses 2,000 Outside

Graham Preaches Twice as Throng Jams Garden

NEW YORK (UP)—Billy Graham had to preach two sermons last night — one in Madison Square Garden and one in the street—to reach the throng that came to hear him.

About 21,200 people overran the huge arena, leaving 2,000 unable to get in. He preached first to those outside, telling them all men are lost in sin until they find Christ.

His impromptu platform — by concidence — was a table marked "lost and found," carried to the sidewalk for him to stand on.

"You don't have to be in the garden, you don't have to be in church to find Christ," Graham told the crowd in Manhattan's 49th Street. "Your life can be transformed right here."

Listeners jammed the street from wall to wall. In the tall apartment buildings bordering it, many poked their heads out windows or sat on fire escape landings.

The evangelist, his Bible in one hand and a portable microphone in the other, declared, "you can find God right here.

★ ★ ★

"It was out in the open air, on the hillsides and in the streets that Christ himself preached and that the people gathered around him and accepted him."

★ ★ ★

Finishing his talk, he asked those who would accept Christ to raise their hands, and about 50 did so.

Graham then got back to the Garden platform just in time for his sermon. He said people should put God first in their lives — before money, comfort or anything else, even before their families.

At the end of Graham's sermon, 847 people came forward at Graham's plea to make an "open declaration that you're taking your stand with Jesus Christ."

This was the second largest number of such decisions in the crusade, and brought the total to 6,563.

Post Office Seeks Data on Medical Frauds in Mail

The public was urged today by Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean to report to the post office any instances of medical frauds involving the use of the mails.

Flat chested women, bald-headed men and the overweight are among the targets of medical quacks who send advertising through the mails promising quick and sure remedies, Dean said.

Victims of cancer, arthritis, skin trouble and sexual disorders are other favorite targets for the long distance fakes, he said.

In the past 12 month, 46 fraud orders have been issued by the post office against quacks, the postmaster said.

Since the post office cannot open first class mail, he urged those who receive such advertising to promptly report it so an investigation can be made.

★ ★ ★

If fraudulent use of the mails is proven, he added, the promoter's return mail is cut off, so he cannot receive money from the victims. Mail sent to him is returned to the senders marked "Fraudulent."

Dozens of Twisters Hit Western States

buildings around Yoder, Wyo., and Pierce, Colo.

Missouri, which was lashed by deadly tornadoes earlier in the week, also had storms. No twisters were reported, but rain, hail and high winds wrecked several automobiles, uprooted trees and caused shallow flooding in the business district of Joplin last night.

Across the state, in the southeastern Boothell area, engineers expected 12 to 15 thousand acres of farm land around Kennett to be flooded today by the Little River.

High water also was a problem in Texas and Oklahoma as a result of torrential rains that accompanied storms in those states. Lawton, Okla., had more than 4 inches of rain in a short time. Six inches had fallen in Shawnee, Okla., by midnight, and Tulsa had flash flooding.

In Texas, new flash flooding was reported at Fort Worth and Denton. Some places had rains up to 8 inches, and the Weather Bureau said more downpours are expected in the next five days.

Special attention was given to the study of organizing a research program in state mental hospitals.

Also studied was the use of "miracle" drugs, their effectiveness and limits.

Abuses of drugs in psychiatry was a topic discussed by Dr. Richard J. Lilly of the Pontiac State Hospital. "A Controlled Study" dealing with the drugs was outlined by Dr. Dorothy Dart of Ypsilanti State Hospital.

Others participating in the program were Dr. Gordon R. Forrer, clinical director of Northville State Hospital; Dr. Garfield Tourney, Dr. Robert Glen, Dr. Rita Sent, Dr. H. Warren Dunham, and Dr. J. S. Gottlief of Lafayette Clinic.

Dr. John D. Whitehouse of the Kent County Mental Health Center and Dr. Robert E. Rabe of Pontiac State Hospital also led discussion groups.

Hildy's Parents Plan Vacation to Flee Publicity

MIAMI BEACH (INS)—The foster parents of little Hildy Ellis planned to take the child on vacation today to get her away from the turmoil stirred up by the highly-publicized custody battle.

The couple, Melvin B. Ellis, 45, and his wife, Frances, 37, said they planned to find a quiet hotel where Hildy could swim 'and just relax."

"The phone has been ringing constantly, telegrams keep arriving, and we feel we'd like to get away from it all for a few days," Ellis explained.

The Ellises have been plagued with newsmen and well-wishers since last Thursday when Florida Gov. Leroy Collins ruled they need not return to Massachusetts to face kidnap charges.

★ ★ ★

The couple fled the state with Hildy two years ago after the courts ordered them to give up the child. Hildy's natural mother, Mrs. Marjorie McCoy Dougherty of Hingham Mass., is a Catholic, and the Ellises are Jewish.

The Day in Birmingham

District School Proposals Okayed by Board Attorney

BIRMINGHAM — Building proposals presented to officials of the Birmingham School District by the Citizens Committee have been approved by the school board attorney.

He has advised that proposed building program can be completed within the 8.5 mill levy, with no increase in taxes required.

With this decision, the board now expects to place the request on the June 10 ballot.

If approved, it will be carried out as recommended by the Citizens Committee.

Plans for the proposed buildings will be prepared as quickly as possible, and construction started at the earliest possible date.

These plans are the result of thorough study on school plant needs by the committee.

Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, school superintendent, said "Birmingham is very fortunate to have, not only the competency but the willingness of citizens to devote so much time to such a study. Their recommendations are conservative, and deserve the support of the community."

When the day-long Federal Bureau of Investigation conference is held in Lansing, June 5, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley will lead the discussion on "What Local Law Enforcement Authorities Can do."

Moxley, an FBI Academy graduate, will be among the leading law enforcement officers in the state who will speak.

★ ★ ★

President Buerge is expected to bring his official report before the local group at its regular meeting in the Community House Wednesday.

From 1 to 5 p.m. today, the Terra Cotta Sculptors are conducting an exhibit and sale of original sculpture at the Birmingham Community House.

Friends of members have received silk-screened invitations, designed by Mrs. J. C. King, announcing the display on the terrace and in the Ruth Shain room, where tea is being served during the afternoon. The invitation also was extended to the general public to attend the annual exhibition of work done by members.

Mrs. R. J. Farrell and Mrs. N. O. Wynkoop are co-chairmen. Mrs. Hugh Backus and Mrs. William J. Griffin have designed tea table arrangements to compliment the sculptured glass figures being used as accessories.

Other committee members: Mrs. A. H. Reekie, Mrs. J. S. Wintringham, Mrs. J. C. Roberts, Mrs. William Lowrie, Mrs. R. H. Brown and Svea Kline.

Sale of Autos Seen as Stable

Seasonal Upsurges Thing of Past, Says Detroit Writer

BY DAVID J. WILKIE
Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UP) — Seasonal upsurges in new car demand probably are things of the past but most auto industry experts continue to predict 1957 retail deliveries will match those of last year.

The viewpoint is based upon the industry's demonstrated ability to maintain a better balance between output and retail sales than it did during the last couple of years. Total output and estimated total sales so far this year continue to run slightly ahead of those for the comparable 1956 period.

It is no secret, however, that retail deliveries during April and May fell short of the industry's expectations. The traditional boom did not materialize early in April. It shows no sign of developing in the weeks immediately ahead.

The most recent substantial survey of the retailers' inventories showed field stocks of 735,000 units on May 1, a modest decline from April 1. However, some sources are predicting the June 1 count will show a sharp upturn.

OPPOSITE VIEW

A directly opposite view is taken by other industry sources which point out the Memorial Day shutdown, probably to be extended through the weekend by some companies, will cut sharply into May production volume. Instead of the earlier predicted 542,000 car assemblies the total may be only slightly above 500,000 units.

The June 1 count of new car inventories will not be tabulated until about mid-June.

Up-to-date sales totals are difficult to count in advance of the new car registrations in the various states. The registration figures often are as much as six weeks behind production figures. The car makers keep a fairly accurate record of sales reported by their various retailers, but few of them disclose the figures.

Thus any figures purporting to represent total retail deliveries of all makes of cars up to within a few days or even a couple of weeks of current date have to be based largely on projections.

★ ★ ★

It safely may be said that the industry's assembly lines will be geared closely to indicated demand for the remainder of the present model year. If industry analysts given to projections are on the right track this would mean a weekly output averaging between 120,000 and 125,000 units weekly from now into next September.

Motorist Pleads Guilty to Recklessness Charge

As Philadelphia Drive Begins

Police Practice Courtesy

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Let the gag-makers and the aspiring comics have their fling, the courtesy campaign of the Philadelphia police is on in full fervor. And it's not going to be relaxed when the publicity wears thin.

So say the top men in the department, and behind their resolution is the authority of the mayor and his cabinet.

None of these men, it was obvious today, intend to be put off their high purpose by jests about "prettifying the cops" and "gardenia gendarmes," or by exaggerated pantomimes of Philadelphia policemen as pirouetting 18th century gallants.

Police Commissioner Thomas Gibbons has little patience with the notion of a policeman's having to be uncouth to be worth his badge.

"That just isn't true," commented one of the commissioner's staff. "Some of the world's best policemen are as polite and affable as a college professor. If a policeman behaves like an oaf, how can we expect the public, and especially the younger people, to have the proper respect for the law?

★ ★ ★

The question of police etiquette was brought sharply and dramatically into public focus last week with announcement that henceforth the city's policemen would be expected to abide by regulations and suggestions embodied in a new manual.

Emphasis is upon the amenities — the use of "please" and "thank you" and "sir" and "madam," instead of grunts and bellows and "hey bud" and "where's the fire, kid?"

The courtesy campaign is necessary, authorities said, because of complaints that many motorists were being tagged without good reason and that police were, on numerous occasions, insulting and otherwise abusive.

In a talk to graduates at the Police Academy Thursday, Deputy Commissioner Howard R. Leary bore down on courtesy. He said the major complaint against the Philadelphia police force was not what he called its "light touch with a citizen's rights, but its sneering tone."

Despite Reports Linking Him With Married Woman

India Lets Rossellini Stay Awhile

NEW DELHI (INS) — Roberto Rossellini can stay in India temporarily despite reports linking him with a beautiful-but-married Indian woman.

MAY REMAIN

The spokesman said the 51-year-old Italian motion picture producer, who is the husband of beautiful film actress Ingrid Bergman, can stay in the country, pending a final decision by the government on whether or not to renew his visa.

Rossellini's visa expired April 9th. He has been in India since January making a series of nine documentary films for the country. He has completed two. The one he is currently shooting is entitled, "India, 1957."

A spokesman said today the government still is considering the question of extending the visa. The spokesman said Rossellini had applied for the extension in Bombay, from where state authorities referred the matter to New Delhi, the capital.

NEWSPAPER REPORT

Just this morning, a Bombay newspaper, The Chronicle, reported that Rossellini had been told by a government official that he must "straighten up matters" or he will have to leave the country.

The girl with whom the balding Rossellini has been linked romantically in newspaper reports is Sonali Das Gupta, 27-year-old mother of two small sons.

CALLED ON OFFICIAL

The Bombay Chronicle said Rossellini had called Friday on Pillai, secretary-general of the External Affairs Ministry in New Delhi in connection with obtaining a visa extension.

The newspaper added:

"It was reliably learned that Rossellini was told he would have to quit India if he did not straighten up matters with Mr. Das Gupta."

Das Gupta, 35, also a film producer, had been reported earlier to have charged in a statement to Indian authorities in Bombay that Rossellini had disrupted his married life and should be denied a visa extension.

MADE NO REQUEST

But today, Das Gupta, interviewed in Calcutta, declared he had not made any such request. If one was made, he said, "it might have been by my wife's relatives."

Rossellini has persistently denied that there is any trace of romance between himself and the Indian beauty. His relationship with her, he declares, is "purely business."

Miss Bergman, winner of the Academy Award for her performance in "Anastasia," has also denied that the rumors are true.

"Tell them not to pay any attention to that story, she laughed in Paris where she has been playing the lead role in the stage play, "Tea and Sympathy."

Ingrid and Rossellini are due to reunite in Italy this summer.

It has been reported that Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has been asked by the Das Gupta family to intervene in the case and that he may do so.

Hari Das Gupta, in denying that he had filed a petition against Rossellini, said today: "I would like to be left out of this."

Hari joined his family in Calcutta after one of his brothers suffered an accident. It was said that the brother fell down a flight of stairs and has now been unconscious for a fortnight.

The Bombay Chronicle reported that Sonali left her Taj Mahal hotel room, which it is reported is adjacent to Rossellini's, Thursday evening and attended a screening of "Anastasia," the picture in which Miss Bergman stars.

Killing of Chinese Hits Formosa Nerve Center

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Formosa, scene today of savage demonstrations against the United States, is a small nation into which Americans have poured billions of dollars in military and economic aid.

There are two reasons for this. The United States supports the government of Chiang Kai-shek. And the United States has declared defense of the island to be a responsibility of the United States.

★ ★ ★

The United States assumed responsibilities in the Formosa area as an outgrowth of World War II and the Communists' takeover of the control of the China mainland. Chiang set up his regime on Formosa in 1949, and several million Chinese fled there from the mainland. Only 85 miles lie between the island the Red-held mainland, at the closest point.

The island is 245 miles long. It has an army of about 600,000 and a navy and air force largely equipped by the United States. The U.S. military assistance program on the island has brought in as many as 20,000 Americans at times.

President Truman in 1950, after war broke out in Korea, ordered the U.S. Navy to prevent any Communist attack on Formosa. He also issued orders that the island was not to be used as a base for attack against the Communist mainland.

President Eisenhower in 1953 ordered the U.S. Navy to stop protecting Red China from Chiang's forces. He said there was no logic in protecting the Communists since they had opened attacks on U.S. and U.N. forces in Korea.

Under a congressional resolution adopted in 1955, the President has power to use American forces in any way deemed necessary to foil an invasion of Formosa.

All the U.S. aid to Formosa has not been military. This country in seven years put 300 million dollars into a land reform program. This program has affected 300,000 farmers, giving them land of their own. As a result crops have increased.

Friday's riots, in the face of all this, probably can be traced in part at least to a matter of pride. A U.S. soldier killed a Chinese he accused of threatening him after the Chinese was caught peeping into a window of the soldier's house. A U.S. Army court-martial acquitted him.

This hit a sensitive spot. Chinese agitators charged their fellow countryman had been murdered. Demonstrations began, and got out of hand.

There are similarities in a dispute still unsettled in Japan, 670 miles north of Formosa. There an American soldier's action resulted in the death of a Japanese woman. Japan insists it has the right to place the soldier on trial, and at one point U.S. authorities agreed to turn him over. Further action has been delayed pending a review of the case ordered by Secretary of Defense Wilson.

ANIMAL QUIZ

QUESTION: Is the burro stubborn as a mule?

ANSWER: In the mountains of Central and South America, sure footed burros pick their way along steep, rocky trails, loaded down so heavily that only their big heads, long ears and sturdy legs can be seen.

Each burro wears a string of bells to give warning that a pack train is coming along the narrow trails. These hardy little animals can stand all kinds of weather and can live on what greenery they can forage along the way.

Burros make gentle, affectionate pets. But like their second cousin the mule, they show a stubborn streak at times. They are good workers but do not like to be hurried. They like to set their own pace on the trail — and, in fact, will insist on it with mulish stubbornness.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is Pepe, a Mexican boy, and his burro "Bonita," which means beautiful. Color, paste on cardboard, cut and assemble as directed, and save for your animal collection.

Chemist Finds New Material

Starts Out as Glass but Winds Up as Substance Harder Than Steel

CORNING, N. Y. (AP) — A research chemist has developed a new range of basic materials that start out as glass but wind up as a radically different substance.

It's harder than steel, lighter than aluminum and 15 times as strong as plate glass. Pyroceram, as the new substance was named, can be manufactured opaque or transparent, milky-white or in any color you please.

The non-porous substance was tabbed immediately for radomes, the nose cones that protect the delicate directional instruments of guided missiles.

The creator of Pyroceram is Dr. S. Donald Stookey, manager of the fundamental chemical research department of the Corning Glass Works. The company announced Stookey's discovery yesterday, the chemist's 42nd birthday. He is a native of Hay Springs, Neb.

The materials are melted and formed just like glass. But each batch includes ingredients that supply so-called nucleating agents — invisible, sub-microscopic "seeds" that cause the formation of crystals.

It's much the same process you find in cloud-seeding, or in the formation of sugar crystals in a jar full of jelly.

By controlling the chemical composition and growth of the Pyroceram crystals under heat treatment, a wide range of properties can be developed.

Miniature Auto Made From Old Cars, Tractor

HURDSFIELD, N. D. (AP)—When you ask Robert Weisz about the make of that foreign-looking miniature car he's driving, it takes him a while to explain.

Weisz made it himself — from parts of eight old cars and a tractor—at his farm home three miles south of here. It's powered by a 1½-horsepower washing machine engine and will do up to 25 miles an hour.

Doctor Reveals New Treatment

Los Angeles Specialist Views Progress Made on Multiple Sclerosis

LOS ANGELES (INS) — A new chemical treatment for multiple sclerosis which halts the progressive muscular weakness caused by the disease has been described by a specialist.

Dr. John Aldes, head of the physical rehabilitation department of Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in Los Angeles, said the new method of attacking the disease stems from the discovery of the role of a natural body element called creatine phosphate in providing energy.

He said at a medical meeting at the Sister Kenny Hospital that his group tried their experimental approach to multiple sclerosis on 223 patients beginning four years ago.

Instead of keeping them confined to beds and wheelchairs, which is generally the accepted procedure in such cases, they were given programs of muscular exercise, high protein and low fat diets and vitamins.

One half of the group also was given betaine and glycocyamine, which combines to produce creatine phosphates in the blood so that the energy source can reach the muscles.

Dr. Aldes said it was discovered that the group given the chemicals improved under the exercise program gaining weight and strength, while the other group failed to improve.

The patients in the second group began to show improvement only after they, too, were given the chemicals.

Spectator Repairs Piano for Concertizing Artist

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — George Feyer, concert pianist, was playing before a Marshall College audience when a pedal on his piano broke in the midst of "Echoes In Paris."

★ ★ ★

Flustered, Feyer turned to the audience and inquired:

★ ★ ★

A lanky freshman made his way to the stage and saved the day. He received Feyer's thanks and a tremendous ovation.

The result is a completely new conception in carpeting—a carpet with a luxuriously deep pile that never loses its springy buoyant look — that gives incredible wear even under the most punishing conditions. And forget about spending lots of time and money keeping this carpet clean. Because it is Acrilan, it has a natural resistance to dirt . . . soil and stains have little chance of becoming permanent.

Grace President Tells of Capital Expenditures There of $70 Million

CHICAGO (INS)—The president of W. R. Grace & Co., shipping firm, declared today the great and dynamic growth in Latin America has prompted the company to plan making capital expenditures there of more than $70,000,000 through 1961.

★ ★ ★

J. Peter Grace, in an address before the Propeller Club of Chicago on occasion of National Maritime Day and World Trade Week, added:

"This is not only an indication of our faith in this dynamic area of the world, but a multi-million dollar manifestation of our conviction that Latin America will grow and continue to grow, and that the economic future of our great nation lies to the south of us."

Referring to the development of the St. Lawrence Seaway, Grace foresaw increased trade, business and prosperity for the Chicago area. He said this upsurge in economic development for the area would reflect itself in other parts of the country.

Grace pointed out that the Grace line plans to open service to the Great Lakes area in anticipation of completion of the seaway.

Germany's Konrad Adenauer Defies Pruning Knife of Time

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

The pruning knife of time seems to have gone blunt in trying to whittle down German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, the last leaf on the swiftly withering tree of post-war political leaders.

Imposingly erect, keen of eye and mind, and amazingly spry at 81, the tall, leathery-faced Rhinelander has outlived or politically outlasted most of his contemporaries: Stalin of Russia, DeGasperi of Italy, Churchill of England, Truman of the United States, and a dozen or more French premiers, all of whom attempted to pick up the pieces after a disastrous second World War.

Still trying to pick up the pieces, especially the large piece of eastern Germany that fell to the Soviet bloc after the war, Adenauer arrives in the United States May 24 with his foreign minister, Heinrich von Brentano, for a series of talks with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

After that, he returns to Germany to compaign for another four-year term in the Sept 15 elections and to once again bedazzle his 50 million countrymen with the American phenomenon known as the whistle stop tour, an election device that wore down his younger Socialist opponents and won him a landslide re-election in the 1953 race.

Regarded by many historians, Churchill included, as the greatest German statesman since Bismarck, Der Alte (the old one), as he is called fondly by friends and sarcastically by foes, has made an incredible record for a man who would have been remembered only as an efficient, if somewhat cantankerous, mayor of his native Cologne, had he died at the age of 70.

RESTORED TO OFFICE

American military government officials restored him to his mayorship after the war, which he had spent first in a monastery then in three successive concentration camps for defying the Nazis. But the British, when the four-power occupation began, made him a national figure by booting him out for failing to see eye-to-eye with them on the restoration of Cologne.

KONRAD ADENAUER

The incident established his reputation as a hard-headed, independent thinker and boosted him to the chacellor's office when Germany held its first free elections in 1949.

In the past eight years, under Adenauer's impassive, iron-willed leadership, Germany has steered a straight western course in Cold War diplomacy, joined the European coal and steel community and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, thrown off the shackles of massive unemployment, lived successfully but dangerously as an occupied country on the very door sill of the Iron Curtain, and emerged once again as the greatest industrial power in Western Europe.

WHO WON

Where the Americans, British and French are concerned, Adenauer has never fogetten which side won the war. In dealing — and often refusing to deal — with the Russians, he has never let his people forget which side won the peace.

A devout Roman Catholic with one son a priest, Adenauer is convinced that "a Christian civilization must hold together politically or perish before communism."

With German reunification a key election issue, this ideological, moral approach to foreign relations has provided ammunition for his Socialist opponents, who charge that Adenauer is too closely tied to the West to negotiate effectively with the Soviet rulers.

★ ★ ★

Like a Teutonic Al Smith, whom he resembles somewhat in his rare smiling moments, Adenauer answers by pointing to the record — the concessions he won from the Russians on the return of German war prisoners on his last Moscow visit.

Duluth Port Plans Big Marine Terminal

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—The Duluth port authority is planning a 10 million dollar public marine terminal at this Lake Superior port and hopes to have it completed for opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway in 1959.

The Minnesota legislature authorized a five million dollar state bond issue for development of the Duluth port.

It also gave St. Louis (Duluth) County authority to appropriate four million dollars for the project and empowered city council to levy a million dollars in taxes for it if a two-thirds majority approve in an election.

Keith Duncan, authority chairman, has appointed a committee to negotiate with the Soo Line railroad and the Pure Oil Co., for land desired for terminal development on Rice's Point. The properties adjoin 80 acres to be acquired from the state.

U. S. farms consume about one-twentieth of the motor fuel required annually.

Car Production for May Set at 535,000 Units

DETROIT (INS)—Ward's automotive reports said May car output in the U.S. would windup showing an approximate 14 per cent gain over the comparable period of last year.

The statistical agency pegged May production at 535,000 units. Some 471,673 units were manufactured last May. Ward's also said that new car sales this month were holding close to April levels.

The nation's most important deposits of chromite are in Stillwater and Sweetgrass counties in Montana, according to the U. S. bureau of mines.

Vacation Camp Solicitation

From eastern points come the usual appeals by mail from various charities asking for funds to send underprivileged and needy children to summer camps in that section of the country. Letters asking for donations to "sponsor" some young person's 2-week stay in camp have been sent by numerous organizations. While many of these groups are in good faith, and subject of no complaints, there are summer camps supported by local organizations for boys and girls in this area. The local camps deserve FIRST consideration.

The Home Gardener Begins to Cash in

Just beginning to reap the first early results of his 1957 planting is the home gardener. His green thumb and soil cracked fingers are about to collect. The battle with the weeds hasn't really begun.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

But they reach the table within minutes, and have the snap and crack that means a delectable non-caloric, but noisy food, that he'll tell you never causes trouble.

★ ★ ★

His lettuce is coming apace, and soon will follow the radishes. His early pickings will come before it has a chance to emulate that bouquet on the seed package.

In fact, who ever produced anything that even remotely resembled those pictures? And who ever resisted the temptation to expect the same thing next year? The seed envelope is the world's champion fooler.

The gardener's slower growing beans, peas, beets, turnips, bagas, melons, squash, pumpkins and other vegetables do not come so rapid or so easy. Their dilatory growth will exasperate him, when compared with that of the weeds.

★ ★ ★

He will have many discouraging moments, the dirt will dry on his hands and they'll feel worse than rheumatism or arthritis. But he'll still argue that it is worth it all, especially when his grocery budget drops.

★ ★ ★

Another good feature, not usually considered, is the fact that when a man becomes a gardener he also becomes weather conscious. No longer will he complain about a rainy spell, when his garden needs it.

He'll endure the blistering heat when working in his garden if he thinks it is better growing weather. And he'll lug pails of water or squirt a hose in a manner that will make his wife marvel.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac area has many features that favor the gardener. Candidly, I never knew a man who was not bettered by having a home garden, even if his wife did much of the work. Perhaps she's willing to have it that way because she's been unable to discover any other way to make him better.

More Hungarians May Be Admitted

It's good news that the Justice and State Departments have reached an agreement on admission of more Hungarian refugees under the parole program.

Top priority will be given refugees in Austria who are closely related to those Hungarians who immigrated here after the revolt last fall, says Attorney General Brownell. Refugees who fled to Austria and then moved to another European country also will be eligible for admission as well as those with certain special skills or talents.

Some 150,000 men, women and children fled Hungary after the Russian invasion. Only about 32,00 so far have been granted asylum here, 27,000 of them on parole.

The Refugee Relief Act of 1953 expired last December 31 and the non-quota visas granted under it were valid only until April 30. Most immigrants have come in under the quota system based on national origins as shown by the 1920 census which imposes a ceiling of 154,857 annually.

By far the greater part of these quotas are for British, German and Irish immigrants but some 60,000 of them go unused every year. Last January President Eisenhower asked that all unused quotas be assigned to other countries in Europe and that emergency legislation be passed to admit 75,000 refugees from Communist persecution.

Earlier this month in speaking of the refugees still in Austria and Yugoslavia, the President said that the policy of this country is to "continue to meet its full share of the free world's responsibility to help these people."

★ ★ ★

We cannot afford to let the program bog down. All things considered, other nations of the free world have done relatively better then we have in admitting the refugees. Already Soviet propaganda has begun to capitalize on the plight of the refugee Hungarians in Austria and Yugoslavia.

The People's Business

Arguments Due

Dems, GOP Sure to Fight About Spending Record

By ROGER LANE

LANSING — In the months ahead, a good deal will be made of the Republican-Democratic conflict over state spending in the 1957 regular legislative session—and not without justice.

★ ★ ★

But in comparison of expenditures actually voted by the Republican-controlled Legislature with the recommendations of Gov. Williams there quite likely will be some double talk on both sides.

It promises to revolve around the decisions on the school aid issue.

From the standpoint of the local school administrator, the legislature provided something like 50 million dollars in state assistance that wasn't in sight when the session began.

About half of this came as the result of what the governor called "hocus-pocus financing" — a kind of legislative sleight of hand that consisted only of shuffling some disbursement dates.

★ ★ ★

Still, at the moment, it means money in local school treasuries to pay teachers, summer maintenance expenses and buy supplies—or to stave off the threatened necessity of costly borrowing.

NEW TAXATION

The other half of the increased provision of school money was in new taxes. Receipts from the new revenue sources will be funneled directly into the school aid fund, and at no point will be reflected in the general revenue figures of the state either as income or outgo.

The net of it is, with reference to talk there will be about the Legislature's spending record, that huge additional sums are being made available to local school districts without any reflection at all in the general fund.

Now, here is the point.

In the expenditure comparisons that are being, and will be made, don't lose sight of the significance if they are keyed to the general fund, the usual basis for comparison.

A straight general fund comparison will show that Republican leaders and the governor were in the neighborhood of 70 million dollars apart, quite a striking difference in spending attitudes.

But interpolate into the picture what was done by Republicans on school financial help and the difference shrinks to about one-third.

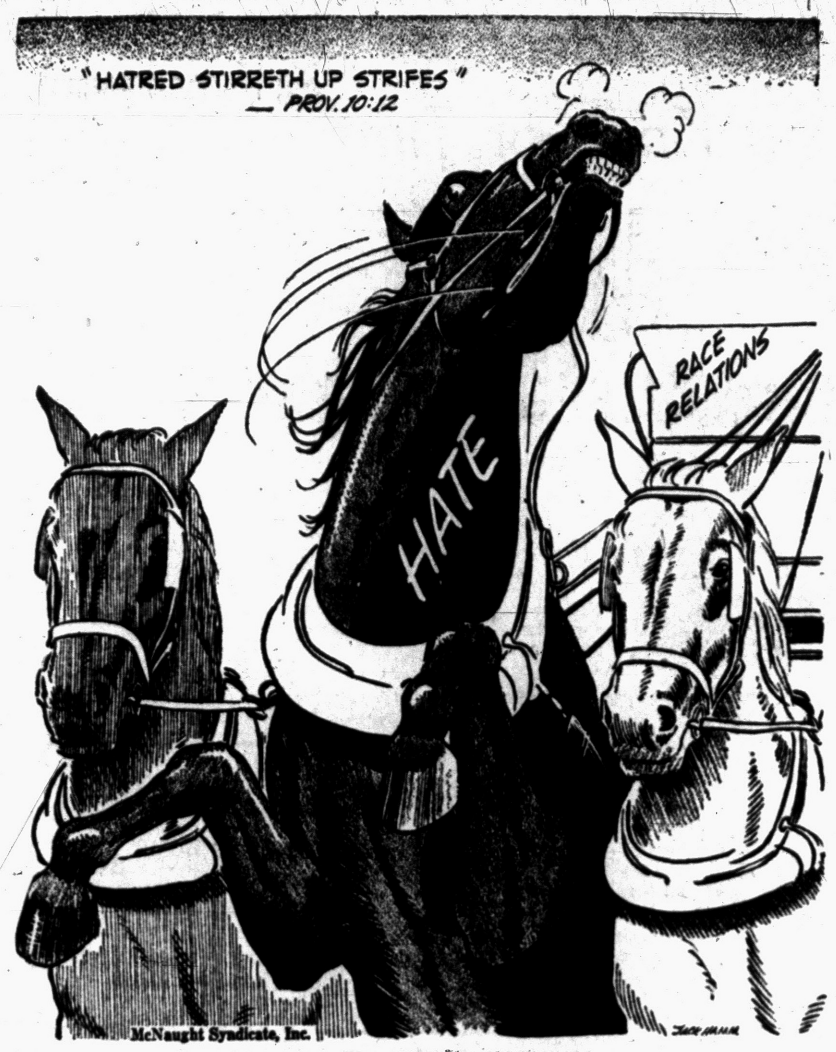

All this is to say, that while there were real and important variances in the Republican and Democratic attitudes, they can be made to seem to the unwary worlds greater than they actually were.

PARTISAN INTERESTS

And this may be attempted, to some extent, in the interests of political partisanship.

Many Republicans will tell you that if they hadn't hit on the date-juggling maneuver, and "just found" the 24 million dollars, that amount or something like it would have to have been substituted in another way, and probably to the taxpayer's discomfiture.

There is plenty of room for disputing it, of course, but it is just possible that but for the fund-juggling there might have been a new tax on corporation profits.

The Hitch That Hauls Little

Days of All Faiths:

Rogation Sunday Is Observed

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Since the fifth century the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday before Ascension Day have been "Rogation days," which has given the name Rogation Sunday to the preceding Sunday. All four of these days are devoted to prayers (rogare means "to ask") having to do with the agricultural season just beginning.

★ ★ ★

The "asking" in this case is for God's blessing not only on the seed now planted but also on the soil and on the workers who did the planting and will do the cultivating.

The underlying idea is that man is the steward, the custodian, of God's good earth and needs the help of God in this responsibility. It is not just a matter of asking God to make good crops. Man has a share in the process, too.

The observance of Rogation Sunday is increasing among U. S. Protestants, who call it Rural Life Sunday. Sunday in hundreds of American churches the emphasis will be on all aspects of rural life, not only on crops, Country schools and churches, homes and community organizations will be talked about in relation to their significance in the life of their areas. Country and city clergymen will exchange pulpits to give each a chance to interpret his environment to the other's congregation.

★ ★ ★

Many rural churches will make a full day of the celebration. Groups of congregations will join together for union services, followed by "dinner on the grounds" and a "family day" of Christian sociability.

JOAN OF ARC

What would you do if you were a 14-year-old peasant girl and you began to hear voices coming out of a blaze of light, saying you were divinely appointed to lead an army and save your country? You would be terrified, of course, and so was young Joan of Arc, who lived in the French village of Domremy.

But by the time she was 16, the voices had identified themselves and Joan knew the saints — Michael, Catherine, Margaret, and others — were speaking to her. They were insistent and explicit. To her protests that she knew nothing about military science they replied, "It is God who commands it."

So the child went to the Dauphin (prince) and offered her services and after three weeks' investigation by his council she was accepted. France was torn at the time by civil war and so weakened that Henry V of England had been able to walk in and take over a large part of the country.

Within a matter of days under Joan's leadership the French had raised the English siege of the city of Orleans, dislodged the invader from his strongest position, and crowned the Dauphin as king. At this point Joan's mission was accomplished and the "voices" satisfied, but she made the mistake of continuing her military career.

She was captured by the Burgundians (the king's opposition in the civil war) and sold by them to the English. Tried by a packed and bigoted court, she was convicted of heresy and burned at the stake on May 30, 1431, in the market place at Rouen.

After 23 years Joan's mother and two brothers appealed for a reopening of the case. At the posthumous trial the original verdict was reversed and Joan's name was cleared.

On May 16, 1920 — 450 years after her death — she was canonized and admitted to the Church calendar as St. Joan.

Skin-Peeling Erases Acne Scars

"Teenage daughter has several scars on cheeks, the result of pustular acne. Emotionally upset, moody, withdrawn . . . suggest any new method . . . ?" (J.R.H.)

DR. BRADY

Answer — Surgical skin peeling has proved pretty satisfactory in many intsances. Your daughter should have your own physician's guidance in choosing the surgeon to do this. My pamphlet on Acne (Blackheads and Pimples) is available to anyone who asks for it and provides stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"I have ground wheat for breakfast food for years. First I look it over and remove foreign substances, then wash it thoroughly in several waters and dry at about 250 degrees in the oven before grinding. Also I have been preparing corn in the same manner and it makes a superior corn meal." (H.A.D.)

Answer — Wheat so prepared gives you all the wheat germ and wheat bran, plus vitamin A, vitamin B complex and the much touted vitamin E of wheat germ oil. Families with the gumption to use wheat as a staple food are well nourished. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Wheat to Eat.

"Boy 10 years old, wets the bed —it started when he had polio . . . he is getting very embarrassed because his parents tell people about it right in front of him . . ." (Mrs. D.R.)

Answer — They're wretched parents. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet on the Habit of Bed-Wetting.

"Boy, 13, has had running ear nearly a year. He is a swimming enthusiast . . ." (Mrs. H.B.)

Answer — For his own safety, he should plug both nostrils and ears with lamb's wool or oily cotton before he goes into the water and should breathe entirely through the mouth when in the water. For the safety of others a person with chronic running ear should be barred from use of the swimming pool.

"If I had only known the importance of good nutrition when I was pregnant and when I was nursing my babies, I'm sure we would have had healthier children and less doctor bills." (Mrs. D.E.H.)

Answer—I tried to tell you but you were not interested. Send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet Preparing for Maternity and pamphlet "Calcium and Pregnancy. Watch this column for pieces about nursing the baby.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Civilization Needs Salesmanship

Notice the tact and thoughtfulness of the National Sales Executives Association. And please remember that a large part of the content of the New Testament consists of sales letters by St. Paul to the local sales organizations he had set up to "sell" the pagan world on the new type of ethics called Christianity.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-390: Recently I was invited to speak under the auspices of a local National Sales Executives Association.

★ ★ ★

But about 10 days prior to my arrival, a telephone call came through to the home office of the Hopkins Syndicate, which schedules all of my lectures.

CRANE

"Is Mrs. Crane going to accompany Dr. Crane on his visit to Davenport?" asked one of the Davenport officers of the club.

When informed that she couldn't make the trip, the caller then inquired:

"Could you please tell us exactly where Mrs. Crane will be on the day of Dr. Crane's speech in Davenport?

"For we always make it a practice to send flowers to the wife of our speaker, regardless of where she may be located.

"So if you'll please let us know her whereabouts, we'll wire the flowers directly to her."

And they did so. Thus, while I was orating, Mrs. Crane received 18 American Beauty roses, much to her delight and surprise.

And she put them to double duty, for she placed them on the little church altar down in Indiana where she was visiting her aged father.

★ ★ ★

After the morning church service, she took them out to the grave of our oldest son, who died in the jet plane crash last summer.

But I wish to pay tribute to the thoughtfulness of these star salesmen.

For salesmanship involves "empathy" or the ability to project one's self into the shoes of the prospect or customer.

STAR SALESMEN

A star salesman wins my admiration just as much as a Paderewski or Fritz Kreisler, a Michelangelo or a Leonardo da Vinci.

★ ★ ★

Indeed, the late Dr. Glenn Frank said the salesman is the spark plug of civilization!

He attributes the triumph of Christianity to stellar salesmanship by Christ, as well as by the talented clergymen in our pulpits.

"The Nazarene had no regiments of soldiers," stated Dr. Frank. "He . . . controlled no syndicate of newspapers; the hillsides of Palestine were not dotted with His billboards.

"By the sheer force of knowing how to teach, which is just one form of salesmanship, he captured and has held the attention of the planet."

St. Paul was also a genius at selling the pagan world on the new ethical system which Jesus had given mankind.

★ ★ ★

And St. Paul set up little groups of sub-salesmen to carry on that sales campaign. He called them churches.

And, like a typical modern commercial sales manager, he later sent them encouraging letters to bolster their morale and renew their sales fervor.

St. Paul didn't realize it, but he was helping write the New Testament by these very sales letters, which are now included therein as Paul's epistles to the Romans, Corinthians, Ephesians, Philippians, Galatians, etc.

Whenever your modern clergyman quotes from any of St. Paul's writings, just remember that you are listening to sales copy from St. Paul's pen!

Ban on Teen Marriages Rejected by Two Readers

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

You cannot enact laws to prohibit what nature, by divine plan, intended for our good. Physically, high school boys and girls are ready for marriage. Of course, our society hasn't allowed for this and so must object. We should revise our inadequate educational program to fit our youth, socially and economically, for the role of husband and wife.

Why can't trades and skills and practical job training be offered instead of foreign languages, arts and sciences and higher mathematics? These could be traded for bread and butter, and after all, most boys and girls make a career of motherhood and fatherhood, where weekly paychecks is more important than knowledge of unrelated subjects. There is no age limit on education, but the time a marriage can endure without financial security is brief.

Another Parent

It's a pity some people are so closed-minded. Young men and women will marry no matter what is done to prevent it. What a tragic error it is to ban them from schools, just when they most need an education. Men can't support families without at least a high school diploma, and wives need to be prepared to supplement the family income or take over when necessary. Young couples know this but youth is optimistic and they'll marry despite odds. I know, because I did it. I'm now a proud mother and very happy, but there were times it wasn't easy, and I needed my diploma to land a job. If my principal in high school hadn't been so helpful and understanding in adjusting my scholastic schedule to fit a full time job and keeping house, our marriage wouldn't be on the sound basis it is today.

Proposes Toast to Michigan

A toast to Michigan. I am thankful to be a native and resident of this state. We can be thankful we have less tornadoes than other states. Perhaps this is because other states are level with few trees and lakes. I think of this every time I see some company in Oakland County cutting all the trees to build a subdivision.

Interest Pleases Grandmother of 6

I was pleased to see the interest in obtaining children's library books shown here by Mrs. Lois Ann Burbrick. Children must have access to as many books as possible.

I am a grandmother of six and I make it a point to give books for those unexpected gifts throughout the year which Alice in Wonderland calls "unbirthday gifts."

'Money's Big Part of Baseball Today'

Having seen the Yankees and Tigers play our grand old game of baseball with all their wealth of young players, and then seeing our Tigers play Washington has made me wonder.

Yankee high-priced players amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars. Our own Tigers have outrageous price tags for just signing contracts, such as Kaline and Kuehn at $55,000, Bertoia at $50,000 and Frank House at $75,000 and two new cars.

As an old time baseball fan who used to watch the old timers, I wonder if money doesn't have a say-so in today's games. If I'm wrong, correct me someone.

Defends Principles of Labor Unions

I'm as sure of unionism basic principles as I am of a true and living God. The teachings were to the lowly, down-trodden mankind, so sorely in need of so much. I'm eternally grateful to the men who, in early days of our union, had a vision of what could be and is today.

I can't believe you prefer the old days. Your husband has some assurance of bread and butter in his twilight years. What about insurances? What about misunderstandings that arise in any business? Would he be able to iron them out fairly? I say never. How many days of illness could he afford and what of the consequences of his absence? I know only too well.

If you'd rather have the old way, you may have it in the near future with the right-to-work situation. You men folk won't pay dues, and it seems like a pleasant dream, but what will happen when they don't come under a negotiated gain for union faithfuls? I say the day will come when you'll cry to high heaven for a union card in the name of the working members of your family.

'Were Stove, Sink Really Necessary?'

I read the story of the new Oakland County Road Commission building. Very impressive, wasn't it? But is it necessary to have a cook stove and sink? Oh well, at least they didn't buy them separately, since it's a combination.

SS Office Will Issue Duplicate Card

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

From W. K. of Knoxville, Tenn.: "I've been notified by the Social Security office that I'll be eligible to receive disability payments on July 1. I'm now wondering if I'll get any additional money because I'm married and have a wife to support."

No. However, when you reach 65 and start drawing old age Social Security payments, additional payments may be due you for your wife if she has reached 62.

From L. C. of Ottawa, Kans.: "I've been working on the same job for 14 years so I've had no need for my Social Security account number. Recently I started looking for the card, but couldn't find it. How can I get another card?"

The nearest Social Security office will issue you a duplicate.

From Mrs. S.O.F. of Cincinnati: "What kind of evidence of death does a person have to show the Social Security office to receive the lump sum death payment?"

The evidence of death can take a number of forms. The most frequently used are a certified copy of the public record of death, a statement of the funeral director, a statement of the attending doctor or the intern of the institution where the death occurred.

From P. R. A. of Columbia, Mo.: "I keep reading that the Social Security payments to a woman are reduced if she starts drawing them between 62 and 65. Is this true if the woman is drawing the payments as a widow?"

No. Social Security payments to a widow or dependent mother are not reduced if she starts drawing them between 62 and 65. They'll be the same amount as if she had started them at 65.

From W. C. of Albany, N. Y.: "I'm receiving a Social Security old age pension, but it looks as if I'll earn more than I'm allowed this year to collect all the checks. What should I do?"

You should report this fact to the Social Security office which accepted your application for payments.

★ ★ ★

From A. E. T. of Morgantown, W. Va.: "My wife died not long ago after working in a job covered by Social Security for nearly four years. I'm supporting our 15-year-old daughter. Am I entitled to any monthly payments?"

No, but your daughter is until she's 18—if your wife worked for at least half of the three years before her death. It makes no difference whether you are working.

From Miss R. M. of San Pedro, Calif.: "I'm 67 and I haven't worked for almost two years. I recently learned for the first time that I'm entitled to Social Security retirement payments. Can I collect for the two years that have passed since I turned sixty-five?"

No, but you can collect for 12 months back. I suggest you apply immediately so that you don't lose any more payments.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

Key Ford Personnel Given Promotions

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. made a number of top-level promotions yesterday among its upper-echelon executives.

Robert S. McNamara, general manager of Ford Division, was elected group vice president in charge of Ford's car and truck divisions. McNamara succeeds L. D. Crusoe, who is retiring but will remain an active member of the board.

James O. Wright, assistant general manager of Ford Division, was elected to succeed McNamara as head of the division and also was elected a company vice president.

John S. Bugas, vice president-industrial relations, was named a group vice president; Tom Lilley was elected vice president and general manager of Ford International Division; Arjay R. Miller, company controller was named a vice president as well as controller, and Earl G. Ward was elected vice president in charge of purchasing.

Bad Weather Can't Dampen Love for Texas

DALLAS (AP)—Texans still love Texas—although they've been battered by tornadoes and just about drowned by flash floods.

"Leave Texas because of the weather?" asked Ed Jolesch, a rancher near Midlothian, southwest of Dallas. "Why the weather would never get so bad that I'd leave. This is the best place in the world, there's no doubt about it."

He agreed that the more than 70 tornadoes in Texas since April had caused considerable property damage and deaths.

But, he said, "I haven't seen any place else in the country I like better than Texas."

At least 33 persons died in tornadoes in Texas since April and property damage has mounted into millions. More than 250 persons were injured. About 10,000 families were forced from their homes by flood water.

Other Texans agree with Jolesch.

Mrs. Glenne Berry summed it up: "I still like Texas better than any other state and I've lived in a lot of them. They have bad weather in other places also."

Women Play Important Role in Today's Car Design

Jan Krebs shows Semon Knudsen, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, some of the feminine touches on Pontiac "Balmain" the 1957 Star Chief convertible. She is holding a lift-out vanity bound with matching leather (from the car's interior). Other features found inside the glove compartment include a note pad and tissue dispenser. Miss Krebs also designed the interior of a black hardtop which she calls "Sophistique."

Mrs. John's brothers, Hovie Hagerman and Clyde Hagerman, both of Bloomfield Hills, will also be present to help the Johns mark their anniversary.

Mrs. Quinlan Feted

Mrs. George Collison opened her home on Kenilworth avenue Wednesday to members of the Reliable Twelve Club. Mrs. Dessa Quinlan was honored on the occasion of her birthday.

"Balmain" is the name Jan Krebs chose for this 1957 Star Chief convertible. Of chiffon pink, it has an accent of Magenta (deep orchid) in the side sweep spears. Chiffon pink dominates the interior and the top boot which has concealed fasteners. The seats are of leather and nylon multi-colored Aztec design. The cloth, in horizontal pleating, is used only on the driver's position and on the right passenger's position on the rear seat. A lustrous deep carpet in matching pink covers the floor and door kick panels.

Nine Damsels Help GM Please Feminine Buyers

Color, Convenience, Comfort of Autos Reflect Wishes of the Fair Sex

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Women's Editor, Pontiac Press

Early experimenters in the automobile field surely never dreamed that women would have such influence on the car today. It wasn't too long ago that their voices were heard only from the back seat.

Today their interests determine styling, trim, interiors and special accessories — because they cast the deciding vote in 7 out of 10 purchases. This importance is not overlooked by the General Motors styling staff, headed by Harley J. Earl, a vice president of the corporation.

He has added nine "Damsels of Design," as he calls them, to the styling staff. Each is assigned to the design studio of one of GM's five car divisions.

"Making our styling staff coeducational has been very successful," Mr. Earl pointed out. "Our women designers' combination of styling skill and feminine point of view is helping us create cars and appliances designed with the women in mind."

★ ★ ★

Continuing, Mr. Earl explained, "Besides being color and fabric specialists, our women designers are tuned specially to the women driver's problems and they've already taught us a lot."

JUST FOR THE GIRLS

You'll agree with this when you see the latest in feminine cars—yes ma'am—designed just for the girls. But before we tell you about them and the clever girl stylists, let's just note other important changes they have made in today's cars.

★ ★ ★

According to Mr. Earl, women were strong advocates of the six-way seat for greater comfort and visibility (you don't have to take that extra pillow with you any more) and they designed windshield wiper knobs and other dashboard controls which are easier to find at night.

And, if you don't snag those nylons anymore, you'll know it's because these girls have been removing any unnecessary "snagging" gadgets.

Mr. Earl, who in 30 years with GM has supervised the design of nearly 35 million cars, was one of the first auto stylists to recognize the growing influence of women upon automobiles.

★ ★ ★

He hired the first GM woman designer in 1943 and he says "So many talented girls are entering our field of design that in three or four years women may be designing entire car exteriors."

TALENT DISPLAYED

The talent of these women designers is demonstrated in the 10 hardtops and convertibles on which they were given free hand to choose special colors and interiors. This was the automobile fashion show which we attended recently at the GM Tech Center.

★ ★ ★

We found that 9 out of 10 feminine cars were solid colored except for accent lines or sweep spears.

"This seems to be the coming thing," Jan Krebs, designer for the Pontiac car, said.

The designers carried the exterior color into the interior, using matching metallic leathers and vinyls. They also used high-fashion fabrics of silk and orlon.

★ ★ ★

Can't you just imagine yourself driving down the avenue in a chiffon pink convertible that has matching leather and multi-colored Aztec design nylon cloth interior?

Or, how would you like driving on mouton carpeting? Miss Krebs came up with this idea for her black hardtop. The interior is predominately black to match the exterior, but she uses emerald green in an elegant fabric of green satin threads woven into a black background. The emerald green is enclosed in the side sweep spears, too.

She also added a glamorous lap robe of fur fabric lined with satin and a small crest on the fender for that ultra-important look. She calls the hardtop "Sophistique."

REALLY CAR-MINDED

Jan told us that she likes to race and repair sports cars in her spare time (she's really car-minded) and she has won three first-place trophies in Sports Car Club of America regional events. Besides working and relaxing with cars, she lives with three other GM women designers.

★ ★ ★

These other women designers added the feminine touch to GM cars through the use of built-in vanities in the glove compartment, umbrellas fitted into the doors, or telescoping umbrellas fastened in tubes under the seat.

They also used beaded designs on the interior and elegant fabrics for headliners.

★ ★ ★

Colors range from champagne white, grape ice and chiffon pink to two-tone lavender, tangerine and onyx. We think you'll agree—it's a wonderful age—and women are contributing so much.

ELLEN VAN WAGONER

Mr. and Mrs. Murray D. Van Wagoner of Birmingham announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen, to Walter O. Wikol of Birmingham. Ellen was graduated from the University of Michigan where she was affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority. The couple plans a July 6 wedding at Holy Name Church, Birmingham.

Good Looks Help Girl Go Forward

Whatever it is you want most from life will come far more readily if you are attractive. It may be a job or a man or both.

★ ★ ★

This doesn't mean that you must be a raving beauty to achieve happiness. As a matter of fact, many great beauties have known very little happiness.

It means that careful attention to figure, hair and skin can make you into a lovely person even though you do not possess true beauty at the outset.

Any girl who envies other women their good looks is the girl who says she never has time to exercise or diet or brush her hair daily.

She does have time to loll about eating candy or watching TV endlessly. She has lots of time in which to feel vaguely dissatisfied.

★ ★ ★

She won't take the time to do something about her dissatisfaction. And so the rewards go to other women.

Beauty Hint

To be a really relaxed human being, see to it that you put yourself to bed early at least three nights a week. You can't be relaxed if you've a case of nerves resulting from a lack of sleep.

Volunteer Work Can Enrich Lives

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There is no such thing as an unimportant activity.

★ ★ ★

We think that certain things are significant and others are not; but we never know, as life goes along, which will turn out to be the important ones.

For example, volunteer work.

Most of us at one time or another take on volunteer work without giving it much thought.

★ ★ ★

If it is along the lines of our main talents, it might lead to great and exciting things. If we love doing it, it will enrich our lives and make us more attractive human beings.

A GRIM DUTY

But if we don't care much for it, and it is not along the lines of our aptitudes and we do it as a grim duty, it will do neither ourselves nor the organization any good.

We won't stick at it and we'll end up with a sense of distaste and a guilty conscience for being quitters.

First, decide exactly how much time you can devote to it, regularly, and stick to that time.

Don't be convinced or persuaded. Don't bite off more than you can chew, no matter how desperate the organization says it is!

Second, think in terms of what you can contribute, as well as what is needed.

DON'T DO IT

If they need cooks and you're a terrible cook, don't do it. Good motives, patriotism or nobility won't make a good cook out of a bad cook. You'll do them no good and you'll become a nervous wreck.

Instead, find an organization that needs the kind of services you can perform. Then you'll grow and develop and become more attractive as well as more helpful.

Third, try to learn as much as you can about the organization itself. Even if you're a minor cog in the great big wheel, do learn the history of the organization, it purpose, its aims.

Then your work will have more meaning to you and you'll be able to tell others about it.

Nothing is worse than to have somebody ask an interested question and to have to say, in effect, "I don't know—I only work here!"

If you want to get more out of your volunteer work, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and I'll send you my pamphlet, Pointers to a Volunteer Job.

Everything Must Be Kept Exactly in Place

Perfectionist Husband Stifles Fun

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Not long ago I wrote about the strain of living with a perfectionist housekeeper. Evidently some women are harassed by perfectionist husbands, or husbands who insist that the women be perfectionist housekeepers — this to the point of absurdity.

This is what one woman wrote to me.

"My children and I have lived with a perfectionist for many years, and it hasn't been exactly fun.

"We relax and live a normal life when he isn't around, but the minute we see him coming home from work we rush around picking up anything that is out of place. When he comes in he immediately makes an inspection.

"The curtains must be at the level he thinks just right, the furniture must be in just the line he likes, etc. Even the knick-knacks must be at a certain angle.

"In the yard there isn't a leaf or blade of grass out of place. You wouldn't dare throw a match or a cigarette butt on the lawn if you dared smoke. When I return the car after doing errands, he examines it carefully for scars or dirt.

"We never entertain because the guests might mess up the house or injure something. He hasn't one single, solitary friend."

Great heavens, I think the man is nuts. I feel sorry for him, too, because he must lead a very boring life. I sincerely believe that he badly needs psychiatric help.

The next time my husband throws his shirt on the floor and puts his feet on the table I am certainly going to remember how lucky I am that he is not a perfectionist.

Expose your neckline but let large arms take cover, a good trick to remember for, as a rule, the large woman has a beautiful plump cheek to expose. The mock bolero or the real bolero is your best friend.

MRS. CARL J. OLSON JR.

Marlene Cook Becomes Bride in St. Michael Rite

A bridal gown of lace over satin was worn by Marlene Ann Cook for her marriage this morning to Carl Joseph Olson Jr. The Sabrina neckline of the lace gown was accented with seed pearls.

★ ★ ★

The skirt was fashioned with pleated tulle ruffles down the side extending into a chapel train. Her shell-type cap of lace secured a fingertip veil of silk illusion and her bridal bouquet was composed of three white orchids on a white mother-of-pearl prayerbook.

The bride was given in marriage by her father in the presence of 200 guests. The Rev. Michael J. O'reilly celebrated the 10 o'clock Nuptial High Mass in St. Michael Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Cook of North Perry street are parents of the bride. Carl's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Joseph Olson of Wilmington, Del.

GOWNED IN PINK

Other attendants were Dolores Cook, sister of the bride; Mrs. Milton Ott and Mrs. James Glynn. Their gowns were pink lace and they carried lace baskets of pink roses and white carnations.

★ ★ ★

A reception will be held at the K. of C. Hall this evening.

Mrs. Olson wore beige lace with pink accessories. Her corsage was also of pink carnations.

★ ★ ★

The newlyweds will honeymoon in the New England states and will reside on Charlotte street when they return.

Bride-Elect's Mom Submits the Name of Disliked Aunt

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "I am going to give a shower for the daughter of a friend. Not knowing the bride's friends, I asked her mother for the names of those who would like to come to a shower for Mary.

Included in this list was the name of one of the bride's aunts. I have not spoken to this person for some time, and the bride's mother knows this.

"Wasn't it cheeky of her to expect me to invite her to my house, knowing the circumstances, and can I take it upon myself to cross her name from the list?"

Answer: I think the bride's mother was trying to be a peacemaker, and put her name on the list in the hope that a truce might occur. At any rate, if you are serious about not inviting her to your house, you can certainly cross her name from the list.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently in our home economics class in high school we were discussing dating manners. Our teacher said that it was not good manners for a girl to hold the arm of a boy while walking on the street. Most of us disagree with her and think she is wrong about this. Will you please set us straight?"

Answer: When wearing evening dress—especially with high-heeled slippers, or when the street is icy—it is entirely proper that he offer his arm and that she take it. Otherwise, when his assistance is unnecessary, she should walk beside him unaided.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is proper to have a bridal shower for someone who is being married for the second time? I am very anxious to have this information."

Answer: Usually showers are not given for a second-time bride. However, exceptional situations do alter cases and if her friends have a special reason why they are inclined to give her a shower, and also if she had none before, it would be quite all right.

Confident Living

Creative Vital Link to God Lies Deep in Mind of Man

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

In reading an interesting book, "The Magic Power of Your Mind," by Dr. Walter Germain, I found a thought-provoking incident which seems worth passing on to you.

DR. PEALE

A man of 84 was hit by a truck while crossing the street and killed. Under the regulations of the community in which this accident happened, an autopsy was required.

In the course of the autopsy, the medical examiner discovered many tuberculosis scars on the man's lungs. He found extensive evidence of ulcers. The heart and kidneys showed considerable deterioration. The doctor was amazed enough to telephone the widow to re-check the man's age.

"How old did you say your husband was?" he asked.

"Eighty-four," the widow answered.

"Why," the doctor told her, "with all the things that were wrong with him, he lived thirty years beyond his time. How do you account for your husband's vitality and continuing energy in the fact of such a medical history?"

"Well," she replied, "I wouldn't know except that my husband never went to bed at night without saying, "I will be better tomorrow."

This is a very plain and clear illustration of the fact that even when there are physiologocal difficulties in the human body, the focusing upon them of the health-producing, dynamic, creative power of the mind greatly helps.

MIND HAS POWER

So many positive results have been noted that the use of such a phrase as "the magic power of your mind" is quite understandable.

The more I read the Bible, the more I pray, the more I try to study the ways of God and man — the more convinced I am that God has given to us more power over our own lives than any of us have even taken.

For He has given us the power to think, the power to believe, the power to have faith — and thus the power to channel into our lives His creative forces.

EASY TO MOAN

It's so very easy to become discouraged and moan that "Everything's going bad with me; I'm just licked by everything." You may say that to yourself when you get up in the morning, and repeat it to your friends all day, and tell it to your wife when you go to bed at night.

Everyone will think you are a pathetic figure — and you will indeed be just that. And, furthermore, thinking that way is likely to affect events and you adversely.

Or, on the other hand, you can ask God for hope and optimism, and He will create in you a new spirit. And how important to your well being this is! Remember the words from the Proverbs, "For as he thinketh in his heart, so is he."

When the Bible speaks of "heart," it surely refers to the deep subconscious, the inner essence of human nature. With God's help you can do amazing things in your life, that is, if you want to do so with all your heart, which means with all of your deep desire and real faith.

You are master of your life — God and you. Lift your thoughts. Get your thinking full of God. Then you will be flooded with courage and hope.

This will not necessarily remove the difficulty and pain of life, but such healthy thinking will help you to bear what you must, and in a remarkable way will make you feel so much better.

LAKE STREET CHURCH OF GOD — The sanctuary of the new Lake Street Church of God, paneled in mahogany with buff walls, will seat 250 with a choir loft for 45. The floor is green and black marbleized tiling. In front of the baptistry is an Easter background in color called "Christ Is Risen." It is 19½ feet long and 7 feet high. Future plans call for an oak pulpit and pews. Zimmerman Architects Inc. designed the church.

New Building to Be Dedicated

Congregation to Tour Church; Social Period, Reception Follow

The dedication of the new church building of the Lake Street Church of God will be at 3 p.m. Sunday with the Rev. Melvin Massey preaching the sermon.

The church had its beginning in 1933 when the present pastor, the Rev. Paul C. Cooley, moved here from Detroit with his family.

The first location was a rented building on South boulevard and Highland avenue. Two of the five charter members are still living in this area, the Rev. Mrs. Cynthia Tucker and the Rev. Mrs. Jennie White.

Later the congregation moved to 65 Elizabeth St. in the old Trinity Baptist Church. During the war, the pastor was granted worship privileges in the Crystal Beach Federal Public Housing Project. It was then known as the Crystal Beach Church of God.

In March 1946, the congregation acquired property at the present site, Lake and Orton streets. Recent services have been held on Wessen street.

Th 34' x 65' building of cement blocks will house 250 people with a choir loft for 35. The front of the church is of Roman brick with windows of amber cathedral glass.

An accordion curtain in surf green separates the three class rooms. The walls match the curtain.

The parking lot will accommodate more than 50 cars. The church and parsonage are across the street from the Bethune School where the Rev. Mr. Cooley has served as vice president.

Th dedication service will open with the processional, "Onward Christian Soldiers." Following the responsive call to worship, the male quartet will sing "Church of God."

At the close of the service, the trustees and members of the building committee will conduct a tour of the church with a reception and social period in the Upper Room. The Rev. Mr. Cooley is assisted by pastors, Nora V. Pearson and Burton E. Stevens.

Rev. Richard W. Thomas to Mark 25th Anniversary

Twenty five years in the priesthood will be marked by Rev. Fr. Richard W. Thomas, Sunday and Monday, with special ceremonies and parish functions at St. Benedict Church.

The two day event will begin Sunday at 12:45 p. m. with a Solemn Mass of Thanksgiving, Father Thomas to be celebrant. Rev. Fr. Paul C. Heenan will assist as deacon and Rev. Fr. Frederick J. Delaney, sub-deacon.

The sermon will be given by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph V. Pfeffer, former pastor of St. Vincent de Paul parish.

At 2 o'clock a testimonial dinner served by the ladies of the parish will be attended by relatives, fellow priests, teaching nuns and old friends with whom Father Thomas has been associated, in his 25 years as a priest. At 6 p. m., there will be the first of two public receptions in the parish hall.

A second Thanksgiving Mass will be sung at 8 a. m., Monday for the children of St. Benedict's School. Rev. Fr. John J. Hoar and Rev. Fr. Joseph W. Swastek will be the assistants and Father Thomas will address the children.

A breakfast for the school children, as guests of the pastor, will follow with a testimonial program planned by the pupils.

The formal parish reception will be at 7 o'clock Monday evening, with Father Hoar as master of ceremonies.

This week, Father Thomas took part in a corporate Mass of Thanksgiving at Blessed Sacrament Cathedral, Detroit, along with 21 fellow priests, who were in the same ordination class in 1932.

His first assignment upon completion of his studies was at St. Michael's parish. There followed assistant pastorates at St. Gabriel and St. Elizabeth parishes in Detroit, and then Father Thomas was sent to Allenton, to establish St. John's parish.

Upon completion of this task, he was appointed to St. Benedict's, in April 1953. His pastorate here has seen the erecting of an eight grade elementary school and a convent for the Dominican Sisters, who teach.

With the rapid growth of the suburban West Side areas, the parish has grown from 400 families to nearly 1,000 in the past four years.

In addition, representatives of all parish guilds and organizations have contributed their efforts to the plans.

Suzy Parker of Fashion Leaps to Movie Stardom

By BOB THOMAS

★ ★ ★

She has supported herself quite nicely since she was 15. And she swears she will never marry.

"Never!" she emphasized. "I admire men too much."

"I make no bones about liking men more than women," she explained. "They are more interesting, more trustworthy than women.

★ ★ ★

"You can be in love with a man much better when you aren't married to him. When you marry, the relationship is destroyed. I don't want that. When I date a man, he knows I will never be a weight around his neck.

"I couldn't stand having a man support me. I'm too independent."

Her independent course has taken her from the modeling world of New York to the capitals of Europe and now to the prospect of top stardom in movies. She is co-starring with Cary Grant and Jayne Mansfield in "Kiss Them for Me."

★ ★ ★

Now in her early 20s, Suzy was born in San Antonio, Tex. She grew up in Pomona Springs, Fla. During the summers, she modeled in New York.

"There was nothing creative in modeling," she remarked. "All you did was present yourself for the photographer to work with."

So she dashed off to Paris to work as photographer for a photo agency. After three years abroad, she gave up and returned to the United States.

Her acting career began through Richard Avedon, consultant and inspiration for "Funny Face." She did a bit in the picture, took acting lessons and after a small role in "Mayerling" on TV, she decided acting was for her.

Grocer Holds No Grudge

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Raquel Cordova, a grocer, is certainly a man who holds no grudges. Cordova captured Alfonso Vigil attempting to burglarize his grocery store. Afterwards, he provided food for Vigil's wife and nine children to eat while Vigil is in jail.

Largest Summer Group to Open

'Music Circle' Theater Situated in County to Open June 17

Stars of Broadway and television, supported by professional casts perform in the theater-in-the-round. Music Circle occupies the Farmington Township site formerly used by Melody Circus Tent Theater.

Oakland County area audiences will, in addition to professional casts, have the added advantage of productions which have just finished a run. Flint Music Tent, in third successful season, and Music Circle will exchange companies, affording performances of high quality.

A company of more than 90 will make the area producing unit the largest single summer group in the nation, sponsors said.

Julia Meade and John Cipher will open the season June 17 with the Amish-based musical "Plain and Fancy."

Following will be "Pajama Game," "Can-Can," "New Moon," "Peter Pan," "Anything Goes," "Boy Friend," "Brigadoon," "Naughty Marietta," "Damn Yankee," and "South Pacific.' With the exception of "Plain and Fancy," all productions will open Tuesday night and close after the Sunday night performance.

Wild America, Staid Britain Switching Roles?

LONDON (AP) — Home from a three - year assignment in the United States, a British reporter wrote today that "Britain is be%coming Americanized, and America is going British."

"While New York grumbles that its eight TV stations (actually there are seven) are being engulfed by old British films," wrote Christopher Lucas in the Daily Mail, "Britain's screens are saturated with 'canned' American shows.

"While our car industry splashes each new model with brings its cars closer and closer more color and chrome, Detroit to Britain's low-slung 'sporting look.'

"Back home I can't help noticing London shop windows ablaze with 'Hollywood' ties and sports shirts which no American would wear behind shuttered windows.

"Manhattan's pavements, meanwhile, are crowded with executives in somber charcoal gray, and society matrons in the fustiest of tweeds."

Lucas said he ate hundreds of pounds of steak and hamburgers by the hundred during his three-year sojourn across the Atlantic, but the fast pace in the "land of plenty" sent him home 21 pounds lighter.

Many girls like to get married in June becuse it gives their husbands several months to save up for a mink coat — Taffy Tuttle says she'd like to visit the Grand Canyon — b t t with her luck she'd travel 'way out there and find it closed. — Earl Wilson

Hayes Jones Shatters 4 Meet Marks

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Ex-Pontiac High Track Ace Runs Century in 9.4

Also Sets Conference Records in 2 Hurdles and Broad Jump

Former Pontiac High School track star Hayes Jones continued his phenomenal winning ways as an Eastern Michigan College freshman by setting four new records in the preliminaries of the Interstate Conference track meet being held at Charleston, Ill.

Jones led 19 Huron qualifiers into the finals which will take place today.

The former Chief ace started with a :14.4 in the 120 yard high hurdles to better the record held by Keith Gunderm another former Eastern Michigan trackman in 1950.

This time was still not his best of the season. He posted a :13.9 in the Ohio Relays earlier this season.

Jones then raced to victory in the 100-yard dash in a time of :09.4 which is only one-tenth off the world record of :09.3.

For the first time in his career, Jones soared past 24 feet in the broad jump. Previously his best was 23-feet 11 and ¼ inches. Yesterday he went 24-feet and ⅝ to better the record of 23-feet 9 and ¼ inches.

In the 220-yard low hurdles, Jones was clocked at :22.9 which bettered the old mark of 23.2 held by Norb Badar formerly of Eastern Michigan.

The four victories for Jones was the 11th time in 14 meets during the indoor-outdoor season in which he has won three or more firsts in a single day's events.

He took five firsts in six events at the Miami Relays and took five for five against Central Michigan.

NEW MARK — Hayes Jones continued his winning ways in record manner yesterday in the preliminaries of the Interstate Conference Track meet. He broke four records in the league including this broad jump of 24 feet ⅝ inches to lead Eastern Michigan into the finals.

Pussy-Footin' Tribe Nears Top

Chisox Edge Cut to 2 Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cleveland's Indians may be the most overlooked second-place team baseball has had in a long time.

★ ★ ★

But while the Chicago White Sox made off with the American League lead with a 10-game unbeaten streak and the New York Yankees played night games in a plush tavern, the Indians were pussy-footin' to 11 victories in 14 games, virtually unnoticed.

The Tribe finally caught the eye last night, knocking off the White Sox 4-3 to creep within two games of the lead in the opener of a four-game set at Cleveland.

Cleveland began the current side by tripping the Yankees after the champs had won six in a row to gain first place. But the two-game sweep was almost overlooked with the injury to Herb Score in the first game of the set.

★ ★ ★

Since then, the Tribe has stepped right along with a quartet of .300 hitters in Vic Wertz (.337), Gene Woodling (.324), Roger Maris (.315) and Rocky Colavito (.311) helping to make up for shaky pitching that has accomplished only one complete game in the surge.

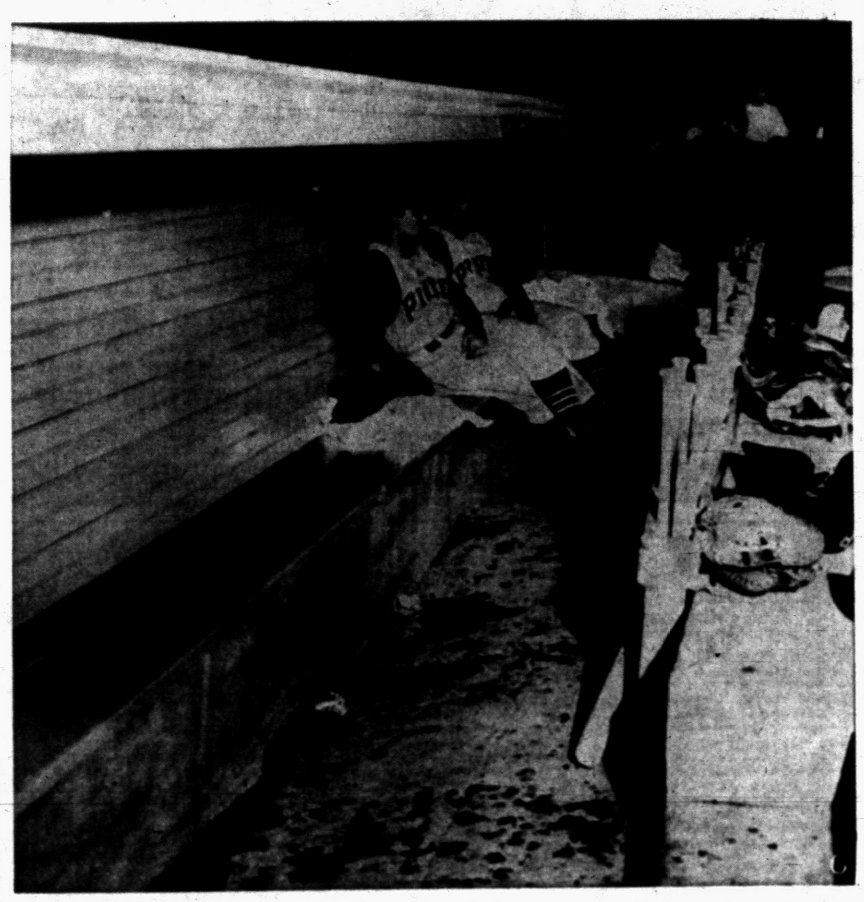

It was Wertz and Colavito who delivered the pay off singles as the Tribe scored twice in the seventh to win last night after trailing 3-2.

The victory kept the Indians a game ahead of the Yankees, who ended a two-game slump with an 8-1 breeze past Washington. Boston rallied to beat Baltimore 4-3 and gain a fourth-place tie with Detroit, 5½ games back, in the only other AL game played. The Tigers were rained out at Kansas City.

In the National, Cincinnati's Redlegs held on to a two-game lead although beaten 9-6 by St. Louis. Milwaukee, whipped 5-1 at Chicago, gave up a share of second place to the Brooklyn Dodgers, who defeated the New York Giants 6-0. Philadelphia's Phillies banged four home runs to beat Pittsburgh, 7-3.

The Cardinals, who had lost five in a row, clobbered starter-loser Joe Nuxhall and four Redleg relievers for 15 hits. Hal Smith had three and Don Blasingame drove in four runs with two. Larry Jackson, coming on when starter Sam Jones wrenched a knee in the third inning, won it, but needed Hoyt Wilhelm's help when the Redlegs scored four in the ninth.

ALL ALONE — Pittsburgh Pirate manager Bobby Bragan and coach Danny Murtaugh were all alone in the dugout last night after the umpire cleaned the bench by banishing 10 players and two coaches in the game in Philadelphia. The Pirates heckled umpire Stan Landis for a call, and everyone got the bounce.

Shaw's Defeats Thomas Die, 7-1

A combined four-hit pitching job by Dick Goldsworthy and Steve Kebler and an 11-hit batting attack paced Shaw's Jewelers to a 7-1 triumph over Thomas Die & Stamping in a City League baseball game last night.

Six runs in the final two innings broke up the nip-and-tuck battle which had been 1-0 in favor of Shaw's after five innings.

Joe Sato smashed a triple and double, Terry Thomas had a triple and single and Bob Swindell singled twice to lead the winning cause. Four errors hurt the losing cause.

Paddy Accepts Keego Position

Bay City Central Cage Coach Resigns to Take Three-Sport Job

Art Paddy, head basketball coach at Bay City Central, yesterday resigned his position and it was immediately announced that he has signed a contract at West Bloomfield High School to assume the positions of head football, basketball and track coach.

Paddy in his four years at the Saginaw Valley school posted an overall basketball record of 32 wins and 34 losses.

He is a 1941 graduate of the University of Michigan and served in the U. S. Air Force during W. W. II.

West Bloomfield superintendent of schools Lee Hougen made confirmation of Paddy's position with the high school this morning.

With Paddy handling all three sports at the Keego school Hougen indicated that "there would not be as many coaches on the athletic staff."

Big Ten Relaxes 'Aid' Plan

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—The Big Ten has somewhat relaxed parts of its new financial aid to athletes plan and two more softening up proposals were to come before today's concluding session of faculty representatives.

The facultymen and athletic directors yesterday eased the recruiting regulation of the new code to permit an athletic staff member of a school to visit or interview a prospective athlete off campus after the athlete has accepted a tender of aid.

There was a ban on such interviews or visits before.

Representatives proposed a revision that would award aid to an athlete in the amount of room, board, books, tuition and fees if he is in the upper one-quarter of his high school class and maintains an academic average no lower than the upper one-fourth of the men students in his division of college.

Under the aid program as it now stands, a tuition grant is permitted to an athlete who graduates in the upper one third of his high school class and thereafter maintains a "B" average.

The proposed revision must be acted upon under the so-called white resolution which requires a 60-day deliberation. Thus, even with final approval, it could not become effective until the winter term of the next school year.

Two other modifications to be studied today include permitting grants-in-aid to transfer students from junior colleges and allowing a cost differential in expenses for attending the various Big Ten schools. The latter was suggested by Northwestern which has a basic-cost figure of $1,800 yearly, highest in the conference.

Bill DeRousse Hurls No-Hitter

Bill DeRousse flipped a no-hitter as the UAW-CIO nine whipped Richard's Tavern by a 4-0 count and Deni's Corner downed Pontiac State Hospital 8-5 in a City Softball League doubeheader at Beaudette Park last night.

Both were make-up games from previously postponed tilts due to rain. Four more make-up contests are scheduled for Sunday.

DeRousse allowed only four men to reach base, three on walks, in his strong showing. His mates scored early, paced by the hitting of J. Schwartz.

Deni's tallied five times in the 1st two innings and kept pouring it on although outhit 8-6. Kudray led the attack with a double and single.

In Sunday games, Pontiac Select-O-Drink meets the UAW-CIO No. 653 team at 7 and Stadium Inn vs. Shaw's Jewelry at 8:30 in a twin bill at Beaudette. Pontiac State Hospital plays Pontiac Police and Eddie's Bar battles Drive-In Cleaners at the same times at North Side.

He reported that he sliced his ball into a lake near here. It stunned a trout that had risen to the surface to catch a fly. Another golfer waded in, retrieved the ball—and caught the trout.

WORLD RECORD — Tom Courtney breaks the tape in the 880-yard run last night at the Los Angeles Coliseum Relays to set a new world record. Courtney, member of the U. S. Army, ran the event in 1:46.8 to break the former mark of 1:47.5 held by Lon Spurrier.

Rain Ruins Kuenn's Bid to Snap Slump

KANSAS CITY (UP) — Harvey Kuenn stood in the Detroit dugout watching the rain pour down on the diamond at Municipal Stadium last night and said:

Kuenn was the only member of the Tigers who got a chance to bat in the abortive attempt to play despite the thunderstorm.

Hitless in his last 15 times up and shoved back into his familiar leadoff spot, Kuenn battled the raindrops and rapped a sharp single to center off Kansas City's Tom Morgan.

As Kuenn pulled up on first the shower turned into a downpour and the umpires ordered the field covered. They waited 50 minutes, then called the game. The hit was washed out along with the contest and officially Kuenn still is 0-for-15.

★ ★ ★

"I haven't been able to buy a hit, I finally get one and then this happens," Kuenn moaned.

A shower had delayed the start of the game 15 minutes and it still was dripping when Morgan began his warmup throws.

In the new Tiger batting order Kuenn would have been followed by Jack Dittmer, who was starting at third base and Ray Boone. Charlie Maxwell was in the clean-up spot with Al Kaline fifth and Frank Bolling sixth.

★ ★ ★

The two teams have another night game scheduled tonight and indications were that both managers would stick with their mound choices—Morgan for Kansas City and Duke Maas for Detroit.

Tigers Promote Jimmy Campbell

DETROIT (UP) — The Detroit Tigers announced today farm director James A. Campbell has been promoted to business manager and elected secretary-treasurer of three Tiger farm teams.

Executive vice president Harry M. Sisson said Campbell, in addition to becoming farm director, will take over duties as secretary-treasurer of Tiger-owned farm teams at Augusta, Baldosta and Charleston and direct operational procedures of contracts for the rental of Briggs Stadium.

Hoosiers Lead Way to Finals With Thirteen

Defending Champ 'M' Has Only 6 Thinclads After Qualifying

EVANSTON, Ill. (UP) — Indiana's Hoosiers, paced by Greg Bell, today swooped into the finals of the 57th Big Ten track and field meet a firm favorite to capture their fourth conference outdoor title in 53 seasons.

Led by Olympic champion Bell, the Hoosiers dominated yesterday's preliminaries at Northwestern University's Dyche Stadium by qualifying 13 men in the seven events tested.

The only school with a chance of derailing Indiana appeared to be Ohio State with nine qualifiers, but the Buckeye bid rests mainly on their one-man gang Glenn Davis.

The lone championship decided yesterday was the discus which produced a new titlist in Minnesota's Dake Yonkey. He flipped the platter 159 feet, 4½ inches.

Bell gets three more cracks today at Jesse Owens' world and Big Ten broad jump record of 26 feet, 8¼ inches. Bell, current Olympic broad jump champion, fouled on two of his four preliminary tries yesterday. His best effort was 25-3½.

Bell had the best clocking in both the 100-yard dash (:09.8) and the 220-yard dash (21.4). His teammate Willie May had the best times in the 120-yard high hurdles (14.7) and in the 220-yard low hurdles (24.2).

'Chop 'Em Up' Jackson Will Fight Patterson

NEW YORK (UP) — Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson the "chop 'em up" man with the double uppercut, actually is going to fight for the world heavyweight championship as Floyd Patterson makes his first defense at the Polo Grounds in New York July 29 or July 30.

★ ★ ★

Finding the challenger has been the most difficult part of the independent promotion by Emil Lence, a dress manufacturer who used to run fights at Eastern Parkway Arena in Brooklyn.

Ever since Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, made his impassioned personal declaration of independence from the International Boxing Club, Lence has been trying to sign Jackson, the No. 1 contender.

Through the mediation of Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, they finally got together yesterday. Lippe Breidbart, Jackson's manager, agreed to 20 per cent of "everything" including gate receipts and a guaranteed TV revenue of $175,000. D'Amato will get 40 per cent for the champion. Halfand helped iron out a last minute hitch when Breidbart finally agreed to a rematch in case Jackson won the title.

Television is a key to this promotion, as it is in most boxing promotion. Lance's lawyer, Howard Shelton, claims they have three actual offers of $175,000 from sponsors. The promoter is shopping around the networks, looking for the best deal. In any event, there will be a TV blackout in New York and surrounding area.

The IBC, already up to its ears in a hearing on how to break up its boxing monopoly, didn't appear overly concerned. Harry Markson, IBC managing director, issued the following statement:

"I am very glad Patterson is going to defend against a worthy challenger and I also am pleased that Lippe Breidbart is following and advice of Jim Norris (IBC president) who had urged him to take the fight."

★ ★ ★

No sooner had the match been announced than Patterson was established a 4 to 1 favorite and 7 to 5 choice to knock out the Hurricane.

St. Mary's Athletes Feted Sunday at OL

Athletes in five sports will be honored Sunday at Orchard Lake St. Mary's annual spring all-sports banquet. Starting time is 5:30 p.m.

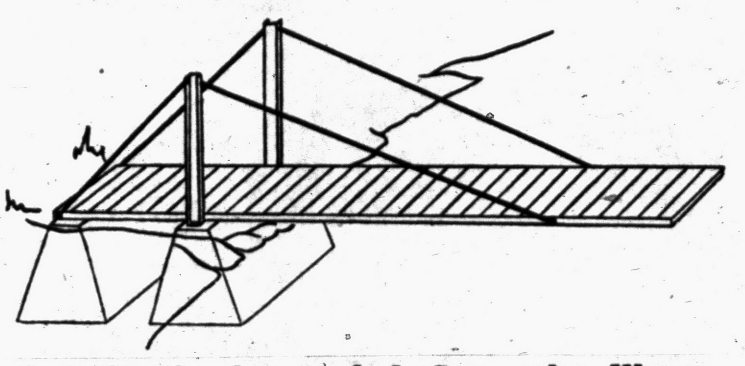

Following dinner in the campus dining hall, the program switches to the school gymnasium where letters will be presented to Eaglet athletes in football, basketball, baseball, track and golf. Special awards, including the "achievement award," will also be made.

Guest speakers are Roland Langerman, cross-country coach at Walled Lake, and Joseph Grajewski, who captained St. Mary's 1933 Class C state basketball champs. Rev. Thaddeus Wytijewski, athletic director of Detroit St. Thomas, is toastmaster.

Coach Phil Watson of the New York Rangers starred as a player when the team won the Stanley Cup hockey series in 1941.

Both Bill Hartack and Willie Shoemaker have ridden one Kentucky Derby winner and one second in the last three Derbies.

George Is Wholesome but He Doesn't Like It

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"George, are you the wholesome type?"

GEORGE: "Yes!"

★ ★ ★

"Do you like being wholesome?"

GEORGE: "No!"

"What's the trouble?"

GEORGE: "I'm so wholesome, I'm not even allowed to do fat wife jokes anymore, because I might offend somebody's fat wife. The only thing I've got left to make jokes about now is spooky old Alice."

George and his wife were relaxing, George in red slacks, a red shirt and red socks. "He can't offend me," Alice said with a nice smile.

GEORGE: "The first time I found out how wholesome I was it made the front pages, I had a line saying, 'Contrary to popular belief, happiness can be bought. On your way home, stop and pick up a fifth.' We got a lot of squeaks from the churches and it got into the papers."

GEORGE and ALICE

★ ★ ★

"Who keeps you so wholesome?"

GEORGE: "One time we had a swayback horse on the show. I got a very intelligent letter from a viewer who had always thought I was clean and wholesome, but was outraged at my writers making jokes about a poor old horse that had never done anything wrong in its life but work from dawn to dusk and that's why it was swaybacked . . . I felt like having a good cry about that horse after that letter."

Actor's Story Delays Sentence

Franciosa's Sad Tale Causes Judge to Study Battery Ruling

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The tearful admission of actor Anthony Franciosa that he once tried to steal a sewing machine because he was hungry, today held up his sentencing on a battery charge.

Municipal Judge Mark Brandler ordered a full report by the probation department on the 29-year-old actor after he had pleaded guilty to kicking a news photographer's camera and then told of his earlier arrest.

"Your honor," Franciosa began in an emotion - choked voice. "I don't know if robbery is the right word. Maybe you won't believe this in this day and age. I was hungry. . .

"I took this sewing machine from a theater where I worked. In San Francisco. I wanted to hock it and get some money. Well, it was Christmas time. I had the idea of someday returning it.

"I was caught in the act."

Tears were streaming down Franciosa's face as he finished the recital. He said he was convicted of petty theft, given a one-year suspended jail sentence and placed on probation as a result of the sewing machine incident, which occurred in 1950 or 1951. He also admitted two previous drunk arrests.

★ ★ ★

Judge Brandler said a routine check with the police department had not disclosed any arrest record for Franciosa and that as a result of the disclosures he would postpone sentencing the actor on the battery charge until he had received a full probation report.

Franciosa, who married actress Shelley Winters three weeks ago, was arrested for his attack on a photographer who tried to take a picture of him and Miss Winters leaving a courtroom last April 19.

Elvis' Spokesman Denies Wedding Talk

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A spokesman for Elvis Presley has denied a published report that the rock 'n' roll singer plans to marry actress Yvonne Lime.

The report originated in a Mexico City newspaper, Ultimas Noticias. It said the singer would fly to Mexico City Monday then continue to Acapulco for the ceremony.

Miss Lime was the singer's guest at his new $100,000 home in Memphis, Tenn., earlier this month.

Say Post Office Action Voided No-Strike Rule

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—An Illinois mail carriers organization yesterday said the April 13 closing of post offices by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield voided the postal service's no-strike rule.

The annual convention of the Illinois Letter Carriers Assn., said that since Summerfield forced them to "strike," they now have the "privilege" of striking on their own. The group adopted a resolution to that effect. The mailmen did not say they had any strike in mind, however.

Cancer Society Workers Meet

Group Hears Reports on Crusade to Control Disease in Nation

A group of American Cancer Society workers met Thursday to hear reports of the April Crusade to control cancer.

Dr. John J. Marra, president of the North Oakland County unit of the Southeastern Michigan Division stated that there is one death from cancer every other minute around the clock; but, on the positive side, great strides have been made in the control and treatment of cancer in the past five to ten years. For example, he named the use of radioactive cobalt, gold and phosphorus.

"One million dollars for cancer research 10 years ago; eight million this year!" he said. "And with the federal government now helping to the amount of $30 million, most of which goes to institutions to train scientists and to expand and improve facilities, progress must come," the doctor said.

Mrs. Philip Francis, chairman of the women's division for the Crusade, reported on the work of the 16 branches. All of them promoted cancer education; those not in United Fund areas reported on their fund-raising activities. Thirteen thousand people in the division area saw the cancer film "Man Alive," offered in the ACS movie-mobiles.

Judge Clark J. Adams, the unit Crusade chairman, stressed the fact that more men die of cancer than women, yet women do much more work for the cause than men do. He was happy to report a small increase in the funds raised over last year, but felt the percentage should be, and would be, much higher next year.

5,500 Miles of State Roads to Be Painted

LANSING (AP) — A major pavement line repainting program is underway to cover some 5,500 miles of state trunklines at a cost of $200,000, the State Highway Department has reported.

Paint crews will use 36,500 gallons of white paint, 36,000 gallons of black paint and 24,000 gallons of yellow paint plus 510,000 pounds of glass beads applied to make the paint show up at night.

Nine machines and crews are now working on the most heavily-travelled trunklines in the southern part of the state and a tenth machine will be put on the highways next week in the southeastern section.

Crews will work their way northward and eventually go into the Upper Peninsula with the entire program expected to be completed about July 1, depending on the weather.

Parents Should Return Them to Schools

Ask MSU Questionnaires

Parents of Pontiac area school children were urged today to return to the schools the questionnaires recently distributed by Michigan State University.

The results will be tabulated by MSU this summer to help plan its projected branch at Meadowbrook Farm, near Rochester, recently given the university by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wilson.

Parents' views will help in conducting high school programs, adult education activities and developments in the junior college area, according to Dr. Robert L. Hopper, coordinator of the MSU survey team.

Reflections

Hats Off! Memorial Day

J. L. VOORHEES

That war was over! Long lines of tattered, weary men turn their faces homeward as they left the scene of carnage. You and I stand beside a silent mound in tribute to their bravery. Taps are sounded, taking our prayers on the wings of those sharp, clear notes and up to the heaven above.

M. E. SIPLE

Their sacrifices would be in vain if we did not carry on the ideals for which they died. We shall hold aloft those ideals; they will guide us, keep us on the path to a greater United States. They fought for an indestructible union; we must be alert for all attempts at subversion which would destroy that union. This we will do.

We shall keep the faith with those men who fought and died for a United States.

TWO DINING TABLES — The two tables in this picture match in width, height and material. One is longer than the other. When put end to end, there is room for twelve people to eat. Birch Formica was used for the tops; Mr. Flood bound the edges in brass and painted captain's chairs to match the birch. A folding door separates the two parts of the room. Cupboards and drawers in the kitchen pass-through wall open in either direction. The floor is natural finished oak. Light fixtures are brass. Walls are pale green.

LOOK AT THE STORAGE! — All dishes are stored behind closed doors in the Flood house. The birch cabinets have steel knobs. At the end of the long Formica covered counter there is a small planning desk. This counter is perfect for serving buffet suppers. Mrs. Flood's kitchen is planned just for her, has counters built to her correct height and has ideal storage space. Everything has been made easy for her to do her work.

Your Neighbor's House

She Went to School to Plan Kitchen

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Part of the plans for today's house went to school before they were considered acceptable. Because Mrs. Harry Flood of Hammond Lake has a tricky back she took extra care to design her kitchen for easy working.

Before the Floods built their new house a year and a half ago Mrs. Flood attended Professor Frances Sanderson's Wayne University course for cardiac housewives and a home equipment course. The problems of a homemaker with heart trouble and with a bad back are similar; she must not pull, strain, lift or stretch too much. Everything must be done the easy way.

All the counters in Mrs. Flood's kitchen are higher than usual; but they are just right for her. All cupboards have adjustable shelves so that they will fit whatever needs to be stored in them. As far as possible, all items are stored near the place where they are used.

Trays are filed in a long cupboard. Skillets, pans and lids are filed in a bin that opens easily. A light cart with removable trays eliminates carrying heavy loads.

WHEELS LIGHTEN WORK

The electric roaster is on a platform that rolls out from under the oven. It is stored out of sight, but is instantly available. Even the refrigerator is on big wheels so that it can be moved for cleaning.

The cupboards and drawers on the wall that separates the kitchen from the dinette open in either direction. When seated at the dinette table, Mrs. Flood can easily reach the counter-top stove. She has a small planning desk with a comfortable chair where she can sit down to list menus, look up recipes or make phone calls.

Actually, the Floods have two dining rooms, with a folding leather door between them. The floors are natural finished oak. At the window there are more matchstick draperies. Walls are pale green.

Mr. Flood made two dining tables for the new house which match in everything but size. Both have birch Formica tops bound in brass. When put end to end they will seat twelve people. Captain's chairs are painted to match the birch.

There is no extra furniture in these two rooms. All dishes are stored in a long row of built-in cupboards. The Formica counter top here is perfect for serving buffet suppers.

CUPS ARE HIDDEN

The only thing Mrs. Flood regrets about this hidden storage is the fact that she can no longer display her cup collection. She has about sixty-four in all, including a fragile Belique and an unusual carved onyx one.

One end of the dining room is a hallway connecting the living room and the bedroom wing. There is a double-doored coat closet here. The bedroom wing can be completely shut off from the rest of the house.

Because most of the washing comes from the bedrooms, Mrs. Flood planned her laundry room in the bedroom wing. The washer and dryer are set on platforms to raise them to the correct height for her. Above the appliances on the wall there are half a dozen storage cabinets. On the opposite wall there is a yellow plastic folding table for sorting clothes. The floor is tan tile.

The Floods' bedroom is at the back of the house. Pretty butterfly print curtains in blue and lavender are pleasing against the pink walls. On the bed is a handmade appliqued spread done by Mrs. Flood's mother. Furniture is mahogany.

Larry Flood, aged sixteen, has the bedroom at the front of the house. His single bed has a specially designed leather headboard with a bookcase. The candlewick spread is brown and white.

MOUNTS PENNANTS

Walls are cocoa color; the ceiling is cream. On one wall Mrs. Flood mounted all the pennants Larry has collected; it makes an effective wall hanging. Chair cushions and curtains match; they have a Colonial scene in brown and coral printed on white. Bookcases in the room are filled with plane and boat models.

There is no coat closet just inside the front door. The Floods want it this way. The den is the first room to the right and in here there is ample closet space.

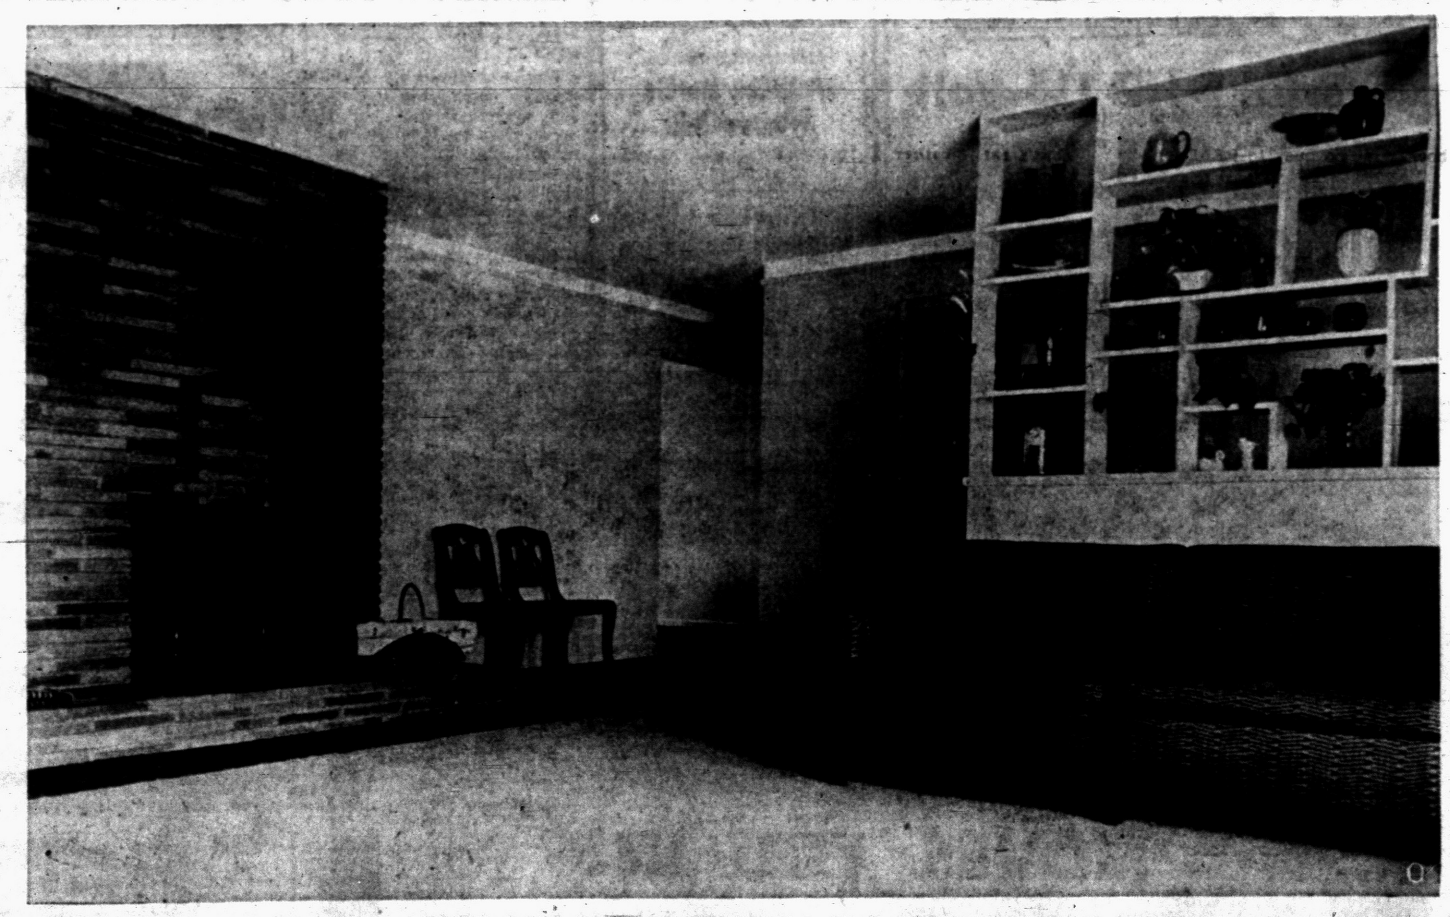

Serving as study, TV room and guest room, this compact place has a desk and a sofa-bed, plus bookcases and the television set. Walls are cocoa; the ceiling and the desk are chartreuse. Chartreuse, combined with gray and brown, appears again in the covering of the sofa. Curtains are off white.

In the living room (as well as in the den) the floor is covered with brown carpet squares. Deep brown squares outline the red brick fireplace. Walls are pale green.

CARPETED IN SQUARES — The Floods used the new (at the time they were put down, late 1955) carpet squares to cover their living room and den floors. These squares are easy to install, can even be switched around if a spot shows up on one. Walls in this room are pale green with white trim. The sofa is also green. The Roman style brick fireplace is red. Light from the front door comes through the many colored pieces of glassware in the divider shelves. Underneath are stored card tables.

A BOY'S ROOM — Larry's room is cocoa, brown and white. His mother made the curtains and covered the chair cushions. His grandmother made the candlewick spread. Larry made the model planes and boats. Note the interesting use of pennants arranged in wheel form on the wall.

AT HAMMOND LAKE — The Harry Floods, former Detroit residents, built this red brick home at Hammond Lake about a year and a half ago. The trim is white. Garage doors are dark green. The Flood house, on a 120x300 foot lot, has an unobstructed view of the lake. Directly in front of it is the residents' beach lot. The Floods designed their own house.

Review and Revise Home Insurance

Have you checked you insurance coverage lately?

Chances are it's been several years since you looked at the policy. In the meantime you probably bought a number of new and expensive household things as well as clothing — even, perhaps, added a new garage or room to the house.

Take for example the air conditioning unit. That's worth about $300. The new rug for the bedroom? That's worth about $100. The TV set? Another $200 or $300 possibly.

These things are just the obvious purchases.

What about little things, the stemware, for example, that your wife bought? And those sheets and towels, blankets and what not?

All those things, let's say, you bought within the last year or so and quite likely you haven't increased your household contents insurance to keep abreast of the new purchases. But what about the other things you insured 10 years ago?

Ever stop to think that practically everything you bought then costs much more today because of the reduced purchasing power of the dollar?

You couldn't replace your dishes today for the price you paid for them 10 years ago. And that goes for about everything else.

And your house?

That's worth about twice what it was 12 years ago. Just the addition of a room, garage, or other improvement may have increased its value to the point where your insurance is no longer adequate. So you should inform your agent or broker of these additions or improvements and consult him concerning the need for additional insurance coverage. Periodically he should be informed likewise of the replacement or addition of household furnishings or equipment to that a revision of the insurance on your dwelling and contents may be effected, as required.

Possibly the best thing to do would be to go over the policy, review the adequacy of the insurance you carry and if the amount doesn't seem to be enough for full protection, increase it accordingly. Your agent or broker will be glad to consult with you about it.

Regular Housecleaning, Not Seasonal Upsets

Benjamin R. Andrews, an authority on household economics, describes various levels of cleanliness standards in his book, "Economics of the Household." He gives highest rating to the homemaker who maintains a regular schedule of cleaning at frequent intervals, whose methods provide for dust removal and dust exclusion and whose personal habits minimize dust and dirt in the home.

★ ★ ★

Fortunately, with the modern vacuum cleaner of today, most any homemaker can rate this category. The chore of maintaining a clean home is the matter of simply a few minutes' attention each day.

Maple Flooring Used on Walls

Maple magic at work! Architects, interior decorators and designers are now recommending the regular lengths of tongued and grooved hardwood flooring as wall paneling. The method also is suggested as a ceiling treatment. Hardwood flooring is a happy choice for paneling purposes in residences, business offices, restaurants and shops.

One ultra-modern penthouse apartment has hardwood flooring on one wall and on the ceiling of the 30-foot living room. The Second Grade, known as the character grade of maple flooring, was selected for this room.

A prominent St. Louis architect paneled the entrance walls of an office suite with maple flooring—a very striking effect. This architect used the same flooring to cover the front of the tellers' cages and the wall of the conference room in a new bank building.

For a smart combination, try face widths of 2¼-inch and 3¼-inch Birch flooring strips nailed in alternate courses to the walls of dens, bedrooms, playrooms or family rooms. The strips are equally attractive when attached in either a perpendicular or horizontal pattern.

The lower grades of these two species of flooring, with their pleasingly varied colorations and interesting grain patterns, are highly recommended for innovations of this kind. Hardwood flooring paneled walls are finished exactly the same as hardwood floors.

Finishing processes include the application of penetrating sealer or, for more color, the combination color-sealer treatment. Popular colors—mixed with the sealer at the factory—are autumn brown, Spanish brown and early American. The flooring strips may be waxed if a high polish is desired.

LIVING ROOM, BED ROOM LEVELS

UPPER LEVELS — Living room, dining room, kitchen and den are on the middle level. There is a covered porch off the dining room and a terrace outside the kitchen windows. In addition, there is a minute porch that gives private outdoor living to occupants of the master bedroom.

FAMILY ROOM, SHOP, GARAGE LEVEL

LOWER LEVELS — On the lowest level where the garage is located there is a family room, a hobby room and a covered porch. The garage is two-car size.

Accent Is on Outdoor and Indoor Leisure

BY ANDREW C. LANG

The economy of split level design is adapted in this House of the Week to outdoor living.

We have here not just another house with a porch or a terrace tagged on the give the impression of conformity with the modern indoor-outdoor architectural trend.

The architect, Rudolph A. Matern, has given each section of the house, designated as HW-53, its own outdoor area. The dining room and den have an adjoining covered porch on the same level, the kitchen has a rear terrace, the family room has both a covered porch and a sunken garden, and the master bedroom has a raised porch.

All these indoor-outdoor combinations are tied together by a judicious use of glass. There are sliding glass doors at each location, projecting the views beyond the confines of the rooms and seeming to bring the outdoors inside.

The large master bedroom has a private bath with a stall shower, plus a corner porch that gives an elevated view of both the side and the rear. A hall bathroom is accessible to the rest of the house, although a lavatory near the front entrance can serve as a powder room.

Two of the remaining three bedrooms are separated by a folding partition, so that they can be thrown into a single large room when the size of the family does not call for four bedrooms.

There is plenty of closet space throughout the entire bedroom wing.

If the lady of the house likes a pleasant atmosphere in the kitchen (and is there one who doesn't?), she'll certainly find it here. The kitchen, large and well-laid out, not only has a rear terrace on its own level but a balcony overlooking the lower-level family room.

Sliding glass doors provide an unobstructed view of the terrace from the breakfast area. It is possible to enter the kitchen from the terrace, the family room, the foyer and the dining room.

A two-way fireplace serves both the living room and the den, with a folding partition for use when it is necessary to separate the two rooms completely. A large window of the modern bow type adds attractiveness to the living room and makes the exterior more impressive.

The covered porch at the rear left corner of Design HW-53 can be entered from both the dining room and the den through sliding glass doors. There is plenty of space at that rear corner of the house, by the way, to extend the terrace if that should be desired at some later date.

Four steps down from the kitchen is the family room, opening to a covered porch and a sunken garden. On the same level is an extra room, which can be used as a workship for do-it-yourself activities or some other hobby, with a spacious two-car garage. There is also a closet and a stairway to a partial basement.

Note the well-proportioned exterior, modern yet without any extremes in design that might be in poor taste. The back-to-front dimensions are 28 feet, 2 inches, the frontage is 71 feet. Square footage of the living, bedroom levels in 1,673.

And remember — this house has 10 rooms, entirely aside from the outdoor living area!

Mother Sees All

The location of the family room in Design HW-53 makes it an especially desirable place for children to play when bad weather keeps them in the house.

Because of the kitchen balcony overlooking the family room, mother can keep an eye on the kids while doing the cooking or other chores.

Book Dusting a Breeze With Right Technique

"What has happened to bookshelves?" someone asks. The question does not even concern itself with libraries in homes; they seem to be most thoroughly a thing of the past, excepting certain cases, as a man and his wife in a three-room apartment in Greenwich Village, New York. They own 1,000 books and just (May, 1957) have The volumes are so heavy as to be a hazard, the landlord says.

★ ★ ★

For anyone who still owns a collection of books, even a shelf or two of them, their care can be a very minimum of effort. Bring in the trusty vacuum cleaner, whisk away the dust from the books with one of the appliance's handy tools. This is a little-realized way for easily keeping books spick-and-span.

Flood House Plan Minimizes Work

In this home the recreation room is off the kitchen and behind the garage. Here Larry can entertain his teenage friends freely. Walls are rose; the floor is beige tile. Harlequin print curtains cover the high windows. Furniture is all informal.

The Floods designed their own house, then a co-worker of Mr. Flood's "refined the plans." It took about seven months to build the house. The exterior is red brick with white trim. The house sets on a 120x300 lot with a good view of Hammond Lake.

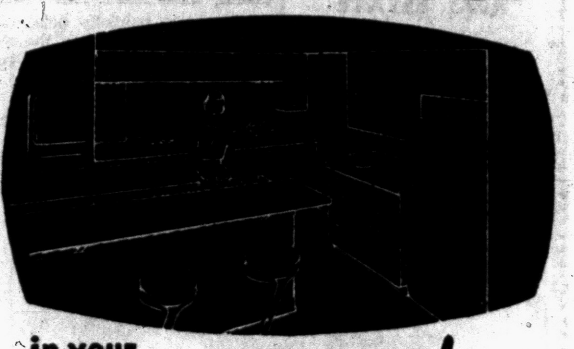

When the Floods bought their lot, Mr. Flood was working in Detroit. Now he has been transferred and drives to Wixom every day. He is pleased that his new home has brought him closer to his work.

Attachments Do the Job

Attach the special cleaning tools you require, let the vacuum cleaner do the rest of the work. There is no need to brush down draperies by hand, use a dust-cloth on lamp shades, whisk-broom your upholstered pieces, painfully poke into nooks and crannies, when the special cleaning tools of an up-to-date vacuum cleaner are waiting to assume all the responsibility.

LAKE STREET CHURCH—The new building of the Lake Street Church of God combines old and new architecture. The 43x65 foot sanctuary on the corner of Orton is made of cement blocks with a front unit of Roman brick. Windows are panel type of cathedral amber glass. The auditorium will seat 250 people; in addition there are three separate class rooms. Outside is a parking lot for 50 cars. William C. Zimmerman Associates were the architects. Osmun Putnam did the building.

Damp Newspaper Will Catch Radiator Dirt

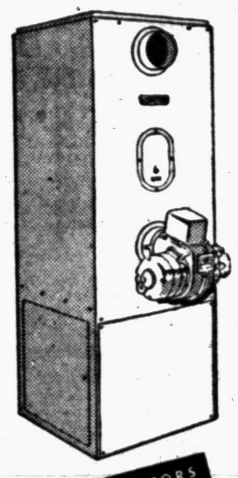

Once again it's about time to clean radiators. Because there will be no heat for the summer, is all the more reason they should be made thoroughly clean now, otherwise the collected dust will be slowly sifting into the house all summer.

★ ★ ★

Dampen newspapers and place them behind and underneath radiators. Adjust the blower tool of your vacuum cleaner and give it the "go" signal. The dampened papers will catch all the dust and dirt. Then remove the papers, wrap them up and dispose of them. That's all there is to it.

Marine Paints Are Made Just for Boat Use

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Experienced boaters know that only marine paints should be used when preparing craft for the annual spring and summer fun. A well conditioned boat will pay off in trouble-free sailing but a boat that needs paint is vulnerable to all sort of damage. Marine paint is specially made to withstand all the punishment a boat must take—submergence in water, salt or fresh, and exposure to scorching sun.

Copper anti-fouling paints are best for the bottoms of wood boats. Being poisonous to marine growth, they are effective in keeping the under-surface clean. There are numerous other bottom paints, however, for use in fresh water where little or no marine growth occurs. Comparing notes with other boat owners will help you deterine which is best for your boat.

Gloss or semi-gloss paint is the best protection for the boot top. Since it is at the water line and requires frequent scrubbing to remove marine growth and oil stains, a harder finish is essential.

Don't try to be the first in the water at the expense of the paint job. Do your painting in mild temperature—45 to 60 degrees. Be sure there is no moisture in the wood or on its surface.

Surfaces should be painted often enough to prevent even a trace of wood deterioration. Good boatmen know it is false economy to postpone the painting job, or to use anything but marine finishes developed for the special requirements of boats.

The cabin interior and deck may be painted either in dry dock or after the boat is launched. Let your personal taste dictate this, or perhaps your "mate" has her ideas in this respect. She will very likely have some good color ideas, too. Sanding and a good scrubdown are both necessary to a thorough job.

The cabin may be either painted or varnished. In either case, it is always wise to start overhead and work down. White or pastel colors give the most light reflectance in small interior areas. Light colors are also best to give the feeling of space.

Paint manufacturers have done a lot of research to give marine paints their present highly protective qualities, and their instructive pamphlets are readily available at your marine or paint dealer's. These booklets are filled with helpful hints and some even give estimates of all your marine paint needs.

NEWS VIEWS

I see where some baseball fans and officials are suggesting a 10-minute intermission at the end of the fifth inning. This would give everyone a chance to gypsy around the stadium and stoke up on hot dogs, popcorn and beverages. It might prevent some big hulk from stepping on your toes and blocking out a fast play on the field while he stumbles out to pick up a bag of gumdrops.

Aside from the bleacherites, the players and officials might welcome an intermission, too. Of course, the players now get a little rest in the dugouts. But how about the umpire? He never gets a chance to sit down—unless he forgets to dodge a bottle or a fist.

Vacuum Cleaner Helps Brighten Drab Basement

The fact that your basement is drab and dingy does not mean that it must endure a life of unattractiveness. Ripping out a partition or installing a better-placed one can make all the difference in the world, separating useful play and service sections.

If the place has been neglected for a long time, before starting on your remodeling job, go over the area from floor to ceiling with your vacuum cleaner. This will get rid of a lot of dust and dirt, make it simpler to go ahead with the transformation. Then, after the change has been completed, vacuum-clean the quarters regularly, thus to maintain the good effect you have created.

"ATOMS FOR LIVING" KITCHEN by Kelvinator, a design for 5 to 15 years in the future, introduces a new "first" in household refrigeration, constant-temperature storage for foods preserved by rays produced by atomic energy. Entire upper cabinet area will store foods, with conventional freezer at left, normal 40-degree refrigerator, left center, and 50-55 degree irradiated food refrigerator, right center. Electronic range with mirror-like door is below refrigerator. "Island" is an ultra-sonic dishwasher that serves also as desk and communications center. All appliances appear and disappear under pushbutton control. Plastic materials in new applications are used throughout. Kitchen was designed for Monsanto Chemical Company's plastic house of the future to be built at Disneyland Park, California, during 1957. The kitchen was displayed in the Kelivnator space at the Merchandise Mart during Chicago's annual winter furniture market recently.

Cover or Paint Air Conditioner to Match Room

Room air conditioners with a decorator fabric front that may be replaced with fabric to match any decor are an innovation with the 1957 lines of some manufacturers.

Concealing the controls of these models is a removable panel faced with attractive fabric blending with a broad variety of room decors, but it can be replaced if desired with a fabric to match or contrast with draperies or other elements in a room. This is done easily by removing the panel and slipping on a new cover of the desired material.

Front of the decorator panel is coated with an invisible plastic which retains the fabric's texture and permits it to be cleaned with a damp cloth. The material is backed by vinyl plastic for strength.

Another manufacturer has introduced color styling by the use of lacquers available in self-spraying containers in addition to the standard beige and rich brown colors. The colors, especially developed for this use, are cloud pink, jonquil yellow, bittersweet red, desert tan, pine green and mist gray.

Air intake grille and control panel on the front of the room air conditioner are easily sprayed and dry in a matter of minutes. The whole job involves little more than removing a couple of screws and aiming the spray. Thus the room air conditioner can match the decor of the room when changes are made.

Shellac Has Several Around-House Uses

NEW YORK (INS) — Shellac comes in handy for other things b sides floors and furniture.

According to the Shellac Information Bureau, a thin coat of shellac makes parchment lamp shades spot-proof and more durable. Another suggestion: If you have a hooked or a throw rug that is losi its body, apply shellac to the back of the rug to strengthen it.

Weather-Strip With Plas

A new weatherstripping tape made of plastic foam now is available for lining windows and doors, reports Practical Builder magazine. The tape has an adhesive backing, making it easy to apply. The synthetic foam material will not deteriorate and retains its elasticity.

Plastic Tape Has Many Uses

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (INS) —almost all types of "do-it-yourself" activity—from home sewing to amateur carpentry—can be aided with the use of cellophane tape.

Getting thumbtacks in hard-to-get places—wrap tape around forefinger, sticky side out. The head of a thumbtack will stick to your forefinger, allowing you to press the tack into place.

Stringing beads—place beads on a strip of tape in the order they are to be strung, leaving an inch between them. Fasten tape at both ends to table top. Beads can then be strung without losing any.

Soaking venetian blinds in sudsy detergent water for wive minutes to dissolve dirt and grease will ease the task of brush-scrubbing each metal lath.

WRIGHT PRE-FAB — A feature of the prefabricated house designed by Frank Lloyd Wright for Erdman Homes, Madison, Wis., is the sturdy exterior siding, Masonite Ridgeline, a linear-textured hardboard. Wood battens, painted in contrasting color, give the house a sweeping horizontal look. Wright, the acknowledged leader in contemporary architecture, created a distinctive modular design using stock materials available at all building supply dealers. The Wright prestige connected with the prefab industry is expected to increase the growing stature of this one-time stepchild of the building industry.

Get Rid of 'Spooky' Sounds With Hammer and Nails

Have you ever wakened to the squeak of floors, the groan of stair treads and the awful certainty that things which roam the night are abroad in your house?

If so, you will recall the infinite relief experienced when you found that your ghostly prowler was merely one of the family refrigerator-bound for a comforting snack.

Bell, book and candle are not needed to exorcise those household ghosts. All the home handy man needs is know-how and a few simple tools and materials.

In an older house squeaks and groans come with age, as nails and boards begin to loosen. In newer dwellings, such noisy manifestations often stem from builders' failure to use sufficient nails in construction, and they can be symptomatic of shrinking or warping of floor boards.

If you can see the floor from underneath, as in looking upward from the basement, your problem is especially simple. First thing to do is to locate the offending floor boards.

Have someone walk slowly across the floor while you follow his progress from the basement. Mark the underside of the floor wherever a noise is heard.

Drive a wooden wedge between the joist and the floorboards at each of these points. (Joists are the parallel beams that support the floor.) Old shingles make good wedges. Generally, wedges will cure the trouble.

If wedges do not do the job, you'll need to place additional supports under the floor. Make braces by cutting lengths of 2x4s or 2x6s. The braces could be cut snug enough so that you have to drive them between the joists with a hammer. Then toenail the braces to the joists. (Toenailing is done by driving nails at an angle.)

★ ★ ★

Finish securing the braces by driving nails from above as well.

This procedure may also do the trick if your floor sags at any point.

You can't tackle such a job from below if your basement ceiling is finished, or if squeaks are heard from an upper floor of the house. In such cases, or if wedges and-or braces fail to do the job, try the following method:

Pound the floor with your fist. First of all, locate the joists. You'll get a hollow sound until you reach a joist. If you can't detect the difference in sound, examine the floor boards near the wall. There will be tiny marks where the nails were driven to fasten floor boards to joists.

Drive a three-inch finishing nail at an angle through the floor boards into the joist wherever you locate a squeak. An inch or so farther along the board, drive another nail at an opposing angle.

Set the nails and cover heads with wood filler. Sand the filled spots prior to touch-up finishing.

TEMPORARY REMEDIES

If you are looking for a temporary remedy, try dusting powdered graphite or powdered soap between the floor boards. This will silence the noise they make as they rub against each other. But this is only a temporary solution to the problem.

Squeaking stairs indicate loose treads. Unless you repair them, they will just become increasingly loose.

Determine first if the stairs are nailed to the risers or if they are fitted into grooves in the risers.

If nailed, the remedy is to renail them or use wood screws to fasten them securely. Drive nails through the treads into the riser.

Nailing at an angle increases holding power. Use finishing nails and set them so the heads are below the surface. If using screws, countersink the holes and and fill over screws with wood

If a groove arrangement has been used, make wooden wedges and drive them into the joints. Since a small molding is often used to cover the joint, you'll have to remove this first. When the joint has been tightened, cut off the ends of the wedges and replace the molding.

If the underside of the stairs is open, you can further reinforce the breaks by fastening blocks at the joints with glue and screws. You may find blocks there already. If you do, tighten the screws to make the joint firm.

The remedies for squeaks and groans are simple. No home need sound like a haunted house.

Woman of the house, here's your chance! Did you know that it's often easier today to borrow funds for quality home remodeling than it is to buy a new home?

HANDIEST UTILITY ROOM — Did you ever see a utility room so compact? Tip-down work table is big labor and step saver. Built of blond west coast hemlock, this room is light and cheerful. Clothes hamper is a deep pull-out bin. Wood was finished in clear rez to retain lovely neutral tone and grain. Large double-door cabinet is built for deep freeze.

Compact Wall Storage Makes Room Efficient

When the average housewife settles down to the chores of washing and ironing, she doesn't want to have to walk all over the house to get this job done. She wants a place where everything is within fingertip reach.

Compact wall storage can be the answer. The utility room generally is just off the kitchen. Washer and drier and sink should be along one wall, preferably an outside wall so there are windows above. The rest of the room should be planned to really serve the busy housewife.

For instance, wood paneled walls can conceal deep dirty clothes bins which can be out of sight and out of the way except when washing. Work tables are always at a premium in the utility room, so the work surface that tips down from the walls is ideal for it gives plenty of folding and working space when needed but can be folded back out of the way to form part of the paneled wall of the utility room.

There is a lot of wear and tear on walls and builtins in the utility room, so care should be taken to select a durable and wear-resistant lumber such as Douglas fir for the paneled walls and builtins. Not only does this wood give excellent service, but it permits some mighty lovely finishes which permits one to develop a utility room as beautiful as any room in the house and at no more cost than cheap paint. Fir can be finished with tints in the pastel shades, or it can be left in its natural beauty and covered with water-proof clear lacquers or varnishes to retain the natural grain and texture of the wood.

CLOTHES BINS

Dirty clothes bins can be deep to hold a full week's wash for the average family and they can be designed to slide out so that the housewife can take out the soiled clothes without having to go through a half hour of gymnastics. Tip down work surfaces should pretty much fill the center of the utility room when it is down and ready to work because it can then be reached most easily from the drier. Most housewives have their own ideas about ironing boards and where they want them. Generally these should be so arranged, if they tip back into the wall, so that they are not in the way of traffic in the utility room when they are down. Hardly a housewife ever gets through an ironing without being interrupted with telephone calls and doorbells.

Some utility rooms, being handy to the kitchen, are so arranged that the family deep freeze can be accomodated in one of the storage walls. To make the room look as ship-shape as possible, the deep freeze can be concealed behind doors designed to match with the rest of the Douglas fir paneling.

A survey of the best in utility rooms shows that the ones which are most pleasant to work in are generally not the most expensive to build. They key to a good utility room is advance planning. Make certain what is wanted in a utility room, then let your architect plan the most workable layout for appliances and work areas.

Here's one thing about storage walls in a utility room! One never seems to have enough room for soaps, bluing, dyes, and all the variety of stuff that seems to collect around a laundry and which occasionally is needed. So, it is wise to plan at least one full wall of storage and it is better if the shelving and storage bins are concealed behind close-fitting doors, because it is much easier to keep the room looking spic-and-span.

Unquestionably one of the reasons why many women shudder at wash day is because they dread to spend half a day or so in what serves in many families as a laundry or utility room. Too many of them are like dungeons, unsightly and dirty. One of the reasons why the modern utility room is being designed in wood is because wood can be finished to make an attractive room.

'Do-It-Yourself' Is No Longer Just Fad

CHICAGO (INS) — It is no longer a fad, this "do-it-yourself" business.

In the last few years, a manufacturer of power tools reports, the industry has grown to a $10 billion annual business.

Said Neil C. Hurley Jr., President of the Thor Power Tool Co., "Our home tool business has increased about 60 per cent in the last two years and the home power tool industry by one third."

It is reflected by national sales of hardware stores. These stores rang up nearly three billion dollars in sales last year—more than 100 million dollars more than in 1955.

Service Center Opens Today

5 Building Specialists in Union Lake Village Start Cooperative

Five skilled tradesmen in the Union Lake Village area are opening a unique business today. The Union Lake Service Center will cater to customers who want contracting, heating, plumbing, electrial work or well and pump service.

A. E. Van Vliet, whose former electrical shop is the home of the new concern, has been in the electrical business since his youth. Ernie Diehl, in charge of structural set ups, has over twenty years in the contracting business.

Kerwin Mulligan will take on heating contracts; Edwin Heineman specializes in plumbing; and Jerry Fettig works on wells and pumps. All together, the men have over 75 years of experience behind them.

Although the men have joined in this new venture, they are continuing to operate their individual businesses. But the new office—once the home of Burmeister Lumber Company—gives them a common base of operations. They believe that business for one will help all and a high standard of workmanship will be assured.

Contractor's Wife Shingles Own Roof

AUSTIN, Tex. (INS)—The national "do-ityourself" fad was given an unusual twist by an Austin housewife after a big wind and hail storm caused homes to flip their shingles.

Mrs. Bill Porter, wife of a general building contractor, anxiously watched her battered roof for days while her husban'd rushed around fixing other people's roofs.

When she couldn't stand her own leaky ceiling any longer, Mrs. Porter took to the roof and did the job herself—at a saving of $200.

She admits she had never done any shingling before—"except that of my three ilittle girls," aged two to five.

New Fiberglas Filter Pad on Market

PITTSBURGH (INS) — A dofor air conditioners has now been marketed.

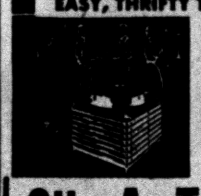

The 16" by 24" by ½" pad mak one or more filters, depending on the size of the air conditioning unit. It can be cut to size with househo scissors or knife.

And the pads are easy to handle, thanks to an improvement over some fiberglass products—the fibers do not splinter or pierce the skin.

If There Are Floor Outlets You Can Use These Lamps

It has always been a woman's prerogative to change her mind — and she often does. Second only to this is the number of times she changes the furniture arrangement in her home.

★ ★ ★

Living room, dining room, bedroom or foyer — none escape once the whim takes hold. Trouble starts when ceiling fixtures have to be moved, too. One solution to this dilemma is Lightolier's ingenious ceiling lamp.

A brand new idea in home lighting, these lamps hang from the ceiling but plug into any baseboard outlet just as ordinary table and floor lamps. Since ceiling lamps eliminate all the complications usually involved in hanging ceiling fixtures, they can be installed anywhere and moved easily.

Not only are these innovational ceiling lamps easy to put up, but they furnish the focal-point interest of pendant lighting without permanent wiring or installation.

This is especially important in today's homes and apartments, where ceiling outlets are often lacking. Thus the homeowner can have ceiling lighting wherever she likes it—whether or not the builder has seen fit to provide outlets there.

And she doesn't have to call on hubby to put it up. She can do it herself in a matter of minutes. Small decorative fittings simply screw into the ceiling. A slender, plastic cord runs through the fittings and down the corner or side of the wall to any convenient baseboard outlet. Enough cord is supplied to extend 12 feet into the room.

The lamps have easy up and down adjustability for either wide area or concentrated illumination.

When considering new lighting you should plan it with as much care as you give the selection of your other furnishings. You'll be surprised at how inexpensive it can be, too. No matter what your period of decorating, you'll find a wide selection of fixtures available in the low and medium price range.

In addition to the pull-down ceiling lamp is the ceiling track that lets you attach the fixture at the center ceiling outlet or plug it into a wall or floor outlet and still "travel" it to the exact spot where you need light.

You'll want to add new lighting ideas, too. Cluster fixtures add good light with dramatic decorative effect. There are three cluster fixtures available today in perforated brass, brass and corded rope, and opal glass and brass.

Use these fixtures over a corner table in a sofa-and-chair grouping, over one of the new low dining tables, or in other original ways that make them a decorative part of a room.

Redecorating with light is fun, according to Moe Light. You'll be amazed at how much more attractive your home will look at night. The entire family will enjoy the home more, too.

Colors Can Aid Workshop Safety

URBANA, Ill. (INS)—The workshop on the farm or in the city will be a safer place for do-it-yourself projects if you use different colors.

★ ★ ★

Red identifies areas of danger and areas where fire protection equipment is kept. Orange designates dangerous parts of machines or equipment. Yellow is used to mark stumbling and tripping hazards. Green designates the location of safety and first aid equipment. Blue marks electrical controls and caution areas.

J. W. Matthews, assistant professor of agricultural engineering at the University of Illinois, suggests that workshops use the color code this way: Paint all areas around fire extinguishers and all gasoline and kerosene containers red. Paint handrails, top and bottom treads of stairways, projections, low beams, posts and pipes with high yellow. Use green to mark the first aid kit.

Build Bookcase Into Panels of Closet Door

Installing louver doors between rooms and on closets is an idea worth some serious consideration, whether you are building a house, remodeling or simply re-decorating inside.

Louver doors, with their tilted slats, offer at least three special advantages to home-owners:

1. Air conditioning is more efficient with louver doors of ponderosa pine, since the cooled air circulates more readily from room to room. Temperatures are more even. The same advantage holds true with winter heating.

2. The "textured" appearance of the louvers adds interest to any decorating scheme, giving it warmth and charm. The clear pine can be painted or stained to fit in with traditional, modern or contemporary interiors.

3. The tilted slats, which shut out light but let air circulate freely, are a boon to closets and storage areas. The movement of air prevents musty odors and deters moths.

French Cars Making Inroads in U.S.?

NEW YORK (AP) — Pierre Dreyfus, French automobile manufacturer, said today that France's small cars are making inroads into the U.S. automobile market.

Dreyfus, president of Renault of France, arrived by plane from Paris to launch a new campaign for the U.S. market and to visit Detroit automobile plants.

"I have come to the United States," he said, "because sales of Renault automobiles here have reached such an impressive point that what is happening in the United States affects the entire Renault Co. operation."

★ ★ ★

He said large U.S. made cars "make no sense" in the French market because of limited road space, gasoline supply and other factors.

It is expected that the valuation of the state will be increased by $2,000,000,000,000, Mrs. Avery said.

"Since 1954, we have been increased more than $5 billion in the state of Michigan," she added.

"I urge all township board members, as well as interested taxpayers to attend this important meeting," she said.

The meeting will be held in the Senate chambers of the State Capitol Building at 10 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Economy Drive Blurs Picture Further

Disposition of Tax Money Confusing

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — About this time every year the ordinary citizen can get pretty confused as to just what is happening to the tax money he sends to Washington.

The big economy drive now on in Congress makes it still harder today to tell.

The President's budget requests are for one figure. Authorizations for spending now being made by the Congress appear to be adding up to another figure. Appropriations of money to back these authorizations add up to still another.

In this complicated scene steps the staff of tax experts for the House of Representatives. They say that even if the economy drive sticks, what actually is spent is going to be about 600 million dollars more than budgeted for the fiscal year ending in some five weeks, and about ¼ billion dollars more than the President asks for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The experts say higher prices will account for some of the rise. Some spending can't be charted — such as farm price support outlays. Also a federal highway program isn't in the budget. Nor is the money the Treasury will put out for old-age pensions, which are financed outside the budget.

There is also a lot of money appropriated by former congresses, which the Treasury can be called upon to spend. If interest rates go higher, and the Treasury must borrow more to meet its bills, the higher interest costs will be another drag.

If this isn't confusing enough, there are also guesses as to what the U. S. Treasury will take in as taxes.

The House tax experts think the Treasury should take in a little more than 74¼ billion dollars in the next fiscal year, or 700 million dollars more than the earlier administration estimate.

But if the House experts are right and spending rises to 73 billion dollars, instead of the 71¾ billion the President has asked, the Treasury surplus would fall 500 million dollars short of his budget estimate.

CONTROVERSIAL — Army specialist third class William Girard is being held in U. S. The Defense Department has ordered the Army not to turn the GI over to the officials pending further investigation.

Postpone Bids on Area School

Contractors Tell Firm They Need More Time to Figure Offers

The date for opening of construction bids on the new John D. Pierce Junior High School in Waterford Township, has been postponed one week, according to James Den Herder, assistant to the superintendent.

The request was made by the architectural firm of George D. Mason & Co., of Detroit, due to the amount of the various building estimates.

Contractors told the firm that they did not have enough time to figure their bids by the date previously set by the board of education, which was for Monday at 2 p.m.

The new bid-opening day will be Monday, June 3, at 2 p.m. at the board of education offices on Walton Blvd.

Bids will be opened for architectural, electrical, mechanical and well - construction work. Special equipment bids for the kitchen, library, art and science rooms will also be opened.

★ ★ ★

The $2 million John D. Pierce School will be located on Hatchery near Crescent Lake roads, and construction of the building will be started immediately after the bids have been awarded, Den Herder said.

'Atomic Cocktails' Save Goiter Victims

CHICAGO (INS) — A Chicago surgeon has announced that "atomic cocktails" are saving the lives of 2,000 toxic goiter patients in the United States every year.

Dr. Lindon Seed told the annual meeting of the Illinois Medical Society in Chicago yesterday that the patients are given a small drink of colorless water containing radioactive iodine.

The surgeon reported that this method of dealing with the disorder saves some 25,000 persons a year from surgery.

Dr. Seed noted that "this elimination of about 2,000 deaths is about twice the number from poliomyelitis in the entire nation."

★ ★ ★

The surgeon said the one great objection to the use of radioactive iodine lies in the possibility of cancer in later life. But he added that up to the present time there has been no instance of cancer of the thyroid following the treatment.

Emigration Viewed as Blessing to Eire

BELFAST — Emigration is a blessing to Eire rather than a curse. Professor C. F. Carter of Queen's University, Belfast, said in a lecture at Donegal. Without emigration, famine would be a continuing problem in the Irish Republic, he said.

Ireland is unique, Professor Carter declared, in having a high rate of natural increase — excess of births over deaths — and yet so high is the emigration rate that her population has declined. Average income in most of Eire is only 42 per cent of the average British income, he said. Most emigration now is to Britain rather than to overseas countries.

Waterford Gets Total of $3.40 in Court Revenue

Only $3.40 from the Waterford Township Justice of the Peace courts was turned in to the treasury during April, according to a recent report.

During the same month in 1956, a total of $7,793 was taken from revenues in court costs. Due to an attorney general's ruling, the revenue now reverts to the state for school libraries.

Justice Don Adams received seven traffic tickets, with a net return to the township of 20 cents. He had no ticket violations for April, 1956.

From Justice of the Peace Willis Lefurgy's court, 148 summons were issued for traffic violators and the township received $3.20 last month after various county and state monies had been deducted from the general fund.

Student Art Exhibit to Open at Cranbrook

The exhibition, which includes selected works of painting, sculpture, ceramics, design, weaving, and architectural projects will be held throughout the summer months daily, except Mondays, 2 to 5 p.m.

The show will feature the use of "exhibition cubes," large eight foot square structures which offer a controlled environment of light and shadow for the display of art objects.

Gleason Winds Up Show June 22, 3 Weeks Early

By ATRA BAER

NEW YORK (INS)—Jackie Gleason goes off the air three weeks sooner than audiences expected. His last show will be June 22 and Durante takes over the following week.

But Jackie's genial manager Bullets Durgom relays that there's no "rhubarb" involved. Simply that Jackie's contract calls for him to have a certain amount of "vacation time." Gleason will relax in the country home he just finished building. . .

Peggy Lee and Nat "King" Cole star June 1 on a special one-shot hour show "Four Stars for Springs" (NBC). . .

Garry Moore's show is the oldest consecutive show on TV, and on June 26 will be eight years and 1,813 performances old.

Mindy Carson is being considered for the lead in the Broadway version of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Cinderella."

Julie Andrews won't be able to take the role—and I understand she's dying to do it—unless she can come to some sort of arrangement with the "My Fair Lady" management.

A NEW WINCHELL

It'll be a new Walter Winchell come fall. A cosmetic company has bought his strictly dramatic series to be seen either Wednesday or Thursday nights via ABC. W.W. will narrate true stories he covered throughout his career, and will also act (playing himself) in them.

The newest name for those rating services among the TV crowd is: "Television despairmen."

Ralph Bellamy will portray the late newspaperman Damon Runyon on the June 6 "Climax!" Show will deal with Runyon's efforts to clean up boxing.

NBC's fall plans are shaping up with two big ones: "Crisis" will have a series based on John Steinbeck's short stories on Monday nights, and an hour-long Western "Wagon Train" is slated for Wednesday ninghts. . .

German Store Flashes Display of U.S. Goods

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — With red, white and blue bunting the Kaufhof store is running a big sale of goods made in the United States.

Even though many of the goods have a close German counterpart, they are often packed differently. The store wants to see how packaging influences customers.

Food items in the sale include sweet corn at 42 cents for a pound can, orange juice at 48 cents for 45-ounce cans and baby foods in a ¾-ounce jars at 20 cents.

To complete its U.S. theme, Kaufhof erected a four-story poster of the statue of liberty. It dressed lunchroom waitresses in cowgirl costumes and hung up a big sign reading "Meet me in Las Vegas." A special menu includes hamburgers, club sandwiches, chicken in the basket, Boston-style bass, roast pork Washington, and broiled sirloin New Jersey.

★ ★ ★

Woman Dies of Polio on Visit to Starlet Sister

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A young Alabama woman is dead of polio just two weeks after being flown across country to join her movie starlet sister.

The Alabama Air National Guard flew Janet here from Birmingham May 10. Her mother, Mrs. Jack G. Gentle, said the flight was arranged to give Janet "something nice to look at."

Gadgets Indicating Birth of New Twisters Put in Severe Storm Belt

WASHINGTON — "Tornado Alley," the incubator of nature's deadliest storms, is being watched this year as never before.

Once a twister has bored down to earth, the only defense is to get out of the way. To save more lives, Weather Bureau scientists are devising new tools to quicken warning systems and learn more about the nature of the complex storms.

One new instrument forces potential tornadoes to flash their own alarm. Called a "pressure-jump indicator," it records the ominous rise in pressure that often signals the birth of a tornado in storm-breeding squall lines.

It is these long frontiers of thunder, wind, and rain that turn unstable air currents into roaring spinning funnels of destruction, the National Geographic Society says.

This year, more than 100 pressure-jump indicators are being operated in the severe storm belt—Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Texas. The instruments have been set up in police stations, fire houses, city jails, and other places where attendants voluntarily keep an eye on them 24 hours a day.

In recent years, the Bureau has organized a radar network among key cities east of the Rockies. Volunteer ground corpsmen in a danger zone scan radarscopes for any sign of the dark pendent cloud that rakes the earth like a giant elephant's trunk.

Atomic Science Taught

BELLAIRE, Ohio (AP) — Atomic science, until now the almost exclusive domain of higher echelon physicists, will be brought out of the intellectual stratosphere next year with the introduction at Bellaire High School of a scheduled course in the subject.

DON'T LEARN the HARD WAY

Some rabid TV fans find their TV set never fails at a convenient time. In their anxiety to see a TV show at night or on Sunday when regular TV shops are closed, they hastily pick out a handful of tubes and rush to the corner drugstore. The "do it yourself" tube checker is there to sell tubes so usually the customer carries home $15.00 to $20.00 worth of tubes, most of which were not necessary. When he finds the picture still does not appear because of a tube he missed or plugged into the wrong socket, it is still necessary to call a Serviceman to restore operations. Save your time and money by calling an OCEA member. He is qualified to give you quick, efficient service at honest prices. FREE tube testing and technical advice from any Oakland County Electronics Association member.
