ESCAPE VEHICLE — This is the armor-plated bus in West Berlin which carried eight East German refugees to freedom in West Berlin today after crashing through three barriers. Eight bullets hit the vehicle but only one man was injured by flying glass when the windshield smashed. The escapees were the owner of the bus and the driver, their wives and their four children.

8 Refugees Crash to W. Berlin in Bus

BERLIN (AP) — Eight East German refugees crashed through three barriers into West Berlin before dawn today while the bullets of border guards rattled off their armor-plated bus.

Eight bullets hit the bus but only one man was injured by flying glass when the windshield smashed.

★ ★ ★

The escapees were the owner of the bus, his driver, their wives and their four children. The children included three girls, 1, 3 and 13 years old and a boy of 10.

The bus, of prewar German manufacture, belonged to one of the few private contractors the Communist regime permitted to operate.

The group drove 120 miles to Berlin from their homes at Neugersdorf, near the Oder-Neisse border between East Germany and Poland.

★ ★ ★

They had fitted metal plates inside the bus to protect themselves from the bullets they were certain the border guards would fire at them.

The bus swung around Berlin to come into the city on the autobahn from the west.

While the women and children lay on the floor, the contractor and the driver drove audaciously up to the control point at Babelsberg where vehicles heading for West Berlin are checked.

It was 5:30 a.m. and still dark.

CRASH BARRIERS

Ignoring signals to halt, the driver drove the bus at top speed toward the steel and concrete barricades which stretch across the four-lane highway leaving only one lane for traffic.

Border guards fired tommy guns at the bus as it sped by. The heavy vehicle crashed through three metal barriers.

There still were about 1½ miles of highway to go to the West Berlin city limits but the autobahn curves at this point, giving cover from the guards' fire.

★ ★ ★

A few minutes later the bus swept triumphantly past the Western allied checkpoint at Dreilinden and into the sanctuary of West Berlin.

The refugees were taken to a reception center to be interviewed by officials.

West Berlin police said the owner of the bus was a war cripple who can-walk only with crutches.

JOHN FACTOR

JFK Pardons Former Mobster

'Jake the Barber' Was Capone Contemporary

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — John (Jake the Barber) Factor, a one-time Chicago underworld figure turned philanthropist, has been granted a Christmas pardon by President Kennedy.

This apparently wipes the slate clean for Factor, 70, who turned from a barbering career to the more exciting world peopled by Al Capone and Roger Touhy.

The pardon, first applied for in 1958, clears away a 1943 conviction for mail fraud and evidently will put an end to the government's attempt to have Factor deported to his native England.

"I am very surprised and grateful," Factor said Tuesday at Palm Springs, Calif., "I hope I have earned it. It is a wonderful Christmas present and I believe justice has been done."

The pardon was signed Monday by Kennedy at his vacation headquarters.

PAROLED IN 1949

Factor was paroled from the Federal Correctional Institution at Sandstone, Minn., in 1949 after serving six years of a 10-year sentence. He moved to California, became a successful real estate operator and plunged into philanthropic work.

His donations have been estimated at more than $2 million, including $25,000 toward the unsuccessful 1961 effort to free the Bay of Pigs Cuban invasion prisoners in exchange for tractors.

Factor grew up on the West Side of Chicago. Following his parents' wishes he became a barber, first in a neighborhood shop, then in a glittering hotel salon.

Soon the dapper, 5-foot-6½-inch Factor was making deals. In 1925 he was named in federal warrants charging use of the mails to defraud persons taking a flyer in the Florida land boom.

He went to Europe and stories of his gambling luck preceded him back to the United States. He claimed to have broken the bank at Le Touquet in 1930, walking out of the casino with $650,000.

Factor gained national attention in 1933 when he charged he had been kidnaped by Touhy, a prohibition beer baron.

Touhy was sentenced to 99 years on kidnap charges, paroled after 25—and mysteriously shotgunned to death on the steps of his Chicago apartment building days later.

It's Cold Truth: Spine-Chilling 5 Above Due

Winter is really here. The weatherman says temperatures will skid to 5 above tonight.

For the next five days thermometer readings will average 7 to 11 degrees below the normal high of 31 to 35, and normal low of 14 to 22. The high is expected to reach 18 tomorrow.

The light snow blanketing the Pontiac area during the night measured less than 2 inches.

Fourteen was the lowest recording in the downtown area preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had edged up to 19 at 2 p.m.

Russians Sail Away From Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — Hundreds of Russian men, women and children sailed from Havana on a Soviet passenger liner last night, presumably bound for home.

They may have been workers and their families sent to Cuba in connection with the recently dismantled Soviet missile sites.

Some 1,000 relatives of the newly liberated Cuban invasion prisoners prepared to leave the island today to start a new life in the United States with the freed captives.

★ ★ ★

Prospects were reported good also for the early release of 23 Americans imprisoned in Cuba. Diplomatic informants said Prime Minister Fidel Castro is considering granting an amnesty to some 50 foreigners now in Cuban jails.

BUS CONVOYS

The outbound Russians arrived at the dock in long truck and bus convoys and boarded the Admiral Najimov, the former German steamship Berlin, which had been berthed in Havana for two weeks.

★ ★ ★

The men wore checkered sport shirts and many had work trousers and work boots. Women, some holding children, rode on wooden seats in the heavy Soviet trucks.

The Russians carried rolled blankets, cardboard suitcases, boxes and duffel bags.

There was no announcement of their destination. Thousands of Russians were brought to Cuba last summer under the label of technicians. Some left in November on ships which carried the Soviet rockets out of the island.

★ ★ ★

The 15,000-ton Admiral Najimov sailed from a dock near where the American freighter African Pilot was being readied to take on close relatives of the Cuban invasion prisoners who were given their freedom in exchange for $53 million in medicine and food.

You Have Till Jan. 3 to Return the 5 Pipes

The Downtown Pontiac Business Association and Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce today set Thursday, Jan. 3, as deadline to return Christmas gift items at stores in downtown Pontiac.

Merchants will accept returns up to closing time that day.

Most stores will be open their normal hours this week, although some will close early New Year's Eve.

MEET CASTRO — Representatives of the American Red Cross are greeted by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro on their arrival aboard the freighter African Pilot in Havana harbor. The freighter carried the first installment of $53-million worth of foods and medicines for Castro's swap of 1,113 Bay of Pigs invasion captives.

Leaders of Exiles Call for End of Pro-Commie Regime in Homeland

From Our News Wires

MIAMI—Calls for obliteration of the Castro regime mounted among leaders of the Cuban exile community today in the joyous reception given to 1,113 Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners who were airlifted to freedom.

In Havana under a hot tropical sun, about 1,000 relatives of the freed prisoners gathered at dockside to board the freighter African Pilot for the United States.

Some of the elderly emigres—overcome by heat and emotion—fainted. At least one old man was rushed aboard the 10,000-ton mercy ship on a stretcher.

Some of the women daubed away tears. Children looked bewildered.

SOLEMN PROCESSION

It was a solemn procession—through six security and customs checkpoints manned by Cuban military personnel—as the emigres moved slowly to the dock.

★ ★ ★

Cuban Red Cross officials were correct—and at times even solicitous—as the lines formed only a few yards from the African Pilot's gangway.

An official of the prisoners' families committee said about 850 men, women and children had cleared through its checkpoint by 10 a.m.

The captives, who were shuttled to liberty by 10 airplanes Sunday and Monday after 20 months in Cuban jails, anxiously awaited news of the African Pilot.

All harkened to a pledge for Fidel Castro's demise sounded by Manuel Artime, a leader in the abortive invasion and last on the list of prisoners to be returned.

McNamara Due Tomorrow

JFK Talks Delayed

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy, off to a slow start today on a post-Christmas round of conferences, summoned Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the joint chiefs of staff for a meeting tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy had hoped to discuss tax policy during the morning with a high-level delegation headed by Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon. This was put off until late afternoon because fog delayed a flight of conferees from Washington.

Because of this unexpected hitch, the first work on the agenda was a luncheon cruise with Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana aboard the presidential yacht Honey Fitz.

The President and Mansfield wanted to discuss the outlook for pushing administration programs through the 1963 Congress.

★

In announcing tomorrow's conference with top military leaders, White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said the talks would involve "a year-end review of the military situation as well as a final look at the military budget."

McNamara and the joint chiefs will be accompanied here by Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric.

Salinger said the tax policy discussion was not likely to result in final decisions on the administration's tax program. But he indicated that important policy questions would be resolved.

Because of the military session, a scheduled discussion of the budget for health, welfare and education programs was put off until Friday. Secretary of Welfare Anthony Celebrezze will fly here for this meeting.

The Washington fog which delayed the flight of tax-cut conferees gave Kennedy some free time. An afternoon cruise aboard the presidential yacht Honey Fitz, was arranged to fill part of the gap.

★ ★ ★

Dillon was ready to interrupt his own vacation at nearby Hobe Sound, Fla., to take part in the talks on taxes and the economy.

Among those summoned from Washington were chairman Walter Heller of the Council of Economic Advisers, Undersecretary of the Treasury Henry Fowler and Assistant Secretary Stanley S. Surrey.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana also was on the Washington delegation list.

Kennedy's latest word on tax cut prospects came in an address to the Economic Club of New York on Dec. 14.

Arguing that the present tax system acts as a brake on economic growth, he urged an early reduction in both individual and corporate tax rates, coupled with some tax reforms and a clampdown on federal spending.

Key questions at today's conference involved the strategy of pushing tax cut legislation through a Congress which has a vocal and influential segment that contends any lowering of taxes at this time would create a dangerously large federal budget deficit.

City to Hear Bid on Sewage Pact

Pontiac Twp. Seeks Service by Contract

A request from Pontiac Township officials to buy Pontiac sewage treatment service on a contract basis will be placed before the City Commission at its meeting tonight at 8.

Pontiac's new $3.2-million sewage treatment plant is due to begin operating next month. The request is expected to be of a preliminary nature, not a firm financial offer.

In the communication, township officials express an interest in using Pontiac treatment facilities if and when the city is willing to sell them to outside communities.

Rates and terms of a lease would have to be worked out in the future.

The request is expected to be turned over for study to City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

The rare Wednesday night meeting was necessitated by Christmas falling on a Tuesday this year.

Also on the brief agenda will be a report on the bids for $3,518,000 in urban renewal preliminary loan notes. The notes are expected to be sold to Community National Bank, which was low bidder asking a 1.48 per cent interest rate.

In other business, commissioners will hear cost estimates for grade and gravel on an extension of Sarasota Avenue. A hearing is slated on plans to build a sanitary sewer in part of Bloomfield Avenue.

Hoffa Highly Critical of Judge, Prosecutor

DETROIT (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa has criticized the federal judge and prosecutor in his Nashville trial which ended in a hung jury Sunday.

Hoffa was especially critical of the decision of Judge William Miller to present to a federal grand jury in January evidence of alleged jury tampering during the 42-day trial. He also had verbal fire for Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

His remarks came in a taped interview with a television newsman.

Hoffa was on trial on a charge of violating the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting, with the late Owen Brennan, a Teamsters vice-president, more than a million dollars from a Michigan trucking firm, Commercial Carriers, Inc.

The jury became deadlocked Sunday after 17 hours of deliberations.

Asked for his views on Judge Miller's conduct of the trial, Hoffa replied:

"My reaction is that we had ready and were set to file an affidavit of prejudice, not only during the trial but before the trial.

Of prosecutor James Neal, Hoffa said:

"He is one of the most vicious prosecutors who ever handled a criminal case for the Justice Department. Half-truths, innuendos and every sort of underhanded tricks were used by him in this trial."

He charged Atty. Gen. Kennedy was trying to move Hoffa's next federal court appearance, scheduled for Miami Jan. 4, out of the jurisdiction of the Tampa federal court.

Zero in 15 States

Cold Wave Hits Midwest

By The Associated Press

A wave of intense cold spread across the Midwest today, driving temperatures to record depths in some places.

The mercury plunged to zero or below in at least 15 states in a frigid zone that extended across the north from the western mountains to the Great Lakes region.

Milwaukee's -14 shattered a record for the date that had endured for 83 years. The -22 posted in Madison, Wis., was the lowest for Dec. 26 in 78 years. Green Bay, Wis., had -19 and a new mark for the date.

Thermometers registered -31 in Craig and Eagle, Colo., -29 in Hibbing, Minn., and -27 in International Falls, Minn.

The -20 in Minneapolis-St. Paul tied a record for the day after Christmas.

Readings early in the day elsewhere included: Emmetsburg, Iowa, -25, Wausau, Wis., -22, Des Moines, Iowa, -15, North Platte, Neb., -14, Bismarck, N. D., -11, Helena, Mont., -7, Rockford, Ill., -6, Chicago -4, Kansas City -2, Sault Ste. Marie -1.

The zero belt reached as far south as Oklahoma.

★ ★ ★

The temperature plummeted 32 degrees in about 12 hours in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area.

The weather was clear in the icy central section of the nation.

But some snow fell in the Great Lakes and Ohio River regions. Two inches of snow fell in six hours in Buffalo, N. Y.

In Atlanta, Ga., dense fog curtailed air traffic, stranding hundreds of Christmas travelers.

FOG, LOW CLOUDS

Fog and low clouds were reported in most of the southeast section of the country. Utility poles and lines snapped because of accumulation of ice in some areas of Atlanta and northeastward. Residents in the Toccoa, Gainesville and Cornelia area were without electricity and telephone service Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

Snow covered much of west Texas and the Texas Panhandle on Christmas. Freezing rain, with mixed sleet and snow was forecast.

Sen. Byrd's Condition Listed as Satisfactory

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., was reported in satisfactory condition today at Union Memorial Hospital.

The senator, considered a leader of Democratic conservatives, entered the hospital last week. Hospital spokesmen and doctors have refused to disclose the nature of his ailment. Byrd is 75.

There are 95,000 Chinese in California, more than in any other state. Hawaii is second with 38,197, while New York's population includes 37,573 Chinese.

State Caught by Cold Wave, Drifting Snow

By United Press International

A post-holiday cold wave gripped Michigan today and blustery winds caused highway-clogging drifts in some areas.

A Christmas storm caused hazardous driving warnings to be issued most of yesterday, but few areas got the expected onslaught full blast.

Five inches of snow was dumped on the Holland area, still digging out from the effects of an early December storm.

★ ★ ★

State Highway Department maintenance crews reported other spots in northwestern lower Michigan were hard hit.

MINOR ACCIDENTS

At Detroit, where a small snowfall can cause monumental traffic tieups, several minor accidents on the Edsel Ford Expressway resulted in a massive jam.

★ ★ ★

Police said a five-car accident on the eastbound lane caused traffic to back up for several miles. As traffic slowed, more accidents resulted.

A short time later, the west lane was closed when two cars crashed and burst into flames. Only one person was injured.

Sub-zero temperatures were common in the Upper Peninsula and unofficial readings indicated that the average there early today was 12 below zero.

★ ★ ★

The highway department reported drifting snow and high winds created slippery spots on roads throughout the state.

I-94 and U.S. 131 in southwestern Michigan and I-75 from Bay City to Detroit were slippery in spots early today.

Armored Bus Blasts Past Berlin Barriers

One of the children was running a fever.

Names were withheld.

The bus was a cream-colored, 40-passenger vehicle, slightly soiled.

A sign still on it showed that it was under contract to the government transport system in the area of Zittau, the extreme southeast corner of East Germany.

HEAVY ARMOR

It had a snow-plow in front. Steel plates across the front window had little slits in them for the driver to see through.

The sides were protected by steel plates, and by baggage and upturned seats placed against the windows. Bullet marks were visible on the front and one side.

It was the biggest escape since Oct. 14, when a group of 10 East Germans swam to freedom after cutting their way through three barbed-wire fences.

★ ★ ★

Lakes, rivers and canals around Berlin are frozen over now. In the Luebars district, in the northern part of the city, the East German guards have strung barbed wire across the ice.

More than 125 business firms at least 68 nations and 30 or more states will exhibit at the New York World's Fair scheduled for 1964-65.

Reds Force GI to Sign Papers

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —A U.S. Army sergeant released by Communist guerrillas Christmas Eve has told military authorities he was forced to sign several documents damaging to the United States and South Viet Nam during his captivity.

An Army spokesman said Sgt. Roque S. Matagulay of Richmond, Calif., who was in Communist captivity for five months, has told interrogators he had signed four statements in November, while suffering from a severe attack of malaria.

He said he was subjected to four months of continuous propaganda lectures prior to the signing of the documents, the Army spokesman reported.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman quoted Matagulay as saying:

"My illness, scarce medical attention and constant verbal harassment culminated in signing the documents so my captors would leave me alone."

Matagulay told American officers that his signatures were obtained "under extreme duress when my personal resistance was at its lowest point."

ATTACK WEST

He said the documents bitterly attacked the pro-West government of President Ngo Dinh Diem and the American policy of supporting South Viet Nam's government. Matagulay said he personally does not believe any of the statements he signed.

The documents were the "usual Communist propaganda line," he said, requiring only his signature. He later had to read them out to his Communist captors and believed they were recorded.

Matagulay said he refused to sign any further documents after he had recovered from malaria.

Matagulay, 30, was captured outside the coastal town of Phan Thiet. He lost 33 pounds during his captivity. Newsmen will not be permitted to see him for some time, military authorities said.

Romney Plans to Appoint Three Women

LANSING (AP) — The planned appointment of three women to state commissions was announced today by Gov.-elect George Romney.

He said he will appoint Mrs. Ruth Judd of Grand Rapids, a former delegate to the constitutional convention, to an eight-year term as a Republican member of the Civil Service Commission.

Mrs. Eloise Whitten of Detroit, a former member of the Detroit urban League's advisory council, will be named to complete a five-year term now vacant on the Social Welfare Commission.

Mrs. Ruth Lichterman of Royal Oak, past president (1959-61) of the Michigan League of Women Voters, will be appointed to the governor's advisory commission on state government reorganization.

All three will serve without pay. The appointments will be made after Romney takes office Jan. 1.

Waterford Sets New Petitions

Substitute petitions calling for a vote on the incorporation of Waterford Township will be circulated because a small parcel of township property was not indicated on the maps that accompanied the original petitions filed Dec. 4.

★ ★ ★

The recirculation of petitions with a revised map was recommended by the Corporation Counsel's Office.

Mrs. Edmund L. Windeler, president of the Greater Waterford Community Council, which spearheaded the original drive for signatures, said circulation of the new petitions would begin this week. She expects the task to be completed within a week.

OMISSION

Omitted from the map was an approximate half square mile area north of Cass Lake, according to Mrs. Windeler. The parcel was deeded to the township in 1847.

★ ★ ★

More than 700 residents signed the original petitions, 200 more than the required number of signatures. The petitions were filed with the County Clerk's Office along with a $500 filing fee.

The primary purpose of the petition drive was to protect the township boundaries pending completion of an incorporation study report by a committee of civic leaders.

Dec. 4 will remain the official filing date despite the planned recirculation.

Romney Pays Surprise Visit to Courthouse

Gov.-elect George Romney today paid a surprise visit to the Oakland County Courthouse to give his personal congratulations to a friend being admitted to the Michigan Bar Association.

The friend is Keith L. Leak, one of Romney's two drivers during the pre-election campaign.

Leak, of 403 E. 12 Mile Road, Royal Oak, will become an assistant prosecutor in Saginaw County Jan. 2, the day after Romney's inauguration.

★ ★ ★

Romney attended the private swearing-in ceremony held in the office of Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer. The oath was given by County Clerk Daniel T. Murphy.

Leak, a native of Clawson, was sponsored by Bloomfield Hills attorney Henry L. Woolfenden.

Four-Day Weekend Sees 813 Succumb

By The Associated Press

Traffic	626
Fires	105
Miscellaneous	82
Total	813

Traffic killed at least 626 Americans during the four-day Christmas weekend when 813 deaths were counted from accidents of all types.

Fire deaths numbered 105, many of them attributed to overtaxed heating equipment in homes because of severe cold weather. There were 82 persons killed in accidents other than those in the traffic and fire categories.

Auto fatalities, far more numerous than for a usual nonholiday weekend span of 102 hours, were fewer than safety experts had estimated in advance of the weekend.

Michigan contributed 25 lives to the grim figure, with 17 traffic deaths, three killed in fires, two drownings and three miscellaneous fatalities.

The National Safety Council, which had estimated the country's traffic death toll at 650 to 750, said belated reports may boost the final figure close to 650. The count covered a period of 102 hours, from 6 p.m. (local time) last Friday to midnight Christmas.

★ ★ ★

There was a sharp rise in the traffic death rate on Christmas, due largely to the heavier travel, the homeward rush of millions, and hazardous driving conditions in many sections of the country.

Beat Petition to Rezone Bloomfield Twp. Land

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Bloomfield Township Board of Trustees has defeated a petition to rezone property near Woodward Avenue and Big Beaver Road for a multiple housing development.

The 10-acre parcel, located east of Woodward to the rear of the township's largest office buildings will remain a single-family residential zone.

The rezoning petition was presented to the board by Carl E. Larson of 4830 Ardmore Drive, who planned to purchase the property if it could be rezoned for multiple dwellings.

The board was unanimous in its rejection of Larson's request for one portion of the site, known as the Odi property, Township Clerk Deloris V. Little said today.

1 FAVORABLE VOTE

Township Trustee Henry M. Hogan cast the only favorable ballot on Larson's rezoning petition for the other portion, called the Brown property.

The rezoning was opposed by several neighboring property owners and members of the Rouge Manor Improvement Association.

Many of the same residents also are against rezoning property in the same area for a proposed motel-restaurant. Developers of the motel, which would have frontage on Woodward Avenue, want the site changed to a commercial zone from its present office building classification.

Area Man Due at Death Query

DETROIT (UPI)—Preliminary examination is scheduled at 2 p.m. tomorrow for a Birmingham brokerage employe in the bludgeon death early this month of his mother-in-law.

Robert M. Thorson, 31, of 2352 Buckingham Road, had been scheduled to appear for examination today before Recorder's Judge Arthur Koscinski but the prosecutor's office asked a one-day adjournment.

The court inadvertently marked the examination date as Dec. 28.

But Assistant Prosecutor Max Silverman said, "everyone has been notified by us to be in court at 2 p.m. tomorrow and I'm sure the court will correct the mistake."

Thorson is accused in the death of Mrs. Dorothy N. Thomas, 62, a Detroit widow. Her beaten body was found in the dining room of her home Dec. 4.

One of eight freshmen candidates for the title of "Greek Goddess" at Albion College is Sally Bowering, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bowering of 1794 Melbourne Ave., Birmingham.

Oakland County mayors and township supervisors will kick off the silver anniversary March of Dimes campaign at a 10 a.m. brunch tomorrow at the Birmingham Community House, 380 S. Bates St.

Detroit Tiger star Al Kaline, Oakland County campaign direetor, and poster boy Johnny Reichert will be special guests. Proceeds from the drive will be used in the campaign against crippling birth defects and arthritis.

Mrs. Adam Reid

Service for Mrs. Adam (Elizabeth B.) Reid, 91, of 724 Bates St. will be 2 p.m. Friday at the Manley Funeral Home. Burial will follow in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkley.

Mrs. Reid died at her home yesterday following a six-month illness. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are three sons, Howard E. and Clyde H., both of Birmingham, and Lloyd B. of Detroit; a sister, Mrs. Hiram (Nettie) Parks of Pontiac; two brothers, six grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Kennedys Start Christmas Early

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Eagerness of children to get their presents got President and Mrs. Kennedy off to an early morning start on their Christmas.

The setting was bright—there was the weekend release of the 1,113 Cuban invasion prisoners; the President's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, who suffered a stroke a year ago, is now getting around in a wheel chair; the sunny skies and 80-degree temperature made an afternoon cruise delightful.

The day began shortly before 8 a.m. around the tree in the living room of the beachfront home lent the Kennedys by their financier friend, C. Michael Paul.

In keeping with family policy, there was no word about the gifts the President and his wife exchanged. But for Caroline, the 5-year-old daughter, there was a talking doll she had asked for when Mrs. Kennedy took her to a department store Santa Claus. For son John F. Jr., now 2, there was a toy helicopter. There were other gifts and toys for the children.

Global Discord at Minimum

It Was Traditional Christmas

By The Associated Press

Christmas 1962 lived up to the seasonal traditions of good will, good cheer, merry making, Christian religious observance and peace. There was a minimum of international discord to disturb the lull in what the world calls the cold war.

Moscow radio broadcast best wishes to the United States and urged good will between the two nations; then the Soviets set off another in their series of nuclear tests. The blast was the 24th of the current test series recorded by Sweden's seismological observatory at Uppsala.

Among the happiest celebrations anywhere were those of the 1,113 Cuban invasion captives delivered from Fidel Castro's prisons earlier in the week. They had the additional joyous word that 1,000 members of their families would be allowed to leave Cuba tonight and join them in the United States.

There was much over which the world could shudder and shiver—the continued jungle war in Viet Nam, the conflict between monarchists and republicans in the deserts of Yemen, the perennial prospect of trouble in the Congo, the wall in Berlin.

REMAINS QUIET

But the undeclared India-China border war remained quiet, and in most nations political leaders in Christmas greetings to their people spoke of peace with more assurance.

The message of Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker was an example: "Despite sorrow and hope unfulfilled—the message of the manger still comes to us across centuries to sustain our faith—the message of good will for all men and brotherhood for all creeds and races."

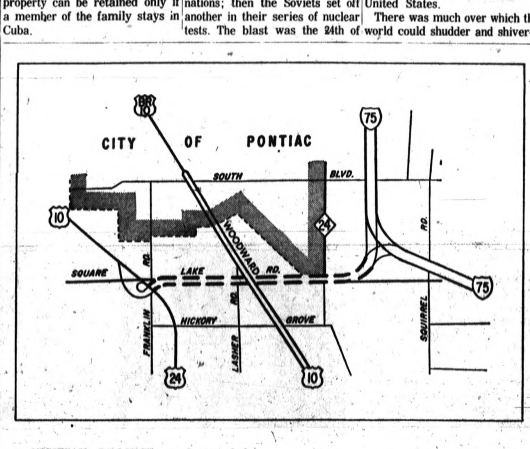

★ ★ ★

After the weeks of the Cuban crisis, Pope John XXIII in his Christmas message described the year as one of "fear and trembling" but declared wisdom and prudence had avoided war. He said this was a "sign for the year that is coming."

BLESSES CROWD

In one of his most active days since he fell ill a month ago, the Roman Catholic pontiff left the Vatican and visited a children's hospital, then appeared at noon in the window of his study and blessed a crowd of 50,000 in St. Peter's Square.

Churches in many lands were crowded as Christians paid homage to the Christ child and gave thanks for another year of what passes for peace in the nuclear age. In the Holy Land pilgrims jammed the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem.

HIGHWAY PROJECT — Square Lake Road (broken lines) will become a six-lane divided highway from Telegraph Road to the new I-75 freeway now under construction, according to the Michigan State Highway Department. The new plans, at $2.5 million, nearly double the cost of original intention to modernize the road from Woodward Avenue to I-75. Contracts are to be let in late 1964.

Republicans Gained on Democrats in General Election

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
AP Special Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans scored net gains of about 150 seats in state legislatures in the Nov. 6 election, and in the process ousted Democrats from control of both Senate and House in three states — Pennsylvania, Colorado and Utah.

Democrats still will control both legislative chambers in 26 states. The Republicans will have such two-house command in 19 states; and in four states control will be divided.

Before the election, Democrats dominated both legislative branches in 28 states, the Republicans in 14; and in 7 states control was divided.

(Nebraska has a one-chamber legislature of 45 senators elected without political labels; therefore it cannot be classified.)

★ ★ ★

The legislatures of the 50 states have about 7,500 members. Net Republican gains of around 150 are small in proportion to the total of seats but the gains are hailed by the GOP high command here as a sign of party progress. Republican leaders point, in particular, to a net pickup of 26 seats in the South as evidence of the growth of a two-party system there.

Democrats point to a victory in Hawaii, where they won control of the Senate and retained control of the House.

Democrats also picked up some seats in traditionally GOP northern New England—eight in New Hampshire and two in Maine—though the Republicans retain overwhelming majorities in both state capitals.

Forty-five states held election for their legislatures Nov. 6. The exceptions were Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Jersey and Virginia. Some of these five did hold special elections to fill vacancies.

The exact effects of legislative reapportionment on the election remain to be worked out. Several legislatures revamped themselves after the 1960 census. The clamor by urbanites and suburban dwellers for greater voting strength will be loud in most legislative sessions of 1965.

The biggest Republican gain Nov. 6 was scored in Maryland where a judge's edict enlarged the House of Delegates to give greater influence to populous areas. Nothing was done about the rural-dominated Senate. Republicans gained 22 seats in the legislature as a whole. Percentagewise, however, they made their biggest advance in the unrevamped Senate. There they raised their slim majority from three to seven of the 29 senators. Despite GOP gains, the new House also will remain Democratic.

In Georgia, a Negro was elected to the state Senate for the first time in 92 years after historic reapportionment gave 25 of the 54 seats to nine urban counties. LeRoy R. Johnson, Negro attorney and a Democrat, was one of seven senators elected by Fulton (Atlanta) County. Previously Fulton had only one senator.

Republicans won two Senate seats to break the Democratic monopoly of the chamber. The GOP also retained its two House seats.

Texas will have seven Republican state legislators, more than at any time since Reconstruction. The outgoing legislature had two.

OTHER GOP GAINS

Other Southern states in which Republicans gained were: Alabama 2, North Carolina 6, Oklahoma 13, Tennessee 2.

There was a dead heat in Alaska for control of the House. Before the election it was Democratic 22-18; now it is split 20-20. The political guessing is that since the governor and Senate are Democratic the Republicans will let the Democrats organize the House, but will demand the chairmanships of some key committees.

Another state in which a sticky situation could arise is Indiana. Before the election Republicans controlled the House, Democrats the Senate. The GOP won Senate control, 26-24, while retaining command of the House.

Since the election, however, a Republican senator died, changing the lineup to 25-24. The constitutional majority required to pass a bill is 26 and the GOP now lacks it. If party lines hold firm on a Republican bill, it will fail.

States in which Democrats controlled both chambers before Nov. 6, and still do, are:

★ ★ ★

Alabama, Alaska (assuming Democrats can organize House), Arizona (nominal majority in House), Arkansas, California, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Missouri, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia.

In addition, Democrats attained two-chamber control in Hawaii by taking the Senate away from the Republicans.

States where Republicans retained their previous two-chamber control are:

★ ★ ★

Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Michigan, New Hampshire, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, Vermont, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

In addition to capturing both houses from Democrats in Pennsylvania, Colorado and Utah, they won two-chamber majorities in two states that had previously been split—Indiana and Minnesota.

The four states where control will be split between the parties are Connecticut, Montana, Nevada and New Jersey.

All 6 Children Die While Parents Visit

POUGHQUAG, N.Y. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. John R. Thompson returned from a Christmas visit Tuesday night to find their wooden frame home in flames. Their six children perished in the fire.

Thompson, 32, attempted to enter the blazing house in the town of Beekman to rescue the children but was blocked by the flames and suffered burns about the hands and face.

Killed in the fire were three boys and three girls: Patricia Joan, 8; Joanne Elizabeth, 7; Barbara Lynn, 6; John R. Jr., 4; Michael Joseph, 3, and James, 9 months.

Instrument Panel Bigger

MONTREAL (UPI) — Thirty years ago the latest model of an airliner boasted an instrument panel with 32 aids to operation and navigation. Today, according to the International Air Transport Association, the newest passenger aircraft of the same company carries 150 such aids.

Firm Turns Chaos Into House of Charm in 8 Hours

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Psychiatrists have stated that redecorating her home is, for a woman, the most traumatic experience of her life.

PHYLLIS BATTELLE

Few husbands can understand this. Why should their wives, so efficient and poised in everyday life, suddenly fall apart just because the slipcovers did? Why should they cry over the color of a room, panic over a pillow slip and take to the grape because of a drape?

The answer is quite simple.

"A woman's home is the face—the 'larger face'—she puts on before the world," said Barnett (Bill) Simons, AID, "and she needs for it to be beautiful and personable.

She knows what to do for her own, or smaller, face. There are cosmetics and creams. But although most women I've met have amazingly good taste, they are insecure about how to handle their homes."

Simons has come to the aid of the panicked woman (psychiatrists call her traumatic; Simons sees her as merely in a state of temporary panic), by forming an organization called "Instant Interiors."

3-HOUR DAY

For a set fee of $100, Bill or one of his three associates will spend an eight-hour day with a client, suggesting redecorating ideas which will allow a woman to "redo" her place with the furnishings she has on hand.

The charm of the service is that "Instant Interiors" sells nothing. They, rather, give detailed and imaginative suggestions in relation to color scheme, floor plan, window treatment, furniture, etc.—"so that a family can continue to live with the familiar things they love—but so that the familiar things have a new flip."

Such a service appeals to thousands of women who are fearful of hiring a decorator because it may cost her a great deal of money in new furnishings and exotic ideas. With "I.I.," she is spending a set fee to buy new ideas, reassurance and a relief from panic.

★ ★ ★

Simons hit on the revolutionary consulting idea when a regular client of his decorating services was forced to move from an aged high-ceilinged apartment into a modern, small-room, low-ceiling house.

She called him. He came and found her sitting amid end tables and barrels of upholstered furniture, helpless. "It's not scaled right, and I've got way too much furniture," she wailed. "What do I do now?"

Between 9:30 and 5:30 that day, Bill decided what she should keep, what she should discard, where the best pieces should be placed for the best effect. "It was an aesthetic kick, for both of us," he remembered, "to see a new house take shape, before your eyes. I got to thinking, then.

NOT A SALESMAN

"A decorator so often is in the position of being just a salesman. It's ridiculous. I didn't go through the technical training and the art training to become a salesman. I decided it's really more a challenge and a gratification to make order out of mayhem—to put life into sag."

Simons' first order of business when he arrives at a house or apartment is to learn what are the best-loved pieces of furniture a woman owns. ("It's never a Pembroke table.

"It's always something they were afraid to buy because it's a little kooky—like a Chinese gong, or something.") He makes these sentimental pieces the focal point of the room and plans life around them.

The one thing that bothers Simons most, in his clients' attitudes, is "rigidity."

"They don't want 'model rooms,' like they see in magazines and stores, but they're afraid to get away from that look because—well, they have to have something expert to copy.

"I suggest some ideas that will make the rooms more personal. For instance, I love portraits of the kids on the walls, or a piano loaded with family pictures; without those things, a living room falls far short of what it should be.

"And usually, a woman will be delighted to learn she can actually have a picture of her husband on a living room table—that a decorator thinks that's not only okay, but good taste. Then she's over the panic hurdle for good. . . ."

Hunt for Clues in Brinks Theft

DES PLAINES, Ill. (AP)—Hampered by snow and cold at the scene, police pushed their search for clues today in the Christmas Eve hijacking of a Brink's armored truck containing upwards of an estimated $100,000.

Footprints and tire tracks were studied by local and federal authorities before snow yesterday blotted out other traces around the truck, which was abandoned with its handcuffed and blindfolded driver in a vacant lot.

Other clues were provided by a chauffeur cap and a toy police badge.

They were left behind by three revolver-wielding, hooded robbers who forced their way into the parked truck, overpowered the driver, drove to the vacant lot and transferred the collections from 35 firms in bushel baskets to a waiting get-away car.

The driver, Frank Neuberger, told police the truck was hijacked while he was waiting for his partner, Willam Link, to return with a collection from a bowling alley.

Japan Asked to Stop Pipes for Russ Oil

TOKYO (AP)—The United States and its NATO allies have asked Japan to stop exporting steel pipes to the Soviet Union for use in Russia's oil industry, Kyodo News Service reported today.

Quoting government sources, Kyodo said the Japanese government was asked to cooperate with a decision by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to stop exporting oil pipes to the Soviet Union.

Responsible government officials declined comment.

Kyodo said government sources who declined to be identified indicated that top government leaders had decided to cooperate with the United States and NATO.

★

The report said other sources predicted the NATO request to Japan would set off an uproar among Japanese political circles, particularly when parliament resumes sessions in mid-January.

Kyodo declared the same sources as saying the joint U.S.-NATO request could be interpreted as a "warning to Japan which had believed it could deal with Communist China on the notion that 'Politics is one thing and business is another.'"

Great Iron Horse Named 999 Is Back in Chicago to Stay

CHICAGO (UPI) — She was a true iron racehorse of the rails.

Tall and lean, intended for speed from the tip of her long, painted cowcatcher to the end of her gleaming tender, she took a chance—and achieved something never achieved before.

It was 1893. America was just becoming speed conscious. New York Central Railroad officials, in an age of great railroad rivalry, were out to build the world's fastest locomotive.

They came up with a standard eight-wheeler type but with unusually large driving wheels for high-speed running. She was given the number, 999, and then on May 10, 1893, she was given her chance.

* * *

She was allowed to run full throttle over a straight 36-mile stretch of track, just west of Batavia, N. Y. No one, not even her designers, knew what she could do and the platform was crowded with reporters and railroad officials as the train pulled out.

Inch by inch, the throttle came back as the engineer gave 999 her head. Faster and faster, the tall driving wheels began to spin.

Stop watches came out. A mile clicked by in 40 seconds . . . another in 38 seconds and finally, one in 31.2 seconds! 112½ miles an hour! No train or locomotive had ever moved so fast.

Overnight, 999 became the most famous locomotive in the world and it would be a decade before another matched her record.

Old 999 drew awestruck admiration throughout the remainder of the year at the World's Fair in Chicago. She later toured the country and became the greatest single attraction in railroading. Millions viewed her.

Now, after a long and eventful train-pulling career, 999 has returned here to stay.

In formally presenting the old steam horse to the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry, Alfred E. Perlman, president of the Central, looked back — and then ahead.

"Who can say?" he asserted. "Maybe in a few decades, one of our diesels will be on display next to 999, having been technically surpassed by a revolutionary new motive power — possibly atomic energy.

"Maybe not so long from now, a new generation will grow up in an age of super trains, moving at average speeds greater than 999's record, needing to be refueled every ten years or so, and transporting men and material without the aid of human hands."

Many Stranded as Fog Halts Atlanta Air Traffic

ATLANTA (AP) — Hundreds of Christmas Day travelers were stranded in Atlanta when fog curtailed air traffic.

An airlines spokesman said flights originating in Atlanta were able to take off, but reported that all flights connecting with inbound planes were canceled because the low ceiling prevented landings.

After she gives birth to a litter of rabbits, the mother cottontail spends most of her time a short distance from the nest, returning only to feed her young.

GIVES TO REFUGEES—Sgt. Steve Bero, 55, made a special trip from Ft. Riley, Kan., to Columbus, Ga., to withdraw his $1,000 savings to send to homeless refugees in India. He borrowed $58 from a loan company to make the trip.

Second Child Is Born to Couple on Christmas

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Mrs. H. H. Gary did a repeat performance in presenting her husband with an unusual Christmas gift.

Last Christmas Day, John Paul Gary was born.

Mrs. Gary was back in the hospital Tuesday and gave birth to a 6-pound, 4-ounce boy.

Crisis Soldiers Still on Duty

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — American soldiers who were rushed to south Florida during the Cuban crisis are still on duty manning radar screens and antiaircraft missiles aimed in the direction of Cuba.

* * *

Others are behind barbed wire barricades handling complicated electronics gear tuned to air movements over Cuba.

The Christmas holiday brought no relaxation of the American guard.

TIGHT SECURITY

Movements of Navy ships in and out of the big Key West Navy base, only 90 miles from Cuba, remained under tight security wraps. Navy sources said the ships were keeping a close watch on Cuba waters.

* * *

Gates of the sprawling Boca Chica Naval Air Station outside Key West still are barred to newsmen. During the Cuban blockade picture-taking flights over Cuba were made from the base.

An Air Force source said many of the swift jets operating out of the base during the crisis had returned to their regular stations, but the swarm of planes ordinarily stationed there continue to blast through the sky on missions.

SIGNS REMAIN

These are the remaining signs of the Cuban crisis military buildup in south Florida which was sufficient to have launched an invasion of Cuba — and was poised for one.

* * *

President Kennedy touched off the buildup on Oct. 23 when he told the nation of the presence of Soviet missiles in Cuba and demanded their removal.

A month later he said the missiles had been taken out and that many of the troops would be leaving Florida. Many did.

Huge mobile field hospitals designed to be flown to Cuba to handle invasion casualties have disappeared from the Opa-Locka Air Base near Miami. The base is still thronged with fire engines, crash and fuel trucks and other equipment that would be used to stock a captured airfield.

At Homestead Air Force Base, where units monitor every move in the Cuban air lanes, most of the special planes flown in during the crisis have left.

At Key West, at the tip of the chain of rock and coral islands stretching from the Florida mainland in the direction of Cuba, missiles are still stacked in their launching pads. The city baseball stadium is crammed with military vehicles.

Judge and Jury Right on Stiff Sentences

We commend Circuit Court Judge CLARK J. ADAMS and the two jury panels that have meted out justice commensurate with the crimes committed.

Four wanton murderers were given life terms in prison. The sentence of one, a lone slayer, carries a "natural life" provision. Under it, he will not be eligible for parole.

The other three killers were found guilty of first degree murder and will be sentenced on Jan. 7. Conviction on the charge bears a mandatory sentence of life imprisonment.

It should be noted with approval that the youth of the murderers — so often giving rise to maudlin sentimentality and ill-advised "mercy" in criminal proceedings — went entirely unrecognized in these four cases.

★ ★ ★

With lawlessness and major crime alarmingly on the increase across the Nation, the uncompromising attitude of our county judiciary will serve notice that lawbreaking is to be given short shrift in our area.

What Now, JFK?

President KENNEDY's decision in the Bay of Pigs abortion brought about the imprisonment of those men who have just been released.

★ ★ ★

The Administration's behind-the-scenes maneuvers finally have undone part of that tragic error.

★ ★ ★

How can the President undo the Russian take-over and the lack of on-site missile inspection? Can he buy his way out of that one?

Mr. K Takes a Leaf From Capitalist Book

Is captialism about to rear its head in NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV's Soviet domain?

There is well-founded evidence that he will embrace at least a modification of it in his pressing need to infuse life into Russia's declining economy.

In one of his nonstop expositions delivered last month before the Central Committee of the Communist Party, the premier outlined what is wrong with the picture.

The principal woes are:

- Failure of agriculture and industry to meet quotas
- Haphazard planning, working at cross purposes
- Inefficient plant operations
- Unsatisfactory labor productivity
- Graft and corruption among managers and workers

To deal with the situation, Khrushchev offers the usual Soviet formula — administrative revamping. The trend toward decentralization of economic management is reversed: regional economic councils established in 1957 to replace central ministries are now reduced through merger of some of the smaller units.

Also, a rigid line is being drawn between industry and agriculture. Separate administrations and chains of command will be set up in both party and government for town and country.

In addition to this bureaucratic overhaul, KHRUSHCHEV prescribed another old remedy: learn from the capitalistic West. Realistically, this has been standard Soviet practice since the adoption of LENIN's New Economic Policy in the early 1920s, when a considerable measure of private enterprise was tolerated to bolster a sagging and disorganized fiscal position.

The boss man did not propose an outright return to private enterprise or introduction of the profit motive as a stimulant to the ailing economy of the U.S.S.R. He did, however, give a nod of approval to a suggestion that profitability be used as a yardstick in gauging the efficiency of Soviet factories.

We expect any day now to learn that the Russians invented capitalism—too.

City Court to Discharge Debtor's Tailor Account

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

Tailors, it seems (Editor's note: I could feel this coming), have proverbially suffered from customers' reluctance to pay their bills.

In fact, a generation ago, the vaudeville bit about a telegram purportedly sent to a friend by his home-town pal reading: COME BACK HOME — YOUR TAILOR IS DEAD unfailingly put the audience in stitches . . . It must be that folks laughed more readily back then.

But, though vaudeville is no more, tailors must still be allergic to the same occupational malady, according to Receivership Clerk of Municipal Court.

Mrs. Opal Wallis
of 94 E. Howard St.

She says that a petitioner for voluntary receivership listed as one of his creditors a tailor in Korea, name and address as follows:

Kum Sung Tailor Shop
c/o Mrs. Jung Ja Moon
Hac Ick Dong
Inchon, Korea

• • •

It occurred to the MAT that any of you happening to pass Kum Sung's shop might want to pop in and give the trusting needleman the glad tidings that financial redress will be forthcoming.

Three cheers!

Our own Bill "Slats" DeBats is really in there pitching. In three weeks he has shed an amazing and astounding 20 pounds which approaches a world's record on land or sea. Bill has dropped from an astounding 329 to 309. When the big man breaks 300 we'll issue a special pronunciamento. The Community National Bank should let those bells spread the gladsome tidings with a special aria dedicated solely to "Slats."

You Can Get Blood Out Of ATurnip

David Lawrence Says:

JFK Has Fight Ahead in Congress

WASHINGTON — The biggest event in government here after the holiday season is unquestionably the coming battle in Congress.

President Kennedy campaigned hard in September and October and called on the voters to increase the Democratic majority in both houses. He failed to get his wish.

LAWRENCE

The after-election declarations by the Democrats that they had swept the country gave the impression that Mr. Kennedy had won.

But often the actual facts of what happened and the impression the American people derive from reading partisan statements are not always the same.

Now that there has been time to digest what really happened, it is interesting to examine what the President himself said on two occasions to newsmen in his size-up of the election.

On Nov. 20, Mr. Kennedy said in answer to a question asking him what effect the election might have on his program in the next Congress:

"Well, I think we probably will be in a position somewhat comparable to what we were in for the last two years. We did better than we had hoped in the election, but we still did not pick up seats, and we lost in one—a number of votes by very close margins, particularly in the House.

UNITY IN PARTY

"It really will depend on whether we can maintain a good deal of unity in the Democratic party and also whether we receive some assistance from some Republicans.

"If the Republicans vote unanimously against us and we lose 40-odd Democrats, about one-fifth of our number, then we will have difficulty.

"If we get the kind of Republican support that we got at the beginning of last year in the rules fight, then we can put some of these important programs through.

"So I think we have to wait until they come back before we can make a judgment and we may be in about the position we were in the last two years."

In his Dec. 17 conversation on television with three radio-TV newsmen on the major networks, the President again was asked to measure the chances for significant success domestically in the Congress just ahead. He replied:

"Well, I think we will be about in the same position as the last two years. As I say, what we have that is controversial will be very closely contested."

NOT AS GOOD SHAPE

Mr. Kennedy was then asked if the complexion of the House hadn't changed a little bit by the shifts. The transcript shows this answer:

"I would say slightly against us more than it was. We are not in quite as good shape as we were for the last two years, but we are about where we were the last two years, which means that every vote will be three or four votes either way, winning or losing."

The outstanding fact, of course, is that, despite all the headlines which appeared right after the elections about the big Democratic victory, the result was about a standoff between the two parties.

★ ★ ★

While it is true that the Democrats called it a victory because it wasn't as big a decline for them as in other years, and while it is also true that the Republicans had high hopes of increasing substantially their strength in Congress, the significant point was the impact of the President's own appeal.

For, despite the most intensive campaign effort prior to a congressional election ever made by an American president in midterm, the voters failed to heed his request for an increased majority.

So Mr. Kennedy is today confronted with a real dilemma. He says he wants the kind of Republican support in Congress that he had at the beginning of last year, but he is not sure whether as many Republicans will line up with him as in the past.

Bob Considine Says:

Mild-Mannered Indians Display Courage in Battle

The Indian-in-the-street is one of the humblest men on Earth. The people are quiet, wistful, withdrawn. They are divided by half a dozen religions and dozens of languages. Many of them live as their forebears must have lived centuries ago.

Yet when the Chinese plunged at them across the Himalayas in a sort of oxygenless Pearl Harbor sneak attack, the Indian soldier fought back with a courage and nobility that would have done justice to any knight.

CONSIDINE

"We may thank China one day for attacking us," Brig. C. L. Bhardwaj, the Indian Arthur Sylvester told us. "The attack made us as one man, one fist."

Carles Arnot, an old pal from INS days and now with the American Broadcasting Company, was up at the Ladohk front recently and returned with a story descriptive of what the Indian — who seems so soft and subservient — can endure.

There was one battle up there at the 18,000 foot level, at about 40 below zero, in which 180 Indians were attacked by 1,000 Chinese, Charley told us. Four Indians came back.

The others fought and died in a battle that was so tough that the Chinese finally were firing their mortars almost straight up so as to land a few yards beyond the Indian position.

One Indian sergeant with nine bullets in him and his nose blown away by a grenade, found himself among a pile of Indian dead which the Chinese had pushed together for burning.

The heat from his flaming kerosene - soaked clothes brought him back to consciousness. He got up and started to walk away.

A Chinese soldier overseeing the mass cremation pointed his rifle at the man's chest. But he didn't shoot. He must have figured the poor cooked guy was going to die anyway.

★ ★ ★

The sergeant walked on, fell 400 feet down into a ravine, and came back as one of the four survivors. He'd go back and fight if they'd let him.

Reader Tells Ingredients Necessary for Peace

The concept "peace" is profound. It is not simply the absence of war. Rather it is the tranquility that flows from a well-ordered life, wherein all things conform to their purpose. It embraces the love of life and of liberty; aspirations to beauty; to filial and conjugal bliss; the natural promptings to pursue the bent of work and play that makes for fulfillment. These are the ingredients of peace.

'Drinker' Disputes Fluoride in Water

During World War II, the Detroit Water Works was guarded constantly so no one could poison the city's drinking water.

Now the Detroit Council has pushed aside all objections to the fluoride program and announced the council intends to make it possible for our drinking water to be poisoned. Most people promoting this fluoride program think they are doing a charitable deed for the "poor little kiddies' teeth."

Remember the Biblical quote "And they shall kill you, thinking they are doing My will"?

TV Surveys

Atlantic Monthly

By ROBERT FONTAINE

I am often confronted with television polls that claim fifty-six million people were watching this show and forty-eight million people were watching that show. I don't believe it. I have gone into this thing pretty scientifically and I have deduced that almost no one is watching any program.

★ ★ ★

Most of the surveys check on two or three hundred people and ask them what they are watching. These people are not watching anything, but they hate to be caught. It lowers their status. So they say the first thing that pops into their heads, like "Ed Sullivan" or "Dinah Shore."

★ ★ ★

To show you how wrong a survey can be, I once discovered that all thirty-six people I contacted were watching the same thing, a local algebra lesson. This was because they were all in a bar and the television set could only get one station. By extension, this would indicate that one hundred million people in America were watching an algebra lesson.

★ ★ ★

Television belongs to the people; it is an educational medium. It is intended to educate us as to the correct beer, shaving cream, deodorant, and cigarettes to buy. My fieldwork shows that not only is television being watched by just a few thousand people, but even those people do not know what they are watching or who is sponsoring the program.

My surveys were conducted mostly among my family and friends, because I could trust them. If I called by son-in-law, John Kurtz, and he said he was watching Leonard Bernstein, I knew immediately that he was just showing off. If he was watching anything, it was a buxom blonde displaying a weather map. I know my son-in-law. Those other pollsters do not.

I called my father one night and said, "Is your TV set on?"

My father said, "My TV set is always on. You know that. We use it for a night-light."

"What are you watching?"

"I'm not watching anything. I'm out on the porch getting some fresh air."

"If some real survey called you, Papa, what would you say you were watching?"

My father thought a moment. "I'd say I was watching 'I Love Lucy'."

"That's off the air."

"I don't care. I still like it."

My father-in-law is a little different. His TV set is always on, too, because he likes to sleep in front of it. After dinner he yawns, settles down in a chair, turns on the television, and sleeps through four hours. If any pollster awakened him, he could tell immediately what he was sleeping through, a factor that would certainly throw off the final figures.

★ ★ ★

In my wife's case, she turns on the set in time for "Alfred Hitchcock," and then remembers she has not called Ann in weeks. She telephones for two hours, and if, when she hung up, she were asked what she had watched, she would say "Alfred Hitchcock."

There are millions of TV sets turned on and nobody is watching. The people who turned them on are out on the patio drinking beer, or are in the swimming pool, or have gone to the movies. They do know, by heart, what programs are on, and if you ask them they will think of something just to please whoever bothered to ask.

★ ★ ★

But, to make things worse, hardly a soul knows who sponsors the program. Millions of dollars are spent to impress a product on people. But you can ride a day's journey on an Arab stallion before you can find anyone who remembers who sponsors the program he watches.

★ ★ ★

If I ask my father who sponsors some show, he will say, "I don't know. Some kind of beer, I think."

"What kind of beer?"

"I don't know, and I don't care. I drink Bass Ale, myself. What's it to me what the sponsor drinks? He ought to be glad I watch his show."

I have even asked relatives who sponsors the "U.S. Steel Hour" or the "Alcoa Hour." They had not the slightest idea. They would not even guess. Nor did they know who put up the money for the "Telephone Hour." One person said Tasty Yeast, and two others said Standard Oil of New Jersey.

My mother believes that all the programs she actually watches are sponsored by Finnegan's Pharmacy, which is a small drugstore at the corner of the street where she lives. She often wonders where Finnegan gets the money to pay for such stars as Fred Astaire and Red Skelton. She watches at the station break.

★ ★ ★

It would be useless to go into this any further. My relatives and friends can only identify the sponsor with the utmost conviction when the show is terrible. They feel so annoyed that they wait patiently for the commercial, and then they concentrate and carefully memorize the name. Thereafter, they avoid the product like the plague.

★ ★ ★

My conclusions, then, are these:

1. Hardly anyone is watching television.

2. Most of the few who are are asleep.

3. Those who are awake do not know what they are watching.

4. Those who know what they are watching do not know who is sponsoring the show unless it it really terrible. Then they know and never forget.

I believe I've done my part. It is up to the industry to do the rest.

Cuban Crisis Picked Top News Story of 1962

GLENN CLIMBS INTO CAPSULE—Astronaut John Glenn climbs into the Friendship 7 Mercury capsule atop the Atlas rocket at Cape Canaveral Feb. 20. Glenn orbited the earth three times, was greeted as a national hero on his return from space.

Glenn's 3-Orbit Trip Named in 2nd Spot

A radio-television broadcast that sent the fear of nuclear war around the world touched off the top news story of 1962.

This was the announcement by President Kennedy of the Cuban quarantine. The quarantine and ensuing developments were voted the No. 1 story by editors of Associated Press member newspapers and radio and TV stations.

Kennedy's announcement came Oct. 22 after a week of tense conferences and veiled mobilization by U. S. armed forces. The crisis was born when U. S. aerial reconnaissance planes returned with photographic evidence of Russian missiles on Cuba.

While a jittery world held its breath, Soviet ships with unknown orders steamed toward the U. S. Naval blockade.

The Navy came alongside 55 Cuba-bound ships, then let them pass through.

GLENN SECOND

Second place in the editors' poll went to Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. Americans, smarting from the 17-orbit space trip of Cosmonaut Gherman Titov in August 1961, followed Glenn with nail-biting concern through 10 postponements of his flight, the blastoff of his Friendship 7 spacecraft the morning of Feb. 20, the four-hour 56-minutes, three-orbit flight, and his safe recovery in the Atlantic.

The President flew to Cape Canaveral to pin a medal on Glenn; New Yorkers threw a record 3,474 tons of confetti and ticker tape during his Broadway parade; Glenn received 30,000 fan letters within a month and most people said there hadn't been anything like it since Lindbergh.

When Negro James Meredith enrolled in the previously all-white University of Mississippi, the clash of federal and state power and subsequent violence made a dramatic story editors chose No. 3.

Meredith, 29-year-old Negro, registered at Ole Miss on Oct. 1. Earlier, Gov Ross Barnett denied Meredith admission to the school three times. The court found the governor guilty of contempt; President Kennedy federalized the Mississippi national guard and sent in federal troops.

OTHER CHOICES

4. A new word, thalidomide, the name of a sleeping pill-tranquilizer drug, entered the nation's vocabulary in 1962.

News of the drug startled a world that learned it caused deformed babies when taken by pregnant women.

Mrs. Sherri Finkbine of Phoenix, whose husband had brought her thalidomide from Europe, filed suit in a state court for permission to have an abortion. Her case dismissed, she got an abortion in Sweden.

Dr. Frances Kelsey of the Food and Drug Administration kept thalidomide from being licensed for sale in the United States, so few thalidomide-deformed babies were born here.

5. The stock market, after a jagged five-month decline, The number of shares sold May 28—9.3 million—was the fifth greatest since Black Tuesday, Oct. 29, 1929.

The marekt gained on May 29, slumped again through the summer then rallied mildly towards year's end.

6. Red Chinese soldiers, announcing they were repelling Indian aggression, advanced Oct. 29 on two fronts across the 2,500-mile India-Tibet border.

Poorly armed Indian troops fell back; Prime Minister Nehru ousted Defense Minister Krishna Menon from his cabinet, and asked for arms from Britain and America. When the Red Chinese called a cease-fire Nov. 21, they were within 25 miles of India's populous plains of Assam.

7. The Steelworkers' Union and steel companies signed a contract April 5 which gave 10 cents an hour in benefits but no pay increase, after President Kennedy asked that they hold down inflation.

Five days later, U. S. Steel Co. announced it was raising the price of steel $6 a ton. Within three days, eight other companies announced corresponding hikes.

An angered Kennedy sent aides to steelmen whose companies had not yet raised prices; the Justice Department threatened a grand jury investigation into price fixing and whether U. S. Steel should be broken up.

Steel quickly returned to its former price.

8. An off-year election campaign which failed to spark much enthusiasm resulted in continuation of the Democratic but conservative complexion of Congress.

Democrats gained four seats in the Senate, for a 68-32 split, lost two in the House, still lead 259-176. The Solid South and rock-ribbed New England broke tradition with Oklahoma electing its first Republican governor and Vermont and New Hampshire their first Democratic governors in generations.

9. Cosmonaut Maj. Andrian Nikolayev spent Aug. 11-15 orbiting the world 64 times in his spaceship Vostok III, traveling more than 1.6 million miles in 96 hours, 25 minutes.

Circling in space at the same time was Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich, in Vostok IV. Popovich was up 71 hours, 59 minutes Aug. 12-15, for 48 orbits and nearly 1.24 million miles.

10. Billie Sol Estes, big wheeler-dealer from Pecos, Tex., was arrested by the FBI March 29, testified April 4 that his assets were $20 million and his liabilities $32 million and found himself and his financial empire the subject of investigations by the Senate, House, federal and state grand juries, the Texas attorney general and the Department of Agriculture.

Suggests Ban on Firms Divulging Nuclear Data

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., has suggested that the Pentagon blacklist any contractor whose advertising divulges vital nuclear power information.

Anderson made the proposal last spring at a meeting of the House - Senate Atomic Energy Committee. The censored record of the hearing was made public yesterday.

Dies of Crash Injuries

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Elsie Boykins, 45, of Romulus Township, died today of injuries suffered Sunday when the car she was in struck a utility pole in suburban Inkster.

Special varnishes and lacquers are being used to give a high gloss to the covers of some expensive magazines nowadays.

The first cargo vessel built entirely in Brazil, the Ponta d'Areia, has been launched in the Niteroi shipyards near Rio.

The amount of paper and paperboard produced annually in the United States totals more than 34 million tons.

Junior Editors Quiz on SATELLITES

QUESTION: Why do space satellites stay up so long?

ANSWER: The balance of forces needed to keep a satellite spinning around the earth is shown in our picture. A satellite is boosted into space by a powerful rocket. This must take it to exactly the right height, point it at the right angle and give it a final burst of speed so that it is traveling about 18,000 miles an hour.

Then the satellite is set free from the parts of the rocket which have carried it up. The push given by the rocket, or "circular velocity," now keeps the satellite circling the earth. This push must not be too great or the satellite would zoom off into space.

If there is a man inside a satellite, he can spin around the earth many times and then by firing "retro rockets", slow down his capsule's speed so it gradually spirals down to earth. To get completely away from the earth, a rocket must put on a tremendous burst of speed, or "acceleration."

But when this acceleration is used up and the rocket is in space, it will travel along without need of further pushing. Escaped from earth's gravity, men inside would be weightless. This would be free flight, often called "free fall."

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: When riding in a car on a muddy road, notice how the mud is flung up from the tires when the car goes fast. This is centrifugal force, the same force which counteracts earth's gravity to keep a satellite "in orbit."

Rickover Urges N-Power for All Surface Ships

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy and Vice Adm. Hyman C. Rickover joined today in recommending that the Navy install nuclear power in all future aircraft carriers and other surface ships.

With the Soviet Union now building nuclear-powered submarines, Rickover contended, the Navy must have more nuclear-propelled aircraft carriers, even though these cost about $150 million more than a conventionally powered carrier.

★ ★ ★

Rickover's testimony, with supporting comments from the congressional atomic group was taken last March 31, when the committee held a secret session aboard the Enterprise as she underwent training exercises a few miles off Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. The Enterprise, the world's largest ship, is the only nuclear-powered aircraft carrier.

★ ★ ★

Release of the 57-page report, after much censoring by both the Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission, probably marks a drive by the committee to win congressional approval for more nuclear-powered naval vessels in the new session of Congress.

URGES FORCE

The committee chairman, Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., said in a foreword that "the United States must prosecute vigorously the conversion of the Navy to nuclear propulsion in the surface fleet as well as in the submarine fleet."

Rickover, who pioneered nuclear submarines, told the nine Congress members: "I think without your forcing we will not have a nuclear surface Navy."

At the shipboard session, Rickover ridiculed the theory that the nation and Navy could not afford nuclear-powered aircraft carriers because they cost from 30 to 50 per cent more than older, conventionally powered carriers.

Housewife Admits Knifing Husband

DETROIT (AP) —A 54-year-old housewife was held for investigation of murder today after police said she admitted stabbing her husband in the throat with a paring knife yesterday during an argument.

Police said Mrs. Sarah Marsh at first told them her husband, Clarence, 63, fell on the knife.

Police said neighbors told of hearing the couple arguing Christmas eve and into the morning.

2-Mile Stretch of Southfield Freeway to Open

DETROIT (AP) —A two-mile stretch of the Southfield freeway between Schoolcraft and McNichols Road will be opened officially tomorrow at 11 a.m.

Opening of the new section will complete 5½ miles of the eight miles of freeway in the city.

The balance is scheduled to be ready next fall and all of the freeway — about 13 miles long — is due for completion by the spring of 1964.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the section just completed cost $6,683,585. Federal funds are paying for 50 per cent and other governmental units the balance.

Lawyers to See Chiang on Trip Through Orient

WARREN R. AUSTIN

Former Senator Dies at Home

League of Nations Foe Became U.N. Delegate

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—Warren R. Austin, 85, who campaigned against U.S. entry in the League of Nations after World War I, and became U.S. ambassador to the United Nations after World War II, died Tuesday at his home.

Austin, a Republican, turned internationalist in the 1930s when he supported Franklin D. Roosevelt's foreign policy while opposing him on domestic issues.

He served in the Senate from 1931 until he was appointed to the U.N. mission by former President Harry S. Truman in 1946. He became head of the mission until 1953 when he was succeeded by Henry Cabot Lodge.

★ ★ ★

It was Austin who led the fight for a U.N. resolution naming Communist China as the aggressor in Korea after the Reds came to the rescue of the North Koreans when they had been mauled by U.N. forces in 1950.

He accused Red China of trying "to shoot its way into the United Nations, and dramatically produced a 1950 model Soviet machine gun captured from the Korean Reds as proof.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet delegate, Jacob A. Malik, left the Security Council room rather than examine the gun.

Told of Austin's death, Truman said in his Independence, Mo., home: "I'm sorry as I can be to hear about his death. He was an able and distinguished senator and did a wonderful job while he was in the public service."

600 in Refugee Camp Fall Ill in Oran, Algeria

ORAN, Algeria (AP)—Six hundred persons in a refugee camp near Oran fell ill yesterday, apparently from food poisoning.

About 150 of the victims were treated in an Oran hospital. An inquiry was opened to find the cause of the sickness.

The latest electronic microscopes can distinguish bits of matter 1/50,000,000 of an inch in diameter.

Longshoremen Plan Picketing

Walkout Idles Shipping From Maine to Texas

NEW YORK (AP) — Pickets were scheduled to appear along the Atlantic and Gulf Coast waterfronts on a full-scale basis today after a holiday lull in the strike by the International Longshoremen's Association.

If the strike by some 60,000 longshoremen lasts long enough —it's now in its fourth day— three million pounds of potatoes aboard a docked Liberian freighter will start to sprout, said a spokesman for the ship's agent.

The perishable cargo was in the holds of the freighter Glenview, anchored in the Charleston, S.C., harbor.

★ ★ ★

"The (South Carolina) farmers are anxious to get delivery on the potatoes," the spokesman said, "but the union refused our plea."

The Glenview wasn't the only ship affected by the walkout. Socres of vessels lay idle in ports from Searsport, Maine, to Brownsville, Tex.

The longshoremen claimed 100 per cent effectiveness in their strike, which is supported by the 50,000-member National Maritime Union.

There was no picketing Christmas Day, but ILA leaders said it would be broadened today into a full-scale operation.

The Belgian motorship Frubel Julia Ash was anchored in Charleston with about 60,000 stems of bananas in her refrigerated holds. A spokesman for Standard Fruit & Steamship Co. said the refrigeration would keep the bananas from perishing for only 10 to 12 days.

Perishable cargoes represent only one of many possible economic impacts. Besides lost wages to longshoremen and lost profits to steamship companies, the nation's pocketbook also could take a beating due to scarcity of some imported items which would tend to boost prices.

'Downed' Pilot Was Downing Christmas Pie

CLIO (AP) — State police from the Flint post searched two two hours yesterday for a plane that was reported down in Vienna Township, about three miles north of here.

They found the plane and the pilot, Robert West, 37, of Clio. He was home eating Christmas dinner with his family.

West told police he rented the small Piper Cub, two-place plane, to fly home from the Grayling area where he had been working on a construction job.

He said the motorist who reported the plane down apparently became alarmed when he circled low over Clio before landing in a field three miles north of here. West said he always does this to let his dad know he's home and needs a ride from the landing site.

Reception Later On Very Nice

By The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is to be married the end of January. The bride and her family have planned a very small wedding which will include only the immediate families.

I would like to give a reception for the bride and groom and invite the friends and relatives who normally would be invited to the wedding. Would this be proper?

I don't want the bride or her family to feel that this is a reflection on their choice of a wedding and if this inference could be taken I would prefer to forget the idea.

If a reception would be in order, should it be given before the wedding or after the bride and groom return from their honeymoon? My limited knowledge seems to favor a reception afterward to meet the young couple.

Answer: A reception to meet the young couple after they return from their honeymoon will be correct and in perfect taste and will in no way reflect on the simplicity of their wedding.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to have my niece and my fiance's niece take part in my wedding as flower girls. I would like to know if they stand in the receiving line at the reception and also if they are seated at the bridal table.

Answer: Girls young enough to be flower girls will probably be bored to death if asked to stand in the receiving line, or even to sit quietly at the bridal table. It will be better to leave them with their mothers during the reception.

Q: Will you please tell me if it would be proper to give a shower for a bride-to-be who will be married at a civil ceremony?

A: The fact that the bride-to-be will be married at a civil ceremony will not prevent her friends from giving her a shower if they would like to do so.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

That's a look of pure delight on the face of Mrs. Harold Euler, Ottawa Drive, as she reads a story to her visiting grandchildren. Joy Ann Wint looks a little self-conscious, but Billy Wint seems bored. They are the children of the Lewis E. Wints of Clarkston. The Richard Eulers' sons, Richard and Mark of Syracuse, N. Y., peer over grandma's shoulder.

Seven-months-old Chris Colando is visiting his grandmother and great-grandmother with his mother and father who are home from college for the holidays. Grandmother (second from left) is Mrs. Philip E. Rowston, Cherokee Road. Great-grandmother, Mrs. William A. Ludlow, lives with her daughter. Chris' mother (right) is Mrs. James P. Colando.

Gary W. Fangboners Tour New York City

Rev. Robert Hudgins officiated at the nuptials of Joyce Marie Steiner and Gary William Fangboner of West Rutgers Avenue Saturday evening in the First Methodist Church, Lake Orion.

Before leaving for their honeymoon in New York City, the couple received guests with their parents, the Benjamin J. Steiners of Lake Orion and the Harold F. Fangboners of East Lansing, in the Methodist Church House.

Fashioned of white silk brocade with bateau neckline and wrist-point sleeves, the bride's gown fell into a chapel sweep. Her silk illusion veil was secured by a pearl and sequin crown. A white orchid rested on her small white Bible.

White fur hats and muffs topped with holly and red carnations complemented crimson - red velveteen dresses for the bridegroom's sister Gail, who was maid of honor, and bridesmaids Donna Burt, Ferndale, and Linda Ledford.

★ ★ ★

Robert Thorson of Philadelphia was best man. Seating guests were James Ingram, Lake Orion, and the bridegroom's brother Carl of East Lansing.

The bride is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University and the groom of Michigan State University. Both hold degrees in education. They will live in Pontiac.

Gardenia shoulder corsages accented Mrs. Steiner's petal-pink silk crepe jacket dress and a rose-champagne lace for the bridegroom's mother.

MRS. GARY WILLIAM FANGBONER

Joyce Marie Steiner, daughter of the Benjamin J. Steiners, Lake Orion and Gary William Fangboner of West Rutgers Avenue, son of the Harold F. Fangboners, East Lansing, were wed Saturday in the First Methodist Church, Lake Orion.

It's probably the only time they were this still. All eight of the Robert Critchfields' grandchildren are with them this week at Lake Angelus and grandmother corralled them long enough for a picture. In the top row you'll find Cathy Shook, Jim Smith and Bobby Shook. Susan, Jeffrey and Tom Smith are in the middle row. At the bottom is the baby, Douglas Smith and his sister, Mary Jean. The Smiths' came from La Grange, Ill., and the Shooks from Louisville, Ky.

Big Change in Women Pointed Out

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—The battle of the sexes has ended in a draw, says Mrs. Mary Bromage, assistant professor of written communication at the University of Michigan Graduate School of Business Administration.

Mrs. Bromage, wife of U. of M. Political Science Department Head Arthur C. Bromage and the mother of one daughter, said in a panel discussion here:

"Their (women's) image in American life has undergone tremendous change since the days of the suffragette . . . the image of the American woman as a figure of grace and beauty on a pedestal has changed . . . a woman no longer loses status by taking a job.

Two important factors in the steady increase of women in the labor force are the nation's steadily increasing standard of living and the need to finance college educations for husbands, she said.

But the consistency of marriage with employment still depends on the attitudes of husbands and employers, Mrs. Bromage added.

Food for Thought and Breakfast

NEW YORK — Some U.S. Senators — among them Stuart Symington and Frank Lausche — meet each Wednesday morning during a Congressional session for a "Prayer Breakfast." The meetings include reading of a Biblical text followed by a round-table discussion of its application to current Senate work.

Find Desires, Fears--Budget Accordingly

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: My husband keeps urging me to work out some kind of a budget, since our spending seems so uneven from year to year. And our savings in the three years we've been married are little or nothing.

His income is $425 a month after deductions. I'm willing to try budgeting, but I'm confused as to where to start.

Mrs. E.D., Pittsburgh.

Dear Mrs. D.: Start by sitting down with your husband, two note pads, and two pencils. Each of you answer these questions first: What are your chief desires, and what are your biggest fears? Write the answers down, then compare them.

Maybe your own big desire is to own a home. Maybe his is building a retirement fund. Maybe you're most worried about adequate protection — life insurance. Maybe he worries most about the small extravagances.

Once you can agree on your biggest "wants" for your money, tackle the small desires. Home furnishings? Clothes? New car? Vacations? Only after the two of you have honestly expressed yourselves can you work out a satisfactory spending plan.

And do be honest — take yourselves the way you really are instead of the way you think you should be.

Your spending plan doesn't have to be just like somebody else's. People's emotions do, and should, play a big part in setting up a workable plan.

★ ★ ★

So much for my philosophy of budgeting. Now comes the figure work. And understand that these figures I offer only as a monthly guide, a sort of launching pad to prepare you for flight.

Housing, $93; food, $84; clothing, $38; savings and insurance, $48; household operation costs, $32; personal allowance, $50; medical, $20; recreation, $35; miscellaneous, $25.

Dear Miss Feeley: I've made a miser out of my son at the age of 19. After years of beating his ears off to make him save his pennies, now I can't persuade him to spend when he should.

He has been working summers to earn money toward his college education. But when I try to get him to buy clothes and other necessities when sales are on, and prices lowest, he won't let go of the money!

He'd rather wait till he's threadbare. What do I do now?

Mrs. C. L. F., Buffalo

Dear Mrs. F.: Now you pay for your sins. Since you failed to teach him that wise spending is as important as saving, you'll have to show him by example. When the next clothing sale comes up, you buy the suit. Later in the year, when he really needs it, send it to him.

Point out how much more that same suit would cost if you hadn't bought it earlier, at sale prices.

Remind him gently that by wise spending you actually saved a nice piece of cash. It may just possibly make an impression.

If you have a money problem, write Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. She will answer those of greatest interest in her column.)

Polly's Pointers

Spec-ulate Over This

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Ladies who wear bifocal glasses often find it hard to tweeze their eyebrows. Put them on upside down and you can see better. The shape of the glasses gives more room around the eyes for plucking the eyebrows.

GEORGA

DEAR POLLY—I broke the shank on a coat button and could not find one to match. Rather than buy another expensive set, I filled the broken place with wood plastic (leaving a hole for needle and thread to go through) and let it set for two days to harden. Now I have the matching button back on my coat. A. M. H.

DEAR POLLY—We are a game-playing family but do not own a card or poker table. It is inconvenient when cards or dominoes slide across our laminated plastic tabletop. Deciding we needed a cover, I found felt too expensive so bought dark green corduroy.

The piece was several inches larger than the tabletop. I made a narrow hem through which I ran a string, tied to a safety pin, down one side and across one end. I did the same for the other two sides and pulled the strings up to the size of the table. We love our improvised game table.

MRS. R. V.

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY—I tape an empty plastic toothbrush holder to the inside of a kitchen cabinet door to hold a pencil. Much handier than a pencil in a drawer. MRS. M. H.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

Save Yourself Time With Clean-Up Tips

Here's 20 minutes of first aid for your house when the party's over. Quick action like this can save time and expensive repairs.

Don't just empty ash trays. Soak overnight. Inspect any treasured bric-a-brac that may have been accidentally used as ash trays.

Check cocktail tables, any surface that has been used, for ring stains from drinking glasses. A quick swipe with a cloth or sponge moistened in a cleaning solution may spare you permanent stains.

★ ★ ★

Check upholstery and rugs, where food and drink may have been spilled. Trouble spots are ends of sofas and upholstered chairs, and surrounding rug areas. Remove cushions—it's excellent fire prevention.

Any silver that may have been exposed to acids like citrus juice and pickles should be washed immediately. This will prevent the tarnish that otherwise may harm your favorite flatwear.

★ ★ ★

You'll probably want to wait till morning for the big after-party cleaning. But a quick rinse can save messy chores with glasses, pans and dishes the next day.

Don't spoil your party fun by thinking of the cleaning chores ahead. Remember your after-party first-aid plan and join in the holiday fun.

Hills Club to Greet New Year

Oakland Hills Country Club will be decked out in holiday glitter as members and guests bid adieu to 1962 Monday evening.

The cocktail hour begins at 7 p.m. in the club's "casino."

Dining and dancing to Owen Moran's orchestra will continue from 9 p.m. until curfew.

★ ★ ★

Among those toasting Auld Lang Syne will be Dr. and Mrs. Cecil B. Akroyd, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Pokorny, the Jordan H. Stovers III, the C. Boyd Stockmeyers, the E. Herb Vogels, the Richard P. Beneickes and the Walter Westmans.

Others celebrating the gala occasion will include Mr. and Mrs. Edwin O. George, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. DeLorean, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Barby and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. West.

★ ★ ★

At the annual New Year's Day open house at OHCC champagne and hors d'oeuvres will be served from 2 to 4 p.m. A special buffet dinner is planned from 4 until 8 that evening.

Repeat Vows in Ceremony at Area Home

Beverley Ann Adams exchanged vows and rings with Gerald Paul Morgan in a small family ceremony Friday evening in the home of Patrick K. Daly, Waterford Township Justice of the Peace.

Don't Think, Don't Talk

Better Stop Interfering

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: What is wrong with a woman who pretends not to know that her husband is having an affair with a neighbor when everybody else knows it? I told her last summer and she just laughed and said she didn't believe it.

But I notice she is losing weight and looks terrible, poor thing. The lady who is carrying on with her husband is always at their house acting like she is a good friend to the wife when she just wants to be around the husband.

How can I get the poor wife to realize this woman is stealing her husband right from under her nose?

GOOD NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: Anyone who would presume to tell a friend that her husband was having an affair with another woman doesn't know the meaning of friendship. Your imagination could be working overtime. Give it a rest. And rest your mouth, too.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have been having the same dream over and over and I wonder if it means anything. I dream that I am a big bird, soaring through the air. I can view the cities and mountains and water below clearly, but I always have the feeling of not being able to cover enough territory. Does it have any meaning?

DREAMER

DEAR DREAMER: I'm "a-Freud" I'll have to make a wild guess. You sound like a salesman who has to cover the 12 western states in ten days.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: When my parents saw my report card they told me I couldn't go to any of the school dances until after next report card time. My steady went to the school dance without me last Friday night and I heard he had a good time.

When I asked him about it, he said he didn't see anything wrong with going, and besides he only danced twice. I heard he danced all evening with different girls and he danced all the slow ones with his old girl friend.

Do you think he should have gone to the dance without me, and danced the slow ones with his old girl? Answer soon, I am ready to break up with him if you think he is wrong.

GROUNDED

DEAR GROUNDED: I don't see anything wrong in your boy friend going to the dance without you. Offer him his freedom. He seems to want it. And get your grades up so you can go to the dances and protect your own interests.

DEAR ABBY: My mother lost her wedding band last May. My dad is no longer living. I am wondering if it would be proper for a son to buy his mother a wedding ring and give it to her as a birthday gift.

THE SON

DEAR SON: I think it is a beautiful thought. Try to get one like the one your mother lost.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, The Daily Press.

Marilyn Fair Weds Donald Burkland

Poinsettias, holly, red and white carnations and pine decked the altar of the Central Methodist Church Saturday where Rev. Milton Bank performed the wedding ceremony of Marilyn Jean Fair of Ostrum Drive and Donald Lee Burkland of Union Lake.

★ ★ ★

An heirloom necklace belonging to her grandmother highlighted the bride's floor-length taffeta gown. It featured lace inserts in the bodice and lace down the center of a large front pleat, three-quarter-length sleeves, scoop neck and a chapel train.

The bouffant veil was held in place with a small jeweled-crown headpiece. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white poinsettias, white roses, holly and pine.

STREET-LENGTH DRESSES

Mrs. Charles W. Smith was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Carolyn Baldwin of Detroit and Twyla Shear of East Lansing. All three wore street-length taffeta dresses of blue-violet with scoop necklines and three-quarter length sleeves. They carried red poinsettias in crescent shape with pine and holly. Flower girl was Kimberly Knisely of Rochester.

★ ★ ★

Gerald Burkland of Milford was his brother's best man with Jerome Ganzel and James Koresky of Milford and Charles W. Smith of Pontiac as ushers.

Some 125 guests gathered immediately after the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall for the reception. The couple left for a honeymoon trip to Florida.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fair of Hanna, Ind. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burkland of Milford.

The bride's mother wore pale green brocade. The bridegroom's mother wore dark red silk. Both mothers wore white orchids.

★ ★ ★

The bride is a teacher at Pontiac Central High School and a graduate of Purdue University and Michigan State University. The groom, a teacher at Milford Junior High, is a graduate of Western Michigan University.

MRS. DONALD LEE BURKLUND

Wed Saturday in the Central Methodist Church, Pontiac, were Marilyn Jean Fair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fair of Hanna, Ind., and Donald Lee Burklund, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burklund of Milford.

Motherhood Down in Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The motherhood rate of Soviet women "has been markedly lower than that of American women" since 1950, a census bureau population expert has reported.

In a study prepared for the House-Senate Economic Committee, James W. Brackett said yesterday that Russia has a vastly larger proportion of women in its labor force, one of the factors for the low female fertility rate.

Brackett said Soviet planners apparently have conflicting opinions on population policies for the Soviet Union and seem unable to agree whether they should encourage more or fewer babies.

The Census Bureau expert said "since 1950, the fertility of Soviet women has been stable despite a sharp rise in the ratio of males to females."

He said this stable rate probably is due to a rise in the number of married women "of reproductive age" combined with "declining marital fertility."

Brackett said the shortage of men during the post-World War II years brought more Soviet women into the labor force.

COAT, DRESS PATTERNS SHOULD BE PURCHASED IN SAME SIZE

"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"Several months ago you stated in your column that in making a coat, one should get a pattern one size smaller than the usual coat size. Am I correct, and if so, why?" Mrs. H. L.

Dear Mrs. H. L.:

Coat and suit patterns are usually purchased in the same size as your dress patterns.

The exception to this rule would only apply to very exaggerated styles by foreign designers. If you don't care for the extreme fullness that is often used, you may find that a pattern one size smaller is better for you.

If you are using an expensive pattern and fabric and are undecided about the style of your pattern, it is more than worthwhile to make a sample in muslin. The extra time spent might make the difference between being pleased or not with the final results.

ADJUSTABLE WAIST-BAND

This week's winner of the Tailor-Trix pressing board is Mrs. Luella Prehn of 24530 Calvin Ave., Dearborn, Mich. Here's her suggestion:

When buying skirts or slacks, I sometimes find that the waist is a little too large. Instead of taking in the waist-band, I just run a narrow elastic through the band.

This snugs in the waist just enough and helps keep it trim looking and feeling. (This is also an excellent idea when making gifts and you aren't sure of the exact waist measurement.

HOW CAN SHE GET CREASE OUT OF WOOL JERSEY DRESS?

"Dear Eunice,

"I bought some wool jersey for a dress and I have heard it is almost impossible to get the crease out of the fold which would naturally appear at the center of the dress. How can I get this crease out?" Mrs. L. W.

Dear Mrs. L. W.:

The crease in knitted type fabric is very stubborn to remove. Since most jerseys are woven in a "tube" without any cut or selvage edges, change the fold line.

Re-fold the fabric so that the two creased edges are exactly over each other. You will now have 2 new folded edges where the grain is perfect and without a crease.

Dear Readers,

If you are making clothes for dolls, try using a small piece of Velcro instead of snaps or buttons for all closings. Much easier for tiny hands to manage.

SHE WONDERS HOW TO STOP SHEDDING OF ANGORA SWEATER

"Dear Eunice,

"I have a red angora hand-knitted sweater and it sheds very badly. I wonder if there is any way of preventing this? Maybe some of your readers have had the same problem and have found a solution." Mrs. S. L.

If you can help Mrs. S. L. please send your answers to Sew Simple.

LARGE INNER POCKETS MAY HELP CHILD KEEP MITTENS

Mrs. W. E. says:

Many mothers have problems with lost mittens and head scarfs. I solved these problems in our family by sewing a large pocket on the inside lining of each child's coat. The pockets on ready made coats are not deep enough and result in lost mittens and scarfs.

Child Can Be a Pint-Sized Little Vamp

Your favorite one-year-old can "vamp" the Christmas-tree crowd by wearing this year's high fashion—the fluffy boa.

Believe it or not, you can buy your High Chair Queen a red stretch-nylon pajama with a downy white Orlon "boa" at the neck, more white fluff at the cuffs and pocket, and white pompons at the ankles. One enormous advantage of this high fashion outfit is its complete washability.

Dustpan to Go Fancy

Even your lowly dustpan should get dressed up for Christmas. Decorate a copper dustpan in three easy steps:

1. Glue sequins all around the edges. 2. Use decorative cellophane tape to attach pine cones, pine branches and small Christmas ornaments across the top. 3. Take four yards of red ribbon, make a bow and streamers of different lengths and attach to the top of the dustpan handle.

Display your dustpan at hearthside or near the tree. Then it will be all set for its practical role in sweeping up

Set Aside One Day for Rest

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

At this stage in the season, the greatest gift anyone could bestow on the homemaker is an uninterrupted 24 hours of rest. A postholiday promise I make is to spend one day catching my breath. It's a promise that is easy to keep.

Discover for yourself the beneficial effect on morale and physical health of goofing off for a day! If you are a good mother and a conscientious homemaker you may find it difficult at first, but practice and determination help.

This is the day to shrug off a sinkful of dishes, to ignore the full wastebasket, to slight the crumby kitchen floor, to introduce the family to television dinners (forget for the moment all those leftovers in the refrigerator)!!

Each of us has a personal approach to rest and relaxation. A few extra hours of bed rest, for some, is the best prescription for restoring wilted energies and brightening a jaded outlook.

Set aside the gifts that will make the hours more enjoyable. The new books, the children's intricate puzzles, the newspapers I haven't had time to read are the things that I pile up. For greater comfort, I have been hinting for something other than an extra pillow to brace my back.

After several years of using triangular bolsters, I spotted a cushion, designed by Gene Edson, that should appeal to other loungers-in-bed. This is a tuckaway design consisting of two foam rubber arms which slide over a back-bracing foam rubber back.

When you resume active housekeeping duty, the bed cushion may be folded up and stored in the carton it came in. The carton, I think, should be covered with a bright self-adhesive plastic or some such decorative paper, because it can be stored neatly under a bed or in a closet.

With a timely hint or two, you may also be able to point out to the family the charm of bringing you breakfast or lunch in bed.

To Protect Floor

Before painting worn linoleum, remove surface dirt, grease and wax.

MODEL OF NEW MINIATURE HEARING AID GIVEN

A unique free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has just been announced by Qualitone Co.

A true life, actual size, inactive replica of the smallest Qualitone ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone sending in this advertisement. Try it on in the privacy of your home, without cost or obligation of any kind. It's yours to keep free.

The size of this Qualitone is only one of its many features. It weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head.

Here is truly new hope for the hard of hearing.

These replicas are free while the limited supply lasts, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost and certainly no obligation.

Women's Group to Learn Uses of Garden Tools

"Greens Can Be Exotic" will be the subject of a demonstration talk by Dale Bottdorff at the Cranbrook Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association's Jan. 7 meeting.

Hostess for the affair will be Mrs. C. E. Dalton of Birmingham. Tea hostesses will be Mrs. Robert Holbrook, Mrs. Sidney Harriman, Mrs. C. J. Loviner and Mrs. Carl H. Kindl.

Couple Weds Amid Christmas Greens

Janice Elaine Quantz of Sherbourne Road exchanged wedding vows and rings with John Plato Hobart Jr. of South Lyon Saturday evening in St. James Episcopal Church, Birmingham. Rev. Kenneth Gass performed the ceremony in the chancel decked with Christmas greens and white poinsettias.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Quantz of Lachine, John P. Hobart of Lexington, Ky., and the late Mrs. Hobart.

The bride designed her own gown of white Italian velveteen, which featured a scoop neckline, bell skirt and detachable chapel train. Her veil of French silk illusion fell from a sequined tiara. A white orchid and Stephanotis rested on her prayer book.

Maid of honor Jeannette Bartz and bridesmaids Jane Legg and the bridegroom's sister Anne wore moss green velveteen sheath dresses and and matching silk shoes. Holly corsages topped their white fur muffs.

BEST MAN

On the esquire side were best man James Amell and ushers Ray Schumaker and Thomas Mason.

After a receiption in the church undercroft, the couple left for a brief honeymoon and will live at Union Lake.

The new Mrs. Hobart is a Wayne State University senior, and her husband was graduated from Alma College.

Wed Saturday in St. James Episcopal Church, Birmingham, were Janice Elaine Quantz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Quantz of Lachine, to John Plato Hobart Jr. of South Lyon, son of John P. Hobart of Lexington, Ky., and the late Mrs. Hobart.

Few Can Do It Right

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Actually, very few people know how to relax. Dr. Alexander Reid Martin, a brilliant pychiatrist, discussed relaxation at the annual meeting of the National Council on the Aging in New York City a short time ago.

* * *

Most people allow the pressures and demands of daily life to undermine their natural capacity for relaxation and thus lose positive values which activate creativity and happiness.

Dr. Martin feels that too many folks confuse relaxation with laziness. They ridicule day dreaming, wandering and aimless thought, whereas we should be interested in the "whyness" rather than the "whatness." We should take time out to do what I call "get in touch with the forces of life."

Dr. Martin said, "Relaxation is both the occasion and the capacity of the whole personality to open up to all stimuli from within and without." Relaxation is a state of mind, an affirmative mood, the ability to listen with an open heart.

* * *

You must have the occasion as well as the ability and the wish for complete relaxation. How can you ever tap this great source of physical and emotional and mental rejuvenation if you never plan for some time alone?

The fact that so few people do that is, I feel sure, one reason for the poor adjustment so many make when they retire. They have not taken time to really know life, and when they have only life left, they do not know what to do with it.

The younger and older generations should not make work a god. As they go along they should sample times of relaxation, real relaxation. Then they will not have to fill up their leisure with frantic activities which have no real meaning for them because they are bored.

* * *

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Individual Happiness," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 65 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

GIFT FOR NUNS — The sisters of St. Joseph's Convent, 715 N. Lapeer Road, Orion Township, received a new car Christmas Eve through the efforts of parishioners at St. Joseph's Church. Car-committee chairman was Frank Spitza, 1040 Indianwood Road, Orion Township. He is shown here handing over the keys to Mother Jeanette SSJ, superior of the convent.

Tax Petitions Due Saturday

State Office to Open for 'Vigilance' Unit

DETROIT (UPI) — Berkley Mayor George W. Kuhn said today an office of the secretary of state will be kept open Saturday to receive petitions calling for the legislature to act on city income taxes.

Kuhn, head of the Vigilance Tax Committee, said the petitions had to be filed with Secretary of State James Hare by Dec. 29 if the legislature is to be forced into action.

The committee of suburban mayors has been fighting a one per cent income tax levied by Detroit on residents and non-residents who work in the city.

State Senator-elect John T. Bowman, D-Roseville, issued an appeal Monday for the return of outstate petitions to the committee. Bowman sponsored a bill earlier this year as a member of the House that would have outlawed the Detroit tax. But the measure was vetoed by Gov. John B. Swainson.

Kuhn said Monday the committee has 10,000 petitions circulated outside the three-county metropolitan area, enough to result in 200,000 signatures. That is the amount needed to force the legislature into action.

Kuhn said the committee has collected 100,000 signatures already.

KAREN D. PASLEAN

Announcement is made of the engagement of Karen D. Paslean to Ronald I. Duncan by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Paslean of 3988 Cramton Road, Metamora. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin W. Duncan of 4476 Merwin Road, Lapeer. No date has been set for the wedding.

Road Death Toll 1,515

EAST LANSING (UPI) — State police provisional reports today showed 1,515 persons were killed in traffic accidents this year through yesterday. The death toll at the same time last year was 1,548.

At Peoples Church

Wed in East Lansing

AVON TOWNSHIP—The chancel of Peoples Church, East Lansing, was decorated with holiday greens, Christmas trees and red poinsettias for the Saturday afternoon wedding of Doretta Ann Blodgett and Joseph A. Braun III.

Rev. Wallace Robertson performed the nuptials.

Parents of the bride are the Herbert C. Blodgetts of East Lansing. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Joseph A. Braun Jr., 2781 Pontiac Road, and Joseph A. Braun Jr. of Ferndale.

A princess-style gown of brocaded antique satin was chosen by the bride for her wedding. It was styled with a bateau neckline, long, tapered sleeves and bouffant skirt that swept into a chapel train.

An open-work crown held her elbow-length veil of French illusion. She carried a Colonial bouquet with a frontal cascade of cream-white roses and variegated ivy accented with French lace.

Nancy Blodgett attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Barbara Hondorp of Muskegon and Linda Scarlett of Montague, and junior bridesmaid, Penny Braun, sister of the bridegroom.

On the esquire side, Harold Braun served his brother as best man. The guests were seated by Brian M. O'Hara of Washington, D.C., Mack Beckett of Rochester and James Donaldson of Southfield.

* * *

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony. Upon their return from their honeymoon at a Northern Michigan ski resort, the newlyweds will live in Washington, D.C.

Christmas Tree Blaze Injures Mother, Child

LANSING (UPI) — Mrs. Darlene Schooltz, 22, and her 18-month-old son, Dennis, were reported in satisfactory condition today with burns suffered when their Christmas tree caught fire.

Police said an electrical current apparently sparked the tree yesterday when the woman unhooked a string of decorative lights.

The family home was gutted by the blaze.

To Cover Feed Grains in '63

Up Price Support Rates

An increase in the 1963 price support rates for feed grains qualifying under the 1963 program is announced today by Carl Shumway, chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Shumway reports an increase in the price support rate for corn from $1.20 to $1.25 per bushel. The rate for grain sorghum is increased from $1.88 to $2, and the barley rate is hiked from 93 to 96 cents per bushel.

The payment-in-kind rate has not been changed.

Another significant change in feed grain prices is the increased diversion payment for producers with a base of 25 acres or less.

Originally all growers were eligible for a diversion payment of 20 per cent of the county price support rate on the first 20 per cent of their base acreage.

They also were allowed to qualify for a diversion rate of 50 per cent of the county price support rate on all acreage diverted in excess of 20 per cent of their base.

With the recent change, producers with a 25-acre or less base qualify for a payment based on 50 per cent of the county price support rate if he diverts his entire base.

This does not apply to those with more than a 25-acre base or those with less who do not indicate intentions to divert from production acreage equal to his entire base.

22 Oakland Motorists Lose Driving Privileges

Driver's licenses of 22 Oakland County motorists were either suspended or revoked recently by the Michigan Department of State.

★ ★ ★

Ordered to show proof of financial responsibility after convictions of drunken driving were: William J. Steiger, 60 W. Pike St.; Leonard W. Wise, 278 Prospect St.; George C. Emens, 27304 Groveland St., Madison Heights; Harry W. Greenspan, 23410 Rensselaer St., Oak Park; and Robert J. D. Pomber, 173 E. Woodland St., Ferndale.

★ ★ ★

Unsatisfactory driving records caused the following to lose their licenses:

Andrew Coffee, 446 S. Anderson St.; Derl W. Hardiman, 423 Highland Ave.; William M. Henderson, 590 Upland St.; Randall L. Leinenger, 53 Oak Hill St.; Charles A. Borst, 36441 Lyman Road, Farmington; Gary W. Buckner, 23621 Morton St., Oak Park; and Richard L. Feys, 7053 Locklin Road, Union Lake.

Others were Joseph N. Gaylor, 341 N. Shore Drive, Lake Orion; Houston G. Hammonds, 428 Austin St., Royal Oak; Robert L. Kreiner, 226 W. Hustonia St., Royal Oak; Robert J. Mitchell, 4253 Tyler St., Berkley; James E. Welch 274 W. Walled Lake Drive, Walled Lake; and Theodore J. Zamojcin, 26035 Barrington Ave., Madison Heights.

★ ★ ★

Raymond J. Luffman, 131 E. Marshall St., Ferndale, and Jessie J. Stone, 21610 Gilcrest St., Ferndale, were ordered to show proof of financial responsibility due to unsatisfied financial judgments against them.

★ ★ ★

Taken off the road for driving with revoked licenses were Rudolph J. Soyka, 602½ E. Maple St., Holly, and Earl T. Swiney, 3074 Hessel Road, Rochester.

Says Firemen Looted Homes

CHICAGO (UPI) —A public relations man said yesterday that firemen answering an alarm at his 10-room apartment ordered him to leave and then looted the place of whisky, cigarettes and a camera.

★ ★ ★

John C. Naisbitt, public information director for the National Safety Council, sent his charges to Mayor Richard J. Daley in a telegram urging an immediate investigation.

Fire Commissioner Robert Quinn promised an immediate investigation although Naisbitt's charges were denied by Fire Marshal Frank Hasnerl, commander of the company which answered the call.

"In my 34 years on the fire department I have never seen an authenticated case of firemen stealing," Hasnerl said. "As for firemen mixing drinks, that's ridiculous."

Naisbitt said he and his family were forced to leave their apartment while firemen fought the fire. He said he re-entered the apartment while firemen were still at work to find them mixing drinks in the kitchen.

★ ★ ★

"Subsequent investigation showed that a fifth of whisky was missing," Naisbitt said. "Also missing was a money folder, a camera and cigarettes taken from two opened cartons."

Empty Rail Cars Roll Head-On Into Train

NEW YORK (UPI) —A string of empty passenger cars rolled down an incline and collided head-on with a Long Island Rail Road passenger train carrying some 40 Christmas Day commuters.

Seven of them plus two trainmen were injured, police said.

Old Father Time Dates Back to Ancient Greek Mythology

WASHINGTON — Midnight on Dec. 31 will signal, in cartoonists' lore, the exit of a haggard old man and the appearance of a chubby infant wearing a diaper marked 1963.

The personifications of the New Year babe and Father Time, traditionally armed with a scythe and an hourglass, are as familiar as those of Santa Claus. Yet these fitting symbols for the end of one cycle of living and the birth of another have roots in Greek mythology.

Father Time survives as a descendant of the Greek god Cronus, lord of the universe, according to the National Geographic Society. Cronus's face was creased with the lines of inestimable years, and he carried a long, curving blade.

Like many of mythology's earthy gods, Cronus was not altogether without defects of character. Having been warned that one of his children would depose him, Cronus coped with the problem by swallowing each at birth.

His wife Rhea naturally wished to discourage the practice. She hid their son Zeus after his birth, and presented Cronus with a stone wrapped in swaddling clothes.

★ ★ ★

The trick worked. Zeus lived to dethrone his father, settle on Mount Olympus, and rule as chief god of the Greek pantheon.

★ ★ ★

Later, Cronus's name was confused with the word chronos, meaning "time." But the hourglass has found a permanent place in the hand of the white-haired gentleman with the scythe.

Ancient Romans identified Saturn, their god of agriculture, with Cronus. Like his Greek counterpart, Saturn carried a scythe.

Rome celebrated Saturnalia, a solstice ceremony of the year's turning, from Dec. 17 to 23. In many ways, the festival resembled present-day New Year celebrations. All work stopped: Schools closed, courts handed down no sentences, revelers gamboled in masquerade, and gifts of waxen fruits, candles and dolls were exchanged.

★ ★ ★

Even today, exchange of presents lingers as a New Year custom. The Roman word for good-luck gifts—strenae—survives in "jour d'etrennes," France's popular expression for New Year's Day.

One thousand separate temperature measurements per second can be made with a new high speed pyrometer.

As Well as Clear Writing

Good Reading Essential to Study of Math

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON
Professor of Education, University of Southern California

This is the second of two articles on the learning of science and mathematics written in response to the many requests I have received from readers.

Success in the study of mathematics is dependent upon the student's ability to understand in words.

He must be able to understand the teacher in words, explain the principles and processes in words, and write his solutions using correct notations and explain what he has written.

DR. NASON

Pupils should be able to read their arithmetic textbooks. They should be able to read and explain what they have written for home work.

Parents may have to be the listeners. In the large classes of present day schools there is insufficient time for this activity.

Training in reading for exact meaning should start early and continue throughout a child's schooling.

Pupils who have been allowed to drift without reading for precise meanings often give up trying to read word problems in mathematics. They guess the solution to be applied from the general look of the problem.

At this point, nothing but patient individual guidance will help. If someone will say "READ the problem. Tell me exactly what it means and what it asks for," the student in time will discover that he CAN read and understand problems.

CLEAR WRITING

A successful math student also must be skilled in using pencil and paper in the solution of problems. Not the arithmetic, but the writing of the problem is sometimes the block. Practice in writing numbers has changed failure into success for many students.

A seventh grade teacher required each student to turn in a paper with the problems neatly set up, but not solved. When he had a neat paper from each student, he returned them for completion.

The results were far better than usual. Practice in handwriting followed and resulted in still further improvement in arithmetic.

This is more than a matter of neatness.

A freshman in an engineering college was successful only after he learned to write out complete solutions to problems. All through grade school and high school he had been able to solve his math problems mentally, using a small amount of scratch work. The more complex problems of college math did not respond to this procedure.

PRACTICE THESE STEPS

Any student who wishes to improve his understanding of math and his ability to proceed comfortably to the study of higher math should use the following procedures:

(1) Read the explanations given in the textbook before they are discussed in class.

(2) Listen to the teacher, attempting to understand the procedures and principles in words.

(3) Reread the explanations in the textbook after an explanation has been made in class.

(4) Analyze each problem, asking "What kind of problem is this and how should it be solved?"

(5) Take two or three minutes, upon the completion of each home work assignment, to fix the ideas in mind in words by asking "What kind of problems are these and how would I recognize them again?"

(6) Write out solutions completely, using correct notations, write all steps. This not only fixes the ideas in mind but is faster than leaving out steps.

(7) Review occasionally by turning rapidly from one problem set to another, asking, "How can I tell by reading these problems which principles are involved and what procedures to use in their solution?"

From kindergarten through college, students who understand mathematics in words, who learn to write math problems correctly, and who listen to understand not only succeed well, they enjoy mathematics.

You may obtain a copy of Dr. Nason's "You Can Get Better Grades" booklet by sending $1 to "Better Grades," Box 2160, General Post Office, New York.

Predicts Furniture Sales Rise

CHICAGO (AP)—A high trade authority figures on a 5 per cent rise in shipments of furniture from factories to retail stores in 1963.

That's the outlook of John M. Snow, executive vice president of National Association of Furniture Manufacturers.

He estimated such shipments in 1962 will add up to a record $4.44 billion as measured in terms of retail values. That would be about 10 per cent over 1961 and it would top the high recorded in 1959 by $60 million.

In predicting a 5 per cent gain in 1963, Snow stated: "It is quite possible that the industry may do much better, but the signs pointing toward a bigger increase are not yet strongly apparent.

"However, we have not been able to find any justification for pessimistic reports issued by some industries for the first part of 1963.

"A 5 per cent increase over 1962 volume would bring 1963 volume to $5 billion."

Snow said his calculations for 1963 included these factors:

The increase in marriages in each of the last few years is expected to continue.

A rise in consumer installment credit during the first nine months of 1962 reflects greater confidence on the part of consumers.

Consumer income is expected to remain at a high level.

The Federal Reserve Board reports greater consumer interest in buying durable goods, including furniture.

★ ★ ★

Private home construction is expected to remain at the 1962 level.

MSUO Offers Adult Education Courses

Plato for Pleasure, The Art of Acting and Operas of the Metropolitan in Detroit are three of the liberal and creative arts courses for adults to be featured in the nonprofit, winter-term program of the Division of Continuing Education, Michigan State University Oakland.

Winter classes begin the week of Jan. 14. They include courses in the areas of business and professional development, science, mathematics, languages, public administration and applied and special skills. All classes meet once a week for 10 weeks.

Once again the Division of Continuing Education will offer its "baby sitting" and senior citizen tuition reductions.

For a husband and wife taking a course in liberal arts, creative arts or languages the course fee is reduced $5 each.

This is done to encourage couples to come to the University together, and to help pay the baby sitter.

For persons 65 and over, tuition is half price in liberal arts, creative arts and language courses.

French and Spanish seminar courses for students with some previous training in the languages will be offered again this term, as will elementary courses in both languages and in German, Russian and Latin.

In the area of business and professional development, 30 courses have been announced covering such topics as sales personnel development, electronic computers (3 courses cover computer programing, fundamentals of digital computers and introduction to data processing and require no advanced mathematics), business administration, cost analysis and industrial marketing.

A real estate certificate program offers three courses in brokerage, law and residential construction.

Science and mathematics courses include Nuclear Science for the Layman, refresher courses in engineering and mathematics, Nonferrous Metals Technology, Introduction to College Physics and a repeat of last winter's highly successful Saturday morning class Exploring Chemistry for Parent and Child (5th to 8th Grade children eligible).

Creative arts classes offer chances to use various media— oil and water color paints, easels—and to do sculpture and drawing.

Five courses in public administration are designed for municipal and county officials and employes.

Composition Skills Workshop, Discussion Techniques, Effective Speaking and Efficient Reading are the applied skills offerings. A Saturday morning Study Skills Workshop to improve the study habits of high school and college students has become a regular feature of MSUO's continuing education program.

Courses and their hours are:

LIBERAL ARTS

IN AND OUT — Valerian Zorin (right), Soviet deputy foreign minister and U.N. delegate, has been relieved of his duties by Nikolai Fedorenko (left), current Soviet ambassador to Japan.

GIs Too Busy for Reich's 'Sin Town'

BACKGROUND — UP SPECIAL REPORT — OF THE NEWS

KAISERSLAUTERN, Germany (AP) — The German B-girl slammed her fist on the bar and said business was bad.

"The GIs still have the money but they have too many other things to do now. They don't take as much interest in us and the bars," she complained.

★ ★ ★

The girl sat in an almost empty saloon in Kaiserslautern's Steinstrasse. The street is off limits for American troops after 7 p.m.

This city in southwestern Germany used to be known among Americans as "sin town." With 75,000 Americans — military personnel and dependents — it is the largest American community outside the United States. But it has changed.

The B-girl explained: "There were good times when the money really poured in, but that's all part of the past now."

Until a few years ago, Kaiserslautern reported 2,000 to 3,000 prostitutes. Police say about 100 remain.

Kaiserslautern had one of the highest rates in Europe of incidents involving U.S. soldiers. There were frequent stabbings, shootings and rapes as well as race riots between white and Negro American soldiers.

"The Kaiserslautern newspapers published some mighty angry editorials against the Americans here," said Manfred Stichter, head of Kaiserslautern police.

"But since Col. Plahte moved in, the editorials center largely on domestic and foreign politics."

THERE 2 YEARS

Col. Fred L. Plahte took over this strategic North Atlantic Treaty Organization post charge with defending a 1,200-square-mile area between the Rhine River and the French border three years ago.

At that time, irate local residents claimed Kaiserslautern was "about the closest thing to hell on earth you can imagine."

Known as a no-nonsense and aloof soldier, Plahte applied what a sergeant called "firmness coupled with fairness" to straighten out the situation.

Plahte began by visiting the units in his command and lecturing on a favorite theme, "the American diplomat in uniform."

REFLECTS ON U.S.

"Don't forget," he is fond of saying, "that when you wear that uniform your every action reflects on the United States.

"And any man, casting dishonor on our country can expect prompt disciplinary action."

Associates say Plahte goes over every court-martial case in his command and makes no distinction between officers and enlisted men facing trial.

Plahte inspected personally every bar in the Kaiserslautern area frequented by American troops.

Within nine months, nearly two dozen off-limits bars closed down for lack of business.

Joint American-German committees were formed to attack the problem. These now include a group consisting of American officers, German clergymen, politicians and civic leaders; an organization of German newspapermen and U.S. Army press officers and a venereal disease control committee.

INTENSIVE PROGRAM

Plahte also began an intensive recreational and educational program for his men to keep them away from the city's night life. Soldiers may now choose among service clubs, libraries, craft shops, bowling alleys, theaters, gymnasiums, photo centers, rod and gun clubs, golf courses, a dozen athletic programs and various school classes.

Swainson Promotes State Guard Officer

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson has announced the appointment of Col. Howard H. Arbury of Midland as assistant division commander of the 46th Infantry Division of the Michigan National Guard.

★ ★ ★

He will be promoted to the rank of brigadier general and will replace Brig. Gen. Joseph W. Boardman, who has been reassigned to the headquarters and headquarters detachment.

Col. Arbury presently commands the 1st Battle Group of the 125th Infantry. He joined the guard in 1923 as an enlisted man and operates a Midland insurance agency.

★ ★ ★

Gov. Swainson termed Arbury "an exceptional soldier and leader who rose through the ranks to become commander of an outstanding battle group."

Condition Remains Serious for Frost

BOSTON (AP) — Poet Robert Frost remained in serious condition today from an undisclosed ailment at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Frost, 88, entered the hospital Dec. 10. The hospitalization was not disclosed until last weekend.

★ ★ ★

A hospital spokesman said the four-time Pulitzer Prize winner was seriously ill but that doctors hope for his complete recovery.

Briton's Dream True

Wins $53,280 in Pool

STROUD, England (AP) —A 60-year-old businessman got a telephone call on Christmas day telling him he had won 22,600 pounds ($53,280) in the football pools.

The winner had told his wife and daughters the Saturday before:

"I've had an amazing dream of winning a football. Every detail is so clear that I am certain it will happen."

The next day a check of his pools coupon showed he had a winning coupon. An entry must pick eight draws to win.

On Christmas day the telephone rang and the pools firm told him the amount of his winnings.

★ ★ ★

The winner sought anonymity by marking an "X" on his coupon. As a result his name was not made public by the pools firm.

His first expenditure from the money was a donation to a London institution for incurable diseases.

Nina II Reaches Goal of San Salvador

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Nina II, a close copy of the smallest of Christopher Columbus' ships, reached San Salvador Island Tuesday night 117 days after sailing from Spain in an effort to retrace the voyage of discovery.

★ ★ ★

The Nina II sailed from Palos, Spain, with a nine-man crew on Sept. 19, hoping to reach land at San Salvador at the eastern fringe of the Bahamas on Oct. 12, the place and date that Columbus made his famous landfall in 1492.

Columbus' three ships, the Santa Maria, Pinta and Nina, sailed from Spain on Aug. 3, 1492, with 120 men and made the voyage in 70 days.

News of Service Personnel

Two area servicemen are being reassigned to Amarillo Air Force Base, Tex., from Lackland AFB, Tex.

They are Airman Basic Clark E. Riddle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle B. Riddle, 6969 Tappon Drive, Clarkston, and Airman Basic William C. Crawley, whose sister Carmen R. Jones, lives at 125 Euclid Ave.

RIDDLE

CRAWLEY

Airman Riddle, a graduate of Clarkston High School, will train as an aircraft maintenance specialist; Airman Crawley, as an aircraft accessory systems repairman. He is a graduate of Maury High School, Norfolk, Va.

★ ★ ★

After completing the first phase of his military training at Lackland AFB, Tex., Airman Basic Roger F. Buelow is reassigned to Lowry AFB, Colo.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester R. Buelow, 5240 N. Pebble Creek Rd., W. Bloomfield, the airman will train as a United States Air Force air armament mechanic.

He is a graduate of Farmington Senior High School.

★ ★ ★

Airman Basic William D. Reetz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Reetz, 46583 Wright St., Utica, is reassigned to Orlando Air Force Base, Fla., for training and duty as a vehicle operator.

BUELOW

REETZ

Airman Reetz recently completed his basic air force military training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He is a graduate of Utica High School.

★ ★ ★

Melvin G. Nunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton W. Nunn, 820 N. Main St., Rochester, was promoted recently to first lieutenant in Germany where he is a member of the 75th Artillery.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Nunn, motor officer of the artillery's 2nd Howitzer Battalion, was last stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla. He is a graduate of Rochester High School and received his bachelor's degree from Central Michigan University.

Pontiac Business Climate Shows Substantial Gains

The Pontiac area business climate continued to show substantial gains in November, compared with the same month a year ago.

However, a slight decline from October business and financial figures was felt in most areas.

Contributing to the slight decline was the fact that November was one day shorter than October and marked by one weekday—Thanksgiving— when no business was transacted.

Payroll figures continued to climb, showing a $15,353 increase over the previous month. Airline patronage and home building also showed slight increases.

Utilities were well into their heavy demand season with strong increases evident in gas and electrical consumption.

Business transacted through customer's checking accounts at Pontiac banks dropped slightly from the all-time high recorded in October.

However, the total was nearly $12-million higher than November 1961. This was typical in many year-to-year comparisons of business trends.

Figures indicating business trends for November were reported by Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank, Consumers Power Co., Detroit Edison Co., Pontiac Post Office, the city water and inspection departments, Pontiac Transit Corp., North Central Airlines and the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

	Nov. 1962	Oct. 1962	Nov. 1961
Bank debits to customers' accounts (exclusive of public funds)	$98,110,275	$100,380,386	$86,334,598
Industrial Payrolls	$13,459,532	$13,444,179	Unavailable
Postal receipts	$138,929	$149,270	$135,854
Total building permits—
Number	93	113	69
Amount	$290,385	$836,386	$191,200
New dwellings—
Number	20	8	15
Amount	$132,600	$63,400	$97,690
Gas consumption (cu. ft.)	524,892,600	301,425,700	313,757,700
Electrical energy, (Consumers KWH)	45,551,855	44,494,433	38,559,984
Water consumption (gals.)	348,929,000	365,793,000	288,180,000
Bus patrons	76,549	80,367	77,929
Air patrons (outbound)	27	21	35

Detroit Edison Co. electrical consumption for November, 1962—2,891,890 KWH; for October 1962—2,063,903 KWH; for November 1961—1,740,014 KWH.

Total electrical consumption (Consumers Power Co. and Detroit Edison Co.) for November 1962—58,443,745 KWH; for October 1962—56,558,336 KWH; for November 1961—50,299,998 KWH.

Lowly Weeds Given Very Bright Names

Some of the most colorful names in nature are those given to the most common —and usually the most annoying — of weeds.

You get your choice of Creeping Jenny or Bouncing Bet.

★ ★ ★

Then there is Gill-Over-The-Ground and Man-Under-Ground . . Flower-of-an-Hour and Snow-on-the-Mountain.

In the animal department are catnip, dogbane, thorny pigweed, dogfennel, horse nettle, horsemint, buckhorn, buckthrush, and white snakeroot.

If you like your weeds wild, there are wild parsnip, wild lettuce, wild sunflower, wild barley, wild garlic, wild geranium, wild bean vine, wild potato vine, wild sweet potato, wild carrot, wild mustard, and milkweed.

Wire grass and knotgrass are self-descriptive, but carpet weed doesn't grow in carpets and wild touch-me-not has nothing to do with tame forget-me-not.

★ ★ ★

Panic grass is not another name for crabgrass, and lamb's quarters has nothing to do with shepherd's purse.

Morning glory, evening primrose and black nightshade are all weeds, not to mention the late-flowering thoroughwort, a very thorough one indeed.

★ ★ ★

Sweet clover and velvet leaf make up a bit for all the smartweeds, and maybe moneywort would help Poor Joe if Nimble Will could get it for him.

NY Library Microfilms 2 Million Newspapers

Hunting for an 1806 issue of the London Times or a copy of the Sydney (Australia) Morning Herald?

You can find them in the New York Public Library's annex, a division of the reference department which has outgrown the main library's quarters.

★ ★ ★

Over 30,000 bound volumes and 40,000 reels of microfilm amounting to over two million issues are stored in the annex, a mecca for researchers, historians and businessmen.

To Air Common Mart

BONN (UPI) — West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder will go to England next month to discuss Britain's proposed entry into the European Common Market with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, it was announced here.

China and Mongolia Sign Border Treaty

TOKYO (UPI) — Red China and Mongolia signed a border treaty in Peking today, the New China News Agency announced.

The agreement came only 24 hours after Premier Umzhagin Tsendenbal of Mongolia, a former Chinese province that has been a Soviet satellite for two decades, arrived in Peking in response to an invitation by the Chinese premier, Chou En-lai.

★ ★ ★

Chou signed for China and Tsedenbal for Mongolia, the news agency's broadcast dispatch said. Among those looking on were China's president Liu Shao-chi and Mongolian Deputy Premier N. Zhagvaral.

Chinese Claim Capture of 2,156 Indian Soldiers

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China's official New China News Agency today reported that Chinese troops "captured 2,156 Indian officers and men after Nov. 16" in the Sino-Indian border conflict.

★ ★ ★

A New China broadcast monitored in Tokyo said, "included are 15 field-grade officers and 18 company-grade officers."

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Don't Have to Treat Geographic Tongue

Q—What is geographic tongue? What causes it and what can I do for it?

A — Geographic tongue is a harmless condition characterized by bright red areas of no definite shape that look a little like the map of Erewhon or Ump sylvania (before the arm-istice).

BRANDSTADT

★ ★ ★

These areas may change their shape as they progress toward the front and sides of the tongue, then disappear.

★ ★ ★

This cycle may last from two to seven days. The reddened areas usually keep returning at intervals. The cause is not known.

Since the condition is harmless no treatment is required.

The nicest part about it is that no one will know you have this condition if you don't bring the subject up in the course of a conversation or unless you are in the habit of sticking your tongue out.

Why not forget it? If you don't bother it, it won't bother you.

Q—How do you control a nervous stomach accompanied by nausea? I have tried several drugs but nothing seems to work.

A—There are several kinds of nervous stomach and they are due to many causes. As with most of the so-called nervous conditions, there is usually an underlying emotional disturbance.

This may be caused by financial worry, marital unhappiness, a deep-seated anxiety going back to some childhood experience, or any number of similar factors alone or in combination.

Since this is the case, it is not surprising that drugs have not cured you, although some kinds of drugs can sometimes help to break a vicious cycle (the more worry, the more nausea and the more nausea, the more worry).

★ ★ ★

In the end, however, there is not much chance of permanent relief until whatever life situation is causing the trouble is discovered and corrected.

Incidentally, it is often easier to put your finger on the cause than it is to find a way out, but if you think you have found the cause, some solution is almost sure to present itself.

★ ★ ★

Q—My husband is using a formula to promote the growth of hair on his scalp. The formula contains an ovarian extract.

Can it be harmful in any way or cause female characteristics to appear?

A—Estrogens are sometimes helpful in stimulating the growth of hair but the dosage must be very carefully controlled.

If the drug is used externally I do not think that enough estrogen will be absorbed to do any harm, or any good for that matter.

If it is taken by injection or by mouth, when too much is given there is a tendency for the skin and tissues immediately beneath the skin to get waterlogged.

When estrogens are given in this way to male patients over a prolonged period there can be some enlargement of the breasts.

Mayor's Hazardous Holiday

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mayor Philip H. Goodman's efforts to spread Christmas cheer were not entirely successful.

★ ★ ★

He gave his chauffeur the day off, then drove himself to City Hospital for the traditional Christmas visit. But the car became stuck in the snow and Goodman, stepping out to survey the situation, tripped and fell.

Goodman completed his calls at the hospital, ate dinner at the city jail and then went home and called his doctor for treatment of a sprained back.

Has 100th Birthday

MONROE, Wis. (UPI) — Mrs. Carl Marty celebrated her 100th birthday on Christmas Day by watching television as she always does, without glasses.

Mutual Fund Industry Assets Sink in 1962

NEW YORK (AP)—Three sledge-hammer blows rocked the mutual fund industry in 1962.

The industry failed to expand for the first time since 1957 but by many measurements the year was second best to the record performance of 1961.

In early May the Securities and Exchange Commission opened a broad inquiry into the securities business with two weeks of public hearings directed at the qualifications, supervision and sales tactics of mutual fund salesmen.

* * *

Before the month ended, the stock market tumbled into its steepest decline since 1929, slicing millions from the value of securities held by the funds.

Release in late August of a critical, four-year university survey of nearly all sectors of the fund industry was the third staggering blow of the year.

Exactly how much the SEC hearings, the market break and the Wharton report affected fund sales, redemptions and assets was impossible to determine.

However, few fund people argue that all three didn't have some damaging influence.

The industry shrank in size to about $20 billion in net assets from $22.8 billion at the start of the year. The 3½ per cent decline was the first drop since 1957 and compared with a jump of 35 per cent in 1961. The 1962 peak was just above $23 billion on March 31.

In addition, some 25 closed-end funds, as differentiated from the more popular and numerous open end trusts, were worth about $2 billion at the end of the year, off from $2.1 billion a year earlier.

End-of-the-year estimates were projected by the Investment Company Institute, a trade organization, on the basis of 10-month results.

They indicated that share sales would approach $2.7 billion or about 4 per cent below the record $2.95 billion in 1961. That year was 40 per cent above 1960 when sales broke $2 billion for the first time.

Not all 1962 indicators were minus for the industry that invests other people's money for a fee.

* * *

Cash-ins of fund shares were projected at about $1.1 billion for the year or 5 per cent under the record high of $1.2 billion in 1961 when the total was up 50 per cent over the previous year.

However, redemptions as a percentage of sales remained around the 40 per cent level of the last several years. This means that for every 5 shares sold a fund had to buy back 2 shares.

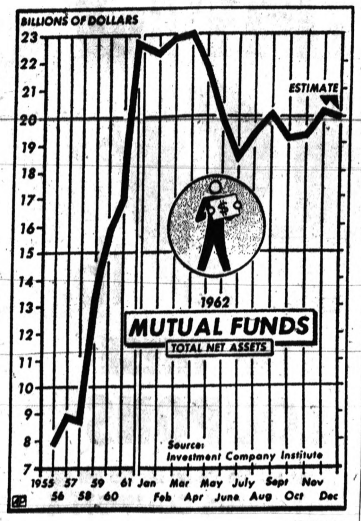

As a percentage of average net assets of institute-member funds, redemptions were expected to dip to 5.1 from 5.8 in 1961 (the highest since 1955.)

The number of fund shareholders was estimated at 3 million, around the 2.95 million at the start of the year. In 1961 the number increased 20 per cent over the previous year.

* * *

The opening of systematic purchase plans for fund shares fell to about 380,000 from 447,000 in 1961 although the number in force rose to nearly 2 million from 1.66 million.

The line-up of the industry's largest funds remained unchanged at year end, with Investors Mutual of Minneapolis leading Massachusetts Investors Trust of Boston in total net assets.

AP Photofax

MUTUAL FUNDS—The Investment Company Institute reported a $2.8-billion drop to about $20 billion in total assets for 1962, the first decline since 1957.

Metropolitan Confab to Talk Negro Homes

DETROIT (UPI) — The two-day metropolitan conference on open occupancy, sponsored by the Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths, will begin Jan. 2 in an effort to help solve the problems of Negro housing in the area.

George Romney, making one of his first official appearances as governor, was scheduled to address a luncheon at the second day of the session.

The conference, to be held at the Rackham Educational Memorial, has received the backing of the Metropolitan Detroit Council of Churches, the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit, and the Jewish Community Council of Metropolitan Detroit.

* * *

The men chosen to represent the various religions have been empowered to speak "authoritatively and officially," a member of the conference's executive committee said.

Dr. Richard C. Hertz will speak for the Jewish Community; Rt. Rev. Hubert A. Maino will represent the Catholics, and the Protestants will be represented by Dr. Allan A. Zaun and the Rev. Charles W. Butler.

The topic of Romney's speech was scheduled to be the "State's responsibility on achieving open occupancy."

A spokesman for the movement said:

"Approaching this program on a neighborhood-by-neighborhood basis, as admirable as that may be, cannot solve so vast a problem. If we proceed on that basis, we are licked.

"But, if we can get the solid backing of the religious-oriented people of the area solidly behind this new spirit, we can win. I don't mean just the church and synagogue members, but every person of good will, every person with moral values, or a committment to what is fair and just."

Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh was also scheduled to address the group.

'Firecracker Blast' Hurts 6 Children in Station

CORINTH, Miss. (UPI) — A firecracker triggered an explosion at a gas station here last night, injuring six youngsters.

Authorities said the firecracker apparently ignited gas, either in a car in which the youngsters were sitting, or in tanks at the station.

Pictorial Review of 1962 News Highlights

SHIPMENT CHECKED — U.S. Navy patrol plane flies overhead as the destroyer USS Barry pulls alongside Soviet freighter Anesov in the Caribbean. It was a chapter in the Cuban crisis as Russia removed missiles from the island in November.

VOTE CASUALTY — Richard Nixon shakes fist during his Beverly Hills "final" press conference after he lost California gubernatorial election in November.

GRAVESIDE HOMAGE — President Kennedy is joined by two former Chief Executives at funeral service for Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N.Y., in November. From left are President Kennedy, Vice President Johnson, former President Harry S. Truman and Mrs. Truman, and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

LATIN UNREST — Rev. Luis Padilla supports wounded soldier in Puerto Cabello during uprising against Venezuelan President Betancourt in June.

FOUND GUILTY — Billie Sol Estes was convicted of swindling in Texas in November. The promoter is under state and federal indictment for his business deals.

HERO HAILED — Astronaut John Glenn waves during triumphal parade in New York in March as millions turned out to cheer the first American to orbit the earth.

DEATH IN BAY — Skindiver rises from the waters of Jamaica Bay after search for victims and clues to the disastrous plunge of a jetliner in March after it took off from New York's Idlewild Airport. All 95 persons aboard perished in the crash. The plane plummeted to earth as it began a turn just after it left the runway.

EYES ON THE BOARD—Spectators watch stock market activity on board from counter at Wall Street brokerage house in May. A heavy price-slashing selling spree on May 28 sent the market to its worst single-day drop since the 1929 crash.

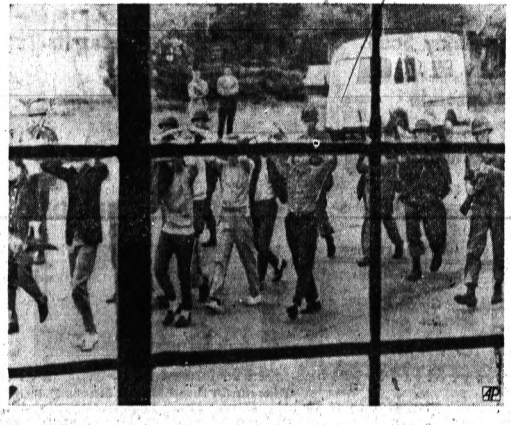

SPACE TANDEM — Soviet cosmonauts Maj. Andrian Nikolayev (left) and Col. Pavel Popovich romp in Russia following their record dual orbital flight in August.

WATERY WELCOME — President Kennedy went for a swim back of the home of his brother-in-law, Peter Lawford, at Santa Monica, Calif., in August. He was recognized and given a friendly mobbing. Some people entered the water fully clothed.

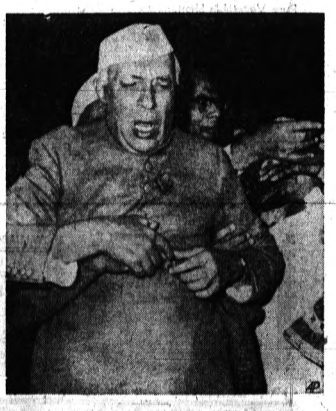

ENROLLED — James H. Meredith was enrolled under guard in October as the first Negro in the University of Mississippi.

ARMY TAKES OVER — U.S. troops escort prisoners to the National Guard Armory in Oxford, home of the University of Mississippi. Riot took place after the attempted enrollment of Negro James H. Meredith at the previously all-white school.

HEARTBREAK — Lee Ying, 19, weeps at Hong Kong after being told she must go back to Red China. She was among thousands of refugees returned in May.

TROUBLED — Security man grabs Indian Prime Minister Nehru to keep him from unruly crowd at Patna in January.

Prices valid thru Mon., Dec. 31st. We reserve the right to limit quantities.

Wings Complete Yule Day With 2-1 Win

Toronto Rally Stopped Short in Last Period

Mahovolich's Goal Only Leaf Tally to Get Past Sawchuk

DETROIT (AP) — On previous Christmases Santa Claus has been a tightwad with the Detroit Red Wings. This Christmas, however, he was his jolly old self.

The Wings, playing before a small Christmas night crowd of 11,003, last night defeated Toronto 2-1 to break two losing streaks and move into a second place tie with the Maple Leafs.

★ ★ ★

The two clubs are now two points behind National Hockey League-leading Chicago, which lost to fourth-place Montreal 6-0 last night. The Wings play the Leafs again tonight at Toronto.

Detroit's victory was its first in four starts and the first in six Christmas night contests.

Two goals by Norm Ullman and Bruce MacGregor did the trick.

Ullman scored his ninth goal of the season at 13.17 of the second period, deflecting Billy McNeill's 45-footer between Toronto goalie Johnny Bower's pads.

★ ★ ★

MacGregor got his fourth of the season at 10:32 of the final frame.

Less than four minutes later, Frank Mahovolich, the NHL's leading scorer, spoiled Detroit goalie Terry Sawchuk's shutout with his 21st goal of the season. It came during a power play at 14:03 of the final period.

★ ★ ★

Ignited by Mahovolich's goal, the Leafs kept play in Detroit's end for most of the remainder of the game but the Red Wings defense held.

Toronto pulled Bower in the final minute for an extra attacker and George Armstrong gave the Wings a scare with a long bouncing shot that Sawchuk moved out of his net to smother.

In the only other NHL game, fifth-place New York lost to cellar-dwelling Boston 6-2.

★ ★ ★

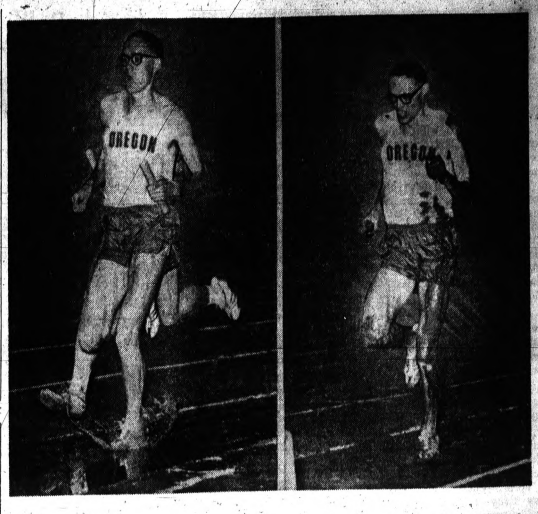

In the game at Chicago, Montreal scored three goals in the first period and had no trouble keeping the Black Hawks in check.

Claude Provost scored twice for the Canadiens, once in the second period and again in the third.

Montreal's Phil Goyette was carried from the ice on a stretcher late in the third peiod after he and Chicago's Eric Nesterenko collided along the boards. Early examination indicated that Goyette's right ankle either had suffered nerve damage or was broken.

Other Montreal goals were by Don Marshall, Dick Moore and Bernie Geoffrion, all in the first period, and Ralph Backstrom, in the final period.

Cincinnati Outscores Piston 5

CINCINNATI (AP)—Detroit went sour in the third quarter last night, giving the Cincinnati Royals the opening they needed.

The Royals, trailing through almost all of the first half of the National Basketball Association contest, outscored the Piston 42-28 in the third frame and squelched a Detroit rally in the final quarter as they posted a 131-120 victory.

★ ★ ★

It took a hot streak of nine points by Cincinnati defenseman Wayne Embry in the dying minutes of the second quarter to help shake the Royals out of a seven point deficit.

The Royals tied it at 53-all and 55-all before nudging ahead, 61-59, at the half.

Embry wound up with 24 points, but he was topped in the Cincinnati scoring column by Oscar Robertson, who had 35 points and 13 assists.

Bailey Howell headed a losing cause with 31 points and a dozen rebounds.

The Pistons outfired Cincinnati 52-49 in field goals, but their free throw shooting was shaky. The Royals sank 33 of 40, while Detroit made good on only 16 of 36.

★ ★ ★

In other NBA games last night, the Syracuse Nationals rallied in the second half to end a three-game losing streak and defeat the New York Knicks 123-111 in the second game of an NBA doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

The resurging San Francisco Warriors scored their fourth victory in a row by beating the St. Louis Hawks 94-91 in the first game.

Badgers, USC Close Doors; Fever Grows

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Wisconsin and Southern California moved behind guarded practice field gates today as Rose Bowl fever surged for the first post season meeting of the nation's top two football powers.

The Badgers and Trojans entered the stretch run of drills for their meeting in the 49th Rose Bowl game New Year's Day while followers argued the merits of their favorite.

West Coast fans, who watched Southern Cal roll up 10 straight victories and earn the No. 1 rating among the country's collegiate teams, are virtually united in the belief that the Trojans are unbeatable. Some appear almost sorry for the visiting Badgers.

CHAMPS

Midwest fans solidly back the Badgers, the champions of the rugged Big Ten and ranked just behind Southern Cal in the final national poll of The Associated Press. Wisconsin had an 8-1 record, losing only to Ohio State.

The two teams intend to settle all debates on the field next Tuesday. They respect each other but are confident. They also nurse the same fear — making mistakes in the game.

"The team which forces the other to make mistakes, either mental or physical, will win," said Southern Cal Coach John McKay. "We'll try to force them to make mistakes and I'm sure they will be trying to do the same to us."

Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn hides a burning desire for victory behind a smile. He figures that this is the year to avenge previous Badger failures in the Rose Bowl — a 7-0 defeat by Southern Cal in 1953 when he was an assistant coach, and a 44-8 humiliation by Washington in 1960.

"We're playing a mighty fine ball club, but we're out here to do a job," Bruhn said. "If we play our game and avoid mistakes we can do it."

Like the coaches, Wisconsin athletic director Ivy Williamson refuses to become involved in discussions comparing the Trojans and the Badgers. However, he doesn't mind giving a comparison of the 1953 bowl team, which he directed as head coach, and the present-day Badgers.

"This team has more depth and more over-all speed than we had 10 years ago," Williamson said. "We had Alan Ameche, but we didn't have any Pat Richter. Of course, you don't find players like Richter too often."

Richter, a 6-foot-6 All-America end, will wind up a brilliant collegiate career in the Jan. 1 classic.

ON MARK — Norbert Donnelly of Pontiac gets on his mark to compete in the 6th annual Rolladium skating championships starting Friday and continuing through Sunday.

400 Skaters Compete in 3-Day Invitational

The 6th annual Rolladium Invitational Skate championships will begin Friday and continue through Sunday with more than 400 skaters from Michigan and 10 other states expected.

Included in the contingent of top skaters will be 12 national champions.

The feature Friday night will be the 26-mile two-man marathon which is expected to take about two hours. It is a new event and trophies will be awarded to the first five marathon teams to cross the line.

The schedule of activities will start at 5:00 p.m. Friday. Saturday the skating will begin at 7:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m.; from 4:30 p.m. until 8:00 p.m. and from 11:00 p.m. to midnight.

Sunday the same schedule will prevail after which trophies will be presented to the top three places in each event, including figures, freestyle, skate dancing, pairs, fours and racing.

Among the representatives will be 75 from the Pontiac area, a total of 150 from Oakland County and the others from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, North Carolina, Missouri, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

The public is invited to watch the meet and director Bert Anselmi says the championships will not interfere with regularly scheduled programs.

DePaul Favored

Cage Classic to Start

HEADS FOR MOTOR CITY — Dennis Freund, 6-1 junior guard leads favored DePaul in the annual Motor City basketball classic which starts Friday night at the U. of D. fieldhouse. Currently among the top 20 teams in the country, DePaul is favored to win the tournament from entries Detroit, Western Michigan and Georgetown.

Chicago Five Meets Western in 1st Game

Titans Must Rebound After Loss to Bucks Last Weekend

DETROIT — The University of Detroit basketball Titans will have a chance to rebound from the 101-66 loss to nationally ranked Ohio State when they go in quest of their fourth consecutive Motor City Tournament crown, Friday and Saturday.

Detroit's first obstacle will be the Hoyas of Georgetown University in the 9:30 p.m. feature Friday evening. Western Michigan and DePaul will square off in the 7:30 p.m. first game.

Based on the early performances of the four competing teams, undefeated DePaul, led by Emmette Bryant and M. C. Thompson, looms as the tourney favorite.

The Blue Demons from Chicago, eliminated from championship consideration by St. Bonaventure in the opening game last year, are 4-0 on the season with wins over Minnesota and Marquette in their last two games.

Western Michigan is 2-5, but DePaul will have to contain the shooting of guard Manny Newsome who is potentially a one-man gang but who gets a lot of help from Bill Street, Ajac Triplett, and Don Petroff, the Michigan transfer.

Georgetown's best win of the season came over Maryland in its second test of the year but since that time the Hoyas have had their troubles, losing four of their last five. Their other win was a road victory at Army.

Detroit coach Bob Calihan, now in his 11th year as head Titan, has seen six of his last ten teams win the Motor City title and victory in this year's classic could end a very busy December for Detroit on a triumphant note and send the Titans into 1963 with a respectable 7-3 record.

In addition to DePaul, Georgetown and Western Michigan will also be making second MCT appearances, the Hoyas having been here in 1953, Western in 1959.

Waterford Rec Archery Begins January 3rd

January 3 is the date of the first session of the 1962 archery league conducted by the Waterford Township Recreation Department. Shooting will be every Thursday from then on at the Community Activities Building on Williams Lake Road at 7 p.m.

Adults and teen-agers alike from Waterford Township and the surrounding area are eligible to sign up. Registration fee is $1.00 and a weekly "shoot" fee is charged.

Teams this winter will be made up of four archers. In past years, five shooters constituted a team, but it is hoped this change will result in more teams entering the league.

Practice rounds and league organization will take place during the first two sessions — Jan. 3 and 10. Interested persons may register in advance at the Recreation Office (OR 4-0376) or on Jan. 3. Limited equipment is available.

TIPS FROM CHAMPS by RAY BLUTH

EXERCISE

Bowling is a healthy exercise.

Doctors attending the American Medical Association convention in Chicago last summer had fine things to say about the sport. It provides "exercise for all four extremities and abdominal muscles," was the opinion of one physician.

"Bowling is good for muscle tone. It requires the use of back muscles, one arm for throwing and the other for balance and it is good for the legs," said another medico.

I recommend one exercise specifically for bowlers. After a long layoff, or perhaps before a tournament, many of us squeeze a rubber ball to condition the fingers.

Loosening and strengthening fingers gives you a firmer grip.

BOWLING

The Ladies Westside Classic at Westside Lanes is embrolled in a two-team race with, McCandless Carpeting and Spartan Air Conditioning having 38 points each.

The women have been hitting fancy scores including the following last week: Nancy Majeski 255, Laura Mead 234, Lois Enden 231, Marguerite Young 619, Vera Holtom 607 and Dorothy White 605. The latter two scores were the first 600 series for Mesdames Holtom and White.

Westside's Pontiac Housewives last Thursday morning say Irene West of Art & Lil's roll 228—539 for the league's top scores that day.

In the Mobil All-Star Classic at 300 Bowl, Ken Pardon had 264—669 to pace the high average league. "Mo" Moore posted his fifth straight 600 series in the loop, a 634 and his league leading average is now 204.

Vern Spencer had a 650 and Irv Gray a 262 for other high achievements.

NEW HIGH

Quick Eat Coney Island leads the 300 Trio circuit after last week's action. A new season mark for high game with handicap was set when Betty Meier totaled a 258 game.

The Huron Bowl's Wednesday night "A" League reported 39 games over the 200 mark last week as Mutt Morse topped the pack with 204-259—647. Morse helped the Triple X team sweep eight points from Erickson's Five.

Chuck Richards had 635, Tony Carey 633 and Don Myers 631 for other leading scores. C&E Marathon now leads the league by 12 games.

The Fawns' margin is only one-half point in the Lakewood Bucks & Does loop after they dropped three points to the second place Tinhorns last week. Fran McCallum's efforts weren't enough although she had 233—589 for the leaders. Loren Aris was top Buck with 562.

At Airway, Ardell Schmidgall scored 219—561 in the Lutheran Mixed League while Gordon York went well above his season average (133) with a 209 game.

The circuit's big news though was the Zoats' sweep into first place after winning four points from the Slo Rollers. It was the latter's first exit from the top spot since late October.

The Four Towns Methodist Church loop reported a two-way tie for the lead after last week's play. The Alley Cats and Twisters have a five game margin over the third place Sidewinders and Strikers.

Dick Wagner, Sr. rolled 215—523 and Cadman Prout had a 208 in the men's activity. Pat Shaw paced the women with 510.

A new women's high series for the season was posted by Irene Aird at Cooley Lanes in the Dublin Community Center League when she rolled a 572. Joe Lesar had 222—603 last week and Don Robinson marked up the high men's season series, a 646.

Cooley's Nite Owl circuit reported George Bone with 200-214—603.

TRAVELLING CLASSIC

In the Travelling Classic circuit, Airway Lanes caught up to the season leader, 300 Bowl, by standing still last week. Lowly Howe's Lanes upset the men from 300 Bowl, 8-5, and knocked the losers into a first place tie with Airway.

Other games saw Westside stay close behind the two leaders with a 13-6 triumph over Cooley Lanes and Wonderland take one of loop's worst beatings, 15-1 from Huron Bowl. Kerry Reitz tallied the lone Bowl. Kerry Reitz tallied the lone Wonderland marker with a 202 mark.

Jack Chambers took point honors by winning five for Westside Lanes while Garth Green starred in a losing cause for the 300 Bowlers, taking four markers with a 235. Chambers had a 247 and Joe Foster's 232 was good for four points.

Wonderland Lanes recently had a one-for-the-book match in its Jacks & Jills League when the Holy Rollers and the M.G.'s tangled. The Holy Rollers captured the first game by one pin, and lost the next two each by one pin, and also total pins by the same margin.

* * *

High scores in the various house leagues included Dave Ebv 253—648 and Larry Prentice 255—643 in the Senior House circuit: Bob Clark 225—611 in the 850 House League; and Jim Tinson's 207 in the Plaza Mixed Loop.

Butterfingers, 'Blues' to Meet in Playoffs

The Butterfingers and defending champions Lotus Lake Blues will meet Jan. 8 in a playoff to decide the first-half-season championship of the Waterford Township Recreation Department men's volleyball league after ending the regular schedule in a first-place deadlock.

Season-long pacesetter Gleeks, who won their first 23 games, dropped six straight on the final night this week to finish in third place.

Bearcats Top AP Rankings

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati's powerful basketball team, proud possessor of a 26-game winning streak, was the choice of the Associated Press panel today as the nation's top college cage team for the fourth straight week.

* * *

The Bearcats, who whipped Dayton and Davidson, surprise conqueror of highly rated Duke, to extend their unbeaten string to eight last week, were the first choice of all 45 sports writers and sportscasters comprising the AP panel. It marked the first time that the Bearcats were made an unanimous choice.

Except for Cincinnati, not a single team retained its place in last week's top ten List.

Unbeaten Ohio State (6-0) an Loyola of Chicago (7-0) each moved up a peg, to second and third respectively. The Buckeyes, who whipped Detroit 101-66 in their only game last week, narrowly edged out the Ramblers for runner-up spot, 376 points to 368.

Big 'M' in 1st With 2 Others Atop NHL List

MONTREAL (AP) — Toronto's Frank Mahovlich scored four points in three games last week, including his 20th goal of the season, and pulled into a tie with three others for the scoring lead in the National Hockey League.

Mahovlich had three goals and an assist and became the first player in the league to hit the 20-goal mark this season. He's tied for the lead with Detroit's Gordie Howe, Chicago's Stan Mikita and New York's Andy Bathgate. Each has 31 points.

Howe, Mikita and Bathgate each scored two goals to increase their production to 13 for the season. Each has 18 assists.

Johnny Bucyk of Boston had two goals and two assists to move into a three-way tie for fifth place with Ab McDonald of Chicago and Murray Oliver of Boston with 29 points each.

Lions, Packers Compete for All-Pro Choices

Detroit Places Five Members With Defense

Karras, Brown Chosen to Tackle Positions on All-Players Team

NEW YORK (NEA) — The defending champion Green Bay Packers again lead the eighth annual All-Players All-Pro team, announced today by Newspaper Enterprise Association and The Pontiac Press.

* * *

The competition is getting stiff. The Detroit Lions, who stunned both pro football and the Packers with a 26-14 whipping on Thanksgiving Day, had five men from their tremendous defensive unit voted to this team, chosen by the players of the National League.

The Packers placed four on offense, two on defense for a total of six and still showed their overall class with seven on the second platoons.

The New York Giants, Eastern Division champions, featured four first team selections, split equally on offense and defense.

The players will be honored with individual trophy presentations, donated by Complete Sports Publications, at the official Pro Bowl luncheon in Los Angeles Jan. 10.

* * *

More than anything else, the men in this rugged contact sport value the esteem of the men they play with and against.

LIONS' JOE

The most phenomenal draw in the history of this balloting is Joe Schmidt, the inspirational middle linebacker of the Detroit Lions.

He attracted more votes for his position than any other player and preserved his record of having made every All-Players All-Pro team since the new concept of honoring achievement was introduced in 1955.

Jim Taylor of Green Bay, winner of the Jim Thorpe Memorial Trophy as the outstanding player in the league, was the pace-setter for the offense.

* * *

Twelve are repeaters from last year's team. They are: quarterback Y. A. Tittle, New York; end Del Shofner, New York; guard Jim Ray Smith, Cleveland; center Jim Ringo, Green Bay; tackle Jim Parker, Baltimore; tight end Mike Ditka, Chicago; safety Jimmy Patton, New York; defensive halfback Dick Lane, Detroit; linebacker Dan Currie, Green Bay; defensive end Gino Marchetti, Baltimore; and Schmidt and Taylor.

The surprise vote was at the offensive running back position, where the Dallas Texans proferred hard-driving Don Perkins. He edged John David Crow of St. Louis and Dick Bass of Los Angeles. Minnesota's brilliant youngster, Tommy Mason, pulled support.

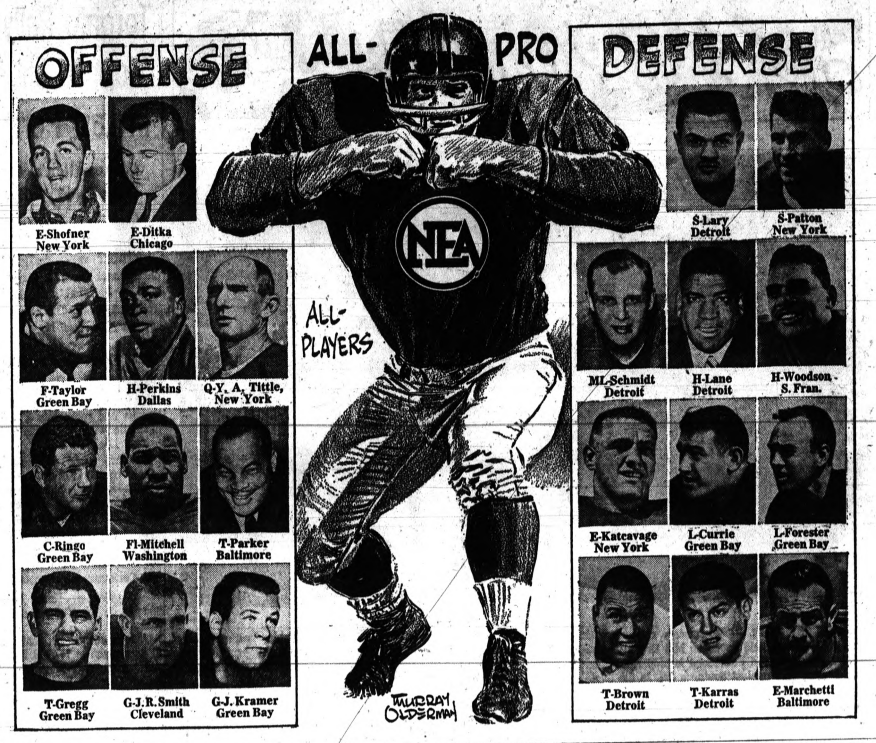

Such perennials as Lennie Moore of Baltimore, Jimmy Brown of Cleveland and Bill George of Chicago were shut out, hampered by injuries.

* * *

Detroit's Yale Lary, spry as ever at 31 and in his ninth season, came back from a three-years' absence on the all-pro rolls to regain the first team.

The phenomenon of 1962, though, was the Lions' defensive bloc. Besides Lary and Schmidt, it was impossible to overlook Night Train Lane and the huge tackle tandem of Roger Brown and Alex Karras.

The Packers might have trouble looking at them next year.

Christmas Victory Ends Tapers' Skid

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia Tapers had good reason to celebrate today. Their famine in the American Basketball League is over.

* * *

The hungry Tapers finally tasted victory Tuesday night after 10 consecutive setbacks. In the only game played, Philadelphia, led by Andy Johnson's 29 points, defeated Pittsburgh Rens 110-102. Long Beach was scheduled to play at Oakland, but the game was postponed to Thursday.

The Rens started strong and grabbed a 31-24 lead at the end of the first period. With Pittsburgh still leading by four points in the second quarter, Johnson sparked the Tapers to an eight-point string and they moved in front 43-39. They were never headed.

Connie Hawkins was Pittsburgh's high scorer with 26 points.

Holiday Tourneys Call College 5s

By The Associated Press

Hey, mom, you can wash those tablecloths. Today's the day junior starts executitgg those basketball plays he's been diagramming on your best linen all week.

* * *

In countless cities, towns, villages and hamlets throughout the country, the scribbling stops and the firing starts as the nation's collegians return from a holiday layoff to the heaviest Christmas tournament schedule in history.

Eight major tournaments get underway today — including the star-studded Top Six—three more join in Thursday and an additional 10 start Friday in action that will reach its peak Saturday when 19 coveted championships will be decided. Numerous minor holiday tourneys also get underway.

Of the country's top ten elite, six will be campaigning for higher honors in the top tourneys—third-ranked Loyola of Chicago, No. 4 Illinois, sixth-ranked Arizona State, No. 7 Southern California, ninth-ranked Stanford and No. 10 Mississippi State.

* * *

The others—top-rated Cincinnati No. 2 Ohio State, fifth-ranked Kentucky and No. 8 Duke—will hold their share of the spotlight, but they'll be outside the tournament limelight.

The big push begins today with the Los Angeles Classic, the Holiday Festival at New York, Quaker City at Philadelphia, All-College at Oklahoma City, Far West at Portland, Ore., and Big Eight at Kansas City grabbing center stage.

Here's the line-up for the Top Six:

Los Angeles Classic—Colorado State U., 5-2, vs. Southern California, 9-0, and St. Louis, 4-3, vs. Washington, 3-3. in afternoon games, Utah State, 7-1, vs. UCLA, 7-2, and Stanford, 7-0, vs. Northwestern, 2-5, in night games.

Holiday Festival—West Virginia, 4-2, vs. Boston College, 3-3, and Holy Cross, 4-1, vs. St. Bonaventure, 3-3, in afternoon. Illinois, 5-0, vs. Penn, 5-0, and NYU, 3-1, vs. Duquesne, 5-1, night.

Quaker City—Providence, 4-2, vs. Delaware, 5-1, and Villanova, 3-2, vs Manhattan, 4-1, afternoon. LaSalle, 4-2, vs. BYU, 3-5, and St. Joseph's, Pa., 5-2, vs. Bowling Green, 4-0, night.

All-College—Creighton, 6-4, vs. Wyoming, 3-4, and Oklahoma City 3-5, vs. Baylor, 3-3. The first round will be completed Thursday with Memphis State, 5-2, vs. Toledo, 4-2, and Chicago Loyola, 7-0, vs. Arkansas, 3-3.

Far West—Iowa, 2-4, vs. Arizona, 5-2, and Oregon, 2-3, vs. Washington State, 2-3. The first round will be completed Thursday with Seattle, 5-1, vs. California, 6-1, and Oregon State, 3-3, vs. Idaho, 5-0.

Big Eight—Colorado, 5-2, vs. Kansas, 4-4, and Iowa State, 4-3, vs. Nebraska, 4-4. The first round will be completed Thursday with Kansas State, 2-5, vs. Missouri, 4-4, and Oklahoma State, 7-1, vs. Oklahoma, 4-4.

New Cut Prices for Safari Trip

The average American deer hunter can fulfill his wildest dream — an African big game safari — according to a spokesman for the newly independent government of Uganda.

A cut-price, 21-day hunting safari to Uganda, East Africa, is now being offered by the Uganda Wildlife Development Company for $2,300, which includes the round-trip Alitalia airfare from New York.

This price also coves the services of a professional white hunter, Winchester guns, game and gun licenses, fishing equipment and boat-trips, with no extras.

The company, which is a subsidiary of the government-owned and financed Uganda Development Corporation, aims to plow back its profits into game conservation measures and to give African local governments in Uganda a full retun for their game and land resources, thus encouraging them to preserve their wildlife.

HALF PRICE

"Our safaris are approximately half the price of any other safaris," Ernest G. Juer, general manager of the Uganda Wildlife Development Company, said in New York during a recent visit.

Without sacrifice to good hunting and comfort, we have cut our prices by full use of staff and equipment so that hunters can obtain a representative but modest bag of game.

"The total take-off of game is strictly supervised by the Uganda Game Department biologists. We are looking for the kind of hunter who relishes stalking through the bush for 10 miles after a good trophy, rather than the hunter who wants to be driven everywhere and wants to kill a large number of game.

★ ★ ★

"We have purchased top flight equipment for the use of our clients. No one need bother worrying about the proper firearms and ammunition for African hunting. We have a complete line of new Winchester big game rifles and shotguns that are furnished without charge to our guests," Mr. Juer said.

Hunters will work from base safari lodges, which are equipped with hunting vehicles and other essential safari facilities. They will also spend some time under canvas in the bush.

Aussie Netters in Early Lead

Laver, Fraser Win in 1st 'Cup' Rounds

BRISBANE Australia (AP)—Rod Laver, playing crushing tennis, and veteran Neale Fraser, hanging on grimly on tiring legs, sent Australia off to an imposing 2-0 lead with the opening singles today in the 1962 Davis Cup challenge round.

The flashy, brilliant Laver uncorked the form that carried him to a grand slam sweep of major championships in smashing Mexico's No. 1 pride, Rafael Osuna, in 69 crisp minutes 6-2, 6-1, 7-5.

Fraser, a 29-year-old, playing in his fifth challenge round weathered a powerful challenge by stylish Antonio Palafox for a 7-9, 6-3, 6-4, 119 triumph that took two hours, 50 minutes.

Thus Australians under wily Captain Harry Hopman were in a position to clinch their tenth Davis Cup victory in the last 12 years Thursday when the doubles will be played on Milton Courts here.

Official Hits Floyd's Pact With Sonny

NEW ORLEANS AP)—An official of the World Boxing Association, disclosing terms of a contract calling for heavyweight champion Sonny Liston to give the man he dethroned — Floyd Patterson—a rematch, says any state or nation allowing such a bout should be suspended by the organization.

Emile Bruneau, chairman of the WBA's world championship committee, told newsmen the contract calls for Liston to give Patterson a rematch or surrender a percentage of his purse in future fights until he has paid the ex-champion $1 million.

In Tacoma, Wash., Dr. Charles P. Larson, president of the WBA —successor to the National Boxing Association—said Bruneau "pretty well expressed the opinion of all of us.

"I'm not going to make any further comment at this time," Larson said Monday, "except to say that we simply feel that a rematch would be the worst thing possible for boxing at the moment."

Liston won the heavyweight crown from Patterson on a first round knockout last September in Chicago.

Sugar Bowl Tourney Draws Top Netters

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Uncle Sam's two brightest hopes of regaining international tennis supremacy, Chuck McKinley and Frank Froehling III, head the field for the Sugar Bowl tennis tourney here.

A total of 16 top net stars, including four members of the United States' Top Ten will compete in singles and doubles on the New Orleans Country Club's clay courts, starting Friday. Finals are scheduled Sunday.

The defending champion, Bernard (Tut) Bartzen, is not competing, having turned professional shortly after he won here last winter. Bartzen and Froehling won the doubles title last year.

McKinley, 21-year-old St Ann, Mo., belter, and Froehling, 20-old collegian from Coral Gables, Fla., received the top two spots in the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association's annual rankings. McKinley was a finalist at Wimbledon in 1961.

No Apparent Favorite for East-West Clash

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A favorite is about the only ingredient missing from preparations for Saturday's East-West Shrine football game.

Outstanding passers, receivers, runners and defenders, including two all-Americas are here to play but they're apparently divided so evenly that a favorite has simply not emerged.

Ask the six coaches who'll win and the only answer is a collection of grins coupled with the true but unrevealing comment that the real winners will be crippled children in the Shriners' Hospital.

★ ★ ★

The East has one edge — its early practices, while part of the West team was fogbound and West head coach Dan Devine was with his Missouri team in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

After early drills, both head coaches like the looks of their aerial games.

Says Jack Moelenkopf of Purdue: "The Shrine is usually a passing game. It's a cinch the West will throw the ball around with their big quarterback Guy (Sonny) Gibbs.

"However, we can move by air. This lad Paul Flatley (Northwestern) is listed as a flanker back. He looks skinny at 186. Actually, he's been performing as a downfield end. He catches long ones with the fine hands of a baseballer, instead of cradling the hide to his chest." Notre Dame's Daryle Lamonica is scheduled to do most of the East passing.

Says Devine: "What I see pleases me, especially the passing potential. I should complain when Gibbs throws ten straight strikes, half to Hugh Campbell (Washington State) and the other swings to Kermit Alexander (UCLA) and Charlie Mitchell (Washington)."

All-American George Saimes from Michigan State, shifted from fullback to halfback, and powerful Roy Walker of Purdue give the East a well-known and potent ground potential.

But Devine isn't conceding anything here. "I'll take this Bill Thornton (Nebraska) for bulling hard yards," he said.

'62 Outdoors Year in Michigan Successful

LANSING (AP) — What kind of a year was 1962 for the legions of Michigan outdoorsmen?

★ ★ ★

From the broad viewpoint of the Michigan Department of Conservation, it was a year of sharper-than-usual contrasts between the good and the bad.

"A great deal was accomplished in 1962 and most of the hunting, fishing and other outdoor activities appear to have maintained or gained in popularity," said one conservation official.

"But the increased activity in some fields serves to illuminate the problems we'll be facing next year and in years to come — most of them having to do with money, or the lack of it."

The financial bind in which the conservation department claims to find itself resulted, in 1962, in a cutback in fish and game research, lake and stream improvement, and the development of public fishing sites.

UNSETTLED

Also left unsettled as the year draws to a close is the court case involving the withholding of some $450,000 from the federal government on the basis of how the state collects license fees.

Michigan is among four states appealing the federal position to the U.S. supreme court. Unless the court sees it the states' way, Michigan could lose $110,000 a year for its game programs.

Afield, there were good times and bad. Hunters bagged an estimated 95,000 deer, for the fifth highest kill on record. Among these were the does and fawns whose status as targets touched off a running fight.

Upper Peninsula groups, objecting to the antlerless season, contended the conservation department was ruining the deer herd. Sen. Charles O. McManiman, D-Houghton, launched a short-lived lawsuit to halt it.

Conservation officials stuck to their argument that the harvesting of antlerless deer was required to keep the herd from becoming unwieldy in size.

Ruffed grouse hunters, with a kill of 500,000 birds, had their best season in nine years. Weather held the pheasant kill below expectations and duck hunters managed a fairly successful season despite federally-imposed rules that were the most restrictive in the state's memory.

Good news came from stream studies of the lamprey eel. There were indications that chemical treatment of eel larvae in the streams was cutting into the numbers of he destructive fish and the conservation commission to help lake trout gain the edge — joined with Wisconsin and Minnesota in closing Lake Superior to commercial fishing on June 1.

Forest fire damage was cut from 8,000 acres in 1961 to not quite 6,000 acres in 1962, a significant improvement in which weather was a factor.

INCREASED POPULARITY

State parks continued to increase in popularity, with 189,000 families using them and revenues from park permits getting a welcomed boost.

The state parks permit-bonding program moved forward in 1962, its second year, with $1 million spent for new recreation lands and $2 million worth of projects in planning stages.

The federal government furnished $750,000 for a comprehensive program for planning for resource development. Some $200,000 of this is destined for a conservation and land study to show what recreational facilities should be developed in the future.

A joint state - federal project also was initiated in 1962 to determine mineral potential in the Western Upper Peninsula.

The conservation commission, held its meeting at locations around the state in an effort to get closer to the people most concerned with its affairs.

CONSERVATION — Victory over the sea lamprey appeared close at hand in Lake Superior as a result of chemical treatment of streams in recent years — firearm hunters registered the fifth highest deer kill in the state's history — outdoor recreation reached new heights in popularity and pointed up broadenirig challenges for state lands. These stood out as some of Michigan's top developments in conservation — resource management and use — during 1962. Hopes of meeting future leisure-time needs were lifted when a $200,000 federal grant was made to carry out a state-wide recreation and land conservation plan.

Near-Zero Readings Again to 'Bless' Green Bay

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Bitter cold weather once more grips the training camp of the Green Bay Packers as they prepare for the National Football League title game — and that might be a good omen.

Temperatures were near zero as the Packers, idle for a two-day Christmas holiday, were scheduled to resume workouts Friday for Sunday's championship game with the Giants in New York.

Last year when the same clubs played here for the crown, the Packers seemed to grow stronger because of the heavy snow and arctic winds that swept the training camp. The Giants came prepared for the worst kind of weather and were whipped 37-0.

WEATHER FACTOR

The weather might again be a psychological factor, but there are two other factors that probably will be more important in deciding the game. They are the clubs' quarterbacks—Bart Starr of the Packers and Y. A. Tittle for the Giants.

Both are craftsmen, but in different spheres.

The Packers, hit hardest on the ground and use the pass to keep the road from getting too rocky.

By way of comparison, Tittle probably is the more daring and a better long passer. Starr is the most accurate passer in the league and a faultless signal caller.

STARR RECORD

The record shows Starr with 285 passes, good for 178 completions and 2,438 yards. He's averaged 8.55 yards per completion tossed for 12 touchdowns and had only nine aerials intercepted.

Tittle, who has had his best season in 15 years in the pro ranks, completed 200 of 375 attempted passes, gaining 3,224 yards. He tossed for a record 33 touchdowns and averaged 8.60 yards and 20 of his aerials were grabbed by the opposition.

★ ★ ★

Starr is not as likely as Tittle to call a successful unorthodox play, but he won't have as many plays backfire, either, and is the perfect quarterback for the Packer theory that the team making the fewest mistakes wins the most.

Starr appreciates and makes the most of his team's running ability; Tittle's flair keeps the Giant offense always alert.

Many of Starr's passes develop on plays that start out looking like runs. On a third down and one yard to go situation in the season final in Los Angeles, Starr faked fullback Jim Taylor into the line and flipped a scoring pass to halfback Paul Hornung on a play that covered 83 yards.

Tittle also can start one way and finish another. When opposing linebackers have closed in during the past season he's tossed screen passes to Alex Webster for long gains. And twice in the regular season he hid the ball on his hip and scooted spryly around end to score the touchdowns himself.

Feuding AAU, NCAA to Have 5-Star Ref

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur has accepted President Kennedy's request to try to referee the feud over certification of U.S. athletes for the 1964 Olympic Games.

★ ★ ★

The holiday White House announced Monday that the five star general would try to work out a certification agreement between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

But it was understood that only the NCAA was willing at this time to accept arbitration. The AAU, which is being challenged by the NCAA for authority to certify American athletes for the 1964 summer Olympics in Tokyo, most poll its 32-man executive committee before agreeing to the talks.

The White House said in anment:

The President hopes that both parties in this dispute will accept the services of this distinguished American whose long devotion to the nation's interests and whose long connection with the field of sports uniquely qualified him for this assignment." It said the dispute is "threatening the formation of the 1964 U.S. Olympic teams."

MacArthur, now 82, was the middle man in a similar dispute between the two organizations 34 years ago. He served as president of the 1928 American Olympic Committee at a time when the NCAA was emerging as a factor in U.S. amateur sports. He accompanied the 1928 American Olympic team to the Amsterdam games.

Royal Oak Athlete Is Red Sox Rookie of Year

BOSTON (AP)—Fireman Dick Radatz, the whiplash right-hander has been named the Boston Red Sox Rookie of the Year and will be honored Jan. 23.

Radatz was picked by the Boston Baseball Writers as the team's outstanding new star. Their dinner at the Hotel Bradford will be the occasion of the award presentation.

McGill Rules Shooting Hill

NEW YORK (AP)—Rookie Billy McGill moved into the lead in field goal percentage and Guy Rodgers took the lead in assists in last week's action in the National Basketball Association.

McGill, a 1961-62 All-America now playing for Chicago, has been among the best all season, but just this week went over the minimum requirements and holds the top spot with a smashing .566 percentage accuracy.

★ ★ ★

Walt Bellamy, a rookie with Chicago last season, set the record last season with a 513 total.

Rodgers of San Francisco moved ahead of Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson in the assist race, 309-301.

Nieder Seeks Return as Amateur Trackman

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bill Nieder, the 1960 Olympic shot put champion, wants to become an amateur again.

Nieder, holder of the former world record of 65 feet, 10 inches, became a professional boxer after winning a gold medal in the shot put at the 1960 Olympics in Rome. But he says he received only bare expenses during his brief boxing career, and he has asked for reinstatement as an amateur.

Nieder, former University of Kansas athlete and now a Southern California business representative, hopes to be re-instated in time for the coming indoor track season.

'62 a Grim Year in Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Death and depression haunted Hollywood in 1962, making it one of the grimmest years in memory.

Death robbed the movie capital of some of its brightest stars. Production sank to an alltime low of 138 films, a 26 per cent drop from 1961.

It wasn't all tragedy. As the year ended, there were hopeful signs that the film industry might stage a comeback in 1963. At least the running - away of filming to far-off places seems less attractive after "Cleopatra" and other fiscal disasters.

THOMAS

As is an annual custom, I have picked the 10 Hollywood stories that seemed most newsworthy and significant in the past year.

1. The death of Marilyn Monroe. The tale of the poor girl who become one of the world's most famous personages reached a crashing climax when she died from an overdose of sleeping pills.

2. Eddie Fisher-Elisabeth Taylor-Richard Burton. Much of this soapy saga was played out in Rome but it had repercussions in Hollywood. The story isn't over yet, except perhaps for Eddie Fisher.

3. MCA. This giant corporation decided on dissolution of its talent agency and merger with Universal-Decca to form an immense entertainment combine. MCA had to face a government anti-trust suit before doing so.

4. Charles Laughton dies. The great, beloved portrayer of characters met death from cancer with the same dignity with which he conducted his life.

★ ★ ★

5. Zanuck takes over Fox. After a few years of producing films abroad, Daryl Zanuck returned to the firm he founded and strove mightily to halt its drift into bankruptcy.

6. Frank Sinatra-Juliet Prowse. This was a story that didn't quite come off, but it was lively while it lasted. Sinatra announced his engagement to the South African dancer, but both thought better of it when she made known she wouldn't give up her career.

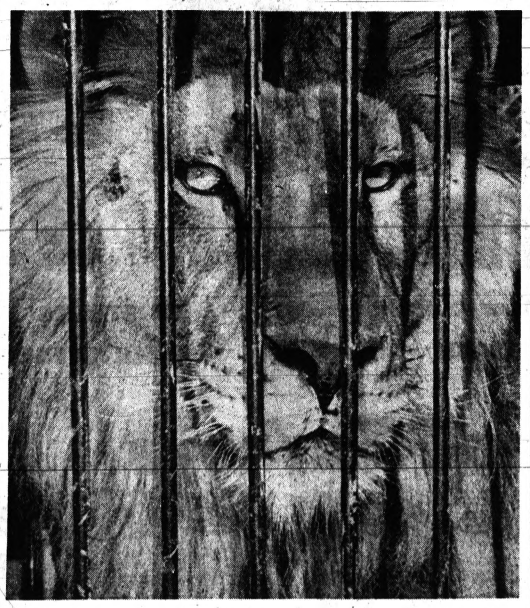

7. Ernie Kovacs killed. The imaginative comedian met quick death in an auto crash as he drove home from a film society party.

8. Oscar's foreign aid program. The Motion Picture Academy in a burst of international good will gave its top acting awards to a pair of foreign citizens, Sophia Loren and Maximilian Schell.

9. Janet Leigh-Tony Curtis divorce. This was perhaps the most notable split in a year that was hard on famous marriages. Other casualties: Rosemary Clooney-Jose Ferrer; Lana Turner-Fred May; Jayne Mansfield-Mickey Hargitay; Van and Evie Johnson.

★ ★ ★

10. Grace Kelly returns. Only she didn't. The princess of Monaco announced she would make a movie for her old boss Alfred Hitchcock, then reneged. Maybe next year.

LONESOME LEO—An orphaned African lion peers soulfully from its cage at Maytag Zoo in Phoenix, Ariz., after being rescued from cramped trailer quarters on nearby farm. The farmer said the lion was left by a man who asked permission to leave it a day or two. The man never returned. Underfed and nearly dehydrated from lack of water, Lonesome Leo got first-class treatment at the zoo which may seek a court order to keep it.

Social Security Tax Up Soon

The Social Security tax rate on both the worker and employer will increase in January, reminds William E. LaRock, Pontiac Social Security district manager.

The new rate will be 3⅝ per cent, representing an increase of one-half of 1 per cent each.

★ ★ ★

The self-employed will pay a tax of 5.4 per cent of their net earnings in 1963.

This means tha tthe person who works as an employe will pay 50 cents more on each $100 of earnings up to the top taxable earnings of $4,800. The same amount will be paid by his employer.

For the self-employed, the increase will amount to 70 cents more on each $100 of taxable earnings, up to the maximum of $4,800.

★ ★ ★

LaRock explained that the number of people who receive Social Security benefits will continue to increase year after year.

To cover the cost of paying benefits to an increasing number of people, the law provides for gradual increases in the Social Security tax rates.

★ ★ ★

The 1963 increase, along with those which will take effect in 1966 and 1968, is designed to provide ample funds for keeping the Social Security system self-supporting.

Cosmonaut to Visit Cuba for Festivities

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Soviet cosmonaut Pavel Popovich will visit Havana to participate in the festivities commemorating the fourth anniversary of Cuba's socialist revolution, Havana radio said today.

★ ★ ★

The broadcast, monitored here, said Popovich will head the Soviet delegation to the Cuban anniversary celebration, arriving in Havana tomorrow or the day after, at the invitation of the revolutionary government.

The Cuban radio praised Popovich as "one of the Russian twin astronauts who circled the earth 48 times, astonishing the world after a successful 1.25-million-mile orbital flight."

Yule Brings Third Noel

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The third Noel arrived Tuesday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Noel of Hamden on Christmas morning was a 7-pound, 8-ounce son.

A spokesman at race-New Haven Hospital said Mrs. Noel and her new son, who will be named James Robert, are doing fine.

★ ★ ★

The Noels have two other children, a daughter, 7, and a son, 3. Said the joyous Mrs. Noel: "This makes our Christmas complete."

NEW BOYS' QUARTERS — A model of a new home for youths who receive job training at Camp Oakland near Oxford is unwrapped by Mrs. Ben D. Mills and camp director William J. Matus. Mrs. Mills is chairman of the women's fund raising committee for the camp.

Youths to Help Build Home for Dropouts

A do-it-yourself project for boys who have dropped out of school will provide year-round quarters for them at Camp Oakland.

Plans for a home for 16 dropouts receiving vocational training at the Oxford camp have been announced by Walter Gehrke, president of the facility's board of directors.

He said each of the 15- to 17-year-old youths would be encouraged to join in the construction work. Camp directors, Gehrke said, believe personal participation will add to each boy's future enjoyment and benefit.

Previously, school dropouts referred to Camp Oakland by Juvenile Court could stay only 10 months because of limited facilities.

The new structure, scheduled for completion by mid-June, will enable the boys to remain at the camp until they complete a training program and jobs are obtained for them.

The new frame building will include a lounge, dining room, front porch and living quarters for 16 youths and a counselor. The design allows for a future expansion to accommodate 16 more youths.

Both county and private funds support Camp Oakland. Gehrke said the camp's leaders hope to encourage other counties to set up similar programs to meet the problem of school dropouts unable to find employment.

"If we keep the cost low," Gherke said, "we can prove that other counties can have a camp such as this economically."

Guard Out to 'Show' McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army National Guard—wearing a "we'll show McNamara" chip on its shoulder—will open an aggressive recruiting drive in the new year.

Informed sources, disclosing this today, said they are confident the Guard can reach its goal of 400,000 men. It now is about 25,000 short.

They indicated the effort will be spurred by a desire to disprove Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's skepticism that it can be done.

Earlier this year, McNamara sought to trim Army Guard and Reserve strength by 58,000 men on grounds it was not possible without lowering standards to recruit enough men to maintain the Guard at 400,000 and the Reserve at 300,000. Under his proposal, the Guard would have taken a 33,000-man cut and the Reserve a 25,000-man reduction.

Congress directed the Defense Department to make every effort to muster the higher strength without sacrificing quality. Since then the Army has boosted its standards for Guard and Reserve recruits, making it even tougher to reach the manpower objective.

Knowledgeable officials said Guard recruiting would be helped if final agreement could be reached quickly between the Pentagon and state governors on a controversial streamlining of the Guard structure.

A chief feature of the Army-McNamara plan calls for reconstituting four low priority Guard infantry divisions into brigades with a quicker reaction capability in a national emergency.

The Army also wants to lop off a net of 338 obsolete company and detachment-size Guard units.

A parallel Reserve reorganization of roughly the same magnitude already is under way, with a March 31 deadline for completion.

Malaya produces 35 per cent of the world's natural rubber supply.

Doris Day to Make Film Started by MM

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Twentieth Century - Fox has dusted off "Something's Got to Give"—the film the late Marilyn Monroe was fired from—as a starring vehicle for Doris Day.

Fox, which announced the project today, said the script is being rewritten from the form in which it starred Miss Monroe, who took an overdose of sleeping tablets a few weeks after being sacked for frequent tardiness.

Dean Martin, Miss Monroe's co-star—who created a controversy by declining to appear without her—will not be in the new version. Neither will Cyd Charisse, who also starred in the never-completed original.

'Call Dr. Blue' for Disaster

"Calling Dr. Blue . . . calling Dr. Blue . . ."

* * *

This call, heard over the public address system at Pontiac General Hospital, could mean real trouble.

It could also change the life of Dr. Jane Blue of 19125 Hillcrest St., Beverly Hills, a member of Pontiac General's honorary staff.

"Calling Dr. Blue" is the alert of a natural or man-made disaster at Pontiac General.

* * *

For on-duty personnel, "Calling Dr. Blue" means they must report immediately to their normal place of work and await instructions from supervisors.

POSSIBLE DISASTER

But the pamphlet describing the hospital's disaster plan doesn't consider what a phonetic faux pas could do to folks like Dr. Gilbert B. Bluhm of Royal Oak, or Dr. Victor Bloom of Oak Park, should either have a patient at Pontiac General.

* * *

Or dentists like Drs. Herbert J. Bloom of West Bloomfield Township, or Gerald J. Bloom of Oak Park, or Michael J. Blume of Royal Oak.

Fortunately for the civil defense program, most of the Blue" Blooms and related subjects are concentrated in the south end of Oakland County.

The "Calling Dr. Blue" alert will be repeated 10 times in case of disaster.

Off-duty personnel, upon hearing a radio or siren alert, are to report to the hospital as soon as possible.

A personnel pool has been established as a working unit of the hospital for employes who can't report to their normal place of work.

It will be located in a first floor room at the northeast corner of the building. Personnel will be assigned to various areas by pool coordinators.

3 OBJECTIVES

The disaster plan has three major objectives.

* * *

1 — To admit many casualties rapidly.

2 —To provide initial and continued care of casualties and critically ill noncasualty patients.

3 — To protect present patients and provide for their evacuation from the hospital.

* * *

Administrators estimate the hospital will have to expand its bed capacity 10 times in a major disaster.

"The use of nearby buildings is being considered," said Harold B. Euler, administrator.

Another assumption is that the hospital may be on its own for one or two weeks in a major disaster.

* * *

Therefore, personnel as well as operations must be as self sufficient as possible, the pamphlet points out.

The hospital will also provide radiological monitoring teams in order to screen and decontaminate casualties.

The pamphlet also outlines duties of other agencies such as the Michigan Department of Health and Oakland County Health Department.

* * *

Shelter areas capable of housing 3,128 people have already been designated and marked at Pontiac General.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

East took his ace and king of hearts and continued with the ten spot. South was certain that West was out of hearts and ruffed with the queen of trumps.

South's next play was the ten of trumps. He considered the idea of a finesse, but abandoned it and played the ace and then the king from dummy. This combination of plays established West's jack of trumps. South had to lose a club trick later on and was down one.

JACOBY

As is customary when things go badly, South complained about his luck. He pointed out that the jack of trump might have dropped or that the club finesse would have worked for anyone who wasn't cursed by the gods of chance.

It all sounded fine, but South had a lead pipe cinch for the hand.

To insure his contract South should have discarded a club on the ten of hearts. If West trumped that would be his last trick because South would draw trumps and eventually discard another club on the jack of hearts. If West did not ruff South would never lose a trump trick.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Thursday

"The wise man controls his destiny"
Astrology points the way:

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Spotlight on ability to respond to IMMEDIATE NEEDS of friends, associates. Key to acceptance of added responsibility. You gain reward from "coming through in pinch."

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Change variety, relaxation, dealings with members of opposite sex all highlighted today. You are able to put across point of view. You appeal to many who previously ignored you. Fine day.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Excellent for reviewing immediate past and for putting experience to use. Gather friends, family. Have evening where you "open up." Permit warmth of human companionship to permeate surroundings.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Today avoid tendency to rush, push, or insist on "your way." Be considerate. Avoid brooding; let the past be the past. Don't repeat mistakes. Hold no grudges.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): You are "stirred" by revelation of one close to you. Maintain calm. Utilize ability to accept multi-hued facets of situation. Refuse to compromise principles. Day when you are being "tested."

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Good lunar aspect; today coincides with ability to perceive motives of others. And to "see" into future possibilities. Pay close attention to hunches, impressions.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Strength lies in ability to see FACTS as they exist. Trying to "alibi" is sure sign of weakness. Remain calm. Determine course of action—follow it through. Take initiative!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Be a good listener. Collect facts. Keep up with news, current events. Piece together bits of information. Use powers of analysis to come up with complete story. Social contact tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Stress patience. Avoid scattering your forces. Ignore one who "panics." Be deliberate in actions. Much in your favor if you delve deep. Refuse to be satisfied with the superficial.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Like Aries, put beliefs on the line. Speak. Stand up for what you believe is right. Cycle high. You can gain friends, influence people by adhering to principles.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Tendency is for others to want to SHARE SECRETS. Be sure you are not put in position of taking on another's responsibilities. Be sensible. You obtain nothing for nothing. Stress the PRACTICAL.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Many of your fondest aspirations are close to realization. ACT ACCORDINGLY. Be gracious. Help older individual who requires aid in performing minor task. Be generous.

* * *

IF THURSDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you are warm, giving individual. But, at times, you attract persons who are only too willing to "take." You have solid footing for achieving ambitions.

* * *

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Stress is on the PRACTICAL. All could benefit from today's AQUARIUS interpretation.

Moderately Active Trading

Stock Market Advances

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market carved out a fairly sharp advance early this afternoon showing its liveliest mood in about a week. Trading was moderately active.

Key stocks rose from fractions to more than a point in some sections but most movements were small.

The list was barely higher at the start, apparently still affected by Christmas doldrums. As time went on, however, there was a lively revival of speculative demand and some of the more volatile issues moved upward vigorously.

MOTORS GAIN

Motors, steels, oils, chemicals, nonferrous metals, and electrical equipments were among the gainers.

Brokers said the fact that President Kennedy had called conferences on tax cuts and budget problems, even though the talks were delayed by transportation troubles, fed hope that action on a tax cut would be fairly prompt when Congress reconvenes.

Gains of more than 2 points were held by Du Pont and IBM. Up about 2 were Amerada and Polaroid.

FORD HITS HIGH

Ford, which lately has been obscured by the upsurges of General Motors and Chrysler, touched a new high for the year as it advanced nearly a point.

Prices were mostly higher on the American Stock Exchange in moderate trading. Syntex was up about a point.

U.S. Bonds Edge Upward

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. government bond prices continued to edge upward at the opening today in quiet trading.

Corporates were mostly unchanged in limited dealings on the New York Stock Exchange.

The holiday mood of the last four days evidently carried into today's session, one dealer said.

Most governments and corporates were trading at 1962 highs.

Long term Treasury bonds were up 2/32 to 4/32 while intermediates were generally unchanged.

Winter Storm Blasts Europe

LONDON (UPI) — A winter storm that gave Europe one of its coldest and whitest Christmases in history kept holiday travelers stranded in parts of the continent today.

Snow brought by icy winds out of Russia blanketed Europe from Scandinavia to Italy, although a warm Mediterranean wind began to clear the central Italian slopes.

Traffic deaths rose to at least 111 as travelers headed for home from Christmas outings. There were 47 deaths reported on British highways and 15 in Italy. Nine persons died in Holland, including three who drowned when they fell through ice.

In normally temperate London, the temperature fell to 29 degrees yesterday, giving the city its coldest Christmas Day since 1944. Paris had its coldest Christmas in 83 years with a low temperature of 5 degrees.

Big Beds Mean Gay Headboards

Four out of five American adults who share double beds are sleeping in space no wider than a child's crib, says an executive of a major bedding manufacturer.

★ ★ ★

If you are tired of sleeping in such cramped quarters, why not join those who are purchasing king-size beds for their nocturnal comfort?

HEADBOARDS

This move to bigger beds has brought with it a demand for more imaginative headboards. One idea calls for a headboard of ceramic tile.

Mounted on the wall behind the bed, the tile adds luxurious touches to the oversized bed. By eliminating a headboard attachment, a tile wall adds another couple of inches of floor space to a room.

The many decorative and sculptured tiles now available in more than 250 shades make it easy to select the right pattern for your headboard.

There even are special designs for people with special interests, such as fish for the homemaker with a nautical preference, floral patterns for the horticulturist, etc.

Once installed, a tile headboard will wear better, and require less maintenance, than one of any other material.

That's because real tile can't be stained or scratched. It's even fireproof. An occasional dusting with a damp cloth will keep it looking new forever.

Women Can Spell

LONDON (AP) — The London School of Speedwriting says it has no trouble placing older women from 35 to 45, whose families no longer require their full attention, and who want to renew their business careers. Employers, the school says, have found that the older women can spell, a quality said to be "sadly lacking" in the younger applicants."

Stepped Into Trouble

DOTHAN, Ala. (AP) — Farmer Mack B. Parrish says he'll look twice in the future before donning his rain boots. Parrish was pulling on one of his boots when a rattlesnake sank its fangs into his foot. The reptile had crawled into the boot which Parrish kept in an outbuilding for use in wet weather.

He Did 'Sleep Here'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In many cases the much-belabored phrase, "George Washington slept here," is simple truth. During his travels and campaigns, Washington kept a careful diary of all his stops. He felt it incumbent upon him as President to stay in public hostels rather than private homes. Many still stand today.

Three Cakes Same Day

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The baby is new but the birthday is the same at the Alban McCann home. The McCanns' new daughter was born Sept. 16. So was son Danny, now a year old, and a third child Chrissie, now 2.

Knows Psalms at 7

SCHULTER, Okla. (AP)—Asked in Bible School to give a line from the 23rd Psalm, 7-year-old Danny Bales—according to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bales—stood up and said: "Thy rod and thy reel doth comfort me."

Heating System May Spread Colds in Family

Has it ever occurred to you that your home's heating system may be partially responsible for the family coming down with colds or influenza each winter?

★ ★ ★

This is a plausible conjecture, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, because many heating systems actually spread germs from one person to another, and from room to room in the home, by means of heavy blasts of warm air.

Although very little is known about how a cold or a case of flu starts, medical authorities are agreed that it is safest to avoid close contact with someone who is afflicted with one or the other, since the germs can easily be spread by coughing and sneezing, even breathing.

The drafts of warm air caused by many heating systems, says the bureau, can obviously extend the range of a germ-laden cough or sneeze, and increase the chance of transmitting the germs to the whole family.

The best solution to this wintertime problem, according to the bureau, is modern hydronic heating.

Pipes filled with circulating hot water transmit radiant heat from special baseboards, the floor, ceiling or walls, radiators or convectors. Convectors additionally give a natural circulation of heated air.

Unlike forced air systems, hydronic heating systems do not produce warm air drafts that spread germs, pollens and dust.

A reputable plumbing - heating contractor is your best source of information about which form of hydronic heating is best for each home.

Blends With Trees

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The 500,000-gallon water tank on Panoramic Hill adjacent to the University of California will be green instead of its usual gray. The Oakland City Planning Commission Board of Adjustments granted a variance to the district for the tank on condition that it be painted an "appropriate shade of green." The request first was made by four neighboring property owners.

Get Your Own Goat

STAFFORD, England (AP)—Individual goats from the 600-year-old herd on the Bagot family estate at Blithfield may now be purchased. There is one catch. Prospective purchasers must be prepared to round up their prospective purchases. The goats, of a black-faced breed descended from animals given to the Bagot family by Richard II, roam wild over the 2,000-acre estate.

OLD FRIENDS — Famed songwriter Irving Berlin, 74, fingers the yellowed keys of scarred old piano he bought more than 50 years ago and which has traveled thousands of miles with him on tours.

Counselor Ratio Is Decreasing

Oakland County junior and senior high school students are assured of more counseling this year than ever before, according to a report of the Oakland Area Counselors Association.

Last year the counselor-pupil ratio was one counselor to 420 students in grades seven through 12. This year countywide figures show one counselor to 360 secondary students.

Dr. William Moorhouse, Oakland County Board of Education director of the county guidance program, said the North Central Association of Secondary Schools requires one counselor to 300 students for accreditation.

Most of the county senior high schools meet the recommended ratio. Since not all junior high schools have counselors, the combined ratio has not yet reached the one to 300 mark.

Dr. Moorhouse also noted that persons with such titles as assistant principal, curriculum coordinator, attendance director, dean of boys or dean of girls are not included in the number of counselors, although some of these people do counseling work.

There are 235 counselors and teacher-counselors in Oakland County this school year. All are not released full time for counseling. The time they have for counseling is the equivalent of 189 counselors for an estimated 68,000 junior and senior high pupils.

Last year 191 counselors and teacher-counselors provided an equivalent of 160 counselors for 65,551 junior and senior high pupils.

Will Arrange GOP Confab

Republican County Chairman Charles L. Lyle today announced the appointment of Alvin Balden of Huntington Woods as county convention arrangements chairman for 1963.

Balden, who will be responsible for arranging Jan. 22 legislative caucuses and the Jan. 30 county convention, was 1962 state chairman for the GOP's voter registration drive and chief assistant to Gov.-elect George W. Romney's campaign manager.

A staff chemical engineer with Chrysler Corp., Balden had been one of four county representatives to the Republican State Central Committee since 1961 and presently serves as research chairman for the county party organization.

Lyle also announced the appointment of Mrs. Joseph Hainline, 735 Robinhood Circle, and Mrs. Mary K. Hain, 2820 Amberly Road, both of Bloomfield Township, as codirectors of county personnel for the party.

Mrs. Hainline is first vice president of the Oakland County Council of Republican Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Hain has worked as a volunteer for the party for several years.

Hey, How 'Bout That?

Two Are Hurt as Car Strikes Rear of 2nd

A mother and daughter were injured yesterday when the car they were riding in ran into the rear of another on Telegraph Road at Edna Street.

Mrs. Sella Melvin, 52, and her daughter Amy, 19, both of Hillman, are in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital. Mrs. Melvin has possible rib fractures while both suffered facial lacerations.

They were in a car driven by Mrs. Melvin's son, Gerald L., 23, of Hillman, when it smashed into a car driven by Stanley M. Zwolan, 36, of Allen Park.

★ ★ ★

Melvin was treated and released from the hospital.

Zwolan told Pontiac police that he was waiting to make a left turn from Telegraph Road when he was struck from behind. The accident occurred at 7:10 p.m.

Texan Wrecks Old Legend

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Kenneth Wayne Eaves shook his head angrily and decided $200 was too big a fine to pay for speeding 40 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone.

His decision to fight city hall has established a precedent in Texas law.

From now on when a person is convicted of speeding in Texas the prosecution must prove not only that the offender exceeded the speed limits, but that his act was "unreasonable and imprudent."

★ ★ ★

When Eaves won his fight motorists began appealing speeding convictions by the thousands. Dozens of cities were forced to revise traffic tickets.

TENACIOUS FIGHTER

Eaves was a tenacious fighter. His battle went all the way from Corporation Court to the State Court of Criminal Appeals, the highest criminal court in Texas.

If Eaves' wife Sandra had not been expecting their first baby when he drew the unusually high fine, the law might still be the same.

"We were a little pinched for money, and I decided that fine was too much," said Eaves, a 22-year-old route man for a Houston soft drink firm. "I've never heard of anyone else paying that much for speeding.

★ ★ ★

Eaves' attorney, Howard M. Wayland, appealed to the Harris County Court-at-Law, and Judge Billy Ragan upheld his contention that "unreasonable and imprudent speed" should be a proper element of proof.

★ ★ ★

Noting the impact of the decision, the district attorneys staff appealed to the Criminal Appeals court and Ragan was affirmed.

Save Common String

MARGATE, England (AP) — A recent string-savers paradise here was a special show exhibiting works of art made of string, displayed at the Theatre Royal. One mobile - type hanging display, involving many strings of different lengths intricately entwined, was entitled "Common Market."

TV Blamed for $4,000 Fire

A fire, started by a short in the wiring of a television set, caused an estimated $4,000 damage to a Pontiac home yesterday.

The blaze in the one-story frame home of the Donald Sheldons, 674 Stirling Ave., was confined to the living room.

The family was not home when the fire was discovered by a neighbor who saw smoke coming from a vent in the attic.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Sheldon said most of the damage was to furniture, and only a few Christmas gifts were destroyed.

Pontiac firemen were at the scene for less than an hour. The fire was reported at 6:45 p.m.

Woman Hurt in Car Crash

A 53-year-old woman is in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital following a two - car crash yesterday in Pontiac Township.

Mrs. Ester Stephens, 160 Auburn Road, Pontiac Township, suffered chest injuries and a fractured knee in the accident.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband Charles E., 62, when it collided with another driven by William J. Anderton, 66, of Trenton. Stephens was treated for minor injuries at the hospital and released.

The two cars collided about 2:30 p.m. as Anderton was attempting to make a left turn from Auburn Road onto Adams Road, according to sheriff deputies. The cars were traveling in opposite directions.

Poor Driver Is the One Prone for Accidents

NEW YORK (UPI) — Drivers who commit traffic violations are particularly likely to have accidents, according to a life insurance company.

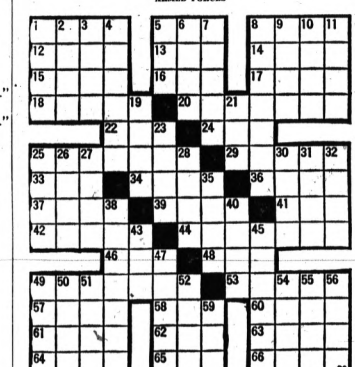

A study of Iowa drivers, it said, showed the ratio of actual accidents to the number expected was 134 per cent among drivers with two or more violations.

Speeding, improper passing and failure to observe stop signs were the most highly associated with accidents, the company said.

State Houses Set to Adjourn

Reconvene Thursday for Formal Close

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan legislature, which went into a politically motivated recess last July 26 will reconvene tomorrow to formally adjourn the 1962 session.

The main effect of the meeting will be to start the countdown toward the enactment date of 164 public acts, or laws, passed previously. The statutes take effect 90 days after adjournment, which would be March 28 if the House and Senate vote themselves out of business tomorrow as expected.

The Republican-dominated legislature refused to adjourn earlier this year to prevent Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson, who is now only five days away from being succeeded by Governor-elect George Romney, from calling a special session.

SOUGHT CONSIDERATION

Swainson had hoped at a special session he could get further consideration for enabling legislation that would have made Michigan eligible for aid to dependent children - unemployed benefits. The legislature has several times rejected the ADC bill.

Probably the most important action at tomorrow's session will be a caucus of the Republican majority of the next Senate. The GOP senators are due to name their caucus chairman and floor leader and also to select committee chairmen and make committee assignments for the next session.

Sen. Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair) is favored to win back the leadership post he was ousted from last spring after a coalition of Republican moderates and Democrats failed in their bid to enact a taxation reform program that included an income tax.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Lynn Francis (R-Midland) moved up from his job as floor leader to take over the majority leadership post and Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) became the floor leader following the conservative-led shakeup.

Reading More Popular Despite TV Influence

NEW YORK (UPI) — Despite television, people are reading more books, particularly the paperback printing, than ever before.

Television exposure, in fact, has created new popularity for certain themes in the book field, according to Carl W. Holstrom, head of book operations for the F. W. Woolworth Co., largest paperback book seller in the world.

Fiction remains the biggest seller in the nationwide Woolworth chain.

Call for Uniformity

CHICAGO (UPI) — A system of uniform traffic signals throughout the nation would save 2,000 lives a year, estimates Harry Porter Jr., National Safety Council traffic manager.

Search Party Fails

Mystery of Lost Explorer Never Solved

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Four young Englishmen traveled by kayak up remote Back's River in the northern reaches of Canada last summer seeking some trace of a party of explorers lost more than a century ago.

Two of them said recently in New Orleans they left the mystery behind them.

★ ★ ★

David Gordon-Dean, 33, and Robin Challas, 25, both of London, said they were trying to unravel the mystery of what happened to the English explorer Sir John Franklin and the two sailing ships and 138 officers and men of the expedition. Franklin's party was sent out by the Royal Navy to search for the fabled Northwest Passage through the eternal ice of the Orient.

Franklin's ships were frozen in at King William Island through the winters of 1845 and 1846. The expedition had been out a year when it was marooned. At some point during this time, Franklin died.

In 1847 the commander of the expedition left a short message saying only that Franklin was dead and the 105 survivors would try to get out by striking south. They never were heard from or seen again.

★ ★ ★

Other explorers made efforts to find the party, or some trace of it, but they failed. In none of the stone cairns, piles of stones used as "Arctic post boxes," was there a message relating to the Franklin party.

But a British historian, Adm. Noel Wright, formulated from his research a theory that one cairn had not been examined and that it would be found on Cape Britannia, a headland on Chantry Inlet east of King William Island.

That was where Gordon-Dean and Challas came in. Both are members of the British special air service. Both are parachutists and canoeists. Gordon-Dean is a surveyor and Challas is a diver, extra talents that qualified them for the expedition.

LONG JOURNEY

They were to be the first party to ascent Back's River in 110 years and in doing it made what may have been the longest kayak journey in history.

★ ★ ★

They left Montreal early in July and drove to Yellowknife on the Great Slave Lake. From there they flew to the southern mouth of Back's River and unloaded their equipment.

They had three British military kayaks, rubberized canvas hulls stretched over collapsible wooden frames. Because the expedition had a dual function, it was to conduct a geological survey as well, it had to take along considerable equipment.

There was little space in the canoes, so the party cut down considerably on food. It took along only dehydrated, concentrated, precooked meat broth, plain, and with minced vegetables.

The quartet optimistically expected to average 50 miles per day, but the swift waters of Back's River defeated that expectation. The top was 25 miles in one day.

LOST 2 KAYAKS

About 250 miles upriver, the party lost two of its kayaks in rapids. The boats were cannibalized and the Englishmen managed to make one rather shaky kayak of them. However, much of the group's equipment and food was lost or had to be left behind.

Averaging 20 miles per day, the party managed to get around nearly 50 stretches of white water, then broke into open water for the final 70 miles of the trip over Chantry Inlet.

They found the cairn, as predicted, but the elements and the Eskimos had reduced it to a pile of rubble and there was no message.

By this time, the party had run out of food and had managed to buy dried fish from some Eskimos.

Bad weather set in and it was another week before an airplane could get in to take them out.

They returned to Montreal in late September, seven weeks after they started. After sorting the thousands of feet of motion picture film and slides they had taken, Gordon-Dean and Challis, who also is an antique dealer, went off on a lecture tour of Canada, then dropped down into the United States to arrange a tour for next year.

★ ★ ★

Both said they felt humble when they considered the difference between their effort and that of Back, discoverer of their river.

★ ★ ★

"We had all that modern technology could provide — radios, concentrated food, sleeping bags, warm clothing, medicines — and always there was someone watching over us," said Gordon-Dean.

"Back had none of this. He had no maps and in that part of the world the compass points to the nearest rock. He had to go up river and return in the three months from ice breakup to freezeup."

The Englishmen refused to compare themselves to Amundsen or other Arctic explorers. They would allow only that Amundsen and his breed were hardened to the trials of the Arctic, while they went on their "jaunt" fresh from London with no training at all.

Would Rather Honeymoon Than Clown for President

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Bob Newhart's quite, quite emphatic and determined about it—he's not going to appear before JFK, Jackie Kennedy and Vice President Johnson Jan. 18 at the 2nd Inaugural Anniversary Salute at the Washington Armory.

WILSON

"Bob," smiles Composer Richard Adler, producer of the show, "is getting married. He has already made plans to honeymoon in the Sierra Nevadas that week.

"Even for the President of the United States, you can't ask him to come down from the mountains from a honeymoon."

But Judy Garland, Carol Burnett, Sidney Poitier, and Antonio's Flamenco dancers from Madrid aren't getting married and will dazzle the crowds who'll be helping pay off Democratic party expenses.

"Do you ever get turn-downs when you ask somebody to appear for the President?" I asked.

"Yes!" he nodded. "I don't want to say who."

Adler wasn't happy about turn-downs, either. "Even if he'd done no more than handle the Cuban crisis, we should get down on our hands and knees before him!" he said.

★ ★ ★

Bob Hope and Bob Goulet are doing a big TV show together in Hollywood—so they're out—but there'll be a huge 2-hour show topped by JFK himself speaking—and it'll be the real JFK, not Vaughn Meader, though he may be invited.

"The President," Adler said, "does not have any objection to Meader appearing. That I know."

Rosalind Russell had the shortest answer probably from any stars. She simply replied, "No, because I'm a Republican."

Sub Builders in Ohio Facing License Snag

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Ohio has watercraft licenses for row boats and canoes, inboard and outboard motorboats. But how do you license a submarine?

★ ★ ★

The problem stumped Mrs. Louise West, registrar at Lake Cowan. Two boaters had built a two-man submarine, manually controlled and powered by a battery.

State Park officials got into the act. A special meeting was called and after much discussion, a submarine classification was created.

The boaters received their license but were than prohibited from using their creation in state waters.

★ ★ ★

Park officials had further figured that the sub came under the general classification of SCUBA diving — which is banned in Ohio lakes. The men will have to settle for quarries or Lake Erie.

Mishaps Mar Holiday Period, Kill 801 Persons

25 Die Throughout Michigan; Traffic Is Worst Hazard in U. S.

By The Associated Press

Traffic	618
Fires	104
Miscellaneous	79
Total	801

Tragedy married the gay Christmas holiday in hundreds of homes across the nation, with a death toll of some 800 in traffic accidents, fires and miscellaneous mishaps.

The No. 1 killer, as usual, was traffic. With final figures still to come, the count showed 618 persons lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents during the four-day Christmas holiday. Fires killed 104 persons and 79 others were killed in a variety of accidents. The over-all total was 801.

Michigan contributed 25 lives to the grim figure, with 17 traffic deaths, three killed in fires, two drownings and three miscellaneous fatalities.

The National Safety Council, which had estimated the country's traffic death toll at 650 to 750, said belated reports may boost the final figure close to 650. The count covered a period of 102 hours, from 6 p.m. (local time) last Friday to midnight Christmas.

★ ★ ★

There was a sharp rise in the traffic death rate on Christmas, due largely to the heavier travel, the homeward rush of millions, and hazardous driving conditions in many sections of the country.

At least 160 persons were killed in traffic accidents in the last 24 hours of the long holiday.

Snow, rain, sleet and cold covered broad areas of the nation. Safety experts said the inclement weather had curtailed travel over most of the holiday. However, millions were on the highways in the final day.

★ ★ ★

The number of traffic deaths compares with a record toll of 706 for a four-day Christmas observance in 1956. The 706 toll also is a record high for any holiday period.

The lowest number of traffic fatalities in a four-day Christmas period since World War II was 535 in 1951. In last year's three-day Christmas holiday, traffic fatalities totaled 524.

An Associated Press survey for a 102-hour non-holiday period, from 6 p.m. Dec. 7 to midnight Dec. 11, showed 371 deaths on the highways, 64 persons killed in fires and 76 others in miscellaneous accidents. The over-all total was 511.

Armored Bus Blasts Past Berlin Barriers

BERLIN (AP)—Eight East German refugees crashed through three barriers into West Berlin before dawn today while the bullets of border guards rattled off their armor-plated bus.

Eight bullets hit the bus but only one man was injured by flying glass when the windshield smashed.

The escapees were the owner of the bus, his driver, their wives and their four children. The children included three girls, 1, 3 and 13 years old and a boy of 10.

The bus, of prewar German manufacture, belonged to one of the few private contractors the Communist regime permitted to operate.

The group drove 120 miles to Berlin from their homes at Neugersdorf, near the Oder-Neisse border between East Germany and Poland.

They had fitted metal plates inside the bus to protect themselves from the bullets they were certain the border guards would fire at them.

The bus swung around Berlin to come into the city on the autobahn from the west.

While the women and children lay on the floor, the contractor and the driver drove audaciously up to the control point at Babelsberg where vehicles heading for West Berlin are checked.

It was 5:30 a.m. and still dark.

CRASH BARRIERS

Ignoring signals to halt, the driver drove the bus at top speed toward the steel and concrete barricades which stretch across the four-lane highway leaving only one lane for traffic.

Border guards fired tommy guns at the bus as it sped by.

JOHN FACTOR

JFK Pardons Former Mobster

'Jake the Barber' Was Capone Contemporary

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — John (Jake the Barber) Factor, a one-time Chicago underworld figure turned philanthropist, has been granted a Christmas pardon by President Kennedy.

This apparently wipes the slate clean for Factor, 70, who turned from a barbering career to the more exciting world peopled by Al Capone and Roger Touhy.

The pardon, first applied for in 1958, clears away a 1943 conviction for mail fraud and evidently will put an end to the government's attempt to have Factor deported to his native England.

"I am very surprised and grateful," Factor said Tuesday at Palm Springs, Calif., "I hope I have earned it. It is a wonderful Christmas present and I believe justice has been done."

The pardon was signed Monday by Kennedy at his vacation headquarters.

PAROLED IN 1949

Factor was paroled from the Federal Correctional Institution at Sandstone, Minn., in 1949 after serving six years of a 10-year sentence. He moved to California, became a successful real estate operator and plunged into philanthropic work.

His donations have been estimated at more than $2 million,

Captives Vow Return

Pledge to Oust Castro

From Our News Wires

MIAMI — Calls for obliteration of the Castro regime mounted among leaders of the Cuban exile community today in the joyous reception given to 1,113 Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners who were airlifted to freedom.

Meanwhile, another mass exodus of Cubans — relatives of the prisoners — is due in south Florida tomorrow.

The captives, who were shuttled to liberty by 10 airplanes Sunday and Monday after 20 months in Cuban jails, anxiously awaited news of the freighter African Pilot, which was scheduled to leave Havana today with 1,000 of their relatives.

Soldiers Remain in Florida, Page A-5

★ ★ ★

All harkened to a pledge for Fidel Castro's demise sounded by Manuel Artime, a leader in the abortive invasion and last on the list of prisoners to be returned.

'WE SHALL RETURN'

At a press conference yesterday, Artime promised hoarsely that "we shall return."

★ ★ ★

The 30-year-old Cuban called on the governments of the Western Hemisphere to mount a siege against Fidel Castro's regime. Such unity, he said, could "topple the Cuban Communist rule within a week."

The African Pilot, which made the ransom run Saturday, is scheduled to arrive about 7 a.m. tomorrow at Port Everglades, 25 miles north of Miami.

It will land parents, brothers and sisters, wives and children who had stayed in Cuba to be near their imprisoned loved ones.

★ ★ ★

A Pan American World Airways cargo plane left Miami International Airport at 7:30 a.m. for Havana with Red Cross nurses and emergency supplies for use aboard the African Pilot on the trip to Florida.

The travelers are not likely to come aboard overburdened with material goods.

★ ★ ★

Associated Press newsman Joe McGowan Jr., pool representative for U.S. news agencies, said in Havana that a Cuban official told the Prisoner Families Committee that those leaving could take only the clothes they wore.

The official said that any family leaving Cuba will forfeit all its possessions, but if one immediate family mem-

MEET CASTRO — Representatives of the American Red Cross are greeted by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro on their arrival aboard the freighter African Pilot in Havana harbor. The freighter carried the first installment of $53-million worth of foods and medicines for Castro's swap of 1,113 Bay of Pigs invasion captives.

City to Hear Bid on Sewage Pact

Pontiac Twp. Seeks Service by Contract

A request from Pontiac Township officials to buy Pontiac sewage treatment service on a contract basis will be placed before the City Commission at its meeting tonight at 8.

Pontiac's new $3.2-million sewage treatment plant is due to begin operating next month. The request is expected to be of a preliminary nature, not a firm financial offer.

In the communication, township officials express an interest in using Pontiac treatment facilities if and when the city is willing to sell them to outside communities.

Rates and terms of a lease would have to be worked out in the future.

The request is expected to be turned over for study to City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

The Tare Wednesday night meeting was necessitated by Christmas falling on a Tuesday this year.

Also on the brief agenda will be a report on the bids for $3,518,000 in urban renewal preliminary loan notes. The notes are expected to be sold to Community National Bank, which was low bidder asking a 1.48 per cent interest rate.

In other business, commissioners will hear cost estimates for grade and gravel on an extension of Sarasota Avenue. A hearing is slated on plans to build a sanitary sewer in part of Bloomfield Avenue.

Commissioners also will be asked to okay minor corrections or amendments to descriptions of two properties recently vacated by the city.

News Flash

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union again today accused the U.S. embassy in Moscow of espionage and demanded it stop the alleged spying. U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler promptly rejected the charge as unfounded.

Russians Sail Away From Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — Hundreds of Russian men, women and children sailed from Havana on a Soviet passenger liner last night, presumably bound for home.

They may have been workers and their families sent to Cuba in connection with the recently dismantled Soviet missile sites.

Some 1,000 relatives of the newly liberated Cuban invasion prisoners prepared to leave the island today to start a new life in the United States with the freed captives.

★ ★ ★

Prospects were reported good also for the early release of 23 Americans imprisoned in Cuba. Diplomatic informants said Prime Minister Fidel Castro is considering granting an amnesty to some 50 foreigners now in Cuban jails.

BUS CONVOYS

The outbound Russians arrived at the dock in long truck and bus convoys and boarded the Admiral Najimov, the former German steamship Berlin, which had been berthed in Havana for two weeks.

★ ★ ★

The men wore checkered sport shirts and many had work trousers and work boots. Women, some holding children, rode on wooden seats in the heavy Soviet trucks.

The Russians carried rolled blankets, cardboard suitcases, boxes and duffel bags.

There was no announcement of their destination. Thousands of Russians were brought to Cuba last summer under the label of technicians. Some left in November on ships which carried the Soviet rockets out of the island.

The 15,000-ton Admiral Najimov sailed from a dock near where the American freighter African Pilot was being readied to take on close relatives of the Cuban invasion prisoners who were given their freedom in exchange for $53 million in medicine and food.

DC Fog Grounds Aides

School's Out for JFK

PALM BEACH (AP) —President Kennedy got an unscheduled holiday today when bad weather in Washington delayed a flight bringing top officials here for conferences.

Kennedy had planned a mid-morning work session with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and others, to work toward final decisions on the administration plan to seek a 1963 tax cut.

The meeting was put off until late in the day, however, because fog in the snow-blanketed Washington area held up the departure of a jet transport assigned to bring more than half a dozen officials here for the conference.

This meant that Kennedy, who has spent four days of leisure in the Floida sun, had more free time on his hands. An afternoon cruise aboard the presidential yacht Honey Fitz, was arranged to fill part of the gap.

Dillon was ready to interrupt his own vacation at nearby Hobe Sound, Fla., to take part in the talks on taxes and the economy.

Among those summoned from Washington were chairman Walter Heller of the Council of Economic Advisers, Undersecretary of the Treasury Henry Fowler and Assistant Secretary Stanley S. Surrey.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana also was on the Washington delegation list.

Kennedy's latest word on tax cut prospects came in an address to the Economic Club of New York on Dec. 14.

ASKS EARLY CUT

Arguing that the present tax system acts as a brake on economic growth, he urged an early reduction in both individual and corporate tax rates, coupled with some tax reforms and a clampdown on federal spending.

★ ★ ★

Key questions at today's conference involved the strategy of pushing tax cut legislation through a Congress which has a vocal and influential segment that contends any lowering of taxes at this time would create

You Have Till Jan. 3 to Return the 5 Pipes

The Downtown Pontiac Business Association and Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce today set Thursday, Jan. 3, as deadline to return Christmas gift items at stores in downtown Pontiac.

Merchants will accept returns up to closing time that day.

Most stores will be open their normal hours this week, although some will close early New Year's Eve.

MEMENTO — Nobody knows how Santa Claus got back to the North Pole. But this may be his sleigh still parked at the side of the Paint Creek Cider Mill in Goodison. Maybe he's just stepped inside for a sip, and maybe his reindeer are feeding on soft hay in the stable. Or maybe he just decided that riding his reindeer home was faster.

Mercury Will Dip to Frigid 5 Tonight

Winter is really here. The weatherman says temperatures will skid to 5 above tonight.

For the next five days thermometer readings will average 7 to 11 degrees below the normal high of 31 to 35, and normal low of 14 to 22. The high is expected to reach 18 tomorrow.

Precipitation for the period will total less than .50 of an inch in occasional periods of snow flurries or snow.

The light snow blanketing the Pontiac area during the night measured less than 2 inches.

Fourteen was the lowest recording in the downtown area preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had edged up to 18 at 1 p.m.

Hoffa Highly Critical of Judge, Prosecutor

DETROIT (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa has criticized the federal judge and prosecutor in his Nashville trial which ended in a hung jury Sunday.

Hoffa was especially critical of the decision of Judge William Miller to present to a federal grand jury in January evidence of alleged jury tampering during the 42-day trial. He also had verbal fire for Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

His remarks came in a taped interview with a television newsman.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa was on trial on a charge of violating the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting, with the late Owen Brennan, a Teamsters vice-president, more than a million dollars from a Michigan trucking firm, Commercial Carriers, Inc.

The jury became deadlocked Sunday after 17 hours of deliberations.

Asked for his views on Judge Miller's conduct of the trial, Hoffa replied:

"My reaction is that we had ready and were set to file an affidavit of prejudice, not only during the trial but before the trial.

Of prosecutor James Neal, Hoffa said:

"He is one of the most vicious prosecutors who ever handled a criminal case for the Justice Department. Half truths, innuendos and every sort of underhanded tricks were used by him in this trial."

He charged Atty. Gen. Kennedy was trying to move Hoffa's next federal court appearance, scheduled for Miami Jan. 4, out of the jurisdiction of the Tampa federal court.

WET, NOT WHITE — Lynn Franks, 16, watches a group of fellow surfers cut a wave off the beach at Santa Monica, Calif., Christmas Day. Dozens of teenagers took advantage of the good surfing conditions in a balmy day with the temperature in the high 70's. That's not the wind of weather many other parts of the nation experienced.

Near Zero in Panhandle

Frigid Air Sweeps North

By The Associated Press

Frigid air, fanned by brisk westerly winds, swept across the Canadian border into the north central region today, dropping temperatures far below zero.

★ ★ ★

Cold air also covered broad areas from the Pacific Northwest into eastern sections of the country. Temperatures edged toward the zero mark in the Texas Panhandle.

★ ★ ★

There was more snow atop the blanket of white reported in many parts of the country on Christmas Day. Rain and sleet hit some southern sections. Driving conditions were hazardous in many parts of the wet belt.

ICY AIR SPREADS

The mercury dropped sharply as the icy air spread through the eastern Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and northern and northwest sections of Illinois.

Temperatures in Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., dropped 32 degrees in about 12 hours, hitting a low of 20 below zero near midnight, the season's lowest mark. It was colder in International Falls, Minn., on the Canadian border, with a reading of -26.

★ ★ ★

The low mark in Iowa was -25 in Emmetsburg, in the northwestern part of state. Other sub-zero readings included 21 in Eau Claire, Wis., 20 in Duluth and 6 in Rockford, Ill. It was below zero in northwest suburbs of Chicago and near zero in Chicago.

In Atlanta, Ga., dense fog curtailed air traffic, stranding hundreds of Christmas travelers.

FOG, LOW CLOUDS

Fog and low clouds were reported in most of the southeast section of the country. Utility poles and lines snapped because of accumulation of ice in some areas of Atlanta and northeastward. Residents in the Toccoa, Gainesville and Cornelia area were without electricity and telephone service Tuesday night.

Snow covered much of west Texas and the Texas Panhandle on Christmas. Freezing rain, with mixed sleet and snow was forecast.

In Tennessee, only traces of the 3 to 5-inch snowfall on Christmas remained on most of the highways but fog shrouded many areas. It was the first white Christmas in Memphis since 1913 and the first in Nashville since 1935.

★ ★ ★

Snow covered most of Kentucky, except northern portions, with five inches in southeast areas. More snow was indicated.

Sen. Byrd's Condition Listed as Satisfactory

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., was reported in satisfactory condition today at Union Memorial Hospital.

The senator, considered a leader of Democratic conservatives, entered the hospital last week. Hospital spokesmen and doctors have refused to disclose the nature of his ailment. Byrd is 75.

State Caught by Cold Wave, Drifting Snow

By United Press International

A post-holiday cold wave gripped Michigan today and blustery winds caused highway-clogging drifts in some areas.

A Christmas storm caused hazardous driving warnings to be issued most of yesterday, but few areas got the expected onslaught full blast.

Five inches of snow was dumped on the Holland area, still digging out from the effects of an early December storm.

★ ★ ★

State Highway Department maintenance crews reported other spots in northwestern lower Michigan were hard hit.

MINOR ACCIDENTS

At Detroit, where a small snowfall can cause monumental traffic tieups, several minor accidents on the Edsel Ford Expressway resulted in a massive jam.

★ ★ ★

Police said a five-car accident on the eastbound lane caused traffic to back up for several miles. As traffic slowed, more accidents resulted.

A short time later, the west lane was closed when two cars crashed and burst into flames. Only one person was injured.

Sub-zero temperatures were common in the Upper Peninsula and unofficial readings indicated that the average there early today was 12 below zero.

★ ★ ★

The highway department reported drifting snow and high winds created slippery spots on roads throughout the state.

I-94 and U.S. 131 in southwestern Michigan and I-75 from Bay City to Detroit were slippery in spots early today.

Reds Force GI to Sign Papers

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —A U.S. Army sergeant released by Communist guerrillas Christmas Eve has told military authorities he was forced to sign several documents damaging to the United States and South Viet Nam during his captivity.

An Army spokesman said Sgt. Roque S. Matagulay of Richmond, Calif., who was in Communist captivity for five months, has told interrogators he had signed four statements in November, while suffering from a severe attack of malaria.

He said he was subjected to four months of continuous propaganda lectures prior to the signing of the documents, the Army spokesman reported.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman quoted Matagulay as saying:

"My illness, scarce medical attention and constant verbal harassment culminated in signing the documents so my captors would leave me alone."

Matagulay told American officers that his signatures were obtained "under extreme duress when my personal resistance was at its lowest point."

ATTACK WEST

He said the documents bitterly attacked the pro-West government of President Ngo Dinh Diem and the American policy of supporting South Viet Nam's government. Matagulay said he personally does not believe any of the statements he signed.

The documents were the "usual Communist propaganda line," he said, requiring only his signature. He later had to read them out to his Communist captors and believed they were recorded.

Matagulay said he refused to sign any further documents after he had recovered from malaria.

Matagulay, 30, was captured outside the coastal town of Phan Thiet. He lost 33 pounds during his captivity. Newsmen will not be permitted to see him for some time, military authorities said.

There has been no indication so far that the Communists have started using Matagulay's statements. The main Communist mouthpiece for this area is Radio Hanoi which broadcasts every day in English and has a special program on Fridays for U.S. servicemen. Statements attributed to U.S. servicemen are frequently broadcast over this station.

Armored Bus Blasts Past Berlin Barriers

The heavy vehicle crashed through three metal barriers.

There still were about 1½ miles of highway to go to the West Berlin city limits but the autobahn curves at this point, giving cover from the guards' fire.

★

A few minutes later the bus swept triumphantly past the Western allied checkpoint at Dreilinden and into the sanctuary of West Berlin.

The refugees were taken to a reception center to be interviewed by officials.

West Berlin police said the owner of the bus was a war cripple who can walk only with crutches. One of the children was running a fever.

Names were withheld.

The bus was a cream-colored, 40-passenger vehicle, slightly soiled.

A sign still on it showed that it was under contract to the government transport system in the area of Zittau, the extreme southeast corner of East Germany.

HEAVY ARMOR

It had a snow-plow in front. Steel plates across the front window had little slits in them for the driver to see through.

The sides were protected by steel plates, and by baggage and upturned seats placed against the windows. Bullet marks were visible on the front and one side.

It was the biggest escape since Oct. 14, when a group of 10 East Germans swam to freedom after cutting their way through three barbed-wire fences.

★ ★ ★

JFK Pardons John Factor

including $25,000 toward the unsuccessful 1961 effort to free the Bay of Pigs Cuban invasion prisoners in exchange for tractors.

Factor grew up on the West Side of Chicago. Following his parents' wishes he became a barber, first in a neighborhood shop, then in a glittering hotel salon.

★ ★ ★

Soon the dapper, 5-foot-6½-inch Factor was making deals. In 1925 he was named in federal warrants charging use of the mails to defraud persons taking a flyer in the Florida land boom.

He went to Europe and stories of his gambling luck preceded him back to the United States. He claimed to have broken the bank at Le Touquet in 1930, walking out of the casino with $650,000.

Factor gained national attention in 1933 when he charged he had been kidnaped by Touhy, a prohibition beer baron.

Touhy was sentenced to 99 years on kidnap charges, paroled after 25—and mysteriously shotgunned to death on the steps of his Chicago apartment building days later.

★ ★ ★

Earlier in 1933 Factor's son, Jerome, was abducted in Chicago and held for eight days. Factor hired several of Capone's former henchmen to get him back.

School's Out for Kennedy

a dangerously large federal budget deficit.

In this case, strategy goes to the substance of the issue because, as Kennedy made evident in his Dec. 14 address, the administration is willing to tailor its proposals to the mood of Congress.

★ ★ ★

For example, the President said that tax reforms — once envisioned as a major part of the administration program — could not be advocated solely for "academic reasons."

He said any changes in existing provisions for special benefits could be justified only if they would contribute to economic growth.

Waterford Sets New Petitions

Substitute petitions calling for a vote on the incorporation of Waterford Township will be circulated because a small parcel of township property was not indicated on the maps that accompanied the original petitions filed Dec. 4.

★ ★ ★

The recirculation of petitions with a revised map was recommended by the Corporation Counsel's Office.

Mrs. Edmund L. Windeler, president of the Greater Waterford Community Council, which spearheaded the original drive for signatures, said circulation of the new petitions would begin this week. She expects the task to be completed within a week.

OMISSION

Omitted from the map was an approximate half square mile area north of Cass Lake, according to Mrs. Windeler. The parcel was deeded to the township in 1847.

★ ★ ★

More than 700 residents signed the original petitions, 200 more than the required number of signatures. The petitions were filed with the County Clerk's Office along with a $500 filing fee.

The primary purpose of the petition drive was to protect the township boundaries pending completion of an incorporation study report by a committee of civic leaders.

★ ★ ★

Dec. 4 will remain the official filing date despite the planned re-circulation.

Beat Petition to Rezone Bloomfield Twp. Land

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Bloomfield Township Board of Trustees has defeated a petition to rezone property near Woodward Avenue and Big Beaver Road for a multiple housing development.

The 10-acre parcel, located east of Woodward to the rear of the township's largest office buildings will remain a single-family residential zone.

The rezoning petition was presented to the board by Carl E. Larson of 4830 Ardmore Drive, who planned to purchase the property if it could be rezoned for multiple dwellings.

The board was unanimous in its rejection of Larson's request for one portion of the site, known as the Odi property, Township Clerk Deloris V. Little said today.

1 FAVORABLE VOTE

Township Trustee Henry J. Hogan cast the only favorable ballot on Larson's rezoning petition for the other portion, called the Brown property.

The rezoning was opposed by several neighboring property owners and members of the Rouge Manor Improvement Association.

Many of the same residents also are against rezoning prop also are against rezoning proposed motel-restaurant. Developers of the motel, which would have frontage on Woodward Avenue, want the site changed to a commercial zone from its present office building classification.

Set Death Quiz for Area Man

DETROIT (UPI)—Preliminary examination is scheduled at 2 p.m. tomorrow for a Birmingham brokerage employe in the bludgeon death early this month of his mother-in-law.

Robert M. Thorson, 31, of 2352 Buckingham Road, had been scheduled to appear for examination today before Recorder's Judge Arthur Koscinski but the prosecutor's office asked a one-day adjournment.

The court inadvertently marked the examination date as Dec. 28.

But Assistant Prosecutor Max Silverman said, "everyone has been notified by us to be in court at 2 p.m. tomorrow and I'm sure the court will correct the mistake."

★ ★ ★

Thorson is accused in the death of Mrs. Dorothy N. Thomas, 62, a Detroit widow. Her beaten body was found in the dining room of her home Dec. 4.

One of eight freshmen candidates for the title of "Greek Goddess" at Albion College is Sally Bowering, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bowering of 1794 Melbourne Ave., Birmingham.

Oakland County mayors and township supervisors will kick off the silver anniversary March of Dimes campaign at a 10 a.m. brunch tomorrow at the Birmingham Community House, 380 S. Bates St.

Detroit Tiger star Al Kaline, Oakland County campaign director, and poster boy Johnny Reichert will be special guests. Proceeds from the drive will be used in the drive against crippling birth defects and arthritis.

Mrs. Adam Reid

Service for Mrs. Adam (Elizabeth B.) Reid, 91, of 724 Bates St. will be 2 p.m. Friday at the Manley Funeral Home. Burial will follow in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkley.

Mrs. Reid died at her home yesterday following a six-month illness. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are three sons, Howard E. and Clyde H., both of Birmingham, and Lloyd B. of Detroit; a sister, Mrs. Hiram (Nettie) Parks of Pontiac; two brothers, six grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Kennedys Start Christmas Early

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Eagerness of children to get their presents got President and Mrs. Kennedy off to an early morning start on their Christmas.

The setting was bright—there was the weekend release of the 1,113 Cuban invasion prisoners; the President's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, who suffered a stroke a year ago, is now getting around in a wheel chair; the sunny skies and 80-degree temperature made an afternoon cruise delightful.

The day began shortly before 8 a.m. around the tree in the living room of the beachfront home lent the Kennedys by their financier friend, C. Michael Paul.

In keeping with family policy, there was no word about the gifts the President and his wife exchanged. But for Caroline, the 5-year-old daughter, there was a talking doll she had asked for when Mrs. Kennedy took her to a department store Santa Claus. For son John F. Jr., now 2, there was a toy helicopter. There were other gifts and toys for the children.

Captives Eye Castro Demise

ber remains, this would not be the case.

Permission for the relatives to depart was given by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro — a Christmas bonus, he said — on the deal exchanging 1,113 captives of the Bay of Pigs invasion of April 17, 1961, for $53 million in sorely needed medicines and food.

Artime said the released prisoners were determined to reassault the Caribbean island. "We have given our word to our dead, to the Cuban people, and to the free world that we will liberate Cuba or die in the attempt," he declared.

"We feel that Fidel Castro can only be overthrown by a military action," he continued.

"We also think that the Cuban problem is not a local problem. It is the problem of the Western Hemisphere."

Artime, who has emerged as a focal figure in the exile community, spoke at the suburban Miami home of a prominent Cuban exile. He emphasized that all the returned prisoners regarded themselves as the "troops of the revolutionary council."

Romney Plans to Appoint Three Women

LANSING (AP) — The planned appointment of three women to state commissions was announced today by Gov.-elect George Romney.

He said he will appoint Mrs. Ruth Judd of Grand Rapids, a former delegate to the constitutional convention, to an eight-year term as a Republican member of the Civil Service Commission.

Mrs. Eloise Whitten of Detroit, a former member of the Detroit urban League's advisory council, will be named to complete a five-year term now vacant on the Social Welfare Commission.

Mrs. Ruth Lichterman of Royal Oak, past president (1959-61) of the Michigan League of Women Voters, will be appointed to the governor's advisory commission on state government reorganization.

All three will serve without pay. The appointments will be made after Romney takes office Jan. 1.

Global Discord at Minimum

It Was Traditional Christmas

By The Associated Press

Christmas 1962 lived up to the seasonal traditions of good will, good cheer, merry making, Christian religious observance and peace. There was a minimum of international discord to disturb the lull in what the world calls the cold war.

Moscow radio broadcast best wishes to the United States and urged good will between the two nations; then the Soviets set off another in their series of nuclear tests. The blast was the 24th of the current test series recorded by Sweden's seismological observatory at Uppsala.

Among the happiest celebrations anywhere were those of the 1,113 Cuban invasion captives delivered from Fidel Castro's prisons earlier in the week. They had the additional joyous word that 1,000 members of their families would be allowed to leave Cuba tonight and join them in the United States.

There was much over which the world could shudder and shiver—the continued jungle war in Viet Nam, the conflict between monarchists and republicans in the deserts of Yemen, the perennial prospect of trouble in the Congo, the wall in Berlin.

REMAINS QUIET

But the undeclared India-China border war remained quiet, and in most nations political leaders in Christmas greetings to their people spoke of peace with more assurance.

The message of Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker was an example: "Despite sorrow and hope unfulfilled—the message of the manger still comes to us across centuries to sustain our faith—the message of good will for all men and brotherhood for all creeds and races."

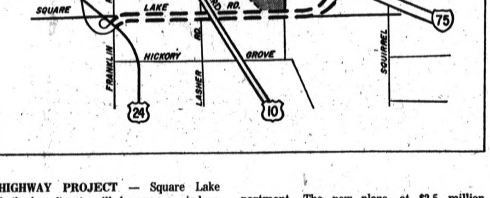

★ ★ ★

After the weeks of the Cuban crisis, Pope John XXIII in his Christmas message described the year as one of "fear and trembling" but declared wisdom and prudence had avoided war. He said this was a "sign for the year that is coming."

BLESSES CROWD

In one of his most active days since he fell ill a month ago, the Roman Catholic pontiff left the Vatican and visited a children's hospital, then appeared at noon in the window of his study and blessed a crowd of 50,000 in St. Peter's Square.

Churches in many lands were crowded as Christians paid homage to the Christ child and gave thanks for another year of what passes for peace in the nuclear age. In the Holy Land pilgrims jammed the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem.

HIGHWAY PROJECT — Square Lake Road (broken lines) will become a six-lane divided highway from Telegraph Road to the new I-75 freeway now under construction, according to the Michigan State Highway Department. The new plans, at $2.5 million, nearly double the cost of original intention to modernize the road from Woodward Avenue to I-75. Contracts are to be let in late 1964.

Firm Turns Chaos Into House of Charm in 8 Hours

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Psychiatrists have stated that redecorating her home is, for a woman, the most traumatic experience of her life.

PHYLLIS BATTELLE

Few husbands can understand this. Why should their wives, so efficient and poised in everyday life, suddenly fall apart just because the slipcovers did? Why should they cry over the color of a room, panic over a pillow slip and take to the grape because of a drape?

The answer is quite simple.

"A woman's home is the face—the 'larger face'—she puts on before the world," said Barnett (Bill) Simons, AID, "and she needs for it to be beautiful and personable.

She knows what to do for her own, or smaller, face. There are cosmetics and creams. But although most women I've met have amazingly good taste, they are insecure about how to handle their homes."

Simons has come to the aid of the panicked woman (psychiatrists call her traumatic; Simons sees her as merely in a state of temporary panic), by forming an organization called "Instant Interiors."

8-HOUR DAY

For a set fee of $100, Bill or one of his three associates will spend an eight-hour day with a client, suggesting redecorating ideas which will allow a woman to "redo" her place with the furnishings she has on hand.

The charm of the service is that "Instant Interiors" sells nothing. They, rather, give detailed and imaginative suggestions in relation to color scheme, floor plan, window treatment, furniture, etc.—so that a family can continue to live with the familiar things they love—but so that the familiar things have a new flip."

Such a service appeals to thousands of women who are fearful of hiring a decorator because it may cost her a great deal of money in new furnishings and exotic ideas. With "I.I.," she is spending a set fee to buy new ideas, reassurance and a relief from panic.

★ ★ ★

Simons hit on the revolutionary consulting idea when a regular client of his decorating services was forced to move from an aged high-ceilinged apartment into a modern, small-room, low-ceiling house.

She called him. He came and found her sitting amid end tables and barrels of upholstered furniture, helpless. "It's not scaled right, and I've got way too much furniture," she wailed. "What do I do now?"

Between 9:30 and 5:30 that day, Bill decided what she should keep, what she should discard, where the best pieces should be placed for the best effect. "It was an aesthetic kick, for both of us," he remembered, "to see a new house take shape, before your eyes. I got to thinking, then.

NOT A SALESMAN

"A decorator so often is in the position of being just a salesman. It's ridiculous. I didn't go through the technical training and the art training to become a salesman. I decided it's really more a challenge and a gratification to make order out of mayhem—to put life into sag."

Simons' first order of business when he arrives at a house or apartment is to learn what are the best-loved pieces of furniture a woman owns. ("It's never a Pembroke table.

"It's always something they were afraid to buy because it's a little kooky—like a Chinese gong, or something.") He makes these sentimental pieces the focal point of the room and plans life around them.

The one thing that bothers Simons most, in his clients' attitudes, is "rigidity."

"They don't want 'model rooms,' like they see in magazines and stores, but they're afraid to get away from that look because—well, they have to have something expert to copy.

★ ★ ★

"I suggest some ideas that will make the rooms more personal. For instance, I love portraits of the kids on the walls, or a piano loaded with family pictures; without those things, a living room falls far short of what it should be.

"And usually, a woman will be delighted to learn she can actually have a picture of her husband on a living room table—that a decorator thinks that's not only okay, but good taste. Then she's over the panic hurdle for good. . . ."

Hunt for Clues in Brinks Theft

DES PLAINES, Ill. (AP)—Hampered by snow and cold at the scene, police pushed their search for clues today in the Christmas Eve hijacking of a Brink's armored truck containing upwards of an estimated $100,000.

Footprints and tire tracks were studied by local and federal authorities before snow yesterday blotted out other traces around the truck, which was abandoned with its handcuffed and blindfolded driver in a vacant lot.

Other clues were provided by a chauffeur cap and a toy police badge.

They were left behind by three revolver-wielding, hooded robbers who forced their way into the parked truck, overpowered the driver, drove to the vacant lot and transferred the collections from 35 firms in bushel baskets to a waiting get-away car.

The driver, Frank Neuberger, told police the truck was hijacked while he was waiting for his partner, Willam Link, to return with a collection from a bowling alley.

Japan Asked to Stop Pipes for Russ Oil

TOKYO (AP)—The United States and its NATO allies have asked Japan to stop exporting steel pipes to the Soviet Union for use in Russia's oil industry, Kyodo News Service reported today.

Quoting government sources, Kyodo said the Japanese government was asked to cooperate with a decision by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to stop exporting oil pipes to the Soviet Union.

Responsible government officials declined comment.

Kyodo said government sources who declined to be identified indicated that top government leaders had decided to cooperate with the United States and NATO.

★ ★ ★

The report said other sources predicted the NATO request to Japan would set off an uproar among Japanese political circles, particularly when parliament resumes sessions in mid-January.

Kyodo declared the same sources as saying the joint U.S.-NATO request could be interpreted as a "warning to Japan which had believed it could deal with Communist China on the notion that 'Politics is one thing and business is another.'"

Find Desires, Fears--Budget Accordingly

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: My husband keeps urging me to work out some kind of a budget, since our spending seems so uneven from year to year. And our savings in the three years we've been married are little or nothing.

His income is $425 a month after deductions. I'm willing to try budgeting, but I'm confused as to where to start.

Mrs. E.D., Pittsburgh.

Dear Mrs. D.: Start by sitting down with your husband, two note pads, and two pencils. Each of you answer these questions first: What are your chief desires, and what are your biggest fears? Write the answers down, then compare them.

Maybe your own big desire is to own a home. Maybe his is building a retirement fund. Maybe you're most worried about adequate protection — life insurance. Maybe he worries most about the small extravagances.

Once you can agree on your biggest "wants" for your money, tackle the small desires. Home furnishings? Clothes? New car? Vacations? Only after the two of you have honestly expressed yourselves can you work out a satisfactory spending plan.

And do be honest — take yourselves the way you really are instead of the way you think you should be.

Your spending plan doesn't have to be just like somebody else's. People's emotions do, and should, play a big part in setting up a workable plan.

★ ★ ★

So much for my philosophy of budgeting. Now comes the figure work. And understand that these figures I offer only as a monthly guide, a sort of launching pad to prepare you for flight.

Housing, $93; food, $84; clothing, $38; savings and insurance, $48; household operation costs, $32; personal allowance, $50; medical, $20; recreation, $35; miscellaneous, $25.

Dear Miss Feeley: I've made a miser out of my son at the age of 19. After years of beating his ears off to make him save his pennies, now I can't persuade him to spend when he should.

He has been working summers to earn money toward his college education. But when I try to get him to buy clothes and other necessities when sales are on, and prices lowest, he won't let go of the money!

He'd rather wait till he's threadbare. What do I do now?

Mrs. C. L. F., Buffalo

Dear Mrs. F.: Now you pay for your sins. Since you failed to teach him that wise spending is as important as saving, you'll have to show him by example. When the next clothing sale comes up, you buy the suit. Later in the year, when he really needs it, send it to him.

Point out how much more that same suit would cost if you hadn't bought it earlier, at sale prices.

Remind him gently that by wise spending you actually saved a nice piece of cash. It may just possibly make an impression.

If you have a money problem, write Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. She will answer those of greatest interest in her column.)

Spec-ulate Over This

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Ladies who wear bifocal glasses often find it hard to tweeze their eyebrows. Put them on upside down and you can see better. The shape of the glasses gives more room around the eyes for plucking the eyebrows.

GEORGA

DEAR POLLY—I broke the shank on a coat button and could not find one to match. Rather than buy another expensive set, I filled the broken place with wood plastic (leaving a hole for needle and thread to go through) and let it set for two days to harden. Now I have the matching button back on my coat. A. M. H.

DEAR POLLY—We are a game-playing family but do not own a card or poker table. It is inconvenient when cards or dominoes slide across our laminated plastic tabletop. Deciding we needed a cover, I found felt too expensive so bought dark green corduroy.

The piece was several inches larger than the tabletop. I made a narrow hem through which I ran a string, tied to a safety pin, down one side and across one end. I did the same for the other two sides and pulled the strings up to the size of the table. We love our improvised game table. MRS. R. V.

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY—I tape an empty plastic toothbrush holder to the inside of a kitchen cabinet door to hold a pencil. Much handier than a pencil in a drawer. MRS. M. H.

22 Oakland Motorists Lose Driving Privileges

Driver's licenses of 22 Oakland County motorists were either suspended or revoked recently by the Michigan Department of State.

★ ★ ★

Ordered to show proof of financial responsibility after convictions of drunken driving were:

William J. Steiger, 60 W. Pike St.; Leonard W. Wise, 278 Prospect St.; George C. Emens, 27306 Groveland St., Madison Heights; Harry W. Greenspan, 23410 Rensselaer St., Oak Park; and Robert J. D. Pomber, 173 E. Woodland St., Ferndale.

★ ★ ★

Unsatisfactory driving records caused the following to lose their licenses:

Andrew Coffee, 446 S. Anderson St.; Derl W. Hardiman, 423 Highland Ave.; William M. Henderson, 590 Upland St.; Randall L. Leinenger, 53 Oak Hill St.; Charles A. Borst, 36441 Lyman Road, Farmington; Gary W. Buckner, 23621 Morton St., Oak Park; and Richard L. Feys, 7053 Locklin Road, Union Lake.

Others were Joseph N. Gaylor, 341 N. Shore Drive, Lake Orion; Houston G. Hammonds, 428 Austin St., Royal Oak; Robert L. Kreiner, 226 W. Hustonia St., Royal Oak; Robert J. Mitchell, 4253 Tyler St., Berkley; James E. Welch 274 W. Walled Lake Drive, Walled Lake; and Theodore J. Zamojcin, 26035 Barrington Ave., Madison Heights.

★ ★ ★

Raymond J. Luffman, 131 E. Marshall St., Ferndale, and Jessie J. Stone, 21610 Gilcrest St., Ferndale, were ordered to show proof of financial responsibility due to unsatisfied financial judgments against them.

★ ★ ★

Taken off the road for driving with revoked licenses were Rudolph J. Soyka, 602½ E. Maple St., Holly, and Earl T. Swiney, 3074 Hessel Road, Rochester.

Says Firemen Looted Homes

CHICAGO (UPI) —A public relations man said yesterday that firemen answering an alarm at his 10-room apartment ordered him to leave and then looted the place of whisky, cigarettes and a camera.

★ ★ ★

John C. Naisbitt, public information director for the National Safety Council, sent his charges to Mayor Richard J. Daley in a telegram urging an immediate investigation.

Fire Commissioner Robert Quinn promised an immediate investigation although Naisbitt's charges were denied by Fire Marshal Frank Hasnerl, commander of the company which answered the call.

"In my 34 years on the fire department I have never seen an authenticated case of firemen stealing," Hasnerl said. "As for firemen mixing drinks, that's ridiculous."

Naisbitt said he and his family were forced to leave their apartment while firemen fought the fire. He said he re-entered the apartment while firemen were still at work to find them mixing drinks in the kitchen.

★ ★ ★

"Subsequent investigation showed that a fifth of whisky was missing," Naisbitt said. "Also missing was a money folder, a camera and cigarettes taken from two opened cartons."

Empty Rail Cars Roll Head-On Into Train

NEW YORK (AP) —A string of empty passenger cars rolled down an incline and collided head-on with a Long Island Rail Road passenger train carrying some 40 Christmas Day commuters.

Seven of them plus two trainmen were injured, police said.

Old Father Time Dates Back to Ancient Greek Mythology

WASHINGTON — Midnight on Dec. 31 will signal, in cartoonists' lore, the exit of a haggard old man and the appearance of a chubby infant wearing a diaper marked 1963.

The personifications of the New Year babe and Father Time, traditionally armed with a scythe and an hourglass, are as familiar as those of Santa Claus. Yet these fitting symbols for the end of one cycle of living and the birth of another have roots in Greek mythology.

Father Time survives as a descendant of the Greek god Cronus, lord of the universe, according to the National Geographic Society. Cronus's face was creased with the lines of inestimable years, and he carried a long, curving blade.

Like many of mythology's earthy gods, Cronus was not altogether without defects of character. Having been warned that one of his children would depose him, Cronus coped with the problem by swallowing each at birth.

His wife Rhea naturally wished to discourage the practice. She hid their son Zeus after his birth, and presented Cronus with a stone wrapped in swaddling clothes.

★ ★ ★

The trick worked. Zeus lived to dethrone his father, settle on Mount Olympus, and rule as chief god of the Greek pantheon.

★ ★ ★

Later, Cronus's name was confused with the word chronos, meaning "time." But the hourglass has found a permanent place in the hand of the white-haired gentleman with the scythe.

Ancient Romans identified Saturn, their god of agriculture, with Cronus. Like his Greek counterpart, Saturn carried a scythe.

Rome celebrated Saturnalia, a solstice ceremony of the year's turning, from Dec. 17 to 23. In many ways, the festival resembled present-day New Year celebrations. All work stopped. Schools closed, courts handed down no sentences, revelers gamboled in masquerade, and gifts of waxen fruits, candles and dolls were exchanged.

★ ★ ★

Even today, exchange of presents lingers as a New Year custom. The Roman word for good-luck gifts—strenae—survives in "jour d'etrennes," France's popular expression for New Year's Day.

One thousand separate temperature measurements per second can be made with a new high speed pyrometer.

Russ Cite Captive Trade

MOSCOW (UPI) —Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, said today the significance of the Cuban prisoner exchange is that this is the first issue settled by the United States and Premier Fidel Castro's regime through negotiations.

HOT NEWS
From Osmun's

This week we sent out 30,000 messages that fairly sizzled with excitement. What about? We can't say publicly... yet. But we can tell you it's so big it will pay you to find out about it today. If, for some reason, your announcement didn't arrive be sure to call, or better yet, come into Osmun's. We'll be delighted to give you the wonderful details. (And they are wonderful!)

But do it now. After all... we wouldn't want any of our friends to miss out on a good thing and be, well... burned up.

Inches Higher in Slow Trade

Mart Still in Holiday Doldrums

NEW YORK (AP) — Still in the holiday doldrums, the stock market inched higher early today in slow trading.

Changes of most key stocks were small.

Among the better gainers were Texas Instruments and Du Pont, each up more than a point. Gains of about a point were made also by Eastman Kodak, Phelps Dodge, and IBM.

Scattered fractional gains kept the trend a bit higher for motors, tobaccos, utilities, and nonferrous metals. Steels and rails were very narrowly mixed.

DEPRESSING FACTOR

The rail embargo ordered because of the longshoremen's strike was a depressing background factor. The profits outlook for 1963 was divided, according to a survey of manufacturing firms by the National Industrial Conference Board. The question of a tax cut hung fire as President Kennedy became involved in a series of conferences on tax cuts and budget problems.

The slack trading and small price movements seemed to indicate that Wall Street was not yet recovered from the Christmas holiday.

Among fractional gainers were Brunswick, Chrysler, American Motors, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, International Paper, Illinois Central, and Standard Oil (New Jersey).

Small losers included Sears Roebuck, Boeing, Union Carbide, Edison.

Prices were narrowly mixed on the American Exchange. Gainers included S. Klein, Wood Newspaper Machinery, Occidental Petroleum, and Draper. Among losers were Firth Sterling, Puerto Rico Telephone, Pepperell, and Giannini Controls.

Sees Chance for Steel Gain

Armco Head Looks for Slight Rise in Output

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (UPI) — The president of Armco Steel Corp. said today that "chances are good for a slight gain in steel production" in 1963.

★ ★ ★

Logan T. Johnston said that actual steel consumption during 1962 was about 7 per cent higher than 1961, but because of inventory adjustments at the consumer and producer levels, the nation's production of steel was only about 1 per cent above the previous year.

"Next year's general business pattern could be described as a continuation of 'high-level hesitation' in the early months of the year followed by possible new highs as the year progresses," Johnston said.

The steel executive said that "the mood of the country now seems to be to get on with the job of strengthening our defenses, modernizing our industrial plants and reasserting our leadership of the free world."

★ ★ ★

"In this atmosphere, steel production seems likely to move a little above the 100-million ton mark for the first time in six years," he added.

Johnston said the home building and automotive industries may not duplicate 1962 levels next year, but will approach them, and a rise in demand is expected in machinery, commercial construction, highway and pipe line industries.

Kellogg Gives Profit Package

BATTLE CREEK (UPI) — Four-thousand employes at the Kellogg Co. are sharing a $2,673,000 profit package.

Ten per cent of company profits go annually into a profit-sharing fund which now totals $43 million. A prime purpose of the fund is to supply additional income to retirees after Social Security.

Actual payment to employes is based on salary and time of service. Employes had the right to take cash payments at this time to the amount of over a million dollars.

Railroaders Nabbed for Spoiling Stunt

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—Plans were made during Bowling Green's centennial to arrest some visiting railroad men on a charge of not having beards as ordered by the town for the celebration.

But the railroaders pulled a surprise of their own. They grew beards in advance of their arrival.

They were arrested anyway—on a charge of "general principles for fouling up a good publicity stunt."

Batting Practice Here Comes High—for All

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Hunter Look has this sign posted in his sporting goods store:

"Bat inspection free. Bat swinging, $33 per swing."

Look put up the sign after numerous customers broke his plate glass windows while trying out the feel of a baseball bat before buying it.

Crayfish Get Jumpy

EAMES, Iowa (AP) — A professor of zoology at the State University of Iowa, Dr. Richard V. Bovbjerg, reports that crayfish and other small marine animals become tense and jumpy when the space they occupy is reduced or when they are crowded together or get pushed around. Let's not tell them about sardine tins!

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "We have $25,4000 to invest and wish to get higher than 4 per cent interest which our savings bank pays. Would it be possible to get 5 to 5½ per cent in blue chip bonds or preferred stocks?" F. C.

A) I am sorry to have to tell you that it would not.

Easy and plentiful money has lowered the yields on high grade bonds and preferreds to very little above the bank rate: General Electric 3⅛'s of 1976, callable in 1963, sell to yield 4.02 per cent; General Motors Acceptance Corp. 4¾'s of 1982, callable in 1970, would give you a 4.32 per cent return.

High grade preferreds would not do much better for you: Alcoa 3¾ per cent preferred sells on a 4.36 per cent basis and Bethlehem Steel non-callable preferred returns 4.73 per cent.

I think your best bet, if you require more income, would be good quality common stocks, such as Norfolk & Western, Maytag, and Lorillard, each of which yields 5½ per cent or better.

★ ★ ★

Q) "My son and I are interested in buying stocks and bonds. He is 25 and I am in my middle 40's. Could you explain whether stocks are better than bonds and how to go about buying them?" E. T.

A) I think you're very fortunate to have a grown-up son at your age — someone who obviously is very close to you.

In general, I believe individuals should hold high grade stocks and leave bonds to the institutions. Stocks, you see, can grow through increased earnings and dividends. Bonds, being fixed-income securities, have little chance to rise in price, particularly from today's high levels.

Buying securities is a very simple procedure. Ask your bank to give you the name of a reputable broker. He will be glad to act for you. You need to give him only about the same information a department store would require to open an account.

NY Publishers, Printers Talk

NEW YORK (AP)—Peace talks resume between publishers and printers today in the costliest newspaper strike in this city's history.

Unless the 19-day strike should end today, it will be the longest newspaper blackout in New York since the Gazette began putting out regular editions in 1730.

A record of 19 days was set four years ago, when a strike of newspaper mailers blacked out the city's nine major dailies and five suburban papers.

This year, with nearly 20,000 employes affected, the publishers estimate wage losses to date at more than $8 million. The publishers declined to estimate the loss of advertising and circulation revenues in the current strike, but it was virtually certain to exceed the estimated $25 million lost in 1958.

The negotiations between the Publishers Association of New York and International Typographical Union Local 6 resumes after a three-day recess. Neither side has shown a willingness to budge.

Still on Strike in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Negotiators for two striking unions — the Cleveland Newspaper Guild and Teamsters Local 473 — were to meet separately today with officials of the city's two daily newspapers in an attempt to end the 27-day-old strike.

The first meeting is at 2 p.m. in the office of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. It involves the Guild and the morning Plain Dealer and the afternoon Scripps-Howard Cleveland Press and News.

There have been no meetings in that strike since Friday.

Management also plans to meet with the Teamsters at 4 p.m. Prior to that negotiating session, the Teamsters have called membership meetings for its drivers.

To Head Rail District

DETROIT (AP) — John F. Nash, vice president for operation of the New York Central Railroad, announced today the appointment of Charles T. Popma as a general manager of the railroad's northern district effective Jan. 1. District headquarters is in Detroit.

Tunisian Says Bodyguard in on Murder Plot

TUNIS (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba said today his own bodyguard was among the plotters who had planned to assassinate him in bed in his white-walled palace near Tunis.

The pro - Western Tunisian leader did not disclose how the plot was uncovered. Some 400 suspects were rounded up for questioning and 20 are still being held.

Speaking before the Congress of the Tunisian Women's Union in Le Kef, 25 miles from the Algerian frontier, Bourguiba said:

★ ★ ★

"Thank God the plot failed. I am not afraid of death but after my death the country would be in a state of total anarchy. The plotters thought of eliminating me but not of replacing me."

Bourguiba has run this North African nation almost single-handedly since the republic was set up after Tunisia gained independence from France in 1956.

Business Notes

Dictaphone Corp. announced today that a new branch office will be opened Jan. 1 at 254 S. Telegraph Road.

The office will be managed by Charles J. Heitz. He joined the firm in 1953 at Detroit and has been twice named to the Achievement Club, the corporation's highest sales honor.

A Birmingham man Paul S. Mirabito of 1380 Brookwood Ave., has been appointed corporate vice president of Burroughs Corp.

Mirabito, vice president, defense, before he assumed his newly created position, began his executive career in 1942 as director of budgets for Control Instrument Co., now a Burroughs subsidiary.

State Awards First Vintage Trailer Plate

The head of a mobile home firm with headquarters in New Hudson is the owner of the first "vintage" trailer in Michigan.

Secretary of State James Hare said the trailer, a 1936 Vagabond, is the first to qualify for an historic vehicle license plate.

The trailer is owned by Fred C. Burt, president of the newly named Vagabond Corp. of New Hudson at 56495 Grand River Ave. The firm also has plants in Brighton, Alexander City, Ala., and Kingman, Ariz.

★ ★ ★

Company spokesmen said the firm's name has been changed from the Vagabond Coach Manufacturing Co. because it currently produces 20-foot-wide permanent homes in addition to its trailer line.

U.S. Industry Competes

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Foreign competition is egging a number of U.S. industries into trying again for their old role of pace setters for the world. They've already got some help from the federal government and in a couple of weeks will get some more in the new tax rules.

DAWSON

In earlier postwar years they were so busy filling orders of those eager for all they could produce that they kept old plants humming around the clock. This was fine, except—

Except that war-devastated Europe and Japan were being rebuilt industrially—and at first with considerable U.S. dollar aid. The new industrial plants overseas were the latest in design and the machinery the newest. The latest efficiency and cost-cutting methods were installed.

And when pent-up world demand subsided, some U.S. industries found that their old ways of producing were hard put to compete with the new rivals. Some are asking for protection but some others are also stepping out to go their rivals one better with the most advanced equipment.

STEEL INDUSTRY

The steel industry is but one example. It has taken some lumps this year and therefore drawn much attention. It couldn't raise prices as it wished—first because President Kennedy objected forcefully, and later because foreign and domestic competition wouldn't let it anyway. Earnings shrivelled and dividend payments were cut.

★ ★ ★

Among the charges made against the industry at the time of all its troubles were that it hadn't modernized to fight the new competition, that its plant was growing obsolete, that its labor relations during the 1950s had contributed largely to the wage-price spiral that seemed to be pricing much of U.S. production out of world markets.

In recent days the American steel industry has announced various positive steps to fight the problems besetting it.

Twelve of the largest steel companies have installed or announced plans to install basic oxygen steelmaking furnaces. These produce raw steel more cheaply than the older open hearth furnaces and can turn out about three times as many tons in an hour. European use of the oxygen method is one of the reasons given for the fast growth of the steel industry there.

This has cut the American exports of steels. It has also led to importation of foreign steel products, which has plagued American producers in the East and Midwest. On the West Coast, where importations of cheaper Japanese steel was becoming a troublesome problem, Kaiser Steel cut its price. This was soon met by other American companies shipping to that growing market.

The problem of the growth of steel markets far from the old centers of steel production also is being met. Bethlehem Steel has just announced it will build a plant near Chicago. U.S. Steel is reported planning to install oxygen steelmaking facilities nearby. The Chicago area consumes more steel than it produces and the new plants will cut shipping costs.

On the complicated labor front, Kaiser Steel will try a program that will enable it to cut costs by further mechanization and, with the approval of its union, retrain displaced workers and share part of the savings in production costs with employes.

On the research level, most of the big steel companies are stepping up efforts to perfect new products and uses to meet the competition from other materials.

In its competitive efforts the steel industry will have the help of new depreciation accounting rules for tax purposes, and after Jan. 1 an additional assist from a 7 per cent allowance on purchases of new equipment.
