De Gaulle Waits While Socialists Decide His Fate

Opposition Weakens as Coty Begs for Support; Party Fears 'Dictator'

PARIS (AP) — Charles de Gaulle waited at home today while President Rene Coty tried to get the National Assembly to take a vacation and let the general rule France.

(President Coty still is conferring with French political leaders. The Socialists have scheduled their party meeting for 3 p.m.)

The key to whether De Gaulle would receive powef legally or in a military coup was in the hands of the Socialist party, which fears the 67-year-old World War II leader as a potential dictator.

So far the Socialists had refused to vote power to De Gaulle. But their all-out opposition seemed to be weakening under the heavy pressure.

Coty asked De Gaulle last night to become premier. The general said yes — if Coty could arrange it on De Gaulle's terms.

Coty and many Frenchmen feared civil war threatened because two militant factions appeared ready to fight: 1. the army-supported rightists determined to end what they consider Parliament's shilly-shallying, and 2. the militant Communists who benefit from weak parliamentary rule.

The nation's three big labor federations — Communist, Socialist and Catholic — ordered their members to remain vigilant but so far there was no general strike order.

Teachers launched a nationwide strike, and only 10 to 20 per cent of the teachers reported for work in Paris and other major cities.

Underlining the rightist determination, the insurgent military-civilian command in Algiers renewed threats of army action if De Gaulle was blocked.

In the middle was the mass of ordinary Frenchmen — apparently not very interested.

Many blamed this disinterest for the underlying factors in the present crisis — the faction-ridden, ineffectual Parliament, the government's financial weakness, the loss of overseas territory, and the fall of French prestige abroad, all of which exasperated the army and the rightists to the point of rebellion.

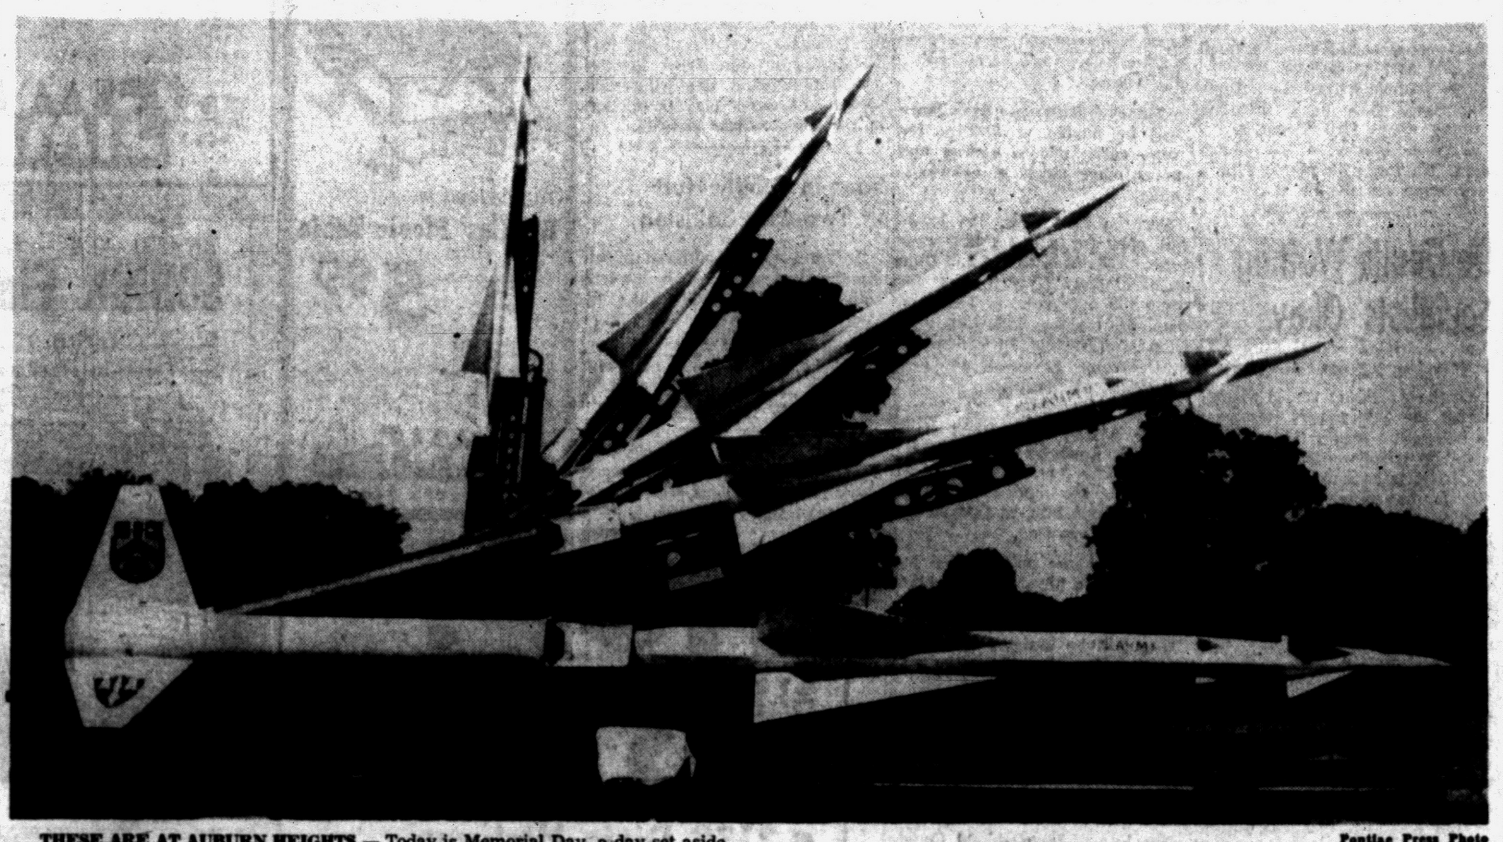

NAME CONDITIONS

De Gaulle reportedly told Coty he would take over the government under these conditions:

Guided Missiles Symbolic of America's Defenses

THESE ARE AT AUBURN HEIGHTS — Today is Memorial Day, a day set aside to honor the men and women who gave their lives in defense of our country. Tribute to our military heroes is an empty gesture without steps to protect the things for which they died. Across our broad nation batteries of anti-aircraft missiles strengthen our ever-ready defensive armament, poised for instant action. The Nike missiles above are at Auburn Heights, at one of numerous bases which protect this vital industrial area.

Traffic Deaths Below Normal

But Safety Experts Say 350 Persons to Die in Weekend Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic deaths in the first hours of the three-day Memorial Day appeared running below normal today. But safety experts held to their preholiday estimate that 350 persons will be killed in highway accidents during the extended weekend.

The first count showed seven traffic deaths in five states and one fatality in a miscellaneous type accident in Arizona. The traffic toll included two each in Ohio and Pennsylvania and one each in Illinois, Kansas and Minnesota.

The National Safety Council, which estimated the death toll of 350, also predicted more than 40 million cars will be on the highways during the 78-hour period from 6 p. m. local time yesterday to midnight Sunday.

Last year the Memorial Day holiday period covered four days and the 413 traffic deaths was a record high for the Decoration Day observance. The over-all all-accident death total of 660 also was a record for a four-day Memorial Day period. It included 134 drownings and 113 fatalities in miscellaneous accidents.

The highest traffic toll for a three-day Memorial Day period was 369 in 1955.

Flags Mark Graves Today

City Honors War Dead

Pontiac tenderly placed wreaths on the graves of its war dead today and was reminded by the solemn call of "Taps" of their ultimate sacrifice.

Hundreds took part in memorial services following a colorful parade through the heart of downtown Pontiac.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, speaking at the veterans' plot in Perry Mount Park Cemetery, reminded his listeners that the living must carry on the traditions of democracy, which the fallen heroes gave their lives to preserve.

The Pontiac Superintendent of Schools' talk highlighted a ceremony in which relatives and friends, fraternal and civic groups, decorated the final resting places of many a Pontiac son, husband and father.

A bugle played "Taps" and a firing squad discharged a volley to mark the occasion.

Earlier, veterans and their wives joined in with city officials, Army and Navy reserve units, National Guardsmen and the senior and junior high school bands to form an impressive parade on Saginaw street.

The parade started from Jackson street at 10 a.m. and moved north on Saginaw street to the Civil War monument at Oakland avenue.

There participants paused for a brief tribute before going on to the cemetery.

A wreath was laid at the foot of the monument by this year's parade marshal, Edward C. Tanner, 94 Blaine St., a veteran of the Spanish-American War. A color guard from the Army, Navy, Marine Corps. and Air Force stood by.

Other wreaths were placed at the World War II veterans memorial at Wisner Memorial Stadium.

Besides veterans' groups, many other patriotic organizations took part in the day's observance.

Taps Sound Today for Two Unknowns

ARLINGTON NATIONAL CEMETERY (UPI)—Taps sound today for two unknown dead of World War II and Korea.

Tonight as the shadows thicken in Arlington's majestic beeches and pin oaks these dead will join the nameless fighting man of World War I in the nation's most honored shrine, henceforth to be known as "the Tomb of the Unknowns."

There, as their countryman of that other war has done since Nov. 11, 1921, they will "rest in honored glory" revered by their country though "known but to God."

Today's 30-minute final rites in Arlington's marble colonnaded memorial amphitheater, on a green hill facing the Potomac and the capital beyond, and tonight's interment conclude a week in which the new Unknowns have received the highest honors their nation can give.

These tributes included Medals of Honor authorized by Congress and presented in the amphitheater by President Eisenhower.

They included three days of lying in state in the Capitol Rotunda, an honor accorded in the Republic's past to only 13 other persons, including five presidents and the Unknown enshrined more than 37 years ago.

They included a mile-long procession past half - staffed flags from the Capitol to Arlington with saluting batteries firing a round a minute.

They also included unpremeditated tears—like those shed by Mrs. Reginald Godfrey of Providence, R. I., whose World War II soldier son is "missing in action." In the Rotunda yesterday she looked at the Second World War's Unknown and said: "He could be mine."

Her son is forever gone but "today," she said, "I feel a bit closer to him." She could have been speaking, too, for the mothers of 9,200 other never-identified dead of the nation's last two wars.

For the tens of thousands who visited the Rotunda up to noon today and for the other thousands at Arlington the tributes for the Unknowns were homage not only to them but to all the 293,105 dead of World War II and to the 33,629 who fell in Korea.

Today's climactic rites are in a setting of green loveliness. English beeches in full leaf form a state backdrop for the events at the tomb.

In the amphitheater 48 huge American flags, two hanging side by side over the place of honor, fluttered in the May breezes.

Elsewhere in the valleys and slopes of Arlington tiny American flags by the scores of thousands mark the graves of 92,000 others buried in this shrine of heroes.

Dr. Furlong Attends Arlington Ceremony

Dr. Harold A. Furlong, Pontiac physician and holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor for service in World War I, will be an honorary bearer at the burial of two additional unknown soldiers in Arlington Cemetery at Washington today.

Dr. Furlong was present at the interment of the Unknown Soldier of World War I in the tomb in front of the Arlington Amphitheater in the fall of 1921.

2 Men Drown North of Holly

Deputies Find Bodies of Flint Fishermen in Strawberry Lake

Two Flint men drowned after midnight this morning in Strawberry Lake, four miles north of Holly.

Boyce R. Draper, 22, and R. A. Ball, 23, rented a boat for fishing at midnight. The empty boat was discovered anchored in the lake at 6:30 a.m. today by another fishing party from Flint.

The fishing poles were in the boat and a hat and package of cigarettes were floating nearby. The bodies were recovered at about 8:30 a.m. by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies, but there is no determination of how the drownings occurred.

The boat was rented from Crosby's Boat Livery, Holly Township.

Union Fails in Bid for Temporary Pact

Deadline at Midnight Passes With Parties Far From Agreement

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors' contract with the United Auto Workers expired today as the company rejected a last-minute bid by the UAW to work out a temporary agreement covering 300,000 GM workers.

The UAW then centered its attention on Ford and Chrysler in hopes of working out new agreements with both companies before current three-year contracts run out Sunday midnight.

GM, like Ford and Chrysler, stood steadfast through weeks of negotiations on its offer to extend the current agreement for two years.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther told newsmen he was "disappointed but not bitter" over failure to agree on a new GM contract.

Reuther, weary after a last-minute bargaining session that ran all day and up to the midnight expiration time, obviously was unhappy as he disclosed that for the first time in 21 years UAW members at GM would have to work without a union contract.

In previous years when contracts between UAW and the automotive Big Three ran out, the pacts were extended on a week-to-week basis until new agreements were concluded. This time, GM charged the union with bad faith in bargaining and declined a temporary extension despite union requests.

Both the union and the company have issued instructions on how to operate without a contract.

The terms were set Wednesday by GM. They generally follow the contract that expired last night—except the company will quit collecting members' dues for the union and UAW membership will

Woman to Take Licking for Hoarding Stamps

WATERBURY, Conn. (UPI)—Mayor Raymond E. Snyder told the Finance Board that he had heard a woman bought $3,000 worth of three cent postage stamps recently to lick the new four cent rate. That's too bad, commented Finance Commissioner Martin Tehan, saying she now will have to buy $1,000 worth of one cent stamps to go with the old stamps.

New 'Unknown Soldiers' Buried in Arlington

KNOWN BUT TO GOD — Memorial Day this year has special significance for all the servicemen who fought in our last two conflicts — World War II and the Korean War. Arlington National Cemetery receives the bodies of two Unknown Soldiers, representing all the dead of those wars. In special crypts, at either side of the present Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, they will lie in honored companionship with the anonymous hero of World War I. Sketched above is the new look the Plaza will have with the addition of the two granite-capped crypts for the heroes of 1941-45 and of 1950-53.

Market Prices Set '58 Record

Average for Utilities Soars to Highest Point in 28 Years

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Stock Market climbed to a new high for the year yesterday.

The average for utilities soared to its highest point in 28 years. Both the industrial and railroad averages were near their best levels of the year. New highs were hit by 111 stocks.

The Market was pushed up by increased consumer spending, improved auto and farm implement sales, and a bright outlook for the aircraft industry.

Republic Aviation, which turned over a new jet fighter-bomber to the Air Force yesterday, ran up 2 points for the second straight session to pace the aircrafts.

Shell scored a 2-point gain in the oils, while Richfield and Amerada added more than a point each. International Nickel added a point in the metals. Du Pont headed the chemicals with a gain of 1¾. General American Transportation climbed 2½ points in the rail equipments. American Home Products jumped 2 points after its directors raised the monthly dividend.

The Dow-Jones averages showed industrials up 2.26 points to 462.70; rails up 0.38 to 116; utilities up 0.19 to 78.19; and 65 stocks up 0.66 to 160.55—the highest level for this average since Sept. 20, 1957.

Clarkston Man in Honor Guard for U.S. Heroes

A member of the honor guard for bodies of the Unknown Soldiers when they were aboard the USS Blandy en route from foreign battlefields to Washington for reburial in Arlington Cemetery today was Seaman William E. Savallisch of Clarkston.

SAVALLISCH

Seaman Savallisch is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Einar Savallisch, of 130 N. Main St., Clarkston? He graduated from Ortonville High School in 1957 and enlisted that summer. After basic training at Great Lakes he was sent to Newport, R.I., and joined the original crew of the Blandy when the ship was commissioned in November 1957.

UAW Contract Ends for 300,000 at GM

not be a condition of employment at GM.

The union said it planned to put men on GM plant gates to check membership cards of employes in an effort to maintain an all-union shop.

Reuther admittedly faced an uphill fight to achieve his goals for auto workers in this recession year. He wants wage increases, improved pension benefits and a share of profits from firms financially able to pay them.

GM earlier estimated the UAW demands would add 73 cents to the present $2.40 hourly wage for GM workers. It changed this figure to 48 cents an hour after the union revised some demands.

GM said extension of the old agreement would give workers a 9-cent pay hike this year and 7 cents in 1959.

The UAW president failed in a dramatic peace offer he made to GM in the final five minutes before the contract ran out.

Reuther suggested that GM hourly rated workers be given a chance to vote in a secret ballot whether they favored the two-year extension offered by GM or the multipoint demands made by the UAW.

Under Reuther's proposal, if a majority of workers favored the union proposals, GM would be bound to bargain on them.

If the workers preferred GM's contract offer, Reuther said the union would accept the two-year extension.

The UAW proposal stipulated that if the workers prefer the UAW package, GM would be obliged to bargain with the union on unresolved issues for 30 days. At the end of that time the unsolved issues would go to arbitration.

GM, through Vice President Louis G. Seaton, rejected the suggestion. Seaton said it was a revised version of proposals the union made earlier.

Seaton termed the UAW proposals "inflationary and excessive." He said there was no justification for a temporary extension of the contract.

Reuther told newsmen GM had not yielded an inch on a single point since Harlow Curtice, GM president, outlined the company plan in August.

GM's contract with the United Electrical Workers, representing 18,000 GM workers, also expired at midnight with each side blaming the other for failure to agree on new terms.

IUE-GM talks were to resume today as Ford and Chrysler continued their talks with the UAW. GM and the UAW agreed to meet Monday to decide where future negotiations will take place. Up to now, the meetings had been held in GM headquarters but the union asked that further meetings be held in a neutral place.

Blame Children for Home Fires

2 Houses on Hopkins Suffer Heavy Damage Thursday Afternoon

A fire set by children playing with matches caused heavy damage yesterday afternoon to the home of Dorothy Alexander, 74 E. Hopkins St., and spread to a neighboring house.

The fire was reported at 3:52 p.m. and Pontiac firemen fought the blaze for more than an hour.

Damage to the Alexander home is estimated at $1,200 to the building and $800 to the contents.

The flames burned the frame home next door at 70 Hopkins, causing about $100 damages.

Firemen blamed three youngsters, playing with matches in a rear room for the blaze.

from the Assembly "for a definite period the full powers necessary to act in the present grave situation." In other words, the Assembly must take a vacation, reportedly for one year.

The general consistently has refused to spell out the "full powers" he wants, giving rise to widespread fears of a dictatorial regime which might continue itself after the formal end of a definite period.

2. The Assembly must authorize him "to prepare and submit to the country, through referendum," constitutional revisions to create a stronger executive and to establish a new basis for the now troubled relations between France and her overseas possessions. De Gaulle's experience with referendums is bad.

One reason he quit his job as provisional president-premier after World War II was the voters' rejection of his draft constitution providing for a strong executive.

2 Youths Sympathize With Movie Producers

GREENSBURG, Ind. (UP) — Frederick Craig, 15, and Lowell Greer, 13, can sympathize with the woes of Hollywood movie producers.

The two youngsters recently finished shooting on their own $700 epic, complete with color and sound. They took one scene 40 times before it came up to their artistic standards.

It was risky business, too. The film depicted life in a bee colony, and all the "actors" came fully equipped with stingers.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Rock 'n' roll singer Jerry Lee Lewis said when asked if he would remarry his 13-year-old bride if there was any question of bigamy: "I would remarry her 100 times if necessary."

She Should Know First

MONTREAL — The older sister of two of the publicity shy Dionne quintuplets, Mrs. Rose Girourard, on reports Cecile and Annette both are expecting babies, exclaimed: "I haven't heard anything about it. I thought I would have been the first to know."

Quint Hopes for Boy

MONTREAL — The husband of Dionne quintuplet Annette, Germain Allard, reporting his wife expects a baby in September, said: "We're hoping for a boy.".

Hal Boyle Says:

Correct Thing to Do Today? 'Keep Living'

NEW YORK (AP)—On Memorial Day you might as well put the moral at the start:

"Keep living!"

The purpose of the dead is for us to be. They ran out of breath for us.

On this day of national recognition of mortality, time gives us a pause. This pause gives us time to reflect. We jubilee the past and hold a heart-coming for the dear dead.

Memorial Day is an opportunity. It is an opportunity to admire your ancestors. There under known stars they glimmer unknown forever. They put us here.

It is a day to honor a husband, brother, son or friend, dead or away—and absence is a form of death.

The whole problem of Memorial Day is one of transportation. You are transported by your loyalties, and remembrance.

Life hesitates. The eternal growl of ambition is reduced to a grumble. Yet a son, as he sheds a tear on the grave of his father, wants to step farther and be buried near.

Here on the hill of a moment, a humanity afraid of itself flies the flag all people salute — the one that waves for the ones who went before.

It would be nice on Memorial Day if neither the dead nor the living were altogether alone.

Committee OKs Tax Measure

House Group Clears Extension of Corporate, Excise Levies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bill continuing corporate income and excise taxes at their present levels for another year until June 30, 1959, got Rules Committee clearance yesterday for a House vote next week.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D.-Ark), chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, declined to predict when taxes might be reduced.

Replying to repeated inquiries by Rules Committee members about prospects for excise tax cuts, Mills declared there will be no such legislation this year.

Mills said he considers the effects of excise tax relief for auto makers and railroads as nebulous. He said he doesn't think a $90 price reduction on a $3,000 car would have much effect.

Leaders have scheduled House action on the tax bill for late next week.

Operating under parliamentary procedure barring amendments, the House is expected to pass the measure in the form approved yesterday by its Ways and Means Committee.

Most of Colman Estate Goes to Wife, Daughter

SANTA BARBARA (AP)—Actor Ronald Colman left most of his estate to his widow Benita Hume and their daughter Juliet, 17.

Other bequests included $10,000 each to his sisters, Gladys Bining, Leeds, England, and Edith Till, Surrey, England, and $5,000 to his brother Eric, Melbourne, Australia.

Value of the estate was not disclosed when the will was filed for probate.

Colman, 67, died May 19.

Lake Dweller Dulles Not Talking on France

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles rested on isolated Main Duck Island in Lake Ontario today, still silent publicly on the French crisis.

Dulles declined comment on France when he stopped here yesterday en route to his island retreat for the Memorial Day holiday. He said he preferred to consider himself on vacation.

The secretary was accompanied by his wife, their toy poodle Pepi and three staff aides.

Memorial Day—Decoration Day

It is not through a loss of respect for the memory of the heroes of the Civil War that Memorial Day has generally become known as Decoration Day.

The Memorial Day holiday was instituted 90 years ago when our nation still was shrouded in the recollection of the thousands who made the supreme sacrifice in that recent conflict.

Millions of their comrades and relatives and friends hailed it as an occasion to pay respect to them. It was done in a solemn way.

But these millions now largely are no longer with us.

And we have had other wars.

Some of them were world wars. But let us never forget that in none of them did our nation have the men engaged or the casualty lists as large as in that nation-dividing conflict of 1861-65.

While time may dim our vision or dwarf our understanding, the respect and honor we hold for those who have given their lives that our standard of living may be maintained now is shared by a larger number than it was after the War of Secession.

The practice started by Southern women of strewing wildflowers on a certain day on the graves of their soldier dead, while that war was still in progress, was really the start of this manner of observance. They called it Memorial Day.

In 1868 when the May 30 date was designated as such a holiday by the Grand Army of the Republic, being the Union veterans, it also was called Memorial Day. But the decoration of the graves was a major part of its observance.

As the years have passed, the practice of having memorial programs has gradually grown less, but the decoration of the graves continues. This is carried out by veterans' organizations and friends and relatives of the deceased.

In Pontiac and its area very few of the veterans' graves, regardless of what war they were engaged in, go without decoration on Decoration Day.

Likewise, the practice of decorating the graves of others who were not affiliated with the armed services is continued on Decoration Day.

Hence, Decoration Day is only the proper means for the suitable observance of Memorial Day.

Many Traffic Accidents Due to Creeping Pest

Periodically, this great public print produces an editorial on the sheer shame of the "creeping pestilence." The term originated with the late GRANTLAND RICE, but it has many suitable applications.

Our perpetual peeve is that great Sunday driver who ventures timidly onto the public highways when and where traffic is the thickest and then settles down to a "safe and comfortable" twenty-two miles an hour.

He's a public menace.

He should be exterminated.

Probably these mental cases pat themselves proudly on the back and declare to the other occupants of their death trap that they're the "safest drivers on the road." Probably they revel in a false sense of security and rate themselves as a "good example" to mankind and deserving of an extra diadem in their heavenly accouterments.

They should receive a swift kick in the pants, instead.

What they really rate is a good, stiff lecture from a traffic officer and a stout fine. In addition, they should be denied the rights to the main highways. These "creeping pestilences" force every driver coming from behind to "jump" them. That means in the course of a few hours, hundreds of motorists have to leave their own lane, venture to the center and "go around" the menace.

They slow traffic to a crawl.

The pestilence can be responsible for many accidents and he is always responsible for a definite wear and tear on nervous systems which can not be evaluated. We earnestly adjure all traffic enforcing agencies to haul this culprit into court and give him his just due.

A reprimand is insufficient.

He couldn't comprehend.

He needs a jolt.

The Man About Town

The Saddest Day

A Memorial Holiday That Brought the Most Sorrow

Weekend: Too often a time for exercising the weak end.

Sixty-two years ago today was the saddest Memorial Day in all Oakland County history. It was a day of mass funerals, a sequel to the largest single day loss of life in all of our annals.

Early in the evening of May 25, 1896, a cyclone swept through our northern tier of townships, snuffing out the lives of 43, injuring others so they later died of that cause, and crippling many for the remainder of their lives. The heaviest loss of life was in Groveland Township, but Brandon, Oxford and Addison Townships also had casualties.

Many of the funerals were delayed until Memorial Day, because the roads were blocked and undertakers in sufficient numbers were not available to earlier care for the dead.

Throughout the nation the services of that Memorial Day were largely given over to prayer incidental to Oakland County's greatest mass tragedy.

Surely in accord with the sentiments of thousands of her former pupils and friends, a memorial program for the late was given Thursday at Wisner school where she was principal for many years.

Elected Tuesday as president of the Michigan State Association of Life Underwriters,

Curtis E. Patton of 314 South Tilden St., has written five millions of insurance in the Pontiac area.

Before the auto age took over, western horses were shipped to Pontiac by the carload and sold at auction to farmers and truck drivers.

You've heard mighty few better sermons than that one of five words:

"Stay alive all your life," which is the title of that best selling book of

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, which is my idea of saying most in briefest form.

De Gaulle Odd-Ball of Our Time

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the real mystery of Charles de Gaulle: Is he shrewd or confused? One thing is sure: he's one of the real odd-balls of the 20th century.

He expresses faith in himself and the future of France with him as leader. But he has shown personal and political immaturity and difficulty adjusting to the realities of the world he lives in.

His arrogance and his troubles getting along with people associated with him are examples of his personal immaturity. He has demonstrated his political immaturity in his attitude towards politics and politicians.

Example: He brushed aside at his May 19 news conference—without denying it—any idea he wants to be a dictator. Yet he despises politicians and political horse-trading.

He quit as head of the French provisional government in 1946 because of political dickering in the Legislature. He speaks of the "poisons" of the parliamentary system.

Yet, without the parliamentary and the politicians' horse-trading there could be no republic but only a dictatorship. The answer lies in between: A parliamentary system with more stability than France has produced so far.

This writer yesterday polled specialists on France, asking if they had any idea of what De Gaulle really represents and what he might do if he came to power. All agreed he's a French nationalist, a French-firster.

Beyond that there was only puzzlement except for this one opinion: That he was very shrewd at his May 19 news conference. Why shrewd? This was the answer: Because he really didn't say anything.

This writer disagrees that there is anything necessarily shrewd about that. True enough, De Gaulle gave out with nothing but double-talk. But it may have been because he couldn't think straight and had no policy or programs for France.

There is certainly concern in the Western world that De Gaulle, once he led the government, might turn into a manipulated stooge for men far shrewder than he, particularly military men.

He did play a great role as rallying point in World War II for Frenchmen crushed by the Nazis. But some of his performances after the war threw doubts on his awareness of what the world is like.

France owed its liberation to the United States and Britain. But France's very dependence on its allies irritated De Gaulle. After the shooting stopped he flew to Moscow and signed a mutual aid agreement with the Soviet Union.

This seems to have been an effort to play both ends against the middle. Later he expressed surprise and disappointment because Moscow didn't keep its word.

Although he was anti-Communist, he took France's No. 1 Communist, Maurice Thorez, into his cabinet. Yet, with the presence of Allied troops to give him strength, he disarmed the Communists.

In 1948 diplomats here and abroad feared that if De Gaulle returned to power then he would jeopardize the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—an alliance of Western powers for mutual defense against the Soviet Union—then in the process of creation. He was saying:

"It is inconceivable that the defense of France should be assured by anyone other than the French themselves." This was really talking through his hat, since he had seen what happened when France tried to stand up to the Nazis in 1940.

Now again there is concern over what De Gaulle would do—perhaps try to take France out of NATO—if he came to power, for as late as 1954 he was calling for the reorganization of NATO so France could have full power of action.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Do this now, my son, and deliver thyself, when thou art come into the hand of thy friend; go, humble thyself, and make sure thy friend.—Proverbs 6:3.

Sense shines with a double lustre when it is set in humility. An able and yet humble man is a jewel worth a kingdom.—William Penn.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Nutrition Aids Brought Mental, Physical Vigor

Naturally the lady does not mention her age, but who cares about that except her feminine acquaintances?

In March 1957 the lady went to a diagnostician becoming alarmed at her steady physical and mental deterioration. She says:

"The time lag between my eyes reading a page and the message getting to my brain frightened me. (I work in an office.) All my energy seemed to be consumed in just keeping me going.

"I told the doctor I was extremely tired all the time, that I wasn't worried about any particular ailment, but felt there was nothing wrong with me but fatigue. His verdict: excellent health. Asked if he thought vitamin pills . . . he said no, he didn't believe in them. But he also said he didn't know why I was so tired.

"Months passed and I got tireder and tireder. Finally I received a copy of the paper from back home. It contained one of your articles. I sent for your pamphlet 'Young Folks and Old Folks' . . ."

The lady doesn't say so, but in all probability she provided a stamped, self-addressed envelope, for otherwise she would not have received the pamphlet. The letter continues:

"This was the most intelligent act I have ever performed . . . Feb. 4 is my red letter day . . . the fatigue has vanished; coordination between my eyes and brain is instantaneous; my mind is clear; my memory is sharp; and I have picked up many of the activities I formerly enjoyed, such as dancing, trail trips with the Mountaineers, etc. My work has greatly improved. Wonderful to feel so UNtired.

"As I am more given to understatement than overstatement, my friends have been impressed and many of them are taking Ray-D. They all mention benefits such as clearer mind, sustaining interest in their work or play, improved condition of nail and hair . . .

"I haven't had that 3 o'clock wilt now since I began supplementing my diet as you direct in the pamphlet. Probably this is all old stuff to you, Dr. Brady, but I must thank you from the bottom of my heart for making a new woman of me." (Signed—)

In a piece to follow I'll belabor two points which I'm afraid neither laymen nor physicians will otherwise get from this testimonial.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press Pontiac, Michigan.

Says Our Holidays Aren't Respectful

Does the Bible say anything about taking a sacred holiday and ramming out in the country for a picnic or a fishing trip or playing golf?

Why don't people sit home quietly on holidays and commemorate the occasion? Memorial Day should be a day devoted to the departed servicemen. The Fourth of July should be devoted to exercises for the birth of the nation. Why do we have to play tennis, bridge, poker and drive 200 miles on overcrowded roads?

We might better abolish all holidays. This nation isn't very respectful or polite.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

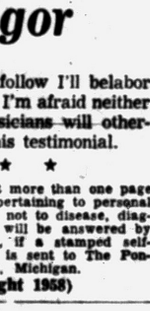

Child's Endless Queries Good Sign

Don't stifle a child's curiosity or evade his questions! They indicate a high I.Q., and good health. But to save yourself headaches, use the "Pause & Praise" method, coupled with the "Reversible Why" technique. It is ideal for teachers and salesmen, too, as well as weary parents.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Y - 323: Tommy T., aged 7, is a very brilliant boy.

"Dr. Crane, Tommy drives me almost crazy," his father explained, "for when I get home from the office, dead tired, he starts pestering me with questions.

DR. CRANE

"He may ask, 'Daddy, where does the sun go at night?' and before I can figure out a simple solution in language adapted to his age, he has rushed down the line and maybe fired a dozen more queries at me.

"So when I do finally answer him, I sometimes wonder if he even remembers that first query for he is then pestering me with Number 13.

"Yet I suppose a father should try to educate his children by giving them facts. But it is certainly very frustrating to me. What can I do?"

REVERSIBLE WHY

Questions are an indirect sign of a child's I.Q. or mental alertness.

And they also suggest a healthy youngster. For when a boy or girl gets sick, he loses much of his curiosity.

We physicians know that a child is quite ill when it no longer asks for comic books or the TV or inquires about its toys and playmates.

As we approach death, we may even lapse into a coma, where our curiosity is reduced to zero.

So be very grateful that your children pester you with unceasing queries since that means they are both intelligent and healthy.

Furthermore, Jesus stated that the kingdom of heaven is like a little child, which may mean, in part, that it is by keeping an inquiring mind that we discover God's laws and zoom our inventions.

But Tommy's father should use the "reversible why" on the boy and tactfully turn the questions back upon Tommy.

PAUSE & PRAISE

This strategy is ideal not only for handling the queries of children but for answering questions from the audience during a forum discussion.

Salesmen, too, will find it super duper in meeting the objections of prospects.

But before you "reverse the why," momentarily "pause & praise," for that puts the other person in a more receptive frame of mind.

"Daddy, where does the sun go at night?" inquires Tommy.

"Well, that is certainly a very clever question you have asked," his daddy can reply as he starts the "pause & praise" method.

"In fact, Tommy, you might be interested to know that at the time of Columbus, some of the school teachers didn't even know where the sun went at night.

"Since you have asked such a good question, however, I'll let you see if you can answer it yourself. Where do YOU think the sun goes at night?"

Notice the excellent results of this new strategy. Tommy feels happy to think he has raised a question that even school teachers couldn't answer at the time of Christopher Columbus.

This inflates his ego and makes him doubly interested in the final reply. Meanwhile, too, he has been stopped in his tracks, so to speak.

Instead of rushing onward with a dozen more unrelated queries while his father is trying to evolve an answer to his first question, Tommy is now concentrating on Number One.

Moreover, he is helping evolve the answer, so the final solution will stick in his memory more deeply.

And his weary father has more time to "stall" gracefully while he is trying to collect his wits and dig up the proper data to supplement Tommy's own efforts, in case Tommy can't fully reply to his own query.

So send for my booklet "Advertising and Selling Strategy," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It contains further advice on this "reversible why" technique for use by parents and teachers, as well as star salesmen.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Wife of Hero Flying to Capital

Merchants, Reservists Pay Way So She Can Attend Arlington Rites

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thanks to a group of Detroit merchants and the Fleet Reserve Assn., Mrs. William Charette is going to attend Memorial Day ceremonies for America's fighting men after all.

Mrs. Charette, wife of the Michigan Medal of Honor sailor who selected the unknown serviceman of World War II, thought she would be left at home with her wistful hopes.

The reason: She didn't have the money to make the trip from her trailer park home in Key West, Fla.

Charette, in Washington to attend the ceremonies, said he just didn't have the money to pay for his wife's trip. He is a Navy hospitalman first class from Ludington.

Merchants of Northland Shopping Center outside Detroit, the Fleet Reserve Assn., and Secretary of the Army Brucker offered to pick up the tab for her trip.

It was decided the merchants would pay her plane fare and the Fleet Reserve Assn. would pay her hotel bill and other incidentals, Brucker, a former Michigan governor, wasn't called on to pay for anything although he stood ready to help.

Charette won the Medal of Honor for bravery in the Korean War.

Grandmothers Swing 'n' Sway in Orchestra

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Here's an all-grandmother orchestra that prefers rock 'n' roll to a rocking chair. And they're the swingingest.

The ladies, many in their 70s, play everything from low down blues to raucous rock 'n' roll that would curl the sideburns of an Elvis Presley fan.

The 22 gals, all former professional musicians, practice once a week. They hope to get television bookings.

They were organized last fall by Mrs. Jean Ward, who dabbles in gerontology—the science of growing old. The band proves, she said, that Grandma doesn't have to sit by the fire and mope just because the kids have married and moved away.

What Granny needs is to feel wanted, useful and able, she says.

The grandmas are working up an act that covers jazz from the Whiteman era to George Shearing. One of their wildest numbers is the old Woody Herman arrangement of "Jumping at the Woodside."

When Mrs. Jean Lutty, a youngster of 44, takes off on the drum solo, Mrs. Alice Mortimer, 72, frequently leaps from her chair and yells: "Go, go, go."

Most of the ladies are retired. Some are teachers. One works as a clerk in a sporting goods store. Another in a soda fountain. Another works as a photographer's model.

Home Building Industry Gains Called Encouraging

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Encouraging gains in home and other building contracts are being reported around the nation. And the cash for the construction and for other boosts to the economy isn't all coming from federal agency action in making money easier.

Some of it is coming from the marked increase in savings, individual and institutional.

More lending funds are available from the rise of personal savings in banks and savings and loan associations, from the record gains in insured pension plans, and the rise in life insurance policy assets.

The drop in business demands for loans for expansion and the slide last year in the home building industry have led some to forget that these demands are still strong on a long-term average, and that there has been a big buildup in demand by communities for funds for civic construction projects and by some industries servicing the growing population.

Construction contracts in the United States last month were 4 per cent higher than a year ago, F. W. Dodge Corp., construction news specialists, report. The residential building category rose 1 per cent in several dwelling units covered. A unit of gain of 12 per cent in New York is reported by the state housing commissioner.

Government figures show that despite a slide this year in the feverish pace of business expansion, industry is planning to spend 32 billion dollars for new plant and equipment. This isn't hay, despite the comparison with 1957's record 37 billion dollars.

The investment money is coming from many sources, some from within the corporations out of retained earnings, some from without.

The nation's 520 mutual savings banks report savings rising much faster this year than last. In the first four months of this year deposits rose by 811 million dollars, compared with 442 million in the like period of 1957. Total deposits are now a record 32½ billion dollars, held by 22 million depositors.

More of these assets are going into home building. In April the banks increased their mortgage loans by 154 million dollars.

The Institute of Life Insurance reports that in the first three months of 1958 new capital funds available for the economy from life insurance policy assets totaled $1,342,000,000, or 9 per cent more than in the corresponding period of 1957.

The insurance companies funneled the largest block of their investment funds this year into corporate securities.

Insured pension plans in force in the United States cover 4,860,000 employes with total reserves of more than 14 billion dollars.

Last year saw the biggest gains on record. There was an increase of 2,820 plans, 385,000 in the number of persons covered and 1½ billion dollars in the reserves.

The greatest percentage gains were shown in the deposit administration plans, the type under which a fund is accumulated with a life insurance company for the covered workers as a group and used to purchase an annuity for each individual upon retirement.

All of these sources of savings — banks, insurance companies, pension funds—are in the market looking for good investment risks.

This can offer a sound basis for any pickup in home building, in business activity, in industrial expansion.

Rochester Man Held in Shooting

Detroit Police Believe He Plotted With Friend to Kill Wife

DETROIT (AP)—A husband and an unemployed construction worker who allegedly conspired to kill the husband's estranged wife were held for investigation of murder today.

Lt. Glenn Coller said Charles E. Rose, 49, of Rochester, and the construction worker, Carter Walker, 37, were held in the Wednesday night shooting of Rose's wife, Anna Marie, 40.

Mrs. Rose, the mother of 10 children, was shot while scrubbing the floor of her apartment in Detroit. She is in serious condition in Receiving Hospital with a bullet punctured lung.

Walker, arrested shortly after the shooting on a description furnished by Mrs. Rose, said Rose offered him $5,000 to shoot Mrs. Rose, according to Lt. Coller.

Police said Walker had a .25 caliber pistol when arrested. He told police the gun and a key to the apartment had been given him by Rose.

Walker said he met Rose about a month ago and in several encounters since Rose had discussed the shooting.

Rose denied any part in the attack on his wife. He said he and his wife had been married for 20 years. Mrs. Rose said the couple separated last Christmas.

Eight of her 10 children are at home, one is in the Marine Corps and another lives in Brown City, Mich.

Oil Companies Rap Charges

Call U.S. Indictments Charging Price-Fixing Conspiracy Ridiculous

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—Oil company officials say federal price-fixing conspiracy indictments against their firms are "preposterous . . . ridiculous . . . wholly unwarranted."

Denials came from most of the 29 oil firms indicted yesterday by a federal grand jury on a charge of conspiring to fix prices of crude oil and auto gasoline in a 43-state area. The one-count indictment, which named companies but no individuals, capped an investigation that began in March 1947.

A number of firms declined comment.

Many of the nation's biggest oil companies were among the 29 charged with violating Section I of the Sherman antitrust law. Conviction could bring a maximum penalty of a $50,000 fine.

Crude oil prices were boosted generally by 35 cents a barrel in January 1957. Later, the retail price of gasoline was increased generally by 1 cent a gallon.

Several months earlier, Egyptian seizure of the Suez Canal had caused an oil shortage in Western Europe. And shortly before the domestic price increases, then Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell authorized American oil firms to take cooperative action in supplying needed oil to Europe.

He Makes Sure Sailors' Graves Are Shipshape

QUINCY, Mass. (AP)—The graves of 150 long-forgotten sailormen were shipshape this Memorial Day because of Siegfried von Hartenstein, 87, retired gunner's mate.

Six years ago he came across a desolate, weed-grown cemetery with rotting wooden crosses. He embarked on a one-man rehabilitation project, with watering pot, gardening tools and tulip bulbs.

His efforts through the years attracted the attention and cooperation of the American Legion and the Quincy Veterans Bureau.

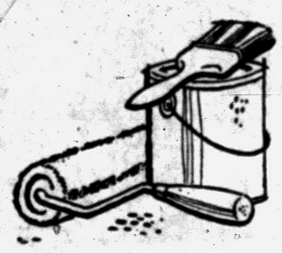

Today flags fluttered over graves blanketed by smoothly trimmed sod and neat marble stones have replaced many of the fallen wooden crosses.

New Square Manholes Have Two Advantages

NEW YORK — And now, the square manhole. It has two advantages over the customary circular type. The lid is supported on corner lugs, and no rocking occurs when it comes in contact with vehicles' tires. When it's time to resurface the street, shims are provided to raise the lid so it stays level with the new surface. This procedure can be repeated any number of times.

Tree Planting Attains Record High in 1957

ATLANTA — The nation planted a billion forest trees in 1957, about 200,000,000 more than in 1956, for an all-time record. About 86 per cent of the planting was done on private lands. Georgia led with 717,000 acres planted and Florida was second with 583,000.

Dealers Back Car Price Tags

National Group Tells House Subcommittee It Fully Supports Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Automobile Dealers Assn. (NADA) has come out for placing a clear price tag on new cars.

The group fully supported such a measure before a House commerce subcommittee. A bill aimed at putting price tags on new autos has been passed by the Senate.

The NADA believes the bill would be a step toward revitalizing the slumping auto industry, said car dealer Thomas F. Abbott Jr., of Fort Worth, Tex. The NADA represents franchised auto dealers.

Abbott said elimination of the markup system called "packing" would give buyers more confidence.

The National Independent Automobile Dealers Assn. has opposed one portion of the bill.

Val T. Jones, executive vice president of the independent dealers, said using a label naming the dealers who receive cars from manufacturers would amount to a death warrant for independents.

Jones said this was because franchised dealers do not want it known when they sell cars to the independents.

Walker A. Williams, a Ford Motor Co. vice president, said the House should pass the Senate bill because auto industry competition makes self-regulation impossible.

Drinking Thief Gets Tripped by Plain Water

NEW YORK (AP)—One on the house wasn't enough for Wilfred Dart.

After rifling a dentist's office, Dart lingered for hours over a bottle of scotch. Then his final undoing was, of all things, water.

Dart, 53, is a former Boston bootlegger who served 20 years in prison for killing a man during a hijacking gun duel. Wounded in the battle, he lost his right leg and now has an artificial one.

Police said Dart, with the aid of an automobile spring, forced his way into the office of Dr. Lawrence Clayman on Park Avenue. All he could find was about $30 worth of stamps — and the scotch.

It was in the wee small hours. There was no hurry. One nip led to another. Came the dawn and Dart started slowly to leave through the window he had jimmied.

Outside, hosing down the sidewalk was Thomas Lenahan, superintendent and chief window washer. Lenahan saw Dart and asked him what he was doing there. "I'm the window washer," said Dart.

"You're a liar, I'm the window washer," snorted Lenahan.

Lenahan turned the hose on Dart, holding him at bay until police arrived. Dart was booked on charges of burglary and possession of burglar's tools.

Choose Diamond Carefully

Should a girl help her sweetheart get a good buy in the engagement ring or just let him go it alone?

Well, today she usually helps him. Jewelers say there has never been a time when young women knew so much about diamonds.

Statistically, more final sales of engagement rings are made to men than to couples who come in together. Girls do the preliminary shopping, however, and men show the effects of being coached, hinted to, or lovingly lectured.

HOW MUCH TO SPEND?

One of the most important questions is how much a young man should spend for the ring. Some jewelers suggest that his income is a good yardstick and that it is reasonable for him to lay out a sum equal to about one month's earnings.

Many factors determine the price of a stone and even if you're told that a gem is flawless it still might not be the best buy. The degree of whiteness is important. When a jeweler talks about "fine color" in a gem that is like a drop of water, he is praising its whiteness. The faintest trace of yellow would lower its value.

Put your major money into the center stone of your ring. This is your "forever" diamond and becomes a family inheritance. Side attractions in the way of little side diamonds are a pretty trimming but can be added later; you may get a new mounting for an anniversary.

FAVORITE CUTS

The favorite cuts (shapes) for diamonds are:

The Brilliant, always round and, if a standard brilliant, always with 58 facets. Facets, by the way, are on the outside of your diamond; not inside. They are little planes or panels ground on the surface to attract light. When the light rushes in and out it makes "fire."

The Emerald cut is sleek and modern: Either oblong or square in contour. It glistens rather than glitters and is highly fashionable.

The Marquise and Pear Cuts are variations of the brilliant. The marquise with two points, looks like a little boat, and the pear with its one point resembles the fruit. In sizes under one carat these shapes usually may be had with metal reflectors or "frames" set around them so that their over-all diamond dazzle delights you and impresses your admiring public!

Pontiac Press Photo

Spending a quiet Memorial Day holiday at their Hammond Lake drive home will be the family of Harcourt Patterson. Lee (back row, left), who is home from the University of Michigan, and Barbara are all ready for a peppy game of badminton. Mrs. Patterson and Harcourt Jr. seem to feel that sitting in the sun and relaxing with one of the current magazines would be a more interesting idea. At any rate, it looks as if the Patterson family will spend the weekend in a variety of interesting ways.

Needlework Guild Unit Holds Meeting

Queen Mary Section of Needlework Guild met with Mrs. Henry Milligan on Belmont street Thursday afternoon. Members sewed articles for baby layettes. The June 12 meeting will be held in the Calgary road home of Mrs. Charles Craighead.

Golf Club Meets

Fairway Golf Club met Thursday afternoon at the Pontiac Country Club for its monthly meeting. Serving on the committee were Mrs. Charles Barker, Mrs. Robert Boles and Mrs. Eugene Hickson.

Lipstick Has Dual Color Tone

A new pink 'n' orange lipstick shade, close enough kin to the peach, orange, mango and papaya colors of summer fashions to have been plucked from the same tree or bush, makes news on every fashion count.

Revolutionary in capsuling two lipstick shades into one, pink 'n' orange will inspire its wearers to do new and interesting things to their makeup.

No. 1: With a pink 'n' orange lipstick, they can wear coral tone cheek rouge and achieve an effect of delicacy and freshness.

No. 2: With a pink 'n' orange lipstick, the best make-up foundation tint—a Georgia-peach-and-Jersey-cream shade of pink—is happily enough the prettiest on a face.

No. 3: With the new lipstick's pink and orange, a wearer will need to wear a cool-colored eyeshadow, just as an artist, painting a canvas filled with sunlight needs the cool color of a stream of blue water or strip of blue sky. If the eyeshadow is iridescent, its blue, green or mauve shade will look cooler.

Set to Water Ski

Members of the Lake Sherwood Ski Club and their families are meeting today for a picnic and water skiing party, their first of the season. The group plans to meet every third Sunday throughout the summer for all-day outings at the lake.

Kids Pile Up—Abby

Sitter Has Addition Problem

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am single and occupy my evening "sitting" with children. I've been asked to sit with four and five children at one home. Some people have the nerve to "pool" their children with the neighbors and I sit with them all for a flat fee of a dollar an hour. I'm expected to give them supper, baths and put them to bed. It is five times as much work to take care of five children as it is for one, so I think I should be paid by the Child, not the hour. I'd like the opinion of others as well as your own on this subject, please.

UNDERPAID AND OVERWORKED

ABBY

DEAR U. AND O.: "Sitters" generally work out an arrangement to suit the pocketbook of the family for whom she sits. She also has the privilege of stating her limitations insofar as duties and the number of children are concerned. If you feel overworked and underpaid, tell it to the lady of the house.

"DEAR ABBY: I noticed a letter in your column from a father who complained because his wife slipped their teen-age son extra money besides his allowance. He said the boy's allowance was "more than plenty." Please tell me how much, exactly is "more than plenty?" TEEN-AGE BOY

DEAR BOY: "Plenty" should cover all necessary expenses (lunches, transporation, school supplies) and "more than plenty" should cover entertainment and non-essentials. It is my opinion that boys who are old enough to "date" are old enough to earn the money with which to do it.

"DEAR ABBY: I am 50 and my husband is 53 but he tells his girl friend that he is 45. He doesn't take me any place because he is afraid his girl friend will see him. He has told her that I am not his wife, but his mother's sister. If his girl friend knew the truth she wouldn't look at him. Do you think I should tell her?" UNHAPPY WIFE

ROBERT NORTH

Robert North, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert A. North of South Jessie street, will receive a bachelor of science degree with a major in business administration from Olivet Nazarene College today. He was elected to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

DEAR UNHAPPY: It seems to me that if a girl is really interested in getting the facts about a man's marital status, it wouldn't be too difficult. Give your husband first chance to tell her. If he passes — it's up to you.

"DEAR ABBY: When I started to work at this place, the assistant manager asked me out. I refused him because I was going steady. My boy friend and I broke up about a week ago and I would like to let the assistant manager know that I would like to go out with him. How can I inform him without pushing myself? NO PUSHER

DEAR NO. You need an "assistant," too? Enlist the help of a co-worker, and let her (or him) give him the news.

"DEAR ABBY. I would like to comment on a letter signed "INHIBITED." Speaking from personal experience, med. students are the worst kind. Just because they know all about anatomy from textbooks and cadavers they think they are entitled to special privileges. I prefer law students. They have more respect for girls." BETTY CO-ED.

CONFIDENTIAL TO R. R.: Cameras don't lie but they sometimes exaggerate a little. Better see the girl in person first.

Did You Offer to Exchange

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I play bridge with several other women friends one night a week. The bridge club was supposed to meet at my house last week but my husband wasn't feeling well. Our apartment is very small and I thought having the women in would disturb him. So I called one of the other members and asked her if we could play at her house instead.

"She hesitated a moment and then said, "Yes, I guess it will be all right." She made me feel by the tone of her voice that I was imposing on her and I was sorry I had asked. Was I wrong to make such a request?"

Answer: If you had said to her that your husband was not feeling well and asked if you could exchange nights with her, explaining that if she would have the club meet at her house this week you would have them next week, she would not have felt imposed upon.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am 17 years old and a freshman in college. I recently became engaged and would like to know whether or not it would be proper for me to wear my diamond ring to school. My mother thinks it would be in very bad taste, but I am proud of it and I can't see why there would be anything wrong in my wearing it."

Answer: I agree with you. It is always proper for an engaged girl to wear her ring.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Does one have to buy an item that typifies a particular wedding anniversary? Don't you think it would make more sense to buy something you know for sure would be more acceptable, regardless of what year they are celebrating?"

Answer: I certainly agree that it makes far more sense to buy something you know the anniversary couple will like rather than something they would not like just because it typifies the particular anniversary.

LUCILLE CRAIG

Announcement is made of the engagement of Lucille Craig and Glenn Phelps. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lillian Craig of Marx street and Lawrence Craig of Fiddis street. The prospective bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Phelps of Maplecrest drive. A fall wedding is planned.

Chest Is No Moth Killer

That crash you heard is another time-honored institution trumbling to the ground. This time, it's the cedar chest.

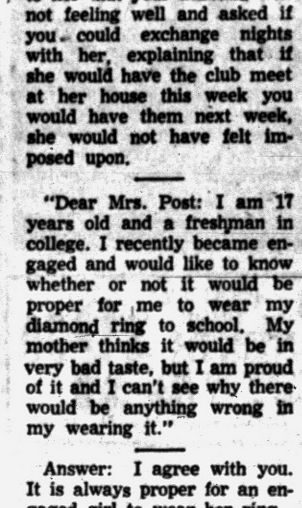

U. S. Department of Agriculture insect scientists have been studying clothes moths and carpet beetles in woolen clothes stored in chests made of red cedar, white cedar, and South American cedar.

But there is a message hidden in the statistics for all of us who have woolen things, furs and feathers to store: Don't expect protection from a cedar chest that is more than two years old.

A new cedar chest, the government insect men found, will do a pretty good job of killing moths and beetles; it will keep most insect eggs from hatching; it will keep the tiny larvae from growing; it will keep adult insects from making little insects.

The insect researchers studied in considerable detail just when chests of different kinds of cedar wood quit being effective against insects at different stages of growth. Red cedar, they found, was effective longer than white cedar or South American cedar.

There are good insect killers and moth-proofing chemicals on the market, and the government scientists recommend putting your faith in them rather than in old cedar chests.

FREDERIC D. WARD

Graduating from Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt., on June 9 will be Frederic D. Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic S. Ward of Ward's Point drive. A sociology major, he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity, vice president and rushing chairman of Interfraternity Council, president and treasurer of his fraternity, a member of the sophomore and junior class councils, Mountain Club, and participated in intramural sports for four years.

City White Shrine Honors 3 Women

Mrs. William Baker, Mrs. Edward Wallace and Ernestine Thompson received life memberships at a meeting of Pontiac White Shrine 22.

Kathryn Quick is general chairman for an annual card party being held Sept. 24. Mrs. Samuel Smith announced at the Wednesday meeting that the fourth annual Christmas fair will be held Nov. 29.

Seatons Have Son

A son, Jay, was born May 22 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Arden J. Seaton of Otsego drive. Grandparents of the infant are Mrs. Charles Seaton of Sanford street and Mrs. B. M. Fenwick of Lewis street.

PATRICIA G. ZIELKE

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Zielke of Berwick boulevard announce the engagement of their daughter Patricia Gail to Richard Dean Bashore son of the Noble Bashores of Cadillac avenue. Both are students at Ferris Institute. An August 23 wedding is planned.

Room in Her Heart for Family and the World

Pat Nixon Has New Poise, Inner Glow

(This is the last of four articles in which a famed Washington reporter describes the life and romance of Mrs. Richard M. Nixon.)

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Talk of the "new Nixon" frankly puzzles the second lady of the land.

To a friend who recently remarked about how much Dick has "grown in stature," Pat Nixon mused: "As far as I'm concerned, Dick is Dick. I live with him all the time, and I don't notice any day-by-day or year-by-year changes."

The poised young woman who has sat on the right hand of presidents and potentates would be equally reluctant to believe that she herself is any different from the one-time shorthand teacher at Whittier High.

Her reed-slim figure and her modesty are indeed unchanged. Yet nowadays there is a sparkle, an inner glow that bespeaks her hard-won self-assurance.

The rocks and insults of a howling Caracas mob have failed to ruffle her calm, but her hundreds of visits around the world to orphanages and hospitals and native hotels have touched her emotionally and helped to develop her serene maturity.

Women who, reading of her public duties and ceremonial travels, wonder how she has time to be a mother just don't know Pat.

In their 11-room Tudor house in the fashionable Wesley Heights section of Washington, Pat presides over a menage consisting of 9- and 12-year-old daughters, two cats, several goldfish and 6-year-old Checkers, their well-publicized cocker spaniel. Checkers, incidentally, is the only member of the family who needs to watch his weight.

NO FOOLISHNESS; MUCH FUN

In the Nixon household there is no foolishness, but plenty of fun. Tricia and Julie attend public school, bring home good report cards, and do their homework each evening before the television set can be tuned in.

Shielded as much as possible from the public limelight, they are as spoiled as any other little American girls with loving parents—but no more so.

Tricia is a Girl Scout and Julie a Brownie. Pat takes her turn at providing the cookies and punch for their weekly meetings. She has had birthday parties for them, and even a "dog" party for Checkers.

"I don't fill them full of don'ts," Pat once said of her daughters. "There are a few rules and they know exactly what they are."

The attractive living room, for instance, is taboo for romping, but they have their own playroom and big backyard. They can dress up in their mother's cast-off clothing for play-acting, but they must put them away. They have their assigned household chores.

It was like the second emancipation of womanhood for American housewives when Pat at last, and only recently, hired a domestic couple to do the scrubbing and cleaning.

DID OWN WORK

If women until then had somewhat resented their efficiency, it was chiefly because of their husbands' kidding cracks about the way the second lady of the land could manage without a maid.

"I just don't believe it," women muttered while Pat cheerfully did the marketing, cooking, dishwashing, scouring, mending and bedmaking before donning a party frock for lunch at an official shindig, or tea at a Republican conclave.

"But I can dress in five minutes," Pat laughs, "because I check the buttons and seams before I put a dress back in the closet."

A poll of 20,000,000 members of the Homemakers Forum last December acclaimed Pat Nixon as the "Nation's Ideal Housewife."

A poll of an equal number of downtrodden women from India to Ghana to Peru would probably select her as the American visitor they would most like to have share their rationed tea.

ADMIRED AND LOVED

Foreign dignitaries who have sat beside Pat at official dinners sometimes marvel at her wide range of knowledge about complex world problems. They admire her, but the disease-ridden women and children whom she has visited in the hospitals of four continents almost worship her.

The vice president, talking with this correspondent recently, exclaimed: "The effect that Pat has had overseas is nothing short of incredible. Hardly a day goes by but that I receive a letter which tells what a wonderful impression she made in that country, and how much the women who are struggling for emancipation admire her."

With understandable pride, he added: "She has the rare ability to look fresh at all times. She never complains of being tired, and she is never snooty. Pat is a wonder."

COME A LONG WAY

The amber-eyed, auburn-tinged blonde has come a long way since her cow-tending days on a California truck farm. The pavement pounding of the depression '30s, the store clerking and the school teaching have also receded into the dim past.

The 45-year-old second lady who this month captured the admiration of a grateful nation by her impeccable conduct under extreme duress in Venezuela seems now to have reached the pinnacle.

Yet, the GOP convention in 1960 is almost sure to nominate Dick Nixon for the presidency. It will then be up to the American voters to decide whether Pat moves her little brood to the White House.

If she does, you can be sure the packing will be efficiently handled.

Party Fetes Mary Singles

Mary Therese Singles, whose marriage to Samuel Piaseczny will be solemnized June 14 in St. Michael Catholic Church, was honored at a dinner Wednesday evening at Jeri's in Detroit.

Hostess for the event was Mrs. Harry Lefhofsky, grandmother of the prospective bridegroom.

Among the guests were Mrs. Paul Singles, Mrs. Stanley Piaseczny, Mrs. Warren Cosgrove, Mrs. Mitchell Feldman, Delores Cook, Ann Cohen, Mrs. Ben Serman, Mrs. Clara Cohens, Mrs. Harry Simons, Mrs. David Berman, Mrs. John Wilkinson, Mrs. Sol Robins and Mrs. Marvin Sellins.

Others were Mrs. Hugh Warash, Mrs. Ethel Goldman, Mrs. Milton Tillson, Mrs. William Serman, Mrs. Nate Lieb, Mrs. Max Blum, Mrs. Herbert Lefhofsky and Mrs. Newton Finlay.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Singles of Oliver street, and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Piaseczny of Detroit.

Fashion to Stay in Paris

PARIS (INS)—Madame Elsa Schiaparelli — or "Schiap" as she is known the world over — ducked out of the hectic whirl of Parisian Haute Couture in 1954 because, she says, the business became "too sharp."

But she insists that Paris is and will remain the fashion center of the world.

GREAT FABRICS

"Remember, Paris is the place where the great fabrics are found—where the work of the seamstress and the model has a national respect — where the workers are eager in their crafts and love their work. That is why Paris will always be queen of fashions.

"But," Schiap added, "one must be a publicity expert or a financial wizard to operate in the fashion world today—and I'm neither."

The fashion designer, who had a 30-year career in high fashion, says the rules she learned long ago still hold true.

"For years," she said, "I have been telling American women to let their husbands go shopping with them.

TO BE ADMIRED

"They buy clothes to be admired so why not let those who are going to do the admiring have a say in the selection. Any woman who lets her husband help her select her clothes is not only well dressed but a happy wife."

Schiaparelli also has some advice for men. She thinks the men should break out of "their color prison."

"Men should use more reds. Not the red you find on a fire truck but the red of a deep sunset or southern earth. That color red is an element—like black and white."

Obedience Necessary for Own Happiness

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Ward's mother, his grandparents his Uncle Jack and Aunt Flo were all in the living room discussing his uncle's plan to drive to California this summer. The trouble was, Aunt Flo wanted to use part of the trip to visit her parents.

Ward's grandma said, "But Flo, Jack's got only three weeks to take in all those wounderful sights out west. He works so hard all year I do think that you . . ."

Bored by this grown-up talk, Ward had started running his dump truck's wheels up and down the arm of the sofa. Noticing this, his grandma interrupted herself to say to her daughter, "Connie, the boy will wreck the fabric on that sofa arm if you let him go on doing that."

So Ward's mother told him to stop.

He didn't. And at once every member of his mother's family stiffened, waiting for her to do something about it. When she ignored it, saying querulously, "He just won't do a thing he's told," they all started hating Ward.

5-30

4em lengths that looked radically short a few months back, look right now. If "your skirt is too long" a dowdy look results.

The speed with which the eye gets accustomed to a fashion change makes it desirable to keep up at least enough not to look old-fashioned and unsmart. Older fashions can be shortened, belts taken off, waistlines eased to bring them up to date.

His grandparents thought, "Poor Connie won't have her sorrows to seek raising this boy."

His Uncle Jack and Aunt Flo thought, "When this kid is around, nobody else gets a chance at attention."

But his mother's thought was the most resentful of all. She thought, "My family despises me because Ward doesn't obey me. Their contempt for me is his fault. If he'd only do what I tell him, he could save me from humiliation. But he never does. He never does . . ."

Thus five-year-old Ward paid the price of rejection by his family community for the insignificant pleasure of running a toy's wheel back and forth over a sofa.

Though Jesus managed rejection by people who said they loved Him, little children cannot stand it.

Psychoanalyst Erich Fromm calls the Bible story of Cain an "illustration of the fact that what man most fears is rejection."

He writes, "The punishment that Cain called 'greater than I can bear' was to be made an outcast — to be separated from his fellow men."

We demand obedience from children to protect them against Cain's experience of hate and isolation. If we cannot demand it, it is because, like Ward's mother, we haven't felt the pain of our own rejection.

Make It a Lovely Portrait

A girl's loveliest portrait photograph is her wedding picture—in full color. To capture a bride's beauty on film at its best, here are a half dozen "tricks of the trade" from portrait photographers:

1. Forget the new "sack look" for one day. Pick a bridal gown with that tiny-waisted "wedding ring" look. Some day you may want to brag about that small waistline. Emphasize it by wearing foundation garments one size smaller than you generally wear.

2. Many brides don't look their best in white. If you're one who doesn't, consider the new off-white and soft pastel tints for your wedding gown. They show up beautifully in color portraits.

AVOID 'SET' HAIRDO

3. Go to the hairdresser at least one full day before your photo appointment — to avoid that "just set" look. And don't experiment. Keep the hair style you're accustomed to wearing. The one that flatters you is soft and casual.

4. Use a tinted liquid make-up base. If it is one shade darker than you normally wear, it will hide blemishes. Use no rouge, for it tends to create unflattering shadows.

5. Use a clear red lipstick, applied as neatly as possible and following the natural outline of your lips.

GLAMORIZE EYES

6. Use eye makeup, even if you are unaccustomed to wearing it. The makeup will make your eyes seem larger, give them depth and sparkle for the portrait.

First darken your brows with short, light strokes of an eyebrow pencil, then blend with a soft brush. For unruly brows, try an old toothbrush rubbed with a bit of softened soap. Next outline the eye gently with the pencil, extending the line slightly out and upward beyond the outer edge of the eyelid. Finally, apply mascara to the lashes, taking care to keep the lashes separated.

While you're at the photographer's studio, it's an excellent time to have a more informal portrait made, so take along a change of clothes. A dress cut on simple flowing lines—preferably in a solid pastel shade, is most flattering.

After the wedding, you can surprise your new husband with this portrait for his office desk.

Chapter of Sorority Meets for Picnic

Mrs. Ralph Marriott Jr. entertained members of Alpha Omega hcapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority at a picnic in her Maceday drive home Wednesday evening.

Plans were made for a July 19 dinner party. The chapter will have a booth at the Waterford CAD fair June 20, 21 and 22.

Avoid Vapid Look in Eyebrow Care

Pluck eyebrows only to acquire a neater line by removing stray hairs from under the brows and across the bridge of the nose. Avoid the vapid, blank look that comes from plucking eyebrows too severely.

Make a Decision

Choose Psychiatry or Surgery

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I am a woman in my late forties with a problem which is having a dire effect on me and on my family. It is my sincere hope that you won't feel that I need psychiatric help for even after that treatment the condition would still be here.

"During the past two years I have developed a heavily furrowed brow. There is a deep frown at the center and two deep ridges on either side, the sight of which actually nauseates me. Because of this, going out and seeing people has become distasteful to me and I am gradually becoming a recluse.

"I have seen a plastic surgeon twice. He says he can correct the condition but either because of fear of ridicule, or fear of the unknown I have done nothing about it. What is your opinion of this situation?"

If you are aiming at optimum health, Josephine Lowman believes vitamin supplements to be a good idea.

A. I think that psychiatric treatment would give you a much healthier attitude toward the furrows in your brow. Do one thing or the other. Either learn to live with the lines or have them corrected with plastic surgery. I feel sure that this can be satisfactorily done. Just be certain that you have a competent surgeon.

Q. Why do people need vitamin supplements if they eat a well-balanced diet?"

A. Those who eat a well-balanced diet will not suffer from a deficiency in vitamins and minerals. But if you are aiming at optimum health I believe supplements to be a good idea. The soil the vegetables and fruits are grown in, the time which elapses between the garden and the dinner table and the manner in which they are prepared all have their effect on the vitamin content of the vegetables and fruits we eat. Do not make the mistake of thinking of vitamins as medicine. They are really concentrated food.

Q. "I am 13 years old. When I was younger I used to bite my nails and even the flesh around them. As a result I have stubby looking fingers. What can I do?"

A. Pinch the ends of your fingers gently between the thumb and forefinger of the other hand. Do this to each finger several times every night. Of course I am supposing that you have stopped the nail biting habit.

Q. "Why do some folks keep heavy eyebrows all their lives while other people's brows become thin?

A. Most brows become thinner as time passes. However, this depends on the individual glandular setup. A low thyroid sometimes causes this. Check with your physician.

House Rent Is Cheep It's Just a Song!

When you hang a birdhouse in the yard you're really settled—or so I've always felt.

And so the day after we moved into a new home a little more than a year ago I hung a wren house in a small live oak outside the window above the desk where I do my writing chores.

Last spring a house-hunting pair of wrens turned up their noses at it and went off to nest in some more choice spot—perhaps an open mailbox or a clothespin basket in some shady back yard.

But today a pair of wrens is moving into the little house. Made of woven hickory splints, it has weathered to the exact color of the bark of the live oak.

All day long they have been working—carrying in small twigs, the fluffy tassels that drip from live oaks in spring, flying in and out toting one twig or tassel at a time.

The fact that the North Carolina craftsman who wove their little house by hand forgot to add a perch hasn't fazed them one bit.

They manage to get into their porchless, perchless home by lighting on top of the sloping roof and sliding down, giving a quick turn at the bottom of the roof and diving into the opening.

Perhas they are telling each other that they like the slide better than a regular perch. Or maybe they are saying that it isn't quite as convenient an arrangement as they'd like but there's a birdbath handy and, after all, you can't have everything when you're renting for a song.

And it's those songs they'll sing early in the summer mornings I am waiting to hear.

Two-Nation Alert Posted for Robbers

SARNIA, Ont. (AP) — A two-nation alert has been flashed to Canadian and American police for two men wanted in the $31,500 robbery of a bank messenger.

Sgt. Allan Campbell, commander of the Ontario provincial police post at Sarnia, said yesterday that warrants have been issued for Jack Hozianseian, 29, alias James Lawler, and William Grant, 28, alias William Shannon, both of Toronto.

Campbell said the two men were wanted in connection with the May 14 robbery of a messenger from the Port Huron branch of Michigan National Bank.

The messenger had just crossed the Blue Water Bridge into Sarnia and was on his way to a Canadian bank with the $31,500 when he was robbed by two men.

One of the bandits fired a shot at the messenger which grazed the man's head.

None of the money has been recovered.

Agent Tells Solution to Many Gardening and Lawn Problems

Discusses Bugs and Diseases

Includes Crab Grass, Rose Chafers, Beetles, Tent Caterpillars

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
County Horticultural Agent

Rose Chafers will soon attack roses, peonies and grapes. This tan colored beetle which destroys the flowers and leaves of many flowering plants caused tremendous damage last year. They annually appear during early June.

This beetle comes from a small white grub which lives in the soil. They seem to thrive in sandy soil, but not in clay or wet soils.

Two plans of attack are being suggested: killing the beetles when they appear, and destroying the grubs in the sod.

Previous recommendations of DDT were only modestly successful because this chemical required several hours to destroy this resistant pest. Recent tests have shown that a DDT and malathion emulsion combination is much more effective. This teaming of chemicals at the rate of two tablespoons of each in a gallon of water applied at five day intervals gives better control than either material alone, even at higher rates.

Complete information on grub control can be obtained from a bulletin at the Cooperative Extension Service, 1260 W. Blvd., in Pontiac.

Much enthusiasm has developed in Oakland County because of the availability of crab grass control chemicals which offer three to five year protection.

A specially formulated chlordane and an arsenic containing material sold under the trade name have been frequently mentioned. Both of these destroy the germinating seed of crabgrass and annual bluegrass. Neither of these show much promise after crabgrass seed has germinated. These seed begin to germinate by May 25, so use of these weed control materials at this time may be quite disappointing. However a late application should still give satisfaction during the 1959 summer.

To this date our only means of controlling Dutch elm disease has been to destroy the beetle which spreads the disease. These beetles emerge from brood trees around June 10. If you are planning to spray the trees on your property the spring application of DDT must be applied by this date.

Because these beetles feed on the small twigs of healthy trees, no spray program is effective unless the top branches are covered with DDT. Further information on formulas and application is available at the Cooperative Extension Service.

Maple Tree disease is common to Pontiac and vicinity. Red blister-like growths are beginning to appear on many young trees. These look like green warts which turn red. This is due to a mite which burrows into the leaves just as the leaf emerges from the bud in early spring.

Once things have progressed to the stage where we can see these blisters, no control is possible. The only way we can control this mite is to destroy it before it can attack the leaves in the spring. One application of malathion emulsion (at manufacturer's directions) in late March usually is effective. Thorough coverage of all twigs is necessary.

Farm and Garden News

MODERN MARY — This modern day "Mary, Mary quite contrary" knows that there's always a need for watering, especially this season when Mother Nature and the weatherman have forgot to release the rains.

It Isn't Too Late, Start Garden Now

If you've fallen behind your neighbors in planting your 1958 garden, don't dispair; there are ways to catch up with the early birds.

You can buy geraniums in small sizes to provide quick color without waiting. Group them to make a color splash for a terrace or doorway. Leave the plants in their pots, and place the pots in a large container. Adjust their height with soil in the bottom of the container. Arrange to resemble one big plant.

Marigolds of all kinds make a brilliant summer show. Get earlier color by buying them in new-type pots of compacted peat and plant food. Set the pots in soil and they will soon disintegrate.

Give Presents From Garden

Bouquets, Vegetables Show Your Time, Care, Pleasure

How many times have you heard that old saying "its not the gift, it's the thought behind it that's important?" A gift from your own garden bestows much more than that.

You are giving of yourself in the time, care and love you spent in planning, planting and tending the gifts you give. These are not purchased at the local store.

Many annuals grown from seeds make delightful cut flower bouquets. The blooms should be cut in the early morning or late afternoon and immediately put into water in a shady place to help them survive the shock of the cutting.

The arrangements of colors and forms you use to make your bouquets from these lovely blooms, will express your care and thought in the gift you give.

PUT IN JARS

But don't sell the gift of luscious fresh vegetables short either. Nothing pleases the gourmet quite as much as freshly picked vegetables and for those who do not have a garden of their own, such a present is a rare treat, indeed.

If you have a surplus of vegetables, can them in glass jars so that when you give them as gifts during the long winter months, they will look as attractive as they taste.

So plant from seed now and later on you'll have gifts that will appeal both to those who enjoy the delicacies found in fine foods and those who delight in the beauties of Nature.

Get a Tan Too

To Lose 10 Extra Pounds Exercise in Your Garden

Many of us are plagued with the same trouble, those ten extra pounds! They don't sound like so much while you're gaining them but when you try to get rid of them, they turn into monsters. They just won't go away.

With a little effort and at practically no expense you can not only lose those pounds but at the same time gain a glowing, tanned complexion, a healthy, straight figure and a wonderful serenity of mind. It's easy, just take up gardening.

Your principle investments in this beauty course will be inexpensive packets of garden seeds, an all-purpose fertilizer, several garden tools and a small plot of ground.

Exercise is painless when you have your mind on other things. While you're preparing your soil, planting your seeds, weeding and watering your garden, you'll be using flabby muscles that need tightening up for a good figure.

You'll be so interested in your garden, you'll forget that you're bending, kneeling and stooping which are all exercises you'll need to take off that extra poundage.

The vitamin-rich vegetables you grow will be the vegetables and salads you'll want to eat.

Out in the fresh air and sunshine, working at your own speed, you'll not only dig your way to health but you'll gain a happiness and serenity of mind that are the reflection of true beauty in a human being. Try it. You'll be surprised what it will do for you.

Tours of Gardens Offer Unending Road to Learning

Garden tours, a delightful practice sweeping the country from small communities to large cities, provide the gardener with an almost royal road to learning.

Each garden picture which pleases would be understood. Consideration should be given to plantings which are merely beautiful specimens in comparison with those which truly complement their surroundings.

As necesaary as a notebook and pencil is a yardstick or steel tape, and the more frequent its use the greater the value of notes.

Gardeners are noted for their willingness to share knowledge, and give ready response to questions about spraying, fertilizing and how their plantings were started.

There are some months when the design of a flower bed will have as much to do with pleasurable moments as its colorful contents in the spring. Careful attention to designs while on tours will mean much, for proper proportion offers many delights with its unobtrusive perfection.

About Lawn Seeding
Under ordinary circumstances we would consider it a bit late for sowing lawn seed. However, this spring has been so unusually dry and cold that we believe our best growing season is still ahead of us. We will probably have ample rainfall in June. Therefore we feel that seed, properly selected and sown now, will produce a good turf this summer.

Red Ruler Has Baggage Labels From Scotland to China

Traveler Khrushchev Wants Summit Talks

(This is the fifth of six articles by a former Moscow correspondent on the personality and policies of Russia's Nikita Khrushchev.)

By CHARLES H. KLENSCH

LONDON (UPI)—Nikita Khrushchev wants a summit conference at an early date, whether or not it produces any real progress toward easing East-West discord.

He remembers that it was the 1955 summit conference that made an international figure of his predecessor and former traveling companion, Marshal Nikolai Bulganin.

SEAL OF APPROVAL

Sitting down at the same table with President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will put the summit seal of approval on his assumption of the twin roles of party and government boss.

And it will bring him a step closer to his idea of a dream meeting—just Russia and America, the two superpowers, getting together to carve up the world into two spheres of influence.

Khrushchev has collected baggage labels from Scotland to China in the past five years, though he had only made one quick trip outside Russia—to Warsaw in 1945—previously.

WANDERED AS LAD

Little Nikita started his wanderings as a snub-nosed lad, tending sheep in his native village of Kalinovka, near Kursk in southern Russia. He's been on the go ever since.

His father took him south to the Don River basin coal fields of the Ukraine when he was a boy. He soldiered in the civil war, then started up the political ladder in the Ukraine and in Moscow.

He has always been an organizer on the move. He refused to become the traditional Russian bureaucrat and went out to the field and personally lit fires under subordinates who were.

After Stalin's death he began whistle-stopping even more widely across the Soviet Union, then ventured to the satellites and China and finally broke through the Iron Curtain to confront an astonished free world.

He's taken tea at Windsor Castle with young Queen Elizabeth, kissed almond-eyed Burmese babies, bounced across the corn fields of East Germany, sunbathed on Tito's private island in the Adriatic and bottoms-upped tiger-bone wine in Peiping's "Forbidden City."

A perspiring newsman who trailed him up and down Yugoslavia on the first B & K junket in 1955 asked Khrushchev, then a robust 61, if he was tired, too.

Khrushchev roared like a sawed-off Teddy Roosevelt:

"Tired?" of course not. I'm a strong man . . .

"Let me tell you something: Life is short. Live it up. See all you can. Hear all you can. And go all you can."

Khrushchev sometimes gives the impression of seeing only what he wants to see when he's abroad. But the habits of his trouble-shooting travels at home persist.

A Briton who followed him daily for three weeks on one of his tours found Khrushchev "continually noticed small details that escaped his companions . . . and at once he wanted explanations. He also seems to have a huge memory as well as a considerable grasp of technical details."

He makes himself right at home on his travels, frequently startling his hosts in the process.

He peeled off from the starchy official party during a visit to an experimental farm near Poona, India, grabbed up a sickle from a startled peasant, sprang into a paddy field and proceeded to give an impromptu demonstration of how rice should be harvested.

Khrushchev's first venture outside the Iron Curtain was in May 1955 when he and Bulganin went to Belgrade to make up with Tito, who had been drummed out of the Cominform by Stalin for refusing to knuckle under to Kremlin dictates.

Khrushchev revealed later that the trip was made practically over the prostrate body of Vyacheslav Molotov.

But the professional politician proved smarter than the professional diplomat.

And what looked to some observers at the beginning as a touring comedy team turned into communism's most effective traveling-salesman act. Not only did it make them world figures almost overnight, but it boosted their prestige at home.

CLEARER VIEW

And on the other side of the coin it has given Khrushchev a clearer view of what the West is doing and thinking than any Soviet leader has had since Lenin returned to Russia after years of western European exile.

Khrushchev has frequently hinted that the trip he would most like to make would be to the U.S., for man-to-man talks with President Eisenhower — the only other head man he seriously considers to be his equal in the era of superpowers.

He told an interviewer a few months ago:

"International tension is like a cabbage. If you tear off the leaves, one by one, you come to the heart. And the heart of the matter is relations between the Soviet Union and the U.S."

Beyond that he'd love to barge around the U.S. for a look-see at the nation he has boasted that Russia will out-distance in everything.

Curiously enough Khrushchev has kept on at the Kremlin the one man in Stalin's old Politburo, beside Molotov, who has actually toured the U.S. That is Anastas Mikoyan, who visited America in the '30s as minister of trade.

Mikoyan brought back to Russia the eskimo pie, the automat and corn flakes.

Khrushchev feels confident he could bring back even more worthwhile souvenirs.

Tommy Jacobs Shatters Par to Lead Field

23-Year Old Newcomer Shoots 64; 44 Others Fire Sub-Par Scores

By BILL CORNWELL

They were busy chasing youthful Tommy Jacobs this morning when the 55th Western Open golf championship began its second 18-hole round at Red Run.

A professional less than two years, the 23-year-old Jacobs tore par to shreds Thursday in the opening round of the 72-hole tournament.

Jacobs, who hails from Whittier, Calif., one-putted eight greens, fired eight birdies and never went over the prescribed figure on any of the 18 holes as he rifled a scorching eight-under-par 64.

His eye-popping score tied the course record previously shared by four other players — former Red Run pro Mortie Dutra, Fred Haas, Byron Nelson and amateur Chuck Kocsis who has turned the trick several times.

One of Jacob's birdies came on the 417-yard par four 14th where he holed out a 30-foot chip shot with his 8-iron. He made his other birdies on Nos. 1, 2, 6, 7, 9, 10 and 12.

In his solo efforts on the carpet, Jacobs dropped putts of 17, 12, 4, 3, 3, 2, 2 and 2 feet, Tommy had a five-under-par 31 at the turn and a three-below 33 coming home.

Despite his phenomenal 64, Jacobs was assured plenty of competition as the field of 127 pros and 19 amateurs teed off for the 2nd day of the four-day tourney.

Hot on his heels was Arnold Palmer from Latrobe, Pa., 1958 Masters champion. Palmer shot three birdies on each side and never exceeded regulation for a superb round of 33-33—66.

Only three strokes behind Jacobs were Frank Stranahan, the muscular Toledo millionaire, and chubby Bob Rosburg, the golfer with the baseball bat grip from Palo Alto, Calif. Stranahan carded 35-32—67 and Rosburg 32-35—67.

Four shots back of the leader at 68 were giant George Bayer, Mike Souchak, Don Witt and Australian Bruce Crampton.

Ten golfers were deadlocked with 69's and 13 more posted scorecards of 70, including Pontiac's Gene Bone who recorded four "birds" and two bogies during his 34-36 effort.

Golfing veterans Slammin' Sam Snead and Ed "Porky" Oliver were also in the 70 bracket, along with youngsters like Paul Harney and Don January.

All in all, par at Red Run took an awesome beating. There were 45 players below par and another 13 even at 72.

Among those bracketed at 71 were Ken Venturi, a big favorite in this event, Wally Burkemo, Chick Harbert and Max Evans, plus Tom Draper of Birmingham and Dick Norton of Grand Rapids who fired yesterday's best amateur scores.

On the brink of possible elimination entering today's round were defending Western champ Doug Ford and last year's U.S. Open ruler, Dick Mayer. Both started badly, Ford shooting 75 and Mayer 76.

The field was due for a slashing at the end of today's action and Ford and Mayer needed par or subpar recoveries to avoid being cut. The low 70 pros and all amateurs within their range will survive Memorial Day activity and move into the final 36 holes on Saturday and Sunday.

AUSSIE LIKES GOLF — Bruce Crampton, 22-year-old Australian isn't too keen about American baseball, but he likes golf any style. Crampton started his golf career when he found his first golf ball while hunting nest eggs in Sydney. He started off on the right foot at the Western Open yesterday by firing a 33-35—68. (See Press Box Column for story).

Bruce Crampton, handsome 22-year-old Australian pro taking part in the Western Open at Red Run Country Club, saw his first American baseball game at Kansas City just two weeks ago, and he didn't like what he saw.

"The game is much too slow, it would never go over in Australia. Even your American football doesn't compare with the speed and roughness of our Rugby," said Crampton.

'How about tennis?" we asked him. Since Australia puts out such fine tennis players, we wondered how and why he got into golf.

"Oh, yes tennis and swimming are very big, but there are really more people participating in golf in Australia than people realize, and the reason is obvious," he replied. "Tennis is fast, something our young people like in sports, but golf can allow a person to relax in his older years."

At 22, Bruce could hardly be considered as an "old" Australian golfer, but he started in the game in a unique way and decided to stick to it rather than tennis or swimming.

He began his golf career by hunting nest eggs in the fields near a course in Sydney, Australia.

Instead of an egg one day, he found a golf ball in a nest and from that day he decided that looking for stray balls in the creeks and the rough along the course was a better hobby.

Besides, it made him a few cents by selling the balls to golfers. With the money he made he decided one day to buy a hickory-shafted two iron, and at the age of 12 he entered a novice tournament.

He used only that one club for every stroke, and he played his first round in 129 strokes.

The pro at the Berkley Park course in Sydney, Bill McWilliams, then permitted Bruce to start caddying for him. He included lessons on fundamentals while on the course.

Later pro Norman Von Nida spotted Bruce and began giving him lessons. "McWilliams gave me the fundamentals and Von Nida the finer points," says Bruce.

At 17, he was the youngest golfer to represent his country in the matches with New Zealand and after winning the Australian Open in 1956 he was advised by Peter Thomson, of British Open fame, to come to this country.

"It cost me $1800 to come to the United States," says Crampton, "but in seven tourneys last year and seven so far this year, I've just managed to stay even with my expenses.

He finished 16th in the Masters. "This is just like hunting nest eggs," he said, "but I like it better in the form of prize money."

Our Jets Keep Perfect Record

Our Jets fought off a 7th inning rally by Griff's Grill Thursday at Wisner Field to remain unbeaten in the Class A City Baseball League. The Jets won, 6-4, for their 4th triumph.

The Jets built up a 6-1 working margin for pitcher John Bonser and he coasted along merrily until the bottom of the 7th when Griff's staged a three-run uprising to drive him from the mound.

Jim Coperonie came to the rescue and put out the fire by throwing a double play ball and fanning the final batter. Bonser got the victory.

The Jets furnished 11-hit support, two each by Ben Roberson, Gene Cox, Louie Seay and Joe Soto. Griff's made seven safeties with Glenn Funck getting two.

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — Rugged Tony Dupas of New Orleans outclassed Gordon Van Loo with a hammering attack Thursday night and stopped the Miami, Fla., middleweight in the seventh round of a scheduled 10-rounder. Dupas weighed 157, Van Loo 158.

Bunning Opens 4-Game Series

Tigers, White Sox in Twin Bill Today

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, down in the league standings, but ahead of the club's attendance figure at this time last year, meet the Chicago White Sox in a traditional Memorial Day double header today.

Manager Jack Tighe, hoping to stretch the Tigers' five-game winning streak nominated Jim Bunning (2-4) to oppose former Tiger Billy Pierce (2-4) in the opener. In the second game either Tom Morgan (0-3) or Hank Aguirre (1-0) was scheduled to face Dick Donovan (2-5).

For 20 home games this season, Detroit has drawn 279,258 cash customers despite a recent nine-game losing streak and a sixth-place rating. Last year at Memorial Day, Detroit had attracted 234,858 fans. Only in 1955 with a team that was five games above the .500 mark, did Detroit have a higher Memorial Day attendance standing. That year the Tigers drew 351,849 for their first 20 home games.

Today's doubleheader opens a four-game series with the fifth-place Sox. Single games are scheduled for Saturday and Sunday. Detroit then takes to the road again.

Although Detroit is 10 games back of the runaway New York Yankees, the Tigers trail second place Kansas City by only 2½ games. Detroit, a half-game behind Chicago could cover considerable ground by sweeping the series.

A sweep of the four games would boost the Tigers' winning streak to nine games and cancel out the recent disasterous losing streak of the same length.

The Tigers yesterday announced the signing of Owen McCarron, a senior centerfielder at Florida State University, to a Minor League contract.

Detroit scout George McDonald, of Lakeland, who signed McCarron in Talahassee, said the youth was given a "substantial bonus." McCarron will report to Detroit's Augusta, Ga., team in the Class A South Atlantic League.

McCarron's home is in Nutley, N. J.

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Valparaiso and Notre Dame, both carrying 1-1 records, meet here today in the third round of the NCAA District 4 double elimination baseball tournament.

The winner will meet undefeated Western Michigan in a second game. Should Western Michigan win the second game it will represent the district in the NCAA National Tournament at Omaha next month. If Western loses, the district final will be played here Saturday.

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Central Michigan defeated Hillsdale 9-3 and won the Michigan District N.A.I.A. baseball title last night.

There was some doubt whether Central Michigan would represent Michigan in the National N.A.I.A. tournament at Alpine, Texas, June 4, because the National tournament conflicted with examination dates at Central Michigan.

In a consolation game, Ferris Institute defeated Alma 9-3.

Indians Release Veteran Garcia Who Is Ailing

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians Thursday night released pitcher Mike Garcia, who will need surgery to repair a slipped disc in his back, and called up from San Diego 21-year-old Gary Bell, pitching sensation of the Pacific Coast League.

Bell has won six games and lost two by 1-0 and 2-0 decisions, finishing in six of nine games he started. He has struck out 60 in 76 innings and has a 1.02 earned-run average.

Dr. Spencer Braden recommended an operation for Garcia who has been hampered by back pains since spring training and pitched in only eight innings, posting one victory.

"The doctor says my chances of coming back are good with the operation," Garcia said. "I don't think my days in baseball are over."

65-and-Over Golf Plan OK

Now it's official!

If you're 65 years of age or older, you may play golf free of charge at the City Municipal course.

Beginning next Monday, the 65-and-over clan, upon proper identification, can tour the Municipal links without spending a penny.

A driver's license is one of the accepted methods for proving age and identification cards can be picked up at the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

The plan to permit 65-and-over golfers to play free has been given the stamp of approval by city manager Walter K. Willman and the city commission following a two-week survey conducted by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

The survey revealed that 11 persons 65 years old or above played golf at Municipal and the Parks and Recreation Department decided that no hardship would be worked on the budget for the taxpayer-supported course.

Following the survey, the Parks and Recreation Department presented the plan to the city and it was officially approved.

Three Drivers of Zink Cars Strong Picks

Elisian, Reece, Bryan Expected to Be Close Competitors

AP Wirephoto

THE FRONT ROW — These three cars were in the front row for the 500-mile race today at Indianapolis. On the pole is Dick Rathmann, driving the McNamara Special, 97; in the center is Ed Elisian, driving the John Zink Special, 5; and on the outside is Jimmy Reece, driving the Zink Special, 16.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Thirty-three auto race drivers from 13 states hurl a million dollars worth of glittering cars down the Indianapolis Motor Speedway's main straightaway today.

About four hours after the start of the 42nd 500-mile race, one of these veteran drivers will be a rich man. The trackside guess is that it will be either Jimmy Bryan or one of the three Zink Special teammates.

Prizes, totaling about $300,000, will not be announced until tomorrow night.

On a short haul, the favorite would be Ed Elisian, who turned in the first 148-mile-an-hour lap in a practice run, or Dick Rathmann, who set an official four-lap qualifying record of 145.974.

Elisian, anulking Oakland, Calif., veteran of Armenian ancestry, drives with the same furious disregard for his health as his close friend Bill Vukovich, who was killed in a four-car crash while leading the 1955 Memorial Day race.

Vukovich was the last fatality in the race proper. Keith Andrews killed in a practice run last year, was the 47th person fatally injured at the track.

Elisian is one of the three drivers for John Zink, Tulsa, Okla., oil man. The others, Jud Larson, Hickman Mills, Mo., and Jimmy Reece, Indianapolis, also have exceptionally fast cars. Reece and Elisian will start in the front row with Dick Rathmann whose abode shifts from Trenton, N. J., to Miami to Indianapolis.

Sentiment for Bryan, husky Phoenix driver with three national championships was increased by his assignment to the flat-engine Belond Special in which Sam Hanks won last year's race a record average of 135.601 miles an hour.

Major Races at Quarter Mark

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Memorial Day, the first quarter pole in the Major League pennant races, dawned with the San Francisco Giants needing no better than a split at St. Louis to retain the National League lead, and a chance for a wholesale shakeup in the American League scramble for second place.

The Giants, two games ahead of the world champion Milwaukee Brabes, picked Ruben Gomez (5-3) and Mike McCormick (4-0) for their doubleheader against Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell (2-5) and Jim Brosnan (4-4) of the seventh place Cardinals.

This was Ruben's first appearance since calling off his bluff about not paying a $100 fine for his part in a beanball fracas at Pittsburgh last Sunday. Rookie first baseman Orlando Cepeda of the Giants also decided to pay his $100 fine from the fuss, thereby saving National League president Warren Giles the trouble of suspending the pair.

The Braves, with righthander Bob Buhl left at home to nurse his sore shoulder, were at Pittsburgh with Lew Burdete (4-3) and Bob Rush (4-2) doing the pitching. The third place Pirates, five games behind the Giants, named Vern Law (5-3) and rookie Curt Daydon (0-1).

In the American League, first place New York took an unprecedented May 30 lead of 7½ games into a pair against last place Washington at Yankee Stadium. Bobby Shantz (4-0) and Whitey Ford (5-2), both southpaws, faced the Senator's Pete Ramos (2-4) and Russ Kemmerer (1-3).

The Yankees, facing their first "crisis" after losing to the Kansas City Athletics in a two-game series sweep, hustled first baseman Bill Skowron back into uniform. The Moose, out since May 11, when he injured his back in a doubleheader against Washington, will be available for pinch-hitting chores.

The A's riding a four-game streak, are at home for a morning-afternoon doubleheader against third place Cleveland. The Indians trail the A's by a game. They picked Dick Tomanek (1-1) and Ray Narleski (5-4) in a bid for second place against Kansas City's Ralph Terry (2-3) and comeback guy Ned Garver (6-1)

Full Entry for U. of D. Relays

Chiefs Oppose Detroiters

By H. GUY MOATS

Pontiac's state champion prep track team runs into a hotbed of competition Saturday in the University of Detroit invitational relays on the Titan field and it will be the first time since 1928 that a Pontiac high track aggregation has tangled with a Detroit outfit. There are 10 inside-Detroit squads among the entries, including Chadsey and Pershing, top teams of the city.

Birmingham's distance strength may make the Maples a big factor — and a possible winner. Kermit Ambrose also has power in the pole vault as well as in all relay events.

Chiefs, however, are still favored to grab the honors, with a full entry list. Pershing won the 1957 event with 22 points.

There was also a hope that PCH might get a chance to compete in Kalamazoo College's Tourney of Champions, for which an invitation has been received for the 3rd year. Chiefs were unable to make the previous trips. Meet is set for June 7.

Coach Dean Wilson's entries for the UD event, starting Saturday at 10 a.m. (field events) with finals in the afternoon, includes:

440 relay—Keller, Hawkins, Hill, Manning; shuttle-hurdle relay — Keller, Barge, Hawkins, Manning; medley relay—Munson (440), Turner and Ratcliff (220), Jefferson (880); mile relay — (each 440), Richards, Ratcliff, Beamer, Coats; 880 relay—(same as 440); shot put relay — Brown, Rusch, Carson; high jump relay — Carson, Barge, Brooks; broad jump relay—Keller, Hawkins, Beamer.

Seven area schools will compete in the big field. They include Waterford, Birmingham, Ferndale in Class A; Milford, Troy and Romeo in Class B.

Saddle Clubs Busy

Western Shows Planned

Saddle clubs of the Pontiac area are swinging into early show activities as the season's first holiday approaches.

Two western style shows were announced today.

Michigan Rangers Saddle clubbers hold their 12th annual all-day outdoor exhibition Sunday, June 1, at a site on Davisburg road, two miles west of Davisburg. Judged events and many interesting contests have been arranged.

On Sunday, June 15, Dixie Saddle club has its annual spring show. Location is at the Glenn N. Ellis farm, 9331 Dixie Highway, near Clarkston. The usual contests and judged events are also scheduled for this affair.

A new twist is given the Ranger exhibition, with division of the western pleasure class into two groups, with awards for horses valued at $250 and under in one, and for animals valued above $250 in the other.

Calf roping and steer riding are extra features. There will be 22 events for the program, over which Bob Brogeman of Davisburg will preside as ringmaster. F. (Razz) LaRose of South Lyon is the judge. For further information regarding show, or entries, contact Duke Brunson, FE 3-9249.

Eaglets Finish Fifth in Meet

Suburban Catholic League's final track and field fling for the 1958 season yesterday at University of Detroit field, left one area squad in fifth place, another seventh.

Detroit St. Joseph was winner, with 59 points, including six first places. DeLaSalle had 42½ as runnerup, and three teams were very close for the next spot.

Orchard Lake St. Mary's had a winner on Joe Waluk's shot put of 50 feet one inch, that hung up a meet record. Eaglets' total of 19 and 1-6 points was a fraction behind Notre Dame with 19¼ and Servite with 19 and 5-6. Other scores included Austin 12, St. Michael (Pontiac) 8, St. Paul 6 and ¾, Mt. Clemens St. Mary 1 and ¾ and Holy Redeemer ¾ point.

OLSM's points came on Waluk's toss, 3rds in broad jump, medley relay and 440, plus a 2-way tie in the high jump, 3-way vault tie. Shamrocks scored with Bill Flangan's 5ths in 100, and 220, Paul Pruente's 5th in the 880, 5th in medley and 880 relays.

Grid Cards Denied Use of NW Stadium

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Northwestern University turned thumbs down yesterday on a proposal that the Chicago Cardinals professional football team use Dyche Stadium.

The Cards are located in Comiskey Park, home of the Chicago White Sox, on the south side. Comiskey Park has a seating capacity of 48,500.

Dyche Stadium was built for football and has a seating capacity of 53,500.

The Cards claimed that by playing five home games in this suburb north of Chicago, the team's fans would be better served.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

There's a big, powerful young man living in Ferndale who could become Michigan's foremost amateur golfer in the not too distant future.

His name is C. E. Hendrickson, but the boys call him Chick because he prefers it that way. In fact, he practically refuses to tell you what the initial C means so there's nothing left to do but call him Chick.

C. E., Chick or what have you, the truth remains that the strong, muscular gentleman can play a solid game of golf and that's what counts in this column.

Now a member of Edgewood Country Club, Hendrickson is a 1951 graduate of Ohio State University where he starred for three years as a par-buster with the Buckeye varsity.

One of his teammates at Columbus was Tom Neiporte, today facing a promising career in the professional golf whirl. It was Nieporte who in 1951 defeated Sam Kocsis, then at the U. of D. for the NCAA title.

Hendrickson and Nieporte renewed their friendship this week at Red Run where both are competing in the Western Open tournament and the two played a practice round together on Wednesday morning.

Nieporte had the best of it in Thursday's opening round, shooting a 73 to Chick's 76.

Chick gained golfing honors of his own while at OSU, winning the Ohio collegiate crown twice in succession. The Ohio collegiate tourney is an annual event among colleges and universities of that state.

Hendrickson is a soft-spoken fellow, married and 30 years old. He stands 6-foot-2, weighs more than 200 pounds and swats them long off the tees.

He has an excellent swing and in this statement yours truly has the support of Mike Dietz, head pro at Indianwood. Dietz watched him fire last weekend when Indianwood was host to the Detroit Medal Play Championship and Mike had nothing but praise for his swing.

Chick hopes to enter the Michigan Open and state amateur this summer. Keep your eye on him. He could be terrific.

SHORT PUTTS

Frank Boynton, Sanlando, Fla., professional, gained the honor of shooting the first eagle in the Western Open at Red Run.

Boynton performed the feat in a hurry, carrying the 497-yard par five 1st hole in two shots and canning a six-foot putt. Not too many minutes later, Gay Brewer Jr. eagled the same hole.

With a wind at their backs for assistance, the pros and amateurs really found the 1st hole to their liking. In addition to the two eagles on this hole, a total of 52 birdies went on the scoreboard.

No Softball Sunday, Gals

There will be no women's City League softball games this Sunday night, league director Jim Jones has announced. The next women's games are scheduled Sunday night, June 8, when Commerce Drive-In meets Costello Excavating at 7 o'clock and the All-Stars play Michigan Bell at 8:30, both on the North Side Park diamond.

Titan among the earth's rodents is the South American capybara, which resembles a king-size guinea pig. An adult male may measure four feet in length and weigh more than 100 pounds. Despite its size, the capybara is a gentle creature with many enemies. It lives along streams and makes its getaway by swimming.

Detroit Police Seeking Man Who Robbed Nun

DETROIT (AP) — Police today sought a bandit who robbed a Catholic nun of $500 as she left a Detroit bank yesterday.

Sister M. Stanislaus of the Sacred Heart Church and School suffered a sprained left wrist when she was shoved to the ground while fighting for the money.

The bandit escaped the sister and four or five pursuing men by jumping over a fence.

The sister said she had gone to a branch of Detroit Bank & Trust Co. to change small bills received as school tuition money.

Conlin Plan, Fund Transfer Dollars Keep State Above Financial Abyss

By ROGER LANE

LANSING (AP)—Where is that financial abyss Gov. Williams said in January the state threatened to fall into about now?

It has been pretty well filled in with Conlin Plan dollars and money from fund transfers, says one financial expert.

But that doesn't mean the state isn't skirting financial shoals — which it is—and that serious money troubles don't lie ahead in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The situation was so summed up by James W. Miller, state controller.

At the first of the year, the governor foresaw a plunge 35 million dollars into bankruptcy by mid-May unless corrective measures were taken.

INTANGIBLES IDEA NIXED

Some were, in part those recommended by the governor.

However, the Legislature rejected the Williams demand for a 20 million dollar a year increase in the state tax on stocks, bonds and other intangible property.

Instead, the lawmakers — with the governor's reluctant approval —adopted the proposal of Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton) for liquidating state liquor inventory.

The plan called for deferred payment on state liquor purchases.

Miller said it appears to be working, and that the state because of it will have benefited by about 16 million dollars in its sensitive general fund as of June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

Another 10 million dollars worth of space in the anticipated abyss was filled, by agreement of lawmakers and Williams, through fund transfers.

OTHER HELPERS

Still other factors listed by Miller as helping to stave off the potential crisis were:

The governor's economy directive of last December.

Unexpectedly fat collections from the state intangibles tax partly owing to the scrap over the governor's proposal for raising rates, and attendant publicity, some 10,000 new payers of the tax filed returns.

The "austerity" state budget for 1958-59 voted by the Legislature.

As to the last point, Miller said agency heads felt "if you've got to cut down and eliminate say 35 positions next year, you might as well start now to cushion the effect."

"All these things have had a cumulative effect," he said.

"We have been able to stretch our cash without undue hardship except possibly to school districts which had to wait six weeks for the $28,500,000 state aid installment due March 15 and paid about May 1.

"Undoubtedly some school districts have suffered through having to go out and borrow to tide them over the period of postponement."

NOT SURE YET

Miller cautioned that the fiscal year isn't over yet, and it isn't time to celebrate. He said where the state general fund will come out on June 30 hasn't been figured out.

"And of course, we're going to have plenty of cash difficulties next year. Lots of highway billings will come due in July, August and September, and so will some big school aid payments and distributions of shared taxes to local governments," he said.

Meanwhile, revenues probably will continue at subnormal levels.

Estimates of the state's budgetary deficit for fiscal 1958-59 have run anywhere from 20 to 65 million dollars, varying with views on how soon a snapback from the recession can be expected.

He Patches Up Their Quarrels

All Factions in France Show Respect for Coty

By GARVEN HUDGINS

PARIS (AP) — In a country where politicians are fair game for each other, President Rene Coty stands out as a rare exception. No political party ever has attacked the 76-year-old statesman.

Deeply respected, not only by contending politicians in the French National Assembly but by the public as well, Coty has made a specialty over the past four, troubled years of patching up political quarrels.

Government spokesmen who see him every day say he uses a grandfather aproach to do it.

Whatever his aproach, Coty's quiet wisdom and close knowledge of French affairs have stood between the nation and political chaos more than once in his tenure of office.

This considerable influence has been brought to bear in an unprecedented direct appeal to Parliament on France's gravest postwar crisis. Underlining the respect in which he is held, deputies stood to hear his address.

Head of a family that includes two daughters, 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren, Coty comes by his grandfatherly approach naturally.

He has successfully kept members of his family out of the limelight. About the only one likely to be seen around Coty's official residence in the plush Elysee Palace at any hour is Hubert, the 2-year-old son of the president's granddaughter, Jeanine.

A lawyer and longtime member of the French Senate before he became president, Coty was born March 20, 1882, in Le Havre.

In Elysee Palace, Coty has retained a love for simple living. With his late wife, Mrs. Germaine Coty, he arranged a small apartment on the second floor of the mansion. Larger, gilded rooms were left unoccupied.

The sudden death in 1955 of Mrs. Coty, after a brain hemorrahage, left the president severely shaken. He now appears to have recovered but portraits of his wife hang in each of the five rooms in the second floor apartment.

A tall, solidly built man, Coty looks younger than he is. He speaks with a strong Normandy accent, discernible in his somewhat unsure English. His favorite exercise is walking, which he does as often as possible.

"It opens my mind and makes me relax," he says.

He has long looked forward to retirement in the channel port town of La Havre, where he was born and married. He has rented a house by the sea and goes there with his family on weekends.

The little Normandy retreat must seem more attractive than ever to him today.

Capone's Successor Sentenced to Prison

CHICAGO (AP) — Paul (The Water) Ricca, who took over as one of the leaders of the old Capone crime syndicate when Scarface Al went to prison, was convicted yesterday of evading nearly $100,000 in income taxes.

The 60-year-old ex-convict, who is facing possible deportation, may be sent to prison as long as 15 years and fined $30,000 on the income tax evasion verdict. A jury in U. S. District Court deliberated more than 16 hours before returning its verdict.

Ricca served four years in federal prison when he and other leading Chicago hoodlums were convicted in the million-dollar labor extortion of the Hollywood movie industry. He was paroled in 1947.

The government accused him of holding back some $99,000 in taxes in 1948, 1949 and 1950. The government said the money came from syndicate operations Ricca then controlled.

Unemployment Dips for Fifth Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment among workers insured for jobless benefits has declined for the fifth straight week.

A government report yesterday said a decline of 82,000 during the week of May 17 left an unemployed total of 3,019,500 for this category.

Other reports showed:

1. Americans paid off their installment loans faster than they obligated themselves for new ones during April. With allowances for seasonal factors, consumer installment credit outstanding declined 123 million dollars, most of it in automobile loans.

2. Department store sales were up 3 per cent last week over the comparable week of 1957, with higher sales reported in 9 of the 12 federal reserve districts. But the total for the year to date was 3 per cent below that for the corresponding period last year.

Admits He Erred in Trial of Hoffa

NEW YORK (AP)—A government witness says some of the information he gave a grand jury in the wiretap conspiracy case of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa was erroneous.

Bernard Chamine, a Brooklyn teacher, also admitted yesterday he conferred with defense attorneys about the grand jury testimony before the current retrial of Hoffa started.

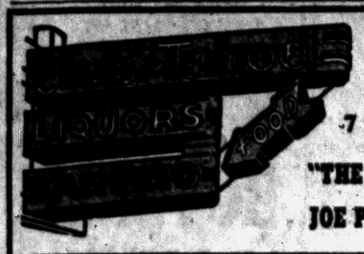

"I am confused and I was confused before the grand jury," Chamine said. "When I went before the grand jury I was given to understand that the questions I was asked were based on a hypothetical plan. I never actually worked on such a plan."

Hoffa is being retried with co-defendants Bernard B. Spindel, a professional wiretapper, and Owen B. Brennan, president of Detroit Teamsters Local 337. Their first trial ended in a hung jury last December.

Pat Boone to Graduate With Scholastic Honors

NEW YORK (UPI)—Singer Pat Boone will be graduated from Columbia University next Tuesday with high scholastic honors, the university disclosed yesterday.

A spokesman said the singer will be graduated magna cum laude—the second highest honor attainable — from the school of general studies.

Boone, who had a four-year "A" average, ranked in the upper five per cent of his class, the spokesman said.

One Studied Home Rule for D. C. — in Paris

Why Do Legislators Flit Abroad?

WASHINGTON (AP) — What kind of business takes U.S. congressmen flitting overseas?

Well, the chairman of one House committee stopped off in Paris last year to study home rule for the District of Columbia.

The Committee on Veterans Affairs likewise found matters in Europe needing attention after Congress quit last year.

And the Education and Labor Committee looked into things around the world from Lebanon to Hong Kong.

This turned up in figures released today showing House members spent nearly three times as much U.S.-owned foreign currency during the last half of 1957 as they did the previous year.

The total foreign money spending on what the congressmen themselves often call their junkets came to $312,247.15 from last July to December. For the fiscal year ending last June 30 the total was $122,062.06.

The official figures keep as tightly secret as possible any clue as to how much any individual congressman spent abroad. But they do provide for a sumup by committees.

Thus it was natural to ask Rep. John L. McMillan (D - SC) why the District of Columbia Committee he heads was down for 150,000 French francs worth $357.14.

McMillan, a staunch foe of proposals to give self-government to the District of Columbia, said he wanted to check and see how other nations' capitals were faring.

So he did check Paris and the lord mayor of Dublin, McMillan said. A committee clerk has visited some Latin-American capitals.

A spokesman said the Veterans Committee had legislation pending which would cut off pensions to veterans overseas who aren't American citizens. That was the explanation for using 712,500 Italian lira and 180,000 French francs worth $1,568.58 American.

The Government Operations Committee was the single biggest spender of the U.S. - owned currency, known as counterpart funds, during the six months. Its total came to $62,887.98.

Next was the Judiciary Committee with $45,190.72.

The Foreign Affairs Committee, the group with the most ready explanation for its foreign spending, came third with $44,141.15 in the largest variety of currencies—31.

Tex Beneke and his orchestra will play for dancing at Walled Lake Casino Ballroom on Saturday, May 31.

INS, UP Merger Legal, U.S. Says

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Justice Department has decided the merger of the United Press and the International News Service does not violate the antitrust laws.

Announcing this yesterday, the department said it plans no action against the merger at the present time.

UP's acquisition of INS, announced last Saturday, set off a four-day investigation by the Justice Department's Antitrust Division. Some congressmen urged that the government seek an injunction to halt the merger of the two news services.

Charge Bomber Buzzed Plane

Pilot of United Airlines, 15 Passengers Say Close Shave Deliberate

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Administration today had a report by a United Airlines pilot and 15 of his 57 passengers charging that an Air Force B47 jet bomber "deliberate-buzzed" their DC7 near Salina, Kan.

One of the passengers, Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland of California, dozed during the incident yesterday. He commented after landing here "such things aren't pleasant. I'm glad it was a near miss."

Col. Gordon E. Hein, commanding officer of Schilling Air Force Base of the Strategic Air Command, which is near Salina, said his base had no planes aloft at the time the airliner was reported passing.

Earlier, given an apparently erroneous time, Hein had said several Schilling planes were aloft in the area.

He said Salina is on a transcontinental air route also used by military planes flying coast to coast.

United pilot W. K. Wolfe estimated the four-engine B47 flashed only 500 to 1,000 feet in front of his airliner. He said it came from the left and flew directly across his route, so fast that he had no time to take evasive action. The planes were at 20,000 feet.

The airliner carried a crew of five besides the 57 passengers. It made one stop, at Washington, on its flight from Philadelphia.

Congress Considers Increasing SS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A congressional drive to boost monthly benefits for the 11 million Americans on the Social Security rolls may be started soon, informed sources said today.

Any increase in Social Security benefits would almost certainly be accompanied by a boost in the payroll taxes on employers and employes covered by the program.

There is strong sentiment in Congress in favor of liberalizing benefits for the older folks before the lawmakers go home to campaign for re-election.

The Democrat-controlled House Ways and Means committee — where the legislation must originate—will schedule public hearings soon on proposals to liberalize Social Security benefits.

Democratic leaders have not definitely decided whether to push liberalizing legislation through Congress before adjournment.

But informed sources said there was a good chance the leadership would support legislation to provide for increased benefits for the needy on public assistance rolls, as well as those on Social Security rolls.

Auto Output Down Because of Holiday

DETROIT (AP)—Passenger car assemblies this week will number 66,285 units against last week's 86,859, Automotive News states. In the comparable 1957 week, 82,391 cars were built.

This week's decline results from the Memorial Day closing or nearly all assembly plants across the nation and inventory-adjusting schedules in numerous factories.

Automotive News places this week's truck output at 15,570 units against 17,903 last week and 17,430 in the corresponding week last year. The trade paper says car production for May will total 349,035 units. April assemblies numbered 316,503 cars.

Canadian factories will build 10,215 cars and trucks this week, the paper said. Last week they produced 8,319 vehicles. Dominion factories built 10,917 cars and trucks in the week ended June 1 last year.

The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the school district. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than their par value, will be considered.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $17,000 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the school district must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bids be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Chicago Police Search for Missing Teen Girl

CHICAGO (UPI) — A city-wide search was conducted today for a teenage girl who disappeared under circumstances paralleling those of the Judith Mae Andersen case last year.

Police said the missing girl, Rita Blaband, 16, was reported last seen shortly before midnight. A girl friend said Rita had visited with her for several hours, but boarded a bus about midnight.

The Andersen girl, 15, disappeared under the same conditions last August. Her body was found several days later floating in two oil drums in Lake Michigan.

Rita's father, Police Capt. John Blaband, said his daughter and Diane Parifky, also 16, had taken a holiday in Cedar Lake, Indiana, yesterday.

When Rita failed to return after midnight, Blaland telephoned Diane who told him she had accompanied his daughter to a bus stop. She has not been seen since.

Authorities pointed out that both Rita and Judith Mae Andersen were wearing the same type clothes. Rita was wearing a white blouse, a jacket, and white-striped black pedal pushers. She is about 5 feet 6 inches, and weighs about 135 pounds.

Sputnik Incites Row in British Television

LONDON — Even before Sputnik I had crashed to earth it had blown up a row in Britain's Commercial Television — a row between the TV officials and playwright Michael Pertwee.

Pertwee wrote a space play, Man in a Moon, when the first satellite was launched, but trouble arose over Pertwee's theme: A murderer is given a chance to die a hero's death by being sent up in a satellite.

TV chiefs decided it was in bad taste and asked Pertwee to rewrite it. He refused: "They may know more about what is good taste, but I know more about what is a good play," he said. "I disassociated myself completely from the production."

Destroyer Hits Sub; None Reported Hurt

HONOLULU (AP) — The submarine Stickelback sank last night off Oahu Island 5½ hours after being rammed by the destroyer escort Silverstein during antisubmarine exercises. No one was injured.

The Stickelback was submerged when the collision occurred but immediately surfaced and tied up alongside the Silverstein while her crew of 74 men and eight officeers escaped, the Navy said.

Despite intensive salvage efforts the submarine flooded and sank in 1,500 fathoms 19 miles southwest of the channel entrance to Pearl Harbor.

The Silverstein reported a damaged bow but said she did not need assistance.

A Navy crash boat returned 38 of the Stickelback's crew to Pearl Harbor. Lt. Cmdr. Q. R. Schulz, the sub's skipper, and the other 43 headed back aboard the submarine rescue vessel Greenlet.

A board of investigation will be ordered to determine the cause of the collision, the Navy said.

Cairo Mailman Admits He Reads Love Letters

Russians Design New Ship Lifts

KRASNOYARSK, USSR — To improve on the locks system for raising and lowering vessels to different levels, Russian engineers are reported to have developed two huge lifts. One of these, to be built at the new Krasnoyarsk dam on the Yeniseu in eastern Russia, will handle loads of up to 12,000 tons.

A huge metal chamber (containing water) suspended by some 400 cables inside a concrete tower 500 feet high, will raise or lower a ship up to 350 feet. In another lift near Irkutsk, locomotives will haul ships up or down a mile-long incline at 120-feet a minute.

Walled Lake Justice Probed

Ziem Studies Practices

WALLED LAKE — Bookkeeping practices of Walled Lake Justice of the Peace Herman A. Roth yesterday came under the scrutiny of Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Ziem said he had to borrow a three-page report from Michigan Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski from an area newspaper to learn of the official's request that he look into the practices of Roth.

The report asks Ziem "to take appropriate action to assure the proper deposit of all acknowledged collections" of Roth.

The prosecutor said he would confer first with Walled Lake Mayor William G. Nixon and then with Roth, 45-year-old attorney and justice since April of 1956.

Szymanski's request, dated May 21, said Roth kept "large amounts of cash at home." It also said he failed to report any deposit collections as required by law and to issue pre-numbered receipts for all collections.

"I have absolutely nothing to hide and I will be glad to talk with Mr. Ziem," Roth said.

Bills Stolen From Washington Home

$10,000 Theft Probed

WASHINGTON — Shelby Township Police today are investigating the theft of $10,000 from the home of a Washington nursery operator while he and his wife were away on a shopping trip.

The money, made up of $100, $50 and $20 bills, was stolen from Adam Mandel, of 13061 24-Mile Rd. He told police he had placed the cash and checks in a drawer in a buffet on the second floor, planning to bank it yesterday.

The money represented receipts from his business, the Mandel Greenhouse at the same address.

Township Police found a set of footprints to and from the home, but no evidence that forcible entry had been made. They called the Romeo State Police post to investigate for possible fingerprints on the checks which the thief left behind.

Scattering sunshine all along the way.
You know how we loved you, yes, love you yet.
Though God took you from us, we can never forget.
Where sweet flowers are ever blooming and banks are ever green;
The flowers we place upon your grave
May wither and decay,
But love for you who sleeps beneath, will never fade away.
Time speeds on, six years have passed
Since death its gloom, its shadow cast
Within our home where all seemed bright,
And took from us a shining light.
We miss that light and ever will.
Her vacant place there is none to fill.
Down here we mourn, but not in vain,
For up in heaven, we will meet again.

This is the day for the launching of the gigantic Douglas jet passenger airliner, a craft that can carry up to 176 passengers and cross the nation in just 4½ hours.

The company rates its top speed at 600 miles an hour.

The company said it had poured 250 million dollars of private capital into development of the jetliner, the Douglas DC8.

For years the Douglas company had been making preliminary studies for a jet passenger airliner.

Just three years ago Donald W. Douglas, board chairman, issued the directive that converted the ideas into the beginning of a firm project.

Today the company has orders for 138 from 17 commercial airlines, ranging from 40 for United Airlines to one for Trans Caribbean Airways. Douglas said the 138 jetliners will have a value of some 700 million dollars.

The DC8 is the first big jetliner to emerge from the Southern California aircraft plants and the second such craft to be developed in the nation. The other is the Boeing 707, already being flown. The Douglas and Boeing planes are "pure" jets without propellers.

The company said delivery of the DC8s to airlines is scheduled to begin the middle of next year and passenger service over United States routes will start before the end of 1959.

4-Cent Stamp Output Ordered Increased

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has given the go-ahead for a step-up in production of higher-priced stamps which Americans must stick on their letters beginning Aug. 1.

He said the output of the lavender 4-cent stamp bearing the likeness of Abraham Lincoln will be increased to meet the anticipated heavy demand when the new higher postal rates go into effect.

It will replace the bluish-purple 3 cent stamp with the picture of the Statue of Liberty.

Under the new postal rates, the cost of mailing a first class letter will go up from 3 to 4 cents. Airmail rates will increase from 6 to 7 cents.

Summerfield said a new 7-cent airmail stamp has been designed but declined to disclose any details.

Los Mayas, Aztecas in Feature Contest

Latin-American Baseball League offers a real feature for its Sunday afternoon home-town contest on Columbia-Joslyn field. Mayas and Aztecas, Pontiac's two entries in the interesting circuit, are long-time rivals and Sunday's battle promises to be one of the season's best.

Last weekend's results: Los Mayas 21, Mt. Clemens Latins 1 (Dick Goldsworthy gave up only two hits); Flint Pirates 13, Capac Tigers 3; Pontiac Aztecas 20, Port Huron Braves 4 (worst licking for Braves in three years).

Aztecas, Flint and Port Huron share the league lead with 3-1 records.

Potato Must Be Irish

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Louis John Velitjolos, a Richmond restaurant owner, found one potato he wouldn't use for French fries. The two-pound spud looked so much like a man that he put it on a shelf for patrons to see. It started to turn green on St. Patrick's day and Velitjolos said no doubt it was an Irish potato.

Memo to Grads: Salaries Better but Jobs Scarce

EAST LANSING (UPI)—The 1958 college graduate has to be more aggressive than those in past years if he wants a job—but he will find starting salaries slightly higher.

This report on employment trends was supplied by John R. Kinney, director of Michigan State University's Placement Bureau.

"Job openings may be slow the rest of 1958 and possibly into 1959, from what employers tell us," Kinney said, "although some of them expect a pickup in the last quarter of 1958."

Kinney warned a college degree alone will not guarantee a good job. He said graduates will have to show "makings of a dependable, ambitious worker."

However, he said starting salaries will be up in spite of the recession because of "greater competition for the better student."

Why MSU Offers Aid

EAST LANSING — Michigan State University Scholarship Director Robert J. Stewart on the university's offer of a scholarship to Ernest Green, first Negro graduate of Little Rock's Central High School, said: "We have a good program for international studies—what we understand he's interested in—and he's a good student and fine boy."

Planes Hidden Easily

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. — Gen. O. P. Weyland telling of the value of a new jet fighter that rockets directly into the air without need of a runway for a takeoff, explained: "Individual aircraft can be concealed or camouflaged now relatively easily . . . No more than one could be damaged or destroyed by a single bomb or missile even if located."

MURROW-EYE VIEW — Here's how Edward R. Murrow sees his "Person to Person" co-producers, John Aaron (left) and John Zousmer. They are going over program notes while Murrow (back to camera) holds his ever-present cigarette. "Person to Person" is televised by CBS Fridays at 10:30 p.m.

Must Be Hidden on TV Subjects

And Some Celebrities Don't Wear Clothes of Correct Type

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA)—You might not give a second thought to a man with a bowtie and no underwear. But if you were John Aaron or John Zousmer, such an individual would cause you to throw up your hands in horror.

They are the co-producers of Edward R. Murrow's "Person to Person," over CBS-TV.

As such, one of their jobs is to oversee the proper placement of the portable mikes Murrow's subjects wear. (Without these gadgets, which are attached to the person of the guest, there could be no show.)

Generally, male guests have the mike affixed behind their tie. If no tie, they're stuck under the shirt and firmly attached to the undershirt. If no tie and no undershirt—well, that was the problem when Murrow interviewed Garry Moore.

After experimenting with several unsuccessful methods, there remained two choices: Either pin it directly to Moore's chest, or persuade him to wear a tie. He wore a tie.

DELICATE PROBLEMS

When it comes to placing the portable mike on a female guest, other and more delicate problems appear. The actual, physical work of attaching the mike to the person generally falls to the chief engineer with the remote crew at the site of the telecast.

When the guest is to be a particularly lovely girl, the engineer generally spends the preceding week licking his technical chops.

He may, for example, be confronted with the pleasant prospect of having to place a microphone on the person of Kim Novak or Marilyn Monroe or Gina Lollobrigida.

"But," says Zousmer, "although he's been bragging all week long about what a time he's going to have, when the moment actually comes he's all thumbs. He's too embarrassed to do it."

Problems of women who do not wear bras—such as they encountered with Miss Novak—are a little ticklish.

THE IDEAL SPOT

The bra seems to be the ideal spot for placing a microphone, for what it's worth. Without that, some substitute must be arranged, but Aaron and Zousmer refused to divulge such technical secrets.

The two men, both graduates of CBS News Department, split the duties right down the middle. Each handles one of the two subjects on each show, from the initial contact through the final cleanup after the telecast.

And, comparing notes, they find that the one biggest problem shared by most of Murrow's guests is what to call Murrow.

"Along about 10:25 every Friday night," says Aaron, "the guest will get me over in the corner and say, 'Look, when Murrow says good evening, Joe, should I say good evening, Ed, or good evening, Mr. Murrow?'"

This is generally resolved by advising the guest to say whatever he's the most comfortable saying.

There has been much criticism of Person to Person as an innocuous, wishy-washy kind of show, more concerned with a subject's philodendron than his philsophy. Aaron and Zousmer say the show deliberately shies away from the controversial for two reasons.

"First," Zousmer says, "the main point of the show—the reason why it's successful and attracts more women than any other show—is to exhibit the homes of celebrities.

"Secondly, Murrow looks on the format of the show as though he were actually a guest in the house, as though he were there physically. If the guest brings up a touchy subject, or makes a statement which Murrow would ordinarily challenge if they were talking someplace else, on this show he'll deliberately change the subject.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

Goodman fans will be glad to know that his swinging contribution to the World's Fair in Brussels will be no further away than the nearest turntable. Benny is climaxing a tour of the European continent this week with concerts at the big bust in Brussels. Goodman's concerts—the first live presentation in the American Performing Arts Program—will be recorded by Columbia for release later this year.

Other late entries worth note are "Four On An Isle" (Columbia CL-1111) by The Four Lads; "Portraits" (Columbia CL-1108) instrumentals by Frank DeVol & Orch.; "This is June Christy" (Capitol T-1006) by misty Miss Christy with the fine arrangements and conducting of Pete Rugolo behind her.

Freshman fans will eat up "The Four Freshmen In Person" (Capitol T-1008) . . . especially for those who have seen them in person. This was recorded at a west coast college show and isn't as acoustically perfect as a studio performance but much looser and atmospheric.

THE JAZZ NEST: A few suggestions today—both on a modern-progressive kick. Try "Art Blakey's Jazz Messengers With Thelonious Monk" (Atlantic-1278) and "Trav'lin' Light" (Atlantic-1282) by The Jimmy Giuffre 3. Both good modern jazz LP's.

FIVE ACES: A close one, but "Do You Want To Dance" by Bobby Freeman is tops in sales this week. Second, by a nose, is "Purple People Eaters" by Sheb Wooley.

The not-so-fortunates of the fortunate five are "Jenny Lee" by Jan & Arnie; "Endless Sleep" by Jody Reynolds (edging its way into fourth); and "Dream" by the Everly Brothers (which looks to be falling out of sight in a rapid descent.

Quiet-Living Widower Leaves $450,000 in Will

BELMONT, Mass. (AP) — For many years William F. Plumb, 72, a widower without children, lived modestly in a furnished room.

He had neither a television nor a radio set.

Plumb's will filed for probate yesterday disclosed he had amassed a $450,000 estate, all of which he left to the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children in Springfield.

Plumb, who died last April 6, had studied the stock market and property values so successfully he left $300,000 in real estate holdings and $150,000 in securities.

Trail of Fowl Feathers Cooks Youths' Goose

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP)—Police arrested two youths here yesterday and charged them with trying to feather their nests with loot from a chicken market.

Detectives said Wilbert Hinton, 19, and Richard E. Carroll, 21, ran a-fowl of the law after they broke into the Washington Poultry Co. and flew the coop with five live chickens, some eggs and $1.50.

But a trail of chicken feathers left by the pair eventually cooked their goose.

Police found the feathers and followed them. The rest, they said, was duck soup.
