No Breakthrough at Paris—S. Viet

VUNG TAU, Vietnam (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said today there has been "no breakthrough" in negotiations with Hanoi for a bombing halt of North Vietnam, and Washington sources backed him up.

Asked how long it would be before there was some news of the proposed bombing halt, Thieu said: "I would like to say like President Johnson, there is no breakthrough yet."

★ ★ ★

Asked if there were any basic differences between Saigon and Washington over the peace negotiations, Thieu replied: "When President Johnson says the position of the United States government remains unchanged and when I say the position of the government of South Vietnam remains unchanged, I think we have concurred in that."

"If Hanoi would like to say it will de-escalate, they have to tell us when and how they will do this. We are waiting for Hanoi to show good will," added Thieu.

A rocket attack on this South Vietnamese seaside city—nine hours before Thieu arrived for a meeting on pacification, killed five civilians and wounded 19. Thieu cited this as "a perfect example that Hanoi has not de-escalated."

★ ★ ★

The president was asked repeatedly about a series of meetings Thursday and yesterday between him and U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, that generated reports of a new peace package sent to Hanoi by Washington.

★ ★ ★

He refused to divulge details of the talks, and said he was "not at liberty" to discuss certain matters of which he had been informed by Washington.

After the news conference a spokesman for Thieu issued this statement:

"The U.S. government is an independent government and cannot be forced by us to keep us informed on everything. The U.S. government cannot force the Vietnamese government to keep the U.S. government informed on everything the Vietnamese government does."

★ ★ ★

Thieu said: "I cannot tell you what happened between Washington and Hanoi. I do not know what happened between Washington and Hanoi."

In Saigon, the official Vietnam Press reported the Senate will meet in special session tomorrow to debate a possible bombing halt. Vietnam Press quoted a Senate source as saying that 10 senators demanded debate on the matter.

NY Parents, Rebel Teachers Break In

School 'Sleep-In' Vowed

NEW YORK (AP) — Parents and nonstriking teachers have broken into at least 25 of New York City's locked-up public schools, and some have vowed to "sleep in" until Monday morning and reopen the schools themselves.

As city and school officials continued attempts Friday to end the third teachers' strike of the school year in the 1.1-million-pupil system, many parents and teachers took matters into their own hands.

They smashed windows and forced open the locks on school doors so that they could hold improvised classes inside.

Some were forced to leave because water and electricity had been shut off. Custodians and building mechanics, supporting the strike by the 50,000-member United Federation of Teachers AFL-CIO, refused to cross picket lines.

SOME ARRESTS

There was pushing and shoving, and shouting matches outside some schools as the disgruntled parents and teachers attempted to break in. Police said some arrests were made on trespassing and other charges.

★ ★ ★

However, persons sympathetic to the striking teachers complained that police made no attempt to prevent forced entry into some schools.

Yesterday afternoon more than 150 persons, mostly Puerto Rican youths, picketed on the sidewalk outside the UFT's Park Avenue headquarters.

RACIAL OVERTONES

The demonstration pointed up the fact that the labor dispute, which has kept children out of school for 16 days so far this year, is marked by increasingly bitter racial overtones.

The current strike was called Monday as a result of a continuing dispute over reinstatement of 80 union teachers in the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican Ocean Hill-Brownsville experimental school district in Brooklyn.

★ ★ ★

The predominantly white UFT has demanded the reinstatement of the teachers by the local governing board, which dismissed the teachers and has refused to take them back. The board is one of three set up as an experiment in community control of schools.

Weekend Outlook
Sunny and Cool

TODAY — Partly sunny and cool, high 55 to 61. Fair and very cool tonight with a chance of frost in rural and suburban areas.

West to south west winds five to 10 miles per hour.

SUNDAY — Mostly sunny and not quite so cool.

MONDAY—Fair and a little warmer.

The low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 44. By 2:00 p.m. the mercury had climbed to 62.

Mideast Negotiations

JERUSALEM (AP) — The director general of Israel's Foreign Ministry said today "preliminary contacts" were under way at the United Nations between the Israelis and the Arabs.

Gideon Rafael said the discussions were being supervised by U.N. peace envoy Gunnar V. Jarring of Sweden.

Gladys Hits Florida; 3 Die, Several Hurt

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Wild Hurricane Gladys slashed across north Florida today, smashing house trailers, uprooting trees and blacking out power systems, then roared out over the Atlantic Ocean still mean and hungry.

In her violent wake, at least three Floridians were dead and several injured, and survey teams went to work to assess the damage along miles of Gulf Coast beaches pounded through the night by towering storm tides.

Over land, the hurricane's maximum winds were knocked down from 100 to 65 miles an hour, but fuel from the warm waters of the Atlantic could quickly restore the diminished violence.

However, the U.S. mainland may not see Gladys again. Continued movement along a northeast track was forecast. This would keep her far enough off Georgia and the Carolinas to spare those states anything worse than rough seas.

UNTROUBLED LANDING

And by Tuesday, the National Hurricane Center said, the storm should be several hundred miles east of Bermuda, assuring an untroubled landing for the Apollo 7 spaceship southwest of that British colony.

A motorist driving through the storm drowned when his car crashed into a flooded creek at Sarasota. Two others died of heart attacks in the excitement of a mass beach evacuation in Pasco County just north of Tampa.

★ ★ ★

A blackout of communications all along the hurricane's trail prevented quick assessment of damages. Floodwaters blocked many roads into communities that took the full brunt of the storm.

'We're Happy,' Says Jackie

SCORPIOS ISLAND, Greece (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy told newsmen today on this tiny island haven where she will marry Aristotle Onassis that "Tellis and I are very happy."

The Greek Orthodox wedding is expected tomorrow.

This was the first time the prospective bride had spoken to newsmen since her arrival on the closely guarded island.

She looked radiantly happy as she posed for photographers on the quayside of Scorpios' tiny harbor. She was accompanied by her children, Caroline and John, and her sisters-in-law, Mrs. Stephen Smith and Patricia Kennedy.

STAYS ON YACHT

Mrs. Kennedy agreed to pose for photographers only after they refused to

Two Far-Apart Poll Results Create Campaign Skirmish

From Our Newswires

The battle for the White House has spawned a skirmish among the men who make it their business to tell who's winning.

Two of the nation's major polls vary by 10 percentage points.

Sen. Edmund Muskie, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, took a look yesterday at the Harris Poll, which showed the Democrats had narrowed the gap between them and Republican Richard M. Nixon by three percentage points to 5 per cent.

Related Stories, A-4, A-5, A-9.

"We can easily close that gap if we get out and work," said Muskie.

But George Gallup released a poll showing the Democrats behind by 15 per cent. Based on the 1964 presidential election, the 10 percentage point translate into seven million votes.

A third public opinion analyst, Burns W. Roper, said the pollsters can't claim the differences came because the polls were taken on different dates.

The Harris Poll, with Nixon leading Hubert H. Humphrey 40 to 35 per cent, was taken at the end of September. The Gallup Poll, where Nixon held a 44 to 29 per cent lead, was taken Oct. 8-10.

A fourth public opinion analyst, Louis H. Bean, who contradicted most other pollsters in 1948 and predicted Harry S. Truman's victory, said even before the latest Harris and Gallup tabulations that the election looks closer than those two polls show.

Both Humphrey and Nixon commented on the prospects for peace yesterday and Gen. Curtis E. LeMay wound up his tour of the war zone saying he was categorically against a bombing halt.

2nd Site Irks School Finance Unit

FRANCIS M. WEBSTER

The possibility that Pontiac school district's planned new high school complex will be built on a site other than the grounds of Pontiac State Hospital has raised the ire of leaders of the school system's Finance Study Council.

It has also raised some questions: Were Pontiac voters misled when they approved a $25 million bond issue March 25? Will the school board abandon tentative plans to construct the $19 million super high school on the hospital grounds?

Francis Webster, chairman of the 90-member study council, has said the council's executive board is opposed to any site other than the hospital without approval of the voters.

The citizens committee not only recommended the hospital site as the location for a new high school but also carried this message to the voters in pushing for passage of the millage issue to pay for its construction.

Webster believes the community was united behind the bond issue and for construction of the school on the hospital site.

Comic Apollo 7 Crew Reaches a Landmark

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) — Sailing along without a problem, Apollo 7 today became history's second-longest manned space flight shortly after the three astronauts beamed a live comedy telecast from space.

★ ★ ★

At 8:58 a.m. CDT, the log of Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian Walter Cunningham read 190 hours 55 minutes of flight time. This surpassed by a minute the time recorded by Gemini 5 in 1965.

★ ★ ★

"Mark. You are now history's second-longest manned space flight," the Mission Control Center radioed to the speeding spaceship.

Asked if he would like to go for Gemini 7's record of 14 days, commander Schirra replied firmly: "Negative, negative."

A SLIGHT ERROR

The control center commentator erred at first when he told the astronauts they had surpassed the mark of Gemnii 8, then corrected it to Gemini 5.

"No contest," laughted Schirra, referring to the emergency landing that Gemini 8 made after only 10 hours in space.

The astronauts also were told they had pushed total U.S. manned time in space close to the 2,600-hour mark.

The longest Russian flight was five days and total Soviet time in space is 534 hours.

Two hours before exceeding Gemini 5's mark Schirra turned drill sergeant and directed his fellow astronauts in the humorous telecast.

"Hup, two, three, four," Schirra shouted as Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham briskly went through military marching maneuvers — "about face, left face, forward march."

The nine-minute telecast was a return to the fun and games of the first two Apollo telecasts Monday and Tuesday. It also marked a break in a period of aggravation expressed by all three astronauts, who have become increasingly irritable and impatient as their space flight drones on.

Cries of 'Shame' Heard in Prague

Czech-Soviet Pact Ratified

PRAGUE (AP) — Groups of Czechoslovaks cried "shame" in the streets outside their National Assembly Friday night after its members voted 228-4 to ratify a treaty providing for the indefinite stay of 70,000 Soviet occupation troops. There were 10 abstentions.

A few hours later, it was announced in Moscow that the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet had unanimously ratified the treaty.

The two countries exchanged diplomatic notes on the votes, and the treaty went into effect.

In a 40-minute speech to the assembly, Czechoslovak Premier Ooldrich Cernik said the treaty was not a complete surrender of sovereignty. However, Czechoslovakia will have no control over the movement into the country by Soviet troops and their families who will be stationed mainly in northern Bohemia and around Prague, Brno and Bratislava.

Cernik told the assemblymen the rest of the Soviet, Polish, East German, Hungarian and Bulgarian troops, variously estimated from 250,000 to 500,000 will leave within two months.

As explained in Prague, the treaty calls for the Soviets to remove their secret police and military units and pay $1.5 million as settlement for occupation damages.

The Czechoslovaks agreed to have no mass public celebration on the 50th anniversary of the republic Oct. 28.

The Russians reserve the right to send troops at their descretion to any mass demonstrations or meetings and act in the name of Czechoslovak authorities in such cases.

The Czechoslovaks will not be allowed to call a meeting of the 160-member Central Committee of the Communist party before Oct. 27. Apparently the Soviets wanted more time to influence members individually.

Cernik insisted that Czechoslovakia, "its people and all its institutions will have sufficient leeway to insure a happy Socialist future according to their own interests."

Suspect in Extortion Case Released on $50,000 Bail

A reputed Mafia figure, Joseph M. Barbara, 32, of Fraser, was released on $50,000 bond yesterday pending another court appearance on an extortion charge.

Farmington Township Justice of the peace Byron Walters at arraignment proceedings yesterday set preliminary examination on the charge for 9 a.m. Oct. 25.

Barbara, president and owner of the Tri-County Sanitation Co., was arrested Friday on charges that he extorted $4,000 in cash and valuables from Mrs. Delores Lazaros of Troy by threatening the lives of her 9-year-old son and convict husband.

Assistant County Prosecutor John Bain argued against bond for Barbara saying that additional threats had been made on the Lazaros family. He said the prosecutor's office feared "for the lives of our witnesses."

A WARNING

Walters warned Barbara that any attempts to intimidate witnesses would result in Barbara being sent to jail without bond.

Barbara is married to the daughter of Peter Vitale, another reputed Mafia leader who was night manager of the Grecian Gardens restaurant in Detroit, which figured in Wayne County grand jury investigations in 1966.

★ ★ ★

Barbara was identified as a Mafia leader by Detroit police at a Senate investigation hearing. The county prosecutor said Barbara knew Peter Lazaros before Lazaros began a three to ten year prison sentence in 1952. Lazaros and five others were convicted of bilking a Ferndale loan company of $127,000.

★ ★ ★

Lazaros was indicted by Oakland County Grand Juror James S. Thorburn last year. He was charged with conspiracy in fraudently obtaining a $100,000 parcel of property then owned by Charles Nuzum of 2701 Lapeer, Pontiac Township. The property is the site of the Country View Inn.

Lazaros was released from prison Monday after the State Supreme Court reviewed his 1962 court case and allowed a motion for a new trial.

Plane Crash Kills Four in Livingston

HARTLAND (AP) — Two fathers and their two 17-year-old daughters died Friday night in the fiery crash of a single engine plane near Hartland, just west of Oakland County.

Killed were:

William Shiek, 48, and his daughter, Beckie, and Leonard Denocour, 50, and his daughter, Cheryl Lynn, all of Redford Township.

Denocour was a detective sergeant with the Redford Township Police Department and Shiek, a postal employe and an auxiliary policeman in the township.

The four left Detroit Metropolitan Airport, with Shiek filing a flight plan to Owosso.

The plane fell into a wooded area of Hartland Township in Livingston County, about two miles east of the intersection of U.S. 23 and M 59.

possibility of a change in site if the hospital location proved to be unfeasible because of construction problems, but the public voted for the issue on the assumption that the new high school would be built at the state hospital site," he said.

Construction of the school was approved by the board of education seven months ago. Board members have been aiming for an opening date of September, 1971.

Schools Superientendent Dana P. Whitmer says Pontiac Central High School is outdated and overcrowded, a situation generating educational anti-disciplinary problems, and a new high school should replace it as soon as possible.

The school board was ready to nail down the hospital grounds officially as the site of the school complex in August when the Pontiac Area Planning Council asked the board to wait for more evidence.

The PAPC board of governors recommended the delay in site selection until a professional planner could complete a study on whether there was a more suitable city site.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Last week Lewis delivered his findings to the PAPC and they favored a newly considered site — some 55 acres centered at Orchard Lake Road and at Bagley. PAPC now wants the board to wait until Lewis finalizes his report before making any decision.

'BOARD'S COMMITTED'

Webster maintains that Lewis didn't show what the hospital site could do for the city. Webster said that unless there is direct evidence that the hospital site is unfeasible the board is committed to it.

Webster points to a January 24 resolution of the board of education which says the school board "intends to locate the school on a site on the state hospital grounds unless subsequent events or new information derived from further studies makes this unfeasible or impossible."

He said the study council asked for the resolution fixing the site in order to be able to push the bond issue.

"We felt we couldn't sell generalities," he said. "The PSC sold the location to the public in the best of faith," he said.

DIDN'T LIVE UP

Webster said he feels the board "has not lived up to its commitment."

"I don't see why it's not already underway," he said.

At the same time, he says, youth should be prepared to accept the responsibilities and consequences, good or bad, that result from such decisions.

Boyle Marks 25 Years as a Columnist

By HAL BOYLE

BOYLE

Glancing at a calendar recently, I was surprised to note that I have now spent 25 years in this odd, lonesome and sometimes rewarding industry.

The nation as a whole seems to have taken my silver anniversary pretty much in stride.

Congress in its rush to adjourn failed to pass any resolution of congratulation. President Johnson neglected to declare a national holiday. No flags were specially flown for the occasion, no guns boomed in salute, no skyrockets were fired, no church bells pealed in celebration.

Sometimes I get the feeling that this country is becoming too sophisticated for its own good.

TIME TAKES TOLL

A quarter of a century isn't a long time in the life of a public building or a redwood tree, but it does take a toll of a man. The turmoil of churning out some 6,000 columns has removed some of the starch from my spinal column and left me noticeably shorter of hair, breath, teeth, and sometimes — when dealing with press agents — of temper.

I am grateful that this job has enabled me to meet and write about literally hundreds of interesting people. It has also permitted me to see the best of some 67 countries throughout the world and the worst of three wars.

Woes have multiplied since I first sat down at my typewriter and waited for someone to laugh.

The New York Yankees fell apart, prices have risen, our prestige abroad has fallen to a new low, what the country needs now is a good dime instead of a nickel cigar, and parking places are harder than ever to find.

ALL AGES TROUBLED

Youth is rebellious, the old feel forgotten, and the middle-aged feel that Uncle Sam is breaking their back with taxes.

Diplomatically, we're doing so badly that even Gen. Charles de Gaulle must be tempted to send us a get-well card.

VP Tosses Haymakers, but He's Only 'Shadowboxing'

NEW YORK (AP) — Foiled in efforts to confront his opponent in nationally televised debates, Hubert H. Humphrey pointed at a white "X" on the floor to his right, announced it represented Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon, and began asking it questions.

He also gave the answers.

"Why oppose Medicare? Why oppose federal aid to education?" Humphrey asked the "X" Friday night in Madison Square Garden during a speech to some 14,000 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Then the Democratic presidential nominee gave the answers. He said Nixon had predicted Medicare wouldn't work, had voted against a federal education program while vice president in the 1950s and had called the 1963 nuclear test-ban treaty "catastrophic nonsense" and "a cruel hoax."

SEES AN UPSWING

This took place as Humphrey neared the end of a week of campaigning in large Midwestern and Eastern states, hoarse from up to 10 speeches a day but confident his drive for the presidency has taken an upswing.

He flies to Washington today for a rally at a shopping center in the capital's suburbs at Suitland, Md., his only scheduled public appearance of the day.

★ ★ ★

In addition to resting for the final two-week drive opening Monday, Humphrey plans to work on a nationally televised program scheduled Sunday night in time he purchased for a debate with Nixon and third-party candidate George C. Wallace. The debate plan was canceled after Nixon did not respond to Humphrey's invitation.

★ ★ ★

In Hartford and in Waterbury, Conn., Friday, Humphrey was enthusiastically received by crowds of about 8,000 each.

DISTINCT MINORITY

But at the Lycoming Division of Avco Co. at Stratford, Wallace supporters among the plant's blue collar workers, although a distinct minority of a crowd estimated by company officials at 9,000, gave the vice president his most vigirous booing in several weeks.

★ ★ ★

Pointing to one "young man I see there with his white face," Humphrey said, "It isn't a black man that is going to take your job, it is a Republican administration that is going to take your job."

At Waterbury, considered to have considerable Wallace support, Humphrey told his audience about his heavy speaking schedule, saying this is why "I look a little tired."

"All I have got is myself and you," he told the crowd, promising that if all work against the Republicans, "We'll give them the whipping of their lives."

After he spoke, supporters surrounded the vice president, pressing forward to touch him and shake his hand.

It took several dozen policemen to rescue Humphrey, something that has not happened previously in his campaign.

★ ★ ★

Amidst all the pushing and shoving, at least two persons were either injured or became ill.

Must Expose Threat of 3rd Party--Muskie

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie says George C. Wallace's philosophy is "so alien to all America has stood for" that the other candidates for president should seek to engage him in debate, not avoid it.

Muskie, who has hammered at Nixon for more than a week for not agreeing to a nationally televised debate, used the Irv Kupcinet television discussion program Friday to detail his thinking about Wallace.

The program was recorded for broadcast tonight.

The other guest on the program, Robert Merriam, a Republican leader and former mayoral candidate in Chicago, said that Nixon "feels that which Mr. Wallace is standing for, and the whole third party concept, is something he doesn't want to give visibility to . . . or give him a large audience for it."

Muskie replied, "I don't think we can wish Mr. Wallace away or pretend he doesn't exist."

He added that late polls show Wallace with 20 per cent of the voters, and this many votes for Wallace Nov. 5 would "inhibit Congress in a lot of programs."

"The only way to meet the Wallace threat is to expose it," he said, "and the only way to expose it is to let him appear on a platform with those who hold a different view . . .

★ ★ ★

"I think his whole philosophy so alien to all America has stood for 180 years that he ought to be hit head on."

The Maine senator returns to Washington tonight after a daylong visit to Oklahoma. He plans to take the day off Sunday and move into New England next week, starting with a Monday visit to Massachusetts.

Wallace Will Hit 11 States in 6 Days

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace embarks Monday on a campaign tour that will rush him through 11 states in six days.

The former Alabama governor, tired after a lengthy trip, canceled Friday appearances in Kansas and Missouri and returned to Montgomery Thursday night to prepare television tapes.

★ ★ ★

Wallace's forthcoming trip, on the heels of a 17-state campaign trek that lasted 11 days, will begin at a noon rally in Bristol, Tenn. He will return to Montgomery Nov. 1 after appearances in Terre Haute, Ind., and Cincinnati, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

In between will be short stops in Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Virginia, North Carolina, New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The New York appearance will be the highlight of the tour—a rally at Madison Square Garden.

TO CONFER WITH LeMAY

Before leaving Montgomery, Wallace plans to confer with running mate Curtis E. LeMay then go to Washington Sunday to appear on the "Meet the Press" television program.

LeMay toured South Vietnam this week at Wallace's request and is expected back in the United States this weekend.

According to Walace—LeMay headquarters, the first two of a series of eight brief network spot advertisements prepared by Wallace will also be telecast this weekend.

Wallace told newsmen Friday that he canceled his Midwest appearances because of the necessity of preparing the tapes.

Nixon Says Bomb-Halt Talk Has Slight Impact

CHICAGO (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, expressing confidence he leads in the race for the White House, has acknowledged that the swirl of talk about a halt in the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam is changing the campaign situation—but not by much.

The Republican presidential nominee remains optimistic about his prospects for victory over Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey — his Democratic rival and a likely political beneficiary of any Vietnam peace gesture.

"The Vietnam thing has changed things," Nixon said in an interview. "How much, I don't know. I doubt that it will change things a great deal."

Nixon had already said he would support a bombing halt if President Johnson ordered one.

'IT'S NOT POLITICS'

In Boston Friday night, Nixon expressed confidence that Johnson is not waging the peace effort with any political aims. "Now that there seems to be some movement, I for one am not going to indicate there is any political motivation," Nixon said. "I don't think there is."

Nixon said Johnson wants peace, wants to stop the casualties. "He ought to be given the chance to get the talks off dead center," he said.

* * *

Nixon said in a New England campaign telecast that there seems to be movement in that direction. "We can't be sure, but there seems to be some movement," he said.

"Right at the present time, some very delicate negotiations are going on," he said.

HIS DECISION

Nixon said those negotiations involve possible U.S. approval of a bombing halt "provided it is one that increases the chance to bring the war to an honorable conclusion." He said once again that the decision is Johnson's.

"There's only one man, the President of the United States, who can be captain of this team," Nixon said.

In Chicago today, Nixon said the United States is "losing a battle" against organized crime and pledged that if he becomes president the syndicates are finished.

"We need leadership which will pledge that organized crime is finished in this country, that the battle we are in will be won by the forces of law and order," Nixon said in a campaign statement. "I make such a pledge."

NO INITIATIVE

Nixon said the Democratic administration has failed to provide "the leadership, the dedication and the initiative needed to win this battle."

Among the steps Nixon said are needed are legislation to ban investment in legitimate business of money gathered illegally and creation of a national academy to train law enforcement officers in sophisticated modern devices and techniques.

"We need an attorney general who is able to see the problem of organized crime for what it is: the most serious threat to law and order in our country today," Nixon said.

Spiro a Foreign Affairs 'Expert'?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Spiro T. Agnew complains no one ever asks him to demonstrate his "new-found expertise" in foreign affairs.

"The thing that amazes me about this inquisition into my foreign affairs experience is that it always comes up in a quiz program and nobody asks me the questions," the Republican candidate for vice president told a television questioner Friday.

* * *

Taping a television show that was aired in Detroit Friday night, the Maryland governor said he would "love to demonstrate my new found expertise in this area, but nobody wants to take me up on it."

Agnew said he had "very profound" thoughts about Vietnam and Southeast Asia. He said he thought the United States had not only a right but an obligation to be in Vietnam he added, "I have every hope we'll be able to disengage militarily in the near future."

Asked if that meant he would settle for a stalemate, Agnew replied, "In these days, when nuclear catastrophe is a possibility in an all-out military effort to win, I'd rather see a stalemate."

* * *

He said, "A stalemate leaving us with the 17th Parallel separating the countries (of North and South Vietnam)—I'd consider that pretty good."

* *

On the same show, Agnew said he did not plan to take his campaign into ghetto areas.

AVOIDING GHETTO

He said he has been in many slums "and to some extent, I would have to say if you've seen one city slum, you've seen them all."

Negro Baptist Pastors Back GOP Nominee

DETROIT (AP) — A group representing more than 120 Detroit-area Negro ministers has endorsed Republican candidate Richard Nixon for the presidency. Four years ago, its choice was Democrat Lyndon B. Johnson.

The endorsement came from the Baptist Ministers' Conference of Detroit.

* * *

Eight years as vice president and part-time president, the group said, gives Nixon the edge over other candidates.

Charles Williams, conference president, said that he has respect for the Democratic candidate, Vice President Hubert Humphrey, but he sees no chance for uniting the Democratic party.

'Home' Olympic Team Steals Plaudits

Obviously, the greatest hand was duly paid the home team. Sartorially, they really deserved it, anyway. After an hour and a half parade of the most colorfully garbed participants imaginable, the Mexican team marched in solemnly in spotless white. With their jet black hair offering a vivid contrast, they drew a tremendous hand from the 90,000 spectators.

And they deserved it.

The next greatest welcome was impulsively awarded Czechoslovakia. This team drew a steady round of applause all the way around the quarter mile track. Surely, they understood the attitude of this great international throng.

Our own U.S. contingent was greeted in a friendly way but the recognition was no greater than that given may others. To the embarrassment of thousands of U.S. spectators our team's garb was lifeless and stood a dismal last in the overall picture of big countries.

Forest Products Week Observance Poses Issues

The importance of the modern timber industry to the life of the nation will be highlighted during National Forest Products Week, which begins tomorrow. During this period, we should give renewed thought to the importance of wise public policy on matters of timberland use.

In just 30 years, it is expected that the U.S. population will be 340 million, and demand for the recreation and products available from the Nation's forests will be immensely increased.

Against this background of growing demand, it is difficult to understand the viewpoint of those who advocate locking up excessively large acreages of productive forest land in national parks and wilderness areas with only limited recreational use permitted and timber harvesting prohibited.

Often these proposals are pushed against the wishes of the people living in the areas affected. An example is to be found in the case of the North Cascades Park Proposal in Washington State. During hearings on the legislation, the House Interior Committee reportedly received 4,129 pieces of mail favorable to the bill, of which only 2,538 were from Washington. Nearly 8,000 expressed their opposition to North Cascades Park and nearly 7,500 of these were from the state of Washington.

Despite this grassroots opposition, legislation shelved earlier in the year was resurrected providing for the lockup of some 576,000 acres on the North Cascades in a new national park including an additional 634,000 acres in wilderness and recreation areas to be maintained in such an inaccessible state that relatively few people will ever see them.

National Forest Products Week would be an excellent time to reassess the wisdom of such policies. An increasing number of Americans have an ever-greater need for the products and the recreational enjoyment that our forest land can provide.

★ ★ ★

To follow a policy that reduces the availability of either of these flies in the face of common sense.

Suppression of Free Speech Symbol of Tyranny

In Czechoslovakia, Communist totalitarian has destroyed its most feared enemy — the free press. Newspapers and broadcasters in that country are now forbidden to make any news reports that "could be considered as criticism" by the Soviet-led occupation forces.

In the United States, nearly 11,000 newspapers serve as watchdogs of the public interest. The editors are free to report the news and comment on it as they see fit. With the free press looking over its shoulder, government from the City Hall to the White House has to be mindful of public opinion, and outright oppression of the people becomes impossible.

For various reasons, freedom of the press in the United States has been criticized and proposals advanced to limit its obligation to report the news. Different explanations for this have been cited, including national security and the question of whether pretrial reporting of crime news works to the disadvantage of those on trial.

In debating the latter point with a member of the legal profession, the managing editor of The New York Times said, "We newspapermen do not believe that a law degree makes a man more honorable than a degree in journalism . . . I have absolutely no doubt that the free press in America has prevented and corrected far more injustice than it has committed."

This about sums it up. The action taken in Czechoslovakia is another reminder of the role played by the free press in preserving the freedom of any society, including our own.

The POWER of FAITH

FAITH IN THE CARIBBEAN—3

Dr. and Mrs. Christian Engels of Willemstad, Curacao, have extended their faith to the rural area of that island. Both are very fine artists and musicians, and the doctor composes and writes poetry.

Mrs. Engels, who paints many religious subjects, one evening expressed a need for a larger painting area. The doctor suggested, "I will build you a chapel and you can have the walls for your paintings." That was the beginning of the small Roadside Chapel for the people at Daniel.

The Engels had been married for 12 years and had no children. When Mrs. Engels started her paintings in the newly built chapel she learned that she was pregnant, and later gave birth to twins. To many the chapel is known as the Chapel of the Twins and it has been told that, as the result of Mrs. Engel's experience, childless women of the area go to the chapel to pray for children.

The chapel was dedicated and blessed by the Vicar 16 years ago. There are no priests, only a caretaker in the neighborhood. Besides Mrs. Engel's paintings on the walls, there is a fine, modern statue of the Pieta, which the doctor acquired from Brazil, and candles and an altar.

The little Roadside Chapel at Daniel has been open night and day for more than 16 years and nothing has been damaged or destroyed. It is the sacred trust of the whole community and all who visit the Chapel of the Twins.

Confident Living:

Priceless Quality of Believing

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

It is a powerful law that if you change mental habits so that you can believe, at once you start bringing everything into the realm of possibility. This does not mean that merely by believing you will get everything you want. Of course not. But it does definitely mean that once you learn to believe, then the seemingly impossible moves into the area of the possible. Things really start going for you.

DR. PEALE

Dr. Smiley Blanton, distinguished psychiatrist, explained that in helping people the primary effort is to develop in them the "capacity to believe." Everything hinges on one's learning to have faith, so he said.

Some people do not seem able to be believers — either in God, or in themselves, or in their activities. As a result they never get very far, just go limping along through life. But others have the priceless quality of believing. They are able to have faith in God, in themselves and in their jobs. And so they become the real achievers of this world.

Sir Winston Churchill, one of the great characters of history, demonstrated this indomitable faith. During the war he decided that what he called "floating harbors" were desperately needed. He summoned the best engineers in England and outlined how he wanted them to make these floating harbors.

They said it could not be done. He replied that, even so, he wanted floating harbors constructed. The engineers became angry, quarrelled with him and told him again it could not be done, that what he asked was impossible.

Churchill barked back at them, "Don't quarrel with me; quarrel with your difficulties. Make me those floating harbors. I know you can make them. I must have them. Get busy." And they did make them, and those floating harbors played an important role in the ultimate victory.

Impossible! Cannot be done! How many times have you said that? If you drop the impossibles and think in terms of the possibles—if you learn to believe — all things will for a fact move into the area of possibility. Everything then shall become different, creatively better.

How then do we learn to believe? Practice believing is the secret; practicing believing until you make yourself a believer. Nobody ever learned to master anything except by intensive and persistent practice.

So if you want to be a believer, the kind of person who does so-called impossible things, start now to practice being a believer. Simply say to yourself, and say it very positively: "I believe!" and then say it again, and still again. Every day many times repeat those two magic words. "I believe, I believe."

Your mind may be so geared to disbelieving that at first it will resist your affirmations and you may abandon your new direction. Your mind may slyly say: "You are a fool. You do not want to believe at all. Do not let that positive thinking guy persuade you to say foolishly: 'I believe.' Haven't I, your mind, guided you for a long time? I know you better than you know yourself. Do not take stock in such procedure."

If your mind reacts in this manner it is likely not at home with a faith attitude — it has been conditioned in fact to disbelieve. But, if to your mind you firmly say: "Look, stop being negative. I do believe!"; and if you keep saying that persistently, presently your mind will accept your will to believe.

You can do practically anything with your mind that you have a mind to. Do this and you will no longer be frustrated by negative thoughts. Build possibility — thinking into your mind and negatives will stop holding you back. You will come to believe in possibles, not impossibles.

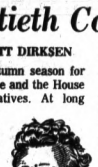
Ninetieth Congress Closes Up Shop

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

It is the autumn season for both the Senate and the House of Representatives. At long last, this past week, the time arrived for final adjournment.



DIRKSEN

Many members of Congress sped to the political contests, either to campaign for re-election or to campaign for their colleagues or a candidate for the Presidency.

Twenty-two of the senators will be running for re-election. That means that they have returned home to campaign. It should be noted that only one-third of the Senate is elected every two years.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps a dozen senators will attend the sessions of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization parliamentarians in Brussels, Belgium, or the Commonwealth Parlimentary Union in Nassau.

There is not the slightest hint that a single senator will be campaigning for the third-party ticket.

The fact of a third-party ticket for the Presidency and the Vice Presidency emphasizes one of the interesting aspects of the 1968 campaign. Both the Senate and House are made up of members who are definitely identified with one or the other of the two major parties. In fact, both House and Senate are organized on a party basis.

The officers of both houses have a party affiliation, but they serve all members with impartial devotion.

The chairmen of all committees — whether standing, joint, select or special — will be members of the majority party. The minority party will have a membership on all committees based on a ratio which each party has in the entire Senate membership.

Should there ever be a third-party President and there then be no members of the Senate or House who are identified with such third party, it would become an interesting speculation indeed as to whether the long era of executive domination of the federal government, which began with Franklin Delano Roosevelt, will have come to an end and whether the Congress will have moved into a position of dominant authority.

Although Congress has adjourned, it could be called back into session. The Constitution gives the President power to reconvene the Congress — or either of its two branches — at any time after sine die adjournament, if the President sees fit. It is not expected, however, that this will be done.

In the Reorganization Act of 1946 is a provision that Congress shall adjourn on or before July 31 of each year. But it contains a clause to the effect that the adjournment provision shall not apply during time of war or during a national emergency.

Strangely enough, the "emergency" which is alleged to exist springs from the situation in Korea. A truce was contrived on July 27, 1953, but that is not a peace treaty. Therefore, the Korean War Emergency supposedly is still in effect.

Citizen States His Views on Site for City School

Regarding the placing of the "Great New High School," I was on the committee for the Finance Study Council and on the speakers bureau. I feel that when we went to city groups and explained what the school would be and where it would go this was in the form of a promise to the people that voted for the millage increase. Since the report has been accepted by the Board of Education, different groups have tried to get the new school in other places.

It was not my opinion that the City schools had an urban renewal department. I feel that the City and school should work together, but not (just because the school has some money) that they should go into the renewal of land when there is more suitable land that is clear and ready for use.

★ ★ ★

It was reported the new school located on the hospitals grounds would not do anything to improve the City. If providing education for 4,500 students and improving other schools in the system is doing nothing for the City, maybe some should reassess their values. If people consider the cost of clearing 68 acres against the cost of the hospital grounds, there can be no other consideration made than the hospital grounds.

'Members Shouldn't Be Told How to Vote'

Who does Walter Reuther think he is? He gets big money to be a labor leader, not a dictator. I don't think it is any of his concern who the men vote for. I believe it's time for a new union president as well as one for the U.S.A. I think each man in the plant should vote.

'Urge Voters to Check Graduated State Tax'

Few people know about the graduated state tax for Michigan, and it will appear on the November ballot. This state tax system would be worthwhile looking into since it will affect the middle and lower income earners as well as big businesses. Michigan is the only state that prohibits a graduated state income tax. Taxpayers talk of how they have nothing to say about taxes. This is one time you have the opportunity. Before you vote, check it out and see just how the graduated tax will affect you.

Presidential Election Still Popular Topic

I haven't decided how I will vote but I wish the two old political parties would stop trying to scare voters out of voting for George Wallace. They paint terrible pictures of what will happen if he is elected. We should realize that the Senate and Congress really run the Country and that if things got as bad as they say, the president could be impeached.

Most Americans are tired of fighting communism in Asia and catering to it at home. They also do not like the Supreme Court decision that tied the hands of our police. Taxpaying voters are also tired of being taxed to death for a lot of foolishness.

E. C. J. PONTIAC

One reader thinks we have better times under the Democrats than under Republicans. Before the Depression of 1932 the good times were under the Republicans. For the past eight years we have had two of the greatest spendthrifts — JFK and LBJ. This year we have 276,000 more Federal employes than last year. Evidently LBJ was trying to get enough people on the Federal payroll to swing an election. If one wants to see this Country go under, elect HHH and we will get another dose of what we have been getting.

GLENN YUILLE
88 Newberry

The main issue in the presidential campaign is who is going to stop aid and trade with the Communist countries helping the Vietcong slaughter our American fighting men. The war in Vietnam will continue until supplies made possible by the suicidal polices of those who aid our enemies are shut off. Humphrey can't, Nixon probably won't because he stood silent as the blood flowed in Hungary and Cuba. That leaves George Wallace who has said he will stop aid to the Communists. Let's stand up for America and let George do it.

Question and Answer

I've read that New York City traffic actually moves more slowly today than in horse-and-buggy days. Is this true?

R. M.

REPLY

According to information from the city's transportation administrator, the average speed in New York City is 8.5 m.p.h., compared to 11.5 m.p.h. for horse-drawn vehicles in 1907. We assume this refers to traffic in downtown Manhattan.

Question and Answer

Can someone give me a scientific reason for the fact that for several nights late in the summer there was no trace of the moon?

MRS. COLBY

REPLY

There's no difficult science involved, but unlike the sun, the moon doesn't rise and set at the same time every day. Mrs. Esau of Cranbrook Science Institute says the nights you saw no moon were days during the new moon phase when the moon is close to the sun and is up all day and down all night. There are many moonless nights during the year, and The Pontiac Press tells you when the moon will rise and set every day. Check the weather data on page 2, column 1.

Answers Letter on College Demonstrations

Having read and reread the letter by Mr. Basch, is he implying that our young men in service, and mainly Vietnam, are not as well informed or smart as his college demonstrators? True, demonstrators have the right to their opinions — thanks to the young men who are trying to keep our Country free so they may have this right — but when they can ridicule their own country, something is very wrong. Our young men haven't asked for your admiration, just that their families are safe, that they can come home and that the people they are fighting for have the decency to stand with them.

★ ★ ★

I am proud of our country and prouder still of our young men who believe enough in their country to fight for it and not demonstrate against it. I am not of college level. I am just a mother who is proud of her son and I dislike insulting remarks tossed his way.

'Grateful for Influence of English Teacher'

I express my sincere gratitude to a wonderful English teacher at West Bloomfield High School. Through literature and poetry I have realized the problems of our society. I have learned to read the emotions that the author feels, and feel with him. By writing papers I have learned the value of written communication. Situations and issues must be faced with concreteness instead of generalization. Writing, reading and verbal action are our only ways in which to solve our world problems. Communications is the key word. Mrs. Ruth Leinweker helped open my eyes to the true value of English and life as it is.

'Peanut Butter Investigation Was Justified'

In reply to the editorial condemning the Food and Drug Adminstration investigation of peanut butter, I, for one taxpayer, believe the investigation is highly justified and urgently needed in this day of putting money ahead of public welfare. Many depend on peanut butter sandwiches to supply a good portion of their protein needs.

If manufacturers were allowed to replace peanuts with filler products, lowering the food value, it wouldn't stop there. To save money, the trend would spread and we would be a nation deprived of valuable and needed nutrients which we depend on from the foods we eat.

Ohio Delays Its Case in Boundary Dispute

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ohio remained silent Friday while Michigan pressed its claim for part of Lake Erie—then decided to give its side of a 133-year-old dispute next spring.

It was a quiet verbal skirmish in the book-lined chambers of Judge Albert M. Maris of the 3rd U.S. Court of Appeals. This renewal of the so-called "Toledo War" was fought with official documents, surveyor's maps and geological surveys.

In contention are 200 square miles of lake, a triangular-shaped section containing about 128,000 acres. Michigan and Ohio nearly went to war over the boundary line but President Andrew Jackson, in 1835, cooled off the hotheads.

SIMMERED SINCE

Since then the question has simmered, unanswered, as commissions and conferences and correspondence failed to resolve the impasse. Now that there might be rich deposits of oil and gas beneath the polluted waters —well?

Michigan asked the U. S. Supreme Court to fix the boundary and the high tribunal named Maris as master.

Nicholas Olds, assistant attorney general for Michigan's Conservation Department, questioned two witnesses and inserted 45 exhibits into the record.

Charles S. Lopeman, chief counsel in the office of Ohio's attorney general, declined to cross-examine - "no, anyway." He accepted the judge's suggestion to present his case sometime next spring, in April or or May. Lopeman thought "we should be able to state our case in less than a day, too."

FEW MONTHS LONGER

Maris said, "This has been simmering for over 100 years, it seems that there should be no objection to have it simmer a few months longer."

Olds said, "this bottomland belongs to Michigan, and our documents prove it."

Lopeman, disputing, said "if it's ours we don't want to lose it."

Deputy Gets Promotion to Sergeant

A 35-year-old deputy sheriff assumed duties as desk supervisor today after being promoted to sergeant by Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons.

SCHOLZ

Promoted was Frederick Scholz of Walled Lake, a veteran of more than four years with the department and 12 years in police work.

★ ★ ★

Scholz, married and the father of a 7-year-old girl, saw service aboard a submarine during the Korean War and owns citations from both the sheriff's department and the National Rifle Association for pistol marksmanship.

Gravediggers Are on Strike

FLAT ROCK (AP)—A strike by gravediggers and maintenance men may force a Flat Rock cemetery to store caskets in a mausoleum until the labor dispute is settled, the cemetery manager said Friday.

John Heston, manager of Michigan Memorial Park Inc., said supervisory and sales personnel would dig graves and do other burial work in an effort to continue services.

★ ★ ★

Fifteen gravediggers and maintenance men struck the cemetery Thursday after negotiations broke down over terms of an initial contract. The strikes are members of Local 115-F, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

Noting the strikers were picketing around the clock, Heston said, "I can't understand why, unless they think we're going to have people digging graves at night."

LeMay Sees No Value in Bombing Halt

SAIGON (AP) — Curtis E. LeMay said today he sees no value in a bombing halt of North Vietnam because past suspensions "have produced no tangible results toward a settlement or a negotiated peace."

The third-party vice presidential candidate made the statement at an airport news conference before he left for Washington. It was his only meeting with newsmen during his four-day visit to the war zone.

LeMay said he had no knowledge of a reported U.S. proposal to end the bombing as a move toward peace. The 61-year-old retired Air Force chief of staff said past bombing halts have "cost us in resources and in lives due to the fact that the enemy took advantage of it."

★ ★ ★

LeMay will brief his running mate, George C. Wallace, when he returns to Washington. The former Alabama governor appears on the NBC television program "Meet the Press" on Sunday.

VIEWS UNCHANGED

LeMay said that he had seen and heard nothing that essentially altered his views on the war or administration policy but added, "I think we can come up with a proper and efficient solution to the problem."

★ ★ ★

After a visit Friday to the carrier America to watch air strikes being launched against North Vietnam, LeMay repeated his view that U.S. planes "have always been hitting the wrong targets."

SCRAMBLER

A NEW IDEA IN ACTION FUN!

A new concept in mobility. Six wheels of go-anywhere, do-anything excitement. A "SCRAMBLER" is for anywhere that roads aren't. It makes its own. Through sand, swamp, snow or whathave you. "SCRAMBLER" is amphibious. It'll ford a stream. Cross a pond. Get you to a duck blind. You can Scramble up 45 degree grades. If there's snow on the ground, "SCRAMBLER'S" a snowmobile. If there's a swamp to ramp through, it's a swamp buggy. If there's ground around, it's a go-kart. But mostly a "SCRAMBLER" is just plain fun. For sportsmen, hunters and families. Reading about a "SCRAMBLER", even seeing one in action doesn't communicate the thrill of Scrambling. You have to try it yourself.

A Junior Editors Quiz About— PIANO

QUESTION: Who invented pianos and why are there three strings for each note?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Pianos evolved from clavichords and harpsichords, which, although having keyboards, produced only thin, feeble sounds. Harpsichords added several strings to the note in a search for greater strength, but since sound was made by the plucking of a quill, a full, strong tone was impossible to produce.

In 1700, Bartolommeo Cristofori invented leather-tipped hammers, which struck the strings from below and instantly fell back. This became the principle of the modern piano.

About 10 of the deepest piano tones are produced by long, single strings, wrapped in wire to make them heavier and get a deeper pitch. A group of 18 of the next higher notes, as in a baby grand piano, have two strings each to produce them. This number increases to three for the balance of the 60 notes found in the middle to the high range.

This last group of strings, being shorter, produces less sound. This is why three strings to each note are needed to make enough sound. Lower notes with strong sound can be produced with fewer strings to the note.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Auction of Rare Cars Will Lure Many Buffs

LONDON (AP) — A plush limousine once used by an Indian maharajah to go tiger hunting and a bullet-holed Rolls-Royce used to inspect troops in France during World War I come under the hammer at a London auction next Friday.

★ ★ ★

The sale includes 74 veteran, vintage and thoroughbred horseless carriages dating from the pioneer days of motoring, and collectors are expected from many parts of the world.

Although made in the 1920s, a specially ventilated Lanchester is claimed to have only done 4,000 miles. It was owned by the outrider seats on each side, presumably for tiger spotters or for shooters.

The star item in the sale is a 1914 Silver Ghost Rolls-Royce Continental Tourer which is believed to be complete to original Maharajah of Rewa. It has two specification. Bullet marks on the bonnet were made by German snipers as its first owner, Col. Sir Francis McClean, toured battle areas of France.

GLORIOUS RELIC

Rolls-Royce Silver Ghosts are regarded by collectors as just about the ultimate in antique autos. As glorious relics of a bygone age, they now change hands at auctions at 10 times their original cost, which was in the neighborhood of $5,000 to $6,000 or more.

Another notable sales offer is a 1912 N.A.G. sports two-seater which had a leading role in the film "Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines."

Also offered is a 4½-liter Bentley sports salon which in 1939 set the one-hour record for its class with an average of 107 miles an hour. The driver was speed ace Capt. George Eyston.

Only three such models were made and the other two were destroyed during World War II.

OTHER CLASSICS

The oldest powered vehicle in the sale to be conducted by Sotheby's, is an 1898 Dechamps motor tricycle but equally interesting is a 1901 De Dion-Bouton which was discovered in an abandoned cycle workshop at Crewe, England, in 1933. To get at the relic a tree which had grown up outside the workshop door had to be chopped down.

Nursing Home Exec Chosen

A Pontiac nursing-home official, Basil Boyce, has been named to a special nursing home study committee by Gov. Romney.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Boyce will be part of the 11-member committee named by Romney to review state reimbursement for nursing home care. The study was called for as a part of an agreement between the state and the MNHA on state rates paid to nursing homes.

New York Patrolman Group Starts Work Slowdown Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The 22,000-man Patrolmen's Benevolent Association today began a work slowdown—the first in the history of the city police department that serves nearly 8 million people.

PBA President John J. Cassese, announcing the slowdown, said union members would be directed to report sick in relays beginning Monday in a tactic to strip the force of 20 per cent of its manpower.

* * *

Other actions in the slowdown, called to back wage demands, include stopping the issuance of summonses for traffic or parking violations, a halt in towing away illegally parked vehicles and refusing assignment to one-man patrol cars.

In the first hours after the slowdown went into effect at midnight police reported that the only immediate consequence was the assignment of two patrolmen to each radio car. Police said the effect of other actions would not be noticable until later.

TOP LEVEL MEETING

Mayor John V. Lindsay met with Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary and Chief Inspector Sanford Garelik Friday night.

An aide said the three "discussed action to insure public safety in view of the slowdown and other service curtailment."

* * *

The decision to go ahead with the long threatened slowdown came at a shout-filled meeting of the union's 300-member delegate assembly, where Lindsay's offer of a wage parity study was rejected.

PACT REJECTED

Cassese and a team of negotiators had agreed to a tentative contract settlement with the city last week but the delegate assembly turned the pact down, demanding higher pay than the city's housing and transit police.

"You can rest assured that when it comes to crime fighting, our men will be there," Cassese told newsmen in announcing the decision. But the sick call order, if carried out, would mean that 1,200 of the 6,000 men on each of three eight-hour shifts may not be doing any police work.

* * *

Cassese said the PBA members were angry over recent attacks on policemen. "All the money in the world won't compensate" for the shootings, he said.

The rejected contract would have given the patrolmen a $1,367 increase over two years to a minimum salary of $10,750.

Cassese said the union wanted to reopen negotiations and seek a minimum of $12,000.

CATV Policies Set for FCC Clarification

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission indicated Friday that it will clarify its policies regulating the community antenna television industry.

* * *

In a letter to New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, the FCC commended a New York task force study on CATV and disclosed that it, too, is looking into problems caused by the growth of the industry.

* * *

Commenting on highlights of the New York study, the commission said it is also investigating such matters as cross-ownership of a CATV system and a local broadcast station; technical standards to insure quality of cable television service; originations by CATV with or without commercials and applicability of equal opportunities and fairness requirements to these originations.

HEARINGS SCHEDULED

New York City has scheduled hearings next week on the originations of CATV programs, and the FCC said it is "very interested in the city's constructive efforts to realize the promise of cable television and its potential contribution to the varied communications needs of a large urban center."

Currently, there is no specific FCC rule which forbids CATV systems to originate programs. It has ruled in two cases—one in California and the other in North Carolina—that a CATV system could originate programs, but it prohibited the transmission of advertising.

* * *

"As you will note," the FCC told Lindsay, "these decisions point up that this issue will be further considered in an appropriate rule-making proceeding, and that CATV operations will be subject to the outcome of that proceeding."

Inmates Send Yule Check to 'Adopted' Girl

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Nine-year-old Georgia Pavlidaki may already have a Christmas present.

That is, if a $50 check from her "foster parents," the inmates of Tucker Prison Farm, has cleared the red tape and reached her at her home on the island of Crete.

* * *

The inmates adopted the Greek girl about 10 months ago under the Foster Parents Plan and raised about $180 initially for her support. They decided several weeks ago to send the Christmas present.

Georgia's father was killed in an automobile accident about a year ago and she lives with her mother and two brothers, one 15 and the other 11.

Tucker Supt. Don Bassett said the mother earns 84 cents a day as a farm hand. Georgia receives about $8 a month of the inmates' $180 from the Foster Parent Plan.

Bassett said one of the leaders in the drive to raise the money was James Dean Walker, serving a life sentence for the slaying of a North Little Rock policeman. About 75 per cent of the 275 to 300 inmates contributed, Bassett said.

* * *

They have written to her and she writes back, Bassett said.

Georgia has written that she would like to see the inmates. She thanks them and tells about herself.

The inmates have told her they work on a farm and describe the work they do, such as picking and chopping cotton. The letters are signed "Tucker inmates."

Waterford Board to Air Resolution

A resolution regarding the unit factor of assessment for the Waterford-Pontiac Arm sewer project between Elizabeth Lake and Voorheis is scheduled to be discussed by the Waterford Township Board Monday.

Other items on the agenda include first notice of a liquor license request, building department report, bids for insurance policy on township vehicles and bid analysis report on plastic tubing for the water department.

The meeting is scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. in the Waterford Township High School.

Nearly two-thirds of the 41,000 interstate system of highways is now open and construction is under way on an additional 5,700 miles.

MANDON LAKE COMMUNITY CHURCH—Celebrating the 40th anniversary of the founding of the congregation, members of Mandon Lake Community Church, White Lake Township will gather tomorrow in the sanctuary for services both morning and evening. An open house is scheduled for 3 p.m. tomorrow. The new Christian educational unit (at right) to be dedicated tomorrow is constructed of red brick with white trim as is the sanctuary. Azure blue trim covers part of the wood panels by the windows. The Rev. Dorr W. Fockler is paster.

It was 40 years ago today that members of Mandon Lake Community Church gathered in the original white frame building, 915 Round Lake, White Lake Township, to dedicate the church to God. The church was incorporated early in 1928.

The congregation will celebrate the anniversary with the formal dedication of the new Christian education building during the 11 a.m. worship service tomorrow.

The program for the Day of Dedication will begin with Sunday School at 9:45 a.m.

★ ★ ★

An open house is scheduled from 3 to 5 p.m.; and pictures and films of church events will be shown at the 7 p.m. service. Former pastors will participate during the evening and the history of the church reviewed.

Mrs. David B. Olson and Mrs. Gilbert Salkeld are cochairmen for the open house.

CHURCH LEADERS

The new educational unit designed by Architect Eldon P. Eroh and built by the Roy L. Hanson Construction Co. is the second major construction program led by the present pastor, the Rev. Dorr W. Fockler.

In the beginning the church was pastored by lay ministers. The Rev. Mr. Fockler is now in his 22nd year as minister of the church. He preached his first sermon in the Mandon Lake Church in April 1947.

BUILD BASEMENT

According to the pastor, The Sunday School space was enlarge by constructing a basement in the old church in 1953. A new sanctuary was built in 1960.

★ ★ ★

During these years additional property was purchased and a new parsonage erected adjacent to the church.

In March 1954 a Sunday morning Children's Church ministry was started under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth Ganzel. The Sunday School average attendance last year was 363 persons.

★ ★ ★

Members have developed a strong missionary program helping with the support of nine foreign missionaries.

★ ★ ★

Weekday youth groups are now averaging 200 in attendance. Pastor Fockler also serves the community as president of the Greater Pontiac Evangelical Ministers' Fellowship.

LAKESIDE CHAPEL — Worship began in this small chapel, now the Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian, in 1874. Families came by ferry boat, canoes and horse and buggies to services. Those living near by walked.

Area Church News

New Bethel

The combined choirs of New Bethel Baptist Church will celebrate anniversary services at 5 p.m. tomorrow with members of the Senior Choir of Macedonia Baptist Church, guests.

The program will consist of hymns, anthems, and Negro Spirituals.

★ ★ ★

Soloists include Karen Snoddy, Mrs. Monte Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moore. Mrs. Alice O. Rainge is director, and Mrs. Shelia Jacobs, pianist.

Pastor Amos G. Johnson will preach on "I Can't Take It" at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

House of God

The House of God Church, 104 N. Jessie will sponsor a Gospel Singing Hour from 3 to 7 p.m. today at the Fisher Body Union Hall, 821 Baldwin.

Sunday services in the church are Sunday School at 10 a.m.; worship at 11 a.m.; evening service 7:30 p.m. and Bible study and prayer at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian

Members may bring a guest when the Ladies' Guild entertains at a Friendship Dinner Thursday in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

The meeting will begin at 11 a.m.

Hostesses include Mrs. Ella Davis, Mrs. Mable Lloyd, Mrs. Anna Jones and Mrs. Freda Flynn. Others participating at the event will be Mrs. Hazel Cole and Mrs. Joan Allebach.

★ ★ ★

First Presbyterian Birmingham

"No Longer Strangers to Nations of the World" will be the theme of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham Wednesday.

Honored guests and members of a panel will be foreign students from Wayne State University; and Mrs. Hazel Boltwood from the foreign student office.

★ ★ ★

There will be an election preview by Mrs. John Thoms. Mrs. Henry C. McQueen is chairman of the day.

Reservations may be made at the church office for the 12:30 p.m. luncheon and nursery.

South Side Church of God

The South Side Church of God will observe Women's Day tomorrow with Mrs. J. C. Williams of East Side Church of God, speaker for the 11 a.m. worship service.

Mrs. J. M. Early of Northside Church of God in Toledo, Ohio, will be the guest speaker at 3:30 p.m. The choir from the Toledo Church will provide special music. Julia Milton is chairman of the day.

Auburn Heights United Presbyterian

A schedule for daily Bible reading Sunday through Thanksgiving Day will be distributed among members of the Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church at morning worship tomorrow.

Pastor F. William Palmer will preach on "How Do You Read?"

★ ★ ★

Several members of the Sunday School staff will be delegates to the 26th annual Convention of the Michigan Sunday School Association in the Gilead Baptist Church, Detroit Thursday through Saturday.

The Mariners will sponsor a costume party for adult couples on Oct. 26. Refreshments will be served.

FIRST CHURCH — The congregation of Mandon Lake Community Church celebrating its 40th anniversary tomorrow built this white frame church as its first place of worship. The building is presently being used for Junior Church and Sunday School. It was dedicated 40 years ago today.

Convention Begins in Bad Axe Friday

Final plans were completed for the tri-annual convention of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held at the high school in Bad Axe Friday through Oct. 27.

Thornton said there are more than 118,000 Jehovah's Witnesses preaching underground in Russia and 10 other countries where their work is banned.

Research Chemist at Youth Rally

Dr. Duane Gish, research chemist for the Upjohn Co. in Kalamazoo, will speak at the area wide youth rally at 7:30 tonight in the First Baptist Church, Fourth and Walnut, Rochester.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Franklin Workman, youth director of the church, said all area teen-agers are welcome to attend. The rally is sponsored by the Southeastern Michigan Regular Baptist Youth.

In a day when pseudo scientists are endeavoring to destroy our teen-agers' spiritual foundations, Dr. Gish comes with a fresh scientific approach. One of the highlights of his lecture will be an analysis of the recent "Life In a Test Tube" research, Pastor Workman said.

Dr. Gish received his education from the University of California and Cornell University.

In addition to the lecture, there will be a question and answer period, special music on the trumpet by Duane Gish Jr., group singing and a Bible Quiz.

Congregation Marks Silver Anniversary

Families and friends of Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian, 5171 Commerce will celebrate the silver anniversary of the church tomorrow.

Summer worship in the lakeside chapel began in 1874.

On Oct. 24, 1943 the Presbyterian congregation was constituted with 50 charter members. The Rev. Henry D. Jones, then director of Dodge House in Detroit, presided.

The Rev. Barney Roepcke was installed as pastor and five elders were ordained including Charles Wright and Harold Welch who are currently on the Session of the Orchard Lake Church.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Mr. Roepcke now pastor of the North Park United Presbyterian Church in Grand Rapids will preach at 9 and 11 a.m. on the theme "Burning All the Time."

Mr. Wright will assist in the early service and Mr. Welch will participate at the 11 a.m. worship hour.

The Rev. Mr. Jones and Pastor Edward D. Auchard will conduct the worship at both hours.

PROGRAM, TEA

An historical program with tea is planned for Sunday afternoon between 3 and 4 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

The planning committee includes Mrs. Elizabeth Rutledge, chairman, Mrs. R. D. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown, the H. C. Woodbridges and Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Welch.

The Presbyterian mission congregation, established under the leadership of the Rev. Mr. Roepcke, became a self supporting church in 1947. Membership was listed at 559 members when Mr. Roepcke was called to Kalamazoo.

The church has grown to 1,127 communicant members with a Church School enrollment approaching 700.

EXPANSION

Building expansion programs were carried through in 1946, in 1954, and in 1957 and 1958. Additional land adjacent to the church site has been acquired since 1960.

A special consultation committee on advanced planning is looking forward to the challenge of the 1970s, Pastor Auchard said.

★ ★ ★

The Friendship Club of the Orchard Lake Church will meet for a cooperative supper at 6:30 p.m. Friday Jack Van Coevering will present a program entitled "Round the World in Ninety Days."

Revival Scheduled for Zion Church

The Rev. J. W. Burgess, former pastor of Evangelical Holiness Church and presently in the field of evangelism, will conduct the revival at Zion Church of the Nazarene, 239 E. Pike, Sunday through Oct. 27.

Services will be held at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Sundays and at 7 p.m. during the week.

★ ★ ★

The five daughters of the family are well known in church circles for singing hymns and Gospel music. The Rev. Sam Farris is pastor.

MEDITATES ON ICELAND TRIP—Looking over a booklet on Iceland which he purchased when visiting there is the Rev. Arthur C. Kreinheder of St. Augustine's house, Oxford. The Lutheran leader is taking advantage of the brilliant sunshine and fall coloring of Michigan's red and gold maples as he sits on the porch railing of the retreat house. There are very few trees in Iceland, he said.

Visits Lutheran Cathedral

According to the Airline Travel folder, the one-hour stop over in Iceland, at noon, could be extended for another 24 hours at a special rate including hotel in Reyhjavik, meals and sight seeing, so said the Rev. Arthur C. Kreinheder of St. Augustine's House, Oxford upon his return to the Pontaic area last week.

★ ★ ★

He said ever. since he had read an article entitled "Ecumenical Happening" written by Sister Miriam, O.C.D., he was hoping to stop in Iceland on his trip to Sweden to see the new Lutheran Cathedarl at Skalholt.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

"The afternoon took me to the Carmelite Monastery to visit Sister Miriam. En route we stopped at the official residence of the President of Iceland called Bessasastadir.

The Sisters have a large new building overlooking the sea. Through the help of Sister Olaf I was received by Bishop Sigurd Einarsson. I met the bishop's son, Carl, who had spent a year in Seattle as part of his seminary training.

"An unusual feature of the Lutheran service in Iceland," he said, "is that hymns are sung by a choir in the west gallery while the congregation listens."

At lunch he said he enjoyed the varied fish dishes, and was aware, at the airport, people from all over the world are discovering Iceland today.

Rev. Perry Thomas Guest Speaker for HH Banquet

At First United Methodist Church the fall season always means it's about time for the annual Harvest Homecoming Banquet.

★ ★ ★

The big event is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. on Oct. 26 with the Rev. Perry A. Thomas of Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church, guest speaker with the subject, "What Did You Look At?"

Mr. Thomas will have a display of his art work and metal sculpture.

The evening will also includ the presenting of Harvest Home gifts by individuals, classes and groups of the church, singing and special musical numbers.

FOR PARSONAGE

Proceeds of the evening will be used to improve the parsonage.

The Rev. Mr. Thomas, born in Pontiac, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas. The speaker's father was superintendent of the First Methodist Sunday School for many years.

A graduate of Asbury College and the University of Chicago, the Rev. Mr. Thomas received theological training from Oberlin College.

Ordained in 1954 in Detroit Annual Conference, he has served Commerce Methodist, Asbury Methodist in Flint, and his present pastorate.

EXCHANGE PASTOR

In the summer of 1964 the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and their five sons were in England where Pastor Thomas as an exchange pastor served under the World Methodist Council.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Walter T. Ratcliffe will preach on "The Only Way for Modern Man" at morning worship tomorrow in observing Universal Bible Sunday.

A Bible exhibit will be on display following the service.

National Child Evangelism Week Opens

The annual Child Evangelism Banquet in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church last night ushered in the National Child Evangelism Week beginning tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne King, missionaries to Israel, showed slides of Nazareth where they make their home.

★ ★ ★

The Kings and other Child Evangelism missionaries throughout the world sponsor Good News Bible Clubs similar to the ones in the United States where children are gathered together weekly to be instructed in the Christian Faith.

★ ★ ★

Last year more than 6,000 children in Oakland County heard the Gospel in the little chapel at Pontiac Mall at Christmas, and at the 4-H Fair during the summer and in homes around the county.

Consecration Service Set for Friday

Temple Beth Jacob, 79 Elizabeth Lake will hold its consecration service Friday at 8:00 p.m.

Dr. Kenneth Dickstein, Religious School chairman, announces that 16 children entering the Religious School for the first time will be consecrated in a ceremony conducted by Rabbi H. Philip Berkowitz, spiritual leader of the congregation.

The children will be called to the pulpit where they will be blessed by the Rabbi.

Turkey Dinner Set for St. Paul Church

The Women's Society for Christian Service of St. Paul United Methodist Church, 165 E. Square Lake, Bloomfield Township, will serve a family-style turkey dinner on Oct. 24.

Hours are from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Homemade rolls and pies are also on the menu, and bazaar items will be for sale.

Tickets available at the door are $1.75 for adults and $1 for children under 12 years of age. Mrs. Toby Millirons and Mrs. Viola Koontz are cochairmen of the event.

Nazarenes Observe Bible Week Study

Williams Church of the Nazarene, 2840 Airport, Waterford Township, will observe National Bible Week tomorrow through Oct. 27 with the American Bible Society theme, "God's Word for a New Age."

★ ★ ★

Pastor James Krauss will preach on "The Bible and You" at the 11 a.m. service.

★ ★ ★

The film titled "The Bible, How It Came to Us" will be presented at the 7 p.m. worship.

★ ★ ★

The choir under the direction of Jerry Kirk will sing at both hours. The congregation will begin a Bible study on the Book of James at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

At Saint Mary's College

Religious Course Offered

A course designed for adults trying to struggle through the maze of religious and spiritual problems of today will begin on Nov. 6, at Saint Mary's College, Orchard Lake.

A large team of faculty members from Saint Mary's and Saints Cyril and Methodius Seminary will join the adults in an open, unstructured attack on contemporary questions of the educated Catholic.

The course is open to the public and will be conducted weekly through February at 8 o'clock Wednesday evenings. The fee is $10.00.

Anchor men will be the Rev. Theodore Rutkowski and William J. Jacobs.

Team members who will appear from time to time to answer questions in their specialties include: the Rev. Anthony Kisnik, dean of theology, moralist, and columnist for The Michigan Catholic; the Rev. Robert Werenski, scripture; Rev. Terrence Niedbalski, philosophy; Rev. Leonard Chrobot, dean of the college; and Rev. Walter Ziemba, Rector of the Orchard Lake Schools.

NEW TO AREA

Father Rutkowski and Mr. Jacobs are new to Orchard Lake this year.

Both are in the department of theology and members of the seminary's pastoral committee.

"I'd like to call the course 'Groping 601,'" Jacobs said. "The idea is to take questions from the adults attending and explore them philosophically, and in the most practical ways. I believe that most adults ask a dogmatic question looking for a moral conclusion and frequently would like to extend that to the area of daily spiritual life."

Father Rutkowski remarked that modern adults find prayer, reflection, and meditation next to impossible. "We'd like to ease that situation a bit," he said. "Group meditation, spontaneous prayer, counselling, and spiritual director, are all part of the new course."

Jacobs added that the course includes a plan to send those who attend back to their parishes as trained leaders of lay groups seeking more meaningful Christian lives.

Blind Choir From Orient

The Hong Kong Blind Choir will come to the West Bloomfield Baptist Church, 4900 Orchard Lake, Orchard Lake to present a concert of sacred music at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

According to Pastor John W. Trate, the choir is the first of its kind to visit the United States from the Orient.

During the choir's tour in Asia the group performed before the King and Queen of Thailand and in the chapel of President Chaing kai-shek in Taiwan.

The choir of 11 voices has attained professional level under the director Stephen Shao, Pastor Trate said.

Their repertoire includes selections ranging from Handel to melodies of present day Gospel songs. They are also proficinet in both oriental and occidental instruments. Some have composed their own music.

"The purpose of the choir's visit in the United States is to present the Gospel of Jesus Christ in music and to serve as a cultural exchange between the Orient and America," said the pastor.

The Rev. Billy Morgan announces a night of music at Pine Knob Missionary Baptist Church, 6013 Sashabaw, Independence Township at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Among singing groups participating will be Mr. and Mrs. Glover Brong of Farmington, Baptist Church; the Dick Loudermilks of General Baptist Church, Waterford Township; and the Pine Knob Singers.

Gilbert Carrow and Robert See of Alpine Social Brethren Church, Waterford Township will also participate. Mrs. Kenneth Moore will serve as pianist.

Every third Saturday night of the month the Pine Knob Church holds a Gospel Singspiration.

Congregation Marks Eighth Anniversary

Members and friends of Pine Hill Congregational Church, 4160 Middlebelt, Orchard Lake, will celebrate the eighth anniversary of the founding of the church at services tomorrow.

★

Dr. Alfred D. Gray, the first minister and presently minister emeritus, will be guest speaker at the 10:30 a.m. worship hour. The Chancel Choir under the direction of Bernard Ernst will sing "Surely the Lord Is in This Place."

Dr. Gray guided the church during its beginning in the fall of 1960 and continued until ill health forced him to retire.

In May 1962, Dr. Gray was succeeded by the present pastor, the Rev. Harry W. Clark. In November 1964 the first services were held in the present church building.

A coffee hour and reception for Dr. and Mrs. Gray who live in Toledo, Ohio, will be held following morning worship.

The next meeting of Discussion Unlimited will be 8 p.m. Tuesday at the church. It will concern the problems of marijuana and other drugs harmful to youth.

Guest Speaker

The pastor and congregation of Mt. Calvary Baptist Church in Flint will be guests of the Messiah Missionary Baptist Church, 575 E. Pike, for the 3:30 p.m. service tomorrow. The program will honor the Rev. Roy C. Cummings and family for their 10 years of service to the church and community. Gentry Transou is chairman.

Jackie's Decision May Fill Children's Needs

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — "The greatest responsibility in life is your children," Jacqueline Kennedy once told a reporter in those cloudless days in the White House when her two children were small and their father, in spite of the great cares of office, seemed always around when they needed a romp.

That responsibility became hers alone after President John F. Kennedy's assassination five years ago. Her great mainstay was her brother-in-law, Robert F. Kennedy, who stretched his fatherly affection for his own large brood to cover Caroline and John Jr., too.

For four months now he has been gone, a victim like his brother of an assassin's bullets, and again Jacqueline Kennedy's children have been without that special strength that only a loving father figure can give.

Since the children are accustomed to wealth his exalted financial rating won't impress them, but the fact that he knows about children their ages might. Late in November, Caroline will celebrate her 11th birthday and John Jr. his 8th, and these are ages Onassis understands from experience with his boy and girl from his first marriage. Alexander was 13 and Christina 11 when Onassis' first wife Tina divorced him in 1960.

GUIDANCE

Although Onassis could never be another youthful, rollicking daddy like John F. Kennedy to his new stepchildren, he could become meaningful to them in important ways—in firm, mature guidance and loving attention.

They have in common a love of boats and water.

John and Caroline will travel and see much of the world, whetting that curiosity about all things that their parents carefully fostered from their babyhood. It is an exciting yet secure future that is opening for them, and perhaps the shadow that has tinged their lives for five years will slowly lift.

JOHN

If John is like most fatherless boys—and he is a very friendly child—he wants a father more than anything else. His attachment to Onassis could be fast, firm and lasting.

With Caroline it might be more difficult. An exuberant little girl in the White House, she was the apple of her father's eye, and she knew it.

CHANGE

From a lighthearted little tomboy Caroline changed into a pensive, serious, often withdrawn girl. She had moments of pleasure and fun—skiing with her mother, winning ribbons for horsemanship on her pony Macaroni, christening a mammoth aircraft carrier named for her father, playing with her innumerable Kenedy cousins — and then the gravity would come back to her face and heart.

She seemed to be emerging from this weight of sadness about the time her adored uncle, Robert Kennedy, died, and the pall descended again. Perhaps understanding affection from her new stepfather will bring the sparkle back to Caroline's blue-green eyes, that are so very like her late father's.

Okemos Setting for Recent Vows

MRS. DAVID F. DUNHAM

Janne Louise Rutherford spoke vows recently with David Frederick Dunham in the United Presbyterian Church at Okemos. The bride, a nurse at Pontiac State Hospital, is the daughter of the Wylie Rutherfords of Okemos.

★ ★ ★

For the afternoon exchange of rings, she chose a slim sheath of organza and Alencon lace with flared sleeves and scalloped neckline touched with seed pearls. Scattered medallions of Alencon lace accented her Watteau train. Her bouffant veil of illusion was secured with a petal cluster.

Mrs. Robert Theisen of Dearborn and Stephen Turk of East Lansing were honor attendants. Sue and Julie Rutherford, Mary Dunham, Sam Knox and William and Walter Rutherford completed the wedding party.

★ ★ ★

A reception in the church parlors preceded the couple's departure for a honeymoon in Vermont. They will reside in Toledo, Ohio.

The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Dunham of East Lansing.

This Animal Lover Must Seek Out Real Owner of the Rescued Kitten

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Some weeks ago a neighbor boy brought me a pathetic looking kitten and begged me to take it as his mother wouldn't let him keep it. He said it had been crying at their back door for several days. Being an animal lover, I took the kitten, even though we already had a dog and cat.

ABBY

The kitten looked so sickly, I took it to the veterinarian who discovered it had worms and distemper. But he got it back to good health, instructing us to feed it a special diet in order to build it up, which we did.

Yesterday I saw an ad in the paper for a "lost kitten." I think it's this one. Both my husband and I are crazy about this cat now. If we hadn't paid to nurse it back to health, it surely would have died.

★ ★ ★

We have given it a good, affectionate home. We have no children. In the ad there is no reward offered. Under these circumstances, is it our place to phone these people who advertised for the lost cat?

PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: You have built a good case for keeping the cat, but it's not good enough. Yes, you must telephone the people who advertised for the lost cat. They may reward you for your kindness by letting you keep it, but if they want their cat back be prepared to hand it over.

★ ★ ★

Dear ABBY: I am a 12-year-old boy with an eight-year-old brother, named Burton, who is a fink.

Burton wore my Boy Scout hat and took my brand new bugle outside and blew it all day Saturday while I was at the dentist's.

★ ★ ★

When I found out about it I gave him a little tap on the arm. He fell against the fence and got a little tiny cut on his head and maybe two drops of blood came out.

Burton ran in the house screaming and told our mother, and now I am grounded for a whole week.

★ ★ ★

She didn't say one word to Burton about wearing my hat and blowing my bugle. Was this fair? How can I make my mother realize that when something happens it is not always my fault because I am older and should know better? (Her words.) Thank you.

THE OLDER ONE

DEAR OLDER: Tell your mother what you have told me, (or show her this item) and ask for her comment. Meanwhile, as a Boy Scout your are pledged to be "kind, truthful, and obedient." If you are, you'll win in the end, and the "fink" may follow your example and become a Boy Scout, too.

Comedy-Drama Slated to Open

"Everybody Loves Opal" by John Patrick will open at the St. Dunstan's Guild Playhouse on Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills, on Oct. 25 with Muriel Donegan playing the sweet old lady who lives on the edge of the city dump.

The insurance-hungry would-be murderers are played by Gordon Shearer, Garv Bawden and Joan O'Hara.

Larry Rau and Jerry McMechan have supporting roles along with Mr. Tanner, the cat.

Backstage helpers are Joan Craton, in charge of makeup; Barbara Carey, props; Marcia Wills, costumes and George McDonald, lights.

Issie Thompson is directing the mystery comedy whose author is also credited with the Broadway successes, "Auntie Mame" and "Juliet and Romanoff." Rita Monley is assistant director.

The show is produced by Mary Jane Remington assisted by Anne Smith. Maury Smith is stage manager. Bob Woodruff is handling the sets which were designed by Bill Everson.

Friday's opening will be a black-tie affair. The play will be repeated Oct. 26 and again on Nov. 1-2. Curtain time is 9 p.m.

Tickets may be obtained from St. Dunstan's Guild at 2190 Northlawn, Birmingham.

Miss Allan Takes Recent Vows

Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church was the recent setting for vows exchanged by Lynne Ann Allan and Terry Keith Griggs.

For the evening ceremony, the daughter of the Robert W. Allans of East Meigs Street chose a bouquet of white chrysanthemums centered with an orchid corsage.

Her wedding ensemble was fashioned from Alencon lace with fitted bodice and wrist-pointed sleeves. Securing her bubble veil of illusion was a three-tiered crown of lace inserts and pearls.

Maid and matron of honor for the nuptials were Janet Leach and Mrs. Harold Leach, respectively. Loisann Crandall and Mary Jo Hagan assisted as bridesmaids with Sharon Allan as junior bridesmaid.

BROTHER

Best man honors for the bridegroom were performed by his brother, Charles Jr. Their parents are the senior Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Griggs of Scott Lake Road.

Serving in the usher corps were Gary and David Allan, Robert Weddle and Joseph Caruso.

Case No. G-550

Sounds Are Damaging

DR. CRANE

By GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE G-550: Dr. Kenneth Pollock is doing some very ingenious research on sound levels.

He finds that young people are injuring their hearing by listening to loud bands and blaring TV or radio sets.

* * *

Sound	Decibels
Rustle of leaves	15
Average whisper	25
Busy traffic	70
Motor truck	80
Elevated train	95
Riveter	105
Pain threshold	140

In front of the bandstand, Dr. Pollock found the noise measured 120 decibels.

TIRING

Dr. Pollock says the loud, harsh sounds tire the youngsters far more than just dancing.

And that is one of the reasons which I have often explained in this column that makes young people turn on the radio or TV till it blasts the ears of adults.

For teen-agers have such an excess of unexpended energy that they crave loud music to fatigue them that much more rapidly.

Hikes and athletic events would be far more valuable in this respect, for the extra loud noises predispose to early deafness.

* * *

After a three-hour dance session, Dr. Pollock found a hearing loss among the teen-agers that ran as high as 35 decibels. And all of them had ringing in their ears.

Fortunately, this deafness was only temporary as a result of that single experience with the dance band.

* * *

But with continued exposure to loud sounds, those young people in another 25 years may thus find it difficult to distinguish consonants, which are the early parts of spoken language that fade first in old age.

* * *

Dr. Pollock and his able co-workers at the University of Florida deserve widespread praise for thus alerting young Americans to an early cause of deafness.

"Dr. Crane," many parents have protested, "my high school children turn on the radio or TV till you can literally hear it half way down the block.

"Yet I thought young people had more sensitive ears.

"Isn't it we older folks who begin to lose our hearing?

Well, why do puppies and kittens and lambs run around in playful fashion, chasing each other or racing up and down hills?

GROWING

Because during our growing period, we must ingest enough "building blocks" in our food to elongate our bones and build bigger muscles.

* * *

But in connection with this "architectural" process in our physiology, there is such an excess of calories that need to be consumed, that young creatures frolic and dance or even try to fatigue themselves by loud music fitted to fast dance numbers.

At 15, you crave calisthenic dancing, but at 50, you prefer the less exhausting waltz music, soft and subdued. The difference is due to your inner physiology!

Exhibit Set for November

MRS. ARTHUR RUSHLOW

Rushlows Speak Vows in Friday Ceremony

Attired in an A-line silhouette of taffeta and lace, Kathryn Louise Kildal became the bride of Arthur Clark Rushlow during an evening ceremony Friday in Central United Methodist Church.

To complement the gown, fashioned with high rise bodice and scalloped lace sleeves, the former Miss Kildal chose a pearl and crystal crown with bouffant veil of illusion.

* * *

Honor attendants for the daughter of the Sigurd M. Kildals of Southward Street and the son of the Arthur J. Rushlows of Monroe were Margaret Rushlow and Carrie Passion of Cleveland, Ohio.

Serving as bridesmaids were Linda Edmonds of Detroit, Mrs. Robert Peterson of Ypsilanti and Lauren Plotkin of Detroit with Andrea Gallagher as flower girl.

* * *

Prior to their honeymoon departure for northern Michigan, the newlyweds were feted with a reception in the church parlors.

Director Speaks

Ted Panaratos, director of Community Relations at Pontiac State Hospital will speak before the Drayton Woods Women's Club Monday at 8 p.m. in Thomas Cooley School.

Cleaning Up Gets Dignity, Status

It often takes ingenuity to overcome a small boy's resistance to face washing. One mother finds that a soapy washcloth is accepted with greater alacrity when she refers to dirt and food smears as rocket dust.

* * *

Chiefs' Defense Preserves 19-13 Victory at Flint

Special to The Press

FLINT — Pontiac Central's defense took over from the offense in the second half and protected a 19-13 conquest over Southwestern at Houston Stadium Friday night.

Rollie Garcia, the Chiefs' elusive 5-9, 155-pound quarterback — had a big night on the ground, in the air and on defense.

Around the Saginaw Valley Conference, Saginaw and Bay City Central closed ground on Midland who upended Alpena, 38-0, in a nonleague outing.

Saginaw's once-tied Trojans trimmed Flint Central, 19-6, and BC Central ran over Bay City Handy, 49-6. Flint Northern and Saginaw Arthur Hill fought to a 7-7 tie.

PCH's victory brought it to 3-2 and sent it past the Colts (3-2-1) into fourth place behind BCC (4-1).

FALL BEHIND

The Chiefs fell behind when Southwestern moved 49 yards midway through the first period. Bob McComb hit Rod Fry for the payoff on a 21-yard pass play. Rick Turner's kick made it 7-0.

Central took the ensuing kickoff and needed just five plays to go 69 yards. Garcia's pass to Horace Davis went for 21 yards and a first down across midfield.

* * *

The home team promptly moved down the field only to see the Chief's Bob Hunt fall on a fumble at their own 20. On the first play, Garcia ran the option again and went the 80 yards for a 13-7 edge.

Undaunted, Southwestern ground out 61 yards in eight tries, Royce Winzer's eight-yard scamper produced the tying six points.

INTERCEPTION

With 4:40 remaining to play, Central's Dennis Brown picked off a Colt toss and returned it to the Flint 47. Garcia earned a key first down with a 13-yard dash, then found A. B. Davis for the winning TD on a 20-yard pass play with 1:39 to go in the half.

* * *

The Chief's defensive line play tightened in the final 24 minutes, but had to withstand two big moves by Southwestern.

The homesters drove to the one-yard-line with 3:10 to play where Winzer fumbled on fourth down and Garcia recovered. But PCH returned the favor when Horace Davis fumbled at the 18.

However, the Colts' fourth down pass from the three fell incomplete with 16 seconds remaining and Central rode out the storm.

* * *

The winners had a 255-135 advantage in rushing, with Garcia accounting for 162 yards in 10 carries. He also passed for 60 yards on four completions. The Colts, meanwhile, connected 10 times for 119.

The Chiefs also picked off three Flint passes and recovered three of their fumbles. But two lost fumbles of their own and 101 yards in penalties detracted from their effort.

Final Period Scores Aids Flags 3-2 Win

PORT HURON (AP)—Getting three goals in the final period, the Port Huron Flags came from behind to defeat the Dayton Gems, 5-3, in the International Hockey League opener for both teams Friday night.

Port Huron was behind 3-2 when the scoring outburst began.

Scoring for the Flags were Jerry Korab, Pete Mara, Nels Tremblay, Bob McCammon, and Meehan Vonnar.

Ailing Eddy May Join Lions Sunday

DETROIT (AP) — A spokesman for the Detroit Lions said Friday a decision on whether or not to activate halfback Nick Eddy probably won't come until Sunday morning prior to the game against Green Bay.

* * *

Eddy, the Notre Dame All-American who was signed to a longterm half-million-dollar contract with Detroit in December 1966, has been plagued by knee injuries since joining the Lions. He has undergone two operations, the last being in August, but has been working out to get back into condition.

TAKING A LOOK

"No decision has been made," the spokesman said. "We will work him hard Saturday and see how he looks. He can be activated right up until Sunday morning."

* * *

But if Eddy looks ready to go against the Packers and if activated another Lion would have to be dropped from the roster. The team official would not speculate on who might possibly be dropped.

MINOR AILMENTS

Eddy is the only question mark of the game for Detroit. Wayne Walker has a bruised heal and Tommy Vaughn is recovering from a sprained arch but both are reportedly ready to go against Green Bay.

* * *

However, quarterback Bart Starr is a doubtful starter for the Packers. He suffered a pulled muscle in his right arm while throwing a practice pass prior to last Sunday's game against Los Angeles. If he's not available Sunday veteran Zeke Bratkowski will handle the signal calling.

* * *

The game is a critical one for Detroit. A victory could possibly put the team alone atop the National Football League's Central Division. The Lions are tied with Minnesota for the lead with a 3-2 record, while Green Bay is next at 2-3.

Sunday the Vikings face unbeaten Dallas.

Detroit won its first game against Green Bay this season 23-17, but hasn't swept two games from the Packers since 1957. A win by the Lions Sunday would be the first at home over Green Bay since 1962.

DETROIT (AP — A powerful defensive effort by the University of Detroit Titans held Canisius to a mere four yards rushing in a nonconference college club football game Friday as U. of D. won 9-0.

U of D scored first in the opening quarter when Canisius centered the ball out of its own end zone. The Titans went on to turn one of three pass interceptions into a scoring drive late in the fourth quarter, when halfback Joe Varley crashed over from the one-yard line.

DON'T COME NEAR ME! — Halfback Steve Goit (42) of Waterford Township uses a straight-arm maneuver to thwart the tackling hopes of an unidentified Pontiac Northern defender last night but he should be more concerned with fast approaching safetyman Sandy Seay, (right), who came up to make the stop on the good punt return by the Skipper scatback in the second quarter. The play set up a field goal in WTHS' 17-12 victory, their first over the Huskies since 1964.

Arm Injury Cost Micki a Medal

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

MEXICO CITY — What happened was unbelievable. The dive that won Micki King four major championships, including a trip to the Olympics, slipped away from her because of a hairline fracture of the forearm.

The 24-year-old Air Force Lieutenant from Pontiac suffered the injury on her ninth dive last night and it cost her a medal in the women's three-meter springboard event. Micki tried to complete the final dive, but missed it completely.

After competition, her left arm was placed in a sling by the Olympic Village doctor who said it was a hairline fracture. X-rays were planned for today.

Micki had the lead after the first of three final dives. But on the next dive, a reverse 1½ somersault layout, her arm hit the board, much to the unawareness of anyone, and she fell one point behind Sue Gossick, the eventual champion.

CROWD REACTION

The scoring on the dive brought a crowd reaction of boos as the judges scored from 4 to 6½.

Micki tried the final dive, but the arm injury caused her knee to buckle because of the pain and she couldn't get a rise from her spring. She failed to score a point and dropped to fourth place.

This final dive — a 2.6 degree of difficulty — was one she had never missed, according to Dick Kimball, her coach.

Miss Gossick, who hit her final dive for 18.98 quality points won the championship with 150.77 points. There was a big crowd reaction of boos on her dive, also, as the spread of judges scores went from 5½ to 8½ and, after the booing persisted, the score on the board changed, to range from seven to 8½. Soviet diver Tamara Pogozeva who received a 9 from one of the judges on her last dive took second with 145.43 points to edge out American Keala O'Sullivan with 145.25.

LED FROM START

Micki finished with 137.38. Lt. King led from the start and with the degree of difficulty of her final dive all she had to do was score some sixes and take second place. None of the American diving authorities could believe it and Kimball was stunned.

Micki raced into the lockerroom tears streaming from eyes.

"This is the way it goes in diving," said Kimball, before he knew of the injury. "I could put Micki up against any woman in the world on that dive and she'll win it 19 of 20 times.

Miss Gossick's gold medal gave the U.S. three in swimming in three straight events.

DIGGING OUT WORLD RECORD — Bob Beamon of El Paso, Texas, digs his feet into the sand pit after a record shattering long jump of 8.90 meters (29 feet, 2½ inches) on his first attempt in the Olympic event yesterday. Beamon almost jumped out of the pit.

Walled Lake Rolls to 48-13 Triumph; Stevenson Romps

Livonia Stevenson romped past Farmington Friday afternoon to clinch a share of its first Inter-Lakes League grid title, but Walled Lake's rout of Southfield Lathrup kept the Vikings' hopes alive, too.

Stevenson belted the winless Falcons, 48-13, taking a 28-0 advantage in the initial half. Walled Lake's Vikings spurted for a trio of second-quarter scores en route to a 34-0 conquest of hapless Lathrup.

Roy Coomer, a junior quarterback, was Walled Lake's big sparkplug. He hit Bill Welsh with an eight-yard pass to open the pointmaking.

* * *

The two teamed again soon for a 27-yard TD toss. Coomer then ran the PAT. He continued his big night by scampering seven yards for the third touchdown. Wayne Morenz added his second conversion run and it was 21-0 at the halftime break.

The Vikings slowed down until the fourth period when Steve Gebala broke loose for two six-pointers, and Coomer added another extra-point run.

Gebala's dashes were good for 26 and 45-yard scores. Three pass interceptions highlighted the Vikings' defensive efforts. On the ground they held the visitors to 88 yards and 111 total.

* * *

Skippers Slice Huskies Margin in Grid Series

BY JERE CRAIG

Pontiac Northern stung Waterford's Skippers early Friday night and then discovered the home team wanted to keep the pigskin rather than let its visitors play with it.

As a result, the Skippers' ball-control tactics left the visiting Northern gridmen a 17-12 loser of the Jimmy Dey Amvet Post. No. 12 Trophy for only the third time in the 10-game series.

The Huskies surprised their host the first time they had the ball. Three plays and two penalties enabled Northern to cover the 69 yards to paydirt with the game only 3:27 old.

* * *

The conversion kick was blocked.

LACK POSSESSION

However, from that point until they generated a 10-play, 72-yard scoring march in the closing minutes of play the Huskies only had the football again for 28 scrimmage plays (including four punts).

WTHS' offense, meanwhile, controlled the pigskin for 58 plays, none of these being a punt. The movement began as soon as Northern kicked off after its first TD.

* * *

Starting at its 36, Waterford pushed the Huskies back for 14 plays to go ahead. Facing a fourth-and-seven at the PNH nine-yard-line, the Skippers lined up for a field goal try.

However, they had to call time when they were short one blocker. After a conference with coach John Moffat, signal caller Brad Potter elected to send fullback Bruce Carlson up the middle and he went for eight yards and a first down at the one.

DISADVANTAGE

Finally, Steve Goit raced 30 yards down right sideline yith a punt to the PNH five. After three tries failed to dent the defense, the Skippers settled for a 22-yard field goal by Saffron.

* * *

An interception and a fumble recovery stymied two possible Waterford scoring chances in the third session. The Huskies —finally picked up their third first down in the game on a five-yard penalty late in the period.

* * *

But there was no further scoring until four minutes were remaining in the game. With a first down at their own 32, the visitors tried a short pitch back on a reverse and the ball bounced off the runner's chest and into the arms of aggressive Bruce Carlson of Waterford.

ANOTHER SCORE

He rambled to the PNH 20. In seven plays the Skippers added seven points to their total. Potter again plunged the final yard behind the forward charge of center Carlson.

It was at this point that WTHS had been in charge of the ball 58 of 86 plays. Northern reduced the advantage some by driving for its final score following the kickoff.

Bruce Bennett hauled in an 11-yard aerial from Mike Pietryga to keep the Huskies' faint hopes alive. However, the onside kick failed after the TD and WTHS ran out the clock.

* * *

The defeat asures PNH of a losing season in the Inter-Lakes League. It is 1-3 with only winless Lathrup remaining. The Skippers' kept their first-place hopes alive, standing 3-1 and tied for second with Walled Lake.

Unbeaten pacesetter Livonia Stevenson will entertain the Skippers next Friday afternoon in the big concluding I-L showdown tilt.

* * *

Webb emerged as the top runner in the contest, gaining 93 yards on nine carries. Goit produced 91 in 17 runs, Saffron went for 72 in 14 tries and Mike Sheldon had 50 for 13 as the Skippers kept to the ground most of the way.

Rochester Continues to Hold Top Hand

BROKEN UP — Rochester's Ted Maklasian (45 on ground) slams into Greg Smith of Troy in breaking up a pass in the first half of their game on the Rochester field last night. Other Rochester players are Chris Lawson (32), Russ Gill (24) and Mike Hall (33).

Falcons Deal Troy 7-2 Loss in O-A Contest

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Rochester went without its ace, but coach Jim Kapp still held a winning hand last night as he and the Falcons continued their title shuffle in the Oakland Al League.

Kapp, obviously enjoying his first head coaching assignment, was a bit down in the dumps last week after an injury sidelined his No. 1 quarterback, Mike Scally, a bonafide candidate for league and state honors.

So with Scally out — probably for the rest of the season with a bad knee — Kapp turned to a pair of juniors — Tom Brown and Mike Fitzwilson — in a bid to knock off Troy, the Falcons' closest challenger in the O-A race.

COACH LOOKS GOOD,

Fitzwilson and Brown made Kapp look good as they shared in the honors as the Falcons pinned a 7-2 setback on a good Troy squad.

It was a break that came when Troy messed up a punt and gave the ball to the Falcons on the Colts' 29.

TOUCHDOWN!

On the first play from the 29, Brown took the snap from center, pitched to Fitzwilson rolling to his right and Fitzwilson lofted the ball deep downfield on the right side where split end Russ Gill gathered it in as he fell into the endzone. Bob Denz booted the point and the crowd of more than 3,000 roared approval.

★ ★ ★

Those final two minutes were Rochester's, but Troy held the upper hand until that time and kept the pressure on the Falcons' defense.

FAITH IN DEFENSE

"I knew our defense could hold," said Kapp, a very happy man whose team is now 6-0 for the season and 5-0 in the O-A league. Troy is now 3-1-1 and virtually out of title contention.

★ ★ ★

Did Scally's injury make the team produce a little more? "They knew they had to take on a little more," said Kapp.

Kapp was assistant on the Williard, O., team that won the Northern Ohio League title in 1963 and later frosh coach at Eastern Michigan University before coming to Rochester as an assistant.

Jim took the head coaching post of the Falcons when Gene Conley moved to Utica, and he is now on the verge of picking up the league title in his first try.

LITTLE UNSURE

"I was a little dubious at the start of the season," Jim admitted while unwinding after the win over Troy. "I didn't know if they could pick up all of the formations which we put in, and I really didn't know if they could do what I expected of them."

★ ★ ★

Then followed a knowing smile that indicated the players had done as much and maybe just a bit more than he had anticipated.

Kapp was raving about the defense, which wasn't exactly stingy but the defenders came up with the big play each time that Troy threatened.

In Wayne-Oakland Play

Outlook Same to Lakers

This season's almost like an instant replay of the '67 campaign for the Lakers of West Bloomfield but they're hoping the similarity will end next week.

★ ★ ★

This time a year ago, the Lakers were 5-0 in conference play and seemingly headed for the Wayne-Oakland League championship. But then came a tie with Clarkston and a loss to Bloomfield Hills Andover in the finale the following week. Milford slipped in and took the title.

ROUT CLARENCEVILLE

A year later, the Lakers are again 5-0, boosting it to that peak with a 47-6 rout of Livonia Clarenceville last night, and next week they visit Clarkston. They entertain the Andover squad in two weeks.

★ ★ ★

At Clarenceville, the host Trojans put all their eggs in one basket so to speak and it was costly. They stacked their defense to stop speedy Terry Conley and partially succeeded, but at a great cost. While Conley was collecting only two touchdowns, his teammates ran across five more.

OTHER RESULTS

Elsewhere in the W-O, Andover blanked Northville, 26-0, Milford rallied to defeat Kettering, 13-7, and Clarkston evened its record at 3-3 with a 34-12 decision over Brighton.

★ ★

SCORES TWICE

Ed McKenna scored on runs of 48 and 49 yards to start West Bloomfield on the way to victory in the first quarter. Conley tallied on a 46-yard dash in the second frame and Kim Woodruff raced in a five-yard run before halftime. In the third, it was Conley on an 82-yard run, Keith Woodruff on a 22-yard dash and Bill Bullock went over from two yards out in the fourth for the final tally. Conley now has 90 points in six games.

ROLEYS SHARP

The Roley boys were at it again for Andover. Scott R. passed 59 yards to Bob Westfall for one touchdown and scored one on a two-yard run. Brother Jeff tallied twice on runs of one and seven yards.

★ ★ ★

Six different players picked up six-pointers for Clarkston. Bob Palladino started it with a 67-yard interception return. Gary McMillan raced over from 13-yards out and Eric Hood picked up a blocked punt and raced 20 yards for six points to give Clarkston a 20-0 lead at halftime. Jeff Keyser raced 48 yards and Tom Lane four yards for fourth-quarter touchdowns.

EARLY SCARE

A sustained drive spearheaded by the rushes of Mike Copeman resulted in a touchdown when the little fullback blasted over from the two-yard-line. Barry Baker supplied the PAT boot.

Milford ground out its first six points in the third period, Tom Newcomb covering the final six yards. But the run for the tying point was stopped.

With WKHS's offense unable to generate much punch in the final half, the visitors kept the pressure on and finally went ahead with just over three minutes left in the game.

Newcomb, whose running keyed the Redskins' attack, produced the TD and the conversion on short runs to cap the long drive. A Mark Giegler pass interception set up the drive.

The Captains' lone first down in the last half came on a desperation pass that carried to the Milford 49, but the winners' Jerry McReavy picked off the last aerial and time ran out.

Novi Sparkles in Second Half

Wildcats Start Slowly, Then Romp, 40-7

"All we did in the first half was make mistakes," said Novi coach John Osborne last night. "But in the last half we put it all together."

★ ★ ★

And Ypsilanti Roosevelt fell apart. Novi erupted for 27 points in the third period and went on to post a 40-7 victory. It was the fifth straight football win for the Wildcats who have lost once.

★ ★ ★

Halfback Jon VanWagner led the assault with three touchdowns and four extra points. He scored the only touchdown of the first half in the opening quarter on a 46-yard run.

In the third quarter, he sprinted across from the six and gathered in a 32-yard scoring pass from quarterback Gary Boyer. Earlier in the period, Boyer connected with Dave Bingham for a 66-yard scoring play.

A 48-yard run for a touchdown by Rick Hill and a one-yard plunge by Ken Osborn capped the Wildcat scoring before Roosevelt finally got on the scoreboard.

FOILED BY FOLEY — Defensive end Bill Foley (87) of Waterford looms his large frame in front of Pontiac Northern ballcarrier Hardiman Jones (34) after withstanding the fruitless blocking attempt of a PNH lineman (on ground). Huskies' quarterback Eddie Williams, who pitched back to Jones, moves in behind Foley but can't help Jones who lost two yards on the play. In pursuit of the runner is Waterford's Steve Kressbach (66).

Title Near in SEMA for Ferndale's Eagles

Ferndale all but wrapped up its drive to end Royal Oak Kimball's reign in Southeast Michigan Association gridiron races with a 22-0 victory at Birmingham Seaholm Friday night.

The Bears ended a string of 14 games without a win with a 7-6 conquest of Hazel Park last night, and two conversions earned Kimball a 14-13 victory over Southfield and sole possession of the runner-up slot. ROK has ruled the league for three seasons.

★ ★ ★

At Birmingham, Sam DeGrate's 55-yard run and Jim Prentis' kick gave Ferndale a 7-0 edge at the intermission. In the third quarter, DeGrate plunged over from the one.

The Eagles, winners now of eight straight games, iced the verdict over Seaholm's Maples when John Owens tallied on a six-yard run, and Prentis booted his second PAT.

SAFETY

The losers' quarterback Dennis O'Neil was tackled for a safety by Ferndale's Dwayne Stephens in the last quarter, also.

★ ★ ★

Rich Runchey hauled in PAT passes from Jerry Wasen in each of the first two quarters as Kimball took a 14-0 lead over visiting Southfield.

★ ★ ★

The first one followed an explosive opening drive. After a punt, Rick Campbell of ROK gained 45 yards on a run, and teammate Carl Roehling dashed 37 yards on the next play for an 82-yard touchdown drive in two plays.

Then in the second quarter, the Knights moved 79 yards in 16 plays. Fred Shellnut took Wasen's seven-yard aerial for the payoff.

FIGHT BACK

Rick Ellison hit Dave Wieland on a 20-yard scoring aerial to cut the gap to 14-7, and the two teamed again from the 25 after Rick Strebe fell on a Kimball fumble. However, the Blue Jays' tying conversion kick was blocked by Shellnut.

★ ★ ★

At Berkley, Jim McIntyre added the extra point after Berkley's Bears had scored on an eight-yard Dave Karshner-to-Roger Reynolds aerial in the second quarter.

Hazel Park countered with its touchdown in the third period as Len Thompson scored from the eight-yard-stripe. But the PAT kicked failed and the Vikings sunk into the SEMA basement.

Lahser Romps Past Visitors

Bloomfield Hills Lahser wasted no time turning a visiting Dearborn Annapolis mistake into a touchdown yestedray afternoon. The Knights kept rolling and posted a 46-0 win.

It was their second against three losses.

Bob Rossier intercepted an Annapolis pass on the second play of the game. Jeff Kezlarian promptly scored from the 16 and ran the extra point.

The Knights moved to a 25-0 halftime lead and added three touchdowns and a safety in the last two quarters.

Kezlarian and bernie PcPheeley each scored two touchdowns for Lahser and quarterback Doug Wagner added another. He also passed for two TDs.

Groves Falls to Oak Park

Halfback Leon Weiss scored twice in the second quarter and he and his Oak Park teammates withstood a late Birmingham Groves rally yesterday in posting a 13-12 decision.

The speedy Weiss raced 38 yards for his first tally and dived over from the two-yard line for his second. Sit Atkins' kick after Weiss' second score proved decisive.

Bruce Mims hauled in a pair of passes from Greg Wood for both of Groves (1-5) scores. The first went for 22 yards and the second 44.

Romeo Falters at Lake Orion

Late Rally Enables Clawson to Triumph

Utica ended a losing streak at the expense of Avondale, while Lake Orion and Clawson pulled off minor surprises last night in Oakland A League football action.

THREE TO STRIKES

Dilday hit Bruce Brennan with a 76-yarder and a 69-yarder and in between pitched a 10-yard strike to Bruce Harms. The other Utica tally came when Bill Reynolds recovered a blocked Avondale punt in the endzone.

★ ★ ★

Craig Medland flipped scoring passes of seven yards to Dwight McLaughlin and 75 yards to Bill Lester and Jerry Monroe raced over from two yards for the other Avondale tally.

FINISH EARLY

Romeo and Lake Orion wrapped up all of their scoring in the first quarter and then played defense.

★ ★ ★

On the first offensive play of the game, Marvin Craft tucked the ball under his arm and sped 40 yards for a touchdown to put Romeo ahead 7-0.

STORM BACK

Lake Orion came back quickly with a pair. Chuck Whippo returned a punt 65 yards to the Romeo 15-yard line to set up the first LO score. It came on a five-yard pass from Bill Baker to Garyl Roberts.

The other Orion (1-3-1) touchdown came on Baker's two-yard sneak.

COMES-FROM-BEHIND

Clawson spotted Madison a 12-0 lead and then roared back to gain the slim decision.

Quarterback Bob Tremblay fired a 15-yard scoring pass to Mike Gonzales early in the second frame and Gonzales added another touchdown later in the period to give Madison a 12-0 lead at halftime.

American Athletes Overcome Problems

MEXICO CITY — The United States Olympic team, which admittedly is having more than its share of headaches, plowed doggedly ahead today compiling a truly fantastic record of success in the 1968 Olympics.

Some 20 gold medals are to be decided on today's program, both on land and on water, and the U.S. team, which already leads in gold medals with 12 and total medals with 26, should grab more than its share, perhaps five. Plus maybe that much-coveted title of the "world's greatest all-around athlete."

* * *

Not bad for a team which until now has been getting just as much space in the headlines for its racial problems as its sports prowess. With two stars already suspended for making a racial protest at a medal ceremony, and other athletes ready to go battle, it might not be unexpected if the whole team came unglued.

So what happened Friday?

ONE, TWO, THREE

For one thing, three Americans scampered home 1-2-3 in the most brilliant 400-meter run in history, a race so dazzling that a runner from another nation equalled the listed world record of 45 seconds flat and got fourth place. Up front were Lee Evans of San Jose, Calif., in an incredible 43.8, Larry James of White Plains, N.Y., in 43.9 and Ron Freeman of Elizabeth, N.J., in 44.4.

* * *

And yet these marks may not be what sports historians will remember Oct. 18, 1968 for.

That's because this date may go down as one on which Bob Beamon of El Paso, Tex., flew unaided for a stunning world record of 29 feet, 2½ inches, in the long jump — breaking the world mark by almost two feet.

SKIPPED OVER

Before track fans can start talking about breaking the 28-foot barrier in the long jump, Beamon has simply skipped that and gone on to break the 29-foot barrier.

* * *

Kaarlo Kangasniemi of Finland broke an Olympic record in total lift Friday night and won the gold medal in weightlifting's middle heavyweight class.

His total of 1,140½ pounds bettered the record of 1,074½ pounds set in 1964 by V. Golovanov of the Soviet Union.

The power-packed U.S. swim team qualified four men and five women for Saturday's finals in four spring events.

Zac Zorn, Buena Park, Calif.; Mark Spitz, Santa Clara, Calif., and Ken Walsh, Ponte Verde, Calif., zipped through the semis in the men's 100-meter freestyle and Don McKenzie, Woodland Hills, Calif., made the final in the men's 100-meter breaststroke — a new event on the Olympic program.

Sue Pederson, 15-year-old Sacramento, Calif. flash, gained the women's 100 freestyle final along with Jan Henne, Oakland, and Linda Gustavson, Santa Clara, Calif. Sharon Wichman, Fort Wayne, Ind., and Catie Ball, Jacksonville, Fla., survived the semis in the women's 100 breaststroke.

The casualties were Dave Perkowski, Westfield, N.J., and Ken Merten, Pacoima, Calif., in the men's breaststroke and Suzy Jones, Palo Alto, Calif., in the women's breaststroke.

* * *

Lia Manoliu of Rumania won the women's discus gold medal with a throw of 191 feet, 2¼ inches. Liesel Westerman of West Germany was second with 189-6 and Jolan Kontsek Kleiber of Hungary third with 180-1½. Olga Connolly of Culver City, Calif., was sixth at 173-9.

In semifinals of the women's 800-meter run, Madeline Manning of Cleveland won her heat in 2:05.8 and Doris Brown finished second in her heat in 2:05.2. Both qualified for Saturday night's final.

Finland's Kaarlo Kangasniemi Sets Record

From the Press Box

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

MEXICO CITY — The Olympic code, written with the intention of promoting good will and comradeship on the field of athletics among the nations of the world, was desecrated by a pair of U.S. athletes.

More than that, Tommie Smith and John Carlos, San Jose State trackmen, humiliated the United States and the American flag which gave them the opportunity to compete in this world's greatest spectacle.

* * *

In every instance where a gold medal is won by an American athlete, the emotions which stir an individual when the U.S. flag is raised and the Star Spangled Banner is played, can't be experienced by just words.

* * *

BIZARRE RESPONSE

Their bizarre response to the ceremonies shocked the International Olympic Committee, embarrassed the U.S. committee, disgraced the United States and tended only to destroy their own honor for violating the Olympic oath they took.

Smith and Carlos, each wearing a black glove over a clenched fist, wearing black scarves and buttons saying, "Olympic project for civil rights," raised their arms in the black power salute and fixed their eyes down and away from the American flag being raised.

Members of the U.S. Olympic Committee were called into a session by IOC and after a five hour meeting the American representatives left the room with tears in their eyes and the edict that they will be held responsible for the actions of our competitors.

* * *

They were told that "U.S. athletes violated the accepted principle of no politics by advertising their domestic political views."

What the U.S. Olympic Committee should do is — in addition to sending the two sprinters home — is to refuse to accept the medals won by Smith and Carlos and default their victories to those next in position.

SELFISH MOTIVES

No decent individual would bring the problems of his own home into public view and no intelligent person would strive for athletic greatness through political methods and no responsible man would try to arouse foreign sentiment with selfish motives which should be kept in his own backyard.

* * *

The Olympic Village, where 7,300 athletes live in a harmonious community, is a magnificent symbol of what the world could pattern. This is where the world should settle its differences, with the starting gun and the stop watch.

After the U.S. men's freestyle swimming relay team won the gold medal, it was a heart-warming sight to see the silver medal team of Soviet swimmers and the Americans shake hands and after the Star Spangled Banner was played see the Soviets applaud.

This is what athletics and the Olympics can do, and such an atmosphere and event of good will can do without such rabble and demonstrations of the Tommie Smiths and John Carlos.

Pistons Receive Lesson From World Champions

By The Associated Press

And leading the Celts was none other than player - coach Bill Russell, in his 13th year with Boston, who pulled 36 rebounds off the Cobo Arena boards. The arena record is 37, set by Jerry Lucas of Cincinnati.

* * *

In other action Philadelphia trounced Los Angeles 114-96, San Diego whipped San Francisco 123-108 and the expansion Phoenix Suns made their debut with a 116-107 win over the Seattle Supersonics.

After trailing 40-38 at halftime, the Celtics came out in red hot fashion as Tom Sanders hit for one basket and Sam Jones three in a row before Eddie Miles broke the ice for Detroit with a jumper.

* * *

Then before Detroit could score again, Larry Siegfried added two baskets and Sanders, Jones and Bailey Howell one each.

11 STRAIGHT

A free throw by Dave DeBusschere temporarily slowed the Celtics but Siegfried came back with two quick baskets to run the Boston field goal string to 11 straight before the Celtics finally missed and increased their score to 60-43.

The American Basketball Association opened its season with Oakland beating Indiana 144-133 in the only game.

* * *

Hal Greer scored 16 of Philadelphia's last 17 points in the first period as the 76ers raced to a 31-14 lead and never were headed.

Archie Clark, obtained by Philadelphia in the Chamberlain trade, rubbed salt in the Lakers' wounds by scoring 20 points. Elgin Baylor led Los Angeles with 36 points.

ROOKIES STAR

Rookies Elvin Hayes and Rick Adelman led San Diego past the Warriors, who were playing without injured forward Clyde Lee. Hayes paced the scoring with 32 points and Adelman sparked a second-period assault with 11 quick points.

Both Coaches Given Heave

MUSKEGON (AP) — Both coaches were ejected and the game was called in the third period as the Muskegon Mohawks, defending International Hockey League champions, trounced Columbus 6-4 in one of their wildest contests in nine years at Muskegon.

It was the opening game of the season for both teams. Mohawks Coach Moose Lallo was banished from L. C. Walker Arena amid hooting and paper-throwing by 2,400 fans with 30 seconds to play in the second period. Lallo was banished for arguing with the referee.

With two minutes and 10 seconds to play in the final span, Referee Albert LeJeune ordered Coach Moe Bartoli of the Checkers to leave after an argument over a decision.

* * *

Highland Lakes Runners Romp

The Highlanders totaled 26 points, followed by Delta (32), Alpena (70) and Monroe (116).

Cleaver was in at 15:30, well ahead of the course record of 16:20, and helping with the scoring were Harold Boone (4), Brian Schultz (6), John Nadolni (7) and Julian Gloomis (8).

Opportunity Test for Drivers at Oakland U.

Drivers will have an opportunity to test their skill with the automobile in a gymkhana at Oakland University slated for 10:30 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 27.

The accent is on maneuverability, not speed, and the timed road course event will be on a parking lot under the sponsorship of Fitzgerald House of OU.

Fee is $3.50 a car with 25 cents from each entry donated to the Isaac Jones Scholarship Fund. Chairman of the event is Bruce Scharfenberg of OU.

Lincoln Park Topples Mott

Corsairs No Match for Speedy Eleven

Lincoln Park ground out a 40-13 triumph over Waterford Mott's young varsity last night to leave the Corsairs with a 1-4-1 mark in their first season.

With the game less than three minutes old, senior halfback Randy Evans of the Railsplitters darted 43 yards for the game's first touchdown.

Teammate Dennis Miller went 12 yards later in the period to make it 14-0.

* * *

Mott reached the Lincoln Park end zone early in the second quarter when linebacker Charlie Dohner scooped up a loose fumble and went 53 yards.

RETALIATION

But the Railsplitters made it 21-6 when Dennis Bartlett took the ensuing kickoff and raced 88 yards. Evans added his second six-pointer with an 11-yard run in the third quarter.

Mott ended the scoring when Jerry McNair passed to Terry Ruffato on a 35-yard play and then Bill Ziem hit Randy Cooper with the PAT pass.

* * *

The winners' Mark Fuhrer, who scored in the final session, led the rushing attack with 155 yards in 16 carries. Lincoln Park amassed a 321-25 advantage on the ground.

Yank Leads Decathlon

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Bill Toomey of Laguna Beach, Calif., had a commanding 115-point lead Friday night after five events in the gruelling decathlon.

Toomey lost the lead after three events but regained it in the fourth by high jumping six feet, 4¾ inches. He closed out the day with a sensational 400-meter run in 45.6 seconds that gave him 1,021 points for a five event total of 4,499.

Jochim Kirst of East Germany was second with 4,384 points and Hans Walde of West Germany third with 1,021.

Almont, Armada Win

Upsets Hit Thumb Leaders

Almont and Armada pulled a couple of surprises in Southern Thumb Association play last night.

The Tars of Almont upset Richmond, 7-6, while Armada handed previously unbeaten New Haven a 17-6 setback.

With New Haven (4-1) losing, it enabled Anchor Bay (4-1) to move into a tie for first following a 26-0 victory over Dryden.

BLACKED OUT

The Memphis-at-Capac contest was called off because of a lighting problem. A car struck one of the utility poles at the field on Friday knocking out some of the lighting. The game was reset for today.

* * *

With the victory, Almont (3-2) moved into a tie for third with Richmond (3-2) and Armada (3-2). Dryden is 2-3, while Capac and Memphis are 0-4.

New Haven bolted to a 6-0 lead in the first quarter when Arthur Crosby tallied on a six-yard run and the Rockets maintained that margin at intermission.

Armada struck in the third when Ron Rusk hauled in a 41-yard pass from Gary Hofer and Randy Craven booted the point to make it 7-6 for the Tigers.

John King's four-yard run in the fourth along with Craven's kick made it Armada 14-6 and sealed New Haven's fate. Craven put some icing on the win late in the fourth with a 34-yard field goal.

Warren Woods Dumps Oxford

Warren Woods scored in the second and fourth quarters last night en route to a 13-6 victory over Oxford.

Oxford picked up its lone tally on a seven-yard run by Larry Schultz in the third stanza.

Few Words Needed After Record Jump

MEXICO CITY (AP) — For an athlete who had accomplished the most phenomenal single performance in track and field history, an unbelievable long jump of 29 feet, 2½ inches, you would think Bob Beamon would have something startling to say.

Swarmed by reporters in the interview room Friday, the modest Beamon answered the first question—was he scared?

"No, I wasn't scared, I was frightened," he said emphatically.

Why did he kiss the ground after he landed?

"I was thanking that man up there for letting me hit the ground right there," he replied, first seriously and then with a smile.

Beamon, a spindly 6-foot-3 junior at the University of Texas, El Paso, completely obliterated the listed world record of 27 feet, 4¾ inches held jointly by Ralph Boston of the United States and Russia's Igor Ter-Ovanesyan.

TWO JUMPS

Actually, Beamon took only two of his permissable seven jumps. He sailed high and long with his customary spread-eagled legs and with his arms between them on his first try.

As he landed, a roar that was almost a gasp swept the stadium. It was obvious he had set a world record.

Less than 15 minutes later when his second try came up, he passed—apparently still dazed at what he had done.

It was raining when his third turn came up and he leaped 26 feet, 4½ inches. After that he called it a day.

Boston, the bronze medal winner who won at Rome in 1960 and was runner-up in 1964 at Tokyo, admitted he was completely psyched-out by Beamon's jump.

"I was sure I could go 28-2½ under good conditions," said the veteran Boston, "but I know my limit. And when the rains came on top of it, I not only got dampened physically, but also my spirits."

Utica Stevenson Drops 31-7 Tilt to Mount Clemens

Utica Stevenson avoided a shutout with a touchdown as time ran out in the Titans' 31-7 defeat at Mount Clemens last night.

A desperation pass from halfback Mike DeRossett to Gary Aldridge covered 49 yards and gave the losers a first down at the host team's one-yard-line.

From there John Masi dove into the end zone to avert the whitewashing for winless Stevenson. Larry Walley ended the contest by running for the conversion.

* * *

A blocked punt was scooped up and run 26 yards by Jim Westfall for the game's first six-pointer. Fullback Don Baskin, a 210-pounder for the Battling Bathers, then scored on eight and one-yard runs for the Eastern Michigan League front-runners.

East Detroit outlasted Roseville, 38-27, to stay tied with Port Huron Northern for second place. The Huskies beat chief rival Port Huron, 19-0, as a warmup for their showdown next week with Mount Clemens.

Bengal Coaches in Line for '69

DETROIT (AP) — Johnny Sain, pitching coach, and Hal Naragon, bullpen coach, were signed for another year Friday by the Detroit Tigers. Terms were not announced.

The world champion Tigers previously had resigned Wally Moses as first base coach and added Grover Resinger, from the St. Louis Cardinals scouting staff, as third base coach.

Haywood Excites Coaches, Fans

New U. of D. Cager Making Big Points in Olympiad

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

MEXICO CITY — There are younger competitors in the 19th World Olympiad, but 19-year-old Spencer Haywood, former All-State basketball star from Pershing High School, is entered in the U.S. statistics just by the fact that he is the youngest player ever picked for an American cage team.

"This is naturally the biggest thrill of my life," said Haywood who is already being tagged as the big star for the U.S. Olympic team which is expected to win the 1968 Gold medal when the basketball finals are held Friday, Oct. 25.

Haywood, at 6-8½ and 230 pounds, is already enrolled as a sophomore at the University of Detroit, and basketball fans here and around Michigan are already shaking their heads as to what he will do for U. of D. basketball.

"He'll make people forget Dave DeBusschere and Cazzie Russell," is the opinion of fans and coaches who are at the games in Mexico City with knowledge of these past stars at U. of D. and Michigan.

PRO PROSPECT

Of course how long he will stay at U. of D. will depend on how long Titan coach Bob Calihan can keep him from signing a pro basketball contract, something which is expected to happen before he graduates.

★ ★ ★

Even though his ultimate goal is pro basketball, Haywood said, "I feel very strongly however about my college education and a profession after I leave basketball."

This ought to be good news to coach Calihan's ears, knowing that Haywood is serious about his education.

"I guess I finally realized how much an eduaction meant after my junior year in high school. As a senior I was a B student, but I did so badly before that, I didn't have a good enough average to get into college.

"This is why I went to Trinidad Junior College, to bring up my grades and at the same time play good basketball," he said.

Born in Mississippi with six brothers in the family, Haywood came north first to Chicago with relatives and then to Detroit where he attended Pershing and where coach Will Robinson was his legal guardian.

MONEY TALKS

The money the pros have to offer sounds good to Haywood especially since it would mean a better way of life for his family scattered in Detroit and Mississippi.

But as an amateur he has reached what he feels is a tremendous accomplishment as member of the U.S. Olympic team and college future ahead of him.

Of the first 10 points scored by the U.S. team in their opener against Spain, Haywood got eight and two of them were dunk shots of rebounds, with both hands.

The Mexican fans love such spectaculars and even though they were pro-Spain in the game, they started a chant, which they often do in sports, with the constant drumming of "Haywood, Haywood, Haywood," every time the U.S. got the ball.

Coach Hank Iba of the Olympic team, who was a U. of D. rival of Calihan's while the Titans were in the Missouri Valley Conference and Iba was coaching at Oklahoma State, indicated that Haywood was the only member of the team who was sure of starting every game.

TOP REBOUNDER

"We will shuffle our boys around until we can decide on a starting team before (I hope) we get to the semifinals," said Iba, "but this boy has been our big board man, so I can't keep him out."

In the early games Iba has used all 15 members of the U.S. squad and in less than half a game each time, Haywood has been the top scorer and rebounder.

In three exhibition games against the Knicks and Royals of the NBA and Denver Rockets of the ABA, in September the Olympic team won twice and Haywood was the top rebounder each time.

For Haywood, who has had weaknesses on defense, the coaching of Iba has been a tremendous asset, since Oaklahoma State during Iba's era was always one of the top defensive teams in the country.

"He has shown me a lot, and when we played the pros I though I'd get chewed up on defense, but I was real happy and so was the coach with my defense," said Haywood.

Having attended U. of D. during the summer to pick up credits in view of his absence now from school, Haywood said, "I wouldn't have missed the Olympics for anything after I made the trials."

GOOSE PIMPLES

When he was one of the U.S. players introduced before his first Olympic game, he said, "I had butterflies and goose pimples. And what a feeling it was knowing that I was representing our country."

While the Mexcian fans were shouting for him to do more dunking in the early games, he passed off numerously for baskets to his teammates.

"They say the Russians are going to win the basketball games, but not if we play like we are capable as a team," he said. "Man, I'm not going back home a loser."

444 HAYWOOD OLYMPICS

So excited are the Mexican basketball fans that U.S. and Russia are going to meet in the finals, that every ticket for that night was sold out after the first round games.

One thing is almost certain that if the U.S. gets to the finals Haywood has already got his following.

One Mexican gave his little nino to Haywood to hold while the father snapped a picture. The baby fit in the palm of Haywood's hand and while his teammates were needling him from the bus, Spencer said timidly, "Man, what would people think if they saw this."

He would rather know what people will think of his basketball once they see him play in Detroit. The Mexicans already know.

Will Spencer Haywood Make Fans Forget?

Brandon Ends Point Drought

But Linden Captures 47-14 Grid Decision

There were two bright spots in another dismal football night for Ortonville Brandon Friday.

The Black Hawks lost their fourth game in five starts, 47-14, to Linden. But they managed to score for the first time since their opening game. Brandon has played a scoreless game with Whitemore Lake.

★ ★ ★

And a soccer-style placekicker named "Al" made his debut. He is short, wiry foreign exchange student from Chile. With a last name of Defsourvieres he became known as Al.

The scoring drought ended in the last quarter when Eddie Westerby tossed a 23-yard halfback pass to Dave Madrigal for a touchdown and then caught a 45-yard TD aerial from quarterback Mike Wilcox.

Defsourvieres kicked both points after touchdown.

Linden scored almost at will against Brandon in the Genesee Suburban game. John Walsh, Brad Albertus and Tom Kelly had a combined rushing total of 213 yards and quarterback Dave Corlou completed seven of 10 passes for 201 yards and one touchdown.

WOLL Seeks Spark Igniter

Lakers Play St. James; Titans Home

Coach Joe Sharpe is looking for a spark igniter as he prepares to send Waterford Our Lady of Lakes against unbeaten Ferndale St. James tonight at the Kettering High School gridiron.

St. James has sailed through five opponents with the only hesitation coming briefly last Sunday when Orchard Lake St. Mary became the first team to score against the Dales and had a 6-0 lead for one period.

★ ★ ★

WOLL's Lakers, meanwhile, saw their first-place hopes all but vanish when they were held to a 6-6 tie by St. Rita. The game marked Sharpe's coaching debut as a mid-season replacement for Mike Boyd who is now in the U.S. Army.

★ ★ ★

Sharpe attributed the result to a lack of spark. The Lakers (3-1-1) have to win tonight or forego any chances of catching St. James. The pacesetters have one more Northwest Catholic League game with dangerous Farmington Our Lady.

SUPPORT

Rooting for the WOLL eleven will be Pontiac Catholic's Titans, a bit more fortunate. They raised their second-place record to 4-1 with a one-point conquest at FOLS.

★ ★ ★

PCHS is confident of a happy Homecoming celebration tomorrow at the expense of St. Francis de Sales in a 2:30 p.m. contest. Like the Lakers, the Titans can't afford to lose.

Both Sharpe at WOLL and Pontiac Catholic's Mel Larsen would like to see more offensive fireworks from the respective squads.

Also hoping for a few more points is veteran mentor the Rev. John Rakoczy at Orchard Lake St. Mary. The Eaglets will be gunning to end a four-game losing skid — their longest in many seasons — when St. Rita visits the seminary gridiron tomorrow afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Although their two-touchdown uprising at Ferndale St. James last week hasn't been matched, it was only the second time the Eaglets tallied that often in a game this fall.

SECOND AMBUSH?

Farmington OLS will be watching for an ambush when it travels to Royal Oak St. Mary for Sunaay's other loop tilt. The Irish won their first game last week by surprising de Sales, 7-6.

Royal Oak Shrine of the AA circuit will complete its road schedule with a visit to Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The Knights have some good individual performers but lack the team balance for a strong season.

★ ★ ★

A trip to New Baltimore to tangle with Anchor Bay Catholic tomorrow afternoon will complete the away slate for Utica St. Lawrence in the Macomb Catholic League.

★ ★ ★

After three opening conquests, the Mustangs have been tamed in the last two outings.

LAKER LEADER — Jim Tracey has been one of the top performers in Waterford Our Lady's 3-1-1 season to date, and the Lakers are hoping he'll find lots of room to run this evening when they entertain Ferndale St. James, the leader in the Northwest Catholic League.

bulwarks on the inside. On two successive plays in the third when Troy had the ball on the Rochester 18 with one yard to go for a first down, Major turned aside blockers and brought the runner down for no gain each time and the Falcons took over on downs.

★ ★ ★

In the fourth when Troy appeared headed for a touchdown after gaining a first down on the Falcons' 8, the defense tightened and took over on their own 10 when Maten nailed Troy quarterback Kerry Brown for a two-yard loss on fourth down.

'FINE SPLIT END'

Along with pulling in the winning touchdown, Gill intercepted a Troy pass after the Colts had moved to the Falcons 35 with just 52 seconds left in the game. "He's just one fine split end," says Kapp of Gill.

Troy moved the ball well, amassing 218 yards on the ground to only 22 for Rochester. The Falcons, however, had the edge in the air, picking up 88 yards while Troy managed 11.

★ ★ ★

Halfback Joe Mitchell was the big gun for the Colts. He picked up 169 yards on 25 carries. From a game-control standpoint, Troy ran off 61 plays while the Falcons managed 37.

SAFETY FOR TROY

Troy's only points came when Fitzwilson, back to pass from his own eight-yard line, was hauled down by the Troy defense in the endzone for a safety.

Kapp didn't fault Fitzwilson for the safety, which came with 8:07 left in the game. "It was my fault," said Kapp. "I called the play. I just didn't realize where the ball was. I didn't know we'd be throwing from the endzone."

Imlay Squeezes by Yale, 19-14

Spartans on Rebound After Loop Loss

Imlay City outdueled Yale Friday night for a 19-14 Greater Thumb B League triumph that saw the Spartans rebound from their only loss of the season last week.

John Mason's five-yard run and Dave Rowley's conversion put Imlay in front, 7-0. But Pete Michelz tallied from the nine and Rich Dann's kick tied the score for Yale in the second-period.

★ ★ ★

However, the passing combination of Jerry Shull and George Howie then made itself felt on the winners' behalf. Howie went over on a 35-yard passing play that gave Imlay a 13-7 lead at the half.

Then after Yale went ahead on Dennis Hyde's two-yard run and Dann's PAT, Howie caught a 15-yard toss from Shull for the winning margin. Imlay is now 5-1 for the season.

Chelsea Halted by South Lyon

Second-Half Rally Spurs 16-10 Win

South Lyon came from behind with nine points in the fourth period last night in handing previously unbeaten Chelsea a 16-10 setback.

Larry Baran tallied on a 14-yard run to put South Lyon ahead 14-10 and the winners, now 4-1-1 on the season, added a safety later in the period when a Chelsea lateral sailed out of the endzone.

Dave Brandon put South Lyon ahead in the first period on a 14-yard run, but Craig Houle tallied on a two-yard run in the second and Tim Ontbring, who kicked the PAT after Houle's run, added a 31-yard field goal to give Chelsea a 10-7 lead at intermission.

Music Room Designed For Acoustical Superiority

Pontiac Press Photos by Ron Unternahrer

Music Room Is the Hub of Georgian Colonial

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

The hills around Oxford Township ring out with the "sound of music" as Donald Button pulls all stops on his melodious pipe organ and treats the rolling countryside to an impromptu concert.

"The house," said Mrs. Button, "was really built around our music room. It came first and established the scale and the rest of the house followed.

★ ★ ★

"It's a nice house for entertaining," she continued. "We frequently have choral and instrumental groups in."

The 33-foot-by-33 music room is 17 feet high and features an Italian terraza tile floor to benefit the overall acoustical quality.

"Our organ is ecumenical," said Mrs. Button with a chuckle. "The console itself came from a Baptist church in Grand Rapids. Part of the pipes came from Oxford's old Methodist church and the speaking pipes from the church that was converted into the Hilberry Theatre.

★ ★ ★

"My husband," she added, "had the harpsichord built while he was on an U.S. Army orchestra tour of Europe. It is made of African pear wood."

★ ★ ★

The first set of double doors opens off the music room balcony into the entrance hall. Highlighting the Bokara oriental on the slate floor are rich shades of blue, red, black and white.

WILLIAMSBURG BOUQUET

A Williamsburg bouquet fills the silver bowl on the area's fruitwood table. And to tie the music room's interior with the home's overall decor, red carpeting follows the curved staircase to the second floor.

★ ★ ★

The second set of double doors on the balcony leads to the formal living room overlooking the rolling terrain.

★ ★ ★

"There are three jumps on our property," said Mrs. Button, "and it is a delight in the fall to hear the hunt master blow his horn and see the beagles and the riders in their pinks and black velvet hats give chase."

FORMAL SWAGS

Carpeted in olive green, the living room has off-white walls and damask draperies. Mrs. Clara Rosegart, Mrs. Button's mother, made the formal swags in both the living room and the dining room.

Gold velvet round-back chairs and a drop-leaf cocktail table are grouped before the living room's fireplace.

Serving the pale green damask sofa are a walnut cigarette table and a Queen Anne end table. A ceramic lamp with a fruit-patterned base lights the corner.

★ ★ ★

Make Pool Winterizing Simple and Satisfying

Winterizing a pool can be a simple and satisfying task. In the northern part of the United States winterization of a pool usually is accomplished by October or early November. Any pool is a substantial investment and should be protected all year round.

The first step, and possibly the most important, is to see that the water has been completely filtered and chlorinated. Any debris or organic matter (such as leaves, twigs, sand or dirt) must be removed from the pool since chlorine dissipates itself on debris.

Remove sunken leaves or twigs with a leaf rake. Once the pool is clean, chlorine will be retained with the use of an approved type of cover. In fact, a cover is a "must" in winterizing a pool since it protects the pool as much as eight or nine months of the year.

Next, the walls and floors should be brushed clean and the scum line of the pool should be scoured. In the case of vinyl liner or tile pools, a strong detergent supplied by your local dealer is best. In the case of painted pools, be careful in removing the scum line; use a gentle detergent or soap so as not to remove the paint.

WATER

No pool should ever be completely drained for the winter.

The main reason is that there is water in the ground which will freeze and push against an empty pool, causing damage. When the pool remains filled, the water or any freezing of water will counteract the pressure exerted from the frozen earth.

* * *

Equally important, water affords protection for the interior of your pool, whether it is vinyl, fibreglass, cement or tile. The higher you keep water in the pool, the more protection you have.

Freezing of the water in the earth under an empty cement pool floor can cause heaving and cracking. A cement pool should only be drained to paint it. Vinyl liner pools, which never have to be painted, should always be kept full of water.

DRAINING

Modern pools using plastic piping need no draining. In concrete pools on which copper or other types of metal piping are normally used, the water level should be temporarily lowered below the inlet fittings. Then insert special water tight, expandable plugs in the openings and refill the pool.

* * *

Most cement pool builders advise that logs be placed around the perimeter of the pool and anchored to the side to help prevent cracking during periods of freezing.

The scum gutter of a concrete pool (most commercial pools have them) must be drained and kept free of water. Freezing water could fracture the gutter and break off the ledges.

SKIMMERS

Whether metal or plastic skimmers are used, it is usually advisable that a plastic bottle, slightly smaller than the skimmer, be filled three-quarters of the way with a solution of antifreeze and water and inserted in the skimmer. Cap the bottle tightly.

Another method is to insert an empty uncapped plastic bottle upside down in the skimmer, placing the skimmer basket (filled with some heavy stones) on top to hold the bottle down.

* * *

If there is an overflow device in the pool or in the skimmer, it should be left open. Then the water level should be kept to within two or three inches of the top, therefore protecting as much of the pool as possible.

A filter below the level of the pool should be drained completely by shutting off all valves and then removing all drain plugs. Filters above pool level are drained by leaving the valves open. In both cases the removed plugs should be replaced (finger tight) so as not to lose them.

FILTERS

Diatomaceous filters, which are very complex, should be winterized by carefully following the instructions of the manufacturers. Remember to order any needed parts for your filter now so as to be prepared for next season.

Older types of sand filters need a 15 to 20 minute backwash. The manhole should be removed and the gasket, plugs and valves should be inspected for damage. Modern filters, such as hi-flo sand filters, require only a two to three minute backwash.

* * *

In the case of plug-type multiport filters, first remove the multiport core. Use a waterproof grease on all parts and reassemble them, placing the multiport in the "winter" position.

If there is no "winter" position, depress the handle and

Cut Soap Costs With Soft Water

Softened water takes the drudgery out of cleaning. Woodwork and walls need only an occasional gentle "going-over" because you get working suds that bubble into the tiniest crevices to float away grease, dirt and grime.

Softened water has no hardness minerals that streak windows and mirrors. With softened water, housewives can forget gritty abrasive cleaners.

* * *

Softened water cuts soap costs, since no soap is wasted in "breaking" or softening the water.

Ask your water conditioning dealer about water hardness and what can be done about it.

HEATERS

Heaters should be winterized by turning off the gas and draining the heater completely. Follow any special instructions posted on your heater carefully.

★ ★ ★

Ladders and diving board should be removed and stored indoors. While some modern types of diving boards, such as fibreglass wood cord or all aluminum can withstand winter weather, it is still recommended that these be taken indoors and stored.

A wood painted board must be removed during the winter months and, if necessary, sanded, sealed and repainted so as to be ready for the spring.

They should be stored on a flat surface to prevent warping. All fastening devices and escutcheons should also be stored on a shelf or in some conspicuous place where they can be easily found in the spring.

LIGHT

The underwater light should be released from its niche, floated to the surface and stored on the deck past the cover and coping. It is not necessary to disconnect the cord from the deck box.

Store all deck furniture indoors, cleaning the cushions and furnishings so they are in shape in the spring. umbrellas should be hung up from the metal ring on top of the umbrella. All swimming pool equipment (shepard's crooks, leaf skimmers, brushes, test kits), should also be put in a safe place to prolong their life.

★ ★ ★

Before installing a water sleeved cover, such as an Aqua-Lock, the pool should be over-chlorinated by four to five times the regular amount. The chlorine will be locked in for the entire winter by the non-porous vinyl and will provide a completely sterile pool in the spring. The opaque cover will prevent light from penetrating and dissipating the chlorine or promoting algae growth.

The water sleeves on this type of cover prevent winds, dirt and debris from getting under the cover. When spring thaw come, remove your cover, add the proper amount of chlorine and swim the same day.

COVER

Make sure the cover you buy is five feet over the pool size for an in-ground pool. This overlap is vital since it offers complete protection and allows sufficient extra material to rest on the surface of the water to accommodate rain and melted snow. A cover with a smaller overlap may drag into the pool when large amounts of water accumulate.

In addition to protecting the pool itself, a solid vinyl cover will protect the coping when placed a little past it. This will prevent cement coping from winter erosion and cracking. Plastic or aluminum coping will also be protected by the water sleeves.

Before the freezing weather sets in there may be an accumulation of the rain water on the cover. This can be removed by using the vacuum cleaner assembly as a syphon. After the water is removed, leaves and twigs will dry in a day or two and can be removed easily with a pool brush.

If a mesh cover is used, it will have to be attached to the pool deck in some fashion. If loosely-woven, it will sag, catch and hold leaves, which should be removed carefully with a leaf rake. Since the top of this type of cover is fragile and easily damaged, it should never be removed containing wet leaves.

LEAVES

A tightly-woven mesh cover reinforced with straps can be stretched taut above the pool surface so that few leaves will collect on it. Due to the porous nature of mesh covers they do not keep out dust or seal in chlorine, resulting in an accumulation of algae in the spring.

★ ★ ★

- Thoroughly clean all debris from the pool, brush the scum line, walls and floor.
- Over-chlorinate the water by four to five times the usual amount.
- Put plastic bottles with anti-freeze or invert them, filled with air, into the skimmer.
- Backwash and thoroughly clean filter.
- Shut off, drain and clean both filter and heater, following manufacturers' instructions carefully.
- Remove ladders, diving board, and all pool accessories and store indoors for the winter.
- Apply an approved type of cover making certain that coping is covered.
- Order any new parts or equipment needed now, so that spring opening will be simple and quick.

Storing Clothes

Moth-repellent cedar closets may be used for daily or seasonal storage. Doors should be kept closed tightly at all times. All clothes and fabrics should be cleaned before storage.

Yes, we take the pains to be "Old Fashioned" builders

That's why Kampsen Built Homes consistently re-sell at higher prices

The other day a man who wanted to pay us a compliment called us "Old-Fashioned" builders. "I mean", he said, "you go on building to quality standard. You don't take construction short-cuts . . . or compromise on materials. Well, I'm glad you build the way you do. It means that, if I ever have to sell my Kampsen Built Home, I'm going to get more money for it than for any other comparably priced home I might have bought!" Yes, we're "old-fashioned" that way. "Old-fashioned in our ideas about service, too. We believe that every buyer of a Kampsen Built home is entitled to prompt, thorough service. That's why we only build in areas where we can give service to our homeowners. We like to "stay on top" of the homes we've built.

Zoned Heating Making Big Gain

More and more homebuyers are demanding two and three-zoned heating systems, reports the National Better Heating-Cooling Council.

★ ★ ★

The hydronic (hot water) heating industry pioneered the concept of zoned control — which allows homeowners to vary the temperature in different areas of the house.

Air Moisture Comfort Key

In many households the occupants either experience too much dampness or the air is too dry.

★ ★ ★

Some rooms are too damp while others are too dry. This makes for unhealthy living conditions.

★ ★ ★

The amount of moisture that can be tolerated in a room depends on the construction of the house, the use of insulation plus outdoor temperatures and humidity.

The moisture content in the air must never be high enough to allow moisture to gather on the windows and yet it should never be so low as to cause drying out of skin surfaces and the mucuous membranes of eyes, nasal and throat passages.

A good, centralized air-conditioning system is designed and properly ducted to introduce the proper amount of humidity into each room of your house as it is required.

An added advantage is that dust is kept to a minimum and pollen is virtually eliminated.

Hardboard Proves Boon to Storage

Want to squeeze more storage space out of your closets?

Transform the inside of the closet door into a handy storage wall with a panel of perforated hardboard fastened to the door over back-up washers.

Hooks inserted in the perforations will hold a surprising number of items.

For example: hats and handbags in bedroom closets; umbrellas in hall closets; plastic bags filled with soap cakes in linen closets; and pots and pans in kitchen closets.

Family Room Star of 3-Bedroom Ranch

Rather than being relegated to a spare corner, the family room is placed boldly along the rear of the house, with sliding glass doors leading to the garden or terrace.

Just as long as the living room — 20' — it is 2' wider.

And it gives the illusion of being even larger, since it is on a line with the kitchen, which has a dividing snack bar that could be used as a pass-through server or clearing counter.

FIREPLACE

★ ★ ★

There's easy accessibility to the area, not only through the glass doors and the rear service entrance, but directly from the front door via the center hall.

At the front of the house, the living room and the dining room flow together, with large windows in each.

Z-63 STATISTICS

Design Z-63, a ranch with rectangular proportions, has a living room, dining room, family room, kitchen, three bedrooms and two baths, with a total habitable area of 1,724 square feet. There is a two-car garage, behind which is a service area, incorporating a laundry, mud room, sink, two closets, a storage space and a stairway to the basement. Over-all dimensions are 70'4" by 43'2".

A fireplace in the living room utilizes the same chimney as the one in the family room.

Architect Lester Cohen has thus provided an arrangement that does not push either formal or informal living into the background, giving "equal time," in effect, to each.

★ ★ ★

To the left of the center hall is the bedroom wing, which includes three bedrooms, all buffered by hall, closets and baths from the living rooms of the house.

BEDROOM

A second full bathroom is at the rear, convenient to the two other bedrooms as well as the rest of the house.

The service area is next to the kitchen, but out of its way. It can be entered from the rear or from the two-car garage, providing protection for the kitchen from muddy feet as well as a passageway to the basement, since the stair is located there.

★ ★ ★

There is space in the service section for a washer and dryer, with a sink under a window and with two closets.

STORAGE

Also in this area, but with a separate outside opening of its own, is a place for the storage of outdoor furniture, garden equipment, bikes, etc.

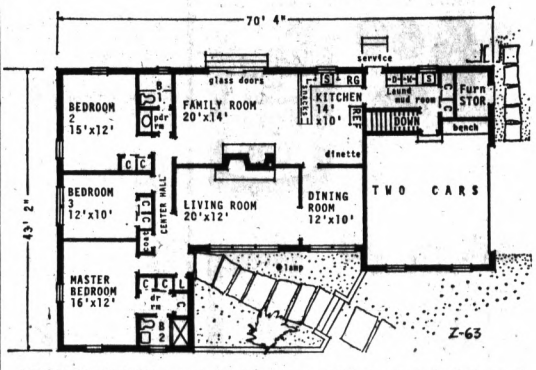
A feeling of extra warmth is achieved with window shutters, an outside lamp, a flower box stretching across the master bedroom and bathroom windows, a cupola on the garage and, most of all, an area at the front for shrubbery and flowers, enclosed by a low brick wall.

REAR ELEVATION



FLOOR PLANS—Utilizing every inch of space, plans dispense with large foyer but have a central hall that permit proper traffic flow. Note how family room-kitchen and living room-dining room combinations are of equal size. Stone chimney serves two fireplaces.

Grass Is Greener

The grass will be greener in a San Antonio community thanks to its imaginative developer who also owns a local water company. He's offering a year's water supply free to new home buyers as an incentive to landscape improvement.

Counter Hinge for Barbecue

Every back yard chef needs a work counter near the barbecue, and attaching one to the fence is a smart way to provide it.

To build a drop-leaf barbecue counter of any size, nail tongue-and-groove boards over pieces of 2x4-inch cedar or fir.

★ ★ ★

The 2x4s will form the bracing on the counter's underside. Then hinge the counter to the fence's middle rail or to a ledger strip screwed to the fence.

★ ★ ★

To hold the counter in place when up, use lengths of chain run from screw eyes at the counter's outside corners to screw eyes set in the fence's top rail.

Dog leash clips at each end of the chains will snap firmly into the screw eyes but are easily unhooked.

Furniture Fad

Newest interior decorating fad is inflatable furniture. Vinyl-plastic chairs, sofas and hassocks are blown up like ballons with a vacuum cleaner hose or bicycle pump. Manufacturers say they're comfortable and sturdy, less expensive than conventional furniture and can be moved with a finger-tip touch.

Beauty Rests on Individual

A day long-remembered will be the one when the nurseryman completes the home landscape. What perhaps was a sea of mud, or a mixed-up jumble of plants placed without rhyme or reason, is now a coordinated setting that compliments the house.

Quality trees and shrubs will have been placed where they belong to give beauty and the opportunity for outdoor family living. The lawn will be on its way to years of enjoyment. Each season, you can anticipate the setting to mature into an even more lovely picture.

* * *

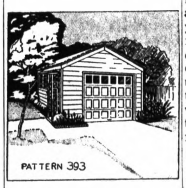
Fulfilling the future dreams of your landscape depends on the instructions the nurseryman leaves — the checklist for continued beauty in the landscape. The garden experts say that after the completion of the landscape planting, much depends on the individual owner.

The checklist that the nurseryman leaves with the homeowner is made up for the specific landscape. Only the highest quality plants, seed or sod have been used and the nurseryman knows the nature of these plants and what is necessary to keep them at their peak of performance.

CHECKLIST

- Watering. Newly set plants will need a constant check on the amount of moisture in the soil, especially if periods of low rainfall occur after the planting is completed. Whenever a plant is moved, even with the careful care given by a professional, some of the smaller roots will be either lost or damaged. The plant cannot seek out moisture so ample water must be close to the remaining roots at all times. Generally, a deep watering by allowing a small trickle to come from the hose for an extended period will be advised.
- Fertilizing. Some plants will need supplemental fertilization in addition to the soil preparation given by the nurseryman prior to planting; others need no fertilization for some time. In fact, certain plants could even be harmed by fertilization immediately after planting. The nurseryman will note this in his instructions.
- Staking. Trees, and even some shrubs, will be planted with stout support stakes. These are necessary for the welfare of the plant to give it some extra assistance until the root system is again established. The nurseryman will note how long the stakes should remain and give instructions for their removal.
- Pest Control. The healthiest plants available are invariably selected for use by the nurseryman. However, pest infestations can occur — sometimes over night. A regular spray program will be advised to prevent incidences of insects and diseases.
- Weed Control. Removal of the weeds that rob plants of moisture and nutrients is almost self-evident. However, your nurseryman may recommend means to make this part of landscape housekeeping easier. One such means is to use of Summer mulches over the ground which not only curb weed growth but also helps retain moisture in the soil. He will recommend mulches and even put them in for you.
- Lawn Maintenance. Whether the lawn was sodded or seed sown, there will be specific procedures that must be followed to keep it lush and green. These include watering, fertilizing, mowing and weed control. Again, the nurseryman's instructions will be exclusively for this lawn: how often and when to feed, what weed killer chemicals to use and when; proper height to mow; etc.

In some instances, the retail nursery or garden store is in a position to offer these "checklist" maintenance services. When performed by a qualified professional you have added assurance of the continuing beauty of your home setting.



PATTERN 393

BUILD A GARAGE with extra space at one side for a work bench or tools. The separate entrance for storage space is useful. Whether you do the work or hire help, Pattern 393 will make details clear and save you money. It lists materials and even gives a full-size guide for cutting rafter ends. Price 50 cents. This pattern also is one of four in the Home Owners' Building Project Packet No. 72 for $1.50.

The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept. P.O. Box 50, New Windsor, N.Y. 12550.

New City Offers Built-In Jobs

Most people in this "new town" near Phoenix won't have to leave town to go to work.

The designers hope to provide jobs for at least half the residents in the new town itself, to reduce commuting and give people more time to spend on their own individual interests. Litchfield Park is planned as a balanced community for 75,000 to 100,000 people; it will offer all the facilities and services called for in a town of that size, in an environment designed to be as attractive and convenient as possible in an urban area.

Many architects say that a full glass wall is the surest way to spoil both a room and a good view. A view, they contend, must be framed just as a picture is framed.

Though glass may extend from floor to ceiling, it should be divided vertically into panels so that the view is subtly-separated into pleasingly proportioned segments.

★ ★ ★

This treatment also prevents a room from feeling too exposed to the outdoors, though an excellent relationship is retained.

★ ★ ★

No great distance is needed to separate the glass panels. A four-inch post usually does the job if glass panels are no more than four feet wide.

COLUMNS

When an exceptionally long or tall wall requires greater separation between glass panels false columns one to two feet wide may be built and paneled with tongue-and-groove boards for decorative impact.

Such columns also can be designed as tall, narrow bookcases or as enclosures for music equipment and speakers.

Aerosol Spray Cleans Carpets

A new aerosol spray that brings push-button ease and professional efficiency to the field of home carpet cleaning has just been introduced by W. J. Hagerty & Sons, Ltd., Inc., South Bend, Ind.

Called Rug Clean, the sophisticated aerosol product is easy and economical to use, and performs effectively on any colorfast fiber, including wool, cotton, synthetics or blends.

Contained in an aerosol spray can with jet action lever, the cleaner sprays foam directly onto the carpet and instantly loosens and absorbs the toughest dirt and soil, according to Mrs. Mary Gaffney, director of the Hagerty Home Care Institute.

DIRT CATCHER

"As most homemakers know, more dirt by volume and weight settles into rugs and carpets than all the rest of the house put together. The only solutions to the problem have been to give in to the upheaval and expense of sending rugs out, have a professional come in to do the job, or face the trying task, and often uneven results, of tackling the job on one's own with the help of a rug shampooer."

★ ★ ★

With the new aerosol spray, however, a homemaker can thoroughly clean any size rug with only a standard sponge mop, clear rinse water, and a vacuum cleaner.

Used according to directions, a single 24-oz. container will clean a 9 x 12-foot rug with cleaner to spare, the home care expert said.

• Vacuum entire area to be cleaned. To avoid rust stains on damp carpet, place squares of wax paper under metal furniture glides as carpet is cleaned.

• To spray, turn container upside down and hold two feet above carpet. Lightly spray an even layer of foam over a 3-foot square area.

• Wet sponge mop in clear water, squeeze out excess, and gently stroke foam over area. Increase pressure across same area at right angles until foam disappears.

• Sponge rug once again in one direction to raise nap. Excessively soiled spots can be hand-rubbed with a sponge, where necessary.

• Repeat procedure in 3-foot square areas until entire rug is cleaned.

• Vacuum thoroughly when dry to remove dried cleaner and loosened soil.

Depending on temperature and humidity in the room, the drying process will take approximately two to four hours, Mrs. Gaffeny noted.

"Save any leftover spray for emergency spot cleaning," she advised. "Prompt action on most spills may prevent permanent stains that no cleaning product can remove."

Make an odor-free slicing board for the kitchen from hardboard.

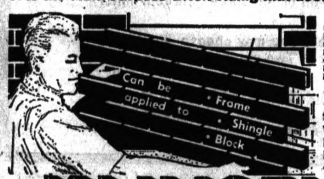
WHAT IS KLINGELHUT FACE BRICK SIDING?
It is the Multi-Purpose Brick Siding that does so many jobs—BETTER



Klingelhut brick is genuine, individually made, kiln-fired brick of standard dimension except that it is ½ inch thick. It is bonded to ½ inch insulating panels by an exclusive process developed by Klingelhut. This produces an insulating combination equal to 4 inches of blown-in insulation—or 4 feet of solid brick.

• Gives year-round insulation • Reduces fuel costs • Beautifies your home, increases its value • Resists fire • Ends repair and maintenance bills — no painting • Economical to install ...

He Earns 10 Points for One Accident

A Walled Lake man, Patrick W. Lennard of 2475 S. Commerce, earned himself a 10-point buck this weekend — by accident.

The buck ran in front of his car when Lennard 17, was driving home down S. Commerce Road near Ethel at 1:45 this morning. Lennard, driving home from work, was unable to stop.

* * *

Man Stabbed at Local Home

* * *

Police said they were called to 62 N. Marshall about 12:52 a.m. today and found Guy Feer, 35, on a couch bleeding from two stab wounds in the chest.

Feer told officers he and his wife were drinking yesterday afternoon and evening and got into an argument.

2 Men in Custody After Area Break-In

Two area men were arrested this morning on charges of breaking and entering Dunham's Sporting Goods store at 33096 Northwestern, West Bloomfield Township, according to the township police.

The amount of cash and goods taken has not yet been determined, according to police.

The men, William Carnaham, 29, of 1367 Delta, Walled Lake, and Paul Jaworski of 1233 Round Lake Road, White Lake Township, are in Oakland County Jail and were scheduled for arraignment later today.

No Air Jam on This Line

GODTHAAB, Greenland (UPI) — In this era of congested airways and overcrowded airports, there is at least one airline that is not complaining — Greenlandair, which serves this huge, Danish-owned island.

* * *

"On most of our runs," explained Valdemar Lauritsen, president of Greenlandair, "we just don't need airports."

* * *

Greenlandair operates a regular service over a route of some 1,000 miles during summer months, and 1,500 miles in winter. It does so with three 24-passenger Sikorsky S61 helicopters and two DC4 aircraft.

* * *

For most flights, largely over jagged peaks, ice caps and glaciers, helicopters are used. Last year they flew 13,000 passengers.

* * *

"We are the adhesive that binds this country together," Lauritsen said. "Without air traevl Greenland would consist largely of isolated communities most of the year, when ships cannot navigate."

Old at 23, 'Peyton Place' Girl Is Pushed by the Young Set

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Leigh Taylor-Young was having a butterfly painted on her thigh by Andy Warhol — but despite this youthful activity, she insisted that she felt old at 23.

WILSON

"I'm already straining to keep up with the younger world around me," said the dignified-looking beauty who was pointed out everywhere as "the girl in 'Peyton Place'" although this thigh-painting exercise was promotion for her picture with Peter Sellers, "Alice B. Toklas, I Love You."

"I have a 13-year-old sister who I guess considers me an old fogy," she said. "When she was 12, she went up on the roof, read a book she shouldn't have and smoked a cigaret. I felt very old telling her she shouldn't do that."

She looked grave as she sipped some Chablis and sat erect in her tobacco-colored leather jacket (after Warhol finished with her thigh).

"I've become very world-conscious and am worried. I want to do something about it but nobody else is being serious about anything."

Take the movie. In it, she stirs up a mess of marijuana in the brownies, and California hippies have rushed to see this, but Leigh doesn't take it as anything to get alarmed about. She and her husband, Ryan O'Neal, also of "Peyton Place," have a year-old son Patrick, consider themselves religious and law-abiding and she still has an open mind about pot.

"Alice B. Toklas" — Gertrude Stein's secretary — "published a cookbook years ago that had a recipe for brownies with marijuana in them. She said in the book, 'This is rather difficult to get away with in America, but in Europe, marijuana is grown in everybody's window box.'

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Julie Andrews, who's up to $1,000,000 and more a film, made "Star!" under an old contract, for a measly, stinkin' $200,000 . . . George Burns'll have a two-day party (Oct. 21-22) at the Spindletop, for his new recording . . . When Sergio Franchi's starring at the Royal Box in April, his opposition'll include his sister Dana Valery at the Persian Room.

The cast of "Sticks & Stones," a revue at Charlie's Tavern ("barely off-Broadway") includes three moonlighting teachers . . . Rocky Graziano, writing a children's book, said at Athena East his publisher isn't giving him an editor: "He's givin' me a translator."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "I have received no more than one or two letters in my life that were worth the postage." — Henry Thoreau.

EARL'S PEARLS: Billy Reed, leaving a cafe, was asked if he wanted a nightcap. "No," he said, "I think I'll go home and put one on."

Joan Rivers admits she's still not so hot as a cook: "For instance, I don't know at what temperature to set my electric iron to make pressed duck." . . . That's earl, brother.

McDonald Asks Clearing of Roadsides to Save Lives

More than 16,000 lives could be saved yearly by clearing obstructions in locations up to 50 feet on each side of the highway, U.S. Rep. Jack R. McDonald, R-19th District, said yesterday.

McDonald told listeners at the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Traffic Safety Committee meeting that some 50,000 persons in the U.S. were killed last year by hitting roadside obstructions.

* * *

The problems existing on the off-portion of highways have been discussed in the open hearings being held by the Highway Investigating Committee of the Public Works Committee of the House of Representatives, McDonald said.

He showed viewers at the Sveden House, 755 Baldwin, films of accidents resulting when motorists hit improperly placed guard rails, and unnecessary structures holding up road signs.

The Bureau of Public Roads recently issued a directive to all states that new roads must have guard rails buried in the ground. Another directive orders breakaway signs — road signs which will break when hit at a certain rate of impact.

McDonald also commented that many roads were improperly marked. He showed a film of cars coming to an improperly marked split in the road. Approximately every 40 seconds a car would take the wrong fork, stop, and back up on the roadside — despite heavy traffic — or cross right over two lanes to reach the other fork.

Accidents are often caused when motorists are not sure where they're going commented McDonald. He added that "we are working to point motorists in the right direction."

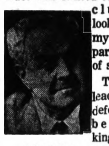
Opening lead—♠ A

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

West opened the ace of spades against South's five-heart contract and shifted to the four of clubs after looking at dummy and his partner's three of spades.



The spade lead cost the defense a trick because the king was now JACOBY set up for a diamond discard and the club shift cost a second trick since it went right up to South's ace-queen.

★ ★ ★

After that pleasant start, South wasted no time bringing home the game contract. He started by leading a trump to dummy's ace. He paused a second when West showed out. Then he led a club to his ace and ruffed a club with the king of hearts to prevent a possible overruff. When East followed to this third club, all South had to do was to play trumps and let East take his queen whenever he was ready.

East was rather annoyed with his partner. He pointed out that, while that spade lead wasn't bad, just unfortunate, the club shift at trick two was sheer giveaway.

West said nothing at the time but he submitted the hand to us for analysis. We don't particularly approve of the club shift but the major blame should fall on East.

It is possible to visualize a South hand with the queen-jack of diamonds, queen of hearts and no ace of clubs that would produce five hearts unless East and West cashed two club tricks right away.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
			1 ♣
Pass	1 ♦	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	2 ♦	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠ A K 7 6 ♥ K Q 9 4 ♦ A ♣ J 8 7 6

What do you do now?

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two diamonds your partner has bid two spades over your one spade. What do you do now?

Answer Monday

So the three of spades play did give West a problem. East should have seen that, as far as he was concerned, the best line of defense would be a spade continuation and East should have invited that continuation by playing his eight of spades, not the three. Then, if West shifted, the onus would rest entirely on West's shoulders.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Sunday

Once-Divided Arab Village Still Feels Barriers

BARTA'A, Israel (AP) — Gone are the snaky coils of barbed wire, the deadly land mines and dragon-teeth stone blocks that divided this all-Arab village for two decades.

Barta'a was reunited, at least geographically, in June 1967 when the Israeli army swept through Jordan's west bank in the six-day war.

DIFFERENT BENEFITS

On one side of the unseen line are the Arab "haves" of Israel. On the other side are the "have-nots" of occupied Jordan.

The answer is simple: The Arab who lived under Israeli rule for 20 years enjoys most of the benefits of his Jewish neighbor. He has a higher standard of living, is paid more and benefits from Israel's semiwelfare state.

Life is far grimmer for the Jordanian Arabs living on the east side under Israeli occupation. Their standard of living — and pay packets — have not changed since the 1967 war. But they must now pay Israeli prices for Israeli food and clothing.

"My brothers use part of our father's land," explained Kundas. "I have nothing to do . . . Under Israeli Law I am an absteen Arab."

Mohammed Hussein Kubha is a 28-year-old employe in the Israeli Ministry of Health. He has lived all but the first eight years of his life under the Israelis. His salary is about $228 a month, and half of this goes to a brother living in the Jordanian sector of Barta'a.

"We go to the same grocer," says Kubha. "We eat the same food. We pay the same prices. But I earn 10 times what my brother does."

Barta'a was not the only Arab village divided by the Israeli-Arab mapmakers following the Israeli-Arab war of 1948. Beit Safafa near Jerusalem also was split in two. And Jerusalem itself was divided into Arab and Jewish sectors for 20 years. But Barta'a was an error.

"In the autumn of 1948 two army officers visited our village," recalled the village's mukhtar, or headman. "One was Jewish, the other Jordanian.

"They told us a slight mistake had been made at the Rhodes armistice conference and that our village must be divided in two."

The mukhtar, Haj Mahfouq Kubha, 57, stared into the past and sighed: "As you can imagine we were shocked. We tried to explain that was very cruel . . ."

★ ★ ★

The officers, Kubha said, merely looked at the map and said: "We are sorry, but it is the agreement."

The border was erected in a small, dusty valley that bisected the village of some 1,200 Arabs, most of them members of the extensive Kubha family.

LENIENT AT FIRST

In the early days, authorities on both sides were lenient, permitting Jordanian and Israeli Arabs to hold Friday prayers in the one village mosque. The villagers also shared a communal well.

But in 1953, the division became permanent. The well was divided and a mosque was built on the Israeli side. The two halves of the Kubha family had no physical contact and communicated by letters relayed from America or Europe.

On special occasions they used to call loudly from one of the house tops such news as "Ahmed Ali Kubha is dead" or "Yousef said Kubha will marry tomorrow Fatmia Hamid Kubha."

The Kubhas of Barta'a are pessimistic about the future. Said one: "The division of Barta'a was done without reason. So we don't have any legal grounds to appeal to the Israelis to reunite us. Human problems are not enough."

Florida Senate Race Free-Swinging Fight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florida's free-swinging fight over the U.S. Senate is one of the hottest races in the South this year and for the first time in this century the Republican candidate is favored.

GOP Rep. Edward Gurney is given a slight edge over former Gov. LeRoy Collins in a campaign in which Vietnam has been the main issue but much of the speech time has been devoted to the candidates' past political bedfellows.

Gurney has toured the Florida peninsula trying at every turn to tie Collins tightly to the Johnson-Humphrey administration. And Collins has attempted to shackle Gurney to Florida's flamboyant GOP Gov. Claude Kirk, whose popularity dipped after an aborted drive for second spot on the Republican national ticket.

Gurney told a recent meeting of key campaign workers that the message to voters must be: "If you want change, send Ed Gurney to Washington; but if you want a carbon copy of the Johnson-Humphrey years, Collins is the man."

ANIMOSITY CITED

There is widespread animosity in Florida to the Johnson administration, Gurney says, and it will hurt his opponent because "Collins was a key member of the chain during his time in Washington and he supported LBJ all the way."

Collins resigned as president of the National Association of Broadcasters at President Johnson's request in 1964 to become the first head of the Community Relations Service. The next year, Johnson named Collins undersecretary of commerce.

The silver-haired former governor has replied that he served wherever he was asked, but that he remains his own man. And usually he counters with a charge that Gurney "is in the same political bed" with Kirk, who has been called the "Go-Go governor."

"Now there's nothing wrong with Gurney and Gov. Kirk being friends, or even working together if they are working for the public interest," Collins has said. "That this is not their joint purpose becomes pretty clear, however, from the frantic efforts these days of Mr. Gurney to secede from his union with Kirk."

WHAT STRONGER TIES?

Collins has pointed out that his Republican foe's Winter Park law office handles business for the State Turnpike Authority and says, "I have been telling people that Gurney and Kirk were working intimately together, and what stronger ties are there than money?"

The candidates, both attractive and veteran vote getters, are vying for the seat vacated by retiring Democratic Sen. George A. Smathers.

Collins was counted the underdog when he came out of a run-off primary battle with a winning margin of less than 3,000 out of more than 800,000 votes cast.

THE SAME DRUM

Gurney forces were quick to beat the same drum and frequently refer to Collins as "Liberal LeRoy."

Collins says he rejects all labels, while Gurney invites his audiences to call him a conservative.

Gurney's Harvard-shaped New England tones sound much like those of the late President John F. Kennedy, but his views are closer to third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace.

Gurney, 54, was elected to the House in 1962 and has been returned to office with increasing prurialities.

Collins, 59, was elected governor in a special election in 1954 after Gov. Dan McCarty died shortly after taking office. In 1956 he won a full four-year term on the first primary ballot against four opponents.

"With Six You Get Eggroll" may be the first movie ever made with all good guys and no bad guys.
Wouldn't it be refreshing to see a movie where everyone comes out fine, including you?

Week's NY List

By ED MORSE
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hopes of a Vietnam peace changed the atmosphere in Wall Street the past week and stocks made a solid advance in heavy trading.

As the weekend came, the feeling in the financial community was even more optimistic than the news dispatches seemed at times to warrant. In any event, the market rose swiftly from midweek on, buoyed by reports, some of them denied, that progress was indeed being made regarding the Vietnam problem.

The Dow Jones industrial average the past week advanced 17.79 to 967.49. This put it at the highest level since Feb. 18, 1966. At that time the market was plunging rapidly from the historic closing peak of 995.15 made on Feb. 9, 1966.

"If a Vietnam cease-fire actually comes," said Larry Wachtel, news desk manager at Bache & Co., "you could see the Dow at 1,000 in a week or so."

"Peace is strongly bullish," said Walter Maynard of Shearson, Hammill & Co."—except for the tiny group of armament issues which have already suffered severely in price. All types of issues having to do with construction of dwellings, including savings and loans, suppliers of building materials, land developers, contractors, etc., should benefit.

* * *

"Consumers-goods stocks, especially producers of consumer durables such as autos and appliances, should feel a further boost in demand. To the extent that any stabilization in interest rates occurs, peace should be favorable to utilities of all types."

The market launched its "peace rally" Thursday as volume swelled to 21.06 million shares, the third-highest in history. The rally resumed Friday after some initial hesitation.

Volume for the week was 61,596,288 shares compared with 56,089,920 the previous week when the market corrected its big September advance in slower dealings.

Blue chips were heavily favored as many institutional investors shied off from the high multiple glamor stocks and bought blue chips on the notion that they had "more room" for advancement, based on their lower price-earnings ratios.

MSU Veterinary Program Is Split

EAST LANSING (AP) — After a two-year study, Michigan State University has decided to divide its veterinary medicine program into two departments—one for small animals and the other for large animals.

★ ★ ★

The announcement explained: "'Small animal' usually refers to dogs, cats and other pets 'Large animal' generally means a horse, cow or other type of livestock."

2 Proclamations

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has proclaimed Oct. 20-26 as vocational guidance week and Nov. 10 as Marine Corps Day.

THINK ABOUT IT!

COURAGE

At times, some people confuse the distinction between courage and cowardice. Courage does not always imply and absence of fear; nor does cowardice always imply an excess of fear. Common sense linked with conscience is involved in the distinction.

For example, some people think it takes courage to speed past a car on a hill or curve. Screeching tires, shrieking voices, swerving cars, and often head-on collisions point an accusing finger toward that kind of courage. Since common sense did not prevail, and since there was a lack of conscience for a possible tragedy, are such drivers really courageous — or cowardly?

Courage with a conscience gives us strength to face distinctions between right and wrong, between the things we should do and should not do. At times, it may even take courage to be classed as a coward. But as long as common sense is used with a clear conscience, cowardice is glorifed beyond that of courage.

Life requires boldness. Boldness requires courage. But courage should never create tragedy or destruction when such catastrophies can be avoided. HUNTOON FUNERAL HOME: 79 Oakland Avenue, Pontiac. Member National Selected Morticians. Phone 332-0189.

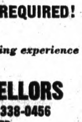
VETERANS BENEFITS

There are many benefits available to veterans and their survivors as a small token of gratitude for their sacrifices to our country in her hours of need. Space does not permit us to cover all benefits available, so the ones we shall cover lightly are those benefits to survivors of deceased veterans.



J. L. VOORHEES

M. E. SIPLE

A survivor of a veteran of wartime service who had at least ninety days of active service and was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable are eligible for the following benefits:

Burial allowance, burial flag, burial in a national cemetery for veteran and spouse. Headstone or marker, military funeral, monthly pension to widow and children under 18.

Panel Is Named in Labor Dispute

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney announced Friday appointment of a three-member special commission of fact-finders in a labor dispute at Detroit's Boulevard General Hospital. Romney asked the body to submit recommendations within 30 days.

★ ★ ★

Named to the commission were Detroiters George Roumell Jr. an attorney, William Litt, an accountant, and Daniel King, an attorney.

State Driver Killed

HOWE, Ind. (AP) — Thomas Carroll of Sturgis, Mich., was killed today when his car skidded off a rain-slicked county road and struck a tree and a utility pole about a mile east of Howe, Ind. State Police said a passenger, Michael Weber, 22, of Sturgis, was critically injured.

Accord Ends Walkout at State Facility

LAPEER (AP) — The walkout by union employes at the Lapeer State Home and Training school ended late Friday as negotiators reached agreement on a temporary settlement.

State Attorney General Frank Kelley was asked to rule on the main issue in the dispute, that of personnel practices at the school. But in the meantime, employes will return to their jobs.

Officials agreed Friday not to take any disciplinary action against workers who set up picket lines around the school. However, the negotiators also agreed that employes would not be paid for the time lost while on strike. The strikers are members of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, Local 567.

★ ★ ★

The walkout began Wednesday.

Bundy at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — William Bundy, undersecretary of state for far eastern affairs, will speak on the Michigan State University campus Wednesday night.

SHOW BOAT HOMES

The developer didn't know how right he would be when he tagged these homes with this name back in "1958." A west suburban location between a Jr. High and Grade School, blacktopped streets and community sewer and water. Truly an ideal location, and for this quality brick ranch home with luxurious carpeting over oak floors, 3 bright and cheerful bedrooms, huge family styled kitchen with built-ins, full basement with recreation room and built-in bar and a very nicely landscaped lot 75'x150' with fenced and shaded back yard.

IT'S A DOUBLEHEADER

You can really score with this one, a large 3 bedroom bungalow with a 13½'x19½ carpeted living room, kitchen with eating space, 10½'x15' dining room, basement with gas heat, 1½ car garage, that's not all—On this beautiful lot there is also another 2½ car masonry construction style garage with a beautiful 2 bedroom apartment above, that rents for $92 a month.

DREAM BY THE STREAM

And set your mind at ease because the front yard with over 70 feet on the stream is completely Anchor fenced, to keep the children in. And children there very well may be with this four bedroom story and half bungalow with two full baths. Other outstanding features: full walk-out finished basement, 12x19 carpeted living room with beautiful view of Loon Lake, attached garage, sprinkling system, beach house and new boat dock. Owner moving north, and very anxious for a deal.

HHH and Muskie on TV Tomorrow

From Our News Wires

Vice President Hubert Humphrey will appear with his running mate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, on a one-hour television program at 10 p.m. tomorrow over CBS.

The time was originally reserved by Humphrey for a debate with his presidential opponents, with the vice president offering to foot the bill. However, when Republican nominee Richard Nixon failed to respond, the debate format was canceled.

Humphrey will also appear on "Face the Nation" at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow, while Muskie will be interviewed on "Issues and Answers" at 1 p.m.

School Kids Pick Nixon

SAGINAW (AP) — The kids of Chippewa Valley Middle School near Saginaw overwhelmingly endorsed Richard M. Nixon for president in a mock election Friday as they used voting machines for the first time.

The youngsters, who attend the fifth through 8th grades, heard Principal Jack Reigle explain the workings of the voting machines.

Then they pulled the curtains and cast 567 ballots for the Republican Nixon, 222 for Democratic Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and 40 for independent George Wallace.

Star Trek's Uhura Can Communicate

HOLLYWOOD — Nichelle Nichols has heard at least two deafening silences in her life.

"When I was nine years old I was asked to sing at a family reunion," she said. "I had been singing quite innocent ditties till then. Mother and father had no idea that I'd pick a torch song, 'When They Ask About You.' I had a deep, deep voice and I sang it with all the gestures. My relatives were absolutely shocked. I expected resounding applause. Instead, I was greeted with deafening silence."

Nichelle reacted characteristically.

"I sensed that I hadn't pleased," she said. "My immediate reaction then is to withdraw. Dad, who was sensitive to me, did a wise thing. He saw my bewilderment. Instead of applauding, he came over and said, 'You had a surprise for your Daddy! Where did you learn that torch song? You are like Helen Morgan and Gertrude Lawrence. No, you're my little Ethel Waters!' "

The incident helped inspire Nichelle to become a singer-actress, featured currently as Uhura, the communications officer, on "Star Trek" over the NBC Television Network Fridays.

'My father also told me that it's not necessary for everyone to fall in love with you and approve of what you're doing," said Nichelle.

"I knew there'd be many notables in the audience," she said. "I wanted a song that would say what's inside me. I combined 'Hello, Young Lovers' with 'On the Street Where You Live.' I swung it. It was sacrilegious to New Yorkers. I didn't know that. Afterwards, there was another deafening silence. Knowing that I didn't have to please everybody, I just stood and smiled and, suddenly, there was thunderous applause. Even the critics praised it as 'an audacious rendition.' "

No Breakthrough at Paris—S. Viet

VUNG TAU, Vietnam (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said today there has been "no breakthrough" in negotiations with Hanoi for a bombing halt of North Vietnam, and Washington sources backed him up.

Asked how long it would be before there was some news of the proposed bombing halt, Thieu said: "I would like to say like President Johnson, there is no breakthrough yet."

★ ★ ★

Asked if there were any basic differences between Saigon and Washington over the peace negotiations, Theiu replied: "When President Johnson says the position of the United States government remains unchanged and when I say the position of the government of South Vietnam remains unchanged, I think we have concurred in that."

"If Hanoi would like to say it will desescalate, they have to tell us when and how they will do this. We are waiting for Hanoi to show good will," added Thieu.

A rocket attack on this South Vietnamese seaside city nine hours before Thieu arrived for a meeting on pacification, killed five civilians and wounded 19. Thieu cited this as "a perfect example that Hanoi has not deescalated."

★ ★ ★

The president was asked repeatedly about a series of meetings Thursday and yesterday between him and U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, that generated reports of a new peace package sent to Hanoi by Washington.

★ ★ ★

He refused to divulge details of the talks, and said he was "not at liberty" to discuss certain matters of which he had been informed by Washington.

After the news conference a spokesman for Thieu issued this statement:

"The U.S. government is an independent government and cannot be forced by us to keep us informed on everything. The U.S. government cannot force the Vietnamese government to keep the U.S. government informed on everything the Vietnamese government does."

★ ★ ★

Thieu said: "I cannot tell you what happened between Washington and Hanoi. I do not know what happened between Washington and Hanoi."

In Saigon, the official Vietnam Press reported the Senate will meet in special session tomorrow to debate a possible bombing halt. Vietnam Press quoted a Senate source as saying that 10 senators demanded debate on the matter.

NY Parents, Rebel Teachers Break In

School 'Sleep-In' Vowed

NEW YORK (AP) — Parents and nonstriking teachers have broken into at least 25 of New York City's locked-up public schools, and some have vowed to "sleep in" until Monday morning and reopen the schools themselves.

As city and school officials continued attempts Friday to end the third teachers' strike of the school year in the 1.1-million-pupil system, many parents and teachers took matters into their own hands.

They smashed windows and forced open the locks on school doors so that they could hold improvised classes inside.

Some were forced to leave because water and electricity had been shut off. Custodians and building mechanics, supporting the strike by the 50,000-member United Federation of Teachers AFL-CIO, refused to cross picket lines.

SOME ARRESTS

There was pushing and shoving, and shouting matches outside some schools as the disgruntled parents and teachers attempted to break in. Police said some arrests were made on trespassing and oher charges.

★ ★ ★

However, persons sympathetic to the striking teachers complained that police made no attempt to prevent forced entry into some schools.

Yesterday afternoon, more than 150 persons, mostly Puerto Rican youths, picketed on the sidewalk outside the UFT's Park Avenue headquarters.

RACIAL OVERTONES

The demonstration pointed up the fact that the labor dispute, which has kept children out of school for 16 days so far this year, is marked by increasingly bitter racial overtones.

The current strike was called Monday as a result of a continuing dispute over reinstatement of 80 union teachers in the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican Ocean Hill-Brownsville experimental school district in Brooklyn.

The prodominantly white UFT has demanded the reinstatement of the teachers by the local governing board, which dismissed the teachers and has refused to take them back. The board is one of three set up as an experiment in community control of schools.

WEDDING COUPLE—Associated Press artist John Carlton put Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and Aristotle Onassis side by side in this drawing. They will be that way at their expected Sunday wedding in Greece on the bridegroom's private island of Scorpios.

Weekend Outlook Sunny and Cool

TODAY — Partly sunny and cool, high 55 to 61. Fair and very cool tonight with a chance of frost in rural and suburban areas.

West to south west winds five to 10 miles per hour.

SUNDAY — Mostly sunny and not quite so cool.

The low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 44. By 12:30 p.m. the mercury had climbed to 57.

Mideast Negotiations

JERUSALEM (AP) — The director general of Israel's Foreign Ministry said today "preliminary contacts" were under way at the United Nations between the Israelis and the Arabs.

Gideon Rafael said the discussions were being supervised by U.N. peace envoy Gunnar V. Jarring of Sweden.

Gladys Hits Florida; 3 Die, Several Hurt

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Wild Hurricane Gladys slashed across north Florida today, smashing house trailers, uprooting trees and blacking out power systems, then roared out over the Atlantic Ocean still mean and hungry.

In her violent wake, at least three Floridians were dead and several injured, and survey teams went to work to

Over land, the hurricane's maximum winds were knocked down from 100 to 65 miles an hour, but fuel from the warm waters of the Atlantic could quickly restore the diminished violence.

However, the U.S. mainland may not see Gladys again. Continued movement along a northeast track was forecast. This would keep her far enough off Georgia and the Carolinas to spare those states anything worse than rough seas.

UNTROUBLED LANDING

And by Tuesday, the National Hurricane Center said, the storm should be several hundred miles east of Bermuda, assuring an untroubled landing for the Apollo 7 spaceship southwest of that British colony.

A motorist driving through the storm drowned when his car crashed into a flooded creek at Sarasota. Two others died of heart attacks in the excitement of a mass beach evacuation in Pasco County just north of Tampa.

★ ★ ★

A blackout of communications all along the hurricane's trail prevented quick assessment of damages. Floodwaters blocked many roads into communities that took the full brunt of the storm.

Jackie Likely to Wed Sunday

ANDRAVIDHA, Greece (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy and Aristotle Onassis swam and lazed in the sun today on the plush island of Scorpios, and all signs pointed to a wedding tomorrow.

Two floral crowns of orange blossoms and two slim white candles, traditional wedding decorations, were flown from a fashionable Athens store to the island.

There were unconfirmed reports that Onassis' retrainers were sprucing up a tiny chapel named Panayitas — "The Little Virgin."

MILD BRAWL

Two Far-Apart Poll Results Create Campaign Skirmish

From Our Newswires

The battle for the White House has spawned a skirmish among the men who make it their business to tell who's winning.

Two of the nation's major polls vary by 10 percentage points.

Sen. Edmund Muskie, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, took a look yesterday at the Harris Poll, which showed the Democrats had narrowed the gap between them and Republican Richard M. Nixon by three percentage points to 5 per cent.

"We can easily close that gap if we get out and work," said Muskie.

But George Gallup released a poll showing the Democrats behind by 15 per cent. Based on the 1964 presidential election, the 10 percentage point translate into seven million votes.

A third public opinion analyst, Burns W. Roper, said the pollsters can't claim the differences came because the polls were taken on different dates.

The Harris Poll, with Nixon leading Hubert H. Humphrey 40 to 35 per cent, was taken at the end of September. The Gallup Poll, where Nixon held a 44 to 29 per cent lead, was taken Oct. 8-10.

A fourth public opinion analyst, Louis H. Bean, who contradicted most other pollsters in 1948 and predicted Harry S. Truman's victory, said even before the latest Harris and Gallup tabulations that the election looks closer than those two polls show.

Both Humphrey and Nixon commented on the prospects for peace yesterday and Gen. Curtis E. LeMay wound up his tour of the war zone saying he was categorically against a bombing halt.

2nd Site Irks School Finance Unit

FRANCIS M. WEBSTER

The possibility that Pontaic school district's planned new high school complex will be built on a site other than the grounds of Pontiac State Hospital has raised the ire of leaders of the school system's Finance Study Council.

It has also raised some questions: Were Pontiac voters misled when they approved a $25 million bond issue March 25? Will the school board abandon tentative plans to construct the $19 million super high school on the hospital grounds?

Francis Webster, chairman of the 90-member study council, has said the council's executive board is opposed to any site other than the hospital without approval of the voters.

The citizens committee not only recommended the hospital site as the location for a new high school but also carried this message to the voters in pushing for passage of the millage issue to pay for its construction.

Webster believes the community was united behind the bond issue and for construction of the school on the hospital site.

Comedy Show in Space Latest Apollo Offering

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) — Apollo 7 commander Walter M. Schirra Jr. turned drill sergeant and directed his two fellow astronauts in a live comedy telecast from space today.

"Hup, two, three, four," Schirra shouted as Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham briskly went through military marching maneuvers — "about face, left face, forward march."

* * *

The nine-minute telecast was a return to the fun and games of the first two Apollo telecasts Monday and Tuesday. It also marked a break in a period of aggravation expressed by all three astronauts, who have become increasingly irritable and impatient as their space flight drones on.

With 90 per cent of their mission objectives achieved and only routine engineering tests planned the last three days, the astronauts are eager to come home.

* * *

When astronaut William Pogue, the control center communicator, greeted the astronauts on waking this morning, he alluded to Schirra's snappiness when he said with a laugh: "Good morning, Wally, I was told I should be careful talking to you today."

NO HIGHLIGHTS LEFT

Officials on the ground said much of the impatience probably could be traced to the fact there are no more major flight plan highlights to break the monotony of engineering checks. They said the colds that have plagued all three most of the eight days have been no help.

Project officials kept a close watch on Hurricane Gladys, which pounded Florida last night. If the storm should threaten the Apollo recovery area, the landing site would be changed. Apollo 7 is scheduled to reenter the atmosphere and parachute into the Atlantic Tuesday.

Cries of 'Shame' Heard in Prague

Czech-Soviet Pact Ratified

PRAGUE (AP) — Groups of Czechoslovaks cried "shame" in the streets outside their National Assembly Friday night after its members voted 228-4 to ratify a treaty providing for the indefinite stay of 70,000 Soviet occupation troops. There were 10 abstentions.

A few hours later, it was announced in Moscow that the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet had unanimously ratified the treaty.

* * *

The two countries exchanged diplomatic notes on the votes, and the Czechoslovak Premier Ooldrich Cernik said the treaty was not a complete surrender of sovereignty. However, Czechoslovakia will have no control over the movement into the country by Soviet troops and their families who will be stationed mainly in northern Bohemia and around Prague, Brno and Bratislava.

Cernik told the assemblymen the rest of the Soviet, Polish, East German, Hungarian and Bulgarian troops, variously estimated from 250,000 to 500,000 will leave within two months.

As explained in Prague, the treaty calls for the Soviets to remove their secret police and military units and pay $1.9 million as settlement for occupation damages.

The Czechoslovaks agreed to have no mass public celebration on the 50th anniversary of the republic Oct. 28.

The Russians reserve the right to send trops at their discretion to any mass demonstrations or meetings and act in the name of Czechoslovak authorities in such cases.

* * *

The Czechoslovaks will not be allowed to call a meeting of the 160-member Central Committee of the Communist party before Oct. 27. Apparently the Soviets wanted more time to influence members individually.

Cernik insisted that Czechoslovakia, "its people and all its institutions will have sufficient leeway to insure a happy Socialist future according to their own interests."

Humphrey, campaigning in Hartford, Conn., said peace in Vietnam would help his lagging campaign, but more importantly it would help all humanity.

In other political developments:

● Sen. Edmund S. Muskie —the Maine Senator will appear with Humphrey tomorrow night on a one-hour television program the vice president had reserved for a debate with his opponents. Muskie, campaigning in Wisconsin and Ohio meanwhile, said the first order of business for the next president must be a treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons.

● Gov. Spiro T. Agnew — Agnew, the GOP vice presidential nominee, said yesterday his political foes have misrepresented his statements about the role of the poor in poverty programs and his willingness to visit them. His remarks were in response to Humphrey charges he wouldn't allowed the poor to help administer their own programs and wouldn't visit big city slums. "If you've seen one city slum, you've seem them all," Agnew said.

* * *

Workers and crewmen pushed and shoved the photographers when they stepped ashore to try for pictures of 8-year-old John F. Kennedy Jr. who was riding around in a minijeep.

Achilleus Kapsambellis, supervisor of the island's 60 or so personnel, threatened the group with an upraised hand clutching a good-sized rock. Things cooled down before he found it necessary to heave the stone.

A crewman from the yacht interceded and talk substituted action. Finally, the newsmen left.

Occupants of a fishing boat reported that Mrs. Kennedy and Onassis sunbathed, had a swim and went for a motor boat ride.

"It was I who introduced her to Aristotle Onassis," said the princess. "I am sure that he's the man who will know how to give her the kind of life she needs,"

"It doesn't make much difference what the Americans think of this marriage," continued the princess, "even though I perfectly understand their surprise. I am thinking above all of the happiness of my sister, who has done a lot for her country."

Accidents in Area Leave Three Hospitalized in City

Barbara Howe, 29, of 45 E. Romeo, Addison Township, is in fair condition at Crittenton Hospital in Rochester with injuries suffered in an accident yesterday morning.

Betty Zelnis, 19, of 8835 Lakeview Drive, White Lake Township, was admitted to St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital after an accident yesterday morning at Opdyke and University.

'COLLIDES WITH AUTO'

Sheriff's officers said she was driving east on University when her car collided with a southbound auto.

The other driver, Judy McIntosh, 21, of 2923 Linda Jane, was treated at the hospital and released.

Russell A. Schulte, 30, of Utica was admitted to St. Joseph's hospital after an accident about 2:50 a.m. this morning.

Officers said his car was struck in the W. Janson, 18, of 295 N. Saginaw. Both cars were heading east on M59 just west of Adams when the collision occurred.

Suspect Freed on $50,000 Bail

A reputed Mafia figure, Joseph M. Barbara, 32, of Fraser, was released on $50,000 bond yesterday pending another court appearance on an extortion charge.

Farmington Township Justice of the peace Byron Walters at arraignment proceedings yesterday set preliminary examination on the charge for 9 a.m. Oct. 25.

* * *

Barbara, president and owner of the Tri-County Sanitation Co., was arrested Friday on charges that he extorted $4,000 in cash and valuables from Mrs. Delores Lazaros of Troy by threatening the lives of her 9-year-old son and convict husband.

Assistant County Prosecutor John Bain argued against bond for Barbara saying that additional threats had been made on the Lazaros family. He said the prosecutor's office feared "for the lives of our witnesses."

Barbara is married to the daughter of Peter Vitale, another reputed Mafia leader who was night manager of the Grecian Gardens restaurant in Detroit, which figured in Wayne County grand jury investigations in 1966.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Rain is forecast for tonight in New England and Florida, combining with showers in the Carolinas, Virginia and the Pacific Northwest. There will be snow in southern Idaho. It will be cooler along the West Coast, in south Texas and throughout the eastern one-third of the nation.

Plane Toll Is 4 Near Hartland

Autopsies on the charred bodies of four persons found after the burning crash of a light plane were being held today in an attempt to identify the victims.

The single-engine Cessna was a "flaming mass" after it crashed last night, according to State Police at the Brighton post.

The plane crashed about two miles southeast of U.S. 23 and M59 near Hartland in Livingston County. Wreckage was strewn over a quarter-mile area, police said.

The dead were two men and two women. They were apparently going from Owosso to Detroit Metropolitan Airport, according to the State Police.

Autopsies and laboratory dental testing on the victims was scheduled to begin today at McPherson Hospital in Howell. The cause of the crash has not yet been determined.

possibility of a change in site if the hospital location proved to be unfeasible because of construction problems, but the public voted for the issue on the assumption that the new high school would be built at the state hospital site," he said.

Construction of the school was approved by the board of education seven months ago. Board members have been aiming for an opening date of September, 1971.

Schools Superintendent Dana P. Whitmer says Pontiac Central High School is outdated and overcrowded, a situation generating educational and disciplinary problems, and a new high school should replace it as soon as possible.

The school board was ready to nail down the hospital grounds officially as the site of the school complex in August when the Pontiac Area Planning Council asked the board to wait for more evidence.

The PAPC board of governors recommended the delay in site selection until a professional planner could complete a study on whether there was a more suitable city site.

* * *

The board hired at $26,500 David E. Lewis, the architect and planner who completed the study for the district's proposed Human Resources Center.

* * *

'BOARD'S COMMITTED'

Webster maintains that Lewis didn't show what the hospital site could do for the city. Webster said that unless there is direct evidence that the hospital site is unfeasible the board is committed to it.

Webster points to a January 24 resolution of the board of education which says the school board "intends to locate the school on a site on the state hospital grounds unless subsequent events or new information derived from further studies makes this unfeasible or impossible."

* * *

He said the study council asked for the resolution fixing the site in order to be able to push the bond issue.

"We felt we couldn't sell generalities," he said. "The FSC sold the location to the public in the best of faith," he said.

DIDN'T LIVE UP

Webster said he feels the board "has not lived up to its committment."

"I don't see why it's not already underway," he said.

LeMay Sees No Value in Bombing Halt

SAIGON (AP) — Curtis E. LeMay said today he sees no value in a bombing halt of North Vietnam because past suspensions "have produced no tangible results toward a settlement or a negotiated peace."

The third-party vice presidential candidate made the statement at an airport news conference before he left for Washington. It was his only meeting with newsmen during his four-day visit to the war zone.

LeMay said he had no knowledge of a reported U.S. proposal to end the bombing as a move toward peace. The 61-year-old retired Air Force chief of staff said past bombing halts have "cost us in resources and in lives due to the fact that the enemy took advantage of it."

* * *

LeMay will brief his running mate, George C. Wallace, when he returns to Washington. The former Alabama governor appears on the NBC television program "Meet the Press" on Sunday.

VIEWS UNCHANGED

LeMay said that he had seen and heard nothing that essentially altered his views on the war or administration policy but added, "I think we can come up with a proper and efficient solution to the problem."

* * *

ACTION AGE

A NEW IDEA IN ACTION FUN!

A new concept in mobility. Six wheels of go-anywhere, do-anything excitement. A "SCRAMBLER" is for anywhere that roads aren't. It makes its own. Through sand, swamp, snow or whatever you. "SCRAMBLER" is amphibious. It'll ford a stream. Cross a pond. Get you to a duck blind. You can Scramble up 45 degree grades. If there's snow on the ground, "SCRAMBLER'S" a snowmobile. If there's a swamp to romp through, it's a swamp buggy. If there's ground around, it's a go-kart. But mostly a "SCRAMBLER" is just plain fun. For sportsmen, hunters and families. Reading about a "SCRAMBLER", even seeing one in action doesn't communicate the thrill of Scrambling. You have to try it yourself.

MEDITATES ON ICELAND TRIP—Looking over a booklet on Iceland which he purchased when visiting there is the Rev. Arthur C. Kreinheder of St. Augustine's house, Oxford. The Lutheran leader is taking advantage of the brilliant sunshine and fall coloring of Michigan's red and gold maples as he sits on the porch railing of the retreat house. There are very few trees in Iceland, he said.

Visits Lutheran Cathedral

According to the Airline Travel folder, the one-hour stop over in Iceland, at noon, could be extended for another 24 hours at a special rate including hotel in Reyhjavik, meals and sight seeing, so said the Rev. Arthur C. Kreinheder of St. Augustine's House, Oxford upon his return to the Pontaic area last week.

★ ★ ★

He said ever since he had read an article entitled "Ecumenical Happening" written by Sister Miriam, O.C.D., he was hoping to stop in Iceland on his trip to Sweden to see the new Lutheran Cathedarl at Skalholt.

★ ★ ★

"The afternoon took me to the Carmelite Monastery to visit Sister Miriam. En route we stopped at the official residence of the President of Iceland called Bessasastadir.

The Sisters have a large new building overlooking the sea. Through the help of Sister Olaf I was received by Bishop Sigurd Einarsson. I met the bishop's son, Carl, who had spent a year in Seattle as part of his seminary training.

"An unusual feature of the Lutheran service in Iceland," he said, "is that hymns are sung by a choir in the west gallery while the congregation listens."

At lunch he said he enjoyed the varied fish dishes, and was aware, at the airport, people from all over the world are discovering Iceland today.

Banquet Tonight

National Child Evangelism Week Opens

The annual Child Evangelism Banquet in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church last night ushered in the National Child Evangelism Week beginning tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne King, missionaries to Israel, showed slides of Nazareth where they make their home.

★ ★ ★

The Kings and other Child Evangelism missionaries throughout the world sponsor Good News Bible Clubs similar to the ones in the United States where children are gathered together weekly to be instructed in the Christian Faith.

★ ★ ★

Last year more than 6,000 children in Oakland County heard the Gospel in the little chapel at Pontiac Mall at Christmas, and at the 4-H Fair during the summer and in homes around the county.

Rev. Perry Thomas Guest Speaker for HH Banquet

At First United Methodist Church the fall season always means it's about time for the annual Harvest Homecoming Banquet.

★ ★ ★

The big event is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. on Oct. 26 with the Rev. Perry A. Thomas of Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church, guest speaker with the subject, "What Did You Look At?"

Mr. Thomas will have a display of his art work and metal sculpture.

The evening will also inclued the presenting of Harvest Home gifts by individuals, classes and groups of the church, singing and special musical numbers.

FOR PARSONAGE

Proceeds of the evening will be used to improve the parsonage.

The Rev. Mr. Thomas, born in Pontiac, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas. The speaker's father was superintendent of the First Methodist Sunday School for many years.

A graduate of Asbury College and the University of Chicago, the Rev. Mr. Thomas received theological training from Oberlin College.

Ordained in 1954 in Detroit Annual Conference, he has served Commerce Methodist, Asbury Methodist in Flint, and his present pastorate.

EXCHANGE PASTOR

In the summer of 1964 the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and their five sons were in England where Pastor Thomas as an exchange pastor served under the World Methodist Council.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Walter T. Ratcliffe will preach on "The Only Way for Modern Man" at morning worship tomorrow in observing Universal Bible Sunday.

A Bible exhibit will be on display following the service.

REV. PERRY THOMAS

Nazarenes Observe Bible Week Study

Williams Church of the Nazarene, 2840 Airport, Waterford Township, will observe National Bible Week tomorrow through Oct. 27 with the American Bible Society theme, "God's Word for a New Age."

★ ★ ★

Pastor James Krauss will preach on "The Bible and You" at the 11 a.m. service.

★ ★ ★

The film titled "The Bible, How It Came to Us" will be presented at the 7 p.m. worship.

The choir under the direction of Jerry Kirk will sing at both hours. The congregation will begin a Bible study on the Book of James at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.
