Corps Keeps McKeon

Navy Secretary Cuts Sentence, Takes His Rank

Overrules Bad-Conduct Ouster, Reduces Term in Brig to 3 Months

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas has decided to allow S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon to stay in the Marines, as a private, so McKeon can "build for himself a useful and honorable career."

McKeon, 31, said after he learned of Thomas' action yesterday "I will try to be the very best private in the Marine Corps."

Thomas ordered cancellation of a bad conduct discharge and cut other penalties ordered for McKeon Aug. 3 after a court-martial had convicted the drill instructor of charges growing out of the drowning of six Marine recruits during a night disciplinary march at Parris Island, S.C., April 8.

After reviewing the case, Thomas said he was convinced McKeon got a "fair trial in every respect."

But the Navy secretary wiped out the bad conduct discharge, reduced McKeon's confinement from nine months to three, and set aside a $270 fine, saying "for him I believe that the real punishment will always be the memory of Ribbon Creek," where the six young "boots" died.

Thomas said he agreed with the seven-man court that McKeon, a veteran of 11 years in the Marines, had "failed to exercise reasonable care for the safety" of the 74 men in the platoon he led into the tidal creek. McKeon was convicted of negligent homicide and drinking on duty.

The Navy secretary affirmed McKeon's reduction in rank to private, saying this would involve a "much more substantial loss" than the fine.

Although sentenced to three months' confinement, McKeon will have to serve only one month in the Parris Island brig. He was scheduled to start serving it today.

A Navy legal officer said the Accused Slayer Ruled Insane

Order Royal Oak Man to Ionia; Kidnap-Killing Near Midland

A 30-year-old Royal Oak chemist charged with murder and kidnaping was judged insane at Midland yesterday.

Graham must spend the rest of his life at the hospital, Holbrook ordered, or if ever judged sane must stand trial for the shooting of Eugene Duncan, 44, and the kidnaping of Duncan's wife, Emma, 42, Sept. 2.

Duncan was shot to death in the attempted holdup of his business near Midland. Mrs. Duncan, abducted at gunpoint, was rescued shortly afterward when Graham's car was stopped at a roadblock.

Graham told police he was angry and "wanted to take it out on someone" because a girl friend had failed to keep a date that day.

Yanks Rebound to Win at Home

A three-run homer by Enos Slaughter and some outstanding clutch pitching by Whitey Ford sent the New York Yankees right back into World Series contention today as the Bombers whipped Brooklyn, 5-3 before over 73,000 fans at Yankee Stadium. The Yank win cut the Brook edge to 2-1 in the set with the fourth contest coming up tomorrow at the Stadium. Billy Martin homered for the first NY marker and Yogi Berra doubled in the other. Two sacrifice flies and an unearned marker made up the losers' total.

It was sunny but cool, a fine fall day. The bleachers, being sold on a first-come-first-served basis at the gate, were nearly filled two hours before game time, and many of the patrons were thoughtfully bundled in topcoats.

Afternoon Rain Dampens Spirits of Football Fans

Rain dampened spirits of football fans today, and the weatherman said brief showers may continue on and off late this afternoon and early tonight.

Fans at the Michigan-Michigan State game at Ann Arbor and at other grid contests will have a warm day with temperatures near 70 degrees. Skies will be cloudy and windy.

Tonight's weather forecast for the Pontiac area is partly cloudy skies and turning cooler with a low near 41 to 45 degrees.

Weatherman says Sunday will be fair and somewhat cooler. A high of 61 to 65 degrees is expected.

The low in downtown Pontiac last night was 42. At 2 p.m. today in downtown Pontiac the mercury had inched up to 64 degrees.

Gas Station Operator Crashes; Near Death

A Bloomfield Township gas station operator is in critical condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with injuries suffered early this morning in a collision at Telegraph and West Maple roads.

Govett H. Edsall, 30, of 4134 Tanglewood Rd., suffered a fractured skull and severe internal injuries.

Bloomfield Township Police said Edsall was speeding through a red light when he glanced off a car driven by Michael D. Malega, 18, of Detroit.

Malega told investigators he was completing a left turn at the intersection when he saw the other car coming but could not get out of the way. He and a passenger were unhurt.

Elated Adlai Turns Yale 'Boos' Into Laughter, Shouts, Applause

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson barnstorms into industrial New England today after appealing for the "egghead" vote and calming a noisy, demonstrative crowd at Yale University.

Stevenson's itinerary on the fifth day of his Eastern swing takes him through Rhode Island and Massachusetts, to Woonsocket, Blackstone, Milford, Grafton, Worcester and Springfield.

The Democratic presidential nominee was happy over two events: 1, A speech interrupted by applause at least two dozen times, and 2, his handling of a demonstrative crowd of 6,000 students and others on the Yale campus.

Stevenson and his entourage were besieged last night by what appeared to be every last one of Yale's 4,000 undergraduates, all in a festive mood. Some carried beer cans, others shouted "We want Ike" and "We want Adlai" and at least one was wearing a raccoon coat.

A tomato sailed through the air and plopped on the seat of Stevenson's open car. He had already gone into the hall to address the overflow audience of about 3,000.

After his formal speech in historic Woolsey Hall, Stevenson appeared outside. The mob, at fever pitch, pressed around him. There was some booing.

"Surely," Stevenson said over a public address system, "surely the students of Yale don't need a lesson in manners from a Princetonian."

Williams Picks 3 to Probe Jackson Cave-In Tragedy

JACKSON (AP)—The state stepped in today to investigate, with what Gov. G. Mennen Williams described as "the best minds available," the collapse of a four-story Consumers Power Co. office building under construction in Jackson's outskirts.

The crumbling concrete and steel structure crushed the life out of 10 workmen and injured 35 when it went down Wednesday.

Williams named this three-man team last night to "evaluate reasons for the disaster and make appropriate recommendations for the prevention of future tragedies of the same kind."

George G. Brown, dean of the University of Michigan College of Engineering; Charles E. Cutts, head of the Department of Civil Engineering at Michigan State University, and Elihu Geer, chairman of the Department of Engineering at University of Detroit.

A legislative committee has set a hearing for Nov. 9 on collapse of the $2,800,000 building. It was being built with a relatively new "flat slab" technique which calls for steel reinforced floors to provide strength without supporting beams.

Sen. Robert E. Faulkner R-Coloma), chairman of the legislative investigating committee, said it will take until Nov. 9 "for laboratory tests and other investigations to show what happened." He said his probe will be concerned with building safety standards and possible action by the 1957 Legislature.

The 10th body recovered from the ruins was that of William Rose of Rives Junction, north of Jackson. Three others also were recovered yesterday. Six others had been brought up earlier from their concrete and steel tomb.

The Jackson Citizen-Patriot and a philanthropic group rallied to the aid of families of the killed and injured. The newspaper said it was accepting contributions and the philanthropic group offered low-interest emergency loans until insurance payments come through.

Ike to Rebut Adlai on Draft

Plans Statement Today Telling Why Foe's Idea Won't Work

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower plans to issue a detailed statement today condemning the suggestion of his Democratic rival, Adlai Stevenson, that the military draft be ended.

The statement, according to aides, will be similar in tone to Eisenhower's sharp attack yesterday on Stevenson's proposal that the United States halt H-bomb testing.

Eisenhower already has said there is no possibility of ending selective service under world conditions.

He plans to elaborate today and give a point-by-point rebuttal to Stevenson's contention a stepped-up voluntary enlistment program can replace the draft in the "foreseeable future."

Eisenhower declared yesterday the proposal that H-bomb tests be suspended could only lead to "confusion at home and misunderstanding abroad."

If adopted, he warned, it could permit the Soviet Union to overtake this country's present "commanding lead" in the field of nuclear weapons.

Life Sentences Facing Gang; Appeal Planned

Jury Returns Verdict After Only 3½ Hours of Deliberation

BOSTON (AP)—A Suffolk Superior Court jury early today convicted eight men of taking part in the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery—the largest cash haul in the nation's history.

They face a maximum of life imprisonment.

The all-male jury deliberated 3 hours and 27 minutes before convicting seven of the eight defendants of armed robbery—meaning they actually participated in the Jan. 17, 1950 looting.

The eighth—Joseph F. McGinnis, 52, termed by the prosecution as the "brains" — was convicted as an accessory before the fact of armed robbery and accessory to breaking and entering, which carried the same penalty.

McGinnis was acquitted of armed robbery and breaking and entering charges by directed verdict before the case went to the jury at 10:23 p.m. last night.

Convicted after the nine-week trial as participants were Anthony Pino, 48; Vincent J. Costa, 41; Michael V. Geagan, 47; Adolph Maffie, 44; Henry Baker, 49; James I. Faherty, 44; and Thomas F. Richardson, 48. All are from greater Boston.

"Of course we are going to appeal," chief defense counsel Paul T. Smith said. "We have 21 days to file that appeal. These have been nine long weeks and we want a few days to get straightened out."

When jury foreman Thomas F. Donahue, 43, read the guilty verdicts, McGinnis' wife collapsed. Faherty's sister buried her head in a handkerchief. A woman relative of another defendant screamed.

Tuesday morning was fixed as the day of sentencing.

In his final argument, Dist. Atty. Garrett H. Byrne referred to the defendants as "potential murderers, men who would destroy everything that is decent."

He called Joseph J. (Specs) O'Keefe, the state's star witness who has pleaded guilty to participating in the robbery, a man who "came here without any fears or promises . . . he may be anything you want to call him but he came in here and he didn't have to."

Big Ten Teams Pitted at Ann Arbor

UM, 0 - MSU, 0 - as Record Crowd Views Grid Clash

Michigan and State were battling on even terms as their annual big battle entered the early stages of the second period before over 100,000 fans at Ann Arbor this afternoon. The favored Spartans had been held to just two yards rushing up to the final minutes of the quarter while the Wolverines threatened three times but were halted on each attempt to reach pay dirt.

College football's game of the week pitted the two Big Ten teams in the 49th meeting of their interstate series before what was believed the greatest crowd ever to view a grid game in Wolverine Stadium.

Odds-makers installed the Spartans as slight favorites, but most observers saw the game as a toss-up.

Both teams made their Western Conference debuts after season-opening victories last week.

State toppled Stanford 21 to 7 at Palo Alto, Calif., a week ago, while the U. of M. trounced UCLA 42 to 13 in Ann Arbor.

Wolverines are top contenders for the Big Ten title and a possible trip to the Rose Bowl. State, which made the Rose Bowl voyage last year, cannot return this season, but is favored for the conference crown.

The Michigan-MSU series dates to 1898, with the Wolverines on the long end of 35 wins, 10 defeats and three ties.

Truman Assails GOP in Tour of Region

Former President Harry S. Truman visited Oakland County this morning after a peppery attack last night on President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

Eisenhower is "a captive of big business" and Nixon "one of the worst enemies of labor that ever saw Congress," Truman said at a Detroit labor rally.

* * *

Truman talked at 11 a.m. in Royal Oak.

In a whirlwind tour yesterday he visited three strongly Democratic districts with the message to "get out the vote."

He said he prefers "precinct captains who get out the vote to all the high-hat speakers."

Speaking to 50? AFL trade-unionists in Labor Temple, Truman said he has been called "the No. 1 precinct captain. I am as proud of that title as to have been President of the United States."

Goodwill Store Opens Monday

Officials Hope Factory Will Follow to Aid Area Handicapped

The opening of a Goodwill Industries retail store here Monday on the first day of National "Employ the Handicapped Week" is a big step, officials say, towards helping area handicapped.

* * *

There will be a 10 a.m. ceremony to open the outlet at 77 S. Saginaw St. for products of handicapped persons. Among principal guests to attend will be Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council members.

Their committee has worked a year to get the store as the first step towards location of a factory where 500 to 600 handicapped persons can learn new trades.

Along with Mayor William W. Donaldson and City Manager Walter K. Willman at the ceremony will be Fred Haggard of the advisory council and several officials interested in the handicapped, according to Frederick Hanses, secretary of the council's committee.

Hanses is manager of the Pontiac branch, Michigan Employment Security Commission.

OTHERS ATTENDING

Among others attending will be Dr. John J. Lee, chairman of a similar committee appointed by the governor; Edgar Burns, of the MESC headquarters in Lansing and Harold Truitt, supervisor of the MESC Pontiac branch; and Arthur Heaton, chairman of the Oakland County CIO community services committee.

Hanses said the store will sell products made in Detroit, but it would sell products made here if the factory is established.

* * *

Not only persons suffering loss of limbs, sight, hearing or speech would benefit by the factory training, he said, but also those afflicted with heart conditions, high blood pressure, allergies and other disorders.

The factory would train new skills for persons unable to perform previous skills, he said. After the training, most handicapped persons seek normal jobs, making room to train others, he explained.

Thumbs Down on Dairy Hassle

Police Won't Enforce City Ruling Which Judge Says Is Unconstitutional

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley yesterday left it up to local dairymen to get enforcement of a city ordinance, which a municipal judge says benefits their creameries "unconstitutionally."

Straley called off police enforcement, he said, after an officer failed to obtain a warrant charging illegal sale of milk because it was processed outside the city.

* * *

The ordinance, adopted in 1951, requires milk sold here to have been processed within the city limits.

This control is "unreasonable and unconstitutional," according to Judge Cecil McCallum, who has conferred with City Attorney William Ewart to change it.

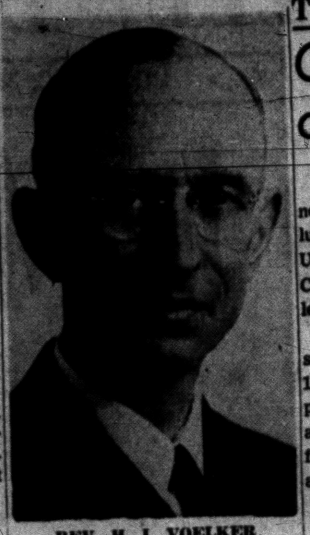

REFUSED WARRANT

McCallum refused to issue the warrant, he said, because the ordinance could not stand up in court. The disputed section of the ordinance states:

"All milk and dairy products except butter, ice cream, cheese, cottage cheese, sour cream and buttermilk sold in the City of Pontiac shall be processed and pasteurized in licensed milk plants located within the limit of the City of Pontiac."

Straley said a Twin Pines milkman delivering here Wednesday was arrested on complaint of a local dairy owner. Twin Pines has no plant in Pontiac but is establishing customer routes.

The milkman, Eugene C. Benoit, of 12309 Chelsea, Detroit, was released after McCallum refused to issue the warrant.

REV. H. I. VOELKER

Pastor to Preach as Supply Minister

Coming to the Calvary Evangelical United Brethern Church Sunday morning as supply pastor will be the Rev. H. I. Voelker of Detroit, former pastor of the Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church of Pontiac.

Van Dusen Hits Dems in Speech

Charges Williams' Firm Encourages Anti-Labor Policies

Michigan Republicans, including Richard C. Van Dusen, of Birmingham, candidate for attorney general, yesterday renewed attacks on union policies and Gov. G. Mennen Williams' family firm.

Van Dusen, speaking in Port Huron, repeated charges that the Mennen toiletry firm of Morristown, N. J. operates under anti-labor policies and also buys delivery trucks made in Europe.

Union leaders who have been defending the Mennen policy, Van Dusen maintain, are "throwing their principles down the drain."

Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo, opposing Williams' Democratic bid for a fifth term as governor, reiterated the charge while speaking in Muskegon.

Cobo also defended his position on Detroit's Gratiot Redevelopment Project, which Williams described as a "mess" after "five years of futility" to get the area developed.

Cobo declared that he "never took credit" for the project but only formed a citizens' committee which since has been in charge.

peal to Yale pride. Laughter replaced boos. Then Stevenson appealed to their patriotism:

"If we didn't have more than one point of view, we wouldn't have a two party system. . . .

"The two party system is the essence of democracy-and don't boo that, boys, don't boo that."

* * *

He hit what he labeled as "soft soap slogans, gimmicks, bandwagons and all the other infernal machines of modern high-pressure politics in this age of mass manipulation."

* * *

Guild Announces Series of Lecture-Day Buffets

BIRMINGHAM — Plans are announced for a series of buffet luncheons to be served in the Undercroft of St. James Episcopal Church following each Town Hall lecture.

The first luncheons will be served on Oct. 18 and 19, from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the church after 9:30 a.m. on those dates, and tickets for future luncheons will be available at that time also.

St. Elizabeth's Guild of the church is sponsoring the luncheons, for which there will be a limit of 160 persons on each day.

The church will mark World Wide Communion Service tomorrow at 10 and 11:15 a.m. services.

Calvin Baxter Burial Monday

Service for Keego Police Chief Set for 10 A. M. at Trinity Church

Service for Calvin Coolidge Baxter, 31, of 2248 Willow Beach, Keego Harbor, will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning from the Trinity Methodist Church in Keego Harbor.

His body will be at the C. J. Godhardt Funeral Home from noon today until Monday when it will be taken to the church at 9 a.m. The Rev. R. H. Benedict of Lapeer will officiate.

A prayer service will be held at 3 p.m. at the Rich Cemetery in Mayville, Lapeer County, where burial will take place.

Monday was proclaimed a day of mourning by Mayor John Loveland. City offices in Keego Harbor will be closed from 9 a.m. to 11. Many stores and businesses were expected to close voluntarily.

CHILDREN TO ATTEND

School children will be excused to attend the funeral with their parents.

Mr. Baxter was born in Mayville on March 30, 1925, the son of Willard W. and Mabel May Smith Baxter. A graduate of the Mayville High School in the class of 1943, he had lived in Pontiac and Keego Harbor for 10 years.

He had served as chief of police in Keego Harbor since June 1, 1955. He attended the Trinity Methodist Church and also was a member of the Southeastern Michigan Assn. of Chiefs of Police, the National Sheriff Assn. and Michigan Chiefs of Police Assn. He was a veteran of World War II.

He leaves his wife, the former Eleanor Scheller; a son, Calvin C. Baxter, at home; his mother, of Mayville; six brothers, Jack of Saginaw, Willard of Big Rapids, Edward and Floyd of Flint, Steve and Charles Baxter of Mayville.

Other survivors include six sisters, Mrs. Francis Butterfield of Farwell, Mrs. Florence Lick of Pleasant Lake, Mrs. Sarah Brando of Saline, Mrs. Ina Roles of Tuscola, Mrs. Ella Shaver of Fostoria and Mrs. Mary Howard of Millington.

Mr. Baxter died Thursday night in Pontiac General Hospital from burns received while fighting a fire in a Keego Harbor bowling alley Wednesday.

Hat Bet Caps Off Rivalry Between Pontiac, Saginaw

* * *

Saginaw Mayor Maurice E. Brown yesterday accepted a challenge for a "get out the vote" contest, Donaldson said.

The two cities will see which has the larger Nov. 6 vote in proportion to number of registered voters.

* * *

Brown said, "I think it's a great challenge . . . our hat is in the ring."

Donaldson lived in Saginaw while working as chief clerk in the State Highway Department branch there from 1934 to 1937.

Fluoride Teeth Coating Starts Monday in Pontiac

Fluoride applications will begin Monday for second, third, fifth and sixth graders at Emerson School, Mrs. Ruth Toepfer, dental hygenist for Pontiac Public Schools, said today.

* * *

Treatment at Linda Vista, Longfellow and Whitfield Schools will follow the Emerson applications, she said.

The applications which cost parents $4 consist of a dental examination, cleaning and four applications of fluoride solution.

"Many thousands of children have been given the fluoride treatment," Mrs. Toepfer said, "and always the result is the same . . . about a 40 per cent reduction in decay following the applications."

MISSED LAST YEAR

Both Emerson and Linda Vista were missed in treatments last year so both schools will give applications to second, third, fifth and sixth graders. In all other Pontiac schools treatment is available for second and fifth graders only, Mrs. Toepfer said.

She added that literature and permission cards have been sent to parents from LeBaron, Malkim, Owen and Emmanuel Christian Schools. Those schools are next in line for treatments.

Participating in offering the treatments in the Pontiac schools are PTA members, the local dental society, the local health department and the Michigan Department of Health, Mrs. Toepfer said.

Convict Brink's Gang of Biggest Holdup

"there was the greatest dramatic production in the history of trials in the Commonwealth," Smith told the jury.

With the eight convicted, O'Keefe's status and future prospects still remained a question mark. He has pleaded guilty to armed robbery in the case but has yet to be arraigned.

During his summation yesterday, District Atty. Byrne said authorities have made "no deal" with O'Keefe.

The all-male jury was selected from a venire of 2,000 talesman, called in groups of 100.

* * *

Seventeen court days were needed before the panel of 14 finally was completed Aug. 29.

The prosecution's case was pegged largely on the story of O'Keefe, 48, Boston hoodlum with a record of 70 arrests, who pleaded guilty to the robbery and named the defendants as accomplices in the nation's biggest cash haul.

Second Warrant Is Facing Haymes

HOLLYWOOD (IN) — Singer Dick Haymes faces a second warrant for his arrest when he returns to California from New York, probably next month.

The second warrant was issued yesterday when the third of his four ex-wives, Joanne Dru, complained that he was $4,478 in arrears in support for their three children.

A hearing was set for Nov. 9 after it was indicated that Haymes would be back on the West Coast by then.

The first warrant was issued 24 hours before the second when Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes, the second ex-Mrs. Haymes, told the Superior Court that he is $12,150 behind in his alimony.

Dies After Learning News of Cave-In Deaths

CHICAGO (IN) — Hans J. Zack, Chicago sheet metal contractor died Thursday night after learning four of his employes had been killed in the Consumers Power Co. building collapse in Jackson.

Zack, 62, died of a cerebral hemorrhage. His sheet metal and air conditioning firm, with offices in Chicago, Flint and South Bend, Ind., had a subcontract on the Jackson structure.

Asks Tainted Money Repaid to Treasury

LANSING (IN)—John B. Martin of Grand Rapids, Republican candidate for secretary of state, has asked Gov. Williams to order the return of a $400 Democratic campaign contribution by Mrs. Anne Thorpe to the State Treasury.

* * *

Mrs. Thorpe is former manager of the secretary of state's branch office at St. Clair Shores who allegedly absconded to Mexico with $80,000 in state funds.

Martin charged Secretary of State James M. Hare has admitted publicly Mrs. Thorpe comingled private and state funds in her bank account.

Martin said Williams should direct the treasurer of the Democratic State Central Committee to return the $400 to the state "without further delay."

* * *

"I am sure you will not permit a question to remain as to wether the Democratic party is financing its campaign by the use of taxpayers' money," Martin said.

Collision With Tree Hurts 2 Passengers

Two passengers were slightly injured when a car left Orchard Lake Avenue and struck a tree early today, Pontiac police said.

Henry Joseph Reinhardt, 53, and Henry James Reinhardt, 16, both of 184 S. Francis St. were treated for back injuries, according to authorities at Pontiac General Hospital.

The driver, William R. Hood, 37, of 45½ James St., claimed he was forced off the road by another car east of Iroquois Drive, police said.

McKeon Can Stay in Corps, Says Navy

two months McKeon has spent "in the status of arrest" will be counted as part of the confinement period.

Since his court martial, McKeon has been living, under restrictions, with his wife and three children at their home near the Parris Island base.

Reached at his home, McKeon said "I believe it is a very just sentence and a very fair sentence." In New York, Emile Zola Berman, McKeon's attorney, said he feels "this sentence meets the needs of the case."

* * *

McKeon, who hails from Worcester, Mass., said he was happy Thomas had revoked the bad conduct discharge because "I'd hate to have to carry that around in my hip pocket for the rest of my life."

Athletes Foil Panty Raiders at Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (INS) — A panty raid on the University of Michigan campus was thwarted last night by a group of the school's athletes.

* * *

Some 3,000 students, both men and women, marched on a girl's dormitory in Ann Arbor after a pep rally prior to today's Michigan-Michigan State football game.

About 200 of the group managed to enter the dorm, but they were held back by the athletes.

An auto bearing a MSU sticker later was carried a block and half away by a group of students. When University Vice President James A. Lewis ordered the students to return the car, they parked it next to a fire hydrant.

* * *

Meanwhile, six U. of M. students were turned over to Ann Arbor college authorities for breaking a so-called "non-aggression pact" between Michigan and MSU.

MSU police caught the six yesterday painting a large blue "M" on campus benches and sidewalks at East Lansing.

Navy Jet Pilots Set Cross-Country Record

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (IN) — Three Navy pilots streaked across the continent and back in an elapsed time of 10 hours, 49 minutes for the 4,924 miles and refueling stops yesterday in Navy F9F8 Cougar jets.

* * *

Cmdr. G. A. Robinson, 38, and Cmdr. Donald Michie, 35, and Ens. Ronald K. Hess, 24, bettered the previous record of 11 hours, 27 minutes for the cross-continent round trip.

LANSING (IN) — Dr. William H. Kelly of Richmond, Va., was appointed Friday as assistant director of the State Mental Health Department and head of the department's Mental Hygiene Division.

Bandit Queen of India Directs Murder of 14

NEW DELHI, India (IN) — Word reached New Delhi today of the murder of 14 villagers in a revenge raid led by a woman, dubbed India's bandit queen.

* * *

Newspaper accounts from Rewa, 250 miles southeast of New Delhi, said the gang also wounded five persons in the nearby village of Datia and carried off several others into central India's Vindhya Hills.

The gang reportedly was led by Putli, a woman said to be in her 20s who has become one of India's top public enemies.

The dispatches said Putli led her men into Datia Wednesday because she suspected its inhabitants had given information about her to police.

* * *

Pulti was described as riding at the head of the band, mounted side saddle on a horse and carrying a rifle. She reportedly ordered her gang to tie 19 villagers to trees and then shoot them.

Five were still alive, but in serious condition, when police arrived.

Stolen Baby's Father in Dutch

2nd Woman Claims He Left Her, 5 Children, Changed Name

CHICAGO (UP) — A woman who padded herself with blankets to appear pregnant, and then stole an infant to make it appear she gave birth, has been charged with kidnaping.

* * *

The month-old baby boy was returned unharmed yesterday to his mother, Lois Bucher, 21, 14 hours after being taken by Mrs. Gladys Bynum, 24. The attendant publicity disclosed that the child's father, Tom, had deserted his first wife and their five children.

After photographs appeared in newspapers of the father and mother of the abducted baby, another woman told authorities that Tom Bucher was really her husband, Thomas Paterimos, 31, and that he had deserted her and their five children 22 months ago.

He admitted the accusations and also admitted he had never legally married Mrs. Bucher. He was charged with nonsupport, adultery and child abandonment.

* * *

Authorities said Mrs. Bynum, who has been charged with kidnaping Ronald Bucher, started telling neighbors and friends a month ago that she was going to have a baby.

Her husband of five years, Charles, a bus driver, was quoted by police as saying he didn't know whether his wife was pregnant.

Police said Mrs. Bucher Thursday left Mrs. Bynum alone in the Bucher home with her baby. When she returned, Mrs. Bynum and the infant were missing.

* * *

Some 400 police canvassed the area yesterday and found Norbert Kowalski, who reported a woman carrying an infant had asked him for a ride to her home. He led police to the Bynum home, about four miles from the Bucher home, and found the infant with Mrs. Bynum.

Wife Upsets U.S. Ban Against Seeing Mate

ST. LOUIS (UP)—A statutory federal court has set aside a ruling which, in effect, prevented a woman from associating with her Communist husband.

* * *

It acted yesterday in the case of Mrs. Antonia Sentner, a native of Serbia who was ordered deported three years ago. She is the wife of William Sentner, an avowed Communist whose conviction of conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the government is under appeal.

Mrs. Sentner contended in a law suit the McCarran Immigration Act is unconstitutional. She also claimed an Immigration Service ruling prohibiting her from associating with Communists prevented her from associating with her husband.

* * *

Lawyer Loses $5 Million Will on Dash for Train

NEW YORK (UP)—A lawyer has disclosed that he lost an heiress' five-million-dollar will while riding a commuter train to his Weston, Conn., home.

Attorney Norman W. Schur asked Surrogate William R. Collins yesterday to accept a sworn copy in lieu of the will. He said he could remember all the details of the original.

Schur said Mrs. Alice Astor Pleydell-Bouverie signed the will last July 18. He tucked it in his pocket and dashed for a New Haven train.

The next day he learned Mrs. Pleydell-Bouverie had died of a heart attack. He searched for the will but couldn't find it.

Mrs. Pleydell - Bouverie, daughter of John Jacob Astor, left her $5,305,000 estate to her four children. They are willing to accept Schur's copy.

Gives Up After 6 Days of Hiding Out in Woods in Eastern Indiana

NEWCASTLE, Ind. (UP) — After eluding police for six days, Richard A. Moistner, 22, of Indianapolis, accused of the shotgun slaying of a friend who surprised him in a rape attempt, surrendered last night.

* * *

Moistner was taken into custody by Sheriff Bob Padgett at the home of an uncle, Wilbur Moistner, in Mount Summit, after the uncle had telephoned the sheriff saying the youth was ready to give himself up.

Moistner, who had been hiding in the woods and fields of eastern Indiana since Sunday night, was being held in the Henry County jail.

The man was sought for questioning in the shotgun death of Thomas Scott, 17, at Indianapolis Sunday.

* * *

Frances Mayas, 16, told Indianapolis police she and her cousin, Donna Games, 15, were with Scott and Moistner at Frances' home Sunday, while her parents were away.

* * *

Frances said Moistner hit Scott with the butt of the gun and then shot him once, killing the youth.

Pythians to Honor Grand Chancellor

Local Fellowship Lodge No. 277 Knights of Pythias will hold a banquet in honor of new state Grand Chancellor Harry H. Pattison Oct. 16 at the Pontiac Federal Savings & Loan Bldg. on West Huron street.

Kenneth Hess, of Springfield, Ohio, who is Past Grand Chancellor and superintendent of the Ohio Pythian Home, will be the main speaker at the event. William Cowie, Chancellor Commander, is chairman of the event.

Pattison is a resident of Orchard Lake. He was elected Grand Chancellor of Michigan last month after previously holding several other high Pythian offices.

Sukarno Invites Mao to Come to Indonesia

HONG KONG (UP)—Peiping Radio said today Communist Chinese leader Mao Tze-tung has accepted an invitation to visit Indonesia.

The broadcast said the invitation was extended by Indonesia President Sukarno before he left the Red Chinese capital for a tour of Manchuria. Mao was at the airport to see Sukarno off. The Indonesia president has been touring the Communist mainland.

No date has been fixed for the visit, the broadcast said.

Amphibious Jeep Carts Man on Worldwide Trip

TOKYO (INS)—Australian adventurer Ben Carlin is in Tokyo today getting his second wind before finishing an around-the-world trip no man has ever made before—in an amphibious jeep.

* * *

The 44-year-old mining engineer plans to return to his starting point in Montreal, Canada, by Christmas, 1957, slightly more than nine years after he began the journey in his 3½-ton amphibious jeep "half safe."

The husky, quiet-spoken Australian has driven or sailed from Montreal across the Atlantic, through Europe and most of Asia, to Japan.

He ruefully admitted in an interview it has taken him about eight years longer than he originally planned.

BEGAN IN 1948

He departed from the Canadian city in his 18-foot, 3-inch amphibious jeep in September, 1948.

"I thought it would be all over in 12 months," he sighed vistfully, "otherwise I never would have started it."

* * *

But, now that he has come as far as he has and invested as much time and cash (some $35,000) he is determined to complete the round-the-world voyage regardless of the time and money involved.

The bulky-looking amphibious jeep startled Japanese fishermen in Southern Japan in July when it rumbled out of the ocean at Kagoshima and started the overland drive to Tokyo.

Carlin started the voyage with his American wife, Elinore, but she gave up in India and stayed behind.

The engineer-traveller explained that the trip has been dragged out so much "because I kept going broke."

The "Half Safe" is presently being overhauled in a Mitsubishi heavy industries corporation workshop, Carlin related, and added he expected to work for the corporation during his stay in Japan.

* * *

He said he planned to drive his well-traveled amphibious jeep to Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island, for a June start across the Pacific.

Mental Patient Freed to Fight for Inheritance

RIVERHEAD, N.Y., (UP)—George K. Churchill, 60, possible heir to a multi-million-dollar fortune, has been ordered released from a mental hospital.

Churchill had alleged he was improperly committed to the institution last spring by a younger brother and sister - in - law who hoped to inherit the estate of the men's mother.

Mrs. George A. H. Churchill, 88, of Rumson, N.J., mother of the two brothers, has an estate estimated at 5 to 10 million dollars.

Autherine Lucy Still Fights School Ruling

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UP)—Autherine Lucy Foster apparently has not given up efforts to attend the University of Alabama. She was expelled from the al-white school last February.

The latest in a long series of legal actions came yesterday. The newest maneuver revolves around the former Negro coed's expulsion.

Atty. Arthur Shores asked Federal Judge H. Hobart Grooms to find university officials in contempt of court for refusing to readmit the former Birmingham secretary.

At a hearing Aug. 29, Grooms had ruled that a federal court could not interfere with the university's disciplinary action against the Negro woman. She was expelled for unproven charges that school officials conspired in rioting against her.

Teen Rapist Given Life

DETROIT (AP)—Willis Harris Jr., 17, of Detroit, was sentenced to life imprisonment Friday after a Recorder's Court jury convicted him in the fatal slugging and raping of 64-year-old Mrs. Eleanor Biegalski Oct. 16, 1955.

Kefauver Says Ike Lame Duck

If GOP Wins Second Term, Nixon Would Control Party — Estes

ALVA, Okla. (UP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said today President Eisenhower appears "finally" to have realized that the new presidential two-term limitation means he will lose control of his party to Vice President Nixon if he is re-elected.

* * *

The Democratic vice presidential contender, starting a full day of campaigning in Oklahoma, issued a statement saying Eisenhower will be a "lame duck president" if he wins a second term.

The statement was prompted by the President's assertion at a news conference yesterday that he does not regard as entirely wise the constitutional amendment barring a third term for a chief executive.

Eisenhower said that by and large the people should be able to choose anybody they want as president, regardless of the number of terms.

Kefauver said: "It has finally occurred to Mr. Eisenhower that the political facts of life being what they are, if he is re-elected as a lame duck president, he will immediately lose control of the obvious coming power in the Republican party—Dick Nixon.

* * *

"It will be Nixon to whom the party leadership will turn—not Dwight Eisenhower."

The Senator said the two-term limitation was "an anti-Roosevelt amendment, passed by the 80th Republican Congress" after Franklin Roosevelt's death in his fourth term.

Basilica Sold Out for Beatification of Pope Innocent

VATICAN CITY (UP) — All available space in St. Peter's Basilica has been allotted by ticket for tomorrow's beatification of Pope Innocent XI.

More than 35,000 tickets have been distributed for the two ceremonies to honor the Pope who was born Benedetto Odescalchi May 16, 1611, at Como in northern Italy.

The first program will beatify the Pontiff, conferring upon him honors of the Roman Catholic Church that are second only to that of canonization of sainthood.

For the second ceremony, Pope Pius XII will come here from his Castel Gandolfo summer residence to participate in the first public act of veneration of the newly beatified Pontiff.

Rare Quarter Really Half Dollar, or Is It?

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Put enough silver for a quarter in the U.S. Mint's 50-cent machine and what have you got? One of the rarest, and most valuable, coins in the world, says coin dealer George Creed.

Creed found the coin in a bag of half-dollars he got from the Philadelphia mint. It has 50-cent piece markings, is smaller than a half-dollar and thinner than a dime. The mint offered the too-little-silver-too-much-machine explanation. Creed said the market value of the coin can be compared with that of a unique British Guiana stamp issued in 1865—about $50,000. He's not selling, though.

There were 40 million airlines passengers in the U. S. in 1955.

UM Analyzing Air Collected 50 Miles Up

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Aeronautical engineers at the University of Michigan are analyzing thin air.

It was collected in bottles at the edge of the earth's atmosphere by two high altitude rockets fired 50 miles up this summer at White Sands, N.M.

The university was hired by the Army Signal Corps to analyze the samples.

These findings will solve a mystery that has puzzled upper air experts for years, said Elton A. Wenzel, research associate in charge of the project.

Lewis Attacks Wildcat Strikes

Miners Who Answer Unauthorized Calls to Face Expulsion

CINCINNATI (UP)—John L. Lewis 76, the labor boss who once kept coal miners dizzy answering strike calls, is pledged today to sock any striker with heavy fines or ouster from the coal industry.

Lewis says he won't pull any punches in dealing with future "wildcat" or locally - inspired coal strikes, that miners must keep working and submit any gripes to peaceful grievance procedures.

The UMW chief laid down the law yesterday to the 3,000 delegates attending the union's quadrennial convention. The ocnvention recessed until Monday.

Lewis reported in the four-month period from January through April this year, the coal fields were hit with 170 local strikes "of major magnitude" causing large losses of coal production and work time.

"Carry this message back to your members," Lewis intoned grimly to convention delegates. "Don't do it again, because you'll be fully conscious I'm breathing down your necks."

Lewis said one "wildcat," or unauthorized strike, in northern West Virginia, lasted a month during June and cost a million tons of lost coal production, lost wages, some $400,000 royalty revenue to the UMW's welfare fund, and a possible triple - damage lawsuit against the union.

* * *

The miners' union chief said he would "recommend with enthusiasm" fines against local union leaders responsible for directing such walkouts. He cited a number of $300 fines recently levied and added:

"They'll be lucky if they get away with a $300 fine without facing expulsion charges from the union."

Satellite Chiefs Rush to See Tito

Yugoslav Leader Back From Talks in Russia, Officials Mum

* * *

Tito arrived home without fanfare yesterday from his eight-day visit with Soviet Communist Party Chief Nikita Khrushchev at Yalta. The Yugoslav leader described his trip as "purely private in character and intended for rest," but added that Soviet-Yugoslav relations were discussed.

Shortly after Tito's return, the official Yugoslav news agency Tanjug announced that Red Hungary's Communist Party Boss Erne Beroe — who was also a guest at Khrushchev's Yalta villa — and four other Hungarian leaders will visit here Oct. 15.

Visits of three other Communist party delegations already had been scheduled.

* * *

The first group, a party of Italian Communists, crossed the Yugoslav border last night en route to the capital for several days of talks with Yugoslavia's Communist party general committee. The delegation is headed by Luigi Longo, deputy to Italian Communist Party Boss Palmiro Togliatti.

Romanian and French Communist delegations also are to visit Belgrade soon.

No official would say whether the comings-and-goings were linked.

REMEMBER
BIKE SAFETY

J. L. VOORHEES
A weaving bike, with an adult aboard, is as much a menace as one with an irrepressible child.
When a father bought his son his first bicycle he told him, "Men must learn responsibility. There are a great number of ways this can be accomplished; one of them is ride this bike with the rights of others, and those inherent to yourself, as the dominating thought in your mind. You will notice it is built to carry one person; never take a passenger. Sidewalks were made for pedestrians; they have right-of-way; give it to them. You must share our highways with automobiles; be courteous, signal, tell those behind or in front of you your intentions. They will appreciate it and you will avoid injury. At an intersection, be certain a car isn't coming. Wait. Be sure." He handed the bike to the boy. That transfer gave him his first responsibility. He was a man.

Lutherans Eye Building Plan

Survey Committee Asks Classrooms, Auditorium for Rochester Church

ROCHESTER — At a meeting that is expected to be one of the most important in the history of St. John's Lutheran Church, the Voters Assembly, governing body of the congregation will Monday night decide on whether to proceed with extensive building plans.

The building program is listed in 17 recommendations of a Survey and Planning committee.

Main ones would lead to a new south wing, to the present structure on West Fifth Street, six additional classrooms, an auditorium-gymnasium, many Sunday School alcoves, and other facilities for the primary benefit of the youth in the congregation.

The meeting in the Fellowship Hall at 8 p.m. Monday is a regular meeting of the Assembly, and will also include the slate of officers brought to the floor by a nominating committee.

Additional nominations will be taken, and the number of nominees reduced to two for elections to be held at the December meeting.

By Dec. 31, 1966, the survey committee, appointed as a result of the April Assembly meeting, predicts, the congregation will have 1250, nearly twice the present membership.

The Sunday School will have 750 enrolled, more than twice the present enrollment and The Christian Day School will have 340 pupils, which is also double the present attendance.

There are now 600 commicants in St. John's and the rapidly increase of attendance in the past eight years was responsible for the survey committee.

An assistant to the pastor, the Rev. Walter Gerken, and future plans for possible conversion of the present Parish Hall was included.

Drayton Church to Feature 3-Choir Music

DRAYTON PLAINS — The 11 a.m. Sunday service of the Community United Presbyterian Church will feature music by three choirs, according to W. J. Teeuwissen, Jr. pastor.

* * *

Revs. Savage Aid Dedication

Washington Church to Begin 3-Day Series at Sunday Services

WASHINGTON—The Rev. H. H. Savage of First Baptist Church, Pontiac, will be speaker at the dedicatory service of the First Baptist Church here at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at the church.

* * *

Three other ministers are also talking in services tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday.

The new building saw its first services on March 4, of this year on a site purchased in 1954. Construction had begun in August of 1955. The congregation was housed earlier in the Wier building, having formed the church organization in May, 1943.

The Rev. Lloyd O. Chase, is pastor of the church which has Sunday regular services at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m., as well as Sunday School at 10 a.m. and Youth Hour at 6:30 p.m. On Wednesdays, Bible study and prayer is at 7:30 p.m.

For the dedication service, music will include a duet by Mrs. Roy Streeter and Ralph Wager and a solo by Mrs. Streeter. Messages and testimonies are planned by B. W. Mitchell, chairman of the building committee, Streeter, treasurer, and A. A. Roe, builder and advisor.

Streeter, treasurer, and A. A. Roe, builder and advisor.

Dr. Savage's son, the Rev. Bob Savage, home on furlough from mission work, will talk at both the Sunday morning worship service, the Sunday night program and a Tuesday evening 7:30 p.m. porgram that will conclude the dedication series.

Sunday night, the Ambassador Quartet will also present special music.

On Monday night, all members, officers and teachers are asked to attend a special service at 7:30 p.m., when the Rev. E. A. Linderholm, pastor of the St. Clair Baptist Church will bring the charge to the congregation, and Dr. Roy L. Aldrich, president of the Detroit Bible Institute, will talk.

On Wednesday and lasting through Sunday, the church will take part with the Romeo First Baptist Church in a Missionary Conference, with services in both churches.

Funeral Home Opens in Troy

Price-Bodamer Owners Trained Locally; Stage Reception Today

TROY—Formal opening of the Price-Bodamer Funeral Home, first funeral home in the city of Troy, will be today and tomorrow, according to the enterprise's partners, William H. Price and Gerald R. Bodamer.

* * *

The funeral home at 2501 S. Rochester Rd. is a spacious former dwelling remodeled to accommodate the business's needs.

An open house today and tomorrow is offering those in the area a chance to visit and inspect the facilities which the new funeral establishment provides.

Price, 25, began his apprenticeship with the former A. C. Hobart Funeral Home, graduated from the Wayne University Department of Mortuary Science and was an apprentice at Pixley Funeral Home and then with Donelson-Johns Funeral Home in Pontiac up to the time of entering business for himself.

Son of the William Prices of Rochester, he attended Rochester High School, served three years in the Marines, and completed high school studies in the US Armed Forces Institute at Madison, Wis.

Bodamer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bodamer of 16 N. Tasmania St., Pontiac, and also is a Wayne graduate in mortuary science.

He attended Pontiac High School and graduated from Highland Park Junior College. His apprenticeship began with the Hall-Stewart Funeral Home, Detroit, then Farmer-Snover Home, Pontiac, and Harper-Mulligan Home, Detroit.

Bodamer, his wife Jean, and their two children will reside at the funeral home and Price and his wife, Joan, will live on Troywood in Troy.

Study Zoning at Walled Lake

Set Ordinance Hearing but Postpone Naming New Mayor

WALLED LAKE — The City Council will have a public hearing Oct. 23 at 8 p.m. at City Hall, following recommendations received this week on a zoning ordinance for the city.

The council this week decided to wait until all were present to elect a successor to Mayor Harry Thomas and name a new councilman. The mayor's resignation was due to his moving from the city soon.

The new city manager, George A. Shaw, is getting oriented in the city, and he and Mrs. Shaw are residing on Eddie Street.

A native of Lincoln, Neb. and a journalism graduate of University of Nebraska, he took city administration graduate work at University of Kansas.

* * *

Referred to the planning commission by the council were preliminary plans for a new subdivision to be partially in the city at Decker and 14 Mile roads.

Walter Gerken is serving as guest preacher in Muskegon Sunday through Thursday, in a Preaching-Teaching-Reaching Mission in the western Michigan area sponsored by Lutheran Churches.

Teacher Aids Studying

LAKE ORION—Teachers aids, here, unique in Oakland county but among hundreds in the state aiming to "free the teacher," are taking a course from Gladys Griffiths, instructor from Central Michigan College.

Lake Orion is only county area taking part in the teacher aid program, but 26 school systems in Michigan use the plan.

With 13 teacher aids taking the 12 to 15 week course, they are being joined by several elementary teachers as well.

An aid makes attendance reports, collects and accounts for money collected in the school, copys information on record books, puts items on the blackboard, operates audio-visual equipment, supervises children in cafeterias, and in playgrounds, and operates room libraries.

* * *

Republicans Say Farm Revolt Overrated

Democrats Bet Oklahoma Drought Will Switch Ike Votes

(Editor's Note: This is another article in a series by AP's political reporters surveying sentiment in key states.)

By ARTHUR EDSON

KINGFISHER, Okla. (AP)—Will A. Struck, who farms 480 acres of wheat land hard hit by drought, leaned on the front fender of a parked car and readily expressed his political sentiments.

* * *

"I'm mad," Struck said.

So, although he voted for Dwight D. Eisenhower for president in 1952, this time Struck said, he will switch to the Democrats and Adlai E. Stevenson.

"My wheat crop," Struck said, "wasn't worth a damn. Haven't had a good crop since 1952. Between Ike and the dry weather they're going to bust us poor old farmers."

In 1952, Eisenhower carried this normally Democratic state by 517,045 votes to Stevenson's 430,939.

The Democrats are betting that the dry prairies and the hill country have enough discontented farmers to move Oklahoma's eight electoral votes over to Stevenson.

Republicans say the farm revolt is overrated. Anyway, they're betting on big majorities in Oklahoma City and Tulsa, where Eisenhower four years ago rolled up a formidable 52,000 - vote advantage.

* * *

Saunter around Kingfisher—pop. 3,345—and you get a different idea of the complexities of the farm problem than you had in Washington.

Leon Whitaker, a young man who used to farm here but now works for a drilling company in Buffalo, Okla., was talking with Eldin Baker, an insurance man.

"I tried farming seven years," Whitaker said, "but everything was against me. I had to quit. One farmer can't live on a quarter section of land 160 acres—any more and make a living. I know. I tried."

"Plenty of others have found out the same thing," Baker said.

Dry weather plus comparatively poor prices, Baker said, have whittled the population of Kingfisher County from 28,000 to 12,700 since 1948. Many farmers who remain make a living only by driving 44 miles into Oklahoma City to work.

* * *

Yet neither blames the administration for the farmers' plight. Both voted for Eisenhower, and will do so again.

This is wheat country. To the south, around El Reno, you run into country that also produces cotton, alfalfa, corn—and other farm problems.

Glen Brown, called "Chick" because he runs a hatchery, was saying:

"You know, every time a farm is sold around here, it's added on to another farm. The little farmer is moving away, to Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Dallas. It ruins the small businessman like me."

* * *

Brown is an Eisenhower man, and no matter what the farm situation may be, "I don't see how they're going to get Ike out of there."

But A. G. Guth, who sells farm machinery, reports: "The Democrats who voted for Eisenhower are talking quite a bit about going back."

Wilson Harvey, a Negro who has retired from carpentry, plans to vote for Eisenhower again. He doesn't think times are too good, "but there's just so much a president can do. And old Ike did a pretty good job of stopping that war."

Further south, in Democratic territory, E. P. Wilkinson tells you he's sure farmers who voted for Eisenhower four years ago won't do so again. Wilkinson, a Democrat, feeds 3,000 hogs at Apache.

Now a shift in scenery, north of Tulsa through Oologah, Talala and into Nowata. Cattle country here, with handsome herds standing around ponds so dry they look like overgrown mud puddles.

Dick Hanigan, who sells home appliances, doesn't plan to change his vote. "I don't see why," he said, "after having a kid in Korea."

* * *

He then brought up a subject rarely mentioned in the Southwest, Eisenhower's health. "Personally," Hanigan said, "I think it would have been smarter to turn the old man out to pasture." Even so, he's 100 per cent for Eisenhower.

At the feed store Bill Whitford brought up an issue that has been on front pages in Oklahoma recently.

At Wagoner, during a contested primary election between two Democrats, charges were made that absentee ballots were used loosely and that campaign workers were paid in relief checks.

Whitford, a strong pro-Eisenhower man, figures that what many newspapers call "the Wagoner vote scandal" will hurt the Democrats badly.

At a filling station James Gatewood said he tends to vote Democratic, but he hasn't made up his mind about Nov. 6.

"A few around here say they don't want Stevenson because he's divorced," Gatewood said, "but I say if we're going to follow that line we are going to cut a lot of people out of office."

Council Asks for Letters Requesting Release of 11

The Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Men through Daniel F. Foley Jr. of New Hudson is spearheading a campaign to get Americans held in China freed. Foley supplies the following information, taken from Tertiary News:

* * *

"Father Harold W. Rigney, SVD, who has recently been released from the Chinese Communist's vilest jail, pleads with all of us write letters to Chairman Mao Tse-tung asking the release of thirteen Americans who are languishing in this Communist prison, (two have since been released).

"You think it will not do any good—one letter coming from an unimportant person—well, when one million letters come pouring in by air mail someone is going to take notice, even a Chinese Communist.

"Yes, Chinese Communists do not like to lose 'face' especially when you remind them of their promise of last September that these Americans, missionaries and laymen, would be released.

REMIND THEM

"In your letter do not call names or write a vicious message—that will not help. Remind the Honorable Chairman of his professed policy of leniency and his promise to release these fellow Americans.

"Identify yourself with your name, address, age, married or single, number in family, member of profession, trade, union. Remind him of his promise of September 1955 to release these men, and tell him you expect him to keep his word.

"Be sure to send the letter Air Mail—25c postage. This will be more effective and will show that you, 'a member of the downtrodden American Proletariat', can well afford the amount—25c—which is paid a Chinese stenographer or carpenter for several hours work. He won't see your letter, but someone will and there surely will be action when one million letters of this sort come in. Get others to write also.

"ADDRESS: Chairman Mao Tse-tung, Peking, China. Please write this letter now. Don't put it off. Surely, if you were in this vile prison you would pray and hope that others would interest themselves in your behalf. Pray and act now. Then write to Fr. Rigney, SVD, Chicago, Ill., telling him you wrote Mao Tse-tung."

Rude Awakening

Promote Good Will

HALIFAX (AP) — Leo Dolan, head of the Federal Tourist Bureau, told a service club meeting here that service clubs do more to promote good relations between countries than all the speeches of diplomats.

Expect 7 Million to Participate in Youth Week

WASHINGTON — Seven million Catholic youths throughout the nation and at military installations overseas are expected to take part in the sixth annual observance of National Catholic Youth week from Oct. 28 to Nov. 4.

Msgr. Joseph E. Schieder, director of the Youth Dept., NCWC, announced here the week will be built around the theme "Trust in Youth."

Msgr. Schieder described the celebration as telescoping into one week the vast youth program functioning year-round under Catholic auspices.

Events which are given special attention are the Catholic Youth Communion Sunday Oct. 28, held annually on the opening day of Youth week, and the Communion crusade which begins with Youth week.

The National Council of Catholic Youth, sponsor of the observance, has arranged a promotion kit of posters, scripts and instructional materials.

PONTIAC Federal SAVINGS

Here's the Inside Story on America's Fast-Growing Financial Institution . . . Your Savings and Loan Association

PERHAPS YOU ONLY HAVE your foot on the bottom rung of the ladder. Maybe you've finally reached the top after years of hard work. Or it might be you were born with the proverbial silver spoon and never worked a day in your life. Nevertheless, all of you have something in common . . . an interest in MONEY! And you probably already know that money can be a "sometime" thing, unless a part of it is saved wisely.

We say, "wisely" because saving itself isn't any guarantee of security. If you look into the matter, you'll find that when it comes to saving money, one place is NOT "just as good as another!" For instance, a cookie jar or mattress affords no safety. Any financial institution would be better. But . . . do you know that your Savings and Loan Association affords safety, earnings and convenience seldom equalled yy other types of institutions accepting savings.

Do you know that one out of every three or four families in the country today is saving money in a Savings and Loan Association? Do you know that one out of every three families who mortgaged a town or suburban home last year borrowed the money from a Savings and Loan Association? In fact, the amount of money saved with our type of institution has been increasing at a faster rate, percentage wise, than any other financial institution.

New Post Office Is Good News for Pontiac

All Pontiac residents will welcome the news that the city is to have a new Post Office.

DEAN

The present building long has been completely inadequate. Crowded conditions have greatly handicapped the Postal employes and their work has been slowed up. This has been particularly true as additional workers have been required to handle the heavier volume of mail. The present building will be retained as a downtown branch and finance section.

★ ★ ★

The site chosen by Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean on the south side of West Huron Street, between Chippewa Road and Genesee Avenue marks another big step in the development of that area. Mr. Dean said he had been unable to find a downtown site with sufficient room for both the proposed building and the parking area needed. The new location is preferable.

★ ★ ★

Federal approval of the new building came as a result of strenuous efforts on the part of State Senator William S. Broomfield and Congressman George A. Dondero. Throughout the long negotiations and discussion of plans, they had the hearty cooperation of Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

★ ★ ★

Crowded conditions in the present Post Office were called to the public and official attention in a series of articles appearing in The Pontiac Press last winter. The campaign to secure the new building followed.

Completion of the new Post Office sometime next year was indicated Thursday by Mr. Summerfield. In view of the great need, it is to be hoped such a completion date can be met.

Ike Wisely Blocks Sale of Historic Ellis Island

A revealing sidelight on how President Eisenhower keeps the Nation's interests foremost in mind is contained in a report of his action blocking the sale of historic Ellis Island.

The Government bought this island, one mile off New York, from that State for $10,000 in 1808. Enlarged by fills to its present size of 27½ acres, it recently was appraised at $6,300,000.

In 1890 when the tide of immigration reached 5,000 a day, it was converted into the country's main immigration processing base and was so used until 1954. During those years more than 15,000,000 new citizens entered the United States there. For them Ellis Island symbolized the gateway to a new life and new opportunities in free America.

★ ★ ★

News that the Government had advertised the island for sale resulted in a flood of protests pouring in on the White House. Last week, says U. S. News & World Report, the President, citing the island's sentimental attachment to countless Americans, ordered the sale held up.

We think the President's decision was the right one and will be applauded by the people. Moreover, it clears the way for consideration by Congress of several proposals for the island's future.

Among other things it has been proposed that it be made a national shrine or a museum of racial origins. Some New York City officials want to use it as a clinic for alcoholics or a home for elderly men and women. A U. S. hospital for drug addicts also is being proposed. Undoubtedly further recommendations will be presented to the next Congress.

Certainly, it seems wiser that the island be put to some such use than that title to so valuable a piece of real estate be relinquished by our Government.

City Approves New Bids for Fire Station

Approval of new bids for a west side fire station is good news for residents of this big area of the city. First bids were turned down because of the excessive cost.

★ ★ ★

For years fire stations on the north side of the city have had the added responsibility of protecting property on the whole west side of Pontiac. No huge loss has resulted, but there was always the possibility that big fires might occur in each area at the same time.

★ ★ ★

Even more acute was the disadvantage faced in even small fires from the added start each could get because of the distance the fire fighting equipment had to travel from the north side stations. Building of the proposed new station at West Huron and Genesee will fill a real need.

Must Money Be Pledged to Get State Jobs?

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—Like nearly all election year arguments about campaign contributions, the one focusing on Department of State branch managers gets pretty involved.

★ ★ ★

The Legislative Audit and Appropriations Committee has established beyond doubt—from the mouths of the contributors themselves under oath—that some political money-giving has been going on.

Two witnesses at a hearing this week, both branch managers appointed in January 1955 who afterwards resigned, testified that they were expected to give at the rate of 10 per cent.

That is, 10 per cent of fees collected for selling auto license plates and performing certain other transactions.

Other testimony along similar lines was received. No witness yet has said, however, that he gave money to the official who appointed him.

QUESTION REMAINS

But the underlying question, the one that really goes to the point, is whether these or other branch managers were required to contribute as a condition of employment—or as a result of heavy pressures applied after they were hired.

★ ★ ★

The answer seems to need either more testimony or some conclusion-drawing.

Secretary of State James M. Hare says flatly, and has all along, that, "neither I nor my office have ever required a contribution as a condition of employment."

Hare, a Democrat who says he is running his re-election campaign on a shoestring, talks with pride of refraining from putting the bite on his branch managers.

RAPS PREDECESSOR

He says his Republican predecessor took in more than two-thirds of his campaigning money in one year from branch managers.

★ ★ ★

The patronage system presupposes that recipients of political favors will return the compliment, either through hard and effective political endeavor or through contributions.

If the branch managers freely, out of an understanding of this political device, gave to their parties, then few politicians would have any serious quarrel with what has been going on.

But if it's a matter of an elected public officer saying in effect "give me money and I'll give you a job," it's a horse of another color. It's selling public jobs.

World-Wide Communion Sunday

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Sunday, Oct. 7 for the 17th time, Protestants around the world join in the demonstration of Christian unity known as World-Wide Communion. In every country, Christians will go to their churches today to receive the sacrament of Holy Communion.

This does not mean "Joint" or "union" services. Nor does it mean that all Christians must have the same beliefs about the sacrament. That is not the point. The point is that on this one day each in his own church—cathedral or country chapel—and each according to his own forms and doctrines will be responding to the Lord's invitation, "Do this in remembrance of me." Before such unanimity of purpose differences fade, barriers are wiped out, and Christians both see and show to others their oneness in a world-wide fellowship.

In every participating church an effort will be made to enable every member to receive the communion. For the sick, aged, and for all who are confined to their homes or to institutions, plans will be made to take the sacrament to them wherever they are.

The National Council of Churches, sponsoring body in America, regards World-Wide Communion Sunday as one of the spiritual high points of the year in the local church, ranking it along with Easter in importance. It is observed each year on the first Sunday in October.

CHRISTIAN COURTESAN

The legend of Thais, the beautiful courtesan, has produced both a great novel and a great opera. The story is that in the fourth century in Egypt there was a most attractive woman named Thais, who, though she had been brought up a Christian, drifted away from the faith and engaged in a life of prostitution, an occupation that brought her both wealth and renown.

An aged hermit by the name of Paphnutius, having heard of the wayward lady, went to talk with her. So effective were his admonitions that Thais burst into tears of repentance and asked for three hours in which to settle her affairs. After this, she said, she would be willing to obey whatever orders the old man might have for her.

She then spent the three hours piling all her wealth, clothing, and jewelry in the street and burning it up, all the while inviting the crowd that gathered around (many of whom were clients of hers) to join her in penitence. Paphnutius took her to a convent and sealed her in a cell never to be opened, where she existed for three years on bread and water. After three years Paphnutius deemed that her penance was sufficient and he allowed her to come out and mingle with the nuns. She died, however, within 15 days.

This legend has satisfied the Greek church, which honors Thais in its calendar Monday, but the Roman church has never canonized her.

In the novel "Thais," by Anatole France, Paphnutius is represented as a young man who converts Thais and sends her to the convent, but at the same time falls in love with her and is miserable without her. The opera, by Massenet, follows much the same line.

COLUMBUS DAY

The religious implications of Columbus Day are quite secondary, and yet they cannot and should not be ignored. Friday is, of course, the anniversary (the 464th) of the landing of Christopher Columbus on the West Indian island of San Salvador and the opening of the New World.

There was nothing of a religious character about that landing, but the commemoration of it has from the first contained a highly spirited element — partly, one supposes, because Columbus Day celebrations are especially dear to the Italians in America, and Italian festivals are flavored with the life of the church; partly because today is a big day for the Catholic men's Knights of Columbus. The day, with its masses and porcessions, has come to have, by reflection, the status of a church day.

Columbus Day was first observed in 1792 — the 300th anniversary of the landing — by The Columbian Society (Tammany) at New York. It is now a legal holiday in more than two-thirds of the states.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Claims Calcicaps Improved Teeth

I wish to thank you for helping me keep my teeth with the daily use of calcicaps. Haven't had a cavity for the past four years. Formerly had at least one new one every time I visited the dentist. (S. P.)

Answer—Anyway, the daily ration of calcium and vitamin D did you no harm. I'm afraid not many dentists, as yet, believe calcium metabolism continues in the teeth after they are fully developed. Learn more about it from Volumette 1 of the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health, Save Your Teeth, for which send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

When I was able ot get Diluted Talbot's Solution, it seemed to be of much benefit to my gum condition, but druggists here refuse to sell it without a prescription . . . (C. O.)

Answer—Maybe your physician or dentist would give you a prescription for Glycerite of Iodin and Zinc Iodid. (N. F.) Instructions for use of the solution are given on p. 48 of Save Your Teeth, for which send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope. So-called pyorrhea is not a disease amenable to a specific remedy or treatment. It is physical degeneration of jawbone, tooth sockets, gums, teeth, due to lifelong nutritional deficiency.

Helped our family for years to cope with many distressing situations. Now having a deuce of a time with allergy . . . (I. H.)

* * *

Answer—Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet on Allergy.

Our baby bangs his head against his crib or playpen. We never heard anything like it. Will it injure his brain? (K. M.)

Answer. — No. Lots of normal babies do so. If you are afraid of injury, pad crib or playpen and let him bang away until he learns some other way of having fun or passing the time.

My son is studying medicine at University of ———. I find he is being taught little or nothing about nutrition, preventive medicine. I hope he will absorb some of the "horse sense" from your Pocket Cyclopedia of Health, for which I inclose $7.50. (R. M. C.)

Answer—I hope your son will write me, when he receives his degree, and tell me confidentially what he thinks of my teachings. It might prove worth his while to do so.

This year I began well in advance of the season eating my daily ration of CaD and I have had less trouble than in any preceding season. I thank you for all the help you have given me. . . (Mrs. C. H. B.)

Answer — Instructions in Hay Fever pamphlet, available on written request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

City Residents Comment About Various Issues

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The statement that Truman "must be on the needle" is asinine. Admittedly, Truman is inclined to be dogmatic. He did threaten to punch a music critic, and he did call a well-known columnist a nasty name. He has been known to be fleccely loyal to his friends, who undoubtedly didn't merit his loyalty. These are all human faults which prove the humanness of a man who has never made a claim on sainthood.

However, he won't be remembered by these quirks, but rather for some of the most momentous and difficult decisions in history. He will be known for putting the Marshall Plan into effect, keeping many countries from going Communistic. What a mockery the U. N. would have been had Communists been allowed to overrun Korea.

I have always respected, and I teach my children to respect, the President of the United States regardless of what party he belongs to. I like Ike but I'm voting for Stevenson, but I don't expect calamity if Eisenhower is re-elected. No matter who wins, I have confidence in this great land and its future.

An Adopted American

I would like to appeal to the Christian men and women of all faiths to study whom they vote for. Will it be the President, who is a good Christian man, or shall it be the side that chooses to use truth so lightly?

Do you think a man who hasn't been able to run his own household should be intrusted with our nation? I am a Democrat, but I choose to have a man skilled in war to lead my people in this day of the atomic bomb. We can't be too careful, and we need his skill.

I'm not one bit interested in a party that chooses to treat truth lightly as well as creating wars to make good times. I appeal to Christian men and women to study Psalms 21 and 89 and I'm sure it shall guide them in the way they should vote.

An Ex-Democrat

Women should be promised proper representation in high places, both in politics and in business. There should be a cabinet post representing women. Since there are more women stockholders than men, women should be promised directorships on various boards.

Everytime I hear the words "temporary insanity" I don't know whether to laugh or cry. It makes no difference what the crime is, you can always plead temporarily insane.

Before long our children, caught raiding the cookie jar, will claim to be insane, temporarily, of course. Criminals sometimes are supposed to have split personalities. Well, don't we all, in one way or another? You can be the most wonderful person in the world, but when you lose your temper, personality number two shows up.

What guarantee do we have that persons pardoned in this way will not have an insane personality pop out again? I will pray as a mother that when this happens my children will be far away from them.

I would like to comment on the article signed "Clean Up Elvis Club" which appeared. To the writer of that small, but low, poem, why didn't you sign your name?

To that trashy poem, man, whoever taught you that jive must have been out of his head. Please leave poems to the poet. As for Elvis, I think he's the most, to say the least, and I'm sure many teenagers agree with me.

This is just a friendly reminder to some of our city policemen. Go back to your law books. I'm just a new driver, but even I know it's against the law to make a right hand turn from a left hand lane.

If that comes under the law of improper usage of lanes, how about paying a ticket of $7.00? Citizens do. Things like this are very confusing to a new driver.

Citizen

I am asking for the person or persons responsible for the flock of ducks on Cooley Lake to please take them home. Keep them on your own lake front. Beach and ground near the water's edge are a foul smelling mess. I have heard many persons ask who owns them, but no one seems to know. I am going to dispose of them unless they are kept from my beach and lawn.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Bible Vetoes Church Monopoly

There are many branches of the Catholic Church, as well as of Protestant denominations. And all of them do good. But if any clergyman upsets the faith of a devout Christian, could he fall into the category which Jesus indicts in Mark 9:42? Read that verse in your Catholic and Protestant Bibles and ponder it seriously.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-384: Hannah J., aged 27, is a very devout church member.

"Dr. Crane, I am sometimes puzzled and uncertain because we have so many different religious sects," she began.

"Wouldn't it be better if we had but one church in America?"

ANTI-TRUST LAWS

Well, if that were true, Uncle Sam would probably institute an anti-trust suit to break up the monopoly.

At least, he should if he were consistent. For Uncle Sam has decided that it isn't in the best interests of all our people for a monopoly to exist in manufacturing or the oil industry or even the hotel business.

And if competition is thus deemed so valuable to our total welfare in all those fields, why not in religion?

Would it be wise for us to have a single political party, such as Russia offered its citizens, wherein you have no choice?

* * *

Our government doesn't even believe in monopoly regarding our schools, so lets various churches operate their parochial schools in competition with the public school system.

JESUS VETOED MONOPOLY

Look into your Bibles (Catholic and Protestant) and read Mark 9:38-40. John had found a new preacher who was casting out devils in Christ's name, yet this strange clergyman was not a member of the inner circle of 12 Apostles.

So John told Christ, "We forbade him, because he followed not us."

But Jesus said, "Forbid him not."

* * *

That means obviously that Christ did not wish to limit clergymen to his little group of 12 Apostles, but admitted anybody into his clerical ranks who offered hope to the discouraged and healed the sick in the name of Jesus.

Now there are certain religious zealots of various sects who claim they exert a monopoly on Christ's teachings and power, so maybe you'd like to read another enlightening passage (Mark 9:41):

"For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in my name . . . shall not lose his reward."

In my wide experience with the clergy of all denominations, I find most of them very worthy followers of Christ, but I have seen some clerical egotists who will doubtless shovel coal in Hades for a long time to atone for the following crime against children and teenagers (Acts 9:42):

"And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea."

CLERGY BEWARE

She had accepted Christ and been a devoted member of her local church for three years. Then she attended a revival service with a friend. The speaker was dynamic and almost hypnotic.

* * *

He told the audience that all their relatives who had not been baptized according to his method, were burning eternally in Hell and would remain so.

This sincere Christian girl had buried her mother six months earlier, and the mother had not been baptized by this evangelist's special method, so the girl was crushed.

Read that last Bible quotation from Jesus and see if you think this evangelist has offended one of Christ's little ones.

Jesus didn't want clergymen to upset the religious faith of devout believers and Christ said so in plain language, as the above quotation shows.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Couple Wed in Dearborn Church Rite

A wedding trip to the West Indies was chosen by Margaret Marie Marria and William James DeGrace who were married this morning at Our Lady of Grace Church, Dearborn.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew E. Marria of Dearborn, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Carolyn H. DeGrace of Monroe street.

For the 10 o'clock Nuptial Mass, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin and Chantilly lace, and carried a bouquet of white cymbidium orchids and shattered carnations.

Garnet red velveteen dresses were worn by Ann C. Wolff of Detroit, maid of honor; and bridesmaids Mary Ann Nikiel of Dearborn and Anne Ingalls of Detroit, cousin of the bridegroom.

Best man for the ceremony was James Martin. Ushers were Don Williams of Central Michigan College, Jack Fitzgerald, and Leon Lackey and Don Lumsden of Royal Oak.

The bride's mother wore an aqua gown of lace with pearl gray accessories, and Mrs. DeGrace chose a lace dress in dust rose with brown accessories. Both wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

Church of the Advent Auxiliary Plans Fair

The Women's Auxiliary of the Church of the Advent met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Clarence Suhr. Mrs. John Wigel led the devotions and a discussion, taken from the address of Everett H. Jones, "His Witnessing Community," the theme of the Christian education program for the auxiliary this season.

* * *

Plans were discussed for the fall fair Nov. 14 at Holiday House. Mrs. Hugh MacDuff and Mrs. Wigel will attend the North Oakland Convocation in Royal Oak, Monday, at St. John Church.

* * *

Theme of the Monday meeting is "Recovery of Family Life." Mrs. MacDuff and Mrs. Wigel will serve as discussion leaders.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha Plans Rush Party

Alpha Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority met Thursday evening at the YWCA. Mrs. Ben Sweeney conducted the business meeting.

* * *

The group voted a contribution to the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, and plans were made for a rush party to be held Oct. 11 at the Avondale drive home of Mrs. Rudy Mazza.

* * *

Mrs. Anthony Grand, ways and means chairman, announced a money-making project to be held Saturday. A model meeting is scheduled for Oct. 18 at the YWCA.

Coming Events

Group Six, OES, will meet Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Earle Welch, 62 N. Johnson Ave.

Lucky 13 Club will meet Monday at the home of Mrs. Rose Deem on 57 Sheridan street.

Forget me-not Birthday Club will meet with Mrs. Bert Downey, 70 Mariva St. Tuesday with a noon cooperative luncheon.

Pouring tea at the bridge party held at the Patterson home on Hammond Lake was (left) Mrs. Walter K. Willman. Others assisting were (right) Mrs. Herbert J. Wettlaufer and Mrs. Donald Smith. Other members who opened their homes Friday for bridge parties for the Carol Brooks Section were Mrs. Robert B. Oliver, Mrs. Bruce J. Annett, Mrs. Milo J. Cross and Mrs. George H. Crane.

Scandinavian Motifs

Sure to win the young man's fancy are warm, bulky-knit sweaters in gay Scandinavian patterns, a colorful year in knitwear, a year to branch away from the traditional in a warm, comfortable wool sweater combining bright colors.

The rounded crew neck may be as popular this year as the V-neck, but the biggest style news for boys is in rich patterns and the bulkier, more open stitching.

Keep Hands in Graceful Position

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

When our hands are busy we never think of them, but they are a problem to many women and men, too, when sitting, standing or walking.

We see people everywhere standing to talk with their arms folded over their chest or stomach, or with one arm akimbo on a hip. If you cross your arms over your tummy, sitting or standing, you are glamour-sunk at any age and any weight.

Overweight people seem to have a greater tendency to this position, probably because they are conscious of a protruding abdomen.

We often see overweight women with their hands clasped beneath their abdomens. This gives the impression of trying to hold up the George Washington Bridge. Arms crossed over the chest is a better pose—but not the best by a long shot.

The simplest and best solution seems to be to stand erectly with your arms hanging at your sides in a relaxed manner. Your thumbs should touch your side seams with your palms turned inward toward your body. This is the "movie way."

There is another position which is quite graceful if it is relaxed and comes naturally to you. Clasp your hands loosely behind your back and lift your chest, your waistline and your chin (slightly).

NATURAL GRACE

There is another possibility. If you are a relaxed person with a certain natural grace you probably will place your hands in an attractive position when you sit. This will no doubt be one arm on each arm of the chair, or one hand on the other in your lap.

When you walk let your arms swing in a relaxed manner. The right arm moves forward as you step forward with the left foot and vice versa.

Avoid a piston-like movement of the arms. Some people swing their arms so vigorously that they appear to be propelled along by them.

If a pad of fat on your abdomen is making you self-conscious, you may want my tested abdominal reducing exercises which will decrease that measurement a few inches in a few weeks' time. If so send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Italian Influence in Sports Styles

NEW YORK—Italian sportswear has had great influence on the leisure clothes of this country, an influence that has sifted down to children's clothes.

In miniature, the brilliant stripings and gay colorings of Italian sports styles lend themselves very well to children's designs.

And in this country, of course, we do them in fabrics with a tendency to take wear, to stand up under rough-and-tumble play and lots of hard knocks.

Young mothers read hang-tags on children's clothes carefully. They like to know that a fabric is color-fast, that it resists soil, that it won't wrinkle or fray easily.

At a cocktail party and dinner Friday evening at their home, Mr. and Mrs. George Wellington Smith of Franklin Village announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to David Arpin Brennan of Detroit. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rowland E. Brennan of Evanston, Ill.

Elegance Is Keynote of Fall Separates

NEW YORK (NEA)—This fall's air of elegance in ready-to-wear has spread to separates.

* * *

There was a time when the term separates almost automatically meant casual clothes. Later, it came to include evening separates.

* * *

For fall, however, daytime separates may mean sweater and skirt but scarcely an outfit in which to ramble around the countryside.

Men's Sportshirt Had Hard Climb to '56 Popularity

Men's sportshirt popularity was hard won. Its beginning were in the original polo shirt which, with color, marked one team of horsemen from its rival. In 1927 an American man's wear manufacturer who had been making polo shirts for an Army team in the west decided to adapt the polo shirt idea, calling it a sportshirt.

* * *

Today, one of the nation's largest manufacturers recalls the contemptuous sales resistance met by these new sportshirts. They were called "glorified undershirts" by most of the nation's retailers.

* * *

Slowly the new item of apparel inched its way up into popularity. The nation's top golf pros began to wear them in tournament play. And by the middle of the 1930's the public created a bustling demand for them.

Little-Girl Togs Repeat Fabrics in Mom's Styles

Tweeds are important in grown-up fashions. In mixtures of black-and-white, brown-and-white, royal blue-and-black, they appear in collections of nearly all American and Parisian designers.

Corduroy, appearing in every high-fashion color this fall, comes in prints, stripes and plaids also.

Pillows, Comforters Are Easy to Wash

Comforters and pillows filled with acrilan are every bit as launderable as cotton sheets and are a boon to persons with allergy. Lint-free and mothproof acrilan-filled quilted comforters and pillows do not mat, but remain fluffy and bouyant through washing.

These warm, lightweight comforters and pillows, which come in pretty floral patterns printed on acetate crepe, are easy on the budget fortunately, frequent laundering in medium hot water with soap or detergent suds keeps bedding sweet-smelling and healthful as well.

Very nice: hot applesauce and hot buttered crumbs, folded into a fluffy omelet.

Princess Sheath Features Chic Two-Way Overskirt

Jo Copeland with her knowing way of dressing a woman with taste and distinction designed this princess sheath with a tie-on overskirt to enhance its effectiveness and add mileage to its wearability.

With thoughtful accessorizing, you can achieve two completely different appearances, and the apron may be worn over other sheaths.

Easy to make, since the custom cut and accurately perforated pattern saves time, money and tempers, the dress works up beautifully in novelty width fabric, peau de soie, taffeta, faille, ottoman, or any material with body to make the overskirt stand away. From this chart select the one size best for you:

10	34	24	33	16½
12	36	26	36	16¾
14	38½	28½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17¼
18	40	30	41	17½

Size 12 requires 5⅞ yards of 39 inch material for dress. To order Pattern No. 1281, state size; enclose $1. Address American Designer Patterns, P.O. Box 535, G.P.O. Dept. P-6, New York 1, N.Y. Classic Pattern Booklet No. 12 and all new Pattern Booklet No. 13-X —50c each. If paid by check add 4c.

Drama, Excitement in California Styles

"Exciting" and "elegant" are two words that describe their collection, designed to be the spark that touches off a mood of gaiety in the social rounds soon to come.

In this holiday mood are floating skirts of organza and chiffon for drifting and dreaming...in heavenly misty colors. Fragile blouses, intriguing as shadows, are dramatically underscored with black velvet. Silk and satin, gold and glitter appear everywhere on this scene of festive flattery.

Don't cling to a dress that isn't becoming but is too "good" to throw out. Far better to give it to someone to whom it will be flattering.

For the price of 2 clothesline hooks* you can dry 2 loads of laundry in an electric clothes dryer. And you'll never have to hang heavy wet wash on the line again. Smart and thrifty homemakers know how to...

Zontians Hear Karl D. Bailey

Karl D. Bailey, of the County Cooperative Extension Service, spoke at the noon luncheon of the Zonta Club at the Hotel Waldron Thursday.

Bailey showed slides of his recent visit to the Yucutan. Besides his background in agriculture, Bailey collects ancient skulls for both the University of Michigan and Michigan State Univesity.

In speaking of the Yucutan, he emphasized the rapid progress being made there and in Mexico, but also showed pictures of the ancient ruins. He was introduced by Mrs. Chad Mellinger, program chairman.

Chintz Making Home Comeback

* * *

* * *

Housewives are using the material for curtains, draperies, and boudoir chairs, especially in rooms furnished in a revival of the Early American style. It is also being used to an increasing extent for slipcovers.

* * *

Chintz, named from a Hindu word which means "spotted," is now made by impregnating cotton print cloth with chemicals which create a permanent glazed surface; it is roller printed with gay figures or floral designs.

* * *

Chintz is one of many fabrics which give cotton the overwhelming leadership in home furnishings; some 67 per cent of all household textiles are made of cotton.

With an eye to comfort, this year's skiwear borrows heavily from European styling and colors. All-wool Scandinavian sweater has red turtle-neck, multi-color designs on white background. Tapered ski pants are beige gabardine. Red and white knit ski cap is sharp departure from visor styles of past seasons.

Chance Words Are Cue to Job Plan

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Some people seem to think that their destiny ought to be made clear to them in one blinding flash of light, or from the words of a wise counselor, or at some specific time and place. But I believe our best insights come at the most unusual times.

I know a young lady who got her inspiration from a satisfying part time job while she was snapping beans and watching television —which would seem to be a rather unlikely time.

Jenny lived in a large middle-western city. She was the youngest of a large family and had been left at home to take care of her aging parents who were supported by her brothers and sisters.

She was an excellent housekeeper and liked to mend, darn and press. And it is just as well she did. Without the mending and pressing her meager wardrobe would have looked pretty shabby.

LED LONELY LIFE

Hers was a rather lonely existence. Television was almost her only contact with the outside world. And, as young girls will, she dreamed of living in a world where she would meet celebrities.

One day when she was snapping the beans for dinner and watching her favorite mistress of ceremonies on television, the commentator remarked that she wondered what had become of the lady's maid.

She went on to say that her own days were so filled with her job, she didn't have time to take care of her clothes.

Jenny decided there must be a good number of busy women celebrities who needed someone to mend, press, wash and iron for them.

She ran a small ad in the two largest newspapers in her city, offering to be a lady's maid for a busy celebrity for three hours each day. Sure enough it worked.

She now has a job which interests her, gives her contact with the world of celebrities and some extra money to spend on herself.

If you want a part time job and are bemoaning your fate because you don't have any skills, think about the seeming hopelessness of Jenny's situation and remember it can be done.

If you would like to have my "Pointers on Finding a Part Time Job" send a stamped self - addressed envelope to me in care of The Pontiac Press and I will be glad to send you a copy.

Home Means Familiar Surroundings, Treasures

Children Get Lot of Security Living in Same Neighborhood, Atmosphere

"We never intend to move out of this house," a father of two small children recently remarked.

And then he went on to explain why he felt so strongly that a family should have a lifetime home.

* * *

"I think children get a lot of security from 'staying put' and calling one house home. I also think that when our children are grown our home will continue to mean something to them and they'll want to come back to it if it is the home in which they grew up."

That's quite a different idea from the one so many young couples have today. The popular idea seems to be that the way to give our children the most is to keep moving from one neighborhood to one a little "better"—meaning that the houses are newer and larger.

So in many families today, home ownership becomes like car ownership.

The family is proud of its home only so long as it is new and shiny and its gadgets are the very latest. As soon as it begins to show its age and houses go up with newer gimmicks, the family is dissatisfied.

OLD OBJECTS TREASURES

The same thing holds true for the furnishings of a house. In many homes today there is nothing which has enough sentimental value that it couldn't be replaced by a newer model.

I'm sure this is a mistake. For when I go back to my own mother's home for a visit it is not the new things in her house that make it feel as if I am coming home.

It is the big, old, square rosewood piano, one of the first carried across the mountains by wagon team into Virginia, that greets me like an old friend. The oval mirror above was carved by hand no one knows how many years ago. Mother has loved and cared for it since it came into her keeping and this mirror also means "home."

* * *

The old pieces of China and glass that mother has loved and protected and is holding in trust for her children have a warmth and meaning that no pieces of modern art could ever have for us as a family.

* * *

It isn't the newest gadgets that make a home. It's the familiar things that have meaningful associations for each member of a family.

Metropolitan Club Auxiliary Meets

Ladies Auxiliary to the Metropolitan Club, Spirit Six, met Tuesday evening at the American Legion Hall. Mrs. Harry B. Randall and Mrs. James Yeager were hostesses. Mrs. Lawrence Lyons was a guest of the group.

* * *

Plans were made for a money-making project to be held in November.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 16 at the American Legion Hall.

Children No Problem

Visiting in Norway with children is no problem. Aside from an American school, the Norwegian capital features community baby sitters. The sitter is called a "park aunt" and is trained to take care of tots in city parks daily from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Youngsters can also be sent to the Tomm Murstad ski school in the hills above the city where they learn a bit of Alpine agility for four kroner or 56 cents a lesson.

TODAY...:Oct. 6th Is National Newspaper Boy Day

15 Year Old
DAVE MacDONALD
- 411 Elizabeth Lake Rd.

We Salute The More Than 850 Young Men Who Are Pontiac Press Carriers

Their newspaper route puts them out front in experience. The boy who delivers the Pontiac Press to your home is an independent contractor, in business for himself. His deliveries and collections teach him business methods. He finds the sure rewards for promptness, courtesy and initiative, readying him for a brighter future.

Such characteristics of good citizenship are developed through the vital service of newspaper boys to the entire nation: Their part in keeping the public informed. For this they are being honored today.

The Pontiac Press is proud of its fine carrier organization. Here's best wishes to all of the boys on THEIR DAY and every day of the year.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

2 Communion Hours Sunday

Parents of Pioneers and Tuxis Will Attend Joint Meeting

World-wide Communion Sunday will be observed Oct. 7 at First Presbyterian Church with Communion services at 9:30 and 11:00 a.m. The Rev. Edward D. Auchard will deliver the Communion Meditation at the early service and the Rev. Galen E. Hershey at the 11:00 a.m. service.

Dr. William H. Marbach will lead the services of worship and welcome a class of new members into the church.

Sunday evening at 5:30 the young people of the Church have invited their parents and adult friends to attend a joint meeting of Pioneers and Tuxis.

Reports will be presented from Junior High Camp, and from Senior High and Older Young People's Conferences at Greenville, this past summer.

There will also be reports on the Junior High and Senior High retreats held at Youth Island in White Lake under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. Galen Hershey.

Refreshments will be provided by the Women's Association of the church under the direction of Mrs. Robert Boggs.

The pastors of First Presbyterian Church will be represented on Friday at the Pastors' Conference on Counseling sponsored by the Presbytery of Detroit to be held at the Drayton Avenue Presbyterian Church in Ferndale.

LEAVING FOR DESTINATION UNKNOWN — The Youth Group of the Five Points Community Church meets every Sunday evening at the church, 3411 E. Walton boulevard, for Bible Study at 5:30. After taking part in the worship service from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. they meet in front of the church. Here cars and a bus are waiting to take them to "Destination Unknown." Sponsors of the group take turns in planning an after-church snack party. During the summer, they were taken to parks and lakes for hamburger frys. Presently they are being taken to homes or halls where they sing, play games and are served refreshments. The all age youth group helps their pastor in the Sunday School and church work. The membership numbers around 50.

Salvation Army to Hear Guest Speakers, Music

Major and Mrs. William L. Kautz, divisional secretary for the Eastern Michigan Division, will be at the Salvation Army tomorrow.

They will speak at all the services, beginning with Sunday School at 9:45 a.m.; then the Holiness Meeting at 11 a.m.; the Young People's Group at 6 p.m., followed by the Open Air Meeting at 7 o'clock and the Salvation Service at 7:30.

The special music will include both instrumental and vocal with everyone joining in the singing.

Oakland Park Joins World Rite

Youth Group to Seek Gifts for Share Our Surplus Program

The Oakland Park Methodist Church will observe World-Wide Communion Sunday, tomorrow. The Rev. James W. Deeg has chosen to speak on "That the World May Believe."

Sunday evening the Youth Fellowship of the Senior High age group will hear a tape recording of the Methodist Church in Southport, England with the Rev. Sinclair Walker speaking.

The group exchanges recordings with the young people in the Southport church. Sunday evening they will meet in the home of Virginia Hoover, 256 E. Wilson Ave. and answer and ask questions about our way of living. This will be recorded and sent to their English friends.

The group will see the film "Matter of Fact." and study the CROP program of Share Our Surplus.

On Halloween Eve instead of begging for themselves, the Junior and Senior High group will participate in giving their 'Trick or Treat' to the Surplus organization.

First Congregational Observes Communion

The First Congregational Church will observe World Wide Communion Sunday at 10:30 tomorrow morning. New members will be received into the church fellowship at this time.

The Pontiac School of Religion which begins Monday evening at 7:30 will hold the study courses in the Sunday School class rooms. The school which is interdenominational will be held every Monday night for six consecutive weeks.

Dr. Tom Malone Plans Meetings

Evangelists to Preach Oct. 7-14 at Emmanuel Baptist Church

Dr. Tom Malone will be in charge of the evangelistic meetings to be held nightly in the Emmanuel Baptist Church Oct. 7 to 14th. Dr. B. R. Lakin, pastor and evangelist, will preach at the 7:30 evening services.

Dr. Lakin was pastor at the Cadle Tabernacle in Indianapolis, Ind., for many years, has traveled through the Bible lands and for years conducted a daily radio ministry over WLW of Cincinnati.

Doug and Mary Scott will be singing gospel songs and favorite hymns. They will be heard as soloists and in duets. The Gospelaires Quartet and large chorus choir of Emmanuel Baptist will also be heard.

The Preachers' Conference will be held Thursday, with services beginning at 10 a.m. and lasting through the 7:30 evening meeting.

Dr. John R. Rice, evangelist and author will be guest speaker. He has just returned from Japan and Korea where he spoke to pastors, missionaries and natives.

Luncheon will be served at noon to the preachers and delegates.

Columbia university, founded in 1754, first bore the name of King's college. That was changed to Columbia college in 1784 and assumed its present official designation in 1896.

Two Identical Services Scheduled at Central

World-Wide Communion Sunday will be celebrated at two identical services in the Central Methodist Church. One at 8:30 a.m.; the other will be at 10:45 a.m.

A special offering will be received for relief of the suffering and needy and for work with the young people in the armed services.

Pastor Will Preach Communion Sunday

World-wide Communion will be observed tomorrow morning at the 10:00 a.m. worship service of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Theodore R. Allebach will preach on the theme, "Lovest Thou Me?"

The choir, under the leadership of William Cotfing, director, and Mrs. Winifred Perrin, organist, will sing two anthems.

The Communion will be served by the following elders of the church: Marion Brown, William Cadman, Guy Caswell, Fred Froede, Gerald Griffith, Dallas Haun, Walter Hill, Alex McAllister, Robert McCormack, Orval Robb, Eldon Powley, Gerald Schultz, C. W. Seaman, Earl Shepherd, Leon Verwey, and Howard Webb.

Protestantism— KEY TO Democracy

The Protestant Reformers chose to express themselves, rather than to be subdued by the error which had crept into the church organization of their day. In so doing they brought about a break with the totalitarian practices of church government which had gained control in the affairs of the state. The Bible teaching that "the just shall live by faith" was rediscovered. (Romans 1:17)

Ever since the days of the Reformation, Protestantism has been the cornerstone of democracy. Protestants recognize differences of opinion. Yet Bible-believing Protestants are united in their recognition of the Bible as the supreme authority in spiritual matters.

American history has developed side by side with Protestant ideals of democracy. A look at world geography today reveals that it is Protestant countries which are not plagued with dictatorships.

The freedom which is known in democracy can be traced directly to the life of Jesus Christ. Jesus stressed the value of the individual soul and its responsibility directly to God. To carry out that responsibility the individual must be free. Jesus emphasized the equality of men in the sight of God. Also, it was through the death of Jesus that freedom from the tyranny of sin was purchased. The Bible, speaking of Jesus, says, "If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." (John 8: 36)

Jesus Christ died on Calvary to purchase freedom—freedom from sin and its consequences. Bible-believing Protestants are united in their recognition of this fact. They are also united in their belief that the functions of the Church and the functions of the State were meant to be separate. Jesus said, "Render therefore unto Caesar the things which be Caesar's, and unto God the things which be God's." (Luke 20: 25)

Perhaps you would like to know more about this question of true freedom, salvation through Jesus Christ, and about Protestantism's doctrine of "Separation of Church and State." If so, send for a FREE pamphlet on the subject by simply filling in and mailing the following:

DEDICATED SUNDAY—The new church of St. Paul Lutheran located at Third and Joslyn avenues, will be dedicated tomorrow. Built of cinder block and brick with stone trim, it will seat nearly 500. Services will be held throughout the day and evening with guest pastors, choir directors and organists assisting with the sermons and music. Plans were drawn by Merritt and Cole and the church was constructed by Maurice V. Rogers of Detroit. The Rev. George Mahder is the pastor.

Classes Begin 7:30 P. M. Oct. 8

Course Offered Weekly in First Congregational Church

Classes will start at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the First Congregational Church for the Pontiac School of Religion. Courses are fully accredited by denominational boards and the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches.

Mrs. George Gaches who will teach the class on "How to Appreciate and Use Church Music" is well known here in both civic and church groups.

She was born in Adrian and attended Michigan State University. For the last 18 years she has resided in Pontiac and is a member of the First Congregational Church.

Mrs. Gaches studied music with Kenneth Aiken, Mrs. Shirley Poole and F. Dudleigh Vernor.

Her course will offer a history and an analysis of Hymnology. There will be a discussion of gospel songs and their place in worship. An evaluation of music in Christian Education will also be included.

A special course, "How to Live With Yourself" will be taught by Dr. Wallace F. Watt, educational consultant with the Michigan Department of Mental Health.

* * *

His class will include many phases of mental health, will assist parents with the moral and spiritual training of their children and show how we are often directed by unconscious motivation. He will stress the importance of self knowledge beginning with early childhood and of religion.

Three Festive Services Scheduled

The St. Paul Lutheran Church of Fourth and Joslyn avenues will have its dedication services in the new church at Third and Joslyn avenues Sunday.

The Valedictory service which will begin in the old church at 10:15 a.m. will be conducted by Rev. George Mahder, pastor.

The congregation will leave the old church and march to the new church in the following order: the architect, builder, building committee, the pastors and then the elders bearing the Bible, service books and sacred vessels.

After the Blessing at the entrance by the Rev. Mr. Mahder, the builder will hand the keys to the architect who will give them to the pastor.

The chairman of the building committee will cut the ribbon and the minister will present the keys to the chairman of the congregation who will unlock the doors. The congregation will then enter the new church for the dedication service.

The Rev. Edwin C. Weber, pastor of St. Mathews Lutheran Church of Fraser, will deliver the dedication sermon. Paul McMichael will direct the choir with Mrs. Emil Hagen at the organ.

The Festival service will start at 3 p.m. with Karen Lanpher, organist, and Mr. McMichael, choir director.

The Festival sermon will be given by the Rev. Herbert B. Fehner, who has been pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church of Monroe the last 22 years. The Senior Choir will sing "Holy, Holy, Holy" and "Fortress of the Faithful." The Junior Choir will sing "Built on the Rock."

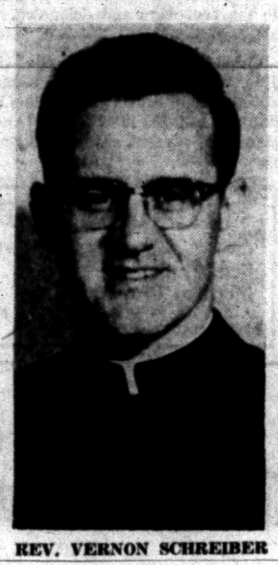

The Choral Vesper will begin at 7:30 with the choirs of the four Lutheran Churches—Missouri Synod participating. Paul F. Stohlman of St. Trinity, John Quitmeyer of Grace Lutheran, Clarence Mahrle of Cedar Crest and Paul McMichael of St. Paul, will be directing. The organists will be John Quitmeyer and Mrs. Hagen.

Erhardt W. Hitzeman, director of music at the Zion Lutheran Church, Bay City, will play 10 special selections as guest organist.

The Rev. Vernon Schreiber, pastor of the Berea Lutheran Church of Detroit will preach the Vesper Hour sermon.

The St. Paul Lutheran Church was dedicated Feb. 12, 1950 as a mission church of the Missouri-Synod with the Rev. Harold Nuoffer, the first pastor. The group was organized with 50 charter members.

The present pastor, the Rev. George Mahder, was installed in April 26, 1953 coming here from Arcadia. Under his guidance the congregation has grown to around 280 communicant members with 250 children enrolled in the Sunday School.

REV. VERNON SCHREIBER

REV. HERBERT B. FEHNER

St. Paul Lutheran, Gothic in architecture, is constructed of cinder block and face brick with stone trim. The ceiling is of the open-truss type. The focal point in the chancel is the altar adorned with fitting symbols.

All furnishing and woodwork are of solid oak stained in natural tones. The chancel is covered with green carpet, while the nave and narthex are covered with asphalt tile.

All windows in the nave and overflow room are colorful stained glass. The seating capacity of the church is estimated at 435. The heating throughout is a hot water convector system.

The basement has a large fellowship hall, a spacious kitchen, cloak room, choir, boiler and rest rooms.

The total cost of the building with furnishings will be $210,000. The church is being financed by the Michigan Extension Fund.

Groundbreaking services were held in October 1955 and the cornerstone was laid April 1, 1956.

The dedication dinner will be served from 12-2:30 p. m. and a buffet supper from 4:30-6:30 p.m. Mrs. Paul McMichael is general chairman of the dinner with co-chairman, Mrs. June McMahan, Mrs. M. L. Lorenzon Jr. and Mrs. William Fisher.

A free will offering will be taken at the dinners which will go into the building fund.

Kirk Young People to Hike, Cook in Park

All Protestant young people, both single and married, between the ages of 18 and 40 are invited to meet at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Kirk in the Hills for a hike and outdoor supper.

The group will hike and cook their supper on the outdoor stoves with Carolyn Kyes acting as chairman of the event.

Ernest Nathan, a member of the Kirk, will speak to the young people on Oct. 14 at 8:15 p.m. Refreshments will follow.

Further meeting will be announced at a later date.

50 Countries to Participate

20-Year-Old Service Gaining in Popularity Annually

Overflow congregations are expected to fill U. S. churches Sunday as they join with Christians of more than 50 other countries in the 17th annual observance of World Wide Communion.

* * *

Starting with services in the Fiji Islands and New Zealand on the other side of the international dateline and continuing westward with the sun throughout the day to the far ouposts of the Western Hemisphere, the observances will give global testimony to the unity of the common faith shared by Christians of the world.

Services in the majority of U.S. churches will launch intensive campaigns of several weeks duration to recruit members and strengthen the ties of old members. Most scheduled preparatory services in the preceding week and provide communion to shut-ins and others unable to attend formal services.

"Each year this event becomes more meaningful," the Rev. Berlyn V. Farris, executive director of the Joint Department of Evangelism of the National Council of Churches, said in announcing this year's plans.

SHOW OFF UNITY

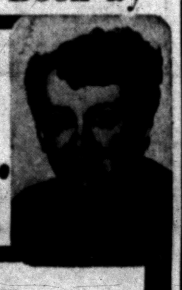

"On this day the churches in every nation join in a demonstration of unity. The cup, the bread, the prayers and sermons wipe out barriers and bring Christians together in the true sense of church unity," he said.

"For half the world," he commented, "this is the autumn season; for the other half it is spring — but wherever it may be, Christian people will meet at the table of our Lord. In ancient cathedrals, thatch-roofed chapels and city churches, the same service will be observed. Orders of worship may vary, but in reality Christians are 'one in Christ' at this time as at no other."

World Wide Communion Sunday was started in 1936 by a small group of ministers of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

EARLY WILL I SEEK THEE

Journal of a Heart that Longed and Found

Introduction by Mrs. Billy Graham

From her own spiritual struggles and victories, Eugenia Price provides a step-by-step guide to a new, happy, complete life. Her autobiography, The Burden Is Light!, tells how she found such a life beyond the empty fame and fortune of her early worldly success. Now—for believer and skeptic alike—Eugenia Price outlines the way to Oneness with Jesus Christ, the way to peace.

'As a Man Thinketh' Subject of Sermon

Sunday at 11 o'clock, the Unity Church of Oakland County will hold its regular morning worship service. The leader, Mrs. Blanche Joki, will speak on "As a Man Thinketh." Sunday School will be held at the same time.

Thursday at 7:30 p.m. a class will meet for study of the book, "Let There Be Light," by Elizabeth Sand Turner. Mrs. Joki will be in the church rooms from 1 to 5 for consultation.

Through error it was announced last week that the study book would be "How to Let God Help You."

Rev. Dr. R. O. Hall, Bishop of Hong Kong, is reported there to have been invited to go to China to preach. He will be the first missionary to be allowed to preach in China "since the Iron Curtain came down," it was stated.

COMING IN ON A PRAYER AND A SONG — Frank Rand of Lanette street who has made 24 trips to Labrador is shown in his tent there shortly after an adventure with swordfish. Mr. Rand found a lost gold mine while on a fishing trip to Labrador in 1932. He had been given the map to the mine by his maternal grandfather, one time magistrate in Nova Scotia. He has returned year after year and staked claims covering more than 1,000 acres.

2 Missionaries Closing Sunday

Mrs. W. S. Martin From British West Africa to Speak, Show Curios

The Missionary Meetings being held in the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, 178 Green St. (near Orchard Lake Ave.) will come to a close Sunday.

Two missionaries are scheduled to speak, Mrs. W. S. Martin from British West Africa and the Rev. Russell Kauffman, pastor and evangelist of Indianapolis, Ind.

Mrs. Martin first went to Africa in 1924 and has completed five terms of service devoted to teaching, translation and pioneer evangelism.

She was a member of the committee who translated the New Testament into the Bambara language and is now working on the Old Testament.

During their last term, Mr. and Mrs. Martin engaged in work among two new tribes, the Samogo and the Pana, hitherto unevangelized. Mrs. Martin has some curios and a costume to display but will not be showing slides or films.

The Rev. Mr. Kauffman has been pastor of the Alliance Church in Indianapolis since 1945. At that time the missionary giving in the church was $2,900.

It has increased to $80,000 this year and will be used entirely for foreign missions. The church is supporting 28 missionaries and partially helps 15 others.

Services will be as follows: Sunday School, 9:45 a.m.; worship service at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.; and Young People's Meeting will be at 6:15 p.m.

The annual pledge offering will be received Sunday.

Communion Sunday Will Be Observed

World Wide Communion will be observed at Bethany Baptist Church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning with the Rev. Richard W. Cummings of Detroit preaching the sermon. The board of deacons will assist with the Communon.

The Rev. Mr. Cummings, executive sercetary of the Detroit Missionary Society, was born in Burma of missionary parents.

In 1953, he visited all the mission fields in Burma and India under the American Baptist Missionary Board.

DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Church Guild Sponsors Peale

Noted Preacher Slated to Speak Nov. 8 and 9 in Birmingham

Sponsored by St. Anne's Guild of St. James Episcopal Church Birmingham, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, pastor, theologian and writer every Saturday for The Pontiac Press, will be speaking Nov. 8 and 9 in the Birmingham theater.

Only season tickets are available for the lecture course with a price of $10 on the series.

About 900 tickets have already been sold for Thursday and only a few are left for Friday. The theater will seat around 1,360.

Other speakers on the series include Marquis Childs on Oct. 18—19; Albert Bekker and Edith Atwater on Dec. 6 and 7; Dr. Ralp Lapp, Jan. 10 and 11; Dr. Robert Collier Page, Jan. 24 and 25 and Carleton Smith, Feb. 7 and 8.

8th Anniversary to Be Observed

Rev. T. Walter Harris, Founder and Pastor to Preach

The Providence Missionary Baptist Church will celebrate its 8th anniversary from Oct. 7-29.

The Rev. T. Walter Harris, founder and pastor of the church, will preach at 11 tomorrow morning on "The Christian Church and the Branches." His text will be John 15:2.

The Church of God in Christ will be guests at Providence at 3:30 p.m. Sunday with Bishop C. J. Johnson preaching the sermon.

Cora Milton will be leader of the Young People's Group at 6 p.m. and the Rev. H. D. Williams will be speaking at the 7:30 p.m. service. Mrs. Georgia Chaunalt will be in charge of the ushers.

At 8 p.m. Monday, the congregation of Liberty Baptist Church will be guests with the pastor, the Rev. S. M. Edwards, giving the sermon. Thomas Bessent will be in charge.

Tuesday at 8 p.m. the Rev. Ford B. Reed will preach with members of his church, New Hope Baptist, guests. Mrs. Clemmer Lee Page and Walter James will be chairman.

Making plans to visit Providence Missionary Baptist on Wednesday evening at 8 are Mrs. Arbutis Brica and Sylvester Hatter who are representing New Bethel Baptist Church. The Rev. William H. Bell is scheduled to speak.

Christian Men's Club to See 'Martyred Men'

Mrs. T. Edward McCully Jr. of Pontiac whose husband was one of the missionaries, and Mr. McCully's father are in the cast.

Choirs to Sing Sunday

The City-Wide Choir Union will present the monthly program at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in Trinity Baptist Church.

Mrs. Lee Atrice Stewart is president of the choir and Mrs. Anna Mae Murray, the director. The public is invited.

Eve Has Mixed Emotions as Miss Brooks Departs

By BOB THOMAS

* * *

After four successful seasons, "Our Miss Brooks" has faded from the Friday night programming. She is coming back on reruns, appearing five times weekly on CBS-TV daytimes.

* * *

"After four years, I've had it," she sighed on one of her infrequent trips into town from her Hidden Valley ranch. "I think we went about as far as we could go with the show—perhaps even a little farther.

"I might have been more enthusiastic about going on if we hadn't had such a hassle last season. It was a mess. First of all, they started to change the format. I argued against it, but they went ahead anyway.

* * *

"Much of the time we didn't know what we were doing. The casting didn't work out right. There were last minute changes. We lost our writer, Al Lewis, because of an argument with another writer."

She admitted she did have some regrets about leaving the show.

"I grew rather fond of Miss Brooks," she reflected. "After all, she has been very good to me."

Eve will be able to keep her ranch in chickens for a long time since she'll be collecting on the re-runs of the show. But she won't remain idle.

"I'm still under exclusive contract to CBS," she said. "I have three months to come up with the pilot film for a new series. It's largely a matter of finding the right writers and then the right casting."

School Bus Drivers Told to Slow Down

LANSING (AP) — State school officials have sent a special warning to school superintendents to watch for speeders among school bus drivers.

"We've had an increasing number of complaints that these bus drivers are going too fast—sometimes 70 and 75 m.p.h." said Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction.

"There is no special speed limit for school buses. They can go 65 m.p.h. during the day legally. But we feel these buses just shouldn't go that fast," Taylor said.

The warning, included in the department's weekly newsletter to school officials, recommended 45 as a safe speed.

Germania Society

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Three hundred members of the Germania Society of Saginaw will attend today's football classic between Michigan and Michigan State.

The society, celebrating its 100th anniversary, will be saluted by the Michigan Marching Band during the pre-game show. The band will form a huge "G" inside a shield at the center of the field.

102 Million Old Enough to Vote Nov. 6

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Census Bureau estimates 102,743,000 U.S. civilians will be old enough to vote Nov. 6.

This does not include about 2,100,000 servicemen of voting age.

In November, 1952, some 98,133,000 civilians were of voting age. The increase in four years is about 4,600,000.

Women of voting age, estimated at 53,652,000 for 1956, will outnumber men by more than 4½ million although about half this difference is accounted for by servicemen.

The total vote in the 1952 presidential election was 61,552,000, or 62.7 per cent of those eligible.

The bureau pointed out many people do not vote and many others cannot because they have not met state requirements on citizenship, residence, registration or payment of poll taxes.

A change in dimensions in the Henry Ford Museum at Dearborn, Mich., is being made to accommodate the huge Chesapeake and Ohio steam locomotive recently presented. It is 11 feet 2 inches wide, and 16 feet 5½ inches high.

Mayor Goes to Jail for Contempt of Court

CHICAGO (UP)—The Mayor of a suburban village is in jail for contempt of court and the judge who jailed him says he won't get out until he signs payroll checks for expenses in a special election.

Herbert C. Polchow, 40, mayor of Chicago Ridge, sent to jail yesterday by Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher, said: "I'll rot in jail before I pay those expenses. It was not a legal election. I'll definitely stay in jail until the next election for mayor next April if necessary."

Soap Box Derby Champ Wins on Shoestring

The lad advanced to the finals of the annual soap box derby, but part of his car's mechanism broke. Builder Ralph May tied the broken part with his shoestring and Rickey took the 310-foot event with a two foot lead.

Yanks Get 'Bums' Rush', 13-8; Move to Home Field

NEW YORK (AP) — Shocked by their worst mauling in 25 years of World Series competition, the pitching-poor New York Yankees banked their chopped-up championship hopes today on the left arm of Whitey Ford, and the right about turn to their own park, spacious Yankee Stadium.

Brooklyn's devasting 13 - 8 slaughter of a Series record number of seven Yankee pitchers yesterday marked the first time since 1922 that any team has swept the first two games from the haughty Yankees.

That year the Giants won 4 straight from the Yanks, one game ending in a 3-3 tie because of darkness.

Should righthander Roger Craig, Manager Walter Alston's pitching nominee for the third game, carry on the Dodgers' streak, it is highly possible that another four-game sweep will engulf the Yankees, for Sal Maglie, the Cinderella man, may have his 39-year-old arm all oiled up on Sunday.

* * *

Ford appears to be Casey Stengel's last real hope. The little lefty, who was battered by the Brooks in the Series opener but who defeated the Dodgers twice last year —both times in Yankee Stadium — must win in order to get the Yankees back in the running. Stengel knows this better than anyone. That's why he decided to pitch his No. 1 man despite only a two-day rest.

"No use holding Ford back any longer," Casey muttered in the quiet of the losers' clubhouse after they had suffered their worst humiliation in any Fall classic. "He should be ready. He didn't pitch much in the first game and he got that day of rain."

Whitey, 19-6 during the regular season, lasted only three innings last Wednesday, allowing six hits and five runs, including two home runs.

Afterwards, Jackie Robinson said of the southpaw: "No one can tell me there's nothing wrong with Ford. He didn't look right. He had no fast ball at all."

Ford had some back trouble during the season but says the condition has cleared.

This was Craig's second Series assignment. He started the fifth game in 1955 and was credited with the victory although he lasted only six innings. His season record was 12-11.

A banner crowd of some 64,000 was expected to attend the first game in the American League club's park. The weatherman predicted a sunny afternoon with the temperature about 65 degrees.

Brooklyn's two convincing triumphs have caused the price-makers to make a switch in the odds. The Dodgers are now 13 to 5 favorite to win the Series. The Yankees had opened an 8 to 5 choice. For today's game, the Yankees ruled a 7 to 5 choice.

An Ebbets Field throng of 36,217 yesterday saw the Yankees blow an early 6-0 lead after kayoing 27-game winner Don Newcombe. Yogi Berra's grand slam homer was the big blow.

Not since the 1929 Philadelphia Athletics came from behind an 8-0 deficit to defeat the Chicago White Sox 10-8 did any club dissipate such a huge Series lead.

Cards Meet Giants

Full Slate in NFL Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four of the surprise claimants to the National Football League crown clash this weekend in battles that should separate the likely rulers and the early-season pretenders.

Sunday two of the leaders in the Eastern Division, the New York Giants and the Chicago Cardinals meet in Chicago.

The Cards bring the amazing toe of Pat Summerall into the meeting with the Giants, who easily outscored the San Francisco's 49ers in their opener, 38-21. Summerall booted three field goals to score all the Chicago points as the Cards upset the league champion Cleveland Browns, 9-7. The Giants led by fullback Mel Triplett, who accounted for three touchdowns against the 49ers should provide the answer to the question—are the Browns weak or the Cards improved?

The rest of the Saturday schedule lines up like this: Cleveland moves into Pittsburgh, which surprised the Washington Redskins under a 30-13 onslaught. Washington is at Philadelphia, which bowed to the Rams, 27-7 last week.

Tomorrow the Rams meet their coast rival at San Francisco in what should be a test of air power versus running power. The Rams made good use of Norm Van Brocklin and second-string quarter Bill Wade to outdistance the Eagles while the 49ers base their attack more along the ground.

Bayer Has 3-Stroke Lead in Tournament

EL CAJON, Calif. (AP)—Starting the second half of the $15,000 San Diego Open Golf Tournament, George Bayer of Grossinger, N.Y., held a 3-stroke lead today with 131, 13 under par for the Singing Hills Course.

* * *

Bayer, former Washington University tackle, had a 66 yesterday, 6 under par, to go with his opening day card of 65.

Mike Souchak, also of Grossinger, and one time Duke University end, was second with 134. He had a 67 yesterday to match his opening round.

* * *

Paul Runyan of La Jolla, Calif., Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, and Don January of Lampasas, Tex., tied for third with 135.

Mrs. Downey Golf Chairman at Forest Lake

Mrs. Russell M. Downey was elected as the new golf chairman by the ladies at a Forest Lake Country Club luncheon yesterday.

Other flight winners included Mrs. Charles C. Curry, Jr., Mrs. L. Donald Collier and Mrs. Alfred R. Waters all of Birmingham.

In the 9-hole round play, Mrs. Robert J. Walls of Biringham and Mrs. Watson F. Kinney, and Mrs. Howard T. Germonprez both of Farmington received awards.

Oxford Edges Ortonville 11

After losing a 13-7 decision to Milford in its season opener, Oxford's football team has been specializing in winning the close ones.

The Wildcats scored 6-0 victories over North Branch and Millington on successive Fridays. Last night they got up off the floor to nip Ortonville, 7-6, for their 3rd straight South Central Conference triumph.

Oxford claimed victory with only two minutes and 35 seconds of game time remaining. Quarterback Bob Harrison, who sparkplugs the Wildcat offense, bootlegged nine yards for the touchdown, then bucked over for the all-important extra point.

Ortonville, whose unbeaten skein came to an abrupt halt, scored in the 2nd quarter on a 40-yard pass from Ed Hungerford to Bill Sallivich. The conversion attempt was blocked.

Yankee Hurling Crumbles

NEW YORK (AP)—What has happened to Yankee pitching?

The once proud mound staff which played a big role in the Yankees' one-sided conquest of the American League has crumbled before the Dodgers' heavy artillery like the targets of an atom bomb.

In the first two games of the World Series, lost 6-3 and 13-8 by the Yanks, eight of Manager Casey Stengel's 10-man pitching staff, went to the firing line. Only Bob Turley escaped unscathed.

"They never faced such a sustained attack as the Dodgers produce," said a ranking National League official.

A glance at the box scores show the Yankee hurlers have issued 13 bases on balls, 11 of them in yesterday's game for a Series one-game record. Along with the walks have come 21 Dodger hits and 19 runs. The combined earned run average of the eight pitchers is 6.75—not exactly what you would expect from a championship club.

Whitey Ford, pounded from the box in the first game after yielding six hits and five runs in three innings, comes back today in the first game at more spacious Yankee Stadium in an effort to get the American Leaguers back in the won column.

* * *

Only Bob Grim, who never has measured up to the promise he showed as a freshman in 1954, and the seldom-used Rip Coleman, a southpaw, have not been employed by Stengel. Bob Turley impressed Stengel enough in pitching hitless ball for 1 1-3 innings in two games that he may get the call in Sunday's game.

All of the others—starter Don Larsen, Johnny Kucks, Tommy Byrne, Tom Sturdivant, Tom Morgan, and Mickey McDermott — were given the works as Duke Snider and Gil Hodges led the 12-hit attack.

DeMarco Back in Good Grace After Warning

NEW YORK (INS) — Former lightweight boxing champion Paddy DeMarco was back in good standing today, but with a stiff warning from New York State Athletic Association Commission chairman Julius Helfand to be more careful of his associates.

* * *

De Marco, who reigned as 135-pound champion from June to November, 1954, winning and losing the title in bouts with Jimmy Carter, was suspended two weeks ago for giving false testimony about his connection with Jimmy Napoli, possessor of a long police record.

Helfand, who accused De Marco of letting Napoli act as his undercover manager, said he was reinstating the fighter because of his "unblemished record."

Houston Leads in Dixie

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The Dixie Series teams traveled back to Atlanta today with the Houston Buffs of the Texas League holding a 3-2 lead in the series and able to close it out by winning tonight.

The Buffs beat Atlanta of the Southern Assn. 5-0 last night on a 4-hit pitching job by Bob Mabe, who fanned 12 Crackers.

Advised Against Playing Ball

Bessent Once a Yank

NEW YORK (AP)—Don Bessent, the kid pitcher the New York Yankees forgot about and one doctors advised should never play ball again, took his place today alongside Sal Maglie, Gil Hodges and Duke Snider as one of Brooklyn's brightest World Series stars.

Were it not for a serious back injury that required a delicate spinal fusion operation, Bessent might have been wearing a Yankee uniform in this Series.

But as a Dodger, the bespectacled 25-year-old Jacksonville, Fla., righthander, turned back the Yankees with six hits and only two runs in seven finely pitched relief innings yesterday to win his first World Series game in the Dodgers' 13-8 victory.

Five years ago Bessent was one of the most promising pitching prospects in the Yankee chain. He was on his way to the top after winning 22 games at LaGrange, Ga., in 1950, and 11 out of 13 for Norfolk, Va., in a half season in 1951.

But something happened in the playoffs in 1951 that changed Bessent's entire career. He slipped off the mound, injured his back and was sent home. Two weeks later, trying to get out of bed he threw one leg over the other—and they locked. He was so helpless, his mother and sister had to help him off the bed.

Brought to a Baltimore hospital, Bessent underwent an operation that required 3½ hours. He was flat on his back for seven weeks and a convalescent for 10 months.

"I never thought I'd pitch again," said Bessent as he recalled those agonizing months in bed, unable at times to lift his head for even a drink of water. "But I had enough determination to give it a battle.

"The following summer, after I had licked the illness and was with St. Paul, I was hospitalized with muscle spasms in my back. A doctor in an Indianapolis hospital warned me to give up pitching. I was stubborn, I guess. I refused to believe him."

It was on the recommendation of Leon Hamilton, the scout who originally had signed him for the Yankees and then had transferred allegiance to the Dodgers, that the Brooks decided to take a gamble on Don. For the modest investment of $4,500, they drafted him for their St. Paul Farm in the American Assn. from the Yankees' Binghamton Eastern League affiliate.

Belmont Tops Turf Runs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The big money on the American turf today is at Belmont Park where eight veteran campaigners meet in $50,000 added Manhattan Handicap and thirteen 2-year-old fillies in the $25,000 added Matron.

The mile and one-half of the Manhattan is headed by such consistant runners as the Maine Chance's Jet Action and Thinking Cap from the Christiana Stable. If all of the overnight entries go postward the race will gross $55,700 with the winner taking down $37,600.

The Matron, a 6-furlong sprint down the Widener Straightaway, has a gross value of $59,855 on the basis of 13 starters with $43,520 earmarked for the winner. Expected to draw the heaviest support at the betting windows are Jets Charm, stablemate of Jet Action; John S. Kroese's Marullah, C. V. Whitney's Defilade and Mrs. Woody Stephens' Lucky Mistake.

Marlene Bauer Fires 9-Under

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Marlene Bauer Hagge of Grossinger, N.Y., appeared well on her way today toward setting a new women's record for golf tournaments won in a single year.

She's won eight so far this year and needs nine to turn the trick. In the first round of the second annual Heart of America women's invitational yesterday she fired a nine-under-women's-par 67 to take a two-stroke lead on the field. That set a new women's record for the 6,605-yard Hillcrest Country Club layout.

Defending champion Marilynn Smith of Wichita, Kan., could do no better than a two-over-par 78. Nan Berry of Quincy, Ill., was the low amateur at 80.

Washington Eleven Victor at Rochester

Bob Sheppard tallied on a 5-yard plunge in the 3rd and John Roush went the same distance for the 2nd counter in the 4th. Tim Patterson's 40-yard pass-and-run in the 1st period was nullified by an offside penalty.

Avondale Harriers Lose

Despite a 1st place finish by Avondale's ace runner, Dick Hutchinson, the Jackets were defeated by Milford yesterday afternoon, 23-40, in a dual cross-country meet at Milford.

Timberdoodle Fun!

Woodcock Give Fine Sport

BY JACK PATTERSON

LOVELLS — Friday has surely been the finest day of 1956. Not a cloud in the sky from 20-odd degree sunrise through a warm, pleasant day to a bright and cool sunset. Weatherwise it was perfect. Shooting-wise it was something less than that, but still a very satisfactory day.

After we left the gang at Cheboygan we set a base course for the projected reunion with brothers Dick and Bob Patterson at Lovells. We had little difficulty in locating Bob's car on what passes up here for a secondary road.

We put in an hour of rough going in the toughest cover we've run into yet, listening all the while to the distant ring of gunfire beyond the hills. Gunfire which we presently learned, when Bob and Dick and Glenn Sprague joined us, had done little to reduce the current partridge crop.

Having previously committed ourselves in print to the doctrine that when grouse numbers are down woodcock are up, we suggested an easy afternoon search in light cover for long bills.

* * *

Searching for timberdoodles, we eventually stumbled into a lodge meeting of half the entire woodcock tribe. The shooting was brisk there for a while. What's more, now and then a bird lost the desire to fly during the heavy bombardment and before we were through a respectable number of recently deceased bog owls graced the game bag.

* * *

One of the nicer memories was snaking a bird from under Bob's gun before Bob, who is 10 years our junior, could unleash a shot.

* * *

If time permits, we plan to get over to Sleepy Hollow to give fellow members Bob Nelson, Bob Glenn, Ross Thompson and Ed Barrett some badly-needed pointers on grouse shooting.

Summing up we would say that there are as many birds as last year in most areas, more in some.

Four Series Records Set in 13-8 Affair

BROOKLYN (AP)—The second of the World Series yesterday, won by the Dodgers 13-8, produced four World Series records and two ties.

Records broken:

Longest game by time, nine innings—3:26 (Old record 3:19 held by Dodgers and Yankees, Oct. 5, 1947).

Most pitchers, one club—7, by Yankees (Broke record of 6 held by six teams).

Most bases on balls, one club, game—11, by Dodgers off Yankee pitchers (Broke record of 10 held by five teams).

Most home runs, total series, National League player, by Duke Snider, Dodgers—10 in five series (Extended own record).

Records tied:

Most runs, inning, both clubs—11, by Yankees (5) and Dodgers (6) in second inning (Tied record held by Athletics and Cubs, Oct. 12, 1929, seventh inning).

Most pitchers, game, both clubs—10, by Yankees and Dodgers (Tied record held by Yankees and Dodgers, Oct. 5, 1947).

Ike 'Agin' Move

Wants Nats to Remain

WASHINGTON (INS) — With President Eisenhower in the forefront, sports and civic leaders rallied today behind a drive to keep the Washington Senators baseball team in the nation's capital.

Responding to reports that the Senators might shift to Los Angeles in 1957, officials decided to take a closer look at plans to build an all-purpose municipal stadium, with adequate parking facilities.

A study has been underway for the past 20 years, but so far no feasible plan has been produced.

The campaign to "keep the Nats" quickened yesterday after president Calvin Griffith told the Washington Post and Times-Herald that he was considering proposals to move the franchise to Los Angeles.

Griffith has complained that parking facilities are totally inadequate around Griffith Stadium and that the club must pay the city $12,000 a year for police protection in the area.

President Eisenhower was asked at his news conference yesterday about the reported transfer. "I am agin it," he replied. Since 1912, when William Howard Taft inaugurated the custom, U.S. presidents have opened the baseball season by throwing out the first ball at Griffith Stadium.

Mikes Face Eaglets in Showdown Sunday

St. Michael and high-scoring Orchard Lake St. Mary will collide in a Suburban Catholic League showdown Sunday afternoon at Orchard Lake. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

The Shamrocks and the defending champion Eaglets are currently tied for the SCL leadership with 2-0 records. St. Mike lost a non-league test to Avondale.

St. Frederick, whose winless streak has now reached 28 games, invades Royal Oak St. Mary tomorrow to battle the Irish who have dropped three in a row this fall.

In other Suburban contests Sunday, St. James goes to St. Rita and St. Clement entertains St. Benedict. Shrine faces Mt. Carmel at Wyandotte.

Moffat Top Booter for Small Colleges

Former Pontiac High athletic ace John Moffat is booting 'em high and far at Hillsdale college this fall. Currently Moffat is leading small college punters of the nation with a 5-kick mark of 48.2 yards average. John is the 'Dales No. 2 man, behind one of last year's leaders, Bill Alinder (41.3 yards) who has a 37.5 mark in six tries so far.

Another Michigan collegian, Herb Kipke of Central Michigan, is also a small college leader for forward passing with 20 completions in 27 tries.

Grid Action Gets Heavy

'M'-MSU Tilt Heads College Card

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A couple of backyard brawls that could be highly significant in deciding national as well as regional football championships and a batch of intersectional contests that should be good gate attractions in spite of unusual pairings mark the collegiate program Saturday.

The 49th meeting between the University of Michigan and the school that used to be "the Aggies" but now is mighty Michigan State University, probably is No. 1 on a well-filled schedule. At least it's big enough to draw more than 101,000 spectators.

Then comes the 20th meeting between Duke of the Atlantic Coast Conference and its mountaineer neighbor, Tennessee. The intrastate strife between Notre Dame and Indiana might be a third game of equal importance.

The major intersectional games, many of them born in recent years as a result of the close ties between the Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conferences, include Ohio State-Stanford, Iowa-Oregon State, Wisconsin - Southern California, Washington - Illinois, California - Pittsburgh, Missouri - Southern Methodist, Northwestern - Tulane, Texas-West Virginia, Maryland-Baylor and Mississippi-Houston.

UCLA, Miami, Utah, George Washington and Denver scored victories Friday night to get the collegiate weekend under way.

UCLA capitalized on a last quarter fumble to beat Oregon 6-0 for the Bruins' 17th straight Pacific Coast Conference victory. George Washington also capitalized on miscues to upset Hardin-Simmons 13-7. Miami tumbled Boston College 27-6, Utah walloped Brigham Young 41-6 and Denver took Montana 22-13.

The importance of the Michigan State-Michigan tilt at Ann Arbor is pointed up by the fact that State's Spartans are rated second only to Oklahoma in this week's Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters and Michigan is No. 5.

Duke was somewhat deflated by South Carolina in its first game. Tennessee, with Johnny Majors at the helm, walloped Auburn and gained the No. 9 national rating. This game figures to be another close one. Duke still is tough and has beaten the Vols the last four years.

Notre Dame, upset by Southern Methodist in its opener, has had two weeks to recover and the assignment against an Indiana team which hasn't settled into stride appears comparatively easy.

Seeks Trot Honors

Nimble Colby Impressive

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Nimble Colby captured just one leg of the triple crown for 3-year-old trotters but her impressive showing on a slow track appeared sufficient to merit major consideration for horse of the year honors in this class.

The daughter of Colby Hanover from Two Gaits Farm, Indianapolis, headed into retirement today after a comeback victory in the Kentucky Futurity. She lost the first heat to Barlow Hanover in an upset.

Nimble Colby thus became the first filly to capture the tradition-rich $53,731 Futurity since Twilight Song in 1937.

The Lexington Trots crowd backed Nimble Colby to even money in Friday's Futurity, delayed one day by rain. Her times were 2:02 and 2:03 1-5 on a heavy track. Barlow Hanover was clocked in 2:04 in his winning dash.

Barlow was placed second on his finishes of 1-7-14; Bold Rodney, the season's fastest colt in 2:01, third in finishing 2-2-6 and Ego Hanover, fourth, with placings of 5-5-2.

The Intruder, upset winner in the Hambletonian, and second choice in the Futurity, finished fifth and Elton Hanover was sixth as 15 sophomores started.

Pontiac Crushed, 32-0; Vikings Rip Jays, 40-18

NIMBLE WOLF — Most outstanding job of ball toting in last night's 32-0 defeat for Pontiac was that by the dancing runner above, Bay City's 150-pound fullback, Namon Smith. Smith was snapped in a 2nd period gallop on which he had eluded several Chiefs, shown sprawled behind him. Just back of Namon is Jim Hawkins, who did a good job for the outgunned Pontiac club.

Walled Lake 11 Displays Great Power in Romp

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

You can't beat desire and the determination to win. Walled Lake had everything and more in spanking highly rated Southfield, 40-18, before nearly 4,000 fans jammed into the Viking Junior High field last night.

The Vikings put on a display of power and speed along with uncanny deception to score their 4th victory of the season and their 2nd in Inter-Lakes competition.

Powering Don Yeargan, a 170 pound junior halfback scored five touchdowns on runs of 4,20,14,23 and 32 yards with fleetfooted Frank Fink going 51 yards for the final tally.

This duet along with fullback Johnny Walker and quarterback Larry Dion ripped off a total of 438 yards rushing and passing.

Southfield's talented halfbacks Ron Brewer and Fred Rankin gathered up 153 of the 177 yards rushing between them, but the Jays could not contain the Vikings' outside attack.

Walled Lake took a quick 13-0 lead in the first period. The first score came after a 53 yard march following a Jay fumble, and when the Vikings stopped Southfield eight yards from the goal line, they took over and marched 92 yards in only 5 plays.

Highlight was a 50 yard scamper by Fink to the 20 from where Yeargen scored.

Southfield recovered a fumbled punt on the WL 5 and in two plays Rankin went over to make it 13-6. A few minutes later, in the 2nd period, Brewer took a pass from end Len Lamb and went 55 yards. A pass conversion failed and it was 13-12 at halftime.

After the kickoff Walled Lake took only four plays to go 56 yards and recapture the lead 20-18. Fink had a 27 yard dash in this series.

* * *

Fink's 51 yard scamper came two minutes later and the Jays were demoralized as the Vikings then hit for 3 TD's in the final period.

Fullback Johnny Walker did a spectacular job hitting the Jay line and also defensively, and Dion's signal calling was directed as Southfield's end play.

OVER THE TOP — Southfield's Fred Rankin (10) did a bit of hurdling over a couple of Walled Lake tacklers in their game last night at Walled Lake. The Vikings scored an impressive 40-18 win over the Jays to remain unbeaten. Rankin scored once for Southfield, which lost its first game in four starts.

Chiefs Unable to Stop Speedy Wolf Backfield

By H. GUY MOATS

An outmanned Pontiac High School football team last night fell victim to the fast, powerful ground attack of Bay City Central's Wolves, 32-0. The contest, never in doubt as to the eventual victor after the first touchdown, stunned a fair-sized audience in Wisner Stadium.

It was the opening test for both Pontiac and Bay City in Saginaw Valley Conference action and gave other Valley title contenders a strong warning that the Wolves are after the 1956 crown.

A trio of speedsters led the Wolfpack's strong running game. Little Namon Smith, one of the shiftiest (and speediest) backs in years to tear up Wisner turf was the game's bright star.

One of the state's top track dash men, Smith reeled off a total of 105 yards, or nearly half the net yardage the Wolves rolled up. He broke down the middle, cut off the outside and hip-slipped and outmaneuvered the Chief defensive men time after time. Namon was responsible for one TD.

* * *

Powerful and effective help for Smith were clever, speedy Ervin Kokaly, sophomore halfback, who accounted for the 2nd tally, Paul Stanton, third member of the running triumvirate, who scored the 3rd TD, and Terry Ebright, capable quarterback who started the touchdown parade in the first two minutes of play. Final counter was Jerry Jopke's TD dive in the last five seconds.

Chiefs never were in contention. Only once were they deep enough in Wolves' territory for a scoring hope. And on that occasion the upstaters took over on downs.

* * *

Among the bright spots of Chiefs' play was the work of Joe Hill (center), Dick Kors and Bob McDonald but the all-around defensive play of the host club never was able to cope with the stronger Wolfpack drives.

Besides the wealth of fine backs, Bay City showed a depth of line behind powerful Dick Syring and Tom Holly, big Wisconsin transfer. Syring, particularly, smashed into Chiefs' backfield, time after time, to rush runners and passers.

* * *

Bay City scored in the first two minutes, after Pontiac kicked off to Kokaly on the 37. Led by the "big three" of Smith, Stanton and Kokaly, Bay City went all the way for the TD on 10 plays. Ebright rammed over on the count from the one-foot mark.

Wolves were back at the goal-line as the period ended, but just failed to get over. But after two minutes, following Chiefs' recovery of a Smith fumble on the 14, and Poe's fine punt to midfield, they were over for the 2nd TD. Smith ran 28 yards for the marker.

Chiefs' longest sustained drive came in this period. Charley Robinson, Lonnie Humphrey, Jim Shorter and Charley Spann ran and passed to the Wolves' 21, where Bay City took over. Kokaly's tally wound up the BC drive that follower, near the end of the period. Count at the half was 19-0.

* * *

For most of the 3rd period Pontiac held Wolves away from the scoring zone. Then Stanton started the 40-yard drive that ended with his TD on a dive play, a minute and a half from the period end. Final count was Jopke's smash after a drive that started on the 36.

* * *

Indicating the overwhelming power of the Wolf runners are the totals for Kokaly (63) and Stanton (75), added to Smith's 105 yards.

Avon Falls to Lapeer

By BILL CORNWELL

Statistics don't win football games and by this time no one knows it better than Avondale High School.

Frank Crowell's Yellow Jackets, turning in their most sparkling performance of the season, fought Lapeer's vaunted offense to a semi-standstill last night at Avondale while shining offensively themselves to gain statistical superiority.

But when the smoke of battle cleared and all the shouting was over, Lapeer walked off the field with a hard-earned 14-7 victory on the strength of two touchdowns by sensational Tom Wilson.

Wilson, who reeled off 81 yards in 17 attempts for a 4.7 average, twice bolted across from the one-yard line. His 1st touchdown came with 48 seconds remaining in the 1st half and his game-winning tally was recorded with two minutes left to play.

* * *

The Panthers marched 73 yards in seven plays to grab a 7-0 lead at halftime. Quarterback Mike Carter sneaked over for the extra point after two previously muffed conversion tries were erased by offside penalties against Avondale.

Avondale, which threatened repeatedly in the second half, finally hit paydirt after two minutes and 40 seconds had elapsed in the last quarter.

Fired by the running of Sven Blomberg and the passing of Dick Gronski, the Jackets drove 58 yards in nine plays to tie the score. On 4th down, rangy end Dwight Moulton snared Gronski's seven-yard aerial in the end zone and Steve Saunders converted from placement.

Wilson both touched off and ended Lapeer's winning push. He intercepted Gronski's pass and returned it to the Panther 46. Eight plays later he scored and then wound up his night's work by booting the extra point.

* * *

The Jackets wasted two excellent opportunities in the 3rd period. Moulton dropped a pass in the end zone and a fumble lost possession on the Lapeer two-yard stripe.

Holly Whips Lakers, 19-6

An improving Holly team finally found itself last night at Keego Harbor and rolled to a 19-6 triumph over West Bloomfield in a Wayne-Oakland League game. It was Holly's 1st win of the season and the 4th consecutive loss for the Lakers.

Broncos forged into a 13-0 advantage at halftime on the strength of two sparkling runs by a pair of speedy halfbacks. Amos Bradsher rambled 17 yards in the 1st quarter and Dan O'Brien romped 24 yards in the 2nd stanza. Phil Tinsman converted from placement after the 1st touchdown.

West Bloomfield reduced the deficit to 13-6 in the 3rd quarter when halfback Alvin DuBois scampered 22 yards around right end.

Holly regained its 13-point bulge in the 4th period when Rollie Harmes smashed over from one yard out. A 32-yard pass completion set up Harmes' touchdown.

Lengthy Runs Give Milford 18-6 Win

A blocked punt and a couple of dazzling runs brought Milford an 18-6 victory ovor hard-luck Clarkston last night in a Wayne-Oakland League game at Milford. It was the Redskins' 2nd league win.

Milford's Del Munson opened the scoring with a four-yard run in the 1st quarter after Henry Combs blocked a Clarkston punt. The Wolves rebounded in the 2nd period to tie the score on an eight-yard pass from George Lang to Don Alexander.

Dan Lancaster dashed 25 yards for a touchdown to give the Redskins a 12-6 lead at halftime, then halfback Bob Kauppi galloped 89 yards for a TD in the 3rd stanza to seal the lid on Clarkston's 3rd setback of the season.

Fisher Golf Outing at Bald Mountain

New officers were named, winner of the R. J. Nichols trophy was determined and trophies for the Fisher Body Golf league season were awarded at the recent final outing at Bald Mt. Golf club.

Falcons Stop Utica, 30-7

BY CHUCK ABAIR

ROCHESTER — Rochester gave further notice it will be a team to be reckoned with in the state Class B race this year by walloping a previously unbeaten Utica eleven, 30-7, in a non-league area battle at Rochester last night.

A pulverizing ground attack and some pinpoint passing enabled Coach Gene Konley's contingent to overpower the losers from the opening whistle. It was the third straight triumph for the RHS gang.

Making their first 1956 home appearance, the Falcons wasted little time taking command of the game by turning a fumble into a touchdown in the early minutes. It was no contest the rest of the night with the victors having too many guns for the Chieftains.

* * *

Peters, who now has 39 points in three tilts, scored a pair of touchdowns and passed for another. Eldred tallied one and passed for one and Weaver went over twice.

The Falcons dominated the first half which ended 12-0. A fumble recovery at the Utica 42 got the first successful drive rolling. Peters dashed around end to score from the eight after sparking the march with runs of 26 and 10.

The second TD drive also covered 42 yards with Peters slicing over from the six-inch line.

* * *

Weaver got into the scoring act to start the last half on the neatest play of the right. He executed a perfect fake reverse, kept the ball himself, and scooted 53-yards down the sidelines to paydirt.

The 175-pounder unlimbered his pitching arm to set up the fourth six-pointer minutes later by clicking with Peters on a 41-yard pass play. Eldred scored on a short basketball pass from Peters from the four.

Utica broke into the scoring column midway through the final quarter with the Rochester lineup made up of reserves. Big fullback Lou Hasse, a vicious line smasher, paced the Chieftains to an 80-yard march to TD land with several long gains before Wayne Stewart cracked over. Hasse added the extra point.

It was a happy night for winning Coach Konley who is hoping for his fourth unbeaten team in 11 years at Rochester. "They were really keyed up for this one. It was the best they've looked this year. We've still got three tough ones to go," he commented following the tilt.

Romeo Still Unbeaten, Dragons Lose

Romeo stretched its unbeaten string to four games last night by conquering Brighton, 21-12, but Lake Orion was handed a 34-19 shocker by Clawson in Oakland B competition to provide the expected and the unexpected in county area prep action.

Aside from Orion's stunning setback favorites prevailed at little Dryden maintained unblemished record and Imlay City, New Haven, Bloomfield Hills and Troy also won as anticipated.

Ted Engdahl's Bulldogs raced into a 21-0 lead at Brighton and coasted to an easy victory. John (Scoot) Fowler galloped 65 yards in the 2nd quarter to open the scoring and Butch Dallwitz had a hand in the other two.

Dallwitz scampered 37 yards for a touchdown in the 3rd period, then passed six yards to Fran Schapman for the final TD in the same stanza. Dave Proper kicked all three extra points.

Brighton scored twice in the last quarter on nine and 12-yard passes from Herb Snyder to Ramey.

Lake Orion's hopes for an Oakland B title were severly shaken by Clawson. The Trojans gained a 14-13 lead at halftime and kept one jump ahead of the Dragons throughout the final two periods.

Orion's touchdowns were posted by Doug Storey when went 10 yards Jeff Snarey, who scooped up a Clawson fumble and raced 30 yards, and Ralph MacLachlan, and MacLachlan starred for the who rambled 50 yards. Ed Braid Dragons as they dropped their 1st decision in four starts.

An 85-yard aerial from Dave Stokes to Wayne Figley followed by Dick Kelly's one-yard thrust into pay-dirt handed Troy a 6-0 triumph over Roseville and Madison nipped Fitzgerald, 7-6, in other Oakland B games.

After being held to a scoreless deadlock at halftime, Bloomfield Hills turned on the steam to defeat Harper Woods, 19-6, for its 3rd win in four tries. Jim Kearney tallied twice on runs of 35 and four yards and Doug Danziger passed to Harlan Davis for the other.

Cranbrook suffered a 35-0 defeat at the hands of Tecumseh on the Crane field. The visitors took a 19-0 halftime lead as the Cranes were outmanned in the air and on the ground. Cranbrook is now 1-2 for the season.

After a Herb Sawgle-to-Curtis Flater pass moved the ball to the two-yard line, Willie Avery knifed over to give Dryden a 6-0 decision over North Branch.

Brilliant Orill Frantz reeled off five touchdowns with runs of 53, 38, 50, 20 and 85 yards as Imlay City walloped Millington, 37-6, while New Haven blanked Brown City, 38-0, as Gleason ran 11 yards for one TD and passed for two others.

Three touchdown aerials to Ron Emerick, Gary Ballman and Eugene Picard spear-headed East Detroit's 27-7 conquest of Hazel Park.

Skippers Stay Unbeaten, 13-7

Waterford Gains Fourth Straight by Tripping Farmington

Waterford remained in the Oakland County area's select circle of unbeaten, untied football teams by coming from behind to defeat surprising Farmington, 13-7, in an Inter-Lakes Conference game Friday night at Waterford.

The Falcons, who spent most of the evening pushing the Skippers up and down the field, stormed into a 7-0 halftime advantage with a touchdown at the three-minute mark of the 2nd quarter. Halfback Tom Koski rammed over from the two and Ray Porter kicked the extra point.

Although Farmington completely dominated play, the Falcons could never muster enough drive to hit pay-dirt again.

Waterford bounced back in the 3rd quarter with a 40-yard touchdown jaunt by Lyndon Salathiel. Clayton Roth's placekick was blocked and the Skippers still trailed, 7-6.

The Skippers annexed their 4th straight decision in the 4th period. Dick Starkweather recovered a fumble on the Farmington 12-yard line. Salathiel sprinted 10 yards to the two from where Ed Clark cracked over. Roth converted.

Waterford and Walled Lake are now tied with 2-0 marks to lead the Inter-Lakes Conference.

Miami Scores 27-6, Victory

MIAMI (INS) — The University of Miami, sparked by the brilliant ball carrying of senior halfback John Bookman, overpowered Boston College, 27-6 last night before 37,381 football fans in the Orange Bowl in Miami.

Miami's heavier and more experienced line kept the Eagle's number one boy, ace passer and quarterback Billy Donlan, bottled up most of the evening.

Fumbles Hurt Birmingham in Loss to Dales

Fumbleitis was Brmingham's self-destructive weapon at Ferndale last night where the Maples fell 12-6 in an Eastern Michigan League game.

In the second half, the Maples outplayed Ferndale, but lost the chance for the winning TD and point by losing the ball on 4-yard line with less than three minutes to play.

Doctors Fear GIs Bringing Sleeping Sickness to U. S.

WASHINGTON (INS) — Two Army doctors reported today there is a danger Japanese encephalitis —a polio-like sleeping sickness from the Far East—could become established in the United States.

* * *

They said the virus-caused disease, marked by inflammation of the brain and usually fatal, is a particular threat in the Western United States. Seven types of mosquitoes in that area are known to be capable of transmitting the disease.

Birds are believed to be the "reservoir of infection" for the disease, with mosquitoes carrying the virus from birds to man.

The report by Drs. Harold E. Shuey and Trygve O. Berge in the Journal of the American Medical Assn., reported isolating Japanese encephalitis virus from the tissue of an American soldier just returned from South Korea.

The soldier apparently contracted the virus in Pusan—an area where earlier outbreaks have occurred—just before he sailed for the United States.

The virus incubated in his after docking, he complained of bloodstream aboard ship. Shortly fever, eye pain and headache. Four days after admission to the Ft. Lawton, Wash., Hospital he died.

An autopsy and extensive laboratory work isolated the virus, believed to be the first time Japanese encephalitis virus was recovered in the United States.

* * *

Encephalitis experts at Walter Reed Army Hospital pointed out the danger is that a recent returnee from the Far East carrying the virus might be bitten by a U. S. mosquito capable of spreading the disease.

And since most Americans have had no contact with encephalitis virus, there is little, if any, "natural immunity"—disease-fighting ability built up by a series of slight exposures—to the virus here.

Gypsy Rose Lee Studies for Dramatic Role on TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—When a maid lets you into the Manhattan home of Gypsy Rose Lee, she leads you down a long hall, past a beautiful interior court and into a large drawing room.

* * *

On the walls are many paintings, some of ladies more nude than Miss Lee ever has been on any stage. The maid opens a private elevator and you rise four stories to a large sunny room.

In this room Miss Lee—quick, graceful and lovely as ever—is involved in four projects, not necessarily in this order: She is stringing some of her famous beads on some of her famous dresses for her approaching appearance in Las Vegas. She is working on a volume of her memoirs, which Harpers will publish in the spring. She is scolding three of her five famous Siamese cats for having dragged a roast of lamb from the dining room table and consumed it to the bone.

* * *

And she is studying lines for her debut as a dramatic actress on television. Next Wednesday, on "United States Steel Hour (CBS-TV, 9 p.m. EST), she plays the role of a lady novelist in a comedy entitled "Sauce for the Goose." Apart from other well-known qualifications, Miss Lee certainly is entitled to the role as the author of two successful mystery novels.

She says she is not necessarily seeking more dramatic roles on television. "But if I'm good I imagine other roles will be offered to me."

* * *

Miss Lee is a hard-working girl. She rises at 4:30 a.m. and writes until noon, knocks off for lunch for an hour, and then re-writes her morning's work until 4 p.m. Her television role has intruded on this schedule, of course. In any event, she wouldn't appear to have much time left for night life.

"No night life at all," she said. "But I never did go for it. When I go to a night club I want to be paid for it."

Your Neighbor's House

Rothbergs Keep Spirit of Fisher Home

background for LIVING

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

"A house with love in it" is a phrase in a currently popular song. Today's house is a house with love in it — love of fine woods, beautiful furnishings and all the details that go to make up a gracious home.

* * *

Three years ago the Jack Rothbergs bought Lake Angelus Farms, the former home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fisher (he was the eldest brother of the "Body by Fisher" company). This 35-acre estate is situated on the north shore of Lake Angelus and was built shortly after the turn of the century.

In the time that they have owned the house the Rothbergs have made some changes, of course. Their son, Howard, an interior decorator in New York has counseled their every move. They have tried to keep the original spirit of the house.

"I sometimes wonder if Mrs. Fisher's ghost will walk when we make some changes like replacing the living room draperies," Mrs. Rothberg says.

We are not going to attempt to write a description of the entire house. Many of our readers will see it when they attend the Tuesday Musicale Scholarship tea on the sixteenth of this month.

The only word that describes the size of the living room is gigantic. It measures 40x50 feet and is completely paneled in oak. The ceiling is molded plaster. Even the beams are covered with plaster in a molded design.

Instead of heavy crimson draperies the Rothbergs put up pale golden ones. All the new fabrics in the house are Fortuny fabrics, imported from Italy. These draperies and the matching fabric on one sofa have a hand blocked print in a lighter shade of yellow.

The chairs—they are all upholstered—are orange, green, yellow and white striped and pale gold. Materials are raw silk, velvet, chints and a nubby cotton. Most of the chairs are in pairs and all are grouped to provide a number of conversation areas.

Next to the fireplace is a pirate chest covered in red velvet. This is used for firewood. The fireplace itself has a beautifully carved mantel and white marble framing the opening. The fire screen opens like a set of doors.

The only original piece of upholstery in the room is on the piano bench. Mrs. Rothberg is trying to preserve this bit of French brocade as long as possible.

Large as this room is, it is homelike and serene. Unlike so many big rooms, it does not resemble a hotel lobby. There were flowers all over. Mrs. Rothberg says she grows Blaze zinnias just to match the orange silk chair covers.

At one end of the room there is a balcony which is the size of many modern living rooms. This opens directly off the dining room.

In contrast to the living room which has scarcely been changed except for fabrics, the dining room has been completely done over. But the original spirit of the house has been kept intact.

The chandelier and side lights are antique crystal. Now the beamed ceiling is painted white. At one time it had a colorful design on it, but the family decorator said, "Paint it."

At each end of the long table there is a green velvet arm chair. Along the sides there are mahogany chairs with green leather seats. The doors have Venetian shades. There is a fireplace. Between the foyer and this room there are wrought iron gates.

A long screened porch overlooks Lake Angelus. On the floor there are rush rugs, sewed together in alternating squares of blue and green. Green tables have glass tops. The green metal chairs have lavender cushions. On the sectional metal sofa and the chaise longue the cushions are green with a purple iris design.

The stairway to the second floor is a graceful one with a slow curve at the bottom. It is covered with emerald green carpeting. Instead of a banister, there is a thick emerald green rope fastened to the wall of the stairway.

Although we did not photograph it, we should like to mention what the Rothbergs call "the number one guest room." Nothing in here, except the nylon spread on the bed, has been changed since the Fishers' time.

* * *

It is a blue room with French walnut furniture. The headboard of the bed is upholstered in blue satin. But the rug is the eye catcher here. Woven in France, it has a pale blue background with a pastel flower design. Exquisite is the best descriptive word for it.

The Rothbergs' bedroom is a green room, also with French furniture. The only modern thing they added was a brass book rack that harmonizes perfectly with the older furnishings.

The rug and walls are of a color—green—while the furniture is painted nearly the same shade. The exposed parts of the floor show that it is oak, laid in a herringbone pattern.

GRACIOUS LIVING ROOM — Several conversational groupings are possible in this large living room. The only change made by the Rothbergs has been one of replacing upholstery and draperies. Everywhere they have brought the colors of nature into the house, with greens, yellows and orange predominating. Howard Rothberg, a decorator and the son of the couple, has worked with his parents in their redecorating. They have tried in everything they did to keep the spirit of the original house. The walnut paneling in this room and the dining room is beautiful.

EMERALD GREEN — This graceful stairway is carpeted in emerald green, with a matching rope for a banister. Family portraits are hung on the walls. Antique jars fill the small niche at the curve of the stairway.

FRENCH FURNITURE — All the furniture in the master bedroom is painted a soft green. Carpeting and walls are the same shade. Note the interesting shape of the woven headboards. They curve around the beds. Draperies and chaise longue upholstery is yellow and white cotton, imported from Italy. Nothing in this room has been changed since Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fisher lived in the house.

JUST FOR RELAXING — A well sheltered porch overlooks Lake Angelus and provides a pleasant place on which to relax. The rush rugs have alternating squares of blue and green. The metal furniture is green with shades of purple and lavender in the cushions.

MISTRESS OF THE HOUSE — Mrs. Jack Rothberg runs her household from this charming study. The desk she works on is an antique. Turquoise, navy and green are the colors used against a background of white walls, woodwork and curtains. The wrought iron chairs have cushioned seats and back. Next to the one on the right is a small, antique gateleg table.

'Winterproof' Lovely Floors

Your lovely hardwood floors will take the wear and tear of winter traffic without losing their luster, if you give them half a chance, home maintenance specialists say.

* * *

The experts recommend a simple "winter-proofing" treatment that will keep the beautifully grained hardwood clean and glistening with only a moderate amount of routine care.

This ease of upkeep, they add, accounts in large measure for the overwhelming popularity of oak floors. More oak flooring is being used nowadays to equip American homes than ever before.

Winter-proofing properly finished floors consists merely of cleaning, waxing and polishing. Do not scrub them with soap and water, as that may roughen the surface and perhaps even mar the finish.

USE WAX CLEANER

Use a wax base cleaner. Liquid preparations of this kind are now available in two general types. One contains about three times as much wax as the other.

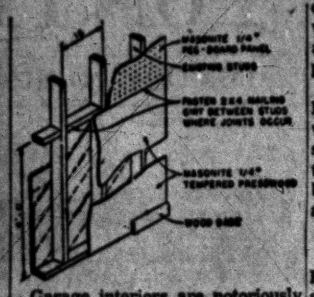

* * *

When the first type is employed, the cleaning and waxing are completed in one operation. Only polishing is then required. With the second type, a separate coating of paste wax or liquid rubbing wax is advisable.

The cleaners, as well as liquid rubbing wax, can be applied easily with a soft cloth or a long-handled applicator.

FENCE 'EM OUT — This sturdy fence of jewel-tone plastic clothesline in a spider web design is ideal for keeping tots away from backyard swimming pools when adults are not around. Rust-proof screw eyes are used to hold the web to the wooden frame. A good leisure time project.

Garage interiors are notoriously unattractive. No wonder so many home owners always keep the garage doors closed!

A neat, trim look can be given the interior walls simply by covering the studs. A particularly attractive appearance is achieved by using Masonite ¼" Tempered Prestwood for a wainscot and ¼" "Peg-Board" panels over them. On these you can store many garden and lawn tools.

The combination is particularly good because the wainscot panels are made for tough duty. The perforated panels, too, are heavy-duty and will support such weighty objects as a lawnmower and shelves bearing large cans of paint.

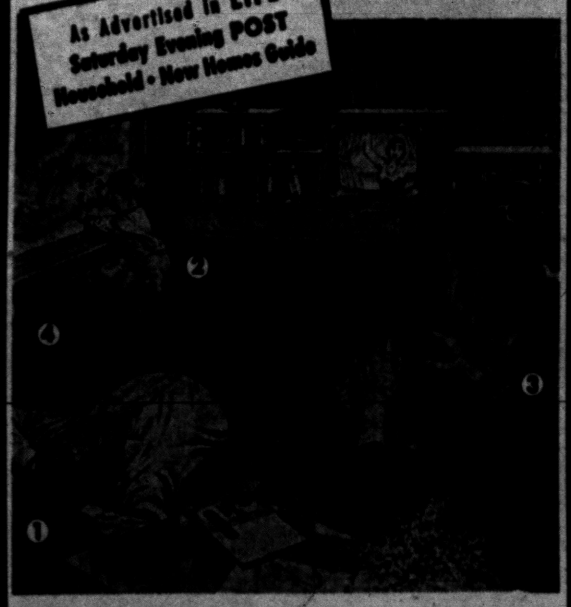

The installation is simple. Panels are nailed directly to the wall studs. Be sure to attach a supporting wood member between the studs where joints appear between the two kinds of panels, as shown in the drawing.

More Basement Windows Provide Better Ventilation

What would you say are the prerequisites for an ideal basement recreation room? That it be light and dry? You're so right. And the same goes for just a plain, ordinary basement—if it is to be a useful space.

* * *

Methods of treating and curing wet basement walls have been discussed before, but the subject wouldn't be complete without mention of a trend in basement design—that of introducing more window area to admit more daylight.

This not only makes for more pleasant - looking recreation rooms, but also allows better ventilation, helping to control moisture. What's more, it isn't too costly to redecorate existing homes to provide more daylight in basements.

In most cases it is simply a matter of enlarging window wells or areaways outside basement windows and of adding a few more windows in a line. These window wells or areaways can often be extended to form small sunken terraces outside recreation - room walls.

FREE TO PAINT

Once the moisture problem is licked in this or any other way, the home owner is free to paint or panel basement walls. There are several types of masonry paints available in colors. Some are said to be waterproof and some are not. You can even color cement - base waterproofing compounds with colored oxide pigments.

There is a wide variety of concrete floor finishes to choose from, including special dyes, stains, oil-base paints, rubberbase paints and liquid floor coverings. Resilient-tile is a popular product for recreation-room floors, as well.

If you select plywood paneling for the walls, you must nail furring strips to the walls before fastening the panels in place. The furring may be of 1x2-inch or 2x2-inch stock, nailed vertically and 16 inches on centers.

Use masonry nails spaced 12 to 14 inches apart, rather than wire nails, to fasten furring strips to masonry—six-penny nails for one-inch furring and eight-penny for the two-inch strips. If the nails won't enter the masonry, use a small star drill to make holes, then drive wooden pegs into the holes. Nail through the furring into pegs.

Need Picture Frames? Do-It-Yourself Job Easy

Short of breaking the law, there are three ways of obtaining frames for prized family pictures. Buy them ready-made, build them yourself with picture moldings, or make them out of plain, garden-variety wood moldings.

Be prepared to spend $5 and up for any decent sort of ready-made frame.

At paint, wallpaper, hardware and department stores you can get picture moldings in a variety of shapes for a fraction of the cost of ready-mades.

By far the cheapest framing materials are the crown, cove and similar moldings stocked by lumber dealers. Not being intended as picture framing, however, structural moldings require a bit of alteration.

This operation involves glueing a narrow strip of lattic wood to the back of the molding, about ⅜ inch from the inside edge. It creates a ⅜-inch recess in the finished frame to take the glass, picture and cardboard backing.

First, cut the molding into four pieces (about three to six inches oversize depending on molding's width) for the sides of the frame. Apply glue, and then either clamp the lattice strips and molding together overnight or fasten them with tiny screws.

Since the simple miter is the standard corner joint in picture framing, the four sides of the frame may be cut to exact size in a miter box to get a 45-degree angle.

Wait until glue has dried before cutting. Use a fine-tooth saw—such as a back saw—to get smooth, splinter-free cuts.

In fastening the frame together, use glue and a single brad at each corner. This produces a strong enough joint provided the frame is placed in a clamping jig until the glue has had a chance to dry. Unclamped, a glue joint is little better than a glueless one.

Use a piece of ¾-inch plywood for the base of the jig. To this, nail four blocks of wood to form a four-sided framework. Inside dimensions of the framework should be about a half-inch greater than the outside dimensions of the picture frame.

When the frame is in place within the jig, you can use four tapered wedges to lock, or clamp, it in position. Insert the wedges in the ½-inch space between jig framework and picture frame.

Before applying a stain, shellac or enamel finish, scrape off any glue which has squeezed out of corners and smooth rough edges with fine sandpaper. Fill any nail holes, joint cracks or other imperfections with wood plastic.

Interesting finishes for picture frames can be obtained with enamel by applying a base coat of one color, and then adding a wiping coat of contrasting color when the first has dried. The second color may be wiped off with a lint-free cloth.

To enhance the effect of contrast you can texture the wood prior to application of paint. This is done by rubbing a wire brush in the direction of wood grain. The brush gouges out soft sections of the grain so that hard grain stands out in relief.

Garage Wall Ideal for Tool Peg Board Site

Many garages have space for a workbench and storage. The problem is a suitable design. Meeting the challenge, Woman's Home Companion published an article which detailed an organized effort to provide well-arranged working and storage space in a garage or carport.

Details of this actual improvement now are available in a free plan, which gives full information on making a closet space for work clothes, installing Masonite "Peg-Board" panels for light and heavy tools, having ample shelf space and large bins for storage. Included, too, are an overhead storage rack for storing building materials, storm windows and screens, and a plan for building a bicycle rack.

Here are some of the features shown in the plan: Closet, cabinet, including two cupboards, cabinet including a cupboard and seed bin, wood scrap and rag containers, working surface, tool storage, shelf unit with dividers, lumber storage rack, bicycle rack, and heavy-duty storage wall.

Lighting Eases Work at Home

A homemaker's work is never done, but it can be made more pleasant and easy when her home is well-lighted.

Since Mrs. Homemaker spends more than half of her working day in the kitchen, it is important that this room be adequately lighted. And what better time to take care of this point than this Operation Home Improvement Year.

* * *

Good lighting should be provided over the sink, range and work counters. Planned lighting over these areas will speed up food preparation, make locating utensils and foods easier, reduce cuts and bruises and help banish eyestrain and fatigue, according to lighting experts at the Moe Light Division, Thomas Industries Inc.

NEED DOWN LIGHT

Illumination should be directed downward over these work areas so that the homemaker will not be working in her own shadow, the experts add. This can be achieved by installing recessed or fluorescent fixtures directly over these areas.

* * *

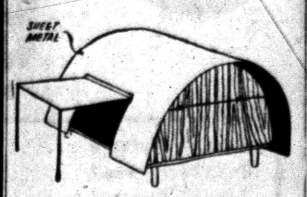

It's also important to have a central ceiling fixture to provide balanced general lighting which will eliminate glare, bring out color, design and textures of the furnishings and create a background for the different levels of light over the work and dining areas.

SHOULD BE ATTRACTIVE

Besides providing illumination for the kitchen, fixtures should serve as attractive accessories. Nothing dates a home more than an old, dingy looking fixture. Today recessed and ceiling and wall fixtures are designed to fit in with the decorating scheme of the other kitchen furnishings.

* * *

The overall effect created in a kitchen which has well-planned lighting is cheerful, bright and pleasant — and that's how Mrs. Homemaker will feel after each day's work in such a room.

PUTTING on the dog, you can give your pooch a front porch too.

To prevent plaster from chipping when driving a nail, put cellophane tape on the wall where you want to drive the nail. The tape will prevent the usual scar as the nail goes in.

Fences of Modern Day No Longer Appear Ugly

Fences used to be ugly, but today architects have introduced a wondrous array of styles and patterns which make these structures things of charm and rare beauty. Popular lumber like western red cedar and Douglas fir can be bought in many standard sizes at most lumber yards and they lend themselves to such intriguing fence designs as the basket weave, the louvered panels, estate-type fences and those with all sorts of niches and compartments for flower pots, figurines and decorative crockery.

Old Buildings in World Were Made From Wood

Some of the oldest buildings in the world are made of wood and still are in active use in their original lumber frame and covering, such as the famed Horyuji Temple at Koyoto, Japan. Some homes in the U.S. built in Colonial times are still standing. With good care, homes built of western red cedar and Douglas fir lumber can last for many generations, the West Coast Lumbermen's Association reports. Secret is to keep a tight roof and protect the cedar and fir siding from unnecessary moisture.

Wood's Versatility Makes It Like New Material

Wood's beauty of grain, texture and line place it high on the list of most popular materials to cover the modern home.

"We have known for centuries," observes Warren Weber, A.I.A., leading designer of contemporary western homes, "that wood-sided structures could withstand heat, cold, rain, snow and parching dryness and still protect the building and contents.

"What many an architect is discovering today," Weber continued, "is wood's amazing versatility.

It is virtually a new material today, as we utilize its texture, coloring and grain to give new character and meaning to the progressive styling of the homes in the modern theme."

We open the walls of our new homes, he said, to the countryside and attempt to blend the indoors with our patios, courtyards and outdoor living areas. Natural substances, like lovely-textured Douglas fir, soft-toned, even-grained west coast hemlock and earth-colored western red cedar, make ideal siding for these homes.

* * *

Being natural, they form a perfect marriage with stone, brick, glass and the greenery of shrubs and trees, and seem to bring the wonders of nature right into the home without a jarring break of line or form.

TEXTURE PLAYED UP

Where texture is important in design, siding can be of rough sawn surfaces in either lapped horizontal boards or boards-and-batten style. But even when surfaced in beveled or drop siding patterns, it is as much of a part of its environment as a mossy rock, a green lawn or a flowering shrub.

Weber points out that wood has four natural properties which endear it to the architect and builder as a siding material.

1. It has workability and thus can be cut and fit to form the remarkability versatile lines and forms in contemporary design. 2. These woods have great stability with wide fluctuations of temperature and weather. 3. They have ability to hold paint, stain or varnishes, or have capacity in their natural state to weather to intriguing shades and tones of rare beauty. 4. These woods hold their fastenings.

Not to be overlooked, the architect cautions, is wood's value as an insulation medium to prevent loss of heat in winter and keep a home cool in summer.

the number of housing units contracted for was down nine per cent and the amount of floor space was down two per cent, reflecting the fact that houses being built today are averaging larger and more costly than those built last year.

Burn Old Paint Cloths

Be careful of the cloths you use painting and cleaning up after a paint job. They can be a fire hazard unless they are spread out to dry. Best thing to do is burn them immediately. Never leave them wadded up or in a pile — spontaneous combustion could result.

Don't Sacrifice Charm of Home

Modernizing Is Fine, Yet It Does Not Imply Loss of the Familiar

* * *

A homemaker's affection for the house with a familiar look about it, resulting from years of family living, must be considered when time comes to remodel an older dwelling that badly needs modern improvements.

Some hints in modernization, to reconcile the old and the new:

1. The kitchen may have whatever "period" flavor you wish, but it should have a step-saving appliance arrangement; easily washed walls, floors, countertops and splashbacks of material such as ceramic tile; adequate lighting, and plenty of storage space.

* * *

2. You may enlarge the living room by tearing out old-fashioned partitions, without changing the distinctive spirit of the room.

* * *

3. The bathroom, busiest room in the house, should be as modern as possible, with ceramic tile walls and floor, tub-shower combination and an additional tiled shower stall.

* * *

4. The family must live in the house, so modernization of the basement into a rumpus room should be high on the list of remodeling items.

* * *

5. Not all living is done indoors So pay special attention to porches and the outdoor area. Why not a terrace or patio surfaced in waterproof quarry tile so that the family may eat and play together outside the house itself.

* * *

6. One of the principal reasons for remodeling an older house is to provide plenty of storage space. This applies not only to the kitchen and bathroom, but also to the bedrooms. Look into the cabinet and closet situation carefully when drawing up remodeling plans.

Pakistan's tea crop in 1956 is expected to exceed 1955 by over 2,00,000 pounds.

How to Save Money Buying Lumber

Buying an inexpensive grade of lumber and upgrading it often can save a considerable amount of money on a workshop project. No. 2 or 3 grade lumber costs about half as much as Select. There is no point in buying Select if the other will serve your purpose.

In building a bookcase, for instance, or a set of shelves that will have a painted finish, cheaper grades can give just as good result. The surface may be a bit rough. If it is, sand it. If there are loose knots, push them out, coat the sides with household cement and replace them.

It often is possible to raise shallow dents by covering them with wet blotting paper and going over them with a medium-hot iron. To straighten a bowed board, support it at each end and pile weights on the center. Straightening may take several days. A cupped board usually can be flattened by wetting the concave side, covering it with damp rags and leaving it in a warm room overnight.

Tell Brush by Bristles

You judge a paint brush by its bristles. Really fine brushes have bristles with long, tapered tips and "flagged" or split ends. Furthermore, the bristles are of different lengths and are formed to a full head. Before you use the new brush, run it through a comb. This will remove the few loose bristles that you'll find in even the best of paint brushes.

Greek Arcade Restored

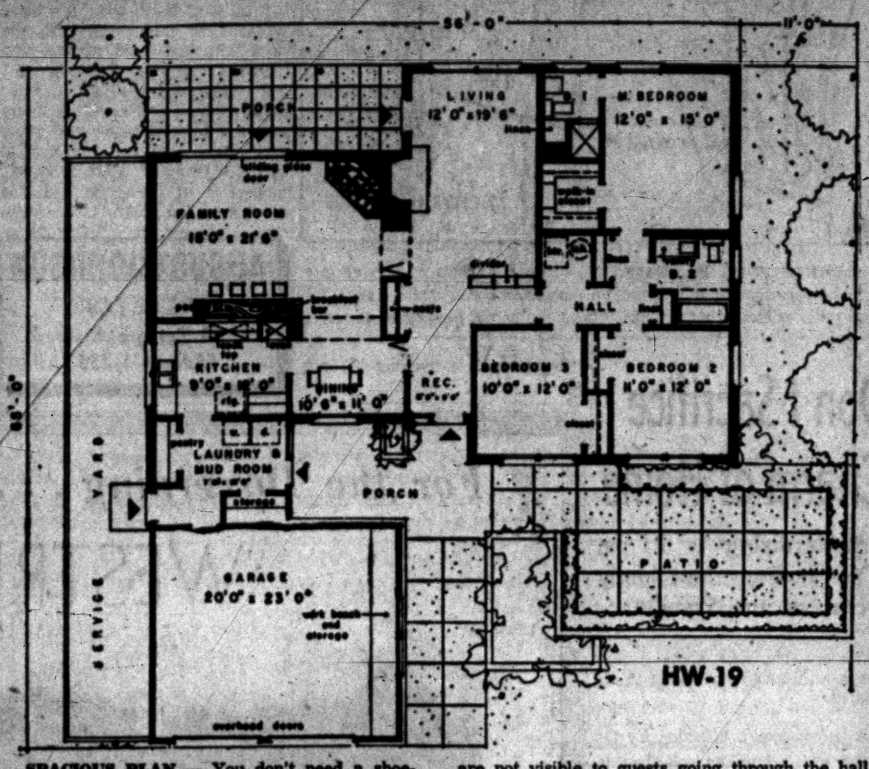

The American School of Classical Studies recently restored an ancient Greek arcade. Originally built sometime between 159 and 138 B.C., the arcade ran the length of one side of the market and assembly place in ancient Athens. The balustrade of the upper part of the gleaming white marble structure has been painted a brilliant blue, touched with bright red—exactly the same colors that were originally used hundreds of years ago.

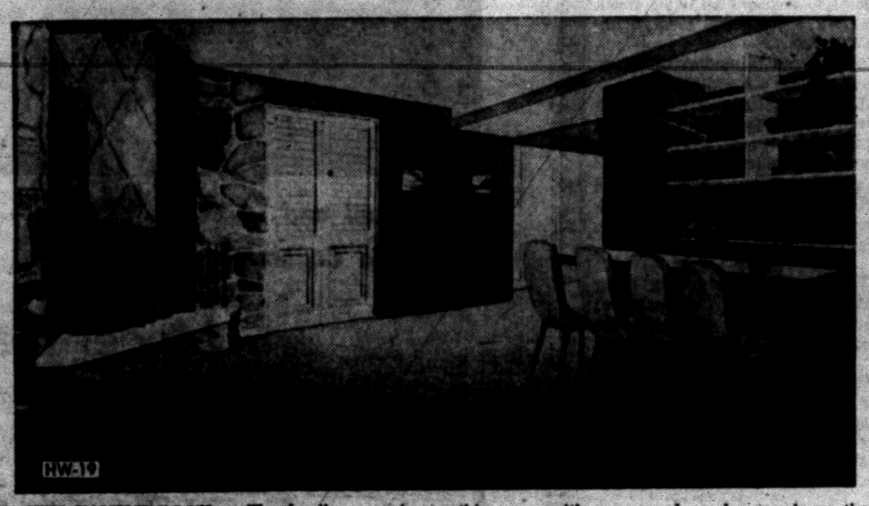

SMARTLY MODERN — Planned for a 75-foot lot, this house is designed to fit the needs of a family. It is screened from the street by the garage and a whitewashed patio wall.

Wood Panels Pleasing

Because it can be easily painted and is available in so many variations, wood siding fulfills the desire of most women to own "something different," adaptable to frequent color change.

SPACIOUS PLAN — You don't need a shoehorn to fit your family into this spacious plan. The bedrooms are at the front of the house but are not visible to guests going through the hall to the living room.

THE FAMILY ROOM — The family room in this house has a corner fireplace and a snack bar facing the kitchen. Sliding glass doors merge this room with a covered garden porch on the rear of the house.

Newest Steel Girders

The ability of a material to stand up under intense heat for long periods of time is the true test of its fire safety, according to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association. The fact that wood is combustible, while steel is noncombustible, has led to the popular misconception that steel is safer, the lumbermen point out.

Australian airlines in 1955 flew record totals of passengers, freight and mail, with ton-miles for these services rising to 124,500,000—an increase of 8¼ per cent over the year before.

It Takes Much Work

All furniture these days seems to be well finished. A low-cost finish on furniture, however, may involve five operations in applying it. The finest finish of all may involve as many as eighteen operations. Truly beautiful finishes give a gleaming depth that is lacking in the lower cost operations.

Mrs. Rothberg's study is the newest room in the house. Her son has just finished decorating it. In contrast to many of the other rooms with their darker paneled or painted walls, this one is a dazzling white.

Woodwork and walls are painted white. The seersucker curtains on brass poles are white. The panels of wallpaper are white with a farm design in turquoise.

Mrs. Rothberg's desk is an antique as is the tiny, four-drawer chest made of European fruitwood. There is a replica of an antique chair and ottoman finished in antique white. The other chairs are iron, copied from Windsor originals.

Chair cushions and upholstery, as well as the lampshades, are the same material; the handwoven fabric is checked in navy, turquoise and green. There are fat pillows on the lounge chair.

The lamp table is a solid round piece of oak with iron legs. The lamp on it has an apothecary bottle for its base. Howard Rothberg believes in mixing periods of furniture and kinds of wood in the rooms he decorates. His mother's study is an interesting example.

In contrast to most of the homes we feature on these pages, Lake Angelus Farms is old. But new and exciting things have been done to the house since the Rothbergs bought it. We thought you would like to see and read about these changes.

Let Housewife Choose Colors for the Kitchen

Despite dish washers, garbage disposers, washing machines and dryers, the housewife still spends a great many hours a day in the kitchen. Thus she should make the kitchen her special room by selecting a color scheme that is both pleasing to her, and flattering as well.

With the advent of colored kitchen equipment as well as the traditional white, the two most important elements in the general effect of a room—the coloring of walls and floors—can be utilized effectively.

Expense is no factor in decorating a pleasing kitchen, since inappropriately colored paint costs as much as a proper shade. The wall of a room is a background for the occupant, so the modern housewife should select a paint in a color that becomes her.

Inside the home, wood paneling satisfies the desire of today's homemaker to make her rooms alive and interesting. Wood floors, because of their permanence and beauty, offer women assurance that their rooms are "right" in the eyes of the community.

Youth's Diverse Activities Call for Special Activities

So many and diverse are the activities of youth that families with children of school age are wise to make special provisions for their frequently gregarious junior members.

* * *

Whether it be for television parties, jam sessions or the more serious pursuits connected with school work, a multi-purpose room with pleasant but hardy decor and furnishings is indicated.

An added advantage of such a room or area lies in the fact that it can grow with the family and thus becomes a retreat for family members of all ages.

Since it is desirable to combine as many activities as possible in one versatile area, it is a good suggestion to make a list of those to be included before starting. Perhaps first should come sleeping accommodations.

Assuming that two or more members of the family will occupy the quarters, bunk beds should be considered seriously as they are most practical for a many-purpose room.

FEELING OF UNITY

To create a feeling of unity in the room, the bunk beds should be planned to fit the overall decorative scheme, so they should be built in and should match or complement the walls.

Because of their versatility and moderate price, the woods that grow in the forests of the western pine region are very popular for beds and wall paneling in rooms where a combination of beauty and utility is desired. The wide variety of finishes that these ten different woods will accept have put them in great demand for such projects.

If a very light natural finish is in order, one of the western pines, Idaho white, ponderosa or sugar pine, will fill the bill, as will Engelmann spruce and lodgepole pine. For intermediate finishes Douglas fir is recommended.

DARKER WOOD

Among the darker woods are larch, incense cedar and inland red cedar. All of these woods are available in either knotty or clear grades, and all are manufactured to very high standards.

When the material for the bunks ing and floor are the next items on the agenda. Both should have the same wearing qualities already mentioned, so any hard-surfaced floor that will resist soil and the scuffing of dancing feet will serve well.

To minimize the sounds of hilarity, a ceiling of sound-absorbent tiling is excellent, preferably in a neutral shade that will blend with the western pine walls, but not light enough to show dirt readily.

Maintaining the unity of plan, a game table of wood and several sturdy armchairs to match will provide a place for games or study or for occasional snacks.

A television set is a must for this room, and there's nothing so practical as the type that rests upon a stand with castors for feet so that it can be moved with ease.

Another accessory much in demand for the younger generation is a record player, which can well be a three-speed portable that will satisfy the demands, whether they be for bop or Beethoven.

A final touch is bright fabric for accent. This can be accomplished in the outer covers for the bunk beds, which should be of the type that converts them into daybeds for use as sofas during the day. Checks and plaids are the most acceptable, and sturdy synthetic fabrics will prove most satisfactory.

* * *

Such a room is practical for the rumpus raised by pre-school children and yet can be so well planned that it still can be attractive to them when they reach college age.

You can make your own rosin coated nails (they have greater holding power than ordinary nails) by dissolving some rosin in turpentine and then dipping the nails into this solution.

House Fitted to Family Provides Gracious Living

With this rule in mind, Design HW-19 was planned for The House of The Week.

Charles E. Armstrong, the Fort Worth, Tex. architect who drew this plan, contends that the most livable dwelling is one deliberately designed around the many things people do in a normal day at home.

"If you take an arbitrary lot size," he says, "draw an arbitrary area for a house, subdivide it into arbitrary room sizes and say 'This is your home,' the results cannot be happy.

"You have to consider all the ways a family lives—where children will run and play, where and how the mother performs her many household tasks, the ways teen-agers romp and loll and move about, where the father likes to relax, how each member of the family prefers to entertain. Then you plan your rooms around these spheres of activities and you have a house that fits a family."

FAMILY ROOM POPULAR

So a big, informal family room, adjoining the kitchen and having its own fireplace, dominates this spacious, excellently arranged, but economical house. Sliding glass doors merge this family room with a covered garden porch on the rear of the house. A breakfast and snack bar is served by a pass-through from the kitchen. The family room wraps itself around the kitchen to provide a dining room el for more formal meals.

* * *

More than one place to eat has become an imperative requirement in the modern home. This requirement, in addition to a family room, was one of the prime rules laid down for architects by the 103 housewives who attended the Women's Congress on Housing in Washington last spring.

The living room in this plan is secluded from the carefree family activities part of the home, enabling the housewife to have a straightened-up and dignified place to receive quests.

The living room fireplace, using the same chimney as the family room fireplace, presents a more conventional mantel and general styling.

Living room windows also face the rear garden, offering an opportunity to exploit a view of flowers and shrubs and attractive landscaping. There is a glass door from living room to porch, too.

STATISTICS:

With this living room opening from a wide reception foyer, you have the advantage of an impressive sweep through the house, which appeals to persons who prefer either a front or rear living room. Carpeting or any other floor covering can start at the front door and continue through foyer, living room and bedroom hall.

CLOSETS ARE GENEROUS

Three bedrooms, two bathrooms, generous closets (one a walk-in closet off the master bedroom), a pantry and a utility room for laundry adjoining the kitchen make this a comfortable house.

No basement is called for in this plan. A modern heating unit and hot water supply storage are accommodated in a large closet off the hall. Extra storage space off the utility room and the main floor laundry eliminate the need for a basement.

A walled patio in front of the house adds extra privacy to the bedrooms. The location of the two-car garage is a distinct advantage in shortening the driveway from the street. This not only is an initial economy, but also a big help in maintenance, especially in places where snow must be shoveled.

* * *

This house is designed to stay modern. Its family room alone is an earmark of an up-to-the-minute house. This is a feature that is being used so widely in homes today that it almost seems to date houses between the old styles and the new.

The family room is such a happy solution to living problems that it seems a wonder it was so long in evolving.

Leonardo da Vinci had it in mind around about are time Columbus discovered America. In his Codice Atlantico manuscript, Leonardo said:

"The large room for the master (presumably the living room) and that for the family should have the kitchen between them and in both the food may be served through wide and low windows (our pass-throughs) or by tables that turn on swivels."

Wood Finishes Many

When it comes to finishing wood paneling, the home owner has many choices. He can paint the paneling to blend or contrast with other room decorations. He can use a clear finish — varnish, or shellac—to retain all the natural markings and coloring of the wood. Or he can use one of the many different stains now being sold, to give the wood more color and highlight its built-in warmth and beauty.

Hardboard Panels Modernize Old Doors

Flush doors are becoming more popular as an increasing number of people become aware of the advantages offered by these smooth, modern innovations. Because of the absence of projections, flush doors do not collect dust and therefore easy to keep clean. Flush panel doors also have a sound-muffling effect, helping to cut down noise found in every busy American home.

Although flush doors are practically standard equipment in modern homes, many older homes still have old-fashioned panel doors. It's easy to convert such doors into modern, attractive flush doors by applying large panels of hardboard.

A wide choice of solid colors and wood or marble patterns allows the homeowner to select a color or pattern to match or contrast with the decor of the room.

Closet doors need be covered only on the side facing out into the bedroom or hallway. Doors leading from one room to another may be covered with a different pattern or color on each side to correspond to the room it faces.

This predecorated hardboard and the adhesive with which to fasten it to the doors may be obtained at lumber yards and building materials dealers.

Fight Sun Damage

In Miami, Fla., the research staff of a major automotive company is working against sun damage to auto finishes with the aid of a "sun sleuth" that has kept its automatic eye on the sun for two years. The device, called a "spectroheliometer," records the amount and intensity of the sun's light and heat that reaches paints, lacquers and enamels.

Glass Strongest of All

Scientists predict that glass may eventually replace steel as a structural building material. They base this forecast on the fact glass has a potential tensile strength of 900,000 pounds per square inch compared to 450,000 pounds per square inch for the strongest steel wire.

The first trademark ever issued by the United States Patent Office was granted to a New York paint company in 1870.

ATTIC IN NEW LIGHT — Tasteful color and distinctive wood grain and marble patterns grace the walls of this bright apartment which was created from an unfinished attic. Marlite pre-decorated hardboard has been used for paneling.

See-Through Partition

An attic can be converted into attractive, modern living quarters through use of design features that give new houses their appeal of openness and light.

Like a new home, an attic can be made to look more spacious than it actually is by "borrowing" space. Expanses of window walls "borrow" space from the outdoors, while "see-through" room dividers instead of full-height partitions let one interior area "borrow" space from another.

A striking effect is achieved when the end walls of an attic are completely devoted to glass, with windows following the sloping roof lines and reaching from floor to ceilings. This admits maximum daylight and provides a maximum view of the outdoors.

The room divider that lets the eye range into an adjacent area can contribute more than just an illusion of space, as important as that is. In the form of a cabinet or shelving, the room divider can provide bonus storage that would not be available with a partition there.

USE BOARD PANELS

Wall and ceiling decoration also has a part in making the converted attic look big and roomy. Expanses of clear, light colors seem to enlarge a room's dimensions. If pattern is desired, the grain of a light-colored hard wood is especially suitable for spacious effect.

A quick and easy way to decorate an attic appropriately and distinctively is to cover the walls and ceilings with a predecorated hardboard paneling. Airy pastel colors styled by Raymond Loewy Associates, famed design firm, and light wood grain patterns like birch, golden mahogany and natural prima vera are among the finishes available in this paneling. Using it eliminates the work and waiting of applying finish coats on the job.

When dulled and darkened by soiling, wall and ceiling colors lose some of their "enlarging" effect. A baked plastic surface protects Marlite colors and patterns, making the panels highly soil-resistant and easily cleaned by damp-wiping.

* * *

Careful designing and decorating of new attic quarters will prove worthwhile, whether it increases the enjoyment of family members or of tenants who are willing to pay higher rent for a pleasant setting.

Future Building Shows Increase

Eastern States Report $2 Billion in Future Construction Awards

NEW YORK — Contract awards for future construction in August in the 37 eastern states amounted to $2,068,754,000, nine per cent above August 1955, F. W. Dodge Corporation, construction news an marketing specialists, reported today. The total was the highest August thus far recorded.

* * *

During the first eight months of 1956 the cumulative total of awards reached a record high of $17,416,272,000, an eight per cent increase over the like 1955 period according to Dodge Reports.

Awards for each major construction category, in dollar terms, were the highest for any August ever recorded by Dodge. Non-residential awards of $746,787,000 were 10 per cent greater than August 1955, while residential awards of $874,233,000 were five per cent above the corresponding 1955 period, in spite of a decline in the number of new dwelling units. Heavy engineering awards of $447,734,000 achieved the greatest percentage gain, 18 per cent.

The first eight months cumulative totals also established records in each major construction category. Individually they show: nonresidential at $6,201,801,000, up nine per cent; residential at $7,330,820,000, up one per cent; and heavy engineering at $3,883,651,000, up 22 per cent.

Thomas S. Holden, vice chairman of the board of F. W. Dodge Corporation, stated that although the dollar volume of contracts awarded in the residential category in August was greater than a year ago.

Tight Credit Situation

The law of supply and demand operates for money the same as it does for any other commodity. This is how some construction industry observers explain the tight credit situation now prevailing in mortgage financing. Demand for credit, they say, exceeds the supply.

Whatever the ultimate cause of the credit shortage, shrewd builders are putting what money they can borrow into quality key materials like copper plumbing, ceramic tile and selected lumber.

Vents Help Prevent Paint From Peeling

The problem of paint peeling from the siding on houses because of moisture in the walls has become so widespread vents have been developed to be inserted into each space between studs to allow walls to "breathe."

* * *

These vents are tapped with a wooden amllet into ¾-inch holes bored through the siding and sheething. They have louvered openings and are comparatively inconspicuous when painted. They are rustproof and non-corrosive.

The "burning bush" mahogany crotch is considered by many as the most beautiful grain pattern in the world of wood. Its name is derived from the appearance of a bush seemingly on fire.

Urge Priests to Use Caution

Discretion Is Needed on Sex Problems of Young Girls

ROME (AP)—An Italian religious publication has cautioned Roman Catholic priests to hold to a minimum any discussions of sex problems with young girls.

* * *

"Send them to mother," in effect advised Palestra Del Clero, a fortnightly publication of culture and ecclesiastical practice published at Rovigo The publication, which circulates almost entirely among priests, serves as a sounding board for clerical discussion and debate on various problems. But Palestra Del Clero, literally "The Clergymen's Gymnasium," is not an official publication of the Roman Catholic Church and has no official connection with the Vatican.

It cautioned priests hearing the confessions of young girls to use maximum discretion. It also advised them to speak rarely upon sexual problems in public, and, when this may be necessary "to do it with the maximum delicacy."

Even in the confessional, it said, priests should use maximum delicacy when talking of these matters and "for some questions should send girls to their mothers."

"Their experience," it said, "can be very enlightening and their words cannot but be discreet."

Palestra Del Clero said that unfortunately current literature, "especially from abroad," has "induced a sort of mania in priests, to inveigh too much about these problems of sexuality, believing that this is necessary for their ministry."

Delay Opening Bids on Seaway Dredging

DETROIT (AP)—The Army Corps of Engineers has indefinitely postponed opening of bids on the first Michigan projects in the St. Lawrence Seaway deepening. Opening had been scheduled for Tuesday.

Overall cost of the work is estimated at 150 million dollars. It involves dredging the Amherstburg and Detroit River channels downriver from Detroit to the 27-foot depth required for oceangoing vessels. Eventually the Livingston Channel, Ballard's Reef and the head of the Detroit River leading into Lake St. Clair will also be deepened.

1 Injured, 1 Shaken in 4-Car Pileup

Richard L. Burton, 17, of Waterford Township, was shaken up. He was riding in a car driven by Robert C. Cook, 16, of Waterford Township.

The other cars involved were driven by Charles Griffin Jr., 24, of White Lake Township, and Joseph M. Carpenter, 30, of Orion Township.

Drives 400 Miles in 4½ Hours to Save Child

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — An infant girl was in critical condition today after being rushed to John Sealy Hospital yesterday at speeds of up to 111-miles per hour for an operation on her throat to save her life.

The 4-day-old girl, Daria Swansen, of San Benito, Tex., was driven to the hospital by her grandfather, Ernest Hector.

Police said Hector made the 400-mile trip in 4 hours, 26 minutes. A nurse in the car administered oxygen to the child during the trip.

A hospital spokesman said the child's condition is not rare. The esophagus, joining the mouth with the stomach, and the trachea, or windpipe, are one tube in a state shortly before birth and they later divide. In the condition the girl had the division was imperfect.

The operation took 3½ hours and was "extremely difficult" a hospital spokesman said. The girl's critical condition may continue for some time, he said.

Parachute Jumps Save Two in Crash

PAINE AFB, Wash. (AP) — Two slightly scratched Air Force lieutenants—survivors of a 400-mile-an-hour plane crash and a parachute jump into Washington's wild and rugged Olympic Mountains—were back at this base today.

A hundred miles away, ground crews and aerial search parties sought the pilots' radar observers, hopeful the two men will be found alive.

Home with their families, who waited 20 anxious hours before learning of their rescue, were 1st Lt. Eugene A. Hamby, 26, of Hillsboro, Ore., and 2nd Lt. George W. Deer, 22, Meadville, Miss.

Nance Reported Taking Ford Post

NEW YORK (AP)—James J. Nance, former president of the Studebaker-Packard Corp., is to become a vice president of the Ford Motor Co., the New York Times reported today.

The election of Nance is scheduled to take place Wednesday in Dearborn, Mich., the paper said.

Nance resigned as head of Studebaker-Packard on Aug. 7, three days after the Curtiss-Wright Corp. announced its intention to lease two Studebaker plants and acquire a subsidiary firm, the Aerophysics Development Corp., Santa Barbara, Calif.

The Times said Nance was to be paid $286,000 by Studebaker-Packard for giving up his $150,000 a year contract although the settlement was conditional on Nance's not accepting employment in a "competitive" field.

High Vote Tally Is Predicted at Farmington

FARMINGTON — A record number of new registrations are expected in both Farmington and Farmington Township, with both governments planning to keep clerk-offices open on Monday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. for voters to meet the deadline.

Floyd A. Cairns, Township Clerk, says he has received 200 notices of precinct changes back in the mail because of incorrect addresses, but that these people will be able to vote because their cards will be in their precinct.

"But unless they vote in the November election, or notify me of their correct address, their cards will be withdrawn thereafter," he says.

Lightning Bolt Strikes Everything but TV

SANDPOINT, Idaho (AP) — It will take some time for Mr. and Mrs. Max Pierce to get over the lightning storm which struck their house as they were watching television.

Capital Planning Visitors Center

Washington Activities, Information Building Will Be Real Boon

Plans were announced recently for an information and activities center for the 4,500,000 annual visitors to Washington, D. C.

* * *

The center, to be called Visitors Center, will be located across Pennsylvania Avenue from the National Gallery of Art and adjacent to the buildings of the Federal Triangle. Its position half way between the Capitol and the White House will make it particularly convenient for visitors touring the city.

PLAN GEORGIAN STYLES

The building will be constructed in the Georgian architecture of 18th century Washington. Under one roof, it will house facilities including a complete orientation theater, where a continuous information program will be available, a restaurant overlooking Pennsylvania Avenue and the National Gallery; a group of small shops designed to fill the particular needs and wants of travelers to Washington; a multi-lingual information staff; lounge area and a garden court to handle arrival and departure of sightseeing tours and out-of-town charter buses. Parking also will be available for charter buses and personal automobiles.

Also at Visitors Center will be located the National Travel Center. Participants in the Travel Center, an invited group of the most distinguished names in the world's travel industry, will offer Visitors Center guests a series of graphic exhibits of the newest in travel.

All of the services of Visitors Center will be available to visitors without charge.

The Orientation Theater, the heart of the Visitors Center program, is planned to "make a visit to the nation's Capital a more meaningful experience," according to Reginald Martine, Jr., Visitors Center Director.

TO DEPICT DRAMA

Through use of the newest in oral and visual aids participants in the orientation theater will be given a sense of the drama underlying Washington's past and present. It is felt that tours of the city, whether personal or conducted, will be richer for the visitor who has had the Visitors Center orientation.

Shakespeare Popularity Gains British Momentum

LONDON (INS)—The plays of William Shakespeare have always topped the classics in popularity but never have they been so popular as they are in Britain today.

* * *

Whether it's just the British habit of grabbing at any old tradition with both hands or a new cultural upsurge the theatrical world today is agog over what it calls "the Shakespeare boom."

For the past three years the Old Vic Theatre Company in London has presented nothing but Shakespeare and has played to almost persistently full houses. Earlier, when Shakespeare shared the stage with other authors, the Old Vic Theatre was generally half full.

At Stratford-on-Avon, birthplace of the famed playwright, where the season or "Shakespeare Festival" now runs from April to November, the Stratford Memorial Theatre packs in some 375,000 people a year.

LAVISH PRODUCTIONS

This pretty Warwickshire town on the banks of Avon lives on its native son and living has never been so good. The productions at the Memorial Theatre have become lavish affairs, with costumes and decor for a single play often costing as much as $20,000.

But Shakespeare has by no means been confined to these two theaters. There have been an unusually large number of Shakespeare's plays presented in London's West End in recent years, and almost without exception, they have been enormous successes.

* * *

Until a year ago the increase in the popularity of Shakespeare was confined to London and Stratford but today the whole country is Shakespeare conscious.

The Old Vic company has been touring with Shakespeare plays for years but of late has been making much more extensive toursl And last year, for the first time, the Stratford company toured Britain's leading provincial towns.

Thousands of overseas visitors spend thousands of dollars, yen, marks, kroner or what have you attending plays at Stratford, at the Old Vic and at the Open Air Theater in London's Regent Park, where the works of Shakespeare are frequently performed.

Then too both the Stratford and Old Vic companies have been making extensive tours abroad, each paying off handsomely in hard cash and public acclaim.

MOVIES SCORE

And the movies have scored some big Shakespeare successes recently. London Films claim that in Britain their receipts from the film "Richard III" were as great as for any film they have made in recent years.

Shakespeare films have gone extremely well abroad too. "Romeo and Juliet" for example, broke all box-office records in Japan. The Shakespeare films also have earned big money on television.

In Britain today it's almost impossible to escape Shakespeare. His plays go on almost non-stop in the theater, in the cinema, on television and on radio.

The British Broadcasting Corporation for years has been broadcasting eight major productions a year and is planning to increase the amount of time devoted to Shakespeare.

Phone Shenanigans Aren't So Funny

* * *

First, someone telephoned an undertaker that there had been a death at the Conlon home. The mortician responded, but found everyone well and reasonably happy, although a bit perturbed.

Shortly, a plumber appeared. He'd been called to the Conlon home by telephone.

About the time the Conlons had bade the plumber goodbye, a moving van chugged up. It wasn't needed, either.

Then a telephone repair man showed, also in response to a phony summons.

The Conlons got tired and put in a bonafide call themselves—to report the monkey business to police, who are investigating.

Texas Court Extends Restraints on NAACP

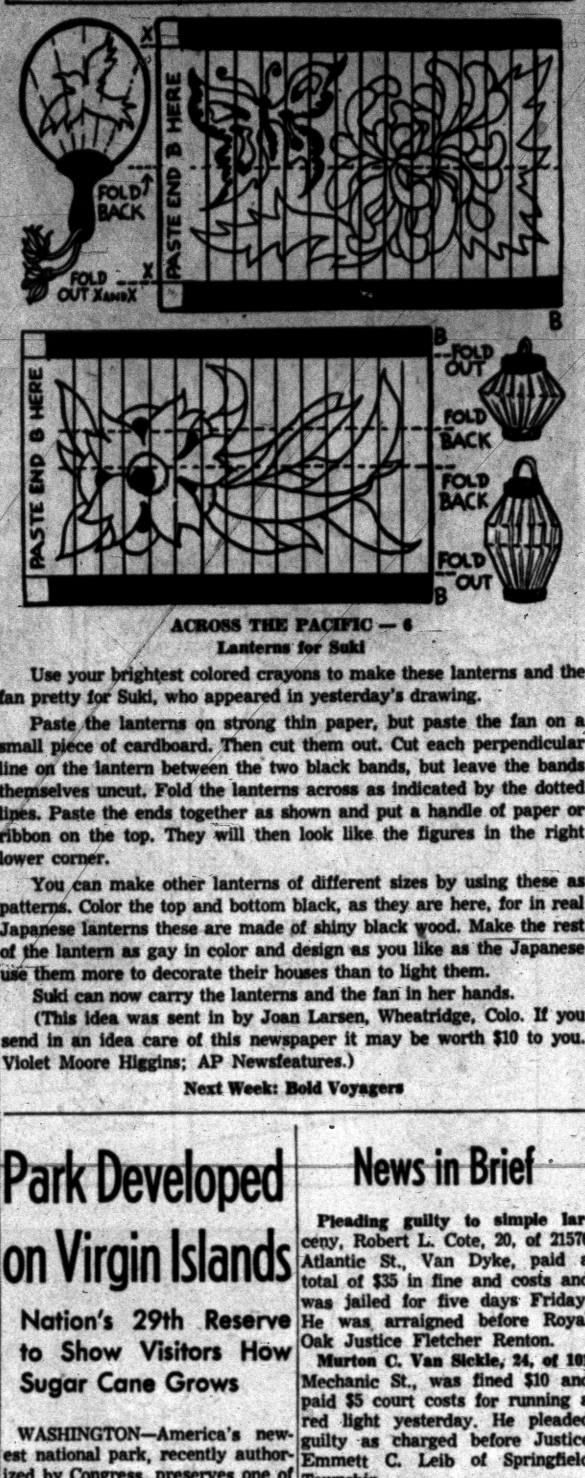

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—An extension of a temporary restraining order against the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People doing business in Texas was signed yesterday as a court hearing on the order went into its second weekend recess.

The order signed by attorneys of both sides specified that the retraining order, originally issued Sept. 21 for 10 days, would be effective until the hearing is over.

The state seeks a temporary injunction.

JUNIOR EDITORS

ACROSS THE PACIFIC — 6

Lanterns for Suki

Use your brightest colored crayons to make these lanterns and the fan pretty for Suki, who appeared in yesterday's drawing.

Paste the lanterns on strong thin paper, but paste the fan on a small piece of cardboard. Then cut them out. Cut each perpendicular line on the lantern between the two black bands, but leave the bands themselves uncut. Fold the lanterns across as indicated by the dotted lines. Paste the ends together as shown and put a handle of paper or ribbon on the top. They will then look like the figures in the right lower corner.

You can make other lanterns of different sizes by using these as patterns. Color the top and bottom black, as they are here, for in real Japanese lanterns these are made of shiny black wood. Make the rest of the lantern as gay in color and design as you like as the Japanese use them more to decorate their houses than to light them.

Park Developed on Virgin Islands

Nation's 29th Reserve to Show Visitors How Sugar Cane Grows

* * *

The Virgin Islands National Park, the nation's 29th, will include some 10,000 lushly forested acres on the island of St. John in the Caribbean.

Benefactor Laurance S. Rockefeller has already donated 5,000 acres and spent $2,000,000 on hotel facilities. He also plans to restore the island's old plantations so that future visitors may see how sugar cane and tropical fruits grow.

The plantation area once supported a thriving sugar empire for Denmark, says the National Geographic Society. Though the end of slavery doomed the sugar business, the Danes continued to hold the island until 1917.

SELLS TO U.S.

Then, under threat of possible German seizure, Denmark sold St. John to the United States, along with St. Croix, St. Thomas, and about 50 smaller islands which comprise the American Virgins.

Today St. John supports only a third as many people—about 750—as it did in its sugar-raising days. They lead a tranquil life untrammeled by traffic, telephones, newspapers, movie houses or supermarkets.

* * *

All but 15 per cent of the island is matted with tropical trees and bushes. Bougainvillea billows red and pink across the land, accented by canaria, hibiscus, orchids, and other exotic flowers.

Among dozens of useful plants are hat palms, bay (from which bay rum is made), plums, cashews, breadfruit, mangoes, soursops, and many tropical apples—the star apple, custard apple, sugar and bell apples.

ONE BAD APPLE

Columbus discovered the "death" apple, the manchineel, in 1493 when he found and named the Virgin Islands. His crew put their tongues to the apples, he reported, and "their countenances became inflamed, and such great heat and pain came over them that they seemed to be mad."

Having stamped out the deadly apple in all but the remotest sections, the people of St. John have removed one of the few blots on their benign islet.

They have even rid the island, though not intentionally, of many snakes. Mongooses, imported from India to exterminate rats, have gone after snakes, lizards, and baby chickens instead.

Thomas OES to Install Officers Oct. 31

THOMAS — In its recent annual meeting, Thomas Chapter OES elected officers as follows: Mrs. Jack Bennis, worthy matron; Melvin Motts, associate patron; Mrs. Yula Hallberg, associate matron; Lee Bryant, associate patron; Mrs. Lee Bryant, conductress and Mrs. Ronald Howes, associate conductress. Installation will be Oct. 31.

News in Brief

Pleading guilty to simple larceny, Robert L. Cote, 20, of 21576 Atlantic St., Van Dyke, paid a total of $35 in fine and costs and was jailed for five days Friday. He was arraigned before Royal Oak Justice Fletcher Renton.

Murton C. Van Sickle, 24, of 101 Mechanic St., was fined $10 and paid $5 court costs for running a red light yesterday. He pleaded guilty as charged before Justice Emmett C. Leib of Springfield Township.

Nothing was missing from a store at 32 Orton St. where there was an apparent breakin attempt last night, Pontiac Police said. A side window was found broken.

Car Kills 2 Boys, 4, on Port Huron Street

PORT HURON (AP)—Two 4-year-old boys walking hand-in-hand across a busy Port Huron street were struck and killed by a car yesterday less than a block from their homes.

The impact hurled the two youngsters more than 75 feet.

Youth Play 'Chicken' in Outboard Motors

VALLEY CITY, N. D. (AP)—The reckless game of "chicken" has a new twist.

The water version apparently is patterned after the jalopy game of chicken." Pilots of boats approach each other at high speeds and the one who gives way is "chicken."

An added kick is given in some instances, boat club members were informed, by adoption of a form of tilting. A boat passenger stands in the bow pointing an oar at a rival in the other craft and the kids gamble with death at close quarters.

Boat club members passed a resolution condemning such practices, urged all motorboat operators to observe water safety rules at all times and asked law enforcement agencies to crack down on violators.

OES Unit to Sponsor Farm Bureau Dinner

DAVISBURG — Austin Chapter No. 396, OES, will sponsor a dinner for the Oakland County Farm Bureau at Davisburg Masonic Temple on Oct. 15 at 7:30 p.m.

Second Grade Egg

PAPILLION, Neb. (AP)—Karl Nagel is wondering whether hens have started to grade their own eggs. He has an egg with a perfect, natural "2" on the shell.

County Deaths

Mrs. Edward LaQue

WALLED LAKE — Service for Mrs. Edward (Mary) LaQue, 58, 3258 Benstein, Oakley Park, who died suddenly at her home at 5:30 a.m. today, will be at 9 a.m. Tuesday at St. William Catholic Church with burial in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery. Rosary will be at 8:30 p.m. Monday at Richardson-Bird Funeral Home.

Surviving are her husband; her mother, Mrs. Celina Ayotte, of Windsor, Ont.; a son, Warren of Walled Lake; three daughters, Mrs. Richard Toncray Jr., of Orchard Lake, Mrs. Robert Murdy of Walled Lake and Mrs. Frank Gastomski of Detroit, and two brothers, Walter and Richard Jeffrey of Detroit.

Russia, Egypt Invited to Talks

Big Three Schedules Hush-Hush Confabs on Suez Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—The Western Big Three foreign ministers are urging Russia and Egypt today to join hush-hush U.N. talks next week for seeking agreement on a peaceful solution of the Suez Canal crisis.

* * *

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles led the way in blocking a certain Soviet veto against an Anglo-French resolution before the 11-nation Security Council, urging outright internationalization of the strategic Mideast waterway which Egypt seized last July.

Dulles secured consent of British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau to the hush-hush Suez talks of all 11 members of the Security Council and Egypt after promising to vote for the Anglo-French resolution. Dulles, however, is not coauthoring the measure.

Lloyd suggested in the opening speech on the Suez debate Friday that the Council suspend public debate on Tuesday and withdraw into secret session to consider informally the possibilities of a peaceful solution of the Suez dispute.

* * *

Under this procedure Egyptian Foreign Minister Mammoud Fawzi would be given the opportunity of presenting any new proposal on the problem which the government of President Gamal Abdel Nasser has to offer the Western allies.

There are reports Fawzi may propose creation of a canal body with user nations to fix tolls for a certain time period.

Police Probe Report of Beating by Gang

Oakland County deputies today are investigating a report that an Avon Township youth was beaten and left in a ditch by five boys following the Avondale - Lapeer game at Avondale High last night.

Arthur L. James, of 2938 Donley Rd., told officers he awoke in a ditch at the intersection of Walton and Squirrel roads. He said he had been picked up by five boys while hitchhiking in front of the Avondale School and was beaten up in the back seat.

James was treated by a doctor today for an injured nose and minor bruises.

Bicycle Rider Is Injured in Collision With Auto

Seven-year-old Dennis Vernier, of Highland, is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital with a concussion received early last night in a bicycle-car collision on Livingston Street in Highland.

The boy was reportedly riding a bicycle which was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Douglas Touchett, also of Highland.

Famous Dead Sea Scroll Region Nature's Spectacle

WASHINGTON—The region in which the famous Dead Sea Scrolls have come to light over the last nine years is one of the weirdest and most spectacular in nature.

The caves that yielded the priceless Biblical documents are hidden high in grim limestone cliffs overlooking the northwest corner of the landlocked Dead Sea.

The surface of the Dead Sea—in whose waters the down-plunging River Jordan loses itself forever—lies 1,286 feet below the level of the Mediterranean. The floor in spots is another 1,300 feet lower.

The north Dead Sea area (now held on both sides by the Kingdom of Jordan) skyrocketed to new prominence lately with the deciphering of two copper scrolls discovered there in 1952. The metal scrolls, unlike the parchment rolls and scattered fragments dealing with subjects of historic religious interest, are inscribed with cryptic directions for finding an enormous cache of gold and silver buried in the best traditions of treasure-hunt fiction.

DISCOUNT TREASURE

Scholars discount the likelihood that such a treasure still exists, as well as the possibility of locating it in a land that has changed much in 2,000 years. But the scene itself makes a dramatic backdrop for archeological adventure matched nowhere else on earth.

Hills of bone-bare chalk and black basalt rear up two to three thousand feet beside the metallic blue-green waters of the Dead Sea sinkhole. Tortured by erosion into fantastic shapes, they have a wild and desolate look.

It is easy to imagine the events they have seen: battles on the Jordan plain; the crashing walls Jericho; the destruction by fire and brimstone of the wicked cities of Sodom and Gommorah.

Under the tropical glare of the sun, strange blue-white clouds float above the Dead Sea, tangible signs of intense evaporation from this imprisoned lake that is five times as salty as the ocean.

At sunrise or sunset, the rocky terraces by the sea burst into colors ranging from flame to dusty purple. Reflected in the waters below, the impression of fire is so strong, wrote one visitor, that the sea seems to lie in the hollow of a crucible of red-hot rock.

HOT SPRINGS ABOUND

Actually, hot springs abound in the vicinity, a hint of subterranean fires and pressures. Jetting forth from sea bottom, such springs may help explain the water's high mineral content.

The caves in which scrolls have been found pierce a seared and barren shelf of land, the edge of the Wilderness of Judaea as it slopes steeply down to a salt-marsh plain at the northwest curve of the Dead Sea. Hundreds of caves thereabouts have been explored, with varing finds.

* * *

In addition, excavation of ruins at a nearby site called Khirbet Qumran has revealed links between the documents and an ascetic Jewish sect, possibly the Essenes, believe to have occupied the building between 200 B.C. and A.D. 70.

The work has given still another glimpse of nature's violent past in the Dead Sea region: it shows that destructive earthquakes shook Khirbet Quman 31 years before the opening of the Christian era.

$75,000 Court at Marlette Sets Open House

MARLETTE —The new $75,000 Town and Country Court for mobile homes will hold open house today from 2-9 p.m. The court is located a mile and a half north of Marlette, across from the Airport.

Free coffee and donuts will be served at the opening, and the Marlette Coach factories will participate in displays. Mr. and Mrs. Rex Collins will manage the Court.

Self-Service Stores Show Fast Increase

The study shows that this year there will be 8,000 retail stores shifting to self-service or self-selection.

Food stores continue to dominate self-service retailing, with 2,500 new supermarkets planned for 1956. Variety stores are next with 200 units either being built or remodeled for "check-out" selling.

Drug stores are shifting to some form of self-service at the rate of 25 a week; close to 1,000 hardware stores are finding their customers like to be their own salesmen; department stores are opening new suburban branches keyed to self-selection; and sporting good outlets, stationery stores, and dress shops are finding that eye-appealing, informative cartons boost sales and reduce costs.

Heavy Vapors Shroud Kurils

Island Chain Range of Undersea Mountains Along N. Pacific

WASHINGTON — Sailors navigate along the Kuril Islands by ear and nose as well as eye.

* * *

Foghorns and bells send out warnings from shore, for the island chain, a territorial issue in current Russo-Japanese treaty negotiations, is often shrouded in heavy vapor.

Hot springs, indicative of the volcanic origin of the islands, spew sulfur fumes into the air. These telltale fumes can be smelled as far as three miles away.

Running northeastward from the Japanese home islands to the peninsula of Kamchatka, dangling fingerlike from Siberia, the Kurils are the peaks of a great range of undersea mountains.

SIMILAR TO ALEUTIAN

They are similar in many ways to the neighboring Aleutian Islands. Craggy rocks rise from icy waters, forming a barrier more than 700 miles long between the North Pacific and the Sea or Okhotsk.

"Kuril" comes from the Russian word for smoking. Active volcanoes, as well as the mists, make the name pertinent. The Japanese call the chain "Chishima Retto" or "Thousand Islands." But only 32 are large enough to deserve that geographical designation.

* * *

Either snow or rain falls on the Kurils two out of every three days during the year. Frost lasts from Oct. 10 to June 10.

Cold ocean currents flowing south from the Bering and Okhotsk Seas meet moist air from the southern monsoon in the summer. The combination produces fog on more than half of the days of June, July and August.

Like the Aleutians, the Kurils are weather makers. Many storms that cross the Pacific and strike California are born in these islands.

Williams Defends State, Attacks Cobo

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Gov. Williams defended the state's record in attracting new industry last night and charged that Detroit is losing industry under the administration of Mayor Cobo, the Republican candidate for governor.

* * *

Williams said the state has gained 97,000 new jobs in the last 2½ years, that the industrial future of Michigan is "bright."

But in Detroit, he said, the City Planning Commission held an emergency meeting to examine the reasons for the loss of industry.

Williams said the loss has been attributed to "a lack of public planning, lack of room for expansion, inadequate parking facilities and traffic congestion."

"This is the result of policies which have been in force in Detroit for the last six years under the non-partisan Republican mayor who is now running for governor," he said.

The pulp and paper-processing industry has risen to fifth place among United States industries.

ON OCTOBER 9th AT 10:00 A.M. THE undersigned will sell at public sale for cash, one 1951 Pontiac, 2-Door, Motor No. P8UB4389 at Associates Discount Garage at 256 S. Saginaw, Pontiac, Michigan. The vehicle is stored and may be inspected at said address.

NEW QUALITY BUILT TOME

This large, attractive, 3 bedroom brick ranch home, uniquely designed, with a beautiful ledge rock front wall fireplace, surrounded by two exceptionally large picture windows in living room, is outstanding with its combination of brick veneer, glass and wood. The floor plan is well arranged to meet the spacious requirements of the most particular family. The front entrance hall, as well as the center hall, is so designed that it will allow you to go from one room to another without passing through the other rooms. It has two beautiful fireplaces, one in the living room and one in the recreation area in the basement. The tiled ceramic functional two bath is new, unique and yet extremely practical. A 12 x 14 master bedroom with 2 closets and built-in vanity. The big kitchen has a large window (almost a picture window) and grouped around it is an unusual amount of birch U-shaped cabinets. There is plenty of space for dining. Full basement, oil perimeter heat and large 2-car plastered garage. Custom built on 2 large lots with a Y-type turn around drive so that you can head into your garage and head out onto the main highway. This truly must be seen to be appreciated. Priced low for this opening. Ask salesman at house for details. Come to 2470 Walton Blvd, just past Silver Lake Rd.

No Steamship 'Dollar,' She's of $64,000 Family

By EARL WILSON

"Miss Dollar," he inquired, appraising her, "are you a member of the Dollar steamship family?"

★ ★ ★

"No," she replied, startlingly, "I'm a member of the Sixty-four Thousand Dollar family."

LYNN

Lynn, the daughter of a Bismarck, N. D., farm family, gave herself the name of Dollar long before "The $64,000 Question," of which she's hostess, was conceived.

"I just thought the name Dollar, representing money, would be easy to remember," she explains to doubters she occasionally meets. She's evidently right, because she's been on the big giveaway since it began, although, as she'll tell you, "They don't really need me except as a decoration."

Inasmuch as she earns about 25,000 Dollars a year hostessing and making personal appearances for the show, she's evidently wrong on that part.

Every Tuesday night about 7 o'clock she taxis from her West Side apartment to Studio 54, where she gets ready to help Hal March give away another fortune. I recently accompanied her from the apartment, all the furniture of which she had built with her own capable and, of course, well-manicured hands.

★ ★ ★

"I didn't start out in television," she said. "After high school, I went to California and installed radar equipment for Douglas Aircraft.

"I was real skinny and little and I could get into a lot of cockpits easily."

Romance lured her east. She got into radio and TV in Philadelphia and Trenton. She worked in Philadelphia with Ernie Kovacs, then unknown nationally. "And in Trenton I did a radio talk show—three hours of talk."

"Think of that. From three hours a night I wound up with one big line a week—and I'm the gabbiest woman in the world."

The "one line a week" she refers to is: "I'm sorry to interrupt

The "one line a week" she refers to is: "I'm sorry to interrupt, Mr. March, but we don't have enough time to complete the next full sequence."

"And that's an increase over what I used to say," she points out. "I used to say, 'Sorry, Mr. March, but time's up.'"

Miss Dollar had worked in Philly for the producers of this show, and in the beginning they thought of it as a comedy program and doubtless meant to make use of her gabbiness. Then they discovered the popularity of money over talk.

"I keep a bottle of smelling salts backstage for the contestants now, but so far I've never had to use it," she told me.

The day after the program she gets on a plane and streaks off to Amarillo, Dayton, Scranton or anywhere the sponsors send her, to address employes, greet customers in stores, make speeches, sign autographs and give interviews.

Five-feet-six inches tall, she has a "high fashion figure," being long-waisted, slender and wearing a "tall 10" dress.

Miss Dollar looks like Dinah Shore, but will never be mistaken for Jayne Mansfield or Marilyn Monroe. "This being a family show," she says, "I could never get by with a Jane Russell figure."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Buddy Hackett's fans are bringing him egg rolls at the rehearsals of his "Stanley" show . . . RKO isn't picking up her hotel tab anymore; so Barbara Nichols moved in with her folks on Long Island . . . Leslie Crane, who used to date comic Jack Carter, will marry Gaston Sigmund in Paris . . . Carole Haney will revive her cafe act before making the film, "Pajama Game."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Lee Marvin saw a film made from a best-selling novel and reported sadly, "Never judge a book by its movie."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Rob't. Q. Lewis tells of the guy who refused to drive the getaway car for a stickup mob—because his driver's license had expired . . . That's earl, brother.

Joe E. Ross, just added to the Phil Silvers show, begged director Nat Hiken not to put long words in his script. "The only long word I can pronounce," he said, "is 'delicatessen.'" . . . That's earl, brother.

Governor Suspends Curfew on Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cypurs (AP)—Gov. Sir John Harding today lifted the strict curfew that has blanketed Nicosia's teeming Greek quarter for eight days.

Police cars toured the streets of Nicosia shortly after dawn announcing over loudspeakers the curfew was ended. Greek Cypriots soon flocked into the streets and began opening shops and offices.

Some 17,000 Greek Cypriots inside the curfew area had been compelled to remain indoors day and night since Sept. 28, except for two hours a day when they were permitted to go out and buy food.

Harding said he had imposed the curfew to make Nicosia's streets "less prone to use by terrorists for their murderous purposes."

Industrial Air Worse

LONDON (INS) — A British cancer expert claims it would take 60,000 cigarettes—better than eight packs a day—to match the cancer-producing danger in breathing polluted industrial air for a year.

Dr. Philip Peacock, head of the Cancer Research Dept. at Glasgow's Royal Beatson Memorial Hospital, made the estimate in a report to the Royal Society of Medicine.

'Pecan-Picking' Test to Be Tried by Land and Air

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—A helicopter and a harvester will be used in a tree-shaking, pecan-picking experiment.

The helicopter will blow the nuts from the trees, then the harvester will move along the ground and suck up the pecans.

That's the idea. Whether it will work will be determined Wednesday.

* * *

Lewis Scott, a Savannah crop duster, will pilot the whirlybird. Arthur O. Sandison of Albany, manager of a pecan processing company, will supervise ground operations at an orchard south of Albany.

If the two machines do what they're supposed to do, the experiment may bring about a considerable reduction in pecan harvesting time.

To Build New Plant

MONROE (AP) — The Industrial Tube and Metal Products Co. of Detroit announced plans to build a new plant at nearby Dundee where it will move operations about the first of next year. The company, which makes auto parts, said it will employ about 50 at the Dundee plant.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Columbus Man Gets Daredevil Crash Job

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bill Condon, 30, of Columbus, got the job to crash headon at 45 m.p.h. with another auto at Powell Speedway. The speedway advertised for a single man under 25 to take the job. But Condon got it, despite his age and dependents—a wife and three children—because he "had previous experience," a speedway spokesman said. A story about the ad was carried coast to coast by The Associated Press and brought applicants from more than 100 daredevil volunteers in all parts of the country. Driver of the other car will be Bob Metzger, 29, also of Columbus.

Dial Hookup Extended

two-party telephone users at Ypsilanti will be able to dial direct to some 20 million telephones in this country and Canada starting Sunday, Michigan Bell Telephone Co. said Friday.

Trips, Falls to Death

Death Rattle for Snake

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — When a mother rushed her snake-bitten infant to the hospital she took along the snake to be sure the child got the right treatment. The child, Stevie Lee Paulk, 13 months, is recovering from the bite on his finger, inflicted while he was playing in his backyard. The ground rattlesnake did not fare so well. Mrs. J. R. Paulk stamped it to death before picking it up.

UM Head to Speak

ANN ARBOR (AP)—President Harlan Hatcher of the University of Michigan will address the convocation of the university's Flint College on Monday. Dean David M. French of the Flint college will preside.

Egypt Money Freeze Binds British Ships

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP)—British shipping agents at Port Said are having difficulty obtaining enough Egyptian currency to meet shipping charges on their ships using the Suez Canal.

The financial difficulties are due to the freeze on Egyptian sterling accounts in London and the Egyptian counter-measure prohibiting transfers of British sterling to accounts in Egyptian banks.

Tracy Service Today

DETROIT (AP)—Funeral services will be held today for Guy A. Tracy, 60, director of the research and statistics division of the Michigan Employment Security Commission. Tracy died Tuesday while vacationing near Crystal Lake. He was a native of Ida and a graduate of Eastern Michigan College.
