U.S. Lofts Navigation Moon Vital to Missile Program

Could Help Fix Firing Positions of Polaris Subs

265-Pound Satellite in Near-Circular Orbit 400 Miles Up

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The forerunner of a U.S. satellite navigation system planned to give sailors and airmen a good position fix any time in any weather was hurled successfully into orbit around the earth.

The experimental space navigator, named Transit IB was rocketed aloft from this missile test center at 7:03 a.m. EST in a test with obviously heavy bearing on long-range missile operations.

It was a Navy project with Air Force rocketry help. The sponsorship underscored its special application to the Polaris missile-firing submarine whose officers will have to know their own position precisely to zero in on a target hundreds of miles away.

The information from transit IB and its successors, however, is to be given to all nations.

Some four hours after the satellite went up Navy and Civilian scientists said in Washington that it was in a path a little less than 400 miles up, with an orbit time of around 94 minutes, at an inclination of 51 degrees with respect to the equator. They had been shooting at a height of 400-500 miles and an angle of 50 derees.

REASONABLY CIRCULAR

On the basis of preliminary tracking scientists said transit IB was in an orbit reasonably circular. The near they come to a perfect circle with such a device the closer the navigational fix that can be made.

At a Washington news conference, Dr. R. B. Kershner, of the Applied Physics Laboratory, Johns Hopkins University, which developed the device, said the trial satellite itself could provide a ship with a position report with no more than a half-mle error. Later, the fully operational program, using four satellites, can give a ship anywhere in the world a fix within a quarter of a mile.

Either distance is comparable to the results of present celestial and radio navigation — and will be available regardless of weather.

The first test using a ship will be made "very soon," Kershner said.

The complete system could be put into operation by 1962, he predicted.

Shopping Center Plans Revealed for Waterford

78-Acre Site Slated for Corner Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake

Initial steps have been taken toward construction of a multimillion dollar shopping center in Waterford Township, The Pontiac Press learned today.

It is slated to be built on a 78-acre site at the northwest corner of Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads.

It's the same parcel for which another shopping center was planned five years ago. Those efforts failed, however, when the City of Pontiac and the township hassled over sewage connections.

Currently a supermarket is located on the site.

Developers of the property are the A & W Management Co., 1010 Washington Boulevard Building, and the Wineman Investment Co., 150 Michigan Ave., both of Detroit.

Aaron Gershenson, partner in the management company, declined to disclose details of the development other than to confirm that it would be a multimillion dollar shopping center.

"We are not at liberty to disclose the details," Gershenson said.

He said more information would be forthcoming next week.

The project came to light with the recording yesterday of several papers in the Oakland County Register of Deeds' Office.

One was a land contract from the Pontiac Shopping Center, Inc., Detroit, owner of a 22-acre parcel where the supermarket stands, awarded to Gershenson. The contract was executed April 8 and recorded yesterday.

Another instrument was a warranty deed granted to Gershenson of the remaining and adjacent 56-acre parcel from Henry L. Pierson and his wife, Elizabeth W. Pierson.

Battle Grass Fires in County

Pontiac Press Photo

A SPRING PROBLEM — Two Waterford Township firemen fight a grass fire on an 85-acre site behind the township's Community Center on Williams Lake road. More than 100 such fires were reported in Oakland County yesterday, including 34 in Pontiac. Dry grass, strong winds and careless burning of rubbish make the problem acute in the spring, fire chiefs warn.

French Auto Millionaire's Grandson Kidnaped at Play

PARIS (AP) — Police today hunted a dark-haired man they said darted into a group of children at play and snatched up the grandson of millionaire auto manufacturer Jean-Pierre Peugeot for $100,000 ransom.

The kidnaper dropped a note as he fled, warning "especially do not warn the police. In 48 hours I will give you instructions."

The parents of the 4½-year-old boy, Eric Peugeot, said a man called them just before midnight demanding the ransom.

The Peugeot auto works is one of France's three largest.

Eric, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Peugeot, was kidnaped from the playground of a country club in suburban St. Cloud Tuesday afternoon.

The child and his brother, Jean-Philippe, 7, had lunched at the club with their grandparents. Then a governess and the family chauffeur took them to the playground.

The kidnaper snapped the lock on a gate, made his way down a path across a garden and into the playground.

The two Peugeot boys and a friend were playing in a sandbox. Before the startled governess and the chauffeur could intervene, the intruder snatched Eric up in his arms and ran off.

The kidnaper was described as a dark-haired man in a green sweater. He fled in a black automobile.

Police began a widespread search through St. Cloud, an area with many wooded, isolated sections on the outskirts of Paris. Teams with dogs and mobile radios patrolled the area.

The searchers were granted special powers for three days, exempting them from the necessity of search warrants.

The afternoon was damp and chilly, and the kidnaped boy was warmly dressed in a sweater and coat.

The Peugeot family is one of the oldest and most prominent Protestant families in France.

Jean-Pierre Peugeot, 63, is president of the Peugeot Automobile Corp. and several related firms which make up a huge industrial complex. His son Roland, 34, father of the missing child, holds administrative positions in the family companies.

Area Churches Will Join in Mourning Christ's Death

By MARY ANGLEMIER
Pontiac Press Church Editor

In commemoration of the last two days of Jesus Christ on earth, Christians the world over will gather in churches, chapels and cathedrals for centuries-old ceremonies.

Many congregations are observing Holy Thursday, also known as Maundy Thursday, with reception of new members and services of Holy Communion.

It was on this night over 1900 years ago that Jesus instituted the Sacrament of Holy Communion at the Jewish Feast of the Passover.

Annual Good Friday services sponsored by the Pontiac Pastor's Assn. will go from noon to 3 p.m. in Central Methodist Church with Dr. William H. Marbach of First Presbyterian Church presiding the first hour.

WILL READ SCRIPTURE

Dr. Joseph I. Chapman of Bethany Baptist Church will read the Scripture. The first word "Intercession," will be given by the Rev. Joseph W. Moore of Trinity Baptist Church.

Giving the word of "Repentance" will be Dr. H. H. Savage of First Baptist Church. Dr. Duncan D. McColl of First Christian Church will preside the second hour.

The Rev. Myron R. Everett of Baldwin Evangelical United Brethren Church will meditate on "Remembrance" and Dr. Milton H. Bank of the host church will speak on "Loneliness."

The Heat's On, and We Love It —High Today, 68

Spring weather appears to have arrived in the Pontiac area to stay.

After a high of 65 yesterday, the mercury was expected to climb to 68 today. And high temperatures for the next five days will be around 60.

Tonight's low will be a mild 52 with Thursday's peak predicted to be 64.

Precipitation will total about one inch in showers tonight and Thursday and again over the weekend.

Morning winds southeasterly at 12 miles an hour will become southerly and increase to 18 miles tonight.

Forty-six was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury read 65 at 1 p.m.

Seeking $25,000 for Downtown

Mayor's Committee on Redevelopment Favors Master Plan

The Mayor's Steering Committee for downtown redevelopment has set $25,000 as a goal to help finance a master plan for redevelopment.

This figure was reached after David S. Geer, the city's planning consultant, estimated it would cost anywhere from $29,000 to $54,000 for a master plan, depending on how extensive it was.

The group met with Geer yesterday and expressed hopes that $50,000 could be raised for the plan, said Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager.

The group itself decided to raise half that amount from private sources, he said, while turning, probably, to the city to put up the other half.

Geer indicated his firm would be willing to undertake the plan, if the city desires.

He said that the final price depends on the type and number of separate studies the city decides are necessary to back up a plan.

The mayor named the group to guide plans to make downtown Pontiac more attractive as a shopping area.

As a first step, the committee has shown interest in a long-range plan for redevelopment, including suggestions for malls, new commercial sites, improved traffic and parking conditions.

Little Floor Walker

WANDERS INTO STORE — Sears Roebuck had a new floor walker shortly before noon today when "Clumper" wandered clumpety-clump into the downtown Pontiac store. An employe, Gerald W. DeLine, 19, of 28 Evelyn Ct., noticed the pup, his right rear leg in a cast, clumping up and down aisles making friends faster than a store manager. Clumper was wined (water) and dined (hot dogs) and is living in a play-pen in the juvenile furniture department until his master comes to claim him.

State House Approves $109½ Million Plan; New Fight Probable

LANSING (AP)—After an hour of stormy debate, the House today approved a record high $109,455,000 appropriation to finance higher

The measure almost certainly will head for a Senate-House conference before going to Gov. Williams for signature.

Democrats continued a two-day barage of amendments in an attempt to fatten the bill by more than three million dollars. Thrift-minded Republicans cut down most in buzz-saw fashion.

With help from a scattering of GOP members, however, Democrats pushed through increases of $96,820 for Northern Michigan College, $129,000 for Michigan Tech and $200,000 for adult education programs.

Industrialist Backs City Charter Changes

"I personally plan to vote for the two charter amendments Monday and encourage others to do the same," a Pontiac industrialist and civic leader said today.

Robert S. Nelson, a Pontiac voter, is president of the Pontiac Manufacturers Assn.

"I feel that approval of both amendments would do much to improve the efficiency of our police department, reduce existing factionalism in the department and reduce departmental costs," he said.

"At the same time, all personnel would be assured of fair, impartial treatment."

Nelson gave these interpretations of the two amendments:

"Amendment No. 1 recreates a legally formed Police Trial Board of seven members appointed by the City Commission whose function will be to establish regulations pertaining to the conduct of personnel, except for the police chief.

"I believe this amendment provides the necessary machinery to clarify the obligations and limitations in the relationship between the chief and other departmental personnel and assures all officers of complete fairness.

"Amendment No. 2 redefines the chain of command in the city departments and establishes the fire and police chiefs as heads of their departments on the same level as other departmental directors.

"The office of director of public safety is to be eliminated so that the fire and police chiefs will be directly responsible to the city manager.

"I believe this will provide a clear line of authority from the voters through the Commission to the city manager and eventually to the police chief, and will remove the costly and confusing status of the safety director and the trial board in this particular line of authority."

Income Tax Deadline MAY Be Monday Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is still a possibility, government officials disclosed today, that the income tax filing date will be postponed across the nation until midnight Monday April 18.

It was learned today that the coincidence of Good Friday falling on April 15, the tax deadline, has developed a full-blown bureaucratic headache.

The question of postponement has been passed up to Sec. of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson and argued at numerous conferences of treasury and Internal Revenue Service officials, but still remains undecided.

With the deadline crowding close, an IRS spokesman said: "I hope and expect we'll have a decision today, or tomorrow at the latest." A treasury spokesman agreed that a decision will come soon.

Parties Sticking to Lines in Illinois Primary Vote

CHICAGO (AP) — Candidate for statewide offices supported by the regular Republican and Democratic organizations won nomination today in the Illinois primary election.

In only one major race, for the Republican U.S. Senate nomination, was the issue close in yesterday's balloting.

Samuel W. Witwer, Chicago area lawyer making his first attempt for public office with the backing of Gov. William G. Stratton, held a narrow lead over veteran politico, former state treasurer Warren Wright.

Stratton, seeking an unprecedented third term, led the regular GOP slate to victory.

His democratic opposition in the November election will be Otto Kerner, 51-year-old former Cook County judge who was supported by Chicago's Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Kerner overwhelmed state treasurer Joseph Lohman and Stephen A. Mitchell, former national chairman of the Democratic Party.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon was alone on the presidential preference ballot. He received a substantial vote, but considerably under the 781,710 votes President Eisenhower received in the 1956 Illinois primary.

Nixon did not campaign in the state and there was no organized effort to make a large showing for him.

Democratic U.S. Sen. Paul Douglas was not opposed for nomination.

In returns from 8,959 of the state's 9,980 precincts Nixon had 632,745 votes.

Douglas, in returns from 8,575 precincts, had 827,177.

Stratton had 445,156 votes from 9,430 precincts and his opponent, State Sen. Hayes Robertson of Flossmoor, 306,233. Robertson, conceding defeat by Stratton shortly after midnight, said he would join the governor in his bid for reelection.

★ ★ ★

Returns from 9,488 precincts gave Witwer 227,742 and Wright 204,785. Witwer moved into the lead early in the tabulating, piling up a comfortable margain in Cook County. Wright was moving strongly in downstate voting.

In the Democratic nomination for governor, Kerner had 625,212 votes in 9,367 precincts; Lohman had 216,317, and Mitchell 168,121.

City Recreation Study Sought

Commissioners Asking Youth Committee for Facility Survey

City commissioners took a big —and obviously wholehearted — step last night in the direction of recreational facilities for young people.

Apparently prompted by the establishment of beatnik coffee houses here, they turned to the year-old Youth Assistance Committee and asked for a probe of inadequacies in recreational facilities.

If the committee accepts the task—more or less in the role of a "Youth Commission"—it will be charged with surveying present facilities and programs, determining needs and recommending solutions.

The idea was brought up by Dr. Joseph T. Chapman, pastor of Bethany Baptist Church, who was invited to speak by Commissioner Floyd P. Miles.

Dr. Chapman said that youths' needs have been slighted in Pontiac and that it was of paramount interest for the citizenry to correct the deficiency.

"Recent events have pointed up the inadequacies," he said in an apparent reference to popularity of the coffee houses with teen-agers.

As background to his plea, it was pointed out that the city government sponsors no youth centers. Due to limited funds, Department of Parks & Recreation programs for youth are restricted mainly to afternoon programs at schools.

Dr. Chapman said that despite commendable programs by churches and civic groups, "we should have a better understanding of the problem on a citywide basis."

He said that young people themselves should be consulted, too.

Although the city's recreational budget is tight this year, it is possible that the commission may expand it next year.

State High Court to Hear Waterford Teacher's Appeal

The State Supreme Court will listen to former Waterford Township school teacher Arthur O. Mooney's request for an appeal of his conviction of gross indecency.

★ ★ ★

Donald F. Winters, clerk of the high court, today notified Mooney's attorney, Carlton S. Roeser of Pontiac, by mail that Mooney's leave to appeal had been granted.

Roeser said he expected the court to act on the appeal possibly during its June term. He cites 17 reasons for the review of the conviction and prison sentence.

Former Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty sentenced Mooney, 51, former math teacher at Waterford High School, to two to five years in Jackson Prison last August.

★ ★ ★

A jury of eight women and four men found him guilty in May of having immoral relations with some of his students.

★ ★ ★

He's currently working in Chicago, Roeser said. He's on a $1,000 bond pending the appeal.

4 Hurt, 1 Critically, in Crash Near Lapeer

Four persons were injured, one of them seriously, in a head-on collision early today on M21, one mile east of Lapeer.

In serious condition in Lapeer County General Hospital is the driver of one car, Mrs. Frances Miller, 40, of 76 Nepessing St., Lapeer.

The driver of the other car was Norman O. Rowley, 42, of Port Huron. Riding with him were Stanley Printz, 52, and Robert Van Ness, 47, both of Capac.

They were taken to the hospital where they were treated and released.

★ ★ ★

According to Lapeer sheriff's deputies, Mrs. Miller drove across the center line and hit the Rowley car head-on. She told officers she didn't know what happened, they said.

Floyd Miles, District 4, Challenged by Bottom

A political newcomer is challenging the incumbent in the District 4 City Commission race.

Hoping to end incumbent Floyd P. Miles' six-year tenure in the district is Winford E. Bottom.

Miles, 51, of 160 W. Columbia, Ave., is seek his fourth two-year term.

Operator of a religious book, gift and supply store, Miles has been active in the affairs of First Baptist Church and is presently head of the mayor's special 14-member bus transportation committee.

Bottom, 35, of 174 Euclid Ave., is secretary - treasurer of Thomas Die & Stamping Co.

A naval veteran of World War II, he is a past president of the Pontiac Police Reserve Assn.

FLOYD P. MILES

"It is my conviction that a successful commissioner must first have a sincere desire to serve the people and, second, must strive to lead and maintain a high moral standard in his community.

"In six years on the City Commission I have consistently worked towards those ends.

"District 4 is one of the fastest growing areas in the city and because of this our problems of paving, drainage and sewers have been many. These challenges have been met and a definite program is under way to meet these needs completely.

"With the development of Hawthorne Park and the playgrounds in the district we are expanding our recreational facilities.

"Our city is in splendid financial condition, and much of the credit for this goes to our city manager and his staff. With careful planning we are again this year maintaining the $13.27 tax rate.

"During the past two years, your City Commission has been faced with many unusual problems, not the least of which has been the Police Department.

"I believe there must be a direct chain of command established from the City Commission (elected by the people) to the city manager to the chief of police. To this end I encourage the citizens of Pontiac to vote "yes" on both amendments Monday."

WINFORD E. BOTTOM

"I am convinced that there is a great need for a change in our city government. A need that speaks for itself when the present conditions are reviewed and analyzed. Conditions that have allowed, in my opinion, the people of this city to suffer a tremendous loss — in money, name and respect, causing unnecessary embarrassment with our neighboring cities.

"This condition is due largely to an almost absolute unwillingness on the part of our present administration to solve pressing problems in a fair manner and with dispatch.

"I believe that a greater unity of purpose must be achieved among city officials if Pontiac is to become more and more progressive as the outstanding industrial city for its size in this country.

"It is the responsibility of those in public office to guarantee through proper planning and programming that the labor forces in our city's employ will lead the field in respect to wage scale, second to none in their respective fields of employment.

"Concerning the proposed charter amendments, I see no reason to support these changes, based upon the evidence made public and which I have undertaken to discover for myself. To me these amendments, if approved, would deprive our citizens of certain Constitutional rights which they must preserve."

Slate Renewal Action Tonight

The City Planning Commission tonight is scheduled to act on the urban renewal project.

If the project is approved—and there is no expectation that it won't be—all will be in readiness for the City Commission to give final approval next Tuesday.

Action on the project at the commission table was postponed one week last night.

In other business, commissioners approved the vacation to General Motors Corp. of portions of two streets just south of the Fisher Body Division plant, where a new electrical substation is planned in connection with the plant's modernization program.

Vacated after no objections were raised at a public hearing was Kennett road between Young and Wing streets and Wing between Kennett and Owens street. The company owns all the affected property.

City Manager Walter K. Willman was asked to consider a request from the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club asking for a fence on the west side of Pontiac Municipal Airport to protect deer in the Pontiac Recreation Area.

Three hearings were scheduled for next Tuesday on assessment rolls for the following projects: curbs, gutters and drains on Arlene street, Second to Columbia; a sanitary sewer on the south side of Montcalm street from Lakeside to 700 feet west of Summit; and curbs and gutters on Mansfield avenue, Fuller to Arlene.

No objections were raised at hearings on seven assessment rolls covering the following blacktopping jobs: Carlisle avenue, Walton to Chicago; Arlene avenue, Madison to Second; Carr street, from Mt. Clemens south; Court drive, Mt. Clemens to Grandview; Ivy street, Montcalm to Kennett; Victory drive, Mt. Clemens south; and Roselawn drive, Fiddis to Maines.

★ ★ ★

Scheduled for a hearing next week is a proposal to install a water main and a sanitary sewer on Hess street, Grant to Irene, and on Irene street, Hess to Warner.

The commission asked for bids on the 1960 blacktopping program to be submitted to City Hall for opening May 9.

Child Guidance Funds Okayed

$25,000 Approved for Salaries of Three More Royal Oak Workers

The Royal Oak branch of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic today was one step closer to having three state-paid employes added to its staff.

Rep. S. James Clarkston (D-Southfield) reported that the House has approved $25,000 for salaries for the three as part of a mental health appropriation bill.

The plan must now receive Gov. Williams' signature.

The funds will provide for the hiring of a psychiatrist, psychiatric social worker and clinical psychologist, all full-time, according to Miss Madeline Half, clinic director.

Today the state pays for five similar employes who serve the Clinic's three branches in Pontiac, Birmingham and Royal Oak.

The three new workers would be assigned as "a second state team" assigned specifically to the Royal Oak or South Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, Miss Half said.

The Senate had already approved the measure, one of two clinic appropriations granted in this year's austerity budget, Rep. Clarkson said.

★ ★ ★

He cited the appropriation as a "major achievement" for the people of the county in providing more services for the early diagnosis of emotional disturbance in children.

March Sales of GMC Trucks Best Since '55

GMC truck domestic retail deliveries in March totaled 7,915 vehicles, the best sales month since October 1955, according to Calvin J. Werner, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the GMC Truck and Coach Division.

GMC's March total was up 26.4 per cent over March a year ago compared to the industry increase of only 9.7 per cent, Werner said.

The GM executive attributed the strong upswing to customer enthusiasm over the 1960 GMC truck models which are powered by the new V6 gasoline engines.

Showroom traffic in GMC truck dealerships throughout the country has been in great volume as truck buyers go in to inspect the V6 engine, independent front wheel suspension and other new features, he said.

DELOS HAMLIN

New Terms for Hamlin and Hulet

As expected, the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday added another notch to Delos Hamlin's civic record and re-elected him chairman for a unprecedented fifth consecutive term.

★ ★ ★

Supervisors also re-elected Bloomfield Township Supervisor Arno L. Hulet vice chairman of the 83-member Board.

Both elections were by unanimous votes.

Hamlin, 55, of Farmington, was first elected chairman in 1956. Since then he has served Oakland County on many county and intercounty committees involving all phases of government services.

Hulet, 65, was elected last year to succeed veteran West Bloomfield Supervisor Hiland M. Thatcher who resigned to become road commissioner. Hulet is a former school teacher. He has been on the Board four years.

The appointments were made at the Board's reorganization meeting. They are for one year.

Ike Will Forsake Golf to Toss First Baseball

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — President Eisenhower will interrupt his golfing holiday long enough to open the American League baseball season in Washington.

The White House said today that the Chief Executive would fly back to the nation's capital next Monday to throw out the first ball at the American League season opener between the Washington Senators and the Boston Red Sox.

Eisenhower will return to Augusta immediately after the game aboard his government constellation, the Columbine III.

about 500 miles high. This is the first such off - and - on engine flown by the United States. The Soviet Union is not known to have used anything comparable in its space shots.

Transit IB is the third major American space achievement in little more than a month. On March 11, Pioneer V, carrying man's first interplanetary communication system, winged into orbit about the sun. Tiros I, the weather-eye satellite that photographs clouds, followed.

Officials emphasized that Transit 1B is merely a test of equipment and theories that may be used in an operation system. Two or three more advanced test transits will be launched later this year, with the first operational payload scheduled for 1961.

Development of an operational transit system of four satellites by 1962 is a major U.S. military goal.

It will be especially important to Polaris missile submarines and bombers carrying long range Hound Dog and Skybolt air-launched rockets. Quick, accurate information on position will be of great value in plotting missile trajectories from these launching platforms.

The first Polaris subs are expected to begin operating late this year. They will be able to use transit satellites to check their ship's inertial guidance system, which must be corrected periodically because of gyroscope drift.

Combing Region for Fugitive From County Jail

Police throughout Southeastern Michigan are pressing their search for an Oakland County Jail trusty who stole a deputy's car and escaped March 23.

The escapee, Frank W. Strachan, 24, of Detroit, has been blamed for 15 taxicab robberies since his escape.

Detroit Police said today that his latest victim was Mrs. Lois Harris of Hamtramck, whom he robbed of $15 and then took her cab.

Strachan's most daring theft was his first.

Assigned to the personal car of Deputy Ray Pilon, he cleaned it and then drove off in it.

The car has not been recovered.

Bloomfield Twp. Vote May Abolish 'Meeting'

BIRMINGHAM — Voters in Bloomfield Township will be asked to abolish the annual township meeting in the August primary election.

★ ★ ★

The decision to place the abolishment proposal on the ballot has been unanimously agreed upon by the seven-member Board of Trustees.

Township Supervisor Arno Hulet said the proposition was put before voters in 1956 and was turned down by a slim margin.

Following the annual meeting April 2, Hulet said, "These township meetings can be murderous." He was referring to how the 60 residents in attendance could decide what to do with nearly a half million dollars in the budget.

The annual meetings are called every year by state law and give voters a free hand in running the government.

Two commissioners, re-elected last week in Bloomfield Hills, were named mayor and mayor pro tem last night.

★ ★ ★

Elected to the top posts by fellow commissioners were Henry L. Woolfenden, mayor, and James A. Beresford, mayor pro tem.

Woolfenden, who served as mayor pro tem last year, succeeds Lyman J. Craig.

The Holy Week calender of the Congregational Church of Birmingham includes Maundy Thursday service tomorrow at 8 p.m., with the ancient Tenebrae Service by the Board of Deacons and Deaconesses.

New members will be received into the church during this service.

A potluck supper and meeting for the Franklin Cemetery Assn. officers and the Ladies Auxiliary will be held tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Currin, 26630 Captains Lane, Franklin.

New officers of the Birmingham Alumnae chapter of Alpha Xi Delta will be installed at 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. John W. Opel, 2910 Middlebury Rd.

Mrs. Jacob A. Havel

Service for Mrs. Jacob A. Havel, 63, of 1124 Bird St., will be held at 9:30 a.m. Friday at the William Vasu Funeral Home followed by a blessing at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Church. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Mrs. Havel died suddenly at her home Tuesday.

A Rosary will be said Thursday at 9 p.m. at the funeral home. A Requiem Mass will be said Monday at 10 a.m. at the church.

Mrs. Havel was a member of St. Patrick's Guild and the Altar Society at Our Holy Queen of Martyrs Church.

Surviving are her husband and a son, William L. at home, four brothers and three sisters.

Livonia Official Quits; Other Jobs Important

LIVONIA (AP) — Mrs. Loree Maiwurm has resigned as Livonia safety director - civilian head of police and fire departments. Mrs. Maiwurm was appointed to the post last October.

In her letter of resignation yesterday she said she found the time needed to carry out the job made it impossible for her to carry out her other jobs as a mother and fulltime employe of a loan company. No one has been named to replace her as yet.

Who's Going 'Toupee' for This?

Hair Today; Gone . . .

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Marcel Cadeaux's hair has been snatched again.

It was only his black and dark brown hair this time. Not his multicolored hair.

For the second time since December, thieves broke into Cadeaux's hair stylist shop and made off with a collection of expensive wigs and toupees.

One of the missing toupees belongs to a customer who has been staying home weekends so it could be repaired.

"I don't know what I'm going to tell him," Cadeaux moaned.

★ ★ ★

The loot in the latest hair snatching was valued at $1,000. Cadeaux said the thieves ignored a shipment of fancy multicolored wigs and took only four black and two dark brown hair pieces.

Some $2,500 worth of false tops were taken in the previous robbery, including the toupee of a prospective bridegroom. The wedding was postponed.

★ ★ ★

"That man still isn't married," Cadeaux reported.

Kalamazoo County OKs Stray Dogs for Research

KALAMAZOO (UPI)—The Kalamazoo County Board Tuesday ended a long controversy by voting 17-13 to provide that unclaimed stray dogs can be sold for medical research.

Previously the Board had considered a resolution providing that the dogs be sold to a Decatur, Ind., kennel which would then sell them for research.

★ ★ ★

The resolution adopted now however, did not specify any particular agency to buy the dogs.

The dogs may be sold for medical research if not claimed in seven days.

School Loan Bill on Senate Floor

Might Save Taxpayer $650,000 in Interest a Year, Morris Says

LANSING (AP)—A proposal to more effectively throw the state's credit behind school borrowings for buildings reached the Senate floor today.

The House-approved resolution bore Judiciary Committee endorsement and amendments that would limit its life, assuming voter approval in November, to 10 years — or not later than July 1, 1972.

Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), committee chairman, said he was informed the plan might produce $650,000 a year in savings to taxpayers through shaving of interest rates by one-eighth of one per cent.

It would replace a somewhat similar pledge of state support for borrowings by distressed school districts which expires in 1962.

A half dozen representatives of educational organizations appeared before the Judiciary Committee yesterday to support the plan.

Among them were Louis Schimmel of Pontiac, Julius Barbour of East Lansing and Frank Zeiter of Clio, all representing the Michigan School Board Assn.; and Paul Strawhecker of Grand Rapids and Russell Hilbert, speaking for the metropolitan school district of Detroit.

Under the new constitutional amendment, the state's credit would be pledged in support of school borrowings for capital expenditures in situations governed by two conditions.

When these conditions prevail, "then the district may elect to borrow all or any part of the excess from the state." The resolution continues:

"In that event the state shall loan the excess amount. If for any reason any school district will be unable to pay the principal and interest on its qualified bonds when due, the school district shall borrow and the state shall loan to it an amount sufficient to enable the school district to make the payment."

★ ★ ★

This language is expected to prove an ironclad guarantee to lenders that will persuade them to accept slightly reduced interest.

NO BAIL — Carnival roustabout Bobby van Over, 21, of Tampa, Fla., is being held without bail awaiting grand jury action on charges of killing former Bradley University President David B. Owen in a Washington hotel room. The 51-year-old manager of the Santa Cruz, Calif., Chamber of Commerce was found beaten beyond recognition and strangled. Van Over said the victim had invited him up to the hotel room to "slap him around."

Consider Using SAGE to Lessen Airline Crashes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) is conducting tests to determine if the Air Force's SAGE bomber defense system could be used to help prevent high-altitude collisions between civilian airliners.

The FAA said the tests, which began April 4, also would determine "whether the SAGE system will permit FAA (air traffic) controllers to track more aircraft simultaneously than is possible using other methods and facilities."

SAGE, which stands for Semi-Automatic Ground Environment, is a costly system of radar, computers and television circuits designed to guide U. S. fighters and antiaircraft missiles in attacks on enemy bombers.

★ ★ ★

In the case of missiles, the SAGE system is meant to put the missile in a collision course with the attacking bomber. But some aviation experts believe the same idea could be used to prevent civilian air collisions.

Predicts 45 Cargo Jets for Overseas Airways

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U. S. overseas airlines will put a total of 45 cargo jets into operation over the next three years, the president of Pan American World Airways predicts.

Juan T. Trippe said 30 of the jets would be required to carry public cargo, the other 15 for potential government shipments.

Trippe made the prediction in testimony before a House Armed Services subcommittee studying the problems of a national airlift.

A-Rocket Stage Planned by U.S.

Would Help Saturn to Push a 36-Ton Payload Into Orbit by 1969

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States plans an atomic-assisted Saturn rocket capable of hurling a 72,000-pound payload into orbit or making a round trip to the moon, it was disclosed.

Missile expert Wernher von Braun said in testimony published by a House appropriations subcommittee that the rocket would be an advanced version of the Saturn space vehicle with a nuclear-powered upper stage.

He predicted the 1,500,000-pound superbooster would be flight tested in 1968 or 1969—four or five years after the first flight of the basic Saturn booster. A ground test of all eight chambers of the Saturn is scheduled during the next two months.

Von Braun told the House subcommittee the multistage rocket would be capable of placing a 72,000-pound instrument package in a 300-mile high orbit. The first, nonnuclear Saturn will be able to place 22,000 pounds in a similar orbit.

Von Braun said the advanced version also could take a 14,800-pound payload to the moon. The nuclear-liquid fuel combination also "makes it definately possible to fly a portion of this back to earth so you can bring samples back from the surface of the moon," he said.

Mull College Integration

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (UP) — A faculty committee will be named at Wake Forest College here to consider whether the all-white Baptist-supported institution should accept Negroes. Faculty members debated the question for about 90 minutes Monday before handing it to the committee. The Board of Trustees would make the final decision.

Iron Ore Receipts Show Increase

CLEVELAND (UP) — Total iron ore receipts during February at U.S. and Canadian iron and steel plants amounted to 4,527,373 gross tons, the American Iron Ore Assn. reported Tuesday. Last year's February total was 3,143,285 tons.

The total receipts for the year jumped to 9,074,771 tons, compared with 6,198,211 tons for the first two months of 1959.

Total consumption through February was set at 24,306,564 tons, compared with 20,503,643 at the same time a year ago. Ore on inventory is more than four million tons below the 48,692,799 tons stocked a year ago. The figure at the end of February stood at 44,372,157 tons.

During February, the association reported that 244 of the 273 U.S. and Canadian blast furnaces were in operation. A year ago, only 225 were working.

Vote 'FOR' Both Amendments and Better City Government

Next Monday we vote on two charter amendments that deal with our police setup.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac is trying to dig her way out of the mess in which she finds herself today. Our police situation has caused us embarrassment across Michigan and most of us who live here have been kidded by friends from other cities.

★ ★ ★

But, there are other factors of infinitely greater importance. Our system has not been effective. It has aroused discord and trouble. We've listened to endless wrangling. The Chief of Police has not been answerable to the City Manager and the Commission. These men are the heads of the local government and they must have authority.

You — the voters — elect the Commission. They are answerable to you. This is the normal way. Everyone working for the City MUST be under the direction of those with authority.

That isn't true now.

The Police Chief is exempt.

★ ★ ★

Also, we are saddled with an unnecessary office that does us no good. It stands as a useless expense, and it has produced wrangling, bickering and discontent. And it costs us an unnecessary salary. We'll be better off financially to abolish the post of Director of Public Safety and, further, we will strengthen our civic setup at the same time.

★ ★ ★

On the amendments the ballots read "FOR" or "AGAINST"; and it's important for every voter to know exactly what each means.

★ ★ ★

If you vote "FOR," you vote to make the Police Chief answerable to the City Manager. Students of City government are convinced this is correct. In the other amendment, when you vote "FOR" you are casting a ballot in favor of an ordinance which will abolish the post of Public Safety Director. We don't need the office. We don't want the expense. We prefer a streamlined setup adjusted to modern conditions.

★ ★ ★

These amendments will not abolish the Trial Board. This remains, but the Police Chief is taken out from under as he should be.

★ ★ ★

If you wish to correct the errors under which we have been laboring, vote "FOR" each amendment. Let's unite and bring order out of chaos. Let's get down to work and throw out the bickering and the squabbles. Let's vote for a better and more economical City government.

MANY a person who is told by his physician that he will die within a few months neglects to do so.

Republicans Fail to Back Administrative Proposal

Self-government for the District of Columbia seems long overdue. Why should the Federal Government be troubled with administrating the affairs of this municipality?

It now appears that the bill is stalled because of the lack of Republican support. Since it is a bipartisan drive for an administration bill, it seems reasonable to expect the Republicans to support it.

Vice President Richard Nixon has said: "The administration proposal, which would grant District residents the right to elect their own legislative assembly, should have the support of both parties in this session of Congress."

Apparently the situation is quite clear, and this is not so. The Dems are backing it, and some Republicans are not. The fate of voting rights for three-quarters of a million Americans in the District of Columbia now rests with a handful of Republicans.

★ ★ ★

There is no good reason why the people of Washington, one of the nation's tenth largest cities, should not be allowed to manage their own affairs. There is no good reason why Congress should be saddled with this absurd burden.

We feel that it is the duty of the Republicans to get behind their own Administration-backed bill and work toward its passage.

Before the Close of Entry Time in Baseball Contest

Delay: What can rob you of $250.

You must hurry if you want that $250 in U.S. savings bonds. Our baseball contest closes Friday noon, and That's Day After Tomorrow.

The prize goes to the person making the nearest correct answer to:

What player who has been at bat at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Thursday, May 5, and what will be his batting average?

You cannot afford to put this thing off any longer: It costs nothing to enter the contest. Every member of your family is eligible to compete, regardless of their age.

Each entry must be on a separate piece of paper, but all can be mailed in the same envelope. Your favorite player is waiting to do his best in winning that prize for you. But you won't get it if your entry is not received on time. Remember

All entries must be received in The Pontiac Press office by noon on Friday, April 15.

Immediate action is quite necessary, or you must be content to see the prize go to somebody else. Perhaps they need it more than you do. It now is all up to YOU. Yes, delay can rob you of a chance to get that prize. Do you want it?

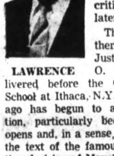
David Lawrence Says:

Douglas Revives Segregation Case

WASHINGTON—It is a rare thing for a justice of the Supreme Court of the United States to discuss publicly at any time afterwards a case in the decision of which he has participated.



LAWRENCE

It has always been the custom for justices to stand on what they wrote in the opinion itself no matter what criticism came later.

The address, therefore, that Justice William O. Douglas delivered before the Cornell Law School at Ithaca, N.Y., a few days ago has begun to attract attention, particularly because it reopens and, in a sense, supplements the text of the famous desegregation decision of May 17, 1954.

It revives debate, too, on whether the Supreme Court in that case decided a question of constitutional law or a question of psychology.

★ ★ ★

"Judges," said Justice Douglas, "like the cases with which they deal, are more than statistics. The electronics industry—resourceful as it is—will never produce a machine to handle these problems. They are delicate and imponderable, complex and tangled.

"They require at times the economist's understanding, the poet's insight, the executive's experience, the political scientist's understanding, the historian's perspective."

This view will be disputed by those who feel that the founding fathers set up a Supreme Court to decide not what the law or the Constitution ought to be but what it really is, based on written acts of Congress and written provisions in the Constitution.

This is why Judge Learned Hand, retired, America's most outstanding jurist, expressed in his famous lecture to the Harvard Law School two years ago the fear that the Supreme Court of today might become a "third legislative chamber."

NEW CONCEPT

But it is in relation to the desegregation decision that Justice Douglas' new comments will be widely debated. He gave to the Cornell law students this concept of the present-day court:

"There is the myth that has received great impetus since Brown v. Board of Education, 347 U. S. 483. It is that the court made an exception in those school segregation cases and picked them out as the occasion to rely on 'sociological' data, not on law or precedents.

"Yet those who work in constitutional law know that business facts, economic data, institutional practices, and social materials often are relevant to enlightened decisions on constitutional issues. The Brandeis brief, filed in 1908 in Muller v. Oregon, 208 U. S. 412, and containing vast citations to economic and social data bearing on the hours of work by women, is the classical example."

But Justice Douglas missed the main point of the criticism that has been made about "sociological" data. Nobody has objected to the introduction of data of any kind in a formal brief filed prior to the argument before the court.

What is objected to is the lack of an opportunity to the other side to present a rebuttal or ever to cross-examine the experts or "authorities" before they are cited for the first time in a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States.

The Supreme Court of the United States based its judgment on a number of citations of a sociological nature, even though similar data were also available for use in the many cases decided in the period between 1896 and 1954 by eminent justices, including Charles Evans Hughes and Oliver Wendell Holmes. Yet the 1954 decision said:

"Whatever may have been the extent of psychological knowledge at the time of Plessy v. Ferguson, this finding is amply supported by modern authority. Any language in Plessy v. Ferguson (1896) contrary to this finding is rejected."

The Country Parson

"If money talks, we have a lot of whispering members."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Belly Breathing Can Help Alleviate Many Ailments

How can a person practice belly breathing, asked a man who is subject to angina pectoris, when his chest is cramped as though in a vice?

That stopped me. I'm afraid the man didn't like it when I told him: Never mind your chest—use your belly!

DR. BRADY

How in tarnation, asked Mrs. T. W. F., can anyone do a dozen inflations of the bellows before going to sleep? It relaxes me so I fall asleep before I have done six. If I do it in the morning, I go back to sleep!

In order to practice this natural breathing you should understand how the bellows (diaphragm) works. Little lesson No. 21, for which send me 35 cents and a stamped envelope bearing your address, will teach you how to breathe: In the back of the booklet you will find illustrated instructions for applying mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Mrs. T. W. F.'s query made me wonder what blithering idiot had suggested a dozen inflations. I became uneasy and was compelled to perform a heinous task—read some of my own writings. I discovered the blithering idiot was one Wm. Brady, M.D., who, in a burst of enthusiasm said:

"The regular practice of natural breathing for a few minutes daily will not only improve circulation but steady the nerves. A mere half dozen or dozen bellows inflations when you get into bed to sleep, and again when you wake up in the morning, will bring appreciable results in a week, make you an enthusiast in a month and convert you into a nut in a year."

Now, I don't know why I suggested more than 6 inflations at one seance. If anyone does more than six at one seance I'd like to hear what he or she may have to say about it.

Belly and bellows are derived from the same Anglo-Saxon word, belg, belig, meaning bag. The belly is the front wall of the abdomen—there is no other word for it.

People with winter cough (chronic bronchitis), emphysema or asthma should practice belly breathing faithfully three times a day.

A Minnesota reader reports that she followed instructions for natural breathing, in the booklet How to Breathe, and brought her blood pressure down from 170 over something to 138 over 90.

Regular practice of belly or bellows breathing is advisable for persons who have varicose veins or internal hemorrhoids. It is almost a must for young women who have painful menstruation.

Observe the breathing of an unconscious or sleeping person, a primitive or an animal. You will see that the breathing is done with the belly or bellows, not with the chest.

'School Safety Directors Are Symbol of America'

From time to time The Press does a "man on the street" bit. I'd like to commend the use of little people and things they think and the way they express themselves.

★ ★ ★

It would also be worthwhile and rewarding to learn of the personal history of some of the men and women who unselfishly and unfailingly stand against snow, sleet, rain, sub-zero cold and searing heat to lead school children safely across our busy roads.

★ ★ ★

One man in particular comes to mind—he's close to 80, is frail and always looks cold, but he's always there, dedicating his last productive years that another man's children should come and go in safety. Aren't these people a living symbol of the kind of timber that built our National House?

Complains of Lack of Supervision

I agree with the letter about children destroying neighbors' property. There's nothing wrong with mothers working, for I've noticed if a child molests others while mama is working, he does it when she's home.

★ ★ ★

Daddy says go play somewhere else, and doesn't care whose yard it is. Neighbors are old cranks when they complain. We need more police and another dog warden. One warden can't handle the growing dog population.

This beatnik deal must be ignorance in the lowest degree and taverns are about as bad as anything can be. Why can't Pontiac rule as a clean city?

Wondering

'Let's Not Tamper With City Charter'

Pontiac has an excellent Police Department and it shouldn't be revamped. Certain people will always try to control the department and by voting for the proposed charter amendment, you'll be turning your police department of tomorrow over to the group that can exert the most pressure on the City Manager.

It isn't wise to change the carter every time we have a little difficulty. All cities are the same, and the nature of police work creates difficulties. Only some cities like Chicago have real trouble. Let's not tamper with our City charter—vote against the amendments.

'This Is the Method to Attract Industry'

I'd like to call attention to the following editorial in "The Saturday Evening Post:"

"Indiana isn't dead yet, according to Lt. Gov. Crawford Parker.

" 'We've been getting a lot of new industries ourselves,' he says, 'and we're doing this without offering bribes or concessions.' Mr. Parker officiated at the opening of Indiana's ninth General Electric plant, a big Westinghouse electric-transformer plant, and several other factories brought to Indiana by major national concerns. Indiana has no state debt, and its tax structure is one that long has appealed to industry. Indiana also has a right-to-work law in force.

"For states which want to keep the industries they have and attract new ones, the answer probably lies in these stable, long-term inducements rather than in fancy lures. A state which is soundly and economically governed, isn't run by labor unions and doesn't treat industry as an easy mark for taxation will probably do all right without bargain-basements come-ons."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Consider the Value, Not Just Cost

The "parallel comparison" method is excellent in salesmanship as well as logical debate. Compare your very valuable human machine with your automobile, and then see if you are straining at a gnat but swallowing a camel. Don't wince at a modest charge to keep you alive, and then gladly sink a small fortune in a fancy funeral. Use your "horse sense."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE E — 433: Jack M., aged 36, recently took his wife to the hospital for a surgical operation.

★ ★ ★

"She recovered very nicely and had excellent treatment during her two weeks there," he admitted.

"But it seems to me that the hospital bill was pretty steep. I had to pay $12 per day for her room, and also an additional charge for the operating room, the anesthesia, and all drugs used.

DR. CRANE

"On top of all this, the surgeon's bill is still to be met. Dr. Crane, it seems to me that it would be much better if the government or the state ran the medical profession."

BE LOGICAL

Jack's attitude shows clearly why medicine, as well as dentistry, should begin publicizing their services by group sponsored newspaper ads.

★ ★ ★

"You must tell 'em if you want to sell 'em," runs an adage of Applied Psychology, that is just as applicable to medicine and dentistry as to refrigerators or life insurance.

Americans are accustomed to paying $8 for a single room at a downtown hotel. This figure includes no meals, and no sponge baths by a nurse, nor alcohol rubs, taking of temperature, etc.

A modern hospital furnishes good meals and even lets the patient select his or her foods from a printed menu card.

★ ★ ★

Hotels which operate on the American plan, meaning that meals are included with the room charge, normally ask from $12 to $18 per single room.

The average hospital is thus operating on a cheaper room charge than our hotels, if we include all the extra services offered by the hospital room.

PARALLEL COMPARISONS

In salesmanship, as well as logical arguments, it is good strategy to make parallel comparisons, as I have done between hospitals and hotels.

We might continue this method by pointing out the fact that Americans are accustomed to paying $275 or more for a refrigerator. They will think nothing of sinking $1,200 in a jalopy or a used car.

And after a member of the family is dead, they may spend $750 for the funeral, without complaining about the cost.

Recently some acquaintances of mine objected to a $15 per day oxygen tank to help their father withstand an attack of pneumonia.

★ ★ ★

But when he died a week later, they spent $675 for his casket and funeral, but I never heard them say a word to the effect that it was expensive.

We human beings are a curious lot, for we seem to be habitually averse to spending money to keep us alive, but gladly invest large sums for burials.

PLAY FAIR

Men will change oil in their automobile every 1,000 miles and have a garage check it for winter and summer grease jobs.

But they will let their far more valuable human machine run until it breaks down before they are willing to spend a cent for medical attention. Even then they may wince at a $5 fee.

How long have you readers gone without having your eyes tested? Have you voluntarily visited a dental office within the last year?

Have you valuable heads of families received a good physical examination lately? If not, why don't you play fair with your bodies and apply the old adage that a stitch in time saves nine?

Even a pick and shovel laborer is worth $100,000 in wages during his adult lifetime, while you business and professional men may be worth at least half a million in useful service.

So don't object too strenuously to a hospital bill of $100. Don't strain at a gnat and swallow a camel!

You spend $50 upkeep on a $500 jalopy, so why yell at $100 to keep a $250,000 human chassis in good running order?

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

In a long-range program, the group plans two baseball fields, basketball courts, horseshoe courts, shuffle board, a football field and installation of all types of playground equipment.

Chairman of the project, John McGrath, said cooperation of the entire community is needed to help project the over-all plan.

This includes individuals as well as civic organizations, he said.

SOUGHT PROJECT

After looking around for some worthy project to benefit youth, the year-old Optimist Club found there was a great need for park facilities for boys and girls.

An agreement whereby the township donated 10 acres for park development has resulted in extensive land clearing.

By the time Little League baseball teams are set to play, it is hoped that the park will also be ready, McGrath said. Fred Pankey is cochairman.

Many top business officials as well as organizations have pledged support to get the park started.

However, many more dollars are needed to make the "dream become a reality," McGrath stated.

Both he and Pankey will supply any additional information.

Antony Arrives; Takes His Place in Wax Museum

LONDON (UPI) — Antony Armstrong-Jones, fiance of Princess Margaret, soon will take his place among the immortals in Madame Tussaud's Wax Museum.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the famous exhibition said the model of Armstrong-Jones in full evening dress is standing "in a characteristic pose with his hands clasped behind his back."

The spokesman said Armstrong-Jones spent some time in the Tussaud studies while preparing a book on London. The model was based on photographs.

HARD OF HEARING

BUZZING—RINGING—HEAD NOISES

Hardened excess ear wax can clog the outer ear canal, cause hard of hearing, buzzing, ringing, muffled noises.

Now you can remove this deep down wax by the new WAX-OUT method. Soothing oils gently loosen wax and by use of a simple syringe float it out. It relieves pressure—itching—and gives your ears a fresh, clean feeling. Get WAX-OUT today in the new, easy-to-use squeeze a drop bottle, on sale for $1.39

Speeches Blister GOP

Coy Adlai Gets Ready — Just in Case

By ARTHUR EDSON

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) —Adlai Stevenson is still playing it coy.

★ ★ ★ ★

He won't say yes, and he won't say no—at least not so, positively —to this simple question:

Are you or aren't you interested in having the Democrats nominate you for president again this July?

★ ★ ★

Stevenson has been back in this country for only three days after nine weeks in South America. Already he has held a half dozen press conferences and has been buttonholed by a score of reporters anxious for the story behind the story.

★ ★ ★

In all these that have come to light he consistently has answered: He doesn't plan to lift a finger to gain the nomination. He neither seeks nor expects to be his party's choice for the third straight time.

Which brings us to his speech Tuesday night at the University of Virginia. He lambasted the Republican administration as enthusiastically as he ever did while running in 1952 and 1956.

As one journalist put it: "If this isn't the speech of a candidate, what is it?"

★ ★ ★

This reporter has spent two days following Stevenson about the pleasant Virginia countryside where so much of our history was written.

Repeatedly there were variations of this scene: He was leaving Monticello, the magnificent home of Thomas Jefferson, when a woman tourist called out, "Mr. Stevenson, I want to vote for you."

Stevenson laughed and said: "I'm afraid you're four years too late."

But if he expects no political miracles, he also acts like a man who would like to be ready in case one should come along.

A university gathering isn't usually the forum for throwing political haymakers, but Stevenson got around this cleverly.

The University of Virginia was founded by Jefferson, and Jefferson was, of course, one of our most astute politicians.

Well, Stevenson had Jefferson looking at the present day situation and being upset about the way the Republican administration is running things.

"He would see," Stevenson said of Jefferson, "that our national leadership has not prepared us for the tasks of this searching century. Too often—and I wish I could call Jefferson as a witness —our leadership has been hesitant and half-hearted, and has concealed from us the nature and dimensions of the crisis."

Repeatedly, Stevenson stressed that this nation is losing out to the Communists of the Soviet Union and China, and that the Eisenhower administration is responding with slogans rather than action.

★ ★ ★

"Our leaders tell us in effect," he said, "that if we can just balance the budget and produce more consumer goods, the Soviet challenge will somehow disappear.

"This is dangerous. It is impossible to spend years traveling around the world, as I have, without a disquieting awareness of the thrust and purpose of Soviet society."

Louisiana Governor Looks Ahead

Earl to Run Again in '64

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Gov. Earl Long, 64, announced yesterday that he will run for the governorship again in 1964 and got a standing ovation from state labor leaders.

Long, who battled his way out of three mental hospital wards last summer, disclosed his intention to seek re-election in addressing a session of the Louisiana AFL-CIO Labor Council annual convention.

He tossed off a remark about a recent investigation of his income taxes and another offering "the right advice" to the man who apparently will succeed him.

He accepted an introduction by Labor Council President Victor Bussie by admitting:

"Even though Bussie put it on kinda strong, he's pretty near right."

'ONE OF GREATEST'

Bussie had described him as "one of the greatest humanitarians, one of the greatest friends the working man ever had in the state of Louisiana."

He said Jimmie Davis, Democratic candidate for governor and therefore nearly assured of election, "will make a fine governor if he accepts the right advice.

★ ★ ★

"I'll be glad to help him if I'm called upon,' Long continued. "Otherwise, I'll be at my pea patch at Winnfield, resting up for four years from now."

Rousing Welcome Greets Nasser in Pakistan

DACCA, Pakistan (AP) — President Nasser of the United Arab Republic was given a rousing reception Tuesday when he arrived from Karachi.

He received a salute from a detachment of the Pakistan army and an ovation from a big crowd gathered at the airport.

Thousands of others lined the route on his drive to the city.

SENTENCED — Embezzler John R. Hendrickson, multimillionaire heating contractor, was sentenced Monday to 25 years in prison. He was convicted in Los Angeles of embezzling $3,714,610 from a Long Beach bank. It's one of the biggest swindles in U. S. history.

For Years of Service

Laud Three Supervisors

A former Pontiac supervisor and two from Royal Oak, who served a total of 69 years on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors before they retired in January, received certificates of merit yesterday.

But only W. Raymond Ransom, former Pontiac assessor, was on hand to receive the accolade from his fellow supervisors with whom he once served 25 years.

Missing were Fred W. Smith, who spent 28 years, and H. Lloyd Clawson, 16 years, both from Royal Oak. Their plaques will be sent to them.

Retiring supervisors who serve 15 or more years receive like certificates of merit.

"It is with mixed feelings that we give you this award," said senior Royal Oak Supervisor William C. Hudson to Ransom. "We will miss you on this Board and possibly you will miss us."

City PTA Heads Honored at Presidents' Breakfast

Incoming and outgoing PTA presidents and their school principals were honored by Pontiac PTA Council Tuesday at the annual Presidents' Breakfast in Hotel Waldron.

Following the invocation by Rev. Paul Johnson of First General Baptist Church, greetings were extended by Mrs. William Anderson, council president.

Mrs. William Wright, program chairman of Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, spoke for the MCPT and its board of managers.

★ ★ ★

The group was congratulated by Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac schools, who sent best wishes to incoming PTA officers for the year of leadership ahead.

Several vocal selections were presented by the Senior Girls Ensemble of Pontiac Central High School. Mrs. Roland Stephison, program chairman of the council, presented the group.

★ ★ ★

Others attending the program as special guests were Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent of Pontiac schools in charge of business; Dr. Russell W. Curtis, coordinator of secondary education; George Putnam, instrumental music and vocal supervisor in Pontiac schools; and Mrs. Harry E. King, past president of MCPT.

The following council officers also were guests: Mrs. L. D. McLauchlin, first vice president; Mrs. Stephison, second vice president; Mrs. Thomas Henson, recording secretary; Mrs. George Gray, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harrol Beebe, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas Fowler, historian; and Arthur Bell, auditor.

Mrs. Henson was general chairman for the breakfast. Assisting with arrangements were Mrs. John Talbot, reservations; Mrs. Lyle Dusenbury, corsages; Mrs. Albert Stevens and Mrs. Ray Ritter, publicity; Mrs. Thomas Fowler, decorations; Mrs. George Gray, invitations; and Mrs. Stanley Boyd and Mrs. Sidney Olson, hospitality.

Mrs. Walter Godsell, center, outgoing president of Crofoot Elementary School's PTA, received a warm welcome upon arriving for Tuesday's Presidents' Breakfast. Ready with a corsage was Mrs. Cameron Clark, president of Wisner Elementary School PTA. David Simmons, outgoing Jefferson Junior High School PTA president, assisted Mrs. Godsell with her wrap.

To Choose Secretary of Week

Pontioak Chapter of the National Secretaries Assn., in observance of National Secretaries Week April 24-30, will choose an Oakland County "Secretary of the Week" on April 27.

Nominations for secretaries considered deserving of the honor may be submitted by bosses or associates. The nominee's name and qualifications should be mailed to: Oakland County Secretary of the Week, Post Office Box 269, Birmingham, Mich. by Friday.

★ ★ ★

The secretary selected will be honored at a dinner in Hotel Waldron at 6 p.m. April 27, National Secretaries Day.

Reservations for the dinner may be made by contacting Mrs. Kay Rector of Cooley Lake road before April 25.

Chapter President Mrs. Roberta Trayer has announced the following committee members planning National Secretaries Week programs: Mrs. John Duncan, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Albert Birch, Mrs. Michael Kerensky and Audrey Reas.

★ ★ ★

National Secretaries Week is sponsored by The National Secretaries Assn. (International) and the National Equipment Manufacturers Institute.

This year's theme is "Better Secretaries Mean Better Business."

Miss Greenspan Lives Her Music

Group Hears New Star

By CHRIS GAENSBAUR

Last spring when Muriel Greenspan of Ann Arbor was engaged as soloist for the April program of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale, the committee had no way of knowing that they would be providing the membership with an opportunity to hear the 1960 Grinnell Grand Opera Scholarship winner.

Tuesday afternoon in Grace Lutheran Fellowship Hall, Miss Greenspan, whose star is now soaring, demonstrated why she had been chosen for this award.

★ ★ ★

Sharing the limelight with her was talented pianist Irwin Gage who provided sympathetic accompaniment and some fine solos. Both artists are from the University of Michigan graduate school.

Miss Greenspan has been gifted with a beautiful mezzo-soprano voice which she has learned to use with skill and taste. Ranging from a sonorous contralto quality to a soaring dramatic soprano, it has the flexibility of the coloratura. She has excellent technical control and sings with assurance and a fine sense of the dramatic and emotional content of the music she is performing.

The program, in Italian, French, and German, included selections from Mozart's last opera, "La Clemenza di Tito." Infrequently heard, the music revealed Miss Greenspan's remarkable range of over two octaves.

The Spanish rhythms and flamenco flavor of De Falla's "El Amor Brujo" were presented with spirit and fire as the singer portrayed the moods of love in lyric tone or thrilling full voice.

Some of the best of German lieder formed the second group. "Die Nacht" by Strauss was soft and tenderly beautiful silhouetted against his vigorous and exultant "Heimliche Aufforderung" which followed.

The piano started the spinning wheel turning for the great Schubert classic "Gretchen am Spinnrade" which Miss Greenspan delivered with pathos in controlled tones.

The program reached its climax in "Der Erlkonig." She was able to bring to a piece usually performed by a man the necessary intensity and contrast, making the dialogue between frightened child and reassuring father deeply moving.

DESTINED FOR SUCCESS

Miss Greenspan has the knack of becoming one with the music, the medium through which the composer speaks. Her voice is never a mere means of providing virtuoso performance. She seems destined to find success in music.

One flaw in the afternoon was the lack of any translation or synopsis of texts in the program. This addition would have increased listener pleasure.

Probably no more difficult program could be devised for an accompanist, but Mr. Gage met every demand both musically and technically. In addition he played "Berceuse Opus 57" and "Ballade in G Minor" by Chopin. Both revealed clean finger technique, fine awareness of melodic line and grasp of the poetic Chopinesque quality.

Mrs. Addison Oakley was program chairman for the day. At the business meeting preceding the program, president Mrs. Ralph Norvell revealed that the Tuesday Musicale Board had approved a Trustee Scholarship in music for MSUO. This will be given to a worthy Pontiac student for the fall of 1960.

Announcement was made that the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale Chorus will be singing at the Michigan State Federation Convention in Jackson April 22.

★ ★ ★

Chairman of the social committee, Mrs. J. C. Walker, was assisted by cochairman Mrs. John Blamy, Mrs. William Donaldson, Mrs. Alex Capsalis, Mrs. Charles Uligian, Mrs. B. Jack Habel and Mrs. Horace Hall.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Elmer Reynolds and Mrs. P. R. Carr presided at the tea table. Floral committee was Mrs. James Briney and Mrs. Charles Allen. Door hostesses were Mrs. D. E. Redmond and Mrs. William Shunck.

SHARRON M. FAUSS

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Fauss of Joslyn avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Sharron Marie to Robert K. DeVary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sturgle DeVary of Pontiac road.

Women's Club Installs New Officers

Officers were installed when the TBI Women's Club met at the Pontiac Business Institute with twenty-five members and guests present.

Installed by Mary Parker were Nancy Walker, president; Mrs. J. Frank Coad, vice president; Elaine Gorman, recording secretary; Mrs. Don Beutler, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Lillian Quayle, treasurer.

A yellow rose, flower of the club, was presented to each new officer and to retiring officers.

★ ★ ★

Following induction of Grace Trapp as a member, the new president appointed Mrs. Sol Lomerson, Mrs. S. E. Minard and Marie Schimmel to the scholarship committee.

Mrs. William Kovin and Patricia Wagoner were hostesses for the Saturday afternoon affair.

The club will sponsor a money making project at the institute April 23, with proceeds benefiting the scholarship fund.

Elaine Gorman will open her home for the May 21 meeting.

Tell Her You're in Ill Health

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Last week I received a letter from a relative living in a distant city, saying that she and her husband were coming to this city for several days. She has hinted very broadly that they would like to stay at our house (they know we have plenty of room).

However, I don't wish to have them stay here and would prefer that they go to a hotel. I will of course invite them to meals occasionally, but frankly, I don't feel up to having people stay here. It means so much extra work for me.

Will you please tell me how I can handle this situation tactfully?

Answer: You might write that much as you would love to have them stay with you, your health simply won't permit your having house guests "even their dear selves" at the present time.

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like you to settle a point of etiquette. I am 15 years old and go out occasionally with a 16-year-old boy. Whenever we get on a bus, he always hands me my fare to put in the coin box. I think this is wrong and that he should pay both our fares while I walk to the back. Will you pease tell me who is right.

Answer: You are right. He should not hand you the money but put both fares in the box.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to wave a greeting to a friend who is seated at another table in a restaurant? I did this the other day and my mother said that it was not good manners to wave. Will you please tell me if she is right about this?

Answer: You should wait until you catch a friend's eye and then smile your greeting. You may also make a slight gesture with your hand, but to wave your whole arm is not good manners.

Nurses Parley Slated April 21

A conference with the theme "Nurses Are Liable for Nurse Recruitment" is slated for April 21 in Jackson Auditorium of Detroit's Woman's Hospital.

The conference is jointly sponsored by the Detroit and Tri-County League for Nursing, Great Detroit District Michigan State Nurses Assn., Oakland County District MSNA, Detroit District Michigan Practical Nurses Assn. and the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council.

Reservations must be made on or before April 18 by calling the Detroit and Tri-County League for Nursing office.

A slim sheath of cotton petti point pique features a latticed neckline. Its easy-care and washability makes it ideal for summer. Available locally.

Bicycling provides a healthful, inexpensive way to see the world. Gaining in favor, the sport is one of the major areas of activity of the American Youth Hostel Assn. The number of Michigan hostels is growing and may someday match those that dot the eastern United States and Europe.

Girl Hiker Sees World From Her Trusty Bike

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

An easy, inexpensive way to see the world is on your trusty two-wheeler.

Day trips, weekend trips, vacation trips or an entire summer in Europe may be taken on a bicycle, says Linda Draves of New Hyde Park, N.Y., who has been doing just that since she was 14.

"You can travel 30 or more miles a day on a bicycle, stopping at museums or sightseeing spots for more fun and recreation than you can imagine," she explains.

The Queens College junior, now 20, likes to take the train to a starting point and proceed. She checks her bike through on the train, starts off on a 250-mile-or-so week's trip, returns to the starting point, and home on the train. Says she:

"If you take a scenic route, you don't want to waste time getting to it. All your energy should be saved for the best part of the trip."

★ ★ ★

Linda usually travels with a group, as she is a hosteler, staying in youth shelters where beds cost 15 cents a night. But you could make up your own group, she points out, and stay wherever you wish. She says:

"I've always wanted to take a trip with just one other girl, but I haven't got around to it. The group of 10 or so that travel together on planned trips makes it more fun. We bring our own food and cook it in the hostel shelters—converted barns, farm houses, churches and schools. We usually buy the food in the town where we plan to spend the night. Two members of the group do the shopping."

WEEKEND FUN

The most memorable eating experience Linda ever had on a bicycle tour was during a weekend trip to Nantucket. She recalls:

"We had a clambake of lobster, codfish, corn-on-cob, chicken, clams, baked potatoes, potato chips and soda pop. We dug a big hole in the sand, made a fire in it, lowered into it a brand new garbage can containing alternate layers of seaweed and the food. We were so hungry, however, that we decided to fry the codfish and bake the potatoes before the bake was ready."

★ ★ ★

Linda carries as many clothes for a weekend as for a vacation—about 20 pounds. She takes shorts, sneakers, bathing suit, warm slacks, sweater and a sheet sleeping sack. (The sack is required in youth hostels.) She takes along a mess kit containing pans, cup, knife, fork, spoon. A waterproof poncho is necessary to wear in inclement weather.

WELL CHAPERONED

The leader of the group usually acts as chaperone. Linda has been on trips to the music festival at Lenox, Mass., and to the Laurentian Mountains in Canada. Says she:

"It's good for young people to get away from everything, and see different parts of the world. The Canadian trip was completely different. We would buy warm, fresh bread, wonderful Canadian cheese and milk, and munch and drink along the road. That's really living."

Linda hopes to do a bicycle tour West, or a 10-week European tour sometime in the future.

Colored Pencils on Easter Eggs?

A new way of coloring Easter eggs has been suggested by manufacturers of lead pencils. Take a handful of colored pencils in any of 30 different hues now available.

★ ★ ★

These have soft leads that will not scratch shells of hard-boiled eggs. Use pencils to make designs or sketches on eggs, making certain that pencil leads are the water solvent type. Then dampen the surface with absorbent cotton or tissue.

The colors should come out vividly, and the pattern or design should look as though it is in the shell. An endless variety of designs and color combinations is possible, since colors in pencils do not run.

Committees Are Listed by Esthers

Committees for the year were announced when Esther Court No. 13, Order of the Amaranth, members met Friday at Roosevelt Masonic Temple.

Announced by Mrs. Florence Schingeck, royal matron, were Bert Weddle, William Pfahlert and Mrs. Earl Ross, finance committee; Mr. Pfahlert, Mrs. Victor Bodamer, Mrs. Joseph Minton, auditing; Mrs. Albert Kugler, Gretta Scott and Mrs. J. C. Norton, visitation of sick; and Clyde Townsend, Roy Wilton, Miss Scott and Laura Wait, jurisprudence.

★ ★ ★

Others on committees are Mrs. L. E. Lacy, Mrs. Bert Weddle, Mrs. John Balch, Allen Schmidt and William Roberts, entertainment; Mrs. Alex McVean, delinquent dues; Mrs. McVean, Mrs. Allen Schmidt, Mrs. Marquis Sartell and Mrs. Clarence Crawley, ways and means; Mrs. Balch, dining room; Mrs. McVean and Katherine McCrindle, decorations.

★ ★ ★

Completing the list are Mrs. Loren Downes, Mrs. Lucille Kline and Mrs. Charles Robson, refreshments; Mrs. Myrtle Kath, registration; Clyde Townsend, Mr. Pfahlert, Mr. Sartell, Mrs. Lacy and Mrs. Olive Burgess, rules and regulations; Pierre Shaver, examining committee; Mrs. Crawley and Mrs. Samuel Wiscombe, courtesy; Mrs. Theodore Marchbanks, publicity.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. McVean, associate royal matron, announced the court's birthday dinner at 6:30 p.m. April 22. Royal matrons and royal patrons will exemplify the work.

Add chopped dates and walnuts to a jar of baby-food custard pudding and use as a filling for sponge-cake layers.

Flouncy bow and billowy sleeves on the skirt-attached blouse give spring gaiety to a wrinkle-resistant cotton and rayon bolero dress. Available locally in navy with white or black with beige.

The volume measure of a pound of confectionar's sugar (sifted) will measure from three to four cups.

German Couple Sets World Ski Styles

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—A factory which once made humble sauerkraut today turns out some of the haughtiest ski apparel worn on slopes from Squaw Valley to St. Moritz.

Owners of the modern plant in the foothills of the Bavarian Alps are Maria and Willy Bogner, a husband-wife team of skiers and manufactures credited in many sports circles with a whole revolution in recent years both in color and construction of ski wear.

In 1952, the Bogners introduced stretch pants, and today "Bogners" is a generally used term for ski trousers made of a combination of wool with elasticized nylon, a fabric which the couple first bought from a firm in Lyons, France. Bogners cling for reasons of speed more than sex appeal.

★ ★ ★

"The less wind resistance the better," said Willy Bogner, who was a member of the 1936 German Olympic ski team. "They need to be close-fitting for downhill where every second counts."

The Bogners went from stretch on to drastic changes in color. Slopes once dotted with dark shades were brightened with some 40 hues, which they developed and had dyed to their order.

Members of the German ski team at the recent winter Olympics in Squaw Valley wore the Bogner-designed uniform of coveralls, a skinny variation of the zip-on siren suit which Sir Winston Churchill made famous during World War II.

Willy Bogner Jr., 18, one of the couple's three children, was a member of the 1960 team. The other children are Michael, 20, correspondent for a U. S. sports magazine, and Rosemarie, 22, fiancee of a San Francisco real estate man.

The Bogners, who have been making sportswear since 1936, recently took over a plant where once kraut was made and have turned it into an elegant glass and steel structure set in the countryside near Munich.

It is complete with a restaurant for the 400 employes who turn out parkas, pants, after-ski wear, and—for summer—shorts and slacks for leisure hours.

Mrs. Bogner does all the designing, and both test new designs on ski slopes wherever they happen to be—Aspen, Colo., Sun Valley, Idaho, Lake Plalid, N. Y., or St. Moritz, Switzerland.

"You can't design ski wear unless you ski," said Mrs. Bogner, who at 45 has the lean shape of a teen-ager, the snowy hair of a grandma, and a wind-tanned face which deepens the blue of her eyes.

The day I called on them, he was preparing for a hunting trip to Alaska—"Big game hunting is my second sport," he said. His office is filled with trophies from trips to Africa, the Himalayas, Peru, Bolivia and Chile.

Mrs. Bogner, in the meantime, was putting the finishing touches on styles for the coming winter. She predicted that after an era of bold color, the subdued hues would return to the slopes—dark reds, charcoal, olive greens so deep they are almost black, and navy and royal blue.

Both agreed on one criticism of female dress for skiing. Fit has gone too far. "The girls now want the pants too tight," said Gogner. "But I don't believe in making skiing a carnival."

Pin Gets Around

(UPI)—The costume pin is on the move this spring — on top of the shoulder, lined up along the new full sleeve, at the plunge of the new low-back evening dresses, or as a dash of dazzle for high-front gala gowns.

Announce Workshop

Announcement of a district workshop on April 20 was made when Wever PTA's executive board met Monday in the school library.

Resolutions to be presented at the convention, read by Mrs. Keith Pawley, PTA president, were approved by the board. Ferndale High School has been reserved for the meeting.

★ ★ ★

Delegates to the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers convention in Ishpeming and Negaunee April 25-27 will be Mrs. Melvin Norberg, council delegate, and Mrs. Frank Barker, telephone chairman.

★ ★ ★

Playground equipment chairman Mrs. Loren Kay, announced a bake sale which will be held in conjunction with the April 21 PTA meeting. Proceeds are for the playground fund.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Kay and Mrs. Carl Norberg served refreshments.

Show History of City

Mrs. Melvin Johnson and Mrs. Wendell Green, teachers in the Pontiac school system, showed pictures of historical sites in Pontiac for Junior Pontiac Women's Club members Monday at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Green have compiled a book on the history of Pontiac for use by third grade pupils.

Mrs. Clarence A. Pudney was program chairman and Mrs. A. J. Cadieux, social committee chairman.

On the social committee were Mrs. Robert N. Terry, Mrs. George Brinkman, Mrs. Ronald Mountain, and Mrs. E. Milton Evans.

Others were Mrs. Harry J. Rice, Mrs. Jack Brannack, Mrs. Edward Lauchner, Mrs. George Morrow and Mrs. Richard G. Bashore.

The club will sponsor a benefit card party and style show May 9. Mrs. Phillip Long, Mrs. J. T. Engle and Mrs. Bert Griffin are on the nominating committee.

MRS. ROBERT E. CUZZORT

Cuzzort-Tuson Nuptials in First Baptist Church

Dr. H. H. Savage read candlelight nuptials of Elizabeth May Tuson and Robert Eugene Cuzzort of Bangor drive, Waterford Township, Saturday in the First Baptist Church. Altar flowers were white snapdragons, gladioli and chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cuzzort of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. joined the bride's parents, the Sidney John Tusons, at the reception in their home on West Huron street.

★ ★ ★

Cascades of blue-tinted adiantum fern, shasta daisies and blue iris were held by attendants in mutation shades of blue chiffon and taffeta. Dior caplets of chiffon and taffeta matched their dresses.

Honor matron Mrs. Donald Kirkland of Royal Oak appeared in royal blue; bridesmaids Janet Moon of Detroit, in cotillion blue; Judy Tuson, in heaven blue and Lois Collins of Royal Oak, in baby blue.

Pamela Dinnan, in white flowered nylon over blue taffeta, carried daisies and iris in a small lace parasol.

The bridal gown of Chantilly lace and tulle was styled with sabrina neckline, long sleeves and chapel train. The fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a pearl tiara. White cymbidium orchids centered the chapel bouquet of white roses, hyacinths and adiantum.

★ ★ ★

Thomas Coudell of Detroit was best man. Robert Tuson, brother of the bride, Donald Kirkland and Lee Antcliff ushered.

Mrs. Tuson chose lilac lace over taffeta for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids. Beige cymbidium orchids complemented Mrs. Cuzzort's beige eyelet dress worn with blue accessories.

After a honeymoon trip to Phoenix, Ariz., Hollywood and San Francisco, the newlyweds will live in Pontiac.

Go On Mother, Get That Job

ATLANTA (AP)—Why shouldn't an American mother work if she wants to?

Lee Mathison, a former model and now personnel manager for a big employment agency, poses this question.

"A few years back, maybe not," she says. "But now with all the household helps — automatic kitchens, dishwashers and the like — why, its simply silly.

"A mother has a perfect right to work, supplement the budget and help make a better living for her family. With her children a reasonable age, there is no reason why she shouldn't.

"You say she will neglect her children and they will become delinquents. How illogical!

"The very opposite is true. She will set an example of industry and honesty for her children. She will provide them with a better living —remove that feeling of insecurity so provocative of delinquency.

"You show me one working mother with delinquent children and I'll show you a hundred — or a thousand — with children on the way to becoming resourceful, productive and useful citizens."

* * *

For 14 years, Miss Mathison has been with a Chicago organization providing part-time office help and business service to firms in many cities.

She cites a U. S. Department of Labor report as backing up her conviction that juvenile delinquency does not result from mothers working.

Dear Abby Says: Reverse Your Attitude

You're Just as Good as They Are

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: My problem is making me ill and I can't find a solution. I have a terrible inferiority complex.

At PTA meetings I perspire and tremble and get splitting headaches, because I'm afraid I might have to say something.

I have read tons of books and articles on how to overcome my complex but nothing helps. I know why I feel as I do, too. When I was little, we were so poor I was sent upstairs to hide because I was so thin and had no shoes.

I don't want our four children to suffer from an inferiority complex the way I do, but I can see them following in my footsteps. (They won't join this or go there because they feel they aren't wanted.)

Don't suggest prayer. I've had 10 years of that. I am not stupid, I just feel stupid.

INFERIORITY COMPLEX

DEAR COMPLEX: Many people convince themselves that they are suffering from an "inferiority complex" when quite the opposite is true. What makes you think that the whole world is looking at you? No one expects you to be eloquent or brilliant at a PTA meeting. Relax!

Make up your mind that you are what you are and it is good enough for anyone you meet. Forget about yourself and the impression you are making and you will probably discover a very acceptable and pleasant personality underneath.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: A man who does a lot of business with my husband comes to our home when he is in town. He always has a cigar stuck in his face and he keeps lighting it and lighting it. After he has gone, the odor of the cigar smoke clings to my draperies for days. Don't you think my husband ought to tell him how much it bothers me?

ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: Is the man buying or selling?

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Why does a girl have to choose between having boy friends and girl friends? Last year I was popular with the girls and the boys hated me. This year I am popular with the boys and the girls hate me.

SEE SAW

DEAR SEE SAW: The world is full of girls who have both boy friends and girl friends. Quit worrying about those who "hate" you and concentrate on making friends of both boys and girls.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 20. Six weeks ago she met a serviceman at a dance. He is 22 and has 16 months to serve yet. Our daughter informed us that they are getting married in four months.

She knows nothing about him his reputation or his family. We feel this is a very serious situation. We don't know how to go about getting information on this boy and his family. Can you help us?

WORRIED PARENTS

DEAR WORRIED: Find out where the boy is presently stationed. Call your local Red Cross headquarters and ask them to put you in touch with his Commanding Officer.

Through him you will be able to contact the boy's parents. A girl who would consider marrying in such haste needs help. And a boy who would encourage such a marriage sounds like no prize.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Do nice girls call boys on the telephone? I am the mother of two young men who are both in their early twenties.

They live at home. These boys are run ragged by girls (and women) calling them at all hours of the night and day. Not only do they get local calls but they get long-distance calls from everywhere.

My sons insist that they are all nice girls and they seem to be very much flattered by these calls. I say "nice" girls do not call young men on the telephone. Am I correct or am I—

"BEHIND THE TIMES?"

DEAR BEHIND: You are correct. Don't encourage a bad connection.

★ ★ ★

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Put Sugary Nut Topping on Coffee Cake, Bake

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Warm coffee cake is such a versatile food. It's perfect for breakfast or brunch. It's delightful anytime with coffee. At our house we often have it as dessert.

Mrs. Fred Chamberlain shares this recipe with Press readers. A resident of Walled Lake, she belongs to the local Child Study club. She does some church work and is a room mother at her son's school. The Chamberlains collect records.

COFFEE CAKE
By Mrs. Fred Chamberlain

1½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup sugar
¼ cup shortening
1 egg
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift dry ingredients together. Cut in shortening until mixture is like coarse cornmeal. Blend in well beaten egg and milk. Add vanilla. Mix well.

Pour into greased 9-inch deep pan. Top with streusel crumbs. Bake 25-30 minutes at 375 degrees.

Streusel

¼ cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons cinnamon
½ cup chopped nuts
2 tablespoons melted butter

Mix dry ingredients together. Mix in melted butter until crumbs are formed. Mrs. Chamberlain likes to use black walnuts for this topping.

Judith Oliver Honored

Judith Kay Oliver, daughter of the Frederick M. Olivers of Hickory Heights Drive, Bloomfield Township, was honored at a recent tea and miscellaneous shower at the Grosse Pointe home of Mrs. Howard Harrington.

★ ★ ★

Kitchen gifts were opened at a shower and tea in the Hickory Heights Drive home of Mrs. Robert S. Barey.

Cocktails and dinner at a "His and Hers" shower in the Foxcroft home of the E. Joseph Grysons, Saturday, honored Miss Oliver and her fiance, William Robert Wiltshire.

The Marshall Mitchell Wiltshires of Park Ridge, Ill., will be hosts at the rehearsal dinner Friday evening in Devon Gables. The Saturday afternoon rites will be read in the First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham.

Bloomfield Hills Lawyer Takes Part

Area VIPs Doing the Spadework for Integrated American Symphony

By MARJORIE EICHER
Women's Editor
The Pontiac Press

With the cultural exchange program assuming worldwide scope and revealing America's depth and wealth of talent abroad, it's especially timely that a small group of public-spirited citizens would come up with the idea of an integrated All American Symphony.

Bloomfield Hills attorney Raymond J. Meurer met this week end with restaurateur Victor Lim, publicist Reuben Ryding, Detroit's Councilwoman Mary Beck, Judge Wade H. McCree and entrepreneur Lew Wisper to incorporate the organization and set in motion the necessary wheels that will provide a first concert in fall 1961.

★ ★ ★

It's particularly fitting that plans for a professional full symphony-size orchestra made up of the finest musicians from this country and Canada of every color and creed, should be made by a VIP committee representing three races and four religions.

★ ★ ★

Plans now call for statewide auditions to seek two musicians from each state (and two from each of Canada's 10 provinces) to comprise personnel. Windsor Symphony's Matti Holli will conduct and it is hoped that Orchestra Hall in Detroit will be refurbished as permanent home for the orchestra.

A 13-week season in the Detroit area (during the Detroit Symphony's out of town engagements) and a seven-week European tour are in present plans.

Support and approval of the Federation of Musicians for the good-will cultural organization will be sought by Mr. Meurer at the June convention in Las Vegas, Nev.

SALLY ANN PURCELL

The Albert Leon Purcells of Drayton Plains announce their daughter Sally Ann's engagement to Ted Luzenske, son of the Theodore E. Luzenskes of Saginaw. Miss Purcell is a Hurley Hospital nursing school senior and her fiance a Central Michigan alumnus.

George Mariens Feted on 25th Anniversary

The 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Marien was celebrated at a party Saturday evening given by the Berean Fellowship Class of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill of Morgan road were hosts.

The refreshment committee was headed by Mrs. Lexie Williams, assisted by Mrs. Walter Napersky. Levely Group members were in charge of the program.

Guests were Gail, Karen and Paul-Marien, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Marien, Florence Bindner and Harold Benner.

Classy Bather

(NEA)—Did you know that 50 years ago a daily bath indicated your social position? It seems a magazine columnist believed a "thoroughbred girl" took the daily dunking while a "middle class girl" didn't.

It Says Dockmen Run District

ILA Denies Teamster Link Through Hoffa Pal

CHICAGO (AP) — Top officials of the Great Lakes District of the International Longshoremen's Assn. say they are running the district—not an associate of James R. Hoffa.

Edward J. (Red) Donovan, Hoffa's pal, doesn't even hold a job with the ILA, say the Great Lakes chiefs.

Donovan is president of Local 755 of the Teamsters Union in Chicago. Hoffa, national boss of the Teamsters, would like to bring all transportation unions into one big combine.

In Washington, union officials said the AFL-CIO has ordered the ILA to oust Donovan as a regional director.

Donovan's appointment as regional ILA director never has been announced by William V. Bradley, ILA president. And Bradley said yesterday in New York he has no statement on Donovan.

SAID HE HAD JOB

But Donovan reportedly appeared at several ILA meetings in Milwaukee last week and said he had the job. If he did have the post, he would cement the working relationships between the ILA and Hoffa.

In Chicago, a statement was issued by Larry Long, president of the ILA's Great Lakes District, and Patrick J. Cullnan Jr., an ILA vice president.

They said the district is autonomous, and added:

"Edward J. Donovan has not been selected and is not authorized to represent either the Great Lakes District or any of its affiliated locals. The alleged appointment of Donovan as regional director has no basis in fact. There is no such position within the ILA or within the Great Lakes District."

* * *

The ILA was ousted by the AFL-CIO in 1953 on grounds of corrupt leadership. But it was reinstated last year and merged with the International Brotherhood of Longshoremen. The AFL-CIO also ousted the Teamsters.

North Dakota is the nation's leader in flax seed and hard wheat.

Venezuela Foils Oil Blast Plot

Trujillo Frogmen Are Nabbed in Try to Blow Up Maracaibo Facility

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Venezuela has thwarted a plot to blow up oil installations in fabulous Lake Maracaibo, government informants said Tuesday.

The informants said quick police action smashed a plot in which frogmen trained in the Dominican Republic tried to place demolition charges under the waters of Lake Maracaibo in western Venezuela.

The objective was said to be to blow up key petroluem facilities and start an oil fire on the surface of the lake. Thousands of barrels of oil leave the lake daily by barge for refineries on the Dutch islands of Aruba and Curacao.

Defense Minister Jose Lopez Henriquez said The armed forces are on a 24-hour alert." Police made a number of arrests but did not disclose the total.

In New York sources in close touch with the tense Caribbean area said Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, the Dominican dictator, brought at least two Italian frogmen to Ciudad Trujillo last February to direct training of a band to sabotage the Lake Maracaibo oil installations.

Trujillo is a bitter foe of Venezuela's president Romulo Betancourt.

Ann Arbor, Saline High Schoolers Top Scientists

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A 16-year-old Saline High School boy and a 15-year-old Ann Arbor High School girl have walked off with top honors in the Second Annual Southeastern Michigan Science Fair.

Michael Washburn, first-place winner in the fair a year ago, repeated as the best teen-age scientist in the senior male division with his exhibit illustrating effects of rapid hydostatic pressure changes on fish.

The outstanding junior scientist in the girls' ranks was Mary Ann Tiffany, whose exhibit demonstrated characteristics of crystals.

Both were awarded $25 prizes, new cameras and expense-paid trips to the National Science Fair at Indianapolis, Ind., May 11-14.

Ike Impressed With Need of World's Poor

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINKTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's epochal globe-trotting the last few months has focused his attention on a colossal problem of many free nations: Grinding poverty as a threat to liberty.

Eisenhower is known to feel more strongly than ever before that there is urgent need to improve living standards in such lands in this day of preying communism and danger, too, of right-wing dictatorship.

And associates of the President say he is convinced the great yearning everywhere he has visited is for better living conditions as the best way to safeguard what Eisenhower calls peace in freedom.

These reported views of the President after 47,500 miles of travel abroad since last August are said to highlight his conclusions.

So they come prominently into the picture in any attempt to find out what impact all this travel—to 18 countries on four continents—has had on the President.

* * *

One thing is certain: Eisenhower started his travels last August already convinced that most of the world's free nations continue to need outside help to help safeguard their liberty. His perennial advocacy of foreign aid spending by the United States—and, lately, by other countries in a position to help—underscores that conviction.

And his first-hand look at terrible poverty in many of the lands he has visited—and at undeveloped potentiality for healthier economies—has sold him beyond all question on need to bolster living standards in free lands struggling to remain free.

During his travels Eisenhower hammered constantly at the theme that the United States must help substantially. But at the same time he always emphasized that the line of financial aid must be drawn short of the point where this country's own economy would be jeopardized.

NO DOLLAR SEA

He is convinced the free world cannot be floated on a sea of well-being by a flood of U. S. dollars.

And in that respect the President's travels haven't changed him one iota. He still is a middle-of-the-road man, particularly when it comes to spending.

What about the cultural effect on all this touring on Eisenhower? That's difficult to answer. His aides aren't willing to speculate. In fact, they are inclined to scoff at such an inquiry.

They say culture isn't something you measure with a yardstick, and that there certainly is no way of gauging within a few months after a man's journeys.

However, even Eisenhower's close friends won't give you an argument on this: He could travel from now to doomsday and never be a deep intellectual—in the sense of an egg-head who cloisters himself with high-toned books.

* * *

Actually, his reading tastes have not changed. He loves paperback westerns, saying they help him relax. He also enjoys history of all kinds and biographies of the world's prominent men, past and present. And he reads the newspapers and a good many government papers.

As for government policy, so far there is no evidence that the president's travels have brought about any basic change in the foreign or domestic fields. No such change is likely.

But on the matter of emphasis in the area of foreign aid, that is another matter. Eisenhower's greater stress, on need for such aid is reflected, for example, in the foreign aid message he sent to congress in February. He said:

"My recent travels impressed upon me even more strongly the fact that free men look to us, not with envy or malice, but with hope and confidence that we will—in the future as in the past—be in the vanguard of those who believe in and will defend the right of the individual to enjoy the fruits of his labor in peace and freedom."

That translates into a call, in some cases, for specific aid programs to relieve some of the stark poverty Eisenhower saw on his travels.

* * *

He has asked Congress, for instance, to provide more help for south Asia, including India and Pakistan. He isn't likely ever to forget the tattered millions who greeted him from the roadsides in New Delhi and Karachi as "the prince of peace." And his visit to India was against the background of Chinese Communist threats along the Red China-India border.

Eisenhower also has recommended creation of a special fund to help newly independent nations of Africa, another continent he visited in December.

* * *

As for South America and the tour he completed there, Eisenhower said repeatedly during the trip that the United States has no thought of decreasing aid to that area where the dangers are both Communist penetration and rightist dictatorships.

Their Parlor Pigeon Watches Late Show

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — L. R. Marcus has a pet pigeon who hates pigeons and loves people.

Marcus found the pigeon with a broken foot and injured beak, and nursed him back to health.

Now, Marcus says, the pigeon follows the family like a pet dog, loves television, stays up to watch the late show and won't retire until the family does.

Marcus says the pigeon can open doors by flying against them and pushing with his feet, loves to ride in a car and barks at dogs, a trick he learned from the Marcus' family dog.

Back to Work at Gerber

FREMONT (AP)—Normal production has resumed at Gerber Products Co. after a two-week shutdown for annual maintenance and redecorating. Production crews were recalled Monday.

Upjohn Shows Profit for 38th Year in Row

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — Upjohn Co., Kalamazoo-based worldwide pharmaceutical firm, Tuesday issued an annual report showing increased sales for the 38th consecutive year.

* * *

The firm also announced a $20.5 million capital improvement program for 1960, with completion of the new general office building and a new chemical processes and research development building here the largest projects.

* * *

The annual report showed sales in 1959 totaled $156,913,526, compared with $146,135,770 in 1958. Upjohn total employment around the world was 5,750 in 1959.

New profits in 1959 rose from $20 million or $1.43 a share in 1958 to $23,224,092 or $1.65 a share in 1959.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS

1 OUT OF 3 DOES!

Fidgeting, loss of sleep and a tormenting itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . small, easy-to-take tablets . . . special sizes for children and adults. Perfected by Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for 100 years.

Deaths in Pontiac and Nearby Areas

MRS. JESSE J. AYER

Mrs. Jesse J. (Edessa J.) Ayer, 69, of Lancaster, Mo., died unexpectedly yesterday at Pontiac General Hospital after a brief illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Ayer were visiting their son, Addison L. Barnett of 4346 Louella, Drayon Plains, when Mrs. Ayer suffered a heart attack Friday.

A retired supervisor in a shoe factory, she was a member of the Merridian Rebekah Lodge and the American Legion Auxiliary of Lancaster.

Survivors include another son, James B. Barnett of Kirksville, Mo.; two grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; a brother and two sisters.

Mrs. Ayers body was taken from the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home to the Fenton Funeral Home in Lancaster for service and burial in the Arni Memorial Cemetery.

BERT S. SIMPSON

LIVONIA — Service for Bert S. Simpson, 85, of 29130 Morelock St., and formerly of Fowlerville, will be held at 3:30 p.m. Friday at Spencer J. Heeney Funeral Home, Farmington. Burial will be in North Farmington Cemetery.

Mr. Simpson died Monday in St. Petersburg, Fla.

His body will lie in state at the funeral home from 10 a.m. Friday until time of service.

Surviving are his wife Myrtle, and a daughter, Mrs. Leone Larch of Farmington.

WILLIAM F. THORNTON

William F. Thornton of Oxford, a former resident of Drayton Plains, died unexpectedly early this morning. He was 89.

A retired farmer, he leaves three daughters, Mrs. Pearl M. LaFave of Passa Grill, Fla., Mrs. Hazel C. Baumgartner and Mrs. Gladys I. Gibson, both of Drayton Plains; and three sons, Earl M. of Pontiac, Floyd S. of Silver Lake, Waterford Township and Ray F. of Dexter.

Service will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at the Farmer-Snover Funeral Home with burial in Ottawa Park Cemetery.

JOHN F. TRIM

LAPEER — Service for John F. Trim, 57, of 2646 Flint River Rd., will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Muir Brothers Funeral Home. Burial will be in Rich Township Cemetery.

Mr. Trim died Monday at Lapeer County General Hospital after an extended illness.

Surviving are his wife Mae; four sons, James, Donald and David of Lapeer, and Robert of Florida; eight daughters, Joann, Shirley, Betty, Alice, all of Lapeer; Mrs. Jacqueline Alexander also of Lapeer; Mrs. June Spradlin of Detroit; Mrs. Goldie Anderson of Pontiac; Mrs. Pearl Robtay of North Branch; a sister, Mrs. Ena Beckwith of Pontiac; 21 grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

Deaths Elsewhere

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidney S. Lenz, 86, authority on auction bridge and top player for many years, died Tuesday. He was the author of several books on bridge and wrote widely on the subject in newspapers and other periodicals. He was born in Chicago but had lived in New York since he was 15.

★ ★ ★

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Norfolk and Western Railroad 77, former president of Rotary International and a director of the since 1936, died Tuesday after suffering a heart attack Monday. Johnson, of Roanoke, Va., was a son of the late Lucius E. Johnson, president of the N&W from 1902-1918.

BOSTON (AP)—John B. Black, (AP) — Edward Roberts Johnson, 72, world leader in agricultural economics and professor of economics at Harvard University, died Tuesday. Black, a professor at Harvard for 25 years, was former chief economist of the Federal Farm Board. He was born in Cambridge, Wis.

★ ★ ★

CINCINNATI (AP) — Otto Garr Tague, 82, who wrote a syndicated column "Wake Up America" for the Cincinnati Enquirer, died Tuesday of cancer. He formerly edited an insurance trade journal in Chicago and had served as editor of the Van Wert (Ohio) Times and the old Republican-Gazette of Lima, Ohio.

Gary Cooper in Hospital

BOSTON (AP) — Movie actor Gary Cooper entered Phillips House of Massachusetts General Hospital Tuesday for what a hospital spokesman described as preliminary study. The nature of his ailment was not disclosed.

Prof. Fears U.S. 'New' and 'Good'

'Obsolescence Breeds Peril'

NEW YORK (AP)—The American national habit of always buying the latest may be the country's downfall in the production race with Russia, an economist warned today.

★ ★ ★

Unless Americans learn the difference between the "new" and the "good," Prof. Robert Lekachman warned, wasteful "planned obsolescence" in our durable consumer goods production will sap the strength of our economy and society and let the Communists overtake us.

Lekachman teaches at Barnard College of Columbia University.

One of the worst things about making a national habit of buying things only because they are new, Lekachman said, is that it makes technological progress our master instead of our servant.

WASTE TALENT

"Too many of the best trained and most talented members of our advanced society earn their excellent living by persuading fellow citizens they are really discontented with serviceable commodities they already possess," Lekachman wrote recently in "Challenge," New York University's economic affairs magazine.

Planned obsolescence doesn't always work out the way auto designers and the Madison avenue hucksters hope it will, he said.

He pointed to the "tail-fin recession" that accompanied the debacle of 1958 auto models.

"Planned obsolescence increases business hazards because it attaches big risks to consumer wants that aren't really pressing," Lekachman said.

Because innovation has done so much to make life better in the United States, it is natural for Americans to have a great faith in innovation, the professor said.

It is time we learned to discriminate in innovation—to distinguish between the "new" and the "good"—and stop "yearning after tinsel gods," he said.

CAN'T GIVE ADVICE

Lekachman was asked what he would tell a manufacturer faced with the dilemma of planning obsolescence or having no market for his product next year.

"I can't advise the manufacturer," he said. "But we do need to allocate a vastly larger proportion of our resources, including our best brains, away from making and selling consumer goods into the professions—especially teaching—and services which can make our world better to live in."

He pointed out that the Communists allocate a vast proportion of their resources and brain power to basic research, basic production and to teaching and other professions.

★ ★ ★

The professor said he thought Americans would have to face an early struggle on this issue.

Ontario OKs Soo Bridge

$18,500,000 Span to Link Nations; Set for Completion in 1962

TORONTO (UPI) — A bill providing for financing of a $18,500,000 toll bridge connecting Sault Ste Marie, Mich., and Sault Ste Marie, Ont., was given royal assent in the Ontario Legislature Tuesday.

* * *

The bill was given third and final reading in the House and received royal assent from Gov. J. Keiller MacKay as the House prorogued until next November.

The 1,300-foot bridge across the St. Mary's River will be financed by the governments of Ontario and Michigan and the International Bridge Authority.

The bridge will provide a vital link in the chain that connects the people in the midwestern United States to Northern Ontario.

Ontario officials expect that when the bridge is completed in 1962 it will attract thousands of U.S. tourists to Canada.

* * *

Terms of financing are that the bridge authority will sell $17,435,250 worth of revenue bonds. U.S. sources will finance $8,200,000 worth of series A tax exempt bonds and Ontario will purchase $9,235,250 worth of series B bonds for $7,849,750.

The bridge will operate on a toll-free basis once the bonds are retired in several years.

* * *

Ontario will pay about $8,100,000 for construction on the Canadian side of the international boundary and the State of Michigan will pay about $3,501,000 for approaches on the U.S. side.

CFM in Rochester Will Meet Tuesday

ROCHESTER — The Rochester chapter of Citizens for Michigan will probably take its first action as a group at its next meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in St. Phillip's Episcopal Church, according to Christopher Boyle, chapter president.

* * *

The state committee has given priority to the constitutional revision question and has requested that local chapters do the same.

* * *

It is the chapter president's hope that Tuesday night local members will be able to resolve their views so that recommendations can be formulated and submitted to the state committee.

HE LEAVES SCENE — Otho Perk Hooker leaves his Minneapolis home where one Minneapolis Gas Co. worker was killed and another seriously wounded by rifle fire Monday when they came to disconnect a meter for nonpayment of a bill. Hooker is held without charge. A detective quoted Hooker as saying, "I was real mad at them because they wouldn't listen to me."

Veterans' Affairs Has Information on Pension Law

Persons who are eligible and wish to be considered for pension under a new veterans pension law which becomes effective July 1 have been asked to contact the Oakland County Department of Veterans' Affairs.

The department has offices at 1 Lafayette St. in the County Court House Office Building, Pontiac, and at 111 S. Troy St., Royal Oak.

The new law permits payments to widows and children of deceased veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict, even if the veteran didn't have a service-connected disability in existence at the time of death, as required by the present law.

The new law also applies to World War I veterans in some instances, according to Floyd E. Cremer, director of the department.

Noted Detroit Organist Dies of Heart Attack

DETROIT (UPI) — Mrs. Marguerite Werner, 64, a former radio and theater organist, died of a heart attack at her home Monday.

She was the wife of Eduard Werner, president of the Detroit Federation of Musicians.

Born Marguerite Effney in Jackson, she studied the pipe organ while in high school and was organist for the First Congressional Church in Jackson during her senior year. She moved to Detroit in 1917.

The Road to Faith . . . by Will Oursler

Does It Matter What We Call Him? God Is a Fact

Chapter Thirty-Seven

Yes, however high we reach in our climb up the mountain toward the attainment of religious faith, the voices of doubt and confusion and disbelief and challenge and their echoes will come up from below.

But there will be other, more knowing voices penetrating across to us from high levels of faith in other lands and other times, voices that cry out with truth, even though they may speak with different words and other names.

There come such words as those of the Hindu deity recorded in the Bhagavad-Gita:

"For I am the Creator of the universe—likewise am I the dissolution of the universe. Higher than I, there is naught. All the objects of the universe depend upon Me, and are sustained by Me . . ."

We are reached by a thought of Brother Lawrence, a man of religious and spiritual force in the 17th Century, who wrote:

"Let all our business be to know God; the more one knows Him, the more one desires to know Him. And as knowledge is commonly the measure of love, the deeper and more extensive our knowledge shall be, the greater will be our love; and if our love of God be great, we shall love Him equally in grief and in joy."

We hear the voice of a Tibetan lama, telling of his religion and beliefs and pointing out the great truth: "There is a God, a Supreme Being. What does it matter what we call Him? God is a fact . . ."

And there is One Great Voice above all, whose words reach our immortal lives and meaning, vibrant through space and time:

"Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock:

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.

"And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man which built his house upon the sand:

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it.

"And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these sayings, the people were astonished at his doctrine:

"For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes."

Listening, we have a pervading sense of power that is of us and yet is not of us.

We have surrendered ourselves to something beyond ourselves, to the ultimate good, and in so doing we begin to be aware of the fulfillment of the spiritual Self within each of us, the realization of that Self in every aspect of our lives.

Bomb Threat Breaks Up Nashville Demonstration

By The Associated Press

A new maneuver—the anonymous bomb threat—broke up a Negro sit-down demonstration against segregated lunch counters in a Nashville, Tenn. department store.

* * *

Police and firemen, acting quickly Tuesday after receiving a telephone tip that a bomb was in the building, cleared customers and sit-downers from McLellan's, a variety store. No bomb was found.

The sit-down touched off scattered racial incidents which resulted in the arrest of two white persons and five Negroes.

* * *

Negro college students, for the second consecutive day, took seats at eating facilities at several department, drug and variety store lunch counters. None was served.

* * *

At McLellan's, hundreds of Easter shoppers jammed the area as the Negroes sat down. A taunting crowd of white persons forced them to move on but not before white youths grabbed anti-segregation signs and punched a Negro demonstrator. A group of 50 white youths beat a Negro who hurled a drink bottle into the crowd from a second-story window. Policemen dispersed the crowd.

* * *

A bomb threat figured in an incident at Montgomery, Ala.

* * *

Pat Patterson, 35-year-old Canadian, was charged with disorderly conduct after an anonymous telephone caller told The Associated Press in New York that bombs would explode in Montgomery high schools.

* * *

The tip was relayed to police in the Alabama city and Patterson was picked up at a hotel. He was quoted as saying he made the call to get sympathy for Negroes in the South.

In Little Rock, Ark., Negroes invaded eating facilities at two chain variety stores and two locally owned department stores. There were no disturbances and no arrests.

Usually Reliable Missile Fouls Up Calendar Shot

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI) — The Snark ICBM may be accurate up to 5,000 miles, but one missed its Chattanooga target by a month.

Due to a mixup in plans, the 69-foot Air Force giant arrived Tuesday on the right date, but in the wrong month for an Armed Forces Week display in May.

3 Killed, 32 Hurt in Texas Tornado

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Three persons died and 32 were injured as a tornado caught most residents of a West Texas village in church and all but swept the place off the map Tuesday night.

But for a woman's warning cry seconds before the twister struck, the toll probably would have been much greater in the crossroads community of Sunnyside, about halfway between Amarillo and Lubbock.

Mrs. C. M. Rogers, wife of Sunnyside's Baptist pastor, spotted the dark and threatening cloud and sounded an alarm.

Nearly 40 men at a meeting in her husband's church scrambled for two storm cellars close by. Most of them made it. Several were too late.

HOLD UP RAFTERS

"The men had to put up their arms and hold up the rafters," said Murl Rogers, 10, son of the minister, describing how they kept the roof of one shelter from collapsing on 30-odd persons.

Sunnyside residents emerged to find the farming community shattered. The writhing storm levelled their church, store, grain elevator, cotton gin and four or five homes. A half-dozen other houses lost their roofs.

Dead and injured were strewn amid rubble piled up to five feet high in an area 100 feet square.

Thrusting on to the northeast the twister jumped over Amarillo, about 70 miles distant, and also menaced Borger, White Deer and Skellytown in the Panhandle oil fields, the Weather Bureau at Amarillo reported.

Lombardo Aims for Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Guy Lombardo, band leader and speedboat expert, says he hopes to break the world water speed record in late May or early June at Pyramid Lake, Nevada in his Michigan-built Tempo Alcoa.

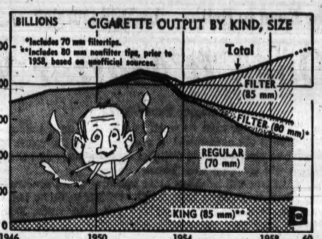
The jet-powered craft was built, by Les Staudacher at Bay City.

Carved Her Initials; on 3 Years Probation

DETROIT (AP)—A teen-age girl who carved her initials on a man's back with scissors has been placed on three years probation.

Joan Wierda, 17, was sentenced yesterday as were her three companions in the torture robbery last Jan. 21 of Earl A. Thomas of Detroit. The girl admitted carving her initials in eight-inch letters on Thomas' back.

Donald Demankowski, 25, of suburban Trenton, was sentenced to 8 to 10 years for assault. Leslie Saunders, 20, also of Trenton, was placed on two years probation for attempted robbery. Tobert G. Halesch, 23, of Detroit, was given six months in jail and two years probation.



PUFFING TOWARD A NEW RECORD — Output of U. S. cigarettes may well top 500 billion smokes in 1960 — dotted line on graph, above. And U. S. smokers, including those overseas, take about 96 per cent of the total output. The other four per cent is shipped to foreign markets. The '59 output of some 490 billion units was some four per cent above '58 production, the previous all-time high. Department of Agriculture data.

Out-of-State Vets From Kentucky to Talk Pension

The Pontiac Chapter of the National Organization of Out-of-State Kentucky Veterans will hold a mass meeting in Royal Oak at 7 p.m. Saturday.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the Kentucky Bonus Law passed earlier this year by the Kentucky State Legislature, following approval of the bonus referendum by voters last November in a statewide election.

"The law provides for a bonus to be paid to Kentucky vets, but excludes out-of-state vets," explained James B. Logan, treasurer of the local chapter.

"We, along with other groups of Kentucky veterans now living out of the state are formally protesting the residential limitations," he said.

The meeting will be held at the Royal Oak VFW Hall, 214 E. Four St.

Owners Asking How It Happened

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Owners of an appliance firm were happy they permitted a curious junior high school student to rummage through some old television sets stacked at the rear of the store.

* * *

Charles Ruttner, 14, found $50 in cash and $300 in checks stuffed inside the sets. The checks were made out to the appliance company but owners were puzzled how they were misplaced.

OK Liberalized State Pensions

Only Williams Need Sign Bill Which Would Raise Solons' Ceiling

LANSING (UP) — Only Gov. Williams' signature was needed today on a bill to liberalize the three-year-old pension system for state legislators.

★ ★ ★

The House yesterday approved Senate amendments to the measure, which would allow lawmakers to raise the $2,000 maximum annual pension if legislative salaries also are boosted.

The ceiling would remain at 50 per cent of the annual salary, now pegged at $4,000.

Other changes would reduce the pension from 60 to 55 and allow widowers of woman lawmakers to collect benefits.

Space Expense: One U.S. Moon Costs $10 Million

WASHINGTON (UP) — The high cost of space exploration was disclosed today by officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

★ ★ ★

Each major satellite launching by the United States costs between 10 and 14 million dollars.

When the Saturn superbooster comes into use several years from now, the price will go up to about 20 million dollars.

Sgt. York Gets Help in Income Tax Battle

ELIZABETHTOWN, Tenn. (UPI) —The local chapter of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has offered a helping hand to financially troubled World War I hero Alvin York.

Marshall Nave, of the Elizabethtown chapter, said he had asked the state VFW organization to determine whether York could claim as capital gains instead of income the money he received from the movie "Sergeant York."

The government claims that the former Army sergeant from Pall Mall, Tenn., owes more than $85,000 in back income taxes. The bed-ridden hero said most of the money went for doctor's expenses.

Nave said if York is ordered to pay the taxes, the local VFW chapter will be "asked to take steps to see that the money is secured."

A fund-raising drive for the 74-year-old veteran has been started at Dyersburg, Tenn.

Cuban Attache Resigns, Dashes Off for U.S.

MEXICO CITY (UP)—The former commander of Fidel Castro's air force resigned as air attache of the Cuban embassy Tuesday, charging the Castro regime had betrayed the revolution.

He is Capt. Manuel Villafana Martinez. He left Mexico in a private plane for the United States.

Villafana is the second major attache of the Cuban embassy in Mexico to defect in recent weeks. The other was the Cuban naval attache, Capt. Jaime Varela Canosa. He fled to the United States March 25.

12 Ships Await St. Lawrence Seaway Opening

MONTREAL (UP) — Two dozen ships are sitting in Montreal Harbor waiting for Friday and the opening of the 1960 St. Lawrence Seaway.

★ ★ ★

Ice remains a problem but the seaway is expected to open on schedule.

The first freighter in the line is the 633-foot Lemoyne. The Lemoyne, built in 1926, officially opened the Welland Canal in 1931 —sailing through a ribbon across the canal that was built to bypass Niagara Falls.

Now, 30 years later, the Lemoyne, probably will be the first freighter to slip through the seaway, bound for a cargo of coal at a Lake Erie port.

★ ★ ★

Seaway crews are flushing chunks of ice through the St. Lambert Lock.

"There's still a tremendous amount of ice, but, barring the unforseen, we should be ready Friday as scheduled," a seaway official said.

Publishes Collection of Nikita's Speeches

MOSCOW (UP)—The State Publishing House has printed 100,000 copies of a new two-volume collection of speeches, interviews and articles by one of its most noted authors, Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Tass said the volumes are entitled "World Without Weapons —World Without Wars."

Use of Union Dues Reviewed by Court

LANSING (UP)—The issue of expenditure of union dues for political purposes was under review today by the Michigan Supreme Court.

It was aired yesterday in oral arguments in the case of Ralph Knox, a long-time dissident in the United Auto Workers Union, who is suing for full membership privileges.

Knox, an employe of the Lincoln Division, Ford Motor Co., contended that although charged dues under a closed shop arrangement there he has not held a union card since 1956.

After hearing Atty. Larry S. Davidow, representing Knox, and Remond H. Roche Jr., a union lawyer, the court gave both sides 10 days to file briefs on what, if any, effect the 1959 Landrum-Griffin Labor Reform Act has on the Michigan dispute.

Conflict between Knox and the UAW leadership dates from the late 1930s when he took part in a move to get the UAW out of the CIO and into the AFL. Knox was aligned with the Homer Martin faction in its losing fight in the union with forces led by President Walter P. Reuther.

Dowagiac Nixes Switch

DOWAGIAC (UP)—A proposed charter change to give Dowagiac a city manager-council form of government and nonpartisan municipal elections was defeated Monday by vote of 414 to 316. The present charter has been in effect since 1895. Dowagiac has a mayor-council government form under the Fourth Class Cities Act.

Trans-U.S. Walkers on the Jog

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The British are walking all over the United States.

Two snappy-striding sergeants started it Tuesday, on a 3,032-mile hike hike from San Francisco New York.

★ ★ ★

Today Dr. Barbara Moore, 56, the Russian-born wife of a British sculptor, follows 'em down the pike, or rather up U.S. 40.

"And I'll pass them, too," she says.

★ ★ ★

The reporters and photographers who met Dr. Moore at San Frapcisco airport Tuesday night had few doubts the sturdy vegetarian would do it.

BARBARA IN A HURRY

She was wearing a bright red wool suit and a red kerchief when she got off her plane.

"I want people to be able to recognize me," she explained.

★ ★ ★

She put on her black sweatsuit and red leather jacket for photographers.

"My hiking outfit," she said. She pointed to her shoes. "I'm anxious to get these off and start walking."

"Barefoot?" asked a newsman.

"Oh, no," said Dr. Moore, "I have 13 pairs of walking shoes."

★ ★ ★

She was indignant there was no one but newsmen and photographers to meet her.

She said the Hotel Corp. of America promised to furnish a truck to accompany her on the transcontinental hike.

★ ★ ★

"I need the truck to carry my juices and my extra shoes," Dr. Moore said, "and I don't even know where I'm to spend the night."

PLENTY TO DRINK

She was standing next to five cases of juices—fruit, beet, carrot and tomato.

A young woman reporter invited Dr. Moore to spend the night at her apartment.

"Thank you, young lady, that's very nice," said Dr. Moore.

The soldiers were tougher to talk to. Reporters had to jog alongside them as they strode at 75 paces per minute toward Cordelia, where they spent the night. Cordelia, about 45 miles from here, is halfway between San Francisco and Sacramento.

RAF Sgt. Patrick Maloney, of Kilmallock, County Limerick, Ireland, and army Sgt. Mervyn Evans of Wales wore khaki field uniforms and berets.

70-DAY GOAL

They said they hoped to reach New York within 70 days. The record for the stroll, set 34 years ago, is 79 days, 10 hours and 10 minutes.

How long will it take Dr. Moore?

"I'm not certain," she said, "but it'll be faster than those two sergeants. I'll probably pass them."

"I can't spend all my time walking around the United States," Dr. Moore said. "I've got commitments for a walk across Australia in June and for a walk from Miami (Florida) to Toronto in August."

Pass Rubbish Act in Oxford

Allot Tower Work Funds

OXFORD — The Oxford Village Council last night authorized the expenditure of $2,407 to pay for repair work on the village water tower plus $1,850 for painting the metal structure.

★ ★ ★

The money will come out of the water fund budget. Work is scheduled for completion Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The local governing body passed a rubbish disposal ordinance for the residential area of the village and approved issuance of a contract for rubbish pickup in the same sections to Chester Bushman of Lake Orion.

In other action, Robert Parenti was retained as village attorney and Ralph Precious was named to continue as village clerk, manager, treasurer and assessor.

The Council also approved the recommendations of the Village Planning Commission prohibiting parking on portions of two streets. They are the east side of Pontiac street from Burdick street to the village limits and the north side of Dennison street between Park drive and Pontiac street.

★ ★ ★

The planners also recommended that there be no left turn from Park drive onto Dennison street.

The adopted recommendations now are subject to approval by the local police chief.

300 in Track Trials

CHICAGO (AP)—A field of 300, including 11 members of the 1956 U.S. Olympic squad, is expected to compete in the national indoor women's track and field championships at the University of Chicago Friday and Saturday. Junior and senior girls from each of the 50 states, plus Canada, are entered.

DR. BARBARA MOORE

New State College Conditionally OK'd

LANSING (AP) — The Legislature Tuesday completed passage of a bill paving the way for creation of Grand Valley College in western Michigan.

By a 95-5 vote, the House adopted Senate amendments and steered the measure to Gov. Williams for signing. No opposition is expected from the governor.

Under the bill, the college will be chartered as a four-year institution if its Board of Control acquires a suitable site and raises at least one million dollars for initial capitalization.

Legislators from the Grand Rapids area, where the college probably will be built, were confident the terms could be met. Senate amendments changed the title of the governing body from Board of Governors to Board of Control and removed the board's power of condemnation to obtain land.

Another change provided for appointment of the nine-member board by the governor with Senate approval. The House version proposed statewide election of the board.

Self-liquidating projects undertaken by the college would require legislative approval.

The institution would serve chiefly the eight-county area of Kent, Ottawa, Muskegon, Barry, Ionia, Montcalm, Newaygo and Allegan.

Four Romeo Students Get Interlochen Scholarships

ROMEO — Three members of the Romeo Community High School concert band and one member of the mixed chorus last night were named winners of scholarships to the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

★ ★ ★

They are Ron Waschull, Bill Strait and Barbara Hayes of the band and Sharon LeClerc of the chorus.

★ ★ ★

Announcement of the winners was made during intermission of the annual Interlochen Music Scholarship Concert held in the high school gymnasium.

The names were read off by Mrs. Robert Hutton, vice president of the Romeo Monday Club, which has sponsored the event since the idea was first formulated in 1945.

★ ★ ★

Named as alternates were Julie Essex of the chorus and John Hewett, Tom Vos and Bob Galan of the band.

★ ★ ★

The winners were picked by representatives of clubs and churches, band director E. C. Ojala and choral director C. Lynn Brown.

★ ★ ★

The proceeds from the concert are augmented annually by contributions from organizations, businesses and individuals to raise the amount needed to send the number picked to camp.

Fancy Meeting You Here, Jack . . . Ditto, Hubert!

BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) was en route to the Beckley airport Monday night when a station wagon bearing a "Humphrey for President" sticker pulled alongside his car.

★ ★ ★

Newsmen noted that Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn), his wife and an aide were riding in the station wagon. This was pointed out to Kennedy, who stopped.

★ ★ ★

Humphrey, Kennedy's opponent in the West Virginia presidential primary May 10, spotted Kennedy and yelled "truce" while raising his right hand. Kennedy replied in the same manner. After an exchange of pleasantries, the two senators went their respective ways.

'Boy's Shooting Accidental'

New Bev Tale, New Fuss

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Teenage Beverly Aadland's admission she lied about a boy friend killing himself in her bedroom brought angry demands today for an inquest by relatives of the handsome aspiring actor.

★ ★ ★

However, police say they are satisfied the Saturday shooting of William Stanciu was accidental after the 17-year-old ex-mistress of the late Errol Flynn revised her story of his death and said she was holding his revolver when it accidentally discharged during a nude struggle with him.

She had told police immediately after the shooting that Stanciu shot himself in the head after forcing her into a game of Russian roulette.

'HAD OWN KEY'

Stanciu died in a hospital Sunday—his 21st birthday.

Beverly, a singer in a Hollywood night club, broke down under a lie detector test. However, she stuck to her story that Stanciu forced his way into her apartment, forced her to disrobe and raped her at gunpoint.

An attorney representing Stanciu's mother and brother said he doubted Beverly's version of the slaying. George W. Drucker said there was no need for Stanciu to break into the apartment as he had been dating the leggy aspiring singer for six weeks and had his own key to her apartment.

The mother, Florence Stanciu, and the brother, actor Kenneth Stanciu, said an inquest should be held.

★ ★ ★

Beverly remained in custody at Juvenile Hall. Police said they will file a petition suggesting that Beverly lacks parental supervision and is in danger of becoming a juvenile delinquent.

Her mother, ex-showgirl Florence Aadland, who had approved of her daughter's relationship with Flynn, doubted Beverly's changed version of Stanciu's death.

"I still believe Beverly's first story," she said. "They (the police) must have worked on her."

JITTERY BEVERLY — Teen-aged temptress Beverly Aadland, 17, is riding a storm of controversy after angry demands for an inquest by the parents of William Stanciu, the 21-year-old boy friend shot in her Los Angeles apartment. Beverly has changed her story in a lie detector test. She now says Stanciu's gun went off accidentally in a struggle. She had previously called the shooting a suicide.

Industrialist Hits O'Hara, Reuther

Tells Port Huron NAM to Fight Back With Active Political Work

PORT HURON (AP)—Rep. James G. O'Hara (D-Utica) and United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther were given some verbal punches last night by Kenneth R. Miller, general manager of the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

Miller, speaking to the Industrial Management Club of the Blue Water District, urged businessmen to "enlist in the party organizations that determine the course of American political and economic life."

Miller said the businessman's participation in politics was "especially important in the six-county thumb area of Michigan, comprising the seventh congressional district, because it is a marginal district where only a few votes either way decide the election."

O'Hara currently represents the district in Congress.

★ ★ ★

Miller said O'Hara's 1959 voting record was that "of a liberal spender," and added that "those who believe the individual is more important than the state and that federal handouts are not a good solution to every problem we have in this country do not now have a spokesman for their interests in Congress."

Declares Dividend

ROCKFORD (AP)—Wolverine Shoe Co. directors Monday declared a quarterly dividend of 12½ cents a share payable May 6 to stockholders of record April 8. The firm, with plants in six west Michigan cities, has 449,046 shares of common stock outstanding.

Menderes to Swap Visits With Nikita

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI) — Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes has joined the growing list of Western leaders exchanging visits with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The foreign office announced that Menderes would go to the Soviet Union in July and Khrushchev would visit Turkey at a later date, still to be fixed. A similar announcement was made in Moscow.

Turkey has been a prime target of Soviet propaganda for its membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Central Treaty Organization.

Keep Related Industries Busy

Farmers Create Work

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Michigan farmers have a lot of work done for them that they had to do for themselves 100 years ago.

And the number of people doing this work might indicate that the percentage of the work force depending on the farm industry for livelihood has not changed considerably since the time when each farmer was a total industry all by himself.

Dr. Robert Kramer, Michigan State University farm economist, has been studying figures on people engaged in farm and farm-related work.

"The number of farmers used in speeches and reports wouldn't be so small if we used 'farm' in the same sense as we did 100 years ago," Kramer said.

600,000 OTHERS

He said farmers 100 years ago did most of the processing and distributing of farm products by themselves.

Presently, there are some 233,000 Michigan residents who work on farms. But another 600,000 derive their income from farm-related business.

These are the people who deal in equipment, services and products essental to the total farm operation.

"This is the concept of agribusiness," Kramer said. "Quite an industry has grown up here in the last few decades."

Red Papers Hail FDR

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda and Izvestia Tuesday hailed Franklin D. Roosevelt on the 15th anniversary of his death. They called him a champion of Soviet-U.S. friendship and praised Roosevelt "for rallying the powers of the anti-Fascist coalition" in World War II.

Girls Weren't Being Friendly

Plea on the Up and Up

PACIFICA, Calif. (AP) — Three San Francisco damsels, in distress for 24 hours, had a hard time convincing fishermen of their plight.

The trio—finally rescued by Pacifica police, firemen and coast guardsmen — became stranded when the tide came in while they were shell hunting along the Pacific Ocean beach south of shelter cove.

Rita Alex, 17; Roberta Robertson, 15; and Lee Fowler, 13, climbed steadily 300 feet up a slope and when night fell Sunday they were on a ledge of a cliff.

They waited, cold and damp, for rescue yesterday, afraid to go down the steep slope.

"We waved to the fishing boats for rescue," Rita said. But they just waved back at us."

★ ★ ★

Rescue operations got under way when Jack Hale, a police dispatcher scanning the sea with binoculars, saw the girls.

Rescuers also saved Rita's dog Butch, a seven-year-old mixture of poodle and cocker spaniel.

'U.S. Would Squeeze Us to a Pulp': Juice Firms

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) which in the past year has figured in cranberry, chicken and lipstick controversies, now is in the midst of a cold war with the frozen orange juice industry.

The nub of the new dispute is this:

Some of the nation's biggest producers of frozen orange juice concentrates are fighting a government plan which would force them to specify on their labels whether their product contains a water extract of orange pulp.

The protesting companies insist that the use of water extract mixed with squeezed juice produces a higher-quality orange juice concentrate than an older process for pressure squeeing of pulp. They contend that mandatory mention of water extract on labels will give consumers the "misleading" impression they are getting a lower-quality product.

★ ★ ★

The dispute arose after the FDA published March 1 a list of standards for several orange juice products including frozen concentrates.

The FDA standards of identity provides that a water extract made from excess orange pulp may be added to the juice before concentration but, the FDA ruled, "The label shall bear the statement 'Prepared in part from water extract of orange pulp.'"

The standards are not now in effect. The March 1 order provided that the standards would take effect in 90 days unless delayed by formal objections. Since objections have been filed, the Food and Drug Administration is expected to hold public hearings before deciding whether to put the standards into effect.

3 Bills Would Up Sugar Beet Output

WASHINGTON (AP)— Three related bills designed to increase domestic sugar beet production have been introduced by Rep. Walter Rogers (D-Tex).

The first would eliminate the present acreage allotments on sugar beets. Sugar production in the United States now is limited to 55 per cent of the domestic demand. Marketing quotas are given to sugar manufacturers who in turn have to contact American producers with sugar beet acreage quotas.

The second increases sugar marketing quotas for domestic producers from the present 55 per cent to 65 per cent, thereby decreasing off-shore sugar quotas from 45 per cent to 35 per cent of domestic consumption.

The third provides for the allocation of 85 per cent of the increase in domestic sugar marketing quotas each year to states presently growing sugar beets and having a potential production sufficient to permit the profitable operation of a sugar manufacturing plant.

States which would share in the 85 per cent portion, however, would have to have actual production now of less than 20,000 acres.

The object is to attend the annual reunion of the 83rd, to be held Aug. 18-20 in Boston this year. Former members have been asked to contact national secretary Harry Lockwood at 43 Oakland Ave., Jersey City, N.J. for details.

Candy Can Spur Athlete

Munch Way to Victory

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
Associated Press Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The athlete who fortifies himself with a candy bar or soft drink before the big muscular test may be stoking up a winning burst of energy, a researcher reported Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

The pitcher on the mound or the boxer in the ring uses sugar at a supercharged pace because his muscle contractions are producing a still-unisolated substance that resembles insulin in its action.

Dr. Maurice Goldstein, head of the Department of Metabolism and Endocrine Research at Chicago's Michael Reese Hospital and Medical Center, described his observations of the substance to the Federation of American Societies of Experimental Biologists.

He said the next step is to isolate the substance. It could become a valuable tool to supplement insulin in the management of difficult cases of diabetes.

Dr. Goldstein said the hormone-like substance acts as an expediter to let sugar and other carbohydrates into the body's cells.

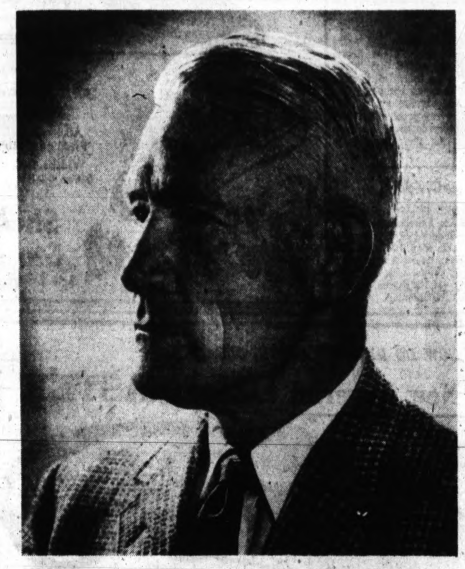
RE-ELECT JUDGES FINNEGAN and McCALLUM To Municipal Court MONDAY, APRIL 18th



Judge Cecil McCallum and Judge Maurice E. Finnegan have proven by performance that they work well together in the finest traditions and precedents of the law and courts.

During their terms of judgeship they have brought many improvements to Pontiac Municipal Court both in the manner of handling cases and in the thorough administration of the law.

Under their guidance a more expeditious method of handling cases Traffic Violations was instituted. Its merits brought highest recognition from American Safety Council and the American Bar Association. They were sincere and thorough in helping establish a workable program to handle juvenile delinquency.

Their tireless efforts have kept the court calendar up-to-date which brings resounding praise from the law enforcement agencies with whom they work.

A new probation Department was instituted by these judges in order to more fairly handle cases of destitute families.

In every phase of the complex workings of good courts these two judges have been cooperative, understanding, extremely fair and when called upon to do so, been severe in dealing with criminals.

Tear Gas Ends Insane Siege

Free Little Girl Hostage

PULASKI, Va. (AP) — The 30-hour stand of a teen-age desperado, who swore he'd "go out in a blaze of glory in a tie and white shirt with blood on it," ended Tuesday night. Police dragged him shrieking from the home where he had held his young sister-in-law hostage.

The plucky 10-year-old girl, unharmed, said afterwards, "I wasn't scared."

A barrage of tear gas shells flushed Harless Hardin "Jackie" Jennings from the trim brick bungalow of his in-laws at 10:30 p.m. after a day that saw the siege range from terrifying to allpolice said had served time in industrial schools in Virginia and Maryland, grabbed her after escaping from police as he was being taken to jail for unauthorized use of his father-in-law's car.

Barbara said she had not been terrorized. "Jackie never hurt me."

Her eyes were red and puffy, although "I shut my eyes tight" when the tear gas was lobbed into her parents' home. She said Jennings gave her plenty to eat, mostly hot dogs and toasted cheese sandwiches.

The long siege reached a climax after Jennings balked at a second offer of psyhictric treatment most ridiculous.

Jennings came out firing wildly but ineffectually with a shotgun, pushing Barbara Butts out the door ahead of him.

★ ★ ★

"Duck, Barbara!" officers called an instant before they snatched her aside. Then Jennings, an 18-year-old unemployed mill hand, was overpowered, knocked down and pulled screaming down the walk to a state police car that whisked him to a mental hospital at Marion about 50 miles away.

★ ★ ★

Barbara, examined at a local hospital, showed no signs of injuries and seemed unruffled by her ordeal that began at 4:15 p.m. Monday.

That was when Jennings, who made by a mental hospital director and a radio newsman.'

Rochester Board Acts

Raises Teacher Salaries

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Board of Education has raised the teachers' salary schedule $100 for next year and announced the net tax increase to repay the May 9 bond issue will be about five dollars per $1,000 on assessed valuation.

The beginning salary for a teacher with a bachelor's degree will be $4,500. A teacher with a master's degree will start at $4,750.

The Board also has hiked the salary increase increments from $180 to $190.

The maximum salary that can be reached with a bachelor's degree will be $6,780 and with a master's, $7,030.

Concerning the forthcoming vote on $3,100,000 bond issue for school expansion and construction, the Board voted to keep the tax rate at the minimum, members said.

According to School Supt. Donald C. Baldwin, it will be possible to float the May 9 issue for a net increase of five dollars per $1,000 on the assessed valuation.

This amount will vary slightly each year and will drop as the total valuation of the school district increases, said Baldwin.

The proposed building program is designed to meet the needs of the district for the next two years, school officials said.

Major projects to be included are new elementary school, a junior high school, an 18-room addition to the high school, additions to two elementary schools and extensive remodeling of the present junior high.

Law Requires Shot Statement

All School Children Must Have Proof or Reason for Refusal

LANSING (UPI)—A compulsory check on immunization of all kindergartners was in effect in Michigan today.

★ ★ ★

The measure was signed into law by Gov. G. Mennen Williams Tuesday, exactly five years after the announcement of the effectiveness of polio vaccine.

The act requires all children entering school for the first time to bring statements signed by physicians showing they have had polio shots and have been vaccinated against diptheria, smallpox, whooping cough and lockjaw.

The bill encourages more than it requires. Parents not wishing to have children immunized because of religious or other reasons must send along statements explaining why.

★ ★ ★

"This legislation is comparable in importance to the discovery of the (polio) vaccine itself," said State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis. "After all, until it gets into children's arms, it is useless."

Grass Fires Hit Across County Fanned by Wind

Careless burning of rubbish, fanned by winds up to 20 m.p.h. caused more than 100 grass fires throughout Oakland County yesterday, according to fire department reports.

In many sections, muddy back roads and fields hampered firemen trying to reach blazes that swept through thick woods and orchards.

Although buildings were threatened by swiftly spreading flames no personal property damage was reported.

The Pontiac Fire Department yesterday answered 34 grass fire alarms. Waterford Township had 19 fires, which resulted in hundreds of blackened acres, and Independence answered 15 grass fire calls.

Fire chiefs have urged residents not to burn rubbish in open wire baskets, or to burn raked up trash without first obtaining a permit from their community fire department.

They also ask that parents watch their small children who play with matches during the dry windy spring season.

Said Pontiac Fire Chief James R. White: "This is the worst time of the year for grass fires. Strong winds pick up sparks from the smallest fire and carry them into open, dry fields and can cause untold damage."

Sees Tuberculosis on Run in Five Years

EAST LANSING (UP) — Tuberculosis should be practically wiped out within five years, a federal health official has reported.

Dr. William B. Tucker told 40 state leaders in TB control work that successful therapy and control measures will do the job.

"Of course, we never completely eradicate any disease, but in five years we should have TB down to a minimal point," added Tucker, a physician for the Veterans Administration.

His talk wound up a two-day conference at Michigan State University sponsored by the Michigan Tuberculosis Assn.

Budget Would Up Tax: McNutt

Would Bring Increase of 1.2 Mills, He Says; Employe Gain Cited

SOUTHFIELD — If Southfield's proposed 1960-61 budget of $1,391,000 is approved, it will mean a 1.2 mill tax hike, City Administrator Robert J. McNutt said yesterday.

It also would mean more funds for construction of a hospital here, increased benefits and raises for city employes, and the hiring of additional personnel.

Specifically, the tax increase would mean cost-of-living raises of about 2½ per cent for most city employes and 4½ per cent for police and firemen, said McNutt.

The new personnel would include a second administrative assistant, a recreation director and a "junior planner," and would enable setting up a city engineering department, he added.

McNutt submitted his proposed annual budget to the City Council at its regular meeting Monday night. A public hearing on the budget was tentatively scheduled for the first week of May.

A summary of planned capital improvements covering the next 20 years at a cost of nearly $65 million dollars also was submitted to the Council by McNutt.

Most of the 65 million dollars will be paid by special assessment. This has not been broken down yet.

A further proposal by McNutt is for a three-mill levy for three years to finance $1,100,000 for a 166-acre site for a civic center, which will be voted on by Southfield residents in September.

Pending Rates, Private Planes

To Dig Into Talks, Trips 'Twixt Firms and FPC

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House investigating subcommittee will delve into informal contacts between Federal Power Commission members and representatives of some of the companies they regulate.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) transferred from the House Commerce Committee to its investigating arm, the Legislative Oversight subcommittee, a hearing on off-the-record talks a gas firm attorney had with three FPC members over a pending case last fall.

★ ★ ★

The attorney is Thomas G. Corcoran, former New Deal brain truster now retained by Tennessee Gas Transmission Co.

Ordering hearing May 2, Harris directed the subcommittee staff to "fully develop all the facts in connection with this and related matters." He did not say what he meant by related matters.

A short time later, FPC Chairman Jerome K. Kuykendall confirmed that he and two other commission members flew to Louisiana last month in the private plane of another gas pipeline company which is seeking rate increases.

The round trip to Shreveport, La., was made to attend the funeral of FPC Commissioner John B. Hussey, who died March 17, Kuykendall said. The plane was provided by United Gas Pipeline Co. of Shreveport, the nation's largest in volume of gas carried.

"I do not apologize at all," Kuykendall said. "We went to give aid and comfort to the family of a dear friend." He said use of the private plane was accepted after a check within the FPC office indicated the commissioners would not be able to obtain commercial airline connections "in time to be there for the rosary service Friday night."

Kuykendall said he and Commissioners Arthur Kline and Frederick Stueck made the trip and added that "If I had to do it over again, I'd do the same thing."

Carillon Will Peal Two Special Easter Concerts

The carillon at the Community National Bank Building will ring forth with two special Easter concerts this weekend.

The Americana Carillon was dedicated in February.

It has been used daily and for special events. The two upcoming concerts will be at 11:30 a.m. Good Friday and 12:15 p.m. Easter Sunday.

The Good Friday program will include: "Beneath the Cross of Jesus," "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," "O Sacred Head," "There Is a Green Hill Far Away," "Were You There When They Crucified?" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For the Easter Sunday concert, Community National Bank has chosen such favorite hymns as "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today," "O Milii et Filiae," "Sabat Mater," "All Creatures of Our God and King," "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," and "In Joseph's Lovely Garden."

Radioactivity Test Set by Army Chemical Corps

DUGWAY, Utah (AP)—The Army Chemical Corps will spread radioactive pellets over a 6½-acre area here to simulate radioactive fallout and test its effect on weapons, equipment, foxholes, shelters and personnel.

The desert site is surrounded by a one-foot-thick concrete wall and an earthen embankment tapering from 92 feet thick at the bottom to 23 feet at the top. Between the wall and the embankment is a 23-foot-wide moat.

The Army announced its research program Tuesday to its scientific advisory panel meeting at the Dugway Proving Grounds in western Utah. It said only that the test will start soon.

Automatic methods will be used to make radioactive tests on equipment and instrument-wired mannequins. The radioactive dosage will be too great to allow personnel into the area.

Tests can be viewed through lead-glass windows in the outer walls.

Police Chief Weary, Says, You Lock Up

CORTEZ, Colo. (AP) — Cortez police think local businessmen have been carrying things too far.

When police find a firm unlocked in the night, it's been customary for them to telephone the owner and ask him to come downtown, check his assets and lock up.

It's also been customary for the merchant to reply sleepily, "Aw, you lock up for me."

Police Chief George Elliott says from now on, "Either the merchant comes down and locks the door or it stays unlocked."

Monitor Flays Hoffa in Audit

'He Refused to Help Get Ordered Look at Welfare Books'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief of court-appointed monitors over the Teamsters Union says Union President James R. Hoffa has refused to help obtain an audit of welfare funds of the Michigan Conference of Teamsters.

★ ★ ★

"He could have gotten this audit by a snap of his fingers," Martin F. O'Donoghue complained at a hearing Monday preliminary to Hoffa's scheduled ouster trial in federal court on April 27.

Hoffa is serving as head of the Teamsters on a provisional basis contingent upon his cooperating with the monitors in a cleanup of union corruption. O'Donoghue said Hoffa has played a "cat and mouse game", of stalling and seeking to thwart the cleanup.

Hoffa contends employer trustees of the welfare fund have refused to permit the audit. O'Donoghue said terms of the trust stipulate the union trustees may obtain an audit at any time for any purpose.

★ ★ ★

The audit was ordered last summer by the U. S. Court of Appeals here. The monitors sought it to determine whether former prize fighter Embril Davidson did any work for salary paid him as a fund claims examiner.

Davidson at the time was managed by Owen (Bert) Brennan, Detroit Teamster official and a Hoffa business associate.

Named to Gas Co. Post

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—James C. Preston was named Tuesday as general manager of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. northern districts which include Grand Rapids, Cadillac, Mount Pleasant (headquarters), Belding, Big Rapids, Greenville, Ludington, Manistee and Traverse City. Preston has served the past three years as Cadillac district manager.

Prepare a Traditional Passover Dinner

Many great recipes come from great traditions—ham at Easter, turkey at Thanksgiving, or sauerkraut on New Year's Eve. Foods, as a symbol of these holidays, help to preserve the significance of historic happenings.

Few holidays have a deeper culinary tradition than the Jewish Festival of Passover, celebrated in commemoration of their deliverance from bondage. Many great recipes had their origin from the rich ceremonies of this eight-day festival.

A quick look at a selected few may suggest some refreshing spring menu ideas. Here's an easy, yet tasty one—Broiled Salmon with Browned Potatoes and Glazed Carrots. This, with the aid of aluminum foil, is an all-in-one broiler meal.

To broil salmon, place a sheet of strong aluminum foil over the broiler rack. Then the fish will not break or crumble when removed. Simply lift the entire sheet of foil to the serving platter, and crimp the edges to form an attractive frame around the fish.

The accompanying Browned Potatoes and Glazed Carrots require no recipe. Cook the necessary amount of potatoes and carrots, brush with melted butter, and place on the sheet of aluminum foil in the broiler for the last 5 to 10 minutes of cooking.

Broiled Salmon

Place sheet of heavy foil on rack of broiler pan. Clean, bone fish; place skin side down on foil. Brush with melted butter; sprinkle with salt, pepper, paprika, lemon juice.

Broil 3-4 inches from heat. Fish is done when flesh will flake with a fork and surface is golden brown. Lift fish on the foil to heated platter; crush foil in around fish; garnish with parsley, lemon wedges.

As a preface to the salmon, you may desire to serve cold borscht with sour cream—a tantalizing dish which prepares the appetite for the fish flavor to come.

* * *

Light and airy cream puffs, filled with jam or a fruit filling, are another Passover specialty. You can save washing the cooky sheet if it's covered with a sheet of aluminum foil. Whenever you prepare cream puffs, make a double quantity. Freeze half in foil for later use.

Passover Fruit Puffs

½ cup butter
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup cold water
1 cup matza meal
4 eggs, unbeaten

Combine butter, salt, water in sauce pan; bring to a boil. Add matza meal all at once; reduce heat to low. Stir vigorously until a ball of dough is formed, completely clearing sides of pan.

Remove from heat; add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Drop by teaspoon onto foil-lined cooky sheet.

Bake 25 minutes at 450 degrees; reduce heat to 325 degrees F.; bake 40 minutes longer or until puffs are dry and crisp. Cool; make small slit in side of each puff; fill with jam or fruit filling. Yield: 24 small puffs.

Here is an extra trick to utilize with these Passover recipes. Buy fresh salmon steaks, not the packaged kind, in quantity. Freeze an extra supply, wrapping them with heavy foil.

Here's a Tasty Easter Ham Dinner

An Easter dinner for a young couple might well be a glazed ham steak and asparagus with cheese sauce, so easy even a novice can prepare it. These springtime favorites are so good they warrant frequent serving, though. No point limiting them to a holiday.

* * *

A rich, mellow Welsh Rabbit Sauce is just the thing to serve over that noble vegetable, asparagus. The best rabbits have beer or ale as an ingredient to give them lightness and subtle tang, and so does this sauce.

Beer-Glazed Ham Steak

1½-inch thick slice ready-to-eat ham
½ cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
¼ cup beer or ale

Slash fat edges of ham to prevent curling. Place in heavy skillet; do not add fat or water. Pan broil slowly about 5 minutes on each side or until meat is browned.

* * *

Combine brown sugar, mustard and beer and spread part of mixture over surface of ham. Turn ham in skillet and spread with remaining glaze. Cook over low heat about 2 minutes longer on each side. Yield: 6 servings.

Asparagus With Welsh Rabbit Sauce

1 tablespoon butter
1 pound Cheddar cheese, grated
½ cup beer or ale
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
½ teaspoon salt
2 pounds fresh cooked asparagus or 2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen asparagus, cooked

Place butter and grated cheese in top of double boiler over hot, not boiling, water. As cheese begins to melt, gradually stir in beer. Cook only until smooth and hot. Stir in Worcestershire, Tabasco and salt and serve over hot cooked asparagus. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Add Extra Nutrition

Next time you make hamburgers, add a tablespoon of wheat germ for each patty of ground meat before frying or broiling. Thus you'll have the added nutrition of the wheat, without bothering to make wheat germ buns.

Celery salt and Worcestershire sauce make fine seasonings for oyster stew. Sprinkle the stew with paprika just before serving.

Cool as fast as fast as possible after they have been hard-cooked to prevent the formation of a green ring where yolk and white meet.

Herb Flavored Roast

Regal roast of pork comes to your table with the help of a few herbs. Roberta Hershey, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University, says you may combine thyme with marjoram or thyme with oregano for the flavor touch. Poke small holes, about one-half inch deep, through the fat covering on the roast and push the herb mixture into the holes. The herbs will lend their flavor to the pork as it bakes.

Different Lunch

For variety in the school luncheon box, roll a slice of luncheon meat around a mixture of cheese, green pepper and chopped nuts. Fastened with a toothpick, it makes a change from the usual sandwich.

Go-alongs for cooked fresh asparagus stalks and cheese sauce: crisp bacon, deviled or slice hard-cooked eggs, Canadian bacon.

FRENCH FRIED POTATO BALLS.—Instead of the usual french fried potatoes, serve these little potato balls with fish. They would be delightful also with a salad for luncheon. Minced onion and cottage cheese are added to mashed potato for interesting texture and flavor.

French Fried Potato Balls Make a Delicious Treat

Add a new number to your repertoire of potato favorites, French Fried Potato Balls. This accompaniment enlivens meatless meals with unexpectedly tangy flavor and pleasing texture contrasts. A horseradish-sour cream sauce may be served with the potato balls.

★ ★ ★

Make the potato balls simply by combining cottage cheese, onions, egg, mashed potatoes and seasonings. For convenience, use instant mashed potatoes. Shape the potato mixture into balls. Before frying, roll them in corn flake crumbs and egg to give a golden coating.

French Fried Potato Balls

8 cups corn flakes OR
3 cups packaged corn flake crumbs
1 cup cottage cheese
¼ cup minced onions
1 egg, well-beaten
3 cups mashed potatoes
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
2 teaspoons horseradish
3 eggs, well-beaten

Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs. Combine cottage cheese, onion, egg, mashed potatoes and seasonings; mix well. Shape into small balls 1½ inches in diameter. Roll in corn flake crumbs, then in egg; again in corn flake crumbs.

Fry in deep hot fat (475 degrees F.) about 2 minutes, or until crispy and well browned. Serve with horseradish - flavored sour cream, if desired.

Yield: About 2 dozen balls, 1½ inches in diameter.

Easter Ham Provides Tempting Leftovers

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Is ham on your menu for Easter? It has long been the favored meat for that day. Present day hams are both delicious and reasonable in price.

★ ★ ★

There are only two kinds of ham now; packers have finally decided to simplify terms and to offer either "cook before eating" or "fully cooked" hams. Check the label on the ham you buy. And buy one half pound of ham per serving.

"Fully cooked" hams need to be heated in a 325-degree oven to an internal temperature of 130 degrees, or about 15 minutes per pound. "Cook before eating" hams need 30 minutes per pound until their internal temperature is 160 degrees.

If you want to glaze your ham, remove it from the oven 20 minutes before it is done. Pour off drippings. Remove all skin. Score fat surface in diamond shapes. Cover with sugar mixture.

Old Fashioned Glazed Ham

1 pound package dark brown sugar
½ teaspoon ground allspice
½ cup sifted flour
½ cup apple juice or cider
12-14 pound ham

Combine brown sugar, allspice, flour and apple juice, or cider, mixing to a paste. Remove ham from oven 20 minutes before end of baking time. Score ham and cover with sugar mixture. Increase oven heat to 400 degrees, hot, and bake ham 20 minutes.

If you have to pack lunches, leftover ham will disappear like magic. But you may want to use it in some other dishes after the Easter feast. Take, for example, ham slices with a sweet-sour raisin sauce.

Ham Slices and Sweet-Sour Sauce

4 slices cooked ham (¼ inch thick)
1 cup brown sugar, packed
1 teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup vinegar
½ cup water
¼ cup raisins

Place slices of ham in skillet and heat slowly. Combine remaining ingredients together in a bowl. Blend well. Pour sauce over ham in the skillet. Continue to heat about 10 to 15 minutes. Serve immediately. Serves four.

You can make a ham loaf with leftover ham. This one has a pretty cranberry glaze on it.

Ham Loaf With Cranberry Glaze

2½ cups ground cooked ham (or 2 12-oz. cans luncheon meat, ground)
2 cups grated soft bread crumbs
½ cup undrained canned crushed pineapple
2 eggs, beaten slightly
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
Dash pepper

Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Press firmly into a lightly greased 9x5x3" loaf pan. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 1 hour. Let stand a few minutes.

Unmold on serving platter. Top with Cranberry Glaze. Serve remaining glaze hot in gravy boat. Makes 6 servings.

Fruity Cranberry Glaze

Mix together in saucepan 2 tablespoons cornstarch and ½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar. Slowly stir in 1¼ cups cranberry juice cocktail until mixture is smooth. Stir in ⅔ cup pineapple juice, dash salt and ⅛ teaspoon ground allspice.

Cook over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Lower heat and stir constantly until mixture is clear and thickened (about 5 min.). Makes 1 pint.

When you're down to your last cup of ham pieces, mince them and make Ham and Corn Fritters.

Ham And Corn Fritters

2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
¼ cup light, mild molasses
1 egg
1 tablespoon melted shortening or salad oil
1 cup minced ham
1 cup canned whole-kernel corn, well-drained

Sift flour, baking powder and salt into bowl. Combine milk, molasses, egg and shortening; add to dry ingredients. Stir in ham and corn; mix well. Drop batter by heaping tablespoons into hot, deep fat (350-365 F.); fry 3 to 5 minutes, until golden brown. Drain well. Makes 10-12 fritters.

Next time you are preparing salted almonds for a party, try sprinkling them with a little curry powder. Spicy munch!

Cereal Will Substitute

No can of crisp Chinese noodles in the house when you decide to prepare chow mein from leftover roast pork or chicken? Then use one of the crisp unsweetened cereals instead.

Chopped raw apple added to waffle batter just before baking is delicious.

Age Easily or Deteriorate—Medic

Poses Crucial Questions for Men

NEW YORK (UPI) — A heart specialist told an advertising men's group the way to avoid heart attacks is to look at themselves sternly in the mirror and ask these questions:

Am I overweight? Do I have high blood pressure, high blood cholesterol or a family history of heart disease? Do I smoke too much, get too little sleep, avoid exercise, put off taking vacations, and worry about everything?

If the answer to even a few of these is "yes," medical attention is called for, said Dr. Irving S. Wright, former president of the American Heart Assn.

* * *

If even one factor is "significantly out of line" it should be treated, he said.

Wright commented that there is another factor which appears to play a part in raising or lowering the possibility of heart attacks, but little can be done about it.

Women seem to be better protected against heart trouble than men, he said.

Excessive weight — 10 per cent or more over the average norm — almost certainly plays a part in increasing the disability and death rate, Wright said.

WILL POWER BEST

He said the commonest cause of overweight is eating and drinking too much, and the best weapon against it is will power.

He said a man who gets less than seven or eight hours sleep a night or "who never takes a vacation, and worse . . . even boasts about it," begins deteriorating after 45 and becomes "a multiple problems."

Evidence that stress produces heart attacks and strokes is impressive but not conclusive, Wright said.

* * *

He divided stress into two categories — pressures forced on a person and pressures the person builds up from within.

"These people are carrying on a running battle with the desk clerks, the doormen, their fellow-workers and their families," he said. "They live with an old man of the sea on their shoulders."

Wright said the effect of tobacco on heart attacks is controversial. smokers have a higher death rate from heart disease than nonsmokers, but "it must be remembered . . . heavy smokers do tend to do other things in excess," he said.

Marilyn Named Dem Convention Alternate

ROXBURY, Conn. (AP) — Actress Marilyn Monroe was certified Tuesday by Roxbury Democrats as an alternate delegate to the fifth Congressional District Convention at Torrington June 25.

Weather Blamed for Jobless Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment jumped 375,000 in March, the biggest increase for a March since World War II. Employment declined by 253,000.

* * *

The Labor Department, reporting these figures Tuesday, blamed the darkened job picture almost entirely on heavy snows and generally bad weather in March. It predicted a sharp rebound in April.

Employment dropped from 61,520,000 in February to 61,267,000 in March. Normally, employment increases during March by about 450,000.

Unemployment rose from 3,931,000 to 4,206,000. Normally, the idle total declines by about 180,000 in March as compared with February.

5.4 PCT. IDLE

The figures meant that 94.6 per cent of all Americans seeking work had jobs in March, but that 5.4 per cent of job seekers couldn't find employment.

The average factory work week dropped by 12 minutes during March to 39.6 hours. This was the third month in a row that the work week declined.

The average factory work week in March was 42 minutes less than in December.

As a result of the shorter work week, factory worker earnings averaged 46 cents less per week in March. The average was $90.68. Hourly earnings remained unchanged at $2.29.

The number of workers unemployed for 15 weeks or longer increased during March by about 250,000 to a total of 1,200,000.

Often a person who gives advice to someone hasn't tried it himself, and just wants to see if it really works . . . A diplomat is a person who can be disarming — even though his country isn't. —Earl Wilson.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become too dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lowest colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight: is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! Introductory size 43¢.

Steve Demeter Sent to Indians

Tigers Get Norm Cash From Cleveland

5 Players Also Sent to Denver to Trim Squad

Bengals Drop 4th Game in Row as Bosox Take 3-0 Verdict

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have acquired first baseman-outfielder Norm Cash in a trade which they hope will strengthen their second line troops.

In a straight player swap, the Tigers gave the Cleveland Indians rookie third baseman Steve Demeter for Cash. Each man is 25.

Cash, who both throws and bats left handed, had a .295 batting average with Cleveland in springtime exhibition games. His hits included a homer, a triple and a pair of doubles.

Cash went to the Indians last December in a trade that sent Minnie Minoso to the Chicago White Sox. He had been rated one of Chicago's brighter young prospects.

★ ★ ★

Brought up last year after four seasons in the Chicago farm system, Cash played in 71 American League games and hit .240. Of his four home runs, three were off Detroit pitching.

Demeter, in the Detroit system seven years, had compiled a .319 mark in exhibition games but wasn't given a chance to oust veteran Eddie Yost from his job at third base.

Demeter hit .295 at Charleston, W.Va., last season, but managed only two hits in 18 times at bat after he was moved up to Detroit near the end of the American Assn. season. The year before he hit .309 with Birmingham of the Southern Assn.

★ ★ ★

President Bill DeWitt of the Tigers was happy about the deal. He said that Cash's versatility is what Detroit needs not only to back up Steve Bilko at first base but to fill in behind outfielders Charlie Maxwell, Al Kaline and Harvey Kuenn.

Cash also figures in Detroit's pinch-hitting plans.

The new Tiger stands an even 6 feet, weighs 185 pounds and hails from Justiceburg, Tex.

In addition to the trade, the Tigers announced the cut of five players from their spring training squad. All five went to Detroit's new triple-A farm club at Denver, Colo., in the American Assn.

★ ★ ★

One of those cut loose was Steve Boros, a 23-year-old former bonus baby whom the Tigers tried to make into an outfielder in spring training.

But when Boros was sent down for more seasoning, manager Jimmie Dykes specified: "Must play third base."

Dykes now is convinced Boros just can't make it as a big league outfielder. The one-time University of Michigan star from Flint thumped the ball for a .305 average at Birmingham last season and he responded to his promotion by hitting .313 in Detroit's first five exhibition games. But he had so much trouble with his fielding that he was used only four times subsequently and his batting average fell off to .255.

Also putting out with the Bears when they depart tomorrow for Denver will be pitchers Phil Regan, Al Pehanick, Bob Smith and Don Kaiser. Boros, Regan and Pehanick go on 24 hour recall option.

Regan, a righthander from Wayland, Mich., pitched four times in spring training and gave up only three runs in nine innings.

Johnny Groth and Neil Chrisley, plus Lindbeck and Cash, will make up the reserve outfield corps.

Yesterday's exhibition was another case of no hitting and no pitching strength for the Tigers who collected only a single safety, a seventh inning single by Harvey Kuenn.

Boston's Tom Sturdivant pitched six scoreless innings then Al Worthington came on, gave up the only hit and sent down the next seven men in order.

The Red Sox collected 10 hits off Don Mossi and Paul Foytack with Mossi eventually winding up with the loss.

The Tigers have now lost four in a row and six of their last seven.

Record Crowd Sees L.A. Nip Cubs, 3-2, in 11 Innings

Winning Start for Dodgers

By The Associated Press

The National League's off on another pennant chase. But except for what happened to relief whiz Roy Face, you'd think it was still '59, what with Los Angeles, Milwaukee and San Francisco jammed together at the top.

The world champion Dodgers, drawing a record crowd at the Coliseum, defeated the Chicago Cubs 3-2 in 11 innings last night and kept the pace set by the Braves and Giants, who finished 2-3 last year, in afternoon games. The Braves clipped the Pittsburgh Pirates and Face 4-3. And the Giants defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 3-1 for a dandy debut in their 15-million-dollar Candlestick Park.

★ ★ ★

In the other afternoon game, Cincinnati's Reds whipped the Philadelphia Phillies 9-4.

The four games drew 179,782 fans, an opening day record for the NL, which beat the American League, still playing exhibition games, to the punch by six days.

Chuck Essegian, a record maker with a pair of pinch-hit homers as the Dodgers beat the Chicago White Sox in the World Series, broke it up for Los Angeles with a two-out, pinch blast in the 11th off reliever Don Elston. He was batting for winner Don Drysdale, who blanked the Cubs on three singles over the last eight innings and got a jump toward another strikeout crown. He struck out 14.

★ ★ ★

The Cubs, with Charlie Grimm opening his third shot as Chicago manager after replacing Bob Scheffing, got four of their seven hits and both runs in the third. Don Zimmer, a Dodger until last week, opened it with a home run.

The Dodgers tied it on a pair of walks and a two-out double by Wally Moon in the fifth against starter Bob Anderson, who fanned nine in his eight frames.

The game drew 67,550, a NL record for a night game. The old high was 67,037, set at the Coliseum last August 8 for a game with the Braves.

★ ★ ★

Joe Adcock's two-run homer in the eighth broke up a 2-2 game for the Braves before 39,888 at Milwaukee's County Stadium. The shot followed a single by Hank Aaron and came off Face, the little right-hander who ran up a two-season streak of 22 victories by winning his first 17 last season. Oddly, the Braves were the only club Face didn't beat in that streak, and the club that beat him last before he started the run. Fact is he's dropped seven in a row to Milwaukee, going back to 1956.

★ ★ ★

Warren Spahn, shooting for his 268th victory, hit his 24th home run, a career high for pitchers in the NL, but gave way after blanking the Bucs on four hits for seven frames. Don McMahon came on in the eighth and won it, but needed help from Lew Burdette in the ninth to make Chuck Dressen a winner in his managerial debut with the Braves.

Sad Sam Jones, one of three to win 21 a year ago in the NL, gave up only three hits—all by ex-Giants—while beating the Cards for the fifth straight time since they traded him to the Giants 13 months ago. Bill White singled twice, in the first and the ninth, and Leon Wagner junked the shutout with a home run in the fifth.

★ ★ ★

Orlando Cepeda drove in the Giants' runs, tripling home a pair of unearned markers in the first—after an error by ex-Giant Daryl Spencer at short—and singling home Willie Mays in the third. Larry Jackson lost it before a full house of 42,269.

The Phillies and Robin Roberts blew a 4-0 lead at Cincinnati, where 30,075 saw Roy McMillan's two-on homer cap a five-run second. Rookie Tony Gonzalez hit a two-run homer for the Reds, also off Roberts, while left hander Jim O'Toole won it with six innings of two-hit, shutout relief.

FULL HOUSE—This was the scene at Candlestick Park, San Francisco's new $15,000,000 baseball stadium yesterday as the Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals met in the opening game of the 1960 Major League season. More than 42,500 fans filled the stands. This is a capacity crowd. The Giants beat St. Louis, 3-1.

Kaline Favored to Win AL Batting Crown

NEW YORK (UPI)—Al Kaline, brillant 25-year-old outfielder of the Detroit Tigers, is favored to romp off this season with his second American League batting title.

The United Press International's 1960 board of baseball experts, TV writers and broadcasters who saw the teams in spring training, picked Kaline to wrest the title away from teammate Harvey Kuenn.

Kaline, who won the crown with a .340 average in 1955, was picked by 22 of the 50 experts. Kuenn, the 1959 champion with a .353 mark, was chosen to repeat this year by 14 experts.

Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' injury-harrassed superstar, was chosen by seven writers and Rocky Colavito and Johnny Temple of the Cleveland Indians, Nelson Fox of the Chicago White Sox and Norm Siebern of the Kansas City Athletics received one vote each.

Kaline, a line-drive hitter from Baltimore, Md., finished second to Kuenn with a .327 average last season. He played in 136 games, had 167 hits, hit 27 homers and drove in 94 runs.

Kuenn, 29, has hit more than .300 in seven of his eight big league seasons, but his 1959 figure was by far his best. He appeared in 139 games, had 198 hits, hit nine homers and drove in 71 runs. His previous high was .332 in 1956.

Mantle batted only .285 and fell off to 31 homers last season but demonstrated his tremendous potential in 1956 and 1957. He won the triple crown with 52 homers, 130 runs batted in and .353 in 1956 and the next year led the circuit with .365. Mantle reported late for spring training this year but appears to be rounding into shape rapidly.

Colavito tied Harmon Killebrew of the Washington Senators for the American League home run title, each with 42, in 1959 but he hit only .257; Fox, the league's most valuable player, hit .306 last season and has been over .300 in five of the last six years; Temple, acquired from the Cincinnati Reds, hit .311 in the National League last year, and Siebern, a Yankee discard, hit .271.

Injured Boxer's Condition Shows Little Change

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Charlie Mohr Jr., a young University of Wisconsin boxer who suffered a brain hemorrhage shortly after his final bout in the NCAA tournament last Saturday, continued today to hover between life and death. He has been unconscious since shortly after the fight.

The 22-year-old senior from Merrick, N.Y., remained in critical condition at University Hospital where he was taken and underwent a brain operation shortly after he lost his 165-pound NCAA crown to Stu Bartell of Brooklyn, N.Y., representing San Jose State in the finals of the tournament.

Dr. Manucher Javid, associate professor of neuro-surgery, performed a 3-hour brain operation on Mohr Saturday night after the Wisconsin fighter lost by a technical knockout in the second round to Bartell.

Dr. Javid said last night that Mohr had shown some improvement and that specialists were "using every scientific means and are hopeful he will respond."

'M' Opens Season With 16-0 Triumph

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan got its regular 1960 baseball schedule under way yesterday with a 16-0 triumph over Wayne State.

The Tartars made seven errors and walked 10. Thus, Michigan was able to make 11 hits good for 16 runs. The Tartars got only two hits, both off starter Dennis McGinn, who pitched three innings.

Second baseman Barry Marshall clouted a triple, double and single in four trips to the plate for Michigan. Left fielder Dave Brown got the game's only home run.

Doctoring Your Golf

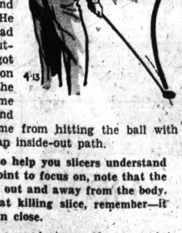
By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "My slice is killing me!"

DIAGNOSIS: Cutting across the ball.

TREATMENT: To say that a golfer slices because he cuts across the ball is like telling a man he's getting bald because he's losing hair. The two things mean the same thing.

In the illustration, you see a man in the classic slicing position. Study the position and you should see clearly what produces the slice. Then you should be better able to correct your own stance.



The man in today's illustration has his hands ahead of his hips. His right elbow is out and away from his body. He has brought the clubhead into the ball from the outside in — because he got himself into a position from which that was the only way he could come into the ball. Power and accuracy, of course, come from hitting the ball with the clubhead traveling an inside-out path.

The idea here is to help you slicers understand your affliction. As a point to focus on, note that the right elbow has gotten out and away from the body. To get away from that killing slice, remember—it must be kept tucked in close.

You've got to have a good stance if you want to get good shots off—it's as simple as that.

UP-ENDED — Toronto center Red Kelly (4) is up-ended by Montreal goalie Jacques Plante during the opening moments of the third Stanley Cup game in Toronto last night where the Canadiens won, 5-2. Montreal now has a 3-0 lead in the series and needs one more to clinch the series.

Canadiens One Step Away From 5th Cup in Row

Phil Goyette Paces 5-2 Victory to Put Toronto in 3-0 Hole

TORONTO (AP)—The Montreal Canadiens are on the verge of winning the Stanley Cup for the fifth straight year, an unprecedented feat in the National Hockey League.

They took a 3-0 stranglehold on this year's Cup by outclassing the Toronto Maple Leafs 5-2 Tuesday night. They aim to sweep the best-of-7 final playoff series by winning the fourth game here Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

A scoring explosion by the Canadiens' almost-forgotten third line of Phil Goyette, Andre Pronovost and Marcel Provost and the solid work of goalie Jacques Plante stymied the Leaf's desperate effort to get into series contention.

Goyette, with two goals, was a standout on offense. Don Marshall and the dynamic Richard brothers—Maurice and Henri — got the other Montreal goals.

Johnny Wilson and Bert Olmstead handled the Toronto scoring, both goals coming when the Leafs were already behind the eight-ball.

The hometown Toronto crowd of 13,307 had little to cheer about as the Canadiens played what Coach Toe Blake called their best game of the series.

Even Punch Imlach, the usually optimistic Leaf coach, agreed with Blake's summary. He said in the dressing room afterwards that the Leafs "have no alibis about that one."

Plante — who Imlach said was "marvellous" — got the Montreal players' vote as the man of the night. But he had to share the glory with Maurice (Rocket) Richard.

★ ★ ★

The 38-year-old Rocket, defying the years to slow him down, skated like a rookie. His goal, the first he has scored in seven playoff games this year, drew an appreciative shout from the Toronto fans.

"That was the Rocket's best game in the two series," Blake beamed. "I was tickled to see him get one."

For the Canadiens it was their most decisive win of the series.

They took the opening games in Montreal 4-2 and 2-1.

Chiefs Scalp FC 80-29 in Valley Track Start

Rolling along with increased momentum after their surprisingly powerful showing in last week's Central Michigan invitational Pontiac Central's thinclads yesterday added Flint Central's scalp to their collective belt, 80-29, on the Indians' own field.

The meet was the first outdoor activity this spring for Coach Dean Wilson's Chiefs, and the Big Chief was delighted with the fine all-around performance of his squad. It will make it difficult, says Wilson, to name his Mansfield Ohio meet squad, this weekend.

Frank Shorter came within a whisker of topping 12 feet for the first time in the vault, with a Flint field record 11-11¼ jump. Bill Ratcliff hit two fast dashes, and Joe Anderson's 4:36.3 mile was one of his best performances.

Chiefs' shot-putting "big three," Bradell (Bill) Pritchett, Charley Brown and Jerry Rush swept the event. Pontiac also swept the high and broad jumps. Chiefs took firsts in 11 of 13 events.

Yesterday's victory indicates the PCH crew may prove the favorites for Valley honors.

Oklahoman Tops Vaulting Mark

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Big J.D. Martin hustled off to a class in metal working Tuesday night. But he probably didn't learn any more about it than he did Tuesday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

The University of Oklahoma pole vaulter cleared a metal cross bar all day long until it reached the towering height of 16 feet.

Minutes before he had cleared the bar at a record 15 feet 9¾ inches, as high as any man had vaulted before. But it may not go on the record books.

Because of the 20 to 30 mile-an-hour wind, the steel pegs on which the cross bar rests were bound with tape. Also, one of the uprights was reversed so the bar wouldn't blow off.

★ ★ ★

AAU chief Dan Ferris said in New York, if there was "any irregularity", the vault would not be accepted as a record.

Allison 'Held' to a Single

Home Run Streak Halted

By The Associated Press

Bob Allison's unusual exhibition home run streak for the Washington Senators came to an end yesterday virtually overlooked as the National League opened the Major League baseball season.

Before taking the field against the Chicago White Sox at Orlando, Allison's last five hits all had been homers. The streak went by the boards in the fourth inning when he got a mere single off Frank Baumann, the Chicago starter.

Baumann and Ray Moore combined to pitch a 3-hitter for the Sox as they shut out the Senators 5-0 and snapped Washington's 5-game winning streak.

In other exhibition games, as the AL teams put in their final workouts for Monday's opener, Kansas City blanked Baltimore 3-0, Cleveland drubbed New York 7-4 and Boston shut out Detroit 3-0.

Northwestern, Illini, Purdue Disapprove Ban

Unanimous 10-0 Vote Against Embargo Is Expected at Confab

CHICAGO (AP)—Northwestern, Illinois and Purdue have joined the growing list of Big Ten schools voting opposition to a proposal to ban all post-season sports.

Significantly, all schools which voted against continuance of the Rose Bowl football games now have come out against the post-season ban. In addition to Northwestern and Illinois, they include Minnesota, Ohio State and Wisconsin.

The schools will instruct their faculty representatives to vote against the embargo, which was proposed at the Big Ten meetings in Columbus, Ohio, last month by athletic directors in reprisal at failure to resume a Rose Bowl contract.

Michigan State, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa and Purdue were for the Rose Bowl and, undoubtedly, must be considered "down the line" against the total post-season ban.

"It now appears," said a high Big Ten official, "that the proposal to ban all post-season sports will be killed by possibly a unanimous 10-0 vote at the conference meetings in East Lansing, Mich., May 20-21."

★ ★ ★

A mere 5-5 stalemate would kill it, anyway.

Northwestern's faculty athletic committee and Illinois' Senate made their anti-ban vote yesterday.

The Purdue faculty yesterday also voted for Big Ten participation in the Rose Bowl football game and opposed any ban on post-season NCAA competition in other sports.

The vote on the Rose Bowl reaffirmed Purdue's previous position.

The formal action came on a recommendation from the University Athletic Affairs Committee that the two items presented at the last Big Ten meeting opposing post-season competition be disapproved.

Post-season activities are beginning the move into the local bowling spotlight as many leagues near the end of another keg year.

Two of the latest functions were held by the Pontiac 600 Club and the Moose Little Leaguers. Coming up May 5 at the Knights of Columbus hall is the annual banquet of the Motor Inn "B" loop. There will be many other such gatherings from now through May.

Jacqueline Berzon was elected 600 Club president at the final meeting of that group with host Betty Hadji named vice president. Other officers for 1960-61 will be Helen Smith, Marvel Szot and Gerry Hintz. The board of directors will include Marjorie Hoop, Gen Bradley, Jeanette Mihalak, Margaret Walker, Grace McNerney, Millie Anderson and retiring president Rose Stratton. Shirley Pointer will handle publicity.

Smith and Pointer received trophies for taking top honors in a recent club tournament. New plans call for a pin to be awarded for the highest 600 and a bonus prize for every big series after the initial one.

A father-son, mother-daughter playoff and banquet concluded Moose bowling for the season. Special awards for the tourney victors and league trophies were presented at the banquet.

Eighty boys and girls competed on 16 teams Saturdays at Huron Bowl. They ranged in ages from 6 to 16 and were all ABC-sanctioned. Alley proprietor Joe Bonfiglio and instructor Mary Monroe conducted the league with the cooperation of Lodge 182.

April 19 will be a big night at Huron when some of the greats in the keg game compete there in a regular league round of the Times Classic.

PIN EXTRAS

Gene Bradley still tops Elks Ladies in average at 162 . . . R. Smith has 202 and H. Peterson 201 in St. Michael League . . . National writers have a campaign on against slow bowling . . . A handicap mixed double tournament starts April 23 at Farmington Lanes with the day before the last chance to enter.

Ray Fultz of Santa Monica, Calif., and Chicago writer Seymour Shub have proven you don't have to be a star to enter the ABC. Shub had a 256 series and Fultz went even lower at 244. Latter had sizzling games of 77-56-111 featuring one spare and three strikes. Bilger's Sunoco of Farmington is at Toledo this week as is Frank Crandall's Pontiac Drewry's team and Warrilow's of Ferndale.

Al Latendresse came up with a 277-642 combination in the Huron "A" loop where Bill Bull is carrying a 196 average. Front-running Mitch's Tavern hit 1029-2903 . . . A 279 was recorded in Romeo by Bill Linneburg. A balky 5 pin in the 7th frame spoiled his bid for a 300 . . . A 564 by Helen Godhardt way back on Sept. 30 stood up for six months as high series in the Lakeland Ladies race at Sylvan Lanes but has been broken twice now is the closing weeks of play. Betty Wallace hit 592 but was quickly dethroned by Eileen Oerkfitz' big 624 featuring a new high single of 253.

This concludes the 11th Frame column for the season. Our thanks to all who made contributions to the weekly article. The Press will still welcome all bowling news.

PCH 9 Beats Waterford; Lake Orion Over Oxford

Pontiac Central and Lake Orion scored baseball victories and Clarkston fell to a 9th inning rally at Fenton as local nines got into action yesterday.

The Chiefs nudged Waterford, 7-6, by snuffing out a last inning rally by the Skippers.

Muddy conditions moved the Lake Orion-Oxford game to Lake Orion and the Dragons got two unearned runs in the 5th and two more in the 6th to clinch it. Each pitcher, Roger Williams for Lake Orion and Dodge for Oxford, gave up five hits. It was the opener for both teams.

Clarkston got nine hits compared to six for Fenton but the Wolves still lost 7-2 on a squeeze play in the last frame. Bob Porritt, starting pitcher, also had 3 for 4 for Clarkston.

★ ★ ★

The loss went to Dick Caverly who pitched the last 2 and 2-3 innings and gave up the winning run.

Waterford started with two runs in the first on a couple walks and a hit by Bill Bryce. PCH came back with three in the first on Isaac Jones 3-run homer.

In the third Jim Hoke doubled in two runs and in the 7th Waterford got two more on walks, an error and fielder's choice.

Fred Staley scored for PCH on a wild pitch in the third. The winning run came when Gonzales scored on an overthrow at first in the bottom of the 6th.

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—The Fort Wayne Komets roared back into contention in the International Hockey League championship playoff with an 8-0 victory over St. Paul Tuesday night. St. Paul still holds a 2-1 lead.

Over-All Scores Good, Says ABC

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Figures released midway in the 79-day American Bowling Congress championships prove that overall scoring in the tournament has not been as low as many bowlers have claimed.

Low score in the money after 39 days for the open team division was 2,677, compared to 2,695 at the same point last year.

Disgruntled bowlers have based their comparison between the two tournaments on the 1959 champion Detroit Pfeiffers 3,243 and 3,096 which has kept A&A Asphalt of Birmingham, Mich., on top of the heap in the current edition.

Low scores still in the money at this point in other categories include: Booster team 2,616, all events 1,679, doubles 1,049 and singles 526.

Corresponding figures in the 1959 tournament after the same number of days were 2,614, 1,692, 1,053 and 531.

Big Dave's Debut on Win Side, 10-5

DETROIT (AP) — Dave Debusschere, the University of Detroit's sophomore basketball star, made his collegiate baseball debut yesterday pitching five innings of a game the Titans won over Alma 10-5.

Debusschere, who has turned down several offers in professional baseball, allowed six hits, struck out six and walked none. He was touched for four unearned runs.

An inside-the-park home run by Jerry Buchel put the Titans into a 6-4 lead in the seventh inning after Debusshere left.

Alma now has a 4-3 season record. Detroit is unbeaten in two games.

State Asks Public Aid to Keep Forests Green

By The Press Outdoor Editor

Most Michigan residents are proud of their state's magnificent countryside, and its fine forest-lands. They want them attractive and green as nature intended them to be.

★ ★ ★

But there has to be a continuing fight against the despoiler, one of the worst of which is fire. Once more, with the advent of spring, comes the warning against fires in forest areas, and on grasslands. The Conservation Department is appealing to the public for its support in the battle.

Burgeoning spring activities boost the possibilities for fire damage, and April has been found to to have been the worst period in this connection. Last April one-half of 1959's burned acreage was recorded during that month.

★ ★ ★

DEBRIS BURNING MOST COSTLY CAUSE

The top source for blazes in 1959 was debris burning, says the department's fire-control head, Milton Bergman. It caused damage of extensive nature. Careless smokers set off other serious fires that also razed considerable acreage. The latter category includes fishermen, who generally are careful of their smoking on angling expeditions.

Bergman suggests several important points when any burning is planned. "Burn leaves and debris late in the day" he advises. Winds are generally down and humidity is higher than earlier in the day."

★ ★ ★

Landowners are reminded they must have permits to start open fires, other than the domestic type. Failure to get them can cost a $50 fine and/or/ 90 days in jail. Such fires must always be attended at all times.

★ ★ ★

LEGAL CHECKS SOUGHT FOR PESTICIDES USAGE

What appears to be a proper and necessary move to control usages of chemical pesticides that threaten wildlife (and humans) has been started at Washington. One such bill, says the National Audubon Society, offered by Rep. Leonard Wolf of Iowa would require advance study of effects on fish and wildlife before initiation of any new federal program using chemical pesticides.

It's a common sense approach to urgent problems created by ill-advised aerial spraying of chemical poisons, effects of which have not been fully studied.

★ ★ ★

'BIOLOGICAL CLOCKS' FOR ANIMALS, BIRDS

Built-in time-telling apparatus informs most animals to do certain things at a specific time. This is part of what scientists call a pattern of rhythmic behaviour. Everyone who has a dog, bird or other pet knows they can "tell time."

This observer has watched a group of pigeons for many months, which follow this "time pattern." Two in particular, fly in from an outside area at precisely the same time each day, for breakfast, lunch and dinner — and make their presence known to receive their largess. Several impertinent red squirrels follow a similar pattern.

★ ★ ★

STUN FISH UNDER ICE

A little story from Memphis, Tenn. about anglers taking 10-pound goldfish from a reservoir, recalls to mind this columnist's boyhood fishing for "goldies" in a small Chambersburg (Pa.) stream in winter and early spring.

★ ★ ★

The system, as practiced by the young fry, then was to go out on ice that seldom got two inches thick, smack a club on the spot where the fish were lying up against the ice. The fish were stunned, but occasionally a youngster went through into the shallow water. Those pan-fried "goldies" were delicious, at least to a youngster.

★ ★ ★

Naming sewage in the lower Detroit River as the cause of a recent heavy duck kill, the findings point a stern finger at the need for a stronger and more efficient check on pollution in this important waterway. Source of contamination is being sought by the State Water Resources Commission.

★ ★ ★

Conservation department biologists estimate the duck toll at 12,000, says the birds are still dying in the area, but at a slower rate.

★ ★ ★

One of this observer's favorite spots on the Florida east coast is Pompano (Deerfield), and the Hillboro Inlet. The inlet is the home port of a big fleet of deep-sea fishing craft, and many area anglers make it a "call spot" on Florida vacations.

★ ★ ★

During the last few weeks a number of Pontiac rod and reel enthusiasts sampled the sport and found it very good. They got into the northward-moving kings, took many fine fish, also landed specimens, of many other species, including dolphin and mackerel, but missed the thrill of hooking into a leaping, tail-walking sail, or marlin.

The area vacationers included Al Crawford, Dick Paschke, Art Novotny, Harold Schram, Gerard Weber, Robert Willis, Art Kullis, Bill Carls (Milford), Mat Shelton.

Poachers Raid Hatchery

Trout Fry Worth $1,500

BEECHWOOD, Mich. (UPI) — Conservation officers, who followed their noses to a "big fish fry," said today they have captured six men who allegedly stole 1,500 rainbow trout from a state fish hatchery.

The trout, valued at an estimated three dollars per pound, were taken from the Crooks Run Hatchery pond near Iron River in Western Upper Michigan.

The poachers were fishing out of season (trout season starts April 30), using illegal equipment (dip nets), fishing in a no-fishing area (the hatchery), taking more than the legal limit and fishing without a license or a trout stamp.

Officers said the $1,500 worth of trout were hauled away in a truck about a week ago.

Those held were: Arvid Olson, 50; Arthur Borns, 47; David McRae, 26; Joe Bourgo, 37, and Marvin Nordstrom, 17, all of Beechwood. The other man was Marvin Belongie, 51, of Green Bay, Wis., held by Wisconsin authorities.

Three others were being sought in the case which officers said was cracked when they received reports of a "big fish fry." They said most of the tasty evidence had been eaten.

Shooting Preserves Subject for Study

LANSING—Michigan's commercial operators are invited to attend the Mid-West Shooting Preserve Conference to be sponsored April 21-22 at Kellogg biological station by Michigan State University, the Sporting Arms and Ammunition Manufacturers Institute, and the Conservation Department.

Preserve management, advertising and promotion, hatching and rearing of game birds, food and cover management and bird releases for best recovery will be among the topics discussed. Harry D. Ruhl, chief of the Department's game division, will discuss where preserves fit into the over-all hunting picture. Fritz W. Stuewer, of the game division, will give a general report on the preserve program in Michigan.

Look Like Stones

Snapping turtles are masters of camouflage. As they grow older their shells become so covered with algae that, as they lie among the aquatic plants of some pond or stream, they look like old green stones.

Boost Fishing Sites, Cut Trout Plantings

LANSING (AP)—Twice as many public fishing sites and a sharp cutback in trout planting activities are in store for Michigan if the state's fish experts get their way.

Those are high points of a proposed statement of policy that A. B. Cook, chief of the state conservation department's fish division, will lay before the state conservation commission at its next meeting.

Responding to a directive from conservation director Gerald E. Eddy, Cook and his assistants made an appraisal of fish division activities and came up with their recommendations on future policy.

Fishin' Fighter

PORTLAND, Ore. — Denny Moyer, welterweight contender, is an expert skin diver and spear fisherman.

He's an '8-Hooter'

The barred owl is often referred to as "eight-hooter" because of its call, which generally consists of eight hoots.

Count Started on Deer Losses

LANSING (AP) — State conservation officers have begun their combined dead deer and pellet county survey.

The survey helps determine special seasons, areas and kill quotas for the fall hunting season.

Department game men add the dead deer survey to the hunting season take and illegal kill. By subtracting this figure from the pellet count figure, they can make a close estimate of the herd's spring population.

Starvation losses are expected to represent only a small fraction of Michigan's wintering herd because of a generally moderate winter. The herd is estimated at between 500,000 and 600,000.

The survey started in the Baldwin and Gladwin districts of the northern Lower Peninsula and moves northward as the snow melts.

'Trumpeters' Convene in W. Michigan Waters

Residents of the Macatawa Lake area, just off Lake Michigan west of Holland, enjoyed a rare and magnificent sight recently, when a band of beautiful trumpeter swans gathered on the lake.

Howard H. Fitzgerald II, Pontiac Press business manager, says his grandmother Mrs. H. H. Fitzgerald told him there were some 200 of the big birds, a very rare occurrence where so many of the seldom seen swans are seen together in this state.

State Brittanies Score

Michigan entries in the recent two-day field trial for Michigan Brittany club did all right when final results were all in. Three of the four events were won by state-resident owned animals.

★ ★ ★

All decisions were close, with slight variations in details proving the margins of victory. Bad weather slowed the trials the first day, but fine conditions obtained for the windup, reports Mrs. Roy Curto, wife of the club secretary.

A jammed field of 77 dogs took part in the event at Highland Recreation Area, where two fun trials are planned during the late summer and fall. The club's big fall trial is set for Oct. 7-8-9.

Entries came from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Illinois, and Wisconsin.

Here are the winners:

OPEN ALL-AGE—(24 entries)—1, Fd. Ch. Benjji of IaRue (C. Player, Cadillac); 2, Beauregard Billy Boy (George Moore, Willington, Ill.); 3, Fred's Flag of Leeway) Earl Chappell, Northville).

ALL-AGE DERBY—1, Dixie of Pacolet (Robert Seger, Penn.); 2, Hadsell's Pete (T. Hadsell, Niles); 3, Cheyenne Elizabeth (C. A. Smith, Greenville, S. C.).

AMATEUR STAKE (handled by owners)—1, dual Fd., Bench Ch. Dingo's Little Mike (George Wilson, Flint); 2, Britt's Tick-Tock Bobby (H. Crippen, Dearborn).

PUPPY—Won by Northland's Doc (Henry Collins, Duluth).

Other trials this month include—16-17, at Pontiac Rec. Area, Irish Setter club of Michigan; 23-24, Mich. Weimaraner club at Waterloo Area, Jackson; 30-31, Northern Shooting Dog Classic, at Delaware, Ohio; 30-May 1, Raisin Valley Field Trial Assn. at Monroe; May 7-8 is date for the big greater Detroit Bird Dog Assn. trial at Highland.

Easter Egg Hunt This Weekend at Metro Beach

Free ballons, eggs, and prizes will highlight the second anuual children's Easter Egg Hunt to be held at Metropolitan Beach starting at 3 p.m. on Saturday, April 16.

James J. Pompo, beach manager, said that the event will be divided into two sections: tots division for children ages 2 to 6 which will be held in the Tot Lot and junior division for youngsters ages 7 through 12 who will be assigned to special areas for the search.

Youngsters who find the golden eggs will be awarded prizes, four for the tots and eight for the Juniors. Mr. Easter Bunny will be on hand to present the prizes, which include colorful stuffed animals, camera sets, roller skates and wrist watches bearing the names of Dale Evans and Roy Rogers.

Foam Rubber Chunks Prove Good Fish Bait

TAPPHANNOCK, Va. (AP) — The fish just weren't biting on the artificial bait James Gregory was using.

★ ★ ★

His companion, Miss Gladys Gaulding, noticed a big school of striped bass striking on the surface and decided to try something else. She tore up a foam rubber cushion, put hunks of it on her hook and caught six bass in quick succession.

Gregory caught nothing.

Pontiac Dog Takes Missouri Honors

Farmer's Secret Weapon, six-year-old pointer, yesterday won the Missouri Open All-Age field trial championship. The title was Weapon's 2nd top performance of the year, following his win at Kline, S. C. in March.

J. S. Farmer, Pontiac gasoline dealer, owner of the Weapon, said this morning that the Missouri victory, his 19th, was worth $2,000. He won a $1,500 purse at Kline.

The trials, held near St. Louis, Mo., drew a field of 47 nationally-rated dogs.

Extend Battle Against Eels

LANSING (AP) — The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service plans to continue its war against the sea lamprey in Michigan streams which are tributary to Lakes Superior, Michigan and Huron.

★ ★ ★

Trout populations in the three lakes have been cut sharply by the lamprey.

State conservation director Gerald E. Eddy has designated 23 Upper Peninsula streams of Lake Superior where the Fish and Wildlife Service may conduct chemical treatment.

★ ★ ★

The service was also granted permission to install screens, weirs, traps and electrical devices in 62 tributary streams of all three lakes.

In Honor of the Unknown Taxpayer

Why Not Rename It Camp Voter?

By MERRIMAN SMITH

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Back stairs at the White House:

A group of fellows were sitting around up at Camp David one afternoon last week, killing time while President Eisenhower played host to the president of Colombia in Aspen Cottage.

A bull session developed in Hickory Cottage, the big recreation hall not far from the President's lodge, and the conversation turned to the future of the White House retreat in the Catoctin Mountains of Maryland.

The camp was founded by the late President Roosevelt and was known originally as Shangri-la. The same name continued in use during the Truman administration, but when Eisenhower came in office, he changed the name to Camp David in honor of his grandson. Thus, it is logical to assume that the new President next year will select a new name for the camp.

It is not likely that a new President will get rid of the place. The Navy has quite an investment in the camp. Just a new name and possibly some redecoration of the main lodge to suit the taste of 1961's first lady.

Naturally the talk at Camp David last week turned to possible new names and changes in the 134-acre camp. Here is the result of the speculation, based on what the leading candidates might do about the camp:

NIXON — Probably change the name to Camp Julie in honor of his younger daughter or Camp Pat for his wife. Install large kennel for pet dogs.

KENNEDY — New name, Camp Dad or Camp Joe; both same idea. Abolish present tiny golf course, change it to a ski run. Build world's largest playpen for all the smaller children in the family.

HUMPHREY — Camp Hubert? Change golf course (probably world's only layout with one hole and three tees) to meadowy amphitheater where he could invite friends to listen to speeches. Vast new loudspeaker system. Camp open on Sundays. Lunch on the grounds.

JOHNSON — Camp Ladybird, of course, with a giant, golden LBJ hung at the front gate. Golf course would be changed into world's largest barbecue pit and 10,000 acres added to camp property to graze steers and make Lyndon feel at home. All Marines stationed there would have to come from Texas.

SYMINGTON — Camp Eve, for his wife. Or Camp Harry, depending on how former President Truman handles things at the Democratic Convention. Cottages, now named for trees, would be named for towns in Missouri. Aspen would become St. Louis, natch. Big Hunting Creek would become Little Missouri.

STEVENSON — Known simply as "The Camp." Golf layout bulldozed absolutely flat for eight tennis courts, four lawn and four clay. Marines out of uniform into chino shorts, button-down collars.

NELSON ROCKEFELLER, of course, could upset all of this speculation if he decides to get serious again about the GOP presidential nomination. The Rockefeller family has quite a record for establishing big parks and conceivably, they might buy the state of Maryland if Nelson made the White House and turn it into the only American resort offering mountain trout fishing, as well as ocean bathing. And Chesapeake Bay could become Lake Rock.

As pointed out earlier, all cottages at Camp David currently are named for trees or flowers. Tucked away in one corner of the camp is a rather ramshackle cottage with a sign over the door saying "Rose Bowl." That's where they keep the garbage cans.

There are about 1,900 varieties of milkweed in the world.

Peter Pan's Death Is Ruled a Suicide

LONDON (AP) — Peter Pan killed himself by jumping in front of a subway train, the coroner ruled today.

The name given in the suicide verdict was Peter Llewellyn Davies, 63. He was the original of the famous boy in James M. Barrie's play.

Peter Pan lived in never-never land and had decided to remain a boy forever, Davies grew up, became a publisher, retired

The coroner ruled that he threw himself under the train wheels last Wednesday while depressed because of his failing health.

Barrie met Peter Davies, then 10, and his four brothers more than half a century ago on their playground in Kensington Gardens.

He developed the story of Peter Pan from their description of their play world, peopled by such dwellers as Captain Hook the pirate and the crocodile with an alarm clock in its stomach.

Women Take Over

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Illness and a vacation almost turned nearby Alexandria into an all-woman village recently. Two of the seven businesses in the community are operated by women, and three others fell into feminine hands for a time when the proprietors became ill or went on vacation.

There are about 3,000 kinds of lizard.

Court to Decide

Yanich Resigned, Or Did He??

TROY—Shades of City Commissioner Louis Yanich's "resignation!"

Three months to the day after Yanich withdrew his letter of resignation — which the City Commission could not agree on accepting — a disturbed citizen questions Yanich's right to retain his seat on the Commssion.

Leo B. Claugherty of 1085 Brooklawn Ct. had a petition filed by the Prosecutor's Office in Circuit Court yesterday asking for a decision whether Yanich is still a valid member of the City Commission.

In legal language Claugherty has rased a question on a writ of quo warranto, which means by what right does Yanich continue to serve, according to Oakland County Assistant Prosecutor John N. O'Brien.

The legal question is why Yanich's resignation didn't take effect, said O'Brien.

★ ★ ★

Briefly, the history behind this question is that the Troy City Commission was split in a vote on accepting or rejecting Yanich's letter of resignation dated Dec. 12, 1959. On Jan. 11 Yanich verbally withdrew his letter of resignation at a regular Commission meeting.

Today he is of the opinion that withdrawal of his resignation was effected as recorded in the minutes of that meeting, and he consequently has the right to continue in office.

An easy solution at this time, according to O'Brien, would be for Yanich to ask the City Commission to re-appoint him.

This, Yanich said yesterday, he will not do, because "it is unnecessary." Also, he said he would not put his withdrawal of the resignation in writing for the same reason.

What is of real concern to Troy, and to all cities since the case is without a clear precedent, is when and how does an official's resignation become effective?

In this case, it places a cloud of doubt over any act of local government on which Yanich has since voted. It leaves unresolved whether any of the actions were legally completed, particularly where Yanich's vote might have been the deciding factor.

Yanich's term will expire in April of next year, if it isn't first ruled by the courts that he actually has been out of office since he resigned in December or since the Commission split 3-3 on accepting it two weeks afterwards.

★ ★ ★

Incidentally, Claugherty is a member of the Independent Voters Council Board of Directors headed by Mayor Robert J. Huber, political arch-foe of Yanich.

Imlay Transfer of Land Upheld

State Supreme Court Backs Lapeer County School Board Action

LANSING (UPI)—The word of the State Board of Education is final on matters of fact concerning transfer of land among school districts, the State Supreme Court said in a 6-2 decision yesterday setting aside an order of Lapeer Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn.

The issue involved transfer by the Lapeer County Board of Education of certain portions of Imlay Township Primary School District No. 5 to the Imlay City County School District.

The state board upheld the county board's action. The township district then appealed to Quinn, who later denied the state's motion to dismiss the appeal. The state appealed to the high court.

The high court told Quinn to dismiss the school district's petition.

ADMINISTRATIVE ISSUES

Justice Leland Carr, in the majority opinion, said the Legislature decreed that practical aspects of a desired alteration of school district boundaries are administrative matters affecting education and state agencies.

"In its discretion the Legislature concluded a review of the determination of such issues by the state board should not be granted," Carr said.

Justice Eugene Black wrote the dissenting opinion.

"Here the school code, as my brothers view it, stops everything — yes everything — at the judicial doorway," Black said.

Justice Theodore Souris sided with Black. With Carr were Justices John Dethmers, Harry Kelly, Talbot Smith, George Edwards and Thomas Kavanagh.

In a related decision, the court affirmed Circuit Judge Michael Carland of Livingston County.

Carland dismissed a challenge by a group of property owners to proceedings whereby the County Board of Education, after a referendum, transferred a portion of Handy No. 1 School District to the Howell School District.

Council to Consider Criticism Charges

Parker Quits as Holly Police Chief

HOLLY — Chief of Police James Parker resigned here last night because of alleged criticism. He is the third village employe to resign in recent weeks.

The Council, however, refused to accept Parker's resignation pending a meeting with him tonight.

In a letter to the Council Parker said that he felt he had done his best in performing his duties "but it appears that there are those that are critical of my work."

Parker, who has headed the three-man department for five years, gave no explanation as to who had criticized or what the criticism pertained to.

★ ★ ★

All but one Council member was at a loss to explain the contents of the resignation.

Councilman John Van Deusen said he had heard that Parker had been accused of inefficiency by two persons in the handling of several police cases.

Van Deusen did not identify the persons who had made the charges. Nothing in writing was produced to verify that the charges had been made.

★ ★ ★

Village President Aram Krikorian said that the first time he heard of the resignation was at the meeting last night.

"This is strictly news to me," Krikorian said.

The meeting with Parker was called when Councilman Fred Disbrow and Clare Hubbell asked for a further explanation.

NEED EXPLANATIONS

"There seems to be a lot of accusations that should be explained," Disbrow said.

"I want to hear all sides before accepting Parker's resignation," said Hubbell.

★ ★ ★

"We can find out what the snags are at the meeting," Hubbell said. "I think it will clear the air."

Parker's resignation followed on the heels of Village Manager Norman E. Tufford's and Village Attorney Donald Bremer's departures.

★ ★ ★

Two weeks ago Tufford submitted his resignation, claiming that he was under fire from recently elected village president Krikorian.

Bremer said he "just wanted to resign."

★ ★ ★

Several teen-agers in the audience of more than 30 last night had a petition signed by all members of the Teen Club to keep Parker as head of the police department.

However, when the Council refused to accept Parker's resignation, Sharon Lynch, president of the club, said she would delay action until after tonight's meeting.

★ ★ ★

She said that Parker was instrumental in forming the club "and it may fall apart without his guidance."

★ ★ ★

A citizen in the audience also backed Parker in his handling of juveniles in the village saying that because of him delinquency was at a minimum.

Will Have Sewage Hauled at Schools

TROY — The Troy Board of Education last night agreed to have sewage hauled away from three schools, if necessary, so that construction bids may be awarded April 26.

The resolutions adopted last night are an outgrowth of Friday's meeting of city and school officials with members of the county health department and representatives of the State Department of Public Instruction.

Board members resolved that if no other plan for sewage disposal is acceptable by the county and state health departments by the time the school additions are ready for occupancy, they will provide and install acceptable storage and issue contracts for hauling away sewage to approved disposal facilities.

The projects to be included in this plan are the additions to Morse and Poppleton schools and to Troy High School.

If the city sewer system is available at the time the projects are ready for occupancy, they will be connected to it "at the earliest possible time", the resolution reads.

The Board urged that the agencies involved expedite approval of the construction plans so that the contracts may be awarded on April 26.

The DPI has refused to approve certain school construction projects without prior approval from the Michigan Department of Health. This agency, in turn, cannot approve any method of on-site sewage disposal or partial treatment and discharge of effluence into the existing drainage system.

The city's hands likewise are tied because it cannot guarantee a plan and time schedule for providing sewage disposal facilities for the three school projects.

Another outcome of Friday's meeting was the decision of the school board to reject all mechanical bids received so that the specifications can be revised under the proposed sewage program.

New bids will be opened April 26, at the same time the general and electrical bids are awarded.

L. R. Marsano of Berkley was hired as clerk of the works on the construction projects at a salary of $150 per week for 16 months.

The Board last night also accepted the resignation of fellow board member, Gene Johnson, who had served one year of his two-year term. He gave as his reason for resigning that he had a teaching position and was attending college at night.

No successor was appointed.

Rochester Club to Hear Talk on Foundation

ROCHESTER—Marlin R. Hemphill, treasurer and trustee of Kiwanis Forney W. Clement Memorial Foundation for Children at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, will speak at the Rochester Kiwanis meeting Monday.

A native of Pennsylvania, he attended Westminster College and the University of Pittsburgh. Presently he is general manager of Forging and Casting Division of Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp., Detroit.

Hemphill is a past president of the Ferndale Kiwanis Club, past lieutenant governor of District 5, director of the Metropolitan District United Foundation and director of the Boys Club of South Oakland County.

The local club meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. at Bebout's restaurant.

Heads Supervisors

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Donald Woodruff of Broomfield Township has been named to succeed Maynard Cole as chairman of the Isabella County Board of Supervisors. The Board, at its spring meeting Tuesday, also raised the pay of members from $10 to $15 a meeting.

DONNA MARIE McLAUGHLIN

The engagement of their daughter Donna Marie to Donald Rounds is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. McLaughlin of 8960 Shadypoint Dr., Commerce Township. Her fiance is the son of Mrs. Frank Rounds of 308 Maple St., Holly, and the late Dr. Rounds. No wedding date has been set.

Flanagan Is Winner

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Glen Flanagan, 143¾, of St. Paul, Minn., and Javellana Kid, 144, Manila, fought to a 10-round draw Tuesday night. The fight was dull with Flanagan tying up his opponent throughout. He was ahead on all cards but officials took one point from him in the eighth round for a low blow. There were no knockdowns.

See 75,000 Population Near MSUO in Future

A review of the past year in the Avon-Pontiac Regional Planning Commission's first annual report is really a look into the future for the community surrounding the Michigan State University Oakland campus.

The report predicts that the community adjacent to MSUO will grow from a present population of 9,000 to between 50,000 and 75,000 by the year 2,000, or within the next 40 years.

This estimate is based on an inventory of available census and other data. It indicates that the growth might be on the average of between 1,000 and 2,000 persons per year.

Such is the estimated drawing power of the new university in a barely developed, immediate vicinity.

The predicted population influx indicates the wisdom of careful planning to insure an orderly community development, according to the commission.

LAND USE GUIDE PLAN

During the past year the commission has prepared and adopted a "Preliminary Land Use Guide Plan," at the same time conceding that a more detailed study must follow.

Recognizing that a suburban residential atmosphere already prevails in the MSUO area, the commission has determined that the university community will continue to function primarily as a residential area.

The residential portions of the community, however, would require the usual commrcial and service centers, public buildings and other facilities and utilities, according to the annual report.

Exceptions to the residential development were seen on the approaches to the university from the proposed Walter P. Chrysler expressway paralleling the western boundary of the community, where it was felt that university-oriented industry and research activities might be located.

Another possible exception was seen in the south central portion between the Clinton River and the Grand Truck Railroad where a light industrial district could be located.

OTHER USES CITED

The report says other major land uses — amendable to the residential character of the community — would include the already existing Bald Mountain State Park Area in the northwest corner and the use of the Clinton River and its adjacent shore frontage as a lineal recreational area and major drainage and utility easement.

The Planning Commission foresees the community's greatest population density in the westerly portions due to location of the university's main entrance from the Chrysler expressway when it is completed.

Commission members expect this density would gradually lessen as it fanned out to the east and north.

Another major consideration in community planning is an adequate water supply. According to the commission, the present means of providing individual wells and septic tanks will become increasingly uneconomical and therefore a public water supply system should be favored.

★ ★ ★

The commission sees three possible water supplies: the Southeastern Michigan Water Authority; the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority or the City of Detroit.

According to the report, the City of Detroit proposal to serve the general area with water may be the most realistic.

The Detroit proposal is to build a water transmission pipe from Lake Huron to Detroit and from there to serve a larger metropolitan area.

The Oakland County Department of Public Works plans to solve the waste disposal problem with the construction of a public sewer system.

Along with continued study of population trends, facilities and land use, the planning commission is concerned with zoning and subdivision regulations, bylaws, building codes, and a capital improvement program.

The annual report was submitted to Avon and Pontiac Township Boards and their planning and zoning boards and Oakland County officials by Rex Bebout, commission chairman; and members Polly Garland, secretary-treasurer; Lowell R. Eklund, Sydney Ennis, E. Tilson Peabody, representing Avon Township; and Lloyd Ludy and Dr. Stanley L. Slovik, representing Pontiac Township.

Milford to Get New Water and Sewage Rates

MILFORD — New water and sewage rates will be put into effect here early next month at an over-all savings to taxpayers, Village Manager Oliver Taylor announced today.

There probably will be an increase in water bills on the average, Taylor said, but sewage rates will be considerably lower.

The new rates include a water meter base charge of $1.70 a month. This will be split down as 95 cents for water utility and 75 cents for sewage utility.

There also will be a charge of 28 cents per thousand gallons for the first 3,000 gallons, and a charge of 23 cents for the next 17,000 gallons.

There will be an equal charge for the sewage utility.

Presently, taxpayers are charged $3.50 quarterly for the first 10,000 gallons and an equal charge for sewage treatment.

A minimum bill for each quarter totals $7. Taylor said that with the new rates there would be no average minimum bill.

It Makes a Good Issue, That's All

Expect No Speed on Aid for Aged

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of health insurance for the aged will be a big 1960 campaign issue. But it's doubtful the Democrats and Republicans will do anything about it before the campaign.

There are more than 15½ million people over 65 in this country. The Democrats on a Senate Welfare subcommittee reported last February almost 60 per cent of them had less than $1,000 income in 1958.

★ ★ ★

President Eisenhower's administration has had plenty of time to prepare a health insurance program for the older people and submit it to Congress. Instead, as in many other problems, Eisenhower has ordered an exhaustive study.

Eight of Eisenhower's own Republican senators got fed up waiting and proposed a plan of their own. Eisenhower hasn't approved. His secretary of welfare, Arthur S. Flemming, suggested a plan. Eisenhower hasn't approved that, either.

AGAINST GRAND BILL

The President wants no part of a proposal by Rep. Aime J. Forand, Rhode Island Democrat, to add health insurance for people over 65 to the Social Security program by boosting the present 3 per cent tax on employes and employers to 3¼ per cent. This would be compulsory and it would be a government program.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower condemned the idea at his March 30 news conference: "I have been against compulsory health insurance as a very definite step in socialized medicine."

That's what the American Medical Assn. and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce say, too.

Although three of the Democratic would-be presidential candidates—Sens. John F. Kennedy, Hubert H. Humphrey, and Stuart Symington—endorse Forand's idea he had less luck with his own Democrats in the House.

HOUSE OBJECTS

There the Ways and Means Committee, on which the Democrats outnumber the Republicans, turned down Forand's bill.

Roughly the kind of plan Flemming and the eight Republican senators were thinking of would require federal-state payments to help needy people over 65 pay the cost of hospital and medical care through private insurance firms.

The only kind of plan Eisenhower is reported to want is one that is voluntary and does not include any increase in the Social Security tax.

One of the main administration arguments against Forand's bill is that it is compulsory and would not benefit about four million older people not covered by Social Security.

★ ★ ★

On the other side, one of the main objections to the Flemming type of plan — with the federal government and states participating — is that there might be no rush by the states to embrace it.

The absence of a solid administration program — after seven years in office — provides the Democrats with a talking point in this year's elections.

However, the Democrats have been in control of Congress since 1954 and they haven't produced one, either. This looks like a golden opportunity for a couple of old political hands.

Those two Texans, Sen. Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, leaders of the Democrats in Congress, reportedly are now busy cooking up a plan to try to get through Congress this year.

It would furnish federally aided hospitalization, nursing home care and perhaps some other medical benefits for people over 65. But it isn't clear whether this would come under Social Security or be tackled some other way.

★ ★ ★

Since Johnson is also a would-be presidential candidate, success with this idea wouldn't hurt his popularity with a lot of people.

Last December Flemming said he'd have a program ready for Congress this year. But, according to reports March 19, when he unveiled it to Republican congressional leaders, they gave him a rough time.

★ ★ ★

He subsequently told a congressional committee he was fighting to get the administration to produce some kind of program as an alternative to the Forand bill.

Senate Coasts as House Toils

State's Money Issues Are Banished for Now, Salary Measure Alive

LANSING (AP) — With few problems left, the Senate coasted today while the House pitched into a stack of headachey bills barring the road to a speedy session windup.

All knotty pay-raise and money issues were banished — for the time being anyway — after a spurt of activity yesterday that produced a 20 to 11 vote to keep hopes alive for a salary increase of $1,000 or $1,500.

Senators confirmed six of Gov. Williams appointees to the newly created statutory Commission on the Aging, and approved some more interim study committees.

Approved for service on the aging commission were Msgr. John D. Slowey of Lansing, Dr. Wilma Donahue and Charles O'Dell, both of Ann Arbor; John B. Martin of Grand Rapids, Daniel E. Connell, Muskegon, and James E. Brophy, Grosse Pointe Park. Martin is Republican national committeeman.

★ ★ ★

Among the special study commissions voted was one on personal and real property assessment and taxation. Its goal is to bring more equity into the process.

Others were approved to look into problems of trading stamp company regulation and relief of highway congestion around urban areas on the interstate system.

Dow Theory Has Bad Effect on Stock Emotions

NEW YORK (UPI) — After having been almost forgotten for 10 years, the Dow Theory is now receiving more publicity than it has had for a long time, appealing more to the emotions than to cold logic.

Harris, Upham & Co. points out the theory, as in the past, has been widely condemned after giving an unfavorable signal and widely acclaimed when it indicates a bullish trend.

It's about time investors were getting less emotional in their actions and decisions, the firm implies, particularly now that there are many more valuable statistics on which to base sound judgment than there have been in the past.

It seems we still haven't conquered our emotions enough to justify complete disregard for the theory which even the Securities & Exchange Commission admitted was the largest single influence in the 1946 decline, Harris, Upham notes.

Glamors Up Amid Caution

NEW YORK (AP)—Wide moves by some of the "science" stocks and selected issues featured a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Gains and losses of fractions to a point prevailed among key stocks as the market averages went nowhere in particular.

Trading interest was keen enough in some of the specially-situated stocks to move them from 1 to around 5 points. The market atmosphere as a whole, however, was cautious.

Trading was dampened by the withdrawal of funds to meet income tax payments by the April 15 deadline. The long Easter weekend, including Friday as a market holiday, was a further reason for caution.

A rise in the U. S. Treasury bill rate was ascribed by some to expectations that quickening business activity later on would bring about increasing competition for funds.

Steels and motors were mostly lower. Electronics and some of the chemicals advanced. Most major groups were uneven.

American shipbuilding, a thinly-held issue, was up about 5 Time gained more than 2 apiece. Universal Match, Radio Corp. and Texas Instruments were up more than a point apiece.

Beech aircraft was a 3-point gainer as a stock split was declared a possibility.

U. S. Freight ran up about 3 while American Export Lines fell more than a point on word that major holders of the latter's stock have abandoned their plan to sell their stock to U.S. Freight whose president said his company will now concentrate on internal growth.

Capital Airlines dropped a fraction. The news was that Vickers-Armstrong Ltd. has served notice it is demanding payment on more than 11 million dollars in overdue notes.

Western Union, which has been losing ground lately, eased slightly now that the news was out on a decline in earnings.

Among the more than three million dollars in borrowings approved yesterday by the State Municipal Finance Commission was the issuance of general obligation bonds for $300,000 to build an addition to the Lapeer County General Hospital.

Also approved was borrowing of $146,000 in tax anticipation notes by the Clawson School District for operating expenses.

He's Splitting the Party, Truman Says of Butler

NEW YORK (AP) — Ex-President Harry S. Truman said today that Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler has "split the party but it's too late to replace him before the convention."

He made the comment during a morning stroll with reporters. Butler has been criticized for indicating a preference for Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Some Grain Pacts Up Major Fractions

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market registered moderate selling pressure in early dealings today and worked generally toward strong ranges with some contracts up major fraction of a cent.

Oats, rye and new crop soybeans led the advances. Wheat and corn held within a steady range during the first several minutes.

A good deal of the buying was understood to be reinstatement of long positions in the market along with some short covering.

The Department of Agriculture announced another clearance of corn for export under the subsidy program. This time it was 575,391 bushels to be shipped by the end of July. It brought the total for the week to more than 2 million bushels.

Nelle Won't Handle Estate

Voluntarily Withdraws as Executrix of Slain Husband's Property

Mrs. Nelle Lassiter has voluntarily withdrawn as executrix of her slain husband's $107,000 estate.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore yesterday accepted the Beverly Hills mother's resignation and the appointment of Jones B. Reaves, named in Lassiter's will as alternate executor. Reaves, of Royal Oak, is a family friend.

Mrs. Lassiter's removal was prompted when an insurance company sought to discontinue her $30,000 bond as executrix, claiming she had become an "abnormal risk" since being charged with her husband's murder.

Judge Moore granted Mrs. Lassiter three weeks to make an accounting preliminary to the Standard Accident Insurance Co.'s withdrawal from the bond.

★ ★ ★

The judge set a new bond of $50,000 on Reaves as successor executor.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lassiter, 37, currently in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital due to a nervous condition, is awaiting trial on charges she conspired with Gordon Watson, 44, her alleged lover, to murder Parvin (Bill) Lassiter, a Royal Oak car dealer a year ago.

Elect 1st Woman Supervisor Head in Wayne County

DETROIT (UPI)—Councilman Blanche Parent Wise has become the first woman chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Wise was elected yesterday by a vote of 60 to 37 on the second ballot of the Board defeating Councilman Eugene I. van Antwerp. She lacked one vote of confirmation on the first ballot.

Mrs. Wise became the official Detroit nominee earlier in the day by a vote of 5 to 4 in the City Council.

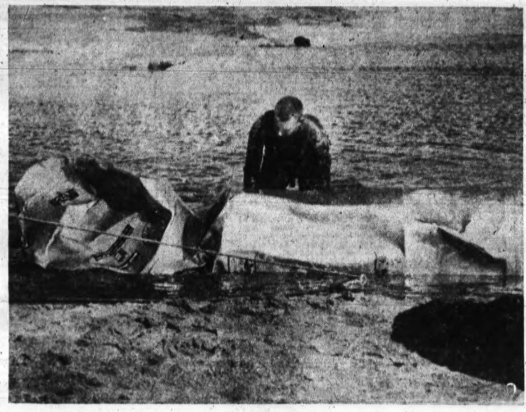
The 52-year-old new head of the County Board has been a member of the Detroit Council for six years. She is a native of Detroit and a former schoolteacher and auto salesman.



EXPLOSION CAUSED CRASH — State police said today it was apparent an F-101 Voodoo jet fighter plane that carried two fliers to their deaths exploded when it crashed into Saginaw Bay near Caseville. Skin divers recovered parts of the jet fighter and "pieces of human bodies" from 15 feet of water yesterday about a mile off shore. The airmen were Captains Howard D. Wandel, 34, of Hudson, Ind., and Hilson Sewell, 31, of Thaxton, Miss. This picture was taken at the scene of the recovery attempts by Fred W. Horton, 9575 Buckingham Rd., Waterford Township.

Con-Con Ballot Rejected

Public Will Vote Upon Extra Sales Tax Penny

LANSING (AP) — Michigan voters will decide next November whether to lift the sales tax ceiling from three to four cents.

After weeks of foot-dragging, the House yesterday gave swift approval to a Senate-passed proposal for a statewide vote on authorizing the Legislature to add a penny to the sales tax.

★ ★ ★

The 85-16 vote, 11 over the minimum passage requirement, came without a word of debate in a sudden climax to an issue that has roiled the legislature for more than a year.

The higher levy would fatten state coffers by 110 million dollars a year.

The vote of Oakland County representatives on the sales tax referendum bill was: For — Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson (R-Waterford Township), Rep. S. James Clarkson (D-Southfield) and Rep. William Hayward (R-Royal Oak). Against — rep. Arthur J. Law (D-Pontiac).

Later, the House refused to approve a referendum on a convention to rewrite Michigan's 52-year-old constitution.

SOUNDLY BEATEN

Republican and Democratic proposals for a Nov. 8 vote both were soundly beaten, leaving it up to the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce and the League of Women Voters to get the issue on the ballot by petition. Both organizations have been circulating petitions for more than a month.

The sales tax vote was hailed as a signal victory by Republican lawmakers, who have tried for more than a year to cure the state's financial troubles with a sales tax increase.

Last year, capping months of wrangling, they pushed through the equivalent of a four-cent sales tax by adding a penny to the three-cent use tax and applying it to all items covered by the sales levy. But it was quickly thrown out by the state supreme court as a violation of the constitutional ceiling on the sales tax.

BLOCKED IN APRIL

Gov. Williams and Democratic lawmakers blocked a sales tax referendum last April and fought stubbornly for a personal income tax as the answer to nagging money problems. They were repeatedly rebuffed by the Republican-controlled Senate as the Legislature struggled through a record-long session that didn't break up till Dec. 19.

Conceivably, the state could eventually get both. Voter approval is not required for an income tax.

As a constitutional amendment, the sales tax proposition would require a simple majority of those voting on the question for approval.

If it passes, House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan) said he would ask the governor for an immediate special legislative session to enact a higher tax.

★ ★ ★

Thirty-three House Democrats joined with 52 Republicans to put the proposition on the ballot. Last week, it attracted only 17 Democratic votes and fell four votes short of passage.

Votes against a statewide vote on a constitutional convention divided party ranks.

Pontiac Invites Interurban Buses to Serve Arteries

In another stopgap plan, city commissioners have invited interurban bus companies operating through Pontiac to help out now that the city itself is busless.

The door was opened last night for any bus company operating through Pontiac to pick up and discharge passengers at regularly scheduled bus stops along the major arteries they travel.

Outside bus companies were also given the city's permission to cover established special routes transporting children to and from school.

The companies are The Bee Line, Greyhound Lines and Great Lakes Transit Corp.

The move was suggested by City Commissioner Floyd P. Miles, who heads the 14-member transportation committee appointed by Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

'STEP TEMPORARY'

"This step is temporary in nature," he said, "until such time as the city is able to establish again a permanent transportation system.

"The service this move would provide would be meager, it's true, but at least it would provide some service along main arteries."

It was anticipated that the Public Service Commission in Lansing would have to okay the plan.

City Manager Walter K. Willman was told to inform the bus companies of the offer.

No rate was set.

★ ★ ★

At the suggestion of John W. Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, the Commission offered to let the Bee Line use West Huron street as a route into the city.

If the company elects to take up the city's offer and use West Huron, some type of public transportation will be available on the biggest arteries.

These include in addition to West Huron such streets as Perry, Auburn, Orchard Lake and Saginaw.

As a previous stopgap plan, the city offered to license the striking bus drivers' "courtesy ride" service as a special jitney operation but the drivers turned it down.

★ ★ ★

The city has been busless since the strike began Dec. 5. Last weekend, National City Lines announced it would pull its subsidiary, Pontiac City Lines, out of town because of the strike and poor finances in general.

Kresge OKs Dividend

S. S. Kresge Co. Board of Directors, meeting yesterday, passed a resolution authorizing a quarterly payment of 40 cents per share dividend payable June 10, 1960 to stockholders of record at the close of business on May 17, 1960.

Three Supervisors Bow In at County Meeting

Three new Oakland County supervisors made their bows at yesterday's annual re-organization meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

Madison Heights placed its city manager, Richard W. Marshall, in the seat occupied for the past year by John Archambault.

Archambault, a member of Oakland's four-member delegation on the Democratic State Central Committee, was not re-appointed by his City Council last month. Endorsements of candidates in the nonpartisan city election played a part in his removal, opponents said.

Archambault was the second member of the State Central Committee to get bumped from the heavily Republican Board of Supervisors within a year. Just a year ago veteran Huntington Woods supervisor Mrs. Harriett Phillips was removed.

★ ★ ★

Another newcomer to the Board yesterday was Mrs. Joseph R. Schemansky Jr., replacing Troy Mayor Robert J. Huber.

Huber, during his brief year stint on the Board, placed county expenditures under close scrutiny. He often crossed swords with veteran supervisors.

The third new supervisor introduced yesterday was William T. Duncan replacing Vheodore Ollar from Berkley. Ollar had been on the Board just over two years.

Willman Will Speak on Vacation Trip

City Manager Walter K. Willman and Mrs. Willman today drove off from Pontiac for a 19-day Florida vacation during which he will make two important talks as president of the International City Managers Assn.

The couple will not be here on election day, Monday, but each has already cast an absentee ballot.

Willman will be back on the job May 2.

Willman has been invited to address the Florida City Managers Assn. April 25 at Florida State College in Tallahassee, Fla. and the Georgia City Managers Assn. April 28 at the University of Georgia in Athens, Ga.

His subject will be "A Look at City Management in the Future."

During Willman's absence from Pontiac, Assistant City Manager Robert A. Stierer will be acting manager.

But Thaw Deep This Year

Blacktop Record Is Good

A report showing how the city has improved blacktopping standards over the past 11 years was delivered to the City Commission last night by City Manager Walter K. Willman in answer to complaints of breakups during the unusually sudden thaw this spring.

The report was prepared by City Engineer James N. Carlisle.

It showed that breakups in blacktopping dwindled almost to the vanishing point, percentage-wise, in the past five years.

Despite the favorable record, Willman pledged renewed efforts in behalf of good roads, especially in the area of soil conditions.

No matter how well the road itself is constructed, he pointed out, poor soil conditions underneath can lead to breakups.

The manager believed this was true in the case of breakups in those streets that were the cause of hot debate last week. Commissioner Milton R. Henry went so far as to raise "the possibility of collusion" between city inspectors and private contractors.

RECORD GOOD

The 11-year survey (1949-1959 inclusive) said that the city contractors and subdivision contractors together had blacktopped 62.65 miles of road, of which .615 miles or .95 per cent of the total eventually needed major repairs.

The city's contractors had a better record than those hired by private developers, the survey showed.

In the 11-year period, according to the survey, the percentage of failure on city-contracted roads was .87 per cent, while the record for the developers was 1.61 per cent.

Private developers contracted for only 6.81 miles of the total blacktopping during the survey period. The city contractors did the rest.

The percentage of breakups has been reduced significantly in recent years, said Willman.

In 1950, for instance, it was 4.05 per cent, according to his report. This level fell off dramatically to .84 per cent in 1955, Willman said.

Since 1955, the percentages of failures are so slight they are hardly worth figuring, he concluded.

There were no failures reported in 1956, only 7 square yards affected in 1957, none the following year and 17 square yards last year, Willman said.

Britain to Junk Missile Project

Cabinet OKs Decision to Scrap Blue Streak; 'Too Costly'

LONDON (UPI) — The Cabinet today approved a decision to abandon Britain's long-range ballistic missile program, which already has cost the taxpayer 280 million dollars.

★ ★ ★

The government has decided to junk the Blue Streak ballistic missile, which would have been designed to carry hydrogen bomb warheads 2,500 miles.

The decision to give up the Blue Streak was made some time ago, and approved this morning.

Informed sources said the British are drastically revising their entire guided missile program, and may buy some rockets from the United States.

Main reason for dropping the Blue Streak project was its cost. The first launching was to be held in a few months at the Woomera Rocket Range in Australia.

★ ★ ★

Chancellor of the Exchequer Derick Heathcoat Amory was reported to have argued that Britain could not afford the luxury of building its own missiles which are being duplicated by her Allies.

Two Tots Burn to Death While Mom's at Church

DETROIT (UPI) — Two small sisters left alone in their home last night died in a fire while their mother was in church.

Police held the mother, Mrs. Mary Strenger, 24, as a prisoner in Receiving Hospital. Mrs. Strenger became hysterical when she returned from church to find the youngsters dead.

The bodies of Jacqueline Janice, 3, and Brenda Joyce, 5, were found in an upstairs bedroom.

Mrs. Strenger was held for investigation of negligent homicide.

Birmingham Men Attain Architects' 'Fellowship'

Two Birmingham men have been advanced to "fellowship," the highest type of membership, in the American Institute of Architects.

★ ★ ★

H. Augustus O'Dell, 1119 Pilgrim Rd., was cited for his "service to the Institute and public service."

Minoru Yamasaki, 1025 E. Maple Rd., was honored for his "notable contribution in design."

★ ★ ★

O'Dell is head of the firm of O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach, Architects and Engineers.

He has served as president of the Michigan Society of Architects and has been a member of the State Board of Registration for Architects, Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors.

One of his firm's recent projects, done in collaboration with Crane, Kiehler & Kellogg, is the Henry and Edsel Ford Auditorium in Detroit's Civic Center.

Yamasaki, recognized nationally and internationally, has become one of the most famous architects in the United States.

His most recent project, in collaboration with Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates, Inc., is the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company's office in Detroit.

His accomplishments include the McGregor Memorial on Wayne State University campus, the American Concrete Institute and the Reynolds Metals Building, both in Detroit, and the American Embassy building in Kobe, Japan.

The fellowships will be bestowed upon O'Dell and Yamasaki at the Institute's convention in San Francisco April 18-22.

Seek Approval of Lot Splitting for New Homes

Development of 121 low-income bracket homes are planned this summer in the Buena Vista Heights subdivision, according to Ivan W. Schram, a Pontiac realtor.

The new dwellings will be built in the area bounded by Kennett road and Stanley, Columbia and Hollywood avenues.

Developers of the homes last night asked the City Commission to approve splitting of oversized lots in the subdivision as part of their plan.

The request was sent off to the Planning Commission for preliminary approval.

GOP Legislators Brace Against Padding Budget

LANSING (AP)—Republican spending chiefs braced today for another hail of Democratic attemtps to add millions to the already misshapen 1960-61 state budget.

Efforts by Democrats to fatten the higher education bill, bulging with a record of 109 million dollars, were interrupted by an overnight truce yesterday after one amendment poposing a $3,049,000 boost lost out by three votes.

★ ★ ★

Others in a pile of amendments were cut down in buzz-saw fashion.

Sharp criticism of enrollment and other politics set by the three major state universities marked the debate.

Chief targets were:

1. Sizable enrollments of out-of-state students at the University of Michigan and Michigan State University.

2. Plans by the Council of State College Presidents to hire a fact-finder and mediator to serve all nine state colleges and universities.

Reps. Allison Green (R-Kingston) and William Romano (D-Van Dyke) proposed limiting non-Michigan enrollment at Michigan, Michigan State and Wayne State to 10 per cent of the student body. It fell 10 votes shy of passage.

Romano argued that acceptances of out-of-staters was hurting college opportunities for Michigan children. Ohio State University, he said, enrolled only 2,386 out-siders in a student body of 28,591 and the U. of M. has 6,530 non-Michigan students in an enrollment of 22,923.

"We want to educate our students here in Michigan first," he said. "Either you've got to know somebody or be a college football player to have reasonable assurance of getting in."

Rep. George F. Montgomery, a Democratic school teacher from Detroit, called for financial penalties against schools enrolling non-Michigan residents. For each one accepted, $1,000 would be cut from state appropriations to the three major universities. It, too, was beaten.

Romeo Names New Officials

3 Appointments Are Held Up Temporarily by Village Council

ROMEO—The Romeo Village Council has confirmed the appointments of department heads to serve for the coming year. No action has been taken, however, on the selection of a village attorney, village engineer and president pro tem.

★ ★ ★

Jack R. McFadden is new chairman of the department of public works committee; William Totten, zoning; Arch Robertson, building inspector; Walter Werth, fire chief; and John Foltz, assistant fire chief.

★ ★ ★

Named to serve as electrical inspector was James Kleinhans; heating inspector, Thomas Robb; police chief, Edgar Welsch; and police sergeant, Charles Meeker.

Continuing as superintendent of the public works department is Kenneth Ellsworth, and the new police committee chairman is Tony Galan.

Chairman of the budget and administrative committee is George Tapley; parks and recreation committee, John Kegler; fire department committee, Donald Payne; and water committee, John Kegler.

Retained as civil defense director was Edward Trim. Members of the Board of Review are Frank Wilcox and Robertson with Donald Chubb as alternate.

The entire Council will serve on the ways and means committee. Continuing as village auditor is the Detroit firm of Rutten and Welling.

Steel Strikers Get Pay After Melee

ECORSE (AP) — An angry throng of 1,000 strikers, chanting "We want our checks," broke a gate lock at Great Lakes Steel Corp. yesterday and tried to rush a pay shack but was driven back by police.

★ ★ ★

A company request for a temporary injunction banning mass picketing was to be heard today by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge John M. Wise.

★ ★ ★

Some 20 police and sheriff's officers were needed to turn back the rushing employes who had begun gathering at the plant early in the day.

Great Lakes had announced that their paychecks would not be ready on time because the pickets had prevented clerical workers from entering the plant.

The crowd continued to grow during the day and it numbered an estimated 5,000 when the firm agreed to distribute the paychecks, provided the strikers let clerical workers through their lines. The strikers agreed and the checks were distributed.

★ ★ ★

The giant steel complex has been closed since last Friday when members of United Steel Workers Local 1299 left their jobs and set up picket lines to protest what they termed unsafe working conditions. The company said the action was a wildcat strike.

No negotiations between the Union and mill management have been held or are scheduled.

Survey Spurs Recovery Hope at Oil Reserve

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Results of a scientific survey with radioactive gas have promised recovery of millions of barrels of oil from the world's greatest reserve of "unrecoverable" petroleum.

J. D. Watkins, W. D. Howell and F. E. Armstrong of the U. S. Bureau of Mines at Bartlesville, Okla., disclosed the six-month survey at the American Chemical Society convention here.

Watkins said the study revealed information about rock formations in the 300-thousand acres spraberry trend in Texas, which should help bring in the oil by secondary methods.

Secondary methods, such as water flooding to force oil from the ground, are used after the primary method, natural pressure, has failed.

★ ★ ★

The study consisted of pumping natural gas carrying a harmless, radioactive tracer into a central well. The gas was checked by automatic geiger counters at a system of 12 outlying wells.

Watkins said the results indicated 19 million barrels of oil should be recoverable by water injection.

Card of Thanks 1

WE SISH TO THANK OUR MANY friends, neighbors on Sparks Lane and Leon Road and relatives for their acts of kindness, cards of sympathy and floral offerings during the recent bereavement of our loving wife and mother, Mary Skolimoski. A special thanks to Father Jones and Dr. Rech, Dr. Munson and Dr. Rowley. Also the Richardson-Bird Funeral Hom Walled Lake. Mr. Joseph Skolimoski and family.

WE WISH TO THANK OUR NEIGHbors and the many other friends and relatives for their flowers and expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement. We especially thank the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home and Rev. Frank Williams for his comforting words.
Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Long and family, Mrs. Zelia Mahoney, Renna and Avis Hopkins.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MRS. Evelyn F. Rives who passed away 1 year ago April 13, 1959.
The depths of sorrow we cannot tell,
Of the loss of one we loved so well;
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep.
Sadly missed by Earl J. Rives, Jen & Joan and Mr. & Mrs. Bert G. McClay.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY dear husband Louis G. MacFarlane who passed away April 12th, 1958.
Sweet is the word remembrance
Dear is the loved one who has gone.
His memory will always be treasured.
As long as the years roll on.
Sadly missed by Kitty, and all the family.

To Compare Spending of County, Other Areas

Oakland County will spend $10,200 to find out if it's spending too much.

★ ★ ★

The Board of Supervisors yesterday approved a study which is expected to show whether Oakland budgets amount comparable to other counties in Michigan and those of similiar size in other states.

The County Planning Commission will conduct the study, expected to be completed in a year.

Approval of the study was unanimous.

★ ★ ★

Approval, too, was given to spending $1,500 to update plans for the new courthouse to see how much will be needed for a proposed county tax hike to complete the six million dollar project.

GET HOMEWORK

Following both approvals, supervisors went home with copies of the county's tentative 1961 operating budget of $13,714,721.

They'll make a special order of business Monday to approve the budget—which is $1,087,937 more than the current operating budget—for tax allocation purposes only. Final approval comes in September.

There was no discussion on the budget yesterday.

In presenting the new budget, David Levinson, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, gave an optimistic report that a "substantial" boost in the county's equalized valuation by the state raised hopes the county tax rate of 5.62 for each $1,000 of valuation could be maintained.

★ ★ ★

The County Tax Allocation Board begins hearings in May.

The county budget study money will come from the 1960 contingent fund.

Arthur G. Elliott Jr., Pleasant Ridge supervisor, questioned whether it might not be wiser to conduct "an internal study" to see if county departments are spending as efficiently as they should.

★ ★ ★

"The important thing is that we make sure the services we render are resulting from the most efficient operation," Elliott said.

★ ★ ★

Levinson said the new study should bring this out.

County to Buy Road Building

Will Pay $148,000 for Offices, Adjacent Land Owned by Gulf Oil

Purchase by the county of the old Road Commission offices at 550 S. Telegraph Rd., and adjacent property owned by the Gulf Oil Corp., for $148,000 was approved by the Board of Supervisors yesterday.

★ ★ ★

No immediate determination was made as to what use the county would put the property.

Presently the building is occupied by the Department of Public Works, the Drain Commission and Planning Commission.

Funds to buy the property will come from the county's indigent housing fund.

★ ★ ★

The two-story building and one-story wing is currently being leased by the county from the Road Commission for $525 a month, according to David Levinson, chairman of the Board's Ways and Means Committee which made the recommendation.

★ ★ ★

Unanimous approval was given.

Students From Waterford Tour State Legislature

Seven busloads of Waterford Township junior high school students left the John D. Pierce School at 8 a.m. for a day-long tour of the State Legislature.

All 330 pupils are from the classes studying civics and Michigan history. They were scheduled to meet Gov. Williams.

★ ★ ★

The group will sit in the spectators' balcony of both the House of Representatives and the Senate, with a trip to the museum of arts concluding the tour.

★ ★ ★

Approximately 18 parents of the children accompanied the group, headed by Dr. Norman J. Whittkop, history teacher at Pierce Junior High.

Spring Gets in the Blood

Police Report High Jinks

The coming of spring-like weather yesterday was strongly evidenced in complaint sheets of the sheriff's and Pontiac police departments.

It was such a beautiful day for motoring that at least two area "motorists" couldn't resist the call of the open road.

★ ★ ★

City police reported the unidentified young men went shopping for a car at Cy Owens Used Car Lot, 147 S. Saginaw St. yesterday morning.

They took the auto for a "demonstration ride" around the block. It was a long ride. The two never returned and the car was recovered by police who found it abandoned in Birmingham last night.

A very young golfer needs practice on his swing. Jack Miller, 6, was evidently trying to imitate his father Tuesday when he swung the club and struck his older brother, Glen, 8, in the head.

★ ★ ★

Glen was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released. The Millers of Clairton, Pa. are visiting friends, Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Glenn of 185 S. Josephine St., where the accident occurred.

★ ★ ★

Most significant was the sharp rise in dog bites and lost children. There were seven dog bite reports and five children reported lost between the two departments.

There were reports of hot rodders, stolen bicycles, and miscellaneous juvenile disturbances to round out the first day of solid spring-like weather in the Pontiac area.

Round 'n' Round Ike'll Go—and..

... Places He Stops Continue to Grow; Korea Added

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—President Eisenhower plans to balance his trip to Russia in June with a substantially increased itinerary in the Far East, where the cold war sporadically erupts in gun fire.

★ ★ ★

Extension of his June trip to include a longer stay in Japan and a visit to South Korea was announced Tuesday simultaneously at the vacation White House, in Tokyo and Seoul.

When the June trip was announced Jan. 17, Russia dominated the plans and Japan appeared to be a brief stop on the way back to the United States.

Tuesday's announcement, however, showed that Eisenhower plans to devote virtually as much attention to the Far East as to the Soviet phases of his round-the-world mission.

The President will leave Washington in time to arrive in Moscow June 10. He will spend the next eight days in the Soviet Union.

The White House announced that "the President's visit to Japan, on the occasion of the Japanese-American Centennial would take place from June 19 to June 23.

"The President will also make a brief visit to the Republic of Korea on June 22 in response to a long-standing personal invitation of President Rhee with whom he will have an opportunity to discuss matters of common interest," the announcement said.

Eisenhower last visited Korea shortly after the 1952 election.

During the campaign leading up to that election, he announced dramatically that if chosen to occupy the White House, he would "go to Korea" in an effort to help end the then-stalemated war.

The White House said, "The President has long desired to revisit Korea where the United States has contributed so much to the role played by the United Nations in preserving Korean independence."

EXPECT TROOP VISIT

Officials in Washington said they expected the President to visit troops of his own country on the cease-fire line north of Seoul.

Diplomatic sources also pointed out that the Tokyo and Seoul visits would give the President an opportunity to try encouragement of Japan and Korea to compromise some of the sharp issues which have prevented the restoration of normal relations between the two countries and occasionally led to threats of armed conflict.

FAA Awards Contract

Homing Device Near for Airport

The Federal Aviation Agency has pushed forward in its plans to install a $250,000 electronic "homing device" for airplanes at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Homer D. Hoskins, airport manager, announced today that the agency has awarded a $25,775 contract to a Detroit firm to construct the small, circular building to house the elaborate electronic equipment on a Springfield Township site just 6½ miles northwest of the airport's main east-west runway.

The Detroit firm is Coromac Electric, Inc.

★ ★ ★

Hoskins said the construction should take about two months, beginning early in May.

★ ★ ★

He believes the federal government will have the electronic equipment — called a "Vortac unit" — in operation by the end of the year, just a few months after completion of the terminal building.

The Vortac project is being financed completely by the federal government, which plans to spot such units at hundreds of sites along major air routes throughout the country for safety purposes.

"This is a very important step forward for Pontiac and the airport," said Hoskins.

GREATER SAFETY

"The unit will complement the facilities of our own signal tower to insure an amount of safety and efficiency unknown at the airport up to now."

Vortac units, he explained, transmit radio signals that can be picked up by aircraft at a distance of 80-100 miles, depending on altitude.

"Pilots have only to tune their radios to these signals in order to know where they are and in what direction they are flying.

"This aid, obviously, is of great help in poor weather when the ground is obscured from the air."

When the Vortac here is working, aircraft will be able to follow its unique signal — "homing in" on it — until they reach the Pontiac area. At that point, they will be able to contact the Pontiac tower for landing instructions, Hoskins said.

★ ★ ★

In 1958 a total $280,000 in federal funds was earmarked for installation of Vortac here.

Federal officials have spent 18 months looking for a proper site, said Hoskins.

The site chosen is just east of Ormond road north of the Springfield Township line.

FCC Asks Test of UHF TV in New York City

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has asked Congress for money to build two ultra-high frequency (UHF) television stations in New York to find out whether UHF-TV will work in big cities.

★ ★ ★

One station would be located atop the Empire State Building and another 15 miles north.

Under the plan, disclosed in congressional testimony, the FCC would supply about 100 UHF sets, more advanced than those now on the market, to homes and apartments scattered strategically throughout the New York metropolitan area.

Viewers would compare UHF reception with that of existing very high frequency (VHF) stations.

The proposed experiment would cost $2,250,000 and run for two years. The TV networks would supply programs for the UHF stations.

The FCC told a House appropriations subcommittee the project would help determine whether unused UHF channels are capable of providing a nationwide television service.

Name Dr. Abruzzo Lapeer Home Head

LANSING (AP) — Appointment of Dr. Anthony M. Abruzzo as head of the Lapeer State Home and Training School was announced today by Charles F. Wagg, state mental health director.

★ ★ ★

Abruzzo, who will replace the late Dr. A. T. Rehn, will take over the post about May 1.

Now assistant medical director of the Wayne County Training School at Northville, Abruzzo, 48, has spent all of his medical career in Michigan except for a four-year stint with the Army psychiatric service from 1942 to 1946.

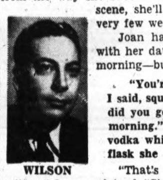
He formerly was employed as assistant superintendent in charge of the psychiatric division at Wayne County General Hospital. He is a graduate of Loyola University school of medicine in Chicago.

About 120,000 school buses are in use in the United States.

Crawford's Now Ready to Invade Television

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Joan Crawford, Public Energy No. 1, is going to tackle TV, which she has so long spurned, and judging from the way she swooshes through the New York glamour scene, she'll have it hollering for help in a very few week.



WILSON

Joan had been dancing cheek to cheek with her date, Aly Khan, at 1 a.m. the other morning—but they had to stop sometime.

"You're the workingest dame I know," I said, squatting beside Joan. "What time did you get up today?" "Six o'clock this morning." Joan sipped some 100-proof vodka which she'd poured from a plastic flask she always carries in her handbag.

"That's when I do my reading and letter-writing," Joan explained. "Six to 10. I already read the comics. They have better scripts than the movies. Then I called down for some fruit and jello. Then I went back to sleep for a half hour."

★ ★ ★

"How many hours sleep had you had?"

"About my usual four."

Now we were at the the Heart and Lung Ball at which she was queen—but at cocktail time I'd seen her on her feet 3½ hours as honor guest at Dorothy Strelsin's Shakespeare Festival reception. Joan had made a short speech there about "a new writer" (Shakespeare) and had then romped around as eagerly as a starlet helloing everybody.

JOAN

"Tell me about the rest of your day."

Joan allowed me to light her cigaret. "The maid was off so I cooked lunch for my secretary ... took care of the puppy dogs . . . had my lunch standing up—salad, cheese, and cold chicken—I washed my head and got dressed . . . went to the cocktail party with my hair still wet . . . then came home and got dressed for the ball. This is the first time today I've eaten sitting down. I can't wait to get my shoes off."

Joan held up the vodka flask.

"You can see how drunk I am," she nodded. "I've had two drinks out of it the whole evening."

"How many times did you dress today?" I asked.

"Only four!" she said.

Joan mentioned that she's about to make a TV deal with Dick Powell (the 6-Star Theater, with Powell, David Niven, Charles Boyer, Robert Ryan and one other star, each doing six filmed shows a year). She had to get to bed and then keep a 9 a.m. interview date with Fortune Magazine which was doing a story on her friend, Director George Cukor.

"I wish I had that energy," I said in true admiration. "But I don't drink vodka."

"I had that," Miss Crawford said, "before I ever even heard of vodka!"

★ ★ ★

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Herb Shriner met a fellow with a thirst for knowledge: "Well, actually, he'd drink anything." . . . That's earl, brother.

State Police Bill Awaits Signing

$13 Million Will Permit Hiring of 52 More Men, Up to Full Strength

LANSING (AP)—A bill providing a $251,000 increase in appropriations to finance state police operations in 1960-61 awaited Gov. Williams' signature today.

★ ★ ★

The measure, providing $26,288,000 for the state's various safety and defense programs, cleared the Legislature yesterday.

The $13,096,000 earmarked for state police will permit hiring of 52 troopers to return the force to full strength of 1,155.

But a request by Commissioner Joseph A. Childs for 100 additional troopers and another by Gov. Williams for 50 more both were turned down.

★ ★ ★

Vacancies in trooper ranks were not filled last year under the state's austerity program.

The bill also allows $230,000 in automatic step salary increases.

4 Warren Children Saved From Fire by 2 Policemen

WARREN (AP)—Four children were rescued by two policemen from their burning home here today.

★ ★ ★

Patrolmen Dennis Nizy and Charles Fox said they noticed a red glow in the sky as they were cruising in their patrol car.

Rushing to the scene, they broke into the house, groped through thick smoke and saved the four sleeping youngsters who had been left alone at home.

★ ★ ★

Saved were Leonard Larson Jr., 16, his brothers Leon, 8, and Lars, 7, and sister Laurie, 2.

Their father Leonard Sr. had left home earlier to pick up their mother at work.

Firemen said the blaze started in a garage behind the house. Flames caught onto the rear of the house, damaging the kitchen. The garage and an auto inside were destroyed, firemen said.

$50,000 Surplus in City Funds Foreseen

Firemen Eye Possible Budget Excess

There may be $50,000 or so extra in this year's budget and Pontiac firemen apparently have their eye on it as a source of possible wage hikes.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said that because of the nearly 4-million-dollar jump in the city's assessed valuation, $52,000 more than budgeted from tax collections could be raised at the present tax rate of $13.27 for each $1,000 valuation—the rate which the City Commission is pulling for again this year.

A group of firemen argued nearly an hour with the Commission last night over their demands for pay increases.

They now make $5,330 on the third-year level and have asked for $390 more during recent negotiating sessions arranged by state labor mediators.

The city's immediate answer, so far, is that an outside survey at an estimated cost of $2,000-$2,500 is to be authorized soon to compare wages of all Pontiac employes with those in other cities.

George Burklow, president of the Pontiac Fire Fighters Assn., maintained that the comparison should be limited to wage scales in Detroit and other metropolitan area communities.

"We don't want to be compared with outstate cities where the standard of living is lower. We want to be matched with communities in the metropolitan area, in the area where we have to exist financially."

★ ★ ★

Mayor Philip E. Rowston said the Commission would acceed to the firemen's request for a survey including towns of at least 25,000 population within a 25-mile radius of Pontiac. This would include high-paying Detroit.

★ ★ ★

But he maintained that a proper determination on the scope of the survey could only be made by a professional survey team.

The Commission agreed to let firemen discuss the survey in advance with the survey team and promised to take under consideration another request—that any pay increases this year be made retroactive to Jan. 1.

★ ★ ★

"Our ability to do this is determined, of course, by the survey results and the amount of money we have to spare," said Rowston.

★ ★ ★

City Manager Walter K. Willman has already indicated he will act on another request of firemen—that wage negotiations begin early enough in the year to be completed before the proposed budget is sent to the Commission towards the end of the year.

Policemen also are in the wage dispute, asking the same pay raises as firemen.

Tax on Stamps to Aid Treasury

To Bring In $500,000 Yearly; One Big Firm Accepts Ruling

LANSING (UPI)—State revenue commissioner Clarence Lock said today he did not expect much opposition from trading stamp companies to a ruling that redemption of stamps is subject to the sales tax.

The ruling came Monday from attorney General Paul L. Adams.

Lock said a spokesman for Sperry and Hutchinson (S&H) indicated the firm would accept the ruling.

"If there's much opposition I expect it will come from the smaller companies," Lock said.

Lock estimated that the ruling will mean more than $500,000 a year to the state treasury.

Customers will pay the 3 per cent tax at redemption centers.

No Pay for Play: State

LANSING (UPI)—A state employe discharged for misconduct is not entitled to retirement benefits, the attorney generals office has ruled. The employe is entitled to a refund on his accumulated savings in a state savings fund, the ruling added.

ISRAELI WOMEN MARCH — A women's military police group steps along toward Jerusalem in Israel's annual route march for military personnel and civilians. Women walked about 75 miles during the four days; the men covered about 100 miles. Some 5,000 competitors took part in the march, which ended with awards in the university stadium at Jerusalem.

Recording Phone Talks Not Wire Tapping: Court

LANSING (UPI) — Recording of a telephone conversation is not necessarily wire tapping, the State Supreme Court held Monday.

The court affirmed Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Gerald W. Groat in the 1957 extortion conviction of Moses Marganian, Detroit, who claimed, among other things, that the lower court erred in admitting in evidence telephone recordings not authorized by the sender.

★ ★ ★

"The recording in exact words of the voice or voices of those engaged in communicating the threats of injury to the victim by placing a recording device on the receiver's own telephone does not constitute wire tapping any more than would be the listening in on an extension phone," the high court said.

Doctor Seeks Drug Firm Curb

They Push Relatively Valueless Medicines, Some Unsafe, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Princeton, N.J., physician called today for tough new federal laws to curb what he denounced as vicious sales practices by drug manufacturers.

★ ★ ★

Dr. A. Dale Console said the pharmaceutical industry is foisting many "relatively worthless" but costly drugs and medicines on doctors and their patients with high pressure sales programs. He said some of the medicines are dangerous to the patients.

His testimony was prepared for public hearings by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee into pricing and other practices of drug firms.

★ ★ ★

Console said he knows what he is talking about, because he used to be in the drug business himself as medical director of a large pharmaceutical house which his statement did not name. The subcommittee said the firm was Squibb Laboratories.

"Restrictive legislation is necessary," Console said.

"I suggest with hesitation," he concluded, "the consideration of a central agency empowered to approve or disapprove the sale of drugs on the basis of objective evidence of efficacy and to ban misleading and ambiguous advertising and promotions" of drug preparations.

★ ★ ★

He said he could see dangers in this, too, but added: "I know of nothing more likely to generate the pressure necessary to persuade the industry to clean its own house."

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), is investigating allegations of profiteering, monopolistic practices and other abuses by the drug industry.

Negro Cardinal to Leave Hospital After Easter

ROME (UPI)—Doctors for Laurian Cardinal Rugambwa, the first Negro prince of the Church in modern times, said he should be well enough to leave the hospital a few days after Easter.

U.S. Lofts Navigation Aid Satellite

Space Signaler Could Play Key Military Role

Transit 1B Swings Into Orbit Using Unique Stop-Start Engine

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States launched a navigation aid satellite into successful orbit today.

The space messenger, a device with highly important military possibilities, was fired upward from this missile testing center at 7:03 a.m. (Pontiac time).

While the rocket engines were still pushing the satellite into the sky, tracking stations in the United States, Newfoundland, England and Germany began reporting strong radio signals from the satellite.

The 265-pound spherical payload, called Transit 1B, is designed to study the feasibility of using satellites as global, all-weather navigation stations.

Ships, planes and submarines receiving radio signals from a network of transits would be able to plot their positions to within one-tenth of a mile more simply and accurately than at present.

The two-stage launching vehicle, called Thor-Able-Star, rose smoothly from its pad.

Its second stage engine was geared to be stopped and restarted in flight in order to place the payload in a circular orbit about 500 miles high. This is the first such off-and-on engine flown by the United States. The Soviet Union is not known to have used anything comparable in its space shots.

The second stage was to ignite about two minutes 43 seconds after launch and burn for more than 4½ minutes before cutting off.

3RD IN OVER MONTH?

When the rocket reached an altitude of 500 miles, the engine was to ignite again and to inject the satellite into orbit.

If Transit 1B is successful, it will be the third major American space achievement in little more than a month. On March 11, Pioneer V, carrying man's first interplanetary communication system, winged into orbit about the sun. Tiros I, the weather-eye satellite that photographs clouds, followed.

Officials emphasized that Transit 1B is merely a test of equipment and theories that may be used in an operation system. Two or three more advanced test

Over 100 Sparked by Rubbish Blazes

Grass Fires Sear County

Careless burning of rubbish, fanned by winds up to 20 m.p.h. caused more than 100 grass fires throughout Oakland County yesterday, according to fire department reports.

In many sections, muddy back roads and fields hampered firemen trying to reach blazes that swept through thick woods and orchards.

Although buildings were threatened by swiftly spreading flames no personal property damage was reported.

The Pontiac Fire Department yesterday answered 34 grass fire alarms. Waterford Township had 19 fires, which resulted in hundreds of blackened acres, and Independence answered 15 grass fire calls.

★ ★ ★

Fire chiefs have urged residents not to burn rubbish in open wire baskets, or to burn raked up trash without first obtaining a permit from their community fire department.

They also ask that parents watch their small children who play with matches during the dry windy spring season.

Said Pontiac Fire Chief James R. White: "This is the worst time of the year for grass fires. Strong winds pick up sparks from the smallest fire and carry them into open, dry fields and can cause untold damage."

Pontiac Press Photo

A TYPICAL SCENE — Two Waterford Township firemen battle a grass fire on an 85-acre site behind the township's Community Center on Williams Lake road. This scene is typical of the many throughout the county as firemen were busy fighting grass fires yesterday and today. Dry grass, strong winds and careless burning of rubbish make the problem acute in the spring.

Stratton Wins GOP Position; to Face Kerner

Nixon Does Better Than Wisconsin Vote in Illinois Balloting

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton clinched nomination for a third term today, and Otto Kerner won the right to try to oust him in the November election.

Stratton is the state's No. 1 Republican leader while Kerner has the backing of the top Democratic chieftain, Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago.

The post-midnight count of unofficial returns from Tuesday's Illinois primary also showed that:

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, only entrant in the presidential preference feature, drew a complimentary vote that exceeded his 341,963 total in the April 5 Wisconsin primary. But it fell far short of the 781,710 rolled up by President Eisenhower in the Illinois primary in 1956.

★ ★ ★

Democrats outpolled Republicans in a relatively light vote of about 1,600,000.

Samuel Witwer, Chicago lawyer who was supported by Stratton and most GOP organizations, led the six-man race for the Republican nomination for U.S. senator in a close contest.

Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas was nominated for a third term without opposition. In incomplete returns he gathered more votes than Nixon.

Stratton earned the chance to become the first Illinois governor to be elected to three terms in a row by defeating State Sen. Hays Robertson.

Returns from 7,904 of the state's 9,980 precincts gave Stratton 352,425 and Robertson 237,898.

Kerner, former Cook County judge, swamped State Treasurer Joseph D. Lohman and Stephen A. Mitchell, former Democratic national chairman, in their party's gubernatorial test.

Returns from 7,256 precincts gave Kerner 498,781, Lohman 163,191 and Mitchell 126,983.

Nixon made no campaign in Illinois and his supporters put on no organized drive in his behalf. His was the only name on the ballot. Eisenhower had weak opposition four years ago.

Returns from 7,063 precincts gave Nixon 453,827. Sen. Douglas, in 6,871 precincts, had 630,367.

French Auto Millionaire's Grandson Kidnaped at Play

PARIS (AP) — Police today hunted a dark-haired man they said darted into a group of children at play and snatched up the grandson of millionaire auto manufacturer Jean-Pierre Peugeot for $100,000 ransom.

The kidnaper dropped a note as he fled, warning "especially do not warn the police. In 48 hours I will give you instructions."

The parents of the 4½-year-old boy, Eric Peugeot, said a man called them just before midnight demanding the ransom.

The Peugeot auto works is one of France's three largest.

Eric, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Peugeot, was kidnaped from the playground of a country club in suburban St. Cloud Tuesday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

The child and his brother, Jean-Philippe, 7, had lunched at the club with their grandparents. Then a governess and the family chauffeur took them to the playground.

The kidnaper snapped the lock on a gate, made his way down a path across a garden and into the playground.

The two Peugeot boys and a friend were playing in a sandbox. Before the startled governess and the chauffeur could intervene, the intruder snatched Eric up in his arms and ran off.

★ ★ ★

The kidnaper was described as a dark-haired man in a green sweater. He fled in a black automobile.

LAUNCH SEARCH

Police began a widespread search through St. Cloud, an area with many wooded, isolated sections on the outskirts of Paris. Teams with dogs and mobile radios patrolled the area.

The searchers were granted special powers for three days, exempting them from the necessity of search warrants.

The afternoon was damp and chilly, and the kidnaped boy was warmly dressed in a sweater and coat.

The Peugeot family is one of the oldest and most prominent Protestant families in France.

★ ★ ★

Jean-Pierre Peugeot, 63, is president of the Peugeot Automobile Corp. and several related firms which make up a huge industrial complex. His son Roland, 34, father of the missing child, holds administrative positions in the family companies.

★ ★ ★

Kidnaping for ransom is extremely rare in France. The last one on record was on Jan. 18, 1949, when Alain Sadovic was abducted at the door of his school in Paris. Three million francs—about $10,000—was demanded, but a day later police arrested the kidnapers and recovered the child.

Area Churches Will Join in Mourning Christ's Death

By MARY ANGLEMIER
Pontiac Press Church Editor

In commemoration of the last two days of Jesus Christ on earth, Christians the world over will gather in churches, chapels and cathedrals for centuries-old ceremonies.

Many congregations are observing Holy Thursday, also known as Maundy Thursday, with reception of new members and services of Holy Communion.

It was on this night over 1900 years ago that Jesus instituted the Sacrament of Holy Communion at the Jewish Feast of the Passover.

Annual Good Friday services sponsored by the Pontiac Pastor's Assn. will go from noon to 3 p.m. in Central Methodist Church with Dr. William H. Marbach of First Presbyterian Church presiding the first hour.

WILL READ SCRIPTURE

Dr. Joseph I. Chapman of Bethany Baptist Church will read the Scripture. The first word "Intercession," will be given by the Rev. Joseph W. Moore of Trinity Baptist Church.

Giving the word of "Repentance" will be Dr. H. H. Savage of First Baptist Church. Dr. Duncan D. McColl of First Christian Church will preside the second hour.

The Rev. Myron R. Everett of Baldwin Evangelical United Brethren Church will meditate on "Remembrance" and Dr. Milton H. Bank of the host church will speak on "Loneliness."

Presenting the word "Suffering"

The Heat's On, and We Love It —High Today, 68

Spring weather appears to have arrived in the Pontiac/area to stay.

After a high of 65 yesterday, the mercury was expected to climb to 68 today. And high temperatures for the next five days will be around 60, the weatherman promised.

Tonight's low will be a mild 52 with Thursday's peak predicted to be 64.

Mayor's Committee on Redevelopment Favors Master Plan

The Mayor's Steering Committee for downtown redevelopment has set $25,000 as a goal to help finance a master plan for redevelopment.

★ ★ ★

This figure was reached after David S. Geer, the city's planning consultant, estimated it would cost anywhere from $29,000 to $54,000 for a master plan, depending on how extensive it was.

The group met with Geer yesterday and expressed hopes that $50,000 could be raised for the plan, said Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager.

The group itself decided to raise half that amount from private sources, he said, while turning, probably, to the city to put up the other half.

★ ★ ★

Geer indicated his firm would be willing to undertake the plan, if the city desires.

He said that the final price depends on the type and number of separate studies the city decides are necessary to back up a plan.

The mayor named the group to guide plans to make downtown Pontiac more attractive as a shopping area.

As a first step, the committee has shown interest in a long-range plan for redevelopment, including suggestions for malls, new commercial sites, improved traffic and parking conditions.

Tear Gas Ends Insane Siege

Free Little Girl Hostage

By JACK WHITE

PULASKI, Va. (AP) — The 30-hour stand of a teen-age desperado, who swore he'd "go out in a blaze of glory in a tie and white shirt with blood on it," ended Tuesday night. Police dragged him shrieking from the home where he had held his young sister-in-law hostage.

The plucky 10-year-old girl, unharmed, said afterwards, "I wasn't scared."

A barrage of tear gas shells flushed Harless Hardin "Jackie" Jennings from the trim brick bungalow of his in-laws at 10:30 p.m. after a day that saw the siege range from terrifying to almost ridiculous.

Jennings came out firing wildly but ineffectually with a shotgun, pushing Barbara Butts out the door ahead of him.

"Duck, Barbara!" officers called an instant before they snatched her aside. Then Jennings, an 18-year-old unemployed mill hand, was overpowered, knocked down and pulled screaming down the walk to a state police car that whisked him to a mental hospital at Marion about 50 miles away.

★ ★ ★

Barbara, examined at a local hospital, showed no signs of injuries and seemed unruffled by her ordeal that began at 4:15 p.m., Monday.

That was when Jennings, who police said had served time in industrial schools in Virginia and Maryland, grabbed her after escaping from police as he was being taken to jail for unauthorized use of his father-in-law's car.

AP Photofax

'I WASN'T SCARED' — Barbara Butts, 10, was the hostage of her brother-in-law Jack Jennings, 18, for over 30 hours. Jennings and the girl were holed up in a house in Pulaski, Va. Police dragged him out wild and shrieking. Barbara said she wasn't scared.

Barbara said she had not been terrorized. "Jackie never hurt me."

Her eyes were red and puffy, although "I shut my eyes tight" when the tear gas was lobbed into her parents' home. She said Jennings gave her plenty to eat, mostly hot dogs and toasted cheese sandwiches.

The long siege reached a climax after Jennings balked at a second offer of psychiatric treatment made by a mental hospital director and a radio newsman.

Industrialist Backs City Charter Changes

"I personally plan to vote for the two charter amendments Monday and encourage others to do the same," a Pontiac industrialist and civic leader said today.

Robert S. Nelson, a Pontiac voter, is president of the Pontiac Manufacturers Assn.

ROBERT S. NELSON

"I feel that approval of both amendments would do much to improve the efficiency of our police department, reduce existing factionalism in the department and reduce departmental costs," he said.

"At the same time, all personnel would be assured of fair, impartial treatment."

Nelson gave these interpretations of the two amendments:

"Amendment No. 1 recreates a legally formed Police Trial Board of seven members appointed by the City Commission, whose function will be to establish regulations pertaining to the conduct of personnel, except for the police chief.

★ ★ ★

"I believe this amendment provides the necessary machinery to clarify the obligations and limitations in the relationship between the chief and other departmental personnel and assures all officers of complete fairness.

"Amendment No. 2 redefines the chain of command in the city departments and establishes the fire and police chiefs as heads of their departments on the same level as other departmental directors.

"The office of director of public safety is to be eliminated so that the fire and police chiefs will be directly responsible to the city manager.

"I believe this will provide a clear line of authority from the voters through the Commission to the city manager and eventually to the police chief, and will remove the costly and confusing status of the safety director and the trial board in this particular line of authority."

City Recreation Study Sought

Commissioners Asking Youth Committee for Facility Survey

City commissioners took a big—and obviously wholehearted—step last night in the direction of recreational facilities for young people.

Apparently prompted by the establishment of beatnik coffee houses here, they turned to the year-old Youth Assistance Committee and asked for a probe of inadequacies in recreational facilities.

If the committee accepts the task—more or less in the role of a "Youth Commission"—it will be charged with surveying present facilities and programs, determining needs and recommending solutions.

The idea was brought up by Dr. Joseph T. Chapman, pastor of Bethany Baptist Church, who was invited to speak by Commissioner Floyd P. Miles.

Dr. Chapman said that youths needs have been slighted in Pontiac and that it was of paramount interest for the citizenry to correct the deficiency.

"Recent events have pointed up the inadequacies," he said in an apparent reference to popularity of the coffee houses with teen-agers.

As background to his plea, it was pointed out that the city government sponsors no youth centers. Due to limited funds, Department of Parks & Recreation programs for youth are restricted mainly to afternoon programs at schools.

Dr. Chapman said that despite commendable programs by churches and civic groups, "we should have a better understanding of the problem on a citywide basis."

He said that young people themselves should be consulted, too.

Although the city's recreational budget is tight this year, it is possible that the commission may expand it next year.

Vote Disputed Funds for Township Work

With the help of some cross-over city supervisors, the Oakland County Road Commission yesterday was granted $100,000 for repair of township bridge projects, ending a two-year wait.

The Board of Supervisors voted 52-25 to transfer the nontax 1959 surplus funds for this work.

Pontiac's seven-member delegation voted 4-3 in favor, with Mayor Philip E. Rowston, L. Clare Cummings, and Edward C. Bloe opposing it.

Rowston said the transfer would set "a rather dangerous precedent." "This is spending city money for rural roads," Cummings said.

Rowston said the delegation was not pre-instructed how to vote.

Ferndale Supervisor Roy F. Goodspeed fought desperately—and nearly by himself—to block the transfer. He said it was "not right, not legal and not justified."

He said the money instead should be kept in the general fund—"where it came from originally"—and used to defer future county expenses, or possibly, he added, to counter any possible increase in the county tax rate.

What apparently sold supervisors who favored the appropriation were resolutions from two committees of the Board urging favorable consideration "in the spirit of fairness to all the taxpayers of Oakland County."

Goodspeed urged that townships—12 different ones will benefit from the hotly contested monies—are getting dollars which belong rightfully to the cities.

"You're asking one group of taxpayers (from cities) to assume what is the proper responsibility of another group (townships)," Goodspeed said.

The Road Commission in 1958 requested $104,000 to supplement lagging gas and weight tax rebates from the state. The $100,000 became available last December when auditors announced the fiscal year was closed out with $828,470 in nontax surpluses.

Cities already contribute 68 per cent to the state's gas and weight tax receipts, Goodspeed argued.

A township supervisor, Thomas C. Tiley of Commerce, countered by saying "you will find cities and villages are getting a lot of service that townships are helping pay for."

★ ★ ★

The new projects, which actually will consist of replacing inadequate bridges and adjoining drainage structures, "and other emergency purposes," are in:

Brandon, Groveland, Holly, Independence, Springfield, Oxford, Orion, Addison, Bloomfield, Farmington, White Lake and Tiley's Commerce Township. Individual project costs range from $2,200 to $18,000.

Beforehand, the debate had followed pretty much city-township lines.

Goodspeed last week circulated letters and petitions to follow urban representatives on the Board seeking their backing. He got 13 supporters including Rowston and Bloe. There are 59 city supervisors.

March Sales of GMC Trucks Best Since '55

GMC truck domestic retail deliveries in March totaled 7,915 vehicles, the best sales month since October 1955, according to Calvin J. Werner, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the GMC Truck and Coach Division.

GMC's March total was up 26.4 per cent over March a year ago compared to the industry increase of only 9.7 per cent, Werner said.

★ ★ ★

The GM executive attributed the strong upswing to customer enthusiasm over the 1960 GMC truck models which are powered by the new V6 gasoline engines.

Showroom traffic in GMC truck dealerships throughout the country has been in great volume as truck buyers go in to inspect the V6 engine, independent front wheel suspension and other new features, he said.

PUPILS' EASTER GIFT — At the inspiration of special education teacher Mrs. Mary McGinley, some 300 pupils at the Waterford Township Haviland School undertook a delicate project to brighten the Easter for children at Pontiac State Hospital. This brightly-colored pussy willow egg-tree was delivered to the hospital this morning. Peeking out from behind the branches is first-grader Vicky Calcote, 1245 Oregon St. Carefully passing one of the 300 decorations is third-grader Anthony Lange, 1006 Iroquois Rd.

Navigation Satellite Orbited by U.S.

transits will be launched later this year, with the first operational payload scheduled for 1961.

★ ★ ★

Development of an operational transit system of four satellites by 1962 is a major U.S. military goal.

It will be especially important to Polaris missile submarines and bombers carrying long range Hound Dog and Skybolt air-launched rockets. Quick, accurate information on position will be of great value in plotting missile trajectories from these launching platforms.

The first Polaris subs are expected to begin operating late this year. They will be able to use transit satellites to check their ship's inertial guidance system, which must be corrected periodically because of gyroscope drift.

USED ON BOMBERS

Hound Dog missiles, with a 500-mile range, now are being deployed on B52 bombers. The 1,000-mile Skybolt is scheduled for B52 and B58 bombers in 1962.

★ ★ ★

By studying signals from the satellite, scientists also will be able to gain a better idea of the exact shape of the earth and the precise distances between certain points. This would enable American land-based rockets like the Atlas to zero in more accurately on an enemy target.

★ ★ ★

Although Transit is primarily a military project, commercial shipping and airlines are expected eventually to make use of it.

Floyd Miles, District 4, Challenged by Bottom

A political newcomer is challenging the incumbent in the District 4 City Commissinn race.

Hoping to end incumbent Floyd P. Miles' six-year tenure in the district is Winford E. Bottom.

Miles, 51, of 160 W. Columbia, Ave., is seek his fourth two-year term.

Operator of a religious book, gift and supply store, Miles has been active in the affairs of First Baptist Church and is presently head of the mayor's special 14-member bus transportation committee.

Bottom, 35, of 174 Euclid Ave., is secretary-treasurer of Thomas Die & Stamping Co.

A naval veteran of World War II, he is a past president of the Pontiac Police Reserve Assn.

Campaign statements submitted to The Pontiac Press by the two candidates follow:

WINFORD E. BOTTOM

"It is my conviction that a successful commissioner must first have a sincere desire to serve the people and, second, must strive to lead and maintain a high moral standard in his community.

★ ★ ★

"In six years on the City Commission I have consistently worked towards those ends.

"District 4 is one of the fastest growing areas in the city and because of this our problems of paving, drainage and sewers have been many. These challenges have been met and a definite program is under way to meet these needs completely.

"With the development of Hawthorne Park and the playgrounds in the district we are expanding our recreational facilities.

★ ★ ★

"Our city is in splendid financial condition, and much of the credit for this goes to our city manager and his staff. With careful planning we are again this year maintaining the $13.27 tax rate.

"During the past two years, your City Commission has been faced with many unusual problems, not the least of which has been the Police Department.

★ ★ ★

"I believe there must be a direct chain of command established from the City Commission (elected by the people) to the city manager to the chief of police. To this end I encourage the citizens of Pontiac to vote "yes" on both amendments Monday."

"I am convinced that there is a great need for a change in our city government. A need that speaks for itself when the present conditions are reviewed and analyzed. Conditions that have allowed, in my opinion, the people of this city to suffer a tremendous loss — in money, name and respect, causing unnecessary embarrassment with our neighboring cities.

"This condition is due largely to an almost absolute unwillingness on the part of our present administration to solve pressing problems in a fair manner and with dispatch.

"I believe that a greater unity of purpose must be achieved among city officials if Pontiac is to become more and more progressive as the outstanding industrial city for its size in this country.

"It is the responsibility of those in public office to guarantee through proper planning and programming that the labor forces in our city's employ will lead the field in respect to wage scale, second to none in their respective fields of employment.

"Concerning the proposed charter amendments, I see no reason to support these changes, based upon the evidence made public and which I have undertaken to discover for myself. To me these amendments, if approved, would deprive our citizens of certain Constitutional rights which they must preserve."

Communion Will Be Emphasized

will be the Rev. J. E. VanAllen of First Church of the Nazarene.

The Day in Birmingham

Bloomfield Twp. Vote May Abolish 'Meeting'

BIRMINGHAM — Voters in Bloomfield Township will be asked to abolish the annual township meeting in the August primary election.

★ ★ ★

The decision to place the abolishment proposal on the ballot has been unanimously agreed upon by the seven-member Board of Trustees.

★ ★ ★

Township Supervisor Arno Hulet said the proposition was put before voters in 1956 and was turned down by a slim margin.

Following the annual meeting April 2, Hulet said, "These township meetings can be murderous." He was referring to how the 60 residents in attendance could decide what to do with nearly a half million dollars in the budget.

The annual meetings are called every year by state law and give voters a free hand in running the government.

The Holy Week calender of the Congregational Church of Birmingham includes Maundy Thursday service tomorrow at 8 p.m., with the ancient Tenebrae Service by the Board of Deacons and Deaconesses.

New members will be received into the church during this service.

A pot luck supper and meeting for the Franklin Cemetery Assn. officers and the Ladies Auxiliary will be held tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Currin, 26630 Captains Lane, Franklin.

New officers of the Birmingham Alumnae chapter of Alpha Xi Delta will be installed at 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. John W. Opel, 2910 Middlebury Rd.

Two Commissioners, re-elected last week in Bloomfield Hills, were named mayor and mayor pro tem last night.

★ ★ ★

Elected to the top posts by fellow Commissioners were Henry L. Woolfenden, mayor, and James A. Beresford, mayor pro tem.

★ ★ ★

Woolfenden, who served as mayor pro tem last year, succeeds Lyman J. Craig.

Antony Arrives; Takes His Place in Wax Museum

LONDON (UPI) — Antony Armstrong-Jones, fiance of Princess Margaret, soon will take his place among the immortals in Madame Tussaud's Wax Museum.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the famous exhibition said the model of Armstrong-Jones in full evening dress is standing "in a characteristic pose with his hands clasped behind his back."

The spokesman said Armstrong-Jones spent some time in the Tussaud studios while preparing a book on London. The model was based on photographs.

HARD OF HEARING

BUZZING—RINGING—HEAD NOISES

Hardened excess ear wax can clog the outer ear canal, cause hard of hearing, buzzing, ringing, muffled noises.

Now you can remove this deep down wax by the new WAX-OUT method. Soothing oils gently loosen wax and by use of a simple syringe float it out. It relieves pressure—itching—and gives your ears a fresh, clean feeling. Get WAX-OUT today in the new, easy-to-use squeeze a drop bottle, on sale for $1.39

Coy Adlai Gets Ready — Just in Case

ta3 eesszyy JL13

By ARTHUR EDSON

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) —Adlai Stevenson is still playing it coy.

★ ★ ★

He won't say yes, and he won't say no—at least not so, positively —to this simple question:

Are you or aren't you interested in having the Democrats nominate you for president again this July?

★ ★ ★

Stevenson has been back in this country for only three days after nine weeks in South America. Already he has held a half dozen press conferences and has been buttonholed by a score of reporters anxious for the story behind the story.

★ ★ ★

In all these that have come to light he consistently has answered: He doesn't plan to lift a finger to gain the nomination. He neither seeks nor expects to be his party's choice for the third straight time.

Which brings us to his speech Tuesday night at the University of Virginia: He lambasted the Republican administration as enthusiastically as he ever did while running in 1952 and 1956.

As one journalist put it: "If this isn't the speech of a candidate, what is it?"

★ ★ ★

This reporter has spent two days following Stevenson about the pleasant Virginia countryside where so much of our history was written.

Repeatedly there were variations of this scene: He was leaving Monticello, the magnificent home of Thomas Jefferson, when a woman tourist called out, "Mr. Stevenson, I want to vote for you."

Stevenson laughed and said: "I'm afraid you're four years too late."

But if he expects no political miracles, he also acts like a man who would like to be ready in case one should come along.

A university gathering isn't usually the forum for throwing political haymakers, but Stevenson got around this cleverly.

The University of Virginia was founded by Jefferson, and Jefferson was, of course, one of our most astute politicians.

Well, Stevenson had Jefferson looking at the present day situation and being upset about the way the Republican administration is running things.

"He would see," Stevenson said of Jefferson, "that our national leadership has not prepared us for the tasks of this searching century. Too often—and I wish I could call Jefferson as a witness —our leadership has been hesitant and half-hearted, and has concealed from us the nature and dimensions of the crisis."

Repeatedly, Stevenson stressed that this nation is losing out to the Communists of the Soviet Union and China, and that the Eisenhower administration is responding with slogans rather than action.

★ ★ ★

"Our leaders tell us in effect," he said, "that if we can just balance the budget and produce more consumer goods, the Soviet challenge will somehow disappear.

"This is dangerous. It is impossible to spend years traveling around the world, as I have, without a disquieting awareness of the thrust and purpose of Soviet society."

Louisiana Governor Looks Ahead

Earl to Run Again in '64

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Gov. Earl Long, 64, announced yesterday that he will run for the governorship again in 1964 and got a standing ovation from state labor leaders.

Long, who battled his way out of three mental hospital wards last summer, disclosed his intention to seek re-election in addressing a session of the Louisiana AFL-CIO Labor Council annual convention.

He tossed off a remark about a recent investigation of his income taxes and another offering "the right advice" to the man who apparently will succeed him.

He accepted an introduction by Labor Council President Victor Bussie by admitting:

"Even though Bussie put it on kinda strong, he's pretty near right."

'ONE OF GREATEST'

Bussie had described him as "one of the greatest humanitarians, one of the greatest friends the working man ever had in the state of Louisiana."

He said Jimmie Davis, Democratic candidate for governor and therefore nearly assured of election, "will make a fine governor if he accepts the right advice.

★ ★ ★

"I'll be glad to help him if I'm called upon,' Long continued. "Otherwise, I'll be at my pea patch at Winnfield, resting up for four years from now."

Rousing Welcome Greets Nasser in Pakistan

DACCA, Pakistan (UPI) — President Nasser of the United Arab Republic was given a rousing reception Tuesday when he arrived from Karachi.

He received a salute from a detachment of the Pakistan army and an ovation from a big crowd gathered at the airport.

Thousands of others lined the route on his drive to the city.

SENTENCED — Embezzler John R. Hendrickson, multimillionaire heating contractor, was sentenced Monday to 25 years in prison. He was convicted in Los Angeles of embezzling $3,714,610 from a Long Beach bank. It's one of the biggest swindles in U. S. history.

For Years of Service

Laud Three Supervisors

A former Pontiac supervisor and two from Royal Oak, who served a total of 69 years on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors before they retired in January, received certificates of merit yesterday.

But only W. Raymond Ransom, former Pontiac assessor, was on hand to receive the accolade from his fellow supervisors with whom he once served 25 years.

Missing were Fred W. Smith, who spent 28 years, and H. Lloyd Clawson, 16 years, both from Royal Oak. Their plaques will be sent to them.

Retiring supervisors who serve 15 or more years receive like certificates of merit.

"It is with mixed feelings that we give you this award," said senior Royal Oak Supervisor William C. Hudson to Ransom. "We will miss you on this Board and possibly you will miss us."

HELD IN MURDER PLOT — Mrs. Henrietta Sidelinger was arrested in San Francisco Monday night and booked on suspicion of hiring a college student to murder her divorced son-in-law, attorney Alfred B. Britton Jr. Two police inspectors said they followed her to the home of 20-year-old Bruce Benner where they tape-recorded her offer of $2,000 to Benner to shoot Britton.

Waterford Circulars Mailed

Urge Youth Park Backing

More than 2,500 circulars are being mailed in Waterford Township this week, urging support of Lakeland Optimist Club's Youth Park on Crescent Lake Road.

★ ★ ★

In a long-range program, the group plans two baseball fields, basketball courts, horseshoe courts, shuffle board, a football field and installation of all types of playground equipment.

Chairman of the project, John McGrath, said cooperation of the entire community is needed to help project the over-all plan.

This includes individuals as well as civic organizations, he said.

SOUGHT PROJECT

After looking around for some worthy project to benefit youth, the year-old Optimist Club found there was a great need for park facilities for boys and girls.

An agreement whereby the township donated 10 acres for park development has resulted in extensive land clearing.

By the time Little League baseball teams are set to play, it is hoped that the park will also be ready, McGrath said. Fred Pankey is cochairman.

Many top business officials as well as organizations have pledged support to get the park started.

However, many more dollars are needed to make the "dream become a reality," McGrath stated.

Both he and Pankey will supply any additional information.

Ferde Grofe to Launch San Francisco Suite

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Ferde Grofe will conduct the San Francisco Symphony in the world premiere of his "San Francisco Suite" here April 23.

Grofe, composer of "Grand Canyon Suite" and "Mississippi Suite," was commissioned a year ago by the San Francisco Symphony Assn. to write a musical work depicting the city.

Gives MIT $1½ Million

CAMBRIDGE, MASS. (AP)—An anonymous donor has given Massachusetts Institute of Technology a 1½-million-dollar pledge for construction of a women's dormitory, President J. A. Stratton announced. The building will be the first on-campus women's residence.

ROYAL FAMILY — Japanese Crown Prince Akihito looks down on his son Prince Hiro who is held by his mother Princess Michiko at the Imperial Palace in Tokyo. The child was born Feb. 23 and is a direct heir to the throne.

Enslaved by Labor Savers: Sociologist

U.S. Women Called Educated Drudges

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Our society has ruthlessly—at best, unthinkingly—handed down to the American woman a curious life sentence: educition plus hard labor.

Before marriage, she is trained to think.

After marriage, community pressure forces her to work. And the more so-called "labor-saving devices" she has, the longer hours she is expected to work.

"And you can't hold a book and a baby at the same time, nor can you hold a book and vacuum cleaner at the same time," says Dr. Margaret Mead, one of our top sociologists. "You could listen to the radio and hold a vacuum cleaner, but there is so little stimulation on the radio these days."

It is strange anomaly, Dr. Mead says—this matter of owning "labor-saving devices."

★ ★ ★

"They save your back (I don't think the modern American woman's back hurts) but they take all your time. In the days when we had servants and less efficient washing machines, the servants did the family wash once a week. Now that we have good washing machines and no servants, the housewife washes clothes once a day.

"The better the gadget, the more you work it."

Solution? Dr. Mead said, "Well, women could stop having so many little children at once. And they could stop using the machine so blasted often."

COMMUNITY PRESSURE

But it's not easy, because "there is a great deal of community pressure on women to do their own work. In a neighborhood where the men make between $12,000 and $15,000 a year, it's often 'incorrect' for a woman to have more help than one cleaning woman once a week.

"This social pressure is so strong that one couple I heard about, who liked to dine out occasionally, went into elaborate explanations to keep the wife from being criticized. They would consistently explain to the neighbors that they were just out driving—and their child got so hungry they simply had to stop at a restaurant."

The long hours she spends over hot pushbuttons gives the American woman a sense of guilt about her education. She feels she should be thinking more. Even if she has a job, Dr. Mead points out, it usually is "a job below the level of her education," thus doing little to absolve her guilt.

However, if she provides herself with leisure time to think and read and study, she is equally guilty. "Idleness is a taboo in this country. So is daydreaming."

This should not be. Dr. Mead has written an article in the upcoming 75th anniversary issde of Good Housekeeping, in which she points out that the foundations of a woman's womanliness are formed in childhood. These memories are the mental images she carries into adult life—shaping her thoughts and attitudes.

'LIFE MOVES TOO FAST'

If she can bring these memories —"which are her daydreams"— into focus after she is married, she will have a sense of security. But life moves too fast, "so everybody tends to cut off from the past. So the sources of her meditation are cut off at the root and although her hands are busy, there is nothing to feed her imagination.

"She has served—out of loving, dutiful desire to be a good wife and mother—many of the deeper roots which bound her as a child to the natural world around her, to the wider world, to God.

"Without a sense of security in the past, she clings too closely to the present, dreads her children's growing up, her husband's aging. Having learned throughout her life to be a woman, she now forgets that she is also a person and has a tradition and background as a person."

Life is just too busy, with those do-it-yourself time-savers that consume a woman's day. It is interesting to stop for a moment and wonder: Whatever happened to that precious time a woman used to devote to shelling a bag of peas . . .

The town of Ystradgynlais in South Wales makes about 20,000 watches and 5,000 clocks a week.

Kennedy Raps Administration

'Has Only Leaned on Policies Set Up by Roosevelt Truman'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Soviet Union's economy is expanding seven times as fast as the United States', yet the Eisenhower administration does nothing about it, claims Sen. John F. Kennedy.

The Democratic presidential candidate from Massachusetts told the Operating Engineers Union Tuesday that the next chief executive will face more problems and more difficult decisions than any of the past 10 yedrs.

The Eisenhower administration's chief function has been administering programs initiated by Democratic presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman, Kennedy said.

Meanwhile "the nation's housing steadily deteriorates, large city populations live in slums, and women laundry workers in the South work for 65 cents an hour," said Kennedy.

Kennedy said the U.S. economy is growing at the rate of 1½ per cent a year compared with 10 to 12 per cent in the Soviet Union. AFL-CIO President George Meany warned against getting an impression that "everything is rosy. There are five million unemployed."

Pending Rates, Private Planes

To Dig Into Talks, Trips 'Twixt Firms and FPC

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House investigating subcommittee will delve into informal contacts between Federal Power Commission members and representatives of some of the companies they rgulate.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) transferred from the House Commerce Committee to its investigating arm, the Legislative Oversight subcommittee, a hearing on off-the-record talks a gas firm attorney had with three FPC members over a pending case last fall.

★ ★ ★

The attorney is Thomas G. Corcoran, former New Deal brain truster now retained by Tennessee Gas Transmission Co.

★ ★ ★

Ordering hearing May 2, Harris directed the subcommittee staff to "fully develop all the facts in connection with this and related matters." He did not say what he meant by related matters.

A short time later, FPC Chairman Jerome K. Kuykendall confirmed that he and two other commission members flew to Louisiana last month in the private plane of another gas pipeline company which is seeking rate increases.

The round trip to Shreveport, La., was made to attend the funeral of FPC Commissioner John B. Hussey, who died March 17, Kuykendall said. The plane was provided by United Gas Pipeline Co. of Shreveport, the nation's largest in volume of gas carried.

"I do not apologize at all," Kuykendall said. "We went to give aid and comfort to the family of a dear friend." He said use of the private plane was accepted after a check within the FPC office indicated the commissioners would not be able to obtain commercial airline connections "in time to be there for the rosary service Friday night."

Kuykendall said he and Commissioners Arthur Kline and Frederick Stueck made the trip and added that "If I had to do it over again, I'd do the same thing."

Chou En-lai Off to Mend Fences

Red Chinese Upsetting South Asia So Premier Will Try His Charm

TOKYO (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai set out today on a three-nation South Asian tour designed to mend fences damaged by Red China's actions in Tibet and border disputes with her neighbors.

The 61-year-old Communist premier will need all of his suave charm on his visits to Burma, India and Nepal.

★ ★ ★

Communist suppression of the uprising in Tibet shocked many Asians who formerly were apologists for the Peiping regime. Movement of Chinese troops into territory India considered her own infuriated the Indians. News that the Chinese now are claiming Mt. Everest upset the Nepalese, who take great pride that their little kingdom is the home of the world's highest mountain.

★ ★ ★

High point of the tour will be talks next week in New Delhi between Chou and Indian Prime Minister Nehru on their dispute over 51,000 square miles of Himalayan territory between India and Tibet.

Nehru already has put a damper on the meeting by expressing doubt that it would lead to any immediate solution of the dispute.

★ ★ ★

At stake are 36,000 square miles in the Ladakh area of Kashmir. Chinese forces have penetrated into both tracts despite India's contention they have long been Indian territory. In border clashes last year, 12 Indian policemen were killed.

Peiping recently concluded agreements with Burma and Nepal easing their border disputes.

Prof. Fears U.S. 'New' and 'Good'

'Obsolescence Breeds Peril'

NEW YORK (AP)—The American national habit of always buying the latest may be the country's downfall in the production race with Russia, an economist warned today.

* * *

Unless Americans learn the difference between the "new" and the "good," Prof. Robert Lekachman warned, wasteful "planned obsolescence" in our durable consumer goods production will sap the strength of our economy and society and let the Communists overtake us.

Lekachman teaches at Barnard College of Columbia University.

One of the worst things about making a national habit of buying things only because they are new, Lekachman said, is that it makes technological progress our master instead of our servant.

WASTE TALENT

"Too many of the best trained and most talented members of our advanced society earn their excellent living by persuading fellow citizens they are really discontented with serviceable commodities they already possess," Lekachman wrote recenly in "Challenge," New York University's economic affairs magazine.

Planned obsolescence doesn't always work out the way auto designers and the Madison avenue hucksters hope it will, he said.

He pointed to the "tail-fin recession" that accompanied the debacle of 1958 auto models.

"Planned obsolescence increases business hazards because it attaches big risks to consumer wants that aren't really pressing," Lekachman said.

Because innovation has done so much to make life better in the United States, it is natural for Americans to have a great faith in innovation, the professor said.

It is time we learned to discriminate in innovation—to distinguish between the "new" and the "good"—and stop "yearning after tinsel gods," he said.

CAN'T GIVE ADVICE

Lekachman was asked what he would tell a manufacturer faced with the dilemma of planning obsolescence or having no market for his product next year.

"I can't advise the manufacturer," he said. "But we do need to allocate a vastly larger proportion of our resources, including our best brains, away from making and selling consumer goods into the professions—especially teaching—and services which can make our world better to live in."

He pointed out that the Communists allocate a vast proportion of their resources and brain power to basic research, basic production and to teaching and other professions.

* * *

The professor said he thought Americans would have to face an early struggle on this issue.

Ontario OKs Soo Bridge

$18,500,000 Span to Link Nations; Set for Completion in 1962

TORONT O(UPI) — A bill proving for financing of a $18,500,000 toll bridge connecting Sault Ste Marie, Mich., and Sault Ste Marie, Ont., was given royal assent in the Ontario Legislature Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

The bill was given third and final reading in the House and received royal assent from Gov. J. Keiller MacKay as the House prorogued until next November.

The 1,200-foot bridge across the St. Mary's River will be financed by the governments of Ontario and Michigan and the International Bridge Authority.

The bridge will provide a vital link in the chain that connects the people in the midwestern United States to Northern Ontario.

Ontario officials expect that when the bridge is completed in 1962 it will attract thousands of U.S. tourists to Canada.

★ ★ ★

Terms of financing are that the bridge authority will sell $17,435,250 worth of revenue bonds. U.S. sources will finance $8,200,000 worth of series A tax exempt bonds and Ontario will purchase $9,235,250 worth of series B bonds for $7,849,750.

The bridge will operate on a toll-free basis once the bonds are retired in several years.

★ ★ ★

Ontario will pay about $8,100,000 for construction on the Canadian side of the international boundary and the State of Michigan will pay about $3,501,000 for approaches on the U.S. side.

CFM in Rochester Will Meet Tuesday

ROCHESTER — The Rochester chapter of Citizens for Michigan will probably take its first action as a group at its next meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in St. Phillip's Episcopal Church, according to Christopher Boyle, chapter president.

★ ★ ★

The state committee has given priority to the constitutional revision question and has requested that local chapters do the same.

★ ★ ★

It is the chapter president's hope that Tuesday night local members will be able to resolve their views so that recommendations can be formulated and submitted to the state committee.

Veterans' Affairs Has Information on Pension Law

Persons who are eligible and wish to be considered for pension under a new veterans pension law which becomes effective July 1 have been asked to contact the Oakland County Department of Veterans' Affairs.

The department has offices at 1 Lafayette St. in the County Court House Office Building, Pontiac, and at 111 S. Troy St., Royal Oak.

The new law permits payments to widows and children of deceased veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict, even if the veteran didn't have a service-connected disability in existence at the time of death, as required by the present law.

The new law also applies to World War I veterans in some instances, according to Floyd E. Cremer, director of the department.

Noted Detroit Organist Dies of Heart Attack

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Marguerite Werner, 64, a former radio and theater organist, died of a heart attack at her home Monday.

She was the wife of Eduard Werner, president of the Detroit Federation of Musicians.

Born Marguerite Elfner in Jackson, she studied the pipe organ while in high school and was organist for the First Congressional Church in Jackson during her senior year. She moved to Detroit in 1917.

The Road to Faith . . . by Will Oursler

Does It Matter What We Call Him? God Is a Fact

Chapter Thirty-Seven

Yes, however high we reach in our climb up the mountain toward the attainment of religious faith, the voices of doubt and confusion and disbelief and challenge and their echoes will come up from below.

But there will be other, more knowing voices penetrating across to us from high levels of faith in other lands and other times, voices that cry out with truth, even though they speak with different words and other names.

There come such words as those of the Hindu deity recorded in the Bhagavad-Gita:

"For I am the Creator of the universe—likewise as I the dissolution of the universe. Higher than I, there is naught. All the objects of the universe depend upon Me, and are sustained by Me . . ."

We are reached by a thought of Brother Lawrence, a man of religious and spiritual force in the 17th Century, who wrote:

"Let all our business be to know God; the more one knows Him, the more on desires to know Him. And as knowledge is commonly the measure of love, the deeper and more extensive our knowledge shall be, the greater will be our love; and if our love of God be great, we shall love Him equally in grief and in joy."

We hear the voice of a Tibetan lama, telling of his religion and beliefs and pointing out the great truth: "There is a God, a Supreme Being. What does it mattter what we call Him? God is a fact . . ."

And there is One Great Voice above all, whose words reach our immortal lives and meaning, vibrant through space and time:

"Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock:

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.

"And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man which built his house upon the sand:

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it.

"And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these sayings, the people were astonished at his doctrine :

"For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes."

Listening, we have a pervading sense of power that is of us and yet is not of us.

We have surrendered ourselves to something beyond ourselves, to the ultimate good, and in so doing we begin to be aware of the fulfillment of the spiritual Self within each of us, the realization of that Self in every aspect of our lives.

Bomb Threat Breaks Up Nashville Demonstration

By The Associated Press

A new maneuver—the anonymous bomb threat—broke up a Negro sit-down demonstration against segregated lunch counters in a Nashville, Tenn. department store.

★ ★ ★

Police and firemen, acting quickly Tuesday after receiving a telephone tip that a bomb was in the building, cleared customers and sit-downers from McLellan's, a variety store. No bomb was found.

The sit-down touched off scattered racial incidents which resulted in the arrest of two white persons and five Negroes.

★ ★ ★

Negro college students, for the second consecutive day, took seats at eating facilities at several department, drug and variety store lunch counters. None was served.

★ ★ ★

At McLellan's, hundreds of Easter shoppers jammed the area as the Negroes sat down. A taunting crowd of white persons forced them to move on but not before white youths grabbed anti-segregation signs and punched a Negro demonstrator. A group of 50 white youths beat a Negro who hurled a drink bottle into the crowd from a second-story window. Policemen dispersed the crowd.

★ ★ ★

A bomb threat figured in an incident at Montgomery, Ala.

★ ★ ★

Pat Patterson, 35-year-old Canadian, was charged with disorderly conduct after an anonymous telephone caller told The Associated Press in New York that bombs would explode in Montgomery high schools.

★ ★ ★

The tip was relayed to police in the Alabama city and Patterson was picked up at a hotel. He was quoted as saying he made the call to get sympathy for Negroes in the South.

In Little Rock, Ark., Negroes invaded eating facilities at two chain variety stores and two locally owned department stores. There were no disturbances and no arrests.

Law Requires Shot Statement

All School Children Must Have Proof or Reason for Refusal

LANSING (UPI)—A compulsory check on immunization of all kindergartners was in effect in Michigan today.

The measure was signed into law by Gov. G. Mennen Williams Tuesday, exactly five years after the announcement of the effectiveness of polio vaccine.

The act requires all children entering school for the first time to bring statements signed by physicians showing they have had polio shots and have been vaccinated against diptheria, smallpox, whooping cough and lockjaw.

The bill encourages more than it requires. Parents not wishing to have children immunized because of religious or other reasons must send along statements explaining why.

"This legislation is comparable in importance to the discovery of the (polio) vaccine itself," said State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis. "After all, until it gets into children's arms, it is useless."

The only Civil War battle fought in Arizona took place in 1862 at Picacho Pass, southeast of Phoenix.

He'll Try to Torpedo Bagwell

Sen. Morris Arms His Battlewagon

By GEORGE WEEKS

LANSING (UPI)—Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) figures on using a torpedo to sink Paul D. Bagwell's chances of becoming governor.

Ex-bomber pilot Morris said he will mount a torpedo on his car to symbolize his gubernatorial campaign, which he said is built around his leadership in the successful drive to scuttle the income tax last year.

The presence of Morris in the primary promises to spotlight the income tax issue.

"Two years ago I said a state income tax would be passed only over my dead body," Morris said in a Kalamazoo speech Thursday night. "And I'm not in the cemetery yet."

★ ★ ★

On the same night, Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, one of four candidates in the Democratic race for the gubernatorial nomination, referred to the Republican race for the nomination as involving "no-income tax Morris and any-tax Bagwell."

The Democratic candidates have rallied behind the income tax as the best solution to Michigan's recurrent fiscal troubles.

Only one issue, staging of a constitutional convention, has brought much difference in policy among Democrats.

Democrats are being especially kind to one another in an attempt to avoid party splits.

★ ★ ★

Not so with Republicans, who already have a sizable split among liberal and conservatives.

Morris, without mentioning Bagwell's name refers to "espousal of the income tax cause by some so-called liberal Republican leaders outside the Legislature, which included advocacy of a payroll tax."

He also has talked of Republicans who "pussyfoot around" with income taxes.

Bagwell, who is recovering from surgery on his right knee, denies he is an income tax advocate.

"I took a position back at the (1959) convention that the people should have an opportunity to express themselves on the sales tax," Bagwell said.

"I said if Democrats block this—(as they did)—as an alternative to the governor's stiffly graduated personal income tax, I would recommend a low, flat-rate income tax."

Bagwell is expected to formally announce his candidacy at a dinner April 29.

Red Ivan Woos 'My Fair Lady' —in Ticket Rush

MOSCOW (AP)—Tickets went on sale Thursday for the musical "My Fair Lady." Muscovites promptly formed a long line at the box office to pay the highest prices ever charged here for seats. Admission for the internationally acclaimed hit is 65 rubles, almost twice the regular top price for a seat at the Bolshoi Ballet. (At the official exchange rate 65 rubles is worth $16.25, at the more realistic tourist rate it is $6.50).

One reason for the high price of tickets is the cost of transporting the show from the United States. Seventy-two tons of scenery, including two revolving stages, are due here tomorrow in five planes, the largest peacetime airfreight operation between the United States and Russia.

The musical is based on "Pygmalion" by George Bernard Shaw, whose plays are popular in the Soviet Union. It will be presented by an American road show company in English.

★ ★ ★

Moscow newspapers told of the musical's history as a smash hit in cities around the globe and hailed next Monday's Moscow opening as "another link in the cause of strengthening cultural ties between the United States and the Soviet Union."

★ ★ ★

The show opens at the Soviet Army Central Theater for three weeks and then travels to Leningrad for a two-week stand and a week in Kiev.

Jet Flies 'Longest' Trip With Hound Dog Missile

ELGIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla., (AP)—A B52G jet bomber flew 10,800 miles nonstop to the North Pole and back as a prelude to launching a Hound Dog missile Tuesday.

The missile was fired from under a wing of the eight-jet bomber over the Atlantic test range from Cape Canaveral, Fla. It streaked several hundred miles downrange and landed in the Atlantic.

The 22-hour plane trip was described as the longest flight made by a bomber carrying the air-to-ground missile.

Iceland Ambassador Hops Into U.N. Race

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The surprise entry of Iceland's Ambassador Thor Thors threatened today to complicate the race for the presidency of the U.N. General Assembly this fall.

★ ★ ★

Thors, whose U.N. career dates back to 1946, tossed his hat into the ring in a letter to all delegations signed by Foreign Minister Gudmundur I. Gudmundsson of Iceland.

His candidacy turned the campaign—which already has generated interest earlier than any other in U.N. history — into a three-man contest.

First to announce was Ireland's Ambassador Frederick H. Boland. He was followed quickly by Jiri Nosek, deputy foreign minister of Czechoslovadia.

★ ★

Boland, endorsed by the United States and Great Britain, carried the backing of most of the Western powers.

His opposition from the Soviet-backed Nosek, however, was expected to be stiff. And Thors' entry into the race made Boland's problem more difficult.

FCC Asks Test of UHF TV in New York City

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has asked Congress for money to build two ultra-high frequency (UHF) television stations in New York to find out whether UHF-TV will work in big cities.

* * *

One station would be located atop the Empire State Building and another 15 miles north.

Under the plan, disclosed in congressional testimony, the FCC would supply about 100 UHF sets, more advanced than those now on the market, to homes and apartments scattered strategically throughout the New York metropolitan area.

Viewers would compare UHF reception with that of existing very high frequency (VHF) stations.

The proposed experiment would cost $2,250,000 and run for two years. The TV networks would supply programs for the UHF stations.

The FCC told a House appropriations subcommittee the project would help determine whether unused UHF channels are capable of providing a nationwide television service.

Name Dr. Abruzzo Lapeer Home Head

LANSING (AP) — Appointment of Dr. Anthony M. Abruzzo as head of the Lapeer State Home and Training School was announced today by Charles F. Wagg, state mental health director.

* * *

Abruzzo, who will replace the late Dr. A. T. Rehn, will take over the post about May 1.

Now assistant medical director of the Wayne County Training School at Northville, Abruzzo, 48, has spent all of his medical career in Michigan except for a four-year stint with the Army psychiatric service from 1942 to 1946.

He formerly was employed as assistant superintendent in charge of the psychiatric division at Wayne County General Hospital. He is a graduate of Loyola University school of medicine in Chicago.

About 120,000 school buses are in use in the United States.

BACK AT WORK — Tuesday Weld, one of several thousand film actors and actresses idled for a month by the Screen Actors Guild strike, gets her make-up adjusted by make-up man Ted Coodley as she prepares to go back to work Monday. She is in "High Time," one of four pictures interrupted at 20th Century-Fox by the strike.

Priceless Crop Near Harvest

By HAL BOYLE

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—It's about harvest time in the meadows of learning.

* * *

America's greatest spring crop—its college graduating classes—is matured and ready to seek its own place in the golden granary of time. The 1960 crop looks like a record one in terms of both quantity and quality.

BOYLE

Critics of our younger generation might feel better about our nation's future if they would take the trouble right now to go and see how these "hopes of tomorrow" really measure up.

I did just that the other day during a visit here to the University of North Carolina, which has won over the years an enlarging recognition as one of the great pastures of the mind and spirit. Its academic luster is not merely regional; it sheds a national glow.

Chapel Hill has always had a tradition of relaxed freedom and wide culture, and the late Thomas Wolfe was only one of many creative minds that have found inspiration here.

* * *

For any middle-aged man his return to a college campus is always a kind of journey into Australia. But it can teach him a few things too.

The day was soft and warm and sunny. Spring came late this way this year. The azaleas have lurked behind their usual season, and the dogwood trees are still all bark and no bloom. But the pear trees on the hills look as if they were walking to a wedding, the redbud trees are a lace of fire, and periwinkles blue the lawn.

The campus at Chapel Hill is quite beautiful. The walks are shaded by trees so old they are like shrines in-leaf. The buildings, a mixture of many architectures, blend in a friendly weathered warmth.

* * *

But on this walk upon this day it was the students, not the mellow atmosphere of the campus, that kindled in me a reverie of comparison.

One does not like to be unfair to his own youth, but on the other hand it is not wise ever to get the idea that all that was best in the world died with it.

Looking around at the students I passed, pausing now and then to listen to them, I had the feeling they were superior to the college students of my own generation.

* * *

It wasn't only that they had more height and perhaps more health. They had an air of easy assurance and self-confidence visible even to an outsider.

In my depression-haunted generation the fear of being unable to find a job after graduation often made the last two years in college miserable. We hated to leave alma mater because we feared the world had no place for us. At one bull session I can recall a group of seniors deciding that if they could sign up right then for a guaranteed income of $200 a month for life they would be glad to do so.

These students here would strike no such frightened bargain. They are not fearful. They are hopeful, and they believe in themselves.

* * *

Many educators defend this college generation as perhaps the best in our history, and I am inclined to go along with this view rather than with those doomcriers who hold we have raised a generation of spoiled milksops.

Returning from my stroll I had no desire to relive my own college days. One time of youth is enough for one life.

* * *

I felt no tinge of envy for these young men and women. But I did feel that the world they so soon will set forth to better will fare no worse at their hands than it has at ours.

Crawford's Now Ready to Invade Television

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Joan Crawford, Public Energy No. 1, is going to tackle TV, which she has so long spurned, and judging from the way she swooshes through the New York glamour scene, she'll have it hollering for help in a very few week.

WILSON

Joan had been dancing cheek to cheek with her date, Aly Khan, at 1 a.m. the other morning—but they had to stop sometime.

"You're the workingest dame I know," I said, squatting beside Joan. "What time did you get up today?" "Six o'clock this morning." Joan sipped some 100-proof vodka which she'd poured from a plastic flask she always carries in her handbag.

"That's when I do my reading and letter-writing," Joan explained. "Six to 10. I already read the comics. They have better scripts than the movies. Then I called down for some fruit and jello. Then I went back to sleep for a half hour."

* * *

"How many hours sleep had you had?"

JOAN

Now we were at the the Heart and Lung Ball at which she was queen—but at cocktail time I'd seen her on her feet 3½ hours as honor guest at Dorothy Strelsin's Shakespeare Festival reception. Joan had made a short speech there about "a new writer" (Shakespeare) and had then romped around as eagerly as a starlet helloing everybody.

"Tell me about the rest of your day."

Joan allowed me to light her cigaret. "The maid was off so I cooked lunch for my secretary .. . took care of the puppy dogs . . . had my lunch standing up—salad, cheese, and cold chicken—I washed my head and got dressed . . . went to the cocktail party with my hair still wet . . . then came home and got dressed for the ball. This is the first time today I've eaten sitting down. I can't wait to get my shoes off."

Joan held up the vodka flask.

"You can see how drunk I am," she nodded. "I've had two drinks out of it the whole evening."

"How many times did you dress today?" I asked.

"Only four!" she said.

Joan mentioned that she's about to make a TV deal with Dick Powell (the 6-Star Theater, with Powell, David Niven, Charles Boyer, Robert Ryan and one other star, each doing six filmed shows a year). She had to get to bed and then keep a 9 a.m. interview date with Fortune Magazine which was doing a story on her friend, Director George Cukor.

"I wish I had that energy," I said in true admiration. "But I don't drink vodka."

"I had that," Miss Crawford said, "before I ever even heard of vodka!"

* * *

County to Buy Road Building

Will Pay $148,000 for Offices, Adjacent Land Owned by Gulf Oil

Purchase by the county of the old Road Commission offices at 550 S. Telegraph Rd., and adjacent property, owned by the Gulf Oil Corp., for $148,000 was approved by the Board of Supervisors yesterday.

No immediate determination was made as to what use the county would put the property.

Presently the building is occupied by the Department of Public Works, the Drain Commission and Planning Commission.

Funds to buy the property will come from the county's indigent housing fund.

The two-story building and one-story wing is currently being leased by the county from the Road Commission for $525 a month, according to David Levinson, chairman of the Board's Ways and Means Committee which made the recommendation.

Unanimous approval was given.

Dobie's Show Different From Others, but Static

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — The last time I saw "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis," a number of weeks ago, Dobie was long on girl trouble, short on cash.

And his dad kept saying, "I gotta kill that boy. I just gotta."

* * *

Since the "Startime" hour obliged with a rerun last night, I was able to rejoin Dobie and his many loves on CBS-TV. I discovered that I haven't missed a thing.

Dobie, still wearing the checked button-down shirt and khaki jeans, is still moaning about girls. Still broke, too.

And his dad is reciting the same lines in trying to get Dobie to work.

SPURNS SWEET GIRL

Last night's chapter had Dobie spurning a sweet girl who loved him madly in order to court the banker's strong-willed, no-goodnik daughter.

The match was supposed to help Dobie's dad negotiate a bank loan. In the end, Dobie spurned the banker's daughter, regained his old friends and his independence.

P. S. His dad got the loan, anyhow. (How irreverent can you expect a TV series to be?)

* * *

The series, now bogged down in sameness, nevertheless has some fresh qualities. It's not a western. Nor is it a private eye frenzy. There's no violence, no wild adventure.

The father, ably played by Frank Faylen, is not affluent, like the other days in such TV shows. He's not a lawyer, insurance man or doctor.

He is, like his son, Dobie, hard up for cash. And poppa Gillis works long, hard hours in his grocery — something Dobie refuses to do.

It's not very glamorous for TV situations but it has a realistic basis.

Occasionally, there are even stormy scenes between father and son that successfully capture the flavor of communication breakdowns between two generations.

Perhaps the biggest drawback is Dobie, played by Dwayne Hickman. He's dull. Square. His interests are girls, girls, girls. Study? College? Work? A career? Nothing.

* * *

He makes Andy Hardy and Henry Aldrich look like the Revson brothers.

I'm afraid the series isn't going to get better and, in TV, no change equals retrogression.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Ann Sheridan will star in "The Imposter," a "Steel Hour" presentation scheduled for CBS-TV on Wednesday, June 15. Appearing with Miss Sheridan are Claude Dauphin and Liliane Montevecchi.

A contemporary ballet based on the Biblical story of Noah is being created by Igor Stravinsky and George Balanchine, on commission from CBS-TV. The ballet will be performed during the 1960-61 season.

"The Shirley Temple Enchantment Hour," a series of classics and fairy tales, goes into NBC-TV's 7-8 p.m. EST Sunday time slot next fall. In addition to serving as hostess, Miss Temple will star in a number of the presentations.

Round 'n' Round Ike'll Go—and..

... Places He Stops Continue to Grow; Korea Added

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—President Eisenhower plans to balance his trip to Russia in June with a substantially increased itinerary in the Far East, where the cold war sporadically erupts in gun fire.

Extension of his June trip to include a longer stay in Japan and a visit to South Korea was announced Tuesday simultaneously at the vacation White House, in Tokyo and Seoul.

When the June trip was announced Jan. 17, Russia dominated the plans and Japan appeared to be a brief stop on the way back to the United States.

Tuesday's announcement, however, showed that Eisenhower plans to devote virtually as much attention to the Far East as to the Soviet phases of his round-the-world mission.

The President will leave Washington in time to arrive in Moscow June 10. He will spend the next eight days in the Soviet Union.

The White House announced that "the President's visit to Japan on the occasion of the Japanese-American Centennial would take place from June 19 to June 23.

"The President will also make a brief visit to the Republic of Korea on June 22 in response to a long-standing personal invitation of President Rhee with whom he will have an opportunity to discuss matters of common interest," the announcement said.

Eisenhower last visited Korea shortly after the 1952 election.

During the campaign leading up to that election, he announced dramatically that if chosen to occupy the White House, he would "go to Korea" in an effort to help end the then-stalemated war.

The White House said, "The President has long desired to revisit Korea where the United States has contributed so much to the role played by the United Nations in preserving Korean independence."

EXPECT TROOP VISIT

Officials in Washington said they expected the President to visit troops of his own country on the cease-fire line north of Seoul.

Diplomatic sources also pointed out that the Tokyo and Seoul visits would give the President an opportunity to try encouragement of Japan and Korea to compromises some of the sharp issues which have prevented the restoration of normal relations between the two countries and occasionally led to threats of armed conflict.

Rochester Board Acts

Raises Teacher Salaries

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Board of Education has raised the teachers' salary schedule $100 for next year and announced the net tax increase to repay the May 9 bond issue will be about five dollars per $1,000 on assessed valuation.

The beginning salary for a teacher with a bachelor's degree will be $4,500. A teacher with a master's degree will start at $4,750.

The Board also has hiked the salary increase increments from $180 to $190.

The maximum salary that can be reached with a bachelor's degree will be $6,780 and with a master's, $7,030.

Concerning the forthcoming vote on $3,100,000 bond issue for school expansion and construction, the Board voted to keep the tax rate at the minimum, members said.

According to School Supt. Donald C. Baldwin, it will be possible to float the May 9 issue for a net increase of five dollars per $1,000 on the assessed valuation.

This amount will vary slightly each year and will drop as the total valuation of the school district increases, said Baldwin.

The proposed building program is designed to meet the needs of the district for the next two years, school officials said.

Major projects to be included are new elementary school, a junior high school, an 18-room addition to the high school, additions to two elementary schools and extensive remodeling of the present junior high.
