118 Killed as Canadian Jet Liner Crashes

To Probe Kennedy Death

Johnson Names Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has named a top-level panel to investigate the assassination of President John F. Kennedy so that the nation, the world and history will know the facts.

That was Johnson's mandate to the special presidential commission named last night. He chose Chief Justice Earl Warren to head it.

Representing House Republicans on the commission is Michigan's Gerald R. Ford, Grand Rapids congressman who has been gaining stature steadily on Capitol Hill and in party circles in recent years.

Ford is chairman of the House Republican caucus and has served in the House since 1948.

AVOIDS DUPLICATION

Johnson was understood to be determined to avoid multiple inquiries that could cloud the facts about the murder of Kennedy in Dallas a week ago Friday and the shooting two days later of the man police charged with killing the President.

The new President said he had chosen the commission "to study and report upon all facts and circumstances relating to the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy and the subsequent violent death of the man charged with the assassination."

That man was Lee Harvey Oswald, 24, a self-styled Marxist.

Oswald, accused of shooting the president from ambush as Kennedy motored through downtown Dallas, was himself gunned down in the city police station last Sunday as he was about to be transferred to the County Jail.

RUBY INDICTED

In addition to Warren and Ford, Johnson named these others to the commission: Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., Ky. and Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La.

Others are Central Intelligence Agency Director Allen W. Dulles and onetime disarmament negotiator John J. McCloy.

The President signed an executive order authorizing the commission to subpoena witnesses and granting it other powers it might need to investigate.

NO TIME LIMIT

He set no time limit on its inquiry, and White House sources said Warren will decide when the commission will go to work.

A White House announcement said: "The President is instructing the special commission to satisfy itself that the truth is known as far as it can be discovered, and to report its findings and conclusions to him, to the American people, and to the world."

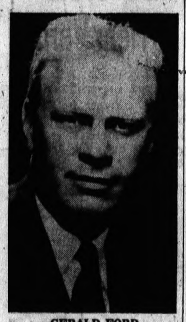
Johnson's aim was reported to be to make sure that overlapping inquiries do not develop, producing a situation in which one investigation might get in the way of another.

★ ★ ★

Boggs had proposed a bill to set up a House-Senate committee to investigate the slaying.

HANDFUL OF MEASURES

It was one of a handful of measures calling for special committee inquiries into the assassination of Kennedy and the shooting of Oswald.



GERALD FORD

Politicians Predict He'll Press Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capitol Hill speculated today that President Johnson may support the hard-fought proposal for health care of the aged even more actively than President John F. Kennedy did.

Johnson's first speech to Congress as President emphasized the priority Kennedy had given to two other measures: civil rights and a tax cut. But he also mentioned "care for our elderly" as one of the late President's aims which "must and will be translated into effective action."

Proponents and opponents of the pending bill to provide hospital and nursing care benefits under Social Security agreed Johnson would mobilize White House resources for a drive to enact the measure next year.

One opponent who would not be quoted by name said political realities would force Johnson, as the prospective 1964 Democratic candidate for the presidency, to an even more vigorous support of medical care than Kennedy's.

STRONG SUPPORTER

Supporters of the measure cited speeches Johnson had made as vice president, including a number during the 1960 campaign and one last year at a rally for the measure, as evidence he strongly supports the principle of health care of the aged financed by Social Security.

In other Washington activity the view in capital circles is that Secretary of State Dean Rusk's position in President Johnson's new administration is probably more secure than that of any of his colleagues.

Johnson has asked everyone in the late President John F. Kennedy's cabinet to remain. Rusk is determined to continue to serve as secretary of state as long as the President needs him, his associates say.

Within a few days, President Johnson probably will announce his first news conference.

White House sources say no decision has been made yet as to when it will be or whether to continue the innovation of the late President John F. Kennedy —the live radio-television news conference.

Paper Reports Sums of Money Sent to Oswald

DALLAS (AP)—Someone telegraphed small amounts of money to Lee Harvey Oswald for several months before the assassination of President Kennedy, the Dallas Times Herald reported today.

His appearances at the Western Union office here were recalled because Oswald invariably argued with its personnel, the newspaper said. It named no source of information but gave this account:

Several days before the Nov. 22 slaying of President Kennedy, Oswald sent a telegram, writing it in a cramped script. The addressee and content of the message were not disclosed.

★ ★ ★

Oswald was remembered at the Western Union office after he appeared on television—first with police who charged him with murdering the President and a Dallas policeman, and Nov. 24 when night spot owner Jack Ruby shot and killed Oswald at the city hall.

Plane Plunges in Night Rain; None Survive

Disaster 2nd Worst in World's History; No Clues to Cause

STE. THERESE DE BLAINVILLE, Que. (AP) —Workers toiled in clinging mud over a quarter-mile area today to recover the bodies of 118 persons killed in Canada's worst aviation disaster, the crash of a Trans-Canada Air Lines DC8 jet.

The big U.S.-built plane, in service only 10 months, caught fire and plunged to earth Friday night just four minutes after taking off in heavy rain and high wind from Montreal's Dorval Airport for a 300-mile flight to Toronto.

★ ★ ★

There were no survivors.

It was the world's second worst single plane tragedy.

Witnesses said the plane exploded, but disagreed as to whether the blast came while it was still airborne or after it plowed into the ground outside Ste. Therese de Blainville, a factory town 20 miles north of Montreal.

★ ★ ★

TROOPS CALLED

Troops were called out to guard the wreckage. Hastily erected lights gave an eerie aspect through the night to shattered bodies, half-buried personal possessions and broken remains of the airliner.

Two of the victims had American connections. They were Ronald Kerne, about 25, a fur buyer from Brooklyn, N.Y., and Mrs. Sari Hankovsky, 40, Hungarian-born part owner of a Toronto dress factory and wife of a New York chef.

Mrs. Hankovsky's husband, Zolton, works as a chef on a Sands Point, Long Island, estate. They have a son Zolton Jr., a student at Denver University.

★ ★ ★

Brooklyn neighbors of Kerne said his widow Renee and their only child, Jeffrey, 7, were spending the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives in Washington.

One man, N. Master, was reported to have connections in Bombay, India.

All of the seven-member crew and the rest of the passengers were Canadians. The pilot was Capt. Jack D. Snider, 47, Toronto, a veteran of World War II service with the Royal Canadian Air Force.

★ ★ ★

Court Cases Cloud Future of City Renewal Projects

By DICK SAUNDERS

Two court cases pose a threat to Pontiac's urban renewal program, and oddly enough, neither case originated here.

One is the suit filed last June by a group of Macomb County citizens challenging the legality of parts of the Michigan Drain Code.

It has cast doubt over the city's major urban renewal "credits": the Clinton River drain and the perimeter road.

★ ★ ★

The suit was dismissed in Federal District Court in Detroit but has been appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court.

WON'T BID

Until the high court rejects it, or accepts and rules on the appeal, financial institutions won't bid on any bonds for projects under sections of the drain code that are being challenged.

Pontiac has a $674,500 urban renewal credit riding on the Clinton River project. If it's not completed, Pontiac will have to come up with that "credit" in the form of cash.

AFFECTS CONSTRUCTION

The Clinton River delay also is affecting construction of the perimeter road. The final portion of the road can't be built until the river is put in an open cut drain along the south side of Orchard Lake Avenue.

Pontiac has another $200,000 credit on that part of the perimeter road.

As if that weren't enough, the Clinton River delay also threatens redevelopment of renewal land downtown.

Land cannot be properly assembled for resale until the river is tunneled, according to urban renewal officials.

THE SOLUTION

The solution to a lot of problems is to get the river project started.

City commissioners now are attempting to divert some capital improvement funds toward the project to get it going.

SUIT FILED

Urban renewal officials are also faced with the possibility

Cash Registers Ring Out

Hordes of shoppers descended on downtown Pontiac and area shopping center stores as the weather became seasonal with nippy temperatures.

Pedestrian and vehicle traffic jams around business districts grew as the work day drew to a close.

Not only were shoppers in a buying mood, but most merchants estimated the day's receipts would total 20 to 30 per cent above those of the Friday after Thanksgiving last year.

★ ★ ★

"Crowds in our store are very good. This definitely looks better than last year," said Clifford Grovogel, managing director of Waite's Department Store.

BUYING UPSURGE

He attributed the buying upsurge to the Christmas period this year being a week shorter than last, plus the nationwide temporary slowdown last weekend due to the death of President Kennedy.

Howard Nelson, manager of the nearby Sears Roebuck & Co. store agreed, "If anything, there is a lot of pent up buying." He said the unusually warm fall also had the effect of holding back retail traffic.

At Osmun's, Inc., the business day was "Pretty good, sales

Area Woman Killed in Crash

An Orchard Lake woman died early this morning when her car ran off Cass - Elizabeth Road in Waterford Township.

Mrs. Lawrence (Marjorie) Marinak 42, of 5502 Garden Terrace was killed at about 3:30 a.m. when her car left the road on Cass - Elizabeth and Cooley Lake roads in Waterford Township.

Mercury Hits Autumn Low at Wintry 24

You're weather - wise if you said this morning was the coldest of the season. In downtown Pontiac the mercury dropped to 24 at 8 a.m.

The reading at 2 p.m. was 32 degrees.

Partly cloudy skies and continued cold temperatures will greet December tomorrow. A low of 25 tonight and a high of 36 tomorrow is the temperature forecast for the area.

★ ★ ★

A few snow flurries are also expected.

OU's Fund Raiser Dedicated

By L. GARY THORNE

The gentle art of fund raising requires dedication. Oakland University has found a dedicated fund raiser in James P. Dickerson, assistant to the chancellor.

Dickerson, 37, said total expenditures at OU since 1959 will total $20.2 million by next June.

Thirty-nine per cent of this will have been derived from state funds, while the remainder comes from tuition fees, borrowed funds, private gifts and government grants.

★ ★ ★

It is in the area of private gifts and investments that the university and Dickerson have been most energetic.

PARTNERSHIP

The success moves the assistant to the chancellor to comment that the school's economic development has resulted from a partnership between OU and area citizens.

"Many local people have contributed much of their time and financial resources to make growth of this new university possible," he said.

The partnership of the four-year-old institution and local citizens is dramatically illustrated by the funds allocated to scholarships, he said.

SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS

Scholarship monies are primarily raised by an 80-member volunteer scholarship committee. This group annually sponsors events and student activities to raise funds.

Dickerson said $253,778 has been raised for scholarships since 1959.

He pointed out that the scholarship budget for 1963-64 is over $90,000, which is considerably more than the $16,790 allocated in 1959-60.

JAMES P. DICKERSON

The partnership, however, has worked even more extensively under Dickerson's guidance.

Not only have no state funds been expended for scholarships, which furnish financial aid for 223 of OU's 1,500 students, but only 24 per cent of the capital investment at Oakland came from state appropriation.

Dickerson said that over $10-million has been invested in construction of new buildings on the campus. Roughly 43 per cent came from private gifts and 33 per cent from borrowed funds.

SEVERAL METHODS

The OU official has established several methods for encouraging contributions from in-

Leaflets strewn about Caracas by the Armed Forces for National Liberation — FALN — an underground terrorist organization, warned the city's population of 1.5 million to stay indoors until Monday or face the possibility of being shot.

Gun battles between FALN bands and police broke out in slum districts but traffic in the downtown area of Caracas seemed only slightly less than normal.

★ ★ ★

Street cleaning vehicles roamed about the city scooping up tacks thrown down by terrorists in an attempt to keep motorists at home.

RESTORE POWER

Workmen restored power to the southern edge of the city where saboteurs bombed two electrical substations Friday night.

One policeman in a patrol car was wounded by snipers.

Elsewhere, 23 bombs exploded or were detected during the night in the city of Coro, capital of guerrilla-plague Falcon State.

LARGE CACHE

It was on the Paraguana peninsula in Falcon State that the government claimed to have found a large cache of Cuban arms.

Because of this, the United States has joined Venezuela in seeking tougher measures against Cuba.

Despite the threats of the FALN, thousands of Venezuelans followed campaign caravans around Caracas early today in defiance of the threats of violence.

The FALN is trying to frighten the population from voting and thus gain a legal basis for declaring the election invalid.

However, the Venezuelans paid little attention to the threats.

Fireworks lit up the skies early today, and it was their booms and whooshes that filled the air rather than the threatened sharp cracks of terrorist rifles or the rattle of machine guns.

Russia Hero Named in Rocket Flop

MOSCOW (AP) — For the first time, a report of failure of a unit in a Soviet rocket launching was reported in the local press today. It was reported in an account of heroism by a Soviet officer.

The Army newspaper, Red Star, reported that all was ready for launching of a rocket "on a bright summer day," date not given, and then gave this account.

The final button was pushed that was supposed to release a plug in the side of the rocket and flip it out. But the spring in the rocket was not strong enough to flip out the plug, which was the gadget which activated the rocket.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, the mechanism within the rocket was working, using up essential power. If it ran too long, the course of the rocket itself could not be certain.

★ ★ ★

He rushed out of the shelter, ran over to the rocket, jerked the cable and pulled out the starting plug.

He had just 6 seconds to get to a shelter trench. He dived in with scores of worried eyes upon him. Then the rocket let go.

When the thunder and heat had faded, he climbed out. Sirens were screaming, ambulances rushing. As the worried crowd rushed to him, his only comment was:

REPLACEMENT

One of the stewardesses, Kathleen Patricia Creighton, 23, served on the flight as a replacement for another girl who was unable to report for duty.

In Montreal, a dozen persons missed the flight because of traffic congestion. Gail McEachern, 26, an employe at McGill University, said she would never again complain about Montreal's traffic problem.

Rescuers began searching for bodies this morning after more than 300 soldiers had spent the night guarding the area against crowds.

Bodies and wreckage were strewn over at least a quarter of a mile. Floodlights and flares illuminated the macabre scene.

ORDER PROBE

After viewing the wreckage, airline officials expressed doubt about determining the cause of the crash by the usual piece-by-piece reconstruction of the plane. The government immediately ordered an investigation.

A Trans Canada spokesman said there was no question of sabotage.

The plane crashed at 6:30 p.m. Witnesses heard a terrific noise —"like an atomic bomb," some said—and saw a red ball of fire. The wreckage burned for two hours.

NEAR HOUSES

The plane hit the ground 800 feet from a row of houses along Highway 11, crashing midway between the road and an expressway to the Laurentian Mountains, a resort area north of Montreal.

"I heard this immense explosion," he said. "It sounded like an atomic bomb. I thought it was the end of the world. My car radio went out of commission, and my first reaction was to jump on the two children and shield them.

"I don't remember seeing the plane at all. I just heard the loud crash. I ran to the scene, and all I could see was a mass of fire.

dividuals and organizations for the university's development.

A continuing capital gifts program, endowment funds, contracted research, and special research grants are some of the fund-raising efforts of the university.

Capital gifts consist of a given sum from which the university uses only the interest or investment earnings.

★ ★ ★

Endowment funds are used mostly as trust money or as a trust fund might be used. This is used for special professorships, lecture series and the like.

FINANCIAL GIFTS

Dickerson also tries to get financial gifts or research grants from private foundations and federal agencies.

Viewing the overall development of Oakland U. as an excellent example of community effort, he said:

"(This) has increased our economic prosperity and will be a prominent element in the emerging role of our community as one of the leaders in the Great Lakes industrial area."

Explaining his fund raising role, he said, "We've tried to raise funds to buy those things the state can't afford."

Dickerson also takes a practical approach to OU's financial status. He said that Michigan colleges face the prospect of doubled enrollments by 1970 and it is too much to conceive that the legislative appropriation will be doubled.

"We could sit here and get by," he added, "but these funds mean the difference between a good program and an excellent one.

"We will not settle for mediocrity," he promised.

IN THE MOOD

Irving J. Gordon, manager of Tel-Huron Children's Shop, said people are in the mood to buy.

"They are Christmas shopping no doubt about that. I would say the response is 20 to 30 per cent better than last year," said Gordon, who is also president of the Tel-Huron Merchants Association.

On the opposite side of the city, at Glenwood Plaza, Roy Schroeder, manager of K-Mart, could hardly find words to describe the day's turnout.

★ ★ ★

STORE JAMMED

At Bloomfield Miracle Mile, Marvin Talan, general manager of Lion Store, echoed: "We've just been jammed since we opened. We're very optimistic and anticipate increased sales right up to Christmas."

And the story was the same at Pontiac Mall, where Merchants Association president Ray Smith termed yesterday "one of the biggest days of the year."

Smith, manager of the S. S. Kresge store, said Santa Claus installed yesterday morning at his igloo on the mall concourse was a big drawing card, with children forming long lines to see him.

★ ★ ★

BIGGER CROWDS

Consensus of retail store managers in the Pontiac area is that crowds will get bigger, so the wise shopper will do well to make Christmas purchases now.

★ ★ ★

Most area stores also put extended hours into effect, with new closing time not until 9 p.m., and at some stores, 10 p.m.

3 From County to Solo in Cranbrook 'Messiah'

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Three Oakland County students are among the four chosen for solo parts in the Kingswood-Cranbrook presentation of the "Messiah."

Performing solo parts will be Arch Copeland, 1020 Chesterfield, Birmingham; Jeffrey L. Hipps, 561 Rudgate, Bloomfield Hills; Bonnie Humsey, 8095 Gage Crescent, Utica; and Patricia Pagan of Riverview.

Selections will include "Glory to God," "For Unto Us a Child is Born" and the famed "Hallelujah Chorus."

Directors of the event are Mrs. Lois Chapman and Walter Read. Robert Bates, organist and choirmaster at Christ Church, will accompany.

Sex and family relations in a Christian home will be the topic of Thursday's meeting of the Birmingham Congregational Church Child Study Club.

Dr. Donald Schroeder, director of life education of public affairs, Detroit Council of Churches, will be the speaker.

The discussion will follow a 12:30 p.m. luncheon at the home of Mrs. Joseph Farnham, 497 Golfview, Birmingham. Reservations should be made with her.

The Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold its annual budget meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the church sanctuary, 388 N. Woodward.

Also scheduled for next week is the first of two meetings for prospective members. The informational sessions will be held at 8 p.m. Dec. 5 and 12 in the church parsonage, 1290 Pierce.

Court Cases Cloud Renewal Future

of a State Supreme Court decision that could ultimately cost the local program up to a half-million dollars, according to off-hand estimates.

In 1962, Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and Detroit Edison Co. filed a suit against the City of Detroit in Wayne County Circuit Court.

The utility companies argued that they shouldn't be required to pay for moving and installing facilities in Detroit's urban renewal project.

The plaintiffs claimed they did not create the need to move facilities. The project was sponsored by the city and federal government, and the sponsors should foot the cost of moving and installing utilities.

GRANTED EASEMENTS

The city argued that utilities were granted easements for facilities free of charge, and therefore should be willing to pay for relocating them.

On May 10, 1962, Circuit Court Judge Edward S. Piggins ruled "Utilities are not liable for the cost of relocation."

"The city is liable to reimburse utilities for the cost of relocating their facilities in an urban renewal project," he said.

This decision was appealed by Detroit to the State Supreme Court. It will be argued this month.

The cost to date of relocating such facilities locally has been estimated at more than $200,000.

ONLY PARTIALLY

This can only be partially solved.

"We could not find room for it in the present budget, but could prepare a new budget for federal approval," said James L. Bates, urban renewal and planning director.

"A new budget would allow for this added cost," he noted, "but the cost would still have to be shared by the city and federal government."

But Bates has more pressing money problems. The R20 project is on the rocks financially.

How it got there, will be the topic of the next installment in this series.

PROJECT BOUNDARIES — This map shows present boundaries of the two projects in Pontiac's urban renewal program. The city's first project, R20, is labelled CBD1. It is the largest in land area (145 acres) and is predominantly residential in character. The second project, R44, is labelled CBD2. It covers 19 acres of predominantly commercial land. The lined area is not included in urban renewal. A revised plan, now being prepared, would add the land bordered by Water, Saginaw and the Clinton River (top, center) to the R20 project area.

The study was asked to show how these programs might be improved to meet expanding needs most economically.

PROVIDE IMMEDIATELY

In recommending a chronic disease hospital, the committee said this type service should be immediately provided at the county's tuberculosis Sanatorium.

It would entail moving welfare patients presently in the county infirmary to the sanatorium, where beds already are available due to a declining TB patient load.

The decline has resulted from modern methods of treatment.

Treating chronic patients at the sanatorium will reduce the cost per patient by eliminating duplication of personnel and services at the infirmary, according to the report.

Combining the facilities and staff also will permit a single administrative board for greater efficiency, the committee added.

The committee also stated that the board should have qualified medical personnel among its members, noting that none are on the county's present health board.

In recommending a mental health program, the committee referred to the local care of the mentally ill and retarded as a "long neglected health problem."

Such a program is to be developed by a Community Mental Health Board appointed Nov. 20 by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors.

ILL CHILDREN

The committee noted that approximately 4,500 school-age children in the county are mentally handicapped and should receive special care and training.

The committee also noted that an additional 4,500 school-age children here are mentally ill and in need of psychiatric treatment.

Nearly half of this number are receiving some kind of care or special attention, the committee added.

It urged the establishment of a "comprehensive outpatient clinic for children" where the need could be met fully.

The committee also urged outpatient clinics for mentally ill adults, noting that the county already is spending ever-increasing sums for their hospitalization.

"The use of a community-centered outpatient clinic should result in making hospitalization unnecessary in some cases and, in many other instances, greatly reduce the number of hospitalization days," the committee reported.

It noted that as the county population increases, so does the expenditure for health, institutional and medical care.

★ ★ ★

In 1960, the county spent $5.3 million for these purposes, while the figure rose to slightly over $7 million last year. About half of the cost was retrieved from the state as its share.

STUDY REPORT

The supervisors' ways and means committee took the report under advisement until all supervisors have received copies and further meetings can be held with other committees and effected boards between now and mid-January.

The citizens study committee was headed by Rogers I. Marquis, vice-president of Federal-Mogul - Bower Bearings, with the following members:

★ ★ ★

Dr. Clare Gates of the United Community Services was survey director.

Buying Policy Will Be Eyed

A new purchasing policy aimed at greater economy will be introduced to the Waterford Township Board Monday.

The proposed policy calls for department heads to submit purchase orders to the clerk's office for approval on all expenditures under $100.

In the proposed policy as now, expenditures over $100 must be approved by the township board.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business in the meeting postponed from last Monday, when all township business stopped in memory of President Kennedy, the board will consider a course of action on the township library program.

A proposal to join the North Oakland Library Association will be discussed and nominees for a seven-member library advisory committee will be considered.

★ ★ ★

Also slated in conjunction with the meeting is a street light hearing for residents of Hatchery Road.

News in Brief

Emil Zumbrunnen, 56, of 301 Scott Lake, Waterford Township, reported to Pontiac Police yesterday that M & S. Auto Parts, 401 S. Saginaw, was burglarized and $100 worth of tools, $10 in change and $10 in stamps stolen.

Easy Come, Easy Go —It's the Safest Way

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Police could find no evidence a service station safe had been blown by burglars who entered the station, but $150 was missing.

Finally they theorized that the thieves used a wire to fish the bills out through a hole in the side of the safe, which employes used to stuff money in without bothering to work the combination.

Short Orbit Won't Affect Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

FALLS SHORT: The Explorer XVIII satellite is expected to fall some 15,000 miles short of its intended distance in space, but space officials say its orbit will produce the expected data on radiation dangers on the path toward the moon.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Friday the satellite, launched Tuesday from Cape Canaveral — now Cape Kennedy—would attain a distance of 122,800 miles instead of the intended 137,000 miles from earth.

* * *

The explorer will be in an orbit that will take four days to complete and that will bring it within 120 miles of the earth.

WHEAT DEAL STALLED: Negotiations for the sale of $250 million of American wheat to the Soviet Union have stalled, and the chief Soviet negotiator has gone home.

* * *

Despite the return to the Soviet Union Wednesday of Sergei A. Borisov, head of the Soviet group, State Department officials said Friday they knew of no indication the talks had been broken off.

Leonid Matveyev, head of a second Soviet group that negotiated directly with American dealers, has gone to Canada, apparently either to supervise the shipping of Canadian wheat bought earlier by the Russians or to try to make a new deal.

CHURCHILL: A statue of Sir Winston Churchill is going to be set up in Washington.

The Washington branch of the English Speaking Union said Friday on the day before the British statesman's 89th birthday that the statue, showing Churchill making his V-for-victory sign with the right hand and holding a cigar in the left, will be placed in front of the British Embassy.

* *

Americans will be asked to contribute toward the cost of the statue. The statue of Franklin D. Roosevelt in London's Grosvener Square was paid for by small contributions from his British admirers.

AMERICAN MORALITY: FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has called for a prompt and thorough examination and overhaul of American morality.

"Morality is one of the more perplexing and controversial problems facing our nation," Hoover wrote in the monthly Law Enforcement Bulletin. "Primarily, it is because of individual and collective moral cowardice on the part of our society. We do not have the courage to stand in conflict with the mad rush for material wealth, indulgence and social prestige."

Calhoun Well Qualified to Fill County Position

We feel the appointment of DAVID R. CALHOUN to the office of Oakland County Clerk-Register vacated by DANIEL T. MURPHY is a sound move. The appointment becomes effective Dec. 31.

The 51-year-old appointee has had long experience in county and city government. The mayor of Huntington Woods since 1950, he has served on the County Board of Supervisors for four years.

Mr. CALHOUN, a manufacturer's agent, was one of two endorsed for the office by the Oakland County Republican party executive committee.

Seven candidates for the post were considered for the appointment and, according to Presiding Judge Stanton G. Dondero, "more than one ballot was taken before decision was made."

★ ★ ★

The business and political background of the appointment well qualifies him for the County post, and it is gratifying to see men of his high caliber enter public office.

Psychologist Finds Daydreaming Is Asset

Here's something to tell the boss the next time he catches you with both elbows on the desk:

Chronic daydreamers are more apt than nondreamers to achieve the goals they set for themselves. They have it over the nondreamers in the matter of creativity, resourcefulness and original thinking, too.

At any rate, that's the finding of an eminent psychologist. A study of daydreaming in hundreds of men and women of various ages and walks of life showed that the frequent daydreamer has a higher degree of awareness and a deeper insight into his own personality.

"Being better acquainted with his innermost urges and desires," says the learned one, "he is better able to provide them with adequate means of expression."

In other words, the daydreamer knows what he wants.

★ ★ ★

But if he fails to couple insight with action, he will remain just a frustrated, Walter Mitty-type, wishful thinker, far worse off than the person who does not daydream and who is more contented with his lot.

★ ★ ★

Cult's Noted Ball Club but Diamond Memory

Baseball fans of a past generation might shed a reminiscent tear over the passing of the House of David baseball team. (Antedating somewhat the bewhiskered band of diamond performers was the unwhiskered bevy of baseball beauties known as the Bloomer Girls that made annual visits to the Nation's minor league ball parks.)

The institution so widely advertised by the sports aggregation that represented it was established in Benton Harbor in 1906 as a religious cult.

Its ball park was the scene of many an historic baseball game featuring the fabulously successful home team which piled up impressive winning records against the best professional and semi-pro teams in the 1920s and '30s.

From 1920 until halted by the war in 1941, the team played a 150-185 game schedule, traveling more than 30,000 miles each year and becoming one of the best known semi-pro teams in the Country.

★ ★ ★

But with members down to 100 from a heyday high of 1,500, the House of David colony is dying on the vine and plans are afoot to convert its celebrated ball park to other use.

Ironically, it is slated to become a graveyard for automobiles.

Johnson Boosts World's Morale

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — It was not just the eloquent words but the firm resolve and spirit of dedication manifested by President Johnson which enabled the American people and the peoples of the world to derive from his first address to Congress a feeling of continuity in the high purposes of our national and international policies.

LAWRENCE

The frequent applause that came spontaneously from all sides was an answer to those persons who had worried about the impact of change itself.

Confidence comes now because the new President interprets so accurately the basic desires of the American people.

Mr. Johnson reflected a universal view when he said that "we must be ready to defend the national interest and to negotiate the common interest."

★ ★ ★

Reiteration of America's objectives in supporting the North Atlantic Treay Organization and the Alliance for Progress was not unexpected. Nor was it surprising that the new President said: "This nation will keep its commitments from South Viet Nam to West Berlin."

FEAR ABROAD

There had arisen abroad in the last few days a fear that a change of policy might be in the offing. This can only be attributed to a lack of knowledge of how deeply Americans, irrespective of party, feel about the need for resolution and firmness, yet open-mindedness toward those who differ with us in international policy.

With respect to the highly controversial domestic issues, Mr. Johnson said "the ideas and the ideals which he (President Kennedy) so nobly represented must and will be translated into effective action."

There, of course, are broad principles and necessarily will have to be defined by Congress in the coming weeks and months.

While urging the passage of the tax bill and the "civil rights" bill, the President realizes that Congress must find ways to secure agreement on many points of dispute in trying to achieve the basic goals of these measures.

This means that a spirit of compromise will doubtless develop. Mr. Johnson pointed the way to it as he said:

"As one who has long served in both houses of the Congress, I firmly believe in the independence and the integrity of the legislative branch.

★ ★ ★

"And I promise you that I shall always respect this. It is deep in the marrow of my bones. With equal firmness, I believe in the capacity and I believe in the ability of the Congress, despite the divisions of opinions which characterize our nation, to act — to act wisely, to act vigorously, to act speedily when the need arises."

NEED FOR TOLERANCE

There will be much discussion about the implicit phrases of Mr. Johnson's address, for they were indeed significant. He spoke of the need for "tolerance and mutual understanding." The following paragraph especially will long be quoted:

"The time has come for Americans of all races and creeds and political beliefs to understand and to respect one another. So let us put an end to the teaching and the preaching of hate and evil and violence.

"Let us turn away from the fanatics of the far left and the far right, from the apostles of bitterness and bigotry, from those defiant of law, and those who pour venom into our nation's bloodstream."

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

The Road to Bethlehem. 1

Hundreds of years before the birth of Christ, the prophets Isaiah and Micah, who lived in an era of great troubles, prophesied the coming of the Savior. Micah's faith even prompted him to name the town, and our drawing shows him viewing Bethlehem as in a vision. It was he who said:

"But thou, Bethlehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel . . . And he shall stand and feed in the strength of the Lord, in the majesty of the name of the Lord his God; and they shall abide: for now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth."

'Everyone Can Afford Spiritual Gift'

I see people shopping with a worried look on their faces. I've done the same myself.

Let's include the spiritual gifts this Christmas. There's no limit on how much love and peace and joy we can give.

Bob Considine Says:

Dallas Police Department Not Up to Keystone Kops

NEW YORK—Some memories of an emotionally exhausting week:

Kept thinking as the story unfolded, from the sniper's shot to Taps at Arlington, that none of it could be true.

CONSIDINE

A young and brilliant President, cut down in the midst of his life's soaring flight; a superb young wife and children, left rudderless; a new President with a Texas drawl.

★ ★ ★

An odd, swishy sort of killer who didn't want to live in this country in the first place; a greaseball striptease entrepreneur leaping out and killing perhaps the only man who could tell what happened.

KEYSTONE KOPS

Yes, and a collection of some of the dumbest cops in the annals of crime — squares in modified 10-gallon hats, the best of whom couldn't make the six-man force of the borough of Allenhurst, N.J., Police Department. They'd be rejected as extras in Mack Sennett's Keystone Komedy Kops.

The ugliness of the crime the dignity of its aftermath in Washington; the incredible voice of the old Cardinal; that if JFK had served his full two terms he would be leaving the White House at age 51, with an expected 20 years of active life ahead of him.

There'll be tons of such speculation in the months and years to come. One guess is that the best seller of 1984 will be "Who Killed JFK?"

Whoever killed the President had to be a supernaturally good shot. Granted he had the benefit of a telescopic sight, but they're not foolproof by any means.

The victim was at least 200 feet beyond and 60 feet below the death gun, and the President's car was going away at 15 mph. Only the President's head could have been visible in the cross-hairs.

Days of All Faiths:

The Founder of Modern Missions

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

When you meet a man whose name is Francis X, you don't have to ask what church he belongs to. The X stands for Xavier, and the man is named for the great Jesuit founder of modern foreign missions.

The same with all the Xavier Colleges that are spotted around America. They, too, are named for St. Francis Xavier, who is remembered today at Roman Catholic altars.

St. Francis, son of a Spanish nobleman, was one of those seven young men who in 1534 on Montmarte joined together to offer their lives to God and thus founded the great Jesuit order.

Francis began the keeping of his vow by going to India to preach Christ's love and redemption, but big as India is, it was not big enough for him.

He soon branched out—to the Malayan Peninsula, to the islands of the Pacific, and to Japan. And when he died, on Dec. 3, 1552, he was on an island off Canton, China, waiting for clearance to take on that vast country for his Lord.

Francis had a strategy and a method that was much like St. Paul's. His policy was to start local congregations and, when they were strong enough, to leave them on their own.

He had one problem St. Paul did not have: wherever he went he had to learn the language. Some biographers say he had a great facility with languages; others say he labored over them.

At any rate, when he came into a new place he first got a working knowledge of the native tongue. Then he translated the Catechism and a few hymns and prayers and taught them to the children.

And while he was doing this he was also training an adult leader to take over. Then, when he felt the time had come, Francis moved on to start another group somewhere else.

It is a pity that later foreign missionaries changed the approach. In the 19th century the usual procedure was to go into a foreign community and set up a church there, permanently staffed by outsiders, and financed from the missionary's home country. This led to two evils.

It produced "rice Christians"—the kind of converts who regarded the missionaries as soft touches, and came for handouts. And it branded Christianity as a foreign religion.

St. Francis' method left room for the native culture to develop its own Christian idiom and its own local strength. Foreign missionaries today are again doing it his way and finding it as effective now as it was then.

SANTA CLAUS

The 4th Century Bishop of Myra, St. Nicholas, would find a great many surprises if he could see how he is remembered today in America.

In the first place, he would wonder how he got mixed up with Christmas. His day is Dec. 6, but all Americans associate him with Christmas Eve. (For that matter, he is known as Father Christmas in both England and France, too).

He would be startled to see how he is represented physically today. St. Nicholas was a tall, gaunt, blackbearded man. Our picture of him as a roly-poly, rosecheeked little party comes from the poem "A Visit from St. Nicholas," better known as "The Night before Christmas."

The Rev. Clement Moore wrote this poem in 1820. It was immediately a smash hit, but Moore was so ashamed of it that he would not admit authorship for 15 years.

Most of all, the good saint would be surprised to find a Communist dictator named for him. Nikita, in Russian, means "little Nicholas." Of course, Khrushchev was named by his parents over 60 years ago. They didn't know that God, Christianity, and all the saints were "the opiate of the people."

By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In the spring of 1958, the then Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Baines Johnson was called to the White House by President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

As their conference broke up the President pointed to the big leather chair behind his desk and remarked, "One day, Lyndon, you'll sit in that chair."

"No, Mr. President," the senator replied, "that's one chair I'll never sit in. I wouldn't trade desks with you for anything in the world."

To new President Johnson, common sense has a special meaning. As a senator, he said: "One of the wisest things my daddy ever told me was that 'so-and-so is a d—d smart man, but the fool's got no sense.'" By sense, Johnson meant the art of knowing what is possible and how to accomplish it.

He does not waste time on lost causes and he realizes that hot issues are rarely settled by victories for the extremists on either side. He has been contemptuous of the crusaders among his former Senate colleagues.

"All they do is fight and fight," he once said, "and get 15 Senate votes." As for himself, he once noted, "I would rather win a convert than an argument."

The President's wife Lady Bird (the former Claudia Taylor of Karnack, Tex.) admits his sense for efficiency. When the family moved into "Les Ormes," Perle Mesta's former Washington home, Mrs. Johnson went to considerable trouble anglicizing the interior of the house in addition to changing its name to "The Elms." New wallpaper, bookcases, Texas paintings and a hi-fi system were added.

When asked what her husband thought of the redecorating, Mrs. Johnson replied: "All the furniture he wants is something comfortable enough to put his feet up on."

The President as a senator made a practice of hiring married couples when he could get them. A shrewd bit of amateur psychology, it resulted in a smooth-running office. "It's literally one big happy family, and the result makes for the best teamwork and loyalty I've ever seen," said one former aide.

Johnson proscribed rigid hours for his staff, the men working every day but Sunday and the women getting Saturdays off only twice a month.

"People used to ask me why I don't have ulcers when just about everybody who works for me does," the President once said. "Someone else answered, 'H—l, he just gives 'em'."

On page 274 of the Washington telephone directory is this notation: "Johnson, Lyndon B., Hon., 4040 52d nw . . . WO 6-4030." What makes this listing even more incredible is that, as vice president, Johnson himself often answered the phone. One of his cardinal rules was that it should always be answered on the first ring.

★ ★ ★

Small imperfections can upset the President. His coffee is always hot — but never quite hot enough. His Capitol Hill staff once responded to letters from 600 Texas constituents in a single day, but failed to answer 45 others. "There are 45 people who didn't get the service they deserve today," Johnson cried.

★ ★ ★

"Come in the evening,
Come in the morning,
Come when you're looked for Come without warning."

★ ★ ★

Claim Western Domination

Soviets Press for U.N. Job Reshuffle

By DONALD JOHNSTON

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—The Soviet Union still is trying to remold the United Nations staff to its own liking.

While the Communists have shelved their demand for a "troika" executive in place of the secretary general, they are campaigning for a secretariat system which western officials insist would demoralize the staff, increase costs and reduce the organization's operational efficiency.

The Reds want more of the 1,300 permanent U.N. jobs, and a greater turnover of the administrative staff. To achieve this, they are demanding more short-term contracts at the expense of the career International Civil Service.

This campaign is far more subtle than the former insistence upon a three-headed, or troika, executive representing the Communist, Western and neutralist groups.

* * *

The Communists discarded the troika idea for the time being when they accepted U Thant as secretary general in the face of Western arguments that divided authority at the top would paralyze the world organization.

RECENT DEBATE

The recent debate on personnel policies indicated that the new Soviet campaign will not get far.

Underlying the controversy is a basic difference of philosophy between the Communists' closed society and the open society of the West.

The Russians screen applicants for U.N. jobs, permit them to hold the posts for only two or three years before returning home, and insist that they really are representative of the nation and not the U.N.

The United States and other western powers, on the other hand, have no governmental supervision over job applicants, believe career contracts are most beneficial to the organization, and insist U.N. employes are international servants and not representatives of their governments.

CAMPAIGN PRESSED

The Soviet Union is pressing its campaign within the framework of Thant's continuing program for wider geographical distribution of U.N. jobs.

The program was started last year under pressure from Communists, who charged that a preponderance of Westerners on the staff influenced U.N. policies toward the West, and Africans and Asians who wanted more attention directed to their particular problems.

Thant is steadily raising the proportion of staff from Eastern Europe, Asia and Africa, but the Communists are not satisfied with the rate of change in their position.

* * *

The personnel debate showed, however, a switch of strategy from generalized statements on greater representation to specific insistence on more short-term contracts and rotation of jobs.

Western officials admit that westerners hold the largest number of U.N. posts subject to geographical distribution, and that equitable representation from all world regions is desirable whenever possible.

OBJECTION

But they object to recruitment on a rigid arithmetic formula or any other action that might destroy the concept of an international career service as envisaged by the U.N. Charter.

The charter says the first consideration in U.N. employment is the efficiency, competence and integrity of the staff.

The preponderance of westerners on the staff is the result of several factors: the location of U.N. headquarters in the United States and the "crash" recruitment of available manpower at the organization's birth; the early reluctance of Communist governments to permit their citizens to take U.N. jobs; and the nonavailability of trained personnel from the developing countries.

* * *

Thant feels that 25 per cent is the proper ceiling for the number of fixed-term employes, with the remainder looking at U.N. service as a career proposition.

Short-term workers now comprise about 30 per cent.

The Communists contend that the existing arrangement perpetuates westerners in their jobs. They argue that more short-term contracts would result in a rotation of jobs which eventually would produce more equitable geographical distribution.

JFK Freeway Eyed by State

LANSING (AP) — If an idea being discussed by Detroit and state officials jells, a stretch of highway in Michigan may be named in memory of John F. Kennedy.

The office of Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie revealed that he, Detroit Council President Ed Carey, and Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski had discussed the possibility "very informally."

Mackie's office said the discussion centered on either I-94 from Detroit to Port Huron or I-96 from Detroit to Muskegon.

Naming of freeways within Detroit, if they were part of the highway system, would be in the hands of the city councilmen. The State Legislature would proclaim such a name for the part of the highway outside the city.

* * *

Mackie's office said if the officials decide to go ahead with the idea, it could be initiated by a letter to the legislature.

Finn Envoy: No Word From LBJ

HELSINKI, Finland (UPI) — U. S. Ambassador Carl T. Rowan said today he has no information to confirm that he is under consideration for the post of press secretary to President Johnson.

He said all he knew of the matter was that on Wednesday he received a telephone call from a Washington newsman who asked him about a report to that effect heard in the U. S. Capital.

That evening he was interviewed by the Finnish radio in connection with the report, and said "This is news to me."

* * *

He was quoted further as saying he had merely "received a telephone call from Washington telling me that I have been under consideration for the post. I have not had the slightest hint that the President would consider me for his press secretary."

"I have not the slightest idea how this story started," Rowan said. "I have heard nothing of the matter since."

Jackie Suggested for French Envoy

DETROIT (AP) — A Michigan congresswoman said yesterday she has suggested that Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy be named ambassador to France so that she could "carry on the work of her husband."

Rep. Martha Griffiths, a Detroit Democrat, said she has asked two other congressmen to "make the suggestion to President Johnson at an appropriate time."

"She would be a wonderful ambassador," Mrs. Griffiths declared. "Who could be better qualified?

★ ★ ★

She knows the French people and she understands this nation. She would help promote better relations between this country and France," the congresswoman said.

Police Ask Negro Unit

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The Montgomery police department will accept applications immediately for a Negro police reserve.

★ ★ ★

Police Chief W. M. Stanley said Friday that the unit would be composed of 36 Negroes "trained in police fundamentals in order that they might be prepared for active duty assignments in the event that circumstances should require."

★ ★ ★

New Driver Is Killed

PLEASANT VALLEY, N. Y. (AP)—One hour after he picked up his junior operator's license, Peter C. Mosier, 16, of Wassaic, N. Y., was killed in a three-car collision while driving home Friday.

Woman Turns 105, Gets Kennedy Card

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Jennie D. Bassett turned 105 Tuesday, and relatives say she got "lots and lots" of cards, cakes and flowers.

But one of Mrs. Bassett's most treasured remembrances is a birthday card from the White House signed by the late President John F. Kennedy. It was postmarked in Washington, D.C., Friday, Nov. 22, the day the president was assassinated in Dallas.

Paper Proposes Trial of Oswald Despite Killing

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—A newspaper proposed today that the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy be given a regular trial — even though he is dead — to bring out all facts in the case.

★ ★ ★

The afternoon Palo Alto Times noted in an editorial that Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of shooting Kennedy, must be presumed innocent until proved guilty.

It added: "President Kennedy, the nation, Oswald and his family all deserve to have the situation cleared up beyond reasonable doubt. We suggest there for that Oswald be tried in an American court. Our courts are the place to determine guilt or innocence."

Letters, Telegrams Flood White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 185,000 letters and 50,000 telegrams of condolence have poured into the White House since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas last Friday.

Press aide Andrew Hatcher, who reported the totals to newsmen, said most of the letters and wires were for Mrs. Kennedy.

FIRST METHODIST — The sanctuary of First Methodist Church, Saginaw at Judson, is completely remodeled. Shown is the altar with candlesticks in the background. The cross above the altar appears as three crosses by a special lighting. Side balconies were removed. An open house is set for tomorrow afternoon.

Hold Open House

1st Methodists Reconsecrate Building

First Methodist Church, founded in the log cabin of Ira Donelson in 1828, now the southwest corner of Elizabeth Lake and Voorheis, will reconsecrate its present building in services tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

During the past year when many congregations were moving from the inner city, First Methodists decided to "stay where we are but not as we are."

Members said Pontiac needed a church in the heart of the city with the urban renewal program rapidly becoming a reality.

Bishop Marshall R. Reed will preach and participate in both the 8:30 and 11 a.m. reconsecration services. Rev. Carl G. Adams, pastor, will give the call to worship and introduce special guests.

A. J. Lowe will present the church to Bishop Reed and the bishop will make the declaration. "Let Mount Zion Rejoice" will be the topic of Bishop Reed's sermon.

Rev. W. Leslie Williams, district superintendent of Flint, will offer the pastoral prayer and benediction.

Glen Williams and the Chancel Choir will provide special music accompanied by Laverne Cox, organist.

OPEN HOUSE

Open house will be held from 3 to 5 Sunday afternoon with guided tours by Methodist Youth Fellowship. Organ music will be played by Mr. Cox. The Women's Society of Christian Service will serve refreshments.

Pastor Adams said the public is invited to visit the building and enjoy the fellowship.

The sanctuary is completely remodeled, the side balconies taken down, new pews, lectern and pulpit of limed oak purchased. The choir loft seating 40 is divided with an altar and an eight-foot wooden cross in the receding area.

Carpeting in the chancel and aisle is deep rose red.

In the chapel with a seating for 80, the old pulpit and some former church pews may be found. The church parlor and kitchen are on the same floor.

YOUTH CENTER

The old gymnasium provides two floors for youth rooms and a youth center. The large storage room houses a modern air conditioning system.

The balcony across the back will seat 147. The total seating capacity is 500.

The changing of the church interior, sandblasting, tuck pointing and sealing of the exterior was completed at a cost of $150,000.

Among memorials made to First Methodist are new Christian and American flags, new organ for the chapel and a new baptismal font.

"First Methodist Church building is the oldest remaining church edifice in Pontiac, and the second oldest remaining building in Pontiac," Pastor Adams said.

The church received a historical marker as a part of the Pontiac Centennial in 1961.

Methodist preachers came to Pontiac on horseback and many trudged to the area on foot through swamps and forests. The first services were held in a school and the Court House until members were able in 1842 to build a church at the corner of Pike and Perry.

★ ★ ★

First Methodist was renovated by John E. Roth & Sons Inc. Roth Engineers were the architects.

Serving on the building committee as cochairmen were Robert Meikle and Rev. Mr. Adams.

CENTURY-OLD STAIRS — Rev. Carl G. Adams, pastor of First Methodist Church, climbs the stairs to the balcony installed in First Methodist 100 years ago. Pastor Adams checks the entire building before the dedication of the remodeling program and open house tomorrow.

1st Christian Center for Collection

The First Christian Church, 858 W. Huron is the area 3 collection center for Church World Service clothing appeal which started last week. Collections will continue through Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

All clothing should be in strong cartons, tied securely, and labeled with the name of the church, name and address, and name of the denomination, Pastor Jack H. C. Clark of First Christian said.

★ ★ ★

Executive director of the Pontiac Area Council of Churches, he also said he would like churches of the council to offer prayers tomorrow for the General Assembly of the National Council of Churches meeting Sunday through Dec. 7 in Philadelphia, Pa.

A class of new members will be welcomed at both hours.

The Chancel Choir will sing "None Other Lamb" by Joseph Roff and John Ward will present "The Twenty-Third Psalm" by Malotte for the offertory solo.

SILVERCREST

The Lord's Supper will be observed at 7 p.m. Sunday in Silvercrest Baptist Church. The Adult Choir will sing "And Can It Be." Pastor Wayne E. Smith will speak on the subject, "Except Ye Eat My Flesh and Drink My Blood."

The Jet Cadet Choir composed of children, will sing "Jesu Bids Us Shine" during morning worship. "Joseph, a Terrific Teen" will be the pastor's sermon theme.

Sunday School is at 9:45 a.m. and Youth Training Hour at 6 p.m. Family Bible study is at 7 p.m. Wednesday with classes for all ages.

ALDERSGATE

The Social Concerns Commission of Aldersgate Methodist Church will sponsor a special temperance service tomorrow morning. Pastor Horace Murry will speak on "Alcohol Is a Problem."

A film entitled "Dust or Destiny" will be shown at 7 p.m.

On Dec. 8 Rev. and Mrs. Kent Ragsdale, missionaries from Haiti, will be guests in services throughout the day.

ORCHARD LAKE COMMUNITY

The traditional "lighting of the creche" is scheduled for Saturday evening at Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian. The Pairs and Spares will sponsor a 6 p.m. dinner. Following the 7:30 program by junior High Fellowship in the sanctuary the creche will be lighted.

The sacrament of Holy Communion will be celebrated at the 9 and 11 a.m. worship hours. Pastor Edward D. Auchard will preach on "Light Upon Our Life" at both hours.

★ ★ ★

Music will be provided by Fred Fuller, baritone, and the Chancel Choir.

MARIMONT

The ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed during the morning service tomorrow in Marimont Baptist Church. Pastor Philip W. Somers will preach on "The Praise of God."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kellar of Asbury College will sing a duet and the Senior Choir will present "Now I Know" by Thompson.

Philip W. Somers Jr. will speak on "New Sanctuary" in the evening service. Lawanda Hassenzahl will play a violin solo and Carol Scarborough will be heard in a vocal number.

Pastor Somers will talk to the young people of the church at 6:30 p.m. on "The Personality of Satan."

The battalion group of Christian Service Brigade will see a film on basketball Monday night. The A basketball team will play the United Missionary Church at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Eastern Junior High gym.

Pontiac Press Photo

GOING UP — Rev. V. L. Martin keeps close tab on the progress of the new addition to Sunnyvale Chapel, 5311 Pontiac Lake Road, Waterford Township where he is pastor. The new building will house the sanctuary with seating for 600.

To Observe Advent

United Presbyterian Pastor Notes Season

MEMORIAL BAPTIST — The new sanctuary unit of Memorial Baptist Church, right, will be dedicated tomorrow. The two units were constructed at a total cost of approximately $150,000. The congregation of 300 members takes care of this amount by tithing. The new building was erected by the Bersche Construction Co. The Bersche Company also drew the plans.

To Dedicate New Sanctuary

Rev. John Linton, Bible author and evangelist from Windsor, Ont., will be guest speaker when Momorial Baptist Church dedicates its new addition at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Rev. John Toroni, visitation pastor and violinist of First Baptist Church, will accompany his wife in solo numbers. The church choir will also present special music.

Rev. Harry Love, general director, will bring greetings from the Conservative Baptist Association of Michigan and Rev. Robert Shelton of First Baptist Church will speak.

Rev. Gerald Rapelje, pastor, will lead the dedication service. Lon Brown, chairman of the board of deacons, will lead officials.

Pastor Rapelje, who came to the church in 1949, invites the public to the services throughout the day including the dedication and reception which follows in the educational building.

Memorial Baptist Church was started by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hoffman in the home of Frank Picture on Raeburn street. In 1910 a lot was purchased on the northeast corner of South Saginaw and Paddock from Peter Dufus.

DONATES BUILDING

Fanny Utley donated $1,000 for the building and this was opened as a branch of First Baptist Church under the name of The Baptist Mission.

★ ★ ★

In 1917 the church was given the name of Memorial Baptist Church in memory of Miss Utley and moved in 1924 to 351 Prospect, when South Saginaw was widened.

In May 1957 the church was incorporated and voted to begin an expansion and relocation program. Property was purchased on Midland at Michigan. During this time a branch Sunday School was started in Longfellow School. On May 3, 1959 the congregation moved into the education unit which was dedicated on that date.

BUILT BY BERSCHE

Designed and built by Joseph Bersche of the Bersche Construction Co., the building is of beige brick with exposed masonary, laminated arch and walnut trim. Windows are of cathedral glass.

There is a full basement with facilities for Sunday School classrooms. The two buildings are joined by a glass entrance hall and joining hall.

Cathedral lighting and hot water heating add much to the comfort and enjoyment of worshipers, the pastor said.

Memorial Baptist carries on a program for the entire family. Sunday School for all ages is at 9:45 a.m.; morning worship at 11 a.m.; young people's groups at 6 p.m.; and evening worship at 7 every Sunday.

★ ★ ★

During the week the program includes prayer meeting, youth groups, Pioneer Girls, women's groups and class programs.

Members partly support Missionaries on the Ivory Coast, Southern Rhodesia, Italy, France, Japan and Dutch New Guinea as well as home mission work in Bible colleges and seminaries.

SEATS 400—The new sanctuary building of Memorial Baptist Church of beige brick will seat 400 persons. Pews and pulpit furniture are of natural elm. The curtains at the baptistry match the walnut paneled walls. A 10-foot high planter is in front of the baptistry. Carpeting in the chancel area and down the aisle is turquoise tweed. Dedication is set for 3 p. m. tomorrow.

Three Girls Win Awards in Contest

New Adventist Marks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some big, round numbers were cited as landmarks just passed by the Seventh-Day Adventist Church. Its statistical department said that in its 100th anniversary year, the church for the first time took in more than 100,000 new members, and had income of more than $100 million.

Pontiac Pastor to Attend Executives' Unit Parley

Rev. Elwood Dunn, 640 Third, will attend the annual sessions of the executives' program council of the International Society of Christian Endeavor in Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 5-8.

Pastor Dunn, general secretary of the Michigan Christian Endeavor Union, is extension representative of the International Society.

He is also chairman of the youth work committee of the executives' program council and will lead a two-session presentation on "What's Wrong with Committees." The Rev. Mr. Dunn is minister of the Christian Church, Ferndale.

★ ★ ★

More than 80 leaders will participate in the meetings, with plans being made for programs and activities for the one million members of Christian Endeavor societies in thousands of Protestant churches throughout the United States, Canada, and Mexico. Dr. W. N. Gibson of Newburgh, Ind., is council chairman.

SPECIAL PLANS

Leaders are making special plans for the celebration of the 83rd anniversary of the movement during Christian Endeavor Week, Jan. 26-Feb. 2.

Consideration will also be given to Christian Endeavor's citizenship awards program which is now under way and to advance plans for the International Summer Assembly at Otterbein College, Westerville, Ohio, in July.

Reports of Christian Endeavor work around the world will be given by Bishop Clyde W. Meadows, president of the World's Christian Endeavor Union, who has just returned from a tour of Europe and Africa.

LIGHTS ADVENT CANDLE — Douglas Brown of 1070 Northover, Bloomfield Hills, lights the first candle in the Advent wreath at Beautiful Saviour Lutheran Church as he will tomorrow. Douglas is one of the church acolytes.

Advent Wreath at St. Paul

The traditional Advent wreath consisting of three lavender and one rose colored candle will be on display on the first Sunday of Advent in St. Paul Lutheran Church tomorrow.

The Senior Choir under the direction of the new organist, David Scull, will sing "Hosana to the Son of David." "Advent's Do and Don'ts will be the theme of Pastor Maurice Shackell's sermon.

The St. Paul Church will also conduct services at 7:30 each Wednesday evening during the Advent season. The pastor will speak on a series of topics entitled "Symbols of Christmas."

Children and young people in colorful costumes will again present an outdoor Nativity Scene on the front lawn of the church from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. on evenings of Dec. 20-23.

Sunday School teachers will assemble at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow and the board of elders at 8:30.

A smorgasboard dinner will be served from 5 to 8 p.m. Friday. This is the day of the annual Christmas Fair.

Protestant Fund Drive Is Given New Name

NEW YORK (AP) — Name of the annual Protestant appeal for funds to aid the needy has been changed from "Share Our Surplus" to "Share Our Substance." A Church World Service official says it better expresses the spirit of sharing between American Christians and people abroad.

This year the program is seeking contributions of $950,000 from congregations across the country.

Symbol of Christmas Season

Advent Wreath Used in Church, Home

Advent marks the beginning of a new church year. It begins the festival half of the year containing the major Christian festivals — the season which emphasizes what God has done for us through His great acts in history.

★ ★ ★

The Advent wreath which is suspended near the lectern in Beautiful Saviour Lutheran Church on North Adams symbolizes the meaning of the season.

★ ★ ★

The wreath is hung near the lectern for it is here the Scripture lessons are read, including the Old Testament lessons, which during Advent, are prophecies concerning the sending by God of the Messiah.

Rev. Donald G. Zill, pastor, said "Advent is a season of penitential preparation for Christmas. So the color of Advent, violet, is represented by the violet bows on the wreath of evergreen.

★ ★ ★

The custom of the wreath began long ago by Lutherans of Western Europe and Scandinavia is used in family devotions in homes as well.

★ ★ ★

The circular form of the wreath represents the earth's orbit. It also represents the ceaseless flow of time and the eternity of God. Four candles are placed upon the wreath, one for each of the Sundays of Advent season.

The first candle is lighted on the first Sunday in Advent, and additional candles each Sunday until all are lighted on the Sunday before Christmas.

Sometimes a white candle is placed in the center of the wreath on Christmas Eve symbolizing Christ as the Light of the world. The boughs of evergreen are also symbolic of the everlasting life made available through Christ.

GRACE LUTHERAN

Holy Communion will be celebrated at both the 9 and 11 a.m. worship hours tomorrow in Grace Lutheran Church. Rev. Erwin T. Umbach will preach.

★ ★ ★

The Women's Choir will present "Wake, Awake for the Night Is Flying" by Tunder at the early service. The Senior Choir will sing "Hosana to the Son of David" by Praetorius at 11 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Candlelight, Communion Rites Highlight Evening Ceremony

★ ★ ★

Rev. Maurice Shackell officiated at the candlelight family ceremony and communion service Friday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

★ ★ ★

CARRIES ROSES

Her short illusion veil fell from a silk pillbox topped with Dior bow. She held a semi-cascade of white roses and Stephanotis.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Meinhard Lorenzen assisted his brother as best man. They are the sons of Mrs. Ramona Lorenzen of Third Avenue.

★ ★ ★

Janet Marie Lichvar, daughter of Mrs. James Winterbottom of Teggerdine Road and Edward Lee Lorenzen, son of Mrs. Ramona Lorenzen of Third Avenue, pledged vows Friday in St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Residents Celebrate Holiday

BY SIGNE KARLSTROM

Today in Marshall there will be a family reunion and dinner at Schuler's restaurant. About twice a year the Carson E. Dalton family choose Marshall as a convenient meeting place.

Mr. and Mrs. Carson E. Dalton II of Caro, Michigan with their children Carson III and Cynthia have spent the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents of North Williamsbury Road. Today they all motor to Marshall to meet the senior Daltons brother and sisters and their families coming from South Bend, Ind.

★ ★ ★

In the group will be the Spencer Daltons; Mrs. Walter Windsor and daughter Grace Adele; the Richard Robertsons with daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowman and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Windsor Jr., from Indiana University at Bloomington.

★ ★ ★

Traditionally, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Ludington Sr., look forward to the gathering of their children and grandchildren for Thanksgiving dinner at their home in Detriot. Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Ludington Jr., with their three boys and one daughter, the Jeremiah Ludingtons with their three daughters and one son, all saw the Thanksgiving parade and then proceeded to their parents' home.

★ ★ ★

This year, daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. John Donaldson with their three children spent the holidays with Mr. Donalson's mother at Harbor Beach.

Dining with the J. Robert F. Swansons on Thanksgiving day were Mrs. Swanson's mother, Mrs. Eliel Saarinen and the Robert S. Swansons with their three children. Son Ronald remained in New York but is expected home at Christmas.

With the new floor show at Detroit Athletic Club beginning Dec. 6, featuring Dorothy Sarnoff, area residents are planning their parties. President of the club is Norman J. Fredericks.

Cranbrook Christmas Exhibit Features Art Objects for Sale

Glazed ceramics and hand-woven scarves, lamps and jewelry are just some of the items available during the sale and exhibition.

Other objects include paintings, drawings, sculpture, prints and turned wood items.

After the opening it will run every day except Monday from 2 to 5 p.m. through Dec. 8.

Joel Schwalb, of Forest Hills, N.Y., has been named chairman by the student council. Assisting him are David Kann of Birmingham and Chicago and Mrs. Meda Parker Johnston of Iraan, Tex.

The entire student body will serve on the sales committee. Approximatly 15 per cent of the total sales tally goes toward the student sponsored scholarships.

Pontiac Press Photos

Joel Schwalb of Forest Hills, N.Y., displays some of the varied items for sale by the students of Cranbrook Academy of Art during their Christmas sale and exhibition. He has been named general chairman of the affair, which opened Friday and will run through Dec. 8.

Assisting the general chairman is David Kann of Birmingham and Chicago, here shown examining a wire bird which is part of the exhibit. Part of the money obtained from the sale of art objects will be used toward the student sponsored scholarships.

Area Couple Married in Church Rites

★ ★ ★

Mrs. James Woods was matron of honor and Mrs. James Rolison, bridesmaid. Sally Ann Breeding was flower girl and Patrick Dixon carried the rings.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Albie Frizzle of Mott Avenue and the late Mr. Frizzle, had James Rolison for best man. James Woods served as groomsman and Dennis Hensy ushered with Terry Frizzle.

The couple has returned from a honeymoon at Niagara Falls to a home in Waterford.

Groups Preferred

Group music lessons are popular because each person is stimulated by the efforts of others as they experience the same problems and accomplishments.

Area Parents Tell of Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Roland S. Lathrop of Sylvan Lake, announce the recent marriage of their daughter Pamela Jill to Paul E. West Jr., son of the Paul E. Wests of Charleston, S.C.

★ ★ ★

Announcing Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin LeFrancois of Briarwood, N.Y., announce the engagement of their daughter Joan to Ronald Laurence Hutchinson, son of the Laurence G. Hutchinsons of East Madison Avenue. September vows are being planned.

A Breakfast Follows Mass at St. Benedict

Wed today in St. Benedict Church were Ellen Marie Schachern, daughter of Mrs. J. Keith Schachern of Miami Road and the late Dr. Schachern, to Walter Eugene Quarles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orbe T. Quarles of Hadrill Court.

MRS. WALTER E. QUARLES

★ ★ ★

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. Keith Schachern of Miami Road and the late Dr. Schachern.

BOUFFANT GOWN

Trapunti scrolls set with seed pearls encircled the waistline of her bouffant gown of white peau de soie styled with chapel train. A floral headpiece secured her French illusion veil. She carried white carnations and ivy.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orbe T. Quarles of Hadrill Court, had William Price of Bloomfield Hills for best man. The ushers were Michael Fraser of Rensselaer, Ind., John Bierlein and Detroiters Fred Jacobs, John Riccuito and Ronald Hasso.

The couple will live on Norton Street after a brief northern honeymoon. She is a graduate of Marygrove College, Detroit and Mr. Quarles attends the University of Detroit.

Wear Oversuit

A new vinyl oversuit is a handy addition to any gardening damsel's wardrobe. It comes in bright yellow and is waterproof. Good also at car washing time.

New Flint Residents Wed at St. Vincent

New residents of Flint will be the Richard Jay Huntleys (Mary Elizabeth Nesbitt) who pledged vows before Rev. Daniel Murphy today in St. Vincent de Paul Church.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the couple are the William F. Nesbitts of Whittemore Street and the LeRoy Huntleys of Linden, Mich.

★ ★ ★

White satin rosettes topped a short veil of silk illusion for the bride who was gowned in rose pointe pattern white Chantilly lace over nylon tulle. Cascading back ruffles highlighted the floor-length skirt.

BRIDAL BOUQUET

Maureen Lynch of Lansing attended her cousin as maid of honor. Mrs. Richard Teeples of Fenton, together with Aldean Cobble and Martha Schreiber were bridesmaids.

On the esquire side were Thomas M. Nesbitt, best man, and ushers Charles Rossi, Michael Lynch of Lansing and James Durham of Flint.

GM President Will Address Girls' Club

John F. Gordon of Bloomfield Hills will address the Detroit General Motors Girls' Club at the 30th anniversary dinner, Wednesday, in the Detroit Masonic Temple. Mr. Gordon is president of the General Motors Corporation.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ivan Schram and Mrs. Eldridge Johnson, president and senior vice president, respectively, of the Pontiac GMG Club, sponsored by the Detroit group, will be guests.

DRESSING DOLLS

Pontiac club members are dressing some 500 dolls for the Oakland County Children's Home, the crippled and muscular dystrophy children in the Mark Twain and Willis Schools and the leukemia clinic at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Dolls are also given to children of patients in the Oakland Tuberculosis Sanitorium and the United States Veterans' Hospital in Dearborn, as well as to other needy little girls in the area.

★ ★ ★

Wear 'Day' Gloves

Daytime dressmaker gloves in both leather and fabric reflect the costume mood with clever touches that range from shiny brass buttons, sometimes as many as three in a row up one side of a smooth kid one-buttoner, to perky bows.

Milliner Makes Lots From One

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Bill Ford, whose hobby is designing and making millinery, has found a way to make one hat do the work of several.

★ ★ ★

Many of the hat crowns can double as turbans, pillboxes or cloches. Brims can be worn with a variety of crowns or strings of fabric flowers.

Area Man Takes Flint Bride

The Ronald D. Biskners of Boston Street gave the rehearsal dinner Friday for their son Ronald of Flint who claimed Sally Ann Shaw as his bride today in St. Mary's Church, Flint.

With matron of honor, Mrs. David Carpenter of Flint were bridesmaids, Mrs. Thomas Rau, Bay City, Mrs. Derinis Worden of Warren and Mrs. Aaron Wright.

The Ronald D. Biskners (Sally Ann Shaw) were wed today in St. Mary's Church, Flint. Their parents are the Allen L. Shaws of Flint and the Ronald D. Biskners of Boston Street.

Packed With Ideas

W. Bloomfield Couple in Dream House

Pontiac Press Home Editor

After years of looking around, planning and collecting ideas for a new home, the Lou Kondurs finally moved into their dream house on Parkland Drive in West Bloomfield Township.

And what a home it is! It's simple, efficient, spacious and packed full of new and original ideas. There's even a condor bird weathervane perched on top of the garage cupola.

★ ★ ★

The hostess can prepare meals while chatting with guests in the conversation area two steps down, or look out through the plate-glass windows onto a porch that extends the full length of the house.

FAMILY ROOM

On the south side of the living and dining rooms, sun filters through plate glass windows that reach 18 feet high to the peak of the cathedral-type ceiling.

A handsome two-opening fireplace divides the dining and living rooms and the windows here—as elsewhere in the house—open onto an outside private area, never a public one.

The north wing has two spacious bedrooms and baths plus an efficient office-den. Two sliding glass doors open onto a small, strictly private garden-patio.

ROOMY BEDROOM

Fiberglas panels with butterfly design cover neon lights in the bathroom ceiling, giving a soft, indirect lighting effect. The same type of panels was used as cupboard doors in one kitchen wall.

Ella Kondur's love of blue, aqua and gold colors is evidenced in every room in the house. They all seem to flow together, yet are separated by room dividers, or furniture.

The wide-open kitchen (that doesn't look like one) is the very heart of the entire house. That was what attracted the Kondurs.

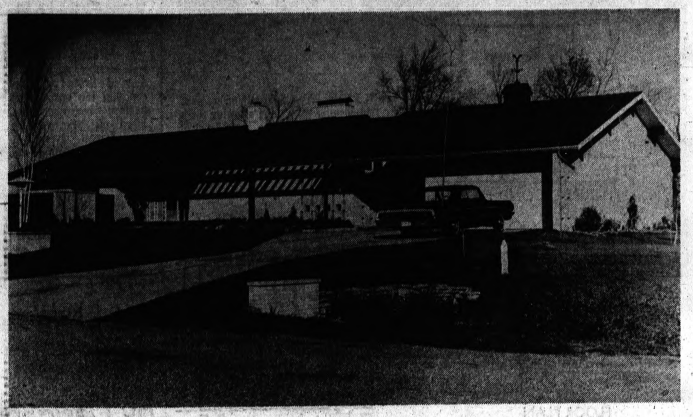
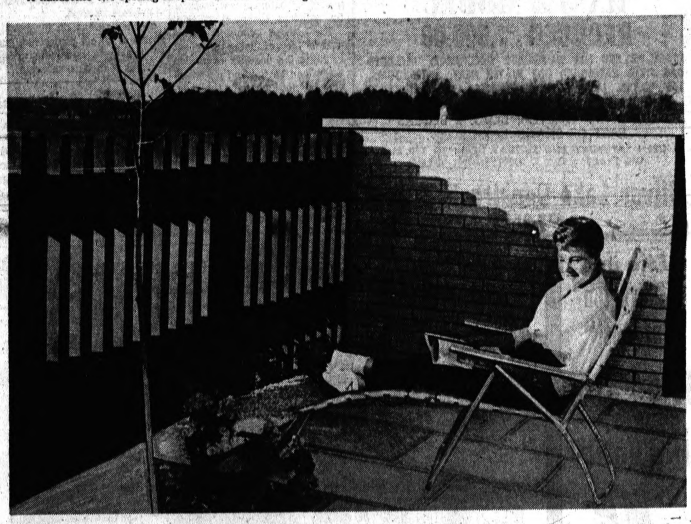
Probably the most used area connected with the house in the summer time is the wide patio-porch that extends almost the full length of the back of the house. This faces a sunken garden that has been ablaze with brilliant colored fall flowers of all kinds, until fall weather touched the blossoms.

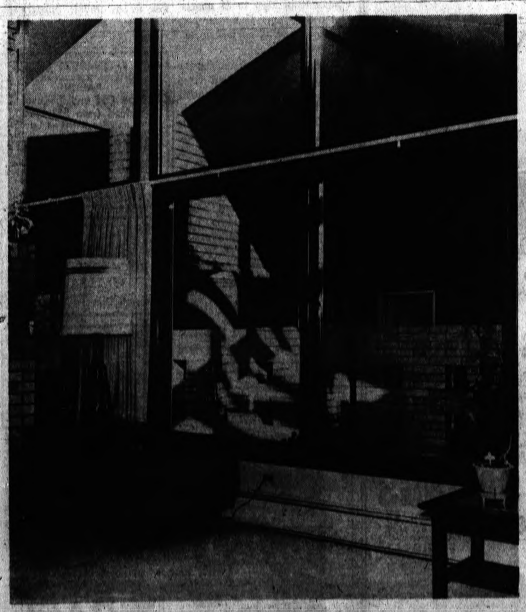


FULL OF IDEAS—The long, low single roof line of the Kondurs' contemporary home is broken only by open rafters which let the sun through to the formal living room. Concrete brick has been teamed with rough board-and-batten siding. Redwood beams and trim accentuate the neat house. The wide overhang of the roof both in front and rear gives adequate protection against rainy weather.

KONDUR POURS—It's a delight for the masculine half of the Kondur household to serve coffee or refreshments to guests in this big, high-ceilinged kitchen. The light aqua walls and white ceiling make this working area, truly the heart of the house, a happy place to be in. It's simple, neat and easy to care for.



PRIVATE PATIO—Even when the days are cool, Mrs. Kondur enjoys the sunshine in her little patio off the master bedroom. Big plate-glass doors leading to the patio are not only decorative but functional as well. In the summer, brilliant flowers bloom in a recessed planter.



OUTSIDE'S LIKE INSIDE — This is the view from the main living room through the giant breezeway to the garage. The supporting beam of the cathedral-shaped ceiling stretches right on out and into the garage in one continuous line. The open roof allows sunshine to filter into the living room and window-walled dining room.

DRAMATIC SEPARATION — There's no need for the Kondurs to hide behind drawn draperies—privacy is built right in by this decorative brick wall. Everywhere there is a feeling of openness—simple, warm and friendly. Beyond the wide walk is the garage and Kondurs' well-equipped workshop.

Old Homestead Effect Caught in Modern Home

The distinctive three-section facade of this expandable ranch gives it a comfortable farmhouse look from the outside and assures an even more practical benefit within — clean separation of living areas.

This separation — or zoning, as architects refer to it — is essential to well-ordered living, but often difficult to achieve in a one-level house.

VALUABLE BONUS

A valuable bonus of the design is the expansion attic which provides economically built-in space for a large fourth bedroom and a full bath and still leaves plenty of attic room for storage.

Moreover, this extra bedroom is located directly over the sleeping wing, keeping the zoning of that important area intact.

At the heart of the main-level plan is the family room.

It is entered directly from the foyer, thus giving it the same prominence as the formal living room; it is nicely proportioned (actually a shade larger than the living room), and contains a large fireplace and cozy window seat overlooking the rear yard.

Architect Cohen arranged the housekeeping area carefully: laundry, lavatory, dinette and pantry all within a few steps of the efficient U-shaped kitchen.

The house contains 2,114 square feet of living area not counting the upstairs expansion which can be finished off whenever the need arises or the budget permits.

Over-all dimensions, including the attached two-car garage, are 97 feet 6 inches wide by 30 feet 6 inches deep.

The slate surface of the front porch is continued into the large center hall, a practical as well as decorative feature and in keeping with the rustic flavor of the home.

Cohen also suggests judicious use of wood wall paneling in the hall, family room and other areas to continue the farmhouse motif.

The sleeping wing contains three bedrooms and two full baths (one of them adjoining the master bedroom, back-to-back with the main bathroom for plumbing economy) with an abundance of closet space and a minimum of hall area.

An attractive colonial bay window highlights the formal living room, and an archway connects it with the dining room so the two rooms can be used together, as for a buffet affair, or separately for intimate gatherings.

An excellently laid out ensemble of garage, mud room, lavatory, kitchen and dinette form the housekeeping area, equally accessible to both the formal rooms and the informal family room.

The lavatory is especially well placed, handy to both the garage work bench and the backyard.

A highlight of the family area is an indoor barbecue. Another excellent feature is the large closet designated as a pantry, an old fashioned necessity which has all but fanished in most of today's homes.

There also is another nicely placed closet in the mud room, ideal for rain boots and the like as well as the ironing board and other washday items.

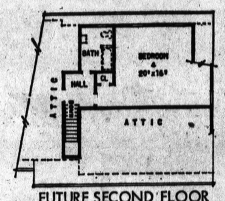
The exterior of the house is uncluttered; architect Cohen has relied on a pleasing combination of materials and the staggered effect of the components to produce interest.

The house has all the homey charm of an old homestead, and all the up-to-the-minute living features of modern suburbia.

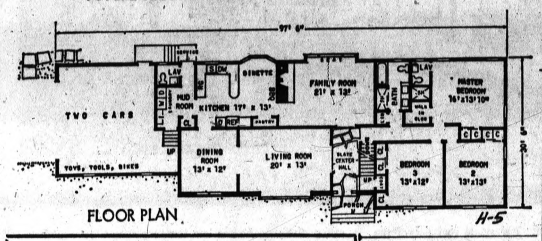
Chairside Planters

You can make attractive chairside planters for friends who collect house plants by gluing the bases of the two large red clay pots together and threading a wooden dowel through the drainage holes of each pot.

FARMHOUSE FLAVOR — All the charm of an old homestead, and all the modern conveniences of present day suburbia, are featured in this lovely ranch. The house has three main-level bedrooms with attic expansion room for a fourth bedroom and bath.



FLOOR PLANS—The attic expansion area is over the sleeping wing only, allowing for a fourth bedroom and bath. The main level of the house contains 2,114 square feet of living area.



H5 Statistics

A one-story farmhouse type home featuring 2,114 feet of living area not counting the upstairs expansion which can be finished off whenever the need arises. Humidifiers Aren't So New

Grandma's Teapot Kept Water in Air

Chances are that the modern housewife's grandmother had a convenience that many of us today are still lacking—a home humidifier.

Of course, she didn't call it that. She called it a tea kettle.

From the first cool fall day when the fire was lighted in the wood or coal burning stove in the ample kitchen, the kettle was kept filled — its steam constantly spiraling out of the spout into the room's atmosphere.

★ ★ ★

Besides being a humidifier, the kettle was the rural equivalent of the hot water faucet, as the stove was the substitute for central heating. In the winter, the kitchen became an island of warmth — the "living" room for everyone in an otherwise frigid house.

Solution? Go back to Grandma's kitchen? Hardly.

The practical answer lies in the installation of a modern power humidifier whole-house controlled by a humidistat. The humidifier automatically adds from zero to 44 quarts of water vapor to the air per day, depending on how much is needed.

With adequate moisture in the air, the whole family is comfortable at a lower temperature, thus cutting fuel bills.

Chances are, everyone will have fewer colds, more comfortable "summertime skin." Wooden furniture stays new, static electricity disappears — even house plants perk up.

Peeling Paint Caused by Excessive Moisture

You should have an expert check. Sometimes vents, strategically placed, will save paint jobs and let moisture out.

Let Style Be Picked by Designer

Questions occasionally arise as to whether we're not prone to penalize ourselves simply for the sake of being stylish.

This time, we're not taking issue with the designers of feminine attire. Instead, we're referring to certain vogues in home design which can be carried to unfortunate extremes at the insistence of owners.

During recent years, the "low profile" has been the rage in contemporary homes. This has produced millions of rambling ranch-styles that hug the ground. They are modern, attractive, and, in many cases, practical for the site.

However, in other instances, the profile is so low as to sacrifice dignity and comfort. A second cause for concern is the fact that many available building sites are of the watch-charm variety. Such logistics indicate it's more practical to build "up" rather than "out."

LET DESIGNER DECIDE

Important decisions as to the proper profile for a home, should be consigned to an architect or builder. The professionals are trained in matching homes and landscapes. A good designer avoids inflexible stereotypes. Chances are, he'll come up with contours that fit the lot and which also satisfy family needs and tastes.

★ ★ ★

If the lot is large enough . . . if the style provides sufficient living space . . . the "low profile" concept may be applied. But the lines should not be so low as to impair appearance, head-room or other aspects of comfort.

Fence Panels Are in Color

New aluminum panels with colored ribs and redwood framework for making backyard, lawn and patio fences are now on the market.

Manufacturer's claim these panels are easy to cut with tin snips or saw; that all of the six colors, which are baked on, are long-lasting; and that the panels are available with colors on one side, white on the other.

Dancers Prefer Wood; Your Wife Will, Too

Dancers will not work on concrete floors. They insist on wood, because any long exposure to rock-like concrete could ruin their feet.

Hard on Children

Moving Can Be Sad

To adults, moving day is a problem. To children it may seem to be a tragedy.

Most of the parents' problems can be solved by the employment of a reputable moving firm, but the successful adjustment of children to a new environment is not so easily arranged.

This can be bad enough when the move occurs during summer vacation, says Burnham, but it can become a family probem of considerable proportions when the change must occur during the school term.

To help parents help themselves and their offspring through this disquieting experience with a minimum of strain and unhappiness, here are some suggestions:

● Notify your children's present teachers and principal as soon as you know you are going to move, and ask for transcripts and a summary of work covered during the year so far.

● The new school may want medical records, so get all the facts you can regarding your children from the school's medical department and from your family doctor. If the new school doesn't want them your new family doctor will.

● Visit the new school with your children the very first day possible, see the classrooms, the gym, the auditorium, the lunchroom, meet the teachers. This will give the children valuable confidence when they must return alone.

● Accept the fact that the new school is different in many ways from the old one and encourage your children to do the same.

● Give your children an example of good adjustment by joining the PTA and attending meetings. You won't be called on for leadership until you are well settled in the community.

● Entertain your children's bring their new school friends home. Almost all children are shy in this situation, no matter how brash they may appear to you at home. Give a party for neighboring children as soon as possible.

● Enterta n your children's teachers as soon as convenient after a few weeks. It is healthy for a child to feel that his parents and his teachers are friends.

Cold Is Here; Think of Pool

About 400,000 American families last summer enjoyed their own permanent, in-the-ground swimming pools, while many additional thousands — perhaps millions — disported themselves in and around portable, plastic or crib-supported pools of one kind or another.

The one thing most owners of this popular "status symbol" have in common is problems.

The winter months are the time to take stock of the situation and make plans to improve your 1964 pool dividends.

Among the most common swimming pool problems are crowding of the pool and its immediate environs; excessive noise; the bringing of dirt and dampness into the house; and sunburn from too-long poolside exposure.

Fabulous Floor for Your Home

A bit like a posh restaurant which freezes specialties for diners to heat-and-eat at home, Amtico has whipped up an exciting array of the pace-setting vinyl creations for which it is famous.

Favorite design ideas of professional decorators comprise the recipe roster and floor ingredients are pre-measured, pre-cut and pre-counted out.

Breezier for both home-owner and store-owner, the innovation is kinder to the budget than on-location snip-fitting because machines to the work and hundreds of strips or squares can be readied at one time, sans left-overs.

24 FLOORS

Those who like weathered barn siding and hand hewn beams should be as happy as those with a penchant for contemporary architecture, since there are twenty-four different floors in the new Amtico Custom Design Collection.

And when each pattern is available in three to seven different textures and as many or more colors, planning becomes practically open end.

Delft designs from the seventeenth century reappear on vinyl tiling and are arranged in hither-yon accent or for all-over charms.

BEVY OF WEAVES

Bricks in vinyl look-alike are separated with narrow strips to seem mortared and, for formal effects, there are elegant parquets.

While it would tax the powers of a giant computer to estimate variations possible, decorating's simplified since inspiration's built-in, fussy work's done ahead and all that remains is the fun of deciding which creation to walk off with.

Aluminum Siding Can Eliminate Yearly Painting

"Can I get by another year without repainting?

Painting accounts for over half of the amount spent on residential alterations and repairs.

A growing number of homeowners are looking into the advantages of such products as aluminum siding to eliminate the trouble and expense of periodical exterior repainting.

By OSWALD JACOBY

With 15 high card points and three aces South had an opening no trump bid, but he chose to open one heart on account of the worthless doubleton in spades.

JACOBY

After the one spade response he rebid to two hearts because he thought that would give his partner more encouragement than a mere one no trump rebid.

North jumped to the heart game and West opened the jack of clubs. South played dummy's queen since West might have led from king-jack-ten.

East's king forced South's ace and South saw that his only play to make the contract would be to develop three spade tricks.

He could not afford to draw trumps right away so he led the four of spades at trick two. West played the 10 and dummy won the trick with the queen. A trump to his ace put South in again for a second spade lead and West had to take his ace. West cashed his ten and nine of clubs, and led the jack of diamonds. South played dummy's queen, East the king, and South won with the ace.

South's next play was the queen of trumps. His plan was to hold the lead and then get to dummy with the king in hope that spades would break.

However, West produced the 10 of trumps whereupon South had an extra entry to dummy.

He overtook his queen with dummy's king; ruffed the trey of spades with the jack of trumps; returned to dummy with the nine of trumps and discarded his two remaining diamonds on the last two spades.

'JFK Death Will Slow Rights Fight'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"The assassination of President Kennedy will have as great an effect on the civil rights' movement as did the assassination of President Lincoln 100 years ago says James H. Meredith.

* * *

Meredith, first Negro to graduate from the University of Mississippi, told newsmen on his arrival here that he feels the civil rights program will proceed more slowly under President Lyndon B. Johnson than it would have under Kennedy.

* * *

"I think the President (Johnson) is a good man," Meredith said, "but that is less important than the fact he is a Southerner."

* * *

This, he said, cannot help but retard the program. He predicted Congress will now pass a compromise civil rights bill.

BEGIN ALL OVER

"I do not think the new civil rights bill will recognize the Negro as being entirely equal, and I think that's where the fight is going to begin all over," he added.

* * *

Meredith said the Negroes had lost a great champion in Kennedy.

"In my opinion, President Kennedy was the first and only president who has placed himself behind the idea of human equality," he said.

Michigan Bell Pays Record Property Tax

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. yesterday paid the second half of its record $16,458,125.88 property tax for 1963. Its check was for $8,229,062.94.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Sunday

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Previous "burdens" lift. You begin to see way clear to a period of progress. Spiritual enlightenment can be attained. Important that you are alert for vital clues.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Conserve strength, energy. Plan ahead . . . with eye to holidays. Answer questions truthfully. Avoid trying to "make impression." Simple approach most worthy one.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Emphasis on personality, personal appearance and SELF-EXPRESSION. Good time to attend civic functions — visit those confined to home or hospital. Be CHARITABLE.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Many opportunities present. But they may not be obvious. You must dive BENEATH THE SURFACE. Check details from unusual sources. Strive for quality, depth, sincerity.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Remember recent past. Resist feeling sorry for yourself. Time to make resolutions — live up to old ones. Trust inner feelings. Open your heart to greater happiness. Attend church of choice.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23): Key is ACHIEVEMENT. No time to "throw in the towel." Opportunity for advancement due. Today you are able to outline aspirations. Important that you maintain attitude of CONFIDENCE.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): Favorable lunar aspect spotlights journeys, including adventures of the mind. Means excellent for discovering varied interests, new ideas. SHARE WITH ONE YOU LOVE.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Start first of month with resolution to CONSERVE RESOURCES. Avoid extravagance. Plan for future. Move ahead confidently. Pressure beginning to lift. Finer times ahead!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): There will be some who say you are "not ready." But final judgment is up to you. Indications are that adventure, change, travel, variety are FAVORED. Act accordingly!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Key to greater happiness lies at home! Time to seek harmony; take steps to correct situation. Day to be close to loved ones, to talk, express true feelings.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Pleasant lift of morale indicated. You are now able to see situations, persons in proper perspective. Toss out restrictive rules. Pleasant evening in store . . . turn on charm.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Read GEMINI message. Key to greater happiness lies at home! Time to seek harmony; take steps to correct situation. Day to be close to loved ones, to talk, express true feelings. Especially considerate toward members of opposite sex.

IF SUNDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you are a lover of nature, have high sense of responsibility.

For Monday

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Your capacity to handle responsibility will be tested. Maintain sense of humor. Don't carry problems home with you. Listen to "other side" of argument. Still if you know you are right . . . stick to it!

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Not so good for experimenting, visiting, committing yourself on paper. Exercise necessary caution. Be patient. Much in your favor. Avoid rash, time consuming methods. Accomplish most!

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Better for FINISHING than for starting new projects. Good for checking details . . . research. Conserve energy. Resist temptation to splurge. Much in your favor if you obtain sufficient rest.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Vitality high. But you must press your luck. Conservative course is best. Before signing legal, business agreements . . . there may be some loopholes which require examination.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Check routine. All important details. Trusting others with minor matters could lead to major difficulties. Stress diplomacy but be sure you get your way. Be CONFIDENT; you are right!

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23): If romance road appears "rocky," take your time. Appreciate those close to you. Avoid going too far afield. Perceive beauty in world. Don't be beauty is in eye of beholder.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): Review promises. Prestige may be on the line. Be sure you have thorough understanding of situation. Don't take anything for granted. Be positive before taking action.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Annoying details can crop up. But nothing out of way early. Tonight you can gain added knowledge through reading, creative endeavors. Be alert, aware and give impression.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Key to money question out in open. But bring money matters out. Merely let others know you are not in the dark. Applies also to family discussions of budget, etc. Is family discussions of budget, etc.

Browns, Cards Play

Three-Way Tie Slated to End in E. Division

Giants Play Dallas; Bears Hoping to Pad Western Lead

By United Press International

Johnson, having the best year of a brief career, beat Cleveland, 20-14, two weeks ago and now must duplicate the feat to keep the Cards at the top of the National Football League's eastern division.

★ ★ ★

Only two tosses were intercepted by Cleveland. Johnson was better against the New York Giants last Sunday when he had no interceptions as the Cards won, 24-17, to throw the conference into a three-way tie for the lead.

St. Louis, Cleveland and New York have 8-3 records. The crowded first-place slot should ease, especially since the Giants have a "breather" at Dallas (3-8).

The Chicago Bears (9-1-1) can improve their lead in the western division against the visiting Minnesota Vikings (4-7). Green Bay's Thanksgiving Day tie with Detroit enabled the Bears to retain a half lead over the Packers, who now are 9-2-1.

In Sunday's other action, the Pittsburgh Steelers (6-3-2), still with an outside chance at the eastern title, host the Philadelphia Eagles (2-8-1); the San Francisco 49ers (2-9) are home to the Los Angeles Rams (4-7) and the Baltimore Colts (5-6) play the Redskins (3-8) at Washington.

HE IMPROVES

Johnson, with the Cards since 1961, has eclipsed all his previous pro marks this season with current marks of 179 completions in 320 attempts, 2,608 yards passing and 22 touchdown throws.

★ ★ ★

Cardinal coach Wally Lemm agrees that straight victories over the Browns and Giants have generated momentum for a title drive.

Cleveland depends on workhorse Jimmy Brown for maintaining its first-place grip in the standings.

Brown has an incentive to carry him through. He needs only 30 more yards to break his own league rushing record of 1,527 yards set in 1958.

Grid Work Rule Keeps Back on Eagle Roster

LOS ANGELES (AP) —The word from Philadelphia is that defensive halfback Ben Scotti is on his way to Los Angeles to seek employment with the Rams.

★ ★ ★

The only trouble is that the National Football League has a rule against serving two masters and Scotti apparently still belongs to the Philadelphia Eagles.

Here's what happened:

Scotti got into a fist fight with teammate John Mellekas. The Eagles got sore and put Scotti on the waiver list last Tuesday. Nobody claimed him within 48 hours so he thought he was a free agent and decided to ask the Rams for a job.

INJURY DISCLOSED

But a Ram spokesman said Friday that Scotti actually is not a free agent. Scotti had an injury—a broken hand suffered in his fight with Mellekas — and there was a notation of the injury when Scotti went through the waiver process.

Because of the injury, the Ram spokesman said, Scotti did not become a free agent when he went unclaimed 48 hours. Instead, under a technicality in the waiver rules, he automatically went on the Eagles' injured reserve list.

To become a free agent, the Ram spokesman said, Scotti would have to go through the waiver process again, without an injury notation.

NEA Picks '63 All-America

By Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The All-America football player has reached the pinnacle of athletics.

He made the climb by consistent brilliance. He put all his gifts, some of which are intangible, together at the outset and kept them there all the way along the route. He gave his all unselfishly in the roughest, toughest and most intricate team game ever devised.

The world's greatest athletes are supposed to appear in the Olympic Games next October, but you saw the best of all on the college football fields during this fall season.

The foremost runners, hurders, throwers, jumpers, weight lifters and gymnasts will compete in Tokyo. The American football player has to be a composite of them all.

With the thousands of young men playing college football, some deem it unfair to name the 11 best. But why take a negative approach and deprive certain combatants the awards they so richly deserve?

BEST IN NATION

So again it is a privileges to name the extraordinary performers adjudged the most formidable in the college game at their respective positions.

They are elected by the nation's coaches, professional scouts and football writers to the 1963 Newspaper Enterprise Association All-America team:

Seven of the All-America men are juniors, so it might well be described as a team with a future.

TOP QB

An All-America team this year necessarily has to start with Roger Staubach, Navy's 21-year-old, 6-2, 190-pound All-Everything at quarterback. Schooled football people are calling the Great Scrambler the quarterback of the generation.

"I have seen better passers, better runners and better signal callers," says Wayne Hardin, the Naval Academy coach, "but I haven't seen anyone who can do all those things so well. In each game he does things he never did before."

There were many fine running backs in the college ranks, but the electorate settled on Gale Sayers of Kansas and Pittsburgh's Paul Martha as the halfbacks.

Nearly every Oklahoma play started with a handoff or fake to Jim Grisham to pull the defense in.

The 6-2, 205-pound fullback was such a threat that defenders had to go where he went, especially when he faked the buck so well. He was also Coach Bud Wilkinson's stoutest linebacker.

The All-America tackles are Scott Appleton, 6-3, 235-pound Texas senior, and Harry Schuh, 6-3, 265-pound Memphis State junior. Appleton will do as captain of this All-America team.

The selection of Schuh will come as a surprise to some, but he led a record defensive club that ranked third nationally and had five shutouts.

Offensively he cleared the way for fullback Dave Casinelli, the No. 3 rusher and scorer in the country.

"Schuh is the best lineman in the best college line in the nation," says John Wallace, scout for the Oakland Raiders, "and I have seen all the Big 10 teams."

★ ★ ★

Floyd Down 12 Times

VAALAADALEN, Sweden (AP) — Former world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson had a tryout on skis Friday and was floored twelve times.

Patterson, here for a comeback bout against Italy's Sante Amonti Jan. 6, at Stockholm arrived in Sweden two days ago, to start his training in this winter paradise in Northern Sweden.

Dozen world champions and former world champions were on hand to meet him. He is the only boxing champion among them. The rest are skiers, skaters and other athletes, here to get in best form for the Winter Olympics at Innsbruck, Austria next year.

The first thing Patterson did, after inspecting his training facilities, was to grab a pair of skis, the first he ever used, and make himself familiar with the snowy surroundings. He did not make out too well in his first downhill races, and spectators and newsmen had some funny hours, before Patterson decided he had enough and retired indoors.

'Have-Nots' Play for Grey Cup Football Trophy

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — The "have nots" of Canadian professional football, the British Columbia Lions, are favored to knock off the mighty Hamilton Tiger-Cats today in the Grey Cup game for the national championship.

The Lions won the Western title this year for the first time, with a 12-4 record. In their previous nine seasons in the league they were always last or next to last.

Yanks' Ralston Thumps Aussie in Net Singles

Reidhead, the first rider out, is 15th in bareback standings. He's a newcomer to the national finals.

Fastest calf-roping time for this year's finals was turned in by Sonny Worrell of Altoona, Kan., who downed his animal in 11.6 seconds to take first. He placed fourth in the first and second go-rounds. Calf-roping champion Dean Oliver of Boise, Idaho, was out of the money Friday night.

MSU Sextet Defeated

POTSDAM, N. Y. (AP)—Clarkson rammed home three goals within a minute and 20 seconds in the first period Friday night and went on to a 7-1 hockey victory over Michigan State.

QB Sums Up Race

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank Ryan, quarterback of the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League, is a handy man to have around when a mathematical problem pops up.

Aware that Ryan is about to get his doctor's degree in mathematics—a subject which he hopes to teach in college some day—Hal Lebovitz, sports writer of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, telephoned Ryan with this problem: "As of today, how many possible 'final standings' combinations are there" among the top four teams in the NFL's Eastern Division?

★ ★ ★

"Of course I know that. Doesn't everybody?

10 TO 4TH

"I've established the maximum number, the most it can possibly be," he told the writer. "It's 10 to the fourth power. That means you multiply 10 by itself four times. You know that, don't you?"

"Sure. Doesn't everybody?"

Ryan said 10 to the fourth power comes to 10,000.

Lebovitz did a little figuring and got 10,000 also.

"You mean," asked Lebovitz, "there are that many possible combinations for the way those four teams could finish?"

So he did.

NOTHING TO LOSE

"I calculated the redundancies, subtracted them from 10,000 and the number of possible combinations comes to 7,624," said the quarterback. "I'll bank my reputation on this. What have I to lose?

★ ★ ★

"Yes, but the sure way is to win all three," said Lebovitz.

AFL Draft Opens

Boston Grid Star 1st Pick

★ ★ ★

Concannon was selected by the Boston Patriots.

Boston got the right to pick first in the AFL in a trade with the Denver Broncos.

Denver traded its No. 1 pick to Boston — obviously to clear the decks for the signing of the hometown quarterback — and received in return Boston's No. 1 pick, No. 3 pick and a player to be named later.

Concannon is 6-foot-3, 200 pounds from Corchester, Mass., and is also a baseball and basketball player. He is 21 years old.

Beathard pitched the Trojans to the No. 1 national ranking and a Rose Bowl victory last season. He is 6-foot-1, 197 from El Segundo, Calif.

GUARD PICKED

Buffalo picked Carl Eller, 6-foot-5, 241-pound tackle from Minnesota.

Of the first four men selected, all are either playing today or still have a game on the schedule, and could not be signed immediately.

Banks Loses Verdict

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

It's time to ring down the football season, except for the pros and the big bowl game and here's a pot-pourri of notes.

First the mailbag.

To the few letters from Waterford, Walled Lake, Bloomfield Hills and St. Mike irate over coverage of their schools in football we must say — to the victors go the spoils, and the writers can't be honest in their complaints.

From writers at Kettering, Avondale, Clarkston, West Bloomfield and Birmingham Seaholm, with a word of thanks for coverage of their schools, we humbly return "Thank you."

As we have said before, and we say again as the basketball season begins — If you don't see the results of your favorite team, don't call us, call your school first and find out if their results were reported.

Manpower does not permit us to staff every game personally.

CONGRATULATIONS

Our congratulations go out to the boys who were selected to honors teams in the country and the state.

To Ron Ranier of Shrine, chosen the outstanding player for 1963 and to All-Oakland County squad a special bit of praise is warranted.

The county now has 25 class A high schools, second in the state, and we can show first class performers on many of the top college in the country.

The thought that the 1963 honored group should remember is that when they go into college, the size of the helmets on the football field and shoes in the classroom tend to shrink in size.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Captain Joe Schmidt of the Detroit Lions is looking toward the 1964 NFL season. "If we can get any kind of break from injuries, we'll be in there all the way," said the personable linebacker after the fine performance Thanksgiving Day against Green Bay.

"Keep this team intact and we'll be tough," he added with a notation "hoping Al (Karras) will be back."

There's a different air among the Lion players since Bill Ford's purchase of the ball club was approved. Ford had taken a personal interest in the good play, the bad play, the injury and each player's problem, and they have accepted him as "one of the boys."

Liston-Clay Bout Covers All Angles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The latest on the heavyweight title fight between champion Sonny Liston and Cassius Clay is that it may come off in Las Vegas Feb. 24. If not then, possible Feb. 17. Or maybe even Feb. 10.

Of course there's not much chance the situation will remain that definite.

These two guys may have fixed the date of a rematch before they agree definitely when they'll fight the first time.

And when they've exhausted the publicity potential of vacillating about the date of their ground confrontation, they may be expected to honor an old boxing tradition by arguing about the size of the ring, the weight of the gloves, the color of the trunks, the wattage of the ring-lights and the position of the planets on the most recent fight date, which they will have just changed.

The prospect of more extraordinary complications is materially increased by the involvement of Clay, who might be called the Bo Belinsky of boxing except that he hasn't been hit quite so hard, yet.

RANDOM CHAPTERS

Philadelphia, Aug. 1, 1963—The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission indicates Clay and Liston can fight in Philadelphia in September, provided Liston renounces his role as co-promoter. But "formal agreement" is postponed.

London, Aug. 9—Brian London's manager says he has agreed to terms for a Clay-London fight at Los Angeles in September.

Louisville, Aug. 20—Clay's manager says negotiations for a Clay-Liston fight "have completely broken down."

San Francisco, Oct. 15—Chairman of Gov. Brown's committee for boxing safeguards says a Clay-Liston fight would be "a mismatch of the first magnitude."

Denver, Oct. 31—Liston denies report that he and Clay will sign early in November for a title fight, but says "serious negotiations" are in progress.

Denver, Nov. 5—Liston and Clay sign for fight to be held in February at a site to be announced about Nov. 20.

★ ★ ★

Los Angeles, Nov. 7—Matchmaker Parnassus says Los Angeles "definitely is the No. 1 choice to land a Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay heavyweight title fight."

Denver, Nov. 20—The fight site that was to be announced about Nov. 20 is not announced.

Las Vegas, Nov. 26—A friend of Liston says Clay-Liston fight probably will be held Feb. 10 or Feb. 17. Las Vegas is likely site.

Las Vegas, Nov. 29—Liston's friend says please add Feb. 24 to list of possible dates. The exact date, he says, will be announced next Monday, maybe.

TWO-POINT PLAY — Jeff Meyer of Seaholm reaches above the defending hands of Ferndale's Bruce Rodwan to drop in a basket in last night's Eastern Michigan League game at Birmingham. The Maples whipped defending state Class A champions, 72-51, in the opening game for both teams.

Maples Break Eagles Press, Win 72-51

By JERE CRAIG

The Maples repeatedly broke through a full court press used by Ferndale's defending state Class A basketball champions Friday and romped to a 72-51 opening-season triumph before a standing-room-only happy home crowd.

Only three nights earlier this week, Seaholm had scrimmaged Pontiac Northern and the Huskies practically pressed the Maples off their own court.

PULL AWAY

It wasn't that lopsided for awhile, however. Late in the opening quarter, the winners only led 7-6, but stretched it to 11-7 in the last two minutes of that session. Then in the early portion of the second period, the Eagles were grounded.

Seaholm raced to a 19-7 margin while holding Ferndale scoreless for three minutes. The home team was not in danger thereafter.

Coach Lew Parry of the winners substituted freely and often as the margin grew to the 16 by intermission. It moved to 20 quickly in the third period at 38-18.

The Maples biggest lead was the final one, 21 markers, which they enjoyed often in the last period. They connected on 30 field goals in 70 tries, almost 43 per cent.

Ferndale only connected on 23 of 85 for 27 per cent. Seaholm also hit seven more free throws in seven more attempts.

The impressive triumph boosts the Maples into a first-place tie with Hazel Park, a one-point victor over Royal Oak Kimball earlier this week, in the Eastern Michigan League race.

Big 6-5 Bruce Rodwan of Ferndale topped all marksmen in the clash with 21 points on 10 field goals and a charity toss. Teammate Lee Palmer contributed 14.

Center Ron Jacobson, at 6-4, did a worthy rebounding job for Seaholm and connected for 17 markers to lead his team. The winners also had 11 points each by Mark Fritz, Bruce Nyberg and Harold Wilber, each with five field goals.

Mikemen, St. Frederick Edged

Foul Trouble Hits Starters in 1st Loss

St. Michael was whistled down in its opening league basketball start Friday night, 59-56, by Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows.

★ ★ ★

The Mikemen had three front-line performers foul out in the Northwest Catholic League contest at FOLS and couldn't overcome the repeated decimation of their backboard strength.

St. Mike led early in the game but fell behind in the second quarter. It trailed, 29-27, at halftime, and, 47-41, after three periods.

A late rally brought the Mikemen to a 52-52 tie with two minutes remaining in the contest. But top point producer Rick Lavoie then fouled out and the Shamrocks fell behind for good.

★ ★ ★

SHARP-SHOOTERS

The winners actually won the game on floor shots, hitting 15 of 31 while St. Mike connected three fewer times (12 for 23) to make the difference in the game.

★ ★ ★

Lavoie hit 20 points in the Shamrocks' losing cause. Dave Hamilton led Farmington Our Lady with 17. Three other Lancers in twin figures were Bob Hart (11), Joe Gadbaw (11) and Myles Kearney (12).

The defeat squared St. Mike's season log at 1-1 while FOLS was making its first start.

NEWCOMERS — There will be two new faces with the Waterford Township quintet when the squad takes the floor against West Bloomfield Dec. 10. Coach Bob Taylor will be making his debut with the Skipper five, and Rick Ziem, a sophomore, will likely see duty at one of the guard positions.

Rams Lead at Halftime in Loop Tilt

St. Frederick proved it may have a definite bearing on the outcome of the Northwest Catholic League basketball race by losing Friday night.

Although the Rams were beaten by title favorite Royal Oak St. Mary, they showed they have the talent and desire to cause trouble as it was only a fourth quarter spurt by the Irish that brought the 53-51 triumph.

After falling behind 14-9 in the first quarter, St. Fred roared back for a three-point halftime margin and was still two points in front entering the last stanza.

ROSM caught the Rams with six minutes to play, however, and moved off to its two-point verdict.

Lowry Holland led the Pontiac quintet with 18 points, his second straight impressive scoring performance. Tom Wagner, a sharp shooting guard for the winners, equaled Holland's production.

DOUBLE FIGURES

He was the only Irish player to hit doubles figures while Marcello Gallardo contributed 16 to St. Fred's cause. The Rams had previously won their non-league opener while ROSM was a loser the first time out.

The contest was the first loop start for both squads. ROSM showed a deeper bench than their victims as nine players tallied for the winners.

St. Fred had only five cages in the scoring column. The Rams were outscored, 17-15, from the floor, but stayed close on a 21 of 29 foul shooting show.

Laker Quintet Downed, 44-41

Detroit St. Agatha grabbed a three-point lead at halftime and battled Waterford Our Lady on even terms through the second half to take a 44-41 decision in a Northwest Parochial League game Friday evening.

The two squads were deadlocked at the end of the first period, 10-10, but St. Agatha outscored the Lakers 17-14 in the second frame and made the three-point lead stand up.

Romulus Hot Shots Top Groves, 74-49

Romulus set a hot pace in the first two periods, hitting the net at a 45 per cent clip. The Eagles opened up a 29-16 first quarter and continued the assault with 17 markers in the second stanza.

Groves wilted under the pressure of the sharp-shooting attack and collected only seven points in the second period.

Les Pennington sparked a well-balanced Romulus scoring attack with 18 points. Doug Montgomery and Gary Kassuba picked up 14 each and Ed Wells added 10 markers.

Miami-'Bama TV Date Rescheduled

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miami's televised football game with Alabama will be played in the Orange Bowl Dec. 14 instead of Dec. 7.

The date change was made in consequence of rescheduling the Army-Navy game, also a CBS TV feature, to Dec. 7.

And it posed complications for yet another game—the Orange Blossom Classic of top notch Negro football teams, which is played annually in the Orange Bowl. That contest is set for the night of Dec. 14.

West Bloomfield Loses to Clarenceville, 41-35

Clarenceville's Trojans, doormats of the Wayne-Oakland loop last season, rose to a new basketball height Friday evening by dumping 1962 cochampion West Bloomfield, 41-35.

The Trojans were on the bottom of the league ladder last year with a 2-12 record.

The returning lettermen sparkled last night and the win pushed Clarenceville into a tie for the lead in the W-O race along with Milford and Clarkston.

Clarkston belted Holly, 72-49, and Milford edged Brighton, 53-49, in cage openers Wednesday.

Veterans Dan Graves, a 6-4 senior center, and forward Ray Rood provided the scoring punch for the Trojans. Graves shared game scoring honors with the Lakers' Mike Hargreaves with 18 points, and Rood followed with 13 markers.

The Lakers grabbed a 7-6 first-quarter lead, but the Trojans bounced back with 12 points in the second stanza for an 18-15 halftime margin.

RALLY STOPPED

Clarenceville opened up a 13-point gap at the close of the third stanza and fought back a strong Laker rally in the final period to lock up the decision.

The Lakers picked up 13 of 24 and Clarenceville made only nine of 25. Guard Dan Greig, the Lakers' play maker, turned in a seven-for-eight performance from the free-throw line to aid Hargreaves with the scoring chores.

North Branch Five Opens With Win

North Branch ran into cold streaks in the first and fourth periods but the point production was heavy enough during the middle stanzas to give the Broncos a 53-49 win over Kingston in their 1963 cage opener Friday evening.

The Broncos trailed 12-7 at the end of the first quarter, but they picked up steam in the second frame to gain a 26-22 lead at intermission.

Trotter Driving Champ Seeking Third Crown

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — In an effort to win the national trotting and pacing driving championship for the third straight year, Bob Farrington of Richwood, Ohio, will campaign at Roosevelt Raceway the last week of the season.

Two Spartans Gain Position on Big 10 Unit

MSU's Underwood, Lewis on First 11; 2 Illini Named

CHICAGO (AP) — Champion Illinois and runnerup Michigan State each grabbed two berths on the 1963 All-Big Ten football team named by the Associated Press today.

Center Dick Butkus and tackle Archie Sutton, typifying Illinois' great defensive team, were selected on the squad along with end Dan Underwood of Michigan State and teammate Sherman Lewis, one of the speediest halfbacks in the country.

Except for Ohio State, which for years has dominated All-Big Ten football teams, every other club in the league placed one man on the first team.

Lewis and Butkus, along with tackle Carl Eller of Minnesota, were unanimous choices. Joining Lewis in the backfield were fullback Tom Nowatzke of Indiana, halfback Lou Holland of Wisconsin and quarterback Ron Digravio of Purdue.

Other members of the first team were end Chuck Logan of Northwestern, and guards Mike Reilly of Iowa and Joe O'Donnell of Michigan.

THREE JUNIORS

Paul Warfield, Ohio State halfback on the 1962 first team, dropped into the No. 2 backfield which also included Tom Myers, of Northwestern, Paul Krause of Iowa and Jim Broadowski of Illinois.

Rounding out the No. 2 team were ends Bob Hadrick of Purdue and Cloyd Webb of Iowa; tackles Bill Keating of Michigan and Roger Pillath of Wisconsin; guards Tom Jenkins of Ohio State and Earl Lattimer of Michigan State, and center Frank Marchlewski of Minnesota.

Sunday Is Last Day

Bowlerama Entries Close

The seventh annual Press Bowlerama will conclude its six-site qualifying for 1963 tomorrow as county bowlers have a last fling at making the Dec. 8th finals.

Sunday's six establishments are Airway Lanes, 300 Bowl, North Hill Lanes, Howe's Lanes, Montcalm Bowling Centre and Wonderland Lanes.

Squads will be starting by 11 a. m. at most sites and will run until late afternoon with no group starting after 6 p. m.

Men and women who live or bowl in Oakland County are eligible providing they have a sanctioned 18-game average for last season or this.

All receive a handicap of 70 per cent based on 200 pins. Entries will be accepted until squad time at each house. Entrants may bowl more than once tomorrow.

More than 60 county keglers qualified (pending the verification of their averages) two weeks ago at six other establishments.

SIGN UP

Pre-registration for this weekend's final action closed at 5:30 p. m. yesterday and reflected a definite increase over the previous entries by this manner.

However, only one bowler bothered to pre-register at Montcalm, Chuck Rigney for the noon squad, and only three at Wonderland, Les Salminen, Gene Connell and Aurel Murg. Thus the chances remain good at those sites for choice qualifying squad times.

Airway Lanes has good turnouts indicated for the 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. squads. Those signing for the early one include: Albert Olson, Louis Matich, Don Moore, Jake Jakobowski, Ron Bird, Frank Pressey and Jack Burrill.

At Howe's will be Den Leake, Everett Draker, Maurice Stack, Bob Berry, Charles Young, Harold Richardson, Bill Beaty, Nick Nicholas, Don Dachon, Bob (Hoot) Gibson, Don Paulson, Larry McLeod and Mel Norman at 4:30 p. m.

The 1:30 p. m. squad will have Harold Dobratz, Bob C. Kelley and Dr. Robert Buehrig among others. Don and John Bilby are slated to bowl at noon, and Chris Nicholas and Gerald Zubalik will join one of the three squads.

North Hill Lanes will have a 5:30 p. m. squad that will include Eddie Dzyris, John Fera, Walter Stewart and James Stewart. John Fera, Vi Cargal, Dan Kingsley and Earl Ash are expected to join that one or the 2 p. m. squad that has Howard Ward as the lone member at present.

The 300 Bowl will begin the day's activity with a 10 a. m. group that has listed: Edward Medved, June Warner, Bob Rebennack, Sally Crake and B. Pittman.

At 11:15 a. m. Joseph Sawyer is looking for company; Nick Trevino is on the 12:30 p. m. squad that includes Bob McKerricher, W. G. Manchester, Frank Pavlinac, Andy York, George Fuller, Leo Emery, Bill Reeves and Guy Coleman.

BOWLING

The annual match between the Isaac Crary Junior High and Pierce Junior High keglers was Tuesday at Airway Lanes and the former retained possession of the traveling trophy.

Isaac Crary teams won 37½ matches to 26½ for Pierce squads to keep the trophy for the second straight year. Pierce won the first meeting between the two schools two years ago.

The winners John Buniack, a Press Bowlerama qualifier, led all the competitors with 216—512. The Pierce threesome of Debbie Strohmeyer, Peggy Gardner and Pat McBride produced a 1646 team series.

Marie Reynolds earned one Sunday night for her 237—591 effort at Sylvan Lanes in the Mr. and Mrs. League. Dotty Chambers still holds the top series for the league's season with 593 earlier this season.

A bird also was presented to Doris Hays of the Ten Pinners League at Airway. She currently has the second best actual game in the circuit this year with 186.

TIGERS TOPS

The league leading Tigers fired a 979 team series. The North Hill Prep League, which follows the Junior League teams on the lanes, is led by the Red Wings.

The top split maker in the Columbia Ave. Baptist Mixed League last Saturday at Airway was Callie Vick who converted the 4-7-9-10.

Nancy Wood only averages 133 but she has high season game in the Waterford Ladies League with 224. Norma Young's 555 is the series leader.

The Howe's Junior Classic loop last Saturday had a 208—566 duo by Larry Furr, a 203—650 by John Bennett and a 543 by Fran Federspiel. Cynthia Kolos rolled 456.

The race in the Monday House League at Strike 'n' Spare is very close. Warners Heating holds a slim half-point lead over Reynolds Aluminum, while third place Cranbrook Drugs is only two points off the pace-setter.

Cage Practice Schedule Set by City Loop

A 25-game practice schedule has been arranged among the 10 teams entered in the city men's basketball program, the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department has announced.

The games, which do not count toward the regular season championships, will begin Wednesday at the Pontiac Northern and Lincoln Junior High School gymnasiums.

Each team will play at least once a week at one of four possible sites — PNH, Pontiac Central, Lincoln or Madison Junior High schools.

Six teams will vie opening night. Southwest Community Club, city champions, will meet White Lake Pharmacy at 7 p. m. at PNH. At 8:30 p. m., Pontiac Police will play West Bloomfield Heating, while at the same time on the Lincoln floor, Beckers will play the Bachelors' Club.

Passing N. Illinois to Meet Missouri 11

Both teams have 9-0 season records. Northern Illinois, the nation's No. 1 small college team, runs the ball just enough to keep 'em honest. On defense, Springfield passes only enough to keep 'em honest. On defense, Springfield has given up just one touchdown pass all season. Northern lost in this same bowl last season, 23-20 to Adams State.

Bork is a slender 180-pound senior who has had 15 pro scouts on his trail all season. Almost every time he throws the ball, he sets a record. In his career he has completed 577 of 902 passes for 6,782 yards.

32 'BOMBS'

This season Bork has hit 244 of 374 for 3,077 yards and 32 touchdowns. In his last game against Central Michigan he completed 43 of 68 as the Huskies won 29-22.

300 Game Helps St. John Increase World Pin Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Jim St. John of St. Louis continues to set a blistering pace as he draws away from the field in the seventh annual World's Invitational Bowling Tournament at Lakeside McCormick Place.

The 33-year-old pro took a giant stride towards the $7,500 first prize Friday when he bowled a perfect game and moved 16 Petersen points ahead of the closest contender.

With only two days to go in the tournament, many contenders have conceded victory to St. John. But veteran bowlers, such as defending champion Don Carter, conceded nothing.

With 32 of the 64-game finals out of the way, St. John has won 24 games and lost eight and has 175.37 Petersen points.

In second place is Glenn Allison of St. Louis, who has 159.24 points.

St. John, who bowled in Los Angeles, Minneapolis and Chicago before moving to St. Louis, is in pursuit of his first major tournament championship. He spent nine years in the Navy as a radar technician before leaving the military in 1957.

St. John has averaged 237 for the 32 games. He rolled his 300 game, the third perfect game of the tourney, against J. Wilbert Sims of Chicago.

In the women's division, Mrs. Marion Ladewig, 49-year-old grandmother from Grand Rapids, Mich., held to her lead. The three-time champion reached the halfway point with 117.48 points for a narrow margin over Helen Duval of Berkeley, Calif., who has 113.07 points.

Mrs. Ladewig has won 19 and lost five and has averaged 206. She is the only woman in the field to average above 200.

11-5 RECORD

St. John, whose 300 game was the 11th in tournament history, won 11 of 16 games Friday. In his four-game match against Sims, national Negro champion, St. John rolled 12 consecutive strikes after Sims had won two of the first three games.

Carter, 37, who has won five of the six world tournaments, is in 14th place with 145.20 points on the strength of a 14½-17½ record, 30 points behind St. John.

Comedian on 'McHale's Navy'

Magician Pulls Costly Switch

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

THOMAS

"I think it's kind of strange myself," says the elastic-featured comedian. "I'm losing about $2,000 a week."

As the Amazing Mr. Ballantine, he operated a hilarious, high-paid act in which his card tricks ended as 52-pickup and his disappearing birds became a feathery pulp.

He gave his reasons for joining the ABC comedy that stars Ernest Borgnine: "Theater business was disappearing and so were night clubs, which I don't like to play anyway because they keep me up too late. There were TV guest shots, but how many times can you play Ed Sullivan?

BIGGEST PAY

"My biggest pay was from industrial shows, but they don't come along too often."

So he enlisted with McHale for better or worse, and he admitted that it has swung both ways.

"Somebody said there was no such thing as small roles; only small actors," he cracked. "I think it was Mickey Rooney. Anyway, it ain't true."

Trouble is, he said the director works not on the star system, but the rank system: The best stuff goes to the commander — Borgnine — captain — Joe Flynn—and ensign—Tim Conway.

Ballantine still does guest shots as the maladroit magico and plays Hollywood gatherings such as a tax assessors' convention. He plans to stay here whether he keeps sailing with McHale or not.

Offer 2-Day Course on Computer Use

A two-day seminar on the Critical Path Method and PERT (Program Evaluation and Review Technique) will be held at Oakland University Tuesday and Wednesday.

Brian E. Holmes, of International Business Machines, will demonstrate both manual and computer means of scheduling using Critical Path Method and PERT.

The seminar is for businesses and professions which can apply the techniques to their operations One feature will be the running of practice problems on the university's computer.

Teen Shoots Himself in Hunting Accident

EAST LANSING (UPI) — State police said yesterday the number of deer hunting accidents was raised to 45 when a 14-year-old youth shot himself in the left foot while hunting in Cheboygan County.

Roger Walters of Afton, in the Northern Lower Peninsula, bought the total number of accidents of all kinds to 56. This includes four fatal accidents and seven heart attacks, state police officials said.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE COMPASS

QUESTION: If you took a compass to the North Pole which way would the needle point?

ANSWER: It would point as the black arrow points in (A); toward the North Magnetic Pole. Although compass needles (that is, the north end of them) point in the general direction of north, they rarely point to the true or geographic north, that point which is the northernmost end of the axis line which goes through the center of the earth. The reason is that the metal compass needle has been charged with the mysterious force called magnetism, which makes one end always point toward the Magnetic North Pole. This is the center of the earth's magnetism in the northern hemisphere, and it is located 1054 miles from the true North Pole, at the spot marked by the black cross, among the islands of northern Canada. Its location can be seen more clearly in (B) where the compass arrows in different locations point toward it. Compasses below the equator point south toward the South Magnetic Pole, located in the Antarctic continent.

When, in ancient days, it was found that bits of the mineral magnetite would point north when suspended from a string, it was used to lead travellers over land and sea, and so called "leadstone" or "lodestone." Later it was found that pieces of metal could be magnetized and so the modern compass came into being.

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can understand the compass diagram at lower right. Each place will have a different variation according to its location. Sailors, when reading their compasses, will allow for the variation.

By applying this to the compass reading, they will know in what direction true north lies.

LAURA BIONDI

Area Girl, 10, Wins Prize for Question

Laura Biondi, 5th grader at Clarkston Elementary School, was awarded a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for submitting the question for today's Junior Editors Quiz.

Fascinated by a question that arose in class one day on which direction a compass at the North Pole would point, Laura decided to direct the query to the quiz, sponsored by Associated Press Newsfeatures.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Biondi, 6156 Cramlane, Independence Township, Laura, 10, is in her first year of Girl Scouting after two years as a Brownie.

Laura has wide range of interests. She plays the flute in her school band and enjoys reading and swimming. She has two sisters and a brother.

Car Overturns, Injuring Driver

A passenger, Loren C. Green, 19, of 1049 Collier was treated and released.

The accident occurred at 1:47 a.m. at Joslyn and the Grand Trunk Railroad tracks.

* * *

Sheriff's deputies said the car spun out of control and rolled after the rear bumber snagged on a guard rail around a railroad signal.

U.P. Chief Reelected

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — Alec Goldade of Brimley was reelected president of the Upper Peninsula Supervisors' Association yesterday. More than 50 supervisors are attending a two-day conference here.

Woman Hurt in Collision on Telegraph

Pontiac police said the driver of the other car, Kenneth R. Adkins, 5075 Pheasant, failed to yeild the right of way in attempting to make a left turn onto Voorheis from Telegraph. Greves was traveling south on Telegraph. The accident occurred at 10:10 p.m.

Adkins and the Greves' son, Guy, 16, were treated and released. Greve was not hospitalized.

Youth Gets JFK Photo

118 Killed as Canadian Jet Liner Crashes

Plane Plunges in Night Rain; None Survive

Disaster 2nd Worst in World's History; No Clues to Cause

STE. THERESE DE BLAINVILLE, Quet. (AP) —Workers toiled in clinging mud over a quarter-mile area today to recover the bodies of 118 persons killed in Canada's worst aviation disaster, the crash of a Trans-Canada Air Lines DC8 jet.

The big U.S.-built plane, in service only 10 months, caught fire and plunged to earth Friday night just four minutes after taking off in heavy rain and high wind from Montreal's Dorval Airport for a 300-mile flight to Toronto.

★ ★ ★

There were no survivors.

It was the world's second worst single plane tragedy.

Witnesses said the plane exploded, but disagreed as to whether the blast came while it was still airborne or after it plowed into the ground outside Ste. Therese de Blainville, a factory town 20 miles north of Montreal.

★ ★ ★

TROOPS CALLED

Troops were called out to guard the wreckage. Hastily erected lights gave an eerie aspect through the night to shattered bodies, half-buried personal possessions and broken remains of the airliner.

All of the seven-member crew and the rest of the passengers were Canadians. The pilot was Capt. Jack D. Snider, 47, Toronto, a veteran of World War II service with the Royal Canadian Air Force.

★ ★ ★

REPLACEMENT

One of the stewardesses, Kathleen Patricia Creighton, 23, served on the flight as a replacement for another girl who was unable to report for duty.

In Montreal, a dozen persons missed the flight because of traffic congestion. Gail McEachern, 26, an employe at McGill University, said she

To Probe Kennedy Death

Johnson Names Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has named a top-level panel to investigate the assassination of President John F. Kennedy so that the nation, the world and history will know the facts.

That was Johnson's mandate to the special presidential commission named last night. He chose Chief Justice Earl Warren to head it.

Representing House Republicans on the commission is Michigan's Gerald R. Ford, Grand Rapids congressman who has been gaining stature steadily on Capitol Hill and in party circles in recent years.

Ford is chairman of the House Republican caucus and has served in the House since 1948.

AVOIDS DUPLICATION

Johnson was understood to be determined to avoid multiple inquiries that could cloud the facts about the murder of Kennedy in Dallas a week ago Friday and the shooting two days later of the man police charged with killing the President.

The new President said he had chosen the commission "to study and report upon all facts and circumstances relating to the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy and the subsequent violent death of the man charged with the assassination."

★ ★ ★

Oswald, accused of shooting the President from ambush as Kennedy motored through downtown Dallas, was himself gunned down in the city police station last Sunday as he was about to be transferred to the County Jail.

RUBY INDICTED

In addition to Warren and Ford, Johnson named these others to the commission: Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.; Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.; Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La.; former Central Intelligence Agency Director Allen W. Dulles, and onetime disarmament negotiator John J. McCloy.

The President signed an executive order authorizing the commission to subpoena witnesses and granting it other powers it might need to investigate.

NO TIME LIMIT

He set no time limit on its inquiry, and White House sources said Warren will decide when the commission will go to work.

A White House announcement said: "The President is instructing the special commission to satisfy itself that the truth is known as far as it can be discovered, and to report its findings and conclusions to him, to the American people, and to the world."

Johnson's aim was reported to be to make sure that overlapping inquiries do not develop, producing a situation in which one investigation might get in the way of another.

★ ★ ★

Boggs had proposed a bill to set up a House-Senate committee to investigate the slaying.

HANDFUL OF MEASURES

It was one of a handful of measures calling for special committee inquiries into the assassination of Kennedy and the shooting of Oswald.

LBJ Strong for Medicare

Politicians Predict He'll Press Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capitol Hill speculated today that President Johnson may support the hard-fought proposal for health care of the aged even more actively than President John F. Kennedy did.

Johnson's first speech to Congress as President emphasized the priority Kennedy had given to two other measures: civil rights and a tax cut. But he also mentioned "care for our elderly" as one of the late President's aims which "must and will be translated into effective action."

Proponents and opponents of the pending bill to provide hospital and nursing care benefits under Social Security agreed Johnson would mobilize White House resources for a drive to enact the measure next year.

One opponent who would not be quoted by name said political realities would force Johnson, as the prospective 1964 Democratic candidate for the presidency, to an even more vigorous support of medical care than Kennedy's.

STRONG SUPPORTER

Supporters of the measure cited speeches Johnson had made as vice president, including a number during the 1960 campaign and one last year at a rally for the measure, as evidence he strongly supports the principle of health care of the aged financed by Social Security.

In other Washington activity the view in capital circles is that Secretary of State Dean Rusk's position in President Johnson's new administration is probably more secure than that of any of his colleagues.

Johnson has asked everyone in the late President John F. Kennedy's cabinet to remain. Rusk is determined to continue to serve as secretary of state as long as the President needs him, his associates say.

Within a few days, President Johnson probably will announce his first news conference.

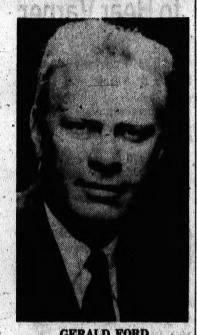
White House sources say no decision has been made yet as to when it will be or whether to continue the innovation of the late President John F. Kennedy —the live radio-television news conference.



GERALD FORD

Federal Law Is Proposed for Assassins

WASHINGTON (AP)—It may become a federal crime to assassinate a president.

Legislation has now been advanced in Congress to overcome the peculiar fact that the man accused of killing President John F. Kennedy didn't violate any federal law, only a state law.

The idea is that if such a tragedy should come again to America, federal agents — the FBI — rather than some local police force would be in charge.

When John Wilkes Booth shot Lincoln April 14, 1865, the country was under martial law. The federal government had a mighty army at its disposal to run down the assassin and his helpers.

After 12 days of almost incredible confusion, federal soldiers did trap Booth, in a barn near Bowling Green, Va. The orders from Washington were to bring him back alive; he was brought back dead.

In any event, Booth didn't talk. And now the country will never hear Oswald's story from his own lips, either.

Court Cases Cloud Future of City Renewal Projects

By DICK SAUNDERS

Two court cases pose a threat to Pontiac's urban renewal program, and oddly enough, neither case originated here.

One is the suit filed last June by a group of Macomb County citizens challenging the legality of parts of the Michigan Drain Code.

It has cast doubt over the city's major urban renewal "credits": the Clinton River drain and the perimeter road.

★ ★ ★

The suit was dismissed in Federal District Court in Detroit but has been appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court.

WON'T BID

Until the high court rejects it, or accepts and rules on the appeal, financial institutions won't bid on any bonds for projects under sections of the drain code that are being challenged.

Pontiac has a $674,500 urban renewal credit riding on the Clinton River project. If it's not completed, Pontiac will have to come up with that "credit" in the form of cash.

AFFECTS CONSTRUCTION

The Clinton River delay also is affecting construction of the perimeter road. The final portion of the road can't be built until the river is put in an open cut drain along the south side of Orchard Lake Avenue.

Pontiac has another $209,400 credit on that part of the perimeter road.

As if that weren't enough, the Clinton River delay also threatens redevelopment of renewal land downtown.

Land cannot be properly assembled for resale until the river is tunneled, according to urban renewal officials.

THE SOLUTION

The solution to a lot of problems is to get the river project started.

City commissioners now are attempting to divert some capital improvement funds toward the project to get it going.

Cash Registers Ring Out

Hordes of shoppers descended on downtown Pontiac and area shopping center stores as the weather became seasonal with nippy temperatures.

Not only were shoppers in a buying mood, but most merchants estimated the day's receipts would total 20 to 30 per cent above those of the Friday after Thanksgiving last year.

★ ★ ★

"Crowds in our store are very good. This definitely looks better than last year," said Clifford Grovogel, managing director of Waite's Department Store.

BUYING UPSURGE

He attributed the buying upsurge to the Christmas period this year being a week shorter than last, plus the nationwide temporary slowdown last weekend due to the death of President Kennedy.

Howard Nelson, manager of the nearly Sears Roebuck & Co. store agreed, "If anything, there is a lot of pent up buying." He said the unusually warm fall also had the effect of holding back retail traffic.

At Osmun's, Inc., the business day was "Pretty good, sales

Mercury Hits Autumn Low at Wintry 24

You're weather - wise if you said this morning was the coldest of the season. In downtown Pontiac the mercury dropped to 24 at 8 a.m.

The reading at 1 p.m. was 35 degrees.

Partly cloudy skies and continued cold temperatures will greet December tomorrow. A low of 26 tonight and a high of 38 tomorrow is the temperature forecast for the area.

Winds today are northwesterly at 15 to 30 miles. They will diminish somewhat later.

OU's Fund Raiser Dedicated

By L. GARY THORNE

The gentle art of fund raising requires dedication. Oakland University has found a dedicated fund raiser in James P. Dickerson, assistant to the chancellor.

Dickerson, 37, said total expenditures at OU since 1959 will total $20.2 million by next June.

Thirty-nine per cent of this will have been derived from state funds, while the remainder comes from tuition fees, borrowed funds, private gifts and government grants.

★ ★ ★

It is in the area of private gifts and investments that the university and Dickerson have been most energetic.

PARTNERSHIP

The success moves the assistant to the chancellor to comment that the school's economic development has resulted from a partnership between OU and area citizens.

"Many local people have contributed much of their time and financial resources to make growth of this new university possible," he said.

Dickerson is in charge of fund-raising through his office of University Development.

The partnership of the four-year-old institution and local citizens is dramatically illustrated by the funds allocated to scholarships, he said.

SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS

Scholarship monies are primarily raised by an 80-member volunteer scholarship committee. This group annually sponsors events and student activities to raise funds.

Dickerson said $253,778 has been raised for scholarships since 1959.

He pointed out that the scholarship budget for 1963-64 is over $90,000, which is considerably more than the $16,790 allocated in 1959-60.

JAMES P. DICKERSON

The partnership, however, has worked even more extensively under Dickerson's guidance.

Not only have no state funds been expended for scholarships, which furnish financial aid for 222 of OU's 1,500 students, but only 24 per cent of the capital investment at Oakland came from state appropriation.

Dickerson said that over $1 million has been invested in construction of new buildings on the campus. Roughly 43 per cent came from private gifts and 33 per cent from borrowed funds.

SEVERAL METHODS

The OU official has established several methods for encouraging contributions from in-

Leaflets strewn about Caracas by the Armed Forces for National Liberation — FALN — an underground terrorist organization, warned the city's population of 1.5 million to stay indoors until Monday or face the possibility of being shot.

Gun battles between FALN bands and police broke out in slum districts but traffic in the downtown area of Caracas seemed only slightly less than normal.

Street cleaning vehicles roamed about the city scooping up tacks thrown down by terrorists in an attempt to keep motorists at home.

RESTORE POWER

Workmen restored power to the southern edge of the city where saboteurs bombed two electrical substations Friday night.

One policeman in a patrol car was wounded by snipers.

Elsewhere, 23 bombs exploded or were detected during the night in the city of Coro, capital of guerrilla-plague Falcon State.

★ ★ ★

LARGE CACHE

It was on the Paraguana peninsula in Falcon State that the government claimed to have found a large cache of Cuban arms.

Because of this, the United States has joined Venezuela in seeking tougher measures against Cuba.

CAMPAIGN

The FALN is trying to frighten the population from voting and thus gain a legal basis for declaring the election invalid. Communists and Castroites are boycotting the polls.

However, the Venezuelans paid little attention to the threats.

Fireworks lit up the skies early today, and it was their booms and whooshes that filled the air rather than the threatened sharp cracks of terrorist rifles or the rattle of machine guns.

Still ringing in the crowd's ears was Betancourt's charge that Fidel Castro's Cuba had committed aggression against Venezuela by supplying the FALN with over three tons of arms.

★ ★ ★

Bodies and wreckage were strewn over at least a quarter of a mile. Floodlights and flares illuminated the macabre scene.

ORDER PROBE

After viewing the wreckage, airline officials expressed doubt about determining the cause of the crash by the usual piece-by-piece reconstruction of the plane. The government immediately ordered an investigation.

A Trans Canada spokesman said there was no question of sabotage.

The plane crashed at 6:30 p.m. Witnesses heard a terrific noise —"like an atomic bomb," some said—and saw a red ball of fire. The wreckage burned for two hours.

NEAR HOUSES

The plane hit the ground 800 feet from a row of houses along Highway 11, crashing midway between the road and an expressway to the Laurentian Mountains, a resort area north of Montreal.

"I heard this immense explosion," he said. "It sounded like an atomic bomb. I thought it was the end of the world. My car radio went out of commission, and my first reaction was to jump on the two children and shield them.

★ ★ ★

"I don't remember seeing the plane at all. I just heard the loud crash. I ran to the scene, and all I could see was a mass of fire.

NO SURVIVORS

"I knew there were no survivors."

At first much of the plane's mud-splattered fuselage appeared intact, but it was quickly consumed in fire. Identification of the plane remained uncertain until a rescuer had found a life jacket with the airline's monogram on it.

MESSAGES OF CONDOLENCE — White House mail room workers are inundated by bag after bag of mail containing messages of sympathy for Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and encouragement for new President Lyndon Johnson. "Our Tel-Huron shopping center store was mobbed," said Osmun, I'm looking forward to a very good Christmas."

IN THE MOOD

Irving J. Gordon, manager of Tel-Huron Children's Shop, said people are in the mood to buy.

"They are Christmas shopping no doubt about that. I would say the response is 20 to 30 per cent better than last year," said Gordon, who is also president of the Tel-Huron Merchants Association.

On the opposite side of the city, at Glenwood Plaza, Roy Schroeder, manager of K-Mart, could hardly find words to describe the day's turnout.

STORE JAMMED

At Bloomfield Miracle Mile, Marvin Talan, general manager of Lion Store, echoed: "We've just been jammed since we opened. We're very optimistic and anticipate increased sales right up to Christmas."

Smith, manager of the S. S. Kresge store, said Santa Claus installed yesterday morning at his igloo on the mall concourse was a big drawing card, with children forming long lines to see him.

BIGGER CROWDS

Consensus of retail store managers in the Pontiac area is that crowds will get bigger, so the wise shopper will do well to make Christmas purchases now.

Most area stores also put extended hours into effect, with new closing time not until 9 p.m., and at some stores, 10 p.m.

3 From County to Solo in Cranbrook 'Messiah'

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Three Oakland County students are among the four chosen for solo parts in the Kingswood-Cranbrook presentation of the "Messiah."

Performing solo parts will be Arch Copeland, 1020 Chesterfield, Birmingham; Jeffrey L. Hipps, 561 Rudgate, Bloomfield Hills; Bonnie Humsey, 8095 Gage Crescent, Utica; and Patricia Pagan of Riverview.

Selections will include "Glory to God," "For Unto Us a Child is Born" and the famed "Hallelujah Chorus."

Directors of the event are Mrs. Lois Chapman and Walter Read. Robert Bates, organist and choirmaster at Christ Church, will accompany.

Sex and family relations in a Christian home will be the topic of Thursday's meeting of the Birmingham Congregational Church Child Study Club.

Dr. Donald Schroeder, director of life education of public affairs, Detroit Council of Churches, will be the speaker.

The discussion will follow a 12:30 p.m. luncheon at the home of Mrs. Joseph Farnham, 497 Golfview, Birmingham. Reservations should be made with her.

The Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold its annual budget meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the church sanctuary, 388 N. Woodward.

A150 scheduled for next week is the first of two meetings for prospective members. The informational sessions will be held at 8 p.m. Dec. 5 and 12 in the church parsonage, 1290 Pierce.

Russia Hero Named in Rocket Flop

MOSCOW (AP) — For the first time, a report of failure of a unit in a Soviet rocket launching was reported in the local press today. It was reported in an account of heroism by a Soviet officer.

The Army newspaper, Red Star, reported that all was ready for launching of a rocket "on a bright summer day," date not given, and then gave this account.

The final button was pushed that was supposed to release a plug in the side of the rocket and flip it out. But the spring in the rocket was not strong enough to flip out the plug, which was the gadget which activated the rocket.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, the mechanism within the rocket was working, using up essential power. If it ran too long, the course of the rocket itself could not be certain.

He rushed out of the shelter, ran over to the rocket, jerked the cable and pulled out the starting plug.

He had just 6 seconds to get to a shelter trench. He dived in with scores of worried eyes upon him. Then the rocket let go.

dividuals and organizations for the university's development.

A continuing capital gifts program, endowment funds, contracted research, and special research grants are some of the fund-raising efforts of the university.

Capital gifts consist of a given sum from which the university uses only the interest or investment earnings.

★ ★ ★

Endowment funds are used mostly as trust money or a trust fund might be used. This is used for special professorships, lecture series and the like.

FINANCIAL GIFTS

Dickerson also tries to get financial gifts or research grants from private foundations and federal agencies.

Viewing the overall development of Oakland U. as an excellent example of community effort, he said:

"(This) has increased our economic prosperity and will be a prominent element in the emerging role of our community as one of the leaders in the Great Lakes industrial area."

Explaining his fund raising role, he said, "We've tried to raise funds to buy those things the state can't afford."

Dickerson also takes a practical approach to OU's financial status. He said that Michigan colleges face the prospect of doubled enrollments by 1970 and it is too much to conceive that the legislative appropriation will be doubled.

"We could sit here and get by," he added, "but these funds mean the difference between a good program and an excellent one.

"We will not settle for mediocrity," he promised.

In 1962, Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and Detroit Edison Co. filed a suit against the City of Detroit in Wayne County Circuit Court.

The utility companies argued that they shouldn't be required to pay for moving and installing facilities in Detroit's urban renewal project.

The plaintiffs claimed they did not create the need to move facilities. The project was sponsored by the city and federal government, and the sponsors should foot the cost of moving and installing utilities.

GRANTED EASEMENTS

The city argued that utilities were granted easements for facilities free of charge, and therefore should be willing to pay for relocating them.

On May 10, 1962, Circuit Court Judge Edward S. Piggins ruled "Utilities are not liable for the cost of relocation."

"The city is liable to reimburse utilities for the cost of relocating their facilities in an urban renewal project," he said.

This decision was appealed by Detroit to the State Supreme Court. It will be argued this month.

The cost to date of relocating such facilities locally has been estimated at more than $200,000.

ONLY PARTIALLY

"We could not find room for it in the present budget, but could prepare a new budget for federal approval," said James L. Bates, urban renewal and planning director.

"A new budget would allow for this added cost," he noted, "but the cost would still have to be shared by the city and federal government."

How it got there, will be the topic of the next installment in this series.

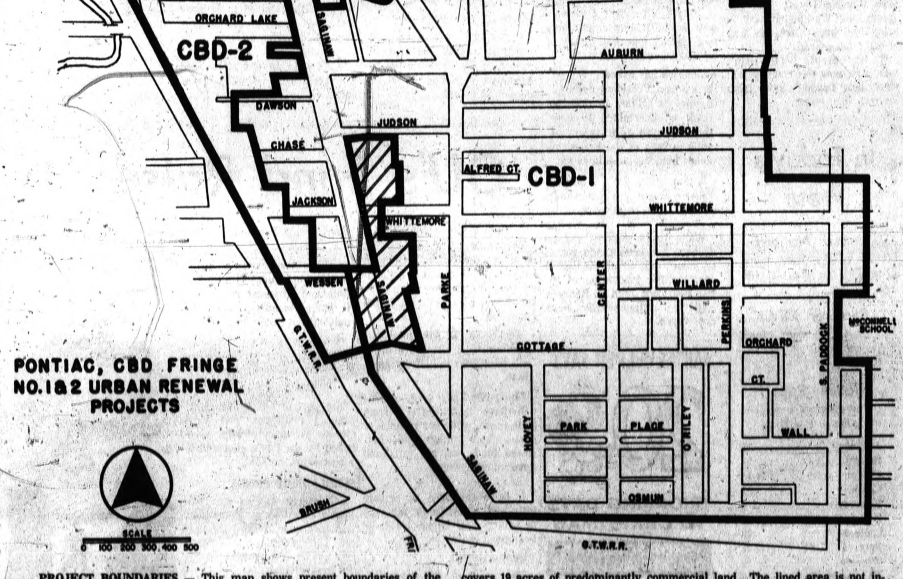
NATIONAL WEATHER — Scattered snow flurries are forecast for tonight for the northern and central Appalachians, lower Lakes and parts of the Ohio and Tennessee valleys. It will be clear to partly cloudy elsewhere. Colder weather is expected over much of the nation with the exceptions of the northern Plateau, southern Plains and Southwest desert region where slightly warmer temperatures are forecast.



PONTIAC, CBD FRINGE NO. 1 & 2 URBAN RENEWAL PROJECTS

PROJECT BOUNDARIES — This map shows present boundaries of the two projects in Pontiac's urban renewal program. The city's first project, R20, is labelled CBD1. It is the largest in land area (145 acres) and is predominantly residential in character. The second project, R44, is labelled CBD2. It covers 19 acres of predominantly commercial land. The lined area is not included in urban renewal. A revised plan, now being prepared, would add the land bordered by Water, Saginaw and the Clinton River (top, center) to the R20 project area.
