Guardsmen, Police Battle Detroit Snipers; Gunfire Kills 10 More

DETROIT (AP)—National Guardsmen and police raked buildings and rubble-strewn streets with machine-gun and small-arms fire today as they battled elusive snipers on Detroit's war-torn West Side.

Only an occasional shot replaced the stutter of automatic weapons as the city's third night of racial terror ended.

Cyrus Vance, a special assistant in the Defense Department and President Johnson's deputy on the scene, said there had been a "substantial reduction in the incident rate" in the past few hours but that more people would die before violence ended.

"I can't predict how long we can expect further sniper incidents," Vance told newsmen. "You have to dig them out."

Vance said there were still no plans to move Army paratroopers from the now apparently secured East Side to replace beleaguered National Guardsmen on the West Side, scene of hours-long pitched battles that claimed 10 more lives during the night.

KILLED BY GUNFIRE

The 10 persons were killed by gunfire, some apparently by accident, raising the toll of dead in two days and three nights to 33.

Vance said Lt. Gen. John Throckmorton, commander of the paratroopers and of the federalized Guardsmen, estimated there were more than 100 snipers left in the city.

"At this point, it is our conclusion that this is not a highly organized thing," he added.

Two city policemen and possibly five guardsmen were wounded in pitched battles, frequently sparked by the single report of a small weapon or the whine of a bullet.

A National Guard tank rumbled over cars drawn across a street in one area and poured bursts of 50-caliber machine-gun bullets into the darkness for more than half an hour after scattered shots struck its side.

Several blocks away a single shot from a small-caliber rifle halted another tank, and within minutes 20 police cars, each carrying four men, pulled up at the scene.

Fusillades from a light machine gun, rifles and shotguns drew occasional shots, but again the sniper or snipers got away.

Two Negroes were gunned down in their car by Guardsmen at a roadblock near a Fire Department command post. A fire captain told Guardsmen to open up when one of them leaned from a window with a pistol.

NEARLY WORST

With the new deaths, Detroit's riots were two short of being the costliest in terms of human life in recent U. S. history. Thirty-four died at Watts in 1965.

It already is the costliest in all other respects.

Injuries climbed to more than 1,000 with 280 hospitalized. City officials said property damage and business losses in the two days and three nights of rebellion could reach $1 billion.

New fires set by arsonists and looters boosted the total to 1,145. Arrests mounted to 2,623 with bail as high as $200,000 set for suspected snipers.

City Tense but Uneventful

By MEL NEWMAN

Pontiac spent a tense but relatively uneventful evening in the wake of civil disturbances the night before.

Law enforcement officials could no more explain why trouble didn't reignite than they could determine what caused the explosion of vandalism the night before.

They are merely thankful and cautiously optimistic.

Pontiac Mayor William H. Taylor, Jr., said today the 9 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. curfew will be continued indefinitely.

★ ★ ★

Col. Fredrick Davids, director of the Michigan State Police, has extended the ban on sales of alcoholic beverages in the entire southeastern portion of Michigan.

Because the situation is unpredictable, no one is taking anything for granted.

One police sergeant commented today that "we don't know what last night's peace meant."

City police headquarters resembled a war zone mustering station the past 48 hours, with patrol cars and paddy wagons from eight agencies packing the station parking lot.

Some officers brought their own guns from home to supplement the supply of service firearms.

However, none was needed.

Some 40 arrests were made — one for public drunkeness, the rest for curfew violations.

Other activity was concerned with the tedious grind of waiting and watching, with tracking down tips and rumors and stepped-up patrols in the streets.

The violence of the night before, which led to two deaths, 87 arrests and more than 50 fires attributed to arsonists, led police to a state of ultimate preparedness.

Law enforcement personnel knew they might be fired upon, as was Patrolman Santiago Serna the night before, while driving a squad car.

SATISFACTORY CONDITION

Serna remains in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital with shotgun wounds in the neck.

Some officers speculated that there was no violence last night because of effective action by police during the height of the crisis.

This is certainly a "big factor," according to administrators, who hastened to add that they remain prepared.

Riot Cost May Hit $1 Billion in Metro Area

DETROIT (AP) — The cost of rioting in the three-county Detroit metropolitan area eventually could reach $1 billion, predicts Dwight Havens, president of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce.

"Beyond this," he added, "you've got your costs that are directly involved in the looting itself. There's material that is either stolen or damaged beyond recall. There's obviously going to be a large loss of tax revenue. We are estimating that the total loss in retail sales alone may be $60 million."

Payroll loss? "We can't even get a guess from the major employers at this time," Havens said.

"If this had happened at a different time, when the auto companies were operating at full steam, this could have been much worse than it is," he said.

Beyond that, Havens said, "we've got other losses which are harder to pin down — such as our convention business, and I'm sure it's already affected our recreation business.

The effects of the curfew alone are expected to cost millions, since many businesses operate at night.

"Beyond that," Havens concluded, "I don't know how you put a price tag on injury and death that are involved."

Cooperation of Citizenry Praised by Mayor Taylor

In the wake of a relatively quiet night, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. this morning expressed "thanks and gratitude for the cooperation received from all citizens in all parts" of the city last night.

★ ★ ★

Taylor issued a statement on behalf of the City Commission, the police and fire departments and leaders of various groups, both Negro and white.

"Only by this unity of purpose are we able to maintain law and order . . . and have it be meaningful," he said.

Taylor said city officials will strive to solve existing problems. "I pledge to continue to set up lines of communication . . . so that action instead of promises are accomplished."

Revealing that more than 40 persons were detained or arrested by police during the night and early morning, the mayor said the police department will be fully enforcing the curfew until further notice.

"You should not be on the streets between 9 p.m. and 5:30 a.m. unless you can prove your identity and necessity of your trip," he said.

★ ★ ★

Stating that "every precaution and preparation is being maintained," he said the city will call on "any and all resources available to use to maintain law and order . . . and to prevent destruction to property."

Area Community Curfews Listed

As of noon today, the following communities planned curfews for tonight, generally from 9 p.m. to 5:30 a.m.:

Pontiac, Waterford Township, Birmingham, Avon Township, Rochester, Pontiac Township, Lake Orion, Oxford, Oxford Township, Farmington.

Farmington Township, Keego Harbor, Milford, Novi, West Bloomfield Township, Wixom, Walled Lake, Wolverine Lake, Holly, Ortonville, Brandon Township, Orion Township.

Bomb Found on Train

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — A time bomb was discovered aboard an Istanbul-Munich express just after it had crossed from Austria into West Germany with about 500 passengers, police reported yesterday.

Showers Are Expected

Showers and thundershowers are on the agenda for the Pontiac area late today and tonight with temperatures falling to 56 to 63 tonight.

Partly sunny with the high reaching for the 80s and a little cooler is the outlook for tomorrow. Fair with moderate temperatures is Friday's forecast.

Precipitation probabilities for the period in per cent are: Today 30, tonight 50, tomorrow 20.

School Levy Loses in Holly

While the Holly School District was losing its second request for a millage levy yesterday, the Troy district board was voting to give its request another try.

In Holly, voters were asked to supply 10 mills, three of which represented a tax increase.

The issue lost, 528 to 407. This was said to be the largest turnout in the district's history for a tax vote.

The margin of defeat was larger than in June when the tally was 377-328.

★ ★ ★

Troy district voters in June walloped a millage request by a 2½-1 margin. But last night over 230 petitioners asked the board to call another election.

DEFICIT THREATENED

District officials claim Troy will face a $465,000 deficit unless additional revenues are raised.

The second election try will be Sept. 11 with seven mills being asked for only one year — enough to approximately cut the deficit in half.

In Holly, voters rejected about one-fifth of the district's operating revenue. Officials were requesting the millage increase, along with an expiring seven mills, to handle expected higher salary demands and general cost increases along with increased enrollment.

THIRD ATTEMPT

A third try at raising millage could be called Aug. 31, but this may be for a smaller amount than 10 mills, Holly School officials indicated.

City Housing Needs Reported

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the first of a two-part series).

According to any standards, Pontiac is not only short on adequate housing but suffers from having a disproportionate share of depreciated, delapidated and unfit housing units.

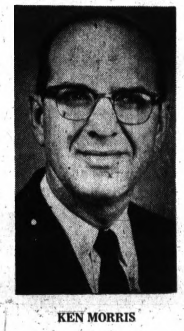
These conclusions are among those reached in a housing survey and report dispersed this week to members of the Citizens Housing Study Committee, a group of Pontiac citizens, business, social, labor and civic leaders.

The committee — headed by Howard H. Fitzgerald II, publisher of The Pontiac Press — was formed last year because of concern by the citizens over housing problems. Funds were raised from private sources to have the survey made by a nationally known firm of real estate consultants, Larry Smith & Co., Inc., a Washington, D.C.-based firm.

While the report cites extensively the area's ills and problems it strikes a hopeful note.

Ken Morris, who heads the executive committee and is a regional director for the UAW, said he is very enthusiastic that the report can be used as a guideline for future development.



KEN MORRIS

It lauds the role played by many city officials, private investors and community leaders and says that Pontiac has the resources to meet future challenges.

"If the (city's) housing problems can be solved, then almost every problem facing the community can be solved," it states.

Some of the problems as cited by the economists:

★ ★ ★

● Not enough housing units. "Pontiac is not currently satisfying the housing needs of all of its citizens. In addition, it is not ideally competitive with surrounding townships in providing for the housing needs of many workers and others who might prefer a location in the city if adequate housing were available."

★ ★ ★

● Age of the housing units available is for the most part much older than other areas. About 68 per cent were built before 1940. This compares with 35 per cent in Oakland County and 53 per

Saginaw Upset as 5 Are Shot

By The Associated Press

At least five persons were shot and wounded in Saginaw after the city's Negro mayor spurned a federation of civil rights groups.

It marked new racial violence Tuesday night in outstate Michigan — where outbreaks now have struck Grand Rapids, Pontiac, Flint, Muskegon and Benton Harbor.

Saginaw officers arrested 64 persons and engaged in a gun battle with snipers, during which the five persons were wounded slightly.

The situation in Grand Rapids tapered off to an uneasy calm at midnight after three Negroes were shot and slightly wounded while trying to urge nonviolence to an angry crowd. Houses were burned and sniping erupted.

Fifty-four Flint residents were arrested Tuesday night, but a campaign by Negroes to keep would-be rioters off the streets appeared successful.

The Saginaw situation began brewing in the afternoon. Delegates from United Power, a coalition of civil rights groups, tried to attend what they thought was a public meeting to air Negro grievances with Mayor Henry G. Marsh. They were told at the door that the meeting was by invitation only.

"The only way black people can get heard is to march," one angry United Power member cried and stomped out of the meeting. Soon, 50 marchers were heading for downtown Saginaw.

They sat down in the main intersection, Washington and Genesee, and demanded to see Marsh, who was elected with heavy white support and terms himself a racial moderate. The mayor refused. The sit-in grew to an estimated 500 persons. Downtown traffic was snarled.

Finally the mayor came to a downtown hotel. There was a 20-minute grievance meeting. "He got emotional," said one Negro. "He told us that he didn't want to listen to any more of our garbage."

The Negroes walked out stoney-faced, disregarded newsmen and sent the sit-ins home. The mayor went home. Then the violence began.

Powell Calls News Confab

BIMINI, Bahamas (AP) — Harlem's elected but unseated representative, Adam Clayton Powell, called newsmen to his retreat in the British West Indies again today for what an aide said would be "an announcement of importance."

★ ★ ★

Chuck Stone, an aide in Powell's Washington office, said the former congressman would hold a news conference in a hotel.

★ ★ ★

Powell, 59, faces a jail term of at least 90 days in New York for criminal contempt of court. He has remained on the tiny island of Bimini since his exclusion from Congress March 1. A congressional committee reported the veteran congressman had misused public funds.

★ ★ ★

Although he won overwhelmingly in a special election to fill his former seat, Powell has remained in the British colony where he is immune from arrest.

MAKES CHARGE

Powell has charged his case was treated severely because he was a Negro. At his last news conference at Bimini, he said the censure of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., proved that a white man can escape punishment when a Negro cannot.

YOUNG FASHION—The Young Pacesetter department is an innovation to be featured at the Winkelman's store which opens tomorrow in the fashion addition at The Pontiac Mall. The store will offer a complete shoe department, a ready-to-wear section and a closed-stock area where customers are shown fashions individually.

Racial Tension News in Brief

By The Associated Press

DETROIT — A third night of terror brought the city's riot death toll to 33.

SAGINAW, Mich. — At least eight persons were wounded in an outbreak of sniping in the city 100 miles from Detroit.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — Three members of a volunteer group trying to keep trouble makers at home were hit by sniper fire.

NEW YORK — Relative calm prevailed in Spanish Harlem, where heavy rain and a solemn religions procession quieted crowds.

CHICAGO — West Side experienced a five-block outbreak of looting, but police said it was brought under control.

CLEVELAND, Ohio — Firebombs exploded along Hough Avenue, scene of rioting that took five lives last year.

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Sniper fire broke out in a Negro section of the city.

Violence was also reported in Toledo, Ohio, and Mount Vernon, N.Y., a New York City suburb. Calm came to Pontiac, Mich., Rochester, N.Y., and Englewood, N.J.

New Winkelman's Will Open at Mall

In keeping with a Winkelman Stores, Inc., tradition, all women who enter the store at the Pontiac Mall will receive long-stemmed red roses.

Winkelman's has coordinated its opening with that of the new fashion corridor on the southwest side of the Mall.

The Mall store offers an innovation for Winkelman's: A new department called the Young Pacesetter, featuring fashions from all of the other departments earmarked for young taste.

A complete shoe department, the first in a Winkelman's in the Pontiac area, is at the rear of the store.

Winkelman's is noted for the closed-stock method of selling where customers are taken to private dressing rooms and shown merchandise individually rather than looking through racks on the selling floor, according to a company spokesman.

★ ★ ★

There are also lingerie, sportswear, millinery, and ready-to-wear areas in the new store.

Manager of the new store is Irving Protetch of Oak Park. He was formerly manager of one of Winkelman's greater Detroit stores.

★ ★ ★

The store is decorated with natural woods and shades of blue, olive, gold and beige. The marble store front is in keeping with the designs carried out in the fashion mall.

★ ★ ★

The Mall store is Winkelman's 53rd and the second in the Pontiac area. The company, which is 39 years old, is currently embarked in an expansion program involving 16 new stores planned for opening through 1971.

Bloomfield Twp. Rejects Sewer Construction Bids

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has rejected sewer construction projects again because bids came in too high.

Two separate assessment districts have been formed in Colonial Estates subdivision near Telegraph and Hickory Grove and bids asked for.

One district with 50 sites carried an estimated cost of $89,000. However, bids came in as high as $152,000 (over $3,000 per site) with the closes bid still well over the 10 per cent leeway allowed.

The smaller district with 18 sites was advertised for the second time at an estimated cost of $20,800, but bids came in as high as $44,000 with the closes about $8,000 over estimates.

★ ★ ★

Board members said bids on all work have been high because contractors have all the work they can handle and are not really ready to do the work at this time.

It was decided to try again on the projects later in the year.

Formation of another assessment district for sewers with a high cost per-site was approved. Estimates put construction at nearly $3,000 each for 27 sites in Woodcrest Farms subdivision near Lone Pine and Franklin.

Hearing on the roll was set for 8:30 p.m., Sept. 24.

★ ★ ★

Second hearing date was moved up to 8 p.m., Aug. 28 for a sewer district with 29 lots in subdivisions near Woodward and Big Beaver.

JOB ESTIMATE

Job estimate is $19,100 for 29 units.

Formation of two assessment districts for water installation was approved: Lone Pine Road subdivision, 76 lots at $1,381, estimated cost $105,000; hearing date 9 p.m., Sept. 11; and 48 sites in subdivisions near Quarton and Lahser, estimated cost $36,300 at $756 per site, hearing 8 p.m., Sept. 25.

Rezoning for land near I-75 and South Boulevard was rejected. Developers asked zoning be changed from residential to allow for business and multiple dwellings.

Store Closings Near Normal

Most area stores are closing at normal times or a few minutes early today in compliance with the 9 p.m. curfew still in effect in Pontiac.

Pontiac buses are running normally although they did not run yesterday. The Grand Trunk Western Railroad commuter train to Detroit is again on normal schedule after being disrupted yesterday.

Banks and business offices are apparently opening and closing at the usual times today.

A spokesman for J.C. Penny Co. said the store would probably close at 8:30 p.m. so that employes could be home by 9 p.m. if there is a curfew. He said he suspected that many of the other Miracle Mile stores would do the same. Lion Store has announced it will close at 8:30 p.m.

At publication time, a spokesman for the Pontiac Mall said it had not yet been decided how late the Mall would stay open tonight.

Fisher Body employes of all shifts should report to work as normal today, a spokesman said.

Pontiac Motor Division employes of all shifts should also report to work at the regular times today, according to a company spokesman.

GMC Truck and Coach Division announced a change of shift times so no one would violate the curfew. Starting tonight, all second shift employes are requested to come to work at 8 p.m. instead of their scheduled starting time. Release time will be 5:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Citizens' Panel Reports on City's Housing Needs

cent in a tri-county metro area. area.

● Heavy deterioration. According to 1960 census, the economists say, some 14 per cent of the housing is deteriorated and nearly 3 per cent dilapidated. In some areas the percentage of unsound housing units runs as high as 42 per cent.

● Overcrowding. Using the census figures again, they said about 12 per cent of all households were overcrowded, that is when the number of persons per rooms exceeds 1.01. Overcrowding concentrates in areas with the highest incidence of blight.

● Depreciated housing. In 1960 nearly 6 per cent of the single family, owner occupied homes were valued at less than $5,000. This compares with 2.2 per cent of Oakland County and 2 per cent for the tri-county area.

● Lack of land. Except in the northern and eastern sections there is little available land.

The economists recommend alleviating some of the problems by "vigorous enforcement of building and housing codes and rehabilitation standards."

"Urban renewal should also provide for rehabilitation of structurally sound, but inadequate, housing. In some areas, like Crystal Beach, where housing is generally unfit for habitation, rehabilitation is not feasible and major redevelopment must be undertaken," they said.

A major recommendation is formation of a nonprofit organization for development and improvement.

"Since many government programs are inadequate and inflexible," a private organization can win support for low-cost housing, they said.

The organization should, the report said, seek development of lower and middle income rental housing, assist minority group families in renting or purchase, and also work toward maximum effective use of federal grants, loans and mortgage insurance programs for low income, elderly and displaced persons.

★ ★ ★

New construction is only a partial solution to the housing problems, the firm said. Large scale rehabilitation is necessary because:

"The resources of the community are simply incapable of meeting the total demand.

"It is doubtful whether any program involving state or federal cooperation would provide the resources necessary for demolition of a sufficient number of dwellings to provide for adequate new construction."

Detroit Looters Busy Trying to Sell Goods

DETROIT (AP) — Black marketing of looted goods was an underground hubbub in riot-torn Detroit's surface calm Tuesday.

If you showed up at the right place at the right time, you could walk away with a $500 television set for $100—maybe less.

"Talk me down, maybe I'll cut the price," temporary entrepreneurs urged prospective but reluctant buyers.

The black marketers in some cases were anxious to unload the merchandise because of rumors that soldiers might search some areas for stolen goods.

"Most of the stuff is hidden now in trunks of cars and other places," one loot-rich man confided. "Wait about three weeks and things will start coming out — people will be wearing new clothes or selling the stuff in bowling alleys, places like that."

At a restaurant on Livernois, which was the northwestern limit of the most serious destruction in the city, one fellow walked in with Magnavox equipment, a radio under one arm, a tape recorder under the other.

"Each is worth about $125," he said to a diner who seemed interested. "I can let you have 'em for $50 each."

The diner wondered about needing proof of purchase—like a receipt from an established business place.

HAS IBM CARDS

"You don't need a receipt—it's still got the IBM cards on the boxes," the seller said.

"I don't know."

"Look, man, go down to some store where you know somebody, slip him a few bucks, and get him to get you a receipt," said the seller.

Hearing Slated on Control of Boats in Cass Lake Bay

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Residents can air their opinions of boat control on Gerundecut Bay in Cass Lake tomorrow at a public hearing to be held by the Michigan Department of Conservation.

★ ★ ★

The hearing will be at 10 a.m. at the Lambert Elementary School, 3576 Cass-Elizabeth Lake.

The West Bloomfield and Waterford Township boards requested the hearing.

An Oakland County Sheriff's Department representative located the chief problem area as the 13-acre bay in the northwest part of the lake.

Cass Lake is the county's largest lake.

PROBLEMS

Some of the problems are water skiers and high-speed boaters, said Lt. Donald Kratt of the sheriff's department. He said a township ordinance stopping speed-boating could be enforced by the water safety division of the sheriff's department.

Kratt estimated there are 1,100 registered power boats on Cass Lake this year.

Festival Is Reset

FARMINGTON—The Farmington Founders Festival and Centennial is postponed to Aug. 24, 25 and 26. It was to be held tomorrow through Saturday.

Area police officials requested the postponement because of the Detroit disturbance, said a Farmington Chamber of Commerce spokesman.

Most activities already scheduled for the event will still be run on the later dates, said Mrs. Robert Benya, Chamber of Commerce secretary. Any definite changes are now unknown, she added.

Plans for the event included a beauty contest, band concert, Elks ox roast, threshers dinner, a parade, community dances, art exhibit, Jaycee chicken bar-b-que, and softball games.

★ ★ ★

United States Sen. Philip A. Hart and Congressman Jack McDonald were to speak at the festival.

3 Posts Filled in Farmington District Schools

FARMINGTON—The appointments of three new administrators have been approved by the board of education.

Gerald G. Potter will be the new assistant principal at Farmington High School. He is replacing Clayton Graham, who will be the principal of North Farmington High School.

Potter has been in the Farmington schools since 1961. He taught business education at Farmington High School until last year when he worked with attendance and counseling.

Richard J. Ruiter and Peter F. Forge will replace Kenbrook Elementary School Principal Jack Cleveland and Beachview Elementary School Principal Kenneth Lachmann.

The board will decide later which new principle will fill which opening, said Supt. Roderick Smith.

ADULT EDUCATION

Cleveland is now serving as head of the adult education and federal programs for the school district. Lachmann will be an elementary school principal in New Mexico.

Ruiter has taught fourth grade at Larkshire Elementary since 1963. Before that he taught for one year in Bloomingdale.

Forge had been teaching sixth grade at Fairview Elementary last year. His other experience includes one year teaching grades three through five at Warren Bow School and nine years in sales training at a firm in Pittsburgh.

The board also hired the architectural firm of Linn Smith, Demiene, Kasprzak and Adams, Inc., of Birmingham for the new Harrison High School.

PRELIMINARY PLANS

The board expects preliminary plans for the $6-million school in late fall or early winter, said Smith. Construction bids will be accepted in spring, he added.

The new school is scheduled to open in fall of 1969. It will house about 50 classrooms, a large gym, a pool and cafeteria.

Rochester Negro Comments

Rioters' Parents Are Blamed

By JEAN SAILE

ROCHESTER — William Lothery is Negro. He lives in white, middle-class suburbia. What does he think of the Detroit riots?

Lothery, who coins phrases with the relish of a good storyteller, is philosophical.

"This isn't a racial fight," he affirmed. "It's the have-nots against the haves. And do you know why they're have-nots?" he asked.

"It's because their parents didn't raise them up right.

"There's three kinds of people in this world — the wills, the won'ts and the can'ts.

"You can't stop the first kind. The second kind would, but they won't and the third kind wouldn't if you paid them $90 an hour."

WORKS AS MECHANIC

Lothery, 60, was sitting on an unused bus seat in front of the Rochester Community Schools bus garage where he is employed as a mechanic. The sun was warm—work was light—and there was time for reflection.

"Children — like that," and he held his hand some two feet off the ground, "they have to be taught. They say, 'Can I do this?' and you say 'No,' and they ask again and you say 'No' and the third time they ask you say 'Yes' and you lose control."

He continued, "We give our children too much when they're growing up — a car, nice clothes, allowances, so we have trouble."

★ ★ ★

Asked if he didn't think poverty was a contributing factor to the disturbances, Lothery, who with his wife Burrie has raised six children, said, "If it was, I'd be down there."

'EDUCATION NO HELP'

"I don't even think education helps too much. There's a lot of educated people down there," said the Kentucky high school graduate.

"It's a matter of respect — your respect for me and my respect for you. It's a mutual agreement."

It's easy to respect the tall, 6-feet-2, soft-spoken Negro who admits to some Irish heritage. A resident of Rochester since 1933, coming from Romeo, he was asked how he'd found life in the small, eastern Oakland County city.

"You want to know the truth?" he asked.

"I don't think they could have treated me any better. I can go any place in town and get what I want, just like that" and he snapped his fingers.

SONS IN SERVICE

Two of Lothery's sons are currently in the armed services. Another is in a Veterans' Hospital and a fourth has found a niche in television production on the West Coast. His two daughters are married, one living in Pontiac and the other in California.

Summing up the philosophy by which he's lived and by which he's attempted to raise his family, he said, "If you want a friend, you must first be one."

School Service Contracts OK'd by South Lyon

SOUTH LYON — The board of education accepted milk, student insurance and plumbing bids at its recent meeting.

Hamburg Dairy of Hamburg will again be supplying milk to students. This year the eight ounces will cost 6.4 cents — four-tenths of a cent higher than last year.

Either milk or lunch prices will probably rise because of the .4-cent increase, said schools business manager Robert Jenkins. The cafeteria manager will make the price adjustment, he added.

The Letzring Insurance Agency of South Lyon will handle insurance for students. This firm has served the schools for about the past five years, Jenkins said.

★ ★ ★

The rate for kindergarten through sixth grade students is $1.50. The rate for seventh through 12th grade students is $1.75.

MOBILE CLASSROOMS

The board accepted the $3,000 bid of Leonard Reith Co., Chelsea, to install plumbing in five mobile classrooms. These units will bring the total to eight leased by South Lyon schools. They will alleviate the pupil load in the regular school buildings said Jenkins.

In the fall, two units will be at Salem Elementary, three at South Lyon Elementary, two at Sayre Elementary and Junior High, and one at the high school.

The board also received a school enrollment projection for Salem Township. Board members will consider the figures in determining where a new elementary school or an elementary addition should be built, said Jenkins.

The Salem Elementary building was designed to include 13 classrooms. It now has six and stands as a possible site for school expansion, Jenkins said.

Park Is Memorial to Utica Teacher

UTICA — A small park at Sterling Junior High School has been officially named the Richard E. Bone Park, in honor of the 28-year-old Utica School District teacher who died June 13 as a result of injuries in a car accident.

The board of education approved the name in concurrence with a recommendation by the Sterling Parks and Recreation Department.

"It is the least we can do for a young man who devoted his life and career to the people of Sterling Township and the Utica Community School District," officials said.

In other business, John Buchalski, 39, former acting assistant principal at Sherrard Junior High School, Detroit, was named assistant principal at the new Adlai Stevenson High School due to open in January.

He will assist Dr. Robert Ulrich, former principal of Kettering High School, Detroit.

Richard Gwinn, 33, former principal of Dresden Elementary School, was named principal of Morgan Elementary School, 53800 Mound, Shelby Township. His appointment creates a vacancy at Dresden.

The board voted to ratify the secretaries' contract granting them a 12 per cent increase in wages.

Attends Annual Course

LAKE ORION — Dr. W. W. Oliphant, 815 N. Lapeer, is among 220 physicians from 37 states enrolled for the week-long 13th annual General Practice Review at the University of Colorado Medical Center, Denver, which began Monday.

Farmington Township Delays Four Planning Hearings Till August

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Four public hearings set for tomorrow night before the Township Planning Commission meeting have been postponed until next month, said Township Supervisor Curtis H. Hall.

The postponement is due to the township's curfew, said Hall. In addition, several persons on the agenda are from Detroit, he said.

The hearing included a request to rezone about 25 acres, just north of the I-696 expressway from residential to office. George and Thomas Duke made the request.

Another scheduled rezoning is for a parking lot extension at the U.S. Tool and Cutter Co., 28975 Orchard Lake.

The other hearings were for a proposed ordinance amendment on the parking, sales and rental of motor bikes and a new clasisfication of planned business districts.

Troy Commission Approves Plans for a New $50,000 Fire Station

TROY — Plans for a new $50,000 fire station and additions to an existing station have been approved by the City Commission.

The new firehouse will be on Big Beaver and Rochester. Additions will be made to the fire station at Maple and John R.

Architects for the projects will be Louis G. Redstone Associates.

An outline for a city center plan was discussed. The future project will include zoning and construction for the area around Big Beaver and I-75 where the municipal building is located.

Proposed plat for a 140-lot subdivision was granted preliminary approval. It will be constructed north of Maple and east of John R. and be named Eva Haus Subdivision.

Shell Oil Co. was given approval for a building permit for a station at Big Beaver and Rochester and rezoning at another site at John R and Big Beaver.

A $25,160 sewer project was approved for the Dequinder-14 Mile area. The project is to be 100 per cent assessed at $8.85 per front foot and two cents per square foot.

Paving for Lakewood Subdivision, to be constructed between Wattles and Long Lake near I-75, was approved at a cost of $88,277, $18.58 per front foot, 100 per cent assessed.

Huron Valley Okays Final School Plans

The Huron Valley Board of Education has unanimously approved the final preliminary plans for the third elementary school.

Architect Richard Prince and Associates, Kalamazoo, presented the plans for the estimated $1.1 million school.

In addition, representatives of the teacher - custodian - administration committee presented the job specifications they had compiled. The committee met for two weeks, Administrative Asst. Jerry Kratz said.

The new school will be located southeast of the Watson Builder Supply store, 1100 E. Commerce. The board expects to be able to approve complete plans for the school Sept. 11, and accept construction bids Oct. 3, said Kratz. Completion date is set for Sept. 1, 1968.

The new school building with movable walls will stress flexibility, Kratz said. It will include three classrooms, a conference center, cafeteria, gym, resource-library room, speech and reading rooms, office area, and a special projects room open for public use.

MILLAGE LEVY

The board also levied 30.6 mills for operating expenses and debt retirement. Of that total, 23.6 mills — the 8.6 allocated mills and the 15 extra voted mills — will go for operating expenses. The remaining seven mills are for debt retirement.

★ ★ ★

The board elected Arthur Burklund, a new member, president. Burklund, now retired, is a former administrator of the Huron Valley schools.

2 State Marines Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Michigan Marines have died of wounds in Vietnam, the Pentagon announced yesterday.

The were Pfc. Ronald R. Barcalow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Barcalow, Reese; and Pfc. Theodore E. Westbrook, son of Mr. Valdy H. Westbrook, Sand Lake.

Washington Trip Awaits 20 4-H'ers

A short course in citizenship will be offered 20 Oakland County 4-H members as part of a week's trip to the nation's capital, starting Aug. 5.

The 20, all participants in a local series of governmental discussions and tours, are expected to gain a better understanding of national problems and their citizenship responsibilities.

Those attending include Lewis Lawrence of Holly, Tom Johnson of Lake Orion, Linda Richards of Milford, Dan Hess of Holly, Norman Mills of Holly, Laurel Hewitt of Davisburg, Lennie Johnson of Lake Orion and Mary Morse of Highland.

Others are Gloria Dickson of Lake Orion, Patty Wright of Ortonville, Lenn Dalaba of Ortonville, Beryl Austin of Clarkston, Sue Butler of Oxford, Karen Mills of Holly and Gail Kilbourn of Ortonville.

Still others are Sigrid Medlen of Ortonville, Karin Rose of Rochester, Sandy Tilton of Ortonville and Bradley and Virginia Scott of Oxford.

SCHOOL BALLOTING—At Davisburg Elementary School in Rose Township, Mrs. May Pennell (right) of 320 Davisburg Road gets a ballot from election official Mrs. Karl Jubelt of 12171 Andersonville. Voters were deciding on a 10-mill levy request by the Holly School District. The issue was defeated for a second time. The vote was 528-407.

Wixom Rezones Land for Industry

WIXOM — The City Council last night approved the rezoning for a 340-acre industrial subdivision.

The land is on the south side of Pontiac Trail, near the western city limits. It includes 56.7 acres of Spencer's Airport.

Vernon Spencer, owner of the airport, and William Buber requested the rezoning and plan to develop the site.

The legal classification of the land is now light manufacturing. It was zoned single family residential.

Included in the rezoning approval was a greenbelt requirement between the industrial and residential areas.

The council also heard a building department report for fiscal year 1967, which ended June 30. The department issued a total of 42 building permits with a total valuation of $801,560. Permit fees amounted to $3,180.

Hudson's New Store Reflects Optimism

One gauge of the growth and character of a community is found in the size and quality of its business establishments.

In this respect, the new J. L. Hudson Company Store at Pontiac Mall is an important indication of things to come for the Pontiac area.

HUDSON

The company's young, dynamic president, JOSEPH L. HUDSON JR., made that point clear in his remarks to members of the news media gathered at a special preview of the new store. Referring to the new store as "big league by any standard," he emphasized that it is located "right in the heart of a rapidly expanding community."

★ ★ ★

Hudson noted that total transformation of the former budget store to a full-line facility, which "is amongst the largest of the department store branches in America," was triggered by estimates that the Pontiac trading area would almost double its present population by 1980.

In 1960, the Pontiac trading area population stood at about 330,000. That should increase to 451,000 people by 1970 and is estimated to reach 649,000 people in 1980.

In addition, recent surveys of the Oakland County area indicate that one of the highest family income averages in the nation occurs in this area. Hudson pointed out that in 1960, one out of every six employed in Oakland County had professional occupations and that this ratio is expected to rise to one out of four by 1980.

This feeling is reflected not only in the size of the new facility — 300,000 square feet (four times larger than the original budget store) — but in the quality of merchandise, services and the interior decor itself.

Located in an elegant new fashion mall addition to Pontiac Mall, the new Hudson store "is as complete in merchandising operations and services as any full-line J. L. Hudson Company branch store," said HUDSON.

★ ★ ★

The new store officially opens to the public Thursday. It is a welcome addition to our business community and one which augurs well for the continued prosperity of the entire Oakland County area.

Carl Sandburg

The man who uniquely personified the soul of America is dead.

SANDBURG

CARL SANDBURG, whose pen was equally facile in poetry and prose and his tongue adept as a storyteller and minstrel, crowned a nomadic youth with literary works of immortal brilliance. Seven years ago, then 82, SANDBURG thrilled a capacity audience in Cranbrook football stadium, climaxing the Birmingham Arts Festival, with a penetrating discourse on our times that concluded with rendition of three folk songs.

Considered the greatest American poet since WALT WHITMAN, he nonetheless found greater acclaim in the realm of biography.

He won the Pulitzer Prize in history in 1940 for the last four of his six-volume biography of Abraham Lincoln. It was a monumental work that consumed 47 years of preparation and 13 years in the creation, after he had become known as the poet-laureate of smoke, steel, railroads and the hog markets of Chicago.

A native of Illinois and a sometime resident of Michigan, SANDBURG's political philosophy had socialistic overtones. As a socialist, however, his idealism bore the stamp of practicality, with the passing years incorporating most of his early and advanced concepts in the American way of life.

CARL SANDBURG'S contribution to contemporary letters is pre-eminent and enduring. He goes to his reward secure in the classic place he won in the American scene and with the accolade of his fellows on a life marked by genius and accomplishment.

'Negro Riots Criminally Inspired'

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — How do Negro riots start?

Republican party leaders suggest violence like that in Detroit may result from a conspiracy organized, planned and carried out on a national scale.

MARLOW

But the national government at this moment has no evidence of such a conspiracy, and it has had weeks to check. Nevertheless, Republicans called for a congressional investigation.

They accused President Johnson of failing to deal with the riot problem. But Monday night he sent U.S. troops into Detroit.

The riots in one city after another have pretty much followed a pattern. A Negro mob forms to denounce a certain police action. Sometimes the mob melts. But in other cases it suddenly goes berserk. It becomes, like any violent mob, mindless and plunges into destruction.

★ ★ ★

But what triggers the mob? Some individual or group of individuals, perhaps shouting something like, "Let's tear the place down." As one government official explained: "There's always a loudmouth to start something."

CRIMINAL TRIGGER

But what kind of individual would do the triggering? Without question it would be a criminal, either a person with a criminal record or one who is potentially criminal and suddenly found his chance to perform.

Anyone who has had enough dealings with criminals to understand the criminal mind knows a criminal's concern is not a choice between right and wrong but how to get away with what he wants to do.

Nothing provides as much safety as a mob for a man who wants to kill, loot or burn. In the midst of mob action he is practically anonymous, which makes it tough for the police to pin anything on him directly.

★ ★ ★

But are all the members of a mob criminals? Definitely, those who commit criminal acts are. Earlier this year the President's crime commission in its study of riots said:

MORAL LICENSE

"They are a sort of moral license to the compulsively or habitually criminal members of the ghetto community to engage in their criminal activities and to ordinarily lawabiding citizens to gratify such submerged tendencies toward violence and theft as they may have."

The President's commission acknowledged that riots are complicated and that one way of explaining them is ghetto conditions. It recommended action to eliminate those conditions.

The commission listed racial discrimination, commercial exploitation, economic deprivation and police misconduct as examples of what participants in earlier riots said they were protesting against.

★ ★ ★

Yet, despite the rioters' expressed hostility toward "Whitey," Northern riots have not been racial in the sense that white neighborhoods were the first to be invaded and demolished, if at all.

NEGRO TARGETS

In Newark, for example, the destruction was aimed mainly at the Negro areas, a condition which supports the belief the riots were criminally inspired.

And, further, in Detroit white thieves joined Negro looters without any reports that the Negroes turned on them. They were criminals together.

FINGERS IN MORE DARN PIES!

David Lawrence Says:

Police Are Hamstrung in Riots

WASHINGTON — Fear of punishment has long been a natural deterrent to crime, but the gradual decline in the chances of detection or of imprisonment is the main cause of the breakdown today of law and order in America.

LAWRENCE

Mobs of looters and pillagers have swept cities across the land, but they never would have taken the risk against officers of the law if the police had not been deprived of one of the principal weapons of law enforcement — a readiness to act quickly in arresting and, if necessary, subduing a lawbreaker.

★ ★ ★

Local police who are trained to pull no punches when they see anyone engaged in violence have become hesitant to act. Indeed, they are accused of "brutality" when they do their duty.

That's why National Guardsmen — and, in the latest case, federal troops were mobilized in desperation only after a city was first ravaged by a lawless minority.

While the wrongdoers are by no means of one race or color, they have a common instinct — to take advantage of the confusion to begin looting.

★ ★ ★

What has started it all? Members of congress, in their speeches this week, place the blame on various things, including the ease with which guns can be bought by mail and the identity of the purchasers hidden.

NATION MISLED

For several years now, moreover, the nation has been misled into thinking that "demonstrations" and "marches" are merely the exercise of freedom of speech.

Although the Supreme Court has again and again in past decades affirmed the principle that a public utterance which incites to crime is not immune from prosecution, the instances nowadays in which individuals who made inflammatory talks were arrested and punished are rare indeed.

The present Supreme Court must share some of the blame. It has interfered with the normal processes of crime detection, and it has made it possible for murderers to be liberated on technicalities after the police have interrogated them earnestly in order to elicit confessions.

★ ★ ★

Also, the high court has nullified many state court decisions against persons convicted of trespass and disorderly conduct.

ANOTHER WEAKNESS

There is another underlying weakness. It is the hesitancy of politicians in government to use the powers of law enforcement promptly and intensively for fear of political backfires.

★ ★ ★

A reluctance to call in troops or to instruct the police to take stern measures in preserving order has encouraged mob rule. Wavering and vacillation tend to give the malcontents an impression of official timidity.

★ ★ ★

The mass of voters, however, is growing disillusioned with public officials who seem to be thinking of bloc votes in the big cities instead of doing their duty not merely in preserving order when rioting occurs but in ferreting out the prime instigators.

Capital Letter:

Bobby's Politically Dead With Young, Says Expert

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Bobby Kennedy is now politically dead with the hippies and tens of thousands of other restless youths under 25.

Ruth Montgomery

This is the word from one of the nation's foremost authorities on the subtle undercurrents of youthful thought, who has met with countless groups on more than 100 college campuses within the past eight months.

Dr. Blank (as we shall call the eminent researcher) says these young people, who until a year or so ago idolized Sen. Kennedy, now consider him "archaic."

"These 'new youths' are seeking, through the use of psychedelic drugs and communal thought, to discover the 'inner life' and are admittedly hungry for a new religious leader," Dr. Blank explains.

★ ★ ★

"They are now totally apolitical, having turned against Bob Kennedy because of his personal ambition, which is the exact opposite of their belief in "corporate consciousness.'"

TOOK PHOTOGRAPHERS

Dr. Blank says their aversion to RFK began when he insisted on personally climbing Canada's Mt. Kennedy, named for his martyred brother, and took Life magazine photographers along to record his planting of the flag on top.

Bob Kennedy's publicized behavior in connection with the Manchester book, "The Death of a President," further alienated these former fans, Dr. Blank says, adding:

"Their disillusionment is now complete. These youths who value privacy and the 'inner life' above all else complain bitterly about his seeking for personal publicity.

"They claim that his private life is nonexistent: that even on family raft trips down the rivers he takes publicists along to aid his self-aggrandizement."

'AN OLD MAN'

We asked Dr. Blank what these "new youths" think of Vice President Humphrey, and he replied: "That he's an old man."

★ ★ ★

The noted authority summed it up in these words: "They are so utterly disillusioned that they trust no one over 30."

Offers Self as Anti-Tax Lansing Lobbyist

Have you had enough of taxes? Our representatives in government think the solution to any and all problems is to raise more money, through taxes, so that a new agency can be set up to solve each new and vexing problem.

When more money is needed, the legislators send out to the barn to milk that tax paying cow again. That tax paying cow is getting sicker and sicker from overmilking, but do the legislatures call in a veterinary to remedy the cause? No, they just add more taxes.

I am willing to go to Lansing as a lobbyist to try and cure this sick, tax paying cow.

We will hire a hall and I will explain what can and should be done and how we can save on taxes.

Drinking Offends Meadow Brook Patron

We have acquired a beautiful University in our midst and it is growing year after year. Through the generosity of Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, we have the beautiful Meadow Brook. We have the wonderful Detroit Symphony orchestra plus outstanding artists coming here for us to enjoy.

Why must we have drinking on the grounds? We attended the Van Cliburn concert last Thursday and found people actually in a state of intoxication. I think it is too bad to see this in a center of this kind, especially where children are present.

I do hope something can be done to stop the practice before it ruins an evening for other interested patrons.

Question and Answer

Is it true that judges are prejudiced against people handling their own cases? If so, why? If a case is lost in Circuit Court, is the next step the Court of Appeals, and can a layman handle this?

DOROTHEA L. VIOLETT
HIGHLAND

REPLY

We talked to presiding Judge Roberts, who told us judges are not prejudiced against someone handling his own case, and they usually will go out of their way to help them. However, judges highly recommend that everyone have a qualified attorney handle his case for him, including attorneys themselves. The judges feel even a good lawyer's case will be handled better and more objectively if another lawyer does it. For those who choose to ignore the judges' advice, the answer is yes to both parts of your last question.

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

Contradiction . . .

Human Events

While the Senate Public Works Committee was debating the issue of "highway beautification," Sen. John Williams (R-Del.) revealed the fact that a major violator of Lady Bird's pet program was none other than President Johnson himself.

Recalling that Congress, partly out of deference to Mrs. Johnson's concern with such matters, had passed a law in 1965 to remove all billboards from our nation's highways, Sen. Williams declared that LBJ's "Great Society" is actually "developing into one of the worst violators of this program."

During the past five years, Williams asserted, the government, through the General Services Administration and the Department of Transportation, "has spent $4.5 million in the purchase and erection of approximately 70,000 billboards to be placed along our nation's highways and in front of the various government buildings.

"The sole purpose of these billboards is to make sure that the voters in the next election understand that the building projects or the road improvements are as a result of benevolence of one of the 'Great Society' programs."

As if these 70,000 billboards were not enough, Williams added, the administration recently asked Congress to appropriate $2 million for more billboards to be erected during the coming election year.

The contradiction between what Johnson says about highway beautification and what he actually does, said Williams, "has led some cynics to suggest that the 'Great Society' will next be launching a new program to purchase another 50,000 billboards to be used for the special purpose of advertising to the American people the Johnson Administration's violent objection to billboards."

New Study

The Dallas News

Seems the Administration is seeking some qualified veteran alcoholics to volunteer to drink in the government service. They are to be the central figures in a new study of alcoholism, backed by a grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for $546,409.

The goal of the new program is to study the behavior patterns and thoughts of an inebriate during a drinking spree.

With that kind of financing, the spree figures to set some sort of record. The program will last about three years, as near as the officials can gauge it.

It is becoming increasingly clear, fellow citizens, that the man meant what he said when he told us the 'Great Society' was going to have something for everybody.

Tax Advisory, Property Millage Votes Set for Fall

With little discussion, city commissioners last night formally approved resolutions to hold a tax advisory vote Sept. 19 and a proposed property tax millage increase election Oct. 17.

A need for $1.6 million more in 1968 than the city had in 1967 is termed necessary by city officials to continue operating services now being afforded Pontiac residents.

The necessity for the money has been endorsed by a 44-member citizens committee which had been studying the city's fiscal dilemma since last year.

Commissioners, after receiving the committee resolutions backing the need and a recommendation to impose an income tax, decided to let the public decide how the $1.6 million should be raised — hence, the advisory vote.

Should voters indicate they favor an income tax, to be accompanied by a three-mill property tax reduction, the tax increase proposal election would be cancelled and the commission would enact an ordinance calling for a city income tax.

AMENDMENT NECESSARY

However, if voters indicate they favor a four-mill property tax hike to pay for city services the October election is necessary to amend the city charter.

The intricate legal statutes which governs these elections makes it necessary to call for the election before the advisory vote is taken.

Related Stories, Page B-10

The city charter adopted in 1924 now limits the amount that can be levied against real property to 10 mills ($10 per $1,000 as assessed).

★ ★ ★

In the advisory vote residents will be able to mark an "X" in one of two boxes. The first will correspond with a question which asks whether voters favor an income tax with an accompanying 3-mill property tax reduction.

SECOND QUESTION

The second will ask whether the 4-mill tax increase is favored.

In order to enact an ordinance which would impose the income tax by Jan. 1 it would have to be adopted at commission level by Nov. 1.

Petitions which might be circulated calling for a referendum vote would then be filed until Dec. 15 and a referendum vote held between Feb. 3 and March 20 with the tax taking effect July 1.

An income tax—1 per cent for residents, one-half of 1 per cent for nonresidents—would bring in an estimated $2.9 million and would cost $87,000 to administer the collections.

An accompanying 3-mill property tax decrease would mean a loss of $1,242,000, so the city would end up with an estimated $1,571,000.

The 4-mill property tax hike would bring in an estimated $1.6 million.

Should a new tax source prove not feasible because of adverse voter reaction, cuts in services and personnel will be made, City Manager Joseph A. Warren said.

★ ★ ★

If $1.6 million more in income is reached $500,000 is needed because the budget this year is using $500,000 that has been accumulated over the previous three years.

EMPLOYE PAY

Another $500,000 will be needed, officials state, to meet the employe demands for more money.

★ ★ ★

Any new services would be essentially for more police. The city manager said 24 new policeman — five per shift — and equipment and cars for them would cost $270,000.

FBI Searching Nationwide for SNCC Leader

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — H. Rap Brown, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, continued to elude a nationwide FBI search today. He is wanted on charges of complicity in a Negro riot here.

Two civil rights leaders from Baltimore are touring the riot area to discuss the situation with Gen. George M. Gelston, commander of Maryland's National Guard, which has some 700 troops in the city.

Walter Lively of the Union for Jobs and Income Now—UJOIN—said he and Stuart Wechsler, assistant project director for the Congress of Racial Equality in Baltimore, want to see what state and city officials are doing for the people in the riot-torn second ward.

Brown was named Tuesday in state warrants charging him with inciting a riot and "counseling and procuring the burning of the Pine Street Elementary School."

He spoke to a crowd of 400 for 45 minutes Monday night. About an hour later, 1,000 Negroes rioted for two hours and a fire spread along two blocks of Pine Street, destroying about a dozen buildings. Volunteer firemen refused to enter the Negro district and extinguish the blaze.

Brown came to Cambridge from Newark, N.J., where he attended the Black Power conference.

A federal fugitive warrant was also issued charging Brown with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. The warrant permits the FBI to arrest Brown anywhere in the country and return him without going through extradition proceedings.

Paper Says Bullet Fired at DeGaulle

MONTREAL (UPI) — The daily newspaper Montreal Matin said today a rifleman shot at Gen. Charles de Gaulle Monday night as the French leader addressed a crowd from the balcony of the city hall. The shot missed.

The newspaper said the unknown man presumably fired one high-calibre shot at de Gaulle which passed several inches from his head.

The bullet lodged in a wall of an office on the fourth floor on the town hall. It crashed through a window pane, the paper said.

The newspaper said the bullet was extracted by police yesterday afternoon.

Junior Editors Quiz on KENTUCKY

QUESTION: Why is Kentucky called the Commonwealth of Kentucky?

ANSWER: The 13 original states were once colonies of people sent over from the old world, the first permanent settlement having been made in Virginia in 1607.

After it was discovered that tobacco could be successfully grown, the Virginia colony began to prosper. The colonists began to think of themselves as people separate from the old world but dependent on each other in the difficult conditions of the new one.

The word commonwealth expressed this way of thinking. So, when Virginia adopted its first constitution in 1776, it called itself the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Originally, much land to the west had been part of Virginia. "Cuntucke, the Great Meadow," as pioneer Daniel Boone called it, had been a county of Virginia.

But by 1782, Kentucky was sufficiently settled to become the 15th state of the Union, and it also chose the word commonwealth to describe itself, in honor of Virginia, to which it had belonged. The boy in our picture is little Abraham Lincoln, who was born in a Kentucky log cabin Feb. 12, 1809.

Steering System Patented

By Science Service

The French auto firm Andre Citroen, noted for its advanced engineering concepts, has been assigned a patent for a servo-system for steering an automobile.

Servo systems use electric signals to control motion remotely. Turning a dial or wheel at one point results in something else—in this case the front wheels—turning, without direct physical contact.

★ ★ ★

The new patent was issued to Antoine Brueder for a system which makes the servo easier to operate. It also makes the steering wheel harder to turn, the faster the car is going. This corrects against turning the wheel so far that the car flips or goes into the ditch.

Buttons Get Their Proper Hole in History

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — More than bare feet, matted hair and unsightly beards, the badge of youthful rebellion in this country is the button.

Button-wearing has spread from hippies and flower children and has now become prevalent among college students and high schoolers. This has created further confusion among parents, who were confused enough already.

WEST

I thought it might be helpful, therefore, if I put the great button explosion in its proper historical perspective.

Many adults think the button movement originated at national political conventions where delegates would display their allegiances by wearing "Stop Stassen" buttons and other partisan slogans.

The fact that "Stop Stassen" buttons proved to be highly effective may indeed have helped to popularize button-wearing. But political buttons are not in the mainstream.

SATIRICAL TONE

Political buttons are only worn on special occasions and generally are earnest and sincere. By contrast, the buttons now in vogue are worn the year around and generally are satirical in tone.

Satirical buttons spring from the graffiti tradition. They enable people to carry around inscriptions that formerly were scrawled on walls. Thus the buttons of today may technically be classified as "portable graffiti."

You undoubtedly have seen some of these buttons: "Mary Poppins is a junkie," "J. Edgar Hoover sleeps with a night light," "Mr. Zip is a cryptomaniac," etc.

★ ★ ★

Because they have a contemporary ring, there is a widespread impression that satirical buttons are something new. But as we scholars know, such is not the case.

HISTORICAL BUTTONS

Buttons have abounded throughout recorded history, and perhaps even earlier. Listed below are a few that were especially popular in their time:

"Napoleon Bonaparte wears elevator shoes."

"Sampson wears a wig."

★ ★ ★

"Cleopatra is frigid."

"Karl Marx is a silent partner in Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith."

★ ★ ★

"Jesse James cheats at solitaire."

"Shakespeare has a ghost writer."

"Betsy Ross is a lousy seamstress."

★ ★ ★

"Sigmund Freud still sucks his thumb."

"Alexander Graham Bell puts slugs in pay phones."

Use of Death Penalty Becoming Rare

CHICAGO (AP) —Death appears to be dying as the supreme penalty of American justice, even though most states cling to capital punishment statutes.

A survey by the Associated Press showed that 13 states have abolished the death penalty or so severely restricted its use to make it almost nonexistent. Some states have not executed a criminal in decades.

★ ★ ★

Most death penalties are imposed for murder. But some states can execute for rape, kidnaping, armed robbery or treason against the state. In Oklahoma, the death penalty legally can be imposed for peddling narcotics to minors.

In Connecticut, causing death by tampering with railroad tracks or by "willfully burning any vessel or building" are crimes punishable by death.

Another state can impose death for burglary of an inhabited house at night.

LOUDER VOICE

But death at the hands of the state is becoming a rarity and the voice of the abolitionists is louder and more frequent.

Legal executions have been abolished in Alaska, Hawaii, Iowa, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, Oregon, West Virginia and Wisconsin. It has been abolished with qualifications in New York and Vermont and has been on the books in Rhode Island since 1864—but never used.

★ ★ ★

The death penalty was abolished by the New York Legislature in 1965. An exclusion involves persons who kill policemen or kill while escaping from prison.

The Vermont Legislature repealed capital punishment laws in 1965 except in cases where a second murder is committed or a police officer is killed in the line of duty.

APPLIES TO LIFERS

The Rhode Island law applies only to persons who are sentenced to life imprisonment for first-degree murder, and who later are convicted of another first-degree murder.

That specific situation has never arisen in the state.

★ ★ ★

Maryland, New Mexico and North Carolina currently are prime targets of abolitionists activity. Bills to eliminate the death penalty were defeated by narrow margins in recent legislative sessions. In California a major court test is being sought in the wake of legislative action.

★

Recurrent bills to eliminate the death penalty have been introduced in many states, but either were defeated or died in committee.

NO SUCCESS

Other abolitionist attempts have been made without success in recent years in Montana, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, South Carolina, Texas, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Nevada, Arkansas, Tennessee, Utah, Idaho, Virginia, Washington, Mississippi, Nebraska, Missouri, Connecticut, New Jersey and Louisiana.

★ ★ ★

In the November 1966 election, Colorado voters defeated an abolition measure by a 2-1 margin.

★ ★ ★

Several abolition bills in Massachusetts were killed shortly after the escape from a mental institution of Albert DeSalvo, the man who calls himself the Boston strangler. Legislators cited the escape and a recent flurry of gangland killings in the Boston area.

But opponents of capital punishment continue to fight.

DETERRENT FACTOR

The abolitionists contend that the deterrent factor, the traditional argument for retaining capital punishment, is a myth.

"The death penalty is related to the homicide rate in the same way an Indian rain dance is related to the production of rain," says a leading Midwest advocate of abolition.

★ ★ ★

"When the rains come they come."

Efforts to abolish the death penalty have quickened over the last decade. There is an active corps of abolitionists in nearly every state. Among the leaders are the American Civil Liberties Union and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

FEDERAL STATISTICS

They point to federal statistics on all executions in the United States between 1930 and 1956. Of the 3,856 persons executed in that period, the abolitionists state, 54 per cent were nonwhite. Of white persons executed, they hold, the majority lacked funds to pay for an adequate defense.

"When they execute for rape," said Hans W. Mattick, associate director of the Centeer for Studies in Criminal Justice at the University of Chicago Law School, "at least 90 per cent are nonwhite."

★ ★ ★

The abolitionists are attacking capital punishment under the provisions of the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution barring "cruel and unusual punishments."

One of their arguments is the increasing rarity of the punishment itself.

★ ★ ★

"There are some 9,200 homicides a year," Mattick said. "When only an average of 10 persons are executed, it begins to look like a lottery."

'LIKE A LOTTERY'

Mattick and other abolitionists point out that persons who are against the death penalty are automatically excluded from juries in capital cases. They contend this kind of elimination leads to juries preconditioned to find defendants guilty and to recommend death.

★ ★ ★

Although many legislatures go through an annual process of killing all capital punishment bills, the death penalty remains a threat that is not often carried out.

★ ★ ★

In Georgia, for example, an unofficial moratorium on executions is in effect. Gov. Lester G. Maddox has said he will ask the 1968 legislature to call a referendum on the retention of the death penalty. Some 20 men are now awaiting execution in the state.

INJUNCTION OBTAINED

In Florida, the ACLU has obtained an injunction from the U.S. District Court in Jacksonville barring further executions until settlement of a suit challenging the state's murder laws.

In 1965 a state legislative study committee recommended abolition of the state's murder laws and Gov. Haydon Burns refused to sign any death warrants during his two-year term of office. There are now 52 men awaiting execution in the state.

★ ★ ★

There have been no executions in Kentucky since Gov. Edward T. Breathitt was elected in 1963. He was not successful in a 1966 attempt to get an abolition bill through the legislature.

Capital punishment remains the law in California but all executions have been stayed until at least past Aug. 3 by a July 5 order of U.S. Dist. Court Judge Robert Peckham in San Francisco.

FULL-SCALE HEARING

The judge will hold a full-scale hearing Aug. 3 on briefs seeking to have the state's death penalty declared unconstitutional. The briefs were drawn up by a group of attorneys partly financed by the Legal Defense Fund of the NAACP.

Five men had been scheduled for execution between the court order and Aug. 3.

★ ★ ★

Gov. Ronald Reagan, who says he supports capital punishment, announced through aides that the state attorney general had been asked to appeal the court order. Reagan has granted one man executive clemency among several condemned men who appealed.

Computers Spot Crime

By Science Service

DORSET, England — A computer that reveals patterns in crimes and traffic accidents, and shows on a map where and when preventable or detectable crimes have occurred in a specified length of time, has begun operation here.

★ ★ ★

Each crime committed in Dorset has a statistics sheet prepared for it, which is then transferred to a punched card. Every month the computer reads through the new entries, updates itself and prints out analyses of crime by type, location and time of day. Comparing these with the instant information on the map can reveal trends immediately.

Three years of development went into the system, but even in its early stages, it was being used as a guide in deploying police patrols.

MELBOURNE — Archaeologists have pushed the date of the introduction of men into Australia back 6,000 years—to at least 31,000 years ago.

The previous earliest discovery of signs of human occupancy dated back 25,000 years .

The new dates are based on radiocarbon examination of stone implements and animal bones found this year at Keilor, an outer suburb of Melbourne.

According to the Archaeological Society of Victoria, bones found at the Keilor site include those of a giant marsupial lion, the giant kangaroo, giant wombat and Tasmanian tiger. The kangaroo stood 10 feet tall and the wombat was as large as an elephant.

★ ★ ★

Archaeologists have been working on the Keilor site since the discovery of a human skull there in the 1940s.

CONTINUING PROBE

The dig is continuing in hopes of finding more evidence to add to present knowledge of early Australian man.

Identification of the bones and implements was done by the National Museum with the help of the Canberra Institute of Aboriginal Studies where the radiocarbon dates were determined.

The dating depends on the fact that organisms absorb radioactive carbon from the atmosphere as long as they are alive. The dead organism loses its radioactivity at a known rate; the half-life of radiocarbon—the time in which it loses half of its radioactivity —is 5,568 years.

★ ★ ★

By measuring the level of radioactivity remaining in carbon samples, such as those from the bones at Keilor, scientists can learn how long it has been since the organism—whether tree, wombat or man—died.

'Viet Vets Entitled to Burial Benefits'

LANSING (AP) — Service during the Vietnam conflict entitles a servicemen to burial benefits, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has ruled.

Kelley issued his ruling at the request of George Cook, civil counsel for Kent County.

The attorney general said a legislative act "to remedy an existing injustice" became effective June 30 to make Vietnam servicemen eligible for the benefits.

McNamara to Back Arms Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara tries to defend U.S. arms aid policies today after administration spokesmen pleaded with Congress to permit continuation of the way some weapons sales are financed.

★ ★ ★

McNamara was the scheduled principal witness for a hearing of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on the arms section of President Johnson's 1967 foreign aid bill.

Several members of that committee including Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., have called for cutbacks in the supply of U.S. arms to other countries.

The Defense, State and Treasury departments appealed to the Senate Banking and Currency Committee Tuesday to allow continuation of Export-Import Bank financing of U.S. arms sales to other nations.

UNAWARE OF SALES

Several members of Congress have complained they were unaware until recent days that the bank, established to help American industry sell its products abroad, was involved in military sales.

★ ★ ★

Paul H. Nitze, deputy secretary of defense, reminded the Banking Committee Congress brought the Export-Import Bank into the military aid picture 12 years ago in a law providing that the bank could receive funds for furnishing assistance under the foreign aid program.

★ ★ ★

Proposals to prohibit or curtail such a role for the Export-Import Bank are pending in the banking committee.

★ ★ ★

No decision on them was reached Tuesday after a 3½ hour closed meeting. But Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said he considered the Export-Import financing a businesslike procedure.

★ ★ ★

Eugene V. Rostow, undersecretary of state, and Nitze said this country does not relish its role as a military supplier but feels it must take a part in supplying arms or allow the Soviet Union to become the dominant supplier in trouble areas.

Detroit Official Eyes Cleanup

DETROIT (AP) — Looking forward apprehensively to cleaning up the mess left by Detroit's rioting, Robert Toohey, city public works commissioner, said today he is asking the State Highway Department and the Wayne County Road Commission for any available heavy equipment.

Toohey also said Detroit won't be able to pay for the cleanup by itself. He said he is investigating the possibility of getting state and federal aid.

Detroit officials still don't know how extensively their city has been damaged, Toohey said. He added he hoped to send out teams of building inspectors before dusk today to determine how many buildings must be torn down.

Teacher Pact Signings Eyed

LANSING (AP) — Less than one third of the teachers in the state's organized school districts have signed contracts for the school year starting in the fall, a State Board of Education member said today.

Leroy Augenstein, also a Michigan State University professor, said of the just under 900 school districts in the state, 560 have some kind of union representation.

Less than 140 of these have signed contracts, he said.

★ ★ ★

"We should take immediate steps to insure that the rest of the teachers sign their contracts before school starts six weeks from now," he said.

He said Detroit and Grand Rapids, where only one third of the area school districts have signed contracts, are typical.

"If 20 to 100 school districts are without teachers this fall, we are going to pay a very high price," Augenstein said.

★ ★ ★

"This would be a tragedy and doubly so in light of the present riot in Detroit. For many youngsters, the schools represent their only source of stability."

Augenstein said he will offer a resolution at the State Board meeting tonight requesting groups throughout the state to conduct their negotiations with the greatest possible speed and offering the aid of the board as a representative of the public.

Hoffa Wiretap Hearing Delayed Again

CHICAGO (AP)—Arguments on the mental and physical condition of two defendants caused delay again Tuesday in a hearing to determine whether government evidence obtained by wiretapping played a part in the 1964 conviction of James Hoffa.

The U.S. Supreme Court ordered the hearing in May after the government disclosed it used electronic devices to collect evidence against Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, and six others charged with fraud and conspiracy.

★ ★ ★

George Burris of New York, whose conversations with Benjamin Siegelbaum of Miami were listened to by FBI agents in 1963, is in Illinois Masonic Hospital with a heart ailment.

Dr. Oglesby Paul, a heart specialist called by the government, told Judge Richard Austin of U.S. district court that Burris, 66, would be unable to appear at the hearing for one week.

The rest of Tuesday morning's session focused on the mental condition of Benjamin Dranow 59, whose counsel contends Dranow is unable to cooperate in his defense.

In 1966 premium rates on auto liability insurance across the U. S. increased by 5.2 per cent, following a 9.3 increase in 1965.

Negro Quaker OKs Militancy

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — A Negro Quaker, whose religion historically has condemned violence and stressed peaceful reconciliation of conflicts, said today that "violence is inevitable in the revolution" to establish justice for Negro Americans.

Barrington Dunbar, a New York social worker and representative of the American Friends Service Committee to the recent Black Power conference in Newark, N.J., said the conference made clear that the present situation "demands militancy."

"It demands revolutionary tactics rather than accommodation to the system that has been brutal and violent so far as the Negro is concerned," he told delegates to a world conference of Quakers.

In his report, outlined to newsmen in advance, Dunbar also predicted that the recent chain of urban rioting would "continue all summer. You just can't control and direct a revolution in a straight line. People just don't behave that way."

'USEFUL PURPOSE'

Dunbar, a lean and articulate man, said that as a Quaker he opposes the violence and personally "could not participate" in such methods. But he said it serves a "useful purpose in alerting the American people" to the abject conditions of Negro lives.

"What is being done by snipers from the rooftops in Detroit is not more serious than what we're doing in Vietnam in the name of freedom and defending democracy," he said.

★ ★ ★

He said the snipers are saying, "This is the only language that white people understand," and in the tradition of Patrick Henry are demanding, "Give me liberty or death!"

★ ★ ★

Dunbar's report came as 1,300 Quaker representatives from 38 nations reviewed means for unifying and strengthening the work of their movement, noted for its antiwar influence and humanitarian service.

'SHOCKED AT ANGER'

Dunbar said he was "shocked and surprised at the anger" manifested at the Black Power conference. "Unless there's more willingness to share power with Negroes, our country is in for real trouble," he said.

To resolve the problem, he said, America must squarely recognize its "shameful guilt" toward a "whole race of people," and that it "has been violent to the Negro and denied him the opportunity to be a man, a person."

★ ★ ★

He called for massive programs to correct the past damage done on a scale comparable to allied reconstruction efforts after World War II in devastated Germany, where Dunbar served at the time aiding former prisoners of war.

Dunbar said the American reparations in behalf of Negroes should include building of decent homes, schools and churches to eliminate the city slums.

'SELF-IMAGE NEEDED'

He described the controversial Black Power concept as temporarily useful in the sense that "before Negroes can unite with others, they must first develop a positive self-image" that does not rely on "the influence of white people.

"However, the attempt to shut out white influence is just temporary," he said. "There must be a return to the type of cooperation that we've experienced before in America. This is a pluralistic nation, and we have to work together."

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, Collin Bell of Philadelphia, executive secretary of the American Friends Service Committee, said it is exploring possibilities of major service projects in the Middle East aimed in part at reducing animosities in that region.

He said one possibility under study is the setting up of interfaith youth work camps around Jerusalem, enlisting Moslems, Christians and Jews in joint undertakings.

ARAB REFUGEES

Bell said, "There can be no political settlement" in the Middle East that does not include steps to resettle the Arab refugees, "those pathetic people in a limbo" for the past 20 years.

State Man Dies in Puget Sound

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Leo Colden, 44, of Marysville, Mich., drowned Monday in Puget Sound's Vaughn Bay about 15 miles west of here. A nephew, Daniel Arscheene, 3, of Vaughn, also drowned.

Colden and the boy were among four persons in an 8-foot, round-bottomed pram which overturned in a rip tide. The others were rescued.

PIN-WORMS
A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then — Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . small, easy-to-take tablets . . . special aids for children and adults.

Police 'Laxity' Hit

DETROIT (AP) — The editor of a Negro newspaper charged Tuesday that Detroit police might have averted the rioting if they had taken "firm action" on 12th Street Sunday morning.

Editor Longworth Quinn of the Michigan Chronicle said, "There was just too much permissiveness. Quinn said he felt the riot could have been "nipped in the bud" early Sunday.

Bodies of 4 of 6 Teen Boaters Found

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (UPI) — The Coast Guard searched yesterday for two youths feared to have suffered the same drowning fate as four companions when their canoes swamped by high waves in Lake Michigan Monday two miles off Terry Andrae State Park.

★ ★ ★

"We have three boats out," a Coast Guard spokesman said. "There has been no sign of them."

The six youths and two counselors were on an outing from the Norris Foundation, an institution for emotionally disturbed boys and problem youngsters near Big Bend, when the accident occurred.

The bodies of Russell Linicum, 16, Madison; Darrell Lauer 17, Milwaukee; Bruce Wollslair, 16, West Milwaukee; and Donald Weldon, 16, West Allis, were recovered. They all wore life preservers.

★ ★ ★

Sought were Milo Burr, 17, Milwaukee, and Wade Hanson, 17, Franklin.

★ ★ ★

The two counselors were rescued by the Coast Guard.

'Million Troops Rally for Mao'

HONG KONG (UPI) — Supporters of Chinese Communist party leader Mao Tse-tung staged a million-man troop rally in Peking in their fight to survive a reported Red army rebellion, Peking Radio said today.

Instead of trumpeting the usual claims of Mao's mastery of his troubled land, Peking Radio spoke almost defensively about the capital rally. It warned darkly about an army of a million opposing the leader in the key central China city of Wuhan.

Right-wing newspapers in Hong Kong quoted travelers as reporting more than 1,000 killed or injured in fights between Mao supporters and Red army troops along the rail line from this British colony to the big southern Chinese city of Canton.

The dramatic reports of big trouble on mainland China erupted as diplomatic sources in London reported Mao's regime on the brink of toppling. In Washington, American authorities said Mao's cultural revolution — his struggle for power — may be in its death throes.

The Washington authorities said Mao's failure to win Red army support in several strategic areas underlined a trend in Communist China toward fragmentation into something akin to the old warlord situation of prerevolution days.

Peking Radio admitted that at least a part of Wuhan's key garrison was in open defiance of Mao. It appealed to pro-Mao forces in the city to keep the faith. Peking Radio admitted it might take a long time for Mao's control to return to Wuhan where army troops earlier this month seized for a time two top Mao aides who came to restore order.

Reuther: Lower Retirement Age

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers president, today urged congressional approval of a lowered retirement age with no loss in benefits.

★ ★ ★

Reuther made his recommendations in remarks prepared for a U.S. Senate subcommittee hearing in Ann Arbor on retirement.

The union president urged lowering retirement ages from 65 to 62 for men and to 60 for women.

He said the UAW's policy on early retirement has created many new job opportunities for younger men with growing families while allowing many older employes to retire with some measure of security.

★ ★ ★

Reuther also called for increases in minimum monthly Social Security benefits rising with increases in the nation's productivity and he said those on Social Security should receive a cost-of-living allowance.

Stokely Says Negro to Use War Tactics

HAVANA (AP) — Stokely Carmichael says Negroes in American cities are going to wage a guerrilla "fight to the death," the Cuban news agency reported Tuesday as the U.S. Black Power leader arrived in Havana for a revolutionary conference.

The Prensa Latina agency quoted the fiery 26-year-old Negro as saying: "In Newark we applied war tactics of the guerrillas. We are preparing groups of urban guerrillas for our defense in the cities. The price of these rebellions is a high price that one must pay. This fight is not going to be a simple street meeting. It is going to be a fight to the death."

The Black Power leader came to Havana for the meeting of the Latin-American Organization of Solidarity opening July 31. U.S. racial problems are on the meeting's agenda.

Carmichael flew from London to Prague Monday and then to Havana. Non-Communist newsmen were not allowed to approach him at the Havana airport.

In the Prensa Latina interview, which the agency said Carmichael gave in London, he said he decided to come to Cuba because of an April message attributed to the vanished Cuban guerrilla leader Ernesto Guevara. The message urged Latin-American revolutionaries to stir up more Vietnam-like situations.

Carmichael said Guevara inspired American Negroes and that Prime Minister Fidel Castro's visit to Harlem in 1960 was momentous "in the history of the fight of North American Negroes."

In the United States, the Alabama state senate in a resolution asked that Carmichael be denied reentry to the United States and called him "a blasphemous and profane Communist revolutionary."

The resolution, sponsored by the legislature's lone Republican, Sen. Leland Childs of Jefferson County, charged that Carmichael has gone through the country "advocating and initiating riots, rebellions and the overthrow of law and order."

2 LBJ Envoys in Thailand, Scout Summit

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI)—President Johnson's personal envoys to the Vietnam allies, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor and Clark M. Clifford, arrived today to seek more troops to help fight the war and scout the possibility of an allied summit conference.

The pair flew from Saigon on the second leg of a six-nation tour to sound out allied leaders on the summit and to discuss troop strengths.

Clifford, chairman of the American foreign intelligence advisory board, told newsmen he and Taylor, former ambassador to South Vietnam and former chairman of the Joints Chiefs of Staff, were sent by Johnson to contact leaders of the countries involved in the 1,966 Manila conference.

Clifford denied he and Taylor were setting up a similar summit conference. But informed sources said the envoys were sounding the allies on a possible meeting between heads of state for October.

★ ★ ★

Taylor upon his departure from Saigon commented favorably on the South Vietnamese army (ARVN).

"I was very much impressed with the evidence of progress in the ARVN," the former ambassador said. "I would say there has been a great deal of unjustified criticism (in the United States)."

"I did not realize the many programs . . . deliberately holding down the strength of the ARVIN in order to produce quality and stockpile leadership, which will permit an expansion in the next year," he said.

Kathy Ziegler, pretty young daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Ziegler of Northover Road gets into the swing of things in the new J. L. Hudson's Young Juniors Department facing on the Fashion Mall, southwest corner of The Pontiac Mall. Wearing a wool kilt toned in greens, pinks and white, her color-matched sweater features the new long and belted look. Knee-hi socks and smooth leather loafers complete the ensemble she plans to wear opening day at the new Bloomfield Lahser High School where she enters 11th grade.

Colorful Togs for Teenyboppers in New Hudson's Young Juniors Shop

By JEANNE NELSON

When the Swingers sweep into the new J. L. Hudson's Young Juniors department in The Pontiac Mall, exclamations of "fine," "tuff" and "fab for the bod" will resound throughout.

Keyed to their kind of customer, this department's sales staff is well attuned to the young set. Youth advisor for Hudson's, Mrs. Norma Crossett long ago discovered the kind of fashion teens wanted.

Along with divisional manager of fashions James Dorn and fashion coordinator, Mrs. Barbara Murray, the Young Juniors department in this new facility, is designed to capture the heart of every area teen.

Murals depicting today's youth in action line the upper walls in gay pastels and there's a corner ready and waiting the arrival of a juke box filled with the latest hits.

Fashion display are a far cry from the old row of racks I remember as a teen. In their place are small (almost stage prop like) round, oblong and imaginative backdrops geared to offset the newest styles and colors.

It's truly a store within a store.

Color easily predominates the scene in this little world. At a glance, the strong yellows teamed with navy seem destined to become this year's big news.

Paired-off combinations in favorite plaids and stripes are coordinated stylewise for school, sports and leisure.

Freedom of movement so important in this generation, finds its answers in color matched culottes, pantsdresses and the newer pants-suits.

Just taking hold now the "hardware" look is repeated over and over again in belts, buttons, and other trims.

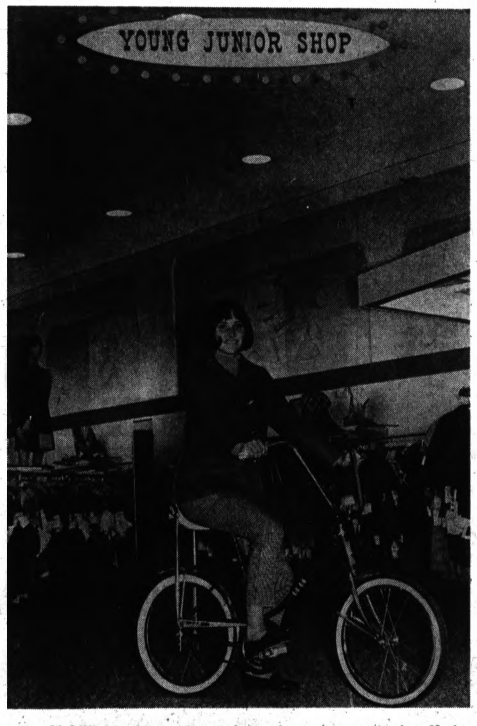
Saturday teen shoppers will see for themselves all the latest fashions when they view the regular formal and informal modeling planned for this store.

They'll be happy to know too, that applications for the new "Action Age" magazine will be available here. Subscribers must be juniors or seniors in the metropolitan area high schools to receive this free publication.

Hudson's Charm School classes will also be available. This is a five-week course with instruction geared to the 11-14 year age group and 15-17 group. Members of the noted "Teen Board" are selected from them.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the "model's walk" girls also learn tips on color coordination, makeup and hair and skin care. Classes are held on Saturdays with each lasting about an hour.



Mobility is the magic word for the sporty outfit that Kathy models here. Two shades of brown combined with white in the favorite wool houndstooth check for fall, is paired off with a color coordinated brown turtleneck sweater. For the brisk season ahead, she finishes the new teen look with a soft brown semifitted double-breasted jacket. Handy big pockets will hold lipstick changes and a comb. Her shoulder bag (a must) is smooth tan calf.

WNFGA Groups Meet

Details for entry in the Fall Flower Show at the Pontiac Mall were the program for the Thursday afternoon meeting of Waterford branch, Women's National Farm and Garden Association.

Mrs. George Stout was hostess.

Mrs. Edmund Windeler will present a demonstration of dried arrangements for the August meeting with Holiday Farms Branch in her home on Hatchery Road.

Sometimes Need Help

'Ashamed' Mothers Solve Woes

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter signed "ASHAMED," from the mother who hollered at her little, 10-year-old daughter, telling her to get out of the house, and she didn't care if she ever came back. And all because the child was a little slow getting dressed. After the child left, the mother sat down and cried and she wrote you a letter.

ABBY

Abby, that mother could have been me a few years ago. I was also an "ashamed mother" for a good many years, crying after the children left for school because I had behaved so atrociously.

Oftentimes I would use abusive language and scream at my children. Then I would hide and cry and pray for forgiveness.

My children were doing poorly in school, which prompted my doctor to suggest that I attend the Child Guidance center in our area. I can't tell you how much good it did me.

The counseling I got there was exactly what I needed. So please, Abby, tell other ashamed mothers not to be ashamed. To get help. And with it will come a happiness their whole family will share.

GRATEFUL MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: My husband is on the road three or four days a week, but he is always home on the weekends. We have a year old baby and another on the way. I have been warned by good friends that I had better travel with my husband if I want to save my marriage.

I suppose my mother would keep my child if I asked her to, but I don't think that would be right. And if I were to go on the road with my husband, it would be hard for me in my condition to go from hotel to hotel and do all that traveling. My husband thinks I should stay close to home. I would appreciate your advice.

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED: I agree with your husband. I don't know what your "good friends" are trying to tell you, but if you have to go on the road with your husband in order to "save" your marriage, that road will be a blind alley.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I married Tex when I was 16. I bore him four sons. When the youngest was eight months old, Tex took off for California and left me to raise the boys alone. I did, and believe me, it wasn't easy.

I divorced Tex, and he didn't fight it. In the meantime he married another woman, and the boys grew up and had families of their own.

It has been 40 years now. Tex's wife died, and he has returned. He expects me to take him back and feel the same toward him as I did in the early days. I have no feeling for him. I don't hate him. He is like a stranger to me, except that he is the father of my sons. The boys tell me that their father and I "belong" together. Am I wrong to say a want no part of him?

HURT

DEAR HURT: Not in my book, you aren't.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO JOHNNY: Don't let it worry you. You're normal. Nobody likes to lose. There are really no "good losers." Only good actors.

★ ★ ★

Telling secrets is more fun when a girl is sitting pretty. Green stripes coupled with pink on this knit shift combines ease of movement and good looks for teens. The new "hardware" look is interpreted here by front-facing buttons and again on the solid green cuffs. Green opaque crepe hose with shiny green patent wide-toed pumps give the feeling of the "total look."

Mrs. Bartlet J. Taylor Wears Silk, Lace Gown

MRS. B. J. TAYLOR

A Saturday evening rite was performed at the Oxford Methodist Church for Emma Elizabeth Moore and Bartlet J. Taylor.

★ ★ ★

The bride wore an Empire gown of white silk peau de soie with Alencon lace and pearl trim. Her chapel train featured matching lace motifs.

A matching lace flower also trimmed with pearls held her veil of silk illusion.

ATTENDANTS

Honor attendant was Mrs. Earl Raffler of Utica, the bride's sister. Another sister, Mrs. Jerry Miller was a bridesmaid with her cousin Rosetta Deaton and Barbara Raffler of Utica, the bride's niece, as flower girl.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom's cousin, Arthur Baldwin of Oxford performed best man duties.

Carr Baldwin of Detroit, another cousin of the bridegroom and Wayne Hanson of Oxford were ushers. Ring bearer was Jeffery Miller, the bride's nephew.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the two are Mr. and Mrs. George W. Moore of Lakeville Road, Addison Township, and the Clifford J. Taylors of Oxford.

'Spruce Up' Patio Chairs

To spruce up reed, cane, or wicker furniture for sunporch and patio use, dust it with a stiff brush or a vacuum cleaner attachment.

Periodically—and especially if you plan to paint it—supplement the dusting by washing the furniture. Use cloths wrung out of soap or detergent suds, then cloths wrung out of clean water. Just avoid sopping such furniture because prolonged wetness encourages warping.

Enjoy Beneficial Effect of Luxurious Bath Routine

The secret to making a bath both fun and functional is to enjoy it while you are taking it and make its effects last as long as possible for you.

To do this, begin by adding oils or bubbles to your bath water to make you feel like a princess as you step in for your soak — no matter how brief it might have to be!

Drink a glass of water, to encourage perspiration, before you step into the steamy tub.

Set your hair and spray it lightly so that your curls will be fresh and perky when you comb them out later.

Wash your face before you get in. This will open your pores and let your skin derive more benefits from the steam.

Take advantage of your bathing time to give yourself a facial, a pedicure, or a manicure.

After you've scrubbed, relax for a minute with a wet washcloth across your eyes.

Then rinse with the tub water, open the drain, and turn on a brisk shower as cold as you can take it.

DEODORANTS

Finally, towel dry and apply deodorants; an anti-perspirant for the under arm area, and a feminine hygiene deodorant spray. This will assure longer lasting effects of cleanliness and well-being.

Deodorants are reassuring, valuable ways to protect all parts of the body from odor, but they must be considered as an accessory to and not a substitute for regular bathing practices.

Methods of detecting lead and aspirin poisoning in youngsters have been developed. Analysis of scalp hair pinpoints lead poisoning quickly and accurately, and a new blood sample test, detects aspirin poisoning in five minutes.

Know Purpose of Tools

If you know your kitchen tools, what they do, and how to use them properly you can save yourself a lot of time and make meal preparation a lot of fun. The following basic kitchenware usage guide has been prepared by Mary Ann March, home economist for the Eko Housewares Company:

Mincer-Chopper . . . Minces a variety of vegetables such as onions, peppers, celery; chops fruit and nuts.

Fruit and Butter Baller . . . Produces decorative fruit balls from melons and other soft fruits. Makes butter ballsl cheese and ice cream balls.

Strainer . . . Rinses fruits and vegetables, ideal for crumbling hard egg yolks for sprinkling on salads.

Pizza Roller . . . Rolls out pizza and small quantities of dough, crushes nuts, crackers, hard candies for toppings.

Paring Knife . . . Pares, peels, slices fruits and vegetables. Perfect for skinning apples, pears and onions.

Food Beater . . . Whips, blends, creams, beats eggs, whips cream, icing, fondants. Incorporates air into mixture of ingredients to expand volume.

Flexible Spatula . . . Use in spreading breads or crackers with butter, peanut butter, preserves or sandwich spreads. Spread celery with stuffings such as cream cheese. Loosen gelatin molds, also cupcakes, cakes and breads from bakeware.

Spectacle Shapes

Wash Stains in Hot Suds

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pure fats and oil stains usually come out in sudsy water, if you give special attention to the spots.

★ ★ ★

Cleaning experts say for tar-like or heavy greases, rub the spots with lard, then wash in very hot soap or detergent suds.

Miss Manns Is Married on Saturday

Linda Jean Manns became the bride, Saturday evening, of Ronald Carr.

The couple were wed in All Saints Episcopal Church and later greeted guests in the American Legion Hall, Orchard Lake.

SILK ORGANZA

A white A-line gown of silk organza and Alencon lace appliques was worn by the bride. A chapel length train was a feature of her ensemble. A tiara head piece secured a bouffant veil of illusion with a tracery of pearls.

White carnations, Stephanotis and a white and purple orchid were carried in the wedding bouquet.

Carol Manns was maid of honor for her sister. They are the daughters of the Llyod Manns of Joy Road, Pontiac Township.

Bridesmaids were Teri LaFrance, Marcia Thompson and Mrs. Harry Moore of Troy.

Robert Carr was best man for his twin brother. Their parents are the Ronald Carrs of West Colgate Street.

Jack Langlois, Duane Johnson, Gary Manns and Harry Moore were ushers.

Ma, Granny in Same Day

Case No. D-504

Find the Original Cause

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE D-504: Donna T., aged four, has a phobia.

"Dr. Crane," her mother began, "Donna goes into hysteria whenever we turn on the vacuum sweeper.

"She will scream and grow rigid in my arms.

"The sound of the vacuum sweeper terrifies her until she has even fainted.

DR. CRANE

"What do you suppose is wrong with Donna? And how can I get her over this terrific fright?"

Ultimately I learned where Donna's phobia had started.

When she was three years old, her mother got a phone call to rush to the hospital, for Donna's daddy had been in an auto wreck.

In the resulting commotion, Donna was brushed aside, though a competent maid was on hand to baby-sit.

But this sudden threat to its emotional security is very devastating to a child's morale.

So Donna was in a panic and crying loudly when her mother rushed out the front door.

Donna threw herself on the floor in a fit of disconsolate weeping.

The vacuum sweeper was nearby and the maid started the motor to tidy up the room.

Donna's skirt was partly sucked into the machine before the maid turned off the motor.

Combine the sudden whirr of the motor with Donna's upset emotional state, plus the shock of feeling that she would be gobbled up by the roaring machine — and you have the ingredients of Donna's terrific psychic trauma.

Neither the maid nor Donna's parents realized how this emotional shock had started.

FRIGHT

But thereafter, whenever Donna heard the vacuum sweeper turned on, she went into a paroxysm of fright.

And her phobia (abnormal fear) persisted.

In such cases, it is wise to ferret out the original inciting cause of the phobia.

Explain it to the child. If you adults have such a phobia, try to dig into your past until you can name your terror and date its onset.

This very act of facing your bugaboo and finding out how it fastened its emotional tentacles upon you, is half the cure.

Next, try to associate enough new pleasurable experiences with the former bugaboo so that you can change it from a negative to a positive stimulus.

For example, I urged Donna's daddy to play a game in which the vacuum sweeper was an airplane.

Donna was the pilot, taking her parents via airplane to visit grandma.

When a child touches the former fearsome object, that reduces its terrifying effect considerably.

And when a child produces the noise, it never sounds so loud or irritating.

By gradual degrees, this process of reconditioning or "brainwashing" a child favorably toward a former fearsome object, can change terror into actual fun and pleasure.

Toothpicks will help you hold two cake layers together after they have been filled and frosted. The picks should, of course, be removed before serving.

Trip Advice for Boaters

Pleasure boat owners are ill-advised to become equipment mad, in the opinion of Robert Scharff, author of the Complete Boating Handbook.

The boat's size and the duration of the outing, should determine the extras needed. However, this authority places "plenty of soap" high on his list of supplies essential for every boat.

A&P

A&P has nationally famous brands no one else has!

Your A&P has all the brand names you know and want... Del Monte, Campbell, Nabisco, Heinz, Kraft... just to name a few.

But your A&P has more brands like A&P, Ann Page, Jane Parker...just to name a few.

These exclusive A&P Brands have earned their nationally famous reputation.
How?
By virtue of quality.
Quality so outstanding, we guarantee without condition, that they are the equal of or better than any brand you know.

If assured quality isn't enough, and if you're concerned about your food costs, think of this:
A&P's own nationally famous brands offer you assured savings... meaningful savings.

Not every store can offer you this.
A&P can...and does.
Shouldn't A&P be your store?

Feline Competitors About to Put Best Paw Forward

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The alley cats, fat cats and running cats have been sorted. The jewel-studded tiara is being polished. Either George, Pepper, Rasputin or Omar Khayyam will become America's top tabby tonight.

But before he, or she, gets the crown as the all-American glamor kitty of 1967, there will be such strong points of competition as mouse chasing, paper bag investigation, climbing and ball rolling.

* * *

Nowhere in the rules does it say the new glamour kitty has to have a family line any longer than its whiskers. Any and all comers, so long as they had an owner in tow, were welcomed for the competition.

* * *

'MOSTLY ALLEY'

The four are George, Pepper, Rasputin and Omar Khayyam.

George is a 1-year-old female owned by Mary Jane Richardson of Statesville, N.C.

* * *

Pepper is a "mostly alley" cat owned by Mr. and Mrs. Al Frisbie, of Omaha, Neb. Mrs. Frisbie thinks Pepper's personality will be his strong point.

* * *

A year-and-a-half-old Siamese, Rasputin, is called a "party boy" by his owner, Dorothy Towle of Braintree, Mass. She says he likes to dress up whenever she throws a little soiree.

HE'S A HUNTER

Hunting is Omar Khayyam's feature most likely to impress the judges. His owner, Mrs. Harold Geary of North East, Pa., says he once tackled a rabbit as big as himself.

* * *

Final judging takes place today and the winner will be crowned tonight at a coronation ball to be held in the Boom Boom Room of the plush Fontainebleau Hotel.

* * *

The lucky cat will receive a jewel-studded tiara and a mink trimmed cape. The finalists have already received a color portrait of themselves, the services of a personal butler while visiting Miami Beach for the week-long pageant and a mouth-watering tour of Miami's seaquarium.

New Hampshire's 424 state legislators, earning $200 biennially, are the lowest salaried in the nation.

U.S. ENVOY — Martin J. Hillenbrand, 51, a native of Youngstown, Ohio, was named yesterday as the United State's first ambassador to Communist Hungary. Hillenbrand has been in the foreign service since 1939.

Domestic Drain of Gold Cited

Foreign Transactions Take a Back Seat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bride walking down the aisle and the rocket soaring into space are helping drain more gold from Treasury stocks this year than are foreign governments.

Use of gold is rising in everything from wedding rings to sophisticated and complex electronic and electrical circuits used in the defense and space programs.

During the first half of the year, the United States would have accumulated gold, the traditional monetary metal, had it not been for more than $60 million in sales by the Treasury to private industry. Heavy industrial use of silver already has resulted in a minor crisis, but officials foresee none for gold.

★ ★ ★

Treasury policy is to sell gold at $35 an ounce to any foreign government wishing to cash in dollars. The Treasury earlier this month abandoned its policy of maintaining the price of silver at $1.29 an ounce.

DOMESTIC CONSUMPTION

The lack of French conversion of any dollars into gold since last September and the absence of any other large international gold transactions this year focused attention on domestic consumption.

Treasury officials say over-all domestic gold consumption last year hit a whopping $212 million compared with $97 million five years earlier.

The department satisfied $141 million of that demand from its stocks. The remainder came from domestic production and imports. Domestic production last year reached $63 million, up from $59 million of 1965 and $52 million in each of the prior two years.

This year the Treasury expects to sell more than $100 million in gold to domestic industry for the third straight year.

THESE REASONS

Officials give these reasons for the heavy demand:

—The increased population, with an ever-rising number of brides who demand wedding rings.

—Affluence of the population, which is increasing the demand for jewelry.

—Rising industrial use, especially in the space and defense programs. An official said few people realize gold is an even better conductor of electricity than silver. Many government contracts now specify gold for electrical and electronic work.

Last year, 62 per cent of the gold consumed by the nation went for jewelry and artistic use, 7 per cent for dentistry and 27 per cent for industrial, electrical and electronic work including space and defense. Other industry absorbed the rest.

U.S. gold stocks reached $24.5 billion in 1949. They now total $13.1 billion, still largest in the non-Communist world.

Other governments accumulate dollars and can cash them for gold when Americans spend more overseas than foreigners spend in this country.

The administration has blamed its failure to end this dollar drain on the Vietnam war. Through May, U.S. gold stocks dropped by $21 million this year, compared with $224 million for the same period last year.

HARD-HEADED HAM—Little Kevin Kegley, 3½, had his hands full as he attempted to ready his prize Berkshire hog for competition in the American Berkshire Swine Association judging at the Ohio Exposition Center at Columbus. Kevin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Kegley of East Troy, Wis., finally gave up trying to get the hog to stand still for a last-minute brushing.

Bowling Alley Beer Request Won After All

After a reinterpretation of rules under which the City Commission operates, Mayor William H. Taylor said last night that a petition is approved to allow Elks Lodge 810 a license to serve beer in the bowling alley.

The City Commission last week voted on the petition and at that time indicated that the proposal was defeated. Two commissioners voted against the proposal and two others abstained while three were in favor.

Taylor had announced that the proposal lost because the three favorable votes did not constitute a majority of the seven commissioners present.

After making a legal check during the week, it was decided that since there were two abstentions, the three favorable votes constituted a majority of a five-man quorum.

★ ★ ★

Also under the rules, the matter can't be brought up again unless one of the three commissioners who voted for —Robert C. Irwin, Leslie H. Hudson and John A. Dugan — agree to do so, even though one of the two commissioners who abstained is known to disfavor such proposals.

HELD IN ORDER

The commission operates under certain rules but unless it makes definite rules concerning situations the charter provides that Robert's Rules of Orders shall prevail.

★ ★ ★

In this case, Robert's Rules was held to be in order.

Last week Taylor and Commissioner Wesley J. Wood were against the proposal while T. Warren Fowler Sr. and James H. Marshall abstained.

Pacts OK'd for Construction at Hospital

City commissioners last night approved awarding $1,075,364 for contracts for construction of a new emergency and physical therapy building at Pontiac General Hospital and for alterations to the present building.

★ ★ ★

Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, said the alterations are needed so the building will meet fire code regulations.

The board of trustees at the hospital reviewed bids on the projects Friday and recommended that the commission accept the low bidders.

Contracts will be signed once the federal government, which is paying part of the costs, approves the bids.

★ ★ ★

Contractors approved were Roth, Wadkins & Wise, Inc., of Dearborn, $624,160 for general contracting services; Shaw-Winkler, Inc. of Detroit, $315,962 for mechanical construction; Fred W. Moote Electrical Inc. of Pontiac, $123,542 for electrical work; and Montgomery Elevator Co. of Detroit, $11,700 for elevator installation.

TOTAL PROJECT

In addition, the total project calls for $189,525 for architects fees and miscellaneous expenses bringing the total cost to $1,264,889.

The building alterations costs are expected to total $344,702 and the new facilities $920,187.

Under the Hill-Burton federal program — which allows the federal government to provide funds for hospital construction— the city's share for the project will be cut to $764,289, to be taken from the hospital's depreciation reserve fund.

In other action, the commission held a public hearing and agreed to change the name of University on the city's north end to Price Street.

NO ONE OBJECTS

No one objected to the change. It was necessitated after the commission agreed to change the name of Mount Clemens Street in Pontiac to University Drive.

The Commissioners also formally approved extending a contract with the American Transit Corp. to June 30, 1968. It calls for the city to subsidize the company up to $35,000 per year for the bus service.

District 4 Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson and District 6 Commissioner Wesley J. Wood, — who voted against the extending the subsidy previously — voted against signing the contract.

★ ★ ★

A proposal to accept bids for construction of 400 feet of storm sewer on Perry, Bradfield to Plainfield, was approved.

APPROVED SPENDING

Commissioners approved spending $770 in a 50-50 cost participation with the State Highway Department to modernize signals at Saginaw and Wilson.

★ ★ ★

Approval was given to granting an easement to the county drain commissioner for construction of the Richton Drain. The easement is across City owned property at East Boulevard and the belt line railway tracks.

City Affairs

Testimony Is at Odds on Paper Mergers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Raleigh, N.C., publisher said today congressional clearance for joint operation or merger of failing newspapers would preserve competition by saving papers with "distinct editorial personalities."

But a former newspaperman said the process has not worked that way in Columbus, Ohio.

Frank A. Daniels, publisher of the Raleigh Morning News and Observer and of the evening Raleigh Times, said he knows something about failing newspapers because his company purchased one 12 years ago.

He referred to the Raleigh Times. Daniels said if the News and Observer had not purchased it, the Times would have ceased publication and Raleigh would have been left with a single newspaper.

ANTITRUST EXEMPTION

Daniels' testimony was prepared for the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee. The panel is considering legislation that would provide an antitrust exemption for the commercial or complete merger of newspapers if one of the partners is deemed failing.

This would exempt from the antitrust laws joint operating agreements in which advertising, circulation and business operations of two newspapers are combined, while editorial departments remain separate.

Daniels said that kind of agreement produces "the continuation of separate and independent editorial voices in the community."

"If this bill is not passed," he said, "there will be an increasing number of one-paper cities around the country because the weak second paper will not be able to continue publication."

Brian McNamara of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, said the government should force the dismantling of a joint operating agreement between the Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch and the Columbus Citizen-Journal.

McNamara, formerly women's page editor of the Citizen-Journal, said joint commercial operations there have created an unhealthy competitive situation.

"The Citizen-Journal can grow only as much as the Dispatch wants it to grow," he said. "In 1,001 ways, the Dispatch can control the amount of advertising and circulation the Citizen-Journal gets."

Teeth Saved

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — A Boise man and his false teeth are reunited thanks to a sharp-eyed diver from the county sheriff's office. The sheriff's office sent the diver to look for the teeth after the man, whose name was not disclosed, lost them in a reservoir. The diver found them in 30 feet of water, the office said.

George Washington was the first president of the Society of the Cincinnati.

Commissioners Hold Abbreviated Session

Last night's City Commission meeting took less than an hour as the commissioners exchanged little conversation hurrying through a shortened agenda.

The meeting was finished 15 minutes before the 9 p.m. curfew ordered by Mayor William H. Taylor following Monday's disturbances in Pontiac.

Taylor publicly thanked Negro citizens and community leaders who went into trouble areas Monday to persuade crowds to disperse peacefully, in addition to the local police and fire departments and the departments of those cities and townships which helped Pontiac Monday.

He urged all citizens to help return the city to peace and quiet.

The commission unanimously gave approval to a proclamation ordering, until further notice, the 9 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. curfew.

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Sidney Wigfall wore out 20 taxis and never had either a traffic accident or a ticket during his nearly 50 years as a cabdriver. He has just retired at 82.

GI-Muzzling Charges Aired

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of a House subcommittee that went to South Vietnam to check complaints about the M16 rifle says the military may have muzzled soldiers the panel queried.

Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., read portions of several letters that charged soldiers were kept from giving the House probers true information about the controversial rifle.

"If this information is accurate, and there is some basis for belief in the information," Ichord said as the subcommittee reopened hearings Tuesday, "it stands as a shocking example of muzzling by our military leaders on a subject that can mean life or death to our combat soldiers."

Ichord said his panel's June visit to Vietnam uncovered few gripes about the effectiveness of the M16.

But on returning, he said, members began to get letters from servicemen and relatives of men serving in Vietnam saying field commanders threatened punishment if the congressmen were told of problems with the weapon.

The Pentagon said later that both the Army and Marine Corps are investigating the allegations.

Key to Rocket Fuel Supply

Water on Moon Vital to Man

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (UPI) — Water in moon rock would be more valuable to lunar explorers than gold.

It is vital to the support of men and, with the right kind of equipment, water could be turned into hydrogen and oxygen rocket fuel for trips to earth and to the planets and beyond.

As it stands now, astronauts will have to carry their water with them — at a shipping cost of at least $12,000 a gallon.

With that in mind, scientists hope to find a water supply on the moon.

★ ★ ★

They don't expect to find it on the lunar surface, but if moon rock is anything like material on earth, they say it probably will contain some water.

EDUCATED GUESS

Stanley A. Fields and H. M. Weathers, research geologists at the Marshall Space Flight Center here, said that the presence of water or any other mineral deposit on the moon can only be an educated guess until man gets there.

"But the basic materials are there — hydrogen and oxygen — in all probability," Weathers said in an interview in a laboratory where he and other scientists are trying to anticipate what will be found.

"If water isn't found on the moon, our space colonization is going to be pretty limited," Weathers said. "If there is the discovery of water in extractable form, it could have a great effect on the space program."

Early lunar surface exploratory expeditions should tell whether moon rock does or could contain water. The next step would be to look for deposits of rock bearing water.

Other mineral exploration also will be made, but Weathers said "what we're primarily interested in is water. This is more valuable than gold."

Fields and Weathers envision mining the rock and then using sophisticated processing equipment to draw water from the rock.

"You put the rock in one end and turn on the tap on the other end," Weathers quipped.

★ ★ ★

The geologists said the creation of mining and processing facilities on the moon will "tax man's ingenuity to the utmost." But they are confident it can be done.

A POSSIBILITY

Fields said there was a possibility that ice may be found in some permanently shaded areas on the lunar surface or underground.

"This would be tremendous," he said.

Fields and Weathers said in a National Aeronautics and Space Administration technical memorandum early this year that the findings from America's Surveyor I robot landing spacecraft indicate that relatively solid rock lies beneath the moon's surface dust and rubble.

"This is the potential ore from which water could be extracted to support extensive lunar exploration."

They said the high cost of shipping mining and processing equipment to the moon would require that early lunar water mining be simple and the whole operation would have to be less expensive than transporting water from earth.

Diabetes Link to Anemia Told

Discovery Opens Up New Research Field

By Science Service

MELBOURNE, Australia — Doctors at Royal Melbourne Hospital have discovered a possible connection between a severe form of diabetes and a form of anemia. The discovery opens a new field of research into the causes of diabetes.

A spokesman for the five specialists in the research group said here that little was known about the processes in the body which lead to severe diabetes.

But the discovery of the possible connection helped in looking for causes and the preventive treatment.

He said some patients who had diabetes mellitus — which requires the permanent use of insulin—had antibodies in their blood which were similar to those found in patients with pernicious anemia. This suggested that the cause of both diseases could be related.

The theory was further reinforced by the observation that diabetics were more prone to develop anemia of this nature than other people.

In pernicious anemia, the body produces antibodies which destroy its own tissues. The treatment for these diseases is to try to combat the formation of antibodies, but no complete cure is available. A few agents

U.S. Cuts Piaster Spending to Help S. Viet Economy

SAIGON (AP) — "The big spenders from the West" are making a serious effort not to kill South Vietnam with kindness.

The 466,000 U.S. troops and the other Americans here are being pushed, prodded and even ordered to spend as few South Vietnamese piasters as possible, to avoid a catastrophic inflation that could do almost as much harm to the country as the war.

Even with the piaster-control program instituted by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Americans, officially and individually, spent more than seven billion piasters, more in the first half of 1967 than the entire non-military budget of the South Vietnamese government for the same period.

The U.S. figures are just for piasters that Americans spend inside South Vietnam. They do not include the multibillion-dollar cost of the war, most of which is spent outside Vietnam and does not affect its economy.

The American piaster spending ranges from the 2,000 that a GI pays for "Saigon tea" in a bar to the flood of piasters, a total amounting to about $20 million, that the U.S. government pays for billets in downtown Saigon. It includes the 500 piasters an American sergeant pays for an ao dai, a Vietnamese dress, to send to his girl friend in Chicago, as well as the 7.7 billion piasters that the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID) spends as a small part of its aid program here.

A dollar can be exchanged for 117 piasters at the official rate.

The giant U.S. construction program that accompanied the major increase in troops during the past year also poured great amounts of piasters into the economy with the hiring of tens of thousands of Vietnamese workers.

The glut of new piasters in the economy could have only one effect. Prices have jumped about 160 per cent since January, 1965. This year alone they are expected to rise 40 per cent.

Wages and total family income also have risen, and there is almost no unemployment, but inflation has braked the increase in real income.

Much of the economy is artificial and dependent on the war. The United States, for example, employs 150,000 South Vietnamese.

What happens when the United States leaves? Nobody has the answer.

Westmoreland, on the advice of U.S. economists here, instituted a strong piaster-control program at about the same time the major buildup of U.S. troops began last year.

A thorough propaganda campaign was aimed at the individual soldiers, showing how piaster spending could hurt the Vietnamese. The troops are told through hundreds of thousands of posters, lectures, radio and television announcements, how to cut their spending of piasters. Not to overtip, for one thing.

American soldiers can deposit their money in the Uniformed Services Savings Deposit program, which pays an attractive 10 per cent interest compounded quarterly.

Soldiers also are urged to buy U.S. savings bonds or to deposit their money in regular banking facilities, in which their money is more readily available than in the 10 per cent accounts. Checking accounts pay 5 per cent interest.

A rest and recreation program that takes U.S. servicemen to nine other countries doesn't help the U.S. gold-drain problem but cuts down on piaster spending in South Vietnam.

Post Exchange facilities are set up wherever there are soldiers. These use dollars, not piasters.

At the middle of 1966 there were some 270,000 U.S. troops, each spending more than $35 worth of piasters every month. Today there are more than 465,000 U.S. troops, but each spends half as much. Total piaster spending has remained about the same because of the buildup.

The cut in personal spending has been accompanied by similar reductions in official piaster spending, which is about twice as much as the amount spent individually.

In the first half of 1967 the U.S. Military Assistance Command spent 10.7 billion piasters, the same amount as the previous six months, despite the great increase in troops. Individual military men spent 6.3 billion, and other U.S. government personnel spent half a billion.

Piaster expenditures by AID brought the total to more than 24 billion piasters for the first six months of the year. The Saigon government, meantime, was spending only 17 billion piasters for all its nonwar activities.

Further reduction in U.S. official spending is expected soon when several thousand military personnel are moved out of Saigon to military housing and office space in Tan Son Nhut Airport and the sprawling Long Binh Army base to the north of Saigon.

Butterfly Style

Grill Frozen Lobster

Ever since the smaller-size South African rock lobster tails have been available, this succulent seafood has become a very-often barbecue treat for many families.

Reason is, they don't need to be defrosted before barbecuing. Which means that these small tails can be a last-minute notion.

An extra guest drops in? Teenager says he'd like to bring a friend home? The breadwinner says he'd rather have rock lobster than steak?

Lots of men do, but only those who know that it's no trouble to take the South African rock lobster tails out of the freezer in the last minute would dare bring up the subject.

Butterfly-Style Lobster

6 (2-3 oz.) South African rock lobster tails
6 tablsespoons butter
3 tablespoons chopped canned mushrooms
1 tablespoon onion, chopped very fine
1 tablespoon parsley, chopped very fine. Dash of Angostura bitters

Cut frozen tails down through middle of hard shell with sharp knife. Cut through flesh but not underside membrane. Grasp tail in both hands and open flat, butterfly-style.

Place tails flesh side toward heat and barbecue for 5 minutes. Turn tails, brush with Spiced Brown Butter and continue grilling, flesh side up for about 8 minutes.

Heat output on outdoor barbecues varies according to size of fire, wind, distance from heat source, etc. When rock lobster meat loses its translucency it is done.

To prepare sauce, brown butter. In separate pan, saute mushrooms, onions and parsley lightly. Add to brown butter, dash in Angostura bitters. Serve remaining sauce for dipping.

BUTTERFLY LOBSTER — Split frozen South African rock lobster tails down through the hard shell with a sharp knife and open them out, butterfly-fashion, to prepare them quickly for barbecue.

SEAFOOD PIZZA — If you have always thought of pizzas being topped with cheese and sausage, think again and try this one with seafood. Crabmeat and shrimp are a delicious combination.

Shape the Pizza Dough Like a Shell

A pizza shaped like a sea shell topped with seafood delicacies is a snack guaranteed to catch appettes by the sea or in your own back yard.

It all starts with a package cheese pizza mix and your imagination. The result will be a realistic shell shaped crust that will delight the whole family.

To do it easily, draw the shell shape on a greased cookie sheet. Then, spread the dough out to fit it. Top dough with canned pizza sauce, shrimp, crabmeat and green pepper. Sprinkle the package cheese over the seafood and then bake pizza until the crust is golden brown.

Seafood Creole Pizza

1 package complete cheese pizza mix
½ cup flaked cooked or canned crabmeat
½ cup finely chopped cooked or canned shrimp
2 tablespoons minced green pepper

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Prepare pizza dough as package directs.

Grease a large cookie sheet. Draw outline on greased sheet of a shell design, approximately 13" in diameter. Press out dough to fit design. Crimp up edges ¼ inch.

If a scallop shell design is used, make small roll at narrow edge of shell.

Combine crabmeat, shrimp mixture over sauce. Sprinkle cheese over top.

Bake for 15-18 minutes. Makes 4-6 servings.

Salmon Cheese Pizza

1 package complete cheese pizza mix
2 (7 ozs.) can salmon
1 tablespoon minced onion
2 teaspoons lemon juice

Preheat oven to 425 degrees.

Drain salmon and flake with fork. Mix together pizza sauce, flaked salmon, onion, and lemon juice. Spoon mixture evenly over dough. Sprinkle top with packaged cheese.

Bake for 18-20 minutes. Makes 4-6 servings.

Fruit Drink Is Nutritious

Choose summer thirst-quenchers that are nutritious. This cherry-chocolate banana frosty serves 6 to 8 persons.

Drain 1 (4-ounce) jar of red maraschino cherries, reserving syrup; chop cherries.

In electric blender or mixer bowl combine chopped cherries, cherry syrup, 3 mashed bananas, 1 pint of chocolate ice cream and 3 cups of cold milk. Blend thoroughly. Pour into glasses; garnish with stemmed maraschinos.

Sugary Onions Top Tomatoes

Candied tomatoes make an unusual vegetable dish.

Saute 1 medium onion, chopped, in 4 tablespoons of butter or margarine, melted, until onion is golden brown. Add ½ cup of light brown sugar and ¾ teaspoon of salt; stir until sugar is melted. Mix well with 1½ cups of buttered bread crumbs.

Arrange mixture evenly over 6 tomatoes, peeled, quartered and placed in a buttered baking dish. Top with 2 additional tablespoons of brown sugar, if desired.

Bake 20 to 25 minutes in preheated 375-degree oven.

Sardines Are Fine for Sandwich Mix

These hearty, flavorful sandwiches stand up well.

Carry-Along Sardine Sandwiches

2 can (each 3¾ ounces) sardines
¼ cup mayonnaise
⅓ cup India-type sweet pickle relish
½ cup minced celery
12 slices buttered bread

Mash the sardines, including the oil with the mayonnaise; stir in relish and celery.

Make 6 sandwiches of the filling and bread, using about ¾ cup filling for each; cut each in half.

Wrap individually and tightly and refrigerate until ready to pack into picnic vacuum bag.

Dress up supper tonight with low-calorie shrimp cocktail

Delicious made with

Gulf Kist Shrimp

fresh from the Gulf Coast, home waters for nature's tastiest shrimp

Gulf Kist Shrimp are already cooked. No peeling, no waste. Only 170 calories per can. Economical, too. 4½ oz. can equals 10 oz. frozen unshelled shrimp.

SHRIMP COCKTAIL

½ cup Hunt's Tomato Catsup
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ to 1 teaspoon horseradish
Dash of Tabasco
1 can Gulf Kist Shrimp
Lettuce leaves

Drain shrimp. Cover with ice water, let stand 5 minutes; drain. Arrange in 3 cocktail glasses, garnish with lettuce leaves. Combine other four ingredients, pour over shrimp. Chill. 3 servings.

Top Off Picnic Menu With Fruity Cake

Take a lesson in carefree outdoor dining from the Europeans. Pack a basket with a variety of easy-to-eat foods: bread, cheese, meat, vegetable sticks, and fruit. Then cap the meal with this moist, sweet Pineapple Picnic Cake.

Pineapple Picnic Cake scores high as a traveling dessert that is as pretty when you arrive at the grassy site as when you took it from the oven.

★ ★ ★

A flavorful topping, made by combining coconut with brown sugar, butter and pineapple juice, is spread over the baked cake and broiled very quickly to a lovely golden tone.

It's special virtue on an easy-to-carry cake is that it does not slip, slide or adhere to the cake pan cover — but does stay beautifully in place.

The tender-textured cake boasts tidbits of pineapple scattered throughout, granting the cake extra moistness for longer lasting freshness. The juicy pieces of fruit form delicious pockets of sweetness, too.

PINEAPPLE PICNIC CAKE

2 cups sifted enriched flour*
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
½ cup butter
1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
2 eggs
½ cup milk
1 can (13½ oz.) pineapple tidbids, well drained
Topping

Sift together dry ingredients. Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs, one at a time.

Blend flour mixture into creamed mixture, alternately with milk. Beat well after each addition. Mix in pineapple.

Spread batter into greased 9x13 pan. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven, 30 to 35 minutes, or until done. Spread top with topping. Broil for 1 to 2 minutes. Cool on wire rack.

Topping:

½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
¼ cup butter
¼ cup pineapple juice
1 pkg. (4 oz.) shredded coconut

Cream together butter and sugar. Blend in pineapple juice and cocoanut.

*If you don't sift and in the absence of other directions, spoon flour directly from container into a one-cup dry measure, level off, then remove two level tablespoonfuls, according to USDA recommendations.

NOTE: If self-rising flour is used, omit baking powder and salt.

PINEAPPLE PICNIC CAKE—The picnic fare has been satisfying and different. Bring a perfect outing to a sweet finale with this special "tote" cake served from its own pan.

Buttermilk Is Fine in Sherbet

It's gratifying to make your own frozen dessert on occasion.

Lime Sherbet

2 large eggs
½ cup sugar
½ cup white corn syrup
2 cups buttermilk
1 teaspoon grated lime rind
¼ cup lime juice

With electric beater, beat eggs until thickened and lemon color; thoroughly beat in sugar, about 1 tablespoon at a time. Add remaining ingredients and beat to blend.

Turn into a freezer tray (1 quart size) and freeze until almost firm. Turn out into mixing bowl; break up into small chunks; with electric beater, beat until mushy and smooth but not melted.

Turn into 6 individual metal molds (about ½ cup size) and freeze until firm; cover with plastic wrap. At serving time, run spatula around sides of molds; dip bottoms in cool water; turn out. Makes 6 servings.

Spread Spicy Butter on Chicken Wings

These chicken wings are easy to fix and delicious!

Curry-Broiled Chicken Wings

8 meaty (1½ pounds) chicken wings
2 tablespoons butter, soft
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon each dry mustard, paprika and curry powder
1 small clove garlic, crushed

Clip tips from chicken wings; wash and thoroughly dry wings. Blend together the remaining ingredients.

Spread one side of wings with half of mixture. Place wings, seasoned side up, on a rack in a small shallow pan on second rack under (or 6 inches from) high broiler heat.

Broil until browned — about 10 minutes; turn and spread with remaining butter mixture.

Continue to broil until browned and cooked through — about 10 minutes. Makes 4 small servings.

Fish Coated With Potato Flake Batter

Fishing in deep or shallow waters throughout the United States are some 33 million anglers each of whom catches about five pounds of fish a year. Quite a kettle of fish — but what can compare with the flavor of fresh-caught fish cooked over an open fire.

If your luck and the fish aren't running, there's usually plenty to be had at a nearby dock or supermarket. And cooking the fresh or frozen fillets couldn't be easier.

The important thing to remember is not to overcook — about 3 to 5 minutes on each side or until the fish flakes easily.

Country Fried Fish Fillets

2 eggs
¼ cup prepared yellow mustard
½ teaspoon seafood seasoning
1½ pounds Fish fillets
Mashed potato flakes
Salad oil or melted shortening
Parsley flakes

Beat together eggs, mustard, and seafood seasoning. Dip fish in the mustard mixture; roll in potato flakes.

Fry in hot oil or shortening 3 to 4 minutes on each side or until fish flakes easily and is golden brown. Garnish with parsley flakes. 4 servings.

Opening lead—♠ K

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

Today's hand created no excitement at all when played in a rubber bridge game in Dallas. South won the spade opening and went about the business of making his two-heart contract. He would have made three if he had played West for four trumps to the ace-ten but South wasn't psychic.

JACOBY

South told us about the hand because West is one of those players who never makes a mistake and who seldom wins because they sit back and let their opponents steal hand after hand from them.

Somehow or other, if West had entered the bidding, his side would have played some spade contract. They might have worked their way up to game. If they had, they might have been set one trick.

With West as declarer it is necessary that North open a low club so that South can take the first spade and get a club ruff. With East as declarer, it is necessary that South open a club and North duck. Either defense is possible, but not likely.

In any event four spades down one isn't worse than letting your opponents make two hearts.

Now let's look at the West hand. We don't feel that he should enter the bidding right over the one-heart opening. On the other hand we wouldn't criticize a double or a one-spade overcall. In fact we would recommend a one-spade overcall, in spite of holding only a four-card suit.

However, his first pass wasn't too bad. Later on he had two chances to get into the act. He could have doubled or bid two spades over South's two-diamond call.

Once more we aren't going to take strong issue with that second pass but when the bidding came back to him at two hearts he had what we consider an automatic two-spade call. Not only had North and South shown weakness but they were obviously short in spades and West could be sure that he would be safe if he bid two spades at that time.

♥♣CARD Sense♦♠

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
			1 ♣
Pass	1 ♠	Pass	2 N.T.
Pass	3 ♥	Pass	4 ♠
Pass	5 ♣	Pass	?

You, South, hold: ♠ A Q 5 ♥ K 9 6 4 ♦ A Q ♣ K J 9 7 6

What do you do now?

A—Bid five diamonds. This confirms the fact that your bidding has been sound and also shows the ace of diamonds. It does not show a diamond suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner continues to five hearts. What do you do now?

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Thursday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): Stress on what you do with opportunity. Key is preparation. Utilize past experience. Be ready. Don't be caught off guard. Day favors new superlences. Evening fine for dining out.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): Some pressures exist. But these are due to boomerang in your favor. Know this and relax. Cycle is moving up. You will achieve goal. Be sure you know what you want, need.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Heed counsel of one who urges conservative course. No time to upset friends, associates. Older individual has your interests at heart. Throw off envy, resentment.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Accent on business, career, professional endeavors. Dealings with one in authority are emphasized. Stick to regulations. Obtain hint from GEMINI message.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): Favorable lunar aspect coincides with chance to write, travel, express inner feelings. Avoid argument with one who is confused. Stick to issues—without being overly emotional.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Those who attempt to undermine you are in for surprise. You have more persons on your side than is imagined. Know this and act in confident manner. Money question will be resolved.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Avoid any tendency to antagonize those close to you. Show mate or partner that you are mature, responsible. Stress greater independence. Pursue creative endeavors. You'll gain.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Take special precautions against accidents at home, work. Attend to basic issues. Work out method of accomplishing goal. Remember, going-away gift for friend, relative. Be thorough.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Find out the why of events. Means don't be satisfied by superficial explanations. Key is to investigate. Stress versatile approach. Sense of humor your great ally, today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Weight of added responsibility could be felt today. Environment could be one of sadness due to temporary incapacitation of elderly person. Take steps to introduce cheer, optimism.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Journey that is unnecessary should be avoided. Somber thoughts reflect need for change. But you need not run away. Answers are within. If calm, you know what to do.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Some who boast about financial power may actually be weak. Know this and be realistic. Promises are cheap. Stick to principles. You will be repaid for efforts.

IF TOMORROW IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have much appeal to the public. Would make fine actor, attorney. Your forces are temporarily scattered. But decision is due which will make you feel more secure.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for ARIES, TAURUS, GEMINI. Special word to SAGITTARIUS: dig deep for information. Activity involving children spotlighted.

Auto Insurance Inquiry Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—A study of the automobile insurance industry to determine whether it should be brought under federal antitrust laws was announced Tuesday by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y.

Celler said the inquiry is based on more than 120 complaints he has received indicating "a broad cross section of the American people is gravely disturbed with the practices in the automobile insurance industry."

Riots Halt Probe

DETROIT (AP) — The riot forced the Wayne County Grand Jury to suspend activities Tuesday. Grand juror George Bowles said that all but two State Police detectives on his investigative staff have been assigned to riot duty. Bowles said he had also a shortage of stenographic and reporting personnel.

In forestry terms, a "pure stand" is a forest in which at least 80 per cent of the trees are the same kind.

Dow Jones Average Up

Uncertain Market Is Steadying

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market early this afternoon seemed to be slowly pulling out of an irregular phase day and most of this morning.

Gains outnumbered losses by nearly 3 to 2. As in Tuesday's session, the averages trailed or were contradictory, but unlike Tuesday, the averages edged above their lows early in the afternoon.

★ ★ ★

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.51 at 902.80. It registered slight losses in early trading.

Some firming in blue chips accounted for the higher edge in the Dow, but there was nothing of a decisive nature.

The mixed bag of earnings reports, the continuation of racial disturbances throughout the nation and some opinion to the effect that performance funds were taking profits were factors adding to uncertainty.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .1 at 338.0 with industrials up .8, rails off .8 and utilities up .2.

★ ★ ★

Most steels were lower, affected by reports of lower earnings.

Bethlehem reported second quarter earnings 38 per cent below a year ago. The stock lost a fraction.

Gains of 3 or more were by Xerox and Polaroid. Control Data added about 2½.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Detecto Scale rose about 3 points. Gains exceeding a point were made by Gulf Resources & Chemical and by Valley Metallurgical.

Federal Resources was very active but unchanged.

Low-priced fractional gainers included Transcontinental Investing, GF Industries, Canadian Homestead and National Bellas Hess.

UAW Hears Ford's Gripes

Cost-of-Living Setup, Grievances Are Cited

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. Tuesday became the first of the Big Three auto makers to formally tell the United Auto Workers it had a few gripes of its own to lay on the bargaining table.

★ ★ ★

Sidney F. McKenna, chairman of the Ford bargaining team, told the union that, among other things, "We will describe the continuing problems flowing from inadequacies in the special grievance procedure" and "We have some views on the cost-of-living allowance we want to discuss with you."

★ ★ ★

During the first two weeks of negotiations the companies did little more than listen as the union recited its list of demands, the top ones being a guaranteed income and some form of profit sharing.

Chrysler and General Motors are expected to follow Ford shortly in laying on the table those contract provisions which the companies want changed.

'GRIEVANCE MILLS'

"Grievance mills," union locals which file several grievances on the same subject, are expected to be one of the industry's big complaints.

★ ★ ★

The cost-of-living allowance, which adjusts workers' salaries up or down every three months in line with the changes in the consumer price index, is another area which could cause trouble in negotiations.

Bargainers are negotiating for new contracts, covering some 700,000 workers at the Big Three. Current pacts expire Sept. 6.

★ ★ ★

"We are making no attempt to match the union proposal for proposal," McKenna said Tuesday. "We are confining ourselves to selected sections where needs for change are evident."

The companies have said that in any new contract they want recognition for the 18 cents in hourly raises that have gone to workers since 1964 under the cost-of-living formula.

Canada Trip Is Cut Short by De Gaulle

OTTAWA (AP) —President Charles de Gaulle plans to return to France from Montreal, canceling the Ottawa portion of his scheduled visit, a government source said today. This report came as the government prepared to welcome the general to this national capital in the face of widespread protests over his views. Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson rebuked him in a statement Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

Montreal police, meanwhile, were investigating a bullet hole found in the wall of a City Hall office.

★ ★ ★

They said the bullet might have been fired about the time that De Gaulle was speaking outside the City Hall Monday night.

"There is absolutely nothing to indicate so far that the shot was fired during the general's speech," the police said.

De Gaulle was to reach Ottawa late today.

New Rec Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Forest Service has announced it will spend $1.7 million to develop, a trout pond recreation area in Pendleton County, W. Va.

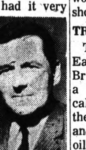
To Rebuild Its Economy

Britain Must Make Do

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — Britain today is like an old colonel back from East of Suez who had it very nice for many years but who now finds he must knuckle down to work, no matter how dreadful the task nor how old the body.



CUNNIFF

The colonel is willing but the task is formidable; the British economy must be rebuilt through hard work in order to be competitive in world markets. The weapons are spirit, pride, austerity and willingness to wark.

But progress is slow, and several body blows have been delivered in recent weeks; things have been going wrong at the very time the nation had a right to expect some good news.

Unemployment in July rose to the highest in 27 years, a total of 496,000 jobless. Industrial production declined in May. And the trade gap, which all the austerity and work is meant to close, widened instead.

A 21-nation study, by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, came up with the finding that Britain still had years more of hard work before real results would show.

TRADE ALLIANCE

These were not the only blows. Earlier, as the world knows, Britain was denied entrance to a democratic trade alliance called the Common Market. And then the Suez Canal was closed, and Britain was denied needed oil supplies via that trade route.

Most of this bad news came in a tumble just as some British were beginning to relax a bit. After nearly three years of belt-tightening, some results were beginning to show. For the first time since the 1940s exports were exceeding imports. But it didn't last.

With such hard work producing such depressing results it is easy to understand why some British began thinking that the best way to pay bills was to sell foreign assets. So far this route has been rejected.

★ ★ ★

Under Prime Minister Harold Wilson, the battle is not likely to be given up. Instead, austerity is likely to continue as the remedy. It means fixed wages, hard work, some joblessness, even poor housing. Broadly, it means more production but less consumption.

PLANNED RECESSION

How can austerity be the solution? How can a lid on the economy—on wages, prices and dividends, for instance—be the solution? How can a planned recession bring about a stronger economy? Isn't this contradictory behavior?

In theory, no. Austerity means that Britain must work harder to produce more to sell abroad. At the same time it means that she must spend less on herself and deny herself the luxuries of imported goods. She must make do.

Such a policy if maintained long enough will mean that not only will Britain make more goods but she will use less. The surplus of her economy then can be sold abroad to earn money with which to pay her debts.

If Britain continues to pay off her debts and they are enormous—then the rest of the world will have faith that the pound sterling is actually worth the $2.80 at which it is officially valued.

ADMIT FAILURE

If her economy fails to produce enough to pay the bills, then the world will assume that the pound is not worth $2.80. The nation then could be forced to acknowledge this by devaluation, an admission of failure.

There are some drawbacks to an austerity program, however, and they are bound to increase the pressure on the British government as the months go by.

For one thing, the ability of any people to observe austerity without reward or without end cannot be measured except that it becomes increasingly onerous with time. Some evident of strain came with the defeat last spring of many Labor party members of Parliament.

Second, austerity could become self-defeating, in that it might discourage investments in new plants and equipment, which generally lead to more efficiency and higher productivity.

Congress Haggling Over Blame for Riots

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders are haggling over the political blame for big city rioting as Congress moved ponderously to set up the machinery to investigate violence in the streets.

While committees discussed hearings and action on antirioting and inquiry measures, Democrats and Republicans accused each other of trying to reap political advantage out of the bloody destruction in Detroit and other urban areas.

Controversy boiled up Tuesday over whether President Johnson acted quickly enough in sending federal troops into Detroit's stricken areas and whether Republicans were playing politics in accusing Johnson of failing to deal adequately with racial disorders.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., told the Senate there had been an "unfortunate delay" between the time federal troops arrived in Michigan and when they were ordered into the streets. He said in that period additional lives were lost and property destroyed.

LBJ-DIRKSEN MEET

House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma accused Republican leaders of "playing politics" in issuing a Republican Policy Coordinating Committee statement saying Johnson had failed to cope with the problem of civil disorders.

Amid an eruption of charges and counter charges, Johnson met with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, discussed "every angle" of multiple-city rioting and gave no indication of whether he favors a congressional investigation.

This was Dirksen's report as he offered a resolution to set up a Senate-House committee of 10 to inquire into the root causes of civil disorder and to recommend congressional action to curb further outbreaks.

Dirksen supported the GOP Coordinating Committee statement Monday but said it wasn't discussed in his meeting with the President.

BLAME SHIFTING

Despite disavowals, there was obvious backstage maneuvering between Democrats and Republicans to shift the onus for street violence on to the other party.

★ ★ ★

Albert said Republicans had been more interested in cutting government expenditures than in helping solve big city problems.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "I am 28 years old and interested in aggressive growth stocks. I am intrigued by the potential in the water treatment field. I have narrowed my choice to Calgon and Betz Laboratories. It looks as if Betz would have the faster growth. What would you advise?" M. L.

(A) Please let me congratulate you on your farsightedness in picking stocks in an area destined for future growth. Betz is almost wholly engaged in water treatment, while Calgon has important interests in other areas as well. Both stocks showed roughly the same rate of growth in 1966 and in the first quarter of 1967. Betz is much the smaller of the two companies and sells at a higher multiple — around 40 — compared with 34 for Calgon, based in each instance on estimated earnings for 1967.

For most investors my preference would be for Calgon which has a wider product mix. For your particular requirements — and assuming that you can afford considerable market risk — I advise Betz which is more exclusively in water treatment and is growing from a lower base.

(Q) "My mother passed away and I have found stock certificates of which I enclose photocopies. These appear to have no value but I would like to know how to find out if this is so." E. B.

(A) I am sorry to say that I have found nothing in my own records relating to the stocks you hold. It is always difficult to determine whether apparently obsolete securities have any value. If you are on good terms with your broker, he might make a search for you, but bear in mind that this may be for him a costly and time-consuming process. If this approach fails, write to the Secretary of State in the state of incorporation. If no information is forthcoming, try the respective transfer agents. Both of these sources are indicated on the certificates.

Riot Backlash Delays War on Poverty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's War on Poverty is feeling the backlash from the wave of big city riots.

Even the strongest congressional backers of the anti-poverty program are conceding privately that if a measure were brought to the House floor today it would be resoundingly defeated.

The House Education and Labor Committee, with an eye on events in Detroit and other trouble spots, is planning to put off action for another month on the administration's $2 billion bill to continue the program. The committee had been scheduled to complete public hearings on the measure next week.

A Senate poverty subcommittee was scheduled to vote on the same bill next week, but it may hold off in view of the riots. "Sentiments to that effect have been building," a congressional source said.

* * *

Backers of the antipoverty program have been kept busy in recent days defending it against charges that some of its field workers have encouraged rioting.

BEEN HELPFUL

"We've got to convince the members that poverty workers have not instigated the riots, but rather have been helpful in keeping them from getting worse or even starting in many cities of the nation," said one House Democrat.

Just above 10,000 board feet of lumber is used in the average house. More than 60 per cent of this goes into framing.

Judge Upholds Billy Rose Will

Charge of Avoiding Taxes Is Dismissed

NEW YORK (AP) — A judge has upheld Billy Rose's avoidance of taxes on the bulk of his estate.

Surrogate S. Samuel DiFalco ruled Tuesday that the late showman was within his rights in leaving most of his estate, estimated between $25 million and $50 million, to a foundation bearing his name.

* * *

A sister, Miriam Stern of Manhattan, had protested the will, contending that Rose's "attempt to insure tax deductibility of his charitable gifts is against public policy."

DiFalco noted in his decision that the Billy Rose Foundation was established in 1958 as a trust with religious, charitable and educational purposes.

'OF NO CONCERN'

The ruling said whether or not the decedent was truly charitable or primarily concerned with avoiding taxes, "can be of no concern either to this court or to the petitioner."

'In these days of high taxation," it added, "the testator's concern with the payment of taxes and his attempt by legal means to avoid full impact is understandable.

* * *

Rose died at 66 in February 1967 after a spectacular career as theatrical producer, songwriter, columnist, investor, real estate operator and art collector. He began his career as a champion shorthand writer.

His will gave the income from a $100,000 trust to Mrs. Stern. A second sister, Polly Gottlieb of Beverly Hills, Calif., was left $50,000 and the income from a $1 million trust. The sisters made an unsuccessful attempt to break the will last year.

RFK, Romney Lead Straw Poll at Fair

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — A straw poll for president here saw Michigan Gov. George Romney favored among Republicans, and Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., picked by a Johnson.

The poll was set up by the Dane County Democratic Club at a county junior fair. Fairgoers were asked to register their choice for president on a voting machine in the club's fair booth.

Kennedy received 289 votes to 148 for President Johnson.

Romney had 59 votes. His nearest GOP challenger was Charles Percy of Illinois with 54.

Knee Problems Continue to Plague Jets' Namath

By the Associated Press

Joe Namath is having knee trouble again. This time it's his left instead of the right for which he underwent surgery last December.

The $400,000 star quarterback for the New York Jets of the American Football League strained a tendon below his left kneecap in the Jets' training camp at Peekskill, N. Y. Tuesday.

Dr. James Nicholas, the Jets' physician, taped up the knee and the former Alabama All-America resumed practice.

"It does not appear to be serious, but we'll have to wait a day or two to be sure," said Dr. Nicholas. He advised Coach Weeb Ewbank to keep a sharp eye on Namath for several days.

Ewbank probably is keeping his fingers crossed. If Namath is hobbled, the Jets' hopes of winning the AFL championship will be jolted.

In 1966, his second year as a pro QB, the 202-pound Namath turned in the league's best performance by completing 232 of 471 passes for 3,379 yards, including 19 TD heaves. He had been confident of having his best year ever in 1967. Now, for a few days at least, his future appears uncertain.

The Namath incident was one of the highlights Tuesday as the pros in both leagues, the AFL and NFL, continued to drill for exhibition games.

The Boston Patriots rookies were upset 3-0 by the Lowell Giants of the Atlantic Coast Conference in an exhibition at Lowell, Mass.

Tom Dempsey's 18-yard field goal with 2:26 to play accounted for the only score.

Leslie Duncan and Kenny Graham, two of the three San Diego Charger players fined $1,000 each by Coach Sid Gillman for leaving camp Monday, returned to the base at Escondido, Calif. Tuesday and were re-instated.

It cost Duncan and Graham each $1,200, the $1,000 fine plus $100 for each day of practice missed. Fullback Gene Foster, who left with defensive backs Duncan and Graham, did not return and remains suspended indefinitely.

★ ★ ★

In other developments, veteran back Jim Todd was traded to the Baltimore Colts by the Detroit Lions, end John Paluck was suspended indefinitely by the Chicago Bears for leaving camp without any explanation and veteran end Preston Carpenter, an 11-year NFL player, was released by the Minnesota Vikings.

John Bramlett, a starting linebacker for the Denver Broncos, was traded to the Miami Dolphins for an undisclosed future draft choice.

The two year veteran from Memphis State had not yet signed with the American Football League Broncos and the trade is contingent upon Bramlett coming to terms with the Dolphins.

Late-Inning Punch Helps White Sox Sweep Indians

Double Victory Gives Chicago 2-Game Lead

By The Associated Press

Ken Berry took the apple twice. The third time he polished it — real good.

"I took the apple the other two times," said Berry in explaining his failure to deliver in two game-winning situations in the second game of the Chicago White Sox' doubleheader with Cleveland Tuesday night.

"So I had to do something about it," Berry continued.

He did — smashing a two-run homer in the bottom of the 16th inning to give the White Sox a 6-5 victory. A two-run homer —this time by J. C. Martin in the ninth inning — gave the Sox a 3-1 victory in the opener.

The twin victories moved the American League leading Sox two full games ahead of runner-up Boston, which lost 6-4 to third-place California.

In other AL action, Kansas City swept Washington 5-2 and 6-5 and the Minnesota-New York game was rained out after nine innings with the score tied 1-1. The Detroit-Baltimore game was washed out.

Chicago Manager Eddie Stanky was overjoyed with the victories but wasn't happy with the length of time it took to achieve them.

Stanky, who had argued that there should be a curfew after the Sox lost to Washington in 22 innings earlier in the season, said:

"Even though we won, it's no good for tomorrow. The players will be dragging. There should be a curfew. His (Cleveland Manager Joe Adcock) staff is wrecked and my staff is wrecked. There will be 20,000 people out tomorrow night and they won't be able to see a good ball game. After all, how many stayed to see this game."

MANY DEPARTED

The paid attendance was 18,152, and it was estimated that less than 1,000 fans were in the stands at the end.

California struck for three runs with two out in the first inning. Don Mincher doubled home Jerry Adair and scored on Jimmie Hall's double. Hall came home on Bob Rodgers' single.

The Angels clinched it with a pair in the third. Mincher singled and Hall doubled, and they scored on Rick Reichardt's single. Hall also singled home a run in the fourth.

Boston scored single runs in four different innings, but the Angel defense came up with several sparkling plays to keep the Red Sox from having a big inning.

Mike Hershberger's three-run inside-the-park homer in the first inning sparked Kansas City to its first-game victory.

In the nightcap, Ken Harrelson, who homered in the first game, gave the Athletics a 5-2 lead with a two-run single in the fifth, and Joe Nossek ddove in what proved to be the winning run with a single in the sixth.

PITCHING DUEL—Cincinnati Reds' pitcher Gary Nolan speeds safely to first base as Atlanta Braves' hurler Pat Jarvis misses a high chopper between home and first in the third inning of their game in Atlanta last night. Jarvis redeemed himself, however, as he allowed only two hits in posting a 1-0 win.

Young Netters Putting Pressure on Veterans

HAVERFORD, Pa. (UPI) — The guys who came to the Merion Cricket Club with the ink barely dry on their college diplomas are playing havoc with some of the favorites in the 68th annual Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis Championships.

Walter Johnson, a recent Georgia Tech graduate from Hollywood, Fla., wrecked the comeback hopes of seven-time champion Vic Seixias of Villanova, Pa., on Tuesday with an 11-9, 6-3 second round victory.

Ron Goldman, last year's intercollegiate champion from George Washington University, upset fourth seeded Owen Davidson of Australia, 6-3, 6-2.

Al Kaline Ready to Return; Riot, Rain Keep Tigers Idle

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Detroit Tigers may have set one of those odd-ball type records. But they needed a riot and a 500-mile trip to do it.

When Tuesday night's game was rained out in Baltimore, it may have been the only contest ever scheduled for the same night to be called off in two different cities.

★ ★ ★

The game, originally set for Detroit, was transferred to Baltimore because of civil disturbances in the Motor City.

So the Tigers traveled 500 miles to Baltimore and played an inning and a half before the rains washed out the scoreless tie.

The teams cannot play tonight because of a soccer game at Memorial Stadium but a single game is set for Thursday night and a makeup game will be set for Detroit's final trip of the season to Baltimore next week.

That will make a total of eight doubleheaders for the Tigers during August.

Tiger Manager Mayo Smith said Joe Sparma, who pitched one inning Tuesday night, will be his probable starter Thursday. Baltimore Manager Hank Bauer was uncertain who his pitcher would be.

Also starting for Detroit should be Al Kaline, who has been on the disabled list since June 27.

The Tiger outfielder took batting practice before Tuesday night's game and said he felt no pain in his injured hand and that he expects to play Thursday.

Kaline also tested his throwing for the first time by pitching 10 minutes of batting practice.

Rec Teams Wait Lifting of Curfew

The Pontiac recreation program will remain curtailed as long as the 9 p.m. curfew is in effect, city recreation department officials said today.

★ ★ ★

Junior baseball will be played today and the Class A men's game, slated for 8 p.m. at Jaycee Park, will be played if the curfew is lifted.

Softball is in the same boat. If the curfew is removed, director Jim Jones said games scheduled tonight at Beaudette and Northside parks would be played.

If the games are not played tonight, they'll be played at the same time and place Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Two games were postponed last night. They will be played Friday night at Northside. Bob's Bar meets Local 594 in the first game at 7 p.m. and Town & Country meets Ron's Roost in the 8:30 nightcap.

Local Diver Second in Pan-Am Games

WINNIPEG, Canada (AP) — The tempo picks up in the fifth Pan-American Games Wednesday with a strong Stars and Stripes beat.

A bag of six more gold medals for the United States looms in the first session of swimming finals as the third day of over-all Pan-Am action brings yachting and fencing into the sprawling hemispheric athletic show.

Olympian Sue Gossick, 19, Tarzana, Calif., and Micki King, Pontiac, moved into the women's 3-meter diving finals as one-two leaders after Tuesday's preliminaries.

With 16 sports now under way, only boxing, rowing, judo and the real big tent event—track and field—remain in the wings at sites scattered over this city of 500,000.

★ ★ ★

The track competition, which like swimming has the U.S. squad stamped an overwhelming favorite, starts Saturday and runs through the following Saturday.

Uncle Sam's youthful and powerful swimming array was primed for a likely record-smashing surge toward one-two sweeps in four races and the women's 3-meter diving.

For the United States, entering the day with two gold medals and one silver medal, it was mainly a question which countries would take the bronze medal for third place in tonight's six aquatic finals.

The United States had Pan-Am record-breaking qualifiers Tuesday for tonight's 100-meter men's free style in Zach Zorn, Buena Park, Calif., and the 200-meter women's free style in 16-year-old Pam Kruse, Poopano Beach, Fla.

★ ★ ★

Cinches to dominate this afternoon's trials for evening finals were NCAA and AAU champ Ken Mertens, Southern Methodist grad, in the men's 200-meter breastroke; 15-year-old Katie Ball, Jacksonville, Fla., in the women's 200 breaststroke, and Cathy Ferguson, 18, Burbank, Calif., in the women's 200 backstroke.

BASKETBALL ROUT

The U.S. basketball team was hoisted by a pair of talented collegians, Jo Jo White of Kansas and Westley Unseld of Louisville, to a 131-43 crushing of feeble Colombia.

★ ★ ★

Thus began the Americans' fifth straight title quest.

White's 22 points and 18 by big Unseld led double-figure scoring by six U.S. players.

The United States also had soft touches Tuesday in women's gymnastics, sweeping the first six individual spots in compulsory exercises, and in water polo with a 14-0 swamping of Colombia.

In other team sports, the U.S. women's basketball team barely hung on for a 48-45 shading of Mexico, while the U.S. equestrian team settled for the second-place silver medal behind gold-medal winning Chile in dressage.

Yachting began today in four classes, lightning, flying dutchman, snipe and finn.

Only other medal winners thus far have been Mexico with a silver for individual free pistol shooting and bronze for team pistol shooting, Canada with a bronze for dressage, Venezuela a bronze for individual pistol shooting, and Cuba a silver for team pistol shooting.

St. Louis Stays Cool in Halting Cubs

Dad Taught Jim

Northrup's Star Bright

DETROIT (AP) — Jim Northrup wasn't the best of the baseball playing Northrup family around St. Louis in Gratiot County.

But he was the only one to make it to the big leagues and there are a lot of people around who think the slender Detroit Tigers flychaser may be the next big baseball superstar.

Gerald Northrup, Jim's outspoken father, never pushed Jim or his brother, Jerry and Mickey, about baseball, but he made sure they had every opportunity to play.

"My dad was a Sunday beer league player around St. Louis and Breckenridge," recalls Northrup, a handsome 28-year-old who carries 200 pounds on his 6-foot-3 frame. "He never made the big leagues but I think he had an idea one of us would make it.

"By the time we were old enough to hold a bat he was practicing with us. He taught me and my brothers all the fine points of baseball as well as hunting, fishing and sportsmanship.

"We were doing something with him every free evening and weekend. But the truth of it is that my brother Mickey was a more natural player than any one of us. He could outhit and field better than Jerry or myself," recalls Jim.

The elder Northrup, now a sports equipment salesman around Lansing, agrees that Mickey, who died at age 16 of leukemia, was the best player.

"Mickey would have been a bigger man than Jim," he says. He was 6-foot-2 and weighed 190 when he was 15 years old. He could hit a ball farther than Jim and that's saying something. And he had an inborn natural ability for sports. Jim is more of an analyst, thinking out a play before reacting."

Northrup's father also thought Jerry was a better baseball prospect than Jim, but Jerry, now a salesman, gave up baseball after a close call as a youngster.

"One day he was playing in the American Legion League," the father recalls, "and was beaned by a high, fast inside pitch. After that game he came up to me and said he had had enough of baseball. I didn't blame him. We brought the boys up with what we hoped would be a well-rounded background in sports and education so they could go on to choose any career they wished."

Jim's parents wanted him to be a doctor and he had a B average in premedical work at Alma college when the Detroit Tigers signed him for a $12,000 bonus in 1960.

Jim wanted to get married and the money was the clincher.

"If I went into medicine I knew marriage would be out for a long time," he said. "I always liked the Tigers and Detroit. Besides, I like to play baseball and here was a man handing me $12,000 just to sign up for something that had always been pure joy."

The Northrups, who live in Detroit, have two children, Jim Jr., 5, and Paige, 3.

Cards Regain 1st Place With 4-3 Decision

Allen's Batting Helps Bunning Collect 10th Victory of Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Cardinals, once again perched atop the National League, are also bidding fair to lead the league in nonchalance.

The Cards opened a critical three-game series with the remarkable Chicago Cubs Monday night with St. Louis a game ahead. The Cubs then won the opener to tie for the league lead.

Tuesday night a brilliant relay play from center field to the plate transformed Ted Savage from the potential Chicago tying run to the final out in a 4-3 St. Louis victory.

And how did the Cardinals react? Calmly, to say the least.

"Maxie (shortstop Dal Maxvill) told me to throw so I threw," said Julian Javier, who relayed the ball in from second, with an authentic shrug. "I wasn't surprised."

"I didn't think it was such a great play," yawned catcher Tim McCarver, who made the tag at the plate after Ernie Banks had already scored on the play. "I mean the ball was right there so what's the big deal?"

STARTED PLAY

Only Bob Tolan, who at 21 is in his first full year with the Cards and who started the play after retrieving Al Spangler's single in center field, showed anything approaching emotion.

"After I made the throw," said Tolan, "I looked up and saw him trying to score and I said to myself, 'Oh, God, I hope he makes a good throw to the plate.'"

In other less nerve-wracking National League action Tuesday night, Philadelphia pounded Houston 12-7, San Francisco edged New York 5-4, Atlanta nudged Cincinnati 1-0 and Los Angeles beat Pittsburgh 3-1.

Rich Allen carried Philadelphia's big stick, pounding out four hits—including his 13th homer—driving in four runs, scoring three and stealing two bases. Jim Bunning got his 10th victory.

Jesus Alou's bases-loaded single in the bottom of the ninth won the game for San Francisco after the Mets had tied the game in the top of the inning on John Sullivan's two-run single and Larry Stahl's bouncer to the mound, which scored a run.

★ ★ ★

Pat Jarvis hurled a two-hitter, leading Atlanta past Cincinnati into third place. The Braves scored in the fifth when Denis Menke tripled and came on on Woody Woodward's single.

Gal Pros After Yankee Purse

The professional women golfers are in Grand Blanc this week looking for a share of the $25,000 purse in the Fourth Annual Yankee Women's Open.

Pre-tournament activity opens today with the first of two days of pro-amateur play. The first round of the 54-hole event opens Friday and the other 18-hole rounds are slated for Saturday and Sunday.

Host for the tournament is Willowood Country Club, a nine-hole layout located on Maple Road two miles east of Dort Highway near Grand Blanc.

The format is unusual for a pro tournament. It's a best-ball affair. The field will play the event in two-pro teams with the low score of the twosome at each hole used in determining the winner.

Two State Gals Golfing Victims

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Tuesday's results of the Trans-Mississippi Women's Golf Tournament included:

Janice Elias, Grand Rapids, Mich., defeated Mrs. Lowell Sullivan, Minot, N. D., 6 and 5.

Cynthia Hill, South Haven, Mich., defeated Joyce Kazmierski, Detroit, Mich., 3 and 2.

Papa Bear Optimistic About Team

RENSSELAER, Ind. (UPI) — George Halas, still head coach of the Chicago Bears at the age of 72, can find optimism this year with youth.

The Bears, with such veterans as Jon Arnett, Ed O'Bradovich and Rich Kreitling retired and Doug Atkins and Herman Lee traded and others gone in the draft to stock New Orleans will be one of the youngest teams ever under Halas' tutelage.

Yet, Halas said, "I think we can do better than we were last year. In fact, I know we'll be better. We're going to put a burden on some of the rookies, and I know they're going to make costly mistakes, but I'm going to roll with the punches. It's going to be a tough squad to cut."

★ ★ ★

Some of his ball players won't give him a problem in making his cuts, a halfback such as Gale Sayers for instance.

Sayers led the league in rushing and in kickoff returns last year and holds four National League records plus nine other club marks.

A few others in the same category would be fullback Andy Livingston, yet to show his tremendous promise, quarterback Jack Concannon, obtained from Philadelphia in return for tight end Mike Ditka, flanker Johnny Morris, back off the injured list, linebacker Dick Butkus, center Mike Pyle, defensive linemen Dick Evy, Frank Cornish and defensive backs Rich Petibon and Rosy Taylor.

★ ★ ★

"Our main objective is to find a tight end," Halas said, "and to get some offensive linemen. I think we'll do well on defense. We've got several new deep backs and an additional linebacker."

The Bears, however, suffered a blow in training camp when fullback Ronnie Bull broke a bone in his leg. He will miss the early part of the season.

Special Present Sought by Miss King in Meet

WINNIPEG (AP) — Second Lieutenant Micki King of the U.S. Air Force will be 23 today and she'd like to celebrate her birthday by winning the three-meter springboard gold medal of the Pan American Games.

Her? Air Force Lieutenant?

Yep, and there's no mistake about it. Micki is a vivacious, blue-eyed blonde, who does justice to a bathing suit. She is 5-foot-7 and weighs 130 pounds.

★ ★ ★

"I'd like to win the gold medal to justify the program which permits me to do a job and to continue to compete in diving," said Micki Tuesday night.

The University of Michigan graduate from Pontiac had just finished her seventh dive to wind up in close pursuit of teammate Sue Gossick, another shapely, 19-year-old blonde from Tarzana, Calif.

Sue had 497.80 points for her seven dives with the final three to be contested at 3 p.m., EDT, in the huge indoor Pan American pool. Micki had 488.50 with Kathy McDonald, 19-year-old Canadian third in the seven-girl field with 464.40.

Micki said that everyone seems to think — before they meet her, that is — that she's a man and then they wonder how she became an Air Force officer.

"It's a relatively new program for women — and it's great," said Micki. "I wouldn't be happy as a schoolteacher or a secretary.

"I went into officers' training after I graduated from Michigan in 1966. Now I'm doing administrative work with the ROTC detachment at Michigan. I'm on active duty and I'll be in for four years.

★ ★ ★

"After work I'm able to put in four or five hours of training under my old coach at Michigan, Dick Kimball.

"The Air Force is all for it. They're eager to sponsor competition. As I said, they have a marvelous program and I recommend it highly to girls looking for an interesting career in interesting surroundings."

Micki is single. She's having a ball.

Golfer Leading by Eleven Shots

Mrs. Max Evans of Southfield held an 11-stroke lead as the final round of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association 54-hole medal play tournament opened today at Partridge Country Club near Mount Clemens.

The Southfield golfer carded an 86 yesterday to go with an opening 90 for a 36-hole total of 176. Holding the runner-up spot was Mrs. G. F. Langford of Dearborn Heights at 187.

★ ★ ★

The unrest caused by the rioting in Detroit kept defending champion Mrs. Nick Panasiuk of Elmstead, Ont., from entering the tournament, and it thinned the over-all ranks of the field of 44 players.

Waterford Tentatively Sets Playoff

Midget Bar wound up in third place last night in Waterford Township recreation softball action by knocking off Clarkston Appliance, 3-0.

★ ★ ★

Bill Goulet struck out five and scattered six hits to pick up the victory for Midget Bar (11-11). Harold Hughes allowed only three hits in taking the loss for Clarkston (10-12).

The winners scored one run without a hit in the opening inning and wrapped it up with two more in the fifth on two hits and an error.

The first round of playoffs opens tomorrow night at the Drayton Plains park if the 9 p.m. curfew is lifted.

★ ★ ★

The Thursday pairings find Day's Sanitary taking on Clarkston Appliance at 7 p.m. and Clyde's Frame and Wheel meeting Waterford Merchants at 8:30.

On Friday, Buckner Finance meets McAnnally's Auto Sales at 7 p.m., and Spencer Floor takes on Midget Bar at 8:30.

More Money to Be Sought

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Commission has agreed to try for an appropriations increase for the conservation department when the Legislature reconvenes next week.

Conservation director Ralph MacMullan Monday was instructed to meet with Gov. George Romney to enlist his cooperation.

MacMullan also was told to try and get the House and Senate conservation committees "to agree to a more realistic budget."

There will be no wholesale layoffs, MacMullan said — this an attempt to maintain the morale and integrity of the department. But he said some 80 vacancies would be left unfilled and about 100 positions probably would be vacant by the end of the year.

MacMullan claimed the $28.2 million appropriation for the department leaves it $1.3 million short of the operating budget for the last fiscal year.

Apparently fiscal reform didn't help the Conservation Department, commented James Rouman, executive director of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. "The department got the short end of the stick," he said.

Carl Johnson of Grand Rapids, commission chairman, said the budget "represents grim news for the cause of conservation."

"The disturbing thing for me," Johnson said, "is that we increased the income tax to meet our problems and increased fishing and park license fees, but in spite of this have less money to carry out our conservation programs."

NO ADDED LAND

Under the new budget, the commission was told, there will be no money for game land acquisition — this for the first time in more than 30 years.

The department asked for $9 million for water pollution control, the commission was told, and received less than $2 million.

"I have a feeling of futility and hopeless dejection over this budget," said commissioner August (Gus) Scholle of Royal Oak, state president of the AFL-CIO. "It has left the commission with a hopeless dilemma to try and administer conservation programs."

Warren Shapton, deputy director for field operations, said the law enforcement strength should be about 200 men, but is down to 137. The Legislature was asked for $119,000 for law enforcement equipment, Shapton said, but gave nothing.

RALPH A. MacMULLEN

Anterless Deer Quota for County

The Conservation Commission has authorized the issuance of 539 anterless deer permits for northern and western Oakland County this fall.

"The goal is for 125 anterless deer to be taken by the permit holders," said Howard Greene, district game biologist at Pontiac Lake.

"Hunters with permits should have more opportunity to take deer in the designated Oakland County areas," he said, "because much of the land is part of state recreation areas."

Holly, Ortonville, Highland and Proud Lake areas fell within the anterless permit territory. Farmlands in the new federal cropland-recreation program also will be open if they are within the designated anterless boundaries.

The department was able to open Oakland to anterless deer hunting when the Legislature gave the department discretionary power to crop the herd in high deer-auto accident areas.

Nearly 40 deer were killed in road mishaps in Oakland County during the first six months of this year.

"These are only the known dead," Greene pointed out. "Others run off and die without being recovered, and some car owners pickup the deer and take them home without reporting the accidents."

Motorists involved in such mishaps can take the deer with them if they report it to a law enforcement agency.

NEW TWIST — Jeff Smith, Bloomfield Hills, rides one ski as he is pulled along by a Sky Craft on Pine Lake. Throttles in the handles enable the skier to have control over the 24-horsepower engine that powers the craft. It is capable of sharp turns and the engine stops when the throttle is released — or a skier falls.

Attack by Big Bear Brings No Complaint

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry E. Coe III, Lawrence, N. Y. loves the rugged outdoor life, even when it involves an occasional grizzly bear encounter.

His brother-in-laws may have different ideas.

"Last Saturday," Coe wrote Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, "my brother-in-law and I were fishing the Firehole River in Yellowstone Park above Nez Perce Creek when he was suddenly attacked by a grizzly bear.

"Fortunately, no one was physically hurt — either he, myself or the bear. It was an entirely unprovoked incident," wrote Coe, who has a ranch at Bozeman, Mont., near the park.

"My principal purpose in writing," said Coe, who did not give the name of his brother-in-law, "is not to complain, but to tell you how happy I am that there are still places in this increasingly urbanized land of ours where one can fly fish for brown trout and be beset by wild game.

"The greatest joys of life," Coe said, "are those that have substantial risks attached to them."

"Here's someone who has actually caught the spirit of what we're trying to do in preserving wilderness areas," Udal, wrote in reply.

"Wilderness devoid of unexpected and accidental risks would be a flat, zestless and utterly unnatural experience," said the secretary, though he added: "We try to warn park visitors against needless exposure to natural danger.

"I am left with one niggling question," wrote Udall. "How did your brother-in-law get away?"

Court Rejects Road Closing

Cites 'Esthetic Values' in Recent Opinion

Esthetic values, frequently trampled under by the socalled "march of progress," recently carried prominent weight in an opinion handed down by the Circuit Court of Oceana County.

★ ★ ★

Circuit Judge Harold VanDomelen denied a petition to close the unpaved road which borders the west side of the Silver Lake State Park campground on the south shore of the lake.

★ ★ ★

The decision upheld a position taken by State Attorney General Frank J. Kelley who represented the Conservation Department and was joined as a contestant in the case by the Oceana County Road Commission.

Judge VanDomelen emphasized the road's importance to the public in these terms:

"The scenic beauty of Silver Lake is not only a major tourist attraction, it is also a source of pleasure to the inhabitants of this area. The rapid development of private property on this lake for resort purposes now restricts the public use and view of the lake and the dunes."

Charles Wins Tourney

ST. ANDREW'S, Scotland (UPI) — Bob Charles of New Zealand, won a two-man $7,000 golf tournament Tuesday by sinking a 15-foot putt on the final hole at the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews.

WET START — Joan Peven of Pontiac is buffeted by spray as she is pulled into an upright skiing position by the Sky Craft which is distributed through Heath Sales of Richmond.

Large Rainbow Caught by Clarkston Fisherman

Robert McClusky's fishing trip started and ended in a big hurry.

McClusky, of 6200 Ascension, Clarkston, went to Cemetery (Middle) Lake early Sunday to fish for rainbows. He quickly hooked one of the big lunkers known to lurk in the lake's depths.

After a lengthy battle, he boated a five-pound, 13-ounce rainbow. Taken on a nightcrawler, the fish was 24½ inches long.

"He really tore up the water," said McClusky. "I didn't stay long after I caught him." It was his only strike.

Perch fishing is reported good on Saginaw Bay from Pinconning to Pte. AuGres. Lake St. Clair also is yielding a few good perch, but many anglers stayed home because of the civil disturbances in Detroit and other Southeastern Michigan communities.

Good catches of bluegills continue to be taken at Crystal Lake and the Holly Millpond. Bass have been active on Kent, Louise, Orchard, Union and Bald Eagle.

SOME PIKE

A few pike are being caught at Oxbow, Pontiac, Pine, Orion, Brendel and Lower Straits.

Huckleberries are becoming ripe in Northern Michigan. Good harvests are reported in the eastern half of Gladwin County and the northern part of Clare County.

★ ★ ★

Other good locations are along M-33 in Ogemaw County and near Lumberman's Monument in Oscoda County. Several Huckleberry marshes are located in northern Oakland County, but most of them have been pretty well picked over by now.

★ ★ ★

Recent rains eased the fire danger in Northern Michigan temporarily, but Conservation Department fire officials point out that much more rainfall is needed or the situation can become explosive in a few days.

Forest Service Acquires Land

Salmon Program Backed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Federal fishery expert said Saturday that stocking Lake Michigan with trout and coho salmon would be a "sound approach" toward ending the alewife problem which plagues the lake area.

Billions of the small herring have died in the southern part of the lake. The stench prompted some workers to quit rather than carry out their assigned jobs of removing the debris from the beaches and harbors, municipal water intakes have been clogged, and electric utility plants were thrown out of kilter.

Dr. Stanford H. Smith, chief of cold water fisheries research at the commercial fisheries bureau's biological laboratory, Ann Arbor, discussed the problem in a television interview with Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis.

Reuss has urged vigorous research into how to restore the balance of fish population in the lake.

Establishment of ecological balance has never been tried in a body of water as large as the Great Lakes.

Mercury Team Named

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ed Leslie of Carmel, Calif., and Pete Revson of New York, were nominated Tuesday to drive Mercury's two team Cougar cars in the Trans-American Sedan Championship at Bryar, N.H., Aug. 6.

Mildred Deboa, the family's housekeeper, found the dead child. She said that he had wandered off.

Kevin was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Funeral service will be tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the McCabe Funeral Home, 18570 W. Grand River, Detroit. Burial will be at Roseland Park, Detroit.

Surviving are his parents; three brothers, Louis, Blair and Eddie at home; and one grandmother.

6 Are Killed in Auto Crash by Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Six persons were killed early today when the car in which they were riding veered off a rural road and flipped over several times about three miles northeast of Ann Arbor.

A seventh passenger, Robert Wolfe, 20, of Niles, is listed in critical condition at University Hospital.

Killed were four young men in their late teens or early twenties, a young woman and a 3-year-old girl.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies are withholding the names of the victims until their families are notified.

Deputies said it was not known what caused the accident, but several skid marks were visible weaving back and forth over the centerline before the auto careened over the left shoulder and rolled over.

New Collection Point for Victims

Another church in the Pontiac area serving as a collection center for the relief of victims in the Detroit riot area is St. Benedict's Catholic Church, 40 S. Lynn.

Nonperishable food and clothing may be dropped off at the church between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily.

Fire at Bulldozer

Women Resist Highway Crews

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) —Staying within reach of their firearms, three women who resisted highway construction across their land watched neighboring fields today as giant earth-moving machines moved closer.

"I'm tired of being a loser," Mrs. Guy R. Metz says. "They'll have to carry me off to jail before I let them on my land."

Mrs. Metz fired warning shots Tuesday when bulldozers threatened to uproot trees in her back yard on the southwest edge of Huntington.

"I fired three times in the air to let them know I mean business," she said. The workers, building an access road to Interstate 64, stopped short of the property line.

When construction foremen returned later that day to talk to Mrs. Metz, the woman said her daughter, Ellen, 24, an English teacher from Seattle, Wash., greeted them with a pistol and forbid them to talk to her mother. The foremen backed off.

BOTH ARMED

Both mother and daughter have armed themselves with .22-caliber revolvers, Mrs. Metz said.

Mrs. L.D. Smith, a neighbor, said she talked with foremen Tuesday afternoon after running off workers earlier with an unloaded shotgun and rifle. She said the foremen said they would skirt her property for a few days to permit talks between her attorney and the State Road Commission.

★ ★ ★

A misunderstanding apparently resulted from the talks. Project Supt. Gus Smith said work would soon begin on Mrs. Smith's property.

"The minute they go ahead I will get my gun out again," Mrs. Smith said. "And the next time it will be loaded."

HEART TROUBLE

Mrs. Smith said plans call for highway construction to block the driveway to her home. It would force her husband to walk up a steep hill or steps, she said, adding that because of a recent heart attack physicians have forbidden him to exert himself.

Mrs. Metz said her backyard would be eliminated by construction and replaced with a 60-foot earthen barrier. She said the State Road Commission paid $1,350 for most of the land behind her home.

★ ★ ★

She added that an appraiser estimated the road would decrease the value of her home by 50 per cent. She also decried the loss of a playground for her 8-year-old son.

"Where will he play?" Mrs. Metz asked. "I can't raise my son with bulldozers in the backyard.

"I want them to take all my land or none of it."

Public Hearing on Land-Fill Off

Waterford Meeting Will Be Rescheduled

Waterford Township officials have postponed tonight's scheduled public hearing on the proposed Maceday Lake Road sanitary land-fill because of the township's 9 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. curfew.

No new hearing date was immediately set by the Township Planning Commission, which is in charge of proceedings.

★ ★ ★

The hearing began July 6. Another session was held July 18. Thus far, only witnesses in favor of the operation have testified at the court-like hearing.

Also postponed was last night's regular planning commission zoning meeting in which four public hearings were scheduled. No new meeting date was immediately established.

Tito to Visit Cairo; Egypt Cuts Spending

By the Associated Press

President Tito of Yugoslavia, one of Egypt's staunchest non-combat supporters in the war with Israel, will visit Cairo "within the next few days" to discuss the Middle East situation with President Gamal Abdel Nasser. the semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram said today.

Yugoslavia spearheaded the unsuccessful attempt by non-aligned nations at the United Nations to win General Assembly approval of a resolution demanding unconditional Israeli withdrawal from the territory won from the Arab states in the lightning war.

Diplomats in Belgrade said recently that the Kremlin is counting on Tito's influence with Arab leaders to repair the damage Israel's military victory inflicted on the Soviet Union's reputation in the Arab world.

Egypt sought to bolster its nearly bankrupt economy Tuesday with a new austerity budget including tax increases, higher prices and drastic reductions in government spending. Such commodities as sugar, tea, cooking oil, cigarettes and beverages will cost 10 to 20 per cent more, sales taxes on cars and spare parts up to 50 per cent, and a new national security tax raises defense taxes the same amount. Government subsidies on rationed food and other essential items were reduced.

Egypt's economic boss, Zakaria Mohieddin, told a news conference "we lost a vital portion of our income" with the closing of the Suez Canal and the loss of tourist revenue since the war.

In Amman, Jordan's King Hussein told Parliament an Arab summit meeting was needed now "more than any time before." He said Arab leaders should study the results of the Arab defeat and plan for the future.

Hussein also disclosed that he had ordered the army command to prepare a training program for Jordanian citizens not already in the armed forces.

Moslem non-Arab leaders of Iran, Pakistan and Turkey are scheduled to hold secret talks at a Caspain Sea resort Saturday to "review Middle Eastern problems." Informed sources in Tehran said Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, Turkish President Cevdet Sunay and President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan would confer at the resort town of Ramsar.

In Jerusalem, Rabbi Pesach Levovitz, president of the U.S. Rabbinical Council, said the council would launch a campaign to have American Jewish families send at least one member to Israel, either as a permanent resident or for a prolonged stay.

In the Sinai Desert, Israeli troops are still digging Egyptian military equipment out of the sand dunes where the Arabs abandoned them.

County Grand Juror Dismisses Charge

Oakland County grand juror James S. Thorburn yesterday dismissed a contempt of court action against a former Madison Heights druggist, Emil Pavlovics.

Pavlovics was facing the contempt charge for failing to answer a grand jury subpoena two weeks ago.

Proceedings against him had been stayed by the Michigan Court of Appeals, but the ruling was lifted Friday.

A spokesman for the grand jury indicated that Pavlovics purged himself by appearing before Thorburn on the subpoena.

In another grand jury matter, a second Detroit builder, Gerald Kowal, was arraigned on bribery charges this morning.

ALLEGED BRIBE

Kowal and an associate, Marvin Alexander, are accused by the grand jury of giving a bribe to three Madison Heights councilmen — more than two years ago — to influence their vote on a rezoning matter.

The councilmen are not now serving in office.

Kowal was released on $2,000 bond, by Bloomfield Hills Justice of the Peace Jack Baldwin, who tentatively scheduled a preliminary examination for Aug. 10.

Alexander was arraigned last Friday.

LBJ at Funeral for Nominated Head of Navy

WASHINGTON (AP) — John T. McNaughton, who would have become secretary of the Navy Aug. 1, was buried yesterday following a church rite attended by President Johnson.

McNaughton, his wife, Sarah, and their 11-year-old son, Theodore, were killed July 19 in a North Carolina plane crash. Only a few days before the Senate had confirmed Johnson's appointment of McNaught to the Navy post.

Johnson occupied a front pew in Washington National Cathedral as McNaughton was eulogized by his longtime friend, Harvard Professor Adam Yarmolinsky, as a man whose pursuit of excellence was unending.

Burial, with the highest military honors, followed at Arlington National Cemetery.

Rat Threat Eyed

DETROIT (AP) — City health officials said rats fleeing riot-devastated areas of Detroit may pose a major health threat. Harry Boyler, a Health Department official, said extra stores of rat poison and equipment are being gathered.

He's Master of Egypt Tombs

By ALY MAHMOUD

LUXOR, Egypt (AP) — Suntanned, beturbaned Abdel Maaboud Abdullah is an illiterate, 63-year-old watchman, but he possesses such sharp intuition for antiquities that Egyptologists respect him as a fellow archaeologist.

His beat is the fabulous Valley of the Kings and Queens, burial ground of the ancient Pharaohs. There' Abdullah has spent 52 years of his life, ceaselessly searching for buried tombs and hidden treasures.

He knows by heart the history of this awe-inspiring valley. He can recite with remarkable accuracy the depth and archaeological history of each of the 66 royal tombs scattered about the mountain-wrapped site as well as the historic background of each of the kings and queens buried there.

He twists his moustache-tip in a scholarly, arrogant manner and says:

★ ★ ★

"King Tut-Ankh-Amun really lived it up. He died young, but his life was full of fun.

RUTHLESS WOMAN

"Queen Hatshepsute . . . Oh, there's a lot to tell about that uncanny, ruthless woman. She wanted to rule by force, and she ditched her great brother Thutmosis into temporary oblivion until she passed away and he became emperor, the greatest warrior in Egypt's ancient history."

Abdullah doesn't quite like King Ramses II.

Says he: "Ramses II was an egocentric. He deliberately obliterated his fathers' tombs and statues. He erected his own statues in other king's temples. But, to be fair to him, I must say he was a war genius, and he deeply loved and respected his pretty wife, Queen Nefertari."

★ ★ ★

Prof. Abdel Moneim Abubakr, chairman of the Egyptology Department of Cairo University, calls Abdullah "an expert digger with a sharp intuition that often leads to buried tombs."

TOMB MARAUDERS

Judging by his rich experience, Abdullah determines if a tomb entrance is false or genuine. He would say that a certain era was famous for tomb marauders, hence the false doors and corridors intended to mislead robbers.

Once a tomb was discovered and the mummy of a young princess was found wrapped in linen inside a wooden sarcophagus. Abdullah spent many a sleepless night until he confided to a French archaeologist how he was puzzled over why the princess' sarcophagus was only a wooden one.

"I'm certain that was not the genuine mummy. The real mummy must be buried nearby, wrapped in richer material and placed in gold inlaid coffin," he says he told the archaeologist.

★ ★ ★

Digging was resumed and Abdullah's guess was startlingly correct. The real tomb was found nearby, and the genuine princess' mummy was there too.

LOVE OF ANTIQUITIES

"To me archaeology is sofism," he says, "and if sofism means love of God, archaeology is love of antiquities, with all the meanings of past human fortune and misfortune they carry."

He says he came to the Valley of Kings when he was 11 years old. He took part in the long digging for the Tut-Ankh-Amun tomb, discovered by Britain's Howard Carter more than 30 years ago. Now he is the chief of 64 men guarding this priceless, open-air museum.

Abdullah's private life is very much influenced by his archaeological attachment. Following the example of his pharaoh-forefathers, Abdullah burns lamb livers, grinds them and uses the resulting powder to remedy eye maladies. He gives his sons and grandsons pharaonic names like Nofret, Nagdi and Amenophis.

★ ★ ★

Abdullah resents what he terms "this commercial mentality of the administration." He wants more money to be spent on digging rather than on touristic purposes like hotel-building. He also wants the primitive village on the road leading to the Valley of the Kings to be demolished, and a city more in keeping with the area's history built instead.

2 Men Rescued

ALPENA (AP) — Two men were rescued Tuesday after spending 12 hours drifting on Thunder Bay, clinging to a capsized sailboat. Charles White, Alpena, and Harry Hill, Lansing ran into a thunderstorm on Lake Huron Monday night and were capsized.

B52s Strike N. Viet Division

SAIGON (AP) — Waves of high-altitude B52 bombers made one of their rare invasions of North Vietnam today for a saturation raid on gun emplacements and dug-in bunkers of the North Vietnamese 341st Division just above the 17th Parallel frontier.

The U.S. Command said the big bombers came in waves two hours apart and saturated an area almost two miles long and two miles wide with a lethal rain of bombs.

The number of bombers was not disclosed but the size of the target area indicated a far greater than average strike. The big bombers probably unloaded hundreds of thousands of pounds of bombs on the North Vietnamese emplacements.

The target area was just north of the demilitarized zone dividing Vietnam and about 14 miles inland—the area where the 341st Division is posted and from which heavy Communist guns have for weeks fired deadly barrages on U.S. Marines dug in about seven miles to the south.

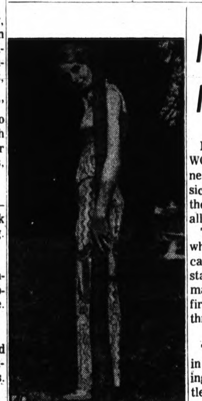
DEVELOPMENTS IN WAR

Although ground action was scattered and inconclusive, there were these other developments in the war:

● The U.S. Command announced that the Forrestal, America's third largest aircraft carrier, has joined the 7th Fleet operating against North Vietnam from the Tonkin Gulf. The Australian destroyer Hobart also rejoined the fleet bombarding North Vietnam.

● Two American jets were downed over North Vietnam Tuesday. They brought announced U.S. combat plane losses over North Vietnam to 617. They were a Navy A4 Skyhawk jet and a two-place Air Force F4C Phantom. The three fliers are missing in action.

● South Vietnamese headquarters said two more Communist mines ripped up the road and blew up a small concrete bridge on Highway 4, the main road from Saigon into the Mekong Delta and long regarded as one of the nation's safest roads. Guerrillas have set more than nine mines in the road in the past week and more have been discovered unexploded.



ANOTHER TWIGGY? — Joyce Creathorn, a Melbourne teen-ager, won a contest held to find the Australian girl who looked most like Britain's Twiggy.

Long Strike Ends

ALPENA (AP) — Workers at the Besser Co. returned to work today after an 83-day strike. The 90 members of the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers Union Local 472 Tuesday approved a one-year contract, the first with the company.

NY's CBS Radio Station Is Changing to All-News

NEW YORK (AP) — Station WCBS, flagship of the CBS radio network, is changing from music and conversation to one of the innovations in broadcasting, all-news programming.

The all-news station is somewhat of a phenomenon in broadcasting. Only about a half-dozen stations in the country have made the switch, and even the first has been at it for only three years.

★ ★ ★

The WCBS decision was made in hopes of regaining lost footing in the New York ratings battle, officials said.

The claim of being the first all-news station in this country is made by WNUS in Chicago, a member of the McClendon group, which dumped its top 40 pop tunes format in September 1964.

OTHER CHANGES

WINS, New York, made the change in April 1965 and a sister station in Group W, the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co., Philadelphia's KYW, followed that September. WAVA in Arlington, Va., changed in May 1965, beaming its news to metropolitan Washington. KABC-FM in Los Angeles is another news station.

★ ★ ★

A number of other stations across the country have given new emphasis to their news coverage. Some devote the whole morning to news — the crucial hours of radio-broadcasting when television is secondary.

★ ★ ★

The change at WCBS was presaged in late June when CBS named Joseph Dembo, director of CBS Radio News, as network vice president and general manager of the station.

"I'm fairly sure we can secure our standings in New York," said Dembo, 40, a veteran broadcaster at NBC and CBS. "I certainly have no illusions about becoming No. 1 in the next 12 months.

RATINGS, SALES

"But, there's no doubt in my mind that once this concept catches on our sales picture will improve. Our ratings will go up, too, and we've got some going to do," he said.

One of the first things Dembo plans to do is expand the WCBS 21-man news staff. He expects to recruit at least 15 more newsmen. He also is adding more mobile news cars and will use the station's two traffic helicopters for news.

★ ★ ★

"It's going to cost a considerable sum, but I can't say how much," he said. "You can't run a news-oriented station cheaply. It's just not possible."

WINS reports a similar experience. It has 27 on-the-air-newsmen and a news staff of 50.

NETWORK COMMITMENTS

Dembo said WCBS will discard its old programming—except for network commitments—during daylight hours weekdays beginning about Sept. 1 and inaugurate continuous broadcasts of news, features, interpretation and analysis.

Paul Nichols, continuity director at WNUS, said the station's sales have jumped 300 per cent over its old music format. Steven Bell, promotion director at WINS, said advertising sales are "up substantially."

"People ask us," said Bell, "what do you do when the news runs out? Well, it doesn't run out."

Zestful Walter Brennan Calls Acting His Hobby

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Happy 73rd birthday to Walter Brennan, still zestfully at work after 46 years as a Hollywood actor.

"Retire? Workin' is my hobby. It's far better than sittin' around waitin' for the undertaker. I thank God morning and night for my blessings," Brennan said in a prebirthday interview.

★ ★ ★

Actually, his birthday yesterday fell on a regular day off from filming "The Guns of Will Sonnett," the third television series for the movies' only winner of three Oscars.

"It won't be no different than any other day off. I'll be doin' the same old thing-nothin'."

11-ACRE SPREAD

He has an 11-acre Moorpark spread of 1,200 grapefruit trees, and a mongrel dog named Pooch. In his 10-room house, on a knoll surrounded by the trees, he might play some tapes and records of light classics. Or sit down at his wife's electronic pipe organ, as he sometimes does, and "make train noises."

The rest of the week he'll be rising at 5:30 a.m. and making the 50-mile chauffeured drive to Paramount Studio. The reputed millionaire packs a lunchbox containing, typically, a chicken sandwich, fruitcake, milk and vitamins.

★ ★ ★

Lanky, pink-cheeked and gray-fringed, Brennan lay resting on a dressing-room couch. A horse, tripping in a scene, had just bruised his ribs, but X rays showed no fracture. Walter was thankful.

"Every time a plane I'm on lands, I say, 'Thanks again, God.' I'm not a holy-holy guy, but no one will ever tell me there's no God."

LOST TEETH

His worst accident: "Havin' my teeth kicked out by a guy in a movie fight."

★ ★ ★

He counted his blessings at 73: health, Ruth, the same wife for 47 years. "I never saw anyone I liked as well, never chased, never cheated." Three children, 15 grandchildren, one great-grandchild.

★ ★ ★

Near Joseph, Ore., he owns a 12,000-acre cattle ranch and a 27-acre peas-and-wheat farm, both run by son Mike, 46, "a good cowman, with a wife and eight big, wonderfully well-mannered kids."

★ ★ ★

The New England accent of the Swampscott, Mass., native is still intact. Returning "in one piece" from World War I service in France, Brennan entered movies as an extra and in 12 years worked up to a $500-a-week character actor, "which is better than a kick in the fanny with a frozen mukluk."

SEARCHES FOR SON

His Oscars for supporting performances in "Come and Get It," "Kentucky" and "The Westerner," were followed by a nomination as the preacher in "Sergeant York." His television series were "The Real McCoys," six years, and "The Tycoon," one.

★ ★ ★

As the Old West's fastest gun in ABC-TV's "The Guns of Will Sonnett," he searches with his grandson, Dick Rambo, 23, for his missing son. As eagerly as any screen newcomer, Brennan detailed the plot—"pure drama, no laugh track."

U.S. Out of Rail Talks for Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special White House mediation board is letting railroad and shop-craft negotiators try to hammer out agreement — at least for the moment.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., chairman of the special panel named by President Johnson last week after Congress rushed through a bill ending a two-day nationwide rail strike, said Tuesday the board will leave negotiations to the disputants until at least next Monday.

"We are hopeful that they ought to be able to do it alone," Morse said after the board met briefly with both sides in the labor conflict. It was its first meeting.

Under the new law, the board is to attempt to win a voluntary settlement. But if it can't, both sides would have to accept the board's final recommendations as binding until Jan. 1, 1969.

6 PCT. HIKE

Some 137,000 members of six shop-craft unions, who average $2.90 an hour, have demanded a six per cent wage hike this year and five per cent next year. They also demand that a two-year agreement include 12.5-cent boosts each year for skilled workers, who now average $3.05 hourly.

* * *

The railroads are offering an 18-month pact that calls for an over-all six per cent pay boost plus a single skills boost of five cents an hour.

Grand Valley Sets Fall Tuition Boost

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Grand Valley State College yesterday followed the lead of five other state-supported colleges and universities and announced a raise in tuition effective with the fall term.

The board of control authorized an increase of $20 per term or $60 per academic year, bringing total charges of tuition and fees to $125 per semester or $375 per year for Michigan residents.

Outstate students will now pay $900 a year, $150 more than last year.

Nigerians Capture Rebel Port

LAGOS (AP) — The Nigerian government announced today it had invaded rebellious Biafra by sea and captured the important oil terminal at Bonny.

A combined navy and army force inflicted heavy casualties on rebel troops in the port in Nigeria's eastern sector, which declared its independence from the federal government in May, the government said.

Bonny is the first town in the southern part of Biafra to be captured by federal troops.

The government gave no details of the invasion but vessels of the Nigerian navy, which includes a frigate and a number of patrol boats, left Lagos at the beginning of the week.

BOATS PURCHASED

The government also had bought up a large number of outboard motors and all boats in the Lagos area over 18 feet long. Presumably these were used in a small boat invasion on Bonny Tuesday.

Bonny is on an island at the entrance to the Bonny River, which leads to Port Harcourt, the main Biafran port.

Capture of the oil refinery is vital to the federal government which has plenty of crude oil in its territory but only limited refining facilities.

There was no indication whether the invasion of Bonny is being extended to be the mainland or whether the forces of rebel leader Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu are mounting a counter attack.

DESOLATION — A woman and children stroll past the remains of once-substantial homes which were caught up in the path of the rioters in Detroit. The houses are a short distance from the 12th Street center of the riot area. Former residents have either left town or moved in with relatives.

Detroit Death Toll Hits 33 as Sniper Battle Continues

DETROIT (AP) — National Guardsmen and police battled furiously with elusive snipers on Detroit's war-torn West Side today as this ravaged city ended its third night of terror with mounting dead.

Dwindling rifle fire replaced the clatter of automatic weapons as calm returned with dawn.

The death toll stood at 33 with 10 new deaths, two short of making this the costliest riot in terms of human life in recent U.S. history. Thirty-four died at Watts in 1965.

It already is the costliest in all other respects.

Injuries climbed to more than 1,000 with 280 hospitalized. City officials said property damage and business losses in the two days and three nights of rebellion could reach $1 billion.

New fires set by arsonists and looters boosted the total to 1,145. Arrests mounted to 2,623 with bail as high as $200,000 set for suspected snipers.

As bullets whined in the streets, the city faced another problem, potentially as costly as the near anarchy of the present — hundreds, possibly thousands, burned from homes or jobs had become refugees.

Food lines formed in one area.

Machinegun bullets spattered through apartment house windows six blocks west of the John Lodge Expressway which bisects the city from north to south.

Four adults and a baby were wounded.

National Guardsmen manned the gun, spraying the building in a hunt for snipers, W. M. Morris, special officer with the Detroit Police Department, told the Associated Press.

In the same area a 4-year-old girl was found dead of gunshot wounds on the living room floor of her family's apartment. It could not be confirmed immediately whether it was the same building.

Firefights crept within two blocks of the gold-domed Fisher Building, a 20-story landmark that can be seen from downtown, three miles south. It houses one of the city's best restaurants and a theater where shows make pre-Broadway openings.

Bullets whined through streets lined by the broad plate glass windows of expensive shops that include Saks Fifth Avenue of New York.

Gunfire killed a woman guest at the Harlan House Motel, three blocks from the Fisher Building and the General Motors Building, headquarters of the world's largest manufacturing company.

She was Helen M. Hall, a guest from Oakdale, Conn. She was white.

★ ★ ★

Three Negro youths were found dead of gunshot wounds at the Algiers Motel, 10 blocks north of the same area.

"It was Blam! Blam! Blam!," reported Associated Press newsman Whitey Sawyer from the floor of a telephone booth near the Harlan House shooting.

"We've got a helluva battle going here," said an AP newsman in another West Side section.

The furious West Side fighting engaged only police and National Guardsmen against snipers.

Men of the 101st and 82nd Airborne divisions, ordered into the city Monday night by President Johnson, stood guard over the East Side, about six miles from the heaviest gunfire.

City Tense but Uneventful

By MEL NEWMAN

Pontiac spent a tense but relatively uneventful evening in the wake of civil disturbances the night before.

Law enforcement officials could no more explain why trouble didn't reignite than they could determine what caused the explosion of vandalism the night before.

They are merely thankful and cautiously optimistic.

Pontiac Mayor William H. Taylor, Jr., said today the 9 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. curfew will be continued indefinitely.

★ ★ ★

Col. Frederick Davids, director of the Michigan State Police, has extended the ban on sales of alcoholic beverages in the entire southeastern portion of Michigan.

Because the situation is unpredictable, no one is taking anything for granted.

One police sergeant commented today that "we don't know what last night's peace meant."

City police headquarters resembled a war zone mustering station the past 48 hours, with patrol cars and paddy wagons from eight agencies packing the station parking lot.

Some officers brought their own guns from home to supplement the supply of service firearms.

However, none was needed.

Some 40 arrests were made — one for public drunkeness, the rest for curfew violations.

Other activity was concerned with the tedious grind of waiting and watching, with tracking down tips and rumors and stepped-up patrols in the streets.

The violence of the night before, which led to two deaths, 87 arrests and more than 50 fires attributed to arsonists, led police to a state of ultimate preparedness.

Law enforcement personnel knew they might be fired upon, as was Patrolman Santiago Serna the night before, while driving a squad car.

SATISFACTORY CONDITION

Serna remains in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital with shotgun wounds in the neck.

Some officers speculated that there was no violence last night because of effective action by police during the height of the crisis.

This is certainly a "big factor," according to administrators, who hastened to add that they remain prepared.

3-County Cost? $1 Billion Eyed

DETROIT (AP) — The cost of rioting in the three-county Detroit metropolitan area eventually could reach $1 billion, predicts Dwight Havens, president of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce.

"Beyond this," he added, "you've got your costs that are directly involved in the looting itself. There's material that is either stolen or damaged beyond recall. There's obviously going to be a large loss of tax revenue. We are estimating that the total loss in retail sales alone may be $60 million."

Payroll loss? "We can't even get a guess from the major employers at this time," Havens said.

"If this had happened at a different time, when the auto companies were operating at full steam, this could have been much worse than it is," he said.

Beyond that, Havens said, "we've got other losses which are harder to pin down — such as our convention business, and I'm sure it's already affected our recreation business.

The effects of the curfew alone are expected to cost millions, since many businesses operate at night.

"Beyond that," Havens concluded, "I don't know how you put a price tag on injury and death that are involed."

Precipitation probabilities for the period in per cent are: Today 30, tonight 50, tomorrow 20.

Yank Faces Spy Trial on Ship

HOLY LOCH, Scotland (UPI) — An American seaman named in a spy case at the U.S. Polaris submarine base here is to be court-martialed aboard his ship, the U.S. Navy announced today.

★ ★ ★

"Ship's Fitter 2.C. Gary Lee Ledbitter has been charged with violation of the U.S. Navy regulations and the Uniform Code of Military Justice," said a Navy spokesman.

He would not give Ledbitter's age, home address, or the nature of the charges.

Peter Dorschel, 26, son of a minor East German government official, was jailed by the Scottish high court for seven years in June. He pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted espionage against the Polaris base in a case that made him out to be a flop as a spy.

★ ★ ★

He obtained only one document, which he claimed was worth at least $7,000 but in fact could be purchased for 65 cents in Washington.

Police had earlier identified the man who handed over the document as Ledbitter.

He was confined to his ship, the Polaris depot ship U.S.S. Simon Lake, at the time of the trial, but the Navy spokesman said he was no longer under any restriction and was free to leave the ship on normal shore leave.

The court martial will be convened within the next 30 days by the commanding officer of the Simon Lake, Capt. George F. Ellis. It will be private because the ship is a classified naval warship.

The charges said Dorschel, 26, a ship's cook, for a purpose prejudicial to the state, solicited Dunoon resident William MaCaffer to obtain documents which might be useful to an enemy.

The acts occurred between May 5 and May 25, the Navy charged.

MaCaffer, 30, who runs a betting shop frequented by Holy Lock sailors, is at present out on bail of $1,400 on a charge of trying to obtain from Ledbitter documents which might be or were intended to be useful to an enemy.

The prosecution said at Dorschel's trail that he had been in contact with Russian agents while he was on a honeymoon in East Germany.

Holly School Levy Fails; Troy Seeks Second Vote

While the Holly School District was losing its second request for a millage levy yesterday, the Troy district board was voting to give its request another try.

In Holly, voters were asked to supply 10 mills, three of which represented a tax increase.

The issue lost, 528 to 407. This was said to be the largest turnout in the district's history for a tax vote.

The margin of defeat was larger than in June when the tally was 377-328.

★ ★

Troy district voters in June walloped a millage request by a 2½-1 margin. But last night over 230 petitioners asked the board to call another election.

DEFICIT THREATENED

District officials claim Troy will face a $465,000 deficit unless additional revenues are raised.

The second election try will be Sept. 11 with seven mills being asked for only one year — enough to approximately cut the deficit in half.

Further cuts are expected to come from a reduced program which will see junior high students attending school in two shifts, music and art cut and the sports program being handled by volunteer coaches and citizens.

In Holly, voters rejected about one-fifth of the district's operating revenue. Officials were requesting the millage increase, along with an expiring seven mills, to handle expected higher salary demands and general cost increased along with increased enrollment.

THIRD ATTEMPT

A third try at raising millage could be called Aug. 31, but this may be for a smaller amount than 10 mills, Holly School officials indicated.

City Housing Needs Reported

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the first of a two-part series).

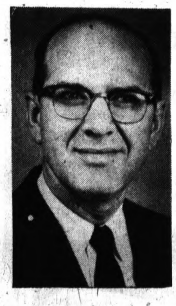
According to any standards, Pontiac is not only short on adequate housing but suffers from having a disproportionate share of depreciated, delapidated and unfit housing units.

These conclusions are among those reached in a housing survey and report dispersed this week to members of the Citizens Housing Study Committee, a group of Pontiac citizens, business, social, labor and civic leaders.

The committee — headed by Howard H. Fitzgerald II, publisher of The Pontiac Press — was formed last year because of concern by the citizens over housing problems. Funds were raised from private sources to have the survey made by a nationally known firm of real estate consultants, Larry Smith & Co., Inc., a Washington, D.C.-based firm.

While the report cites extensively the area's ills and problems it strikes a hopeful note.

Ken Morris, who heads the executive committee and is a regional director for the UAW, said he is very enthusiastic that the report can be used as a guideline for future development.



KEN MORRIS

It lauds the role played by many city officials, private investors and community leaders and says that Pontiac has the resources to meet future challenges.

"If the (city's) housing problems can be solved, then almost every problem facing the community can be solved," it states.

Some of the problems as cited by the economists:

★ ★ ★

● Not enough housing units. "Pontiac is not currently satisfying the housing needs of all of its citizens. In addition, it is not ideally competitive with surrounding townships in providing for the housing needs of many workers and others who might prefer a location in the city if adequate housing were available."

★ ★ ★

● Age of the housing units available is for the most part much older than other areas. About 68 per cent were built before 1940. This compares with 35 per cent in Oakland County and 53 per

Saginaw Upset as 5 Are Shot

By The Associated Press

At least five persons were shot and wounded in Saginaw after the city's Negro mayor spurned a federation of civil rights groups.

It marked new racial violence Tuesday night in outstate Michigan — where outbreaks now have struck Grand Rapids, Pontiac, Flint, Muskegon and Benton Harbor.

Saginaw officers arrested 54 persons and engaged in a gun battle with snipers, during which the five persons were wounded slightly.

The situation in Grand Rapids tapered off to an uneasy calm at midnight after three Negroes were shot and slightly wounded while trying to urge nonviolence to an angry crowd. Houses were burned and sniping erupted.

Fifty-four Flint residents were arrested Tuesday night, but a campaign by Negroes to keep would-be rioters off the streets appeared successful.

The Saginaw situation began brewing in the afternoon. Delegates from United Power, a coalition of civil rights groups, tried to attend what they thought was a public meeting to air Negro grievances with Mayor Henry G. Marsh. They were told at the door that the meeting was by invitation only.

"The only way black people can get heard is to march," one angry United Power member cried and stomped out of the meeting. Soon, 50 marchers were heading for downtown Saginaw.

They sat down in the main intersection, Washington and Genesee, and demanded to see Marsh, who was elected with heavy white support and terms himself a racial moderate. The mayor refused. The sit-in grew to an estimated 500 persons. Downtown traffic was snarled.

Finally the mayor came to a downtown hotel. There was a 20-minute grievance meeting. "He got emotional," said one Negro. "He told us that he didn't want to listen to any more of our garbage."

The Negroes walked out stoney-faced, disregarded newsmen and sent the sit-ins home. The mayor went home. Then the violence began.

Chuck Stone, an aide in Powell's Washington office, said the former congressman would hold a news conference in a hotel.

★ ★ ★

Powell, 59, faces a jail term of at least 90 days in New York for criminal contempt of court. He has remained on the tiny island of Bimini since his exclusion from Congress March 1. A congressional committee reported the veteran congressman had misused public funds.

★ ★ ★

Although he won overwhelmingly in a special election to fill his former seat, Powell has remained in the British colony where he is immune from arrest.

MAKES CHARGE

Powell has charged his case was treated severely because he was a Negro. At his last news conference at Bimini, he said the censure of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., proved that a white man can escape punishment when a Negro cannot.

YOUNG FASHION—The Young Pacesetter department is an innovation to be featured at the Winkelman's store which opens tomorrow in the fashion addition at The Pontiac Mall. The store will offer a complete shoe department, a ready-to-wear section and a closed-stock area where customers are shown fashions individually.

cent in a tri-county metro area. area.

● Heavy deterioration. According to 1960 census, the economists say, some 14 per cent of the housing is deteriorated and nearly 3 per cent dilapidated. In some areas the percentage of unsound housing units runs as high as 42 per cent.

● Overcrowding. Using the census figures again, they said about 12 per cent of all households were overcrowded, that is when the number of persons per rooms exceeds 1.01. Overcrowding concentrates in areas with the highest incidence of blight.

● Depreciated housing. In 1960 nearly 6 per cent of the single family, owner occupied homes were valued at less than $5,000. This compares with 2.2 per cent of Oakland County and 2 per cent for the tri-county area.

● Lack of land. Except in the northern and eastern sections there is little available land.

The economists recommend alleviating some of the problems by "vigorous enforcement of building and housing codes and rehabilitation standards."

"Urban renewal should also provide for rehabilitation of structurally sound, but inadequate, housing. In some areas, like Crystal Beach, where housing is generally unfit for habitation, rehabilitation is not feasible and major redevelopment must be undertaken," they said.

A major recommendation is formation of a nonprofit organization for development and improvement.

"Since many government programs are inadequate and inflexible," a private organization can win support for low-cost housing, they said.

The organization should, the report said, seek development of lower and middle income rental housing, assist minority group families in renting or purchase, and also work toward maximum effective use of federal grants, loans and mortgage insurance programs for low income, elderly and displaced persons.

★ ★ ★

New construction is only a partial solution to the housing problems, the firm said. Large scale rehabilitation is necessary because:

"The resources of the community are simply incapable of meeting the total demand.

"It is doubtful whether any program involving state or federal cooperation would provide the resources necessary for demolition of a sufficient number of dwellings to provide for adequate new construction."

Trailer Crushes Boy, 7, to Death in Pontiac Twp.

A 7-year-old Pontiac Township boy died this morning in Pontiac General Hospital from injuries received when a trailer crushed him against a house.

★ ★ ★

Steven Gerber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gerber of 2705 Forrester, was playing in a yard at 2635 Forrester where new residents were moving in when the mishap occurred, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Officers said the trailer was being backed up the home's driveway by a car and Steven became pinned behind it.

Racial Tension News in Brief

By The Associated Press

DETROIT — A third night of terror brought the city's riot death toll to 33.

SAGINAW, Mich. — At least eight persons were wounded in an outbreak of sniping in the city 100 miles from Detroit.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — Three members of a volunteer group trying to keep trouble makers at home were hit by sniper fire.

NEW YORK — Relative calm prevailed in Spanish Harlem, where heavy rain and a solemn religions procession quieted crowds.

CHICAGO — West Side experienced a five-block outbreak of looting, but police said it was brought under control.

CLEVELAND, Ohio — Firebombs exploded along Hough Avenue, scene of rioting that took five lives last year.

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Sniper fire broke out in a Negro section of the city.

Violence was also reported in Toledo, Ohio, and Mount Vernon, N.Y., a New York City suburb. Calm came to Pontiac, Mich., Rochester, N.Y., and Englewood, N.J.

New Winkelman's Will Open at Mall

In keeping with a Winkelman Stores, Inc., tradition, all women who enter the store at the Pontiac Mall will receive long-stemmed red roses.

Winkelman's has coordinated its opening with that of the new fashion corridor on the southwest side of the Mall.

The Mall store offers an innovation for Winkelman's: A new department called the Young Pacesetter, featuring fashions from all of the other departments earmarked for young taste.

A complete shoe department, the first in a Winkelman's in the Pontiac area, is at the rear of the store.

Winkelman's is noted for the closed-stock method of selling where customers are taken to private dressing rooms and shown merchandise individually rather than looking through racks on the selling floor, according to a company spokesman.

★ ★ ★

There are also lingerie, sportswear, millinery, and ready-to-wear areas in the new store.

Manager of the new store is Irving Protetch of Oak Park. He was formerly manager of one of Winkelman's greater Detroit stores.

★ ★ ★

The store is decorated with natural woods and shades of blue, olive, gold and beige. The marble store front is in keeping with the designs carried out in the fashion mall.

★ ★ ★

The Mall store is Winkelman's 53rd and the second in the Pontiac area. The company, which is 39 years old, is currently embarked in an expansion program involving 16 new stores planned for opening through 1971.

Bloomfield Twp. Rejects Sewer Construction Bids

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has rejected sewer construction projects again because bids came in too high.

Two separate assessment districts have been formed in Colonial Estates subdivision near Telegraph and Hickory Grove and bids asked for.

One district with 50 sites carried an estimated cost of $89,000. However, bids came in as high as $152,000 (over $3,000 per site) with the closet bid still well over the 10 per cent leeway allowed.

The smaller district with 18 sites was advertised for the second time at an estimated cost of $20,800, but bids came in as high as $44,000 with the closet about $8,000 over estimates.

★ ★ ★

Board members said bids on all work have been high because contractors have all the work they can handle and are not really ready to do the work at this time.

It was decided to try again on the projects later in the year.

Formation of another assessment district for sewers with a high cost per-site was approved. Estimates put construction at nearly $3,000 each for 27 sites in Woodcrest Farms subdivision near Lone Pine and Franklin.

Hearing on the roll was set for 8:30 p.m., Sept. 24.

★ ★ ★

Second hearing date was moved up to 8 p.m., Aug. 28 for a sewer district with 29 lots in subdivisions near Woodward and Big Beaver.

JOB ESTIMATE

Job estimate is $19,100 for 29 units.

Formation for two assessment districts for water installation was approved: Lone Pine Road subdivision, 76 lots at $1,381, estimated cost $105,000; hearing date 9 p.m., Sept. 11; and 48 sites in subdivisions near Quarton and Lahser, estimated cost $36,300 at $756 per site, hearing 8 p.m., Sept. 25.

Rezoning for land near I-75 and South Boulevard was rejected. Developers asked zoning be changed from residential to allow for business and multiple dwellings.

Store Closings Near Normal

Most area stores are closing at normal times or a few minutes early today in compliance with the 9 p.m. curfew still in effect in Pontiac.

Pontiac buses are running normally although they did not run yesterday. The Grand Trunk Western Railroad commuter train to Detroit is again on normal schedule after being disrupted yesterday.

Banks and business offices are apparently opening and closing at the usual times today.

A spokesman for J.C. Penny Co. said the store would probably close at 8:30 p.m. so that employes could be home by 9 p.m. if there is a curfew. He said he suspected that many of the other Miracle Mile stores would do the same. Lion Store has announced it will close at 8:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

At publication time, a spokesman for the Pontiac Mall said it had not yet been decided how late the Mall would stay open tonight.

Fisher Body employes of all shifts should report to work as normal today, a spokesman said.

Pontiac Motor Division employes of all shifts should also report to work at the regular times today, according to a company spokesman.

GMC Truck and Coach Division announced a change of shift times so no one would violate the curfew. Starting tonight, all second shift employes are requested to come to work at 8 p.m. instead of their scheduled starting time. Release time will be 5:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Detroit Looters Busy Trying to Sell Goods

DETROIT (AP) — Black marketing of looted goods was an underground hubbub in riot-torn Detroit's surface calm Tuesday.

If you showed up at the right place at the right time, you could walk away with a $500 television set for $100—maybe less.

"Talk me down, maybe I'll cut the price," temporary entrepreneurs urged prospective but reluctant buyers.

The black marketers in some cases were anxious to unload the merchandise because of rumors that soldiers might search some areas for stolen goods.

"Most of the stuff is hidden now in trunks of cars and other places," one loot-rich man confided. "Wait about three weeks and things will start coming out — people will be wearing new clothes or selling the stuff in bowling alleys, places like that."

At a restaurant on Livernois, which was the northwestern limit of the most serious destruction in the city, one fellow walked in with Magnavox equipment, a radio under one arm, a tape recorder under the other.

"Each is worth about $125," he said to a diner who seemed interested. "I can let you have 'em for $50 each."

The diner wondered about needing proof of purchase—like a receipt from an established business place.

HAS IBM CARDS

"You don't need a receipt—it's still got the IBM cards on the boxes," the seller said.

"I don't know."

"Look, man, go down to some store where you know somebody, slip him a few bucks, and get him to get you a receipt," said the seller.

A fellow sitting next to him offered diamond rings and flashy watches.

Local Man Weds in Ohio

Wed Saturday in the chapel of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio were Forrest Leigh Wemple and Thomas Floyd Levely.

★ ★ ★

The daughter of Col. and Mrs. Neil Wemple of Wright-Patterson AFB wore a formal gown of Italian silk with cap sleeves, stand-up collar and cathedral train, trimmed with reembroidered lace.

A cluster of white organdy flowers held her veil.

Maid of honor was Marilyn Moltu of Palo Alto, Calif.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Linton West Jr. of Duke University, Durham, N.C. was best man. Ushers were Lt. William Martin and Lt. William Howard of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Levely of Shawnee Court.

Following a reception at the base Officer's Club the couple left for a Tahiti honeymoon. They will reside in Puerto Rico.

Wash Stains in Hot Suds

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pure fats and oil stains usually come out in sudsy water, if you give special attention to the spots.

Cleaning experts say for tar-like or heavy greases, rub the spots with lard, then wash in very hot soap or detergent suds.

Minority of Aged Are Prosperous

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Although older Americans generally are in the lower income brackets, an Internal Revenue Service study turned up evidence that there are plenty of exceptions.

Some 30 per cent of the returns claiming double the $600 exemption — a privilege after turning 65 — showed incomes of $5,000 or more. This is in comparison to 50 per cent of returns by taxpayers of all ages. And 202 of the returns claiming age exemptions were substantial exceptions: they showed incomes of $1 million or more.

Lake Fenton Reception Follows Rite

A reception in the Lake Fenton Sportsman's Club followed recent afternoon ceremonies in Evangle Temple that united the Douglas H. Bennetts.

★ ★ ★

A tear drop, petal headpiece held her veil.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Hillard Limbaugh of Transparent Drive and the Harvey Bennetts of Flint.

★ ★ ★

Debbie Limbaugh was maid of honor for her sister.

Lynn Jones and Sue Bennett were bridesmaids. Beth Ann Limbaugh was flower girl.

Jeffrey Bennett was best man for his brother's wedding.

Ushers were Jerry and Rick Bennett. Geoffrey Day was ring bearer.

★ ★ ★

Woman Grad Valedictorian

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It took the class valedictorian 17 years longer than the other students in the class, but when Arvetta West graduated with honors from high school here, she had nine persons in the audience cheering for her—her husband and eight children.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. West had her formal schooling "interrupted" by marriage and the birth of children, but she returned and graduated with unusually high grades at the age of 33.

MRS. D. H. BENNETT

Rose Pointe Lace Worn by Bride on Saturday

Wed Saturday morning at St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Zuniga.

The former Margaret Cordova wore a bouffant gown of rose pointe lace with Basque waistline and chapel train. A lace petaled rose held a four tiered silk illusion, shoulder-length veil.

★ ★ ★

Irma Cordova was her sister's maid of honor. Matron of honor was Mrs. Arturo Cordova.

The bride's brother, Arturo Cordova, was best man.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Cordova of Cortwright Street and the Amado Zunigas of Saginaw.

Local Church Is the Setting for Wedding

The Evangelical United Brethren Church was the setting for evening vows repeated by Margaret Marie Otto and Duane K. Jones of Euclid Street.

Mary Bentley was maid of honor for the couple who were wed Saturday.

Know Purpose of Tools

If you know your kitchen tools, what they do, and how to use them properly you can save yourself a lot of time and make meal preparation a lot of fun. The following basic kitchenware usage guide has been prepared by Mary Ann March, home economist for the Eko Housewares Company:

Mincer-Chopper . . . Minces a variety of vegetables such as onions, peppers, celery; chops fruit and nuts.

Fruit and Butter Baller . . . Produces decorative fruit balls from melons and other soft fruits. Makes butter ballsl cheese and ice cream balls.

Strainer . . . Rinses fruits and vegetables, ideal for crumbling hard egg yolks for sprinkling on salads.

Pizza Roller . . . Rolls out pizza and small quantities of dough, crushes nuts, crackers, hard candies for toppings.

Paring Knife . . . Pares, peels, slices fruits and vegetables. Perfect for skinning apples, pears and onions.

Food Beater . . . Whips, blends, creams, beats eggs, whips cream, icing, fondants. Incurporates air into mixture of ingredients to expand volume. . . .

Flexible Spatula . . . Use in spreading breads or crackers with butter, peanut butter, preserves or sandwich spreads. Spread celery with stuffings such as cream cheese. Loosen gelatin molds, also cupcakes, cakes and breads from bakeware.

Spectacle Shapes

Miss Manns Is Married on Saturday

Linda Jean Manns became the bride, Saturday evening, of Ronald Carr.

The couple were wed in All Saints Episcopal Church and later greeted guests in the American Legion Hall, Orchard Lake.

SILK ORGANZA

A white A-line gown of silk organza and Alencon lace appliques was worn by the bride. A chapel length train was a feature of her ensemble. A tiara head piece secured a bouffant veil of illusion with a tracery of pearls.

White carnations, Stephanotis and a white and purple orchid were carried in the wedding bouquet.

Carol Manns was maid of honor for her sister. They are the daughters of the Llyod Manns of Joy Road, Pontiac Township.

Bridesmaids were Teri LaFrance, Marcia Thompson and Mrs. Harry Moore of Troy.

* * *

Robert Carr was best man for his twin brother. Their parents are the Ronald Carrs of West Colgate Street.

Jack Langlois, Duane Johnson, Gary Manns and Harry Moore were ushers.

The couple are honeymooning in northern Michigan.

MRS. RONALD CARR

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Upcott Wed in Saturday Rite

Central Methodist Church was the site of Saturday vows taken by Sandra Kay Hardenburgh and Terry Archie Upcott.

* * *

Wearing a gown of nylon sheer over acetate taffeta with lace bodice and sleeves, the bride carried a cascade of miniature white carnations and pink Sweetheart roses.

Her bouffant veil was held by a crown of lace petals accented by pearls.

SISTER

Mrs. Hugh Betz was her sister's matron of honor.

Tom Upcott was his twin brother's best man. Ushers were William White and Robert Smith.

* * *

A reception in the church fellowship hall followed the ceremony.

* * *

The couple whose parents are the Delbert G. Hardenburghs and the Ernest G. Upcotts, both of Durant Street, honeymooned at Niagara Falls.

Ma, Granny in Same Day

NEW YORK (AP)—A mother and her daughter, who gave birth to baby girls within four hours of each other, shared a room at Elmhurst City hospital. Mrs. Zareda Arrazola, 36, and mother for the fifth time, became a grandmother when Mrs. Zareda Vazquez, 21, a daughter, Thule Ofelia.

Case No. D-504

Find the Original Cause

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE D-504: Donna T., aged four, has a phobia.

"Dr. Crane," her mother began, "Donna goes into hysteria whenever we turn on the vacuum sweeper.

"She will scream and grow rigid in my arms.

"The sound of the vacuum sweeper terrifies her until she has even fainted.

DR. CRANE

"What do you suppose is wrong with Donna? And how can I get her over this terrific fright?"

Ultimately I learned where Donna's phobia had started.

When she was three years old, her mother got a phone call to rush to the hospital, for Donna's daddy had been in an auto wreck.

In the resulting commotion, Donna was brushed aside, though a competent maid was on hand to baby-sit.

* * *

But this sudden threat to its emotional security is very devastating to a child's morale.

So Donna was in a panic and crying loudly when her mother rushed out the front door.

Donna threw herself on the floor in a fit of disconsolate weeping.

* * *

The vacuum sweeper was nearby and the maid started the motor to tidy up the room.

Donna's skirt was partly sucked into the machine before the maid turned off the motor.

Combine the sudden whirr of the motor with Donna's upset emotional state, plus the shock of feeling that she would be gobbled up by the roaring machine — and you have the ingredients of Donna's terrific psychic trauma.

Neither the maid nor Donna's parents realized how this emotional shock had started.

FRIGHT

But thereafter, whenever Donna heard the vacuum sweeper turned on, she went into a paroxysm of fright.

And her phobia (abnormal fear) persisted.

In such cases, it is wise to ferret out the original inciting cause of the phobia.

Explain it to the child. If you adults have such a phobia, try to dig into your past until you can name your terror and date its onset!

This very act of facing your bugaboo and finding out how it fastened its emotional tentacles upon you, is half the cure.

Next, try to associate enough new pleasurable experiences with the former bugaboo so that you can change it from a negative to a positive stimulus.

For example, I urged Donna's daddy to play a game in which the vacuum sweeper was an airplane.

Donna was the pilot, taking her parents via airplane to visit grandma.

When a child touches the former fearsome object, that reduces its terrifying effect considerably.

* * *

And when a child produces the noise, it never sounds so loud or irritating.

By gradual degrees, this process of reconditioning or "brainwashing" a child favorably toward a former fearsome object, can change terror into actual fun and pleasure.

Anchor With Picks

Toothpicks will help you hold two cake layers together after they have been filled and frosted. The picks should, of course, be removed before serving.

Trip Advice for Boaters

Pleasure boat owners are ill-advised to become equipment mad, in the opinion of Robert Scharff, author of the Complete Boating Handbook.

The boat's size and the duration of the outing, should determine the extras needed. However, this authority places "plenty of soap" high on his list of supplies essential for every boat.

U.S. ENVOY — Martin J. Hillenbrand, 51, a native of Youngstown, Ohio, was named yesterday as the United State's first ambassador to Communist Hungary. Hillenbrand has been in the foreign service since 1939.

Domestic Drain of Gold Cited

Foreign Transactions Take a Back Seat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bride walking down the aisle and the rocket soaring into space are helping drain more gold from Treasury stocks this year than are foreign governments.

Use of gold is rising in everything from wedding rings to sophisticated and complex electronic and electrical circuits used in the defense and space programs.

* * *

During the first half of the year, the United States would have accumulated gold, the traditional monetary metal, had it not been for more than $60 million in sales by the Treasury to private industry. Heavy industrial use of silver already has resulted in a minor crisis, but officials foresee none for gold.

* * *

Treasury policy is to sell gold at $35 an ounce to any foreign government wishing to cash in dollars. The Treasury earlier this month abandoned its policy of maintaining the price of silver at $1.29 an ounce.

DOMESTIC CONSUMPTION

The lack of French conversion of any dollars into gold since last September and the absence of any other large international gold transactions this year focused attention on domestic consumption.

Treasury officials say over-all domestic gold consumption last year hit a whopping $212 million compared with $97 million five years earlier.

* * *

The department satisfied $141 million of that demand from its stocks. The remainder came from domestic production and imports. Domestic production last year reached $63 million, up from $59 million of 1965 and $52 million in each of the prior two years.

This year the Treasury expects to sell more than $100 million in gold to domestic industry for the third straight year.

THESE REASONS

Officials give these reasons for the heavy demand:

—The increased population, with an ever-rising number of brides who demand wedding rings.

—Affluence of the population, which is increasing the demand for jewelry.

—Rising industrial use, especially in the space and defense programs. An official said few people realize gold is an even better conductor of electricity than silver. Many government contracts now specify gold for electrical and electronic work.

* * *

Last year, 62 per cent of the gold consumed by the nation went for jewelry and artistic use, 7 per cent for dentistry and 27 per cent for industrial, electrical and electronic work including space and defense. Other industry absorbed the rest.

U.S. gold stocks reached $24.5 billion in 1949. They now total $13.1 billion, still largest in the non-Communist world.

* * *

Other governments accumulate dollars and can cash them for gold when Americans spend more overseas than foreigners spend in this country.

The administration has blamed its failure to end this dollar drain on the Vietnam war. Through May, U.S. gold stocks dropped by $21 million this year, compared with $224 million for the same period last year.

'A Festering Sore in Society'

GIs in Viet React to Riots

SAIGON (AP) — "Let them come over here if they want to fight," said John B. Harper, 20, a white infantryman from Lorain, Ohio.

"The rioting and violence isn't going to accomplish a damn thing," said Capt. David Travis, a Negro. "But it certainly discloses a festering sore in our society, and it is an indication that there is a group of people that haven't been afforded the opportunity to enjoy the affluence of American society."

★ ★ ★

These were typical reactions to the racial violence in the United States expressed by combat soldiers of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division's 2nd Brigade, stationed at Di An, 15 miles north of Saigon.

"I'm distressed to see the rioting occur," said Travis, 32, a career officer who is a native of Newark, N.J.

ACTIVELY INVOLVED

"It seems ironic that here I am in Vietnam being really actively involved in the defense and protection of the way of life that insures a standard of living and level of privileges that seem to be denied to those individuals that are home.

"It seems especially unfortunate that while in Vietnam a very large percentage of the fighting force involved in combat is Negro, at the same time you have active violence that has taken place back home by their own relatives and friends."

Although Travis is a native of Newark, his wife and children are living in East Orange, N.J.

Two other Negroes with the brigade, 1st Lt. Winford (Mike) Parker, 26, and Spec. 4 Kiser Hunter, 24, are from Detroit, one of the hardest hit cities.

Parker expressed great concern for the safety of his wife, Bonnie, and their four small children and for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Parker.

ENOUGH PROBLEMS

"I've got enough problems fighting a war over here without having to worry about my people back home," he said

★ ★ ★

"I'm really appalled by the complete disregard for authority and lack of respect for fellow citizens, especially done under the pretense of fighting for civil liberties.

UAW Hears Ford's Gripes

Cost-of-Living Setup, Grievances Are Cited

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. Tuesday became the first of the Big Three auto makers to formally tell the United Auto Workers it had a few gripes of its own to lay on the bargaining table.

★ ★ ★

Sidney F. McKenna, chairman of the Ford bargaining team, told the union that, among other things, "We will describe the continuing problems flowing from inadequacies in the special grievance procedure" and "We have some views on the cost-of-living allowance we want to discuss with you."

★ ★ ★

During the first two weeks of negotiations the companies did little more than listen as the union recited its list of demands, the top ones being a guaranteed income and some form of profit sharing.

Chrysler and General Motors are expected to follow Ford shortly in laying on the table those contract provisions which the companies want changed.

'GRIEVANCE MILLS'

"Grievance mills," union locals which file several grievances on the same subject, are expected to be one of the industry's big complaints.

★ ★ ★

The cost-of-living allowance, which adjusts workers' salaries up or down every three months in line with the changes in the consumer price index, is another area which could cause trouble in negotiations.

Bargainers are negotiating for new contracts, covering some 700,000 workers at the Big Three. Current pacts expire Sept. 6.

★ ★ ★

"We are making no attempt to match the union proposal for proposal," McKenna said Tuesday. "We are confining ourselves to selected sections where needs for change are evident."

The companies have said that in any new contract they want recognition for the 18 cents in hourly raises that have gone to workers since 1964 under the cost-of-living formula.

Canada Trip Is Cut Short by De Gaulle

OTTAWA (AP) —President Charles de Gaulle plans to return to France from Montreal, canceling the Ottawa portion of his scheduled visit, a government source said today. This report came as the government prepared to welcome the general to this national capital in the face of widespread protests over his views. Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson rebuked him in a statement Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

Montreal police, meanwhile, were investigating a bullet hole found in the wall of a City Hall office.

★ ★ ★

They said the bullet might have been fired about the time that De Gaulle was speaking outside the City Hall Monday night.

"There is absolutely nothing to indicate so far that the shot was fired during the general's speech," the police said.

De Gaulle was to reach Ottawa late today.

New Rec Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Forest Service has announced it will spend $1.7 million to develop, a trout pond recreation area in Pendleton County, W. Va.

To Rebuild Its Economy

Britain Must Make Do

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — Britain today is like an old colonel back from East of Suez who had it very nice for many years but who now finds he must knuckle down to work, no matter how dreadful the task nor how old the body.

CUNNIFF

The colonel is willing but the task is formidable; the British economy must be rebuilt through hard work in order to be competitive in world markets. The weapons are spirit, pride, austerity and willingness to wark.

But progress is slow, and several body blows have been delivered in recent weeks; things have been going wrong at the very time the nation had a right to expect some good news.

Unemployment in July rose to the highest in 27 years, a total of 496,000 jobless. Industrial production declined in May. And the trade gap, which all the austerity and work is meant to close, widened instead.

A 21-nation study, by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, came up with the finding that Britain still had years more of hard work before real results would show.

TRADE ALLIANCE

These were not the only blows. Earlier, as the world knows, Britain was denied entrance to a democratic trade alliance called the Common Market. And then the Suez Canal was closed, and Britain was denied needed oil supplies via that trade route.

Most of this bad news came in a tumble just as some British were beginning to relax a bit. After nearly three years of belt-tightening, some results were beginning to show. For the first time since the 1940s exports were exceeding imports. But it didn't last.

With such hard work producing such depressing results it is easy to understand why some British began thinking that the best way to pay bills was to sell foreign assets. So far this route has been rejected.

★ ★ ★

Under Prime Minister Harold Wilson, the battle is not likely to be given up. Instead, austerity is likely to continue as the remedy. It means fixed wages, hard work, some joblessness, even poor housing. Broadly, it means more production but less consumption.

PLANNED RECESSION

How can austerity be the solution? How can a lid on the economy—on wages, prices and dividends, for instance—be the solution? How can a planned recession bring about a stronger economy? Isn't this contradictory behavior?

In theory, no. Austerity means that Britain must work harder to produce more to sell abroad. At the same time it means that she must spend less on herself and deny herself the luxuries of imported goods. She must make do.

Such a policy if maintained long enough will mean that not only will Britain make more goods but she will use less. The surplus of her economy then can be sold abroad to earn money with which to pay her debts.

If Britain continues to pay off her debts — and they are enormous—then the rest of the world will have faith that the pound sterling is actually worth the $2.80 at which it is officially valued.

ADMIT FAILURE

If her economy fails to produce enough to pay the bills, then the world will assume that the pound is not worth $2.80. The nation then could be forced to acknowledge this by devaluation, an admission of failure.

There are some drawbacks to an austerity program, however, and they are bound to increase the pressure on the British government as the months go by.

For one thing, the ability of any people to observe austerity without reward or without end cannot be measured except that it becomes increasingly onerous with time. Some evident of strain came with the defeat last spring of many Labor party members of Parliament.

Second, austerity could become self-defeating in that it might discourage investments in new plants and equipment, which generally lead to more efficiency and higher productivity.

Congress Haggling Over Blame for Riots

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders are haggling over the political blame for big city rioting as Congress moved ponderously to set up the machinery to investigate violence in the streets.

While committees discussed hearings and action on antirioting and inquiry measures, Democrats and Republicans accused each other of trying to reap political advantage out of the bloody destruction in Detroit and other urban areas.

★ ★ ★

Controversy boiled up Tuesday over whether President Johnson acted quickly enough in sending federal troops into Detroit's stricken areas and whether Republicans were playing politics in accusing Johnson of failing to deal adequately with racial disorders.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., told the Senate there had been an "unfortunate delay" between the time federal troops arrived in Michigan and when they were ordered into the streets. He said in that period additional lives were lost and property destroyed.

LBJ-DIRKSEN MEET

House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma accused Republican leaders of "playing politics" in issuing a Republican Policy Coordinating Committee statement saying Johnson had failed to cope with the problem of civil disorders.

Amid an eruption of charges and counter charges, Johnson met with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, discussed "every angle" of multiple-city rioting and gave no indication of whether he favors a congressional investigation.

This was Dirksen's report as he offered a resolution to set up a Senate-House committee of 10 to inquire into the root causes of civil disorder and to recommend congressional action to curb further outbreaks.

Dirksen supported the GOP Coordinating Committee statement Monday but said it wasn't discussed in his meeting with the President.

BLAME SHIFTING

Despite disavowals, there was obvious backstage maneuvering between Democrats and Republicans to shift the onus for street violence on to the other party.

Albert said Republicans had been more interested in cutting government expenditures than in helping solve big city problems.

★ ★ ★

House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford replied Johnson's address to the nation at midnight Monday indicated "the President himself is getting politics involved in this tragic situation."

Johnson emphasized in his telecast that Michigan Gov. George Romney, a potential candidate for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination, had asked for federal troops.

PLAN CHARGED

California Gov. Ronald Reagan, another potential GOP candidate, said Johnson's speech "sounded like the kickoff to the 1968 campaign." At a Sacramento news conference Reagan said "there is a plan" behind the rioting which he said is carried out by "mad dogs."

Asked who is behind such a plan, Reagan said: "You'd have me guessing."

The President sent Cyrus R. Vance, former deputy defense secretary, to Detroit as his personal representative to determine when and where the troops would be employed.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "I am 28 years old and interested in aggressive growth stocks. I am intrigued by the potential in the water treatment field. I have narrowed my choice to Calgon and Betz Laboratories. It looks as if Betz would have the faster growth. What would you advise?" M. L.

(A) Please let me congratulate you on your farsightedness in picking stocks in an area destined for future growth. Betz is almost wholly engaged in water treatment, while Calgon has important interests in other areas as well. Both stocks showed roughly the same rate of growth in 1966 and in the first quarter of 1967. Betz is much the smaller of the two companies and sells at a higher multiple — around 40 — compared with 34 for Calgon, based in each instance on estimated earnings for 1967.

For most investors my preference would be for Calgon which has a wider product mix. For your particular requirements — and assuming that you can afford considerable market risk — I advise Betz which is more exclusively in water treatment and is growing from a lower base.

(Q) "My mother passed away and I have found stock certificates of which I enclose photocopies. These appear to have no value but I would like to know how to find out if this is so." E. B.

(A) I am sorry to say that I have found nothing in my own records relating to the stocks you hold. It is always difficult to determine whether apparently obsolete securities have any value. If you are on good terms with your broker, he might make a search for you, but bear in mind that this may be for him a costly and time-consuming process. If this approach fails, write to the Secretary of State in the state of incorporation. If no information is forthcoming, try the respective transfer agents. Both of these sources are indicated on the certificates.

St. Louis Stays Cool in Halting Cubs

Dad Taught Jim

Northrup's Star Bright

DETROIT (AP) — Jim Northrup wasn't the best of the baseball playing Northrup family around St. Louis in Gratiot County.

But he was the only one to make it to the big leagues and there are a lot of people around who think the slender Detroit Tigers flychaser may be the next big baseball superstar.

* * *

Gerald Northrup, Jim's outspoken father, never pushed Jim or his brother, Jerry and Mickey, about baseball, but he made sure they had every opportunity to play.

"My dad was a Sunday beer league player around St. Louis and Breckenridge," recalls Northrup, a handsome 28-year-old who carries 200 pounds on his 6-foot-3 frame. "He never made the big leagues but I think he had an idea one of us would make it.

"By the time we were old enough to hold a bat he was practicing with us. He taught me and my brothers all the fine points of baseball as well as hunting, fishing and sportsmanship.

"We were doing something with him every free evening and weekend. But the truth of it is that my brother Mickey was a more natural player than any one of us. He could outhit and field better than Jerry or myself," recalls Jim.

The elder Northrup, now a sports equipment salesman around Lansing, agrees that Mickey, who died at age 16 of leukemia, was the best player.

"Mickey would have been a bigger man than Jim," he says. He was 6-foot-2 and weighed 190 when he was 15 years old. He could hit a ball farther than Jim and that's saying something. And he had an inborn natural ability for sports. Jim is more of an analyst, thinking out a play before reacting."

Northrup's father also thought Jerry was a better baseball prospect than Jim, but Jerry, now a salesman, gave up baseball after a close call as a youngster.

"One day he was playing in the American Legion League," the father recalls, "and was beaned by a high, fast inside pitch. After that game he came up to me and said he had had enough of baseball. I didn't blame him. We brought the boys up with what we hoped would be a well-rounded background in sports and education so they could go on to choose any career they wished."

Jim's parents wanted him to be a doctor and he had a B average in premedical work at Alma college when the Detroit Tigers signed him for a $12,000 bonus in 1960.

Jim wanted to get married and the money was the clincher.

"If I went into medicine I knew marriage would be out for a long time," he said. "I always liked the Tigers and Detroit. Besides, I like to play baseball and here was a man handing me $12,000 just to sign up for something that had always been pure joy."

The Northrups, who live in Detroit, have two children, Jim Jr., 5, and Paige, 3.

Gal Pros After Yankee Purse

The professional women golfers are in Grand Blanc this week looking for a share of the $25,000 purse in the Fourth Annual Yankee Women's Open.

Pre-tournament activity opens today with the first of two days of pro-amateur play. The first round of the 54-hole event opens Friday and the other 18-hole rounds are slated for Saturday and Sunday.

Host for the tournament is Willowood Country Club, a nine-hole layout located on Maple Road two miles east of Dort Highway near Grand Blanc.

The format is unusual for a pro tournament. It's a best-ball affair. The field will play the event in two-pro teams with the low score of the twosome at each hole used in determining the winner.

Two State Gals Golfing Victims

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Tuesday's results of the Trans-Mississippi Women's Golf Tournament included:

Janice Elias, Grand Rapids, Mich., defeated Mrs. Lowell Sullivan, Minot, N. D., 6 and 5.

Cynthia Hill, South Haven, Mich., defeated Joyce Kazmierski, Detroit, Mich., 3 and 2.

Cards Regain 1st Place With 4-3 Decision

Allen's Batting Helps Bunning Collect 10th Victory of Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Cardinals, once again perched atop the National League, are also bidding fair to lead the league in nonchalance.

The Cards opened a critical three-game series with the remarkable Chicago Cubs Monday night with St. Louis a game ahead. The Cubs then won the opener to tie for the league lead.

Tuesday night a brilliant relay play from center field to the plate transformed Ted Savage from the potential Chicago tying run to the final out in a 4-3 St. Louis victory.

And how did the Cardinals react? Calmly, to say the least.

* * *

"Maxie (shortstop Dal Maxvill) told me to throw so I threw," said Julian Javier, who relayed the ball in from second, with an authentic shrug. "I wasn't surprised."

"I didn't think it was such a great play," yawned catcher Tim McCarver, who made the tag at the plate after Ernie Banks had already scored on the play. "I mean the ball was right there so what's the big deal?"

STARTED PLAY

Only Bob Tolan, who at 21 is in his first full year with the Cards and who started the play after retrieving Al Spangler's single in center field, showed anything approaching emotion.

"After I made the throw," said Tolan, "I looked up and saw him trying to score and I said to myself, 'Oh, God, I hope he makes a good throw to the plate.'"

In other less nerve-wracking National League action Tuesday night, Philadelphia pounded Houston 12-7, San Francisco edged New York 5-4, Atlanta nudged Cincinnati 1-0 and Los Angeles beat Pittsburgh 3-1.

Rich Allen carried Philadelphia's big stick, pounding out four hits—including his 13th homer—driving in four runs, scoring three and stealing two bases. Jim Bunning got his 10th victory.

Jesus Alou's bases-loaded single in the bottom of the ninth won the game for San Francisco after the Mets had tied the game in the top of the inning on John Sullivan's two-run single and Larry Stahl's bouncer to the mound, which scored a run.

* * *

Pat Jarvis hurled a two-hitter, leading Atlanta past Cincinnati into third place. The Braves scored in the fifth when Denis Menke tripled and came on on Woody Woodward's single.

Honors Divided in Golf League

The Silver Lake Tuesday morning golfing women spread the honors around yesterday with Madeline Castleberry's 46 pacing the over-all gross scoring.

Low putt laurels went to Ethel Hagerman who needed 13. Low net flight leaders were Margaret Coops (36 in first flight), Bea Mobey (36 in 2nd) and Betty Carroll (44 in third).

Papa Bear Optimistic About Team

RENSSELAER, Ind. (UPI) — George Halas, still head coach of the Chicago Bears at the age of 72, can find optimism this year with youth.

* * *

The Bears, with such veterans as Jon Arnett, Ed O'Bradovich and Rich Kreitling retired and Doug Atkins and Herman Lee traded and others gone in the draft to stock New Orleans will be one of the youngest teams ever under Halas' tutelage.

* * *

Yet, Halas said, "I think we can do better than we were last year. In fact, I know we'll be better. We're going to put a burden on some of the rookies, and I know they're going to make costly mistakes, but I'm going to roll with the punches. It's going to be a tough squad to cut."

* * *

Some of his ball players won't give him a problem in making his cuts, a halfback such as Gale Sayers for instance.

Sayers led the league in rushing and in kickoff returns last year and holds four National League records plus nine other club marks.

A few others in the same category would be fullback Andy Livingston, yet to show his tremendous promise, quarterback Jack Concannon, obtained from Philadelphia in return for tight end Mike Ditka, flanker Johnny Morris, back off the injured list, linebacker Dick Butkus, center Mike Pyle, defensive linemen Dick Evy, Frank Cornish and defensive backs Rich Petibon and Rosy Taylor.

* * *

"Our main objective is to find a tight end," Halas said, "and to get some offensive linemen. I think we'll do well on defense. We've got several new deep backs and an additional linebacker."

The Bears, however, suffered a blow in training camp when fullback Ronnie Bull broke a bone in his leg. He will miss the early part of the season.

Special Present Sought by Miss King in Meet

WINNIPEG (AP) — Second Lieutenant Micki King of the U.S. Air Force will be 23 today and she'd like to celebrate her birthday by winning the three-meter springboard gold medal of the Pan American Games.

Her? Air Force Lieutenant?

Yep, and there's no mistake about it. Micki is a vivacious, blue-eyed blonde, who does justice to a bathing suit. She is 5-foot-7 and weighs 130 pounds.

* * *

"I'd like to win the gold medal to justify the program which permits me to do a job and to continue to compete in diving," said Micki Tuesday night.

The University of Michigan graduate from Pontiac had just finished her seventh dive to wind up in close pursuit of teammate Sue Gossick, another shapely, 19-year-old blonde from Tarzana, Calif.

* * *

Sue had 497.80 points for her seven dives with the final three to be contested at 3 p.m., EDT, in the huge indoor Pan American pool. Micki had 488.50 with Kathy McDonald, 19-year-old Canadian third in the seven-girl field with 464.40.

Micki said that everyone seems to think — before they meet her, that is — that she's a man and then they wonder how she became an Air Force officer.

"It's a relatively new program for women — and it's great," said Micki. "I wouldn't be happy as a schoolteacher or a secretary.

"I went into officers' training after I graduated from Michigan in 1966. Now I'm doing administrative work with the ROTC detachment at Michigan. I'm on active duty and I'll be in for four years.

* * *

"After work I'm able to put in four or five hours of training under my old coach at Michigan, Dick Kimball.

"The Air Force is all for it. They're eager to sponsor competition. As I said, they have a marvelous program and I recommend it highly to girls looking for an interesting career in interesting surroundings."

Micki is single. She's having a ball.

More Money to Be Sought

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Commission has agreed to try for an appropriations increase for the conservation department when the Legislature reconvenes next week.

Conservation director Ralph MacMullan Monday was instructed to meet with Gov. George Romney to enlist his cooperation.

MacMullan also was told to try and get the House and Senate conservation committees "to agree to a more realistic budget."

There will be no wholesale layoffs, MacMullan said — this an attempt to maintain the morale and integrity of the department. But he said some 80 vacancies would be left unfilled and about 100 positions probably would be vacant by the end of the year.

MacMullan claimed the $28.2 million appropriation for the department leaves it $1.3 million short of the operating budget for the last fiscal year.

Apparently fiscal reform didn't help the Conservation Department, commented James Rouman, executive director of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. "The department got the short end of the stick," he said.

Carl Johnson of Grand Rapids, commission chairman, said the budget "represents grim news for the cause of conservation."

"The disturbing thing for me," Johnson said, "is that we increased the income tax to meet our problems and increased fishing and park license fees, but in spite of this have less money to carry out our conservation programs."

NO ADDED LAND

Under the new budget, the commission was told, there will be no money for game land acquisition — this for the first time in more than 30 years.

The department asked for $9 million for water pollution control, the commission was told, and received less than $2 million.

"I have a feeling of futility and hopeless dejection over this budget," said commissioner August (Gus) Scholle of Royal Oak, state president of the AFL-CIO. "It has left the commission with a hopeless dilemma to try and administer conservation programs."

Warren Shapton, deputy director for field operations, said the law enforcement strength should be about 200 men, but is down to 137. The Legislature was asked for $119,000 for law enforcement equipment, Shapton said, but gave nothing.

Court Rejects Road Closing

Cites 'Esthetic Values' in Recent Opinion

Esthetic values, frequently trampled under by the socalled "march of progress," recently carried prominent weight in an opinion handed down by the Circuit Court of Oceana County.

★ ★ ★

Circuit Judge Harold VanDomelen denied a petition to close the unpaved road which borders the west side of the Silver Lake State Park campground on the south shore of the lake.

★ ★ ★

The decision upheld a position taken by State Attorney General Frank J. Kelley who represented the Conservation Department and was joined as a contestant in the case by the Oceana County Road Commission.

Judge VanDomelen emphasized the road's importance to the public in these terms:

"The scenic beauty of Silver Lake is not only a major tourist attraction, it is also a source of pleasure to the inhabitants of this area. The rapid development of private property on this lake for resort purposes now restricts the public use and view of the lake and the dunes."

Anterless Deer Quota for County

The Conservation Commission has authorized the issuance of 539 anterless deer permits for northern and western Oakland County this fall.

"The goal is for 125 anterless deer to be taken by the permit holders," said Howard Greene, district game biologist at Pontiac Lake.

"Hunters with permits should have more opportunity to take deer in the designated Oakland County areas," he said, "because much of the land is part of state recreation areas."

Holly, Ortonville, Highland and Proud Lake areas fell within the anterless permit territory. Farmlands in the new federal cropland-recreation program also will be open if they are within the designated anterless boundaries.

The department was able to open Oakland to anterless deer hunting when the Legislature gave the department discretionary power to crop the herd in high deer-auto accident areas.

Nearly 40 deer were killed in road mishaps in Oakland County during the first six months of this year.

"These are only the known dead," Greene pointed out. "Others run off and die without being recovered, and some car owners pickup the deer and take them home without reporting the accidents."

Motorists involved in such mishaps can take the deer with them if they report it to a law enforcement agency.

Salmon Program Backed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Federal fishery expert said Saturday that stocking Lake Michigan with trout and coho salmon would be a "sound approach" toward ending the alewife problem which plagues the lake area.

Billions of the small herring have died in the southern part of the lake. The stench prompted some workers to quit rather than carry out their assigned jobs of removing the debris from the beaches and harbors, municipal water intakes have been clogged, and electric utility plants were thrown out of kilter.

Dr. Stanford H. Smith, chief of cold water fisheries research at the commercial fisheries bureau's biological laboratory, Ann Arbor, discussed the problem in a television interview with Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis.

Reuss has urged vigorous research into how to restore the balance of fish population in the lake.

Establishment of ecological balance has never been tried in a body of water as large as the Great Lakes.

Large Rainbow Caught by Clarkston Fisherman

Robert McClusky's fishing trip started and ended in a big hurry.

McClusky, of 6200 Ascension, Clarkston, went to Cemetery (Middle) Lake early Sunday to fish for rainbows. He quickly hooked one of the big lunkers known to lurk in the lake's depths.

After a lengthy battle, he boated a five-pound, 13-ounce rainbow. Taken on a nightcrawler, the fish was 24½ inches long.

"He really tore up the water," said McClusky. "I didn't stay long after I caught him." It was his only strike.

Perch fishing is reported good on Saginaw Bay from Pinconning to Pte. AuGres. Lake St. Clair also is yielding a few good perch; but many anglers stayed home because of the civil disturbances in Detroit and other Southeastern Michigan communities.

Good catches of bluegills continue to be taken at Crystal Lake and the Holly Millpond. Bass have been active on Kent, Louise, Orchard, Union and Bald Eagle.

SOME PIKE

A few pike are being caught at Oxbow, Pontiac, Pine, Orion, Brendel and Lower Straits.

Huckleberries are becoming ripe in Northern Michigan. Good harvests are reported in the eastern half of Gladwin County and the northern part of Clare County.

Other good locations are along M-33 in Ogemaw County and near Lumberman's Monument in Oscoda County. Several Huckleberry marshes are located in northern Oakland County, but most of them have been pretty well picked over by now.

Recent rains eased the fire danger in Northern Michigan temporarily, but Conservation Department fire officials point out that much more rainfall is needed or the situation can become explosive in a few days.

Attack by Big Bear Brings No Complaint

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry E. Coe III, Lawrence, N. Y. loves the rugged outdoor life, even when it involves an occasional grizzly bear encounter.

His brother-in-laws may have different ideas.

"Last Saturday," Coe wrote Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, "my brother-in-law and I were fishing the Firehole River in Yellowstone Park above Nez Perce Creek when he was suddenly attacked by a grizzly bear.

"Fortunately, no one was physically hurt — either he, myself or the bear. It was an entirely unprovoked incident," wrote Coe, who has a ranch at Bozeman, Mont., near the park.

"My principal purpose in writing," said Coe, who did not give the name of his brother-in-law, "is not to complain, but to tell you how happy I am that there are still places in this increasingly urbanized land of ours where one can fly fish for brown trout and be beset by wild game.

"The greatest joys of life," Coe said, "are those that have substantial risks attached to them."

"Here's someone who has actually caught the spirit of what we're trying to do in preserving wilderness areas," Udal, wrote in reply.

"Wilderness devoid of unexpected and accidental risks would be a flat, zestless and utterly unnatural experience," said the secretary, though he added: "We try to warn park visitors against needless exposure to natural danger.

"I am left with one niggling question," wrote Udall. "How did your brother-in-law get away?"

Forest Service Acquires Land

The U.S. Forest Service has acquired Consumers Power Co. lands in the Manistee National Forest along the Pine River in Manistee, Lake and Wexford counties.

Involved is river front property running 29 river miles along the Pine River from a point upstream from Cooley bridge at M55 to a point eight miles upstream from Peterson bridge at M37.
