County Wonders Who Will Become 2 New Judges?

Now that the State Legislature's approval of two new circuit judges for Oakland County is almost certain, the county's attention is focused on another question: Who will they be?

Leading prospects for appointment by Gov. George Romney are two well-known attorneys—James S. Thornburn of Royal Oak and Philip Pratt of Pontiac. They would serve until the 1964 general election.

Nancy Anne on Honeymoon

From Our News Wires
EAST LANSING — Nancy Anne Fleming of Montague, whose homelike talents and brunette, green-eyed beauty won her the Miss America of 1961 title, is honeymooning with her campus sweetheart today.

The 26-year-old former beauty queen and William Johnson, 21, of Okemos, were married yesterday in the Michigan State University Alumni Memorial Chapel.

The bride was slightly less than benevolent to the reporters and photographers who befriended her two years before.

FAILS TO APPEAR
After the ceremony, however, it had been agreed for TV stations that MSU coed would leave the reception freely to accommodate news photographers. Time passed and no bride appeared.

1,100 Killed by Erupting Bali Volcano

75,000 Are Homeless; Report Lava Deluge Over After 5 Days

DENPASAR, Bali (AP) — The deluge of lava from sacred Agung volcano was reported to have stopped today after five days of eruption. The governor of Bali said at least 1,100 islanders have perished.

"We have 75,000 homeless people to feed at this point, and we need help from everybody," said Gov. Anak Agung Sutedja.

He said another 200,000 may have lost their livelihood. Thousands of acres of once-fertile rice-land lay beneath tons of lava and ash that have blanketed Bali's northeast coast.

Riding and afoot, they carried what possessions they could as they tried to get away from the 10,308-foot volcano which erupted briefly in February after years of virtual quiet, then went into violent action Sunday.

Reports from the disaster area said a heavy column of smoke still billowed from the crater.

A civil defense spokesman in Jakarta said earlier that more violent eruptions were feared, and Authorities were trying to clear about 250,000 persons from a radius of 20 miles around the volcano.

A mushroom-shaped cloud of smoke could be seen from aircraft flying into Denpasar, but no ash was visible in this capital, about 70 miles southwest of Mount Agung.

Agung awoke with a roar last night. Its first eruption killed 17 people.

Last Sunday it came back with a second explosion, pushing lava down its slopes and burying hundreds of people under a deadly umbrella of searing ash. The governor said most people were killed by the ash cloud. He said the temperature of the ash was 230 degrees.

People who survived the holocaust at 7 a.m. Sunday said it became as dark as night for two minutes, and the ash choked almost everything.

There has been no strong opposition to Oakland County's request for the new judges. Present judges are handling an increasing case load brought on by growing population and extra work required by new court rules that went into effect Jan. 1.

Thornburn is president of the Oakland County Bar Association. He also was considered a leading prospect for the circuit judiciary post vacated by Judge H. Russell Holland's retirement last month.

Thornburn, 44, of 2000 Vinsetta Blvd., Royal Oak, also is vice president of the Royal Oak Board of Education.

Although he has not sought county or state office in the past, he has been active in the Republican party and was chairman of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Kennedy Lauds 2 Sides of TFX

WASHINGTON (AP)—With kind words for both sides, President Kennedy has stepped in between senators and defense officials battling over the TFX warplane probe.

In so many words Thursday he told the Pentagon to wait in a neutral corner for the investigation's outcome which he said would prove that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was right in awarding the big contract to General Dynamics Corp.

"I see nothing wrong with Congress looking at these matters," the President told his news conference. "My judgment is that the decision reached by Secretary McNamara was the right one, sound one, and any fair and objective hearing will bring that out."

And, he added later, "I assume that the McClellan committee, on which I once served, will render a fair judgment."

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., hailed Kennedy's words as fair and "nice."

'INFLUENCE' PROBED
The subcommittee is investigating whether influence was a factor in the Pentagon's award of the contract for the TFX—experimental tactical fighter—to General Dynamics of Fort Worth, Tex., over a lower rival bid by the Boeing Co. of Seattle, Wash.

The $24-million contract covers the start of work on the plane, an all-purpose fighter-bomber to be used by both Air Force and Navy. Eventually 1,700 of the planes will be built at an estimated cost of $6.5 billion.

After Kennedy's soothing words, Sen. Karl E. Mundt declared, "I hope and expect we will not be diverted by any more attacks from the Pentagon."

Kennedy's statement was on oil troubled waters, but only time would tell if he calmed them. Before he spoke to newsmen these developments had added to the storm:

'ORAL ABUSE'
The Defense Department leaked to newsmen a memorandum protesting that the subcommittee's investigators had subjected Air Force employees to "oral abuse and pressure tactics" smacking of "gastapo tactics."

Jerome Adlerman, subcommittee counsel, fired back that the charge was false and designed to harass one of his aides who, Adlerman said, had uncovered "enormous errors" in figures the Defense Department used to justify its award of the contract.

The Senate itself got into a boiling debate over the Air Force memorandum with McClellan rejecting its charges and caustically declaring he would call off the hearings if the Senate would pass a resolution ordering him to "cease and desist."

Hot words flew in the hearing room itself as the subcommittee received testimony first from Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatrick, then from McNamara himself.

The secretary went into the cases crammed with documents. He elaborated on a sworn statement he had submitted last week, was asked a few questions, and then released pending recall for lengthy questioning after the subcommittee has completed the rest of its evidence.

A transcript of his testimony was to be released, possibly after being censored, later in the day.

The Pentagon leaked the critical Air Force memorandum as Gilpatrick was striving to calm subcommittee anger over an anonymous Pentagon spokesman's weekend statement to newsmen charging that Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and McClellan had maneuvered the department into an unfavorable position in the hearings.

Gilpatrick acknowledged he was one of the anonymous spokesmen who had talked to about 14 newsmen, but he denied making the statements reported by the newsmen. He insisted he has been unable to learn who had made them.

Dynamite Found Tied to Bridge

TRENTON (AP) — A homemade bomb containing 25 sticks of dynamite was found near here today under a bridge which crosses railroad tracks.

Shortly beforehand, about 15 families living in the area had been evacuated as the result of two anonymous telephone calls to police that the bomb was ready to explode.

Police who raced to the scene reported finding the dynamite sticks tied together with string in a paper bag from which a cord extended. The end of the cord was charred.

The families were evacuated about midnight. They were allowed to return to their homes shortly before 1 a.m. when the bomb had been removed.

The anonymous caller's first contact with police, at 10:40 p.m., said dynamite had been placed under the bridge and "is ready to blow."

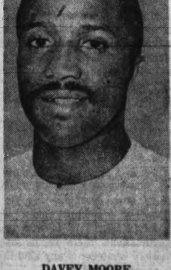

The second, at 11:53 p.m., warned "there is not much time left."

The bomb was found under the viaduct on West Road which crosses above railroad tracks used by the New York Central, Shoreline and Detroit-Toledo & Ironton railways.

Los Angeles (AP)—Former featherweight champion Davey Moore was in a coma today and his chances of surviving were estimated as poor by a hospital physician after he lost his boxing title on a knockout by Sugar Ramos Thursday night.

Dr. Philip Vogel said Moore, 29, was suffering from "a serious head injury. His chances are extremely poor." He said that Moore's fate probably would be known within hours.

No brain operation was contemplated, but a tracheotomy, insertion of a tube in the windpipe,

County Dems Lambaste GOP Districting Plan

A new Republican plan for the congressional redistricting of Oakland County was under attack today by Oakland County Democrats.

James M. McNeely, executive assistant to County Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin, charged that the plan was unrealistic because of anticipated rapid population growth in both new districts that the plan would create.

McNeely claimed this was so because population of the two districts already exceeds the "ideal" of 411,000 per district.

The proposal, a revised version of a previous plan by Republican state legislators, would put all the county in the new 19th district, except for an area in the southern part.

This area — Farmington Township and the area south of 20-Mile Road and east of Inkster Road — would form an 18th District. The present 18th encompasses the entire county.

Also in the 19th would be LaPeer and St. Clair counties.

POPULATION SIZE
Under the plan, which is expected to be adopted by the Republican-controlled legislature and signed by Republican Gov. George Romney, the 19th would have a population of 423,000. The 18th would have about 416,000.

LEAMINGTON SPA, England (UPI) — Canon James Mervyn Glass, 94, last night announced his engagement to Mrs. Elisabeth Parr, a 64-year-old widow.

GOP Senators Vow to Carry Argument Into Supreme Court

SPECIAL TO THE PONTIAC PRESS
LANSING—Gov. George Romney flew to Washington today to defend Michigan's Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed (ADC-U) legislation.

He had the solid support of Republican state senators who yesterday vowed "to take this all the way to the Supreme Court if necessary."

Romney planned to meet at 3:30 p.m. today with Anthony J. Celebrezze, secretary of health, education and welfare, in an effort to settle the dispute that threatens to block Michigan's ADC-U program.

The meeting was arranged by the governor in a phone call yesterday following an exchange of telegrams with Celebrezze.

Celebrezze said the bill, passed by the Michigan Legislature to enable the state to participate in the federal aid program, was arbitrary, discriminatory and unacceptable.

DOUBLE RETALIATION
Romney, Republican legislators and acting director of the State Welfare Department Lynn Kellogg retaliated with two replies:

1. That the federal legislation gives the state the authority to define "unemployed."

2. That many other states have received federal funds under enabling laws even more restrictive than Michigan's.

The dispute is over a provision in the Michigan bill that only children of those eligible for state unemployment compensation since Jan. 1, 1958, would qualify for federal aid.

Democratic lawmakers claim the state would not get any federal aid.

'3,000 Russians Out of Cuba Now'—JFK

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy says the Soviets have withdrawn some 3,000 troops from Cuba in recent weeks—and he hopes this is only a starter.

Kennedy told his news conference yesterday that "we are waiting to see whether more will be withdrawn, as we would hope." But he said the scope of the withdrawal would not be fairly evident until the end of March.

When the Soviet Union promised last month to withdraw several thousand troops from Cuba by mid-March, the U.S. government estimated Soviet military and technical personnel in Cuba totaled about 17,000.

Kennedy's next venture in personal diplomacy, a late spring trip to Europe, is being expanded to include West Berlin.

London, too, seems to be a likely addition to his itinerary.

The Chief Executive earlier had announced plans to visit Rome and Bonn, the Italian and West German capitals, in late May or early June.

At his news conference, he said, he also hoped to add Berlin to his German visit.

Diplomatic sources said it could be anticipated that Kennedy would stop off in London, possibly for a night, to fill in British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan.

Closing Law Hearing Set Here April 18

DETROIT (UPI) — Wayne County Circuit Judge Joseph Rashid today issued a temporary restraining order against the state's controversial Sunday closing law, Rashid, after a one hour hearing, issued a restraining order until April 5 and ordered hearings to start April 2 at 9:30 a.m.

A public hearing on whether the new weekend business closing law should be nullified in Oakland County has been scheduled for April 18.

The date was set yesterday by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, at the board's direction.

The hearing is to be held before the full board at 10 a.m. in the auditorium of the old county office building at 1 Lafayette Street.

The new state law, which goes into effect next Thursday, permits boards of supervisors to nullify it in their own counties by a two-thirds majority vote. The law requires a public hearing before the board can act.

Unless the board voids the law here, the sale of a long list of

4-MINUTE CAPSULE

Kennedy opened the conference by reading a four-minute statement on the three days of talks this week at San Jose, Costa Rica, with the presidents of Panama, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua.

Said the President, who flew back to Washington late Wednesday:

"I return from San Jose with increased confidence that we will continue to live in a hemisphere of independent, firm and faithful friends."

Noting that this was his third trip south of the border, Kennedy said that each one makes it clear that Latin Americans "by an overwhelming majority, are ready to work to sacrifice, to fight if necessary, to maintain their own freedom, and to build societies which serve the welfare of all their people."

In the domestic area, two topics were prominent.

Drill Sergeant Being Tried

Marine Is Accused of Maltreating Recruits

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The court-martial of the third Marine drill instructor accused within two months of maltreating recruits begins today at the Marine Corps recruit depot.

It was disclosed yesterday that two instructors appeared before separate court-martial boards last month and pleaded guilty.

Sgt. Carlton L. Slay, 33, San Diego, was ordered to appear before the board today to answer 18 counts of maltreatment or cruel and unusual punishment involving 15 recruits.

Authorities said specific charges against Slay included such actions as punching in the stomach, hitting in the face and pushing against a wall locker.

One recruit, Harold W. Anthony, 18, Greenville, Ill., said he was doing push-ups and Slay slammed him to the floor seven times.

The two instructors who pleaded guilty were Staff Sgt. James L. Leighton, 29, San Diego, and Cpl. James C. Holt, 22, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Slay and Leighton were assigned to the 2nd Recruit Training Battalion at the time and Holt was with the 1st Recruit Training Battalion.

Officials said incidents which brought complaints against the three instructors occurred in October and November of last year.

Leighton pleaded guilty to maltreating eight recruits, to forbidding a maltreated recruit from testifying against him and to failing to report maltreatment committed by a subordinate (Slay).

Aid Argument in Washington aid funds under the program if the bill is not corrected, although Celebrezze did not specifically say that.

It was while Democrats in the Senate were unsuccessfully attempting yesterday to recall the legislation for further consideration that Senate Republican Caucus Leader Stanley Thayer of Ann Arbor said he would like to see the dispute go to the U. S. Supreme Court.

"We are not going to let the head of an executive agency in Washington tell us we can't do what Congress gave us the authority to do," Thayer said.

Thayer and Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, argued that no children of unemployed workers would lose out on any money under the state's bill.

The bill only determines where the money comes from, Roberts and Thayer said.

Those who would not qualify for the federal aid would still qualify for state and county welfare aid, they added.

The bill as passed would aid an estimated 10,000 families in Michigan and provide $9 million a year in federal aid. Democrats claim the bill would deprive another 10,000 families of federal aid.

VIP Says He Knows Missing Witness

LONDON (AP)—War Minister John Profumo, 48, told the House of Commons today he had been friendly with a good-time girl not mentioned in the exchange between the Laborites and the Conservative government spokesman, Home Secretary Henry Brooke.

But he said he had not seen her in more than 14 months and knew nothing of her present whereabouts.

Labor members of Commons demanded Thursday night that the government deny—or open an inquiry into—rumors that a leading government minister was involved with Christine Keeler, 20, who twice has failed to appear as a witness in a shooting case.

One Laborite, Barbara Castle, said there were rumors highly placed persons were responsible for hiding Christine, whom she termed "the missing cat girl."

"I understand my name has been connected with rumors about her disappearance," Profumo told Commons today.

"Any suggestion that I was in any way connected with or responsible for her absence at the

Largest Protests Erupt Against Korea Junta

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The largest antigovernment demonstrations in South Korea's 22 months of military rule erupted today in Seoul and two southern cities.

Confronted by his most serious challenge to date, strongman Gen. Chung Hae Park declared anew he will not waiver from his plan to extend military rule for another four years.

About 600 slogan-chanting demonstrators marched the streets of Seoul, demanding that the military junta keep its earlier promise to restore civilian government in August. Police seized scores of marchers.

Park banned political activity in this tense nation March 16 and proposed a referendum on his plan to continue military rule.

The military junta warned in a nationwide broadcast that the armed forces stand behind the government. In a show of force, a vehicle convoy of officers traveled from Park's residence to the defense ministry.

The demonstration in Seoul brought out many civilian political leaders. For the first time, members of the general public joined in.

Police broke up similar demonstrations in Pusan, the nation's second largest city, on the southern tip of the peninsula, and Kwangju, a provincial capital 150 miles south of Seoul. Arrests were made.

In proposing an extension of military rule, Park said, "This country should not become a state solely for the tainted politicians. It pledged to 'exercise the will of the people expressed through a referendum.'"

CONTROLS RADIO

But with political activity banned, the referendum promised to be an all-government show. The government controls the nationwide radio and information centers in villages and has placed severe restrictions on newspapers.

Defense Minister Kim Sung-jan said the armed forces, 600,000 strong, stand behind the government in its bid to retain power. Civilian politicians had hoped many of the troops would side with them.

Disappointment swept antigovernment ranks when President Kennedy did not condemn the trial at the Old Bailey is wholly John Profumo, 48, told the House of Commons today he had been friendly with a good-time girl not mentioned in the exchange between the Laborites and the Conservative government spokesman, Home Secretary Henry Brooke.

But he said he had not seen her in more than 14 months and knew nothing of her present whereabouts.

Labor members of Commons demanded Thursday night that the government deny—or open an inquiry into—rumors that a leading government minister was involved with Christine Keeler, 20, who twice has failed to appear as a witness in a shooting case.

One Laborite, Barbara Castle, said there were rumors highly placed persons were responsible for hiding Christine, whom she termed "the missing cat girl."

"I understand my name has been connected with rumors about her disappearance," Profumo told Commons today.

Board Will Act Tuesday on Argued Redistricting

BIRMINGHAM — A tentative study before the board officially school redistricting plan, which board of education officials admit won't satisfy everyone, will be acted upon next Tuesday.

Action on redistricting because necessary because of overcrowded conditions at Derby Junior High School and Sea-holm High School.

A previous plan proposed by School Supt. Otis M. Dickey brought vigorous protests from several sections of the school district.

Under the original proposal, students attending Harlan Elementary School would have been directed to Berkshire Junior High School and Groves High School instead of closer Derby and Sea-holm.

Some Harlan area parents complained at the time that Dickey's plan would cause their children to spend an extra 500 miles school buses.

The new plan, which the board arrived at after five study sessions, one with district parents, "gradually eliminates the transportation cross-crisis and permits all students who can walk to school to do so," according to Board Trustee Pell Hollingshead.

NO ADDITIONAL COST

In addition, he continued, no more students need ride buses.

"The over-all plan will not increase transportation cost now let alone in an eventual saving," he added.

The board's tentative proposals call for Harlan students currently attending Derby and Sea-holm schools to remain there. Students from the West-chester, Bloomfield Village and Valley Woods areas attending Derby would be allowed to finish at that school.

Eventually, under the board's phasing system, students from Harlan will attend Derby for grades 7-8, then move to Groves for 10-12.

Students from the other three areas will attend the new Berk-shire Junior High School for grades 7 and 8, Groves for 9 and Sea-holm for 10-12.

The tentative proposals were announced "so that our citizens will have every opportunity to

But Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Bloomfield Township, chairman of the House Apportionment Committee, said the amendment would not get much support.

It would make a separate district of Genesee County, which is combined with the wassene and Livingston counties under the present bills.

Macomb County would be a separate district under the present bills.

Locate Woman

A former Pontiac woman who was missing for four days in Turkey last week has been reunited with her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Medina and their two children left Izmir, Turkey, today for Germany and return to the United States.

Their was no official explanation of the recent disappearance of German-born Mrs. Medina, 38. She was located Tuesday at the home of a Turkish family.

Medina, 38, has been working as a rocket specialist at Cigli Air Force Base near Izmir. The Medina's formerly lived at 181 Carr St. while he was employed at the Chrysler Missile Plant in Sterling Township.

The family reportedly plans to spend some time in Frankfurt, Germany, before returning to the United States where Medina will be reassigned.

The minister said he last saw Miss Keeler in December 1961. Watching from the gallery as Profumo made his statement was his wife, Valerie Hobson, a noted British stage and screen actress.

Profumo said he and his wife met Miss Keeler at a house party at Cliveden, home of Viscount Astor, son of American-born Lady Astor.

Among the others at Cliveden at the time, he said, were Dr. Stephen Ward, an osteopath.

"Between July and December 1961, I met Miss Keeler on about half a dozen occasions at Dr. Ward's flat," Profumo said.

"Miss Keeler and I were on friendly terms. There was no impropriety whatever of any kind in our acquaintance."

The President praised Gen. Douglas MacArthur's efforts to settle a dispute between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association over the accreditation of U.S. athletes for the Olympics to be held next year in Tokyo.

Such a motion is expected. If approved, the county would get the new judicial posts when the governor signs the legislation.

The new judgeships would cost the county an estimated $60,000 to $75,000 a year.

Several new courses will be offered during the spring term of the Continuing (adult) Education Program of Birmingham Public Schools, beginning April 8.

Being taught for the first time are The Psychology of Human Relations, Law for the Small Businessman, and courses on Puppetry and Rug Hooking.

The psychology class will be offered in cooperation with Wayne State University and will be directed by Assistant Professor Dr. Michael Schwartz.

Dr. Schwartz indicated that the subject will cover individual and group interaction and the means of influencing and changing such relationships.

Registration will be Monday through Friday next week from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the continuing education office, Chester and Martin Streets.

McNamara Discloses Net Worth

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara disclosed yesterday he is worth $1,278,200 mostly in common stocks and bonds.

The Pentagon announced that McNamara voluntarily gave the Senate investigations subcommittee an up-to-date statement of his personal financial status, including all property he and his wife own.

"Mr. McNamara did so because of newspaper reports that had said that the committee's investigating staff is examining possible self-interest on the part of Pentagon officials in the award of the TFX contract," the Defense Department said.

The financial statement represents the situation as of March 1, as reported by an investment counsel to whom McNamara had turned over management of his finances upon becoming defense secretary.

The million-plus total includes only $1,305 in cash.

The remainder includes $982,795 in common stocks and $294,100 in fixed-income bonds, mostly federal and municipal issues.

When McNamara joined the cabinet in 1961, he gave up an annual salary and bonus totaling $500,000 as president of Ford Motor Co. for a salary of $25,000 as secretary of defense.

In addition, he sold 24,705 shares of Ford stock for approximately $1.5 million.</

Andersen Can Appeal Rolvaag, Nod

Judges Decide on Minnesota Governor

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Democrat Karl Rolvaag is the duly elected governor of Minnesota, three judges who supervised a recount of the more than a million and a quarter ballots cast in the Nov. 6 election said in a formal order late Thursday.

Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen indicated he might have a statement today on whether the finding would mean he would appeal to the Minnesota Supreme Court. The recount showed him losing to Rolvaag by 91 votes.

The judges ordered that, barring an appeal, a certificate to election be issued to Rolvaag on April 1, which would mean he would take office the next day. That 18-day lag could be shortened should Andersen decide against an appeal and sign a court agreement to that effect.

If an appeal is made, at least another month would be required for the necessary briefs and arguments. This would carry the change in governors well beyond the April 22 adjournment target of the current legislature.

Andersen has remained in office under a state law requiring that his successor be "duly elected and qualified" before he steps down.

Rolvaag expressed himself as naturally pleased by the verdict. In a statement Thursday night he praised the judges, ballot inspectors and attorneys involved with the recount proceedings.

FINDINGS STATED
Andersen would say only that he would have no comment until after his attorneys have had a chance to study the 33-page judges' finding in detail.

Elmwood School 4th Grade Prepares Greeting for Korean

By ROGER SRIGLEY
AVON TOWNSHIP — The 56 children in Elmwood School's fourth grade met in a basement assembly room yesterday and talked to a 10-year-old Korean girl some 6,500 miles away.

Beaming with eagerness, the youngsters not only spoke to Lee Ki Ja, but they sang and joined in reading of poetry and prose for her.

They even sang out inspired renditions of "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "America" in their happy high-pitched voices.

All this was for the pupils' adopted child, Lee Ki Ja. She, with others of her class, will hear the American voices on a tape recorder about two weeks from now at the Seoul orphanage where she lives.

Along with the tape, the little Korean girl will receive a tiny silver locket, a note from each child, a few group pictures and a large bag of corn, ready for popping.

Why popcorn? Because the sale of it has provided enough money to support Lee Ki Ja at the orphanage for one year — $120.

SCHOOL SALES

Since September, the students have sold popcorn in the school every Tuesday. Their mothers contributed the produce so it was a case of 100 per cent profit.

Beginning in 1959, care of Lee Ki Ja has passed down to each group of fourth graders. The teachers arranged for the "adoption" of the child through the Christian Children's Fund, Inc., of Richmond, Va.

Gerald Huntsinger, a representative of the association, will take the recording to the orphanage when he goes to Seoul next week.

When it's played there, the Korean children will first hear the 15-minute program in English. They will listen to a small boy's voice saying: "All Americans are proud of our National Anthem, before it is sung."

When the children's program ends, it will be repeated in the Korean language for the pupils at the orphanage.

Ock Soo Kim, a 21-year-old Korean girl studying at Wayne State University, was contacted by school officials and volunteered to translate the program for the children.

She has been in America for two months, coming here from Seoul to study French literature.

As she translated, the children watched intently, smiling at words which defy translation, like "Clody, Clody," one of the songs in the program.

When she finished, Ock Soo's translation was accorded a round of enthusiastic applause. Then the tape was taken from the machine and packed along with the other gifts.

Now the pupils are anxiously awaiting the return of the tape. They have requested that Lee Ki Ja's class record a similar program in Korea for her American friends.

Project Cost at $7 Million

Break Ground Sunday for New Construction

SOUTHFIELD — Ground will be broken Sunday for the first complex of buildings in Southfield's 7-million civic center.

The ceremony will take place on the 164-acre center site on Evergreen Road at 10½-Mile Road.

Master of ceremonies for the 2 p.m. event will be Associate Judge Thomas A. Costello, chairman of the Civic Center Development Advisory Commission.

Buildings planned in the first phase of the 20-year center building program will house a new city hall, police station, municipal court, library and recreation center.

Construction of the center was made possible by two grants totaling $570,000 from the Federal Works Acceleration program.

Southfield's application was the first in the country to be approved for this type of federal grant.

MATCHING FUNDS

The city will match the figure through an issue of revenue bonds with no resultant increase in taxes.

Plans for the center, to be built in five stages, include 14 buildings, an outdoor amphitheater and facilities for more than half a dozen summer and winter sports.

One of the outstanding features will be a man-made hill, 65 feet high, constructed from dirt excavated by the State Highway Department while building the John C. Lodge expressway.

The new city buildings will replace the present city hall at Berg and 10½-Mile roads, the police station at Evergreen and 10-Mile, the municipal court at 10-Mile and Southfield and the library at Lahser and 11-Mile roads.

Refreshments will be served after the ground breaking in the nearby Youth Building.

Club to Mark Anniversary of Founding

BROOKLANDS—The Exchange Club of Brooklands will mark the 22nd anniversary of founding of the first Exchange Club at its regular meeting Tuesday.

The group is composed of business and professional men active in community service.

Highlighting the birthday celebration will be speeches by Gordon Beebe, on background and purpose of the organization, and by Jack Fetterly, who will relate the history of the local club.

The festivities are slated for 7 p.m. at the Gethsemane Lutheran Church. Wives of members are invited to attend.

Psychiatrist to Talk at Lenten Service

AVON TOWNSHIP—A Birmingham psychiatrist will speak at the University Presbyterian Church's second Lenten service at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Dr. Jay VanZoeen, who is also an elder at Northminster Presbyterian Church, Troy, will discuss the church's concern for the emotionally disturbed. He will also show a film on mental health.

A 6 p.m. potluck supper will precede the talk.

Church Will Sponsor Smorgasbord Sunday

LAKE ORION — The Rosary Altar society of St. Joseph's Church is sponsoring a smorgasbord Sunday afternoon. Proceeds will go to the church school library fund.

The affair which will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. at the 1222 Hall, Shadblot and Beebe streets, is open to the public.

2 Others Hurt in Macomb

5 Die in Auto Crashes

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI) — Two accidents in Macomb County within a four-hour period killed five persons and critically injured two others.

In one accident late last night a mother and daughter and the driver of the other car were killed.

In the other crash two volunteer firemen from Shelby Township were killed and a third was injured when their car rammed into a tree on Utica Road early this morning.

In the first accident state police at the Center Line post said one of the cars ran a red light at the intersection of 15-Mile Road and Ryan Road in Sterling Township. They said they were unable to determine which of the cars ran the light.

Killed were Mrs. Brenda Salisbury, 20, her daughter Connie Sue, 13 months, and the driver of the second car, David Montville, 25, Madison Heights.

Mrs. Salisbury's husband Arthur, 25, Berkley, was reported in critical condition at Mount Clemens General Hospital.

BLOCK AWAY

Police said the accident occurred only a block away from the home of Salisbury's father. They said Salisbury's father had taken the body of the little girl to his home when they arrived.

Three doors from Salisbury's car were ripped from their hinges by the impact, according to state police. Montville's car had turned over in a ditch south of the intersection.

Montville was pinned inside his car and the Salisbury's were thrown from their car, police said.

In the other accident, the three volunteer firemen were returning from a meeting in Fraser. The dead were identified by Macomb County sheriff's deputies as Donald L. Kelpin, 34, of 4715 Windthrop St., Shelby Township, a father of four, and Kenneth G. Malloy, also 34, of 4737 Eldon St., Utica, father of two.

In critical condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Mount Clemens was Daniel Burak, 25, of 50710 Gravel Ridge, Utica. Officials in Shelby Township said Burak has two children and his wife is expecting a third.

Sheriff's deputies said they could find no skid marks on Utica Road where the accident occurred.

They said the car apparently failed to negotiate a sweeping curve on the road and plowed into the tree. The car was a "total loss," they added.

Church Women Plan Discussion on Constitution

FARMINGTON — The pros and cons of the proposed new state constitution will be discussed at a meeting Tuesday sponsored by the women of Trinity Episcopal Church.

Howard Lipton of the United Auto Workers Union Public relations staff, and a member of the Methodist Church Board of Christian Social Relations, will explain his opposition to the document.

"Taking the affirmative side will be Mrs. George Hingler, president of the Birmingham League of Women Voters."

The debate is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the church. Members from all Farmington churches are invited to attend.

STANLEY J. IDZERDA

Aquinas Plans 4th 'Essai'

ORCHARD LAKE — The Aquinas Academy of St. Mary's College will present its fourth "Essai" of the 1962-63 school year Sunday on "The Priest and the Catholic Intellectual."

Guest speaker for the evening will be Dr. Stanley J. Idzerda, director of Michigan State University's Honors College.

Idzerda is an authority in the fields of French and American history and American literature. The presentation will start at 7:30 p. m. at the academy.

Pick Police Captain to Head Department

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The Township Board last night appointed police Capt. Lou Marsh to assume command of the township police department.

Action was necessitated when state police reported no leads in the disappearance of police Chief Andrew Plans March 10.

The board also announced appointment of Thomas Carl of 9131 Sandyside Lane, Commerce, as full-time patrolman. Carl has been serving on a temporary basis since Plans's disappearance.

Old-Fashioned Social Slated for Davisburg

DAVISBURG — An old-fashioned social at which lunches are auctioned off to the highest bidder is scheduled for 6:30 tomorrow night at the Masonic Lodge.

Jointly sponsored by Austin Masonic Lodge No. 48 and Davisburg Chapter No. 288, Order of the Eastern Star, festivities will include square dancing.

Plan Drive to Force Tax Boost Onto Ballot

OAK PARK — An all-out citywide petition drive is planned for tomorrow and Sunday by the recently formed "Survey Our Schools Committee" here.

The purpose of the drive is to force a 3.5-mill tax proposal onto the June ballot.

The immediate objective of the SOS Committee is the opening this fall of the new junior high school, now under construction at Scotia and Nine Mile roads.

Committee members have stressed that they feel a 3.5-mill tax increase would enable the district to maintain most of its present educational standards as well as open the new building.

Voters last February turned down the school board's request for a 6.5-mill tax increase which the board had termed necessary to open the new building and meet expenses.

Although only 1,500, or 10 per cent, of the district's registered voters must sign the petition, Chairman Abraham Brickner said his group is confident that they will have no trouble in obtaining 3,000 to 4,000 signatures during their two-day drive.

Brickner said the group will have workers posted in all cities and shopping centers in the school district.

Committee members also will conduct an intensive house-to-house drive, he said.

Jaycee Unit to Make Last Plans for Show

LAKE ORION — Members of the Orion Jaycees Auxiliary will complete plans Monday for the Jingles Show to be presented April 6 at the junior high school.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Leonard DePauw, 3503 Minton Circle. Cohostess will be Mrs. Donald Brown.

Other items to be discussed include fund-raising projects for the Lake Orion Youth Center and appointment of a nominating committee for next month's election of officers.

Masons Plan Dinner to Honor Past Masters

WALLED LAKE—A dinner to honor past masters of Masonic Lodge No. 528 is slated for 7 p.m. tomorrow at the Masonic Temple.

A meeting at 6 p.m. will precede the dinner to which wives of members are also invited.

Close Call: Brazil Nearly Refused to Accept Big Handout

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—American taxpayers have had a close call.

For several suspense-packed hours, this week, it looked like President John F. Kennedy would refuse to accept another billion dollars in foreign aid.

The near-catastrophe occurred when MONTGOMERY House subcommittee on Latin American affairs released official State Department testimony asserting that Communists have infiltrated Goulart's government, as well as Brazilian labor and youth movements.

39 County Residents Taken Off Highways

Drivers' licenses of 39 Oakland County motorists were recently suspended or revoked by the Michigan Department of State.

Ordered to show proof of financial responsibility after convictions of drunken driving were:

James Eason, 277 Shirley St.; Harry L. Gwin, 486 S. Park; Paul J. Hogan, 1277 Maple; Drive, Rochester; James G. Pirie, 7707 Locklin Road, Union Lake; and Troy Sargent, 4379 Quick Road, Holly.

Unsatisfactory driving records caused the loss of their licenses for physical reasons.

Duane A. Johnson, 661 Robinwood Ave.; Aubrey L. Keller, 40 S. Sanford St.; Melvin D. Barnes, 23165 Cayuga St., Hazel Park; James S. Bennett, 1691 Eastmont St., Berkeley; Norman G. Berry, 324 W. Hudson St., Royal Oak; Albert F. Bouchard, 5559 Griggs Drive, Clarkston; Randolph S. Chabot, 665 Hilldale St., Royal Oak; and Morris E. Combs, 1785 Channing St., Ferndale.

Others were Donald T. Cook, 1817 E. 10-Mile Road, Royal Oak; Paul E. Couture, 570 Crescent Lake Road, Waterford Township; Jeff M. Denmark, 426 W. Woodward Heights, Hazel Park; Charles J. Dyson, 2350 Oxford St., Berkeley; Jerry D. Gaines, 541 Ramsey Road, Oxford; John D. Hartley, 577 E. Shervin St., Hazel Park; and Larry R. Hess, 13660 W. 10-Mile Road, Oak Park.

Still others losing their licenses for unsatisfactory driving records were Peter T. Hespe, 1200 Yorkshire Road, Birmingham; Harold R. Hunt, 21686 Hamilton Road, Farmington; Barry A. Kallish, 13100 Burton St., Oak Park; Melvin B. Lakin, 22030 Stratford St., Oak Park; Gary W. McPherson, 6059 Livernois Road, Troy; Byron L. Nellis, 6887 Doenges St., Troy; Clarence Robinson, 21336 Ithaca St., Ferndale; and Richard F. Soker, 400 Catalpa St., Royal Oak.

Ordered to show proof of financial responsibility due to unsatisfied financial judgments against them were:

Robert F. Charleston, 35330 Alger Ave., Madison Heights; Robert L. Culver, 31184 Kenwood St., Madison Heights; Jane W. Davies, 4102 Woodland St., Royal Oak; Lillian E. Hol-

Pontiac JCs Win Award for Contest

The Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce has received a national award for its staging of the Michigan Junior Miss Pageant.

The second-place award was accepted by local pageant director Richard Jorgensen, 2215 Avondale St., at the national finals held in Mobile, Ala.

Pennsylvania's pageant won the first-place award for states conducting the pageants for three or more years with Michigan running a close second.

Day Isn't Done—JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy told his news conference yesterday he had no plans to replace J. Edgar Hoover as postmaster general. There had been reports that Day might leave the Cabinet.

As luck would have it, Brazilian Finance Minister Francisco Santiago Dantas was currently in Washington to negotiate more U.S. financial aid to his spendthrift, nearly bankrupt country.

Brazil is one of only four South American nations that continue to recognize and trade with Castro's Cuba. It is also seeking funds to expand its trade with Russia and other Communist countries.

Goulart was so indignant about the State Department testimony, however, that he first ordered Dantas to suspend his negotiations for more Yankee dollars.

Fortunately for us, do-gooder American taxpayers, he subsequently permitted Dantas to proceed with his financial wooing.

After our State Department was backed down and said the Communist infiltration was not enough to affect our policy toward Brazil.

Dantas, generally considered the most powerful man in the Goulart cabinet, seems just the man to get more money from Uncle Sam.

While serving as foreign minister in an earlier Goulart cabinet, he vehemently opposed U.S. efforts to oust Cuba from the Organization of American States, and also pushed for resumption of Brazilian diplomatic relations with Russia.

Unlike the State Department, however, Congress takes a dim view of giving U.S. largesse to nations which bite the hands that feed them.

Brazilian ingratitude has so riled lawmakers in recent days that Democratic Senator Ernest Gruening of Alaska took the floor to declare: "The administration . . . has continued to pour our dollars into unstable and uncooperative regimes, to buttress their follies, to give them budgetary support, to finance their deficits. The United States has poured over $2 billion into Brazil. What is there to show for it?"

Similar debate also erupted in the House. Rep. William H. Harsha, R-Ohio, pointing out that Brazil is asking $800 million over the next two years, plus deferment of a $630-million loan now due us, rasped: "This adds up to the tiny little sum of nearly $1.5 billion. Over the years we have sent Brazil more than $2.25 billion. This is an exercise in futility."

Harsha reminded that Brazil is playing host March 22 to the second Communist-inspired continental congress of solidarity with Cuba.

INFAMOUS
The first congress held two years ago in Mexico is widely credited with bringing about violent efforts to subvert the governments of Venezuela and Peru.

Rep. William Cramer R-Fla., citing news reports that Brazil is about to sign a long-term $100-million-a-year trade agreement with Russia, said Dantas has publicly admitted that part of the money received from U.S. aid will be used to develop "trade with all countries—including Russia."

Other reports indicate that Brazil is soon to begin talks on expanding its trade with Red Hungary, Poland, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

Joint Efforts of Police Merit Word of Praise

Once again the cooperation of neighboring police departments has produced quick solutions to vicious crimes which have sickened and angered area residents.

With two murders under investigation in Waterford Township, police from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, Pontiac, Bloomfield Township and the State were quick in joining forces with officers there.

When Bloomfield Township had its hands full with the recent sniper case, offers of help were prompt, and they were accepted.

Without this free assistance, criminals would have a much easier time, and probably some would escape detection completely.

This cooperation is nothing new, but it has borne obvious fruits in recent situations and merits praise for the protection it affords all our residents.

Camp Fire Girls Mark Long Period of Growth

Our congratulations go to the Camp Fire Girls on its 53rd anniversary.

This splendid character-building organization has had significant influence in the development of our girls from 7 to 18 years of age.

The program of training is expertly paced to appeal to and benefit the four age categories covered by the 10-year span.

Activities and study courses are stepped up to the acme represented by the Horizon Club. This program deals with coed activities, service and social skills as the young women progress toward the duties and responsibilities of homemaking and motherhood—not far in the future. Leadership is of the utmost importance in all youth training associations.

The noteworthy success and popularity of this one is rooted in the fine spirit of self-sacrifice and dedication motivating a large number of women to give time and thought to the effective functioning of the local councils.

But the benefits of any volunteer agency are inherently reciprocal. Unit leaders, of whom 25 per cent are working mothers, feel amply repaid by the intangible benefits gained from group experience, the inner warmth associated with character-building, the new friends made and the self-confidence acquired.

We render a respectful salute to Camp Fire Girls on its noteworthy milestone and the fine part it has come to play in the American way of life.

India's Military Budget Burden to Population

The United States is not the only country that finds the cost of military armaments a back-breaking one. India will serve as an example.

Before the Red Chinese invasion, she, with a moderate amount of foreign aid, seemed to be headed toward a comparatively stable and progressive economy.

But with the need to increase and maintain protection against Chinese aggression, staggering tax increases have been instituted.

The military budget is upped by 70 per cent. To offset it, income taxes in the lower brackets are increased as much as 450 per cent. Import duties variously rise from 15 to 55 per cent.

All of India's taxpayers will have to deposit up to 3 per cent of their after-tax incomes in government savings accounts. And businesses whose after-tax incomes exceed 6 per cent of their capital value must pay a 50 per cent tax on all subsequent profits.

Since the per capita annual income of the population is a meager $69, the new tax impositions can be viewed in no other light than a most oppressing hardship by the struggling masses.

"PERSONAL income is at an all-time high." But so is personal output; consequently personal net gain remains at the same extremely low level.

Vegetable's Double Life Produces Floral Oddity

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND
The subject today is Brassica oleracea capitata, pronounced Brassica oleracea capitata. (Editor's note: Wouldn't it be easier just to write "cabbage"?)

Mebbe so, mebbe so. But this is sort of a status cabbage, and rates red-carpet treatment.

The specimen you are looking at, three months ago just another run-of-the-garden head of cabbage, was piled along with many others by

Well, see, he, it may well have been that on Christmas Eve "not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse"—but something else was... the cabbage. For at that time it started to grow a flower—right out of the top of its head... and has been at it ever since.

Probably the plebeian cabbage ran a bit to the aesthetic and, if you'll put up with mixing a flora and fauna simile, had a yen to take a leaf out of the ugly duckling's book and become a swan.

Soo-o, the resulting stalk with yellow blossoms has been growing for three months, now towers 22 inches, and has transmuted Mr. S from a costermonger into a horticulturist.

The Silver-Curtain Seems A Bit Porous

Russ Admit Promises Worthless

WASHINGTON — Again and again it has been asserted that pledge made by the Soviet government is not worth the paper it is written on. Confirmation of that assertion now has come from Alexei Adzhubel, son-in-law of Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Mr. Adzhubel was just visited Rome, where he had a private audience with the Pope. There are indications that some kind of effort is being made by the Soviets to establish a better feeling between the Vatican and the Moscow government.

Ostensibly, the purpose is to simulate friendly relations, but actually it is unquestionably a maneuver on the propaganda side — to soothe the antagonism toward the Communists that prevails for religious reasons throughout Latin America, where the peoples of all the countries are predominantly Catholic.

After Mr. Adzhubel left Rome, he was interviewed by reporters in Vienna. He declined to disclose any details of his conference at the Vatican, and a news dispatch quotes him as saying: "I am an atheist. I could break my word to the holy father, but I will not." Another news service quotes him as adding: "As an atheist, I would not even be compelled to keep a promise."

The blunt statement that an atheist is under no obligation to keep promises will not come as a surprise to those people who have regarded atheism as a synonym for immorality.

There are some atheists, of course, who are honorable people and who believe in a moral code. But the Communists make no bones about the fact that, as atheists, they do not have to keep a promise or obey any of the rules of morality to which western civilization adheres.

Mr. Khrushchev's son-in-law undoubtedly wants to see a meeting between the Soviet premier and Pope John XXIII. He said, however, that, while an exchange of views between them as "heads of state" would be useful, "There can never be peaceful coexistence between the Christian religion and our Communist doctrine."

MUST KEEP PROMISES
Oddly enough, the negotiations being carried on constantly between the United States government and the Moscow regime are predicated on the assumption that both parties will keep their promises.

The prolonged discussion, for instance, of a nuclear-test ban presupposes good faith on both sides. Otherwise, cheating could nullify any agreements that might be signed.

Likewise, the United States has been relying upon the Soviet government to keep its promise with reference to the withdrawal of Soviet troops and technicians from Cuba.

What is surprising is the boldness now of Mr. Khrushchev's son-in-law in proclaiming that communism doesn't require the keeping of pledges and that at any time they may be violated. This is a species of immorality to which the West is unaccustomed, and yet it is the key to the whole problem of relations between the Moscow government and the nations of the West.

It is difficult to see how the American government in the future can negotiate with the Moscow government on any subject which involves a mutual obligation. For the United States government now has been publicly advised that embedded in the basic thesis of communism is the atheistic privilege of violating written or oral pledges at will. Lenin himself enunciated the doctrine as follows:

"We have to use any ruses, dodges, tricks, cunning, unlawful method, concealment, and veiling of the truth."

Project Hope Effective as U.S. World Envoy

NEW YORK — The S.S. Hope, the Great White Ship which has carried medical aid and education to the peoples of Southeast Asia and more recently to the poor of Peru, strikes me as the best ad the United States has in its costly overseas humanitarian effort.

A short-wave radio broadcast by Nick Clark, director of logistics for Project Hope, made earlier this month, as the ship sailed for New York from Salaverry, Peru, enhances that opinion.

"Some 30,000 men, women and children crowded the pier, the jet, CONSIDINE, ties and the entire shoreline for three miles to bid this famous white hospital ship and her dedicated staff adios."

Last night the city of Trujillo came down to Salaverry—the lines of auto lights stretching miles along the coastline—to put on a first-rate fireworks display for the benefit of the ship.

Her hull and superstructure were lit up almost continually with dazzling patterns of exploding color. A brass band and several trucks set off dancing on the dock until far into the night.

"A tragic explosion of two rockets marred the gay atmosphere. Two persons were severely wounded, one with deep lacerations and three degree burns, the other with a fractured skull."

"They were rushed to the ship by launch and before they arrived alongside, doctors and nurses were at the gangway to examine them and provide emergency treatment."

"Although the entire hospital had been shut down for the night, instruments and dressings were rushed from the storeroom to the staff and two operating rooms were ready for action within minutes."

"Eight blood donors from the ship's staff were lined up via the public address system in nine minutes flat. Before the night was over, heart massage was required for one patient and a cranial injury for the other."

"It was truly inspirational to witness the staff of this ship turning to with such great speed and precision, functioning as an efficient team."

"Another footnote had been added to the Hope's reputation in the hearts of the Peruvians."

Project Hope depends on the public not the government for its survival. You can take part. Lowest contribution acceptable: one cent. Largest: there's no limit.

Dr. Edgar L. Harden, president of Northern Michigan College, pulled no punches in his criticism of "harmful rivalries and jealousies" that he said are damaging Michigan's educational system.

In his Citizen's Conference on Education, Dr. Harden said: "It is time that the citizens of Michigan know of competition between our publicly supported institutions of higher learning. I am convinced that so-called 'voluntary' cooperation among these institutions has failed."

Seldom, if ever, has criticism been expressed as forcefully as it was by Dr. Harden when he charged Michigan college and university officials with "diverting too much time and energy to competitiveness with one another."

Citing what he called "the brutal and bruising battle for legislative appropriations," Dr. Harden said the public "must determine whether recruitment (of students) is being conducted primarily to attract more dollars from the legislature to use in programs which make only a remote impact upon the student."

Dr. Harden said he had come with great reluctance to the conclusion that Michigan needs an overall planning board for higher education, but that he sincerely believes "that the best interests of our state will be served when responsible lay and professional people are charged with bringing

Citizens Express Feelings on Recent Murder Cases

We do deeply regret the murder that took place at the Mall. I'm sure there are thousands of Negroes who read about it and it really brings sadness to our hearts. This throws a bad reflection on all Negroes.

I believe the fault lies with parents when a crime such as this is committed. Send your children to Sunday school while they are young. There they will learn about honesty, decency, respect, pride and self-control. I'm sure this will give them something to look forward to in life.

Outraged

When will the NAACP start working at home? I can't drive through the southern section of the city in the daytime without being accosted by prostitutes. This is the breeding ground of all the murders and high crime statistics we are facing today. How about it, Pontiac police?

Disgusted

I commend our law enforcement officers for the fine job they did in solving two brutal murders.

Why not take murderers, under guard and handcuffed, to the funeral home and make them look at their victim for one hour? I'm certain this would be spent in deep thinking.

Right or Wrong

The murder of Robert Greene was a deliberate and vicious crime. How does the NAACP explain or alibi for Hodges and White? Kidnaping is a Federal law. Hanging is justifiable. Why should the state and taxpayers keep these vicious killers from death?

Detroit, Flint and Pontiac lead all other cities in Michigan for crimes. Our southern states have the lowest crime rate. They enforce the laws.

W. C. L. A.

I went to school with Robert Greene and everything the reverend said to me was true. It's time to put a stop to such useless and ruthless crimes. The older people had a saying "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth," and I feel that it would be a good way to treat persons committing such crimes.

These men will probably get a life and be turned loose again. A life sentence is not enough. They should be made to work and give every cent to Mrs. Greene, although it wouldn't ease her memory.

I'm writing to my district commissioner to see if Michigan can't rid our communities of this type of people.

Fed up

Does Michigan need the electric chair? The savage, vicious, brutal murder of Robert Greene most certainly calls for it. This is the sort of outrage the Mau Mau were committing in Kenya a few years ago.

order and reason out of anarchy which now exists."

Dr. Harden's call for action was timely. Michigan soon will have an opportunity to correct the situation which many are convinced needs correction.

That opportunity will come April 1 when the electorate expresses itself on the proposed new state constitution. Under the new document, the State Board of Education would serve as a general planning and coordinating body for all public education, including higher education, and would advise the legislature as to the financial requirements in connection therewith.

K's Factory Farms

The Jackson Citizen Patriot

One of the most startling—and perhaps significant—bits of news to come out of Russia since Sputnik is the report of Nikita Khrushchev's plan to turn Soviet farms into factories and do it with little private enterprise remains in farming.

It long has been known that agriculture is dear to Chairman Khrushchev's heart and that the Soviet Union's inability to improve the diet of its people is one of the weak spots in the Communist armor.

Mr. Khrushchev and his agricultural experts have visited American farms and have seen how individual land owners and their families perform miracles of production.

At the same time, he has seen how, in Russia itself, in China, in Cuba and the European satellite lands, the communal, or government-owned system of farming has failed to achieve prescribed goals.

Most observers have been guessing that Russia, sooner or later, would move toward more, instead of less, individual enterprise in farming. Khrushchev now seems to have decided exactly the opposite course.

Predictions never are safe where the Soviet Union is concerned. But it may very well be that Khrushchev's latest brainstorm with respect to Russian agriculture may weaken his nation to the point where it becomes less of a threat to world peace—or, possibly, it will become more dangerous as he attempts to cover up his failures.

FDA Unsure if Tuna Held Rare Poison

WASHINGTON (AP) — Food and Drug Administration officials appeared at odds today over whether a rare type of poison has been found in a discarded can of tuna fish which may have caused the deaths of two Detroit women.

George T. Daughters, Detroit FDA chief, said yesterday that an agency bacteriologist there had "positively identified" Type E Clostridium botulinum, which causes botulism.

But later in Washington Assistant FDA Commissioner J. K. Kirk issued a statement which said in part:

"We here have been advised of the preliminary findings which consisted of the same information which Mr. Daughters had. Dr. Glenn Slocum, chief of our division of microbiology, advised us that the findings were not in his judgment, conclusive but were preliminary in nature."

Meanwhile in New York a spokesman for the A&P food store chains said it would await recommendations of the FDA before determining whether to put its company brand of tuna fish back on the shelves of some 4,000 stores across the nation.

The chain offered refunds on any A&P tuna products. The suspected tuna fish was from a lot shipped to Detroit area A&P stores.

The Detroit victims were Mrs. Margaret McCarthy, 39, and a neighbor, Mrs. Collette Brown, 37. They had shared a snack of tuna fish sandwiches last week.

Daughters said FDA bacteriologist Ralph Johnson had tested the lid of a can of tuna fish found in one of the victims' garbage cans and had "positively identified" Type E Botulinum.

He said the same type of botulinum was isolated from the intestine of Mrs. Brown. A physician attributed Mrs. McCarthy's death to "botulism" and said "everybody points to Type E." Kirk in his statement said Daughters had been informed that Dr. Slocum believed the findings were not conclusive "and as far as we were concerned the FDA was still investigating this matter."

Named by Governor to Conservation Board

LANSING (AP) — Carl Johnson, Cadillac Republican, is Gov. George Romney's choice to succeed August (Gus) Scholle, state AFL-CIO leader, on the State Conservation Commission.

The appointment of a solid Republican to succeed a Democratic labor chief was sure to be confirmed by the Senate. Johnson, 51, a former official for the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, will succeed Scholle for the balance of a six-year term expiring April 1, 1967.

The Senate has been especially bitter toward Scholle because of his U.S. Supreme Court suit asking redistricting of the chamber to allow the Detroit area better representation in the power battle between city and out-state forces.

Republican senators, irked by the idea of Scholle sitting in the State Capitol to help decide conservation policies, several times made angry noises and speeches about his appointment to the seven-man commission.

Although it was threatened, they never did demand that he be fired from the commission. One reason was because some of the most powerful GOP leaders had fought Scholle on other issues — had won or lost — but still considered him a sincere and able representative of the labor movement on the commission.

Scholle has said he enjoyed the experience but left with no regrets when the Senate failed to confirm his appointment by former Gov. John Swainson.

Push N-Plant to Full Power

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — The full power of $2,000 (actual) kilowatts pulsed yesterday for the first time into Consumers Power Co. distribution lines from the atomic fueled Big Rock Point power plant here.

Initial electricity from the plant was channeled into Consumers' systems last Dec. 8, four months after technicians obtained the first controlled chain reaction from nuclear fuel at the plant.

Spokesmen said tests yesterday would be followed by a run of the turbine-generator to full power for about 100 hours to permit operating personnel to become familiar with the new power level.

The Big Rock Point generator is geared to provide power needs for the equivalent of a city of 65,000 persons.

Reaching its 50,000-kilowatt goal paves the way for a start on a four-year research and development program. It is the first nuclear plant to become operative in Michigan. Consumers Power Co., ultimately the sole owner, operates it under a research and development program in conjunction with the Atomic Energy Commission and General Electric Co.

House Backs Port Development Bills

LANSING (AP) — A package of three bills aimed at speeding development of public port facilities in the state's St. Lawrence Seaway cities has won preliminary approval in the House.

All three moved onto the voting list yesterday as lawmakers plunged into the long calendar of proposed legislation that managed to survive committees.

Two of the bills — providing for creation of so-called "foreign trade zones" and allowing port districts to accept gifts, grants and loans — got past without challenge.

But a third bill, seeking to cut the voters' majority needed for approval of port district bond issues from 60 to 51 per cent, ran into opposition, some of it from Wayne County lawmakers with whom public port districts are a sore point.

The arguments revolved around the familiar public - versus-private investment and the bill passed, to third reading only after bi-partisan support stopped two proposed amendments.

Rep. Richard Guzowski, D-Detroit, proposed that the three-fifths majority be restored, but the amendment was shouted down. Alexander Petri, D-Ecorse, recalling that a $15-million port authority bond issue lost by a fraction less than the required three-fifths majority, contended that Detroit is the only city which really would benefit from a public port.

"All of the Wayne County cities would be voting on this," he said, "and Detroit can dominate. Our side is that port development should be private enterprise."

Petri, Rep. Homer Arnett, R-Kalamazoo, and other opponents of public development, contended that private terminal operators are making strides in expanding port facilities in Wayne County. "They can take care of all the business that will come," said Petri.

Rep. Oscar Bowwma, R-Muskegon, said private enterprise would not suffer because facilities built with revenue bonds would be leased to private interests.

"We don't care if Detroit ever does it, but we want to do it in Muskegon," he said.

"The St. Lawrence Seaway made Detroit a world port. So in let's quit dragging our feet," said Rep. Gail Handy, R-Eau Claire.

"In all the major port cities of the U.S., the ports are public-owned."

"I'm as much for private enterprise as anybody, but we've got to go along this line."

Others speaking on behalf of the bill were Reps. Don Wismer, R-Port Huron, Francis Beeton, D-Muskegon, Jerome Traxler, D-Bay City, Paul Chandler, R-Livonia, David Upton, R-St. Joseph and Harry Demaso, R-Battle Creek.

"I live 121 miles from Detroit, and I feel my city of Battle Creek will benefit," stated Demaso. Upton said the bill concerned "a lot of cities," and not just Detroit, and Rep. George Edwards, D-Detroit, said the motor city is lagging way behind the rest of the Great Lakes cities in developing its port potential.

Low Intellectual Level

'English Students Below Par'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An educator says the intellectual level in most English courses "is far below that of other college courses—particularly science, mathematics and history."

Dr. Albert Kitzhaber, head of the curriculum study institute at the University of Oregon, told the conference on college composition and communication here Thursday that this is the way to improve college English courses:

1. Improve high school courses so college teachers won't have to teach grammar and other subcollegiate matters.

2. Widen the scope of freshman programs to take advantage of the knowledge available in fields like language, logic, rhetoric and psychology.

OK Purchase of Equipment for Hospital

The Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees last night approved the purchase of $5,597 in new equipment and improvements.

Most of the new items will be purchased with funds donated by hospital groups.

The women's auxiliary donated $2,930 for a new orthopedic table to replace one that is about 15 years old.

Air conditioning will be added to staff sleeping and conference rooms in the obstetrics department. Estimated cost is $650.

The money will come from the staff fund, financed through doctors' contributions.

An ice dispenser also was authorized for the obstetrics department. The cost is about $1,727. The board voted to temporarily suspend any further payments by doctors into the hospital equipment fund until the fund is down to $1,000.

It currently stands at about $6,000. The money is used to buy miscellaneous surgical equipment.

City Employees Unit to Stage Banquet

The Pontiac Municipal Employees Association (PMEA) will hold its annual banquet tomorrow at 6 p.m. in the Pontiac Elks Temple.

Some 100 members and guests are expected to attend the event.

Officers for the coming year will be installed by Clyde G. Townsend, general manager of the Pontiac Municipal Employees Credit Union and life member of the PMEA.

James G. Johnson, a city accountant, will be installed as president. Johnson recently was elected to his fourth consecutive term.

Tax Unit to Tell Total Valuation

Set Week of April 1 to Announce Amount

The Pontiac Tax Board of Review today indicated it would announce the city's total assessed valuation the week of April 1.

Three weeks of hearings were adjourned today. The board announced it would hold two more sessions, March 28 and 29, to hear any appeals from taxpayers who weren't able to appear at a regularly scheduled session.

The board convenes each year to hear appeals from taxpayers who think their tax assessments are too high. Board members then decide whether adjustments in the assessed valuation are justified.

They have been meeting at City Hall since March 5.

Following next Friday's session, results of the hearings will be tabulated, and the city's 1963 tax base will be officially established by the board.

The 1963 tax base was about $281 million. Anticipating an increase of about $7 million this year, the city budget was based on an estimated $288-million tax base.

On the $288-million total assessed valuation, a $14.95 per $1,000 tax rate would be required to finance this year's budget.

If the board sets a tax base below $288 million, the City Commission would have to either make further cutbacks in the budget or set a tax rate higher than $14.95.

Should the board recommend a higher tax base, the city would have the option of increasing some budget appropriations or decreasing the estimated tax rate.

Last year's tax rate was $13.85 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Peace Corps to Test

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Peace Corps will hold placement tests tomorrow in 823 cities for volunteers. The tests will be given in local Civil Service Commission testing centers.

Poor Georges Bidault, Where Will He Go?

By RICHARD O'REGAN

STEINERBACH, Germany (AP) — Georges Bidault gives the impression of a tragic, hunted exile with little prospect except political oblivion.

He is wanted by the French government and unwanted by his unwilling protectors in Germany. Bidault faces three choices within a few days. None of them gives him much hope of regaining the stature he once had as a distinguished French leader.

He can remain in Germany and give up political activity against his former friend and present enemy, Charles de Gaulle. If he stays, he will have to abandon in fact—even if not in name—the leadership he claims to have over the movement to overthrow de Gaulle.

He can allow himself to be deported from Germany. In this case, he may, like certain members of the terrorist French Secret Army, find himself wandering from country to country, seeking a refuge where he might operate in the open against his adversary.

Or he can decide to try to escape German police, flee Germany, and resume his clandestine wanderings about Europe. He would have to enter another country illegally and would be hunted by French secret agents.

GEORGES BIDAULT

has tried to assassinate de Gaulle.

"I am the boss of the CNR, you The boss!" he shouted almost incoherently a few days ago, as if his word was doubted.

He is charged in France with being a member of a clandestine organization which has been ordered dissolved because it is plotting against the security of the state. This is not a capital offense. He has not been accused of trying to kill de Gaulle, a crime punishable by death.

Bidault has been under German police guard since he was discovered 12 days ago living with two German journalists in a hilltop villa in this Bavarian village.

Police cars patrol the area. Two uniformed police patrol the villa's grounds with submachine guns.

There are plainclothesmen in the house, one outside the tiny, dusty room in the attic where Bidault sleeps on a cot and where his black homburg sits atop a pile of old newspapers.

He has had no rendezvous with anybody not allowed by the police.

Secret Army men were in the area before Bidault was discovered. One—Col. Antoine Argoud—handed over to the de Gaulle government by unknown persons a few days earlier.

If there still are CNR or secret army men in Bavaria, they apparently have had no direct contact with Bidault since he was found.

FIGUREHEAD?

Correspondents who have seen Bidault here get the impression that he may have become only a figurehead in the organizations.

He is a slightly built intellectual with bright eyes. His face has a greenish-yellowish pallor, his hair is white and he walks slowly. He sleeps late and appears to be conserving his energy.

Bidault is a former premier and in the house, one outside the tiny, dusty room in the attic where Bidault sleeps on a cot and where his black homburg sits atop a pile of old newspapers.

He has had no rendezvous with anybody not allowed by the police.

Secret Army men were in the area before Bidault was discovered. One—Col. Antoine Argoud—handed over to the de Gaulle gov-telle is a younger, more energetic; they may be hot on his trail.

DECISION SOON

The Bavarian government says a final decision on Bidault will come this weekend or early next week.

He may be expelled if he refuses to curb his political activity—something he declares he never will do. But where can he go openly? No country has indicated it will allow him to continue to plot against de Gaulle.

If he is permitted to stay in Bavaria, he may have to move to a residence chosen by the police, report to them regularly and refrain from political activity. Other exiles in Bavaria—Russians, Ukrainians, Poles, Hungarians, etc.—are allowed to be politically active. But they are not opponents of a state friendly to Germany.

It is entirely possible the Bavarians would turn a blind eye if Bidault tried to escape Germany. They would be rid of an embarrassment.

But Bidault says he is terrified of French secret agents. If he tries to escape Germany illegally, thereby doubling the amount of

While he is under the protection of German police, French agents undoubtedly will do nothing for fear of causing difficulties between Germany and France.

Russ Launch Sputnik Car

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet auto engineers yesterday exhibited a 15-horsepower economy car called Sputnik.

Powered by a two-cylinder engine, it can hit speeds of up to 40 miles an hour, Tass said, and goes nearly 30 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

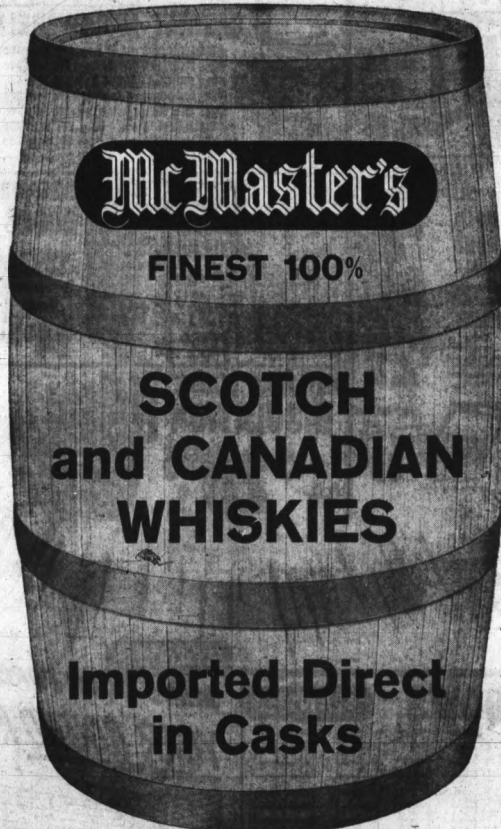

Two adults and two children can squeeze into it.

The Tass report did not say whether the car had gone into assembly line production, how many would be produced, or how much it would cost.

A hand-operated grass clipper has three blades instead of two, thereby doubling the amount of

Why do these fine whiskies cost so much less?
Scotch and Canadian Whiskies, bottled abroad, are imported in cases. The import duties and Federal excise taxes must be paid on a minimum of 100 proof... even though they are actually less than 100 proof.

We import fine McMaster's Whiskies in barrels at 100 proof or more and we pay the duty and excise taxes only on the actual proof. Then, just as they do in Canada and Scotland, we reduce the proof under careful supervision.

This substantial tax savings is passed on to you. If these fine whiskies were bottled abroad, they would cost you far more.

3 Boys Enter Science Fair

St. Frederick's Trio Show Exhibits

BY SHEILA LANE

Three St. Frederick's High School boys entered science projects in the Regional Floor Fair at Derby Junior High in Birmingham this afternoon.

Robert Bailey, James Barath and Robert Deland entered their exhibits on radiation, sound waves and rocketry, respectively.

Placement in this fair would qualify them for entry in the Sixth Annual Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair to be held April 8-9 at Cobo Hall.

Each student began by deciding upon a problem, compiling information relative to the problem, stating a hypothesis, experimenting and coming to a conclusion which proved or disproved his hypothesis. All information was then assembled into an exhibit.

Judging exhibits will be prominent engineers, scientists and educators.

JOURNEY TO DETROIT
Second-quarter honor roll members of St. Fred's journeyed to Marygrove College, Detroit yesterday to inspect the new college library erected on the campus last year.

Students left the school grounds at noon and spent the remaining school day viewing new facilities of the library. Sister Claudia, IHM, library director, personally conducted the students on their tour.

W. Bloomfield High to Display Projects

BY GINNY FAGEN

Teachers and students of West Bloomfield High School will present the annual student showcase Wednesday.

Purpose of the showcase is to give parents and the public the opportunity to see projects which have been completed by students under staff direction.

Contributing to the showcase will be the art, shop, social studies, homemaking, science, English and math departments.

The Business and Professional Women's Association of Keego Harbor is honoring senior girls of West Bloomfield at a banquet in the high school gym 8:30 p.m. Monday.

At Kettering Dance

Couple to Be Feted

BY BARB SECAN

Highlighting the annual Sadie Hawkins dance tonight at Waterford Kettering High School will be the selection of a mock Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae.

The couple will be chosen by ticket stub drawing with the boy receiving a gift certificate and the girl receiving a corsage, compliments of the junior class.

"Returns to Dogpatch" will be held from 8 to 11 p.m. in the gym and will feature a Dog-patch decorations theme with silhouetted characters, wooden fencing and other items.

Music will be supplied by recordings and tickets will be on sale at the door. The guest policy will be in effect and Kettering students must present their identification cards.

The turn about will make the girls responsible for making all arrangements for the evening and footing the bills with the boys playing the female role by wearing gaudy corsages made by their dates out of anything from baby bottles to worms.

Working on the dance with general chairman Nancy Shadrick were committee chairmen Virginia Fry, Joy McReynolds and Diane Irish.

"The Dogpatch Five" presented skits over the public address system during intermission. With comedy song enacted by Robert Dugan and Don Douglas.

DANCE CLUB

Under the sponsorship of Robert Smith a new dance club has been organized at Waterford Kettering. The purpose is to afford students the opportunity to receive free dance instructions in social and popular dances.

Students gather every Monday from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. in the cafeteria and new members are welcome to join.

SCIENCE FAIR

Projects will be selected to represent Kettering in the science fair display in the Pontiac Mall April 8, 9, and 10. A standing trophy will be awarded to the winner of the best project and between Waterford Kettering and Waterford Township High Schools.

Waterford High Frosh Planning Variety Show

By LIZ VENIE

Freshmen at Waterford Township High School are planning the spring variety show to be presented Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the school gym.

Some 21 acts, including dance routines, instrumental numbers, vocal selections and comedy will be featured.

Mary Burrell and Carol Hall are student directors assisted by Dale Epler, student manager, and Allan Cunningham and David Belsie, staging.

Sophomore Pamela Clark will preside at the evening performance. Tickets will be available at the door and at the WTHS ticket booth next week.

Seven of the variety acts will be presented to the student body at the all-school talent assembly Thursday morning.

Local forensics contests were held this week to select Waterford's representatives in the district and regional contests.

Bonnie Mako took first place in the declamation category, followed by Helen Carrick.

First and second places in the oratory division went to Susan Hales and Michael Alsop, respectively.

Seniors John Smithson and Barbara Carrick were awarded first and second places in humorous readings.

Gerlinde Supplitt placed first in the extemporaneous category with Pat Owens second.

Sophomores are planning a dance March 29 from 8 to 11 p.m. in the school gym.

Pamela Morgan, sophomore class vice president is general chairman of the event, which will feature a south sea islands theme.

Waterford's DAR Good Citizens Marilyn Seiber received honorable mention at the recent statewide luncheon for all girls honored by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Some 28 co-op students accompanied by Richard Shupe, business education coordinator, traveled to the Western Michigan University campus to attend a statewide convention of co-op students.

Student council announced the climax of a "clean-up" campaign held last week to urge students to improve the school appearance.

Shortage Is Slowly Being Eliminated

Shortage of public school classrooms in the United States last fall totaled 121,200, the United States Office of Education reports on the basis of information received from 50 states and the District of Columbia. This is 6,100 fewer than the shortage reported for the previous year.

Pick Victors in Emmanuel Science Fair

BY CAROL ARMBRUSTER

Winner of the annual science fair at Emmanuel Christian High School Tuesday night was Raymond Badger, whose project on testing reflexes won him $10.

Second-place winner was Elmer Harrington with a display on the flow of electric current.

Harold Nichols captured third-place honors with his exhibit of Pascal's principle in relation to hydraulic lifts.

Receiving ribbons for excellence were Floyd Chapel, Donna Girdley and Maria Lloyd.

Ribbons for outstanding displays were given to Linda Douglas, Patricia Gidcum, Joan Hawes, Daniel Largent and Joellyn Peterson.

Concluding the list are winners of honorable mention ribbons: John Harrington, Gail Kono, David McLott, Gregory Peterson and Charles Young.

Judges included John Ellithorpe, science instructor; Charles Joss, biology; and Hubert Karl, general science and physics.

Displays were judged on appearance, clarity of presentation, technical skill, scientific thought, ability shown in presentation, thoroughness and continuity.

They were viewed during school Tuesday and during the parent teacher fellowship meeting in the evening. The fair was sponsored by the freshman class.

Emmanuel students had a vacation as teachers were in conference.

Oxford Debaters Capture 1st Place

BY SHARON MANN

In the Suburban League debate tournament held last week, Oxford High School debaters captured first place. This is the third year Oxford has been in the Suburban League and the second straight year they have won the first place trophy.

Jean Aldredge and Sara Tripp were the negative debaters for Oxford with Martha Hedberg and Janet Morgan on the affirmative team. Debaters from each school debated for four rounds with six debates in each round.

Other schools participating included Romeo, Troy, Royal Oak Kimball, Madison Heights, Avondale, Pontiac Northern and Berkley.

Proposals of a legislative committee to speed up education in New York, possibly shortening the 12 or 13 year span by a year or two through a lengthened school day and school year, are meeting with stiff opposition.

Legal Advice Abounded for Constitution Judicial Article

By GENE SCHROEDER
LANSING — The largest helping of legal advice in Michigan's history was served to the constitutional convention when it began considering the judicial branch of government.

Some of the advice was followed, some was rejected.

It consisted of 5,254 questionnaires completed by members of the state bar and covered matters of judicial selection and tenure and court administration.

Among the major bar recommendations embraced by the proposed new constitution were:

—Elimination of justices of the peace as constitutionally recognized court officers.

—Immediate establishment of a court of appeals.

—Election of Supreme Court justices on a nonpartisan basis.

—Requiring that probate judges be lawyers.

Convention delegates devoted more time to debate on the new judicial article than on any other category.

FORWARD OR BACKWARD?

There was general agreement that Michigan's legal system now is one of the best in the nation, but proponents of the revised constitution contend the system will be greatly improved and opponents insist the document is a step backward in some ways.

Findings of the Inter-University Faculty Committee on Constitutional Revision indicate that the new judicial article has both merits and demerits.

The committee, composed of 35 professors from Michigan colleges and universities, undertook its study with the avowed purpose of presenting a "balanced" viewpoint to Michigan voters, who will decide the fate of the proposed constitution at the polls April 1.

The committee report on the judicial provisions declares that most legal issues, particularly on the appellate level, are political at root.

"Judicial decision-making involves a response on the part of the individual judge both to societal values which he deems important, and to be the role which he sees himself fulfilling," the educators said. They found three basic merits in the judicial article and three serious shortcomings.

They listed the improvements as the establishment of the intermediate court of appeals, abolition of the justice of the peace as a constitutional township officer (along with elimination of the fee system of salary payment) and a sharper focus on the concept of a unified court system.

SOME DRAWBACKS

Demerits, they said, are: —Nomination and election of the judges of the court of appeals on a district basis.

—Depriving the governor of authority to fill judicial vacancies.

—Election of Supreme Court justices need not be done on a statewide basis.

Establishment of a court of appeals will relieve the Supreme Court of its overload of cases.

The Supreme Court also will have more time to handle instances where there is a conflict in lower court decisions, the committee reported.

Barring the payment of fees to judges, the committee said "does away with the worst aspect of the J.P. system—the venality possible in the fee system of salary payment."

Discussing what were considered shortcomings, the educators said the selection of appeals court judges on a geographical district basis would have the effect of over-representing outstate Michigan among the court's personnel.

"Denying the governor authority to fill judicial vacancies is a decided step backward," the report declared.

APPOINTED JUDGES

As proposed, the Supreme Court would be empowered to appoint judges to fill vacancies on its own or any other bench, but the appointees would come from the ranks of retired judges and would serve only until a new judge is elected.

"Because an appointed judge may not stand for election, the nonpartisan election will give an overwhelming advantage to a candidate with a good political name regardless of his qualifications to hold judicial office," the educators contended.

Along with denying the governor the power to fill vacancies, they said, the most severe shortcoming in the judicial article is the failure to require the statewide election of Supreme Court justices.

This is especially disturbing, the report added, given the tone of the debate in the convention and the narrow defeat suffered by those who sought to require the election of the justices by district. The vote at one point was 64 to 62.

Pointing out the Supreme Court justices are to be elected "at nonpartisan elections as provided by law," the educators observed:

"The fact that the proponents of a district scheme came close to victory in the convention makes it not improbable that the legislature may enact just such a requirement."

Several months after the constitutional convention ended its work, the state bar's board of commissioners decided to take no official stand — pro or con — on the new document.

In explanation, Milton Bachmann, executive secretary of the bar, said the decision was based on the fact that membership in the bar of Michigan is compulsory for attorneys.

"And we have members on both sides of the political fence," he observed.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Trench Mouth Problem for Doctor, Dentist

Q—Our son developed a sore mouth and the doctor said it was trench mouth. He gave him penicillin and arsenic shots and has him use peroxide as a mouth wash but, after five months, his mouth is still sore.

What causes it? Is it contagious?

A—Trench mouth or Vincent's angina is caused by a germ known as Borrelia vincenti.

It is believed to be transmitted through contaminated eating utensils so, in order to protect other members of the family, all dishes used by your son should be boiled.

The disease may also be spread by kissing.

Vigorous treatment with the drugs your doctor is now using usually clears up this condition but when penicillin fails, another antibiotic, tetracycline, should be tried.

Some cases are difficult to treat and in such cases the doctor should work in close cooperation with a dentist because the disease cannot exist in gums properly cared for.

Q—What does it mean when you see rainbow-colored rings around lights at night? I have been wearing glasses since 1945 but have been seeing the rainbows only recently.

A—This could be due to a film of grease on your glasses but if this were the cause the rainbows would disappear when you looked at the lights without your glasses or if you cleaned your glasses with soap and water or silica paper.

The commonest cause of rainbows around lights is glaucoma.

Since this is a serious condition for which early treatment is necessary to save your sight, you should see your eye doctor without delay.

Q—Can a very nervous person have a normal child? Would pregnancy help such a person or would it make her worse?

Would severe nervousness in the mother cause a child to be deformed?

A—A person who is extremely nervous would have as good a chance as anyone else of having a child that was physically normal at birth but such a person would be unlikely to provide the calm surroundings that would insure the best chance for the child's normal emotional development.

Although pregnancy would not necessarily make a nervous person more nervous, it would certainly not cure the nervousness.

Your best course would be to seek aid in getting over the nervousness and then decide whether or not you want to have a child.

Q—I have had myositis in my legs for two years and it is getting worse. Aspirin and codeine do not help.

I get very little sleep when it is bad. Cortisone helped some at first but doesn't help now.

What treatment do you advise?

A—Since chronic myositis or inflammation of a muscle sheath is often due to some focus of infection (the teeth, nasal sinuses or gall bladder), a careful search should be made for such a cause.

Many a sufferer has been cured of myositis almost overnight following the removal of a crowned tooth that had a painless smoldering abscess at its roots.

The drugs you have been taking are the ones usually prescribed. They usually give some relief but, since they do not remove the cause, the relief is short-lived. Applying an electric pad for 2 to 30 minutes two or three times a day often gives more lasting relief than the pills but even that does not usually get rid of the cause.

Last of Alcatraz Inmates 'Escape' the Dreaded 'Rock'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Only the ghosts of "Scarface Al" Capone, George "Machine Gun" Kelly and others of America's most notorious gangsters in habited the lofty cell blocks of Alcatraz Prison today.

The last 27 of the island prison's 260 - inmate population were removed yesterday and transferred to other institutions preparatory to closing down "The Rock" by June 30.

Those 27 left the easy way — by boat. During its 29 years as the home of the federal government's most hardened convicts, seven inmates were shot and killed, six drowned or were believed to have drowned, and 26 were seized in 14 escape attempts.

A blond, thin-faced gun smuggler from Anchorage, Alaska, named Frank C. Weatherman had the distinction of being the last inmate off Alcatraz. A newsman asked him how he felt about it.

"Good. Good for me, good for everyone. Alcatraz never was no good," the 29-year-old convict replied.

A few minutes after Weatherman and the others departed, guard Gordon Gronzo clumped down the steps of the 75-foot-high gun tower No. 1. He carried a rifle and wore another cartridge belt slung over his shoulder. No longer was there any need for him to watch for trouble on Alcatraz.

Alcatraz was opened in 1934

to house incorrigibles during the wave of gangland violence that followed the end of prohibition.

The decision to abandon the 29-year-old prison in San Francisco Bay was prompted by its deterioration from age and salt air. Federal officials said it would cost $5 million to renovate it.

The condition of the prison was dramatized last June when three bank robbers used sharpened spoons to dig through rotting concrete at the back of their cells and fled the island. Officials are convinced they drowned, although their bodies were never found.

But the most spectacular escape attempt was the May 2, 1946 "Battle of Alcatraz" witnessed for two days by thousands from the hills of San Francisco.

Navy destroyers circled the island, U.S. Marines stormed ashore and fighter planes zoomed low overhead as nine inmates attempted to "blast out" of a three-tiered cellblock.

But they were thwarted when a captured guard managed to hide an all-important key; he was beaten and killed when the prisoners tried unsuccessfully to force him to reveal the hiding place.

Two other officers were slain and a third critically wounded; three inmates died in the battle and two were later executed.

Childless couples always bring up their kids very successfully. Poon for today: Girls who trip the light fantastic, shouldn't count on cheap elastic ... Down at our friendly neighborhood tavern, they told about the guy going to the electric chair, choosing his menu for his last supper. "I'd like some mushrooms," he said. "I've always been afraid to eat them." Earl Wilson.

Ex-Turkey President Released From Jail

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UPI) — Former President Celal Bayar, who was imprisoned for life for violating the Turkish constitution today was released because of his ill health.

The government freed the 80-year-old former leader from Kayseri Prison so he could go home to his family in Ankara.

Bayar was imprisoned in May 1961, along with several hundred other members of the Democratic party after a marathon trial at Yassada.

Adnan Menderes, premier in the former regime, and two of his top ministers subsequently were executed.

After gold, South Africa's most valuable export is wool. Uranium ranks third. A de-inking process has been developed that makes it possible to reuse newspaper paper. Mylar is being used to make a rope twice as strong and lighter than manila.

Income Tax Priority Set Up Between States

The bill would allow out-of-staters working in Minnesota to be taxed on Minnesota income in their own states.

Can Be a Breeze of a Freeze

Government Gumshoes' Job Varies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secret Service men assigned to President Kennedy and his family have plenty of variety in their jobs.

Some get to shiver in a tent guarding the site of the Kennedy's new weekend retreat at Rattlesnake Mountain near Atoke, Va. They've had a cold wet winter and a lonely outpost to hold down.

Meanwhile, other luckier fellow agents get to bask in the warm Florida sun at Palm Beach.

Duty there can mean watching Caroline and John Jr. at play or following the President on his daily yachting excursions.

The Secret Service men, trained in a multitude of chores, also pilot water jet speedboats to keep tabs on the Kennedys on the water.

Sometimes, the speedboats are called into action to tow Mrs. Kennedy on water-skiing trips in waters off Florida or Cape Cod.

TOUGHER JOB
This is the vacationing side of the presidential duty, however. More often there are the rugged out-of-the-country assignments like this week's fast three-day official trip to Costa Rica.

And there is the day-to-day White House protection that keeps agents screening visitors, accompanying Kennedy on speech-making appearances around Washington and the United States and watching out for crackpots.

Probably the most unwanted post is at the isolated building site in the Virginia hunt country. Agents are kept on 24-hour guard there as workmen push to finish the ranch-style home for the Kennedys by mid-April.

Their biggest headache has been keeping off photographers and sightseers.

But the major discomfort has been the winter weather, with snow, rain and sleet to cope with.

The 16-by-32-foot green tent was put up on the 39-acre Kennedy hilltop site to shelter the agents while the house went up.

It has a small heating stove. Usually, agents assigned to Middleburg have been housed in nearby trailers when off duty.

The Secret Service is secretive about its operations, and gives little information on what it's doing.

But it is no secret that the coming of spring yesterday was a welcome event for the Rattlesnake Mountain agents.

Kennedy Fears 1970 Will See 10 Nuclear Powers in World

By JOHN HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says he is "haunted by the feeling" that there may be 10 nuclear powers in the world by 1970, more than double the present number. By 1975, he fears, the total may be 15 or 20 nations with nuclear weapons.

The President gave these rough estimates of the potential spread of weapons in discussing at his news conference the reason why he intends to keep working for an agreement with the Soviet Union destruction weapons will no longer be controlled by the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain.

to ban all nuclear weapons tests. He pictured a world of the not-too-distant future in which the risk of devastating warfare would be vastly increased because the ability to use mass with the Soviet Union have been

"I see the possibility in the 1970s," he said, "of the president of the United States having to face a world in which 15 or 20 or 25 nations may have these weapons. I regard that as the greatest possible danger and hazard."

DIMMED BY DEVELOPMENT

Kennedy conceded that his hopes for a test ban agreement with the Soviet Union have been dimmed by recent developments. They were high last December and January after Premier Khrushchev, in the wake of the Cuban crisis, agreed to the principle of on-site inspections to enforce a test ban though he limited the number of such inspections in the Soviet Union to two or three.

The United States has reduced its demands progressively from 20 such inspections a couple of years ago to a present total of seven. Since Khrushchev's offer of two or three was put on a take-it-or-leave-it basis, the nuclear test talks which started so hopefully in January have once more fallen into a familiar deadlock.

But Kennedy said he would not give up hope, especially when the difference is between seven and three inspections, so far as this particular issue is concerned.

"STAY AT IT"

"We have come this far," he said, "and I think that we ought to stay at it." The spread of nuclear weapons since they were invented during World War II has been relatively slow. The United States emerged from the war as the only real nuclear power though Britain and Canada had participated in weapons development. In the years immediately following, the Soviet Union and Britain produced the weapons, and more recently France has carried out a number of tests for the avowed purpose of creating its own nuclear force. Many other countries have the capacity or the potential capacity for nuclear weapons. The one most frequently mentioned is Communist China, and U.S. officials have predicted that the Red Chinese might explode a nuclear device by the end of this year.

There is overwhelming public opinion against nuclear weapons in many countries, Japan being the outstanding example. But what Kennedy and his advisers fear is that unless the arms race can be brought under control, opinions and national policies in many countries will change because of security and prestige considerations.

U.S. disarmament authorities believe that the Soviet government is as worried as the United States about the spread of nuclear weapons, and this is one of the reasons why they think that a test ban treaty with the Soviet Union may yet be agreed upon.

Dam Engineers Given Jail Terms and Fines

ZAMORA, Spain (AP) — Jail terms of one year and heavy fines were imposed yesterday on four engineers and construction supervisors who built a dam that collapsed four years ago, killing 141 persons.

The men were accused of gross negligence. All four served their time awaiting trial. Six others were acquitted.

Legislate Bible Reading

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Bible passages could be recited in California public schools as long as they are not part of religious training, under legislation passed yesterday in the assembly.

Awarded $20,000 for Stripping of Tires

MIAMI (AP) — A federal court jury has awarded $20,000 damages to a man who contended he was shorn of privacy and humiliated when a dealer stripped all four tires off his car in 1960.

Jose Santiesteban, a country club waiter, said coworkers joshed him about the incident and the club asked him to move the car—left standing on its rims—because it was a source of embarrassment. He did so after borrowing some tires.

The defense admitted Santiesteban was not behind in his installment payments for the tires. It said the tire-stripping resulted from a mixup.

Killer Rides Lightning to Death at Sing Sing

OSSINING, N.Y. (AP) — Five-time killer Frederick C. Wood was executed in Sing Sing Prison's electric chair Thursday night after anticipating death with a wise-crack and a smile.

To the end, Wood repudiated the efforts of persons he termed "do-gooders" to gain him a reprieve. A derelict who had spent 30 of his 51 years in prison, Wood said he had no wish for further life behind bars.

Instead, he pleaded for an opportunity to "ride the lightning" of the electric chair.

Wood arrived for his "ride" at 10:01 p.m. Four minutes later he had come to the end of the journey.

As he entered the death-house of the prison 35 miles north of New York City Wood looked around and cracked to the witnesses:

"I have a speech to make on an educational project. You will see the effect of electricity on Wood. Enjoy yourself."

BRUSHES CHAIR OFF

Then, laughing, Wood walked to the electric chair with a cigarette dangling from his mouth, brushed the chair off with his hand and calmly told the assemblage:

"I'll be with you in a moment. Wait'll I get through with my cigarette."

He tossed the cigarette to the floor and sat down as guards strapped him into the death chair. He was still smiling when the traditional black hood was lowered over his face.

Lawyers and New York Civil Liberties Committee spokesmen who did not even know Wood's wife received.

FREDERICK C. WOOD

fought to the last to save him, contending he was insane. Hours before the execution, three associate U.S. Supreme Court justices turned the appeal down, and Chief Justice Earl Warren refused to intercede.

N.J. Governor 'Ticketed' for Parking Illegally

PRINCETON, N. J. (UPI) — Gov. Richard J. Hughes left his executive mansion yesterday and found another parking ticket on the windshield of his limousine.

This one was placed by Assembly Speaker Elmer M. Matthews to chide the governor about a ticket hung on his limousine Wednesday outside the state-house. Matthews said it was one who did not even know Wood's wife received.

Fire Levels Auto Shop Despite Combined Fight

TWINING, Minn. — Fire destroyed an auto repair shop on M86 in this Ansonia County community yesterday.

Sheriff Edward Bessinger said the Twining Fire Department enlisted aid of two other departments in nearby Ansonia and Turner. There was no immediate estimate of damages.

Church Units Get Together at Meetings

Four circles of the Oakland Park Methodist Church Women's Society of Christian Service met Wednesday.

Debra Circle met for a luncheon at the church. The program was on UNESCO.

Mrs. Lenna McCulley hosted a luncheon of the Mary Martha Circle in her Fairgrove Avenue home. Mrs. John LaMont was a guest.

Esther Circle met at the home of Mrs. Robert Gallagher.

Mrs. Daniel MacDuff and Mrs. Adolph Twelt were hostesses for the evening meeting of the Rebecca Circle at the church. Mrs. Samuel Tilby and Mrs. Lyle Dusenbury were welcomed as new members. This circle will host the March 28 Lenten dinner.

Spring Dinner Tuesday for Secretaries

The Oakland Association of Educational Secretaries will hold their annual spring dinner meeting Tuesday at the Clarkson Community Senior High School at 7 p.m.

Guest speaker for the evening is Dr. E. L. Marietta, professor of commercial education at Western Michigan University, who will discuss "When You Write, What Does He Read?"

The group will also complete plans for their bosses' banquet, May 14.

Hostesses for the meeting are from the Clarkson Community schools.

Area Groups Meet

Policewoman L. L. Gonia spoke to members of the Alpha Omicron Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma at its Wednesday dinner meet at Topinka's Country House.

L. L. Donald Krait of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department spoke on mouth-to-mouth breathing and demonstrated on his model "Resusc-A-Lite" at the Thursday evening meeting of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, Alpha Alpha Chapter, at the Baybrook Drive home of Mrs. Elmer Johnson.

United Church Women Plan Annual Institute

The United Church Women (UCW) of Pontiac are planning their annual institute in the First Methodist Church, Saginaw, March 29 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

The theme is "The Church Ecumenical: It's Mission." Officers of the various women's fellowship groups and ministers' wives are urged to attend for inspiration in planning the year's activities.

Mrs. William J. Hopper, Royal Oak, executive secretary, UCW of Michigan, will assist in discussions. Other leaders will be Mrs. Donald

Reports on Highlights of Legislative Day

Mrs. Peter Niemi gave highlights of the Legislative Day in Lansing March 14 at the Thursday meeting of the Anna Gordon Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Others attending were Mrs. William Carls, Mrs. Ida McCullough, Mrs. Jack Lilleyman and Mrs. Nellie Monroe.

The district institute luncheon meeting will be held April 24 at 9:45 a.m. at the First Baptist Church. A breakfast is set for 7 at the Congregational Church.

Mrs. William Bradley gave devotions.

Special speaker Mrs. Ralph Graham spoke on the new proposed liquor bills at the Wednesday cooperative dinner and business meeting of the Frances Willard Unit of WCTU at the Church of the Brethren.

A forum and debate on the new proposed constitution was led by Mrs. Sophia P. Sulz.

Tickets may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Gordon or Mrs. Friedman; from Alvin's; or at the Huron Theater each night of the show.

Join Groups From MSU on Road Tour

Four musical organizations left Michigan State University campus midweek for an eight-day tour of 19 Midwestern and Eastern states.

The MSU Singers, MSU Concert Band, Men's Glee Club and Spartan Bell Rings will feature 25 student musicians in concerts, high school assemblies and music clinics.

The groups who tour annually between winter and spring terms will perform under the auspices of the Cap and Gown series of the Continuing Education Service.

Appearing with the 55-piece State Singers will be Judith Ewald, Birmingham; Pamela Overton and Marlene Dowling, Farmington; and George Wilke, Southfield. Highlights of their tour are concerts at the Palmer House, Chicago; the Kiel Opera House, St. Louis; and the St. Meinrad Monastery in Indiana.

Acclaimed by eminent musicians as one of the leading bands in the country, the 100-member concert band will perform in six Michigan cities. This group includes Lawrence B. Reynolds, Pontiac; Thomas R. Hartle, Orchard Lake; Cheryl A. Weiss and John B. Boulton, Birmingham; John R. Boren, Fenton; and Robert L. Moresny, Taylor.

The 40-voice Men's Glee Club, oldest of the MSU musical groups, will also confine its tour to Michigan. Local member is Bill Nibbelink, Orchard Lake.

Plan Square Dance

Grand Square Dance Club will sponsor an anniversary dance Saturday from 9 to 12 p.m. at the Dunston School. Music will be furnished by the Ralph Haan Orchestra with Norman Hill as caller.

Announce Town Hall Lectures for 1963-64

Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall program chairman Mrs. Alex Capas announces the 1963-64 series of artists and lecturers.

Martin Agronsky, NBC radio and television news analyst, will open the Town Hall series Oct. 9 at the Huron Theater. His subject will be "The United States in a Changing World."

Agronsky has a weekly newscast on radio and is the Washington correspondent for the Today show.

A month later, on Nov. 13, Munro Leaf, creator of "Ferdinand the Bull" and the "Watchbird" will talk on his global tour under the sponsorship of the U.S. State Department's cultural education exchange program. His speech is titled "I Was a Cultural Exchange -- A Report to the Taxpayers."

Invitation for Entire Family

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Since my parents' death I have been living with my married sister and her family. Yesterday she received an invitation to the wedding of a cousin of ours addressed to Mr. and Mrs. John Jones and family. I did not receive an invitation.

A: My sister insists that the invitation is intended for me too as I am living with her and she wants me to go to the wedding. I think the invitation is meant for her family alone. Will you please settle this?

A: This uncertainty of whether or not you are included, is a good example of why invitations should not be addressed to "and family." However, since you are living under your sister's roof you may assume that you are included in her invitation.

Q: I am going to be married soon and there will be four bridesmaids and four ushers in the wedding party. None of them is engaged but all have boy and girl friends.

Is it necessary that they be invited to the wedding? I don't think it is as they are not engaged, but my sister thinks I owe this courtesy to my attendants. Will you please advise me?

A: As they are not engaged, it is not necessary to include their boy (or girl) friends, but if your wedding is to be a large one and these extra eight guests will make little difference, it will be a thoughtful kindness to invite them.

Q: When an usher in a theater shows you to your seat, turns the seat down for you and hands you a program, should he (or she) be given a tip?

A: Not in this country, but always in Europe.

Q: What is the proper reply to make to complimentary remarks such as, "That's a very pretty dress you're wearing," or "Your hair looks pretty arranged that way," etc. Is a simple "Thank you" sufficient?

A: A simple "thank you" is sufficient, or one may occasionally add, "I'm glad you like it," or "It's kind of you to say so."

The Emily Post Institute offers readers booklets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like the booklet entitled "The Bride's Trousseau," send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

People Thoughtless

Not Easy to Raise Boys

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of three sons, and I've heard many other mothers say, "You are lucky you have boys."

"You don't have to worry the way mothers do about their daughters."

Abby, this burns me up. They think if a girl gets in trouble it's her funeral, and boys don't create any problems no matter what they do.

What can I say to let them know they are dead wrong?

MOTHER OF BOYS

DEAR MOTHER: People who make such thoughtless remarks should be told that when a girl "gets in trouble" the parents of the boy who is responsible are just as heart-sick as the girl's parents.

And, furthermore, since the males are supposedly the natural aggressors, the job of rearing decent and disciplined boys is certainly equal to that of raising well-behaved girls.

DEAR ABBY: I wrote to you asking you to put me in touch with a man signed FLORIDA, who was looking for a wife.

He sounded just right for me and I know we could have made a wonderful match.

I was terribly disappointed when you wrote back saying that as a matter of policy you did not put people in touch with each other through your column.

Why do you have such a policy when you could get so many nice people together?

DISAPPOINTED IN YOU

DEAR DISAPPOINTED:

Bride-Elect

Some 25 medical assistants will honor Sandra Lynn Hutton at a bridal shower this evening in the Lake Orion home of Mrs. Clyde T. Gilling.

Trapp, heroine of the musical "The Sound of Music," singer, lecturer and mother of the famous Trapp Family Singers, will relate the story of her life.

For 20 years, the Trapp Family Singers toured the world, giving more than 2,000 concerts. They are now disbanded, but the baroness has continued her travels as a missionary. She will speak of all this in her new role as lecturer.

Closing the lecture series March 11 will be Henry L. Scott, who is billed as "A One-Man Gala."

Mr. Scott is a pianist who writes all of his humorous musical sketches, arranges the compositions and originates pantomimes. He plays both classical and popular music.

MARIA von TRAPP

You would be more disappointed were I to abandon my policy and get one "nice" person (you!) together with one who was not so nice.

I can't investigate everyone who writes to me. So rather than pair a lamb with a wolf, I stick to my policy.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is right for parents to permit two children under 10 years of age to watch the dog give birth to a litter of puppies?

I just got a phone call that my daughter-in-law thought it was all right, and my son approved it.

I would like to know what you think of letting children watch this procedure.

SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: I know of no better way for young people to learn about the beginning of life, which is a subject baffling to youngsters and not easy for oldsters to explain.

DEAR ABBY: Cheers for BOTHED, and her comment on "My, you look nice TODAY." The next most complimentary compliment when I'm all dressed up is, "Is that NEW?"

TWICE BOTHED

Why Do Women Seek Beauty?

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK — Modern woman's search for beauty has led to the multi-billion dollar industry of cosmetics. It's estimated that 90 per cent of the women in the United States use cosmetics; more than 50 per cent of the world's women use them.

What lies behind this quest for beauty?

Five experts representing psychiatry, dermatology, plastic surgery, psychiatric social work and education discussed present-day attitudes of women concerning their appearance in a symposium entitled "The Psychology of Beauty," sponsored by a cosmetics manufacturer.

All agreed on the desirability of being attractive. But they warned also that the desire and search for beauty should be tempered with judgment.

As one of the panelists, Dr. Marylyn F. Farham, a practicing psychiatrist and assistant clinical professor at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University, said: "The 20th century 'perhaps will go down in history as the century of disaster; perhaps partly because women kept chasing beauty all the time."

But beauty has been a feminine concern since the cave woman, she added.

CLEO'S NOSE

"Somebody said that if Cleopatra's nose had been differently shaped, the history of the world would have been different," she continued.

"... such beautiful women make trouble — in fact, really beautiful women make trouble for themselves and everybody else."

"Of course, a lot of unattractive women have had power too... I have the greatest possible belief that women are influential and powerful not only because of their beauty, but essentially through their innate capacities of the mind and of the spirit.

"A woman's power to attract is basically, inherently and entirely dependent upon the sense of herself," said the psychiatrist.

"The realization of her inner self. And no matter what she does about her exterior, it will not provide her with the love she wants unless she believes in herself."

Dr. Farham said much of the "driven pursuit of beauty arises out of fear — the... fear of being left, abandoned, lost, unloved, without anyone."

Women, she said, are on the "perpetual pursuit of what must be lost; the beauty of youth, which is behind all these anxieties..."

A plastic surgeon, Dr. John J. Conley of New York, cautioned that while surgery promises results in removing wrinkles, pulling up chins, and such, it does not guarantee miracles.

"I feel it's important that not everyone who comes in for technical work should have it," he said.

"Many of these people are too anxious; they want too much. They don't even expect Pygmalion — they expect God."

MARY ANN CLEVER

The John F. Clevers of Parkinson Drive announce the engagement of their daughter Mary Ann to Frank J. Phelps Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Phelps of Normande Avenue. A fall altar date will be set.

Line Bowl for Trifle With Sliced Jelly Roll

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Just the other day a whole batch of recipes came in from members of the Queen Mary Section of the Needlework Guild. So if this column takes on a "veddy English" tone for a while, you'll understand. We're happy to have so many of these traditional recipes.

Mrs. George Bickley contributes her recipe for English Trifle, using convenience foods.

ENGLISH TRIFLE
By Mrs. George Bickley
1 jelly roll
1 package - strawberry

gelatin
1 package instant vanilla pudding
6 bananas
½ pint whipping cream

Cut jelly roll into slices and line a large round bowl with it. Make gelatin and white liquid, pour over the jelly roll. Slice half the bananas into the gelatin.

Let chill while you make the vanilla pudding. Pour over banana layer. Add a second layer of sliced bananas.

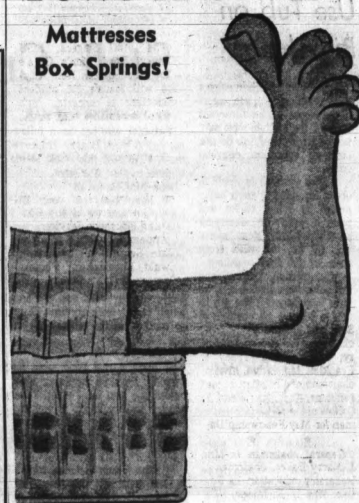

Whip cream and cover dessert. Let chill several hours. Serve with garnish of maraschino cherries. Makes 6 servings.

The oldest farm in the U.S. is it has yielded crops each year said to be near El Paso, Texas, since 1540.

Feel Better, Work Better

Even if you are about to tackle dirty floors, dirty dishes, or soiled laundry, start the job in a freshly laundered outfit. The better you look, the peppier you'll feel — and the faster goes the work. A bath right in the middle of a busy day is another wonderful help.

'Twas No Lady, 'Twas My Vice

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP) —
"Vice chairlady is an awkward phrase inclined to tangle on the tongue."

So say the vice chairlady of the Morris County Republican Committee, Francis H. Fale.
She wants to take the "lady" out and settle for plain old vice chairman.

"If a woman were elected chairman I think it would be legally contested," Mrs. Fale said, since New Jersey law call specifically for elections of chairmen and vice chairladies.

Assemblyman Joseph J. Maraziti, who received a letter from her asking that the title "vice chairlady" be removed from the state's election laws, agrees.

Maraziti said Thursday night he has instructed the state legislature's service commission "to inequity."

"It has embarrassed me," Mrs.
Fale added, "to be introduced as vice lady, chairman's lady, vice chairlady and even chairlady of vice."

Use Tub on Big Things

Even though kitchen ranges now practically come apart so the pieces can be immersed in suds, the kitchen sink may not be large enough to do this clean-up operation conveniently.

A deep washtub is made to order for soaking such bulky pieces as grills, racks, and pans in soap or detergent suds overnight. Next morning, fill the tub with fresh suds for the final washing.

After rinsing, drying, and replacing the range parts, be sure to suds-scrub the tub itself to remove all vestiges of food and grease.

Cotton Now Lint Free

In addition to their more obvious advantages, wash-wear cottons are also more likely to be lint-free — a wonderful asset at laundry time.

Stall Craving: Exercise!

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A reader who has been following my 8-Week Beauty Improvement Plan sent this trick to me to give to you. She says,

"Dear Mrs. Lowman,
"I have been on your BIP course now for one week. I started with 1,200 calories a day and regular exercise, but I am more interested in losing inches than in losing pounds. I haven't weighed yet, but I have lost one inch from my waist and one-and-a-half inches from my hips. I am so thrilled in the results in just one week."

"I have a real good plan for myself. Between meals or right before the next meal when I feel hungry and would like to sink my teeth in something sweet (I crave sweets), I get up and do my exercises. It really works!"

"When I have finished about a half-hour of exercise, my craving is gone and also I'm a half hour closer to my next meal. It works fine for me.

Maybe some of your other readers would like to know about this."

It's a splendid idea! You surely can't dream of chocolate creams while doing a vigorous hip slimming exercise. Women should give themselves such little crutches to help them along with their reducing.

TEMPORARY AID

Some women find it helpful not to eat with the family at their regular meals. Of course, this is a loss in companionship, but it is only temporary. If you adopt this plan, it is probably best to eat at a different time as well as on a tray or table in another room.
While the family eats, read a book, take a nap, keep busy with some chore or take a walk.

Other women find it helpful to have someone take a candid snapshot of them. They pin this up on their bedroom door and take a good look at it each day.
Sometimes they also pin up the picture of a woman who has the sort of figure they are working toward, or maybe a photograph of themselves taken years earlier.
Any such aids are a legitimate part of a reducing program.

If you missed my Beauty Improvement Plan (BIP) and would like to have my BIP kit (giving you all the necessary information plus the BIP chart on which you can chart your weight loss), send 25 cents and your printed name and address. Address: Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Skip the sulphur and molasses—get a CHEVROLET SUPER SPORT

Chevrolet Super Sports* have a charm that soothes your spring-time yen for romantic adventure as fast as you can slip into a bucket seat. (Especially the Impala's, with its adjustable new Comfortilt steering wheel.) And the charm lasts all year round. Match that, old-time tonics! In fact, match that, anybody! Front bucket seats are a great start, but Super Sports also feature plush all-vinyl interiors, special interior-exterior trim in tasteful touches, and a veritable feast of goodies we call performance options. A modest enough phrase to describe tailored-to-your-taste-action, from brisk to utterly overwhelming. Chevrolet and Chevy II Super Sports invite adventure in convertible or coupe form. Think that's all? You don't know Chevrolet! That same Super Sport zing applies to the Corvair Monza Spyder, very breezy with its air-cooled 150-horsepower rear-mounted engine, 4-speed shift* and an outlook made for green country lanes. Ditto for the new Corvette Sting Ray, a magnificent thoroughbred among pureblood sports cars with not a single sacrifice in comfort. Both Spyder and Sting Ray come in coupe or convertible styles. All Chevrolet Super Sports are like spring days—you've got to get out in them to savor them. So catch yourself a passing zephyr and waft on down to your Chevrolet showroom.

*Optional at extra cost.

Models shown clockwise: Corvette Sting Ray Convertible, Corvair Monza Spyder Convertible, Chevrolet Impala Super Sport Convertible, Chevy II Nova 400 Super Sport Convertible. Center: Soap Box Derby Racer, built by All-American boys.

Set for Spring, Flower Fans?

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Pontiac Press Garden Editor

Whether it feels like it or not, spring will float in on a balmy sweep of warm southern air any day now.

This is the time of year that green thumbs are leafing through colorful seed catalogues; the home maker is looking critically at dull painted walls; and the sportsman is polishing equipment.

For the garden lover, the sound of words like trailing arbutus, hepatica, tulips, crocus and hyacinth is like delightfully soft music with fresh promise of the coming season.

These are the first flowers to appear in Oakland County, usually about the end of April. Driving along back-country roads, tourists can now spot those gay pussy willows pecking out from behind dried-out cat tails in marshy lowlands. In about another week, skunk cabbage and wild leek leaves will appear.

WILDFLOWER GUIDE

An informative little book has just been published by the Macomb Nature Association of Mt. Clemens, Mich. Part of the proceeds from the booklet are also used to help finance the nature sanctuary program in Lower Michigan.

For a better understanding of the county's wildlife, of the background and history of common plant life that we too often take for granted, this informative little book is tops.

Municipal Rose Garden
First Established in 1904

The first municipal rose garden in America was established at Elizabeth Park, Hartford, Conn., in 1904, according to the American Association of Nurserymen. (All proceeds will be used for benefit of the Lakeview Swamp Nature Sanctuary near Lakeview.)

The booklet tells of wildflowers "to know and treasure," and of what time of year to expect certain varieties. It explains about types of plants and flowers grown in this area, as well as how to identify our Lower Michigan trees.

The publication tells how to get acquainted with native shrubs and vines identifying those that are poisonous and those that are nonpoisonous. It tells about the first summer resident birds in approximate order of arrival.

The booklet is available by sending $1.25 to the Macomb Nature Association, 124 Miller St., Mount Clemens, Mich. Part of the proceeds from the booklet are also used to help finance the nature sanctuary program in Lower Michigan.

Do Four Jobs at Once--- and Save, Too!

In less time than it takes you to read this newspaper you can have your lawn work all finished... if you do it the Scott's way.

Scott's TURF BUILDER will give you grass the best meal it ever had (and it's hungry!) Scott's HALTS will stop crabgrass from even starting—clean out grubs and moles, too. And you can plant grass seed at once. (No need to wait a month or two as with other crabgrass controls.)

Right now, by buying a bag of TURF BUILDER and a bag of HALTS at the same time, we can save you a quick $2. And if you need a new spreader you can save another $5. Line forms on the right!

Most Gorgeous Rose Bushes we've ever seen

Big, heavy northern, grown plants. Top grade with as many as six sturdy stalks. A wide selection of patented and non-patented varieties. Priced as low as 1.39.

Plant these roses soon as frost leaves the ground—heap soil or peat moss up around stalks until green sprouts appear. You'll have roses aplenty in June!

Keep Grounds in Good Shape

Overgrown, outmoded landscaping on the home property is an eyesore that reduces the value of land and homes in the immediate vicinity.

Everyone has seen this in neighborhoods that have become run-down due to lack of attention to the grounds.

On the other hand, says the American Association of Nurserymen, homes in areas where the grounds are well-landscaped not only maintain but increase their values in the real estate markets, any they provide better and more relaxed "garden living" for the family.

Whole real estate developments or other residential areas can be upgraded or down-graded by the "looks" of the landscaping alone, apart of the quality of the home construction, it is said.

Remodeling of landscaping is a key step in home improvement.

"People never before have realized this so much as today," say the nurserymen, "and it may be due in large part to the great surge of 'family garden living' in recent years."

As families have begun to live on the whole property with garden-living rooms, they have realized more than ever the healthfulness of living close to nature; and the need for and the joys of lovely plants of all kinds.

Garden living is a wholesome trend that is expected to grow immensely in the coming years.

Potted plants prefer 60 to 70 degree temperatures. They react to chills and drafts. Setting plant pots in trays filled with moistened pebbles or sand is helpful in city apartments.

IT'S SPRING INSIDE — Tending plants inside can be as much fun as spring and summer gardening. Mrs. Lew Betterly of 4604 Overlea Court, Bloomfield Hills, keeps her many plants healthy with plenty of water and sunshine. Home builders, too, are realizing the value of a small greenhouse for raising fresh flowers and, in some cases, fruits and vegetables.

Plan Your Planting and Find Privacy

From time immemorial, families have sought a fair measure of privacy in order to relax and play and live their lives as they see fit whether in the company of close friends, or as a family unit. Privacy becomes a very important need for the average family when homesteads are close together.

Fortunately it can be achieved almost anywhere by planned planting of trees and shrubs, says the American Association of Nurserymen.

Trees and shrubs are both attractive and have the full approval of neighbors. They can block out a view of a property from any direction desired, without seeming to be anything but beautiful landscaping.

The garden-living, or the play and dining areas should be screened off; at least some area of the property should provide a delightful spot where the family can relax amidst lovely surroundings of evergreen and deciduous plant life, which provides flowers, as well as "green walls."

TWO METHODS

There are two ways to attain privacy on the property. The first is to plant a hedge. The second is to landscape in depth so that the view from outside is blocked off, while maintaining an "open" look.

The latter easily is attained by planting specimen trees and shrubs at various locations in such a manner that each tends to complement the other in achieving privacy in the area desired, without being planted in a row-like hedge.

Your nurseryman can point out the shrubs which are best suitable for the purposes of privacy. Most nursery catalogues list various hedge plants as a group.

One precaution: If you wish privacy in winter as well as in summer, you should include evergreens, although some hedge materials which shed their leaves have such dense twig structure that they also afford a fairly considerable measure of privacy in winter.

Bark Shows Healthy Tree

Also Helps Distinguish One From Another

Knowing your trees by their bark will give a significant clue to their health.

For bark patterns help tell the story of a tree's condition, rate of growth and general well being. Trees in good vigor and growing rapidly have a smoother bark than others of the same species growing in less favorable locations.

During the winter dormant season, the tree lover can identify arborescent plants by detailed studies of buds, leaf scars and bark patterns — particularly the latter.

These patterns, according to J. A. Paine, field representative of a tree expert company, are due to growth peculiarities.

For each tree species, whether a sugar maple, red maple, white oak or any other, generally will show enough bark differences to distinguish it from its neighbor.

It is the ever-increasing pressure of the growing cylinder of wood encased by the bark that causes the bark of most trees to crack into characteristic patterns — patterns similar to no other.

For example, it is this trunk expansion that produces the papery peeling bark of the birch, the splintery bark of the hickory, the flaky bark of the sycamore and the distinctively furrowed bark of the walnut and oak.

FOR TREE HEALTH

Bark plays a major role in tree health for two reasons. It not only protects against injury and fungi but it also provides insulation that modifies sudden temperature changes.

Such changes can prove quite damaging.

Finally, the tree lover in becoming familiar with tree patterns will quickly learn to keep a wary eye for insect enemies that attack through the bark — scale insects, for example — as well as for a host of borers that may invade the bark and woody tissues beneath it.

Trees Grow in Value

Not many things consumers purchase will become more valuable with time.

However, this is true with well-cared for trees and shrubs on a home owner's property, says the American Association of Nurserymen.

A $10 tree, properly cared for, in a period of ten years or more may cost up to $100 or more to replace.

There are reasons for this. Not only is the growing tree an investment, increasing in value, but labor costs for planting trees multiply as the trees get larger.

Most home owners prefer to plant the average size, usually from 1- to 1 1/2-inch diameter of the trunk, while others prefer larger trunk diameters of 2 1/2 inches and upward, in order to provide immediate fruit, or shade as the case may be.

COST MORE

These trees, of course, cost more, but the home owners are willing to pay more for immediate results. Other home owners, especially young couples, can watch their trees grow in size and value.

If they wish to sell the home, good landscaping will increase the total value considerably, up to 30 per cent more being reported in some cases.

On the other hand, houses poorly planted or without any plantings of significance deteriorate in value more rapidly.

Good landscaping often can be worth up to ten times its cost after the first 10 years or so; and, when and if the house is sold, can be one of the best investments a family can make.

Nurserymen members of the association are equipped with the proper knowledge to advise home owners on how to plant properly to increase the real estate value.

Decorative Pink Spice Offers Fragrant Bonus

Most gardeners want some decorative hybrid tea roses to complete a picture, roses which bloom freely on good strong stems and in abundance.

Form is not so important here. Graceful habit and attractive color are. Pink Spice fulfills these requirements and gives a bonus of rich fragrance.

'Tag-Along' Label Garden Aid

This spring, those who buy plants for summer flower beds and borders will find unexpected assistance in the form of a new plant label which is being used extensively in plant growing establishments. The universal comment seems to be: "Why didn't somebody think of this before?"

Like many good ideas, this one is a very simple solution to a very old problem—that of helping the beginning gardener achieve success with the plants he or she buys.

With the aid of this helpful plant label even those who have never done any gardening before will know just what the flowers on each plant they are purchasing are going to look like, when it will bloom; how much space should be allotted to it; whether it prefers sun or shade.

All this information, and more, is given right on this new type label which has been dubbed "Tag-Along."

Why Tag-Along? Because that is just what this label does. It is made of enduring white plastic; won't break, can't smear or become illegible, as unsightly wood labels do. It even adds interest to your flower border before plants come into bloom.

But explaining the name tells only a small part of the story. The big thing that Tag-Along accomplishes is in the help it gives the purchaser in selecting just the right flowers to fit the particular locations he may have available, or for the purposes for which he wants to use them.

If, for instance, he desires something that will grow three feet tall, he may decide to use zinnias, some of which grow to that height.

KNOW DIFFERENCE

But there are other zinnias that are less than a foot in height. It is all-important to know the difference—and that is just the sort of information Tag-Along provides.

An excellent way for a beginning gardener to take the full advantage of these new labels is to make a rough sketch of the areas to be planted, with dimensions indicated, and then, at the nursery or garden center, select plants which, when fully grown, will properly fill the spaces.

This not only avoids mistakes, but actually saves money, as the buying of surplus plants is avoided.

Well-Placed Sign
Protects New Grass

A sure way to get some people to step on newly planted grass seed is to post one of these irritating signs commanding: "Keep off the Grass."

Instead, a Pittsburgh company in the lawn products industry put it this way: "Please! Newly Seeded." This plea is printed in large letters on the bottom of the company's seed boxes.

All you have to do is cut off the warning, tack it to a stick, and post it where it will do the most good.

New Tea Rose on 'Best' List

Each spring brings exciting new roses to add to the garden. With the new introductions come the exciting adjectives, hardy, excellent bloomer, disease-resistant, fragrant, etc.

Among the new introductions for this season we find "Wendy Cussons," introduced by the Ilgenfritz Nurseries of Monroe, Mich.

"Wendy Cussons" a hybrid tea, plant patent No. 2104, is in the enviable position of being, in addition to all the above features, an exhibition rose.

Awards and certificates from England to Italy have found this outstanding red hybrid tea "best" in show after show. Of medium height, flowers have high centered form and a cerise color that can fit with red or pink arrangements.

Awards to date include: National Rose Society Presidents trophy, gold medal at the Floriade, gold medal of the National Rose Society, first certificate-Rome Trials, award of merit-Royal Horticultural Society, special medal award of National Rose Society, for best bloom.

Introduction in the United States by Ilgenfritz Nurseries brings to the American gardener one of Europe's best. A noted Pennsylvania "rose buff" has called it an improved Charlotte Armstrong (strong praise for any new rose).

It will be available this spring at most garden centers. For full color literature on this award winning rose, send a post card to: Ilgenfritz Nurseries, Box 665, Monroe, Mich.

Sandy Loam,
Fertilizer Help
Gladioli Grow

A loose, sandy loam soil, generously fertilized and watered, is best for the growing of healthy gladioli, reports Dr. Ray L. Cook, chairman of Michigan State University's department of soil science.

Speaking at a Michigan Gladioli Growers Conference at MSU's Kellogg Center for Continuing Education, Dr. Cook pointed out that gladioli bulbs require a loose soil in order to properly expand and grow, unhampered by heavier soils, such as clay.

A good aggregation is achieved by a generous application of organic matter, such as livestock manure, he said.

If this is not available, he added, an artificial manure, or compost made of decomposed straw, cornstalks or leaves, can also be used.

After the soil is properly structured, Dr. Cook said, the nutrient content should be kept high with applications of commercial fertilizer, perhaps two or three times during a growing season.

Flower Pot Waters Plants by Itself

A new type of flower pot permits the green thumbs to leave plants without watering for as long as 30 days.

The manufacturer said the flower pot, a square job of marbled plastic, is seven by four by three inches in size and holds one pint of soil.

The secret of its design is in its hollow walls and base, which will hold as much as one month's supply of water, depending on the need of the plant.

DOUBLE PLAY:

The most wanted grass fertilizer plus the best known crabgrass control

[AT A VERY SPECIAL SAVING!]

How can I have a thicker, lovelier lawn this year? And how can I avoid crabgrass?

Many home owners are asking these two questions right now. And this year the answers are clearer than ever.

Take the fertilizer question first. There are literally hundreds of brands on the market. Good, bad and indifferent. But one stands out head-and-shoulders above the others—TURF BUILDER. It's the leader.

Feeds as it's needed

Only TURF BUILDER is Renarized—the patented process that locks in the nutrients until the right combination of biological forces gradually brings about their release. No leaching away in rain. No under or over-feeding, regardless of the weather. It's a protein-builder that forces grass to produce many new underground shoots, develops sturdier growth.

Ask your neighbor

Second question—crabgrass. Here, too, there are now all kinds of controls, most of them newcomers. And again, one stands out, with an unmatched record of success. More than two million people have used HALTS® in the past six years with dramatic results. Your own neighbors can tell you about it. You simply walk it on now. HALTS stops crabgrass before it starts.

Four jobs at once

In a half hour you can put TURF BUILDER and HALTS on 2500 sq ft of lawn. Then, if you should want to plant seed you can go right ahead. (No need to wait a month or two as with other crabgrass controls.) And as a final bonus, HALTS will also rid your lawn of grubs and the moles and pests that feed on them.

How to save a quick $2 (or even $7!)

Your Scotts Dealer is all set to help solve your lawn problems and save you money in the bargain. For a limited time he is featuring a bag of TURF BUILDER and a bag of HALTS at a special $2 saving—and if you need a new Scotts Spreader he can save you an additional $5.

Junior Editors Quiz on POINSETTIAS

ANSWER: What appear to be the large brilliant red flowers of this striking plant are the actual flowers at all, but special leaves called "bracts." The actual flowers are very tiny and are grouped together in the center of the bracts.

In 1829, the United States Minister to Mexico, Joel R. Poinsett, noticed these showy plants growing in Mexican gardens and introduced them to this country.

Poinsettias make handsome outdoor shrubs and, when grown in a climate such as Florida's, can grow from two to 10 feet tall. This plant is very popular at Christmas.

When potted, it can grow from one to four feet tall. Indoors, it thrives best where the temperature is kept even and, while in bloom, needs plenty of water.

Some people with a "green thumb" for handling plants can keep poinsettias going from year to year, but generally the plants are raised by starting with cuttings in March.

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is a picture to tax your abilities as a colorist. There are four poinsettia blooms to be colored brilliant red, while the geranium can be pink. Try to get a golden glow of freight over the back with some contrasting color in the grandmother's dress and the girl's hair, which could be chestnut-color.

Much Can Be Done to Ease Twilight Years

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK—The most nauseating cliché in the world of haute hackneyism is that line which reads, "You're not getting any younger."

And why is it that people who say "you're not getting any younger" also have to add that devastating accusation—"you know?"

This is like rubbing salt in the circles under the eyes. It is an unkindly threat. It is one of those too-true truths, like the diminishing of love ("I don't love you any more, you know"), that are unnecessary to mention.

A number of people—thinking people—disagree with the idea conveyed by this impression. Notable among them is one Novarre Musson, Columbus, Ohio, architect who has just written a book titled "Buildings for the Elderly."

Musson says "none of us" are getting any younger; proof of that are U.S. census statistics which show more than 17 million Americans now are over 65, and by 1980, 25 million Americans will have achieved that "mature" status.

"And our elderly account for the largest number of accidental deaths in this country, with most of these accidents resulting from falls within the home."

Why? Because residential housing is designed for younger people, and what can be comfortable for a youngster can literally kill an older.

PICK RIGHT FURNITURE

For people who are willing to admit that their strength is not what it was of yore, whose physical balance is no longer supreme, whose eyesight is not 20-20; who is somewhat less agile than he used to be—in other words, is "getting along"—Musson offers these suggestions in furnishing a home:

Lounge chairs should never sink down so that the knees of the elderly occupant are above the hip joint more than two inches.

Depth of the seat is most important in getting into and out of an easy chair; 22 inches is the deepest possible.

Arms should be high and forward, for good leverage when rising (arms on most chairs are too low), and the chairs should not be too heavy for moving.

Sofas are the most difficult furniture to select for the elderly. They must have an erect back, and a firm seat.

If you can't find a good sofa, forget it. Musson, in hundreds of interviews with the elderly, finds they don't particularly like them anyway.

Dining tables should never be pedestal types because they tend to tip if leaned against. All tables must be completely stable.

Low tables, such as coffee tables, are not useful because they require the user to stoop too much if standing, and to lean over sharply while seated, and tend to be stumbling blocks to a person whose balance or eyesight is not the best.

Storage pieces should have handles or knobs which are large and easy to grasp. Shelves or drawers should be no lower than 16 inches and no higher than 66 inches from the floor.

BEDROOM, BATHROOM

Beds, other than easy chairs, are the most critical pieces of furniture for the elderly. A bed should have a stable head to grip and lean against, and the bed itself should be as high as a chair when the user is seated on its edge (17 or 18 inches). Tufted mattresses should be avoided.

Bathrooms are dangerous and should be free of all insecure gadgets (flimsy towel holders, glass shelves, etc.) which cannot hold a person's weight.

Of course; these and other safety and comfort precautions for the elderly should be taken care of as soon as possible if older persons living in youngsters' houses are to be protected.

As the second most depressing cliché in the language goes: It is later than you think.

State Senate Toils Into Night

LANSING (AP) — The Senate worked late last night — hoping to quit early today — with its major accomplishment the reporting out of the higher education bill asked by Gov. George Romney.

The senators toiled until nearly 10 o'clock and decided to return at 10 a.m. today, their goal being to adjourn for the weekend by noon.

To show their serious intent, the senators even cut off introductions — a customary courtesy to distinguished visiting guests and such groups as school children.

One senator managed to get around the restriction. Because of the rule, Sen. Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, rose to explain, he would not be able to introduce the high schoolers from his district sitting up in the Senate gallery.

Sen. Frank Beale, R-St. Clair, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, reported out favorably the higher education bill asked for by Gov. George Romney. The total added up to $122,704,777.

There were several changes from the bill as recommended by the governor. Amendments took away $388,296 from the combined appropriation for the agriculture and extension services at Michigan State University and added $500,000 to the Wayne State University appropriation.

The switch of funds is planned to enable the Wayne State medical school to increase the number of students in medical classes from 100 to 125.

The amended bill also cut the proposed salary of the state superintendent of public instruction from $22,500 to $20,000 a year.

Also moved up to final passage was the open occupancy bill supported by Republican moderates and some Democrats.

Sen. John Fitzgerald, R-Grand Ledge, slated for nearly a half an hour on the measure to sway the favorable action. The bill is aimed at preventing real estate dealers from discriminating against minority groups in housing.

Asks Rule for Protection From Sharp Dressers

BATH, England (UPI)—Alderman Adrian Hopkins yesterday pleaded for a rule to protect the floors of the national trust assembly room from women guests. He asked that women be issued protectors to place over their stilettos heels which he said produce "a pressure equal to a two-ton steam hammer."

Waterford School Affairs

Nix Building Site, Seek Another

The Waterford Township Board of Education last night ruled out a proposed new elementary school site in Section 12 due to anticipated high land improvement costs and then empowered its building committee to negotiate for another parcel.

Improvement costs on the site first considered were estimated at a minimum of $10,000 — nearly $20,000 if storm sewers, curbs and gutters were included.

A recommendation from the building committee on the new site under consideration is expected at the next board meeting.

Dr. Chandos Reid, assistant to the superintendent of schools, reported to the board that a new English program introduced at Waterford Township High School last fall has proven successful. The program offered 11th and 12th grade students elective courses in English, such as, short story, study skills and courses on eminent authors.

Dr. Reid said participation in the program was ample. The program will be offered again next fall with an additional elective course, bringing the total to six.

SUBMIT REPORT

A 18-page report outlining in detail the various courses and presenting an evaluation of the program was submitted to board members by Dr. Reid.

In other business the board voted to reinvest $165,000 from debt retirement funds in U.S. Treasury bills over 180 days at an interest rate of 2.98 per cent.

The school calendar for 1962-63 specifying Sept. 4 as the opening day of classes and June 12 as the final class day was accepted.

Board members approved 13 new teaching contracts and also authorized that two teachers be

Gas, Electricity Cuts Join French Strikes

PARIS (AP) — Four-hour gas and electricity cuts added to the woes of strike-weary Frenchmen today. Thousands of Parisians got up an hour or two early to get to work before subways and electric trains were halted from 8 a.m. to noon.

Many offices gave employees the morning off.

The electricity and gas strikes were part of the rolling wave in nationalized industries which bring a new form of economic crippling to France almost daily. Workers in the nationalized industries complain that their salaries have fallen far behind those in private industry.

Hungary to Release Political Prisoners

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — János Kadar, Hungary's premier and Communist party boss, has declared a sweeping amnesty for political crimes, including participation in the abortive 1956 revolt.

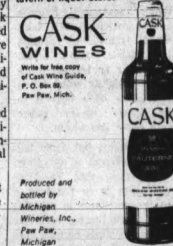

Cases of espionage and high treason were among the crimes not covered, and it was not clear whether the edict applies to Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Hungary's Roman Catholic primate.

The Cardinal was convicted in 1949 of conspiring with Western diplomats to overthrow the Communist regime and of engaging in black market currency operations.

He was freed during the 1956 revolt but took refuge in the U.S. Legation in Budapest when the revolt was crushed.

Delay in Oil Loading Stalls Red Tankers

ROTTERDAM, the Netherlands (AP)—Shipping sources Thursday expressed concern about delays in loading of oil tankers in Soviet Black Sea ports.

They said at least seven ships have been tied up in Tuapse, the terminal of the Caucasian network of oil pipelines, for 8 to 14 days.

A recent Norwegian report of fires in Soviet oil refineries drew a Soviet denial, but Norwegian sources said it was established that three fires set by saboteurs have been raging in refineries at Novorossiysk.

GUARD INFORMER—Two Chicago policemen in hospital gowns guard the room of Richard Morrison who was gunned down in a gangster-style murder attempt Wednesday night. Morrison touched off a police scandal in 1960 when he told of disposing of burglary loot with police help. His left arm and shoulder were shattered.

Chicago Shooting Victim Says Motive Revenge

CHICAGO (UPI)—Richard Morrison said today someone connected with the Chicago police scandal tried to assassinate him because, the dapper "bubbling burglar" said, "the syndicate wouldn't have blown the job."

However, homicide Cmdr. Francis Flanagan said he was inclined to doubt Morrison's belief, uttered from his Cook County Hospital bed.

Seven of the eight policemen convicted in the 1960 scandal and two defendants in a current trial passed lie tests yesterday.

The only Summerdale Police District figure remaining to be lie tested was Patrick Groat, son of a late police captain, who drew a six-month jail term in the case.

"The reason I'm convinced this was not a so-called syndicate job is that they wouldn't have blown the job," said Morrison, a large cast over his shattered left arm and shoulder.

"This was done by someone with hatred and who had it in for me but never had any experience," Morrison said.

Although Chicago police were checking Morrison's underworld connections, they were not entirely discounting that the shooting was the work of an amateur or an out-of-town person.

The shooting was in the classic Hollywood style of Al Capone and the 1920s—a car with steamed windows neared the curb where Morrison and a pal were walking, a shotgun blasted at least two times, and the car sped off.

But it was one of the few times such tactics failed to nail their man.

"If it was a professional job, they would have got him for sure," one veteran police officer said.

Change Policy on Aid-C. of C.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Chamber of Commerce has urged a new approach to foreign aid and has described the Alliance for Progress in Latin America as close to disaster.

In a statement Thursday, chamber directors contended that assistance should place heavier stress on private enterprise and on foreign policy goals.

As for the Alliance for Progress, the chamber said:

"The machinery of the alliance is in serious disarray, and its manifest inability to quickly satisfy expectations aroused beyond attainable levels could prove disastrous unless strong corrective measures are adopted."

A presidential committee headed by retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay has been investigating the foreign aid program and is due to make its report public late tomorrow.

North Central Assn. Elects President

CHICAGO (AP)—Ralph C. Johnson, principal of Wyandotte High School, Kansas City, was elected president of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools yesterday.

Johnson, who served last year as vice president of the 4,000-member association, succeeds Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, president of Hope College, Holland, Mich.

The association at the concluding session of its annual convention also elected Clyde Vroman, director of admissions for the University of Michigan, to be its new vice president.

'Cuban Guerrillas Step Up Raids'

MIAMI (UPI) — A Cuban refugee leader here said last night anti-Communist guerrillas are looting, burning and killing Castroites in at least two of Cuba's six provinces.

"Guerrilla activity against the Castro regime... is increasing steadily," said Luis Conte Aguiar, a former radio announcer who denounced Fidel Castro as a Communist.

Showman Is Sought on Support Charges

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Showman Harold Minsky was sought today for failing to answer charges he has not been supporting his family.

District Judge David Zenoff issued a warrant for the famed burlesque producer's arrest and held him in contempt for failing to appear at a hearing yesterday. Mrs. Rosemary Minsky, a former showgirl, said he had failed to pay her and their two children temporary support totaling $1,000 a month which was ordered pending settlement of divorce proceedings.

Movie Sleuth James Bond Should Be Hit in U.S.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — The new Bond movies: "Dr. No" introduces sleuth James Bond to the American market, and he is apt to be just as popular here as he is in his native England. Sean Connery makes a formidable figure of the Ian Fleming semiborn, with his fondness for fine food, shapely dolls and danger, not necessarily in that order.

This caper has Bond tracking down a demagogic Chinese who is menacing an American moonshot from an atomic fortress in the Bahamas.

It is unfortunate that the first Bond mystery should place so much emphasis on the space-age melodramatics on the mystery island. The result is more flavored with Flash Gordon or Fu Manchu. But the earlier portions of "Dr. No" display a fetching figure in Connery's Bond, who will be welcome in future films of this series.

"Come Fly with Me" turns out much better than it has any right to be. On paper, it is yet another attempt to capture the "Three Coins in the Fountain" magic. Three American girls—airline stewardesses this time—undergo romantic adventures amid the mysteries of Paris and Vienna. Get the picture?

"Four Days in Naples" brings the harsh look and smell of war to the screen with a skill that hasn't been displayed by the Italians since "Open City" and "Paisan."

Yet the harshness has been tempered with a humor, even sentiment, that makes the new film more entertaining than the products of postwar Italian realism. Director Nanni Loy enlisted the people of Naples to recreate their uprising against the Nazis, and they performed ably.

"My Six Loves" is that present-day rarity, a family movie. It is one in which all ages can find enjoyment, though not downright satisfaction.

The story concerns a Hollywood star (Debbie Reynolds) who some- plications provide amusement and how inherits the custody of a half-a few moments of hilarity.

U.S. Licenses Two Vaccines for Measles

U.S. Licenses Two Vaccines for Measles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has granted licenses for general distribution of two forms of measles vaccine. One may be available in a day or so, just as the measles' season gets in full swing.

"This is one of our most significant advances in recent years toward decreasing or eliminating one of our most serious childhood diseases," said U.S. Surgeon General Luther L. Terry.

At a news conference Thursday, Terry predicted "a very sharp decrease" in the disease next season.

There have been more than 4 million cases of measles each year in the United States, with 400 deaths, and the disease has been an even greater killer in foreign countries, he said.

With widespread use of the vaccine, Terry said it was possible the disease could be virtually eradicated within two years.

Success Depends on Moderation

Don't Let Leisure Interfere With Attainment

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
Dear Dr. Nason: What can I do to improve my grades? I play too much basketball that I have no time to do my homework. When I get time to do it, I don't feel like doing it.

Should I cut down on sports and start working more on homework?

R. G. Jenks, Okla.

Answer: Learn to discipline yourself to exercise less and study more. Success in and out of school depends on your ability to show moderation in things such as sports, eating, television, etc.

Don't allow any one thing to take over your life to the detriment of other worthwhile things.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our daughter, Linda, is 10 years old and in the fifth grade. She has a high IQ and receives straight A's with little effort. She very seldom brings home work unless it is a project.

The teacher has her doing errands, teaching other students how to read, assembling test papers, etc., but she still has too much time in school. She is helpful at home, is a Girl Scout and belongs to the Safety Patrol.

At present, the only thing we can do, according to the school, is to try to keep her supplied with good books. We want her to grow up to be a well-balanced person. How can we help her?

D.S., Somers Point, N.J.
Answer: You are very fortunate to have such a well-adjusted daughter with a teacher who takes an interest in her personal development.

The help she is giving the teacher, especially that of helping other students, is very worthwhile. Relax and enjoy her.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our son is in the ninth grade. I have not been able to get him interested in reading and I feel this will keep him from doing well in English.

Everyone in our family reads. He has seen me sitting and reading all through his growing years. I had hoped he would take after me and read too.

He is an avid sports fan and does read all the sports magazines, but he needs to read other books as well.

He will read one or two chapters of a book and then lose interest.

He plans to go to college, but he makes B and C grades although his teachers tell me he is capable of A work.

Please help me with this problem.

P.R., Savannah, Ga.
Answer: Your son sounds like a well-rounded boy. He may have built up a resistance to your pressure toward reading.

If some counselor or friend of the family could help him become interested in better grades through better study techniques to meet college entrance requirements, his reading interests and skills will improve as a side effect.

Dear Dr. Nason: I didn't know my math very well until I really started to study, and I still don't know most of my math. My mother told me to study harder and I study a little bit harder but I still don't know it.

How can I learn my math better?

D.L. (10) Port Arthur, Tex.
Answer: It isn't how "hard" you study, it's HOW you study that counts.

Try two things: Listen to your teacher explain your math, and then try to explain it to your mother. This will help you understand it.

The other thing you can do is practice writing numbers until you can write them rapidly and neatly.

When your opponents reach game on such simple bidding as one no-trump, three no-trump you must make a blind lead.

Any lead you make is likely to be wrong, but if you ask yourself, "How can I beat this hand?" you are likely to come up with a winner.

Look at the West hand. You have only two points, but your partner should have a lot more. Find his suit and you may wind up with a profit. His suit is most likely to be hearts, but he needs a really good suit to get anywhere. On the other hand if he has spades your queen will help him and a spade lead is clearly indicated.

"The week ends with his destiny... Astrology guides the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Wonderful day to show where your heart is in love. When you have no more problems of association, family matters, and in business or work. Follow through!

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): You may be too trusting tonight. This could mean when you are taken advantage of, especially where money is concerned. Watch your personal appearance. You could find yourself in spotlight. Your ideas may be sound, but don't speak without authority!

Cancer (June 21 to July 21): Good Lunar aspect today means you are in a position to show where your heart is in love. When you have no more problems of association, family matters, and in business or work. Follow through!

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 22): Much talk about financial potential. Best course is STAYDY PACE. This better than choice which sees you risking capital. In personal life, be warm and considerate.

Virgo (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): Avoid actions based on impulse. Best advice is one who has had experience. Do not decide on anything involving change, travel, housing, etc. until you are sure. Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Family concerns are not the only thing that is important. What seems funny to you, serious to others. Be calm, considerate and dignified.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Some people claim you are a "mystery" and are concerned. You make decisions, travel, housing, etc. until you are sure. Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Be sure you are purchasing items really needed. Show gratitude to others. Individual who could offer good wishes, affection. This is one of a new series of informative reports on the unique advantages of print media presented by this newspaper and the Print Advertising Association

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people do.

They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features... designs... and prices, for example.

People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

People read an ad because they want to (it's never forced on them). They can even check back later; the message is still there.

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of consumers, print makes sales.

Most people read and then buy. Don't you?

BOWLING

Monday night was a big night for young Larry Crake in the Westside Classic.

He bombed the pins for his first 700 series with counts of 253-247, 231-711 for the league's only such performance that night. There were 13 600 series and a total of 65 games in the 200s.

High game for the night went to Jerry Perna on a 278 effort.

The 200 games were the order of the night Tuesday and Wednesday at 300 Bowl. There were 30 such efforts in the Tuesday House League and another 30 in the Wednesday House Loop.

Bill Ash's 238 and 635 topped a list of seven 600s in the Tuesday circuit while Wednesday's league was paced by Ed Hummel 663 (234) and Mel Kitchen 249.

OTHER LEAGUES

Fine scores turned up the latter day in the Pontiac Motor Inter-office League. Ken Nickerson made the most noise with 246-120-627 and Gonzolus Santa Cruz rolled 222-611. John Rendipier had a 253-634 series in the Goya League Wednesday at "300".

In women's bowling, there was a season's high single Monday in the Tri-All Girls circuit. Millie Villereal rolled a 228. The 300 Hvy Cats had a 239-561 by Jeannette Wischman.

The Pioneer circuit featured a 215 game by Jean Harrington and a 213-584 duo by Mary Beasley Monday, and Doty Iverson rolled 212-560, "300" Wednesday.

Nite Ladies Classic reported a 215 by Mary Mathews. The 300 Bowlers had Dorothy Benson's 211-542 as best efforts.

Mesdames Howard and Albano came through with season high bowling with only Harry Church performed Monday in the Hill of Royal Oak and Michael GMC Girls loop. The former Timms of Hazel Park from the rolled a 590 series while Doty Albano hit 223 actual pins in one game. A 545 series by Donna Verhey paced the 300 Bowlerettes activity Tuesday.

In Mixed bowling at "300," Al Bennett bowled a classy 235-634 in the Lake Oakland Mixed Monday; and Sunday the Night Owls' Mixed League had 219-296-604 scores by Virginia Branchau and 219-222-592 by Dick Smith.

The 300 Mixed had a 212-523 by Joanne Fisher; and the 30-team American Legion Mixed circuit Sunday recorded Clive Watkins' 223-595 as best.

LUTHERAN LEAGUE

Airway Lanes' Lutheran Mixed loop saw Paul Karas bowl 224-385 Tuesday; and Wednesday morning it was "position night" in the Airway Angels League.

The Three Crooks and Hit & Miss squads ended the morning tied for first place. Individual game honors went to the No Accounts' Mildred Putnam at 206.

Collers Lanes reports a good series for the Baldwin team in the Oxford Ladies circuit. Led by Seville Craves' 205-546 bowling, the five women had a 940 team game and 2-612 team series.

Betty McGuire, a 182 average kegger at Collers', rolled a 200-247-623 last week in the Holy Cross Lutheran circuit; and Dayton Fendler came through with 277 performance in the Wednesday Night League.

At North Hill Lanes the Wednesday night House League still is led by the circuit's only women's team, Randy West Hair Stylist, after position night. The Montclair Junior League featured a 732 actual game by the Frantic Four squad. The Milford Men's Doubles Tournament is still in progress at Fairgrounds local area high in the standings.

Entries for the tournament will not close until April 23.

STEVE NAGY
Keg Hall of Fame
Admits Detroiters

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Steve Nagy, Basil (Buzz) Fazio and the late Elmer Darnell (Sarge) Easter are the newest members of Bowling's Hall of Fame.

The addition of the three at ceremonies here Thursday brought the hall of fame roster to 27.

Nagy, 49, of Detroit, won the 1952 ABC all-events and combined with John Klares for the ABC doubles record of 1,453. Fazio, 55, also of Detroit, held a 197 average for 27 ABC tournaments.

Easter, a retired U.S. Army sergeant from Winston-Salem, N.C., won bowling fame after 50, averaging 193 in 16 ABC tournaments.

Baptists Win;
Jo-Jo's Five
Nears Crown

Columbia Avenue Baptist captured the city's Class C recreation basketball championship last night with a 48-42 victory over Michigan Bell Telephone.

In district play, Pontiac Class D representative Jo-Jo's won its second straight tournament contest by decisioning Trenton, 65-54 at Detroit's Patton gym.

Jim McDonald hit 17 points to lead the winners while Bob Becker matched that figure for the losers.

Frank Kettonen's 17 and Willie Harsten's 15 helped Jo-Jo's qualify for the district title round next Wednesday. The winners led Trenton by 30-21 at halftime, although not performing as sharp as usually.

Tim's had a 38-point duo in Tim Oliver (21) and Bill Smith (17) and took advantage of a 5 for 15 foul shooting exhibition by Reeves to oust the latter from the township playoffs.

The barbers will tangle with O'Neil Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Cray JHS and must take two wins from the B champions to win the playoffs.

Upset Win Returns C&E to 'A' Loop Top Rung

An eight-point upset sweep by Team OK against Huron—Airway Wednesday enabled C&E Marathons to slip back into first place in the Huron Bowl's Wednesday Nite "A" League.

The service station team had to take eight points from Erickson's Five to regain the top spot by one point. The two contenders will meet face-to-face next week.

Top individual efforts were posted by Merv Weber and Mutt Morse. Weber rolled 252 — 621 and Morse had 207-215-606.

The
Frame

Now that the area's credentials as a possible site for the 1968 Olympic Games have been verified, there is another major sporting event that needs the attention of many Oakland County sportsmen.

Reference is made to the Professional Bowling Association's second stop in Pontiac, scheduled for next month.

While it is true the pro bowlers' national tour is not as glamorous, yet as some of the other professional sports, it is a sport that has made excellent progress during a short existence.

The future for the PBA tour is bright. With the enormous amount of interest in bowling locally, there is no reason why the pro stars' appearance should not be a highpoint annually in Pontiac.

The tournament pays good money and a number of local amateur bowlers have the opportunity to pocket some extra "pin" currency with a little effort and luck.

Currently, the tour is under the sole sponsorship of the 300 Bowl. Someone is missing the boat. It isn't an inexpensive undertaking but the rewards could be worth some consideration.

The finals of most tour stops are televised nationally and it will be here April 13. Included in the programming is a space of almost two minutes free time for the local sponsor to utilize.

This time plus an occasional mention during the course of the 90-minute show that the "what-are-we-going-to-call-it" is a new line from Pontiac could give a product, group or area quite a big boost throughout the country.

Joe Puertas of the 300 Bowl is willing to share the sponsorship of the tournament and some interest has been shown.

However, the juicy plum that is offered and the rosy possibilities for the future of the undertaking should attract much more than the tepid interests displayed so far by both the local bowlers and business community.

GRAB OPPORTUNITY

One group that didn't miss the boat is the Pontiac Chapter No. 360 of the Women of the Moose. Two years ago it began sending delegations to the annual state Women of the Moose bowling tournament.

Last year the ladies put in a bid to be hosts for an annual keg tournament and were successful.

This weekend marks the beginning of the 14th annual state Women of the Moose Bowling tournament and it will take place at Airway Lanes.

This will be the biggest of the yearly tournaments with 90 teams participating over two weekends. The bowling will conclude March 31 with a field of 90 teams that day.

Singles and doubles events are slated for tomorrow and next Saturday. Four teams will compete from the Pontiac chapter.

LODGE MEN

The Men of the Moose No. 182 bowl every Sunday at Lakewood Lanes and last time their Vance Chapman started quite a spurt! He rolled 211-243-643 in the league; Chapman hit another three-game series of 201-242-625.

Sunday at Lakewood; and Monday night he scored a 206-200-638 series in the Pinnermaster Trio's League.

The area Elks women bowlers are taking bows for bringing home almost $700 in prize money from their state tournament. The Tigers captured by Gen Bradley also captured trophies for having the high actual average series in the 1963 competition.

300 Bowl in Lead of Travel League

A quirk of scheduling has enabled 300 Bowl and Lounge to jump into the lead of the Pontiac Travelling Classic League.

With two make-up contests last Sunday plus the regular league match, "300" swept a tripleheader to take a full game lead over once-winning Airway Lanes.

The leaders have another chance to extend their margin with a victory this weekend as they will have a bye.

Two of Sunday's triumphs for "300" were at the expense of Wonderland Lanes, 13-19 and 16-4. Monroe Moore had 12 winning points in the two matches and Dave Eby hit seven in the lopsided win.

Eby and Joe Puertas tallied three each in the 12-5 victory over Cooley Lanes while the losers' Paul George hit a 232 for four.

Cooley was also beaten by Airway by virtue of overage pins after they ended tied, 6-6.

NIT Wildcats Fall to Slick 'Turtle'

NEW YORK (AP)—A Turtle who treads a Wildcat is the newest member of the National Invitation Tournament's starting ranks. And the harassing job of Pat Turtle, barely recovered from a broken ankle, did on slick, hot shooting Wally Jones of the Villanova Wildcats, has to be the key reason Canisius is in Saturday's championship game in the 26th annual basketball classic.

With Jones going without a point in the last 16 minutes, the Griffins steamed past Villanova 61-46 Thursday night before a packed house of 18,429 at Madison Square Garden and gained the final along with Providence.

Fast-firing Ray Flynn again paced the Providence Friars, sparking a second-half burst that powered them over Marquette 70-64 in the first match of the semifinal doubleheader.

Turtle, a 5-foot-11 Canisius senior who suffered a right ankle fracture in practice Feb. 5, was idled from then until his played Tuesday night when he played very briefly in the Griffins' 76-67 quarter-final victory over Memphis State. He went in against Jones after the tricky Wildcat playmaking and scoring ace had scored 24 points, with Villanova ahead 35-31, and 16 minutes to go. NO OFFENSE

With Turtle putting a shell around Jones, Villanova's offense floundered and the inspired Griffins rolled. They exploded out of a 40-40 tie at the midway mark of the second half, getting fine scoring from Bill O'Connor, Tony Gennari and sub Frank Swiatek, and smothered the Wildcats 21-6 over the last 10 minutes.

Gennari scored 21 points, O'Connor 15 and Swiatek 12. Turtle managed only two on-free throws at the very end—but a guy can't do everything. Flynn poured in 13 of Providence's 16 points and set up another basket with a steal during a second-half surge as the Friars won their 14th straight and kept in the running for their second NIT title.

Big Games for Cincinnati, Loyola

NCAA Tourney Play Resumes

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Cincinnati meets Oregon State and Chicago Loyola plays racehorse with Duke's Blue Devils tonight in basketball's big three and an upset that could steal it all reach the showdown stage in the national collegiate championships.

Cincinnati, top-ranked nationally and seeking a record third straight NCAA championship, plays tough but unranked Oregon State in the windup of the double-header that opens with second-ranked Duke against third-ranked Loyola.

The winners will play the championship Saturday night. Sellout record crowds of 19,153 will stream both nights into massive Freedom Hall on the Kentucky State Fairgrounds, where the Bearcats of Ed Jucker took their second championship a year ago with a 71-59 pasting of Jerry Lucas last year and in the 1961 final at Kansas City.

But as Oregon State's Stalls Gills says: "You don't pick against a champion, especially when four of its five starters are back. They have the talent, Ed Jucker always has them well prepared, and they have the benefit of having played in the championship game before."

Rangers, Bruins Deadlock

Boston Ice 'Hot Water' for NHL Ref

BOSTON (AP)—Three Bruins, two Rangers and Referee Vern Buffey have special reasons for remembering the National Hockey League game of March 21 between two teams going nowhere.

Boston blew a 1-0 lead, then came back and tied New York 2-2 in the lone NHL game Thursday night on the first goal of the season by defenseman Teddy Green, a 45-foot screened sizzler which developed from a faceoff.

Geoffron had received a five-game suspension.

ON REBOUND

Buffey called a rare penalty shot at the outset of the third period when Boston defenseman Doug Mohns pulled down Andy Heberton from behind as the latter bore down on the Boston goal.

Rookie goalie Ed Johnston stopped the shot, but Heberton quickly slammed in the rebound—an illegal maneuver because only one shot is allowed. Buffey called it a goal and was charged by the livid Bruins. After a long conference with his linesmen, Buffey ruled "no goal" and was promptly beset by angry Rangers.

"I had one foot on the boards and was going to run out there myself if he hadn't changed the call," Boston Coach Mil Schmidt said later.

Johnny Bucyk of Boston, the Duke is on the hottest streak of the semifinals, having won its last 20 games for a 26-2 record. The Blue Devils came to town full of confidence after the great play of Jeff Mullins in the Eastern Regional at College Park, Md., last weekend. With All-America Art Heyman off in his shooting, Mullins took charge, scored 49 points in two games and was named the regional's most valuable player.

Duke's one-two punch of Heyman and Mullins will go against a Loyola team that rolled to the highest offensive average among the major colleges, 92.5 points a game, in winning 27 games and losing two. All five Loyola starters average in double figures, led by All-America Jerry Harnes and 6-7 Les Hunter.

The new 1963 MERCURY OUTBOARDS

(All Lake X-proved)

See the new Merc 1000, 100 hp, and Merc 850, 85 hp... world's most powerful outboard motors. These 6-cylinder Mercs can show a rocket-tail to any other outboard... push big cruisers with ease.

See Merc's new 4-cylinder motors... the Merc 350, 65 hp, and the Merc 500, 50 hp. The all-new Merc 450 is a 4-cylinder in-line engine and many of its parts are interchangeable with the well-proved Merc 1000. The new Merc 500 will operate on up to 50% less fuel than other outboards in its power range. Both have Merc's new weed-least water intake that's virtually immune to clogging.

There are four Mercury twins... 35, 20, 9.8 and 6 horsepower. The new Merc 350, 35 hp, has Power Dome combustion chambers like its more powerful brothers and is available with either manual or electric starting. The new Merc 500, 50 hp, is bulky enough for big jobs... small enough to fit in the trunk of your car. Merc 110 is the world's lightest 9.8 hp fishing motor. It weighs only 55 pounds... as little as competitors' 6 1/2 hp outboards. The new Merc 60, 6 hp, is the lightest, liveliest little motor that ever sat on a transom.

All the new 1963 Mercs have full gearshift... forward, neutral and reverse. All are available with single-lever remote controls.

See them now. Buy one and get more from it for your money!

Hillites Rule All-SVC Five

PC's Gerald Henry Picked for 2nd Team

League champion Saginaw Arthur Hill placed three players on the Saginaw Valley Conference's first and second all-star teams, it was announced today.

Runner-up Pontiac Central with its well balanced team effort, has Gerald Henry as its representative on the SVC glamer squad.

Henry, a driving forward and the Chiefs' top defensive performer, was named to the league's second five.

A glittering array of point producers comprise the first squad led by Arthur Hill's outstanding center, 6-10 Craig Dill, and Saginaw's excellent offensive threat, 5-10 Lovell Humes.

The "Mr. Everything" on Bay City Handy's cage quintet, 6-4 Clay Wilhite; Dill's scoring teammate on the Lumberjacks, 5-9 Keith Kuntzing; and 6-2 center Carl Cmeljek of Flint Southwestern round out the top five.

All are seniors. The second team is all seniors with the exception of Henry, a Junior.

Only Saginaw's Dick Williams at 6-5 surpasses the 72-inch mark on the second quintet. Handy's Bob Willeke is right at 6-0, while Henry (5-11), Arthur Hill's Jim Flora (5-4) and Flint Central's Jerome Rutland (5-9) struck a sturdy blow for the little player this season.

The league's honorable mention list includes four PCH players: team captain Ray Sain, guard Mel DeWalt, guard Jean Hodge and center McKinley Jones.

Sebring Prix Seen 'Toughest Grind'

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — Who races in the Sebring 12-hour Grand Prix of endurance, why, and what do they get out of it?

The Sebring race probably is the toughest endurance grind in the world, though some will say the Lemans, France, 24-hour race is a strong competitor.

The 5.2-mile course is laid out on an abandoned air strip south of this normally quiet central-Florida community. At the climax of race week, Saturday, more than 50,000 persons will jam every available facility, including camping grounds.

They come to see 65 cars test their mechanical hearts out.

The majority of the entries are European-made cars. This race and four others are important to the builders, and victories count toward the World Manufacturer's Championship.

Little Albie Clips Giants

He's Not Overmatched

By The Associated Press
Albie Pearson, the littliest Angel of them all, looks like he's overmatched every time he picks up a baseball bat. The way Pearson's bat is swinging lately, the bat must feel like a baton.

Pearson, who stands just over 5-foot-5½ and weighs in at 141 pounds after eating, whipped the bat around at the Los Angeles camp again Thursday, leading the Angels to their seventh consecutive exhibition victory, 5-3 over San Francisco.

The 27-year-old left-handed swinger stroked three hits—one a triple—at Palm Springs as the Angels handed the National League champions their fifth straight setback. Pearson also stole two bases, which brought grins from Manager Bill Rigney.

Rigney has tabbed Pearson as a key man in an effort to generate more speed on the basepaths. And Pearson, who led the American League in runs scored with 115 last season, could fill the bill. He led the club with 15 thefts in 1962.

NOTHING SETTLED

The world champion New York Yankees, meanwhile, had just finished their game with Washington on the other side of the country in Florida. The teams played to a 7-7, 17-inning tie in a 4-hour, 25-minute marathon at Pompano Beach.

In two other extra inning affairs, Pittsburgh handed Minnesota its fifth loss in a row, 5-4 in 11 innings at Fort Myers, and the New York Mets used Charlie Neal's sacrifice fly in the 10th for a 2-1 triumph over Milwaukee at West Palm Beach.

Elsewhere, Al Kaline hit two homers as Detroit crushed Baltimore 11-1 at Lakeland, Cincinnati's Tommy Harper hit a pair in the Reds 7-4 squeaker over the Chicago White Sox at Sarasota, St. Louis whipped Kansas City 6-1 at St. Petersburg, Cleveland beat the Chicago Cubs 7-2 at Mesa.

Philadelphia defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-7 at Clearwater and Boston edged Houston 4-3 at Scottsdale.

Elston Howard homered for the Yankees in the second inning and Don Lock connected for a three-run homer in the eighth for the Senators. Yankee shortstop Phil Linz kept Washington from ending it in the 17th with a leaping stab of Jim Persall's liner with two men on.

WALKED AWAY

A walk to Bob Skinner and singles by Donn Clendenon and rookie Gene Alley won for the Pirates over the Twins. Warren Spahn went seven innings and allowed only three hits for the Braves, but the Mets scored the clincher in the 10th on a single by Al Moran, two intentional walks and Neal's long fly.

Duke Garmel and George Altman each tripped and singled in the Cards victory over the A's. Rookie Vic Davalillo collected two singles and a double, backing the five-hit pitching of Floyd Weaver, Joe Schaffernoth and Barry Latman as the Indians whipped the Cubs.

Three-run homers by Wes Covington and Frank Torre off Dodgers ace Don Drysdale got the job done for the Phillies. Home runs by Eddie Bressoud and Carl Yaztremski powered the Red Sox over the Colts.

Jastremski After Third Swim Medal

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Fabulous Chet Jastremski, built more like a wrestler than a swimmer, tries for his third gold medal today in the National AAU Indoor Swimming Championships.

Just about everybody here for the third day of the championships was cheering for Chet. The Jet for Indiana University to win his third title in as many days.

Having captured the 200-yard individual medley and breaststroke races in American record times, the 21-year-old pre-medical student was after the 100-yard breaststroke title today, and a solid favorite to retain his crown. Before plunging into Yale's plush 25-yard pool today, the 5-8, 168-pound Jastremski and Roy Saari, a Southern California freshman, were the meet's only double winners.

EYES REPEAT

Young Saari, who also has sliced national records in annexing the 500-yard and 1,650 yard freestyle records, gets his chance to duplicate last year's triple on Saturday when he competes in the 200-yard sprint.

In addition to the 100-yard breaststroke, the nation's top swimmers were battling today for the 100-yard butterfly title held by Indiana's Larry Schulof. Southern California Bob Bennett's 100-yard backstroke crown, and the 400-yard freestyle relay medals won last year by the Santa Clara S.C.

So far seven races have been held, and seven records have been lowered. The standard smasher Thursday night were Jastremski, 200-yard breaststroke, 1:55.9; Fred Schmidt, Indiana, 200-yard butterfly, 1:55.2; and Saari, 1,650-yard freestyle, 16:32.1. Indiana with 44 points, increased its lead in the scrap for team honors. The closest challengers are Southern Cal freshmen 24, and Yale 14.

You Will Be Seeing a Lot of Kim in Latest Movie

By EARL WILSON

BRISTOL, Wales — I'm flying to London after a revealing interview in Dublin with Kim Novak, who said she's concerned about appearing nude in her next movie, "Of Human Bondage." Nowadays, more and more, movies have at least one nude scene. Kim has two scenes in her birthday suit.

She plays the Cockney waitress Mildred, who winds up a trollop in the Somerset Maugham classic.

Herry Hathaway, director of the film, which will co-star Laurence Harvey, says that when he was showing the shooting schedule to Kim, she noticed the words "body double," and asked what they meant.

"You have a nude scene, and of course you don't want to pose nude, so you'll have a body double," Kim asked.

"Why should I use a double? Who's got a better body than I have?" Kim asked.

And so they're making plans to shoot Kim in the altogether. Two or three top European still photographers will be the lucky boys admitted to the set.

STADIES FACE EXPULSION
JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—The Father Carey put his ban Rev. James A. Carey, who has against steady dating into effect outlawed steady dating at St. March 1, warning students they school's Roman Catholic High would be expelled if they did not students face expulsion if they did not heeded his ban by Monday.

He told the assembly he has received more than 2,000 letters, some from as far away as Iraq and Iran, commending his action. Unfavorable letters, number about 20, he said.

Grandpa Amos McCoy
Close Friend of Cooper

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

In Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — Walter Brennan, conservatively natty in a dark blue suit and regimental tie, drew some curious "Don't know you from somewhere" looks as he walked from the NBC studios in Rockefeller Center to a nearby restaurant.

But the 69-year-old actor was so far out of his country-farmer role of Grandpa Amos McCoy of television that public recognition was slow.

And he was glad, because he was fresh from narrating the final scenes of Tuesday night's NBC special "The Tall American—Gary Cooper," and still feeling emotional about the experience. "I was afraid my emotion would run away with me," the three-time Oscar winner confessed. "I'm Irish, you know, and an actor, and I cry pretty easily."

He ordered a breakfast-type luncheon of bacon and eggs, and returned to the subject which was still uppermost in his mind: Gary Cooper, a friend for 27 years.

$10 A DAY

"I got to know Coop when he went out to Hollywood for pictures in 1925. We met one day while we were hanging around waiting for a scene, and I introduced myself and he mumbled his name so low I asked him to repeat it. 'Frank Cooper,' he said. Those were the days when he was as extra and carried around a cane that said, 'Frank Cooper, $10 a day—stunts extra.'"

Cooper — rechristened Gary — struck the public's fancy in "The Fighting Barbara Worth." Over the years Brennan appeared in eight big pictures with him, and was always a close friend.

"He was a regular guy," said Brennan, "and he never changed."

And he was always a relaxer for me. I miss him very much."

Brennan's career moved along briskly, too, as Cooper shot to the top as one of Hollywood's great stars. A native of Swampscott, Mass., Brennan abandoned an engineering career, moved to Hollywood in 1920 and got his first film role, a silent thriller called "Lorraine of the Lions." His first big movie break came in 1935, and he has been steadily employed as a capable character actor ever since.

LONDON (AP) — Russian Foreign Minister G. Gromyko has been charged with espionage and Premier Nikita Khrushchev has promised "We shall try him—try him severely as a spy."

The penalty for espionage in the Soviet Union is death.

30 years in prison to execution by firing squad.

The latest developments were announced in Tass broadcasts from Moscow today in the wake of the news conference Khrushchev held Wednesday at the Moscow exhibition.

Part of Western correspondents' dispatches on the news conference had been held up in Moscow censorship. The Tass account of Khrushchev's remarks was carried after the news conference.

County Wonders Who Will Become 2 New Judges?

By JIM DYER

Now that the State Legislature's approval of two new circuit judges for Oakland County is almost certain, the county's attention is focused on another question: Who will they be?

Leading prospects for appointment by Gov. George Romney are two well-known attorneys—James S. Thorne of Royal Oak and Philip Pratt of Pontiac. They would serve until the 1964 general election.

Several other names, including that of County Prosecutor George F. Taylor, are prominent in the speculation.

Bills to increase the county's circuit judgeships from five to seven are scheduled to come up for a vote in both the House and Senate early next week.

Both houses are expected to approve the measures. They were reported favorably out of the Senate Judiciary Committee and the powerful House Ways and Means Committee.

Approval by the House Ways and Means Committee, which must okay an appropriation to pay the state's share of the new judges' salaries, indicates that the measures will pass the legislature.

There has been no strong opposition to Oakland County's request for the new judges. They handle an increasing case load brought on by growing population and extra work required by new court rules that went into effect Jan. 1.

Thorne is president of the Oakland County Bar Association. He also was considered a leading prospect for the circuit judiciary post vacated by Judge H. Russell Holland's retirement last month.

Thorne, 44, of 2809 Vinetia Blvd., Royal Oak, also is vice president of the Michigan State Bar Association.

POPULATION SIZE

Under the plan, which is expected to be adopted by the Republican-controlled legislature and signed by Republican Gov. George Romney, the 19th would have a population of 423,000. The 18th would have about 416,000.

Although the plan is still in a proposed last week by county Democrats, the Democrats suggested including Farmington Township in the 18th, plus Livingston County instead of St. Clair.

This plan would have put a population of 385,108 in the 19th and 385,534 in the 18th.

The new GOP proposal was a change from a previous plan to split the county east and west.

Dems Blast District Plan Say Population Is Unrealistic Element

A new Republican plan for the congressional redistricting of Oakland County was under attack today by Oakland County Democrats.

James M. McNeely, executive assistant to Congress Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin, charged that the plan was unrealistic because of anticipated rapid population growth in both new districts that the plan would create.

McNeely claimed this was so because population of the two districts already exceeds the "ideal" of 411,000 per district.

The proposal, a revised version of a previous plan by Republican state legislators, would put all the county in the new 19th district, except for an area in the southern part.

This area — Farmington Township and the area south of 28-Mile Road and east of Inkster Road — would form an 18th District reduced from its present size encompassing the entire county.

Also in the 19th would be LaPier and St. Clair counties.

Nancy Anne on Honeymoon Bride Irritated With Press at Ceremony

From Our News Wire

EAST LANSING — Nancy Anne Fleming of Montague, whose homelike talents and brunette, green-eyed beauty won her the Miss America of 1961 title, is honeymooning with her campus sweetheart today.

The 20-year-old former beauty queen and William Johnson, 21, of Okemos, were married yesterday in the Michigan State University Alumni Memorial Chapel.

The bride was slightly less than befitting to the reporters and photographers who befriended her two years before.

FAILS TO APPEAR

After the ceremony, however, it had been agreed the suburban MSU couple would leave the reception briefly to accommodate news photographers. Time passed and no bride appeared.

When a few enterprising photographers attempted to get a candid shot of the newlywed Johnsons cutting their wedding cake, the bride turned her back on them.

Her irritation was very evident. One of the photographers, "You've ruined everything, now get out!"

When the couple was ready to leave the chapel following the reception, the irritation was no longer apparent. The newlyweds restored their smiles to allow catch-as-catch-can pictures.

Volcano Toll 1,100, Says Bali Governor

DENPASAR, Bali (AP)—The deluge of lava from sacred Agung volcano was reported to have stopped today after five days of eruption. The governor of Bali said at least 1,100 islanders have perished.

"We have 75,000 homeless people to feed at this point, and we need help from everybody," said Gov. Anak Agung Sutedja.

He said another 200,000 may have lost their livelihood. Thousands of acres of once-fertile rice land lay beneath tons of lava and ash that have blanketed Bali's northeast coast.

Riding and afloat, they carried what possessions they could as they tried to get away from the point, and we need help from everybody," said Gov. Anak Agung Sutedja.

10,000-foot volcano which erupted briefly in February after years of virtual quiet, then went into violent action Sunday.

Reports from the disaster area said a heavy column of smoke still billowed from the crater.

A civil defense spokesman in Jakarta said earlier that more violent eruptions were feared, and authorities were trying to clear about 250,000 persons from a radius of 20 miles around the volcano.

A mushroom-shaped cloud of smoke could be seen from aircraft flying into Denpasar, but no ash was visible in this capital.

Boxer in Coma; Chances Are Poor

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former featherweight champion Davey Moore was in a coma today and his chances of surviving were estimated as poor by a hospital physician after he lost his boxing head in a knockout by Sugar Ramos Thursday night.

Dr. Philip Vogel said Moore, 29, was suffering from "a serious head injury. His chances are extremely poor." He said that Moore's fate probably would be known within hours.

Vogel described Moore's injury as a contusion, more serious than a brain concussion.

No brain operation was contemplated, but a tracheotomy, insertion of a tube in the windpipe,

Kennedy Holds Olive Branch Between Two TFX Factions

WASHINGTON (AP)—With kind words for both sides, President Kennedy has stepped in between senators and defense officials battling over the TFX warplane probe.

In so many words Thursday he told the Pentagon to wait in a neutral corner for the investigation's outcome, which he said would prove that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was right in awarding the big contract to General Dynamics Corp.

"I see nothing wrong with Congress looking at these matters," the President told his news conference. "My judgment is that the decision reached by Secretary McNamara was the right one, sound one, and any fair and objective hearing will bring that out."

And, he added later, "I assume that the McClellan committee, on which I once served, will render a fair judgment."

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., hailed Kennedy's words as "fair and nice."

'INFLUENCE' PROBED

The subcommittee is investigating whether influence was a factor in the Pentagon's award of the contract for the TFX—experimental tactical fighter—to General Dynamics of Fort Worth, Tex., over a lower rival bid by the Boeing Co. of Seattle, Wash.

The $34-million contract covers the start of work on the plane, an all-purpose fighter-bomber to be used by both Air Force and Navy. Eventually 1,700 of the planes will be built at an estimated cost of $6.5 billion.

After Kennedy's soothing words, Sen. Karl E. Mundt declared, "I hope and expect we will not be diverted by any more attacks from the Pentagon."

Kennedy's statement was oil on troubled waters, but only time would tell if he calmed them.

Before he spoke to newsmen the developments had added to the storm:

'ORAL ABUSE'

The Defense Department leaked to newsmen a memorandum protesting that the subcommittee's investigators had subjected Air Force employees to "oral abuse and pressure tactics" smacking of Gestapo tactics.

Jerome Adlerman, subcommittee counsel, fired back that the charge was false and designed to harass one of his aides who, Adlerman said, had uncovered "enormous errors" in figures the Defense Department used to justify its award of the contract.

The Senate itself got into a boiling over when the Air Force memorandum with McClellan rejecting its charges and caustically declaring he would call off the hearings if the Senate would pass a resolution ordering him to "cease and desist."

London, too, seems to be a likely addition to his itinerary.

The Chief Executive earlier had announced plans to visit Rome and Bonn, the Italian and West German capitals, in late May or early June.

At his news conference, he said he also hoped to add Berlin to his German visit.

Diplomatic sources said it could be anticipated that Kennedy would stop off in London, possibly for a night, to fill in British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan on his talks in Italy and Germany.

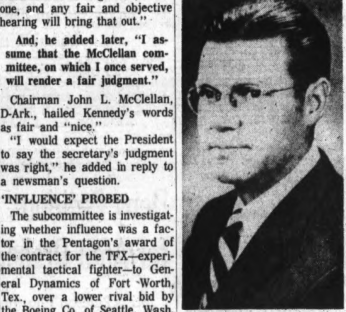

4-MINUTE CAPSULE

Kennedy opened the conference by reading a four-minute statement on his three days of talks this week at San Jose, Costa Rica, with the presidents of Panama, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua.

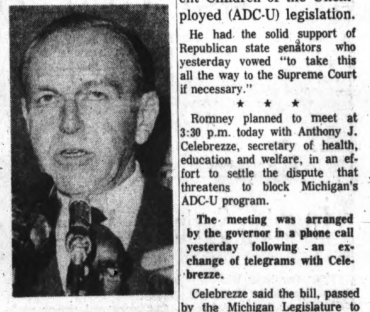

Said the President, who flew back to Washington late Wednesday:

"I return from San Jose with increased confidence that we will continue to live in a hemisphere of peace."

'3,000 Troops Now Out of Cuba—as Starter': JFK

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy says the Soviets have withdrawn some 3,000 troops from Cuba in recent weeks—and he hopes this is only a starter.

Kennedy told his news conference yesterday that "we are waiting to see whether more will be withdrawn, as we would hope." But he said the scope of the withdrawal would not be fairly evident until the end of March.

When the Soviet Union promised last month to withdraw several thousand troops from Cuba by mid-March, the U.S. government estimated Soviet military and technical personnel in Cuba totaled about 17,000.

Kennedy's next venture in personal diplomacy, a late spring trip to Europe, is being expanded to include West Berlin.

London, too, seems to be a likely addition to his itinerary.

The Chief Executive earlier had announced plans to visit Rome and Bonn, the Italian and West German capitals, in late May or early June.

Plan Citations for Lawmen in Murder Case

Sheriff's detectives and other police officers directly responsible for solving the murder of Robert A. Greene will receive citations from the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

A motion to that effect was unanimously adopted by the board yesterday when it met in Pontiac.

The motion was made from the floor by White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz, who said "These officers should be officially commended for their efficient action."

Board Chairman Delos Hamlin said he would ask Sheriff Frank Irons to name the officers to be cited.

It was while Democrats in the Senate were unsuccessfully attempting yesterday to recall the legislation for further consideration that Senate Republican Caucus Leader Stanley Thayer of Ann Arbor said he would like to see the dispute go to the U.S. Supreme Court.

CITIES AUTHORITY

"We are not going to let the head of an executive agency in Washington tell us we can't do what Congress gave us the authority to do," Thayer said.

Thayer and Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, argued funds under the program if the bill is not carried out, played workers would lose out on any money under the state's bill.

The bill only determines where the money comes from, Roberts and Thayer said.

Pleasant Weekend Forecast for Area

Sunny and warmer with temperatures headed for a high of 48 is the outlook for tomorrow. Fair and not so cold, the low near 27, is the weatherman's prediction for tonight.

And temperatures are expected to climb even higher on Sunday with skies somewhat cloudy.

Morning winds north to northwest at 8 to 15 miles per hour will become light and variable tonight and southerly at 5 to 12 m.p.h. tomorrow.

Fifteen was the low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. Temperatures rose to 31 at 7 p.m.

GOP Solons Back Battle for Child Aid

To Defend Legislation Passed by State, but Vetoed in Washington

Special to The Pontiac Press

LANSING — Fresh from a victory over another state in the bidding for the 1968 Olympics, Gov. George Romney was on his way to Washington today ready to take to the federal government over Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed (ADC-U) legislation.

He had the solid support of Republican state senators yesterday vowed "to take this all the way to the Supreme Court if necessary."

Romney planned to meet at 3:30 p.m. today with Anthony J. Celebrezze, secretary of health, education and welfare, in an effort to settle the dispute that threatens to block Michigan's ADC-U program.

The meeting was arranged by the governor in a phone call yesterday following an exchange of telegrams with Celebrezze.

Celebrezze said the bill, passed by the Michigan Legislature to enable the state to participate in the federal aid program, was arbitrary, discriminatory and unacceptable.

DOUBLE RETALIATION

Romney, Republican legislators and acting director of the State Welfare Department Lynn Kellogg retaliated with two replies:

1. That the federal legislation gives the state the authority to define "unemployed."

2. That many other states have received federal funds under enabling laws even more restrictive than Michigan's.

The dispute is over a provision in the Michigan bill that only children of those eligible for state unemployment compensation since Jan. 1, 1958, would qualify for federal aid.

Democratic lawmakers claim the state would not get any federal funds under the program if the bill is not carried out, though Celebrezze did not specifically say that.

It was while Democrats in the Senate were unsuccessfully attempting yesterday to recall the legislation for further consideration that Senate Republican Caucus Leader Stanley Thayer of Ann Arbor said he would like to see the dispute go to the U.S. Supreme Court.

CITIES AUTHORITY

"We are not going to let the head of an executive agency in Washington tell us we can't do what Congress gave us the authority to do," Thayer said.

NANCY ANNE WEDS — With the wind blowing her veil, Nancy Anne Fleming, 20, of Montague, the former Miss America, emerges from the chapel on Michigan State University's campus with her bridegroom, William Johnson, 21, of Okemos. Closing Law Hearing Set Here April 18

A public hearing on whether the new weekend business closing law should be nullified in Oakland County has been scheduled for April 18.

The date was set yesterday by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, at the board's direction.

The hearing is to be held before the full board at 10 a.m. in the auditorium of the old county office building at 1 Lafayette Street.

The new state law, which goes into effect next Thursday, permits boards of supervisors to nullify it in their own counties by a two-thirds majority vote. The law requires a public hearing before the board can act.

Unless the board votes the law here, the sale of a long list of items will be restricted to only six days a week in stores larger than 4,000 square feet.

Many independent merchants, especially in lake areas where the support of township supervisors is seeking to nullify the law in Oakland County.

However, Hamlin said he expects supervisors representing cities to vote to keep the law in effect.

There are enough city supervisors to keep the law in effect.

Of 45 supervisors on the board, only 26 represent townships.

SUIT FILED

Meanwhile, in Detroit some 61 large discount houses have filed suit in Wayne County Circuit Court charging the law is unconstitutional.

A hearing on the suit is scheduled in court today.

The law prohibits the sale of some 50 classifications of consumer goods, including electrical goods and appliances and food for off-premise use or consumption.

Small retailers who keep the business within the family are exempt from the provisions of the law.

The attorneys for the 60 stores, most of them discount stores, claimed the provision allowing supervisors to exclude their counties from the law makes the law a local one.

The state constitution provides that local acts must be approved by popular vote before they can take effect.

The provision that allows stores with less than 4,000 square feet to remain open to discriminate, the discount store attorneys argue.

The law was promoted by small retailers whose business was being hurt by the discount houses, also was favored by some of the large chain stores that normally do not remain open on Sunday.

Freezing Spring to Warm Up

From Our News Wires

Spring, always the flighty one, gave Michigan a freeze treatment but also promised fair, warming weather on her second day to day.

Temperatures shot down overnight, going below zero in the far north. But the sun came out brightly and a fine weekend was reported in store for the entire state.

Temperatures were expected to range from 22 to 43 today in the Lower Peninsula and 30 to 36 in the Upper Peninsula.

A predawn 6 below zero was registered at the K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base outside Marquette. It was much warmer in the city, however.

Pelliston had an even zero and Traverse City 1 above. Elsewhere in southern Michigan, lows were generally near 20 degrees.

Fair skies and chilling winds covered most of the nation today on the first full day of spring. Frost warnings were posted as far south as Florida.

Temperatures dipped below freezing across the plains, freezing the Mississippi Valley and eastward to the Appalachians.

The first day of spring yesterday was just like any winter day in much of the Northeast. A sneak storm splattered up to 6 inches of snow in New England and southeastern Massachusetts suffered its worst storm of the season.

Nine inches of snow socked Albany, N. Y., 5 inches covered roads in southwestern Virginia and as much as one foot of snow piled up in the West Virginia mountains.

Drill Sergeant Being Tried

Marine Is Accused of Maltreating Recruits

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The court-martial of the third Marine drill instructor accused within two months of maltreating recruits begins today at the Marine Corps recruit depot.

It was disclosed yesterday that two instructors appeared before separate court-martial boards last month and pleaded guilty.

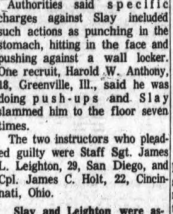

Sgt. Carlton L. Slay, 33, San Diego, was ordered to appear before the board today to answer 18 counts of maltreatment or cruel and unusual punishment involving 15 recruits.

Authorities said specific charges against Slay included such actions as punching in the stomach, hitting in the face and pushing against a wall locker. One recruit, Harold W. Anthony, 18, Greenville, Ill., said he was doing push-ups and Slay slammed him to the floor seven times.

The two instructors who pleaded guilty were Staff Sgt. James L. Leighton, 29, San Diego, and Cpl. James C. Holt, 22, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Slay and Leighton were assigned to the 2nd Recruit Training Battalion at the time and Holt was with the 1st Recruit Training Battalion.

Officials said incidents which brought complaints against the three instructors occurred in October and November of last year. Leighton pleaded guilty to maltreating eight recruits, to forbidding a maltreated recruit from testifying against him and to failing to report maltreatment committed by a subordinate (Slay).

Deny Petition for Area Probe

SEATTLE, South Korea (AP)—The largest anti-government demonstration in South Korea's 22 months of military rule erupted today in Seoul and two southern cities.

Confronted by his most serious challenge to date, strongman Gen. Chung Hee Park declared army troops would not waiver from his plan to extend military rule for another four years.

About 600 slogan-chanting demonstrators marched the streets of Seoul, demanding that the military junta keep its earlier promise to restore civilian government in August. Police seized scores of marchers.

Park banned political activity in this tense nation March 16 and proposed a referendum on his plan to continue military rule.

BEHIND GOVERNMENT

The military junta warned in a nationwide broadcast that the armed forces stand behind the government. In a show of force, a vehicle convoy of officers traveled from Park's residence to the defense ministry.

The demonstration in Seoul brought out many civilian political leaders. For the first time, members of the general public joined in.

Police broke up similar demonstrations in Pusan, the nation's second largest city, on the southern tip of the peninsula, and Kwag-Ju, a provincial capital 150 miles south of Seoul. Arrests were made.

In proposing an extension of military rule, Park said, "This country should not become a state solely for the tainted politicians." He pledged to "exercise the will of the people expressed through a referendum."

County Asks: Who Will Be New Judges?

President of the Royal Oak Board of Education.

Although he has not sought county or state office in the past, he has been active in the Republican party and was chairman of Oakland County Lawyers for Romney last fall.

Pratt's name also figured in the speculation to fill the vacancy left by Judge Holland. The 38-year-old attorney is currently legislative director of the second legislative district (Pontiac) for the county Republican party.

Pratt, 482 W. Iroquois Road, has been active in the GOP since 1952 and was Pontiac chairman of Volunteers for Romney in the 1962 campaign.

He is a graduate of University of Michigan Law School.

Prosecutor Taylor also was considered for Judge Holland's post. He has been prosecutor since 1959, when he was appointed to the position, and has been re-elected twice on the GOP ticket.

OTHERS MENTIONED

Others mentioned as possible contenders for the new judgeships have been Birmingham Municipal Judge John C. Emery Jr., Leeland, Birmingham attorney Maurice Merritt and Royal Oak attorney Theodore F. Hughes.

Hughes was elected to a unique six-month term on the county's circuit bench in 1959, but failed to win reappointment in the primary.

If the two new judgeships are approved, the county GOP executive committee will submit recommendations to Romney for appointments.

The legislation would take effect 90 days after the legislature adjourns unless a motion is made for immediate effect. It is approved by a two-thirds vote in both houses.

Such a motion is expected. If approved, the county would get the new judicial posts when the governor signs the legislation.

The new judgeships would each cost the county an estimated $50,000 to $75,000 a year.

Locate Woman Missing Four Days in Turkey

A former Pontiac woman who was missing for four days in Turkey has been reunited with her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Medina and their two children left Izmir, Turkey, today for Germany and return to the United States.

There was no official explanation of the recent disappearance of German-born Mrs. Medina, 38. She was located Tuesday at the home of a Turkish family.

Medina, 38, has been working as a rocket specialist at Cigli Air Force Base near Izmir. The Medina's formerly lived at 181 Carr St. while he was employed at the Chrysler Missile Plant in Sterling Township.

The family reportedly plans to spend some time in Frankfurt, Germany, before returning to the United States where Medina will be reassigned.

CONTROLS RADIO

But with political activity banned, the referendum promised to be an all-government show. The government controls the nationwide radio and information centers in villages and has placed severe restrictions on newspapers.

Defense Minister Kim Sung-un said the armed forces, 600,000 strong, stand behind the government in its bid to retain power. Civilian politicians had hoped many of the troops would side with them.

Disappointment swept anti-government ranks when President Kennedy did not condemn the junta's power play at his news conference in Washington Thursday. Former Premier Hah Chung had appealed to Kennedy to pressure the junta into restoring civil rule.

Board Will Act Tuesday on Argued Redistricting

BIRMINGHAM — A tentative school redistricting plan, which board of education officials admit won't satisfy everyone, will be acted upon next Tuesday.

Action on redistricting became necessary because of overcrowded conditions at Derby Junior High School and Seaholm High School.

A previous plan proposed by School Supt. Otis M. Dickey brought vigorous protests from several sections of the school district.

Under the original proposal, students attending Harlan, students attending Harlan, students attending Derby and Seaholm would have attended Berkshire Junior High School and Groves High School instead of closer Derby and Seaholm.

Some Harlan area parents complained at the time that Dickey's plan would cause their children to spend an extra 550 hours on school buses.

The new plan, which the board arrived at after five study sessions, one with district parents, "gradually eliminates the transportation cross-cross and permits all students who can walk to school to do so," according to Board Trustee Pell Hollingshead.

In addition, he continued, no more students need ride buses. "The over-all plan will not increase transportation cost now and will result in an eventual saving," he added.

The board's tentative proposals call for Harlan students currently attending Derby and Seaholm schools to remain there. Students from the Westchester, Bloomfield Village and Valley Woods areas attending Derby would be allowed to finish at that school.

Eventually, under the board's phasing system, students from Harlan will attend Derby for grades 7-9, then move to Groves for 10-12.

Students from the other three areas will attend the new Berkshire Junior High School for grades 7 and 8, Groves for 9 and Seaholm for 10-12.

The Pentagon announced that McNamara voluntarily gave the Senate investigations subcommittee an up-to-date statement of his personal financial status, including all property he and his wife own.

"Mr. McNamara did so because of newspaper reports that had said that the committee's investigating staff is examining possible self-interest on the part of Pentagon officials in the award of the TFX contract," the Defense Department said.

The financial statement represents the situation as of March 1, as reported by an investment counsel to whom McNamara turned over management of his finances upon becoming defense secretary.

The million-plus total includes only $1,205 in cash.

The remainder includes $62,735 in common stocks and $24,100 in fixed-income bonds, mostly federal government municipal issues.

When McNamara joined the cabinet in 1961, he gave up an annual salary and bonus totaling $500,000 as president of Ford Motor Co. for a salary of $25,000 as secretary of defense.

In addition, he sold 24,705 shares of Ford stock for approximately $1.5 million.

VIP Says He Knows Missing Witness

LONDON (AP)—War Minister John Profumo, 45, told the House of Commons today he had been friendly with a good-time girl whose disappearance has touched off a nationwide wave of gossip.

But he said he had not seen her in more than 14 months and knew nothing of her present whereabouts.

Labor members of Commons demanded Thursday night that the government deny—or open an inquiry into—rumors that a leading government minister was involved with Christine Keeler, 20, who twice has failed to appear as a witness in a shooting case.

One Laborite, Barbara Castle, said there were rumors highly placed persons were responsible for hiding Christine, whom she termed "the missing cat girl."

"I understand my name has been connected with rumors about her disappearance," Profumo told Commons today.

"Any suggestion that I was in any way connected with or responsible for her absence at the trial at the Old Bailey is wholly and completely untrue."

The name of the minister had not been mentioned in the exchange between the Laborites and the Conservative government spokesman, Home Secretary Henry Brooke.

Last of Alcatraz Inmates 'Escape' the Dreaded 'Rock'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Only the ghosts of "Scarface Al" Capone, George "Machine Gun" Kelly and others of America's most notorious gangsters in habited the lofty cell blocks of Alcatraz Prison today.

The last 27 of the island prison's 200 inmate population were removed yesterday and transferred to other institutions preparatory to closing down "The Rock" by June 30.

Those 27 left the easy way—by boat. During its 29 years as the home of the federal government's most hardened convicts, seven inmates were shot and killed, six drowned or were believed to have drowned, and 26 were seized in 14 escape attempts.

A blond, thin-faced gun smuggler from Anchorage, Alaska, named Frank C. Weatherman had the distinction of being the last inmate off Alcatraz. A newsman asked him how he felt about it.

"Good. Good for me, good for everyone. Alcatraz never was no good," the 23-year-old convict replied.

A few minutes after Weatherman and the others departed, guard Gordon Gronzo clumped down the steps of the 75-foot-high gun tower No. 1. He carried a rifle and wore another cartridge belt slung over his shoulder. No longer was there any need for him to watch for trouble on Alcatraz.

Alcatraz was opened in 1934

to house incorrigibles during the wave of gangland violence that followed the end of prohibition.

The decision to abandon the 23-year-old prison in San Francisco Bay was prompted by its deterioration from age and salt air. Federal officials said it would cost $5 million to renovate it.

The condition of the prison was dramatized last June when three bank robbers used sharpened spoons to dig through rotting concrete at the back of their cells and fled the island. Officials are convinced they drowned, although their bodies were never found.

But the most spectacular escape attempt was the May 2, 1946 "Battle of Alcatraz" witnessed for two days by thousands from the hills of San Francisco.

Navy destroyers circled the island, U.S. Marines stormed ashore and fighter planes zoomed low overhead as nine inmates attempted to "blast out" of a three-tiered cellblock.

But they were thwarted when a captured guard managed to hide an all-important key; he was beaten and killed when the prisoners tried unsuccessfully to force him to reveal the hiding place.

Two other officers were slain and a third critically wounded; three inmates died in the battle and two were later executed.

Childless couples always bring up their kids very successfully Poem for today: Girls who trip the light fantastic, shouldn't count on cheap elastic Down at our friendly neighborhood tavern, they told about the guy going to the electric chair, choosing his menu for his last supper. Ex-Turkey President Released From Jail

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UPI) — Former President Celal Bayar, who was imprisoned for life for violating the Turkish constitution today, was released because of his ill health.

The government freed the 80-year-old former leader from Kayseri Prison so he could go home to his family in Ankara.

Bayar was imprisoned in May 1961, along with several hundred other members of the Democratic party after a marathon trial at Yassada.

Costs Kept Down

Tax Collections Rise

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK—If you're figuring your income tax return this weekend it may be little consolation to you, but—

The Internal Revenue Service says the higher the collections climb, the lower the cost of the collection per dollar.

Well, the total collected is getting mighty high. And the bulk of it comes through voluntary compliance. IRS says that's the main reason it can hold collection costs down.

If you didn't make out those forms voluntarily and if your employer didn't do the withholding, routine, costs would soar.

With one thing and another, it now costs around 45 cents for each $100 the taxpayers shell out.

BIG FIGURES

To put that into the big figures and the cost per dollar drops, it the U. S. Treasury is accustomed to. In fiscal 1962 collections came to $89,440,000,000 and the operating outlay of IRS was $450,000,000.

Biggest cost item was salaries for the 56,510 employees—$3,337 in national headquarters and $3,135 in the field. Congress has authorized hiring 2,790 more this fiscal year, to make more audits, mathematical checks, tax fraud investigations and checkups on the million who don't file. The 20 per cent of costs not accounted for by salaries goes for tax forms, office rental, equipment and furniture and travel expenses. IRS says mechanical handling of returns is cutting costs and soon will make still greater inroads.

In fiscal 1962 taxes on income brought in $71.9 billion, almost two-thirds of that from individuals and the rest from corporations. Estate and gift taxes added $2.7 billion, employment taxes $12.7 billion. Excise taxes totaled $12.8 billion, with alcohol accounting for $3.3 billion and tobacco $2 billion.

Tax revenues soar in wartime, and the cost per dollar drops, it the collecting is easy. In the Spanish-American war the cost for the first time dipped below $2 per $100 of take. At the end of World War I it dropped to 33 cents, climbed back to $2.17 in 1932, and went to a record low of 32 cents at the end of World War II.

POSTWAR HIGH
The postwar high was 59 cents in 1950. Since then an almost uninterrupted climb in total collections has kept unit costs down, although total operating costs of the IRS have risen each year.

Mortimer M. Caplin, internal revenue commissioner, in a foreword to the book, "The American Way in Taxation," stresses IRS programs aimed at attaining still higher levels of voluntary compliance. The book, by Lillian Doris, published by Prentice-Hall, celebrates the 100th birthday of the IRS.

While the federal government gets 72 per cent of its revenue from levies on individual and corporate incomes, state and local governments have many other routes to the taxpayer's pocket.

In fiscal 1961 state governments collected $19 billion, and Miss Doris lists the sources in order of their returns: general sales, use or gross receipts taxes; motor vehicle fuel sales; individual and corporate incomes; motor vehicle taxes and licenses; alcoholic beverage sales taxes and licenses; tobacco production sales levies; property, severance, death and gift taxes; and also moneymarket compliance levies.

While county and city governments rely heavily on real estate and tangible personal property taxes, growing revenue sources are license fees, municipal sales taxes, gross receipts, amusement and occupation taxes.

So that federal income return you're sweating out isn't the tax business—as if you didn't know.

Successful Investing
By ROGER E. SPEAR
Q: "After dabbling in stocks over a period of years with indifferent success, I have decided to concentrate on the growth inherent in life insurance companies. As I see it, chief consideration should be given to well-established companies; however, to a certain extent I think newer stocks should be included, particularly those operating in the South and Southwest where growth is strong. I welcome any suggestions." C. G.

A: In my long experience, very few "dabblers" in stocks have ever been markedly successful. In my opinion, it is necessary to do what you have had the courage to do — formulate a clear goal and stick to it.

I am a strong believer in the growth potential of life insurance stocks if held over a period of years. The last phrase is of the utmost importance. For the patient holder, these shares have in the past proved highly rewarding.

I suggest that you consider General, Franklin Life, and Commercial Union, which operates mainly in the South.

Q: "My wife and I are retired and live on Social Security plus our dividends. We are both ill, and much of our income goes for medical expenses. Would you suggest any change in the following investments? We own American Telephone, Minnesota Power & Light, Seaboard Air Line Railroad, and Federal National Mortgage Association." R. D.

A: Please allow me to express my deep sympathy for your illness and that of your wife. I hope very sincerely that with the coming of spring you will both feel better.

I would not sell Minnesota Power & Light, Seaboard or Fannie Mae, all of which are yielding 4 per cent or over.

While I hate to see you part with your American Telephone, that stock yields only 3 per cent and you can do better than that with relative safety. For income purposes only, I would switch Telephone into Union Pacific, Borg-Warner, and Lorillard, in the past proved highly rewarding.

I would not sell Minnesota Power & Light, Seaboard or Fannie Mae, all of which are yielding 4 per cent or over.

While I hate to see you part with your American Telephone, that stock yields only 3 per cent and you can do better than that with relative safety. For income purposes only, I would switch Telephone into Union Pacific, Borg-Warner, and Lorillard, in the past proved highly rewarding.

I suggest that you consider General, Franklin Life, and Commercial Union, which operates mainly in the South.

Q: "My wife and I are retired and live on Social Security plus our dividends. We are both ill, and much of our income goes for medical expenses. Would you suggest any change in the following investments? We own American Telephone, Minnesota Power & Light, Seaboard Air Line Railroad, and Federal National Mortgage Association." R. D.

A: Please allow me to express my deep sympathy for your illness and that of your wife. I hope very sincerely that with the coming of spring you will both feel better.
