2 Kidnap-Murder Suspects Give Up Meekly

TONOPAH, Nev. (AP) — Two Oregon murder-kidnap suspects threw away their pistols and surrendered meekly to highway patrolmen today, ending a crime spree which police say included a bank robbery, the slaying of a deputy sheriff, and kidnaping of nine persons.

The dramatic three-day chase from Oregon, through Northern California and into Nevada, ended at 9:37 a.m. when two California highway patrolmen spotted the fugitives near the Benton agricultural inspection station on the California-Nevada state line.

Ex-convicts Wilbur Marion Grey, 30, a native of Brunswick, Ga., and Carl Cletes Bowles, 24, Amarillo, Tex., surrendered without resistance.

Their arrests came little more than an hour after they had released the last two of their hostages, Marie Champion and her 19-month-old daughter.

Mrs. Champion — wife of California finance director Hale Champion — described the two gunmen as "pathetic" and "really courteous all the time."

BULLET WOUND

Champion, wounded in the hip by a bullet fired by a Tonopah bystander, had been released earlier.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation took Grey and Bowles into custody and were to return them to Sacramento, Calif., for a hearing before a U.S. commissioner.

"I've had worse treatment in the capital," he commented at planeside.

"We got edgy for a while. It looked like a stalemate for a moment," he said. Nevada Highway Patrol officers and deputies had trailed the fugitives and hostages—but kept a safe distance for fear the woman and child would be killed.

After surprising two Nevada officers who had stopped to check a car near Tonopah, Bowles and Grey commandeered the officers' car. They talked frequently with officers via the police radio in the car, and threatened to harm Mrs. Champion and the infant.

At one point they asked for safe conduct, but declined to release the hostages.

★ ★ ★

There was actual gunplay only once after Grey and Bowles were found in Nevada.

Marines Take Isle From Cong

Recapture Area After Landing on Beach

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines made an amphibious landing on an island near their Chu Lai beachhead today and fought their way into a Vietnamese coastal headquarters that had been overrun by the Viet Cong, a U.S. spokesman reported.

★ ★ ★

The battle for An Hoa Island, on which the headquarters is located, ended in a complete collapse of the Viet Cong assault forces, he said.

The Marines were reported to have encircled the enemy, who had been victorious only a few hours before. The Marines reported they killed eight Viet Cong, captured 16 of the guerrillas and held 52 suspects.

The operation was a fairly bloody one for both sides.

★ ★ ★

BODIES FOUND

They found the bodies of 16 Vietnamese navy men of the coastal junk force along with the bodies of two of the three American naval advisers assigned to the headquarters.

This was the first time American troops had been used as a reaction force against a Viet Cong attack.

A U.S. Navy destroyer rushed to An Hoa Island, 345 miles northeast of Saigon, to cut off the Reds if they tried to escape by sea.

Congress Reaction Is Mixed on Switch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Surprise, praise, criticism and outright denunciation are among the varied reactions from Congress to President Johnson's appointment of Republican Henry Cabot Lodge as ambassador to war-torn South Viet Nam.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee saw Johnson's appointment of Lodge to replace the resigning Gen. Maxwell Taylor as a possible bid for bipartisan support of administration policies in Viet Nam.

Most Democrats had high praise for the retiring Taylor, and Republicans were strong in supporting Johnson's choice of Lodge, who will be making his second tour as Viet Nam ambassador.

But Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., a strong critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policies, denounced both Taylor and Lodge and said he would debate and vote against Senate confirmation of Lodge.

Of Taylor, Morse said "Both the political and military situation has deteriorated under his ambassadorship."

★ ★ ★

Another sharp critic of the switch was Rep. Clement Zablocki, D-Wis., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on Southeast Asia.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said he was perplexed by the switch in ambassadors at such a critical time in Viet Nam and wondered whether it would mean any change in U.S. firmness against Communist aggression.

★ ★ ★

Ford said Johnson owes the American people a "clear explanation."

'Troop Needs Up in SE Asia'

Lodge Is New Envoy as Taylor Resigns

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said of the War in Viet Nam today "we expect it will get worse before it gets better."

Johnson told a news conference that U.S. manpower needs are increasing in the Southeast Asian struggle and will continue to increase.

See Story, Page C-10

He said requirements will go beyond the previously announced goal of 75,000 men which will, he said, be reached shortly.

"Whatever is required I am sure will be supplied," Johnson said.

★ ★ ★

"We don't plan to let up until the aggression ceases."

LODGE NAMED

Johnson said that in his appointment of Henry Cabot Lodge to serve a second time as U.S. ambassador in South Viet Nam he believes the American people have "the best man available . . . to do that job."

The Johnson statements were a follow-up to word from the White House putting it on record that the assignment of Lodge means no change in U.S. policy.

The assertion came from Bill D. Moyers, the new White House press secretary. He was replying at a news briefing to a reporter who said there was a story in print saying Lodge would put more emphasis on political aspects of Vietnamese problems than the retiring ambassador, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

YEAR AGO

The ambassadorial shift was announced late yesterday.

Moyers said Johnson first discussed sending Lodge back to Canada Airline Crash Kills 52

100 MILE HORSE, B.C. (AP) — Fifty-two persons, some of them children, died when a four-engined Canadian Pacific Airlines plane apparently exploded in flight and crashed in remote rangeland late yesterday.

None of the 46 passengers and 6 crew members aboard survived.

The DC-6B was Flight 21 out of Vancouver, B.C., at 3:30 p.m. bound for Whitehorse, Y. T., with stops scheduled at Fort St. John, Fort Nelson and Watson Lake, B.C. The plane was bought by the airline 12 years ago.

CPA officials said they heard three staccato cries of "May day" — the international distress call — just before the plane vanished from radar screens. The tail stabilizer was found a mile from the main wreckage and officials said they believed an explosion had occurred.

★ ★ ★

It came down in rolling cattle country near this tiny shipping town 170 miles northeast of Vancouver.

Capt. John Alfred Steele, 41, of Vancouver about 15 minutes before the crash radioed he was changing course slightly to avoid turbulence ahead. The plane was flying at 15,000 feet.

Then came the "May Day" calls and the plane went silent.

Showers Forecast for Area Tonight

Scattered showers and thundershowers may be expected tonight and again Monday and Tuesday, the weatherman reports.

Temperatures will fall into the low 60s tonight, then climb to 73 to 80 tomorrow with skies partly overcast.

The outlook for Sunday is fair and warm.

South to southwesterly winds at 10 to 20 miles this morning will shift to north to northwesterly tonight.

The low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 69. The 2 p.m. reading was 78.

BACK HOME SAFELY — California Finance Director Hale Champion, his wife, Marie, and daughter, Kate, are safe at home in Sacramento, Calif., today after being held hostage by gunmen for 24 hours. The fugitives, suspects in a bank robbery and killing, freed the trio shortly before being arrested on the California border.

British Golf Open Won by Aussie

SOUTHPORT, England (AP)— Peter Thomson of Australia came out of virtual obscurity and won his fifth British Open Golf Championship today with a 72-hole score of 285.

From Our News Wires

SOUTHPORT, England — Ten golfers remained in contention going into the final 18 holes today of the British Open championship.

Peter Thomson of Australia fired a one-under-par 72 during the first 18 holes of today's final 36-hole finish for a total of 214 and a one stroke edge over Tony Lema and Bruce Devlin.

★ ★ ★

Lema, the defending champion, and Devlin, an Australian, both fired 75s. They were the co-leaders at the end of yesterday's second round.

Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., shot a 75 and is two-strokes behind Thomson. Tied with Palmer at 216 are Christy O'Connor of Ireland and Argentina's Roberto de Vicenzo.

Tied at 217 were Australian Kel Nagle, Brian Huggett of Wales, Lionel Platts of England and Spain's Sebastian Miguel.

★ ★ ★

Christy stayed in contention with a 74 and de Vicenzo moved back to the picture by firing a 73.

Nearly 5,000 Hear Symphony

More than 4,700 people attended the opening concert of the Meadow Brook Music Festival's second season last night.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Sixten Ehrling, and violinist Isaac Stern presented a program of Beethoven, Mozart, Dvorak and Ravel to a capacity audience in the Howard C. Baldwin Pavilion.

A portion of the audience sat on new permanent seats, made possible by a grant from the Kresge Foundation, while others used folding chairs, blankets and mats they rented at the gate.

In Trumbull Terrace, newest building on the Oakland University Festival grounds, some 800 persons ate before the concert and another 200 ate during intermission.

At the Scholar Shop, also housed in the Trumbull Terrace concertgoers browsed and bought. All proceeds from the shop go to the scholarship fund.

Christopher Jaffe, who designed the acoustical system for the Lula B. Wilson Memorial Concert Shell, came from Connecticut to reappraise the almost perfect acoustics of the shell.

SERVED AS USHERS

Members of the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and their husbands served as ushers.

Thursday night's program will be repeated tonight and a different program is scheduled for Saturday.

PRECONCERT DINERS — Many attending the Meadow Brook Music Festival last night came early and had dinner on Trumbull Terrace. This building, constructed with funds given by Mr. and Mrs. George T. Trumbull of Bloomfield Hills, houses the Festival offices, food services, a first aid room and the Scholar Shop.

If Election Necessary

Question Need for 7th Judge

Already opposed to the addition of an eighth circuit judge, Oakland County officials are not sure they even want a seventh to fill a vacancy if it means calling a special election.

The vacancy was created last month by the death of Judge Stanton G. Dondero.

Under the new State Constitution, a vacancy on the bench can be filled in two ways. The Michigan Supreme Court can appoint a retired judge to the post, or the governor can schedule a special election.

If neither action is taken, the post remains vacant until the next general election which, in this case, would be November, 1966.

Though there are two former circuit judges presently living in Oakland County, the possibility of one of them being named is remote, according to officials.

They note that Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh recently said that it was his opinion that a retired judge is one who comes under the state retirement system.

Neither of the one-time jurors, Goodloe Rogers and Theodore F. Hughes, qualify under that ruling.

Rogers served a 10 month term on the bench in 1935 before the retirement plan was established. Hughes, elected to a short six-month term in 1959, did not serve long enough to take advantage of the system.

Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the county board of auditors, said that if a judge wasn't appointed he would oppose a special election this year because of the cost. He estimated the election would cost $50,000.

SPECIAL ELECTION

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the county board of supervisors, agreed. He said that sufficient reason would have to be shown to hold the special election, and so far this hasn't been done.

Several circuit judges speaking privately, indicated that they did not favor filling the post immediately if it meant a special election was required.

They pointed out that their docket is current and more up to date than any circuit court in the state. Cases assigned to Dondero before his death have been taken over by other judges.

Presiding Judge Philip Pratt said the judges will probably meet next week to discuss what steps are to be taken regarding the vacancy and how the caseload will be handled until the matter is decided.

A bill is now before the governor for his signature that would give the county another judge by January 1967.

Free Hostages in Bank Holdup

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP)—Two young men in business suits robbed a branch bank at a tiny town near here today and fled with an undetermined amount of money and two women hostages.

The hostages, both young mothers who worked in the bank, were released unharmed less than an hour later on a country road near Plain Dealing, La.

And barely minutes after the release of the hostages, police picked up two men in Bossier City, La., in connection with the holdup. They were not identified immediately.

The bank was a branch office of the First National Bank of Magnolia, located at Taylor, a town of less than 1,000 population near the Louisiana line.

T. A. Monroe, president of the bank, said the holdup men got "only a small amount of cash."

School Program Planned to Fight Teen-Age Crime

Concerned with the increasing crime rate among youths, Oakland County prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson today outlined a plan to aid educators in combating teen-age delinquency.

In announcing the program, Bronson said he had appointed Bloomfield Township attorney Leonard E. Bellinson as a special prosecutor to direct the project.

Bellinson, 37, of 4925 Malibu, will meet with school officials in the near future to discuss what approaches will be taken to discourage youthful offenders.

While details of the pilot program have not been mapped, Bronson said the plan does include visits by law enforcement officials to junior and senior high schools to talk to problem children.

The prosecutor said school officials already have shown an interest in the program. Their support of the program was revealed in a questionnaire sent to every high school in the county.

LONG OVERDUE

Remarks such as "Excellent idea," and "This is long overdue," were typical of the reactions from school officials, according to Bellinson.

Bellinson, a 1951 graduate of Wayne State University, will serve without pay.

A former camp counselor, Bellinson said, "I'm no specialist and I don't pretend to be. But I am interested in the problem. I don't have all the answers. Nobody does."

Bellinson said he was alarmed over the widening gap between parents and some children.

"The only opportunity to work with these children who feel rejected at home is in the school," Bellinson added.

DEVELOP PROGRAM

"We hope to develop a program to get to these kids before they blow up."

The next step in the special project, according to Bellinson, will be a meeting with representatives of all the Oakland County schools.

This preliminary meeting will probably be held in the fall, he said, and will give officials an opportunity to suggest methods of coping with the problem.

Bronson said that he feels that this project is extremely important in view of the findings released recently by the National Council on Crime and Delinquency.

It revealed that two-thirds of all capital crimes in this country are committed by those whose average age is between 15 and 24.

* * *

"An observer in circuit court here would be shocked at the youthfulness of the defendants," said Bronson. "At least half of those arraigned in courts are 21 and under."

LBJ Plans Defense Fund Cuts in 1968

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson said today his administration hopes to cut defense spending by $5.1 billion starting in fiscal 1969 — three years hence—and as much in each year thereafter.

* * *

Johnson's discussion of the fiscal outlook came after reporters asked whether he was considering the possibility of a further income tax reduction next year.

Without responding specifically, the President said Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara was circulating among Cabinet members a report on how the Pentagon realized a saving of $4.6 billion in fiscal 1965 which ended June 30.

He said this was "$2.1 billion more than estimated last January."

The President then told about McNamara's goal of saving $8.1 billion annually in the defense budget starting in fiscal 1969 and each succeeding year. Fiscal 1969 begins on June 30, 1968.

* * *

Johnson said, however, that it was not possible now to accurately estimate the effect of lower defense spending on the rest of the federal budget. He said task forces were studying this entire matter.

* * *

The hastily called news conference in the President's office came shortly before his scheduled departure for a weekend at his Johnson City, Tex., ranch.

He's Out at the Plate

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI) — Police arrested J. Bunt Hood, 75, yesterday on disorderly conduct charges because he was racing around the bases of the city's professional baseball park. He was driving his truck at the time.

PROJECTED CAMPUS — This is what the new Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College is to look like, according to the first drawings received by college officials. Located south of I-696 and west of Orchard Lake Road in Farmington Township, the 135-acre college is slated for a fall, 1966, opening. Construction will begin this fall with the first seven buildings to cost an estimated $5.6 million. Total investment in building construction at the Orchard Ridge campus is to reach $12 million.

LBJ: Viet War Will Get Worse

Saigon as ambassador on March 24 and that Lodge agreed on March 25 to go back. He had left the post just a year ago.

Taylor had agreed to stay on only as long as he did, Moyers said, primarily to deal with a change in the Vietnamese government.

At no time in the course of discussions, Moyers said, did anyone imply or suggest that Lodge's second tour would represent a change of policy.

* * *

He said Johnson asked Lodge to take the assignment again "because he considers him the most experienced man available."

VIET FACTION

He said Lodge served under both Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy, has discussed the Vietnamese situation with members of the Southeast Asia and North Atlantic Treaty Organizations, and knows the various factions in Viet Nam.

Shortly after Moyers' session with newsmen, the White House sent Lodge's nomination to the Senate for confirmation.

Moyers told one questioner that Alexis Johnson will continue indefinitely as deputy ambassador to Viet Nam.

* * *

He told another the administration is disappointed that no more aggressive, positive response has developed to feelers for negotiations on Viet Nam. This was in answer to a question whether the President feels anything useful can result from a visit of Harold Davis to Hanoi on behalf of British Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

RESPONSIBLE EFFORTS

The administration, Moyers said, welcomes any responsible efforts in the direction of a settlement but "there has been strong silence" from the other side.

Lodge and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will fly to Saigon next Wednesday for a week-long round of conferences with Taylor and American and Vietnamese officials.

This reassessment of the progress of the war could produce some new ideas, but officials here said the main purpose was to make Lodge fully acquainted with all the problems and personalities involved before he takes over.

* * *

The White House announced yesterday Taylor's resignation and the President's selection of Lodge and released a "Dear Max" letter from Johnson to Taylor saying: "We shall miss you, but no man has more fully earned the right to meet his personal obligations."

County Legal Aid Program Is Outlined

A proposed countywide legal aid program for the poor as a part of the War on Poverty was outlined yesterday by Carl F. Ingraham, chairman of the Oakland County Economic Opportunity Commission (EOC).

Designed to benefit families with annual incomes of under $3,000, the program would be an extension of present legal aid services available to indigent persons.

Ingraham outlined the proposed program at a meeting of county court representatives, county officials and representatives of United Community Services.

WILBUR M. GREY

CARL C. BOWLES

He suggested establishing two legal aid offices, in Pontiac and Royal Oak Township, at the outset of the program with an eye to opening future offices in Walled Lake and Madison Heights.

* * *

Probate Court Judge Donald E. Adams questioned the proposed scope of the program.

COUNSEL NEEDED

He pointed out that indigent persons are being provided counsel when needed and suggested that funds could be better used outside the realm of legal assistance.

Adams said that if such a legal aid program is adopted it should be limited to one office to serve the county.

Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt said that the poor are adequately represented at the circuit court level also.

* * *

Ingraham said that the proposed legal aid would mainly constitute legal advice and representation in lower court cases such as garnishments.

NO TIMETABLE

No clearly defined amount of money is yet available for the legal aid program, Ingraham said, and no timetable has been set.

An application by the County EOC for $1.4 million in federal funds for support of the total county antipoverty program is pending.

The amount of this application included funds for legal aid but not of the broad scope proposed yesterday, Ingraham said.

* * *

Ingraham suggested that each legal aid office be staffed by experienced attorneys and secretarial assistants and that each contain an adequate legal library.

* * *

Antipoverty programs are financed initially by 90 per cent federal funds and 10 per cent in local funds.

The federal grant diminishes as the programs progress and eventually the entire cost is borne locally.

2 Suspects Give Up

It was in that exchange of fire that Champion was hurt.

HEARD SHOUTS

At 12:05 a.m. Ralph Marks, a card dealer at the Club Tonopah, heard angry shouting outside the club.

"If you don't bring sandwiches in six minutes," a voice shouted, "we're coming in shooting."

When no one moved inside the club, the man opened fire.

"I stepped outside," Marks said, "and saw a woman and a child in a car. I put three bullets in the rear seat. They were aimed at the gunman."

One of the slugs nicked Champion in the hip.

Being trailed by officers, Bowles and Grey drove to Coaldale Junction on U.S. 95. There they bought two bottles of liquor, cigarettes and some food and paid $250 for it.

Bartender Jimmy Cook, 52, employe of the Coaldale Inn, said Bowles "told me that if anybody moved his buddy would shoot the lady he was holding in the car." Handing him the money, Bowles said, "We'll probably never live to spend it anyway," Cook said.

The gunmen drove north, then reversed their course and crossed the Nevada state line to Benton. There, they notified the Nevada Highway Patrol they were releasing Mrs. Champion and the child.

LEFT IN CAR

Bowles and Grey left the woman and child in the stolen police car and fled on foot.

About an hour later, officers Howard Hoffman and Bill Rich spotted the fugitives walking near the Benton station.

"We ordered them to halt and they did," Hoffman said. They made no attempt to use their guns.

Their release of Mrs. Champion and the girl followed the pattern set by Bowles and Grey yesterday when they released six Oregon people in Sacramento.

STARTING POINT

Going back to the Portland bank robbery as a starting point, law enforcement officials give this rundown of the multiple crimes:

On Tuesday, Bowles and Grey robbed the bank. Later that day they were stopped by Oregon Deputy Sheriff Carlton E. Smith near Springfield.

Smith's body with a shotgun blast and six revolver bullets in it, was found beside his patrol car.

The ex-convicts went on to the nearby home of Mrs. David Corbin, 33. There, they forced her and her son, Clinton, 12, to drive them toward the California border.

CAR IS STUCK

The Corbin car became mired in mud near where Uldis Reikstins of Renton, Wash., his wife and two boys were camping.

Grey and Bowles forced Mrs. Corbin and her son into the Reikstins' trailer camper and the eight headed for California.

The six Oregon hostages were released shortly after midnight Wednesday in Sacramento.

The Champion kidnap followed.

NOT PLANNED

Champion, in an impromptu interview at Tonopah, said he didn't think the men had planned to take his family—or knew who he was.

"They were running and looking and it happened to be our house. They told my wife to come along and bring the baby."

They drove below Stockton, Calif., then over the Sonora Pass and into Nevada to Carson City.

Response From Colors Is Subject of Exhibit

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The importance of color in art — and the response it evokes in the viewer — will be the subject of an exhibit opening next week at the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

The display reflects the years which artist Josef Albers has devoted to the study of color phenomena and the development of a color theory.

Some of Albers' color panels, circulated by the Smithsonian Institution, will be at the local science museum Thursday through Aug. 30.

In his book, "Interaction of Color," the artist demonstrated that no color exists independently, but that each color is affected by adjacent tones.

* * *

ILLUSTRATIONS

Optical illusions, after-images, color textures, color temperatures, spatial effects and the distortion of color photography are illustrated in his book and the exhibit based on it.

The institute of science is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 1 to 5 p.m. weekends, except major holidays.

There is an admission charge.

BIRMINGHAM — Paintings by the Swedish artist Olle Carlstrom will be on exhibit at the Bloomfield Art Association Sunday through Aug. 8.

Although Carlstrom's dynamic paintings generally are abstract, they derive much of their strength from references to traditional art and nature.

* * *

Born in Sweden in 1920, the artist studied in Stockholm and Paris. He has exhibited widely in Europe and the United States.

The association at 1516 S. Cranbrook is open from 2 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday.

City Police Quiz Trio in Armed Theft

Pontiac police are holding three men as suspects in connection with an armed robbery yesterday afternoon at Oakland Fuel and Paint, 436 Orchard Lake Ave.

Two bandits, one of them armed with an automatic pistol, robbed the store of about $80 and fled in a car.

Mary Forgette, an employe, gave police a description of the auto, which they located a short time later parked on Crystal Lake Road near Motor.

At that time they arrested Alfred Seay, 18, of 28 Crawford and Lonnie Reid, 18, of 253 Crystal Lake.

* * *

They found an automatic pistol in the car. Both men were carrying homemade masks.

Later police picked up Ralph Grandberry, 17, of 484 S. Edith. All three are being held at the Oakland County Jail for investigation of armed robbery.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield Thursday got a debate limitation agreement considered certain to bring a final vote by tonight.

* * *

Under the agreement, debate on all further amendments was limited to one hour each. Two hours were allowed for a motion by Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., to return the measure to the Finance Committee.

The Senate has disposed of 25 amendments in two days of voting so far, but many important ones remained.

LEADERS SAY

Democratic leaders said they were confident of beating off any crippling changes and passing the bill with a heavy majority.

The bill would provide basic hospitalization for 19 million Americans who are 65 or older. A voluntary supplemental plan covering doctors' fees would be open to anyone 65 or over who wants to enroll and pay $3 a month premium. The estimated $6.8 billion yearly cost of the program would be financed mainly through increased Social Security taxes.

* * *

Curtis led a verbal assault on the bill from the Republican side Thursday, denouncing the health provisions as "brazen socialism."

One of the amendments Curtis had ready today would strike from the bill the two broad new health programs — the basic hospital plan and the voluntary supplemental plan.

WOULD REOPEN

Sen. Gance Hartke, D-Ind., said he would reopen the question of unlimited hospitalization in the basic plan.

Administration forces on Wednesday narrowly defeated, 43 to 39, an amendment of Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., to cover full hospital stays, arguing that this would overburden the financing.

LAST FLIGHT — Two motion picture cameras on location near Yuma, Ariz., yesterday produced these pictures of the final flight of ace stunt flier Paul Mantz. The veteran stunt man was killed and another injured. The plane was specially built for use in the movie "Flight of the Phoenix."

LBJ Sets Sept. 12 as World Law Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has proclaimed Sept. 12 at "World Law Day" and pledged the United States will faithfully honor its agreements and treaties.

The President signed the proclamation Thursday.

Veteran Stunt Man

His Life Was Danger . . . Ends in Crash

YUMA, Ariz. (AP) — For 35 years, when a plane crash scene was filmed for a Hollywood movie, chances were that a chunky, mustachioed daredevil and aviation enterpreneur named Paul Mantz was at the controls.

Such was the case Thursday when Mantz, 61, was filmed in his final crash — this one accidental and fatal. His body was catapulted 350 feet across the desert sands. And the cameras rolled.

* * *

Mantz, who since early talkies had flown dangerous maneuvers in nearly 300 films, was piloting a plane he had fashioned himself.

He and veteran stunt man Bobby Rose, 64, were making the flight 17 miles west of here for filming of "Flight of the Phoenix." The plane caught a wheel on a sand dune, cartwheeled and virtually disintegrated. Rose was seriously injured.

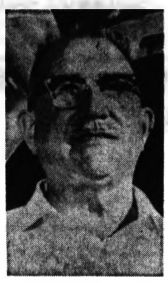
Mantz, who included among his close friends such flying greats as the late Amelia Earhart and Gen. Jimmy Doolittle, was referred to as a pilot's pilot.

He took flying lessons when he was 16 and in 1927 joined the Army Air Corps. He rose to rank of lieutenant colonel in World War II.

* * *

After the war, Mantz won three consecutive Bendix speed race trophies and set several transcontinental speed records.

He was a flamboyant man, who liked to do things big. By the late 1940s, he owned the seventh largest air force in the world — 560 planes, most of them surplus bombers and fighters. Many he sold for scrap, some he converted for passengers and display.



PAUL MANTZ

WRECKS PLANES

Crashing planes in flight, slamming them into buildings, ramming them into the ground, flying them through hangars, under bridges and high tension wires and through billboards was all in a days work for Mantz.

He once flew 17 times under the Brooklyn Bridge just to get a sequence correctly filmed.

He started his film career when American moviegoers became air conscious — after such films as "Wings." Among the films in which he flew were "Hell's Angels," "Air Mail," and "Flying Leathernecks."

Mantz first gained public attention by performing 46 consecutive outside loops in 1930. He logged more than 20,000 hours in the air.

In his last hour, Mantz was flying a plane his firm had carefully fashioned to look like a wreck. But, said mechanic-pilot John Bagley, it had passed an engineering checkout by the Federal Aviation Agency.

"The fuselage and tail were all handmade, and the motor was brand new," said Bagley. "We used clothesline and stuff on it to make it look makeshift."

* * *

Mantz was doubling at the controls for actor James Stewart, who in the film portrays a mechanic who rebuilt a crashed plane in the Libyan desert and flew it out with six men strapped to the wing.

Said Stewart, who is a brigadier general in the U.S. Air Force Reserve: "Paul has made a tremendous contribution to the motion picture industry over the years and he will be sorely missed, and even more than this, he has made a great contribution to aviation."

Guardsmen to Leave for Maneuvers

Pontiac National Guardsmen will leave the city at 3:30 a.m. tomorrow in a military truck convoy bound for the Camp Grayling Military Reservation.

The journey marks the beginning of the annual 15-day summer training for guardsmen throughout Michigan.

The Pontiac unit, Co. A, 2nd Battalion of the 125th Infantry, will join more than 10,500 other guardsmen at Grayling for the field training.

New training techniques will be used during the summer camp, and troops will join in combined infantry-armor and infantry-artillery maneuvers.

The 120-man Pontiac contingent will return home on July 24. The local unit is commanded by Capt. David MacGillis, 259 W. Columbia.

To Start Shopping Plaza

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Confirmation that ground will be broken here "within 30 days" for a $10-million shopping plaza planned at this city's southeastern limits came Thursday from E. N. Homer, president of Eastern Shopping Centers, Inc., at Yonkers, N.Y.

Klan Attorney to Sue Informer

Seeks Legal Fee From Liuzzo Trial Witness

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Ku Kux Klan attorney Matt H. Murphy Jr. says he will file two suit against a man he once defended and then cross-examined as the prosecution's chief witness against the Klan.

"I intend to file contempt of court and default judgment suits against Gary Thomas Rowe next week in Circuit Court," Murphy said yesterday. "Once I get the default judgment, I will attempt to collect the money from the FBI which paid Rowe."

Murphy said neither Rowe nor his attorney, Paul Johnston, appeared at an oral deposition hearing yesterday morning.

"Rowe owes me $6,000 in legal fees, and I intend to collect either from him or the federal government," Murphy said.

* * *

Murphy was hired to defend Rowe when the burly ex-bartender was arrested along with three Klansmen for the March 25 night-rider slaying of white civil rights worker Mrs. Viola Liuzzo.

FBI INFORMER

It was later learned Rowe was an informer for the FBI, and he testified against Collie Leroy Wilkins, Eugene Thomas and William O. Eaton at Wilkins' trial in Hayneville in May. It ended in a mistrial, and another trial is set for Sept. 27.

Rowe pointed to Wilkins as the triggerman in the Liuzzo slaying.

Murphy claims Rowe owes him the $6,000 from fees incurred during his short defense of the informer.

Rowe's attorney, hired by the Justice Department following Murphy's suit, said Rowe would not appear publicly until the next trial.

"When I want to be in touch with Mr. Rowe, I call the attorney general's office in Washington," the attorney said. "There's no reason I should have knowledge of his whereabouts."

Rowe has been closely guarded by the FBI since the trial and is expected to be kept in hiding until September.

BOWS OUT — George E. Reedy (left) said yesterday he is taking a leave of absence from his post as White House press secretary. He said his duties will be performed by Bill D. Moyers. Reedy said he is suffering from a painful foot disease and may face a series of operations which could sideline him six months.

Moyers Replaces Reedy

LBJ Press Aide to 'Open News Doors'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bill D. Moyers, the new White House press secretary, has started out by pledging that he will be "opening the doors to the news as wide as they can be opened."

Moyers, barely 31 but possessing an impressive government record, took over Thursday as President Johnson's press secretary.

* * *

George E. Reedy, after holding the $28,500-a-year job nearly 16 months, bowed out with a leave of absence to get medical treatment for a painful foot ailment called "hammer toes."

Few White House newsmen expect him to return. Moyers added to that general impression when he was asked if he would object being called White House press secretary, rather than acting press secretary. "I have no objection," he replied.

FIRST BRIEFING

At his first news briefing late Thursday, Moyers acted like a man who had been doing the job for years. He rattled off details about a series of off-the-record presidential appointments and confided that after a telephone chat with Mrs. Johnson in Texas the President had lunch at his desk.

When questions were raised, Moyers picked up the phone and got answers if he didn't have them already.

* * *

Without question, Moyers has stepped into one of the toughest jobs in Washington — a job perhaps more difficult than usual because of Johnson's tendency to be his own press secretary and to react like a volcano even to trivial news items he considers critical.

Reedy, though a loyal Johnson supporter for 13 years, never gave the impression to observers of enjoying the full confidence of the President. Most newsmen felt that often Reedy appeared to be almost the last to know what was going on inside the White House.

* * *

Moyers, a Texan, apparently does have Johnson's respect and confidence. He is said to be one of the few White House insiders who doesn't hesitate to stand up and be counted when he disagrees with his chief.

* * *

Moyers, formerly deputy director of the Peace Corps, was drafted for White House duty as soon as Johnson became president, and he has been in the inner circle ever since.

BAPTIST MINISTER

An ordained Baptist minister and graduate of the University of Texas, Moyers' journalistic experience was confined to his student days when he worked for his home town newspaper and at the Austin, Tex., television station owned by the Johnson family.

The few newsmen who anticipated Reedy's departure had speculated that his successor would be Horace Busby, another presidential assistant from Texas with training in journalism. Moyers was overlooked precisely because his staff assignment was so important and influential no one thought Johnson would spare him for press office duties.

Sheriff to Alter Routine After Prisoner Freed

ANN ARBOR (AP) —Washtenaw County Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey says the procedure for release of prisoners from the county jail is being revised as a result of an erroneous release Wednesday.

James E. Nodine, 24, of Ann Arbor, charged with malicious destruction of property and parole violation, was freed on the basis of a bogus telephone call from a man who said he was Nodine's parole officer.

The caller told deputies the parole violation charge against Nodine had been lifted and that the prisoner could go free.

An all points bulletin was issued for Nodine's apprehension.

Crops Are Drowning in N. New Mexico

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — More than nine inches of moisture in northern New Mexico have created problems for farmers who usually are choking on dust by July.

* * *

J. R. Chavez, Santa Fe County agent, said farmers "have lost 1,455 acres of alfalfa, 2,200 acres of barley, 280 acres of wheat and 110 acres of potatoes," because of the rains.

Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever Found in State

LANSING (AP)—The Health Department warned southwestern Michigan residents today to beware of Rocky Mountain spotted fever in the wake of finding the first two cases of the disease in Michigan in 14 years.

The disease was diagnosed in a girl, 5, and boy, 7, from the Niles area.

Health Commissioner Albert Heustis warned persons to watch for ticks. The tick imbeds its head under the skin and sucks blood.

Heustis recommended parents in tick-invested areas check children periodically, especially around the face and neck. Ticks should be removed, he said, by pulling them gently from the skin. The bite should be disinfected.

News From Washington

Dollar Confidence Said High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former chief White House economist Walter Heller says European confidence in the U.S. dollar has never been higher, and that Americans are getting good value for their money.

* * *

"This is a superb time to buy," Heller advised U.S. consumers.

* * *

Just back from Europe, Heller was at the White House Thursday to report to President Johnson his findings. "Confidence in the dollar is a high point" in Western Europe, Heller said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen has again revised his legislative reapportionment proposal in an effort to satisfy Senate opponents who have threatened to filibuster it to death.

* * *

As revised, Dirksen's proposed constitutional amendment would provide for alternate plans to be submitted to voters on the question of reapportioning state legislatures.

* * *

Dirksen has been seeking to ease the effect of last year's Supreme Court ruling that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned on the basis of substantially equal population districts.

* * *

Dirksen's constitutional amendment would permit voters in each state to decide whether one house of their legislature should be apportioned on factors other than population.

* * *

His new version would provide that alternate plans be submitted to the voters: 1. To take into account population, geography or political subdivisions as factors in apportionment; 2. An apportionment plan based on substantial equality in population in line with the Supreme Court ruling.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Ohio congressman says he fears that businessmen will pass along to consumers only about $1 billion of the recent $1.7 billion federal excise tax cut.

* * *

Democratic Rep. Charles A. Vanik said his survey of retail prices in Cleveland and Washington showed practically no benefit of the tax cut to consumers on a number of items, including phonograph records, radios, clocks, sporting goods and small home appliances.

He said he found evidence that some manufacturers were tricking out products with slight changes and raising prices to absorb the amount of the tax cut.

"My grave concern is that new model changes and prettier packages will come along which will make the benefits of the excise tax reduction impossible to identify within the next 90 days to 120 days."

* * *

He noted that prices on articles on which retail sales taxes were required to be listed separately have been reduced. These include toiletries, cosmetics, and jewelry.

State Jail Escapee Hit by Train, Dies

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Police said a Michigan man who escaped Wednesday from the city jail was fatally injured Thursday when struck by a train seven miles south of here. The man was identified as Robert L. Maddix, 25, of Muskegon. Police said he had spent about four months in jail on a charge of stealing a television set from a motel.

600 GOP Leaders Will Meet in State

LANSING (AP) — Four Republican task forces will deliver final reports on party principles, programs and goals, organization and election law revision at the biennial GOP Leadership Conference on Mackinac Island Sept. 10-12.

State GOP Chairman Elly Peterson said more than 600 party leaders will attend the meeting.

Major addresses will be made by Gov. George Romney and House Minority Leader Gerald Ford, R-Mich.

Omens Appear Bright for New Pontiac Head

Seldom has a top executive assumed direction of a major industrial operation under more auspicious circumstances than those attending the debut of JOHN DELOREAN as general manager of General Motors' Pontiac Motor Division.

DeLOREAN

The Division has just celebrated a dual record, as the first half of 1965 marked the biggest comparable period in its 39-year history as well as the best any six-month period.

★ ★ ★

With Pontiac holding third place industrywide for the fifth consecutive year, DeLorean projects an 800,000-unit production total for 1965, compared with 693,716 cars produced last year.

Two major elements in the phenomenal success of the Pontiac nameplate during the past five years are quality and reliability of product. Significantly, the line reached its pinnacle under a general manager who had been its chief engineer—E. M. ESTES.

Since the new general manager was likewise Pontiac's chief engineer, he is uniquely qualified to preserve the engineering and functional excellence that has distinguished Pontiac cars.

Peace Corpsmen Give U.S. New Look Abroad

The image of the "ugly American" is undergoing a face-lift in at least one country.

An investigation by New York University of the impact of the Peace Corps on the people of Colombia shows a rise in pro-American sentiment. The organization has been in this South American nation since the fall of 1961, when 60 volunteers arrived to launch the corps' first rural community development program.

★ ★ ★

The survey, the first to be made using modern techniques, was conducted by Dr. MORRIS I. STEIN, professor of psychology at NYU.

"The results show," he says, "that the volunteers had a positive effect on the people's lives by helping Colombians improve conditions in their communities through such things as sanitation projects and building schools and roads."

Ninety-two per cent of the Colombians had favorable attitudes toward the United States. The most frequently given reason was simply that the United States "helps."

If the Colombia survey is typical of reactions in other places in the world where the Peace Corps is at work, this face-to-face, shoulder-to-shoulder program may prove to be the best foreign investment (some $179 million in the past four years) this country has ever made.

The dividends in international peace, progress and understanding could keep coming in for generations.

Noted School Reflects American Traditions

Those who may be wondering if student yearning for academic independence and citizens rights cannot be satisfied without noise, fury and violence would do well to visit a college campus in Kentucky.

Berea College is unique in several ways:

- Its 1,600 students — 90 per cent of whom come from 230 mountain counties of eight Southern states—pay no tuition fee.
- They pay less than $500 for room, board and incidental fees for the entire school year.
- Every student — male or female — must work at least 10 hours a week. This is in conformity with the college's belief that "In America and in Berea College it is honorable to work, it is honorable to study, and above all it is honorable to do both."

In addition to the college curriculum, students are taught and become superbly adept in a variety of skills covering all manner of handicraft, food preparation and agrarian pursuits — even to running one of the best hotels a traveler will find anywhere.

Berea College students are not being brainwashed into docile acceptance of the status quo. In the college paper and elsewhere there is plenty of evidence that here, as on other campuses, young minds are probing and restless—but without violence, noise and headlines.

★ ★ ★

This college is proving that the American campus can be a birthplace of free thought and action — and of maturity, responsibility and dignity.

Viet War Heads for an Explosion

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON—The war in Viet Nam is moving toward an explosion. All the signs point to it.

U. S. forces are building up. Viet Cong guerrillas are stepping up raids and attacks. The American commander, Gen. William O. Westmoreland, says more "substantial confrontations" may be expected.

MARLOW

That's a complicated way of saying much bigger ground fighting is in store. Westmoreland also says the Viet Cong "are less confident of success than they were earlier."

U.S. intelligence sources believe North Viet Nam's 325th Division, starting early this year, has moved into South Viet Nam to join the Viet Cong in the fighting.

★ ★ ★

Malcolm W. Browne of the Associated Press reports from Saigon that for the past few weeks guerrilla forces of unprecedented strength have burst across the Vietnamese highlands, smashing one important post after another.

THOUSANDS KILLED

Recently, he says, thousands of South Vietnamese government forces have been killed or captured.

The more the South Vietnamese are smashed, the more U.S. forces must get involved to ball them out.

Only last week, guerrillas slipped through the heavy Marine guard surrounding the Da Nang Air Base, killed one American and destroyed three U.S. planes on the ground.

★ ★ ★

And last Monday they overran the jungle outpost of Ba Gia and made off with two 105mm howitzers, the largest weapons they've captured yet, plus ammunition which, with the howitzers, may be used against Americans later.

Still, there has been no big showdown yet between the Marines and the Viet Cong or the 325th Division from North Viet Nam.

But more U.S. troops—about 8,000 Marines—are being put ashore in South Viet Nam, raising American military strength there to about 80,000 men.

And, while the United States builds up its ground forces, it gets deeper into the war in the air.

★ ★ ★

Three times now American B52 bombers have flown the 2,200 miles from Guam to bomb Viet Cong locations in South Viet Nam, some within 35 miles of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

At the same time American bombers continued to plaster North Viet Nam, although staying away from such population centers as the capital city of Hanoi and the seaport, Haiphong.

David Lawrence Says:

Health Care Will Be Put to Test

WASHINGTON — Most people are unaware of what the legislation providing medical care for the aged — about to be passed by Congress— will really mean to the nation as a whole.

LAWRENCE

While furnishing needed help to the elderly population, it may bring severe hardships to millions of other persons of all ages who happen to get sick and require medical attention.

For there will not be enough doctors or hospitals to take care of those who must be treated. Even today these facilities are not sufficient, and there is as yet no comprehensive plan to handle the increased number of patients to be expected when medical bills are going to be paid in large part by the government.

The elderly account today for 25 per cent of the use of hospital facilities, and the expectation is that this now will increase substantially.

★ ★ ★

It is estimated by medical statisticians that, since World War II, there has been a 500 per cent increase in admissions to emergency wards, and these units in some neighborhoods have supplied the services which family doctors used to provide.

FAR FROM SATISFACTORY

The situation at present is far from satisfactory and, with the enactment of the "medicare" legislation, it may grow more and more acute.

One reason is that if hospital care for older people is to a large extent free, there will be a temptation to go to such places for aches and pains that used to be taken care of by family doctors calling at the home. This will produce a scarcity of beds for young and old who really need to be in a hospital.

There were 149 doctors for every 100,000 population in 1950 and the percentage hasn't increased since then. Some estimates indicate that there may be 154 physicians per 100,000 people by 1975, but even this figure assumes a dependence on doctors imported from foreign countries.

★ ★ ★

Although a statistical surplus of doctors is recorded in some areas, this doesn't help in the localities which have a shortage of doctors.

5,684 HOSPITALS

Efforts certainly will be made to move the chronically ill patients from beds in hospitals to some of the nursing homes or units where this kind of care can be given.

For virtually the entire nation of 190 million people is dependent on about 5,684 hospitals, the total expense of which is approximately $7.5 billion a year. There are 1,454 state and governmental hospitals, which cost an additional $3.4 billion annually.

The U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which got $100 million last year for federal loans and grants to medical students, now is asking Congress for additional funds for this purpose, plus $300 million for construction of medical schools and other health-training facilities.

★ ★ ★

But it may well be that even these sums will not meet the forthcoming emergency due to a shortage of doctors and of trained medical and hospital personnel throughout the country.

The number of nursing and convalescent homes is bound to be increased and their services augmented both by local governments and by private organizations, but the extent of the impact which the new "medicare" legislation will make on the country as a whole can hardly be judged at this time.

World Leaders Finding Going Rough Nowadays

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — As Willie Shakespeare so aptly phrased it: "Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown."

RUTH MONTGOMERY

Lyndon the First is discovering that "all the king's horses and all the king's men" can't keep those Humpty Dumpty eggheads off the wall, where they're sniping at his foreign policy.

Queen Elizabeth's Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who's had both the Russian and Red Chinese doors slammed in his face for his effort, is beginning to doubt the Biblical injunction: "Blessed are the peacemakers."

Crown Prince Hubert Humphrey has recently learned to his consternation that the Kennedy "Irish Mafia" is privately warning: "We're going to cut Hubert down inch by inch by inch before the '68 convention."

★ ★ ★

Former heir apparent Robert F. Kennedy, who was pulling backstage wires to drop Lyndon B. Johnson as vice president in his brother's expected second term, now finds himself way outside the mansion he'd hoped to inherit in '68.

MADE HEADLINES

The first family recently arranged a party for younger daughter Luci, and happily departed for Camp David for the weekend.

Before the Johnsons returned Sunday night, a Baptist minister in their home state of Texas had made headlines by blasting them for permitting beer to be served to teen-agers in the White House.

Ohio's Ray Bliss was conned into assuming the GOP national chairmanship by assurances that all warring factions in the party would unite behind him. It is to laugh! Undercut on all sides, he is discovering how wobbly an out-of-season throne can be.

Ben Bella is out of Algeria, and Nikita Khrushchev in the Soviet Union. Pity those poor, uneasy heads that wear the crowns . . . .

GETTING OLD

Reader Seeks Assistance for His People

For 400 years our people were killed for the sake of our land. Each tribe fought its own battles and they were soon destroyed. The invaders never took time to educate and civilize our people. To the very last battle of the Little Big Horn in which we won the battle, but lost the war. Since then, everything has been destroyed, and they cut the life of our people's way of living, such as the buffalo and other things.

★ ★ ★

I have been waiting to see if our leaders would start something to change this situation. I am telling what I want for my people and they agree with me very much:

Education, training, employment, and housing in different cities in which they are employed. Claims for money or a little land would do no good for the land belongs to us from coast to coast, and from border to border. When the white man came, he did not own one-sixteenth of an inch of our land. I plead with you to give your approval and your moral support. If it is possible we are ready to go before Congress.

Suggests Means to Raise White Lake Level

At its best, White Lake is a very shallow lake. It has been getting lower for 13 years. We could solve this problem very easily if we had a good lawyer who would be interested and everyone would chip in to do what needed to be done. If we were allowed to use some means to fill up White Lake from the State property nearby, we could very easily have controlled lakes here.

Wise Words

The American Rifleman

The Imperial Chancellor, Kung-sun Hung, petitioned the Emperor, saying:

"The people should not be allowed to possess bows or crossbows. When 10 bandits bend their crossbows to the full, a hundred officials dare not advance. . . . If the people are not permitted to possess bows or crossbows, then thieves and robbers will carry only short weapons, and when two groups carrying short weapons meet, the larger number will be victorious. . . . In your subject's humble opinion, it will be advantageous to forbid the people to carry bows or crossbows."

When the Emperor sent down this suggestion to his council for discussion an elder, Shou-wang, replied, saying:

★ ★ ★

"Your subject has heard that when the ancients made the five kinds of weapons, it was not for the purpose of killing each other, but to prevent tyranny and to punish evil. When people lived in peace, these weapons were used to control the fierce animals and to be prepared against emergencies. If there were military affairs, then these weapons were used to set up defense and to form battle arrays. . . .

★ ★ ★

"Your subject has heard that the Sage Rulers brought the people together and practiced shooting to demonstrate instructions, and he has never heard any prohibition on bows or arrows.

"Furthermore, the cause for prohibition is that the bandits use them to attack and rob. The crime of attacking and robbing is subject to death; yet that they have not been stopped is because the great lawbreakers do not care, indeed, to avoid severe punishment.

★ ★ ★

"Should the suggested prohibition be enforced, your subject fears that wicked persons will still carry weapons and the officials will not be able to stop them from carrying them, and that the good people who keep their weapons for self-defense will encounter the prohibition of the law. This will make the power of robbers exclusive and take away the means of defense from the people. . . ."

★ ★ ★

When the petition was presented, the Son of Heaven questioned the Imperial Chancellor, Hung, who promptly withdrew his suggestion.

Three Held for Trial on Bribery Charges

DETROIT (AP) — Anthony (Tony Jack) Giacalone, and two codefendants were ordered held for trial Thursday on bribery and bribery conspiracy charges.

★ ★ ★

Giacalone, Claude E. Williams and Harrison Brown are charged with trying to bribe a policeman in 1963 to cover up gambling operations. All three defendants are charged also with conspiracy.

Police Lt. James Thomas, chief prosecution witness, said he pretended to accept $50 a month while tracing operations of the alleged racket.

A Junior Editors Quiz About MOON'S HALO

QUESTION: What causes the big rings one sometimes sees around the moon?

ANSWER: These rings, or halos, are seen when there is a high gauzelike cloud in the sky called cirrostratus. Such a cloud is composed of minute needle-like floating ice crystals (see picture).

Some of the light from the sun or the moon is refracted or bent by the crystals so that it is turned down at an angle which meets our eyes.

It appears round because the body which is making it is round. These halos often show colors; white on the outside, then yellow, orange and red. Halos are more frequently seen in the Arctic than further south.

Accompanying northern halos may be cross shapes and spots of light called sun dogs. Farmer will often tell you that a ring around the moon (the same thing as a halo) means rain.

This is often true, but it may depend on whether the air pressure is rising or falling. If air pressure falls rapidly, a ring around the moon will mean rain. This happens 75 per cent of the time, according to weather experts.

Halos are so spiritual in appearance, so beautiful, that the old religious painters put them as a light circle around the heads of sacred figures, such as Jesus, the Virgin Mary and the saints. Our picture shows a detail from an old Italian painting.

FOR YOU TO DO: It would be interesting to color this picture, using the colors we have mentioned for the halo in the sky. For the religious picture, use light yellow for the halos and blue for the Madonna's robe.

Youthful Burglars Convicted

ROME (AP) — A Rome court yesterday convicted 39 youths — boys and girls, most from prominent families — on charges of committing hundreds of small burglaries because they were bored and had nothing else to do.

The Italian press gave the sensational six-week trial two names — the "Case of the Young Chameleons" and the "Case of the Figli Di Papa."

Each name reflected aspects of the gang. "Figli Di Papa" means father's sons. It is the Italian equivalent of "spoiled brats."

Like the changing colors of the chameleon, the gang's members — all in their late teens and early 20s — changed clothes to suit their life of leisure and crime. They made rapid switches from sports clothes by day to evening dress by night.

★ ★

"We changed colors," said Giacomo De Michelis, an alleged ring leader who made plans in jail to write a book about the gang. Its title: "The Young Chameleons."

STOLE KEYS

Sometimes the gang members allegedly took keys from an unsuspecting woman friend's purse at a cocktail party, disappeared long enough to loot the victim's car or apartment, and then returned to the party in time to slip the key pack into the purse — and have a drink.

★ ★ ★

De Michelis and Sergio Sabino received the stiffest prison sentences on conviction today, years. The other 37 defendants convicted received sentences ranging down to a month.

Fourteen defendants were acquitted.

Too Many Dropouts in Venezuelan Guerrilla Training Camp

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Communist leaders apparently find many young Venezuelans cannot stand the guerrilla life.

★ ★ ★

That is a police official's explanation for a newly discovered psychiatry department in the Communist party, formed to screen recruits.

★ ★ ★

The so-called Armed Forces of National Liberation — FALN — aim to overthrow President Raul Leoni in a Castro-type revolution.

★ ★ ★

Youths, mostly high school and university students, are recruited for the guerrilla bands in the mountains of western Venezuela and east of Caracas. Many supposedly are attracted by the olive green uniforms, the jaunty berets, the submachine guns, the admiration of girlfriends for daring young men.

RED DROPOUTS

An Interior Ministry source estimates, however, that only about one in four of the recruits has been able to take the hard life in the mountain jungles.

★ ★ ★

Many — hungry, bearded, dirty, bedraggled from days and nights in rain and mud — have given themselves up. Others apparently broke down after a few days and had to be sent home. Officials say 488 have been captured in 12 months.

★ ★ ★

That is why, officials believe, Communist leaders have been sending fresh recruits to party psychiatrists for examination to weed out those unlikely to endure hardships and bear up under fire in clashes with army detachments seeking them out.

★ ★ ★

In prison on a charge of heading the party's psychiatry department is Dr. Jose Marino Colina Leones, 40, a Caracas psychiatrist.

DOCUMENTS SEIZED

Police say documents seized in a raid on his clinic indicated party leaders gave each aspirant a bank note worth about $11 to pay the psychiatrist for his examination. Presumably the would-be guerrilla supposed it was an ordinary medical examination.

★ ★ ★

The note — with a serial number known to the doctor — was a sort of pass to let him know the real purpose of the visit.

★ ★ ★

Police said they found 34 of these notes in Colina's clinic.

S. Koreans Capture Red Agent

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The Korean national police announced today the capture of an armed North Korean Communist agent and said he might be a crewman of a midget submarine found in a mud flat of the Han River Monday.

The U.N. Command spokesman had no comment on speculation that the 15-foot-vessel was operated by North Koreans. He said investigations were continuing.

* * *

Police said the captured man apparently was one of two agents who fled after an exchange of fire with a South Korean army patrol Monday night near the western end of the demilitarized zone. They said a third agent was killed.

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP) — More than 50,000 persons are homeless because of widespread flooding in the Chittagong district near the Burmese border.

The floods are reported worsening in the Barisal district on the Bay of Bengal, which was hit by a disastrous cyclone and tidal wave on May 12.

LONDON (AP) — "This is a business of ups and downs," said the managing director of one large British manufacturer of pop music phonograph records.

British pop music, given a tremendous boost by the Beatles, now appears to be on a downbeat.

* * *

The Board of Trade reports that the sale of pop records brought in $4,320,400 in April, compared with $5,787,800 in April last year.

Production of 45 rpm records, backbone of the record market, dropped from 6,750,000 in April 1964 to 4,814,000 last April. Long-playing record production fell from 2,069,000 in April 1964 to 1,857,000 this year.

* * *

The Board of Trade said exports of British records were down about a fifth from April 1964. The biggest market for British pop records is the United States.

ROME (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro's shaky center-left coalition was dealt a new blow today when Parliament decided to take up a charge of abuse of office against a former Cabinet minister.

* * *

Parliament will determine in joint session whether the charge against Sen. Giuseppe Trabucchi, a Christian Democrat, should be dropped or sent to a constitutional court.

The Socialist coalition partners of Moro's Christian Democrats joined nongovernment parties, including the Communists and Fascists, in submitting 479 signatures of members asking Parliament to deal with the case. The required total was 477.

* * *

By lining up against the Christian Democrats, the Socialists added fresh strains for Moro's government, already shaken by two recent parliamentary defeats.

Trabucchi, finance minister from 1960 to 1963, was attacked last year for allowing Italian companies to grow tobacco in Mexico and import it for sale to the Italian government's tobacco monopoly. He said he authorized the arrangement because of a poor tobacco crop at home.

* * *

Trabucchi also is under parliamentary investigation on charges of misuse of government funds.

Increase in Hours

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — Mayor Thomas Whelan, who last year raised city employes' salaries to match industry levels, now has raised their working hours too.

Whelan put the schedule for more than 2,000 employes on a 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. basis instead of 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

There was a fire on an average of every 24 seconds last year in the United States resulting in the loss of a life every 45 minutes.

Change of Opinion

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A woman who screamed for police to help her escape from a man refused to testify against him two weeks later. "I'm married to him now," she explained.

June Showed Rise in Building, Value

While still behind last year, building construction in the city last month topped May both in value and the number of projects.

According to Carl F. Alt, city building inspector, there were 222 building permits issued in June for construction valued at $774,966.

During May there were 152 permits issued for construction worth $610,833.

In June, 1964, there were 206 permits issued for construction valued at $1,444,731.

★ ★ ★

For the first six months of the year, building construction is down from the same period last year.

LAST YEAR TOTAL

In 1964, the first half-year total was 912 permits for construction valued at $5,977,849, while this year there have been 725 permits for $3,039,356 worth of construction.

Seventeen of the permits last month were issued for new family dwellings—an estimated $131,700 worth of construction.

In May, 13 of the permits issued went for new family dwellings valued at $101,800.

Three permits were issued in June for new commercial buildings. Construction valued at $338,000. There were 114 permits granted for an estimated $102,701 worth of residential alterations and repairs.

★ ★ ★

Thirty-two permits were issued for resident garages. Construction valued at $32,353.

Five permits for commercial alterations and repairs were valued at $56,785. Thirteen permits were issued last month for moved houses or $43,000, while three underground tank permits were issued for construction valued at $34,500.

Pep Pill Measure on Johnson's Desk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has on his desk today a bill that cracks down on illegal traffic in goof balls and pep pills.

★ ★ ★

Johnson asked for the legislation, saying illicit use of these drugs was a factor in a trend toward lawlessness in the United States.

★ ★ ★

The House completed congressional action on the bill Thursday.

Youth Hiring Rate Astonishing Officials

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Department officials are astonished at the response of American businessmen to President Johnson's appeal that young people be hired for summer work.

They estimate that the number of boys and girls placed in summer jobs will exceed Johnson's target goal of 750,000 within the next 10 days if the present trend continues.

More than 800,000 jobs already have been filled by youngsters 16 to 21 in response to the special "youth opportunity campaign" begun by the White House early in June.

Replies have come in from both the blue-chip giants of American industry and the smallest of businesses.

★ ★ ★

The Labor Department reports more than 5,500 letters pledging nearly 250,000 jobs have been received and another 400,000 openings have been filled by federal - state employment services.

BOOST CAMPAIGN

The federal government stepped up the neighborhood Youth Corps campaign by paying for an additional 50,000 summer positions and executive departments and agencies hired another 25,000 youngsters.

The jobs range from factory and office work to some more unconventional activities — drag-strip attendants and deputy dog catchers.

Dean Johnson of Niagara Falls, N.Y., 26-year-old manager of an auto racing strip, has hired 65 teen-agers to sell refreshments, clock racing cars, and park spectators' vehicles.

In Youngstown, Ohio, 10 collegians were hired to assist the Mahoning County dog warden enforce the $2 dog license fee by door-to-door checks.

OFFER TO HELP

Government officials said the surprising response could be attributed to a wish to help young people continue their education. The general prosperity also has helped the campaign, they added.

"A boy who is working isn't out raising the dickens," said the president of a metal firm.

Injuries Fatal to Man

ZEELAND (AP) — Andrew Keeman, 77, of Zeeland, died Thursday of injuries suffered June 28 when he was struck by a truck while walking on a road in Olive Township near here.

House Chooses Today on Voting Bills

AP Photofax

DISCUSS KIDNAPING — Mrs. Russell Clinton (left) and Russell Clinton (third from left), parents of Denise Clinton, discuss the child's kidnaping with Maj. James R. Newman (back to camera), head of the Kansas City, Mo., Police Detective Bureau.

Dem Version Likely to Pass

GOP Compromise Is Favored by South

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House makes a choice today between a Negro voting rights bill backed by the administration and an alternative measure sponsored by the House Republican leadership.

Democratic leaders appear confident they have the votes to turn back the GOP challenge, and any other major amendments, and pass the administration bill by the end of the day.

★ ★ ★

The vote will come after three days of debate that reached an emotional climax late Thursday with a plea by a Southern congressman for passage of the administration bill.

Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., a native of Alabama, said he hoped the bill "will lift from the conscience of my native land the burden it has so long borne." Pepper, who once served as a senator in New Deal days, represents a metropolitan Miami district and has previously supported civil rights legislation.

REPUBLICAN CASE

The case for the Republican substitute also received an eloquent summation by Rep. Clark MacGregor, R-Minn.

MacGregor said the administration bill, as amended by the Judiciary Committee under Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., "smacks of a reconstruction measure."

★ ★ ★

He added: "Our bill provides justice tempered by mercy, and the sternness of the justice does not diminish the sincerity of the mercy."

The chief difference between the two bills is the pinpointed impact of the Celler bill on seven Southern states and the broad application of the GOP bill to any voting district where 25 voters complain of discrimination.

The Celler bill would apply automatically to seven states in which less than half the adult population voted in the 1964 elections. They are Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, North and South Carolina, and Virginia.

Most of the debate dealt with that difference, and the restricted coverage of the Celler bill received ringing support from Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass. He cited examples from a Civil Rights Commission report on the difficulties a Negro faces in Mississippi when he tries to register.

"Certainly the bill is aimed at a handful of states," he said, "and fully so. It's just because of cases like this, which are repeated and repeated in that area."

The Celler bill won the support of another Southerner, Rep. George W. Grider, D-Tenn., but he asked the House to seek a better understanding of the South.

Ex-Cabbie Now a Restaurateur

CHICAGO (AP) — Running a restaurant is harder work than running a customerized taxi, says Lawrence Young "but it's worth it because you make even more friends."

Young, 56, opened a carry-out restaurant July 1 with the help of President Johnson, who prompted the Small Business Administration to grant him a $19,500 loan.

★ ★ ★

"Business has been wonderful, much better than we expected," Young said. "It's really kept me running."

Already he misses his taxi.

SAME STORY

"But that's the way with all ex-cab drivers," said Young.

The restaurant, he said, will be customerized as was the taxi.

★ ★ ★

"The same red carpet that was in my cab is in the waiting area of the restaurant," he said.

The carpet, a telephone, framed pictures, cigarettes, newspapers and umbrella service were part of Young's effort to give his customers extra comfort and service.

SUGGESTED LOAN

They so impressed A. L. Tunick, a member of the National Advisory Board of the SBA, that when Young told him of his desire to operate a restaurant, Tunick suggested he apply for an small business loan.

After applying, Young mentioned the matter in a letter to President Johnson. The SBA gave Young a check for $19,500 June 9.

★ ★ ★

Young's loan was the first granted by the SBA's midwestern area office to the operator of a franchised small business under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964. An aim of the act is to encourage minority group members to open their own businesses.

"I liked meeting people and serving people as a cab driver," he said, "and I'm going to be able to do both in the restaurant business."

"Business has been awfully good today," he said. He glanced at the cash register and smiled.

"Nice sound, ain't it?"

Innocent Plea in Death Plot

Say Man Conspired to Kill His Brother

CHICAGO (AP)—Silas Jayne, 58, a riding stable owner, pleaded innocent Thursday to a charge of conspiring to kill his brother.

Jayne entered his plea before Judge Herbert C. Paschen, acting chief justice of the criminal court, who continued the charge until Aug. 6. Jayne remained free on $5,000 bond.

★ ★ ★

The specific charge against Jayne is soliciting to commit a crime, a misdemeanor. The alleged intended victim was George Jayne, 42, who operates a horse stable in suburban Palatine. Silas Jayne has a stable in Park Ridge, another suburb.

It was at George Jayne's stable that a bomb hidden in his automobile exploded and killed Miss Cherie Rude, 22, a professional horsewoman he employed, June 14.

A coroner's jury ruled Wednesday she was the victim of a homicide by persons unknown. George Jayne said he believed the bomb was meant for him.

George Jayne testified his life had been threatened, that his office had been riddled with 28 bullets and that Silas wanted to force him out of business.

Youth in Rochester Believed a Suicide

ROCHESTER — A 20-year-old youth was found yesterday hanging by a clothesline in the utility room of his home at 243 Helen.

Detective William Woehl said Lawrence G. Benham had apparently taken his own life.

No Trace Is Found of Kidnaped Girl, 9

DENISE CLINTON

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Despite the tearful appeal of her mother and an intensive search by more than 200 officers and volunteers, no trace has been found of Denise Clinton, 9, believed kidnaped in a motel robbery early Thursday.

Maj. James Newman, chief of detectives, said "We're urging all property owners within a 10-mile radius to search their own property. We'll appreciate any lead."

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the major case unit, a select group of officers from police and sheriff's offices in the Metropolitan Kansas City area, said the FBI had officially entered the case.

Denise, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Clinton of nearby Independence, Mo., was abducted while visiting overnight with her grandparents who manage the motel on U.S. Highway 71 in Platte County, about 15 miles from downtown Kansas City.

TAKES $256

A bandit took $256 from the motel cash drawer shortly after 2 a.m. Thursday morning and tied and gagged the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chelcie Reynolds. He is believed to have driven away from the motel in a white, four-door 1960 Oldsmobile.

★ ★ ★

The Reynolds managed to free themselves and moments later discovered Denise was missing. Denise, a reddish blonde with blue eyes and freckles across her nose, had been asleep on a couch in a room next to theirs. She was dressed in a blue and white checkered nightgown.

★ ★ ★

Police Chief C. M. Kelley said there was no apparent motive. He said ransom appeared out of the question "because these people don't have much money." The girl's father is a service manager for a car agency.

Payment OK'd for Sterilization

CENTREVILLE (AP) — Payment for sterilization of either husband or wife would be authorized in eligible public welfare cases in St. Joseph County, under a resolution adopted Thursday by the county board of supervisors.

The board's resolution on a program of family planning for persons on public welfare included, besides the sterilization payment provision, dispensing of birth control pills by the county health department and payment of fees for insertion of intra-uterine contraceptive devices.

County Prosecutor William McManus, who prepared the resolution with the cooperation of the county health department, said it would be implemented in about 60 days.

The resolution provides that the services or materials must be requested by both husband and wife in affected families.

The services and materials would be available only to those persons receiving public assistance and only after investigation of the family background, number of children and financial circumstances.

COMMITTEE OKAY

Proposed application forms for the services would be given to the board's health and welfare committees for approval, and would be filed with the St. Joseph County clerk and the prosecutor's office.

Mariner 4 Set for Mars Shots

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—America's Mariner 4 "cosmic eye" today sped unerringly toward a date in space next Wednesday to take the first close-up pictures of the brilliant deserts and mysterious "canals" that may harbor life on the planet Mars.

The 575-pound probe was already caught in the gravity field of Mars—a gentle pull that will bring it to within 5,412 miles of the red planet and, with luck, a major victory over the Soviet Union in cosmic exploration.

The magic moment for the sturdy little payload is 8:24 p.m., EDT, Wednesday — the instant its water glass-sized television camera will begin snapping the 17 pictures that may, at last, begin separating Martian fact from fantasy.

The pictures will be taken at distances ranging from 9,438 miles to 6,770 miles above Mars.

When they are finished, America closes up its planet-shooting shop for four years—until the scheduled "fly-by" of a much larger payload called "Voyager" in 1969.

VISUAL SWATH

For 25 minutes, Mariner 4's television "eye" — peering through a 30-power telescope to sharpen its vision—will cut a 160-mile visual swath across a Martian "oasis," three deserts, one of the planet's so-called "seas" and perhaps the fringe of the south pole icecap.

Thursday morning, the truly tough part begins—the task of getting the pictures relayed back to Earth bit by agonizing bit.

It will take better than eight hours to "build" a single photograph from the fantastically weak signals that will take 12 minutes, at the speed of light, to cross the 134 million-mile gap between Mars and Earth.

★ ★ ★

The first pictures will not be fully in hand until Thursday afternoon, and the rest will trickle back piece by piece for the better part of this month.

21 TIMES

The windmill-shaped payload, launched from Cape Kennedy last Nov. 28, will snap its shutter 21 times. But the last four photographs probably will center on the "dark side" of Mars, and scientists are guaranteeing only 17 good pictures—if everything else works.

Gang's 2nd Successful Break

Troops Urged to Nab Train Robber

LONDON (AP) — The second successful prison break by a member of the great train robbery gang touched off a row in Parliament today. One irate member said troops should be called out to recapture the fugitive, Ronald Arthur Biggs, 35.

Scotland Yard warned that Biggs, three felons who fled with him from London's Wandsworth Prison yesterday, and the outside accomplices who set up the break may all be armed.

★ ★ ★

Detectives on their trail were issued guns — a step taken in Britain only in extreme emergency.

Home Secretary Sir Frank Soskice, who is responsible for the nation's internal security, told the House of Commons he had ordered a thorough investigation.

NO REASON

So far, he said, he had "no reason to think that any blame attaches to the prison service at all."

Conservative Antony Buck asserted Biggs must be caught, even if the Labor government has to go "to the extraordinary length of calling out troops."

Biggs, 35, was serving 30 years for his part in the August 1963 ambush of a mail train in which $7.2 million in currency was stolen. It was the biggest haul in British history.

The three men who escaped with Biggs had been jailed for other crimes.

FROM GANG

Another 30-year man from the train robbery gang, Charles Wilson, was sprung from jail in Birmingham 11 months ago by accomplices who broke into the jail. He has not been seen since.

Both Biggs and Wilson escaped from maximum security prisons.

★ ★ ★

Ten of the train robbers are still in prison, five of them for 30 years. Three others named by police as members of the gang have not been caught.

More than $5.6 million of the loot has not been recovered.

Biggs and the other three convicts were freed from the gray-walled prison in a southwest suburb of London in an elaborate operation carried out with clockwork precision, much as the train robbery was.

Artificial Leg for Chicken

CLEVELAND, Tenn. (AP) — Ben Keller's prized red and brown hen had only one leg to stand on.

Not wanting to eliminate the productive egg layer, Keller fashioned a peg leg of plastic and leather to replace the limb lost in an accident.

★ ★ ★

Keller says the hen struts majestically on the artificial leg and has learned to scratch with it.

Viet Mountain Tribesmen Find Just Surviving Hard

By HAL BOYLE

KHE SANH, South Viet Nam (AP) — Life is so unlikely among the Vietnamese mountain tribespeople that a child isn't even given a name until its first birthday.

BOYLE

Since many infants die before they are a year old, there does not seem much point in naming them until they have at least a 50-50 chance of growing up.

* * *

Mountain folk are always interesting to outsiders, who find their ways quaint, repulsive, but full of a primitive charm.

* * *

The hillbillies here are no exception. They are members of a Montagnard tribe called the Brous, which rhymes with booze. They live in rugged hills amid rich green jungle drapery a few miles south of the demilitarized zone that theoretically divides this war-torn land.

WILD LOOK

The Brous are small, slender, dark-skinned people with an intensely black thatch of hair that gives them a wild look.

To anybody but a fellow Brou, the life of the ordinary Brou would seem insufferable. He dwells at a bare survival level. Some work on a French-owned coffee plantation; others till arid hillside patches.

* * *

Gastronomically speaking, the Brous' motto seems to be: "If it is smellier than you and can't get away, eat it. You never know where your next meal is coming from."

You see many small dogs around Brou hamlets, but rarely any big older dogs. As soon as they reach an appetizing size, most dogs go into the pot. Among other things the Brous put in the pot are lizards, cats, rats and monkeys.

RELIGIOUS OCCASION

On religious occasions, they will sacrifice and eat one of their highly prized water buffaloes. Although they almost venerate this animal, they kill him by hamstringing him and then slowly hacking him into a pulp with machetes.

The chief war weapon of the Brous formerly was the crossbow.

* * *

The wooden crossbow is a silent, deadly and effective tool for close-up jungle hunting. The tiny bamboo arrows are tipped with a poison made from tree gum. The poison affects the blood of a game animal but not the meat.

Brou children start courting at 12 or 13 and marry at 15 or 16. The moral standards of married Brous are a cut above civilized conduct. Wife swapping appears unheard-of, and the price of adultery may be a poisoned arrow through the heart.

ANY EXCUSE

The Brous use any excuse to throw a party, whether it's a wedding, funeral, or just that the moon seems right. The men gather around a crock of homebrew made from rice or potatoes, and proceed to get crocked. The chief takes a gulp through a six-foot-long straw stuck into the crock, then passes it to the honored guests.

"After you get a quick flash of his bridgework, you have to close your eyes when it's your turn to sip," said one American thus honored.

* * *

"It tastes like vinegar," said Lt. Charles R. Cleveland, 26, Jacksonville, Fla., member of a U.S. Army Special Forces team stationed here.

"No, it's more like old hard cider," said Lt. Edward J. Doyle, 25, Cleveland, Ohio.

* * *

Both agreed that even though the drinking was free and done on government time, it deserved combat pay.

New Pact Ends Strike

THREE RIVERS (AP)—A 57-day strike at Stance Electric Products Inc. ended Thursday as 111 union members approved a new contract. The new pact calls for a 15-cent hourly pay hike and other fringe benefits, according to Federal Mediator James Addessi.

Are Cong Following Mao's Blueprint?

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

As the Communist Viet Cong press their rainy season campaign in South Viet Nam and carry out their "human wave" attacks against thinly held towns and villages, the April 16 issue of Peking Review becomes especially interesting.

NEWSOM

Quoting liberally from Mao Tze-tung's account of the tactics he used to take over the China mainland, the publication blueprints Viet Cong action in South Viet Nam.

And from it a pattern emerges in Vietnamese dispatches telling of numerous assaults on localities Americans never heard of until they read of their death throes.

These are localities with names such as Dak To, Tuo Marong, Ba Gia and Tan Canh.

* * *

One reads that Tuo Marong and Dak To each had 200 defenders.

MAO THEORY

And then one reads in Peking Review of Mao's theory of wars of annihilation, how to destroy enemy morale and how through careful selection of targets and concentration of forces, a superior force may be destroyed by a small one.

Says Mao:

"Injuring all of man's 10 fingers is not as effective as chopping off one, and routing 10 enemy divisions is not as effective as annihilating one of them."

And then continues the author, One Li Tso-peng:

". . .Especially when the enemy is strong and we are weak, it is only by concentrating a superior force that we can muster sufficient strength to fight a battle of annihilation and gain a quick decision.

* * *

"In this way, we can quickly break through the enemy's defense, smash his reinforcements and counterassaults, mass enough troops to outflank, encircle, and cut up his forces, fight one engagement after another, and swiftly exploit the victory. . .

ONE BY ONE

"It is obvious that only by adopting the method of destroying the enemy forces one by one can we wipe them out successfully."

It was all too obvious in the assaults on Tuo Marong and Dak To.

Other interesting quotes from Mao:

"The principle of concentrating our forces to wipe out the enemy forces one by one is aimed chiefly at annihilating the enemy's effective strength, not at holding or seizing a place. . ."

* * *

"When we face a powerful enemy, we should employ our army, whatever its size, in only one main direction at a time, not two. . ."

ADDED SIGNIFICANCE

In their attacks upon Dak To, Tuo Marong, Ba Gia and Tan Canh, the Communists faithfully adhered to the principles laid down by Mao Tze-tung.

In the pattern of the attack there perhaps also is added significance.

Each of the four lies close to the 15th parallel on a line running from the central highlands nearly to the South China Sea.

* * *

The line dividing North and South Viet Nam now follows the 17th parallel.

Weeks Of Back Pain Now Relieved

"After weeks of pain in my back and hips, I tried DeWitt's Pills—got wonderful relief," says Mrs. R. Gardner, Waterloo, Iowa.

People write in every day praising the remarkable relief they get with DeWitt's Pills.

DeWitt's Pills act fast with a proven analgesic to relieve pain of backache. Their mild diuretic action helps to eliminate retained fluids and flush out irritating bladder wastes that can cause physical distress. If pain persists, see your doctor. DeWitt's Pills often succeed where others fail—quickly relieve minor muscle aches and pains, too. Insist on the genuine DeWitt's Pills.

Over 1¼ million DeWitt's Pills are sold by druggists day after day after day, the world over—a tribute to their amazing action!

Collision Injures Rider on Scooter

Thomas E. Trevillian, 15, of 650 Longford, Rochester, is in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital following an auto accident yesterday in Avon Township.

Trevillian was injured when the mini-bike he was driving collided with a car driven by Ornal F. Leach, 74, of 635 E. Leach, Rochester.

The 6:15 p.m. accident occurred at Munster and Longford.

Hurt Driver Satisfactory

A Romeo man is in satisfactory condition at Avon Center Hospital following an auto collision yesterday morning at Buell and Adams in Oakland Township.

John R. Bartholomew, 50, of 187 Turner, was the driver of a car which collided head-on with a vehicle driven by Gary D. Young, 17, of 3411 Geoffrey, Oak Park.

Young was treated at the hospital and released.

BOB EBERLY

Find Singer in Chicago Hotel Room

CHICAGO (AP) — Singer Bob Eberly was admitted to a Chicago hospital last night after being reported missing Wednesday night when he failed to make his scheduled appearance at a nightclub.

A missing persons report had been filed on Eberly, 48, after friends were unable to locate him.

Mrs. Helen Mangam, owner of Mangam's Chateau in suburban Lyons, where Eberly was appearing, said the singer apparently suffered a heart attack.

Spokesmen at Illinois Masonic Hospital said Eberly was in fair condition but they did not disclose the nature of his ailment.

* * *

Eberly's booking agent, Louis Entin, said the singer's "heart evidently hit him" shortly before his stage appearance, and that while in a confused condition he took a taxicab from Lyons to a Chicago hotel.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

Entin said that after Eberly went to his hotel room he apparently collapsed without reaching his bed. He said that hotel personnel found him in his room unconscious and fully clothed last night.

However, a hotel spokesman who asked that her name not be used, said she talked twice to Eberly yesterday afternoon and that "He seemed all right."

Eberly's brother, Ray, hurried from New York as a replacement at Mangam's Chateau.

* * *

Ray had been a prominent singer with the Glenn Miller band some 25 years ago.

Bob Eberly had sung with the Jimmy Dorsey band in the late 1930s and early 40s.

2 Hospitalized by Collision in Avon Township

Two persons were hospitalized yesterday when two cars collided at 3:50 p.m. at the intersection of Auburn and Rochester Road in Avon Township.

Listed in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is Frances E. Maxey, 50, of Detroit. Elli Stoecker, 56, of Detroit is reported in satisfactory condition at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital in Detroit.

The drivers of the two cars, Carroll J. George, 51, of Detroit, and Robert J. Trudgeon, 17, of 4622 Rosewold, Royal Oak, and two other passengers were all treated at the hospital and released.

School Budget Hearing Due

July 22 Date Is Set by Oakland Board

Oakland Schools Board of Education members agreed on a public hearing date for its 1965-66 budget, increased the salaries of Supt. Dr. William Emerson and Deputy Supt. Dr. Kenneth Brown and authorized employment of a new administrative assistant yesterday.

Public hearing for the proposed $421,109 budget, which was approved in February by school district designates, will be conducted at 2 p.m. July 22 in the administration building.

The board fixed Dr. Emerson's yearly salary at $23,500, effective the forthcoming school year, while Dr. Brown's salary was increased from $18,000 to $20,000. Dr. Emerson's previous salary was $21,000.

The administrative assistant position has been offered Kenneth Olsen, a graduate student and assistant instructor at Michigan State University from Salt Lake City, Utah. Dr. Emerson indicated he expects a reply from Olsen today or Monday.

* *

Also last night, the board canvassed the vote on the June 14 election, which resulted in passage of a countywide proposal to boost the half-mill special education tax to a full mill, and took the necessary legal action to give notice of the results.

RESULTS IDENTICAL

According to Dr. Emerson, the results were identical to the unofficial count — 22,042 yes and 11,967 no. The board previously approved a plan for use of $1.2 million in a new special education funds, which stemmed from the election results.

Board members also reviewed provisions of Senate Bill 108, which has been passed by both branches of the state legislature and needs only Gov. Romney's signature to become law. The bill states that existing auxiliary services extended to public school children will be made available to nonpublic school children on an equal basis.

TRUMAN'S BROTHER DIES — J. Vivian Truman, brother of former president Harry S. Truman, died yesterday in Grandview, Mo., after a long illness. He was a retired farmer and former Federal Housing Administration officieal.

Man's Condition Remains Critical

A Milford man, who was injured when a homemade rocket exploded in his hand Monday remains in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Roger Howard, 22, of 522 Union, was seriously hurt when the exploding rocket tube shattered his left hand sent steel fragments into his face and stomach.

Howard was packing a chemical mixture into the half-inch tube when it exploded.

The accident occurred at Howard's father's home at 905 Woodruff, Highland Township.

LINCOLN, Ill. (AP) — Counting sheep to gain sweet slumber is unheard of at the Elmer Rohrer farm.

To Halt Library Thieves With Electric Watchdog

DETROIT (AP) — The American Library Association is working on an electronic device to halt book thievery that plagues most public libraries.

Forrest F. Carhart Jr., head of the association's Library Technology Project, said he can't reveal many details of the gadget because of pending patent applications. But he indicated the system basically involves a sensing plate in each volume and a central detector that sounds an alarm if a book is taken out without proper checking.

* * *

"The only way this device can be beat is to throw the books out a window, then go out and pick them up," Carhart said.

Carhart, who disclosed the device at the association's annual convention here, said he hoped it would be ready in about a year at a cost of a few hundred dollars apiece.

NO FIGURES

The ALA has no figures on how many books are lost each year, mainly, Carhart said, "because librarians are afraid to admit to local taxpayers that their books are being stolen."

The Brooklyn, N.Y., library revealed a few years ago that it was losing $500,000 worth of volumes every year, he added.

There are some commercial devices now on the market but they cost too much—one model runs $21,000 — and they aren't foolproof, he said. One model is being tried out in Flint and Grand Rapids.

Flint public library director Ransom L. Richardson reported the device has cut thefts to one tenth of the old figure of $15,000 a year.

Poise Lost; $5,600 Cost

LONDON (UPI) — Avril Jones, 18, was awarded $5,600 damages yesterday because she claimed she can only dance the twist. She claimed injuries in a motor scooter accident damaged her poise so that she can no longer perform "graceful" dances.

Auto, Steel Firms Oppose Proposal on Overtime Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Spokesmen for the automobile and steel industries testified Thursday the administration's proposal for higher overtime payments would increase costs without increasing jobs.

They were witnesses before a Senate Labor subcommittee on legislation to amend the Fair Labor Standards Act to require double pay, instead of time and a half, for work in excess of 45 hours a week.

John S. Bugas, Ford Motor Co. vice president, called it a "legislated wage increase" that would be inflationary for the whole economy.

He said that as a practical matter overtime cannot be avoided by car manufacturers during tooling and model change periods, in years of peak demand, to meet seasonal fluctuations in demand, and to satisfy changes in customer preferences.

PEAK DEMAND

"Only by maintaining capacity in excess of the industry's needs, except for periods of peak demand, could such overtime be cut down," he said, "and even then the added employment would be of short duration."

"The industry would thereby be burdened with the excess cost of idle facilities, the inefficiencies of an unstable work force, difficulties in maintaining high quality standards, and added unemployment costs," Bugas continued.

"Although certain skilled employes would reap the benefit of higher wages, most regular employes would be laid off more frequently and suffer lower annual earnings.

* * *

"The communities where automotive operations are located would sustain the social costs and disruptions associated with greater unemployment."

SPREAD EFFECT

Bugas said that while the intent of the proposed legislation was to reduce unemployment by spreading the work its effect would be to "raise the wage cost of unavoidable overtime without increasing jobs."

* * *

A similar stand was taken by R. Conrad Cooper, vice president of U. S. Steel Corp., who said he also spoke for 42 other steel companies that he described as unalterably opposed to the legislation.

He said the inevitable consequence of its inactment "would be increased costs, which can only impair the ability of American industry to compete and provide employment opportunities."

Law Banning Reds Spawns Controversy

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A law banning Communist speakers has entangled North Carolina in a web of controversy, spreading from the legislative chambers to the university campuses to the church pulpits.

The law, passed in the fading hours of the 1963 legislative session without debate or a public hearing, prohibits Communists or anyone who pleaded the Fifth Amendment during a loyalty hearing to speak on the campuses of state-supported schools.

* * *

University officials have argued the law violates academic freedom and puts politicians in charge of educational matters.

Ministers have urged repeal.

GIVE WARNING

The Southern Association of Schools and Colleges has warned the law could mean loss of accreditation for those state-supported institutions of higher learning.

The legislature refused to consider repeal or amendment this session.

The matter now rests with a nine-member commission, to be appointed by the governor, the Senate president and the House speaker.

The commission is to study the issue, particularly the accreditation of the colleges and universities. A report is expected by November.

SPECIAL SESSION

Gov. Dan K. Moore has promised to call a special legislative session should the commission suggest changes or repeal of the law.

North Carolina became the only state with such a law when the measure cleared both the Senate and House in less than 30 minutes.

* * *

When the legislature returned in 1965 for its session, the demand for repeal or amendment became a roar.

This time opponents pointed to the loss of accreditation as the deepest fault of the law.

AGAINST REPEAL

The 120 members of the North Carolina House stood 2-to-1 against repeal. The 50-member Senate was almost evenly divided.

More told newsmen, "I have received hundreds and hundreds of letters from North Carolina citizens. They favor the law by a 6-1 margin.

* * *

The governor suggested the study commission "as the only possible solution to this controversy."

While the commission investigates, the debate continues.

OUTLINES LOSS

William C. Friday, president of the Consolidated University of North Carolina, outlined what loss of accreditation might mean.

"There is a question as to whether students transferring from the university to an accredited school would be accepted. There is a possible loss of funding by federal and foundation grants. There is the very severe problem of faculty recruitment."

* * *

Duke University President Douglas Knight, whose private institution is not involved in the speaker-ban law, recently said:

"This law has little to do with subversion and nothing to do with communism. Any professional Communist who could not wiggle through this net would be sacked for incompetence by his superiors.

POSITIVE AID

"It does serve the purpose of making certain doctrines and attitudes more attractive than they would otherwise be. It is a positive aid to professional self-seeking leftist causes, which I hate to see in a thoughtful and distinguished state like North Carolina."

* * *

But the American Legion Post No. 1 in the capital city of Raleigh announced:

"We will resist to the bitter end all proposals to repeal or modify the law. Repeal or modification would be regarded as a victory for communism in North Carolina."

* * *

A Vigil for Kathy

Family Awaits Phone's Ring

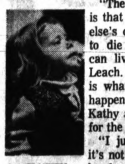
By JANICE KLOUSER

LAKE ORION — The telephone has become the all-important instrument in the James Leach home.

It is never left unattended because the Leaches never know when it is going to bring word that their 2-year-old daughter, Kathy, is about to have a rare liver transplant in a far-off Minnesota hospital.

Kathy, whose parents and older sister, Carol, live at 12 Indianside, has been at the University of Minnesota Hospital since April. She must wait for another child to die so she can have a liver transplant that represents her only chance for life.

She suffers from extra-hepatic biliary atresia and must receive a healthy liver from another child who has died.



KATHY

"The sad part is that someone else's child has to die so ours can live," said Leach. But that is what must happen to give Kathy a chance for the future.

"I just feel it's not going to be for quite a while," said Kathy's mother. "I didn't think it would be this long and it has already been three months."

"But the doctor says he's not going to rush it," Leach said. "He says Kathy is so well he can afford to wait for a perfect liver."

The operation will cost about $18,000, in addition to mounting hospital expenses.

However, through the generosity of individuals and groups, not only in the immediate area but from throughout the country, more than $20,000 has been raised to cover the cost.

PEOPLE RESPOND

"People have been just wonderful," said Mrs. Leach. "Particularly the high school students who have gone all out."

She said young children are holding fund-raising projects this summer and giving the money to the Kathy Leach fund, which was set up by the Lake Orion Lions Club.

"Apparently the story was in papers all over the country," said Mrs. Leach, "because we have received money from people in Texas, California, Missouri and Illinois."

The Leaches already have a $4,000 bill for hospital room and board. Leach said that after the operation, it will cost $400 to $500 per day to provide Kathy with intensive care for the first few days.

VISIT HOSPITAL

The Leaches, their three-year-old daughter Carol, and Mrs. Leach's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Carlson of 2712 Voorheis, Waterford Township, went to Minnesota for Kathy's second birthday June 26.

"She got so many presents we had to bring some of them, as well as her old toys, home," said Mrs. Leach. "The toy room at the hospital is packed. Besides, she's so interested in playing with the other children she doesn't pay a lot of attention to her toys."

She said Kathy received gifts from the doctors and nurses at the hospital as well as cards from people all over the country.

* * *

Mrs. Leach says Kathy is developing "much better than at home."

GAINING WEIGHT

"She walks and talks so much now and she has gained lots of weight," she said.

"We missed her first steps, but the nurses wrote us about it," said her father, "I imagine we will miss a lot of the things she does for the first time."

Kathy has spent a good part of her young life in hospitals. Her liver condition was discovered when she was seven weeks old. She spent her second and third month of life in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. Since then, she has had 11 different stays in various hospitals.

* * *

Kathy began her present sojourn when the Leaches read in the Pontiac Press about a doctor at the University of Minnesota Hospital who performs liver transplants.

HAPPY STAY

Mrs. Leach said Kathy seems happy and well-adjusted to life at the hospital.

"It's not like other hospitals where she was confined to bed," she said. "Here, she is up and around all the time."

* * *

"Everyone is so good to her. I think they're spoiling her," said her father. "When we were there for her birthday, I had to tell her 'no, no' for something and she looked like she didn't know what I was talking about."

OVERFLOW BIRTHDAY PRESENTS — Two-year-old Kathy Leach, who is awaiting a liver transplant operation in a Minnesota hospital, received so many gifts for her birthday recently that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Leach, had to bring some of them home.

Parking Ban Under Study

Hope to Cut Mishaps on Farmington Street

FARMINGTON—The feasibility of a parking ban on Grand River from Warner to the eastern city limits now is being studied by city officials.

Public Safety Director Maurice Foltz backed the ban as a method of reducing accidents in the area.

AREA NEWS

Prohibition of parking there also had been urged by the State Highway Department when it denied a City Council request that a traffic light be installed at the corner of Grand River and Powers.

Foltz has recommended that there be five lanes for traffic, with the center lane designated for left turns only.

* * *

Under the plan, parking would be provided inside the present curbing in areas where it's needed along the stretch.

LIGHT NEEDED

Foltz also has urged that the State Highway Department be advised that its recommendations are being complied with, but that the city still believes there is a need for a light at Powers and Grand River.

* * *

The public safety director and City Manager John Dinan are studying costs of the project and areas where parking would have to be provided.

WATCH THE BIRDIE! — Pirjo Tuulikki Vaisanen, a Finnish exchange student, posed prettily yesterday as Rochester Police Chief Robert C. Werth took her picture for her first American driver's license. The 17-year-old blonde, who is staying with the Howard L. McGregors at Great Oaks Farm, 1106 Pontiac, Avon Township, was among the first to be "shot" by the new camera, which takes color pictures for driver's licenses. Police officials say the new system requires considerably more clerical work. Fees for all types of licenses have been hiked 50 cents.

Walled Lake Site Bought for 9th Elementary School

WALLED LAKE — With the purchase of a site in the northern part of Commerce Township, the Walled Lake Board of Education is making plans for its ninth elementary school.

* * *

It also has taken option on property for a high school in the southeast corner of the township.

The 19-acre elementary school site is on the north side of Oakley Park Road, about one-quarter of a mile east of Walled Lake High School.

Jointly owned by eight persons, the property was sold for $21,500.

* * *

The $600,000 unit to be built on the porperty will be a duplication of Keith Elementary School, which went into operation early in 1964.

BID OPENINGS

Construction bids for the unit will be opened Aug. 24 with a September 1966 deadline for completion.

"If we took the time to design a new building, we wouldn't have it done in time," Schools Supt. George Garver said, noting it takes about four months to develop plans for a school.

Garver cited the necessity for having the unit completed by the 1966-67 school year. He estimated that 16 of the school's 20 rooms will be filled initially.

* * *

Total capacity of the building will be 600.

ANOTHER FACTOR

Another factor in the decision to duplicate Keith Elementary School was one of cost, Garver said.

The district will save some $10,000 in architect's fees by using the same plans, drawn by Warren Holmes and Associates of Lansing.

The school board originally had planned to build its next elementary school on property it owns on Halstead near 14 Mile.

* * *

However, sewage treatment difficulties have become apparent there.

SOIL PROBLEM

"At this time, the soil is not conducive to septic tanks," Garver said.

By locating the new school on the Oakley Park site, the board can relieve crowded conditions at Twin Beach, Glengary and Walled Lake Elementary Schools as well as at Commerce, Union Lake and Decker, if necessary.

The 60-acre parcel on which the board is holding an option is at the northwest corner of Haggerty and 14 Mile.

* * *

The six-month option expires Nov. 17.

FEDERAL AID

The board will use the time to investigate the possibility of obtaining federal assistance for the purchase through the Open Space Land program.

* * *

"This also gives us the opportunity to study the total layout to make certain this is the place for our second high school," Garver said.

* * *

Funds for the property purchases and the school construction were included in a $1.5-million bond issue approved by district property owners Dec. 14, 1964.

More Income From Sheep to Be Topic

Opportunities for more income from sheep will be the main theme of a meeting to be held next Thursday evening at the Michigan Livestock Exchange auction yards, four miles east of Cass City.

The 7:30 p.m. program will open with a parade of nearly a dozen purebred sheep, as well as a number of crossbred animals.

Graydon Blank, Cooperative Extension sheep specialist at Michigan State University, will discuss the importance of a well-planned crossbreeding program for commercial lamb production and opportunities for added income from a farm flock.

John Miller of the Michigan Livestock Exchange yards in Detroit will conduct a lamb grading demonstration and discuss marketing.

* * *

Dr. Clifford Beck, MSU extension veterinarian, will talk about effective controls of internal parasites and diseases.

URGES CROWD

Jay Poffenberger, Oakland County Cooperative Extension agricultural agent, urged all area sheep breeders to attend the meeting.

* * *

"This is a good time to think of expansion of sheep flocks," Poffenberger said, "as lamb prices recently have been the highest in seven years."

Board Action Cuts Tax Rate in Avondale

Residents of the Avondale school district will pay $3 less per $1,000 of state equalized valuation this year because the board of education cut its debt levy in half.

* * *

The board voted Tuesday night to levy 3.1 mills for debt retirement instead of 6.1 as it did last year.

Schools Supt. George Shackelford said the reduction is the result of increased valuation within the district.

Operational taxes will be $23.20 per $1,000 of equalized valuation, or 8.30 allocated mills and 14.9 voted mills.

* * *

Last year, taxes for operating amounted to 23.18 mills. The extra .02 mills were allocated to the district this year.

Farm Groups Oppose Bills on Migrants

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm organizations and grower representatives generally opposed Thursday a five-bill package designed to improve wages, working conditions and job opportunities for migrant farm labor.

* * *

The American Farm Bureau Federation opposed all five bills:

To establish minimum wages for farm workers; to prohibit employment of migratory minors under 14; to permit collective bargaining for farm workers: to establish a nationwide farm worker recruiting and placement service; and to set up a national advisory council on migratory labor.

Testifying before a Senate Labor subcommittee headed by Sen. Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., Matt Triggs of the Farm Bureau said because farmers hire anybody available at harvest time, a minimum hourly wage would require them to pay many workers more than they are worth.

CRASH PROGRAM

The result, he said, would be a crash program of mechanization, often with uneconomic results.

"We do not really do farm workers any good by pricing their services out of the market and by such means placing an obstacle between them and employment," he said.

Joining Triggs in opposing collective bargaining rights for farm workers were Stewart Boswell of the National Council of Agricultural Employers, Fred P. Corey of the National Apple Institute, Richard T. O'Connell of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, and Charles Toan of the Frederick County Fruit Growers Association Inc., Winchester, Va.

* * *

Toan summed up the objections by saying agriculture is particularly vulnerable to strike threats and the farmer would have to yield to any demand at harvest time to prevent loss of his entire crop. He said it would be blackmail.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Gastrointestinal Series Key Cancer Check

BRANDSTADT

Q—I can't reconcile myself to the idea of older persons being subjected to the rigors of gastrointestinal series of X rays including a barium enema. Do you think it is necessary, especially in cases where surgery would not be needed such as spastic colon, constipation or abdominal pain?

A—Although, as you suggest, a complete G.I. series is no picnic, as your age advances it becomes more and more important as a means of discovering cancer—often an unsuspected cancer.

I would certainly not recommend that it be done routinely on every patient with the complaints you mentioned but, when you have a doctor in whom you have complete confidence, you should leave it up to his judgment whether these tests are necessary. Better a few minutes or even hours of discomfort than to miss an early diagnosis of cancer.

Q—Would it be advisable for a woman in her late 70s to have cataracts removed from both eyes?

A—With modern methods of surgery age is no barrier to a good result from this operation. In fact most persons with cataracts are in this age group.

Q—In a recent column you stated that there is no known way to prevent cataracts. A friend started getting them so she began eating lemon peels and the cataracts stopped growing. Is this common?

A—It is common for some cataracts to grow very slowly or to remain stationary for a long time. I doubt that the lemon peel influenced the course of your friend's cataracts.

Q—Is there any treatment for cataract besides surgery, such as injections into the eye to dissolve the matter covering the lens?

A—The opacity or cataract occurs in the lens itself and not on its surface. There is no way to dissolve a cataract once it has formed or to prevent it from forming.

Q—Is Hetrazan an effective treatment for filariasis? How is it given? Are there any bad side effects?

A—Although the parasitic disease, filariasis, is most common in Africa, India and Central and South America it is also seen in the United States, especially in persons who have been in the tropics. Diethylcarbamazine (Hetrazan) is the treatment of choice because it attacks the larval form of the parasite.

It is given by mouth either in tablet or syrup form. Thiacetarsamide which kills the adult worms is given when the victim fails to respond to Hetrazan. In the prescribed dosage there are no serious side effects.

Science Quiz

BY BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: How big is a drop?

NEEDED: Needle or pin, a spoon, a finger, a dropper, some alcohol, and water.

DO THIS: Let drops of water and alcohol fall from the finger, the pin, the spoon, and the dropper and note the different sizes. Put water in the dropper and dip the end of the dropper into the alcohol, and note that the drop of water coming from it is smaller than before.

HERE'S WHY: The size of the drop is determined by the density of the liquid, the contour of the surface from which it drops, the surface tension, and temperature. A little alcohol decreases the surface tension of water. The smaller surfaces tend to form smaller drops because the surface force holding the water is less when the water is touching the smaller surface area.

CONCLUSION: A "drop" is a very inaccurate measure of the volume of a liquid.

A collection of the "Science For You" experiments is in book form and sold in better bookstores. It is called Science Circus.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED BY DETROIT EDISON

you get your money back!

Every cent! Including installation cost, if any! That's the kind of guarantee you get from Edison when you buy an approved electric water heater. It's good for a full year, and you don't have to buy your heater from Edison. How's that for being fair?

Great, you say, but you're not sure what size you need? Just give us a call. We'll have a specialist out to your place in a jiffy to tell you what size tank you need, the price of the heater, and its surprisingly low operating cost.

He can also point out the best location for it. Since electric water heaters use no flame (and have no flue), they can be placed where they are most efficient—close to your hot water needs. That means shorter pipes, quicker and hotter hot water, and economical operation.

To get all the hot water you need—guaranteed—call your Edison Office or see the Qualified Retailer who displays the Edison Satisfaction Guaranteed sign.

Music Festival in Gala Opening

WOMEN'S SECTION

Governor George Romney celebrated his birthday Thursday by coming to the opening concert of Meadow Brook Music Festival with his wife. The couple also attended Chancellor D. B. Varner's dinner beforehand.

"The first picnickers both years," they say. In front are the Gerald Muessels of Birmingham and, rear, the Frederick Sevalds of Hickory Bend Road. Others used picnic tables on the Festival grounds.

Moonlight, Music Join Forces at Meadow Brook

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

There's magic about everything at the Meadow Brook Music Festival.

It's compounded of moonlight, a dramatic setting, excitement and music in the air.

* * *

The anticipation Thursday evening at the start of the second season was only a little less than it was a year ago. We knew we would have a memorable evening.

Some impressions we won't forget . . .

Governor and Mrs. Romney sitting on the grass during the second half of the concert and slipping away, unnoticed by the audience enthusiastically applauding Isaac Stern . . .

* * *

The airplane that passed overhead, causing Sixten Ehrling to delay the start of a movement in the Mozart symphony . . .

* * *

The flowers everywhere — great baskets of carnations on the buffet tables in Trumbull Terrace — geraniums all over the festival grounds — and the fragrant vases of roses in Meadow Brook Hall during the reception after the concert . . .

The enchanting artistry of Sixten Ehrling and Isaac Stern . . .

* * *

The enormous cookies Ed Goodwin is making a special feature of the meals in Trumbull Terrace . . .

* * *

The people — from corporation presidents down — a scattering of children — a plenitude of OU students — but always the people who came to enjoy themselves and did.

Sixten Ehrling, conductor of the Detroit Symphony, relaxes backstage before the concert.

Felix Resnick who plays violin with the orchestra is conductor of the Pontiac Symphony.

Orchestra, Violinist Rate Standing Ovation

By JOHN C. TOUSLEY

The wooded hills of Meadow Brook were the setting last evening of this season's opening concert in the 1965 Meadow Brook Music Festival.

A capacity crowd filled the picturesque Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion and overflowed on the surrounding hills to hear the Detroit Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Sixten Ehrling, and guest soloist Isaac Stern.

The program proved to be varied and exciting.

* * *

The strains of Beethoven's Overture, "Leonore" No. 3, marked the opening of the concert, filling the Lula C. Wilson Memorial Concert Shell with rich sound and testing its perfect acoustics with well-executed flute and bassoon passages.

From the quiet introduction, to the off-stage trumpet, to the monumental conclusion of the overture, the orchestra rendered a sensitive and moving performance.

MOZART

Symphony No. 39 (E flat major), by Mozart, was the next number on the program, performed in the staid, classical style of Mozart's time.

It featured the orchestra's fine string section and highlighted an exceptional flutist.

As the lights dimmed after intermission, a master took possession of the stage.

From the time Isaac Stern finished tuning his instrument for the performance of the Concerto for Violin and Orchestra in A minor, by Antonin Dvorak, until he sounded his first notes, the audience was already aware that it was confronted by a great man.

* * *

His technique, facial expressions, and spontaneous movements made the violin seem a living member of the artist—like a singer's voice.

At the conclusion of the concerto, a standing ovation was awarded Mr. Stern.

CONCLUSION

Maestro Ehrling's talents were indeed put to the test to lead the symphony to a fitting conclusion after Stern's climactic performance.

* * *

He proved to be more than equal to the task. Ravel's lavish "Daphnis et Chloe." Suite No. 2 from the Ballet, flows with tonal color and variety of instrumentation.

The precision and enthusiasm of the orchestra led the audience through the vibrant moods and pulsating rhythms that are uniquely Ravel's, and provided a brilliant climax to the concert.

Youngster Needs Advice

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We have a problem and I don't know exactly how to cope with it. It concerns our 11 - year - old daughter.

ABBY

She's a very affectionate girl, and quite developed for her age. She's infatuated with a man who happens to be a very good friend of ours. He and his wife are at our home often. At first it was cute to see her run to him, throw her arms around his neck, and kiss him fiercely.

* * *

We teased her about her "dream man," and he played along with the game. But it's no longer funny. If she's not sitting on his lap, she's very close to him. She holds his hand, and kisses him lingeringly on the lips.

I notice he's very uncomfortable lately when she's around. My husband says we should ignore it as this is a stage all girls go through while growing up.

I never had this problem while I was growing up. Is my husband right? Or should something be done? And, if so, how is this done without inhibiting our daughter's natural affectionate nature?

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: Every normal adolescent girl has a "dream man." And there's no harm in it.

But your daughter would be far better off drooling over a picture of Gregory Peck than sitting on your friend's lap.

Tell your daughter that she's a young lady now and she must not be so aggressive.

To ignore it would indicate approval on your part. And, furthermore, it's the responsibility of parents to see that guests in their home are not subjected to embarrassing situations.

DEAR ABBY: Eldon and I have been married for over a year and it's like pulling teeth to get him to visit my parents with me.

When he does go, he just sits there like a bump on a log and doesn't say a word to them. When we get home I tell him if he doesn't talk to my folks they are going to think he is stuck up, or mad at them.

* * *

He says my father doesn't know anything about sports and my mother doesn't shut up long enough for anyone to get a word in. I think he could be more friendly for my sake.

* * *

How can I get him to be more sociable with my folks? Or is it just a losing battle?

ELDON'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Leave him alone. Perhaps he still feels a little uncomfortable in their presence. Be glad he goes with you, even if he's no jamboree.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: The switchboard operator-receptionist girl here seems to be using her job to make "contacts."

If a salesman comes in, she gets palsy-walsy with him and before you know it she's got a lunch date or dinner date with him. She's considered an eyeful, if you like the type who overdresses and uses a lot of makeup.

* * *

She claims she always asks if a man is married before she accepts a date with him, as married men are off her list. (Big deal! She only picks up unmarried strangers.)

* * *

She's a divorcee and supports two small children so we hate to report her to the office manager because it might cost her her job. What do you suggest?

THE GIRLS

DEAR GIRLS: An "eyeful" also has a "headful" to land a job where she can meet men.

From here it appears that the girl is only trying to meet men with honorable intentions. I suggest that you girls pull in your claws.

Polly's Pointers

Now Clean With Dirt

DEAR POLLY — I inherited a stone cookie jar and with it a rancid odor due to old cookie crumbs.

After applying every method I knew to remove the odor, I gave up and filled the jar with potting soil to be used for winter house plants.

The next spring I removed the lid, emptied out the soil and every trace of the unpleasant odor was gone. Later when soap and water failed to remove the odor of chopped onions from a plastic container, I filled it with moist soil, put the lid on and let it stand for 24 hours.

I washed and rinsed it and there was no odor left. Now if anything smells I give it the dirt treatment. It really works. —M.B.

GIRLS — That is a switch. First get them dirty to get them clean. I found this wonderful for removing the odor of garlic from a plastic container.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When getting scrap material ready for cutting out quilt pieces, I spray starch the pieces and then press them. This brings back the original crispness to the material and makes it easier to mark and cut.

This treatment also works well when cutting and making doll clothes out of scraps.—CAROLINE

* * *

DEAR POLLY — Please remind the readers to let the telephone ring longer when calling someone during warm weather.

They may be outdoors. Two nights last week when we were working in the yard, the phone rang.

* * *

By the time we could answer it the caller had hung up and we were left wondering "who" and "what" the call concerned.—MRS. D.D.S.

DEAR POLLY — Hands soiled by grease or paint may be quickly and easily cleaned if the turpentine is kept in a squirt bottle out of reach of children, of course. Less waste, too.—MARY

Keep the Flies Out

Flies have a strong urge to get in out of the rain, and often cluster on screens when the weather is turning bad, eager to get inside if given a chance. Spraying the mesh of screen doors with a long-lasting residual insecticide will doom most of them quickly, and any that get inside after such contact die shortly.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Michel Contino, president of Coiffure Francaise of America, gave me the following ideas about hats and hair.

A colorful hat will add a spark to the mature woman's face. It should never be too flowery. A delicate pastel or a white hat is always flattering.

If you wear glasses don't wear a veil. The combination of a veil and glasses, and often earrings, is much too busy.

The older woman should never wear a bonnet type hat. Most older women look best with a modified brim, not a picture hat. Never wear a dark brown or a purple hat.

These colors are too negative. The small hat should permit some hair to show a bit at the sides and in front to soften facial contour.

COORDINATE

Most important, coordinate your hat and your hairdo. This "togetherness" of hat and hair will pay off. If in doubt show your hat to your hair stylist or tell him what type hat you have in mind.

If you find a hat and a hairdo you like especially, which belong together, have the hat copied in other materials.

The average woman, from middle age on, has her hair tinted. The color of the hat must complement the color of tint, or at least it mustn't fight with it.

Truly successful well-dressed women stick to their individual types. Every season designers come out with a variety of styles, large and small, so you are always in the fashion picture if you select that which flatters you and makes your hair style easy to manage.

The proof of perfect hat and hair togetherness is whether or not you can put your hat on successfully without a mirror.

NOT COMPLEX

All this sounds more complex than it is. If your hair color flatters you and is right for your complexion, a hat which blends with the tint will also be becoming.

Add to Mr. Contino's suggestions the idea that you must also take your facial contour and your body build into consideration when selecting a hat.

★ ★ ★

You know what I mean! If you are tall do not wear a tall hat. If you are short DO wear a hat with height and DON'T wear a broad-brimmed hat. If your face is broad wear a tall hat. If it is long and thin wear one with breadth.

Issue Is Supranationalism

'Euromart Showdown Is Unavoidable'

BRUSSELS (AP) — France's five Common Market partners believe a showdown on the political issue underlying the present dispute within the economic union is unavoidable.

The issue is supranationalism, whether the six nations will cede some of their sovereign powers to an international body in which majority rule will prevail.

French President Charles de Gaulle is opposed to the evolution of the economic union into a supranational political institution. Other members of the European Economic Community, notably West Germany, favor creation of a political organization to go with the Common Market's economic framework.

France has not said that this was the reason for its announcement Monday that it will boycott Common Market activities. Rather, the boycott was linked to failure of market members to agree to a new farm subsidy program by June 30, when the old program expired.

BOYCOTT EXTENDED

France extended the boycott Thursday to activities of the European Coal and Steel Pool, the forerunner of the Common Market. However, French representatives were directed to attend a routine meeting of Common Market farm experts Thursday.

The French boycott, for all its implications, is not viewed as a move toward French withdrawal from the Common Market. Walter Hallstein, German chairman of the market's executive commission, said in a speech in Duesseldorf, Germany, Thursday: "No one sees the existence of the Common Market being placed in question because of this occasion. This would be the greatest act of destruction in the history of Europe — the free world even — since the days of Hitler."

He added that agreement on farm financing was an undisputable obligation of the six nations.

The next Council of Ministers meeting is scheduled for July 26 in Brussels. But France has said it will not attend. No major decisions can be made until the dispute is resolved since unanimous consent is required.

ITALIAN DIPLOMAT

A top Italian diplomat predicted that there would be no progress before late September or early October because of vacations and the German general elections in September.

A showdown cannot be delayed too long because of the need for the six nations to appoint a 14-man commission to manage the Common Market, the Coal and Steel Pool and the European Atomic Energy Community, next Jan. 1.

Can't Allow Carrier to Be Prison Ship

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Kenneth E. BeLieu, undersecretary of the Navy has torpedoed a plan to convert an old aircraft carrier into a floating jail annex for Baltimore city jail.

Warden Hiram L. Schoonfield had put forward the plan to alleviate crowded conditions in the Baltimore jail.

But BeLieu replied that no aircraft carriers are available and besides public opinion against the use as prisons of "ships in which thousands of fine Americans have served, fought and died would create serious reservations about such a transfer."

Lema Falls One Stroke Behind

Peter Thomson Takes Lead in British Open Tourney

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Steady Peter Thomson of Australia, shooting for his fifth title, rifled a one-under-par 72 through blustery wind and rain Friday and shot into a one-stroke lead with one round to play in the British Open Golf Championship.

The veteran Aussie, refusing to be shaken by the trying conditions of the Royal Birkdale course, hung up a 54-hole score of 214, five under par, for a single shot edge over defending champion Tony Lema and Bruce Devlin of Australia, both of whom shot 75s for 215.

★ ★ ★

Another stroke back at 216 came Arnold Palmer, still in strong contention after a scattershot 75, which tied him with Christy O'Connor of Ireland and long-hitting Roberto de Vicenzo of Argentina.

O'Connor shot a 74 and de Vicenzo, who three times has finished third in this ancient event, fired a 73.

STRONG FINISH

The strong pre-tournament favorite, Jack Nicklaus, faded to a 77, despite a surging eagle-birdie finish, for 221 which left him seven shots back of the pace-setting Thomson.

★ ★ ★

Gary Player of South Africa, recent winner of the U.S. Open in a playoff with Kel Nagle of Australia, skied to a 79 and then abruptly withdrew from the tournament.

"I couldn't go on," Player said, explaining that his sore neck, suffered Thursday, prevented him from taking a full swing.

★ ★ ★

The 44-year-old Nagle was still in contention at 217, tied with Brian Huggett of Wales, Lionel Platts of England, and Sebastian Miguel of Spain.

The only other U.S. contender to survive the cut, 26-year-old Terry Dill of Muleshoe, Tex., saw his hopes disappear with a 79 for 226. He had three double bogeys and three bogeys on the wild round.

POOR WEATHER

Thomson, who won three British Opens in a row and four between 1953 and 1958, played superb golf despite the miserable conditions. The third round started in rain and wind. Later the sun emerged but gusty winds continued to blow in from off the Irish Sea.

The 7,037-yard, par 73 Royal Birkdale course proved a tough test.

The 210-pound Nicklaus seemed ready to blow himself right out of the tournament until he collected himself on the final two holes. He hit a five-iron to the green and sank a four-foot putt for an eagle at the 17th and came out of a trap for an eight-foot birdie putt on the final hole.

Palmer's miseries were on the greens.

★ ★ ★

"I missed 12 putts from inside 10 feet," Palmer said. "It is ridiculous to play a round like that and still be in contention."

BEST PUTT

His best putt was a 17-footer on the par five 17th, which the Latrobe, Pa., pro birdied without ever seeing the fairway. He pulled his drive onto a sand hill, then pushed his second into a willow scrub and finally stabbed the ball onto the green.

Lema was unhappy with his round. "It was an uneventful day. I didn't play too good," said the defending champion.

Thomson closed with two strong birdies on the 17th and 18th holes. His best putt was a 25-footer for a birdie at the eighth.

Lolich's 'Luck' Helps Tigers to Victory

Strikes Out 10, Holds Yankees to Five Hits

Freehan Hits Homer as New York Drops 6-1 Contest

DETROIT (AP) — When it comes to giving honest answers, no member of the Detroit Tigers approaches Mickey Lolich.

Lolich struck out ten batters and set the New York Yankees down on five hits in a 6-1 Detroit victory Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

Lolich, who pitched 6 1-3 innings against the Yankees in a losing cause Monday, did not attempt to explain his success with any explanations of faster pitches, better curves or anything like that.

"I just didn't have any luck Monday," was Lolich's catch-all answer, "everything they hit was falling in for hits.

GOOD WOOD

"I didn't have as much stuff tonight and they really got some good wood on the ball—but they were hitting it at someone," he concluded.

Lolich matched Hank Aguirre's record of 9-4 with the triumph.

★ ★ ★

The young lefthander said the only thing he noticed that might have been caused by the brief rest between assignments was that "when I reached back for my fast ball, it wasn't there. I was a bit tired at the end and my legs are a little sore."

The Yankees' only run came in the first inning when Lolich gave up two of his four walks and Bobby Richardson scored from second on Elston Howard's grounder.

KEY DOUBLE

Infield singles by Al Kaline and Willie Horton and a bunt single by Jim Northrup—when Mikkelsen failed to field the attempted sacrifice — loaded the bases for the Tigers in the fourth. Don Wert doubled home two runs and the Tigers were in front to stay.

★ ★ ★

Bill Freehan hit a home run in the sixth and the Tigers added three more runs in the eighth on Wert's second double and third hit, a pair of walks, Dick McAuliffe's single and Ray Oyler's double.

Willie Horton went to deep left to spear Phil Linz's liner in the third inning, and caught another shot off Linz's bat in the fifth.

★ ★ ★

Wert made a good play to throw out Howard in the fifth inning and took a hit away from Linz in the seventh, while Northrup added a couple of sparkling catches in support of Lolich.

The Tigers left for Kansas City this morning and open a three-game series with the A's tonight. Joe Sparma was slated to be the starting pitcher.

UPS AND DOWNS OF BASEBALL — Second baseman Ray Oyler of the Detroit Tigers puts on a tumbling act after making a stop of a sharp grounder hit by New York's Joe Pepitone in last night's game at Tiger Stadium. Pepitone was safe at first, but the Tiger's won, 6-1.

Gridder Follows Dad, Inks Pact With 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers have moved into their second generation still seeking their first championship.

At their 20th birthday party Thursday, the National Football League 49ers announced signing Bill Fisk Jr., of Southern California, son of one of the original squadmen.

Then they heard Coach Jack Christiansen say, "I think we'll have a real good club. At an average age of only 26 it will be one of the youngest in the league but I feel in the near future it will stand a chance of knocking at the door for the championship."

As members originally of the All-American Conference and later of the National Football League, the 49ers have knocked before but never entered.

PLAYS GUARD

Young Fisk, whose father played end for the 49ers in 1946-47, is a 230-pound guard who cocaptained the Trojans last season and was signed as a free agent.

Fisk senior was one of the 1946 squad honored at the 20th birthday party.

Buck Shaw, the coach of the original 49ers, commented, "It's a warming experience to visit with these old and original 49ers. The game hasn't changed much since 1946 but what a change in salary scales. It reminds me of the story of the inmates taking over the asylum

"If you reduced the age of these fellows 20 years all could be playing somewhere in pro football today."

★ ★ ★

Frank Albert, the original 49er quarterback and later head coach, declared, "I had to be the luckiest guy for a dozen or more reasons. For one, Buck Shaw was the kind of coach I wish I could have been. Pro football today is all business and when you get the $$$ signs maybe fun becomes work." Then he added:

"If I could have been squeezed three inches taller, I'd like to run at some of that Namath money."

★ ★ ★

Alabama quarterback Joe Namath reportedly signed with the New York Jets of the AFL for $400,000 after last season.

One honored guest wasn't an ex-49er but an area resident.

Koufax, Marichal Top List of 8 NL All-Star Pitchers

By United Press International

Veterans Don Drysdale, Sandy Koufax and Juan Marichal head the list of eight National League pitchers announced today for the July 14 All-Star, which six American League hurlers will be appearing for the first time in the 36th annual baseball classic.

National League Manager Gene Mauch of the Philadelphia Phillies also selected Cincinnati's Sammy Ellis and Jim Maloney, Pittsburgh's Bob Veale, Houston's Dick Farrell and Bob Gibson of St. Louis, in addition to the Dodgers' Drysdale and Koufax and Marichal of the Giants.

American League manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox chose Baltimore's Milt Pappas and Minnesota's Jim Grant as the league's only veterans of All-Star pitching competition.

Filling out the American League's roster of pitchers will be Eddie Fisher of the White Sox, Bob Lee of Los Angeles, Sam McDowell of Cleveland, John O'Donoghue of Kansas City, Pete Richert of Washington and Mel Stottlemyre of New York.

SIXTH TIME

Drysdale is considered the "senior man" of the NL squad, having been selected on six occasions.

The big right-hander has started four All-Star games, allowing just eight hits and three earned runs in the 14 innings he worked. The Dodger ace has compiled a remarkable earned-run-average of 1.93 as he struck out 17 while surrendering only four bases on balls.

Teammate Koufax has been named to the National League team five times but pitched only two singles while appearing in just two games.

Fisher, Lee and Richert are bullpen specialists in the American League while Grant, Pappas, O'Donoghue and Stottlemyre are regular starters for their respective teams.

McDowell is a lanky lefthander who leads the league in strikeouts, Pappas is a hard-throwing righthander, and Grant is a tall fireballing right-hander. The average age of the AL staff is 27.

With Extra Base Barrage

Third Baseman Battles Critics

By The Associated Press

Rich Allen of the Philadelphia Phillies has punched out 102 hits, but right now he's getting hit with a chorus of boos because of one punch.

Restraining himself vocally, the All-Star third baseman has unleashed an extra-base barrage in answer to the hometown critics who have subjected him to constant booing since his fight with teammate Frank Thomas last Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Allen left the boo birds temporarily speechless in the first inning of Thursday night's second game against San Francisco, tagging a grand slam homer that lifted the Phillies to a 4-2 victory after the Giants had pounded out a 10-2 opening game triumph.

Allen later added a double for his 102nd hit of the season — most in the majors — said he has not been disturbed by the boos and explained that he was taking the advice of his mother, who called after the Thomas incident and offered this advice:

BAT TALKS

"Dick, you always were trying to fight. It's time you settled down."

"She's right," said Allen. Since the incident, Allen has hit at a .345 clip with 10 hits, including two doubles, a pair of triples and the first grand slam of his major league career. He has lifted his over-all average to .336 — second only to San Francisco's Willie Mays in the National League.

★ ★ ★

Mays, meanwhile, provided one of the Giants' runs in the nightcap with his 23rd homer of the season and No. 476 of his career. That moved him past Stan Musial into second place on the alltime National League homer list with only Mel Ott's 511 ahead of him.

★ ★ ★

While Allen and Mays were hammering away, Maury Wills triggered the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 9-4 victory over Pittsburgh that lifted them back into first place over idle Cincinnati, and Milwaukee outlasted Houston 9-8 in 12 innings despite a 6-for-6 performance by the Astros' Joe Morgan.

Forest Lake Tourney Starts

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Match play in the third annual Forest Lake Country Club golf tournament started today with Harry Nederlander and Gene Eyler defending their title against some of the best players in district golf play.

Nederlander of Forest Lake and Eyler, a former Pine Lake champion now playing out of Oakland Hills, were scheduled to face an outstanding Red Run team of George Linklater and Richard Lurie in the shotgun start at 1:30 p.m.

The championship flight and flights 1-2-3 had 1:30 tee times while flights 4 through 7 began at 8:30 a.m.

Qualifying medalists for the tournament with a 68 were Chuck Granader and Chuck Byrne, both of Birmingham CC.

Nederlander and Eyler did not have to qualify but they played the course yesterday and recorded a 72. The cut for the championship flight was 73 and it took four playoff holes to determine the final position with Harold Titus and Stan Koska defeating Bill Adams and Dave Dawson.

BEST FIELD

Tournament officials called it the best field in its short history and with the many champions from various clubs entered it was called one of the best fields in district invitational play.

Many top players found themselves out of the championship flight including Tom Draper playing with Barry Everett in the first flight and Pete Green playing with his father Ed Green in the second flight.

All of the teams in flights 1-2-3 fired scores under 80 which is another indication of the calibre of the field.

★ ★ ★

Ex-Pontiac city champions Dick Robertson and Ed Wasik were teamed to go against Alger Conner, a former Forest Lake champion and Knobby Walsh, an ex-assistant pro at FLCC who has been reinstated to amateur status and now playing out of Indianwood.

Pitching Staff for All-Star Tilt Minus Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Chicago White Sox Manager Al Lopez, who will manage the American League All Stars Tuesday, selected his pitching staff Thursday and did not include a Tigers hurler.

"That's not surprising when you figure what he was up against, but I thought he would take either Mickey Lolich or Hank Aguirre," Manager Charlie Dressen said.

★ ★ ★

"But that's all right. They'll get just that much more rest for the start of the second half of the season," Dressen added.

Lopez, who had to select at least one representative from each of the league's ten teams, was still shy three teams when he named his subs earlier in the week.

Three of the pitchers are lone representatives for Los Angeles, Washington and Kansas City.

Despite their lowly standing—they are three games under .500 and 15 games back of league-leading Minnesota in the loss column—the Yankees are still a top attraction.

Thursday's turnout of 24,550 brought the attendance figure for the five-game series to 110,553.

In an International League contest, Buckner (10-2) trimmed Michigan Bell (5-7), 9-4, and L & S Standard (3-9) gained a forfeit decision over Idle Time Bar (6-6) in National League play.

League-leading 300 Bowl (12-1) used three walks, an error, passed ball and wild pitch in posting three runs in the second. The winners collected only three hits off loser Charles Hughes.

Town & Country (1-12) picked up nine hits but winner Doug Hall kept them well scattered. Chuck Nichols and Jerry Wedge had two safeties apiece for the losers.

Buckner pushed across five runs in the opening inning and coasted to victory. Carl Cole collected two hits for the winners.

In Waterford Township action, John Leppanen tossed a three-hitter as Richardson Dairy (12-1) downed Haskins Chevrolet (3-10) 10-0, and Day's Sanitary (9-4) trimmed Dixie Tool (1-12), 11-2.

Dave Brown and Marv Fuller picked up three hits apiece for Day's and Brown knocked in four runs.

Southerner Takes 1st in Stock Race

MANASSAS, Va. (AP) —Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., won the 400-lap (150-mile) National Association for Stock Car Racing Grand National race Thursday night.

Johnson, who averaged a shade under 75 miles an hour, finished one lap ahead of Dick Hutcherson of Keokuk, Iowa. Ned Jarrett of Camden, S.C., was third and Gale Yarborough of Timmonsville, S.C., was fourth.

The first three finishers drove 1965 Fords. Yarborough drove a 1964 Ford.

The victory was Ford's 29th in 30 Grand National races this season.

TEEING OFF

By FLETCHER SPEARS

There's a golf tournament sadly in need of a home.

The event in question is the No. 1 attraction for state golfers — the Michigan Open — which each year attracts Michigan's leading professional and amateur golfers.

The tournament was held at Atlas Valley Country Club near Flint two years ago. Lakelands near Brighton, played the role of host last year.

The play moves this year to the Industrial Mutual Association (I.M.A.) Brookwood Golf Club near Flint and is scheduled for July 30-31 and Aug. 1.

Where the event will wind up in 1966 is anybody's guess.

Here's a tournament which is held each year to determine the state's top golfer and nobody, that is no course, wants it.

* * *

The Michigan section of the Professional Golfers Association sanctions the event and has the problem of finding a course that will take the tournament.

ROUGH TASK

Finding a course is a harder task than you might imagine.

* * *

There are plenty of golf courses around, but club members are reluctant to give up their course for the week or so it would take to get the tournament completed. That's understandable. They prefer playing to watching.

Of course, a tidy sum of money might influence some clubs to open the doors, but then there would be the problem of finding a sponsor (in raising money), and another problem here is that a sponsor would want to back something with a lot of commercial value which is something the Michigan Open doesn't have at present.

While its value might be small for a sponsor right now, the Open continues to improve and one of these days it's going to be loaded not only with prestige, but commercial value as well.

* * *

Also lacking at present is a championship course to test the players.

PLAYERS MOAN

The moans and groans at Lakelands were numerous last year and not all came from the golfers who were having trouble. Some of the better shooters had a few unkind words for the course.

* * *

Lakelands is short and the greens are small. This isn't a knock at Lakelands, but the course just isn't suited for the kind of play expected in the Michigan Open.

The groans should be just as loud and numerous when the players move onto the Brookwood Course the end of this month.

The course is short — 6,533 yards — and the players should have little trouble with it. The big hitters should have a lot of fun.

* * *

Again, it's no knock at the course. I.M.A. took over the layout this year and the improvement is noticeable. But it is still far from a championship course.

Turkey, Quail Before Commission

Hunting Regulations on List

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Commission plans to decide on Michigan' 1965 hunting rules, including those for the state's first turkey season since pioneer days, at its July 15-18 meeting at Traverse City.

The commission will decide on the full lineup of hunting regulations, except for waterfowl shooting dates and bag limits, which will be set after mid-August.

* * *

Major recommendations from the Conservation Department include a two-year ban on bear hunting in the Lower Peninsula and permission for another elk season. Last year's elk season was the first one held east of the Mississippi since before the turn of the century.

Legislation passed this year authorizes the turkey season and the first quail season since 1911.

TURKEY DAYS

Department game men are recommending a Nov. 6-14 season—just before Thanksgiving—for shooting of wild turkeys in parts of Allegan County.

The birds were re-established in the county in 1954 and apparently have reached their population peak there, the department said.

* * *

Up to 400 shooting permits—each to take one bird—would be issued, with an expected maximum kill of 200 surplus birds.

The department is suggesting a Nov. 11-15 quail season in St. Joseph, Branch, Hillsdale, Lenawee, Monroe, Wayne, Washtenaw, Jackson, Calhoun, Eaton, Kalamazoo, Eaton, Ingham, St. Clair and Macomb counties.

Bag limits have been set by the legislature at four quail a day, eight in possession and 12 for the season.

The department said the Lower Michigan bear hunting ban was suggested because bear have dwindled to a point considered seriously low.

* * *

The Upper Peninsula bear hunting season should remain unchanged, it recommended.

Another recommended change would shift Lower Michigan's Dec. 15-Feb. 15 bobcat season to the entire months of January and Februsary — a move to match the season with the best period for hunting bobcats.

In last year's elk season, 300 licenses were granted for a nine-day season. The department recommended a similar season for this December, but with all of last year's 300 licensees ineligible to try again.

* * *

For deer hunting, the legislature has established the Saturday nearest Nov. 15 as the uniform firearm opening date for the entire Upper Peninsula —meaning a Nov. 13-28 season this year.

In Lower Michigan, opening date has been moved back to the third Saturday of November and gun hunters will have Nov. 28-Dec. 5 dates.

GROUSE CHANGE

As a result of the change, southern Michigan's extended grouse season will be split into sessions of Oct. 20-Nov. 19 and Dec. 6-31.

* * *

Department game men hope for a take of 75,000 bucks and almost 64,000 antlerless deer. This would place the season's total near last year's 140,000, second highest in Michigan history.

Seasons covering cottontails, squirrels, pheasant,s snowshoe hares and other small game will remain unchanged from last year.

Cranbrook in First Place

PBI Suffers 5-0 Loss in City Baseball

Dick Mosher fanned seven batters, scattered five hits and paced the hitting attack with two singles last night as Cranbrook beat Pontiac Business Institute 5-0 to break a first place tie in Class A baseball action.

Cranbrook (8-3) combined seven hits with five PBI (7-3) errors to take the win.

* * *

Both teams connected for two hits in the first inning but Cranbrook scored two runs with their blows to forecast the game.

Ron Murray, Cranbrook leftfielder, stole home in the sixth when he drew a rundown throw to third and beat the relay back to the plate.

Some Teams Fight Errors in Junior League Games

Junior City League Baseball action yesterday saw some teams fighting close games and other teams fighting error problems.

In class D play Northside Boys Club was defeated in a seventh inning rally by Cranbrook, 2-1.

In other action, Franklin C. A. beat Pontiac Boys Club 5-3.

Franklin led off in the first with three runs and was never challenged. It combined nine hits with three Pontiac errors for the win.

Pete Rhnf, Franklin pitcher, fanned eight men and, with the help of Larry Kirchner, held the Boys Club to six hits.

In class E American League action, Clarkston's Johnson struck out seven to shutout the Auburn Heights Boys Club in a 6-0 win.

Clarkston batters combined four hits with eight Boys Club errors in the seven innings of play.

The Pontiac Police POA used eight hits and five Oxford errors to win a 14-4 decision.

TWO HITS

Police hurlers held the Oxford batters to no hit ball through the sixth inning but gave up two in the seventh.

The Police POA carded two runs in the first, seven in the sixth and five in the seventh.

The pitching combination of Lawrence and Irving held Rochester to two hits to give Bloomfield Hills a 3-2 victory.

Rochester's Phillips belted a home run in the fourth to start a rally that never went further.

In the national division, Kennerly Service took a 7-4 decision over the Lakers.

Lakers' batters tagged Steve Bass for six hits but couldn't put them in the right combinations. Their seventh inning rally with three runs on two hits came to late to top the Kennerly nine.

Search Begins for Coach of Atlanta NFL Team

ATLANTA (AP) — The owner of Atlanta's new National Football League team says he will discuss the head coach's job with former Cleveland owner-coach Paul Brown, but this does not mean Brown will be hired.

Rankin M. Smith, who purchased the Atlanta franchise June 30, said Thursday he plans to talk with Brown, but "the fact that I mentioned Brown does not indicate that I'll hire him. He's not the only coaching prospect we'll contact by any means."

* * *

Smith also said that published reports he paid $9 million or more for the franchise are too high.

"I don't know where anybody has gotten his figure, but I'll tell you this: the price was less than $9.5 million, also less than $9 million.

Beyond that I'm sorry I can't establish it," Smith said.

The NFL will aid Smith's search for a head coach and other team officials by providing the names of NFL personnel interested in positions with the still unnamed Atlanta team. However, Smith assured other owners he would not hire any of these persons until the end of the current season.

* * *

Smith also indicated the new team's leadership may come from men who are not now active in the league. "Certainly there are capable men who fit this status," he said.

Jim Butcher Believes . . .

A Lot of Folks Think I'm the Service Manager
That's probably because I talk so much about the importance of good service in building a business like this. Then too, it's more than likely you'll find me in the Service Department or the new Bump Shop when you come in.
Ten years in this business taught me that good service at a reasonable price will bring more satisfied customers back than anything else I know of. I really don't have to spend as much time as I do in the Service Department. In my opinion Al Martin, our Service manager, is tops. I just like to see the thorough way he takes care of our customers. You'll appreciate it too when you bring your car in. Then, like so many others, you'll come back for more better service when you need it and for your next car when you're in the market for one.

SIDELINED — Olympic swimming champion Don Schollander has been ordered to bed for the summer at his Lake Oswego, Ore., home. He is suffering from mononucleosis. Schollander collapsed in Switzerland last month after eight months of hectic routine since winning four gold medals in the Tokyo Olympics.

Defending Champ Ralston Makes Net Quarter-Finals

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Defending champion Dennis Ralston, the nation's top-ranked tennis player, met upset-minded Tom Edlefson of the University of Southern California today in a featured quarter-final of the 80th Western Open Championships.

Ralston, the 22-year-old Bakersfield, Calif., ace who is under temporary suspension from the Davis Cup team, easily advanced through the round of 16 Thursday by trouncing Billy Higgins of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., 6-3, 6-1.

Edlefson, Southern Cal's No. 1 player and ranked 13th nationally, upset fifth-seeded Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, this country's No. 9 player, 6-1, 8-6.

Also advancing to the quarter-finals were national intercollegiate king Art Ashe of UCLA; former Northwestern star Marty Riessen; 19-year-old Cliff Richey of Dallas; junior Davis Capper John Pickens of Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Bitsy Harrison of Richmond, Va., and Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico.

FORMER CHAMPS

Ashe rallied to oust former Western Open champion Bill Lenoir of Tucson, Ariz., 2-6, 7-5, 6-2, and Riessen, sixth-seeded and Western runner-up three straight years, defeated Cliff Buchholz of St. Louis 6-1, 3-6, 6-4.

TOKYO — Manzo Kitsuchi, 129¼, Japan, outpointed Lim Chong Tae, 128¼, South Korea, 10.

Dorsett Catalina

A sturdy hull, the prettiest lines of any craft around, and a snug cabin to shelter you from the rains! What more does a fun-loving weekend sailor need for exploring the waterways? The Catalina is as much as you can find on a 16-foot hull. Two people can sleep in the cabin and there's extra sleeping room out on the spacious cockpit deck for those who like to camp out for the night. Choose a Johnson outboard to move you around with speed, safety and comfort. More fun than a tricky tiger kitten!

No Reunion in Sight

Martin, Lewis Split Unhealed

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Dean Martin will do 31 television shows this season with 142 guests — but not Jerry Lewis. Not even for a million dollars.

Martin says that both TV and movie producers have bid the big money for the reunion of the famed comedy team, which split up with bitter words in 1956.

* * *

"I like Jerry," says Dean. "I even kiss him when we run into each other, but I don't like the things he said about me."

The feeling is mutual on Jerry's part.

MAKING MONEY

When the two split, the team was one of the funniest and most successful in show business history. It was a $4-million-a-year corporation.

Now, nine years later, each does considerably better than that on his own.

* * *

People often wonder why the two broke up.

Dean sums it up: "Jerry's work is his life. My life is golf."

WORK A HOBBY

To Dean, work is a hobby. He tapes his TV series in two hours after playing 18 holes of golf.

"These guys who take a week to do a half-hour TV show gotta be crazy," says Dean. Dean's first show took four hours but he fixed that.

* * *

"I cut out the dress rehearsal."

3 MOVIES A YEAR

"I make three movies a year, do 15 weeks at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas, cut a dozen or so albums and make 25 single records a year. And they say Dean Martin doesn't work."

That's because Dean does most of his preparation on the golf course. He plays with a script.

"I hit a four wood, take the paper out of my pocket, look at it and then memorize my lines while I'm walking to the next hole."

Dean, always looking for shortcuts, believes people in the Los Angeles area waste too much time driving in heavy traffic.

HOLLYWOOD BOWL

"The other night Jeannie and I wanted to go to the Hollywood Bowl.

"I put her on the back of my motorcycle and we made it there in 15 minutes, just weaving in and out of traffic.

* * *

"The traffic was heavy, too. Jeannie said 'I know it's heavy because so many cars are rubbing my knuckles.'

"We parked the cycle back of the hot dog stand and got home in 15 minutes. It's crazy to spend two hours driving a car."

Dino recently made his first hole in one. He had promised his foursome that he would buy them dinner.

"They want dinner — in Japan. It seems they're crazy about the rice over there."

BRING-YOUR-CAR SERVICE — A new idea in rail travel will begin Sunday on runs between Chicago and Washington, D.C. A coach or Pullman traveler will be able to bring his auto along on a two-level freight car hooked to the passenger cars.

'Coupons' May Be Targets of Apollo, Gemini Crews

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The space agency plans to orbit a luminous monster bearing 48 brightly colored "coupons" which officials hope a Gemini or Apollo astronaut will clip and bring back to earth a year or so hence.

The space monster is the 1½-ton Pegasus C meteoroid satellite which the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) will launch with its 10th and last Saturn-1 rocket July 30.

Like two other Pegasus cosmic dust detectors launched by Saturn boosters in the past eight months, Pegasus C will expose a giant wing, 96 by 14 feet, to bombardment by the fast-moving particles of matter which swarm in space.

Unlike its predecessors, Pegasus C will be coated with luminous paint to make it more visible to any astronauts who may be soaring through space in its general vicinity.

It also will carry vividly marked metallic panels of varying thickness which could easily be detached by a space-walking astronaut.

BACK TO EARTH

The hope is to bring back to earth for laboratory study metal targets which have been hit and perhaps pierced by meteoroids.

Information about cosmic dust near the earth, important to spacecraft designers, has been reported heretofore solely by radio signals from orbiting detectors.

The two-man Gemini space program is designed among other things to perfect rendezvous and docking maneuvers vital to success of the Apollo moon voyages later in this decade. The early three-man Apollo flights also will be devoted to astronaut training in joining spacecraft in flight.

* * *

So it occurred to the scientists charged with studying space dust and its possible effect on space exploration that the Gemini or early Apollo pilots might help them out.

OTHER CRAFT

Command pilot James A. McDivitt in last month's four-day Gemini 4 flight reported sighting other spacecraft. NASA thinks one of the objects he saw may have been the Pegasus 2 meteoroid satellite launched May 25.

To make identification surer for later astronauts, NASA decided to coat the next Pegasus with luminous paint. Pegasus C will continue in orbit long after the one-year lifetime of its electronic equipment.

It is also equipped with trophies in the form of easily detached meteor target panels for later rendezvousing and space-walking Gemini or Apollo astronauts.

Such panels, if brought back to earth, would provide a history of cosmic dust conditions in their orbital area during the period from launch time to recovery by an astronaut.

Space officials emphasized that there is no approved plan for an astronaut to climb aboard a Pegasus in space and clip coupons.

Ex-Convict Is Murdered in Boston

REVERE, Mass. (AP) — Ex-convict Joseph Romeo Martin, 41, who once escaped from prison by hitting a home run during a prisoners' baseball game, today became the 21st victim of gangland warfare in Greater Boston in 16 months.

Police said Martin, whose body was slumped against the door on the passenger side of a red convertible, was shot five times in the chest. One of the bullets emerged from the side of his neck.

The car was found early today on a sidewalk on Harris Street with its right signal blinking and its motor running. Martin's body was stretched across the seat and floor of the car, his foot under the brakes.

Police said it appeared that the killer had been driving and shot Martin when he attempted to reach for the brakes and stop the car, which then veered off the road.

They said Martin had been in frequent trouble with the law, and had an extensive police record.

KEPT RUNNING

They said he escaped from a Walla Walla, Wash., prison in the late 1950s during a baseball game. He hit a long ball, ran toward first base and kept going to freedom while the other inmates looked for the ball, police said. He was recaptured in Boston five months later.

The long list of slayings began to build up when William J. Sheridan, 21, was shot in the head after being ambushed as he walked along a street in Boston's Roxbury section.

Ironically, Sheridan, whose death police say may have triggered the other gangland murders, was one of the few who did not have a long record.

* * *

He was killed after he left a christening party March 15, 1964, when a heated argument over a woman took place, police said.

Controversy Arises Over Special British Envoy to North Viet

LONDON (UPI) — A major controversy boiled up today over Harold Davies, Britain's special peace envoy to North Viet Nam.

There were at least three unanswered questions about Davies' mission to Hanoi:

- Did Prime Minister Harold Wilson ask him to go?
- Was he invited by two North Vietnamese journalists based in London?
- Did he plan the trip himself and then get Wilson to agree to it?

* * *

Davies is a junior minister in Wilson's Labor government. He arrived in Hanoi yesterday.

First reports said Davies, a left-wing member of Parliament who has been in Hanoi before, was approached by the two journalists with an invitation from Ho Chi Minh, the president of North Viet Nam.

These reports said Davies consulted with Wilson and was given a mandate to persuade the Hanoi regime to accept the British Commonwealth peace mission on Viet Nam.

* * *

Like Communist China and the Soviet Union, North Viet Nam has refused to meet with the mission.

ANOTHER VERSION

Another version from government sources said Wilson, knowing Davies had contacts in Hanoi, personally asked him to make the trip. This version has it that Davies then contacted the journalists and sought a visa.

A third account says Davies first approached the journalists, then got Wilson to approve the mission.

Wilson was vague yesterday when he was quizzed about the Davies' mission during a stormy session in the House of Commons.

* * *

"In the course of one of the discussions (on the peace mission), the possibility came up of my colleague (Davies) visiting Hanoi," Wilson said.

FELT RIGHT

"After consultation I felt it right, in order not to lose any opportunity of advancing this vitally important matter, that he should go."

Conservative members of Commons pressed Wilson for specifics.

"I am more concerned to get results than to gratify curiosity," Wilson snapped.

* * *

Reginald Maudling, the Conservative party's chief spokesman on foreign affairs, issued a sharp statement last night.

* * *

"It seems quite astonishing that a member of the government with no connection with foreign affairs should, at his own request, visit Hanoi at this moment when the government there has refused to see the prime minister of Britain and the former foreign secretary," Maudling's statement said.

Castro Helps Cubans

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro planted 1,136 pine trees in 5½ hours in the hills of Oriente Province, Havana Radio reports.

Some 800 Cuban youths whose trip to Algeria was canceled after the governmental overthrow are working in Oriente to plant a million trees, and Castro joined them Thursday, the Miami-monitored broadcast said.

FINED IN TEEN DRINKING — Russell C. Stanhope (left) and his wife, Jean, of Darien, Conn., leave the courthouse in Stamford with their attorney, John D. Hertz, after the couple were fined $100 each yesterday for serving liquor to minors. The two were charged after a police probe of the driving-accident death of a 19-year-old youth who attended a party at the Stanhopes.

Discuss Pricing Practices

Retailers, Romney Huddle Over Milk

LANSING (AP)—Little of the milk sold in Michigan retail stores goes for less than cost, independent and chain store representatives told Governor George Romney Thursday.

Representatives of the retailers, the State Department of Agriculture and Romney's committee on milk pricing practices met in Romney's office "to state their positions and their thinking on the subject," said Herbert de Jonge, the Romney assistant who arranged the closed-door meeting.

* * *

"A lot of emotion has surrounded this subject since the last meeting earlier this year," he said.

"This was to bring everyone up to date and to give the retailers a chance to state their position; they weren't at the earlier meeting. It also was to brief them on what they might be able to expect in the future—because something has to be done," he said.

BILL SHELVED

A milk retail practices bill was shelved in the senate last month after a flood of objecting letters from consumers, triggered by a series of chain store advertisements opposing the legislation.

The bill, approved by the House, would have prohibited selling below invoice costs anywhere along the line from the cow to the supermarket dairy case.

* * *

"The retailers told the governor that below-cost selling of milk happens only in isolated instances, that in reality it is a low-profit margin product," one source said.

The source, who declined to be identified, said that "milk is sold in too large a volume to permit selling at a loss because the over-all loss would be too great.

PROFIT POSSIBLE

"But it is a good merchandising item if handled efficiently. It can be sold at low prices with everyone along the line making a profit," he added.

"One special now going on in stores in some parts of the state, offers three half-gallons of milk for $1, and the retailers say it is not being sold below their cost," he said.

* * *

Supporting such legislation was John Stewart, general manager of Twin Pines, an employe owned, door-to-door dairy company.

* * *

De Jonge quoted Stewart as arguing that if there was no below-cost selling, retailers would have no objection to such legislation.

MADE REPORT

Also attending was Raymond Dresser, Sturgis attorney who headed Romney's committee on milk practices. He had helped write a report last March which recommended "some regulatory action... if the state wishes to insure a more desirable form of competition in the dairy industry."

Although below-cost milk sales were not widespread, the report said, they obviously were going on in several areas of the state, such as Grand Rapids.

"It would appear... that stores were selling milk at retail for approximately the wholesale price without covering any of the overhead or direct costs of handling the product," the report said.

* * *

There were sales of milk at prices "obviously below the cost at which the product can be produced," it added.

'Baptism Not Slap at Church'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Catholic prelate says no reflection on the Episcopal Church was intended by the priest who baptised Luci Baines Johnson when she changed churches.

"Father (James F.) Montgomery's decision to administer baptism conditionally did not imply, in his judgment, that her baptism in the Episcopal Church was invalid," said Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle.

* * *

Some Episcopal churchmen said Luci's rebaptism as a Catholic last Friday was a slap at the Episcopal Church in which she had originally been baptised. The original baptism was sufficient, the Episcopal critics maintained.

Archbishop O'Boyle, while saying he would accept a prior baptism in any other church, added in his statement yesterday: "I uphold the right, of course, of Father Montgomery to make freely his decision in this matter after conscientiously considering all the circumstances."

PERSONAL WISH

The White House said it was Luci's personal wish to be rebaptized.

* * *

"I did what she requested and fulfilled the laws of the Church," Father Montgomery said after the furor arose.

Retired Marine Denied Action

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Lt. Gen. Lewis B. (Chesty) Puller of the United States Marine Corps, retired since 1955, has always been an outspoken officer and a zealous advocate of American military initiative. He also is the most decorated living Marine, holder of more than 50 military decorations for exceptional service and bravery.)

By TOM PENDERGAST

SALUDA, Va. (AP) — At 67, retired Marine Lt. Gen. Lewis B. (Chesty) Puller wants to fight again. He is critical of American military efforts in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic and has requested a combat command.

"I am tired and ashamed to look the taxpayers of the United States in the face," he said in a letter to the commandant of the Marine Corps May 14, which he made public for the first time today. He stressed his experience in guerrilla warfare in Haiti and Nicaragua in the 1920s and 1930s, and his combat record in the Pacific in World War II and Korea.

* * *

(In Washington, Marine Commandant Gen. Wallace M. Greene said Puller's request for reactivation had been denied.)

In a letter to Puller May 27, he wrote that "under conditions as they exist today, there is no requirement for the Marine Corps to ask you to come out of retirement for active service."

CAREFUL CONSIDERATION

Green said Puller's request was given "careful consideration" and the Marine Corps was aware of his "unique qualifications." He added, however: "Our Marines are acquitting themselves both in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic, in the manner which is expected of them and of which we may all be proud."

Craggy and blunt as ever, and appearing physically and mentally fit, Puller answered these questions at his Tidewater home here in an interview with the Associated Press:

Q. Are you satisfied with American involvement in the Dominican Republic and Viet Nam?

A. No, definitely not.

* * *

We made a bad error in the Dominican Republic by failing to seize stores of arms, ammunition and supplies. By now they're scattered throughout Santo Domingo and in the interior. This means we'll be faced with the possibility of guerrilla warefare there for many years to come. Our Marines apparently got no further than the streets and sidewalks of Santo Domingo; they should have seized all military supplies.

In Viet Nam many things are wrong, and there are only three ways to win the war against the Communists there. First, by a full U.S. Navy blockade of the country which would halt most of the arms shipments from Communist countries. Second, forget use of helicopters and clusters and lines of fighting units and revert to attack on the Vietnamese sea coasts through use of World War II landing craft. Then, chew up the country by segments by marching regiments back and forth across its narrow boundaries. Third, place a qualified American in command of all forces — including the Vietnamese forces.

* * *

Q. Do you oppose the so-called "spreading ink-blot strategy" of using righting units in clusters?

A. That has been tried a thousand times and it just doesn't work. The first principle of warfare is to concentrate more of our people against the enemy's. In Korea when our troops were in clusters or in long lines from sea to sea the Chinese Communists attacked in columns and chewed our people to pieces. To win we must form our people in columns and head for the Communists and destroy them on contact.

HELICOPTERS

Q. Apparently, general, you also oppose use of helicopters in transporting attack units?

A. That so-called strategy is a lot of nonsense. Helicopters are very vulnerable — I'll even go so far as to say they're "sitting ducks." Anytime you use helicopters for this purpose you're going to have a catastrophe. This has been proved in Viet Nam; just look at our losses this way. Helicopters are useful in wars only in small numbers and only for evacuating wounded and bringing in small supplies of food, rations and ammunition. This is their limit in battle.

* * *

Q. Do you approve of the present role of the Marines in Viet Nam?

A. Absolutely not! United States Marines traditionally have been trained as attacking fighting men — not as policemen or night watchmen. Our Marines aren't permitted to attack, and that is the sole purpose of their existence. Why should Marines have to waste their time guarding air bases? Doesn't the Air Force have night watchmen?

SECURITY

Q. What would you do to improve security in Viet Nam, particularly at the air bases?

A. Anyone familiar with military history has only to recall Caesar. He said that before his legions ate or slept at night, they would secure their defenses. If this had been done at the American air bases, we wouldn't have lost millions of dollars in planes and scores of dead and wounded. If these people would ever see — as I have many times — a sentry with his throat cut, there would be fewer successful Viet Cong attacks on the air bases.

Q. Do we need a substantial military success before negotiations in Viet Nam?

A. Yes — defeat of the Viet Cong. In my opinion, our Viet Nam policy had had one mistake: Instead of bombing the Vietnamese jungle we should bomb Hanoi and other major targets.

FRENCH DEFEAT

Q. General, many people say our military policies in Viet Nam are similar to those that caused the French defeat there. Do you agree?

A. That is exactly right. We haven't learned a thing from the French defeat; in fact, we seem to be copying much of the bad tactics of the French. The American commanders should not lose sight of the fact that Ho Chi Minh, the Vietnamese Communist boss, defeated a French army of 400,000 men. He is backed by years of guerrilla warfare experience, and a man successful in that type of war can be successful in any type of war.

Training Help Due Retarded

LANSING (UPI) — A statewide training and placement program for more than 3,000 of Michigan's mentally retarded will soon be launched with the help of a $487,504 federal grant, it was announced today.

Dr. Robert A. Kimmich, director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health, said the program will be "the only effort in the nation designed to meet the needs of the retarded on an integrated, statewide basis."

The program initially will be aimed at inmates now housed in four of the state's institutions for the retarded in Lapeer, Fort Custer, Mount Pleasant and Coldwater, Kimmich said.

Dr. V. A. Stehman, director of the department's services for the mentally retarded, said the program will gradually reduce the 1,600-name waiting list for admittance to the institutions.

"By reducing the number of persons now institutionalized simply because of lack of employable skills and job opportunities, we can accommodate those who do need residential care — when they need it," said Stehman.

PERIOD OF TIME

He said the shift in the institutional population will take place over a one to three-year period.

"We will provide these persons with a variety of job skills then, with the cooperation of other agencies, find appropriate jobs," Stehman said.

Gov. George Romney praised the new venture as providing a "major social and economic advantage to Michigan as part of the antipoverty program."

Teen Gang Stomps N.Y. Police Detective

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — A gang of teen-agers stomped a police detective Thursday night after he tried to stop them from tearing up flowers in front of homes.

Detective William A. Dillon, 39, was taken to St. Luke's Memorial Hospital with head injuries. He was listed in serious condition.

Romney to Visit Luau

Bacteria Help Maintain and Build Soil Fertility

Soil suitable to plant growth is the home of innumerable living beings too small to be seen with unaided eyes. Every ounce of fertile soil normally contains a larger number of living organisms — bacteria, etc. — than the human population of the entire world.

Over 50,000 bacteria could perch on a pinhead says Walter Haldeman of the Pennsylvania State University.

Bacteria are among the living forms active in building and maintaining soil fertility. Gardeners need to know that adding lime and organic matter increases bacteria population, benefiting plants by humus formation and "fixing" of nitrogen.

Fixing of nitrogen is the conversion from gaseous to nitrate or other solid forms usable by plants in protein formation.

According to a Pennsylvania State University correspondence course, bacteria are both helpful and harmful. Cheese, sauerkraut, alcohol and penicillin are among their products.

DISEASE BACTERIA

But some bacteria grow within or on animals and plants, causing diseases. Tuberculosis and typhoid fever among humans, brucellosis in cattle, cholera in hogs, wilts, leaf spots and blights of plants are results of bacterial activity.

Bacteria are an ever-present threat in foods. Canning, refrigerating, freezing and pasteurizing are done to reduce bacterial action, the cause of food spoilage.

To present the many kinds of bacteriology — soil, medical, dairy, industrial and plant pathology — Penn State offers its course by mail.

Anyone may enroll and receive a course copy by sending his name and address with $3 to Bacteriology, Box 5000, University Park, Pennsylvania 16802.

Water Hyacinths Please Sea Cows

The virtually indestructible water hyacinth, beautiful but canal-clogging and fish-destroying, is being attacked by a new method.

On a trial basis, Manatees — or sea cows — were placed in streams to eat the fast-growing plants.

★ ★ ★

These blubbery water beasts, natives of Florida but mostly chased away by civilization, eat about 100 pounds of the plants per day.

If the wild onions grow in a small area, dig them out but do it before the small bublets form or your task will be multiplied.

Southwest Florida is the only place in North America where orchids may be grown out of doors all year around.

Halt Scale Before It Multiplies

Home gardners need to take precautionary measures against an insect called euonymus scale to avoid serious damage to evergreens and deciduous varieties of euonymus.

"This is the time of year when this pest can cause considerable damage unless proper spraying precautions are taken," says William E. Wallner, Michigan State University entomologist. The pest can also damage bittersweet, English ivy and syringa.

The covering of the female scale is grayish-brown, elongated and about 1-16 of an inch long. The male covering is about the same length and shape, but is composed of a white, fragile, waxy substance.

Scales are generally found in twigs or upper and lower leaf surfaces. When scales are feeding, leaves turn yellow, then gray and necrotic before eventually dropping.

Crawlers of the enonymus scale hatch from eggs beneath the female scale in early June. After emergence, crawlers settle primarily on the end-most plant parts and suck fluids from the plant.

"Summer insecticidal sprays will effectively control the crawler stage of euonymus scale — providing they are applied at the proper time," says the MSU entomologist. "To obtain the best results in timing sprays, observe the plants for the presence of the motile crawlers.

"Then apply the spray, making sure to obtain coverage of both the upper and lower leaf surfaces. This is particularly critical on plants utilized as ground covers."

Wallner says home gardners should mix two tablespoons of 57 per cent malathion emulsion together with four tablespoons of 25 per cent DDT emulsion in three gallons water. These dosages in 100 gallons of water are one quart and two quarts, respectively.

A follow-up spray in 10-14 days may be necessary to control crawlers

As Far Back as 3,000 B.C.

Living Fences Popular

Plants have been used for living fences as far back as 3,000 B.C., when they were used by the Egyptians, and perhaps earlier.

Today they have many more uses, as population has grown.

Evergreens make a year-round screen. They can be tall or short as desired.

Tall evergreen fences may be used to cut off cold winds. They may be planted in such a way to "trap" the sun, making an area warmer during cool spring or fall days; or, in semi-tropical areas they can shut off the sun in the late afternoon.

★ ★ ★

It all depends on where they are located.

FLOWERING FENCES

Flowering fences of deciduous plants, such as Roses, Forsythia, Lilacs, Hibiscus, Oleander, or evergreen Camellias, Azaleas and many others provide beautiful dividing lines between properties, and are admired as much by one's neighbor as by oneself.

Taxus, or Yew, Podocarpus make excellent fences. Taxus is the deepest green of all evergreens and it will keep its color all year. Ilex also makes a fine fence. There are many others.

For a barrier fence, Barberry, Buckthorn, Holly, Roses will serve. Check with nurserymen to find a fence which serves your purpose best.

★ ★ ★

Plant fences are much lower in cost than metal fencing or wood.

If care is used to select the plant which, at maturity, will be at the height you desire, you'll be better pleased.

Plant fences require no painting. Some, like Barberry, or Taxus, require almost no maintenance whatever.

Ten Ideas for Home Landscaping

Ten tips for better home landscaping are listed below.

- Study what you want from observation of other well-landscaped properties.

Once you have what you want fixed in your mind, consult a prominent landscape nurseryman for a specific plan for your own property.

- Get the whole family in on what you want your garden living to achieve.

The nurseryman will tell you what and where to plant.

- Good landscaping enhances the beauty of your whole property by "tying" the house to ground and supplying a lovely "natural setting" that will please your neighbors as well as you.

See that this is achieved as it will be a delight for you and your family for many years.

- Plant in gentle curves. Avoid straightline planting, in most cases.
- Try to get variety of form and color in your plants.

You want evergreens for winter color, as well as different leaf textures and barks.

- Obtain privacy with your plants by installing varieties which screen off any views you don't wish.
- Many shrubs or trees such as roses and camellias provide cut flowers for the home.

Plant at least some of these, according to your climate.

- Annuals and perennials can be used advantageously for brilliant colors and cut flowers.
- Consider ground cover plants for sloped areas where grass may be difficult to cut.
- Good taste is very important in landscaping.

It should accentuate the better architectural lines of the house, obscure any poor lines that might exist.

Don't overplant. There's a happy medium. Allow for plants to grow in size.

Container Garden Will Please Dad

Give Dad his own personal container garden.

A new favorite is the professionally grown combination of compatible foliage or flowering plants in large 14- to 16-inch clay pots, with matching clay saucers.

It's best not to try to grow your own combinations, unless you're an expert, because the pros know best which types of plants like the same kind of "togetherness" in a single large container.

Shield Cauliflower With Leaf Bonnet

Keep tabs on the cauliflower heads.

If you want them to be snowy white at maturity, the leaves should be pulled up around the curds as soon as they reach silver dollar size.

★ ★ ★

Fastening the leaves in place isn't always easy and you may need someone to help, but tie them together with raffia, straw or soft twine, tightly enough to keep off sun, but loosely enough to prevent collection of moisture and to allow air to enter.

Plant Likes Sun 'n' Shade

Clematis likes its head in the sun and its roots in the shade.

If your garden is new and you don't have any neighboring plants or shrubs to provide the shade, cut out both ends of a coffee can or snip a strip of aluminum edging and sink in the ground, leaving approximately three inches exposed.

★ ★ ★

This will cast enough shadow to keep the plant's roots cool.

Flowers and shrubs mulched in the spring will keep the soil cooler during the summer, save moisture, prevent crusting of the soil and control weeds.

Tree Gives More Than Shadiness

Look for more than shade when you plant a tree, warns C. E. Lewis, Michigan University horticulturist.

A tree could be planted for the beauty of its bark, alone. The Paper Bark Maple peels and curls like a Birch but in orange and red. The beauty of the Amur Cork lies in the rugged coarseness of its bark.

Trees may be chosen for their pattern and texture against the sky, he continued.

They may be set so that the pattern of branching indicates circulation or gives subconscious direction to the passer-by. The angle of branching from the trunk is another area of beauty, clumping or clustering of foliage, another.

A massive tree trunk can give stability to a planting, he suggested.

A tree maybe chosen for its unusual fruit which becomes a red-purple in fall.

You can find many forms of the same tree, Lewis said. The White Pine, for instance, can be found with narrow head or with globe head as well as in its usual contour.

Many trees, he added, can be pruned to take desired shapes or forms.

Director Honored by Campers

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

Scattered across this broad land are many boys and girls who had their first communion with the world of gardens, forests and lakes under the guidance of "Mandy."

* * *

Mandy is Abraham Mandelstam, who 55 years ago put behind him a teaching career in New York City and trekked into for boys at Bear Lake, Harrison. Years later he established Camp Hiawatha for girls on Stanley Pond in Kezar Falls, Maine.

Both camps were noted for beautiful gardens. It was through gardens that I came to know and admire Mandy, for whom former campers recently gave a testimonial dinner at the Hotel Astor in New York.

Mandy is one of the oldest active camp operators. His boys and girls came from all parts of the country.

* * *

It was during World War II. The telephone rang in my office and a clipped voice asked if I would like a story. Of course!

CROPS THREATENED

Mandy related that vegetable crops were threatened because there were not enough hands to harvest them. His young charges had volunteered to go to the rescue. They worked many hours, free, to save peas, beans and other vegetables.

This was the beginning of an enduring friendship. It has not been unusual to get long distance telephone calls, generally at 6 or 7 a.m. on my day off from work.

After he states his business, he never fails to inquire politely if he has awakened me. His aim always has been to get things done as early as possible.

* * *

Mandy's friends, many prominent in music, theater and sports, often visited his gardens.

Once I saw a little girl helping the renowned pianist, Josef Hoffman, wash his hair beside the lake.

There was an anguished telephone call one morning. Drought and a blight struck one of Hiawatha's gardens. Camp was scheduled to open in three days. What can we do about it?

* * *

We scoured greenhouses, found hundreds of plants in pots and flats, hired a big truck and a gardener and 24 hours before camp opened the garden had an air of permanence.

Hundreds of former campers honored Mandy. The steering committee was headed by Si Fabian (Stanley Warner Theaters).

The committee included Judge Charles E. Wyzanski Jr., chairman; the Loesser brothers, Frank and Arthur, both composers; historian Richard B. Morris.

Tomato Rot; Water Lack

That scourge of tomatoes, called blossom end rot, is not a plant disease. It is caused by an uneven water supply to the fruits.

* * *

To avoid the trouble with your tomatoes, water the plants deeply once a week if weather is dry, and mulch over the ground with any convenient material, like dried grass clippings, an inch deep immediately after watering.

This mulch or covering will help keep the soil more evenly moist during the time between soakings.

Toad Motel Licks Insect Problem

For a garden free of insect pests a toad is the cheapest insect killer you can get.

* * *

Toads will be happy in a shady part of your garden if you provide homes of 8-inch clay pots with a small portion of their walls knocked out to provide an entrance.

* * *

Since they absorb water through their skins, the toads will also need water proof clay saucers in their shady retreats.

* * *

One toad can account for as many as 10,000 cutworms, slugs and other pests over a summer.

At the United Nations, one of the most awe-inspiring landmarks in New York, stands the All-America Rose Garden which was planted to symbolize the aims of the world organization.

Shoe Corsage Fashionable for Evening Wear

Are conventional corsages losing popularity?

A new Manhattan flower shop says they are. For instance, reports Clinton Lindley, there is the shoe corsage, very chic, always worn on the left foot, and recommended for cocktail and late evening occasions.

Then there are special floral arrangements for the hair, to harmonize with the hair styling. Some look like hats of living flowers.

Something different suggested for the bride is a dainty bo-peep cane garlanded in colorful flowers — or just a single flower to be carried.

* * *

Floral fashions for men also change. For instance a boutonniere of mixed foliage, a blend of green leaves with no flower. The green foliage is considered appropriate with formal evening attire.

Marigolds Inhibit Nematode Insects

Does the popular marigold help control weeds, nematodes and other garden pests?

Dave Burpee, a staunch booster of the marigold, says scientific research and observation by horticulturists in this country, England and the Netherlands seem to show that the annual flowering plant has a "salutory effect on the growth of other plants around it."

In tests at an English research station, Burpee reported, starchy-rooted weeds and nematodes within a three-foot range of marigolds were drastically reduced

"Many questions remain unanswered," Burpee added.

"Enough is known, however, to give gardeners a sporting chance of exterminating weeds (with marigolds) that they cannot kill in other ways."

In the book, "Gardening Without Poisons," Beatrice Trum Hunter said the root exudates of certain marigolds "show promise against certain nematodes (a microscopic insect) that attack potatoes and strawberries as well as against wilts of potatoes and tomatoes."

One Dutch nurseryman reported he could defeat certain bulb-attacking nematodes by planting American marigolds (Tagesta erecta) before planting his narcissus bulbs.

Another nurseryman said that interplanting roses with marigolds helped restore strength to roses damaged by nematodes.

The marigold also was reported helpful in inhibiting wireworms, bindweed, ground ivy and ground elder — and in regenerating depleted soil.

And for the benefit of gardeners who would like to do their own testing, marigolds may be planted in the open as soon as the ground has become warm.

Mulch Gardens for Convenience

A mulch is any material that is applied to the surface of the soil around plants to help keep down weeds, avoid erosion and conserve moisture.

It's a must for anyone who wants a fine garden.

Straw is the most suitable material for a mulch and should be about six inches deep when first applied.

Never apply a mulch too early in the spring or the ground will be kept to cool and plants won't grow.

Calceolarias Prefer Air-Cooled Rooms

Ideal for your air-conditioned rooms this summer are such colorful house plants as cyclamens, cinerarias and calceolarias.

They like it cool at night, an important reason why they thrive better in clay pots, which keep roots from 10 to 15 degrees cooler than non-porous containers.

Giant Shade Trees Belong to the Past

The giant shade trees which arch Michigan's city streets and walks will be "a thing of the past"—replaced by shade of lesser stature—within a few generations, a national shade authority said at Michigan State University.

"Today's towering shade trees were planted under conditions favorable for their growth," said John Michalko, Cleveland Commissioner of Trees.

"We no longer plan for trees to live 50, 60, or 100 years," he continued. "If we get 25 to 30 years growth from them we feel satisfied."

Even in Cleveland, which was once known as "The Forest City" and which spends half a million dollars a year on street shade, lack of space, obstructions such as concrete and utilities above and below the ground, the reflected heat of pavement, plus damage, soot and gas from automobiles, as well as disease and insects, are greatly reducing the life-span of trees, he said.

* * *

Providing shade for city streets is a never-ending job.

FULLTIME STAFF

It requires a fulltime department staffed by skilled employes. Cleveland removes more than 4,000 old or undesirable trees each year, replaces some 4,000 of them, he explained.

The city has tested more than 100 species of trees to find those best suited for specific conditions and needs.

"Trees are a community's greatest asset," Michalko declared. "Cities are known by their trees."

* * *

Life and growth of city shade trees, he said, can be increased through the selection of proper trees and by "building-up" growing conditions within the city's confines.

African Violet

A pest that resembles a tiny white pebble and attacks the roots of African violet plants now is under study in the entomology department at Pennsylvania State University, supported by a grant from the African Violet Society of America.

The pest has appeared in the eastern United States during the past two or three years and first was described as a species about five years ago.

Lodge, Taylor Use Different Techniques in Viet

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Malcolm W. Browne, Pulitzer prize-winning correspondent for the Associated Press, has covered the war in Viet Nam for nearly four years and knows both Henry Cabot Lodge and Maxwell D. Taylor well.)

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge is known in Saigon as a specialist in big decisions and cliff-hanging political gambles.

Maxwell D. Taylor, the general Lodge preceded as ambassador to South Viet Nam and now is replacing, has established a reputation as a painstaking administrator, a builder of organization with a keen eye for detail.

* * *

Taylor and Lodge both are tall men in their early 60s. Both are nonsmokers. Both have spent much of their lives in public life. But the similarities end there.

Big changes in the conduct of American affairs in Viet Nam are likely.

BITTER ENEMIES

During his nine months here in 1963-64, Lodge made many friends and some bitter enemies among the Vietnamese. Under his stewardship, American policy helped trigger the bloody revolution of Nov. 1, 1963, which overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The survivors of the Ngo family denounced Lodge as the archenemy of Viet Nam.

* * *

On the other hand, Lodge became a national hero for many other Vietnamese, particularly those who hated the Diem dictatorship.

He tried to crystallize a stable government out of the chaos of the coup, working closely with the military chief of state, Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh and the civilian prime minister, Nguyen Ngoc Tho.

BLOODLESS COUP

The Minh-Tho government collapsed, and a bloodless coup swept Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh into power in January 1964. Lodge backed Khanh completely, serving as Khanh's personal political adviser and chief campaign manager.

Lodge felt a key part of winning the war in Viet Nam was to get the political allegiance of the people for their government. He saw the problem in terms of political stumping and used to say that what was most needed were old-fashioned, American-style political ward heelers.

* * *

Lodge was disliked by many U.S. officials here. They felt he brought in too many of his own staff to replace Saigon veterans and reserved all important decisions to himself. Some felt that let the over-all situation deteriorate because of lack of attention to detail.

Others felt that American policy had been bogged down in detail for many years and Lodge was the man to cut through the bureaucracy and find sweeping solutions.

NEW TECHNIQUE

Taylor brought an entirely new technique. He built up every U.S. agency and broadened the responsibilities of all his subordinates. Most official Americans in Viet Nam liked Taylor much better than Lodge even though Taylor insisted on longer working hours.

But the Vietnamese political situation deteriorated during Taylor's tenure.

Khanh was faced with rioting and upheaval. His relations with Taylor were poor.

Taylor's relations with the young generals under Khanh also were cool.

"He treats us like junior officers in his own army rather than leaders of our nation," one complained.

TOSSED OUT

Khanh was thrown out.

Tran Van Huong, the civilian premier, tried to govern, and Taylor supported him. But political forces were too great for Huong, and he was thrown out.

* * *

Phan Huy Quat, another civilian, became premier. He also tried hard to govern, and he also had Taylor's best support.

But Quat also was forced to give up, turning the whole government back to the military.

* * *

The military this time was led by Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, 34, commander of the air force and one of the "Young Turks" who had quarrelled with Taylor earlier.

* * *

Ky has been in office as premier only a few weeks, but perhaps Ky and Lodge will be better friends.

Politics Key to Viet Win?

Kennedy Makes Plea for 'De-Escalation'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy said today that victory in a war of insurgency "is won not by escalation, but by de-escalation."

"Where the needs and grievances of the people begin to be met by the political process, insurgency loses its popular character and becomes a police problem — as it did in Venezuela and Colombia, in the Philippines and Malaya," the New York Democrat said.

Kennedy made these statements, in a speech prepared for a rather special audience — the graduating class of the International Police Academy, which trains foreigners to deal with guerrilla warfare, Communist infiltration and other forms of aggression.

He was speaking in the context of what these men might face when they returned to their own countries, many of them in Latin America.

* * *

In one passage, not mentioning Viet Nam specifically, Kennedy said "Suppose, for example, that a government force is fired upon from a village, or that rebels have forced the village to fly the insurgent flag. A government which attacks that village from the air, or with heavy artillery, abandons all pretense of protecting the people of the village — abandons the first duty of any government worthy of the name.

FALSE PROMISE

"If all a government can promise its people, in response to insurgent activity, is 10 years of napalm and heavy artillery, it will not be a government for long."

At another point Kennedy said "It is sometimes said that political methods are ineffective against terrorists — as in Viet Nam, where the Viet Cong have cruelly assassinated over 16,000 local officials. But even the use of terror is limited by political considerations — and can be sharply limited by political action . . .

". . . No matter what assistance they receive from outside, however, insurgents stand or fall on their political success. Without popular support, they become conventional invaders—and can be dealt with by conventional means.

* * *

"I think the history of the last 20 years demonstrates beyond doubt that our approach to revolutionary war must be political — political first, political last, political always."

* * *

In another place, the brother of the late President John F. Kennedy said "guns and bombs cannot build — cannot fill empty stomachs or educate children, cannot build homes or heal the sick. But these are the ends for which men establish and obey governments: they will give their allegiance only to governments which meet these needs."

Pianist to Open Tour

Some Gains Become Losses

Early Market Advance Fades

NEW YORK (AP) — Some of the starch went out of the stock market advance early this afternoon.

The market opened with a continuation of the rally that sent the list to a sharp gain yesterday afternoon. Trading at the outset was active.

* * *

But prices began to fade and some gains were turned into losses.

Changes of most key issues were fractional with a few running to a point or so.

Republic Aviation advanced more than a point after announcement that Fairchild-Hiller Corp. had offered $40.4 million for its operating assets.

TWA gained more than 2 points.

Steels, rubbers, aircrafts, electronics, utilities, nonferrous metals, rails, oils, airlines and drugs posted small gains.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was up 1.3 to 323.8 with industrials up 1.4, rails up .6 and utilities up 1.2.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon had risen 1.81 to 879.66 after having been up nearly 3 earlier.

Jones & Laughlin advanced more than a point while Bethlehem and Republic were ahead fractionally. U. S. Steel was unchanged.

General Motors and Ford Motor were down a minor fraction.

International Harvester and Caterpillar gained about half a point.

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. National Video advanced more than 2 points. Gaining a point or more were Computer Sciences, Padding, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, Syntex and Xtra. Carnation lost nearly 2 points.

New Violence in Bogalusa

White Is Shot When He Attacks Negroes

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — A new racial crisis gripped Bogalusa today in the wake of violence in which a white man was shot when he attacked Negroes in a civil rights march.

Thomas D. Burbank, chief of the State Police, said 200 troopers had joined the 36-man city police force in a special alert.

* * *

The wounded man, Alton D. Crowe Jr., 25, of Pearl River, La., was in "satisfactory" condition at a hospital in New Orleans, some 65 miles to the south.

Two Negroes arrested after the shooting were held in an undisclosed jail for investigation of aggravated battery. They are Henry Austin, 21, and Milton Johnson, 26, both of Bogalusa.

TELLS RALLY

The president of the Bogalusa Civic and Voters League, A.Z. Young, told a rally Thursday night that demonstrations will continue but that the league "is nonviolent and is going to stay that way."

* * *

The heavily guarded Negro rally overflowed a small church. Militant segregationists held an opposing rally across town in an open field at the same hour.

* * *

A speaker, J. B. Stoner of Atlanta, urged the white rally "to consider all niggers as our enemy until the battle is won." The cheering crowd, which police estimated at 1,200 to 1,500, waved Confederate flags. Rebel yells resounded.

The shooting was the most serious incident in the area since terrorists shot and killed Washington Parish's first Negro deputy sheriff, Oneal Moore, June 2.

WHITE CHARGED

A white man charged with murdering Moore is free on $25,000 bond.

Police Chief Claxton Knight said Austin admitted firing the .38 caliber bullets which felled Crowe. He was hit in the chest, with two other less serious wounds in the neck.

Knight said Crowe was unarmed. FBI agents joined police and state officers in the investigation.

* * *

Newsmen who saw the shooting said Crowe rushed in swinging his fists at the Negro men after they stopped their car to take aboard a Negro girl who had been hit by a stone while marching.

* * *

The incident came about 10 minutes after the some 400 rainsoaked marchers — most of them teen-agers — had knelt in front of the City Hall to pray for "Freedom for all."

The marchers, protected by state troopers in bright orange raincoats, were about two blocks from City Hall when shots rang out.

Truckers Nix Proposed Pact

DETROIT (AP)—Striking truck drivers rejected a proposed settlement Thursday and continued their meat delivery strike against 25 Detroit area meat suppliers.

The offer, which would have ended the three-week strike, was turned down 64-62.

"The drivers will meet again Friday to see where we are going from here," Robert Holmes, president of Teamsters Local 337, said.

Holmes said the proposed contract left three areas without solution — cost of living raises, overtime and length of contract.

Large chain stores were not affected by the strike.

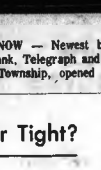
Easy or Tight?

Credit Causes Conflict

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—One of the by-products of the recent hullabaloo in the stock market is still with us: signs of an increasing conflict between the easy and tight money advocates.



DAWSON

Should the United States keep prosperity rolling by making credit abundant at low interest rates? Or should it heed past examples of overconfidence and nip a possible speculative boom to stave off a bust?

* * *

One of the reasons apparently behind the selling wave on Wall Street was fear that the Federal Reserve Board would further tighten up on credit and interest rates. And all the talk brought out the difference in opinion between Johnson administration leaders who want easy money and the Federal Reserve Board which traditionally is more cautious.

The Federal Reserve Board has tightened the money supply a little of late. But credit is still easy — as witness the steep rise in personal and business debts.

PERENNIAL DEBATE

The debate is the perennial one: Are people getting in over their depths? Would a marked slackening in the business pace and in job opportunities, and hence in personal incomes, topple many family budgets and bring on general distress?

The administration and the board seem agreed on one thing — at the moment the economy is strong and the credit burden thus doesn't seem dangerous.

The conflict, as Wall Street sees it, is over the chancey future: Will the economy continue to expand? And at what pace?

* * *

Steady and moderate gains would seem to offer only minor problems and many wished-for benefits. But a big expansion, if based on still easier credit and still greater accumulation of personal and business debts, might lead to an overheating of the economy with an inevitable downturn ahead. And then, say the conservatives, look out for trouble among those who have piled their debts too high.

Defenders of the spread of the habit of fashioning family budgets to the ratio of monthly payments to expectable income point to the fact that personal savings have risen along with personal debts.

But the conservatives warn against generalizations. They say that many who have increased their savings may have little or no debt. And many who have taken on more installment debts may have little if any savings.

It's the latter who would be hurt if something happened to jobs and incomes.

* * *

The easy-money school argues that the best way to assure more people of having jobs and good incomes is to make credit easy enough for business to borrow to expand its activities — and for consumers to borrow to buy the goods that increased industrial activity will offer.

TRADERS WONDER

And that is one of the things that stock traders were wondering about: Will business go on expanding? Will employment continue to increase? Will a conflict between easy credit and tight money advocates develop and add still another uncertainty to the economic outlook?

* * *

Many are betting on the administration to win and credit to stay fairly plentiful and cheap. But some look for the Federal Reserve Board to get more worried about the size of consumer and business debts and what might happen if the economic expansion plans didn't pan out as expected.

Second Best Buick Year Seen for '65

DETROIT (AP)— Buick Division of General Motors Corp. will achieve a 1965 model run of more than 600,000 units — second best in its history—Buick General Manager Robert L. Kessler said Thursday.

Kessler, who became general manager July 1, estimated the 1965 model total at 600,148. Buick's best year was 1955 when it totaled more than 700,000 units.

* * *

The general manager said Buick sales for the first half of the year were 311,000 compared to 261,000 at June 30 last year. He said this was a 19 per cent increase.

Buick General Sales Manager Roland S. Withers reported that the division expects to sell 18,000 German-made Opel Kadetts in the U.S. this year compared with 15,000 last year.

Selling Pressure Felt in Grain Mart

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market was under light to moderate selling pressure again today and prices continued their downward trend during early transactions on the Board of Trade.

Soybeans were ¾ cent a bushel lower to ⅝ higher near the end of the first hour, July $2.84¾; new standard grade wheat ⅛ higher to ⅛ lower, July $1.42; corn ⅛ to ⅛ lower, July 1.29½; oats ⅛ to ⅛ lower, July 67¾ cents; rye ⅛ to ¼ lower, July $1.10¼.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I have just inherited 150 shares General Motors, 224 Kroger; 300 Parke, Davis; 75 Woolworth. I have a steady job in the post office paying 300 a week and I will get a pension. I have ample cash reserves. Would you advise me to sell part of the Kroger and Parke, Davis stock and invest in other good growth stocks?"

C.J.

A) Kroger—third largest food chain—after experiencing competitive pressure for some years, is now definitely on the upgrade. Earnings were at a record last year which I feel will be well surpassed in 1965. The shares have held up very well near their all-time high during the recent decline, and I would hold.

* * *

Parke, Davis is a fine, old pharmaceutical but, in my opinion, is too heavily dependent on chloromycetin — its major product—on which its basic patent expires next year. I would switch all this stock into equal dollar amounts of Merck & Company and Northern Illinois Gas.

* * *

Q) "I'm 62 years old, retired, and sick of sitting around the house. The stock market has always been my hobby and I think that I am going to start trading actively so as to give me something to think about each day. Even if I do lose a little, the action might do me a lot of good. Money is no problem and I'm not afraid to take a few losses along the way. Do you have any suggestions to make?"

L.M.

A) Normally, I would be strongly against the idea of non-professionals trading actively, but if this is the kind of therapy which will do you the most good, take a small amount of capital and go ahead.

Business Notes

Garlock, Inc., parent company of Michigan Precision Molded, Inc., of 2175 W. Maple, Commerce Township, has announced plans to build a $2.5 million plant at Gastonia, N.C.

* * *

The Gastonia plant is expected to employ 400 people when it reaches capacity production some time in 1967, according to A. J. McMullen, president of the mechanical packing company, who described it as "a necessary step to keep pace with our continuing expansion."

Learn About High School Before Entering

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.

Entering high school in September?

Plans made this summer will help you get off to a good start!

Find out all you can about the new school. Rather than worry about it all summer, you should discuss first day activities with students who attended last year.

Students who did this in the past tell me that everything went off smoothly and that they felt comfortable in the new school.

On the other hand, students who had been outstanding successes in junior high but who had failed to make advance inquiries often felt lost and uncertain.

You will not be lost in the large student body if you exert a little effort. You will meet the same small group of students every day in each of your classes. This is your chance to get acquainted. Friends are made one at a time and to have friends you must be a friend.

Almost before you are acquainted you may be confronted with choices between band, athletics, school paper, debating teams and drama. You should plan to pick one and give it a try. You can always make another choice the next semester.

Put studies first. One extracurricular activity well done is a better recommendation for college and a future job than several done in a haphazard manner.

To get off to a good start in the new school you should be working toward specific goals.

In a study of high school students it was found that those who were goal-minded in high school not only made higher grades but, in addition, those who entered college succeeded better than students with the same I.Q's who were not goal-minded.

For the first time the grades you make become part of your permanent record and will follow you the rest of your life. But, more important, the learning skills you acquire will be needed for college, on the job and for worthy use of your leisure time.

Here are some procedures that will get you off to a good start in acquiring learning skills:

- Enter each course with a firm determination to build up a background of knowledge as early as possible. The first week of school, or better still, in the weeks before the opening of school, get a preview of the organization of each course.
- Learn in class rather than postponing learning. At the first indication that you are not understanding the teacher increase your preview study for the next day's lesson. If this fails, get help from the counselor or the teacher.
- Review often rather than just before tests. Thinking about what you are learning fixes the knowledge in your memory.

If this doesn't work contact me through the Pontiac Press. No one has reported failure to date.

Opening lead—♦ 2

By JACOBY & SON

The most important thing to remember about Blackwood, Gerber, Stayman, the Jacoby transfer or any other artificial convention is that much of the time you get on better without using it.

South is certainly interested in a slam after his partner raises his opening two diamond bid but South is far more interested in finding out about trump support and the heart suit than about kings. He knows about the aces because he is looking at all four of them.

Hence South rebids to three hearts and North shows his heart fit by raising to four. At this point, South plans to go to six or seven and continues his investigation by bidding four spades. North has nothing more to show at this time and just goes back to five diamonds, whereupon South bids six clubs.

This puts matters squarely up to North. He reviews the bidding and notes that his partner is trying for a grand slam. He also notes that his partner's first cue bid was in hearts. Obviously his partner's longest side was hearts and the king-queen and jack of hearts would have to be worth their weight in gold. He jumps to seven diamonds.

South is about ready to claim seven when East discards a club on the first trump lead. South stops a while and then sees that he must ruff out dummy's two losing clubs in his own hand before pulling trumps.

He cashes the ace of clubs at trick two, enters dummy with a heart, ruffs a club with the ace of trumps, leads the eight of trumps to dummy's nine, ruffs the last club with the king of trumps, overtakes his ten of trump with dummy's jack, pulls West's last trump with dummy's last trump and discards his losing spade. Then he shows his hand and claims the balance.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

East	South	West	North
1 ♦	Dble	2 ♦	2 ♣
Pass	?

You, South, hold: ♠ A Q 7 6 ♥ K J 7 5 ♦ 3 2 ♣ K 9 4

What do you do?

A—Pass. You are tempted to bid three spades but your double is too minimum.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of responding one spade to your double your partner jumps to two spades. What do you do now?

Rain, Storms in Parts of U.S.

3 Children Killed by Fallen Power Line

By the Associated Press

More rain fell in sections of the Midwest and Southeast today after another outbreak of stormy weather in many areas.

In the Midwest, tornadoes, heavy rain and strong winds hit areas in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Montana, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois. Heavy rain doused sections of Georgia, Alabama and Florida.

In Savannah, Ga., three children were electrocuted during a heavy rainstorm when one of them tried to open a gate on a wire fence electrified by a broken 4,000-volt power line. The other two children apparently were killed as they ran into their stricken playmate.

Tornadoes swept areas near Green Bay and Lake Winnebago, Wis., Grand Forks, N.D., and in Carver County near Minneapolis. Funnel clouds were sighted in areas in Minnesota, near Fort Myers, Fla., and Nashville, Tenn.

THREE INJURED

Three persons were injured in the tornado and severe storms which battered suburban areas of Minneapolis. Winds up to 98 m.p.h. lashed Scott County, causing property damage. Six airplanes, valued at $60,000 to $75,000, were destroyed at an airport near Shakopee.

Strong winds also whipped areas in Iowa and Illinois, with gusts up to 60 m.p.h. at Moline, Ill., and 50 at Mason City, Iowa. Power failures were reported in many parts of the Midwest storm belt.

* * *

More than 1¼ inches of rain fell in a six-hour period at Birmingham, Ala. Earlier more than two inches of rain doused the Orlando, Fla., area.

In other parts of the nation light rain sprinkled the northern and eastern Rockies and a thunderstorm swept the Dalhart, Tex., area.

Hot weather continued Thursday in western Oklahoma, central and western Texas, southern parts of New Mexico and Arizona, the southern tip of Nevada and southeastern California. The mercury again climbed above 100 degrees. California reported the highest and lowest early morning temperatures — 91 at Needles, in the desert region and 42 at Arcata.

95-Year-Old Woman Has Reelection Habit

ST. JOHNSVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — When it comes to reelection, few can top the record of Ella May Walrath, 95, who has just been elected to her 65th term as president of a woman's club here. She also is serving a seven-year term as trustee of a community library with the term not expiring until she reaches the age of 101.

Meany Feud With Union Group Goes to Floor at World Confab

AMSTERDAM (AP)—A long-simmering feud between President George Meany of the AFL-CIO and the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions hit the floor of the confederation's eighth World Congress today.

Meany said in an interview yesterday that about $2.5 million earmarked for assistance to developing countries, was diverted by confederation headquarters to "funds with wrong names."

Taking the rostrum, Dick Roemers, leader of the Dutch trade Confederation, brought up Meany's charge and said the AFL-CIO official "bears a heavy responsibility for the consequences."

"Let Brother Meany come to the floor or to the congress committee, and then the general secretary (Omar Becu of Belgium) will have to answer his criticism," Roemers said.

Meany then took the floor and said the money he referred to was the total of unspent funds of the international solidarity fund. Ten national trade union federations, including AFL-CIO, contribute to this fund to assist developing nations.

GENERAL FUND

Meany said that the interest on the unspent funds went to the confederation's general fund.

I've made no serious charge," he said. "I said that they took this money and immobilized it. I want to make it clear that we in the AFL-CIO want this organization to succeed."

* * *

Behind the dispute is Meany's charges that the Brussels-based confederation is an ineffective bureaucracy, having failed in Africa and being soft on communism. Meany has toned down some of his charges, but the dispute still is going on.

Police Find Crook Nailed

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — Joseph Gately, 25, was truly "nailed" on a burglary charge here.

A passerby heard a cry for help from the roof of a cocktail bar and called police. The officers climbed to the roof and discovered Gately wedged some three feet down in a vent, with his legs dangling inside the bar.

He was impaled on some nails and unable to move.

7 Youngsters Die in Blaze

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Seven sleeping children — the oldest 10 years old — died early today in a fire at their home in Jerseyville. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Taul, were the only survivors.

Jersey County Coroner Rodney Jacoby said six of the children were trapped upstairs in the two-story brick house and died of suffocation. The seventh, Paul Jerome Jr., 1, was on the first floor. His death was caused by suffocation and severe burns.

* * *

The other children were Susan Valerie, 10; Joyce Marie, 8; six-year-old twins Patricia Ellen and Michael John; Jeffrey Allen, 3, and Clara Elizabeth, 2.

Taul, 33, who was burned, tried to break down a door to get to the baby, but was forced back by flames.

Fire Destroys Shell of Home; $14,000 Damage

A midday fire yesterday destroyed the shell of a house under construction in Bloomfield Township, causing damage estimated at $14,000.

* * *

Firemen have not yet determined how the blaze started.

The house was being built on Sedgefield in Fox Hills Subdivision, at the southeast corner of Opdyke and South Boulevard.

* * *

Construction workers for Sullivan-Smith Inc. of Dearborn had left the site about an hour before the fire was reported.

There is a state organization of the LAUPA with chapters in Adrian, Detroit, Ecorse, Flint, Lansing, and Jackson.

The new chapter covers communities around Pontiac as far as Capac, Mt. Clemens, Utica and Rochester.

U. S. Physical Fitness Leader Expires at 50

MISHAWAKA, Ind. (AP) — Joe Barnowski, cited last April by President Johnson as one of 12 top physical fitness leaders nationally, died Thursday of a heart attack at his home.

Baranowski, 50, a plant guard at the Dodge Mfg. Co., had received several awards for his physical fitness work with Mishawaka youth.

Arabian Student Killed

HILLSDALE (AP) — A Hillsdale College exchange student from Saudi Arabia, Nabil Ahmad Al-Khalid, 19, died Thursday when he was thrown from a car after the auto hit a hole in a Hillsdale road.

Latin Strife Solution Near?

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Rebel and junta leaders are reported near agreement on a compromise provisional government that could end the Dominican political crisis.

★ ★ ★

Rebel Leader Col. Francisco Caamano Deno said in a broadcast Thursday night that parties backing his movement had met and "interesting points were dealt with that start us on the road toward a practical solution" to the Dominican crisis.

Rebel sources said the pro-Castro 14th of June movement attended the meeting and agreed tentatively to Hector Garcia Godoy as president of the provisional government. Under a peace plan proposed by the Organization of American States, it would serve until elections in six to nine months.

ACCEPTANCE?

The junta reportedly has agreed also to accept Garcia Godoy, foreign minister under ex-President Juan Bosch, in whose name the rebellion was staged April 24.

"We are closer than we have ever been before to a solution," said an OAS source, "But until there is one, anything can go wrong."

New Orleans Girl Passes Crisis in Kidney Transfer

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Little Jonnie Gail Honeycutt passed the day of crisis Thursday with no sign her body was attempting to reject the kidney transplanted from her father.

Rejection often occurs a week after such surgery. Members of Tulane's transplant team, which performed the operation July 1, were reported unofficially to be well pleased with the progress made by the 13-year-old Anniston, Ala., blonde.

One medical authority said, however, at least 40 days would have to elapse before it could be felt that the girl was safe as far as rejection is concerned.

John H. Honeycutt, 48, who donated one of his kidneys in an attempt to save his daughter's life, was unofficially reported out of danger.

Hospital authorities were not certain when he would be released but they believed it would be soon.

Movie Kissing Specialist Is in Love With Her Work

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—HELP!

Today I was going to write something uplifting and reformist in tone. Just for the readers who think the Sinatras, Burtons and Brandos aren't exemplary types . . . it would be a moralistic essay, sort of a sermon.

WILSON

So I picked out a beautiful 25-year-old Hollywood blonde TV and movie actress, Sally Kellerman, who was brought up in a religious family.

★ ★ ★

"You've come to the wrong woman today," Sally said. "I don't find it sordid for actors and actresses to do all this kissing on the screen. I enjoy it! One week of kissing my leading man and I'm in love with him. I can't wait to get to work. All of a sudden, 6 o'clock in the morning doesn't seem early, and I'm thinking how much fun work's going to be today!"

"Please now, Sally," I begged, "I wanted you to say just the opposite. You don't mean you're really in love with your leading man in one week?"

"It feels real to me! I give it everything I've got." Sally noticed my discomfort and patted my hand as we sat in Lindy's. I was supposed to be the minister patting her hand but she reversed it, knowing I felt sad about failing as a reformer.

★ ★ ★

"But Sally"—I decided to try another way—"most actresses tell me they don't like love scenes, because they're worrying about camera angles and scene stealing."

"I think those ladies aren't very good actresses!" Sally said. "They've only been about two men I didn't enjoy having love scenes with. They didn't do their part. It takes two to tango."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Although Betty Grable is supposed to star in "Hello, Dolly!" at the Las Vegas Riviera, the deal hasn't been completed (and Dinah Shore may be doing it, in the fall) . . . It'll be David Niven opposite Kim Novak in the film "Day of the Arrow" (instead of her husband Richard Johnson, as reported) . . . Eddie Fisher's date at the Arthur discotheque was model Deanna Lambert.

Angie Dickinson, movie-making in L.A., flew to London last week to visit groom Burt Bacharach; this week he's flying to L.A. for two days to see her . . . Sammy Davis signed a three-year deal with Harrah's in Lake Tahoe (a 20-week minimum at 40Gs per) . . . a Hollywood producer, feuding with one of his handsome male stars, refers to him as "a complete jerk."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Keep quiet and people will think you are a philosopher."—Italian proverb.

EARL'S PEARLS: Love is the same old game it was 10,000 years ago, except that diamonds have replaced clubs.—Quote.

Living in a cave has its advantages: The elevator never gets stuck, you don't have to wash windows, and there's nobody living downstairs to complain about noisy parties . . . That's earl, brother.

African Potters Revive Ancient Art of Ceramics

WASHINGTON — African craftsmen, long famous for their starkly primitive tribal masks and statues, are now being praised for their pottery.

European ceramic experts watching women potters in the West African Republic of Dahomey described them as "extraordinarily skillful" despite loss of techniques and the lack of formal training.

To halt the total decline of the indigenous pottery industry there, the International Labor Office sent a French master-ceramist, Francois Coustere, to Dahomey.

Coustere hopes to organize modern cooperatives to train more potters and adjust current production to supply a growing demand locally and abroad.

Prior to European colonization, many West Africans placed great importance in the potter's product, the National Geographic Society says. In pottery dwelled the local spirits or household gods.

USED IN RITUALS

Special pots in the shape of mushrooms and discs held magical ointments and liquid to use in tribal rituals.

So-called face-pots had a top in the shape of an animal or human being; often the entire container suggested a full figure.

Witch doctors apparently believed they could transfer illnesses from the sick to the face-pots.

The wealthiest households usually had the most beautiful and elaborate pots.

FANCY DECORATIONS

Some had fancy handles and embellished edges. Others were decorated with spirally wound wire bangles, string, or beads. Potters used a sharp-edged stylus to cut patterns around a bottle's neck or painted geometric designs on the side.

Nowadays, few West Africans believe their gods dwell in cooking pots. However, tribes without tin cans, paper bags, or glass bottles, still depend on clay containers to do a host of jobs.

Pottery jugs and bowls are used in carrying, preparing, cooking, and preserving food; in storing water, grain, and dried fish; and in brewing a favorite beverage, millet beer.

There is even an earthenware pan for frying eggs.

MOLD CLAY

Potters still mold and fire clay to make oil lamps, tobacco pipes, drain pipes, ink bottles, toys, and amulets.

Pottery making in some parts of Africa is a rather exclusive craft practiced by a small group of potters who tend to function like a medieval guild. They pass their skills from one generation to the next.

Among the Wabena of Tanganyika, pottery making is a pleasant social activity. On appointed days, women free of household chores gather under a grass shelter to roast ears of corn, drink beer, and fashion wet clay into functional water jugs.

Fares Signal Wrong Turn

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP)—Three passengers assured David Hagar, cabdriver, they would tell him which way to go in the predawn darkness when it was raining so hard that Hagar's windshield wiper was doing little good.

At one corner, a passenger said to Hagar "turn here." Hagar did. Pulled out of the water, he learned he had driven his cab down Cutting Boulevard's boat ramp into the bay. The passengers sloshed ashore without paying.

Tips on UHF ANTENNA INSTALLATION
WE HAVE FOUND THAT:
★ VHF Antennas are generally not satisfactory for UHF Reception.
★ Although indoor UHF Antennas may work, a good outdoor UHF type will provide clear, stable pictures.
★ Separate lead-in wires from each antenna are far superior to combination UHF-VHF Antennas with one lead-in.
★ Low-loss UHF special type lead-in wire is superior to the ordinary flat type wire.
★ Some types of 2-set couplers will not pass UHF signals, only certain brands are acceptable.
SEE YOUR TESA OF OAKLAND COUNTY SERVICE DEALER WHEN PLANNING A UHF or VHF ANTENNA INSTALLATION.

Murder-Kidnap Suspects Surrender

Lodge Named Viet Envoy

Taylor Resigns as Ambassador

No Change in U. S. War Strategy Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has named Republican Henry Cabot Lodge, an outspoken supporter of Johnson's Vietnamese war policies, for a second tour as ambassador to South Viet Nam.

See Story, Page C-10

Administration officials insisted that the switch from Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, who is resigning, to Lodge would mean no change in U.S. policies or major war strategy. Lodge left the Saigon post just a year ago.

Lodge and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will fly to Saigon next Wednesday for a week-long round of conferences with Taylor and American and Vietnamese officials.

This reassessment of the progress of the war could produce some new ideas, but officials here said the main purpose was to make Lodge fully acquainted with all the problems and personalities involved before he takes over.

The White House announced yesterday Taylor's resignation and the President's selection of Lodge and released a "Dear Max" letter from Johnson to Taylor saying: "We shall miss you, but no man has more fully earned the right to meet his personal obligations."

BACKED SCRANTON

Taylor, 63, succeeded Lodge in June 1964 when Lodge resigned as ambassador to return to the United States and work for the nomination of Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania as Republican candidate for president. The nomination went to Barry Goldwater.

Johnson drafted Gen. Taylor from the position he then held as chairman of the Joint HOSTAGES HOME — California State Finance Director Hale Champion holds his baby daughter as he and his wife leave an airplane in Sacramento, Calif. The trio had been held hostage by two gunmen who were captured at the California-Nevada border today.

Pair Gives Up Meekly After 3-Day Chase

Caught on California Border; All Hostages Released Unharmed

TONOPHA, Nev. (AP) — Two Oregon murder-kidnap suspects threw away their pistols and surrendered meekly to highway patrolmen today, ending a crime spree which police say included a bank robbery, the slaying of a deputy sheriff, and kidnaping of nine persons.

The dramatic three-day chase from Oregon, through Northern California and into Nevada, ended at 3:37 a.m. when two California highway patrolmen spotted the fugitives near the Benton agricultural inspection station on the California-Nevada state line.

Ex-convicts Wilbur Marion Grey, 30, a native of Brunswick, Ga., and Carl Cletes Bowles, 24, Amarillo, Tex., surrendered without resistance.

Their arrests came little more than an hour after they had released the last two of their hostages, Marie Champion and her 19-month-old daughter.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Champion — wife of California finance director Hale Champion — described the two gunmen as "pathetic" and "really courteous all the time."

BULLET WOUND

Champion, wounded in the hip by a bullet fired by a Tonopah bystander, had been released earlier.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation took Grey and Bowles into custody and were to return them to Sacramento, Calif., for a hearing before a U.S. commissioner.

Champion, his slight flesh wound covered with two strips of tape, left by plane with his family for Sacramento.

★ ★ ★

"I've had worse treatment in the capital," he commented at planeside.

GOT EDGY

"We got edgy for a while. It looked like a stalemate for a moment," he said. Nevada Highway Patrol officers and deputies had trailed the fugitives and hostages—but kept a safe distance for fear the woman and child would be killed.

After surprising two Nevada officers who had stopped to check a car near Tonopha, Bowles and Grey commandeered the officers' car. They talked frequently with officers via the police radio in the car, and threatened to harm Mrs. Champion and the infant.

At one point they asked for safe conduct, but declined to release the hostages.

★ ★ ★

There was actual gunplay only once after Grey and Bowles were found in Nevada. It was in that exchange of fire that Champion was hurt.

HEARD SHOUTS

At 12:05 a.m. Ralph Marks, a card dealer at the Club Tonopah, heard angry shouting outside the club.

"If you don't bring sandwiches in six minutes," a voice shouted, "we're coming in shooting."

When no one moved inside the club, the man opened fire.

"I stepped outside," Marks said, "and saw a woman and a child in a car. I put three bullets in the rear seat. They were aimed at the gunman."

Marines Make Island Landing

Leathernecks Cut Off Red Raiding Party

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines made an amphibious landing on an island off their Chu Lai beachhead today and cut off a Viet Cong force that overran a Vietnamese naval headquarters, a U.S. spokesman announced.

★ ★ ★

A U.S. Navy destroyer rushed to An Hoa Island 345 miles northeast of Saigon to cut off the Reds if they tried to escape by sea.

Three U.S. Navy advisers to the Vietnamese junk fleet's division headquarters were on the island when the Communist assault began. Their fate was not known.

The spokesman said the headquarters was overrun at 5 a.m. by a surprise attack but that some of the government force escaped in their junks. He said the Viet Cong force was less than a battalion in size.

★ ★ ★

The Marines, called out for the first time to rescue a government force under attack, launched an amphibious assault in tracked landing vehicles which they brought with them when they landed in Viet Nam three months ago.

REDS CUT OFF

They reportedly sliced across a corner of the island's southeast peninsula, cutting off the Red attackers.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman refused to say how many Marines were rushed to An Hoa, explaining that the Viet Cong attack could have been a move to draw strength away from the Chu Lai beachhead prior to another attack elsewhere.

In such a case, he said, it would not be wise to disclose how many Marines were away from Chu Lai.

An Hoa Island lies less than a mile off the coast of the Marine beachhead to the south. It is easily accessible to infiltrators by way of a long neck of land running from the mainland to the island's northwest tip.

★ ★ ★

No Marines are stationed on the island, but three Marine battalions are dug in around the beachhead, which is just north of Quang Ngai, the scene of hard fighting recently.

★ ★ ★

Two Marine jet fighter squadrons are based at the Chu Lai air strip nearby.

Congress Reaction Is Mixed on Switch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Surprise, praise, criticism and outright denunciation are among the varied reactions from Congress to President Johnson's appointment of Republican Henry Cabot Lodge as ambassador to war-torn South Viet Nam.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee saw Johnson's appointment of Lodge to replace the resigning Gen. Maxwell Taylor as a possible bid for bipartisan support of administration policies in Viet Nam.

Most Democrats had high praise for the retiring Taylor, and Republicans were strong in supporting Johnson's choice of Lodge, who will be making his second tour as Viet Nam ambassador.

But Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., a strong critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policies, denounced both Taylor and Lodge and said he would debate and vote against Senate confirmation of Lodge.

Of Taylor, Morse said "Both the political and military situation has deteriorated under his ambassadorship."

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said he was perplexed by the switch in ambassadors at such a critical time in Viet Nam and wondered whether it would mean any change in U.S. firmness against Communist aggression.

Ford said Johnson owes the American people a "clear explanation."

Showers Forecast for Area Tonight

Scattered showers and thundershowers may be expected tonight and again Monday and Tuesday, the weatherman reports.

Temperatures will fall into the low 60s tonight, then climb to 73 to 80 tomorrow with skies partly overcast.

The outlook for Sunday is fair and warm.

South to southwesterly winds at 10 to 20 miles this morning will shift to north to northwesterly tonight.

The low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 69. The 1 p.m. reading was 82.

If Election Necessary

Question Need for 7th Judge

Already opposed to the addition of an eighth circuit judge, Oakland County officials are not sure they even want a seventh to fill a vacancy if it means calling a special election.

The vacancy was created last month by the death of Judge Stanton G. Dondero.

Under the new State Constitution, a vacancy on the bench can be filled in two ways. The Michigan Supreme Court can appoint a retired judge to the post, or the governor can schedule a special election.

If neither action is taken, the post remains vacant until the next general election which, in this case, would be November, 1966.

★ ★ ★

Though there are two former circuit judges presently living in Oakland County, the possibility of one of them being named is remote, according to officials.

THEY NOTE

They note that Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh recently said that it was his opinion that a retired judge is one who comes under the state retirement system.

Neither of the one-time Jurors, Goodloe Rogers and Theodore F. Hughes, qualify under that ruling.

Rogers served a 10 month term on the bench in 1935 before the retirement plan was established. Hughes, elected to a short six-month term in 1959, did not serve long enough to take advantage of the system.

★ ★ ★

Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the county board of auditors, said that if a judge wasn't appointed he would oppose a special election this year because of the cost. He estimated the election would cost $50,000.

SPECIAL ELECTION

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the county board of supervisors, agreed. He said that sufficient reason would have to be shown to hold the special election, and so far this hasn't been done.

Several circuit judges speaking privately, indicated that they did not favor filling the post immediately if it meant a special election was required.

They pointed out that their docket is current and more up to date than any circuit court in the state. Cases assigned to Dondero before his death have been taken over by other judges.

★ ★ ★

Presiding Judge Philip Pratt said the judges will probably meet next week to discuss what steps are to be taken regarding the vacancy and how the caseload will be handled until the matter is decided.

A bill is now before the governor for his signature that would give the county another judge by January 1967.

Nearly 5,000 Hear Symphony

More than 4,700 people attended the opening concert of the Meadow Brook Music Festival's second season last night.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Sixten Ehrling, and violinist Isaac Stern presented a program of Beethoven, Mozart, Dvorak and Ravel to a capacity audience in the Howard C. Baldwin Pavilion.

A portion of the audience sat on new permanent seats, made possible by a grant from the Kresge Foundation, while others used folding chairs, blankets and mats they rented at the gate.

In Trumbull Terrace, newest building on the Oakland University Festival grounds, some 800 persons ate before the concert and another 200 ate during intermission.

At the Scholar Shop, also housed in the Trumbull Terrace concertgoers browsed and bought. All proceeds from the shop go to the scholarship fund.

Christopher Jaffe, who designed the acoustical system for the Lula B. Wilson Memorial Concert Shell, came from Connecticut to reappraise the almost perfect acoustics of the shell.

SERVED AS USHERS

Members of the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and their husbands served as ushers.

Thursday night's program will be repeated tonight and a different program is scheduled for Saturday.

52 Are Killed in Canadian Plane Crash

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — A four-engined airliner carrying 52 persons exploded and crashed last night in central British Columbia. There were no survivors.

Officials said the last heard from the Canadian Pacific Airlines DC6B were three radioed cries of "May Day."

The distress calls came about 5:10 p.m., soon after the pilot, Capt. John Alfred Steele of North Vancouver, reported he was changing course slightly to avoid turbulent weather ahead.

Flight 21, carrying 46 passengers and a crew of six, was on the way from Vancouver to Whitehorse, in the Yukon Territory, when it vanished from radar screens.

★ ★ ★

The airline said all the passengers were from Canada except six.

6 FOREIGNERS

The foreigners were listed only as Mr. and Mrs. Mac Lennan of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Rognerud of Oslo, Norway, and their two children.

Ten Are Left in Battle for British Open

From Our News Wires

SOUTHPORT, England — Ten golfers remained in contention going into the final 18 holes today of the British Open championship.

Peter Thomson of Australia fired a one-under-par 72 during the first 18 holes of today's final 36-hole finish for a total of 214 and a one stroke edge over Tony Lema and Bruce Devlin.

★ ★ ★

Lema, the defending champion, and Devlin, an Australian, both fired 75s. They were the co-leaders at the end of yesterday's second round.

Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., shot a 75 and is two-strokes behind Thomson. Tied with Palmer at 216 are Christy O'Connor of Ireland and Argentina's Roberto de Vicenzo.

Tied at 217 were Australian Kel Nagle, Brian Huggett of Wales, Lionel Platts of England and Spain's Sebastian Miguel.

★ ★ ★

Christy stayed in contention with a 74 and de Vicenzo moved back to the picture by firing a 73.

School Program Planned to Fight Teen-Age Crime

Concerned with the increasing crime rate among youths, Oakland County prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson today outlined a plan to aid educators in combating teen-age delinquency.

In announcing the program, Bronson said he had appointed Bloomfield Township attorney Leonard E. Bellinson as a special prosecutor to direct the project.

Bellinson, 37, of 4925 Malibu, will meet with school officials in the near future to discuss what approaches will be taken to discourage youthful offenders.

While details of the pilot program have not been mapped, Bronson said the plan does include visits by law enforcement officials to junior and senior high schools to talk to problem children.

The prosecutor said school officials already have shown an interest in the program. Their support of the program was revealed in a questionnaire sent to every high school in the county.

LONG OVERDUE

Remarks such as "Excellent idea," and "This is long overdue," were typical of the reactions from school officials, according to Bellinson.

Bellinson, a 1951 graduate of Wayne State University, will serve without pay.

A former camp counselor, Bellinson said, "I'm no specialist and I don't pretend to be. But I am interested in the problem. I don't have all the answers. Nobody does."

Bellinson said he was alarmed over the widening gap between parents and some children.

"The only opportunity to work with these children who feel rejected at home is in the school," Bellinson added.

DEVELOP PROGRAM

"We hope to develop a program to get to these kids before they blow up."

The next step in the special project, according to Bellinson, will be a meeting with representatives of all the Oakland County schools.

This preliminary meeting will probably be held in the fall, he said, and will give officials an opportunity to suggest methods of coping with the problem.

Bronson said that he feels that this project is extremely important in view of the findings released recently by the National Council on Crime and Delinquency.

It revealed that two-thirds of all capital crimes in this country are committed by those whose average age is between 15 and 24.

* * *

"An observer in circuit court here would be shocked at the youthfulness of the defendants," said Bronson. "At least half of those arraigned in courts are 21 and under."

Lodge Named to Replace Taylor in Viet

Chiefs of Staff to succeed Lodge.

In his letter accepting the resignation Johnson said he was "bound to honor the understanding we had at the time of your initial appointment," that Taylor would serve in Saigon for about a year.

In his letter of resignation, Taylor referred to this agreement.

FELT OBLIGATED

It was understood that he felt an obligation to his wife to return to private life after 45 years of government service.

"I shall depart," Taylor wrote the President, "with the feeling that our policy is the right one and will lead to a successful conclusion if we persist with confidence and determination."

Lodge, who was at his Beverly, Mass., home when the announcement was made, said "I am deeply honored by this mark of confidence and shall spare no effort to justify it."

* * *

Lodge is 63, a former senator from Massachusetts, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations during the Eisenhower administration, and 1960 Republican vice presidential nominee.

RESUMED TIES

The late President John F. Kennedy first sent Lodge as ambassador to Saigon in July 1963. Following his return here last year and his foray into Republican politics, he resumed ties with the Johnson administration on Viet Nam.

Last February Johnson appointed him as a consultant on Vietnamese war policy and Lodge traveled around the world to develop support for the U.S.-South Vietnamese cause in other countries.

Administration officials said that Lodge, like Taylor before him, would have over-all responsibility for the conduct of U.S. policy in South Viet Nam.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Scattered showers and thundershowers are forecast tonight from the lower Lakes into New England and in parts of the northwest quarter of the nation, the middle Atlantic states, the Ohio Valley, the southern Plains and eastern Gulf Coast. It will be cooler from the Pacific northwest to the northern Plains and in the upper Lakes.

PROJECTED CAMPUS — This is what the new Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College is to look like, according to the first drawings received by college officials. Located south of I-696 and west of Orchard Lake Road in Farmington Township, the 135-acre college is slated for a fall, 1966, opening. Construction will begin this fall with the first seven buildings to cost an estimated $5.6 million. Total investment in building construction at the Orchard Ridge campus is to reach $12 million.

Hostages Describe Episode

TONOPAH, Nev. (UPI) — Hale and Marie Champion, haggard and wearing rumpled clothing, today described their 24-hour nightmare in the custody of two fugitive ex-convicts as a strange but "decent" relationship.

Champion, California's state finance director, bore two large bandages on his left leg where he was wounded during a gun battle here. But he stood easily and described the wound as minor.

"The fugitives treated us very well," Champion said. "There was no physical abuse, and they were good to the baby. In fact, they played with the baby.

"I wouldn't say they were crazy," he added. "We're all different kinds of nuts, but in a strange kind of way we had a decent relationship with them. Once they stopped and bought food, which my wife prepared while I fixed a tire."

Champion, wearing blue pants and a wrinkled white shirt, was covered with a borrowed seersucker bathrobe at Nye County Hospital here.

FELT NO HARM

His wife, Marie, in blue slacks and a red windbreaker that she had hastily thrown on when the gunmen entered their Sacramento, Calif. home early yesterday, said during their brief news conference that she thought their captors never intended to harm them.

"I felt no harm would come to us," she said, adding, "but (my) hands were trembling."

Tired but smiling, Mrs. Champion said the men were "pathetic, but very considerate. I'm grateful."

* * *

Nye County Sheriff George Barra told a different story. He said their pleas over the police radio to release the mother and infant were met with foul language and threats by the desperados.

FELT BLUFF

"They sounded very cool in the radio," he said. "But I think they were trying to bluff us."

Champion was released shortly after the gun battle in Tonopah, where he was wounded by a citizen who fired at the gunmen's car. But his wife and daughter were kept several hours longer by the pair.

Champion said the ironic part of the adventure was that "I wasn't shot by a law officer or by one of the fugitives. I was shot by a Tonopah vigilante."

* * *

Champion said the fugitives entered his family's home while they were asleep, but doubted the gunmen knew he was a state official.

ON THE RUN

"These guys were on the run, they had to have transportation and a driver, and we just drew the lucky straw," he said.

The finance director said his experience had placed him flatly behind pending legislation in Washington to restrict the sale of firearms.

"These men bought two rifles in a sporting goods store while we were with them without any trouble at all," he said. "They apparently picked up the pistols they had the same way."

Champion and his wife stressed that neither of their captors intended any harm, and kept repeating that they didn't want to hurt or kill anyone.

"I was afraid that they were under too much pressure," Champion admitted. "In this type of situation, I believe you should let the thing run its course and give them a chance to set their hostages free."

County Legal Aid Program Is Outlined

A proposed countywide legal aid program for the poor as a part of the War on Poverty was outlined yesterday by Carl F. Ingraham, chairman of the Oakland County Economic Opportunity Commission (EOC).

Designed to benefit families with annual incomes of under $3,000, the program would be an extension of present legal aid services available to indigent persons.

Ingraham outlined the proposed program at a meeting of county court representatives, county officials and representatives of United Community Services.

He suggested establishing two legal aid offices, in Pontiac and Royal Oak Township, at the outset of the program with an eye to opening future offices in Walled Lake and Madison Heights.

* * *

Probate Court Judge Donald E. Adams questioned the proposed scope of the program.

COUNSEL NEEDED

He pointed out that indigent persons are being provided counsel when needed and suggested that funds could be better used outside the realm of legal assistance.

Adams said that if such a legal aid program is adopted it should be limited to one office to serve the county.

Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt said that the poor are adequately represented at the circuit court level also.

* * *

Ingraham said that the proposed legal aid would mainly constitute legal advice and representation in lower court cases such as garnishments.

NO TIMETABLE

No clearly defined amount of money is yet available for the legal aid program, Ingraham said, and no timetable has been set.

An application by the County EOC for $1.4 million in federal funds for support of the total county antipoverty program is pending.

The amount of this application included funds for legal aid but not of the broad scope proposed yesterday, Ingraham said.

* * *

Ingraham suggested that each legal aid office be staffed by experienced attorneys and secretarial assistants and that each contain an adequate legal library.

* * *

Antipoverty programs are financed initially by 90 per cent federal funds and 10 per cent in local funds.

The federal grant diminishes as the programs progress and eventually the entire cost is borne locally.

Bowles and Grey drove to Coaldale Junction on U.S. 95. There they bought two bottles of liquor, cigarettes and some food and paid $250 for it.

Bartender Jimmy Cook, 52, employe of the Coaldale Inn, said Bowles "told me that if anybody moved his buddy would shoot the lady he was holding in the car." Handing him the money, Bowles said, "We'll probably never live to spend it anyway," Cook said.

The gunmen drove north, then reversed their course and crossed the Nevada state line to Benton. There, they notified the Nevada Highway Patrol they were releasing Mrs. Champion and the child.

LEFT IN CAR

Bowles and Grey left the woman and child in the stolen police car and fled on foot.

About an hour later, officers Howard Hoffman and Bill Rich spotted the fugitives walking near the Benton station.

"We ordered them to halt and they did," Hoffman said. They made no attempt to use their guns.

* * *

Their release of Mrs. Champion and the girl followed the pattern set by Bowles and Grey yesterday when they released six Oregon people in Sacramento.

STARTING POINT

Going back to the Portland bank robbery as a starting point, law enforcement officials give this rundown of the multiple crimes:

On Tuesday, Bowles and Grey robbed the bank. Later that day they were stopped by Oregon Deputy Sheriff Carlton E. Smith near Springfield

Smith's body with a shotgun blast and six revolver bullets in it, was found beside his patrol car.

* * *

The ex-convicts went on to the nearby home of Mrs. David Corbin, 33. There, they forced her and her son, Clinton, 12, to drive them toward the California border.

CAR IS STUCK

The Corbin car became mired in mud near where Uldis Reikstins of Renton, Wash., his wife and two boys were camping.

Grey and Bowles forced Mrs. Corbin and her son into the Reikstins' trailer camper and the eight headed for California.

The six Oregon hostages were released shortly after midnight Wednesday in Sacramento.

The Champion kidnap followed.

NOT PLANNED

Champion, in an impromptu interview at Tonopah, said he didn't think the men had planned to take his family—or knew who he was.

"They were running and looking and it happened to be our house. They told my wife to come along and bring the baby."

They drove below Stockton, Calif., then over the Sonora Pass and into Nevada to Carson City.

"Then we were treated to a delightful tour of central Nevada," Champion commented.

NEVER KNEW

"They asked what I did and I said I worked for the state in the finance department. They never knew what that meant," he said.

The FBI said Grey and Bowles had been charged in Oregon with bank robbery and kidnaping and were held on $150,000 bond each. There was no formal charge against them in the slaying of the officer.

Crash Hospitalizes Waterford Woman

A Waterford Township woman is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital with injuries suffered yesterday when her car struck a utility pole.

Hospitalized was Nola Callahan, 41, of 4035 Sashabaw, who was driving east on M59 at 1:38 p.m. when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Callahan told police she was making a left turn at LaDue when her vision was momentarily obstructed, causing the car to strike the pole.

Workers Can't Swallow Brew-It-at-Home Tea

BARROW-IN-FURNESS, England (UPI) — Vickers Shipyard workers staged a four-hour strike yesterday because management claimed they wasted too much time brewing tea. Those who want tea in the future will have to bring it in vacuum flasks, the company said.

"Unfair," strike leaders yelled. "This ban penalizes men in lodgings whose landladies won't fill flasks for them."

He's Out at the Plate

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI) — Police arrested J. Bunt Hood, 75, yesterday on disorderly conduct charges because he was racing around the bases of the city's professional baseball park. He was driving his truck at the time.

Response From Colors Is Subject of Exhibit

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The importance of color in art — and the response it evokes in the viewer — will be the subject of an exhibit opening next week at the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

The display reflects the years which artist Josef Albers has devoted to the study of color phenomena and the development of a color theory.

Some of Albers' color panels, circulated by the Smithsonian Institution, will be at the local science museum Thursday through Aug. 30.

In his book, "Interaction of Color," the artist demonstrated that no color exists independently, but that each color is affected by adjacent tones.

* * *

ILLUSTRATIONS

Optical illusions, after-images, color textures, color temperatures, spatial effects and the distortion of color photography are illustrated in his book and the exhibit based on it.

The institute of science is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 1 to 5 p.m. weekends, except major holidays.

There is an admission charge.

BIRMINGHAM — Paintings by the Swedish artist Olle Carlstrom will be on exhibit at the Bloomfield Art Association Sunday through Aug. 8.

Although Carlstrom's dynamic paintings generally are abstract, they derive much of their strength from references to traditional art and nature.

* * *

Born in Sweden in 1920, the artist studied in Stockholm and Paris. He has exhibited widely in Europe and the United States.

The association at 1516 S. Cranbrook is open from 2 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday.

City Police Quiz Trio in Armed Theft

Pontiac police are holding three men as suspects in connection with an armed robbery yesterday afternoon at Oakland Fuel and Paint, 436 Orchard Lake Ave.

Two bandits, one of them armed with an automatic pistol, robbed the store of about $80 and fled in a car.

Mary Forgette, an employe, gave police a description of the auto, which they located a short time later parked on Crystal Lake Road near Motor.

At that time they arrested Alfred Seay, 18, of 28 Crawford and Lonnie Reid, 18, of 253 Crystal Lake.

* * *

They found an automatic pistol in the car. Both men were carrying homemade masks.

Later police picked up Ralph Grandberry, 17, of 484 S. Edith. All three are being held at the Oakland County Jail for investigation of armed robbery.

Expect Action on Health Bill

Senate Near Vote on Broad New Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is expected to complete action today on a landmark bill setting up broad new health care for the aged programs and raising all Social Security benefits.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield Thursday got a debate limitation agreement considered certain to bring a final vote by tonight.

* * *

Under the agreement, debate on all further amendments was limited to one hour each. Two hours were allowed for a motion by Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., to return the measure to the Finance Committee.

The Senate has disposed of 25 amendments in two days of voting so far, but many important ones remained.

LEADERS SAY

Democratic leaders said they were confident of beating off any crippling changes and passing the bill with a heavy majority.

The bill would provide basic hospitalization for 19 million Americans who are 65 or older. A voluntary supplemental plan covering doctors' fees would be open to anyone 65 or over who wants to enroll and pay $3 a month premium. The estimated $6.8 billion yearly cost of the program would be financed mainly through increased Social Security taxes.

* * *

Curtis led a verbal assault on the bill from the Republican side Thursday, denouncing the health provisions as "brazen socialism."

One of the amendments Curtis had ready today would strike from the bill the two broad new health programs — the basic hospital plan and the voluntary supplemental plan.

WOULD REOPEN

Sen. Gance Hartke, D-Ind., said he would reopen the question of unlimited hospitalization in the basic plan.

Administration forces on Wednesday narrowly defeated, 43 to 39, an amendment of Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., to cover full hospital stays, arguing that this would overburden the financing.

A Vigil for Kathy

Family Awaits Phone's Ring

By JANICE KLOUSER

LAKE ORION — The telephone has become the all-important instrument in the James Leach home.

It is never left unattended because the Leaches never know when it is going to bring word that their 3-year-old daughter, Kathy, is about to have a rare liver transplant in a far-off Minnesota hospital.

Kathy, whose parents and older sister, Carol, live at 12 Indianside, has been at the University of Minnesota Hospital since April. She must wait for another child to die so she can have a liver transplant that represents her only chance for life.

She suffers from extra-hepatic biliary atresia and must receive a healthy liver from another child who has died.

KATHY

"The sad part is that someone else's child has to die so ours can live," said Leach. But that is what must happen to give Kathy a chance for the future.

"I just feel it's not going to be for quite a while," said Kathy's mother. "I didn't think it would be this long and it has already been three months."

"But the doctor says he's not going to rush it," Leach said. "He says Kathy is so well he can afford to wait for a perfect liver."

The operation will cost about $18,000, in addition to mounting hospital expenses.

However, through the generosity of individuals and groups, not only in the immediate area but from throughout the country, more than $20,000 has been raised to cover the cost.

PEOPLE RESPOND

"People have been just wonderful," said Mrs. Leach. "Particularly the high school students who have gone all out."

She said young children are holding fund-raising projects this summer and giving the money to the Kathy Leach fund, which was set up by the Lake Orion Lions Club.

"Apparently the story was in papers all over the country," said Mrs. Leach, "because we have received money from people in Texas, California, Missouri and Illinois."

The Leaches already have a $4,000 bill for hospital room and board, Leach said that after the operation, it will cost $400 to $500 per day to provide Kathy with intensive care for the first few days.

VISIT HOSPITAL

The Leaches, their three-year-old daughter Carol, and Mrs. Leach's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Carlson of 2712 Voorheis, Waterford Township, went to Minnesota for Kathy's second birthday June 26.

"She got so many presents we had to bring some of them, as well as her old toys, home," said Mrs. Leach. "The toy room at the hospital is packed. Besides, she's so interested in playing with the other children she doesn't pay a lot of attention to her toys."

She said Kathy received gifts from the doctors and nurses at the hospital as well as cards from people all over the country.

* * *

Mrs. Leach says Kathy is developing "much better than at home."

GAINING WEIGHT

"She walks and talks so much now and she has gained lots of weight," she said.

"We missed her first steps, but the nurses wrote us about it," said her father, "I imagine we will miss a lot of the things she does for the first time."

Kathy has spent a good part of her young life in hospitals. Her liver condition was discovered when she was seven weeks old. She spent her second and third month of life in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. Since then, she has had 11 different stays in various hospitals.

* * *

Kathy began her present sojourn when the Leaches read in the Pontiac Press about a doctor at the University of Minnesota Hospital who performs liver transplants.

HAPPY STAY

Mrs. Leach said Kathy seems happy and well-adjusted to life at the hospital.

"It's not like other hospitals where she was confined to bed," she said. "Here, she is up and around all the time."

* * *

"Everyone is so good to her; I think they're spoiling her," said her father. "When we were there for her birthday, I had to tell her 'no, no' for something and she looked like she didn't know what I was talking about."

OVERFLOW BIRTHDAY PRESENTS — Two-year-old Kathy Leach, who is awaiting a liver transplant operation in a Minnesota hospital, received so many gifts for her birthday recently that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Leach, had to bring some of them home.

Parking Ban Under Study

Hope to Cut Mishaps on Farmington Street

FARMINGTON—The feasibility of a parking ban on Grand River from Warner to the eastern city limits now is being studied by city officials.

Public Safety Director Maurice Foltz backed the ban as a method of reducing accidents in the area.

AREA NEWS

Prohibition of parking there also had been urged by the State Highway Department when it denied a City Council request that a traffic light be installed at the corner of Grand River and Powers.

Foltz has recommended that there be five lanes for traffic, with the center lane designated for left turns only.

* * *

Under the plan, parking would be provided inside the present curbing in areas where it's needed along the stretch.

LIGHT NEEDED

Foltz also has urged that the State Highway Department be advised that its recommendations are being complied with, but that the city still believes there is a need for a light at Powers and Grand River.

* * *

The public safety director and City Manager John Dinan are studying costs of the project and areas where parking would have to be provided.

WATCH THE BIRDIE! — Pirjo Tuulikki Vaisanen, a Finnish exchange student, posed prettily yesterday as Rochester Police Chief Robert C. Werth took her picture for her first American driver's license. The 17-year-old blonde, who is staying with the Howard L. McGregors at Great Oaks Farm, 1106 Pontiac, Avon Township, was among the first to be "shot" by the new camera, which takes color pictures for driver's licenses. Police officials say the new system requires considerably more clerical work. Fees for all types of licenses have been hiked 50 cents.

Walled Lake Site Bought for 9th Elementary School

WALLED LAKE — With the purchase of a site in the northern part of Commerce Township, the Walled Lake Board of Education is making plans for its ninth elementary school.

* * *

It also has taken option on property for a high school in the southeast corner of the township.

The 19-acre elementary school site is on the north side of Oakley Park Road, about one-quarter of a mile east of Walled Lake High School.

Jointly owned by eight persons, the property was sold for $21,500.

* * *

The $600,000 unit to be built on the porperty will be a duplication of Keith Elementary School, which went into operation early in 1964.

BID OPENINGS

Construction bids for the unit will be opened Aug. 24 with a September 1966 deadline for completion.

"If we took the time to design a new building, we wouldn't have it done in time," Schools Supt. George Garver said, noting it takes about four months to develop plans for a school.

Garver cited the necessity for having the unit completed by the 1966-67 school year. He estimated that 16 of the school's 20 rooms will be filled initially.

* * *

Total capacity of the building will be 600.

ANOTHER FACTOR

Another factor in the decision to duplicate Keith Elementary School was one of cost, Garver said.

The district will save some $10,000 in architect's fees by using the same plans, drawn by Warren Holmes and Associates of Lansing.

The school board originally had planned to build its next elementary school on property it owns on Halstead near 14 Mile.

* * *

However, sewage treatment difficulties have become apparent there.

SOIL PROBLEM

"At this time, the soil is not conducive to septic tanks," Garver said.

By locating the new school on the Oakley Park site, the board can relieve crowded conditions at Twin Beach, Glengary and Walled Lake Elementary Schools as well as at Commerce, Union Lake and Decker, if necessary.

The 60-acre parcel on which the board is holding an option is at the northwest corner of Haggerty and 14 Mile.

* * *

The six-month option expires Nov. 17.

FEDERAL AID

The board will use the time to investigate the possibility of obtaining federal assistance for the purchase through the Open Space Land program.

* * *

"This also gives us the opportunity to study the total layout to make certain this is the place for our second high school," Garver said.

* * *

Funds for the property purchases and the school construction were included in a $1.5-million bond issue approved by district property owners Dec. 14, 1964.

More Income From Sheep to Be Topic

Opportunities for more income from sheep will be the main theme of a meeting to be held next Thursday evening at the Michigan Livestock Exchange auction yards, four miles east of Cass City.

The 7:30 p.m. program will open with a parade of nearly a dozen purebred sheep, as well as a number of crossbred animals.

Graydon Blank, Cooperative Extension sheep specialist at Michigan State University, will discuss the importance of a well-planned crossbreeding program for commercial lamb production and opportunities for added income from a farm flock.

John Miller of the Michigan Livestock Exchange yards in Detroit will conduct a lamb grading demonstration and discuss marketing.

* * *

Dr. Clifford Beck, MSU extension veterinarian, will talk about effective controls of internal parasites and diseases.

URGES CROWD

Jay Poffenberger, Oakland County Cooperative Extension agricultural agent, urged all area sheep breeders to attend the meeting.

* * *

"This is a good time to think of expansion of sheep flocks," Poffenberger said, "as lamb prices recently have been the highest in seven years."

Board Action Cuts Tax Rate in Avondale

Residents of the Avondale school district will pay $3 less per $1,000 of state equalized valuation this year because the board of education cut its debt levy in half.

* * *

The board voted Tuesday night to levy 3.1 mills for debt retirement instead of 6.1 as it did last year.

Schools Supt. George Shackelford said the reduction is the result of increased valuation within the district.

Operational taxes will be $23.20 per $1,000 of equalized valuation, or 8.30 allocated mills and 14.9 voted mills.

* * *

Last year, taxes for operating amounted to 23.18 mills. The extra .02 mills were allocated to the district this year.

Farm Groups Oppose Bills on Migrants

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm organizations and grower representatives generally opposed Thursday a five-bill package designed to improve wages, working conditions and job opportunities for migrant farm labor.

* * *

The American Farm Bureau Federation opposed all five bills:

To establish minimum wages for farm workers; to prohibit employment of migratory minors under 14; to permit collective bargaining for farm workers; to establish a nationwide farm worker recruiting and placement service; and to set up a national advisory council on migratory labor.

Testifying before a Senate Labor subcommittee headed by Sen. Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., Matt Triggs of the Farm Bureau said because farmers hire anybody available at harvest time, a minimum hourly wage would require them to pay many workers more than they are worth.

CRASH PROGRAM

The result, he said, would be a crash program of mechanization, often with uneconomic results.

"We do not really do farm workers any good by pricing their services out of the market and by such means placing an obstacle between them and employment," he said.

Joining Triggs in opposing collective bargaining rights for farm workers were Stewart Boswell of the National Council of Agricultural Employers, Fred P. Corey of the National Apple Institute, Richard T. O'Connell of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, and Charles Toan of the Frederick County Fruit Growers Association Inc., Winchester, Va.

* * *

Toan summed up the objections by saying agriculture is particularly vulnerable to strike threats and the farmer would have to yield to any demand at harvest time to prevent loss of his entire crop. He said it would be blackmail.

HE MADE IT — Matty Alou of the San Francisco Giants slides safely into home plate last night as Phillies' catcher Clay Dalrymple waits for the throw (top photo). Alou apparently thought he missed the plate, so he stabbed at it with his hand (lower photo) as Dalrymple makes a tag that doesn't count. Umpire Stan Landes already had signaled safe.

Walks, Miscue Help 300 Bowl Win, 3-2

300 Bowl scored three runs without the benefit of a hit in the second inning last night and held on for a 3-2 decision over Town & Country in city American League softball action.

In a second AL game, Spencer Floors (10-3) downed Elks No. 810, (3-10) 8-1.

* * *

In an International League contest, Buckner (10-2) trimmed Michigan Bell (5-7), 9-4, and L & S Standard (3-9) gained a forfeit decision over Idle Time Bar (6-6) in National League play.

League-leading 300 Bowl (12-1) used three walks, an error, passed ball and wild pitch in posting three runs in the second. The winners collected only three hits off loser Charles Hughes.

Town & Country (1-12) picked up nine hits but winner Doug Hall kept them well scattered. Chuck Nichols and Jerry Wedge had two safeties apiece for the losers.

Buckner pushed across five runs in the opening inning and coasted to victory. Carl Cole collected two hits for the winners.

In Waterford Township action, John Leppanen tossed a three-hitter as Richardson Dairy (12-1) downed Haskins Chevrolet (3-10) 10-0, and Day's Sanitary (9-4) trimmed Dixie Tool (1-12), 11-2.

Dave Brown and Marv Fuller picked up three hits apiece for Day's and Brown knocked in four runs.

Southerner Takes 1st in Stock Race

MANASSAS, Va. (AP) — Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., won the 400-lap (150-mile) National Association for Stock Car Racing Grand National race Thursday night.

Johnson, who averaged a shade under 75 miles an hour, finished one lap ahead of Dick Hutcherson of Keokuk, Iowa. Ned Jarrett of Camden, S.C., was third and Gale Yarborough of Timmonsville, S.C., was fourth.

The first three finishers drove 1965 Fords. Yarborough drove a 1964 Ford.

The victory was Ford's 29th in 30 Grand National races this season.

Might Sell Club Says Boston Red Sox Owner

BOSTON (AP) — Owner Tom Yawkey was reported today ready to sell the Boston Red Sox "if I thought the right people wanted to buy it."

The Boston Globe quoted Yawkey in a copyrighted story as saying, "I am not planning to sell the Red Sox. I am not soliciting potential buyers. But I have been thinking about selling the team and I would sell if I thought the right people wanted to buy it."

TEEING OFF

By FLETCHER SPEARS

There's a golf tournament sadly in need of a home.

The event in question is the No. 1 attraction for state golfers — the Michigan Open — which each year attracts Michigan's leading professional and amateur golfers.

The tournament was held at Atlas Valley Country Club near Flint two years ago. Lakelands near Brighton, played the role of host last year.

The play moves this year to the Industrial Mutual Association (I.M.A.) Brookwood Golf Club near Flint and is scheduled for July 30-31 and Aug. 1.

Where the event will wind up in 1966 is anybody's guess.

Here's a tournament which is held each year to determine the state's top golfer and nobody, that is no course, wants it.

* * *

The Michigan section of the Professional Golfers Association sanctions the event and has the problem of finding a course that will take the tournament.

ROUGH TASK

Finding a course is a harder task than you might imagine.

* * *

There are plenty of golf courses around, but club members are reluctant to give up their course for the week or so it would take to get the tournament completed. That's understandable. They prefer playing to watching.

Of course, a tidy sum of money might influence some clubs to open the doors, but then there would be the problem of finding a sponsor (in raising money), and another problem here is that a sponsor would want to back something with a lot of commercial value which is something the Michigan Open doesn't have at present.

While its value might be small for a sponsor right now, the Open continues to improve and one of these days it's going to be loaded not only with prestige, but commercial value as well.

* * *

Also lacking at present is a championship course to test the players.

PLAYERS MOAN

The moans and groans at Lakelands were numerous last year and not all came from the golfers who were having trouble. Some of the better shooters had a few unkind words for the course.

* * *

Lakelands is short and the greens are small. This isn't a knock at Lakelands, but the course just isn't suited for the kind of play expected in the Michigan Open.

The groans should be just as loud and numerous when the players move onto the Brookwood Course the end of this month.

The course is short — 6,533 yards — and the players should have little trouble with it. The big hitters should have a lot of fun.

* * *

Again, it's no knock at the course. I.M.A. took over the layout this year and the improvement is noticeable. But it is still far from a championship course.

Active Trading Slows

Stock Market Resumes Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market resumed its rally on a moderate scale early today.

Trading was active at the opening and then slowed.

The surprising rally got under way Thursday afternoon and carried the list to a good gain.

Brokers said they consider chances good that the Dow Jones Average of 30 Industrials will be able to scale its June 17 recovery peak of 883.06 before the market's recent lows are tested.

KEY ISSUES

Changes of most key issues ranged from fractions to around a point.

Republican Aviation rose about a point after it was reported that Fairchild Hiller Corp. had offered to acquire Republic's operating assets for $40.4 million.

Opening blocks included American Telephone, up ⅜ at 68⅛ on 9,400 shares; Pennsylvania Railroad, up ¼ at 39¾ on 9,000; RCA, up ¼ at 34¼ on 6,000 and Westinghouse, up ⅛ at 48⅞ on 3,500.

New Violence in Bogalusa

White Is Shot When He Attacks Negroes

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — A new racial crisis gripped Bogalusa today in the wake of violence in which a white man was shot when he attacked Negroes in a civil rights march.

Thomas D. Burbank, chief of the State Police, said 200 troopers had joined the 36-man city police force in a special alert.

★ ★ ★

The wounded man, Alton D. Crowe Jr., 25, of Pearl River, La., was in "satisfactory" condition at a hospital in New Orleans, some 65 miles to the south.

Two Negroes arrested after the shooting were held in an undisclosed jail for investigation of aggravated battery. They are Henry Austin, 21, and Milton Johnson, 26, both of Bogalusa.

TELLS RALLY

The president of the Bogalusa Civic and Voters League, A.Z. Young, told a rally Thursday night that demonstrations will continue but that the league "is nonviolent and is going to stay that way."

★ ★ ★

The heavily guarded Negro rally overflowed a small church. Militant segregationists held an opposing rally across town in an open field at the same hour.

★ ★ ★

A speaker, J. B. Stoner of Atlanta, urged the white rally "to consider all niggers as our enemy until the battle is won." The cheering crowd, which police estimated at 1,200 to 1,500, waved Confederate flags. Rebel yells resounded.

The shooting was the most serious incident in the area since terrorists shot and killed Washington Parish's first Negro deputy sheriff, Oneal Moore, June 2.

WHITE CHARGED

A white man charged with murdering Moore is free on $25,000 bond.

Police Chief Claxton Knight said Austin admitted firing the .38 caliber bullets which felled Crowe. He was hit in the chest, with two other less serious wounds in the neck.

Knight said Crowe was unarmed. FBI agents joined police and state officers in the investigation.

★ ★ ★

Newsmen who saw the shooting said Crowe rushed in swinging his fists at the Negro men after they stopped their car to take aboard a Negro girl who had been hit by a stone while marching.

★ ★ ★

The incident came about 10 minutes after the some 400 rain-soaked marchers — most of them teen-agers — had knelt in front of the City Hall to pray for "Freedom for all."

SHOTS FIRED

The marchers, protected by state troopers in bright orange raincoats, were about two blocks from City Hall when shots rang out.

Troopers, swinging billyclubs, quickly restored order after a moment of uproar. The column proceeded.

Officials of the Congress of Racial Equality, backing the league in the 6-months-old civil rights drive, called the shooting self defense.

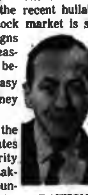
Easy or Tight?

Credit Causes Conflict

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—One of the byproducts of the recent hullabaloo in the stock market is still with us: signs of an increasing conflict between the easy and tight money advocates.



DAWSON

Should the United States keep prosperity rolling by making credit abundant at low interest rates? Or should it heed past examples of overconfidence and nip a possible speculative boom to stave off a bust?

★ ★ ★

One of the reasons apparently behind the selling wave on Wall Street was fear that the Federal Reserve Board would further tighten up on credit and interest rates. And all the talk brought out the difference in opinion between Johnson administration leaders who want easy money and the Federal Reserve Board which traditionally is more cautious.

The Federal Reserve Board has tightened the money supply a little of late. But credit is still easy — as witness the steep rise in personal and business debts.

PERENNIAL DEBATE

The debate is the perennial one: Are people getting in over their depths? Would a marked slackening in the business pace and in job opportunities, and hence in personal incomes, topple many family budgets and bring on general distress?

The administration, and the board seem agreed on one thing — at the moment the economy is strong and the credit burden thus doesn't seem dangerous.

The conflict, as Wall Street sees it, is over the chancey future: Will the economy continue to expand? And at what pace?

★ ★ ★

Steady and moderate gains would seem to offer only minor problems and many wished-for benefits. But a big expansion, if based on still easier credit and still greater accumulation of personal and business debts, might lead to an overheating of the economy with an inevitable downturn ahead. And then, say the conservatives, look out for trouble among those who have piled their debts too high.

Defenders of the spread of the habit of fashioning family budgets to the ratio of monthly payments to expectable income point to the fact that personal savings have risen along with personal debts.

But the conservatives warn against generalizations. They say that many who have increased their savings may have little or no debt. And many who have taken on more installment debts may have little if any savings.

It's the latter who would be hurt if something happened to jobs and incomes.

The easy-money school argues that the best way to assure more people of having jobs and good incomes is to make credit easy enough for business to borrow to expand its activities — and for consumers to borrow to buy the goods that increased industrial activity will offer.

TRADERS WONDER

And that is one of the things that stock traders were wondering about: Will business go on expanding? Will employment continue to increase? Will a conflict between easy credit and tight money advocates develop and add still another uncertainty to the economic outlook?

★ ★ ★

Many are betting on the administration to win and credit to stay fairly plentiful and cheap. But some look for the Federal Reserve Board to get more worried about the size of consumer and business debts and what might happen if the economic expansion plans didn't pan out as expected.

'Buick Due 2nd Best Year in '65'

Buick will have a better than 600,000 run of 1965 models for its second best year in history, Robert L. Kessler, new Buick general manager, said at a press conference in Detroit yesterday.

The 1965 model total was estimated by Kessler at 600,148.

Buick's best year was in 1955 when it added up more than 700,000. It had more than a half-million in 1950, 1956, and 1964.

Roland S. Withers, general sales manager of Buick, reported that the division expects to sell 18,000 of the German-made Opel Kadett in the U. S. this year, compared with 15,000 last year.

Kessler also noted that sales for the first half of the year were 311,000 compared with 261,000 at June 30 last year.

This, he added, has given the division the biggest percentage of gain in GM (19 per cent) over a year ago.

In the Detroit zone, Kessler said, the gain is 31 per cent.

Truckers Nix Proposed Pact

DETROIT (AP)—Striking truck drivers rejected a proposed settlement Thursday and continued their meat delivery strike against 25 Detroit area meat suppliers.

The offer, which would have ended the three-week strike, was turned down 84-62.

"The drivers will meet again Friday to see where we are going from here," Robert Holmes, president of Teamsters Local 337, said.

Holmes said the proposed contract left three areas without solution — cost of living raises, overtime and length of contract.

Large chain stores were not affected by the strike.

Bathing Cap Needed by Male (!) Swimmers

COALVILLE, England (UPI) —The Coalville city council put a new ordinance into effect today requiring men to wear bathing caps in the public swimming pool.

The ordinance was passed because women — who have always had to wear caps — complained some men's hair was longer than the women's.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I have just inherited 150 shares General Motors, 324 Kroger; 300 Parke, Davis; 75 Woolworth. I have a steady job in the post office paying $90 a week and I will get a pension. I have ample cash reserves. Would you advise me to sell part of the Kroger and Parke, Davis stock and invest in other good growth stocks?"

C.J.

A) Kroger—third largest food chain—after experiencing competitive pressure for some years, is now definitely on the upgrade. Earnings were at a record last year which I feel will be well surpassed in 1965. The shares have held up very well near their all-time high during the recent decline, and I would hold.

Parke, Davis is a fine, old pharmaceutical but, in my opinion, is too heavily dependent on chloromycetin — its major product—on which its basic patent expires next year. I would switch all this stock into equal dollar amounts of Merck & Company and Northern Illinois Gas.

Q) "I'm 62 years old, retired, and sick of sitting around the house. The stock market has always been my hobby and I think that I am going to start trading actively so as to give me something to think about each day. Even if I do lose a little, the action might do me a lot of good. Money is no problem and I'm not afraid to take a few losses along the way. Do you have any suggestions to make?"

L.M.

A) Normally, I would be strongly against the idea of nonprofessionals trading actively, but if this is the kind of therapy which will do you the most good, take a small amount of capital and go ahead.

Business Notes

Garlock, Inc., parent company of Michigan Precision Molded, Inc., of 2175 W. Maple, Commerce Township, has announced plans to build a $2.5 million plant at Gastonia, N.C.

★ ★ ★

The Gastonia plant is expected to employ 400 people when it reaches capacity production some time in 1967, according to A. J. McMullen, president of the mechanical packing company, who described it as "a necessary step to keep pace with our continuing expansion."

He stated that the primary product of the new plant would be precision oil seals.
