Senate to View Vote for Teens

Debate Due Tonight on Proposed Measure

LANSING (AP) — The 18-year-old vote, a fresh topic amidst the old standbys of this legislative year, comes up for Senate debate tonight at the start of a three-day precess work-week.

At issue is a proposed constitutional amendment which would lower the minimum voting age from 21 to 18.

The question was only briefly debated before reported out by the Senate Judiciary Committee last week.

It is one of several lower-age amendments up for legislative consideration this year, but goes the farthest of any. Other proposals would lower the age to 19 or 20, or lower it only for high school graduates.

With both political parties on record in favor of a lower voting age, chances appear good for Senate passage of the measure, although it must win two-third approval. If each house favors the amendment, it would go to a vote of the people probably in November 1966.

Major House business this week could affect how many 18-year-olds would be voting in the distant future. The topic is birth control.

COMPANION BILLS — Parliamentary controls last week cut short action on companion bills which would provide for state agencies to disseminate birth control information.

Principal questions are to whom such information could be given, and how much initiative government could take in the matter.

Combat Death Toll Mounts to 343 for Americans in Viet SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong gunners shot down two U. S. Army helicopters and damaged another in a fight on the coastal plain north of Qui Nhon today, killing nine of the American crewmen.

The two fell helicopters exploded on hitting the ground and all the four officers and four gunners aboard them perished. Bullets hit another of the craft and killed its copilot, but the pilot got the copter back to Qui Nhon.

The roll of American combat dead in Viet Nam rose to 343.

The operation was part of a continuing drive to clear Viet Cong holdings in Binh Dinh Province, 280 miles northeast of Saigon.

A 100-vehicle highway convoy on Route 15 was the target of a 3 a.m. raid. The extent of the damage to the convoy was undetermined.

Navy fliers from the carrier Hancock attacked eight to 10 barges on the Dia Giang River. They also reported a direct hit on one cargo-carrying river boat. The same group attacked the Phu Le army barracks, on the southern section of Route 101.

Air Force pilots flew armed reconnaissance missions over two east-west routes, 8 and 12. Though handicapped by heavy clouds, 10 F105 fighter bombers and an undisciplined number of support aircraft bombed and strafed various targets without opposition.

A spokesman said the results were not immediately available.

Thousands Fill Churches, Rejoice on Easter Morn

By MARY ANGLEMIER
Church Editor, The Pontiac Press

Triumphant hallelujahs for the risen Christ rang out from choir lofts and congregations as worshippers filled Pontiac area churches Easter morning.

The story of the Resurrection was told in song and sermons to overflowing crowds throughout the day.

Before altars blanketed with gleaming white lilies and other flowers given in memory of loved ones, pastors baptised infants, youths and adults, and received new members into church fellowship.

In all Episcopal churches, there was the celebration of Holy Communion.

The day dawned with overcast skies and frosty temperatures but at noon clouds parted and the sun peeped through to shine brilliantly the rest of the day.

Religious services began in Roman Catholic churches with parishioners attending Midnight Mass. At dawn worshippers arrived for sunrise services.

Thousands of Protestant young people in Pontiac and Oakland County churches conducted sunrise services. These were usually followed by an Easter breakfast.

Members of senior, junior and children's choirs raised their voices in familiar anthems as "Christ the Lord Is Risen," "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" and the "Hallelujah Chorus."

Rev. Lenworth R. Miner, pastor of Macedonia Baptist Church, said in his morning sermon, "Easter Day is a challenge to us to face our most fundamental problem—the meaning of life."

"Our fear and God's power meet at Easter," he said. "If we read the Holy Week story with sympathy, we can see the sin that haunts us; the fears that corner us; were also experienced by the disciples."

"EXULTATION" — At St. Benedict's Catholic Church the Rev. Robert J. Kilcoyne, assistant pastor, said "Easter Day is a day of exultation and rejoicing. Although it is celebrated but once a year, its spirit should continue throughout the year."

The congregation of First Church of God held its first services in the new building at 1333 Mt. Clemens. The Springfield Missionary Baptist Church is presently worshipping in the former location at 25 S. East Blvd.

Relentless Flood Battle Continues in the Midwest

CHICAGO (AP) — The relentless battle against spring flooding continued today in the Midwest where the rampaging Mississippi River and tributary streams already have left 12 dead and thousands homeless and caused millions of dollars worth of damage.

From the upper reaches of the Mississippi to the mouth of the Ohio River, thousands of volunteers and national guardsmen strove to strengthen dikes against the surging water thundering downstream after reaching an apparent crest at Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., Friday night.

The peak of the worst flood in Minnesota's history, is believed to have passed the Twin Cities but communities to the south waited out the still rising waters behind permanent and emergency dikes.

The floodwaters threatened new destruction in already inundated sections of southern Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa. In Missouri, the water level began dropping but observers said it could rise again. In North Dakota thousands of acres remained under water from the flooding Red River of the north.

Thus far 10 deaths in Minnesota and 2 in Wisconsin have been blamed on the floods.

40,000 HOMELESS — Estimates of the number of persons made homeless by the spring floods in the six-state area range up to 40,000.

The Weather Bureau said some rivers had crested and were receding.

The Mississippi began dropping in Hannibal, Mo., after coming to within 2 feet of the record 24.1 feet set in 1947. Late yesterday the river had fallen to 22.9 feet.

A broken levee near Quincy, Ill., flooded from 7,000 to 11,000 acres of farmland Saturday night. The break eased some of the pressure against other levees downstream.

The Weather Bureau said the river will begin rising again, swelled by waters of flooded rivers in Minnesota.

The governors of Illinois and Missouri — Otto Kerner and Warren E. Hearnes — planned an aerial inspection of flooded regions today.

The broken levees sent hundreds of persons in search of shelter.

Residents of two East Moline, Ill., housing projects have moved out. Rock Island, Ill., was untouched behind a new seawall, but sandbagging and dune-moving operations continued in Moline, East Moline, Rock Island and Davenport, Iowa.

More than 300 National Guardsmen patrolled river points in western Illinois yesterday as the first of an expected 5,500 evacuees began leaving their homes.

In Minnesota, the Mississippi and St. Croix rivers in St. Paul and Stillwater leveled off after the communities had battled the overflow for a week.

Winona, a city of 25,000, is braced behind nine miles of dikes 25 feet high awaiting a record 21.5-foot crest Tuesday. If the dikes burst, 80 per cent of the city will be under water.

Gov. Karl Rolvaag's office estimated damage at $40 million and the Red Cross said 21,000 individuals were homeless in Minnesota.

In Wisconsin, Gov. Warren P. Knowles said he was prepared to ask President Johnson for federal disaster aid.

Tentative Budget OK'd

A tentative 1966 budget of $19,428,037 was approved today by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors. It will be referred to the County Tax Allocation Board.

The budget is based on a tax rate of 5.97 mills which would yield $14,483,537 in revenue from a projected county equalized valuation figure of $2,427,684,200.

Estimated receipts would yield the balance.

Expenditures in the preliminary budget include $8,183,502 for departmental and institutional operation, $7,583,587 for salaries and $660,948 for nondepartmental appropriations.

Last year at this time a tentative budget of $18.4 million was approved by the board based on a tax rate of 5.8 mills.

This tentative rate, however, was reduced by the allocation board to 5.26 mills which is the basis for the current county budget of $17,218,878.

The proposed 1966 budget, which is up 12.9 per cent over the current budget, must be adjusted after the allocation board apportions the total 15-mill allocation between the county, school districts and townships.

PORT ST. LUCIE, Fla. (AP)

A leading explorer of ocean depths said today he plans to ride along the bottom of the mighty Gulf Stream all the way from Florida to Newfoundland.

One object of his trip by research submarine is to see whether the Russians are up to anything on the Continental Shelf, the sloping, underwater land mass beyond the visible coast. Dr. Jacques Piccard told the Associated Press in an exclusive interview.

"I don't believe the Russians have installations now on the Continental Shelf," Piccard said, "but they very well could have. I am sure they have studied the possibility of exploiting the sea as they have space."

Asked about Washington reports that the government plans to build a miniature atomic sub for explorations, Piccard said such a craft would have a greater cruising range than his, but the atomic feature would not affect depth capability.

If his present sub is used, Pic-card said the voyage could start within six months. If a new, modified sub is built, the expedition would begin in 15 months.

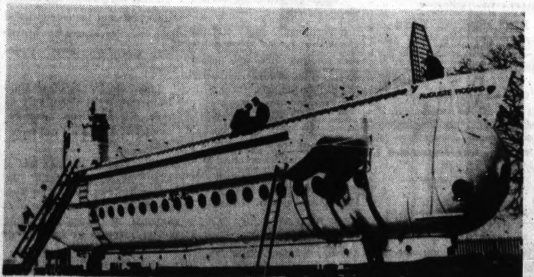

The Swiss and eight companions also will observe and film marine life and study currents at depths as great as 1,000 feet during their projected six weeks voyage.

Piccard, 44, plans to make the cruise in the Auguste Piccard, a craft named for his late father, or in a modification of the vessel.

He calls the slender, instrumented vessel a mesocap. The 93-foot sub won't use its electric motors but instead will drift along in the one-to-five-knot northward flow of the Gulf Stream itself.

Oceanographers, several members of Congress and high Navy officials have been invited to Port St. Lucie for a coordinating conference Thursday. It may fix a target date for Piccard's probe of the Gulf Stream. Preliminary work is expected

Steel Negotiators Begin Crisis Talks

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — With some gentle prodding from the White House, union and industry negotiators begin crisis bargaining this morning to head off a nationwide steel strike May 1.

If they make no headway by the end of the week, the industry likely will start preparing for a shutdown.

These preparations, tremendous in scope, take at least three to four days.

Students in Korea May Face Troops

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea's government will use the army to quell student demonstrations protesting the talks with Japan if the police are unable to control the demonstrators, high Defense Ministry sources reported today.

The sources said defense authorities have reached an understanding on use of troops with the head of the U.N. Command, U.S. Gen. Hamilton H. Howze, who has operational control of the Korean forces.

Hundreds of police and demonstrators, mostly students, were injured last week in repeated clashes.

The government already has mobilized troops under the Capital Security Command to help police guard such key government buildings as President Chung Hee Park's official mansion and the compound housing government ministries.

'Chicago Man Is Not Slayer'

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Berrien County Sheriff's officers said Sunday they have located Chicagoan Robert Mills had nothing to do with the slayings of two women and a girl here.

The slayings, brought to light when the bodies were found April 4, remain unsolved.

Mills, 44, was taken to Chicago Saturday after Mills telephoned FBI agents and said he was responsible for the deaths of Diane Carter, 7, Mrs. Robin Boyer, 60, and Mrs. Olin Jones, 7.

They returned Sunday after interrogating Mills. Officers said the 44-year-old stock clerk's story was contrary to the facts.

The negotiators for the United Steelworkers Union (USW) and 11 major basic steel producing companies met for the first time with a third party, the federal government, looking over their shoulders.

William E. Simkin, chief of mediation service, arrived here last night.

MEET SEPARATELY
Simkin met separately with David J. McDonald, USW president, and I. W. Abel, USW secretary-treasurer, and then with R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice president of U.S. Steel Corp. and chief negotiator for the 11 companies.

McDonald and Abel are acting as cochairmen of the union negotiating team, because Abel was regarded as the apparent winner of the USW's Feb. 9 presidential election. He is expected to be certified formally as the winner by the union tellers May 1, but McDonald still would remain president until June 1.

Simkin did not plan to take part in the joint collective bargaining initially, but said this might come later on.

"I don't think this thing is necessarily deadlocked he said. I think it's possible to work this thing out, without any direct government intervention, such as using the Taft-Hartley Act. I wouldn't anticipate the President would take such action quickly."

GOVERNMENT INTERVENTION
Simkin said his presence here was "not to be construed as a formal government intervention at this time, although that is a possibility."

The government acted immediately after the USW last week rejected as "completely unacceptable" an industry proposal for an interim agreement to head off a strike and continuing talks until a new contract is negotiated.

The rejected industry proposal called for an extension of at least six months of the current contract; continued negotiations on a new agreement while the extension was in effect; and an immediate wage increase of 5 cents an hour for the 450,000 USW members employed by the 11 companies.

Union sources said last night the extension and the wage increase were negotiable.

WAGE ISSUE
The wage issue was the chief stumbling block. The union felt it had to get for its members in the steel industry an increase roughly comparable to what USW members won in the first year of a 40-month contract negotiated in March with the can industry.

That would be between 12 and 16 cents an hour.

POLITICIANS MARCH
In Pusan, 50 members of opposition political parties marched in protest against President Park's policy toward Japan. Police scattered them.

About 500 high school students demonstrated at Solkwo, on Cheju Island off the south coast. The students later held a sit-down protest in the street demanding the release of five students taken in during an earlier demonstration.

The talks to normalize relations between South Korea and Japan are now nearing completion after dragging on for 14 years. Park has shown no sign of being deterred by the demonstration.

The demonstrators particularly oppose the virtual abolition of the Rhee fishing line, which barred Japanese fishermen from waters extending far from the coast of Korea. An agreement, drastically modifying the fishing regulations was initiated in Tokyo recently.

The planes dropped more than a million leaflets containing excerpts from President Johnson's speech on Viet Nam and the Vietnamese government commentary on the speech.

A U.S. spokesman reported Communist guerrillas launched their first direct attack on the U.S. Marines based in the Da Nang area. They threw two grenades into a Marine battery last night, wounding two Marines. The Marines were reported in good condition.

NEAR HANOI
U.S. war planes made their deepest penetration into Communist North Viet Nam last night, probing within 60 miles of Hanoi. But four propeller-driven Navy fighter-bombers did not attack any targets and reported no encounters with Red aircraft.

Two other squadrons from the carriers Midway and Hancock made bombing forays into the north, and U.S. officials reported 32 air strikes in the south.

Fourteen Navy planes sank a ferry boat with cannon and rocket fire at Giap Tam, on the Song Troc River, about 60 miles north of the 17th Parallel frontier. Eleven others hit the Communist Long Thanh army barracks in the same area.

In the south, U.S. planes hammered Red positions in the Mekong delta area. An American pilot was killed when a bomb he dropped over a Communist objective 120 miles west of Saigon exploded prematurely, sending his Skyraider to earth in flames.

Taylor's plane landed from Saigon at 7 p.m. yesterday. The two-day conference will be held at the command headquarters of Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, commander in chief of U.S. forces in the Pacific.

HONOLULU AREA
Sharp will be joined by component commanders stationed in the Honolulu area including Gen. Hunter Harris, commander of the Pacific Air Forces. Taylor, accompanied by Harris, will be on the flight from Saigon. Harris was in Southeast Asia on an inspection visit of Air Force units.

The talks today and tomorrow are expected to be of a general nature covering American military policy in Southeast Asia but the emphasis will be on the situation in Viet Nam.

Dirksen Opposes Plan to Suspend N. Viet Raids

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen disagreed today with a proposal by Sen. J. W. Fulbright for a temporary suspension of U.S. bombings of North Viet Nam.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, made his proposal in an exclusive Associated Press interview. He said such a suspension would encourage the opening of peace talks.

"The daily bombings are inclined to keep the atmosphere very tense, and I think perhaps, to make the North Vietnamese dig in, and as in Great Britain where the Germans thought the British might sue for peace when they started bombing them in World War II, it didn't work that way."

TEMPORARY HALT
"No one knows, if a temporary cease-fire, just to give opportunity for reflection and possibly to go to discussions as proposed by the President, might be possible. Maybe there are reasons why this is not feasible, but I'm judging from the press reports, the action of the Russians, and some of the others, that would indicate that the prospects for discussions might be enhanced by a temporary cessation of bombings."

"We don't have to make any commitments. We could resume bombing at any time there is no response. I don't see where there would be any great, very serious loss of position on our part. Anyway, it's something that I think could be considered."

Dirksen, who has strongly supported Johnson's course in Viet Nam, said he disagreed with Fulbright's views on a suspension of bombings. The Illinois Republican said the Communists have given no sign that they are willing to negotiate.

"I think we have to hold their feet to the fire," Dirksen said. "If we let up on them now we will lose face, our prestige will drop and that will make it more difficult to end the conflict."

In Texas, where Johnson was spending Easter, White House press secretary George E. Reedy was asked whether the President had talked with Fulbright or would have any comment on the senator's views.

Events Listed for Centennial

HOLLY — With just two more months to go, the village is firming up plans to mark its 100th anniversary.

The centennial celebration is slated for June 18-20.

The event has kept various committees busy throughout the winter and is demanding more and more attention. Coordinating the effort is general chairman Leslie Klinger.

Festivities will be centered in two locations — Saginaw Street and the Holly Township Park on Bush Lake, one of five lakes within village limits.

Highlights of the three-day celebration will include two parades, the crowning of a centennial queen, an amateur talent contest, an antique sale, a square dance and dozens of other activities for young and old.

THREE-ACT PLAY
The Shiawassee Players will present Thornton Wilder's three-act play, "Our Town," in connection with the celebration.

Klinger said arrangements are being made to have a variety of horse-drawn conveyances on hand to carry centennial goers from the downtown shopping center to the park.

Downtown shops will be decorated in an 1865 motif, with clerks wearing period costumes throughout the celebration.

In addition to swimming and picnicking, the park will be the scene of an 11-race carnival, complete with merry-go-round and ferris wheel.

CONCESSIONS
Several local churches and civic groups plan to operate food and drink concessions.

Incorporated as a village in March 1865, Holly served as a supply point for Saginaw Valley lumber camps during its early years.

As the timber disappeared, Holly became a farmers' market town and, in the past generation, has become the location of several light industries.

Recently, it has become a residential community for automobile workers in Pontiac and Flint.

LENGTHY PAST
Many of the red brick buildings on Saginaw Street date back to before the turn of the century.

Several homes and at least one church, the Methodist, were built before the village was incorporated.

Council Appoints Utica Fire Chief

UTICA — Carl Albrecht, senior member of the Utica Volunteer Fire Department, has been appointed fire chief for the city.

Albrecht, of 6865 Auburn, Utica, succeeds Marvin Stadler, who recently resigned after an unsuccessful attempt to unseat Mayor Fred H. Beck in the April 4 city election.

In other action, the Utica City Council reappointed Eunice Kopietz for another term as clerk, and Mayor Beck was sworn in for his third term at the helm.

See Improved Lake Levels

Outlook Better Than '64, Survey Shows

The general outlook for the levels of the Great Lakes is a little better this year than in 1964, according to the Army Corps of Engineers Lake Survey.

Compared to last year, Lakes Superior, Michigan-Huron and St. Clair are expected to be up slightly; Lake Erie is expected to be about the same; and Lake Ontario is expected to be down slightly.

Despite the slight improvement on some of the lakes in 1965, all, except Lake Superior, are expected to remain below their 10-year averages.

The outlook indicated that Lake Superior, the only lake to experience near-normal levels in 1964, will reach its seasonal high for 1965 in September and be about one inch higher than in 1964.

Lake Michigan-Huron, which established new "lows-of-record" each month in 1964, is expected to reach its seasonal high in July and be about six inches higher than last year.

SEASONAL HIGH
Lake St. Clair will reach its seasonal high in midsummer according to the outlook and be about two inches above last year.

The prospect for Lake Erie is for levels near those of last year and a seasonal high in either June or July. Lake Ontario is expected to reach its seasonal high in June and be about three inches lower than in 1964.

Current low levels of the Great Lakes have been caused by lack of precipitation over the past several years.

3 Killed on Way to Church

Weekend Traffic is Fatal to 14

By The Associated Press
Two children and an adult, killed in a car-train collision while en route to church services, were among 14 persons killed in Michigan traffic accidents over the Easter weekend.

The Associated Press weekend tabulation of traffic deaths began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

The victims included:
F. Michael Weber, 18, of Lincoln, died Sunday of injuries suffered Friday when the car in which he was riding went out of control and rolled over in Alcona County.

Ada Stoudemire, 16, of Detroit, died Sunday when her car hit a bridge abutment on a Detroit expressway.

Francis Sliter 13, Elton Bauer,

55, and Susan Sliter, 11, all of Jackson, died Sunday when their car collided with a train in Jackson.

HIT TRUCK
Glady's Baughman, 69, of Marlette, killed Saturday when the car in which she was riding struck the rear of a truck parked beside M30 in Gladwin County.

Edward Aubuchon, 26, of Webberville, killed Saturday when his car and another collided on Sherwood Road near Williams-ton in Ingham County.

Ronald Vander Bresh, 21, of Kalamazoo, killed Saturday in a collision between his car and another at an intersection 18 miles north of Allegan.

Foister D. Collier, 46, and Dale R. Addison, 54, both of Belleville, killed Saturday when their cars collided head-on in Sumpter Township of Wayne County.

H. M. Woolworth, 65, of Spar-ta, killed when his car and another collided head-on on M37 in Newaygo County. Woolworth was passing another car at the time, State Police said.

Attica Crash Leaves 4 Hurt

Lapeer County Sheriff's deputies said a pickup truck driven by Kenneth North of 4573 Attica, Attica Township, pulled out of a driveway on Attica Road a half-mile west of Lake Pleasant Road.

The truck was hit by a west-bound car driven by Wayne Davis of 3081 Greenwood, Attica.

North, 16, is in critical condition at Hurley Hospital, Flint, where he was transferred from Lapeer County General Hospital.

Also transferred to Hurley and in fair condition is Arvil Simpson, 20, a passenger in the Davis car.

HURLEY HOSPITAL
Taken directly to Hurley Hospital were Davis, in serious condition, and passenger David Murry of 416 Turrill, Lapeer, who is in good condition.

The accident is still under investigation.

It Seems to Me . . .

United States Profits Greatly From Salvation Army Deeds

Just a hundred years ago, one of the greatest and most constructive armies in all history was founded. I refer to the Salvation Army.

You will be absolutely amazed to learn that during the formative period, it was looked upon askance by the upper crust in a stern and Victorian England. William Booth decided that a huge number of people at the absolute tag end of the social scale were worth saving and rehabilitating. This was a new idea to the reigning group that held top social and economic acceptance. They weren't favorably impressed.

But Mr. Booth was not deterred. He wasn't even slowed down. He launched a wide-scale effort to bring the outcasts, the misfits and the actual bums into his newly launched society. A whole host of top British people who thought extremely well of themselves, looked down their tilted noses in open and haughty disdain that wasn't disguised. Even actual crooks and tramps with prison records were received by this great crusader who opened his arms to everyone.

Early in his magnificent conceit, he discovered the pangs of hunger, the ravages of disease and the lack of a home were not the proper background for teaching the ways of the One whose resurrection he honored yesterday. The thought and image of God only cast a feeble and flickering shadow in the light of these human derelicts and he set about the remedy. Booth started soup kitchens. He devised shelter for the destitute and found temporary homes for the fugitive girls of the night.

Mr. Booth was far, far ahead of his day and his era. He endeavored to instill self-respect without which no one can hope to succeed. He struggled eternally and primarily to lift all of mankind from the dreags and the depths of despair. A new start, a new hope and a new outlook: these were his goals. Laws and customs which ripped self-assurance and self-respect from these derelicts were fought at every turn of the road. The political and social evils of the day were his targets and he fought those who had instigated them as stoutly as he did the customs themselves.

Now—one century later—we find the great fruits of his labor scattered everywhere, including 147 different languages. We in Pontiac have been especially fortunate. The Salvation Army personnel in our area has always classified in the upper echelon of constructive work and achievement. Staunch and fearless men and women have labored—yes, labored if you will—long hours to bring a ray of sunshine into lives in which the sun was slowly but inexorably setting. They have instilled a new hope and promise for tomorrow.

Considering their contributions to society these workers are probably the most underpaid in America. But they glory in an inner satisfaction and recompense that few others know.

Abiding Thought . . .

During the Revolutionary war, THOMAS PAINE wrote: "These are the times that try men's souls." Surely, they were.

But the end of that historic struggle brought no permanent surcease. These times have always been with us. They always will. The Lord doesn't intend anyone to pass through this Great Adventure without trouble, sorrow and an actual dash of despair. Perhaps surmounting these instills the spirit to conquer.

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX wrote: "This, too, shall pass away." Herein is the eternal spark that sends all mankind forward. However dark the outlook may be, "This, too, shall pass away." At Easter time, this is an abiding thought. It's always darkest before the dawn, but whatever the trial or tribulation: "This, too, shall pass away."

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter: This new Astro stadium still confounds. When a home player hits a home run, 50,000 lights on the 474 foot scoreboard put on a 40 second demonstration. When a pitcher is removed, the scoreboard shows a man taking a shower bath accompanied by such music as "April Showers." . . . JACK BENNY, one of the greatest comics of them all will be missing next year on TV. He may be an occasional guest star but the all-time great has lost out to the modern trends. His show April 9th in which he visited his sponsor won't be equaled in 1965 for humor.

Scouts advise me Junie Jones is one of the attractive young ladies in the area. . . .

There's serious talk of a bridge across the Gibraltar straits connecting Africa with Europe. The cost is an estimated $180 million. Once this would have stopped all talk abruptly, but not today. . . . Garry Moore has had some TV feelers for September but he says he can't possibly start until January of '66—if it then.

Some Wales miners protested against the weight of the containers they were handling. On a weekend, the entire lot was painted a bright green over the previously drab black. Soon the men complimented the company on "the new, light containers." And this isn't confined to miners. Air sickness on European planes decreased perceptibly when the interior color scheme was changed from yellow and brown to sky blue. The color of bridges has had definite effects on suicides. The color of coffee tins affects sales and acceptance. . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—GARRY MOORE who went on safari in Africa and shot loads and loads of wild animals—all with a camera; the J's:—Mr. and Mrs. ROTEN, of Ann Arbor, who admit in court beating an eight-year-old adopted daughter with 100 lashes.

"The Campaign To End Poverty Has Turned Into A Giant Fiesta Of Political Patronage!"

David Lawrence Says:

Vote Bill Dodges Fraud in North

WASHINGTON — Hypocrisy on the subject of civil rights is rampant in many parts of the United States — both North and South.

Widespread acclaim is given the new voting rights bill as a much-needed measure to prevent discrimination by reason of race or color. But, oddly enough, not a single line in the proposed LAWRENCE legislation would prohibit the frauds and interferences with the right to vote which are prevalent, particularly in many of the big cities in the North.

A majority of the members of Congress are apparently willing to disregard the Constitution and let the federal government take over control of all elections — state as well as federal.

Yet no provision has been adopted that would prevent the votes of the citizens in a state or county or city from being rendered meaningless through frauds.

It has rightly been argued that the conduct of elections is a local affair and should be handled entirely by the states, as provided by the federal Constitution.

POLICING FUNCTION
But punishment for any skulduggery connected with the registration of voters in certain states of the South now is regarded by the administration here as a policing function of the federal government. This is the fundamental concept of the new voting-rights legislation.

So, in order to be consistent, theoretically at least, the proposed voting-rights law should include ways and means of insuring not only the right to vote but the right to vote without being subjected to improper influences during the actual casting of one's ballot.

In many parts of the South, when Negroes are eventually registered in great numbers, there probably will be cases of manipulation of the Negro vote just as there has been of the white vote in certain areas where political bosses hold sway. Perpetrators of fraud are not confined to any race or ethnic group.

The conspicuous absence of

POLITICAL HYPOCRISY

There are many evidences of the hypocrisy of political leaders. They shout loudly about discrimination and the denial of voting rights, while at the same time they carefully avoid enactment of any legislation or local ordinances which will interfere with the way the big bosses control the votes in the large cities of the United States.

These cities, moreover, frequently hold the balance of power in electing a president of the United States.

When Richard M. Nixon was running against John F. Kennedy in 1960, a heavy Democratic vote in the city of Chicago swung the electoral vote of the state of Illinois to Mr. Kennedy by a small margin.

Charges of fraud and "assistance" in the election were heard at that time. But no satisfactory official inquiry was ever made into what actually happened.

Since safeguards were not taken in advance by the passage of adequate laws, there was reluctance to collect legal proof of what was generally known—namely, that the local elections were no small extent fraudulent.

Are American Women Using Too Much 'Gunk'?

NEW YORK — People . . . places . . . things . . .

Eve of Rome, a sorceress who mixes things that women often smear on their faces, tells me in an exclusive understate-ment that American dames are using too much makeup.

"The American woman today should be the most beautiful woman of all," said the Hungarian-born beauty who holds a British passport and owns an Italian soul.

"Good nutrition, an active life, has made her tall, strong, and has given her a magnificent skin."

"So what does she do? She buries the best part of her face, her eyes, under terrible black blue and green paint. Such eyes will never be kissed.

"She tries to find a lipstick to match a dress — which is crazy, because it never turns out right. She should have one lipstick."

"And at night she smother her skin under a layer of grease that keeps it from breathing, is bad for the sheets, and frightens her husband away."

"There should be a spring scraping here. Scrape your woman's face. You'll be surprised at the beautiful skin she has. Scrape!"

Relates Past Experience With Legalized Gambling

Letters have cited Florida as a good example of obtaining tax revenue from dog racing. Florida's former Governor LeRoy Collins said "Florida got a dose of moral poison they will not soon forget. Crime rates jumped. Delinquency increased. Gambling, legal or illegal, spreads a kind of poison through a community. It kills more business than it generates."

A study of the effect of a Wisconsin law clamping down on gambling reveals that money previously spent on gambling was now spent on meals, cottages, horses, canoes, fishing equipment, etc. and resorts are more prosperous than ever.

Need Tighter Alliance . . . Wilson

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer

LONDON — Prime Minister Harold Wilson says Britain and the United States must tighten their alliance to check growing dangers to peace from Suez to the China Sea.

"I believe that as the balance of danger spreads more and more from Europe to Asia," Wilson said, "we shall find it necessary to talk closely together about any joint approach that will be needed in peace-keeping operations and in giving assurances to our allies and friends in that area."

Wilson, in an exclusive interview with the Associated Press, said "We should not be too quickly discouraged or too defeatist" about initial Communist rejection of President Johnson's overtures for peace talks on Viet Nam.

"We have very warmly welcomed the speech of the President on the outlook in Southeast Asia," Wilson said. "It showed a clear and unequivocal willingness to enter into discussions without preconditions. We would strongly support him in that, as we have in other aspects of the struggle in Southeast Asia."

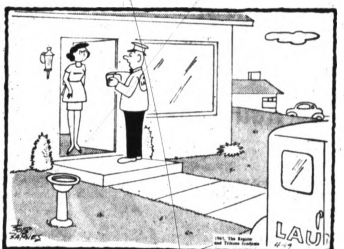

"In any conference there must be a recognition that there is no easy way out. And we must find a solution that will really guarantee peace and stability in the area."

EXTREMELY DIFFICULT

Wilson said that the situation in Viet Nam was "extremely difficult" but he said he believed it could be solved.

"President Johnson's speech, I think, has provided a signpost to that solution," he said.

Control Two

The Lansing State Journal

An interesting suggestion was made by Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr. of Grand Rapids, the minority leader in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Ford proposed that the minority party control the two major congressional investigating committees when the opposite party controls both Congress and the executive branch of the federal government.

"When both the executive and legislative branches are dominated by the same political party," the Michigan Republican said, "the committees on government operations of the House and Senate, which have broad investigative authority, should be under the control of the minority party."

"It smacks of legalized collusion when the suspect and the district attorney are blood relatives." Ford said that if such a system had been in effect during the investigation of the activities of Bobby Baker, a former Senate aide, the public might be more confident that the "real Bobby Baker story had been told."

There is little doubt that had the Republicans been able to direct the inquiry into Baker's wheezing and dealing, the committee would have probed much more deeply than the Democrat-controlled committee did. Democrats, who now control Congress and all committees, did not comment publicly but the private remarks of some of them made it clear Ford's proposal was unlikely to be considered.

One Democrat put it this way: "Is he kidding? If the Democrats bought that idea, we would be confessing that we couldn't be trusted on the other foot. Don't hold your breath until the Republicans give us authority to run investigations of their administration."

A lot of people might see it as recognition of the possibility the public would have greater confidence in investigations conducted by the opposition than in those which amount, in effect, to self-investigation. If the minority party ever did get control of investigations, it would have the responsibility of digging for the facts, regardless of whom they might affect.

The idea may make good sense to those who view it with great objectivity.

A Gamble!

The New York Daily News

New York State's Democratic county leaders, all 62 of them, have been instructed by their state chairman, William McKee, to make solemn polls of voter reactions to the idea of a possible state lottery.

Try as we will, we can't see why our Dems are going to all that trouble. There's little doubt that state voters, if given a chance, would favor a fine lottery patterned after New Hampshire's.

But a lottery will require a state constitutional amendment, effective no earlier than late 1966, whereas off-track betting could be legalized in New York City by quick City Council and Legislature action.

As we've said before, a lottery will be fine. But right now let's quit the Albany stalling and latch onto legalized off-track bet income, fast. Both city and state could use it.

Arrest Coming in Abduction?

DETROIT (UPI) — A Dearborn man accused of kidnapping a seven-year-old boy and holding him captive for seven hours over the weekend promised to surrender to police today.

Detective Inspector Charles Kantler of the Detroit police department said Joseph Berry, 28, promised to give himself up today because he did not want to spend Easter in jail.

Berry and two other men reportedly kidnapped Craig Padlo Saturday night near his northwest Detroit home.

Police said Berry was the former boyfriend of Craig's sister, Pamela, 20. Craig said he could not identify the other two men, who he said kept his face covered with a towel during the time he was held captive.

Berry is awaiting trial on assault charges in the beating of Pamela and her sister, Michele, 17, a week ago in a church parking lot.

Miller said a major breakthrough was made with the testimony of Joseph Valachi, a convicted murderer who defied the syndicate's oath of secrecy to divulge details of its operation.

"If Valachi had talked and not lived," Miller said, "he would only have been an object lesson to the rest of the syndicate. But he's alive and well, and a big part has been made."

Brandt appeared yesterday on a radio and television program. The program was taped last Thursday.

CLAPPER AWARD: A series of articles on the Bobby Baker investigation has won reporters John Barron and Paul B. Hope the $1,000 annual Raymond Caper Memorial Award.

A panel of five news editors lauded them for "good spot reporting under the gun in the Baker case, including their detailed account of Lyndon Johnson's personal wealth."

The series appeared in the Evening Star of Washington.

Hope, 40, is still with the Star. Barron, 34, has since joined the Washington staff of the Reader's Digest.

Baker resigned as secretary to the Senate Democratic majority shortly before an inquiry was ordered into his outside financial activities.

He was an aide and protégé of President Johnson when Johnson was Senate majority leader.

The winning entry, one of 36, was announced Saturday during a meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Raymond Clapper was a Washington columnist who died in a World War II aircraft crash in the South Pacific.

America's toughest gasoline mileage test ends in Times Square

3,266-mile Mobil Economy Run winds up in Times Square, N.Y. with an all-car average of 20.34 miles per gallon.

Below, the map of the entire route and all the results certified by the United States Auto Club.

In America's mileage classic—the Mobil Economy Run—48 different makes and models of American cars crossed the continent from Los Angeles to New York. The cars traveled at an average speed of 51.6 mph and were under the strict supervision of the United States Auto Club (USAC). All-car average: 20.34 miles per gallon.

What does this mean to you? Simply this: while other gasolines talk about good mileage, Mobil's High Energy Gasoline proves its mileage potential in public! Over all kinds of roads from city streets to superhighways, through all kinds of conditions from deserts to 11,000-foot mountain passes.

The cars that compete in the Mobil Economy Run are not "specials" or "doctored" in any way. They're selected at random from dealer showrooms all across the country. The gasoline is the same gasoline you can buy at any Mobil station.

It's the world's toughest test of gasoline. Check the results at the right. Then, try Mobil's High Energy Gasoline in your car—Premium or Regular.

Mobil Economy Run data approved and certified by the United States Auto Club.

Bomb Plot Suspect Kills Self

MONTREAL (UPI) — A Montreal man charged in the recent plot to blow up the Statue of Liberty, the Washington Monument and the Liberty Bell committed suicide in his jail cell last night, authorities reported today.

The Montreal attorney general's office said Gilles Legault, 31, was found dead a few hours after he had been treated for a gash on the left wrist. Twelve stitches were taken.

Police refused to disclose further details on his death, but a doctor said the wound was self-inflicted. An inquest will be conducted.

Legault was being held without bail and was awaiting trial on the charges along with three alleged conspirators, including a Montreal woman.

CONNECTED PLOT

The charges against the four were connected with the plot by three New York Negroes and a Montreal woman, blonde onetime television announcer Michelle Duclos.

Miss Duclos, 28, and her companions have been indicted by a New York grand jury and are awaiting trial.

The Montreal end of the plot, police said, involved obtaining and smuggling the dynamite that was to be used in the bizarre bomb plot.

The Montreal suspects and Miss Duclos all were members of the Separatist Rassemblement Pour l'Indépendance Nationale, a group advocating the secession of Quebec from Canada.

Coughlin Plans 'Needed Rest'

ROYAL OAK (AP) — Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, 73, announced in an Easter Day sermon at his Shrine of the Little Flower Church Sunday his vacation will be for two or three months.

Father Coughlin, pastor of the Roman Catholic church for nearly 50 years and who was noted for his broadcast sermons of the 1930s, did not disclose his vacation plans.

An official spokesman for the Shrine earlier denied reports that Father Coughlin was retiring. He said the priest would go on a vacation for a rest.

Parishioners packed the church for a midmorning Easter Mass at which Father Coughlin made his announcement.

He adjured his congregation to "hold firm to the faith as I go away for two or three months for a rest I sadly need."

Father Coughlin has preached regularly on Sundays at the Shrine of the Little Flower down through the years. In the 1930s he frequently discussed politics and was often controversial.

In Sunday's sermon, largely devoted to the meaning of Easter, he chided students who went to Washington demanding an end to hostilities in Viet Nam and compared them to the teenage dike builders on the flooding Mississippi River.

"There are 90,000 youths in St. Paul building dikes and putting down sandbags, showing what American youths can do," he said. "They are the real Americans in the spirit of trying to serve people."

Building Atomic Ship to Probe Ocean Floor

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — The government is working on a nuclear-powered craft which would probe the ocean depths for new sources of raw materials.

President Johnson said Sunday that the Navy Department and Atomic Energy Commission are developing "a nuclear-powered deep submergence research and ocean engineering vehicle."

Theoretically, the U.S. Constitution could be amended so that heavily populated states could have three senators instead of two, but this is a practical impossibility since the consent of every state would be required.

The known work of Leonardo Da Vinci is among the world's rarest. There are not more than 30 authenticated works of his in existence: two of his most celebrated paintings being the Mona Lisa and the Last Supper.

WHAT IS COMMUNITY NATIONAL BANKING?

Community National Banking is big banking. (Community National Bank is in the top 2% of the nation's banks, with total deposits exceeding $150,000,000.) As a result, Community National Banking is complete-service banking. (From savings accounts — at 4% interest, of course — to family and business loans.) But Community Banking is neighborhood banking, too. (Sixteen offices now serve Oakland and Macomb counties, with more due this year. *Most have convenient drive-up teller windows and Saturday banking hours.) That means Community National Banking is personal banking. (You deal with neighbors and friends. Members of your Community. People interested in serving you and your money needs.) We invite you to visit your nearest office and see the advantages of Community National Banking.

*Of the 16 offices, one is right now growing bigger to serve its Community better. That's Lake Orion, where grand opening activities commence Thursday, April 22, and continue through Saturday, April 24. Hours will be from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. all three days, and we cordially invite you to drop in and inspect the new office.

Johnson Picks 4 Envoys and New Treasury Official

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has filled a number of high-level positions, picking Joseph W. Barr as undersecretary of the Treasury and naming four ambassadors. The appointments announced yesterday are subject to Senate confirmation.

Barr, a former House member from Indianapolis, has been chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. since Jan. 23, 1964. He will be the No. 2 man in the Treasury Department under new Secretary Henry H. Fowler.

Johnson named Merlyn N. Trued of Ridgewood, N.J., as assistant secretary of the Treasury for International Affairs. Trued has been deputy assistant secretary since February, 1963, and acting assistant secretary since October.

Anthony M. Solomon, now deputy assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, was named as assistant secretary for economic policy.

Johnson appointed former Democratic national chairman Frank E. McKinney to be ambassador to Jamaica.

McKinney, who headed the Democratic committee in 1951-52 under former President Harry S. Truman, is now chairman of the American Fletcher National Bank and Trust Co. of Indianapolis.

Reached in Miami Beach, Fla., last night by the Indianapolis Star, McKinney said the appointment was news to him.

Other ambassadors appointed by Johnson were:

William R. Tyler, now assistant secretary for European affairs, ambassador to the Netherlands.

Henry A. Hoyt, a career foreign service officer, ambassador to Uruguay. He succeeds Wymerly Coerr, earlier named ambassador to Ecuador.

Henry J. Tasca, a career officer now deputy assistant secretary of state for African Affairs, ambassador to Morocco.

The President named Nathaniel Davis, a career officer who has been on duty with the Peace Corps, to succeed Mrs. Eugene M. Anderson as minister to Bulgaria. Mrs. Anderson is returning to private life.

Daughter Rosemary Inspiration to Rose Kennedy

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Amid triumph and tragedy, the remarkable Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy daily carries another sorrow — that of her mentally retarded daughter, Rosemary. But there's no time for self-pity. Mrs. Kennedy is busy working to help thousands of others afflicted as is Rosemary.)

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, looking youthful for all her 75 years, settled herself in an arm chair, and spoke of one of the many sorrows that have punctuated her remarkable life.

— A child among the several in her family who was tapped by misfortune.

— A young KENNEDY Kennedy whose very being called attention to and improved the welfare of a forgotten group, Rosemary, her mentally retarded daughter.

It was midmorning when Rose Kennedy entered the study of her husband, the former ambassador to Great Britain. The brim of her blue straw bonnet was turned back. She wore silk slacks the same color, a flowered blouse, and gold sandals that displayed to advantage her red lacquered nails.

She sat in an unpretentious arm chair, and, having strained a tendon, rested one leg gently on a leather foot sling. In the small book-lined room around her were mementos of her famous family.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS
Over the fireplace just slightly awry was a framed copy of the inaugural address of her son, the late President John F. Kennedy. Atop the television set were snapshots of the ambassador in healthier days romping with grandchildren. There were also pictures of sons and daughters posed with their offspring.

Rosemary was not destined to have the kind of exuberant Kennedy family life pictured there.

"We don't usually talk about it," Mrs. Kennedy began hesitantly, focusing her clear blue eyes on some faraway spot. What she meant was that the family does not ordinarily elaborate.

The fact that the Kennedy family had not chosen to remain completely silent has played an important part in the growth of hospitals, institutions and research programs for at least some of the nation's six million mentally retarded.

Rosemary, now 46, was the first daughter and the third Kennedy born to Joseph Patrick and Rose Kennedy. Her elder brothers, Joseph and John, as well as the sister to come later, Kathleen, are now dead.

Rosemary was one of a large family and so she ran and played and seemed a happy child, and we didn't notice anything wrong at first," said Mrs. Kennedy. "Oh, she would seem a little slow at times — but there is usually always one child in a large family who develops a little less rapidly than the rest."

But as the pretty blonde child grew older, Mrs. Kennedy began to realize something was wrong.

"I thought," she said, "that if only I could coat this child with a veneer of learning — maybe just enough to know Bach and Da Vinci and whatever kind of scientist might be a part of her life — well, then she might be able to get along all right."

MORE DIFFICULT
"Then as she matured even more it got to be even more difficult. It is always more difficult for the parent, you know."

"Privileges were a problem too, why couldn't she take a boat out alone when her brothers and sisters were able to do so? These were conflicts in the family, things she could not understand."

"Eventually, it was obvious that she felt more comfortable, was a great deal happier with youngsters — like herself, and well, we placed her in this Catholic home."

The Kennedy family could afford trained help and institutional care, Mrs. Kennedy has always been keenly aware of this.

THANKS OFFERED
"When I was campaigning for Jack," she recalled, "people would come up and thank me for the Joseph Kennedy Foundation we established as a memorial to my oldest son. We did it because he was very fond of children, and because this business of retardation which was a problem to us had affected so many children."

"I remember one lady especially who said to me, 'Oh Mrs. Kennedy, my son has been waiting for two years to get into such a home but we have no influence. Sometimes I feel like the infant Jesus and His mother — with no place to lay His head and no one to take us in.'"

Within a few years the Kennedy Memorial Foundation discovered that it could not possibly build hospitals and homes fast enough to care only for retarded children.

As a consequence the foundation now emphasizes research, public health education, all preventative measures.

When Gift Arrives Damaged

Q: One of my fiance's relatives who lives out of town, sent me a very lovely hand-cut crystal candy dish for a wedding present.

I When I opened the package, I discovered that it was broken.

When writing to thank her, should I mention that it was broken, or should I simply thank her for the lovely dish?

A: If the dish was sent by the store or if she herself sent it by insured mail, tell her that it arrived broken so that she can put in a claim to the post office or have the store replace it.

Otherwise, you should not say anything about it as she will feel obliged to replace it herself.

COLORED JACKETS

Q: I am thinking of buying a tuxedo and in shopping around for one, I noticed that many of the men's shops are showing dinner jackets in various colors.

Are these in good taste? A: A dinner jacket in color is all right as an extra but if you can afford only one tuxedo, I would strongly urge the conventional black one.

THE THEATER

Q: When two people have a date to go to see a play together, does politeness exact that the first couple to arrive wait in the lobby for the second couple, or may they go directly to their seats?

A: Unless the first couple are hosts to the second couple, they usually go directly to their seats and wait there for the second couple.

Delta Zeta Unit to Hear Talk by Dr. McGee

Dr. T. Manford McGee will speak before members of the Delta Zeta alumnae of Oakland County on April 27 at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Winfield C. Hinman of Franklin will be the hostess. Her assistants will be Mrs. Claude B. Rumble, Mrs. James W. Lowell and Mrs. Roy P. Halmhuber.

Mrs. Cecil N. King, philanthropy chairman, is in charge of arrangements.

"The Silent World" is the speaker's topic. Dr. McGee is a clinical associate professor at Wayne State University. He is also research associate at Henry Ford Hospital and an associate surgeon at North Providence Hospital.

Almost anyone would have trouble deciding what candy to choose. Mrs. Chloa Smith who runs The Country House in Utica will bring a large assortment of old-time candies to the 13th annual antique show and sale, starting Tuesday at the All Saints Episcopal Church. The cash register seen at the right came from the first Fred Sanders' candy store in Detroit.

Visit to an Antique Shop

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Year after year, antique dealers come to the annual show and sale at the All Saints Episcopal Church. We've seen them there; we've talked with them; we've bought some of their wares.

But this year we visited one of the dealers in her own store. When we see her Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday of this week, we'll be old friends.

Chloa Smith owns The Country House in Utica.

From her stock of goods there, she'll bring three special items: old-time candy; reproductions of antique hardware; and handloomed table cloths and napkins.

OLD TIME CANDY

One whole room of her store is devoted to candy. She stocks over 70 different kinds, but will bring only a portion of that to the show.

Some of it will be penny candy. Some of it will be old favorites like horehound drops, "moth balls", chocolate babies or stick candy.

Her husband made special country store counters that fold for traveling. She covers these counters at shows with old quilts. One of these was made by her husband's great-grandmother; another is a century old.

Mrs. Smith does more than use the quilts as decoration. She cheerfully passes out patterns for them.

The Smiths got in the old time candy business when they bought out another store. Now they keep from 600 to 800 pounds in their home basement at all times.

There are several companies that cater to buyers like the Smiths.

Historians Set Annual Dinner

James Babcock, chief of the Burton Historical collection at the Detroit Public Library, will be the speaker for the 91st annual dinner of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society.

Society members and guests will gather in Devon Gables at 6:30 p.m. April 28 for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lindquist will present musical selections.

Mrs. Marion Hodges Benter and Mrs. L. L. Dunlap are handling reservations for the dinner.

The annual event affords an opportunity for those interested in their heritage and the history of the community, to renew friendships and hear a program focused on some phase of the county's history.

The annual historical dinner serves as a fitting preliminary for the Michigan Week activities scheduled for May 16-21.

During that week, the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society holds open house every afternoon from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Moses Wisner home, Oakland Avenue, the society's headquarters.

Special tours may be arranged by school groups through Miss Adah Shelly, visitation chairman.

Calendar

Tuesday
Blue Star Mothers, 1 p.m., YMCA on Mt. Clemens Street.

Oakland County Dental Hygienists, 7:30 p.m., Ferguson Schreiber Dental Laboratories, Royal Oak. Nomination of officers. Dr. Pino Wiser will speak.

Oakland County District Nurses Association, 7:30 p.m., auditorium of Nurses Home, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Dr. Donald W. Martin on "The Community, The Nurse and Mental Public Health."

Area Women Help at Unit

Six area women are among a group of 15 volunteers serving at the mobile chest X-ray unit in downtown Detroit this week.

They are Mrs. John B. Daniels, Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. Frederick J. Bush, Orchard Lake; and Mrs. Harold G. Warner, Mrs. John Z. Lorean, Mrs. David B. Demarest and Mrs. John L. Denman, all of Birmingham.

They are members of the Women's Committee of the Tuberculosis and Health Society and are serving under Mrs. Herman E. Reichart of Orchard Lake, committee chairman for the day.

Robert is professor of piano in the School of Music at Indiana University.

Reservations for the Piano Teachers' Institute may be made by calling Oakland University, Division of Continuing Education.

Fee for the day is $6.50.

Writers Set Workshop

A poetry workshop beginning at noon, Friday, in McGregor Library, Highland Park, is scheduled for the Detroit Women Writers Club, with Mrs. G. B. Hills, hostess.

"How It Happened to Me" was the subject of a talk by Birmingham TV mystery writer, Mrs. Dwight L. Dickinson Jr. at a recent workshop in the Women's City Club, Detroit. Mrs. Arthur B. McWood of Birmingham was chairman for the day.

All groups will participate in a combined workshop April 27 in the Women's City Club with Mrs. Otis Winn serving as chairman and critic.

One-half cup of chopped pecans was omitted from the recipe for Orange-Nut Bread in The Pontiac Press on Friday.

Piano Day Set

"Stylistic Interpretation at the Piano" will be the subject of a demonstration-workshop by concert pianist Walter Robert at Oakland University.

The program will begin at 8:30 a.m. Thursday in North Foundation Hall and will continue, with a break at noon, until 3:30 p.m.

This will be the fourth annual Piano Teachers' Institute sponsored by the University's Division of Continuing Education and Music Department.

Robert is professor of piano in the School of Music at Indiana University.

Reservations for the Piano Teachers' Institute may be made by calling Oakland University, Division of Continuing Education.

Fee for the day is $6.50.

Club Plans May Dance

The North Woodward Alumnae, Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority will hold a dinner-dance May 8 in the Village Woman's Club, Bloomfield Hills.

In cocktail hour at 7 p.m., will precede the dance. Music will be provided by the Don Dierks orchestra.

Mrs. G. R. Brenneman of Candlewood Trail, West Bloomfield Township is chairman. Assisting are Mrs. Kent Smith, Royal Oak; Mrs. Gilbert Berry, Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. H. Howard Herbst, West Long Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township.

Easter Note Carried Out By Bouquets

Attendants holding crosses of white carnations set an Easter theme for the vows of Ruth Ann Douglas and Pvt. William Charles Brecht Jr., Saturday, in the Leonard Methodist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John W. Douglas of Loomard and the senior Brechts of Lakeville.

Alencon lace applique highlighted the bride's full-length gown of white satin with silk organza overskirt. A pearl-headed princess crown capped her illusion veil. She carried white carnations and Stephanotis.

Wearing deep pink faille were matron of honor, Mrs. Donald Brecht of Metamora, Bridesmaids, Barbara Brecht of Lakeville and Dawn Douglas of Washington, were in aquamarine.

Donald Brecht of Metamora was best man for his cousin, Louis Burny and Larry Barnes, both of Lakeville were ushers.

Reception in the Oxford Knight of Pythias club rooms followed the candlelight ceremony performed by Rev. Wallace Zimnoch.

Pvt. Brecht is presently stationed with the U.S. Army in Fort Rucker, Ala.

Residents Return From Nassau Trip

Area residents returned from a recent cruise to Nassau from Miami, Fla. are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Schussel of Brooklake Lane, the Frank Holchecks of Acorn Road, also Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hughes of Van Zandt Avenue.

Previously format of this event has been an auction, followed by two days of sales. However, this year there will be just the auction.

Objects to be offered may be previewed beginning at 7 p.m. with the auction commencing at 8 p.m.

All proceeds from the auction go into the student sponsored and administered scholarship funds.

MRS. GERALD G. BERCHE

Northern Honeymoon for Gerald Lerches

Marilyn Elizabeth Wells exchanged recent wedding vows with Gerald Gustave Lerche, in the First United Missionary Church.

Dr. Floyd McCollum of the Pilgrim Holiness Church, Owosso, performed the family ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. David V. Wells of South Winding Drive and Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Lerche of Mt. Morris are parents of the bride couple.

Fine tucking on sleeves and bodice detailed the bride's street-length gown of ice blue sheer styled with full pleated skirt. Blue velvet roses with mother-of-pearl sprays secured her short illusion veil. She held a white Bible topped with French white carnations, Red Elf rosebuds and greens.

Martha Carolyn Wells attended her sister wearing pastel pink sheer. She held French pink carnations, Red Elf rosebuds and greens.

Karl Michel of Flint assisted his cousin as best man. The bride is a graduate of Michigan State University and her husband of Owosso College.

After a short northern honeymoon, they will be at home in Owosso.

Daughter Is Born

The birth of a daughter, Susan Marie, April 6, in Pontiac General Hospital, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Sonnee Johnson (Barbara Smith) of Sylvan Lake.

Grandparents are Thurman L. Smith of Dearborn and the August Johnsons of Franklin Road.

Mother Is Hurt

Did She Understand?

DEAR ABBY: We recently celebrated our 25th wedding anniversary, and I had a lovely wedding dinner dance for our friends.

We sent out engraved invitations, but I went to my widowed mother's house and spent the evening with her and invited her personally to the party.

She never came. Then she told my brother in tears that she was not invited. Now the whole family is angry with me. I can't understand it.

Wasn't my personal invitation enough? Please clear up this matter.

IOWAN DEAR IOWAN: A personal invitation to one's mother would seem more appropriate than an engraved one. Either your mother forgot that you had invited her personally, or she is looking for a reason to be angry with you. Something is wrong here.

I would guess that the relationship between you and your mother was rather shaky to begin with.

DEAR ABBY: I am a man in my 60s who recently retired. I have been very successful in my life and my wife and I are living in Florida.

Our eldest son married and gave us our only grandchild, who is now six. The marriage ended in divorce, so we invited our daughter-in-law to bring the boy and stay with us until she got her feet on the ground.

She has her own car, a built-in baby sitter (my wife), support money from our son, and she comes and goes as she pleases.

She never had it so good. She's been with us for six months and has made no move to find a place of her own.

My wife and I had planned a trip to Europe, but she became so attached to her grandson that she cancelled the trip.

I can't throw my daughter-in-law and grandson out of the house, and my wife is not easy to reason with. So what should I do?

IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: My wife's attachment to her grandson and the convenient setup for your daughter-in-law have disturbed the tranquility of your home.

It is unhealthy for everybody.

Ask your wife to join you in a heart-to-heart talk with your daughter-in-law, who should be told gently, but firmly, to take her foot off the gas and get both feet on the ground.

You and your wife should definitely go to Europe.

DEAR ABBY: A lady whom I seldom see, lives in the same apartment house that I do.

She came to my apartment one evening to visit with me. I was sewing. After she left I missed my gold thimble. I thought I had mislaid it, and used another thimble.

Last evening this lady invited me to her apartment. I noticed a gold thimble on the sewing table near my chair.

I casually picked it up and examined it, and saw my initials on it.

I wouldn't openly accuse her of taking it, nor would I make a big fuss about it, but I would like to know how I can get my thimble back. Please advise me.

NEEDS ADVICE DEAR NEEDS: Call your neighbor and tell her you think she may have taken home your gold thimble by mistake.

If she denies it, buy yourself another thimble and consider the first one gone for good.

P.S. If your light-fingered friend ever visits you again, lock up everything she can lift.

CONFIDENTIAL TO GIORGIO IN FIRENCE: Don't buy the ring. A man does NOT automatically gain American citizenship by marrying an American citizen.

That law was changed in 1922.

Gal Fridays Honored This Week

Governor George W. Romney and Mayor William H. Taylor of Pontiac have decreed the week of April 18 through 24 as "Secretaries Week."

Wednesday has been designated as "Secretaries Day." Being observed for the 14th consecutive year, the week is designed to honor all secretaries everywhere in recognition of the vital role of the secretary in the function of business, industry, government and education.

North Oakland County's own Secretary of the Year will be selected from among those of the Pontiac chapter of the National Secretaries Association who are employed by business and professional men throughout the county.

She will be awarded full honors at a banquet on Secretaries Day.

The Bare Look Goes Undercover

It may be great to sit in the sun, but this summer everyone will be covered up on the beach.

True, the cover-ups are mainly sheer; every fashion-conscious gal will cover her swimsuit with a pretty coat, shirt or smock and her head with the new kerchief hats.

Verge of Divorce

Need 'Compliment Club'

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE V-445: Martin L., aged 38, is a successful executive.

"But my home life is a failure," he protested, glumly.

"My wife and I are no longer happy together. We also find it increasingly difficult to communicate with each other."

"Isn't divorce the only sensible solution, Dr. Crane?" "For we have 3 children so wouldn't it be better for them if they could avoid our present atmosphere of discord and hostility?"

Let's answer Martin's last query first.

On many occasions I have interviewed the children in homes which were on the verge of divorce.

And these youngsters almost invariably voted against divorce.

"Dr. Crane," they would confess, "we hate to have Daddy and Mother fussing all the time."

"But we'd rather have that than to see them get a divorce."

"For our playmates don't know they are quarreling so much."

"But if they get a divorce, then our pals would soon find out that our Daddy and Mother don't live together!" Will you feuding parents PLEASE heed this universal plea of children?

Youngsters can stand a great deal of family feuding if they are reassured that such quarrels will blow over and not lead to a permanent separation of their parents.

Besides, you parents can rebuild your former romance even out of its present ashes, if you will resolutely make your brain the Captain and never permit your unruly emotions to mutiny.

There is an axiom of psychology which you quarreling married folks should memorize and recite every morning and every night.

Here is how it reads: "If I go through the proper MOTIONS, I will soon begin to feel the corresponding EMOTIONS!"

That is one of the basic truths of human psychology, so heed it!

You cannot control your emotions directly, for they are produced by secretions of glands.

But you can exert voluntary control over your skeletal muscles!

And these muscles include your vocal cords!

So force yourself to offer your mate a compliment instead of a bitter jibe.

Oh, you may need to clench your teeth to compel yourself to utter that compliment.

But do it anyway. Let your brain be Captain!

Slip Doubles as Blouse

The conventional slip has turned into the surprise package of new lingerie collections — by adding a blouse front for wear with suits.

The lace, brocade, or sequin top, designed with cami-sole neckline, hangs loose at the bottom to cover the waistband of a skirt and simulate a separate garment.

All three versions of this nylon tricot slip may be hand-washed in warm soap or detergent suds. The only special caution is to dip the sequins gently up and down without rubbing or squeezing.

Why Grow Old?

Nothing makes a woman feel more tired and miserable than foot trouble. Here are a few rules for comfort which you may not have thought of or applied to your underpinnings.

Many women make the mistake of wearing the same size in all styles of shoes. The style can make a big difference. Your feet should be measured each time you purchase a pair of shoes.

Also there are certain makes which are wrong for her when it is right for many other women.

BRANDS
Some years ago I had the habit of wearing a certain well-known name brand shoe. I always had to sort of "break them in" before they were really comfortable. This manufacturer has beautiful shoes and I kept buying them until I "came to" and realized that they simply were not for my foot.

If you wear one style shoe for non-dressy occasions, around the house or shopping or walking, buy two pairs of the same style. Your shoes need a rest too, time to air out.

Take good care of the cuticle around your toenails as well as that around your fingernails. Toenail cuticle can become very dry and cause irritation and discomfort.

After washing your feet with soapsuds and letting them soak in the tub, gently push the cuticle back from the toenails. Make this a habit.

Also massage the feet with a lotion and the cuticle with cuticle cream or oil.

HARD SKIN

If you have calluses or heel bumps on your feet, rub the hard skin with a pumice stone after you have softened it by soaking.

Remember, too, it is unwise to try to treat corns yourself. A cut may lead to soreness or even infection. It is best to see a foot doctor.

Washable Shoes Available for Baby

New one-piece foot coverings for the baby in the house come in washable fabrics which are cut and finished to fold and button into little shoes. Unbutton for washing and flat ironing.

The shoes come in a choice of stripes, checks and solid pastels.

Mid-August vows in Our Lady of Refuge Catholic Church are planned by Christine Vera Raupp, daughter of the Norman J. Raupps of West Long Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township, and Charles James English. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. English are of North Pad-dock Street.

House Plants Need Care

Most house plants need two periods of adjustment.

They receive the first in quality growers' greenhouses, when they're professionally conditioned in porous clay pots. The second period is in your hands.

Since over-watering causes most failures, be sure your plants are bought and kept in porous clay pots that assure drainage and keep roots from "drowning."

Are You Bride-to-Be?

Are you planning a wedding in 1965? We are interested in having your engagement and wedding news. But we need your cooperation.

The Pontiac Press has printed forms for both engagement and wedding announcements. But you may send in the details, giving full names and addresses (husband's names for a married woman) and other pertinent details.

Please include a telephone number so that we may check if necessary.

TIME LAPSE

There must be two months between engagement and wedding stories. If there is to be a picture with both. No engagements are announced less than a month before the wedding date.

We prefer to receive wedding stories and pictures before the ceremony.

If pictures are taken at the wedding, we must have them no later than two days after the ceremony (that is, by noon Tuesday for Saturday weddings.)

If the wedding takes place out of town, this deadline is extended.

BEST PICTURES

Pictures should be black and white, preferably glossy prints. Snapshots cannot be used. Color and tinted prints are not acceptable.

While The Pontiac Press makes no promise to use every picture submitted, some printed mention of the event will be made.

There is no charge for editorial space, but it cannot be reserved nor can we promise the size of picture or its position.

Engagement and wedding pictures are kept for two months, then discarded. They may be called for any time after publication.

Mop Ceilings

DEAR POLLY—After I wash my untreated dust mops I first use them to go over the ceilings and corners of the various rooms in the house.

This removes any embarrassing cobwebs from sneaking up on me.—JULIE

GIRLS — Do be careful to brush only the cobwebs. Too heavy a hand on the dust mop might smear the ceiling or walls.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I tacked a spring type curtain rod on the inside wall of my pan cupboard to keep my pan lids in order.

For only 15 cents I have a neater cupboard and the correct lids are easier to find.

I like the idea of cutting off the tops of old bobby socks and using them for dust cloths. I also get good use out of the feet of such socks by using them as footlets in my loafers.

When they do not stay on quite as well as I would like I run a little elastic thread around the tops.—MRS. L.A.L.

DEAR POLLY — I am a new mother and found it hard to dress baby warmly enough.

I could not get mittens small enough. Finally I hit on the idea of turning her wool sweaters inside out, gathering the lower edges of the sleeves and sewing them shut.

The arms in the sweaters were long enough to provide ample room for both arms and hands. No more cold hands for baby and she can still have them outside the blanket, as she seems to prefer.

When the sleeves begin to get short or the weather warmer, these stitches can be removed and the sweater is as good as new.

I finally got tired of broken bra straps and now I sew them permanently in place.

I stitch back and forth across the strap to hold the ends securely in place and then I sew up the length of each strap in a wavy line, turn around, make the wavy lines the opposite way so the waves are up on one side and down on the other.

My straps never break or come unfastened and this method of stitching keeps them from folding over.—MRS. C.R.F.

DEAR POLLY — When a child is past the bottle stage but rebels at drinking the necessary amount of milk, try putting the milk in a small plastic pitcher or tea pot, give him a small plastic glass and let him pour his own.

There may be some mopping up to do but you will be surprised at how much milk he will drink just from fascination with a new way of doing it.—MRS. J.T.D.

DEAR POLLY — My little daughter's doll lost most of her "rooted" hair and I was unable to buy a wig for her. In desperation I glued a piece of gauze on the top of the doll's head and sewed yellow nylon yarn through the holes and tied the yarn to keep it from coming out.

After the yarn was all in, I trimmed the "wig" evenly.

Even my mother thought the doll was new.—MRS. R.H.

GIRLS — Some of you might find it easier to measure the gauze to the correct size for the wig, draw the pattern, run the yarn through, cut it out and then glue onto the doll's head.

No reason to limit the yarn color to yellow as brown or black may give the doll a completely different look. — POLLY

Gets Pension With Coconut

DALLAS, Tex. (P) — It was lucky for Mrs. Della Mae Johnson that her mother-in-law kept a 12-inch coconut mailed from New Guinea in World War II.

She needed help from the Red Cross in claiming a widow's pension. All of her own personal belongings and keepsakes had been destroyed by fire, but the coconut her husband mailed his mother still bore his name, address and army serial number.

It established Mrs. Johnson's pension claim.

Foreign News Commentary

Britons Suggesting SE Asia Alliance

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International
British military sources are suggesting that if a Viet Nam peace settlement proves impossible it might become necessary to form an Anglo-American military alliance for the whole of Southeast Asia.

While the United States is preoccupied with Viet Nam, British forces are tied against Malaysia to guard against threatening Indonesian aggression.

Coordination of the effort—beyond the mere political alignment—is considered necessary if the conflict continues with no end in sight.

RUSSIAN MIND CHANGING: Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko apparently is willing after all to discuss the Viet Nam conflict when he comes to Paris April 25 for talks with French leaders. Originally the Russians made it known they wanted this left out. Now they say Gromyko is willing to discuss "all important world problems."

He expects to spend four days and will meet with President Charles de Gaulle and Premier Georges Pompidou as well as Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

UNWANTED MALAYSIA: Indonesian hosts to the tenth anniversary celebrating of the first Afro-Asian conference at Bandung will be doing a lot of lobbying this week to exclude Malaysia from the forthcoming second Afro-Asia parley in Algiers next June.

The Indonesians have the support of Peking, Hanoi and Pyongyang and probably will focus on Middle East and African delegates to spread the view their Southeast Asian neighbor is still under the British lion's paw.

One invidious Indonesian comparison: Use of British Gurkha troops in Borneo vs. employment of white mercenaries in the Congo.

STANDING ROOM ONLY: Look for a warm welcome for the Cleveland symphony in its remaining Moscow concerts and those of other Russian cities.

Thus far the Viet Nam situation which has put a shadow across Soviet-American relations hasn't touched the cultural front. But at the end of the week expect political propaganda to warm up with the Red Square ceremonies celebrating May Day.

Kremlin leaders are expected to loose new blasts against the United States.

BLENDED SCOTCH WHISKY, 80 PROOF, IMPORTED IN ORIGINAL CASKS BY McMASTER IMPORT CO., DETROIT, MICH.

A $7.00 Scotch for only $4.97?

What's the gimmick?

Here it is:

One fine day the McMASTER's people discovered that, simply by importing their Scotch whisky in barrels instead of bottles, they paid a lower tax—and saved their customers money.

Big tax savings, that's the reason McMASTER's comes to America only in barrels.

You'd expect to pay $7.00 for an imported Scotch with the flavor and mellowness of McMASTER's. But we save on taxes and other costs—so you pay only $4.97 a fifth. (Only $2.50 a tenth.)

Try McMASTER's—aged in the barrel, imported in the barrel, taxed in the barrel—and enjoy an honest-to-goodness $7.00 Scotch for only $4.97. (Tax included.)

A $6.50 Canadian for only $4.80?

Sure, McMASTER's gives you the same big tax savings on its fine imported Canadian whisky, too. (Tax included.)

Detroit Snaps Back From First Defeat With Fine Pitching

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Thanks to the Los Angeles Angels, the Detroit Tigers are still atop the American League standings. The Angels, who snapped Detroit's three-game unbeaten string 3-1 Saturday night, atoned for that event by giving the Tigers a 4-1 victory Sunday. It took Los Angeles 13 innings to accomplish this feat, however.

Three of Detroit's runs were unearned and only one Tiger batter was credited with an RBI—that on a sacrifice bunt.

The Tigers hope this generosity continues tonight as they meet the Angels in the third game of the series. Mickey Lolich (1-4) will oppose Marcelino Lopez (0-1) in a battle of southpaws.

Los Angeles had four rookies in the starting lineup and the game shaped up as a duel between post-grads of the Syracuse Chiefs and alumni from the Hawaii Islanders.

Detroit's interim manager Bob Swift started five of "the boys from Syracuse" in an attempt to get more batting power against rookie southpaw Rudy May.

HANDLES TIGERS

But May handled the "kids from Syracuse" and the rest of the Tigers, as if they really were kids.

He had a no-hitter until pinch-hitter Jake Wood doubled with one out in the eighth. In all, he allowed one run, one hit, walked five and struck out 10.

Detroit got good pitching, too, from a 20-year-old. Denny McLain gave up five hits in seven innings, including a 380-foot home run by a rookie third baseman named Paul Schaaf in the fifth.

The Angels protected that run until the eighth when Wood doubled and scored when the ground ball off the bat of pinch-hitter George Thomas bounced off second baseman Bobby Knoop's foot.

That's the way it stayed until the 13th.

George Brunet was the victim of his own error and lost his first against one win. Willie Horton and Jackie Moore started the rally with singles and Horton scored what proved to be the game-winning run on a passed ball by catcher Bob Rodgers.

Then Dick McAuliffe singled off Brunet's glove and Jim Northrup, running for Moore, scored when Brunet overthrew first base. McAuliffe took third on the play and scored on a squeeze bunt by Terry Fox.

State Athletes Lead the Way in Ohio Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Trackmen from Michigan broke three records and tied another in the annual Ohio State Relays Saturday.

Michigan State led the field with three first place finishes, Michigan on two events and Western Michigan took one.

Ernst Soudek hurled the discus a record 184 feet, 7 inches in winning the event for the second straight time — last year for Michigan and Saturday for the Ann Arbor Track Club.

Michigan State's 480 - yard shuttle hurdle relay team set a new meet mark with a flashing 1:00.2.

The Wolverines' George Canamare cleared the bar at 15 feet-5 inches in setting a relay record in the pole vault.

Western's Dennis Holland took top honors in the triple jump, out-distancing Jim Ten broad jump champion Jim Garrett of MSU. Clinton Jones and Gene Washington of MSU finished one-two in the 120-yard high hurdles.

The Wolverines matched the meet record of 3:12.5 in the mile relay.

AT KANSAS

At Lawrence, Kan., Eastern Michigan University won the two-mile college relay and placed fifth in the one-mile in the Kansas Relays Saturday. Both teams ran in school record times.

EM's team of Hildred Lewis, Larry Andrews, Terence Norman and George Mason won the two-mile in 7:32.8.

Krishnan Wins Crown

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — India's Ramanathan Krishnan skillfully dropped shots just over the net Sunday to tie and confuse Mike Belkin of Miami, Fla., and win the sixth annual Masters International Tennis Championship. The 28-year-old Krishnan, tennis champion of India since he was 16, downed the 19-year-old Belkin, a University of Miami student, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3.

'Claims' Spotlight for Kentucky Derby

NEW YORK (AP) — It's a new jump from a $7,500 claiming race to the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby but Flag Raiser will try to complete the lead May 1 at Churchill Downs after capping a three-stake victory string with a half-raising triumph in the $2,650 Wood Memorial.

Host Matmen Give Up Title

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Russ Camilleri, named outstanding competitor of the National AAU Freestyle Wrestling Championship Tournament, couldn't do enough to retain the team title for the San Francisco Olympic Club.

Camilleri went undefeated in winning the 171.5 pound division at the conclusion of the three-day tourney Saturday. But the host Olympic Club, five-time team champion, lost its crown to the Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland, Ore.

The champions in each weight division were:

114.5 pounds—Ray Salchick, unattached, of Cheyenne, Wyo. 121.5—Dick Sanders, Multnomah AC, Portland, Ore. 138.5—Chick Burke, San Francisco Olympic Club, 171.5—Russ Camilleri, Olympic Club. 191.5—Wayne Baughman, U.S. Air Force. 215.5—Jerry Collins, Multnomah, Heavyweight. Larry Krutell, Chicago-based W.C.

Watered Down Win

HANFORD, CALIF. (UPI)—Bobby Mills of Porterville, Calif., won the Cotton Picker 200 mile auto race yesterday despite a severe handicap—a crew member accidentally dumped two gallons of water into the gas tank of his car.

Strampe Shatters Pins in Tourney, Posts 300

The Greater Detroit Bowling Association's city tournament ended its classic division competition at 300 Bowl Saturday with Bob Strampe adding his personal touch of class.

Bowling as a member of the Lakepointe Chrysler team in the star-studded field, Strampe posted a 298 second game in a three-game 695 series in the doubles.

Leaving the 6-10 ended a string of 15 straight strikes across two games. The former National All-Star champion, though, didn't miss on his second chance for a 300.

Competing in the singles event, Strampe buried 12 balls for clean strikes in his second game. He finished with 682.

The latter placed him sixth in the singles behind the 726 winning total of Joe Foster, Pontiac. George Chiovolky of Pontiac was second with 723. Strampe, a Detroit, and partner Pat Stone did beat the Pontiac pair's doubles score with a 1233 total.

FOURTH PLACE

That was good only for fourth place, however. Detroiters Jack Born and Bob Hitt had 1359 to win. Chiovolky won the all-events title with 2056 as Strampe slumped in the team event to finish almost 100 pins behind.

Alexander Hornung won the team championship with its 3411 total of last weekend. Powerful Stroth's was the only team Saturday night to score well, taking over second place at 3183 as Mike Samardzija Jr., of Pontiac anchored its effort with 690.

The 300 Bowl team slipped to third place with 3063.

The GDBA's Masters Tournament also will be on the "300" lanes — which have had their first two perfect games this season — beginning Saturday.

The deadline for entries in the $4,000 Masters has been extended until Friday midnight and the blanks are available at "300."

Due to professional commitments, several top names (including Strampe) will not compete in the Masters, leaving a few more openings in the field of 200.

Ruling Aids Horseplayers

HAZEL PARK (UPI) — Horseplayers will benefit from a new ruling by the Michigan Racing Commission when the Hazel Park Race Course opens its 84-day thoroughbred meet next Monday.

The Commission has ruled "The stewards may scratch any horse whose recent workouts have not been properly reported. It shall be the trainer's responsibility to report such workouts."

In the past many horses have gone to the post without any workouts showing in their past performances in the Daily Racing Form. Often first starters have been entered with nothing more than their owner, trainer and breeding to guide bettors.

"We realized the bad effect on the public when one of these horses won at a short price," state steward Lewis Walter said. "And we hope that the new rule will sharply reduce or eliminate these cases."

Bosox Outfielder Avoiding Jinx

By United Press International
If Tony Conigliaro is suffering from the sophomore jinx, both he and the rest of the Boston Red Sox hope its a long, long illness.

Tony is batting at a .533 clip and, though the Bosox have played only four games so far, the strapping right fielder who waved such a dangerous bat as a rookie last year has already tagged two home runs and has six RBIs to his credit.

One of those circuit smashes and three of those runs batted in sparked the Sox to an 11-4 blitz of the Baltimore Orioles Sunday. Tony's homer came part of a four-run Bosox rally in the third inning and it sailed high and far over the 325-foot mark at Fenway Park. He came back in the fourth frame and drove in the decisive tally with a single, one of four hits in four trips.

Earl Wilson recorded his first victory of the young season for Boston. The Red Sox have won three of their four games and are tied for second place with Minnesota. Wally Bunker suffered the loss for the Birds.

OTHER AL GAMES

The Minnesota Twins blasted the Cleveland Indians 6-3, the New York Yankees lashed the Kansas City Athletics 10-4, and the Washington Senators clipped Chicago 4-1 in the second game of a doubleheader after the White Sox had won the opener 5-1.

HALL SPARKS TWINS

Jimmie Hall's two-run homer off Ralph Terry provided the spark that led the Twins over Cleveland. Sturdy relief, pitching by Dave Boswell earned him his first victory of the season, while Terry suffered the defeat, which evened his record at 1-1.

Jim Bouton hurled a six-hit en route to his first triumph of the season for the Yankees. Mickey Mantle hit his second homer as Kansas City pitcher Moe Drabowski picked up his second defeat without a victory.

Rookie left fielder Danny Cater went four for four in the first game as he eased the way for Chisox flipper Gary Peters to his second victory of the season. Cater had three singles and a double to figure in all five Chicago runs.

The Nats took advantage of southpaw Pete Richert's effective relief pitching to win the second game. Richert held the White Sox to six hits and contributed some timely hitting while posting his first victory of the season.

Washington broke a scoreless tie in the fifth on two singles and an error. Richert drove in the tie-breaker with a clutch single after Don Lock reached first base on Pete Ward's error and moved to third on a single by Doug Camilli.

Philadelphia hasn't had a 20-game winner since Robin Roberts compiled a 23-14 record in 1955. It was his sixth straight season of 20 victories or better.

Philippine President Warns Against Withdrawing U.S. Bases

MANILA (AP) — President Diosdado Macapagal declared today the United States should keep its military bases in the Philippines and warned that withdrawal would "play into the hands of the Communists."

"As everybody knows, the Communists have been advocating, in and outside the United Nations, the elimination of American bases scattered all over the globe," Macapagal told The Associated Press in an exclusive interview.

"It is unfortunate that some opposition leaders have advocated such a step, but this does not reflect popular opinion or the official view of the Philippine government."

Recent incidents involving American bases here have touched off demands for removal.

al of the military installations and the recall of U.S. Ambassador William McCormick Blair Jr.

FILIPINOS KILLED

U.S. guards killed two Filipinos on the bases last winter, prompting protest rallies and attacks against the United States in the Philippine press.

A World War II Japanese mortar shell was thrown into the American schoolyard at Clark Base while 750 children were inside. Blair set off a furor with a statement that two Filipinos had tried unsuccessfully to bomb the school.

Shooting incidents involving Filipinos led in 1956 to negotiations to revise the U.S.-Philippine military bases agreement. The negotiations have never been completed, but Macapagal said discussions are still going on.

"There are no irritants and misunderstandings between us that could not be resolved with satisfaction to both sides, the president said.

CURRENT TALKS

"The current talks to revise the military bases agreement are intended to promote this end."

Here is the text of the interview:

Q — The United States and the Philippines long have enjoyed cordial relations, but there have been indications of strain in recent times. Do you think that recent incidents which have aroused public protest have done any damage to these relations?

A — No, I don't think that recent incidents have done any damage to Philippine-American relations. So deep and abiding is the friendship and affinity of ideals between our two peoples that honest differences of opinion cannot possibly undermine it. As has been demonstrated so often in the past, there are no irritants and misunderstandings between us that could not be resolved with satisfaction to both sides. The current talks to revise the military bases agreement are intended to promote this end.

U.S. WITHDRAWAL

Q — Do you believe the United States should withdraw from its bases in the Philippines?

A — Definitely no. The Philippines has never asked for the withdrawal of American bases in the Philippines. To do so would be to play into the hands of the Communists. As everybody knows the Communists have been advocating, in and outside the United Nations, the elimination of American bases scattered all over the globe. It is unfortunate that some opposition leaders have advocated such a step but this does not reflect popular opinion or the official view of the Philippine government.

Q — The Philippines obviously has an abiding interest in what happens in Southeast Asia and specifically to Indochina. How do you view current American policy with regard to the war in Indochina, particularly with regard to the bombing attacks on North Viet Nam?

A — Undoubtedly the Philippines views with serious concern the present situation in Viet Nam. This is a situation that poses a serious threat to our security in this part of the world. As a SEATO member and American ally in the United States-Philippines mutual defense treaty and as an immediate neighbor, the Philippines has a great stake in what is going on in Viet Nam. It is for this reason that the Philippine government has decided to extend aid to that beleaguered country as a manifestation of our good will and of our determination to resist Communist aggression in the area. The American decision to bomb Viet Cong bases inside North Viet Nam seems to have been dictated by the desire to stop Red reinforcements into South Viet Nam. Adequate response must have to be made if further provocations from the other side are to be halted. The bombing attacks are an indication of American determination to stay in Viet Nam until the latter's safety from Communist aggression is assured, a development which has heartened the free nations of Southeast Asia.

Q — The avowed intention of Indonesia to crush Malaysia seems to pose a threat of yet another dangerous crisis for Southeast Asia. Do you foresee any immediate danger, and how do you assess the policies of the United States and Britain with regard to Malaysia and Indonesia?

A — For the present I do not see any immediate danger with regard to Indonesia's "crush Malaysia" policy. I still maintain the belief that the two countries could come to a peaceful settlement of their dispute. On our part we have bent every effort towards the attainment of that end. Without discounting the beneficial influence that the great powers, particularly the United States and the United Kingdom, can lend towards this end, it is felt that the solution that will commend itself to the contending parties is one within the context of an Asian solution. Modesty aside, I feel that the Afro-Asian conciliation commission which I proposed to President Sukarno and Prime Minister Rahman in Tokyo last June affords a practical approach to this problem.

Q — There once were hopes that a Maphilindo arrangement linking Malaysia, the Philippines and Indonesia would help lead to lessened tensions in Southeast Asia. Do you still en-certain hopes of some such arrangement? A — Maphilindo is a valid and workable idea. Given the necessary support and good will, it could contribute not only towards the strengthening of relations between countries inhabited by peoples of the same racial stock but also towards the strengthening of the fabric of peace and freedom among all our neighbors in this part of the world.

Vigil Maintained at the White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A few of young people maintained their White House vigil in a chill rain today, protesting U.S. policies in Viet Nam.

"We're going to stay here until President Johnson sees us or refuses to see us," said Stephen Thomas, 20, of Superior, Wis., a student at North Carolina State University.

About a dozen pickets continued the protest on the Pennsylvania Avenue sidewalk during the wet, chilly morning.

Johnson was at his Texas ranch. He is expected to return to Washington today or Tuesday.

Most of the pickets stood silently, holding signs which called for an end to the war in Viet Nam. One girl knelt on a soggy blanket, holding a dove of peace cut from cardboard.

There were almost as many policemen as pickets.

Through the night, pickets marched the sidewalk while others huddled under blankets beside the White House fence.

Saturday, upwards of 15,000 student demonstrators marched around the White House, held a rally and walked up the Mall to the Capitol to petition Congress for an end to the Viet Nam fighting — by negotiations or any other possible means.

MARKS START
The sponsors of the rally, a group called Students for a Democratic Society, said it marked the start of a national protest movement against U.S. policy in Viet Nam. SDS calls itself a left-wing, non-Communist group and is an outgrowth of the League for Industrial Democracy.

Many other organizations, including pacifist and civil rights groups, took part.

In Texas, sympathy protesters gathered about 1 1/2 miles from the LBJ Ranch where President Johnson was spending the weekend. After standing silently about 11 hours they called off the demonstration Sunday without having presented their appeal to the President.

At the Sylvan Theater on the Washington Monument grounds, tourists enjoying the brilliant Easter weekend sunshine swelled the crowd for the early afternoon rally past the 25,000 mark.

The main speaker, Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, denounced what he called U.S. fumbling and bumbling in Viet Nam and said the administration should halt bombing of North Viet Nam at once and press for a cease-fire.

The biggest applause came when SDS President Paul Peter, a 26-year-old graduate of Ohio College, said: "I would rather see Viet Nam bombed than see the ruin that American domination has brought."

At the Capitol, police estimated the crowd in late afternoon at 18,000. When 100 of the marchers tried to attach petitions to a Capitol door, police blocked them. Four demonstrators flopped to the broad cement terrace in a brief protest, but about 15 minutes later the crowd broke up, leaving them there.

2 Tots Abandoned in Church on Easter

NEW YORK (AP)—A neatly dressed man with a young girl and a still younger boy, both in Easter finery, showed up in the rectory of a Brooklyn church.

A maid went to call the pastor. When they returned they found only the two children, and a note:

"I'm sorry," it read. "I love you both. I'll miss you so. I love you, Debbie and Chris. I'm sorry daddy has to do this to you."

They identified himself as Charles Miller, 23, a truck driver. He was charged with abandonment and held in a cell for arraignment. The father said he and his wife had separated.

Debbie and her brother Chris, 2, were taken to a children's shelter.

Thousands Around Globe Hear Easter Pleas for World Peace

By The Associated Press

An Easter theme of peace echoed around the world today. It was sounded on a windy hill in Korea, at an outdoor Mass in St. Peter's Square in the Vatican City and in a tiny Episcopal church in the small central Texas town of Blanco.

The serenity and joy of Easter Sunday prevailed in the traditional Easter parades, topped by colorful ones in New York, Atlantic City and Philadelphia. In Korea, some 200 American servicemen and 50 Korean orphans knelt before a white wooden cross on White Cross Hill to say Easter prayers for eternal peace.

A half-million persons braved a cold wind and rain in St. Peter's Square to hear the annual Easter message of Pope Paul VI at an outdoor Mass.

The 67-year-old pontiff, in a plea clearly aimed at the fighting in Viet Nam, urged a negotiated end to "every war and guerrilla operation."

He asked for rejoicing on the Christian feast day commemorating the resurrection of Christ. He said it should be a time of optimism, inspiring the world toward peace and justice, and the desire "of a new start in the history of man."

President Johnson and the First Lady heard a sermon dealing solely with the Easter theme by the lay vicar of St. Michaels and All the Angels Church in Blanco, Tex.

EASTER MESSAGE

Vicar Edwin A. Thayer urged in his sermon: "Let us see if we cannot put more into this Easter message than a pretty new hat or a pretty new suit."

The sermon was put into a single sentence capsule:

"The three-fold Easter message is God rules, Jesus lives, God loves, and it is proclaimed anew in the cry, He is risen."

While Johnson was in Texas, demonstrators called off an Easter vigil an hour early Sunday afternoon after failing in their attempt to present personally to the President a petition protesting U.S. action in Viet Nam. They had stood in silent protest near the LBJ Ranch for 11 hours Saturday and Sunday.

Ban-the-bomb rallies in various West German cities turned into demonstrations of solidarity with American students who picketed the White House Sunday to protest the U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

WEST BERLINER

Tens of thousands of West Berliners streamed to East Berlin to spend Easter Sunday with their loved ones whom the Communists do not allow to visit the West.

In Russiaville, Ind., weary worshippers gave thanks on Easter Sunday that "He moved among us, not in destruction, but in preservation of lives." Most of the 150 Methodists were refugees of the disastrous Palm Sunday tornadoes which leveled Russiaville, a central Indiana farming community of 1,200, and killed three persons.

The big Easter parade along New York's Fifth Avenue drew thousands of city residents and tourists. The informal march produced a rainbow of colors. The women's hats were of every color and shape.

Junior Colleges Need Women Teachers

By LESLIE J. NASON, E.D. D.
More women teachers may be the answer to the fast-growing teacher shortage in junior colleges.
Speaking to the 45th annual convention of the American Association of Junior Colleges in Dallas, Tex., Roger H. Harrison, vice president of Briarcliff College, Briarcliff Manor, N.Y., made this prediction:
"The best conservative estimate of the number of two-year college teachers needed by 1970 is in the neighborhood of 100,000 more than are now instructing. This is a staggering figure and is also realistic and an underestimation of the need."

To meet this demand, educators will have to find a large new source of supply. The educated women of the country appear to be the best source.
In a pamphlet entitled, "Wanted: More Women in Educational Leadership," published January, 1965 by the National Council of Administrative Women in Education, a department of the National Education Association, one chapter was devoted to the topic, "Why not more women on college and university faculties?"

INTERESTED IN WOMEN
It quoted the NEA Research Division with the statement, "The interest in qualified women is found in all types of institutions. Only 1 in 5 failed to indicate one or more fields in which a larger supply of women would be welcome."
Despite the opportunities, the percentage of women teaching in junior colleges has diminished over the past 20 years.

As qualifications for college teaching have increased, women have understandably hesitated to spend, or perhaps borrow, money for the gaining of additional degrees. They apparently have not wanted to assume financial burdens which they might have to pass on to husbands in the future.
The project would require a minimum number of hours away from home during the very time of day when the homemaker's children were in school.
Additional graduate training needed is also increasingly available on a part-time basis. New provisions are contemplated in the National Defense Student Loan Program which would take part-time school enrollment, as well as part-time employment, into consideration. The roles of junior colleges and community colleges are rapidly expanding to cover continuing education for adults. Much of this is carried on through evening classes. A constantly increasing number of part-time teachers will be needed.

Walter Malow of New York has been overbidding for at least the 35 years that I have played with and against him. Not that I disapprove of overbidding, I have been doing it myself since the first day I played.
JACOB When he held today's Regency Whist Club, he rebid to three spades after his partner's jump to three hearts with every intention of taking strong action later. However, his partner took full command and went to seven spades without giving Walter any chance to show his slight extra values.

trouble but Walter stopped to see what he could do against a 4-2 heart break. He saw that there would be no play to make the hand if East held four hearts but if West held four hearts the grand slam could still be made and he would not have to jeopardize the chance of making it against the even heart break.
Here is the unusual play Walter made. At trick three he cashed his ace of diamonds. Then he ran off dummy's three top hearts and discarded his last two diamonds. His next play was to ruff a diamond with a high trump. Then he led a low trump and won with dummy's eight.
A heart was ruffed with his other high trump. His last trump was led and won by dummy's ten. Then he pulled the last trump with dummy's ace and the two remaining hearts were good.

Crystal Lake Still Thankful Despite Memory of Killer Twisters

CRYSTAL LAKE, Ill. (AP) — Residents of this tornado-torn town north of Chicago spent Easter weekend counting their blessings, despite stark reminders of the Palm Sunday twisters that killed five persons and left $10 million damage.

The banging of hammers and the voices of mothers warning their children not to swing on hanging beams were the only unusual sounds in the area a week after the disaster.

The residents told why they were thankful. Mobile homes have been donated to homeless victims. Food and clothing from all over the country have poured into bustling emergency centers.

VACATIONING STUDENTS

Vacationing high school and college students from many northern Illinois communities have helped clear the debris. President Johnson has declared the county a disaster area and residents are eligible for low interest loans to cover uninsured losses.

The state has sent heavy equipment to clear the rubble. State police have taken posts to guard against looting.

Many of the damaged homes in the Colby development were covered by tornado insurance included in mortgage arrangements.

One homeless man said: "You can't insure those personal things and when you're paying off a mortgage they're all the harder to replace. I am just glad my family won't collect my life insurance yet."

LONG TIME

The rebuilding will take a long time, said James Berning, 41, who was in his bathtub when the twister ripped the roof off his house.

"The whole thing lasted only 30 seconds, but it was worse than a freight train going through the house," he said.

Mrs. Eldon Chewing burst into tears when she told of the kindness bestowed upon the community of 8,500 since the twister.

Mrs. Chewing said a grocery store contributed Easter food baskets. New diapers were given for her baby. A photographer promised to reprint all of her pictures lost in the wind.

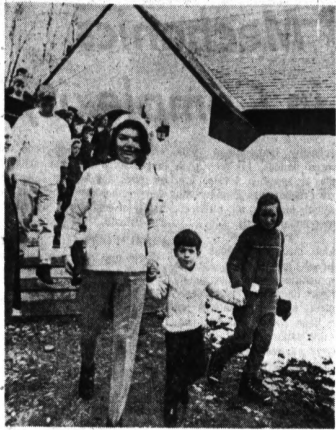

DAUGHTER YELLED

"I remember my daughter Clara, 8, yelling, 'Mommy, mommy, why has God done this to us,'" she said. "The next thing I knew I was standing outside without having taken a step."

A small sign, which looked as if it had been printed by a child, revealed much about the community's determination to rebuild.

Placed in front of a house reduced to rubble, it read: "The Swansons lived here. They still do."

KENNEDYS AT EASTER SERVICE — Mrs. John F. Kennedy leaves Easter service held in Chapel of the Snows at Stratton Mountain ski area, Stratton, Vt., yesterday. She holds the hand of John Jr., 4, who walks with Courtney Kennedy, 8, a daughter of Sen. and Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy.

Egypt Asks $500 Million in 3-Year American Aid

CAIRO (UPI) — Egypt has asked for more than $500 million in American aid over the next three years, hoping to avert severe strain on the country's economy, informed sources said yesterday.

But the sources said the United States would definitely not commit itself to more than a one-year aid program and has not yet decided on a specific amount.

President Johnson now has discretion of whether to halt or continue the aid program. It was given to him after the U.S. House of Representatives in January voted to cut off further aid under the existing three-year program that expires June 30.

Concern that U. S. aid might be cut off completely developed after a Cairo mob burned the John F. Kennedy Library on Thanksgiving Day and President Gamal Abdel Nasser, in a Dec. 23 speech, invited the United States to "go drink sea water" if it did not like his policies.

He made the remark after charging the United States had withheld $35 million in aid for political reasons.

WHEAT SUPPLY

Sources expected that about $37 million worth of help under the still-existing program, mainly wheat supplies, would be released shortly.

The aid program was believed to have been a prime topic of discussion last week between Egyptian officials and Philip Talbot, U. S. Assistant Secretary of State for Middle East Affairs. Talbot left Cairo yesterday.

In an unrelated development yesterday, Egypt ordered a drastic reduction in individual roundtrip air excursion fares between New York and Arab Middle East points by April 26. Egypt is in bitter competition with Israel for American tourist business.

Duluth Marks Opening of Shipping Season
DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Duluth celebrated the opening of its 1965 shipping season Sunday night when the U.S. Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw led a convoy of six ore carriers across Lake Superior and into the Duluth harbor.

The Duluth Chamber of Commerce and the Superior, Wis., Association of Commerce presented the Mackinaw with a plaque for being the first ship through the aerial lift bridge into the harbor.

Singing Gets Actress Noticed

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Sexy Joi Lansing took up singing a few years ago during the actors strike and now she's a top night club act.

"I just had to look for a temporary means of support," recalls the well-endowed blonde. "I had never sung professionally in my life but I figured: Why not?"

"So now I'm making more money than I ever have in my life and finally getting noticed here in Hollywood, my home town."

She's been so busy on the saloon circuit that she hasn't had time for movies. But Frank Sinatra, an old friend, asked her to play Dean Martin's swinging secretary in "Marriage on the Rocks."

She's the type of secretary who doesn't use shorthand because it takes her longer than longhand — but she does know how to mix a martini.

"Since I've been singing in clubs," says Joi, "producers have started to look at me differently."

Some of her gowns may have had something to do with that. When she opened in a New York club recently, she wore a gown cut below the navel. Miss Lansing, for the statistical minded, measures 32-33-35.

"I'm more sure of my singing now," she says. "So I'm wearing high-necked gowns from now on."

One Washington critic, catching her act at the Shoreham, admitted that he just turned out for a night of girl watching.

"I was completely taken by surprise," he wrote. "Miss Lansing can sing."

She just cut her first record album — a group of songs written especially for her by composer Jimmie Haskell and actress Stella Stevens, no mean looker herself.

"Talk about surprises," says Joi. "Most actresses usually fight you in this town but Stella heard me sing and called me up to tell me that she was writing some songs especially for me. Her lyrics are just beautiful."

"Singing," says Joi, "is like lovemaking. You never know whether you will be good at it until you try it. If it hadn't been for a strike and some overdue bills, I never would have ventured out."

"Now, I'm seeing the world and getting paid more money than I ever dreamed existed for doing so."

Transformer Hit by Wayward Robin

DETROIT (AP)—A chorus of burglar alarms rang in Easter Sunday at 7:30 a.m. in a group of Detroit suburbs.

A harbinger of spring — the robin — apparently was responsible and lost its life.

Wayne County Sheriff James Spalding, out driving, said he saw the robin fall dead from a high voltage transformer. An instant before, Spalding said he saw a flash and puff of smoke, indicating a short circuit that set off alarms in business places.

Church Votes on Plan to Accept All Races
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Members of St. Thomas Protestant Episcopal Church vote tonight on a proposal to accept members of any race for the first time since it was founded in 1796.

"I'd be the most embarrassed person in the whole world if the vote doesn't go the right way," said the Rev. Jesse F. Anderson, an active civil rights worker and pastor of the all-Negro church.

Mail a Little Slow

OUR MORTGAGE LOANS
Are Tailored to Fit YOUR NEEDS

Perhaps the most important financial decision you will make is the mortgage you select for your new home. It involves:

THE KIND OF LOAN THE AMOUNT YOU NEED
THE LENGTH OF TIME WHERE TO OBTAIN IT

The right kind of Mortgage can do so much toward the enjoyment of owning your own home.

So, if you are about to buy or build . . . stop in at any one of our eight offices and talk with one of our friendly representatives. His years of experience and counseling can help you . . . just as we have helped thousands of others to buy or build . . . with the proper planning. We have a home mortgage to fit your future.

Filipino Is Nailed to Cross

MANILA (AP) — A Filipino was nailed to a wooden cross last Thursday in Pangasinan Province, north of Manila.

The Manila Times reported that the man hung on the cross for about half an hour. Then companions took him down.

The event was witnessed by a crowd of men, women and children.

The man was not identified, but the newspaper said he was in his early 30s.

He said it was the fourth time in as many years he had done it.

He said his recovery from an incurable disease prompted him "to go through all that Christ went through."

Students Quiet at Florida Stay

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UP) — The 1965 invasion of Daytona Beach by college students has been a peaceful one. Only 800 of the kids had been arrested as the vacationing horde rose today to a peak of some 40,000.

Police Chief Oscar Folsom, who called in 300 officers from other communities to beef up his own force, said the beer-drinking, sun-worshipping college crowd had been better behaved than ever before.

Last year, 2,100 of the students found their way into jail and the city collected about $50,000 in fines and forfeitures.

The Daytona Morning Journal says this year's visitors an "A for Conduct."

Ray Hull, chief lieguard on the 20-mile long Fort Lauderdale beach, said "We're about a foot deep in beer cans" but there had been no really serious lawbreaking.

GROUP GROWS
Some 35,000 students had hit the beach by Good Friday and the number increased today as students arrived from Fort Lauderdale, once the favorite gathering place of the collegians.

The visitors will start drifting out today and by the end of the week it will be all over. Airlines were booked up solidly throughout the week.

Crusading Scribe Dies
WASHINGTON (AP) — Gardner Jackson, 68, newspaperman, public official and union executive, died Saturday. Jackson had been characterized "the champion of lost causes" for his crusades in behalf of such causes as Sacco and Vanzetti, the Southern sharecroppers, Spanish loyalists, American Indians and the bonus marchers.

Averts Crash Into Bathers

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A pilot whose plane's propeller fell off ditched the light craft safely in the sea 100 yards off the crowded downtown beach — then came ashore on a surfboard.

Arthur E. Storm, 52, dressed in his dripping business suit, told police Sunday he was flying from Palomar to Compton in Southern California when, he said, "all of a sudden there was a snap" and the propeller disappeared.

Storm guided the craft past the beach, crowded with Easter weekend bathers.
BOAT NEARBY
He was in the water only a minute when a nearby powerboat reached him and he climbed aboard.

But Laguna Beach doesn't have a pier and Storm didn't want to get too far away from his airplane.
So a lifeguard paddled out on his rescue surfboard, Storm climbed on and glided to shore.

Hearings Slated on Auto and Tire Safety Measures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said today the Senate Commerce Committee will hold hearings on his automobile and tire safety bills on May 25 and 26.

The auto and tire industries were urged by Nelson to use hearings to support reasonable legislation which would help the public and reduce highway deaths.

"The alternative to uniform federal regulation is a maze of state laws which could be costly, confusing and of far less value to the general public," Nelson said.

Bills proposed by Nelson would set up a federal program of tire testing, ban the sale of tires found to be unsafe, require all tires to be graded and labeled and require all new cars to incorporate certain safety features which the federal government now requires on cars bought by the government.

An Ageless Cosmopolite Squires Queenly American

NEW YORK — Gay Boulevard Maurice Chevalier, 77, escorted Jackie Kennedy down El Morocco's famous stairway, hand-in-hand, the other morning after they'd had supper in the Champagne Room with Jackie's sister and brother-in-law, the Radzivils, Jackie, a dedicated Francophile, went backstage earlier at the Alvin to congratulate Chevalier on his one-man show.

Monique Van Vooren, "the Bulging Belgian," asked Hollywood Atty. Mickey Rudin to get an injunction halting use of pictures of her on a calendar. The photo, she says, has gone to China, and somebody forged her name — even misspelled it — on a release. Oddly, Monique wasn't made in the pictures.

"It was wearing a high-necked nightgown . . . true, it was transparent . . . but I was completely comely," Monique says. "Compared to some girls' pictures lately, I was dressed like an Eskimo."

Many Firms Seek Qualified Negroes

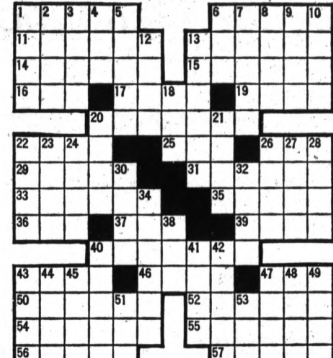

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Major corporations are now competing to hire highly qualified Negroes they once shunned, according to Robert Taylor Jr., executive vice chairman of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity.

Taylor said in an interview during the weekend that there has been a pronounced trend against job discrimination in major firms for the past three years.

He said a combination of pressure and persuasion by the committee had led to a definite increase in the hiring and promotion of Negroes and other minority group workers.

The humidity of furnace air in the winter time can be as low as 8 to 12 per cent — while the Sahara Desert averages 25 per cent.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Egg Hunt Submerged

EDMONDS, Wash. (AP) — Edmonds police were baffled last weekend when they were flooded with calls from residents who reported seeing strange underwater lights moving about off a ferry dock.

The mystery was finally solved by patrolman Norm Sedor, who reported the lights were manned by members of the Marker Buoys Diving Club of nearby Seattle.

They were holding an underwater Easter egg hunt.

Picknicker Forgot Family Picnic Spot

LYNDHURST, England (UPI) — A motorist walked into the local police station yesterday and asked, "Can you help me find my family . . . I can't remember where I put them?"

The embarrassed man explained he left his wife and daughter at a picnic spot in the area while he drove to town, but he couldn't find them. Police helped out with a list of local picnic areas and the family was reunited a few hours later.

2,500 Easter Baskets for Tornado Victims

By The Associated Press
Red Cross volunteer workers brightened up the Easter holiday for southern Michigan's tornado victims Sunday, distributing more than 2,500 baskets of toys to young victims.

Leaves for several military men with relatives in the ravaged areas were requested, Red Cross officials said.

Soviet Leader Denounces U.S. Use of Chemicals in Viet Nam

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin warned the United States today that the use of napalm and phosphorus bombs and gas in Viet Nam "may invite retaliation in kind."

Kosygin made the remark during a bitter attack on American policy in South Viet Nam which he said was "fraught with unforeseen consequences."

Kosygin, speaking at a Soviet-Mongolian friendship rally for visiting Mongolian President Yumzhagin Tsedenbal, denounced the use of napalm and phosphorus bombs and what he called "poison gases" by anti-Communist forces in South Viet Nam.

"Excuses that poison gases were used in Viet Nam without White House sanction only aggravates our anxiety," he said.

OTHER TYPES

"Can the American militarists, of their own will, use any other type of arms?"

"If this is really so, then such a situation is fraught with unforeseen consequences."

"It should be borne in mind that today the United States has no monopoly on modern types of weapons."

"The use of aggressors of these or other means of warfare may invite retaliation in kind."

DENIED USE

The United States has denied that it has used poison gas in South Viet Nam. It says it has furnished the South Vietnamese nonlethal riot control cases like tear gas.

"The mounting danger and war tension have their logical background," Kosygin said.

"By escalating the war against Socialist Viet Nam, the United States is approaching a dangerous deadline, step by step."

The Soviet premier also referred in his speech to an agreement for further Soviet military aid to the Hanoi regime concluded during talks here last week with North Vietnamese Communist party leader Le Duan.

The agreement, published in a weekend communique here, contained a Soviet pledge to send Soviet volunteers to Viet Nam.

Kosygin made no mention of the question of volunteers or of the Soviet pledge to send them if the United States "aggression" against North Viet Nam is intensified, if the North Vietnamese request them, and if there was a "case of necessity."

Kosygin's remarks came after reports from Viet Nam that construction work has been spotted around Hanoi on what appear to be missile sites.

The discovery prompted speculation in the West that the Soviets were on the verge of setting up Soviet-manned anti-aircraft missiles on these sites.

Kosygin's reference to "modern weapons" and "retaliation in kind" were interpreted here as possible veiled allusions to the stationing of Soviet missiles in Viet Nam.

The premier seconded Vietnamese demands that the United States halt its air attacks on North Viet Nam and withdraw its troops from the South as a condition for peace talks.

He noted that American leaders speak simultaneously of seeking a peaceful settlement of the Viet Nam conflict and of their determination to carry the war to the end.

"This is not the way to settle the Vietnamese problem," Kosygin said. "Vague promises and contradictory pronouncements will not settle the matter."

Thief Finds Help Handy

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Two policemen, looking for a prowler around a two-story business building early Sunday, heard a call for help.

They peered down the chimney from the roof and saw Matthew Moore, 29, lodged 15 to 20 feet below.

Firemen chopped through an inside wall and the chimney to reach Moore and drag him out. He is held now under $1,500 bond on a charge of attempted burglary.

The Internal Revenue Service processes about 400 million reports a year and the Social Security Administration handles 300 million, a government committee studying paperwork has reported.

EASTER MORNING — Arriving at Christ Church Cranbrook for the morning service is the family of Henry Whiting Jr. of 783 Half Moon, Birmingham. Hurrying to the walk with their parents are Gordon and Mary while young Henry III persuades his dad to carry him.

Thousands Fill Churches, Rejoice on Easter Morn

Church Editor, The Pontiac Press

Triumphant hallelujahs for the risen Christ rang out from choir lofts and congregations as worshippers filled Pontiac area churches Easter morning.

The story of the Resurrection was told in song and sermons to overflowing crowds throughout the day.

Before altars banked with gleaming white lilies and other flowers given in memory of loved ones, pastors baptised infants, youths and adults, and received new members into church fellowship.

In all Episcopal churches, there was the celebration of Holy Communion.

The day dawned with overcast skies and frosty temperatures but at noon clouds parted and the sun peeped through to shine brilliantly the rest of the day.

Religious services began in Roman Catholic churches with parishioners attending Midnight Mass. At dawn worshippers arrived for sunrise services.

Thousands of Protestant young people in Pontiac and Oakland County churches conducted sunrise services. These were usually followed by an Easter breakfast.

FAMILIAR ANTHEMS
Members of senior, junior and childrens choirs raised their voices in familiar anthems as "Christ the Lord is Risen," "Know That My Redeemer Liveth" and the "Hallelujah Chorus."

Rev. Lenworth R. Miner, pastor of Macedonia Baptist Church, said in his morning sermon, "Easter Day is a challenge to us to face our most fundamental problem—the meaning of life."

"Our fear and God's power meet at Easter," he said.

"If we read the Holy Week story with sympathy, we can see in sin that haunts us; the fears that corner us, were also experienced by the disciples."

'EXULTATION'
At St. Benedict's Catholic Church the Rev. Robert J. Kilcayne, assistant pastor, said "Easter Day is a day of exultation and rejoicing. Although it is celebrated but once a year, its spirit should continue throughout the year."

Rev. Carl G. Adams, pastor of First Methodist, told his congregation "If Christ had lived only as a king and been condemned unjustly to be crucified on the cross, the Resurrection would not have been a reality."

"Death on the cross in the days of Jesus was not uncommon,"

Senate to View Vote for Teens

LANSING (AP) — The 18-year-old vote, a fresh topic amidst the old standbys of this legislative year, comes up for Senate debate tonight at the start of a three-day, precess work-week.

At issue is a proposed constitutional amendment which would lower the minimum voting age from 21 to 18.

The question was only briefly debated before reported out by the Senate Judiciary Committee last week.

It is one of several lower-the-age amendments up for legislative consideration this year, but goes the farthest of any. Other proposals would lower the age to 19 or 20, or lower it only for high school graduates.

With both political parties on record in favor of a lower voting age, chances appear good for Senate passage of the measure, although it must win two-third approval. If each house favors the amendment, it would go to a vote of the people, probably in November 1968.

Major House business this week could affect how many 18-year-olds would be voting in the distant future. The topic is birth control.

COMPANION BILLS
Parliamentary controls last week cut short action on companion bills which would provide for state agencies to disseminate birth control information.

Principal questions are to whom such information could be given and how much initiative government could take in the matter.

The House also has on its calendar a package of seven traffic safety bills including one that would make more strict the rules under which a license is suspended for point system violations.

The Senate virtually cleaned off its calendar Thursday, leaving it unlikely that much of importance besides possibly the 18-year-old measure will be passed this month.

RECESS SLATED
The legislature will recess from April 22 through May 2 while majority and minority leaders of each house join Gov. George Romney and 50 Michigan businessmen on a trade-promotion tour of Europe.

The major legislative decisions still before Romney are whether to sign or veto the four-year voter registration bill and the senior citizens property tax exemptions plan.

Air Crash Kills 3 From Romeo

A prominent Romeo industrialist and two members of his family were killed yesterday afternoon when their light plane crashed near Altona, Pa.

Pennsylvania State Police identified the victims as Fred A. Cole, 52, of 397 W. St. Clair, Romeo; his 36-year-old wife, Oma; and 10-year-old daughter, Shirley.

Cole, who also had a Detroit address, was president of Interstate Manufacturing Corp., a plastics firm with plants in Bruce and Washington townships.

The twin-engine Beechcraft Bonanza, piloted by Cole, came down in a field near Lakemont, a small town between Altona and Hollidaysburg.

Police said the plane, which was totally demolished, narrowly missed hitting a house as it plunged to the ground. According to Interstate officials, the Cole family had been visiting a son, Donald, at a Rhode Island naval training base.

Cole radioed the Philipsburg, Pa., airport at 2:30 p.m. that he was en route from Providence, R.I. to Detroit. He did not report any trouble at that time, and the cause of the crash has not yet been determined. Wreckage of the aircraft was scattered over a wide area surrounding a five-foot crater made by the crash.

Icy Flood Waters Continue to Ravage Five-State Area

By The Associated Press
Churning flood waters slapped against dikes, made murky ponds of thousands of acres of farmland and relentlessly rolled through countless homes in five states today.

Workers sandbagged and kept an around the clock vigil at dikes along the Mississippi River from the Twin Cities in Minnesota to Cairo, Ill., as the high, icy water menaced levees.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said some of the rivers had crested and were receding. The Mississippi began dropping in Hannibal, Mo., after coming to within 2 feet of the record 24.1 feet set in 1947. Last weekend the river had fallen to 22.9 feet.

A broken levee near Quincy, Ill., flooded from 7,000 to 11,000 acres of farmland Saturday night. The break eased some of the pressure against other levees down river.

The Weather Bureau said the river will begin rising again, swelled by waters of flooded rivers in Minnesota.

The governors of Illinois and Missouri — Otto Kerner and Warren E. Hearnes — planned an aerial inspection of flooded regions today. The broken levee sent hundreds of persons in search of shelter.

Residents of two East Moline, Ill., housing projects have moved out. Rock Island, Ill., was untouched behind a new seawall, but sandbagging and earth-moving operations continued in Moline, East Moline, Rock Island and Davenport, Iowa.

300 GUARDSMEN
More than 300 National Guardsmen patrolled river points in western Illinois yesterday as the first of an expected 5,500 evacuees began leaving their homes.

In Minnesota, the Mississippi and St. Croix rivers in St. Paul and Stillwater leveled off after the communities had battled the overflow for a week.

Joseph Strub, river expert for the Weather Bureau, said the 26-foot level of the Mississippi recorded late Friday in St. Paul appears to have been the crest. The river had backed off to 25.40 feet yesterday.

Downstream, Wabasha, a community of 2,500, is surrounded by water. About one-third of the population has been evacuated.

9 MILES OF DIKES
Winona, a city of 25,000, is braced behind nine miles of dikes 25 feet high awaiting a record 21.5-foot crest Tuesday. If the dikes burst, 80 per cent of the city will be under water.

Gov. Karl Rolvaag's office estimated damage at $40 million and the Red Cross said 21,000 individuals were homeless in Minnesota.

In Chaska, only the roofs of some of the 350 waterlogged houses were above the water.

In Wisconsin, Gov. Warren P. Knowles said he was prepared to ask President Johnson for federal disaster aid.

LOSS TREMENDOUS

"The loss of property, both private and public, is just simply tremendous," Knowles said. "And I'm satisfied the damage more than qualifies us for assistance." Knowles said preliminary estimates of public property loss is $7 million.

La Crosse, city of 47,000 is cut in half by flood water.

In Iowa, Dubuque expected a record crest of 24 to 25 feet on the Mississippi by Friday.

Construction was pushed on a mile-long dike in Clinton, where flood waters could inundate 150 blocks.

U.S. Planes Make Bombing and Strafing Attacks in the North

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist gunners shot down two U. S. Army helicopters today and damaged another, killing nine Americans.

The helicopters were hit by small arms fire as they were shooting up suspected Viet Cong positions prior to a helicopter assault by Vietnamese troops 10 miles north of Qui Nhon.

Two of the helicopters exploded when they hit the ground. All eight Americans — four officers and four gunners — in the two aircraft were killed.

U.S. Navy jets attacked a 100-vehicle truck convoy on Route 15 in North Viet Nam at 3 a.m. today, but the extent of damage to the convoy was not known.

Half an hour earlier four Navy Skyhawk jets made bombing and strafing runs on a convoy of about 20 trucks 140 miles south of Hanoi.

Ten U.S. Air Force F105 jets and an undisclosed number of support aircraft dropped 750 bombs and rockets over Routes 8 and 12 in North Viet Nam this afternoon.

A U.S. spokesman did not identify the targets and said the results of the action were not known.

Opposes Plan to Halt Raids

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen sided today with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara against a proposal by Sen. J. W. Fulbright for a temporary suspension of U.S. bombings of North Viet Nam.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, made his proposal in an exclusive Associated Press interview. He said such a suspension would encourage the opening of peace talks.

The Arkansas Democrat said he supports President Johnson's course in Viet Nam, but added: "Within the near future, before the escalation goes too far, a temporary cease-fire might be advisable in order to give the people a little time to contemplate the trouble."

"The daily bombings are inclined to keep the atmosphere very tense, and I think perhaps, to make the North Vietnamese dig in, and as in Great Britain where the Germans thought the British might sue for peace when they started bombing them in World War II. Well, it didn't work that way."

Steel Negotiators Begin Crisis Talks

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — With some gentle prodding from the White House, union and industry negotiators begin crisis bargaining this morning to head off a nationwide steel strike May 1.

If they make no headway by the end of the week, the industry likely will start preparing for a shutdown.

These preparations, tremendous in scope, take at least three to four days.

The negotiators for the United Steelworkers Union (USW) and 11 major basic steel producing companies met for the first time with a third party, the federal government, looking over their shoulders.

William E. Simkin, chief of mediation service, arrived here last night.

MEET SEPARATELY

Simkin met separately with David J. McDonald, USW president, and I. W. Abel, USW secretary-treasurer, and then with R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice president of U.S. Steel Corp. and chief negotiator for the 11 companies.

McDonald and Abel are acting as co-chairmen of the union negotiating team, because Abel was regarded as the apparent winner of the USW's Feb. 9 presidential election. He is expected to be certified formally as the winner by the union voters May 1, but McDonald still would remain president until June 1.

Simkin did not plan to take part in the joint collective bargaining initially, but said this might come later on.

"I don't think this thing is necessarily deadlocked he said. I think it's possible to work this thing out, without any direct government intervention, such as using the Taft-Hartley Act. I wouldn't anticipate the President would take such action quickly."

GOVERNMENT INTERVENTION

Simkin said his presence here was "not to be construed as a formal government intervention at this time, although that is a possibility."

The government acted immediately after the USW last week rejected as "completely unacceptable" an industry proposal for an interim agreement to head off a strike and continuing talks going on in a new contract is negotiated.

The rejected industry proposal called for an extension of at least six months of the current contract; continued negotiations on new agreement while the extension was in effect; and an immediate wage increase of 5 cents an hour for the 450,000 USW members employed by the 11 companies.

Union sources said last night the extension and the wage increase were negotiable.

WAGE ISSUE

The wage issue was the chief stumbling block. The union felt it had to get for its members in the steel industry an increase roughly comparable to what USW members won in the first year of a 40-month contract negotiated in March with the can industry.

That would be between 12 and 16 cents an hour.

Curious Slow Storm Cleanup

Clog Roads Leading to Worst-Hit Counties

DETROIT (UPI) — Sunday sightseers played havoc with efforts to clean up the wreckage of the Palm Sunday tornadoes in Kent, Lenawee, Hillsdale and Branch counties.

Thousands of Sunday drivers, with nothing better to do, clogged roads leading into the worst-hit areas. In some instances, heavy equipment could not get in or out.

Meanwhile, the death toll climbed to 49 with the death yesterday of Ray C. Furnish, 72, Hudson, from injuries sustained in the twisters.

His death came as state and federal disaster relief officials from at least 18 separate departments prepared to meet in Lansing to map plans for rebuilding public facilities destroyed by the twisters.

The federal help will be used to rebuild public structures. The Red Cross has been designated to handle private cases.

SMALL BUSINESS

Small Business Administration offices have been established in each of the eight counties hardest hit.

Gov. George Romney was to have joined the disaster officials but he had a previous appointment to make a speech in New York and was represented by aides.

portunity for reflection and possibly to go to discussions as proposed by the President, might be possible. Maybe there are reasons why this is not feasible, but I'm judging from the press reports, the action of the Russians, and some of the others, that would indicate that the prospects for discussions might be enhanced by a temporary cessation of bombings.

Eight U.S. Air Force F105s made leaflet drops this afternoon on seven North Vietnamese cities.

The planes dropped more than 30 million leaflets containing excerpts from President Johnson's speech on Viet Nam and the Vietnamese government commentary on the speech.

A U.S. spokesman reported Communist guerrillas launched their first direct attack on the U.S. Marines based in the Da Nang area. They threw two grenades into a Marine battery late last night wounding two Marines. The Marines were reported in good condition.

NEAR HANOI

U.S. war planes made their deepest penetration into Communist North Viet Nam last night, probing within 60 miles of Hanoi. But four propeller-driven Navy fighter-bombers did not attack any targets and reported no encounters with Red aircraft.

Two other squadrons from the carriers Midway and Hancock made bombing forays into the north, and U.S. officials reported 32 air strikes in the south.

Fourteen Navy planes sank a ferry boat with cannon and rocket fire at Giap Tam, on the Song Troc River, about 60 miles north of the 17th Parallel frontier. Eleven others hit the Communists' Long Thanh army barracks in the same area.

Reedy said to his knowledge, Johnson had not talked with Fulbright recently and "certainly, we have no comment on that."

But two of Johnson's top cabinet members did have comment on the subject of bombings.

McNAMARA STATEMENT

Last night, McNamara issued this statement through the Pentagon's information chief, Arthur Sylvester:

"We have no indication that a cessation of the bombing would move the North Vietnamese to discussions leading to termination of their aggression against the south."

"It is clear, however, that termination of the strikes against the north without similar termination of the aggression against the South Vietnamese would discourage and dishearten the people of South Viet Nam — a brave people who continue to resist with determination the campaign of terror which is directed against them and which is dependent upon the daily flow of men and materials from Hanoi."

Saturday, a few hours before the Fulbright interview which was recorded last week appeared in print, Rusk issued a statement saying that even a temporary halt in air strikes "would only encourage the aggressor and dishearten our friends who bear the brunt of battle."

"We don't have to make any commitments. We could resume bombing at any time there is no response. I don't see where there would be any great, very serious loss of position on our part. Anyway, it's something that I think could be considered."

Dirksen, who has strongly supported Johnson's course in Viet Nam, said he disagreed with Fulbright's views on a suspension of bombings. The Illinois Republican said the Communists have given no sign that they are willing to negotiate.

LOSE FACE

"If we let up on them now we will lose face, our prestige will drop and that will make it more difficult to end the conflict."

In Texas, where Johnson was spending Easter, White House press secretary George E. Reedy was asked whether the President had talked with Fulbright or would have any comment on the senator's views.

Reedy said to his knowledge, Johnson had not talked with Fulbright recently and "certainly, we have no comment on that."

But two of Johnson's top cabinet members did have comment on the subject of bombings.

Kindergarten Roundups Will Begin Next week

BIRMINGHAM — Kindergarten roundups will begin next week in Birmingham public schools.

The sessions at the various elementary schools will continue through May.

Parents of preschoolers will find out what's in store for their youngsters who will be entering kindergarten next fall.

While becoming acquainted with the kindergarten program, they also will learn how to begin preparing their children for that all-important first day of school.

Parents who move into the Birmingham school district after May 18 should contact their local elementary school principal.

REGISTRATIONS

Registrations also will be taken during August.

The first roundups will be held April 28. Schools at which they are scheduled are Beverly, 8 p.m.; Bloomfield, 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.; Franklin, 1:30 p.m.; Harlan, 7:30 p.m.; Meadow Lake, 9:30 a.m.; and Walnut Lake, 8 p.m.

Perry said he has pictures of Soviet craft which include the three-mile limit. Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla., has said there is evidence of Russians cruising the gulf stream for military or undefined purposes.

Asked whether it would be possible for the Soviet Union to possess and maintain instruments or even men on the ocean floor off the United States, the Gulf Stream exploration group pointed to Link's 1964 experiment.

BELOW SURFACE

In that project, aviation pioneer Charles A. Lindbergh's son, Jon, and another scientist spent 49 hours working in and out of their inflated chamber 432 feet below the sea's surface.

They said later they could have stayed two weeks with adequate supply of food and their helium-oxygen breathing mixture.

Piccard's mesoscaph will carry oxygen for its crew to breathe and chemicals to absorb the carbon dioxide they exhale, the explorer said.

Thirty-kilowatt searchlight will stay the deep's darkness for observation and photography.

METAL BALLS

Besides water ballast, the mesoscaph will carry thousands of BB shot-sized metal balls which could be dumped in an emergency to make the craft rise.

Piccard said he may not surface completely during the 2,000-mile voyage. Radio and hydrophone will keep contact with surface escort ships, if any go along, and with the shore.

A marine biologist will be aboard to study plant and fish life in the Gulf Stream's depths. Other scientists will be observing currents, and probing with elaborate sound equipment for unusual objects as the mesoscaph drifts northward.

Major Speech by Rusk Due Tonight in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk makes a major address here tonight. He is expected to discuss U.S. immigration policies.

The Democratic administration is supporting legislation to abolish the national origins quota system, in effect since 1922, and place immigration on a first-come, first-served basis.

Students in Korea May Face Troops

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea's government will use the army to quell student demonstrations protesting the talks with Japan if the police are unable to control the demonstrators, high Defense Ministry sources reported today.

The sources said defense authorities have reached an understanding on use of troops with the head of the U.N. Command, U.S. Gen. Hamilton H. Howze, who has operational control of the Korean forces.

Hundreds of police and demonstrators, mostly students, were injured last week in repeated clashes.

The government already has mobilized troops under the Capitol Security Command to help police guard such key government buildings as President Chung Hee Park's official mansion and the compound housing government ministries.

'Chicago Man Is Not Slayer'

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Berrien County Sheriff's officers said Sunday they are convinced Chicagoan Robert Mills had nothing to do with the slayings of two women and a girl here.

The slayings, brought to light when the bodies were found on April 4, remain unsolved.

Deputies were to Chicago Saturday after Mills telephoned FBI agents and said he was responsible for the deaths of Diane Carter, 7, Mrs. Olin Boyer, 60, and Mrs. Robert Jones, 60. They returned Sunday, interrogating Mills. Officers said the 4-year-old stock clerk's story was contrary to the facts.

The talks to normalize relations between South Korea and Japan are now nearing completion on for 14 years. Park has shown no sign of being deterred by the demonstrations.

The demonstrators particularly oppose the virtual abolition of the Rhee fishing line, which barred Japanese fishermen from the waters extending far out from the coasts of Korea. An agreement drastically modifying the fishing regulations was initiated in Tokyo recently.

Youth and Sex — 1

(EDITOR'S NOTE — American youth is involved in a sexual revolution. Some of these facts of modern life and some of the motivating causes are discussed in this dispatch, first of five.)

By PATRICIA McORMACK
United Press International

In this scientific era, our 22 million American teen-agers have been taught to experiment, to seek answers based on experience, to accept no pat answers.

In sex, experts say, millions of them not content to learn vicariously, accept the scientific way — experimentation.

Once these flings are ended, many of them pay a price they never anticipated.

Veneral disease and out-of-wedlock pregnancies are on the increase. For girls, the added price is emotional wreckage — wrestling with a conscience that has betrayed what has been accepted from the church or synagogue.

The extra price is reflected in statistical evidence of greater sex activity among teen-agers. Samples:

UPWARD TREND

• The rate of infectious venereal disease among teen-agers — 15 to 19 — is twice that of all the rest of the population put together. It is rising. The number of teen-agers infected in '64 was three times the number infected in 1957.

• In over one half of first marriages today, brides are in their teens. Many of these marriages produce "seven month" babies. Roughly, one in three of these matches end in divorce.

• Studies indicate that approximately one-fourth of all high school girls have had sexual relations. The estimate for college women: up to 50 per cent. Some statisticians figure the range on boys, including college-age, from 60 to 90 per cent.

• Forty-one per cent of illegitimate children are born to teen-age mothers.

URBANIZATION

The teen-agers who are experimenting with sex are as much a product of urbanization as they are of affluence and the scientific era that sends them searching for answers first-hand.

Helen Southard, psychologist and expert in sex education with the national board of the Young Women's Christian Association (YWCA) maintains that youth in search of sexual experimentation are, in general, lonely and confused.

In small towns, where they are in daily contact with people who know them — from the corner grocer to the street sweeper — the rural youths have a chance to win approval and acceptance, love and friendship in the normal scheme of things.

The city youngster or the one away at college has, as a rule, only casual brushes with people. They seek, as a result, depth in human relationships that the rural youth has as a matter of fact.

Often, they find it in sexual experimentation.

STUDENT QUOTED

Barbara D. Van Cleave, dean of women, De Paul University, Chicago, in a report to the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors, told of this feeling when she quoted a statement by a student:

"Casual love making was and is a desperate search for ego satisfaction rather than obsessive sexual craving."

"Much of the widespread sexual conduct . . . of students can be traced to the loneliness, the insecurity, the absence of normal family and community affection and companionship in our present society, and, of course, a certain sense of the futility and meaninglessness of the money and prestige oriented merry-go-round life onto which they are about to step," Dean Van Cleave added.

Helping to speed adolescents along the experimentation route — sexual or otherwise — is money. The teens, as marketing experts figure it, are a $12 billion dollar a year business.

MORE MOBILITY

Studies show they own one-fifth of all cars sold — giving them greater mobility than ever before. Four of every 10 high school boys and two of every 10 girls have charge accounts in their own names.

The search for identification and affection, coupled with the money jingling in their jeans and the key to the car give a New England minister reason regularly to ask a question of teen-age brides-to-be when a couple shows up to arrange a wedding.

"How pregnant are you," he asks.

A police chief in a town outside of San Francisco calls the nine miles of beaches in his jurisdiction a "sex capital" for youngsters — some as young as 13.

TOO EARLY?

A teen-age girl, participating in a meeting on "Successful Marriage and Family Living" in Atlanta, Ga. — asked if 15 is too early to go all the way.

Dr. Celia S. Deschin, associate professor, Graduate School of Social Work, Adelphi College, gave some insight into promiscuous teen-agers when she published a classic study of 600 adolescent patients in social hygiene clinics.

The study, supported by the American Social Health Association and published in "Children," journal of the U.S. Children's Bureau, unofficially is referred to as a "Junior Kinsey Report." Its title, "Teen-agers and Venereal Disease."

A key to the problem appeared when the youngsters were asked what they did in their spare time.

"Nothing," replied 509 of them.

The group, about evenly divided between boys and girls, included 439 not in school when interviewed. Only 176 of these had any work experience, full or part time.

"Despite their involvement in sexual activities, these young people exhibited little understanding of the meaning of sex," Dr. Deschin reported.

"Peers constituted the source of sex knowledge for 64 per cent . . . while parents were the source for 21 per cent; other adults, for 15 per cent."

United States Profits Greatly From Salvation Army Deeds

Just a hundred years ago, one of the greatest and most constructive armies in all history was founded. I refer to the Salvation Army.

You will be absolutely amazed to learn that during the formative period, it was looked upon askance by the upper crust in a stern and Victorian England. William Booth decided that a huge number of people at the absolute tag end of the social scale were worth saving and rehabilitating. This was a new idea to the reigning group that held top social and economic acceptance. They weren't favorably impressed.

But Mr. Booth was not deterred. He wasn't even slowed down. He launched a wide-scale effort to bring the outcasts, the misfits and the actual bums into his newly launched society. A whole host of top British people who thought extremely well of themselves, looked down their tilted noses in open and haughty disdain that wasn't disguised. Even actual crooks and tramps with prison records were received by this great crusader who opened his arms to everyone.

Early in his magnificent conceit, he discovered the pangs of hunger, the ravages of disease and the lack of a home were not the proper background for teaching the ways of the One whose resurrection we honored yesterday. The thought and image of God only cast a feeble and flickering shadow in the light of these human derelicts and he set about the remedy. Booth started soup kitchens. He devised shelter for the destitute and found temporary homes for the fugitive girls of the night.

Mr. Booth was far, far ahead of his day and his era. He endeavored to instill self-respect without which no one can hope to succeed. He struggled eternally and primarily to lift all of mankind from the dreags and the depths of despair. A new start, a new hope and a new outlook: these were his goals. Laws and customs which ripped self-assurance and self-respect from these derelicts were fought at every turn of the road. The political and social evils of the day were his targets and he fought those who had instigated them as stoutly as he did the customs themselves.

Now—one century later—we find the great fruits of his labor scattered everywhere, including 147 different languages. We in Pontiac have been especially fortunate. The Salvation Army personnel in our area has always classified in the upper echelon of constructive work and achievement. Staunch and fearless men and women have labored—yes, labored if you will—long hours to bring a ray of sunshine into lives in which the sun was slowly but inexorably setting. They have instilled a new hope and promise for tomorrow.

Considering their contributions to society these workers are probably the most underpaid in America. But they glory in an inner satisfaction and recompense that few others know.

Abiding Thought . . .

During the Revolutionary war, THOMAS PAINE wrote: "These are the times that try men's souls." Surely, they were.

But the end of that historic struggle brought no permanent surcease. These times have always been with us. They always will. The Lord doesn't intend anyone to pass through this Great Adventure without trouble, sorrow and an actual dash of despair. Perhaps surmounting these instills the spirit to conquer.

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX wrote: "This, too, shall pass away."

Herein is the eternal spark that sends all mankind forward. However dark the outlook may be, "this, too, shall pass away." At Easter time, this is an abiding thought. It's always darkest before the dawn, but whatever the trial or tribulation: "This, too, will pass away."

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

This new Astro stadium still confounds. When a home player hits a home run, 50,000 lights on the 474 foot scoreboard put on a 40 second demonstration. When a pitcher is removed, the scoreboard shows a man taking a shower bath accompanied by such music as "April Showers." . . . JACK BENNY, one of the greatest comics of them all will be missing next year on TV. He may be an occasional guest star but the all-time great has lost out to the modern trends. His show April 9th in which he visited his sponsor won't be equaled in 1965 for humor.

Scouts advise me Julie Jones is one of the attractive young ladies in the area. . . . There's serious talk of a bridge across the Gibraltar straits connecting Africa with Europe. The cost is an estimated $180 million. Once this would have stopped all talk abruptly, but not today. . . . Garry Moore has had some TV feelers for September but he says he can't possibly start until January of '66. — if then.

Some Wales miners protested against the weight of the containers they were handling. On a weekend, the entire lot was painted a bright green over the previously drab black. Soon the men complimented the company on "the new, light containers." And this isn't confined to miners. Air sickness on European planes decreased perceptibly when the interior color scheme was changed from yellow and brown to sky blue. The color of bridges has had definite effects on suicides. The color of coffee tins affects sales and acceptance. . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—GARRY MOORE who went on safari in Africa and shot loads and loads of wild animals—all with a camera; the J's—Mr. and Mrs. ROTEN, of Ann Arbor, who admit in court beating an eight-year-old adopted daughter. —HAROLD A. "The Campaign To End Poverty Has Turned Into A Giant Fiesta Of Political Patronage!"

David Lawrence Says:

Vote Bill Dodges Fraud in North

WASHINGTON — Hypocrisy on the subject of civil rights is rampant in many parts of the United States — both North and South.

Widespread acclaim is given the new voting rights bill as a much-needed measure to prevent discrimination by reason of race or color.

But, oddly enough, not a single line in the proposed LAWRENCE legislation would prohibit the frauds and interferences with the right to vote which are prevalent, particularly in many of the big cities in the North.

A majority of the members of Congress are apparently willing to disregard the Constitution and let the federal government take over control of all elections — state as well as federal.

Yet no provision has been adopted that would prevent the votes of the citizens in a state or county or city from being rendered meaningless through frauds.

It has rightly been argued that the conduct of elections is a local affair and should be handled entirely by the states, as provided by the federal Constitution.

POLICING FUNCTION

But punishment for any skulduggery connected with the registration of voters in certain states of the South now is regarded by the administration here as a policing function of the federal government. This is the fundamental concept of the new voting-rights legislation.

So, in order to be consistent, theoretically at least, the proposed voting-rights law should include ways and means of insuring not only the right to vote but the right to vote without being subjected to improper influences during the actual casting of one's ballot.

In many parts of the South, when Negroes are eventually registered in great numbers, there probably will be cases of manipulation of the Negro vote just as there has been of the white vote in certain areas where political bosses hold sway. Perpetrators of fraud are not confined to any race or ethnic group.

The conspicuous absence of

POLITICAL HYPOCRISY

There are many evidences of the hypocrisy of political leaders. They shout loudly about discrimination and the denial of voting rights, while at the same time they carefully avoid enactment of any legislation or local ordinances which will interfere with the way the big bosses control the votes in the large cities of the United States.

These cities, moreover, frequently hold the balance of power in electing a president of the United States.

When Richard M. Nixon was running against John F. Kennedy in 1960, a heavy Democratic vote in the city of Chicago swung the electoral vote of the state of Illinois to Mr. Kennedy by a small margin.

Charges of fraud and "assistance" in the election were heard at that time. But no satisfactory official inquiry was ever made into what actually happened.

Since safeguards were not taken in advance by the passage of adequate laws, there was reluctance to collect legal proof of what was generally known—namely, that the local elections were to no small extent fraudulent.

Relates Past Experience With Legalized Gambling

Letters have cited Florida as a good example of obtaining tax revenue from dog racing. Florida's former Governor LeRoy Collins said "Florida got a dose of moral poison they will not soon forget. Crime rates jumped. Delinquency increased. Gambling, legal or illegal, spreads a kind of poison through a community. It kills more business than it generates."

A study of the effect of a Wisconsin law clamping down on gambling reveals that money previously spent on gambling was now spent on meals, cottages, horses, canoes, fishing equipment, etc. and resorts are more prosperous than ever.

Need Tighter Alliance . . . Wilson

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer

LONDON — Prime Minister Harold Wilson says Britain and the United States must tighten their alliance to check growing dangers to peace from Suez to the China Sea.

"I believe that as the balance of danger spreads more and more from Europe to Asia," Wilson said, "we shall find it necessary to talk closely together about any joint approach that will be needed in peace-keeping operations and in giving assurances to our allies and friends in that area."

Wilson, in an exclusive interview with the Associated Press, said "We should not be too quickly discouraged or too defeatist" about initial Communist rejection of President Johnson's overtures for peace talks on Viet Nam.

"We have very warmly welcomed the speech of the President on the outlook in Southeast Asia," Wilson said. "It showed a clear and unequivocal willingness to enter into discussions without preconditions. We would strongly support him in that, as we have in other aspects of the struggle in Southeast Asia."

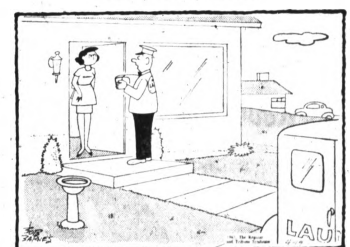

"In any conference there must be a recognition that there is no easy way out. And we need a solution that will really guarantee peace and stability in the area."

EXTREMELY DIFFICULT

Wilson said that the situation in Viet Nam "extremely difficult," but he said he believed it could be solved.

"President Johnson's speech, I think, has provided a signpost to that solution," he said.

Control Two

The Lansing State Journal

An interesting suggestion was made by Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr. of Grand Rapids, the minority leader in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Ford proposed that the minority party control the two major congressional investigating committees when the opposite party controls both Congress and the executive branch of the federal government.

"When both the executive and legislative branches are dominated by the same political party," the Michigan Republican said, "the committees on government operations of the House and Senate, which have broad investigating authority, should be under the control of the minority party."

"It smacks of legalized collusion when the suspect and the district attorney are blood relatives."

Ford said that if such a system had been in effect during the investigation of the activities of Bobby Baker, a former Senate aide, the public might

A Gamble!

The New York Daily News

There is little doubt that had the Republicans been able to direct the inquiry into Baker's wheedling and dealing, the committee would have probed much more deeply than the Democrat-controlled committee did. Democrats, who now control Congress and all committees, did not comment publicly but the private remarks of some of them made it clear Ford's proposal was unlikely to be considered.

One Democrat put it this way:

"Is he kidding? If the Democrats bought that idea, we would be confessing that we couldn't be trusted on the other foot. Don't hold your breath until the Republicans give us authority to run investigations of their administration."

A lot of people might see it as recognition of the possibility the public would have greater confidence in investigations conducted by the opposition than in those which amount, in effect, to self-investigation. If the minority party ever did get control of investigations, it would have the responsibility of digging for the facts, regardless of whom they might affect.

The idea may make good sense to those who view it with great objectivity.

State Constitutional Amendment

New York State's Democratic county leaders, all 62 of them, have been instructed by their state chairman, William McKee, to make solemn polly voter reactions to the idea of a possible state lottery.

Try as we may, we can't see why our Dems are going to all that trouble. There's little doubt that state voters, if given a chance, would favor a fine lottery patterned after New Hampshire's.

But a lottery will require a state constitutional amendment, effective no later than late 1966, whereas off-track betting could be legalized in New York City by quick City Council and Legislature action.

As we've said before, a lottery will be fine. But right now let's quit the Albany stalling and latch onto legalized off-track bet income, fast. Both city and state could use it.

Slip Doubles as Blouse

The conventional slip has turned into the surprise package of new lingerie collections — by adding a blouse front for wear with suits.

The lace, brocade, or sequin top, designed with camisole neckline, hangs loose at the bottom to cover the waistband of a skirt and simulate a separate garment.

All three versions of this nylon tricot slip may be hand-washed in warm soap or detergent suds. The only special caution is to dip the sequins gently up and down without rubbing or squeezing.

Why Grow Old?
BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Nothing makes a woman feel more tired and miserable than foot trouble. Here are a few rules for comfort which you may have thought of or applied to your underpinnings.

Many women make the mistake of wearing the same size in all styles of shoes. The style can make a big difference. Your feet should be measured each time you purchase a pair of shoes.

Also there are certain makes which are wrong for her when it is right for many other women.

BRANDS

Some years ago I had the habit of wearing a certain well-known name brand shoe. I always had to sort of break them in" before they were really comfortable. This manufacturer has beautiful shoes and I kept buying them until I "came to" and realized that they simply were not for my foot.

If you wear one style shoe for non-dressy occasions, around the house or shopping or walking, buy two pairs of the same style. Your shoes need a rest too, time to air out.

Take good care of the cuticle around your toenails as well as that around your fingernails. Toenail cuticle can become very dry and cause irritation and discomfort. After washing your feet with soapsuds and gently push the cuticle back from the toenails. Make this a habit.

Also massage the feet with a lotion and the cuticle with cuticle cream or oil.

HARD SKIN

If you have calluses or heel bumps on your feet, rub the hard skin with a pumice stone after you have softened it by soaking.

Remember, too, it is unwise to try to treat corns yourself. A cut may lead to soreness or even infection. It is best to see a foot doctor.

Washable Shoes Available for Baby

New one-piece foot covers for the baby in the house come in washable fabrics which are cut and finished to fold and button into little shoes. Unbutton for washing and flat ironing.

The shoes come in a choice of stripes, checks and solid pastels.

Use Old Bedspread for New Decor

When a chenille bedspread becomes worn there is usually enough good material left in it to make a rug, fitted lid and tank cover for the bathroom.

After the articles are made, dye them to harmonize with your bathroom decor.

Are You Bride-to-Be?

Are you planning a wedding in 1965? We are interested in having your engagement and wedding news. But we need your cooperation.

The Pontiac Press has printed forms for both engagement and wedding announcements. But you may send in the details, giving full names and addresses (husband's names for a married woman) and other pertinent details.

Please include a telephone number so that we may check if necessary.

TIME LAPSE

There must be two months between engagement and wedding stories, if there is to be a picture with both. No engagements are announced less than a month before the wedding date.

We prefer to receive wedding stories and pictures before the ceremony.

If pictures are taken at the wedding, we must have them no later than two days after the ceremony (that is, by noon Tuesday for Saturday weddings.)

If the wedding takes place out of town, this deadline is extended.

BEST PICTURES

Pictures should be black and white, preferably glossy prints. Snapshots cannot be used. Color and tinted prints are not acceptable.

While The Pontiac Press makes no promise to use every picture submitted, some printed mention of the event will be made.

There is no charge for editorial space, but it cannot be reserved nor can we promise the size of picture or its position.

Engagement and wedding pictures are kept for two months, then discarded. They may be called for any time after publication.

Dinner Dance for Villagers

A cocktail hour at 7 p.m. will precede the May 8 dinner-dance for the alumnae in the Village Woman's Club, Bloomfield Hills. The Don Dierks orchestra will furnish music.

Mrs. G. R. Brennen of Candlewood Trail, West Bloomfield Township is chairman. Assisting are Mrs. Kent Smith, Royal Oak; Mrs. Gilbert Berry, Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. H. Howard Herbst, West Long Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township.

Polly's Pointers

Mop Ceillings

DEAR POLLY—After I wash my untreated dust mops I first use them to go over the ceilings and corners of the various rooms in the house.

This removes any embarrassing cobwebs from sneaking up on me.—JULIE

GIRLS—Do be careful to brush only the cobwebs. Too heavy a hand on the dust mop might smear the ceiling or walls.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I tacked a spring type curtain rod on the inside wall of my pan cupboard to keep my pan lids in order.

For only 15 cents I have a neater cupboard and the correct lids are easier to find.

I like the idea of cutting off the tops of old bobby socks and using them for dust cloths. I also get good use out of the feet of such socks by using them as footlets in my loafers.

When they do not stay on quite as well as I would like I run a little elastic thread around the tops.—MRS. L.A.L.

DEAR POLLY—I am a new mother and found it hard to dress baby warmly enough.

I could not get mittens small enough. Finally I hit on the idea of turning her wool sweaters inside out, gathering the lower edges of the sleeves and sewing them shut.

The arms in the sweaters were long enough to provide ample room for both arms and hands. No more cold hands for baby and she can still have them outside the blanket, as she seems to prefer.

When the sleeves begin to get short or the weather warmer, these stitches can be removed and the sweater is as good as new.

I finally got tired of broken bra straps and now I sew them permanently in place.

I stitch back and forth across the strap to hold the ends securely in place and then I sew up the length of each strap in a wavy line, turn around, make the wavy lines the opposite way so the waves are up on one side and down on the other.

My straps never break or come unstitched and this method of stitching keeps them from folding over.—MRS. C.R.F.

DEAR POLLY—When a child is past the bottle stage but rebels at drinking the necessary amount of milk, try putting the milk in a small plastic pitcher or tea pot, give him a small plastic glass and let him pour his own.

There may be some mopping up to do but you will be surprised at how much milk he will drink just from fascination with a new way of doing it.—MRS. J.T.D.

DEAR POLLY—My little daughter's doll lost most of her "rooted" hair and I was unable to buy a wig for her. In desperation I glued a piece of gauze on the top of the doll's head and sewed yellow nylon yarn through the holes and tied the yarn to keep it from coming out.

After the yarn was all in, I trimmed the "wig" evenly.

Even my mother thought the doll was new.—MRS. R.H.

GIRLS—Some of you might find it easier to measure the gauze to the correct size for the wig, draw the pattern, run the yarn through, cut it out and then glue onto the doll's head.

No reason to limit the yarn color to yellow as brown or black may give the doll a completely different look.—POLLY

Gets Pension With Coconut

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—It was lucky for Mrs. Della Mae Johnson that her mother-in-law kept a 12-inch coconut mailed from New Guinea in World War II.

She needed help from the Red Cross in claiming a widow's pension. All of her own personal belongings and keepsakes had been destroyed by fire, but the coconut her husband mailed his mother still bore his name, address and army serial number.

It established Mrs. Johnson's pension claim.

Bosox Outfielder Avoiding Jinx

By United Press International
If Tony Conigliaro is suffering from the sophomore jinx, both he and the rest of the Boston Red Sox hope it's a long, long illness.

Tony is batting at a .533 clip and, though the Bosox have played only four games so far, the strapping right fielder who waved such a dangerous bat as a rookie last year has already tagged two home runs and has six RBIs to his credit.

One of those circuit smashes and three of those runs batted in sparked the Sox to an 11-4 blitz of the Baltimore Orioles Sunday. Tony's homer came as part of a four-run Bosox rally in the third inning and it sailed high and far over the 325-foot mark at Fenway Park. He came back in the fourth frame and drove in the decisive tally with a single, one of four hits in four trips.

Earl Wilson recorded his first

victory of the young season for Boston. The Red Sox have won three of their four games and are tied for second place with Minnesota. Wally Bunker suffered the loss for the Birds.

OTHER AL GAMES

The Minnesota Twins blasted the Cleveland Indians 6-3, the New York Yankees lashed the Kansas City Athletics 10-4, and the Washington Senators clipped Chicago 4-1 in the second game of a doubleheader after the White Sox had won the opener 5-1.

HALL SPARKS TWINS

Jimmie Hall's two-run homer off Ralph Terry provided the spark that led the Twins over Cleveland. Sturdy relief pitcher

by Dave Boswell earned him his first victory of the season, while Terry suffered the defeat, which evened his record at 1-1.

Jim Bouton hurled a six-hit en route to his first triumph of the season for the Yankees. Mickey Mantle hit his second homer as Kansas City pitcher Moe Drabowski picked up his second defeat without a victory.

Rookie left fielder Danny Cater went four for four in the first game as he eased the way for Chisox flipper Gary Peters to his second victory of the season. Cater had three singles and a double to figure in all five Chicago runs.

The Nats took advantage of southpaw Pete Richter's effective relief pitching to win the second game. Richter held the White Sox to six hits and contributed some timely hitting while posting his first victory of the season.

Washington broke a scoreless tie in the fifth on two singles and an error. Richter drove in the tie-breaker with a clutch single after Don Lock reached first base on Pete Ward's error and moved to third on a single by Doug Camilli.

Philadelphia hasn't had a 20-game winner since Robin Roberts compiled a 23-14 record in 1955. It was his sixth straight season of 20 victories or better.
