

CHEER CUBAN INVADERS—Cuban women, part of the crowd of several thousand which gathered at a rally in Miami's Bayfront Park Wednesday night in support of the Cuban invasion, shout and display slogans. The sign referring to President Kennedy indicates approval of the U. S. position.

Kennedy Says U.S. to Guard Interests

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy declared today the United States will not hesitate in meeting its obligations to its own security in the Cuban situation — should that become necessary.

In an address prepared for the American Society of Newspaper Editors, Kennedy again said that unilateral American intervention in Cuba would have been contrary to tradition and international obligations, "but let the record show that our restraint is not inextinguishable."

"Should it ever appear," Kennedy added, "that the inter-American doctrine of noninterference merely conceals or excuses a policy of nonaction—if the nations of this hemisphere should fail to meet their commitments against outside Communist penetration—then I want it clearly understood that this government will not hesitate in meeting its primary obligations which are to the security of our own nation."

Kennedy said that the Cuban guerrilla fighters aligned against the Fidel Castro regime are determined that Cuba must not be abandoned to the Communists.

"And we do not intend to abandon it either," the President said.

"The Cuban people have not yet spoken their final piece — and I have no doubt that they will continue to speak up for a free and independent Cuba."

Nor, Kennedy said, will this country accept Castro's attempts to blame the United States for the hatred his one-time supporters now have for his repression.

MAJOR PROUNCEMENT

The President's address amounted to a major foreign policy pronouncement.

Kennedy's words were directed not only at Cuba and Castro, but over their shoulders at Russia and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

"The President said that should the United States ever come when the United States must protect itself against outside Communist penetration of the Western Hemisphere, 'we do not intend to be lectured on intervention' by those whose character was stamped for all time on the bloody streets of Budapest."

He said Cuba is not an island of itself and "our concern is not ended by mere expressions of nonintervention and regret."

This, he said, is not the first time that Communist tanks have rolled over gallant men and women fighting to redeem the independence of their homeland.

"No," the President said, "it is by any means the final episode in the eternal struggle of liberty against tyranny, anywhere on the face of the globe, including Cuba itself."

The President said that those who staged automatic riots in the streets of free nations over the effort of Cubans to regain their freedom should note the roll call of refugees who cannot go back now to Hungary, North Korea, North Viet Nam, East Germany, Poland, or to other lands from which a steady stream of refugees testifies "to the cruel oppression now holding sway in their homelands."

U.S. Tanks and Other Arms Reported Left Behind in Flight

From Our News Wires

Fidel Castro's regime declared today an invasion of Cuba has been crushed on the beachhead, with remnants in flight into the swamps, leaving behind U. S. Sherman tanks and other American arms.

Waves of hope swept through Cuban exiles later, however, when a rebel broadcast from Cuba's central mountains declared the main invading force had fought past Soviet tanks into the interior, joined guerrillas and will carry on the struggle against the pro-Red regime.

Soviet press and radio hailed Castro's announcement as a blow to the United States, but declared another armed attack on Cuba may be imminent.

Moscow Radio charged U.S. Marines were poised to strike. It declared U.S. intervention would have dire consequences.

Disappointed Washington took the view that the invaders, a relation to no one.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington Daily News said today in a dispatch from Miami that the Cuban Revolutionary Council has landed in Cuba. It cited "high level officials" as a source.

Scattered pro-Castro rallies were held Wednesday in Western Europe, but no disorders were reported. The wave of anti-American violence which had taken at least six lives in Latin America appeared to be subsiding.

The only reports of major new outbreaks came from Guatemala City, where at least two and perhaps four persons were killed in a gun battle, and from Caracas, where anti-American rioting injured eight persons.

The American casualty of the riots, embassy secretary Edward Brown, was shot in the left arm during the fighting in Guatemala City. His wound was slight.

The general tone of Latin America's latest demonstrations was one of jubilation among Castroites celebrating their hero's victory claim.

Anti-Castro refugees backing the invasion refused to concede defeat.

European newspapers were inclined to credit Castro's claim.

"Invasion Gamble Flops After Only Three Days," said the London Daily Mail, adding that the attack "seems to have been a blunder" and that it created a "dilemma for (President) Kennedy."

Europeans and Latins Hold Only Scattered Pro-Castro Rallies

By United Press International

Newspapers in Western Europe said today Premier Fidel Castro's claim of victory over anti-Communist invaders in Cuba—if it proved true—would be a setback for the United States.

Scattered pro-Castro rallies were held Wednesday in Western Europe, but no disorders were reported. The wave of anti-American violence which had taken at least six lives in Latin America appeared to be subsiding.

The only reports of major new outbreaks came from Guatemala City, where at least two and perhaps four persons were killed in a gun battle, and from Caracas, where anti-American rioting injured eight persons.

European newspapers were inclined to credit Castro's claim.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—United States policy on Cuba came under strong attack from Middle East and Soviet bloc countries today as U.N. diplomats began to write off the Cuban invasion as a failure.

Ambassador T. B. Subasinghe of Ceylon told the U.N. political committee that the latest news on the Cuban situation indicated that the invasion was doomed.

Sharp criticism of the United States came from Saudi Arabia's minister of state, Ahmad Shuqayr, who accused the Kennedy administration of meddling in the internal affairs of Cuba by encouraging anti-Castro refugees in their efforts to oust Fidel Castro.

Shuqayr challenged the validity of the Monroe Doctrine, which bars outside intervention in the affairs of the Western Hemisphere. He also questioned the right of the United States to oppose Communist penetration into Cuba.

"Every state can have whatever ideology it wishes," he said.

He insisted that chief U.S. delegate Adlai E. Stevenson tell the United Nations whether the U.S. government has maintained contact with the anti-Castro Revolutionary Council, and whether any of the Cuban invading forces were trained and equipped in the United States.

At an explosive meeting, which saw one member of the board of supervisors' civil defense committee walk out, three state civil defense officials tried to find out why the little-headed of department has failed to accomplish the things it should.

The meeting was called several days after a rift was made known in the department between its veteran director, Lewis C. Jarrett, and Charles E. Carlson, Oak Park supervisor and chairman of the CD committee.

Jarrett withdrew attacks from Carlson and Marshall E. Taylor, a member of Carlson's committee and Wallick Lake supervisor. Taylor, who later walked out, suggested the county "pay off" the rest of Jarrett's contract.

OPPOSED CD CENTER

Throughout the two-hour session in Pontiac, David Levinson, who controls the purse strings of the county as chairman of the ways and means committee, continued his opposition to providing funds for an emergency control center from which the top county officials would work in case of attack.

"I say let's forget everything in the past and start from scratch, even if we have to pay off the director for the rest of the year," Taylor said.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Nunnaker, director only since Jan. 11, volunteered: "We need one good shake-up and then let's get down to business after that." He mentioned no names.

Jarrett said he believed Nunnaker was referring to "shaking up the people" in their apathy to civil defense preparations.

When it was revealed that but two-health and welfare-departments of the county had followed through on drafting plans as part of a county survival plan, immediate meetings were ordered between Jarrett and other department heads to complete the plan which was submitted two years ago.

"I'm not at all," Jarrett said, "staged mob attacks" against the U.S. legations in those countries Tuesday.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said today the United States has strongly protested in Russia, Bulgaria and Rumania what it described as "staged mob attacks" against the U.S. legations in those countries Tuesday.

JFK's Tax Plan 'Would Create 500,000 Jobs'

Message to Congress As Levy on Dividends Be Withheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today sent Congress a tax plan which he said would help modernize American business and create 500,000 jobs.

He said a possible general tax cut should wait until next year.

While attacking "expense account living," discouraging tax cheating and reducing the worrisome flow of U.S. dollars abroad without cutting into federal revenues.

In a 6,300-word special message Kennedy described his program as "a first though urgent step" toward broad tax reforms in 1963-reform which he said could combine elimination of loopholes and discriminatory provisions with a lowering of basic tax rates.

These were among the most notable items in the first-step package:

A special tax incentive for business to modernize and expand, withholding of taxes on dividends and interest, repeal of the special tax treatment given dividends, and discouragement of corporate investment in competing industrial countries.

Kennedy also proposed stricter curbs on tax-deductible expense accounts to stimulate the foreign "tax haven" and the collection of taxes from high-income Americans—notably movie stars—who move abroad in the hope of escaping the U.S. income tax.

He said the business investment incentive would cut revenues by $1.7 billion a year. However, he said the other steps would offset the loss and leave at least $90 million to spare.

Many of the specifics were sure to stir controversy aplenty. However, there could be little argument over Kennedy's main objectives: to stimulate the economy, make U.S. business more competitive with fast-spreading foreign competition, and reduce the nation's balance of payments deficit.

CONTRIVERSIAL POINT

The key item, and perhaps the most controversial, was the proposed tax incentive for business expansion and modernization.

Howard Nelson Takes Important Commercial Chairmanship

Appointment of Howard Nelson as chairman of the Commercial Division for the 1961 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign was announced today by Thomas F. Wietz, general campaign chairman.

Nelson is manager of the Sears, Roebuck & Co. Pontiac store. He lives at 2654 Pendleton, Bloomfield Hills.

The Commercial Division raised $177,000 last year, the campaign's second leading fund raiser, under the leadership of John P. Nigge-man.

The people of Pontiac have proved in the past that they wholeheartedly support their Pontiac Area United Fund. I am aware of the many responsibilities connected with United Fund work and I am looking forward to serving our community as Commercial Division Chairman this year," Nelson commented on his appointment.

Setting Up New Office

NEW YORK — An office of automation and manpower is being set up today in big department, says Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

Cooper's Illness Grave --Reportedly Cancer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sources close to Gary Cooper say the veteran film star is gravely ill with cancer—and knows it.

The word followed an announcement by a family spokesman Wednesday night. Fellow actor is critically ill.

Cooper, who will be 60 on May 7, is confined to his Bel-Air home.

The longtime Montana cowboy has starred in 70 pictures, winning Oscars as the World War I hero in 1941's "Sergeant York" and as the duty-bound sheriff in 1953's "High Noon."

Speculation about his physical condition had heightened since the annual Academy awards ceremonies Monday night. Fellow star James Stewart accepted a special honorary award for Cooper and, addressing him directly into the television camera, nearly broke into tears as he spoke words of tribute.

So emotional was Stewart's praise that a recent explanation of Cooper's confinement to his home was a pinched nerve—in a movie fight scene—was questioned.

GARY COOPER

Publisher Warren Cowan announced Wednesday: "Because the Cooper family has been inundated by inquiries about his health since the James Stewart presentation, I am asked by the family to say that he is gravely ill."

Cowan did not disclose the nature of the ailment. This word came afterward, privately, from several sources.

'MEANT NO ALARM'

Another source said: "Jimmy didn't mean to spread alarm but he just got carried away by emotion for a very dear friend who is gravely ill."

This source said Stewart knew in making the award acceptance speech that Cooper was aware of the nature of his illness.

Within the past year Cooper has had two operations, first for a prostate condition and later for removal of a section of his colon.

Cooper appeared Jan. 8 at a testimonial dinner by the Friary a show business group. After speeches recounting his 35 years of stardom—a record unmatched by any other performer—he wept openly.

In a speech of characteristic brevity he said: "Am I the luckiest guy alive tonight? Yep."

Laos Cease Fire Agreement May Be Near at Hand

From Our News Wire
MOSCOW—British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts said tonight "we are very near agreement" on a joint British-Soviet appeal for a cease fire in Laos.

"I have hopes for something definite tomorrow," he told newsmen who questioned him after he had a conversation with First Deputy Premier Alexei Kossygin and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko at a diplomatic reception.

(In Washington, a U.S. State Department spokesman said he was unable to say what grounds there may be for official British optimism on the imminence of a Laos cease fire.)

Sir Frank said that on instructions from London, he has asked for a formal appointment tonight or Friday with Gromyko or anyone else the Soviet government might appoint to talk to him.

Earlier, in London, the British foreign office announced that a cease fire agreement with Russia seemed very near.

HOPIES DAMPENED

But Moscow radio immediately threw cold water on those hopes with a new charge of American "provocation" in Laos.

Moscow radio charged that stepping up U.S. military aid to the Laotian army was a "provocation" aimed at prolonging the conflict, to increase tension in the world and to prevent a peaceful solution in Laos.

The Moscow broadcast condemned specifically the American plan to send uniformed U.S. military advisers into the front with the Laotian army to train them in the fighting with the Pathet Lao guerrilla forces.

Against the background of civil war in Laos and Communist terrorism in South Viet Nam, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization is holding its biggest military exercise.

U.S. Marines, Britons, Australians, Thais and Filipinos—6,000 combat troops—are moving in six stages toward a mock assault of beaches in British North Borneo.

Alert in S. Korea as Jet Falls After Chase by Reds

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — A South Korean air force Sabre jet crashed 100 miles south of Seoul today after being chased by three Communist MIGs. The incident touched off a nationwide air alert.

United Nations Command officials said the South Korean jet crashed at the U.S. Air Force Kunsan air base south of Seoul. But they denied reports by high Korean sources the incident was linked directly with the air raid alert.

High-ranking Korean sources said three Communist North Korean MIGs chased the F86 after it had crossed the demilitarized zone into North Korea.

They said the encounter took place over the Ongjin Peninsula 70 miles northwest of Seoul. It was not known immediately whether the Communist planes chased the Sabre jet south of the truce line.

The judge raised Yarbrough's bond from $200 to $500.

Region 7 MEA Institute Scheduled in Pontiac, Pupils Have Day Off

Pupils in public schools throughout Pontiac and Oakland County will get a day off tomorrow, but all schools will close to permit educators to attend the spring teachers institute of the Michigan Education Association, Region No. 7.

Pontiac Northern High School and Madison Junior High will be major centers for the region's second conference of the school year.

More than 5,500 teachers and administrators are expected to attend the institute.

In charge of the confab is Roscoe V. Crowell, principal of Avondale High School and chairman of Region 7.

Assisting Crowell is Mildred F. Williams, fifth grade teacher at Bagley Elementary School, executive secretary of the region.

START AT 9:30
Conference groups will begin sessions at Northern and Madison at 9:30 Friday morning. Following lunch, afternoon meetings are slated to start at 1:30.

The groups are designed to cover nearly all phases of school curriculum.

In addition, the Pontiac Federation of Teachers, Region 7, has scheduled its institute for 9 a.m. at Royal Oak Kimball High School.

Michigan State Supreme Court Justice Eugene Elwell will be principal speaker at the MFT meeting which will attract union teachers from throughout the county.

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, is also slated to speak.

Two of the 11 workshops to be held will be chaired by Russell J. Butler, PNI librarian and president of the Pontiac Federation of Teachers.

Many teachers attending the MEA confab will hear some local vocal talent.

Dr. Walter Collins of the music department at Michigan State University Oakland, will address the secondary music section of the Michigan Education Association in the vocal music room of Pontiac Northern at 9:30.

Dr. Collins will discuss "Choral Techniques and Materials" and will demonstrate using teachers as a workshop chorus. Special music will be furnished by the Caribbeans, a male chorus of 30 Pontiac Central students directed by Jerry Libby.

Alvin Larimer, PNI vocal music instructor, is chairman of the session.

The 1:30 p.m. mental health session at Madison Junior will feature an hour demonstration of psychodrama by a Pontiac State Hospital group under the direction of Ted A. Panaretos, the hospital's community relations director.

Rebels Smashed, Castroites Report

Bencom and said he led a plot to kill Castro. His home was not given up.

The Swiss government reported to Washington that 20 Americans had been arrested in Havana, where Castro's regime was reported herding hundreds of suspected counter-revolutionaries into prison.

The Swiss said there were unconfirmed reports that all Americans in Cuba would be rounded up for questioning. The Swiss handle U.S. affairs because Washington has no diplomatic ties with Castro.

All schools will close to permit educators to attend the spring teachers institute of the Michigan Education Association, Region No. 7.

Disappointment was expressed in Washington that the hold landing on the southern beaches of Southern Cuba Monday had failed to touch off mass defections and uprisings in Cuba.

A communique signed by Castro conceded severe losses among the army and people's militia sent to the beachhead about 100 miles southeast of Havana.

It said some rebels tried to flee by sea but their ships were sunk by warplanes.

BLAME TANKS, MIGs
Rebel broadcasts also conceded severe losses, blaming them on the attacks by Soviet-made tanks and MIG jet fighters.

But an informed source in Miami said the invaders' total casualties were no more than 150.

The new rebel station, saying it was broadcasting from the Escambray Mountains, asserted that most of the invaders had joined up there with guerrillas who have been fighting Castro for months.

"The liberation army now is operating in conjunction with guerrillas already in the Escambray Mountains," said the radio, which called itself Escambray Libre (Free Escambray).

"We will continue broadcasting until all Cuba is free, as we are now free," the radio said.

Castro forces "did take a toll of casualties, but not of such magnitude as to stop the liberation force in accomplishing its mission," the radio said.

The size of the forces making it into the mountains and the number of guerrillas waiting there were not known.

As many as 5,000 guerrillas had been reported operating in the rugged region previously but the number had been thinned.

Moscow's apparent nervousness about new landings may have arisen from reports from various exile circles. An anti-Castro leader in Puerto Rico asserted a new landing had been made Wednesday night.

"MUST DO IT NOW"
A similar unconfirmed report reached the U.S. naval base of Guantanamo in Eastern Cuba. This account said the landing was on the north coast of Cagapuey Province west of Guantanamo.

An anti-Castro underground leader sent a message to the base saying: "If Cuba is so liberated there will not be another Latin American nation with the guts to shake off the Communists."

There was some mystery about the whereabouts of Castro.

Senate, House Agree on Aid

Depressed Areas Bill Now Faces Full Debate and Voting

WASHINGTON (UP)—Senate-House conferees today agreed on President Kennedy's $394-million depressed areas bill designed to bring new jobs to communities suffering from chronic unemployment.

The House delegation gave in on the key point in dispute—the method of financing for $300 million in loans in the bill—making possible the agreement.

Rep. Brent Spence, D-Ky., heading the House delegation, said his side agreed to the Senate provision after Kennedy had sent word this was what he wanted.

Senate leaders said the Senate might take up the compromise bill later this afternoon.

There appeared to be no doubt that the Senate would pass it handsly. But a hard House fight was in prospect. Spence said it probably would come up there next week.

The Senate-House conference had been struggling with the legislation since last week.

Teen-Age Girls Forced Into Car in Pontiac

Two 17-year-old girls reported to police they were forced into a car by five men last night and driven about the area an hour and a half before being released.

The girls were walking north on Saginaw Street after leaving the Pontiac City Library, they said.

The girls, Marjorie Gale Gilroy, 17, 845 Northfield Ave., and Judith A. Mann, 17, 82 Newberry St., said two men jumped out of the car in front of 50 N. Saginaw St. and forced them inside.

The car then headed west on M50 and went in the vicinity of the Proud Lake Recreation Area.

The five men described as Mexicans, tried to force them to drink beer in the car, but did not harm them, the girls said.

They were finally let out on West Huron Street in front of the Webster Elementary School.

Young is free on $500 bond.

Communicable diseases in Pontiac showed a decline for the second straight week last week, but new cases increased somewhat in the county, according to the Pontiac and Oakland County health departments.

JFK 'Popular, Not Supported'

Nixon Tells Newsmen He'll Soon Comment on Dem Policies

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today he finds President Kennedy is popular with the American people but that there is little interest and "virtually no support" for his program.

On foreign affairs, Nixon told a news conference that the situation in Cuba is "grave" and he does not intend to "pop off" with criticism.

Nixon, who lost the presidency to Kennedy last November, restated his position on the California governorship. He said he is not a candidate and is "not trying to stimulate a draft."

The titular head of the Republican party said it would not "proper" for him to seek the governorship as a "stepping stone" to a second presidential nomination.

Nixon, in his first Washington appearance since Kennedy's inauguration three months ago, told newsmen he thought Kennedy would have "10 more" days before he passes judgment on the new administration. He said that "at the end of 100 days" he would give his evaluation.

HARRY W. MILLER

Pageant Script Being Written

Producer Harry Miller in City Getting to Work on Centennial Plans

Planning of the Centennial spectacle surged ahead today as the producer-director of the Wlener Stadium pageant rolled up his sleeves.

Harry W. Miller, 38-year-old spectacle overseer for the John B. Rogers Producing Co., outlined a busy schedule at Centennial headquarters today.

Miller plans to have the script written by Monday for the 90-minute extravaganza.

Casting of more than 1,000 roles should begin a week from today and be finished a week later, he said, putting the spectacle well on the way to becoming a reality.

Wearing horned-rimmed glasses with his hair trimmed in a youthful brush cut, Miller got to work in Pontiac yesterday and will be here full-time through the June 17-24 celebration. The spectacle will run six nights, June 18-24.

The script for the 14-16 scene pageant will be based on historical material by the Centennial's Scenario and Title Committee. The title the committee picked is "The Pontiac Story."

As producer, Miller will be responsible for assembling the vast array of stage effects necessary for a spectacle. As director, he will be training large groups of Pontiac residents performing in the show as townspeople.

USING LOCAL TALENT

The spectacle cast will also include using local talent acting as narrators, dancers and some principle actors and actresses, Miller said.

Miller is no stranger to spectacles. An independent producer of industrial and civic shows of the spectacular variety, he has been working for Rogers company the past 11 summers, doing one or two shows a summer.

In 1953, Miller produced and directed the show "Lifetime USA" for the centennial of the Sault Ste. Marie locks. Four years later he was in Lansing for the centennial spectacle "Four to Go."

He has also worked on pageants in Sioux Falls, S. D.; Elkhart, Ind.; Buffalo, N.Y.; Portland, Me.; Palm Beach and Jacksonville, Fla.; Kansas City, Mo.; and Cape Cod, Mass.

Calling Pittsburgh, Pa., his home when not on the road, Miller was once a premed student who turned to show business after serving as a singer in a traveling Army show, under Broadway director Josh Logan, during World War II. He later was graduated from the Cleveland Music School.

Castro Faces Inevitable—He's on His Way Out

FIDEL CASTRO is on the skids. The current uprising may be over, but it is far from a dead issue. The Cubans will not stand still for government under the likes of Castro.

This two-faced self-appointed leader of the Cuban revolution and the Cuban people may be able to delay the inevitable for a short time, but the end is in sight.

It was just two years ago that Castro, recently established in power made a trip to the United States. His first speech in this country was before the American Society of Newspaper Editors meeting in Washington.

This writer was in attendance at the ASNE meeting and wrote on April 21, 1959 in reference to CASTRO that his position on communism was not clear.

In the following two years it has become quite obvious that his motives were not as a believer in democracy. It is well-established that he had Communists in his revolution. He took them into his newly formed Government. And for all practical purposes the Communists took over the Castro Government.

In his brief two years Castro established a Communist satellite just 90 miles off our shore. Not satisfied with that, he tried to incite the rest of Latin America against this country.

What of the future? Cubans are a liberty, fun-loving people. The Castro form of Government was not acceptable to the Cubans and they have started to deal with it. A free Cuba is of vital interest to the United States.

Our role in helping establish a new government will be limited. The United States will have to work through the Organization of the American States. This is necessary to keep our good will with the rest of Latin America.

We hope that the Organization of American States can direct the new Government toward a free Cuba, democratic in fact as well as in theory.

President John F. Kennedy's warning to the Soviet Union that we will not tolerate military intervention in Cuba is correct.

Our Government should do what we can through the proper channels to make certain that Cuba is run for the benefit of the Cuban people and that their island paradise once again becomes an American ally.

Longer Life Expectancy Spurs Economic Growth

The April issue of the Health Information Foundation bulletin draws attention to the great increase in the average American's working life expectancy in this century.

For example, a male born in 1958 has a working life expectancy of 42.3 years compared with 31.1 years in 1900. In many years that means an increase of one-third. His dependent or retirement time has increased by 73 years.

Working life expectancy of American females rose from 36.9 years at the beginning of the century to 19.9 in 1958. This sharp increase was due to a larger proportion of working women and, to a lesser extent, a decline in their mortality rates.

American males not only have a longer working lifetime but they can expect to spend more years outside the labor force. According to the bulletin, because of increased employment of women, the number of non-working years by both men and women as a proportion of total years of life, has actually decreased.

"Time for education of the young and retired leisure for older people while longer today than in 1900, is less of a drain on income during employed years," says GEORGE BUESS, foundation president. On the average young men enter the labor force two years later than in 1900. Since then retirement life expectancy has more than doubled from 2.7 years for a 20-year-old to 6.3 years in 1958.

Added work years are a dramatic result of modern health services. Longer life expectancy is of basic importance to the continued well being of our country and increasing both national and personal incomes.

The news that there is a pet salamander in the White House will move quite a few people to consult the dictionary and find out what the heck a salamander is.

A Sorry Teammate

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. May Have to Blockade Cuba

WASHINGTON—An air and sea blockade of Cuba may have to be imposed by the United States to prevent the landing of munitions and weapons of war by the Soviet government. This means that the Castro regime no longer is recognized as the constituted government of Cuba.

It means also that the United States regards what is happening in Cuba as a struggle between two factions, one of which has been guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors, not only against the people of Cuba but against the citizens of foreign countries.

Unless Soviet Premier Khrushchev heeds the warning in the message sent by President Kennedy on Tuesday night of this week, the Kremlin can expect a blockade to be imposed against the ships of all nations which may be suspected of carrying munitions of war or military men to assist in the waging of war against the democratic aspirations of the Cuban people.

Dr. William Brady Advises Girl, 14

Alcoholics Anonymous Place for Your Mother

"I am writing to you because I just don't know what to do. I am a 14-year-old girl and I am worrying about my mother. I love my mother very much but I just don't know what has happened to her. She is such a wonderful mother to our children. You see, I have a 20-year-old sister, a 6-year-old sister and a 4-year-old brother.

"My 20-year-old sister told me my mother three years ago that she had to get married right away. She hid the wedding dress and five months later she had a baby, the prettiest little girl baby. That is when this thing started.

"My mother started drinking wine. Since then she drinks it every day. She has been in and out of the hospital. I know she hides it from my father.

"He knows she buys it once or twice a week, but he doesn't know she buys it much more often, and I just can't tell my father about it, because mother loves us so much. She will go without eating anything and she will get us what we need.

"My older sister and her husband know mother likes a glass of wine but they have no idea she drinks so much more often, and I just can't tell my father about it, because mother loves us so much. She will go without eating anything and she will get us what we need.

"What has really upset me is that I was out of school three days last week and saw mother start drinking at nine o'clock in the morning and kept at it all day every day. She never gets drunk but I'm so afraid.

"You see, my mother has always read your column and she believes in everything you say. I think if you were in an attempt to help about effects of drinking so much wine it might scare my mother so she would stop drinking.

"My mother is only 38 years old so pretty when she goes to PTA or anywhere with me. I've always been so proud of her.

"I have heard a lot and read of people who become alcoholics and that is my greatest worry about mother. . . . and please don't print our address, for I don't ever want to hurt my mother in any way. (Signed—) Your letter, dear child, brings tears to my eyes and a lump in my throat.

I must say at the outset that it is evident that your mother is an alcoholic. Any one who conceals alcohol, wine or beer in an attempt to prevent family or friends from knowing he or she is drinking to excess is an alcoholic.

It is evident also that there is a good deal of love in your family, love of one another and, I am sure, love of God.

You and your mother and your father might find Father Paul's The Prodigal Shepherd worth reading. The book is available in paperback edition.

I would heartily commend to your mother a visit to Alcoholics Anonymous when there is a group meeting in your own or a nearby community. This anyone can do in absolute anonymity. See Alcoholics Anonymous in your telephone directory.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Tax Methods Promote Stagnation

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE H - 46: Bill T., aged 37, is an accountant.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "the present tax system should challenge every loyal American.

"For it is draining off millions of hours of productive time just computing last year's taxes."

"That creative talent devoted to planning new business ventures, inventing new gadgets, opening up new uses for products."

"Our nation 'looking forward' will become stunted and let Russia overtake us. So they probe our citizens, and especially our business leaders, from this needless drain on their creative ability. We can't keep ahead of Russia by looking backward."

"Let's get levying petty taxes on a million items and thus forcing our citizens to keep tedious records."

"We could easily raise all our present taxes without a single headache for our citizens. And the savings by reducing the number of employees of the Income Tax Division would permit several billions in savings."

Bill has touched on the most dangerous problem in our economic life, namely, the wasting time of citizens on "backward" looking.

In pioneer days, our citizens "looked forward." So they probed the wilderness and spent their extra time figuring out new gadgets like automobiles, telegraph and radio, etc.

Now our people spend so much

Voice of the People:

'County Has No Choice - It's Detroit Water or None'

"A Jones Bay" voices a complaint against Detroit water and higher prices in a letter to the Voice of the People. So did I until the City Manager told me it was a question of Detroit water or no water at all.

The water shed that once supplied a few hundred Indians now supplies three-quarters of a million people here in Oakland County alone, plus staggering amounts for modern industry. This underground supply is steadily receding and water experts say within a few years there won't be nearly enough water to meet the demand.

And — if Chief Pontiac XIII will forgive me — those Indians of his only used a tiny fraction of the water per capita that we do today. And furthermore, they used rivers and lakes.

The recent series of articles in The Press by Bruno Kearns concerning individual sports was a masterpiece of reporting and photography.

The ability to illustrate each sport with pictures and short humorous paragraphs made the entire series easy to read and follow.

As an interested citizen, I was better informed of the opportunity that I might have to learn and participate in each of the sports. As a professional in the leisure-time field, I was happy that many of the least publicized sports activities were highlighted.

Keep up the good work; our community has a real good sports page.

Academy Awards Brings Comments

We certainly have a lot to be proud of when three of the women were nominated for Academy Awards for their roles, portrayed call-girls or girls of the street.

Of the three, Liz Taylor won for her portrayal as a "high-classed" call-girl and Shirley Jones won for her performance as a tramp. "Elmer Gantry" may one of these days we will notice that the only roles that go up for the academy awards will be that of either prostitutes or homosexuals. American people wonder why we have so much juvenile delinquency and sex crimes.

Wholesome

The performance at the Academy Awards by Elizabeth Taylor as she was helped on the stage by Mr. Scher, and when she suddenly thanked the audience for accepting her once again, should have won her another Oscar, for being the biggest thing in the world.

Liz was desperate for that gold statue, and with many millions at her disposal, it wouldn't be hard to stage a fake illness so she could win the hearts of the academy voters who had turned her down previously. From almost death bed in London to the awards ceremony in California in a few weeks is too long a time to make a fake illness.

Continue Comments on Anti-Red Films

The plan being used to stifle the showing of certain films exposing the threat of communism from within our country is typical "Communist" technique. Any American who has studied the teachings of Marx and Engels, or who has observed the "Commissars" in action, will immediately recognize this technique.

The riots in question definitely were Communist inspired. The only other possible explanation being that they were an expression of a patriotic sentiment, which is the impression that the instigators of these riots tried to create.

These films must be shown throughout America. We are to alert our people to the simple fact that it could happen anywhere in America, anytime, and to demonstrate just how the "Commissars" work.

Leo P. Meagher

Detroit
President Kennedy stops anti-Communist films from being shown on TV, Swainson stops the Michigan State from showing these films in Michigan.

Nobody stops "Harvest of Shame," which is filled with half-truths and outright lies about the American way of life, from being shown in Europe.

It has been said that pressure from organizations and groups makes state and U.S. policy. If that is I believe the wrong people have been put on pressure.

When April Showers Come Your Way, Anything Goes

In Spring, the Car Dealer's Fancy Turns to Stunts

By BEN PHILGARD
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — The season of the gimmick is at hand in the auto business.

Webster defines a gimmick as an "ingenious device or scheme for attaining an end, often artfully conceived."

There is very little attempt at concealment in these cases — the obvious is to sell you a car, or at least to get you within arm's reach of an eager salesman. But there are plenty of devices and schemes.

One of the favorites is the free gift. Some dealers conduct drawings for anyone who registers at their salesrooms. Others write you letters, advising a gift is being held for you if you'll just pick it up.

While popular, this idea is something short of infallible according to at least two Detroiters. One said he stopped in to request a kiddie with two salesmen about how he liked his 10-year-old car and left with his gift without even being asked if he were interested in a new model.

"Guess they thought if I liked a 10-year-old car I was no new-car prospect," he said, "although I've half decided to buy a new one this spring."

Another man told of dressing in his oldest, clothes before, picking up a gift. "They couldn't get me out of there soon enough," he reported after reporting to the showroom.

SOLD ALL NIGHT

One dealer staged an all-night session with prices lower between 2 a.m. and 4 a.m. Free coffee in dealer showrooms is becoming popular, with the urn placed near a salesman's desk.

And then there are dozens of variations on the price theme. These range from those who proclaim they'll beat any deal to a modest window sign at an import dealership in suburban Detroit which read: "Terms 99 cents a day."

Anyone owning a car three to five years old is considered a ripe prospect and is apt to receive numerous unsolicited letters v telephone calls.

There are also the inducements of free gas with each new car (50 gallons free if you do business with me" reads one salesman's business card; toys for the kids or optional equipment tossed into the deal).

Dealer organizations in various cities have organized community-wide sales drives. The one in Detroit now in progress emphasizes the vital role auto sales play in the area's economy where about one in every four jobs is auto-related.

The industry has come up with assorted new models for the spring selling season, mainly fancy versions of the previously introduced compacts.

SPRING DECISIVE

Spring is a vital time to the auto business since the current quarter normally accounts for at least one-third of all new car sales in a year. If spring business is good, the year almost always is better than average.

Auto sales so far this year have been slow, running about 20 per cent behind a year ago. The comparison was somewhat out of balance in January and February because 1959 sales in those two months represented to some extent demand created by near-city during the steel strike of late 1959.

But there has been concern at the continuing lag behind year-ago figures and both the manufacturers and the dealers are pulling all stops in their sales efforts.

Among letters in the mails is one from Ed Rollert, general manager of Buick, telling about the luxury model of his compact Buick Special.

He tells the recipient "Let me assure you that this is not an attempt to sell a car... but we would like to put the Special in the hands of the kind of people for whom we designed and built it. In your community, you are one of them."

AA Group to Meet on 14th Anniversary

The speaker will be Doctor "B" of Saginaw. He will be introduced by Howard T. who introduced the doctor to AA 15 years ago. Meeting chairman will be Jerry McD. of Keego Harbor. AA only uses first names in public.

All interested persons are welcome. There will be a coffee hour, and helpful literature will be available.

Navy Cancels Exercise JFK Can't Attend

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy has canceled a scheduled week-long exercise off the Florida coast after the White House announced President Kennedy would not attend.

Kennedy had planned to watch the Navy flight and anti-submarine exercise from the carrier Independence, Saturday afternoon and night. This was to have taken place in the Atlantic several hundred miles from Cuba where anti-Castro rebels have launched an invasion.

The White House news secretary, Pierre Salinger, Wednesday attributed Kennedy's cancellation only to "the press of business over the weekend." He turned aside questions as to whether the fighting in Cuba had anything to do with the decision.

Woman's Hat in Ring for Con-Con Delegate

A Birmingham housewife has campaigned around the state for a constitutional convention since 1955 now wants to add a finishing touch and be a candidate.

Mrs. Berrien C. (Jean) Ketchum, president of the Michigan League of Women Voters from 1957 through 1959, today announced her candidacy for the Republican nomination for con-con delegate from Oakland County's 3rd legislative district.

The district includes the cities of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Keego Harbor, Troy, Walled Lake and the northern half of the city of Witom, and Aven, Bloomfield, Commerce, Milford and West Bloomfield Townships.)

Mrs. Ketchum, 746 Suttell St., is the first woman to become a delegate for one of Oakland County's seven seats.

Seven Republicans and seven Democrats will be nominated July 25 and then the seven who will be Oakland's voice in the convention beginning Oct. 3 will be elected Sept. 12.

STARTED IN 1955

The only woman on the executive committee of Citizens for Michigan, instrumental with the League of Women Voters in bringing about a convention, Mrs. Ketchum began her work for con-con when elected to the board of the league in 1955.

Two years later when she became president she helped coordinate those groups supporting con-con.

The candidate was appointed by former Gov. Williams to two commissions, one dealing with the reorganization of the executive branch of government and the other with metropolitan problems.

The mother of a son in law school and a daughter at the University of Michigan, Mrs. Ketchum's husband is vice president of a dental supply firm.

"I am deeply pleased that citizens of my district have urged me to run," Mrs. Ketchum said. "I believe my years devoted to study of state governmental problems as well as my knowledge of local communities in Oakland County qualify me for this candidacy."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—There are probably millions of planets inhabited by beings more advanced than earthmen, according to the former director of the Harvard College Observatory.

Dr. Harlow Shapley told delegates to the convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) that there are doubtless many places where "biochemistry went to further extremes than it has here."

11,000 Children Searching

Hunt Antiques for Centennial

Some 11,000 Pontiac school children today joined the centennial by inaugurating a vast hunt for antiques.

The search was to begin as pupils returned home today with index cards on which they or their parents were asked to list any possessions from year that might be borrowed for the Centennial.

Participating were children in grades three to nine in all the city's elementary and junior high schools.

Coordinating the search were the public school system's three elementary helping teachers Mrs. Irma Johnson, Mrs. Mary Green and Alice Hayes.

The move came about at the request of Monroe M. Omer, president of the board of education and chairman of the Centennial's historical window committee.

An ambition of this committee is to have retail show windows throughout the city decorated with items from the past during the June 17-24 Centennial celebration.

Mrs. Johnson explained that the children were asked to return the index cards, filled out, to school. Then they are to be assembled in a reference system that will be made available to retailers.

World Vehicle Population
Up 7 Million Over 1960

The new total of cars, trucks and buses on the world's highways is 126.3 million, just over 7 million more than last year. The American Automobile, McGraw-Hill automotive export magazine, reports in its 40th annual World Motor Census in the May issue.

The increase in cars led — up 11.6 per cent; the increase in truck registration was 6.7 per cent; buses rose 7.5 per cent.

The 40th census also shows 38.6 million motor cycles and 11.3 farm tractors. The magazine estimates there are between a half-million and a million military vehicles.

Of the 16.3 million units produced in 1960, 43.2 per cent went for replacement of worn-out vehicles.

The United States registered a gain in total vehicles of 2,086,600 (not including motor cycles) but Western Europe led the United States in percentage with an increase of 14.3 per cent and total vehicle rise with 2.8 million cars, trucks or buses.

Much of the United States production went to replace 1955 model automobiles, which had sold in record numbers. In addition, vehicle life in the United States as compared with nonmanufacturing countries, is shorter because the American buyer does not bear the burden of duties and shipping costs, and can thus afford earlier replacement.

Even though United States production was over a million fewer than in the record year of 1955, world production established a new record.

The continent of Africa and parts of Asia showed numerically modest, but percentage-wise substantial, gains in vehicle numbers. For example, Moroccan cars increased 13.6 per cent to 133,200. Libyan trucks went up 26.6 per cent to 9,000. Nigerian cars gained 13.2 per cent to 36,000.

The Communist bloc car-truck-and-bus total increased from 4,872,600 in 1959 to 5,223,800 in 1960.

4,000 in Contest to Name Center
Near Waterford

Because more than 4,000 people responded to a contest for naming a new $1-million shopping center in Waterford Township, the judges have extended announcement of the winner from today until next Tuesday.

The four judges — Willis Brewer, former State Senator; Harvey Lodge, township Supervisor; Elmer Johnson and Frank Benning, one of the owners — have been swamped by the entries.

The new shopping center will be located on an eight-acre site on Highland Road near Crescent Lake Road. Construction is already under way for the first two units, a 32-lane bowling alley and adjoining swimming pool.

Wrong Low Bidder

The low bidder for two pickup trucks for Waterford Township was the Hauling Chevrolet Co. of Charleston rather than Matthews-Hargreaves, as was stated by Tuesday's Pontiac Press. Hauling's bid was $1,658 for each truck.

Sir William Phipps, royal governor of Massachusetts in 1692, was the first native American to be knighted by an English king. Phipps was born in Maine.

Adolf Expects Death Sentence

Shows Little Emotion in Recorded Playback of Confession

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann was cool and matter-of-fact—with one notable exception—during the long sessions when he told his story to his Israeli captors and a tape recorder, an informed source said today.

"He showed a little feeling when he said he expects to get the death sentence," the Israeli informant reported.

"I know I may face a sentence of death," said Eichmann in a recorded statement that was played back Wednesday for the three-judge court trying him on charges of mass murder of Europe's Jews.

"I cannot claim mercy because I am not worthy of it," Eichmann continued. "I should have hanged myself in public so that all the anti-Semites in the world would have had these terrible events emphasized for them."

"He was quite businesslike the rest of the time," the Israeli source reported, "but he seemed moved, a little emotional, when he read this."

Seventy-seven cartons of tapes were made of the long hours of interrogation that followed Eichmann's capture in Argentina last year. The prosecution Wednesday began playing back excerpts at the trial, bringing into the record the former SS officer's own version of the Nazis' "final solution of the Jewish problem"—meaning total annihilation of Europe's Jews—and the part he played in it. The trial is in recess today while Israel celebrates its Independence Day.

Economist, 86, Calls for U.S. Dictatorship

LAKE WALES, Fla. (P)—Economist Roger W. Babson says the United States must turn to dictatorship if it expects to catch the Soviet Union in the space race.

"With the world being in the position it is today, I don't see how we can risk going along as we are," he said in an interview.

"Three years ago we were informed we were behind the Russians and we are not closing the gap."

Babson, 86, said the United States was able to beat the Soviets in development of the atom bomb only because "it was a dictatorship under President Roosevelt during the war."

1st-Quarter Earnings Disappointing to Stockholders

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK—For stockholders of more than half of the companies reporting earnings, first quarter results are disappointing.

Earnings are averaging 6 per cent below the first three months of 1960. And the decline may be more than that when all the tallies are in.

There are many brilliant exceptions—companies reporting record sales and profits. And the guessing is that the April-June quarter will see earnings making a much happier showing, whether on a basis of actual returns or of comparison with year-ago figures.

Of the first 15 companies to report, 95 show declines from their net income in January-March 1960. This year 21 report a net loss, against 10 a year ago. The combined earnings come to $796,620,000 off 6.3 per cent from the $851,005,000 the same firms made in the 1960 first quarter.

But there's a joker in those figures. That is American Telephone & Telegraph, whose record 1961 first quarter profit of $304 million is 7.5 per cent better than a year ago. Disregard giant AT&T and the remaining 174 have earnings of $492,602,000 or down 13.2 per cent from the previous year.

VARIATIONS WIDE
Rarely have the variations in the returns been so wide. International Business Machines reports a gain of 38.7 per cent. General Electric is off 20 per cent. Du Pont down 11.7 per cent.

and Celanese behind by 36 per cent.

Often specific conditions affect individual companies within the same industry. Goodrich trails 1960 by 36.5 per cent and U.S. Rubber and General Tire also report declines, but Firestone has an increase.

Deere & Co. looks better this year than last, while International Harvester profits are sharply lower. Scott Paper is in the plus column, while West Virginia Pulp & Paper and Rayonier are in the minus.

Safeway and National Tea are ahead of a year ago, but the Kroger grocery chain is behind. In the drug field, Pfizer is up; Parke, Davis down.

RAILS BADLY HIT
Many other chemicals are off along with Du Pont—Allied Chemical, American Cyanamid, Dow, Monsanto, Rohm & Haas, J. P. Stevens and some other textiles are down.

Most utilities maintain their fairly regular year-to-year gains. Rails are badly hit. Steel had a bad production quarter compared with early 1960 when output was still mostly booming, and steel stockholders are prepared for the sobering news.

Many of the companies reporting so far have first quarters ending before the calendar cutoff of March 31. And a majority of companies are still to report. But if the trend of 6 per cent or more down from early 1960 continues, it will compare with a gain of 5.5 per cent in the 1960 first quarter over the 1959 one, which itself was up a whopping 54 per cent from the opening months of depressed 1958.

Comparisons should look much better from now on. In the April-June period a year ago earnings were well along their slide from the top. They averaged 12 per cent below 1959's second quarter, which set a record for any three months period to date. When the current quarter's profits are reported next July they will be compared with well deflated year ago figures.

COST CUTTING HELPS
By last fall the drop in earnings was at a slower pace and it has leveled off still more since then. Cost cutting moves helped many companies. Use of newly completed plants and recently installed machinery improved profit margins for others.

In recent weeks many have reported first signs of reviving orders. Some are beginning to step up output. Confidence is replacing gloom.

But while the latest crop of profit reports is being harvested, there's likely to be many disappointments for stockholders—

Publicity for Cuban Rebels Pushed by New York Firm

By FRANCIS STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — It may seem odd to some people — and possibly humorous to others — for a Madison Avenue public relations firm to handle publicity for Cuban revolutionaries.
But to the Lem Jones Associates, of 280 Madison Ave., the unusual is everyday business. The firm does public relations work for such widely different groups as corporation stockholders waging proxy fights and a day committee of the Armenian Apostolic Church.
As far as the work for the Cubans is concerned, "it's a very serious thing, too," Lem Jones, head of the publicity organization, said today.
"After all," he said, "you are dealing with the future of the people in Cuba, as well as developments that have a vital meaning for the people of this country."
Even so, he said, his firm got into the Cuban revolutionary picture last August "more or less by accident."
He said he was called on for suggestions after one of the organizations seeking to liberate Cuba from the Castro regime tried to hold a news conference here, and wound up with less than resounding success.
Jones said press conference speakers arrived far late and then issued a kit of press releases "big enough to choke a horse." The Cubans wondered afterward "why they didn't get much publicity in the papers."
MOVEMENTS MERGED
This group was the Democratic Revolutionary Front, which recently merged with others into the Cuban Revolutionary Council and issued a call to Cubans to free their country. Jones started with the former and continued with the latter.
He emphasized that his firm is strictly for the purpose of planning and arranging press conferences, and issuing whatever statements the council wishes to make.
"I keep out of policy matters completely," Jones said.
The job has not been without its problems, however.
For one thing, Jones doesn't speak Spanish. Another seems to be that when the Cubans decide to do something, they want it done instantly.
"All of a sudden at 1:30 p.m. on March 22," he said, "I got a call saying they wanted to announce formation of the council. I had two hours to arrange quarters, notify newspapers and radio and television stations, and get copies of their manifesto printed."
Supervising the boys were Mrs. Fred Hewitt, Mrs. Carl Neighbors and Paul Doulphin.
"Believe me, it gave me some hectic moments, but everything turned out beautifully, I think."
Jones declined to say what fee his firm receives but commented somewhat wryly that "these groups happen to be the ones that got out of Cuba without much money."

Pack 25 Cub Scouts Fly, Tour Terminal

Several cub scouts of Pack 25, Longfellow Elementary School, took to the air recently.
The youngsters toured the new terminal building at Pontiac Municipal Airport, then boarded a North Central Airlines flight for Flint.
At Flint, the boys went through a Weather Bureau station, then returned home in station wagons.
En route, the group stopped at an animal asylum in Springfield Township.

Reject Jobless Bill — AFL-CIO

Measure Is Unfair and Deficient, Union Tells Michigan Senate

Michigan Dems Vote Against Wage-Bill Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan's Sen. Pat McNamara and Philip A. Hart, both Democrats, voted with the majority in the 95-38 vote by which the Senate Wednesday defeated an amendment to reduce coverage under the minimum wage bill. The measure, sponsored by Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney, D-Okla., was defeated by a liberal coalition.

Eaton Delays Moving Reliance Division South

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Eaton Manufacturing Co. today delayed moving its Reliance Division from Massillon to the south by signing a one-year contract with the Allied Industrial Workers of America. A company announcement said the contract, signed with Local 28 and 306, will run through April 19, 1962.

It said the union agreed to a 16-cent-an-hour reduction in fringe benefits in lieu of a 16-cent-an-hour cut in basic hourly rates. Mosquitoes repeatedly saved ancient Rome, which stood above malarial swamps. Many more invaders were killed by mosquitoes than by Roman swords.

Doesn't Want Him Tried for Murder

Judge Defends Draker

By MAX E. SIMON

"He's just a kid, with his whole life ahead of him. Surely no one in this courtroom wants to see this boy tried for second-degree murder."

The speaker was Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan and the youth he was talking about was 18-year-old Robert L. Draker.

The judge had just heard testimony in a pretrial hearing to determine whether the be-spectacled Draker, of 680 Melrose Ave., should be ordered held for trial in the Feb. 25 fatal slaying of a 15-year-old school companion.

Jerry A. Chestnut of 885 Monroe Ave. died minutes after being knifed during a teen-age poker game in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huber, 70 Melrose Ave.

'NOT INTENTIONAL'

"This boy didn't intend to kill. Whenever you get a bunch of teenagers together, there'll be some confusion and squabbling," the judge said.

Judge Finnegan, at the conclusion of the examination, reduced the charge against Draker to manslaughter and ordered him arraigned in Circuit Court Monday.

Draker is free on $1,000 bond. Sitting among the spectators were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chestnut, parents of the dead boy.

Mrs. Chestnut expressed bitterness over the words.

"He should be punished," she said, in a voice filled with conviction.

"I can't agree with this."

"It all seems to be one-sided, and, to me, wrong somehow."

"He had a knife — and he came of it, Jerry's dead."

Another youth, 17-year-old Duane Johnson, of 661 Robinson Ave., had testified that Draker had produced a knife while changing remarks with another of the teen-age card players five minutes before knifing Chestnut.

"I forced him to put it down," Johnson said.

The boy, however, insisted there were no animosities among the youths.

Nor were there any hard feelings, he replied to another question. Nor did tensions build up, he insisted.

"We were chums," he said.

To Build More Falcons This Quarter Than Last

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. said today it will build 145,000 Falcons in the current quarter compared with 95,791 in the first three months of the year.

Lee Iacocca, general manager of Ford Division, said part of the increase stems from advance demand for the Falcon Futura, luxury model introduced in showrooms today.

Scholle Faces Fight for State Position

LANSING (AP) — August Scholle, outspoken president of the Michigan AFL-CIO, faced some tough opposition today in his bid to become the first labor boss ever to serve on the State Conservation Commission.

Gov. Swainson appointed Scholle of Royal Oak to one of three vacancies on the seven-member board.

The appointment, however, still must be confirmed by the Republican-controlled Senate, whose GOP members have frequently felt the sting of Scholle's sharp-tongued attacks.

U.S. President, Greek Official Plead for Unity

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and Greek Prime Minister Constantine Karamanlis today called for "further tightening of Greek-American ties" in the face of common dangers.

In a joint communique, the two also said they were agreed on the need to strengthen the defenses of the Atlantic Community within the framework of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The communique was issued as Karamanlis made a farewell call on the President after consultations earlier this week.

South America May Get Help

House OKs Early Aid to Bolster Latin Nations Who Are Worried

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an obvious bid to bolster Latin-American friendship, the House Appropriations Committee today approved an administration request for $600 million to raise living standards in South American countries.

Included was $100 million to help Chile rehabilitate areas devastated by a series of earthquakes last year.

The committee acted ahead of its routine schedule, explained Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., because of "the gravity of the Cuban situation and the outside possibility that some of our good friends and neighbors south of the border would misunderstand any reductions."

Passman headed a subcommittee that conducted closed-door hearings on the money request, originally submitted by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and increased by President Kennedy. Passman said his group's action was taken "reluctantly" because there had been no adequate explanation how some of the money would be spent.

See Boundless Future for State —With Some Its

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's economic future is almost boundless if the state's residents are willing to "get to work and do some house cleaning," according to three panelists at an Engineering Society of Detroit meeting here Wednesday night.

Dr. William Haber, University of Michigan economist, Thomas W. J. Smith, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, and Roblee B. Martin, president of the Dundee Cement Co. of Dundee, settled on a decidedly optimistic outlook for the state—with some qualifications.

Among the "ifs" was a suggestion that Michigan "stop the political flapping that has been going on the state a bad reputation throughout the nation."

Admit Judge Holland to Pontiac General

Oakland County's senior circuit judge has been absent from his bench since Tuesday. He was confined at home with a temperature of 102 degrees before he was transferred to the hospital.

Lesinski Blames 'Politics' for Leak of Tax Proposal

LANSING (U)—Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski believes that his plan to provide $50 million yearly in business relief by extending the so-called "misuse" taxes was disclosed by a Republican senator for political purposes.

Lesinski told newsmen Wednesday that Sen. John H. Stahlin, R-Mich., was being "vindictive and vindictive" in leaking details of the proposal, which clashes with Gov. Swanson's fiscal reform program in some respects.

Stahlin feels that he and other so-called Republican "liberals" were double-crossed last Friday.

He contends the Democrats had agreed to support—and then withdrew—from a plan to extend the 4 per cent use tax on telephone and telegraph services to raise revenue to cover an increase in appropriations for higher education and mental health.

But Lesinski said no such deal was made as far as he was concerned.

Traffic Petition Handed to City

Businessmen Ask End of One-Way Ruling on East Pike

Some 38 businessmen on East
Pike Street have petitioned the city to end the one-way system on Pike between Saginaw and Perry.

They said the one-block system, funneling traffic to the east, was conducive to motorists and bad for business.

That block ties in with the eastbound one-way route on Pike from Perry to Williams Street.
The traffic movement complements the one-way westbound movement on Lawrence Street, Williams to Mill, one block north of Pike.

City Commissioners last night referred the businessmen's proposal to City Manager Walter K.
Willman and the administrative traffic committee. Willman promised a recommendation in about two weeks.

Another suggestion from the audience was handled the same way
by the commission.
This was for signs on South-Saginaw Street to steer out-of-town traffic in the right direction towards the Civic Center area east of downtown.

Tipacon Chapter of the American Business Women's Association held its eighth annual Bosses Night Dinner Wednesday evening at Edgewood Country Club. Preceded by a cocktail hour, the dinner was colorful in decor with a Western theme complete with cactus, murals, saddles and steer heads. Highlight of the evening was the naming of Ralph W. Lownds, personnel director at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, as 1961 Honorary Boss. He received the club's "Ebert Hubbard Trophy" from Julie O'Brien, the club's 1960 Woman of the Year. Assisting Miss O'Brien in the presentation was Marie Stoychoff.

Mistress of ceremonies for the affair was Mrs. D. Richard Vezzey. Mrs. Vezzey and several of her committee members appeared in Western dress, a contrast to the elegant and colorful dinner clothes worn by the several hundred present. The invocation was delivered by Ruth Cramer. Mrs. Raymond Hoyt played the organ during dinner and the cocktail hour.

Following a song fest featuring Western tunes, President Mrs. Charles Stark extended a welcome to a distinguished group of bosses who cut a broad swath across Pontiac's economic and commercial life.

Joan Callahan's toast to the bosses was responded to by W. Dean Thompson of General Motors Truck and Coach Division. Mr. Thompson was last year's Honorary Boss.

Speaker for the evening was Mrs. Irma Crow, graphoanalyst from Flint. Analyzing samples of handwriting from the podium, Mrs. Crow spoke on the character and personality traits revealed in handwriting.

Hostesses for the evening were Miss Cramer, Marie Richey, Mrs. Robert Gallo, Mrs. Cyril Bort, Kay Vedder and Miss Stoychoff.

Assisting general chairman Miss Richey with arrangements were Mrs. Marie Humphries and Mrs. Carroll Welch, reservations; Mrs. Rose Franklin and Mrs. Charles Irish, tickets; Christina Ross, music; Maxine Davison and Mrs. Vezzey, program; and Mrs. Donald Gerber, invitations.

WAGON WHEELS AND WHEELS OF COMMERCE — Wheels were used effectively in decorating the clubhouse. The men who make the wheels of commerce and industry turn in the area were honored guests at Wednesday's dinner. Milo J. Cross of 1975 North Hammond Lake Drive hears Mrs. D. Richard Vezzey of 82 Delaware Drive explain the adventures the club had in assembling the props. Mrs. Ted Nellis (at left) of 76 Chippewa Drive was hostess to her boss, Mr. Cross and Sam Hale, both of Pontiac State Bank.

RIDING HERD — W. Dean Thompson of 32 East Iroquois Road rides herd on a bevy of beautiful business gals. With him (from left) are Julie O'Brien of 75 Hamilton Street, Ruth Cramer of 80 Delaware Drive and Marie Stoychoff of 1155 Fairfax Avenue. Mr. Thompson was 1960 Honorary Boss and Miss O'Brien was the club's 1960 Woman of the Year.

Some in Navy, However, Believe Deterrent Is Inadequate

U.S. Has Many Weapons to Counter Red Subs

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Radio-controlled drone helicopters armed with homing torpedoes. Search devices that can bounce a sub-sealing signal off the ocean floor. Missiles able to kill nuclear submarines at ranges up to about eight miles. These are a few of the detection instruments and weapons, some with a lethal atomic punch which the Navy says it can use—or soon will have ready—if called on to repel the Communist world's 450-submarine force.

Rear Adm. Lloyd M. Mustin, head man in Navy Antisubmarine Warfare, (ASW), claims U. S. antisub capability is very good. He says there are some "dramatic" means, still cloaked in secrecy.

Some others in the Navy and industry which supplies the Navy disagree with Mustin's estimate. A destroyer-minded officer wrote recently there is room for grave doubt that U. S. destroyer forces are currently capable of disposing of the Soviet sub threat. He questioned the effectiveness of most present weapons against high-speed nuclear subs which can stay submerged indefinitely.

PROGRESS TOO SLOW?

Some industry sources have complained progress in ASW is too slow, that the nation's capability in this field does not appear to have advanced in proportion to the growth of the threat.

But Mustin dissents, saying, "We have the stuff; we have the know-how."

The admiral contends "the quality of this equipment is more than adequate" to deal with the greatly increased problem that will develop when the Soviets add a sizable number of nuclear craft to their already potent sub fleet powered by conventional fuels.

To date, the Soviets have shown no nuclear subs, but U. S. Navy officials are taking for granted that such Soviet craft will be operational in the near future.

To prepare for that day, U. S. Antisubmarine Warfare teams have been testing hunt-and-kill techniques against U. S. atomic subs.

As Mustin views it, the pressing need is to acquire new ASW tools in quantity—"there is no substitute for numbers in antisubmarine warfare," he argues.

The Eisenhower administration's farewell military budget proposed about $1.6 billion for ASW readiness in the fiscal year starting July 1. President Kennedy has recommended increasing this by about $35 million.

SOME FOR RESEARCH

Of the total, $26.2 million was earmarked for research and development on still more advanced ASW methods, equipment and weapons.

More than $100 million was allotted for remodeling 33 World War II destroyers, submarines and other types, most of them for antisub work. This modernization program, begun in 1959, involves installing the very latest search gear, missile-fired torpedoes and depth charges and other devices expected to add from five to eight years to the effective lives of these aging vessels.

The Navy has an active fleet of 817 ships—the great bulk of them remaining from World War II—and more than 6,900 planes. Forty-five per cent of the ships and 14 per cent of the planes are primarily devoted to antisubmarine tasks.

The control ship of a hunter-killer task force is a carrier fitted with complicated electronic equipment enabling the commander to coordinate and direct the attack. The United States has 9 ASW carriers and 14 attack cruisers that can be used for operations against subs.

EYES WIDE OPEN

Joining in the hunt are twin-engine carrier-borne tracker planes which can search thousands of square miles of open sea, watching for telltale signs of a snorkel poking above the waves or dropping sonar buoys to detect the sounds of subs rumbling submerged.

Also brought into play are helicopters, often operating in teams of two. Navy experts say one chopper can locate a lurking sub by means of a sonar ball dipped through sound-distorting temperature variations in the water, while the other moves in with a depth charge or torpedo.

The real work horses are high-speed destroyers with long-range sonar and a variety of torpedoes and depth charges, some rocket-fired for greater range.

Submarines with sensitive search gear also have an important role in the sea-air operations to find and sink enemy underwater boats.

The task force commander can call on land-based planes, like the Neptune which is packed with more than 4,000 pounds of electronic equipment and carries nuclear depth charges and homing torpedoes.

TURBINE COPTER

The Navy has high hopes for a new turbine-powered drone helicopter called Dash (for destroyer antisub helicopter). This small chopper can be sent out after a fix is obtained on a sub and ordered by radio to drop a pattern of torpedoes on the quarry. It can carry 1,000 pounds of payload. The first of this model are due to fly this summer.

Then there is ASROC, which is a four-part system including underwater sonar, an electronic fire control computer, an eight-mile missile launcher and the solid-fuel missiles themselves.

The 15-foot missiles, designed for firing from either destroyers or cruisers, contain either acoustic homing torpedoes with high explosive warheads or depth charges with nuclear warheads. They are estimated to be capable of destroying a nuclear sub at ranges up to about eight miles.

A total of 150 ships is due to be armed with ASROC systems within the next few years.

IN-AND-OUTER

Another powerful weapon, still in development, is the SUBROC, a guided missile designed to be fired from torpedo tubes of a submerged submarine, or from the surface. It travels through the air to re-enter the water for the kill.

SUBROC can detect another sub at long range, compute its course and speed before the missile is fired. The spent rocket falls away and the warhead enters conventional or nuclear—races on to the target. Its kill range is described as "an area of many square miles around the launching sub."

Now in use in the "Betty," an airborne atomic depth charge with a kill potential up to several miles from the point of detonation. The Navy says it virtually can eliminate wolf pack concentrations of submarines, like those used by the Germans in World War II.

Oak Wins the Honor as Centennial Tree

Pontiac's Centennial tree, appropriately, will be an Oak—the kind of tree after which Oakland County was named.

A sapling of the Pin Oak variety—red leaved and pyramidal in form—will be planted on the front lawn of City Hall during Arbor Day ceremonies April 28.

A stone monument will be placed nearby, explaining the special significance of the planting this Centennial year, said Donald Nagel, city forester, in charge of the Arbor Day program.

Children of nearby Central School are planning to assist in ceremonies headed by Mayor Philip E. Rowston. Civic and Centennial leaders have been invited.

The 4 p.m. ceremony will be preceded by another planting by children at Bagley School. Such ceremonies are traditional aspects of Arbor Day in Pontiac.

This will be the first year that Arbor Day has been scheduled as a statewide observance. That Gov. Swainson has issued an Arbor Day proclamation is due, at least in part, to the persistent efforts of Nagel and the Department of Parks & Recreation in behalf of conservation.

Nagel, who has written Swainson in behalf of a statewide Arbor Day, believed that the observance "should be celebrated by everyone on the same day."

The city is now campaigning for a national Arbor Day, he said.

City Accidents Down in March

One Fatality Raises '61 Death Toll to 4 Despite Decline in Mishaps

There were 174 traffic accidents in Pontiac during March, a drop from 204 the previous month, according to the Pontiac Police Department's month-end report.

It was the third straight month in which accidents fell off sharply. Accidents in December numbered 345, in January, 252.

However, one fatality in March raised the 1961 traffic death toll to four, through the same period last year there had been no traffic deaths in the city.

In 49 of the accidents persons suffered injuries, while the remaining 124 involved property damage only.

The report showed 60 persons injured in mishaps last month, compared with 84 in February. Through March, accidents this year totaled 630, down from the 718 for the comparable period of 1960.

Kennedy's Inauguration Was a Financial Success

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite a snowstorm and traffic jams, President Kennedy's inauguration was a financial success.

Inaugural chairman Edward H. Foley said Wednesday that 540 checks totaling 1,238,352 are being mailed to individuals and business firms who underwrote the celebration's expenses. Every dollar, he said, is being returned.

Majority Should Decide

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: A group of six couples belongs to a card club. Two of the couples in the group will be celebrating their 10th wedding anniversary in two weeks and we planned to take them out for the evening. The mother of one of the anniversary couples died suddenly last week. After much telephoning back and forth about what to do, I expressed the opinion that the evening out should not be canceled because of the other couple which was also celebrating its anniversary.

I can't see why 10 other people should be affected by this death, especially since many of us had already engaged baby sitters for the evening and one of the husbands went through a great deal of trouble to get his night off switched to this particular night.

Some of the others in the group think we should postpone our night out since the bereaved couple can't be with us. They think it would be very lacking in feeling to go ahead with our plans. Will you please give us your opinion on the matter?

A: In this situation, the best policy would be to put the matter to a vote and let the majority decide. However, it would be more considerate to the bereaved couple to postpone the party. This, of course, is your personal choice, and you must be guided by what you feel appropriate under the circumstances.

Q: A man who has remarried placed flowers in the church in memory of his first wife. The inscription on the card read: "In loving memory of Mary Jones, by her husband, John Jones." Wasn't this belittling to his present wife?

A: It was not belittling to her because his being married now to someone else does not alter the fact that at the time of his first wife's death, he was her husband.

Q: When we invite friends to our house to dinner or to play bridge, is it then not up to them to invite us to their house next, for something?

A: Strictly speaking, yes, if they are able to do so, but good friends hardly stand on turns.

The Emily Post Institute is sorry it cannot answer personal mail.

Abby Says Forget It

Strictly Business . . . and Bad

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow. I have three children. I am going with a man of 21 who wants to marry me. He is not very mature-looking and could pass for a high school boy.

I prefer a more mature man, but I have gone with many, and the minute I start talking marriage they drop me. So I have decided to marry this young man. After I marry him I will persuade him to adopt my children so, in case the marriage doesn't work out, he will have to support all of us. The young man's mother is dead and his father objects to his marrying me.

The father has money and so does his son. I know he is too young for me, but I am thinking of my children. Please advise me.

WANTS TO MARRY

DEAR WANTS: This is a cold business proposition whereby you are using marriage to trap a young man into supporting you and your children. He will not be young and immature at his life.

And when he realizes that he has been used for a meal ticket, he will resent you and the children. I know that life for a young widow with 3 little ones is not easy, but you will be happier if you pick on someone your own age.

DEAR ABBY: I usually agree with you, but when you say a "NO SMOKING" sign does not belong in a living room, I must disagree. A smoker and a skunk have but one thing in common. They both produce an offensive odor.

But the skunk is a country gentleman because he will behave himself unless disturbed. The smoker will, without provocation, pollute the air, considering no one but himself.

Gallery Announces Exhibition

Birmingham's Little Gallery will open its spring exhibition Saturday.

The three-part exhibit will continue the gallery's policy of presenting variety and novelty in art.

Two new artists will be introduced: Ernest Cox, master's degree graduate of Cranbrook Academy of Art and Willard Harris who earned his master's of fine arts degree at Tulane University in Louisiana.

Mr. Cox will show sculpture in several materials, and Mr. Harris will display several striking paintings and collages.

Drawings in oil, ink, charcoal and pencil by Gerald Andrae, John deMartelli and Clifton McChesney will comprise the second group. A spokesman for the gallery reports the three artists are "Little Gallery regulars."

Special feature at the show will be a "first" for this area, a group of multiple monoprints from Lima, Peru. Pre-Columbian, colonial, folk art and contemporary motifs were employed by native Peruvian craftsmen who produced the prints under the guidance of a North American. Architects and decorators particularly will be interested in the prints.

The exhibition will continue through May 20.

Of Pain, Loneliness or the Dark

Many Teen-Agers Admit Having Fears

BY EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

If you're a teen-ager and you're scared of the dark and reluctant to admit it because you think it's juvenile, here's a fact that will brighten your life.

A lot of other teen-agers are scared of the dark, too.

In fact, you can assume that you are not alone in any of your secret fears.

We recently asked 973 young people in many parts of the United States if they have any secret fears.

Although 59 per cent denied it, and 6 per cent didn't answer the question, 35 per cent admitted they do.

We imagine that many of those who denied it would, if they spoke their inner thoughts, change their minds. For fear begins in infancy and lasts through life.

As the late Hugh Walpole, a British novelist, once wrote:

PLAYTHINGS OF FATE

"We are so largely the playthings of fate in our fears. To one, fear of the dark; to another, of physical pain; to a third, of public ridicule; to a fourth, of poverty; to a fifth, of loneliness—for all of us our particular creature links in ambush."

And those fears, which Walpole attributed to older people, are your fears.

Here are some of the fears of some of your contemporaries.

"I fear death, childbirth, humiliation," says Ann Rogers, 18, of Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Gary Carter, 17, of Alper, Ore., fears that "loved ones close to me will die."

Geert Goodwin, 15, of State College, Pa., has a common fear, but the courage to admit it—a fear of being alone in the dark.

"Speaking in front of people," is the fear that bedevils 17-year-old Prudence Perkins of Eugene, Ore.

Karen Edens, 16, of Waterloo, Iowa, has a secret fear of world destruction; Elaine Simel, 16, of Brooklyn, N.Y., a fear of being an old maid; Jerry Lieberman, 17, of Newark, N.J., "that I won't be accepted in college."

FIND YOUR OWN

In all probability, you can find your own secret fear in that list. You might also wish to compare your answer with those we received to these questions:

Is your fear justified? Of the 35 per cent who acknowledged that they have secret fears, 30 per cent feel they are justified.

Are you trying to overcome it? Twenty-six per cent say they are. Is there anyone you confide in? Twenty-three per cent say there is.

Some fears are easy to justify, others are not, and others are not justifiable at all.

The girl with a fear of being an old maid, sees justification for her fear in the fact that "there are more women than men."

She has statistics to back her up. But this isn't true of most of our fears. And many of you will agree with Sheria Brown, 17, of Eugene, Ore., who says: "There are no sound reasons behind my fears, but they persist nonetheless."

Young people who are trying to overcome their fears have some pretty sound ways of attacking them. Sheria Brown, for example, says she does so "by talking common sense to myself and listening to the counseling of my mother."

And Karen Edens, the Waterloo girl with a fear of world destruction, is working on her fear "by strengthening my religious faith and my faith in human nature."

When it comes to confiding fears to someone, most of your fellow teen-agers choose their mother. Others talk it out with a good friend or their "steady."

And so you see, other teen-agers too have fears. Perhaps that knowledge will help you place yours in the proper perspective, perhaps even lick it.

3 City Firemen Are Promoted

Pontiac Fire Chief James R. White today announced promotions for three city firemen. They became effective Sunday.

Donald H. Thorpe, 36, 400 R. St., Waterford Township, promoted from engineer to lieutenant.

He joined the department in 1950 and was promoted from firefighter to engineer in September 1957.

The other promotions raise firefighters Sidney J. Miller and Elzie J. Nolen to the rank of engineer.

Miller, 36, 617 N. Perry St., joined the department in 1951, and Nolen, 40, 115 State St., has been a Pontiac fireman since 1950.

Lansing Man Guilty of Troy Break-In

A Circuit Court jury of 12 women yesterday convicted 32-year-old Joe Crumpton of Lansing of breaking and entering in the nighttime. The jury deliberated three hours.

Judge Frederick C. Ziem said Crumpton will be sentenced May 8 after the probation department conducts a presentence investigation.

The women found Crumpton guilty of the theft of 31 crumpons of cigarettes and a pig saw from Paul and Irma's Market, 675 Livernois Road, Troy, on Jan. 14.

He was returned to the county jail under a $2,000 bond to await sentencing.

Storm Stirs New Over Film on Reds

LANSING — The State House fight over the controversial film "Operation Abolition" is on once more.

Reps. Frederic J. Marshall, R-Alton, and William Romano, D-Warren, stirred it up again Wednesday when they called on the legislature to invite Congressman Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania to address a joint meeting of the House and Senate next Tuesday.

Walter is chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, which conducted hearings in San Francisco last May.

"Operation Abolition," pieced together from movie shots made at the hearing, purports to show how Communists inspired student rioting.

Occupancy remains well above last year's average of 90 per cent at this time of year, Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, reported.

The rate was 95 per cent last week and has averaged 93 per cent the first three weeks of the current accounting period, he reported.

A pearl and sequin crown held her fingertip veil of French illusion, and she carried a cascade arrangement of white roses, carnations and stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Mary Kas-truba. Barbara Jambirala and Barbara Arthurton were bridesmaids.

Suggests Lassiter Estate Pay Watson $17,265

A referee for Oakland County Probate Court today recommended that Gordon Watson get $17,265 from the estate of Parvin (Bill) Lassiter, the Royal Oak car dealer Watson is accused of conspiring to kill.

Walter R. Denison, Pontiac lawyer appointed as referee over claims on Lassiter's estate, filed the recommendation in Probate Court today after more than a year of intermittent testimony.

He said it was based on Watson's claim that he was working as manager of Lassiter's DeSoto Car Co. for 30 per cent of the profits.

Watson is standing trial in Wayne County Circuit Court with Lassiter's widow, Nelle, of Beverly Hills, on charges of first-degree murder and conspiracy in the 1959 slaying. They are charged with making arrangements for Lassiter's death.

Denison's recommendation was that Watson was entitled to 30 per cent of the net profit on the sale of the company after Lassiter's death. This was $30,538, after deduction of $30,000 representing Lassiter's final investment. Denison said.

Irked Residents Agree Jim Crow Has to Go

Jim Crow is somewhat of a problem in Oakton Township, everyone agreed yesterday.

His latest victim was 2-year-old Julie Jasmund, according to her mother Mrs. Beverly Jasmund, 1465 Roy Road.

Jim Crow stepped down on Julie while she was munching a cracker in the backyard of the Jasmund home. He nipped both the cracker and Julie's finger.

With other complaints on record, Sheriff's Deputy George Emers went next door and talked with Mrs. Larry Moore, 1465 Roy Road.

Miniature Golf Course Plan Studied by City

The Parks & Recreation Department has under consideration a proposal to locate a miniature golf course on East Boulevard at Perry Street.

David R. Ewalt, department director, is to report to the City Commission Tuesday on whether he thinks the amusement place would annoy nearby residential areas.

In shutting the proposal to Ewalt Tuesday night for study, the City Commission struck a new note of caution.

Several commissioners, including Mayor Philip E. Rowston, recalled that a year ago three new tramline centers were given hurried licenses one night.

Throughout last summer, the Mayor recalled, there were repeated license this time without first making a check of how the operation will affect the neighborhood." Rowston observed.

Action on Henry Is Set Aside

He Had Received No Notice of Court Date, Commissioner Says

Macomb County Circuit Judge James E. Spier yesterday set aside a $2,139 default judgment against Pontiac City Commissioner Milton R. Henry for failing to appear in court to answer a summons.

Judge Spier granted a motion by the Pontiac lawyer to set aside the judgment of March 2, but assessed him $50 costs.

The judgment came in a suit filed by Fred C. Shoup of Mount Clemens after a November 1959 auto accident. When Henry failed to appear at a court hearing on the suit, Judge Spier entered the judgment in favor of Shoup.

Henry said yesterday that he had not received a notice of the hearing. Several reasons were suggested for this—that he had to move his office after the Oakland Theater fire, that he had been in Africa since January.

A similar default judgment entered against Henry in the suit last July, was set aside on grounds that it was improperly served.

Ex-Queen Fond of Berlin's Old Michigan Song

LANSING (AP) - Queen Mother Elizabeth loves the old Irving Berlin song "I Want to Go Back to Michigan, Down on the Farm."

Who says so?

Ed Sullivan, television personality and newspaper columnist, says so.

He said it in a letter to Gov. Swainson, who asked Sullivan to visit Michigan during Michigan Week, May 22-27.

The TV star said he learned about the queen mother's musical preference on a visit to London some years ago.

Visiting Beatrice Little backstage, he said he found her rehearsing the Michigan song, written by Berlin in 1914.

"Beatrice explained that the Queen Mother would be in her audience that night and she was rehearsing the number because years earlier, she had sung it on a similar occasion and the then queen was simply delighted with the wording of it," Sullivan said.

The governor's office said Sullivan neither rejected nor accepted the invitation to visit Michigan "but showed a strong interest in coming here."

List Iron-Horse Railroad Trips

The first of three Grand Trunk Western Railroad excursion trains slated in a month's time will roll through Pontiac Sunday.

These three excursions may seal the fate of an old friend - the steam locomotive.

The final decision lies in the hands of rail fans.

When Grand Trunk completed its dieselization program a year ago, the grand old iron horse didn't necessarily die.

A few steamers were retained for special excursion trips. This was fine last year, but not so this year.

Steam locomotives require periodic overhauls. The last remaining GTW steam giant is due for such an overhaul this fall.

MAY SCRAP 'OLD GIRL'
Railroad officials have indicated that unless the turnout for the three spring excursions is large enough to promise any future for steam locomotive excursions, the old girl will be scrapped.

Sunday's trip from Detroit to Port Huron and back with stops in Royal Oak, Birmingham and Pontiac is being sponsored by the Michigan Railroad Club.

The second trip, May 20, will run from Detroit to Durand, leaving Pontiac at 10:15 a.m. and returning at 5:15. Adult fare from Birmingham and Pontiac is $4.50.

Highlight of this trip will be a gala dedication ceremony, complete with parade, of a locomotive memorial in Durand.

All three excursion trains will be drawn by Engine No. 6323. This is the huge Northern-type 1-4-1 steam locomotive due for the scrap heap in October.

Rail fans are urged to make reservations for the May 7 trip by Monday, May 1, so that officials can determine the number of coaches needed. After May 1, tickets for the May 7 trip will cost 30-cents more for adults and 25-cents more for children.

TO BATTLE CREEK
The May 7 trip will operate from Detroit to Battle Creek. It will leave Pontiac at 9 a.m., arrive in Battle Creek at 1:30 p.m. and return to Pontiac at 7:45.

Ticket prices from Birmingham children, ages 5-11, will pay half fare.

TO DURAND
The second trip, May 20, will run from Detroit to Durand, leaving Pontiac at 10:15 a.m. and returning at 5:15. Adult fare from Birmingham and Pontiac is $4.50.

There will be stops at Durand and Port Huron for movie and photo runs. The train will include an open door baggage car, air conditioned coaches, refreshment car, two open gondola cars and a caboose.

It is scheduled to leave Royal Oak at 10 a.m., Birmingham at 10:10 and Pontiac at 10:25. It will return to Pontiac at 7 p.m. Box lunches are included in the fare.

'M' Nine Meets Gophers as Big 10 Play Starts

CHICAGO (AP)—NCAA and Big Ten champion Minnesota, pegged to also win this season, Friday takes on favored Michigan in the opening round of Big Ten conference baseball play.

The slate of single game openers Friday also includes Purdue at Ohio State, Iowa at Michigan State, Wisconsin at Northwestern and Illinois at Indiana.

Saturday, all clubs play doubleheaders, including Minnesota at Michigan State, Iowa at Michigan State, Purdue at Indiana, Wisconsin at Northwestern and Illinois at Ohio State.

Minnesota's Gophers, weakened losses through graduation, ineligibility and professional signing, came through pre-conference play with a 9-5 record.

Michigan's early spring record was 9-3, not much better than Minnesota's, but the Wolverines were regarded to have played a tougher warmup schedule.

Michigan coach Don Lund has a sophomore—bushy-tailed team which has displayed both offensive and defensive skill in 9 games, the Wolverines worked 11 double plays.

Michigan State, fashioning a 12-2 spring mark, also is regarded as a strong threat to Minnesota's title defense, while Indiana (7-2) reportedly has one of its best lines in years, and Ohio State (7-1) can be running up front in the scheduled 15-game Big Ten race.

Illinois had a 8-3 record, but coach Les Ellbracht regards his club as one of his weaker entries in a 12-21 mark. Apparently destined for second division finishes are North Western (2-7), Wisconsin (2-8), Iowa (3-7) and Purdue (4-5).

Minnesota, however, does not have to recapture the Big Ten title to defend its crown in the NCAA's "world series" in June. Under a new rule, all Big Ten teams are "at large" entries and as many as three from the conference could be selected for the NCAA's district 4 playoffs.

Minnesota took the Big Ten title last season with a 12-21 mark, and Ohio State placed second with 6-4.

'M' Reappoints Plant as Faculty Representative

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Professor Marcus L. Plant has been re-appointed for a three-year term as the University of Michigan faculty representative to the Western Conference (Big Ten).

In another action, the U. of M. Board of Control of Intercollegiate Athletics approved increasing the number of faculty members on the board from seven to nine, giving them a clear majority.

The board will be composed from now on of 17 members, drawn from administration, faculty and students. It formerly had 15 members.

Under the new system, faculty board members will serve for three years instead of four.

Drivers' School for Sports Car Enthusiasts Set

Sports car drivers from three Michigan regions will be taking examinations for competition licenses Saturday and Sunday at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club course at Waterford.

The Sports Car Club of America makes it mandatory for drivers to have a license before they can participate in regional competition. The Northeast Michigan, Central Western Michigan and Detroit regions of SCCA have arranged the drivers' school.

Unlicensed drivers wishing to qualify must attend both days. There will be classroom work and instruction on the track. A flag and communications course will be included. Classes start at 7 a.m. Saturday and at 9 a.m. Sunday.

Wilbur Henderson of the North-east region is chairman of the driving school. Emil Brodbeck of Detroit will have charge of the flag and communications work. Registration fee is $15 for the drivers' school and $1 for communications.

FINN WINS — Eino Oksanen, 30-year old detective from Helsinki, Finland, crosses finish line in the time of 7:23:29 to win the 65th Boston A.A. Marathon yesterday. John P. McMorrow, acting mayor, crowns the Finn with a laurel as he ends the 26-mile, 385 yard course.

Finn Marathon Winner; Dog Causes Kelley to Fall

BOSTON (AP)—Eino Oksanen, a light-tipped police detective whose persistent efforts have extended Finland's domination of the Boston A. A. Marathon to three straight years.

For the second time in the last three tests, the 30-year-old Helsinki native used endurance and strategy to defeat America's Johnny Kelley.

However, the heroic role was reserved for third place Englishman Fred Norris who helped Kelley to his feet when the latter was spilled by a stray dog 10 miles from the end.

In a carbon copy of his 1959 performance when he conquered similar bone-chilling cold to whip Kelley in 2:22:42, Oksanen again bided his time in a stride-for-stride duel with the Croton, Conn., schoolteacher until he was sure his move to the front would not give his adversary time to recover.

"I'd call him a relentless runner," Kelley said in praise of Oksanen.

'Kennedy' and Midgets at White Sox Opener

CHICAGO (AP)—Bill Veck's 1961 unveiling of the Chicago White Sox in Conslary Park included a half dozen midget vendors so hot seat patrons would not have their vision obscured at the Sox-Washington Senator game.

A herding strip all around the playing field was coated with clinders, imported from Strawn, Tex., to reduce sun glare. John F. Kennedy threw out the first ball. He's a politician in suburban Oak Lawn.

Moon Ups Homer Total to 6 Pacing LA; Reds Win

By The Associated Press
Any day now they'll be calling sliced home runs over the left field screen in the Los Angeles Coliseum "Moon-shots." That's because the Dodgers' southpaw swinging Wally Moon appears to have perfected the art of dumping fly balls for homers in that sector. Moon has hit six home runs in eight games, all over the Coliseum's 42-foot-high left field screen.

only 251 feet from home plate. The Dodger outfielder, an honor student at Texas A&M some years ago, claims a newly perfected "reverse English" swing has been largely responsible for his sudden rash of homers.

Moon adopts that unorthodox cut when swinging at inside pitches. The ball sort of curves off the bat and takes off in the "wrong field" direction. When the pitch is outside, he merely reaches out and pokes at the ball. That's what the man says.

In any event, Wally struck two of those "Moon-shots" Wednesday night to lead the Dodgers to a 7-2 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. The first homer came with two on in the first inning. The second was a solo flight in the fourth. He walked in the sixth and home runs and two doubles. Oddly enough, in 38 games against Cardinal pitching in 1959-60, he managed to hit only two home runs. But that was before he became a thinking hitter.

Bob Friend pitched a three-hitter and Dick Groat, Bob Skinner and Roberto Clemente each bopped two hits in the Pirates victory over the Cubs. Ernie Banks

New Senators Win, 7-2 Chisox Lose Home Opener

CHICAGO (U) — Relief pitcher Marty Kutyna singled across two big Washington runs and hand-cuffed Chicago for six innings to ruin the White Sox home opener, 7-2, before 16,637 Wednesday.

Kutyna, acquired by the new Senators from Kansas City last December, made an impressive 1961 debut after spelling starter Ed Hobaugh in the third.

The loser was starter Billy Pierce, who yielded to a pinch hitter in the fourth, and was followed by Russ Kemmerer and Frank Baumann.

Kutyna yielded only four hits in his fine relief job to get the victory.

Kutyna's big single came with two out in the fourth after a walk and Willie Tasby's two bagger to give the Senators a 4-2 lead.

Rye Wafer Crust Different for Lemon Dessert Mold

Here's real dessert news you'll want to make part of your repertoire! You can mold a proud and tall pudding dome in a deep mixing bowl lined with Swedish crisp bread crumbs chill it, then invert for a regal dessert with a flavorful crumb crust that tastes as though it took hours to make.

The crunchy topping owes its unique crispness to crumbed rye wafers, combined with shortening and sugar, and used to line a deep mold. This versatile crust adapts to a variety of textures and flavors, and needs no baking. Use the crust in its simplest version with lemon or chocolate fillings. Add chocolate pieces to the crumbs for a rich Nesselrode dessert.

The pudding fillings for dessert domes may be quickly made from start, or whipped up from prepared mixes.

In addition to this recipe, you can try your hand at inventing fillings for this crisp-crusted dome. Prepare any firm pudding or gelatin dessert, using about 2 1/2 cups of pudding to fill a lined 5-cup mold. Chill until slightly thickened, then transfer to the crust-lined mold.

Crusty Lemon Dome

Sugar Coat Canned Pears to Serve With Pancakes

We've often been warned that only the early bird gets the breakfast but in this case everyone—early, late or on the hour—will have his fill! Fluffy pancakes, an array of little sausages and caramel-flavored pear halves are accompanied by steaming cups of coffee, a daytime story with a happy beginning.

Pancakes have a new measure of popularity evidenced by the number of restaurants devoted solely to perpetuating them for breakfast, lunch or dinner. This versatility is outlined only by their menu-mate in this instance: canned Bartlett pear halves. Here the pears are gently swathed in a rich caramel coating and served hot or cold as the perfect fruit foil to the rich sausages.

Pears in plain or fancy dress are an eminent visitor to the breakfast menu, but they also serve with distinction as a salad or dessert fruit or meat accompaniment. Many people prefer canned pears chilled, just as they come from the can; for others this is merely the starting point for a number of flavorful dishes. Even toddlers reach for pears for they like the sweet mellow flavor and smooth texture that are the prize attributes of canned Bartlett pears.

Top of the Morning Pears

8 canned Bartlett pear halves

1/2 cup sugar

1/2 cup pear syrup, heated

1/2 cup butter

1 teaspoon maple flavoring

Place sugar in a heavy skillet or saucepan over low heat; stir constantly until sugar has melted and changed to a light brown syrup. Remove from heat; gradually stir in hot pear syrup and butter; return to heat and boil moderately until smooth, stirring constantly. Add maple flavoring and pears, cut side down. Cook gently until pears have light coating of syrup. Serve either hot or cold. Syrup remaining after pears have been removed may be served on pancakes. Makes 8 servings.

BREAKFAST PEARS—Canned pears get a rich caramel coating before being served with pancakes for breakfast. Their smooth flavor contrasts well with the rest of the menu, especially the pork sausage.

Punch to Serve Fifty Combines Fruit Juices

Here's a tried and true recipe for an excellent wedding punch.

This Florida Orange Blossom

Punch makes 50 servings.

Combine 3 cups each sugar and water in saucepan; heat and stir until sugar is dissolved. Bring to a boil and let boil 5 minutes without stirring; chill. Add 6 cups grapefruit juice, 6 cups orange juice, 1 1/2 cups lime juice and 1 1/2 quarts gingerale; pour over ice.

Savory tid-bits to pass with drinks are the new moisturized prunes, plited, and tiny cocktail sausages, on toothpicks... one of each to a toothpick.

EGG BASKETS—Don't put all your eggs in one basket; divide them and serve them in these star-shaped pastry or bread baskets. The Mardi Gras sauce peeps up the usual creamed egg mixture.

Colorful Creamed Eggs Fill Pastry or Bread Cups

Always a pleasant way to entertain friends and relatives is a relaxed brunch or supper gathering. This is especially true during the busy Easter season.

What to serve is no problem at all. Call on the perfect brunch or supper dish—Egg Baskets with Mardi Gras Sauce. The Egg Baskets are flaky pastry shells that can be prepared well ahead of time. The bright Mardi Gras Sauce has a white sauce base with hard-boiled egg, ripe olives and pimiento added. This, too, is a "make-ahead" item.

Gatherings of friends and relatives are even more enjoyable when they're impromptu and spontaneous. For spur-of-the-moment get-togethers, the Egg Baskets with Mardi Gras Sauce are a life-saver because the ingredients are those you're almost certain to have on hand. Add a crisp salad or relishes, coffee or milk, a warm quick-mix coffee cake or fruit for dessert and quickly you have a wonderful tempting meal.

Serve the goodness of this dish during the Easter season and all year around. Besides melt-in-your-mouth tenderness, the flavorful pastry shells offer the B vitamins—mainly, riboflavin and thiamine—and food iron. It's the enrichment of the flour that adds these important nutritional benefits.

For another idea—make toast cups from enriched bakery bread for an equally nutritious meal. Trim the crusts from the bread slices, press them into muffin cups and brush with butter. Toast the bread in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 15 minutes until the cups are golden brown. Serve them with the Mardi Gras Sauce.

Egg Baskets
With Mardi Gras Sauce
2 cups enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
3 to 5 tablespoons cold water
Sift together flour and salt. Cut shortening into flour until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Turn out on floured board or pastry cloth and press dough together. Divide dough in half.

Roll out each half into very thin sheet, about 1-16 inch thick. Cut into 3 1/2-inch squares. Place two squares together, one over the other, to form an 8-pointed star. Repeat with remaining squares. Fill stars into 2 1/2-inch muffin cups. Prick with fork.

Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes, or until lightly browned. Serve with Mardi Gras Sauce.

Mardi Gras Sauce
1 1/2 cups condensed cream of celery soup (10 1/2-ounce can)
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup dried minced onion
1/2 cup sliced pitted ripe olives
1/2 cup drained pimiento (about 1/4 cup)
Combine soup, water, salt and mustard. Heat to boiling. Reduce heat, add eggs, olives and pimiento. Heat to simmering temperature. Serve hot. Makes 4 servings. 2 baskets per serving.

Pontiac League of Blind to Sponsor Bake Sale

The Pontiac League of the Blind and Friends of the group will sponsor a bake sale at Federal Department Store on North Saginaw Street Saturday.

This is White Cane Week, and Lions Club members from throughout the area will also be seeking donations and giving out White Cane emblems Friday and Saturday. The money is used to help those with sight problems.

All Year for Squash

Butternut squash is available all year round so take advantage of this good vegetable. Pare the squash, halve it and remove seeds and stringy portion in the bulbous end. Dice and cook in a small amount of salted water until tender. Season with butter and a suspicion of nutmeg or mace.

Kids Like It

Youngsters usually like carrot and raisin slaw. You'll need a medium carrot (grated) and a couple of tablespoons of raisins for each serving. Dress with a mixture of salad oil, vinegar, salt and sugar.

Dinner's Ready Just Needs Heat

"Do-Ahead Casserole" is a hearty main dish that lets you take the afternoon off for shopping, bridge or meetings. Hours ahead flavorful ripe olives and chipped beef can be mixed with the creamy blend of cottage cheese, sour cream and fine noodles; then refrigerated until half an hour before dinner. Add a garnish of glossy ripe olive wedges just before sending casserole to the table.

Do-Ahead Casserole
1 cup ripe olives
1 can (2 1/2 cups) fine noodles
1 cup cream-style cottage cheese
1 cup commercial sour cream
1 cup shredded chipped beef

1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 teaspoon garlic powder (optional)
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Paprika

Cut ripe olives in wedges. Cook noodles in lightly-salted, boiling water; drain. Blend remaining ingredients. Stir in noodles and olives. Turn into 10x6-inch baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes. Sprinkle with paprika and garnish with additional ripe olive wedges, if desired. (If refrigerated ahead, let casserole stand at room temperature 10 to 15 minutes before baking.) Makes 6 servings.

Olive-Tomato Sauce

Add ripe olive pieces to canned stewed tomatoes. Thicken with a spoonful of cornstarch or flour and heat thoroughly. Serve as hot sauce over baked or broiled fish.

Sauerkraut Salad Has Good Taste, Few Calories

It's pork and sauerkraut, only this time the sauerkraut's in a salad. A Sauerkraut Stuffed Tomato makes an ideal accompaniment for a roast pork loin, fresh ham or pork chops. It is also good with a cold plate of ham and chicken and cheese.

A can of sauerkraut is mired in a mixture of cider vinegar, salad oil, ketchup and Worcestershire sauce for 30 minutes. A touch of onion rounds out the flavor. After a half hour, the kraut is heaped into tomato cups or "flowers" and served on lettuce. No extra dressing is needed although an onion ring garnish is attractive.

Complete the hot meal with a baked potato or a green vegetable (depending on how much you want to eat). Finish the cold plate with a genuine dill pickle and a hard-boiled egg. This, by the way, is a good salad suggestion for those who are counting calories.

Sauerkraut-Stuffed Tomatoes

1 tablespoon cider vinegar
1 tablespoon corn oil
1 tablespoon ketchup
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 can (1 pound) sauerkraut, drained
6 medium, firm tomatoes
Combine first 7 ingredients in jar; shake well. Combine dressing with sauerkraut; marinate 30 minutes.

Origin of Smorgasbord

Smorgasbord originated in Scandinavian countries as a traditional gesture of hospitality on feast days and wedding celebrations. Distances were long and travel hard, so guests sometimes stayed for two weeks. They brought an assortment of foods. These offerings were laid out on a common table for all to enjoy.

In both retail and wholesale volume, New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and Philadelphia lead the nation.

"CARNIVAL" BEST MUSICAL — Anna Maria Alberghetti is shown in scene from "Carnival" which was chosen by Drama Critics Circle of New York as the best musical of the 1960-61 Broadway season. The show, which opened last week, was written by Michael Stewart with the score by Bob Merrill.

Complain to Judge by TV Display Drive-In Court

DETROIT (UPI) — A legal kind of curbstone justice was demonstrated in suburban Dearborn Wednesday.

The only "payoff" involved would be above board, although a motorist could still settle a traffic ticket without leaving his car.

(The illegal sort of curbstone justice occurs, it is said, when a policeman and a motorist settle a traffic violation between themselves.)

The Dearborn demonstration was described by a judge as "the world's first drive-in traffic court."

The "drive-in court" is set up like a drive-in bank and would enable a policeman to stay in his car to pay minor traffic fines as well as talk to the judge.

A TV camera and receiver are mounted in the drive-in booth and another TV camera and receiver are set up in the judge's chambers. Thus, if the motorist had a question about his ticket, he could discuss it with the judge without leaving his car.

The "courtroom" was designed largely by Dearborn Judge John T. McWilliams as part of a new public safety center in the city.

The drive-in courtroom isn't yet in operation but is merely being demonstrated during open house tours which started Wednesday.

Wants Some of Park Given Back to Indians

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Give it back to the Indians?

Mayor Bruce Hobbs wants to turn over part of Iroquois Park to one or two Indian families this summer to set up a village.

He thinks it would lend atmosphere to the outdoor drama "Bound for Kentucky," scheduled July 3-Aug. 12 in the park's amphitheater. The story deals with the founding of Louisville by George Rogers Clark in 1778.

Canadian Freighter Hits NYC Rail Bridge

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A Canadian grain freighter bumped the New York Central System's Mainline Bridge over the Maumee River Wednesday causing freight and passenger trains to be rerouted for a time.

The ship, the Hutch Cliff Hall of the Hall Corp. of Canada, struck the open swing-type span and became wedged in the opening. It took a tug an hour to free the vessel, which resumed its trip.

LBJ to Get Degree

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree June 1 from Eastern Kentucky State College, the first honorary degree ever given by the school.

Commuters Get Off on Wrong Track

NEW YORK (AP) — Commuters on the New Haven Railroad's midnight express to Springfield, Mass., stared at the lights flashing by and allowed as how the scenery didn't look the same.

Somehow, the New Haven train got switched onto the New York Central's Hudson Division tracks and started up the wrong side of the Bronx.

It sped along for about 10 minutes. Then it was shunted back to its proper tracks.

No Movies in Midland

MIDLAND (AP) — Midland is losing its one and only movie house. Mrs. Delores Cassidy, president of Cassidy Theaters Inc., said the Midland Theater would close Saturday night after the final program.

the final program, Mrs. Cassidy gave no reason for closing the theater. Sunspots are great funnel-shaped vortices in the outer layers of the sun. No one knows what causes them.

Don't Let Her Stumble in the Dark

Vickie is a Ray of Sunshine

By DICK HANSON

Vickie Lynn Handley is a wonderfully alert 6-year-old with a sunny outlook on life.

She is her daddy's little sweetheart and mommy's little helper. Her 3-year-old brother Randy idolizes her.

Vickie is an exceptional child. She likes to ride her tricycle, play ball, skip rope and go to school.

A little bundle of joy who lifts the spirits of all who come to know her, Vickie loves to play with her school friends at Lincoln M. Alcott Elementary School in Pontiac. She also is a student, and likes her studies.

And that is a real accomplishment for Vickie, who must learn many things by braille. You see, she is blind.

Vickie doesn't mind that she has been afflicted since birth.

You think you are going to play little Vickie before you meet her. But you don't. She is so full of life, her effervescence is contagious. You can't help feeling better by knowing Vickie.

Vickie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Handley of 32 Rutgers St. Her father works on the assembly line at the Fisher Body plant.

Until recently Vickie's mother worked part time as a waitress in Pontiac. But she became ill and had to quit. The family has had its ups and downs.

But the Handleys have managed to get along. They have a happy home.

By cutting a few corners expensively, they have been able to pay for two eye operations for their little girl. As a result, Vickie can see "a little bit" with one eye.

VICKIE LYNN HANDLEY

But the doctors have informed Mr. and Mrs. Handley that even hope for more. So, Vickie does most of her schoolwork by braille.

YOUNGEST IN CLASS

There is a braille writer, a sort of typewriter except there are no letters on the keys and it prints in braille, on Vickie's desk at school. And her text books are in braille. She learns her arithmetic by using small braille cubes.

There are other blind students in Vickie's class. Some of them can see more than Vickie. She is one of the youngest.

A few months ago, Vickie made a new friend. He is Raymond McDonald, an employee of the NLRB regional director at Pontiac and a member of the Pontiac Lions Club.

He marvelled at how well Vickie gets along in life being able to distinguish little more than light and dark with her left eye. "Isn't there something about her?" he thought. "I wonder if she has any special abilities."

However, Martin Schuster, assistant to the NLRB regional director at Chicago, said union chapters that the Wisconsin company had failed to rehire some strikers still were being investigated.

He said his office would not "come up with any conclusions for some time."

anything I can do for you," he asked?

OVERCOME PROBLEM

There was one thing. The Handleys were facing a setback. They wanted to get Vickie a braille writer to help her do her homework. But they were told by the firm that makes them it would be several years before they could supply the writer.

A representative of the firm explained that they had to wait several years at a time before they could afford even limited production.

The Lions Club is a big organization. It had a solution. There were others who could use a braille writer too. The order for several machines was placed promptly, and Vickie soon will have her braille writer.

Raiders KO'd in South, Says Castro

JFK, Cabinet Discuss Cuba

From Our News Wires
WASHINGTON—President Kennedy called a rare meeting of his Cabinet today as the administration undertook a high-level assessment of the Cuban situation.

In a related move, Kennedy will meet Saturday with the National Security Council.

In addition to Cuba, the administration is facing a mounting crisis in Laos if Russia fails to agree to the British call for a cease fire.

Kennedy spent the morning working on a speech which will outline his views on the Cuban crisis.

CAUGHT NAPPING—Norway's Silvert Nielsen looks on as Jaja Wachulu of Nigeria catches up on his sleep during the 99-nation U.N. Political Committee meeting Wednesday. The Cuban invasion was the main topic.

'Modernizes Business, Creates 500,000 Jobs'

JFK Tax Plan to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today sent Congress a tax plan which he said would help modernize American business and create 500,000 jobs.

The President said his proposals would attack "expense account living," discourage tax cheating and reduce the worrisome flow of U.S. dollars abroad without cutting into federal revenues.

In a 6,500-word special message Kennedy described his program as "a first though urgent step" toward broad tax reform in 1963—reform which he said could combine elimination of loopholes and discriminatory provisions with a lowering of basic tax rates.

Howard Nelson Takes Important Commercial Chairmanship

HOWARD NELSON

Appointment of Howard Nelson as chairman of the Commercial Division for the 1961 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign was announced today by Thomas F. Wierth, general campaign chairman.

Nelson is manager of the Sears, Roebuck & Co. Pontiac store. He lives at 2654 Pendleton, Bloomfield Hills.

See Boundless Future for State—With Some Its

DETROIT (U)—Michigan's economic future is almost boundless if the state's residents are willing to "get to work and do some house cleaning," according to three panelists at an Engineering Society of Detroit meeting here Wednesday night.

"The people of Pontiac have proved in the past that they wholeheartedly support their Pontiac Area United Fund, I am aware of the many responsibilities connected with the National Labor Relations Board, and Robbe B. Martin, president of the Detroit Cement Co. of Dundee, settled on a decidedly optimistic outlook for the state—with some qualifications.

Among the "ifs" was a suggestion that Michigan "stop the political hassling that has been going on the state a bad reputation throughout the nation."

No Move on Tuition Hike

ANN ARBOR (U)—University of Michigan officials say no decision has been made on whether to raise the U. of M. Board of Regents to approve tuition increases for next year.

Jobless Pockets Get U.S. Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Areas of substantial unemployment received $44 million in federal contracts between October and December, the Commerce Department said today.

Cooper's Illness Grave --Reportedly Cancer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Sources close to Gary Cooper say the veteran film star is gravely ill with cancer and knows it.

Then, after midnight, Pierre Salinger, White House news secretary, called the press associations to say Kennedy "will discuss the Cuban problem" before the society. Salinger gave no further details.

Salinger said this morning that Cuba "will be one of the major topics" of the address.

Extensive revisions apparently were under way. The speech still was getting a going over from Kennedy himself and plans for mimeographing it were put off for at least four hours past the time originally indicated.

The address was to be broadcast live by network radio and television.

Kennedy was expected to reaffirm his warning to Soviet Premier Khrushchev that any outside military interference in Cuba would bring immediate U. S. counteraction.

The United States would not intervene militarily in Cuba, Kennedy said in his Tuesday message to Khrushchev, but does give moral support to the "Cuban patriots" in their fight for freedom.

WOULD TEST REACTION
The nearly 600 editors at ASNE's annual meeting were eager to hear—if Kennedy would tell them—how his administration proposed to deal with the indicated possibility that Khrushchev would refuse to negotiate a cease fire in Laos until the United States drops its support of the anti-Castro drive.

Ironically, it was at the ASNE meeting here in April, 1959, that the Cuban Prime Minister made one of his most persuasive bids for popular support in the United States. This was shortly after he had deposed dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Most of the editors then said frankly they were favorably impressed by Castro's long message delivered in high pitched, broken English while anti-Castro pickets demonstrated outside.

Many gave credit to his statement that the "26 of July Movement" was not Communist. Some had reservations. Several said they doubted that Castro, even if sincere, could keep his revolution out of the hands of the left-wing elements surrounding him.

Seen as Resistance
WASHINGTON (U)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today described this week's action by anti-Castro Cubans as not a major invasion but a type of resistance likely to go on.

Setting Up New Office
NEW YORK (U)—An office of automation and manpower is being set up today in his department, says Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

Expect U.N. to Back See Rebel Loss Ending Aid to Rebels as U.S. Setback

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (U)—Some U.N. delegates expressed belief the General Assembly's political committee would vote approval today on a Mexican resolution calling for an end to all aid to the Cuban rebels.

It was generally expected the 99-nation committee would also approve a seven-nation Latin-American resolution asking the countries of the Americas to help achieve a peaceful settlement between Cuba and the United States.

Whoopie! Spring Has Finally Arrived
Get out and rake and spade! If you haven't fertilized the lawn or spread crabgrass killer, better do it now.

The weatherman says tonight will be partly cloudy. Considerable cloudiness and warm with a chance of showers late in the day is Friday's forecast.

Easterly morning winds at 5 miles per hour will become southerly at 12 to 15 m.p.h. tonight and 15 to 25 Friday.

Thirty-six was the lowest recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had zoomed up to 60 at 1 p.m.

News Flash
WASHINGTON (U)—In an obvious bid to bolster Latin American friendship, the House Appropriations Committee today approved an administration request for $600 million to raise living standards in South American countries.

British came out in support of the United States Wednesday, denouncing Soviet and Cuban charges that the Americans were maintaining the attempt to overthrow Castro.

British delegate Sir Patrick Dean expressed confidence in assurances by President Kennedy and U. S. Chief Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson that the United States is not taking any part in the Cuban fighting.

Another source said: "Jimmy didn't mean to spread alarm but he just got carried away by emotion for a very dear friend who is gravely ill."

This source said Stewart knew in making the award acceptance speech that Cooper was aware of the nature of his illness.

Within the past year Cooper has had two operations, first for a prostate condition and later for removal of a section of his colon.

Cooper appeared Jan. 8 at a testimonial dinner by the Friars, a show business group. After speeches recounting his 25 years of stardom—a record unmatched by any other performer—he wept openly.

In a speech of characteristic brevity he said: "Am I the luckiest guy alive tonight? Yep."

Europeans and Latins Hold Only Scattered Pro-Castro Rallies
By United Press International
Newspapers in Western Europe said today Premier Fidel Castro's claim of victory over anti-Communist invaders in Cuba—if it proved true—would be a setback for the United States.

Scattered pro-Castro rallies were held Wednesday in Western Europe, but no disorders were reported. The wave of anti-American violence which had taken at least six lives in Latin America appeared to be subsiding.

The only reports of major new outbreaks came from Guatemala City, where at least two and perhaps four persons were killed in a gun battle, and from Caracas, where anti-American rioting injured eight persons.

The first American casualty of the riots, embassy secretary Edward Brown, was shot in the left arm during the fighting in Guatemala City. His wound was slight.

The general tone of Latin America's latest demonstrations was one of jubilation among Castroites celebrating their hero's victory claim.

Anti-Castro refugees backing the invasion refused to concede defeat.

European newspapers were inclined to credit Castro's claim.

"Invitation Gamble Flops After Only Three Days," said the London Daily Mail, adding that the attack "seems to have been a blunder and that it created a dilemma for (President) Kennedy."

The Paris newspaper Combat, apparently accepting the Moscow line that the United States was to blame for the invasion, said the U. S. government "put itself in a spot by underestimating its opponents."

Scholle Faces Fight for State Position
LANSING (U)—August Scholle, outspoken president of the Michigan AFL-CIO, faced some tough opposition today in his bid to become the first labor boss ever to serve on the State Conservation Commission.

Gov. Swanson appointed Scholle of Royal Oak to one of three vacancies on the seven-member commission Wednesday, passing over 14 other candidates.

The appointment, however, still must be confirmed by the Republican-controlled Senate, whose GOP members have frequently felt the sting of Scholle's sharp-tongued attacks.

"He has not exactly endeared himself to the Senate," said Sen. Frank D. Fitzgerald, chairman of the Senate Business Committee, which screens the governor's appointments.

Claims Capture of Large Store of U.S. Arms

But Concedes Heavy Losses; Rebels Insist They're Not Crushed

WASHINGTON (UPI)
The Washington Daily News said today in a dispatch from Miami that the Cuban Revolutionary Council has landed in Cuba. It cited "high rebel officials" as a source.

From Our News Wires
Prime Minister Fidel Castro asserted today he wiped out rebel invaders on Cuba's southern beaches and captured large stores of U. S. arms, including Sherman tanks. But he conceded his forces have suffered heavy losses.

The rebel leaders insisted the main invading force has fought through to guerrillas waiting in the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba to carry on the war against the pro-Communist regime.

Echoling Castro's claims, Moscow radio charged U. S. Marines are poised to strike and repeat of Soviet government warnings that the use of American forces would have dire consequences.

Moscow said Castro has "dealt a colossal blow to the forces of aggression" but "this does not mean that the threat to the independence of Cuba has been removed and that the interventionists have relinquished their intention to subvert."

Castro followed his announcement with a new wave of exhortations to tighten his grip on the country.

Havana Radio announced that seven persons including an American—the third in two days—were executed by firing squads at dawn in Havana.

It named the American as Diaz Brown and said he was a plot to kill Castro. His home was not given.

A communiqué read over Havana radio early today said Castro's regular army and militia forces overran the invaders' last position at Girón Beach on the coast.

To Head GOP Con-Con Unit

Attorney Will Assure Qualified Aspirants for District Delegate Spots

LANSING (AP)—Wendell A. Miles, Holland attorney and former U.S. district attorney for Western Michigan, will head a special Republican committee preparing for the constitutional convention. GOP State Chairman George Van Pelt announced Wednesday.

The new committee will work with county GOP committees "to make sure there are well qualified Republican candidates for delegates to the constitutional convention in all legislative districts," Van Pelt said.

The committee also will conduct an educational campaign on constitutional revision, he said.

"The constitutional convention will have a profound effect on the future of Michigan," the GOP chairman said. "It must be approached in an intelligent and enlightened manner to do a constructive and responsible job for all the people."

Miles was the unsuccessful GOP candidate for attorney general in the 1960 election.

HARRY W. MILLER

Pageant Script Being Written

Producer Harry Miller in City Getting to Work on Centennial Plans

Planning of the Centennial spectacle surged ahead today as the producer-director of the Wisner Stadium pageant rolled up his sleeves.

Harry W. Miller, 38-year-old spectacle overseer for the John B. Rogers Producing Co., outlined a busy schedule at Centennial headquarters today.

Miller plans to have the script written by Monday for the 90-minute extravaganza.

Casting of more than 1,000 roles should begin a week from today and be finished a week later, he said, putting the spectacle well on the way to becoming a reality.

Wearing horned-rimmed glasses with his hair trimmed in a youthful brush cut, Miller got to work in Pontiac yesterday and will be here full-time through the June 17-24 celebration. The spectacle will run six nights, June 18-24.

The script for the 14-16 some pageant will be based on historical material by the Centennial's Scenario and Title Committee. The title the committee picked is "The Pontiac Story."

As producer, Miller will be responsible for assembling the vast array of stage effects necessary for a spectacle. As director, he will be training large groups of Pontiac residents performing in the show as townspeople.

USING LOCAL TALENT

The spectacle cast will also include using local talent acting as narrators, dancers and some principle actors and actresses, Miller said.

Miller is no stranger to spectacles. An independent producer of industrial and civic shows of the spectacular variety, he has been working for Rogers company the past 15 summers, doing one or two shows a summer.

In 1955, Miller produced and directed the show "Lifetime USA" for the centennial of the Sault Ste. Marie locks. Four years later he was in Lansing for the centennial spectacle "Four to Go."

He has also worked on pageants in St. Louis, S. D.; Elkhart, Ind.; Buffalo, N.Y.; Portland, Me.; Palm Beach and Jacksonville, Fla.; Kansas City, Mo.; and Cape Cod, Mass.

Calling Pittsburgh, Pa., his home when not on the road, Miller was once a premed student who turned to show business after serving as a singer in a traveling Army show, under Broadway director Josh Logan, during World War II. He later was graduated from the Cleveland Music School.

11,000 Children Searching

Hunt Antiques for Centennial

Some 11,000 Pontiac school children today joined the centennial hunt by inaugurating a vast hunt for antiques.

The search was to begin as pupils returned home today with index cards on which they of their parents were asked to list any possessions from yesterday that might be borrowed for the Centennial.

Participating were children in grades three to nine in all the city's elementary and junior high schools.

Coordinating the search were the public school system's three elementary helping teachers, Mrs. Irma Johnson, Mrs. Mary Green and Alice Hayes.

The move came about at the request of Monroe M. Osman, president of the board of education and chairman of the Centennial "Historical Window Committee."

An ambition of this committee is to have retail shop windows throughout the city decorated with items from the past during the June 17-24 Centennial celebration.

Mrs. Johnson explained that the children were asked to return the index cards, filled out, to school. Then they are to be assembled in a reference system that will be made available to retailers.

Pass $2.55-Million Issue

ANN ARBOR — Ann Arbor voters Tuesday voted in favor of a $2.55 million school bond issue and also for a 10-year extension of a three-mill school operating tax.

Global Production Sets Record

World Vehicle Population Up 7 Million Over 1960

The new total of cars, trucks and buses on the world's highways is 125.3 million, just over 7 million more than last year. The American Automobile, McGraw-Hill automotive export magazine, reports in its 46th annual World Motor Census in the May issue.

The increase in cars led — up 11.6 per cent; the increase in truck registration was 6.7 per cent; buses rose 7.5 per cent.

The 49th census also shows 28.6 million motor cycles and 11.3 farm tractors. The magazine estimates there are between a half-million and a million military vehicles.

Of the 15.3 million units produced in 1960, 63.2 per cent went by replacement and 36.8 per cent for replacement of worn-out vehicles.

The United States registered a gain in total vehicles of 2,086,600 (not including motor cycles) but Western Europe led the United States in percentage with an increase of 14.3 per cent and total vehicle rise with 2.8 million cars, trucks or buses.

Much of the United States production went to replace 1955 model automobiles, which had sold in record numbers. In addition, vehicle life in the United States as compared with nonmanufacturing countries is shorter because the American buyer does not bear the burden of duties and shipping costs, and can thus afford earlier replacement.

Even though United States production was over a million fewer than in the record year of 1955, world production established a new record.

The continent of Africa and parts of Asia showed numerically modest, but percentage-wise substantial, gains in vehicle numbers.

For example, Moroccan cars increased 13.6 per cent to 133,200. Libyan trucks went up 26.6 per cent to 9,000. Nigerian cars gained 13.2 per cent to 36,000.

The Communist bloc car-truck-and-bus total increased from 4,872,900 in 1959 to 5,223,800 in 1960.

4,000 in Contest to Name Center Near Waterford

Because more than 4,000 people responded to a contest for naming a new $1-million shopping center in Waterford Township, the judges have extended announcement of the winner from today until next Tuesday.

The four judges — Willis Brewer, former State Senator; L. Harvey Lodge, township Supervisor; Elmer Johnson and Frank Benning, one of the owners — have been swamped by the entries.

The new shopping center will be located on an eight-acre site on Highland Road near Crescent Lake Road. Construction is already under way for the first two units, a 32-lane bowling alley and adjoining swimming pool.

Wrong Low Bidder

The low bidder for two pickup trucks for Waterford Township was the Haskins Chevrolet Co. of Charleston rather than Haskins-Hargreaves, as was stated in Tuesday's Pontiac Press. Haskins' bid was $1,628 for each truck.

Sir William Phipps, royal governor of Massachusetts in 1802, was the first native American to be knighted by an English king. Phipps was born in Maine.

Publicity for Cuban Rebels Pushed by New York Firm

By FRANCES STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — It may seem odd to some people — and possibly humorous to others — for a Madison Avenue public relations firm to handle publicity for Cuban revolutionaries.

But to the Lem Jones Associates, of 280 Madison Ave., the unusual is everyday business. The firm does public relations work for such widely different groups as corporation stockholders waging proxy fights and a lay committee of the Armenian Apostolic Church.

As far as the work for the Cubans is concerned, "It's a very serious thing, too," Lem Jones, head of the publicity organization, said today.

"After all," he said, "you are dealing with the future of the people in Cuba, as well as developments that have a vital meaning for the people of this country."

Even so, he said, his firm got into the Cuban revolutionary picture last August "more or less by accident."

He said he was called on for suggestions after one of the organizations seeking to liberate Cuba from the Castro regime tried to hold a news conference here, and wound up with less than resounding success.

Jones said press conference speakers arrived far late and then issued a kit of press releases "big enough to choke a horse." The Cubans wondered afterward "why they didn't get much publicity in the papers."

MOVEMENTS MERGED

This group was the Democratic Revolutionary Front, which recently merged with others into the Cuban Revolutionary Council and issued a call to Cubans to free their country. Jones started with the former and continued with the latter.

He emphasized that his firm is strictly for the purpose of planning and arranging press conferences, and issuing whatever statements the council wishes to make.

"I keep out of policy matters completely," Jones said. The job has not been without its problems, however.

For one thing, Jones doesn't speak Spanish. Another seems to be that when the Cubans decide to do something, they want it done instantly.

"All of a sudden at 1:30 p.m. on March 22," he said, "I got a call saying they wanted to announce formation of the council. I had two hours to arrange quarters, notify newspapers and radio and television stations, and get copies of their manifesto printed."

"Believe me, it gave me some

Construction Wrangles Can't Stop U.S. Missile Bases From Rising

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—In the upsurge and hysteria that followed Russia's launching of Sputnik in 1957, a high government official is said to have reacted: "Missiles? Well, hell, build more missiles."

And he was right to a point. The United States had the Atlas and was perfectly capable of stepping up production in a program that started with only grudging support in 1954.

But he missed one point that is only today coming home in this deadly game of nuclear chess being played with the Soviet Union in ability to deliver a warhead by rocket over 6,000 miles and hit on target.

An Air Force colonel put it this way: "Simply to have rolled out missiles would have been as if Detroit speeded out brand new high-powered automobiles from its assembly lines into a nation that had no highways, no filling stations, no traffic laws, no police traffic force and only a handful of people who knew how to drive a car."

The missile itself is only 30 per cent of the job.

And that fact is behind what has become a highly vociferous and controversial argument over whether there is a "missile gap" and whether there has been a colossal mess in what is known as "activation"—getting a missile pad into the state of readiness that the Strategic Air Command can fire within 30 minutes of warning of an enemy attack.

CONCURRENCY

The main concept that must be understood in the whole endeavor is that of "concurrency."

In the past it has taken eight to ten years to put into operation a brand new weapon—a bomber, for example. And even then there was previous experience to fall back on. But the ability to build and fly a plane is of no value in launching a missile.

The Air Force—under tremendous political pressures—has been attempting in two years to coordinate the designing, planning, testing, production, installation and crew training for these slender "birds" that grow more sophisticated from day to day.

Some civilian contractors allege the military has botched the job of building the launch sites. Their complaints are mainly:

1. So many changes and modifications are made from the day the first spadeful of dirt is dug, that delays and unforeseen expenses are bankrupting them and threatening the entire program.
2. There has been such division of authority between the army Corps of Engineers (supervising the basic construction jobs) and the Air Force that decisions were not made. There has been similar conflict between the Air Force's own branches.

Only last month, the defense Department as much as conceded the last point.

SHRIEVER APPOINTED

Lt. Gen. Bernard Shriever was put in command of the entire job of activating Atlas, Titan and Minuteman bases in the greatest construction project in American history and under No. 1 priority.

But on the first point, the Air Force puts a good share of the blame on the contractors themselves. And it struggles to get across that the missile business and the crash program now underway are so complex and unprecedented that the record is remarkably good.

Whatever the rights and wrongs, Atlas operational bases are beginning to role into being. There are now two near Cheyenne and one at Omaha—with 34 pads altogether—activated in the last year.

The Air Force was baffled at the little attention paid the turnover of the Omaha sites to SAC after all the furor over the necessity to get these missile facilities operational.

Air Force Brig. William Leonhard, with experience building the Alcan Highway and the Burma Road, is one of the men with chief field responsibility for activating the sites.

The main troubles have been in the primary work—excavation, concrete foundations, tunnels and shelters, steelwork, plumbing for liquid fuels, communications and power plants. Convar, makers of the Atlas, have enough experience the second phase of installation has gone smoother except that Convar demanded precision the prime contractors were not accustomed to. "When our plans specified a bolt should be placed right here," said one of Leonhard's harassed subordinates in Nebraska, "it meant the bolt must be right there—not one-twelfth of an inch away. When we called for a 500-kilowatt generator, they thought 'well, here's an 800-kilowatt generator and that's even better.' Then we had to tear out the whole thing."

Leonhard says the Air Force sensed the work was so different and demanding they would run into difficulty with contractors.

"But in peacetime military construction, there is an unwritten rule that bidding must be done on a competitive, lump-sum plus fixed fee basis subject to approval of the secretary of defense."

"That meant anybody with a wheelbarrow could get part of a job if he was low bidder. As a result, we had contractors who had no business being in the program—they never should have been in it."

The contractors who have been most vocal are those who have had the most trouble due to their own mistakes, Leonhard says. He says contractors dropped three cranes down shafts after the sites were nearly finished, damaging delicate equipment.

"But you are not going to find a contractor coming to us, saying 'this was my fault.'"

The program now has been modified so that contractors can be screened by the Air Force before their bids are submitted.

Information and experience gained from mistakes are now "flowing downstream" to the new sites. At the outset contractors could not go from one base to another. They were building simultaneously at sites across the country.

The missile programs already represent an investment of more than $10 billion with $1.5 billion more earmarked for site construction. It surpasses by far the Manhattan project that developed the atom bomb. And this is only the beginning.

AREA NEWS

Detroit Water to Farmington

City Will Become 50th Community to Tie Into System on Monday

FARMINGTON — This city Monday will become the 50th community to tie into the Detroit water system.

City Manager John Dineen said that, barring unforeseen difficulties, the change-over has been scheduled for 11 a.m. that day.

The new pumping station is being prepared for the conversion and work is expected to be completed during the weekend.

The switch-over to Detroit water is the climax of a general water system improvement started a year ago to meet the demands of the growing community and provide for the ultimate needs of the city population.

The project was made possible by a $250,000 bond issue approved by city voters last April.

Dineen said the five wells currently supplying the city with water will be disconnected as soon as the conversion is made.

Water rates are expected to be only slightly higher than presently being charged city users, according to the manager.

Pastor, Police to Hold Traffic Safety Program

WASHINGTON — A program on traffic safety will be presented Sunday at 7 p.m. by the Romeo State Police and Rev. Lloyd O. Chase here at the First Baptist Church.

"According to the Record," a color movie portraying reckless driving and its results, will be shown by the officers. Rev. Chase, pastor of the church, will deliver a message entitled "Head-On Collision."

Latin Students to Meet

EAST LANSING — An estimated 1,300 high school Latin students will meet at Michigan State University Saturday for a state convention of the Junior Classical League. The students will attend workshops and hear lectures related to the study of Latin.

Wed at Church of Nazarene

CHURCH of the Nazarene was the setting Saturday evening for the wedding of Wilma Grace Cummings and Chester Martin Marmion. Rev. T. C. Riddle of Rochester performed the double-ring ceremony assisted by Rev. Maurice Scott of Brookland.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Cummings of 4546 Brownell St. and the late Mr. Cummings.

Given in marriage by her brother, James Cummings of San Diego, Calif., the bride wore a floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over peau de soie satin. It featured a square, sequined neckline, bouffant skirt and long sleeves ending in points over her wrists.

A pearl and sequin crown held her fingertip veil of French illusion, and she carried a cascade arrangement of white roses, carnations and stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Nancy Kaszuba. Barbara Jambriska and Barbara Arthurson were bridesmaids.

Serving as best man was Brad Sydow of Ypsilanti. The guests were seated by Robert Sklar of Rochester and Richard Moore of Madison Heights.

Janice Cummings of San Diego, Calif., niece of the bride, was flower girl. Ring bearer was Bill Cummings, also of San Diego, nephew of the bride.

Following the reception held at Avon Community Hall, Brookland, the newlyweds left on a week-long honeymoon trip to Miami Beach, Fla. Upon their return, they will reside in Warren.

MRS. CHESTER M. MARMION

WED 50 YEARS — Mr. and Mrs. Bruce C. Shear of 98700 12-Mile Road, South Lyon, were honored at a golden anniversary celebration yesterday at the home of their son Charles D. Shear of Drayton Plains. The Shears, who were married in Nov. 1911, also have two daughters, Mrs. Herbert Abrams of Wilcox and Mrs. Fred Henry of South Lyon; five grandchildren; and a great-granddaughter.

County May Provide Funds Might Have to Seek Rise in Tax for Oxford Schools

OXFORD — Voters in the Oxford Area Community School District may be asked to approve a two-mill operational tax increase in June if additional funds are not allocated by the county and state.

The school district currently is faced with operating $18,000 in the red during the next school year.

The district's 1961-62 budget has been tentatively set at $613,000, but the school board said the anticipated revenue for the same period will be only $595,000.

Teachers' salaries, which represent the major expenditure in the budget, were not increased in the budget submitted to the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board.

However, Asst. School Supt. Roger Oberg said the budget is from $15,000 to $20,000 higher than the current year's because of normal salary increments for teachers.

He pointed out, however, that the board of education probably will not reach a decision on a proposal to increase taxes until it hears from the tax allocation board and state legislature.

If the Oxford district's state aid or county allocation is higher than anticipated, it will not be necessary to ask for a millage hike in the June 12 election.

Oberg said the school board may know what funds are available for next year at its May 9 meeting. A motion to levy two mills for operation has been tabled by the school board until it knows the exact total of state aid and county funds.

People interested in joining the local Friends group may obtain membership blanks from the library, Avon Township office or at the meeting.

A Circuit Court jury of 12 women yesterday convicted 32-year-old Jack Crampton of Lansing of breaking and entering in the nighttime. The jury deliberated three hours.

Judge Frederick C. Ziem said Crampton will be sentenced May 8 after the probation department conducts a presentence investigation.

The women found Crampton guilty of the theft of 51 cartons of cigarettes and a big saw from Paul and Irma's Market, 6975 Livestock Road, Troy, on Jan. 14.

He was returned to the county jail under a $2,000 bond to await sentencing.

Full House Is Rule at Pontiac General

Pontiac General Hospital is continuing to have its busiest year at this time of year, Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, reported.

The rate was 95 per cent last week and has averaged 93 per cent the first three weeks of the current accounting period, he reported.

Janet Rowe Engaged

The engagement of Janet Louise Rowe of 630 Union St., Milford, and Frederick R. Peters is announced by her mother Mrs. Robert G. Rowe.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Peters of 3175 General Motors Road, Milford.

A late summer or early autumn wedding is planned.

Boom Day Title Eyed by 15 Girls

To Compete for Queen's Crown, Right to Reign Over Dryden Event

DRYDEN — Fifteen Lapeer County beauties will be vying for the Miss Boom Day crown tonight at Dryden High School.

The contest, which was open to single girls who are at least seniors in high school and still under 21 years of age, will highlight the Dryden Area Development Association's annual Ladies Night program.

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. by members of the high school music department. Entrance to follow will feature a Lapeer Kiwanis Club Minstrel Show.

Candidates competing for the honor of reigning over Dryden's third annual Boom Day celebration July 7 and 8 then will parade before the judges.

A queen and two maids of honor will be picked, and the winner will be crowned as the climax to the evening's entertainment.

Judges will be Mrs. Patricia McRath, owner of Alicia Bridal Salon, Pontiac; Arthur Wesley of the First National Bank, Lapeer; and Lee Walborn, area news editor of The Pontiac Press.

Miss Billy Hammond, well known in Detroit entertainment circles, will be the emcee.

The Boom Day celebration was instituted in 1959 as a community-wide observance of the Fourth of July. It also was staged on the holiday last year.

This year, however, plans for the program are "bigger and better" than before, according to DADA officials, and the celebration has been expanded to two days.

DONALD SWINEHART — The engagement of Donald L. Swinehart and Irvine R. Eberstein is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Swinehart of 4540 Woodward Road, Brandon Township. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eberstein, 101 Brabb Road, Oxford Township. No wedding date has been set.

ROCHESTER — The newly formed Rochester Elks Club Lodge No. 2225, which received its charter less than three weeks ago, will hold its first election of officers at 8 p.m. today.

The local Elks Club, which is seeking candidates for membership from the Lake Orion, Utica and Rochester areas, will meet tonight at the American Legion Hall, 124 W. University Drive.

Members of neighboring Elks Clubs will be guest speakers. The meeting is open to anyone interested in joining the organization.

They will cast off at 9:30 p.m. and drop anchor at 1:30 a.m. The captain of the SSS-Cape, Mrs. Robert Fisher, and her first mate, Mrs. Fred Sargent, have planned the cruise.

Frank Boberbert and his ship's orchestra will play for dancing.

Slate Public Hearing on Farmington Budget

FARMINGTON — A public hearing on the city's proposed $402,900 budget has been scheduled for May 11, according to City Manager John Dineen.

The proposed budget was a $100,000 water-bond issue used to finance and install water mains. Nearly all the money in the water budget comes from water bill collections.

The city council must approve the budgets prior to May 15.

The city manager said the additional money is needed to meet the rising cost of water purchased from Detroit and to amortize the $250,000 water-bond issue used to finance and install water mains.

WALLY MOON UPS HOMER TOTAL TO 6 PACING LA; REDS WIN

By The Associated Press
Any day now they'll be calling Wally Moon the "Moon-shot" home runs over the left field screen in the Los Angeles Coliseum. That's because the Dodgers' southpaw swinging Wally Moon appears to have perfected the art of dumping fly balls for homers in that sector. Moon has hit six home runs in his first games, all over the Coliseum's 42-foot-high left field screen.

only 251 feet from home plate. The Dodger outfielder, an honor student at Texas A&M some years ago, claims a newly perfected "reverse English" swing has been largely responsible for his sudden rash of homers.

Wrong field? direction. When the pitch is outside, he merely reaches out and pokes at the ball. That's what the man says. In any event, Wally struck two of those "Moon-shots" Wednesday night to lead the Dodgers to a 7-2 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. The first homer came with two on in the first inning. The second was a solo flight in the fourth. He walked in the sixth and alashed a run-scoring single — to center — in the seventh to account for five runs batted in with a perfect evening at the plate.

Bob Friend pitched a two-doubles, oddity enough, in 38 games against Cardinal pitching in 1959-60, he managed to hit only two home runs. But that was before he became a thinking hitter.

Chicago in — Relief pitcher Marty Kutyna singled across two big Washington runs and handed off the White Sox home opener, 7-2, before 16,837 Wednesday.

Pierce, who had a 147 record last season, was ineffective in his first start of the year. A walk, Pierce's throwing error, and singles by Gene Woodling and Harry Bright gave Washington two runs in the first inning.

The 13 races, including the $50,000 added Michigan Mile, will be televised over WXYZ-TV, Channel 7. It marks the first time in Michigan thoroughbred racing history that such television coverage of feature races has been arranged. Directors of the Detroit Race Course also announced E. Dale Shaffer has been re-elected president, William C. McKay vice president and Don W. Gardner secretary. McKay also was elected treasurer, a post formerly held by Shaffer. In addition, the directors voted to enlarge the board from 15 to 16 members with the election of Paul F. Turner of Detroit.
