Miss Front Page for April

Miss Front Page for April has light blue eyes as clear as a spring sky. Her golden hair is full of sunshine.

That's why Charlene Gaffney is an ideal choice to act as Page One representative of the new season.

The 17-year-old Miss, a Waterford Township High School senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gaffney, 2644 Sylvan Shores Dr. on Sylvan Lake. Gaffney is a sales engineer at National Twist Drill and Tool Co. in Rochester.

As a water sports enthusiast, Charlene (her friends call her "Char") is really looking forward to warm weather. She loves swimming and water-skiing.

In high school, Charlene is known as a varsity cheerleader. She's a representative of the senior class board, secretary of the French Class and a member of the Girls Athletic Assn.

After graduation this June, Charlene plans to attend Western Michigan College to major in dental hygiene. We're looking forward to the time she gets her college degree and takes a job, we hope, in a dental office.

With an attractive girl like Charlene on hand, the trip to the dentist would be a pleasure.

British Liner Saves 1,200 Who Fled Burning Vessel

Only One Dies During Rescue on Indian Ocean

Emigrants to Australia Among the Survivors of Doomed 'Skaubryn'

BOMBAY, India (INS)—A British liner today rescued 1,200 persons who abandoned the Norwegian ship Skaubryn in the Indian Ocean after fire broke out in the engine room and spread through the vessel.

Only one life was lost—and that as a result of a heart attack—in the dramatic rescue on the high seas by the liner City of Sydney.

More than 200 children under 10 years of age were among those saved from lifeboats after the Australia-bound Skaubryn was abandoned. Many of those aboard were emigrants heading for a new life in Australia.

(The Inter-Governmental Committee on European Migration said in Geneva that the Skaubryn's master had messaged representatives in Bremen that the fire started in the engine room.

(The captain said: "All passengers and crew safely took to lifeboats with excellent discipline. One man among the private passengers died in a lifeboat due to a heart attack. From the lifeboats all passengers were taken aboard the City of Sydney."

(The ICEM reported that 904 migrants and 176 other passengers were aboard the Skaubryn, which had sailed from Bremerhaven, West Germany.)

CREW INCLUDED

The City of Sydney radioed Bombay that it has "rescued 1,200 passengers from the Skaubryn." The difference between the 1,080 passengers reported aboard the 1,200 picked up probably accounted for the crew.

The survivors will be transferred to the Italian liner Roma, which also responded to the distress call.

The City of Sydney has already left the scene — after standing by until daylight to make sure no one had been missed — to make contact with the Roma, which was bound from Colombo, Ceylon, to Aden.

The Roma will take the survivors to Aden on the Arabian peninsula, where it is expected Thursday or Friday.

The fire broke out on the 9,786-ton Skaubryn about 4:50 p.m. GMT

Canada Amazed by Huge Margin of Diefenbaker

Conservatives Win 209 of 265 Seats to Shatter All Political Opposition

TORONTO (AP)—Canada was amazed today by Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's political triumph which shattered the opposition in Parliament and placed his Conservative party in complete command with the biggest majority in history.

Yesterday's general election—the country's second in 10 months—gave the Conservatives 209 of the 265 seats in the House of Commons.

The 62-year-old Prime Minister will be in a powerful position to rule as his party wills for the next five years.

The largest number of members any party ever had before was the 190 seats the Liberals won in 1949. Since his surprise victory last June, Diefenbaker had been governing with only 113, 20 less than a majority.

The Prime Minister swung into action immediately. He announced he was calling Parliament back into session at the earliest moment to tackle the unemployment problem, which he described as the No. 1 issue before the country.

Unemployment was one of the big campaign issues. Diefenbaker proposed a billion-dollar development program to take up some of the slack. He opposed Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson's plan for tax cuts of approximately 400 million dollars.

This election victory foreshadowed a toughening of Canadian trade policies toward the U.S.

The Conservatives promised during the campaign to divert some $600,000,000 a year of Canadian imports from the U. S. to the sterling area.

There was no pat explanation for the runaway vote. Diefenbaker had been generally picked to win a majority in the House, but not even his most ardent supporters expected such a sweep.

Top Hit in New York

"MUSIC MAN" — Shown during one of the captivating sequences from the hit Broadway show "Music Man" are the star, Robert Preston, and one of showdom's youngest discoveries, Marilyn Siegel. Billed as one of the outstanding shows in recent New York history, "Music Man" is among the five top productions scheduled for The Pontiac Press Theater Tour, June 23-28.

Theater Trippers to See Spectacular 'Music Man'

Could be that a couple years from now the 1958 Pontiac Press theater-trippers will still be the envy of theater-lovers.

For the lucky 150 persons able to get reservations for the June 23 to 28 trip to Broadway may get in on the ground floor of one of the most spectacularly successful musical comedies of the decade.

That's what New York City critic's think of "Music Man," a lyrical, charming serving of Midwestern America at the turn of the century.

The way they praise the show, it looks as if the rest of the nation will still be clamoring for hard-to-get tickets long after Press theater-goers have returned home with the enviable knowledge they have seen one of Broadway's great hits while still in its infancy.

Imagine being one of the comparatively few theater-goers to have seen such great hits as "Oklahoma!" or "My Fair Lady" during the first few months of their showing! Yet that kind of distinction may be in store for the 150 Pontiac area residents who get their reservations into The Press by the May 23 deadline.

Speaking of "Oklahoma!", that's the show with which most critics compare "Music Man."

Just as the Rodgers and Hammerstein production brought musical fame to the state of Oklahoma, they expect Meredith Willson's "Music Man" to put Iowa in the limelight.

The cost for the theater trip is $187, covering air transportation, hotel accommodations, theater tickets, New York delivery of The Press and other scheduled events.

Success Greets 'Auto Buy' Sale in Pontiac

The "You Auto Buy Week's" opening day sale Saturday was a resounding success, all members of the Pontiac Trade Assn. agreed today.

A tally of sales during Saturday showed the nine dealers sold 124 used cars and 24 new cars.

What struck the dealers forceably was that more cars were sold than were on display on W. Huron street.

Almost all the dealers reported that customers who did not see what they liked on the street, which was roped off for the sale until 2 p.m. Saturday, went to the showrooms and used car lots to continue their search.

Robert Oliver, president of the association, said that the promotion far exceeded expectations.

The sale, which continues this week, is designed to stimulate the automotive business and the economy in general.

Strike in France Idles 4 Million

3 Trade Unions Out in Protest of Living Cost; Paris at a Standstill

PARIS (AP) — A nationwide 24-hour tranport strike today left an estimated four million French workers off the job.

A million transport and allied workers went on strike. Lack of transportation kept the others from their work.

The walkout was called by France's three major trade unions in protest against rising living costs. It went into effect at 4 a.m.

Trains, buses and subways were idled all over France. A few suburban trains were running. Airline traffic was halted.

Garbage collectors were out. Gas workers stayed home. Pressure was low in all the Paris gas mains.

The strike put a crimp in the start of a much-heralded campaign to clean up Paris. Garbage was not collected, streets were not swept, and 6,000 wastepaper baskets scattered throughout the city to discourage littering the sidewalks were not emptied.

'Red Resolution Phony'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Under Secretary of State Christian A. Herter declared today that Russia's stated intention to halt nuclear bomb testing is as phony as the resolutions of "a drunk temporarily on the wagon."

Eisenhower's Idea First

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles disclosed today that President Eisenhower had considered stealing a march on the Russians by announcing a U.S. suspension of atomic tests but rejected the whole idea as a propaganda gesture.

No Judge Assigned to Sullenberger Suit

Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger's $250,000 damage suit against Pontiac General Hospital is scheduled for trial a week from today but no one is sure which judge will try it.

Although one of Oakland County's four circuit judges has disqualified himself, at the ousted staff surgeon's request, the others have not officially done likewise.

And the state official who must assign an outside judge to the case if Oakland's bench won't handle it is watching the calendar.

He has only a handful of days left in which to canvass the state to find some jurist who could afford time to leave his own courtroom for several weeks, perhaps a month, to hear what promises to be a lengthy courtroom battle here.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams Thursday acceded to the argument that the surgeon's lawsuit has caused so much publicity and involves so many local officials and physicians that an outside judge should be called in to hear it.

His personal disqualification did not apply to the other three county judges, however.

WRITES ADMINISTRATOR

Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick, acting as presiding judge at this time, then wrote the state court administrator, Meredith Doyle, in Lansing, asking for an outside judge.

Doyle explained, however, that he has received no request based on formal disqualifications by all four Oakland judges.

Doyle added, however, that Hillsdale Circuit Judge Charles O. Arch, who is scheduled to visit the Oakland circuit beginning April 8, will not be assigned the Sullenberger case.

"Judge Arch has been assigned to visit Oakland County on an intermittent basis, to help out with the docket," Doyle said. "He has other cases, in his own circuit and in Washtenaw County, that he is scheduled to hear this month also."

Baruch Raps Tax Cut Talk

Financier Also Tells Congress He Opposes Pump-Priming

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard M. Baruch told Congress today that in the face of a tremendous national debt and expenditure, it is folly to talk of tax reductions.

The 87-year-old financier also contended this is not the time to embark on vast federal works or other pump-priming programs requiring deficit financing.

Baruch gave his opinions to a Congress teeming with tax reduction and public works schemes.

His appearance before the Senate Finance Committee marked a resumption of hearings, begun last year, into the nation's financial condition.

Only One Life Lost in Fire

Only one life was lost in a fire which destroyed a two-story frame house at 1:30 a.m. today at 1 Lakeview Ave., Pontiac Township.

Dead is Mrs. Mary Ann Kuhn, 60, who lived in the house with her husband, Frank, 65, and a son, Frank, Jr., 30.

Mrs. Kuhn died of smoke inhalation. Her husband and son escaped unharmed.

Christ's Ordeal as Mark Might Have Seen It

'And a Certain Young Man Followed Him . . .'

(The world has heard much about the principals of the Easter story: Christ Himself, Pilate, Judas, the high priests. But also involved in the great event were obscure persons, mentioned by the Gospels only in passing. This is the first of four articles on some of these minor actors, drawn by apparent happenstance into the Easter drama).

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

The youth pulled a linen wrap about his shoulders and dashed out of the house. He must find them. They probably had gone to their usual place, to the olive press across the valley, to Gethsemane.

The young man cut through open squares, taking the shortest route . . .

Some urgent motive had driven him to quit his home in the third watch of night, and go in search of Jesus and his little band.

John Mark, the gospel writer, was a lad in his teens when Jesus made His final entrance into Jerusalem in the spring month of Nissan, about 29 A. D.

This had been, at first, a jubilant occasion for the friends of Jesus, and Mark's family was among them.

They had streamed out through Benjamin Gate to meet Him, strewing the road with flowers and palm branches.

"Hosanna!" they had shouted. "Blessed be He who comes in the name of the Lord!"

JEALOUS UNDERCURRENT

But amid the adoring fervor were also the muffled sneers, the jealous scowls of the religious rulers.

Mark did not grasp it fully then, but he later would record it, in all its stark implacability.

The reigning Sadducees, who controlled the powerful priesthood, sent agents to harass Jesus.

Dreadful rumors passed from mouth to mouth that the authorities were bent on destroying Him.

Yet, admiring crowds flocked about Him daily, and the barechested Temple guards hung back, tight-jawed, muttering.

JOHN MARK

With only a day remaining before the Passover, Jesus and His apostles had come to the upper room to share a festive meal. The spacious, hospitable house of Mark's mother, Mary, was a regular meeting place of the apostles, and most appropriate place for the supper.

Mark had not been present in the room, but the voices, along with the piquant odors of roast lamb and spices, drifted down into the dark court outside. Something Jesus said—if Mark heard it aright—jolted him.

"Truly . . . one of you will betray Me." A hush, then the hurt responses, "Is it I? . . . Is it I?"

In a moment, someone emerged, hurrying down the outside steps. It was one of the twelve, Judas Iscariot, of Kerioth. He seemed in great haste.

The supper continued. Astonishing sayings floated from the doorway. "Take, eat, this is My body." Then, later, "Drink . . . this is My blood . . . poured out for many . . ."

Mark froze. He could hardly believe his ears.

After a time, they sang the hallel, and then, with a scuffling of feet, came filing out the door, and down the stairs. Mark stayed out of sight. They stood a while under the trees.

"It is expedient for you that I

CHIEF MILLARD PENDER

Police Captain Gets Promotion

Millard Pender Named Chief of Department at Waterford Township

The Waterford Township Board promoted Police Captain Millard J. Pender to chief of the township department last night.

Pender, 43, has been in charge of the department under the jurisdiction of Supervisor Elmer Johnson since the release of former chief Frank Van Atta last June.

Before that, Pender served as captain and detective and was one of the first patrolmen in the 4-year-old police department.

He also has served as chief of police of Oxford as well as a deputy sheriff for several years.

Johnson said that a salary adjustment would be made, retroactive to today, after the township budget had been set up.

Johnson also indicated that one and possibly two more patrolmen will be added after the budget is scheduled by April 15.

"The Waterford Township Police Department's six - man force has been working a 48-hour week and sometimes more", Johnson said.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

What is the tropical year? Is it getting longer?

The tropical year, about which many people know little, is the time required for the sun to return to the vernal equinox (Spring). In other words, it is the actual year from vernal equinox to vernal equinox. And this time is less than that in the sidereal year, or the calendar year.

The length of time it requires for the sun to return to the vernal equinox each year is decreasing. But the decrease is so slow you will never notice it in your lifetime or feel any effect from the shortening tropical year. It is growing shorter by only something over .5 seconds a century.

Thus it will take about one hundred twenty centuries for the tropical year to grow as much as one full minute shorter. In other words, you probably have more immediate problems.

April Fool's Day Candy Might Smell Strange

CHICAGO (AP)—Ted Speros, owner of a candy shop, offered a variety of April Fool candy for sale today — creamy chocolates with such centers as garlic cloves, baby onions and Limburger cheese.

He packed an extra pound of the cheese centers for a regular annual customers who fooled Speros for several years.

"I thought he was a big-time prankster," Speros said, "until I found out last year he loves the stuff."

Two County Officials Seeking Renomination

Two more Oakland County officials announced today they will seek renomination to their posts on the Republican ticket in the August primary.

They are veteran County Treasurer Charles A. Sparks, who will be after a 14th term, and Register of Deeds Daniel T. Murphy Jr., who will be vying for a second term.

With Sparks and Murphy throwing in their hats, the Republican incumbent ticket in the county has joined again in seeking re-election. Already in the race are Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, Clerk Lynn D. Allen, Sheriff Frank W. Irons, and Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry.

Sparks, like Allen, will be hoping for his 14th consecutive two-year term in his county post, a position he was first elected to in 1932. Sparks is 65 and lives at 7010 Hatchery Rd., Waterford Township.

Along with Barry, Murphy is the youngest member on the county GOP "team" in length of service. The 34-year-old resident of 344 W. Iroquois Rd. was first elected in November of 1956, after filling the post of former Register Orrin McQuaid in April of that year.

Mark's Perspective on Christ's Ordeal go away," Jesus told them. ". . . A little while, and you will see Me no more . . . You will weep and lament . . . But your sorrow shall be turned into joy . . . In the world you will have tribulation, but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world."

Then they left, strolling slowly, their conversation fading into the night. Mark fretfully went inside to bed.

Hours later, however, something happened to send the young man flying across the city toward the Mount of Olives. Why did he go?

Was it simply a compelling desire to be with Jesus? Perhaps word reached Jesus' supporters, including Mark's household, and someone was sent to warn Him.

So the night streets echoed with the youth's running footsteps.

Then as he neared the walled garden of the olive press, he heard the metal clank of armor and saw the leaping lights of torches.

He was too late! Scared, dismayed, he crept forward in the darkness.

The white - robed Jesus stood there in a little clearing. His face tired and strained, as the torchlights fell on Him. A knot of priests shuffled forward.

"Have you come out as against a robber, with swords and clubs to capture Me? He paused. "But let the Scripture be fulfilled."

Two soldiers grabbed His arms, twisting them behind Him. Then they tied His hands, looped the rope several times around His body and knotted it, leaving a length of rope to lead Him away.

"And a certain young man followed Him, with nothing but a linen cloth about his body." Mark set down this incide n years later. No other Gospel sources knew about it, for the apostles had run away. But Mark knew, because it must have been he.

As he related, the soldiers spied him trailing along behind the bound Jesus and tried to seize him, grasping his garment. But he squirmed out of his skimpy dress. "He left the linen cloth and ran away naked."

WEATHER FORECAST GOOD FOR NEXT 30 DAYS — The maps above, based on those supplied today by the United States Weather Bureau, forecast the probable rainfall and temperatures for the next 30 days.

Warehouse Plan Under Scrutiny

Waterford Eyes Buick's $3 Million Expansion Project in Area

Building plans and specifications for an addition to the Buick warehouse on Williams Lake Road in Waterford Township costing approximately $3 million are being studied by the township building inspector's staff.

The contemplated structure would contain 268,000 square feet and employment would be from 250 to 400 people, according to the report.

The character of occupancy of the building would not be changed, and it would still be a storage warehouse with no manufacturing operations.

Plans specify that the steel, concrete and brick structure would be one story high, with a possible second floor of office space.

Reports to the Oakland County Drain Commission, indicate that the present waste disposal system now in operation is sufficient to serve the warehouse. It was designed and approved for some 400 people on a 24-hour basis, and for 800 people on a 12-hour basis.

There has been no date set for the awarding of construction bids. However, plans indicated May 5 as the day the building permit will be issued.

Ford Negotiates With Auto Union in Lavish Room

DEARBORN (INS) — Opening contract negotiations between Ford and the United Auto Workers Union were very colorful yesterday in the company's new multi-million dollar office building.

The conference room is in white, trimmed in stainless steel. The bargaining table, 54-feet long, is of blond birch. Chairs around the table, 40 in all, are covered with rust leather.

Lighting is diffused under a serrated plastic ceiling. There are two white "blackboards" in the room. Blue chalk is used.

The subject under discussion is a well-known green.

The 23 dealers who make up the Flint Automobile Dealers Assn. reported sales of 199 new cars and 167 used ones on Friday and Saturday. They said sales for the same two days of the previous week were 58 new and 85 used cars.

The campaign runs through Saturday.

Pastor Thinks of Heaven as 'Happiness at Its Best'

(Editor's Note: This is the seventh in a series of articles on Heaven, written by local residents and compiled by Mary Anglemier, Pontiac Press church editor.)

By REV. LENWORTH R. MINER

One of the few things not for sale in this materialistic age, so often disfigured by the dollar sign, is a real conviction.

An earnest belief in heaven and heavenly things is the real need of mankind today. Civilization is held together by convictions which are more dear than mortal life.

In fact, no man has really lived until he has some principles for which he would die. Our actions must be viewed by the motives that prompted them.

I believe heaven is represented both as a place and a state. It is the abode of God and His angels and the future abode for believers. Wherever Jesus is, we have heaven on earth.

What is heaven like? It is like happiness at its best. There is a supreme manifestation of God's presence, a Father's house, an enduring Holy of Holies.

In heaven we have the enjoyment of divine love without hindrance, a spiritual union of character, will and affections whose type is the union that exists between the Father and the Son.

There, the righteous shall shine forth as the sun.

Will we know one another? Are we not to know all things; to know even as we are known, and if all things, then certainly one another? We must connect and identify the saints with Christ, who says that "where I am, there may ye be also."

Pastor of Macedonia Baptist Church, the Rev. Lenworth R. Miner is a former director of the Urban League, a member of NAACP Assn., Oakland County Ministerial Assn., and Hospital Chaplains' Group. He also serves the community as a member of the Baptist Ministers' Assn. and the Pontiac Pastors' Assn.

Grand Rapids Herald Changing Hands

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Booth Inc. has purchased the Grand Rapids Herald owned by Federated Publications Inc.

It becomes the ninth newspaper to join the Booth chain.

The Herald has a circulation of operation daily and Sunday as it has for the past 74 years, according to Louis A. Weil Jr., publisher since 1947.

The purchase takes effect today. The Herald was a circulation of 52,000 daily and 86,000 on Sunday.

Weil said the Herald will continue an independent editorial and news policy as determined by its own editors.

The Grand Rapids Herald, a morning newspaper, joins the Grand Rapids Press as a Booth member along with the Flint Journal, the Saginaw News, the Bay City Times, Muskegon Chronicle, Kalamazoo Gazette, Jackson Citizen Patriot and the Ann Arbor News.

Federated publications include the Lansing State Journal, the Battle Creek Enquirer and News, and the Lafayette Journal and Courier.

What Is Depression?

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The former lord mayor of Dublin, Ireland, says the United States would never have an economic depression if it were like his own country — "we've never been prosperous enough to have one," Robert Briscoe spoke at a meeting of the Memphis Jewish Welfare Fund.

Drop That Doily, Thief!

DALLAS (AP) — Mrs. Roy Lowry, 50, was baffled by three thefts in eight weeks. Rare lace doilies on an overstuffed chair in her living room had been vanishing. Police could not find a trace of the thief. Then Mrs. Lowry caught the culprit in the act. She spotted a squirrel snatching a fourth doily and scurrying up the chimney.

Unhealthy Confetti?

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — It appears Mobile's traditional showers of confetti at Mardi Gras parades will become a thing of the past. The City Commission directed that the city attorney draw up an ordinance making it illegal to sell or throw confetti on Mobile streets. It creates a health hazard, they said.

Judge Refuses to Free Goff

Asks Prosecutor Drop Murder Charge Against Former Flint Racer

Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty once again has refused to free accused killer Ray Goff of Flint.

Whether the 36-year-old former Flint motorcycle racer is to win his freedom now rests with the prosecutor's office, which has fought hard to send Goff to prison for the 1955 murder of the woman who jilted him.

Judge Doty suggested to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem and his Chief Assistant George F. Taylor yesterday that they drop the first-degree murder charge against Goff.

Ziem said he would decide by tomorrow whether to go along with the judge's suggestion. If he does, Judge Doty agreed to sign the order which would then release Goff from the county jail.

Judge Doty made the suggestion after first listening to a defense motion that he drop the charge against Goff. At the conclusion of the five - day trial last month the judge denied a motion by the defense that Goff be acquitted on grounds of insanity.

He is accused of killing Mrs. Rita M. Cummings, 27, a Flint divoreee, back in August of 1955. He was declared insane by four psychiatrists and sent to Ionia State Hospital. The prosecution pressed for conviction when he was discharged last December.

A jury was dismissed March 4 by the judge when it could not reach a verdict.

Although he refused to dismiss the charge himself, Judge Doty said "no self - respecting judge would allow a verdict of guilty to stand" against Goff.

Building Collapses, Trapping 2 Women

JACKSON (AP) — A building being wrecked collapsed on the S.S. Kresge store next door at 9 a.m. today, carrying down a portion of the store's roof and trapping two women kitchen workers under two tons of debris.

One woman was pulled free by rescuers, who said they were able to talk with the other.

Extent of the women's injuries was not determined immediately.

The building which collapsed was the Jackson Moose Temple, burned out by fire in February.

The section of store roof carried down was over the store's kitchen, where the women were at work.

Identity of the women was not established immediately.

Driest Month Since 1910, Says Mr. Weatherman

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit weatherman W. W. Oak reports that this March was the driest since 1910.

Not one drop of rain fell and only a very little snow.

Precipitation was less than half an inch. The dry record 48 years ago was four tenths of an inch.

The March dryness brings the precipitation total for the first three months of the year to 4.69 inches, making it the driest first quarters on Detroit records.

The Day in Birmingham

City Commission Okays New Zoning Ordinance

BIRMINGHAM—The new zoning ordinance for the city of Birmingham was adopted by the City Commission last night. It will become effective immediately after publication.

Revised parking station and sign ordinances, brought into line with the regular zoning ordinance, also were adopted.

Commissioners approved the printing of 2,000 ordinance booklets to be sold to the public at a nominal fee.

Mayor William Roberts said he felt the Planning Board and City Planner Herbert Herzberg deserved a great deal of credit for the way they drew up the new ordinance.

There has been a minimum of public criticism against it, he said.

In the second public hearing last night, commissioners adopted a motion to recognize the need of access drives on the east side of Hunter boulevard north of Maple avenue. Plans and costs will be prepared shortly, the board said.

Birmingham Police today urged better care of bicycles. The department is getting its usual spring wave of stolen bike reports, due mainly to youngsters leaving them overnight in yards, drives and on unlocked porches.

Police also said that proper licensing of a bike will aid officers in its recovery if lost or stolen. As with motor vehicles, the bike license creates a police record of serial number and other valuable information in identifying the bike.

The Auxiliary of Metropolitan Club Spirit 9 will hold its April meeting tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Walter Leipold, 550 Cranbrook Rd., Bloomfield Hills. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Merle Holmquist, Mrs. Glen Foltz, Mrs. Robert Schaule and Mrs. Stanley Pepperell.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

Mr. Vettraino died this morning at his home after a long illness. He had been gardener for the George Booth family and Cranbrook Institute for 53 years.

Surviving are his wife, Michela; three daughters, Mrs. Leon Ricelli of Birmingham, Mrs. Gerald Ross of Royal Oak and Annette at home; three sons, Dominic, John and Samuel, all of Bloomfield Hills; two brothers and three sisters in Italy.

HULK STILL AFLOAT

The City of Sydney radioed that the Skaubryn had been abandoned by 3:30 a.m. GMT today (10:30 p.m. EST Monday).

The burned-out, smoking hulk was still afloat when last seen by the City of Sydney.

Details of the rescue were slow in reaching the Western world because of the great communication distance.

School Aid Bill Passed Without Signature

LANSING (INS) — Michigan has a new $296 million school aid bill today.

The governor permitted the bill to become law without his signature because he said it is a "second-best" plan for education. The controversial bill contains a special state tax on whisky and cigarettes to help finance state school aid.

SEN. McNAMARA RESIGNS FROM COMMITTEE — Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich) yesterday announced his resignation from the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee. McNamara, who has accused some committee colleagues of anti-labor bias, told newsmen he was quitting because "I don't want to waste any more time on this committee."

GI Homeowners Warned of Gyp

Don't Give Up Equity to Racketeers, Advises VA Office

Veterans Administration and county officials have issued a warning to GI home buyers in the Pontiac area that they should check with them as soon as they encounter difficulty in making payments on home mortgages.

Floyd E. Cremer, deputy director of the Oakland County Veterans Affairs Dept., made this warning today on the heels of a disclosure of an alleged racket where GI's are being "fast-talked" out of their houses.

"In order that they do not fall into the trap of this scheme," Cremer said, "we urge those in trouble to check with us or their Veterans Administration office."

In brief, the scheme develops when a GI is about to have his mortgage foreclosed. He then is approached by one of the men in the alleged racket who offers to take over the equity on the home. The owner is unaware that under Michigan law he can stay in his home up to a year without making further payments.

The man that has taken over the home then rents it without making payments for the rest of the year, making a possible $1,000 or more on it.

Waterford Flushing Out Water System at Night

The entire Waterford Township water system is in the process of being flushed, according to Clerk James Seeterlin, and the operation is being done during the night.

Seeterlin explained that residents would get a certain amount of rust, if they were to use the water during the flushing operation, so employes are working throughout the township late at night, and into the early morning hours when the water consumption is light.

Help for State From New Federal Road Bill

Senate action passing the anti-recession road bill should be cheering news for more reasons than one. First, it will pour an additional $1,800,000 into Federal state funds for road building this year.

When final passage comes, which is expected shortly, it will provide approximately 88,000 new jobs this year. Before completion it is expected to employ in the neighborhood of a half million workers.

Aside from the jobs to be provided, the very important safety factor will be improved. This entire nation desperately needs bigger and more highways.

Every year traffic accidents alone in this country take an enormous toll in deaths. For the past few years figures show that between 38,000 and 40,000 people are killed. Some 1,400,000 are injured and the total cost reaches $5 billion.

This new Federal aid money will go a long ways toward providing more and safer highways. With our estimated 65 million motor vehicles now operating, our present road system is obsolete and no longer safe.

Oakland County, along with the entire state of Michigan, should do everything possible to see that we get our just share of this Federal money. If we do not participate, we will be lagging in our duty to the citizens of Michigan.

To insure highway safety we must improve our present roads and build a new system to provide for the growing traffic load.

President DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER has said, "A safe and efficient road network is absolutely essential to curtailment of death and injury, as well as to the national defense and to our expanding economy."

Indonesia's Troubles Fed by Communists

"It is already clear that the Soviet Union is taking sides officially in the fast moving civil war in Indonesia," says U. S. News & World Report. "Soviet arms and munitions are pouring into Java going to the pro-Communist Sukarno Government there."

Trouble has been spreading in Indonesia for more than a year. The resignation of Vice President MOHAMMED HATTA, who condemned attacks on Dutch interests, touched off revolts in a number of the islands. A former president of the Bank of Indonesia, SJAFRUDDIN, fled to Sumatra after protesting that disorderly anti-Dutch activities could result in turning Indonesia over to the Communists. In Sumatra he became head of an anti-Communist revolutionary regime.

The chief grievance is that outlying islands, of which Sumatra, population 13 million, is the largest, produce 75 per cent of the country's income from exports and that most of this money goes to the smaller island of Java with its population of 50 million. Understandably it is this economic fact which has turned Sumatrans against SUKARNO and his "guided democracy."

President SUKARNO has made no secret of his admiration for Communist ideology, insists on having Communists in his government and has gravitated more and more to the Communist side. When he visited this country not so long ago he quoted JEFFERSON and likened our Revolutionary War to Indonesia's fight for independence from the Dutch. There now is a parallel—SUKARNO himself appears to be the George III of Indonesia.

So far our official position is neutral although Sukarno has accused us of interference in Indonesia's internal affairs. The Southeast Treaty Organization, of which we are a member, is pledged to stop Red expansion down through Indochina toward Indonesia, Australia and New Zealand. The chief threat, therefore, is Communist aggression.

The Man About Town

More Sensible

Old Time Custom Now Gets Only a Slight Attention

Fool: Often he who is so dubbed is the only one in the party who isn't.

The first day of April, still designated by a steadily growing few as

"All Fools' Day,"

no longer draws much attention. According to he made a test one year ago today that brought interesting results.

Eugene Tardie,

He placed a dummy money wallet on the walk in front of the court house, and watched it for an hour, with nobody falling for the trick. A few paused and gave it a casual glance a couple of boys gave it a kick. A woman chided her dog for attempting to pick it up. But nobody "bit."

The next day the same wallet was put in the same location, and within two minutes was picked up by a well dressed man, who sneaked around the corner before opening it, and then with a chagrined look, threw it back.

Perhaps it is the spirit of the times that makes people cautious and wary — especially on All Fools' Day.

According to my encyclopedia, the crazy observance of the day originated in obscurity, probably by some ancient wise guy. Its first mention in print is in an old English almanac in 1760, only a few years before our colonies fooled George III, and proved to him that 13 was his unlucky number. Bismarck was born on that day in 1815, and he did a lot of international fooling.

For knowing the inside, outside and all other sides of sport I've never known anybody to discount who was a big league baseball player himself. He also mixed in other sports in a prominent way, and still is almost infallible on statistics. In every phase of the meaning, Goodloe is my idea of an all around good sport.

Goodloe Rogers,

Another river rises in Oakland County. The headwaters of the Flint River are in a lake in Oxford Township. It leaves our county a couple of miles later.

A southern railroad calls its diner

"The Chew-Chew Car."

If you're living out of tin cans and glass jars you have a lot of good company. The magazine that keeps a check on such things, reports that 23 billions of them were made last year.

Food Engineering,

The owner of a small Pontiac store, who wishes to be known only as tells me of a family who moved from here to Detroit a few years ago, leaving a $14.50 account with him unpaid. He was unable to locate them, but a couple of weeks ago the man walked into the store, asked forgiveness, and tendered a $25 check, saying, "Take an additional two bucks for interest." He was given the $8.50 in cash. And the check has bounced.

Hoping It Gets Into Orbit

David Lawrence Says:

Hold Summit Talks in Large Arena

WASHINGTON — Some people hereabouts are always urging our own government to take the propaganda "initiative" away from the Soviets. This correspondent has been cogitating about it for some time now and, with all due humility, offers a plan that may at least achieve a high point in dramatic technique.

LAWRENCE

First, inasmuch as the Kremlin wants a "show" or a spectacular demonstration of some kind, let the "summit" conference be a show and let it be held in Madison Square Garden, New York City, where it can be witnessed by millions of persons day in and day out.

SELL TV RIGHTS

Second, let an admission fee be charged and the TV rights sold for a big sum. Then let all the proceeds be distributed to the families of the thousands of Hungarian patriots who were killed or maimed in the recent attempt of the Hungarian people to regain their freedom.

Third, if the foregoing—which requires international agreement—cannot be achieved, let there be some "unilateral" decisions made. This means that, without any agreement with the other party, one side takes it upon itself to stop doing certain things that are harmful to people in another country.

Thus, the Soviet government could stop oppressing the people of Poland, Bulgaria, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania. This is far more important than to stop "testing" nuclear bombs.

For it is asserted by the scientists that the amount of radioactivity from nuclear tests isn't any more harmful than medical X-rays or the luminous rays of a wrist watch.

As for the police measures taken by the Kremlin to deprive millions of persons in Eastern Europe of thier liberties, this is much more damaging to mankind. Indeed, many people would prefer death to any enslaved life under Communist tyranny.

Another "unilateral" decision Moscow could take would be to open up her radio and television to ambassadors from foreign countries just as America does.

TRAVEL ANYWHERE

Still another bit of "unilateral" righteousness which the Communists could exhibit would be to let law-abiding citizens of other countries travel where they like inside the Soviet Union.

"Unilateral" is a big word nowadays in the propaganda of the Communists. It implies self-denial and a wish to go ahead with good deeds irrespective of whether an adversary does the same. But, strictly speaking, the latest proposal of the Soviets isn't one-sided at all.

While agreeing to give up the testing of nuclear bombs for a while, the threat is also made to resume testing later on if the United States doesn't also agree to stop testing. So it's really a maneuver that merely publicizes a fake desire for an international arrangement to stop testing. The United States has all along advocated the same objective but has insisted on a system of safeguards to prevent concealment or cheating.

There is a place where this kind of agreement can be negotiated. It's in the United Nations Disarmament Commission. But the Soviets have not been willing thus far to go again to that body for further talks. It's really a boycott of the United Nations. The Communists seem to prefer the theatrical stuff which, they believe, will deceive the world, including many gullible persons in America.

So maybe the Madison Square Garden idea is the answer after all. Of course, nothing would be agreed to there, but this would also be true of any other type of conference.

For there will be no peace until menacing dictatorships are overthrown and the world has been made "safe for democracy." This was a World War I slogan, but it is even more pertinent today when some of the large empires of the past which nourished freedom are being broken into fragments due to alleged "nationalistic" feeling, only to have these smaller countries gathered one by one under the yoke of Soviet imperialism. Meanwhile, the remainder of the free world, threatened by aggression, staggers under the heavy cost of armament.

It would be relatively inexpensive to carry the true story to the peoples behind the Iron Curtain so that they will know that the appeasers in our midst are not the spokesmen of the West. It is important that the oppressed peoples should never feel they have been forsaken.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Iron-Ammonium Citrates Hit Fast-Buck Interests?

"We have five children and there is little money available for medical bills. I had been under treatment by the doctor for nearly a year for anemia. The medicine he prescribed cost $6 plus. I seemed to remain . . . for 50 cents the druggist sold me two ounces of 'garnet red scales of iron-and-ammonium citrates.' I prepared the solution as directed in your booklet, began taking it daily, and it put me on my feet so quickly and for so little I just couldn't believe it possible. Recently you said the medicine is hard to find . . . (Mrs. E. B.)"

DR. BRADY

In the latest edition of the booklet Blood and Health, for which you send me 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope, I say:

"For years I recommended a simple domestic remedy for anemia — an ounce of iron-and-ammonium-citrates, in the form of thin, transparent, garnet-red scales or granules, dissolved in four fluid ounces of boiled water.

"For some reason I have not discovered, this iron preparation, formerly included in the United States and British Pharmacopoeias, is no longer available."

Why not? Well, what do you think?

In the Blood and Health booklet I recommend what I believe is the most efficacious and inexpensive form of iron now available for domestic use. If my efforts in this direction get me arrested, I'll go quietly, with a clear conscience.

"I see it today all around me," continues Mrs. E. B. — "the easy manner in which we are duped, for lack of simple knowledge or honest information regarding nutrition and health. Why?"

My stars, if Mrs. E. B. doesn't understand even now, I may as well go holler down the rain barrel.

It's a horrible thought, but sometimes it does seem that as the fast buck interests grow bolder and bolder, the general public, the laity, the consumers grow meeker and meeker and even more gullible.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Learn How to Pay Compliments

Janie needs plenty of compliments and so do those in the grandparent generation. But most people don't know the right way to bestow praise. So study this case carefully and then watch your family the next time they greet Grandpa. I'll wager that three times out of four they'll make the mistake mentioned below. Check me on this.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE X-368: Janie J., aged 5, is the attractive daughter of a popular city clergyman.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, just look at the parishioners 'gush' over Janie," a school teacher quietly observed, as we stood a little apart.

And I watched them tell Janie "how cute" she was and "what a darling," etc.

Indirectly, these parishioners were really making a "play" for the attention and favor of the popular clergyman.

And this sort of thing goes on all over the land. It is a wonder that the children of leaders of all types, including the clergymen, ever do surmount such flattery.

But most of them fortunately get enough "horse sense" instilled into them at home to offset the fawning and sycophantic "gush" which shower upon them in public.

HOW PRAISE CHILDREN

Praise is a very fine thing to use on children. But be sure you know how to praise a child.

Don't focus your praise on things which are beyoud the youngster's control and for which he deserves no credit.

If a child thus has colored a Sunday school poper very well, praise the coloring job. But don't flatter the child!

For when you heap compliments on the youngster, he tends to grow egotistical and vain.

So praise his products and his accomplishments, for then you divert his attention to his work, which is a more wholesome procedure.

Which of the following two forms of praise is thus the better?

"Janie, you are a wonderful little girl."

"Janie, you did a very good job of setting the table for your mother."

Obviously, the second type of compliment is superior. Now try the next pair below.

"Janie, you brushed your teeth very well for they now look as white as pearls."

"Janie, you are a beautiful little girl and look like a doll."

PRAISE OLDSTERS

In dealing with the grandparent generation, we also need to use more gumption.

"Hello, Grandpa, how are you?" is the typical greeting we extend to such relatives.

And that query immediately directs Grandpa's thinking INWARD upon his aches and pains, so we have simply furnished a cue to let him start boring the audience with his many symptoms.

Instead of such an unwise query, use one of the following:

"Hello, Grandpa, how is your garden progressing?"

"Hello, Grandma, have you made any more quilts since I last saw you?"

Obviously, those greetings turn the attention of the oldsters OUTWARD upon their products instead of inward upon their bowel or heart or gall bladder, etc.

Leave it to us physicians to ask about Grandpa's health. The rest of you laymen should extrovert his attention upon politics or the weather or his garden or chickens and other hobbies.

Oldsters relish praise and don't receive enough of it, but use the same principle with Grandpa that you do with five-year-old Janie and direct your compliments to his accomplishments.

As a little game, just observe the rest of your family the next time they greet Grandma or Grandpa.

I'll wager 3 times out of four they will violate the above advice by starting out with a "Hello, Grandpa, how are you feeling?"

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Asks Extensive Local Plan to Fight Current Recession

The current move to sell more cars isn't enough. We who aren't affected by layoff or short work week must go out and buy those commodities we have been needing (which we can afford) that we would have bought before this had we not been frightened into tightening up by pessimists everywhere.

We've now experienced the results of our failure to buy — the long lines waiting for unemployment checks. Next we'll face this same line of people waiting for emergency food rations outside the Welfare office when unemployment compensation runs out.

Let's make it felt everywhere — the appliance stores, the ready-to-wear clothing outlets, the automobile dealerships, etc. We have everything to gain and nothing to lose.

'WJR News Editor Answers Critic'

A writer complained of the broadcast quality of some telephone reports which are used on some of our WJR news and sports programs.

The tape recorder and beep telephone line have become important instruments in radio journalism, permitting us on-the-spot reports from places where news is being made in much faster time than installing a broadcast line would permit. Admittedly there are times when the telephone line is noisy, but we use these marginal lines only when we consider the story has sufficient weight. You should hear some of the tapes that are rejected.

The aim of WJR is to bring the news as it happens from reporters closest to its happening. Sometimes this entails purposely sacrificing sound quality in order to gain added timeliness and color in our news presentation. Generally, the public reaction has been favorable.

'You Got What You Voted For'

According to the press, radio and TV, people are worried about this depression. Well, that is tough, but what can you expect? Remember the Republican slogans, "Time for a Change," "Had Enough."

Most of you good people voted Republican, so they gave you your change. First General Motors was given a chance to run the government for a while, then taxes were reduced on some luxury items such as fur coats. Big business got some tax relief. They don't say much about that now.

But remember, we taxpayers are loaded, or so say the bank records, but they show only how much money is on deposit, not if this money is held by factory workers or business men, stockholders or corporations.

'Government Is at Parrot Stage'

They say after a man gets old, he reaches a parrot stage and all he does is talk. I'm inclined to believe this, especially in our executive and legislative branches of government. They talked of helping the unemployed who had exhausted their compensation payments. Now they've decided they can't do anything until the first of June. Meanwhile women and children go without.

Tito's government can ask for a few hundred million and get it right away. Why didn't some of those birds come up with an idea like extending payments in the form of a loan to be repaid at perhaps five cents an hour deduction when men return to work? Then those that need it could continue drawing payment and those that don't need it or don't care to repay it could leave it to those in need.

I know there are weak spots in an idea like this, but I haven't heard anything better.

'No Use in Asking for Second FDR'

About the letter asking God for another FDR, I don't think it would do any good. We have a just God, and there isn't another and I hope there will never be. FDR said, "I hate wah, my sons hate wah, Eleanor hates wah and there will be no American blood spilled on foreign soil." Was it true? I guess what he meant was no Democrat blood. They talk about Ike playing golf. HST didn't play because he didn't know how.

State Plans Widening, Resurfacing Streets

City to Consider M24 Routes

State Highway Department plans for widening Perry street and resurfacing Opdyke road will be placed before the City Commission for approval tonight.

In the planning stage for many months, the Perry project calls for widening the existing street to four lanes from Huron street northeast to Opdyke at M24 dual highway to Lake Orion.

The city's share of the cost, approximately one-eighth of the total, would be $250,000 for widening as far as Walton boulevard, the city limits.

The Opdyke project, on the other hand, was announced just last week as a measure by the state to provide construction jobs for the unemployed.

It has been estimated to cost $160,000, with the city paying $20,000. Besides being repaved from Square Lake road to Walton, the road would also be widened four feet.

In addition, 11 public hearings on the 1958 public improvement program are scheduled. Five of them involve the city's intention to install curbs and gutters on the following streets.

Adelaide street, Oakland to one lot east of Baldwin; Harriett street, Cadillac to Adelaide; LeGrande avenue, Baldwin to Euclid; W. New York avenue, Baldwin to Walton and Gladstone place, Cooper to Edison.

The others are on acceptance of special assessment rolls on these curb and gutter projects.

Ann Arbor avenue, Carlisle to Stanley; Cornell avenue, Baldwin to Carlisle; Euclid avenue, from High street east about two blocks; Kinney road, Oakland to Stanley; Stanley avenue, Kinney to Kennett and Wyoming avenue, Bagley to Franklin road.

'..Hate Everything I Do,' Says Judy Holliday

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — All ye who are shy unto shaking at the thought of appearing before the public — behold your mentor, the titan of the twitch: Miss Judy Holliday.

"I am," said Miss Holliday, gently applying her false eyelashes, " 'Miss Coffee Nerves' of any year.

"I always hate everything I do. I throw up. Even if it's a crumby radio show with a script, I am scared senseless. You think other people get it this bad? . . . Look at my palms."

She stretched our her palms. They were a dermatologist's dream on a bad night. "They start out just being sweaty, then they get blisters, then they peel. Any time you look at my hands and they're bumpy, you know I'm trying something new."

What's new? Miss Holliday was asked.

She replied that she is recording an album of songs, her first, with the throaty, belting voice she has developed for her role in the long-run musical "Bells Are Ringing." She says it's ridiculous, of course, that she should be nervous about singing in front of a mike, with no audience, but it's "new."

That's what she can't take, the newness of doing anything. "It's too much imagination, I guess. I can picture great failure and great success in my mind, with equal vividness. But when it comes to the moment to TRY the something new, only the failure stands out.

"When I'm day-dreaming, I know I'm just day-dreaming. But when I'm nightmaring—that looks true. Very true.

Miss Holliday, who's known as a perfectionist in the theater, thinks most actresses are likely to be nervous, but not quite so violent about it as she. "Tallulah Bankhead, for instance, got really mad at me. I was appearing on a radio show she used to have, and Tallulah called in Ethel Barrymore to calm me down.

"She told Ethel, 'You've got to do something with this girl—she gets nervous and cries and vomits.' And this made me feel good—Ethel tells Tallulah, 'Lay off her. I'm 72, and every time I try a new show I don't think I'm gonna make it.'"

Judy smiled beatifically. "That was sweet, wasn't it?"

Then she shrugged. "It didn't help."

There are two phases of her personal life Judy doesn't want to discuss, from either a vision viewpoint or from fact. They are her recent divorce from David Oppenheimer after eight contented years of marriage, and the rumors of a once-hot, now-cold romance between Judy and her leading man, Sydney Chaplin. Of the latter, she says glibly:

"That was a newspaperman's dream, that one—not mine." But you know how gullible her mind is. "They almost had me believing it."

Queen Mary No Longer to Rock 'n' Roll

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — Marine engineers took the 81,237-ton steamship Queen Mary out to sea and deliberately rocked the boat as hard as they could.

They announced today that they had taken just about all of the roll out of the luxury liner.

After the overhaul, costing nearly 1½ milloin dollars, the ship will resume her trips across the Atantic Wednesday on the first real run with her new stabilizers. She is due in New York April 7.

The designers predicted that the ship will not roll more than 3 degrees— that is 1½ degrees each way. The saving in smashed dishes alone should amount to thousands of dollars a yaar.

In her 23 years at sea, the Queen Mary has sailed through some ferocious weather, and on occasion has rolled 30 degrees.

The big vessel was taken off Land's End for the trials yesterday, and astonished skippers of other craft reported there seemed to be a drunken driver at the helm.

The ship was made to roll, by erratic steering and by using the twin stabilizers — two fine-like protuberances under the water on either side.

Rolls of 9 degrees were attained and then, with adjustment of the stabilizers, the vessel was brought to an even keel in a matter of seconds.

Wool-Knit Versatile This Spring

Wool knitwear, adaptable, packable and wearable in any climate, is high fashion in the spring collections. It sheds wrinkles, holds its shape, can be worn north, south, west, east or in the tropics. It goes to cocktail parties and dinners now, can be dressed up or down. In some cases, the removal of a little jacket turns a daytime ensemble into a dinner dress. Both designs shown here are by Goldworm.

The sheath in solid royal blue wool knit appears in company with its own jacket. Jacket is striped in blue-and-white, clips off to reveal sheath with simple, straight lines and very narrow straps.

A wool knit dress that's all delicate, carefully engineered line is this design for late-day wear. Diamond-shaping through the bodice gives this design its sleek fit.

Bridge Winners

Mr. and Mrs. George Reutter were winners north and south and Donald Bowen and Donald Stephenson were winners east and west when members of the Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club met at Elks Temple Monday evening.

A suit with a double life — for town or country — is this charcoal wool skirt topped by a tweed jacket of charcoal, red and blue plaid.

Michigan PTA Slates April 22-23 Convention

MUSKEGON — Plans are fast taking shape here at Muskegon for the 41st annual convention of the Michigan PTA April 22-23.

Delegates will attend from communities across the state. Representatives are expected from the 1,990 local PTA units and the 104 councils in Michigan. More than 4,000 local officers and leaders will jam this western Michigan port community.

MAIN TOPIC

"The Relationship of the PTA to the School", will be the main topic for the consideration of the convention. A distinguished panel of educators will discuss this topic.

Selected already for the panel are Everett Luce, Midland, president of the National Association of School Boards; Carl Spitler, Petoskey superintendent, and Miss Laurentine Collins of the Detroit public schools.

The convention will open the morning of April 22 with workshop conferences covering PTA activities and educational problems. The business meeting will follow that afternoon, with a major address that evening.

General sessions and smaller workshops are slated for Wednesday, with installation of officers as the final event Wednesday evening.

SHORTER PARLEY

The streamlined event is packed into two days this year, rather than the former three-day calendar.

"The local PTA organization can greatly increase its effectiveness through participation in the state convention," points out Mrs. Charles Neldrett of Mariva Avenue, state president.

"The local delegates will gain information, instruction and inspiration to provide a new and powerful impetus to improve local programs," she continues.

Relaxed Look Doesn't Refer to Your Figure

DALLAS, Tex. (INS)—Southwestern women are going all-out for the chemise this spring, but the relaxed look doesn't mean they can relax their figures.

The Greater Dallas Fashion Market at its spring clinic stressed that the bust must be reshaped and the hips rigidly controlled — by a decided change in foundations.

Here is what your foundation must do:

Give a flatter, more rounded shape to the bust. The chemise that falls from a pointed, protruding bust is held too far from the body to be graceful.

Give less definition at the waistline to camouflage the tummy.

Emphasize the derriere instead of flattening it, and be at its tightest around the hips.

Dear Abby . . .

Has Cash Register Instead of a Heart

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law should be told off but I am not the one to do it. She never gives one cent to the Polio Fund, United Crusade, TB Seals, Cancer or Heart because she says if these causes fall short, the government makes up the deficit.

ABBY

She never even had the deed to her farm registered because she doesn't want to pay taxes on it. The only reason she paid her poll tax this year was because she's been asked to help in the elections and they will pay her for it.

She burns me up but I have been taught to respect my elders. What's the matter with her anyway?

BURNED UP

DEAR BURNED: Your mother-in-law is a medical miracle. She has a cash register where her heart belongs. P.S. The government does NOT make up deficits for the above-mentioned causes.

DEAR ABBY: To the lady who complained because her husband read in her face all the time: Let him read, Dear Lady. I was married to a man who used to read in my face all the time. He was a great one for not even answering me when I talked to him because he had a book, a magazine or newspaper in his hand.

I'd get so mad at him I would scold him in two languages. He passed away a year ago, and now I would give anything in the world to see him sitting in his chair, reading. Let him read, Dear Lady, let him read.

SORRY

DEAR ABBY: My name is Lucille and I don't mind telling you I look like a Sherman tank. I have tried every starvation diet I have ever heard of. I lose 10 pounds and gain back 20.

I drool when I see nice looking clothes because I know I can't wear them. Please give me a foolproof diet or tell me what to do.

LUCILLE

DEAR LUCILLE: Nobody has to look like a Sherman tank. What you need is a visit to your family doctor. He will check your metabolism and give you a diet. If you follow his instructions you will lose weight—but not unless. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: First, I want to say that I trust my husband no matter what anybody says. I have a girl friend who is not married and she works in the same office with my husband.

She is always telling me that my husband has lunch with this divorcee (and some other people from the office) almost every day. I know about this because my husband tells me. It never came to my mind to be jealous but she brought it up. How should I handle her?

NOT JEALOUS

DEAR NOT: Tell her to put her needle away—you know you've got your husband sewed up.

Sack Dresses Push Through Iron Curtain

MOSCOW (INS) — The Paris "sack" look has penetrated the Iron Curtain.

According to Moscow Radio, fashionable women in the Russian capital are wearing a modification of the shapeless, waistless look.

"Dresses in Moscow," the radio report said, "are now straight cut, something like the 'sack' ones fashionable in Europe."

Generally the fashions follow the Western world trend in that they are slender and dresses generally are light in color.

Shimmy of '20s Returns to Undercover Fashion

NEW YORK (INS)—A true chemise, says the dictionary, is "a loose undergarment worn by women to cover the torso."

Undergarment, not dress — and that's exactly what the chemise was in the '20s. They called it "shimmy" or "teddy" then, but it was always the same—a loose, garment that slithered from bosom to thigh, with tiny shoulder straps and usually a button-in crotch.

Well, hang on to your two-way stretch: The true chemise is being revived for wear under the so-called "chemise" dress. For girls of this generation it should provide quite a fashion sensation — there's nothing in this undergarment to hold you up, push you in or firm you out.

At least four major manufacturers are readying streamlined 1958 versions of the chemise for spring sale. They're being made in nylon or dacron, with a bit of shaping under the bustline and lots of lace at the hipline. Retail prices run from around $6 up.

Girls with figures which don't have to be corseted should find the revival of chemises a pleasure — especially for warm weather wear. But girls who ordinarily need a bra and girdle should be warned: A chemise only covers, it does not control.

Look for the Tag

Do new fabrics and fabric mixtures confuse you? Look for the manufacturer's tak fhen you buy. Then ask the salesgirl anything further you need to know.

Paris Features Light Fabrics in Misty Hues

PARIS (NEA) — The fabrics of Paris this spring are lightweight, cloudlike and misty in color.

The big, bulky look of many suits and coats is achieved with just such lightweight fabric. Usually, this bulky look is reserved for winter coats, but this season it appears in all the collections.

Open - weave tweeds, basket weaves and knit-like woolens, fabric mixing orlon with wool, lightweight taffetas and light chiffons, prints which simulate woolens, floral prints and printed stripes on chiffons are just some of the fabric ideas making news.

Colors are luscious: Mauve, bright turquoise, periwinkle, orange and pink and light blues, almond green, poppy red and bright yellowish greens spark the collections.

Try Some Decorating Tricks for Extra-Special Easter Eggs

Interested in simple tricks for decorating Easter eggs? One of the simplest ways to color the hard cooked Easter eggs is to use wax crayons. "Homespun" designs of many colors can be drawn quickly and effectively with crayons on white eggs.

Stripes are eye-catching. To achieve stripes and colors on the eggs use crayons and dyes. Draw the stripes with a white wax crayon before dipping. The dye will not "take" through the wax. This process can be repeated several times on each egg for a handsome effect. Start with a light-color dye, such as yellow, then follow with pink and then purple.

Another effective method is to cover the entire surface of an egg with wax crayons of various colors, then scratch out a message (fingernails work fine for this).

Poster paint, obtainable at stores selling stationery and other office supplies, can also be used to stamp a design on Easter eggs. The rubber tip of a pencil makes nice polka dots.

Other shaped stamps can be cut easily from an art gum eraser, a potato, or a piece of cork. Should the paint not adhere well to the shell, mix several dashes of liquid detergent into it.

To achieve an unusual stippled effect, use a small sponge held by a clothespin to daub the paint on the surface of the egg.

WINDOW EFFECT

A stained-glass window effect can be obtained by painting a window pattern with several poster paints, leaving unpainted spaces or channels between each color.

When dry, cover entire surface with India ink and when that dries thoroughly, wash the egg under cold water. The ink floats off the painted sections and stays on the unpainted spaces.

Using colored modeling clay, make long ropes and use them to spiral the egg. Place the egg in an extra daub of clay to make it stand on end.

Bits and pieces of white or pink modeling clay can be used to model funny faces on the eggs.

At 71, J. J. Yingling of Minco, Okla., has his original teeth and lift 100 pounds with them.

A tendency to hippiness or too prominent bust, rules out the chemise but the new Chanel suit conceals these figure problems easily.

Suits are important with the short, loose, hip-length jackets featured for spring. Considered in relation to current skirt lengths, which are short and mostly straight, this longer jacket is good proportion.

Cocktail Placed on Table

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am often invited to business luncheons. Invariably there is a cocktail at each one's place at table. I do not drink anything alcoholic. Would it be proper to offer my cocktail to the person sitting next to me, or should I just leave it untouched at my place?"

Answer: Cocktails should certainly not be poured ahead of time and allowed to grow warm waiting at each place at the table. They should be passed, at which time you could refuse an alcoholic one and take a tomato or fruit juice one, which should also be on the tray.

When you find one at your place as you described, you may offer it to either of the persons sitting next to you who has finished his (or her) own, or you may leave it untouched to be taken away by the waiter.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have just recently divorced by husband and as I have many friends and acquaintances throughout the country, I would like to notify them of this since they will have no way of hearing about it otherwise. Could I send out some sort of announcement to this effect, or just what would you suggest under the circumstances?"

Answer: Further than writing personal notes to your really intimate friends, there is nothing you can do. It would be unthinkable to send out general announcements.

"Dear Mrs. Post: At the wedding reception (sit-down collation) should the parents of the bride and bridegroom be seated at this table with them? Wouldn't it be pleasanter if each family had its own table and best friends seated with them?"

Answer: There is no fixed rule, but it is most usual — especially when the bridegroom's family are strangers — for the bride's parents, as hosts, to seat the bridegroom's parents at their table. Any grandparents would be seated at this same table and possibly the clergyman (and his wife).

'First Aid' Kit Cleans Rugs and Upholstery

CHICAGO (INS) — After the party, there are bound to be signs of your guests—spots.

But now there is a "first aid" kit for rugs and upholstery, which includes a dial system to find out how to remove a particular stain.

The kit also includes a carpet brush, and five different cleaning solutions to use in combating 55 different spots.

If you notice a guest spill a drink or accidentally drop a face sandwich on its gooey side on an arm chair, don't make a production of cleaning it up.

But do have a towel handy to sop up the liquid or goo while the stain is fresh. Save the major brushup and clean-up for later—when the guests have gone.

Two Bathrooms Insure Harmony

When two people share the same bedroom, an individual bath for each one makes for harmonious living.

If she wants to hang her nylons over the shower rod, he doesn't have to have them flapping in his face. And if each wants a tub bath at the same time — well, there's no conflict!

Too Much 'Dessert' Steals Study Time

As a parent, there's one thing I'd like to suggest to the country educators, who are all hepped up now about cramming more science and mathematics into our children's heads.

It's just this: before we start cramming more into their brains, we've got to get rid of a few ideas the schools have already put there.

One is the idea that popularity is the most important thing in the world. High schools that have been electing "class favorites" for years had better start soft-pedaling popularity.

Another is the idea that making the football team is a far greater achievement than making straight A's. And don't think the schools haven't encouraged this notion.

Who are given sweaters by the school, written up in the school paper, made heroes of at pep rallies? It's not the superior students who get that kind of applause. It's the kids who make the football team.

And what about all those extra-curricular activities that take up so much of the student's time. How is he going to have more time for stuyding, unless he spends less time as a member of half a dozen school-sponsored organizations?

I'm not saying our high school kids ought to give up everything for studying. I'm just saying they aren't going to take to an increased amount of learning unless something else gives.

If you have a teenager in your own family, you know what a hectic life he leads. If anyone is going to try to make him more of a student than he is, some of the extras he is spending his time on are going to have to go.

If we want him to get the main course—which is a good, sound education he really has to work to acquire—then we'll have to quit giving him his dessert first.

Which is just what the schools have been doing with their emphasis on social life, popularity, sports, girls' drill teams to perform between halves at football games and all the other frosting.

Knee Patches Help

Safety note: Sew knee patches of any rough washable fabric to baby's overalls. They will protect the child from slipping and possible injury during the crawling stage.

Some Sacks Can Be Worn Back to Front

If you put some of the new waistless chemises on backwards, nobody'll be able to tell the difference.

New York designer Luis Estevez says he found this out when a fashion magazine took one of his chemises to photograph, and happily photographed it backwards.

Estevez now calls it the "either way" dress and lets women wear a simple sleeveless chemise with a high cowl neck on one side and a dipping bow on the other. Looks good worn either way, since there is absolutely no waistline.

Overblouse Continues to Be in Fashion Favor

NEW YORK (NEA) — The overblouse, looking its best on a slim and willowy figure, goes into a second spring this year.

It's worn both with suits and skirts. In either case, it can achieve a costume look

When you buy one of the new overblouses, it's a good idea to try it on with the skirt for which it's intended so that you know exactly how it's going to look.

The chances are that it will look its best with a slim and narrow skirt or one that's pleated.

Generally, it's banded in at the hipline which means it's not a fashion for those with a hip problem

Blouse collars follow the standaway trend of suit collars this season and merge cuffed, cowled, in bateau, modified scoop or draped scarf form.

Be Enthusiastic

If you are a houseguest, be enthusiastic about the town or city or section of the country in which your host and hostess live. It may not be home to you, but it is to them.

Reserve 'Dears'

Save your "dears" and "darlings" for those you care about — if you don't want to make yourself sound cheap. Terms of affection should be used only when speaking to someone for whom you feel real affection.

Cure Several Ills at Once

These 2 Exercises Are Bargains

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I bend and sway,
Do rolls and leaps,
Until my family almost weeps.

But when I'm slim
They brag and say,
"Sure am glad
You got that way."

Today exercise is so much a part of woman's life that it is not at all unusual for a man, upon his return home, to find his wife standing on her head in a corner, swinging her leg back and forth over the coffee table, or rolling and bumping with sound effects somewhat similar to distant thunder.

Men may not like the mechanics of a beauty routine but they love the results.

Today I want to give you a couple of bargains in exercise. Actually, the average modern woman does not have time for long, laborious exercise routines. She wants a few exercises which do several things each. The following one is reducing and firming to the hips and abdomen and gives the waist a nice workout.

Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms out at your sides, shoulder height (resting on the floor). With stiff knees swing both legs over toward the left hand. Raise the legs up to right angles to the body.

Continue on toward the right until legs are resting on the floor at the right side of the body. Swing the legs from the right hand on around to the left hand, keeping the feet close to the floor but not touching the floor. Again raise the legs up and continue.

Here is another which gives the abdomen a nice stretch and is corrective to round shoulders:

Lie on the floor on your abdomen, legs straight. Place the hands on the floor, one hand just a little in front of each bust. Straighten the elbows as you raise the head and trunk and arch the back. Keep the legs on the floor.

Quickly release the hands and rock forward. Place the hands on the floor and again straighten elbows, push from the hands and arch the back.

This is an easy exercise but it takes certain timing or knack. The secret is to keep the knees stiff (women always want to bend them) and arch the back well. Tilt your head backward as you arch your back. Soon you will find yourself rocking back and forth.

If you would like to have my "Combination Exercises" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 5 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Are You a Color Sissy? Get Out of 'One-Color Rut.'"

This is a good bargain exercise. It gives the abdomen a nice stretch and is corrective to round shoulders. From this position, release the hands and rock forward.

Scrub for Fitness

Scrub floors for physical fitness, advises a feminine expert on health. Some of the best exercises for women, she says, are done on hands and knees and utilize floor-scrubbing motions.

Even Girls Can Work for the FBI

NEW YORK (INS) — Even girls can work for the FBI — as office workers.

Like special agents, male and female clerical workers must undergo extensive investigations before they are hired, with special note made of their good character, associations, schooling, lack of police records, etc.

According to John E. Edwards, assistant special agent in charge of the administrative division of the New York office, clerical workers, typists, stenographers and secretaries all must hold high school diplomas. They must be at least 17 years old.

START AT $2,900

Clerical workers for the Federal Bureau of Investigation earn a starting salary of $2,900, with typists receiving $3,165 and stenographers $3,450. From 5,000 to 6,000 hold such positions today.

The FBI holds classes for office workers to improve their typing and shorthand speed, enabling job-holders to jump from one category to another. Another possibility for would-be FBI employes is the specialized technical fields, in which Edwards admitted "There aren't too many openings."

Chemists, toxologists, cryptoanalysts and similar highly specialized peopled people are hired from time to time as laboratory staffers.

Girl Scouts Invited to Visit Sherwood

Troop Tramping Day will be held at Camp Sherwood, Girl Scout resident camp near Lapeer, on Monday, April 7, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Brownies, Intermediate and Senior Scouts, accompanied by their leaders, have been invited to visit and to explore the camp. Visitors have been advisd to bring lunches as no cooking facilities will be available that day. Candy and beverages will be sold at the snack bar.

Low, Shapely Heels Hold Spring's Colorful Shoes

NEW YORK (NEA) — Spring shoes are true beauties. Light, soft and delicate, glowing with color, they are perched on the new low and shapely heels.

Once upon a time, a girl went out and bought a pair of navy blue pumps for spring.

In 1958, she'll need (and want) a shoe wardrobe which includes the T-strap pump, the low-heeled evening shoe, the eyelet tie, the sandal combining two or more colors and the pump in one or two colors. She may, of course, want shoes other than these but these are certainly basic.

She'll have her pick of soft, light leathers which have a glove - like feel on the foot. She'll also be able to buy, for the first time, the shoe with the washable white leather sole.

As heel heights become lower, they also become much more shapely. They curve under the shoe in a very good semblance of 18th Century elegance.

Brilliant prints on leather and vivid colors coupled with lightweight construction make shoes a real spring tonic.

The trend to lower heels has brought back that favorite of the 1930's: The stacked heel. It's used both for casual and for daytime shoes.

But the 1958 version is slimmer and more graceful than the original. And it's paired with a leather upper in a far lighter weight.

Extended leather soles appear on dressy shoes as well as on casual styles. The new white washable sole leather is a story in itself, and a fascinating one.

In addition to the operas he wrote with W. S. Gilbert, Sir Arthur Sullivan also composed, on his own, songs and oratorios.

Citizens, Police Join Roundup of Cattle in Streets

EL DORADO, Kan. (AP)—An impromptu rodeo developed in El Dorado's business district last night, with all available policemen and about 2,000 residents taking part.

A Sante Fe freight train and a truck hauling 22 yearling cattle collided at a downtown crossing. The impact spun the truck into a parked car and both vehicles crashed through the front of a store.

The cattle got loose and stampeded through the business district. A big crowd gathered and finally rounded up all the cattle.

The truck driver, William Rosenkranz, 65, Moline, Kan., was not hurt seriously.

Anna Taylor, a woman, was the first person ever to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel and survive. This was in 1901.

Hal Boyle Says:

If He Smokes Your Pack, Look Out, Girls

NEW YORK (AP)—Science at last has done something positive for single girls anxious to pick the right kind of husband.

How can a sincere girl be sure what kind of a personality a man has? It's very simple. All she has to do is find out whether he smokes—and how much.

For a recent scientific study of some Harvard students disclosed an interesting thing about the habit of smoking. It seems to divide the sheep and the goats.

The study showed that heavy smokers have peppery personalities. They are independent, restless, and if there is a war on they want to grab a gun and go right into combat. But this same aggressiveness and independence makes them something of a problem in the home. They have a lot of marital troubles.

Nonsmokers, on the other hand, tend to have porridge personalities, the survey found. They are bland as skim milk and dependable as a time clock. If there is a war they prefer to be the man behind the man at the front. They are more likely to make safe, obedient husbands.

A girl now has a simple guide for picking the kind of mate she wants. All she has to do is artfully open a pack of cigarettes and hand it to the potential victim.

If he draws back with a look of utter horror on his face, she knows that here is a guy who will carry out the garbage for her uncomplainingly all his life. He will probably also hang the living room drapes for her, and perhaps even sew them himself.

If he accepts a cigarette, takes a tentative puff and turns green, she knows about him, too. He will always bring his paycheck home in his mouth, have a peaceful basement hobby, and hold the umbrella over her head when it rains—and let his own head get wet.

But if he snatches the pack, smokes them all himself, then tries to borrow money from her to buy another pack, well—a girl had better beware of this cad. He may become a great boudoir buddy and make a million dollars. But he is just as likely to run away from home and spend most of his million bucks entertaining another girl.

Security for You

No More Ulcers, Says Refired Walter

Walt House had the usual fears about retirement;

Will my wife and I have enough money to live on? What will I do with my time? How long will I last without a full-time job?

He wished he had more time to think, to get ready. But, he had no choice. He had to face the fears.

Although only 62, his nerves were shot and his ulcers were painful. His doctor told him:

Stay on your job six months longer and we'll put you six feet under."

"The way I feel now," he told me recently at his home in North Cape May, N. J., "I'll never die."

His employer, a container company of N. J., relieved him of one of his fears. It gave him a lifetime pension, although it had no regular pension plan for its employes at the time.

Combined with his Social Security and some money he'd saved, the pension is enough to keep the Houses financially sound.

"We do worry some about the rise in the cost of living," Mrs. House explained. "Things are going so high that we may not be able to live as well as we have been."

Walt House easily handled most of the other worries himself. The solution: He's been active in retirement, just as he was active on his job.

The difference is that he no longer has to meet any time schedule for his activity. The change in pace has calmed his nerves and healed his ulcers.

Much of his retirement activity has been possible because the Houses moved into a new home shortly before he retired.

Since moving in, he's done such things as add a porch-sitting room on their home, build a picket fence and make his yard look like a flower show.

His home improvements have been so extensive that House figures the place is now worth about $11,000 instead of the $6,790 he originally paid for it.

But, he hasn't confined his activities to changing the scenery around home.

Because of the large number of retired people living in the same housing development, House also spends a lot of time using his car to take neighbors to the doctors, to the grocery store or anywhere else in the vicinity they might want to go.

And during the fishing season, House spends a good deal of time in his boat out on Delaware Bay which is only a few hundred yards from his front door.

"You know, since I've retired," he told me, "I've discovered it's against my nature to sit around and do nothing. So, I don't have to force myself to work or be active. I've got to keep puttering around. It just takes a little longer to get started than it used to."

Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," care of The Pontiac Press. RELIEVES ALL 5 KINDS OF MINOR ARTHRITIC—RHEUMATIC—BURSITIC PAIN

New Rub-Ou Medicine Gives Quick, Temporary Relief of Pain Due To: (1) Stiffness (2) Aching Joints (3) Irritated Nerve Endings (4) Muscle Spasms (5) Swelling

From Anahist Research Laboratories comes a new, safe, medically proved formulation named Stim-U-Rub, because it stimulates blood. Minutes after you apply it, you can see a warm, red glow appear on the skin . . . as blood is rushed to the area.

You can also feel the blood heat spread like a blanket of soothing warmth over painful joints and muscles. Scientists, using electronic skin thermometers, report: "Stim-U-Rub raises skin temperature over pain areas as much as two full degrees, in minutes." Stim-U-Rub also speeds pain-relieving medication right to where blood circulates.

(1) Pain of stiffness is relieved. (2) Joint aches eased. (3) Irritated nerve endings soothed. (4) Muscle spasms decreased. (5) Soreness of swelling eased. So, Stim-U-Rub relieves all 5 kinds of minor arthritic-rheumatic-bursitic pain for periods that may last for hours, helping you to sleep the whole night in comfort.

Get Stim-U-Rub at any drug counter. If not 100% satisfied, return the unused portion and your money will be refunded. Anahist Research Laboratories, Yonkers 2, N. Y.

Bob Considine Says:

Nikita's New Title Matter of Protocol

NEW YORK (INS) — Generally overlooked in the articles and discussions on Nikita Khrushchev's acquisition of the title of premier of the Soviet Union is the fact that, without that title, he couldn't meet President Eisenhower on equal terms at the summit.

Strict protocol rule such affairs. A President sits down and talks not with the head of a foreign nation's ruling political party but with the country's prime minister. A secretary of state meets with his opposite number, the foreign minister.

At Geneva in the summer of 1956, President Eisenhower's principal words were addressed to Premier Bulganin, not party leader Khrushchev, even though Khrushchev was actually the top power of the Russian delegation.

The official picture was taken of Ike, Bulganin, Anthony Eden and French Premier Faure. Khrushchev was not invited. That would be an intolerable situation for him in the event we agree to the new summit meeting he has been calling for. So Bulganin had to step down, yield the mantle that the man who faces a President must wear.

Most of the experts felt that Bulganin was downgraded because of his only lukewarm support of Khrushchev when three members of the old guard — Molotov, Malenkov and Kaganovich — plotted to liquidate him last June. That doesn't hold much water.

If Khrushchev truly mistrusted Bulganin he would never have permitted him to hold the premier's office after that abortive coup. He would have sent him packing to some obscure post comparable to Molotov's job as ambassador to Outer Mongolia.

Stalin would have slaughtered these rivals. Khrushchev is cocky enough to feel he can afford to let them live. It is hard to believe however that, having exiled them, he has dismissed them from mind.

Their phones, their mail, their every act are unquestionably under constant surveillance. Any effort to coordinate what must be their hatred of Khrushchev would be met pitilessly.

How will Khrushchev's new job affect us and the free world in general? The enormous respect he has for the Strategic Air Command — plainly evidenced in his talks with W. R. Hearst, Frank Conniff and myself — all but rules out a hot war.

He told us he was convinced Russia could achieve the same gains at home and abroad by other means, a huge increase in Russia's prestige as a producer of goods of all kinds and an acceptance, even by the U.S., of what he said was the fact that Communism is the ideal way of life.

"I hear every word you say and don't believe one of them," Hearst told him. He grinned and shrugged off the barb and continued his spiel.

If he makes additional headway in the East-West battle for peoples' minds, his chief weapons will be his peasant's informality, ebullient manner, the earthiness and saltiness of his speech, and a cunning knowledge and appreciation of public relations in the international field.

Rescued Skier on Critical List

Copter Takes Him Off High Sierra Ledge After 4 Delirious Nights

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif. (AP)—William Pope, rescued by helicopter after four delirious nights on a snow-piled High Sierra ledge, remained in critical condition today suffering from penumonia.

Margaret Meyer, 21, Seattle, one of three Stanford University students who cared for the 22-year-old San Francisco architect's son in a small tent, remarked after the rescue: "Bill was delirious most of the time but he improved some after Friday.

"We had a first aid kit and I gave him antibiotics every four hours. Then when it looked like we might be up there for a while, I stretched the doses out to six hours. Saturday the plane dropped more."

She added that snow just about buried the tent Saturday, saying: "The place seemed to be getting smaller and smaller and it was. The snow was piling on top. Mike went outside and cleaned it away."

Michael Roberts, 21, Neenah, Wis., said, "The girls did a fine job. They never panicked."

The other girl was Lenore Lamb, 21, Orinda, Calif.

They and Bert Hooley, 22, Reno, Nev., and Max Allen, 22, Paradise, Calif., had started March 22 on what was to have been an eight-day cross-country ski trip through the high mountains from June Lake Reservoir to Yosemite. The six, all members of the Stanford Alpine Club, had expected to arrive at Yosemite Saturday.

Pope became sick Wednesday and by Thursday was so weak that Roberts and the girls pitched a camp at 11,600 feet—more than two miles high — on lonely snow-covered Lyell Peak and Hooley and Allen hiked out for help.

A mountain storm kept out helicopters until yesterday. Then Army Chief Warrant Officer John J. Cooney, 35, Marlboro, Mass., and William J. Williams, 30, Binghamton, N.Y., flew a whirlybird to the ledge, guided by Bob Symons, Bishop, Calif., a Civil Air Patrol pilot who had dropped medicine and supplies.

Pope was brought to Lewis Hospital here and the others returned to classes.

Says Army Regulations Not to Conceal Errors

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Army's chief of information says security regulations are supposed to keep information from the enemy, not to conceal military mistakes.

Maj. Gen. Harry P. Storke, here on an inspection trip, told newsmen: "We have found the best policy today is to admit the mistakes made by the Army and give the public a clear explanation of what happened.

"The news is bound to leak out anyhow. We'd rather get our version out first than have it come back in a garbled version."

Woman Who Jaywalks Wows Police Judge

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Police Judge John B. Bradford says he isn't "April fooling" about pedestrians who jaywalk to his court to pay fines.

He said he had watched countless jaywalkers, clutching traffic tickets, twist through heavy traffice in front of city hall.

But one woman topped them all, he said—she parked at a meter showing "violation." Then she jaywalked to city hall to pay a fine. Finally she jaywalked back to the car and made an illegal u-turn in the middle of the block.

Aims to Bolster Defense Chief

President Also Seeks to Strengthen Authority of JCS Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is proposing to strengthen the authority of the secretary of defense and of the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

This is a key feature of the defense reorganization plan Eisenhower will send to Congress before the Easter recess Thursday.

Secretary of Defense McElroy presented a draft last week to the National Security Council.

Although the plan fell short of the full military unification demanded by some critics of the present system, it had already met anticipatory resistance from some powerful congressmen.

The administration plan is known to include provisions that would greatly strengthen the direct authority of the defense secretary and reduce the administrative authority of the secretaries of the three military services.

The plan would achieve this by asking Congress to vote the bulk of military appropriations to the defense secretary and give him authority to transfer funds from one service or project to another.

School Bus Driver Gets Jail, $500 Fine

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — A school bus driver must serve six months in the Lawrence County jail and pay a fine of $500 and costs. He pleaded guilty in nearby Chesapeake Mayor's Court last night to driving the bus, with 25 youngsters aboard, while intoxicated.

The state highway patrol arrested the driver, James W. McConnell, 55.

Patrolmen said an unidentified man, evidently picked up by McConnell, was driving when they stopped the bus. He was not held. They said the children apparently escaped from the slow-moving bus through windows and emergency exits.

He's a 'Jack of All Trades'

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

MILFORD — In a small building on Charms road, near Milford, there is a man who is a "Jack of all trades — and master of many."

Jack Thompson's shop is bulging with oil paintings, antique reproductions, handmade gun stocks, arrow-boxes, sculptured linoleum carvings and hundreds of other interesting items.

PRIMARILY ARTIST

Primarily, Jack is an artist. His portraits and still-life paintings are alive with vivid coloring. Many large commerical and industrial buildings in Detroit display his works.

Intricate wood carvings of scenes have made him famous throughout the Middle West, and people bring precious heirloom furniture to be repaired by this versatile expert.

Norwegian by birth, Thompson makes reproductions of old-fashioned candle plates, cricket benches, hutch cabinets, letter boxes and harvest tables.

No matter what a person may desire, Thomspon will make it. He sits down at a drafting board, listens to a customer's idea, sketches the item and proceeds to either paint, carve or build the desired article.

At the present time, Thompson is working on two major projects. One, to be presented to the Elk's Temple in Pontiac, is a wood carving, depicting the Elk's Eleven O'clock theme.

Symetrically arranged around a gigantic Elk's head, are an hour glass, an antique clock and other symbols of the lodge. The plaque measures 3 by 4 feet, and is now in the what Thompson calls the "rendering stage."

He also has been commissioned by St. Martin's Episcopal Church of Pompano Beach, Fla., to create a wood carving depicting the life of St. Martin, showing eight poignant incidents of his life.

Still in the rough stages, the 4 by 16 foot plaque shows St. Martin's conversion, his family, the monastary he built, his baptism, his activities as a soldier, an incident with a beggar, consecration as a bishop and his last station.

When working on a project of this type, many volumes of historical data are read to get a picture of the individual before the actual carving begins, Thompson said. Special oil base color stains will be used to complete the giant carving.

In spite of the huge variety of custom jobs he works on, material for each item is tagged and filed systematically, and Thompson has no trouble finding anything in the "little shop in the country that can produce almost anything."

'JACK OF ARTS' — Repairman-artist Jack Thompson is renovating an antique chair after having hand-carved a missing piece from the top of it. A skilled artisan of the "old school," he combines artistic talent with a rare ability to fix almost anything. His shop near Milford, filled with custom-repaired antiques and a multitude of other items, attests to this.

Teaching Wage Scale Retained

School Board in Oxford Keeps $4,200 - $6,200 Salary Levels

OXFORD — The present annual teacher salary scale of $4,200-$6,200 was kept in effect by the Oxford Community School Board at its meeting last night.

The amount of the annual increment increase, however, was hiked from $100 a year for 15 years experience to $150 a year after 12 years of teaching.

Contracts for next year were approved and will be offered to teachers within the next few weeks.

Superintendent of schools R. A. Ambrose was ordered to arrange financing of operations costs pending the payment of delayed state aid funds. The Oxford Savings Bank was low bidder on a loan of $45,000 for up to 90 days.

The board met at the Leonard Elementary School and inspected that new addition as well as the addition to the Lakevile School. Minor changes will have to be made in both additions before the completion of the contracts, the board said.

Open house and dedication ceremonies are being planned for April 13 at the Leonard School.

AT HOME WITH ART — Seated on an antique love seat in their Romeo home, Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Williams are looking at one of their numerous art relics. It is a 17th century Bohemian crown which once adorned the head of a statue of the Madonna. They not only collect works of art but are talented artists themselves.

Romeo Couple Enjoys Own Collection of Art

By LEE WINBORN
Romeo Correspondent

ROMEO — Religious treasures—some dating back to the 16th Century—modern sculpture and paintings all find their proper setting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Williams, 141 Dickinson St.

Upon opening the front door of the lovely home which has been in Mrs. Williams' family for almost a century, a visitor experiences an undeniable feeling of awe.

The interior, besides being charming and comfortable, has all the aspects of an art gallery. In the front hall, for example, are three pieces of statuary. One, the bronze figure of a girl which stands 18 inches tall, was executed by Williams himself.

A former banker in New York City, the talented Romeo sculptor finds equal pleasure working in many media: Marble—exchanged for granite grave markers in cemeteries—wood and metal.

"My current hobby is engraving plates with a three-dimensional design in enamel on metal," Williams said.

The quiet, unassuming Romeo artist studied under famous painter John Sloan of the "ash can" school of art and under the renowned sculptor, Robert Aiken.

Williams often uses his charming wife as a model for his sculpture. Mrs. Williams is an artist in her own right. She enjoys painting colorful still lifes and flowers in oils. Her works line the walls of the spacious porch on the east side of the house.

When not busy with their artistic pursuits, the Romeo couple browses around shops in towns and cities looking for religious objects to add to their large collection.

A particularly choice piece they own is a triptych—a carving in three compartments, side by side, which once adorned a church altar. It has figures of ivory set into three Gothic style, hinged wooden frames. The carving dates back to the 16th Century.

Crucifixes, carved of various metals, are displayed on a table in the library. One, only an inch and a half long, is made of bronze and is a relic of the Byzantine era.

The Williamses used to open their Romeo home only in the summer months — spending the winter in New York City. In 1955, however, they decided to make their part-time residence here their permanent address.

Williams' studio in the summertime is one-half of the two-car garage where he has a workbench and all the necessary tools of his art. In the winter he said he "dabbles" in a similarly equipped corner of the basement.

The numerous objects d'art, on exhibition in each of the rooms of the Williams home, are pleasingly comingled with antique furniture handed down for three generations in Mrs. Williams' family. And the welcome mat is always out to friends who enjoy visiting the Romeo couple in these delightful surroundings.

Farm Group Cheers Ike's Freeze Veto

CHICAGO (INS) — The American Farm Bureau Federation said President Eisenhower showed good judgment in vetoing proposed legislation to freeze farm price supports for one year.

Charles B. Shuman, AFB president, said in a statement:

"President Eisenhower's veto showed courage and good sense. The legislation was against the best economic interests of farmers. I think it would have been used as an excuse by the advocates of big government spending for more unnecessary nonagricultural expenditures. Such spending would add to the farmers' already burdensome cost. . .

"No program will work satisfactorily if price support levels are based on arbitrary formulas, geared to long-past periods or left completely to the discretion of administrative officials."

Republicans Eye Antidecline Bill

Measure Would Make $1 Billion Available for Public Works

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) called the Republican Policy Committee together today to assess the "fine print" in an antirecession bill Democratic leaders hoped the Senate would pass before midnight.

The measure would make a billion dollars in loans available for municipal public works.

The bill is the last of a series of antirecession measures on which Democratic leaders are pushing for Senate action before an Easter recess. It won 13-2 approval of the Senate Banking Committee, with only Senators Bricker (R-Ohio) and Bennett (R-Utah) opposed.

Sen. Payne (R-Maine) claimed credit for a series of amendments under which the two-billion-dollar authorization first proposed by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) was cut in half and the maximum interest rate on the proposed loans raised to 3½ per cent.

Fulbright prepared an amendment under which the maximum rate would be lowered to the 3 per cent he originally proposed. The interest rate under the present 100-million-dollar program, on which President Eisenhower has ordered a speedup in expenditures, ranges from 4⅛ to 4⅝ per cent.

Fulbright has contended that these rates are so high that only cities with poor credit ratings apply for loans.

Projects would include construction and repair of streets, sidewalks, bridges, parking lots, airports, parks, hospitals, health centers, garbage disposal plants, schools, libraries, sewage facilities and police and fire buildings.

Profitable Buffer Enterprise

It's Maple Sugar Time

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Most farming activities still are at a low ebb, but one byproduct reportedly can return up to $3 an hour for time spent in its pursuit.

The maple syrup season operates as a profitable buffer enterprise before spring demands of faming take hold.

It continues as long as the nights remain cool and days are warm enough to induce the flow of sap in the sugar maples. The entire community of Nashville has become a sugar bush.

Trees along the village streets are tapped by the Boy Scouts and members of the Future Farmers of America.

Nashville has been engaged in the production of syrup as a community project since 1941. Proceeds from the venture go toward various community youth projects.

The process of boiling down the sap is conducted on a volunteer basis. Public-spirited citizens work evenings — sometimes throughout the night—to keep ahead of the flow of sap.

Besides sap brought to the community "sugar shanty" by the Scouts and FFA members, several farmers bring containers full from their own individual maple tree stands to be boiled down on a shares basis.

It takes from 30 to 50 gallons of sap—depending on the sugar content—to produce one gallon of syrup.

2 Await Examination in Beating of Youth

ROCHESTER — Charged with felonious assault of a 16-year-old Rochester boy, Burton F. Hodgson, 21 of 3257 St. Clair St., Avon Township, and Donald Shull, 23, of 1062 Boyd St., Troy, yesterday were remanded back to Justice Court for examination.

The motion for examination, made by counsel for the pair, was accepted yesterday by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick. They had waived examination last week when arraigned before Rochester Justice Luther C. Green.

Hodgson and Shull are accused of beating Joseph Dzuris, of 436 E. Third St., while he and a companion were walking home in Rochester the evening of March 24. The boy was taken to the hospital where 51 stitches were required to close cuts about the head and ear after he was slugged with a beer bottle.

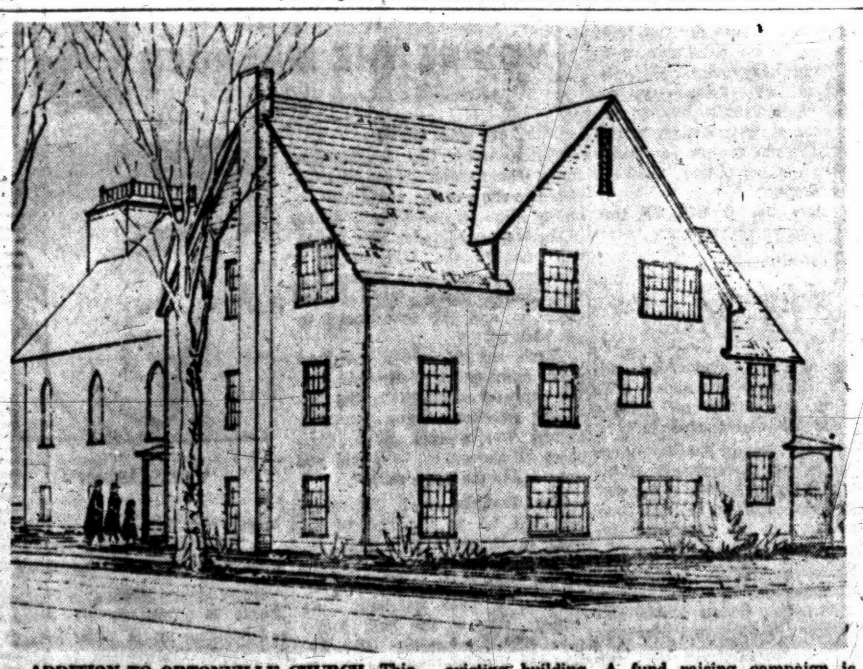
New Left-Turn Rule Cuts Accident Rate

LANSING (AP) — A new left-turn pattern established at a Detroit area intersection has cut the accident toll at the location in half.

The State Highway Department said yesterday a before and after survey of accidents at the Northwestern-Telegraph road intersection led to this conclusion.

Direct left turns onto Northwestern highway were abandoned in August, 1956. The survey explored accident frequency for 12 months before that date, and compared experience for a like period after.



ADDITION TO ORTONVILLE CHURCH—This is an architect's sketch of the $30,000 addition planned for the Ortonville Methodist Church. It will be a two-story frame structure to match the existing building. A fund raising campaign is being conducted to pay for the addition. Construction is expected to start this spring, according to the Rev. Isaac McPhee.

WAYNE-OAKLAND LEAGUE OFF BASE

Every time some half-cocked rule is put into the books amid area prep leagues you can guess it to be the Wayne-Oakland Conference and you would be right the first time.

This is the league which perenially walks while everyone else runs, and this is also the conference where the doormats at the principals' offices have the coaches names inscribed on the bottom side.

There are eight schools in this league, three of which are not in Oakland County. The five county schools are Bloomfield Hills, Clarkston, Milford, Holly and West Bloomfield. The non-county schools are Northville, Clarenceville and Brighton.

Everything is done in this league without the advice, cooperation or even the knowledge of the respective coaches of the schools.

Capable men are hired to teach and guide youngsters through their preparatory athletic endeavors but they must do it with sets of rules and policies which are jammed down their throats.

The fact that coaches in the Wayne-Oakland League are not permitted to participate in balloting of all-star teams is something which has been mentioned in the past.

We said it before and we reiterate, that this rule is a selfish law of a select few. Parents who have sons of scholarship potential through the youngsters' athletic ability are publicly denied equal opportunities because the wrong men legislate, execute and administer ALL the rules.

COACH IS SCAPEGOAT

The coach in the Wayne-Oakland League is a man who has to play under the rules but he has nothing to say about them. This follows a similar pattern to Michigan High School Athletic Association where the greater majority of those who make the rules still have to be told that a field goal in basketball isn't worth three points. The coach is the scapegoat.

It's not even near-exaggeration to say that coaches in the Wayne-Oakland League are censored even in their mails. Letters from newspapers have actually reached coaches opened and marked with notes of warning about participating in all-star balloting.

LEAGUE SCHEDULE LIMITED

Latest bit of legislation to reach the coaches has been word that next basketball season they will play only 10 league games and not 14.

The reason is apparent. The rivalry of a couple of non-county schools with non-league teams in their own areas has made it desirable to play these local rivals at the expense of conference games.

If league play is too extensive for schools like Clarenceville and Northville, let them quit, as they threatened to do if the new rule was not adopted.

The travel to their sites is as well too extensive for the five county schools.

There are a couple of schools like Rochester and Oxford which would fit better into the league. At least it would be an all-Oakland County league, and maybe as such, it would get back into step again.

13 Stranded Runners Spell 13th Tiger Loss

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers' failure to bring baserunners home has cost them their last faint chance of breaking even in pre-season Grapefruit League play.

The Bengals left 13 men stranded yesterday while losing to the Kansas City Athletics, 5-4. It was Detroit's 13th setback in 19 games. They have five more before heading north next week.

They were to meet the A's here again today.

The Tigers weren't troubled by lack of hits. They had 13, including a three-run homer by Harvey Kuenn in the seventh inning.

Ex-Tiger hurlers Duke Maas and Ray Herbert bore the brunt of the Bengal assault which saw Kuenn, Frank Bolling and Billy Martin each connecting three times.

Frank Lary, who allowed eight hits in the first six innings, was tagged with the loss.

Kansas City gathered three unearned runs in the first inning after infielder Reno Bertoia hit the Athletics' Joe Demaestri in the head while trying to pick him off third. Vic Power and Bob Martyn followed him home on Lary's wild pitch and a sacrifice fly by Bill Tuttle.

The A's added two more in the sixth on Dave Melton's single, scoring Power and Tuttle.

Detroit's only other score came before Kuenn's 350 foot wallop over the leftfield wall. Billy Martin's double scored Frank Bolling.

The Tigers ended the game with the bases loaded.

Joe Presko pitched the last two innings for Detroit, allowing no hits.

Kuenn's round-tripper brought his batting streak to nine games. He has connected in all but one of 17 contests.

Fight Manager Denies Charges

NEW YORK (AP)—Fight manager Hymie "The Mink" Wallman, who spends most of his time in the fur business, not only denied he was a front man today, but he claimed the District Attorney's men could be more thorough.

Assistant District Attorney Alfred J. Scotti had claimed Wallman was a front man for Frankie Carbo, an underworld figure. Scotti, in fact, called Carbo "the underworld czar of boxing in this state" and added that he was an absentee boss who spends most of his time in Florida.

"I have never been a front man for anyone," scowled Wallman. The fighters in my stable are my own and no one else's."

Then, his attorney, Michael Kern added that the DA's men "had overlooked as many records as they took" when they grabbed off Wallman's papers last week.

Wallman, who manages Alex Miteff, Ike Chestnut, Orlando Zuleta and Charlie Cotton among the headliners, turned over the overlooked records to the grand jury investigating boxing yesterday. He was one of the dozen or so fight figures subpoenaed by District Attorney Frank Hogan in an investigation of professional boxing.

New Golf Star Wins Azalea

Johnson Nips Palmer on 1 Stroke for 1st Big Tourney Victory

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Hustling Howie Johnson had the feel of his first big golf tournament money—and he liked it.

The 32-year-old Glenwood, Ill., pro beat one of his best friends by one stroke.

Thus, in less than three hours, on the tour, Arnold Palmer, in an 18-hole playoff for top money of $2,000 in the Azalea Open Tournament yesterday. Johnson's 77, five over par, was good enough to win Johnson made more than he had in three months previously this year.

Going into the playoff Johnson was 44th on this year's official money list with $1,578 in earnings. Palmer, who won the $1,500 runnerup. prize, brought his year's earnings to $8,600.

A year ago to the day Palmer had won the Azalea tournament with a 282 score, the same total with which he and Johnson tied for top honors Sunday. Last year Johnson shot 298, 16 shots behind Palmer, out of the money and down in a tie for 36th place.

Win at Atlanta Sends Gonzales Ahead of Hoad

ATLANTA (AP)—Pancho Gonzales believes he is playing the best tennis of his career and has a good chance of coming out on top in his prolonged series of matches with Lew Hoad of Australia.

The old pro demonstrated his point last night by beating Hoad 3-6, 6-2, 6-1 before an estimated 4,800 persons, believed to be the largest audience ever to see a tennis match in Georgia.

The victory sent Gonzales out in front 26 matches to 23 in the professional tour that started in Australia. The match in Augusta, Ga., today may indicate whether Gonzales really has hit his stride again.

Detroit Boy Gains Badminton Finals

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Jack Keating of Detroit moved into the boys singles finals of the National Junior Badminton Championships by defeating Stan Hales of Pasadena, Calif., 15-11 and 15-9 yesterday.

Blazes Through Practice Round Aided by Ace

Nakamura Hot at Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Tradition is that the hotshot in practice is usually the tournament bust, but don't bet on it in the case of Torakichi "Pete" Nakamura.

Pistol-Putting Pete, the watch-charm golfer from Japan, defies all reason. He has the staid Augusta National, where the 22nd Masters Tournament opens Thursday, buzzing as it has seldom buzzed before.

On his first trip around the 6,980-yard, par 72 layout yesterday, Pete, with help from nobody, shot a 69. He played the back nine in 31, five under par, using nine putts.

This came as no great surprise to Sam Snead, Jimmy Demaret, Australia's Peter Thomson and South Africa's Gary Player, who were among the victims last October when Nakamura and his partner, Koichi Ono, won the Canada Cup by nine strokes.

But hardened Masters galleryites had to be shown. So they followed Nakamura and the rail-thin hawk-faced Ono on another nine holes. On the 170-yard fourth, Pete took out a three-wood club and sent the ball sailing for the flag.

The ball dropped for a hole-in-one—the first ever made on the hole, one of the most difficult par threes on the course.

Word of it began as a cautious rumor. Then it spread. Pretty soon even players such as Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson were raising their eyebrows. "Is that so?" they asked.

It was so.

Pete, who stands five-feet-three and weighs only 135 pounds, was obviously embarrassed when players and spectators swarmed around him asking details and tykes rushed up for autographs.

"It was nothing, just luck," Pete said with Oriental modesty. "The wind it helped."

Pete is so small he looks like a little league baseball player playing hookey from school. He can hardly hit the ball out of his shadow but around the greens he is deadly. He sinks 30 and 40-foot putts as if it were just a part of the game and then he shakes his shoulders, smiles and throws a sly wink.

A reporter asked him if he thought he could win the Masters.

"No hope," Pete said in his strained English. "I be happy to qualify for last two days."

"Why, no confidence?" somebody asked.

"All big men out there; giants," he replied. "I too small. They hit ball 100 yards farther."

Jones at Home After Weekend in a Hospital

ATLANTA (AP)—Bob Jones, former Grand Slam golfing champion, was resting at home today and looking forward to attending the Masters Tournament which he helped found.

The 56-year-old Jones suffered what was described as a circulatory collapse Friday night. He was treated at Emory Hospital over the weekend and sent home yesterday.

His doctor said he should be able to resume normal activities in a couple of days. The Masters stars Thursday at Augusta.

Clarkston Athletes Nip Faculty 5 Twice

It took seven years but the athletes finally were able to beat the faculty in their annual post-season meetings at Clarkston last night. And they did it twice.

The Varsity Club won out in a clash between the top units of both groups 65-60 after trailing most of the way. Bill Noles tallied 18 and Dick Lippert 13 to pace the victors. Ed Hintz rung up 27 and Dom Mauti 12 in defeat.

A 12-point showing by Jay Campbell led the preps to a 58-51 prelim verdict. Dave Westlund swished 22 for the teachers.

Spartan Nine Evens Record Winning 12-0

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Michigan State's baseball team sought the fourth victory of its current southern road trip today in a game with the University of Georgia.

Southpaw Ron Perranoski hurled a three-hitter yesterday as the Spartans routed South Carolina 12-0 at Columbia. Perranoski also contributed a double and a triple in the 11-hit attack.

The victory gave MSU a 3-3 mark in its swing through Dixie.

PACE-SETTERS — Off to a fast start in the 1958 track and field campaign that holds bright hopes for a 4th straight MHSAA title, PCH's thinclads trampled a fast field at the Eastern Michigan Relays, last weekend. Sparking that fine victory were the record-breaking 880-yard relay team, with Dan Sowell (inset R) a double winner, and Jim Hawkins (inset L) in the shuttle hurdle relay. Sowell won the broad jump and high hurdles, Manning the 60-yard dash for three of PCH's first places. Team is idle this week, but goes to the Central Michigan College indoor championships next Friday. The 880 quartet, from left — Jim Keller, Marc Turner, Jim Hill, Bob Manning.

Featherweight Title on Line Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The world featherweight championship and fierce national pride will be at stake tonight when champion Hogan "Kid" Bassey goes against Ricardo "Pajarito" Moreno for 15 rounds or less at Wrigley Field.

Bassey, the 25-year-old champion from the British colony of Nigeria in West Africa, remained a 2-1 favorite today to retain the title in his first defense as king of the 126-pounders.

Promoter Cal Eaton was confident 20,000 or more fans would attend, contributing to a gate of $200,000 or more.

The promotion's private weather service insisted the night would be clear and cool, although the weather bureau said there might be showers.

Moreno, the 21-year-old knockout sensation from Mexico City, has the backing of thousands of his countrymen who have come north for the fight. He also has two unusually large fists.

The Bassey camp was calmly confident of victory, and in the case of Hogan's manager, George Biddles, a little contemptuous of Moreno's ability.

The belligerent tone from the Moreno forces was set by Pajarito (little bird) himself. Told that Bassey's handlers had refused to use a Mexican-made glove, the Bird exclaimed:

"I don't care what kind of gloves we use, or if we use any gloves at all."

Weigh-in time was set for noon (PST) at the Olympic Auditorium. Neither battler was expected to have any difficulty making the 126 pound limit.

The fight is set to go on about 9:45 p.m., PST.

The fight will not be televised or broadcast.

Montreal Favored to Beat Wings 4th Straight Time

DETROIT (AP) — April fool's jokes were very un-funny around the Detroit Red Wing camp today.

The Montreal Canadiens, who are not fooling at all, can give the Detroit hockey club its severest Stanley Cup jolt in modern times tonight when the teams clash in the fourth game of their best-of-seven series.

The Canadiens hold a 3-0 edge and a victory tonight on Olympia Stadium ice will send them into the Cup finals for the 13th time. The Wings dropped the first two games of the preliminary series in Montreal and Tuesday night lost a 2-1 sudden death overtime decision to the high-flying Canadiens.

Guilty of shoddy play in the first two encounters, the Red Wings were at their best for the third game that could have sent them back into contention. But the Canadiens, who romped to the league championship like a runaway express, were a shade better.

The Canadiens are a better than even money choice to end the series tonight.

If they do, it will be the worst Stanley Cup punishment the Red Wings ever have absorbed. The seven-time world champions, who have won the National Hockey League title eight times in the last decade, have been in the playoffs 26 times.

Only twice did they fail to record a playoff victory, and that was back in 1929 and 1932 when they played only two games in each series.

A victory tonight for the Canadiens not only would provide a sweep of the series but would bring revenge for a similar walloping dealt them by the Red Wings six years ago.

BEATS WILD THROW — Reno Bertoia, third baseman for the Detroit Tigers, crosses first base safely as Vic Power, the Kansas City Athletics' first baseman, lunges toward a ball thrown wild by third baseman Hector Lopez in the second inning of yesterday's exhibition game at Connie Mack Field in West Palm Beach, Fla. The Tigers lost, 5-4.

Way Ahead of Schedule

Lions Contracts in Mail

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions began sending out 1958 contracts to veteran players today, starting the contract business three months ahead of schedule.

Gen. Mgr. Nick Kerbawy, just returned to his office after an 18-day trip through the south and southwest, said:

"We have the All-Star game coming up Aug. 15 and the staff has a lot more work to do after winning the world championship. So we're moving quickly to get the contract business out of the way."

In the past several seasons, Kerbawy has been negotiating with several stubborn players during the training camp period.

"We want to avoid that this year," Kerbawy explained. "We have to concentrate on training and our pre-season schedule."

Kerbawy already has the signed contracts of quarterbacks Tobin Rote and Bobby Layne, along with Yale Lary, Harley Sewell, Dave Middleton and Bill Glass in hand.

The Lions also announced that 30,000 season ticket holders already have exercised their options for 1958 season tickets. Public sale will begin in May and Kerbawy said the season sale this year may hit 42,000 or 43,000. A year ago the Detroit club set the National Football League record with 39,844 season ticket sales.

May Blames PGA Ruling on Entry Fees

Says Loss of Revenue Prevents Continuation of World's Richest Event

CHICAGO (AP) — George S. May, who has distributed nearly two million dollars in golf purses, has canceled the Tam O'Shanter World Tournaments — richest in the game's history.

May's action, announced last night in a letter to the Professional Golfers' Assn. of America, wiped out the 1958 prize list worth $210,000.

May said financial disagreement with the PGA, particularly over the organization's demand for entry fees, was the reason for calling an end to the spiraling jackpots inaugurated in 1941.

"We are taking this action because we are being deprived of revenue — entry fees — which we sorely need to keep on presenting the world's richest golf tournament," said May in a letter to J. Edwin Carter, tournament bureau manager of the PGA.

May said last year "Our entry fee totaled $22,115" and pointed out that the PGA this year is not collecting entry fees from numerous tournaments including the Los Angeles Open, the National Open, the Masters, the Houston Tournament and the Dallas Open.

"None of these purses is over $50,000," he said. "Why should we have to pay a heavy penalty because we have been the world's richest golf tournament?"

In Atlanta, Harold Sargent, National PGA president, said May's decision came as "a great surprise." Sargent said he had received no official notice from May and would have no extended comment until he had conferred with other PGA officials.

May said even if the PGA were to accede to his wishes regarding the entry fees and the tournament's top ten player payments, it now would be too late to arrange the 1958 tournaments.

"But I'll resume in 1959 if they'll let me write my own ticket," he said.

Coaching Shifts Made at Holly

Two new changes in the Holly School coaching staff have been announced for the coming spring sports season.

Leroy Decker will replace Al Gratsch as baseball coach and Bob Barner has assumed the golf coaching duties replacing Herb Quade.

Quade became the school's athletic director in February and will no longer coach while Gratsch has been forced to drop baseball because he is head man in football. School policy prevents the athletic director from handling any teams and allows head coaches to direct only one sport.

Decker will take over the baseball job for this season only since he becomes basketball boss next winter.

Barner will be a new member of the Bronco coaching staff. He is the son of Pontiac Municipal course manager, Cres. Bob is in his 2nd year as driver training instructor at Holly.

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

(Seventeenth of a series)

By BEN OLAN

Walter Alston had a comparatively unsuccessful season in 1957. His Brooklyn team could do no better than a third-place finish in the National League. But Alston will manage the Dodgers in a new environment next season and Los Angeles may be just the tonic he and the team need to get back on top.

Here's a chance to compare your managerial skill with the Los Angeles skipper. In the following situation, Alston's strategy helped win a ball game. Consider all the angles — would you have made the same move?

The Dodgers and Milwaukee are tied 1-1 in the last of the ninth at Brooklyn. Bob Buhl (R) is pitching for the Braves. Gino Cimoli starts off the inning by drawing a base on balls. Gil Hodges (R) is the next batter with Roy Campanella (R), Don Zimmer (R) and pitcher Johnny Podres (L) to follow.

Would you:

a. Try a hit-and-run (hitting behind runner)?

b. Have Hodges swing away?

c. Order Hodges to sacrifice?

(Other data: Hodges is batting .308 in 75 games for the season and has one hit in three tries in the game; Campanella is 0-for-2 and Zimmer 1-for-2 in the game.)

WALT ALSTON

Result: B — Hodges swings at the first pitch and bats a home run into the left field stands. Dodgers win 3-2 (July 14).

Steeplechase Crowds Off Due to Weather

LONDON (AP) — For those who have trouble seeing the forest for the trees, take the case of the Englishmen who can't see the Grand National Steeplechase for the rain and mist.

There are quite a few of the blokes too—about 180,000 over the past few years who have grown so disgusted with the weather conditions at Aintree track they have stayed home entirely. Saturday only 70,000 showed for this ancient marathon covering four and a half miles and 30 arduous jumps.

In America, television is the next—or sometimes the first—resort. The Grand National is neither broadcast nor telecast, so if the fan doesn't show up at Aintree then he only knows what he reads or hears.

Rumblings are now being heard quite distinctly to move the race from Aintree, where it was first run in 1838, to Cheltenham in the Cotswold Hills, 100 miles south.

One observer claimed that he has seen the entire 4½ miles only seven or eight times in 30 years. Saturday, rain and mist obliterated much of the race to those in the main stands, and more than half of the 31 starters came to grief unobserved.

The battle for attendance has also brought forth the cry to scrap some of the fences and bring the course nearer the customers. This has the backing of various animal societies who want an easier Grand National course, minimizing the chance of horses getting killed, as happened in 1954 when four met their death.

Both of these crises boil down to one point: How to make the race more attractive to spectators and still keep its claim as the world's supreme test for horse and steeplchase jockeys.

Boston Players Suffer Injuries

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Ace pitcher Tom Brewer and catcher Haywood Sullivan of the Boston Red Sox were sidelined today by hand injuries.

Brewer, scheduled to make his first exhibition start for the Sox after recovering from the mumps, received a hairline fracture of a finger on his right hand yesterday before the game with Washington at Orlando.

Sullivan got a broken and dislocated index finger on his right hand in the first inning of the contest when hit by a foul tip off the bat of Roy Sievers.

Sullivan will be out five or six weeks while Brewer won't be able to pitch for two weeks.

Babe Ruth Loop of Birmingham Meets Tonight

Birmingham's Babe Ruth League will have a roundup tonight at the Derby Junior High gym with national president Pete Moseur of Kalamazoo and baseball coach Ray Fisher from the University of Michigan as guests.

Plans for the 1958 season will be outlined with details on enlargement of the league from six teams to two 6-team leagues plus a minor league system.

Movies of the 1957 all-star baseball game in color will be shown. The program commences at 8:00 p.m.

Doby Returns to Tribe in Trade

Woodling Goes to Baltimore in 5-Man Deal

AL Rivals Also Swap Hurlers and Orioles Get Utility Man

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Centerfielder Larry Doby was returned to the Cleveland Indians after an absence of two years in a five-player trade between the Indians and the Baltimore Orioles announced last night by Tribe General Manager Frank Lane.

The Tribe got Doby and Don Ferrarese, a 28-year-old left handed pitcher, in exchange for outfielder Gene Woodling, the Indians leading hitter last year; Southpaw Bud Daley and Dick Williams, a utility player.

Lane, who revealed the trade in Scottsdale, Ariz., following an afternoon of bartering with Baltimore Manager Paul Richards, said the major part of the deal was Woodling for Doby.

LARRY DOBY

The Indians had two left fielders in Woodling and Minnie Minoso, who was obtained in a trade with the Chicago White Sox during the winter. The Orioles had Jim Busby available for center field duty in addition to Doby.

The return of Doby, who was traded to the White Sox in 1955 after nine seasons with the Indians, probably means that the Tribe will open the season with Minoso in left field, Doby in center and Roger Maris or Rocky Colavito in right.

Minoso and Woodling both were tried in right field, but neither gave a suitable performance there.

Ferrarese compiled an 11-5 record with Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League and had 136 strikeouts in 140 innings, before rejoining the Orioles late in the season.

Doby, who is 33, batted in 79 runs and hit 14 homers with Chicago last season. He was traded to Baltimore during the winter.

The 35-year-old Woodling, whose .321 batting average was good for third place in the American League last season, was voted the Indians' "Player of the Year."

Newcombe Uses Hypnosis to Beat Yanks

Hurlers in Top Form

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Don Newcombe, the man who couldn't beat the Yankees in the World Series, is doing it in spring training with a little bit of double whammy.

The fastballing Dodger pitcher says he has become such a believer in hypnosis now that it has cured his flying phobia, that he practices it on himself before he pitches.

With that, the 6-foot-4 right-hander went out and beat New York's American League champions, 7 to 3, in an exhibition game at St. Petersburg.

Pitching the first four innings and blazing his fast ball, Newcombe retired the first eight Yankees in a row and struck out Bill Skowron and Norm Siebern in the second.

Billy Pierce, also distinguished himself as the Chicago White Sox blanked St. Louis 7 to 0 in a game at Tampa. The 20-game winner went seven innings and faced only 23 batters, giving up one lone hit.

Frank Thomas' ninth-inning home run sparked Pittsburgh to a 4-to-3 victory over Milwaukee's world champions at Fort Myers. Lew Burdette worked the first four innings for the Braves, yielding a single.

Boston won its seventh straight, defeating Washington 8 to 3 at Orlando, behind the six-hit pitching of rookies Al Schroll and Murray Wall.

Herb Score gave up three hits and two runs in his five innings as Cleveland beat San Francisco 8 to 2 to Phoenix. The Giants, guilty of six errors, got only one other hit, off Ray Narleski. Preston Ward and Gene Woodling belted homers for the Tribe.

Dave Hillman twirled a neat three-hitter for Chicago as the Cubs beat Baltimore 1 to 0 at Mesa, and Cincinnati beat Philadelphia's Robin Roberts 2 to 1 at Clearwater.

ABC Boosters Hit 2,806

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The first score to show real promise of gaining a championship in the 55th American Bowling Congress tournament was up on the standing board today.

Parry's News of Rome, N. Y., rolled a 949-995-862—2,806 series in the third day of action to take command of the Booster division. It was the best score in the 850-and-under average category to be recorded since 1954. Rea Cress of Junction City, Kan., won the Booster championship in Fort Worth, Tex., last year with 2,796.

U.S. Dismisses Soviet Proposal

Discuss Ban on Nuclear Tests Through U.N., Russians Told

WASHINGTON (UP) — The United States has dismissed the Soviet Union's proposal for halting nuclear tests as mere words, subject to evasion in secrecy, and no reliable basis for the free nations to abandon their capacity to deter aggression.

In a statement, the State Department called on the Kremlin to approach the problem through the United Nations "in an orderly way" rather than seeking to impose a one-country, unsupervised, test ban "for which there is no system of verification."

The United States, the statement said, "stands ready instantly to respond" to a supervised suspension of nuclear tests, as approved overwhelmingly by the U.N. General Assembly.

The State department fired back at the Soviet announcement, within minutes after Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko made it in Moscow.

The United States announced months ago that it would conduct a series of tests beginning this spring. The Soviets have just completed a test series.

The first American shot will automatically free the Soviet Union from its test ban promise since Gromyko said that if other nations continued their tests his country would consider itself "free to resume tests."

Against this background, the impression was strong in diplomatic quarters here that the Soviet gesture was designed for its propaganda value.

However, the Soviet Union today appeared to have a scored a considerable initial propaganda victory in Europe and Asia with its announcement it is suspending test explosions of nuclear weapons.

West European officials generally did not go along, at least publicly, with the U. S. State Department claim that the suspension was meaningless because there was no provision for international inspection. Comment was cautious.

But Britain ruled out an idea that it would call off the tests it plans to start soon, and several leading papers urged the Western Allies to treat the Soviet move with caution.

In West Germany, the influential independent Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung called the Soviet announcement an announcement of "far-reaching psychological value" which had "put America and Britain in an awkward position."

Perfect Circle Probe Ending

Senators Call 2 Final Witnesses in Hearings on Strike Violence

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate rackets probers called two final witnesses to wind up today hearings into conflicting charges of violence in a 1955 strike at Perfect Circle Corp. plants.

Major spokesmen for both the company and the United Auto Workers blamed each other for violence that erupted into a pitched gun battle at New Castle, Ind., Oct. 5, 1955.

The testimony was restrained and devoid of the bitter clashes that marked the recently completed five weeks of hearings on UAW's marathon strike against the Kohler Co. of Wisconsin.

A contract was signed at New Castle late in 1955 after four months of striking and shortly after the UAW was voted out by workers at Perfect Circle plants in Hagerstown and Richmond, Ind.

William B. Prosser, Perfect Circle president, and Raymond H. Berndt, a UAW international representative, made the statements for the two sides.

Each swore the other side fired the first shot in a battle that wounded eight persons and prompted then Gov. George N. Craig of Indiana to summon the National Guard.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) and other committee members appeared surprised at the resignation of Sen. McNamara (D-Mich), who quit because, he said, he has more important things to do in Congress. McNamara has termed cial" and has opposed the Perfect the recent Kohler hearings "far-Circle hearings.

Reuther, Chrysler Open Negotiations

DETROIT (UP) — Walter P. Reuther took his profit sharing demand to Chrysler Corp. today putting 1958 labor contract talks in full swing for the Big Three car makers.

Chrysler officials turned the tables on the United Auto Workers Union by making some contract demands of their own at the outset of negotiations today.

John D. Leary, vice president of personnel, indicated the company's demands would cover hotly disputed production standards and length of contract.

The United Auto Workers chief opened negotiations yesterday at Ford Motor Co. He presented his demands to General Motors Corp. a week ago today.

Reuther formally opened the Ford talks by shaking hands with Ford Vice President John S. Bugas across the conference table.

A few minutes before, Bugas declined to tell newsmen what he thought of the UAW's profit-sharing plan in advance of bargaining. He said, "We'll wait and see it."

Reuther is demanding that the big auto companies divide up profits in excess of 10 per cent of net capital before taxes.

Refuses to Dismiss Congregational Suit

New York Federal Judge Archie O. Dawson has refused to dismiss a suit brought by Pontiac's First Congregational Church and three other churches, seeking a clarification of the rights of individual Congregational churches.

The case has been in and out of the courts in New York since 1954. It involves about two million members of the Congregational Chruch and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The suit questions the right of the denomination's council to compel the merger of the two factions into a "United Church of Christ" over the disagreement of individual churches.

Bringing the suit, in addition to the Pontiac church, are churches in Wauwatosa, Wis., Burlington, Iowa, and Toledo, Ohio, and 11 individuals.

Mother in Jail: Girl, 10, Cares for Brood of 6

CINCINNATI (UP)—When Mrs. Roberta Winbush was sentenced to a 21-day workhouse term last week for stealing children's clothes, she left her oldest daughter Sharon in charge of the rest of the family.

The family had been on relief, but there was food and other needs in the house.

Sharon coolly started a routine of cooking, cleaning, diaper-changing and close supervision of her six younger brothers and sisters, ages 2 months to 8 years.

But welfare workers, after an anonymous telephone call, stopped in at the home and, after a quick appraisal, packed all seven off to the city's Allen House.

Welfare officials said that Sharon, though willing, was a little young at age 10 to take on so big a job.

Blame Carelessness for $5,500 Blaze

A two car garage in Waterford Township containing a 1957 Chevrolet and $1,000 worth of plumbers tools was completely devastated by a fire at 1 p.m. yesterday.

Careless burning of rubbish was the cause of the $5,500 fire at the home of Glenn Seeley, 4369 Forest Ave., according to Waterford Township firemen.

Mrs. Seeley told firemen that she was burning leaves near the garage, but she put out the fire and had gone into the house. It wasn't until the garage roof was flaming that Mrs. Seeley noticed the blaze.

Four Break-Ins in Waterford

Police Arrest Suspects Shortly After Thefts Are Discovered

According to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies and Waterford Township Police, four gas stations in Waterford Township were broken into last night.

Shortly after the breakins were discovered, two suspects were apprehended by Keego Harbor Police and are being held at the Oakland County Jail for questioning.

Township police officer Frank Randolph discovered breakins at Walls Service Station, 4695 Elizabeth Lake Rd., and Rudy's Service Station, at 990 S. Cass Lake Rd.

The money box from a cigarette machine containing an undetermined amount of change, was stolen from Wall's Station. A silver dollar, 50 pennies, and 45 credit cards were taken from the other station, he said.

Culprits let the air out of all four tires of his patrol car while he was investigating the former breakin, it was reported.

An undetermined amount of money was taken from vending machines at the Ashland Service Station, 4694 Elizabeth Lake Rd., and the Sinclair Station, at Pontiac Lake and Scott Lake roads, said sheriff's deputies.

The suspects were stopped by officer Dale Helgemo while driving through Keego Harbor.

An analysis of daily newspaper circulation over a three-year period shows it to be constant. All monthly percentages were in the narrow range from 8.2 to 8.4. The obsolute constant would be 8.33 per cent a month.

Steal $1,275, Jewelry From Wixom Store

A breakin at the Wixom General Store Monday netted an unknown thief $1,275 in cash plus costume jewelry valued at approximately $200, said State Police.

Sigmond Erdi, owner of the store at 127 Wixom Rd., told troopers that someone had entered by breaking a rear window.

The money was taken from a cash box under the front counter, said police. The costume jewelry was contained in several boxes.

Nitwits, Not Wits Glory in April Fool

LOS ANGELES (UP)—April Fool's Day is a day set aside not for wits but for nitwits, says Dr. Herman Harvey.

Dr. Harvey, a psychology professor at the University of California, says it's the day of "the annual outing for untalented, infirm and indigent humorists."

The day is perpetuated, he says "by and for people who can't maintain an adequate standard of quality for good intellectual wit" and "is the one day they are allowed to indulge themselves in what they think is funny and be assured that no one will criticize them for their abysmal efforts."

Khrushchev to Fete Freedom in Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — On his first foreign visit as Soviet comes to Budapest tomorrow to help celebrate Hungary's World War II liberation with Janos Kadar, the man who helped crush the country's 1956 revolt.

Kadar quit as premier last January but retained the more important post of first secretary of the Hungarian Reds.

On Friday the two leaders will stand together at the base of Lenin's statue, which Hungarian rebels pulled down 18 months ago. Together they will celebrate the anniversary of Soviet liberation of Hungary from the Germans in 1945.

The visit was interpreted here as a glowing endorsement for Kadar, whose prestige also got a boost as a result of his recent visit to Yugoslav President Tito.

Auction Off Ghoul's Property

2,500 at Scene of Horrors

PLAINFIELD, Wis. (AP)—Souvenir and bargain hunters, 2,500 of them, swarmed over the farm of slayer and ghoul Ed Gein Sunday, buying anything offered on the auction block.

The 195-acre farm and the half-dozen ramshackle buildings were sold to Emden Schey and his partner Allen Little, Sun Prairire, Wis., real estate dealers, for $3,925.

Schey said they planned forestry plantings on the property of the little handyman who admitted slaying two women and the plundering of a dozen graves.

Gein is in a hospital for the criminal insane.

A Chicago man paid 25 cents for a rusty ax head. Other items that sold for cash included old chicken crates, lumber and wagon wheels.

Chet Scales, a junk dealer from Highland, Wis., paid $215 for the 1940 pickup truck Gein reportedly used to carry the bodies of the two women he killed. Scales said he would keep the truck as a souvenir.

Gein's 1949 two-door Ford sedan brought $740.

A damaged metal stool was sold for $14. A rusty manure spreader—apparently beyond any hope of repair—was sold for $36.

The old farmhouse in which Gein lived alone with his weird collection of graveyard souvenirs burned to the ground early this month during the height of a controversy over holding the auction on Palm Sunday. Authorities still are investigating the possibiity of arson.

Stock Prices Down Slightly

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices drifted irregularly early today with a slight tendency toward the downside. Trading was quiet.

Most leading stocks showed fractional changes.

Steels, nonferrous metals and rails were slightly lower. Motors were barely changed with Chrysler easy. Aircrafts, oils and utilities were mixed.

The Stock Market embarked on the second quarter of 1958 with a net gain for the year so far. Brokers awaited the flood of first quarter reports of earnings and dividends which are expected to reflect the current lower rate of business.

The market was backgrounded by new reports of cutbacks and layoffs, a drop in the steel operating rate and lagging orders for steel.

Mackie Blasts GOP for Financial Ambush

LANSING (AP) — "A cunning financial ambush" is how Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie describes the proposed 1958-59 state highway budget.

The Democratic commissioner yesterday blasted the record $102,587,000 outlay for the state trunkline fund and the way it was set up as "the rankest form of political reprisal by the Republicans."

Members of the GOP-controlled House Ways and Means Committee, which drafted the budget, reacted with surprise.

"We gave the man practically everything he asked for, and then some," said Rep. Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City), committee chairman. "He's getting 619 new positions and has 801 vacancies to fill besides that."

The brunt of Mackie's attack was aimed at proposed removal of his authority to transfer funds from one account to another inside the department.

Rat Gets Free Flight

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A rat ran into the cabin of a Central Airlines plane while the plane was connected with a warm air machine. Efforts of an exterminating crew to locate the rat failed. The plane had to be flown to the Fort Worth, Tex., maintenance base to get rid of the rat.

A preview of Pontiac's eagerly-awaited transportation and highway study will be staged before a host of officials at City Hall next week.

A score of local, county and state agencies plus representatives from 12 nearby communities have been invited to hear a preliminary report on the $17,000 study by the Evanston, Ill., firm of George W. Barton & Associates concerning the Pontiac area's street, highway and parking needs.

Heading the list of invited organizations is the Downtown Pontiac Assn., which financed the study.

The study covers four big points:

1. A 1975 pattern of thoroughfares for the city.

2. Evaluation and recommendation of the best interstate route for Pontiac.

3. Listing of traffic improvements that can be made now to fit in with the 1975 pattern.

4. General overall appraisal of downtown off-street, on-street and private parking facilities.

Other agencies and organizations invited to send representatives to the meeting:

The State Highway Department, Oakland County Board of Supervisors, Road Commission, Planning Commission and Department of Public Works; Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission, City of Detroit Department of Public Works, Inter-County Highway Commission, Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, Michigan State University, Pontiac State Hospital, General Motors Corp. divisional plants in Pontiac, Grand Trunk Railroad, Pontiac City Lines and Greyhound Lines.

In addition, representatives are expected from Rochester, Keego Harbor, Sylvan Lake, Troy and Avon, Bloomfield, Independence, Orion, Oxford, Pontiac, Waterford and West Bloomfield Townships.

Pontiac City Commissioners and members of the city's administration and Planning Commission will be on hand along with representatives from the Barton firm and Geer Associates, the city's planning consultant firm.

Rules on Heating to Be Considered in Waterford

All heating contractors and persons interested in a heating ordinance for Waterford Township have been asked to attend the Electrical board meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 10, according to Clerk James Seeterlin.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss the possible adoption of rules regulating new heating installations and the relocation of heating units in older establishments.

Although there are rigid regulations pertaining to every other phase in construction work, there is no set standard for building inspectors to follow regarding furnace installations.

The need for the adoption of such an ordinance, became apparent when complaints from new homeowners regarding inadequate heating facilities, were received at the township hall during the recent sub-zero weather.

Waterford Township Fire Chief Edward Smith, said that many fire calls were due to faulty installations of heating units, and that there is danger in the lack of adequate inspection.

NYC to Omit Dividend

NEW YORK (INS) — New York Central directors voted today to omit the second quarter dividend. The railroad earlier had omitted payment of the first quarter dividend.

A statement by the directors said "operating results caused by generally depressed business thus far this year would not justify favorable dividend action at this time."

Grain Futures Steady to Firm

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices were steady to firm with corn in the unusual role of leader in early dealings on the board of trade today.

Some corn deliveries were up around a cent a bushel within the first few minutes of trading but dealers said the buying appeared to be scattered and lacking in follow-through strength. Profit-taking appeared at the peak of the bulges.

Other trading was not more than moderate and was mostly of a speculative type, dealers said.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ⅛ to ⅜ cent a bushel higher, May $2.16⅛; corn ⅛ to 1 cent higher, May $1.18⅜; oats ¼ to ⅜ higher, May 66¾; rye ⅜ to ⅝ higher, May $1.28½; soybeans ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, May $2.26⅛; lard unchanged to 2 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $12.57.

State House Votes for School Bus Bill

The bill which will require traffic to stop in both directions when a school bus is loading or unloading passengers passed the House of Representatives in Lansing last night by a 60-30 vote.

Sponsored by Reps. Lloyd L. Anderson (R-Waterford Township) and Farrell E. Roberts (R-West Bloomfield Township), the bill is today headed for a vote in the Senate.

With Sen. Harvey Lodge (R-Drayton Plains) endorsing its passage, Anderson said he didn't expect any opposition in the Senate. If passed, from there it will go to Gov. Williams' desk.

Ruling on Dixie Under Protest

No Left Turn Proves Confusing to Motorists, Blocks Access

An official protest will be sent to Michigan State Highway Department from Waterford Township officials concerning the no left turns from Dixie highway to Williams Lake road on the west and Walton Boulevard to the east.

The action was approved at last night's regular board meeting, and members said no prior provisions had been made for traffic access to either of the roads from Dixie highway.

Motorists have become confused by the newly installed no left turn overhead light and signs on the sides of Dixie highway.

The only access for traffic approaching Pontiac from Flint is a small road that cuts across a blacktop parking lot owned by the National Food Store and traffic moving from Pontiac to Flint must use an unimproved gravel road near the A & P store on the east side of Dixie.

In other board action, members heard protests from a delegation of residents living in the Chettolla Shores subdivision because of public dumping of refuse on two vacant lots at Chipmont and Oregon streets. The board plans to investigate the situation today.

The problem of parked cars in the Cass-Dodge Park area was again brought to the board's attention. A resident of the area, J. R. Fitzpatrick, requested board action be taken as to charging parking-car rates on owner's vacant lots. He said, "The people park their cars on our property anyway so we feel that we should be paid for that privilege." The board agreed but no action was taken.

Recreation director Tom Belton presented a request for $1,500 for improvements at the Drayton Athletic Field. He specified that a new backboard, score sign and drainage facilities were needed. A personal survey will be made by board members today before taking action.

A request from the board of education for the extension of a water main from the Watkins Hills subdivision 470 feet to a proposed elementary school was tabled for further consideration.

The offer by a local real estate firm of two lots on Woodhull Lake for recreation purposes was also tabled. The property has three year delinquent taxes owing and this must be cleared up before township acquistion.

The board voted to close the township offices at noon Good Friday.

Teachers Leave Fields

WASHINGTON—Of the 1956 college graduates prepared for high-school teaching, 9.3 per cent chose other occupations, according to the National Education Assn. Only 2.1 per cent of those prepared for elementary-school teaching during the same year chose other jobs.

It would take far longer than one lifetime to count out in dollar bills the amount of money ($3,325,000,000) advertisers invested in newspapers in 1957.

Tot Struck by Auto Driven by Father

A two-year-old Leonard boy is in fair condition today at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital after being accidentally run over by a car driven by his father Monday, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

William Wolfe, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Lee Wolfe, of 4991 Haggerman Rd., suffered a compound fracture of the right leg and a fractured skull, said deputies.

His father said he had just left the house to go get a can of oil and didn't know his son was following him. He ran over his son while backing from the driveway, he told deputies.

New Entrance Open at General Hospital

The new main entrance and lobby at Pontiac General Hospital were opened today to the public and the old entrance was shut off.

Hospital visitors began using the Seminole avenue entrance on the west side of the hospital addition.

The former main entrance, on Johnson avenue, has been closed temporarily, hospital officials said, while contractors work on that portion of the original building.

The hospital's new information booth, admissions office, administrative wing and emergency suite are all accessible from the new Seminole avenue entrance.

Boy Scouts Travel Far

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF MY WIFE, Gladys Ellen Skarritt, who passed away April 1, 1952.
There is a husband who misses you sadly,
And finds the time long since you went;
And I think of you daily and hourly,
And I try to be brave and content.
But the tears I shed in silence,
And breathe a sigh of regret,
For you were mine and I remember
Though all the world forget.
Kim Skarritt.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF PHILip Worth who passed away 3 years ago March 31, 1955.
There's an open gate, at the end of the road, thrpugh which each must go alone
And there in a light, we cannot see, our Father claims His own.
Beyond the gate my loved one finds happiness and rest,
And there is comfort in the thought that a loving God knows best.
Sadly missed by his wife, Mae A. Worth.

Giraffe Settles in Florida to End Long Legal Fight

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — A $2,000 giraffe which has cost about $17,000 settled down in his corral today after court battles which rivaled his neck in length.

The 12-foot-tall animal, suitably named Moneybags, was shipped from Kenya, Africa, in September 1956, bound for a Miami commercial zoo.

He was held in quarantine 19 months in Clifton, N.J., while the zoo operator, Jack Pedersen, fought a Department of Agriculture ruling that Moneybags could go only to a zoo under government control.

Pedersen won that battle, and also a ruling that the Department of Agriculture would have to pay the giraffe's $2,100 food bill while in quarantine.

Despite his victories, Pedersen said that attorneys' fees and other expenses came to about $17,000. Moneybags' actual worth is $2,000.

Castro Declares All-Out Effort

Batista Given Power to Counter Attacks, Strikes in Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Rebel leader Fidel Castro today launched the first phase of his "total war" to oust President Fulgencio Batista.

Batista, received a grant of special emergency powers from the Cuban Senate to counter spreading strikes and rebel attacks on the island's communications. The House of Representatives was certain to add its assent.

Castro called on Cubans to paralyze communications in the first step toward a nationwide general strike he said would be called at "the right moment." That might be delayed until after Easter, rebels in Havana said, but Castro proclaimed "a state of total war between the people of Cuba and the tyranny of Batista" beginning at midnight Saturday.

Castro ordered his followers to fire without warning on all highway and railway transport moving today. Drivers and railway workers in eastern Cuba began leaving their jobs after reporting rebel threats.

"Thousands of armed men" soon will march on Santiago, capital of Cuba's easternmost province, Castro threatened. The government replied with further police and troop reinforcements.

Batista called a meeting of his Council of Ministers today to consider fresh ways of meeting the rebellion, possibly including a declaration of martial law. Constitutional guarantees already are suspended.

Batista's national police seized a shipment of guns valued at more than $100,000 at a house on the coast 12 miles west of Havana. No arrests were made but 15 rebels are being hunted, the police said.

Woman Bank Bandit Released on Bond

DETROIT (AP) — A young expectant mother was free on bond today after pleading guilty in U.S. District Court to stealing $430 from an Addison, Mich., bank Friday.

Mrs. Dorothy Foley, 28, of Cement City, was released on $5,000 personal bond yesterday by Judge Theodore Levin pending a probation report. She left the courtroom with her husband, Stanley, 28.

Mrs. Foley is charged with robbing the Addison branch of Adrian Commercial Bank by passing a note to a teller, ordering him to hand her the money.

The teller said he thought the woman had a gun in a pocket of the men's coveralls she was wearing.

Police quoted Mrs. Foley after the robbery as saying she took the money to cover checks written with insufficient funds.

Beeping Earth Intruder Surprises Policemen

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Hearing that an antenna-sprouting cylinder had fallen near here, police rushed to the scene.

The 10-foot-long object they found emitted loud beeps.

They unscrewed its six bolts and found inside a bicycle horn, an electric fence charger, some trash —and this note:

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.

Versatile Entertainer Never Steals Spotlight From TV Stars

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Television fans have a furious curiosity about the folks they suddenly see lots of times on TV but know little about. One of the omnipresent queries we are asked about TV personalities is: "Is he nice?"

Today we'll answer that question concerning a gent about TV by name of Hugh Downs, who suddenly seems to have catnipped the girls of all ages.

All right, girls: Yes, by all we know about him, Hugh Downs is nice. He's also amazingly adaptable around a TV studio, as folks who admire him on both the Arlene Francis morning shows and Jack Paar's "Tonight" have learned.

He is quiet, restrained without being retiring (with his hours, he hardly ever retires anyway) and his good looks are a matter of constant public record. Hugh was 37 on St. Valentine's Day. He is married to the former Ruth Shaheen and they have two children, Hugh Jr., 12, and Dierdre, 8.

He had been a Chicago all-purpose radio-TV man for 11 years until 1954 when NBC decided on Arlene Francis and the "Home" show and needed a "new face" to change the purely feminine pace. Slowly, steadily, Hugh has become a performer of admirable, solid dependability.

He is able to do anything in the announcing or emcee line without overplaying or trying to take over from the star. This is a happy faculty which gets Downs many jobs and much respect from such more eagerly vibrant performers as Paar and Arlene.

His studio mates call him one of the trade's easiest-going guys, mild-tempered and agreeable, never seems tired for all his lack of shuteye, which also does not seem to ever get his nerves on edge.

Born in Akron, Ohio, Hugh grew up in Lima, attended Shawnee High School nearby, later attended Bluffton College and Detroit's Wayne State University. In 1938, age 17, he decided to become a radio announcer, working part time on various stations.

After Army service, Hugh got a staff announcing job at WMAQ, Chicago's NBC station, and for more than a decade was a man of all jobs from disc jockey to interviewer, working at one time or another on most of the major radio and TV shows originating in Chicago. Currently he earns a six-figure annual salary from NBC.

California Landslide Kills Road Engineer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A state engineer was presumed killed by a huge landslide that rumbled down on the spot where another hit four days earlier.

Victor O. Sheff, district engineer for the State Division of Highways, was directing workers yesterday at the site of the old slide. He was believed buried under 100 feet of earth.

An estimated 600,000 tons of rock and earth collapsed from the 300-foot-high Palisade onto the Pacific Coast Highway near Santa Monica. Operators of heavy equipment fled for their lives as the avalanche tossed bulldozers around like toys.

Toledo Museum to Train U. of M. Art Students

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Toledo Museum of Art announced it has entered an agreement with the University of Michigan to give practical training to future museum executives.

Otto Wittman Jr. associate director of the museum, said the only similar joint program in the nation is between New York's Metropolitan Museum and New York University.

Under the plan here, a selected number of Michigan postgraduate students in the fine arts department will be hired by the Toledo museum for periods ranging from one semester to one year. They will be given practical instruction to augment their academic training received in Ann Arbor.

'Small Party' by Mesta Turns Up 600 Guests

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Perle Mesta invited us to a "small party" for Ruth Eisenhower in Washington. I heard there were 500 guests, but that was wrong—there were 600. It extended over eight rooms. Virginia Warren was escorted by Bob Gray, White House Secretary. As the cherry blossoms haven't bloomed yet, Madame Mesta supplied some made of cellophane.

Major John Eisenhower took his wife home early. "She's got four kids and has got to make breakfast," he explained.

Radioactive Rivers Atoms War on Cancer

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP) — Radioactive rivers are flowing into human bodies to fight cancers beyond the power of the surgeon's knife.

The rivers are fluids, containing radioactive atoms giving off X-rays that can kill cancerous cells. They flow through thread-thin plastic tubes sewn into the cancer-ridden organ or tissues.

This is one of a number of bold new methods of fighting cancer.

It was described today by Dr. Paul V. Harper, surgeon of Argonne Cancer Research Hospital and University of Chicago, and Dr. William M. Ironside, ear and throat specialist of the University of Chicago Medical and Biological Research Center.

Two to six feet of the plastic tubing is wound in and around the cancer-sick area when it cannot safely be removed by surgery.

A few days later, the protruding ends of the tubes are filled with the radioactive fluid. It can be pumped in and out to expose the cancerous tissue to the radioactive rays.

This has been done especially with cancers invading the pancreas gland. While it has not cured anyone or even lengthened life, it has dramatically relieved pain in most of 14 patients, Dr. Harper said.

This technique exposes the tissues directly and intimately to the radiation, and avoids radiation hazard to surgeons and nurses, the physicians told science writers making an American Cancer Society tour of research centers.

In another technique, small envelopes containing blotting paper have been implanted near tumors of the eye. Then the envelopes are filled with radioactive atoms to hit at the cancer.

Nomination Bids Due by May 27th

Persons hoping to be delegates to the 1958 Oakland County Republican and Democratic conventions must submit their nominating petitions by May 27, County Clerk Lynn D. Allen announced today.

Each of the county's nearly 300 voting precincts sends one delegate to both of these conventions which will be called sometime after the Aug. 5 county primary. The delegates will be chosen at this election.

Allen said petitions are available now at the county clerk's office.

Oakland Youths Guilty of Thefts

Judge Hartrick Metes One Prison Sentence; Probation for 2 Others

Three members of a garage looting gang yesterday were sentenced to three years on probation by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick, while a fourth was sentenced to serve up to five years in prison.

Receiving the prison sentence was Gerald Gravlin, 20, of 2754 Hartline St., Rochester. He will serve from six months to five years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson.

Probation terms of three years and $150 court costs each were handed Allen E. Turner, 18, of 292 Park St., Charles R. Hill, 18, of 708 Davis St., and Jack G. Wells, 20, of 1653 Bates St., all of Birmingham.

A fifth member of the gang, Herbert L. Kannell, 17, of 1172 E. Ruffner St., Birmingham, appeared before Judge Hartrick to change his plea to guilty to a charge of larceny from a motor vehicle. The judge set sentencing for April 14.

Police said the five were part of a gang of some 10 youths who looted 100 garages and cars in the Birmingham, Troy and Bloomfield Township areas.

Returns to State Prison for Violating Probation

For violating his probation, Richard D. Silver, 17, of 21220 Ontago St., Farmington, will serve a 1 to 15 year sentence in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson.

Silver, who was placed on probation in January for burglary, was sentenced yesterday by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Mother Wants Baby Returned

Seeks Her Child After Grandmother's Effort to Give It Away in Store

DETROIT (AP)—A young Detroit mother sought return of a 20-month-old son whom his grandmother tried to give away in a Columbus, Ohio, drugstore.

Mrs. Barbara Velcich, 25, said she would ask Columbus welfare officials to give her back the boy, Tommy. Tommy has become known as "the baby nobody wanted."

"I don't want to give him away," Mrs. Velcich sobbed when told hundreds of couples in four states wanted to adopt Tommy after reading published accounts of his plight.

The child was taken to a children's home in Columbus after a woman called police last Thursday to report that Mrs. Nettie McCoy, Mrs. Velcich's mother-in-law, had tried to give her the youngster.

Mrs. McCoy told police Mrs. Velcich and the child's father Denny, 24, had abandoned Tommy in her care and she was unable to take care of him. Mrs. Velcich said she has been trying to persuade Mrs. McCoy to return the child and had lost contact with her.

"If I'd known this was going to happen, I'd have hitchhiked there to get him," said Mrs. Velcich, who is expecting a third child in July. She has another child, Arlene, 9 months.

Tommy's father is a $24-a-week part-time truck driver.

A spokesman for the children's home said the Velcichs have a right to keep Tommy.

Junior Editors Quiz on APRIL FOOL'S DAY

QUESTION: How did April Fool's Day start?

ANSWER: April Fool's Day, or All Fool's Day, is the name given to the first day of April. In many countries, including our own, it is the custom on this day to play silly, harmless jokes—such as putting salt in the sugar bowl and sending friends on errands looking for something that never existed. The custom is so old that there is very little information about it. One story says it has a connection with the dove which made so many trips from Noah's Ark looking for land. The celebration as we know it came into common use in England in the 1600s.

FOR YOU TO DO: The elk in our picture was always hoping to find a sack of gold. He was very happy when he saw a bag of coins sitting on top of a toadstool. He grabbed for it, shutting his eyes in delighted anticipation. But his fingers touched something cold. "That isn't gold," he cried as his eyes flew open. And it wasn't. It was a big, ugly, green frog which quickly hopped away. "You fooled me," the elf cried. The lady bug under the toadstool laughed and said, "Didn't you know this was April Fool's Day?"

Paste this picture on cardboard and color it. Then cut it out carefully, making slits along the dotted lines above the toadstool. Also cut out the tab with the bag of gold and frog on it. Now bring Tab A up through the toadstool from the back until the bottom of the sack reaches the dotted line on the toadstool. Then push Tab A through the dotted line in the bushes above the toadstool. Now, by pulling the tabs up and down, you can fool the elf.

(Today's $10 award goes to Steven Nathanson of Oakland, Calif.—and this is no April Fool trick. Send your question on a postcard to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of The Ponitac Press. Tomorrow: Is coal vegetable or mineral?)

New Chemical Rids Blood Clot

Successful in Melting Blockage in Legs; May Erase Heart Attacks

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)— Dangerous blood clots are safely melted away by shots of a newlyfound chemical, scientists reported today.

It has done a good job in dissolving clots blocking blood vessels in the legs of 35 patients.

Next it will be tested against clots blocking arteries bringing blood to the heart muscle. Such blockage causes coronary attacks.

This chemical is a normal part of human and cow blood, and is known as Plasmin RPMI 10. RPMI means Roswell Park Memorial Institute.

It works against clots which are no more than five days old, Dr. Julian Ambrus told science writers on an American Cancer Society visit to major cancer research centers. It's much less effective against older clots, or fails altogether to dissolve them.

(The new agent is different from another chemical recently reported in Boston as a promising anti-clot drug. That chemical was derived from molds.)

RPMI 10 was found during tests of 50 plasmin preparations. Radioactive blood clots were created in arteries of dogs and monkeys, then the drug was injected. Geiger counters measured how fast the radioactive clot disappeared.

Heart attacks and brain strokes often come from blockage of arteries by clots. The new agent might dissolve them quickly, to minimize the long-term damage, but it could not prevent the initial damage done when a clot halts the blood flow. It might well prevent later and more serious or fatal clots.

The research was conducted by Dr. Ambrus, his wife, Dr. Clara Ambrus, and Doctors J. E. Sokal, C. Markus, N. Beck and G. E. Collins.

A recent study, conducted by Dr. George Gallup of the American Institute of Public Opinion, found that newspaper advertising is regarded as news by most readers.
