Dulles Says Mideast Plan Would Keep Peace

'Don't Shoot, G-Men!'

Kidnaper's Plea for Mercy Prompts FBI Nickname

(Editor's Note: Everyone knows of the FBI, but surprisingly few people know how it operates guarding national security, tracking down criminals, protecting civil rights. For the first time the story is told in all its detail by Don Whitehead in his new book, "The FBI Story" (Random House). The Pontiac Press begins today a 30-part serialization of highlights from this outstanding book.)

BY DON WHITEHEAD

Shortly after midnight on July 23, 1933, a light flashed on the FBI's switchboard, signaling a call on the special kidnap line—NAtional 8-7117—set up as part of any intensive effort to cut down the alarming increase in kidnapings for ransom.

The operator quickly switched the call to the home of Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Mrs. Charles F. Urschel of Oklahoma City spilled out to him the story that her husband, a wealthy oil man, and a friend, Walter R. Jarrett, had been kidnaped only a few minutes earlier.

She told Hoover that she and her husband were playing bridge with Mr. and Mrs. Jarrett on the Urschels' screened porch when two men, armed with a machine gun and a pistol, opened the door and stepped onto the porch.

KELLY IN CUSTODY — George (Machine Gun) Kelly, flanked by police, heads for plane in Memphis after his arrest in kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel. Kelly, with his plea, "Don't Shoot, G-Men!" gave FBI agents a name that quickly caught the public fancy.

PRODIGIOUS MEMORY — Charles F. Urschel, wealthy Oklahoma oil man, pictured with his wife after his release. Urschel's amazing memory for details led FBI agents to isolated Texas ranch where he was held prisoner.

DEMANDS IDENTITY

"Which one of you is Mr. Urschel?" one of the gunmen asked.

When neither Urschel nor Jarrett replied, the kidnaper said, "Well, we'll take both of them."

Hoover immediately telephoned the Oklahoma City FBI office and ordered agents to the Urschel home.

He told his men to be sure the Oklahoma City police were alerted. Within an hour FBI special agents were converging on Oklahoma City from other points.

They were under orders to cooperate with the family, and to do nothing that would jeopardize the safe return of the oil man. It was—and still is—the policy of the FBI not to advise a family whether ransom money should or should not be paid.

FAMILY'S DECISION

These were decisions for the family to make.

Jarrett returned to the Urschel home, disheveled and shaken, about two hours after the kidnaping.

He said the kidnapers drove 10 or 12 miles northeast of the city, took $50 from him, put him out of the car and then headed south with Urschel.

Four days later, a friend of the Urschels received a package delivered by a Western Union messenger.

The package contained four letters, one in Urschel's handwriting. Another was a typewritten letter addressed to E. E. Kirkpatrick of Oklahoma City.

This letter demanded $200,000 for the oil man's safe return. There were instructions to place an advertisement in the Daily Oklahoman's classified ad columns if the kidnapers' price was going to be met.

RANSOM NUMBERS NOTED

The innocent-looking ad appeared:

"For Sale—160 Acres Land, good five room house, deep well. Also Cows, Tools, Tractor, Corn and Hay. $3750 for quick sale. . . TERMS. . . Box H-807."

Kirkpatrick left Oklahoma City carrying a handbag stuffed with $200,000 in $20 bank notes. The kidnapers' orders were followed to the letter, except that the FBI had a record of the serial numbers of the ransom bills.

In Kansas City, Kirkpatrick took a cab to the LaSalle Hotel, stepped out, paid the driver and walked west. He had gone only a short distance when a stranger approached him and said, "Mr. Kincaid, I'll take that bag."

REMARKABLE MEMORY

Urschel arrived home the next night, unharmed but exhausted. After he had rested, he gave FBI agents the story of his kidnaping in amazing detail. After Jarrett was put out of the car, Urschel was blindfolded.

About daylight, the kidnap car drove into a garage, or barn, and he was transferred to a larger car. He was placed in the back on a pallet spread on the floor.

About three hours after changing automobiles their car stopped at a gasoline station, where a woman filled the tank without noticing anything unusual.

"How are crop conditions?" one of the kidnapers asked.

"The crops around here are burned up," she said, "although we may make some broom corn."

Their next stop was another garage or barn. Urschel was taken on foot to a house nearby where he spent the night.

SOUNDS OF FARM

Next day he was taken to another house about 20 minutes' driving distance from the first. He heard chickens cackling, cows lowing and hogs grunting.

He heard water being drawn by

U. of M. Coed Struck on Head in Dormitory

Detroit Girl Identifies Assailant as Pre-Med She Refused to Date

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A pre-medical student at the University of Michigan was held by police today in connection with an attack on a student nurse as she slept in a dormitory room.

Virginia Large, 21, of Detroit, said she was asleep yesterday morning when an assailant entered her room and struck her four times on the head with a sharp weapon. She suffered bruises and lacerations, but was not seriously hurt.

Capt. Roland Gainsley of the Ann Arbor police said Miss Large told him she screamed and the assailant ran for a window and climbed down a fire escape.

Charles W. Castrop, 24, of Dearborn, a pre-medical student, was arrested a short time later and held for investigation of felonious assault. Gainsley said Miss Large had rejected Castrop's attempts to date her.

Miss Large, president of her senior nursing class said she was struck as she slept in her third-floor room in Couzens Hall. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Curtis Large.

She identified Castrop, a divorced father, as her assailant. Police are holding him for investigation of felonious assault.

Police said it is possible that Castrop entered the dormitory through a steam tunnel which runs from the university's central heating plant.

Miss Large said that, while no lights were on in the room when she was awakened, she could see her assailant's face by reflected lights from the street.

She said Castrop four times had asked her for dates but that she had refused.

She said she met him when both worked in the Neuro - Psychiatric Institute at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

4 From City Suspect in Royal Oak Sniping

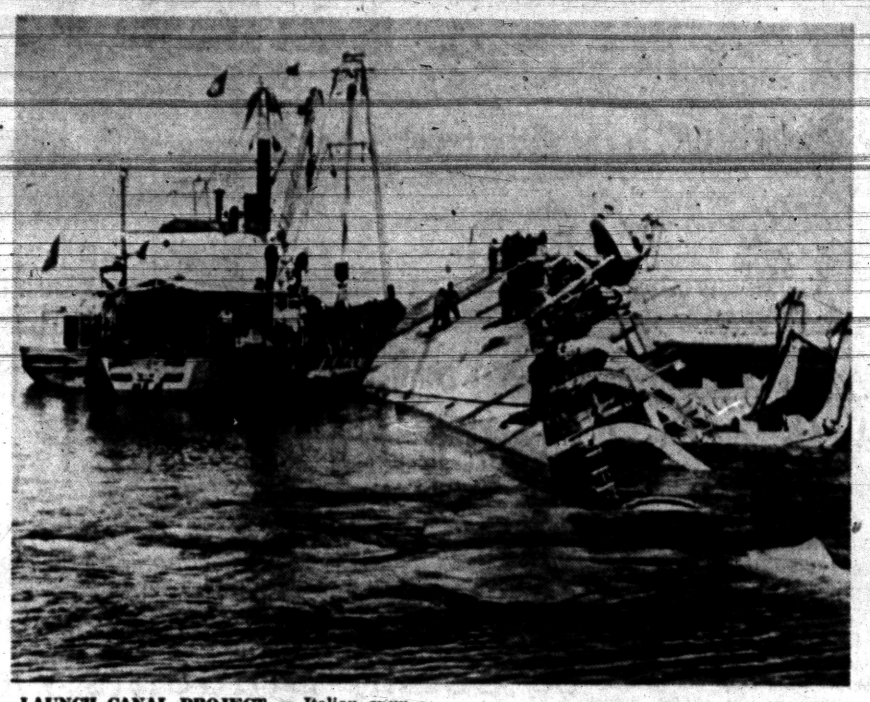

Four Pontiac persons remain under suspicion in the Royal Oak December sniping incidents today as police there await the results of ballistics tests to be taken on two more .22 caliber rifles.

The newest suspects were questioned Saturday about the Dec. 21 shootings in which a teenage girl was wounded and a woman narrowly missed.

The local residents were picked up here early Saturday by Pontiac police after a gun was found on the front seat of the car in which they were riding. The group includes two men and two women.

Completion of these latest ballistics tests by the State Police Laboratory at Lansing will bring to 45 the total of guns which have been checked since the snipings occurred.

8 Injured in Pennsylvania

3 Missing In Plant Blast

EMPORIUM, Pa. (AP)—An explosion tore through a dynamite manufacturing plant in this northern Pennsylvania community early today, demolishing at least two buildings and setting fire to a dozen others.

Three men were reported missing and believed dead. None was immediately identified.

Eight others were admitted to St. Marys Hospital in St. Marys. Most seriously hurt was Alvin F. Walker, 23, of Emporium. Others injured included:

Minard Sprung, 50, Virgil H. Chambers, 43, William Strader, 53, Gerhard De Bauer, 34, and John Gibbs, 21, all of Emporium, and Nathaniel Kephart, 48, of Port Allegany, and George McIsaac of Driftwood.

The blast rocked the Pennsylvania Powder Co. plant on the outskirts of Emporium at 7:15 a.m. Reports said the blast occurred in the mixing plant shortly after the change of shifts.

The mixing plant and the cotton plant were demolished. Another large building housing the packing house was severely damaged.

At least a dozen other buildings, protected on three sides by earth barricades, felt the concussion and the effects of a roaring fire.

"Everything in the plant was torn to hell," said William Smith, a stationary fireman at the plant. "It about shook the town off its hinges," he said.

State Police temporarily blocked traffic from the area for fear of another explosion. The fire was checked some three hours after the explosion.

The explosion broke windows in the Pennsylvania Railroad roundhouse, located near the dynamite plant. A railroad spokesman said an earlier unofficial report of extensive damge to the roundhouse was not correct.

The blast broke windows in Emporium and knocked over utility and telephone lines.

RIDGWAY, Colo. (AP) — An explosion killed three men and injured 18 other persons among a crowd of more than 150 curious spectators watching a fire yesterday at a county highway garage.

Sheriff Harry B. Scott said the blast was caused "by gasoline or powder or maybe a combination of both—we just don't know."

Promised Snow Causes Accidents —Salt Trucks Out

Promises of more snow came on the heels of a pre-dawn fall that covered county roads causing motorists to inch their way to work this morning through slush and slippery conditions.

The Oakland County Road Commission reported roads "generally slippery throughout. We've salted them once and are going back for the second time," a spokesman said.

Joseph Jewell, superintendent of Pontiac's Dept. of Public Works, said three salt trucks were out and that scrapers would be dispatched if the snow continued.

Chances are they would be sent out as the Weather Bureau predicted light snow or flurries for tomorrow with the mercury around 20 to 24 degrees. Tonight's low will hover between 16 and 20.

In downtown Pontiac, preceding 8 a.m., the lowest temperature recorded was 26 degrees. At 2 p.m. the mercury read 30 degrees.

Christmas Is Today for Many Christians

NEW YORK (AP)—The Feast of Christmas was celebrated today by Orthodox Christians of several denominations, including the Russian Orthodox.

Pot-O-Gold Filling Again

Old Pot-O-Gold must have access to a money tree, the way it keeps pouring back into the pot.

Already the prize is back up to $300 for a winning answer, providing no winner is found for Puzzle No. 31 which appeared in last week's Press. And it's worth $100 even then, so you can't lose.

Now that the Christmas rush is over, the deadline for entries has been moved back to Tuesday, so the deadline for this week's puzzle is Tuesday, January 15.

That gives you plenty of time to read the rules, study the clues and decide which of the clue words best fit the puzzle. Sixteen right words can mean a fatter wallet for you.

This week's clue words are: bitter, boob, boor, boy, brute, buy, comedy, comely, cool, dial, flop, fool, hip, hop, knob, knot, modes, mores, paean, pagan, pelf, pod, rod, rumble, sally, tally, terse, tumble, verse, vial, wind, wine.

Asks Congress to OK Doctrine Set Forth by Ike

State Secretary Gives His Views at Hearing of House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of States Dulles testified today President Eisenhower's Middle East Manifesto would increase tensions with Russia but would "stop World War III before it starts."

Dulles appeared before a jam-packed hearing of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. He spoke from a prepared statement and then submitted to questions from committee members.

He appealed for congressional approval of "a rounded program of economic and military assistance" including advance authority for the President to use U. S. military forces against any "overt armed aggression" spawned by communism in the Middle East.

He was the first of a parade of administration witnesses called to detail the proposal which President Eisenhower presented at a special joint session of Congress Saturday.

In an exchange with Chairman Gordon (D-Ill), Dulles said the Soviet Union is seeking to make "an area of turbulence" out of the Middle East, and he added:

"I think, Mr. Chairman, we must recognize that this action may temporarily at least increase tensions with the Soviet Union."

But he said the purpose of the President's proposal is "to stop World War III before it starts."

Referring to the proposal's fight-if-we-must proviso, Dulles said he has no doubt what Congress would do "if international communism set out on a piecemeal conquest of the world by war."

"But until the Congress has actually spoken," he said, "there is doubt in the Middle East and there may be doubt in the Soviet Union."

Dulles noted that in the Middle East "there is suspicion against any outside force lest it be a device to reimpose colonialism."

This and the other discords and difficulties in the area make it "hard" for the United States "to help in one direction without creating suspicion in another," he said.

But, he added, the administration plan would "first of all make unmistakably clear that it is the

The victims were Roy E. Lee, 38, of 1341 W. Farnum St., Royal Oak, and Ferdinand Raffel, 50, of 404 E. 3rd St., Rochester.

Lee died Saturday at William Beaumont Hospital after being critically hurt late Friday night when he was hit by a car while walking on the sidewalk on Woodward Avenue at Oakridge.

Gerow St. Clair, 25, of 2370 Tacoma Rd., Royal Oak, driver of the car, told police he lost control of his car and went over the curb while trying to stop for a vehicle slowing in front of him.

Raffel was killed instantly in a a headon collision early Sunday morning at Rochester and Diversion roads near Rochester in Avon Township. Three others were hurt.

Hospitalized were F. Reid Mayes 36, of 109 Cloverport Rd., Rochester, and Robert Cox, 37, of 2550 Rochester Rd., Rochester. The pair, who were passengers in Raffel's car, are in fair condition at Pontiac General Hspital.

Richard A. Price, 23, of 408 Walnut St., Rochester, the other driver, was released following treatment at the hospital for minor chest and head injuries. He told deputies the collision occurred when the oncoming Raffel car swerved in front of him.

Defense Chief Lauds Gift of Oakland County Estate

Technical and cultural boons to the north Oakland County area have been hailed as "great progress" by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson.

He said the recent $10 million gift of the Alfred G. Wilsons' Avon Township estate and mansion to Michigan State University for a branch college is a "great advancement for the area and the people who live there."

Wilson's comment came after announcement of the gift Thursday. It was disclosed today by his son, Edward Wilson, Birmingham automobile dealer.

"It's a very fine and wonderful thing for the area that great centers of technical research have been located or planned there," the secretary said. "The addition of an important institution of higher learning is certainly great progress."

He referred to the proposed Chrysler Corp. development center in Troy Township and the General Motors Technical Center on Mound road.

The General Motors Center was opened last spring. The Chrysler center is planned in the area roughly bounded by South boulebard; and E. Long Lake, Crooks and Beech roads.

Wilson also congratulated Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson and Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University who has served under Wilson as Assistant Secretary of Defense.

The Defense Secretary and Mrs. Wilson live in Bloomfield Hills. The Charles Wilsons and the Alfred Wilsons are not related.

Mass Exodus Seen as 'Policy' Move

Jews Quit Egypt, Tell of 'Terror'

NAPLES (INS) — Egyptian secret police were accused by Jewish refugees today of terrorizing and torturing Jews in the Arab country.

The charges were leveled by many of the 967 Jews brought to Naples aboard the International Red Cross-chartered Egyptian vessel Misr in the first mass deportation from Egypt.

The refugees related their experiences while awaiting transportation to other lands, where they can start life anew.

Among them were 937 stateless Jews, most of whom were born in Egypt but were unable to obtain Egyptian nationality because of their religion.

The refugees were said to be the vanguard of another 40-45,000 Jews of different nationalities expected to quit Gamal Abdel Nassers Egypt this year.

They blamed the mass exodus on what they called "Nasser terror."

The refugees said their ordeals began shortly after Israeli troops invaded the Sinai desert on Oct. 29. Most of them, in telling their stories, asked that their names be withheld for fear of retaliation against relatives still in the Arab nation.

One man told of being taken to Cairo's Abbassia prison, where he was tortured. He said the torture was administered by Egypt's secret police in an effort to make him tell where his fortune was hidden.

He added that another prisoner subjected to the same brutality went mad.

The refugees estimated that the Egyptians so far had confiscated $100,000,000 from Jews in the country. They calculated that the total wealth of Egyptian Jews had been about $600,000,000.

BROUGHT ON BY WAR

One woman refugee, whose husband still is in prison, related:

"The terror began soon after the war began. Superintendents of all buildings began reporting the names of all Jews and other foreigners to police. Then came the police raids and orders confining us to our apartments.

"We had one hour free daily in which we could go out and buy food." She added:

"When the police would come after midnight, we knew it was bad. They would point at some member of our family and say, 'Come along. You're wanted'. Then they would take the member to the police station and imprison him without court procedure."

She said the prisoners would be jailed along with criminals.

POLICY CLEAR

Both the refugees and American relief officials who interviewed them said there was a clear Egyptian policy to expel Jews.

* * *

Moses A. Leavitt, executive vice chairman of the American Joint Distribution Committee, told International News Service:

"Despite denials to the contrary in the United Nations, there is a very definite policy by the Egyptian government to expel

Judge to Decide Northville Issue

Vote Fraud Possibility in Land Annexation to Be Considered

Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty will consider the question of fraudulent votes in his decision whether a June 21 election whereby Northville annexed a 95-acre parcel in Novi Township will be declared void.

The judge said after a two-day trial concluded Friday that he also will consider arguments whether the election should have been a special one and whether the number of eligible township voters was illegally limited.

Six residents of the disputed area were eligible and voted in the township election. They favored annexation, five to one.

Attorneys for Warren Products Co., a small manufacturing firm at 637 E. Eight Mile Rd. in the disputed area, alleged the five pro-annexation votes were fraudulently obtained.

They cited an option by a Detroit building firm with two of the residents, a couple who own the only two homes in the area.

AGREED TO VOTE

The option, to purchase their land, contained an agreement whereby the pair agreed to "procure and vote for" the annexation or pay damages.

Pontiac attorney Glenn C. Gillespie argued that the couple influenced their son and another couple renting the other home to vote for the annexation.

Attorneys for Northville, principle defendent in the suit, denied there was evidence of fraud.

Judge Doty ordered the defense to submit a brief within two weeks. He'll make his decision within a week after receiving the brief, he said.

The Warren Co.'s brief already has been filed. The company asked the election be declared void, saying municipal taxes would be overburdening. Official certification of the election awaits the outcome of the trial.

Nashville Crowd Hangs a Dummy Labeled 'Elvis'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Singer Elvis (The Pelvis) Presley was hanged in effigy near Nashville yesterday. The dummy drew a good crowd, but whoever pulled the stunt botched it — no blue suede shoes, not even sideburns.

The dummy, with the word "Elvis" emblazoned across its back, dangled from an overpass on a highway southeast of the city. It was clad in a red shirt, blue jeans, light colored leather sandals and a brown duck-billed cap.

Its pockets bulged with phony money.

When a state trooper hauled down the effigy, shouts from the crowd included: "Don't be cruel," and "Y' ain't nothin' but a houn' dog"—titles of songs made popular by the radio, television and recording star.

An ambulance, probably summoned by a prankster, took the dummy away to a funeral home, much to the delight of the crowd, which numbered several hundred.

Presley was in New York yesterday, where he appeared on the Ed Sullivan television show last night.

Answer to Be Given at Jaycee Dinner

Who Did Most for Pontiac?

Pontiac Jaycees have been huddling over the weekend drumming up nominations for this area's outstanding young man and boss of 1956.

These honors, along with the "Key Man" award given to the outstanding man in the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be known Wednesday night at the annual "Bosses' Night" dinner at the Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave. The event begins at 7.

Featured speaker will be Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart. Toastmaster will be Stuart E. Whitfield, past Jaycee president of 1934.

Dr. Robert H. Kimmins, chairman of the dinner, said tickets will be available at the door. Some 100 Jaycees are expected to invite their bosses.

The "Outstanding Young Man of Pontiac" award goes each year to the man between 21 and 35 years of age who is judged to have contributed the most in community service during the past year.

William L. Treanor, 971 Berwick Blvd., captured this award last year.

The "Outstanding Boss" award is presented to the boss, as nominated by Jaycees, considered tops to work with. Gelston V. Poole was the 1955 winner.

Precision Products Plant Will Turn Out Windows, Automation

Purchase of the Precision Products plant in Sylvan Lake by Whizzer Industries Inc. was announced today by Martin Goldman, secretary-treasurer of the Pontiac manufacturing firm.

The factory, which will employ between 50 and 80 persons, will be used by Whizzer to manufacture "Glidorama" windows and automation machinery. The windows are presently being manufactured at the firm's Orchard Lake-Maple Road plant.

Goldman said that manufacturing equipment will be moved into the Sylvan Lake building within 30 days.

Located at 2240 Greer St., the plant was purchased from the estate of the late William Mahar. Formerly a supplier of specialty products to the auto industry, Precision Products has been idle since October.

The plant occupies 31,000 square feet of space and is located on 2½ acres of ground.

Goldman said the increased facilities will more than double Whizzer Industries' present manufacturing capacity. He added that the expansion was prompted by increased volume of business.

The transaction was handled by the Pontiac real estate firm of Roy Annett Inc. The company, headed by President Bruce Annett, also handled the recent sale of the Flint Tool & Die Co. of Holly.

Man Shot in Knee by Unknown Assailant

Nathaniel Hall, 141 W. South Blvd., told city police Saturday an unknown person fired one shot at him and two other men as they were walking west on Crystal Lake drive about 11 p.m. Saturday.

Hall was released from Pontiac General Hospital after the bullet was removed from his right knee. The two men with Hall were brothers: Thomas Short, 38 Deland Ct., and Otis Short, 301 Hughes St.

Detective Sgt. John Williams said he did not think this shooting was related to the recent Royal Oak sniper incidents.

Sporty Thief Reels In Goods Locked in Auto

An apparent sportsman hooked an illegal catch of fishing equipment from an automobile Sunday night, Pontiac police said.

He smashed a vent window to unlock the car door and steal two fishing reels, worth $3.75 each, and an aluminum shanty frame for ice fishing, the owner, Jimmie Hayes, 343 Branch St., said.

Service for Lew W. Tuller, 88, of 1122 Symes St., Royal Oak, will be held tomorrow from the William R. Hamilton Co. Chapel on Cass avenue, Detroit, at 11 a.m. He died Saturday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Mr. Tuller became well known in hotel circles for his ownership and management of the Detroit hotel that bears his name. He built the hotel in 1906, and went on to build other hotels in the 1920's.

Mr. Tuller was a charter member of the DAC, a member of the Second Church of Christ Scientist, the Detroit Boat Club and the Wolverine Lodge 484, F & AM.

Water Supply Tonight's Topic

Engineers to Report on Research Progress in Waterford Township

The Waterford Township Board meets at 7:30 tonight to discuss the problems of obtaining adequate water supply for the township.

Consulting engineers, Johnson and Anderson, will present a report of research that has been made on population and on the estimated cost for construction of an overhead water supply tank and connecting various water mains.

No action has been taken as yet regarding a municipal dump site for the township. However, studies are being made for a possible landfill area, according to Lloyd L. Anderson, township supervisor.

Trapped Ships Begin Suez Exit

Egyptians Ignore Offer, Assume Job of Clearing 13 Vessels in Canal

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP)—Thirteen ships of seven nations finally were on their way out of the Suez Canal today, more than two months after the British-French invasion and Egyptian countermeasures bottled them up in the waterway.

Wrecks still obstructing the canal made their passage north to Port Said a tricky navigating problem. Col. Mahmound Yunes, managing director of the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority, estimated it might take until Thursday to get all 13 out of the canal.

The Egyptians themselves undertook the job of moving the trapped freighters and tankers, spurning offers from the U. N. salvage fleet clearing the ships and bridges which Egypt sank in the canal after British and French warplanes began to bombard Oct. 31.

The stranded ships were in a southbound convoy which left Port Said Oct. 30. They were caught about seven miles north of Ismailia, the canal halfway point, and most of their crews have been living in Cairo.

Because the southern portion of the canal is still blocked, the ships must go out through the north. U. N. salvage experts estimate they will have a channel open to 10,000-ton ships the entire length of the 103-mile waterway by early March.

The trip north for the ships involved being tugged around until they were headed north, the first time vessels have ever changed direction in the canal.

When all were turned, the convoy was to head north under its own power but the ships were to be tugged past obstructions still blocking the normal channel.

Dulles Says Plan Would Keep Peace

policy of the United States, declared by the Congress and the President, to cooperate with the nations of the Middle East to maintain their independence."

He noted that the United States would commit its troops only on the invitation of a nation under attack. And he emphasized that any U. S. use of force would be consonant with the actions and recommendations of the U.N.

Dulles said any use of armed force would be subject to the U. N. charter article recognizing the "inherent right of collective self-defense if an armed attack occurs," but providing that the authority and responsibility of the U. N. Security Council continue.

Dulles told the committee the geographical area to be served by the Eisenhower plan had been deliberately kept vague in public discussion of it. He said he would be happy to tell committee members on confidence what countries were included and what were not. But he said this information should be kept secret lest the Communists get the idea they could safely take over a country not included.

Car Collision Causes Minor Knee Injury

A Rochester woman received a minor knee injury Sunday morning when the car in which she was riding collided with another vehicle at an Avon Township intersection.

Mrs. Martha Blaska, 39, of 2615 Culbertson Ave., was treated and released by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The vehicles involved were driven by her husband, John, 45, and John R. Megaw, 66, of Detroit. Megaw told police he did not see the other car coming until he was in the middle of the intersection of Adams and Auburn roads. Blaska said the Megaw car ran a red light and that he could not stop in time to avoid it.

China's Premier to Visit Moscow

Chou Will Tour Poland, Hungary; Still Supports Soviet Intervention

HONG KONG (AP) — Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai left Peiping for Moscow today. Peiping radio announced he also would visit Hungary as well as Poland.

Observers in Hong Kong considered that Chou's extension of his tour to rebellion-torn Hungary did not mean any possible change in Peiping's support for the regime of pro-Russian Premier Janos Kadar.

The Chinese radio said Chou, who also is foreign minister, was accompanied by Vice Premier Marshal Ho Lung and Vice Foreign Minister Wang Chiah-siang. After his visits to Moscow, Warsaw and Budapest, Chou will complete his interrupted Asian tour with visits to Nepal and Afghanistan.

Chou's visit to Poland and Hungary so soon after the upsurge of the wave of anti-Sovietism in those two countries was viewed both in Hong Kong and Moscow as evidence that the Chinese regime is playing an increasingly influential and independent role in world communism.

The Chinese Communists seem to be making it plain that although they support Russia as an expedient to keep the Communist world from falling apart, they will not accept blindly Moscow's version of what happened in Hungary and Poland.

Kidnaper Popularizes New FBI Nickname

bucket from a well he judged to be northwest of the house. He drank from a tin cup without a handle and the water had a mineral taste.

Handcuffed to a chain, Urschel managed to work his blindfold loose enough so that he could get a glimpse of his watch.

Each morning about 9:45 and each evening about 5:45 he heard a plane pass over the house.

But on Sunday, July 30, there was a downpour of rain and he didn't hear the morning plane. The next day he was driven to a point near Norman, Okla., and released.

DECIDE ON COURSE

FBI special agents studied Urschel's recollections and decided that their best chance to locate the kidnapers' house was tied in with the account of the rainstorm and the failure of the plane to follow its usual course.

They found that on Sunday, July 30, an American Airways plane on the Fort Worth-Amarillo run had been forced to swing north from its usual course to avoid a rainstorm.

U. S. Weather Bureau records at Dallas disclosed that this general area had been suffering from a drought and the corn was beginning to burn until the July 30 rains came.

A little calculation showed that the morning plane leaving Fort Worth and the afternoon plane leaving Amarillo would pass over a point near Paradise, Tex., at the approximate times recalled by Urschel.

GUNMAN'S RELATIVES

They found the house described by Urschel. It was the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shannon, stepfather and mother of Kathryn Kelly. Kathryn Kelly was the wife of the notorious "Machine Gun" Kelly, who reputedly could knock walnuts off a fence with his machine gun at 25 yards.

Urschel identified the Shannon home. There was the well and the tin cup without a handle and the chain to which he had been handcuffed. He could never forget the mineral taste of that water.

The Shannons confessed that they had helped guard Urschel. The kidnapers were Kelly and Albert L. Bates.

The FBI men tracked Bates to Denver, where he was arrested. Kelly and his wife were traced to Memphis, Tenn. FBI special agents and Memphis police raided the hideaway. Caught without a machine gun in his hands, Kelly cringed before the officers and pleaded, "Don't shoot, G-Men! Don't shoot, G-Men!"

Kelly's nickname for the FBI's agents stuck with them. In newspapers, magazine and movies and over the radio, FBI, or "Government Men," became "G-Men" in a wave of publicity.

Yule Trees Fight Sea

WESTERLY, R.I. (AP)—The discarded symbol of Christmas was buried yesterday on a wind swept beach to help halt some of the ravages of nature. A mile long crest of Christmas trees from homes in Westerly and nearby Pawcatuck, Conn. were planted by Boy Scouts and Chamber of Commerce members in an attempt to stop wind and sea erosion at Masquamicut Beach.

Schone Prophecy True; 40 Agenda Items Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — City Manager Harold K. Schone proved himself a good prophet at the last city commission meeting when he quipped, "We'll have a heavy agenda coming up at the next one."

More than 40 items are in the offing, including hearings on the vacation of alleys in the Campbell subdivision and the rezoning of the Lambert property.

Communications already received at city offices indicate opposition to the zoning change, from residential to business. Several letters have been received recently, to be added to protests filed earlier on this subject.

Streets and traffic will occupy a large portion of the evening as reports and discussions center around traffic surveys, speed and parking controls, changes in traffic regulations, special traffic hazards and a number of special assessment districts for paving streets.

Residents and business places used a total of 2,056,128 gallons of water in December, according to a report issued by Fire Lt. R. Ives. This total included 776,528 gallons delivered from the SEOCWA.

Malcolm Ferguson, Beverly school principal, will speak at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Women's Fellowship, Congregational Church of Birmingham. Ferguson's topic will be, "Together We Raise These Children."

Special Christmas tree service is being offered this week by the DPW, according to L. R. Gare, director. The tree chopper will make the rounds of the city, grinding up those trees which have not been picked up by the regular rubbish truck collections.

A Birmingham man, David Allison MacKay, 21, of 679 Frank St. was injured early Sunday morning while driving on W. Maple avenue, east of Franklin road.

Police, theorizing that MacKay had fallen asleep, said his car travelled 50 feet along the shoulder of the road before hitting a driveway culvert. The car traveled another 100 feet before coming to a halt on its top in a drainage ditch, they said.

The young General Motors Technical Center employe was taken to William Beaumont hospital, suffering from head lacerations and shock.

2nd Police Class Part of CD Plan

Slate Tuesday Meeting at Bloomfield Township for Auxiliary Group

A meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday at Bloomfield Township Hall when Sidney Eder will conduct the second training class for auxiliary police, a part of the township's civil defense program.

H. A. Houston, director, said additional volunteers are needed in this and several other CD sections.

Mrs. V. H. Nelson, Houston's assistant, said, "Our auxiliary police, who will come under the direction of police chief, Clark Greene, will be trained to work in conjunction with the state police, also.

"We know, after hearing the major plan for the evacuation of Greater Detroit, that our area is going to have a major need for men schooled in handling traffic. While residents in our area are making a good response, we do need more, not only in auxiliary police, but other branches, as well.

"At a meeting last Thursday plans for this session were discussed, along with the needs we have for welfare and community services workers, sector wardens and the like. We will welcome all who are willing to volunteer their own and neighbors' families in time of an emergency, natural or man-made."

Bomb Hoax Thwarts Texas Movie Audience

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)— A false bomb scare at the Wichita Theater prevented more than a thousand spectators from finding out how "Giant," a film about Texas, ends.

The film was stopped and the theater quickly emptied. A thorough search failed to turn up a bomb.

Western Countries Express Favor

Mixed Reactions Greet President's Plan to Prevent Red Aggression in Mideast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Eisenhower's plan for blocking communism in the Middle East was viewed with misgivings today in most of the Arab world.

Reaction elsewhere ranged from enthusiasm in some Western European countries to cries of "rude interference" from Moscow. Non-Arab allies of the United States in the Middle East welcomed the program.

The Eisenhower doctrine — aimed at preventing Communist encroachment on the Middle East — couples the promise of large-scale economic help to the area with a threat to use U. S. armed forces against overt Communist aggression there. The President outlined it to Congress Saturday.

In Cairo, the reception was chilly but mild. Some Egyptians who had hoped the United States was ready to unveil a new policy of support for President Nasser were disappointed.

There was also the feeling that the doctrine would make it more difficult for Egypt to play off the Communists against the West, as in the past. There was fear that continued flirting with the Soviet bloc through arms purchases and other help would lay Nasser open to the charge of being a vehicle of "indirect Communist aggression."

Many Arabs throughout the area expressed disappointment that the the President passed quickly over the Israel-Arab dispute, leaving the United Nations to continue its so far unsuccessful efforts to solve this problem.

Sampling of opinion in Beirut showed general disappointment in the doctrine. But a number of Arabs found some "good things" in it, such as an implication of stronger U. S. support for independence movements. One Arab expressed the view that Eisenhower put across "an excellent piece of diplomacy." He explained:

"Had Eisenhower mentioned anything about Israel, Britain and France, he would have scared Congress away from giving him standby authority. Once he gets that power, he can do what he wants and he will do what's right."

Newspapers in Israel also were disappointed that the speech did not offer a remedy to the Israel-Arab problem. But they welcomed the step as an entrance of the United States in the Middle East.

In Syria, where a pro-Soviet clique is in power, official quarters called the doctrine a "formal declaration of cold war." A spokesman said the Middle East does not want to be involved in the struggle between East and West.

Political circles in Iraq, which is aligned with the West in the Baghdad Pact, thought the doctrine seemed to touch the disease in the the Middle East without trying to find the cause.

Turkey, an NATO and Baghdad Pact member, gave the plan its strongest support in the Middle East. Premier Adnan Mendres said:

"One fact, that the Middle East will not be abandoned to its fate, is clearly understood. Peace and stability may prevail in the region."

Pakistan also viewed it with favor.

India's Prime Minister Nehru and his top associate voiced misgivings. Without mentioning the doctrine specifically, Nehru said that if there is a power vacuum in the Middle East, it is for the countries in that region to fill it.

Russia and four of her satellites joined in a bitter denunciation of the doctrine.

"The rude interference of American monopoly capital and military circles in the affairs of the Middle Eastern states creates a new and serious crisis in this area," said a joint communique announcing that Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev had met in Budapest with leaders of Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania and Czechoslovakia.

Most Western Europe was gratified by the new policy. Papers in Italy found little to criticize in the plan except that "it came late." A French government spokesman said, "The President has recognized the danger to Western Europe's stability and security involved in Communist enterprise in the Middle East."

British papers welcomed the plan—some with high enthusiasm—as a step forward. Some were disparaging because they thought it came too late and did not go far enough.

Question Pair in Slaying, Rape

High School Youth Shot, Girl Dragged From Car and Assaulted

SIKESTON, Mo. (AP) — Police arrested two Negroes last night and spirited them away for questioning about the Saturday night slaying of an 18-year-old high school football player and the rape of his girl friend.

More than 100 possemen fanned out through the southeast Missouri Delta country in a day-long manhunt yesterday, setting up roadblocks and searching Negro settlements house to house.

About 25 high school youngsters gathered at one time in front of the Sikeston jail but there was no disorder.

Lt. Eldridge F. Dampf of the Missouri highway patrol said one of the men under arrest was Claude (Bootmouth) Lacksley, 61-year-old Sikeston handyman.

The name of the other Negro was not disclosed. Dampf said he was a friend of Lacksley and was picked up for questioning about a .32 pistol.

Victim of the shooting was John Malugan, who lived at Charleston, Mo., 14 miles east of Sikeston.

Police said 18-year-old June Castleberry of Sikeston told them she and Malugan were parked on a country road just outside Sikeston when a Negro approached the car.

She related Malugan told the man to move on but he pulled a gun and fired, hitting Malugan in the chest. Miss Castleberry said the Negro dragged her from the car across a cotton field to the porch of a vacant house and attacked her.

County Health Nurse Advises:

Vaccinate Pets to Protect Your Children

By JANICE HAYHOW

One person who can vouch for the vital necessity of vaccinating family pets against rabies is Mrs H. R. Joyner, clinic nurse for the Oakland County Health Department.

Anyone who has argunient with the values of pet vaccination, says Mrs. Joyner, should see the little children who are subjected to the series of shots necessary to protect them from rabies when they are bitten by any dog.

Eighty-four persons received a total of 173 shots last year at the Oakland County Health Center because of bites from stray dogs or those suspected of rabies.

Because of the terrible possibility of rabies, there is only one course to follow after a dog bite. The animal should be penned up for 10 days, says Dr. Frank R. Bates, director of the Oakland County Animal Shelter.

These 10 days will decide whether the dog has hydrophobia (rabies). If there is the slightest suspicion of this disease of the nervous system in the animal, the Pasteur treatment should be begun immediately on the bitten victim, Dr. Bates said.

Bites on the face should be followed immediately with several shots of the Pasteur series because rabies begin when the poisonous virus or germ transmitted from the animal reaches the human brain. The proximity of a face bite to the brain forms the need for speeded treatment, Mrs. Joyner said.

The treatment itself consists of a series of up to 21 shots of a vaccine prepared from the spinal cords of rabbits that have been injected with the disease. Success is almost always certain.

A shot a day is given until the victim is pronounced thoroughly safe by a doctor, Mrs. Joyner accounted.

The cure itself inflames children's skin and they are usually sensitive to the injections. Improvements in the vaccine in later years has lessened this discomfort, she continued.

But if the shots are not given the effects of rabies on dog or human are most terrible, Dr. Bates and Mrs. Joyner described. Convulsions and spasms are followed by paralysis and death.

The best thing to do, the two agreed, is for residents to report stray dogs to the Animal Shelter, 1200 E. Walton Blvd. and, above all, to vaccinate and license family pets.

Any veterinarian can vaccinate the dog and licenses can be obtained from local treasurers, Dr. Bates said. Beginning Mar. 1 licenses cost double, he said.

NEW YORK (INS) — John E. Roosevelt, 22-year-old grandson of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, was mugged today early by three unknown youths.

Youth Admits Killing Child, 8

Stabbed Girl to Death, Then Viewed TV, Says Boy in California

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Mutilated by 115 stab wounds, the body of frail, blonde Rose Ann White, 8, was found by a railroad track here yesterday. A 14-year-old boy admitted the crime.

Roger Brown's "principal concern" was that he might lose the lethal knife, reported Dep. Dist. Atty. J Clinton Peterson. Young Brown led authorities at 3:30 a.m. to the place where Rose Ann's body was buried loosely under a pile of thistles and grass.

Peterson said Roger, the stepson of Sgt. Merrill Brown of the 436th Antiaircraft Battalion at nearby Travis Air Force Base, confessed the killing calmly and told how he later went home to work on a stamp collection and watch television.

Last night in the Solano County Jail at Vallejo, Roger wept a little talking to reporters and said he "wished" the girl was alive.

An autopsy disclosed that the child had not been criminally attacked, although her panties had been removed. Her skull had been fractured three times.

Roger had been employed to take care of Rose Ann at various times while her mother Mrs. Frank White, 33, worked at her job as a beer parlor waitress. The child's father is an airman in Japan.

Roger said while they were playing Saturday along the railroad track, he tripped and Rose Ann fell over him, knocking herself unconscious on a rock. While she was unconscious, officers said, the boy related he beat her on the head with a rock and then stabbed her repeatedly.

He removed her pants and buried them, officers said, because he left bloody finger prints on them when he turned her over.

Dominican Exports Reach Record High

NEW YORK (INS)—The Dominican Republic's exports for 1956 will reach the record high of $120 million and indications are that the 1957 figures will be even better, according to the country's official information center in New York.

In its year end roundup of economic development, the Caribbean nation reported that business was booming, manufacturing developing rapidly and sale of all 1956 and 1957 crops seemed assured.

Imports, however, were running well below last year's figures and will probably total some $86 million at the year's end, making a favorable trade balance of some $34 million for the year.

Yule Falls Today for Orthodox in Yugoslavia

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Most of Yugoslavia's millions of Servian Orthodox faithfuls celebrated Christmas today although it isn't an official holiday in this Communist country.

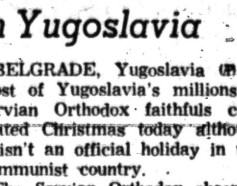

The Servian Orthodox observes Christmas according to the old Julian Calendar. It lags 13 days behind the Gregorian Calendar regulating the year in the Western world.

Despite the lack of official recognition of the religious event, genuine Christmas spirit prevailed in the Yugoslav capital and even more in the countryside.

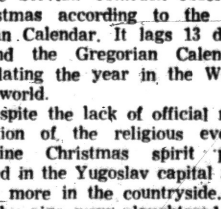

Baby pigs were slaughtered by the thousands and sold at record prices. Suckling pig is to the Yugoslavs what turkey, goose and duck mean to others at Christmas.

Thousands flocked to churches to hear a special Christmas message from Patriarch Vikentije, head of the Serbian Orthodox Church. He called on the faithful to preserve goodness and love in their hearts.

What's Ahead in '57?

Men and Events Determine Business Trends

By LESLIE GOULD

(The U.S. economy set new records in 1956 for the 11th straight year. Will the boom continue? What are the key developments to watch in the world of business and industry in the next 12 months? In the following article, last of a series on coming events, the financial editor of the New York Journal-American gives the answers.)

NEW YORK (INS)—People and events, or vice versa, make markets. Also business trends.

In 1956, one man, his health and his decision as to his personal future plans were the major influence on the markets. President Eisenhower.

As the acknowledged leader at home and abroad, he again will be the major influence in 1957, but not to the extent as in an election year. His influence this year will be in keepnig the peace.

Next to the president, the man who had the greatest influence on the markets in '56 was William McChesney Martin, Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

As an inflation check, the tight money policy has failed, for the inflation is caused by the mounting wage spiral and material prices, rather than excessive use of credit.

AUTO INDUSTRY THE BACKBONE

What happens in the great auto industry—which is the backbone of the nation's economy—will determine the degree of prosperity and the level of employment reached in many lines.

The industry, after overproducing in 1955 and seeing stocks of new cars reach a record total of 925,000, did an outstanding job of holding down production and clearing up the inventories. As a result, with eye-appealing models and major engineering changes, the industry is starting this year on solid ground. The big cloud is the Federal Reserve's tight money policy.

The men who must meet this challenge as well as that of the consumer market are General Motors' Harlow Curtice, Ford's Henry Ford and Ernest R. Breech, and Chrysler's L. L. "Tex" Colbert.

The year also will be a challenge to the two remaining independents — American Motors, headed by George Romney and Studebaker-Packard headed by Harold E. Churchill.

The year will see the renewal of a bitter proxy fight. Leopold D. Silberstein is expected, through his Penn-Texas Corp., to make another bid for control of Fairbanks, Morse & Co., an old-line Chicago enterprise. While his and his group's buying has put Fairbanks, Morse shares to a new high, making a virtual corner in the shares on the N. Y. Stock Exchange, stock in his own company — Penn-Texas — is selling around its low for several years and at about half of its high of 18 months.

MERGER A VITAL QUESTION

The federal courts this year have before them a case which will decide whether Eugene Grace, veteran head of Bethlehem Steel, is correct in going ahead with a merger with Youngstown Sheet & Tube, contrary to the wishes of the justice department's anti-trust division. The merger will create no monopoly. It will increase competition in the big midwestern market and will make for more jobs.

Grace, who with the late Charles M. Schwab made Bethlehem Steel, feels bigness is not a crime, that bigness is what has made this country strong and prosperous — bringing American workers the highest living standards anywhere under any system and giving the U. S. the power to win two World Wars.

The individual who holds the key to what kind of a year 1957 will be is the average consumer—the working man and woman, and how they collectively spend their record earnings and savings.

Set Rites for Criminal Who Did Christ Canvas

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Rosary services will be said tonight for convict artist Ralph Dubose Pekor, who died yesterday of cancer.

Pekor died only 18 days after he was paroled from a life term because of his disease. He was 55. He had gained nationwide recognition for his portrait of a smiling Christ. Pekor was serving a life term as a habitual criminal. Most of his convictions were for forgery.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Arthur E. Summerfield to Remain Postmaster

This nation will be happy with the knowledge that Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield will serve another term. Rumors concurrent with his recent illness suggested he might step down, with Leonard Hall, Republican National Chairman replacing him.

Pontiac is very happy over the return of our near neighbor for several important reasons. Mr. Summerfield is a Michigander and he gives Pontiac the distinction of having two members of the President's Cabinet living within five and thirty-five miles respectively. Secretary of Defense C. E. Wilson of course is a full fledged Oakland County resident and the Postmaster General lives in adjoining Genessee.

However, these are purely incidental reasons. Primarily, the Flint man is fighting valiantly to introduce current business methods into the Post Office Department. If the nation leaves him alone, Arthur Summerfield will have the Post Office paying its own way.

This would be revolutionary.

It defies the ages.

Annually, the taxpayers make up a huge deficit to keep the Post Office bills paid. The Michigander rebelled against this inequity and at the outset of his incumbency, he started a battle to make the Post Office self-supporting.

Opposition formed.

It always does.

We regret to say some newspapers played a hand against him. The Pontiac Press has taken the position that we expect to pay our full postage bill. John Fitzgerald, Press Editor, testified in Washington to assist Summerfield's Campaign in behalf of the taxpayers.

Even with an election impending in 1956, Summerfield pressed hard for an increase in postal rates to wipe out the half billion dollar deficit. He didn't play politics. The House accepted his recommendations but the bill was bludgeoned in the Senate. Certainly when the Postmaster General returns to his duties, he will continue his fight.

Pontiac has an additional reason for rejoicing in the retention of Mr. Summerfield. The local post office had far outgrown its facilities. Pontiac was virtually hamstrung. The Pontiac Press put our sorry plight before the Postmaster General and he recognized this community's woeful condition and took quick action. Previous attempts in Washington had gone for naught, so this area owes our good neighbor in the north a definite vote of thanks. The Press has expressed this thought before, but we are happy to reiterate it here.

Mr. Summerfield was highly successful himself in his own business in Flint and thus the government is favored with a practical, hard headed and experienced executive at the head of a titanic branch of service.

Support for the West?

As it resumes its sessions in 1957, two problems face the West in the United Nations General Assembly.

One is the increased voting strength of the small powers as opposed to the great powers. The other is a similar situation with regard to the Asia-African states as opposed to American and European states. The General Assembly now has greater authority vis-a-vis the Security Council than when U. N. was founded in 1945.

Of the 51 charter members, the small nations accounted for 29 compared with 22 large or intermediate ones. That amounted to 57 per cent for the small countries. But today they have 60 per cent.

Only 13, or 25 per cent of the original members were Asian or African states. Now the number is 26 out of 80, or 33 per cent. Four of the charter members were then in the Soviet bloc. That represents a little over seven per cent. Now it is nearly nine per cent out of the 80, or eight of the present members.

This greater strength for small and Asia-African nations should mean more support for the West. At the present time Russia is not making friends of small, weak nations in any part of the world.

The Man About Town

Gets Recognition

Patients Present Plaque to Superintendent at the San.

Philanthropy: Of which we've recently had a genuine demonstration in the Pontiac area.

The 200 and more patients at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium have just done something quite unique, and to me previously unheard of in such an institution. Entirely of their own accord, with no assistance of any kind from any other source whatsoever, they presented their Medical Superintendent with a beautiful bronze plaque with the following inscription: "To in recognition of his zealous dedication to the restoration of our health, with gratitude."

This followed a resolution adopted by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, under the direction of complimenting Dr. Cheng on the high standard of the San. under his direction.

Chairman Delos Hamlin,

And MAT wishes to add a personal word. A lesser light, in company with those two stalwarts,

Al Weber and George Scott,

we comprise the Board of Trustees who are responsible for the conduct of the San. We hired Dr. Cheng, work in accord with him and our very competent Business Manager,

George H. Williams, and anything recited above told us nothing we did not already know.

So confident that he will win a "Pot-O-Gold" is of Walled Lake that he phones that he's banking on it to meet some obligations, and hints on an increase in his family Here's hoping, Al.

More Lives Than a Cat

David Lawrence Says:

Ike's Plan Step Toward Peace

WASHINGTON — The Eisenhower Doctrine represents a distinct advance toward the prevention of world war. It is a great step forward for the present. But someday—after the pending resolution is passed—there could be an extension of its main principle and then the Woodrow Wilson Doctrine would at last be accepted in its entirety as the cornerstone of permanent peace in the world.

Thirty-eight years ago next month this correspondent listened at Paris when President Wilson told the gathering of allied governments there that a league of nations must be formed to protect weaker nations against external aggression.

John Foster Dulles was present as an advisor and attache of the American delegation. Later that year as President Wilson travelled across the United States, this writer heard him declare again and again in his speeches that Article 10 of the charter of the League of Nations was the "heart" of the problem of world peace.

The wording of Article 10 was prophetic. It stipulated that the members of the league must agree "to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and political independence of all nations."

VETOED LEAGUE

This writer watched in 1919 the Republican Party in the Senate at first sympathetic but later on partisanly pressing the destructive "reservations" that killed the proposal for American entry into the League of Nations which so many of us were enthusiastically supporting.

Today many Democratic Party members of Congress, some of whom during the past year—the centennial of the birth of Woodrow Wilson—have been making speeches extolling him as a great leader in world policy are beginning to behave like the Republicans of the old days. There is, for instance, evident in the Democratic national committee's statement the same spirit of captious criticism and quibbling that the Republicans exhibited in 1919.

It may be that the Democrats for partisan reasons will try to block the way now toward what they ought themselves to be advocating—an extension of the Eisenhower Doctrine to include resistance against aggression from any quarter.

BROADER PLAN

For the President some day may be willing to broaden the guarantee he now is asking Congress to give so it will eventually apply against all kinds of aggression and not just Communist aggression.

It is obvious that peace in the Middle East will never be attained until some outside force or influence — either the United Nations or a group of the major powers acting in alliance with the United States—is exerted to employ force, if necessary, to guarantee that the boundaries of each country in Asia and Africa, when fixed by international agreement, shall be "respected and preserved" against any form of external aggression.

It is plain to see that if such a broad guarantee had been embedded in the United Nations charter or were included some day in the Eisenhower Doctrine there would be justification for an international examination of the problem of Hungary and the use of military force to make secure the "political independence" of that country now enslaved by the Soviets.

It would, indeed, open the way to the unification of East and West Germany by enabling the people there in free elections to decide if they wish to be united under a government of their own.

Would this involve war? Not if the intent of the major powers were clearly laid down in advance as a warning. It is the failure of the United States—and particularly of Congress—to make clear America's intentions ahead of time which has been responsible for the subsequent involvement of America in two world wars.

After the League of Nations covenant was defeated in the Senate in 1919 by Republicans they felt somewhat guilty in later years and came up with the Kellogg-Briand treaties in 1928 which implied that the signatory powers would come to the aid of "the victims of aggression." But this was never spelled out by the Republican Administration.

Likewise when President Roosevelt, Democrat, came into power he, too, between 1933 and 1939, refused to be explicit and to announce what the United States would do in the event of aggression. So when Hitler moved into the Rhineland in 1936 and later into Austria and Czechoslovakia, there was no alliance of powers to check his growing aggression which finally led in 1939 to World War II.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Taking Pledge Can Prove Moral Armor for Youth

Whether Uncle Sam is required to specify how much of his income is from the manufacturend sale of booze, I don't know, but from time to time officials report how many arrests for drunkenness in the past year. From these statistics one can estimate the court, jail, hospital, and other costs, in addition to normal police service, which every citizen must pay in order to maintain the freedom of addicts to indulge in their favorite narcotic—alcohol

Let me say I'm not only a teetotal abstainer but I am or can be as rabid about it as the addict is at the threat of being deprived of his regular supply.

I got this way, thank God, mother, and the WCTU, because when I was a boy on Chapel Street in Canandaigua, mother, inspired by the WCTU, asked my brothers and me to take the pledge not to use alcohol or tobacco before we were 21.

We did as mother wishes. And, of course, we kept the pledge. Being so pledged made it easier, I'm sure, to say "no" when we were invited, coaxed, or dared to smoke or drink.

Having reached 21 without smoking or drinking, we seemed content to worry along that way.

Teetotalism becomes a settled way of life and I wouldn't trade it for any other way, although at age 26 I did learn to smoke a pipe.

SAW BAD EFFECTS

As an intern in a public charity hospital I saw the poverty, filth, bastardy, disease, and crime, that go with alcoholism. In country village practice I saw the deprivation, shame and suffering of wives and children of men who sojourned in the saloon before they went home with what, if anything, was left out of their week's pay. As family physician I have seen—but what's the use?

Alcohol has become an ineluctable feature of social, business, political and, through TV and the magazines, domestic life in America. So if you do not choose to drink you had better keep your queer behavior secret as long as possible.

Naive of me, I suppose, but all along I have wondered why no active pastor, physician, teacher, politician, author, military leader, athletic coach, or business-woman has approved the idea of youngsters taking the pledge. A few members of the WCTU have patted me on the back for it; but, at the same time, some of them chided me for the harm I do the youth of the nation when I mention the enjoyment I derive from my pipe.

Well, anyway, I tried.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Dumping Animals on Road Is Disgusting to Reader

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Today my husband had to put another starved, stray kitten to sleep. Don't these cruel, irresponsible people realize that the animals they dump don't find homes, but slowly die of neglect and starvation unless another person takes the responsibility? This is the eighth cat we've had to get rid of, as we live by a heavily traveled road. People who want pets already have them.

Waterford Mother Cites Her Taxes

I read your editorial on Pontiac's fortunate financial position in regard to school taxes and regular city taxes. Then I saw a letter from Southfield Township and one from a Birmingham resident bringing out the fact that their school taxes are very high in both places.

Now I see that my own district is calling a special meeting to approve two new elementary schools and we already have a fearful school tax. Superintendent William Shunck says he does not know what he will do with the 1,200 new kindergarten pupils who will register next fall as only 300 pupils will graduate in June.

Our district has many young people and this trend will continue for years. We have a very capable man at the head of our schools, but he can't house the pupils and provide teachers without hard cash. We certainly can't afford any luxuries. Our children will have to get their education in the simplest type of construction.

President's Mideast Plan Raises Knotty Questions

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Soviet Communist Party Chief Nikita Khrushchev and Arab spokesmen already have attacked the so-called "Eisenhower Doctrine," even before the plan has been approved by Congress.

The President wants standby authority from Congress to use American military force if necessary to block Soviet aggression in the strategic Middle East.

Khrushchev, without mentioning either the United States or the presidential aid plan, gave an interview to the Egyptian government-owned newspaper Al Goumhouria in which he warned that "imperialist powers" might try to enslave the Arab world.

The Egyptian newspaper itself criticized Washington for proposing economic aid with "strings attached."

Syria's ambassador to Washington also voiced his opposition to what was termed another attempt to continue "colonialism."

WILL IT WORK?

Questions which Congress will ask the administration are many. For instance: Will the proposed policy of committing the U.S. to use force to check Soviet aggression achieve the main objective of keeping the Middle East outside the Iron Curtain?

To some observers the answer is that it will not because the main danger has not been direct Red aggression. It has been subversion and infiltration.

Will the policy avoid the danger of a local war which might turn the Middle East into a major battleground?

The answer to some again would be that it will not do so because the main danger of war stems from the refusal of the Arab states to make peace with Israel.

The U.S. would leave that problem to the United Nations, but the world peace body has failed to solve the problem for eight years.

NOT AGGRESSION

And it also is asked what would happen if the Syrians invited Russia to establish a military base on their territory. That would put Soviet armed forces in Syria, but would not be armed aggression.

The new Syrian government actually contains some elements which want a military treaty with the Soviet Union and who feel that the Arab states themselves can fill the "power vacuum" created by the decline of British and French prestige.

Will the U.S. protect all of the Middle East even if certain states do not want any American guarantee?

If the answer is that the United States will not impose protection on any unwilling state, then most of the area will remain a vacuum for Soviet penetration.

Should the answer be that in protecting such willing nations as Iraq and Iran, other nations also would be protected, then it would appear to be simpler for the United States to join the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact to which Iraq and Iran belong.

The United States supports the Baghdad Pact in principle, but has refused to join the organization which also includes Turkey, Britain and Pakistan.

You can't help starting out in life as a baby, but you don't have to keep it up after you're grown.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Avoid Divorce With 'Horse Sense'

Larry's case is tragic for it involves several major causes for divorce. Yet divorce is unnecessary if the young couple will use simple psychological "horse sense" and play the game of marriage per the rules. Scrapbook this case record or mail it to any couples you think may be on the verge of divorce.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-376: Larry D., aged 25, is a senior law student.

"Dr. Crane, I am desperate," he began, "my wife went home to her parents during mid-term exams.

"And now I find she is suing me for a divorce, charging mental cruelty. We have a little boy 18 months of age, and I love them both.

"But she charges that I have a violent temper and don't love them at all.

"Well, I admit I am a nervous make-up and blow up once in a while. I got so angry at her mother one day for butting into one of our quarrels that I used pretty violent language on her.

"But the pressure of professional students nowadays is terrific, so I doubt if I am the only young husband who has been brittle-tempered before exams.

"Besides, my wife is unduly mollycoddled. She spent seven months at home out of the last 12 months we were married.

"And her parents have spoiled her and sided with her, instead of advising her to come back to me. Don't you think it is the duty of parents to urge their married children to stick together?"

Yes, under all normal circumstances the in-laws should never let their own affection for their grown child, lead to urge it to seek a divorce.

Larry is a brilliant young man, of high nervous tension, who has been under the heavy pressure of law school training.

And all men under pressure are inclined to show irritability at times, as most of you understanding wives have soon learned.

If a husband explodes in anger, either at you or the children, you generally shrug it off and realize the underlying reasons.

In similar manner, you ignore the irritable cry of your toddler who may exclaim:

"I hate you! I hate you!" after it has missed its afternoon nap or hasn't been fed on schedule.

For every understanding wife and mother should realize that she is not supposed to take at face value what her irritable husband says or what her overly fatigued or hungry child may utter.

When such a husband has been properly fed, both gastric as well as erotic calories, and the pressure is off, he may be a wonderful mate, kind and appreciative.

Some men, too, are more highly geared than others. Even among animals this same variation exists.

A race horse has a different personality than a slow-moving draft horse.

And the same variation exists among human beings, too, so it is unfair for wives to react to their husbands' angry retorts when the men are under extreme pressure.

MARRIAGE IS 50-50

It is not trite to remind you wives that marriage is a 50-50 affair.

If your husband provides for you to the best of his ability and is true to you, and in his calm moments admits he loves you, then do your part.

Quit acting like juvenile females who take offense at every caustic utterance. Don't wear your heart on your sleeve!

And learn to eliminate conditions that promote anger in your mates. Satisfy a man's gastric and erotic appetites on schedule and he will purr like a contented housecat.

Starve him in either realm and he'll snarl at you and the children like an unfed lion at the zoo.

Smart wives thus control their husbands' emotions by controlling the environment. See tomorrow's follow-up.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Year-End Building Lag Seen in December Total

A year-end lull in building in Pontiac occured expectedly during December climaxing what promises to be a year falling just ~~short of the 1955 total of $12,674,646~~.

Only 38 permits were issued by City Building Inspector Carl F. Alt last month. They amounted to $82,124 and included seven permits for new homes in Pontiac.

During November, permits were granted for 64 new homes worth $563,700. The total for that month was 156 permits totaling to $1,054,623.

Alt said the decline is expected every year. He said his department was now compiling the year's totals. First indications show that the 12-month total would be approximtaely $11 million.

Sixteen permits ($15,614) were approved during December for residential alterations and repairs.

In 1951, a record of $16,328,697 was set in the city of which $9,569,000 was for factory expansion, Alt said.

Victim Recites Number, Sends Thieves to Jail

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It pays to know the serial number of your spare tire.

Just ask Arthur Porter. He was awakened by police when officers found a tire and a wheel on the back seat of a car occupied by two men in front of Porter's home.

Porter, who learned his lesson when a spare was stolen before, amazed the officers—and the two men—by reeling off the serial number of the tire.

The two men were held to the grand jury yesterday on grand larceny charges.

Rain, Rain Fall Again . . . . In the Southwest

Ranchers Say: 'My Dry Land Ain't Had a Crop Since '49'

(President Eisenhower will tour the Great Plains drought area — in Texas, Oklahoma, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado and Kansas—Jan. 13 through 15. In recent days Charles Denton of International News Service has traveled through this scene of debastation and disaster, talking to experts and to farmers and ranchers battling nature's ravages. Following is the first of a series of articles in which Denton presents the facts and figures and human drama of life in the dust bowl.)

By CHARLES DENTON

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (INS) —The cancerous drought eating into America's heartland is spreading disaster, despair and defeat across the Great Plains, but not unconditional surrender—yet.

Farmers and ranchers from Wyoming to Texas are wrestling with a crisis exceeding in physical and financial dimensions, if not in personal tragedy, the drought that sent the dust bowl refugees of the 1930s fleeing from starvation on their farms to poverty elsewhere.

The affected area, extending roughly from the southeast corner of Wyoming southeastward across Nebraska, Central Kansas, the Oklahoma Panhandle to Central Texas and then northward through Central New Mexico and Colorado, is twice as large as the dust bowl of 1935-36.

The financial losses caused by up to seven years of drought over this huge region, though inestimable, certainly are vastly larger than those resulting from the original dust bowl.

Only the high level of non-agricultural employment open to displaced farmer workers, the willingness of lending institutions to help farmers weather the dust storms, and such aids as the soil bank program are preventing the present emergency from becoming a catastrophe that would make the exodus from the dust bowl seem pale by comparison.

Experts and politicians may argue the semantics of describing the present drought area as a dust bowl.

But there is no question about that in the minds of farmers who have watched wind and aridity whittle their land down to sterile hard-pan through which the lines of erosion course like wrinkles in a weary face.

New Mexico reports that 1,197,000 of its 50 million farming and ranching acres are "in condition to blow" when the high winds come to hiss and scrape at the powdery topsoil in late January.

Actually, much of this land already has "blown," along with many of the farmers who once prospered by tilling it.

New Mexico's worst drought areas, a pickle-shaped section of some 400,000 acres covering portions of three counties in the center of the state and the eastern sixth of the state, which President Eisenhower will soon visit, have been blown and baked into reddish-brown Saharas.

The driest year in the 60-year history of the state's weather bureau has completed the rout of at least 50 per cent of the dry land bean and wheat farmers from Torrance County, heart of the central dust bowl.

The remainder are hanging on grimly, either because farming is the only skill they possess or because they still have faith in land which has not produced beans since 1949 nor returned even enough wheat for re-seeding in a longer period.

But most of those who are fighting for their land are waiting and scratching out a living doing odd jobs, not risking another expensive crop failure by planting their tortured earth.

W. C. Crider is a tall, weathered farmer who tries, without success, to eke existence from 80 acres of land irrigated at a cost exceeding its ability to repay while his 1,500 acres of dry farming land turns to dust. He typifies the sense of tragedy and failure that lies across the land like a plague.

"We're ruined, all of us," he said, curling gnarled hands around the handle of his shovel and staring into the muddy irrigation water. "My dry land ain't had a crop since 1949."

His sun-bleached blue eyes moistened, and he shoveled some dirt angrily against the irrigation dike.

"The worst of it is, we're licked before we start, and we know it. I'm trying to borrow more money just to hold my land together, but I've already borrowed on everything I have. Even my insurance is gone.

"Ain't no future here. I'd of got out years ago—been losing $2,000 a year since 1949—but this is the only thing I know to do. Anyway, we can't all go to the city!"

Jake Young, a toil-creased veteran of 36 years in Torrance County, said sadly that more farmers were "plain blowed up" there than anywhere else in the nation. He added:

"How long can we hold on? That's the big question. Don't ask me. I've thought every year would be the last."

But these toil-tempered ranchers of Arizona and New Mexico are facing the threat of a drought disaster with the same flinty determination that enabled their fathers to carve empires of cattle, cowboys and Cadillacs in a reluctant wilderness.

The awesome effects of five to seven years of one of the most severe droughts in the nation's history and its results, falling cattle prices and rising production costs, have created the greatest ranching crisis in decades.

The water is gone. The ranges have been cropped or burned bare of grass. The herds and ranchers' financial reserves are dwindling or already have evaporated.

All 31 New Mexico counties and 14 Arizona counties have been declared drought disaster areas.

Few care of think, much less predict, what will happen if what once were regarded as "normal" late spring rains do not come to restore the range grass. Estimates vary from "damned rough" to "disastrous."

Yet aside from some smaller operators and those who took hands in this high-stakes game of showdown with nature at the peak of land and cattle prices, no one talks of quitting.

Instead, there is a general determination to keep going, at least until surrender becomes inevitable because of the costly process of feeding cattle high-priced hay and grain in place of the grass on which they once flourished more cheaply than anywhere else in the country.

When President Eisenhower visits New Mexico on his drought tour next week, he will find most of the proud, tough cattlemen in agreement that federal and state aid is not the answer to their problems.

What aid has been offered thus far in the form of feed subsidies, they believe, has been of little genuine benefit. They feel it may actually have been determined because it has lured some ranchers to remain in business and become more deeply mired in debt long after they should have sold out.

The only real solution is simpler—but outside human control. It is rain, at least three years of not less than "normal" rainfall.

But "normal" rainfall has become almost a visionary's dream. New Mexico has not enjoyed it since 1949, Arizona since 1952. For the first 11 months of 1956, New Mexico's rainfall was 6.65 inches below normal, Arizona's was 5.17 inches below.

Dams and reservoirs in both states are at the lowest levels in memory. Waterholes have dried out to cracked hollows in the earth, and streams and rivers have been reduced to such pathetic trickles that stockmen are forced to dig expensive wells or haul water long distances to their herds.

Strict regulations on the use of domestic water have been applied in several hard-pressed cities, and Williams, in the center of Arizona's northwestern cattle area, is shipping in water at the rate of 120,000 gallons a day.

In order to keep going, the ranchers have been forced to sell off portions of their breeding herds at a sacrifice.

Arizona's normal cattle population of 800,000 to 1,000,000 on the range probably has been reduced by about 200,000 already. Ernest Chilson, president of the Arizona Cattle Growers Assn., has warned that the drought may cost the state half its cattle.

New Mexico's normal herd of 1,250,000 range cattle have been reduced by an estimated 250,000; 40,000 more cattle have been offered for sale to Mexican buyers operating under a $5,000,000 loan from the export-import bank.

When, and if, the situation improves, the ranchers will attempt to rebuild their herds at high cost to them and, perhaps, to the nation's meat-buying housewives.

Hal Boyle Says:

Book Sheds New Light on Work of the FBI

NEW YORK (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation has had notable success in planting its agents in the Communist network.

The question naturally arises, "Why don't the commies try to plant a few of their key men inside the FBI?"

The answer is, they have tried again and again—and failed.

"The Communists are known to have made numerous efforts to penetrate the FBI, but there is no evidence that they ever succeded," says Don Whitehead in "The FBI Story," a biography of the mysterious government agency that has become a smash best-seller in the nation's bookstalls.

More than a year ago Whitehead, top war correspondent, twice winner of the Pulitzer prize, and now chief of the Washington Bureau of the New York Herald Tribune, set out to find the answer to two problems that puzzled him:

How had J. Edgar Hoover managed to survive for 30 years as director of the FBI in a city as full of political intrigue as the nation's capital?

Was there any truth to insinuations that the FBI represented a shadowy menace to civil rights?

Like the trained reporter he is, Whitehead went to the fountainhead and asked and received permission to inspct FBI files, except those dealing with national security.

The result is his book, subtitled, "A Report to the People," which strips away some of the mystery and perhaps a bit of the glamor that has surrounded the FBI, but at the same time documents fully its magnificent record of public service.

It is a report long overdue—one that should do much to clear away any mistaken mistrust of the FBI, a mistrust for which in at least some small measure the FBI's own secrecy is to blame.

The FBI emerges not so much an organization of supersleuths as it does a closely knit group of intelligent, hard-working men who share a fantastic loyalty, a dedicated purpose, and a discipline that any army could be proud of.

"Hoover is the FBI," says Whitehead. He makes it clear the reason Hoover has held his top role so long — he has served under five presidents—is precisely because he took the FBI out of partisan politics and fought to keep it out.

The FBI's success in catching all kinds of criminals ranging from landgrabbers to bank robbers, from kidnapers to Communist spies is backgrounded with enough sensational cases to make a dozen movies.

Whitehead also cites many little-known facts about the FBI, such as:

Its agents are taught to fire a gun with either hand, and one of their slogans is "Never shoot while running."

That FBI men even before the World War II trained U.S. Marines in hand-to-hand fighting.

That only one FBI agent—and that was back in the lush days of prohibition—ever had to be fired for taking a bribe.

That, although most of its agents could earn twice as much money outside the service, the FBI in 1955 had a monthly turnover of less than one-half of one per cent, compared with 3.3 per cent for private industry.

Will the FBI ever turn into a national police? In a foreword, Hoover himself disclaims any such goal for the FBI, and adds:

"There is never any doubt within the FBI that the home-town law enforcement agency must ever be in the forefront of crime control."

Can the FBI turn into "another Gestapo"?

Whitehead cites the record to show the steadily increasing role played by the FBI in protecting civil liberties, concludes it could degenerate into a Gestapo-like organization only if it became a political tool under a dictator government in which the normal checks and balances were destroyed.

Pointing out that the FBI is "only 1 of 18 federal agencies having investigative staffs with specific responsibilities for enforcement of federal laws and national security," he concludes:

"But it is inconceivable that all these restraints could be corrupted or eliminated."

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Unions Challenge Safety of Monroe Atomic Plant

MONROE (AP) — The issues between the builders of the proposed Monroe atomic power plant and the three unions who are fighting it boil down this week before the Atomic Energy Commission.

The object of the Enrico Fermi power plant, north of Monroe, is to produce steam for sale to Detroit Edison and conversion to electricity.

But even while workmen are pouring concrete to raise the giant bullet-shaped plant, arguments rage as to its safety and feasability.

Three unions contend that there is reasonable doubt whether the principle on which the reactor will operate—the fast breeder operation—is safe and feasible.

The unions are the United Paper Workers, the International Union of Electrical Workers and the United Auto Workers. More likely, the basic issue is between public and private power.

Just last year, UAW President Walter Reuther told a congressional committee on atomic energy that the government should guard against monopoly control of power by insuring competition.

One way of doing this, he said, is to have both public and private system in the atomic power field.

The Power Reactor Development Co. which will own and operate the Monroe plant, is made up of a large group of utility and industrial firms.

The safety question which comes to the fore this week arises because of the fast breeder principle in which not only heat for power is created, but also more atomic fuel in the form of plutonium.

Because a similarly built reactor in Canada once ran wild, the safety question is being considered by the AEC. But PRDC insists that it has developed safeguards to prevent its version of the reactor from running wild.

Newer designs and more information has been passed on to the AEC which has already let the construction permit for the reactor.

Plans New Party Headed by Women

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—With his 91st birthday coming up Jan. 13, Dr. Francis E. Townsend, the old age pension plan leader, says he's going to launch a new political party in California.

Townsend says it will be known as the Women's Anti-Poverty Party.

"It will be a party spearheaded by women, but of course we'll let the men in," he says, adding:

"The Republican and Democratic parties are not concerned with the general welfare of the people.

Dive Into Icy Waters as Part of Religious Rite

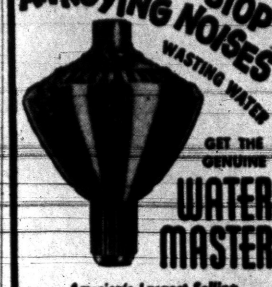

NEW YORK (AP) — A Navy airman and a Marine corporal stripped to bathing trunks in 33 degree weather yesterday and dived into the Hudson River as part of a religious service.

The annual swim, to recover a garlanded crucifix, is part of the Epiphany ceremony of the Greek Orthodox Church.

The crucifix was retrieved twice by Navy Airman Nicholas Stergion and once by Marine Cpl. John Koutsoudis.

Ease of Movement Keynotes Fashions at New York

Capes and cape types are featured by New York designers for spring. This is one of several shown to the fashion press gathering this week in New York.

Bare backs in various types of dresses will be seen on fashion-wise women this spring. The trend is toward a covered-up look at the neckline in front and more exposed backs.

New length skirts are on the fashion horizon — for day or evening. New York dress designers believe you will approve this hemline.

Bloused backs are noted throughout the New York collections for spring. Styles and fashions are from the Couture Group of the New York Dress Institute.

Shape of '57 Puts Profile in Limelight

By OLGA CURTIS
INS Women's Editor

NEW YORK (INS) — Natural waistlines, longer hemlines and squared shoulders: that's the new fashion shape for 1957.

It's a distinct, well-outlined shape, too. The misty draping of 1956 is giving way to a clearly visible silhouette, with bosom, waist and hips where nature put them.

Instead of emphasizing the forward bosom or the backward panel, however, 1957 fashion is focusing on the profile silhouette. This year, according to the Couture Group of the New York Dress Institute, your sideways appearance is the one that counts.

The Couture Group told fashion editors visiting New York that the new silhouette will feature shoulders—square and visible; natural waists—sashed or belted; and hips—fullish in front, smooth on sides, slim in back.

In between these natural points of interest, the style news comes in midriffs. Seen in profile, midriffs have to be concave for 1957; curving in as they would if you threw back your shoulders and shoved your tummy forward.

There will still be gathering, blousing and draping to soften this new silhouette; but it will be mostly glued to the anatomy. There will be capes, too, big and little ones—all to emphasize your newly rediscovered shoulders.

Hemlines will be longer this spring: an inch longer for daytime wear, and several inches longer for evening. The 10-inches-from-the-floor demi-length that Dior introduced last summer has taken hold, and will be featured in after-dark clothes.

Big bows, softly tied, are important in this spring's collections of women's fashions.

Larry Aldrich designed this harem-hobble skirt. The afternoon dress in navy tissue faille, has a bell skirt gathered into a self-banding and bow at the hemline. Elbow-length sleeves are bow-tied and a narrow belt is set into the waist.

Spring Previews Play Up Ultra in Chic Plus Comfort

New Fashions Conform to Natural Lines; Silhouette Is Slim; Capes Add Flair

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—This spring it will be smart to be comfortable.

This is the big news New York designers are passing along to long-suffering American women, on the first day of a week of spring previews for the nation's visiting fashion press.

New clothes are designed to conform to the natural lines of the body, to fit loosely and easily and to require no contortions of waist, bust or hips.

You won't have to wear a strangling waist cincher to fit into your new spring suit or dress. You won't have to pad your bustline or struggle to eliminate your hips.

The general silhouette is slender, but not in the sausage-casing sheath manner. Designers employ many ingenious methods to ease the fit of the new suits and dresses while maintaining the slim line.

One of these is the peg-top skirt, still narrow at the hemline, but with slight fullness at the top. Front or back panels also give the illusion of longer lines to the new suit skirts.

Jackets of the new suits are short, ranging from just below the bust to just above the hipbone. Some are loose and boxy, some bloused in back, some semifitted, none tightly fitted.

The cape is an important new trend, being used instead of a suit jacket, sometimes as a part of the jacket, sometimes as an addition to the jacket.

The ankle-length dinner and theater costume continues important in all collections, with full-length evening gowns much more numerous than the shorter varieties, except in junior collections. The elegance and formality launched last spring continues, with definite demarcation between daytime, cocktail and evening clothes.

There's also a covered-up modesty in most of the new fashions, extending from bathing suits to evening gowns.

Let's All Make the Most of This New Year—Begin Lowman Diet Today

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It's unbelievable! 1957? Is it possible that the thing I felt whizzing by me was another whole year? I wonder why time seems to pass more rapidly from maturity on? Maybe it is because we have more things we want to do and realize that we have less time in which to do them.

Life has just dealt all of us another hand, and with it that wonderful feeling of starting in on 12 brand new months. A year is an important chunk of time, but a year is made up of months, months of weeks and weeks of days—days which seem just as usual and routine as this one.

The only way to get what we want from life and to hold onto time is to think of today as important business.

Are we to go through life always planning but never doing the things which would make living more exciting and us more attractive? Are we always going to allow responsibilities and rush to sidetrack us? Are we going to kid ourselves forever? Will we NEVER make that important beginning?

At the first of each year I offer my readers my eight-week self-improvement Marathon. This is short in time but long in benefits.

Why not lose any extra pounds which make you look and feel older? Why not take off that pad of fat now over the abdomen, the bulges which make buying clothes a frustration rather than a pleasure? Why not regain that youthful feeling which a slim waistline gives you?

PERSONAL ADVENTURE

Just eight short weeks out of the whole year for your personal adventure — eight weeks during which you can lose 20 pounds if you need to, improve posture and complexion, turn bulges into curves increase energy and become years younger in appearance and health and personality.

In case you do not know about Marathon, tens of thousands of women join every year to see how much they can improve themselves in eight weeks. The routines requires only a small amount of time each day.

The Marathon booklet gives you directions for calculating what your ideal weight is and what your measurements should be, directions for measuring yourself, a calorie chart, exercises for the most usual figure faults, a chart on which you can keep a record of your progress and a personality development plan.

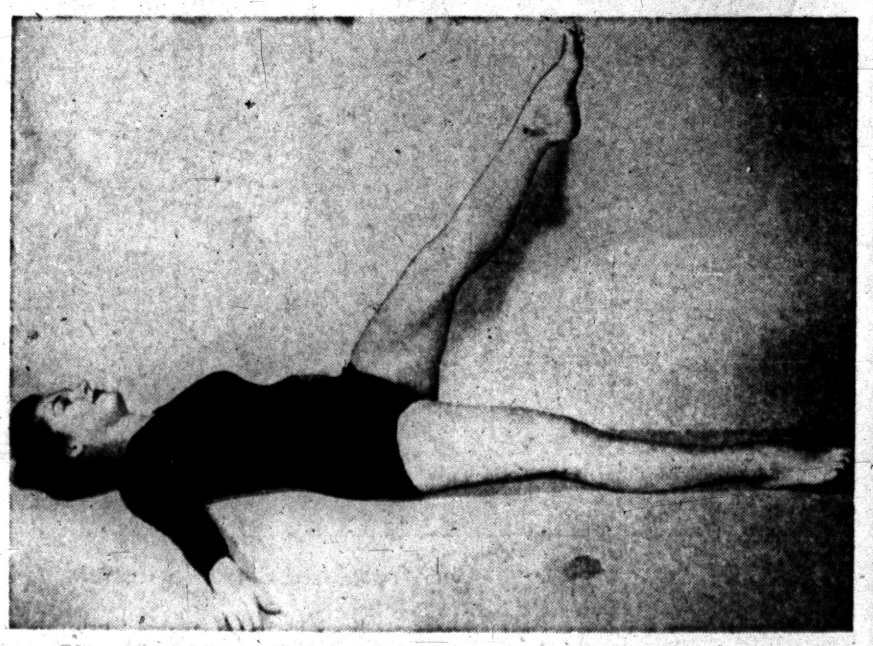

BATTLE OF THE BULGE GAINS IMPORTANCE

This country seems to be wholeheartedly involved in a current battle of the bulge. Through the influence of movies and newspapers, magazines and television, the form divine has gained great importance.

And why not? There are two assets which a woman can take through the years with her—a lovely figure and beautiful posture.

A middle-aged spread is as old-fashioned as a mustache cup. Sooner or later, regardless of good care, we will develop some wrinkles, but we do not have to be victimized by bulges.

Also, an interest in our figure has become more important than personal vanity. The medical profession has trained its bug guns on overweight as one of our greatest health hazards. More pounds than we need place a strain on every organ in our body and may prepare the way for the chronic diseases and killers of our day.

This girl is doing a Marathon exercise for the thighs. If you would like the eight-week self-improvement Marathon booklet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

One of the first things a person with heart trouble or high blood pressure is told to do is to lose any overweight he or she may have.

NEW INDUSTRY

As a result of the publicity concerning the dangers of obesity, a whole new industry has sprouted. Today we can buy low-calorie soft drinks, water-packed fruits, and low-caloried foods, from soup to chewing gum.

As most of my readers know I offer my eight-week self-improvement Marathon at this time each year. Every year more than 100,000 women join this program to see how much they can improve themselves in eight weeks' time.

Most of them want to lose weight although others wish to lose in inches only, or to improve the condition of their skin or hair. Some wish to improve health generally, or to rid themselves of constipation and other annoying conditions.

Here are a few suggestions which will help you plan your meals if you wish to lose weight: Cut down on fats and carbohydrates. Do not fry any of your food. Boil, bake or broil. Substitute fresh fruit for dessert.

The satisfactory reducing diet is high in proteins. (Lean meat, fish, eggs, cottage cheese, fowl.)

STRESS VEGETABLES

Have a variety of fresh fruits and vegetables, with special emphasis on the green, leavy and yellow vegetables. Be sure to include some citrus fruit or fruit juice each day.

Have some whole grain product and two glasses of skim milk daily.

Keep a little pad nearby and count your calories at each meal, with no in-between time snacking unless you count that also.

Tomorrow I will bring you some of the very latest information about how to make dieting easier.

If you would like to lose 20 pounds in eight weeks or join thousands of other women in seeing how much you can diminish any defects you may have, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for my eight-week self-improvement Marathon. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Marathon Benefits Both Repeaters, Newcomers."

Friendship Destroyed by Sorority

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Last summer the L.'s took their teenage daughter's best friend on a month-long family motor trip through Canada. For years, the girl had been in and out of their home. Then, last October, she was initiated into a sorority that neglected to invite her friend to join it.

Since that time, she's not only avoided the L.'s but has cut their child dead at school. Mrs. L. writes "I suppose there's nothing to do but feel sorry for the girl . . ."

Occasionally, by asking our PTA and school board to act on the fraternity system in our local schools, much can be done.

If Mrs. L. will read the excellent article on this problem in a recent issue of Parents' magazine, she can discover what other parents and teachers are doing to outlaw these unbrotherly brotherhoods from their communities.

According to it, the town of Mamaroneck, N. Y., has made an unusually successful adjustment to fraternity-free schools. It went about the job of getting rid of them wisely. First, it took a poll of its citizens' opinions on school fraternities. It showed they didn't like them.

EFFECTIVE RULES

Authorized by this majority disapproval, the school board adopted the effective regulation: To any junior or senior high school student who joins a fraternity, Mamaroneck denies any school office, any school team membership, honor or award except his certificate of graduation.

* * *

After receiving Mrs. L.'s letter, I telephoned the town's Board of Education. It said, "We will welcome the opportunity to tell other communities the steps we took to solve the fraternity problem in our schools."

For Mrs. L. and other interested adults, the address is the Board of Education, Mamaroneck, N. Y.

I'm the last person to suggest that we can protect a child against social rejection. As it comes to us all, we can't.

But losing a friend as the L.'s child has is not natural loss. It hasn't resulted from change in two people's feelings for each other but from outside manipulation. It is organized, contrived, artifical rejection of the L's daughter.

PASSED SENTENCE

Like the Star Chamber judges sitting in secret session, this high school sorority has passed sentence of social undesirability upon another person from which there is no appeal.

* * *

Shower at Schmidt Home Honors Jackie Downer

Helen Schmidt of Birmingham opened her home Friday evening for a bridal shower honoring Jackie Downer, Mrs. Joseph Schmidt was cohostess for the affair.

Jackie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Downer of North Sanford street, will speak her vows with Richard Hoehner on Jan. 19. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hoehner of Westacres.

The bride-elect chose this occasion to announce her bridal attendants. Miss Schmidt will serve as maid of honor. Mrs. Jack Steinhelper of Dearborn, Anne DeFlorio of Commerce, Janet Leonhardt and Geraldine Leonhardt of Detroit will serve as the bride's other attendants.

Jane Marsh will perform the duties of flower girl and Richard Steinhelper will be ringbearer. Both are cousins of the bride-elect.

Attending the shower were Mrs. Downer, Mrs. Edmund Hoehner, Mrs. Jack Steinhelper, Mrs. Glen Steinhelper, Mrs. Janiece Marsh, Jane Marsh, Mrs. Richard Deason, Carol Deason, Mrs. Harry Achenback, Mrs. Axel Johnson and Mrs. Gerald Cooke.

Completing the guest list were Mrs. Verlon Haywald, Mrs. Clyde Downer, Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Mrs. Albert Anselmy, Mrs. Paul Lampkin, Mrs. Phillip Leonhardt, Mrs. Jack Gilleland, Janet Leonhardt and Geraldine Leonhardt.

To rustle delicately at holiday parties, choose an elegant strapless white taffeta gown in the new longer length (stopping just short of the ankles).

Love for Job Cannot Be Forced

By ANNE HEYWOOD

As far as I know, there are no books that tell you how to change the color of your eyes.

Aside from that, there are tomes on all possible variations of the how-to-make-yourself-into-what-you-aren't theme.

It's one thing to improve, but it's another matter to distort oneself.

For instance, books for salesmen tend to assume that you're a real introvert who ought to be a bookkeeper.

They tell you how to pretend to be the sales type, how to memorize dialogue and force yourself, with teeth clenched, to close a deal.

FAIL MISERABLY

How silly! If you're a born sales type, you'll know the right dialogue without memorizing pages out of a book. If you are not a born salesman, you're going to fail miserably trying to pretend you are.

This is also true of vocational books and courses.

Whether you're a businessman, a college student, a housewife or a grandfather, there is an easy way of telling whether a particular field is right for you.

When you read books about it, you should feel perfectly at home, as if doing that job were as natural as breathing.

When you take courses in it, you should feel a sense of comfortable adventure, as if you were exploring very friendly terrain.

THEN IT'S WRONG

But if it's hard work and means gritting your teeth and memorizing rules of procedure that do not come naturally to you, then it's wrong!

You can study it all you like, but you'll never be successful or happy in it.

"I really do feel lost at bookkeeping, but I need this course to get ahead on the job. So even if it is wrong for me, I have to take it."

I hear variations of this comment whenever the subject comes up. But the answer is—and it ought to be obvious—that if, in order to succeed in your job, you must take courses that are not along the lines of your talents and interests, you are in the wrong job.

The energy going into the wrong courses can be used more profitably in seeking another job.

UNHAPPY, BITTER

Trying to make yourself love a field that you don't love can exhaust you and leave you unhappy, bitter and underpaid the rest of your life.

* * *

If you'd like to learn about fields that might interest you, send me nine cents in stamps, in care of The Pontiac Press, for my Basic Interest Test.

Polite Man Considers Guest First

Wife Often Resents Attentions Paid to Another Woman

By EMILY POST

Not a few wives openly resent the rules of behavior which seemingly give preference to the "other woman." For instance, this complaint is a not unusual one:

"When a married couple have as their guests a young woman, why is the wife made to feel 'brought along?' The rules apparently leave her to help herself with her coat and seat herself and do everything for herself while her husband pays attention to the guest."

Answer: To the wife who wrote this, let me say: It is not because you are his wife, but because the "other woman" is your guest that the rules of polite behavior expect your husband (who is host) to show first concern for the pleasure and comfort of his and your guest.

As a matter of fact, when in the company of two women he should try, insofar as possible, to look after both. You, for example, can make this practical by lingering a moment or so to put on your coat until he has helped your guest with hers and can then help you.

But it would be rude if you were to be helped first under such circumstances, whether at home or out in public—just as rude as helping yourself first at your own table.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My wedding will take place in the church rectory in the presence of only the immediate members of our families. Is this wedding too small for the bride to wear a very simple white dress and a plain tulle veil?"

Answer: No, it is always proper that a bride wear a white dress and veil when she is married by a clergyman whether she is married in a church, a rectory or at home. In fact, the only time when it's unsuitable to wear a veil is when she goes to city hall or the county clerk's office to be married.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When several couples dine at a place where a pianist entertains throughout the evening, is it customary to tip him if he has played several of their requests?"

Answer: Not necessarily—unless they have asked for many selections.

Back of Male Triumphs Lies Feminine Scheming

Husbands' Big Do-It-Yourself Projects Traced to Wives on (War)path of Ideas

By RUTH MILLETT

Married men dream up only 24 per cent of those do-it yourself projects around the home. Twenty-one per cent of them are thought up by husband and wife scheming and planning together. (Or at least in that percentage of cases the wife is able to convince her husband that it was "our idea.")

A nice fat 54 per cent of the do-it-yourself ideas admittedly originate in the fertile mind of the "little woman."

Those are the figures produced by a recent survey. And they just substantiate what every woman knows: that it is the woman in the family who has the vision when it comes to seeing how a home can be improved.

Whether a woman has lived in a house 2 months or 30 years it never satisfies her just as it is.

She is always visualizing improvements to make it more attractive more convenient more livable more up-to-the-minute.

A man says "What's the matter with this house? It looks all right to me" when his wife starts talking about all the things she wants to do to it. And left alone he would probably be willing to live in it without any change for another 10 years.

WOMEN DO PLANNING

But that doesn't stop a woman. She goes right on dreaming and planning and scheming. And if there isn't enough money to hire a painter or call in a carpenter or get a bricklayer to put in a patio a woman can usually convince a man he's smart enough to do the job himself.

That's the real story behind the do-it-yourself craze that has swept the country — women's natural yen to keep improving their homes plus their practical knack for figuring out how they can achieve their dreams plus their ability to sell men on the ideas.

When Joe says "Come on out in the yard and let me show you the barbecue pit I built" you can bet your bottom dollar it all started when Mama got hold of a good recipe for barbecue sauce and started planning a backyard barbecue.

She probably had her guest list made out before Joe had any idea he was about to become a do-it-yourselfer.

Protect Legs, Feet Against Raw Wind

A lot is said about protecting your face from raw, winter wind. It's just as rough on your legs and feet, so give them protection, too.

Try rubbing them gently with petroleum jelly each winter night before retiring and they won't become scaly and sore from inclement weather.

Top Fruit With Crust and Spices

Mrs. Robertson's Apple Crisp Has Unusual Covering

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Apple Crisp has long been a favorite dessert in many homes. This recipe from Mrs. A. Barclay Robertson is a slightly different version, one we think you will like.

Mrs. Robertson does part time nursing work in addition to her home duties and care of a small daughter. She likes to sew and knit and do a bit of painting. She and her husband belong to the Congregators; and Mrs. Robertson is a member of the Mary Lyon group of her church.

APPLE CRISP
By Mrs. Barclay Robertson

Grease 8x8" pan. Fill bottom with sliced apples (and 1-3 to ½ cup sugar if desired.)

Mix with fork:

1 cup sifted flour
½-1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon baking soda
¾ teaspoon salt
1 unbeaten egg

Place over apples evenly. Then pour over 1-3 cup melted shortening and sprinkle with cinnamon.

Bake at 350 degrees for 40 minues. Serves 5-6.

California Styles Emphasize New 'Baby Doll' Look

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Milady will have the "baby doll" look this spring and summer—if California fashion designers and manufacturers have their way.

The "look" made its appearance yesterday in lace accents and trimmings on all type of ensembles. Silhouettes varied from the slim sheath dress to billowing bouffancy.

"Girls will be dressing like girls this year," said Abe Blum and Harry Lecover, cochairmen of the California Fashion Creators Show.

Professor Spikes Beer Theory on Intoxication

BOULDER, Colo. (INS) — A Colorado University professor claims those who say you can't get drunk on beer have got the foam in the wrong end of the glass.

Chemistry Prof. Joseph D. Park says you can too get drunk on beer.

Park, noting it takes three quarts of beer to become intoxicated, says the no-drunk theory based on the fact that the stomach can hold only two quarts of beer is erroneous. Park's answer:

The beer goes into the bloodstream and does not stay in the stomach, thus making room for more.

Kadar Discloses 'New Program'

Soviet Army Will Stay in Hungary; Get-Tough Policy to Continue

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Premier Janos Kadar's Soviet-installed government, taking the wraps off its long-promised "new program," combines get-tough Stalinism with an appeal to the West for financial aid.

The program was issued yesterday from the Premier's office in Parliament building, ringed by protecting Russian tanks. It was broadcast as a 10,000-word statement over the Budapest radio.

The statement probably got its final drafting last week while visiting Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev looked on. The Hungarians, led by some informants to expect a "surprisingly mild" declaration, were told among other things:

"There is a dictatorship of the proletariat in Hungary . . . The counterrevolutionaries and persons who attack the legal order and the basic principles of the people's democracy have no freedom even if they mask their counterrevolutionary efforts by democratic slogans. The law will always punish them severely. . ."

In an obvious reference to the Soviet-crushed revolt in November, the statement said:

"People of petty borgeois thinking or people who were masking themselves as Marxists set as their aim the disintegration of social order and the dissolution of it whereby they used slogans like democratization, de-Stalinization and others . . . It is therefore a main task to strengthen the people's democratic installations and organizations. . ."

The statement blasted Stalinists leaders Matyas Rakosi and Erno Gero as well as Imry Nagy, who succeeded them and was ousted as premier by Kadar and his supporters with Russian help.

The government also proclaimed that it "respects the freedom of belief of all citizens and considers the standpoint of religious questions a private matter . . . It secures full freedom to the churches and confessions."

The statement said the recent revolt wrought damage of nearly a billion dollars and said:

"The Western capitalists stress that Hungary cannot be cured without Western credits. . . We accept, of course, any credit, even from capitalist countries, if no political conditions are attached. We will ask for no credits, however, ever, which are tied to politic conditions."

Report Theft in Munich

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Police reported today that the office of the exile Ukrain National Council was broken into and documents and membership lists stolen. Police said one theory is that the theft was carried out by a member of a rival Ukrainian exile group here.

1 Dies, 9 Hurt in Plane Crash

Craft Hits Power Line, Escapes Fire in Mishap Near Tulsa Airport

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Only six miles north of Tulsa Municipal Airport, an American Airlines passenger plane tore into a partially wooded area yesterday, narrowly missing a power line and scrub oak threes and fatally injuring one passenger.

The other six passengers and three crewmen were hospitalized but none reported in critical condition The dead woman was Mrs. Nell Tobler, 70, Tulsa.

Paul Johnson, 33-year-old co-pilot of Tulsa, walked and crawled almost a mile to a farm house for help.

The two-engine Convair — en route from Providence, R. I., to Tulsa — was piloted by Wesley G. Mims, 34, Tulsa. He is a veteran of 10 years with American.

No cause for the crash has been disclosed.

The plane apparently brushed a power line as it pancaked into the field. It skidded about 400 feet between rows of scrub oak trees, one of which smashed the right wing. It did not burn.

At the time of the crash, visibility was poor and there was a light drizzle.

CONSTIPATED?

new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks

without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONAID, the amazing new lavative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

FAMOUS HORSES—1
Black Beauty

Practically everyone is interested in horses and stories about horses. This week you will be able to make your own stable of well known horses.

One of the best loved books about a horse is "Black Beauty" by Anna Sewell. Black Beauty spent his first four years on a pleasant farm. Then he went to live with Squire Gordon, where he made friends with the other horses.

When the squire's wife became ill and was sent to a warm country, the horses were sold. Then followed sad times, but in the end, however, he found a happy home.

Here is Black Beauty's picture. At the top at right is a diagram showing how you can make a stable out of a cardboard carton such as a shoe box. Cut a door at one end and windows on the side. Cut around three sides of the windows and bend them at the top so you can raise the window flaps. Save this stable for the horses you will meet this week.

Paste the picture on cardboard and color with crayons. Cut out the parts on the heavy outlines. Fold back the left end of the fence on the dotted line to make the picture stand. Fold the tabs at the bottom of the bucket, one forward and one back and it will stand too.

For Same Crime, Different Judgments

Urge Indefinite Sentences in Lieu of Minimum Terms

LANSING (AP) — A circuit judge told the State Corrections Commission Thursday the state should abolish minimum prison terms in favor of indefinite sentences.

Judge Dale Souter of Kent County said there is a wide disparity in sentences for the same crime.

"The prisoners get together and compare notes. It makes a man very unhappy to find he got a much stiffer sentence than his buddy for the same offense," Souter said.

One way to wipe out these discrepencies would be to abolish minimum sentences altogether, Souter suggested.

Under such an arrangement a judge would simply sentence a man to prison. The corrections department would decide when to release him.

Commissioner Saúl R. Levin of Detroit said that in some states sentencing is left up to a sentencing board. The judge's only duty is to preside over the trial.

"It's hard for a judge to tell how long a man should be sent to prison," Souter said. "That should be the responsibility of prison officials who work closely with the man."

Souter also said judges should have authority to send youthful prisoners directly to the state reformatory at Ionia. Under the present setup, they go first to a reception center at the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson.

"Sending younger prisoners directly to Ionia where they can get started immediately on vocational training would get them off on the right foot," Souter said.

Souter also suggested changing the name of the State Reformatory to "Hilltop Trade School," thus removing the stigma of a prison sentence from the record of youthful offenders.

The "Trade School" head should be called a "superintendent" instead of a warden, Souter added.

"I think that's a splendid idea," said Earnest C. Brooks, commission chairman. He said the commission might back a legislative bill to bring about the name change.

Souter turned over to the commission $895 in checks from himself and friends. The money will be used to help finance furnishings for a chapel of the proposed new medium security prison at Ionia.

Wings Hold 1st Place With 2-1 Win

DETROIT (AP) — Their most rigorous test of the National Hockey League campaign behind them, the Detroit Red Wings still are occupants of first place. But it took their luckiest goal of the season and a third period rally to keep them there.

"Now the boys are going to get a good rest," said Coach Jimmy Skinner after the Wings jolted the Toronto Maple Leafs 2-1 last night. They counted on a "freak" first period goal by Norm Ullman and a brilliant individual effort by John Bucyk that dissolved a 1-1 deadlock in the 3rd period.

"All but four of the players are getting a day off Monday," said Skinner. "On Tuesday we play an exhibition game against the Cleveland Barons in Louisville, but most of the work will be handled by the younger players."

Skinner felt his club was fortunate to beat the Leafs, not only because of Ullman's goal—which came on a bouncing heave from the Toronto blue line—but because of the danger of fatigue.

"This was our fifth game in eight days," said Skinner. "Three of them were on the road and there wasn't an easy game in the whole lot. Not once could our boys relax. They had to press all the time."

Detroit won three, tied one and lost one in the five-game set. The Wings hold a one-point advantage over 2nd place Montreal.

Ullman's goal, which bounced off the stick of Toronto goalie Ed Chadwick and through his leg pads, was the only score of the 1st period. Dick Duff tied it for the Leafs in the 2nd period on a long breakaway while Detroit was short-handed.

Bucyk, only Detroit player who did not show the strain of the eight-day grind, became the hero with his fine third period effort. Skating down the left side of the ice, Bucyk took a good pass from Alex Delvecchio about 20 feet from the Toronto goal, faked a shot as he drove across the goalmouth, then flipped in a dandy backhand shot to break the tie.

"It was as fine an individual effort as I've seen by John," said general manager Jack Adams. "He has five goals for us, and all of them have been big ones."

Strangely, Ted Lindsay also drew Adams' praise, even after the little veteran had served two minor penalties and a 10-minute misconduct assessment.

"After resting all that time," said Adams, "Ted was a real ball of fire when he got back on the ice in the last period. His checking was an important factor."

Goalie Glenn Hall made 33 saves —16 of them in the 2nd period. Detroit got off only 23 shots all evening.

After returning from Louisville, the Wings may have a light workout Wednesday afternoon. They meet the 3rd place Boston Bruins at the Olympic on Thursday night, then tangle with the New York Rangers Saturday afternoon in a contest that will be nationally televised (2 p.m.) from Detroit.

Boston is the only team that has been able to come up with a victory against the Wings on the Detroit ice.

CLEAR THE DECK — Marcel Pronovost (3) of the Red Wings bears down on a puck deflected by Detroit goaltender Glenn Hall in the 2nd period before Dick Duff, of Toronto (white shirt) can take another shot. Wings' Norm Ullman (16) is ready to help Pronovost with the disc. The Wings won, 2-1.

Houston Coach Going to SMU

Meek Granted 10-Year Contract; Will Bring Assistants With Him

DALLAS (AP) — Bill Meek, Southern Methodist's new head football coach, stayed in Houston cleaning up his affairs but his staff dropped into Dallas for a visit yesterday.

Meek agreed to a 10-year contract Saturday night at an undisclosed salary. He was to have a free hand in his assistants and said he would bring all five from Houston.

Arriving for a look-around yesterday were Marvin Franklin, John Cudmore, Clyde Van Sickle, Royal Price and Jim LaRue.

"They're a high class group," said Athletic Director Matty Bell, who greeted the coaches. "We just wanted everybody to meet each other as soon as possible, and this seemed like the best time."

Meek had said he didn't know for sure when he'd move to Dallas.

The University of Houston coach succeeds Woody Woodard, who resigned. Meek, a former Tennessee star, guided his team to the Missouri Valley Conference championship last season.

Michigan-MSU Resume Rivalry on Hardwoods

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan and Michigan State basketball teams, both with fair-to-middling records, clash at East Lansing tonight in a Big Ten contest that carries the added attraction of a spirited intra-state rivalry.

Both clubs will be out for their first conference victory in two starts after dropping close contests in a pair of league contests with Indiana rivals over the weekend.

Michigan, which has compiled a record of five victories and four losses, fell before Indiana, 73-68 at Bloomington, Indiana. Michigan State, with a 4-4 record, lost a heartbreaker to Purdue 72-61 when Charlie Kehrt connected for the Boilermakers in the final 12 seconds of the game.

The Spartans trailed 41-33 at halftime, but pulled into a 71-70 lead with 26 seconds remaining before Kehrt dropped in his winning push shot.

Capt. Ron Kramer, the Wolverines' football great, will lead his quintet into action against MSU. Kramer hit for 22 points to lead Michigan in its losing effort against Indiana and tops the team's scorers for the season so far.

The Spartans hope their basketball fortunes will improve with the first appearance of John Green, a 6-foot-5 sophomore, who became eligible for play with the start of winter quarter. Green, from Dayton, Ohio, never played high school ball, but picked it up fast during a tour of duty with the army.

MSU also will count heavily on George Ferguson, who sank 17 points against Purdue, and Chuck Bencie and Jack Quiggle, who collected 14 points apiece.

Dodgers Irked Over Manner of Story Release

Robinson Retires Amid Feud

NEW YORK (AP)—Jackie Robinson—graying, serious and every inch the business executive—today found himself involved in a full scale feud even though his baseball days are over.

The now-portly Robinson, 38, who became the first Negro to play in the major leagues when he signed with the Brooklyn Dodgers 11 years ago, crossed swords with Brook Vice-President Buzzie Bavasi over the way the announcement of his retirement was made.

Robinson revealed his plans in tomorrow's issue of Look Magazine. The story leaked out when some subscribers of Look received their copies before the magazine appeared on the newsstand.

Bavasi didn't like that and said so, adding that Robinson let down the reporters who covered the Dodgers and the New York Giants, to whom he was traded less than a month ago.

"Believe me,' 'said Robinson, a former UCLA all-around athlete, "I didn't intend to have things break this way. I signed with Look four years ago and it was common knowledge that when I decided to retire, I would do the story for that magazine.

"Imagine my feeling when I was traded on Dec. 12. The coincidence was all the more remarkable because I signed for a new job—which clinched my retirement—at about 5 p.m. that day, and 10 minutes later Bavasi called me and told me I was traded.

"I immediately called the Giants and asked Chuck Feeney (the vice-president) to withhold the announcement of the trade until I had made a final decision. He called Horace Stoneham (Giants' president), who said he couldn't withhold it because so many people in the organization knew about it and the story would surely leak out.'

Robinson said that was his dilemma. Should he tell the Giants he was retiring or try to beat around the bush? He called Look and was told to respect his contract, that the magazine was to have first crack at the story. Look editorial director Dan Mich confirmed this.

"So I respected my contract," he continued. "I knew this would hurt me, but I took the only course I knew."

As for Bavasi, Robinson was bitter.

"He might be a little burned over the fact that the deal didn't go through,' Robbie said. "I've gotten along with him fine over the years. I've always regarded him as my friend. But I guess I was wrong."

The new job which Robinson referred to is vice-president in charge of personnel for a restaurant chain (Chock Full O'Nuts). He signed a two-year contract at a reported $30,000 a year.

"If this job hadn't come up,' he said, "I'd probably be playing for the Giants this year. The trade had nothing to do with my retiring."

Bavasi, meanwhile, was seething.

"Jackie's pretty proud of his reputation for saying exactly what he thinks," he scowled. "But he doesn't like anybody else to exercise the same privilege. The Giants, who believed that Robinson would help them, lost a valuable month in which to make a deal."

The trade, which sent Robinson to the Giants in return for $30,000 and pitcher Dick Littlefield, is nullified.

"All he needed to have done was told me he was retiring at the time I informed him of the trade," continued Bavasi. "There would have been no deal and I would have kept it in confidence if he asked me to. I knew of the Look deal for two years and I kept that in confidence."

Shutouts in Junior Hockey

Three shutouts and two forfeits marked opening play in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's Junior Hockey Tournament over the weekend at the North Side ice skating rink.

The Auburn Heights Boys Club and Nestor's All-Stars emerged as the only unbeaten teams after the 1st two rounds of action in the double-elimination tourney.

Sunday morning's activity saw Dick & Wes smother the Sports Shop, 12-0; Nestor's blank the White Lake Flyers, 7-0; Rogers Triggers whitewash Briggs Sporting Goods, 1-0, and Auburn Heights defeat Dean's Waterford Hardware 6-3.

Dick Plourde slapped home five goals and netminder Gary Thomas was not called upon to make a single save for Dick and Wes. John Oakley scored three goals and Lyndie Salathiel two for Nestor's with goalie Norm Probert getting the shutout.

Roger Rogers' tally early in the 2nd period brought the Triggers their win over Briggs and a shutout for goaltender John Osler. Larry Herron scored four goals for the Boys Club and Dean's Jim Preston picked up two.

In Saturday's 1st round play, the White Lake sextet defeated the Sports Shop, 3-1; Auburn Heights edged Rogers Triggers, 2-1; Briggs forfeited to Dean's and Dick & Wes forfeited to the All-Stars.

The tournament will resume this weekend with Saturday and Sunday games on North Side ice.

Ebben Hits 32 in Pacing Win

DETROIT — Bill Ebben, University of Detroit's great forward, continued his scoring spree which has made him the 4th best point-maker in the country, by hitting 32 points in the Titan's 75-69 victory over Drake Saturday.

Ebben however was second best of the evening in scoring to Drake's Red Murrell who had 33 points.

The win gave U. of D. a 1-2 Missouri Valley conference record and a 6-5 season mark.

Ebben's production now shows 102 in the past three games and 306 in 11 games.

High Scoring Marks 'Y' Cage Loop Play

Two runaway contests and a couple more with wide margins for the winners were played Saturday in the YMCA Community Basketball league. Waterford Hi-Y trampled Lake Orion Hi-Y 58-16 with Wright's 14 the game's top effort. YMCA defeated Stone Baptist 59-20 with Jarrett's 25 points more than enough to win all alone.

Hopes for an upset win for Hi-Y Swishers over St. George's were doused by a last period 10-point rally that gave St. George a 36-27 victory. Griffith had 16 for losers. E. Savage 13 for winners.

Feature tilt was the 25-17 win for Pontiac Hi-Y over 1956 champs, Phalanx. First Baptists defeated Clarkston Hi-Y.

Name Top Stars Under New Plan

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sponsors of the $15,000 Caliente Open golf tournament have joined sponsors of 19 other tourneys in a new plan for picking the top 10 tournament players of the year.

The Caliente event will be at Tijuana, Mex., Jan. 17-20.

The plan went into effect with the current Los Angeles Open. J. Edwin Carter, PGA tournament bureau manager, said it works this way:

Points will be awarded for the first 45 places in a tourney and a bonus of 3 points for early registration. Each tournament winner will get 50 points, except in the U.S. Open and PGA championship, which will be good for 60. Point awards will range down through the 45 places.

Each participating tourney will contribute $2,000 toward the top player awards. To collect any of the $2,000 for which he may have qualified, a contestant must play in the same sponsor's tournament the following year.

Dickinson Leads Way to LA Finale

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For a little guy who weighs only 125 pounds with heavy golf shoes on, Gardner Dickinson faced a monumental task today as he led the way into the final round of the $35,000 Los Angeles Open golf tournament.

Packed into a spread of only five strokes were Dickinson and 11 other professionals, and at stake was a first money prize of $7,000 and the prestige of winning the famed L.A. Open.

Nearest threat to the 29-year-old leader from Panama City Beach, Fla., was a seasoned rival, Art Wall Jr.—Dickinson with a 54-hole score of 208, Wall 209.

Challenging from just behind in the point spread were some of the greatest names in golf—Cary Middlecoff, Jack Burke Jr., Tommy Bolt, Dow Finsterwald, Doug Ford and England's Ryder Cup star, Harry Weetman.

Add to these the names of the so-called hungrier players on the circuit, Doug Higgins, Billy Maxwell, Billy Casper Jr. and Fred Hawkins and Dickinson's problem is easily appreciated.

Playing the Rancho Golf Course, a par 36-35—71 layout whose 7,131 yards was swarming with an estimated 16,200 fans yesterday, Dickinson shot even par. Was he scrambling?

"I scramble every day," Gardner, one time assistant to golfing great Ben Hogan at Palm Springs, replied with a grin.

He birdied one hole with a bouncing chip shot of 35 feet, and he bogied another which he blamed on the thick, chalk line ringing the 11th green.

"It was like putting a ball with glue on it," he said. "I think I have a beef on that one."

* * *

Wall moved into the target zone with a flashy 67. He had a 32 going out, with putts that dropped in from three to 10 feet. He holed a 20-footer for another on the 13th and came to the 18th five strokes under par.

Then he drove badly and his approach shot failed to break and th eball landed directly behind the spectator bleachers.

"I had to hit the shot blind," Art said. "I couldn't see where the pin was.

All I could see was the blue sky —and the people in the stands."

He made the shot to the apron of the green and then two-putted for the bogey five.

Higgins' 71 gave him 210. The early leader, Casper, from Chula Vista, Calif., fell back to 211 with his 75 and a tie at 211 with Ford, 71; Finsterwald, 68, and Weetman, 69.

Middlecoff, 71; Burke, 74, and Hawkins, 68, were at 212 and Bolt, 69, and Maxwell, 71 at 213.

STRONG PITCH COSTS BIRDIE — Dr. Cary Middlecoff had hopes for a birdie on this shot in the Los Angeles Open, but his short pitch to the eighth green was too bold and he overshot the pin by eight feet. He then missed the putt and had to settle for a par 5. After two rounds he was five strokes behind the leader Bill Casper Jr. Middlecoff had a two-day total of 141 in the $37,500 open.

Kuharich 'Mixed-Up Kid' as His North Team Bows

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Washington Redskins' coach Joe Kuharich, who piloted the North team in Saturday's Senior Bowl football game, watched with mixed emotions while his Yankees took a 21-7 pounding from the South.

Don Bosseler, powerful University of Miami fullback, ripped the North line to shreds. He scored two touchdowns and set up the other South tally. Bosseler gained 189 yards in 28 carries and was voted the game's outstanding player by a wide margin.

While wincing in sympathy with his battered linesmen, Kuharich was looking ahead to next fall in the National Football League. Bosseler is Washington's No. 1 draft choice.

Coach Paul Brown, Cleveland Brown coach, and director of the South team, divided his praise between Bosseler and his offensive line.

"Our internal line play did it for us. Our guards did the finest job of digging them out and cross blocking them that you'd ever want to see,' Brown said.

The guards he was talking about were Dalton Truax of Tulane and John Barrow of Florida.

Kuharich said the game "could have gone either way. I always contend the team that makes the most mistakes is at the greatest disadvantage, and the two times we fumbled inside the 20-yard line hurt us.'

A fumbled pass by Terry Barr, Michigan back, ended a North drive on the South's 14.

A fourth-period fumble by John Bayuk of Colorado which Georgia end Roy Wilkins recovered on the North's 20 set up the winning touchdown.

The game was 7-7 at the time—the North having scored on a 24-yard pass from Len Dawson of Purdue to Barr, and the South on a 3-year run by Del Shofner of Baylor.

PCC Code Held Step to Professionalism

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—University of California Chancellor Clark Kerr says he'll seek changes in the Pacific Coast Conference's new financial aid code, approved in principle in San Francisco last Friday.

Warning against turning college athletes into "hired gladiators," Kerr said yesterday "I think this is a long step toward professionalism."

He explained he objected mainly to subsidizing an athlete during the season when he was not playing his particular sport.

Van Brocklin Passes Pace 52-21 Victory in Hula Bowl Tilt

HONOLULU (AP) — Norman Van Brocklin passed the Pro All-Stars to a 52-21 victory over some of the year's outstanding Collegiate players yesterday in the Hula Bowl.

The Los Angeles Rams' quarterback completed 19 of 20 throws for five touchdowns and 281 yards before 24,000 fans.

Scorning placekicks, the former University of Oregon back drop-kicked four out of eight point after touchdown attempts. One other was a clear miss and three were blocked.

Notre Dame's Paul Hornung hit on 10 out of 22 pass attempts for 73 yards and all three of the Collegiate touchdowns. He also carried the ball four times for 74 yards. Mississippi's Paige Cothren kicked all three extra points after the Collegians' touchdowns.

Van Brocklin did most of his passing to Elroy Hirsch, Ram end who also coached the Pro All-Stars. Hirsch scored three times, on 31, 8 and 55 yard passes from Van Brocklin.

Linebacker Bob Toneff of the San Francisco 49ers was voted the outstanding lineman of the game.

Top Draft Choice Signs With Ottawa Pros

Glass Puts Crimp in Lions' Plans

DETROIT (AP)—A husky young Texan who aspires to a career as a minister has thrown a crimp into plans of Detroit Lions coach Buddy Parker to beef up his offensive power with more big, fast linemen.

Bill Glass, All-America guard from Baylor, did it when he signed a contract during the weekend to Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Canadian League.

The 6-foot-5, 230-pounder was the Lions' No. 1 draft choice at Philadelphia a couple months ago an was a key man in Parker's plans for rebuilding his club into a National Football League champion.

Nick Kerbawy, Lions general manager, said another attempt will be made to sign Glass this spring, "after he's had more time to think it over."

"Somebody gives us trouble with contract signing every year like this, and this year it happens to be Glass," said Kerbawy. "I think we can persuade him to change his mind."

Detroit has fared better with its other three early draft picks, who have all come to terms for the 1957 season. They're John Gordy, a tackle from Tennessee, the No. 2 choice; Terry Barr, University of Michigan halfback, No. 3; and Steve Junker, Xavier end, No. 4.

Glass' decision to cross the border for his pro career brought a protest from Kerbawy, who said the big lineman had broken his word in signing with the Roughriders. Glass denied it.

Kerbawy, who was in Mobile, Ala., to watch Glass' sparkling play for the South team in the Senior Bowl Saturday, said he and Glass "had an oral agreement and a shaking of hands on a contract."

"It was an admission on his part that he had accepted the contract offer, which was on his own terms," Kerbawy said. "We asked him what he wanted instead of making him an offer. He gave us a figure and we agreed to meet it. He led us to believe his word would be good."

Glass, however, said Kerbawy "might have reached an agreement, but I didn't."

"I just wanted to go to a Canadian ball club," said Glass. "I have lots of friends in Canada."

Kerbawy said Jack Russell, assistant coach for the Roughriders, very likely was the man who turned Glass away from the Lions.

"Russell lives in the same block as Glass down in Waco, Tex.," Kerbawy said. "Besides that, he coached the kid for three years down there."

Kerbawy also indicated that the substantially higher salary offer to Glass than the one he had accepted from the Lions.

Chicago Skier Wins Tourney

DELAFIELD, Wis. (AP) — Leaps of 103 and 99 feet won the class A championship, for Sig Malvik of Chicago's Norge Ski Club in the Milwaukee Thunderbird Ski Club jumping tournament yesterday.

Malvik's first jump was one foot short of the hill record, which he set last season. His two leaps gave him 140.6 points.

Byron Grenfeld, Ishpeming, Mich., topped the junior division, soaring 97 and 90 feet for 131.1 points.

Jays Initiate Wrestling

Another school enters the Oakland County wrestling scene Tuesday night when Southfield High opens its first mat season in a home match against Farmington.

Coach Ken Thompson's Blue-jays have been drilling for several weeks in preparation for this opener of a six-match schedule. The grapplers will get into action at 7:30.

Thompson has hopes of fielding a formidable contingent despite the overall inexperience of his charges. All have shown considerable interest in the sport. Bill McKenzie, 154-pound Sophomore, has been standing in drills thus far and turned in a strong showing in a practice meet against the veteran Hazel Park team.

Others being counted on to form the nucleus of the Southfield unit are Bill Johnson, Henry Kopek, Tom James, and Jimmy Stoya.

Iron Mountain Skier Is Tops

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP) — Willie Erickson, 18, class B ski jumper from Iron Mountain, Mich., edged two U. S. class A jumpers for top honors in the 6th annual Sault International jumping meet yesterday.

Erickson, last year's U. S. junior champion, put together record leaps of 187 and 183 feet for a total of 236.5 of a possible 300 points before a crowd of 3,000.

Marvin Crawford, a member of the 1956 U. S. Olympic skiing team now stationed at Steamboat Springs, Colo., with the U.S. Army, was second with jumps of 178 and 181 feet and 233.2 points. Ray Gauthier of Ishpeming, Mich., was third with 230.0 points.

Three other Iron Mountain jumpers, Jim House, John Bednarz and Reuban Hamari, were 4th, 5th, and 6th. Ward Anderson of Iron Mountain suffered a slight concussion when he fell on his final jump but was released from hospital after treatment.

Surging Canucks Crowding Wings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Defending champion Montreal Canadiens were over one hurdle today and unless the front-running Detroit Red Wings can keep up with the surging Canucks' pace, they'll find themselves the "former leaders" of the National Hockey League.

Canadiens took over undisputed possession of 2nd place last night by nipping the New York Rangers 3-2 while the Boston Bruins were being held to a 4-4 tie by Chicago.

Dickie Moore's goal with less than eight minutes remaining gave Montreal its victory. The victory increased Montreal's unbeaten string to five games.

The Bruins, who dropped to 3rd place, managed the deadlock against the Hawks on Larry Regan's marker midway in the final period.

21 Night Games at Tigers' Field

Card for 1957 Seven More Than for the '56 Season

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers will play 21 of their 72 home games at night during the 1957 American League season. That's an increase of seven over 1956.

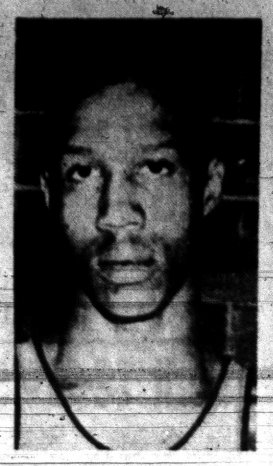

The season will be the first that Detroit has played more than 14 night games at Briggs Stadium in a season, a reflection of bigger crowds at games played under the lights.

General manager Spike Briggs said three contests will be played at night in Detroit against each of the seven other clubs.

The first night game is scheduled for Saturday, May 4, against Baltimore, only the second Saturday night game in stadium history.

Ten of the 21 contests are on Friday nights, six on Tuesday, two each on Saturday and Monday and one on Wednesday.

As last year, the games will begin at 8:15 p.m. (EST). Attendance for 14 night games in 1956 totaled 408,046—an average of 29,146.

HOPES OF FUTURE — A great deal of the hopes for the basketball future of unbeaten Pontiac High School rests with big Hudson Ray, 6-foot-5 center who still hasn't had a real good night thus far this season.

Toughest Ahead for Chiefs

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The toughest road is still ahead for Pontiac High School's unbeaten basketball team, and if it means anything to offset that unpleasant thought, the Chiefs still have their best showing yet to come.

Pontiac established a new record in the cage books by winning its first five games of the season, something no other PHS team has been able to do.

But coach Art Van Ryzin still feels the team has not played the game of which it is potentially capable. In every game to date the opposition has taken the edge in the early minutes of play, and against Catholic Central in the opener and last Friday's 57-54 win at Bay City Central, the Chiefs were forced right down to the wire before winning.

"This team could give any team in the state a battle," Van Ryzin told the Chiefs at Bay City, "but we'll get beat some day because we're not hustling."

Van Ryzin pointed to the fact that in the first half of the Bay City game at least five loose balls were picked up by the hustling Wolves while PHS players stood gaping.

Still not living up to expectations is big Hudson Ray, 6-foot-5 center whose rebounding has been hot and cold and whose point production has been below his 1955 per game average.

"Ray hasn't hit that tip shot with too much consistency," said Van Ryzin, "and he's been losing the ball, especially on rebounds."

What lies ahead for the Chiefs will be told at the center post where Ray holds the key, and the start of the trip up rocky boulevard will get underway Friday when Saginaw Valley Conference defending champion Flint Northern pulls into town.

Northern with a 2-0 league-mark tangles with city rival Flint Central Tuesday night and a win would push the Vikings back into a tie with PHS (3-0) in the SVC.

After Northern, comes a rangy Saginaw quintet, which in preseason dope has been figured along with Pontiac to be the top contender for the crown.

Northern has been a long standing jinx for Pontiac. Only once since 1950 have the Chiefs been able to beat the Vikings in the regular season. That was a 55-38 decision in 1954.

Last year however after losing twice to Northern in regular season, PHS handed the Vikings a bitter 54-51 setback in the state regionals.

For the next three Fridays, the Chiefs will be at home against Northern, Saginaw and Arthur Hill, all crucial league foes.

Brennan Given New Lease

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Terry Brennan will remain head football coach at Notre Dame next season in spite of the worst record posted in Irish history in 1956.

Brennan received a vote of confidence Saturday when the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, Notre Dame president, announced that Brennan will be retained for at least one more season.

Under Brennan, who succeeded Frank Leahy Feb. 1, 1954, Notre Dame staggered through the 1956 season with a 2-8 record, defeating only Indiana and North Carolina.

Father Hesburgh said in a brief statement "Coach Terry Brennan was engaged on a verbal agreement for three years. Upon the recommendation of the faculty board in control of athletics, we are now re-engaging him next year. We are sure that the alumni and friends of Notre Dame join us in wishing him all success."

Coaching Jobs in Spotlight

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ten major college football coaching vacancies and who will be the new Missouri Valley Conference commissioner today provoked most of the talk in preliminary sessions to the annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn., opening Wednesday.

Who will succeed coaches Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf at California, Jesse Hill at Southern California, Darrell Royal at Washington, Bill Meek at Houston, Don Faurot at Missouri, Vince Difrancesca at Iowa State, Bernie Crimmins at Indiana, Biff Donelli at Boston University, John Sauer at The Citadel, and Lloyd Jordan of Harvard?

While the number of head football coaching openings is the largest in many years, the rumors of who will get the jobs are fewest. Most of the deals are expected to be made here although formal announcements will come from the individual institutions.

The Missouri Valley Conference likely will name tonight or tomorrow a successor to Commissioner A. E. (Artie) Eilers, who retires this spring. The top candidates reportedly are Don Rossi, of Dallas, football and basketball official who was Air Force liaison officer in the 1952 Olympics; A. J. (Ike) Tomlinson, athletic director at Arkansas State, Jonesboro, and Norval Neve, former athletic director at Wichita University.

The NCAA's 51st convention opens officially Wednesday. By that time most of the work of six allied athletic organizations will have been completed. The other groups are the American Football Coaches Assn., the American Assn., of College Baseball Coaches, the Collegiate Baseball Managers Assn., the National Collegiate Track Coaches Assn., the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame and the Navy V-5 Assn.

While most of the meetings are expected to follow a harmonious pattern, there's possibility of a mild struggle over the NCAA television plan. The Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conferences, although favoring a controlled program, have campaigned for years for emphasis on regional rather than coast-to-coast telecasts. It's believed, however, the 1957 plan will be similar to those of the last two years—eight national and five regional dates

The TV committee, headed by Executive Secretary Howard Grubbs of the Southwest Conference, will make its recommendations to the convention today.

The matters of recruiting and financial aid to athletes will occupy an important position on the convention's agenda.

U. S. - IBG Case in Court

CLEVELAND (AP) — The government opens its anti-trust case against the International Boxing Guild today before Federal Judge James C. Connell.

The IBG and others are accused of plotting to fix prices in restraint of interstate commerce and of conducting illegal boycotts in connection with studio boxing shows once featured by a local television station.

The "others" named in the indictment returned a year ago are an IBG affiliate, the Boxing Guild of Ohio, and three officers of the two organizations—Charles Johnston of New York, IBG general president; William Daly of New York, IBG general treasurer; and Albert W. Delmonte of Cleveland, BGO president.

If the government wins its case, the three men would be liable to a year in prison as well as up to the $50,000 in fines that the IBG and BGO would have to pay.

* * *

The case dates back to the period between April 2, 1955, and Oct. 1, 1955, when station WEWS put on the boxing shows. The fees for the performers were paid by a commercial sponsor, and a small studio audience attended the shows as guests of the sponsor.

The two boxing guilds protested that the boxers were underpaid and eventually began picketing the studio.

Refuse to give their boxers permission to fight opponents managed by non-members of the IBG, adopt a scale of minimum prices, boycott studio boxing shows and keep their boxers out of matches with fighters whose managers had provided talent for studio shows.

In earlier, similar actions against baseball and theatrical producers, courts generally have ruled the defendants exempt because it could not be shown that there was any restraint of interstate commerce.

In this case, the government is expected to state that the telecasts reached Western Pennsylvania and Ontario, Canada.

* * *

Wilt Key to Success

No. 1 Ranking, Loop Title in View for Harp

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Basketball coaches with nightmares can be pardoned a little dribble of envy over Dick Harp of Kansas. He has a conference championship and a No. 1 national rating in sight and this is his freshman year in a big-time coaching job.

The key to Harp's dream, of course, is the sensational Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain. Other Big Seven mentors wince when they think of the 7-foot sophomore's feats so far this season.

Kansas, ranked first in the weekly Associated Press poll, rolled to its 10th straight victory Saturday by thrashing Missouri 92-79 in the league opener for both schools.

Harp, a modest person who is downright silent compared to his predecessor, Forrest C. (Phog) Allen, expressed pride in his team but said "it's nothing new for Kansas to be rated tops."

The Jayhawk coach is not a novice to basketball or Kansas. He was a star guard at KU from 1938-40 and served as assistant to Allen from 1949 until his appointment as head coach last July.

"Our most pressing problem this season," sayd Harp, "is more consistent play and how to make Wilt most effective to the team."

Other coaches probably will shudder to think what would happen if "The Stilt' became any more effective. He has a 32.9 point average per game and has played brilliantly on defense.

Harp, genial but a strict disciplinarian, took over a team that seemed destined for stardom.

Allen lured Chamberlain to Kansas and left his successor an experienced team that includes such players as Gene Elstun, John Parker and Maurice King.

"The team has made fine progress and shows it has the stuff for greatness. We'll continue to improve through experience,' Harp said.

"We plan to go along with many of the ideas that Doc (Allen) taught."

Celtics Hit by Loss of Three Big Stars

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics today found themselves plagued again by their decade-old problem in the National Basketball Assn. — lack of big men.

Arnie Risen, Jack Nichols and Dick Hemric are out of the Celts' picture indefinitely following injuries. And the Boston club, four games in front of Philadelphia in its bid for its first Eastern Division title, faces a four-game road trip.

Risen, 6-9 veteran center from Ohio State will have to wear a cast on his fractured right forearm for six weeks and how much longer after that he will be sidelined has not been determined.

Risen fell heavily on the arm in the final minute of the Celtics' 118-92 triumph over Fort Wayne at Providence, R. I., yesterday.

Union Lake's Sextet Shares League Lead

Union Lake hockey club grabbed a share of the Birmingham Recreation league over the weekend by dumping the previous leaders in a scoring field day.

Lakers Gary Embry, Tom Reynolds and Jim Berg accounted for two goals apiece in the 7-1 win over Birmingham Varsity Shop. Jim Swartz got the other goal, while Varsity's lone marker came on a shot by Bill Phelan. Match was played at the Birmingham rink.

Poor Season Expected for Michigan Matmen

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's wrestlers appear to be headed for a gloomy winter.

Cliff Keen's gapplers were almost shut out Saturday by a powerful Pitsburgh crew, which won 25-3.

Only Jack Marchello was able to win a decision for the Wolverines, taking his 167-pound mtch.

Salk Suggests Bold New Idea

An All-Virus Vaccine Against Adult Diseases Rooted in Childhood

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Jonas E. Salk today suggested the bold new idea of a vaccine guarding you against all viruses which attack nerves.

He listed two big reasons for seeking such an all-virus vaccine.

1. Perhaps many diseases which hit adults stem from childhood virus attacks which weakened nerves but gave no sign at the time. These ailments might include back pain, ulcers or high blood pressure.

2. Certain viruses might "sleep" in the nervous system for years until some stress made them active and caused trouble.

* * *

Salk, Pittsburgh scientist who created the Salk polio vaccine, made his proposal in a talk prepared for the opening of a three-day conference on cellular biology, nucleic acids and viruses.

Many kinds of viruses besides polio can invade the central nervous system, Salk said.

In childhood, some of them could damage nerves in an unfelt, unseen way — so that your body couldn't resist stresses and demands encountered later in life.

These viruses could include polio virus, against which there now is a vaccine.

Other viruses, however, might remain dormant or sleeping for years until something happened to stir them to damaging action. An all-virus vaccine or drug could head them off in the beginning.

Fire Hits Grand Blanc

FLINT (AP)—A two-hour fire swept through a block of business establishments in nearby Grand Blanc Sunday, causing an estimated $200,000 damage. State police said the fire was believed to have started in the boiler room of the International Harvester Co. farm equipment store on U.S. 10. It spread to a bar, a dentist's office and a drug store.

Takes Church Collection

GRAND LEDGE (AP) — Some $300 was stolen from the St. Michael Catholic Church collections Sunday by a sneak theaf. The money had been placed in the rectory after the services.

Hollywood Headlines

Ginger Gets Lead in 'Iron Butterfly' Movie

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — How do you like the title "The Iron butterfly?" I think it's real cool. That's the name of an original by Lee Rogow which will star Ginger Rogers and one of the new aspiring young actresses on the 20th Century-Fox lot — either Betty Lou Kiem or Diane Jergens.

Edmund Goulding, who directed "Teenage Rebel" with Ginger and the other two girls, is starting this picture almost immediately with Herbert Bayard Swope, Jr. producing.

Ginger's stock has never been hotter than at the moment what with her comeback in dancing and the great performance she gave on the Bob Hope TV show.

Within ten days Patricia Morison leaves for New York to start rehearsls on "Packaged in Paris," a Broadway musical. Harry Revel, who wrote the music, was so eager to get Pat that he flew out here to play the score for her and to give her George Marion's book to read.

Wynn Rocamora, who agented the deal says that Bill Johnson, who was Pat's co-star in the London company of "Kiss Me Kate," will play opposite her in "Packaged in Paris." In this Pat plays a very glamorous lady who has been married four times and wears beautiful clothes. And Pat's the girl who can do it.

My good friend of many years, well-known writer Richard English has parked his typewriter on the 20th lot and with James Clavell (author of the original story) is scripting the dramatic air thriller, "Far Alert."

This is a he-man story with muscles and so don't say I told you—but don't be surprised if Clark Gable turns up as the star. Clark owes 20th another picture and this aviation drama seems right on his beam. It certainly won't make producer Walter Reisch mad if Clark accepts and Buddy Adler is able to get Henry King to direct.

All of us who love Eddie Cantor—and that means everyone—will be looking at Jackie Gleason's TV show January 12 called "At 65," celebrating banjo eyes' 65th birthday. A set duplicating the den in the Cantor's Beverly Hills home will be used, and there's an impressive list of important stars and composers who have accepted Jackie's invitation to "Happy Birthday" Eddie.

Among the stars are Eddie Fisher, Burns and Allen, Burt Lancaster, Ed Murrow and Connie Russell, while the composers are Harry Ruby, Harry Warren, Jimmy McHugh, Wolfie Gilbert and Harry Akst. Georgie Jessel, who has been Eddie's friend since both were proteges of the late Gus Edwards, will also be on hand.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: French Actress Denise Darcel and George Scrimshaw, Eastern business man, have set Washington's birthday to tie the knot. He flew here to attend her opening in "Can-Can."

Ursula Andress and John Derek, who spent Christmas together in Mexico City, have Pffft.

Lady Hardwicke telephoned to say that Sir Cedric, who underwent surgery, is just fine now and returned home over the weekend.

Visitors to Mexico will see Francesca De Scafa in the bull ring. She will file for divorce before February 1. Bruce Cabot has lived apart from her in Italy for several years.

Errol Flynn, Bruce's pal, moves into the Garden of Allah when he returns to Hollywood in a few days.

Rita Gam, who was one of Grace Kelly's bridesmaids, will have her baby in July. She was married just a few weeks before Princess Grace.

Dana Wynter called to say au revoir. She and Greg Bautzer planed out for Acapulco for a three weeks postponed honeymoon.

Scientific Finds Aid Agriculture

1956 Research Most Profitable

Many Achievements in U.S. Farming Now Are Revolutionary

WASHINGTON (INS) — There were notable achievements in agricultural research in 1956 by the Federal Government in cooperation with state agricultural experiment stations in all parts of the country, industrial researchers and others also had a hand.

Here are highlights of some of those achievements under the headings of crops, livestock, insect control, and utilization:

Crops—Agriculture Department and Michigan State scientists synthesized natural rubber in the laboratory for the first time.

Two experimental weed-killers 4 (2,4-DB) and 4 (MCPB), proved highly effective in test trials against broad - leaved weeds in fields planted to crops easily injured by weed - killers commonly used.

A unique rabbit-blood bank was developed. Rabbits injected with virus from diseased plants develop antibodies that are used to detect certain diseases of cereal grains.

A plant-growth regulator called gibberellic acid showed a marked effect on the growth and flowering of certain plants.

Livestock—Tests showed that the meat-tenderness quality of animals is inherited, thus increasing chances of improving the quality through breeding.

A new low-cost dairy record-keeping program, called the "weigh-a-day-a-month" plan, went into effect to help farmers improve dairy production efficiency.

Crossbreeding of Hampshire, Shropshire, and Southdown sheep resulted in hybrid lambs with superior meat and wool.

Two turkey poults were hatched from unfertile eggs. They died after living for 18 and 22 days, respectively, and were the first parthenogenetic poults to live for more than a few hours.

Insect control — Research on insecticides and attractants for use against the Mediterranean fruit fly made possible a large - scale program to eradicate this serious pest of citrus and other crops discovered last April in Florida.

Radioactive tracers revealed how some insects develop resistance to insecticides.

An outstanding insect repellent, N, N-diethyl-M-toluamide, was found highly effective against mosquitoes, stable flies, fleas, ticks and chiggers.

A new systemic insecticide, Dow ET-57, given by mouth to cattle, showed promise for cattle - grub control.

Utilization — Work was begun to determine the effects of high-energy radiation on cotton, to learn whether irradiated cotton can be used for useful new textile products or will have increased value in various present uses.

Agave Lecheguilla, a poisonous plant that grows wild on millions of acres in the southwest, was termed the most promising native plant source of chemicals for making the anti - arthritic drug, cortisone.

A fast method of removing hair from hides with an enzyme preparation to obtain high yields of good quality leather was developed.

Potato flakes, a new dehydrated product for making mashed potatoes, sold well in market tests.

A continuous process was developed for producing powdered apple, grape, and cherry juices of good quality capable of storage without refrigeration for two year

No additional charges have been issued as yet against an accused murderer who Saturday all but bit off part of a finger of a Sheriff's deputy at the Oakland County Jail.

"I am not sure if I will do anything about it or not," said Deputy Jesse Whitlock this morning with middle finger of his right hand encased in a splint. He said the finger was sewed together Saturday by a doctor and treated again today, "but I don't know how good it is going to be yet."

Film Star McDonald Home After Mystery Kidnapping

ENCINO, Calif. (AP)—Marie McDonald, "The Body" of filmland fame, says that a $80,000 ransom was set by the two swarthy men who, she told police, kidnaped her.

The glamorous blonde actress, wearing a white nightgown, burst into tears twice as she told a news conference in her bedroom yesterday that the men said they hoped to ransom her for $20,000 each from these four persons:

Actor Michael Wilding, estranged husband of actress Elizabeth Taylor and Miss McDonald's escort in recent weeks.

Shoe manufacturer Harry Karl, twice married and twice divorced from Miss McDonald.

Mrs. Marie Tuboni, her mother.

Harold Plant, her business manager.

The two men called Karl and her mother, she said, and dialed the telephone so she could talk to Wilding and Plant. Ransom was not mentioned in any of the calls.

"They wanted to build up worry with each call so that they would pay the ransom," Miss McDonald, flanked by two attorneys, told newsmen in the same bedroom from which she said she was abducted.

After she disappeared Thursday night, male callers phoned Karl and Mrs. Tuboni and Miss McDonald phoned Wilding, Plant and movie columnist Harrison Carroll.

She said the men forced her to leave with them by threatening her sleeping children with a gun. She said she was taken to a house in the Los Angeles area where she was held most of Friday. The men gave her whisky and pills, she said.

"I hid them in the hollow of my cheek and later got rid of them," she said. "They apparently thought the pills had knocked me out." It was then, she said, that she phoned Carroll.

She burst into tears as she told newsmen how her abductors had hit her "more than once." She cried again when a reporter asked her, "Why?"

One of her attorneys, Norman Brand, said:

"Marie, you already have given that statement to police."

When another reporter asked her yesterday if there was any "vindictiveness" in the kidnaping, her second attorney, Jerry Giesler, warned her:

"It would be best not to say anything on this matter, as it might be misinterpreted."

Her news conference was her first meeting with newsmen since her face with a veil and dark glasses as her mother and actor Wilding escorted her from the Indio hospital yesterday to a waiting ambulance, which returned her to her big home in this Los Angeles suburb.

A dentist called yesterday prior to her press conference and temporarily repaired two caps broken from upper teeth, apparently from a blow. Despite makeup, her left eye was visibly blackened, and the left side of her face was swollen.

Detectives said Saturday that they were considering the case a "bona fide kidnaping."

Says He Killed Mrs. Sheppard

Chicago Cabbie Claims 2 Slayings, Then Denies His Confession

CHICAGO (INS)—A Chicago taxi cab driver was held by police today after he confessed and then denied the slaying of Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard, whose husband, Dr. Samuel Sheppard, was convicted of the crime.

The suspect, Robert Clinage, 30, came to Chicago from Mansfield, Ohio, two weeks ago. He also told of murdering Mrs. Max Sternbaum, wife of a wealthy Mansfield supermarket owner.

Police, who seized Clinage yesterday, said they found him drinking but said he was "not intoxicated."

Homicide chief Lt. James McMahon said Clinage told them he murdered Mrs. Sheppard in her Bay Village home in suburban Cleveland and Mrs. Sternbaum by beating them with a hammer which he later hid.

Clinage said he was paid $1,000 each for the murders by a stranger he met on a corner in Cleveland.

Mansfield police captain, John Butler, visiting in Chicago, returned to Ohio to investigate the case.

Mrs. Sternbaum's murder was never solved. Mrs. Sheppard's husband, an osteopath, is serving a life term for her murder.

State Would Fight St. Clair Causeway

LANSING (AP)—The State Conservation Department has warned a Detroit construction firm it will go to court if any attempt is made to construct a proposed Lake St. Clair causeway.

Gerald E. Eddy, department director, wrote H. E. Beyster and Associates, Inc., of Detroit that the department heard the firm planned to construct such a causeway to connect Harsens Island with the mainland near Lake St. Clair Shores.

Eddy said a long series of State Supreme Court decisions has held that the state holds the title to the bottom lands of the Great Lakes in trust for the people.

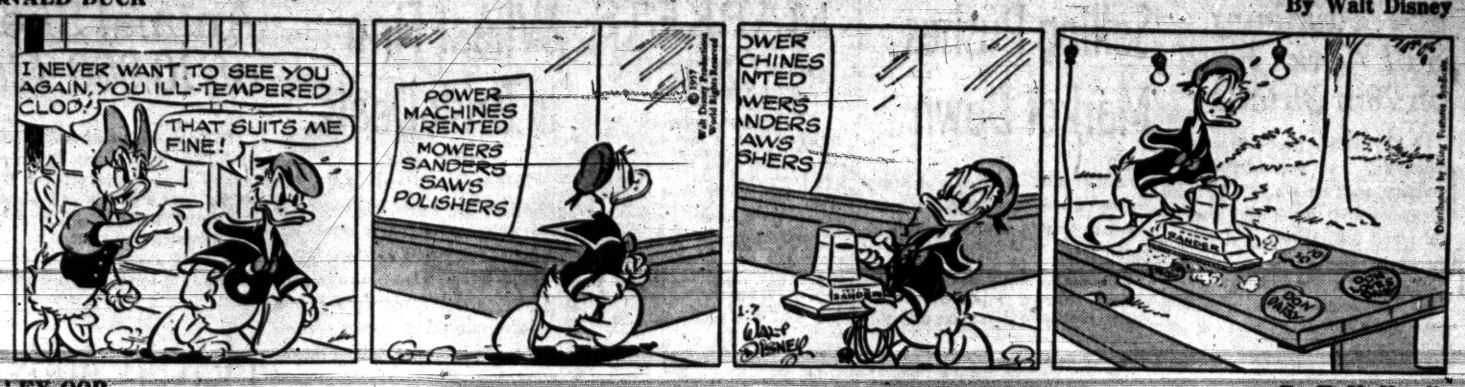

If any attempt at filling is made, Eddy said the department will seek a court injunction.

Selling Pushes Market Down

NEW YORK (AP)—Spurts of heavy selling drove the stock market down early this afternoon after an initial rise.

Key stocks declined from fractions to around 2 points. A few issues took losses far beyond this range.

Prices rose at the opening in active turnover but soon became irregular. Then quotations fell as volume increased. Erratic price movements brought temporary improvement to some stocks in later dealings but others worsened and the general trend remained lower.

Wall Street observers said oils with big resources in the Middle East fell on uncertainty over Egypt's attitude once the Suez Canal is cleared for shipping and that steel producers were concerned over the lag in orders from the auto industry, their biggest customer.

A tendency toward renewed cold war fears was reported since President Eisenhower's proposal for a firmer Middle East policy became known last week but no special impact from this was reported immediately today. Analysts said, however, that the market was in a vulnerable technical position because its recent rise brought it to a point where resistance to a further advance was expected.

After early fractional gains Bethlehem Steel dropped more than 3 and Youngstown well over 2. Lukens Steel plummeted 6 points. U. S. Steel and Republic Steel were off around a point each.

Gulf Oil skidded over a point and Royal Dutch lost fractionally. Other oils, following their rise last week, lost fractions but Amerada, a big domestic producer, fell over 3.

International Paper was a 2-point loser as prospects for the industry remained unencouraging.

Gas Company Plans Expansion in Service

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. says it plans a $31,200,000 construction program in 1957 that will furnish gas heating for virtually every new home built in its service area this year.

Consolidated President Henry Tuttle said the firm will spend $17,500,000 for new facilities in the Detroit area and $10,000,000 in the Grand Rapids, Ann Arbor, Muskegon and northern districts.

Currently, 55 per cent of the company's 835,000 customers use gas for heating. By 1959, the figure will climb to 65 per cent, Tuttle said.

Wheat Firm in Brisk Deals

CHICAGO (AP)—A firm tone persisted in wheat, but other cereals retreated in fairly brisk dealings on the board of trade today.

New crop wheat started out higher, and the old crop months soon displayed a firming trend. Other grains were mixed at the start but then generally headed downward.

Outlining of the "Eisenhower Doctrine" on the Mideast did not seem to have much influence on the market as it will be some time before the president's proposal receives congressional approval if it does.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to 1 cent higher, March $2.41, corn ⅛ to ⅝ lower, March $1.36 ⅝, oats ⅛ to ¼ lower, March 78, rye unchanged to ⅛ lower, March $1.48, soybeans ¼ to 1 cent lower, January $2.49, and lard 5 to 13 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $15.25.

Kids Rough Up Shell That Might Explode

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—Some experts planned to find out today why a roughly-treated mortar shell kepts its head and let a dozen neophytes keep theirs.

The 14th Explosive Ordnance Disposal unit planned to test the foreign-made 81 or 82 millimeter shell.

Stanley Tolbert, 12, and Gary Freed, 13, of Edgemere, found the shell in a half-submerged barge in North Point Creek Saturday. They tied a rope around it and dragged it 500 yards to the Tolbert home.

Two officers, called to the home wrapped the shell in a blanket, stuck it in the trunk of their cruiser and transported it to Fort Holabird.

Baled hay requires only one-fifth as much storage space as loose hay.

Animal Shelter Takes Care of 10,000 Cats and Dogs

The Oakland County Animal Shelter, 1200 E. Walton Blvd., had fingers in the fates of over 10,000 county dogs and cats in 1956, year-end statistics from the Animal Welfare Division point out.

Of 6,704 dogs received by the shelter, 428 were returned to their individual owners. Sold to new owners were 1,343 dogs and these were mostly puppies, says Dr. Frank R. Bates, director of the shelter.

Nearly 5,000 dogs were disposed of by the shelter and 1,315 dead dogs were picked up.

Cats came in fewer numbers. Only 2,103 cats or kittens went through the shelter facilities to new homes or were disposed of.

The personnel of the shelter investigated 651 bites, held 332 dogs in quarantine following bites and answered 747 complaints for the year.

Over 17,000 dogs were vaccinated for rabies and licensed in 1956, the report continued.

Not one rabid animal was discovered in the county and no person was bitten by a rabid animal. Some 666 bites were reported, 84 of which were given the Pasteur treatment to counteract possible rabies venom.

Accuse Firms of Price Bias

U.S. Trade Commission to Examine Complaints in Glass Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission says the nation's two major manufacturers of automobile safety glass gave favored prices to General Motors and the Ford Motor Co.

The firms are Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co. of Toledo, Ohio, and Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., Pittsburgh.

FTC said yesterday separate complaints have been issued against the two firms charging each with price discrimination in violation of the law.

The Commission accused Pittsburgh Plate Glass of selling its product to Ford Motor Co. at discounts of up to 67 per cent off the price charged glass distributors and dealers.

Libbey-Owens-Ford was accused of selling glass at lower prices to General Motors. No percentage figures were given.

* * *

FTC said Ford and General Motors in turn sell safety glass to their dealers who formerly bought from independent glass distributors and dealers. The complaint said these independents suffered a price disadvantage in competing with Ford and General Motors for this business. It alleged that competition has been lessened as a result.

* * *

The glass makers were given 30 days in which to answer the complaints. A hearing was set for March 11 in Pittsburgh in the Pittsburgh Plate Glass case and for March 13 in Toledo for Libbey-Owens-Ford.

Shawn Writes Video Comedies

Steve Allen Winds Up His Stint on 'Tonight' January 25th.

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Patty McCormack, the monster of "The Bad Seed," takes an opposite dramatic tack Feb. 7 when she plays Helen Keller—as a blind, deaf and mute child.

Comic Dick Shawn, getting $10,000 a week at Las Vegas, would rather be a writer than comedian and has finished his first hour-long TV comedy, "Elvis Is a Nice Name," which is not what it seems, but a satire on Greenwich Village's pseudo intellectuals . . .

Dick has another TV opus running 90 minutes about comedians, managers, actors, agents and press agents; sounds like a tragedy to us. . .

The final Steven Allen "Tonight" midnightcast is Jan. 25. . . After that—columnists. . .

Johnnie Ray's "Walkin' in the Rain" is past the 1,200,000-record mark here. And in England it's comparatively a bigger hit—biggest sale of any pop hotcake in Blighty's history—600,000.

COMMERCIALS PAY

Betty Furness, Julia Meade and Mary Costa prove there is a fortune in commercials — the girls earn, respectively, $150,000, $100,000 and $52,000 a year for their appealing spiels. . . Arlene Francis earns an estimated $250,000.

"Wide, Wide World" expects to make a "live" pickup from Europe a year from next spring.

"Stanley," being dropped by NBC-TV, costs $41,000 a week; its replacement, "Wells Fargo," costs $35,000. . .

Kate Smith was the only TV star to land in Gallup's "Most-Admired Women" poll. . .

The psychology behind such grammatical mistakes in commercials as the smoke that "tastes good like a cigarette should" is "grammatical errors are folksy."

HOURS OF VIEWING

Nielsen says the average TV home has the set on six hours a day. . .

Walter Slezak of Broadway, films and TV says he works so hard in all three because of "pure greed." . . . He calls "live" TV: "The highest paid summer stock anywhere." . . .

Old movie comedies don't do as well on TV as straight dramas. TV powers say it's because comedy needs an audible audience to convince a viewer he's not at a wake. . .

ABC network's news staffers have had 48 books published (all right, you guys, back to work.)

Quick critique of "The Brothers:" Oh, brother!

Gene Kelly Is Upset About 'Sissy' Label

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Gene Kelly wishes you, and you and you—and me—wouldn't think of male ballet dancers as lisping sissies.

"I belted a guy in a night club once for saying it about me," Gene said, still a little bitter about the experience, though it was a lot of years ago, when we discussed male dancers recently.

"It was in Sharon, Pa. I went over and hit him and then I quit the job which I needed very much. I wouldn't do it now, but I still wonder why dancing has to have the stigma of sissyism attached to it."

Gene's afraid the "false stigma" is keeping a lot of young he-men out of the dancing field.

"You admit there are some raving sissies in the shows?" I asked him.

"Yes, but what about your real men like Fred Astaire, Ray Bolger and guys like that?" frowned Gene, himself an ex-Pittsburgh ice hockey player who worked his way through college teaching dancing.

GENE

"My brother Fred and I used to do a roller-skating act. We tap-danced on roller skates. Does that sound effeminate?"

I switched the conversation toward ballroom dancing—I asked if a man wasn't supposed to do the leading on the dance floor.

"Yes," he nodded, "it's the one place where the man's got to take over."

"That's what I keep telling her." I shook my head wearily.

Gene nodded understandingly. "If your B. W. were here, I'd tell her she has to submerge her vivacious personality to yours while on the dance floor, or it won't work."

"And she'd tell you she only leads because I can't," I said.

So we switched again—to his new movie, "The Happy Road," and to his TV plans. Gene has literally danced his way to wealth.

"I took up ballet at 18," he said, "because when we started giving dancing lessons to others, we figured we ought to know something about what we were teaching.

"Finally, after going to law school for two years, I came here from Pittsburgh and Johnstown and tried to get a job as a choreographer.

"I couldn't get one.

"But I got a job in 'Leave It To Me! I was one of the dancing boys who stood there feeding grimaces to Mary Martin. Van Johnson was another unknown in that show, but I think I'm the guy nobody remembers being in it.

"And that was . . .?" I asked.

"In 1937 . . . 20 years ago!"

When a lot of us were rather young!

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Faye Emerson's blast at Critics Brooks Atkinson and Walter Kerr—saying they weren't entitled to their pay checks for the way they reviewed her show—must have startled NBC TV watchers. It launched a new war on the critics . . . Orson Welles is becoming an NBC exec . . . Grace Kelly's bridesmaid, Mrs. Jay Kantor, gave birth to a daughter in L. A., her second.

Critic Bob Coleman fell down a defective stairway at the Pyalhouse and has been in bed . . . Linda Darnell's beau, Pilot Robbie Robertson, flew in for her open house.

Lena Horne's at her best in the new show—with Lenny Hayton, her husband, so neatly conducting . . . Cab Calloway and the new show are a big hit in Miami Beach. Mervyn Nelson, the director, was signed to write the next Sinatra movie, "Jazz Train."

Oscar Hammerstein's planning a musical based on the Olympics . . . George Jessel described Barbara Lea, a Wellesley graduate, as "the only popular singer I've met who doesn't look as though she has George Raft's phone number."

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

Men who yearn to die with their boots on should wear them into the living room on cleaning day.—Noel Wical.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A small town is one where the Sunday newspapers can be lifted with one hand." —Jerry Warren.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Some of those New Year's hangovers are lasting longer than some of those New Year's resolutions."—Frank Cerutti.

Lack of space for building schools is getting serious, notes H. C. Diefenbach. It's getting so there's hardly enough room for students to park their cars. . . That's earl, brother.

Hopes to Turn the Girls Into Genuine Fans

Baseball Puts Out Primer to Woo Women

By LEE CARSON

NEW YORK (INS)—After years of flirting with the ladies in interested but scarcely passionate fashion, major league baseball is readying an all-out courtship to get more women into the ball parks.

To come right out and be bold about it, baseball is looking for more money and staring right into the purses which all readers of U. S. economic statistics know contain most of America's dollars.

As a first step in this hyped-up love affair, the baseball commissioner's office is putting out a handsomely mounted "primer" on the game. Its aim is to make women as familiar with batting averages as with their beauty parlors.

The "primer" will contain clear, concise explations of just what all those men out there on the field are doing and why, plus a glossary of terms hitherto pretty much a masculine mystery. And it will be amply illustrated with examples of baseball fundamentals.

This handmaiden's handbook of baseball is designed not only to arouse the interest of "baseball widows" but help out the legions of ladies who have hitherto had a choice of asking "stupid questions" or trying to fake it. Either way the end result was the same: Boredom and much boyish laughter at their "ignorance."

DISDAINFUL GLANCE

Not only have the gals been on the receiving end of this kind of superior jollity from husbands and beaux—but with the growth of the Little Leagues, their own small fry and kid brothers have been treating them to that disdainful glance and open assurance that all females are cretins.

While the new baseball primer is not desoigned to get you on "The $64,000 Question," it will give all readers a basic knowledge of the game, the terminology, history and appeal. From there the best thing to do is go out and watch a few games, according to Commissioner Ford Frick.

"We want women to understand and grow to love the game," the baseball commissioner states earnestly, "and we think that if they get the hang of it—they will."

In any case this new pass made at the ladies is aimed at enlightening, and enlisting as fans those women who have been sitting in the stands or before the television set in bleak disinterest.

By way of example, it tells you exactly why a hit is often not a hit, what an inning means, the exact location of the strike area, what a one-bagger, two-bagger and double play are, why the umpire always wins any argument or "rhubarb," the meaning of a "grand slammer" and "cleaning the bases."

You can also find out who comes up to bt and why, the reason for pitcher substitution, and what to look for and where to look for it.

MAY EVEN ENJOY IT

Armed with this knowledge, any girl can go to a ball game and not ask stupid questions—and she might even enjoy it.

* * *

With a little practice she can also start reeling off batting averages, most valuable player possibilities, likely rookies, and even differentiate between the team rosters and the American and the National Leagues.

She might even get a civil audience from her Little Leaguer.

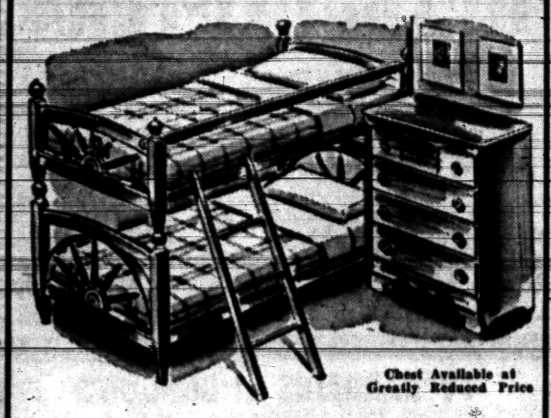

Drunks to Collect Cans

DENVER (AP)—A Colorado state senator came up today with a new idea for punishment of persons serving jail sentences for driving while intoxicated. "I'd like to see them be required to pick up the whisky bottles and beer cans along our highways," said Sen. A. Woody Hewett, a Boulder Republican. Hewett said he would have a bill drafted if there are no legal obstacles to the plan.

Burglars in Jailhouse?

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Burlgar and jail break alarms went off simultaneously at the county courthouse. A deputy reported a noise coming from the district judge's office. About 15 officers rushed to the office with guns drawn. They looked in to find a startled District Judge Edwin L. Swope and his wife clearing up some office work. A short was found in the alarm system.

Police had to stop Indian students at Burdwan who rioted and smashed furniture because they said mathematics questions in an examination were "too stiff."

THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER
Most glamorous car in a generation

It's triggered by a new TorqueFlite transmission

Want to pass a car or a truck on the highway? You don't have to kick the throttle to the floor. Just touch lightly . . . and ZOOM! Want to get out in front when the light goes green? Relax! Count five, then toe the throttle. You'll still be out there alone.

Mighty in power . . . but mighty easy to control, too! That's the performance story of the new 1957 Chrysler. A superb new airplane-type V-8 engine that develops up to 325 horsepower teams with a new TorqueFlite transmission, pushbutton operated. This powerful combination gives you a magnificent new hi-velocity getaway from standing starts, great reserve power for passing when you need it and velvety smoothness.

Yes, this 1957 Chrysler is every bit the streak of a car it looks to be. Come in and test it for yourself . . . compare it with any of the other new cars for power, performance, comfort and looks. More people than ever before are switching to Chrysler, and that puts us in excellent trading position to give you the best of deals on your old car.
