Doubt Suspect Is Triple Killer

CHICAGO (AP) — Police were reported skeptical today of a Chicago man's story that he killed two women and a girl whose bodies were found April 4 near Benton Harbor, Mich.

Police identified the man as Robert Mills, 44, who was taken into custody in Chicago.

Patrolman Charles Green said he picked Mills up at a South Side telephone booth after Mills phoned police and allegedly said he was responsible for the Michigan slayings and wanted to give himself up.

Green said Mills told him he also phoned the FBI about wanting to turn himself in. Sheriff's officers from Berrien County, Mich., were notified and they said investigators would fly to Chicago to question Mills.

Chicago police said they did not plan to question Mills in depth regarding the slayings until the Michigan authorities arrive, sometime this morning.

★ ★ ★

Mills was booked on a charge of disorderly conduct and held for investigation.

FOUND IN GROVE

The bodies of Diane Carter, 7, Mrs. Olin Boyer, 60, and Mrs. Robert Jones, 37, all of Benton Harbor, were found in a pine grove fringe of a Watervliet fruit orchard some 10 miles east of Benton Harbor on April 4.

Police connected the slayings to that of Miss Delores Young, 19, whose nude body was found in a fire-destroyed Benton Harbor home Feb. 16.

All of the victims, except for Miss Young, had been mutilated.

At that time, Benton Harbor Police Chief Merle McCarroll said "this is the first time we've had a sex madman on the loose here." He said he was convinced the death of Miss Young was linked with the other three slayings.

NO LIKENESS

Detective Edward Speller said that Mill's account of the slayings included no instances of likeness to the facts as known.

Speller said Mills told him he met the three victims in a bar in Benton Harbor and

G. MENNEN WILLIAMS

'Soapy' Said on Way Out in State Dept.

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson is planning a major shake-up of the State Department which will involve the ouster of former Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams, the New York Times said today.

★ ★ ★

Williams, who served an unprecedented six terms as the state's chief executive — from 1948 to 1960 — currently is undersecretary of state for African affairs.

The Times said the projected shake-up would involve at least five major State Department jobs and more than a dozen U.S. embassies.

★ ★ ★

In addition to Williams, others listed by the newspaper as "definitely leaving" included William R. Tyler, in charge of European affairs; Phillips Talbot, who directs Near East and South Asian affairs and G. Griffith Johnson, head of the Bureau of Economic Affairs.

U.S. Planes Attack North Viet Roads

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A force of 42 U.S. Air Force planes smashed at traffic in Communist North Viet Nam today and one F105 Thunderchief crashed while strafing a road. The pilot was killed, a U.S. spokesman said.

At the same time two Vietnamese Skyraiders dropped 100,000 leaflets over Dong Hoi, 50 miles north of the South Vietnamese border, detailing President Johnson's plans for developing Southeast Asia.

The Thunderchief was one of 12 Air Force strike planes and 30 flak suppression planes that hit North Viet Nam.

The spokesman would not say whether the plane was shot down or crashed because of an accident. Ground fire during the day was described as light, and no enemy planes were sighted.

The Air Force planes smashed at traffic on Routes 8 and 12 in North Viet Nam. Route 8 runs from the North Vietnamese coastal town of Vinh, southwest to the Laotian frontier, and Route 12 runs south southwest from Vinh to the 17th Parallel.

The Air Force planes reported they destroyed one truck and a number of military buildings at Mugia Pass near the Laotian frontier.

The leaflets showered on Dong Hoi also carried an endorsement of Johnson's remarks by Premier Phan Huy Quat of South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

The leaflets had a picture of President Johnson and remarks by him on the Vietnamese war. They also included an endorsement of the remarks by South Vietnamese Premier Phan Huy Quat. Dong Hoi is about 50 miles north of the 17th Parallel.

Senator Seeking More OU Funds

State Sen. Carl O'Brien has appealed to the chairman of the Michigan Senate Appropriations Committee for more funds for Oakland University.

O'Brien represents Pontiac, Waterford Township, and six other Oakland County townships.

He was protesting an appropriation increase of $303,000 for OU when $497,000 had been requested.

Text of his letter follows:

"Oakland University is, relatively speaking, a new university. It suffers from fiscal handicaps in several directions. I have gathered together figures which compares Grand Valley College (a new college) with Oakland University.

★ ★ ★

"I believe these figures will substantiate the fact that Oakland University is suffering a severe case of underappropriation of funds.

SEEKS STUDY

"I would like to have you study Oakland University's appropriations in depth in the area of capital outlay, which I believe to be the business of your committee.

"I am sure that when you familiarize yourself with the financial situation at Oakland University, you will see fit to increase the appropriation to this fine university.

"I would like to repeat—when judged against such new universities as Grand Valley, on the basis of current enrollment, you will become aware of just how severe the shortage of appropriate funds is at Oakland.

"I think, further, you will see that my concern for this university is real and I would like to discuss with you personally the financial problems which exist at Oakland."

Ionia Suicide Probe Ordered

Second in 6 Months at Mental Institution

LANSING (AP) — Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, has ordered a House Committee to investigate a patient's suicide at Ionia State Hospital "to learn what is needed to prevent this sort of thing."

★ ★ ★

The suicide Thursday was the second in six months at the mental institution.

Kowalski Friday ordered the House Mental Health Committee, headed by Rep. F. Charles Raap, D-Muskegon, to begin an investigation next Thursday.

Kowalski said this investigation will be specifically on the suicide, but when the committee has time to do a complete objective job it will open a general investigation of all the state's mental institutions.

★ ★ ★

The latest suicide at Ionia suffocated with a plastic bag over his head. He fastened the bag with a necktie.

2-DAY VISIT

After a patient suicide last November, then Republican-dominated House Mental Health Committee visited the hospital for two days.

Chairman David Upton, R-St. Joseph said that committee was not able to substantiate any charges made against hospital personnel and found no major scandal.

Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit said he would try to set up a joint committee to investigate the situation.

★ ★ ★

Dzendzel said a joint committee is needed "to get to the bottom of this." He added the legislature would be in recess April 22 to May 3, giving such a committee a good opportunity for an investigation.

Trainees Are Now Involved in Work -- LBJ

To Help on Dikes, Reclamation Work on State Request

By the Associated Press

President Johnson today offered the aid of neighborhood Youth Corps trainees to states affected by flood and tornadoes.

The young men enrolled in the corps will help build sandbag dikes and do reclamation work in public parks and some other community facilities.

The President, speaking at his Texas ranch, said corps members are already at work trying to control the record-breaking flood in Minnesota.

Johnson said Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz had volunteered assistance of those poverty program youths, 16 through 21 years old, for projects in which regular federal disaster assistance is not available. Governors of the states concerned must request the youth aid.

In the flooded northern zones today, freezing cold slowed the melting of snow and ice but added to the discomfort of thousands of volunteers battling the high waters.

★ ★ ★

Snow fell in the watersheds of swollen rivers while temperatures plunged to overnight lows at or below the freezing level of 32.

SLOWS RUNOFF

The wintry weather slowed the runoff that had lifted streams to record heights and brought a forecast that the Mississippi River's crest at St. Paul won't be reached until Tuesday instead of during the current weekend.

★ ★ ★

The delay gave workers more time to strengthen and heighten barricades.

The Mississippi has spilled into scores of communities from Minneapolis and St. Paul southward to Missouri.

Floodwaters have streamed from the Mississippi, Minnesota, Red and Croix rivers, driving an estimated 35,000 persons from homes, killing 12 and causing millions of dollars in damage from North Dakota to Illinois.

In Davenport, Iowa, some 150 families took up residence in animal stalls at the county fairgrounds.

Phony James Bond Gets 'New Number'

NEW YORK (AP)—It was a tale of murder and intrigue that secret agent extraordinary Tom Romano told. He even outdid the fictional James Bond.

Tall and rugged, he induced one of his female admirers to give him $4,000 and her new automobile.

He told her of hair-raising exploits with gun and attache case in Algeria and Cyprus, of piloting a spy plane, and of an underwater mission to Cuba.

The story ended yesterday in U.S. District Court with Judge Thomas F. Murphy writing the final chapter.

As it turned out, secret agent extraordinary Tom Romano was fictional just like James Bond. He was just plain Thomas Catizone, 35, Brooklyn truck mechanic.

★ ★ ★

Following a nonjury trial Murphy sentenced Catizone to two years in federal prison for masquerading as a Central Intelligence Agency agent.

SOUND EFFECTS

Catizone even furnished props and sound effects for his imaginary exploits. Example: whenever one of his admirers phoned him at his Brooklyn garage, he would have a co-worker race a truck engine. Then he would explain that he had no time to talk — the engine of his plane was being revved up for a quick takeoff on a cloak-and-dagger mission.

On another caper that cost him $60, he hired an ambulance and attendants, to wheel him on a stretcher into the apartment of Laura Darris, a brunette divorcee who ran a restaurant near the garage.

He had told her he had been in an automobile accident outside Washington in which another agent was killed. He said he was paralyzed from the waist down.

He had met Mrs. Darris in

Hey, Weatherman, Your Humor's Sick!

Seems like the weatherman has his holidays mixed. It rained Christmas Eve, now it's snowing Easter Eve. About one-half inch of snow was recorded downtown this morning.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow, occasional light rain is forecast, so it may be wise to add an umbrella to your Easter outfit. In addition, cloudy skies are expected, along with a high in the 40s.

Tonight's predicted low is 30 to 37.

The lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 32. By 2 p.m. the mercury had risen to 37 in downtown Pontiac.

Tips on Making Left Turns

Improper left turns cause considerable traffic congestions by reducing the number of cars which can turn during each change of the traffic signal.

This has been pointed out by Robert M. Critchfield of Lake Angelus, a retired general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

"Many drivers stop at the sidewalk line and wait there for the traffic light to change before proceeding to make their left turn before the cross traffic at the intersection catches them," Critchfield says.

As a result only their car has time to make the left turn.

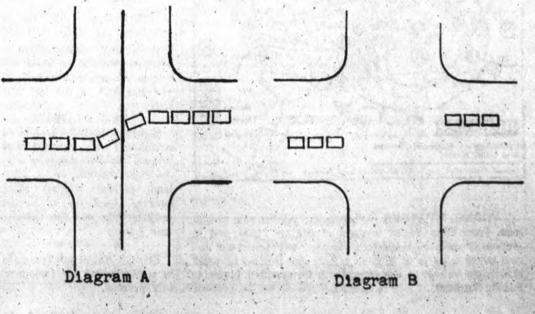
★ ★ ★

"The proper procedure is to advance to the center of the cross street—of course with left turn signaled—and turn the front wheels slightly to the left while waiting for the light to change or for the oncoming traffic to clear as indicated on diagram A."

★ ★ ★

"With this procedure at least three cars will be able to make the left turn.

"Of course when the driver is attempting to enter to make a left turn at an intersection with a through street not controlled by lights and where there is a stop sign at his corner, the proper procedure is to stop at the sidewalk line as indicated in diagram B and then to enter the intersection and turn left when the through traffic permits."



Cuban Exiles Study Homeland 'Tremors'

MIAMI, Fla., (AP) — Reports of mass arrests in Cuba, reminiscent of those following the Bay of Pigs invasion just four years ago today, are being studied by anti-Castro analysts for symptoms of a brewing internal upheaval.

They attached particular significance to reports from refugees and underground sources of military arrests, including 30 captains. A captain in Castro's army is outranked only by a major.

★ ★ ★

Exiles watched for signs of a crack in Fidel Castro's military might, rated first in Latin America, as he prepared a parade Monday to celebrate his Bay of Pigs victory over 1,500 invaders.

The invasion fleet set out from Central America, where the force had trained, and arrived in the early morning hours of April 17, 1961, on the southern Cuba coast southeast of Havana.

SMASH ATTACK

Within 72 hours, Castro's forces had smashed the operation, killing 81 of the invaders and wounding 60. More than a thousand were captured and later ransomed with $53 million worth of medicine and food.

★ ★ ★

After Monday's parade at Giron Beach, site of the Bay of Pigs failure, Prime Minister Castro is expected to make a victory speech in Havana. Last month, Castro ended a two-hour talk by saying his people were "capable of killing a million mercenary invaders."

★ ★ ★

But anti-Castro strategy reportedly has shifted from invasion to internal action. A rebellion within the armed forces was reported to be the goal.

Exile sources report thousands of soldiers, militiamen and civilians have been arrested throughout the island.

IMPRISONED

Refugees arriving this week said 350 officers and men of Castro's western army, covering Havana and Pinar del Rio provinces, were imprisoned.

★ ★ ★

Other newly arrived exiles said 700 peasants in westernmost Pinar del Rio Province were arrested because they were suspected of helping anti-Castro guerrillas.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of residents in Escambray Mountain areas of central Cuba have been evacuated for the same reason, they said.

Fifty-three Baptist ministers and lay leaders, including two Americans, were imprisoned and accused of spying.

The Cuban Medical Association in exile said the Castro roundup included 40 physicians, "arbitrarily arrested."

County Budget Before Board

Preliminary Figure Up 12 Pct. Over '65

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors Monday will review a tentative 1966 county budget of $19,428,037 recommended by the board's ways and means committee.

If approved by the board, the budget will be referred to the County Tax Allocation Board.

Up 12.9 per cent over the current $17,218,878 budget, the new budget is based on a tax rate of 5.97 mills.

Expenditures in the preliminary budget include $3,660,948 in nondepartmental appropriations, $8,123,502 for departmental and institutional operation and $7,583,587 for salaries.

★ ★ ★

Last year at this time a tentative budget of $18.4 million was approved by the board based on a tax rate of 5.9 mills.

RATE REDUCED

This rate was reduced to 5.26 mills by the allocation board when it met to spread the total 15-mill allocation between school districts, the county and townships.

Also slated for consideration by the supervisors Monday are recommendations by the Board's legislative committee pertaining to a proposed public defender bill.

At its March 16 meeting the committee altered a previous recommendation opposing House Bill 2100 by calling for permissive legislation that would allow counties the option of establishing public defender offices.

★ ★ ★

The legislative committee also will report on referred resolutions.

CLEANUP AHEAD—This is a view of the business area of Delano, Minn., showing the sandbag revetments which saved the downtown area. The cleanup, however, will be quite a job. Thousands of bags were used and the muddy waters of the Crow River have left deposits.

Minn., a city of 350,000 that has as much as six feet of water inundating lowland sections. Some industries, a city airport and railroad station have been forced to close. The Mississippi was at 26 feet, 14 feet above floodstage.

Downstream, Wabasha, Minn., 2,500 population, was one-third under water. At Winona, population 25,000, city officials have constructed a 25-foot high, sandbag and earth wall nine miles long.

Across the Mississippi in Wisconsin, hundreds of families have been evacuated in La Crosse and Prairie du Chien.

Red Cross officials estimated the eventual number of evacuees would be more than 14,000 in 15 counties.

PAST DIKES

The St. Croix River broke through protective dikes at Hudson, Wis., flooding about half the town of 4,500.

La Crosse officials placed their hopes on a four-mile of dikes to prevent water from surging into the highlands. Much of the lowland area is flooded and 1,200 persons already have been evacuated from areas near the city of 47,000.

The Mississippi River cut through La Crosse yesterday, preventing travel from northern and central sections. Flood level is 12 feet. The river neared 16 feet today and was expected to crest at 18 feet Wednesday.

Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois sent nearly 300 National Guardsmen into duty Friday along the Mississippi River in western Illinois. The patrols extend from 21 north of Quincy to 18 miles south and along a 10-mile stretch between Oquawka and Gulfport.

PUMPS NEEDED

Inmates at the Menard State Pentitentiary near Chester, Ill., were without drinking water for a while when the swollen Mississippi washed away a sandbar over intake pipes. Emergency pumps were used.

Across the river at Hannibal, Mo., Gov. Warren E. Hearnes declared a state of emergency and volunteers rushed sandbagging operations along waterfront dikes.

'Live Forever' Is Project Goal

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (UPI)— A local company is hard at work on a project to abolish death as we know it.

★ ★ ★

"This is not a gimmick at all," Leonard Gold said of his company's part in the plan being explored by many scientists to keep a person alive forever.

"There is a lot of misconception about what we are doing," Gold said in an interview. "But actually scientists have thought about this for a long time and some of the elite members of the scientific community are working on it."

The plan as explained by those involved sounds relatively simple although admittedly there are many difficult problems of all kinds.

★ ★ ★

Immediately after a person dies a normal medical death the body would be put in a steel capsule and kept in a frozen state through the use of chemicals.

OUT OF FREEZER

Years from now when medical science comes up with the answer to what caused the death, such as old age or various diseases, the body would be removed from the freezer, the ailment cured, and an active life resumed.

The prospect of being restored to life on this earth many years after death is a frightening thought to many persons.

It would raise all kinds of legal problems.

★ ★ ★

But problems or not, scientists are convinced physical life forever on this planet is possible and are working hard to prove what they believe.

SPACE PROGRAM

The space program, with all of its developments believed impossible a few years ago, is giving indirect impetus to research on the eternal life project, Gold said.

Space scientists have shown some interest in the possibility of reducing the body to inactivity through low temperatures for prolonged flights into space.

Gold said the Juno Co. he heads is concerned with producing the capsule in which the body would be stored.

★ ★ ★

"We think we can do it at a price the average person can afford," he said.

NO DETAILS

He was reluctant to discuss the matter in detail because negotiations are in progress with a major manufacturing concern to produce the capsules.

The capsule would be about the size of a coffin, he said, but the mausoleum in which it would be stored would be larger than the vaults now commonly used.

A working model is expected to be completed before long and a freezer cemetery would be put on display, maybe in Los Angeles, for the first time.

★ ★ ★

There are three kinds of death. The ordinary medical death is known as clinical death and is when the heart and lungs stop functioning.

BIOLOGICAL DEATH

Biological death is that in which the body's organs are damaged through disease or otherwise to the point medicine cannot restore life. The third is cellular death in which the individual cells deteriorate.

★ ★ ★

This third kind of death usually comes two or three days after the ordinary medical death.

★ ★ ★

Scientists believe that those who die from the ordinary medical death would be the easiest restored to life if the body could be frozen before the cellular death begins.

2,000 Protest in Washington

Students Call for End to War in Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over 2,000 pickets, mostly students, paraded in front of the White House today carrying signs calling for an end to the war in Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

The demonstration, one of the largest ever staged so close to the White House, was conducted under the watchful eyes of hundreds of policemen, who lined the curb along the entire block where the pickets marched.

There was a momentary flurry of violence across the street, however, where a dozen members of the American Nazi party marched in a tight circle brandishing signs saying, "Peace Creeps Go Home."

One of the students set up a record player on the park grass near the Nazis. He was spinning out a folk song when one of the Nazis suddenly broke through the police enclosing the counter-demonstration and jumped on the record player.

★ ★ ★

The student and the Nazi tangled briefly before police hauled the Nazi youth away in a police wagon. The scuffle went largely unnoticed by the students on the other side of Pennsylvania Avenue.

QUIET, ORDERLY

They marched quietly and orderly, directed by their own leaders and police to keep moving and remain in order.

★ ★ ★

The demonstrators plan to hold a rally later in the day at the base of the Washington Monument.

Among the university banners held aloft by the pickets were those of Boston University, Cornell, Brown, Bennington College, Michigan State, the University of Michigan, Wayne State, University of Chicago, Atlanta University, Rhode Island College, Maine University, and the Rhode Island School of Design.

Birmingham Area News

Residents Play Role in Course Selections

BIRMINGHAM — Using requests from Birmingham-area residents as a gauge, the Community House is compiling its list of spring term adult education courses.

Karl Emmanuel, director of education activities, has been keeping tabs on the telephone queries.

"There is a definite need f classes in beginning bridge, connoisseur's kitchen, ballroom dancing, gardening and supervised bridge play — and we'll be offering them during our spring term," he said.

Ballroom dancing will begin April 26 with classes meeting from 8:30 to 10 p.m. It is designed for those who want to learn basic steps for the waltz, fox trot, cha-cha-cha and some of the currently popular dances.

★ ★ ★

The eight-week course also is helpful for those who know the steps but need practice.

The spring gardening class will begin April 28 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Alice W. Burlingame will lecture on garden planning and design, accessories and care of plants. The five-week course will incorporate several field trips to local homes.

Connoisseur's kitchen is proving to be one of the center's most popular courses, although there still are some openings.

★ ★ ★

Meeting from 12:45 to 2:45 p.m. Wednesdays, the students learn how to prepare such dishes as shrimp sate, bourbon baked beans and apricot noodle pudding.

BEGINNERS

Beginning bridge courses will be held from 12:45 to 2:45 p.m. Thursdays and from 8 to 10 p.m. Tuesdays.

Now in its 12th year, Michigan Week is an expression by all Michigan residents of their loyalty to their state, their eagerness to learn more about it and tell others about it.

★ ★ ★

"It shows our readiness to work together for Michigan's progress," Van Leuven said.

THEME FOR WEEK

The 1965 Michigan Week theme is "Michigan—Dynamic in World Progress" and all communities, schools, organizations, companies and individuals are being asked to carry out their part of the expression.

Van Leuven serves on the board of directors of the Big Brothers of Oakland County, the board of directors of the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults and is an elder of the Milford Presbyterian Church.

January 1962 and subsequently induced her to give him $4,000 — almost her entire life savings — and her car.

MAN IN CHARGE

The 6-foot-2, 200-pound Catizone, complete with attache case an a shoulder-holster pistol told Mrs. Darris that his brother had been killed two years earlier in the CIA. He said he was in charge of a five-man espionage group, and his mechanic's job was a cover.

He told Mrs. Darris of flying a U4 plane. It was something like the U2 plane, he explained, only it could fly higher and faster.

Once he appeared carrying an attache case, which he told Mrs. Darris contained treaties he was taking to Washington from South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Within two months after they met, Catizone told Mrs. Darris that his plane had exploded and a young mechanic had been killed. He was late for his assignment, he said, and the mechanic's family threatened to expose his dereliction unless he paid them $1,000. Mrs. Darris gave him the money.

GAVE HIM MONEY

Mrs. Davis gave him $2,000 for back alimony in May 1962, when he told her his former wife was threatening to wreck his CIA career if he didn't pay up.

A short time later, he pulled off the ambulance caper and this time it cost Mrs. Darris $1,025. The $1,000 was for the exwife. The $25 was cigarette money for the crippled Catizone.

Mrs. Darris never saw him again. But in February 1963, he telephoned her that he and another agent were the only survivors of seven American frogmen who had undertaken a dangerous underwater mission to Cuba.

Children Hurt in 1-Car Crash

Three Keego Harbor youngsters are in Pontiac General Hospital today, recovering from injuries received in a one-car accident early last night on Cass Lake Road, just south of Portman.

★ ★ ★

In serious condition are Sherry Moran, 9, and her sister, Lynda, 5. A brother, 12-year-old Joseph, was listed in fair condition with head lacerations and a fractured right arm.

All three live at 1748 Cass Lake.

The driver of the car, 21-year-old Lynda McCormick of 25 N. Edith, was treated and released.

★ ★ ★

Police said Miss McCormick lost control of the car when a left rear tire blew out, causing the vehicle to leave the road and strike a tree.

S. Korea Riots Worsen; Report Scores Injured

SEOUL, South Korea, (AP) — Scores of policemen and demonstrators were injured today as riots continued for the fifth straight day in opposition to establishing diplomatic relations with Japan.

More than 200 youths were arrested. A series of street battles began after 10,000 persons poured into the streets denouncing President Chung Hee Park's alleged concessions in his efforts to establish normal diplomatic ties with Japan.

★ ★ ★

At one point the mob raided a police post, smashing windows and burning furniture.

President Park met with top security aides.

Growing concern was felt in government circles over the worsening bloody demonstrations, in which hundreds of police and students have been injured. The death of one student served to intensify the violence.

More than 2,000 high school students clashed with police riot squads in two separate incidents today. Fifty or more were arrested, adding to the more than 500 detained on previous days.

Police used clubs to disperse one group of about 500 black-uniformed students who staged a sit-down in front of the capitol, where Park has his office.

★ ★ ★

Tear gas was used to break up an attempt by another group of 1,500 boys to march downtown.

The street between the capitol and the U.S.-Embassy compound was guarded by army soldiers. It leads to Park's official mansion, Blue House.

National police announced that 280 policemen were injured in Friday's rioting by more than 6,000 university students. Police said 49 of the injured were in serious condition.

Scores of students have been hurt since the demonstrations began Tuesday. Accurate counts were impossible.

At least a dozen police vehicles have been damaged.

GRIM REMINDER — A Red Cross inspector comes across a grim reminder of the fury of last Sunday's tornado in Coldwater. On the outskirts of the town he found a broken doll, apparently torn from someone's home, carried through the air and deposited in place far from any habitation.

Tornado Damage

Michigan Farmers to Get Aid

LANSING (AP) — Farmers in eleven stricken counties will be eligible for federal livestock assistance as a result of the Palm Sunday tornadoes that swept southern Michigan.

Gov. George Romney announced Friday he had received word from Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman saying the farmers would be permitted to "receive without cost" feed grains owned by the Commodity Credit Corp.

★ ★ ★

They also could receive long-range help under the livestock feed program.

Those who suffered severe loss of feed supplies would be granted temporary grazing on land retired from production "without reduction in annual program payments," Freeman said.

11 COUNTIES

The affected counties are Allegan, Barry, Branch, Hillsdale, Kalamazoo, Kent, Lenawee, Monroe, Montcalm, Ottawa and St. Joseph.

Romney appointed State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs disaster coordinator to direct Michigan's participation in federal disaster funds for rehabilitation of public property.

★ ★ ★

The coordinator-required by federal rules under which President Johnson declared Michigan a disaster area — will conduct damage surveys, meet with local officials and process applications for federal assistance.

Further, more refined estimates of the damage — now pegged at between $40 million and $50 million — still have to be made. County-by-county estimates are needed to determine the amount of federal aid, Romney said.

PREPARATION

Childs and Harvey McPhail, regional representative of the Federal Office of Emergency Planning, will meet with state and federal agencies Monday to begin preparatory work.

"I want to emphasize that this federal money is almost totally for the emergency rehabilitation of public property," Romney said. "It would be unfortunate if private citizens felt that it would be used to help them meet private needs. That end of it is handled by the Red Cross."

★ ★ ★

The Red Cross, he added, is the official fund-raising organization for private relief in the state.

"I would hope the public is not misled that agencies other than the Red Cross are raising money for tornado relief," he said. "I urge all organizations to cooperate in encouraging contributions to the Red Cross."

★ ★ ★

Seek Accounts in Joint Study

CHICAGO (AP) — The United States Weather Bureau and the University of Chicago announced Friday a joint study of the Palm Sunday tornadoes in the midwest.

"We are interested in obtaining eyewitness accounts of the tornadoes, giving locations and accurate times of the observations," the announcement set forth.

★ ★ ★

Researchers said they would welcome photographs, with time and location noted, and promised to return them if requested to do so.

UNITS TEAM UP

The university's department of geophysical sciences has teamed with the weather bureau.

A spokesman said the study was prompted by unusual aspects, such as reports of double-funnel twisters and one tornado striking a half hour after another had passed.

Information should be sent to the U.S. Weather Bureau, 710 Federal Office Building, Kansas City, Mo., 64106.

State Department Sit-In Broken Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police carried a half-dozen demonstrators from the State Department late Friday after the group staged a sit-in at a main entrance lobby much of the day.

The group, calling itself the "Washington Committee for the Right to Vote in Alabama and Viet Nam," was allowed to continue the sit-in until 6:15 p.m., the close of business hours.

Then police lifted them one by one and hauled them to a sidewalk across the street.

The Savage Cell – 12

Researchers Suspect Some Drugs May Cause Human Cancer

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the final installment in a 12-part series by a veteran reporter condensed from his book on cancer, "The Savage Cell.")

By PAT McGRADY

Most "miracle drugs" are ushered in on a wave of public and professional enthusiasm.

In time, the enthusiasm ebbs. Perhaps it subsides gradually as the drug's limitations are recognized. Or it collapses when the dream turns into a nightmare of unexpected side effects.

Dangers have been identified in the sulfas and antibiotics, in fever-fighters and painkillers, tranquilizers, pep pills, thyroid suppressants, antimalaria pills, muscle relaxants, antihistamines and scores of others.

One question that haunts the researcher who studies the behavior of cancer is this: Can it sometimes be caused by the drugs prescribed to fight disease or by the doctor treating the patient?

* * *

A growing number of drugs are suspect. But it is impossible to say with absolute conviction that any drug or procedure causes human cancer.

NO RELIABLE TEST

There is no reliable test to determine whether a substance — drug, food additive, or other compound — poses a cancer threat to man.

Some scientists become suspicious of substances which are teratogenic, that is, when given to pregnant animals they cause malformations in the offspring.

If teratogens are indeed cancer-causers as some suspect, a vast number of chemicals commonly found in food, water and drugs would be carcinogenic, or cancer-causing.

Perhaps the strongest case against drugs as causing human cancer could be made against arsenic. Many medical writers have cited instances in which arsenicals have seemed to cause specific cases of human cancer.

ARSENICALS USED

A long list of arsenicals — happily shorter now that more effective drugs have been produced — has been used liberally in times past against a variety of conditions, including malaria, epilepsy, burns, cholera, chronic skin conditions, anemia, syphilis and cancer.

Another large group of drugs under growing suspicion are the phenols. Obtained from coal tars or synthetically, phenols are widely used in antiseptics, germicides, disinfectants, escharotics and local anesthetics.

Carbolic acid is a well-known phenol. Also, they are widely used as antioxidants, preservatives, and disinfectants. They are in many plastic products and in smoke polluting the air; every ton of rubbish burned yields eight pounds of phenols.

* * *

University of Wisconsin scientists, testing more than 50 phenols, found that over half caused animal cancers, and they concluded "the hazards to man must now be considered."

NO DEFINITE PROOF

There is still no definite proof, however, that any member of the enormous populations regularly exposed to phenols ever has developed cancer as a consequence of the exposure.

While there is no clinical evidence to suggest that antibiotics cause human cancer, scientists have reported inducing malignant tumors in experimental animals with a few of these drugs.

Atabrine, the antimalarial widely used by troops during World War II, was said by one scientist to have enhanced the development of rat liver tumors. Others have reported a contrary anticancer, effect.

* * *

So many experimental cancers have been induced by altering the hormone balance of animals that the most cautious investigators are strongly against the medicinal use of hormones for any but well-defined reasons.

DRUG-INDUCED

Sometimes drug-induced disease passes almost unnoticed. The short-lived offending preparation is recalled, occasionally without even the general medical profession aware of its past dangers and disasters.

Sometimes a drug will do enormous damage over a long period before the word leaks out and the public, as well as the medical profession, is horrified at what has happened.

This was the case with the German sleeping pill, thalidomide, which gained popularity as a hangover-free sedative.

* * *

Between 3,500 and 5,000 German mothers who had taken these pills during their pregnancies delivered monsters, babies with shortened, flipper-like arms and legs.

Dr. Frances O. Kelsey, a Food and Drug official, standing alone against industrial and political pressures, blocked thalidomide's production and use in the United States.

Dr. Helen B. Taussig of John Hopkins University said: "We should be grateful the drug was not dreamed up in this country. It could have passed the Food and Drug Administration under our present laws."

The thalidomide episode, Dr. Taussig said, should teach young women to be cautious about new drugs.

* * *

"Until new laws become effective," she said, "and indeed until research for the proper tests on pregnant animals has been completed, pyhsicians must bear in mind that sleeping tablets, tranquilizers and other apparently innocent drugs may do terrible harm to the rapidly growing embryo and the unborn child."

OTHER PREPARATIONS

While thalidomide may have ceased to menace the unborn generation, other preparations and material habits are still killing and deforming babies.

Congenital malformations constitute the leading cause of death among the newborn And sometimes they are accompanied by cancer — Pissibly induced by the same agents.

The dangers of many drugs are known — widely advertised by their producers, in fact.

* * *

Nevertheless, some doctors, through ignorance or carelessness, prescribe them when they are contraindicated, or they fail to caution their patients against the penalties of departing from the prescribed dosages.

ULTIMATE VICTIMS

And the ultimate victims, the consumers, take old, unlabeled drugs from their bathroom shelves or, with drugs bought over the counter. Ignore both the large and small print and swallow them on the principle that if a little is good, a lot is better.

It is no wonder that about a hundred Americans are known to die annually of overdoses of aspirin and aspirin-type tablets. The chronic effects of ill-advised medication probably are much more common and much less frequently recognized.

Good conscience and common sense dictate that drugs are not marketed until tests have demonstrated their usefulness and short-term and long-term effects; they are not to be given or taken capriciously.

* * *

There is a great and urgent need for human experimentation with drugs.

IN RESEARCH CENTERS

The experiments should be done, however, in research centers where qualified scientists are prepared to undertake time-consuming studies of patients, faithfully record their experimental and control data, promptly reverse any untoward effects of their medications, and freely publish their results and observations.

* * *

This right of experimentation does not rest with the ordinary physician. Certainly the layman who treats himself experimentally has a fool for a doctor and a patient.

Area Legislator Seeks Diesel Engine Curbs

LANSING (AP) — Claiming they cause more fires than old fashioned coal-burners, Rep. Robert Slingerlend, D-Lake Orion, has introduced a bill to put Diesel locomotives under provisions of the Forest Fire Act.

* * *

The present fine for fires caused by railroad engines would be increased from $100 to $500 and locomotives also would be required to carry spark-arresters.

Hearings on Taft-Hartley Section Set for May

WASHINGTON (AP) — Informed sources said today congressional hearings will begin next month on the controversial legislation to repeal the so-called "right-to-work" section of federal labor law.

President Johnson, who has promised organized labor that he will back the repeal measure, reportedly will send Congress a message on this and other labor legislation late this month.

* * *

Congressional sources said Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., of the House Labor Committee, has authorized the start of hearings May 10 or May 17 on the repeal of Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act.

* * *

Rep. Frank Thomspon Jr., D-N.J., will conduct the hearings.

UNION SHOP CONTRACTS

Section 14B authorizes individual states to enact laws that prohibit union shop contracts requiring all employes to join a union.

Statutes banning union shop contracts are commonly called "right-to-work" laws. The federal law sanctions union shop contracts in states that do not outlaw them.

* * *

The repeal measure is the top legislative goal this year of the AFL-CIO and other labor organizations.

It is vigorously opposed by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Right to Work Committee.

REPEALED LAW

Repeal of Section 14B would, presumably, wipe out right-to-work laws in the 19 states that have them. A 20th state, Indiana, repealed its right-to-work law early this year.

Informed sources said Johnson's labor message will also propose an increase in the present federal minimum wage of $1.25, expansion of minimum wage coverage to several million more workers, improvements in the unemployment compensation program and possibly other measures sought by organized labor.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey last week gave the first solid indication from the administration that Johnson will seek a minimum wage hike, although Humphrey declined to speculate how much it might be.

* * *

The AFL-CIO has demanded a $2 minimum wage, but indicated it would settle for an increase of as little as 25 cents this year, assuming there would be further increases later.

* * *

The right-to-work repeal measure is expected to spark a major battle in Congress.

Cherry Blossoms Are at Full Bloom in D.C.

Thousands visited the Tidal Basin area Friday to see the blossoms, and park officials say they expect them to remain in good shape through the Easter weekend.

U.S. Jet Fighters Post Record Flight

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP) — Two Republic F-105 Thunderchief jet fighters have flown 5,730 miles nonstop, apparently an operational flight distance record for the craft.

Headquarters of the Tactical Air Command here announced Friday that the two F105s made the flight April 13 from Hickham Air Force Base in Hawaii to Kadena Air Base in Okinawa. The time was 9 hours and 44 minutes.

MAJ. GEN. DAVIS

Negro Gets High Army Command

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Air Force Maj. Gen. Benjamin O. Davis Jr., the newly appointed chief of staff for Korea and the only Negro general officer in the regular armed forces, is carrying on a family tradition started by his father.

A strapping six-footer with a pleasant personality who was a heavily decorated fighter commander in World War II, Davis is the son of Brig. Gen. Benjamin O. Davis, who was the first member of his race to reach the ranks of generals in the United States.

President Johnson announced Davis' appointment yesterday at his Texas ranch, along with appointment of Lt. Gen. Thomas A. Morman as superintendent of the U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs.

At the age of 52, Davis has already been an Air Force general for 10 years.

* * *

His new appointment carries a promotion to lieutenant general as the successor to Lt. Gen. Edwin Broadhurst, who died in Korea April 4.

FUTURE POST

Once the appointment is confirmed by the Senate, Davis will serve as chief of staff, U.S. forces, Korea, and chief of staff to the United Nations command under Gen. Hamilton Howze in Seoul.

Although Davis is the only Negro general in the regular forces and the only one currently on active duty, three Negro brigadier generals are listed in the command structures of the national guard—in New York, Massachusetts and Illinois.

Born in Washington, D. C., Davis attended local schools and Western Reserve University in Cleveland. He studied two years at the University of Chicago before entering West Point, graduating in 1936.

He was P51 fighter pilot in World War II, and won the Silver Star leading a squadron on a hazardous mission to strafe airfields in southern Germany in early 1945.

Easter Makes a Difference

(Editor's Note: In keeping with our policy of running guest editorials from time to time, our Easter message has been written by Rev. Theodore R. Allebach, minister, Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.)

By REV. THEODORE R. ALLEBACH

What difference does Easter make? Because of the glorious fact that Christ arose, millions of people (not necessarily Christians) turn churchward on Easter Sunday morning. But does Easter really make any difference with most people?

On that first Easter morning, a few people experienced a decided difference in their lives. The whole course of their lives was altered, made brighter and more beautiful because of the pleasant memories of a meaningful Easter Day. Who were they?

Mary, the mother of Jesus, probably received more joy on Easter morning than anyone. She was known for her deep, spiritual understanding. When the great crisis approached, when the big, brave disciples had promised to be so much, they were conspicuous by their absence and we find Mary still doing her part. She remained as close as possible to her son through His death on Calvary. To her, Easter certainly made a real difference.

MARY MAGDALENE, once a woman of bad reputation, was another person to whom Easter meant much. Two gospel writers tell us that she had possessed seven devils. Jesus touched her life early in His ministry, and she became one of His most devoted followers. She heard the first words the risen Christ spoke. She was the first to recognize Him. MARY MAGDALENE stands for the personal acceptance of Easter.

★ ★ ★

PETER, a boaster and coward, promised everything but did less than nothing when the real crisis came. But Easter seemed to give PETER another chance. He finally made good. The dedication of PETER to Christ in events immediately surrounding the resurrection shows that it is possible for people to change their careless attitudes into dynamic Christian living. Yes, Christ reclaimed Peter and made him a useful man. Easter made a real difference to PETER.

★ ★ ★

Thomas, a thick-headed individual, was absent by his own choice when the risen Christ appeared to the disciples. What an unfortunate time to be away. Thomas said that he could not believe in the resurrection unless he could see for himself the risen Christ — nothing second-hand for him. Yes, Thomas kept Easter grudgingly and unwillingly at first, but when he finally saw Christ, he very affirmatively said, "My Lord and my God." From that moment Easter made a real difference with Thomas.

★ ★ ★

And so Easter presents to us a very real and practical question — what difference does it make? Some of the most pitied people on this earth are those who merely live from one paycheck to the next, from one emotion to another, and in one round of pleasure after the other, There is no purpose, meaning, or direction from God because He is not real to them. Let this Easter make a real difference in you by a personal acceptance of the resurrected Christ of Easter morning.

Congress Setting Impressive Mark

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — This was the tornado season in Washington, too.

Usually, up to Easter, Congress just yawns and gets ready for what it will do afterwards.

MARLOW

This year Congress goes home on Easter vacation with an impressive record.

No peacetime Congress since the opening of the New Deal has done so much early in a session on major legislation.

It has lots to do when it returns but so far:

- Congress has approved the first federal aid to schools bill, plus help for the Appalachian area.
- The House has approved, and the Senate is expected to, a program of health care for the aged.
- Both houses have approved a proposed constitutional amendment to protect the country in case of presidential disability. House and Senate differed a bit on this. Almost certainly they will straighten this out and okay the measure.
- President Johnson's request for legislation to protect Negroes' voting rights seem sure of passage after Easter.

LITTLE FUSS

All this with a minimum, almost a lack, of fuss. That's the astonishing part of the performance, particularly on health care and school aid.

Both had been stuck in Congress for years although each was proposed year after year, in the case of health care going back into the 1940s.

The architect of this congressional performance was Johnson himself.

★ ★ ★

As majority leader in the Senate between 1955 and 1960 he was the best Senate leader in this century.

USING EXPERIENCE

That experience, in addition to his previous years in House and Senate, is being used now to get Congress to do what he wants.

Johnson has one big advantage that President Kennedy didn't have when the latter took over the White House and national leadership in 1961.

Johnson, thanks to the 1964 election, has far more Democrats in Congress to support him. Which means there are far fewer Republicans to oppose him.

★ ★ ★

Even so, Kennedy wasn't in the same league with Johnson in dealing with Congress. He lacked the experience and the mastery and he didn't work as hard.

Experienced Washington hands are holding their breath, and perhaps Johnson is too, to see whether his success with the men in the Capitol will last.

If it lasts four years, which was the length of Franklin D. Roosevelt's successful peacetime period, Johnson and Congress should move mountains.

Nazi War II Criminal Abhors Own Savagery

History of some sort was made at a war crimes trial in West Germany the other day. A former Nazi officer, convicted of the mass murder of 1,180 persons in World War II, actually admitted his moral guilt.

"What happened was so terrible," Albert Rapp, onetime colonel in Hitler's Elite Guard, told the court, "that I cannot and will not ask for mercy."

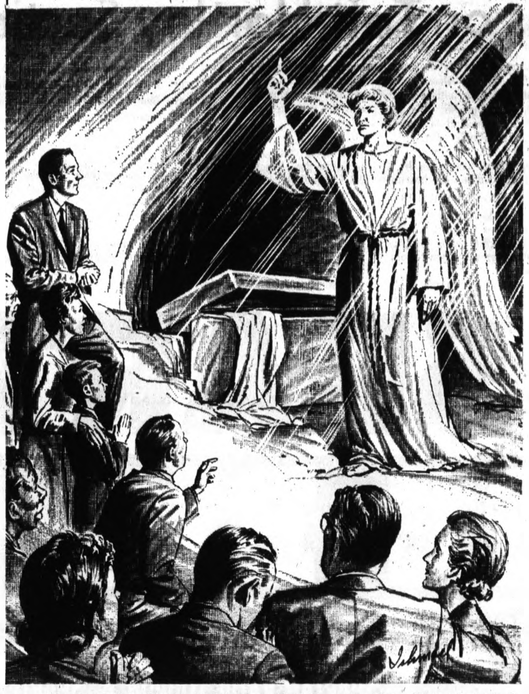
The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL



The devout faith of many an unknown poet, writer and musician has inspired a message that has left the world richer in understanding and praise of the Lord. These words or music sustain the power of our faith. Much has been written on Easter but none gives a more beautiful message than the little poem written by one of the many unknowns.

EASTER

Sing, soul of mine, this day of days,
  The Lord is risen.
Toward the sun-rising set thy face,
  The Lord is risen.
Behold He giveth strength and grace;
For darkness, light; for mourning, praise;
For sin, his holiness; for conflict, peace.

Arise, O soul, this Easter Day!
Forget the tomb of yesterday,
For thou from bondage art set free;
Thou sharest in His victory
And life eternal is for thee,
Because the Lord is risen.

Days of All Faiths:

Easter Is Christianity's Answer

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

The most frightening idea for man to face is "Someday I shall cease to be." At least this is the case in the western part of the world. In the Orient Buddhists look forward to and strive for that complete oblivion they call Nirvana. But to western man, so say the theologians, the fear that he may come to utter nothingness is his basic anxiety.

Man eternally asks "Is there something — anything — of me that will go on after I die?"

To this eternal question the world gives many answers. Religion, science, philosophy — all have their ideas about it.

Easter celebrates the Christian answer. It is the "Sunday of Joy." Christians rejoice over the Resurrection of Jesus after His body had lain dead two nights and a day in a tomb.

★ ★ ★

They take this personally. They associate it with their Lord's promise to them "He that believeth in me, though he were dead yet shall he live." This is what the whole New Testament was written about.

Easter, with its assurance against man's deepest dread, is Christianity's most important festival.

POSSIBLE CALENDAR MIX-UP

It is interesting to speculate about what could have happened to the date of Easter this year. If there had been a full moon on March 20, Easter could have fallen on March 21, which by all tradition is supposed to be impossible.

The early Church argued for three hundred years about the date of Easter and finally, at the Council of Nicea, in 325, came up with the following agreement: Easter Day shall be the first Sunday after the first full moon on or after the vernal equinox.

And because the vernal equinox is firmly established in everyone's mind as March 21, that has always meant the first Sunday after the first full moon on or after the 21st of March. So for ages now everyone has said the earliest possible date for Easter was March 22.

But this year by some strange astronomical trick the sun slipped across the equator at 3:05 p.m. on Saturday, March 20. What if there had also been a full moon on March 20? Would March 21 then have become the earliest Easter in history? Or would the Church have ignored the sun's mischief and maintained its traditional but in this case inaccurate formula?

Fortunately the problem doesn't arise. But it is fun to think about the turmoil there would have been if it had.

PASSOVER

The Jews observe their great and joyous festival of freedom, the Passover. The focus of this celebration now (as it has been for thirty centuries past) is the escape of the Israelites from bondage in Egypt, but its history goes back far beyond that period in Israel's life.

Long before the unhappy Egyptian years the Jews' nomadic ancestors gathered for a spring festival at the full moon in the month when the lambs and kids were born. The big feature of this festival was the sacrifice of a sheep or goat, which, the ancients believed, would avert plagues and misfortunes in general.

Later, when the Jews had become a settled nation of farmers in Palestine, there arose a spring agricultural holiday known as the Feast of Unleavened Bread.

★ ★ ★

It was only natural that the two festivals occurring at the same time of year should be combined. And it was just as natural that the combined festival be associated with the escape from Egypt, which had happened at the spring full moon.

So Passover became the Festival of Freedom. Its message is that God cares about the oppressed, that He personally intervenes on behalf of the enslaved.

Romney Accommodates Guests

By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Straitlaced Republican Gov. George Romney of Michigan has accommodated slowly but surely to the personal habits of the politicians he began mixing with three years ago.

A Michigan Democrat who privately admires the governor offers this calendar to illustrate Romney's progress:

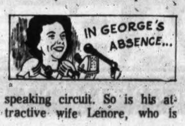
At the first big political reception of his governorship, held at his home in 1963, Romney offered neither coffee nor cigarettes to his guests.

One year later, coffee and cigarettes were on hand in ample volume.

Early this year, at his third straight reception, the governor really broke the bounds, trotting out coffee, cigarettes, cigars and hard spirits.

★ ★ ★

Romney is much in demand these days on the Republican speaking circuit. So is his attractive wife Lenore, who is said to be as sharp as a computer.



IN GEORGE'S ABSENCE...

The fact is, some program-makers are inviting George for events they are almost sure he can't make. When they get the expected turndown, they blurt, almost happily:

"Too bad George can't make it—send Lenore!"

★ ★ ★

Freshman Rep. Kika de la Garza, D-Tex., has been in Washington only about three months, but a lot of people have been having trouble pronouncing his name.

Most commonly, it comes out "De la Garcia" or "De la Garz," sometimes even "De la Grease." Once it didn't come out at all.

Attending a luncheon with other congressmen, De la Garza was asked to take a bow with the others. When the announcer came to his name, he said.

"And Congressman De la . . . De la . . . Heck! Just stand up, De la, wherever you are!"

★ ★ ★

A Senate appropriations subcommittee recently heard a proposal for a research laboratory as a follow-up to studies now under way to increase the whooping crane population. In the midst of the hearing, someone whispered to Republican Sen. Karl Mundt:

"The whooping crane population has increased to 50—that's 16 more than the number of Republican senators. How about a program to save the endangered Republican species in the Senate?"

Brooks Hays, former congressman from Arkansas and also president emeritus of the Southern Baptist Convention, tells this story:

An Internal Revenue agent phoned a minister. "Reverend,"

INTERNAL REVENUE OFFICE

he said, "a member of your congregation has claimed a donation of $260 to your church on his tax return. Can you substantiate this claim?"

"I don't have my records in front of me," answered the minister. "But if he didn't, he will."

Comments on Collection of Water Bill

The water collection department couldn't be low on money since water bills doubled after we piped water in from Detroit. Yet they put the squeeze on the users of water and threaten to shut off water for a bill of $3.25. Allowances should be made for a person who has been off work for over a year.

Press Lists Rules for 'Voice' Letters

Here again are the simple rules covering letters to the Voice of the People. This feature has very high readership as residents are anxious to know what their neighbors are thinking. Every letter must have a name and address. When the communication is not sharply critical of a private individual or firm, writers can use a pen name if they wish. However, if you want to assail someone, it isn't fair to your victim to hide behind an anonymous name.

★ ★ ★

Many letters contain statements which would subject the writers (and The Press) to libel suits. We recognize most of these but when we are in doubt we refer them to our attorneys and are guided accordingly.

★ ★ ★

Letters must contain no more than 200 words, and the editor reserves the right to shorten and edit all letters.

Because of limited space, the following items will not be used in this column: poetry, articles from other publications, requests for return of lost articles, letters concerning individual problems, or thanks to individuals for personal favors.

Send in your thoughts.
They're welcomed.

Talks Resume Monday

Mediator to Meet With Steel Parties

PITTSBURGH (AP) — William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Councilition Service, will be in Pittsburgh late this weekend to confer with the United Steelworkers and the basic steel industry on new contract negotiations.

Simkin said Friday night in Washington that he would be on hand when negotiations resume Monday. They have been recessed since Thursday.

Simkin said, "but this is not to be construed as formal government intervention at this time, although that is a possibility."

However, it does indicate growing government concern with the failure of the USW and the industry to reach an interim agreement to remove the threat of a May 1 strike.

Union sources said the two sides are far apart on cash terms for such an agreement.

Despite the deadlock both sides have stuck to their traditional position of saying they do not want federal help.

* * *

The industry has offered the union an immediate five cent hourly boost in wages or benefits in exchange for an extension of from 60 days to six months. The union has rejected it.

"That nickel was a slap in the face," said one top USW negotiator.

CRITICAL SITUATION

Another union source said, "If the companies were serious about what they handed us, the situation is critical."

The resumption of talks Monday will touch off perhaps the most tense week yet. If no agreement is in sight, the industry must start by Friday to shut down the furnaces and mills. It will have to begin even earlier to adjust shipments and scrap purchases.

* * *

The talks will continue with the union's coleaders of its bargaining team. They are President David J. McDonald and I. W. Abel, secretary-treasurer, who opposed McDonald in the still unsettled election for the presidency held last Feb. 9.

* * *

McDonald is expected to contest the election if he loses, as he reportedly has. Official results are not expected for several days.

Battle Brewing in House Over 'Tough' Driving Bills

By AL SANDNER
Associated Press Writer

LANSING—A major battle is shaping up in the Michigan House over tougher driving laws.

Proposed toughening could result in license suspension after collection of nine points, instead of 12, and jail sentences for reckless or careless driving. Juveniles also would be brought under the point system.

* * *

After about four hours of debate the past week, two bills were passed — but one of them has been called back for reconsideration. There are seven in the package now under consideration.

Lawyer-members of the House lost to what they called "prosecution-minded" elements when they failed to strike a mandatory two-day minimum jail sentence for anyone driving a car if he's never had a Michigan license or cannot produce a license from another state or cannot produce a license from another state or country.

CHAUFFEUR LICENSE

But the only bill in the package to get all the way past the House so far is one requiring a chauffeur's license to drive a vehicle with a manufacturer's rated capacity of 12 or more passengers.

Reps. Harold Clark, D-Warren, and Daniel Cooper, D-Oak Park, have led opposition to the package. They were joined Friday in opposition to the licensing bill by Rep. Donald Holbrook Jr., R-Clare.

* * *

Holbrook called it "the worst piece of legislation to pass this House." As amended, he said, it would impose a misdemeanor and a mandatory two-day jail sentence on a non-Michigan resident with an expired license, and a Michigan resident who has never had a license.

But the Michigan resident driving on an expired license would not be subject to any mandatory sentence or fine.

JUDGE'S DISCRETION

Cooper argued that the legislation of minimum and mandatory sentences for reckless or careless driving takes away a judge's discretionary powers "and gives him a crutch."

"Under Michigan law," he said, "only four crimes carry a mandatory sentence. They include first-degree murder and robbery armed. Now we want to put these offenses in a category with heinous crimes.

* * *

"A judge can give a suspended sentence for such things as robbery unarmed, assault, breaking and entering in the night time — but not for failure to acquire a license," he said, adding:

* * *

"This gives the judge a chance to be a 'nice guy.' He can say: 'I'd like to give you a suspended sentence, but the law requires that you spend two days in jail.'"

CHIEF DEFENDERS

Among the chief defenders were Reps. Joseph Swallow, R-Alpena, a former prosecutor, and Quincy Hoffman, R-Sandusky, a former Sanilac County sheriff.

Defenders argued that strong measures are necessary to cope with drastically rising automobile accident rates.

In the seven-measure package is a bill by Mrs. Maxcine Young, D-Detroit, to allow suspension or revocation of the privilege of driving to any person who has been involved in a fatal or personal injury accident, caused serious property damage or driven recklessly or negligently one or more times. It also lowers the point total.

Another of her bills makes juveniles subject to the point system, and a companion measure allows cancellation of the license of an under-18 driver on the written request of the adult who signed for the license.

Possibly the least controversial of the lot is one requiring seat belt "anchorages" in the rear seats of all cars manufactured in Michigan after Jan. 1, 1966.

Reflections

EASTER

During the festival of Easter we use the colored threads of truth to weave a tapestry of hope to the everlasting glory of man.

Our churches are filled with beautiful flowers; they answered a command, sent out buds, that developed into fantastic beauty, to be held aloft as a symbol of Easter.

Easter isn't a firm calendar date; it is an emotion that all living things feel and to which they respond. According to tradition the very early people called this Spring Fever, Ostara, Paques, Pascha—we call it Easter. Whatever term is used, wherever it is used, people are bursting with fervor they can't understand, know that wonderful things await them; Easter festival is wholehearted celebrated wherever there are Christian people.

Easter is beauty. Attend the church of your choice, be part of a festival of rebirth of all living things.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Tact, Tolerance, and Timing Is the Formula Needed Now

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You women are all alike, aren't you?

"ALL THROUGH" whined that she had been hurt so bad by her husband she will not get over it.

ABBY

All he said after she had just been through the most excruciating pain ever inflicted on a human, while giving birth to their second girl, was, "You're never going to have a boy, are you?"

And you, DEAR ABBY, gave her typically womanish advice: "Tell HIM he can have the next baby."

This husband was probably just kidding. And if he chose a poor time for a joke he should have been excused.

After all, while his wife was having the baby, he spent hours praying and worrying, and his judgment was not the best.

Women today are so doped up during childbirth that they do not experience anywhere near the pain their ancestors felt.

Furthermore, the woman who does suffer a little pain three or four times in her life, and wears her martyrdom like a badge, gives ME a pain.

No man can know the exact degree of pain a woman feels in childbirth, but I seriously doubt that it is any more painful than a kick in the groin is to a man.

And WE feel that pain a heck of a lot more than three or four times in our lifetimes.

Sincerely, ALL THROUGH WITH "ALL THROUGH"

* * *

DEAR ALL THROUGH: Aw, come on. I've had two children, and I'd rather have a kick in the groin any time.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

THE DRUG THAT ISN'T THERE
Without doubt, the most expensive drug is the one that isn't available. The cost of this drug is extremely high. It may even be a human life, yours or one of your loved ones. To alleviate this situation, the American pharmaceutical industry, which embraces the manufacturer, the wholesaler and the retail pharmacist, has a marketing and distribution system almost as miraculous as the drugs they sell.

OBSERVE PASSOVER — While Rabbi Ernst Conrad reads the story of the Passover to his family, son Josef examines the round of unleavened bread called matzoh. Ten-month-old Elsa is quite unconcerned about the story but enjoys watching the photographer. Rabbi Conrad is spiritual leader at Temple Beth Jacob.

More Than 2,000 Years Old

Jewish Festival Starts at Sunset

The celebration of Passover, a major Jewish festival more than 2,000 years old, began at sunset yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The holiday commemorates the exodus of the Israelites from ancient Egypt into the desert to escape the slavery and oppression of the Egyptian monarch, Pharoah.

This oldest of Jewish festivals will be observed for an entire week by Reform Jews and for eight days by conservative and orthodox Jews.

Passover began last night with the ritual meal called Seder.

★ ★ ★

The family participates in the ceremony by reading the prayers and singing the songs in the "Haggadah," the prayerbook which tells the story of the ancient exodus and the efforts of Moses to free the Jewish people from Egyptian bondage.

★ ★ ★

Services at Congregation B'nai Israel will be held at 7 p.m. today in the synagogue, 143 Oneida; and a family service at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Besides services yesterday a major worship service was held this morning at Temple Beth Jacob.

According to Rabbi Ernst J. Conrad of the temple, the message of Passover reaffirms struggles by individuals all over the world for liberty and freedom, as in America, where the Negro continues to fight for equality; and in the Soviet Union where almost 3 million Jews are suppressed culturally and religiously.

During the festival Jews eat special foods, one an unleavened bread called matzoh. It was so made, because the Israelites left in haste and could not complete the baking of dough.

★ ★ ★

And this is the challenge to religion, to every congregation of every faith; that the message of human brotherhood and divine Fatherhood be fulfilled, at long last, so that peoples may not only become equal in law, but that, to paraphrase Jeremiah, they that are desegregated in the flesh shall be integrated in the heart, the rabbi said.

Easter Day Starts at 6

Mrs. Lillian Dickson, an energetic missionary from Formosa, will speak at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Mrs. Dickson is the wife of Dr. James Dickson, principal of Taiwan Theological Seminary.

Formosans call Mrs. Dickson the "Littlest lady with the biggest heart."

Hollington K. Tong, former Nationalist Chinese Ambassador to the United States, said of Mrs. Dickson, "Christianity's leaping growth in Taiwan, 10-fold since 1945, is largely due to this tireless woman who can't say no to human need."

★ ★ ★

She has touched the lives of thousands of mountain people. Her work includes 100 churches, 100 kindergartens for more than 5,000 youngsters and several high schools, Pastor T. R. Allebach said.

Worry is the interest paid by those who borrow trouble. — George W. Lyon.

New Church Going Up

Congregation Builds in Bloomfield Hills

The new Congregational Church to be built on the nine-acre site at Woodward and Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, will be of contemporary architecture with the exterior of masonry, brick and a cedar shake roof.

* * *

According to Pastor Raymond A. Fenner the architecture reflects the style of the meeting houses of the early Plymouth colony.

The church, designed by O'Dell, Hewlett & Luchenbach Associates, is scheduled for completion next year at a cost of $533,200.

The sanctuary will be devoid of windows or columns. Light will filter from the ceiling.

The walls will be of unpainted white plaster. Deeply recessed windows will provide light for the other areas in the church including an office wing, and classrooms on two levels. The kitchen is planned to serve 250.

The narthex located by the carport will be a center for fellowship as parishioners arrive and leave the building.

Heading the 15 men serving with him on the building committee is William T. Arlund. Paul Hold of Englehardt, Buettner & Holt Inc. of Royal Oak will serve as contractor.

Woe to the man who has not learned to hope, to love, and to put trust in life.—Joseph Conrad.

Detroiter Will Direct State Religious Day

Spiritual Foundations Day of Michigan Week, designed to create an awareness by Michigan residents of the role religion plays in the growth and development of the state, will be directed by a Detroit church leader in 1965.

* * *

Rev. Kenneth M. Lindsay, executive director of the Lutheran Center Association of Greater Detroit, has been named to direct and coordinate the statewide observance of Spiritual Foundations Day, May 16.

The announcement was made by Harding Mott, of Flint, chairman of the Michigan Week program board.

Traditionally the opening day of Michigan Week, Spiritual Foundations Day stresses the importance religion plays in the live of Michigan residents and its deep roots in Michigan culture.

* * *

Spiritual Foundations Day is an interdenominational program which lays special importance on the role Catholic, Protestant, Jewish and Orthodox religions have taken in the history, exploration, development and cultural growth of Michigan.

The day is one of seven set aside during Michigan Week and dedicated to specific aspects of Michigan expansion.

Special emphasis is placed on government, hospitality, livelihood, education, heritage and youth during the other days of the week.

* * *

In connection with Spiritual Foundations Day, all churches and synagogues are urged to give special attention to their individual beginnings and the role each has had in Michigan's history.

* * *

Rev. Lindsay, married and the father of two children, Nora Jane, 13, and Kirk, 11, succeeds Rev. Duane N. Vore, of the Michigan Conference of the United Church of Christ, East Lansing, as chairman of Spiritual Foundations Day.

Adult Choir Sings Cantata at Alliance

The Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, 220 N. Cass, Waterford Township will present the Adult Choir in the annual Easter cantata "The Glory of Easter" at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

John Whaley will be narrator and John Hazlett, director. A vibraharp accompaniment will also be featured.

* * *

Rev. Joseph Koffi, president of the Association of Evangelical Churches and Missions of the Ivory Coast, Africa will speak at 7 p.m. Monday.

Mr. Koffi, a Baoule tribesman, was ordained by the Christian and Missionary Alliance in 1955 following his graduation from the Baoule Bible School. In 1959 he was elected to head the national church.

Besides serving as teacher, evangelist, translator, pastor and administrator, Pastor Koffi is a leader in this African republic.

* * *

According to Pastor G. J. Bersche of the local church, the African leader is seeking to launch an inter-mission school to train African pastors to expand their ministry through use of the French language in addition to their tribal tongue.

* * *

Rev. Mr. Koffi will be accompanied by Rev. Gordon Timyan a veteran missionary to the Ivory Coast who will interpret for Pastor Koffi. The public is invited.

Cleric Is Opposed to Numerous Titles

LONDON (AP) — An Anglican clergyman may have the title, "reverend," "right reverend," "very reverend" or "most reverend" — which seems to be overdoing it to at least one cleric.

* * *

"What is wrong with plain reverend for all?" complained a letter to the London Times from the Rt. Rev. Dr. Robert William Standard, dean of Rochester.

"Judged by a heavenly yardstick, everybody from the archbishop down is equal."

We have only to be patient, to pray, and to do His will, according to our present light and strength, and the growth of the soul will go on. The plant grows in the mist, and under clouds as truly as under sunshine. So does the heavenly principle within. — W. E. Channing.

Archdiocese Campaign Set

23rd Annual Drive Scheduled May 2-17

The 23rd annual Archdiocesan Development Fund Campaign, an event which has become a model of enlightened giving, will be held in every parish in the archdiocese May 2 - 17.

Most no longer need to be sold on the wisdom and value of the ADF. They have seen for themselves its amazing achievements. They know that, without the ADF, the church would have been unable to meet challenges and opportunities of the postwar years.

In the past 23 years, the Catholic population of the archdiocese has almost doubled. More than 100 new parishes and missions have been founded. Sites for these parishes were purchased well in advance, and at tremendous savings, through the ADF.

The need to train more and more young men for the priesthood has been met through the construction of the Cardinal Mooney Latin School at Sacred Heart Seminary for high school students, and through the building of St. John's Theological Seminary at Plymouth for advanced studies.

* * *

The strengthening of family life through Catholic social services, instruction in their religion for young people who do not attend parochial schools, help for the aging and the chronically ill, assistance for the retarded and the handicapped, succor for the underprivileged and the deprived — all this has been made possible through the ADF.

* * *

No quotas have been set for the 1965 drive. Catholics are asked to give what their consciences prompt them to give when they reflect upon the purposes and accomplishments of the ADF.

Truth never need fear the light. Sunlight falling on a dead log may hasten the process of decay, but sunlight falling on a living tree makes it grow and become luxuriant. — Joseph R. Sizoo, The Way Out of the Dark.

Breakfast at Lakeland

Young People Plan for Early Morning

Easter activities at the Lakeland United Presbyterian Church, Waterford Township will start with a 6 a.m. sunrise service and breakfast sponsored by the Senior High and Post High Sunday School classes.

* * *

An Easter play entitled "We Have Seen Him" will be presented by Cynthia Marble, Ann Gobler, Michael Roberts, Bill Bartenbaker, David Currin, Bruce Vaughn and John Granbau.

Nancy Lambert is directing the play. Lynn Johnson is accompanist.

Phyllis Anderson, Douglas Lyon and Gerald McLeod will be featured in selected readings from "The First Easter" by Dr. Peter Marshall at the 8 a.m. worship service.

The combined choirs under the direction of Dorothy Granbau and Rev. Roy Lambert, pastor, will sing "Easter Alleuis" by Paul C. Van Dyke.

Children of the junior department of the 9:30 a.m. Sunday School will present the opening worship service under the leadership of Carol Prater.

The regular morning worship at 10:45 will again feature the combined Youth and Senior choirs.

At 7 p.m. a traditional family service will be conducted with the story of the Crucifixion and Resurrection presented in picture and song. Margaret Ridley will sing "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" by Handel.

Sylvan Lake Church Schedules Services

'The Feast of the Resurrection of Our Lord" will begin at 11:30 p.m. today at Sylvan Lake Lutheran Church, West Bloomfiled Township.

The observance consists of the procession of the Paschal Candle, a series of lessons, the renewal of baptismal vows, and the office of confession and absolution.

During this time the sanctuary paraments are still draped in black in the spirit of Good Friday.

Then at midnight while the organist Frank Vail plays the joyous Easter Prelude, members of the Altar Guild assisted by altar boys will change the paraments to white, place the Easter flowers and lilies, and prepare for the celebration of the first Eucharist of Easter Day.

This is a very beautiful and meaningful rite, and we hope to have many visitors join us in the first minutes of Easter 1965, singing with us the joyous strains of the Easter hymn, "Jesus Christ Is Risen Today, Pastor Robert J. Sheets said.

There will be a celebration of the Holy Eucharist at 8 and 10:30 a.m. on Easter Day. Church School is at 9:15 a.m. The choir will sing "In the End of the Sabbath." The public is invited.

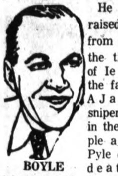
Still Warmly Remembered

Famous War Correspondent Died 20 Years Ago

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —He came to the end of a tired road just 20 years ago this weekend.



BOYLE

He cautiously raised his head from a ditch on the tiny island of Ie Shima in the far Pacific. A Japanese sniper hit him in the left temple and Ernie Pyle died the death he had felt he would all along—a soldier's death.

ERNIE PYLE

His passing brought fresh sorrow to a homeland already in mourning for President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who had died a few days before.

* * *

For no other newspaperman in history had touched the heart of the American people as did Ernie Pyle. He was their eyes and ears with their boys at the front in World War II.

He was as different from the most famous correspondent of World War I — Richard Harding Davis — as cornbread is from caviar.

Davis, handsome as a matinee idol, mixed in high society and was one of the best-dressed men of his day. He hobnobbed with generals, took a canvas bathtub with him when he went into the field, and wrote of war glamorously. He almost seemed to love war.

* * *

Ernie, an ex-farmboy from Indiana, stayed with the troops, ate what they ate, wore what they wore, slept in foxholes as they did. And from the depths of his soul he despised and hated war. He described it as a "perpetual weight that is compounded of fear and death and dirt and noise and anguish."

To him the only glorious thing about war was the wistful cameraderie with which it knit lonely men together in seamless unity in the performance of a common and dangerous mission.

It was my fortune to go through four campaigns with Pyle along with Don Whitehead, whom Ernie himself warmly admired as the greatest of the combat news correspondents.

MEMORY ENDURES

Ernie's memory has endured well. Over the years, hundreds of people have asked me, "What was Ernie Pyle really like?" They have forgotten some of the famous generals; they still remember Ernie.

He was a man well worth remembering. He was of medium height, slender, and weighed about 113 pounds. Over his balding, grizzled hair he usually wore only a fatigue hat, because his helmet felt too heavy.

* * *

He had bright blue eyes in a leathery-crinkly face and looked like a wise elf —eyes that saw both the grief and fun of being alive. He usually had a cold, and he suffered from secondary anemia — something only a few battlefront doctors knew.

No man I ever met could win affection and respect quicker. He had an instinctive well of human sympathy for people in trouble. Soldiers, who are people always in trouble, instinctively sensed that kindness in him. They liked him, too, because he was even more scared than they were by danger — and didn't mind admitting it out loud.

BROKE DOWN

Twice he broke down under the strain and had to come home for a rest. In early 1945 he had done his duty and had earned enough money to satisfy his modest needs for life. But he took his final assignment because he felt he ought to.

Ernie went to the Pacific fatalistically convinced he would not come back because he felt his luck had about run out after a score or more battlefields. It had.

* * *

"Sometimes," he wrote to a friend, "I get so sad and despairing and homesick I can hardly keep from crying."

But that didn't keep him from doing his job — telling the homefolks what their men at the front were doing.

If he were alive now, he'd be 64. He lies now shoulder to shoulder with other fallen men in a military cemetery at Honolulu, and there's no truer soldier there than Ernest Taylor Pyle. Like the others, he beat down the human terror in him to become a hero.

Hospital to Test New Storm Alert

The Pontiac State Hospital will test a new tornado alert signal—a siren Monday between 8:30 a.m. and 9 a. m.

* * *

The warning will be a long continuous blast, repeated after a 30-second interval.

The "all clear" will be a long alternating blast repeated after a 30-second interval.

Unusual Heirlooms Set Theme

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

A 200-year-old Chinese Buddha and an oil painting with an unusual history set the decorating theme for the formal living-dining area of the John M. Greenleys, Mackintosh Drive, Bloomfield Township.

"When I contacted Wiggs Colony Shop for help," said Mrs. Greenley, "I explained that the room's plan must include these two family heirlooms.

The muted sea-green walls and beige carpeting are spiced by an avocado antique-satin sofa, blending open-weave wool draperies and a scarlet-velvet open-arm chair.

Over the sofa hangs a Venetian canal scene, "Palace of the Doge" by A. Canatello. Lighting the grouping are brass and white lamps with white silk shades.

* * *

Displayed in the far end of the room, near its main entrance from the foyer, are the two heirlooms.

The oil painting of a dark costumed man hangs above the white brick fireplace on the fruitwood paneled wall.

"The painting came into my husband's family many years ago," said Mrs. Greenley. "A relative successfully bid for an old black sea trunk at an unclaimed baggage auction in San Francisco.

* * *

"When the trunk was opened, there wrapped in about 13 cotton blankets, was this painting.

"Who painted it, we don't know. It's unsigned. Though we've been told it looks like Frans Hals' work.

"Actually," she continued, "it's unfinished. The tatting on one side of the collar is missing and the chain around his neck isn't complete."

On a nearby slate topped antiqued chest serenely sits the 200-year-old Buddha. It once belonged to Mr. Greenley's aunt who discovered the antique while living in the Orient.

The figure, resting on a hand-carved teakwood base, is of a terra-cotta color highlighted by touches of gold leaf. Its delicate hands and fingernails are perfect in detail.

"Chinese actually chewed the hat out of teakwood to fit the Buddha's head," said Mrs. Greenley.

"Notice," she added, "the figure is hollow," upending it to an accompanying rattle.

"Usually, the bottom of Buddhas were left open. During its owner's lifetime, he would secrete personal treasures in it.

"And when he died, the statue was sealed with the keepsakes inside.

"Custom demanded that it remain closed. It is said, to open it would disturb the eternal rest of the dead.

"Our Buddha has never been opened. Sometimes my curiosity threatens to get the best of me, but my husband says no."

And so, the Buddha, with dropped eyes, smiles a half-smile, content to watch over the treasures of the past while serving as a focal point in the present.

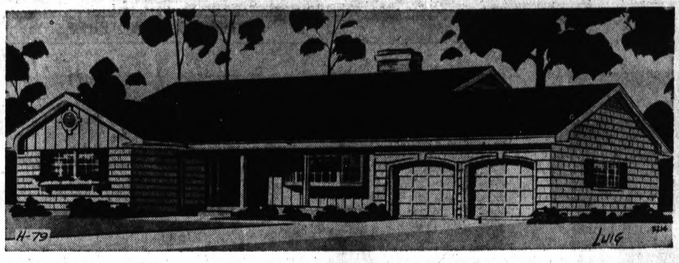
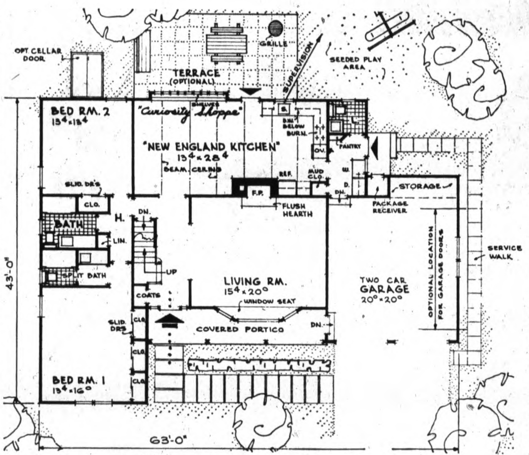
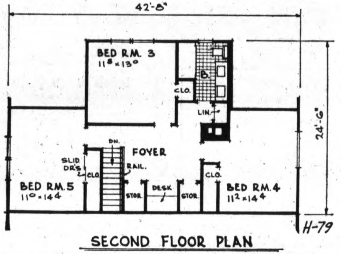
H-79 STATISTICS

Design H-79 has a living room; two bedrooms; two bathrooms; a giant kitchen; a service area with a mud closet, pantry, lavatory and laundry; a covered portico; a two-car garage; and an optional rear terrace. Habitable area of this floor is 1589 square feet. The second floor, with three bedrooms, a bath and a foyer, has 844 square feet. The plans include provision for a basement. Overall dimensions are 63' by 43'.



CHEERFUL EXTERIOR: The old-fashioned charm of this shingled house, with vertical boards on the portico, is duplicated on the inside, with special attention to a spacious New England kitchen, set in the rear and adjoining a complete service area.





FLOOR PLAN: Here's how the architect has laid out the second floor, with three bedrooms, a bath and an exceptionally large foyer.

King-Size Kitchen in Expansion House

There's more than just a touch of early America in the newest House of the Week.

Unless you want to consider a kitchen more than 28' long just a touch.

For the control center of this house is a huge New England kitchen, with three entrances, a delightful shelved display area and a beamed ceiling.

It has all the charm and spaciousness of the old-fashioned family gathering place, plus the modern conveniences that ease a homemaker's chores.

That display area consists of shelves at the horizontal munthe lines of a large, multipaneled window looking out on a rear terrace.

CURIOSITY SHOPPE

Architect Herman H. York has used the term Curiosity Shoppe to designate this arrangement, since it is similar to the type of display featured by old-time establishments dealing in china, pottery and other eye-catching items.

The kitchen is accessible from the center hall and so can be reached from the front door without going through any other rooms.

It has an entrance to the rear terrace and another at one end. This latter entrance covers a service area with a mud closet, laundry room and lavatory.

★ ★ ★

And you can go into the garage from there without going into the street. Note, too, the rather insignificant but interesting package received designed into this portion of the house.

It enables a delivery man to leave packages in a place protected from the weather and with some degree of security.

Before anyone gets the idea that this is a one-room house, let's move on to the rest of it.

There's a fireplaced living room directly to the right of the center hall and two bedrooms to the left of it. The living room has a bow-type front window extending onto a covered portico.

TWO BATHS

There are two baths between the two bedrooms, with plenty of closet space.

This is a house with vertical expansion. That is, additional rooms are made possible by building the roof high enough to enable the finishing of areas which otherwise might be used chiefly for storage.

Besides the high ridge for the main roof, there is a dormer to permit extra headroom at the rear.

For those who need eatra bedrooms, architect York has designed a second-floor plan calling for three bedrooms, a bathroom and a foyer large enough to be used as a study.

The open rail of the main stair adds to the spacious appearance of this floor.

In keeping with the early American flavor of the house, the conspicuous parts of the front exterior have been detailed carefully.

FREEDOM

The absence of brick allows complete freedom for the choice of exterior paint color or stain.

There are 1589 square feet of habitable area on the first floor of Design H-79. Add 844 square if the second floor is utilized.

Aluminum Siding Resists Termites

Bad news for termites, rodents and other house pests is the growing use of aluminum siding in home remodeling and new home construction.

The metal siding acts as a termite sheath for the entire house from the foundation up to the roof. The siding is an effective buffer against pests that creep up via the foundation and those that attack the house through the air.

★ ★ ★

Aluminum siding is most effective as a deterrent when a home is relatively new and before termites have had a chance to embed themselves in wooden members. While most persons have aluminum siding installed for other reasons—such as elimination of periodic repainting, ease of maintenance or insulation — its anti-termite qualities certainly should be considered for newer homes.

Further information on aluminum siding is available in a new booklet. For a copy, write to Lok-On Booklet, Alcan Aluminum Corporation, 111 W. 50 St., New York, N. Y. 10030.

'High Rise' Way Down

"Fewer elevators, more stairs" is the prediction of Building Materials Merchandiser, building industry magazine, for apartment construction in 1965.

The magazine says there will be a decline in "high-rise" apartment building and an increase in walk-up, garden apartment structures.

An increase in single-family houses also is forecast.

Construction Begun on Pool Project

Through a blanket of snow, ground was broken to begin construction of an Olympic-size swimming facility at Orchard Lake Country Club.

According to Robert A. Carter, board member in charge of the project, club members can look forward to a full summer of sparkling new enjoyment at the waterfront this year. The project, contracted to Starlite Pools, Inc., is scheduled for completion by mid-June.

Plans call for a main pool area 25 meters in length, six lanes wide. Off the deep end, and to the side, a keyhole section will offer separate 1-meter and 3-meter diving facilities. Submerging, curved steps provide convenient access from either side at the shallow end. Underwater and surface lighting will be available for night use.

The pool will be surrounded by a 20-foot wide, free-form shaped deck for ample lounging and spectator accommodation, the entire area to be protected by an attractive 4-foot wrought iron fence and landscaping.

* * *

The installation includes a top quality filtering system and water from a new 285-foot deep well, recently completed and put into operation for the entire clubhouse and beach house water system. Shower and lavatory facilities in the beach house are being increased also in anticipation of greater use of all the club's waterfront facilities.

Orchard Lake's renowned sailing fleet will now have use of the full docking area and the youngsters will continue to enjoy their favorite salica sand beach along the lake shore.

New Faucets Work Easily

Single control faucets are probably best-known for the easy way they work—a flick of the wrist and you've got the right flow at the right temperature. Requiring the use of just one hand instead of two, they mean you don't have to set things down to make adjustments.

A mother with a baby in one arm and a bottle in the hand of the other can even operate the lever-type faucet with her elbow or forearm. So it's pretty-well agreed that for convenience, single control faucets can't be beat.

But there's another important advantage that you don't hear so much about. This advantage is that the new single-control faucets are virtually trouble-free. Several models, for example, have only one moving part, and have no metal-on-metal contact.

These products are tested under thousands of hours of the most abusive treatment possible before being mass-produced for release to the public. They're proven leakproof and foolproof long before they're installed on your sink or lavatory.

* * *

And they're safe, too. Chances of accidental scalding are almost eliminated because the position of the handle indicates at which temperature the water will flow before it is even turned on. Any member of the family, including small children, can operate them both safely and easily.

The ultra-modern appearance of single-control faucets gives any fixture the ultimate look of high-styled design. Not just a product of new-home installations, they are being used increasingly for remodeling projects. In fact, 40 per cent of those sold are installed as replacements in older homes. For further details, including price, contact a qualified plumbing contractor.

Tile Checks Counter Burn

Unless you're cooking at temperatures higher than 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit, you can place hot pots and pans directly on ceramic tile countertops in your kitchen.

That's because ceramic tile is baked at that temperature during manufacture and is immune to high temperatures.

In addition, grease and smudges can be wiped off tile surfaces with a damp cloth and detergent.

Office Corner Gets Needed Recognition

Hoping to remodel your kitchen? It so, it's a good idea to include a compact office corner to accommodate the "business" of running a home.

Designers for Whitehall Kitchens, East Rockaway, N.Y., recognize that a woman needs to keep all of her work in one place. So, they have developed a series of home office designs to incorporate into remodeled kitchens.

The office units are designed to help you organize and simplify such tasks as paying bills, keeping track of charge accounts and maintaining tax records.

The units are all built with standard Whitehall kitchen cabinets. Therefore, they are both inexpensive and easy to install—and the finish is that of finest furniture.

One, a desk built into the back of an island base cabinet can serve as a divider between the kitchen and another room. The desk itself includes a base cabinet with drawers and a 1½-inch thick top. A pigeon-hole unit fits under the extended countertop of the adjoining base unit.

Another is a desk unit built into a kitchen cabinet wall. One side is a 30-inch base cabinet with three drawers. The other side is supported by a planter box. In this case, the pigeon-hole unit extends the entire width of the desk, and above it is a cork bulletin board.

Still another has combined the desk with a kitchen cabinet for storage. The desk base has three drawers, and there are five drawers in the 36-inch kitchen unit. Decorative paneling is used over the desk.

For further information and design ideas, write to Whitehall Kitchens, Ryder Place, East Rockaway, New York.

By JACOBY AND SON

The takeout double should show good support for the highest unbid suit and it is silly indeed to make a weak takeout double of a spade opening without four hearts or of any other suit opening without four spades, but you can't have everything. Sometimes your hand is so powerful that you have to double on high cards alone and hope for the best.

JACOBY

North has one of those hands. He holds half the high cards in the deck including two aces and three kings. He can't bid no-trump without a diamond stopper, his hand is too good for a four card suit overcall and a pass is unthinkable. He must double.

South looks at his collection of leftovers and responds one spade.

North's two diamond call would be dangerous in many places. Once upon a time people used to double and then bid their opponent's suit to show that they held it. Today the bid shows a strong double and begs partner to show another suit if he possibly can.

South's two heart bid also represented the bottom of the barrel but North persisted to three hearts. He wanted to go all the way to game, but he knew that he had forced both bids from his partner.

It was well that North restrained himself. There was no play at all for four hearts but South had very little trouble making three.

He ruffed the third diamond and led a spade toward dummy. West rose with the ace and led back the jack whereupon declarer cashed the ace and king of trumps and ruffed out dummy's fourth club before conceding a trick to East's jack of hearts.

♥♣CARD Sense♠♦

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 ♥	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
1 N.T.	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠K J 8 7 6 ♥Q J 3 ♦K 7 4 ♣5 4

What do you do now?

A—Bid two hearts. You prefer this to one no-trump and if your partner makes a further bid you won't object.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding one no-trump, your partner raises you to two spades. What do you do now?

Answer Monday

Gals Go 'Chopping'

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Capitol Hill gals are practicing to give footpads a pain in the neck.

★ ★ ★

They have started a weekly class in judo — the art of self-defense.

The idea: To give a rude surprise to the purse-snatchers, muggers and worse who, in Washington as in some other major cities, make it hazardous for a lady to walk out of an evening.

Under the sponsorship of the Congressional Secretaries Club, the first class was held Wednesday night. Cap. William Meghan, Marine Corps authority on judo, was there.

★ ★ ★

So was his petite blonde wife. Both of them wore white kimonos and black sashes. Their feet were bare.

WELL-TRAINED

While the secretaries watched open-mouthed, Mrs. William Meghan flipped her fierce-looking husband right over her shoulder. But then, she had been trained by her husband, so perhaps he must get part of the credit.

The classes are held in the House caucus room, under the sponsorship of Rep. G. Robert Watkins of Delaware County, Pennsylvania.

Watkins' secretary, Mrs. Virginia Hudgins, was asked just what she had learned in the class so far.

★ ★ ★

"Perhaps I shouldn't give away our secrets," she said. "But if a guy grabs your arm, you give him a good belt in the stomach with your knee.

★ ★ ★

"Then you clobber him on the back of the neck with the side of your palm.

★ ★ ★

"There are also other valuable knacks — like grinding your heel into his insteep, and gouging his eye."

CHIEF VISITS CLUB — A few members of the Detroit Tigers gagged it up for manager Charlie Dressen, who visited the club during a workout in Los Angeles yesterday. Dressen, sidelined since March 8 when he suffered a heart attack, will watch the Tigers meet the Angels tonight.

Hawks Hope Bob Hull Hits Hockey High

Chicago Star Eying Record in Cup Finals

Montreal Forum Site of Opening Contest for Playoff Crown

MONTREAL (AP) — Bobby Hull, the Chicago Black Hawks' blond bomber, has his sights set on several records and if he succeeds the Chicago Black Hawks might capture their first Stanley Cup championship in four years.

The Hawks eliminated Detroit's National Hockey League champions in the seventh game of the semifinals Thursday and open the best-of-7 finals in Montreal tonight.

★ ★ ★

Hull scored eight goals and had five assists for 13 points against Detroit. The eight goals tied a semifinal record which Hull shares with Detroit's Gordie Howe and Jerry Toppazzini of Boston.

This leaves Hull only four goals short of the playoff record of 12 shared by Montreal's Maurice Richard and Jean Beliveau and only eight points short of the 21 made by teammate Stan Mikita in the 1962 playoffs.

Anything Hull does on the ice shouldn't surprise anyone, but his resurgence in the series was unexpected because of injuries which thwarted his goal-scoring record attempt during the regular season.

ONLY SEVEN

Hull scored 32 goals in the first half of the season but was limited to seven in the last half as he first injured one knee and then the other.

★ ★ ★

When the Hawks had been eliminated from the NHL title race and could do no better or worse than third place, Hull sat out the final 10 days of the season. He returned when the playoffs started and improved to the point where it appears he has recovered completely.

★ ★ ★

"I'm not really sure," Hull said. "I don't believe the knees were completely tested in the Detroit series. I went down a few times, but I never received a solid whack and don't know if they will hold up if I get hit. I sure hope so."

Aside from Hull, the Hawks have two other players injured. Pierre Pilote, playing with a bad back, suffered a blow to his left shoulder which could be a slight separation. Forward Kenny Wharram strained ligaments in both knees in the final Detroit battle.

GOOD SHAPE

Montreal, well rested after concluding its series against Toronto in six games last Tuesday, will be in good shape except for the loss of defenseman Jacques Laperrier. He will miss the series because of a broken leg suffered in the finale against the Maple Leafs.

★ ★ ★

The second game of the series will be played in Montreal Tuesday and then the scene will shift to Chicago for games Thursday and next Sunday.

Ailing Lefty Koufax Making First Start

By The Associated Press

Sandy Koufax will be on ice Sunday, hopefully feeling no pain.

And when his arthritic elbow thaws out, the Los Angeles Dodgers may have their first major clue to how often their ace left-hander will be able to lend his talents to the chase for the National League pennant.

Currently labeled for use only on Sundays, the 29-year-old strikeout king makes his first start of the regular season at Philadelphia Sunday, then will take the necessary precautions by packing his elbow in ice and awaiting the results.

★ ★ ★

But since Koufax' return to the Dodgers and last Sunday's three-inning stint against Washington in an exhibition game, the uncertainity surrounding his condition has abated.

Koufax handled the Senators with little difficulty, allowing only one hit while striking out five and walking none. Afterwards he said:

"I'm ready to pitch any time. I feel better than I have the entire spring. In fact, I feel amazing."

★ ★ ★

Nevertheless, Manager Walt Alston has held Koufax out for an entire week. But Alston has been optimistic. Asked Friday to list the best things that have happened to the Dodgers since the season began, he started unhesitatingly:

"One—the recovery of Koufax."

While Koufax was preparing for his big test, slugging San Francisco first baseman Orlando Cepeda was told his right knee was mending satisfactorily and he should be ready to begin full workouts in about a week.

Cepeda, who hit .304 with 31 homers and 97 runs batted in last season, underwent surgery on the knee last December but his progress has been slow. Cepeda, however, was told that he had nothing to fear—the knee would be as good as new.

The Giants were scheduled to go under the probing eye of the television cameras Saturday in one of three games to be telecast with the aid of the isolated camera.

There were no games scheduled in the major leagues Friday.

Safari Drivers Face Problems During Race

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Britain's Pat Moss Carlsson drove her Swedish Saab to the halfway point of the 3,000 mile East African Safari today just one point behind leaders.

★ ★ ★

She reported she had lost five vital minutes after her car slammed at 60 m.p.h. into boulders deliberately scattered across the road by African villagers. Her front fender had been badly bent and she had to stop to hammer it straight.

★ ★ ★

The incident cost her the lead to another Swedish entry driven by local Sikh brothers Joginder and Jaswant Singh, whose car had been first away at the start.

FEMININE CARE — Billy Martindale jumped into a tie for the lead at the $55,000 Houston Golf Classic yesterday aided by a sharp putting touch. His wife Dianna gives the club some careful cleaning after her husband fashioned a 66 Friday for a 135 36-hole total. Martindale is tied with Bert Yancey at the half-way point.

Ex-Texas Aggies Having Their Day

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Bert Yancey, a Floridian by way of Philadelphia, shared Texas Aggie Day at the $55,000 Houston Golf Classic today with Billy Martindale and Bobby Nichols.

★ ★ ★

Yancey and Martindale were tied for the lead at the half-way mark in the 72-hole chase for $12,000 in top money with 135 totals.

★ ★ ★

Martindale shot a 66 Friday, and Yancey came in with a 70.

Nichols, the 1964 PGA champion, blew a two-foot putt on the final green to drop one stroke off the pace. He had a 69 for a 136 total.

BIG DAY

Aggie grads were expected to swarm onto the 7,233-yard par 71 Sharpstown Country club course because Nichols, 29, was a member of the class of 1958, and Martindale, 26, followed in 1961.

★ ★ ★

Nichols is accustomed to having a cheering Aggie gallery to follow him in Houston. They got into the habit in 1962 when the former Southwest Conference champion won the Classic and $9,000.

Tied at 137 were Bruce Devlin of Australia and Don January, the 1960 PGA runner-up from Dallas, Tex.

Tigers' Skipper Continues Comeback

Dressen Visits With Players

Charlie Will Watch Series With Angels

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charlie Dressen, the somewhat subdued and temporarily sidelined little manager of the Detroit baseball club, is due to see the Tigers in game action tonight for the first time this season.

The 67-year-old skipper, stricken by a heart attack March 8, has his doctor's permission to attend the Tigers' game against the Los Angeles Angels in Chavez Ravine, and also Sunday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

"I may feel like a Martian," Charlie said with a chuckle. He explained he will be rigged with wires and electronic devices which will register his heart a pulse reactions during progress of the two games.

Dressen saw the players for the first time since the attack at their off-day workout Friday.

"Nice going," Dressen said to his interim manager and coach, Bob Swift. "I hope you win 30 in a row."

FIRST PLACE

He referred to the Tigers' 3-0 won-loss record and their position atop the American League.

"When you get back we'll be seven games in front," said outfielder Al Kaline.

Relief pitcher Julio Navarro had a special recommendation for Dressen and his recuperation program.

"Come out and run with the pitchers Saturday night," said Julio. Dressen got a laugh out of that one.

It was estimated Dressen might be back in one to three months after the attack in Florida. He flew here the same day for treatment by his own physician.

★ ★ ★

Results of the tests at the games over the weekend may provide the doctor with more information about Dressen's condition and progress.

SOME DIFFICULTY

Dressen, who was warmly greeted by the players, said it is still somewhat an effort to talk at length and his wind is short.

He was explaining his condition and ran his fingers down the side of the Detroit general manager, Jim Campbell.

★ ★ ★

"Charlie," exclaimed Campbell, "that's my right side. My heart is on the other.

"I think you're in a slump."

Bengals Ready for Preview of Team's Pennant Outlook

From Our News Wires

LOS ANGELES — Any pennant hopes the Detroit Tigers have stirred by winning their first three American League games could receive a boost or a jolt here tonight.

The first-place Tigers take on the Los Angeles Angels and a strong showing — win or lose — by Bengal starter Phil Regan will help determine Detroit's pennant outlook.

★ ★ ★

Regan sagged to a 5-10 mark last season. Most experts feel that a strong comeback by the righthander will help the Tigers in their bid to prove the preseason ratings wrong.

The concensus was that the Tigers would finish fifth.

Regan's opponent in the game that starts at 11 p.m. Michigan time will be Fred Newman who lost his first start. This will be Regan's 1965 debut.

The Tigers have a virtually unanimous explanation for their winning streak. "Team spirit."

Among the reports is interim manager Bob Swift's own declaration that he never has seen a team with such a spirit as the early-season Tigers.

PLAYERS AGREE

Swift's players already had echoed him on that score.

Al Kaline's fast start, including his winning two-run homer against the Minnesota Twins in the third victory Thursday, was given credit, too.

But the veteran star declined any bows. On the contrary, he insisted Norm Cash's earlier three-run blast was the key blow.

This sort of streak was really nothing new for Swift.

The Kansas City Athletics won 10 games in a row for Swift five years ago when Bob was replacing ailing manager Harry Kraft of the A's.

Paint Team Rolls Into Second Place

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) —A Tacoma, Wash. team, Parker Paint, capped Friday's bowling in the Woman's International Bowling Congress tournament by taking over second place in Division II team standings.

Led by Deloryse Coberly's 539, the team put a 2386 on the board, while in the same division Amusement Sales Inc. of Seattle bowled 2372 for third place.

The tournament, which is in its 10th day today, had its highest three - game series scored Friday when Jen Kask, an Edmonds, Wash., beautician with a 169 Average, bowled games of 207-197-232 for a 636.

She led the Seattle First National Bank, Lynwood Branch, into seventh place in Division I with a 2498. Her 636 topped a series of 621 rolled last Sunday by Karen Smith, Central Point, Ore.

Chiefs Top Flint Team, Weather in Track Meet

Pontiac Central's track team opened its dual meet season yesterday by defeating Flint Northern and the weather at Wisner Field.

The Chiefs swept past the Vikings, 65-44, in a Saginaw Valley meet run in cold weather and on a track that would have been in much better condition if the weather had cooperated this spring.

★ ★ ★

And, by the looks of things today, the Chiefs were fortunate to have competed.

The meet was originally scheduled for Thursday, but rain forced a one day postponement. Today's snow would have forced another delay.

In fact, Bay City Handy, also scheduled to join PCH and Flint Northern, phoned its regrets and stayed home.

Bill Tipton was the only double winner for the Chiefs. He took the high and low hurdles. PCH lost another first place when Otis Newkirk, who was leading the 100, dropped out with a pulled leg muscle.

★ ★ ★

This injury has sidelined the team's top sprinter since just before the Huron Relays.

VIKING SWEEP

With Newkirk on the sidelines, Flint Northern swept all three places in the 220. But PCH retaliated by placing 1-2-3 in the pole vault and shot put.

Ken Franks took vault honors by clearing 11-6. John Knox won the shot with a heave of 47-5½. Both Knox and shot putter Jim Crump, who placed second, are expected to clear 50 feet once the weather warms up.

Dan Lavalais won the high jump for Central by clearing 6-1, but Bob Wiggins still is chasing Monroe Dent of Flint Northern in the broad jump.

The Vikings' top point-getter won with a leap of 21 feet. Wiggins has always been close in previous meetings with Dent.

Flint Northern lost earlier this week to Flint Central.

Pontiac Central will meet Waterford next Tuesday at Wisner Field at 3:30.

In Boston Marathon Race

European Defending Crown

BOSTON (AP) —Two - time defending champion Aurele Vandendriessche of Belgium heads a quartet of former winners in a record field of 441 for the 69th Boston AA Marathon Monday.

Although there are 50 more entries than in any previous BAA test, the winner is expected to be one of eight — Vandendriessche, two Finns and five Japanese.

★ ★ ★

Eino Oksanen, 34-year-old Helsinki detective who won here in 1959, 1961 and 1962, has brought Finnish national champion Eino Valle with him. Finland has had six BAA winners in 11 years.

The Japanese, who won this event three times in the 1951-55 span, have dispatched a swift delegation headed by Takayuki Nakao, 26, author of a 2:15.37 clocking last December. Vandendriessche holds the Boston course mark of 2:18:58. The other men of Nippon are Morio Shigematsu, Hideaki Shishibo, Yoshikazi Funasako and Kazuo Matsubara.

Domestic runners are given no chance at all. Johnny Kelley, the younger, from Groton, Conn., only American winner of the past 19 years, is reportedly not sufficiently trained. Johnny Kelley the elder, no relation, is entering for the 35th time and is a sentimental favorite at 57 years. He won in 1935 and 1945.

Jock Semple, longtime BAA trainer, calls it "the poorest American field ever."

Canadians are rated a slim outside chance with a strong 19-man invasion led by Ron Wallingford of Hamilton, Ont., a surprise third-place finisher last year.

The new finish line at the Prudential Center in Boston's Back Bay has shortened the course at that end by 1,159 feet, 6 inches so it was extended exactly the same distance at the start in Hopkinton to keep the traditional 26-mile, 385-yard distance.

Four Schoolboys Still in Running for Mat Crowns

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Four high school boys were still in the running today in the final sessions of the 1965 National AAU Freestyle Wrestling Championships at San Francisco's Olympic Club.

★ ★ ★

The championships this year have amounted to a tournament of upsets.

Friday night, for instance, Ed DeWitt of Portland, Ore. — a former NCAA wrestling champion and an U.S. Olympic team member — was eliminated from competition by a decision to Frank Hankin of Phoenix. The decision loss cost DeWitt two bad points in the tournament in which six bad points means elimination.

★ ★ ★

The four high school boys in the running are David Pruzansky, Passaic, N.J.; Dwayne Keller, Kennewick, Wash.; Dale Kestel, Garden City, Mich., and Ray Sanchez, Cheyenne, Wyo.

Celts' Coach Fears Letdown

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Coach Red Auerbach fears a letdown more than the Los Angeles Lakers in the National Basketball Association championship series opening here Sunday, although his Celtics are 2-to-1 favorites to gain their seventh straight NBA crown.

The Celtics won an NBA season's record 62 games, then survived a fright to edge Philadelphia 110-109 in their Eastern Division showdown Thursday.

* * *

"The rest is meaningless unless we win the big prize," Auerback said. "But we're worried about a letdown. We've just been through a very difficult series, physically and mentally.

"The players feel like a great weight has been lifted off their sholders. But I don't know what the reaction will be. That's the thing."

SIX GAMES

Los Angeles wrapped up the Western Division series in six games against Baltimore despite the absence of all-league forward Elgin Baylor, who underwent knee surgery at the start of the playoffs. Boston beat the Lakers 7 out of 10 meetings during the season with Baylor in the line-up.

"Don't tell me they're crippled without Baylor," Auerback said. "I see they're scoring just as well. And it took more than Jerry West and Dick Barnett to pick up the slack."

* * *

"Los Angeles should be easier after Philadelphia and that Wilt Chamberlain," said veteran Celtics cornerman Tommy Heinsohn. "But all playoffs are tough. We've got to be careful not to have a letdown after the 76ers finish."

West, second high scorer to Chamberlain this season, averaged a fantastic 46.3 points a game against Baltimore and — Barnett had a hot hand, too.

* * *

Boston has had two previous finals' encounters with the Lakers. Three years ago Frank Selvy's shot with two seconds left in regulation just missed bringing Los Angeles a title before Boston won in overtime 110-107. A year later Boston won in six.

Foyt Among Indy Entrants

Field Now Numbers 64 for '500' Trials

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The entry application of 1964 winner A. J. Foyt of Houston was among seven received by the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Friday for the 49th 500-mile race May 31.

All were accepted because they were postmarked ahead of the Thursday midnight deadline and increased the field to 64. It will be cut to 33 in time trials next month.

* * *

William B. Ansted of Indianapolis previously entered two new rear-engine cars for Foyt, a two-time 500 winner, but decided at the last minute to add the conventional front-engine Offenhauser in which he took both the Memorial Day race and the U.S. Auto Club championship last year.

Two other conventional roadster entries were from Frank Curtis, of Hewlett, N.Y., with Leonard Stephens of North Reading, Mass., as driver, and one from Studebaker's Chemical Compounds Division at South Bend, Ind., without a driver.

REAR ENGINE

Four rear-engine cars were overnight entries. J. Frank Harrison of Costa Mesa, Calif., entered two with Chevrolet engines. He named one driver, rookie Ray Furnal of San Diego, Calif.

George Snider, another rookie from Fresno, Calif., was nominated to drive a rear-engine Offenhouser entered by Fred Gerhardt of Fresno, Calif.

Pete Salemi of Cleveland entered a rear-engine Offenhauser without a driver.

Wayne Wins on Late Hit

DETROIT (UPI) — Pat Stephens singled in the last of the 10th Friday to give Wayne State a 10-9 victory over Hillsdale.

First baseman Bill Pyles, who knocked in four runs with a triple and a homer, singled, went to second on a sacrifice and scored on Stephens' two-out single.

The game, played in 38 degree temperatures with a 25 mile an hour wind at Jayne Field, was Wayne's first victory in four games. Hillsdale now has a 4-3 record.

Softball Meeting Set

A meeting of all managers and players of teams in the men's fast-ball softball league in Waterford Township is slated for Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the CAI Building on Williams Lake Road. Others interested in joining the league may do so at the meeting.

Coach Revamps Team to Study Prospects for 1968 Olympics

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet national basketball team which left today for its third tour of the United States has been revised to include some players who are candidates for the 1968 Olympic team.

Coach Alexander Gomelsky retained only six of the players who won the silver medals at the Tokyo games. They will form the nucleus of the traveling team. Joining them are five young players, 20 to 22 years old, and Albert Valtin, a 27-year-old, 6-foot-8 forward who has rejoined the national team.

* * *

"This undoubtedly is the youngest team ever to represent the Soviet Union," Gomelsky said. "These changes in the line-up show our determination to begin preparations for the 1968 Olympic Games in Mexico City."

The veterans are Armenak Alachachan, 34-year-old back-court man; Alexander Travin, Vyacheslav Khrynin; Gennadi Volnov, Yak Lipso and Alexander Petrov, a 6-11 center.

The young players added were guards Modestas Paulauaskas, 6-4, and Zurab Sakandelidze, 6-2; forward Amiran Skhiereli, 6-7½, and centers Leonid Ivanov, 6-8¾, and Nikolai Sushak, 6-9. Skhiereli and Sushak are 22 and the other three are 20.

* * *

Gomelski said that of the Tokyo Olympians, only Petrov and Volnov can hope to make the team for Mexico and then only if they remain in good shape.

TOURNEY DATE

The U.S. tour will be a sort of preparation for the European championships, which will be held in the Soviet Union May 30-June 10.

* * *

"We know that we will play against very strong teams in the United States," Gomelsky said. "This will allow the coaches to check the strength of character of the young players in conditions of sharp competition. I think that not all will pass this test."

* * *

The Soviet team is scheduled to play its first game at Las Vegas, Nev., April 19. Other games are listed in Seattle, Los Angeles and Indianapolis. The status of scheduled games against U.S. professional clubs in St. Louis and Boston is undecided.

LOOKING TOWARD '68 — This is the new Azteca Stadium being built, and expected to be completed by the end of 1965, primarily for the 1968 Olympic Games which will be held in Mexico City. The Stadium will seat 105,000 for soccer and other sports.

Pacers Ready for '65 Opener

Racing Starts Tonight at Wolverine Track

LIVONIA (UPI)—A crowd of 13,000 is expected to brave cold winds and 40-degree temperatures tonight as the Wolverine Harness Raceway opens its 55-night meeting.

A 10-race card will be presented. The meeting ends June 19.

* * *

Wolverine officials were cautious concerning their chances of breaking the betting mark of $381,455 per night that was set during last year's 50-night meeting.

"There's no way to tell whether we'll beat last year," general manager Orlow Owen said. "But we broke all records in 1964 with a bad track for the first few weeks."

* * *

The racing strip should be no problem this spring, but nearby construction may be.

Workmen are still trying to complete a clubhouse addition in time for the Detroit Race Course opening in June.

Temporary roadways and walkways have been blacktopped and others are scheduled to be blacktopped only a few hours before the first post at 8:30 p.m.

Ring Beat Off Key, Champ Sings Blues

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —Big Ernie Terrell is trying to promote his own rock 'n' roll group but at the moment he's singing the blues.

The 6-foot-6 Terrell won the World Boxing Association's version of the heavyweight championship last month by outpointing Eddie Machen in Chicago.

* * *

Since then, he said last night, he has been rebuffed in his efforts to line up a fight with Cassius Clay, recognized as champion by everyone but the WBA; Sonny Liston, Floyd Patterson or George Chuvalo.

Terrell thus is faced with the problem of whether to keep rocking 'n' rolling or accept an offer from former heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson to fight a series of exhibitions in Sweden.

TURNED DOWN

"I'll fight anybody," said Terrell, who was a guest at an affair sponsored by the Atlantic County Big Brothers Club. "I don't care if it's Clay, Liston or Patterson, but they won't fight me. Even Chuvalo turned down an offer to fight me so what else is there for me to do but leave on tour?"

Terrell will wait, however, for the outcome of the Clay-Liston title bout in Boston late next month. Naturally, he would like a crack at the winner. So would Patterson, who defeated Chuvalo in February.

* * *

"If Liston wins, who else does he have to fight but Ernie?" asked Sam Soloman, Terrell's trainer. "My man is waiting for May 25. Then he's going to decide whether he stays in the United States to fight or sing or goes to Europe."

Terrell said his rock 'n' roll group, which includes several members of his family, has just cut several records and he would try to promote them if he is unable to get any fights here.

"I'll take my band along if I go to Sweden," Terrell said. "Ingemar said the band would probably do well there. 'I'd be the first one to give up this tour if someone would fight me. I don't want to be a show business performer but no one wants to fight me in this country."

Secretary of State Reminds Boatmen

LANSING (AP) — Secretary of State James Hare has reminded motorboat owners they must obtain registrations before they can start cruising.

Hare estimated there are upwards of half a million motorboats in Michigan but said less than 375,000 are registered.

He warned that sheriffs are stepping up marine law inspections this year.

Hare said motorboats now can be registered for a $3 fee at all branch license offices. Previously, registration was possible only at the main Lansing office and larger branches.

'Watchful' Ice Star Picks Up Honors at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — If anybody on the Michigan State hockey team always was in the right place at the right time, it was wing Doug Roberts.

So what was his reward? Two watches.

Roberts, 22, of Detroit, received one watch—the Bill Present Award — for winning his teammates' vote as most valuable player.

The other was the Stevenson Award for high scoring honors. Roberts fired in 28 goals and had 33 assists for an MSU record of 61 points.

Senior center Gary Goble of St. Catherines, Ont., was named most improved player. Robert Fallat, wing from Espanola, Ont., was named outstanding freshman.

Track Record Under Assault

Texan Matson After Own Shotput Mark

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Randy Matson, Texas A&M's young giant, will go after his own world in the shotput and at least four other meet records will be in jeopardy in the 40th Kansas Relays today.

The 19-year-old Matson threw the 16-pound ball 67 feet 11¼ inches a week ago, breaking the world record of 67-10 held by Dallas Long, Matson's only conqueror in the Tokyo Olympics.

★ ★ ★

Matson, who stands 6-foot-6 and weighs 260, passed up the discus Friday although he set a collegiate record of 201-5½ Wednesday. Bill Easton, relay director, said the shotput field has been surveyed and everything is ready for a world record effort.

★ ★ ★

A crowd of 12,000 is expected to watch Matson, top attraction on the 19-event final day card.

DISTANCE RELAY

The distance medley could produce a meet record. Kansas has a finely balanced team which won the event at the Texas Relays. Southern Illinois is anchored by Bill Cornell, with a career best of 4:00.5 in the mile, and Missouri by Robin Lingle with a career best of 4:01.

★ ★ ★

Abilene Christian won the sprint medley in a fast 3:20.3 Friday but missed a meet record as SIU was disqualified and Lingle was a distant last when he got the baton.

Kansas, led by John Lawson's 4:08.7 on the third carry, won the four-mile relay by about 200 yards in 16:45.8, about four seconds off the record.

Before concluding the 11th Frame columns for this bowling season, comment should be made regarding two keg tournaments that have attracted interest in past years.

The Professional Woman Bowlers' Association, which had a successful debut at Huron Bowl last August, apparently will not return this summer.

Like the Professional Bowlers' Association (men), the affair brought the brightest names in bowling to Pontiac for a three-four day stand, and was popular with the bowlers.

It is sincerely hoped that such competition will not be absent from the local scene for more than a year or two.

The other tournament needing mention is the third annual Bowling Proprietors of Oakland County Champion of Champions competition. The finals are slated for May 22-23 at Sylvan Lanes.

This fine affair sponsored by 16 local establishments provides a giant handicap showdown for the best teams from the leagues in the member houses.

The first, second and third place teams from all such leagues are eligible to compete in their respective establishment's qualifying. The top 10 per cent from this will move into the finals which features a guaranteed $1,000 first prize.

The league must pay the $15 entry fee for its champion. The second place team must pay $5 and the house $10, and vice versa for the third place team to enter the qualifying.

The handicap is 70 per cent for men and 80 per cent for women. If a team has only three or four members, it may add any bowlers from its league to make five members.

SPARE PINS

Orchard Lanes has added Dale Seavoy of the Stroh's team to its instructional staff. Lessons may be arranged by appointment.

★ ★ ★

Among the $2,500 contributed to charity by the Pontiac Woman's Bowling Association this season were a $900 stipend to the Bowlers' Victory Legion (Veterans' Hospitals) and a $500 one to the area United Fund.

Ed Szot of Pontiac still has three months to wait before he'll know if his 1572 Peterson Classic total will be worth its current $1,000 value.

The top sanctioned triplicate in bowling history now is Ohioan Jim Schroeder's 279 threesome last month. His 837 series also is the national three-game high for this season.

Hall-of-Famer Therm Gibson set the old triplicate mark of 268 in Grand Rapids back in 1936.

★ ★ ★

A national soap producer will sponsor a bowling promotion next month. The detergent box will carry a coupon entitling the bearer to a free game after paying for two at any Bowling Proprietors' Association of America establishment.

Staubach on East Unit for All-America Tilt

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Navy quarterback Roger Staubach, 1963 Heisman Trophy winner, will play for the East in the fifth annual All-America Football Game June 26.

His acceptance to join last year's Heisman winner, quarterback John Huarte of Notre Dame, in the game in War Memorial Stadium was announced today.

Jack Kramer Making Points

Pro Tennis Courts Greener

NEW YORK — (NEA) — For more than a decade, Jack Kramer has pleaded, cajoled and badgered to get professional tennis the chance it has this year.

For the first time the pros seem to be financially set. They have a solid 11-event American tour worth $150,000, a seven-week summer television series on CBS and a lucrative foreign tour.

Compared to golf — or even bowling — it may not seem like much but the main part of the struggle was just getting to this point.

Kramer started out by raiding the amateur ranks with high-priced contracts. Then he began a verbal campaign against the "establishment" and what he called its "hypocritical attitudes."

★ ★ ★

This brought him nothing but enemies from the men he needed most to help professional tennis get started.

TURN PRO

"I guess they didn't like hearing me tell the kids that if they want to make money out of tennis, do it the right way by being a pro," Kramer said.

It hasn't been easy, however, to persuade the amateur stars like Chuck McKinley, Rafel Osuna and Roy Emerson to try the pro circuit.

"You can't really blame them," Kramer said. "They're getting good deals now. They have good jobs and they get all their expenses to and from tournaments."

But it's still Kramer's show that provides the best tennis. In addition to Laver, other Australians on the tour are Ken Rosewall, Lew Hoad and Mal Anderson.

The U.S. is represented by Pancho Gonzalez, Earl Buchholz and Barry MacKay; Spain by Andre Gimeno; Britain by Mike Davies, and Chile by Luis Ayala.

★ ★ ★

This year's tour includes stops in New York, San Antonio, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Omaha, St. Louis, Newport, R.I., and Boston. Five other cities are bidding for the last two spots.

But the big stop will be at Newport, one of the bastions of the amateur game.

A good tournament there could change a lot of closed minds — about professional and, consequently, open tennis.

Iowa Bowlers Join Leaders

ABC Changes Made in Two Divisions

ST. PAUL (AP)—A band director and a bowling lanes manager, both from Glenwood, Iowa, accounted for changes in the regular singles and all-events in the American Bowling Congress Tournament Friday.

★ ★ ★

Bob Forney, 40, band director at Glenwood High School, moved into fifth place in the all-events with a 1,872 total. He shot 649 in the doubles, 593 in the singles and 630 in the team event.

THREE BROTHERS

Jim Stanley, 32, youngest of three brothers competing in the ABC, rolled games of 205, 243 and 231 for a 679 and sixth place in the regular singles.

Stanley rolled a 275 game in the team competition, which helped his Jack Stanley Ready-Mix team of Thurman, Iowa, to a 1,095 finale—best game by a regular team in the tournament.

★ ★ ★

The Knights of Columbus team from Minneapolis rolled games of 901, 880 and 895 for a 2,676 total and eighth place in the booster division. Jack McGinnis led with 552.

Foresee Strike in All NL Cities if LA Picketed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Picket lines will be honored at other National League baseball parks, says union officials, if a strike is called at Los Angeles Dodger Stadium.

Affiliates of the AFL-CIO Building Service Employes Union in several other league cities "will respect picket lines wherever we set them up," said Max Richardson, head of Local 399, Friday.

Despite the hovering threat, the Dodger home season opener with the New York Mets Tuesday night shouldn't be affected Richardson said.

Richardson said further extensions of the contract can be made if talks slated Tuesday morning take a "serious" tone.

U-M Netters Indoors

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan blanked Minnesota 9-0 Friday in a Big Ten tennis opener played indoors because of wet grounds and high winds. In the top singles match, the Wolverines' Karl Hedrick defeated the Gophers' Jerry Noyce 9-7, 6-4.

League's Top Player Goes to Bat at Altar

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP) — Paul Blair, most valuable baseball player last season in the Eastern League and now a rookie centerfielder for the Baltimore Orioles, was married Friday to Evelyn Cohen.

Blair, who played for the Elmira Pioneers and led the league with a .309 batting average, met his wife, a 19-year-old Elmira resident, here last season.

Bond Market Boost Tied to the Boom

NEW YORK (AP) — Bond prices advanced during the past week and traders attributed the tone of the market to the underlying strength of the U.S. economy.

In trading of U.S. Treasury securities, dealers noted that prices of bonds went up despite an adverse report on British trade during March. Corporate bond prices generally reflected the advance of the stock market which moved to new record highs on a wave of strong first quarter corporate earnings reports.

★ ★ ★

On the negative side, the Federal Reserve reported that the U.S. monetary gold stock declined another $150 million, bringing to $975 million the total ioold loss so far in 1965. The total compares to an outflow of $50 million during the comparable period of last year.

For the week the 40 U.S. Treasury bond issues traded scored 22 advances in price, nine unchanged.

PAR VALUE

On the New York Stock Exchange, bond volume for the week totaled a par value of $44.18 million, compared to $47.67 million the previous week.

Of 470 issues traded, 196 advanced in price, 161 declined and 113 were unchanged.

★ ★ ★

For three days bond prices advanced on balance in line with stock price advances. Most of the actively traded bonds were convertible issues reacting to trading in the stocks they represented.

At week's end corporate bond prices declined as stock prices turned mixed.

STOCKS HIGHER—The Associated Press average of 60 stocks moved higher for the third consecutive week, closing Thursday at 339.3 from 336.9 a week ago as shown in the chart. Led by food and livestock, the commodity index recorded its first decline in seven weeks when it closed Thursday at 169.8 from 169.9 in the preceding period.

Stocks Hit Historic Highs in Record-Breaking Week

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market this week roses to a series of historic highs, ending a couple of months of "consolidation" of the previous peaks made early in February.

In the short pre-Easter trading week of four days, all the popular market averages climbed to records Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. They declined slightly on Thursday when profits were taken prior to the market holiday for Good Friday and the three-day Easter weekend.

★ ★ ★

The market was buoyed by an increasing parade of earnings reports from leading corporations, most of them showing sharp increases over a year ago. Such corporate giants as du Pont, Radio Corp. and International Business Machines reported quarterly records.

Another factor was the end of stock selling to raise cash for April 15 income tax payments.

SIX STRAIGHT

By Wednesday's close, the market had completed six straight sessions of advance, the latter three putting the list at record highs.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average this week rose 10.62 at 911.91. It posted a record high of 912.82 at Wednesday's close. The previous record closing peak of 906.30 was established Feb. 3.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press Average of 60 stocks this week rose 2.4 to 339.3 after making its record closing high of 339.5 on Wednesday. This topped the previous record closing of 337.6 made Feb. 4.

Volume for the holiday-shortened week was a husky 25,195,680 shares — not much less than the turnover of 26,351,970 shares in the previous trading week of a full five days.

WIDE MARGIN

Of 1,520 issues traded this week on the New York Stock Exchange, gainers bettered losers by the wide margin of 812 to 542.

General Motors, the "biggest" stock on the exchange, inspired its fellow blue chips by rising to a string of historic highs, the the last one 108½. It ended the week's trading a little below this at 107⅝, a net gain of 2⅜.

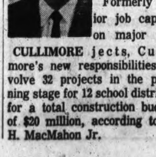
★ ★ ★

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were:

Radio Corp., off ⅛ at 35⅜ on 415,100 shares; General Dynamics, up 4¾ at 43⅛; Standard Packaging, up ¾ at 11½; American Telephone, up 1¼ ta69g; and Texas Gulf Sulphur, up 2⅛ at 70⅜.

Business Notes

Gerald E. Cullimore, 838 Wilwood, Avon Township, has been promoted to production coordinator for all school projects, for Tarapata - MacMahon Associates, Inc., architects - engineers and planners of Bloomfield Hills.



CULLIMORE

Formerly senior job captain on major projects, Cullimore's new responsibilities involve 32 projects in the planning stage for 12 school districts, for a total construction budget of $20 million, according to C. H. MacMahon Jr.

William Obel, 29 Michigan, has been elected president of the Television and Electronic Service Association of Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

Serving with him on the board are: Sigmund Chmiloski, Andy Condon, Thomas Johnson, William McGlashen, Bernard Seiber, John Stefanski and Quentin Sweet.

Life Underwriters Select President

Growth Announced by Bank in Troy

Troy National Bank has announced a 100 per cent increase in common capital resulting from the sale of 20,000 shares of additional common stock. The sale brings the bank's capital account to a total of $1 million.

★ ★ ★

"The future growth and expansion of Troy National Bank is closely linked to the availability of capital funds," Edward A. Rusin, president, said.

Steer Supply Is Still Slack

CHICAGO (AP)—The supply of slaughter steers continued to dwindle this week at the 12 major markets, and prices held steady to 25 cents a hundredweight higher here, with good and choice grades showing the advance.

After a decline on Monday, the market tilted toward firmness and at midweek the prime grade topped at $29, equal to the high of last week and the highest in more than two years.

★ ★ ★

Buyers said a stronger wholesale market for dressed beef also contributed to the firmness. With the 12 market supply at a 12-year low, the average price of slaughter steers for the week was estimated at $25.05 compared with $21.33 a year ago.

In the butcher hog market, prices twice topped at $19, the highest since last August. The supply for the period was little changed from last week and the average price of $17.70 was the same. It was up $3 however, from a year ago.

Some mixed choice and prime spring slaughter lambs brought $27 in the sheep market and a few lots of 44-60 lb. Mostly prime cleared at $30 and $35. Choice wooled offerings brought $26.50.

Prices Finish a Little Higher on Grain Mart

CHICAGO (AP)—Speculators conducted most of the grain futures business this week and chopped at the market from both sides, but prices finished mostly a little higher on the Board of Trade.

★ ★ ★

One broad setback of more than 5 cents a bushel in old crop soybeans on Monday was the only genuinely active period of the week. It shook out a heavy short interest in the trade, and prices worked steadily higher thereafter, but the loss was not fully recovered.

★ ★ ★

May and July oats continued in steady demand throughout the week.

May wheat also attracted improved support.

CORN SALES

Government sales of corn were much heavier and they resulted in active hedge selling at times but commercial buying and hedge lifting absorbed nearly all the offerings.

★ ★ ★

At the end of the week, soybeans were 2¼ cents a bushel lower to ¼ higher, May $3.02⅛-½; wheat ½-2⅛ higher, May $1.50⅜-¼; corn ¼ higher to ¼ lower, May $1.33-33⅛; oats -2⅛ higher, May 73½-⅝ cents; rye ½-1⅛ higher, May $1.19½.

U. of M. Mum on Flint Action

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan has no official comment on the State Board of Education's recommendation for ending the U-M Flint branch, president Harlan Hatcher said Friday.

Hatcher read a telegram outlining the state board's April 7 decision to the board of regents.

★ ★ ★

He said the regents were advising the Senate Appropriations Committee on the Flint branch controversy.

The university was only a party to the state board hearing and leaves the next move to the legislature, Dr. Hatcher said.

4-YEAR COLLEGE

The board called for a four-year Flint State College to replace the current U-M junior-senior branch. The university would be allowed to accept the freshmen it already had agreed to teach but could add no more. The branch would be phased out once the college is established.

★ ★ ★

Gov. George Romney declined to comment at Lansing Friday on a statement by Charles Mott of Flint that he was interested only in contributing to a U-M branch in Flint.

★ ★ ★

The Mott Foundation had pledged $2.4 million to the branch, but has indicated the same offer would not be made to another school.

Shari Lewis' Virtuosity Down in Black and White

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — What does a girl like Shari Lewis write in her private notebook?

"On this page here," Shari pointed out, "I have my hair pattern . . . and one this next page, my technique for doing 'To Tell the Truth.'"

"Pardon me, lady," I said, "but what's a hair pattern?"

"You see, I've drawn a diagram to show the hairdresser how to set my pony tail, and I just open the book to this drawing. I'm very lucky. I've got curly hair, and I just can't present my husband with a handful of rollers."

"But this 'To Tell the Truth' page . . .?"

"It's really the approaches I use in questioning the guests," Shari said. "Suppose it's a foreigner . . . I want to see how much they know about the country they're supposed to be from . . ."

I ran my eye down the page. "Coins . . . colors in flag . . . pronunciation." Shari had about 15 categories of questions to trip up the liars.

"And I also have here"—another page—"the hours of several Broadway dancing classes, so if I have an hour free, I can run in for a lesson."

This yellow-backed 6-by-8 inch notebook explains partially how the new grown-up Shari Lewis can play the Roostertail cafe in Detroit, portray the lead in "Mary, Mary" in Bucks County, appear on the new Dean Martin TV show in Hollywood, be the wife of book publisher Jeremy Tarcher, the mother of a daughter Mallory, and occasionally the skipper of their 37-foot cruiser Lamb Chop IV.

WILSON

"I've used notebooks like this since I was a little girl," Shari said, "because anything I don't write down, I promptly forget . . ."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

If the Oscars add $5,000,000 to the "Fair Lady" take, as estimated, CBS may make an extra 2½ million; they get 49% of the income over $20,000,000 . . . Xavier Cugat and his teenage honey, Charo Baeza, signed with Decca to make rock 'n' roll records in Spanish.

Red Buttons, one of the "Harlow" stars, brings his lunch to the set—Spanish dishes cooked by his wife. (Red says, "I'm making up for all those years on a health food kick") . . . Producer Harold Hecht was asked to whip up a TV pilot based on his western spoof, "Cat Balloou."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Shelley Berman said his Screen Gems contract ran 75 pages: "I didn't know whether to sign it or turn it into a musical.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A local cafe owner complained about business: "I'll tell you how bad it is—I even had to borrow a pen to make out my income tax."

EARL'S PEARLS: Taffy Tuttle was asked what she'd do if she dated a guy who didn't try to kiss her. "I," she said, "would lie about it."

Joe E. Lewis proclaimed he's in favor of the 18-year-maximum drinking law: "Nobody should be forced to drink any Scotch that isn't 18 years old." . . . That's earl, brother.

No More Pampering—Judge

Circuit Judge William J. Beer, in sentencing five youths to prison, including a 16-year-old juvenile, said yesterday that he was "tired of troublesome teen-agers."

"They won't be pampered any more," Beer said angrily.

"These kind of teen-agers are not going to chase the rest of the human race into retreat."

Two of those sentenced were from Pontiac. They are Michael Bollman, 20, of 4882 Payton, and Tommy Fellows, 17, of 735 Cartwright.

* * *

Both received 1½ - 10 - year terms for breaking into the Crankshaft Service Co., 1039 Oakland, on March 17.

The 16-year-old sentenced to the state prison at Jackson was Mark Clament of 905 N. Edgeworth, Royal Oak. He was given a 2-5-year term for stealing an auto from a Royal Oak used car lot last January.

Beer noted that Clament had been brought to the attention of juvenile authorities on 24 occasions for various offenses before they waived jurisdiction.

Two 17-year-olds from South Oakland County were ordered to serve 2-10 years for burglarizing a Hazel Park welding firm and stealing some checks and a check protector.

They are Terry Ward of 1761 E. George, Hazel Park, and Gary Vennard of 28172 Brush, Madison Heights.

"It was the first time that any of them appeared before me and I hope the last," said Beer.

Man Fatally Burned by Australian Youths

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Detectives searched Sydney today for five youths who set fire to a man, burning him fatally.

The victim, William Henry Hill, 55, was dozing in a suburban bus shelter Friday when the youths doused him with methyl alcohol and set him ablaze.

Routine Landing Nearly a Tragedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Piedmont Airlines pilot guided his craft into what was intended to be a routine landing at Washington's National Airport Friday when suddenly he got a shock.

"Piedmont 63, your wheels are still up," the control tower warned him.

* * *

Capt. Robert Nance checked his instrument panel. It showed the landing gear was down. He pulled up, circled the field, lowered the landing gear manually, landed safely and then breathed a sigh of relief.

The airplane carried 36 passengers and a crew of three on the Atlanta to Washington flight.

'U.S. Economy Dwarfs Europe'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said pointedly today that the $100-billion annual increase in U.S. production since early 1961 exceeds the entire annual output of France and Belgium.

The new head of the Treasury mentioned the comparison only in passing — "as a yardstick" — yet it appeared to be a strong reminder to Europe of the enormous strength of the U.S. economic structure.

* * *

President Charles de Gaulle of France has converted huge amounts of dollar holdings into gold and has urged other countries to follow suit.

Fowler's speech was prepared for the closing day of the convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. Pontiac Press Editor John W. Fitzgerald is attending the convention.

The Treasury secretary noted that the yearly $100 billion in increased production — even after allowing for the inflationary factor — "far exceeds the entire added output during the same period by all of Western Europe.

"As a yardstick, one might remember that this added slice on our national cake in the last four years exceeds the entire gross national product of France and Belgium.

SURPASSES OUTPUT

"In fact, the increase alone in our national output over the past four years surpasses the total national output of any other nation of the free world — and continues to widen the already enormous distance that separates our ability to produce from that of the Soviet Union."

Since the U.S. output reached an annual rate of $649 billion in the first three months of 1965, the American production would be more than six times greater than that of France and Belgium combined.

* * *

It was Fowler's first full-fledged speech since taking over the Treasury position April 1, and he compared it with the maiden speech of his predecessor, Douglas Dillon, before the same group four years ago.

He noted that Dillon had set forth a two-pronged program: A complete overhaul of the tax system, and a monetary approach to assure the availability of long-term funds essential to domestic economic growth while maintaining short-term rates at a level high enough to prevent an excessive flow of dollars abroad.

He said the current prosperity, with lower unemployment and higher per capita income, was testimony to the effectiveness of those policies.

State Triple Murder Suspect Held

Chill Delays Flood's Crest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thousands of flood workers braced to battle the highest Mississippi River waters on record were given today a reprieve by cold weather that slowed melting along the river's northern reaches.

The river, which has flooded scores of waterfront communities, from Minneapolis-St.Paul to south of Hannibal, Mo., had been expected to crest at 27 feet late yesterday or today.

The Weather Bureau said the freezing weather could delay the peak waters as much as another week.

See Picture, Page 2.

Workers were expected to use the added time to bulwark dikes.

Floodwaters have streamed from the Mississippi, Minnesota, Red and Croix rivers, driving an estimated 35,000 persons from homes, killing 12 and causing millions of dollars in damage from North Dakota to Illinois.

In Davenport, Iowa, some 150 families took up residence in animal stalls at the county fairgrounds.

★ ★ ★

HARDEST HIT

Hardest hit was St. Paul, Minn., a city of 350,000 that has as much as six feet of water inundating lowland sections. Some industries, a city airport and railroad station have been forced to close. The Mississippi was at 26 feet, 14 feet above floodstage.

Downstream, Wabasha, Minn., 2,500 population, was one-third under water. At Winona, population 25,000, city officials have constructed a 25-foot high, sandbag and earth wall nine miles long.

Across the Mississippi in Wisconsin, hundreds of families have been evacuated in La Crosse and Prairie du Chien.

G. MENNEN WILLIAMS

'Soapy' Said on Way Out in State Dept.

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson is planning a major shake-up of the State Department which will involve the ouster of former Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams, the New York Times said today.

Williams, who served an unprecedented six terms as the state's chief executive — from 1948 to 1960 — currently is undersecretary of state for African affairs.

★ ★ ★

The Times said the projected shake-up would involve at least five major State Department jobs and more than a dozen U.S. embassies.

In addition to Williams, others listed by the newspaper as "definitely leaving" included William R. Tyler, in charge of European affairs; Phillips Talbot, who directs Near East and South Asian affairs and G. Griffith Johnson, head of the Bureau of Economic Affairs.

Drop More Bombs, Leaflets on N. Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American fighters and bombers hammered at North Vietnamese targets again today and two Vietnamese Skyraider bombers dropped 100,000 psychological warfare leaflets over the city of Dong Hoi in North Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

The leaflets had a picture of President Johnson and remarks by him on the Vietnamese war. They also included an endorsement of the remarks by South Vietnamese Premier Phan Huy Quat. Dong Hoi is about 50 miles north of the 17th Parallel.

The leaflets quoted from Johnson's April 7 address in Baltimore and outlined his proposal to contribute $1 billion for an aid program to develop Southeast Asia.

Last Wednesday, the U.S. Air Force dropped 3 million leaflets over Dong Hoi and three other North Vietnamese cities, in effect calling on the people to overthrow their Communist government.

★ ★ ★

Five Marine Corps jet reconnaissance planes arrived today at Da Nang air base for duty in that key northern area of South Viet Nam.

MAJOR BATTLE

A U.S. spokesman reported that Vietnamese soldiers fought a major engagement Thursday and Friday near Phu My in Binh Dinh Province, about 250 miles north of Saigon. Reports said 81 Viet Cong were killed.

U.S. sources in Saigon said last Thursday's huge bombing raid against a suspected Viet Cong stronghold near the Cambodian frontier may have been a flop.

An armada of 230 planes joined in the day-long attack—the biggest U.S.-Vietnamese air raid of the war.

★ ★ ★

The sources said ground forces probing the tangled, blackened jungle area since yesterday morning have found few results.

Senator Seeking More OU Funds

State Sen. Carl O'Brien has appealed to the charman of the Michigan Senate Appropriations Committee for more funds for Oakland University.

O'Brien represents Pontiac, Waterford Township, and six other Oakland County townships.

He was protesting an appropriation increase of $303,000 for OU when $497,000 had been requested.

Text of his letter follows:

"Oakland University is, relatively speaking, a new university. It suffers from fiscal handicaps in several directions. I have gathered together figures which compares Grand Valley College (a new college) with Oakland University.

★ ★ ★

"I believe these figures will substantiate the fact that Oakland University is suffering a severe case of underappropriation of funds.

SEEKS STUDY

"I would like to have you study Oakland University's appropriations in depth in the area of capital outlay, which I believe to be the business of your committee.

"I am sure that when you familiarize yourself with the financial situation at Oakland University, you will see fit to increase the appropriation to this fine university.

"I would like to repeat—when judged against such new universities as Grand Valley, on the basis of current enrollment, you will become aware of just how severe the shortage of appropriate funds is at Oakland.

"I think, further, you will see that my concern for this university is real and I would like to discuss with you personally the financial problems which exist at Oakland."

Ionia Suicide Probe Ordered

Second in 6 Months at Mental Institution

LANSING (AP) — Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, has ordered a House Committee to investigate a patient's suicide at Ionia State Hospital "to learn what is needed to prevent this sort of thing."

★ ★ ★

The suicide Thursday was the second in six months at the mental institution.

Kowalski Friday ordered the House Mental Health Committee, headed by Rep. F. Charles Raap, D-Muskegon, to begin an investigation next Thursday.

Kowalski said this investigation will be specifically on the suicide, but when the committee has time to do a complete objective job it will open a general investigation of all the state's mental institutions.

★ ★ ★

The latest suicide at Ionia suffocated with a plastic bag over his head. He fastened the bag with a necktie.

2-DAY VISIT

After a patient suicide last November, then Republican-dominated House Mental Health Committee visited the hospital for two days.

Chairman David Upton, R-St. Joseph said that committee was not able to substantiate any charges made against hospital personnel and found no major scandal.

Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit said he would try to set up a joint committee to investigate the situation.

★ ★ ★

Dzendzel said a joint committee is needed "to get to the bottom of this." He added the legislature would be in recess April 22 to May 3, giving such a committee a good opportunity for an investigation.

Says He Killed 3 Females in Benton Harbor

Police Doubt Story of Chicago Man, but Fly to Ask Questions

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago police today took into custody a man in connection with the slaying of two women and a girl whose bodies were found April 4 near Benton Harbor, Mich.

Police identified the man as Robert Mills, 44, of Chicago.

Patrolman Charles Green said he picked Mills up at a South Side telephone booth after Mills phoned police and allegedly said he was responsible for the Michigan slayings and wanted to give himself up.

Green said Mills told him he also phoned the FBI about wanting to turn himself in. Sheriff's officers from Berrien County, Mich., were notified and they said investigators would fly to Chicago to question Mills.

★ ★ ★

Chicago police said they did not plan to question Mills in depth regarding the slayings until the Michigan authorities arrive, sometime this morning.

STORY DOUBTED

There were reports that authorities doubted his story.

Mills was booked on a charge of disorderly conduct and held for investigation.

The bodies of Diane Carter, 7, Mrs. Olin Boyer, 60, and Mrs. Robert Jones, 37, all of Benton Harbor, were found in a pine grove fringe of a Watervliet fruit orchard some 10 miles east of Benton Harbor on April 4.

Police connected the slayings to that of Miss Delores Young, 19, whose nude body was found in a fire-destroyed Benton Harbor home Feb. 16.

All of the victims, except for Miss Young, had been mutilated.

★ ★ ★

At that time, Benton Harbor Police Chief Merle McCarroll said "this is the first time we've had a sex madman on the loose here." He said he was convinced the death of Miss Young was linked with the other three slayings.

A Chicago detective said that Mills' account of the slaying included no instances of likeness to the facts as known.

The detective said Mills told him he met the three victims in a Benton Harbor bar and drove them to the woods where he killed them with a pistol. Actually, the three were not killed at the same time and none had been shot.

Phony James Bond Gets 'New Number'

NEW YORK (AP)—It was a tale of murder and intrigue that secret agent extraordinary Tom Romano told. He even outdid the fictional James Bond.

Tall and rugged, he induced one of his female admirers to give him $4,000 and her new automobile.

He told her of hair-raising exploits with gun and attache case in Algeria and Cyprus, of piloting a spy plane, and of an underwater mission to Cuba.

The story ended yesterday in U.S. District Court with Judge Thomas F. Murphy writing the final chapter.

As it turned out, secret agent extraordinary Tom Romano was fictional just like James Bond. He was just plain Thomas Catizone, 35, Brooklyn truck mechanic.

★ ★ ★

Following a nonjury trial Murphy sentenced Catizone to two years in federal prison for masquerading as a Central Intelligence Agency agent.

SOUND EFFECTS

Catizone even furnished props and sound effects for his imaginary exploits. Example: whenever one of his admirers phoned him at his Brooklyn garage, he would have a co-worker race a truck engine. Then he would explain that he had no time to talk — the engine of his plane was being revved up for a quick takeoff on a cloak-and-dagger mission.

On another caper that cost him $60, he hired an ambulance and attendants, to wheel him on a stretcher into the apartment of Laura Darris, a brunette divorcee who ran a restaurant near the garage.

He had told her he had been in an automobile accident outside Washington in which another agent was killed. He said he was paralyzed from the waist down.

He had met Mrs. Darris in

Hey, Weatherman, Your Humor's Sick!

Seems like the weatherman has his holidays mixed. It rained Christmas Eve, now it's snowing Easter Eve. About ½ an inch of snow was recorded downtown this morning.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow, occasional light rain is forecast, so it may be wise to add an umbrella to your Easter outfit. In addition, cloudy skies are expected, along with a high of 46 to 52.

Tonight's predicted low is 34 to 42.

The lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 32. By 1 p.m. the mercury had risen to 40 in downtown Pontiac.

Tips on Making Left Turns

Improper left turns cause considerable traffic congestions by reducing the number of cars which can turn during each change of the traffic signal.

This has been pointed out by Robert M. Critchfield of Lake Angelus, a retired general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

"Many drivers stop at the sidewalk line and wait there for the traffic light to change before proceeding to make their left turn before the cross traffic at the intersection catches them," Critchfield says.

As a result only their car has time to make the left turn.

★ ★ ★

"The proper procedure is to advance to the center of the cross street-of course with left turn signaled-and turn the front wheels slightly to the left while waiting for the light to change or for the oncoming traffic to clear as indicated on the diagram."

★ ★ ★

"With this procedure at least three cars will be able to make the left turn.

"Of course when the driver is attempting to enter to make a left turn at an intersection with a through street not controlled by lights and where there is a stop sign at his corner, the proper procedure is to stop at the sidewalk line as indicated in diagram B and then to enter the intersection and turn left when the through traffic permits."

Cuban Exiles Study Homeland 'Tremors'

MIAMI, Fla., (AP) — Reports of mass arrests in Cuba, reminiscent of those following the Bay of Pigs invasion just four years ago today, are being studied by anti-Castro analysts for symptoms of a brewing internal upheaval.

They attached particular significance to reports from refugees and underground sources of military arrests, including 30 captains. A captain in Castro's army is outranked only by a major.

★ ★ ★

Exiles watched for signs of a crack in Fidel Castro's military might, rated first in Latin America, as he prepared a parade Monday to celebrate his Bay of Pigs victory over 1,500 invaders.

The invasion fleet set out from Central America, where the force had trained, and arrived in the early morning hours of April 17, 1961, on tle southern Cuba coast southeast of Havana.

SMASH ATTACK

Within 72 hours, Castro's forces had smashed the operation, killing 81 of the invaders and wounding 60. More than a thousand were captured and later ransomed with $53 million worth of medicine and food.

★ ★ ★

After Monday's parade at Giron Beach, site of the Bay of Pigs failure, Prime Minister Castro is expected to make a victory speech in Havana. Last month, Castro ended a two-hour talk by saying his people were "capable of killing a million mercenary invaders."

★ ★ ★

But anti-Castro strategy reportedly has shifted from invasion to internal action. A rebellion within the armed forces was reported to be the goal.

Exile sources report thousands of soldiers, militiamen and civilians have been arrested throughout the island.

IMPRISONED

Refugees arriving this week said 350 officers and men of Castro's western army, covering Havana and Pinar del Rio provinces, were imprisoned.

★ ★ ★

Other newly arrived exiles said 700 peasants in westernmost Pinar del Rio Province were arrested because they were suspected of helping anti-Castro guerrillas.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of residents in Escambray Mountain areas of central Cuba have been evacuated for the same reason, they said.

Fifty-three Baptist ministers and lay leaders, including two Americans, were imprisoned and accused of spying.

The Cuban Medical Association in exile said the Castro roundup included 40 physicians, "arbitrarily arrested."

County Budget Before Board

Preliminary Figure Up 12 Pct. Over '65

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors Monday will review a tentative 1966 county budget of $19,428,037 recommended by the board's ways and means committee.

If approved by the board, the budget will be referred to the County Tax Allocation Board.

Up 12.9 per cent over the current $17,218,878 budget, the new budget is based on a tax rate of 5.97 mills.

Expenditures in the preliminary budget include $3,660,948 in nondepartmental appropriations, $8,123,502 for departmental and institutional operation and $7,583,587 for salaries.

★ ★ ★

Last year at this time a tentative budget of $18.4 million was approved by the board based on a tax rate of 5.9 mills.

RATE REDUCED

This rate was reduced to 5.26 mills by the allocation board when it met to spread the total 15-mill allocation between school districts, the county and townships.

Also slated for consideration by the supervisors Monday are recommendations by the Board's legislative committee pertaining to a proposed public defender bill.

At its March 16 meeting the committee altered a previous recommendation opposing House Bill 2100 by calling for permissive legislation that would allow counties the option of establishing public defender offices.

★ ★ ★

The legislative committee also will report on referred resolutions.

PAST DIKES

The St. Croix River broke through protective dikes at Hudson, Wis., flooding about half the town of 4,500.

La Crosse officials placed their hopes on a four-mile of dikes to prevent water from surging into the highlands. Much of the lowland area is flooded and 1,200 persons already have been evacuated from areas near the city of 47,000.

The Mississippi River cut through La Crosse yesterday, preventing travel from northern and central sections. Flood level is 12 feet. The river neared 16 feet today and was expected to crest at 18 feet Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois sent nearly 300 National Guardsmen into duty Friday along the Mississippi River in western Illinois. The patrols extend from 21 north of Quincy to 18 miles south and along a 10-mile stretch between Oquawka and Gulfport.

PUMPS NEEDED

Inmates at the Menard State Pentitentiary near Chester, Ill., were without drinking water for a while when the swollen Mississippi washed away a sandbar over intake pipes. Emergency pumps were used.

★ ★ ★

Across the river at Hannibal, Mo., Gov. Warren E. Hearnes declared a state of emergency and volunteers rushed sandbagging operations along waterfront dikes.

★ ★ ★

The river, expected to crest at 23.5 feet today at Hannibal, already has flooded two blocks in the city's downtown district. Four blocks in nearby Louisiana, Mo., were flooded and nine families were evacuated.

CAB Stays NCA Service Cutoff Order

North Central Airlines (NCA) service to Pontiac and three other Michigan communities will not end Monday.

★ ★ ★

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) issued a stay yesterday on its order that would have permitted NCA to close out its service.

The stay was issued to provide time for the communities to appeal to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Pontiac has joined Port Huron and Cadillac-Reed City in seeking a judicial review of the local air service case.

★ ★ ★

Originally, CAB had ordered that NCA could drop service to the communities under terms of CAB's "use it or lose it," policy.

2ND PETITION

Pontiac has also sought CAB consideration of a second petition for local air service to Cleveland and Chicago.

★ ★ ★

City officials want a decision on this request before NCA is allowed to pull out. NCA currently provides a northbound service but does not furnish the southbound service Pontiac wants.

'Live Forever' Is Project Goal

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (UPI)— A local company is hard at work on a project to abolish death as we know it.

"This is not a gimmick at all," Leonard Gold said of his company's part in the plan be explored by many scientists to keep a person alive forever.

"There is a lot of misconception about what we are doing," Gold said in an interview. "But actually scientists have thought about this for a long time and some of the elite members of the scientific community are working on it."

The plan as explained by those involved sounds relatively simple although admittedly there are many difficult problems of all kinds.

★ ★ ★

Immediately after a person dies a normal medical death the body would be put in a steel capsule and kept in a frozen state through the use of chemicals.

OUT OF FREEZER

Years from now when medical science comes up with the answer to what caused the death, such as old age or various diseases, the body would be removed from the freezer, the ailment cured, and an active life resumed.

The prospect of being restored to life on this earth many years after death is a frightening thought to many persons.

It would raise all kinds of legal problems.

★ ★ ★

But problems or not, scientists are convinced physical life forever on this planet is possible and are working hard to prove what they believe.

SPACE PROGRAM

The space program, with all of its developments believed impossible a few years ago, is giving indirect impetus to research on the eternal life project, Gold said.

Space scientists have shown some interest in the possibility of reducing the body to inactivity through low temperatures for prolonged flights into space.

Gold said the Juno Co. he heads is concerned with producing the capsule in which the body would be stored.

★ ★ ★

"We think we can do it at a price the average person can afford," he said.

NO DETAILS

He was reluctant to discuss the matter in detail because negotiations are in progress with a major manufacturing concern to produce the capsules.

The capsule would be about the size of a coffin, he said, but the mausoleum in which it would be stored would be larger than the vaults now commonly used.

A working model is expected to be completed before long and a freezer cemetery would be put on display, maybe in Los Angeles, for the first time.

★ ★ ★

There are three kinds of death. The ordinary medical death is known as clinical death and is when the heart and lungs stop functioning.

BIOLOGICAL DEATH

Biological death is that in which the body's organs are damaged through disease or otherwise to the point medicine cannot restore life. The third is cellular death in which the individual cells deterdriate.

★ ★ ★

This third kind of death usually comes two or three days after the ordinary medical death.

★ ★ ★

Scientists believe that those who die from the ordinary medical death would be the easiest restored to life if the body could be frozen before the cellular death begins.

Another Week for Scrap Trial

The Sam Allen & Sons Scrapyard trail adjourned yesterday until Tuesday, with the liklihood that it will continue for at least another week.

The nonjury trial before Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem has been going on for two weeks.

The city of Pontiac and 15 residents are seeking a permanent injunction against the junk yard on the grounds that it is a nuisance. The yard is at 22 Congress.

City Attorney William Ewart has not rested his case, even though a defesne witness, Robert Lindahl, an acoustical engineer, has been allowed to testify the last two days.

★ ★ ★

Ewart agreed to have the witness called out of order because Lindahl would not be available until late next week.

Slight Quake Reminds Alaska of Tragedy

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Another Good Friday earthquake struck Alaska yesterday, but this time the state was spared the death and destruction wrought by the historic one of March 27, 1964.

Yesterday's tremblor rattled dishes and windows in Nome and was felt in a dozen Eskimo villages in the Norton Sound area of western Alaska.

Youth Protest on Viet Policy

March in Washington to Demand Cease-Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — A youth group critical of U.S. involvement in the Viet Nam war and calling for an immediate halt to the fighting expects more than 10,000 persons to join a protest march in the capital today.

The "Students for a Democratic Society," which calls itself a left-wing radical but non-Communist organization, plans to picket the White House and petition Congress "to end, not to extend, the war in Viet Nam."

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for SDS said most of the participants would be college students from Eastern College.

Buses carrying 315 Wayne and Michigan State University students left Detroit last night for the demonstration and two buses with 90 persons aboard left the University of Michigan campus.

Scheduled speakers at an afternoon rally include Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, an outspoken critic of the Johnson administration's Southeast Asia policies.

★ ★ ★

In his speech prepared for the rally, Gruening said:

"The United States has fumbled and bumbled along in Viet Nam for over 10 years now, disregarding our international obligations and commitments."

"We stand today on the brink of a world war of cataclysmic proportions," he declared.

He said the United States should immediately announce a cessation of the bombings of North Viet Nam and should seek to negotiate an immediate cease-fire.

Sympathy protests are scheduled in several cities, the spokesman said, including San Francisco and Portland, Ore.

★ ★ ★

A group of students from the University of Texas at Austin plans to stage a protest vigil at the entrance to President Johnson's ranch at Johnson City, Tex., 65 miles from Austin, the spokesman said.

'Red Rockets Not Serious'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The introduction of Soviet surface-to-air missiles of limited range into North Viet Nam would bring a significant but not a drastic change in Communist defense capabilities, U.S. officials said today.

Their prediction followed disclosure that sites apparently are being prepared for missiles in the vicinity of Hanoi, North Viet Nam's capital.

★ ★ ★

U.S. officials point out that it is likely that some Soviet military personnel will be assigned to the missile operation in North Viet Nam.

U.S. officials pointed out that the missile sites being prepared in the Hanoi area were for use in close defense operations of up to 25 miles' radius. It did not appear that the Russians were preparing to introduce the intermediate ballistic range missiles of the type they brought to Cuba which touched off the October 1962 confrontation between Washington and Moscow over Cuba.

New Number for 'Agent 007'

January 1962 and subsequently induced her to give him $4,000 — almost her entire life savings — and her car.

MAN IN CHARGE

The 6-foot-2, 200-pound Catizone, complete with attache case an a shoulder-holster pistol told Mrs. Darris that his brother had been killed two years earlier in the CIA. He said he was in charge of a five-man espionage group ,and his mechanic's job was a cover.

He told Mrs. Darris of flying a U4 plane. It was something like the U2 plane, he explained, only it could fly higher and faster.

Once he appeared carrying an attache case, which he told Mrs. Darris contained treaties he was taking to Washington from South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Within two months after they met, Catizone told Mrs. Darris that his plane had exploded and a young mechanic had been killed. He was late for his assignment, he said, and the mechanic's family threatened to expose his dereliction unless he paid them $1,000. Mrs. Darris gave him the money.

GAVE HIM MONEY

Mrs. Davis gave him $2,000 for back alimony in May 1962, when he told her his former wife was threatening to wreck his CIA career if he didn't pay up.

A short time later, he pulled off the ambulance caper and this time it cost Mrs. Darris $1,025. The 1,000 was for the exwife. The $25 was cigarette money for the crippled Catizone.

Mrs. Darris never saw him again. But in February 1963, he telephoned her that he and another agent were the only survivors of seven American frogmen who had undertaken a dangerous underwater mission to Cuba.

Heading the 15 men serving with him on the building committee is William T. Arlund. Paul Hold of Englehardt, Buettner & Holt Inc. of Royal Oak will serve as contractor.

Unusal Heirlooms Set Theme

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

A 200-year-old Chinese Buddha and an oil painting with an unusual history set the decorating theme for the formal living-dining area of the John M. Greenleys, Mackintosh Drive, Bloomfield Township.

"When I contacted Wiggs Colony Shop for help," said Mrs. Greenley, "I explained that the room's plan must include these two family heirlooms.

The muted sea-green walls and beige carpeting are spiced by an avocado antique-satin sofa, blending open-weave wool draperies and a scarlet-velvet open-arm chair.

Over the sofa hangs a Venetian canal scene, "Palace of the Doge" by A. Canatello. Lighting the grouping are brass and white lamps with white silk shades.

★ ★ ★

Displayed in the far end of the room, near its main entrance from the foyer, are the two heirlooms.

The oil painting of a dark costumed man hangs above the white brick fireplace on the fruitwood paneled wall.

"The painting came into my husband's family many years ago," said Mrs. Greenley. "A relative successfully bid for an old black sea trunk at an unclaimed baggage auction in San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

"When the trunk was opened, there wrapped in about 13 cotton blankets, was this painting.

"Who painted it, we don't know. It's unsigned. Though we've been told it looks like Frans Hals' work.

"Actually," she continued, "it's unfinished. The tatting on one side of the collar is missing and the chain around his neck isn't complete."

On a nearby slate topped antiqued chest serenely sits the 200-year-old Buddha. It once belonged to Mr. Greenley's aunt who discovered the antique while living in the Orient.

The figure, resting on a hand-carved teakwood base, is of a terra-cotta color highlighted by touches of gold leaf. Its delicate hands and fingernails are perfect in detail.

"Chinese actually chewed the hat out of teakwood to fit the Buddha's head," said Mrs. Greenley.

"Notice," she added, "the figure is hollow," upending it to an accompanying rattle.

"Usually, the bottom of Buddhas were left open. During its owner's lifetime, he would secrete personal treasures in it.

"And when he died, the statue was sealed with the keepsakes inside.

"Custom demanded that it remain closed. It is said, to open it would disturb the eternal rest of the dead.

"Our Buddha has never been opened. Sometimes my curiosity threatens to get the best of me, but my husband says no."

And so, the Buddha, with dropped eyes, smiles a half-smile, content to watch over the treasures of the past while serving as a focal point in the present.

Tigers' Skipper Continues Comeback

Dressen Visits With Players

Charlie Will Watch Series With Angels

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charlie Dressen, the somewhat subdued and temporarily sidelined little manager of the Detroit baseball club, is due to see the Tigers in game action tonight for the first time this season.

The 67-year-old skipper, stricken by a heart attack March 8, has his doctor's permission to attend the Tigers' game against the Los Angeles Angels in Chavez Ravine, and also Sunday afternoon.

* * *

"I may feel like a Martian," Charlie said with a chuckle. He explained he will be rigged with wires and electronic devices which will register his heart a pulse reactions during progress of the two games.

Dressen saw the players for the first time since the attack at their off-day workout Friday.

"Nice going," Dressen said to his interim manager and coach, Bob Swift. "I hope you win 30 in a row."

FIRST PLACE

He referred to the Tigers' 3-0 won-loss record and their position atop the American League.

"When you get back we'll be seven games in front," said outfielder Al Kaline.

Relief pitcher Julio Navarro had a special recommendation for Dressen and his recuperation program.

"Come out and run with the pitchers Saturday night," said Julio. Dressen got a laugh out of that one.

It was estimated Dressen might be back in one to three months after the attack in Florida. He flew here the same day for treatment by his own physician.

* * *

Results of the tests at the games over the weekend may provide the doctor with more information about Dressen's condition and progress.

S[illegible] FICULTY

Dressen, who was warmly greeted by the players, said it is still somewhat an effort to talk at length and his wind is short.

He was explaining his condition and ran his fingers down the side of the Detroit general manager, Jim Campbell.

* * *

"Charlie," exclaimed Campbell, "that's my right side. My heart is on the other.

"I think you're in a slump."

Bengals Ready for Preview of Team's Pennant Outlook

From Our News Wires

LOS ANGELES — Any pennant hopes the Detroit Tigers have stirred by winning their first three American League games could receive a boost or a jolt here tonight.

The first-place Tigers take on the Los Angeles Angels and a strong showing — win or lose — by Bengal starter Phil Regan will help determine Detroit's pennant outlook.

* * *

Regan sagged to a 5-10 mark last season. Most experts feel that a strong comeback by the righthander will help the Tigers in their bid to prove the preseason ratings wrong.

The concensus was that the Tigers would finish fifth.

Regan's opponent in the game that starts at 11 p.m. Michigan time will be Fred Newman who lost his first start. This will be Regan's 1965 debut.

The Tigers have a virtually unanimous explanation for their winning streak. "Team spirit."

Among the reports is interim manager Bob Swift's own declaration that he never has seen a team with such a spirit as the early-season Tigers.

PLAYERS AGREE

Swift's players already had echoed him on that score.

Al Kaline's fast start, including his winning two-run homer against the Minnesota Twins in the third victory Thursday, was given credit, too.

But the veteran star declined any bows. On the contrary, he insisted Norm Cash's earlier three-run blast was the key blow.

This sort of streak was really nothing new for Swift.

The Kansas City Athletics won 10 games in a row for Swift five years ago when Bob was replacing ailing manager Harry Kraft of the A's.

Chiefs Top Flint Team, Weather in Track Meet

Pontiac Central's track team opened its dual meet season yesterday by defeating Flint Northern and the weather at Wisner Field.

The Chiefs swept past the Vikings, 65-44, in a Saginaw Valley meet run in cold weather and on a track that would have been in much better condition if the weather had cooperated this spring.

* * *

And, by the looks of things today, the Chiefs were fortunate to have competed.

The meet was originally scheduled for Thursday, but rain forced a one day postponement. Today's snow would have forced another delay.

In fact, Bay City Handy, also scheduled to join PCH and Flint Northern, phoned its regrets and stayed home.

Bill Tipton was the only double winner for the Chiefs. He took the high and low hurdles. PCH lost another first place when Otis Newkirk, who was leading the 100, dropped out with a pulled leg muscle.

* * *

This injury has sidelined the team's top sprinter since just before the Huron Relays.

VIKING SWEEP

With Newkirk on the sidelines, Flint Northern swept all three places in the 220. But PCH retaliated by placing 1-2-3 in the pole vault and shot put.

Ken Franks took vault honors by clearing 11-6. John Knox won the shot with a heave of 47-5½. Both Knox and shot putter Jim Crump, who placed second, are expected to clear 50 feet once the weather warms up.

Dan Lavalais won the high jump for Central by clearing 6-1, but Bob Wiggins still is chasing Monroe Dent of Flint Northern in the broad jump.

The Vikings' top point-getter won with a leap of 21 feet. Wiggins has always been close in previous meetings with Dent.

Flint Northern lost earlier this week to Flint Central.

Pontiac Central will meet Waterford next Tuesday at Wisner Field at 3:30.

Ailing Lefty Koufax Making First Start

By The Associated Press

Sandy Koufax will be on ice Sunday, hopefully feeling no pain.

And when his arthritic elbow thaws out, the Los Angeles Dodgers may have their first major clue to how often their ace left-hander will be able to lend his talents to the chase for the National League pennant.

Currently labeled for use only on Sundays, the 29-year-old strikeout king makes his first start of the regular season at Philadelphia Sunday, then will take the necessary precautions by packing his elbow in ice and awaiting the results.

* * *

But since Koufax' return to the Dodgers and last Sunday's three-inning stint against Washington in an exhibition game, the uncertainity surrounding his condition has abated.

Koufax handled the Senators with little difficulty, allowing only one hit while striking out five and walking none. Afterwards he said:

"I'm ready to pitch any time. I feel better than I have the entire spring. In fact, I feel amazing."

* * *

Nevertheless, Manager Walt Alston has held Koufax out for an entire week. But Alston has been optimistic. Asked Friday to list the best things that have happened to the Dodgers since the season began, he started unhesitatingly:

"One—the recovery of Koufax."

While Koufax was preparing for his big test, slugging San Francisco first baseman Orlando Cepeda was told his right knee was mending satisfactorily and he should be ready to begin full workouts in about a week.

Cepeda, who hit .304 with 31 homers and 97 runs batted in last season, underwent surgery on the knee last December but his progress has been slow. Cepeda, however, was told that he had nothing to fear—the knee would be as good as new.

The Giants were scheduled to go under the probing eye of the television cameras Saturday in one of three games to be telecast with the aid of the isolated camera.

There were no games scheduled in the major leagues Friday.

Safari Drivers Face Problems During Race

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Britain's Pat Moss Carlsson drove her Swedish Saab to the halfway point of the 3,000 mile East African Safari today just one point behind leaders.

* * *

She reported she had lost five vital minutes after her car slammed at 60 m.p.h. into boulders deliberately scattered across the road by African villagers. Her front fender had been badly bent and she had to stop to hammer it straight.

* * *

The incident cost her the lead to another Swedish entry driven by local Sikh brothers Joginder and Jaswant Singh, whose car had been first away at the start.

* * *

Thirty autos so far have dropped out on the quagmire northern leg snaking up through axle deep mud to Uganda, capital of Kampala, and back to Nairobi.

Paint Team Rolls Into Second Place

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) —A Tacoma, Wash. team, Parker Paint, capped Friday's bowling in the Woman's International Bowling Congress tournament by taking over second place in Division II team standings.

Led by Deloryse Coberly's 539, the team put a 2386 on the board, while in the same division Amusement Sales Inc. of Seattle bowled 2372 for third place.

The tournament, which is in its 10th day today, had its highest three - game series scored Friday when Jen Kask, an Edmonds, Wash., beautician with a 169 Average, bowled games of 207-197-232 for a 636.

She led the Seattle First National Bank, Lynwood Branch, into seventh place in Division I with a 2498. Her 636 topped a series of 621 rolled last Sunday by Karen Smith, Central Point, Ore.

FEMININE CARE — Billy Martindale jumped into a tie for the lead at the $55,000 Houston Golf Classic yesterday aided by a sharp putting touch. His wife Dianna gives the club some careful cleaning after her husband fashioned a 66 Friday for a 135 36-hole total. Martindale is tied with Bert Yancey at the half-way point.

Ex-Texas Aggies Having Their Day

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Bert Yancey, a Floridian by way of Philadelphia, shared Texas Aggie Day at the $55,000 Houston Golf Classic today with Billy Martindale and Bobby Nichols.

* * *

Yancey and Martindale were tied for the lead at the half-way mark in the 72-hole chase for $12,000 in top money with 135 totals.

* * *

Martindale shot a 66 Friday, and Yancey came in with a 70.

Nichols, the 1964 PGA champion, blew a two-foot putt on the final green to drop one stroke off the pace. He had a 69 for a 136 total.

BIG DAY

Aggie grads were expected to swarm onto the 7,233-yard par 71 Sharpstown Country club course because Nichols, 29, was a member of the class of 1958, and Martindale, 26, followed in 1961.

* * *

Nichols is accustomed to having a cheering Aggie gallery to follow him in Houston. They got into the habit in 1962 when the former Southwest Conference champion won the Classic and $9,000.

Tied at 137 were Bruce Devlin of Australia and Don January, the 1960 PGA runner-up from Dallas, Tex.

Redskins' Golf Squad Makes Holly Win No. 2

Milford's golf team made it two straight by whipping Holly, 157-167, Friday on the Highland Golf Course.

Adrian Campbell had a par 36 and Pete Castle was one stroke behind him for the winners. Holly's low man was Aaron Remsing with 40. It was the Broncos' first match.

In Boston Marathon Race

European Defending Crown

BOSTON (AP) —Two - time defending champion Aurele Vandendriessche of Belgium heads a quartet of former winners in a record field of 441 for the 69th Boston AA Marathon Monday.

Although there are 50 more entries than in any previous BAA test, the winner is expected to be one of eight — Vandendriessche, two Finns and five Japanese.

Eino Oksanen, 34-year-old Helsinki detective who won here in 1959, 1961 and 1962, has brought Finnish national champion Eino Valle with him. Finland has had six BAA winners in 11 years.

The Japanese, who won this event three times in the 1951-55 span, have dispatched a swift delegation headed by Takayuki Nakao, 26, author of a 2:15.37 clocking last December. Vandendriessche holds the Boston course mark of 2:18:58. The other men of Nippon are Morio Shigematsu, Hideaki Shishibo, Yoshikazi Funasako and Kazuo Matsubara.

Domestic runners are given no chance at all. Johnny Kelley, the younger, from Groton, Conn., only American winner of the past 19 years, is reportedly not sufficiently trained. Johnny Kelley the elder, no relation, is entering for the 35th time and is a sentimental favorite at 57 years. He won in 1935 and 1945.

Jock Semple, longtime BAA trainer, calls it "the poorest American field ever."

Canadians are rated a slim outside chance with a strong 19-man invasion led by Ron Wallingford of Hamilton, Ont., a surprise third-place finisher last year.

The new finish line at the Prudential Center in Boston's Back Bay has shortened the course at that end by 1,159 feet, 6 inches so it was extended exactly the same distance at the start in Hopkinton to keep the traditional 26-mile, 385-yard distance.

Chicago Star Eying Record in Cup Finals

Montreal Forum Site of Opening Contest for Playoff Crown

MONTREAL (AP) — Bobby Hull, the Chicago Black Hawks' blond bomber, has his sights set on several records and if he succeeds the Chicago Black Hawks might capture their first Stanley Cup championship in four years.

The Hawks eliminated Detroit's National Hockey League champions in the seventh game of the semifinals Thursday and open the best-of-7 finals in Montreal tonight.

* * *

Hull scored eight goals and had five assists for 13 points against Detroit. The eight goals tied a semifinal record which Hull shares with Detroit's Gordie Howe and Jerry Toppazzini of Boston.

This leaves Hull only four goals short of the playoff record of 12 shared by Montreal's Maurice Richard and Jean Beliveau and only eight points short of the 21 made by teammate Stan Mikita in the 1962 playoffs.

Anything Hull does on the ice shouldn't surprise anyone, but his resurgence in the series was unexpected because of injuries which thwarted his goal-scoring record attempt during the regular season.

ONLY SEVEN

Hull scored 32 goals in the first half of the season but was limited to seven in the last half as he first injured one knee and then the other.

* * *

When the Hawks had been eliminated from the NHL title race and could do no better or worse than third place, Hull sat out the final 10 days of the season. He returned when the playoffs started and improved to the point where it appears he has recovered completely.

* * *

"I'm not really sure," Hull said. "I don't believe the knees were completely tested in the Detroit series. I went down a few times, but I never received a solid whack and don't know if they will hold up if I get hit. I sure hope so."

Aside from Hull, the Hawks have two other players injured. Pierre Pilote, playing with a bad back, suffered a blow to his left shoulder which could be a slight separation. Forward Kenny Wharram strained ligaments in both knees in the final Detroit battle.

GOOD SHAPE

Montreal, well rested after concluding its series against Toronto in six games last Tuesday, will be in good shape except for the loss of defenseman Jacques Laperrier. He will miss the series because of a broken leg suffered in the finale against the Maple Leafs.

The second game of the series will be played in Montreal Tuesday and then the scene will shift to Chicago for games Thursday and next Sunday.

Four Schoolboys Still in Running for Mat Crowns

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Four high school boys were still in the running today in the final sessions of the 1965 National AAU Freestyle Wrestling Championships at San Francisco's Olympic Club.

The championships this year have amounted to a tournament of upsets.

Friday night, for instance, Ed DeWitt of Portland, Ore. — a former NCAA wrestling champion and an U.S. Olympic team member — was eliminated from competition by a decision to Frank Hankin of Phoenix. The decision loss cost DeWitt two bad points in the tournament in which six bad points means elimination.
