Williams Offers 7-Point Remedy to Aid Economy

Says U.S. Lags in War With Reds by Slighting Domestic Necessities

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan advocated last night a sweeping program of governmental aid for distressed areas of the nation, calling it a "point four program for our domestic economy."

Williams spoke before the Brooklyn Lawyers' Club.

He said the United States is falling behind in the world contest with communism because it has forgotten that its foreign and domestic policies must be "Siamese twins."

The world is judging the United States, he said, by its failure to relieve distress at home while preaching the advantages of capitalism.

He proposes:

1. Governmental loans at low interest rates to business and industry in depressed areas.

2. Federal aid to local self-help councils to survey industrial possibilities and development.

3. Federal money to supplement state and local relief.

NEW JOBLESS PAY

4. A new type of unemployment compensation for the unemployed in chronically distressed areas, including lump sum compensation to those who want to move out of distressed areas and possibly transporation money and additional weekly compensation while the unemployed are seeking new jobs in new locations.

5. Regional developments similar to the Tennessee Valley Authority for power, irrigation, navigation and flood control, as well as atomic power plants.

6. More construction of schools, highways and hospitals to fill immediate needs and provide temporary employment in distressed areas while their industries are being revived.

7. A new program for distressed farm communities to include technical assistance for the marginal farmer, special federal loans at low interest rates and expanded research for this type of farmer.

Former Commissioner, Businessman Dies at 85

Henry H. Harnack, 85, Pontiac businessman and former city commissioner, died at his home, 76 Williams St., Wednesday. He had been ill several months.

He was born in Germany Oct. 29, 1870 and came to the United States with his parents, Henry and Sophia Harnack, when he was 12 years old.

At the age of nine, he was a shepherd boy, herding sheep in Germany. He worked on farms here and when 18, had saved enough money to pay off a $500 mortgage on his father's farm.

As a young man he worked in brick yards, on a gravel train, worked as a porter, ran a small business, then went into the manufacturing business. He had been president of the Van Auken Co.

On Dec. 31, 1893, he married Fredericka Schultz.

Mr. Harnack built the building now housing the Baldwin Rubber Co. Later he went into building houses and subdividing property, operating his own real estate business.

In 1932, he was elected city commissioner and reelected in 1935. He retired in 1938 because of ill health.

A charter member of Grace Lutheran Church, Mr. Harnack was instrumental in salvaging the old Pontiac High School bell. It now rings out from the church tower which he gave in memory of his wife.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Harry Loch of Pontiac; three sons, Stuart of Clarkston, Hugo and Clyde Harnack, both of Pontiac, two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

His sister, Mrs. Sophia Coulon, is living in Mt. Clemens.

The body will be at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home until 11 a.m. Saturday, and then will be taken to Grace Lutheran Church for the service at 1 p.m. The Rev. Otto G. Shultz, his pastor, will officiate with burial in Perry Mt. Park Cemetery.

Bearers will be Ralph Robinson, Jack Balser, Frank Lawson, Manley Kratt, George Pratt and Donald Hansen.

GM Defends Lifting of Franchise

Group Told Lee Anderson Earned $674,000 at Orion as Dealer Since 1946

SPECIAL TO THE PRESS

Lee Anderson, former Pontiac-Buick-Chevrolet dealer in Lake Orion, made a net profit after taxes of $450,405 from his dealership and also drew a salary totaling $224,504 from 1946 through 11 months of 1954, a senate subcommittee was told today in Washington.

W. M. Hufstader, vice president of General Motors in charge of its distribution staff, revealed Anderson's earnings in a 10-page resume of Anderson's dealer relations with GM.

He said that throughout five meetings between July 1954 and May 1955 with H. E. Crawford, general sales manager of Pontiac, Anderson remained adamant in his assertion that no new cars should be sold at a discount to any Pontiac or General Motors employe or executive because it hurt his business.

After the meetings and his speech before the Oxford Rotary Club on June 7, 1955, Anderson was advised that "since he seemed irrevocably committed to complete disagreement with General Motors' policy with respect to employ discounts, it would be impossible to continue a successful business relationship," Hufstader said.

Mr. Anderson's disagreement with a personnel policy of General Motors, because, in his opinion, it adversely affected his business opportunities was the basis of General Motors' dissatisfaction with Mr. Anderson.

"Mr. Anderson's general sales manager evidently does not share this same dissatisfaction, because he is now taking on the Buick and Chevrolet dealerships in Lake Orion."

Hufstader also denied Anderson's allegation before the committee that Harlow H. Curtice, president of GM, had called him a "red." Hufstader said he was present with Curtice at Anderson's hearing before the dealer relations board on Anderson's appeal, and heard everything Curtice said.

Hufstader suggested Anderson may have heard him address Mr. Curtice as "Red," which is the nickname Curtice's friends have used for him for many years.

Hufstader also said there was "no substance" to Anderson's charge he was obliged to lose money in providing warranty service on cars sold to employes under the discount plan.

He further said Anderson built his "elaborate building" strictly

New Giant Jet Crashes in Bay

4-Man Crew Believed Killed When Navy Plane Blows Up in Mid-Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — Salvagers sought to recover from Chesapeake Bay today the wreckage of a Martin SeaMaster, the Navy's giant new jet seaplane which promised much for the future.

The 600-plus m.p.h. craft exploded on a test flight yesterday about two hours after takeoff from the airport of its builder, the Glenn L. Martin Co., near Baltimore.

Three Martin employes and one Navy officer were aboard.

One unidentified body, attached to a parachute, was recovered.

Eyewitnesses reported the four-engine craft was trailing heavy black smoke a few moments before it exploded "right in the middle." One parachute was seen to open. Another blast was reported as the nose hit the water, in the area about 70 miles southeast of Washington where the Potomac River flows into Chesapeake Bay.

Pending recovery and study of the wreckage, there was no explanation as to why the plane crashed.

The SeaMaster was the first experimental model of a long-range seaplane unveiled by the Navy last January. It made its first flight July 14, and put on a brilliant performance at Baltimore last month for Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, and Adm. Earl Mountbatten, first British sea lord.

In the medium bomber category, it was designed to cruise at 40,000 feet, carry a 30,000-pound payload (which could include atomic bombs) and operate from waterways virtually anywhere in the world. The Navy said its primary missions were minelaying and photographic reconnaissance.

Another SeaMaster has been built but not yet flown.

Fenton Man, 23, Taken to Illinois for Questioning

Cook County Deputies Say Crime Knowledge Implicates Him

A Fenton man who was released after questioning about the October deaths of three Chicago boys has been rearrested, and faces further interrogation.

Owen Robert Moser, 23, waived extradition yesterday and returned to Chicago with Cook County Sheriff's Deputies, shortly after the Chicago police had dismissed him as a possible suspect in the deaths.

Cook County Lt. Patrick Clary claimed that Moser had "implicated himself" in the slayings by his knowledge of details of the crime. Among other statements, Clary said, Moser described the scene of the crime, including details not previously published.

Given a pile of "about 30" photographs of small boys, Clary added, Moser "recognized" Anton Schussler's picture. Bodies of Anton, 11, his brother, John, 13, and Robert Peterson, 14, were found in a ditch near Chicago Oct. 16.

Now held on a charge of investigation of homicide, Moser was held the past weekend on a charge of possession of an unregistered firearm.

He underwent extensive questioning by State Police and Holly police. A lie detector test was inconclusive.

Suspicion that he might have had some connection with the deaths arose when he was questioned about his habits and also stated that he had been in the area near the time of the deaths, and had given a hitchhike ride to "two or three young boys."

The Chicago police department has handled most of the investigation of the triple killing, although the bodies of the victims were found outside the city limits, in territory policed by the Cook County Sheriff's Department.

Chicago newspapers have charged the division of responsibility between city and county authorities has handicapped the investigation.

Stevenson Hits Hate-Mongering

Says That Some GOP Officials Are Resorting to 'Ugly Politics'

NEW YORK (AP) — Democrat Adlai Stevenson declared today some Republican officials apparently are resorting to political "hate mongering." He termed it a "dangerous brand of politics."

Stevenson said "there appears to be a design to play the ugly politics of group hatred," and he asked:

"Is this, indeed an attempt to stir up class conflict? No election, no office is worth such a price."

He said the highest duty of American people nowadays is to say nothing in the political arena which will hurt democracy's chances abroad.

Stevenson, defeated 1952 Democratic presidential candidate who now is making another bid for his party's nomination, spoke out in his prepared address for the AFL-CIO convention.

Detroit Christmas Buying Lags Without Newspapers

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit department store executives say this was to be their biggest Christmas season—but now they're not so sure because a week old newspaper strike has wrecked original advertising plans.

With Christmas advertising at its height, the Detroit News, Times and Free Press were struck by AFL-CIO stereotypers Dec. 1.

Mrs. Catherine Travis, a Crowley Milner & Co. vice president, said, "we're loaded with goods that people want. But we have no way to tell them about it in the newspapers."

Chess Logomarsino Jr., publicity director of the J. L. Hudson Co., Detroit's biggest store, said: "Last Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, we went ahead of last year's figures each day.

"However, we are not going ahead at the rate that we were running prior to the newspaper emergency."

Jack Tombs, merchandising manager of Grinnell Brothers, which has 34 stores in the Detroit area, says: "This year is the best I've ever seen. If it wasn't for the newspaper strike we'd go 12 to 15 per cent ahead of 1954."

Robert J. Powderly, director of publicity and advertising for the Ernst Kern Co., said: "Prior to the newspaper strike we were very optimistic. Now that this

Santa Jams Phones in Ann Arbor System

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. sold the Ann Arbor Retail Merchants Assn. on the idea of having children dial old St. Nick on a special number.

The phone company installed three lines. The merchants advertised the number.

Calls came in such tremendous quantities, the phone company said, that 1,000 of this university town's 13,000 phones were "frozen"—useless for either incoming or outgoing calls.

Four more special lines were installed direct to Santa. And the phone company appealed to the public:

"Have patience. Please call but don't let the children call five or six times in one night."

Armed With Long Christmas Lists, Smart Shoppers Out Hunting Early

By PETE LOCHBILER

Smart shoppers began the hunt for Christmas gifts early this week, on the heels of the annual Christmas parade.

Yesterday, downtown stores were filled with those seeking to avoid jams which will occur as Dec. 25 draws nearer.

Some already had their arms full of bundles. They were the ones with the long gift lists and large families who soon will be home demanding dinner. For these, shopping days are few and choices are made swiftly.

Others wanted just the right lace for auntie, a really different tie for father, and junior wants a gun that shoots fire: Now where can that be found?

A few, mostly young men with a sad, romantic look of the eye, spent hours looking for that one gift, the one that means so much. Sales personnel sighed as the heart-struck ones came in to announce: "Jewelry please, with blue stones. I want them the exact color of her eyes."

For the children, choice was simple. "I want this, and this, and this," said one, in a toyland ecstasy. Another, mounted on a hobby-horse, rode happily, Christmas shopping altogether forgotten.

And then, the meeting with Santa.

A three-year-old girl walked right up to the jolly old man and asked for her heart's desire, a fire-boat.

Of course, she added, "I want a doll." Then whispering close to Santa's ear she confided: "I'd like to have a baby brother, too."

Her parents watched with love on their faces.

Report Orion Dealer Made Big Profit

"At no time did Pontiac require anything more than adequate facilities," Hufstader declared.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A General Motors official told senators today that one GM dealer who complained to them made a million dollars in less than 15 years but now has an "inadequate performance" on car sales.

William F. Hufstader, GM vice president in charge of distribution, singled out M. H. Yager, Pontiac dealer at Albany, N. Y., in a statement prepared for the Senate Anti-trust and Monopoly subcommittee studying GM operations.

Yager, a former GM and Ford executive who quit to become a retail dealer, told Hufstader, GM president Harlow H. Curtice and a roomful of other GM executives last week that they were "becoming dictators and little Napoleons."

Yager said the recent administration of GM had "proved to be a bully of greatest magnitude." He said it used a "gun-in-the ribs approach," threatening that a dealer's "head will roll" unless he meets sales quotas.

Two other active GM dealers also voiced complaints about GM policies to the committee headed by Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo). Hufstader yesterday said car dealers who protest GM policies are those who were unprepared for the day when sales competition would get tougher, and he said the vast majority of GM's 17,000 dealers "are among the most successful small businessmen in the country."

Singling out an individual today for the first time in his testimony, Hufstader said Yager became a Pontiac dealer in Albany in February 1941 with an investment of $10,000, of which $5,000 was borrowed and $5,000 his own money.

"He started his dealership with the financial assistance of the Motors Holding Division, whose capital advance of $30,000 was paid off in February of 1954," Hufstader continued. "As of Oct. 31, 1955, Mr. Yager had made a total gain in excess of one million dollars on his initial investment of $10,000."

The GM executive said Yager outsold other Pontiac dealers "in the noncompetitive postwar years of 1946-49"—years when he says "anything with four wheels could be sold" because of pentup demand.

When normal competition for auto sales resumed in 1953, Hufstader said, Yager's sales of Pontiacs dropped and continued downward last year and the first nine months of this year.

"The sales department of Pontiac naturally and in the normal course, brought this inadequate performance to the attention of Mr. Yager," he said, adding:

"Despite this poor sales performance, Mr. Yager states that he has 'even shown a small profit during 1955.'"

Hufstader said Yager's financial statement to GM through October showed this "small gain" as $81,898 — $35,232 net profit after taxes, $16,666 salary and $30,000 in dealer's bonus.

"In securing to himself the advantages of the only Pontiac franchise in the city of Albany, the sales position of which could profitably support two Pontiac dealers, Mr. Yager has been content to receive a handsome profit, without assuming the obligation of providing Pontiac with a fair share of the new car sales in this market," Hufstader said.

Lack of Newspapers Hits Detroit Buying has happened we frankly don't know. But this lack of advertising is bound to show up. Without papers we're bound to go down from last year's Christmas sales."

Spokesmen for large department stores said shoppers miss specific advertised items. "We were rolling in Christmas shoppers by the middle of November," said one executive. "They're still coming, but they don't know what to look for."

Detroit stores which used a moderate amount of radio and television advertising during previous Christmas sesasons, doubled and tripled their advertising through these mediums.

Television stations, while noting an increase, said TV is less flexible than radio and cannot handle commercials as easily.

The Detroit Reporter, a strike-born daily published by the Detroit Newspaper Guild and the Polish Daily News are the only general newspapers publishing in Detroit and both have trouble gaining distribution adequate to cover this sprawling industrial area.

Nine Teenagers Admit Breakins

Investigation Launched Into Backgrounds After 34 Enterings

Juvenile authorities are investigating the background of nine teenagers, arrested Tuesday after confessing involvement in 34 cases of breaking and entering in the past two months.

The nine were given a preliminary hearing yesterday in Juvenile Court and released to their parents.

Referee James Van Leuven, said the youths will be arraigned when the investigation is completed, probably in two or three weeks.

Inspector Clark M. Wheaton of the Pontiac Police said that four other youths involved in the crimes will also appear before the court.

He said that the boys were members of two gangs, one of which broke into 24 schools in Pontiac, Clarkston, Sylvan Lake, Drayton Plains and Waterford Township. These boys, all of Pontiac Township, also broke into a home in Waterford Township and a drivein, he said.

The Pontiac Police Department and Detectives Donald Gravlin and Millard Pender of Waterford Township Police cooperated in apprehending this gang, after two boys were picked up by Pontiac Patrolmen James R. Lafnear and Hal B. Mercer.

The other gang, all Pontiac boys, according to Inspector Wheaton, confessed to three larcenies of automobiles and four breaking and enterings.

"The boys were not organized for crime. They are just school kids. Their parents should have known what they were doing," Inspector Wheaton said.

Jewish Winter Holiday to Begin Friday Evening

Friday night, at Temple Beth Jacob, the first evening of the eighth day festival of Chanuko in the Jewish religious calendar, will be celebrated with a special musical program.

A new choral work entitled "Chanuko of the Maccabees" by Abraham W. Binder, professor of Sacred Music at the Hebrew Union College—Jewish Institute of Religion, will be given.

The program is in oratorio form, with spoken readings in which the congregation will participate, as well as choral renditions by the choir.

Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein, who will conduct the worship service and light the first candle in the special Chanuko candelabrum, points out that the story of the Maccabees is one of contemporary significance, concerning itself with the struggle for religious liberty.

Charles Wilson, organist and musical director of the Temple describes the composition as "dramatic and brilliant."

Mrs. Rebecca Gould, Mary Louise Lindquist and Victor Lindquist will be in the Temple Choir for the occasion.

The U.S. Air Force's Bell X-1A holds the unofficial altitude record, reaching 90,000 feet (17 miles).

Seven times as many people live in New York City today as occupied all North America north of Mexico when Columbus arrived.

American Oaks Grow in England

Sherwood Forest Gets Red Trees Which Add Beauty to History

WASHINGTON — American red oaks are growing in England's Sherwood Forest fabled haunt of Robin Hood and his merry band of yeoman outlaws.

Transplanted from northeast United States, the new trees have been introduced to help preserve scenic beauty. Tracts of English oaks are being stunted by fumes from neighboring industries. American oaks, explain foresters in charge of the program, grow faster and thrive despite the unfavorable atmosphere.

Sherwood Forest, in Midlands Nottinghamshire, is still a region of woods, shady glades and rustic walks, says the National Geographic Society. But the deep forests are no more, and many of the old giants have become hollow, gnarled remnants of once magnificent trees.

Actually, the term "forest" was always somewhat misleading. Covering more than 100,000 acres, the Sherwood area in its prime included not only dense woods but much heath, pasture and waste lands.

ROBIN HOOD'S LAIR

Sherwood or Nottingham Forest as it was earlier known, was originally a royal hunting preserve protected by strict trespassing laws. Old court records tell of severe punishment meted out to those who dared touch the king's venison and vert (deer and timber).

Various Sherwood sites are still pointed out to visitors as linked with the outlaw leader or with his lieutenant, Little John, his minstrel, Allan-a-Dale, or the jolly Friar Tuck. At Edwinstowe in Nottingham, Robin Hood was reputed to have married his sweetheart, Maid Marian. A grave at Kirklees, Yorkshire, dated 1247, is said to be his last resting place.

Today the Dukeries, too, have all but passed as examples of England's once luxurious country life. Industrial suburbs press closer, while prevailing winds blow over with the smoke of collieries and factories.

In green forest land that sheltered men of the longbow, space has even been cleared for modern tank-training maneuvers.

Firms Report Hike in Commercial Paper

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Acceptance Corp., C. I. T. Financial Corp. and Commercial Credit Co. today announced a ⅛ percentage point increase in commercial paper rates for the 11th time this year.

The new rates range from 2⅝ per cent for 30-day to less than 90-day paper to 3 per cent for 270-day paper. The previous range had been 2½ to 2⅞ per cent.

Commercial Paper is the money market name for short-term unsecured notes of leading corporations.

The boost by big finance companies followed a similar advance in rates by commercial paper dealers Monday. Dealers in bankers acceptances also raised their rates by a ⅛ percentage point yesterday. The new quotation for 30 to 90-day bankers bills is 2½ per cent bid, 2⅝ per cent asked—highest level in 20 years.

All of the increases stem from continued tightening in the money market as demand for funds has exceeded supply.

Censors Back in Rio

Ike Gives Plug for Blind Couple

Sightless Rugweavers Swarmed by Reporters for Interviews

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — "Oh, my goodness gracious," Bob Johnson said.

He kept saying it, off and on, for a couple of hours as his living room, his dining room and finally his attic filled up with question-asking strangers.

The confusion started Tuesday when a pair of Bob's neighbors, name of Dwight D. and Mamie Eisenhower, dropped a broad hint to the White House press corps that Bob and his wife Betty were nice, deserving young people and wove right handsome rugs.

In fact, announced Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, to get to the Johnson place you go out the Gettysburg - York Road about 4 miles, turn right and it's the story-and-a-half brick house with the chicken-wire fence.

PRESIDENTIAL PLUG

Well, an advertising plug of this sort doesn't come along every decade. Out to the Johnson's sped carloads of reporters and photographers.

"Oh, my goodness gracious," exclaimed Bob Johnson, who wasn't expecting company.

Bob and Betty, both 32, are blind. Betty has been blind since birth. Bob lost his eyesight and most of his face in a burst of mortar at Saarbrucken three months after he landed in Europe with a machine-gun company in 1945.

They met at the Army's Valley Forge General Hospital at Phoenixville, Pa., where Betty came around playing the piano and accordion during the time Bob was sweating out most of his 53 operations.

Bob and Betty built their $12,500 house here last year. They tried chicken farming first. It was too tough for sightless people. Then they turned to rug-weaving, which Bob learned in the Hospital. That's been going better. It should go real well from here in, with the Eisenhowers as volunteer sales agents.

Kiddies Welcomed in Transvaal Hotels

PRETORIA—For the first time since the war "children welcome" signs are appearing outside many private hotels and boarding houses in South Africa. Until recently couples with children found it almost impossible to get accommodation.

Now that the postwar housing shortage has been overcome, owners are beginning to "feel the pinch" and most residential hotels have empty rooms, says A. Hausmann of the Hotel Association of the Southern Transvaal.

"Owners of residential hotels and boarding houses are quite concerned about the future of the industry," he says.

So some now advertise: "Couples with young children our specialty."

School Boy Bags Deer by Getting Out of Bed Early

POCOMOKE CITY, Md. (AP) — Billy Cottman, who leaves his farm home a couple of hours early for the school bus during deer season, celebrated his 13th birthday Tuesday by dropping his first deer.

The bus usually arrives around 8:15 a.m. Billy has been at the corner waiting for it at 6:30 a.m. the past two deer season days.

He keeps a gun with him. He can always take it back home around 7:30 or so if nothing shows up. Yesterday, a deer bounded out of the woods and Billy's vigil paid off.

Billy's father took the deer home on a tractor and Billy made it to school on time.

Traffic Violator Names His Own Jail Sentence

CHICAGO (AP)—Fred J. Estrada, 20, in Traffic Court Tuesday on a charge of drunken driving, admitted to Judge Joseph Butler he led police on a four-mile high-speed chase.

"You read the papers, don't you?" Butler asked the youth. "And do you know what they do to drunken drivers like you?"

"They get a year in the county jail," Estrada replied.

"You have just passed your own sentence," the judge said.

To Flag Down Speeders

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Sheriff's deputies have been given flags to flag down speeders. They're like the flags used at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. "If they think they're race drivers, we'll treat them as such," said Sheriff Robert O'Neal. "But I don't think they'll be winners in the magistrate courts."

An eagle's nest is used year after year during which the birds add material to it until a nest may weigh a ton or more.

Telegraph Road in Taylor Township

Are public demonstrations on Michigan State highways necessary?

Apparently so, or at least a group of mothers in the neighborhood of Telegraph and Cypress seem to think so. When a gathering of from 12 to 25 women band together and attempt to halt traffic at a specific intersection something must be wrong.

The State Highway Department has refused a light at this point. Perhaps this decision is right. At any rate it is a disgrace to the State to have such demonstrations.

Whether the State is right or the neighborhood women we are not in a position to judge. We are aware that this stretch of Telegraph Road is one of the bloodiest and most dangerous highways any place in the United States.

What is the State Highway Department doing to alleviate traffic on this Michigan death trap?

When a segment of the women in the area get to the point where they are incensed enough to lie prone on the road in order to halt truck traffic someone must be to blame.

It would occur to this newspaper, since we admit as a State to having an inadequate highway system, that the least we could do would be to provide all possible highway safety measures.

Strategy Change in Democratic Candidate

Is Adlai "old" or "new"?

Normally one would figure that a man had to be his old self for some little time before his cronies tabbed him "new." However, it seems that in our jet and atomic age life moves fast.

Current stories report on our 1952 Democratic presidential nominee who only three short years ago zoomed to national prominence as the "new Adlai."

Reports indicate that the "old Adlai" was a little staid, much too aloof for the down to earth citizen. But evidences of backslapping and handshaking indicate a change in tactics has been made.

Recent stories have pointed out that Stevenson at a Democratic function in Chicago turned on all his political charm and was noted table hopping. It seems that at one table he was so overly enthused that he sat down for dinner, completely forgetting a previous dinner engagement.

Seems that Stevenson's problem is now whether to satisfy his old followers with the "old" Adlai or go out, for new supporters with the "new" Adlai.

Straits Span Unshaken by Storm of Gale Force

The partly completed Straits of Mackinac Bridge has had its first big test by storm and has come through with flying colors.

In a report on the storm of November 15, D. B. Steinman, consulting engineer, said the bridge structure suffered absolutely no damage. The wind began to increase around noon. By 4 o'clock it was blowing from the southwest at 60 to 65 miles an hour with gusts up to 70.

Weather measuring instruments at the bridge site blew down at 8 p.m. By 9 p.m., according to records of the U. S. Coast Guard, gusts repeatedly reached 76 miles per hour.

Fortunately, most of the building equipment had been removed to safe harbor. However, one tower erection derrick broke loose and grounded and two welding machines and one pump were washed off Pier 22. Three of the six survey towers anchored in deep water were damaged.

But the 34 piers, including the main piers, and the two steel towers standing on the main piers and completed to a height of 552 feet above water, stood firm.

Mr. Steinman pointed out the bridge is designed to withstand much stronger winds than 78 miles per hour—the highest wind velocity ever recorded in that vicinity. In fact, he said the bridge "can withstand any gale or hurricane that can conceivably occur."

On the basis of this report it looks as though the people of Michigan won't have to waste any time worrying about the strength of this nearly five mile long bridge.

Many a lie is so transparent it highlights the truth the liar is trying to conceal.

The Man About Town

Largest Village

May Become City; Its People Seek Expansion

Hollywood: Where they keep the bouquets and throw away the grooms.

Some of the residents of Rochester, largest village in Oakland County, and fourth largest in the entire state, seek to incorporate it as a city. After a study of a couple of years, 154 of its people, the

Rochester Progress Committee,

have filed the required papers, and the next move is up to the Board of Supervisors. Site of the first white settlement in Oakland County, Rochester always has been prominent in its development. It was there, at the confluence of the Clinton River and Paint Creek, that built a cabin in 1817, one year before the first white men located on the present site of Pontiac.

Incorporated as a village in 1859, Rochester now has a population of around 5,000 within its present limits, and the proposed expansion in area would greatly increase that number. If the plan goes through, it will give Oakland County 19 cities, the most of any of Michigan's 83 counties, and reduce our villages from 12 to 11.

A deer has become so domesticated around the barnyard of

Miss Blanche Avery,

now of Ann Arbor, for a clipping of many years ago that tells of being Pontiac's notable ice skater. It calls him a "wonder and delight." Now we're wondering if he still is with us—or any of his descendants. He did his feats in the long ago, as the clipping speaks of "Timber Lake," which in the early days was the name of one section of Sylvan Lake.

Among the other things we've recently learned about

of 14 McNeil St., Oakland County's oldest man, is that he lived for several years on the Dryden farm now owned by

Mr. and Mrs. Ransford Percival

in Keego Harbor escaped from its cage and was given a bad mauling by their cat, who was punished for its actions. The next day the bird escaped again, and the cat ran downstairs and hid in the cellar.

For Better - - - or Worse

David Lawrence Says:

Modern Nations Can Launch Atom Attack Without Giving Evidence of Mobilization

WASHINGTON—The most realistic picture of what the United States and the Soviet Union are up against in the event of a nuclear war has just been given by General Curtis E. LeMay, chief of the U.S. Strategic Air Command—the foremost authority in the world on strategic bombing.

Declaring that the United States must, if possible, avoid "the first blow," General LeMay in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report declares that "it is entirely possible that the decisive phase of the war will be over in a very short period of time," and that "one side or the other, in addition to having received a great deal of destruction, will have lost its means of defending itself against further destruction and its means of launching destruction against the enemy." He adds:

"The decision will have been won. The fighting may not stop immediately but the decision will have been reached, and it is just a matter of time to exploit what has already been done and bring the war to a close."

Here are some of the significant extracts from the interview with General LeMay:

"Q. Up to now, most people have thought that the first blow would come and then we would fight back just as we did after Pearl Harbor . . .

"A. Well, I think we must avoid the first blow if at all possible. If that's not possible, then we should buy enough insurance to guarantee that we will survive the first blow—but prevent it from happening if possible . . .

"Q. Is the problem that faces the country today: how can it avoid the first blow?

"A. It is a pressing one, certainly.

"Q. If a Democracy like ours cannot, as we know, engage in a preventive war, then what is the important factor — knowledge of preparations being made by the enemy?

"A. Well, of course, that helps. I think the important factor is the deterrent force that we have built up to prevent a surprise attack. I can't believe that anyone is going to launch a surprise attack unless he thinks he has a pretty good chance of success.

"Q. Then we can't depend alone on mere retaliation?

"A. I don't think so—not on retaliation in the sense that we are bombed with a really heavy attack first and then we launch an attack.

"Q. The only retaliation that would be effective would be if the first attack upon us was not decisive and we were left with enough force to make a considerable retaliation, wouldn't it?

"A. We must take such actions as are necessary to make sure that our strategic nuclear air force cannot be destroyed on the ground by a surprise attack.

"Q. In the old days, whenever the enemy engaged in a military mobilization, it was so obvious to the other side in advance that they began their attack the moment the mobilization began. Is there a comparable circumstance possible with modern aerial combat?

"A. I don't think so, no. I don't look for any great mobilization in a future war. I think it is entirely possible for the decision to be rendered before you can mobilize anything in the way of manpower or equipment.

"Q. In some of the recent proposals that were publicly discussed in Europe there was talk that concentration of weapons or concentration of planes, particularly at assembly points, would be in itself a kind of threat or mobilization for the purposes of carrying out a threat—

"A. Well, you can carry out a really massive attack without concentrating or mobilizing—that's one of the characteristics of air power. You can have it very widely dispersed and it concentrates after it is in the air on the objectives that you have in mind."

Here, therefore, is the military answer to the Molotov proposal for handling disarmament by inspecting concentration points. General LeMay went further when asked whether a disarmament agreement banning nuclear weapons might lead to the abolition of war. He replied:

"Every thinking person believes that war is foolish. I do not think the problem of war will be solved readily by abolishing just one type of weapon. If it is to be solved through disarmament, all weapons would seemingly have to be abolished."

This very week the U.S. Air Force is engaged with the Canadian Air Forces in a test alert. Planes of the Strategic Air Command are in the air, according to General LeMay, all the time and alerts are being practiced constantly in anticipation of possible attack.

X-Rays Worth the Price When Doctor Knows Patient

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

When I say I believe X-ray pictures nine times out of ten are useless, I mean to imply that X-ray examination is worth the price only when a doctor who knows the patient's medical history and present complaint advises it.

From the eagerness of Y. W.'s (customers who consult a phony "clinic") for whatever X-ray "study" the racketeer can sell 'em, it seems evident that many persons with more money than brains imagine X-rays reveal the nature or cause of a complaint which baffles ordinary doctors.

One derives as much or more benefit from an examination by the doctor or doctor back home at half the cost of a week at the big "clinic."

Four or five years ago I began to have frequent nagging northeastern bellyaches, nothing to cry about, but just enough to make me worry.

I tell you it's a serious matter when you have to ask another bowler to take your place so you can sit down and indulge in some intensive worrying.

After a few weeks of this Micky, Lalla Rookh and the Young Snip made an appointment with a doctor whose capability commands my respect and confidence.

After a careful general examination including whatever blood chemistry measurements the doctor thought worth while, he said frankly he hadn't the ghost . . . but in my place he'd have a G I series (observing an opaque meal sliding down the chute, meandering through the maw etc.) just on the off chance—chance of what, the doctor didn't say.

DOCTOR CONCLUDES

From a study of the film the doctor came to the conclusion that two or three small trial-size diverticula (pouches or pockets) at various points along the alimentary canal might account for the bellyaches—food lodging in a pocket and setting up inflammation there.

Of course that was conjectural, for most persons have a diverticulum or two and never any trouble from it. Anyway, I didn't worry any more, and I quit bellyaching too.

I recalled a likely explanation that should have occurred to my mind in the first place.

I believe now that my bellyache was rediculitis (inflammation of roots of spinal nerves) or intercostal neuralgia (pain in spinal nerves which lie between the ribs and supply sensation to the skin over chest and belly).

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Empty Stadium Puzzles 'Season Ticket Holder'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Another football season has just ended, and I am wondering what has happened to the loyal fans of the past few years. Pontiac High has had five home games this year, and the stands were comparatively empty at each game.

When the Wisner Memorial Stadium was built, the enthusiasm for the team was tremendous. So what has happened? Have the former fans found some other form of entertainment on Friday nights, or have they become disinterested because we cannot come up with a winning team occasionally?

If any of you readers have an answer to this, let's hear it and maybe we can again fill the stadium.

A Season Ticket Holder

'Consider Safety Feature in Buying Children Toys'

This is just a letter to advise parents to select toys for their children with safety in mind. All good scout leaders and teachers stress safety with their scouts, and pupils and parents of small children at home should do the same.

It seems we have quite a few tragic accidents in Oakland County in which children are involved. Perhaps some adults don't realize just how absorbent or observant a small child's mind can be.

Some of these accidents might have been avoided with a little forethought on the part of parents or adults in charge of the children. It is a wise parent who teaches a small child that a telephone is not a plaything and how to use it in case of an emergency. When they are away from home they leave a phone number so they can be contacted readily.

When TV first became popular in this area, people wrote letters criticizing beer commercials, etc. Perhaps they aren't as harmful to children as seeing adults shooting at each other on TV programs.

More safety programs on TV might help a lot because actions speak louder than words and if your tiny tots want any kind of toy weapons for Christmas, teach them to handle them safely as though they were meant for adults.

Tito's Living Room Tells Lot About His Character

By STAN SWINTON
(For Hal Boyle)

BRIONI, Yugoslavia (AP)— You can find out a lot about a man if you poke around his living room for a while—even a dictator.

For instance, Marshal Josef Broz Tito, President of independently Communist Yugoslavia, likes boats—be they models or real speedboats. His taste in antique statuary is excellent and his taste in painting embarrassing.

You reach the Tito mansion by walking up a winding drive, past fountains lighted with changing colors at night and wooded groves where white-tailed deer hide.

Just short of the house, you see the sleek convertible Tito loves to drive. Too, you pass carriages drawn by magnificent grey horses. And then you are looked over by security guards and into the house you go.

The living room is the reverse of cozy. The big room is floored in black marble. At the far end is a piano, prettily painted gold and ivory. Five model ships are spotted around the room: an old galleon, a big model of the coastal vessel Vladimir Nazor in drydock, and three sailboats.

Inside a glass case are dozens of beautiful Roman statuettes, all magnificently preserved and executed with a grace which hints they likely were the work of Greek slaves. Tito proudly reported all were excavated on Brioni.

Oddly out of place in the room is a Spanish cavalier in delicately painted porcelain—but not nearly as out of place as a large statue of a nude girl with her hand covering her face. This stands outside on the veranda.

The veranda stretches the length of the house. From it you can look down through the oak trees to a snug artificial harbor in which Tito keeps his speedboats, which he pilots himself. A winding cement staircase littered with acorns leads up to the house.

Often Tito climbs into a speedboat with his handsome brunette wife and roars out to Vanga, a smaller island. There he likes to exercise a hobby shared with President Eisenhower—cooking. Tito is an ardent amateur chef.

The home of the boss of Yugoslavia is that of a man of action, except for the oddly out of place piano and Spanish cavalier. But most out of place of all is the one big oil painting which stands in his living room.

The frame is battered, the painting torn in several places. It shows plump women holding down a cow, while cherubs wing about, and as a work of art it is very inferior.

The dynamic Tito spent most of his life as a revolutionary, often in hiding. I feit that he must have picked up a conviction somewhere along the line that a living room should have a big painting and he didn't care very much what his looked like.

There wasn't a book or magazine in the room.

Yes, it's mighty interesting to spend an hour in a man's living room. You can learn a lot about him, including a man who rules a nation.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Outbluff Your Child When He Refuses to Eat; Just Ignore His Grandstanding

Rita is an eating problem to her worried parents. She outbluffs them because they haven't the perspective necessary to call her bluff. Never make a theatrical performance out of meal time. And don't become a table slave to your children so you must feed them by spoon. Play the game of parenthood according to the rules, as outlined in the "Tests for Parents" mentioned below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-316: Rita L., aged 3, is a feeding problem.

"Dr. Crane, she doesn't eat at the table, except under great coaxing," her worried mother protested.

"Sometimes I have ignored her failure to eat, so she will not take a bite.

"I'd let her go away from the table hungry, but she is so thin and delicate, anyway, that I am afraid to do so.

"Our family physician says she is O. K. physically, and that we should ignore her at the table, but is that correct?"

TABLE PRIMA DONNAS

Yes, the physician has given excellent advice, for children soon try to coerce their parents into making a theatrical event out of meal time.

And the typical parent of an "only" child feels just like Rita's mother. That is especially true if the youngster looks frail.

"Give her the benefit of the doubt," is the usual parental attitude. "Even if she might be tricking me, I better not take the chance and harm her by inattention."

So the antidote for these feeding problems at the table, is threefold.

First, outbluff your child instead of letting her outbluff you. And don't permit your heart strings to be plucked unduly because the youngster may refuse to taste a bite.

A toddler may go on a hunger strike for several meals in trying to force you back into slavery to her prima donna whims.

But those missed meals will not seriously jeopardize her health, so do not be out-bluffed. Stick to your guns!

TABLE STRATEGY

Place the proper foods on her plate. Then let Mother and Daddy go along with their conversation, but don't make a fuss about her refusal to eat.

When Mother and Daddy are through with the dessert course, take the youngster away from the table.

Don't let her sit there an extra half hour in the hope she will surrender and finally start eating.

Ignore her fasting. But see that she has plenty of outdoor play and exercise to whet her appetite.

At the next meal, proceed as before. Usually at the second or third meal, she'll knuckle under and start eating.

But you parents must see that she breaks before you do, or it will be that much harder to outbluff her the next time!

IMITATIVE EATING

It is often helpful to have other children present for a meal, since youngsters are imitative. If one starts dining with gusto, the others may follow suit.

And some competition often enters in. Indeed, many pet dogs who will not eat alone, will devour their food when it looks as if another dog will get it. They eat to keep a competitor away from their victuals.

It is thus good strategy to have your children in pairs, spaced about 18 to 24 months apart, so they will thus socialize each other and also split the family spotlight.

If Rita had a baby brother or sister, aged 15 months, she would not be such a little grandstander, for she'd have learned ere now to divide parental attention with her younger sibling.

Being successful parents is a complicated task, so send for the 200-point "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit.)

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

New Heart Drug Said to Combat Biggest Killer

NEW ORLEANS (INS)—A new drug has enabled heart failure patients to return to their jobs and to a relatively normal daily routine, two doctors reported at the recent meeting of the American Heart Association in New Orleans.

The long-range study on the effectiveness and safety of neophydrin, a new, easy-to-take pill, was presented by Drs. William Leff and Harvey E. Nussbaum of Newark, N.J.

The new drug, one of a series of recently developed synthetic compounds known as organomercurials, has controlled for three years in their patients the otherwise crippling and fatal effects of one of the nation's leading killers.

India Second in Sugar

NEW DELHI — India's steadily expanding sugar industry is now second only to Cuba's. The expansion began in 1932 when the government granted the industry aid. Then there were 31 factories, employing 33,900 persons; now there are 170 plants and 92,000 employes.

Soviet Jet Plane Output on Climb

Jane's Report Asserts Russians Build Bomber Striking Force

LONDON (AP)—A world authority on aircraft said today that Russia's progress in jet planes soon will give the Soviets a "formidable bomber striking force."

It said the Soviets are turning out planes at 360 factories scattered from the Polish border to the Far East.

The new edition of "Jane's All the World's Aircraft" cited the latest known types of Soviet jet bombers displayed in formation strength over Moscow last July. These include the Type 37 four-jet heavy bomber believed capable of carrying an atom bomb and the Type 39 medium twin-jet bomber.

NOT CAPACITY

Jane's emphasized that the Russians are turning these planes out at what is probably not the eventual full capacity production rate. It added America's aircraft industry "has probably reached its greatest production peak in peacetime."

The publication gave this appraisal of output:

"The capacity for production on the large scale of medium and heavy jet bombers may not yet be so great as for fighters . . . (but) the Type 39 has been shown off publicly in a formation of 54, and though the production figures have probably reached nothing like those for the (American) Boeing B47, it is felt in the West that Russia will very shortly possess a formidable bomber striking force."

GAINING LEAD

Type 37 is the nearest Russian equivalent to the U.S. Air Force's eight-jet intercontinental bomber designed to carry the H-bomb, the B52. However, air experts have pointed out that the Soviets have come up with unusually powerful jet engines. Four of them in the Type 37 apparently do almost the same job that eight engines do for the B52.

The United States is believed to have held for a long time the production lead in medium jet bombers with the six-jet B47. This is the plane with which the Russian Type 39, with only two jets, would have to compete.

Jane's said the Russians also have a new single-jet, single-seat fighter plane, apparently an improved MIG17; a large swept-wing bomber powered by four turboprop engines; a twin-jet night or all-weather fighter and a small rocket-propelled interceptor.

Weekend Shoppers Given Attractive Buys in Meats

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Shoppers will find attractive buys in beef, pork and chickens in the nation's food stores this weekend.

Chuck roast will be the most popular beef item on the list of specials, but some markets also will feature round roast. In a few areas, steaks and prime ribs will be higher than a week ago.

Pork remains the outstanding meat buy and you'll find loins and chops widely featured. One large chain is cutting pork chop prices by four to six cents a pound and more from a week ago.

Also in the pork line there'll be specials in scattered cities on smoked picnics, smoked hams, fresh pork shoulder and sliced bacon.

Frying chickens will be a popular weekend feature, with some stores trimming prices by four cents a pound.

Legs of lamb will cost about the same as a week ago. There will be a few specials on lamb chops.

Food markets seldom feature veal, but this weekend will find sale prices here and there on rumps of veal, legs of veal and veal chops.

Egg prices will be down in most places this weekend. Stores are planning reductions of two cents or more a dozen. Butter prices will be about the same as a week ago.

SWEET POTATOES OFFERED

The U. S. Department of Agriculture picks sweet potatoes as a feature for this week. Production is 19 per cent larger than last year, so there are generous supplies for holiday and everyday meals.

From the produce markets comes word that potatoes, onions, turnips, radishes and greens are the outstanding buys in vegetables this week. On the list of good buys are spinach, old and new crop cabbage, beans, peppers, escarole, endive, romaine and iceberg lettuce, sweet potatoes and Western pascal celery.

Bunched carrots are high while topped carrots are considered moderately priced. Also labeled moderately priced are cucumbers, parsley, broccoli and squash. Corn supplies are small.

Crisp apples are abundant and reasonably priced and shoppers will find good value in avocadoes and grapes — particularly the Emperor grape. Citrus buys include oranges, grapefruit, tangerines and limes.

Cranberries are selling for about the same as last week. On the other hand, strawberries and raspberries are much higher.

River Rescue—Success

DETROIT (AP) — Two bystanders plunged fully clothed into the icy Rouge River Wednesday to rescue a motorist after his car rolled down a 140-foot embankment into the river. John L. Lawson, 43, was dragged unconscious from the car and taken to Wayne County General Hospital. His rescuers were Fred Jennings and John Mumenay, both of Garden City.

Killed by Own Auto

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — When Mrs. Phyllis A. Loughlin's auto collided with another, she was thrown to the street. Her car spun around and ran over her. Police said she was killed by her own car. Joseph Dorfman, driver of the other car, was hospitalized with head injuries.

While the bald eagle prefers fish as food, the golden eagle's staple diet consists of rodents.

Baby Chokes to Death

ANCHORVILLE (AP)—A 6-month-old boy choked to death Wednesday when a morsel of food lodged in his windpipe while he was being fed by his father, Coroner Arthur Smith of St. Clair County reported. New Baltimore firemen tried unsuccessfully to revive the child. Russell LaValley. His father, David, is stationed at Selfridge Air Force Base near Mt. Clemens.

Australia's Minister Sure of Voters' Help

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies is confident Saturday's national election will increase his backing in Parliament.

Menzies leads the Liberal party, which has run the country since 1949 in coalition with the Country party. This coalition won elections in 1949, 1951 and 1954 over the Labor party headed by Herbert V. Evatt. Labor ruled the country from 1941 to 1949.

The coalition now has a 64-57 majority over labor in the house and a 31-29 majority in the Senate. All house seats and half the Senate seats are at stake this year. Eighteen government senators and 12 labor senators are up for election.

New Earl Attlee Keeping Part of Title Secret

LONDON (AP)—Clement R. Attlee, who has retired as head of the British Labor party and accepted an earldom, will style himself "Earl Attlee of ——."

That word came from his wife, Violet, who becomes a countess. She told reporters the blank part of the title is a secret.

"It will be the name of a place closely associated with him, but not Great Missenden," Mrs. Attlee said. Great Missenden is the village west of London where the Attlees live.

Attlee, 72, retired as party leader yesterday. His earldom was announced early today by Buckingham Palace. It is the traditional reward for a former prime minister when he leaves the House of Commons.

State Prison Population Reaches High for Year

LANSING (AP) — The population of Michigan prisons reached a new high for the year this week, the State Corrections Department said today.

Gus Harrison, director, said the number of inmates climbed to 9,583. The record high was 9,656 in August 1954.

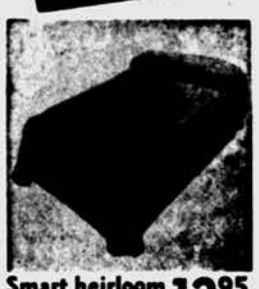

Harrison said prison population has been climbing steadily for the last two months. The increase, he said, is a seasonal one, caused partly by the resumption of court sessions in the fall.

Eleanor, Winnie Get Ben Franklin Medal

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt today were named recipients of the Franklin Medal, marking the 250th anniversary of Benjamin Franklin's birth.

The medals, designed by Sir Jacob Epstein, were authorized by Philadelphia City Council to be awarded to the man and woman who have done the most to promote world understanding. Churchill and Mrs. Roosevelt were chosen by a board consisting of Mayor Joseph S. Clark, Council President H. J. Tate and Common Pleas Judge Curtis Bok.

Briton Suggesting U.N. Bury Bombs on Mt. Everest

LONDON (AP)—A British peer has come up with this plan to prevent the surprise use of atomic bombs:

The United Nations should take over the world's supply and bury them halfway up Mt. Everest, plan. He suggested a limit of 300 to 500 bombs.

"In the event of aggression and power," he explained, "the Security Council would consider taking out one of the atomic bombs. If there was mobilization by a great power, the Security Council would take immediate action to use all the bombs."

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Circuit Court Commissioner Donald C. Ford Comments on Fund Actions

'As Citizen I Have Been Dubious' on Judgment of the Directors

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Ford II today made public a letter in which he said he feels that some actions of the Fund for the Republic "have been dubious in character and inevitably have led to charges of poor judgment."

Ford said he questioned fund activities "as a private citizen" and added, "what effect my comments may have remains to be seen."

Ford, president of the Ford Motor Co., also is chairman of the trustees of the Ford Foundation, sponsor of the Fund. Operations of the fund have been criticized in some circles as left-wing.

A Ford spokesman said the letter was written two days ago to "a private citizen" whose identity was not revealed. He said the correspondent had written to Ford complaining of activities of the Fund.

FORD'S ANSWER

Ford wrote that "neither I nor any of the other trustees of the Foundation has a voice in the fund's activities or projects."

"We have had no control over the selection of personnel for the Fund's staff. As trustees of the Foundation, we appointed the original board of the Fund, consisting of 16 well-known and patriotic people, in 1951.

"These directors were given the authority to select other directors and their successors without reference to us. They have exercised this authority in seven instances and have carried out their program on their own responsibility."

Then Ford added:

"Despite the fact that I have no legal right to intervene in the affairs of the Fund for the Republic, I have exercised my right as a private citizen to question the manner in which the Fund has attempted to achieve its stated objectives. Some of its actions, I feel, have been dubious in character and inevitably have led to charges of poor judgment.

* * *

"What effect my comments may have remains to be seen. I am satisfied, however, that no public trust can expect to fulfill its responsibilities if it does not respond to intelligent and constructive public criticism."

Army Now Offers 2 Year Enlistment

A new alternative to the draft was opened to eligible youths today when Army recruiters announced that two-year enlistments now are being accepted.

Volunteers may enlist directly into the service branch of their choice, Pontiac recruiter Sgt. Thomas L. Murphy said. After two years of service, they will be allowed to join the active reserves for four years, which will terminate their obligation.

Previously, three years was the minimum period for which men could volunteer and get a choice of branch.

Give Bond Contract to Boston Company

A two-year contract which will cover all employes of the Post Office Department with a single-package surety bond has been awarded to a Boston, Mass., insurance company, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield said yesterday.

The pact was signed with the Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. after its bid was declared the lowest of 26 received.

The move will relieve approximately 500,000 postal employes of bonding costs formerly paid out of their own pockets. The fees have ranged from less than a dollar a year to more than $100 for postmasters in large cities.

Girdle Squeezes Cabbies Into Hunt for Dance Wear

OKLAHOMA City (AP)—Oklahoma City taxicab drivers in the downtown area were in a tight squeeze yesterday when an irate housewife demanded they find and return her girdle.

The housewife said her husband went to a downtown shoe shop to have the zipper on the girdle mended.

"My husband says he remembers leaving it in a taxi."

All the cabs in the downtown area were checked but no girdle. "If I don't get that girdle back, I'm going to sue somebody," the woman threatened cab officials. She said she needed it to go dancing.

Williams Addresses AFL-CIO Session

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan made a surprise visit at the AFL-CIO convention here yesterday and congratulated delegates on achieving unity.

Williams, who has been mentioned as a possibility for the Democratic presidential nomination, said the merger represented a great responsibility and a great opportunity. He added:

"I know that you are going to meet this challenge not only to the benefit of your own members but to all the people of the United States."

Another potential contender for the nomination, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, was a speaker yesterday. Adlai Stevenson, an announced candidate, was to address the convention today.

New Traffic Safety Drive Makes Disappointing Start

LANSING (AP)—The State Safety Commission prodded and poked yesterday in an attempt to accelerate a safe driving campaign which it hopes will reduce Michigan traffic fatilities by 200 lives in the next 13 months.

Gov. Williams, who ordered the campaign to start Dec. 1, told the commission "our start has been anything but auspicious. Halfway measures will not work. We need strict enforcement to convince the people that we mean what we have been talking about."

The State Police reported that in the first five days of December 30 persons were killed in 28 accidents. This compares with 42 killed in 21 accidents for the same period last year.

The police said that in the first 10 months of 1955 deaths on rural roads were up 15 per cent, while urban deaths dropped seven per cent.

The 10-month survey indicated the police said that the "most significant" increase resulted from collisions with fixed objects and cars running off the road.

Both of these types of accidents, the State Police said, are "most commonly associated with excessive speed."

The commission agreed to seek contributions of $8,000 from automotive, safety and industrial groups to finance a mass educational campaign leading up to the Feb. 3 start of Michigan's new speed limit. The limit will be 65 miles an hour in the daytime and 55 at night.

The commission reported that the Ford Motor Co. has agreed to make and sponsor five short television films to be distributed as public service subjects to hammer home the safety theme.

Other educational projects contemplated to "sell" speed limit obedience include 10,000 posters, 100,000 leaflets, a million speedometer stickers to be distributed through filling stations, newspaper series, television slides, motion picture trailers, outdoor billboard advertisements, talks before civic groups and signed newspaper articles.

The State Police agreed to sponsor a series of regional meetings throughout the state in January for local officials and safety leaders.

Checker-Playing Canine Just a Sausage Eater

MANITOWOC, Wis. (AP) — Dog trainer Kurt Mueller used to brag that one of his animals was a checker player and backed it up by opening a door to his study to show the dog and Mueller's son huddled around a checker board. The dog made his moves by moving the pieces with his nose. Then Mueller closed the door.

A writer showed up to do a feature story and Mueller was trapped into explaining that the dog's checkers were actually slices of smoked sausage located by smell and then eaten as soon as the closed door hit the visitors.

He Gets Everything

OMAHA (AP)—A gunman who held up two drug store clerks last night while a dozen shoppers wandered about the store didn't overlook a thing. Clerk Craig Swanson handed the bandit a bunch of bills from the cash register. The bandit took a swift look as he turned to leave, saw a $1 bill and three rolls of pennies remaining in the till. He asked for them.

Latins Criticize Crop Dumping

Batlle Berres Claims Benson Plan Subverts Local Agriculture

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sharp Latin American criticism has been leveled at a program under which the U.S. hopes to sell one and a half billion dollars worth of farm surpluses.

Without mentioning this country by name, visiting Uruguayan President Luis Batlle Berres said the flooding of Latin American markets with agricultural products, sold on a long-term basis for local currencies, "is having very ill effects."

Batlle Berres told a special meeting of the council of the organization of American states: "This is certainly neither an orderly nor a peaceful course of action."

More than a year ago, Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson made a tour of 10 Caribbean and South and Central American countries in an attempt to explain how the American program then being developed would operate.

ORIGINAL PLAN

On his return, Benson said he had been able to reassure the various Latin American governments that the U.S. had no intention of undercutting their markets for farm products.

As originally approved by Congress, about 700 million dollars worth of farm surpluses could be disposed of over a three-year period under bi-lateral agreements with various countries. Some of these could be paid for with foreign countries and others could be bartered for strategic materials.

Batlle Berres, however, was chiefly concerned about an agreement made between the U.S. and Brazil since the current fiscal year began July 1.

This calls for delivery of about 30 million dollars worth of American wheat to Brazil, plus another $1,100,000 worth of wheat flour and $3,100,000 worth of feed grains; $1,790,000 worth of lard and $250,000 worth of tobacco.

Hope Sings Messiah

HOLLAND (AP)—The Hope College Music Department has scheduled Dec. 13 for its 26th annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah," with a chorus of nearly 200 voices and a special 35-piece symphony orchestra. The performance has been an annual campus event since 1929.

Snowfall Still Blanketing Minnesota Border City

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn. (AP) — This Canadian border city has gone through 40 straight days of snow and there are no signs of surcease. Today, on the 41st day, it was still snowing.

The city has had some new snow every day since Oct. 28, recording 35.1 inches so far this season. There is now a foot of snow on the ground.

Chandelier Kills Woman

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—A 50-pound wrought iron chandelier broke loose from the ceiling of a restaurant banquet room last night and killed a 74-year-old woman diner. The victim was Mrs. Christine B. Atwater, widow of the late H. Kent Atwater, former mayor of Burlingame.

Some $450,000 of American equipment has been ordered for Kai Tak Airport, which Hong Kong is planning to improve.

Worker to Keep Third of $60,000 He Found in Jug

CORSICANA, Tex. (AP)—An agreement to let a plumber's helper keep a third of the $60,000 he found in a vacuum jug buried in the basement of a Dallas home was reached yesterday.

Under it Jackson Davis, 24, Corsicana Negro, would receive $5,000 in addition to the $15,000 he spent before his find became known. The out-of court settlement was announced by his attorney Matt Johnson.

Davis uncovered the money while digging in the home of a Dallas cotton man, William D. Feder Jr. Dallas officers became suspicious of Davis' spending, arrested him and took the money, which they deposited in a bank.

Davis was released and sued Felder, Sheriff Bill Decker of Dallas and two of his deputies.

Felder said he didn't know the money was buried in his home but assumed his late father buried it during the depression when banks were failing.

Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson of Dallas said the money would not be released by his court until some disposition is made of the claim of Mrs. Elsie Haynes of Dallas who contends it was her husband's.

Jet Unit Ready for Willow Run

Fighter-Bomber Planes of Air Force Reserves to Use Field, Hangars

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force states that a jet fighter-bomber reserve unit soon will move into Willow Run Airport near Detroit.

The University of Michigan is being notified that the reserve unit will occupy buildings that stand on a 24-acre tract retained by the Air Force when the 3,000-acre airport was transferred to the University in 1947.

Willow Run, where Ford Motor Co. built B24 bombers in World War II now is the major commercial airport serving Detroit.

The Federal Air Coordinating Committee's airport use panel has recommended that the commercial airlines move to Detroit-Wayne Major Airport and that military aircraft use Willow Run.

Albert Eastman, aide to Rep. Meader (R-Mich.) told a reporter that the Air Force's latest action "looks like the first step toward carrying out the panel's recommendation."

TOKEN FORCE

The 24-acre tract is commonly known as the Packard property. The Packard Motor Car Co. was in charge of a research project there under contract from the Air Force. Later, another firm did similar work there for the Air Force.

An Air Force spokesman said a "token force" will move into Willow Run "very shortly."

"It will be a housekeeping force to get the buildings in shape," he added.

Eastman said he understands the Air Force now will seek to negotiate with the University for an agreement providing for joint use of the airport runways.

Canned Foods Good After Atomic Tests

CLEVELAND (INS) — Canned foods exposed to the atomic tests in Navada last spring have been reported uharmed by the president of the National Canners Assn.

In a report to the group's annual convention in Cleveland, president George B. Morrill Jr. said that tin and glass-packed foods were generally undamaged, even less than three-fourth of a mile from the blast.

He said that scientists also have found that canned foods exposed to nuclear explosion are still just as rich in nutrients, six months later, as before the blast.

'That Law Needs Some Changes' —McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.) says that the requirement of non-Communist oaths from leaders of the merged AFL-CIO "emphasized the second class citizenship" of these leaders.

McNamara, in a statement, said yesterday:

"The 29 elected representatives of 16 million trade union members who with their families represent more than 60 million American citizens were forced by the Taft-Hartley Act to sign sworn statements that they are not the agents of Communist Russia.

"It seems to me that this is a strange reflection on the liberty of a people which is so proud of its Constitution and the Bill of Rights . . .

"No ordinary first class citizen has to swear that he is not an agent of a possible enemy country. Why should these responsible national leaders of the organized workig people of this country have to so degrade themselves? It certainly is time for a change in the law."

Leave Expansion Joint

When covering over an old wood floor with plywood or hardboard prior to laying linoleum or a similar type of flooring, leave an expansion of about ⅛ inch between the plywood or hardboard and the walls of the room. This will prevent the underlayment buckling should it expand from moisture.

Fire Damages Plant

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Fire caused damages estimated at $15,000 Tuesday night at the three-story plant of the Alexander Dodds Co., with most of the damage confined to the building itself. Chief Frank H. Burns said the plant's ground floor housed equipment for producing woodworking machinery.

In Pennsylvania on Dec. 23, 1936 Judge M. A. Musmanno of the Allegheny County Criminal Court ruled doubters of Santa Claus in contempt of court.

Rescued From Ditch

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Kenneth Robinson, 35, of rural Scottville escaped injuries Tuesday as fellow workmen on a construction job rescued him from a ditch in which he was trapped by a dirt fall. Robinson is superintendent on a job at the Mount Pleasant Home and Training School.

MAKING MONEY

Through the years, peoples of many lands have used all sorts of things to represent money in making trades.

The American Indian often traded with arrowheads. Salt was another trading medium. Some folks accepted metal objects in trade. Small pieces of metal wtih special markings were called coins.

Today coins are issued by governments. A coin is first designed by an artist, then modeled in clay or wax. From the mold, steel dies are made by skilled engravers. From these dies coins are stamped by machines.

The picture shows an engraver working on a coin. Paste the drawing on thin cardboard and color with crayons for your scrapbook.

Around the edge are: (1) Roman coin with the double-headed Janus. (2) stone axe head used by early man. (3) Aegina, an early silver coin. (4) Babylonian clay tablet. (5) Copper ring money from the African Gold Coast. (6) Silver coin from Athens. (7) Chinese copper and bronze coin. (8) Chinese copper fish coin. (9) Silver coin from Rhodes. (10) Norwegian iron money. (11) Bear tusk money from New Guinea. (12) Bone nose ornament also from New Guinea. (13) Beads used by Indians. (14) Spanish 17th century coin. (15) Dragon money of ancient China. (16) Indian Arrow head.

Britishers Claim 250 Foot Island

Great Ceremony Marks Dedication of Tiny Site 280 Miles Off Ireland

WASHINGTON—Rockall, a North Atlantic island about as big as a baseball diamond, finally has found an owner.

With traditional ceremony, Great Britain has claimed the lonely stone speck 280 miles northwest of Ireland, reports the National Geographic Society. A landing party from the survey ship H.M.S. Vidal went ashore, planted a flagstaff, unfurled the Union Jack, and left behind a plaque commemorating the annexation.

Long roamed only by winds and sea birds, this newest possession of the British Crown stands only 70 feet high and little more than that in diameter. Its total shoreline measures only 250 feet. It was annexed because it may fall within the orbit of a proposed guided-missiles range in the Hebrides.

Far off normal sea lanes, cramped and waterless, Rockall has never had a lighthouse. Its hazards are increased by a reputed area of magnetic disturbance two to three miles off the island. So far as is known no person has ever lived there.

The rocky hump, exposed summit of a 60-mile-long submarine range know as the Rockall Bank, has borne several names. The earliest known was Rockabarra (Gaelic for "the spiked rock"). Others were Rockol, Rokels and Rocil.

Seven Minks Stolen

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Deputies reported the theft Tuesday of seven silver blue minks from the suburban mink ranch of Donald Scheffler, who valued the pelts at about $250 but claimed the animals were worth much more as breeding stock.

Reflectorized Plates?

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Police Supt. Dewey Beaver and other representatives of the Michigan Assn. of Police Chiefs will view demonstrations Dec. 11 at St. Paul, Minn., of reflectorized license plates. Beaver, who favors use of reflectorized plates, says they already are adopted in some states.

Development of a new strain of cotton — Acala 4-42 — has made California the second cotton-growing state in the Union.

Church Offers Site

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—Martin D. Verdier, attorney for the First Pilgrim Tabernacle, says the congregation's church will be offered to the City Commission for $135,000 to make possible a major expansion of the public library, as proposed by the Grand Rapids Board of Library Commissioners.

Switzerland is among the countries that have acquired merchant fleets since World War II. Others are Liberia, Ireland, Costa Rica and Ecuador.

Grand Rapids Tree

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—The city's community Christmas tree, a 45-foot spruce, Greenwood Cemetery, was mounted Tuesday in Fulton Park. A total of 650 lights will be strung through its branches a week before Christmas Day.

Ike Takes Increasingly Active Role in Supervising Government Programs

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—News stories out of here give the impression President Eisenhower is taking an increasingly active part in running the government. The impression is correct, for he is.

But it is still a very limited part: a few hours in the morning, and not every morning, conferring with members of his official family. He is far from making it a full-time occupation.

When he does come down to his office in the post office, he goes back home to his nearby farm by noon. There he rests, naps, and walks around a bit.

NOT WINDOW DRESSING

But there is no reason to believe—as some people may have felt — that Eisenhower's conferences with his advisers and Cabinet members since he came here are window dressing to make him appear more active than he is.

The conferences Eisenhower is 1, 1956, his budget message, his State of the Union message outhaving are real enough. And he is stepping up the pace. That's what his doctors wanted him to do, both for practical reasons and to build up his morale. They have said they wouldn't be able to tell how full his recovery has been until he has more nearly resumed the full load of the presidency, perhaps in February.

HAS HIS DUTIES

But what is happening here is quite different from the kind of daily routine Eisenhower had to follow in Washington before his heart attack. He did a full day's work then.

He would have to have these conferences anyway, if he was at all physically able. In early 1956 he has to send Congress his budget for the fiscal year beginning July lining his program for the 1956 election year, and the report of his economic advisers.

The government officials responsible for pulling all these pieces together could hardly send them to Congress over his signature unless he was consulted about them. And, since they all involve policy, so long as he is able at all he would want to have a final say. All those pieces are being put together now.

Fair Remains Free

MARNE (AP) — Members of the Berlin Fair Assn., have decided the venerable Berlin Fair will start its second 100 years as a "free fair," next July 31-Aug. 4. Edward F. Dinkle, president of the association, said the 101st annual fair will be an admission-free event, to "see how it works out."

Male natives of New Guinea may carry on their waistbands the fur of the flying fox, an adornment permitted only to the successful head-hunter.

Three Firms Merged

OTSEGO (AP) — Roman Suess, president of the Otsego Falls Paper Mills, Inc., has announced a merger of his firm with the Menasha Wooden Ware Corp. of Menasha, Wis., and Menasha Container Corp. of Anaheim, Calif.

Report Shakeup of Health Officia

Salk Vaccine Program Confusion Is the Cause, Chicago American Says

CHICAGO (INS) — The Chicago American says it has learned that "confusion over the Salk polio vaccine program has brought a major shakeup in the U.S. Public Health Service."

The American said the "shakeup" involves:

1. Scheduled retirement of Surgeon General Leonard Scheele at the expiration of his present term in March.

2. Creation of a new agency within the service to "guard against such mixups in the future."

3. Transfer of two top men from the Army medical service graduate school to key positions in the health service.

The newspaper also said Dr. Joseph Smadel, head of the school's communicable disease department, is slated to become assistant director of the National Institutes of Health. Dr. Geoffrey Edsall, director of the immunology division, will take over as chief of the new agency, the American said.

"Dr. James A. Shannon, now head of the National Institutes of Health, is being groomed for Scheele's post."

Furthermore, all are useful and will increase the scope of Handy Hank's woodworking operations manyfold. You can be sure none will stay shelved for long.

Just find out what power tools he owns and which, if any, accessories he has. Then it's easy pickings. Here are some suggested accessories for more popular power tools:

Dado Head Set—Cuts grooves in wood from ¼-inch to nearly a full inch in width. He needs this one badly.

Miter Gage Clamp—For more accurate and safer cross-grain and miter cuts. He'll use it almost every time.

Blade Guard — Keep saw blade covered at all times and all but eliminates the danger of lopping off an unwary finger.

Molding Cutterhead—Cuts scores of molding designs, decorative beadings and edgings. Includes several sets of cutter knives.

Saw Blades—Handy man should have four: Rip, cross-cut, combination and hollow-ground (the latter for extra smooth work).

Sanding, Filing Attachments — Useful for smoothing inside patterns in wood or metal. File will sharpen saw blades.

Blades — Complete set can be used on hard and soft woods, soft metals, iron and steel, plastic, etc. There are more than 20 sizes and types.

Vises—Hold the work securely on drill press table, for greater safety and accuracy.

Router Bits—For grooving and pattern routing. Set of five, from ¼ to ½-inch diameter is recommended.

Sanding Drums, Grinding Wheel—For sanding straight, curved and irregular wood surfaces, and for grinding metal. A set of at least three different-sized sanding drums is best.

Mortising Attachment — Cuts square-edged holes in wood. Minimum accessories for this accessory include three mortising chisels and three mortising bits.

Shaping Attachment — Complete with fence, table, spring hold-downs and a good set of cutters, this one is an expensive proposition, but any one of its elements would make a fine gift.

Plug Cutters—Set of five sizes enables handy man to turn out wooden plugs and short dowels to match the wood in which they are inserted.

Sanding Attachment — Complete with abrasive belts in various grits and grades, it permits sanding flat and curved surfaces. Reaches into tight corners, too.

Blades—As with circular saw and scroll saw, a variety of blades always comes in handy. Two different band-saw blades are minimum, four preferred.

Santa and the Dumdiddy

By Lucrece Hudgins Beale

AP Newsfeatures

SYNOPSIS: Beanie hates Christmas because he doesn't like to give. To spite his sister, Betsy, he takes her clay man, called a Dumdiddy, and runs away. He meets Santa Claus in disguise. When Beanie hits his head and falls unconscious, Santa brings the Dumdiddy to life to watch over Beanie.

Chapter Four

SANTA LEAVES

"My goodness!" cried the Dumdiddy to Santa. "What are you doing here? Why aren't you in Santa Land? Where is your red suit and your reindeer? How is anyone to know you are Santa Claus?"

Santa laughed. "I don't want anyone to know who I am. I am making my yearly inspection trip to find out which boys and girls in the world have been good and which ones bad."

He pulled his notebook out of his pocket and flipped through the pages. There were thousands of names written there. Some names had checks beside them and some had black marks.

"I've almost finished," said Santa, "and I must hurry on my way for I must be back in Santa Land by midnight. That's why I can't stay to help this boy. Look, his eyes are beginning to flutter. He soon will be awake. I must be off."

"Wait," said the Dumdiddy. "First, tell me what kind of mark does this boy have against his name in your notebook?"

Santa shook his head sadly. "Black as black can be. But take care of him, for his greed and selfishness will get him into much trouble. Spare him what you can and if things get really bad, come to me."

"I will," promised the Dumdiddy. "But why should you bother so over one with a black mark when your book is filled with the names of good children?"

"Because," sighed Santa. "This is the unhappiest child of all. And now, goodbye."

Before the Dumdiddy could even catch his breath, Santa had vanished from the woods. None too soon either, for Beanie had begun to stir.

"TAKE CARE OF BEANIE, LITTLE DUMDIDDY" — When Beanie hits his head and falls unconscious, Santa brings the Dumdiddy to life to watch over Beanie. Santa couldn't stay and help Beanie because he had to get back to Santa Land by midnight.

"Billikins!" thought the Dumdiddy. "I better get out of sight myself. Now what pocket am I supposed to be in?" He hobbled over to the boy. "Ah, this one will do!" And he climbed into Beanie's back trouser pocket.

To his delight he found the pocket filled with nuts and raisins and figs and he immediately began nibbling them up. "I'm glad I was made with a big stomach," he said to himself.

Just then Beanie sat up. He rubbed his head. He couldn't imagine what had happened to him. He remembered being angry with the strange fat man and he remembered running away from him.

"I guess he threw a rock at me," he exclaimed. "Well, I'm glad to be rid of him, but I guess I better stay out of these woods and keep to the road."

At first he felt a little dizzy, but by and by he felt better and he walked on and on until he found himself in a big city. Now he became very cheerful and was glad he had run away from home.

By this time it was night and the city streets were filled with people hurrying home from work. Beanie had never been in such a large city and he stared at the bright lights and the store windows and the bustling people.

From his pocket, the Dumdiddy stared, too. "Kitcheroo!" whistled the Dumdiddy. "What sights to see!"

Suddenly Beanie saw a red-headed hunchback running towards him. He was chased by a man who was shouting and waving his arms. The hunchback turned frightened eyes on Beanie as he passed him and cried, "Trip him! Trip him!"

"See what you've done!" he cried. "You've helped a robber escape!"

Modern Homes Need Playroom

Special Room for Toys Keeps Rest of House Free From Articles

Modern Christmas toys can walk, dance, spin, bounce, rock and roll.

Perhaps that's why the entire house lies cluttered with toys for weeks immediately following the unwrapping festival. Bedroom, kitchen, bathroom — no place is free of the toys which, finally unwound, lie gasping their last in dusty corners.

Dr. Russel Smart of the Uniecsvity of Rhode Island says that this problem can be solved by giving your children a playroom — one that houses ALL toys efficiently.

He advises using the room nearest the place of usage. If the child has many outdoor toys, they can often be housed in a cabinet near the back door. Often a section of the basement is best for indoor toys.

If there are several children, shelves should be assigned according to the children's heights. It is advisable to have shelves of varying heights and widths.

Dr. Smart suggests keeping some of the children's toys tucked away — especially if there are a large number of them. Too many toys are confusing to a child of preschool age and he will soon tire of them.

Do You Know Just Where Christmas Seals Started?

The Christmas Seal—killer of killer tuberculosis—is as much a part of the holiday season as a green wreath, a sprig of holly or a mug of eggnog.

And all because of a persistent woman, a drafty shack and a $300 debt.

Emily P. Bissel, was a minor Red Cross official. The shack—literally an open-air cure—belonged to her cousin in Delaware. The $300 was needed to patch up the shack against winter.

Tuberculosis, known in 1907 as the White Plague, was the nation's most deadly disease. Standard treatment for the ill was enclosure in a stuffy room. Standard result was a short life.

SKETCHED DESIGN

Miss Bissel adapted the Christmas Seal plan to save the shack. She met only with pessimism and prediction of failure. The Postmaster General banned sale from postal windows.

So Miss Bissel sketched the design herself. It was a holly garland centered by a Red Cross and the words "Merry Christmas." Two associates contributed $20 each and a local printer agreed to do the job at cost.

"I told him to use the brightest red he could find," Miss Bissel later remembered. "A two-color job would be too costly."

The post office in Wilmington, Delaware was the scene of the first day's sale. Two uniformed nurses sat behind a placard:

"Put this stamp with message bright
On every Christmas letter;
Help the tuberculosis fight,
And make the New Year better.
These stamps do not carry any kind of mail—
But any kind of mail will carry them."

The first day's sale was poor and Miss Bissel carried her idea to the city editor of the Philadelphia "North American." He was, as Miss Bissel later said, "Visibly shocked at the thought of coupling 'Merry Christmas' with the worst of diseases."

PAPER HELPS

A columnist, overhearing the idea, told the executive editor of it. His reaction was somewhat different.

"Tell Miss Bissel the 'North American' is hers for the holidays. Take all the space she needs. Send us 50 thousand stamps . . ."

The goal of $300 was multiplied by ten in a matter of hours. Largely through the use of newspapers, the American people dug deeper every year. Last year they dug deep enough for $25 million.

In the Philippines, students at Christian schools serenade the wealthier families with Christmas carols, accompanied by enthusiastic tom-toms, guitars and harmonicas.

Boat Motors Popular Christmas Presents

This year, Santa Claus will wear a yachting cap in many homes.

Outboard motors have been gaining favor for many years. A half million outboards will be sold this year. A greater percentage than ever before will find their way under the Christmas tree.

Modern outboard motors come in sizes and prices to fit the average boat and pocketbook. There's even a little 3.6 horsepower Scott-Atwater model suitable for canoes or prams. There is also a giant 33 horsepower motor able to propel a good-sized cruiser.

Naturally enough, new motors have new features. The lastest models have automatic boat bailing devices, separate fuel tanks, full gear shift, recessed controls and underwater exhaust.

Many of the motors will be delivered to men who can't afford their own boat. Stored at home between trips, the motor is then loaded into the trunk of the car to be attached later to rented boats.

Indians Order Rails

NEW DELHI — Railways in India recently placed orders in 11 countries for new rolling stock. Japan, Germany, and Great Britain received the most valuable orders. The other countries are France, Austria, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, Belgium, Hungary, and Poland.

A doll wearing a real silver blue mink coat is among the expensive toys on the market for Christmas gifts this year. The doll costs $300.

Church Leader 'Fires' Santa

Three Wise Men Give Presents to Children at Parish Party

BALTIMORE (AP) — Santa Claus has lost his job at St. Alphonsus School.

The Three Wise Men have taken over the pleasant task of distributing gifts to the kids at the annual Christmas Party.

Not the incense and myrrh they brought to a manger more than nineteen hundred years ago. Bubble gum, space ships and pioneer hats are considered more suitable these days.

But they give the presents "in the name of the Infant Jesus."

Rt. Rev. Louis J. Mendelis gave Santa the old heave-ho three years ago because he was getting "too big for his britches."

CHILDREN DIDN'T CARE

The priest decided the bearded gent from the North Pole had grown to such proportions that "he was obstructing the view of Jesus." For a quarter of a century the 57-year-old priest had watched with uneasiness what he termed a "growing deviation from the real meaning of Christmas."

He took the plunge at the annual Christmas party of 1952 and told the children the Santa Claus story is only a myth..

The annoucement was accepted calmly by the children and their parents. The very young, of kindergarten and first grade age, didn't seem to be able to grasp the difference between a mythical Santa Claus and a real one.

The more sophisticated hooted with glee and claimed they knew it all of the time.

PROTESTS WERE VIOLENT

The story of Santa's displacement went coast to coast on the news wires of the Aossiciated Press and touched off a storm of comment. Some of the letters roundly denounced the priest for his views. Others expressed solid support.

Father Mendelis calculates letters ran about three to one in favor of teling children the truth about Santa.

A grandmother from Allentown, Pa., who works for a living, enrolled in the cheering section. She wrote, "It makes me feel bad when I send gifts to my grandchildren and they are told they come from Santa Claus."

"Why should children be taught a lie anyway?" asked a woman in Wilmington, Calif.

Others bitterly abused Father Mendelis for trying to "murder" Santa Claus. Some were more restrained and asked why can't we have both Santa Claus and the true meaning of Christmas.

Father Mendelis believed the two are incompatible because, he says, the holiness of the season has a way of being smothered by the commercial aspects when Santa is around.

The name Christmas comes from the early English term Christes Masse, or Christ's Mass.

Bob Considine Says:

Here's What '56 Holds for the Yewnited S.

NEW YORK (INS)—Things I never knew about 1956 (until I read Farmer's Almanac, a slim pulp printed by Ray Geiger of Lewiston, Maine, which has the additional distinction of being one of the very few "original" farmers' almanacs or almanac(k)s printed in the Yewnited S. of Amer.

Claiming 138 years, which means that the Yewnited S. of Amer. was barely 42 years old when it started, the Lewiston, Maine, almanac allows as follows:

Kill plant pests on the 1, 2, 3, 14, 15, 27, 28, 29, 30 of Jan. Set eggs between 1-5 and 20-31 of Jan. Watch out for four eclipses, two of the sun, two of the moon.

It might take some traveling to watch out for them, Si. The May 24 partial eclipse of the moon will be visible in such handy spots as the Aleutians, almost anywhere on a raft in the Pacific, and throughout Red China. The June 8 total eclipse of the sun will be total only in the South Pacific.

Asia gets the break on the total eclipse of the moon on Nov. 18, and the best spot to see the partial eclipse of the sun next Dec. 2 is northwestern Africa. In other words, times will be tough for all owners of smoked glass in the Y.S. of A.

LUCKY THURSDAY

We have it directly from Lewiston, Maine, realm of the occult, that during 1956 if you're Aries your lucky day is Thursday, your unlucky day is Monday, and you'll be most successful in June or July.

If you're Taurus, you can't do wrong on Monday but you'll louse it up on Sunday. And so on through the year: Gemini, Friday luck; Sunday n.g., best months April and August. Cancer, Wednesday vs. Saturday, and February and September.

Leo, Sunday vs. Tuesday, and January and October. Virgo, Monday vs. Wednesday, and February and November. Libra, Monday vs. Thursday, and August and December.

Scorpio, Tuesday vs. Monday, and January and July. Sagittarius, Sunday vs. Friday and February and June. Capricornius, Wednesday vs. Saturday, and March and November. Aquarius, Thursday vs. Wednesday, and April and August. And Pisces, Wednesday vs. Friday, and May and November.

Uranus, Neptune and Pluto will show very little movement during 1956, one learns with a twinge. Christmas 1956 will be windy and wet. And on a Tuesday.

What bounced it two days ahead 1955's Christmas is Feb. 29, 1956, when all sorts of Leap Year things happen like Jupiter rising at 12:37 a.m., the sun at 6:41 (Northern states) and at 5:55 (Southern states) and windy and wet.

A quick skim through Geiger's almanac shows a lot of windy and wet in this 108th year of the independence of the Y.S. of A. It might be a good year to stay in bed.

SO WHY WORRY?

Can't understand why farmers should be worrying about flexible or firm price supports when they have the almanac's humor, do-it-yourself, and poetry pages to curl up with. To wit:

Two old maids were discussing men. Asked one: 'Which would you desire most in a husband—brains, wealth or appearance?' "'Appearance,' replied the other, 'and the sooner the better'."

Or: "There is no need for you to dog-ear the page corners to mark your place in the book you are reading. Snip off the corner of any used envelope. Keep this tucked away in your book. When you find you need a bookmark, fit it over the corner of the page to mark the spot where you stop reading." See?

Or:

One thing that a speaker
Should remember for sure:
The mind can absorb
Only what the seat can endure.

Or:

Don't worry about getting older. When you stop getting older, you're dead.

Woman Defers Credit for Lifesaving Deed

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Harriett Londoff didn't hang around to claim credit when she saved from serious injury a boy whose hand caught in the rear bumper when he fell against a slowly moving car.

His shouts unheard, the boy ran as fast as he could to keep up. Miss Londoff, in her car and noticing the boy's predicament, stepped on the gas and overtook the car just in time.

Later when her identity became known Miss Londoff explained she left the scene hurriedly because she recently got two speeding tickets and realized that in making the rescue she was guilty of speeding and running a stop sign.

Aged Woman Mystifies Illinois Chief Executive

CHESTER, Ill. (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton was at a loss for words when he stopped at the bedside of Mrs. Mary Vernor, a 98-year-old resident of St. Ann's Home for the Aged.

After he was introduced, the governor repeated his name several times. "I'm very happy to meet you," the Illinois chief said. "I'm Gov. Stratton."

With a twinkle in her partially-blind eyes, Mrs. Vernor gingerly replied: "Well, what about it!"

Luggage Gifts Require Thought

Consider Needs of User on Purchasing Travel Accessory for Friend

Diplomats en route to international conferences might justifiably shun a "shocking pink" overnight bag. Similarly, today's teen-ager might not like to cart a wardrobe steamer trunk on weekend trips.

When buying luggage, as in buying any Christmas gift, the needs of the user should be considered. Accessories for travel will be doubly appreciated if the buyer keeps these tips in mind:

1. Attempt to match the case to an already existing set. Or, try to correlate colors. For example, a plaid duffle should match the predominant shade of solid-color luggage.

2. Consider the travel habits of the user before choosing the case. A college student, spending her free time flitting from one male school to another, might well appreciate a hat box. An air traveler will like a light-weight model and a motorist might prefer a hanging garment carrier.

3. Some designs are strictly masculine. This is true of the 'suiter bag, companion case and club bag. The hatbox, train case and overnight fitted bag are feminine accessories.

4. If the luggage will receive hard use, check for a durable covering. Also make sure that the handles are comfortable and securely anchored, the hardware and locks are sturdy, and the linings are securely fitted.

• • •

5. Initials and monograms should be included in every instance. These protect the owner from theft and loss.

Freight Car Hauls Dip

CLEVELAND — The average freight car hauled a load of 31.4 tons in 1954, including carload traffic, less-than-carload traffic, freight haul dropped seven tenths of a ton below the 1953 figure. For carload traffic alone the average load in 1954 totaled 41.4 tons, and company freight. The average slightly below 1953.

The first Christmas tree in America was introduced by the Hessians—fighting for England—during the Revolutionary War. A Catskill farmer sold the first ones to New York City residents in 1850.

The Saar—Cradle of Nazi Revival

Hitlerite Sentiment Mushrooming in 'Little Pittsburgh'

(This is the last of four articles reporting the results of a thorough survey by the INS in the Saar territory, tiny European trouble spot where Nazism threatens to rise again.)

By PIERRE J. HUSS

Copyright 1955 By INS

SAARBRUECKEN, Saar (INS)—The Saar, international problem child of the 20th century in Europe, is today an acute issue which calls for solution by negotiation between the French government and that of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of the German Federal Republic.

Urgent developments affecting the unity of the Allied bloc and Franco-German relations make this early solution imperative, if only to forestall gains by the Soviet Union. The Communists strive constantly to drive wedges between the Allies and incite divisive action in vital areas such as the rich coal and steel basin of the Saar.

Rejection by Saarlanders on Oct. 23 of the proposed European Statute to put the Saar under a neutral high-comissioner and ruling council supervised by the West European union, struck a heavy blow at Allied hopes for a durable solution of that problem.

It gave the Communists cause for rejoicing, opening to Moscow another fertile field for incitement and crisis among the Allies.

Equally unfortunate was the fact that the hard Nazi core forging to the political forefront in the Saar saw in this victory its golden opportunity to grab control of the Landtag (Saar Parliament) in the coming elections on Dec. 18.

HITLERITE CRY

It lost no time in identifying and promptly branded anyone in the Saar as "separationist" and "traitor to the Fatherland" for statute. Today the cry is the Hitlerite "Back to the Fatherland."

For France, this reversion in the Saar to the 1935 milestone poses a terrible dilemma. France acted with admirable restraint in carefully refraining from pressure and undue persuasion during the campaign preceding the Oct. 23 referendum. Even now, with the Nazi core and Communist outcry for return of the Saar to Germany, France would be justified and empowered in marching troops into the area to prevent this very development.

French authorities are keenly aware, however, that forcible measures to maintain the status quo of the Saar indefinitely would give free and violent reign to the Ultranationalists and probably within months enable them to celebrate new "heroic" spilling of blood.

A fairly good guess is that France may eventually "write off" the Saar, depending on the size of the pro-German vote Dec. 18 and the proportion of he 50 seats held by the "Back to the Fatherland" parties.

NAZI AMMUNITION

Under the present system, French currency prevails and the Saar is an economic adjunct of France. The Nazi core, and the Communists too, want to reverse this and after merging into West Germany start from scratch in mappping out economic relations with Paris.

French firms have cut or canceled orders to Saar manufacturers drastically. This natural hesitation to do business where long-term contracts may be in jeopardy is bound to reduce employment and thus give the pro-German bloc new ammunition against the French.

There should be no surprise if the Nazi core soon started yelling, along with the Communists, that Saarlanders are going jobless and hungry because of the "unnatural economic stranglehold" in which France holds the Saar.

Former Premier Johannes Hoffmanns adherents point out however that some 300,000 Saarlanders making their living off small and medium-sized industrial enterprises may be ruined if the Saar's economy is switched from France to Germany.

They maintain that German prices are in much too low a price range to enable Saar prices to compete with them in any field. Within the French economic orbit, the Saar has been and is prosperous because of the higher range of French prices.

A sinister aspect underneath the surface for the Adenauer government is that the Saar events have embodied themselves in the bid of the Nazi-tainted to get back into positions of prominence and to ally themselves formidably with similar elements in West Germany.

COCKY NAZI CORE

This drift became painfully apparent Nov. 18. Then Heinrich Schneider of the Democratic Party of the Saar, Hubert Ney as leader of the Saar Christian Democratic Party and Kurt Conrad as leader of Saar Socialist Party jointly appeared for the first time before the Bundestag German Unification Committee in Bonn to announce that their combined platform is keyed to the Saar's return to the Fatherland.

The Nazi core is cocky and getting cockier daily. It knows that nobody in his right senses in the government of the federal republic can oppose the fusion of German blood with German blood, which is what return of the Saar to the Fatherland denotes.

And Schneider in his Bonn appearance as spokesman for the "Heimatbund" — the union of the three pro-German parties — won the silent attention and sanction of Nazi adherents in Germany and henceforth will be able to carry on a lively if surreptitious exchange with them.

PAPER GIVES WARNING

To those who may be inclined to pooh-pooh the growing danger of a Nazi come-back, attention is drawn to the warning to Chancellor Adenauer printed as recently as Nov. 17 by the mighty "Frankfurter Allgemeine" newspaper.

This publication is comparable to the "Times of London" in its European influence and prestige.

The leading editorial of that Thursday was titled: "Conscience and National Socialism." In referring somewhat ironically to the passage of 22 years since Hitler seized power in the Reich, the powerful editorial added:

"Symptoms are mounting that a new trend of irresponsible defense of Nationalism and National-Socialism is again coming to the forefront. The danger of 'short memory' is crystallizing."

LEBENSRAM AGAIN

Recalling Hitler's mob cry for "Lebensraum" — living space for the Germans — the editorial stated:

"This very policy of Hitler has reduced Germany to a nation with very little space."

Then, chiding those Germans who tend to glorify Hitler as the "greatest of all military leaders" and directly addressing the new leadership of the German Army, the editorial says:

THE EDITORIAL

"The point to drum into the heads of the new army leadership is that the 'greatest military leader of all times' proved to be the greatest loser of the worst war of all times."

The Frankfurter Allgemeine editorial raps "currentt educational trends" as liable to gloss over the hard facts of the Hitler period and warns of the danger of a new generation being brought up "without ever having been told the grim facts." It adds:

"They will forget or never discover that Hitler himself must be blamed alone that the German border is on the Oder and even there that it is truncated by the Iron Curtain. They'll never know that this same Hitler, who is in his book 'Mein Kampf' ridiculed the Kaiser for permitting himself to be enmeshed in a war on two fronts in 1914, himself involved us in a war to the death on all fronts."

Schneider's own paper for Nov. 19, in blunt - spoken language, blamed most past wars on France and registered the right of Germany's ancient claim to the Lowlands, Switzerland, Austria, Alsace-Lorraine.

BRITISH START WARS

Schneider's newspaper cited the official bulletin of the Federal Republic to back up its claim that England and France started most wars since Napoleon I. The bulletin as cited by the Schneider paper said of 278 wars in Europe over 140 years, Britain and France participated in 54 per cent, Germany including Prussia only in 8 per cent.

These extracts clearly reflect the mental process of the Ultra-nationalist mentality, and the political thinking of those who 20 years ago were having their history and moral fiber shaped on the assembly-line process of rigid regimentation based on the principles of Hitler's "Mein Kampf."

Yet these are the men coming to the forefront in the Saar, and it is they who are currently using this strategic territory as a political proving ground for the months and years ahead.

Anyone who has spent a little time in the Saar these days cannot help but underline the warning newspaper — a warning to the German people to be careful lest it find itself engulfed once more in the diabolic and living monster created by Hitler.

The truth is that nobody but the Germans themselves can block their own return to the damned, and every action on their part and that of their government in Bonn to crush the monster in its infancy will be hailed with unreserved appreciation throughout the free world.

Two Sailors Get Lesson From Ship's Brown Goat

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Two Canadian sailors from the destroyer Cayuga told police a brown goat was the ship's mascot.

The police took sailors and goat to the pier where the Cayuga was tied up. The ship's guards said they had never seen the goat before but they recognized the sailors.

Goat went to the city pound. The sailors were taken aboard.

Plum pudding is the thing for Christmas on the island of Jamaica. The poorer people bake on ovenless stoves a mixture of cornmeal, coconut milk, sugar, raisins and a dash of rose water.

Got a Tank License?

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — Several young boys were invited by an Army recruiter to step inside a Patton tank on display here. One of them accidentally released the brakes. The tank rolled down an incline and crashed into a parked automobile, destroying it.

Gifts Represent Christian Love

3 Wisemen's Presents Meant to Declare Noble Recognition of Christ

A Christmas gift symbolizes the love that Christians bear to one another, in the name of One who loved them all.

An article in the December issue of a popular magazine says that wise men indeed were they that first intended this, and wise men were the first Christmas givers as the gospel tells us. St. Matthew writes of them: " . . . and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto Him gifts: gold, and frankincense, and myrrh."

Why these particular gifts? Simply because they are emblems of generosity, costly now as in ancient times, and still surviving at many Christian altars. The Magi brought their best to the Newborn. They felt that nothing poor earth could offer to the King of Heaven would be more appropriate than gold, one of the noblest metals, indestructible, beautiful, impossible to fake or imitate. And in the ancient world it was far more rare than now.

The second gift, incense, was enjoyed as an agreeable odor, so the wise men doubtless reasoned God would enjoy it too. Frankincense is a resin, from a kind of tree once held extremely sacred.

Legends tell that the precious trees were guarded by winged serpents and few people were even allowed to approach them. Christians did not adopt frankincense until five centuries after the Nativity. Today it finds its place chiefly in the Catholic Church, whose shrines are full of its perfume.

Myrrh, the last of the gifts of the Magi, is a shrub related to frankincense, though its symbolism is more somber. The word comes from the Hebrew meaning "bitter." Ancient Egyptians use it for embalming, hence its solemn meaning. Was this a strange gift for an Infant King? Not for one destined to die for his people.

Fashion Bug Hits Gals of Kenya's Kikuyu

NAIROBI, Kenya — The fashion bug has bitten the women of Kenya's Kikuyu tribe.

Instead of Mau Mau oaths the women in villages are talking of creations by Dior, Givenchy and Balmain. Before she left recently for Europs, several of the dusky Kikuyu women asked Mrs. Phina Simance:

"When you come back, tell us what they're wearing in Paris this season" Phina — short for Josephine — is the wife of the District Officer for Ft. Hall, in Mau Mau country.

She teaches the Kikuyu housewives homecraft, cooking and hygiene. They used to wear one-piece cotton garment and nothing else.

"They are learning sewing and the fashions so fast that their husbands object they're not doing enough work in the fields," she says.

Christmas Fete in North Woods —Rabbit, Brandy

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Christmas is celebrated in many different ways. There are poinsettias instead of juniper in California, sand instead of snow in Bethlehem.

For the burly copper miners of Michigan's north woods in 1846, Christmas was a rabbit and two gallons of brandy.

F. Clever Bald, associate director of the Michigan Historical collections at the University of Michigan, points to the diary account of an Ontonagon, Mich., Christmas, written by William Witter Spalding.

It was two days before Christmas, Dec. 23, 1846, and Spalding, a miner, was miles from his Ontonagon River home. The copper rush was on and men looked for a new kind of gold in Keweenaw's Hills.

Spalding wrote in his journal that he had rabbit pot pie and pumpkin pie for dinner, and then sent an Indian with three gallons of Scota Wabo (whisky) to some miners in Iron River.

DEVIL TO PAY

The day before Christmas, he left for home with two gallons of brandy and "had the devil to pay all night with the Indians guarding the liquor."

He spent Christmas at the mine. The menu was a succulent one. He notes it included rabbit soup, apple and mince pie and sweet cakes. For dessert, there was "black strap, hot toddy and clear blue (water)."

All of this, said Spalding "soon produced a jollification and sent some of the boys to bed . . ."

The next entry reads: "The 26th —a fine day—a little hair-pulling among the boys which soon wore off . . ."

This Christmas in Naples Will Continue Until Easter

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The $3-a-year Naples cave dwellers will have more than a one-shot Christmas gift from the U.S.A. to see them through the winter this year.

For the first time in history every family in the city holding a so-called "poverty card" will be given a 22-pound food package each month from December to April.

CARE is running this most comprehensive of all attempts to help needy persons in one area. Dollar donations by the American people, a congressional appropriation and tons of surplus dairy products make it possible.

The Agriculture Department is supplying the surplus food and Congress has provided the money to ship it abroad. An additional dollar from individual citizens covers distributing and packaging.

The Naples operation is part of CARE's current world-wide food crusade to assist suffering people in Europe and Asia.

80,000 UNEMPLOYED

In Naples, where 80,000 persons are unemployed, "poverty cards" have been issued to 18,000 families who have absolutely no means of support.

This entitles them to free medical care and tax exemption. Holders are also given 1,000 lire twice a year, about $3.00.

"At the present time that is all the local government is able to do," explains Raymond Izbicki who just left for Italy to direct the CARE program. "Our goal is to tide these poverty stricken families over during the five winter months.

"Their plight is appalling. A number of them live in crude caves just outside the city. It is particularly hard on the children."

Each CARE bundle contains seven pounds of cheese, nine pounds of powdered milk and six pounds of butter. The powdered milk can be made into 39 quarts of milk.

Your name if you gave a dollar will be stamped on one package. CARE makes sure a receipt is collected on delivery.

FOOD — For the hungry and cold and miserable cave dwellers of Naples, CARE brings a long, long Christmas present.

American red oaks are growing in England's Sherwood Forest where Robin Hood and his merry men were supposed to roam.

Australia Contacts Mysterious Natives

SIDNEY — Australia finally has contacted its mystery tribe, the Bindaboos, whom it was eager to help. And having studied them, the Australian Native Welfare Department has decided they should continue their nomadic existence, Alice Springs reports.

They don't need any help. There are some 200 members of the "lost tribe." Their weapons are the spear and the killing stick.

They make fire by rubbing sticks together in their palms and are able to strike a spark in about five minutes of vigorous rubbing.

The country they live in is not desert, as was believed. There are wells, creeks and game, wild berries and fruits.

Don't Touch That Dial!

MATTOON, Ill. (AP) — Robert D. McCool, 18, was cooled with a $76 fine in Mattoon police court after he had: Pulled loose the television wires from Paul Gibson's set. Showered Gibson with eggs.

Judge Moves Wisely

HANOVER, Va. (AP) —Judge Leon Bazile was on time for his address to the woman's club but was thirty minutes late in speaking. He found the ladies grouped around a television set watching one of their members participate in a national give-away program, and joined in watching the screen. After the program was over he spoke and departed.

The Snake Doesn't

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Bertha Peffer stooped down to remove a stone from the path of her lawn mower and picked up a 27-inch copperhead. Her screams brought a neighbor running. He killed the snake and hauled it away.

"I feel terribly lucky," Mrs. Peffer said.

Yule Flowers 'Made' at Home

Cellophane Tape, Few Accessories, Ribbons and Shears Needed

KANSAS CITY, Kans. (INS) — You can "grow" Christmas flowin your home — all you need is shears, cellophane tape, a few accessories and lots of brightly colored ribbon.

For the base of a ribbon bouquet cut a circular piece of stiff paper, slit and shape to form a shallow cone. Use tape to secure the cone, the tip of which should be snipped off.

Through the opening thrust three to five ribbon rosebuds, each made of a 20-inch strip of red ribbon about one inch in width. To start a rose, fold the the ribbon at right angles to the center, fold ribbon ends alternately across and up-and-down at center until all but an inch has been platted.

Grasp ends firmly and release folded portion. Gently pull one end, telescoping the platting and forming a rose. When the first fold reposes in the center, stop pulling, tie the base of the bud with a narrow ribbon and wind a green ribbon around the "Stem" ponting its ends to form leaves.

To make a violet, tie a loose knot in the center of a nine-inch strip of narrow violet or blue Bring the ends of the five inch strip of norrow violet or blue ribbon across each other at the center of the strip, forming a "shoestring" bow.

Slip the bow through the loop in the yellow ribbon and draw tight. Make another bow of violet ribbon and tie it at right angles over the first, again using the yellow ribbon — the knot of which forms the center of the blossom. Point the ends of the violet ribbons, and add several leaves cut from bits of green ribbon.

Use Care and Effort in Wrapping of Gifts

NEW YORK (INS) — It's the thought that counts when giving Christmas presents — and the way a package is wrapped often tells the story of how much time and effort, as well as money went into the gift.

This year every type of Christmas wrapping is available — there are specialized papers for women, for men, for children, as well as patterns for large and small packages.

The conventional gift-wrap subjects — Santas, holly boughs, wreaths, pine cones, candles and the like — are available in either traditional or "slicked up" styling and harmonizing gift tags and seals are usually on the market.

Ribbons have been made with gift wrapping colors and patterns in mind — all colors, textures, widths and lengths are on the counters.

Packages can be made more distinctive with the new gift wrap trims that are easy to attach. The trims are three-dimensional decorations of Santa playing an organ, four glittering Christmas tree ornaments on a wool yarn cord and similar holiday scenes and subjects.

YWCA Marks Season With 'Hanging of Greens'

Pontiac Press Photos

People of all ages were streaming into the YWCA for the traditional "Hanging of the Greens" Wednesday evening, when the YW was decked out in Christmas greenery, tinsel and ribbon. Mrs. H. M. Learned was putting the finishing touches on the manger scene when teenagers Gail Kimmel (standing) and Vivian Thomas, both from Eastern Junior High School, appealed to her to decide what they should do with a large star.

Musicale Prepares Yule Program

The annual Christmas program of the Tuesday Musicale Club will be held Tuesday afternoon in the Grace Lutheran Church at 2 o'clock.

This year the theme chosen is "The True Meaning of Christmas", which will be presented in narrative and song, typical of the festive Yuletide.

Musical readings will be given by Alice Finney, a well-known Detroit artist who has had wide experience in dramatic art and speech. Her accomplished talent has been much in demand for musicale and club programs.

A graduate of the University of Indiana, Mrs. Finney has played several dramatic roles, taught speech and directed plays. She will be heard in a number of musical readings interspersed between songs of the musicale chorus. Her accompanist, Aletha Sanford, is a graduate of the Eastman School of Music.

The choral ensemble, under the direction of Mrs. Ferdinand J. Gaensbauer, has prepared several delightful numbers, each depicting a different phase of the joyous Christmas season.

Mrs. Addison K. Oakley will accompany the chorus which includes the following members: Mrs. A. E. Allen, Mrs. L. C. Barner, Mrs. S. F. Chase, Mrs. J. C. Clarke, Mrs. J. G. Cox, Mrs. K. H. Donaldson, Mrs. Richard Esser Jr., Mrs. J. B. Forman, Mrs. Robert Gaff Jr., Mrs. H. V. Gratton, Mrs. E. Groenberg, Mrs. A. A. Heinz, Mrs. C. A. Houghton and Mrs. J. R. Ladd.

Mrs. Clyde Marshbanks, Mrs. Howard McIntyre, Mrs. John Nicolls Jr., Mrs. J. O. Radenbaugh, Mrs. C. A. Scott, Mrs. Michael Siano, Mrs. G. A. Snapp, Mrs. J. A. Wignall, Mrs. J. F. Williams, Mrs. J. L. Wilson and Mrs. E. L. Windeler are others.

Carolyn and Gretchen Gaensbauer, Pamela and Penny Nicolls, Susan Putnam, Candy and Susan Windeler and Diane Woolcock, daughters of chorus members, will be heard in a group of songs, in one of which they will provide their own accompaniment on auto harps.

The program will conclude with a Yuletime tea. Hostesses greeting the members will be Mrs. B. W. Habel and Mrs. L. H. Schimmel.

Here is a pretty red and white flocked nylon for toddlers. White stitching outlines the scalloped tiered skirt that has its own red parchment nylon petticoat. Gentle ruffling edges the Peter Pan collar and puffed sleeves.

Mrs. Michael Costello (kneeling) and Mrs. Mildred Burns, cochairmen of the Christmas observance held at the YWCA, are shown trimming one of the three trees brought in for the "Hanging of the Greens" ceremony Wednesday evening.

Program for the evening at the YWCA was a Christmas recital by the teenage choir of 30 voices from St. George Greek Orthodox Church. Three of the members photographed were Dimmie Govenis of East Pike street, Nick Sekles of Ottawa drive and Helen Rendziperis of Auburn avenue.

Will Wife's Job Reflect on Hubby?

By ANNE HEYWOOD

How much does it affect the standing of a professional man if his wife works? Do people really think that he must not be doing so well?

This is a question that comes up almost every day in my mail. Here is a typical letter, from Elsie K.

SUCCESSFUL DOCTOR

"My husband is a doctor. He is making out very well, although we really aren't comfortably off yet.

"He has an office on Main street now, instead of at the house, and a part-time secretary. Since it's no longer necessary for me to help with his work, I keep house and mind the children. But I find that I do have extra time when the kids are in school.

"I would love to do some secretarial work, either at home or in an office in town, and have been lucky in digging up job prospects.

"We could use the money, too, because we have my parents as well as my husband's parents to think of.

"Both couples are retired, with small pensions, so we would like to be able to send them a little bit of money each week, to ease their budgets.

CONSCIENCE HURTS

"But each time I come close to getting a job, my conscience acts up. I'm afraid it would do my husband's reputation no good. He doesn't seem to mind, but I wonder if you would tell me what you think.

"Do people assume that a husband is doing badly if his wife works?"

It seems to me that, if the parents of both husband and wife really need extra money to make their later years comfortable, that is certainly more important than what "people" think.

In this day and age, only the really old-fashioned, or the hopelessly malicious, gossip about a working wife and think it reflects badly on her husband.

The same people would gossip more, perhaps, if the parents were left with bare subsistence in their old age.

ANOTHER REASON

In other words, if this wife does get a job to help out with the parents' budgets, some people will gossip; but if she doesn't the same people will gossip, only they will find some other reason for gossiping about her.

Of course, it is important for the working wife to make it clear that she likes working and can handle it smoothly and happily.

Most of the gossip about "her husband can't be doing well" is caused by working wives who go mournfully and complainingly about their dual role.

They make it clear, if only by implication, that "John can't support a wife so I have to go out to work."

Proficiency Group Has Gift Exchange

Twenty members of the 1939-40 Proficiency Club met with Mrs. Clyde Marshbanks of Square Lake road for their Christmas party.

Mrs. Earl Hoskins was a guest at the recent meeting, which featured an exchange of gifts.

Mrs. Pauline Opland and Mrs. Nita Payne were cohostesses.

Alpha Delta Kappa Plans Card Project

High Point in Pontiac's Musical Life

Orchestra, Vocalist Blend Skillfully

By GOLDA HOGUE

One of the high points in Pontiac's musical life was reached last evening in the beautiful singing of Miss Frances Greer, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and the masterly playing of our own Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

Miss Greer is superbly equipped in voice and dramatic interest for operatic roles—she proved herself an artist in unusual beauty of execution — fluent and graceful in Mozart's "Voi che sapete", deft and assured in her portrayal of Puccini's Musetta, contrasting with the poignancy and wistfulness displayed in her playing of Mimi.

A new challenge and one admirably met by our Pontiac Symphony last evening was the task of accompanying a solo voice. Miss Greer is the first vocalist to appear with this organization and no more difficult program could be imagined than Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro" and Puccini's "La Boheme."

Francesco Di Blasi again displayed his effective control of his instrumentalists, never too overpowering for Miss Greer's pianissimo passages but always sympathetic. The operatic arias seemed more like duos — a working together — than soloist and accompaniment.

Excellent programing was again evidenced, beginning with 17th Century Corelli's "Christmas Concerto" entirely for strings (and never more expertly or beautifully played), including Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony" and ending with Bizet's "L'Arlesienne" Suite with its Christmas flavor.

MODERN WORKS

Mr. Di Blasi and his program planning committee are to be commended also for recognizing the importance of promoting contemporary composers. They included a modern composition by a Michigan writer, the tone-poem "Sequoia" by Homer La Gassey of Detroit.

There is much being said these days about so-called "modern" music—our liking or disliking it—but the truth is that every age has been reluctant to accept its own writers. Schubert, who was so enjoyed last evening (there was an air of settling down to something traditional, like hearing an old friend), was unaccepted by his own generation.

One needs to keep an open mind—and ear—in listening to contemporary music to accustom one to the new tonalities, new dissonances, new rhythms.

Mr. La Gassey's "Sequoia" is remarkably fluent writing—brightly colored and imaginatively conceived. In sonata-allegro form, this composition succeeds in picturing the solemn cathedral-like atmosphere one feels in the presence of the ancient sequoia and redwood trees of the West.

The next subscription concert of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra will be heard on Jan. 25 and will feature Druzinsky, harpist, and Pellerite, flutist. They will present Mozart's "Concerto for Flute and Harp", in commemoration of Mozart's 200th anniversary.

The orchestra will also play "Water Music" by Handel, selections from "Song of Norway" by Grieg, "Kikimora" by Laidow and the overture "Italians in Algiers" by Rossini.

IF hostess gift—

For the daring and different, tapered pants. For the shy, conservative individual, distinction in new Far East flavor.

For "party-at-home" dinners, dress should be flattering rather than high fashion. It should be the most becoming outfit for personality, color and comfort. Formality or not-fussing ease depends on what guests will wear.

More wear can be gotten from window shades if they're turned upside down and the cleaner part put to the bottom. A new hem should be stitched and the old hem tacked on the roller.

Officers Elected by Emes Group

New officers of the Leal Emes Group of the First Presbyterian Church were elected Wednesday at the home of Marian Lehner on South Johnson avenue. Esther Voorhees was assistant hostess.

Those elected were Mrs. Paul Blystone, chairman; Ethel Graham, vice chairman; Miss Voorhees, secretary, and Harriet Gates, treasurer.

Devotions were given by Mrs. John Wilson.

Installation of the new officers will be held at the January meeting in the home of Barbara Hall on Evelyn court. Mrs. Blystone will assist Miss Hall.

Faculty Wives Honored at Tea

Faculty wives of the Waterford Township High School were honored Monday evening at a tea given by Mrs. William Shunck of Longworth road. Special guests were wives of the new members of the faculty.

Assisting hostesses for the affair were Mrs. James DenHerder, Mrs. William Bawden, Mrs. James Fry, Mrs. Lauren Manhart, Mrs. Bernard Heaney and Mrs. Henry Karwas.

Birthday Luncheon Given by MOMS

Five members of the MOMS of America, Inc., Unit Two were honored at a birthday luncheon and short business meeting Tuesday. Mrs. Montford Sharpe was hostess at the meeting held at the Adah Shelly Library.

Final plans were made by the group for the annual turkey dinner and Christmas party Dec. 10 at the Adah Shelly Library.

Mrs. Harry Luxon, Mrs. William Jones and Mrs. John Brewer were the unit delegates at the presidents' discussion meeting held at the Detroit YWCA Monday.

Mrs. Jack Barton was chairman of decorations and Mrs. John Schroder was entertainment chairman.

Oakland Hills Plans Party for Children

Here's Way to Wash Those Wool Blankets

The washing of blankets needs planning so that you don't get fouled up in an enervating job.

The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Assn. suggests two minutes (or less) in warm—not hot—water with mild soap, then a single one-minute rinse followed by wringing or spinning as the prescribed procedure for wool blankets.

The next step is stretching to shape. Don't do this job alone. Then set the heat control of your dryer to "high" and toss in the blanket. After 20 minutes, pull part of it out into the air and feel it. If it is hardly damp, take it out of the dryer and shake it to keep the nap from padding.

UM Alumnae Club Meets

Mrs. Theodore Wiersema of West Iroquois road was hostess to the University of Michigan Alumnae Club Tuesday evening.

For the program, Ruth Ann Tower sang "The Birthday of a King" and Diann Beach sang "Jesu Bambino" accompanied by Julie Blank. The girls are members of the Pontiac High School Choir. Mrs. Ralph Forman gave the reading, "The Other Wise Man" by Van Dyke.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. J. J. Madden, Florence Wells and Elena Bajari.

Assisting Mrs. Wiersema as hostesses were Mrs. William Gordon, Mrs. F. R. Conner, Mrs. Robert Heitsch, Florence Day and Maude Van Arsdale.

The January meeting will be a Scholarship Tea for the high school seniors applying for the University of Michigan Regent - Alumni Scholarships.

Yule Dinner Held by Mothers' Club

A turkey dinner was the highlight of the annual Christmas party of the Mothers' Club of the Boys' Club. The dinner was held Tuesday at the club and was served by Royal Neighbors Camp 3127.

Mrs. John Jones was accepted as a new member and Christmas gifts were exchanged.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Arthur Longbrake, Mrs. Walter Peters, Mrs. Clarence Chamberlain, Mrs. Ford Snyder and Mrs. William Coulacos.

Games were played by the group and Mrs. Herman Dennis, president, reported on the proceeds of the Fall fair which will help finance tennis courts at the Boys' Club.

PATRICIA ANN SMITH

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Smith of Mark avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to James Roy McDowell. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. McDowell of Temperance. He is stationed at Ft. Eustis, Va. No date has been set for the wedding.

Christmas Tea Planned

The Green Lake Women's Club will have its annual Christmas tea on Dec. 12 at 1:30 p.m. in the Green Lake Community House.

Mrs. Kenneth Hedges and Mrs. Gordon Van Camp will greet the guests as they arrive, and Mrs. Ray D. Baker will present a Christmas prayer.

Following an exchange of gifts, members will be led in a carol sing by Mrs. Willard Webster, with Mrs. Sam Angott accompanying on the piano.

An angel scene will be set up with "little angels" Barbara Fuller, Nancy Henderson and Gale Panian.

Hostesses for the tea will be Mrs. Emerson Bowens, Mrs. Al Ferguson, Mrs. Martin Lee, Mrs. Leslie Patterson, Mrs. Albert Stanker, and Mrs. John Warren. Mrs. Frank Stroup and Mrs. George Rapp will preside at the tea table.

Check construction and covering according to how the luggage will be used most often in travel—some types of transportation call for more rugged baggage than others.

Mom, Dad, Brother---'All Are Against Me'

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Mother says I never do anything around the house to help her. And I do. My father doesn't want me to bring my girl friends over, and he says I'm always running around and am never home.

"I can't babysit any more because Mother says I do everything for everybody else, and nothing for her.

"Father doesn't want me to stay after school to help my teacher. And when I have to stay, he doesn't believe me, but thinks I've been over to a girl friend's house instead.

"My brother thinks I'm lazy just because he has a job. Mother sticks up for him. And they're all against me. Can you please give me some advice?"

Answer: It seems to me that in every healthy, energetic girl's life there should be time for family and friends, for work and play, for study and relaxation.

And a well-organized girl schedules her time. She doesn't let it drift away from her in daydreaming, in wasted effort. She doesn't shirk her responsibilities so that she pulls down punishment on her head.

You figure your family is being utterly unreasonable at this point. They're all against you because you aren't pulling your share of the weight at home. They feel that you'd rather be anywhere else than at home. And you'd rather do anything else than work. They obviously don't think that your effort is quite enough.

You, on the other hand, think they're being completely unreasonable. You insist that you do work around the house. And you feel that they don't appreciate what you do. There's quite a distance between those two points of view, isn't there?

If you'd go more than halfway to change your attitude, it's normal that your family's attitude would change, too.

The first thing is to step up your contribution to easing the work load of your mother. Instead of waiting for her to ask or tell you to do something, do it voluntarily and without being reminded.

Get up early enough so you can leave your room neat, help with breakfast and the dishes, make your own lunch sandwiches. When you come from school, ask your mother if she wants you to do anything before you start your homework.

At suppertime cheerfully set the table. Help with the vegetables, and clear up afterward. Over weekends be ready to help with whatever chores there are to do.

And watch your family's attitude change about time out for your friends. If you can get your homework and your housework done and still have time left over, you'll be allowed to spend it with your friends.

Kitelike Bags Proving Vogue

PARIS (INS)—A smart Parisian woman wouldn't dream of flying a kite, but she thinks nothing of wearing one under her arm.

The kite-shaped handbag, one of a group of Christian Dior purses, is a roomy black Persian lamb item almost as large as the real thing. You carry it V-point up and it's trimmed with a bracelet handle of black leather that slips around your wrist.

EDWARD CHRISTIE

Area Resident Will Play Solo

Edward Christie, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward E. Christie of Birmingham, will take part in the concert being presented by the Music Department of Barbour Hall Junior Military School in Nazareth.

The concert will be held today at 8 p.m. in the Baldwin Concert Hall, Detroit, for parents, friends and relatives of cadets at the school.

Edward's violin solo, "Thais" by Massenet, will be a highlight of the program.

The concert is under the direction of Sister M. Angus, S. S. J., director of the Barbour Hall Music Department, and Robert Sanders, instrumental instructor. Mrs. Robert Sanders will be accompanist.

Proceeds of the concert will go to the Barbour Hall Building Fund.

Bride Has Own Ideas About China

She's Afraid That Relative Won't Buy Favored Pattern

By EMILY POST

A bride-to-be writes me as follows: "One of my fiance's relatives has told him that she is going to give us our china for a wedding present. I think it is very generous of her but I have my heart set on a certain pattern which I had intended to buy as soon as I was able.

"I have no idea what kind of china she is planning to buy us but I'm very much afraid it won't be the pattern I want. Would it be at all possible to tell her the pattern I like.

"It is a rather expensive set and I don't know how much she is planning to spend. I would even be willing to pay the difference if that is possible."

Answer: I think your fiance could explain the situation about the china to his relative by saying that you have your heart set on a certain pattern that is very expensive and if she would like to give a little of it to start, that would be a perfect present.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently we have had a series of weddings among the people in our office, and most of them have sent an invitation to the office which was posted on the bulletin board.

"Some people think this is sufficient, others feel that they would hesitate to go to a wedding to which they had not been sent an individual invitation. What is correct in this instance?"

Answer: A blanket invitation to an office group is entirely proper and no one should hesitate to accept it.

Dampen Rayons Before Ironing

Rayon fabrics take a warm iron almost as hot as that used for cotton.

Most rayons are best ironed when slightly damp except dress-weight spun rayons and sharkskins and heavier satins.

Spun rayons sometimes may be ironed when entirely dry but sharkskin and satin iron best when noticeably wet, they say.

To prevent shine, homemakers are advised to set the iron at the correct temperature for the fabric and then test it on the seam edges or back of the hem.

Relieve Overworked Feet

At the end of a busy day, most women's feet are able to do little but convey the owners to bed.

The problem is that lasting damage can be done to overworked feet by restricting their beauty treatment to a night's sleep.

They feel better the next morning, true, but one day they won't feel better at all.

Here's the basic course of care for the feet. It can be made more elaborate as it is needed.

First requirement is a good fit for shoes and stockings. Women who are smart about their feet are usually intelligent in selecting a pair of shoes, but not so many pay attention to the stockings. They should have a half inch to spare at the toes.

Toenails should be trimmed straight across to prevent ingrown toenails.

Feet should be bathed at least once a day. They should be dried thoroughly, particularly between the toes.

Feet, like hands, are entitled to a good soothing lotion. As a matter of fact, a good hand lotion works well for this purpose. If the bottle is going to do for both hands and feet, it should be the large size.

Don't forget the backs of the heels, when applying to the feet.

"Amazing gal, my Amy!"

The efficient way my Amy whizzes through her housework leaves me dizzy, but proud! Take wood floors, for instance. Some gals spend a backbreaking day scrubbing and waxing. But not Amy! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. It takes only half the time and Bruce does practically all the work. And Amy's friends just rave about our beautiful wood floors. My Amy and her Bruce Cleaning Wax sure outsmart tough floor care problems. And I can't help crowing about them.

90 Years Celebrated by Sibelius

Milestone Reached Today by Finland's Famed Composer

HELSINKI (INS)—Finnish Composer Jean Sibelius is observing his 90th birthday today and from Moscow to New York the world of music lovers will observe it too, despite his request that there should be "no special celebration."

There will be a Finnish music day in Russia and a birthday concert in New York. All of Finland has been observing "Music Week," which reaches its climax today.

Sibelius is planning a private family party, although this means scores of relatives, including his five daughters, crowding into the simple white house at Jarvenpaa 20 miles north of Helsinki.

Friends will probably drop in, too, and it is doubtful that they will be turned away. Sibelius usually discourages visitors, but he hates to see people rebuffed coldly. "Tell them I am glad they phoned" he frequently says.

Since 1938, when he conducted a transatlantic broadcast concert, Sibelius and his wife, Aina, have lived in semi-seclusion in the house which has been their home for a half-century.

"Why worry about the music of an old man?" He said to one of his rare visitors. But he is known to be working hard and stacks of unpublished music are said to exist in a locked cabinet in his home. The cabinet is rumored to hold his eighth and ninth symphonies, as well as many other works.

FAMOUS 'FINLANDIA'

Apart from his seven published symphonies, Sibelius probably is best known to the average American for his "Finlandia," a powerful musical panorama of his homeland. He has composed many other works, including a large number of pianoforte pieces and over a hundred songs.

He still draws inspiration from the scenes about him, going for frequent solitary walks through the woods which surround his home.

However he refuses to discuss his present work, partly because of long-standing belief that disclosure will spoil its effectiveness.

The favored visitors who do see the dean of European composers describe him as amazingly robust, quick-witted and well-informed about current affairs in the world of music.

The radio brings this world to his fingertips; he listens constantly and critically to foreign broadcasts, "conducting" performances of his own music with his fingers on the radio's volume control.

LEARNS ENGLISH

Sibelius, who once addressed foreign visitors in Latin, now has acquired a considerable working knowledge of English.

The flood of greetings and presents which has been pouring in from all parts of the world threatens to top that of his 85th birthday, when they arrived literally by the truckload.

Group Enjoys Yule Dinner

Devon Gables was the setting for the Christmas dinner meeting of the Tipacon Chapter of the American Business Women's Association Wednesday evening.

The choir from St. George Greek Orthodox Church sang Christmas hymns preceding the dinner.

The Rev. Soterios Gouvellis spoke on "The Religious Holiday—Christmas." He referred to a motion picture shown of the natives of the Belgian Congo, depicting their primitive lives and the simplicity of their needs and desires. He contrasted them with the civilized people of today.

A brief business meeting conducted by Dorothy Brooks was followed by a white elephant sale. The 45 members attending contributed Christmas cards and stamps to be given the Pontiac State Hospital for the use of the patients.

Mrs. H. C. Van Hise, Mrs. Ossie Gates and Arlene Newcombe were appointed to the nominating committee.

The racer-slim sheath from Ann Fogarty's "New Champion collection" in its most ladylike version . . . pared down sleeves and high neck, carefully edged with surrey fringe . . . Blue Grass tweed in dapple gray or oatmeal.

Amvets Auxiliary Gathers at YWCA

Mrs. Leland Hunt and Mrs. Leon Sirlin were hostesses to Jimmy Dey Post 12 Amvets Auxiliary for the meeting held Wednesday evening in the YWCA.

Mrs. Ernestine Dennis presided at the business session. A report was received by the group from the welfare committee concerning the Thanksgiving basket and plans were made to give a needy family a Christmas basket.

RCA Blushes as 'The Singing Dogs' Prove Difficult to Locate

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — The hot record of the 1955 Yuletide season is a medley of "Jingle Bells" and other ditties rendered by a new combo called "The Singing Dogs" —allegedly two German shepherds, two chihuahuas and a poodle who arfs mezzo.

Although this is undeniably a talented group, we doubt if their disc ever replaces the memorable '53 release titled "I Saw Mommy Kissing Santa Claus."

After all, can a quintet of foreign dogs fill the same spot in the hearts of American music lovers as a snitching little boy soprano from the U.S.A.?

Furthermore, the canine combo is rather suspect at the moment. Even RCA Victor (pops department), confesses it is "almost hysterical" trying to find out if the dogs really do exist.

"We bought their recording sight unseen from the Metronome Record Co. of Sweden," admitted harrassed Ann Fulchino, Victor pops publicity head, "and now that 'Life' wants to do a picture story on the dogs, we can't seem to locate them. We've been trying all over Europe.

"We are not even sure," she choked delicately, "that they still exist as a professional unit."

WOOFING OR NOT

Miss Fulchino admits that the company expects to make about $90,000 on the record whether the dogs are actively woofing or not, but it's "the principle of the thing" that concerns her.

Here the record has sold 413,000 copies in two brief weeks since its introduction—"making it bigger even than Rudolf, the Red-Nosed Reindeer"—and already people are screaming for a sight of the dogs. The public wants them. Hollywood wants them. Ed Sullivan wants them.

"And all we can find out," Ann says, throwing up her hands, "is that the dogs come from Copenhagen and made this record in 1948!"

It is also embarrassing to RCA to realize that it has issued sheet music of the songs so that Americans can teach their own dogs to sing them. And on the front of the sheet music are pictures of the quintet: Caesar and King, the bass-woofing shepherds; Pearl and Pussy, the treble Chihuahuas, and Dolly, the mezzo poodle.

"These pictures were sent to us from Sweden, too, and we took them in good faith and reprinted them. But now it turns out these might not really be the dogs at all . . . why, those might have been Communist borzois doing the singing, for all we know right now!"

GR-GRR TO YOU

Meantime, in American homes, thousands of frustrated dogs are being given singing lessons in "Jingle Bells" which, according to the sheet music, goes like this:

"Bow wow-wow, bow wow-wow,
"Gr-gr-grr, yip-yip yip yip, bow-wow arf-arf wow!"

This is not easy and if we were a dog, we'd say nuts with it.

We wouldn't even talk, unless there were a lot of bones in it for us.

Style Hits Bracelets

Today's fashion accent on bracelets of all kinds has perhaps had its effect on watch bracelets for women. They can, in fact, be chosen just as a piece of jewelry is chosen—for size, shape, color and general personal appeal.

In platinum, karat gold, gold filled and stainless steel, in tailored or gem-studded styles, decorated with leather, mesh panels or brilliantly faceted links watch bracelets are indeed fashionable and practical pieces of jewelry.

Parchment Cards Are Eye-Catchers

Genuine vegetable parchment paper has a particular charm all its own and the employment of this attractive stock for many of the 1955 Christmas cards surely introduces a new note.

Interestingly enough, many years ago parchment paper was in wide use but mainly for cards using the illuminated antique lettering techniques. This modern revival finds the parchment paper lending itself to a wide variety of eye-catching designs never before reproduced on parchment.

Pears combine well with many other foods in salads, fruit cups and desserts. They can be baked and served cold with a garnish of whipped cream or a bit of cream cheese.

Paris Lampshades Use Washable Plastic

Many modern lampshades, seen in Paris, are of washable plastic. Among the latest models also are lampshades made of wicker that look like reversed baskets.

They are painted in vivid colors to match the room decoration.

A striking one on a wrought-iron stand was painted vivid purple. Another modern looking desk lamp had a cream ceramic base shaped like a tre-trunk and topped by a wicker shade painted black.

Best fashion aid to any woman is the full-length mirror. Shows you how you look to others, front and back, and reveals crooked seams, slips that slip and wispy hair straying from under the back of the hat.

Look for Shiny Spot Where Stick Starts

If you have a drawer that sticks, first find the trouble spot—top, bottom or on the sides. The place where the drawer sticks is usually more worn and shiny than the rest of the surface.

If the drawer doesn't stick too badly, try rubbing the surface with soap, paraffin or heavy paste wax.

If that doesn't work you may have to sand down the surface, but in that case, be very careful how you go about it if the spot is where it might show.

Baths, Baths, Baths

Sam Sheppard Now Teaches Auto Mechanics in Ohio Penitentiary

COLUMBUS (INS)—Handsome Dr. Sam Sheppard, onetime driver of a bright red foreign sports car, has settled quietly into the gray anonymity of No. 98860 at Ohio's State Penitentiary.

"There's nothing special about him whatsoever," said Warden Ralph W. Alvis of the once-successful suburban Cleveland osteopath.

The quiet convict is now destined to spend life, with possible parole in ten years, behind bars for the hack-murder of his pregnant wife, Marilyn, on July 4 last year.

There is no sign of the bright lights and emotions that burst out during one of the nation's longest and most publicized trials. The move to the shadows of the boyish face, once plastered on front pages across the nation, has been complete.

Warden Alvis said:

NO ONE KNOWS HIM

"He can walk across the prison yard and nobody would recognize him."

He receives no special favors and asks none, nor does any member of his family ask favors for him.

"They've been extremely cooperative," the warden stated.

He rises at 6:30 a.m. to the screech of the prison guards' whistles and the glare of pen lights flicking on for the day. He's in a 9x9x7½ foot cell with three other men, all—as he—teachers in the penitentiary's "vocational" training school.

He uses the same washbowl as the others, and sleeps in one of the four bunks which fold up against the cell walls when not in use.

He gazes out the same barred window into the same bleak prison yard shared by his cellmates and the thousands of other prisoners. His room does not overlook the wall and the street beyond and the "outside." He's on the inside, looking in.

RECEIVES MAIL

"There's nothing in Dr. Sam's daily life today to explain why he receives so much mail from the millions who read about him, telling him they're sure he's innocent or they're sure he's guilty.

He never sees this mail. It's returned to the senders by the prison censors.

The only persons allowed to write to him are the members of his immediate family, close friends and attorneys. And, he is only allowed to write one letter a week in return, except in special cases when it is "necessary" to correspond with the lawyers.

FAMILY VISITS

The Sheppard family visits him about once a month, Warden Alvis said, although he is allowed a visit a week from blood relatives. Dr. Sam hasn't seen his son, Chip, in almost a year. The boy is never taken to the prison.

On Saturday morning, he is allowed to go to a prison movie and if he wants, to church on Sunday. Two hours a week he may spend in either the prison courtyard or gymnasium. This is the only exercise the athletically-built, 31-year-old convicted murderer gets.

At 8 o'clock every morning, after a half hour's breakfast, Dr. Sam is marched with the other prisoners in his group to the training school where, as an assistant instructor in automotives, he teaches 12 other inmates to be mechanics.

NOT A CITIZEN

It's a far cry from the days when he tinkered with the engine of his fancy, red Jaguar parked in the two-car garage of his Bay Village home on the Lake Erie shore.

If he pays attention during the day's routine to the slamming cell doors giving off the ring of iron upon iron; if he realizes that he is no longer a citizen, that, unless his Ohio Supreme Court appeal comes through, he is bound by the bare prison procedure and regulations for the next 10 years, he gives no indication of it.

"He is a good inmate," Warden Alvis concludes, "has a perfect conduct record and presents no problem. As far as I'm concerned, he's just like one of the others."

Federal, state and Indian reservation lands account for about 82 per cent of the total domain of Arizona.

Nuclear Electric Power Not Costly

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Atomic Energy Commission has presented a program to achieve sensationally cheap nuclear electric power as well as the kind that will cost moderately less than conventional kilowatts.

Although the realization of both goals is still a number of years away, latest estimates indicate that harnessing the atom at a saving to power consumers can now be regarded as a certainty even in low-cost areas.

The program was described by top AEC experts last night in a four-hour panel discussion emphasizing the rapid rate at which nuclear power costs will decline as greater experience and more large - scale production are achieved.

Here are the latest predictions of actual costs for electricity from the nation's first full-scale atomic powerplant to be completed in 1957 at Shippingport, Pa.:

1. For the first fuel load—5.2 cents per kilowatt hour.

2. For the second fuel load—3.2 cents per kilowatt hour.

3. For the third fuel load—1.5 cents per kilowatt hour.

The first fuel load will consist of 12 tons of natural uranium enriched with between 110 and 132 pounds of refined atomic explosive. It is expected to "burn" two years or more without processing.

AVERAGE .8 CENTS

The second fuel load will involve the same amount, but improvements will make possible the extraction of 50 per cent more power—90,000 kilowatts—and operation much closer to full capacity.

Even the 1.5-cent cost to be realized from the third fuel load will be above the U.S. average for producing electricity from coal. Conventional costs average between .7 and .8 cents per kilowatt hour.

However, since the initial power plant involves the cost of specially-designed, hand-made parts that later will become standard, the experts made it clear that economic nuclear power is within reach.

In fact, they said, economic power will be realized from "short-range" projects—those on which construction can start now—and that long-range projects should provide nuclear power that will be "not only competitive, but cheap."

Chief among the long-range projects is the so-called "breeder" reactor, which will produce more atomic fuel than it burns. The first large-scale version of this device may be completed in 1960.

The experts said that all nuclear plants now being built or under active consideration could be turning out one million kilowatts of continuous power by 1962. This would be about one per cent of the nation's power total.

The number of atomic plants is expected to multiply a hundredfold during the 1960's. After 1970, all new generating stations may be nuclear fuel.

Brucker Acts as Mediator in Rhee-Japan Argument

SEOUL (AP)—U.S. Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker talked nearly two hours with President Syngman Rhee yesterday and said afterwards "it will take time" for South Korea and Japan to settle their disputes.

The secretary expressed hope for the two allies to resolve the quarrel which worsened when South Korea threatened recently to "shoot and if necessary sink" Japanese fishing boats which ventured inside the Syngman Rhee line, 60 miles off Korea.

Brucker emphasized he was not a mediator, although the Japanese had asked his help.

Nevertheless, Brucker—first top ranking official of President Eisenhower's administration to see Rhee in the crisis—indicated he feels strongly on the need for America's two allies to get along. He implied he conveyed some of these feelings to Rhee.

REDS CAN GLOAT

Talking informally with newsmen Brucker commented:

"Communists must be gloating," over the ROK-Japan difficulties.

"It would be a shame" if such a dispute disrupts free world unity.

Brucker commented he found Rhee to be "a real patriot . . . ready to wade in against Communists singlehanded."

Brucker's statement, in an interview aboard his plane en route from Tokyo to Seoul, reflected the apprehension of American leaders in the Far East that a flareup of violence between the two allies over the Syngman Rhee fishing line would play into Communist hands.

HEY-DAY FOR REDS

"A Japan-Korea conflict would be quite a heyday for the Communists," said another high American source.

American leaders are exploiting this fact in trying to persuade South Korea's violently anti-Communist leaders to save their threats for the Reds.

Brucker greeted South Korean President Rhee. But before going to his presidential mansion he pointedly told newsmen he felt any American attempts to mediate the Japan-Korea fishing dispute is the business of the State Department, certainly not his.

OPENING SYSTEM — Sylvan Lake Mayor Anthony Kreps turned the valve yesterday to open service of the city's new $275,000 water system, as City Manager Ernest L. Ethier looks on. Twenty-three homes are currently connected with the system, and others will be as soon as tap fees are paid.

New Water System Opens to Supply Sylvan Homes

Water began flowing Tuesday into 23 Sylvan Lake homes through the new $275,000 city water system.

Sylvan Lake Mayor Anthony Kreps turned the valve that sent the water gushing through the new lines into the homes that had been connected up to the system.

Workers will continue to make these connections for those residents that pay the required tap connection fees.

City Manager Ernest L. Ethier said 65 applications and payments have been made for connection and that workers were hooking up nine or ten homes a day to the new system.

The project was financed by a $125,000 special assessment-general obligation bond issue and a $100,000 issue financed by general obligation. Both issues were approved by Sylvan Lake voters June 25, 1954.

The City Council is scheduled to meet tonight at 8 p.m. to discuss an additional $50,000 bond issue to finance the tanks, meters and other equipment.

Both Kreps and Ethier hope for increased applications for connection to the system. Kreps said questionnaires sent to residents before the system began, revealed that about 205 homes stated intention to use the system.

Previously, residents employed wells for their source of water.

Mayor Kreps stated that some 35 to 40 homes were without water for about six months and they were given priority in the new system.

Girl, 19, Found Dazed but Well

Clergyman's Daughter Discovered Walking on Highway in Colorado

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—A minister's 19-year-old daughter, at first feared the victim of an abduction, was found yesterday walking on the highway near La Junta, east of here.

Police Capt. James Rafferty said the girl, Donna May Upton, seemed to be in a dazed condition and could not explain her actions. There was no evidence, he said, to show she had been taken forcibly from her home.

She was dressed in men's clothing and her blonde hair had been clipped short, Rafferty said.

The girl was taken to Parkview Hospital here. Physicians said she had not been raped and her clothing and body showed no signs of a struggle.

Rafferty said the girl told officers at La Junta, "my name is Henry and I am from Baltimore." He said he learned Miss Upton has a boy friend in Baltimore.

The girl said little else and seemed unable to respond to questioning. Rafferty said she appeared to be suffering from an emotional or mental upset.

Her broken wristwatch was found last night near an ash pit back of her house. Shortly before this, she had borrowed her brother's automobile to drive to the post office.

The girl is a student laboratory technician at the state mental hospital here.

Chief Pontiac Batters Weary British in Fort Detroit

(Michigan's history is rich and alive. Too often it is lost in the dullness of school time lessons. In an effort to catch the pulse of the past, the following series was compiled from eyewitness accounts on file in the Michigan historical collections, University of Michigan, with the aid of Assistant Director P. Clever Bald.)

By JOHN BARBOUR

DETROIT, July 31, 1763 (AP) — Ottawa Chief Pontiac, allied with Hurons and Potawatomi, dealt British forces at besieged Fort Detroit a serious blow today—the 83rd day in Pontiac's long siege.

Vowed to evict the British from Detroit, Pontiac has cut off all land entry to the fort, leaving only the waterway, guarded by two British warships, open for supplies and reinforcements.

British officials said that the Ottawas ambushed a British column early this morning along the River road (now Jefferson Avenue), killing its commander, Capt. James Dalyell and killing or wounding 58 officers and men.

The British added that the Indians had apparently been tipped off by some sympathetic Frenchmen in the fort. The British column of 250 men were attempting a night attack on the Ottawa village, about two miles from the fort.

Pontiac began his siege May 9 and his rebellion has brought Indians to arms from Pennsylvania westward.

Nearly every fort in Michigan has fallen to Indian attack, including Fort St. Joseph (now Niles). The worst massacre was at Fort Michilimackinac, where Chippewa tribesmen killed 26.

Chief Pontiac's action has touched off similar Indian insurrections throughout the western territories. The British troops in this morning's sortee against the Ottawas were new reinforcements from Fort Niagara, one of the few British forts left standing.

Earlier a hundred men from Fort Niagara, sent to relieve Fort Detroit, were ambushed by the Ottawas who rowed past the fort in triumph in the British small boats.

Survivors from today's attack said the Indians struck in the dark, firing their guns at the head of the British column. When the British failed to retreat, the Indians also attacked from the rear.

Finally, the British were able to disengage and make their way back to the fort with at least 20 per cent casualties. It was the hardest blow Pontiac had yet struck at the embattled garrison.

(It was also the last major blow Pontiac was to strike at the fort. His allies, the Hurons and Potawatomies, made peace with the British. Pontiac was without a great army. The treaty of peace between the French and the British was the last straw. The place where Pontiac had ambushed the British was called Bloody Run, now just another section of Detroit. Pontiac, deprived of glory, died at the hand of a Peoria Indian in an unfriendly land, six years later.)

The Coast Guard once known as the revenue cutter service, was established in 1790 while the present U.S. navy did not follow until 1799.

Love Thy Neighbor

Friends to Play Santa for Polio-Stricken Pair

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — It could have been a bleak Christmas for Betty and Herb Smith.

But thanks to their neighbors in the closely knit California city of Ojai, Christmas won't be too bad, and the new year will shine bright for the future.

The Smiths are William H., 31, and Betty, 29, formerly of Spokane, Wash. He is a teacher at Nordhoff High School, and she teaches at the Ojai Cooperative Nursery School.

Both have been in iron lungs at Ventura County General Hospital since Oct. 10. The has been out of the respirator on rare occasions since then. She has been in her lung continuously.

They contracted polio within 24 hours of each other, and the first problem doctors faced was that of morale.

The Smiths have two children, Debra Susan, 5, and Jody Lyn, 2. They have a home. It has a mortgage.

They have payments to keep up. Herb added to his teacher's salary by coaching the Nordhoff High School junior varsity football team.

It was in September that Jody became ill. She was treated for fevers and headaches, but no one thought of polio. The child appeared to recover.

Then, on a brisk October weekend, Mrs. Smith complained of the headache - dizziness - fever symptoms. She was rushed to the hospital.

Eighteen hours later Smith was in an iron lung next to her.

Jody had recovered from a mild polio attack, the doctors decided.

Mrs. Ernestine Hix, Mrs. Smith's mother, rushed down from Spokane, took charge of the house and set things right. Among her more pleasant chores: "I had to give the children a lot of loving."

And then the Ojai Valley Teachers Assn. set to work. It promoted a benefit raffle, made $2,200 on a television set giveaway.

Smith's students at Nordhoff donated $300—the complete receipts—from the Ojai-Santa Barbara Catholic High School football game. Town folks collected $300.

Where did the money go?

Debra blew out the candles on a fancily decorated birthday cake. The youngsters are eating three meals a day. They look healthy and happy.

Three nurses on round-the-clock duty for the Smiths are paid by the March of Dimes and the fund.

There will be a Christmas tree and presents for Debra and Jody. Students from the high school will act as Santa's helpers.

When the Smiths leave the hospital, the mortgage will be paid up to date.

"We've only done what should be done," say the teachers and townspeople.

Local Trainmen Ask Referendum

2 Members Bring Suit Against Firm, Union Over Work Week

Two members of Oakland County Local 1033, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, are suing their union international and the Grand Trunk Western Railroad Co. in Circuit Court here.

Albert Biron and Gordon MacLean claim they and other trainmen were forced to change from a six to a five-day work week Dec. 4 in a proceeding they allege is illegal under the union constitution.

The two hold that individual workers will lose more than $1,500 per year under the new setup.

The international constitution, they assert, states that a general wage schedule can't be changed without a majority vote of lodges on the system or a member referendum.

Neither of the required steps was taken, they allege, and ask the court to order a referendum vote on the change. No hearing date has been set.

Mother Faces Trial in Wyoming Murder

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — A 42-year-old mother was arrested and charged with murder yesterday in the death of her husband's former wife.

Mrs. Rose Alexander was jailed without bond after telling a coroner's jury she buried the body of Mrs. Barbara Alexander, 27, in the cellar of a Casper home and concealed her death because "it would hurt the children."

Ray Whitaker, Natrona County attorney, said the short, heavy-set woman would be arraigned today.

The grey-haired mother of two was arrested before the jury decided that Barbara Alexander "came to her death by a fractured skull as result of a blow or blows struck by a person or persons unknown."

In hesitant, barely audible tones, Rose testified that Barbara's death July 18, 1953, was accidental.

Texas Boy, 15, Held in Relative's Murder

GONZALES, Tex. (AP)—A 15-year-old distant relative was held today in the murder of a leading Negro citizen, but it wasn't established whether it aws for $17 or because of a family quarrel.

Sheriff L. O McGinty said yesterday L. C. Henry admitted slugging Herbert Johnson, 58, with a fence post, dragging the body behind a car for half a mile and setting fire to it and the car.

Johnson was a leader in the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People at nearby Schulenburg, owned a farm and did considerable livestock trading. The boy is a grandson of Willie Tennon, an uncle of Johnson.

Authorities said the boy was unable clearly to state his motive, although he said at one time his grandfather had argued with Johnson two years ago.

The sheriff said Henry told of taking Johnson's wallet containing $17 and hiding his bloody trousers.

Under Texas law, the heaviest penalty Henry can receive is being held in a boys' reformatory until he is 21.

He Gives Up His Shirt

DETROIT (AP)—A bandit gave the shirt off his back following a robbery. The man, clad in a gaudy shirt, shoved a note demanding money in the cashier's cage of a downtown theater. The cashier gave him $44 and he fled down the street, discarding his shirt as he ran.

Automobile License Plate Finally Is Standardized

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Feature Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The automobile liceense plate finally is settling down after 54 carefree years in which it has come in all shapes and sizes.

A standardized, 6 by 12 inch plate, in which even the bolt holes are fixed down to 1/16 of an inch, has been agreed on by the 48 states, the District of Columbia, the provinces of Canada, Mexico and Puerto Rico.

The target date for its universal use: Oct. 1, 1957.

And why should license plates be standardized?

L. S. Harris, executive director of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, said today there are several advantages.

HELPS MANUFACTURER

First, he said, it's a big help to manufacturers. Since they have had to serve a variety of plates—including Tennessee's, cut out in the shape of the state—they have tended to put brackets on any old way. In the future, the rear license plate probably will be slipped on from inside the trunk.

Second, it should help the police. They figure it will be easier to light, and better protected from mud.

Third, it should help motorists, Harris said, by being easier to install and, since it will be locked in the trunk, harder to steal.

Most manufacturers will begin by working on where to put the rear plate. That's because every member of the 65 organizations in the Vehicle Administrators' Association has laws calling for rear plates. Only two-thirds of them require front plates, too.

NO ONE KNOWS

Look at New York.

Legally, it's a two plate state. Yet beginning with the war New York passed emergency legislation saying that this year we'll do with one. Each year it has passed similar emergency measures.

Sure, they know the war is over. But they also know they can save a half million dollars in materials if they don't make a front plate.

FIRST PLATES

New York probably had the first license plates, back in 1901. In those days an automobilist went dow, registered his car with the county clerk, got a number and went home and made his own license, usually out of leather and ordinary house numbers.

Not until around 1913 did states realize they had a potential mint here, and started making license plates to raise tax money.

It seemed like a good time to ask Harris if any more standardizations are in the works. He said, yes, in the field of law enforcement. A new code is being agreed on by all the states, and if you want a one-word description, Harris has it: Tougher.

"A good idea," Harris said. "For too long we have paid too little attention to the problem of traffic violations, and I'm hoping this code will help.

"If someone stepped out on Pennsylvania Avenue"—the main drag between the Capitol and the White House—"and fired a pistol into the air, every cop in town would come running. And yet, compared with the fellow who barrels through a red light, he's not nearly as dangerous."

Harriman Removes 'Color' From Licenses

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman has removed the question of "color" from New York state drivers' licenses and applications for them. He said it was "offensive."

Negro groups had sought the action.

Supreme Court Hears the Law

Ullman's Lawyer Tells Judges What Meaning of Fifth Amendment Is

WASHINGTON (AP) — A lawyer for William Ludwig Ullman has told the Supreme Court the Fifth Amendment entitles a witness to remain silent if he fears his testimony might tend to incriminate him.

Leonard B. Boudin, the attorney, said yesterday immunity laws violate the Constitution if they compel testimony.

But Charles F. Barber, arguing that the 1954 Immunity Act does not violate the Fifth Amendment because he said it provides immunity from prosecution just as broad as the privilege against self-incrimination.

The court then took the question under study.

Ullman, a 47-year-old former Air Force major and onetime Treasury Department employe, raised this first challenge to the law's validity in appealing a 6-month jail sentence he drew earlier this year after conviction for contempt of court.

Ullman has been named in congressional investigations of Soviet spy activity in Washington. He was convicted of contempt after he refused to testify before a New York grand jury looking into wartime judge had granted him immunity from prosecution that might result from anything he told the panel.

The immunity law was passed by Congress in an effort to force testimony from witnesses reluctant to speak out before grand juries, congressional committees or in court.

Chick Should Squawk About This Treatment

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Harold L. Steinfeld parted with his chicken yesterday when he was released from jail.

When Steinfeld, 37, was arrested and charged with drunkenness, he insisted on taking to jail with him a live chicken he had in his car.

After his fine was suspended and he paid court costs, steinfeld was released and left without asking for the fowl.

Police said they didn't know how he happened to have the chicken. Jailer William Knauf said he believed the bird would be on the jail menu soon.

MSU Grads Given View of Americans

EAST LANSING (AP)—"America is fast becoming a looking and listening audience—numerous, intense, hypnotized" the Michigan State University fall term graduating class was told Tuesday night.

Dr. John H. Dawson, Adrian College president, told the graduates this country needs "a real rebirth of cultural skill and participation."

"We need to inject a new spirit of creative power at the grassroots of American cultural life—the home, Dr. Dawson said. "No one can lead the way more readily than the college graduate. This is your responsibility and our hope.

"One basic function of all education," he said, "is to provide cultural training for men and women who come to our campuses. While many colleges provide this training, most of us are consigned to the role of spectator in our enjoyment of culture."

Included in the fall graduation class were 326 seniors and 171 advance-degree students.

Shipping Boom Seen by Official

Maritime Administrator Says New Ideas, Plans to Keep Shipyards Busy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Maritime Administrator says U. S. shipyards will be kept in business by new ideas and better planning —and by Congress' continued willingness to grant subsidies.

Administrator Clarence G. Morse said in an interview that the current fiscal year, ending next June 30, will see a half-billion dollars' worth of U. S. shipyard work. That would provide a sharp contrast with the preceding year when, for a time, the yards were finishing up contracts with no new orders in their files.

The 1955-1956 pace was speeded by contracts for two big passenger ships.

While that pace cannot be expected to continue, Morse foresees a steady gait of new construction, conversion and modernization that would sustain the maritime administration's hope for 36,000 shipyard workers regularly employed. There were only about 5,000, according to Maritime figures, last spring.

Morse's estimate of fiscal 1956 as a half-billion dollar shipbuilding year breaks down like this:

Five ships totaling 43 million dollars delivered by U. S. yards since July 1.

Work in progress in yards today, including new construction, conversion and modernization, 255 million.

"Petty firm" intentions of work to be done during the remainder of the year, 300 million.

Foreign shipyards, notably in West Germany, the Netherlands and Italy, are booming. Thus the ever present problem of the U. S. shipbuilding industry, and the U. S. Merchant Marine itself, has again been emphasized.

U. S. operators cite comparative wages here and abroad to bolster their contention that they cannot remain in competition without help.

Homes of Future to Be 90 Per Cent Factory Produced

LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN, Tenn. (INS)—A manufacturer of prefabricated homes says that eventually 90 per cent of all single-family homes would be factory produced.

P. S. Knox Jr., president of the Prefabricated Home Manufacturer's Institute, made the statement during the group's recent meeting.

Knox said: "As leaders for better and more economical housing we will employ the new and startling techniques that are now discernible on the industrial horizon and we will carry the mass production of homes to a dominant place in the economy.

Knox said the prefabbers now account for about ten per cent of all homes produced in the U. S.

He declared: "Our job is to capture 20, 40 and ultimately 90 per cent of this tremendous field. The only thing that will stand in the way of this goal in the next ten or 20 years is lack of vigorous action and imaginative thinking on our own part."

Glacier Still Moving, Investigation Shows

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP) — The effects of the great glacial ages were reviewed when scientists reported finding a glacier still advancing or at least holding its own, unlike most of the world's great ice masses.

The Ohio State University team said solid ice on the glacier moved about half an inch per day at the surface. The team reported after an expedition which studied part of the great Greenland ice cap. A final report is due later.

Dr. Richard P. Goldthwait, OSU geologist who led the team, said advance of the ice edge is the result of increased snowfall due to warmer weather which results from encroachment of the sea in nearby areas.

The group camped about 40 miles north of Thule Air Force Base in northwest Greenland, about 1,000 miles from the North Pole. The study was part of a program sponsored by the snow, ice and permafrost division of the U.S. Army Engineers.

Firm Declares Dividend

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Directors of Hanson-Vanwinkle-Munning Co., operators of the J. C. Miller Division in Grand Rapids, have declared a dividend of 15 cents per share on the $3.50 par value common stock, payable Dec. 31 to stockholders of record Dec. 15.

Precious moment for Mother with clean, fresh clothes like these!

all answers the question: "How clean is clean?" Clothes washed in all are completely clean because its "controlled suds" rinse out completely! There's never any Suds Scum to dim the brightness of fresh-washed clothes... and stain them during ironing.

Millions of women prefer all. Automatic washer makers prescribe all to get the best possible performance out of their machines. The photographs below show you why.

Actual photos of transparent automatic washers prove:

How all can wash so clean yet rinse as free!

Thick suds can leave Suds Scum — as this picture clearly shows. Wash water has been drained out... but look what remains! A blanket of sticky suds that cling to fabrics and stubbornly resist being rinsed away. That's why clothes washed in thick suds can so often look disappointingly dull and gray.

See the difference with all! Again, wash water has been drained away. But this time you see no hard-to-rinse-away suds. all gets clothes completely clean because its "controlled suds" rinse out completely. That's why clothes washed in all are always so soft and fresh, and iron so beautifully.

Buy all today... for best results

WE GIVE U.S. SAVING STAMPS

Here's how we feel about giving stamps with merchandise. Sure we give stamps. It's a stamp world today. We had to give stamps to keep from losing customers to our competition. But to put it simply . . . we'd rather see our government get the profits than the backers of the "trading stamp" schemes. Those who control the purple stamps, the pink stamps, etc., etc., are reaping a golden profit from their venture. In short, these men are netting millions of dollars from merchant and customer alike in exchange for a few pennies of trading value and no cash value.

We are giving U. S. Savings Stamps because these millions of dollars could, and should be put to a more universal and unselfish use. Consider what it would mean if every trading stamp given were a 10 cent Savings Stamp. It would mean billions of dollars for our government which would bring about lower taxes, a more secure country and a stronger government. Plus this it would mean savings for each citizen to educate his children, to aid in case of emergency in the family and to provide for his future.

U. S. Savings Stamps give this revenue to the government today and to the citizen tomorrow. As long as you're getting stamps with your purchases, shop where you get the stamps with a future, U. S. Savings Stamps. What's good for you is good for your government; what's good for your government is good for you . . . get U. S. Savings Stamps FREE at Spadafore's.

Bride Enjoys Holiday Baking

HER FIRST CHRISTMAS BAKING — Mrs. Bruce Jacobsen, a September bride, is enthusiastically making her first Christmas cookies in her own home. She has also had cookie-making sessions with both her mother, Mrs. George Shearer, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Harold S. Jacobsen.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

There's a certain thrill about being a new homemaker at Christmas time. For the first time you are on your own and can plan what you will do in the way of Christmas food. You can make fruitcake early in November and store it away, taking it out each week, if you like, to see how it is progressing.

You can go on a regular cookie binge and spend hours making the fancy cookies you've always wanted to try. That is what Marilyn Shearer Jacobsen is doing this year. She's having the time of her life too.

Both her mother and her husband's mother are expert cookie makers. Marilyn has shared a day with each of them. But she has enjoyed in a special way working in her own tiny kitchen.

Since the test of all good food is in the eating, Marilyn has proof that her cookies are delicious. Her young husband looks forward each evening to sampling the day's baking.

One of Marilyn's favorite recipes is for a rolled cookie. You may use a Springerle rolling pin on this dough, as it does not rise.

BERLINER KRANZ
By Mrs. Bruce Jacobsen

½ cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 egg
2¼ cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup granulated sugar

Cream butter and sugar until fluffy. Add orange rind and egg. Beat until light. Add flour and salt. Chill several hours or until firm.

Roll out ⅛-inch thick on floured board. Cut with a 2-inch doughnut cutter. Bake 10-12 minutes in a 400-degree oven. If desired, sprinkle with sugar or candy decorations before baking. Makes about 4 dozen.

Bite-Sized Fritters Are Newest Appetizer

Newest thing in appetizer treats—bite-sized fritters! To make, use a popover mix, preparing batter as directed on package, then stir in contents one small can deviled ham.

Dip drained pineapple chunks, whole shrimp, bits of apple, hunks of crabmeat or what-have-you into batter, then drop at once into hot fat. Let sizzle to a golden brown, remove to paper toweling and drain. Delicious hot or cold.

Glaze Carrots, Orange for Vegetable Variety

Nearly every homemaker looks for new ways to serve her family vegetables. Don't you? Here, a flavor of orange combines engagingly with canned whole carrots to give them new appeal.

Mix 2 tablespoons of sugar with 1 tablespoon melted butter in a saucepan. Add drained carrot and an orange, peeled and sliced. Cook until carrots and orange are glazed.

If you use cellophane-wrapped candies to trim your tree you've not only got a gay-colored decoration, but also a snack for visiting youngsters.

Try Pineapple Dumplings

Fruit dumplings are an old-fashioned dessert that should not be forgotten. A fresh approach to the dumpling category is demonstrated in the recipe given below. Golden pineapple chunks are rolled up in a tender pastry . . . there isn't a better way to end a meal.

Serve Pineapple Dumplings warm with a topping of cream or a hard sauce.

Baked Pineapple Dumplings

¾ cup brown sugar
1½ cups water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Pastry recipe using 1½ cups flour
1 No. 2½ can pineapple chunks, drained
4 tablespoons brown sugar
2 teaspoons butter or margarine

Combine the two-third cup brown sugar, water and 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in a saucepan and bring to a boil. Boil five minutes.

Roll pastry to about one-eighth inch thickness and cut into six 6-inch squares. Drain pineapple thoroughly, and place five or six chunks in the center of each square. Sprinkle each with 1 tablespoon brown sugar and place one-half teaspoon butter on each.

Bring corners of pastry up over the top of pineapple. Moisten edges and seal. Place a little apart in baking dish and pour hot syrup around dumplings.

Bake at 425 degrees for 30 minutes, or until dumplings are nicely browned. Serve warm with cream or hard sauce. Serves six.

Cantonese Shrimp Varies Your Menu

Cantonese Shrimp

2 tablespoons peanut oil
½ pound ground lean pork
½ cup very finely diced carrot
½ cup very finely diced celery
2 cloves garlic (crushed)
2 bouillon cubes
1¾ cups boiling water
1 pound shrimp (cooked and shelled and deveined)
3 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup cold water
4 teaspoons American-type sauce
½ to ½ teaspoon sugar
2 finely sliced scallions with most of green tops included (if desired)

Heat oil in 10-inch skillet; add pork, carrot, celery and garlic. Mash meat with long-handled two-tined fork, over moderately high heat, until it loses its red color.

Meanwhile cut shrimp in half lengthwise.

Stir cornstarch, cold water, soy sauce and sugar together until smooth; add to skillet and stir constantly until sauce is clear and thickened. Add shrimp; reheat.

Sprinkle with scallions (if used) before serving. Makes four servings.

Escallop Blends Shrimp, Cheese

Escalloped potatoes, escalloped tomatoes, escalloped oysters are all long-time favorites. But why the name? The dictionary says a dish is called "escalloped" when the surface forms a pattern of tiny scallops.

And what could be more scallopy than rows of curly shrimp? So, here's a brand new "escallop" from the Shrimp Association of the Americas, a casserole recipe which add to cheese and shrimp, both richly endowed with easily digested protein, other highly nutritious foods—milk, eggs and enriched bread cubes.

Escalloped Shrimp and Cheese

2½ pounds shrimp, fresh or frozen
4 slices enriched bread
1 can (4 ounces) grated cheese
2 eggs
2½ cups milk
½ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon paprika

Shell and devein the shrimp but do not cook. Cut bread into small cubes. Butter a 1½-quart casserole. Place a layer of bread cubes on the bottom, next a layer of shrimp and grated cheese. Repeat.

Beat eggs with milk and add seasonings. Pour this mixture over casserole. Bake in a 325-degree oven for approximately 45 minutes, or until shrimp are a rosy pink.

If during the baking, the mixture seems dry, add a small amount of milk. Makes six servings.

Sour Cream Sauce Tops Pickle Steak

Pickle-Stuffed Steak Roll

2 pounds chuck steak (cut ¼-inch thick)
Salt and pepper
¼ cup sweet pickle relish
2 tablespoons shortening
¼ cup sliced onions
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
¼ cup water
1 cup sour cream

Divide steaks into six to eight portions. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Spread each piece with about 1 tablespoon pickle relish. Roll jelly roll fashion. Secure with toothpicks.

Melt shortening in skillet over low heat; add onions and saute until tender. Add steak rolls and brown on all sides. Remove rolls and place in casserole.

Combine flour with shortening and onions. Stir until smooth. Gradually add water and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and smooth. Stir in sour cream; heat thoroughly.

Pour sauce over meat in casserole. Cover. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) one hour, or until meat is tender. Makes four to six servings.

Decorated Tumblers Add to Yule Festivity

You can add extra sparkle to your Christmas dinner decor by using dime store tumblers. Paint stick-shaped stars all over the smooth surface, using a very fine brush and enamels. Border designs are also good, or an all-over sprinkling of polka dots.

Painting guests' names or date of the Christmas dinner on plain white cups or mugs makes festive take-home items. Remember, a bottle of ordinary red nail polish goes a long way toward decorating accessories.

VANILLA MAN — Make up a batch of Vanilla Man Cookies and please all the small fry. These cookies are really sandwiches, with frosting spread between two cookies. By pressing down you can make the frosting come up into the holes of the top cookie, creating a different look. Let the children help make them.

Little Folks Will Clamor for Vanilla Man Cookies

For children of all ages, an ideal holiday cookie is the "Vanilla Man," double delicious different. And with a heartwarming tradition behind "him."

The Vanilla Man Cookie goes back to the days many a grandmother will remember, when flavoring extracts were brought to suburban and farm homes by an early version of a route man with horse and wagon.

There wasn't a supermarket on every corner then and often a family's vanilla extract had to be hoarded until the "vanilla man" came again. So his arrival was a real event. Children rushed to meet him as they run to the ice cream man today.

It meant that with new supplies again on hand, a favorite holiday vanilla dessert could be expected for supper that evening and cookie jars refilled. Vanilla Man Cookies were created by one such understanding mother.

Here is the recipe. With a color kit, you can "dress" the little man in any color "clothes" you wish.

Vanilla Man Cookies

2 cups sugar
2 cups butter or margarine
4 eggs, well beaten
7 cups flour
5 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
Confectioner's sugar icing
Color kit (four basic pure food colors)

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter or margarine thoroughly; add sugar gradually, blending well. Add eggs and vanilla extract. Beat well. Add dry ingredients: mix thoroughly.

Chill dough. Sketch Vanilla Man about 9 inches tall, complete with stovepipe hat; cut out a pattern in sturdy brown wrapping paper. Roll two pieces of dough out on flat, lightly floured cookie sheet. Using pattern and sharp-pointed knife cut out two men.

Trim away scraps and save for rerolls. On one man (to be top cookie) cut out eyes and buttons with a drinking straw and cut off "shoes" and "mittens." Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for about eight minutes or until edges are lightly brown. Cool on flat surface.

Frost surface of the complete man (to be bottom cookie), including shoes and mittens, with confectioner's sugar icing tinted red, green, pink—any color wanted.

Place cutout top cookie on this and press slightly to make filling come up into holes. Makes about 14 double Vanilla Man Cookies.

Rousing Eye Opener

A tall glass of ice-cold apple juice sharpened to taste with lime juice makes a rousing eye opener for any morning . . . and a brisk refresher for mid-afternoon.

Add a little finely diced celery to those canned salmon croquettes for good flavor and texture contrast.

Honey Flavors Arabian Delight

Even if you don't own a magic lamp, you can enjoy this authentic Near Eastern treat, Arabian Delight. Arabian Delight combines the subtle flavors of honey and almonds.

Arabian Delight

2 cups boiling water
Juice of 2 lemons
16 zwieback
½ cup canned chopped roasted almonds
1 cup honey
Frozen whipped cream

Combine boiling water and lemon juice; pour over zwieback. Let stand until puffed and softened. Drain off liquid.

Sprinkle half the almonds in bottom of 8-inch pie pan. Add half the zwieback and top with half the honey. Add remaining zwieback and honey. Top with remaining almonds.

Bake in moderate oven, 325 degrees, 45 minutes. Cool slightly. Serve warm with cubes of frozen whipped cream. Yield: Six to eight servings.

This Is Season for Harvesting of Cranberries

Autumn is cranberry harvest time, and along with it comes the season to enjoy distinctive fresh cranberry dishes—dishes that give men an incentive to hurry home.

From Labor Day into November men and women in the cranberry growing areas are busily harvesting the new crop. And never have cranberries been of finer quality or more abundant.

Cranberries, unlike most berries or fruit, do not grow on trees or bushes but on thick low-lying vines that cover the cultivated area like a thick plied carpet. The shiny red berries lie close among the foliage.

The big news this year is that uncooked cranberries add color and flavor to a variety of appetizing dishes.

Chicken Companion

Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in a skillet. Stir in 3 cups of bite-size shredded rice biscuits. Sprinkle with three-fourths teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning. Stir over low heat for five minutes. Serve under creamed chicken for a new taste treat.

Enjoy making this Clabber Girl...

Gingerbread upside down cake

A dessert to be remembered, this new and different gingerbread. Notice the delightful flavor variations suggested by the recipe ingredients. Spectacular, you will say, but a fine chance to show how good your baking can be.

UPSIDE DOWN GINGERBREAD Yield: 4-6 servings

¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
4 slices canned pineapple, drained
4 to 5 maraschino cherries, drained
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons ground ginger
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
½ teaspoon ground allspice
¼ teaspoon baking soda
½ cup shortening
½ cup beet or cane sugar
1 egg
½ cup dark molasses
½ cup milk

Spread melted butter or margarine in bottom of oiled or greased 8x8x2-inch pan. Spread brown sugar on top. Arrange pineapple slices (whole or cut) and maraschino cherries in pattern on top of sugar. Sift together flour, baking powder, spices, and soda. Cream together shortening and sugar until fluffy. Beat in egg and molasses. Stir in sifted dry ingredients and milk alternately, a little of each at a time. Spread on top of pineapple. Bake at 350°F. (moderate oven) about 50 minutes. Let stand for 5 minutes in pan. Turn upside down on serving plate. Cut in squares or oblongs, and serve with sweetened whipped cream.

Don't let yourself forget how easy and how good your baking can be (with Clabber Girl, of course).

Sparkling Jelly Is Unusual Gift

If the last days before Christmas find you dashing for gifts to give to family and friends, look to your kitchen for bounty.

Homemade Orange Jelly and Grape Jelly can be made in less than 15 minutes and, when poured into decorative glasses, will bring wreaths of smiles to all on your gift list.

Each recipe requires but a one-minute boil, and results are sure to be perfect. Fresh oranges and frozen concentrated grape juice are the main ingredients, and are readily available for these gifts-to-make-in-a-hurry.

Most 10-cent stores carry brandy snifters which make unique containers. Don't worry about a lid for you can seal the glass with paraffin. Before the paraffin has hardened, stick in a toothpick to anchor a bow or any other appropriate decoration.

Label the jars with notary seals or Christmas stickers then see what fun it is to give gifts from your own kitchen!

WINTERTIME TREATS — Delicate sparkling Orange Jelly waits to bring you a distinctive flavor contrast to a feast which features fowl. Make it for your own holiday meals and to give as an unusual gift. Make Grape Jelly if you prefer that flavor.

Orange Jelly

1 cup juice (3 oranges)
3 cups (2¼ pounds) honey
½ bottle liquid fruit pectin

First, prepare the juice. Squeeze and strain the juice from three medium-sized oranges. Measure 1 cup into a large saucepan.

Then make the jelly. Add honey to juice in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. At once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon, and pour quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with one-eighth inch hot paraffin. Makes about six medium glasses.

Grape Juice Jelly

1 box (2⅞ ounces) powdered fruit pectin
2 cups water
¾ cup (6 ounce can) frozen concentrated grape juice, thawed
3½ cups (1½ pounds) sugar

Measure powdered fruit pectin and water into a large saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly.

Reduce heat to low. Add thawed grape juice and sugar. Stir until both are completely dissolved. (Do not boil.) Remove from heat and pour quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with one-eighth inch hot paraffin. Makes about six medium glasses.

Broiled Applesauce

Feeling unconventional? How about broiling applesauce for a change? Mix 2 tablespoons brown sugar and one-eighth teaspoon cinnamon and sprinkle over a can of applesauce dumped into a shallow metal pan, dot with butter or margarine, and broil just until top is bubbly.

Beef With Onion Gravy

Pot roast smothered in onion gravy is a dish to make you sit up and take seconds. Select a 4 to 5-pound beef pot roast. Brown roast on all sides in heavy pan. Add 1 can (1¼ cups) condensed onion soup. Cover; cook over low heat about three hours or until meat is done. For additional gravy, add water and thicken. Serve roast on large platter and surround with cooked carrots and new potatoes, well-basted with rich onion gravy.

French Meatballs Simmered in Soup

When cooking meat in a soup-sauce, an electric skillet comes in handy on the buffet. Bring it out next time you're having a crowd for pork chops cooked in tomato soup, chicken smothered in mushroom soup, or . . .

Meatballs Parisienne

1 pound ground beef
1 egg, slightly beaten
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
¼ cup milk
¼ teaspoon salt
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed onion soup

Combine beef, egg, crumbs, milk and salt; shape into small meatballs (about 18). Brown meatballs well on all sides; if necessary add a little shortening to keep them from sticking.

Add soup; heat to boiling. Cover; cook over low heat about 30 minutes. Stir occasionally. Six generous servings.

Serve Banana Charlotte With Cornflakes Crunch

There are many ways of eating bananas, in addition to the popular "out-of-hand" method. And here is still another recipe which utilizes this sweet and plentiful fruit in a delicious dessert.

The recipe, Banana Charlotte with Cornflakes Crunch, is suitable to serve at any company party since it is rich and sweet, yet light enough to harmonize with almost any menu.

Banana Charlotte with Cornflakes Crunch

2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1½ cups mashed ripe bananas
1 teaspoon lemon juice
⅔ cup chopped nutmeats
1 cup whipping cream

Cornflakes Crunch

2 tablespoons butter
½ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons water
2 cups cornflakes

Soak gelatin in water. Combine eggs, one-quarter cup sugar and salt. Stir in milk slowly; cook over hot but not boiling water until mixture coats spoon. Add soaked gelatin and remaining sugar; cool.

When mixture begins to thicken, fold in bananas, lemon juice, nutmeats and cream which has been whipped until stiff. Pour into greased ring mold and chill until firm. Serve with Cornflakes Crunch.

Cornflakes Crunch

Melt butter in small saucepan; add sugar and flour blended together, and water. Stir until dissolved. Cook to soft ball stage (236 degrees).

Lemon Sauce Topper

You've probably served lemon sauce many times over cottage pudding. Try it sometimes over sliced oranges and bananas using a little grated orange rind for topping.

Chocolate Meringue Crowns Pumpkin Pie

Charm the crowd with Chocolate Meringue-Pumpkin Pie. Always an easy and popular dessert when serving a group, this pumpkin pie takes on party airs. Let your baker prepare the pies.

To make the chocolate meringue, beat two egg whites until foamy and gradually add one-fourth cup sugar. Beat until meringue is shiny and fold in one-half square grated, unsweetened chocolate. Spread chocolate mixture over top of pie and bake in a moderate oven (350) for 15 minutes.

Hotcakes 'n' Sausage

Thin-as-paper hotcakes, wrapped around crisp small brown sausages, are easy to make on the griddle top of an automatic range. Fasten them with colored toothpicks, sprinkle with grated cheese and brown directly under the broiler. Serve hot with home-fried onions.

PAN SAUTEED SCALLOPS — This toothsome recipe for sauteed scallops is a favorite in New Bedford, Mass., where most of the world's sea scallops are landed. They make a quick, easy meal.

Saute Scallops for Quick Meal

Holiday time is a busy time but the job of feeding the family goes on. You can make it less of a chore if you serve quick, easy-to-prepare meals, and you can gain both time and prestige if the main feature is an intriguing one, like scallops.

This succulent shellfish from the cold Atlantic rates high for hearty table fare. Not only does its nutty, true sea flavor carry real taste-appeal but it is economical, too. There's not a smidgeon of waste or fat to pay for.

Scallops don't have to be deep-fried. You can bake 'em, broil 'em, stew 'em . . . even eat them raw. But one of the best ways (and quickest) is to pan saute them.

Pan-Sauteed Sea Scallops

1½ pounds sea scallops
½ cup fine, dry bread crumbs
¼ teaspoon pepper
Few grains paprika
¼ cup butter, divided
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
3 tablespoons lemon juice
4 slices toast, halved

Roll scallops in bread crumbs. Melt half the butter in a frying pan (do not brown.) Add salt, pepper and paprika. Add scallops; saute slowly until golden brown, turning often (about 10 minutes.)

Remove scallops to serving platter. Add remaining butter to frying pan with lemon juice and parsley. Heat, until butter melts; pour over scallops.

Remove crusts from toast, cut each slice on the diagonal; arrange around scallops. Garnish with parsley sprigs. Makes four servings.

Molasses-Coated Nuts Are Boon to Nibblers

These will take care of nibblers during the holidays!

Combine one-third cup real New Orleans molasses with one-third cup light corn syrup, 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup water; cook slowly, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Cook without stirring to 300 degrees (or when small quantity dropped into cold water forms very brittle ball). Quickly dip nutmeats into syrup; drain on waxed paper.

Add Flavor to Soup

Try this trick for your soup kettle. Put large beef knuckles (cracked) and marrow-filled beef bones in a pan with your favorite seasonings and sear quickly in a very hot (450 degrees) oven. When added to the soup, they'll give fine flavor and color.

Nutritious Baked Eggs Are Easy to Prepare

Like baked eggs? They're easy to prepare, and nutritious. Just butter a custard cup and then break an egg into the cup. Pour a tablespoon of cream over the egg and set the cup in a pan of hot water. Bake the egg in a moderate oven until it is firm — about 20 minutes or longer. Sprinkle with salt and paprika and serve. Tiny crisp buttered croutons may also be sprinkled on top of the egg.

Pipe Cleaner Magic

Borrow a few pipe cleaners from your husband's supply and keep them near your dishwashing area. They're efficient as can be for cleaning the spouts of both coffee pots and teapots, and for the narrow tube of a percolator.

Fruit in Winter Is Needed to Keep You in Top Shape

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Do you serve as much fruit in the winter as you do in summer? During the hot days we are so thirsty for cooling drinks that lemon and orange ades are standard items on our daily food lists. But how about it on these freezing days?

You will remember I'm sure that vitamin C, the vitamin so essential to all-round good health, is not stored in the body. It must be replenished daily. While some vitamin C is to be found in many vegetables, it is only in citrus fruit and tomatoes that we can get concentrated amounts of it.

Fortunately, winter is the season of the citrus fruits, all of which contain vitamin C. Most children need no urging to eat oranges or drink orange juice. Halves of grapefruit make an excellent breakfast fruit. Tangerines are ideal for after-school snacks.

Fresh tomatoes in winter definitely aren't up to summer ones. An occasional one gives color to a salad. Tomato juice, tomato soup and just plain canned tomatoes make good substitutes. Maybe you'll have to disguise them a bit, or use them as flavoring for meat or macaroni. But do try to give your family at least one of these vitamin-C carriers every day.

That does not mean you should neglect other winter fruits. Bananas are a perennial favorite. Right now, quality has improved because the effect of the bad weather and storms is about over.

Purple Emperor grapes never were better. There was a huge 1955 crop, and prices are reasonable. Several kinds of apples are always to be found in the fresh produce section of your favorite store.

In our house cranberries have become almost a staple article of diet. I try to keep Cranberry-Orange Relish on hand all the time (you know that recipe: grind 1 pound raw cranberries with two oranges, peel and all, add 1-¼ to 2 cups of sugar.) Cranberry Sauce keeps equally well.

Just this week I tried a new idea with my recipe for Cranberry Orange bread. It calls for a cup of chopped cranberries and the grated rind of an orange. I merely substituted a cup of Cranberry - Orange relish. Results were pretty good, too.

Winter pears, avocados, fresh pineapple occasionally, dates, fresh coconut, other kinds of grapes—they're all good to eat and good for us. Encourage your family to "piece" on fruit. It won't spoil their meals and it will pay off in good health.

Baked pears are a welcome menu choice for breakfast, supper or anytime in between. Use Bosc pears which hold their shape well in baking, or the juicy Anjou. Serve them with cream or a sauce such as lemon, almond or rum-flavored. Dress them up with jelly and a meringue topping.

Baked Pear Halves

4 to 6 Bosc or Anjou pears
Juice of ½ lemon
Water
Sugar, brown or white

Cut the pears in halves and remove cores. Place, cut side down, in baking dish to which the lemon juice and enough water has been added to cover the bottom of the pan. Cover and bake about 20 to 25 minutes. Remove the cover, turn the pears and sprinkle with sugar, allowing from 1 to 2 teaspoons for each pear half. Return to oven to glaze the pears and complete the baking, from 10 to 15 minutes or until pears are tender.

Whole Baked Pears

Leave the pears whole. Wash and core from stem end, leaving a bit of the blossom end intact to hold filling. Make a simple syrup of ¼ cup sugar and ¼ cup water for six pears and fill centers with syrup. Crushed pineapple or cranberry sauce may be used for the center filling, if desired. Stand pears in baking dish, in which a small amount of water has been added to cover the bottom of the baking dish. Bake at 375 degrees for about 45 minutes.

Steam Canned Pudding and Top With Sauce

Don't miss the many delicious canned puddings that are on the market. Steamed fig, date and chocolate are among the favorites, and it is simple to turn any one of them into a special family treat. Empty the pudding into the top of a double boiler; cover and steam until heated through.

Meantime, mix up this quickie of a sauce: Gradually beat a half cup of powdered sugar and a half teaspoon of instant coffee into one egg. Whip a half cup of heavy cream until stiff and fold into the egg mixture. Cut the pudding into wedges and top with the sauce.

Chili-Filled Peppers Will Satisfy Menfolk

Hot, steaming chili! What man doesn't love a meal of chili con carne! Try this pleasing variation next time you want something good but easy for the man-around-the-house.

Cut three large green peppers in half lengthwise and remove seeds and stems. Cook peppers in boiling salted water until tender. Meanwhile, heat a can of chili con carne. Drain the pepper shells and fill to overflowing with chili. Top with crisp crumbled bacon.

Purple Plums Grown, Canned in Pacific North

Sweet purple plums have been a favorite breakfast fruit and dessert dish of American families for nearly 100 years.

The first plum orchards were set out in 1858 in Wisconsin, Oregon and Washington by the hardiest of the pioneers who settled in the rich, fertile land of what was at that time virtually unexplored wilderness. Oregon, Washington and Idaho are the source of canned purple plums.

There are some 30 firms which grow and pack purple plums. The deep garnet purple plum, which is called the Italian prune type, is grown and canned chiefly in the Pacific Northwest.

Purple plums are harvested when they are at the peak of ripeness. They are canned in extra heavy or in medium syrup. The ripe harvesting and quick canning assures a perfect plum — which holds its natural mild tartness and its lovely, dark oval shape in rich juice the color of burgundy.

Canned purple plums are tree-ripened before they are pickd, handled with great care to insure their flavor, the smoothness of their skins. Cans are hermetically sealed and processed so that all the original flavor and beauty are retained.

Purple plums are high in nutritional value, especially vitamin A. They may be kept open in the can under refrigeration for long periods with no loss of food value.

Rich With Protein

Soy flour is used frequently for raising the protein content of common foods because of its low cost. When sold in bulk, soy flour costs approximately 10 cents a pound and is between 40 and 50 per cent protein. Hence the protein in soy costs about 20 cents a pound. In comparison beefsteak is approximately 20 per cent protein so at 90 cents a pound the protein costs $4.50 a pound.

Try Exotic Dish During Holidays

NEW YORK (INS) — If you're having some special people in for dinner during Christmas week, try a slightly exotic dish like Chicken a la Bordelaise.

Here's the recipe, which will make about four servings:

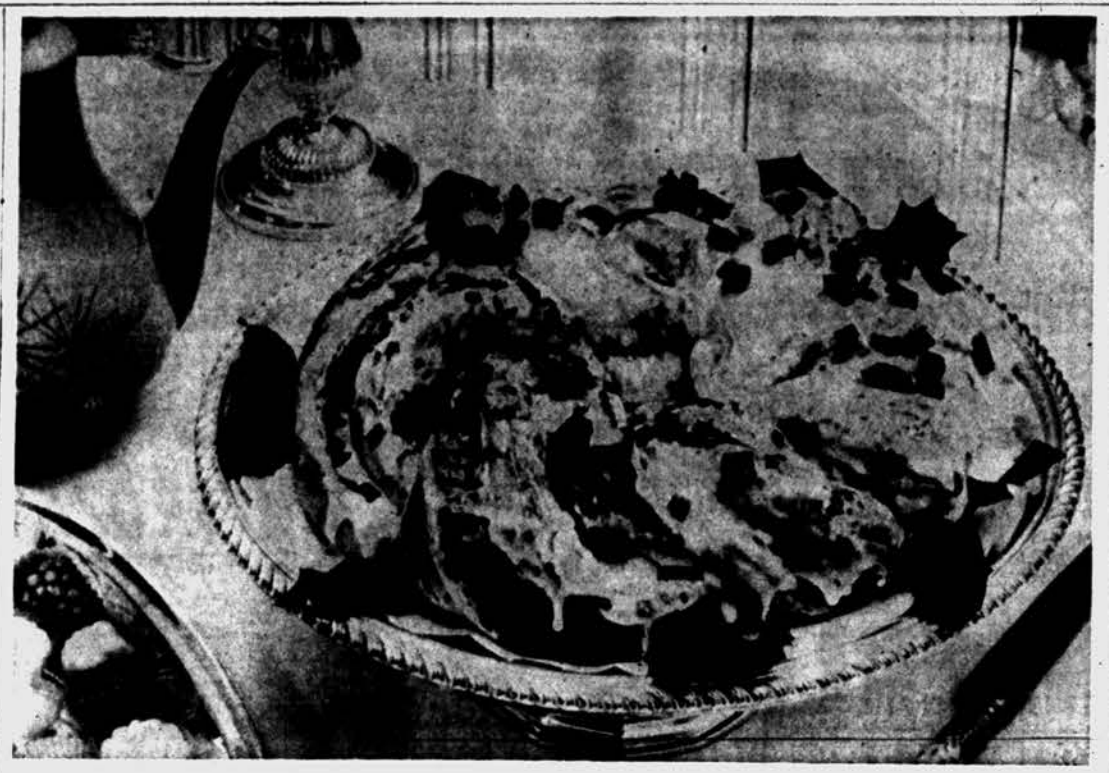

2 chicken breasts, cut in half
4 chicken legs
½ cup flour
½ teaspoon celery salt
¼ cup salad oil
½ cup canned tomatoes
4 ounces canned mushrooms sliced
2 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon marjoram
1 cup Bordeaux dry white table wine

Wash and remove skin from chicken parts. Combine one-half cup flour, celery salt in paper bag. Dredge chicken by placing a few pieces at a time in bag and shaking until covered.

Then brown on both sides, cover, and cook over low heat until almost tender, about 25 minutes.

Combine tomatoes, 2 tablespoons flour, sugar, 1 teaspoon each salt and marjoram. Add Bordeaux wine and cook stirring constantly until thickened, about 10 minutes. Place mushrooms around chicken in skillet, cover and cook over low heat until chicken is tender. Serve in chafing dish if desired.

What to serve with popular frozen fish sticks? How about Tartar Sauce made with mayonnaise, grated onion and pickle relish?

FRUIT RING — So pretty that it would make a table centerpiece, Fruit Ring also is a delicious holiday confection. If you own a freezer, you can do all the work of baking ahead of time. Frost this ring after it has thawed.

You Will Just Love to Eat This Christmas Wreath

Here's a Christmas wreath you'll love to eat—a sweet light yeast cake chock full of sugar and spice and everything nice. It's colorful enough to be a centerpiece. The tricky twist is easy to do and allows a peep of the fruited filling.

Fruit Ring

½ cup milk
½ cup sugar
4 tablespoons shortening
1½ teaspoons salt
½ cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
2 eggs, beaten
5 cups enriched flour

Scald milk; stir in sugar, shortening, and salt. Cool to lukewarm Measure water into a large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, for active dry yeast, lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved.

Blend in lukewarm milk mixture. Add eggs and half the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour.

Turn dough out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; brush the top with butter. Cover; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, about 1 hour and 15 minutes or until doubled in bulk.

Punch down and turn out on lightly floured board. Roll dough into a rectangle one-third inch thick. Spread dough with Fruit Filling and roll jelly-roll fashion. Cut in half length wise.

Twist the two strips of dough cut edge up; form into a ring. Place on a greased baking sheet. Cover and let rise in warm place free from draft until doubled in bulk, about one hour.

Bake at 375 degrees (moderate oven) 35 to 40 minutes. While warm brush with confectioners' sugar frosting and decorate as desired.

Fruit filling

Combine 1¼ cups ground raisins, two-thirds cup brown sugar, 4 teaspoons orange juice and 1 teaspoon orange rind.

Confectioners' Sugar Frosting

Combine one-half cup sifted confectioners' sugar with enough slightly beaten egg white to make a spreading consistency.

Christmas Pie Has Tart Taste

Here's a dessert to fit right into the Christmas theme for holiday refreshments.

Sweet-Tart Christmas Pie is perfect in flavor and appearance. The grapefruit filling gives the tartness needed after a Christmas dinner of turkey or ham.

The filling is tinted a light green and topped with crushed red and white stick candy.

Sweet-Tart Christmas Pie

1 can (1 pound) grapefruit sections
½ cup sugar
Dash of salt
1 tablespoon plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water
Green food coloring
1 cup whipping cream
30 vanilla wafers
¼ cup crushed peppermint stick

Drain grapefruit, save syrup. Combine syrup with sugar and salt. Soften gelatin in cold water. Heat syrup to boiling point. Remove from heat and add gelatin. Stir until completely dissolved.

Cut grapefruit sections into pieces. Add to gelatin and cool until beginning to thicken. Beat with rotary beater until fluffy.

Arrange vanilla wafers to cover bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate. Spoon filling into plate on top of wafers. Sprinkle crushed peppermint stick on top.

Chill until time to serve. Makes eight servings.

Serve Honey Butter

Honey butter makes a breakfast special when served with waffles or pancakes. Beat one-half cup butter or margarine in a small bowl until softened, then beat in one-quarter cup honey gradually; continue to beat until smooth. This will keep well in a covered jar in the refrigerator.

A real treat, easy to serve

EGG-NOG for the HOLIDAYS

COOKIE TREE — This Cookie Tree, direct from Sweden, gives us an idea of ways to decorate with cookies at Christmastime. Your handyman husband can make the tree for you. Use Old-Fashioned Pepparkakor for the cookie cutouts.

In Sweden, Yule Season Means Time for Cookies

STOCKHOLM, Sweden—The week before Christmas in this city of woods, waterways and somber stone buildings is much like the week before Christmas in any large American city.

There are the same uniformed Santas tolling their bells before hanging iron pots, stamping their feet and clapping their frost-pinked hands against the cold. There are the same tinseled decorations in the stores—stores jammed with the same weary clerks waiting on the same weary customers rushing with the same last-ditch shopping.

But there is one big difference. To the Swedes, it isn't "15 More Shopping Days Until Christmas," but "15 More Baking Days Until Christmas."

Pillsbury Mills, Inc., sent Betty and Victor Jorgensen to Europe to bring back typical European recipes. This recipe for a delicious molasses cookie is one they brought back from Sweden.

Old-Fashioned Pepparkakor
(Gammaldags Pepparkakar — Pronounced Gahm-ahl-dahgs Pep-per-kah-kor)

3½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda
1½ teaspoons ginger
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground cloves
½ teaspoon ground cardamom (may be omitted, if desired)
½ cup butter or margarine
¾ cup sugar
1 unbeaten egg
¾ cup molasses
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
Blanched almond halves, if desired

Sift together flour, soda, ginger, cinnamon, cloves and cardamom.

Cream butter. Gradually add sugar, creaming until light and fluffy. Add egg, molasses and orange rind; beat well. Gradually stir in dry ingredients, mixing until well blended. Cover; chill overnight. (Dough may be used in small amounts, if desired; will keep one week.)

Roll out on well-floured pastry cloth or board to one-eighth inch thickness. Cut into various shapes with cookie cutters. Place on greased baking sheet. If desired, place a blanched almond half in center of each cookie.

Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 8 to 10 minutes. (At Christmastime, these cookies often are cut into animal shapes and decorated with confectioners' sugar frosting.) Makes 7 to 8 dozen cookies.

Try Soup on the Rocks for Quick Refresher

With the flurry of gift-buying and gift-wrapping these days, there's one thing you can count on to give that lift when you most need it. Take a minute out to have a drink of soup on the rocks—the delicious, easy-to-prepare beverage made simply by pouring canned beef bouillon over ice cubes.

The hearty, beefy flavor in this low-calorie refresher is just the thing to bring back that festive feeling!

Remove Rib Bones

It's not too difficult to remove the small rib bones from chicken breasts before cooking. Use a sharp knife to cut them away from the meat and backbone. Then it's a cinch to eat the good white meat "in the rough" or with knife and fork.

Shredded coconut used in holiday fare can be freshened by soaking it in sweetened, fresh milk a few minutes before using.

Fruitcake Ideal for Yule Giving

Many readers want a light fruitcake. So here it is — and a delicious one.

Light Fruitcake

3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup butter or margarine, at room temperature
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon ground mace
2 egg yolks
½ cup pineapple juice
1 cup moist shredded coconut
1 cup blanched almonds, sliced
4 cups mixed glazed fruit
2 egg whites

Sift first three ingredients together (save 1 cup to mix with the fruit and nuts). Cream butter or margarine, sugar and ground mace together until fluffy. Beat in egg yolks. Add the 2 cups sifted flour mixture alternately with the pineapple juice.

Mix the coconut, fruit and nuts with the 1 cup flour saved for that purpose. Stir into the batter. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Fold into the cake batter.

Bake in a paper-lined round, 8-inch tube cake pan two hours or until done in a preheated slow oven (300 degrees). Keep a shallow pan of hot water on a rack underneath cake while it is baking.

Remove from oven and cool in the pan. Turn out and remove paper. Wrap in aluminum foil or waxed paper. Store in tightly closed tin cake box.

Pudding Bars Make Hearty, Sweet Dessert

Fig Pudding Bars

¾ cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 large eggs
1 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar
1 cup finely cut soft table-ready dried figs
½ cup coarsely broken walnuts

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Beat eggs until thick and ivory colored; gradually beat in brown sugar until blended.

Beat in sifted dry ingredients just until blended. Mix figs and walnuts; stir into batter, making sure pieces of fig are well distributed.

Turn into greased pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches). Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 30 to 35 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Allow to stand in pan set on cake rack about 20 minutes. Cut into 9 to 12 bars; remove bars from pan with spatula. Serve with a tart Lemon Suace.

Or cut into 24 to 32 small bars and serve as cookies. Store in tightly covered container.

Capital Outlay to Boom-Weeks

Edison Representative Speaks at Rotary Meet Sells Service Station

NEW YORK (AP)—Business capital spending in the first quarter of 1956 will climb to a record high, 12 per cent over the pace of booming 1955, Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks declared today.

In an address prepared for delivery at the opening session of the convention of the National Assn. of Manufacturers, Weeks gave this business forecast for 1956:

"For the first six months at least I am confident we'll move to a higher plane—for the balance of the year I'm optimistic."

Weeks said the estimate of capital expenditures in next year's first quarter was made by the Commerce Department, which will make public details of its survey tomorrow.

Weeks said industry can do its part to help maintain prosperity by keeping prices from getting too high, by managing consumer debt and by careful handling of inventory problems to avoid major cycles.

"Insofar as prices are concerned," he said, "there's no occasion today to charge all the traffic will bear and I hope business management will exercise statesmanlike restraint in this respect."

In the keynote address, NAM President Henry G. Riter III declared that the merger of the AFL and CIO represented a threat to the country's freedom and prosperity.

Riter, also president of Thomas A. Edison, Inc., West Orange, N. J., said:

GM Sets Records in Automobile Sales

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors says its dealers set more sales records for new and used cars in November, as well as for the first 11 months of the year.

The company said its dealers sold 3,460,456 new cars in the January-November period and 1,531,593 used cars. It said the new car figures were 39.1 per cent above 1954 and the used car sales were 29.5 per cent higher than a year ago.

In November, GM said, its dealers sold 268,756 new cars, 26.3 per cent over last year. Used car sales for the period totaled 331,004, 13.8 per cent above 1954.

China May Veto 18 Nations Plan

U.N. Delegates Pressing Orient to Let Countries Be Added to Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Bolstered by the demand of 52 nations that the Security Council admit 18 new members to the United Nations, delegates pressed Nationalist China today to refrain from using a veto which could kill the whole package deal.

The General Assembly was expected to give quick ratification today to the Special Political Committee's recommendation that all 18 applicants be admitted.

The committee approved the 28-nation proposal last night 52-2 with 5 nations abstaining. Only a two-thirds majority was required in the Assembly.

The crucial test probably will come next week in the Security Council, which has the final say on new members. The Soviets have promised to veto the 13 non-Communist applicants if the Chinese Nationalists carry out their threat to reject Communist Outer Mongolia.

The voting in the Political Committee last night indicated the Canadian-inspired resolution had the seven necessary affirmative votes from Security Council members. This leaves only the big power veto which can kill any membership application.

President Eisenhower reportedly has sent two appeals to Chiang Kai-shek to refrain from vetoing Outer Mongolia.

The seven Security Council members that voted for the resolution in the committee were Britain, Russia, Peru, Brazil, Iran, Turkey and New Zealand. Belgium and France abstained.

Appliance Company Cancels Contracts

CHICAGO (AP)—Sunbeam Corp. says it has canceled its fair trade contracts with Michigan distributors and retailers which controlled retail sale prices of Sunbeam-manufactured electrical appliances.

The cancelation, effective Monday, was based on a recent decision of the Michigan Supreme Court, R. P. Gwinn, Sunbeam president, said in a letter to distributors and retailers in Michigan.

The Supreme Court Friday denied a petition for a rehearing of an earlier fair trade ruling involving Argus Cameras, Inc. The effect of this denial, Gwinn said, was to wipe out the last remaining legal basis for an effective fair trade price structure in Michigan.

Gwinn said the compan's fair trade and pricing policies remain in all states having fair trade laws.

GM Vice President Says Ideas Today Regard Each an Individual

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—A broadening concept of industrial medicine recognizes the industrial employe as "an individual with his own talents, problems, characteristics and attitudes," a General Motors executive told a Pittsburgh audience today.

Discussing "Medicine and Manpower," H. W. Anderson, GM vice president in charge of personnel, explained that years ago an industrial doctor was listed as a chief surgeon who worked in a plant hospital or first aid station.

"His job was to patch up the injured employe," Anderson said. "Today we employ medical directors and industrial physicians. They do their work in medical departments."

"Only a small part of their time is taken up with treatment of employes who have been injured in plant accidents or may be suffering from an occupational disease," he declared.

This reflects the great progress made in industrial safety and industrial hygiene. It enables the industrial physician to devote the major portion of his time to the much more constructive field of preventive medicine," Anderson told his audience.

GOP Tags Harriman With Tammany Label

WASHINGTON (AP)—Comments of Republican senators added up today to an apparent GO Pattempt to pin a Tammany Hall label on Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, eyed as a prospective Democratic presidential aspirant next year.

In the wake of a jab at Harriman by White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, Sen Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said in an interview that "I've assumed he is a Tammany Hall candidate."

In a somewhat similar vein, Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) said that Harriman may not be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination but "at least the leader of Tammany Hall seems intent on making him one."

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said that Tammany has wanted to name a candidate in the past but that no one who has had a chance for the prize wanted "the handicap of Tammany Hall."

Kenneth Small Marries Detroiter in Las Vegas Rite

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Kenneth B. Small, who was divorced after his 1954 murder trial, was married Nov. 16 at Las Vegas to the former Dorene Dalton Emanuel of Detroit.

The Detroit dentist was found innocent by reason of temporary insanity in the Memorial Day 1954 shooting of Jules Lack, of New York, who the doctor felt was overfriendly toward his first wife, Mrs. Edith Small.

Dr. Small had followed his wife to an Allegan County summer cottage where she was spending the weekend with several friends and Lack.

Small's trial attracted nationwide interest and was climaxed when a jury found him innocent by reason of temporary insanity. Dr. Small then spent several days in a state hospital before he was discharged.

Dr. Small's divorce from Edith Small became final on Nov. 8. The Las Vegas wedding was performed by District Judge Frank McNamee.

The bride is the former wife of Detroit Free Press Photographer Bert Emanuel. The Emanuels were divorced March 9, 1954.

Friends of Dr. Small said he intends to give his Detroit dental practice to his brother, Dr. Robert Small, and will take the dental examination in California in anticipation of practicing there.

Charles Foster Hurt When Struck by Car

A 25-year-old Pontiac man, Charles Foster, of 44 Maple St., was reported in fair condition this morning at Pontiac General Hospital with possible internal injuries suffered when he was struck by a car last night.

The accident occurred at Walnut and Beaudette Streets and witnesses told Pontiac Police officers Foster was fighting with his brother, 27, of 314 Wessen St., and was knocked into the path of the car.

The car was driven by Marie Hayes Johnson, 34, of 46 Chapman St., who told police "she heard a thump and went up over the curb and didn't see a person at all." She was uninjured.

Edison's Labs Donated to U.S.

Heirs of Noted Inventor Give Government Site for National Museum

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thomas Alva Edison's laboratory at West Orange, N. J., center of his inventive work for the last 44 years of his life, has been given to the government to become a national monument.

Simultaneously, Secretary of the Interior McKay designated Glenmont, the late inventor's home in West Orange, as a national historic site under non-federal ownership. The home is about a quarter mile from the laboratory.

The deed to the Edison laboratory land and buildings, donated by Thomas A. Edison, Inc., was presented to McKay by Charles Edison and Mrs. John Eyre Sloane, son and daughter of the inventor.

TO DONATE CONTENTS OF LAB

The Edison heirs announced that, in addition to the property, the corporation will donate to the government next year the contents of the laboratory, which is now known as the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation Museum.

The laboratory's contents include the famous inventor's working equipment, experiments in-the-making just as he left them prior to his death in 1931, his library and voluminous papers, early models of his inventions, and exhibits depicting his life and achievements.

McKay's acceptance of the deed to the laboratory property satisfied the legal requirement that necessary lands must be acquired by donation for the establishment of a national monument. Acquisition of the contents in 1956 will pave the way for a presidential proclamation establishing the Edison laboratory national monument.

The secretary said the administration already has approved the procedure being followed.

He also signed today a joint agreement with the representatives of the Edison corporation, owneres of the home property calling for protection and management of the Edison home national historic site by the owneers and for its use by the public on a limited basis.

Under terms of the agreement, the preservation, operations and use of both the historic site and proposed national monument will be effectively coordinated, the secretary said.

Teachers to Vote on Coming Under Social Security

Teachers and school employes in Pontiac and Oakland County will go to the polls next Wednesday and Thursday in a statewide election to decide whether school employes will come under the federal social security.

More than 7,000, including 976 from Pontiac, are now registered to vote in the county's 45 school districts.

To be eligible to vote, electors must be on the school payroll as of both Sept. 15 and Dec. 15. Polls in school precincts will be open eight hours a day for the two consecutive days, with hours to be determined by local election officials.

The election will decide whether five per cent of the school employes' total salary shall be deducted to provide for federal old age insurance and continue the present Michigan Public School Employes Retirement Fund.

In the past five per cent of the first $4,800 annual salary only has been deducted for the state retirement fund. Under the new setup, additional collections on salaries over $4,800 would make up the 2 per cent which the federal government requires under the old age insurance provision of the Federal Social Security Act.

Formerly school employes were not eligible for social security, but the act has now been amended to include this group, providing more than half the registered voters approve inclusion in a state election.

If passed, teachers and administrators, maintenance and cafeteria workers, school guards, clerks and other employes would be eligible to collect federal old age benefits on retirement at the age of 65, or to have payments made to their survivors after 1½ years under the plan.

According to Wesley Dorr, manager of the Pontiac District office of the Social Security Administration, benefits based on continuous employment at an average annual salary of $4,200 would amount to $108.50 per month on retirement, with an additional $54.30 to a married man whose wife did not earn more than $1,200 per year or to a married woman whose husband was totally dependent upon her.

The federal benefits would be augmented by the state retirement fund, also included in the five per cent deduction.

The new state retirement allotment would amount to one per cent of the first $4,200 of salary plus 1½ per cent of salary over $4,200 added together, and multiplied by the number of years employment, said J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of Pontiac schools.

Dr. William J. Emerson, Oakland County Superintendent of schools, heads an election board of 32 school superintendents who will be in charge of the balloting. Serving on the board is Pontiac Superintendent of Schools Dana P. Whitmer. Serving under the election board members will be two officials for each of the many precincts in the individual school districts.

Youngsters at Home Writing Santa

The 139 youngsters in the Oakland County Children's Home are beginning to write letters to Santa —but they're a bit doubtful of his answer. There have been Christmases for most of them when St. Nick passed them up.

But Mrs. Olive Freedle, volunteer librarian at the home, has assured them Santa will arrive on schedule with a supply of new books which the library needs and a sackful of gifts besides.

"Why shouldn't St. Nick come? —his heart is as big and warm as that of the people of Pontiac and Oakland County. It's never been known to fail where there is a need," says Mrs. Freedle, who devotes one day a week without pay to staffing the library and mothering the youngsters.

About 60 of the children at the home, ranging in age from infants to 17, are there simply because they were neglected or abandoned or their parents were unable to provide for them, she pointed out.

"They are clean, wholesome American kids, but unloved and unwanted, without homes. Except for poverty and disrupted families, they might be spending Christmas in their own living rooms, just as are your children and mine," Mrs. Freedle said.

"As for the other group, the ones actually under detention, their needs are even greater. The stigma of delinquency is placed upon them, and delinquency is a word that could apply either to the child or to the parent. Of this group, some have merely run away from an intolerable home life. Others have infractions much more serious—but none are incorrigible."

This Christmas the library, a volunteer project with 90 per cent of the books donated, needs recent books, new or used, to replace old, unsuitable reading matter.

"What child is interested in a surrey with fringe on top, when the tempo of today's living deals with rockets, spacemen and interplanetary travel," says the energetic librarian. "We have books, but I doubt if there's one of more recent vintage than 1940. Books with emphasis upon nature, science, and the wonderful 'how to do it' series would be especially welcomed."

Other needed gifts, at Christmas or any time during the year, are new or used sleds, skates, basketballs, footballs, recreation equipment, records and record players, even portable radios for sickrooms or isolation wards. William Moulton Jr., superintendent of the home, added.

Another gift the home could use —perhaps the most precious of all —is the gift of time.

Volunteers with special skills are needed to instruct the boys and girls for one or two hours a week in such hobbies as ceramics and artwork, model plane and ship building, woodworking, crafts, basketweaving, dancing, and, for the girls, sewing, knitting and embroidery, personal grooming such as hair styling, and the proper use of cosmetics.

Moulton urges anyone with these or other special skills and an hour a week to spare to write to him at the home, 2050 Telegraph Rd., or telephone FE 2-8313.

Finally there is the Ross Tenny Memorial Fund, through which a gymnasium and hall may someday be added to the home. Cash contributions here can help provide the youngsters with much needed recreational facilities.

Some gifts already have been promised. The Pontiac Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Clubs and the July-August group of First Presbyterian Church have offered to bring some new books for the library shelves.

In making her Christmas appeal Mrs. Freedle concluded:

"The children are well housed, schooled, and amply provided for. But the human warmth and love that a gift implies—that is something only the individual can supply."

WILL SANTA SHOW UP?—Two first graders at Oakland County Children's Home, 2050 Telegraph Rd., look a bit wistful as they listen to a Christmas story told by one of the older boys. Their letters to Santa are written, but there's a question as to whether St. Nick with his sackful of gifts might pass them up. Gifts such as new or recent books, sleds, skates, toys and recreation equipment would make Christmas brighter. Volunteers to teach an hour a week in art, crafts, needlework and other special skills also are much needed, Superintendent William Moulton Jr. said.

A Bran New Trail

TAZEWELL, Tenn. (AP) — When Hubert Osborne, 50, saw six military policemen converging on his mountain home, he grabbed a sack of bran and ran to hide in the barn. He'd have made it too if a hole in the sack hadn't left a trail. The MPs returned him to Ft. McPherson, Ga., to face charges of being AWOL since 1942.

Let's Look Military

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7 (AP) — Chief Inspector Albert J. Trimmer says he may issue an order forbidding his cops to sport fancy mustaches or flowing hair styles. Some of the rookie policemen "have taken to be-bop haircuts and flaunting mustaches," he said.

Jordan Maps Route for Yuletide Tourists

JERUSALEM (AP)—Foreign tourists entering Jordan from Israel to celebrate Christmas at Bethlehem will not be allowed to return directly to Israeli territory this year.

The move, announced yesterday by the Jordan government, is intended to induce tourists to travel through Jordan instead of via Israel.

The Holy Land is preparing for its busiest Christmas season since the end of the Palestine War. Hotel owners in Jerusalem, Bethlehem, Jericho and other areas report accommodations fully booked for the season. Private homes and convents also will be used to house visitors.

Cantor Recuperating

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Eddie Cantor, 63, is recuperating from an operation for removal of kidney stones. The comedian was operated on yesterday in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. His wife Ida said he stood the operation well and that late in the day "he was singing and talking and acting gay."

Epidemic Rages in Lancaster, Pa.

Paratyphoid Strikes 54 as Inoculation Clinics Open Today for 35,000

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—An outbreak of 54 reported cases of paratyphoid here was termed an epidemic last night by the head of the State Department of Communicable Diseases. He ordered a mass inoculation program to start today among 35,000 persons.

It was believed there may be at least another 25 unreported cases.

Dr. W. D. Schrack Jr., head of the Communicable Disease Department, said 16 cases were reported yesterday. He told a meeting of Lancaster City and County Medical Society and the State Department of Health that the outbreak is "a catastrophe every bit as big as the Stroudsburg flood."

He referred to the August floods which took more than 70 lives in the Stroudsburg area alone.

Most of the victims of the disease are children. Several have been reported in critical condition.

Paratyphoid is similar to but milder than typhoid. Typhoid vaccine and antibiotics are to be made available without charge to patients.

Dr. James Appel, president of the society, said the inoculations would not be effective in control of the present epidemic for at least 10 days.

With the first outbreak of paratyphoid, investigators said only one common factor could be found—that all persons affected use milk from the same dairy. The dairy voluntarily closed down pending an investigation.

"APPEAL TO JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES"

Jehovah's Witnesses, this is to draw your attention to the fact that you are not only showing mercy to the merciful, but also to the merciless. Facts show this case to be just like Jesus mentioned at Matt. 18:23-25.

Jesus made it plain at John 21:20-23 that it was not up to the apostles to decide if one was to remain or not, but up to Jesus Christ himself. Christians are to cut off company or disfellowship self-justifiers, but never cast out of the congregation.

I have not lied, nor used slipperiness. I do not know the reason why I was asked to leave meeting, and neither is there any reason given at 3 John, Verse 9 & 10.

Over a year ago the Watchtower Society sent me a letter which opened this case up for consideration. Since then I have repeatedly requested the committee many times both written and oral to reinstate me, but have seen no consideration. Last September it came indirect to me that the committee would reinstate me when I had stayed away for six months. Like all other promises, I have seen no other fulfillment, so Jehovah's Witnesses I appeal direct to you to reinstate me, and also suggest that you rid your company of the slippery wicked slaves.

December May Be Rugged

The weather maps below give you the U. S. Weather Bureau's long-range forecast for December. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but an estimate of average temperatures and rain or snowfall for the period.

Temperatures in December will average above normal in the Southeast and near normal in the Middle Atlantic states, Ohio Valley and West Gulf states. Below normal temperatures are forecast for Pontiac and all of Michigan.

Precipitation, in the form of rain and snow, is expected to exceed normal in states bordering the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys, the Northern Rocky Mountains and the West Coast. Pontiac and all of lower Michigan can expect more than usual rain or snow during the month.

Quingamist Allowed Week to Say Goodby

SALT LAKE CITY, (AP)—Carl Eugene Jentzsch today had a week to get his affairs in order and say goodbye to his five wives. Next Tuesday, he begins a five-year sentence imposed because he married more than one woman at a time.

Jentzsch, 54-year-old electrician who earlier had pleaded guilty to charges of "unlawful cohabitation" was given the sentence in second district court here yesterday.

He is the first man to be sentenced since Utah recently began a new crackdown on polygamy.

Jentzsch maintained he was following the true beliefs of the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church in practicing plural marriage, although the church outlawed polygamy in 1890 and has excommunicated people who continue the practice.

Unhappy Thief Calls

PHILADELPHIA (INS) —Some thieves are never satisfied: A medical bag was stolen recently from the car of Dr. Galen Young of nearby Chester, the new president of the American Society of Osteopaths. Later the thief telephoned Dr. Young and complained that the bag contained no narcotics.

The belief that a mentally deficient girl can be cured by marriage is tragically false, experts say.

Reporters Like Covering Ike at Gettysburg

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

GETTYSBURG, Pa. — Down Route 15 south three miles lies the temporary White House. Here at the Gettysburg Hotel lies the 50-man Washington press corps, restive on a diet of briefing and boredom.

Twice a day the newsmen go next door to a gymnasium converted into a press room. At noon and later in the afternoon either Press Secretary Jim Haggerty or Assistant Murray Snyder shows up, sits at a table with a green baize cover, and reads the latest report on what the President is doing down on his farm.

That's about as near as any of the reporters get to the house on the edge of the battlefield.

Occasionally, President Eisenhower drives into town and spends a few hours at his oak desk in the Post Office. Photographers take pictures.

Then he rolls back along the road General Pickett crossed in his historic charge. The town continues its even way, immune to excitement. The people here applaud when the President passes but they never shout.

JUST SIT AROUND

Between briefings the reporters sit around in flannel shirts like those of the deer hunters pausing outside. The hotel lobby is warm. Soft music filters out from a wall screen. A young bellboy leans against the wall.

A new batch of papers arrives and is stacked near the side door. The men scan the headlines, buy papers and read until lunch time.

After the late briefing, the bar begins to fill up. It is dimly lighted except for battle murals on four sides. A few Secret Service men join the newsmen at small tables. Maybe Mary Jane McCaffree, Mamie Eisenhower's vivacious secretary, will drop in with a friend.

STAY TO DINNER

Older reporters gather in a corner away from the bar, talking about their families. Tourists come in uncertainly, staring at the reporters.

Men with good expense accounts stay for dinner. The food is generous.

After nine the place is empty again. Some sit in the lobby reading magazines. Others drift off to one of the two movies in town, or drive out to the Lincoln Logs, a rustic bar with a juke box.

By eleven, the square outside the hotel is deserted. Only the chimes on the First National Bank clock ruffle the quiet in this nerve center of the free world.

A GODLY TOWN

This is a godly town. Out of its 7,000 citizens only 97 have no church affiliation. The President attends the Presbyterian Church on Baltimore Street across from the Post Office.

He uses the pew right behind the one where Abraham Lincoln prayed in 1863 when he came to Gettysburg to make his immortal address.

Lincoln's pew is marked with a small American flag. No one ever wants to sit in it—it's the most uncomfortable pew in the church.

The young minister, Clyde Raynor Brown, had lunch at the Farm with the Eisenhowers the other day. In his study he told how tourists flock to church when they think the President and Mrs. Eisenhower are going to attend. One of his three little sons quietly opened the door to ask if he could have a piece of gum. His earnest father said yes because that would be a Sunday treat.

MADE IN JAPAN

Along the battlefield roads stand Union and Confederate cannon. Souvenir shops sell small replicas —made in Japan. Store windows display dinner plates with colored photographs of President and Mrs. Eisenhower printed across the center.

Henry Scharf, manager of the hotel and director of the daily paper and radio station, says fate has twice been kind to the town. It brought the battle of Gettysburg and now the temporary White House.

Merchants say business has increased little since the President's return on Nov. 14. Trouble is, they say, the press, the President's staff and the Signal Corps haven't brought their womenfolk with them. At Hershey's Men's Store one reporter had his pants rewoven and a few others bought gloves when the weather got cold.

The State Liquor Store on the square had to lay in a line of good Scotches and Bourbons. Before they sold only blended whiskies and sherry.

REAL ESTATE UP

Real estate values have not become inflated since the Eisenhowers bought their farm, except perhaps on property adjacent to theirs. When a speculator wanted to buy the abandoned little red school house at the edge of the Farm, the townspeople petitioned the courts to block the sale.

They wanted to protect the First Family's privacy. The courts ruled that the President could have it at the prevailing price. That was $4,300. However, shortly after Ike bought the school house for his family, elsewhere in Adams County another red school house was sold for $5,000. Next day he sent his check for the extra $800.

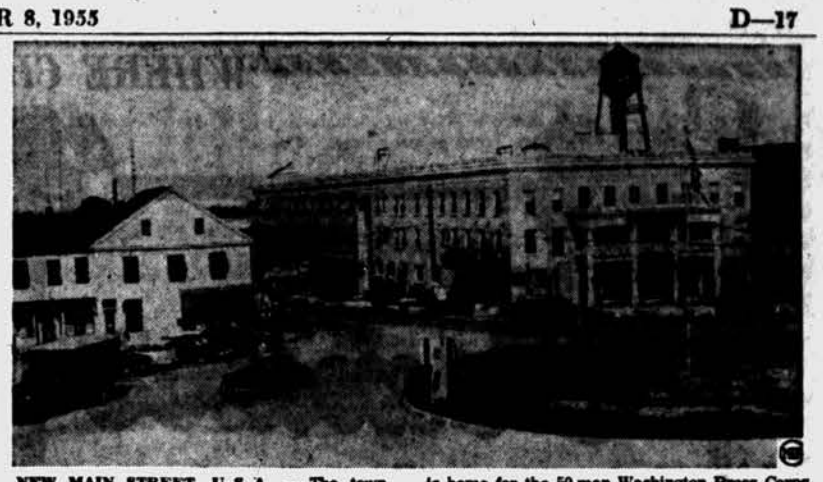

Mrs. H. W. Baker's comment—her husband owns Baker's Battery Service across from the President's town office—"We all hope the Eisenhowers will stay in our community. They are lovely people with such high standards."

TWICE-A-DAY STINT — Reporters are briefed by Press Secretary James Haggerty (at table) in converted gymnasium.

BIG GETTYSBURG MOMENT — President comes to town. Here he climbs Post Office steps as news cameras click.

NEW MAIN STREET, U. S. A. — The town square in Gettysburg, Pa. Hotel in background is home for the 50-man Washington Press Corps, but town is immune to excitement of new role.

NAM Reports Rise in World Business

NEW YORK (AP) — The value of all goods and services produced in the entire world in 1955 will climb to a record high of approximately one thousand billion dollars, the National Association of Manufacturers has been told.

Harold E. Stassen, special assistant to the President for disarmament, made the estimate at a luncheon session of the NAM convention.

Stassen said that 1955 "is the first full year for a generation during which the entire world has been at peace."

U.S. gross product for the year is exected to total around 387 billion dollars, a high and 27 billion dollars more than last year.

Setback for the Wife

CONWAY, N. C. (AP)—When a factory closed down here, its officials announced climatic conditions were unfavorable to the manufacture of its product.

Strikers in Port Huron End Five-Day Walkout

PORT HURON (AP)—Employes of the Dunn Paper Co. in Port Huron returned to work today ending a five-day strike.

The United Paper Workers (AFL-CIO) reached an agreement on a new contract last night. The settlement provides an immediate wage increase and fringe benefits but details were not disclosed.

The strike had idled 120 workers at the plant, which manufactures glazed paper specialties.

Public Interest Grows

Nation's Writers, Broadcasters Vote Almost Completely for Football TV

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's been more interest shown in college football and more talk about it since the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. has been bringing the game into living rooms and barrooms via television. Has that helped the game as a whole? Dunno.

The nation's sports writers and broadcasters, uncertain about the effects of TV on football in past seasons, cast a nearly unanimous vote in favor of it as an advertising agent in The Associated Press postseason football survey. But they were pretty evenly divided as to whether televising football hurt the gates or at non-televised games.

Only a few raised the question of whether the NCAA restrictions on television were satisfactory or otherwise — a subject that has brought a sharp division of opinion in past seasons. Apparently they feel that the restrictions, like TV, are here to stay.

In reply to the question, "Has the televising of games increased or decreased interest of the public in football?" 126 out of 149 newsmen and radio-TV experts gave the opinion that there has been an increase. More women and people who normally don't go to see games, they pointed out, now were getting a taste of football and liking it.

Only two said that interest in general had decreased and 13 said there was little or no effect from TV. Eight gave no opinion.

At the same time many of them claimed that television whetted the fans' appetites only for more televised games. On part 2 of the question, concerning the effect on attendance at non-TV games, 49 said there was little or none, 38 said attendance definitely was hurt and 12 gave the opinion that the increase in attendance was reflected in greater attendance.

The extent of the damage, if any, to the colleges' income couldn't be determined, especially in view of surveys showing an increase in over-all college football attendance. Several commentators pointed out that minor games in their localities were played at night or at hours when there was no TV competition. Others said it was TV competition that compelled the small schools to schedule their games at those times.

There was a general agreement that the real big games were hurt little, if at all, by TV competition but that the smaller schools and secondary games suffered—especially if a top attraction was on TV. The effects of bad weather and traffic also came into the discussion.

Maples' Traa on AP All-State Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fabulous Fred Julian, a slashing runner who led Pershing to a perfect season and the Detroit city championship, heads a powerful backfield which was named today the Associated Press Class A All-State high school football team.

Honored with Julian were Bob Correll of Ann Arbor; Jim Chesney of Bay City Central and Denny Cook of Grand Rapids Catholic Central.

These four players—each a brilliant star—were selected by a panel of 22 high school football writers from 19 newspapers who used the ballots of more than 200 coaches from all parts of the state as a guide.

Named as 1st-team linesmen were ends Stan Leland of Saginaw Arthur Hill and Jim Traa of Birmingham; Tackles Thelvius Wieniecke of Saginaw Arthur Hill and Harold Leigob of Midland; guards Bill Grein of Bay City Central and Steve Kozar of Wayne and center Jim Moore of Flint Northern.

Leigob, Midland's outstanding tackle, was the only player to repeat from 1954's all-star team.

Few players in modern Michigan high school history have matched the record run up by Julian this season.

Standing only five-feet-nine and weighing 174 pounds, Julian was a touchdown terror all season for Pershing. He scored 18 times, including a clinching tally over Redford St. Mary for the city title.

Julian carried the ball 129 times and gained the fantastic total of 1,504 yards. He also caught 10 of 11 passes thrown his way for an additional 145 yards.

Significantly, the other three members of the 1st-team backfield come from teams which ran 1-2-3 in the final Associated Press Class A poll of the season: Ann Arbor, Grand Rapids Catholic Central and Bay City Central.

Detroit Pershing does not play outstate and therefore was not eligible to take part in the poll.

Correll, an excellent college prospect, was classed as Ann Arbor's finest runner in the last 15 years and was greatly responsible for the Pioneers' No. 1 rating.

Denny Cook, co-captain of Grand Rapids Catholic Central, scored 12 touchdowns and set up several others with his crushing blocking.

Chesney was the "brains" behind Bay City Central's potent backfield which rolled up 269 points. He averaged 7.1 yards in 65 carries as quarterback, played defensive halfback and was the key man in Bay City's T formation.

Chesney completed .475 of his passes, hitting 19 of 40 for 327 yards and four touchdowns.

In the line, Leigob was the blocking leader in Midland's bread-and butter play, the pitchout. On defense, he consistently spilled enemy ball carriers for losses.

Wieniecke, Arthur Hill's bruising tackle, was a virtual unanimous choice among the writers. Saginaw Valley coaches considered him the toughest lineman in the conference.

Wieneick's teammate, end Stan Leland, caught seven touchdown passes, also was a key blocker on offense and played safety on defense.

Birmingham boasted its finest end in Traa, who caught 18 passes for 395 yards and five touchdowns. He also carried four times on end-around plays for 54 yards.

Bulwark of Bay City Central's line was Grein. Coach Engel said with four more players like Grein in the line even he could carry the ball with no trouble.

Ann Arbor coach Hank Fonde called Wayne's Steve Kozar one of the best linemen he has ever seen. Fonde had sound reasoning behind his statement, for in the game against Ann Arbor, the Wayne team ran five straight plays over Kozar's spot, gaining 80 yards and almost pulling a big upset.

Center Jim Moore was one of the few bright spots in Flint Northern's otherwise dismal season. Heaviest of all the 1st-team players at 225 pounds, Moore proved to be an expert at diagnosing and cutting down enemy plays.

Predestined — Life's Breaks

By GRANTLAND RICE

I am the ghost that follows men—I give each one his break,
For life is largely accident, no matter what they say—
I lift and lower at my will—I give and then I take—
And laugh to see the experts squirm and figure out the play.

In some I plant the yellow streak, which they must hold from birth;
To some I bring a fighting heart which holds the world at bay;
To millions I bring tragedy—to millions I bring mirth,
But only those I give the breaks can have the right of way.

I let an able artist starve—I take a dolt of brawn
And give him fame and wealth to spare—the laurel on his brow—
And I have followed this set plan from time's first streak of dawn,
And I will keep this schedule up a million years from now.

Kopcsik's Buckets Furnish Rams Opening Cage Win

By BILL CORNWELL

Big Mike Kopcsik, playing his 1st high school basketball game at center for St. Frederick, scored only four points Wednesday night against St. Clement.

But the lanky senior chose the final 20 seconds of action to collect them, hoisting the Rams from a one-point deficit to a 40-37 victory over the Clements in last night's Suburban Catholic League battle at Center Line. It was the 1st game of the season for both schools.

St. Fred was trailing, 37-36, with 20 seconds remaining when Kopcsik broke loose. He dropped in a field goal to put the Rams a point ahead, then calmly netted two free throws after being fouled by the desperate Clements.

Kopcsik's game-winning four points almost overshadowed a 22-point scoring effort by St. Fred's Dick Doyon, range forward. Doyon collected six two-pointers and eight charity tosses for his total.

The Rams were down at halftime, 21-17, then erupted for 15 points in the 3rd period, nine of them by Doyon, to surge into a 32-28 lead entering the last stanza. St. Clement fought back to gain its 37-36 edge and set the stage for Kopcsik's performance.

St. Clement outscored the Rams from the floor, 16-12, but the winners meshed 16 foul shots in 31 attempts while the opposition was making only five out of 20. The Rams hit only 12 field goals in 50 tries and, ironically enough, Kopcsik's bucket was their only two-pointer in the 4th quarter.

The game was poorly played by both teams as they showed effects of opening night jitters. The Rams lost the ball 33 times during the contest, 22 times with inaccurate passes and 11 occasions through simple violations.

Guard Larry Morrow left the game early in the 1st quarter with an ankle injury and was replaced by Wally Quarles, who turned in an outstanding job for the Rams.

Dick Nickerson tallied 19 points to spark Al Serra's Ram reserves to a 40-34 decision. Louis Hallman scored 19 markers for the Clements.

Green Bay Star Target of Rams

Gillman Plots Scheme for Stopping Packers' Tobin Rote Sunday

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Coach Sid Gillman of the Los Angeles Rams maintains complete secrecy about his game strategy, but it is safe to guess that a major share of his defensive plans involve the star Green Bay Packer quarterback, Tobin Rote.

The Rams and Packers wind up the regular season Sunday. Victory for Los Angeles will give them the Western Conference title.

Rote, the ex-Rice star, now in his sixth year in the National Football League, is a busy man indeed. He has thrown 314 passes this season and carried the ball 64 times for 286 yards, which makes him one of the most feared double threats in the league.

Packer Coach Liz Blackbourn, evaluating Rote, observed:

"Like a baseball pitcher, any quarterback can have a bad day. But Rote can look good and bad in the same game."

Green Bay defeated the Rams, 30-28, earlier this fall. Rote threw three touchdown passes. But he also had five passes intercepted, including one for a touchdown, and it required a field goal in the final 24 seconds by Fred Cone to bring the Packers home in front.

Big Ten Pilots Asking for 10 Game Schedule

Coaches Make Three Recommendations at Conference Confab

CHICAGO (INS)—Policy-making Faculty Representatives of the Big Ten confer in Chicago today over such varied subjects as television and the Rose Bowl.

Also on the agenda of the annual winter western conference meetings is a confab of athletic directors.

They are expected to discuss three recommendations proposed yesterday by Big Ten football coaches, one on rules, another on the schedule and a third in the marking of the field.

The coaches proposed that the collegiate rules be amended to allow the defense to advance the ball on a fumble.

The coaches also want the schedule to be expanded to 10 games and would like all conference fields to be marked at one-yard intervals along the sidelines as well as along a path 13 yards in bounds.

The better marking system, they argue, will enable officials to spot the ball better.

Discussion of television is expected to call for clarification of such incidents as television sellout games and the problems of Iowa.

Iowa is in the NCAA's District 5 while all the other Big Ten schools are in district 4. This has caused dissatisfaction with regional telecasts because Iowa is in the Big Seven area.

The Big Ten Rose Bowl's pact with the Pacific Coast Conference, which runs through Jan. 1, 1957, also is up for discussion.

Titans Given Edge Over Toronto Five

OLCC Elects New President, Board Members

Three Birmingham men and a Detroiter were voted into office for 1956 at Monday night's meeting of Orchard Lake Country Club members and the club's charter was renewed for another 30-year period.

John McQuigg was named president and C. H. Harman, William Bird and Detroit's J. C. Moons were elected to the board of directors for three-year terms.

Ed Lerchen of Birmingham was re-appointed to the board for another year. George Jacoby, also from Birmingham, was named vice-president; Moons, secretary, and Lerchen, treasurer.

The Orchard Lake Country Club charter was renewed with the state of Michigan for 30 more years. The present 30-year charter expires early in 1956.

Pat Brazzil, veteran caddy-master at the Orchard Lake layout, has resigned to accept a similar post at Birmingham Country Club. A new caddy-master will be announced sometime next spring.

Embry Wins 'Oil Can'

EAST LANSING — Michigan State guard Embry Robinson was presented the "Oil Can Award" after the 1955 season for providing the most humor on the Spartan team.

Stadium Inn, Stone Front Win Class A League Tilts

Stadium Inn survived a 4th-quarter rally by the Lakeside Royals to rack up a narrow 47-45 triumph and Stone Front trounced Booth Homes, 55-32, in a pair of Class A city league basketball games Wednesday night in Pontiac High's gym.

Lakeside and Stadium battled nip and tuck through the 1st two periods, standing 11-all at the end of the 1st stanza and 20-20 at halftime. The winners surged into a 37-32 advantage at the close of the 3rd period, then staved off a 13-point last-quarter effort by Lakeside to win the "gravy."

Stack and Hancock paced Stadium Inn's balanced attack with 13 and 11 points respectively. The Royals' Williams grabbed scoring honors, however, with 19 points and teammate King contributed a dozen markers.

Stone Front rolled to an easy victory over Booth Homes in last night's nightcap. The winners raced to a 25-17 halftime margin and wrapped up things with an 18-point 3rd period while the Booth quintet was limited to five.

Three Stone Front cagers entered double figures in the scoring column. Don Williams tallied 14, Jack Menzil 12, and Jerry Long 10.

Two games are scheduled tonight at Pontiac High School. Griff's Grill meets the Independents in a Class B contest at 7 o'clock and Sun Lite faces Stadium Inn in an "A" attraction at 8:30.

Orange Tilt Rated 1st

By BILL CORUM

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (INS)—It is nice down here just now, where an octopus, a porpoise, a stingaree, a man o'war or an Arthur Godfrey is likely to come rolling in with the surf at any moment.

They are going to have a show here soon that should be a "dinger," as some fellow in Washington used to say. This will be the Maryland-Oklahoma Orange Bowl football game. Michigan State and UCLA in the daddy of the bowls, the Old Rose, ought to be quite a battle, too.

But I must lean toward the pairing of the Terps and the Sooners as the No. 11 offering for New Year's Day.

Sticking a foot in the mouth, when a cracker would be so much tastier, is a misfortune that overtakes most of us from time to time. But to do it needlessly, and when it plainly is uncalled for, is a sad thing.

Particularly to me, as a sports writer, to see it done in sports, where discriminations and hatreds among contestants—as one trusts it will be in actuality in the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1 — are forgotten things.

We in the small but exciting world of sports, where the good word "sportsmanship" is the 1st tenet, usually manage to work out our problems pretty well, when left free from outside influences.

How pleasant it would be if outsiders, particularly politicans, would take a look at the records some time, so that they might realize that.

The chances are that Oklahoma is going to lose a football game one of these years. Perhaps on the 1st day of next year.

Still, nobody can say that the Sooners and coach Bud Wilkinson, rolling along in their covered wagons, are going in that direction at the moment.

Bud and big Jim Tatum, of Maryland, are the two top pupils of teacher Don Faurot, of Missouri, and, as of now, Wilkinson must be rated at the head of the class, while big Jim tries mightily to spell him down.

Ohioans Beat Broncs in Double Overtime

BOWLING GREEN (AP)—Bowling Green edged Western Michigan 93-89 in a double overtime basketball game last night that opened mid-American conference play for both teams.

Jim Tucker sank the winning basket in the 2nd overtime period after the score was tied four times. At regulation time it was 71-71.

Bob Diment of Western Michigan was high scorer with 34 points. Boo Ellis of Bowling Green scored 31 points. Each accounted for three field goals in the 2nd extra session.

Statistician Had His Eye on Ball

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Buddy Spillman, St. Joseph Gazette statistician, kept his eye on the ball, if not the game, last night as Trenton (Mo.) met Highland (Kan.) in the St. Joseph Junior College Basketball Tournament.

By Spillman's count, the ball hit the floor 1,442 times during the game, counting dribbles, bounce passes and rebounds. The second half was more active with 727 bounces to 715 in the first period. Trenton won 72-60.

Spillman's reason for the count: He'd never heard of it before.

Bobo, Robinson Wait for Bout

Both Sure of Victory in Middleweight Title Scrap Friday Night

CHICAGO (AP) — Apparently satisfied there will be no battle of the scales, middleweight champion Bobo Olson an dchallenger Sugar Ray Robinson today marked time for their 15-round title scrap, mutually confident of victory at their peak of conditioning.

Olson's fourth defense of his crown Friday night at Chicago Stadium will be televised and broadcast (10 p.m. EST-NBC) nationally. Chicago, however, will have a TV blackout in a 150-mile radius.

This, undoubtedly, has been reflected in ticket sales which Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, says has reached approximately $85,000.

By fight time, he figures $150,000 will be in the till and 10,000 to 12,000 in the arena. The Stadium's potential for the bout is an attendance of 19,400 and a gate of $240,000.

The 27-year-old Olson, who was kayoed by Robinson in the 12th in 1950 and lost a 15-round decision to him two years later, will receive a cut of 35 per cent of the gate and the $75,000 TV-package. Robinson's share is 25 per cent.

A rematch contract clause, should Robinson win, stipulates another meeting within 90 days. This would be in San Francisco, Bobo's home city.

Friday night's opening Saginaw Valley cage contest between Pontiac and Arthur Hill was rated a tossup. The clubs meet at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the big PHS gymnasium, following a game between Little Chiefs and Junior 'Jacks. This is the 1st opportunity home fans have had to see the '55-56 club in action.

Off the records of the young season, Coach Art Van Ryzin's five has the best of it. The Chiefs won their 1st and only game so far, with a fine display of spirit that wiped out a brief Catholic Center edge and brought about a sound 50-40 victory.

Defending Valley champs, Arthur Hill started strong with a 59-54 win over Ann Arbor's Pioneers. But Lansing Sexton cooled them off Tuesday with a surprising 59-57 upset.

Pontiac will send out the same five that started against Catholic Central, to start tomorrow's battle. Willie Dewalt, very promising forward will again work with Rod Treais, 1954 letterman, a steady player who scores well, and does a good rebounding job as well. Rod hit 12 points against CC. Hudson Ray will go at center, and the big fellow is expected to do a good job around the boards and probably will draw the assignment of keeping the 'Jacks' fine scorer, Jim Alexander in line. Dave Diehm, who led PHS with 14 points in the opener, and fast Larry Peet will get the guard jobs.

Hills' mentor, Chuck Fowler, hadn't made up his mind this morning about his starters. He may go with 6-3 Bert Dygert and Jim Kanary at forwards; Alexander at center, with Gary Lee and Russ Knipple at the guards.

Other Valley encounters for Friday night include: Flint Northern at Saginaw and Bay City Central at Flint Central.

Meyer Reported Going to Cubs

NEW YORK (INS) — Brooklyn righthander Russ Meyer reportedly will go to the Chicago Cubs as a wrapup to the deal by which the Dodgers acquired third-baseman Ransom Jackson.

A spokesman for the club was quoted today as saying the 31-year-old veteran of nine seasons' experience with the Cubs, Phillies and Dodgers will accompany Don Hoak and Walt Moryn to Wrigley Field in the deal for the hard-hitting Jackson.

Announcement was being withheld pending the Cubs' cutting their roster below 40 with the release of veteran catcher Walker Cooper, who is going to St. Louis.

Michigan State is the only Big Ten institution to win Rose Bowl bids twice within a three year period.

Banquet Honors Athletes; Hear MSU Rose Bowl Plan

Participants in Pontiac High School's fall sports activities were honored last night at the annual banquet in the school cafeteria.

Several hundred boys, plus members of the fine PHS cheer leaders corps, a score or more guests that included faculty, athletic department coaches, members of the co-sponsors for the event, Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, and others, were on hand.

Head coaches Ed Graybiel (football) and Wallace Schlaerke (cross - country) announced awards of letters won in the fall campaigns. Ed Heikkinen named the junior varsity grid letter winners, and Mrs. Georgiana Mason presented cheer leader honors.

Dick Fisher, Chamber of Commerce, was toastmaster, and principal Francis Staley, and Russ Attwater had parts in the affair.

Highlighted feature was the appearance of MSU's end coach and former Keego Harbor mentor, Bob Devaney, with the Spartans' grand little fullback, Gerry Pianutis. Pianutis was besieged after the party, by autograph seekers.

Graybiel issued 37 awards, plus three managers' letters. Heikkinen's JVs received 27 awards, cross country team seven varsity and 11 reserve awards and the cheer leaders had 10.

Devaney spoke in a light vein about the Spartans, generally, but became serious when he mentioned that MSU will head for the Rose Bowl with the greatest desire to win, and confidence in its ability to give its best performance. He also took time to pat Pianutis on the back for what he called "a grand job."

"Pianutis," said Bob, "is the best fullback I've seen at MSU. He isn't very big (5-9, 175 pounds,) but we wouldn't trade him for any fullback we saw all season long. Not only is he a great player himself, despite the fact he didn't make All-America as did Earl Morrall, but he is fine team player." Filling Pianutis' shoes in 1956 is one of the big jobs facing MSU, Devaney said.

Pianutis, himself, spoke briefly, pointing out that young college grid hopefuls should have three things to work on; desire to play, determination to keep going and the will to win.

Devaney referred to bowl plans as involving long, hard drills, with little, or no glamor prior to the big game.

Films of the MSU-Purdue game were shown in the auditorium after the banquet.

As Boxing Manager

Movie Star George Raft Now Plays in Real Cast

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Actor George Raft, veteran of many tough guy movie parts, was cast as a real-life "heavy" today in a role of trying to muscle in on the boxing career of middleweight George Johnson.

The disclosure came when the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission ordered Philadelphia fight promoter Herman Taylor to show cause why his license should not be revoked.

Donald Rettman, former manager of Johnson, gave the commission a sworn statement alleging that the fighter was taken from him by "coercion and threats" after he refused to turn over the management of the middleweight to Raft for publicity purposes.

The commission charged that Taylor, who has promoted many championship fights, including the Marciano-Walcott bouts, assumed the handling of Johnson on January 15, 1954 by intimidation, failure to obtain a manager's license and association with gamblers and persons of similar ill repute.

Taylor denied ever having any financial interest in any boxer since he became a promoter and said, "as for my associations, none of them are partners in my business."

The commission also ordered manager Archie Piroili to show cause why his license should not be revoked.

Ford Frick to Head Notables at Honus Rites

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick will head the honorary pallbearers tomorrow afternoon when funeral services are held for John (Honus) Wagner, 81, all-time great Pirate shortstop.

Hundreds of persons, including many youngsters who only knew Wagner as a legendary figure, viewed his body yesterday. Wagner died early Tuesday following a long illness.

DETROIT (AP) — Halfback Jim Lynch of Erie, Pa., and end Bob Chendes of Detroit will serve as co-captains of the 1956 University of Detroit football team. The pair, both juniors, were elected by fellow teammates.

MANAGER — For Bob Swift, former Detroit Tiger catcher and coach, his signing on as manager of the Albuquerque, N. M. Western League club, has brought realization of a long-held desire. Bob has wished to try his hand at the managerial job for some time. "I'm happy over this situation," he said today. Swift will be with Osmun's during the holidays, but takes over the new post early in the new year.

Area Athletes Win Letters at Western

Varsity and freshman letters have been awarded to six Oakland County athletes by Kalamazoo's Western Michigan College, five in football and one in cross country.

Jerry Ganzel of Milford, star quarterback for the Broncos, was the lone area gridder to win a varsity letter. Freshman numerals were presented to Fred Courville of Southfiled, Robert Vozell of Ferndale and William and John Watkinson, both from Birmingham.

David Harrington of Walled Lake was the recipient of a varsity letter in cross country.

Kentucky Fans Help Paralyzed Gridder

LEXINGTON, Ky. (INS)—A former Kentucky fullback, left paralyzed by a swimming accident, will receive a $6,000 check contributed by football fans.

Allen Felch, now at Hines Veterans Hospital in Chicago, will be given the money Sunday by athletic director Bernie Shively and co-captain Bob Hardy of the football team.

Felch was injured four days before his army discharge last summer. He had planned to return to Kentucky.

Wings Resume Play Tonight Against Boston

Lindsay-Howe to Be in Different Lines After 9 Years

DETROIT (INS) — The Detroit Red Wings resume National Hockey League action tonight against the Boston Bruins and for the first time in nine years Ted Lindsay and Gordie Howe will be playing on different lines.

In an effort to add scoring punch to the redshirt offense, coach Jimmy Skinner has formed a new line consisting of Lindsay at left wing, Alex Delvecchio at center and Bill Dineen on the right flank.

Howe has been placed at a right wing position on a line centered by Earl (Dutch) Reibel with Len (Red) Kelly at left wing. Kelly, an all-NHL defenseman in recent years, had been used as a forward in several contests this year.

The reason Skinner has broken up the Lindsay-Reibel-Howe combine is obvious. Detroit's third line has scored but four goals, two of them by rookie Norm Ullman. Marty Pavelich and Jerry Topazzini have yet to blink the red light.

Tonight's game at Olympia marks only the second time Boston has appeared on Detroit ice this season. In the only regularly scheduled contest here the teams played to a dull scoreless tie.

In two games at Boston, the clubs played another scoreless affair and the Wings took a 5-0 decision—the latter coming last Satur [illegible] netminder Glenn Hall seems hold a jinx over Boston. In one of his first NHL games—January 8, 1953 — he scored a 6-0 shutout. In another game—Dec. 28, 1952—he took a 7-1 decision.

The Detroiters are currently tied for third place with Chicago. Boston is in the basement behind Toronto Maple Leafs.

After tonight's contest the Wings head for Montreal and a bout with the league-leading Canadiens Saturday. They return to Olympia Sunday with the New York Rangers providing the opposition.

Richest Steeplechase

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Neji, winner of the world's richest steeplechase, today was named the Outstanding Steeplechase Horse of 1955.

The winner of the $57,300 Temple Gwathmey at the United Hunts Meeting and the $28,250 Grand National, was voted the honor by a board composed of the racing secretaries at the Thoroughbred Racing Assn.'s annual meeting.

Miami Open Has 161 Entered

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Slammin' Sammy Snead, the old pro from White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., was the center of attraction again as 161 of the nation's best golfers opened the $12,500 Miami Open Tournament today.

Snead, a five-time winner of this event, was putting well and obviously feeling good in pre-tournament rounds, an indication he may be in top form for the first time since a back ailment began bothering him in 1954.

Snead tuned up with a 6-under-par 65 over the LaGorce Course Tuesday while pro and amateur qualifiers were competing over the 6,620-yard Miami Springs Course where the 31st edition of the tournament will be played.

Strongest rivals of the veteran Snead are Doug Ford, PGA champion from Yonkers, N.Y., and Mike Soucak, Durham, N.C., both pros, and amateurs Doug Sanders, Tam O'Shanter All-American Amateur champion and Don Bisplinghoff, Florida Open and Amateur champion.

Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif., is defending champion, having scored his first major professional tournament victory when he came from two strokes back to win on the last day with a 72-hole total of 273 last year.

Souchak won the Havana Invitational last week and appears on top of his game right now, while Ford won this tournament in 1953.

They may face stiff competition from such shotmakers as Ed Furgol, Creve Coeur, Mo., who posted a 68 at LaGorce Tuesday; Tommy Bolt, Houston Tex., and Bob Toski, winner of the Tam O'Shanter last year.

Other Miami Open champions in the field of 141 pros and 20 amateurs, in addition to Snead, Ford and Rosburg, are Fred Haas, New Orleans (1949); Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio (1948); E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, St. Louis (1944); Steve Warga, Miami (1943); Jimmy Demaret, Houston, Tex. (1947), and Willie Klein, Miami Beach (1926 and 1936).

It will be Klein's 30th time to compete in the Miami Open. Snead won in 1937, 1939, 1946, 1950 and 1951.

Woody Laughinghouse, manager of the Miami Springs Course, predicted a score of 270 would win first money. Haas holds the record for this tournament with 264.

Eighteen holes will be played daily through Sunday.

Eastern Cage Fans to Get First Look at Bill Russell

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The East Coast and assorted way points are in for their first look at Bill Russell in the next couple of weeks and, in the opinion of Western basketball fans, they will get an eyeful.

Big Bill is the 6-10 All-America center who led the University of San Francisco to the national collegiate cage championship a year ago. At the rate he's started this season—just a shade under a point a minute for the time he's played—he's even better now.

Russell earned his All-America label a year ago during an almost completely backyard schedule. The furthest USF got away from home, aside from the NCAA finals at Kansas City, was a holiday tournament at Oklahoma City.

This year the Dons are down for a transcontinental tour. They take off Wednesday for Chicago and a four-team tournament Dec. 16-17. They're due at Wichita, Kan., three days later and at New Orleans on Dec. 23. Then to New York City and the annual holiday festival at Madison Square Garden.

Coach Phil Woolpert figures his squad, rated first in this season's initial Associated Press poll, is ready for the trip. The Dons have added three victories to the string of 26 they compiled last season and reserves have seen almost as much action as regulars.

"It's going to take a real tough team to beat 'em" Woolpert admits. "They've shown no signs of losing their victory appetite."

Ranking Tennis Stars Meet in Hardcourt Test

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—A field of 36, including some of the nation's ranking tennis players, open competition today in the eighth annual National Hardcourt Championships.

Gardner Mulloy of Denver, fifth-ranking U.S. player, is top seeded. Tom Brown of San Francisco, ranked sixth nationally, is seeded second, Gilbert Shea of Los Angeles third. Shea, a member of the 1955 Davis Cup squad, is the defending champion.

Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., is seeded first in the women's division. Nancy (Chaffee) Kiner, wife of Ralph Kiner, new general manager of San Diego's Pacific Coast League baseball club, holds the No. 2 spot.

Doby Ready to Ink

CHICAGO (AP)—Larry Doby, star in the Chicago White Sox trading action thus far, is to arrive today to sign his 1956 contract.

The Sox acquired the slugging outfielder from Cleveland in a deal for outfielder Jim Busby and shortstop Chico Carrasquel.

Baker Waltzes to Decision Over Valdes

Toledo Triple-A Hopes Diminish

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Toledo's hopes of acquiring a Triple-A baseball franchise were dashed last night when officials of the Kroger Co., which purchased Swayne Field last October, said the park would be razed early next year and would not be available for baseball.

A local committee campaigning to save Triple-A baseball in Toledo had hoped to negotiate a lease from Kroger for the 1956 season and purchase the Louisville franchise of the American Assn. Toledo lost its association club when the parent Milwaukee Braves withdrew their franchise in September and placed the club in Wichita, Kan., last week.

BAKER HOOKS ONE — Bob Baker from Pittsburgh hooks a left to the head of Nino Valdes in the 8th round as the two heavyweight title contenders battled it out in Cleveland last night. Baker won a 10 round unanimous decision over the Cuban Clouter.

Neither Rated as Contenders for Marciano

Archie Moore Seen as Top Challenger After Poor Bout

By JACK HAND

CLEVELAND (AP)—Merry Christmas, Rocky Marciano. Slop up on turkey and dressing. Don't spare the mashed potatoes and gravy. Nobody's coming to spoil your fun as heavyweight champion of the world.

The much-heralded meeting of Bob Baker, No. 2 challenger, and Nino Valdes, the No. 3 threat, last night at the Cleveland Arena served only to bolster the position of Archie Moore, the No. 1 contender. As Rocky knocked out Ancient Archie in September, the future looks clear.

Pudgy Baker, a 12-5 favorite, plodded to a unanimous decision over the Cuban Valdes in a dreary match that probably eliminated both from consideration as Marciano opponents.

"Maybe I'll have to fight Archie Moore now before I get the Marciano shot," said Baker in his dressing room after the dull 10-rounder, fought to the tune of "Jingle Bells" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and a steady chorus of boos from the 8,380 fans who paid $63,392 to see the Cleveland News' annual Christmas fund show.

"What do we want fighting any Baker?" asked Archie Moore's manager Charlie Johnston, whose middleweight Eduardo Lausse of Argentina stole the show. "Archie knocked out Baker in Miami (March 9, 1954) and beat Valdes in Las Vegas in May. The only fight for Marciano is a return match with Moore."

The 31-year-old Valdes seemed unable to untrack himself against Baker, who failed to take advantage of the situation by stepping back every time he landed a punch or two. The best punch of the fight was a right by Baker in the fourth that drove Valdes to the ropes. It was the closest thing to a knockdown in a knockdown-free bout.

Judge Herb Williams scored it 99-91, Judge Charlie Bill 98-92 and Referee Tony La Branche 97-95, all for Baker. The AP card was 99-90 for Baker.

Referee La Branche spent a busy night prying apart the 213½-pound Baker and the 207-pound Cuban. He warned the big boys repeatedly to "shake it up." It was a rematch of a 1953 match at Huntington, W. Va., also won by Baker. The winner was supposed to get the next Marciano bout.

Highly Ranked College Cage Teams Get By on Squeekers in Wednesday's Top Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tulsa remained unbeaten, but only by the grace of Junior Born's two free throws in the final 75 seconds that beat Texas Western 57-56.

Brown downed Tufts 56-54 on two late free throws by Charley Merritt.

And Pittsburgh, which trampled Michigan 75-66 in its opener, had to scramble to beat little Allegheny 99-96 on Johnny Lazor's two field goals in the last 2:16.

Those were the close ones. And there were others which weren't as easy as they look.

St. Louis had to scamper in the second half to beat Centenary of Shreveport, La., 95-84. So did Marquette in its 89-75 decision over Valparaiso.

Yale upset previously unbeaten Connecticut 92-87 with Johnny Lee and Chuck Ross totaling 61 points, but the Elis had to freeze the ball in the last 1½ minutes.

There were very few runaways, but seventh-ranked Dayton, Cincinnati and Memphis State managed it. Dayton, led by army-returnee Jim Paxson's 19 points, made Miami (Ohio) its third straight victim 73-50; Cincinnati passed the 100 mark for the second time in its two starts, clubbing Tennessee 109-82 with Phil Wheeler canning 31; and Memphis State, topped by Forest Arnold's 46 points, dumped Hardin-Simmons from the unbeaten 102-52.

Villanova got in the act too, routing St. Francis (Pa.) 100-77 with Jim Power scoring 27.

Baylor of the Southwest Conference won its first in three starts, belting Oregon State, 10th ranked last season, to a third straight defeat 62-57.

King of British Promoters Is Quitting After 32 Years

LONDON (INS) — Jack Solomons, uncrowned "king" of British Boxing Promoters for the past 32 years, plans to give up promoting after his annual open-air show next June.

Solomons intends to establish a managerial agency and invite a handful of the top managers to share in the business with him.

"I have a license in every category of the boxing game and realize the heartaches managers and boxers give promoters," he said.

"They do not realize, for instance, that I have to pay out approximately $54,000 to stage a show at the white city stadium before I even pay a boxer."

Solomons plans to head a stable of managers who will risk sending their boxers to a show on a percentage basis. If the show is a success, the boxers earn more. If a flop, the pay is less.

"I am tired of many managers who want easy opponents and these one-round continentals. There is plenty of talent in Britain. We want managers who will encourage boxing, not kill it. I aim to do just that," he said.

Solomons has staged shows in Australia, South Africa and Stockholm, and puts his losses, including traveling expenses, at $150,000 in the past three years.

Ex-Tiger Signs On as Manager of Minor Club

By H. GUY MOATS

Realizing a desire he has held for several years, Bob Swift, former Detroit Tigers' backstop today announced that he had signed as playing manager of the Albuquerque, N. M., Western League baseball club.

Bob has a one year contract and faces a rather stiff task of rebuilding the club.

He's looking for a "good young catcher" to work with him, for one thing, but says the Rainers of the Coast League Seattle club will provide a good double play combination in Jimmy Moore, 2b, Buckowitz, ss, and Watson, plus a pitcher just back from army service.

Albuquerque has a working agreement with the Rainers, but otherwise is an independent club.

Swift will go to Albuquerque around Feb. 20, but his family will stay here until the close of school. Spring training begins Mar. 20, on the club's home grounds.

Giant Hitters

NEW YORK (INS)—Giant hitters knocked Dodgers starting pitchers out of the box in 20 of 22 games in 1955. New York started Brooklyn pitchers to an early shower in the last eighteen meetings between the teams.

Patterson Meets Slade Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Youthful Floyd Patterson of Brooklyn, steps out of the light-heavyweight ranks again tonight, meeting veteran Jimmy Slade of New York in a fight that could propel either boxer on to a shot at Rocky Marciano's heavyweight championship.

The scheduled 10-rounder at the Olympic Auditorium is a rematch, and the 29-year-old Slade promised it would be far different from his encounter in New York 13 months ago with Patterson.

Patterson, 1952 Olympic games middleweight champion, is rated the No. 1 challenger for Archie Moore's light-heavyweight title. But he's picking up weight and his manager, Gus D'Amato, said he is aiming at Marciano and the Rock's valuable crown.

Cassady Gets His Heisman Trophy

NEW YORK (AP)—Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, Ohio State's two-time All-America, will receive the Heisman Trophy tonight as the outstanding college football player of the year.

The award, made annually by the Downtown Athletic Club, will be presented to the 21-year-old Columbus, Ohio, star at a dinner attended by many leading figures in the sport.

Duffy Is 'Coach-of-the-Year'

Spartan Coach Is Elected by Highest Margin

He Succeeds Sanders Whom He Meets in Rose Bowl

NEW YORK (INS)—The American Football Coaches Association today named Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty of Michigan State "1955 coach of the year," succeeding Henry (Red) Sanders, whose UCLA team he meets in the Rose Bowl Jan. 2.

The winning margin was the greatest in the 21-year history of the competition. The 40-year-old Spartan coach received 199 of 492 first-place ballots and his nearest rival, 1949 coach of the year Bud Wilkinson, received 54.

Woody Hayes of Ohio State was next with 42. Bear Bryant of Texas A & M fourth with 29; Abe Martin of Texas Christian fifth with 26 and John Michelosen of Pittsburgh next with 20.

Daugherty came back from a disastrous 3-and-6 campaign in 1954, his first year at the helm of the defending Rose Bowl champions after seven years as line coach, to an 8-1 season this year and the return trip to Pasadena.

Saddler Offered $40,000 for Bout

BOSTON (AP)—Promoter Sam Silverman is hopeful of matching featherweight champion Sandy Saddler and Bobby Courchesne of Holyoke in a 15-round title fight in February at the Boston Garden.

Silverman said last night that he had offered Saddler a $40,000 guarantee to defend his crown against Courchesne, and the champion's manager, Charley Johnston, was "very receptive."

The Boston matchmaker, who promoted last week's welterweight title bout between champion Carmen Basilio and Tony DeMarco, said Johnston promised him a definite answer within a week.

The male rabbit is a buck; the female a doe.

Offense or Defense

Sticka Poses Problems for Pro Football Teams

BOSTON (AP)—Little All-America fullback Charlie Sticka poses a big problem for pro clubs in the National Football League draft — should he be used on offense or defense?

Sticka gained most of his recognition for scoring and ground-gaining feats at Trinity College in Hartford, Conn. But he also stood out on defense.

"I've received questionnaires from all 12 pro (NFL) clubs, but I'm just marking time waiting for the draft," Sticka said. "Maybe then I'll get an idea whether it will be offense or defense. It probably will depend on the needs of the club I go with."

Coaches, teammates, opponents and even Charlie himself don't want to say definitely whether the 5-11, 200-pounder is better as a hard-driving runner who also can turn the ends or a rugged linebacker on defense.

Although the National League undoubtedly wants Charlie and he would like to play in that circuit, it's possible he may wind up in Canadian pro ball. e already has received one offer from north of the border.

Besides his little All-America honors, the 22-year-old athlete also was named to the first team on The Associated Press All-East team. He was awarded the George Bulger Lowe Award of the Gridiron Club of Boston as New England's outstanding player of 1955.

Asked if he had any regrets about attending a "small" college rather than a "big" one, Sticka said:

• • •

"If I had to do it all over again, I'd go to Trinity. Football is football no matter where it's played."

Record Number for Swim Meet

Battle Creek Central Host to 9th Annual Relays Saturday

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—A record 19 high schools have entered the 9th annual Cereal Bowl Swim Relays, scheduled here Saturday night.

Battle Creek Central, the defending champion, will host the meet. Entries include Highland Park, Birmingham, Ann Arbor, Kalamazoo Central, East Grand Rapids, Lincoln Park, Hazel Park, Dearborn, Dearborn Fordson, Lansing Eastern, Lansing Sexton, Trenton, Plymouth, Royal Oak, Wyandotte, Jackson, Ecorse and Ypsilanti.

The relays annually kick off the prep swim campaign in the state, providing coaches with a sounding board for the season. The previous high entry list was 14.

Seven relay events are scheduled—225-yard individual medley; 400-yard free style; 300-yard medley relay; 200-yard breaststroke; 200-yard backstroke; 200-yard medley relay; and 200-yard free style.

Cedar Island's Fishing Site OK

Kavanagh Rules That Township Restrictions Don't Bind State

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh held Wednesday that the state conservation department can establish a public fishing site on Cedar Island Lake in Oakland County despite the restrictions of a township zoning ordinance.

The opinion was requested by state conservation director Gerald E. Eddy, who said the department has already bought the land for the site and obtained the deed.

Eddy said White Lake Township, in which the site lies, has already zoned the land for other uses.

Kavanagh held that the enabling legislation which allows townships to pass zoning laws does not specify that the ordinances shall apply to state-owned land.

Detroit Tech Loses

DETROIT (AP)—Ed Mannot connected for 33 points last night to pace Western Ontario to an 85-68 victory over Detroit Tech in an international basketball game.

The Canadians held a slim 3-point lead at halftime but pulled away in the final five minutes. Bill Maleske and Nick Sica each collected 13 points for Tech, which now has a 2-2 mark.

Helicopter Sets Speed Record

Big Jet Powered Craft Flies at 166 M.P.H. Clip in First Public Show

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Piasecki Helicopter Corp., gave the world's largest jet powered transport helicopter its first public demonstration Tuesday and announced that the huge craft already has exceeded the official world's speed record for helicopters.

Dan R. Berlin, company president, announced that the 40-passenger YH16A "turbo transporter" flew 166 m.p.h. Dec. 1, 10 miles an hour faster than the official record.

The YH16A has flown only 20 hours to date—an average of two hours a week the last three months. It also has been flown at altitudes up to 12,000 feet.

Berlin told 200 guests, invited to the first air demonstration of the machine, that it was paced on its speed dash by an Air Force plane equipped with accurate timing devices. In its demonstration today, the YH16A hovered a few feet off the ground, turned sideways, moved from side-to-side and backward, and climbed at the steep rate of 2,000 feet a minute.

The accomplishment was especially impressive because of the size of the machine. It is longer than the twin engine DC3 airliner, and virtually the same size as the Convair airplane which its body shape closely resembles.

The machine was flown by Piasecki test pilot Harold W. Peterson, of Media, Pa., with George A. Callahan of Bridgewater Farms, Pa., as copilot. There were no passengers for this first demonstration showing.

The onlookers included Army Lt. Gen. James Maurice Gavin, chief of Army research and development, Marine Lt. Gen. Christian F. Schilt, aviation director and assistant commandant of the Marine Corps for Air, and Air Force Brig. Gen. Hoyt Prindle, deputy commander of the 18th Air Force at Greenville, S. C.

Should the Government Sell Narcotics?

Dope Addicts Spend $330 Million a Year!

By ROGER D. GREENE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Is a drug addict a victim of circumstance or his own weakness, more to be pitied than condemned? Should he be spoon-fed dope under government control, so he won't go out and steal to get money to gratify his craving?

Or is he a menace to society, a criminal—real or potential—who will rape or kill to satisfy his feelings? Should he be banished into exile until he's either cured or dies? And should the death penalty be established for dope peddlers?

DOPE NOT REMOTE

Dope is no remote problem, confined to shadowy alleys or dimly lit dives. It frequently hits good families, youngsters who try the first shot for a thrill, then find themselves hopelessly "hooked."

Addicts spend an estimated 330 million dollars a year on narcotics. To get money, they steal more than a billion dollars worth of property each year. Those in prisons or sanitariums drain millions more from taxpayers.

When Congress convenes in January, it will quickly turn the full glare of its floodlights on every phase of the drug traffic and its impact on the nation's economy.

IKE STARTED PROBE

President Eisenhower set off the probe a year ago when he created a special Cabinet-level committee to make an up-to-date survey designed to stamp out addiction. Synchronized with the Cabinet study, two separate congressional committees—under Sen. Daniel (D-Tex) and Rep. Boggs (D-La)—have conducted coast-to-coast inquiries.

Some experts contend that the addict is a helpless and pitiful victim of fate who should be humanely treated instead of punished. Others argue that 88 per cent of all addicts become "pushers" and help spread addiction like a pestilence.

Advocates of a mandatory death sentence for drug peddlers say that if Congress enacted such a law it would immediately wipe out addiction.

DEATH PENALTY

Opponents say that instead of hitting the big operators, who mastermind the smuggling of illicit drugs into this country, the death penalty would only send the small-time street peddler to the gallows, gas chamber or electric chair. The big shots, they say, steer clear of actual contact with dope.

Federal Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger fervently agrees that the severest punishment should be meted out to vendors, and he raps some judges, who, he says, "hand out such ridiculously low sentences that the peddlers call them 'vacations.'"

LOCK 'EM UP

Under present federal law, the 1951 Boggs Act provides minimum penalties of two, five and ten years for first, second and third-time offenders. The law bars suspended sentences or probation after the first conviction.

Anslinger, 63, also favors compulsory commitment of addicts to an institution for treatment — for their own good and the good of the community. They are too weak-willed, too "hooked" by the habit, to go through adequate treatment of their own free will, he said.

Yet most treatment today is on a voluntary basis, except for addicts in federal prisons. Voluntary patients at the government's narcotic addiction hospitals at Lexington, Ky., and Fort Worth, Tex., are free to walk out any time they get bored or restless.

QUIT TOO SOON

Instead of remaining the prescribed 4½ months for treatment, patients sometimes quit after a few days. Less than 15 per cent are ever cured.

Also at issue is a proposal by the New York Academy of Medicine and the New York State Medical Society to revive the so-called "free clinics" which sprang up after World War I in an attempt to combat the multimillion-dollar black market in narcotics.

From 1919 to 1925, at least 44 clinics were set up in 15 states to provide legal take-home narcotics — either free or at a cost of a few cents — to registered drug addicts.

FEEDING STATIONS

The theory was that legal sale of narcotics would enable addicts to buy drugs at a reasonable cost instead of paying $15 to $30 a day to profiteering underworld traffickers. Thus it would save the addict from turning to crime to pay for his habit.

Instead, say many authorities, addicts swarmed to the "feeding stations," using fictitious names, counterfeit registration cards and other devices to load their pockets with low-cost drugs which they sold to street peddlers to spread addiction. Towns with clinics soon found they were a magnet for thieves, hoodlums and prostitutes.

Asked if he favors a renewal of the free clinic experiment, Anslinger said grimly:

"If a plan like that is given any serious consideration, then a state and federal building should be constructed. On the first floor there should be a bar for alcoholics, on the second floor a narcotics dispensary for addicts, and on the top floor a brothel. . . .

CUT-RATE POISON

But advocates of the clinic plan say the experiment 30-odd years ago was faultily conducted. Dr. Hubert S. Howe, chairman of the New York Academy of Medicine's Narcotics Committee, says that under the new academy-sponsored plan all addicts would be fingerprinted, photographed and given identity cards.

With such safeguards, he said, there would be no repetition of the "field day" enjoyed by addicts in the 1920s.

Dr. Herbert Berger, vice president of the New York State Medical Society, says in advocating the clinic plan:

"Our experiment with prohibition during the Volstead era is proof that you cannot legislate the cure of a serious medical problem."

Persistent Canadian Geologist Discovers Uranium Find at Blind River

By FRASER MacDOUGALL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BLIND RIVER, Ont. (CP)—A persistent geologist and a financier who gambled because "uranium's got sex appeal" uncovered the billion-dollar uranium field on the doorstep of this century-old lumbering town.

Tenacious Franc R. Joubin solved a metallurgical riddle and brought to light hidden underground riches of the atomic age. Joseph H. Hirshhorn, Latvian-born New York and Toronto promoter, risked $30,000 on Joubin's theories after other financiers refused. He's in line for an estimated $30,000,000 payoff.

Ontario's Mines Minister Philip Kelly, calls the 42-by-26-mile field south and east of here the world's greatest single potential source of radioactive mineral. He puts its proven worth at a billion dollars and its indicated worth at three billions.

Behind the discovery lies a tangled thread of circumstance, climaxed by what was probably Canada's most fantastic airborne minestaking bee.

UNKNOWN MAN

An unknown man, probably one of the hundreds of prospectors who ranged the area for more than a century in search of base and precious metals, unwittingly provided the clue which led to the field.

At some time, no one recalls when, he left a chunk of ore the size of a man's fist in the mining recorders' office at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., some 90 miles west of here. It was identified only by the word "long."

Breton and his prospector-partner Karl Gunterman set out to trace the source. But first they tipped Joubin, whom they had consulted on other properties, that they knew where there was a piece of radioactive ore.

COUNTER CHATTERS

A month or more later, they took the geologist to Long Township just east of here. At a spot almost within hailing distance of the Trans-Canada highway and the Canadian Pacific railway line to the Soo, they showed him a set of open pits which apparently had been worked by an earlier prospector.

Joubin's geiger counter chattered vigorously over the pits. He scooped up samples and shipped them away for assays.

But his hopes were dashed when assays showed only the barest trace of uranium. He and other geologists who followed him to the spot attributed the geiger counter reaction to Thorium, then regarded as worthless.

REMEMBERED MAP

Joubin, who was born in San Francisco 44 years ago of French parents and grew up in British Columbia, turned back to the business of making a living as a consulting geologist.

Joubin remembered a map, drawn in 1922 by Dominion Geologist W. H. Collins, which traced the course of the contract. It was long since out of print. But a tattered copy was turned up in a second-hand book store in Toronto. It indicated the contact took the form of a giant reverse S, with a total length of 100 miles.

Joubin and Hirshhorn had a small mining exploration company called Technical Consultants Limited. Its staff was far too small but, a force of 75 men was flown in waves from South Porcupine, 250 miles to the north. They were landed on the numerous lakes in float-equipped planes which left South Porcupine heading in other directions to conceal their destination. The assault was mounted from the north to preserve secrecy.

STAKED ALL CLAIMS

In 30 days, the legal limit in Ontario for recording claims, the crews had staked 1,400 claims covering 56,000 acres along the course of the reverse S. Lawyers, who had accompanied the staking parties to swear out their affidavits on the spot, turned up at mining recorders' offices all over Ontario at 8 a. m. June 11, 1953, to record the claims.

The news was out and one of Ontario's greatest staking rushes followed. In a few weeks another 8,000 claims were recorded by newcomers. Now virtually the whole area is solidly held.

THE SUNNY WHAT?—The sight of ice-covered fire-fighting equipment and wires is common enough this time of year — except in the South. Proving that it gets cold there, too, is this picture taken in Atlanta, Ga. Temperatures were in the low 20's when firemen were called to extinguish the blaze at the New York Stock House, a clothing establishment.

Christmas Tree at White House —65-Foot Tall

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House Christmas tree — a Black Hills spruce 65 feet tall with a trunk two feet thick at the base—is now up in President Park.

A gift from the people of South Dakota, the 65-year-old evergreen is scheduled to arrive by rail.

A steel scaffolding 70 feet tall will be erected around the tree. From this, it will take about a half dozen workers three days to decorate the tree. They will use 8,000 lights and ornaments.

Walled Lake Council Seeks Adequate Fire Service

Committee Will Give Report

Engage Engineer and Approve Employment at Meeting

WALLED LAKE—The City Council Tuesday night devoted considerable time to the problem of adequate fire protection for the city.

Since its incorporation a year ago, the city has been receiving fire protection service from Commerce Township and paying the township for such service. Service was quick and immediate with the township personnel located in the fire hall in the city.

However, recently the township informed the city that after the middle of December, the full-time personnel of the fire station would be moved to the Commerce township station where calls would be received. Volunteers would then be notified by telephone.

It was the opinion of the council that this action while understandable, since it would afford better fire protection to the township, would not afford as good protection to the city which with its greater concentration would present more hazards.

To determine the most feasible procedure to obtain fire fighting equipment and to establish a fire department for the city the mayor appointed Councilman Charles Riffenberg, volunteer fireman, to name a committee and report on the matter at an early meeting.

Robert McCallum, chief of the Addison Fire Department is the Goodfellow chairman.

No goal has been set.

The money raised will be used for a Christmas party for all the children of Addison Township. The party will take place Saturday, Dec. 17 at 2 p.m. in the Rowland Hall, Leonard.

Goodfellows here also buy toys for children of needy families of the area.

Troy

The annual Goodfellow sale at Troy will be conducted by the Police and Fire departments, with William Renshaw in charge of sales.

The Troy goal of $2,000 will help buy Christmas goodies for needy families and children of the township; also give them aid throughout the coming year.

Sales will be concentrated at main corners on 15, 16 and 18 Mile roads.

Officers for the sale include Lauren Ford, chairman; David Gratopp, treasurer, and Sherwood Shaver, secretary.

Rochester

The Ben Jones Goodfellows completed their annual paper sale Wednesday afternoon, and according to Fire Chief George Ross, the afternoon's sale of papers netted them $150. The total amount of funds from the sale now stands at $1,850 which was close to the 1955 goal of $2,000.

Drop in Deerslayers Noted for '55 Season

LANSING (AP)—More than 43,000 hunters crossed the Straits of Mackinac during the 1955 deer season, the Conservation Department said today.

The department said the figure was about 6,500 less than the number who crossed during last year's deer season.

Hunters took 11,209 deer across the Straits, however, compared with 10,020 last year.

Last year 200 bears, 43 coyotes, 27 bobcats, 12 foxes and 9 timber wolves were transported south.

Cause Unknown in Romeo Fire

Store Manager Says Contents Covered by Insurance

ROMEO—The cause of the fire which destroyed the contents of the D & C Store in downtown Romeo and dental equipment and other fixtures in offices above is of undetermined origin, Detective Ray McConnell of the Romeo State Police Post said today.

The investigating officers suspect the blaze might have been caused by defective wiring. There is no positive evidence to back up this theory, though, McConnell stated. Arson is not suspected.

George Tisch, manager of the store, reports that contents, valued at about $50,000, were almost entirely covered by insurance.

Investigating officer with McConnell was Detective Kenneth Gray of the State Fire Marshal's Division of the Michigan State Police.

JA Firm of the Week

Stepping Stool Is Ladder to Jac-Crafter Success

A climbing aid known as the "Sturdy Stepping Stool" is the ladder up which a Junior Achievement firm called the "Jac-Crafters" is moving toward prominence in teen-business circles.

The home utility stool is the product of a company which is sponsored by the Standard Oil Co. and owned by more than 200 persons who hold $108.50 worth of stock.

President William Totten, of 149 Parkdale, describes the stool as being of wood with a rubber tread on its top rung to prevent slipping and having a lower step covered with non-skid paint.

Totten heads a 29-member company which meets once a week at the JA Business Center, 53 N. Mill St., to conduct its operations.

Other officers include vice president Scott Schneider, 17, of 422 E. Beverly; treasurer Jean Shaw, 17, of 471 Omar; and secretary, Sandy Mair, 17, of 103 Chippewa.

The officers are aided in their task of directing Jac-Crafter operations by three Standard Oil Co. executives: Max Bottom, of 418½ Huron St., business; Bryan Cole, of 2775 Sylvan Shores, production; and Edward Davey, of Royal Oak, sales.

Like Pontiac's 10 other JA companies, Jac-Crafters will be in business until May when it will liquidate, pay a simulated income tax and issue a report to its stockholders accounting for the year's operations.

Expressing the hope that the firm will also be able to pay its owners dividends, President Totten says "We've invested their money in materials, rental of saws and other machinery, and used some of it for paying overhead like utilities and payroll until we can realize a profit on our operations."

Teachers in 2 Areas Get Increase

WALLED LAKE—At a special meeting of the Board of Education here Monday, distribution of the $42,084 which the district received through action of the state legislature was determined. All full time certified teachers and three permanent substitutes are to receive an additional $200 during this school year.

Beginning with the Jan. 13 paydate, the money will be proportioned among the remaining pay periods.

Others to benefit are full time custodial and cafeteria employes who will receive $150 and $100 dollars each. Substitutes will be paid one dollar more per day and office employes will benefit from the distribution of $3,267.08 as per new salary schedule voted at the meeting.

The board also voted to add $200 to each step of the salary schedule for teachers. This action will be subject to review and revision at a later date.

Other board action taken included awarding of bid on a nine passenger station wagon to the J. L. Taylor Co. of Walled Lake. It is to be used primarily to transport handicapped children to special education classes outside the district.

To relieve crowded conditions in the second grades at both Union Lake and Walled Lake elementary schools, a room will be opened at Twin Beach school. Overcrowding on elementary buses will be handled by having the Glengary elementary school operate on the same school time as the high school if public reaction is favorable.

BOND ISSUE ELECTION

Applications for the sale of $750,000 in school bonds were signed and forwarded to the State Department of Public Instruction in compliance with a new regulation which calls for such approval prior to the election at which funds are voted. The election at which the board is seeking approval of the bond issue is scheduled for Monday.

Money will be spent on elementary construction, purchase of sites for future use, and repair and remodeling of the junior high building. Approval of the issue will entail no raise in the tax rate as the district has already reached the 13 mill limitation permitted.

Board approved the investment of $140,000 of building and site funds with the Michigan National Bank until such time as they are needed.

At the Dec. 12 meeting of the board, following the election, bids will be opened on the construction of the proposed Decker road elementary school. If the issue passes, construction will be started immediately.

IN ROCHESTER

Registered property owners of the Rochester Community School District will vote Monday, on the school construction program.

Board of Education is asking approval of a new bond issue in the amount of $1,150,000 for the purpose of constructing and equipping a gym and music facilities in the new high school building, new elementary buildings and sites, and a bus maintenance garage.

Following the intent of the legislation in granting $9 per child additional state aid, the Rochester Board of Education approved salary increases for most of its employes. Teachers were granted an increase of $200 for the balance of the year. Office personnel and custodians received an increase of $10 per month. The increase will take effect Jan. 1, 1956.

Colin Kelly III Wants to Follow Dad's Footsteps

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Colin P. Kelly III says he wants to follow in the footsteps of his famed father, one of the first air heros of World War II, by going to West Point—or perhaps to the new U. S. Air Academy.

The 15-year-old preparatory school student told The Associated Press last night, "The only doubt I might have is whether I ought to go to West Point or to the new air academy out in Colorado. It would be one or the other.

President Roosevelt recommended young Colin for a 1956 appointment to West Point shortly after his father Capt. Colin Kelly was shot down in the Pacific by Japanese fighter planes three days after Pearl Harbor. Capt. Kelly kept his B17 airborne long enough to order several of his crew to parachute to safety.

Young Colin said he wished to correct reports from New York yesterday that he was in doubt whether to accept the West Point appointment—which Roosevelt recommended be made in 1956.

"I've never seriously thought of anything but the appointment, either to West Point or to the new air academy maybe," Kelly said.

Hollywood Headlines:

Steiger Hopes to Depart From Character Acting

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Rod Steiger plans to abandon his flourishing movie career for Europe, drop 20 pounds and return a new man.

What is wrong with the old one?

Nothing that Hollywood can see. An unknown a year ago, he garnered much notice and an Academy nomination as Marlon Brando's brother in "On the Waterfront." Since then he has played Jud in "Oklahoma!" plus top roles in "The Big Knife," "The Court Martial of Billy Mitchell" and "Jubal Troop." Now he's vying with Humphrey Bogart in "The Harder They Fall."

He could keep busy indefinitely with the other offers he's had, earning well over $100,000 a year. So isn't he happy?

* * *

"No," said the brooding Steiger (rhymes with tiger). "I don't think I have fully realized my potentialities. "As it is now I can earn a comfortable living as a character actor.

"But I think I can do more than that. I'd like to do the kind of leads that Spencer Tracy did when he was a younger man.

"I believe I could do it if I dropped a few pounds. The weight is wonderful for character roles, especially some of the older men I've played (he's 30). I went up as high as 225 pounds for Jud. Now I'm down to 200 and I've got another 20 to go.

"Of course, I'll never be a Tony Curtis, but I think I can look something like the Tracy or Jean Gabin type of leading man. That type seems more attractive to me anyway."

With six pictures behind him, he plans to rest on his laurels for a spell and enjoy Europe. He's an independent cuss, as Hecht-Lancaster found out.

Steiger played the original "Marty" on TV. When Hecht-Lancaster bought the Paddy Chayefsky play for a movie, they sounded out Steiger to repeat his role. They wanted him to sign a term contract. He refused. So Ernest Borgnine got the part, and it made him a star.

Does Steiger regret missing the film "Marty"?

"Yes," he replied. "But principle means more to me. Supposing I signed a term contract. That would mean I'd have to do anything they told me to. Fifty per cent of the pictures might be good. But the other 50 per cent could be stinkers."

Brucker Knocks GIs' Conditions

Korean Tents Housing U.S. Troops in Freezing Cold Are 'Deplorable'

WESTERN FRONT, Korea (AP)—U. S. Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker said today it is "deplorable" that numerous American soldiers guarding the Korean armistice zone are still housed in tents despite freezing weather.

He said funds had been appropriated to provide semi-permanent, solid buildings but "somebody has been too complacent along the line and I'm going to find out what the trouble is."

"The housing program is not moving as fast as it should and I'm just out of patience," he told reporters after looking at some of the tents.

"Something is going to budge. We've got to have housing for these fellows."

Gen. I. D. White, 8th Army commander who accompanied Brucker, previously said he hoped to have the approximately 35,000 Americans in the field out of tents by the time severe winter starts in mid-December.

However, Maj. Gen. S. B. Mason, commander of the 24th Division, estimated it would take until the end of January to complete building 90 per cent of the needed Quonset huts and an additional month to get all soldiers out of tents.

"The vast majority of the troops will be under Quonsets by the time we get snow and really bad weather," Mason told a reporter.

As of this week, he said, 45 per cent of the buildings are completed, 10 per cent partially completed, 35 per cent not started and 10 per cent awaiting missing parts.

All soldiers have "at least a dry, wind-protected day-room where they can go, and a dry place to take a shower," Mason said.

Toyland Science Prospers

The miniature world of Toyland, designed to brighten youthful eyes at Christmastime, is imaginative, scientific and gadgety enough this year to keep many a grown-up from acting his age.

This year's bumper crop of dolls can move their lips, take finger nail polish, have their toenails removed, be given the beauty parlor treatment and come equipped with small closets-full of clothes.

For dolls and youngsters alike a parent can buy sets of modern furniture, including vanity tables, desks and rocking chairs.

New for the bicycle-riding set is a two-wheeler with its own 100-hour battery radio. A youngster can keep up with the Joneses now with a tractor, fire chief car, racer, station wagon or sports car which boasts two speed and single-speed drives.

The hobbyist of any age can become, by just following the directions, an expert on electricity and magnetism, a junior (or senior) bricklayer, a finger-painter, a weather prophet, a radio operator, a uranium hunter or an everyday expert on launching flying saucers.

Television has influenced the new toys, from puppets which bear amazing resemblances to popular TV stars to a clever color TV theater.

And a child's wood table with a blackboard top . . . scale models of the new cars . . . a foam rubber baseball and bat . . . a finger-painting set made from clay . . . a traditional bride's outfit . . . junior-size sewing machine . . . combination sled-stroller . . . pogo sticks . . . and books which can be played on a phonograph.

For the imaginative or finance-minded child there is a cardboard theater five feet tall.

Mixed Trading Seen in Market

NEW YORK —The stock market was mixed in moderate early trading today.

Gains and losses ran mainly from fractions to a point in key stocks. Trading was active at the opening but then slowed down.

Irregular prices were the rule in most major divisions, but leading issues in the copper, chemical and manufacturing fields were chiefly on the upside. Aircrafts were spotty after yesterday's strong showing. Rails continued weak.

General Motors opened at 47⅛ up ⅛ on 2,500 shares and improved later. Sears Roebuck was off ¾ at 111¼ on 1,100 shares. General Electric up ⅛ at 54¼ on 2,000 and Radio Corp. off ⅛ at 46¾ on 1,300.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF VIRGIL Hawley, who passed away Dec. 8th, 1954. Sadly missed by his wife and children.
A silent thought, a secret tear,
Keeps his memory ever dear.
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.

IN PRECIOUS MEMORY OF OUR dear son and brother Cpl. Billy C. Pike, who was killed in action in France, Dec. 2 1944.
Though death may part us for a while,
It never can erase
The memory of a loved one's smile,
Or of a dear one's face.
Sadly missed by Mom, Dad, and sister Laurine.

THOUGH DEATH MAY PART US for awhile, it never can erase the memory of his smile, or of his dear face. Sadly missed by Mom, Dad, Sisters, wife & children, Linda & Ricky.

Helen Hayes Snubs TV Offer Worth About $2 Million

Polly Appears Twice Saturday

Como's Rating Draws Closer and Closer to 'Honeymooners'

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Small talk . . . Helen Hayes has made $1,200,000 in radio and turned down about $2,000,000 in firmly proffered TV jobs, including a 39-week series in which she could call all the artistic shots for $15,000 a week for herself.

Jonathan Winters found his first slick framework for his laughologues—a Hollywood writer recounting ridiculous scripts—and was integrated neatly into the Ethel Merman - Bob Cummings show.

Cummings' comedy instincts have been polished to professionalism over a longer period than most folks suspect. As "Blade Conway," he once even stooged for Uncle Miltie . . .

Polly Bergen has a whale of an NBC payday Saturday—on the Perry Como show "live" 8 to 9 and the Durante film 9:30 to 10.

Perry will present "three" Pollys—hillbilly, pop singer and sexy supper club siren.

Como has snuggled up within nine-tenths of a point of "The Honeymooners" (24.8 vs. 25.7) and his first half-hour clobbered "Stage Show" 28.1 to 15.2 in the TV gloating, according to Trendex.

BUSY LA ROSA

Julius La Rosa goes on the next Martha Raye show but had to beg off a Danny Thomas show offer because he's booked solidly from here to Ft. Knox.

The noise around NBC is people scurrying out of the way to avoid the rolling heads—over the absence of any NBC-TV show in the top 10.

Honest labor is losing its war to TV: Nielsen surveys show the U. S. TV families—more than 33,500,000—now spend some 2,900,000,000 man hours a week before the screens, substantially more than the amount of time the nation devotes to earning a living—1,900,000,000 hours. (Guess they sleep on the job).

Marge and Gower Champion are asking $25,000 for 6 to 10 TV minutes, more for a whole show.

December Bride is the network show with the biggest station-spread: 174. Some syndicated film shows have more stations, though.

The FCC is being bombarded to end the practice of labeling recorded and transcribed radio programs as such. Next they'll be trying to cloak fuzzy kinescopes by not calling a film a film.

CHEAPER COLOR

Ben Abrams, boss of Emerson radio-TV, says color sets will be $300 by 1958.

The ABC-TV network Jan. 16 will start a daily coast-to-coast major movie show each afternoon, with Allyn Edwards hosting. ABC just bought a flock of British films never shown on TV before.

NBC-TV's "Parade of the Comedians," upcoming where Colgate's Variety flopped, will use a flock of clowns on NBC's contract list.

The Variety Hour's swan song comes Christmas night. Lou Costello told us NBC asked him to produce the "Parade of the Comedians" starting in January.

"It's always Jan" is getting better, which it had to, the only way from the bottom being up. Janis Paige has been a fine pro, full of moxie, through the earlier doldrums of the series.

'RELUCTANT' WEBB

Jack Webb is making a noise like a reluctant 30-game winner with the Yankees—Says he's ready to quit "Dragnet," which means the cash-canny TV cop is about to haggle over a new NBC contract.

Ben Alexander, Webb's aide, will star in a new Webb-owned series, pilot now being prepared.

Six Believed Dead in Detroit Home Fire

DETROIT (INS)—Five and possibly six persons were burned to death today in a fire that destroyed a home in the Jefferson-Livernois area of Southwest Detroit.

The fire believed caused by an overheated stove, took the lives of: Lucille Griffin, 34; her son, Pleas M. Jr., 23 months; her brother, Otto Harrison, 33; his wife, Pauline, 31; their daughter, Geraline, 8. Another daughter, Dolores, 3, is missing.

Only known survivor is Pleas Griffin, 38, who was rushed to Receiving Hospital suffering from shock and minor burns. The blaze destroyed the story and a half home in which the two families resided.

Jan Murray's Good Turn Reverts Upon Himself

By EARL WILSON

THE GOOD WILSON TOUR . . .

Jan Murray did a good turn for Milton Berle the other day—flying to Hollywood to sub for him on TV—and now NBC's all up in the airwaves about signing Jan. "We gotta own this boy!" they say. And two studios invited him to move his ABC quiz-whiz to Hollywood so he can make movies. "Before this," he confesses, "no studio ever invited me ever to a preview!"

★ ★ ★ ★

Hold it, gals! Liberace'll be Ed Murrow's Person-to-Person person Jan. 6 . . . Judy Tyler of "Pipe Dream" or Martha Wright may get the Edith Adams spot on the Jack Paar show; Edie's going with husband Ernie Kovacs on his NBC spot opposite Godfrey. Your old radio pal, Kenny Delmar ("Senator Claghorn"), will clown with Kovacs regularly.

★ ★ ★ ★

George Jessel was at a London banquet. The toastmaster blew a horn for silence. "I don't need any more silence," responded Georgie, "I just came from telling my jokes at the Hotel Savoy." The Savoy crowd was so quiet that Georgie finally told them: "I know you're all mourning for Oliver Cromwell but he died 300 years ago. You must take these things in your stride."

★ ★ ★ ★

Jean Cocteau tells of a woman who wished to suggest tactfully to her chauffeur that he shave more often. "Tell me, James," she said, "how often do you think one should shave?" The chauffeur studied her and said, "In Madam's case, twice a week."

★ ★ ★ ★

How to Be Gallant: Maurice Chevalier introduced Marlene Dietrich at the Waldorf Empire Room as "the woman who was the most beautiful in the world 25 years ago and still the most beautiful in the world." Marlene kissed his hand, and he kissed hers . . . Shirley Booth says her show, "Desk Set," which breaks at 10:50 p.m., "closes earlier than any except 'Heavenly Twins' (the Faye Emerson-Jean Pierre Aumont opus), which has closed permanently."

★ ★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Johnnie Ray expects a hot Christmas (he left to play Jo'burg, S. Africa, where the climate's reversed) . . . Linda Darnell's agent assisted with the divorce; now her career'll be rushed ahead.

A Marilyn Monroe fan in Germany sent her a letter, to "New York City"; it was forwarded to The Friars—an all-male club . . . Shirl Conway leaves "Plain and Fancy" next month to head the London company . . . Lisa Ferraday told Brod Crawford their romance would blossom . . . A big Dem dinner for Harry Truman's planned at Alan Gale's Celebrity Club in Miami in January.

Marlene Dietrich's daughter, Maria Riva—once a chubby—wrote a diet book called "Happiness and the Banana Split." Frank Sinatra sent a bar mitzvah wire to Juggy Gayles' son: "Congratulations, kid, and welcome to the school of hard knocks" . . . Lou Nova, the former pug, is reciting fairy tales in bop lingo in his care act.

Roy Acuff hopes to buy into European radio stations and introduce hillbilly music there . . . Huntington Hartford brings his "Joy Ride" revue—with Jonathan Winters and Joanne Gilbert—to B'way in April . . . Top show ticket is "No Time for Sergeants," with specs getting $70 a pair.

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

WISH I'D SAID THAT: It's Ruth Gordon's line in "The Matchmaker"; "Money is like walking in the sun—it could either cure you or kill you."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: When a hypochondriac says he had a happy childhood, he means he had everything from mumps to measles.—John Laurens.

Bert ("Break the Bank") Parks heard of a school in a suburb so swank that the math classes aren't even taught about common denominators. That's earl, brother.

Hope Anxious to Learn if Gags Made Meg Mad

LONDON (AP)—Bob Hope says he is anxious to find out whether Princess Margaret is angry with him for wise cracking about her broken romance with Peter Townsend.

If so, the American comedian told reporters, he is ready to apologize.

Hope said he is enlisting the help of Sharman Douglas, daughter of former U.S. Ambassador to London Lewis Douglas and an old friend of the princess.

The jokes which brought adverse comment in England and Canada were tossed off during an American television show. One crack said "Townsend should have known better than to try to play the palace—I never could." Another: "The next time I'm in London I expect to see the princess' wet handkerchief hanging out the window to dry."

Hope arrived from the United States yesterday to make a movie.

Godfrey's New Stunt: Does 'Wet' Commercial

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Midway through Arthur Godfrey's nationwide television program last night the demonstration TV set of the sponsor rolled into the swimming pool of the hotel where the show was taking place.

Godfrey didn't let the sponsor down. He peeled off his clothes down to a bathing suit, jumped into the pool and delivered a straight-faced commercial on the quality of the set—wet or dry.

Wood has been found to be a good insulating material because it is composed of many cells containing dead air spaces which retard the passage of heat and cold.

Soup Company Plans Big Mushroom Farm

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP) — The Campbell Soup Co. has announced plans to develop a large mushroom farm near Half Moon Bay, Calif.

Oliver S. Willits, Campbell vice chairman, said plans still are in the "designing phase" but that he expects contracts for construction of hothouses and other buildings will be let in the "early part of next year."

He said announcement of formal details at this time would be "premature" but that the farm will cover 100 acres and the development will run into "a good deal of money."

He said the mushrooms will be processed for use in soup at the Campbell plant in Sacramento.
