

Land Safely in Atlantic

Gemini Heroes End Spectacular Mission

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Bringing home a bundle of seven space records, the Gemini 11 astronauts rode to a safe pinpoint landing in the Atlantic today to climax a sensational three-day mission.

America's newest heroes, Charles Conrad Jr. and space-walker Richard F. Gordon Jr., ended one of man's most significant space adventures when they splashed into the sea with-

In view of crewmen aboard the aircraft carrier USS Guam.

"This old world looks pretty good from the deck of this carrier," Conrad told the cheering crew of the carrier.

"But I'll tell you something else, it looks great from 850 miles up."

The smiling, heavily bearded astronaut was talking about Gemini 11's record-breaking trip yesterday to the "top of the world."

"We had a very good flight," Conrad said, "and after a couple nights rest we'll be ready to go again."

An electronic chaffeur, an automatic system being tried for the first time, steered them through a blinding re-entry through the atmosphere and parked them just about two miles off the Guam.

This was closer than any other American manned spaceship has come to its main recovery ship. Gemini 9 held the previous mark, 3 1/2 miles.

Gemini 9, however, still holds the record for closest to the aiming point — an area in the center of the landing zone.

It missed by only 300 yards, while Gemini 11 was more than a mile off that mark.

However, officials considered

this good shooting for a first try at the automatic reentry system, which relied on the spacecraft computer and guidance system.

Gemini 11 dropped into the sea at 9 a.m. EST while sailors packed the deck of the carrier to cheer two fellow Navy men. Conrad is a commander and Gordon a lieutenant commander.

Helicopters were overhead swiftly and dropped frogmen into the water to attach a flotation collar.

HOISTED ABOARD

Twenty minutes later a helicopter hoisted the astronauts out of the floating spacecraft and deposited them on the carrier.

Dressed in their space suits and flashing broad smiles, Conrad and Gordon stepped onto the Guam's deck.

They were welcomed by space agency and Defense Department officials and then stepped to a microphone to make brief statements.

The ship's band had a field day. While the helicopter approached the spacecraft, the band played "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You" and "Somewhere Over the Rainbow."

GET PHYSICAL

As the astronauts stepped onto the flight deck, it struck up "Hi Neighbor" and "Anchors Aweigh."

After the brief statements, Conrad and Gordon went below deck for physical examinations.

They are to stay on the Guam overnight, flying to Cape Kennedy tomorrow to begin several days of briefings with experts.

They were scheduled to arrive at the Cape about 8:30 a.m.

MANY RECORDS

The carrier hoisted the Gemini 11 spacecraft aboard exactly one hour after touchdown. It will be examined carefully by technicians.

The astronauts set record after record as they circled the globe 44 times, traveling nearly 1.2 million miles in 71 hours 17 minutes.

Among their many feats, they flew higher and faster than anyone else, scored man's fastest rendezvous and docking with a target satellite, and demonstrated that two space vehicles can fly formation in space while tied together by a line.

Osteopathic Hospital to Hike Wages

Wage hikes have been approved to make Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital employees among the highest paid in Michigan, it was disclosed today.

Edward Derbabin, chairman of the finance committee of the hospital board of trustees, announced the wage hikes, which are to be implemented over a three-month period beginning Oct. 2.

Cost of the salary increases is expected to total nearly $500,000 a year, he said. An estimated 500 employees are affected.

The wage boosts, which vary from 25 to 60 per cent for nursing personnel, result from a salary review begun in January by the finance committee, according to Derbabin. He said the wage review is not complete and would continue.

NEW RATES

The new minimum salary for supervisory nurses will be $670 per month with a maximum of $804. Staff (registered) nurses will receive $603 a month to start with a maximum of $723.

New wage scales for other nursing personnel include $450 to $540 per month for licensed practical nurses and $354 to $396 for nurses' aides and orderlies.

Supervisory nurses at Pontiac General Hospital are now paid $583 to $699 per month, while staff nurses receive $525 to $630.

At St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, the wage range for the same two categories is $630 to $766 and $520 to $663 respectively.

"We've tried to keep costs down," said Derbabin, "but found it affected service. We now are striving for the best qualified personnel in all areas."

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital officials said the employee wage hikes, while designed to be competitive with other hospitals and area industry were aimed at adding personnel to expand the hospital from its present 176 beds to its rated capacity of 400 beds.

School Equality to Be Studied

Citizens' Panel Will Eye Pontiac District

A citizens committee study will be conducted to determine and comment on the equality of educational opportunity in the Pontiac School District.

The board of education last night formally resolved to sponsor the study, expected to take 12 to 18 months.

John F. Perdue, who became the district's school community and human relations director in July, was named to coordinate the study.

He cited last night's action as "a very important step in the right direction to improve our school system."

While the study will disclose weaknesses within the district, it also will indicate where there are areas of strength, Perdue said.

Outlining the first steps in the program, Perdue said he will meet Tuesday with representatives of the State Board of Education and the Michigan Civil Rights Commission who will serve as consultants for the study.

Letters are to be sent out immediately seeking the names of potential members for the committee.

"We hope for 100 nominees from which the board can select 30," School Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitner said.

Perdue said he hoped the committee could be organized by November or December.

Scope of the study has not yet been defined, but Whitner noted it will involve "an assessment of the present provision for equal educational opportunities" and will help the board in charting a course for the future.

"The board has been sensitive to the many-sided prob-

City Synagogues Fete New Year

Hundreds of Jews in the Pontiac area gathered in synagogues last night to observe Rosh Hashanah, opening services of the Jewish New Year.

According to the Hebrew calendar, the year 1966 is the Hebrew year 5727.

Rabbi Israel Goodman chanted the liturgy in Hebrew and David E. Utley assisted in the Erev service at Congregation B'nai Israel by reading the liturgy in English and leading responsive readings.

Rabbi Philip Berkowitz presided at Temple Beth Jacob. Soloists were June Benton, Duncan Sells, and James Rosenthal. Charles A. Wilson, director of music, was at the organ.

Jacob Meyers sounded the shofar at the Temple last night, and Rabbi Goodman at Congregation B'nai Israel this morning.

Rabbi Ernst Conrad conducted the Rosh Hashanah observance for the New Temple of Bloomfield Hills with a service in the Unitarian Church.

The Jewish New Year is markedly different in character from the joyous, exuberant celebrations of other faiths.

SERIOUS DAY
It is a profoundly serious day, during which Jews come together to pray, to examine their acts, and their relationship to God and to each other, to remember the past and dedicate themselves to the future.

Rosh Hashanah is the first of the great "Days of Awe," a 10-day period culminating in the Day of Atonement, Yom Kippur, which begins at sundown on Sept. 23.

The traditional Rosh Hashanah service centers around prayer and self examination, but reaches an extraordinarily dramatic climax when the shofar is blown.

Plan for Tax Credit Repeal Opposed by Gov. Romney

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney told an audience of businessmen yesterday he opposed repeal of the 7 per cent investment credit allowed business firms under federal income tax laws.

"Discouragement of plant expansion at this time is exactly the opposite of what we should be doing," Romney told a public affairs conference of the Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

He also said he is recommending "commitment of $30 to $30 million over the next six months in owner-occupied FHA insured mortgages in Michigan" to spur the lagging home-building industry.

Romney, frequently mentioned as a possible Republican presidential candidate, said President Johnson "could have taken fiscal action last winter" to head off "the inflation and uncertainty we are currently going through." He did not elaborate.

He said a major cause of inflation was "an excess concentration of economic power on the part of both employers and unions."

Romney cited as an example the recent airline strike settlement.

German Sub Cracks, Sinks; 20 Missing

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI) —The West German submarine Hai (shark), once a scuttled Nazi U-boat, cracked open and sank in a sudden North Sea storm between England and Denmark, the West German Defense Ministry said today. Twenty-one men were aboard.

There was only one known survivor, the chief petty officer, who said the Hai "sank in seconds like a stone" after a storm ruptured her hull just south of the Shetland Islands, about 200 miles east of Tynemouth, England.

The chief petty officer, Hans Silbernagel, was picked up by the British trawler St. Martin early today, 12 hours after the sub sank at 8 p.m. yesterday (noon EST).

Silbernagel was quoted as saying water burst into the engine room. The captain ordered crew men to don lifejackets and abandon ship.

He said most of the crew had no chance to escape because water pouring in through the cracked hull caused the U-boat to sink in seconds.

A defense ministry statement said the Hai normally carried a 17-man crew, but this time was on a training cruise and carried 21 men.

The Hai, built in 1945, was scuttled in the Baltic after World War II. The 118-foot-long sub was raised and rebuilt in 1957. A former captain of the Hai described the U-boat as a "most seaworthy" craft.

Electric Blankets in Style Tonight

Morning northerly winds riding in at 8 to 18 miles per hour brought temperatures tumbling from a high of 75 yesterday to a low of 46 at 6 a.m. The weatherman predicts fair and cool tonight with lows in the 40s.

Partly cloudy and continued cool with highs of 64 to 70 is tomorrow's forecast, and there's a chance of showers Saturday or Sunday.

Rainfall for the period will total one-tenth to one-quarter inch over the weekend.

Rain falling late yesterday was too light to measure.

At 2 p.m. the thermometer in downtown Pontiac registered 61.

Toolboxes Stolen, Hold Rat Poison

Two missing toolboxes containing packets of highly lethal rat poison are the object of an alert issued today by Pontiac police.

The packets — filled with various poisons including arsenic and strychnine — were apparently taken yesterday afternoon from a station wagon belonging to Patrick Dischinger, a serviceman for Arwell Inc. pest exterminators.

Dischinger said he discovered loss of the black, heavy fiber containers after returning from a personal call to Pontiac General Hospital.

In the toolboxes, Dischinger told police, were a score of powder-filled envelopes, each marked, with the word "Poison" and the symbolic skull-and-crossbones.

Police said even small quantities of some of the chemicals could be fatal if swallowed. Anyone having information as to the whereabouts of the toolboxes is urged to contact Pontiac police at 110 E. Pike immediately.

Airs Sheriff's Dept. Issue

An all-day hearing yesterday aimed at clarifying who employs Oakland County Sheriff's Department personnel was adjourned and will resume next Wednesday.

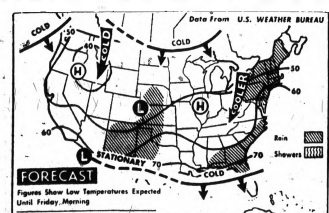

Sheriff Frank Irons, county officials and representatives of the sheriff's department union, The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME), testified before the State Labor Mediation Board in Detroit.

The sheriff had been designated the employer in the union petition but the county contends that the board of supervisors has the budgetary control.

Citizen Group Tells Why Bond Issue OK Needed

BIRMINGHAM — A "Yes" mill. The district presently levies 5 mills for debt retirement. Only property owners in the district may vote on the proposition.

The committee, which is promoting the bond issue, points out that because of a rapid increase in student enrollment, the physical facilities of some of the schools are not adequate.

Crowded classrooms hinder the efforts of the classroom teacher to reach and teach each student, the committee states.

Enrollment figures cited by the committee show that enrollment has grown by an average of 1,000 per year since 1962. When the 1967 figures are final, it is expected that this year's student increase will be even greater, about 1,300 students.

Passage of the bond issue will allow the schools to construct a new elementary and junior high school, add classrooms to several elementary schools, Derby Junior High School and Groves High School, expand and improve facilities and purchase sites for future buildings.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING — A new administration building is also planned.

Completion date for most of the projects is September, 1968. If the bond issue passes, debt retirement taxes will be increased about six-tenths of a cent.

School Equality Study Planned

lens of intergroup relations which relate to public education," Whitmer said.

PERDUE WHITMER
While it is believed that much progress has been made in the provision for equality in educational opportunity for all continuous progress must be made in the years ahead."

He noted that both the Michigan Civil Rights Commission and the State Department of Education concur that such a study would be valuable.

NATURAL RESULT
Whitmer said the study is a natural result of the board's integration policy statement adopted in 1964.

He reiterated to progress that has been made in the last decade in the areas of pupil and staff placement, educational programs and school facilities.

This year, he said, all but one or two of the district's 36 schools have a mix of Negro and white faculties.

"Negro and white administrators and specialists serve in leadership positions within schools and in central administration," he said.

35 SCHOOLS
Whitmer also noted that 29 of the schools had both Negro and white pupils.

"It is recognized that a number of the integrated schools have a predominantly white or Negro pupil population," he said.

Besides staff and pupil integration, the study also is expected to deal extensively with the quality of educational opportunities in the district and with school curriculum.

Senate Passes Base-Pay Bill

$1.60-Per-Hour Plan Awaits LBJ Signing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation sending the minimum hourly wage to $1.60 in 1968 — above the government-recognized poverty income level — and extending coverage to eight million more workers awaits President Johnson's signature.

The Senate approved the compromise bill 55 to 38 yesterday in almost exactly the form the President requested after rejecting Republican efforts to send it back to House-Senate conference for watering down.

Major provisions would:
Increase the present $1.25 minimum wage to $1.40 next Feb. 1 and to $1.60 a year later for nearly 30 million workers now covered.

Bring under the act for the first time noncivil service federal government workers, some farm workers, non-teaching employees of grade and high schools, and employees of hotels, motels, restaurants, laundries, transit systems, colleges and universities.

Broaden coverage to medium-size retail stores, bringing 1.5 million additional workers under the wage and hour law.

The $1.60 minimum would bring to $3,328 the gross income of a covered employee working 40 hours a week for a full year.

New Effort to Rescue Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield launched today a new effort to rescue the civil rights bill, but friends and foes of the open housing measure agreed the bill would probably fail.

Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who has opposed efforts to force consideration of the bill, said the latest effort is based on last minute hopes that "will be dashed."

For the second time, Mansfield filed a petition to limit debate on the bill. His first effort fell 10 votes short of the two-thirds majority it needed with a 54-42 vote yesterday.

The new petition was signed by 27 senators — 21 Democrats and six Republicans. More names may be added later.

CHANCES SLIM
That set the roll call at 2 p.m.

Mansfield and Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., the bill's floor manager, both acknowledged there was scant chance of success in the renewed effort.

"I think we have a hard core vote that can be counted on," Dirksen said in forecasting rejection of the new petition.

Asked whether defeat in that vote would mean doom for the bill this year, Mansfield replied: "I'm afraid so."

SEES LITTLE CHANGE
Dirksen told a news conference he doubts that any of the 21 Republicans who joined a list of 21 Democrats in opposing a halt to debate are going to change their minds on the Monday tally.

Mansfield said he thinks the new effort will win the backing of three Democrats absent on the first roll call, and added he hopes to pick up more Republican backing.

Dem Liberal Leads in Georgia

Dixie Runoff Looms

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Liberal Ellis G. Arnall, in a political comeback after 20 years, held the top spot today in Georgia's six-way battle for the Democratic nomination for governor. But he waited to find out who would be his runoff foe Sept. 28.

"It really doesn't matter whether there is a runoff," said Arnall, 59, who pulled a major upset in 1942 by defeating Eugene Talmadge for governor. "I can assure you I'll win if there is one."

Running neck and neck for second place — and a chance to meet Arnall — were darkhorse contender Jimmy Carter, a state senator with moderate racial views, and strong conservative Lester G. Maddox, who shut down a restaurant rather than accept integration.

With 1,360 of 1,903 precincts reporting: Arnall 178,948, Carter 132,061, Maddox 120,091, James H. Gray 101,921, Garland T. Byrd 28,112, Hoke O'Kelley 10,270.

A runoff is necessary unless a candidate wins more than 50 per cent of the votes cast.

"ALL DEMOCRAT"

Arnall, who classifies himself as "progressive," said during the campaign: "I am a local Democrat, a Georgia Democrat and a national Democrat." During his term as governor, he overhauled state government and had the voting age lowered to 18.

Republican Howard H. Callaway, who won office two years ago as Georgia's first GOP congressman since Reconstruction, will face the Democratic nominee.

Carter, 41, making his first statewide race, shattered predictions. Polls had relegated him to a distant position in the crowded primary race.

The heavy vote garnered by Arnall and Carter in the battle with three staunch conservatives indicated possibly that the strong conservative surge of the 1964 presidential election was waning. Barry Goldwater carried the state into the GOP column in that election for the first time.

GOP FEELING

Arnall's strong showing in conservative Republican strongholds, however, recalled preliminary remarks by some GOP leaders who said they hoped Arnall would win the nomination — because they considered him easier to beat than some of the other Democrats.

One of the five congressmen who had primary opposition apparently was defeated, Rep. Russell Tuten, running for a third-term nomination, lost to challenger William S. Stuckey Jr., on the basis of nearly complete but unofficial returns.

Dem Choice for Governor Dies in Idaho

STANLEY, Idaho (AP) — Idaho's Democratic nominee for governor, Charles Harndon of Salmon, was killed on a campaign flight over the wilderness area of central Idaho Wednesday.

He was one of four men aboard a twin-engine light plane that crashed into Ell Mountain about 13 miles northwest of Stanley during cold, foggy weather.

Three of the four were killed. The pilot, William Bir, 45, Twin Falls, Idaho, was critically hurt. Killed besides Harndon, 55, were Robert L. Baldwin, 35, and Lloyd O. Crutchfield, 44, businessmen from Oklahoma City, Okla., who were flying to Bonners Ferry in north Idaho on business.

They took Harndon with them to drop him off at Coeur d'Alene where he was to speak.

Democrats now will have to choose another candidate. The State Democratic Central Committee has legal authority to do that.

We Urge Adoption of Taubman Plan

There has been much talk concerning the merits of the Taubman proposal vs. the University of Detroit plan.

Both programs have been presented to large audiences of civic leaders. At the outset it must be pointed out that the two studies are diametrically opposed in two very important areas.

The striking difference in the two proposals is that the Taubman plan is an immediate solution to Pontiac's downtown urban renewal problems that can get under way in a relatively short period of time. Also, A. ALFRED TAUBMAN has the financing to handle the project.

This must be contrasted with the U. of D. plan which is a beautiful over-all picture encompassing the entire City of Pontiac over a period of 30 to 40 years, according to its chief spokesman, C. Don Davidson. Further, Davidson points out that there is no guaranteed financing available at this time.

Pontiac is at the crossroads. We feel that it is time for action. After careful study of both proposals, The Pontiac Press is of the opinion that the City government should accept the Taubman plan on the strength that it affords the fastest and most logical solution to helping Pontiac solve one of its major problems immediately.

The U. of D. plan would be Utopia, but it seems to us that it would be too long in coming. However, there are many important features of the U. of D. plan that can be studied and perhaps implemented in the future.

The Commissioners and interested citizens have been discussing and rehashing various ideas for the urban renewal area for long enough.

Surrounding areas won't wait for Utopia. They are moving ahead now. Pontiac must be practical and not lose out on a sound opportunity to make progress now.

The Taubman plan is a concrete step forward. Experienced technicians have worked out the details and it is now up to the civic leaders to get behind the city commissioners and back the proposal to the hilt.

'Down, Boy!'

David Lawrence Says:

Visit by Marcos Is Meaningful

WASHINGTON — Sometimes what seems to be a routine ceremonial has more significance than appears on the surface.

The presence at the White House of President Ferdinand E. Marcos of the Philippines is in many respects like other official visits to Washington by foreign dignitaries.

To Americans who are familiar with the history of the Philippines, the occasion is a dramatic reminder not only of how the United States fulfilled its pledge to grant independence to a country occupied during two wars but of what has been done by the American people to assist a nation 6,000 miles away in improving its standard of living.

The course followed by the United States in the Philippines might well have been taken to heart by some of the European governments which had colonies in Africa.

Although for a while there was an impatience over the fact that independence was not granted immediately, the United States government foresaw the possibility of a disordered country and insisted on taking time to help train the Filipinos to govern themselves.

The people of the Philippine Islands now have established themselves as an important nation in the Far East.

ECONOMIC POTENTIAL

Their economic potential is extensive. They have agricultural and mineral resources and are developing light industries. They have a substantial export trade and will in future years contribute a good deal to the welfare of other Asian countries.

Many people throughout Asia appreciate the unselfish attitude of the United States.

They will come to learn that, just as the Philippine people were given independence and have been assisted in maintaining it, a united Viet Nam under a free government can get similar protection and economic aid from America.

There is a likelihood, moreover, that the Philippines will be an important factor in the development of an association of Asian Peoples. For the Philippines have an intimate knowledge of all the nations in the area.

WELCOME NEWS

Certainly the visit of President Marcos to the United States at this time will be widely publicized inside the Philippines. The people there will welcome the news that the two countries are being drawn closer and closer together.

This friendship may play a significant part in future events in Asia, where the Communists have been deliberately misrepresenting the American purpose and trying to give the impression that the United States is determined to impose an imperialistic yoke on the peoples of Asia.

That's why the two-week trip throughout America by the Philippine president means a good deal not only to his own country but to all of Asia as well as to the United States.

Bob Considine Says:

Decision for Viet Election Is Yielding Many Pluses

SAIGON — Our top people here feel they did what was brought sufficient pressure to bear on Premier Ky and the nine other ruling generals to hold an election in the thick of a war for survival.

The decision pulled the rug from under Thich CONSIDINE Tri Quang's ominously gathering revolution and relegated him to a political position as weak as his present physical condition.

The leader of the militant Mahayana form of Buddhism is near death from a hunger strike in a Saigon hospital.

The decision to allow a vote produced the first real combining of this country has since its troubles with the Viet Cong and North Viet Nam began.

Government leaders obtained what amounts to the first comprehensive census, the first clear line on where the people stood and what they were thinking about, the first spelling out of what they hoped for in the way of a new constitution.

CURB TO CORRUPTION

The election — and those which are now certain to follow — will be the most effective means yet devised to clamp down on Viet Nam's traditional corruption in high places.

The proliferation of political candidates dependent on the public will mean that the public will have better surveillance of their activities and thus a more restraining influence on their banditry.

It is dangerous to run for office in Viet Nam. Virtually every man and woman who announced for a seat in the constitutional assembly was subjected to open or covert threats from the VC, who are distressingly omnipresent.

It takes real courage to vote, too, particularly in the remote regions where it is worth a person's life to call a cop for protection.

But hundreds ran for office and millions voted, and the feeling here is that great chains dropped from these bent backs.

The people of South Viet Nam walk a bit taller today. They have engaged in an exercise that makes them one with their great good friend, the United States.

In Washington:

Reds Shy From Provoked War

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA). Almost every week some one or other says that this or that will cause escalation of the Viet Nam war and perhaps cause it to flare into a major war with Red China.

When these predictions are made, my memory goes back to my experience in Japan in the decade before World War II.

Crack Russian and Japanese infantry divisions faced each other along the Manchurian-Russian border. There were heavy clashes, some in which whole divisions were virtually wiped out. These battles could have escalated into all-out national war. But they didn't.

Moreover, these clashes, which included tanks and considerable amounts of artillery — in all-out battles, were not reported in the press. We in Japan never heard about them.

It was only later during World War II, during interrogation of Japanese prisoners who had been with the Japanese 2nd Division on the Manchurian border in the 1930s, that this reporter learned about the size of these battles. These prisoners described in detail how most of

Voice of the People:

Says Teachers' Actions Set Pattern for Others

I'm a teacher, too, though not presently working at it due to a physical handicap. I didn't say that teachers were not underpaid although I still have reservations on that score. Especially when I remember all the tasks which used to be part of daily routine in the country schools: building fires, cleaning, attendance, choral groups, inter-scholastic meets, in addition to teaching 30 youngsters in four grades. We were paid $80.00 a month which often we were unable to collect because of a deficit in the school fund.

If teachers are underpaid, it seems there ought to be a more dignified, mature way to handle the problem. Could not the state teachers' organizations promote legislation that would insure teachers a "cost of living" wage increase when the situation warrants it?

Strikes and demonstrations are beneath the dignity of individuals who have chosen to follow the higher professions. Teachers should give careful consideration to their actions, knowing they set the pattern for others.

MRS. ROBERT STEIN
26 PINEGROVE

Is Gov. Romney Liberal or Conservative?

At the recent joint Republican 18th and 19th Congressional Convention, we were blessed to have our governor speak to us. He stated, "I am a conservative." This caused a small stir but, he said, "I am also a liberal." I do not recall the conservative, (or was it liberal?) logic he used for these statements which I used to believe were conflicting.

If anyone can enlighten me on his exact words, I would be grateful.

BRUCE E. DUKE
FARMINGTON

In your article about Gov. Romney's speech to the Oakland County Republican Convention, I noted a quote: "A genuine Liberal believes that the individual is more important than the group, and places the individual first."

I am wondering if this is either a misquote or a typographical error. If Mr. Romney did say that then his leanings are even more to the left than I had feared. It is this basic immorality of the Liberals, that of placing the group above the individual, that makes them bedfellows to the socialists and their Red friends.

I have long felt that the two party system is no more than a one party system with two labels. If your quote is correct, our esteemed Governor has gone one step beyond "McLism" and is crediting the Democrats with being champions of the individual.

ROBERT D. MILLER

(Editor's Note: The quote is correct according to our reporter who covered the Oakland County Republican Convention. The Associated Press dispatch on the same story uses the same quote.)

Question and Answer

Sunday I saw a lot of people in strange costumes and makeup in miniature train beside the County Jail. Who were they and what were they doing?

VERY CURIOUS

REPLY

They were the "40 at 8," an organization of the American Legion. They had gathered there before going to the Chief Pontiac post for their "wreck," which is the initiation of new members.

Grid Game Deadline Casts Shadow

There's still plenty of time to enter the Press Annual Football Contest and become an active scrimmager for the $500 U.S. Savings Bond winner's award. But don't let that lure you into a false sense of security and put off filling your entry until you're horror struck to find that the calendar has counted you out of the contest.

And you'd feel pretty miserable, wouldn't you? To sit on the sidelines, so to speak, and watch game after game of the contest schedule turn out EXACTLY the way you would have called it.

Or maybe you had your entry all checked off and ready to go but decided to hold it up against some last-minute changes. And then, due to one of those unaccountable mental lapses that all humans are heir to, plunk forgot to get it moving into contention. Ye gods! Something like that could change the whole course of your life.

Despite all our entreaties re getting entries in by the deadline, a sizable number trail hopelessly in after the final gun, and have to be disqualified.

So obey that impulse, check off the entry form (or facsimile) and get it in transit posthaste. (So far as we know, there's nothing speedier than "posthaste," unless it be "quick as a flash.")

But a word of caution. Don't get so carried away as not to take a gander at the rules, a breach of which could cook your goose.

CONTEST RULES

1. Every man, woman and child is eligible to enter contest (except Press employees and close relatives) but are limited to one entry each. This limitation also applies to families, each member of which may participate.

2. To enter, you simply check your prediction of the winner of each of the 15 games below (to indicate a tie, leave both boxes blank), sign entry form (or facsimile) with name and address and dispatch to Football Contest, The Pontiac Press.

3. Please do not enclose entries in envelopes. Attach them to post cards or cards of similar size and mail to Press or deposit in its Huron Street drop box.

4. The entrant who correctly predicts the consecutive outcome of the most games will be awarded a $500 U.S. Savings Bond. A bonus fund of $50 will be added if the winner's entry is submitted in the manner suggested.

5. Contest deadline is Friday noon, Sept. 23, and entries must be on hand at The Press by that time. Those arriving later, even though postmarked prior, will not be considered.

6. Judges' decisions on all questions relating to contest will be final.

DOWNTOWN AND DRAYTON PLAINS

Hiatus Hernia Victim Should Cut Weight

Q—What causes hiatus hernia and what is the treatment for it?

A—A hiatus hernia, also called diaphragmatic hernia, is an upward protrusion of the stomach through the diaphragm.

It may be caused by progressive weakness of the diaphragm due to age or by obesity.

In about half of the victims there are no symptoms and the condition is discovered only when the stomach is X-rayed for some unrelated complaint.

In the rest of the victims the acids of the stomach in the herniated portion gain easy access to the esophagus and irritate the latter organ.

An important part of the treatment is to bring the body weight down to or slightly below the normal level.

STOMACH SLIDES
This permits the herniated stomach to slide down to its normal position more readily.

A bland diet, supplemented by antacids and other drugs commonly used in the treatment of peptic ulcers, is helpful.

When these measures fail to give complete relief, cutting the phrenic nerve, which controls the diaphragm, usually helps.

Some surgeons also cut the vagus nerve because this reduces the production of acid in the stomach.

LAST RESORT
As a last resort, operative closure of the hernia itself may be necessary.

This results in complete cure in about 85 per cent of cases.

Q—Last December I had a bad attack of gout. My doctor gave me Colbenemid and it hasn't bothered me since.

My doctor told me to take two of the pills daily from now on. Would the gout return if I stopped taking the pills?

A—Since gout is caused by an error in your metabolism, it can be controlled but not cured.

The best treatment is a combination of colchicine and probenecid and that is what you are now taking.

If you discontinue the drug your attacks will surely return.

Q—Is it harmful for a man with gout to drink beer?

A—Alcohol will not affect your gout but it does damage your liver unless used in moderation—not more than two or three bottles of beer a day and preferably not every day.

Q—My doctor says I have glaucoma. What causes it and what is the treatment?

A—This disease, also known as Sjogren's syndrome is characterized by dryness of the eyes and mouth and chronic arthritis. The cause is unknown.

Eye drops of methylcellulose and a throat spray of the same drug help to relieve the dryness.

The arthritis is treated in the same way as rheumatoid arthritis.

Both Superior, Marginal Pupils Can Benefit From Persistence

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.

It is no great secret that students who keep trying succeed better than less industrious classmates. But it often is difficult to convince some students of this truth.

Experience at the Oak Glen Youth Camp near Riverside, Calif., demonstrated once again that even the boy with a lower-than-average I.Q. succeeds better than someone with more innate ability if he has persistence. Also, the more schooling, the more success.

Even with a lower level of achievement in terms of reading and mathematics at the time of entry into the Youth Camp, the boy who showed his stick-to-it-iveness by staying in school longer, had better success. He was more likely to graduate from the program, become employed, return to school or enter military service.

It was not how fast he learned or how much he learned, but that he was willing to keep trying that became important.

If he persisted and stayed on in school, he persisted and stayed on in the camp—and persisted to succeed after leaving the camp.

I have found this characteristic to be just as important for the student with above-average ability as for the marginal student. It is a habit that can, and should, be developed.

The fourth-grade student who gives up on his homework problems after only a quick try and waits for them to be explained in class the next day may learn to do the problems, but he is not developing persistence. Regardless of how high his I.Q., this student will probably have difficulty should he attempt the study of physics, chemistry or law, all of which requires a persistent type of study.

The parent who insists that his child reread material or restudy a problem rather than doing it for him is providing the right kind of training.

The teacher who encourages her students to struggle with the frustration of a paragraph of a foreign language for several minutes before looking up words in the dictionary is helping them develop the habit of persistence.

Klan Leader Plans Appeal 'All the Way to Supreme Court'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ku Klux Klan leader Robert M. Shelton says he will appeal his contempt of Congress conviction to the Supreme Court if necessary.

“I’ll take it to the top,” he declared Wednesday after a

U.S. District Court jury which deliberated about an hour found him guilty of contempt in connection with his refusal to provide Klan records to the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Judge John J. Sirica deferred sentencing pending an investigation by the court’s probation office. Maximum sentence would be one year in prison and a $1,000 fine. Shelton remains free on $500 bond.

Shelton’s attorney, Lester V. Chalmers Jr. of Raleigh, N.C., said he would appeal to the U.S. District Court of Appeals.

Shelton, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., refused Oct. 20 to furnish the House committee with records of United Klans of America, biggest Klan group in the country. He is the group’s Imperial wizard.

Six other Klan leaders indicted on similar charges face trial Oct. 3. Shelton’s was considered the test case.

Is New Math Puzzling You?

Sometimes Students
Can Teach Parents

By DAVID NYDIK
UPI Education Specialist
Are you concerned about helping your child with the new math? Many parents continue to find it confusing. It is particularly frustrating when a parent knows the answer to a problem cannot help his child because the method is different.

Children do need assistance but this may be given in a variety of ways. A parent need not be an expert in math to provide help. Much depends upon the relationship which the parent has established with his child.

One approach which is extremely helpful with most students is to have the student teach the parent. This can be most profitable to both parent and student if it is started now, at the beginning of the school year.

The parent who is really interested can actually participate in the course through the student. Of course, this should not become a burden to the student. Rather, the parent should take advantage of the fact that most children enjoy being the teacher.

The idea of learning from the student does not have to be quite so complete and direct as a full course. When the child seeks help the parent can assist by having the child explain as much as he knows. By asking questions, the parent can often help the child to understand.

HELP EACH OTHER

It is sometimes profitable for children to help each other. If it is not overdone, two students working together can often explain problems to each other.

Naturally this should not be presented to the teacher as totally independent work. It might even be a good idea to discuss this procedure with the teacher and work out some appropriate plan.

Another important thing to remember is that in too many cases, parents provide too much help with homework. In most cases, homework assignments have been reviewed in class by the teacher. The student has had an opportunity to ask questions and should understand the assignment.

If the child does not understand what he is to do, he should be encouraged to seek help from the teacher. It is harmful for parents to do homework for children and mislead the teacher into thinking that the child knows the work.

Quickie Quiz Is Designed for Determining the Extent of Your Balminess

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — How's your sanity index?

In a wacky world that seems to be getting wackier, it is only common sense for a fellow to pause now and then and count the bats in his own belfry.

A certain degree of balminess is acceptable in anyone.

BOYLE

As Mark Twain pointed out, when you realize that everyone is a little bit crazy, the mystery of the world stands explained. But one doesn't want to overdo being balmy, does one? To be too balmy may make even your best friends suspect you are a showoff or a social climber—a person willing to sacrifice even his sanity to gain attention or approval.

ABNORMALLY NORMAL

On the other hand one doesn't want to get the reputation of being "abnormally normal." If word of that gets around, people are likely to rate you as abnormal, or even start a whispering campaign that you don't have a mind to lose.

For the benefit of the perplexed, here's a handy home guide to help you figure out your SQ—Sanity Quotient. Ask yourself the following questions:

Do you repeat yourself like a parrot after the third martini at a cocktail party?

When your neighbor buys a new car, longer and more expensive than the one you own, do you have to stifle an impulse to creep into his garage in the dead of night and chisel a scratch in his car's shiny fender and let the air out of its tires?

TIP WAITER

If a restaurant waiter treats you with condescension, do you then cravenly overtip him in order to win his good will?

Are you afraid to leave an office party without dancing at least once with the boss' wife, even though you know she fox-trots like a lame walrus?

When your wife isn't looking, do you sometimes succumb to the temptation to look through her purse or read the letters she gets from her lady friends?

While playing poker for keeps, do you have to lean over backward to keep from losing over sideways and sneaking a look at the cards in the adjoining player's hand?

CHEATS MORE

Is it your firm opinion that the guy next door cheats a lot more on his income tax returns than you do?

When the gals at the office get their heads together, do you sometimes feel that they are gossiping about you?

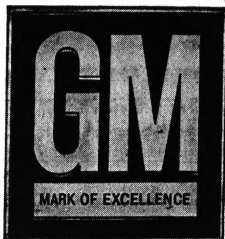

Are you convinced that it never rains except when you have on a freshly pressed suit, and that the only time you spill gravy on a necktie is when the necktie is brand new?

If you hand a bus driver a dollar bill, do you feel he invariably will take out his own grudge against the world by spitefully giving you 20 nickels?

Well if you have answered all the foregoing questions in the affirmative, you're as healthy negative about life and its problems as 96 per cent of the population.

To put it bluntly, you're normally abnormal.

The rank of a bridge player is determined by the number of master points won in organized competition. Those accumulating over 300 points are accorded the rank of Life Master.

The mark of excellence

New Insulator Developed for Rocket Motor

By Science Service
REDLANDS, Calif. — A new cold-weather "overcoat" for the rocket motors of airborne missiles reportedly works well at temperatures down to 120 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, 60 to 80 degrees colder than previous materials.

Actually the overcoat is more of an inner coat — an internal insulation for solid rocket motors that must be used over a wide range of temperatures.

Until about 18 months ago the best available materials called Buns N and Buns S, which became brittle and lost their strength at about minus 40 degrees and minus 60 degrees respectively.

To keep the insulation flexible, a low temperature material was added containing a large quantity of "plasticizers."

Unfortunately, in high-temperature uses the plasticizers boil out, leaving the insulation almost as badly off as before.

NEW POLYMER

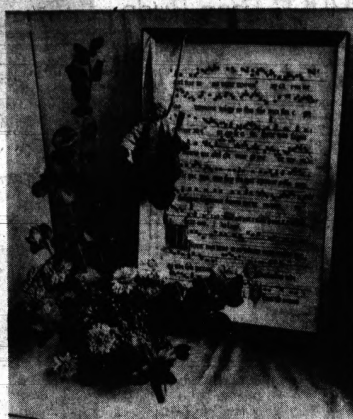

To make the insulation behave at both high and low temperatures, scientists at Lockheed Propulsion Co., here developed a new polymer with which to replace the material containing the plasticizers.

Thus, there were no plasticizers to boil away at high temperatures, and in extreme cold the new polymer performed better than the plasticizers had.

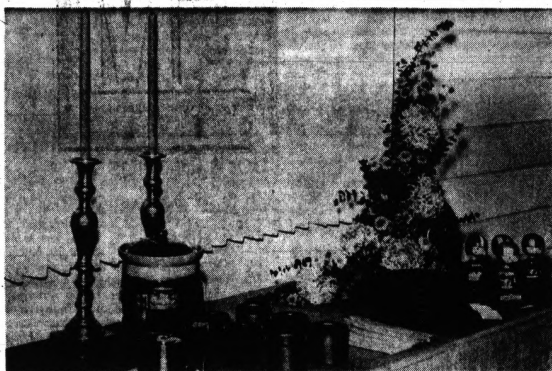

Tactical missiles of various types can use the insulation, but air-launched systems are the most likely application.

Flowers Join the Arts

By MADELEINE DOEREN

Topiary trees of lemon leaves and roses marked the Birmingham Masonic Temple entrance on Wednesday for the "Arts and Flowers" show staged by Bloomfield Hills branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Minoru Yamasaki's miniature of the U.S. exhibit at the 1960 World's Fair in New Delhi was among the invitational entries placed in the foyer.

Delphinium in shades of purple and blue arranged by Mrs. George I. Goodwin, complemented sculptor Marshall Fredericks' entry "Wings of the Morning."

A textile print woven by Pip-san Swanson was a perfect backdrop for an arrangement of echiveria, rust sedum and palm leaves.

Among seasonal table settings were Mrs. Lester Colbert's formal dinner, using gold china on a brocade gold and white cloth brought from Syria. Maroon dahlias, purple petunias and snapdragons spilled from twin Italian pottery treasure-chests.

White ironstone and a low bowl of white carnations on Mrs. John Hammond's ski table set off a blue- and red checked felt cloth. Red napkins and small red skis accented the theme.

The Award of Distinction for the highest scoring blue ribbon winner from a combination of all classes went to Mrs. Harvey Kresge.

Recipients of Sweepstakes Awards to the exhibitor having the greatest number of points from blue ribbon awards went to Mrs. Morris Liles, in the Design division, and to Mrs. Edgar Flint in the Horticultural division.

There were some 300 entries in the show, the first major exhibit for the branch in 10 years.

NEW FLOWERS

New varieties of asters, petunias, dahlias and annuals were shown in the horticultural division which also stressed new varieties of chrysanthemums, roses, perennials, berried shrubs and fruited trees.

Specimen apples, pears, fruit displays, tomatoes, pumpkins and vegetables were artfully displayed, also foliage plants, flowering plants and "Believe It or Not" (for fun, not a specimen).

Educational exhibits included conservation, civic improvement, scholarships, slide program of members' gardens and horticultural therapy.

Cochairmen were Mrs. Dean Draper and Mrs. Charles Neely.

Hostesses in alternating shifts were Mesdames: Lester L. Colbert, Carl J. Snyder, Frederick G. Wood, Howard B. Barker, Lester Lockwood; John R. Hubert, George C. Booth and Leslie H. Green; Luke M. Little, Lester A. Colman, William B. Downey; Ernst F. Kern, Thomas B. Adams and Russell Strickland.

Others were Mesdames Edward McCaul, Carl E. Larson, James F. Pedder; Joseph C. Quay, Horace P. Shaw and Charles L. Wilson Jr.; Vernon E. Genn, W. Lloyd Kemp and Josephine Collins.

A Beauty Hint

Margaret Merrill advises that it is quite simple for every woman to promote an English countryside complexion. Her hint to gain a peaches-and-cream loveliness is to damp a cloth with cold water from your refrigerator and press it over your face for a few minutes once or twice a day. Then, to hold the good of the complexion-beautifying cold water smooth on a little tropical oil of Olay. This oil is rather scarce and expensive but your drug store should be able to get you a small supply.

Teen Chooses 'Poor Risk' Pals, Not Giving Future a Chance

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and every boy I have ever liked has a bad reputation. My family says, "Stay away from him! He is no good and everybody knows it!" Abby, no one is perfect, and just because these guys make a mistake or two and get in trouble with the law, no matter how hard they try no one lets them forget their past.

ABBY
You may ask, "Why don't you forget them and find a decent kid?" Well, I'll tell you why. I don't want a decent kid. He's got it made. His nose is clean and he has all the friends he needs because he's a "good" kid.

I want a NO GOOD kid who needs me and will appreciate my sticking by him and helping him go straight. "Bad" kids need friends more than "good" kids. Please print this. If my parents see it, it may soak in.

DEAR WANTS: A kid in trouble is usually a "troubled" kid. And in order for him to "go straight," he needs more than friends. If you are truly motivated to help "bad" kids, do it right.

Finish high school and then take the professional training required to become a clinical psychologist or a social worker. Then you will be qualified to do the type of missionary work you have your heart set on. But don't, at age 15, attempt to rescue one from troubled waters, unless you yourself are an expert swimmer. You could both go under.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to this fellow who can't keep his eyes off other girls. What he does when he isn't with me can't hurt me because I don't see it, but when we are together and he stares at other girls, it hurts me. He says blondes are his weakness.

I offered to dye my hair blonde, but he says he likes me the way I am. Abby, do you think he will change after we are married? He says he will, but I don't know whether I can believe him. Any suggestions?

HURT
DEAR HURT: Take a good hard second look at this man. Don't expect him to change after marriage. Blondes watch out! Usually get worse after marriage — not better.

DEAR ABBY: I just want to know if I am as "childish" as my husband makes me feel whenever I have brought up this subject. I have been married for 19 years and I still don't have an engagement ring. When we were married a ring was out of the question, but my husband is a very shrewd business man who has done extremely well over the years and he could easily afford to buy me one.

He knows how much I've wanted a ring because I've told him, but he says it's too late for an "engagement" ring now. I would still love to have one. Thanks for letting me tell this to someone, Abby. Do you think I'm "childish"?

BARE FINGERS
DEAR BARE: No. It may be too late for an "engagement" ring, but it's never too late to give a woman something she's always yearned for. Doesn't your "shrewd" husband know that diamonds have been man's best investment as well as a girl's best friend for years?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MUST KNOW NOW": In the eyes of the law, the common law marriage, under certain circumstances can be as legal as a formal wedding! If the relationship is given full legal recognition, the parties have full legal rights and obligations toward each other, and the common law marriage must be dissolved like any other marriage. Laws differ from state to state. Ask your lawyer to advise you.

Ill-Advised Better Word Than Rude

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Dear Mrs. Post: The other night my husband and I invited my girlfriend to go to a movie. He bought the tickets and refused to accept her money when she offered to pay for hers.

When we arrived home, he found she had slipped the money into his pocket. Wasn't this a rude, ungrateful thing to do? — Bertha M.

Dear Bertha: It was ill-advised, not rude and ungrateful. Your friend showed a lack of graciousness in not accepting your husband's generosity, but what she did was done with the best of intentions.

Next time make it clear in advance that you wish her to be your guest.

ENGRAVED SPOONS
Dear Mrs. Post: I am to be best man at a wedding shortly, and the attendants have agreed to each give a certain amount toward a gift to be given the couple from the whole bridal party.

I have been asked to choose the gift and would like your assistance. Thank you for any suggestions you might have. — Harold King.

Dear Mr. King: Last week I went to a wedding at which the attendants gave one of the nicest presents I have seen. It was a set of silver after-dinner coffee spoons each engraved with the name of one of the attendants.

I cannot imagine anything lovelier or of more sentimental value.

Polly's Pointers Fur Scares Them

DEAR POLLY — If you are troubled with sparrows nesting in your garage, air conditioner, eaves, and so on, try hanging from the rafters an old piece of fur, about the size of a cat.

Bertha: A raccoon tail will work, too. The sparrows will eye and scold but will not come near it. — MRS. V. M.

DEAR POLLY — To provide a swing seat for our 1-year-old my clever husband took laundry baskets, cut holes in the web chairman assisted by Mrs. B. Halsted, Mrs. F. A. Temple and Hazel Potts.

Life at Impasse? Then Reach for Help

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: After 31 years of marriage my husband is so changed toward me. He used to tell me how I'd riled him but now he gets mad if I ask why.

I am a waitress and first he said he was sore because I'm always too tired at night to have people in. Then he said: "Forget it." He won't touch me. Last night when he blamed me for this, I told him to get another woman if that's what he wanted.

Did you ever see him tell his husband's kisses?

ANSWER: Are you asking me what's the matter with him? Because I don't know. I think he doesn't know himself what's the matter with him. So, because none of us knows what's the matter with him, let's settle for what we do know—that you are terribly frightened and unhappy.

I want you to make an appointment for yourself with a professional counselor at your local Family Service Association.

Now, listen. People who write to me have to put up with me and my notions of what is important. So I'm going to tell you one of the most important truths I ever heard expressed. It was expressed by one of this country's greatest psychiatrists to an audience of his colleagues.

He said, "Whenever I come to the point where I cannot reach my patient, I have learned to reach for more of myself."

That's the answer for you and why I am telling you to take this terror and misery of yours to a professional counselor. Otherwise, you're going to thrash yourself to pieces against your husband's attitude.

For all of us there comes a point where some loved person suddenly becomes unreachable.

Whether we're a psychiatrist deeply concerned with the confidence of a patient, a parent concerned with the trust of his child or you concerned with your husband's, there is just no way to force it.

But as that great doctor said, we don't have to just sit around waiting. "Oh, how dare this happen to me?" We can try to find out why.

Have you taken in the depth of humility in that doctor's statement? Healer of souls that he was, wise and experienced as he was, he could still say, "I sometimes fail. I sometimes lose the confidence I have worked for."

Then, instead of asking the other fellow to tell me why, I let him go — and search for the why in myself."

Plans Made for Bazaar

A bazaar, featuring various authentic Greek articles, was the main topic of discussion at a recent meeting of the Daughters of Penelope, Doris chapter No. 157.

Mrs. David Weinberg of Jefferson Drive was hostess. Mrs. George Pratt, president, will appoint committees for the bazaar at the October meeting.

The first of a series of card parties to be held in member's homes, will take place Oct. 17.

Stop Rattle

Stretch a rubber band across the edge of an inside door that is rattling and loop the ends of the band over the knob. This will often stop the rattling in an emergency.

Art Institute Selected for Cultural Pilot Plan

A $500,000, three-year pilot project to establish a model regional art education program was recently announced by Lee Hills, president of the Detroit Arts Commission.

Its purpose is to develop a plan to spread the knowledge and enjoyment of art which may be emulated by large and small museums throughout the United States.

The initial federal grant of $60,000 to seed the project in its first year will be matched by city funds already commissioned for museum activities and by other contributions.

"The Detroit Institute of Arts was chosen," according to Roger Stevens, chairman of the National Council on the Arts, "because it was ideally suited to carry out the pilot study."

Three Lights on Cake Make Five Have Fun

The famed Fischer quintuplets observed their third birthday Wednesday but their parents, Mary Ann and Andy Fischer were unsure about how "quiet" the day was.

Like all youngsters their age, the four girls and one boy are into everything around their Aberdeen, South Dakota house. Mrs. Fischer, now aided by full-time help, observed: "You look away for a minute and one of the quint is gone."

The children spend most of their time near home and this seclusion sometimes worries Mrs. Fischer but she feels uncomfortable when people stare at her and the quint on trips away from home.

WEAR GLASSES

Margie, Mary Ann and Jimmy now wear glasses to correct weak eye muscles but they adjusted to glasses comfortably. Otherwise, these three and sisters Cathy and Maggie have enjoyed robust health since their rare, premature births.

The quintuplets have been slow in learning to talk and toilet training was a problem. "I went downtown and bought two dozen pairs of training pants," said Mrs. Fischer recalling the first lesson, and "before the day was over I might just as well not have had any."

All five children still look and think much alike, but Jimmy spends less and less time with his four sisters who sometimes bar him from their games.

Jimmy is the biggest, weighing 34 pounds, and Cathy and Mary Ann are the smallest, about the same size as their two-year-old sister, Cindy.

After a usual day that begins at 6 a.m., includes an after-lunch nap that is getting shorter, and the quint are put to bed at 8 p.m., Mrs. Fischer says, "Patience. That's the big word."

Ralph Justins Will Celebrate

Celebrating their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at a reception to be given in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Robert Creger of Howland Road, Almont Township are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Justin.

Wed, Sept. 20, 1916, they have seven children. Their children are: Mrs. J. E. Brown of John R Road, Troy Township, Mrs. Gordon Greenman of Floralwood Street, Mrs. Betty Ostrander and Mrs. Dudley Alexander of Almonth, Elwood of Phoenix, Ariz. and Elmer of Pearl Beach.

Shines Pans

To remove the dark film from an aluminum pan, fill it with hot water to one inch above the ring of discoloration, add 1 or 2 tablespoons of cream of tartar, and boil 10 minutes.

Then scour with soap or detergent suds, wash in clean sudsy water, rinse with hot water, and wipe dry.

ELLEN LEE SEIBER

The William F. Seibers of Grisdale Street announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen Lee, to James L. Siegmann, son of the L. L. Siegmans of Goshen, Ind. Miss Seiber and her fiancé both attend Western Michigan University.

Deputy Sheriff Is Guest

John Hastings, deputy sheriff of Oakland County spoke Tuesday before members and guests of the Oakland County Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Mrs. Joe E. Green opened her Gale Road home for the event where Mrs. Alfred Eberle, Mrs. Helen Carson and Mrs. Lu Verne Paulson provided musical selections.

New officers for the season are Mrs. Nellie Munroe, president; Mrs. Leroy Shafer, first vice president; Mrs. Frank Deaver, second vice president, Mrs. Joseph Dziuban and Mrs.

Roderick Hoover, secretaries and Mrs. Eberle, treasurer.

Enrollment Nearing Projected Fall Figure

Enrollment figures in the Pontiac District are rising steadily toward the 23,313 figure projected for this fall. Tabulations Monday indicated there were 23,147 students attending Pontiac schools.

According to a report presented to the board of education last night, there were 14,400 elementary pupils, 5,610 in junior highs and 3,097 in high schools.

Administrators were confident the projected figure will be reached in another three weeks, when official fourth-Friday counts are made.

Enrollment on the fourth Friday of 1965 was 22,772.

HALF-DAY SESSIONS
Assistant Supt. William J. Lacy noted that delays in construction of additions have caused inconvenience at Franklin and T. Wain elementary schools and the necessity for half-day sessions for three grades at Herrington.

Fourth, fifth and sixth graders at Herrington are attending half-day sessions until the addition to the school is completed.

At Bailey Primary School, first- and second-grade classes are overcrowded, with 41 and 57 pupils respectively.

Lacy said parents of the 22 Bailey third graders will be asked to send their youngsters to Crofoot or Winer schools a year early in order to free a room for a combination first-second-grade class at Bailey.

SHORT-STAFFED
He also commented that Pontiac Central High School's enrollment is 2,146 and that staffing there was done on the basis of a 2,054-student projection.

Central principal Francis W. Staley has requested an additional three teachers, Lacy said.

Administrators were authorized by the board to take appropriate action to solve overcrowding in fifth- and sixth-grade classrooms at McConnell elementary school, where class sizes range from 35 to 40 and one teacher is unassigned because of lack of a classroom.

Another report received by the board covered the 192 teachers hired for the 1968-69 school year. Of the total, 163 are new to the district and 29 are returning.

REPORT ON HIRING
Lewis A. Crew, director of instructional personnel services, reported that he had hired 86 elementary, 71 secondary, 16 special education and 19 specialized teachers.

The majority, 191, are 25 years old or younger. The report also indicates that 136 are women and that 100 are graduates of Michigan colleges and universities.

The board of education last night was informed by James F. Nye, president of Nye Dairy, that the firm had canceled its current contract to supply half of the dairy needs of the district for the 1968-69 school year.

The dairy, which has dealt with the district for 35 years, cannot fulfill its contract "due to serious and unpredictable events in raw milk pricing," Nye said.

Assistant Schools Supt. Richard C. Fell said all of the district's needs could be met by the other supplier, the Maple Leaf Dairy.

AFL-CIO Council Plan to Move Soon

ROUNDUP IN MIAMI—Pursuing officers stage a Miami-style rodeo this week after 20 steers escaped from a pasture lot and roamed through a residential neighborhood. At the top, a garbage can barricade is hurdled. At center, a motorcycle officer joins the roundup and, at bottom, a steer charges past a club-swinging policeman and two rope-swinging roundup men.

Oleo Foe Loses

Butter Bastion Melting

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Butter's last bastion was melting today after the election defeat of Wisconsin's 74-year-old arch-foe of colored oleomargarine.

Age, reapportionment and fellow Republicans retired dairy farmer Earl Leverich, crusty chairman of the State Senate's Agriculture Committee, in Tuesday's primary election. A legislator predicted today repeal of the nation's sole surviving ban on the sale of the colored butter substitute might come quickly.

Butter sold at 87 cents a pound Wednesday night at a supermarket in a Madison shopping center. At another supermarket 70 miles away in Rockford, Ill., colored oleomargarine was priced at 26 cents a pound.

"I know that they would have quite a job to pass it if I were there," said Leverich, who joined his political career by pound.

Griffin Cites LBJ's 'Inactivity' on Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson was criticized yesterday by Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., for trying to blame Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., for what may be defeat of the civil rights bill.

Griffin said at a news conference the President has "really played a very passive role" in the effort to obtain passage of the civil rights bill.

Johnson on Monday said at a news conference that whether the bill passes or fails will depend in large measure on what Dirksen, Senate Republican leader, does.

Dirksen is opposing the bill's open-housing provision.

It is noteworthy, Griffin said, that Johnson and others are concentrating on trying to make Dirksen appear as the obstructionist.

'NO LEADERSHIP'

Griffin said Johnson has not provided any leadership in trying to get the bill passed, has not asked Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield for round-the-clock sessions, has not made any radio or television speeches in support of the bill and he "hasn't been up here twisting any arms."

Griffin supports the bill, including the open-housing provision, and has said he would vote to cut off debate and force a vote.

He also said he will support Johnson's proposal to suspend the 7 per cent investment tax credit.

NO PARKING PROBLEMS — Students returning to Wayne State University this fall will find commuting to college a lot easier with the completion of a newly opened 2,000-car parking structure at Cass and Palmer, one block from the Administrative Service Building. Parking fees will be waived during the registration period, Sept. 22 through Sept. 27, but a 50-cent fee will be charged after classes begin Sept. 29. The six-level structure is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, with five entrances on Palmer and two off Cass. The $3.5-million structure was designed by O'Dell, Hewlett, Luckenbach and Associates, Birmingham. It was financed by a self-liquidating bond issue.

Romney Signs Highway Bill

LANSING (AP)—A bill to control signs on highway billboards and protect an estimated $12 million in federal highway grants to Michigan was signed into law by Gov. George Romney Wednesday.

The bill, intended to meet federal requirements of the Highway Beautification Act of 1965, prohibited billboards within 600 feet of the right-of-way of any highway that is in any part financed by the federal government.

"That involves virtually every state highway in Michigan," a Highway Department spokesman said.

Any state that does not have such legislation on its books by Jan. 1 will be in danger of losing 10 per cent of the federal funds available for highways. In Michigan that means about $12 million, the department said.

MAJOR EXCEPTIONS

There are several major exceptions to the billboard restrictions. These include commercially and industrially zoned areas and signs on the property of the business being advertised, if that falls within the 660-foot limit.

Another exception would be a business that abuts the highway right-of-way. It would be allowed to post signs for three-quarters of a mile in each direction in any part financed by the federal government.

KEEP FUNDS

"It is vital that our state not lose federal highway funds as a result of nonconformity to the beautification act," he added.

The federal act, however, empowers the U.S. Department of Commerce to spell out specific requirements — meaning there will have to be negotiations between the Commerce Department and the State Highway Department, highway spokesmen said.

Fugitive Fights Extradition Bid

Wanted in California on Morals Charges

DETROIT (UPI) — Robert Melvin Alperin, Los Angeles "most wanted fugitive," will fight a court attempt to bring him home to California to face rape and sodomy charges, a local prosecutor said yesterday.

Wayne County prosecutor, said Alperin faces a court hearing today on California's bid to have him extradited there.

Police in neighboring Windsor, Ont., put an end to a nationwide search for Alperin when they arrested him Aug. 29 as a suspect in a knife fight. He was then turned over to U.S. authorities.

Alperin, 25, is on the suspect list in the kidnap-rape-slaying of Janice Soren, 17, Northridge, Calif. Her body was found in her car at a Granada Hills, Calif., shopping center.

Sterling Plant Picket Is Fired by Chrysler

DETROIT (AP) — Leo Wall, 28, of Warren, who, along with his family, has been picketing Chrysler Corp.'s Sterling Stamp and Coin Plant in protest of his company suspension, was fired Wednesday.

A Chrysler spokesman said he had an "appalling work record" since being employed 18 months ago. The spokesman said Wall had two disciplinary notices and four verbal warnings on his record and had falsified his job application, stating he had 18 months experience as a crane operator. The spokesman said Wall actually had three days experience.

Wall, who with his wife, Janice, and six children picketed the plant, contends the company was unfair in suspending him. He said he and his wife would continue to picket.

Tom Antkowiak, president of United Auto Workers Local 1284 at the plant, said a grievance would be filed.

THE MICHIGAN MILE IS A ROAD LEADING TO RACING GLORY

THE MICHIGAN MILE AND MEMORIES

We take a long and proud step Saturday with the 18th running of The Michigan Mile at the Detroit Race Course. The purse has been increased to $100,000-added, which puts it among the Nations top classics.

I long have looked upon The Mile as The Showcase of Michigan racing. Its place as the State's premier Thoroughbred event is unchallenged. Its value is more than double that of any other race offered by a Michigan track.

I regard The Mile as more than a great race. I regard it as a means of expressing my sincere thanks to Racing Fans for their loyal support. It is my way of demonstrating our constant effort to offer the finest possible racing at the Detroit Race Course.

The caliber of horses The Mile attracts attests to its high standing among the Nation's leading owners and trainers. A year ago, the horses which finished first and second in The Mile, Old Hat and Roman Brother, subsequently were voted "Mare-of-the-Year" and "Horse-of-the-Year" in nationwide polls.

Old Hat and Roman Brother joined such other outstanding stars as Crimson Satan, Decidedly, Greek Money, Going Abroad, Toldo, Beau Prince, American Cagnet, Total Traffic, Nervic, Spur On, Second Avenue, Bully Boy and Oil Capital as Michigan Mile competitors.

Again Saturday, we will have a field of the finest Handicap performers in The Mile.

The probable field will include Bold Bidder, the winner of three $100,000 stakes already this season at Santa Anita, Monmouth and Arlington Park; Tom Rolfe, winner of the 1965 Preakness, second in the Belmont Stakes and third in the Kentucky Derby; Old Hat, bidding for an unprecedented second victory in The Mile; Victorian Era, the finest Handicap performer in Canada; Jolly Jet, Selari, Brave and Bold, Ambrosio, Tronado, Swift Ruler and Royal Gunner.

I mentioned Memories in connection with The Mile.

I wonder how many Fans recall that the first running of The Mile in 1949 at the old State Fairgrounds track was raced on the turf? That's correct. In those days, there was a grass course at the Fairgrounds, and Sir Sprite, from the stable of Sportman O. F. Woodward was the winner. The Mile purse then was $7,500.

I have special memories, too, in connection with the 1952 Mile. It was won by Bully Boy, a great colt I bred at the Coldstream Stud and which raced in my colors. H. H. (Pete) Battle, who now is one of our Stewards, trained Bully Boy.

The Michigan Mile was just that... an event raced at a flat mile... through the 1958 renewal. Then, at the request of horsemen, the distance was changed to a mile and one-sixteenth and we raced it that way through 1964. Again, conditions warranted a revision, and The Mile became a mile and one-eighth race. That will be the distance Saturday.

We are proud of The Mile. We believe it is a symbol of Racing at its Best. To offer the finest in Racing in a setting which provides the Fans beauty, convenience and comfort is our constant aim.

The Mile, with its $100,000-added purse, will make Michigan racing history Saturday. I hope you will plan to see it. I think it will be an experience in Racing pleasure you will cherish.

Bartlett Pears Make Good Partners for Many Foods

Golden Poached Bartletts

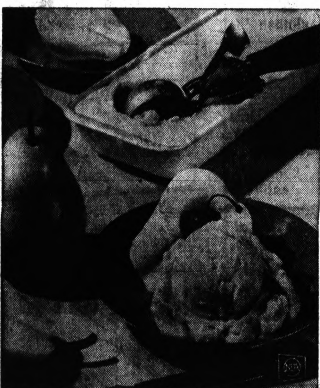

- 6 fresh Bartlett pears
- 2 cups apricot nectar
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- ¼ cup sherry wine

Peel pears, leaving them whole with stems and cores. Place in bowl of salted water to prevent discoloring while preparing syrup for poaching.

Combine apricot nectar, sugar, lemon peel and lemon juice in deep saucepan. Bring to boil, then simmer 5 minutes. Add sherry. Drain pears and place in simmering apricot syrup.

Continue to cook gently over low heat until pears are just tender, basting and turning pears occasionally to cook evenly. Will take 20 to 25 minutes depending on size and firmness of pears. Chill pears in apricot syrup.

To serve, place a spoonful of soft ice cream or whipped cream in the bottom of each individual dessert dish. Place a poached pear in each dish. Serve with additional apricot syrup, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Sherbet Ambrosial

- 6 fresh Bartlett pears
- 1 can (8½-oz.) apricot halves
- ¼ cup buttermilk
- 1 can (15-oz.) sweetened condensed milk
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- Dash salt
- Whole maraschino cherries

Pare, halve and core 2 pears; chop coarsely. Drain apricots.

Whirl fruit in blender with buttermilk, condensed milk, lemon juice and salt until smooth and fluffy (or beat at high speed on mixer.) Chill to slushy consistency, stir or beat smooth; chill until firm.

Pare, halve and core remaining pears. Serve each half cup-side up with scoop of sherbet. Garnish with whole maraschino cherries.

Pear Sauce Indienne

- 1 fresh Bartlett pear
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ¼ cup sugar
- 2½ tablespoons cornstarch
- Few dashes ground cloves
- ¼ cup dark seedless raisins
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 2 bottles (7 oz. each) ginger ale
- 2 drops yellow food color

Halve and core pear; slice crosswise into crescents. Coat with lemon juice.

Combine sugar, cornstarch, salt, cloves, raisins and lemon rind in saucepan; stir in ginger ale and cook, stirring over medium heat until mixture comes to boil and is thickened. Stir in pear crescents and food color.

Serve hot or chilled with sliced canned ham, pot roast or sauerbraten. If you double the recipe, use a large (1 pint 12 oz.) bottle of ginger ale. Makes 2 cups.

Suzy Bartlett's Salad

- 2 fresh Bartlett pears
- 1 can (8½ oz.) pineapple tidbits
- ¼ can silvered green pepper
- 2 tablespoons sliced green onion bulbs
- ¼ cup low-calorie Italian dressing
- 2 tablespoons sesame seeds (optional)
- 5 cups torn spinach greens

Halve, core and cube pears. Drain pineapple, saving 2 tablespoons syrup. Combine pears, pineapple, reserved syrup, green pepper, onion and dressing, tossing well to coat. Cover and chill.

Toast sesame seeds at 375 degrees 10 minutes or until golden brown. Toss chilled mixture with spinach and divide into salad bowls. Spoon toasted seeds over. Makes 6 servings.

Streusel Pear Pie

- 5 or 6 Bartlett pears
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon butter
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons flour
- Unbaked 9-inch pastry shell with high fluted rim
- Coconut Streusel

Pare, halve and core the pears; cut each pear half into 4 lengthwise slices—there should be 6 cups. Into a large skillet (about 10 inches) turn the pears, sugar, lemon juice, butter and salt.

Cover and cook over moderate heat for 8 minutes. Remove from heat.

With a slotted or perforated spoon, remove the pear slices allowing the syrup to drain back into the skillet; reserve pears.

Stir a little of the pear syrup from the skillet into the flour; return to remaining pear syrup in skillet; over low heat cook and stir constantly until thickened and bubbly.

Place reserved pears in unbaked pastry shell; pour the thickened pear syrup over the pears. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven for 15 minutes.

Sprinkle the top with the Coconut Streusel. Continue baking in the 425-degrees oven for 10 minutes. Place on wire rack to cool somewhat, but serve warm.

COCONUT STREUSEL

- ½ cup sugar
- ¼ cup unsifted regular flour
- 3 tablespoons butter
- ½ cup flaked coconut

In a small bowl, stir together the sugar and flour; with a fork, put in the butter.

Sauce for Spinach Uses Sour Cream

Here's an easy way to "saute" spinach and give it mellow flavor.

- 1 package (10 ounces) trimmed and washed spinach
- ¼ cup boiling water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup commercial sour cream

White pepper and paprika
Wash spinach in cold water; drain. Cook rapidly, covered, with the boiling water and salt just until tender; drain well; chop fine. Mix with sour cream and pepper to taste; add salt if necessary; reheat gently without boiling. Sprinkle with paprika. Makes 3 servings.

RIPE OLIVE BARBECUE SALAD—This different gelatin salad contains all sorts of interesting ingredients, including pitted ripe olives. Its spicy taste makes it excellent to serve as a supper salad.

Spud Talk Gives Ideas on Values

The best potatoes wear their jackets to dinner! These protective wrappings keep the prized minerals iron, niacin, and thiamin as well as vitamins B and C from escaping during preparation.

However, if you must "undress" them, be sure to keep the peeling thin, for these nutrients are stored just below the surface.

Although you never evaluate your company by the clothes they wear, that's just how you should judge potatoes. Choose spuds that are firm, reasonably clean, fairly well-shaped and relatively free from blemishes.

The green color on potatoes, caused by exposure to sun or light, usually indicates bitter flavor.

Also avoid potatoes with thin, feathery coats. They are immature and won't keep well. Thick, dry skins, according to USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service, are best for storage.

Pick your peck of potatoes to suit the way you plan to serve them. Some potatoes now on the plentiful list are waxy; others are mealy.

Mealy potatoes, usually called bakers, turn out dry and fluffy when cooked — deliciously perfect for baking, mashing, and French frying!

Waxy potatoes, on the other hand, lend themselves beautifully to salads, creaming, or hash browning because they are not likely to break apart.

An all-round vegetable that aims to please, potatoes will certainly be a most welcome guest at your next meal.

so be sure to keep plenty on hand.

Cream Biscuits Are Baked in Muffin Pans

This rich, easy-to-make drop biscuit reheats well.

Best Cream Biscuits

2 cups sifted cake flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 container (8 ounces) heavy cream

Into a mixing bowl, sift together the cake flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. With a fork, gradually stir in the cream.

Drop into small muffin-pan cups filling 3/4 full. Bake in a very hot (450 degrees) oven for 12 to 15 minutes. Remove from pans at once and serve hot.

If muffin cups each hold 2 tablespoons and are 2 inches across top and 1 inch deep, recipe will make two dozen biscuits.

Why Cake Falls

Too much fat, sugar, baking powder or other leavening will cause a butter-type cake to fall in the center, as will baking it in a too-slow oven or not baking it enough.

Go With Outdoor Eating

Ripe Olives in Salad

Canned California ripe olives for fall buffets too! Have plenty of very much of the barbecue of whole ripe olives for the picture. Here the dark elusive nibblers.

An interesting thing to notice in buying ripe olives is large range of sizes to choose from. Their cost is proportional to their size.

Use super-colossal olives, the largest and most glamorous, for fancy occasions and the smaller ones for sandwich fillings, casseroles, soups, stews and the like. You'll even find them chopped and sliced.

California ripe olives are a great boon to all your cooking at your next meal — so be sure to keep plenty on hand.

Touch of Spice in This Cream

Remember the homemade peach ice cream you labored over long and lovingly as a child — creamy smooth and thick with slices of juicy fresh peaches?

Ripe, sun-kissed Michigan peaches are at your local store now, ready to recreate that splendid summertime dessert easily and quickly. Just cook, cool and pop into your freezer. The touch of cinnamon heightens the naturally good flavor.

Fresh Michigan Peach Ice Cream

3 cups half and half or light cream

1/4 cup sugar

1/4 teaspoon salt

2 egg yolks, beaten

1/4 teaspoon cinnamon

1 cup heavy cream, whipped

1 1/2 cups cut-up fresh peaches

2 teaspoons vanilla

Stir together in a saucepan the half and half or light cream, sugar, salt, egg yolks and cinnamon. Bring mixture to a boil, stirring constantly over medium heat. Cool. Fold in peaches, whipped cream and vanilla. Freeze in ice cube trays or an ice cream freezer. Makes 1 1/2 quarts.

Ripe Olive Barbecue Salad

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin

1 cup cold water

1 cup chili sauce

1/2 cup catsup

1 tablespoon cider vinegar

1 cup mayonnaise

1 cup canned California pitted ripe olives

5 chopped hard cooked eggs

1/2 cup chopped dill pickle

Sprinkle gelatin on water to soften. Place over low heat, stirring constantly until gelatin is dissolved. Cool; stir in chili sauce, catsup and vinegar. Cool until slightly thickened. Blend in mayonnaise.

Fold olives cut into quarters, eggs, celery and pickle into gelatin mixture. Turn into 2-quart mold and chill until firm. Makes 8 servings.

Celery, Potatoes for Hot Dish

Combine diced white potatoes with finely diced celery. Alternate layers of potato and celery with medium thick white sauce in a well-buttered casserole. Sprinkle each layer with salt and pepper. Pour remaining sauce over all.

Cover with cornflakes. Dot with butter. Bake in moderate oven until potatoes are tender.

Romney Claims State Will Get Atom Smasher

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney said Wednesday he was confident that "barring considerations other than those directly related to the project itself," Michigan will get a proposed $1 billion atom smasher currently sought by six points around the nation.

A site near Ann Arbor is one of six selected by the Atomic Energy Commission as finalists in the competition for the National Accelerator Laboratory.

Romney told a "public affairs conference" of the State Chamber of Commerce, "We've put the full force of our state behind the effort to gain approval of Michigan as the site" for the AEC facility.

SUCCESSOR AND FAMILY—The Rt. Rev. C. Kilmer Myers, sufragan Episcopal bishop of Michigan, is shown with members of his family after his election as bishop of California. They are his wife, Katie Lea, and adopted children, Jonathan, 14, and Laura, 8, both Korean orphans. A native of Schenectady, N. Y., Bishop Myers now lives in Detroit.

Choice for Bishop Not in the Pike Style

DETROIT (AP)—The newly elected Episcopal bishop of California said Wednesday he did not expect to be as flamboyant as his predecessor, the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, and added: "Nobody could be."

At the same time, however, the Rt. Rev. C. Kilmer Myers said he and the Rev. Mr. Pike had been classmates, were close personal friends and he "would consider our positions on social issues relatively the same."

Bishop Myers, 50, is sufragan (assistant) bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan. The son of a postman, he once was a priest in New York's slums, and came to Michigan in 1964. Immediately before his election by Michigan Episcopalians he had been executive director of the interdenominational Urban Training Center for Christian Mission in Chicago, an ecumenical institute created to train clergy and lay workers for crowded and neglected city areas.

INNER CITY
His district within the Michigan diocese has been Wayne (Detroit) County and much of the inner city and in "convinced suburban people by contributions of money and talent to help people of the city organize themselves and become a part of the democratic process."

Asked if he were a liberal, the Rev. Mr. Myers replied it was opinion he was, and added: "If you take the most liberal Catholic bishops you can find, I'd say I tend to be a lot like them."

Bishop Myers said he expected to reach a decision "certainly within the next week or two" on whether to accept his election as California bishop. He said there was a possibility he might go there beforehand.

He conceded he had agreed to stand for election at the request of the California Episcopal convention's nominating committee.

But before he reaches final decision, Bishop Myers said he wished to discuss his election with the Rt. Rev. Richard M. Emrich, bishop of Michigan, due back from a New Hampshire vacation tomorrow. He said he also would discuss it with his fellow sufragan, Bishop Archie Crowley.

'Big 4' Asked for Safety Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government wants the nation's auto makers to submit as soon as possible their proposed safety standards for implementing the newly enacted traffic safety laws.

Representatives of the industry's "Big Four"—Ford, General Motors, Chrysler and American Motors—told the Commerce Department yesterday they would try to have the proposals ready by Nov. 1.

Commerce Undersecretary Alan S. Boyd said existing safety standards used by the government in buying its cars would form the basis of interim standards for all new vehicles.

The Commerce Department is charged by the new law with devising final standards in time for the 1968 model year.

The actions followed a raid Monday by Agriculture Department agents, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, and state and local police. Five men were charged with conspiracy to violate state agriculture laws, Kelley said. Illegally slaughtered cattle had been sold as food for human consumption.

Film Writer Used Idle Time to Advantage

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD—Back in 1961 when the screen-writers went on strike, a few rash souls predicted a bonanza for American literature. "At least these high-paid writers will get around to that novel they're always talking about," they said.

Alas, the only writer who appears to have done it is James Clavell, who used the idle time to begin a novel based on his experiences as a prisoner of the Japanese during World War II. It was published in 1962 as "King Rat" and was filmed by Columbia last year.

Clavell's second novel, "Tal-Pan," lingers close to the top of the best-seller lists with 350,000 copies in print. The screen rights sold to Martin Ransohoff for $500,000 plus 5 per cent of the gross receipts.

Does this mean he has put film work behind him? OWN SCREEN PLAY
Quite the contrary. He has just returned from England where he produced and directed his own screenplay of "To Sir With Love" starring Sidney Poitier. "And I think it's quite good," he says. "At least Sidney is going around saying it's the best thing he's ever done. And the Columbia executives looked at a rough cut and some of them cried. Imagine!"

James Clavell is a tweedy, ruggedly good-looking Australian of English-Scottish-Irish ancestry and American citizenship. He turned to screen writing after the war and also produced and directed two minor but credible features that reflected his experiences in the Orient: "Five Gates to Hell" and "Walk Like a Dragon." Then came the strike.

"I had never thought much about writing a novel until one day at a party at (director) John Sturges' house," he recalled. "It happened to be telling a few stories about my experiences in the prisoner camp. There are times when you tell stories well and people listen and laugh. This was one of those times."

Sturges urged him to incorporate the experiences in a novel. And Mrs. Clavell continued the campaign. The strike period produced 850 pages in 12 weeks, and this was followed by extensive rewriting. "King Rat" was well received by critics and book readers, and Clavell sold it to Columbia for $150,000.

"Other writers told me I was foolish not to insist that I go along to script 'King Rat,'" he said. "But I didn't want to work on it any more. I sold it to buy time for something else."

The "something else" was a novel about Hong Kong which he had long contemplated.

He originally planned an epic like James Michener's "Hawaii," but discovered after 500 pages he had covered the events of only four days. The narrative narrowed and after eight months in Hong Kong and year in writing he produced "Tal-Pan."

Romeo Accepts Ford Petition

Village Asked: Annex 160 Acres for Plant

ROMEO — The Village Council this week accepted a petition from the Ford Motor Co. requesting that 160 acres, site of the future Ford Tractor Division assembly plant, be annexed to the village.

Proceeding the petition was a request for water and sewer service, and the council accepted bids on a water main and storm drain to the area. They are now being studied by engineers.

The land lies directly east of the village along 28 Mile Road.

The petition has been sent on to the Macomb County Board of Supervisors, which is expected to act on the matter at its Oct. 17 session, according to Village Clerk Norman Engel.

Ford has already started grading the land involved. The projected initial plant, 100,000 square feet in size, will employ 200 persons.

Engel says he has been told the plant will increase tenfold in five years time.

In line with the village's expected growth, the council has submitted a preliminary inquiry for federal assistance to expand and rehabilitate the water system.

Engel says the village will undoubtedly hook into the Port Huron arm of Detroit Water System which will be installed through the village sometime during the coming year.

In other business the council planned a future meeting with the township board of Bruce and Washington to consider a district library. The village presently has a library, but under a district arrangement it would become eligible for federal assistance.

The village recognized Metropolitan Council 23, AFL-CIO, as bargaining agents to represent the general employees of the village.

Rev. Peter Vos and Mrs. Mary Higby were appointed to three-year terms on the Romeo Planning Commission.

A WHOLE NEW BEAT — Brandon Community High School band may have a cadence difficult to identify when it takes to the field Friday for its first home football game. During practice sessions the band has had to compete with the buzzing saws and pounding hammers of workmen busily finishing up the locker room and new choral section of the school. For lack of two pieces of steel in a shipment six weeks ago, the choral section has not yet been roofed, according to Schools Supt. Henry Vernick.

100 Protest Rezoning Bid in Orion Twp.

ORION TOWNSHIP — An orderly crowd of about 100 persons showed up at a planning commission meeting last night to protest rezoning of 100 acres on the east side of M24 to a trailer coach park district.

The commission deferred a decision until Oct. 5.

Residents cited increased traffic along the boundary roads of Bald Mountain and East Silver Bell, as well as on M24; the probable devaluation of property; and the influx of children to the schools.

Richard Beer, commission chairman, told the group each trailer is taxed $3 a month, $2 of which goes to the schools. One objector in the audience replied he paid $24.50 a month to the schools.

He was told real estate taxes would also be collected.

Application for rezoning was asked by Henry Martin, owner. He reportedly has a developer interested in purchasing the property if it can be rezoned. Lawrence Heisch represented the unidentified would-be developer.

Commerce OK Needed

Annexation Approved by Commission

WIXOM — If the Commerce Township Board gives its approval, the City of Wixom will soon be enlarged by 166.5 acres. The City Commission Tuesday night adopted a resolution, subject to the approval of the township board, to annex the property of Edward Beaupre and Melvin D. Polston.

The land lies between Potter and Loon Lake roads.

City Clerk Mrs. Donna Thorsberg said Beaupre and Polston petitioned the commission for annexation because they plan to develop a subdivision in the area.

In other action, the commission, in a split vote, granted a public hearing to John Hurns who wants to rezone the northeast corner of West Maple and Wixom Road from residential to multiple and business in order to construct apartments and a shopping center.

TIE VOTE
On recommendation of the planning commission, the City Commission first moved to deny the request. A tie vote resulted.

Street Work Is Planned

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP

Estimates on two street paving projects will be obtained by the township board.

For its 1967 street improvement program, the board plans to enter a matching funds program with the Oakland County Road Commission for the paving of Eleven Mile between Powers and Orchard Lake Road and Powers between Ten and Eleven Mile roads.

In other action this week, the board removed its time restrictions on garbage pickup.

It adopted an ordinance rescinding an old ordinance which restricted garbage pickup to the hours between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Township Supervisor Curtis H. Hall said many residents seemed to prefer night-time collections.

Coming down a tree, a squirrel travels head first and is more careful as it moves, setting each foot individually.

2 Projects Mold Future of Wixom

WIXOM — A new look is in store for the city if two projects now in the planning stage come to fruition.

The one nearest realization, and on which a good deal of future growth hinges is a $4-million sanitary sewer project.

The city council has applied for a $4 per cent federal grant for the project and hopes to receive word on it in 30 to 60 days.

Once the sewer problem is settled city officials can turn their attention to a proposed urban renewal project.

Planning consultants Villan-Leman and Associates, Inc., Southfield, presented the results of their feasibility study to the city council Tuesday night but the matter was tabled.

PRELIMINARY STEP

However, as a preliminary step, Mayor Wesley E. McAtee was directed to obtain engineering costs on a survey of a ring road around the Wixom Road-Pontiac Trail intersection.

As Villan-Leman pointed out in its report, a ring road system is essential for proper traffic movement.

The business district, as presently laid out, is bisected by Wixom Road and Pontiac Trail, the main line of the C & O Railroad and a branch of the Grand Trunk Railroad.

The planners state that while these routes are essential to the economy of the city, the conflict cannot be tolerated if new growth is to take place.

CITE CONGESTION

They cite the congestion caused at certain peak periods and the bottlenecks caused during shift changes at the Ford Motor Co. and other industries in the area.

The ring road around the main business area would help.

Last Session at Old City Hall

TROY — The City Commission met for the last time this week in the old City Hall. The next meeting will take place in the brand-new City Hall located on 16 Mile between Livernois and Crook.

During the winding session in the old building, the commission confirmed a special assessment estimated at $143,000 which will pay for bringing city water into Chamwood Hills No. 3 subdivision.

Subdivision owners have protested that their wells are drying up.

The city has promised to have water available within a year.

According to the assessment, each individual homeowner will be charged $1,637.00 for the service. Those who benefit indirectly will pay at the rate of $69.33 per acre.

as an urban renewal project, according to the planners.

Urban renewal is still fairly far in the future, Mrs. Thorsberg explained, because after the commission takes action on the feasibility study, it will then have to apply for a grant to conduct a survey and planning study.

MUST COME FIRST

All of this must come before they can apply for actual urban renewal funds.

Villan-Leman concludes that the "building of a renewed central business area is one of the most important phases of Wixom's plan for the future."

In its feasibility report, Villan-Leman foresees the future business district around the present city hall on Pontiac Trail, slightly to the east of the present business area.

CIVIC CENTER

A civic center would be developed on the present city hall site. A shopping center would be located across the street, with industrial development to the west and south and a multiple-housing section to the north.

They point out that the existing central business area "is a somewhat typical small town area of mixed activities" and that less than 20 per cent of the land area is actually used for business purposes.

Under the plan, the area in question would probably qualify

Wolverine Lake Names Assessor

WOLVERINE LAKE — Road Commissioner Chris Cottrell has been appointed temporary assessor to serve until the end of the fiscal year.

REPAIR SPAN

Wednesday night Paul Van Roskel, highway engineer, conceded the Commission would repair the existing structure — but only for a year.

Negotiations would have to take place in that time, he said, or else there'd be condemnation proceedings.

Variety of Adult Classes to Be Offered in Rochester

ROCHESTER — Walter Cooper, director of Rochester Community School Services, has announced that a variety of adult classes for leisure time pursuits, high school credit and basic education will be offered this fall. Registration will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday and Tuesday in the high school gymnasium.

He says the usual array of art courses including painting, ceramics, oil painting and still life screening are on the schedule.

In the home skills area, Bishop sewing courses I, II and III will be offered along with the art of antiquing, home repairs for women, tailoring, upholstery, knitting and cake decorating.

Square dancing, round dancing, ballroom dancing, beginning and intermediate bridge, gymnastics and yoga will form the predominate recreational activities.

BASIC COURSES

Cooper says basic education courses will be available for men and women who need help with their reading, math and language skills.

The courses are free since the program is financially supported by federal, state and local funds and intended primarily for persons wishing to continue their education by completing their high school requirements.

Students seeking high school credit may select general math, modern algebra, U.S. history, communications (English), shorthand and typing.

Special classes to be offered are private pilot ground school, a course for expectant parents, and another for parents of pre-school children.

Further information may be obtained by calling the Rochester Community Education office.

Oxford to Open Bids on Bonds

OXFORD — The Village Council will meet at 7:30 tonight to open bids on the $70,000 in bonds being sold to meet the village's share of the new Civic Center cost.

The council has voted to take up the problems of an improved water supply, Urban Renewal and off-street parking.

The loss bid of Homer High Motors for a police car was accepted by the council. The village will pay $1,541 plus trade-in.

Hiroshima Man's Life Spared by Twist of Fate

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Press editorial and feature writer Howard Heldenbrand is currently touring the Far East gathering facts and impressions.)

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

TOKYO — A twist of fate saved Fred Okuma from the holocaust that enveloped Hiroshima 21 years ago when a U.S. B29 bomber tossed man's first atom bomb, killing or fatally injuring 340,000 of the city's 600,000 inhabitants and destroying 40 per cent of its structures.

Heldenbrand

Okuma, born of Japanese parents in California, was trapped in Japan when the family entered the country for a visit a few months before the attack on Pearl Harbor. Unable to leave because of his Japanese parentage, the Okumas settled in Fukawa, six miles from Hiroshima, to wait out the war.

It was reported that nothing could live in the area for 75 years.

Disregarding the warning, he set out on a nine-day return trek. No transportation was moving toward Hiroshima, and at one stage he walked 50 miles in two days.

Okuma found his home in ruins but his wife and 14-year-old son visibly unharmed. But the joy of reunion was short-lived. Radiation from the bomb blast had gotten in its deadly work, and within two weeks, both died from its effects.

After the war, Okuma, now 73, served as interpreter and translator for the United States occupation forces in Japan. Since then, he has made a career acting as a special tour guide of the city he saw devastated.

Court Crier Dies

LANSING (AP) — George Pickett, longtime assistant crier of the Michigan Supreme Court, died in a Lansing hospital Wednesday after surgery. He was 70. Pickett went to work for the court in 1938 and retired last year.

FIVE-STORY PICASSO — Famed artist Pablo Picasso donated to Chicago the design for this model of a 50-foot abstract sculpture that will be erected at the city's Civic Center Plaza. Several private foundations will pay $300,000 to erect the statue. The five-story figure will be made of steel. Puzzled city officials say the design could be that of a perched bird or a woman's head. The model shown is 42 inches high.

'Even Without Romney'

Ferency: I Will Debate

DETROIT (AP) — Democratic gubernatorial candidate Zolton A. Ferency said yesterday he intends to debate Gov. George Romney this fall "whether Romney wants to participate or not."

Without stating exactly how he would arrange it—Romney has turned down offers for radio and television debates—Ferency declared he intends to meet the Republican governor in "open, free and public debate."

The only joint appearances scheduled for Romney and Ferency are Sept. 27 before the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education and Oct. 3 before the Economic Club of Detroit.

Ferency said he knows Romney's "record, his standpoint on major issues, even his philosophy of life."

"If he continues in his refusal to debate me in public, I am going to tell the people where he stands in my public appearances and contrast his position to mine," the Democratic state chairman said.

HELP VOTERS

He said "that will help voters make the well-informed, reasonable choice that Romney is denying them."

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University's president and other top officers will soon move out of halls of ivy into a $5.9 million gleaming new limestone and glass-panelled administration building.

The old red brick administration building, oldest building on campus at 85 years of age, isn't big enough to serve as headquarters for the rapidly growing school, which has 38,500 students this fall.

The new building, overlooking the Red Cedar River, will be ready in January, 1968. It will house all units of the university business office under one roof again, said Philip May, vice president for business.

Arrows in Flint Saturday

Lansing Tops MFL Offense

The Lansing All-Stars are piling up personal statistics in Midwestern Football League competition, but the squad has had a little trouble winning.

It's still early and the All-Stars, 1-1 after a pair of league games, are considered a threat to Pontiac's Arrows, the 1965 champion, in the race for '66 honors.

After two games, the All-Stars have two leaders in the statistics department and others near the top in four categories.

Quarterback Sam Eyde leads the MFL passers while his favorite target, 5-11, 170-pound Jim Stewart, tops all receivers with 10 catches for 227 yards and two touchdowns.

Lansing's high-powered offense has pushed across 44 points, but the team's been a little porous on defense in yielding 48 points.

STARS HOME

The All-Stars are home Saturday night, entertaining River Rouge Steelers, the team on the bottom of the league statistical ladder.

Pontiac, which entertains the SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Lansing crew Saturday, Sept. 24, journeys to Flint this Saturday to meet the Blue Devils League baseball championship, at Atwood Stadium. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The other game on the Saturday schedule finds Dayton's Colts visiting Ypsilanti.

Dewey Soriano, league president, announced Wednesday.

Casper, Jack Like Portland

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — There's a tradition at the $50,000 Portland Open golf tournament, which started today. Once you win it, you stand a good chance of winning again and again.

The top two money-winners on the pro tour this year are proof of that.

Bill Casper and Jack Nicklaus each have won three times in the tournament's seven-year history. The only other winner was George Knudson, in 1963. Nicklaus has won three of the last four Portland Opens.

Casper won the first three, before Nicklaus turned pro. And he is playing like he intends to start another string.

Casper fired a five-under-par 67 in a practice round Monday.

Attendance Dips at Baseball Tilts

NEW YORK (AP) — A total of only 1,964 persons paid to see two major league baseball day games Wednesday.

The Chicago White Sox-Red Sox game in Boston attracted 1,003 while the paid attendance for the Atlanta Braves-Cubs game in Chicago was 961, the smallest in either big league this season.

A third scheduled game, Washington at New York, was postponed because of rain.

TWO GIANTS FALL — Willie Mays struck out and the Philadelphia Phillies nailed the Giants' Frank Johnson as he tried to slide into second in the sixth inning of their game yesterday in San Francisco. Completing the double play is second baseman Cookie Rojas (16). Shortstop Dick Groat (background) backs up the play. Umpire Bob Engel is ready to make the call. Phillies won, 2-0.

Accurate Chip Brings Victory for Gal Golfer

Mrs. Midge Cova of Novi sank a 22-foot chip shot for a par on the final hole yesterday at Pontiac Country Club to nip Phyllis Chandler of Hamtramck by a stroke in the weekly Women's District Golf Association outing. It was the third weekly win of the season for Mrs. Cova, who toured the 6,305-yard PCC course in 41-40-81.

Miss Chandler, firing a 38-44-82, held a three-shot lead over Mrs. Cova after nine holes, but she faltered in the early part of the back nine and Mrs. Cova pulled even at the 13th hole.

Opens Fall Practice

EAST LANSING — Michigan State's soccer team, national runner-up for two straight years, opens fall practice today with nine returning lettermen, including All-American Guy Busch.

Charmed Circle Slows Giants' Gaylord Perry

By the Associated Press

Gaylord Perry, the first pitcher to join this year's 20-victory club, must have forgotten his pitch in the second, walloped Perry's second pitch over the right field fence for his 38th home run of the season.

6TH TIME

Bunning, 17-11, took over after the veteran right-hander, who was beating the Giants for the fourth time this season, struck out either, walked only two and scattered five singles.

He got some breathing room in the ninth when Frank Johnson, a Giant rookie, let Calisi's drive get past him for a triple and Allen drove the run home with a sacrifice fly.

The two runs batted in gave Allen 106 for the season, third best in the majors.

In the only other National League games played Wednesday, streaking Atlanta topped the Chicago Cubs 3-1 and St. Louis bowled Cincinnati 6-2.

The Braves won their eighth straight, scoring two runs on a one hit in the 10th inning to beat Dick Ellsworth. Felipe Alou and Ty Cline drove in the deciding runs, Alou on a sacrifice fly and Cline on a fielder's choice.

Only 961 fans paid to watch the game played in a light rain at Wrigley Field. It was the smallest crowd in the majors this year.

Tim McCarver walloped two home runs and Curt Flood and Lou Brock added one apiece as the Cardinals ripped the Reds 5-1. Washburn got the victory with a six-hitter.

X-Country Win for Walled Lake

Walled Lake opened its 1966 cross-country season yesterday with a 23-36 triumph over Waterford Township.

A's Odom Extends Club's Win Surge

By the Associated Press

Another of Alvin Dark's pitching prodigies has done it again. John (Blue Moon) Odom, a $75,000 bonus baby who celebrated his 20th birthday four days ago, attained his first major league shutout as Kansas City defeated Cleveland 3-0 Wednesday night.

Odom, youngest of the young pitching staff assembled by Athletics manager Dark, fired a five-hitter at the Indians.

It was the sixth straight victory by Kansas City.

ON STREAK

The Athletics, who have won eight of their last nine behind Jim Nash, 21, Lew Krausse, 23, Gil Blanco, 21, Paul Lindblad, 25, and Odom—with brilliant relief help from Jack Aker, 28—conceivably could produce a flag race in the last two weeks of the season.

Foy rocked Chicago starter Bruce Howard for his 15th homer following a four-inning single by Jose Tartabull and the Red Sox held on behind winner Hank Fischer and reliever Don McMahon.

The White Sox scored in the sixth on singles by Bill Skowron, Ken Berry and Duane Josephson.

Football Yes, Politics No, MSU Advises

EAST LANSING (AP)—Spartan Stadium will be an arena for football not politics on Oct. 8, Michigan State University trustees advised politicians Wednesday.

Oct. 8 is the day of the Michigan-Michigan State football game, to be played before a sellout crowd of more than 76,000—a crowd which has proved a temptation to campaigning politicians in past election years.

They have five games remaining with the front-running Baltimore Orioles, who lead Detroit by 3 games despite a four-game losing string.

In Wednesday's only other AL action, Boston ripped Chicago 2-1 on Joe Foy's two-run homer.

The Baltimore-California doubleheader and a single game between Washington and New York were rained out.

Odom scattered five singles and fanned five while outpitching Cleveland's Sam McDowell and squaring his record at 4-4. He has allowed only two earned runs in his last four starts—including a one-hit 4-1 victory over New York—lowering his ERA from 5.90 to 3.04.

The A's nipped McDowell, 8-4, for only three hits in the seven innings he worked, but bunched Danny Cater's single, Joe Niese's double, a walk and a ground out for two runs in the second. The other hit off McDowell was a fourth-inning homer by Dick Green.

McDowell posted eight strikeouts and Luis Tiant added six in his two-inning relief stint for the Indians, who have lost five in a row.

The trustees decided Wednesday to ask both major political parties to refrain from using the game as a political platform and from distributing partisan literature at the stadium.

Politics figured in other board business Wednesday. The trustees approved a leave from Sept. 29 to Nov. 8 for biophysics Professor Leroy Augenstein, a Republican candidate for election to the State Board of Education.

The A's nipped McDowell, 8-4, for only three hits in the seven innings he worked, but bunched Danny Cater's single, Joe Niese's double, a walk and a ground out for two runs in the second. The other hit off McDowell was a fourth-inning homer by Dick Green.

Amateur Net Status Dying, Official Says

NEW YORK (AP)—A committee for the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association charged today that the American Davis Cup team is being subsidized as an experiment toward getting rid of amateur tennis.

"The world is watching," said Joseph P. McLaren of Kansas City, a member of the USLTA's nominating committee. "A fantastic sum—nobody knows exactly how much—is being spent on the Davis Cup team."

president of the USLTA, denied the allegation although he admitted open payments to a fact that the American Davis Cup team is being subsidized as an experiment toward getting rid of amateur tennis.

"We formed a Davis Cup squad on a more or less permanent basis a year ago under Captain George MacCall and sent them to Australia on a very profitable campaign," Tressel said.

"We give the boys a $20 per diem in the United States and $20 when out of the country."

Hambletonian King Surprised Locally

HAZEL PARK (AP)—Hambletonian winner Kerry Way was upset Wednesday night at Hazel Park racetrack as Governor Armbror took the lead in the stretch to win the $11,023 Vic Fleming trot for 3-year-olds.

The heavy favorite with no show betting, Kerry Way, a brown filly, led most of the way and was challenged at the half-mile mark in the mile race by Governor Armbror, who went on to win in a time of 2:04.1.

Governor Armbror, a chestnut colt, paid $5.30 in winning the race, the third event of Grand Circuit week at the track.

Texan Leading in International Yacht Racing

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — In a race marked by the filing of protest, Ernest R. Fay of the Texas Corinthian Yacht Club took first place Wednesday in the international 5.5-meter yacht competition for the United States championship.

The protest in the third race of the five-race competition was made by Ferdinand Schoette of the Mantoloking Yacht Club in New Jersey. Schoette finished ninth in the race.

Fay's win vaulted him from third place to first in the point standings. He had a one-quarter point lead over Robert E. Turner II of Atlanta, who placed third Wednesday.

Heads Soccer Team

CHICAGO (AP) — German-born Alvis Kaczmarek, 37, who once played soccer as a school boy in Gelsenkirchen, is the manager of the newly formed Chicago Spurs of the National Professional Soccer League (NPSL).

Eight Headed for Grid Hall of Fame

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Eight new members will be inducted into the National Professional Football Hall of Fame here Saturday, boosting the membership to 39.

Induction ceremonies will follow a parade to the million-dollar shrine that was opened in 1963 with a charter membership of 17 grid immortals. Three of the new enshrinees will be inducted posthumously. They are Steve Owen, famed coach of the New York Giants; Hugh (Shorty) Ray, National Football League technical ad-

Trade Gives 'Skins Offense a Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington Redskins Coach Otto Graham said he wanted a running back who could help the Redskins' offense.

So Graham was enthusiastic today over Washington's trade with the New York Giants which brought back Steve Thurlow and linebacker Jim Carroll to the Redskins for veteran guard Darrell Dees.

"I would have made the trade if only Thurlow and Dees were involved," he said after the trade was announced Tuesday. "But they offered Carroll and we were happy to get him."

SAGGING LINE

The trade is expected to help both clubs, strengthening the Redskins' offense and defense, and shoring up the Giants' sagging front line.

"It hurt to let him go," Graham said of Dees, a nine-year veteran of the National Football League who returns to New York where he played for six years. "But we needed help in our offensive backfield. We couldn't go the whole season with only four running backs."

Thurlow, one of the Giants' "Baby Bulls," will be moved to fullback, replacing A. D. Whitfield who fumbled twice Sunday as the Redskins dropped a 38-16 decision to the Cleveland Browns.

Thurlow was New York's No. 2 draft choice in 1964 from Stanford and is expected to give the Redskins the punch they sought for their running attack.

He was beset by minor injuries last year but still carried the ball 106 times for 440 yards and one touchdown.

Thurlow, along with Tucker Frederickson and Ernie Koy, gave the 1965 Giants one of the best balanced running attacks in the NFL's Eastern Division.

Carroll was New York's rookie Jeff Smith of Southern California this season.

Reggie Seeks Reinstatement

Piston Center Makes Plea to Commissioner

NEW YORK (AP) — Reggie Harding, the suspended 7-foot center of the Detroit Pistons, made another plea for reinstatement Wednesday in a hearing before Commissioner Walter Kennedy of the National Basketball Association.

Kennedy, after listening to Harding for nearly three hours, reserved decision. He said he would make a statement on the matter in a few days.

Only 12 days ago Kennedy rejected the Pistons' request for Harding's reinstatement. He said then he would review Harding's case at the close of the 1966-67 season.

Harding, now 24, was suspended by the Pistons and later by the league last year after he had been involved in a series of minor incidents with Detroit police.

Car Safety Features Doubled

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Except for collapsible steering wheels, new safety features on 1967 model cars will save few lives in traffic accidents, a University of Michigan auto safety expert said Wednesday.

Dr. Donald F. Huelke of the U. of M. Anatomy Department said, however, that "all of the padding, recessed knobs and similar safety equipment installed in the 1967 cars will help to minimize nonfatal accidents."

"But in the fatal accidents we are dealing with tremendous impact which cannot be avoided by simply moving back the instrument panel."

Huelke and an associate Dr. Paul Gikas, a U. of M. pathologist, studied all 177 traffic fatalities in Washtenaw County from November 1961 to November 1965.

SAVED TWO — "With the exception of the collapsible steering column, new safety equipment on 1967 cars would have saved only two of those 177 traffic victims," he told an attorney's seminar.

Of the 177, 23 died because of striking the steering column. Huelke, however, did not say how many of the 29 he thought would have lived if they had struck collapsible steering columns instead of the rigid columns.

Still Another Sad Twist to Marilyn Monroe Saga

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — There's always one more sad twist to the Marilyn Monroe story. Four years after her death, Marilyn's estate, increasingly valuable due to TV interest in her movies, will probably be able to pay creditors' claims of $175,000—with something for beneficiaries, including Marilyn's mother, 66-year-old Gladys.

But Mrs. Ely doesn't need financial help now. After two suicide attempts in April and May (she had tried to stifle herself with bedsheet), Mrs. Ely was adjudged by a jury to be dangerous to herself and others and sent from a private to a California state mental institution as a public charge.

"My soul has gone to God, my body might as well go also," Mrs. Ely said. She had been in and out of mental homes since Marilyn was born in 1926—46 years ago.

Marilyn had hoped to create a trust fund providing her mother $5,000 a year. Aaron R. Froesch, executor of the estate, said claims of creditors (such as Paula Strasberg's estate's bill for $22,899 for coaching and Joe DiMaggio's for a $5,000 bill) could probably be met now, "because Marilyn Monroe Productions is continuing to increase in value."

Marilyn in death is turning out to be what nobody would ever admit she was when she was living... a businesswoman.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL... after a long siege...

Eddie Fisher, back in town, talked with long-time manager Milton Blackstone... George Jessel was the only one of 700 guests in khaki at the Robert Kriendler's wedding reception for their daughter, Karen Gale Kriendler, and Stanley Irwin Nelson at 21. George claimed his new love, Audrie Mae, got a Paramount contract due to her publicity... Warners has already clocked $45 million for "My Fair Lady" and Jack keeps winning at gambling besides... Tony Randall found an unutilized phone is cost 50 cents extra a month, but by using the name, Irvine W. Tishman and giving it to just a few friends, he could save, oh, $600 in 100 years.

"A gal approached a man on 5th Ave.," as Alan Gale tells it, and said, "I'm looking for a sugar daddy." Replied the man: "You've come to the right guy. I've got diabetes."... Warren Beatty—having terminated it with Leslie Caron and Russian ballerina Filizavskaya—is around town looking for "younger birds"... A well known 8th Ave doctor now is making men of 55 look, and act, 35, and their wives say he's the answer to goat glands... Tuesday Weld tried to have her daughter born Friday (her own birthday, Aug. 26) but couldn't hold out and yielded to Thursday (Aug. 25). Not that Tuesday wanted to name the girl Friday. She and husband Claude Harp decided on Natasha.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bill Strickler of Baytown, Tex., described a prominent politico: "He's more agile now than he was a baby. At least, he's putting his foot in his mouth more now."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Pic Larrouer suggests a simile: "The work progressed as slowly as a mudflat in a storm thicket."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "You should have two suits—to make a little money first, then to make it last."

EARL'S PEARLS: The trouble with most fixed incomes is that they need fixing.—T. Harry Thompson.

Victor Borge learned English by watching dozens of old Western movies. "It was the only Dane in the world," he recalls, "who sounded like Gaby Hayes." That's earl, brother.

Soviets Mum on Freeing of Jailed Yank

MOSCOW (AP) — The U.S. Embassy said today the Soviet government has made no reply to a request for the release of Peace Corpsman Thomas R. Dawson.

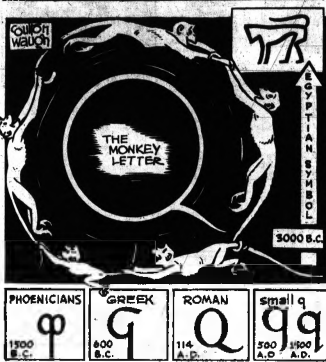

A spokesman said the embassy had not requested to see Dawson because it expected he might be released shortly.

Dawson, 24, of Annapolis, Md., was serving with the Peace Corps in Iran. He was arrested by Soviet border guards Sunday and is being held for investigation of a possible border violation.

The embassy told the foreign ministry Tuesday that Dawson was headed for the border in all innocence and asked for his release.

"We presume he is still being held at the border," the spokesman said.

Junior Editors Quiz on LETTER Q

QUESTION: Where did the tail on the letter Q come from?

ANSWER: Some authorities think that the letter Q came from a picture symbol of a monkey once used in the inscriptions of the Egyptians and as a letter in the ancient Semitic alphabet.

Our picture shows the Egyptian monkey symbol, the tail of which may have persisted in the history of this letter, leading to the modern form.

Of special interest is the fact that the Semites called this letter qoph, which is thought to have meant monkey.

On the other hand, the Phoenicians used what appears to be the symbol of a knotted loop or eye (below, left). The Greeks called the Semitic letter koppa, making it look much like our Q. Taking this from the Greeks, the Romans closed it, and gave it a flowing tail, giving us Q in its modern capital form.

The Romans were the ones who stylized Q. They originated the habit of often following this letter with u, and giving it the pronunciation kw, which is the way we usually pronounce it when we follow it with u.

The small q began to appear in the A.D. 500's. The vertical stroke was made on the right side of the round part to distinguish it from the small p.

FOR YOU TO DO: When reading school and other books which have footnotes or citations, look for q. This is good vada in Latin and means "which see," or look it up.

Famed Star of Radio, TV Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Gertrude Berg, whose gentle portrayal of "Molly Goldberg" on radio and television made her one of America's best known Jewish mothers, died Wednesday at 66.

She succumbed to a heart ailment at Doctors' Hospital after coming off a summer tour.

Born in New York's Harlem, Miss Berg began her show business career with a failure. Her first radio show "Effie and Laurie" was canceled without a second performance.

But in 1929 she returned as "Molly Goldberg" and her heart-warming approach to life's daily problems — a burnt roast, a surly grocer, an intimated teen-age daughter — won her quick and enormous popularity.

When the 15-minute, five-times-a-week radio series was at its height, it ranked second only in number of listeners to "Amos and Andy." And once when Miss Berg missed a performance and a substitute took her place, the National Broadcasting Co. received 11,000 protesting letters. The show also was a hit during the early days of television.

Her trademark lines like "Enter, whoever," and "If it's nobody, I'll call back," became laugh-getting standards.

So closely was Miss Berg identified with her role that fans would greet her on the street as "Molly," even after the show had been discontinued for years.

Peking Tells Red Guards to Halt Drive

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China's leaders today told the Red Guards to end their revolutionary drive which has brought turmoil to the country and criticism from abroad.

The instructions, in an editorial in the official Peking People's Daily, apparently was the climax to a new effort to bring the youthful guards under control after they got out of hand.

The move reflected concern that the Red Guard activities might be disrupting agricultural and industrial production. There also were indications that Communist officials decided on the fall crackdown because of foreign reaction to the guards and because of difficult natural conditions, including drought, at home.

The editorial warned that "under no circumstances must production be allowed to slow down."

"During the busy fall harvesting season," it told the Red Guards, "you may cease your revolutionary activities."

NOT CERTAIN

Whether the Red Guards will be allowed to resume their activities after the harvest is not certain. The editorial could be a diplomatic way of clamping down on the guards once and for all.

Japanese correspondents reported from Peking that more than half a million Red Guards are scheduled to hold a mass rally in the Communist Chinese capital.

They said Communist party chairman Mao Tse-tung and Defense Minister Lin Biao are scheduled to speak to the meeting.

After the Red Guards first erupted on the Chinese scene in August, they were given repeated official warnings to move with caution and without force. Despite these warnings there continued to be reports of clashes between Red Guards and groups of workers and farmers.

The editorial said the revolutionary students and youths of the Red Guard should learn from the peasants and laborers of China and that there was no need for the Red Guards to try to "instill their revolutionary zeal in factories" or to bother farmers. It added that workers and farmers "are magnificently carrying out revolutionary activities of their own."

The New China News Agency today reported peasants had started harvesting their crops and hinted that Peking might also be worried about natural calamities.

The report said peasants were "working with revolutionary determination to fight against drought and other natural troubles that have occurred in some areas."

7 Universities in State Will Join Project

LANSING (AP) — The State Department of Education said Wednesday it will work with seven Michigan Universities this year in a new "Technical Assistance Project" for disadvantaged schoolchildren.

Sponsored by a $150,000 federal grant, the project also will involve a panel representing various state departments and specialists in language development, mathematics, social studies, science, intergroup relations, nutrition, recreation, culture, vocational education and instructional materials.

The department said Michigan school districts conducted 772 projects valued at $34.7 million under the federal elementary and secondary education act last year.

"Through the TAP project," it said, "we are tapping the resources of the state universities to do an even better job this year."

Expelled Envoy Heads for U.S.

SUN CITY, Ariz. (AP) — U.S. diplomat Donald R. Lesh, expelled from the Soviet Union, is expected in Arizona in a few days.

Lesh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Lesh, said Wednesday night their son plans to marry with his Norwegian-born wife, Wencke, and their daughter, Gwendolen, 3.

"We heard the news on the radio," Mrs. Lesh said of the Soviet action announced in Moscow Wednesday.

Lesh, a second secretary in the U.S. Embassy's political section, was ordered to leave this country within 72 hours for "activities incompatible with his diplomatic status."

Lesh, 34, had been in Moscow about two years. Diplomatic sources called the expulsion obvious retaliation for the expulsion of a Soviet diplomat from the United States earlier this month.

$139,200 Worth of Gems in Bags of Stewardess

ROME (AP) — Italian customs police say they found $139,200 worth of emeralds and rubies hidden in the baggage of an air hostess after she stepped off her East Africa Airlines plane from Nairobi.

The hostess was identified as Annamaria Kreiger, 37, a native of Dresden, Germany.

The magistry is to decide whether she will be prosecuted on contraband charges.

Customs police quoted her yesterday as saying she did not know how the stones got into her bags.

Wirtz to Be in U. P.

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz is scheduled to make two speeches here Sept. 26. He will address the opening session of Lake Superior State College in the afternoon and will speak that night at a rally for Rep. Raymond J. Cleveland, D-Mich.
