Reds Promised Top Standard of Living by '70

Khrushchev 7-Year Plan Calls for 80 Pct. Hike in Production

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government today promised its people the highest living standards in the world by 1970.

The promise was made in a report on Premier Khrushchev's seven-year economic plan which was approved Wednesday by the Communist party Central Committee.

The plan for the years 1959-1965 calls for an 80 per cent increase in Russian industrial production.

This will enable the Communist bloc to produce more than half the world's industrial goods in 1965, compared with about one-third now, the report claimed.

This "will provide a real foundation for overtaking and outstripping per capita production in the United States" by 1970, according to the report.

By 1970 or possibly earlier, the report adds, "the U.S.S.R. will take first place in the world both for absolute volume of production and for per capita production, which will insure the highest living standards in the world."

Such economic success would prove the absolute superiority of communism over capitalism, the report declared.

The report will be delivered at the 21st party congress, scheduled for next January. At a date not yet announced it will be presented to the Supreme Soviet, Russia's parliament, for certain approval.

The seven-year plan was presented as part of a 15-year development program which provides the necessary conditions to be created for completing the transition to communism."

The report refrains from promising a date for the Soviet millenium of pure communism in which each contributes according to his ability and is rewarded only according to need.

The report touches on almost all

Dedication Set for Osteopathic Hospital Sunday

Ceremonies dedicating the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital have been scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

After the brief ceremony, in which representatives from various religious faiths will take part, there will be open house for the general public, announced Harry H. Whitlow, hospital director.

The 121-bed hospital will be dedicated "to the people of Oakland County," Whitlow said.

Open house will last until 5 p.m. and most of the hospital will open for general inspection, Whitlow announced. There will be a buffet dinner served in the hospital dining room.

The open house marks the completion of a $200,000 remodeling project at the hospital's new location, 50 N. Perry St. The seven-story building there was formerly the Pontiac Hotel.

The hospital purchased the hotel for an undisclosed sum in January, 1956 and moved in two months later. It had formerly been located in a converted clinic at 32 Auburn Ave.

Twin Babies Die of Suffocation

Race With Death Fails to Save 2-Month-Olds at Mount Clemens

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Policeman Edward Morisette lost out in a race with death Thursday.

On an errand of mercy he sped to a hospital with twin baby girls as passengers in his car.

Morisette drove with one hand. With his free arm, he clasped 2-month-old Wanda Cooper.

Alternately he squeezed his grip and relaxed it, trying to give Wanda artificial respiration. She had shown signs of life.

The other twin in the car was Rhonda. Morisette had taken both from their home.

But at the hospital both Wanda and Rhonda were dead.

The twins, children of Earl Cooper, 26, a Selfridge Air Force Base cook, and his wife, Cornellia, 24, had suffocated in their crib.

The Coopers have another daughter, Kim, 18 months.

Oakland's Oldest Man, Ex-Slave Dies at 108

Martin Lewis, a former slave who lived to become Oakland County's oldest man, will be buried Monday in the Oakland County Cemetery.

Lewis died Wednesday in the Oakland County Infirmary, where he had been an inmate the past two years. He was 108 years old.

The centenarian was born into slavery March 6, 1850 on a cotton plantation at Carterville, Ga., a crossroads hamlet near Rome.

Freed at the end of the Civl War, Lewis stayed on near Rome and eventually became a cotton farmer himself.

In 1900 he married another former slave, Bettie Daniels, who died in Pontiac in 1938 at the age of 95. Mrs. Leiws had eleven children by a prior marriage and Lewis raised them on his farm.

He and Mrs. Lewis sold their farm in 1936 and came here to live with one of the sons, Sydney Daniels, of 90 Jackson St. The only other surviving child is Fred Daniels, of 834 Longfellow St., Detroit.

In his retirement, Lewis made many friends here, many of whom gathered together to give him a party at the infirmary when he first entered it in September, 1956. He had been a county patient at Pontiac General Hospital for a few weeks before.

Mentally alert to the end, Lewis had many memories of his slavery days.

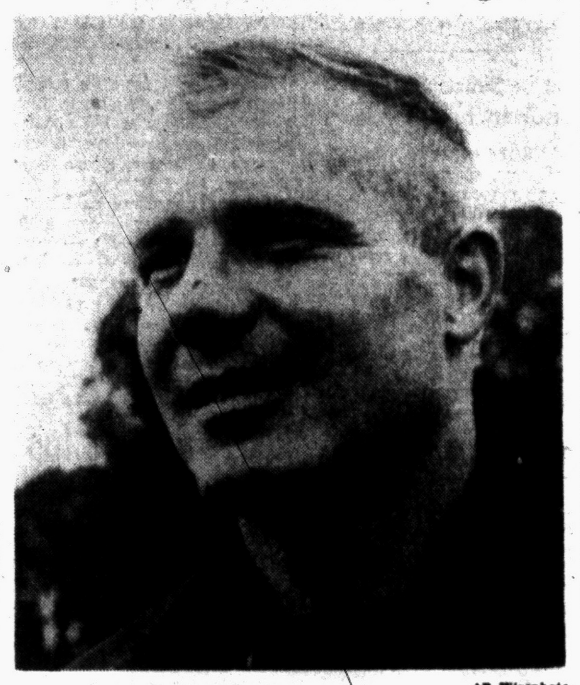

He always maintained that his owner had given him fine treatment, As a youth, Lewis helped harvest cotton on the plantation.

He recalled that at the age of 13, he heard of the words that Abraham Lincoln delivered at Gettysburg.

Lewis remained physically active

Hunters to Dominate State Traffic Today

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Michigan traffic this weekend will be dominated by an estimated 300,000-plus deer hunters moving to their favorite spots, most of them getting ready for the 6 a.m. season opening tomorrow.

The Conservation Department estimated the Saturday opening would mean hunters would start their exodus from cities this afternoon and evening.

Actual hunting pressure wasn't expected to be much heavier Saturday than it was during Saturday, the second day of the season, last year.

No extra troopers were assigned by State Police, but a maximum patrol pattern used for all heavy traffic periods was to be in force.

The main routes bearing the brunt of the load of hunters were M66, U.S. 27 and U.S. 23.

The annual invitation by state police to hunters to register camp post was extended also.

One conservation expert said recent factory layoffs might cause traffic to be heavier this evening and tonight. He said many people might work up to the quitting time instead of cutting off work a day or so early.

The pheasant season opened on a day when a large Lansing factory resumed operations after a strike. Pressure in the Lansing area, he said, was considerably below expectations, largely because of the work resumption. Similar thoughts might keep people right on their jobs today instead of their quitting a day or so early.

Mental Health Meeting Called

Moore Sets Parley Nov. 25 to Draw Up Emergency Plans

Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore has called upon state mental health officials to meet and plan emergency measures to be placed before a proposed special session of the Legislature.

Judge Moore, chairman of the Probate Judges Committee on Mental Hospitalization, announced the meeting is scheduled for Nov. 25 at the Michigan State University Union Bldg. in East Lansing.

Invited are Gov. Williams and the state administrative board, the Mental Health Commission, Michigan Society for Mental Health representatives, plus key members of the Legislature.

The latter include House Speaker George Van Peursem, the Senate Appropriations Committee, House Ways and Means Committee, and the chairmen of the House Mental Hospital Committee and the Sen-

Bump Elliott Will Step Into Top Wolverine Position From Assistant's Spot

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Bennie Oosterbaan resigned today as football coach at the University of Michigan after 11 seasons.

Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, Oosterbaan's top aide and backfield coach, will replace Oosterbaan on Jan. 1.

Both are former Michigan football stars.

The regents met this noon and approved the switch. President Harlan Hatcher said the action was taken with "the deepest regret" and would not have been approved had it not been "in accordance with Bennie's own wishes . . ."

Oosterbaan said in a statement:

"As is generally known I have for the past three or four years been seriously considering retiring from the head coaching position . . .

"Last spring at my request this intention was made known to the Athletic Board, which subsequently offered me a fine opportunity to serve the university in another capacity.

"At that time I decided this would be my last year in the head coaching position and so informed Fritz Crisler.

"There was not the slightest pressure on Bennie," said Crisler, director of athletics at Michigan. "It was up to him entirely. This is a reassignment within the athletic department.

"I think it was four years ago when Ben first suggested that he some day would like to be relieved of the coaching assignment. He said then he was looking forward to the day he could get out.

"It was an independent decision by him. This losing season is not a factor. There was no organized alumni faction against Ben and there was no campaigning for another coach."

Oosterbaan told newsmen:

"I considered making the announcement at the opening of the season, but decided to withhold it until the season was over. In view of the recurring rumors, however, I'm making the statement now."

Elliott reportedly will receive an annual salary of $16,000. Oosterbaan's new job is expected to be as assistant athletic director under Crisler, his predecessor as football coach.

Oosterbaan reportedly made $19,000 a year as coach, but it was understood he would take a slight cut in his new job.

Last night in a closed session a resolution was passd by the Athletic Board stating: "The Board of Control of Intercollegiate Athletics recommends that Chalmers W. Elliott assume the duties of head football coach as of Jan. 1, 1959, at a salary of $16,000 a year."

The board presented this recom-

'58 Grid Season Just 2nd Loser for Big Bennie

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan, who resigned this morning, is completing his 11th season as head coach at the University of Michigan.

Since 1948 when he replaced Fritz Crisler, who assumed the athletic director's duties for the Wolverines, Oosterbaan's record shows 63 wins against 31 losses and four ties.

He will finish the season which has two more games against Indiana Saturday and Ohio State next week.

In his first year the Wolverines won the Big Ten championship with a perfect season. In 1949 Michigan tied for first with Ohio State, and in 1950 the Wolverines took the title and also won the Rose Bowl game against California, 14-6.

This is Oosterbaan's 11-year record at Michigan:

Time's Awasting: Start Practicing NOW

Don't Wait 'Til You're 65 to Retire

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Magazines today are full of articles on the evils of retirement. They're enough to frighten a man out of the desire to grow old. They make retirement sound more dangerous than Sunday driving.

Some people are always knocking a good thing, but we doubt that they'll ever make retirement really unpopular with the working classes. Or, for that matter, government employes.

The big peril seems to be that a fellow suddenly turns 65, is cut off the payroll, and doesn't know what to do with himself. He finds it hard to adjust to a new way of life.

SIMPLE ANSWER

The answer, of course, is simple. Start getting ready for retirement early in life, so when it does come it will find you ready.

Here are a few down-to-earth tips—the kind the magazines don't dare give you:

At 25 start borrowing money from your relatives and friends. If they are like most relatives and friends, it will take you at least 40 years of steady borrowing to build you up a really decent retirement fund.

Begin loafing on the job at 35, and loaf more each year. By the time you're 65 you'll be used to not working, and there'll be no sudden shock when you have to hang up the harness forever. If the boss objects, explain your program to him fully and honestly. He'll understand. He's probably doing the same thing himself.

Since most people spend most of their time making mountains out of molehills, be sure to lay in a good supply of molehills while you are young. You don't want to be caught short in your old age.

START NIPPING

Doctors often advise retired people to take a nip before each meal to help their circulation.

ate Health and Welfare Committee.

Such a meeting could lay plans to whittle down the long list of mental patients waiting to get into the state's crowded mental institutions, Judge Moore said.

Gov. Williams has not yet indicated whether he would call a special December session of the Legislature to consider the problem.

"Prompt emergency action is vital," Judge Moore believed.

"Only combined legislative action and administrative planning can solve the problem. It should be faced immediately," he told Gov. Williams in a letter.

"In fairness to everyone, it must be recognized that the major difficulty is unquestionably the shortage of state funds."

The judges' committee has a two point plan to open up bed space in state hospitals. It recommends:

(1) The release back to local counties of approximately 500 mental patients whose primary need is custodial care rather than active psychiatric treatment.

"In exchange, an equal number of beds would thereby be made available for waiting list commitments," Judge Moore said.

(2) The use of approximately 1,000 vacant tuberculosis sanitoria beds for mentally ill patients, beginning with the transfer to sanitoria of mental patients with tuberculosis.

Retire? I Can't, Says Doctor on 98th Birthday

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Lindsey S. McNeely, a doctor for 68 years in the nearby village of Kirby, celebrates his 98th birthday today without "fuss and feathers."

"Just another day," he called it, then shrugged off all thoughts of retiring. "Who would take over my practice?" he asked.

Dr. McNeely, whom some recognize as the oldest active doctor in Pennsylvania and possibly in the United States, practices moderation and regularity. He calls them the keys to contentment and a long life.

Dr. McNeely doesn't smoke or drink, but admits he has prescribed a bit of whisky at times.

"I can't say whisky will cure anyone," he chuckles, "but neither can I say it won't do a patient any good."

Rise in Simca Sales Reported by Chrysler

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. says sales of the French built Simca passenger car in this country for the first nine months of 1958 totaled 12,031 units. In the same period last year sales were 3,374 units.

Chrysler purchased a substantial interest in the French auto firm earlier this year. It said that by the end of 1958 it expects to have 700 dealers selling Simcas throughout the United States.

Month-Long Detroit Trial Ends

2 Women, Man Guilty in Photo Studio Fraud

DETROIT (AP) — The co-owners and general manager of a Detroit photographic studio were convicted of fraud in customer dealings yesterday after a month-long trial in Recorder's (criminal) Court.

A jury of five men and seven women deliberated over six hours before returning its verdict against Mrs. Joyce Holt, 30, her sister Miss Helen Stock, 37, the owners, and Cymon Reiger, 41, the manager.

Judge Paul E. Krause set sentencing for Dec. 4. The three defendants face a maximum of five years in prison on each of two counts.

The trio were convicted of conspiracy to commit gross frauds and cheats and conspiracy to obtain signatures under false pretenses.

Attorney for the three said they will seek a new trial.

Police raided the studio operated by the women (Holt Studios) Oct. 17, 1957 in response to complaints from customers.

More than 65 witnesses testified at the trial. Witnesses told of being sued for failure to pay for picture contracts they did not realize they had signed. Some said they signed papers which they believed authorized the studio to display their pictures and later learned they had signed contracts to pay for pictures.

The trio operates another portrait studio (Deville Photo Studios) in Columbus, Ohio. The Columbus studio has a $37,000,000 libel and slander suit pending against the Columbus Citizen, the American Tobacco Co., the National Broadcasting Co., and the Better Business Bureau of Columbus.

A Citizen reporter appeared on a radio program sponsored by the tobacco company in connection with activities of the Ohio studio. The suit followed.

mendation to the University Board of Regents which has its meeting scheduled for today.

The Regents usually follow the course of action recommended by the Athletic Board, and the appointment of Elliott was expected to come out of today's meeting.

Oosterbaan was appointed head coach in 1948 and has been on the athletic staff since he was graduated from Michigan in 1928.

Oosterbaan will finish out the 1958 season as head coach. Michigan has two games remaining, with Indiana tomorrow and Ohio State the following Saturday.

Finance Officials Agree:

State to Struggle Through

LANSING (AP) — Although Michigan is in the red financially, the state will be able to struggle along until the next meeting of the Legislature, top state officials have agreed.

The conclusion was reached at a meeting of state fiscal experts, called by Gov. Williams yesterday to review the current financial status.

Sanford A. Brown, state treasurer, said Michigan will be able to meet its payrolls and welfare payments from incoming revenues.

He said "a day of reckoning" is coming somewhere in the future, however.

"We'll just have to wait until the Legislature meets in January to determine where we go from here," Williams said.

Brown reported that the state has $7,700,000 in cash at hand at the present moment. But around 12 million dollars is owed to the three major state universities—the University of Michigan, Michigan State University and Wayne State University.

The universities are able to get along temporarily, Brown said, by dipping into student fees.

Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, reported that the state now owes about 18 million dollars in state school aid. He said the figure will jump to around 28 million dollars by next month.

"The Legislature just did not provide enough money to take care of the school aid formula," Williams said.

In addition, Bartlett said, school districts have borrowed about 35 million dollars since July 1 to meet current operating expenses.

Brown said state bond sales are being hurt by loose talk about the probable state deficit by the end of the fiscal year. Some predictions have held the state will be up to 65 million dollars in the red by the end of the fiscal year.

"It's impossible to tell what our position will be until we know what our revenue is," Brown said.

The Democratic treasurer claimed Republicans are guilty of taking the most pessimistic view.

Even If You're Just 25

Start Retirement Practice

Why not start this form of medication earlier, so your system can get used to it? After 40 start the morning off with a bracing martini.

After 65 a man's chief form of exercise is criticizing his wife. But why wait? You might as well get in a few workouts with the old girl in advance. At 45 you can start telling her what's wrong with her, thus giving her 20 years to perfect herself before you retire and begin your full-time criticism.

After retirement a man needs less strenuous hobbies. Why not give up girl watching around 50, and take up tree watching? It is not only more restful. It is less expensive. Hint: Avoid watching pine trees—they're too stimulating. Pick an acorn and watch it become an oak.

At 55 give up things that excite or overload the circulatory system—such as fried foods, redheads and politics.

At 65 the only thing a man can afford to give away is advice. But if you can, get rid of it before you retire—and save this later drain on your energy.

Anybody who adopts these simple steps will find it easy to adjust to retirement, when it comes, and live forever.

Chrysler Strike Ties Up Payroll

40,000 Workers Won't Get Checks in Absence of Office Staff

DETROIT (AP)—A payless pay day arrived for some 40,000 Chrysler Corp. workers today in the fourth day of a strike by 8,000 white collar workers.

The company said it would be unable to get out the pay checks on schedule because of the absence from work of its payroll clerks and timekeepers.

A strike of office workers and engineers has all but paralyzed the automobile manufacturing firm's entire operation, idling nearly 50,000 of the 70,000 production force.

Federal and state mediation services, meanwhile, made an attempt to get the three striking union locals of the United Auto Workers and management together in negotiations.

Both agencies set up a conciliation meeting for 10 a.m. today inviting Chrysler and the union to attend. There have been no negotiations since the strike began Tuesday.

A company source said that 5 million dollars in pay coming due today would be held up because checks could not be drawn in the absence of payroll personnel.

Chrysler closed down all its assembly plants yesterday, saying it was impossible to continue because production workers have refused to cross striker picket lines.

Reds Promised Top Living Standards

phases of Russian life, from Khrushchev's new work-plus-study educational system to expansion of airlines. But primary emphasis is placed on heavy industry.

The volume of state capital investments during the next seven years will almost equal capital investments in the 41 years of Communist rule, Khrushchev said.

At the same time he promised a better life to the more than 200 million Russians. The real incomes of factory and office workers will increase an average of 40 per cent and of collective farmers by no less than 40 per cent, the report said.

Improvements in pensions and health services plus alleviation of the housing shortage also were promised.

The report says, "The U.S.S.R. will have the world's shortest working day and working week."

The official news agency Tass issued three versions of how this will be accomplished.

Avoiding flat commitment, two versions said a five-day work week "is suggested" for factory and office workers, who will number 66 million in 1965. A third version said that for those working six or seven hours a day, "a five-day working week, with two days off a week, is to be introduced" at an unspecified time, but presumably within the seven-year plan.

"The transition of factory and office workers to a six or seven-hour working day is to be completed by 1960," Tass said, and those with a seven-hour day will have a 40-hour week—meaning almost six work days—by 1962.

The report emphasized that the Soviet Union was engaged in peaceful competition with the capitalist world.

Prince Charles 10 Today

LONDON (UPI) — Prince Charles celebrated his 10th birthday today by sharing a large cake with his classmates at tea. The rest of the day was spent in class as usual. Charles, who someday will be crowned King of Britain, attended all his classes at the exclusive Cheam School in Berkshire. The tea-time cake was the only note given of his birthday.

in his old age. He enjoyed walking and freguently took long strolls near his home.

He was an inveterate pipe smoker and always used the same pipe until about a year ago, when complete blindness overcame him and he had to stop smoking.

At times he believed that the secret of his longevity was the fact that he ate a great deal of meat. At other times, he said that he was living so long "because God wants me to."

His advice to his children was, "Don't fuss over old people. It's the fuss that makes them die."

Despite his blindness, Lewis was still active in his final year and managed to navigate around his room at the infirmary.

Hospital attendants said he was keenly interested in the southern integration-segregation squabble from the time it broke last year until his death.

Funeral service for Lewis will be Monday at 2 p.m. at the Trinity Baptist Church, Rev. Richard H. Dixon Jr. will conduct the service. Burial will follow in the Oakland County Cemetery.

Oakland County's oldest resident is Mrs. Elizabeth Beaumont Taylor, of Highland, who will be 109 Dec. 16.

Cranbrook Artist Fredenthal Dies in Rome at 44

A former Pontiac area resident and art graduate and instructor of Cranbrook Academy, Bloomfield Hills, was found dead in his Rome apartment yesterday after he apparently had taken an overdose of barbiturates, according to police.

He was David Fredenthal, 44, a Detroit-born sketcher and water colors artist.

Following graduation from the Cranbrook Academy, he attended the Colorado Springs Fine Arts Center. He had exhibited his works in Flint, New York, Washington and San Francisco.

As a war correspondent for Life Magazine from 1944 to 1946, he became famed for taking his sketch pad into places where photographers were forbidden and then coming out with drawings which brought wide acclaim.

His works have been included in collections at the Milwaukee Art Institute and the Museum of Modern Art and the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

Fredenthal's combat sketches of World War II in the Pacific and drawings of the late conductor Arturo Toscanini were also famous.

Friends of Fredenthal in Rome said he had been ill for some time.

Derailed Car of Train Holds Up City Traffic

Traffic was blocked for more than an hour yesterday afternoon when one car of a 14-car Grand Trunk freight train was derailed at the Columbia avenue crossing.

No one was injured in the derailment, which occurred at 5 p.m.

An agreement has been signed by the United Arab Republic and Morocco under which the Egyptian region will send Morocco sugar, cotton, and books in return for canned sardines, minerals, and cardboard.

The Day in Birmingham

Cashier Tips Off Police; 3 Held for Passing Check

BIRMINGHAM — A check passing spree was nipped when an alert cashier at Wrigley's Supermarket, 1855 S. Woodward Ave., had a hunch there was something wrong with a check presented to her by three men.

Birmingham Police apprehended Ernest Holmes, 32, of 390 Saliotte St., Ecorse; Alvin Atkins, 34, of 296 Polk St., River Rouge and James W. King, 22, of 3175 Beatrice St., Detroit. They were to be arraigned on charges of uttering and publishing in Birmingham Municipal Court today.

Detective Lt. Merlin Holmquist said the cashier, Frances Johnson, called Peko Motor Sales in Detroit while the men were shopping in the store. She was told the check drawn on their firm recently had been stolen from their office on Livernois. The cashier then checked the trio's car license number and notified police.

Detective Richard Chambers and Sgt. Henry Foltz said a search of the auto turned up 16 more of the stolen checks made out ready to be cashed.

Police said this morning that nearly all of the downriver police departments want to question the men on similar charges in their area.

A two-day display of architectural designs by O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Associates, 950 N. Hunter Blvd., will open with a cocktail party from 5 to 7 p.m. today.

Harry Denyes, a member of the firm, said the display, covering the past 10 years, will feature schools and churches the firm has designed. Other exhibits will be recreational facilities, civic buildings and hospitals.

The program today and from 1 to 5 p.m. tomorrow also will include an open house to display the wing on the company's building.

Birmingham's old trees, familiar landmarks for many years which have been cut down to permit new construction or because of their age, are not to be forgotten.

City Forester Charles Gale said the "oldtimers" are being sawed into lumber and made into benches by his department.

The first will be the black walnut that stood near the Detroit Edison building. It was removed for parking lot construction. The bench made from its lumber will be placed in Shain Park. Each bench will bear a metal plate carrying a brief history of the specific tree.

Mrs. William De Graff, 951 Fairfax Ave., will be hostess to the 1 p.m. luncheon meeting of Birmingham Rotary Anns Monday. John Moss, local florist, will speak on holiday flower arrangements.

HAL H. HOUGHTON

Service for Hal H. Houghton, 66, of 6047 S. Snowshoe Circle, Bloomfield Township, will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Cremation will follow at White Chapel Cemetery, Troy.

Mr. Houghton died yesterday at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, following a long illness.

A member of the Oakland Hills County Club, he was a sales representative for the Sutherland Paper Co. of Kalamazoo for 25 years.

Surviving are his wife, Bonita; a daughter, Mrs. G. William Ostermann of Bloomfield Hills; a son, G. Knight, of Birmingham; his mother, Mrs. Maude R. Houghton of Evanston, Ill., and two grandchildren.

Mackie Warns Against Hassle

Tells Birmingham Club Xways in Detroit Area Tied Up by Wrangling

Michigan Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie continued his warning to governing bodies in the Detroit metropolitan area that their wrangling over expressway routes is putting a snag in highway construction in their area.

Mackie, speaking at the Birmingham Country Club following the dedication of the Eight Mile road widening project, announced that outstate highway construction is on schedule.

But, he added, construction in the Detroit metropolitan area will lag until agreements on route locations are obtained from affected communities.

"The time has come," Mackie said, "for local governing bodies and officials to face up to local pressure groups armed with an understanding that the communities they represent are vitally dependent on the vastly improved standards of mobility which can only be provided by the rapid development of new expressways."

He was apparently aiming his criticism at past squabbling over the James Couzens expressway, which resulted in the Detroit Common Council voting against Mackie's plans to make it an elevated superhighway.

The commissioner also announced that his department put some $64 million of new construction under contract in the second quarter of this year—almost twice as much as for any previos three-month period.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — There may be a shortage of Santa Clauses here this Christmas season. Local merchants gave up plans to hold a school for Santas after only five applicants showed up.

Went Hunting Day Early; Lose Privilege 2 Years

CHEBOYGAN (UPI)—Four Cheboygan hunters were sentenced to 15 days in jail and fined $57.30 each because they couldn't wait until tomorrow to go deer hunting.

Harold Clairmont, Kenneth McLeod, Robert Darling and Gerald Platzer were found by conservation officers in possession of a carcass of a four-point buck.

A justice of the peace who sentenced them took away their hunting privileges for two years.

Work Law War Cost Teamsters $800,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Harold J. Gibbons, Teamsters vice president, says his union pumped more than $800,000 into labor's battle against enactment of "right-to-work" laws in six states.

Gibbons told the Economics Club of City College Thursday that Teamsters locals contributed at least $400,000 and the international union another $400,000 to the campaign.

The laws would bar union membership as a condition of employment. Last election day the measures lost in Ohio, California, Colorado, Washington and Idaho and passed in Kansas.

Overland Mail Began in 1858

Passengers Paid $400 for Hazardous Stage Trip to West Coast

WASHINGTON — It was just a century ago that horse-drawn stages of the Butterfield Overland Mail made their first nonstop dashes to and from the West Coast. Scheduled time: 25 days.

Since then, Pony Express riders, trains, automobiles, and airplanes have respectively whittled the distance from days to hours. But in the fall of 1858 the Overland Mail's timetable operation made the nation glow with pride.

The mail and passenger route ran 2,795 miles from St. Louis to San Francisco over mountains, plains, deserts, creeks, and rivers through a frontier made hazardous by brigands and Indians, the National Geographic Society says.

Despite obstacles, the stages set forth twice a week, from both east and west. Fare was $200, and passengers were allowed 40 pounds of luggage. The postal rate was 10 cents a letter.

The need for better communication with the Far West was so great that in 1857 Congress authorized an overland mail route. The Government agreed to pay $600,000 yearly for a semiweekly service "in good four-horse coaches or spring wagons," each journey not to exceed 25 days.

The Post Office Department awarded the contract to John Butterfield of Albany, New York.

On September 15, 1858, the first westbound mail left St. Louis. It went by rail to Tipton, Missouri, then was transferred to a shiny new coach for the long trek. Cutting across Arkansas and Indian Territory (Oklahoma), the wheels spun dustily over an almost uninhabited region of north-central Texas, crossed a barren plain drained by the Pecos River, and climbed through Guadalupe Pass to reach El Paso.

The coach joggled over 350 miles of rough, unbroken country to Tucson, veered northward to Pima Indian villages on the Gila River, and continued to Fort Yuma. The route followed the San Diego trail for a way, then turned toward a sleepy old Spanish town called Los Angeles. The coach rolled into San Francisco on the morning of October 10.

Civil War ended the service. The Federal Government moved the route northward out of the Confederacy's reach, and the Butterfield line was merged with other companies. But even today, time has not entirely erased from western wastes the fading twin ribbons of the Overland Mail's tracks.

Suggestion to Partition India Made by FDR

NEW DELHI (AP) — President Franklin D. Roosevelt suggested partition of India as early as 1942 as a way out of the impasse over freedom from British rule, a collection of letters to Prime Minister Nehru disclosed today.

Nehru celebrated his 69th birthday with publication of a new book, "A Bunch of Old Letters" covering correspondence over three decades before Indian independence in 1947.

The 1950 census showed more women than men for the first time.

Climb Sheer Face of Cliff

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif. (UPI)—The leader of the first party ever to climb the sheer face of El Capitan, the 3,604-foot monolith at the entrance to Yosemite Valley, said he was "pretty close to cracking" when he got to the top.

"I'm sort of wobbly after hanging in slings for 13 days," said Warren Harding, 34, of West Sacramento, "but I feel great."

"I'll admit I was pretty close to cracking when I got to the top. I was pent up."

Harding and two companions reached the top of the granite cliff Wednesday after an incredibly difficult climb. The three worked 23½ hours in the final push, occasionally dangling in space by their nylon ropes.

El Capitan's peak is 7,649 feet above sea level. It has been approached from the rear by a relatively easy seven-mile hike, but the face has never been conquered up to now.

With Harding were George Whitmore, 27, Fresno, and Wayne Merry, 27, San Jose.

Asked why he did it, Merry said:

"Some people play golf, some bridge, some tiddlywinks. I climb rocks."

Harding and his two companions had been on the face since Nov. 1, but the ascent was the climax of an effort that began on Labor Day of 1957. Eight men took part in it at one time or another.

The climbers made their laborious ascent by driving metal spikes into the granite for footholds and to anchor their nylon ropes.

Weathered, easily crumbled granite added to the hazard as they neared the top.

He'll Get Time to Study

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Arrested for drunkenness, a pedestrian persuaded police not to charge him with jaywalking by explaining: "I don't understand the new traffic signals when I'm sober, and they're even worse when I'm drunk."

Suspect Identified by Artist's Sketch

NEW YORK (AP)—Ruth Scher, 15, escaped from a man trying to attack her Thursday night in a self-service elevator. She was asked to describe her assailnt.

Ruth, a first year high school art student, said: "I couldn't do that, but I can draw his picture."

She did. Police picked up a man in a hallway of the Brooklyn housing project where Ruth lives. Her pencil sketch was a perfect likeness. He was taken to the girl's apartment where she made a positive identification.

Booked on a charge of attempted rape was Theodore Greenbrg, 25.

We're putting the pyramids right back where they were!

Recently we have been testing a slightly different label on the Camel package. The experimental design changed the illustration and the wording a little. That's all. No change whatever was made in the famous Camel blend of choice Turkish and domestic tobaccos.

What we learned in the test is that Camel smokers prefer the original package, so we're putting the pyramids right back where they were, as quickly as we can do it. The test package is being discontinued, so you will soon be getting your Camels in the package you know so well.

We have always been proud of the loyalty of Camel smokers, and we thank you for helping us decide not to change the looks of the package that brings you the best-liked cigarette of them all! (Yes, we are happy to say that again this year, for the 10th straight year, Camel outsells all others!)

Aunt Asks Paper to Help Cheer Dying Nephew

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. William Silva has asked the Richmond Independent to help her with a pre-Christmas project—get cards and letters to her dying 4-year-old nephew.

Mrs. Silva wrote the Independent the boy is suffering from cancer and is not expected to live. She said he likes to look at cards and pictures and to greet the mailman.

"We don't expect little Mel to have a Christmas this year so cards and letters from friends would be greatly appreciated as sort of an early Christmas," she wrote.

Senator Says Integration Should Come Gradually

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) suggested today that Congress provide a gradual approach to racial integration of schools.

"So far court decisions and existing legislation have not solved the problems," Jackson said in an interview. "We must find a way so that set social patterns can be changed gradually to conform with the law."

Commenting that "small children have few prejudices," he said the best approach might be to start integration in elementary schools.

"I am confident that men of honest intelligence and good will believe that integration is right and legal," Jackson said. He expressed hope that Congress can consider this and other civil rights problems "without the spirit of emotionalism that has caused controversy in some areas in the past year."

Election of 16 new senators, Jackson said, increases the chance for a revision of Senate rules that now make it difficult to choke off extended debate or filibusters.

He said the new Congress also must find some method of protecting the voting rights of minority groups.

Jackson, re-elected to a new six-year term in the election landslide that boosted Democrats to 64 Senate seats against 32 for Republicans, said he believes all of this can be accomplished without a serious split in Democratic party ranks.

Jackson has supported efforts to loosen the Senate rule which now requires the affirmative vote of 64 senators to choke off debate and force a vote on controversial issues.

Sens. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) and Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) have said they will force a test on revision of Senate rules early in the new session which begins Jan. 7.

Ban on Contacts With Federal Regulators Is Congressman's Aim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles A. Wolverton (R-NJ) said today Congress should ban contacts between members of federal regulatory commissions and persons interested in pending cases.

"Contact with members of such commissions should be on the same basis as with the courts," Wolverton said in an interview.

"No one would ever take a judge out to lunch to try to see how a court case is coming along, yet many persons contact agency and commission members to pry into important cases before them."

Wolverton voiced his opinion as the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee prepared to continue questioning an attorney about vague rumors of a $50,000 payoff solicitation in a television case before the Federal Communications Commission.

The New Jersey congressman is senior Republican on the subcommittee.

Recalled to the witness stand was George O. Sutton, Washington attorney, who had represented a corporation seeking FCC approval to operate TV channel 4 in Pittsburgh.

Prospect Still 'Trying' Car's Radiator, Hoses

DETROIT (AP) — Used car salesman H. A. McFarland saw a man closely examining a late model trade-in. Anxious to make a deal, McFarland gave the man the car keys and told him to take the vehicle for a trial spin.

Hours later, McFarland found the car parked several blocks away, steam pouring out of its engine.

Police are looking for the sales prospect and the car's radiator and hoses.

De Gaulle Proves to Be Political Man-of-Hour

One of the most interesting political figures of the day is Premier CHARLES DE GAULLE. When the French government was wallowing in one crisis after another, DE GAULLE came to the fore and gave France the leadership sorely needed.

Had the general chosen to remain in quiet retirement he would have been remembered as austere, humorless and seemingly possessed with delusions of personal grandeur. In a few short months he has changed this impression.

Today France has leadership that it has not seen for generations. It could even be said that in some instances he is showing more leadership than leaders of the countries which have been critical of French weaknesses in the past.

Possibly the general's path is not always correct, but at least he is positive, productive and aggressive. He is a man with a set plan and he is attempting to carry out his ideas.

The French people are viewing a leader that obviously has confidence in himself and the nerve to face up to the problems of the day. His views are clear-cut and not wishy-washy.

An example of this is DE GAULLE'S proposal to meet with Algerian rebel leaders in Paris. The meeting may not come off, but at least it shows his willingness to take a step to seek a solution to an urgent problem.

The Premier is surprising many of his followers by not treading a narrow path. Instead he is taking a wide outlook and demonstrating a readiness to explore all viewpoints.

To the people of France he is now more than a symbol they called upon when in desperate need. They see him as a human being they can trust, with whom they find remarkable personal dignity, for all that he still stands an aloof figure.

U.S.-Japanese Treaty Coming Up for Revision

The moderate government of Premier KISHI of Japan is under fire from Socialists and unions who would like to weaken ties with the United States.

To curb a flareup in crime and labor violence, a bill to strengthen the working powers of the police had been introduced by the government. In angry opposition the Socialists boycotted the Diet and attempted to close it by force, their leader crying "violent revolution is the only road to power." Communist infiltrated unions denounced KISHI for wanting to return to harsh police rule and many workers went out on strike.

Proponents of the bill point out that the police, who have little or no authority now, must have greater powers in order to stop demonstrations which have paralyzed communities from time to time. They insist there is no intention of returning the police to their prewar status under the Japanese militarists.

The underlying cause of the fracas, however, seems to be U.S. support of KISHI'S moderate and co-operative policies. Discussion on revision of the mutual security pact between Japan and the U.S. is now going on. Premier KISHI has been outspoken in his insistence that modification of the treaty will not mean any change in the close association between Japan and the United States in the matter of security, but should give Japan a more equitable and stable operating basis.

For its part the United States has indicated a willingness to undertake treaty revisions, to Japan's advantage, provided mutual security is not weakened.

The Japanese can expect more consideration if they continue in office a moderate government. Treaty revisions should not be made the work of either rightists or leftists.

THE coming winter will be severe, mild or somewhere in between. This prediction is based upon the fact that bark is on the outside of trees this fall.

"MY DOCTOR says my condition is satisfactory," a hospital patient said, "but he's much easier to satisfy about my condition than I am."

The Man About Town

That Fire of 1881

It Raged in Thumb District and Affected Pontiac Area

Weather: What appears to have gone nuts—and is driving us.

Several readers have written of their recollections of the forest fire that swept Michigan's Thumb Area in 1881, taking dozens of lives and doing millions in property damage.

Its effect was felt in the Pontiac area, the smoke darkening the skies for several days. The oil burning lamps on our downtown corners were run on a 24-hour basis, and business generally was suspended.

Among its survivors was

Mrs. Emery Andrus,

now of Rochester, whose father, the late

Melvin Decker,

then owned the mills at Deckerville, which were destroyed, together with most of the village.

Now living at North Branch,

G. A. Hood

then was located near Goderich, Ont., and writes that the smoke blew across the lake in such volume that it was necessary to close the schools and it was like night for several days.

Some cotton plants brought back from Georgia last spring by

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Whitman of Lake Orion, and set out in their garden, now have bolls almost ready to burst into maturity.

Always raising a few peanuts in his garden,

Burnham Rodgers

of Oxford has a problem. The squirrels are digging them up.

An iris plant with blossoms is reported by

of 240 West Longfellow Ave., after blooming at the regular time.

Those are pretty fine new front doors on our neighbor, the First Presbyterian Church.

A plant that grew up from the stump of a sunflower that had been cut down several weeks ago by of Birmingham, now is ready to bloom.

Some wild ducks that stop over near the home of

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Serv

at Pontiac Lake are getting too choosy. They refuse to eat potato peelings, but just dote on peeled potatoes that have been chopped up.

When the family dog in the home of

of Drayton Plains, brought up a live cock pleasant the other day, he was crestfallen and since has gone around with the mopes because his master released it.

Easy to Hit but It Won't Go Far

David Lawrence Asks:

Are Capital Schools Segregated?

WASHINGTON — Right here in the District of Columbia, the latest official figures show, there are 20 schools which are all-Negro and five schools that are all-white. Does this mean that the "law of the land" is being ignored, or, to borrow a phrase from some of the critics, that the law is being "defied"?

LAWRENCE

The Supreme Court of the United States in its historic 1954 decision quoted with approval a statement that "segregation of white and colored children in public schools has a detrimental effect upon the colored children."

It cited as one of the "intangible" factors to be considered in providing the Negro student "equality" in education, "his ability to study, to engage in discussions and exchange views with other students." The court said "such considerations apply with added force to children in grade and high schools."

The argument, of course, is made that the existence of all-white or all-Negro schools here is due not to a deliberate policy of segregation but to the accident of residence in a particular school district.

But this can be readily overcome by providing bus transportation so that children can be taken from one part of the city to another in order to enjoy the benefits of integration as the Supreme Court has described them.

Today the district still maintains to some extent the "separate but equal" idea. Not only are there 25 schools that are, in effect, completely segregated, but there are 74 other schools in which 90 to 99 per cent are Negro.

In 20 additional schools, the enrollment is 90 to 99 per cent white. This means that, out of 170 schools in Washington, 119 are entirely or almost entirely of one race or the other.

How long can such virtual segregation be maintained in the national capital? The whole country is being told that segregation must be abolished altogether and that there must be no "evasive" schemes.

The accident of residence is largely due to discrimination in respect to housing. There are areas of Washington, for instance, where "restrictive covenants"—contracts made between private citizens not to sell to certain races — operate even though the Supreme Court has ruled that these are not enforceable by legal proceedings.

Apparently many people in the District of Columbia are objecting even to such desegregation as has occurred. In the last four years there has been a gradual exodus of white children to private schools or to the suburbs in nearby Virginia and Maryland.

The latest official figures show that, in all public schools in the district, the enrollment now is 74.1 per cent Negro — which means 2,434 fewer whites and 5,539 more Negroes than a year ago.

If the theory expounded by the Supreme Court of the United States is accepted, education will not be equal until every Negro child has a chance to attend a white school and "to study, to engage in discussions and exchange views with other students."

In New York City, several Negro parents are boycotting certain schools which they consider inferior in quality, although "integrated," and are demanding better education through assignment of their children to white schools in other parts of the city irrespective of residence. They are willing to provide transportation. They are quoting the Supreme Court desegregation decision of 1954 in support of their demands, but thus far New York City has refused to redistrict the Negro pupils.

The Country Parson

"A fellow can't be happy if he has everything he wants — for then he lacks the joy of anticipation."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Overheated Air Causes False Sense of Chilliness

"Is there any scientific proof that night air is at any time harmful to one having a cough, presumably allergic or due to bronchial trouble?" This query bears a Michigan postmark but no signature — just meaningless initials.

DR. BRADY

Let's simplify the query to seven words:

Is night air at any time harmful?

The answer is a matter of opinion, and in my opinion the answer is no. The air at night is generally cooler and contains more water vapor than in the daytime and less dust. The open air, that is.

The air in the house, office, shop, sickroom, schoolroom, hospital, theater, train, subway or bus is usually overheated in the winter time and excessively dried out.

Both factors, excessive heating and excessive drying, must be controlled, preferably by thermostat and efficient humidification, to maintain hygienic air condition during the season of artificial heating, no matter what methods of heating may be used.

The outdoor air in winter contains enough water vapor, humidity, when heated up to comfort zone temperature (not more than one or two degrees above 68 F.) to be balmy, like an ideal autumn day. When the winter air is heated up to 73 or higher, it becomes as dry as the driest desert air and its drying effect is as hard on skin and mucous membranes of occupants of the overheated room as it is on musical instruments, furniture, book bindings, growing plants and tempers.

The ideal temperature of the artificially heated living room, school room or office is approximately 68 degrees F., and the ideal relative humidity is somewhere between 40 and 60 per cent. When the air is heated to 75 degrees F. the relative humidity may be as low as 10 to 15 per cent, nearly as dry as the desert.

The overheated and very thirsty air causes excessive evaporation from the skin and mucous membranes of nose, sinuses, throat, larynx (voice-box) trachea (windpipe), broncial tubes and lungs.

This gives rise to a feeling of chilliness, and that causes the poor souls to wear too much clothing and turn on more heat. Warm dry air does not give the same sense of comfort afforded by cooler, moister air.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Jesus' Teaching Method Is Best

Morpheus is the only sure member of Clarence's Sunday audience! For Clarence fails to use Christ's public speaking formula. It takes a livewire in the pulpit to electrify an audience, but a livewire speaker must use the methods outlined below. They are so simple that many educational snobs disdain them. But they work!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Z-371: Clarence D., aged 37, is a brilliant clergyman who is not holding any better parish than student pastors occupy nowadays.

"Dr. Crane, what holds me back?" he complained, miserably, "for I have my B.D. degree from seminary and read avidly.

DR. CRANE

"I spend every morning shut away from people as I prepare my sermon for the following Sunday.

"But attendance is poor at my sermons and getting worse. Besides, I must move after a year or two, for the people don't want me back again.

"Yet I pray and strain and study till I can hardly read the print!"

RELAX, PARSON

Remember yesterday's case about the wife who had strained for six years in her hope for a baby.

When she relaxed, after adopting a little boy, she soon became pregnant.

Well, many people strain too much. And they fail to employ the proper formula. Jesus gave it to us in his "narrative" or "anecdotal" method.

He used a moral principle as a text but then documented it with cases drawn from the everyday experiences of the audience. Yet many seminary graduates still fail to comprehend this simple formula that is such a surefire method for filling a church.

In fact, I have seen many young preachers who were poorer speakers after three years in the seminary than when they first entered!

The more education a preacher gets, the greater is his tendency to be a "book" preacher instead of a Human Relations expert.

Bishop Richard C. Raines, of Indiana, asked me to make three special trips into the Hoosier state a few years ago primarily to explain to his clergymen the simple formula which he himself has used so perfectly and which is the same formula other talented clergymen and orators also employ.

SERMON MECHANICS

In geometry, if you have three points or dots on a sheet of paper, you can always draw a circle which will include them.

So, clerics, change your outlook and quit straining. Go out on Monday morning and call on three parishioners.

Keep your eyes and ears open. After your three interviews, then head back to your study and draw a sermon, like the geometrical circle, that will include those three parishioners!

For you should have gleaned something instructive and illustrative from each of those three pastoral calls.

Now figure out a sermon text which will include all of them. Then weave into the sermon a narrative account of your pastoral calls and also name those parishioners in a complimentary way.

Fade out in your peroration with some fitting poem or quotation which will uplift the audience, and you have followed Christ's own formula.

It is so simple that many clerics, imbued with the "ivory tower" professor's indirectness and tendency to live up in the clouds, can't grasp it. That's why we see so many sleepers in church pews.

It takes a livewire in the pulpit to electrify a congregation! And a good speaker uses cases, names members of his audience, recites a few rich cultural quotations, and lifts his group with a two-minute inspiring peroration.

For more specific advice, send for my booklet, "Surefire Public Platform Strategy," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

It will show you how to make a dandy speech or sermon without so much strain. And you'll banish Morpheus from the pews, too, for an "electrified" audience simply cannot go to sleep!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Several Readers Answer Letter by Baptist Minister

It is a big disappointment to me that, under the mantle of freedom of the press, a man of God should employ the Voice of the People to ridicule the religious tenets of millions of his fellow Christians.

We Catholics are sincere in our belief in Purgatory. To us this tenet of our religion is as firmly based on the Scriptures as are, to him, the good Doctor's religious beliefs with which we may disagree, but which we do not ridicule.

May we respectfully say that, in regard to purgatory, one can go farther and fare worse, a fate we sincerely hope will not befall even those who ridicule us.

L. L. Logsdon

1029 Argyle Ave.

I fail to see why Dr. Savage must advertise the fact that he does not embrace one doctrine or another of our faith. We know he doesn't. He calls himself a Baptist, not a Catholic.

The tone of ridicule in Dr. Savage's letter suggests a note of insincerity to me. It seems that if he were curious about the doctrine of purgatory or any other tenet of the Roman Catholic Faith, he would inquire of a priest rather than the editor of a secular newspaper.

R. O. Reynolds

59 Summit St.

If Rev. Savage is motivated by an honest desire to get an intelligent answer to a reasonable question, I'm sure he knows where to get it. But if his letter in the Voice of the People is meant to let the public know he's critical of the religious beliefs of others, then he has done a real disservice to his community.

Nothing can stir people more deeply than a religious issue. If Rev. Savage is confused, he certainly won't be enlightened by opening the doors of misunderstanding through a parade of letters in the public press. Let's stop this sort of controversy before it gets started.

United Community

Mr. Savage writes in error. His attack on the Catholic Church is based on a false premise — that is, the untrue assumption that Catholics "say" Pope Pius XII is in purgatory. No Catholic would dare to judge the saintly pope to be in purgatory (a place where those who die loving God but still not having reached perfection are purified before being taken into Heaven). To do so would be to abrogate the judging power of God, and Mr. Savage should know this to be against tenets of the Catholic faith.

Certainly Catholics pray for Pope Pius, as they pray for all their dead. They pray that God will heed the pleas of the Pope and strengthen his church. And they pray that, in the event the Pope should be in purgatory, God will take him swiftly to Himself.

One who calls himself a minister of God would do better to attack the evils of materialism and atheism which press on every side, rather than to undermine those who work for Christ. Let Mr. Savage take a short course of instruction in Catholicism (available free, without obligation, from any priest.) Then he will know what Catholics believe.

Catholic Convert

All letters for Voice of the People must contain the name and address of the writer. This information will be withheld upon request if the letter is not of a critical nature. Letters must be under 200 words and The Pontiac Press reserves the right to edit all letters.

No Catholic says or would say the soul of Pope Pius XII did not go directly to Heaven after death. But since we must render account for even the smallest sins and nothing unclean can enter into Heaven, due to the uncertainty whether his soul is already in Heaven or must undergo complete purification in purgatory, we must help his soul by prayers.

Dr. Savage should have given the epistle, chapter and verse of his quotation of St. Paul. Most likely Dr. Savage, by this quotation, wants to tell the readers that he doesn't believe even in hell. Such belief is contrary to teachings of Jesus Christ and the Apostle.

This is a matter of a particular religion, and I don't think tenets of any faith should be discussed or criticized or attacked in a secular paper, not in the United States, the land of freedom of religion.

Wants to Get Rid of All Loose Dogs

The dog catcher ought to visit the west side and round up all those loose dogs that bark forever and do no earthly good. If a dog is man's best friend, man's in a pretty bad way.

They're nuisances any way you look at them. Those that aren't chained up ought to be destroyed. Mailmen, delivery men, newsboys and all kinds of people making calls are bothered to death by the useless brutes. Let's rid Pontiac of all dogs and have a wonderful city.

Thief Steals Carving of 'Weeping Madonna'

SAUSALITO, Calif. (AP)—"The Weeping Madonan" redwood carving has been stolen.

The plaque, valued at $175, was missing Thursday from its glass case in a shop here.

The carving acquired its name when a trickle of resin rolled out of its right eye last year. Mild excitement over the phenomenon was quieted by sculptor Clara Bass, who explained her knife had struck a resin pocket.

Crash Ends Alabama Escapade

Flint Naval Ensign Jailed After Car Rams House

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP) — A Naval ensign from Flint, Mich., was in jail today following an escapade in which his car crashed into a home and injured a 10-year-old girl.

The girl, asleep on a sofa bed in a combination living room-bedroom, escaped with minor injuries although the car rammed all the way inside the house.

Held on a variety of charges, including reckless driving and destroying private property, is 23-year-old Ens. Donald L. Sterling, a student flier at the Pensacola Naval Air Station in Florida.

Police said Sterling lost control and the car smashed into the house as he fled yesterday from a service station where he had filled his gasoline tank and pulled out without paying.

The car, jumping a curb, smashed into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie McKissick. Their daughter, Mary Frances, was injured. She was treated at Phenix City Hospital and later released.

Sterling was treated for facial cuts and sent from the hospital to jail. Besides the reckless driving and property damage charges, he is accused of bringing stolen property into the state and petty larceny.

Police Chief Forrest Williams said the car was believed stolen in Florida.

Sterling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer J. Sterling of Flint, is a graduate of Michigan College of Mining and Technology. He entered Navy flight training June 28.

The air station at Pensacola said Sterling had been missing from his station at nearby Saufley Field since Sunday. Saufley Field is an auxiliary of the main base.

Sterling was believed drowned when his car was found parked on the edge of Pensacola Bay Sunday. An intensive search of the bay area was made by small boats, helicopters and skin divers.

Mayor Tierney Lie Test Sought

Garden City Residents Circulate Petition; Many Suspect Sniper Fake

DETROIT (AP) — A group of suburban Garden City residents are circulating petitions seeking a lie detector test for Mayor James Tierney who says he was shot at by a sniper last Monday night.

The petitions ask Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel Olsen to give Tierney the test.

Tierney reported a bullet was fired at him. Police found a .22 caliber bullet hole at head height in the rear wall of the mayor's garage.

Several residents report having heard a shot, but no one has reported seeing a car or any sign of the sniper. Garden City councilmen voted a $10,000 reward for information leading to arrest of the sniper.

Louis B. Davis, defeated by a Tierney candidate in last week's city council election, said "A great many Garden City residents feel th shooting incident was a put-up job, designed to discredit and effect the removal of our very capable police chief (Arthur Nagle)."

Police have given lie detector tests to two men in connection with the reported shooting. Both have been released.

Science Seeks Clue to Life

Exploring Basic Growth

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Science is rapidly getting down to the basic rules of cell growth — and this knowledge will have great repercussions in the fight against cancer.

So reported Dr. Torbjorn Caspersson of the University of Stockholm today. He is a member of the committee that awarded the 1958 Nobel prize in medicine and physiology to three Americans.

Caspersson said his primary interest was in the chemistry of cells, and in the chemical events concerned with the genes, which transmit cell heredity.

If you took 100 normal cells, you might find them very much alike, he said, but if you took 100 cells from a tumor, these cancer cells would vary greatly from each other.

Scientific progress in learning the secrets of cell life and growth is moving extremely fast, he said. Great progress has been made in the past 10 years.

"We know now so much more of what is going on in normal cells and the differences in behaviour between normal and cancerous cells," he told newsmen in an interview.

One of the big reasons for this progress, he said, was the use of radioactive isotopes, ordinary elements which have been tagged with radioactivity so that their use by a cell or a group of cells could be traced.

It was about 10 years ago, he said, that the United States made isotopes available to scientists in the free world.

Caspersson took part in a symposium on the cell as part of the sixth annual meeting of the Inter-Society Cytology Council, sponsored in part by the American Cancer Society.

Trial Set Dec. 18 for Carl Riseman

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Carl Riseman of Detroit, one of seven University of Michigan students arrested in a campus crackdown on football pools, will be tried Dec. 18 on charges of engaging in an illegal occupation.

Riseman's trial was to have started yesterday but Municipal Judge Francis O'Brien put the case over until next month at the request of the student's attorney who said they were busy with previous commitments.

The other six Michigan students, including first string fullback Tony Rio and basketball captain Jack Lewis, both of Chicago, stood mute at their arraignment Oct. 30 but later pleaded guilty to the illegal occupation charge and were fined.

Mike Todd's Son Doesn't Resemble Dad

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — To the delight of gentle folk everywhere he goes, Michael Todd Jr. bears no resemblance, emotional or physical, to his late father.

He is shy, soft of heart and voice, slow with a quip, and not socially inclined. He has had exactly one wife—a stay-at-home named Sara—and two children, with another expected for Thanksgiving.

"Dad used to say our marriage would never last." Junior's mouth moves slowly, as though unaccustomed, into smiling position. "I've known Sara since 1946 and we've never had a fight. Dad said that's unnatural — unhealthy. But we've learned to adjust to this unhealthy situation."

At first, as the slight 25-year-old son of a modern legend sits down opposite you at a luncheon table, you feel vaguely sorry for him. He is so grave, so seemingly awkward. He's taken over presidency of his father's vast entertainment enterprises (Michael Todd Productions), and he looks so young and vulnerable.

"Yeah," he says, "well I'm strictly what dad would call a red board player. I'll develop confidence as I go along. Dad had four or five big ideas in the back of his mind when he died. He could've made a success of them, but I'm not sure of myself enough yet, so I've got a project that I think'll go well. And if it goes, and I get feeling confident and cocky enough, I'll take care of some of dad's ideas."

Junior's project is "Smell-O-Vision." It's a Swiss-invented process for presenting smells along with sights in a movie theater. He is building a mystery melodrama ("a sort of amusing murder," he calls it) around aromas, and will begin shooting it in Spain next January.

"The way I feel, I think you've gotta have something unique in movies these days. Dad always said the best thing you can do is to arouse people's curiosities, and I think this'll do it."

Mike shrugged when asked what will happen to his burgeoning confidence if Smell-O-Vision, his first solo production, should flop. "I'll be pretty shaken, I guess. To use Mr. Dulles' phrase, I'll be in for an agonizing reappraisal."

The late Mr. Todd's successor admits he is an emotional opposite of his father. "He just never took no for an answer," Mike Jr. explained. "I'm afraid not to take no once in a while."

"I had a sensational father, you know. One in a million. More than a million."

Besides a respect that amounts almost to reverence, the fabulous producer left his son (and Liz Taylor) the movie "Around the World in 80 Days." So far it has grossed $40 million. "And we're just beginning to show it in the neighborhood houses in New York. It hasn't seen a drive-in."

Junior and Sara live in a new house—"a big house, because we expect a big family"—in Dobbs Ferry, near New York City. They have a son, Cyrus Clagett, "named after a ball field," and a daughter.

Last September, for the first time, they acquired a maid. She was Mike Senior's housekeeper for 17 years, and asked if she couldn't come to work for Mike Jr. So he bought a larger house and she moved in, with husband two sons.

"We also have a big, wonderful, 44-pound St. Bernard puppy," said Junior happily, "who goes to lick the baby and knocks her down every time."

Temperamentally, he is the only member of the household who bears any resemblance to the late Mike Todd.

George Washington's estate, Mt. Vernon, Va., is visited by one million persons a year.

Labor Troubles Delay London's 1st Skyscraper

LONDON (UPI) — Labor troubles are holding up construction of London's first skyscraper.

The new headquarters building of the Shell Petroleum Co., will be 26 stories and 338 feet tall when completed.

That is higher than any other office building in this low-slung city and olny 27 feet lower than London't tallest landmark, historic St. Paul's Cathedral, whose dome reaches 365 feet.

The building is scheduled for completion by some time in 1961. But a rash of strikes — called without union sanction but with Communist endorsement — have made it doubtful that the target date will be met.

Until recently, London construction regulations barred buildings more than 11 stories and about 120 to 150 feet tall. But because of modern construction methods these regulations have been relaxed and several skyscraper buildings are planned.

Mrs. Allen Seeking Treasurer Position

The Pontiac Press yesterday incorrectly reported that Mrs. Lynn D. Allen, presently Oakland County clerk, would be a Republican candidate for Waterford Township clerk. Mrs. Allen is running for township treasurer.

Mrs. Allen, 61, of 4025 South Shore Dr., has started circulating nominating petitions for the position of treasurer.

Petitions are due Dec. 29, two days before her temporary position as county clerk expires.

Hope to Raise Ship by 1960

To Salvage Andrea Doria

By JOHN LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A plaque on "A" deck of the 29,000-ton Andrea Doria honored her designers for creating a ship that could not sink.

On a bright summer's day in 1960, if salvage master Dick Meyers has his way, the Doria will rise from her watery grave 40 miles off Nantucket Island and the barnacle-encrusted plaque will be removed before the leviathan returns to the sea lanes.

The Italian sea queen has been resting 240 feet down on the ocean bottom since the morning of July 27, 1956, less than 12 hours after she collided with the Swedish liner Stockholm with the loss of 50 lives.

Meyers, who negotiated with the Doria's insurers for rights to the hulk, regards his task as "routine."

"There is really not too much to it once you have studied the wreck and know what is to be done," said Meyers, interviewed during a Hollywood visit with his actress-fiancee Carole Mathews.

The bearded diver explained that approximately 100 inflatable rubber caissons, each with a lifting power of 212 tons, would be secured to the sunken vessel.

"The caissons are secured by knocking most of the 400 portholes out of the Doria, then inserting clamps through the openings. Once they are in place we'll start lifting.

"We plan to lift it by degrees, then tow it toward Nantucket with two ships, allowing it to settle to the bottom periodically until we are in only 30 feet of water.

"At that point a gang of men will swarm over the exposed parts of the Doria to smear grease over her. While she is submerged the only real oxidation damage will be that suffered by the light metals such as aluminum," Meyers said.

Meyers discounted any hopes that money and valuables left aboard the Doria would be salvaged.

"At the most there would have been possibly $100,000 and I suppose that was taken off in the 11 hours before she sank," he said.

"The big money is in the salvage. We figure the whole operation will cost us less than four million dollars and when the Doria is raised she will be worth three-fourths of her $38,000,000 cost," the 41-year-old diver said.

Up to 600 men will be involved at times in the project although the crew will be restricted by weather to working only from late spring until mid-December. Meyers hopes to have the Doria out of the water by the end of summer in 1960.

He prepared for the Doria job by the salvage of a Dutch ship, the 250 foot Prinz Willem V, sunk in 100-foot waters of Lake Michigan.

"The Willem suffered the same kind of damage as the Doria on the same side," Meyers explained. "Raising her solves many of the problems we'll face with the Doria."

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

With all the music that is becoming popular today, it's good to have had at least one GOOD disc at the top for awhile.

"Tom Dooley" was a rarity of sorts. It was listenable (which is more than one can say for most rock 'n' roll). Now that it is sliding back to obscurity, let's hope that more top sellers (and there are a few nice ones around) become of a higher listening caliber.

ALBUM DEPT.: A hot seller at several area disc dealers is "Lawrence Welk Presents Dick Kesner" (Brunswick BL-54044). For those who are unsquare, Kesner is this generation's counterpart of Evelyn and her magic violin.

For longhairs, RCA Victor has announced it will release a complete recording of Gian-Carlo Menotti's new opera, "Maria Golovin," shortly. It will be a 3-disc set on Red Seal.

FIVE ACES: Conway Twitty must be happy that the title of his top seller, "It's Only Make Believe" isn't for real. The disc is way out on top in sales this week.

Barreling into second place are the Teddy Bears with "To Know Him Is To Love Him." Third spot will have to be called a tie between "Topsy" by Cozy Col and "Tom Dooley" by the Kingston Trio (both are still doing well around Pontiac but dying in Birmingham).

Ricky Nelson's "Lonesome Town" ranks fourth on the sales chart and Elvis sounds as bad as usual on "I Got Stung" which is in fifth place and climbing.

Invades Virginia Home With Gun

Man Holds 8 at Bay, Kills 2 Women

BOWLING GREEN, Va. (AP) —A Negro gunman, after gaining entrance to a home by asking for food, held eight persons hostage more than two hours Thursday night, then shot and killed two white women. He was still at large today.

Killed while they sat tied in the dining room were Mrs. James S. Brooks, 33, wife of James S. (Cap) Brooks and the mother of four small children, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Kate Lewis Brooks, 74.

Frederick Van Allen, in the Brooks' home to give a music lesson, was injured during a scuffle with the gunman and was hospitalized at Fredericksburg.

More than 150 state and local police sought the slayer with bloodhounds near this central Virginia town of 700, some 20 miles south of Fredericksburg.

Edna Mae Parker, 18, a Negro hired as a maid by the Brooks earlier this week, gave this account:

About 4:30 p.m. the intruder knocked at the back door. When Jean Brooks, 9, answered he pulled out a pistol and forced the girl and maid into the dining room.

There he collected the younger Mrs. Brooks, Van Allen and Mrs. Brooks' twin sons, Lynn and Lewis, 5. He then tied the three adults.

The elder Mrs. Brooks came downstairs and was tied with the rest.

Asked if she had any money, the younger Mrs. Brooks said she had $15 or $20 in her purse upstairs. The gunman sent Jean after the purse.

When the telephone rang, the intruder had Jean answer it. It was her brother, Mason, 7, asking why his mother had not come to art school for him. The intruder had Jean tell him his mother was taking a bath.

Mason called back a few minutes later and said the art teacher was sending him home in a taxicab. When the taxi arrived, the gunman had Jean go outside and pay the driver with a $5 bill.

A short time later the younger Mrs. Brooks' husband drove up and the intruder went outside to meet him. They scuffled in front of the house and Brooks fled for help.

The gunman then returned to the house and shot the two women.

Van Allen, meanwhile, had managed to work loose and attempted a break. The intruder grappled with him but the music teacher tore loose and ran from the house.

Van Allen got into his car and drove away as the gunman fired several shots at him. The slayer then left the house.

Van Allen drove to a store and reported the incident.

Brooks, widely known in this area, operates a restaurant.

Detroit Striker Held

3,000 West Berliners Lay Siege to Red Rally

By REINHOLD ENSZ

BERLIN (AP) — Communists staged a big get-out-the vote rally Thursday night in West Berlin's Sportspalast, scene of some of Adolf Hitler's greatest rabble rousing efforts.

About 3,000 West Berliners laid siege to the historic building, hooting, jeering and shouting "down with Communists." Stones sailed through the air. Several windows were broken.

Only the work of 250 riot police prevented a street battle reminiscent of those fought when Hitler was storming for power.

Anti-Communist anger was roused when the 7,000 Reds began turning the rally into an anti-Western "get out of Berlin" demonstration.

Albert Norden, a member of the Politburo of East Germany stirred up his followers with a passionate speech recalling Soviet Premier Khrushchev's demand that the Western allies clear out of West Berlin and turn it over to the East Germans.

"The Berlin occupation statute and foreign troops must go," Norden declared.

Outside the Sportspalast, a middle-aged cab driver, watched the demonstration.

"This reminds me of the old days," he said, "but actually it is nothing compared to the old days. Then we had ping, ping. . . ."

He demonstrated how the bullets whizzed past.

Inside, Norden was stirring up his audience.

"After 13 years of occupation," he cried, "we say it is time that Berliners control their own affairs."

Outside, the West Berlin police charged the hooting demonstrators. Since the demonstrators were fellow West Berliners—and anti-Communists—the police had orders not to use their clubs.

The charging police got the streets fairly well cleared by the time the Communists left the Sportspalast.

West Berlin votes Dec. 7 for a new city parliament. The Communists billed the rally as the kick-off of a drive to get out the vote. But their chances of getting out the vote appeared slim.

More than 80 per cent of Norden's audience went directly to an elevated railway station and boarded trains to Communist East Berlin.

Eyes Europe Tour for Youth Orchestra

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, president and founder of the National Music Camp at Interlochen, has high hopes for a proposed youth orchestra tour of Europe next summer.

He said his proposal for a 100-piece orchestra of high school musicians to perform in Europe—with concerts planned in at least three Iron Curtain countries—still is being considered by the State Department.

Dr. Maddy was in Grand Rapids yesterday for a lecture at the Women's City Club.

He said he also is looking toward the opening of the National Arts Academy in the fall of 1960 at Interlochen.

The University of Michigan music professor says university Regent Roscoe O. Bonisteel is engaged on incorporation of the academy which is visualized as a prep school with special emphasis on the arts.

On Parole for Burglary, Man Gets Job in Bank

NEW YORK (UPI) — Officials of the Richmond Hill branch of the Chase Manhattan Bank gasped yesterday when they heard of the background of a man they had employed as a porter last summer.

Police said Leon Scott, 35, arrested yesterday for entering the bank with a key he had kept and stealing a gun, had a record of 14 arrests and was on parole from Sing Sing Prison on a burglary conviction.

Berlin Mayor Learned in Tough Shcool

Nazis Persecuted Brandt

By United Press International

It is altogether appropriate that Berlin's rugged 44-year-old mayor should be a skiing enthusiast.

Willy Brandt's political career has had as many ups and downs as a ski trail. But since the end of World War II, his career has been on the climb. Now, with the Communists talking about a new Berlin blockade, Brandt is faced with a new challenge to the city's welfare.

A stocky 185-pounder, Brandt returned to his native land after being persecuted and expelled by the Nazis to become one of postwar Germany's leading political lights.

Born in Lubeck, Germany, Brandt joined the Socialist youth movement at 17, while working in a ship broker's office. In 1933, at the age of 20, Brandt's anti-Nazi reputation was such that he was forced to flee to Oslo, Norway, where he lived with relatives, studied history and journalism, and managed to keep in touch with the anti-Nazi underground.

Listed as a Norwegian student, Brandt returned to Berlin in 1936 and attended Friedrich Wilhelm University while maintaining his underground contacts. A Scandinavian newspaper group assigned him to cover the Spanish Civil War in 1937.

When World War II started, Brandt was back in Norway, an honorary Norwegian citizen working for the Norwegian Relief Corps. This work ended when the Nazis occupied Norway and Brandt fled to Sweden, where he became director of a press agency in Stockholm.

Brandt returned to Germany in 1945 as a correspondent for various Scandinavian papers and, in 1946, became press attache of the Norwegian military mission in Berlin.

He regained his German citizenship in 1948 and was named Berlin representative of the Social Democratic Party's executive committee and acted as liaison between his party and the Allies.

He was a member of the German parliament during its first and second sessions, became a member of the Berlin house of representatives in 1950 and, in 1955, president of the house.

A political protege of Dr. Ernst Reuter, Berlin's late mayor, Brandt became mayor in October, 1957. He speaks English fluently, has a quiet humor and the knack of delivering sharp 10-minute speechs. His wife is the former Ruth Hansen, a Norwegian. They have three children.

Earlier this year, while visting the United States, Brandt modestly laid his political success to the war. "I am in office," he said, "only because a generation of leaders died in concentration camps and in the war and in the plots against Hitler."

Police Asked to Speak Gently to Bad Puppy

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP)—"My little puppy just bit me," said the girl who telephoned police headquarters.

Thomas McCormack, the police switchboard operator, asked her whether he should take the dog away or punish it.

"Oh no," the youngster answered. "But will you come down and talk to him?"

Many of the mission churches in daily use in New Mexico today were build by Spanish friars prior to the year 1633.

$200 Reward Amounts to .008 Pct. of Check

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI) — William Shiel, a Rider College senior, yesterday got .008 per cent of the face value of a check he found as a reward for returning it.

That came to a $200 share of the $2,500,000 check which was a transfer of money from the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York and the Philadelphia National Bank.

Probe in Royal Oak

Welfare Fraud Reported

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP—Many families in a low-rent housing development in Royal Oak Township are engaging in an alleged fraud by diverting social welfare grocery and milk orders for other than designated purchases, Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor disclosed yesterday.

Taylor said "in some instances" families are buying liquor and beer with the cash they are wrongfully receiving from these orders.

He warned persons engaging in this practice that they are defrauding the county and are liable for criminal prosecution, which could mean 90 days in jail, a $100 fine, or both, if convicted.

George H. Burt, director of the county Social Welfare Dept., said this practice, "which has been going on for sometime," is not responsible for the record-heavy welfare load plaguing Oakland County this year. He estimated that only about one per cent of the 3,000 families receiving welfare assistance are participating in this illegal practice.

Besides the families, Taylor said several months of investigation in the township disclosed that a number of milkmen and grocerymen are conspiring in this practice in going along with the diversion of orders.

What happens, Taylor explained, is that a family with children is allotted 50 quarts of milk by the department, and given an order for this amount. Instead of taking this full quota, Taylor said, they will often take only 25 quarts and ask the milkman to either give them cash or credit for the other 25 quarts.

"Then they go out and use this money for a number of things other than what the order definitely states it is for," Taylor said.

Burt said his department will refuse to reimburse the dairies or grocery firms which have employes engaging in these illegal acts.

"The orders spell out, without question, what they must be used for," Burt said.

Taylor said so far his investigation shows this milk-food order fraud is centered only in this section of the county. He said they were continuing to investigate replace elsewhere.

Bank Manager Slain in Holdup

Customer Shot in Leg, 3 Bandits Flee After Long Island Holdup

NEW YORK (AP)—A 55-year-old bank manager was shot and killed today as three robbers took an estimated $8,000 to $10,000 from a Queens bank. A customer in the bank received a leg wound.

Police identified the manager as James F. Duggan.

The holdup was staged shortly before 11 a.m. at the United National Bank of Long Island, located at a busy shopping intersection in the Richmond Hill section of Queens.

The bandits fled in a sedan which had been stolen in Nassau County. The auto later was found abandoned half a mile from the bank.

One of the trio apparently remained at the wheel of the getaway car, for there were descriptions of only two who entered the bank.

One was described as male, white and weighing about 145 pounds. The second was described as male, white, 45 years old and weighing 190 pounds. He was wearing a dark coat and hat and sunglasses and was armed.

Edward Wason, 56, South Ozone Park, Queens, an automobile mechanic, was shot and wounded in the left leg while standing at a teller's window making a deposit.

Wason told police that one took a station at the door while a second leaped over a rail and jumped on a bank officer's desk.

"Then I heard the shots," he said. "I felt something hit me in the leg. I was down on the floor. That's all I know."

First alarm came from Dep. Fire Chief Paul Rusch who was cruising the area in his official automobile.

A clerk rushed from the bank and hailed Rusch, reporting that the manager had been shot in a robbery. Rusch called the fire communications headquarters in Queens, which notified police.

Patrol cars were sent to the scene. FBI agents also headed for the bank.

DIANNE DABLER

Mr. and Mrs. M. Bryce Dabler of 132 Park Ave., Holly, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Dianne, to Amos Joel Bradsher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Bradsher of 705 E. Maple St., Holly. A spring wedding is being planned.

Barbara Hutton, 46 Today, Sees 7th Romance

LONDON (AP) — Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton, six times married, turned 46 today. She spent the gray wintry day quietly with her handsome traveling companion, 28-year-old James Douglas.

Miss Hutton's secretary said: "This will be just like any other day for her. No particular celebration or party is planned."

Douglas, tall with black hair and an aquiline face, told newsmen, however "there will be plenty of celebrating." He gave no details.

But he did say that he, Miss Hutton and a small party are flying down to Tangier Saturday for a couple of days in the sunshine. The Woolworth heiress, now living apart from her sixth husband—former German tennis star Baron Gottfried von Cramm — has an Arabian Nights palace in Tangier's Casbah.

Douglas, son of U.S. Air Secretary James H. Douglas, arrived quietly in London last weekend with Miss Hutton on the boat train from Paris.

"I would not say there is no romance between Barbara and myslf but I will say I am not yet contemplating marriage," Douglas said.

Douglas, heir to a breakfast cereal fortune, said he and Miss Hutton "have many mutual friends: for we share the same interests in people."

"She has led a very unusual and extraordinary life," he said; "a life in which she has experienced a great deal of sorrow and she has been ill for some time. But now I think she is better than she has ever been before.

"She sometimes reads poetry to me, and I play the piano for her, mostly Chopin."

Major Allen B. Voorhees of Nashville, Mich., bailed out safely from a T33 jet trainer that crashed near here after colliding with an RF101 jet reconnaissance plane. The latter plane made it back to Shaw Air Force Base with only a damaged wing tip.

Capt. Raymond P. Hamilton, 36, of Sumter, S. C., aboard the jet trainer, was killed. The trainer set woods on fire where it crashed.

Board Accepts Bid at Milford

Bank Offers 2.1 Pct. Interest on $150,000 Loan for Schools

MILFORD — The Community National Bank's bid of 2.1 per cent interest on a loan of $150,000 was accepted last night by the Huron Valley Board of Education.

The only bid received, it was termed a "very fine offer" by Supt. Harold Hansen. Being borrowed against anticipated state aid, the money is payable June 12, 1959.

The Board also discussed insurance policies for all forms of liability on school-owned equipment. A special meeting was scheduled for Dec. 4, at which time a complete survey will be submitted for Board action.

A request for a special teacher training session from Elementary Supervisor Arthur Burkland was approved by the Board. All elementary school pupils will be dismissed at 1:30 Wednesday. An Oakland County language consultant will address the meeting regarding languages, grammar, spelling and penmanship.

The Board authorized Assistant Superintendent Erwin Johnson, who is president of the Michigan State School Food Service, to attend next week's food service convention in Philadelphia.

The Kingdom of Jordan has a population of about 400,000 living on about 5 per cent of the nation's total geographical area.

Group Has Recommendations for State

Plans to Streamline Government Ready

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams won't lack for ideas on how to streamline state government when the 1959 legislature convenes.

A 35-member advisory committee may recommend changes ranging from consolidation of state health agencies under one department to transfer of the Mackinac Island State Park Commission to the State Conservation Department.

Two "task force" subdivisions of the committee came up with their first recommendations yesterday. One proposed distribution of surplus food commodities be transferred from the Department of Administration to the Social Welfare Department.

Surplus food distribution was begun in 1933 under the Emergency Relief Agency, then was shifted to the Mental Health Department and later to the Department of Administration.

Another task force recommended shifting warrant writing activity of the auditor general's office to the state treasurer.

If the full committee of business, labor and agriculture leaders, former legislators and state officials approves, they'll be submitted soon to Gov. Williams.

Under a law enacted this year, the governor may submit his reorganization plans to the legislature within 30 days after it convenes. If they're not vetoed by either house in the next 60 days, they automatically become law 90 days after the lawmakers adjourn.

A spokesman for the advisory committee said two task force reports expected next month probably would recommend consolidation of state health agencies and consolidation of various revenue-collecting agencies.

Other ideas slated for early consideration include transfer of the Great Lakes Tidewater Commission to the Department of Economic Development, shifting the State Tenure Commission to the Department of Public Instruction and transfer of the Veterans Vocational School at Pine Lake from Western Michigan University to the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Long-range studies are scheduled for proposed abolition of the State Board of Control for Vocational Education and transfer of vocational rehabilitation programs from th Department of Public Instruction to the State Welfare Department.

Let's Get Away From It All

Farm Needs Cow-Sitter

EAST LANSING (AP)—You can add a new item to the list of modern professions: The cow-sitter.

Parents like to get away from the kids once in a while. They hire baby-sitters.

Farmers would like to take an occasional break from the twice-daily milking chore. Why not cow-sitters?

The idea is proposed by Donald L. Murray, extension dairy specialist at Michigan State University.

He point out that most farms are one-man operations. This means the farmer must have a hand in every milking. This really pulls down his morale.

But a cow-sitter could allow him to squeeze in a few days off now and then.

Murray says, "like parents looking for a baby-sitter, it's hard to get someone to do the job as well as the herd owner."

"However," he adds, "an experienced cow man could do a satisfactory job and soon develop a sizable clientele."

Good Grade in This Class Lets Them Hunt 2 Days

HARBOR SPRINGS (AP) — Forty-five Harbor Springs High School students eagerly are awaiting the results of an examination in a special 8-day course.

The students took the exam in the school's fourth annual deer hunting class.

A passing grade entitles them to two days off from classes for a deer hunting trip. Michigan's deer season opens Saturday.

Pontiac Schools Gear for Age of Science

(Editor's Note: The following is the last of a series of three articles written by members of the Pontiac Education Association about the Pontiac school system in observance of National Education Week which began Monday. This article discusses Pontiac's school science program.)

By Gerald E. White, coordinator of elementary education and Dr. Russell W. Curtis, coordinator of secondary education.

In 2,000 A.D., most of the children now attending our elementary schools will be enjoying middle age. Not all of them will be scientists, but all of them will be consumers of science and science will have a powerful influence in their daily living.

It seems, therefore, that this places responsibility upon elmentary schools to help children develop an interest in science and an appreciation of its importance.

We must teach children that science is a way of thinking. Boys and girls should have practice in recognizing problems for themselves, searching for information, working experiments, drawing conclusions and testing their conclusions.

Currently, while hearing so many demands to emphasize science and mathematics, one must keep in mind, also, that it is important to teach children to live and work in harmony with other people, to express themselves well, orally and in writing, and to read and listen with skill and understanding.

TO STRESS QUALITY

It is the general feeling of the members of the Pontiac junior and senior high school staffs that the needs of our national security require a continuing and expanding emphasis on quality in the secondary school program.

The proportion of students who can profit from education in advanced science and mathematics is relatively small. Many youth should be given courses less theoretical and more functional in nature.

A semester of general science is required of all seventh and eighth grade pupils. Ninth grade science is a one-year elective course. College preparatory pupils are encouraged to take this course, since most will enroll in biology at the tenth grade level.

One year of science is required of all senior high school pupils. Courses from which they can choose are: biology, general science, chemistry, and physics. Those in the trade and industrial curriculum enroll in applied physics in their senior year.

TRAIN TEACHER

The task of providing in-service education for teachers is accomplished through workshops, consultant services and by providing opportunities for teachers to work on materials which they can immediately use in the classroom.

Even before Sputnik, a completely revised course of study for junior high science and some of the senior high courses were being prepared. These courses are complete with respect to suggested materials and techniques. They are, however, used by teachers as guides.

Through these and many other techniques the constant job of upgrading science instruction is being accomplished.

It is important to maintain balance in the secondary school program. The demands for emphasis on mathematics and science cannot be permitted to detract from English, social studies, foreign languages, vocational education and other important study areas.

At the same time, it is our responsibility to review the entire program of studies to determine ways of improving the entire educational process.

Attends Convention on Cerebral Palsy

Howard Palmer, president of the United Cerebral Palsy Assn. of Pontiac, is attending the National United Cerebral Palsy Assn. convention in Washington, D. C. this week.

Palmer, of Southfield Township, will be among the leaders of the association which will meet to discuss and learn about neurological diseases, blindness, hemiplegia, and cerebral palsy.

Bus Driver Hit by Angry Man for Coffee Break

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—City bus driver Virgil McDonald, 40, stopped his bus Thursday night, entered a drug store in a suburban section and had a cup of coffee.

When he returned to his bus, a man and a woman passenger were alighting in a huff.

"I wanted to have some coffee," McDonald explained.

And said the irate passenger as he hit McDonald in the nose with a set of brass knucks: "I ought to kill you." The couple walked away.

Bank Obligingly Leases 6- by 12-Inch Plot

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — A transaction involving transfer of a plot of land 6 1-8 by 12 5-8 inches went through the county register of deeds' office.

The T. J. Murphy Fur Co. leased it for a year for $1 from the Manufacturers National Bank.

The fur firm is refacing its building and a column of brick protruded onto the bank's property. The bank said that was OK but went through the legal motions to protect future interests.

Ex-Fiance Can Help on Gifts

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I was engaged six months ago and at that time received many lovely presents. Last week my engagement was broken and I know that the presents should be returned. However, quite a few of these presents were sent by my fiance's relatives whom I had just met and I can't for the life of me remember who gave what.

"Considering this fact, and also the length of time that has elapsed, would it be proper to keep them? If not, will you please tell me how I can return them?"

Answer: I think in this case you will have to send your exfiance a list of the things sent by his relatives, and ask him to please find out who sent what so that you can return the presents. If he writes back and says they do not want them returned, then of course you keep them.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it affected to sit in a restaurant wearing one's fur piece? When I wear a coat I usually slip it off and throw it over the back of the chair, but when I wear my furs I keep them on. My husband thinks it looks silly and gives the appearance that I am showing off. Your opinion on this will be much appreciated."

Answer: Keeping your furs on if you are sitting in a draft, as for instance under a too active air conditioner, would be logical and entirely correct; otherwise you should put them on the back of your chair.

"Dear Mrs. Post: At a buffet supper is it expected that the men wait until all the women have helped themselves first before filling their own plates, or should the men take filled plates to the women?"

Answer: At a buffet meal people all usually file around the table and help themselves to whatever they want. Should the men notice that some of the women have remained seated in the living room, they naturally go up to them and ask, "May I get you something to eat?"

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have a problem with which I would like your help. When I am with friends in a restaurant and friends of theirs come to our table and speak to them and I am not introduced, what ought I do? It is most embarrassing and yet happens quite often."

Answer: If the friends stop for more than a word or two you should be introduced, but when you are not, pretend not to notice and be interested in what is going on at other tables.

Banishes Hot Foot in Boots

Somebody has at last done something about rubber boots. Ordinarily, when the snows are deep, you put on a pair of rubber boots and get a hot foot built in.

They're so air-free that your feet feel like they're walking independently across the Sahara.

A rubber corporation using synthetic rubber, has devised a boot it likes to call "air-conditioned."

The device works so that, with every step, air is virtually pumped into the boot and keeps the feet well ventilated. It operates something like a bellows.

It may make winters a little bit more bearable.

Dear Abby...

Set Up a Night Watch, Mom... Engaged Pair Need Supervision!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Our daughter plans to announce her engagement at Thanksgiving and hopes to be married at Christmas. She is 22 and he is 24. My daughter was raised in a good Christian home and so was the young man. Even though they are practically engaged, do you think it is proper for this young man to come over every night in the week and stay until three and four in the morning?

ABBY

"Naturally they are unchaperoned as who is able to stay up that late to watch them? Do parents have a right to set a time limit under these circumstances or not? I wish someone who has had the experience would help me."

MRS. J.

DEAR MRS. J: "There's many a slip twixt the cup and the lip." Until your daughter and her fiance are married they should have some sort of supervision. Why combine a maximum of temptation with a maximum of opportunity?

"DEAR ABBY: Should a single woman ride in the front seat of a taxi if she knows the taxi driver is married?"

ELLA

DEAR ELLA: A single woman (or a married woman) should sit in the back seat of a taxi regardless of whether the driver is single or married.

"DEAR ABBY: My widowed father is driving me and my family crazy. He's lived with us since Mama died four years ago and every year he is getting harder to live with. During a cocktail party he wandered out among the guests in his pajamas and asked for the olives and cherries from their drinks—then he turned on the TV so loud that nobody could talk.

"I promised Mama I would keep him in my home, but it is going to be a decision between my husband and him pretty soon if something isn't done. He is moody, quarrelsome and sulks when he doesn't get his own way. How can I handle this problem?"

DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: Use child psychology on him! When he misbehaves, send him to his room as you would a child and tell him he is not to return until he can behave. He needs firm discipline, but he also needs attention. Make him feel wanted and a part of the family, but let him know he will be punished if he doesn't behave.

"DEAR ABBY: I notice you came running in defense of the women (as usual) when a mail carrier's wife complained about the indecent way some women answered their doors in the morning. Well, I am a postman and I can tell you from my own experience that I've had plenty of invitations from married women to come in for coffee 'and'. One woman on my route even asked me if I had time to come in and tell her 8-year-old son the facts of life."

A POSTMAN

"DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married for eight years and I won't go into details, but we are splitting up. My problem is about our dog. I got him when he was five weeks old and I paid $100 cash for him, but my wife is the one who trained him. We were offered $600 for him and turned it down. The wife says she is entitled to the dog. I say he is mine. What do you say?"

RALPH

DEAR RALPH: You've got a legal problem. Better find yourself a dog-gone good attorney.

Hearty Oatmeal Cookies Sure to Please Any Man

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We are always interested in any recipe that includes oatmeal. You get extra vitamin B and other valuable nutrients from this cereal. Your family will applaud if you "up" their nutrition with My Man's Cookies.

Mrs. Neil Stranahan of Drayton Plains shares this recipe with us. She is active in PTA work. The family hobby is boating and camping.

MY MAN'S COOKIES
By Mrs. Neil Stranahan

½ cup shortening
1 egg
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ cup coconut
1 cup raw oatmeal
½ cup sugar
½ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped nuts
1 cup flour, not sifted

Cream shortening, add sugars gradually and cream well. Beat in egg. Add sifted dry ingredients, then rest of ingredients.

Drop on a greased cookie sheet and flatten a little. Cookies will spread so don't put them too close together. Bake 15 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Makes about 3 dozen.

In America, the need to conserve precious wool fabrics for use by the armed forces during World War II brought about a government regulation making trouser legs narrower. And they've stayed this way ever since.

Gene Tierney's Story

Retarded Child Is Crucial Blow

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP)—"Where there is no hope, there is no despair," says beautiful Gene Tierney. "But it took me a long time after my child's birth to come to know this."

Daria, first child of actress Tierney and her dress-designer husband, Oleg Cassini, was born in 1943. It was soon evident that the curly-haired child, who resembled her mother, was mentally retarded. The tragedy was one of the emotional blows which later contributed to Miss Tierney's collapse and a long period of treatment in sanitariums.

"I kept hoping and hoping that something could be done, that some miracle would make her whole," says Gene. "And as long as I held that hope, there was agony. It was only later—much later—that I faced the fact there was nothing to be done. When I lost the hope, the despair began to leave me, too."

Early in her pregnancy, Gene entertained troops at the Hollywood Canteen, and two weeks later came down with German measles. As often happens under such circumstances, when Daria was born the little girl was so retarded mentally her lifetime must be spent in an institution.

In addition to this abiding sorrow, her marriage to Cassini was not working out well. There were estrangements and reconciliations, but at base there was a clash of temperaments. One of the roots of Gene's problems has been her own inability to let off emotional steam. On the surface, she always seemed perfectly poised, calm-mannered and disciplined. Cassini is an explosive European, and pyrotechnics were frequent in the Cassini household.

After one separation and reconciliation their second child, Christina, was born, a healthy, bright and dark-haired girl now 10. But despite Gene's stubborn determination to make a go of her marriage, the problems continued. Finally in 1952, she divorced Cassini.

Later came her celebrated romance with Aly Khan. But its crackup had little to do with her collapse.

"I was already very ill mentally when I met him," the actress says. "It may have sped things up a little, but it certainly didn't bring it on. I was due for a collapse."

They talked of marriage, Gene says, "but I didn't marry Aly Khan because I knew—even though I was quite sick—that I wanted a more prosaic life. He is a complete cosmopolitan—charming and delightful. But I am basically a Connecticut girl who wants and needs the usual kind of Connecticut life."

Commends Dr. Jones on Achievements

MSU President Is Keynote Speaker

Two hundred friends of Sarah Van Hoosen Jones of Rochester attended a "This Is Your Life" testimonal dinner in her honor Thursday evening at Kingsley Inn. Zonta Club of Pontiac sponsored the event.

Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, was keynote speaker, and Joe Haas of the Pontiac Press editorial staff was toastmaster. Alice D. Serrell conducted the "This Is Your Life" portion of the program.

Dr. Hannah told of the high esteem with which Dr. Jones has been regarded by fellow board members of the State Board of Agriculture at Michigan State University, and by the university as a whole.

Michigan's only master farmer, Dr. Jones was commended for her interest in humanity. In the interest of higher education, she has given her property to the university.

It had long been the intention of the family to give the property to Michigan State University at some future time. In 1956 Dr. Jones thought the time had come and presented the deed to the university.

Best Looks Go With Ideal Weight

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I know I am overweight. Will you please tell me how much? Older people tell me I am not fat but just look healthy. My husband also tells me this. I am 40 years old, 5 feet 6½ inches tall and weigh 163 pounds. My bust measures 41 inches, waist 32 and hips 43.

"Once I dieted and lost to 141 pounds. Everyone said I looked sick and much older. I am considered a good cook and just love eating what I cook. It worries me all the time even though others do not tell me I am fat. Shall I try to lose some weight and risk looking older just to please myself or be happy as I am? I have a medium large frame."

A. It is difficult to say just what your weight should be. If you have a medium frame, you should weigh about 142. If your frame is actually very large your ideal weight would be 158 to 160.

However, judging by your measurements and the fact that you say a "medium to large frame," I feel sure that you would not be classed as a large build and should lose some. You are some overweight, no matter what.

Since your husband likes you as you are, why not take the ideal weight half way between medium and large and lose enough to reach that. This would be about 154 pounds. You may find that you look your best at 150 pounds. It is true that women look more youthful as they grow older with a little more weight than when younger.

Remember that your older appearance may have come from an incorrect reducing diet and by trying to lose a lot of weight too fast. It is important to health as well as to your own happiness to lose some. Every woman has her ideal weight when her figure is good, her health unimpaired and her face most youthful looking.

Every woman has her ideal weight when her figure is good, her health unimpaired and her face most youthful looking.

Q. "I am 13 years old and wonder if I am old enough to wear a medium high heeled shoe?"

A. That seems pushing it a little. However, if you mean the low but shaped heel it seems to me that this would be appropriate for special occasions.

Q. "I have some dark hairs on my face. What is causing that? Please answer as fast as possible. What can I do about it? Please hurry."

A. Tweeze them or have them removed by electrolysis.

Q. "Please tell me what to do for the dark spots on my face which occurred during my last pregnancy."

A. I do not know of anything one can do for these except give them time. They usually fade out, at least to a great extent. You can use a make-up base to hide them if you wish.

He May 'Airlift' Horses Into Park

Ingham Judge Rules Entrance Off Limits to Livery Owner

Norman E. Dennison might have to find himself a helicopter to drop his riding horses onto the bridle paths of the Highland State Park Recreation Area.

Dennison, 36-year-old Highland Township stable owner, yesterday was restrained from trespassing across state property in the park by Ingham County Circuit Judge Louis E. Coash.

Judge Cooash said it was okay for Dennison to use the bridal paths in the parks, but said he'd have to find a way to get to the paths without stepping on state property.

The determined Dennison says he will find a way, "even if I have to get a helicopter."

The Michigan Conservation Dept. last month sought the court order to keep Dennison's 60 horses out of the park. The state contends this riding horse concession belongs to Grant W. Ireland, hired by the state.

Dennison, who defended himself in the court hearing in Lansing, hopes the state will still consent to letting him enter the park legally. If not, Dennison promises court action, maybe as high as the Supreme Court, will be started.

"I think this is very unjust," he said. "Every Michigan taxpayer should have the right to use state property."

4 Injured as Train Derailed in Montana

BLAIR, Mont. (AP) — Seven sleeper cars of the Great Northern Railway Western Star passenger train spilled off the tracks near this northeastern Montana prairie community today.

Four persons were injured, but not believed seriously. There were 100 passengers aboard the Seattle-to-Chicago train.

The engineer said he thought a broken rail caused the wreck.

Most of the passengers were still abed when the train derailed at 6:rt a.m.

The wreck occurred in rolling prairie country near the Montana-North Dakota line. Blair is only a whistle stop in the midst of Montana sagebrush country.

In the 1880's about 200 hours were required to make a section of plate glass. Today it takes less than nine hours.

Newspaper Editors Tell Profession:

Use of Foreign News Lax

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (AP)—Two newspaper editors accused their profession today of falling down on the job of giving their readers significant news from abroad.

E. T. Stone, managing editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, told the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn.:

"World news is becoming local news. Unless we wake up to the fact, we're living in a dream world of the past."

Norman Isaacs, managing editor of the Louisville Times, said, "I would suggest that all of us look at our newspaper when we get home and reflect as to whether we are giving our readers an intelligent and imaginative picture of today's world."

'BETTER THAN DESERVED'

Speaking on a panel discussion for the foreign news provided by AP, Isaacs said: "The AP's world news coverage performance strikes me as better than most American newspapers deserve."

He contended only a small minority of papers are doing outstanding jobs of informing readers about world news or even making full use of AP's foreign news.

Stone contended both the newspapers and wire services turn out "dull and sterile" foreign news "because we aren't reporting about people in the lands beyond our shores."

The so-called "hard news" from foreign capitals, Stone said, is "news that is hard to digest, hard to understand."

"We need to put some human flesh on it," said Stone, who did some reporting himself last year on a tour of byroads and villages in Europe.

The accident occurred on Branch street north of Clovese street.

Waldo told Pontiac Police he was traveling south on Branch when the girl darted out from between parked cars into the path of his car. He said that he braked but was unable to avoid hitting the girl.

3 Transferred Off Vice Squad

Go to Uniform Patrol; Evans Is Named New Head of Detail

Three Pontiac police officers have been transferred from the Vice Squad to the Uniform Patrol Bureau, it was announced yesterday.

They are Sgt. John Depauw, who has been replaced by Detective Richard G. Evans as head of the detail, and Patrolmen Richard and Gerald Navarre.

Detective James F. Bale has been assigned as assistant to Capt. Joseph Koren, head of the administration offices, and Detective Raymond Meggitt has been named assistant to Capt. Oliver Lemeaux, commander of the Uniform Patrol Bureau.

Public Safety Director George D. Eastman said yesterday that the vice squad will no longer handle applications for liquor licenses or investigate the applicants and their premises.

Applications will be processed through the administration offices and investigations carried out by the Uniform Patrol Bureau.

Eastman, who cut the vice detail from seven to four officers, said the shift of these duties will free the men to concentrate on their main task of vice suppression.

Miss Monroe and Miller had hoped to return to their New York home Monday but the star expressed fear she would lose the child which is expected next spring. She has been confined to her room since her collapse.

The actress, who lost a child through miscarriage last year, has repeatedly denied to the press that she is pregnant, although her condition is common knowledge to her friends.

Gov. Williams Assures:

Foreign Trade Prospects to Be Studied Thoroughly

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's prospects in foreign trade will get a thorough-going study by a blue-ribbon committee of citizens, Gov. Williams said last night.

The Governor told the World Trade Club of Detroit that he'll ask his Committee on Michigan's Economic Future (COMEF) to include among its studies the whole range of foreign trade factors which might affect Michigan.

Stressing the importance of foreign trade to Michigan's economy, Williams noted the market for state-manufactured goods and services marked for export is bigger than the dollar for its second and third largest industries — agriculture and tourism. Total exports were worth nearly a billion dollars, he said.

"Yet the average citizen of Michigan is not really very conscious of the foreign trade role played by Michigan," he said. "This has tended to make the need for programs leading to increased foreign trade seem remote from his daily concerns and removed from his own economic prosperity."

Williams said the state should start planning to gear exports to development of the European common market, should it mature.

Michigan's voice also should be heard in national decisions on tariff policies, reciprocal trade agreements, international monetary policies and in other areas, he said.

The Governor praised Henry Ford II and the late John Coleman, president of Burroughs Corp., both Michigan men, for their work "in promoting foreign trade and the philosophy of international commerce."

An average cow in the United States produces about 6,000 pounds of milk each year.

Hospital Expansion Never Really Over

As Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital celebrates completion of one expansion program, another is already being planned.

Like other Pontiac hospitals, Osteopathic is filled to capacity and needs more room, said Harry H. Whitlow, hospital administrator.

"Expansion is a definite necessity," he said. "We're crowded, filled to the brim. We definitely have to have more beds."

Although the hospital is listed as a 121-bed institution, it has been operating recently with an average 135 beds, Whitlow said.

This is rapid growth for a hospital that 2½ years ago operated with only 25 beds.

At 1:30 p.m. Sunday in the hospital lobby there will be simple ceremonies, acknowledging the accomplishment and dedicating the hospital "to the people of Oakland County."

The dedication and open house mark the conclusion to a $200,000 remodeling job that has been going on since the hospital moved into its new quarters, the former Pontiac Hotel, in March, 1956.

Clergymen will take part in the dedication. There will be a continuous buffet for the general public from 1-5 p.m.

The hospital first operated in a former clinic at 32 Auburn Ave. with 25 beds and a medical staff that eventually reached 25 doctors.

It now lists 90 medical and surgical beds, 22 pediatric beds, 16 bassinets, four labor beds, three operating rooms, and complete dietary, laboratory, physical therapy, radiology, emergency, nursery and pharmaceutical facilities.

The medical staff now numbers about 70, and the hospital employs 241 persons, including 35 registered nurses.

Remodeling consisted mostly of redecorating and installing new lighting fixtures throughout the seven-story building. Some large items, such as a new boiler, were purchased and the second floor was completely tiled.

The hospital has handled thousands of patients in the past two years and would accommodate more if it could expand, said Whitlow.

There are three possibilities in sight at present.

The first is an offer by the hospital to lease the unused Oakland County Contagious Hospital, once used as an annex by Pontiac General Hospital.

This offer is still under consideration by the county board of supervisors. One obstacle to the proposal, Whitlow said, apparently is the fact that the hospital wants a long-term lease while the county would prefer a short-term.

"If we got the lease, we could add another 70 beds in time," said Whitlow.

Another possibility is expansion within the present hospital. This could be accomplished by removing inner walls on patient floors and turning two single-bed private rooms into three-bed semi-private rooms.

"We might be able to pick up 20 or 25 beds this way," Whitlow figured.

The third plan is for the hospital to make another building purchase, similar to the 1956 hotel move. This would provide the hospital with an annex in which more beds could be located.

At present, the hospital has no construction plans, Whitlow indicated.

Busy Harry H. Whitlow Heads Pontiac Osteopathic

Behind the rapid expansion of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital is a hard-driving businessman.

Harry H. Whitlow, the hospital's administrator, is the first to admit that he's a layman when it comes to medicine.

Modestly, he gives credit for the success to others.

"Our accomplishments here are due to the fine efforts of our medical staff and employes," Whitlow said.

"Patients like our hospital because of the good and thorough practice of our medical staff and the desire of our nurses and other employes to serve the patient in every way possible."

Whitlow, 54, arrived in the hospital field through the business world.

Born in Peterboro, Ont., Whitlow first came to the United States in 1926. For 25 years he was in the credit business in the Detroit area.

Then in 1951 he joined the financially-stricken Wyandotte General Hospital as a business consultant. Two years later, the hospital was back on its feet, with Whitlow gaining much of the credit.

It was Whitlow's business acumen that attracted a group of Pontiac osteopaths who were planning to open a hospital here.

"We were extremely fortunate in securing his services as administrator," said Dr. Leroy C. Johnson, one of the original planners of the hospital.

Whitlow took over in June, 1953, when the doctors opened their hospital in a converted clinic at 32 Auburn Ave. The hospital had 25 beds.

Within two years, expansion plans were being made and on Jan. 1, 1955, the hospital bought the seven-story Pontiac Hotel for an undisclosed sum. It opened as a 121-patient facility in March, 1955.

Blue-Cross approved, the hospital has prospered since then. Now, after a $200,000 remodeling job has been completed, Whitlow has more expansion plans in mind.

The hospital administrator is proud of the record of the past 2½ years. As far as he knows, no other institution has ever successfully run a hospital in a converted hotel. Whitlow feels that his idea was a natural.

"Where else could you find a setup where built-in hospital rooms were ready for you the day you move in," he points out. "It would have cost hundreds of thousands of dollars more to build such a building from scratch."

Whitlow is married and has three children and five grandchildren. His son Jack is credit manager at Pontiac Osteopathic.

Whitlow's family lives in Riverview, a small community near Wyandotte.

Device Cuts Tissue Testing Time

A device that cuts time needed in diagnosing cancer in a surgical patient plays a big role in the new laboratory at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Thanks to what the hospital describes as a "frozen section machine," the testing period has been trimmed to about ten minutes.

Routine tissue processing generally takes a whole day, according to Dr. Joseph Maxwell, who operates the machine.

The time-saving means a lot to the patient undergoing an operation, said Dr. Maxwell, the hospital's pathologist.

"We can give a rapid diagnosis while the patient is still on the operating table," he explained.

Without the machine, the patient would have to go back to bed to await the results of the routine processing. With the machine, the operation can continue uninterrupted.

The machine itself resembles a complicated woodshop tool. It's about a foot high and a foot wide and performs its main function — freezing — by means of freon gas.

Dr. Maxwell explained how the whole process works:

Doctors operating decide they must know whether tissue is malignant (cancerous) or not before they can determine the full scope of the operation.

They remove a tiny sample of the suspect tissue and rush it from surgery to the laboratory.

In the laboratory, technicians have been previously alerted and already have the frozen section machine warmed up.

The tissue to be processed is placed on a small, hollow metal block through which the freon—similar to cooling gases in refrigerators—is circulated, chilling it to below zero temperatures in a matter of minutes. The tissue becomes frozen solid.

Then with a flick of the wrist, Dr. Maxwell brings forward the cutting arm of the machine and a film of tissue is sliced off. Less than razor-thin, it is of the required thickness to be viewed through a microscope.

Under the microscope, the tissue tells Dr. Maxwell whether it is malignant or not.

"We only give a diagnosis of malignancy when we are really definite," said Dr. Maxwell. "Otherwise, we turn to the routine processing machine for certainty."

The frozen section machine is one of several up-to-date mechanical devices that the hospital has installed in its recently-completed basement laboratories, said Harry H. Whitlow, hospital administrator.

QUICK DIAGNOSIS — Dr. Joseph Maxwell, Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital pathologist, is shown performing a quick diagnosis of tissue on the hospital's frozen section machine. With the aid of the machine, Dr. Maxwell can give a diagnosis of cancer in about ten minutes, while the conventional method takes about a day.

Dictaphones Aid Doctors With Paperwork

Dictaphones stationed throughout Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital help staff doctors in the chore of keeping medical records up to date.

The dictaphones, shaped like ordinary telephones, are one of numerous mechanical contrivances the hospital has installed to speed up its business.

There are six of them altogether, located in the places where doctors are apt to be compiling records.

It's simple for an osteopathic doctor to keep his reports up to date. He merely picks up one of the phones, announces the name and case number of the patient, and then dictates his report.

The dictaphones are connected by wire to receiver sets in the basement record offices.

There a crew of three secretaries listen to the dictation by means of earphones and type up the reports.

The dictaphones have a playback arrangement, so that doctors can review what they've dictated.

"Keeping medical records up to date is the bookkeeping part of a doctor's life," observed Harry H. Whitlow, hospital administrator. "This system helps make it easier and more efficient."

The size of the job is indicated by the huge number of medical records that the hospital has accumulated during the past 2½ years in its new location. They line one wall of a basement office, filling 96 separate filing cabinets.

The task of preserving these records has become so burdensome that the hospital has decided to microfilm them, Whitlow said. Office staff employes will begin the microfilming job soon, he said, starting with the hospital's first records from 1953 to 1955.

France Stands Fourth

PARIS — A French chemist, Henri Saint-Claire Deville, developed the electrolytic production of aluminum in 1854. Today France ranks as the fourth largest aluminum producer in the world, with reserves of about 30,000,000 tons of prime-quality ore, called bauxite after the French village of Les Baux where it was first found.

At the end of 1957, the steel industry owed a total of $4 billion in long-term and short-term indebtedness—an increase of $2.2 billion over 1950.

Seven Member Board Governs Hospital

A seven-member board of directors governs Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Headed by a Detroit businessman, Harry B. Park, the directors are appointed by another board which incorporated the hospital as a non-profit institution in 1953.

The incorporators, all osteopathic doctors, as such do not play a direct role in the operation of the hospital, although several are members of the board of directors.

The hospital's administrator, Harry H. Whitlow, is also appointed by the board of incorporators. The medical director, Dr. Leroy C. Johnson, is a member of the board of incorporators and was appointed to his job by the board of directors.

Serving with Park on the board of directors are three osteopathic doctors and three other laymen.

Beside Park, the board consists of Drs. Donald E. Fraser, Merton C. Worster and Benjamin F. Dickinson; David C. Pence, R. Verne Todd and Harold W. Kruger. Kruger is vice president of the board.

X-RAY CONTROL AND READING ROOM, PONTIAC OSTEOPATHIC HOSPITAL

X-RAY

Of the many applications of science's discovery and use of the X-Ray its use in hospitals and clinics is still the greater. For here it serves the doctor in diagnosis, the patient in treatment of deep disease, the technician in research. But many, many other uses are being made of the X-Ray today, too, in industry. May we help if X-Ray equipment is needed or planned?

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Is X-Ray Equipped . . .

completely ready for every type of hospital and clinical work. The new X-Ray Department will thoroughly satisfy the doctor's request for diagnostic plates or treatment.

When X-Ray is prescribed Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital is equipped and staffed to handle the case.

and Not a Meal Was Lost!

On Sept. 17, 1958, with the cooperation of the hospital, the kitchen personnel on all three shifts reported at one time for a demonstration by factory representatives. Each representative explained in detail the various uses for the piece of equipment his factory had manufactured. This enabled the hospital to utilize each piece to the full efficiency that the manufacturer had built into it.

Mr. Schallman, the consultant in conjunction with Ted Stone, owner of the Auto-City Soap and Chemical Co. is to be commended for their special compound formula which overcame the hard water and other conditions which existed in the dish-washing department.

Even with all the planning the goal of uninterrupted service could not have been reached without the wonderful cooperation of Mr. Harry Whitlow, Hospital Administrator, his staff and Mr. William Sternfels of Medical Supply Corp.

Harry Altman and Sons offers its consulting and supervisory services to hotels, clubs and institutions.

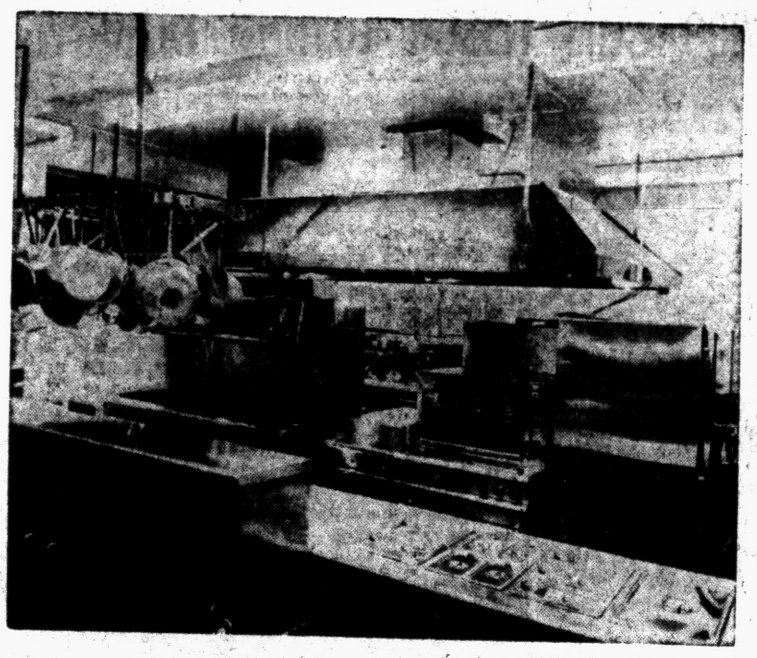

NOT A MEAL WAS LOST

The Impossible was Accomplished when Harry Altman & Sons of Detroit, Michigan, completed the renovation of the entire kitchen without causing an interruption to existing services or the delay or loss of a single meal. This was done by the constant attention and perserverance of the staff of Harry Altman & Sons directed by Mr. Ted Schallman, food consultant, in conjunction with Mr. Allan Rosenberg.

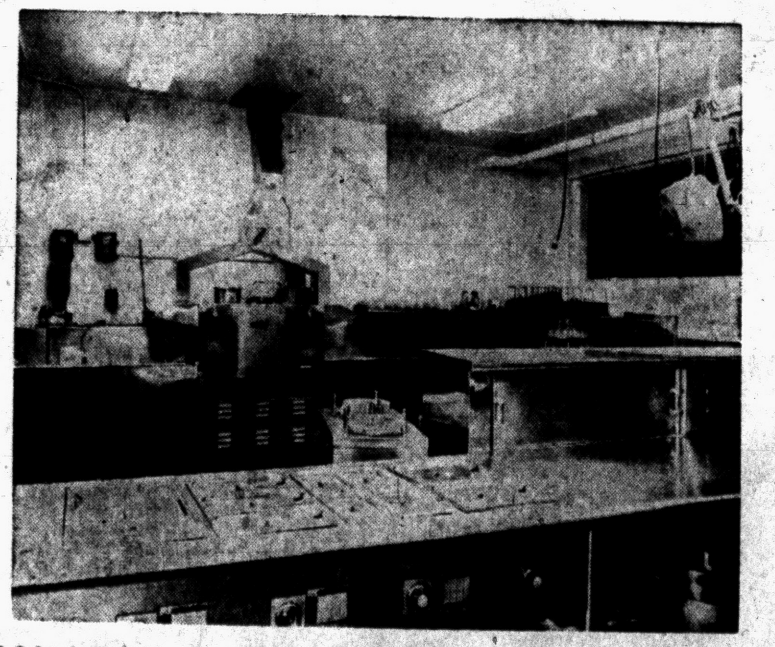

MR. TED SCHALLMAN

The main kitchen 30'x35' total size overall services an average of 110 patients with centralized service plus a cafeteria for the full hospital staff. The kitchen reminiscent of a resort hotel in the roaring 20's was transformed into the modern and efficient centralized hospital kitchen of today, with unlimited years of useability.

Vulcan heavy duty equipment was selected to fill the needs of the hospital because of their excellent reputation for producing quality merchandise as well as having a factory trained service organization available at all times. It was through the use of Vulcan electric cooking equipment that it was possible to reduce the average kitchen temperature better than 30°.

GIANT X-RAY — Here's what the patient sees as Dr. H. R. Bridenstine, Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Radiologist, maneuvers into position the hospital's $17,000, high-voltage x-ray therapy unit. The powerful machine is used to treat both external and internal malignancies.

Red Badges Are X-Ray Safety Devices

At Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital they wear little red badges which are indications of the big role that radiological technology plans in modern medical institutions.

Called dosimeters, the badges measure how much radioactivity hospital employes who work with it have been exposed to.

It's dangerous to be exposed to too much radioactivity within a given period of time. That's why the dosimeters are necessary as a safeguard, according to Dr. H. R. Bridenstine, hospital radiologist.

Dr. Bridenstine and his five assistants all sport the little red badges on the lapels of their working clothes.

Each badge contains an ordinary dental film, of the kind dentists use when X-raying teeth.

Besides ordinary X-rays, the film is sensitive to the beta and gamma rays emitted by radioactive materials.

Once every two weeks a new film is inserted in the dosimeter and the used one mailed to a New York City firm, which interprets it and spells out the results to the hospital.

"If the film shows too much radiation, then we have to keep away from radioactivity for awhile," Dr. Bridenstine explained.

In technical language, the maximum permissible dose of radiation at Pontiac Osteopathic is set at 300 milliroentgens within a two-week period. (A roentgen is the unit by which scientists measure radiation.)

One source of radiation at the hospital is the big, $17,000 X-ray machine used for therapy.

Located within a leaded room, the therapy unit has a stepped up voltage of 250,000 volts.

It is used to spot X-rays on external or internal malignancies for periods running from a few seconds in time to several minutes. The X-rays kill the growth of the malignant tissue.

But bouncing X-rays are apt to strike the therapist, too. That's why he needs a dosimeter to indicate how much accidental radiation he's absorbed.

A minor source of radiation are the usual X-rays Bridenstine and his staff take with conventional X-ray machines. This source would be considered insignificant except when supplemented by other, larger sources.

The most spectacular source will be introduced into the hospital shortly. These will be radioactive particles which the hospital plans on using in diagnosis of cancer and other malignancies.

The particles, radioactive isotopes, emit the beta and gamma rays.

Equipment to set this program, licensed by the Atomic Energy Commission, into action is on order now, said Harry H. Whitlow, hospital administrator.

It is expected that in a year or so, the hospital will be ready to use radioactive isotopes in treatment also. For this purchase, a much larger amount of materials is used and for that reason, Bridenstine and his staff will have to be even more alert to accidental exposure.

Expansion Job Includes Kitchen

One thing that no hospital can work on is an empty stomach. To fill the many stomachs of patients and staff more efficiently has been a large part of the expansion plans of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

With overall renovating of the hospital has come a rebuilding and modernizing job on the kitchen which has now been completed after nearly three months work.

The new "dream" kitchen is one of the few all electric hospital kitchens in Michigan, according to hospital administrator Harry Whitlow.

"When we say 'new' we really mean it," Whitlow says with pride. "Absolutely everything from the floor up is brand new and the kitchen is completely run by electricity."

A trained and capable staff of 25 persons from cooks to dishwashers keep the shiny stainless steel kitchen purring efficiently all day.

Naturally, "dishwashers" are not staff members who wash and dry plates and silverware all day. They, instead, are trained personnel who know how to operate the huge electrically operated dishwashers which keep everything therapeutically clean.

Even the food warmers, usually consisting of steam tables, are electrically heated as are the plate-warming racks.

The kitchen staff had a hard time turning out 150 meals at one serving several months ago. Now the new kitchen can handle well over 300 meals at a serving with ease.

The hospital makes all its own pastries. Nothing other than bulk meat and raw materials needed to create food is "imported."

Shining new meat grinders and mixers and bread slicers make the job an easy one. The staff is well schooled in the preparation of any type of meal, especially those designed to fill the requirements of special diets.

The refrigeration space has been enlarged and modernized to handle more of everything from prepared salads to slabs of meat, ready to be cut into juicy steaks.

There are two refrigeration "boxes" mainly for prepared foods and small items, two deep freezes, and a huge refrigerated locker for larger items.

With the remodeled lighting setup, work is much easier and more efficiently accomplished. A rear wall was remodeled so as to have windows across it where there had been none before.

The inside light is softly supplied by scientifically arranged indirect fluorescent lights.

The expansion of bed space has made more room for patients. With the increase in the number of patients, the hospital, with this modern kitchen, is keeping a step in front of increasing demands.

Dr. Leroy Johnson Heads Hospital Medical Staff

Dr. Leroy C. Johnson, a long-time Pontiac osteopath and medical director of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, has a medically-minded family.

Oldest daughter Mary Ann, 18, is a freshman at Mercy College in Detroit, studying for a degree in medical technology.

Carol Sue, 17, is a senior at St. Michael's High School and has her heart set on becoming a registered nurse.

Sons Richard, 15, and Thomas, 10, go to St. Michael's elementary school and already are talking of following in their father's footsteps.

"Of course it's too early to know how it will all turn out," says Dr. Johnson. "But the medical world seems to be the direction they're headed in."

DR. LEROY C. JOHNSON

Dr. Johnson, 59, was one of the incorporators of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital in 1953, and served as its first medical director. A member of the board of directors, he was appointed medical director again this year.

Dr. Johnson has also been elected in the past to chief of the hospital's medical staff.

A native of Syracuse, New York, he attended Syracuse University and was graduated in 1925 from the American School of Osteopathy and Surgery in Kirksville, Mo.

He practiced in Coral Gables, Fla. until 1929, when he moved to Pontiac and set up offices here. Five years ago, Dr. Johnson moved to a new headquarters at 4478 Dixie Highway, Drayton Plains.

Dr. and Mrs. Johnson live at 43 Illinois Ave. with their four children.

The osteopath holds one of the longest tenures of service in the Michigan Osteopathic Assn. He was president in 1941-42, and has served as state statistician, assistant statistician and speaker of the house of delegates.

Dr. Johnson has served as a delegate to many conventions of the state and national osteopathic associations.

He has edited the State Osteopathic Bulletin and the journal, Proctology, for many years.

Dr. Johnson also was president of the Oakland County Osteopathic Assn. and the Michigan Osteopathic Proctological Society. He is a member of the American Society of Proctology and a fellow of the American Osteopathic College of Proctology.

First Quemoy, Now Berlin

Reds Create Crisis Deliberately

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rock 'em and sock 'em.

That may be the new Communist technique, just as it was Joseph Stalin's, to create crisis after crisis to keep the West jittery, gain a little yardage where the West could be forced into concessions, and make propaganda.

Examples: What's happened at Quemoy and now at Berlin.

Stalin knew the method well, as he showed with the pressure on Greece, Turkey, Iran, at Berlin, in Korea. It was dropped for a while after his death.

A few months ago — after the Iraq revolution — the Eisenhower administration itself jittered American allies by sending troops into Lebanon avowedly to save the government there.

So long as they remained, there was a chance of a Middle East shooting war that could become big war with Russia. The Eisenhower administration was anxious to withdraw the troops as soon as gracefully possible.

Before this could be done — and while Mideast tension continued — Russian Premier Khrushchev visited Peiping. Then came the Communist-made crisis. The Red Chinese began shelling Chiang Kai-shek's troops on the island of Quemoy.

Again jitters for American allies. The United States, under this Red pressure, wouldn't tell Chiang to pull his troops back to Formosa although Quemoy itself was unnecessary for Formosa's defense.

Not to yield under such pressure, said the administration, was a matter of principle. Nevertheless, the Reds gained some psychological yardage at least from their efforts.

Secretary of State Dulles flew to Formosa, conferred with Chiang, flew back.

After he left came the disclosure that Chiang — who had kept up the spirits of Chinese Nationalists and non-Communist Chinese overseas with threats of recapturing the China mainland — had finally given up any such intention.

The Quemoy problem still is not settled but, now that the tension has died down a bit, Khrushchev has stuck another firecracker under the West, created new tension in another place, this time in Berlin.

Khrushchev jittered the Allies with his call for an end to the occupation of Berlin. The Big Three Western allies have occupied Western Berlin since the end of World War II; the Russian-backed East German Communists have East Berlin.

Berlin is 110 miles within East Germany. Now Khrushchev says Russians, Americans, British, French should all clear out. This would leave all Berlin to the Communists. The West says no.

The West doesn't at this minute know what to expect next but does fear that tension over the occupation of Berlin might in the end lead to shooting.

The Russians should be able to turn the heat on and off at Berlin for months or years, just as they please.

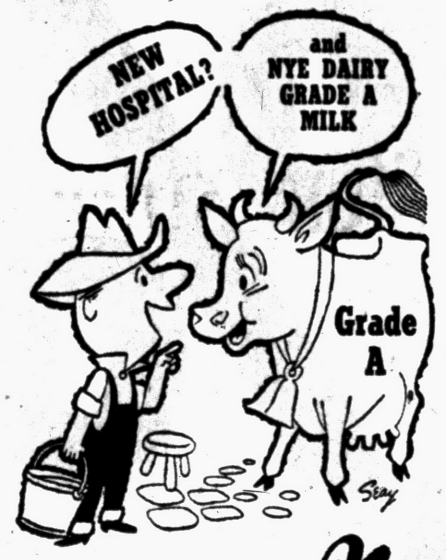

They'll hardly stop there. They can think of other places, other crises. The world may be entering a nerve-jangling period, with Russia doing the jangling at will.

Rockefellers Remain Close-Knit Family

NEW YORK (UPI) — On the 56th floor of the central skyscraper in the towers of Rockefeller Center is a door with the lettering:

"Rockefeller, office of the messrs."

Behind that door are the offices of the world's wealthiest clan — John D. Jr., 84, and four of his five sons: John D. III, 52; Nelson, 50; Laurance, 48; and David, 43.

If necessary, space can be found for Winthrop, 46, and for the one sister, Mrs. Abbe Mauze, 54.

Nelson, governor-elect of New York and a 1960 Republican presidential possibility, is now by far the best known of the Rockefellers.

But this is a close-knit family and seldom does one take a major step without consulting the others.

Nelson, for example, asked his father and brothers to meet with him in Suite 5600 last winter before making the final decision to put a Rockefeller in the political arena.

Each of the grandchildren of the late John D. has a fortune of more than $100 million. The father's wealth is estimated at more than $500 million. The family is estimated to have given away $2 billion altogether ranging from the dimes John D. passed out to such projects as buying up a vast tract in the Grand Tetons and donating it as a national park.

The brothers are considerably different in temperament and ambition.

John D. III calls himself "The Shy One." His main occupation is to administer the Rockefeller Foundation, the giant philanthropic trust which has given away more than $565 million and still has nearly $600 million left.

He also is interested in the arts and hopes to create in New York a Lincoln center for the performing arts, making it the focal point for the finest talent in music, dancing and drama.

Mrs. Mauze, wife of a banker, is the "silent partner" in the Rockefeller enterprises and also a reserved woman who has devoted her time to her family.

Nelson is the one with the greatest drive for public recognition. He is the only one of the brothers not to see service in World War II but that was because he was ordered by the White House to stay on in Washington as special assistant on Latin American affairs.

Laurance is looked upon as the most ambitious speculator. After donating half the island of St. John in the Virgin Islands as a national park, he has built on remaining property a magnificent luxury housing colony.

He has a fancy for investing in gadgets, electronic devices and supersonic aircraft. One of his first and best investments was in Eastern Airlines.

Winthrop lives apart from the family. He settled $6 million on Bobo Rockefeller in their divorce and then moved to Arkansas where he created a huge model farm. He is now married to the former Mrs. Jeanette Edris.

Winthrop is the only one of the boys ever to do hard work with his hands. A youth of six foot three and weighing 225 pounds, he dropped out of Yale and went to work as a hand in the Texas oil fields. He spent five years in the army and was wounded off Okinawa.

David, the youngest brother, is "The Serious One." He is vice chairman of the board of the Chase Manhattan Bank.

It is estimated that the family gives away $7 million a year exclusive of the myriad grants made by the Rockefeller Foundation. They are active in about 200 philanthropic causes.

As a result, helicopters spray coffee trees in Brazil; low-cost houses are built in Baghdad; astronomers search the skies from Mt. Palomar; scientists stalk cancer; the gardens of Fontainebleau are improved and — even behind the bamboo curtain — the Peking Union Medical College operates in buildings put up years ago with Rockefeller money.

Use and Sales Tax Drops in Michigan

LANSING (UPI) — Although more used cars were sold in Michigan this year than in 1957, use and sales taxes dropped by $10,303,000, Secretary of State James M. Hare said today.

Sales tax collections of $26,511,609 accounted for the greatest percentage of the drop, being about $110,580,000 below the $37,092,000 total for the same period last year. The average collection per sale compared to last year was more than $4 less.

Hare said older and less expensive cars were bought during the year but there were more older cars on the roads and relatively few newer ones.

One Impulse Always Leads to Another

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—It was an impulse, said Clifford Cook, that caused him to turn a false fire alarm.

"I have an impulse to send you to jail for 60 days," replied Chief Magistrate Nicholas Castellano. And he did.

WESTFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Peter Lanza has patented a bite-proof hand he hopes will earn enough to feed him. Tired of being nipped while training his pet parakeets, he invented a plastic imitation hand, which can be placed in the bird's cage to accustom it to handling.

Carpenters Vote on Union Today

May Decide to Pull Out of AFL-CIO Though Hutcheson Hopes Not

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Brotherhood of Carpenters & Joiners ends its convention today amid reports that President Maurice A. Hutcheson hopes to keep the giant union in the AFL-CIO despite threats to withdraw.

A vote on a resolution which would authorize the General Executive Board to pull out of the AFL-CIO was delayed until today. Approval of the measure was forecast since 1,200 of the convention's 2,000 delegates have signed copies of it.

The resolution might be a bargaining advantage for Hutcheson, who is under fire by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee on corruption charges and under indictment in Indiana's highway scandals.

Hutcheson, who has denied all charges, has been summoned to appear before the AFL-CIO's Executive Council for questioning.

Hutcheson succeeded his father, the late "Big Bill" Hutcheson, as head of the union in 1952. The union, which has 839,000 members, re-elected him to another four-year term in the $35,000-a-year post.

In a further demonstration of Hutcheson power, delegates, Thursday re-elected J. F. Cambiano of San Mateo, Calif., to the General Executive Board. Cambiano, the only administration candidate with opposition, defeated E. A. Brown of Petaluma, Calif., 1,183 to 584 in a secret vote.

Man With 'TV Artery' Off on Hunting Trip

BATTLE CREEK (UPI) — The man with the television artery has gone on a deer-hunting expedition in the rugged woods of Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Carl Miltenberger, 65, is completely recovered from the operation last March in which millions of television viewers saw a surgeon at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit remove part of the main artery in his lower abdomen, and replace it with a substitute tube made of dacron.

"Long walks don't mean a thing to me — they don't bother me a bit," said Miltenberger before leaving on his trip.

Miltenberger and four co-workers at the Grand Trunk Western Railroad Shops in Battle Creek left by automobile for his hunting camp near Rock. They wanted to be on hand for the deer season which opens Saturday.

"I went to Detroit last week for a checkup, and the doctor said I passed 100 per cent on the artery," said Miltenberger.

A year ago, Miltenberger was consigned to a wheel chair and it looked as if he might have to stay there the rest of his life. He suffered artherosclerosis, or plugging of the aorta at the point where it branches in a "Y" to carry blood to each leg.

On March 19, he underwent an operation, performed by Dr. D. Emerick Szilagyi, which was televised. The "Y" section was removed and a dacron substitute was sewed in.

Said Miltenberger's wife Sylvia, "Carl's recovery has been wonderful. He has been busy. He put a new roof on the garage. He has worked five days a week, done a lot of things around home, gone fishing, and rabbit hunting."

He has to watch his diet. He eats nonfat food and only one egg a day. His fats are vegetable oils. And he has cut down some on smoking. The doctors want him to cut it out completely.

Too Much Moonshine

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) — Heavy pieces of fire-fighting equipment went screaming up route 60 after midnight in response to a phone call that a church was on fire. The sleep-breaking cavalcade was met by an embassarred citizen who said the fire he thought he saw was just a reflection of the moon.

Aerial Photos Help Engineers to Plan Roads

SYOSSET, N. Y. (UPI) — Remember when civil engineers had to slog across field and stream by foot to map new highway routes?

Today, mountains and rivers are measured in the twinkling of a camera lens, thanks to photogrammetry, the technique of drawing contour maps from aerial photographs.

"It used to take a month to come up with a map of a six or eight mile strip of proposed highway, and the map showed a band only 500 feet wide," said Ford Bartlett, president of the consulting engineer firm of Lockwood, Kessler and Bartlett, Inc.

"Today, with electronics and optics, the map can be produced in a week showing a strip 1,000 feet wide," he added.

A major part of the photogrammetry technique involves the stereoplotter. After aerial photographs are taken of a proposed highway route, the photos are fed into stereoplotters, which produce a three-dimensional image on a plotting board. A skilled technician then traces over the image and comes up with contour lines.

From such calibrations, engineers can obtain statistical information by feeding the data into electric computers. Of course, when double-checking is required, engineers still must do some ground work. But they can make this job easier with the aid of a telluriometer, a compact radar-like instrument that measures distance by the length of time it takes to sent out and receive a microwave signal. This instrument, said Bartlett, can measure 40 miles in 40 minutes with a possibility of error of only 11 inches.

To Jail Anyone Aiding Boycott

Police Commissioner in Birmingham, Ala., Tries to 'Prevent Rioting'

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Anyone attempting to aid efforts to boycott buses in Birmingham will be jailed, Police Commissioner Eugene Connor says.

Connor's statement came after U.S. Atty. William Rogers announced in Washington Thursday that a federal grand jury will investigate the arrest of three Negro ministers in Birmingham.

The ministers were arrested Oct. 27 at the home of the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth Jr. They were held briefly and then released.

Rogers said a grand jury would investigate to determine if any of the ministers' civil rights were violated.

"If Mr. Rogers thinks he can scare me or the police department into permitting this city to become a scene of rioting which would follow such a boycott merely to please the Negro voters of the north he is mistaken in his man," Connor said.

The Rev. Martin Luther King, who sparked a boycott movement in Montgomery, said the three ministers came to Birmingham to see what they could do to help such a move here.

Rumors that such a boycott is in the offing have circulated, but there has been no evidence. Negroes are continuing to ride the buses, and Birmingham Transit Co. says operations are normal.

Connor said he ordered the three ministers arrested and he added he would arrest any others attempting to push a boycott.

They'll Discuss Dem Candidates for Presidency

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman, and former President Harry S. Truman are to discuss possible 1960 presidential candidates today.

Butler, who arrived in Kansas City Thursday, said:

"Mr. Truman campaigned for our party in every part of the nation except the South and made a substantial contribution to the success of the Democratic party.

"I want to express my appreciation to him on behalf of the party. Then I want to talk to him about the coming session of Congress and to get his views on possible presidential candidates for 1960."

Prison Will Try Out Family Counseling

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—A family counseling program for prisoners and their wives may spread from Chino, Calif., to San Quentin, according to Associate Warden Walter D. Achuff.

He announced Thursday seven prisoners in this maximum security state prison would begin twice-weekly meetings with their wives. The Chino institution for men, a minimum security institution, follows a similar program.

Achuff said the counselling sessions would be held in a "living room atmosphere."

He said the discussion of problems faced by the convicts and their wives would "make it easier for the prisoners to hit it off with their wives when they get out on parole."

Dinah Shore's Son, 4, to Work on Dad's Show

Tale About Beachcomber Bought by Raymond Burr

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Raymond Burr, who works 20 hours a day, five days a week being TV's Perry Mason, has found time to look out for his movie future. He has purchased for his own company a novel called "How Daddy Became A Beachcomber."

This is based on the true story by Marion Hadley about her father, Eli, who right now runs the Island Trading Store at Disneyland. Papa Hadley, back in his native Oklahoma, was fed up with conventional living and yearned to be a beachcomber. But since he didn't have the price of a ticket to a far-off beach, he could only get his family as far as Malibu, so he became a beachcomber there and made a career of it.

Four Hours to Dress and She's in a Bikini

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Well, men, things are getting worse. The new woman champion of Taking-a-Long-Time-to-Get-Dressed can't get into her things in less than four hours.

WILSON

And you should see Laya Raki when she gets "dressed"—it looks like she's wearing the zipper and forgot the material.

Laya, "the German Brigitte Bardot," and wife of handsome Australian-born actor Ben Randell who's in "Suzie Wong," goes around town almost every night with Ron showing that Germany's surely out in front in some things.

"We miss practically every party because Laya takes so long," Ron grumbled tolerantly the other day, at their hotel.

Laya was getting into something comfortable—a bikini.

"Remember that party Mike Todd gave in London, that went on for hours? We mised it," Ron said, wagging his head.

Just then Laya slithered out in the bikini.

"I guess girls like Laya, Brigitte Bardot and Marilyn Monroe do have a lot to do when they get dressed," he said as she kissed him. "They have to put cream on their eyelashes. That takes a lot of time.

"Laya's an unknown German celebrity in New York," he explained. "Terribly well-known there as an actress unable to work here until she gets working papers.

"The only trouble is," he added, "she only owns decollete gowns. You," he told her, "should have some dresses you can wear to an office."

"I am not going to any office!" she said. (She wasn't in that, anyway.)

Eddie Fisher's taking his daughter Carrie Frances and son Todd (named for Mike Todd) to Philadelphia Nov. 21 to visit his mother, step-father and father who have never seen the son. Debbie is flying to N.Y. with the children that day. Eddie, who'll be here to do two TV shows, then takes over. His mother, Mrs. Max Stupp, a grocer "is the kind of a woman who could effect a reconciliation if anybody could," the neighbors say—not very hopefully.

Colombo Talks End in Seattle

Delegates Head Home With New Idea to Fight Asian Hunger, Unrest

SEATTLE (AP)—Colombo conference delegates scattered to their homes around the world today, a fresh new blueprint for victory over Asian hunger and unrest tucked under their arms.

The conference ended late Thursday. Since Oct. 20, delegates of 12 needy countries and three colonies in Asia have been conferring here with those of six donor nations on how to lift restive Asian populations up to a livable standard soon enough to prevent their dissolution into chaos, Communism or both.

This is the business of the Colombo Plan, started in Ceylon in 1950. Its members meet annually to check progress and plan for more. They meet next year in Indonesia, one of the neediest and most unstable of the recipient member nations.

Secretary of State Dulles presided over the final week of talks. Asian delegates appeared impressed by this, and by the fact that President Eisenhower flew out from Washington to open the final week of high level negotiations Monday with an address spelling out a five-point "program for progress."

Encouraged by this declaration that America will use the Colombo Plan as a "major instrument" for channeling funds to underdeveloped Asian nations, the conference issued a final communique which expressed fresh determination to meet "the major challenge of our time."

Friends Give Blood to Save Butchie, 7

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Herbert (Butchie) Gibbons, 7, of Herrin, Ill., survived a dangerous heart operation Thursday with the aid of blood from 40 donors in his home area.

Several hours after the four-hour operation to correct a central heart defect, the boy was reported in a satisfactory condition.

The blood donors came here in a caravan, chosen from hundreds who responded to an appeal by Teamsters Local 347 of Herrin. Noble Gibbons, the child's father, is a member of the union.

Butchie was given several blood transfusions in preparation for the surgery at Barnes Hospital. Doctors said his heart defect would have been fatal without the operation.

After 18 Years, Sisters Meet in Dime Store

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two Pennsylvania sisters who hadn't seen each other in 18 years were reunited today because one happened into a large and crowded dime store on Market Street.

They are Mrs. Mary Berger Bealer, wife of a retired Marine major, and Mrs. Alice Berger Gillory, whose former husband also was a Marine officer.

The sisters are from Homestead, Pa.

"I'm buying this ballpoint pen," said Mrs. Bealer Thursday night, "and she looks at me for a while and says: 'Why, you're Mary!' and I said: 'Why Alice!"

Both have been living in the bay area, and shopping in the same downtown area, for nearly four years without knowing the whereabouts of the other.

"In the Marines, you lose track," said Mrs. Gullory.

Gypsies Wander Now at Before

Estimate 5-6 Million Scattered Through All Countries of World

WASHINGTON — Today's dark-eyed Gypsy may live in an automobile trailer rather than a horse-drawn wagon. He may have abandoned his horse-trading ways for mechanics.

But despite the efforts of many governments to settle him down, he cannot resist the open road.

The number of Gypsies in the world is estimated between five and six million. Although some have established homes, others still roam through Europe, the Americas, Asia, and Australia, the National Geographic Society says.

Often they halt for the winter, but after the festival of St. George on April 23, when spring greens the roadside, they travel, as their kind has traveled for 2,000 years.

Swarthy of complexion, with black hair and flashing eyes, the Gypsies do not lose themselves in local populations. For many years no one knew who they were, or where they came from.

It is now believed that the Gypsies left their Indian homeland before the Christian era and migrated to Persia, where they were welcomed as musicians — a talent they still exploit. They also were expert gold workers and horse trainers.

Gypsies gradually spread through Europe and reached England. North America felt the wheels of Gypsy carts in the early 19th century. Curiously, scholars say that the purest form of the Gypsy language now is spoken in Pennsylvania.

Although appreciated for their music and skills, Gypsies are often treated with suspicion. Repressive laws have been applied to them over three centuries.

Growers Are Complaining

Declare Cigarettes Have More Tip, Less Tobacco

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tobacco growers are complaining that filter tip cigarettes have too much tip and not enough tobacco. The only ones to profit, they say, are cigarette manufacturers.

"The amount of tobacco has dropped from 3.1 pounds to 2.8 pounds (farm sales weight) per 1,000 cigarettes," says Arthur Y. Lloyd, executive secretary of the Burley and Dark Leaf Tobacco Export Assn.

According to Dr. C. I. Hendrickson of the agriculture department, the quantity of tobacco in filter cigarettes has been reduced since they were first sold.

"They (the manufacturers) made the filter longer and reduced the diameter of the cigarette," he said. "There has not been any new reduction this year."

One reason for this—aside from the obvious saving in reducing tobacco content — was the new "flip top" cardboard box used for packaging filter tips.

Dr. Hendrickson, who made a study of the matter for the department's marketing service, said the boxes made the reduction in filter tip size necessary for two reasons:

1. Boxes big enough to hold the first filter tips were too bulky for machinery used in most states to stamp conveniently with the cigarette tax.

2. Most vending machines would not hold the big cigarette boxes.

Actually, Dr. Hendrickson told a reporter, nearly all of the popularly termed regular cigarettes (non-filter) have been reduced slightly in diameter, too.

On the other hand, he noted the king size cigarettes contain more tobacco than the old style regulars.

As for the filter tipped cigarettes, growers concede there is another side to the story in that this type of smoking quieted to a certain extent the lung cancer scare.

"No doubt but that public acceptance of filter tips and the trend in that direction has increased the number of cigarettes being smoked," says tobacco expert Lloyd.

All he and other growers ask is that more tobacco be put into them.

Europe Postal Setup Superior

Senator Says U.S. Is Far Behind Post Office Efficiency Abroad

BONN, Germany (AP) — An American senator said today he was amazed at the efficiency of European post offices.

"We're way behind in the states," said Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) who is chairman of the Senate Postal Committee.

Johnston told an interviewer he came to Europe to study the post office setup and also to find out why it was taking so long for Army post-office mail to reach American soldiers overseas.

He said he found out a lot.

"Why, they have several mail deliveries a day in Europe," he said. "We only have one and I think it's because our post offices aren't sufficiently mechanized.

"They even sort the mail over here with machines."

The mechanical gadgets used in European post offices, Johnston said, not only speed things up but save money.

Johnston's inquiries turned up evidence that it takes five or six weeks for mail to reach American soldiers stationed abroad.

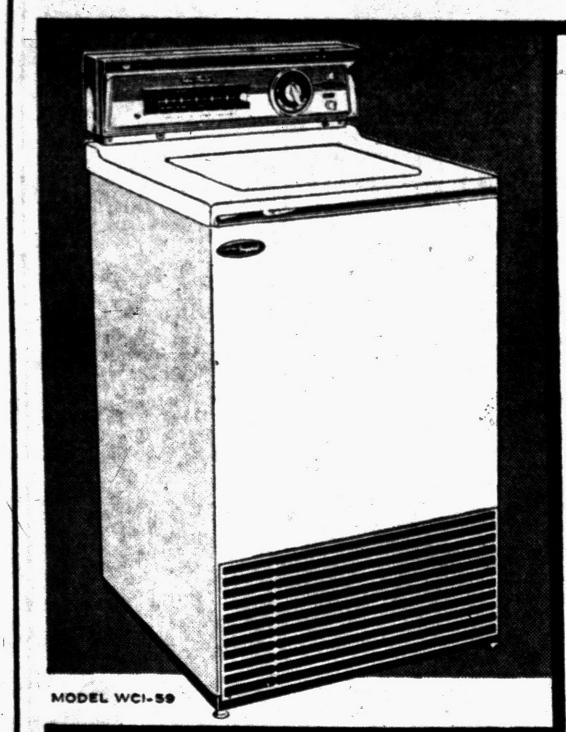

Johnston singled out the German, Belgian and Dutch post office departments as being particularly efficient.

A European post office is quite different from an American one. Over here you can pay your rent and many other bills at the post office. Handling of mail seems a small part of the business.

Recommendation to University Regents Made Last Night

'M' Athletic Board Names Elliott as Coach

Oosterbaan Has No Comment on His Successor

Expect Backfield Aide to Assume Grid Duties January 1st

By JERRY GREEN

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Chalmers (Bump) Elliott will become Michigan's head football coach Jan. 1 when Bennie Oosterbaan steps down after 11 seasons.

The Associated Press learned Michigan's athletic board last night recommended Elliott, Oosterbaan's top aide, for the job at an annual salary of $16,000.

The board's resolution was sent to the university's regents, who hold their monthly meeting today.

A university spokesman indicated the regents would discuss the recommendation today although it isn't on their scheduled agenda. The regents traditionally uphold requests from University boards.

"I have no comment," said Oosterbaan last night, when informed of the athletic board's move at a secret meeting.

Some statement was expected from the likeable coach later today. Athletic Director Fritz Crisler, Oosterbaan's predecessor as coach, and several other board members declined comment.

It is known Oosterbaan has been considering his retirement for some time. He was appointed head coach in 1948 and has been on the athletic staff since he was graduated from Michigan in 1928.

Oosterbaan is 52, second oldest Big Ten coach. He was ranked as one of Michigan's greatest all-around athletes in his own football, basketball and baseball playing days. Twice he made the All-America football team as an end.

Elliott, 33, has been Oosterbaan's backfield coach for two seasons. He left a similar post at Iowa to return to Michigan, where he immediately was dubbed Oosterbaan's heir-apparent.

He was a star back on Michigan's unbeaten Big Ten and Rose Bowl champions of 1947, Crisler's final season as coach.

Oosterbaan duplicated Crisler's unbeaten record in 1948 winning the Big Ten title. He coached the Wolverines to a conference co-championship in 1949 and won it outright along with another Rose Bowl title in 1950.

Over one stretch, Crisler and Oosterbaan combined to coach Michigan to 24 straight victories. The streak was ended by Army in 1950.

Since 1950 Michigan has been unable to win another Big Ten championship.

This season is Michigan's worst since 1936 when Harry Kipke was coach.

The Wolverines, who have games left tomorrow with Indiana and Nov. 22 with Ohio State, have won only twice. Each victory was by a single point as the Wolverines slumped to eighth place in the Big Ten. They've lost four times and tied Michigan State.

After Northwestern trounced Michigan 55-24, its worst 20th century beating, Oosterbaan was hanged in effigy on campus. This was the first outward sign of aggression against the coach who is a legendary campus figure. There were some alumni grumblings about a need for a younger man.

Oosterbaan's players vowed to win the next game for him and they did, edging Minnesota 20-19. The Wolverines haven't won since, losing to Iowa and Illinois.

The Illinois defeat ignited annual speculation that Oosterbaan would retire at the end of this season.

He is expected to announce his resignation after the Ohio State game next week. He'll probably remain in Michigan's athletic administration as Crisler's assistant, taking a slight cut from his estimated $19,000-a-year salary.

Elliott, it was learned, was the only man ever considered as Oosterbaan's successor. There had been repeated reports that the next coach was to be Iowa coach Forest Evashevski or Wisconsin athletic director Ivy Williamson. Both played football for Michigan.

The blond Elliott coached backfield at Oregon State before moving to Iowa in 1952 to serve under Evashevksi.

Elliott is an excellent recruiter. Inefficient recruiting has been blamed for Michigan's decline in recent seasons.

FAMOUS WOLVERINES — Two of the most outstanding players in University of Michigan football are in the headlines again today in regard to the Wolverine coaching picture. Coach Benny Oosterbaan (right) was last night removed from the head coaching job and Chalmers (Bump) Elliott was recommended as his successor. This was a picture of the two during the recent rumors circulating about the change.

Task Ahead for Bump Elliott

'M' Has to Rebuild

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Bump Elliott spoke casually about next year, his first as Michigan football coach.

"I think it will be a rebuilding process again next season," said Elliott today after his appointment as Bennie Oosterbaan's successor.

"But if I didn't think Michigan football was going to improve, why would I take the job? I don't think Michigan has to say we're all through as a football school."

Elliott was in his modest home, helping to put up storm windows when the announcement was made of Oosterbaan's resignation as head coach. The 33-year-old coach didn't look much different than when he was a star halfback on Michigan's unbeaten Big Ten champions of 1947. Elliott wore white buckskin shoes, khaki pants and a sweatshirt, the uniform of a student at home.

His youngsters, Bill, 7, Bob 5, and Betsy, 3, and his wife Barbara scampered excitedly around the house.

"It's certainly something you dream about," said Elliott, "I'm especially happy about two things. This will be my first head coaching job and I'll be coaching at the school I graduated from."

"When I went to bed last night I knew nothing about the appointment. I heard about it on television this morning," Elliott said.

Elliott was asked if Michigan's football fans could expect any changes in the Wolverine style of play.

"I'm inclined toward the wing-ed T, but a blending of the various formations has proved successful in this day of modern football," Elliott said.

Michigan traditionally has employed the single wing as its basic formation under Oosterbaan, Fritz Crisler, Harry Kipke and Fielding Yost. Michigan, however, has sprinkled its attack with winged T plays since Elliott arrived here before the 1957 season as backfield coach.

Elliott said he won't discuss his staff until this season is over.

One of his first problems will be recruiting to get Michigan back on even terms with the rest of the Big Ten.

"I like recruiting," said Elliott. "In the last two years, since I've been here, I felt our recruiting has been aggressive."

"I can't see where you can change it much from what we've done. We have to work a little bit harder to get good boys who can qualify academically."

His father, Dr. J. Norman Elliott, was a line coach at Northwestern and head coach at Illinois Wesleyan.

Elliott went to Oregon State in 1948 as backfield coach and served under Kip Taylor. In 1952 he joined coach Forrest Evashevski's staff at Iowa and stayed there until he returned to Michigan. Both Taylor and Evashevski are former Michigan players.

Elliott said he did not leave Iowa with a promise that he eventually would become Michigan's head coach.

TO START — Tommy Wilson sophomore from Lapeer, was named by coach Duffy Daugherty to start at quarterback for Michigan State Saturday when the Spartans play Minnesota in the final Big Ten game.

New York Starts Wheels Turning to Add Loop

To Diamond Officials Skeptical Due to Present Problems

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time since the Federal League era nearly half a century ago organized baseball was confronted today with the threat of an independent third major league.

New York City, virtually abandoning hopes of obtaining a National League franchise, set in motion the drive for the new league.

Baseball officials, already faced with such problems as controlling television, antitrust inquiries and collapsing minor leagues, met the surprise move with generally skeptical comments. Even baseball minded people in major-hungry minor league cities viewed the proposal warily.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said, "Baseball is not going to be sledge-hammered."

Frank Lane, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, quipped, "First I think they have to catch one team before they can catch eight."

But it was this inability of the nation's largest city to catch a team to replace the Giants and Dodgers that touched off the latest bomb in baseball's already simmering hot stove.

Yesterday, William Shea, chairman of Mayor Robert Wagner's committee on baseball, announced at a press conference that the committee, convinced that it is getting nowhere in its bid to land a National League franchise, would start negotiations for a third major league with an unnamed National League executive.

Shea insisted that the committee would like to see the league formed with the cooperation of the current majors, but added that he felt New York had run into a blind alley in efforts to acquire an existing National League franchise or gain one through NL expansion. He accused NL President Warren Giles of evasive action in New York's bid.

The concept of a third major league is not new. Frick is for it. Most of the club owners favor it. But the general feeling is that the time is not ripe and there are not sufficient players or adequate playing sites available.

Giles said last night, "I fully appreciate the desire of New York for a National League franchise and have felt that would come about in the foreseeable future.

But it will not be accomplished by threats . . . forming a third major league in or out of the present baseball structure is easier to accomplish through a press release than actually getting the cities, parks and players."

Yet Shea said the impetus for the third league movement came from within the National League.

Shea said these groups of interested persons were in Houston, Dallas-Fort Worth, Atlanta, Toronto, Denver, Miami, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Detroit and several other cities on the West Coast.

Wings' Big Line Does Scoring in 3-1 Victory

BOSTON (AP)—One of the major problems the Boston Bruins face is how to halt Detroit's Norm Ullman-Gordie Howe-Alex Delvecchio line.

The big forwards continued to haunt the Bruins and prevented them from moving into the National Hockey League's top berth last night in a 3-1 Red Wing verdict at the Garden.

Each of the three scored a goal. Ullman had two assists while his mates contributed one each.

Detroit leads the series between the clubs two games to one. In those contests the Ullman-Howe-Delvecchio combine has accounted for five of the seven Red Wing goals and 12 of the 17 points.

Oddly enough the score of each game was 3-1.

The outcome left the Bruins with 17 points behind idle Montreal's 18. Detroit tied Chicago for third place at 14 points each.

Boston's only score was so hotly contested by goalie Terry Sawchuk that he drew a 10 minute misconduct and narrowly missed a game misconduct.

Don McKenney crossed in front of the goal and fired in a pass from Johnny Buyck. The puck came out as fast as it had gone in and Sawchuk made no effort on it. He apparently thought the shot had hit the inside of the post and bounded out.

Sawchuk twice charged referee Dalton McArthur—the first time he slammed his stick on the ice and drew a misconduct. The second time, when the penalty was announced, he bumped into the referee hard but no added penalty was called.

PGA Changes Rules on Pros

Apprenticeship Period Reduced, Add Training Course

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — The Professional Golfers' Assn. of America Thursday changed the apprenticeship period of a pro golfer from five playing years to four playing years plus a year at a training school.

The new ruling, adopted at the PGA's annual meeting, applies to both tournament and teaching pros. The one-year training will be taken at one of two PGA assistant training schools.

One school already is operating in Clearwater. The other will open in January at Alameda, Calif.

The PGA members also voted to have the tournament committee composed of the PGA president, secretary and treasurer and four tournament players. This new setup, effective next August, eliminates a member-at-large.

The meeting also approved a resolution, effective immediately, to seek to arrange a sponsor and a site for a match play tournament for all PGA members. This resolution in no way affects the annual PGA championship tourney.

Conference Championships Also on Line

May Complete Bowl List Saturday

By United Press International

Conference championships and bowl berths dominate Saturday's college football program with top-ranked Louisiana State and Oklahoma heavy favorites to land the lucrative New Year's day assignments in the Sugar and Orange Bowls.

LSU, one of only two major perfect record teams in the country, is a solid 15-point favorite to whip Mississippi State in a night game at Jackson, Miss., while Oklahoma, ranked sixth, is a 16-point favorite to whip Missouri at Norman, Okla.

Victory over Mississippi State would all but clinch a Sugar Bowl berth for the Bayou Bengals since their chief rivals for the Southeastern Conference title—Auburn and Mississippi — are either out of the running or about to be. Auburn is ineligible for bowl competition and Mississippi already has lost to LSU.

Oklahoma and Missouri are tied (4-0) for first place in the Big Eight and Saturday's meeting will resolve that race. The Sooners, 6-1 overall, will be shooting for their 70th straight conference victory in this one. Missouri is 5-3 overall.

Clemson, another team with an eye on a bowl berth, is in a strong position to land the assignment alongside of Oklahoma if it beats North Carolina State, while California, which has the inside track to the Rose Bowl berth against Iowa, can begin getting ready for the New Year's day festivities if it defeats Washington.

Coach Frank Howard's Clemson Tigers are only seven-point favorites over N.C. State, a team which lost to Mississippi Southern, the nation's top-ranked small college team, in a tradition-laden game at Raleigh, N. C. Clemson is 5-2 overall, while State is 2-5. If Clemson loses then the race for the conference title won't be resolved until next week pending how North Carolina fares against Duke and the Tigers against Furman.

California (4-1) is favored over Washington in their Pacific Coast game at Seattle, but Washington State (5-2) and Oregon State (4-2)) are in contending positions if the Golden Bears falter. State plays outside opponent College of Pacific, while Oregon State meets Stanford.

The situation in the Southwest Conference and Ivy League is somewhat muddled, but only the Southwest race involves a bowl berth.

Texas Christian and Rice are tied for first place with 3-0 records and more than likely will still be tied when they meet next Saturday. Tomorrow TCU plays Texas and Rice meets Texas A&M.

In the Ivy, where they play for kicks rather than post-season berths, Dartmouth (4-1) and Cornell (4-1) meet in the day's top game. However, Princeton (also 4-1) meets a soft touch in Yale, so it may be another week before this championship is resolved.

MSU Eyes Its Freshmen

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michigan State's freshman football team holds the second of a three-game series of intra-squad contests today.

Out of the series is expected to come the prospects to get the Spartan varsity back on winning ways next year.

Already there are indications the freshman squad holds the solution to MSU's primary weakness—a lack of power backs.

"We have so much power in the freshman backfield we may make linemen out of some of them," said varsity coach, Duffy Daugherty.

Among the top prospects:

Gary Ballman, 197-pound all-stater from East Detroit; all-state Larry Hudas, 195 pounds, Detroit; Tony Kumiega, 205 pounds, Chicopee, Mass., and Ed Ryan, 200 pounds, Chicago.

Detroit Won Last Night, 119-110

Pistons Host Nats Tonight

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Pistons, riding a two-game win streak and only a game out of first place in the NBA'S Western Division, meet the Syracuse Nats tonight in the University of Detroit Memorial Building.

The Pistons moved up to the .500 mark — exactly where they were this time last season — with a 119-110 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers in New York last night.

The game was a battle for second place in the Western Division and the victory gave Detroit a 5-5 season record. The leading St. Louis Hawks are 4-3.

Gene Shue scored half of his 32 points in the fourth quarter to lead the Pistons.

Minneapolis, trailing all the way, came within four points at the start of the last quarter but quick baskets by Phil Jordan and Shue gave the Pistons a 93-86 edge and they never were headed.

George Yardley, the league's leading scorer, sat out most of the last period but wound up with 32 points. Elgin Baylor had 28 points and 19 rebounds to lead the losers.

The New York Knicks defeated the Hawks, 119-102 in the second half of the doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

The Nats are one up on the Pistons this season with a victory in the NBA season opener, 103-94, at Syracuse.

The Nats currently are coasting along in second place behind the Knicks in the Eastern Division.

PCH Grid Curtain Goes Down Tonight

Unbeaten Flint Central 11 Has Powerful Attack

Indians Would Clinch State 'A' Championship With Strong Showing

By BILL CORNWELL

Pontiac Central rings down the curtain on its 1958 football season here tonight against mighty Flint Central in a Saginaw Valley Conference game at Wisner Stadium. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

Making a respectable showing and holding down the final score would seem to be the only attainable goals for the Chiefs who are given little or no chance of winning this contest.

Barring a gridiron miracle, PCH will once more wind up the year on the losing side of the won-and-lost column. The Chiefs missed their chance to clinch a winning campaign by bowing to Melvindale two weeks ago and they enter tonight's outing with a 4-4 record.

As was the case last Friday when the Chiefs met undefeated Bay City, the Flint marauders are conceded the ability to name their own score.

It happened that PCH did make a standout showing against Bay City and the 34-6 setback was much more respectable than anticipated. Whether or not the Chiefs can do as well against Central remains to be seen.

Coach Bill Doolittle's Flint Central team is unbeaten in seven games and a 13-13 tie with Bay City is the lone blot on the record. A powerful and diversified attack has netted the Indians 41 touchdowns and 265 points.

The Indians have speed to burn and their offense is built around the flashy halfback tandem of Ron Watkins and Art Thrash, who boast a total of 25 TDs.

Watkins, who has accounted for 16 of them, runs the 100-yard dash in 9.9 and sports a fabulous 10½-yard ball carrying average. Thrash, not quite so fast but never one to let grass grow under his feet, owns an average of nearly seven yards per carry.

Central's No. 1 quarterback is Jerry Jellis, who has passed for 353 yards and five touchdowns. Backing him up is Carl Jackson, who has tossed six TD aerials.

The Chiefs hold nothing but bitter memories of last year's meeting with Central at Flint's Atwood Stadium. That was also a season closer and the Chiefs were run into the ground, 48-6, for one of the worst lickings in their Saginaw Valley history.

Jesse MacLeay, who this evening will end his 2nd season as Pontiac's head coach, would dearly love to avenge that drubbing, but the situation looks almost hopeless.

Key Game in Saginaw Valley Listed Tonight

The Saginaw Valley Conference football championship will be at stake for both Bay City Central and Flint Northern when the two schools collide tonight in Flint's Atwood Stadium. Bay City is a slight favorite.

Northern currently leads the Valley race with a perfect 3-0 record, but the Vikings are forced to finish their 1958 campaign against the Wolves and city rival Central, the state's two top-ranked teams, so they are far from out of the woods.

Bay City, which won the Valley crown last year with a showdown conquest of Northern, ends its season this evening and can clinch at least a share of the title by winning. The Wolfpack's league record is three wins and one tie.

The deadlock was a 13-13 dogfight with Flint Central, which is heavily favored to take the measure of Pontiac tonight. The Indians will have their traditional Thanksgiving Day battle with Northern remaining. Their Valley record is 2-0-1.

A Northern upset of Bay City this evening would eliminate the Wolves in their bid for a 2nd straight SVC crown and allow the Vikings and Central to settle the whole affair on Turkey Day.

If Bay City dumps Northern and the Vikings then topple Central, the Wolves will win the championship outright. Two Northern victories will bring the crown to the Vikings while wins by the Wolves and Central would mean a co-title for each.

A Bay City loss followed by a Central win means an outright title for the Indians. This, of course, is assuming that the Indians beat Pontiac.

Winless Saginaw High, struggling to escape the Saginaw Valley cellar, meets crosstown foe Arthur Hill at Arthur Hill Memorial Stadium in their annual city feud to round out tonight's Valley schedule. It is the season finale for both teams.

Spartan Spirit High for Gophers

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — If spirit and intestinal fortitude — commonly called guts — will do it, Michigan State should mop up Minnesota on the football field here tomorrow.

As a symbol of Spartan spirit and will to win this one, coach Duffy Daugherty is starting little Hendricks M. (Henny) Young at right half against the big Nordic-type Badger bruisers.

Young, 24-year-old junior from Detroit, only weighs 143 pounds with shoes on and measures five feet four. He'll be shooting into a Minnesota line averaging out at better than 210 pounds on the hoof and featuring such solid citizens as Tom Brown, 224-pound guard and Mike Wright, 221-pound tackle.

Young, brother of Buddy Young of Illinois and pro football fame, wasn't even listed when the three deep probable lineup was put out the first of the season.

He played at fullback and left half before being shifted to right half. So far this season he has eight yards in three carries.

But Young has earned his own cheering section among MSU fans by his willingness to charge into any player, even if he's giving away a 50 or 100 pound weight advantage.

The Henry Young Marching and Chowder Society which whoops it up whenever he gets on the field have dubbed him, among other nicknames "Mighty Mouse" and "The People's Choice."

How about Young's 5-4 height on defense, Daugherty was asked.

"He does things on defense as well or better than some of the taller and heavier players," Daugherty said.

Other starting choices that would have been startling the first of the season, before State started heavy losing, include sophomore Tommy Wilson at quarterback and Park Baker at fullback.

The only backfield starter who began the season at first string is left half Dean Look, the junior who has been carrying most of the offensive load this year as well as doing the punting.

Players Promise Win Over Northern

Crippled Dales Underdogs

HILLSDALE (UPI) — The remainder of Hillsdale College's football team promised today to beat favored Northern Michigan after 12 players were cut from the squad for drinking. Three were first stringers.

"The boys promised to win," coach Frank (Muddy) Waters said, "but I honestly don't know how we'll do it."

The Dales were an eight-point underdog to Northern Michigan which has blanked its last four opponents.

Waters said he didn't think the school would take action against the 12 who are mostly freshmen and sophomores. Freshmen are eligible for the varsity in the MIAA.

It appears all 12 would be reinstated next season.

"If they had enough guts to confess voluntarily, I think they should be allowed to play again," said Waters who last year was voted small college coach of the year.

Big Keg Duel at Huron Tonight

Two of Pontiac's bowling juggernauts will square off against each other tonight at 9:30 in the Huron Bowl Classic, as league-leading West Side Mobil crosses alleys with the Humphries Real Estate five. Each team boasts an average of approximately 1035.

Humphries, after a 2884 effort opening night, has shot nine straight sets over 3000, while the Mobil five has dropped under this figure only twice.

In ten weeks of bowling these two teams have piled up a total of 66 individual totals better than 600, and 6 series of more than 700.

Averages for 30 games:

HUMPHRIES		MOBIL
John Nickell	221	Jay Lovett	205
M. Samardzija	192	Clark Balch	196
Don Martell	217	Les Rothbarth	217
Curtis Neal	202	D. Carmichael	209
Bill Leigh	204	J. Bonfiglio	205

Strohs Team, Leigh Star at West Side

Such scores a a 3086 team total for Strohs and a 256 game and 699 series for Bill Leigh highlighted another big night in the West Side Classic recently.

Strohs hit a high of 1056 in its hot series. The 11th Frame Bar had a 1059 game and 3050 total.

John Nickell and Bob Gormong matched 650 series and Wally Johnson rolled 648. There were 61 games over 200 and 16 series topping 600 for the night.

FALCON — Hard-running Ted Knapp will be one of the Rochester backs Avondale will have to stop if it hopes to upset the Falcons when the two teams meet in their traditional battle royal at Rochester tonight. The Yellowjackets have never beaten the Falcons in fine years of trying.

Game Features Rivalry-Packed Final Schedule

Southfield - Birmingham, Kimball-Dondero Others —Skippers at Home

By CHUCK ABAIR

Traffic will likely be pretty much at a standstill between 8 and 10 p.m. tonight around the Rochester and the Auburn Heights areas as the prep grid teams from those communities meet in their 6th annual local battle at the new Falcon field.

Avondale has yet to win in the series and is figured the slight underdog this time despite being the Oakland B champion in comparison to a 3-4 season for RHS thus far.

Avondale coach Frank Crowell is fearing a letdown by his aggregation after some hard-earned "pressure" victories. Starting guard Fred Krupp is a doubtful operator due to an ankle injury suffered in a fall at school while others have been nursing bruises and illnesses.

Dick Smith, Dennis Acker, Larry Douglas, Dennis Shaw and Ken Mather will handle the Avondale backfield duties behind a line headed by tackle Bill Jennings.

Dave Hecht has been the top Rochester scorer with 36 points. Russ Dixon (33) and Ted Knapp (19) follow. Chuck Ebersole, veteran 240-pounder, heads the line. Each team has been consistent on offense but had defensive problems most of the season.

The Southfield at Birmingham game will match two of Oakland County's top teams and scorers. Cliff Solberg of the Jays and Ed Busch have had big seasons. Southfield's possible loss of star back Tom Ridley due to an ankle injury could change the entire complexion of things.

A new rivalry beginning this fall that should be a dandy starting right with this 1st one will match Royal Oak Dondero and Royal Oak Kimball. Each has won 6, lost 1 and tied 1. Dondero tied East Detroit, bowed to Wyandotte and upset highly-rated Grosse Pointe. Kimball tied Southfield and lost only to Grand Rapids South.

Waterford will have its work cut out as host to Wayne in another of the many rivalry contests on tonight's final big football slate. The Skippers have lost five straight since their only victory.

Some of the other interesting duels will have Holly at Lake Orion, Ortonville visiting Clarkston, Utica at Romeo and Bloomfield Hills at Oak Park.

Play concludes in three different leagues today. Port Huron can clinch the Eastern Michigan crown outright by tripping Hazel Park. East Detroit meets Ferndale in the other loop game. Losses by both Port Huron and East Detroit would enable Birmingham to back into a 1st place tie.

Lapeer is already assured a Tri-County League title share and should have no trouble clinching all the marbles against L'Anse Creuse. Country Day met Detroit Lutheran East this afternoon for the Central Suburban crown.

Imlay City closes at home against Swartz Creek. Northville is host to Howell, Roseville plays at Fitzgerald and Center Line at Van Dyke in other games.

Army, Air Force Still 'Mile' Apart in Scheduling

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The Army and the Air Force academies are one mile apart on the scheduling of future football games.

That's the approximate difference in elevation of the two service academies. And because of that difference, the West Pointers don't want to meet the Air Force on the gridiron anywhere in Colorado. The thin air here would give the Air Force the advantage, says Army's Earl Red Blaik.

Coach Blaik now has suggested Chicago's 100,000-seat Soldier Field as the permanent site for the grid rivalry.

Settle Aussie Net Title

ADELAIDE, (AP) — Mal Anderson and Rod Laver won the South Australian doubles tennis championship today.

They came from behind to beat Ashley Cooper and Neale Fraser after losing the first two sets 4-6, 6-8, 11-9, 9-7, 6-3 in an all-Australian final.

Prep Front

By BILL CORNWELL

Congratulations are in order to Frank Crowell and his Avondale High School football team for making one of the greatest grid comebacks in recent years in Oakland County prep circles.

The Yellow Jackets, mired in the Oakland B League cellar a year ago, put the finishing touch on their amazing climb last Friday by conquering Troy, 14-7, to win the conference championship.

Thus did the Jackets complete a one-year rise from the bottom to the top, a feat seldom accomplished by any team at any competitive level — high school, college or professional. It's a tribute to Crowell and his coaching staff as well as the boys who took the knocks on the field.

Avondale failed to win a single game last fall. The only success was a surprising 7-7 tie with Troy on the final day of the season and the Jackets ended the 1957 campaign in the Oakland B basement.

In 1958 pre-season crystal ball gazing, the Auburn Heights gridders were again expected to finish in or near last place. On paper, the Jackets did not deserve to be rated any higher.

The returning material looked average at best and changes that often prove harmful were undertaken by Crowell in an effort to produce a winner or at least furnish improvement. Crowell himself was skeptical of Avon's chances and figured they'd be doing well to win one or two games.

But those personnel changes, those big gambles that sometimes backfire, paid handsome dividends for the Jackets, their coaches and their loyal fans.

Diminutive Dick Smith, who had been a halfback, moved to quarterback and became the team's sparkplug and driving force. Gary Acker, previously a quarterback, switched to fullback and turned into a high-powered ball carrier.

Dennis Shaw, a junior who never played prep football until this fall, gave the squad an unexpected breakaway threat at halfback. The transfer of Bill Jennings, a rugged and mobil tackle, from Troy to Avon further aided the cause.

All those wonderful intangibles that help provide victory — spirit, desire, courage, guts and just plain "jelling" — ignited a superb team effort and the result is already history.

Those priceless winning ingredients received their acid test two weeks ago when the Jackets went to Clawson for a league showdown with the Trojans. Here they reached the crossroads of their title drive.

Trailing by a 12-0 score going into the 4th quarter, the Jackets rallied for a dramatic 14-12 triumph with the winning touchdown coming in the final 90 seconds. Crowell called their comeback win at Clawson "the greatest thrill of my coaching career."

Regardless of the outcome of tonight's Rochester-Avondale game at Rochester, this season has been a blue-ribbon success for the Jackets. They have an overall record of 6-2 and they were unbeaten in five league games and Rochester can do little to dampen the luster of these achievements.

So it's "hats off to Avon" for a truly remarkable year.

ODDS AND ENDS

South Lyon has applied for admission to both the Wayne-Oakland Conference and a new league being formed in the Ann Arbor area. The Lions now belong to the League of the Lakes and won the football crown this season.

Dave Theobald of Bloomfield Hills earned a starting position on the Denison University soccer team this fall. A sophomore at the Ohio school, Dave is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Theobald. He was graduated from Cranbrook in 1957.

Practice Dates Set for Cagers at Waterford

Practice dates have been set for the eight teams registered to date in the Waterford Township Recreation Department men's basketball program for the 1958-59 season. All practices are scheduled at Isaac Crary Junior High gym.

There is an opening for one more team in both the advanced and the intermediate leagues, recreation director Tom Belton reports. For more information, call the recreation office at OR 3-9152.

Practices begin next Monday night. The practice schedule follows:

Monday, Nov. 17, 7 p.m. — Lotus Lakers and Lakeland Pharmacy.
Monday, Nov. 17, 8:30 p.m. — Ryeson's Super Market and Unnamed Team managed by John Hardy.
Tuesday, Nov. 18, 7 p.m. — Drayton Drug and White Swan.
Tuesday, Nov 18, 8:30 p.m. — Rocco's and Johnson & Anderson.

Bierman Opposes Any Shakeup Move

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Bernie Bierman, former Minnesota football coach, made it clear today he wants no part in any moves aimed at a shakeup in the shool's athletic department.

Bierman was put forward as a logical new athletic director by an alumni group seeking the ouster of Ike Armstrong, who has held the position for eight years. But Bernie gave the idea an emphatic "no."

A questionnaire prepared by a number of dissatisfied former lettermen was distributed yesterday to the more than 2,300 members of the Minnesota "M" club.

It urged them to approve a more active role for the club in Gopher athletic policy and said: "An injustice of long standing exists in the case of Bernie Bierman" and asked for "every [illegible] possible" to get him appointed athletic director.

Many Area 'Deerslayers' Among Them

Hunters Jam Dixie, Heading North

By H. GUY MOATS

Hundreds of Pontiac and Oakland County deer hunters are joining the army of between 300,000 and 400,000 Michigan devotees of the hunt, as the 1958 state season opens Saturday morning. Many others will do their deer-stalking in legal areas of this and nearby counties, where numbers of bucks have been seen this summer and fall. Season ends Nov. 30.

Yesterday morning and late evening, and this morning, found highways leading into the north country pretty well jammed with hopeful parties and their gear, in automobiles. The traffic, around Pontiac on Telegraph road, and for 15 miles north, on Dixie, was almost endless observers reported. The turnout may be one of the biggest on record.

The stream of cars into the north and north-central areas of the state was expected to reach its peak tonight.

Probable cooler weather, with some rain, was forecast for the opening weekend, conditions that will meet the approval of the deer hunters. There may be snow flurries in the Upper Peninsula.

With the start of the gun-deer season, the Pontiac Press annual "big buck derby" gets under way. Only full-time Oakland County residents are eligible and weight (dressed out) only will figure in the contest. Winner will receive $150 in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Conservation men say that if averages of past years hold up, between 15 and 17 per cent will bag a whitetail. Ratio would be about one in four for hunters in the UP one in eight in the Lower Peninsula. It is expected that more than 80,000 deer, including doe and fawn, or any deer special seasons will be taken. Buck take, alone, is expected to total 65,000 or more.

Area hunters have been advised to register at the State Police Post nearest their camps, so they may be reached easily and quickly in case of emergency.

Midforest lodge, in Roscommon County near Prudenville, will house a sizeable contingent of Pontiac area hunters. Ten-Buck, Camp 24 at Curran in Alcona county, Oakland Hunt Club, Wrangell Ranch near Gaylord 810-club near Lewiston and Mio, are other area hunter headquarters, all will good turnouts.

One of the interesting groups at Midforest will be Pontiac's Judge Glenn C. Gillespie (trails veteran), Supreme Court Justice Edward M. Sharpe of Bay City and Judge John Schaffer of Gladwin. Judge Gillespie will "collect" the others enroute to the hunting area.

Others at Midforest include Burton P. Daugherty Jr., Delbert Motley, Leo Baumgartner, Don Eade, Bud Nicholie, Ray Newman, Jack Foster and Lloyd Anderson of Orion are at Wrangell; Louis Slivensky at Norway club; Walter Krause in the same area; Clark Adass at Ten-Buck; Charles Sparks at Oakland Hunt; Fred Cohassey, Herb Swann and Bob Evans, at Au Train in the UP; Dr. P. B. Jones, Ted Finkbeiner, Wally Simmons, Norm Windiate; Dr. B. M. Mitchell Floyd and Vic Blakeslee, Dave Edstrom, Lee J. Voorhes at spots in and around Alcona county.

OCSC prexy Ed Spicer and his dad, Dale of Birmingham, near the Straits; Tice Woody, at L'Anse in the Upper; Homer Coss at West Branch, George Crater in the UP and Birmingham's Bob Gubbins and Walt Mason also above the Straits are other area hunters.

Strikes and Spares

By JOE WILMAN

Ever know what happens to each pin on a perfect strike? I'll bet you don't, but knowing this can help you understand how a 5-pin or a 10-pin or a 4-pin can be left on a hit that looked pretty good from 60 feet away. Check today's drawing as I describe what happens on a perfect 1-3 pocket hit.

First, the ball strikes the 1-pin and the 3-pin solidly, knocking them over. The ball continues on, striking the 5-pin on the right side and then deflecting off to the right and into the 9-pin. The 5-pin is knocked into the 8-pin, and this clears out the middle of the alley.

When the ball rolls into the 1-3 picket, it starts a reaction. The 1-pin is knocked into the 2, and the 2 goes into the 4 which goes back into the 7-pin. Likewise, the 3-pin is knocked into the 6 which is knocked into the 10-pin, completing the cycle.

So you can easily see why a weak hit in the 1-3 pocket will often deflect to the right, leaving the 5-pin untouched. Also, a heavy hit on the nose will not set up the proper pin action. And pin action is necessary because the ball itself only knocks over four of the pins. It must depend upon pin action to take care of the other six.

No Longer Needed in Europe?

May Withdraw Missiles

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States appeared ready today to cut back its program of ringing Russia with overseas missile bases and concentrate instead on intercontinental missiles based at home.

That prospect was unfolded late yesterday at a news conference by Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy. It apparently means a rather drastic revamping of some North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) military plans.

The move could be at least partly a result of Russia's barrage of warnings to U.S. overseas allies against allowing American 1,500-mile range Thor and Jupiter ballistic missiles on their soil.

McElroy, however, did not allude to the Soviet warnings or to the political issue that intermediate range ballistic missiles (IRBMs) have become in many NATO countries.

The defense secretary said that there was "currently under way . . . a reappraisal of our military requirements for IRBMs."

He made it plain the intercontinental ballistic missie (ICBM), based in the United States completely under American control and with 5,500 mile range, is now a more desirable military weapon to this country than the IRBM based overseas and subject to joint U.S.-allied control.

"We might not have the requirement for the numbers of either one of these or both of them combined (Thor and Jupiter) that we have been thinking about up to this point," he said.

"The further you go down the road toward an operational capability of the ICBM, the less interesting it is for us to deploy additional IRBMs and we are coming closer to the time of operational capability" of the Atlas intercontinental missile, McElroy added.

He said Jupiter and Thor missiles now on order will be produced and the full planned complement will be sent to England. The United States also has arranged to supply Jupiter missiles for Italy.

Otherwise there has been far less than an overwhelming welcome to the American offer of IRBMs for Europe. France, considered by NATO military authorities a vital spot for IRBMs, has resisted up to now.

While the apparently imminent change in the plan may have been influenced by Russian warnings, it was not believed significant changes in American and allied deterrent powers will result. The United States has 200-mile range Redstone missiles in West Germany.

It will have nuclear-powered submarines with Polaris ballistic missiles starting in 1960.

Talks Resume at Harvester

U.S. Mediators Seek End to UAW Strike That Began Thursday

CHICAGO (AP)—Federal mediators will try again Monday to settle a strike of 36,500 United Auto Workers at 15 International Harvester Co. plants in 12 cities.

Douglas D. Brown and William Murray, the federal mediators, had long separate conferences with both Harvester and UAW officials yesterday, hours after the strike began at 7 a.m.

Brown said the union and Harvester still were far apart in an agreement on a new contract. The old pact expired Aug. 1.

Picket lines were set up at the gates of the struck Harvester plants, but no disorders were reported. Harvester announced the strikers would receive checks today for their work last week.

Duane Greathouse, UAW vice president and director of its implement division, and William Reilly, Harvester's labor relation manager, said the union and the company have agreed on only three wage items. They are the cost-of-living allowance, an 8-cent-an-hour pay boost for skilled workers and an annual improvement factor of 6½ cents hourly or 2½ per cent, whichever is greater.

Guard to Take Over Local Nike Battery

The Auburn Heights Nike anti-aircraft missile battery has been designated as one of the first units in the metropolitan Detroit area preparing to be taken over by the Michigan National Guard.

1st Lt. Isabelle J. Swartz, public information officer for the 28th AAA Group, said the conversion of "D" Battery of the 4th Battalion is part of an eventual nationwide change whereby National Guard units will man many Nike sites.

However, Lt. Swartz emphasized that this does not mean that the regular army will relinquish its control over all Nike units.

Presently some 16 men of "C" Battery, 979th Missile Battalion of the Michigan National Guard, which some time around August next year will take over operational control of the Auburn Heights site, are in Fort Bliss, Texas, training for the conversion.

Slated to become commander of the Auburn Heights site is the present commander of the National Guard battery, Capt. Frederick E. Tucker, 35, of Farmington Township.

Capt. Tucker is working with Regular Army Nike commander, Capt. Raymond J. Geoffrion, in readiness for the change.

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Heinz Nordhoff, soft-spoken boss of Germany's Volkswagen Company, expects a continuing boom for his beetle-shaped cars — in this country and abroad.

"We're turning out 550,000 vehicles a year," he said in an interview. "We expect to produce 650,000 next year and 750,000 in 1960."

Here to receive the Sperry Award of the Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE), Dr. Nordhoff fixed a goal of 90,000 cars for the U. S. market this year. Americans bought 79,000 Volkswagens in 1957.

The German industrialist said he is particularly proud that the Volkswagen "served to popularize the small car concept" in America. Other manufacturers of small foreign cars are benefitting from it, he asserted.

What about style changes? None are planned, said Nordhoff, adding, "The only changes are internal."

Later, in a speech prepared for the Society of Automotive Engineers, Nordhoff said:

"Offering people an honest value, a product of highest quality, with low original cost and incomparable re-sale value, appealed more to me than being driven around by a bunch of hysterical stylists trying to sell people something they really do not want to have."

Nordhoff was no newcomer to the auto manufacturing business when he took over the bombed out Volkswagen plant at Wolfsburg, Germany, in 1947. He had cut his eyeteeth with the Opel Company, German affiliate of General Motors. The first year under Nordhoff's management, Volkswagen built an average of 50 vehicles a day. Now the company is rolling out 1,500 a day, he said, and selling them all.

Some 53 per cent of Volkswagen's output is sold abroad. Many of the little cars are assembled in Australia, Brazil and South Africa. Nine specially equipped freighters, each capable of carrying 1,000 vehicles, transport the Volkswagens to this country.

Nordhoff is the first automaker and the first foreigner to receive the SAE Sperry Award.

"It was a big surprise," he said. "I had no inkling I was going to get it."

The award is also being made posthumously to the late Dr. Ferdinand Porsche who designed the Volkswagen.

FHA Officials Study City's Renewal Area

Federal Housing Administration officials were in Pontiac today, studying homes in the proposed urban renewal area.

They were determining the extent to which the FHA would back private purchase of used homes in the renewal area in connection with the proposed project, said Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager.

Three officials from the Detroit FHA office, Eugene Nosar, Joseph Van Dyke and Theodore Leda, toured the renewal area with Ernest Ethier, of the city's planning department.

Pontiac's renewal program is nearing the final planning stage and may, with federal approval, get under way in 1960, said Stierer.

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market was limited to light speculative activity in early transactions today on the board of trade and most prices shifted within narrow ranges.

Soybeans had the best support on word that Japan is buying about 3,500 tons and the United Kingdom 1,000 tons but price advances were mostly within small fractions of a cent.

The Department of Agriculture also reported a renewal of overseas corn business through the export subsidy plan. It said bids of a cent a bushel had been accepted on 100,000 bushels. Bids of 13 to 15 cents a bushel also were accepted on 750,000 bushels of oats. It was the first acceptance of corn bids in more than a week.

Hospital Insurance Rates to Increase

DETROIT (AP) — Blue Cross and Blue Shield insurance rate increases ranging up to $2.67 a month will become effective Jan. 1.

This was announced jointly by the two organizations today on approval of State Insurance Commissioner Joseph A. Navarre. Blue Cross is operated by hospitals; Blue Shield by doctors.

Blue Shield recently announced it was liberalizing payments to hospital members to cover an annual increase of 8 per cent in costs of hospital care.

Increased charges for single persons will range from 98 cents to $1.30 a month; those for full families from $1.92 to $2.67. The organizations said they were necessary to give them an 18.5 per cent increase in overall income.

Simultaneously with the new rate increases, Blue Cross said it would offer two new insurance contracts, a $50 deductible one and a so-called economy package, both at rates below comprehensive coverage. Under the economy plan $14 a day is paid for 30 days.

Picket Struck by Car of Chrysler Executive

DETROIT (UPI) — A picket was struck today by a car driven by a Chrysler sales executive as she walked the picket line at Chrysler's MoPar Plant at Center Line.

Constance Tallent, who works in the data processing section of the parts plant, was taken to Memorial Hospital at Center Line for examination and released. She was uninjured. She was struck by a car driven by Ray Ayers as the Chrysler executive was turning into the plant.

Ayers was ticketed for failing to yield the right of way to a pedestrian.

Chrysler Tieup Drops Car Output to 121,305

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler's white collar workers' strike is causing a drop in general car production this week.

Automotive News says car assemblies this week will be 121,305 as against 125,279 last week because of the strike. A year ago this week the industry built 141,904 cars.

Suspect Juveniles of Looting 3 Cars

UTICA—Juveniles are suspected of looting three cars parked in front of the Sidney Chapoton home, 8220 Hahn St., between 9 and 10:30 last night, according to Utica police.

The thieves took boxes of church stationary valued at $25 a wallet and a pair of $20 sunglasses.

Utica patrolman Fred Holloway found the stationary dumped in Grant Park, one block east of Van Dyke while on patrol early this morning.

Women were attending a Methodist circle meeting at the Chapoton home when the robberies occurred and had various articles to be sold at their forthcoming bazaar in the cars.

The wallet belonged to Mrs. Mason Case of Rochester, who was demonstrating how to make Christmas decorations before the group.

WE LIKE IT HERE FINE — Well, maybe Genevieve, Parisian chanteuse on "The Jack Paar Show," misses New York a little bit since the late-night TV merry-makers located in Hollywood recently. But, Jack assures all that the switch is just temporary — "getting the show out of a rut, so to speak." Judging from that grin, it looks like pianist-orchestra leader Jose Melis (right) wouldn't mind staying on the west coast, though. Jack Paar is currently in his second year of light-hearted television comedy.

To Get Background for Novel

Forges Way Into Prison

SEATTLE (AP)—"Art is a living thing," the intense young man said. "For anyone to create anything artistic, he must have lived it."

The words came slowly from William G. Gates as he explained that his artistic goal is a novel with prison life as its background.

Gates was sitting in the Seattle City jail. He literally had asked to go to prison, choosing forgery as his passport.

Det. T. C. Jorgensen of the Seattle police check detail arrested Gates, 27, Wednesday afternoon. Gates quickly admitted in a signed statement he was the forger of about $100 in bum checks.

HOPES FOR YEAR

Talking with reporters, Gates said he calculated the amount he obtained through the worthless checks would get him about a year in the penitentiary. That's the time he says he needs to complete his education and get the necessary background for his novel.

Gates said he felt that forgery was the least harmful way to get to prison.

"It doesn't cause anyone physical pain," he said, "and those to whom I dropped the checks could well afford it."

Gates graduated from Yakima (Wash.) Valley Junior College and spent a year studying psychology at the University of Washington. He said he had been planning his move for years.

STUDIED DELINQUENCY

"I first became interested in juvenile delinquency when I was about 16," he said. "I made a study of it until about two years ago when I began to try and understand the emotions of prisoners and the reactions of convicts who are paroled.

"They have about the hardest deal of anyone when they leave prison and again try to find a job. I want to write about them, and I want to know how they feel."

When Jorgensen got up to leave a broad smile came to Gate's face.

"It was sure nice seeing you," he said.

The women's auxiliary of Post 16 announced at the same time a card party and bazaar it will hold for the general public tomorrow evening at 7. It will be held at the Auburn avenue hall.

Bendix Aviation, UAW Negotiate for Contract

DETROIT (AP)—Negotiations have resumed between Bendix Aviation Corp. and the United Auto Workers for a contract covering 12,000 workers.

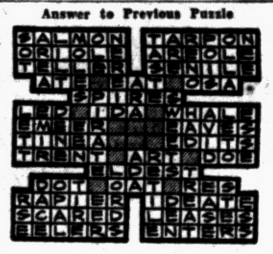

The present extended contract expires Monday. The UAW has voted to strike if a contract is not reached.

Bendix has plants in Detroit and Benton Harbor, Mich., and in South Bend, Ind.; Teterboro, N. J.; North Hollywood, Calif., and Elmira Heights, N. Y.

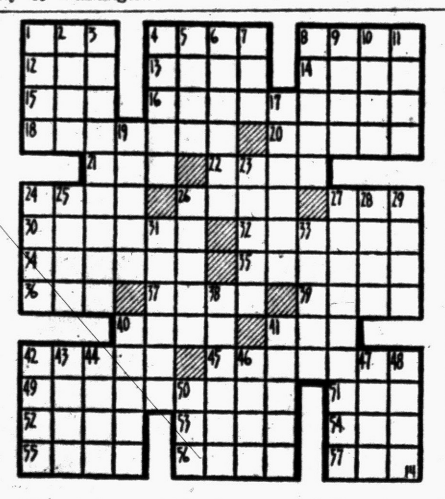

The UAW has said it wants pay increases, insurance and pension improvements and other concessions which it says have been "commonplace in the industry."

TV Star Denies Stay Permanent

West Coast Is Lifting Program Out of Rut, Says Genial Comedian

By JOE FINNIGAN

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Now that the nation's TV viewers have had a look at what the "Jack Paar Show" can do from Hollywood, there's a good chance that more of the genial comedian's appearances may have been on a scouting expedition, with Hollywood in mind for a permanent location, when he brought his NBC group here from New York.

Some people acquainted with the TV industry figured that Paar may originate from here.

Paar denies it, although he does not rule out the possibility that he and his crew may spend more time here than they have in the past.

Paar, entering the second week of his three week stay, is not sure just what the frequency of his Hollywood appearances should be.

"I don't know, but it's crossed my mind since I came here," he said, "The best way would be to come back and forth."

Admitting that Hollywood possesses stars for guest shots, Paar does not feel that's a compelling enough reason for him to locate here for good.

"There would be more well known people on the show from here," he said, "but that wouldn't keep the show going.

"Names didn't make this show," he pointed out. "We developed our own stars."

As for his guest stars, Paar gets them to appear for much less than top names would work for anyone else.

"We pay everybody $320. The big stars come on because they want to," he revealed.

"Bob Hope wants to come back on and Jack Benny would like to appear."

Paar's appearance in Hollywood is not the first time he has been in town.

When he worked here in the past, Paar was not the top star he is today. But, his return does not have the "I told you so" attitude.

"I was never important here, ever," he said. "I was under contract to RKO for three years, got paid and never made any pictures until the last year."

Lounging in a swank hotel restaurant in bright red sweater and sports slacks, Paar said his show could benefit by spending more time in Hollywood.

"For the good of the show, I came back to get new people," he said. "We get into a rut in New York."

Paar recently injured his back falling off a break-away stunt chair on his show and he now sits on a rubber tube which he calls a "fanny life saver."

The quick-witted Paar has been talking with network executives about cutting down the length of his shows but no satisfactory formula has been worked out as yet.

"They want to work it out," he remarked. "I know I can't go on nine hours a week."

Even though the present situation is not to Paar's liking, he squelches any rumors that he might jump to another network.

"NBC has been good to me," he said. "I'm not talking to other networks. I don't deal that way."

Children Ask Embarrassing Questions

Teachers Go Back to School to Learn About Rockets

By RICHARD F. ROPER

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) —Imagine the plight of a math or science teacher facing a classroom of curious youngsters whose fathers are blazing trails in the uncharted field of rocketry.

For three years, pretty June Rodgers has been embarrassed in her eighth and ninth grade math classes at nearby Cocoa Junior High School by such questions as, "How would a rocket fired from a space platform get any thrust if there's no air for it to push against?"

Because the field of missiles and rockets is so new there aren't any textbooks, the Cocoa chapter of the American Rocket Society's Florida division offered to instruct Brevard County teachers in the fundamentals of rocketry—but not just to save the teachers embarrassment.

"The idea was that the teachers would pass this information on to the students," said Capt. Mike Sellars, head of the Navy's Polaris missile project at Cape Canaveral. "We hope some of them will want to go into this field eventually."

When the rocket group broached the idea to Brevard school authorities, they jumped at it. The result is a four-month program of instruction in which 31 teachers chosen from a much larger group of applicants attend a two-hour session every Thursday.

The courses in this unprecedented program aren't highly technical, but they're imposing to the layman. Soon the harassed teachers will be able to expound on such subjects as the history and mathematics of rocket propulsion and thrust computations" and "flight mechanics, aerodynamic and celestial mechanics.
