

'90 Pct. of Cuba Anti-Castro'

NEW YORK (AP) — A Turkish newspaperman just back from Havana says at least 90 per cent of the Cuban people "and probably more—are against the Communists and against Castro, too."

Gökşin Sipahioğlu, a free-lance reporter from Istanbul, said in an interview that there are resistance organizations, but the organizations cannot get together. The newsman was in Cuba from mid-October until early December. He said Cubans told him: The peasants, who were major supporters of Fidel Castro's revolution, angrily but passively are resisting the Communists.

The peasants are angry because Castro collectivized the farm lands instead of distributing them among the peasants, as he promised.

Probably 9,000 peasants have been jailed for refusing to work in the fields. They refused because, even if paid, there was nothing to buy.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

The skimpy food ration list for one person includes five eggs a month, three-fourths of a pound of a meat a month, one banana a week, oranges only for the sick, a pound of potatoes a week and six pounds of rice per month.

On the virtually nonexistent list are cheese, milk, bacon, many kinds of vegetables, soap, wools and linens. Medicines are in very short supply.

Sipahioğlu said he was told the Russians have two major camps in Cuba, one near Holguin in Oriente Province, and one in central Cuba near Ciego de Avila. Cubans are barred from the areas.

Castro rarely is seen in public. He spends most of his time at Havana University, arguing with the students who have been among the chief supporters of his regime. He denounces Soviet Premier Khrushchev violently.

The students are reported highly critical of the revolutionary government.

The newsman said he believes Castro is supported now only by those working for the regime, young men who like to carry guns and people who were misfits before the revolution.

Kennedy to Review His 2 Years in Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy reviews his first two years in the White House tonight in an unusual hour-long television interview.

The program, called "After Two Years—A Conversation with the President," will be carried by the Columbia Broadcasting System and American Broadcasting Co. television networks at 6:30 p.m. EST and the National Broadcasting Co. television network at 8:30 p.m.

After attending church Sunday morning, he sat down with television newsmen Sander Vanocur of NBC, William H. Lawrence of ABC and George Herman of CBS to tape the interview.

New Products on Your List?

Did you ever see a doll pat-a-cake?

Well, there's one in a downtown Pontiac store. This cuddly little bit of the softest material you ever touched, swings her hands up and brings them together like magic.

You just push her tummy in a little bit and the dolls seems to come to life.

If mom likes to get practical household gifts there are many brand-new appliances this year.

For instance, there's a new automatic egg poacher that also cooks the eggs soft, medium or hard, according to the amount of water that is used. It has a capacity for 7 eggs at a time.

A new party girl that looks like a waffle iron, presses a n' toasts slices of bread into fancy appetizer bases. A portable electric ice crusher is new. One company has come out with a completely new type knife sharpener.

For the first time, there is a new grill for the top of the stove that looks exactly like creamy pottery. It is made of the same material that was perfected for nose cones in rockets, and can be taken from a red hot stove and dipped in ice water without damage.

It's available in dishes, casseroles and another new item—an automatic coffee pot.

There's a tiny ladies rechargeable flashlight that has a clip. This is a perfect gift for a nurse, teacher or even a housewife.

A cute lollipop box "for good little boys and girls" that looks like an old-fashioned salt box, can be hung on a kitchen wall.

Alcatraz Break by 2 Inmates Ends in Capture

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —

Two bank robbers saved their way out of Alcatraz the foreboding island prison in San Francisco Bay, Sunday night but were retaken alive after losing a battle with the icy water.

One swim only about 100 yards before quitting. The other made three miles with the help of homemade water wings and became the first escaper known to reach the mainland after breaking from the maximum security institution.

John Paul Scott, 35, from Leitchfield, Ky., made it to shore but the swim proved too much for him. When spotted by two children on a rocky shore he appeared to be dead.

Doctors at the Army's nearby Letterman General Hospital, where Scott was taken, said his body temperature was down to 94 degrees. Waters in the bay average 54 degrees.

Bank robber-kidnaper Darl Dee Parker 31, of Canton, Ohio, quit sooner because of the cold waters. He made a dash of about 100 yards to a pointed rock off Alcatraz, western end.

Parker just sat waiting on what is known as "Little Alcatraz" as a searching prison boat spotted him.

Both men were returned to Alcatraz.

Warden Olin Blackwell said the two men worked in the prison kitchen and "somehow cut their way out through a window in the kitchen basement."

They were missed at 5:17 p.m. at a regular shopping. Parker was retrieved at 6:10 p.m. Scott was spotted at 8:30 and picked up by military police since he came ashore on the Army's Presidio, just inside the Golden Gate.

Fog blanketed the bay, aiding Scott in his dash through a Coast Guard picket line. He wore only trunks.

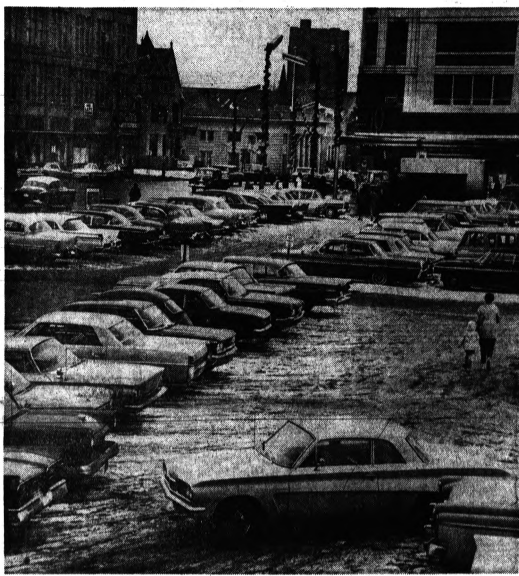

It was the second breakout from Alcatraz this year. On June 12 John and Clarence Anglin and Frank Morris, three Southern bank robbers, broke out after long preparation. They are presumed drowned.

The aborted break by Scott and Parker was one of two that occurred—and failed—in the Far West Sunday. At Salt Lake City, Utah, five convicts were discovered as they were saving a last set of bars between them and a prison's yard.

JUMPING THE GUN — The old county courthouse site in downtown Pontiac was full of shoppers' cars this morning before Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem lifted an injunction preventing merchants from using the lot for free parking. The lot also was full Saturday.

Judge Ziem Lifts Injunction on Lease of Site for Parking

Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem today cleared the way for use of the old County Courthouse site for free parking during the Christmas shopping season.

He lifted a temporary injunction that had prevented leasing of the property for that purpose.

Judge Ziem said he removed his Dec. 5 injunction because he had ordered a trial on the dispute to be held within 30 days and "no substantial harm would be done to anyone" until then.

John Austin, chairman of the County Board of Auditors, said today that the county was prepared to put into effect immediately its lease with the Downtown Pontiac Business Association (DPBA).

The injunction, granted to Outdoor Parking Co. of Pontiac, had stopped the county from putting the lease — at $1 for a six-month period — into effect.

It also prevented the DPBA from talking over the property for a free parking lot.

Lifting of the injunction gave merchants primarily what they wanted — free parking during the Christmas season.

'SOONERS' Shoppers in downtown Pontiac, however, had jumped the gun on the judge's ruling. Some 40 of them had parked their cars on the site this morning before Judge Ziem's 11 a. m. action.

The lot was full of cars all day Saturday as well, according to Pontiac Police Lt. Clayton A. Randolph, head of the recently organized traffic bureau.

Li Randolph said police could take no action against motorists who parked there until a complaint was received from the property's owner — the county.

He said no complaint had been received.

The injunction did not specifically prohibit parking on the site, but only held up the lease.

Outdoor Parking Co., owned by Sam L. Stolorow of 422 Shore View Drive, brought the suit on the grounds that the lot would not benefit the general public, but only a few private businesses.

Feels Trouble Over Skybolt Will Be Solved

To Reassess Position of East, West in Regard to Cuban Crisis

He expressed confidence that "we will find a way through our difficulties" over the Skybolt missile.

"At this moment after Cuba," Macmillan told newsmen, "we have to try to make a reassessment of the position between East and West."

"Can the position be turned to our advantage? Is there a chance of getting ahead with some of these questions—nuclear tests, disarmament and other matters?"

"As for Skybolt," his prepared statement said, "I have no doubt we shall find a way through our difficulties."

Macmillan said that in spite of difficulties, he and Kennedy intend to meet "in the spirit of our last meeting."

SKYBOLT MAJOR ISSUE

Skybolt has loomed as a major issue between the two Allies because Kennedy's government may cancel the missile the British count on to keep them a nuclear power.

Of the situation between East and West, Macmillan said:

"If there is to be a period of pause, of thaw, we must not misuse it."

He said the troubles in Asia, particularly between Red China and India, have raised a whole new set of problems.

"Our chief purpose is to talk over what has happened since our last meeting," Macmillan said.

Film Immortal Dies of Cancer

By JAMES BACON

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — A giant of the movies, Charles Laughton, who rambled through memorable films like a rambunctious elephant, is dead of cancer at 63.

Laughton died Saturday night at his home of cancer of the spine, a few weeks after ending a four-month hospital stay.

When the British-born actor left Cedars of Lebanon on Nov. 30, a friend confided:

"Charles knows he is going to die, but he's going to live, he's going to die in his own bed."

With him that he died were actress Elsa Lanchester, his one and only wife, and his younger brother Frank, retired from the family hotel business.

Mrs. Laughton, who married the actor in 1929 and became an American citizen with him in 1950, took the death very hard, Laughton's brother said.

"She has been with him every day through it all for almost a year," said the brother.

Pontiac Poll Reveals Enthusiasm

Businessmen Optimistic on '63

By JIM LONG

Business is good and it will get even better.

In that one encouraging sentence are the collective views of nearly a score of Pontiac businessmen polled by The Pontiac Press to learn what is in store economically for the area in 1963.

Without exception, all believe that the over-all financial climate of Pontiac will improve during the next 12 months.

Their optimism is based on the very tangible business success of this year.

One prominent businessman and community leader went a step further and predicted that the next three years will be good for business.

Monroe W. Osmon, general manager of Osmon's men's wear stores and president of the Downtown Pontiac Business Association said, "We can look forward to a better year than 1962, and business has been excellent this year."

'GOOD 'TIL 1965' "In fact we can expect extremely favorable business conditions through 1965," Osmon said.

Another man in a position to view the general business activity of the community is Max Adams, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

"From our standpoint the economic picture for this area seems to be excellent," said Adams. "No soft spots in selling activity are foreseen."

Adams said that it is expected the surge for consumer goods will continue through the first of the year and "merchants have reported a better holiday buying start than last year."

It was the consensus of those questioned that continuing high automobile production and sales, particularly at Pontiac Motor Division are major factors for their optimistic outlook.

"THEY FOLLOW" "With high employment in the auto industry, business will continue to be good," said one businessman. "They follow one another."

Believe Fidel to Free 1,200

WASHINGTON (AP) — Loan of a ship to the Red Cross and reports of activity in the Baltimore port have stirred speculation that negotiations for release of 1,200 Cuban prisoners may be nearing a climax.

The speculation was heightened by these developments Sunday: The Red Cross said the African Pilot had been made available to it for use, if necessary, to ship medicines and supplies to Cuba as barter for the captives.

The Baltimore Sun said the African Pilot was raising steam and had signed most of her crew for a sailing time of noon today for Port Everglades, Fla., to pick up the cargo.

The wife of James D. Donovan, New York lawyer who has been negotiating with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro for the prisoners' release said Sunday night he had left New York, possibly for Washington.

The prisoners were captured in the ill-starred attempt to invade Cuba at the Bay of Pigs in April 1961. Donovan has been negotiating with Castro since August and at one point reportedly was close to an agreement: the prisoners in exchange for medicine and other nonmilitary items in short supply on the Communist island.

Castro had asked a ransom of $65 million.

Roy Johnson of the American Red Cross said the African Pilot has been loaned by the Farrell Lines. But he said he had no information about the prisoner negotiations.

5 From State Killed in Crash

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI) — A small private plane crashed shortly of the east-west runway at the International Airport last night, killing five Detroit, Mich., area persons aboard.

The dead were the pilot, Cecil Burgess, 37, his wife Lola, 38, their daughter, Mary Ann, 14, her cousin, Brenda Burgess, 16, all of Detroit, and Mrs. Jacqueline Ruth James, 30, of Livonia, Mich.

The party of five left Metropolitan Airport outside Detroit about 9 a.m. yesterday. They were flying to Key West and then were going to Summerland Key, a small island 23 miles east of Key West.

The Burgess was building a home on the key. Mrs. James' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baragel, live there and she was going to visit them.

"I had never even met the Burgess until yesterday," Howard E. James, city engineer of Ferndale, Mich., and husband of one of the victims said today.

Dem State Chairman Gets Special Assistant

LANSING (AP) — Richard Miller has been named special assistant to the Democratic state chairman. Miller, 31, has been a legislative secretary to Gov. Swainson.

His assignment will be in the area of program research, development and liaison between the Democratic party, the administrative board and the legislature.

Symington Worried Skybolt Stirs Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration was threatened today with the possibility of congressional retaliation if it scraps the Skybolt missile.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said yesterday that unless arguments for canceling the Skybolt program were truly convincing "this would affect many other programs that the administration might like to see go through Congress."

Symington obviously did not think the administration could justify killing Skybolt.

He said that if the Skybolt was discarded he could not see "a future for the Air Force."

He noted that the Russians have developed antiracraft missiles that are able to shoot down bombers before they reach their targets.

AIR TO GROUND
The Skybolt is an air-to-ground missile. It is fired from a plane, as far as 1,000 miles from target.

The warning by Symington, one of Congress' most influential military specialists, added a second front to the Skybolt controversy.

British officials have reacted sharply to reports that the United States will abandon the missile which is being developed jointly by both countries.

Former Prime Minister Anthony Eden was the latest to object to the possible junking of the missile.

VERY COSTLY
President Kennedy has described the Skybolt, which is fired from a plane at targets 1,000 miles away, as a very "expensive" missile whose development may require $2.5 billion in addition to the half billion already spent by his country.

Without the Skybolt or a substitute, Britain would have no modern independent nuclear deterrent of its own.

The official U.S. position on Skybolt is that no decision has yet been reached on its future. U.S. military experts contend the program has been costly and has not yet produced worthwhile results.

He said in London yesterday the United States should give development of Skybolt priority over landing a man on the moon.

best sales records in his history, agree wholeheartedly.

"The new year looks very bright," said Henry Gotham, manager of the Pontiac Retail Store. "Car sales have been outstanding the greatest year ever for us. I feel record sales will continue in 1963."

Gotham was one of several persons who said increased sales have prompted them to plan expansion programs for the coming year.

OTHER EXPANSION
Others were Ernest Lender, owner of Trade Fair Discount Store, and Roy F. Schroeder, manager of Kresge's K Mart.

Lender said an addition of 13,000 square feet or more was planned at his store.

A 30,000-square-foot patio area for outdoor furniture is planned at the K Mart, according to Schroeder.

The K Mart recently opened a 10,000 square-foot addition to its year-old building.

Consumer Power Co. also has various expansion plans for gas and electric facilities for the new year, according to a spokesman for the utility company in Pontiac.

Details and costs of the programs will be announced at a later date, he said.

The manager of one large national chain store in Pontiac who declined to be identified, said: "BUYING MOOD GOOD"

"The buying mood of the public is very good, very encouraging. The new year looks good from our angle."

Allies Chilly Over Defense, Claims Rusk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk reported to President Kennedy today on conferences with America's Atlantic Allies, presumably emphasizing their need for more time before stepping up defense efforts.

Rusk made his report at a morning meeting of the executive committee of the National Security Council.

Afterward Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said most of the session dealt with the NATO council sessions in Paris attended by Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon.

Rusk, who returned last night, brought back the impression that time, patience and persuasion will be needed to bring about the larger contribution to Europe's defense that the United States wants.

His Paris proposals reportedly were greeted there with something less than warmth.

Rusk and Kennedy also had been expected to discuss topics for the two days of conferences that the President and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will hold Wednesday and Thursday at Nassau in the Bahamas.

The U.S. delegation to NATO, headed by Rusk, McNamara and Dillon, went to Paris determined to persuade the 15-nation defense organization that it must make greater commitments on NATO's vital central front.

'Hills' Ordinance Joins Police, Fire Department

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Bloomfield Hills City Commission has passed an ordinance which officially combines the city's police and fire departments into a single public safety department.

Robert J. Stadler is the director of public safety. He also is city clerk, treasurer and assistant city manager.

Stadler said today he actually was appointed public safety director by commission resolution in 1957.

However, he said, the ordinance gives him the power of a police and fire chief and officially integrates operation of both public safety functions in Bloomfield Hills' 16-man department.

Engineer Dies; Headed Project

George Kimmer, 74-year-old engineer who directed construction of the new County Courthouse, died last night at his home at 800 E. Clarkston Road, Orion Township.

Death came shortly before the new courthouse wing, also built under Kimmer's guidance was to be finished.

County offices at 1 Lafayette St. are expected to be moved into the new wing Feb. 11.

A veteran construction engineer who had a hand in the building of the Ford Rouge plant and Detroit's Penobscot Building, Kimmer came out of retirement to lead the courthouse project at the urging of county officials.

A 1911 graduate of Cornell University, Kimmer spent 20 years of his engineering career with the Macmillan-Chapman Co. of Detroit. He also was supervisor of construction of the Colomiere College in Springfield Township.

Arguments Completed in Red Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — The attorney for the Communist party said in argument to a federal jury today that the party was acting in an American tradition when it failed to register as an agent of the Soviet Union.

Argument was completed and the case, involving a charge of violation of the Subversive Activities Control Act, was ready to go to the jury after a charge by Judge Alexander Holtzoff.

The defense attorney, John J. Abt, did not dispute government evidence that Gus Hall, general secretary of the party, had announced he would not be a stool pigeon and informer and supply the party's membership list to the Justice Department.

"Throughout this history," Abt told the jury in his closing defense statement, "the role of the informer has been an odious one and a despised one."

"There is a long tradition in our country of minority organizations refusing to give the names of their members and betraying their confidence."

Abt cited as examples the abolitionists in pre-Civil War days and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in southern states in recent years.

"Gus Hall, when he said what he said, was acting in an honorable, moral manner," Abt said.

The original "Mutiny on the Bounty"; the lecherous Henry VIII—the 1933 best actor Academy Award performance—or the lovable English butler reciting the Gettysburg address in a frontier saloon for "Ruggles of Red Gap."

The late Lou Costello once apologetically asked Laughton to play Captain Kidd in "Abbott and Costello meet Captain Kidd."

"I was afraid to ask this great actor to do some of the humor we had in the movie but after the first day, he was showing the how to make up the slapstick for mere belly laughs," Costello once said.

Before he came to Hollywood, Laughton had won critical acclaim for his realistic portrayal of an American gangster in a London play.

His last movie role was that of Sen. Sean Cooley, a Southerner, in "Advise and Consent."

Little was known about Laughton's private life. He loved art—and had a collection of Rembrandts, Utrillos, Cezannes and other French impressionists that few ever saw.

What Is Christmas to Second Graders?

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Mrs. were out in the dark. The cows saw the happy day. The cows were mooring.

He had lots and lots of presents, and Mary was happy. So was Joseph, and baby Jesus was laughing. It was a happy day. The camels Christmas.

Construction Workers Add Color to Work

BOSTON (AP)—"Sidewalk superintendents" have been given a handy guide for watching construction of the $150-million Prudential Center in Boston's Back Bay.

The color of the "hard hat" identifies the worker's occupation. A white hat is worn by a supervisor, yellow for engineers and surveyors, green for machine operators, blue for carpenters, orange for steel workers and red for laborers.

Fox hunting is no longer solely the sport of kings and country gentlemen. England's Hampshire Hunt has appointed four Car Masters to cope with the increasing numbers of motorists who tag along. Many of England's 200 hunt clubs encourage the support of the nonriding public, and two of the clubs have more than 5,000 members each.

Plants Can Get Colds So Give Them Care

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Like humans in the hot summertime, indoor flowers and potted plants can get overheated, and contract "the sniffles and colds" when exposed to chilly draughts, says the Society of American Florists.

To prolong the life of summer cut flowers and plants, keep them as cool as possible — but away from draughts of air from room air conditioners and window fans, advises SAF.

The fastest-growing form of medical-insurance coverage is the "major medical" plan, which pays benefits ranging up to $15,000 in serious illness. Coverage increased by 25 per cent during 1959 compared with about 4 per cent for hospital insurance, 5 per cent for surgical coverage, and 9.6 per cent for combinations of the two.

80 Scientists to Study Warm Polar Lake

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some 80 American scientists will soon head south to spend the Antarctic summer studying such polar puzzles as lakes that apparently won't freeze.

Investigators of the United States Antarctic Research Program, sponsored by the National Science Foundation here, will search for the source of curiously warm layers of water in two Antarctic lakes that, though covered with ice 10 to 14 feet thick, have fresh water layers with 70-degree temperatures.

Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, had an air-conditioned room in his Washington room in the early part of this century. Bell installed a refrigerator in the attic, filled it with blocks of ice, covered with salt. An asbestos-washed duct led the cold air down to a room which he used as a retreat.

Patrick Henry Shares Texas Pool With Gator

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Ally the Alligator has a neighbor in the San Jacinto Plaza Pool.

He is Patrick Henry, a turtle which spends more time in the water than out. The turtle swims around in perfect harmony with Ally.

On Patrick's back are painted the immortal words of the American patriot for whom he was named.

"Give me liberty or give me death."

Zoo director Jerry Tordt said he has no idea where the turtle came from or who painted him.

Each year the small Pennsylvania Dutch community of McClure holds a bean soup celebration. The ceremony began in 1801 when a Civil War veteran proposed the men of his company have a campfire with railons similar to those eaten in the Union Army.

It Seems to Me

Powerful U.S. Delegate Is Needed in United Nations

ADLAI STEVENSON continues to be a rather tempestuous political figure. ADLAI has managed to remain reasonably controversial ever since a Flint news photographer discovered a hole in his shoe and shield him into photographic prominence. The Nation liked this domestic thrift and ADLAI basked easily in the resulting publicity.

Certainly John F. Kennedy owed him something after the election and he made the Illinois man our leader at the United Nations. There have probably been many times when the harassed young President wished ADLAI were back in Illinois, but the late Eleanor Roosevelt and some of the other extreme Democratic left wingers stood squarely behind him, and the President bowed.

At the moment he stands pictured by The Saturday Evening Post as voicing soft-spoken appeasements in the Cuban situation when the very innermost circles were reaching a final decision. The Post information came through a leak—and no one can be quite certain whether it was accidental or a shrewdly calculated trial balloon.

At any rate, the President finally came out in the newspapers with a denial of the magazine's implications, and Mr. STEVENSON himself seemed strangely unmoved. Life picked up the same hot potato and the matter was hashed and reshaped.

Some people think this is a prelude to moving Stevenson when the shooting dies down. Our own editor, John W. Fitzgerald, just spent a day at the United Nations, and he says the U.S. people that he saw there have had their confidence in Stevenson badly shaken. Also, our humiliating fiasco at the Bay of Pigs has been laid on ADLAI's fragile doorstep. Probably he didn't stand alone, but he has been smeared with the disgrace of the token force that made the abortive attack.

The Cuban business is no place for half measures. The entire Nation and practically the entire hemisphere unite behind the President. Anyone proposing an acceptance or temporizing with the Russian inroads must necessarily lose caste with his associates.

Last April in New York, friends told me that Stevenson was doomed at the United Nations and that his separation would be announced by early summer.

That never happened.

If it had actually been the President's plan, he was apparently dissuaded by the left wingers. ADLAI lost one of his stoutest supporters in the unhappy death of Mrs. ROOSEVELT, who wielded a big stick right up to the end. Our nation must be in powerful and understanding hands.

We can't temporize.

Beware of Mice

This is a neighborly word of warning.

Beware of reithroodontomys.

(Field mice, to you.)

The National Pest Control Association (and could you ask for a more impressive authority?) says this is the moment you should institute a household search for reithrod etc. and exterminate him—and her. With the advent of frost and snow, these spy little fellows leave the fields and vacant lots and his indoors, pell-mell.

They squeeze through apertures you can hardly see or sense. AND—get out the domestic IBM—in precisely 21 days, mama can uncover a sturdy, lusty and thriving litter of five. In a year she can produce eight litters, and the little squealers can make an indoor freeway of your back hall.

So-o-o-o-o-o-o, be ye hereby warned.
Start looking TODAY.

Ted's Not Qualified

You can't shoot anyone for trying. And since this "anyone" got himself elected to the U.S. Senate when he was barely out of swaddling clothes, you can't blame him for aiming at the moon.

Word has "leaked out" that young Ted Kennedy believes he should be placed on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Membership in this important and distinguished group is earned. It comes from long, faithful service. It comes from notable intellectual achievement and the possession of a mind that has been shrewd, analytical and penetrating under fire.

Let's hope that some friendly and benevolent Democrat points all this out to the lad in words of one syllable. TEDDY's a natural if a committee is named to refurbish the men's room on the second floor of the Senate office building.

"Fools (still) rush in where angels fear to tread."

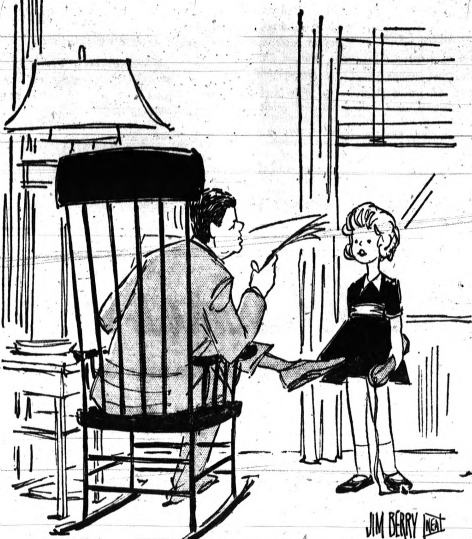

And in Conclusion

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your perambulatory reporter:

A letter from KEN CRAWLEY takes me to task lightly for using the word "peripatetic" each week in the phrase just preceding this. Hence, there's a switch today in his honor.

Airlines have been having financial difficulties, and now they face another annoying threat. Passengers are slowly reverting to ocean liners for crossing the seas. First-class occupancy is up 20% through September. GEORGE JESSEL is a one-man gang out to stop "The First Family" album from being played on the radio. He doesn't object to family use but feels it assails the KENNEDY dignity when it's on the air. The sale of the record is enormous.

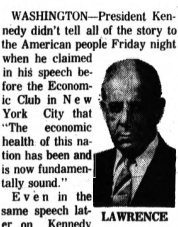

I can't prove it, but I'll bet a sugar cookie the Army won't beat the Navy very often in football any more because of the perceptibly bigger enrollment at Annapolis. Overheard as two girls stand in front of a questionable-looking tavern: "This is the place where Grace was insulted. Let's go in." Richard Nixon has been deluged with invitations to speak, and colleges and universities lead the way. He is rejecting everything. A bellhop in Cincinnati goes our own Graham John Graham one better. He's Joseph Joseph Joseph. Stories from across the Nation indicate that the Christmas trade this

"Mr. Bartlett is SO Much Fun To Talk To . . ."

Government Spends U.S. Into Rut

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy didn't tell all of the story to the American people Friday night when he claimed in his speech before the Economic Club in New York City that "The economic health of this nation has been and is now fundamentally sound."

Even in the same speech later on Kennedy said exactly the opposite as follows: "Surely the lesson of the last decade is that budget deficits are not caused by wild-eyed spenders but by slow economic growth and periodic recessions—and any new recession would break all deficit records."

The President endeavored, moreover, to give the impression that the rises in government expenditures which have unbalanced his budget have been due entirely to national defense and space projects or "to fight the recession we found in industry and agriculture."

Representative Clarence Cannon of Missouri, Democrat, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, however, in a courageous speech on the day Congress adjourned in October, gave a different version. Unfortunately it didn't get the publicity a presidential address does. Cannon said:

"This year we added another year to the long string of years of living beyond national revenues—in 26 of the last 32 years we haven't balanced the budget."

"Not even in times of unprecedented national prosperity have we been willing to pay as we go along. We have yet to demonstrate any determination to do so."

UNBALANCED BUDGET
Cannon emphasized that "It is rising nondefense expenditures that have unbalanced the budgets and expanded the national debt."

The President tried to shift the blame for the big deficits to the preceding administration, but Cannon's speech tells why this can't be so. Kennedy now promises—as he has done in many speeches before—to hold down the expenses of government.

But the trouble with that promise is that current expenses are not to be reduced and the tax revenues, of course, will not overcome the deficits.

The promise of a "top to bottom" tax reduction makes the year will probably set an all-time record.

headlines, but business cannot expand and the tax receipts will not grow if there is a lack of confidence on the part of business in the economic outlook.

For labor is getting ready to demand that business pay higher and higher wages, which, of course, would absorb most of the benefits of tax reduction.

The newspaper strikes in New York and Cleveland are significant examples of the system of extortion practiced by the labor-monopoly in industries generally. The Administration refuses to curb these excesses, though it does interfere with the making of proper prices and profits, as happened in the steel industry earlier this year.

The President expects the tax reduction to produce a boom in consumer spending. In his speech he revealed that "Consumers are still spending between 92 and 94 per cent of their after-tax income, as they have every year since 1950."

Tax Cut

The Chicago Sun Times

When President Kennedy rejected the arguments for a quickie tax cut last August he said economic conditions did not justify it. But he did promise to act Congress for an across-the-board cut in personal and corporate taxes effective Jan. 1. There has been talk of cutting taxes by $10 billion or more even though this would put the government deeper into the red.

As the time nears for the administration to tell what it has in mind concerning a tax cut, objections to it expressed last summer are being raised again. In our view, the objections are just as valid as they were then.

The economy is not in such bad shape that the nation must go deeper into debt to stimulate business. . . . While tax reforms to ease the general burden should be undertaken, any reduction, in government revenue that results should be accompanied by a reduction in government expenditures.

In the last few days these principles have been enunciated by a number of influential citizens.

The most influential is R. P. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, where all tax legislation must originate. In an interview he is quoted:

"I doubt that you could sell a tax cut for purposes of trying to do something for the economy until a downturn is discernible."

"I can't go along with the idea

Do you want to buy a wife or several? If you do, move to Africa and apply for foreign aid. Do you want air-conditioned Cadillacs? Move to the Middle East and apply for foreign aid. Do you want to tuck away millions in a Swiss bank so that you can be secure for the rest of your life? Move to South America, take over a country and apply for foreign aid.

Do you want to go to the United Nations and ridicule and insult the United States? If you do, then move to Cuba or Yugoslavia or any other Communist nation, and our country will foot the bill. This is ridiculous, but it has happened.

The United States has five per cent of the world's population. Yet it tries to carry the whole world on its back. Our government owes twice as much as the rest of the nations of the world put together. Yet the giveaway goes on and on.

I like and read your paper every night, but you don't cover youth activities enough. Rae-Vens Drill Team has won state championship for three years for drill team and color guard competition. It won international competition in Detroit. When the girls went to Florida they wrote about seven lines. We want more publicity.

Has Suggestion for Dog Problems

So our city manager wants more cooperation on the dog problem. I see dogs running loose around LeBaron School but our warden is so busy he can't come when called. I just take a club and walk my little ones to school. I would like to see a heavy line put on anyone letting a dog run loose and a limit of one dog per family. Those having more should pay $50 for a license. A good way to stop these dogs would be to furnish a man with a truck and pay him $1 for every dog he catches. He'd make himself some quick Christmas money.

Need Stop Signal at Intersection

Motorists must use caution on Scott Lake Road. There is one major stop at the Pontiac Lake Road intersection and it is poorly marked.

The road commission is aware of the dangers and I was informed that a signal light is in the near future. I read in this column that Scott Lake Road was closed too long for construction. It should be closed again until this danger has been removed.

Tax cuts for the sake of tax cutting are one thing; tax reform that includes tax cuts is another. Mills says tax reform should be carefully balanced. He's against rushing into a red ink tax cut next year.

Small Businesses

The Wall Street Journal

It's pretty wonderful how adept the Government is at perpetuating and expanding its programs. Take the case of the Small Business Investment Companies. The original idea was that the Small Business Administration, in addition to lending money, direct, could aid small businesses by lending Federal funds to privately operated SBICs.

The Government saw an "institutional gap" many small businesses could not bridge if weren't sufficiently developed to interest institutional investors.

So Congress authorized Federal aid for SBICs, and offered such inducements as special tax advantages and the privilege of borrowing from the Government at low rates.

All this wasn't a very sound

Preview of This Week's World News

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan are expected to patch up, at least superficially, the rift which has developed between their two countries over reports that the United States plans to scrap its Skybolt missile.

The British had counted on the Skybolt for their own bomber force, and their first reaction was sharply anti-American.

The British still don't know how to replace the Skybolt to maintain their independent nuclear deterrent, but the government also is fearful of the results of Anglo-American discussion on public opinion. The result is that the world quietly is being spread that some solution to the problem almost certainly will be found in the Bahamas talks between Macmillan and Kennedy this week.

Moscow observers now expect an outbreak of spy fever to take over from politics in the Soviet Union this week. The Soviets are allowing to trickle out more details of their charges that an Anglo-American espionage ring has been stealing Soviet military and scientific secrets.

SHADES OF POWERS
Key prisoner so far is British businessman Greville Wynne whose wife has been allowed to come to Moscow to visit him in a performance reminiscent of the Barbara and Francis Gary Powers epic of 1960.

On the international political scene, the Soviet press is expected to bring further into the open Soviet policy differences with the Red Chinese.

Khrushchev, however, still does not appear ready publicly to admit an open break within the Communist bloc.

A speech by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko indicates the Soviets will push slowly to get East-West talks over Berlin going again.

BERLIN BAIT
They are expected to dangle two pieces of bait — an indication British, French and American troops might be tolerated in West Berlin under a United Nations flag, and an indication the Kremlin would like to get an East-West agreement on general outlines of a peace treaty the Soviets could sign with East Germany without bringing on a major crisis.

Look for increasing pressure within Britain for the government to find a workable alternative to British membership in the European Common Market.

Despite official assurances that it still is full speed ahead on efforts to get into the market, there is growing uneasiness among many businessmen and industrialists that perhaps the big merger will not come off after all.

One idea being canvassed is that in the event of a breakdown in the negotiations, Britain should press hard for the maximum possible world free trade even if this means exposing its industries to cheap competition from abroad.

U.S. military sources who frequently visit South Viet Nam, believe they see a switch in Communist tactics there. The Communist Viet Cong seems to be avoiding contact with government forces, except for occasional lightning strikes. The apparent reason is to wear down the Americans' enthusiasm and public support.

Seek Arab Conference

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Damascus newspapers said Sunday Syria is seeking a high-level conference of Arab governments to establish a joint stand toward developments on the Syrian-Israeli frontier. Israel and Syria have accused each other of aggression in incidents this fall on their 70-mile-long frontier, including a machine gun exchange Dec. 4 that lasted four hours.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Wearing Medical Tag Could Save Life

Q—Please give me the address of the organization that makes the medical tags or bracelets that warn of drug sensitivity.

A—If you are a diabetic, a bleeder, or have one of several other conditions that require special treatment—or precautions, and you are injured in an accident or suddenly lose consciousness, you need some sort of device to alert the first aid attendant or physician.

This device, whether worn around your neck, wrist, or ankle, should be worn at all times including when you are swimming or engaged in any other sport. It must be waterproof and rust-proof. It would not contain details but it would authorize who ever was taking care of you to look in your handbag or wallet for vital information.

At last count, at least 15 such devices were available from different agencies. If you will write to the Bureau of Health Education of the American Medical Association, 535 N. Dearborn St., Chicago 10, Ill., they will send you the addresses of all these agencies.

Q—I have moles on my neck. They are just about the same color as my skin. What causes them and how can I get rid of them?

A—The current view is that this kind of mole or its determinant is present at birth but that the moles themselves do not crop out until many years later.

New ones may appear from time to time. My best advice is to leave them alone and they will do you no harm.

Q—I am an asthmatic and have been taking prednisone (Meticorten) for the past 10 years. The smallest dose I can take is two tablets a day but when my asthma gets bad I have to increase the dose.

While I am not having an asthma I have to take the medicine because if I don't I get very poorly and break out in a rash. Why is this?

A—This letter illustrates the disadvantages of embarking on a prolonged period of treatment with adrenal hormones and related products for asthma or any allergic disease. These hormones are life-saving in certain conditions.

For other less serious conditions they give great relief when taken for a short period, but when taken over a period of years the function of the adrenal glands becomes weakened.

Since the secretion of life, the supply must be kept up artificially.

That is what the writer of this question is now being forced to do. Various means have been tried to restore the lost adrenal function but as yet without success.

Q—How much milk should an adult drink? The fellows that work with my husband tell him he will get all kinds of diseases if he keeps on drinking as much milk as he does, about a quart a day.

A—It would be interesting to know how false assumptions like this get started. A few adults can't drink milk because of an allergy, and others for one reason or another just don't like it.

But, aside from these, every adult should drink a pint of milk a day. There is no evidence that more would be harmful. Milk is a good source of calcium, needed by adults as well as children.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Pontiac Press. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

PENNEY'S MIRACLE MILE

If You Can Eat It or Drink It in One Day... Keep It

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—The Christmas season is at hand, and the annual warnings have been posted against government employees accepting presents from firms doing business with Uncle Sam.

No special admonition is necessary to remind civil servants that taking gifts from foreign governments is equally taboo. Since all Americans are theoretically born free and equal, it is equally a pity that MONTGOMERY does not remain so, after they enter government service.

U.S. employees can read the newspapers, and so can most of their wives. It is lousy luck, therefore, that a local paper has carried a smiling picture of Mrs. Dean Rusk, spouse of the secretary of state, posing with quantities of silk yardage draped over her arms.

Sharing the picture are the wives of the Korean ambassador and his information officer. The outline discloses that the shimmering Korean silk is to be made into a dress for Mrs. Rusk, as a "unique Christmas present" from the Korean ambassador.

The secretary of state is the over-all head of our foreign aid program, which has granted Korea three-and-a-half billion dollars worth during the past 14 years.

LOADED WITH GIFTS

Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson returned from a recent good-will trip to the Near East laden with quantities of Oriental rugs, artifacts, and other presents from heads of states. A spokesman said they would use them at their Texas ranch.

First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy's trip to the Far East also prompted lavish gift-giving ceremonies presented by Indian Prime Minister Nehru, whose country has benefited from more than twice that amount of U.S. largesse.

The lavish gifts bestowed on President Eisenhower by both domestic and foreign givers reached astronomical proportions during his two terms.

Such facts are well known to the little guy down the line in government, who struggles to support a family on his weekly take-home pay, after tax and retirement deductions.

A few years ago, the second-ranking man in the office of protocol was abruptly banished to a less glamorous job because King Saud of Saudi Arabia, whom he had conducted on a tour of America, presented his wife with an automobile.

Another publicized case was that of any official of the foreign aid program, whose wife accepted a $2,000 diamond bracelet from the Greek government. His resignation was immediately requested.

Gifts or awards bestowed on State Department officials by other nations must legally be stored with the department until they leave office. This ruling does not apply, however, to cabinet officers, the President or vice president.

After the deep freeze and mink coat scandals of the Truman administration, the pepery prey sought to establish a criteria for the kind of gifts that could be accepted by government employees.

An unofficial rule-of-thumb established that they could receive a bottle of whisky, but not a case; a small ham, but not a whole hog.

Americans applaud any restrictions that tend to discourage gift-taking by public servants. Being fair-minded, they would probably clap even more enthusiastically for a standard that applies equally to all.

Cut-Off Printing of Yule Stamps at One Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office has printed one billion Christmas stamps, and that's all for this year, an official says.

"We could go another 250 million if it were physically possible to get them distributed before Christmas," James F. Kelleher, special assistant to the postmaster general, told a reporter Sunday.

Printing of the special 4-cent stamps with the green wreath and red flame tipped candles stopped Saturday.

Presses had been running seven days a week, 24 hours a day lately to fill the record-breaking demand.

"Fantastic demand," Kelleher called it.

THE AFTERMATH — Here are the remains of gasoline tanker, (center foreground), which exploded and burned after collision with an auto on a downtown street in Sacramento yesterday. Resulting gasoline-fed fire destroyed half a block, including five homes and apartment buildings and a number of parked cars. Driver of the auto was burned to death, and the truck driver was seriously hurt. Police led more than 50 sleepy residents to safety.

Fifty Escape Block Fire of Old Homes

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (U)—More than 50 persons were led to safety by four policemen yesterday when five ancient frame homes and apartment houses were engulfed by a river of flaming gasoline from a wrecked tanker truck.

The double trailer rig exploded — spilling 8,750 gallons of flaming liquid over the street — after it was rammed by a speeding building to building, kicking in doors and breaking windows, rousing residents and bringing them to safety.

The driver of the car, Frances Fontana, 41, divorced mother of an 18-year-old son, was burned to death.

James Moore, 32, of West Sacramento, the truck driver, was badly burned.

There was only one witness, Mario Betti, 31, of Sacramento. He said Miss Fontana's car sped through a red light and crashed into the truck. He said he had stopped his car for the light.

"I still don't see how the truck driver got out," he said. "I saw him leaping through the flames. His clothes were burning and flesh was falling from his hands."

"I yelled for him to lie down and roll on the ground. He rolled into a puddle of water and put the fire out."

Two teams of city policemen, patrolling in the neighborhood, heard the explosion and saw the flames. Lewis Ban and Joe Harrington and Tom Stark and Paul Heitola sped to the scene.

Even though the blazing liquid was running down both streets and into yards, the four ran from

Heart Attack Fatal to NY Millionaire

NEW YORK (AP) — Chester Dale, 69, multimillionaire investment banker, utilities magnate and art collector, died in New York Hospital Sunday following a heart attack.

In 1955, he gave the Metropolitan its first Salvador Dali painting, "The Crucifixion."

Battlelines Drawn as JFK, Rocky Views Compared

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy apparently has reached the conclusion — if he had any doubts — that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York will be his 1964 opponent for the presidency. This was the explanation in political circles for Kennedy's aiming a series of barbs at the Governor in his Friday night speech to the Economic Club in New York.

Because New York will be one of the principal battlegrounds in the 1964 presidential contest, political commentators national Association of Manufacturers on Dec. 4—Rockefeller said the state's unemployment rate "has been less than the national rate for 23 of the last 28 months."

BOTH RIGHT?

Presumably both men could be right. Kennedy was talking about the number drawing unemployment compensation. Rockefeller was talking about the number of jobs.

Kennedy went on to say that the "increases in personal income and employment have both been slower here (in New York state) than in the nation as a whole."

Rockefeller said that while the rate of increase in "the real personal income" of the people of New York, had lagged behind the national average during the prior state democratic administration, "in the past four years it has been increasing more rapidly than the national rate."

Kennedy said expenditures in state government in New York have risen in recent years at the rate of roughly 10 per cent a year. "He said in nine years civilian expenditures in the federal government have increased an average of 7.5 per cent a year. Rockefeller offered no comparable figures. But he said state aid to public schools had been increased 60 per cent in four years, aid to higher education by 200 per cent and highway construction mileage had been tripled.

"BALANCED BUDGET"

He said in four years his administration had "restored fiscal integrity by cutting unnecessary expenditures, instituting rigid economies, raising personal income tax withholdings."

"The result is we have a balanced budget and a surplus each year and have reduced the tax-supported state debt by $85 million," he said.

Kennedy could make no such claim for the federal government. But he promised that domestic expenditures in the new budget would be held to approximately present levels.

There were a number of things on which the potential 1964 rivals seemed agreed.

Both expressed concern about the balance of international payments. Both opposed inflationary actions. Both said profit margins must be improved. Both rejected deficit spending as a cure for the lagging economy.

Kennedy said the country could stand a temporary deficit brought about by a tax cut aimed at expanding the incentives for private investment. Rockefeller called taxes on incomes and corporations the highest among 15 leading commercial nations of the free world.

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Needles, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without needles, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is as safe when used as directed; it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONHTIN®.

Charles R. Swart, president of South Africa, has called on white citizens of that segregated nation to stand together and fight off enemies who "desire to drive the white man and his culture out of South Africa."

Now he has proclaimed a new constitution providing for a graduated system of rule by elected village elders. The action official ends the parliamentary system which began in 1959.

Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, reporting to nearly 5,000 members of his flock who overflowed into snow-swept streets from the Warsaw Cathedral of St. John, chided the Polish Communist government.

The 58-year-old Roman Catholic primate of Poland said the government limited the expenditures and size of the 25-bishop Polish delegation to the Ecumenical Council at the Vatican, which he attended.

"Each Polish bishop was allowed to take only five dollars with him," the cardinal said, "and that would not suffice even if we could live on seeds." He expressed gratitude to Polish

Junior Editors Quiz on EROSION

QUESTION: How can one keep soil from blowing and washing away?

ANSWER: Experts say that our soil will last almost indefinitely if we will only take care of it. They tell us nature is continually enriching it, bringing minerals in with the rain, adding humus as leaves and plants decay.

The trouble is we're apt to drive it too hard, to harvest crops which take more out of the soil than we're willing to put back. When we cut down too many trees, rain water isn't held in the soil but runs off the surface, causing ruinous erosion.

However, there is a lot we can do to save our precious soil, which feeds us now and must feed our children later on.

In A. John checks up to see how "contour plowing," plowing in level lines around a sloping field instead of up and down the slope, is working out.

He finds the water is being held where it can help the plants instead of tearing down the hillside in a flood.

B shows another wise practice. Alternate strips of crops and fallow soil help prevent the dust storms which can carry valuable soil away.

FOR YOU TO DO: Do your part to help conservation by being very careful to put campfires out and by not using matches where they might ignite leaves or brush. Did you realize that a forest fire damages the fertility of the soil as well as destroying the wild life?

NY City Boy Scouts Take On Metropolitan Look

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK—Everything these days is more expensive.

Take being a Boy Scout. Used to be they tied knots and rubbed flints together reports a dear friend whose 12-year-old son for two weeks, a tenderfoot.

"But the scouts have learned to BATTELLE adjust to the times. Now it's almost as though Lord Baden-Powell was an advance man for Abercrombie & Fitch."

Our friend, whom we shall call Smith because that's his name, described the experience:

"Living in midtown Manhattan, we never gave a thought to the Boy Scouts. For the first time in our communities, we figured. For the suburbs. But not for New York City. But we'd underestimated the Boy Scouts of America."

"This is Tom Trudgem, talking," a voice on the phone advised us last summer, "scoutmaster of Troop 565, which includes your son Randy's school. We'd like him to join." A letter followed:

SATURDAY AT 8

"Have you thought of your son following with his mind's eye the covered wagons on a trek across our continent? Haven't you dreamed of having him hike the wilderness trails worn down under moccasins hundreds of years ago?"

"Well, as a matter of fact, we had. Every Saturday morning. About 8 o'clock."

"It looked great—country, fresh air, Sunshine, Leadership, Comradship. We signed up."

"In the mail came the forms. Three-page deal on medical history. The doctor was impressed."

"When shall I book him into Mayo?" he inquired. We told him to answer what he could.

"Couple nights later, the phone rang. It was platoon leader Nick Rosytschek of the 'Silver Fox Patrol.' Could Randy go on a day-hike Saturday? The thought of being able to sleep late Saturday

NY Press Due to Resume Talk

NEW YORK—Representatives of 3,000 striking printers and of the publishers who put out this city's nine major daily papers return to the bargaining table tomorrow in a renewed effort to end the 10-day work stoppage that has resulted in a newspaper blackout.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, which recessed joint peace talks last Wednesday as hopeless for the moment, called for the session.

The printers met in closed session yesterday and afterward reported their position unchanged in the dispute.

"Our spirit was never stronger than it is now," said Bertram A. Powers, president of Local 6 of the International Typographical Union, AFL-CIO.

Russ Arrives to Take E. German Envoy Post

BERLIN (AP)—Pyotr Andrei-vich Abrasimov, the Soviet Union's new ambassador to Communist East Germany, has arrived to take up his duties, the East German news agency ADN reported Sunday.

He succeeds Mikhail Pervukhin, once a power in the Soviet regime.

near overcame us with tears, but we kept our voice under control as we said yes. What will he need?

"Be prepared," said the leader. We noted down the requirements. A knapsack. A mess kit. Food for two meals (one hot). A pencil. An aluminum trowel. A cake of regular soap. A cake of brown soap. A towel. A whistle. Insect repellent. Sterno and stove. Dungarees. Play shirt. Flashlight. Extra batteries and bulbs. First aid kit ($3 size). Notebook and pencil.

Plastic bags for specimens. Waterproof matches. Canteen. Compass. Candle. Wrist watch. Fifty feet of rope. Roll of binder twine. Nails. Raincoat, cap, rubbers or overshoes. Hiking boots. And $3.00 for carfare and spending money. "Randy could wait until later for the special uniform and equipment for overnight trips, they told us.

"Much relieved, as you can imagine, that Randy was to be away only a day, we rose early on Saturday and packed up his good-ies (making a 'lighter' into the knapsack in case he hadn't done a good job of waterproofing his matches). It was 5:30 a.m. as we piled into a taxi to take him to his rendezvous with the troop under the marquee at the RKO 86th Street, and watched the boys off.

Where did they go to hike? Southampton, of course. Everybody who's anybody hikes at Southampton.

They came home by cab. "The next week we had other hints that Randy was not quite wealthy enough for the new breed of city-based elegant Scout. Kept buying things—compass, pen-knife, stopwatch, $10 for a new tent, $5 for a meeting at the N.Y. Athletic Club, $3 for membership at the Sutton pool, $24 for two books of chances for Randy to sell 'cause the troop needed a portable radio receiving and sending unit.

"We began to imagine things—Randy earning merit badges for taxi-trapping, waiter-calling, and celebrity identification. Picnic lunches packed by the Stork Club. Hikes from Bowling Green to Central Park, with bivouacs at the Banker's Club and Sardi's."

"So if you know anyone who wants a yuccapack, poncho, aluminum mess kit, handy knife-fork-spoon set in ultra-soft leather sheath, we'll sell them cheap."

"I'm afraid we're not up to the zone."

"Silver Fox Patrol." If you hear of their leader...

Other Nations Celebrate, Too

Two more area foreign exchange students find that Christmas in their countries is different than Christmas in the United States.

"Papai Noel" comes to Brazil at Christmas just as Santa Claus comes to the United States. This bit of information comes from Gustavo Costa Valadao, 18-year-old exchange student living with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lorenz of Lakewood Drive.

Christmas in Brazil is, however, a very religious holiday. There is emphasis put on the true meaning of Christmas and Papai Noel and his gifts play second fiddle.

More artificial Christmas trees than real trees are to be found in Brazil. But often, a tree will be cut and painted white and decorated.

Since there is no snow where Gus lives, cotton balls are used as decorations to simulate snow.

According to Mrs. Lorenz, Gus thought that the snow was really something and real fun to shovel out the driveway—"It only it weren't so cold!"

Since Brazil is below the equator, summer vacation from school for Gus is from December to March.

New Year's Eve is a big night for dancing. Along with the samba and the bossa nova, Brazilian teen-agers are keen on the twist.

New Year's Eve heralds the beginning of the party season. Each Saturday night dances are held in the country-club. On the Saturday before Ash Wednesday a large costume ball is held. This Mardi gras atmosphere lasts for three days until the beginning of Lent.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz will have their family for a traditional American Christmas which will include relatives coming from Chicago.

Christmas in the Philippines, according to 15-year-old Danilo Gozo who is living with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thornton of Upper Straits Boulevard, is unusually different. For one thing, Danilo had never seen snow until our recent blizzard.

The majority of the people in Danilo's part of the Philippines are Catholic. Their Christmas celebration begins on Dec. 15. From then until Dec. 24 there is a daily Mass at 4 a.m. On Dec. 24 there is the midnight High Mass.

Following the midnight Mass there is a family reunion at which time it is customary to kiss the hands of your parents as a sign of respect. Philippine children kiss the hands of their parents every night before retiring.

Christmas Day is a day for the family. Roast pig is the main dish at dinner.

In the province where Danilo lives there is an annual car competition. Each community raises money to erect a star which often is as large as a house. To the winning community goes a trophy and 1,000 pesos.

The remaining days between Christmas and New Year's are spent visiting friends, who always have some sweet snack for anyone who drops in.

New Year's Eve is a night for parties and dancing. One enjoyable Philippine dance is called "tinikling." Why this dance did not replace the limbo is a mystery. It is as much fun and would be a great ice breaker at any party. But it takes someone light of foot, with a good sense of timing, not to get bruised ankles.

The Christmas holiday ends Jan. 6 in the Philippines with the celebration of the "three kings."

Mr. and Mrs. Thornton are planning to give Danilo a traditional American Christmas. They will have about 20 relatives in for the family Christmas dinner.

Danilo's parents have already sent Danilo a tape of their voices and are hoping to receive a tape back by Christmas.

Personal Notes of the Area

U. Robert G. Keavy arrived Saturday from Ft. Lewis, Wash. to spend Christmas furlough with his parents, the George B. Keavys of Mohawk Road. His fiancée, Sandra Jean McNeal, daughter of the Harley J. McNeals of Bay Village, Ohio, is a house-guest of the Keavys through Christmas.

Dr. and Mrs. Clifford T. Ekelund of Ottawa Drive entertained at brunch Sunday at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Eighteen couples from the Pontiac, Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills area were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Magnus of the Hills at buffet dinner Sunday evening.

For Parents, Children

Hold Two Celebrations

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: For the past 24 years of our marriage we have spent Thanksgiving and Christmas with my husband's mother, who lives 40 miles away.

She is now 80, and for the last 24 years we have felt it might be her last because she has not been feeling well.

I used to make a big Thanksgiving dinner for the entire family. We had all my husband's brothers and sisters and their children, and it was fun.

But for five years now, after all the plans were made, I'd get a call the day before that mother didn't feel up to the confusion, and we ended up taking her to the hotel for dinner—minus the children.

The children are growing up and I want the whole family together at my home at holiday time. What can I do? The holidays have been ruined for so many years. I am sick of hearing "it may be mother's last."

DEAR HELP: Franklin Roosevelt changed the official date of Thanksgiving and so can you. Next year have your big Thanksgiving dinner at home, with all the children, the day before Thanksgiving — or the day after. Take Mother out on Thanksgiving Day to keep her (and your husband) happy. And celebrate Christmas Eve with your family at home — and Christmas Day with Mother.

DEAR ABBY: Our son recently came home from Korea. His first week home he just sat around the house enjoying the luxury of being home. He also taught our parakeet to swear.

It is very embarrassing to us, but our son seems to think it is a big joke. What should we do?

SGT.'S MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: Our son married a girl who handles all the money and makes all the decisions. He has had a piano since the age of five and he loves to play.

When he was married we gave him his piano. It was a fine piano and he got great enjoyment from it.

Well, they moved into a new home and his wife sold the piano to strangers for $200. She claimed she didn't have room for it.

She had room for a seven foot bar in her den, though. Now they are making their basement into a recreation room and she suddenly decided they needed a piano. She has been hinting right and left that we should buy them one.

Would you if you were us?

THE OLD FOLKS

DEAR OLD FOLKS: Why punish your son? He has enough problems. If anyone needs the relaxation and tranquility playing the piano provides, your son does. If you intend to give him a gift, buy him a piano—with no strings!

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, care of The Press.

LYNNE ELAINE ANDERSON

August vows are planned by Lynne Elaine Anderson, daughter of the Frank A. Andersons of Oneida Road and William James Ruth III, son of the junior Ruths of Geneva, Switzerland. She is a MSU senior. Her fiancé attends Tri-State College, Angola, Ind.

Robert Thornton (left), son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thornton of Upper Straits Boulevard, helps Danilo Gozo of the Philippines decorate a string Christmas tree which he made. Under the tree are some of the gifts which Danny brought with him. The larger star is a miniature of those entered in home star competition. To the right of the star is a wallet of python skin. In front is a handmade scarf and purse made from coconut rind and coconut shells. Danny's shirt is typical of the shirts worn by men in the Philippines.

Schedule Christmas Luncheon

Wilson School Parent-Teacher Association will stage its annual teachers' and home room mothers' Christmas luncheon Tuesday at 12 noon in the school auditorium.

All school children will participate in the program.

In other Christmas activities this week, Mrs. Marguerite Seese will direct the first, second and third graders in their play, "A Joyous Christmas," Wednesday at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Richard Johnson will have charge of the fourth, fifth and sixth grade play, "The Story of the First Christmas," Thursday at 10 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schmidt will play and sing Christmas carols Tuesday through Friday as they have done for the past 33 years.

June Group Has Meeting

June Group of the First Presbyterian Church gathered for Christmas luncheon Friday in the Bloomfield Hills home of Mrs. John Markley. Costesses were Mrs. J. Chester Reynolds, Mrs. J. C. Sulzberger, Mrs. Elizabeth Galbraith, Mrs. Dean Thompson and Mrs. Howard Marsh.

Guests were Mrs. Galen E. Hershey, Mrs. Paul Cross and Mrs. Albert Rittering.

Lodge Picks New Officers

Welcome Rebekah Lodge No. 246 elected officers Thursday. Serving with Noble Grand Mrs. John Hocking are Mrs. John Schaffer, vice grand; Mrs. Richard James, recording secretary; Mrs. William Fyfe, finance; Mrs. William Sharpe; treasurer; and Mrs. Ferman Huston, district deputy.

Mrs. Orion Hettinger of South Edith Street will entertain members of the Friendship Circle Thursday during a cooperative luncheon at 12 noon.

Diamond earrings, a gift of the bridegroom, complemented a matching necklace from his family. White orchids, stephanotis and ivy rested on the bride's Bible.

Helen Jane Spark, maid of honor, and Mary Sue Dahlgren, bridesmaid, both of Sylvan Lake, were red velvet. Mrs. Dexter Maymorn, also a bridesmaid, and junior attendant Eve Palatin, Bloomfield Hills, appeared in green velvet.

They wore white fur pillbox hats and carried matching muffs topped with red sweet-heart roses and ivy.

Sally Palatin, Bloomfield Hills, and Sheryl Beamish, Rochester, were flower girls, and Jimmy Malkasian, Rochester, carried the rings.

Charles S. Palatin, Bloomfield Hills, stood as best man for his brother. They are sons of Mrs. Steve Palatin of Lowell Street and the late Mr. Palatin.

Palaian-McRae Vows Spoken in Evening Candlelight Rites

Four hundred guests attended a dinner reception in the New Cultural Building of St. John's Armenian Church, Southfield, where Sharon Ruth McRae and George Krecor Palaian were wed Saturday.

Rev. Dorian Papazian performed the 6 p.m. candlelight ceremony.

Wed Saturday in St. John's Armenian Church, Southfield, were Sharon Ruth McRae, daughter of the Willard L. McRaes, Sylvan Lake, and George Krecor Palaian, son of Mrs. Steve Palaian, Lowell Street, and the late Mr. Palaian.

MRS. GEORGE KRECOR PALAIAN

Sorority Holds Dinner

Pontiac Council, Pi Omicron national sorority, gathered for the Christmas dinner party Thursday in the Waldron Hotel. Mrs. William Johnson gave the invocation and Mrs. E. Verne McCall was toastmistress.

Mrs. Leon Skelley was accompanist for vocal solos by Mrs. Jon Karau, party chairman, and Mrs. Gene Shell.

Guests were Mrs. Sig Cervinski of Lathrup Village, national president; Petronilla Sullivan, central district president; Grace Morrow, state vice president; Mrs. James Price, Mrs. Clyde Harnack, Mrs. DeLise Wilson and Mrs. David Spindler.

A food basket was prepared for a needy family's Christmas.

Assisting Mrs. Karau were Mrs. Maynard Holmes, Mrs. Shell, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Ilgo Harnack and Mrs. McCall.

After a Florida honeymoon, the couple will live in Pontiac. The bride is a graduate of Highland Park General Hospital School of Nursing.

Bronze Cymidium orchids and gold accessories complemented Mrs. McRae's jacket dress of avocado green lace. The bridegroom's mother chose navy eyslet over pink catfish and a corsage of pink orchids.

Dr. Herbert Gould, 33, is self-styled "president, organizer, and instigator" of the Physicians' Wine Appreciation Society, with chapters in New York, Boston and Miami.

We asked Dr. Gould how doctors defended this outside-the-office interest in eating and drinking.

"I don't think we have to be defended," said Gould, an ophthalmologist. "People become overweight because they overeat regularly. Some people eat from compulsion."

Eat, Drink and Be Content Is Doctor's Motto

We eat for pleasure... This is verging on the arts.

"I think we need to transport ourselves occasionally to a more gracious age. A fine meal with fine wine is one of the most tranquilizing of occasions."

"An intermittent feast never hurt anybody. But this is like anything else, always in moderation."

"I weigh 175 pounds. That's also what I weighed when I got out of high school. A wonderful meal doesn't have to be loaded with calories."

STARTS WITH 10

The Physicians' Wine Appreciation Society was founded in New York in the early fall of 1961 when Gould, who had developed a palate from travels overseas with the military, got together with nine other physicians similarly interested in study and enjoyment of wine and food.

"Each of us was to proselytize another 10 doctors," he laughed. "At the first meeting, a champagne tasting, we had 100."

Today, the New York Society has 200 physician-members; Boston and Miami, 100 each, he said.

The New York group, which Gould said represents "the whole cross-section of medicine and all age groups, holds a monthly wine tasting."

Importers furnish them the beverage; a small fee for membership covers cost of hotel or restaurant facilities. Then, there's a monthly dinner, sometimes staff, sometimes with the wives invited.

Gould said a burgundy tasting is scheduled for January. There will be a Chinese New Year dinner with Chinese foods of course, and in May, a visit to the cognac and champagne country of France.

About 30 members of the group will be guests of the Vin France Society, and will be initiated into France's medical wine society, a similar but centuries-old group.

Gould, a native of Boston, majored in English at Columbia University, went on to study medicine at the university's college of physicians and surgeons, interned at Bellevue Hospital, and then spent four years in the Air Force as a flight surgeon.

Most of those four years he was based with the 3rd Air Force near London. "There was a lot of hopping around the NATO capitals," he said.

"Then, as an exchange surgeon with the British RAF, I traveled all over the Middle East and on down to Singapore."

From tasting numerous cuisines, "it became a challenge to become more knowledgeable about them," he said. His wife Kathleen, a graduate of Barnard College, New York, developed a similar interest from their trips together when he was on leave.

She now is compiling a cookbook from her research and recipe collections.

When Dr. Gould left the service in 1959, he returned to New York to specialize in ophthalmology, the treatment of defects and a disease of the eye.

He is on the staff of Manhattan Eye Ear and Throat Hospital, the faculty of the New York State University, and has a private practice.

The Goulds have four children ranging in age from 1 year to 5 1/2 years. Both the Goulds are excellent cooks and Saturday night usually is the one they devote to gustatory dining at home, with friends in.

"It is about the only evening I have free," said the busy physician. "Lunch usually is a ham sandwich and milk. Or nothing. I believe if you don't have time to eat, don't eat."

MEDICAL MIRROR

Cervical Ulcer - Cauterization

Q. What causes a cervical ulcer after childbirth? What is meant by cauterization?

A. The cervix or neck of the womb is stretched and thinned during delivery. There may be some tearing. A stitch or two may be required but small tears usually heal without help. If the damaged tissue doesn't heal, an ulcer can form and, if infection sets in, the condition becomes chronic. Childbirth isn't the only cause of cervical ulcer (or "erosion"). Single women may experience it, just as anyone can develop a sore area in the throat or oral ulcer in the nose. Usually, medicine applied to the ulcer is not very successful, in which case the doctor cauterizes ("burns") or surgically removes the ulcer to allow regrowth of new, healthy tissue.

Carbonated Drinks

Q. My husband often drinks six large bottles of "pop" in a day. Could he get diabetes from consuming so much sugar?

A. Consumption of sugar in more-than-needed amounts will not in itself cause diabetes. However, if one has a tendency toward diabetes it might cause the symptoms of the disease to become more readily apparent.

Bus Company Hits New Low

Blame Fewer Runs for Holiday Shoppers

Pontiac Transit Corp. last month recorded its lowest November bus passenger total since its first year of operation in Pontiac.

There were 76,549 bus riders in Pontiac last month, a drop of 1,339 from 77,929 in November, 1961.

In November 1960, the company's first year, the total was 74,506.

The decline, according to Glen Crawford, manager, was due mainly to rescheduling of night bus runs.

At this time last year, several buses ran continuously until 9 p.m. every night handling Christmas shopping traffic. This year, the buses run that late only on Monday, Thursday and Friday.

Patronage in October was 80,367. The decline between October and November is normal since the latter month has one less day and a holiday.

Buses drove some 38,857 miles last month and used 6,652 gallons of gasoline.

Will Receive Reward for Tip to FBI

NEW YORK (AP) — Albert F. Nussbaum's mother-in-law, whose tip to the FBI led to his capture on bank robbery charges, will receive a $10,000 reward from Reader's Digest for information leading to the capture of Nussbaum's alleged partner, Bobby Randall Wilcoxson.

The magazine said Sunday it decided to award the money to Mrs. Alice Majchrowicz after authorities reported that leads supplied by Nussbaum led to Wilcoxson's capture.

Mrs. Majchrowicz, in a letter to Reader's Digest, said she had read in last July's issue that the magazine promised $10,000 to the "person or persons who supply information leading to the capture of Bobby Wilcoxson."

The promise of the reward influenced her to give the FBI information she had concerning Nussbaum, she said.

"It was necessary for me to consider the welfare of my daughter and grandchild," she said.

Many Believe State's Business Climate Looking Up

(Editor's Note — Do Michigan businessmen feel that the election of a Republican governor will have any immediate effect on the state's business climate? The Associated Press and member newspapers went to the businessmen for their answers.)

By A. F. MAHAN

Associated Press Staff Writer

As governor, George Romney will improve Michigan's so-called business climate in the opinion of a majority of businessmen interviewed in a statewide sampling.

On the other hand, an Upper Peninsula executive expressed the opinion of many when he said: "We don't expect he'll achieve any wonders."

TO TAKE TIME

Some expressed the view it will take time for Romney to get his team together and working, and there likely will be little evidence of a climate change in the first quarter of the new year.

A few thought a change already could be felt, although Romney hadn't yet taken office.

Some businessmen surveyed by the Associated Press and its Michigan member newspapers felt that a Democratic State Administrative Board, elected along with Republican Romney, might counterbalance any climate improving program advocated by the new governor.

Republicans and Democrats have engaged in many verbal battles in recent years over the state's so-called business climate.

IT IS . . . IT ISN'T
Republicans argued that Democratic administrations in Lansing over the last 14 years had been cold, if not downright frigid to legislation favorable to business, and at the same time had stacked some agencies in favor of organized labor.

They also argued Michigan's business taxes exceeded those of competing neighbors.

Democrats argued it wasn't so, that Republicans wanted business favored over people. They also blamed the Senate's Republican majority for killing in 1962 a fiscal reform program submitted by Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson and in many ways paralleling one advocated by Romney in his campaign.

Both programs would lighten some major business taxes and impose an income tax on individuals.

Each party has blamed the other for financial ills which beset the state and for a tax structure which both agree is antiquated.

Editor James M. Ripley of the Menominee Herald-Leader reported businessmen in that Upper Peninsula city expect a favorable reaction in the business climate because the governor is businessman George Romney, not so much because he is a Republican.

(Romney resigned as chairman and president of American Motors Corp. to run for governor.)

A DOUBLE QUESTION

Asked this double-barreled question, "Do you feel that the election of a Republican governor will have an immediate effect on the state business climate? If so, will the reaction be favorable?" Fredrik Marin, president of the Bank of Lansing, replied:

"I think it will, yes. In fact, I think the feeling is favorable now, even though he hasn't taken office yet."

Ned A. Kilmer Jr., executive vice president of the City Bank & Trust Co. at Jackson, said much will depend upon Romney's "ability to sell the conservative wing of the Legislature . . . and this appears questionable."

LOOKS FAVORABLE
Robert H. Holmes, president of Travis W. Pearce, president of the National Bank of Jackson, said he believes businessmen feel Romney's election "will have a salutary effect on the Michigan business climate," and added:

"I do not think anyone believes that he can immediately correct all the problems facing the state, but all the reactions that I have had from businessmen, both in Michigan and outside, have been favorable."

Aaron J. Pearlman, Battle Creek city commissioner and jewelry store owner, said he believes Romney's election will have a favorable reaction on the business climate, "and I think industry will want to do everything possible to assist the new governor."

Lawrence L. Kitchen, president of the Credit Bureau of Battle Creek, said: "For the first time in 14 years we have a new party which brings into effect new principles, and with Romney brings in a better business atmosphere . . . The business administrative division of the state's economy is basically Republican and should get behind (him) by doing capital improvements."

LOOKS FAVORABLE
Robert H. Holmes, president of a Battle Creek automobile agency, said: "I think it looks favorable with a man of Romney's business stature elected governor. He has clearly demonstrated he is going to be a governor of all the people."

Whether Romney's election will have a favorable effect on the business climate "depends on the amount of cooperation he gets from the legislature," in the opinion of Hubert B. Bates, president of the American Bank and Trust Co. of Lansing.

This same suggestion appeared time and again from all areas of the state.

An economic adviser to a Saginaw banker, who declined use of his name, said: "Mr. Romney understands the businessman's problems and there is a general feeling of improved confidence because of his election."

Business writer Kenneth L. Peterson of the Flint Journal found a belief among Flint businessmen that "a business-like governor should be good for the state" and a hope for a reduction in taxes which they consider detrimental to business.

The Grand Rapids Press reported that businessmen in its city view Romney's election as "certainly a plus factor," and consider him "the man needed to straighten out Michigan's financial picture."

E. L. Pearce, president of the Union National Bank of Marquette, said he thinks there will be "a better climate in Lansing and that Romney 'will try to bring about a coalition government.' Fellow Marquette banker S. M. Cohodas said: "I feel we're going to have a good business administration."

All in all, John H. Carlton, president of the Wolverine Insurance Co. of Battle Creek, summed up best the majority consensus thus: "It is my opinion that the election of George Romney will have a favorable effect upon the business climate of this state. I am sure that programs will be submitted which will result in a more favorable tax picture as far as industry is concerned, and that if we get the state's economic picture straightened out that business will look more favorably upon moving to Michigan and staying here."

Initial reports on the new traffic control system which went into effect on a portion of West Huron Street Friday, indicated the new setup is a glowing success.

Left turn lanes were installed in the center lane and parking prohibited on the south curb of West Huron between Murphy Street and Osceola Drive.

Observers reported traffic jams were reduced considerably, said David S. Teel, assistant city manager.

Traffic moved with much more ease with the new system and the flow in and out of the main postoffice was much smoother," he said.

The center turn lanes were installed to help solve a traffic congestion problem created by vehicles turning into the post office and at several other heavy-turn intersections.

BIG TAX SAVINGS!

Enjoy the Best for Less

It's smart to serve the best and save, too

Outstanding in quality! McMaster's 6 year old 100% Canadian Whisky and 100% Scotch Whisky are each skillfully distilled and fully matured in their native lands . . . They are light, mellow, and full flavored . . . delightful straight or mixed.

Why do these fine whiskies cost so much less?

Scotch and Canadian Whiskies, bottled abroad, are imported in cases. The import duties and Federal excise taxes must be paid on a minimum of 100 proof . . . even though they are actually less than 100 proof.

We import fine McMaster's Whiskies in barrels at 100 proof or more and we pay the duty and excise taxes only on the actual proof. Then, just as they do in Canada and Scotland, we reduce the proof under careful supervision.

This substantial tax savings is passed on to you. If these fine whiskies were bottled abroad, they would cost you far more.

You can't buy finer imported Scotch or Canadian Whisky than McMaster's . . . WHY PAY MORE?

Solution May Take Long Time Work

Handwriting Is Key to Spelling Problem

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
Many seemingly unrelated school problems can be traced to poor handwriting. For instance, this recent letter:

Dear Dr. Nason:
I have had two years of college but had a lot of trouble with my work during that time due to my poor spelling. I took a course in spelling but it was just large words and did not correct the trouble I seem to have. I cannot spell the simplest words. Can you DR. NASON help me?

A. F. Albany, Ore.
Misspelling simple words is often due to concentration on what you are writing and the lack of ability to write easily. You can correct this through a program of your own.

Try writing a page of material each evening about something you have done during the day. Go back over what you have written looking for misspelled words.

Now, rewrite the page, trying to improve your handwriting as well as spell the words correctly. Don't give up too quickly. If it takes three months it still is worth the effort.

Dear Dr. Nason:
Our son was kept back in first grade. The teacher said he was immature. We took him to a clinic — his intelligence was normal — his age.

His reading isn't good and all he thinks about is getting home to play. Is there anything we can do to interest him in school?

Mrs. A. V., Northfield, N.J.
Your son may be a late bloomer, in which case he should remain an extra year in the first grade. But you can help him grow up during this year.

Insist that he learn to listen and follow directions.

Provide him with plenty of materials so that part of his play time will be taken up with drawing pictures and other manipulative projects or activities.

Dear Dr. Nason:
Would you recommend the use of a tape recorder? My husband is attending college and I thought I could help him by making tapes of articles he is supposed to read and study.

Then he can play back these tapes and listen to them while relaxing, thereby eliminating eye strain and helping him to do other things with the time he would have spent reading.

F. R., New York
Your husband should be able to read five times as fast as you would speak in recording the materials. Thus, he would lose time instead of saving it.

★ ★ ★
A better solution would be to improve his reading skills. He should learn to study what he is reading, concentrating all of his thought power on the task. He should reserve his relaxing until the studying is completed.

★ ★ ★
(Dr. Nason will welcome your question addressed to him in care of this newspaper. Those of most general interest will be answered in his column.)

Construction Company Allows for On-Lookers

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk superintendents can gawk at their hearts' content at a skyscraper rising on Sixth Avenue here.

Builders have erected a block-long transparent fence of plastic glass at the site to offer an unimpeded view of the construction activities.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

The New California Bridge Digest has made its appearance and will probably be here to stay. In the October issue

Edwin Kantar, one of our best bridge writers and analysts, gives several interesting problems in play. All of them illustrate the need to plan your play at trick one. These are to be used for this week's series.

South's first impulse is to play dummy's queen of clubs on West's jack. West might have led from king-jack-ten.

A little thought tells South that his correct play is to duck that jack of clubs in both hands. West has made a vulnerable overcall. Surely he holds both missing aces and South wants to make sure that East can't get the lead.

After ducking, South has no more trouble. He wins the next club and draws trumps. Then he leads a diamond.

West takes his ace, but has no way to keep South from discarding one of dummy's spades on a high diamond and knocking up with only one spade loser.

Had West held the king of clubs and East the ace of diamonds South would have lost a hand that he could have made. But the chances were much greater to find the cards as they actually were.

California to Sound Horns Marking Population

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California's emergence as the most populous state.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, fresh from an election victory, proclaimed four days of celebration starting Dec. 29.

The mighty din is proposed by the Chamber of Commerce Managers Association to salute California's high rank in agriculture, industry, education, the arts, social progress, water development, recreation, national defense and the space effort.

Actually, Brown says, California passed New York about Thanksgiving. New York and the Federal Bureau of Census say it won't happen until spring.

California is adding 600,000 people a year, more than twice as many as arrived during 10 years after the discovery of gold in 1948. Economic opportunity is still the lure, although the climate, scenery, and informal way of life are factors.

The newest gold mines are defense plant payrolls, with California getting one fourth of the national defense expenditure. Personal income is above national average, and unemployment below the average.

Of the total annual population increase, about 250,000 are accounted for by an excess of births over deaths.

The current immigration is concentrated in the 20-34 age group. California has never received an undue proportion of older immigrants. For years the biggest problem has been finding school-rooms for the new children. The new crisis is building college classrooms for an enrollment expected to increase from the present 400,000 to 765,000 by 1975.

Experts predict the state's population will be 25 million by 1975, 40 million by 2000.

When California became a state in 1850, there were between 140,000 and 165,000 inhabitants. The first census in 1860 showed 379,994.

Of those who came in the gold rush, nearly 33 per cent were foreign-born, and one quarter of those were Chinese. By 1930 Japanese were the largest minority group, but there were soon outnumbered by Negroes.

The 1960 census showed 883,861 Negroes, 157,314 Japanese, and 96,600 Chinese.

There are even more Mexican-Americans in California, although the exact number is obscure.

WHITE PERSONS

They objected to being listed as a racial group in census reports, and the bureau now calls them "white persons of Spanish surnames." There were 695,643 such in Los Angeles County alone in 1960.

The number of children with Spanish surnames in California's public schools increased 87.6 per cent during the 1950s.

The gold rush made San Francisco the metropolis. By 1870 it had 150,000 citizens, 10 times the number in Los Angeles.

The Southern city has grown faster ever since, passed San Francisco in the 1910 census, and soon will be 10 times its size.

The fastest growing areas now are Orange County, south of Los Angeles, and Santa Clara County, south of San Francisco.

While defense plants provide most new jobs, agriculture remains the No. 1 industry. California farmers produce more than 200 crops worth $3 billion a year, and do it with fewer people and more machines every year.

Farm production is more than keeping up with population growth. In fact, farmers must hold down output to avoid surpluses and are looking for bigger overseas markets.

The $1.75 billion state water plan, just under way, will bring thousands more acres into production by 1970.

When will the boom end? Experts say people will stop moving to California when the economic opportunity is no better here than elsewhere, and the areas of pleasant climate are full.

Book in Italian Bows

MILAN, Italy (AP)—American author Irving Stone has introduced a book titled "Il Tormento di T'Estasi" to be published in Italy by Dall'Oglio. It is an Italian translation of his 1961 biography of Michelangelo, "The Agony and the Ecstasy."

Tourist Bound to Be Surprised

Don't Expect Too Much From Moscow

By BOB CONSIDINE
MOSCOW — If you plan a visit to Moscow, keep in mind the following:
* * *
You'll never see a dog or a cat. Man's best friend in the U.S.S.R. as any fool knows is the state. You'll never hear a church bell peal. "As it is well known," a pretty girl from Intourist, the official tourist agency, once said, "We had too many churches."

You'll never hear English spoken. We are CONSIDINE told that 10 million Russians can now speak English. But apparently none has gone to work in hotels, shops, subways, taxis or theaters.

You'll not be permitted to wear an overcoat or heavy wrap into any indoor public function, no matter how cold the joint is. Apparently, in the early days after the revolution, somebody pulled a gun out from under a greatcoat, at a concert, and plugged a commissar.

If you leave a call for 8 a.m., the operator will call about 8:30 and say, brisly, "Good morning. Get up!" Then she'll hang up.

Don't ask for a telephone book. There aren't any. Nobody in Russia wants anybody else to know his number.

Don't try to talk to a Russian about the Cuban crisis. He knew nothing about it until it was over. Then he was told that his glorious leader, N. S. Khrushchev, had narrowly and nobly kept the U.S. from plunging the world into nuclear war.

DON'T MISS CHICKEN

Don't miss the Chicken Kiev at the National Hotel. Outside of grapefruit, it's the only dish capable of striking back at a knife wielder.

Don't eat at the Moscow Hotel, a huge dreary pile built mainly for visiting Russians, unless you're prepared to pay for your meal before you sit down. It's a rule, comrade.

If you like lettuce, tomatoes, any kind of fruit juice, milk, coke, rye, bourbon, scotch, gin, face tissues, good soap, American cigarettes and American reading matter, bring your own.

Never tip a waiter... while anybody's looking at him.

You'll seldom see a plane flying over Moscow, nor a pedestrian walking across Red Square.

If you like a dry beer, stay home. There's apparently some hidden Soviet law which states that a cup of sugar must be added to each bottle of Russian brew. But what else can they do with the stuff Castro sends them?

BRING OWN GAS

If you drive your car to Moscow, which would make you some kind of a nut, bring along either a good memory or a trailer filled with gas.

There are only two gas stations in Moscow open to civilians. All one of them you are asked to pour your own, out of a can.

If you draw an Intourist guide named Valentine, stay at the airport and take the next plane out. If you draw him and don't get his name until you get to town, a challenge him to a game of Russian roulette. You'll win even if you lose.

You'll see some of the most beautiful and best-behaved children in the world — plump, rosy-jawed and friendly. But their parents will be too frightened to invite you into their homes.

You'll not be hearing the comforting ring of a cash register. Even the big hotels and many of the stores still use the prehistoric abacus.

Don't ask anybody whatever became of Bulganin, Molotov, Marshal Zhukov, ex-Premier Malenkov.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Arms control is the subject of a four-day symposium opening today under the sponsorship of the University of Michigan and the Bendix Systems Division of Bendix Corp.

Featured speakers were to include Sen. Herbert Humphrey, D-Minn., Victor Karpov, first secretary of the Soviet embassy, and Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers.

Nicaragua Leader: 'Invade Cuba Now'

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — The President of Nicaragua said last night he "will not tolerate a Communist government in Cuba."

President Louis A. Somoza Debayle said his government has made it clear "that we should do something in agreement with the 800, other Latin American nations to form some sort of organization to overthrow and invade Cuba and to liquidate this situation right now."

Speaking on the Manion Radio Forum, Debayle called for immediate action towards a Cuban invasion under sanction of the Organization of American States.

Impaneling Problems

Seek Jury Commission

A proposal to establish a commission system of selecting prospective jurors for Oakland County Circuit Court trials is getting renewed attention following last week's acute juror shortage.

State legislation enabling the county to establish a three-man jury commission has been passed at the county's request, but the County Board of Supervisors has not taken action to put it into effect.

In the jury commission system, jurors are screened beforehand by the commission members so that when a panel is called for a jury term, most of them will be able to serve.

Of 135 summoned for the current term, only 71 survived screening by the presiding judge.

Under state law, prospective jurors can be excused whenever their interests "will be materially injured."

County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy says that a jury commission also would begin with a larger pool of jurors, since it would draw its prospects from voter registration lists rather than the tax assessment rolls now used by township and city clerks in submitting jury lists.

"WOULD BE EASIER"

Even when a shortage developed, it would be easier to summon additional jurors under a jury commission, Murphy added.

Township supervisors from rural areas in the county have opposed establishment of a jury commission as unnecessary even though they have admitted they don't have the means to examine prospective jurors as required by law.

The law says they must be examined to determine whether they are "in possession of their natural faculties, and not infirm or decrepit, of good character, of approved integrity . . ."

Persons over 70 years of age and those who served as jurors during the previous year are ineligible.

The examining would be done by a three-man commission if established.

Under the existing system, the county clerk collects the jury lists from the townships and cities and calls about a fifth of the total for each jury term of the year. Examining is then done by the presiding judge.

Pleas for a jury commission were ringing about the County Courthouse Friday after failure for the second day in a row to impanel a jury for the trial of three men on kidnapping and robbery charges.

Another 50 prospective jurors from throughout the county were ordered by Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem to be summoned to appear when proceedings resume tomorrow morning.

Judge Ziem's action came after 19 additional jurors who appeared in response to Thursday's hasty call for 50 more were not enough to survive peremptory challenges by defense attorneys.

Murphy, who is responsible for rounding up more jurors when needed, claims the problem might not have arisen if the county had a jury commission.

Sheriff's deputies went far in the night delivering jury subpoenas to the 50 or more ordered by Judge Ziem Thursday and 50 more ordered Tuesday by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Judge Adams ran out of jurors in the trial of three Pontiac men for the July 30 robbery and slaying of Pontiac grocer Effimias Vasilou, because of peremptory challenges by defense attorneys.

Judge Ziem said the problem had not developed in more than 50 years.

Largely responsible for the trouble is that defendants charging with crimes carrying a maximum penalty of life imprisonment are entitled to 20 peremptory challenges each.

In the trial before Judge Ziem—of Joseph Loncar, 35, and James E. Wilson, 27, both of Lincoln Park, and Joseph Welch, 36, of Hazel Park—only 34 of the possible 60 such challenges have been used so far.

Because of the delays caused by the jury shortages, some defendants awaiting trials in other cases will be obliged to wait until the next jury term in February to go on trial.

The three defendants on trial before Judge Ziem are accused of kidnapping J. J. Levy of Royal Oak, owner of the Oakland County Gas and Oil Co., and its 17 service stations, and taking him at gunpoint to his main station and forcing him to open a safe.

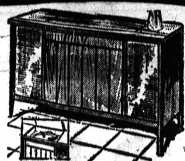

Told of JFK Remark

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Polish Communist newspapers told their readers over the weekend that President Kennedy at his most recent news conference spoke against "the boycott of imported Polish hand carried out by some extreme reactionary organizations in America." They omitted Kennedy's remark that such boycotts harass merchants and are not nearly as effective against Communism as helping the Alliance for Progress or the Peace Corps.

Subdue Rebels in Borneo Areas

British Report 2 Main Centers Closed

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (U)—Armed rebels have been cleared from main centers of Brunei and northeastern Sarawak, a British military spokesman said today.

The spokesman said some rebel concentrations still were reported in several areas.

One group of insurgents was estimated to be 200 strong.

A sizeable rebel force was reported on the Sarawak Coast just inside the border with Brunei. British troops and jungle tribesmen killed six of the insurgents there yesterday and captured more than 100.

The spokesman said aircraft equipped with loudspeakers were flying continuous sorties calling on rebels in hiding to surrender. Jets also are continuing low-level buzzing missions over rebel hideouts and appear to have been successful in demoralizing a number of insurgents who have never seen a modern jet aircraft.

The spokesman said the jets are not firing.

Brig. Jock Glennie, Commander of British field forces in the Brunei operations, and Sir Dennis White, British high commissioner in Borneo, arrived at Labuan, North Borneo, today for talks with military and civil officials.

Sir Dennis said all was quiet in Brunei Town except for sniping at night. A dusk-to-dawn curfew will continue, he added.

Britain meanwhile named as head of its expeditionary forces in Brunei Maj. Gen. W. C. Walker, who once masterminded the organization and training of Malaysian forces in their 12-year war against Communist terrorists. He will replace Brig. Glennie.

Ranchers Tell U.S. It Can't Have Records

MOUND CITY, S.D. (UPI)—Determined ranchers have told the federal government it cannot have the embattled Department of Agriculture records in this county seat town of 177 people because it waited too long to act.

Mound City, which fears loss of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office to neighboring, larger Horrell may eventually lead to loss of the coveted courthouse, has been feuding with the government for months over the records.

In a brief filed in U.S. District Court and released Saturday, attorney Morris Myers said the Agriculture Department had forfeited its claim to the disputed records located in a sandbagged building here because it made no claim to the property during the past year.

Myers denied a charge by the Justice Department that the Mound City Development Corp., the owner of the building, was holding federal property illegally.

The Justice Department said two weeks ago it would send marshals to remove the records with force. But after the farmers rallied in resistance to the threat, the plan was called off and a court order sought instead.

Sees 10 Pct. Hike in Auto Insurance

DETROIT (U)—State Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn predicts that Michigan auto owners can look forward to a 10 per cent increase in auto liability insurance.

Colburn said the increase would raise the yearly cost of auto liability insurance by about five dollars from the present $50 average.

The increase, he said, would reflect a rise in costs paid by insurance companies to settle liability claims.

Revolution in Mental Treatment Is Beginning to Spread

(Editor's Note — New and encouraging treatments for the mentally ill today are replacing the centuries-old idea of hiding victims behind asylum walls. Here, in the first of five special reports, is a look at what's been done to heal those who run into emotional buzz saws.)

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK — Just before midnight one December evening, his emotional pain became too intense.

And so a middle-aged man exploded into a shouting volcano of rage, then surrendered to helpless sobbing.

By taxi, his wife took him to a new kind of hospital clinic offering emergency first aid—24 hours a day—for emotional injury, a kind of mental accident ward.

Across the city, worried parents discussed their son, a bright boy of 12 who was inexplicably failing in school, and decided to take him to a mental health clinic.

In a suburb, a family doctor arranged for a young mother to enter a nearby general hospital, treated as readily as the hospital direct physical sickness.

DIRECT ACTION

The man, the boy and the woman had two things in common.

Each had run into an emotional buzz saw, and it hurt.

But each lived in communities offering new or expanding facilities to treat, cure or prevent mental and emotional illnesses.

At the emergency clinic, the man of 50 was given a tranquilizer, and he talked with a psychiatrist, learning that his feelings of frustration and depression were not uncommon, taking the first step toward understanding and dealing with his problems.

At the mental health clinic, specialists began helping the boy and his parents understand their own attitudes and family relationships which were prompting the boy into rebellion because he felt he was being treated unfairly.

At the general hospital, the young mother began treatment to overcome the deepening depression shattering her life. Having her family nearby would also aid her quicker return home.

These are a few of the elements in a heartening change of climate regarding mental illness, the nation's No. 1 disease in number of victims.

The change is sweeping through state mental hospitals. Once they were mainly dour, lock-away jails for "the insane." Today, the best hospitals are sending the vast majority of newly admitted patients back to home and health.

Generating the winds of change are drugs, intensive psychotherapy, increased hospital staffs, earlier treatment, a variety of new community facilities and more enlightened public understanding and interest. Now there are sound prospects for preventing much mental illness.

SOME AREAS LAG

Pioneers are marking the way. But across the land, the record is spotty, with many states, counties and cities lagging behind. The challenges are enormous.

and a crisis looms unless, far more widespread action is taken. Philip E. Ryan, executive director of the National Association for Mental Health warns.

Mental patients fill half the nation's hospital beds. One in 10 Americans is mentally ill in mild to severe degree.

One survey indicates four out of five city dwellers have some symptoms of emotional disturbances, and the rate could be as high in rural areas. Ten per cent of public school children are estimated to be emotionally disturbed, in need of help.

The tempo and stresses of modern life may play a role. What goes wrong? Dr. William Menninger of the renowned Menninger Clinic in Topeka, Kan., puts it this way:

Everyone sooner or later runs into some emotional buzz saw. And it's painful. The trouble may involve job, marriage, family, school, a tragedy, approaching retirement, failure to achieve goals, something arousing fear, anxieties, doubts, anger, depression or other deep emotional reactions.

Many of us manage to handle these problems, adapting and maintaining balance.

MANY OUTLETS

But millions become upset, seeing the world slightly out of focus. Many get ulcers or other physical pains and disease.

Many turn to drink, to drugs, to bizarre behavior, to anger, to circular worrying over the same old problems.

Other millions break down completely, retreating into some private world, with severe illness.

There is no single cause of mental illness, authorities agree. "None of us is always perfectly healthy mentally," Dr. Menninger says. "Each of us has emotional quirks and problems. We can only approach mental health, and then we run against a buzz saw, we aren't quite as mentally healthy as we were, and may again become."

Of all illnesses, says Dr. Menninger, mental illness has the highest recovery rate, with a big if—the person receives prompt, skilled care.

Where once there was a pervading sense of hopelessness concerning mental illness, now there is a ferment and eagerness that the problems can be solved, says Dr. Robert H. Felix, director of action.

the National Institute of Mental Health.

"I feel that perhaps the sun has come up and we are in the very early morning hours, at least, of a new day in the field of the mentally ill," he declares.

There are solid foundations for optimism.

Norstad to Direct Satellite System

PARIS (UPI) — U.S. Air Force Gen. Lauris Norstad will direct the United States' new space satellite system after he retires as supreme allied commander in Europe, informed sources said yesterday.

The sources said Philip L. Graham, president of the Washington Post and chairman of the board which set up the system, persuaded the 55-year-old Norstad to take the job.

Norstad had been scheduled to leave the NATO post Oct. 1 but stayed on because of the Cuban crisis.

Screwy '62 Ending as Reds, U.S. Smile, Allies Glower

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — Things look upside down and wrong side up as 1962 slithers toward a close in this dizzy world where mankind has been its own worst enemy.

Soviet troops in Cuba may be more lethal than danger, at least temporarily.

And U.S. allies may be worried because American-Russian relations suddenly seem better but MARLOW for the worst reasons.

Russia, in addition to medium and intermediate range missiles which she meekly withdrew under American pressure, gave Fidel Castro other weapons.

ANOTHER PURPOSE

The Russian troops sticking around, perhaps to handle those other weapons in the very unlikely case of an American invasion, may be serving another purpose which benefits the United States.

They may be also keeping the Soviet weapons out of the hands of Castro's unpredictability, particularly if they're the kind which could be used against the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

An attack on that base would really put the fat in the fire, for then the United States would probably feel compelled to invade.

And if that happened Premier Khrushchev would probably feel compelled to go to Cuba's assistance—unless he washed his hands of Castro altogether—and then all the fat there is would be in the fire.

SET REDS LOOSE

It was Khrushchev's withdrawal of his missiles that set the Red Chinese loose in their worst burst of vituperation against the Russians. Khrushchev has replied in kind.

At this moment no one seems to know, and this includes the Russians and Chinese, whether the Red allies will split and then split the Communist world or somehow continue to do business while loathing each other in public.

For sheer hypocrisy and deceit, nothing since World War II matched the Soviet attempt to put missiles in Cuba, aimed at the United States while insisting they were strictly defensive.

Once the scheme was discovered and Khrushchev backed down, relations between the United States and Russia became, if not downright cordial, at least amazingly nonhostile.

'PRO-AMERICAN'

Last week before the Soviet parliament the Russian leaders, from Khrushchev down, were so pleasant about the United States that in Paris the speech of Foreign Secretary Andrei Gromyko was regarded as "virtually pro-American."

It's too soon to say whether the purgation of the spirit which the two foes endured in the Cuban crisis has created an era of new and better relations between the United States and Russia.

But Sunday French officials said they understood President de Gaulle, at his meeting with British Prime Minister Macmillan, expressed concern at the possibility a special American-Soviet relationship might be developing.

This may seem an odd reaction since de Gaulle has hoped for a new and better relationship between Russia and the West to assure a long period of peace for Europe.

HIT 'HOT LINE'

The most dramatic sign of a Washington-Moscow understanding, as de Gaulle was said to see it, lay in the plan, endorsed by President Kennedy, for a so-called hot line between the White House and the Kremlin.

The idea behind such fast communication would be to lessen the chance of accidental nuclear war. To this extent Paris endorses it.

But some French authorities fear this kind of direct tie might lead to direct political exchanges between the United States and Russia, making them both less concerned about Europe, particularly France and Britain.

All these things are bits of unfinished business, unimagined at the start of 1962, as the old year drizzles out.

Mariner II's in Eternal Orbit Around Sun

Launch Explorer XVI for Intensive Meteoroid Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new U.S. satellite whirled in orbit a hundred miles above the earth today while Mariner 2—still flashing signals—speeds millions of miles from earth toward eternal orbit around the sun.

But a third satellite, Relay, which was to take the place of the now silent Telstar, wasn't performing properly.

The new satellite, dubbed Explorer XVI, sped aloft Sunday from the Wallops Island, Va., test station of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Space agency officials said it reached an orbit varying from 466 to 733 miles above earth and its "telemetry and experiments appear to be operating satisfactorily."

MAIN MISSION OF EXPLORER XVI is to find out more about what meteoroids—tiny bits of solid matter—that whiz through space—do to space vehicles and solar cells.

Mariner 2, which took a 42-minute electronic look at Venus Friday, was still faithfully reporting Sunday as it headed into orbit around the sun. The U.S. space craft journeyed 109 days through space to give earthbound scientists their closest contact with Venus.

Mariner 2 passed within 21,100 miles of Venus Friday. It was 650,000 miles beyond Venus and 27 million miles from earth Sunday.

Attempts to get the partially crippled Relay's equipment working Saturday failed and NASA officials said further efforts would be postponed indefinitely.

Relay has enough power to operate its telemetry equipment, but not enough for its main function—receiving and transmitting communications. Scientists hope Relay's solar cells eventually will build up enough power to enable it to operate as planned.

The meteoroids which Explorer XVI was sent to examine may be remnants of exploded planets which revolve around the sun.

These minute bits of space material can hit a satellite with velocities of 7 to 45 miles per second.

The satellite, measuring 24 inches in diameter and 74 inches in length, is built around the motor casing of the fourth stage of the Scout rocket that carried it aloft.

Red N. Korea Asks Build-Up

TOKYO (UPI)—The leaders of Communist North Korea have ordered a build-up of the nation's armed forces even if it means a cutback in economic development programs, it was announced today.

The reason given for the build-up order was the alleged "grave situation" created in Asia by American "war provocations," according to Pyongyang Radio, monitored in Tokyo.

However, there was a broad hint that it might be in connection with possible renewed—and expanded—hostilities along the Sino-Indian border.

The build-up order was disclosed by the Communist radio in its broadcast of an official summary of decisions taken during a just-completed meeting of the nation's top policy-making body, the central committee of the Korean Worker's (Communist) party.

Presiding over the meeting was the man who started the Korean War, Central Committee Chairman and Prime Minister Kim Il Sung.

The best available information put the size of the North Korean army forces at about 450,000 with a sizable militia force also available. U.S. military sources described the North Korean army as "well equipped and well trained."

Expense Account Pinch

Tax Crackdown Closing Clubs

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD—Ben Blue put on one of his funniest shows at his Santa Monica night club. Then he stepped in front of the curtain and announced the place was closing.

Thus marked the end of the five-year career of Ben Blue's nitty. "You might call it 'death of a fun salesman,'" said the poker-faced comic with grim humor.

Romanoff's ends its 23-year history this month, and Blue predicts that that many more class restaurants and night spots will follow. He cites this cause: The government's crackdown on expense-account spending.

"Much of our business came from big industry—aircraft, missiles, etc.—that would bring their friends and clients in for entertainment," he said. "We also got a lot of tourists who were in town on expense accounts. We can't depend on the local people for patronage."

"I closed down the place last spring because it was in need of redecoration," he said. "I spent $40,000 to make it over and then I went on the road and played Las Vegas, Reno and other spots while the work was being done."

"We opened up in September and business was not as good as it had been. I couldn't figure out why we couldn't build up the business. Then I realized that the credit-card clientele had fallen off. I tried to keep the place going, but I couldn't make it."

"So we're closing up," he said, "and that means throwing 82 people out of work, including 16 entertainers. I don't know what my plans will be now."

Fortunately for Blue, he is a name entertainer who can work in any medium, but he predicts bistro owners.

Bob Cobb, operator of the famed Brown Derby restaurants, agrees that the Treasury Department edicts are going to be tough on the business.

"We started feeling it immediately after President Kennedy made the first announcement about the tightening of expense-account deductions," said Cobb. "It's bound to hurt any restaurant that caters to the class clientele."

"Our situation at the derbies is not critical now," he added. "But any time you lose a particular clientele, it can become critical. Fortunately we can pick up a large amount of tourist trade. But even this is largely expense-account business."

Herter Talks About Trade

Says Common Market Showing Nationalism

WASHINGTON (AP)—Christian A. Herter, named last month to command historic U.S. trade negotiations, sees a "very disquieting" trend toward protectionism in the European Common Market.

President Kennedy appointed the 67-year-old Republican to the key role in directing negotiations under the sweeping trade expansion measure passed by the last Congress. His official title is special representative for trade negotiations.

Herter, appearing yesterday on a taped television interview program, was asked whether the six-nation Common Market "shows developing signs of a new kind of European nationalism or protectionism."

"Yes, I feel these signs are very disquieting," said Herter. "They certainly imply an attitude of mind which is going to make any type of negotiations between ourselves and those countries, through the instrumentality of the Common Market, much more difficult."

The Trade Act authorizes—through negotiations—50 percent reductions in most tariffs and elimination of those that are chiefly involved in trade between the United States and the Common Market (France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands).

"I'm hoping that we can surmount what seems to be growing obstacles," said Herter, "in the process we've got to realize that our role is one of trying to achieve a partnership, which means a reciprocal relationship... not that we are trying to seek something. The others have something to seek from us of equal importance."

puts Bite on Policeman

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—Rahamin Rejwan was sentenced to 18 months in jail yesterday for biting a policeman on the leg when the officer tried to stop him from beating his wife.

While driving his car, Mr. Pralle, Hit a cop on his head near the jail. The cop said "You jerk! Your wipers don't work! Pretty soon you'll be walking...on ball!"

PREVENT THOSE WINTER DRIVING WOES
The National Safety Council says: "Be sure your wiper blades are in good, live condition, and have arm pressure of one ounce per inch of blade length to sweep snow and sleet off instead of sliding over it." Dead blades may make dead drivers. Check defroster, too. You must see a hazard to avoid it.

Couple Opens Hearts to 9 More Children

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Meyers, who have two adopted children and two of their own, receive nine more youngsters into their family every day.

The Meyers, who have open only

"We need children. We want children," Mrs. Jean Meyers told a newspaperman.

Said her husband: "Maybe, even we're being selfish."

The Meyers, who have open only photographs, get their first look at their five new daughters and four new sons when they arrive here by air today.

The couple read in the newspapers last Jan. 13 that Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baker were killed when their pickup truck overturned in a ditch near Battle Lake, Minn., orphaning their nine children, ranging in age from 2 to 13.

WANTED DOZEN

Meyers and his wife, who agreed when they were married that they wanted "at least 12 children," decided to try to adopt the Baker children and keep them together.

Meyers, an executive with Celanese Corp., telephoned the Rev. Paul Bryon, pastor of St. Gabriel's Roman Catholic Church in Charlotte, and made his desire known. Father Bryon learned that the children were in the custody of Catholic Charities at St. Cloud, Minn.

Meyers asked to be allowed to adopt the children. He wrote Catholic Charities in St. Cloud that "there is room here—in our home and in our hearts."

Since their parents' deaths, the children have been separated and living in foster homes.

"Children need parents, remarked Mrs. Meyers. "We need children."

Meyers, an amateur mason and carpenter, spent Saturday afternoon putting the finishing touches on a dining table large enough for a family of 15.

Baremaids vs. Barmaids Union Dislikes Trend

DETROIT (AP)—There's fuss-joint not too long ago when a guy came in and ordered a dry martini. This girl didn't know the difference between a martini and the wiggle up and down behind that bar couple of times and he settled for a scotch and water. This she could pour."

Red China Claims Troops Quit India

TOKYO (UPI)—Red China today reported new troop withdrawals along the border with India but complained that India is building up its armed forces with American aid.

Peking Radio said Chinese troops who withdrew from Kohishling on Dec. 9 pulled back further Saturday to Kulu on the eastern sector of the border.

A separate broadcast raised from 927 to 1,131 the total number of Indians captured by the Chinese in the border war. The Chinese have been sending back sick and wounded Indian prisoners.

Jews Contribute Trees to Village - Nativity Scene

LYNBROOK, N.Y. (AP) — The two 20-foot blue spruce trees that decorate the village's Nativity creche and its recreation hall were growing until recently on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cohen.

The Cohens are Jewish, but, explained Mrs. Cohen, "For several years now my husband has been thinking of donating the trees to the village as a neighborly gesture to our many Christian friends in the community."

"They looked nice on our lawn," she added, "but now, well, it's our way of wishing everyone a Merry Christmas."

Chapter 13
Santa went back to the office with Mr. Shnoo. There they found a letter for Mr. Shnoo written on fine white paper with the letterhead engraved in gold.

"Her Royal Highness will visit Shnoo's Zoo the day after tomorrow," said the letter.

"At last!" said Mr. Shnoo. He rushed about the office putting things in order. "Thank goodness, we are ready for her!"

"I hope you will be the day after tomorrow," said Santa.

"Why shouldn't we be?"

"Too many strange accidents have happened," said Santa. "I believe someone is trying to harm the zoo because he does not want you honored by the Queen."

"Pshaw!" said Mr. Shnoo. "I don't believe it!"

"Well," said Santa. "I shall stay here until the Queen comes for there is certainly something mysterious going on and, to tell the truth, I am curious."

Mr. Shnoo fixed up a bed for Santa next to his own and they went to sleep telling each other animal stories.

That night the watchman was going on his rounds when he saw what appeared to be the sun rising over beyond the fish pond.

MONKEYS SCARED
Because it wasn't time for the sun to rise, the watchman thought he was seeing things as a result of an upset stomach.

But while he rubbed his eyes and considered going to his locker for some bicarbonate of soda, he heard a cracking noise and the sounds of all the monkeys in the zoo screaming in fright.

At the same time the sunrise became a bright orange color and the watchman smelled smoke.

He turned on his heel and raced off to Mr. Shnoo's house shouting, "Fire! Fire! The monkey house is on fire!"

Everyone in the zoo came running but when they got to the monkey house there was so much smoke they could not enter. Firemen rushed up with hoses. They made everyone stand back while they poured water on the house.

The monkeys screamed and howled. Finally Mr. Shnoo could stand it no longer. He put his coat over his head and rushed by the firemen and into the house.

He did not need to see. He knew every cage by heart and the name of every monkey.

Quickly he broke a sky light. Then he raced around opening the cages and calling out the monkeys.

"Fanny, Robert, Hazel!" He shouted them out of the cages and they fled through the sky light. They did not need urging. Hundreds of monkeys rushed out.

HUDDLED WITH 'EM
When they were safe Mr. Shnoo climbed up and huddled with them on the roof.

Smoke whirled around them and flames began to lick the edges of the roof. The firemen raised ladders but they could not climb through the flames.

Neither could Mr. Shnoo climb down. He and the monkeys were on an island surrounded by fire and soon the island would be on fire, too.

Goldwater Suspects Cuba 'Deal'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater says he suspects President Kennedy of making a secret "deal" with Soviet Russia over Cuba because, he says, the President is evading questions on the subject.

"I don't like this constant evasion of a simple question — 'Did you, or did you not, say to Khrushchev we will not invade Cuba?'" Goldwater told a Los Angeles Times newsmen Sunday.

The Arizona Republican said he is not convinced Russia removed 42 missiles from Cuba last month.

Dad Doesn't Reproach Son for Getting Ticket

HYDE PARK, Vt. (AP) — When his 21-year-old son was charged in municipal court with careless and negligent driving, dad didn't utter a word of reproach.

The father, 65, appeared in court on the same charge — in an unrelated case.

Iron Horse on Exhibit in Museum

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The National Museum of Transport here boasts the world's best collection of steam locomotives and other vanishing railway equipment. The exhibit includes "Big Boy," one of the largest locomotives that operated on the Union Pacific in the rugged Rocky Mountain terrain. This "iron horse" weighs almost one million pounds, is 133 feet long and has 16 driving wheels.

The Museum's "Eddy Clock" locomotive dates back to 1870 when it was fashioned in the Boston & Albany shops by Wilson Eddy, master mechanic. Railroaders used to say "Eddy's locomotive runs like a clock," hence the name "Eddy Clock."

With scrap prices about $40 a ton, the 33 locomotives here would bring about $140,000. But the city isn't thinking of selling.

The city hopes to expand its transport museum to put a "road" over some of the old-time pieces, including the wooden cab on an 1889 Missouri Pacific engine which shows the effects of the weather.

Horse cars, street cars and double-deck buses add to the museum's historical value.

4 Men to Go on Trial on Narcotics Charge

CASSOPOLIS (AP) — Four men face trial in Cass County Circuit Court Dec. 21 on charges of sale of narcotics following their arrest last week by state police narcotics squad members and local authorities.

The men, identified as Lee W. Hooper, 29, and Jimmy C. Reese, 33, both of Kalamazoo, and Charles E. Nickerson Sr., 37, and William Dungey, 28, both of Cassopolis, were arrested Wednesday and Thursday, officers said.

The men waived examination up.

at their arraignment in Justice of the peace court and were ordered held on $10,000 bond each in Cass County Jail.

Directors in Quandary Over New Member

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Officials of the Cornstock Children's Hospital in Tucson announced they had appointed R. Roylston to the board of directors.

Then the problem arose. Was the new appointee Robert Roylston or his twin Richard? To save an embarrassing question, the officials decided to wait until the new board met and see which Roylston showed up.

Fire Goddess Undergoing Skin Tests

HONOLULU (AP) — Madame Pele, the wrathful fire goddess of Hawaii's volcanoes, is undergoing skin tests to find out how hot a girl she is.

Volcano scientists on Hawaii Island are drilling in the crust of Kilauea Iki's lava lake hoping to poke down into its molten interior.

Kilauea Iki staged a spectacular eruption in December 1959.

It was one of Hawaii's renowned "safe" volcanic displays and was witnessed by hundreds of persons who stood in awe at the edge of the fulminating firepit.

Scientists hope to study the changing chemical structure of lava as it hardens and record the heat flow during the lake's cooling process.

The heat flow test involves plugging a ceramic-coated thermocouple about 10 feet into the molten rock.

Safety studies show that in 70 per cent of all fatal traffic accidents, one or both of the drivers had violated one or more safety laws.

State Dems Plot Strategy to Fight Constitution

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan's Democratic leaders mapped plans yesterday for an all-out battle against the proposed new state constitution, while serving notice they still have an old dispute to settle from the November election.

In the party's first central committee meeting since the election, Democrats elected an 18-member fight against the constitution.

Appointed temporary chairman was Adelaide Hart, a Detroit school teacher who served as a delegate to the constitutional convention which drew up the document.

"I am tremendously concerned with the chore ahead of us on the new constitution," Secretary of State James Hare told the Democrats. "There are things in the document that are damaging to Republicans as well as Democrats. The new constitution raises many problems for the people of Michigan."

Hare said it would be up to the Democrats to educate the people on the defects of the new constitution. Democrats generally are unhappy with new provisions for the legislative apportionment, appointment rather than election of the highway commissioner and several other subjects in the judiciary and executive articles.

In the category of unfinished business, left over from last month's election, State Chairman John Collins said the Democrats are not abandoning their insistence on an accounting of the source of funds for the Honest Ballot Association.

The association, headed by George Abrams of New York, reportedly mailed out some 60,000 letters shortly before the election in an attempt to check on registration records in the metropolitan Detroit area. Nearly all the mailings went to Negro voters in what Democrats charge was an attempt at intimidation.

EFFECT ON ELECTION

"This certainly had an effect on the election," Collins said. He disclosed that he had sent a letter to seven prominent Michigan citizens who served on the Committee for Honest Elections, which was associated with Abrams' group.

"We are confident that as a citizen of recognized honesty and integrity, you would want a full disclosure of Mr. Abrams' financial sources because of the involvement of public concern and interest," Collins wrote, adding:

"We are also eagerly awaiting Mr. Abrams' promised evidence of voter fraud in the areas in which he exhibited great concern."

Collins suggested that committee representatives meet with Democratic and Republican leaders to discuss the election law revisions the committee deems advisable.

Collins also recalled that Abrams filed a million dollar libel suit against him and then dropped it the day after the election. The state chairman observed:

"He probably figured his work at intimidating via propaganda, lies and threats was over. And his anonymous backers may think that the battle is ended. But I'm here to state for the public record that it takes two to make an armistice — and we haven't signed any treaty yet."

The Democrats gave Gov. Swainson two standing ovations in recognizing him as the party leader.

Swainson said of his loss to Republican candidate George Romney that "The hurt is deep." But he added:

"There is a determination to regain that which was lost. And believe me, I'll help. I won't be far away."

Swainson will return to private law practice when Romney takes over the governor's chair Jan. 1.

Resolutions commending Swainson and the United Nations Ambassador Adlai Stevenson were adopted unanimously by the Democrats, who also approved a resolution urging the legislature to adopt enabling legislation making Michigan eligible for federal funds for Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed.

In a financial report, the Democrats learned that the party had a $92,241 deficit after the election.

Fire Ruins Orion Twp. House; Family of 7 Is Left Homeless

ORION TOWNSHIP — A family of seven was left with little more than a few clothes and Christmas gifts when fire yesterday destroyed the interior of their home at 1700 Newman Road.

Robert A. Strehle returned home shortly after noon with three of his five children to find a small pile of gifts on the lawn of his home.

Fire had destroyed all other contents of the house.

The blaze, which started from a floor furnace, was first noticed by 2-year-old Diane, according to Fire Chief Jack Taylor.

Woman Killed, 5 Injured in Area Head-On Collision

The meeting will be held at 6:45 p.m. at the Saratoga Farms Restaurant, 42650 Grand River Ave., one-half mile east of Novi Road, in Novi.

Edwards, a former Michigan Supreme Court justice, resigned from the state bench early this year to take the top administrative post with the Detroit Police Department.

He also has served as a Detroit Common councilman, a probate judge and an officer in the U.S. Army.

Novi Woman Head of Club

NOVI—Eugenie Choquet of 727 S. Lake Drive has been elected president of the Novi Women's Republican Club.

The club will hold its next meeting at noon Jan. 8 at the home of Mrs. George Murany, 46842 Grassmere St.

Traffic Toll at 1,481

EAST LANSING (AP) — A total of 1,481 persons have died in Michigan traffic accidents this year, according to provisional figures compiled today by state police. The figure on this date's year ago was 1,393.

CARRY OUT BELONGINGS — Neighbors joined Lake Orion and Oxford firemen yesterday, attempting to save as much as possible from flames which caused an estimated $8,000 in damages to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Strehle, 1700 Newman Road, Orion Township. Before the fire was brought under control it destroyed the interior of the home and most of the contents, including Christmas gifts for the five children.

Vigilance Committee Presents Parade

DETROIT (UPI) — The Vigilance Tax Committee today had 29,700 tea bags left over but it was doubtful they would be wasted.

The commemoration of the Boston Tea Party went off without a hitch Saturday but the committee decided to dump only 300 bags into the icy waters of the Detroit River.

It had 30,000 bags on hand. The rest of them will be used to stir up opposition to the Detroit 1 percent city income tax levied on nonresidents.

The committee spared no effort to make its commemoration a sparkling affair. War drums, dancing Indians, a parade and finally the actual dumping from the decks of a borrowed yacht highlighted the day's proceedings.

Back in 1773 American colonists rebelled against taxation by England, claiming "taxation without representation is tyranny." So it is today, said Berkeley Mayor George Kuhn.

Kuhn took part in the ceremonies dressed in a tricorn hat, knickerbockers and buckled shoes.

The Indians were members of the Metropolitan Indians Dancing Association.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies escorted the participants to the Detroit city limits and there the parade was picked up by a Wayne County sheriff's patrol car and escorted to the heart of the city.

The committee was expected to use the left-over tea bags for more formal tea parties at city and township halls in suburban areas.

There residents would sip tea and sign petitions against the Detroit tax.

May Pick Ex-Councilman

WALLED LAKE — A former city councilman who currently is acting as Wall Lake's chief administrator may be appointed city manager tomorrow night.

E. V. Mercer, Wall Lake's representative on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, is under consideration for the city manager's post.

Mercer was named acting manager and acting assessor here following the resignation Oct. 15 of former City Manager Harold Millsbaugh.

Councilman Harold Ackley submitted a resolution two weeks ago to appoint Mercer to the manager's post.

However, the resolution was tabled until tomorrow's 8 p.m. council meeting after Mayor Louis E. James expressed "surprise" over Ackley's proposal.

James, Mayor Pro Tem Wendell E. Kellogg Jr. and Councilman Norman H. Smith had been screening applications after the council agreed to advertise for a new manager.

The mayor's committee had narrowed the field of applicants down to five. But four of the applicants reportedly have withdrawn from the running.

The only remaining candidate, a city treasurer in Illinois, came to Wall Lake for a private interview with the council.

James and Kellogg protested Ackley's resolution supporting Mercer. They said Mercer had not submitted an application for the job as had the other applicant.

Ackley said he believes the council, in seeking a new city manager, has failed to notice a qualified man "right here in our midst."

The councilman, who is village manager in Novi, said the council should think about hiring an older, more experienced man for one or two years.

Ackley said Mercer, unlike a new appointee, would be familiar with the unique problems of Wall Lake.

Mercer served on the council shortly after the city was incorporated.

Tot Chokes to Death on Grape in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A 14-month-old child choked to death on a grape Sunday night.

Theresa Lenart, the daughter of Mrs. Elaine Lenart of Detroit, was dead on arrival at a hospital where doctors removed the grape from her throat. Theresa had taken the grape from a bowl on the table at home, Mrs. Lenart said.

Judith Rivard Married

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A union was held at the home of the Judith L. Rivard and Donald Watchmaker's parents.

The Watchmaker exchanged their nuptial vows Saturday noon in Cedar Crest Lutheran Church. Rev. Ronald A. Michaels performed the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rivard, 9467 Leona St. The bridegroom is the son of the Samuel Watchmakers of Detroit.

For her wedding the bride chose a ballerina-length gown of rose-pink chiffon featuring a Sabrina neckline and long pointed sleeves. The bodice was trimmed with white brocade.

A white crown held her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion, and a pink carnation corsage was fastened to the neckline of her dress.

The couple was attended by the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rivard.

Following the nuptials a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Donald Watchmaker.

Elected Master of Milford F&AM Lodge

MILFORD — Newly elected worshipful master of Milford Lodge No. 165, F&AM, is Thompson Moore of 2505 Duck Lake Road, Highland Township.

Moore and other new officers will be installed in ceremonies scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday at the Milford Masonic Hall.

The new officers include William Edmonds, senior warden; Ronald Scites, junior warden; Jack Wright, senior deacon; and Arthur Dersley, junior deacon.

Others are Russell Haglund, treasurer; Henry Bush, secretary and John Mikusak, chaplain.

Census Bureau Seeks Data on Farm Labor

Three area residents will be among the U.S. Census Bureau interviewers seeking answers to questions on hired farm labor in a current population survey which starts today.

Information on wages, types of employment and numbers of days worked by farm laborers will be gathered in this area by Patricia A. Gray of 282 W. Lincoln Ave., Birmingham; Mary E. Heck of 2648 Birchway Drive, Franklin; and Margaret I. Schneider of 7807 Ruby St., Utica.

DETROIT'S TEA PARTY — Members of the suburban Vigilance Tax Committee, protesting a Detroit payroll tax, Saturday threw boxes of tea bags into the Detroit river from the deck of a boat. Dressed in Indian and colonial costumes, the group staged the symbolic dumping on the anniversary of the famous Boston Tea Party. The committee seeks legislation to prohibit taxation of non-residents.

JANET ANN ACTON

A June 22 wedding is planned by Janet Ann Acton and Eugene Papp, whose engagement is announced by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Forest W. Acton of 3520 Edgewood Drive, Union Lake. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Papp of River Rouge.

Powerful squads of grapplers from Pontiac Northern and Hazel Park wrestled to a 55-55 tie over the weekend in the Pontiac Northern Invitational Tournament.

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows was second with 26 points. Detroit Catholic Central next, 24, and Pontiac Central 4th with 23.

Defending champion Fitzgerald was unseated along with a pre-tourney favored Walled Lake.

The Vikings were showed to be the far seventh or eighth place, the Huskies only two.

Detroit Catholic Central had two firsts and Pontiac Central, RO Dondoro, Our Lady of Sorrows and Waterford each one out of the field of 18 schools.

Skip McIlroy and Don Weyer were the boys from the PN group to take home individual trophies at 112 and 145 while the Vikings' 103 pound Jerry Agnus plus teammates Ron Burger at 127, Cal Wilkinson, 100, and heavyweight Dennis McCarthy garnered honors in their respective divisions.

The Huskies led the Vikings all the way but two firsts for HP in the final two events spelled the tie.

Out of the 390 participants 12 took home individual trophies and 36 medals for the efforts.

Top-seeded Charlie Bevers of PCH out-pointed, and pinned, five opponents keeping with early predictions of a sweep by the scrapping 135-pounder.

PROGRESS? — Down comes the triple-decker treehouse built last summer by 11-year-old Louis Stevenson, Seattle, and some friends. The tree is being removed to make room for a new church. "I guess we'll have to go underground somewhere," shrugged Louis.

Chinese Threat Spurs Thinking Does U.S. Need Fleet in Indian Ocean?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Red China's threat to the Indian subcontinent has given new thrust to Navy thinking about the need for a U.S. carrier-ambush force in the vast Indian Ocean.

Right now the only American naval power in that entire area is a tiny flotilla comprised of a sea plane tender and two destroyers.

Fr. Coughlin Speaks Out Once Again

DETROIT (UPI) — Fr. Charles E. Coughlin, the famed radio priest of the 1930s, said yesterday that presidents should not be criticized but he renewed his 20-year-old displeasure with the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Granting his first public interview in two decades, Father Coughlin told the Detroit News in a copyrighted story that he was one of his critics of President Roosevelt.

"I still think I was right in breaking with Mr. Roosevelt for recognizing Russia," he told Detroit News religion writer Harold Schachner.

"I still think I was right when I opposed his giving aid to the Russians $11 million to set them up in business; and I still think I was right in opposing our entry into the war on the side of Russia."

Father Coughlin, who had a Sunday radio audience of 30 million, saw his fame start to fade in 1941 when the federal government and church superiors put the scissors to many of his programs.

His pronouncement that no Catholic could join the CIO prompted a flat contradiction by the late Edward Cardinal Mooney, who took over the Roman Catholic diocese of Detroit in 1957.

Cardinal Mooney, then an archbishop, set up a board of censors to pursue his radio talks.

Father Coughlin's other outlet for his opinions, a newspaper he founded called "Social Justice," met its death in 1943 when national security officials ordered to cease publication because of "its tone in time of national crisis."

He said he criticized America's alliance with Russia, not because I was for Germany but I felt we should let them fight it out among themselves."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Gilbert M. Hitchcock, 79, widow of the U.S. senator from Nebraska who founded the Omaha World-Herald, died Saturday after an illness of about two months. Mrs. Hitchcock, who was one of the principal owners of the World-Herald, was born March 18, 1883, in Memphis, Tenn.

WOMAN PILOT IS DEAD
POLSON, Mont. (AP) — Mrs. Juanita Elliott, 40, who won fame for high altitude flying, died Sunday. She held the women's high-altitude record of 28,000 feet in the 1930s, piloting a 90-horsepower plane. She flew for a Red Cross disaster unit during World War II.

Health Folks Only Nibbling at Solution of Polluted Air

NEW YORK (UPI) — The real answer to the question of what science and scientists are doing about the polluted atmospheres of cities is that they're only nibbling at a public health problem of enormous complexities and difficulties.

Nibbling now is all they can do. London's "killing smog," which ended more than 100 human lives in a few days, needles many city Americans into questioning scientists, impatiently but hopefully.

After all, they said, science has been at work on air pollution for a long time—then how about some results?

Dr. Leona Baumgartner, one of the top scientific authorities on city public health problems, recently dramatized what science is up against when dealing with polluted city atmospheres.

She spoke particularly on New York City's atmosphere. She was for years its health commissioner.

WHAT TO DO? The problem goes far beyond medical science, she said. "Basic medical and chemical facts we other in how much air pollution need, of course, but we have to go past them and decide what to do with them."

"We could clearly get rid of much air pollution by abolishing automobiles and factories, but society will not accept this course, so we face the question of devising something effective that is acceptable, or can be made acceptable."

"If he spends most of his day in an apartment or office, the pollution to which he is exposed will not be the same as that to which a child playing on the sidewalk or in the park is exposed."

Engineers are working on a gadget which individuals will wear on lapsels like a badge. It will measure both the extent and the kind of pollution to which they're exposed in the routine coming-and-going of their days.

ESSENTIAL DATA
When selected individuals in selected neighborhoods are wearing this gadget, science will begin getting essential data on the spots in amounts and kinds of air pollution in cities.

The idea for the gadget and its development has been sent to New York City's health research council.

It is made up of elected and appointed public officials, scientists of many disciplines, technicians in many fields and prominent leaders in civic and social welfare fields.

Florida Clamps Embargo on Citrus for Ten Days

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — After 6 p.m., today, no fresh citrus fruit can be shipped out of Florida for 10 days.

The Florida Citrus Commission, in an emergency session Sunday, imposed the 10-day embargo to keep off the market citrus fruit that was damaged by last week's record cold spell.

The embargo will continue until 6 p.m., Dec. 27. At that time a new 14-day ban on the shipment of freeze-damaged citrus will begin, to run until 6 p.m., Jan. 10.

During the second embargo, fruit that can pass inspection by the state will be allowed to move out of Florida.

The embargoes affect all parts of the state's citrus growing area, including the Indian River section where groves were reported to have escaped major damage.

GIFT PACKS, TOO

Economic impact of the embargoes could not be estimated. They apply not only to packing houses but to gift-packing firms and roadside stands. Most gift boxes have already been sent north, but roadside stands usually do a brisk business during the holidays.

Normally, the law permits shipment of fruit affected by cold weather when the damage does not exceed 25 per cent. However, the combination of embargoes was designed to block shipment of any fruit damaged by the worst cold of this century.

The commission took the action to protect the reputation of Florida citrus.

The frigid weather has departed, and temperatures today were expected to climb into the 60s and 70s.

Gallant Canine Is Buried With Full Honors

STANTON, Calif. (UPI) — A rookie "cop" killed while defending his post against a criminal was buried Saturday with full honors.

The "cop" was a police dog named Chico.

Ivan Nachman, president of Kanine Kops, a firm which provides police dog as guards, said Chico was killed Friday while standing his ground against an intruder at a firm nearby Arteria.

The villain never gained entrance to the building.

'90 Pct. of Cuba Anti-Castro'

NEW YORK (AP) — A Turkish newspaperman just back from Havana says at least 90 per cent of the Cuban people "—and probably more—are against the Communists and against Castro, too."

Goksin Sipahoglu, a free-lance reporter from Istanbul, said in an interview that there are resistance organizations, but the organizations cannot get together. The newsmen was in Cuba from mid-October until early December. He said Cubans told him: The peasants, who were major supporters of Fidel Castro's revolution, angrily but passively are resisting the Communists.

The peasants are angry because Castro collectivized the farm lands instead of distributing them among the peasants, as he promised.

Probably 9,000 peasants have been jailed for refusing to work in the fields. They refused because, even if paid, there was nothing to buy.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

The skimpy food ration list for one person includes five eggs a month, three-fourths of a pound of a meat a month, one banana a week, oranges only for the sick, a pound of potatoes a week and six pounds of rice per month.

On the virtually nonexistent list are cheese, milk, bacon, many kind of vegetables, soap, wools and linens. Medicines are in very short supply.

Sipahoglu said he was told the Russians have two major camps in Cuba, one near Holguin in Oriente Province, and one in central Cuba near Ciego de Avila. Cubans are barred from the areas.

Castro rarely is seen in public. He spends most of his time at Havana University, arguing with the students who have been among the chief supporters of his regime. He denounces Soviet Premier Khrushchev violently.

The students are reported highly critical of the revolutionary government.

The newsmen said he believes Castro is supported now only by those working for the regime, young men who like to carry guns and people who were misfits before the revolution.

Macmillan Displays Hope

One Caught on Mainland, Other on Bay

2 Foiled in Alcatraz Escape

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two bank robbers sawed their way out of Alcatraz, the forbidding island prison in San Francisco Bay, Sunday night but were retaken after losing a battle with the icy water. One swam only about 100 yards before quitting. The other made it three miles with the help of homemade water wings and became the first escapee known to reach the mainland after breaking from the maximum security institution.

John Paul Scott, 35, from Leitchfield, Ky., made it to shore but the swim proved too much for him. When spotted by two children on a rocky shore he appeared to be dead.

Doctors at the Army's nearby Letterman General Hospital where Scott was taken, said his body temperature was down to 94 degrees. Waters in the bay average 54 degrees.

Bank robber-kidnaper Darl Dee Parker, 31, of Canton, Ohio, quit sooner because of the cold water. He made a dash of about 100 yards to a pointed rock off Alcatraz' western end.

Parker just sat waiting on what is known as "Little Alcatraz" as a searching prison boat spotted him. Both men were returned to Alcatraz.

Warden Olin Blackwell said the two men worked in the prison kitchen and "somewhere cut their way out through a window in the kitchen basement."

They were missed at 5:17 p.m. at a regular show-up. Parker was retrieved at 8:30 p.m. Scott was spotted at 8:30 and picked up by military police since he came ashore on the Army's Presidio, just inside the Golden Gate.

Fog blanketed the bay, aiding

Scott in his dash through a Coast Guard picket line. He wore only trousers.

It was the second breakout from Alcatraz this year. On June 12 John and Clarence Anglin and Frank Morris, three Southern bank robbers, broke out after long preparation. They are presumed drowned.

The aborted break by Scott and Parker was one of two that occurred—and failed—in the Far West Sunday. At Salt Lake City, Utah, five convicts were discovered as they were saving a last set of bars between them and a prison's yard.

JFK Reviews 2 Years in Office on TV Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy reviews his first two years in the White House tonight in an unusual hour-long television interview.

The program, called "After Two Years—A Conversation with the President," will be carried by the Columbia Broadcasting System and American Broadcasting Co. television networks at 6:30 p.m. EST and the National Broadcasting Co. television network at 8:30 p.m.

The interview also will be on the major radio networks. Kennedy returned to the White House Saturday from an overnight stay in New York.

After attending church Sunday morning, he sat down with television newsmen Sandra Vanocur of NBC, William H. Lawrence of ABC and George Herman of CBS to tape the interview.

It began an active week for Kennedy. He meets with the National Security Council executive committee today and also hears a report from Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's ministerial council in Paris.

MAJOR TASK
Rusk, who returned Sunday night, is expected to tell Kennedy the United States has a major task on its hands to persuade its NATO allies to contribute more conventional forces to the defense of Europe.

He and Kennedy are likely to discuss topics for the two days of conferences that the President and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will hold Wednesday and Thursday at Nassau in the Bahamas. The U.S. delegation to NATO, and community leader went a step further and predicted that the next three years will be good for business.

Morroe M. Osmun, general manager of Osmun's men's wear stores and president of the Downtown Pontiac Business Association said, "We can look forward to a better year than 1962, and business has been excellent this year."

Without exception, all believe that the over-all financial climate of Pontiac will improve during the next 12 months.

Their optimism is based on the very tangible business success of this year.

Allies Prove Chilly on Aid for Defense

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dean Rusk reports to President Kennedy today that America's Atlantic allies need more time, patience and persuasion to comply with the U.S. request that they contribute more to Europe's defense.

This was the impression Rusk apparently brought Sunday night from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Paris meeting where U.S. proposals were reportedly greeted with something less than warmth.

Rusk returned to Washington last night.

He and Kennedy are likely to discuss topics for the two days of conferences that the President and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will hold Wednesday and Thursday at Nassau in the Bahamas.

To Talk About Skybolt Problem; Bids Adieu to De Gaulle in Paris

He expressed confidence that "we will find a way through our difficulties" over the Skybolt missile.

"At this moment after Cuba," Macmillan told newsmen, "we have to try to make a reassessment of the position between East and West."

"Can the position be turned to our advantage? Is there a chance of getting ahead with some of these questions—nuclear tests, disarmament and other matters?"

"As for Skybolt," his prepared statement said, "I have no doubt we shall find a way through our difficulties."

Macmillan said that in spite of difficulties, he and Kennedy intend to meet "in the spirit of our last meeting."

SKYBOLT MAJOR ISSUE

Skybolt has doomed as a major issue between the two Allies because Kennedy's government may cancel the missile the British count on to keep them a nuclear power.

Of the situation between East and West, Macmillan said:

"If there is to be a period of pause, of thaw, we must not misuse it."

He said the troubles in Asia, particularly between Red China and India, have raised a whole new set of problems.

"Our chief purpose is to talk over what has happened since our last meeting," Macmillan said.

He made his statement to newsmen at London Airport just before taking off for Nassau. He is due there at 10:30 p.m. after stopovers in the Azores and at

Many Practical Gifts for the Kitchen

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Did you ever see a doll pat-a-cake?

Well, there's one in a downtown Pontiac store. This cuddly little bit of the softest material you ever touched, swings her hands up and brings them together like magic.

You just push her tummy in a little bit and the dolls seems to come to life.

HOUSEHOLD GIFTS

If mom likes to get practical household gifts there are many brand-new appliances this year.

For instance, there's a new automatic egg poacher that also cooks the eggs soft, medium or hard, according to the amount of water that is used. It has a capacity for 7 eggs at a time.

A new party grill that looks like a waffle iron, presses a n' d toasts slices of bread into fancy appetizer bases. A portable electric ice crusher is new. One company has come out with a completely new type knife sharpener.

For the first time, there is a new grill for the top of the stove that looks exactly like creamy pottery. It is made of the same material that was perfected for nose cones in rockets, and can be taken from a red hot stove and dipped in ice water without damage.

It's available in dishes, casseroles and another new item — an automatic coffee pot.

There's a tiny ladies rechargeable flashlight that has a clip. This is a perfect gift for a nurse, teacher or even a housewife.

A cute lollipop box "for good little boys and girls" that looks like an old-fashioned salt box, can be hung on a kitchen wall.

Film Immortal Dies of Cancer

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — A giant of the movies, Charles Laughton, who rambled through memorable films like a rambunctious elephant, is dead of cancer at 63.

Laughton died Saturday night at his home of cancer of the spine, a few weeks after ending a four-month hospital stay.

When the British-born actor left Cedars of Lebanon on Nov. 30, a friend confided: "Charles knows he is going to die, and bluster as ever, says he's going to die in his own bed."

With him when he died were actresses Elsa Lanchester, his one and only wife, and his younger son, John.

Seek Jury Commission

A proposal to establish a commission system of selecting prospective jurors for Oakland County Circuit Court trials is getting renewed attention following last week's acute juror shortage.

State legislation, enabling the county to establish a three-man jury commission has been passed at the county's request, but the County Board of Supervisors has not taken action to put it into effect.

In the jury commission system, jurors are screened beforehand by the commission members so that when a panel is called for a jury term, most of them will be able to serve.

Of 135 summoned for the current term, only 71 survived screening by the presiding judge.

Under state law, prospective jurors can be excused whenever their interests "will be materially injured."

County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy says that a jury commission also would begin with a larger pool of jurors, since it would draw its prospects from voter registration lists rather than the tax assessment rolls now used by township and city clerks in submitting jury lists.

"WOULD BE EASIER"

Even when a shortage developed, it would be easier to summon additional jurors under a jury commission, Murphy added.

Township supervisors from rural areas in the county have opposed establishment of a jury commission as unnecessary even though they have admitted they don't have the means to examine prospective jurors as required by law.

The law says they must be examined to determine whether they are "in possession of their natural faculties, and not infirm or decrepit, of good character, or approved integrity."

Persons over 70 years of age and those who served as jurors during the previous year are ineligible.

The examining would be done by a three-man commission it established.

Under the existing system, the county clerk collects the jury lists from the townships and cities and calls about a fifth of the total for each jury term of the year.

Examining is then done by the presiding judge.

Pleas for a jury commission were ringing about the County Courthouse Friday after failure for the second day in a row to impanel a jury for the trial of three men on kidnapping and robbery charges.

Another 50 prospective jurors from throughout the county were ordered by Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem to be summoned to appear when proceedings resume tomorrow morning.

Judge Ziem's action came after 19 additional jurors who appeared in response to Thursday's hasty call for 50 more were not enough to survive peremptory challenges by defense attorneys.

Murphy, who is responsible for rounding up more jurors when needed, claims the problem might not have arisen if the county had a jury commission. Sheriff's deputies went far in to the night delivering jury subpoenas to the 50 or more ordered by Judge Ziem Tuesday and 25 more ordered Thursday by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Judge Adams ran out of jurors in the trial of three Pontiac men for the July 30 robbery and slaying of Pontiac grocer Efthimis Vasilou, because of peremptory challenges by defense attorneys.

Judge Ziem said the problem had not developed in more than 30 years.

Largely responsible for the trouble is that defendants charged with crimes carrying a maximum penalty of life imprisonment are entitled to 20 peremptory challenges each.

34 USED

In the trial before Judge Ziem of Joseph Loncar, 35, and James E. Wilson, 27, both of Lincoln Park, and Joseph Welch, 38, of Hazel Park—only 34 of the possible 60 such challenges have been used so far.

Because of the delays caused by the jury shortages, some defendants awaiting trials in other cases will be obliged to wait until the next jury term in February to go on trial.

The three defendants on trial before Judge Ziem are accused of kidnapping J. J. Levy of Royal Oak, owner of the Oakland County Gas and Oil Co. and its 17 service stations, and taking him at gunpoint to his main station and forcing him to open a safe.

Told of JFK Remark

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Polish Communist newspapers told their readers over the weekend that President Kennedy at his most recent news conference spoke against "the boycott of imported Polish hand carried out by some extreme reactionary organizations in America." They omitted Kennedy's remark that such boycotts harass merchants and are not nearly as effective against Communist as helping the Alliance for Progress or the Peace Corps.

Subdue Rebels in Borneo Areas

British Report 2 Main Centers Closed

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—Armed rebels have been cleared from main centers of Brunei and northeastern Sarawak, a British military spokesman said today.

The spokesman said some rebel concentrations still were reported in several areas.

One group of insurgents was estimated to be 200 strong.

A sizeable rebel force was reported on the Sarawak Coast just inside the border with Brunei, British troops and jungle tribesmen killed six of the insurgents there yesterday and captured more than 100.

The spokesman said a jet aircraft equipped with loudspeakers were flying continuous sorties calling on rebels in hiding to surrender. Jets also are continuing low-level buzzing missions over rebel hideouts and appear to have been successful in demoralizing a number of insurgents who have never seen a modern jet aircraft.

The spokesman said the jets are not firing.

Brig. Jock Glennie, Commander of British field forces in the Brunei operations, and Sir Dennis White, British high commissioner in Brunei, arrived at Labuan, North Borneo, today for talks with military and civil officials.

Sir Dennis said all was quiet in Brunei Town except for sniping at night. A dusk-to-dawn curfew will continue, he added.

Britain meanwhile named as head of its expeditionary forces in Brunei Maj. Gen. W. C. Walker, who once masterminded the organization and training of Malaysian forces in their 12-year war against Communist terrorists. He will replace Brig. Glennie.

Ranchers Tell U.S. It Can't Have Records

MOUND CITY, S.D. (UPI)—Determined ranchers have told the federal government it cannot have the embattled Department of Agriculture records in this county seat town of 177 people because it waited too long to act.

Mound City, which fears loss of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office to neighboring, larger Herreid may eventually lead to loss of the coveted courthouse, has been feuding with the government for months over the records.

In a brief filed in U.S. District Court and released Saturday, attorney Morris Myers said the Agriculture Department had forfeited its claim to the disputed records locked in a sandbagged building here because it made no claim to the property during the past year.

Myers denied a charge by the Justice Department that the Mound City Development Corp., the owner of the building, was holding federal property illegally.

The Justice Department said two weeks ago it would send marshals to remove the records with force. But after the farmers rallied in resistance to the threat, the plan was called off and a court order sought instead.

Sees 10 Pct. Hike in Auto Insurance

DETROIT (AP)—State Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn predicts that Michigan auto owners can look forward to a 10 per cent increase in auto liability insurance.

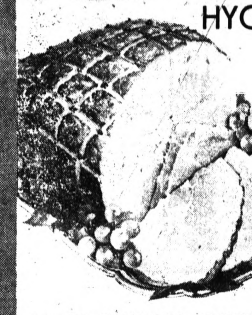

Colburn said the increase would raise the yearly cost of auto liability insurance by about five dollars from the present $50 average.

The increase, he said, would reflect a rise in costs paid by insurance companies to settle liability claims.
