Alaskans Flee as Fire Raises Flood Peril

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Helicopters and riverboats, moving past dangling power lines, carried 10,000 Alaskans to safety from this city nine feet deep in floodwater, as the danger of fire posed a new element of disaster today.

Three persons were known dead in the flood that Gov. Walter J. Hickel said would have greater impact on the state than the Good Friday earthquake of March 1964. "Every piece of property has been touched," he said.

Firefighters, blocked by deep and swift running water, watched helplessly as six buildings burned in the downtown area yesterday. Mayor H. A. Boucher warned — "If anything major breaks out, we'd need a fireboat to fight it, and Fairbanks doesn't have a fireboat."

Weather forecasters predicted some rain late today as the Chena River, which loops through this city of 30,000, ran up to nine feet deep in the heart of the downtown business district, spilling the waters that it accumulated during four days of rain without letup.

Even if there was no more rain, one forecaster said, it would take days for the river just to return to the flood level.

FIELD RATIONS

Planes brought rations, medicine, typhoid serum for 40,000 people, and federal disaster and rescue personnel including doctors, nurses and Red Cross workers. The Army set up water purification units and handed out field rations to refugees.

A house-to-house check of every building in the flooded sections of the city — and that included virtually all of Fairbanks — was started late last night.

Boucher estimated the check would continue until well into tomorrow but said most people stranded on roofs of homes and business houses had been rescued by nightfall yesterday.

The mayor, who estimated damage starting at $150 to $200 million, said about 10,000 people were moved to evacuation centers by the Alaska National Guard, Army and civilian helicopter and boat manned by civilians, National Guardsmen and police.

Hickel and Boucher narrowly missed being swept away late yesterday when a heavy Army half-track in which they were touring the downtown area was tossed by the swift current through a downtown street.

A federal team headed for Fairbanks to inspect the city's needs at the direction of President Johnson.

Hickel asked the President yesterday to take steps necessary to declare Fairbanks and nearby Nenana, also hard-hit by the flooding Nenana and Tanana rivers, as federal disaster areas.

Both the governor and Boucher emphasized a need for quick action because of approaching winter, when temperatures dip to more than 60 degrees below zero.

City May Hike Water Rates

Because of an increase in water rates by the City of Detroit, Pontiac residents can expect a hike in their water rates.

City commissioners last night authorized a complete analysis of the present rate structure and recommendations for the future by Jones & Henry, a firm of consulting engineers.

Joseph E. Neippling, director of public works and service, said the water supply division last year had an operating deficit of $15,000. The deficit this year will be substantially larger, he said.

"Our present rate structure presents a paradox . . . being that the more water we sell, the more financial difficulty we experience," he said.

Under the contract with Detroit, the city is paying $1.39 per thousand cubic feet. Detroit gave notice this week that rates will be raised to $1.60 per thousand cubic feet effective Nov. 1.

ABSORBED BY USERS

The 15 per cent increase will no doubt be absorbed by the users. The city pumps about 16 million gallons per day to water users.

A minimum quarterly charge of $10.50 allows up to 1,500 cubic feet of water in a three-month period. The charge includes cost of sewage disposal.

Rates after that are 33 cents per 100 cubic feet more for the next 100,000, 25 cents per hundred more for above that and up to a million gallons.

Outlaw Bears Killed

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. (UPI) — The killer bears who took the lives of two attractive teen-agers last weekend were dead today, but the impact of the tragedy still made itself felt in this natural beauty spot.

Park rangers were satisfied that the four grizzlies they shot this week included the two outlaws who killed Michelle Koons of San Diego and Julie Hegleston of Albert Lea, Minn., in separate attacks.

Gunman Kills 9 of 10 in Family in Canada

SHELL LAKE, Sask. (AP) — Royal Canadian Mounted Police set up roadblocks and turned bloodhounds loose in Saskatchewan farm country today as they pressed the search for the killer of nine members of a Canadian family.

Only a 4-year-old girl was spared in the James Peterson farmhouse near Shell Lake yesterday. Bullets from a 22-caliber weapon killed Peterson, 47, his wife, Evelyn, 42, and seven of their eight children.

Storekeeper Earl Dallan of Shell Lake said the family was well-liked and hadn't "an enemy in the world."

Coroner Dr. Calvin S. Lambert of Leo-ville said, "I don't think there was a suicide" because no weapon was found. Police inspector Brian Sawyer said there was no apparent motive for the slayings.

SEARCH PARTY

Mounties set up roadblocks and were searching the surrounding bush with dogs, Sawyer said, and a search party of 250 persons was "ready to go."

The massacre was discovered by W. J. Lange, a neighbor of the Petersons, when Lange came to the one-story farmhouse to seek help with his haying. Lange found 4-year-old Phyllis unharmed in bed with two of her dead sisters.

Lange said he opened the door of the Peterson home when his knock went unanswered, adding that he thought he would find Peterson alone sleeping so late. Then Lange spotted Peterson's body by the kitchen door. The house had not been ransacked.

Lange found the keys to Peterson's 1957 station wagon and drove to Shell Lake four miles away to call police.

Dr. Lambert said all the victims had been shot with a 22-caliber gun. Police found five spent cartridges on the farm property.

Mrs. Peterson and her 1-year-old son were found dead in the front yard. "The children were slain where we found a jar," the coroner said.

The children slain were Jean, 17, Mary, 13, Dorothy, 11, Pearl, 9, William, 5, Colin, 2, and Larry, 1.

Grand Jury Ends, Indicts 8 Officer's Story of Killing Barred

By JIM LONG

Eight persons were indicted yesterday by Oakland County Grand Juror James S. Thornburn, ending the year-long investigation into alleged crime and corruption.

The output nearly equaled the total number of indictments issued since the inquiry began last August.

The indictments named:

• State Rep. Bill S. Huffman, D-Madison Heights; charged with being unlawfully employed by the Hazel Park Racing Association while serving as a member of the Legislature.

• Peter J. Bellanca of Detroit, general counsel for the Hazel Park Racing Association; charged with perjury when he appeared before the grand jury last Thursday.

• Harold Gordon, 42, of 31450 Brainerd Cliff, Franklin, a real estate developer and attorney; and Jack Salvatore, 42, a Livonia city councilman; charged with conspiracy and bribery in the rezoning of property for an apartment development in Madison Heights.

• Andrew J. Mavros, 59, of 114 First, Southfield, a horse trainer at Hazel Park Racetrack; charged with two offenses, resisting an officer and obstructing justice.

• James H. Hudnut, a Detroit attorney; and Peter N. Lazaros, 2410 Dalesford, Bloomfield Township; charged with conspiracy to obtain property under false pretense. The property according to the indictment, is the Country View Inn owned by a Charles Nuzum at 2701 Lapeer, Pontiac Township.

SEPARATE INDICTMENT

Lazaros, who according to investigators operates Dalesford Farms, Inc., 700 E. Maple, Birmingham for Hudnut, also was named alone in another indictment charging him with fraudulently obtaining a $100,000 parcel of property owned by Nuzum in Pontiac Township.

The name of one other person indicted is being withheld by authorities until he is taken into custody.

He is an alleged Mafia leader, according to a grand jury spokesman.

With the exception of Huffman and Lazaros, all those identified were arraigned yesterday on charges and then released on bond by Bloomfield Hills Justice of the Peace Jack Baldwin.

ARRAIGNED TODAY

Huffman, accompanied by his attorney, Carlton Roeser of Pontiac, surrendered himself voluntarily to State Police at the Pontiac post this morning.

He stood mute to the charge at his arraignment before Baldwin and was released on $1,000 personal bond. He demanded a preliminary court examination, but no date was set.

Lazaros was arraigned this afternoon after he also turned himself over to authorities.

The indictment against Huffman was the second issued for the 66th District representative since Thornburn succeeded Circuit Judge Philip Pratt as grand juror in June.

The first charged Huffman with soliciting a bribe regarding a liquor license while he was mayor of Madison Heights.

Partly Cloudy Skies Forecast

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts partly cloudy and mild tonight with a low of 58 to 64.

Partly cloudy and warm with a chance of late afternoon or evening thunder-showers is the prediction for tomorrow.

A chance of showers with temperatures turning cooler is the outlook for Friday.

Morning winds southwesterly at 8 to 16 miles per hour will continue.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today near zero; tonight 10, and tomorrow 20.

The low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 66. The mercury climbed to 85 by 1 p.m.

City Mulls Open Housing Ordinance

The Pontiac City Commission last night was asked to enact an open occupancy ordinance at next week's commission meeting.

The request touched off more than an hour of discussion but the meeting ended without commissioners giving any commitment to when and if such an ordinance would be considered.

Mayor Pro-Tem Leslie H. Hudson, in calling an end to the discussion, said "any member of the commission who desires to bring it up has a right to do so."

After the meeting District 1 Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr. was asked by young Negroes to introduce a motion at the meeting next week that would effect the ordinance.

Hudson also said that if the commissioners did not care to bring the question of the ordinance up, those desiring one could petition for a referendum election on the issue.

PROPRIETY QUESTIONED

Commissioners Hudson, Fowler and

John A. Dugan, District 5, all spoke of the questionable propriety and effect of an open occupancy ordinance but several Negro spokesmen implied that delays in enacting such an ordinance would merely be stalling.

Richard Northercross of 168 Astorwood, who asked for the ordinance said, "There doesn't have to be red tape to pass an open housing ordinance."

Related Stories, Page C-12

The ordinance would, he said, "give the victims of racism something to go on." He said that since there was evidence that racism is being practiced there is a need for immediate action.

Charles Tucker, past president of the Oakland County Chapter of the NAACP, who explained that he came to the meeting after hearing the question brought up on a radio broadcast of the commission meeting, urged prompt action on the request.

"If you are representatives of American government . . . then there can be an ordinance," he said. Tucker also said that the commission has in the past been asked frequently by various organizations to adopt such an ordinance.

"The last time it was referred to the Human Relations Commission and the city attorney rendered an opinion that the Michigan Civil Rights Commission preempted any ordinance," Tucker said.

He asked that the commission enact an ordinance without making it necessary for a referendum vote. "Somewhere along the line someone has to provide the leadership to give people in this community faith in human dignity."

In indicating that the city has been slow in passing ordinances that would help eliminate discrimination he said the

Ex-Pilot Charges Navy Plays Games

WASHINGTON (AP)—There's a hint of an old, enormously expensive game going on among Navy pilots operating off North Vietnam. The goals: get rid of every bomb and fly often to keep up combat records.

The Navy officially says nobody's playing it, but a former aviator says "it was common knowledge all the time

'N. Viet Air Campaign Going Well'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said today there are plenty of worthwhile bombing targets in North Vietnam and they are being hit.

"The air campaign is going well," he said.

Wheeler's comment came as President Johnson's critics and backers noted what both viewed as the emergence of a new administration position that the Vietnam war can be won only through heavier bombing of the North. Wheeler was a witness today before a closed meeting of the Senate Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee. His prepared testimony and an opening statement by subcommittee Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., were made available outside the hearing room.

Gen. Wheeler took note of recent successful air strikes against bridges, power plants and other major targets.

TARGETS AVAILABLE

"Thus," he said, "the effort is a continuing one, and I do not foresee any shortage of work while military targets as long as North Vietnam continues to be the source of manpower and the transmission center of supplies." Stennis commented that there has been an increase in the bombing of major targets in North Vietnam since the Senate inquiry began.

"The question remains, however," he said, "whether we are doing all that is militarily feasible and desirable, within established national policy, to bring the war to an end quickly as possible and thus save valuable American lives."

Wheeler said the deployment of U.S. ground troops and the air attacks on North Vietnam since 1965 had "reversed the then unfavorable trend" under way in South Vietnam.

He protested against "a tendency—especially in the press—to compartmentalize the war."

was aboard," and a ranking admiral says he got word from the top that such reported antics weren't to be tolerated.

Privately, some military officers say the practice went on in World War II and Korea and is still going on to some extent.

"About a third of our ordnance was dumped in the water, and that's a conservative estimate," said Alex Waier, 32, a chemical company analyst in Midland. His remarks were carried Tuesday by the Bay City Times in a copyrighted story.

BEAT RECORDS

Waier, an A1 Skyraider pilot aboard the carrier Ticonderoga until his discharge after nine years' service in February, said pilots were told to beat the other carriers' records on numbers of bombing missions.

"We would zip up and down the coast and unload, or dump them in the water," Waier said. "That way, the carrier would get credit for a sortie."

Waier said Navy pilots were risking their lives against cheap or worthless targets and often got sent out in dangerously foul weather on what he called meaningless missions.

Except for targets in Hanoi or Haiphong, Waier said, there are few profitable sites to hit in North Vietnam.

OFFICERS EXPLAIN

Within hours the Navy proved some top combat-proven officers to explain Waier's remarks.

Rear Adm. D. C. Richardson, commander of Task Force 77 on Yankee Station off Vietnam, until last May, denied there was any formal sortie race among Navy pilots but he indicated that plenty of enthusiastic competition was under way.

Adm. David L. McDonald, former chief of naval operations, "took me aside before I went out and said 'I've had word of sortie races and want no part of it,'" Richardson said.

Richardson said top Navy people have "been aware of this thing" for the past two years.

Panel Slates Third Hearing on Land-Fill

The third installment of the Waterford Township planning Commission's public hearing on the proposed Maceday Lake Road sanitary land-fill will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Waterford Township High School.

The session, originally scheduled for July 26, was postponed because of the Pontiac disturbances. The first two parts of the hearing were held July 6 and 18.

Thus far, those in favor of the proposed operation have called their witnesses to the stand in the court-like hearing.

Witnesses of the opposition will be asked to testify after the other side has presented its case.

Witnesses are being examined and cross-examined by J. Gerald McLean, attorney for the land-fill applicants, and Wallace D. McLean, counsel for several subdivision organizations opposing the operation.

Boost Likely in Rates for City Water

Neippling said the water rates adopted in 1963 place undue emphasis on giving an advantage to rate to bulk water users.

INCREASED CONSUMPTION

"Investigations indicate that current increases in water consumption are primarily the result of bulk water users," he said. "Increases in water consumption do not contribute enough to increased revenue, he said."

REPORT ON MEETING—West German Chancellor Kurt Kiesinger turns toward President Johnson yesterday as they held a joint news conference after the first working meeting of their talks, which conclude today.

In the background, between the men, is West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt. Diplomatic observers say the talks have radically improved relations, but on the two most delicate issues—the proposed nuclear non-proliferation treaty and the cutoff of U.S. troops in West Germany—the meeting did not yield positive results.

DETROIT MAN IDENTIFIED AS KILLER-BANDIT

A Detroit man in custody in the Oakland County Jail on a robbery charge was identified yesterday as one of two men who killed a Hamburg druggist in January, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

James E. Hayton, 26, was picked from a lineup by the druggist's son, George Reck, 19, who was wounded in the shooting that killed his father, George Reck Sr., deputies said.

State Police said two gunmen entered the Reck pharmacy Jan. 7, took money, then forced the Recks to lie on the floor.

One of the bandits stood over them and shot, according to police.

Hayton was arrested in Southfield Aug. 2 when police surprised three men during a hold-up. Hayton's brother, Darryl L. Hayton, 22, was killed when police opened fire.

Police said Reck identified Hayton from a photograph before picking him out of the lineup of seven Oakland County Jail prisoners.

A warrant charging Hayton with first-degree murder will be sought today in Livingston County, where the killing took place, police said.

UAW Demotes Key Bargainer

Head of GM Team Backed Skilled Protest

DETROIT (AP)—Indications are growing that militant skilled tradesmen may snarl peaceful new contract settlement within the auto industry.

Apparently taking cognizance of this, the United Auto Workers union demoted the chairman of its General Motors negotiating team Tuesday night for "association with activities" of a rebellious skilled trades group within the UAW.

Joseph Malotke of Warren, Mich., was fired as chairman. Glen Stack of Flint, Mich., was named to succeed him. The union said Malotke remains a member of its GM bargaining team.

Both Stack and Malotke are skilled tradesmen. Malotke could not be reached for comment.

DEMONSTRATION

Malotke endorsed a demonstration planned for a week from today by the United Skilled Trades Committee, formerly known as the "41-an-Hour-Now Committee," headed by Christopher Manning, president of Malotke's home local.

Members of Manning's committee are UAW members and their demonstration is planned at headquarters of Ford Motor Co. to impress UAW bargainers there and elsewhere of a determination by the skilled tradesmen to get a substantial wage boost beyond any general increase in new contracts.

OU Students Given New Tuition Details

Oakland University students income per semester but not less than $177.

Michigan undergraduate students who are married and under 21 years of age and students over 21 and not receiving support from parents or guardians may also qualify for reduced fees by submitting applications.

Full-time nonresident undergraduates will be charged $600 tuition per term plus $12 in other fees.

OU students are also hit with increased housing and parking fees on top of the controversial tuition plan which was passed by the Michigan State University trustees who also govern OU.

To qualify for a fee reduction, a student must submit a copy of his parents' 1966 federal income tax return and all relevant W-2 forms.

State Rep. William P. Hampton, R-Bloomfield Hills, has asked Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley to rule whether parents can legally refuse to disclose their income.

Students who qualify for the reduced fee will pay 14 per cent of gross annual parental income.

Grand Juror Ends Probe, Indicting 8

The newest indictment charges that Huffman received an excessive sum of money from the racing group from August 1963 to August 1965 while there were bills pending before the Legislature which directly or indirectly benefited the Hazel Park Racing Association.

Conviction of the offense carries a maximum four-year prison term.

The grand jury claims that Bellanca lied when asked if he had solicited business from anyone who had been called before the grand jury.

Gordon and Salvatore are accused of paying $4,000 to two former Madison Heights councilmen, Antonio Brannoff and Roman Nowicki, for the purpose of influencing their votes on the rezoning of property on 14 Mile Road and the I-75 expressway to a multiple dwelling classification.

In another grand jury development yesterday, John Johns, 53, of 818 Pinchurst, Ferndale, was found guilty of contempt of court by Circuit Judge Farrell E. Roberts for refusing to answer questions posed by Thorne. He was sentenced to one year in the Oakland County Jail and fined $1,000.

Youth Acquitted of Sex Slayings

DETROIT (AP)—A juvenile court judge has acquitted a 15-year-old boy in the sex slaying of two small sisters on the grounds that glue-sniffing had made the boy temporarily insane.

The two sisters were killed in suburban Westland.

Wayne County Juvenile Court Judge James Lincoln said, "The boy is not guilty of the charge of murder by reason that he was incapable of controlling his actions at the time of the killings."

Birmingham Area News

Water Rates Increased Due to Detroit Fee Hike

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—The Township Board has ordered an increase in water rates that will cost the average home user about 10 1/2 per cent extra.

The move followed hiking of rates for water bought by the township from the Detroit water system.

The cost of Detroit water went up about 15 per cent. The lower amount of increase to be charged to township users is a result of cutting rates for sewer use.

The board also approved a proposed plat for a research park subdivision. The plan is for property south of Miracle Mile on Telegraph which is zoned for that specific use.

No announcement of the exact type of development planned for the site has been given.

EMERGENCY GENERATOR

The board authorized purchase of an emergency generator to provide power to township police, fire, and administration facilities in the event of commercial power failure. Cost of the equipment was estimated at $15,000.

Licenses for operations at Devon Gables, 1116 W. Long Lake, were officially transferred to the new owner and operator of the restaurant, Herb Crow.

The Township Board will meet jointly with Bloomfield Hills School District officials at 8 tonight.

The officials will discuss a program for handling of juvenile cases.

It is planned to work out a program between school and township to help the youngster who appears "headed for trouble," according to officials.

Firemen Find Body of Man

Firemen found the body of a 52-year-old Pontiac man at the scene of an early-morning blaze today in a city apartment building.

He was identified as Maxwell Vaughn, who occupied the apartment where the fire broke out at 574 W. Huron about 4:50 a.m.

Fire officials said it was not yet determined whether Vaughn died of smoke inhalation or of a heart attack.

Fire Marshal Charles Metz said it is possible Vaughn was smoking in bed and suffered a heart attack, with the blaze a result.

Building Manager Kenneth Karnes, 43, who Metz said called the fire with three extinguishers before firemen were called, suffered burns and smoke inhalation.

Big Stock Week

The largest number of stock shares ever traded on the New York Stock Exchange in a single week—$7,386,715—were exchanged during the week of July 10-14, 1967.

FAIR CONDITION

He is in fair condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The fire was contained in Vaughn's apartment, causing some $2,000 to the building and another $800 to contents, according to Metz.

However, smoke damage to the rest of the building was estimated at $1,000.

Walled Lake Will Get Multideck 'Downtown'

WALLED LAKE — "You are the coming city of the Detroit fringe area," a major developer of "new Walled Lake" told the City Council last night.

And with that, Gray Graham of Gray Graham and Associates, Inc., Detroit, unveiled sketches of a multiple-decked "downtown," termed a Spira-Mart. The city will strike a first with the development expected to open in late 1968.

Construction of the Spira-Mart is slated to begin late this year. The complex has already received full approval of the city, City Manager Royce Downey said.

The development will localize the city's stores in an area east of Pontiac Trail, between 14 Mile and 15 Mile.

The first stage of the downtown is to be a minimum of 450,000 square feet and house a minimum of 20 stores, Graham explained.

CITY'S GROWTH

About 60 stores are expected to fill "the major regional shopping center" within several years, Graham said. Development of the second stage "will follow the city's growth," he added.

Although the developer wouldn't reveal the names of businesses interested in locating in the downtown development, he said that several highly regarded merchants are seeking admittance.

"We won't put any cheap merchandisers in the facilities," Graham declared. He also said that he will give local merchants the opportunity to participate in Spira-Mart.

Graham and Associates are planning a "mix of tenants to meet the needs of everyone in the area."

The setting for this "mix" is unique. The facility will be on several levels surrounding a large inner courtyard. Inclined ramps spanning the courtyard will connect the levels.

In addition, escalators and elevators will carry customers between floors. This design provides "wide visibility for all stores," Graham said.

A parking deck will be adjacent to the vertical shopping facility. Graham is also planning package pickup stations connected with the parking area.

The entire complex will be centrally heated and air-conditioned, Graham said. But each merchant will have separate storage space.

TRANSPORTATION EXPERT

A report from a transportation expert, Tom Gardner, followed Graham's presentation and underscored the city's rapid growth.

"The city is in the path of a tremendous population explosion and will become a population density center soon," Gardner said.

Gardner based his projections on the completed and expressways connecting Toledo and Flint, and Detroit and Flint.

"Warehouses, trucking, distribution and recreation can be centered in the city," Gardner said.

3,913,000 SHOPPERS

He has computed that about 3,913,000 people are within 40 minutes of Walled Lake shopping. He pointed out that this figure is at least one million more than people within 40 minutes of shopping at 8 Mile and Woodward, and near the center of Detroit.

The Spira-Mart is part of Walled Lake's broad improvement plan. Projects now completed include a city hall which has consolidated all city departments — fire station, police department, city manager's office, the Municipal Court and the city library.

The city is preparing an 11-acre park, the first of three. It is between Decker and South Commerce, north of Pontiac Trail, and is expected to be ready by late this summer.

Other plans include a joint sewer system with the village of Novi and expansion of the water system.

Rezoning has been approved for three apartment projects, a 600-acre industrial park, and the downtown shopping area between Maple and the lake front.

Sewer System Pacts Signed

WALLED LAKE — The City Council last night signed the contracts for a joint sanitary sewer system with the Village of Novi to be constructed by the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

Novi has already signed the contracts. The $4.4-million project is expected to be completed by December 1968, said Walled Lake City Manager Royce C. Downey.

The council also accepted bids for concrete curb, gutter and pavement of the north half of Common Street. Bids were referred to the city engineer for review.

The council decided to circulate petitions for sanitary land-fill of a swamp south of Pontiac Trail near Decker Road. If approved, this would provide Walled Lake with a dump, said Downey.

Shelby Fire Dept. OKs $1,000 Hike in Base Salaries

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — The township fire department has ratified a $1,000 increase in base firefighters' salaries plus a 6 per cent differential between ranks.

The increases are retroactive to July 1.

Base salary has been adjusted from $7,000 to $8,000. The top salary of $9,500 for captain's rank was accepted, plus about $200 annually in fringe benefits.

Negotiations were completed at 1 a.m. this morning between department representatives and the township board.

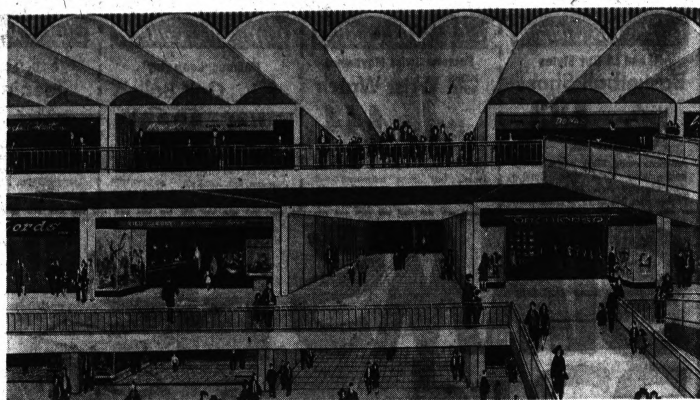

Deadline Is Extended

LEONARD — The village council has extended the tax collection deadline a month until Oct. 1 to give residents further opportunity of meeting village tax bills.

Councilmen were to decide which sidewalks were in need of repair and up to $1,000 was allotted for the work.

Car Backs Over Child

PULLMAN — Linda Lopez, 21-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amado Lopez of near Pullman, was killed yesterday when a car backed over her in a driveway near her home.

Sketch Shows Multilevel Development Planned For Walled Lake.

Holly School Lunches Up

HOLLY TOWNSHIP — The school board has raised the price of school lunches five cents across the board for this fall.

The district had a $5,000 deficit in its school lunch program last year. It will be the first hike in lunch prices since 1952.

Costs will be: 35 cents for elementary students; 40 cents for junior and senior high; and 50 cents for adults.

The board has set two public hearings to explain the district's position on the upcoming seven-mill request for operating millage.

The election will be Aug. 31. A 10-mill request lost in two previous elections. Those requests included a 3-mill increase. The present request is for renewal of operating millage which expired.

At stake is about one-fifth of the district's operating money. To explain the need for the millage to voters meetings will be held at 8 p.m. Monday at the high school and at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Davisburg Elementary.

Utica School Contracts OK'd

UTICA — All employee contracts with the school board were ratified yesterday when members of the operation, maintenance and transportation departments accepted about a 5 per cent across-the-board increase.

Teachers in the Utica district settled last spring, one of the first groups to do so.

Thus the way was cleared for formal approval of the district's revised budget of $9.9 million. Income is pegged at $24,000 over that figure, and that, plus a $300,000 surplus, has put the district in good standing, according to the administrative finance officer.

In other business, Daniel Barron, 38, of 41341 Mary, Utica, was appointed principal of Dresden Elementary School, Sterling Township.

Cemetery Ordinance

LAKE ORION — A new cemetery ordinance providing for the upkeep of the village's two cemeteries in accordance with state law has been adopted here.

The council also made provision for appointment of a cemetery board, the names to be made public at the Aug. 28 meeting.

Pontiac Twp. OKs Planners

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — A new planning commission has been approved by the Township Board.

It replaces the one named by former Supervisor Leonard Terry, which was a throw-in on a technically shortly after present Supervisor Roy Wahl took office.

The current members, approved over the dissenting vote of Trustee John C. Richardson, are Arthur Petersen, 56 Rosette; James Hulen, 3770 Churchill; Dr. Stanley Slewik, 5346 Auburn; and Carr Harrison, 596 Doris.

Others are John Cox, 2218 Phillips; John Zoch, 2899 Edna Jane; Wilburn Johnson, 3430 Baldwin; and Norman De Haven, 1230 Taylor. Trustee Claude D. Arnet Jr., is the board representative on the commission.

The only holdover from Terry's appointment list is John Zoch.

Richardson claimed he had no voice in the selection of names, despite Wahl's contention that trustees had been asked for their selections. Richardson also charged "politics" in the creation of the new commission.

The board terminated its contract with McAlpine Engineering Inc. of Birmingham as township engineers and hired instead the firm of John E. Hiltz and Associates of Detroit.

The reason cited for the change was the resignation of township resident Bernard Feldhauser from the McAlpine firm. Feldhauser had handled most of the township business. He has gone into business for himself in an area remote from the township, it was announced.

A study of the township's primary roads was asked of the county in an effort to determine priority needs on road repair.

Mayor Opposes Citizens' Corps

ROCHESTER — Mayor Roy Rewold has declared himself opposed to the Public Safety Corps forming in Avon Township.

Said he, "The city is not interested in participating in such a group. We feel law enforcement should be left in the hands of trained officers."

Councilman Samuel Howlett, ex-Rochester police chief, said, "The whole idea doesn't deserve comment."

The corps has been proposed as a 1,000-man citizen riot control committee in the township.

In other business the council put on first reading a proposed sewer ordinance which would require a $100 connection charge.

Up until now the city has had no connection fee except in relation to Avon Center Hospital and Stony Creek Metropolitan sewer lines. Those two are exempted from the amendment.

Crash Kills Cyclist

Apartment Zoning Denied

TROY — The City Commission has denied a rezoning bid for a $3-million apartment for the elderly.

The firm, New Life, Inc., wanted to build a 14-story building on Maple near Livernois for a nonprofit operation that has the backing of two church groups.

The planning commission had approved rezoning the land from commercial to high-rise. However, the commission followed a previous decision on the matter and vetoed the project.

Developers indicated they will seek a different location for their project within the city.

The plan was first presented over two years ago and the land rezoned. However, when the organization failed to proceed with construction plans, the commission rezoned the land back to commercial.

State Finance Board Approves Local Bonds

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan Municipal Finance Commission yesterday approved applications for $11.24 million in local bonding programs, including a $4.49 million plan for improving major streets in Detroit.

General obligation and special assessment bonds were approved for Roseville, $1.3 million for street improvements; Madison Heights, $306,000 for a new police headquarters; and Beverly Hills, $49,000 for street improvements.

Almont Rezones for Trailer Park

ALMONT — The way was cleared last night for construction of a mobile home park on 42 acres in the northwest section of the village.

The village council rezoned the land from agriculture to general business. The new category permits such parks under a variance. There was no objection.

Eugene King, village manager, said the petitioner, Wilbur Lane of Almont Township, would be required to present plans to the building department for final approval.

Less than 10 people were present for last night's meeting despite a record turnout earlier this month when creation of the zoning provision allowing mobile home parks was considered.

Veteran Lawman Dies

BUCHANAN — Services for Lt. Robert Rinker, 59, a 34-year veteran of the Berrien County Sheriff's Department will be held here Friday. Rinker died Monday at a Petoskey hospital after being stricken while on a camping trip.

He had been in poor health for two years and on sick leave from the department for the past two months. Survivors include his wife, Mary Jane.

LAND FILLED IN — Operators of Peel's Second Hand Store on Auburn, east of Opdyke in Pontiac Township have filled in a former swamp at the rear of their property with debris. They claim they intend to cover it over and develop the site in the future. However they have been cited by authorities for operating a dump without a license.

Family Is Angered by Junk-Law Arrest

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Enforcement of the township's junk ordinance resulted in the arrest Monday evening of Everett Peel, 48, 2175 Auburn. The action had repercussions at the township meeting later.

The family of Peel, the latter accused of operating a dump without a license, appeared at the meeting contending that Supervisor Roy Wahl had personally had Peel thrown in jail.

Wahl replied he was the enforcing officer of the township and he intended to do his job.

He charged the dump operation behind Peel's secondhand shop on Auburn east of the Opdyke intersection was in violation of township, county and state health laws.

The arrest of Peel comes hours earlier on the health charge, along with a secretary of state warrant for failure to surrender his driving license, had set off another chain of events.

Sheriff's deputies also arrested Peel's son, Alan, 18, on a charge of assaulting a police officer. Sheriff's Department reports read that the younger Peel swung at Officer Gregory Putnam when the officer attempted to arrest the elder Peel, and that woman in the Peel family had also attempted to prevent the arrest.

The elder Peel, arraigned Tuesday morning before Justice R. Grant Graham of Pontiac Township, pled not guilty to the charge of operating a dump without a license and Graham set his examination for Sept. 1. Peel posted a $100 personal bond.

Sentence on the failure to surrender his driver's license was deferred by Graham until Sept. 15. Peel had pled guilty to the charge.

Peel was then taken before Judge Helmar Stanback of Orion Township on a charge of resisting arrest. He pled not guilty. Examination was set for Aug. 21 and Peel was required to post a $2,000 bond.

The younger Peel, also taken before

Stanback, pled not guilty to assaulting an officer. Bond was set at $2,000 and examination was slated for Aug. 21.

A warrant has also been issued against the younger Peel in regard to traffic violations, but as of this morning it had not been served.

A spokesman for the Peel family yesterday contended their "land-fill" operation on Auburn Road was a private undertaking on private property.

The land behind the secondhand store was a low-lying swamp, but is now almost completely filled in with debris.

The spokesman said the land, about two acres, will be covered over with dirt and be available for future development.

Bloodmobile Slates Aug. 31 Visit

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Supervisor Roy Wahl has declared Thursday, Aug. 31, as Blood Donor Day for residents of the area.

A Red Cross Bloodmobile will be conducted from 2 to 8 p.m. that day at the Township Hall, 2060 Opdyke.

Wahl said that last year only 38 pints of blood were collected during the bloodmobile visit.

"We hope to collect at least 150 pints during this visit," said Robert Grumick, general chairman. "Thirty pints of blood is not enough for a population of 11,000."

Center Answers Call for Nurses

One of the most productive and successful federally financed programs in the Pontiac area is the Pontiac Practical Nurse Center. It's a manpower training program administered by the Pontiac School District with funds made available by the Manpower, Development Training Act of 1962.

The center began operating here in July, 1963. Its first graduating class numbered 25. Earlier this month it graduated two classes totaling 73 practical nurses. Since its inception the Practical Nurse Center has graduated 263.

Under the excellent direction of Mrs. ESTHER SHERRON, the program has an enviable record of accomplishment. Last year the average grade of graduates in their state board licensing examinations ranked third in Michigan.

This is outstanding for a manpower training program when you consider they compete with private and vocational schools. Without any expansion of hospital facilities in this area, the need is still great for nurses. However, that need becomes critical with construction of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital's new addition several years ago, the more recent addition to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, the all new Rochester Branch of Crittenton General Hospital, and the new emergency facility under way at Pontiac General Hospital.

Add to this the constantly increasing use of nursing and convalescent homes for post-hospital care, and you have a real crisis in the supply of nurses.

The need is evident, judging from the salaries. Local graduates, after passing their state board licensing exams, make from $5,000 to $9,000 annually, according to Mrs. SHERRON. She points out that this is the only program of any kind for practical nurses in Oakland County.

While the Pontiac School District is to be commended for administering the program, it would seem that the size of the present program is far too small to satisfy the urgent need for more trained practical nurses.

It might be much more feasible and sensible to have a larger institution, such as Oakland Community College, assume the role of administering this program so as to enlarge the scale on which it can operate.

Administration Pulls Switch on Railroads

The administration would appear to be playing both ends against the middle in its views toward this nation's railroads.

After many months of negotiating, the railroads and six unions representing some 137,000 workers reached an impasse last month. A strike ensued. The administration threw its collective hands up in horror, admonishing the negotiators. Congress hastily passed a law July 17 to end a two-day walkout and set up a presidential board, which was given 30 days to bring about a negotiated settlement.

Meanwhile, railroads have been pleading for a freight rate increase to offset increasing costs. At the same time, the administration has discouraged rate hikes "in the light of the national interest in promoting price stability."

It was also in much this same light that the administration intervened in rail negotiations.

In any case, the Interstate Commerce Commission ignored administrative protests and authorized a $300-million annual freight increase for the railroads. In doing so, the ICC stated it found present rates "clearly" inadequate to provide the carriers with sufficient revenues, under economical and efficient management to meet the needs of the commerce of the United States and its national defense.

Two contradicting conclusions might be reached here.

First, a rate hike opposed by the administration might help to settle a labor dispute, also opposed by the administration.

Secondly, the same administration that is preaching a 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes in the name of national defense, doesn't seem to think a rate hike to rail corporations is necessary to meet the needs of commerce and national defense. Obviously, the ICC didn't agree.

Public Opinion Polls Chill LBJ

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Those were President Johnson's golden days, 1965. This summer of 1967 is hot; but they are the cold days, getting colder. If he pays attention to public opinion, and he does, it's enough to make him shiver.

Starting out in 1966 he had it all his own way, thanks to the 1964 elections. In Congress his Democrats swamped the Republicans, with 295 to 149 seats in the House, and 67 to 33 seats in the Senate, a two-thirds edge. No wonder then, with these majorities and his ceaseless prodding, the Democratic-run Congress produced the most remarkable legislative year in history. And he had time for prodding in those days. The Vietnam war was in babyhood.

He had just begun the U. S. military buildup in 1965, with only 165,000 Americans there by the end of the year. He was criticized for being involved in the war at all, but his standing with the voters was high.

In the first six months of 1967, for example, when it was clear the troop buildup had begun in earnest, the Gallup poll showed public approval of the way he handled his job dropped from 71 to 64 per cent.

But by June public approval was back up to 70 per cent. This couldn't last unless Congress was able to repeat its amazing performance in 1966 or unless the war somehow could be brought to a quick and victorious end. Neither happened.

A NIGHTMARE
Congress coasted in 1966 and there were no victories in Vietnam. The war became a nightmare. The troop buildup went on. There was more discontent at home.

This was reflected in the 1966 elections, giving back to the Republicans 48 House seats, three Senate seats. The Johnson breeze in Congress died away. He prodded less as he became more preoccupied by the war.

Congress dawdled this year, just as it did in 1966. The war criticism piled up on Johnson. The doves were still complaining. But so were the hawks now. They wanted Johnson to make the war tougher. He began talking of a war dragging on indefinitely. The American death toll in Vietnam went up from 1,365 at the end of 1965 to over 12,500 now. And already there is a bad odor from the upcoming elections in Vietnam.

SHINING SYMBOL
They were supposed to have been a shining symbol of how the United States, which claimed it was fighting the war to assure the South Vietnamese of self-determination, was helping the people establish a democratic society.

On top of the empty basket from Congress, the end-loss war, and Johnson's realization that he had to ask for a tax boost to pay for the war, he was drenched in the summer of 1967 with riots, the worst in history.

Few can doubt he wants to be reelected in 1968 but the Gallup and Harris polls over the weekend must have chilled his blood. Both reported that now only 49 per cent of those quizzed approved the way he handles the presidency.

Perhaps a major reason for this sour public reaction is lack of forceful leadership. Johnson and the country, instead of giving a sense of movement, seem to be marking time.

Clear As Crystal

David Lawrence Says:

SE Asia 'Marshall Plan' Needed

WASHINGTON — It's costing $26 billion a year to carry on the war in Vietnam. There's a better way to use the money. The funds could be applied constructively instead of destructively — and both Red China and North Vietnam also could benefit from the change from war to peace.

The time has come for the United States government to propose a "Marshall Plan" for Asia that would transcend anything which has been suggested heretofore. Up to now, the proposals for aid outlined by President Johnson in his speeches have dealt with relatively small sums and only in general terms with the development of Southeast Asia.

There has been no comprehensive program devised as yet to enlist the cooperation of the North Vietnamese and their allies.

What is needed, first of all, is a pledge by the United States that, if the war is ended, the equivalent of a substantial part of the amounts expended at present in the Vietnam war — possibly half — will be contributed to a general fund which could be used to reconstruct the whole of Vietnam under an independent government.

To assure confidence in the sincerity and disinterestedness of the United States, the plan could be administered by an alliance of nations consisting primarily of the United States, Great Britain, Japan, Australia, the Soviet Union and representatives of the governments of Red China and Nationalist China.

Such a commission could disburse the money on the condition that North and South Vietnam would lay down their arms and concentrate on self-development, so that facilities for education, agriculture and industrial production, as well as the distribution of food to the poverty-stricken, would be provided and a start made toward the attainment of economic stability.

President Johnson helped to establish the Asian Development Bank in Manila, with Japan and 31 nations sharing the leadership in making low-cost loans for capital improvements throughout the area.

The United States offered a billion-dollar contribution for the building of a system of dams in the Mekong Delta to provide electric power.

But no plan yet has penetrated the minds of the North Vietnamese. While comments occasionally have been made about reconstructing Asia, the idea has not been pursued through the channels of diplomacy as a prize to be won by the making of a peace agreement that would end the war in Vietnam.

Development schemes have been suggested for Thailand, Laos, Cambodia and South Vietnam, but there will not be peace until a far-reaching program of financial and economic help is formulated and all factions of the Vietnam see people join together behind the project.

Bob Considine Says:

Mother's Letter to Rocky Decries Evils of Racism

NEW YORK — Wrote a note to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller recently asking for the text of a letter his mother sent to him and his brothers when they were schoolboys. He responds:

"I agree with you that mother's letter is a wonderful CONSIDINE, one and am delighted to send along the copy you requested."

The letter:
Dear John, Nelson, and Lawrence:

For a long time I have had very much on my mind and heart a certain subject I meant to bring it up at prayers and then later have it for a question to be discussed at a family council; but the right time, because of your father's illness, has never seemed to come.

Out of my experience and observation has grown the earnest conviction that one of the greatest causes of evil in the world is race hatred or race prejudice; in other words, the feeling of dislike that a person or a nation has against another person or nation without just cause, an unreasonable aversion is another way to express it.

SUFFER MOST

The two peoples of race who suffer the most from this treatment are the Jews and the Negroes; but some people "hate" the Italians, who turn hate the Yugoslavs, who hate the Austrians, who hate the Czechoslovaks, and so it goes endlessly.

You boys are still young. No group of people has ever done you a personal injury; you have no inherited dislikes. I want to make an appeal to your sense of fair play and to beseech you to begin your lives as young men by giving the other fellow, be he Jew or Negro or of whatever race, a fair chance and a square deal.

It is to the disgrace of America that horrible lynchings and race riots frequently occur in our midst. The social ostracism of the Jew is less brutal, and yet it often causes cruel injustice and must engender in the Jews a smoldering fire of resentment.

Put yourselves in the place of an honest, poor man who happens to belong to one of the so-called "despised" races. Think of having no friendly hand held out to you, no kindly look, no pleasant, encouraging word spoken to you.

What I would like you always to do is what I try humbly to do myself: that is, never to say or do anything which would wound the feelings or the self-respect of any human being, and to give special consideration to all who are in any way repressed.

Trial Issue

Los Angeles Times

Recommendations of the American Bar Ass'n's advisory committee on fair trial and free press apparently are sacrosanct in the mind of its chairman, Justice Paul C. Reardon of Massachusetts.

At the ABA convention in Honolulu, the jurist made it clear that the committee will not be deterred from pushing for a clampdown on release of information by law enforcement agencies and attorneys in connection with crimes.

That should be disturbing indeed to all concerned with constitutional law.

The Reardon committee recommends that strictures be placed on the release of crime news by internal regulation, or imposed by courts if these rules are not adopted within a reasonable time.

Surely the Constitution vests no authority in the bar or the bench to make such an invasion of the executive branch. Nor can the committee cite justification for such a proposal in high court rulings.

The Supreme Court has repeatedly rejected imposition of prior restraint in the absence of a clear and present danger. Yet the Reardon report proposes exactly that.

'Appreciate Donations of Clothing for Needy'

As coordinator for Parent Involvement Pontiac Head Start, I recently called upon several churches to assist our program in gathering clothing for needy families in Pontiac. It has been a heartwarming experience to see the responses to our plea.

Many have left clothing at our "clothes closet" without mention of name or organization. We appreciate these people who have given so freely.

Our program could not meet these needs without such help.

'Slow-Moving Truck Caused Traffic Delay'

On Saturday a Boys' Club truck was on M59 where it's posted for 30 miles an hour and he was driving 33. Eight or ten cars became bunched behind him. Then when he passed the airport, instead of going to the right where slow-moving vehicles like his are supposed to be, he stayed in the lane near the center.

The Boys' Club needs good will and assistance. This kind of public demonstrations guarantee the opposite.

Ceramic Displays Taken at Recent Fair

I have read about awards and honors given at the Oakland County 4-H Fair. These kids have done a great job and so have leaders and parents. However, an award should have been given to any person who helped himself to the beautiful ceramic items. I hope he enjoys them and can visualize the heartache these kids are feeling. My daughter is only eleven and when she went to pick up her display, she found half of it had been taken.

Comments on Comparing Events With Bible

I am sure members of our community were impressed by Mrs. Torrey's pedantic mastery of the Bible when they read her recent Voice letter. However, comparing Pontius Pilate to "the men in high places who passed the buck while Detroit burned" spills over the borders of absurd. I hope that Mrs. Torrey's next letter will supply readers with a trifle of support for her imaginative analogies.

Question and Answer

I seem to be reading about counterfeiting a lot lately. Is there more of it these days, or does it just seem like it because there's better reporting?

CURIOS

REPLY

Far be it from us to deny there's better reporting. However, counterfeiting did reach an all-time high in 1966. According to a report by the Secret Service director, this is due largely to the ease with which large amounts of counterfeit money can be produced by technicians of limited ability. The report also says counterfeiting usually follows the rise of affluence and the amount of currency in circulation.

Associate Justice Tom Clark, who wrote the majority opinion in the Sheppard case, takes a dim view of the ABA committee proposal.

He insists that prior to the time a court acquires jurisdiction over a case, discretion as to what shall be released to the press rests with the prosecutor and the police.

It should be noted, also, that a special committee of the Bar of the City of New York has held judicial control of pre-trial publicity to be both unconstitutional and unwise.

A member of the Reardon committee explains that there is no desire to put "morons" on juries and that "all we ask is that they be ignorant of the details in the particular case."

In this regard, the Supreme Court has held that it is not required that jurors be totally ignorant of the facts involved in a case — "it is sufficient if they can lay aside impressions and render a verdict based on the evidence presented in court."

A somewhat similar view was expressed in the British House of Lords by the Lord Chief Justice in commenting on a proposal to further limit pre-trial reporting in that country.

The answer lies not in codes, certainly not in court strictures on one or all parties, but rather in the exercise of a decent self-restraint on the part of the bench, the bar and the press.

The common goal of all concerned is assurance of a fair trial. It should be obvious to all that in the absence of a free press there may not be a fair trial.

In its Sheppard decision the Supreme Court noted that over several centuries the responsible press has established an impressive record of service as "the hand-maiden of effective judicial administration, especially in the criminal field."

"The press... guards against miscarriage of justice by subjecting police, prosecutors and judicial processes to extensive public scrutiny and criticism."

In the final analysis the aim of fair trial and of free press is truth and justice. To impair one such constitutional right will surely in time impair the other.

Controversial Publisher Reflects

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — In a time when most people live by the motto "Play It Safe," publisher Lyle Stuart is making a fortune out of being controversial.

"I'm iconoclastic — I get angry about things," said Stuart, a plump, mild-mannered man of 44 who feels an inborn need to battle all forms of what he regards as authoritarianism.

"The one thing we have that other publishers lack is courage or foolhardiness. We try to concentrate on books that challenge the taboos, the mores, and the economic and political structure."

By seeking out the kind of books that other publishers avoid, Stuart said that his firm—founded only 11 years ago with $3,000—now grosses nearly $1.5 million annually, nets about $250,000. Recently, he said he turned down a $2 million offer for it.

Among the 120 volumes he has printed are 11 sex guides—"I only read the first one myself"—the speeches of Fidel Castro, books on flying saucers, books critical of America's foreign policy.

His latest twitting of the establishment is "Inside the FBI," written by a former agent for J. Edgar Hoover who retired to practice law.

"I'm thinking of having it turned into a Broadway musical," said Stuart.

"I don't believe I'll have any trouble finding backers. When you're a winner, people with money knock on your door, wanting to be partners."

UPCOMING BOOKS

Upcoming on his publishing list are "The Rich and the Super Rich," by sociologist Ferdinand Lundberg, and an expose-type book on the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, "Spy Government," which the publisher complacently described as "dynamite."

"Yes, I get angry about things," said Stuart, "and particularly injustice. I am not political, although I'm against all dictatorships. But I believe everything should be published. Good taste will then impose its will, and the trash will be discarded by the public after the novelty wears off."

"Each year we publish a number of young writers we know we'll lose money on. But as an old frustrated novelist, I like to encourage the young ones."

Stuart came up the hard way in the book world. Left fatherless at the age of 6, he quit school at 17 because "I was tired of the family being on relief."

TORPEDED TWICE

He clerked in a bookstore, was torpedored twice as a merchant seaman. He worked for "Variety," wrote scripts for the Voice of America, turned out several ghosted biographies and an unsuccessful novel, then served as business manager for a chain of comic books before venturing into publishing on his own.

"When I was poor, I was very conservative," he recalled.

Stuart still lives modestly in a $120 a month apartment, drives an inexpensive car, but once a year likes to splurge by taking his entire staff of 20 on a vacation trip to Acapulco, Jamaica. There everybody, from the office boy on up, wines and dines like a millionaire—at Stuart's expense.

He also has installed a profit-sharing plan for his employees, and gives them midyear as well as Christmas bonuses.

NOT A GRIND

"I don't believe life should be just one long grind," said Stuart. "Anyway, it pays off. I get calls all the time from employees of other publishers who want to go to work for us."

Cigarette sales in Japan increased in 1966 about 5.7 per cent.

Negro Says 2-Party System Boosting Riots, Black Power

Now Many Wear
FALSE TEETH
With More Comfort

WASHINGTON (AP)—California's first Negro state senator blames the two major political powers for this summer's riots and what he said was growing Negro advocacy of Black Power.

"Negroes are the victims of the two-party system," said Sen. Mervyn Dymally, a Democrat and national cochairman of the recently organized National Conference of Negro Elected Officials.

"The Democrats take Negro votes for granted and they're afraid of the white backlash. The Republican party simply lacks the will to help wipe out the Negro ghettos," Dymally said in an interview.

As a result, he contended, elected Negro officials aren't able to show their voters rapid enough progress. "And hope gives way to hopelessness, and then to resentment and finally to Black Power and riots."

FORMER TEACHER
Dymally, 41, a Trinidad native and former schoolteacher elected to the California Senate last year, cited his own experiences as an example of what he called his party's failure to respond to Negro officeholders.

He noted he was elected by an 82 per cent majority while Republican Ronald Reagan was winning California's governorship by one million votes.

"Now you'd think the Democratic party would want to preserve such solid support by consulting with and working through the elected representative. But I have virtually no contact with the national party," he said.

"And because they ignore me and other elected Negro officials, we simply can't produce the legislation and the programs that are needed. The voters know this so they turn to another method than politics—and mostly it's Black Power."

CAN'T STOP RIOTS

"That's why it's ridiculous for white leaders to call on moderate Negro leaders to stop the riots," he said. "They should know better than anyone that we can't produce."

Dymally predicted defeat of President Johnson in 1968, largely because of Negro apathy at the polls in what he said shapes up as a close presidential election.

He called Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Michigan's George Romney attractive to most Negroes, and predicted either would cut heavily as a presidential candidate into normally heavy Democratic support by Negroes.

In Washington to seek federal participation in a late September seminar in Chicago of the Conference of Negro Elected Officials, Dymally said there's no longer room in the federal bureaucracy for anyone advocating a militant approach to civil rights.

"I've talked to a number of organized earlier this year, in the officials back here and the word is out: If you're militant, get out," he said.

The national conference, officials—both Republicans and Democrats—Dymally said. The other cochairman is Manhattan Borough President Percy-Sut-Negro union.

He denied it, adding: "We're just trying to get a voice in the people."

existing parties. If they don't give us a voice, both parties are just going to hand the average Negro over to the Black Power leaders in the organization had been accused of trying to set up a third party movement.

Dymally said he and other

3 Plead Guilty in Meat Fraud

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The father and son operators of a slaughterhouse pleaded guilty in Kent County Circuit Court today to conspiring to violate state agriculture laws.

Preston Arendsen, 56, of Walker City, and his son, Wayne, 38, of Rockford, were among six persons indicted by one-man Grand Juror Stuart Hoffius in connection with an alleged meat scandal.

F. Morris Lamoreaux, a state meat inspector, pleaded guilty Monday to willful neglect of his duties as a public official. The charge, a high misdemeanor, carries a maximum penalty of one year in prison and a $500 fine.

The slaughterhouse operators face a possible maximum prison sentence of five years and a fine of up to $10,000.

The indictments against the Arendsens and Lamoreaux were the result of a grand jury probe which was started last September by Circuit Judge Hoffius.

Commission Eyes Open Housing Rule

FEDERAL LEVEL

"We do have these at the federal level," he said.

Hudson, who said he hoped an attempt would not be made to "coerce" the commission into taking the action said the city officials have and do recognize the problems but the "steps we can take are not necessarily legislation."

He said a federal law which would direct compliance in all

50 states at once would be a better solution. He said the commission intends to pursue solutions and he recognizes that there is "a need for action."

Hudson said that because of recent turmoil "there is an awakening of all people throughout the United States," but there are persons who are "still sheltered in an all white society who don't realize problems facing those living in integrated and segregated areas."

He also said nothing will be gained by hurrying an ordinance and that one would not "alleviate any problem" unless it could be worked out in an orderly manner and with total community support.

Dugan said he was opposed as does the white family but receive poorer housing for the money paid.

● That the condition of non-white housing is generally worse than that for the entire city.

● That, according to the census of 1960, 87 per cent of all dwelling units were occupied by owners, but less than 13 per cent of these homes were owned by non-white families.

FURTHER DISCUSSION

Fowler who again asked for a meeting with young Negroes present, said he would work with other commissioners "in trying to put this across."

"We don't care about white neighborhoods. We just want better housing, no matter where it is," he said.

Fowler spoke of the progress that has been made in the past years in the area of civil rights, but another resident, Mrs. Elaine Bryant of 106 Cherokee, said, "The young black people of this generation may not have the patience."

Tucker, who later predicted that any open housing ordinance might well eliminate future unrest, said "it is ridiculous to think that the majority of occupants have access to open housing."

SURVEY QUOTED

A member of the Pontiac Housing Study Committee, Tucker, who later predicted that any open housing ordinance might well eliminate future unrest, said "it is ridiculous to think that the majority of occupants have access to open housing."

Among his points:

● That, according to the 1960 census, the non-white population of the city, 17 per cent, occupied only 13.5 per cent of the housing.

● That the non-whites pay the same or more for housing

as does the white family but receive poorer housing for the money paid.

● That the condition of non-white housing is generally worse than that for the entire city.

● That, according to the census of 1960, 87 per cent of all dwelling units were occupied by owners, but less than 13 per cent of these homes were owned by non-white families.

Party Expels Czech Author

VIENNA (AP) — Ladislav Mnacko, one of Czechoslovakia's best known authors, who visited Israel, was deprived today of his Czechoslovak citizenship and expelled from the Communist party.

The Czechoslovak news agency C.T.K. said Mnacko was also deprived of his honorary title of meritorious artist and of his state decorations.

The action was obviously taken because Mnacko traveled to Israel to protest against his government's support of the Arabs in the Israeli-Arab conflict.

Washington Conferences May Boost Romney Bid

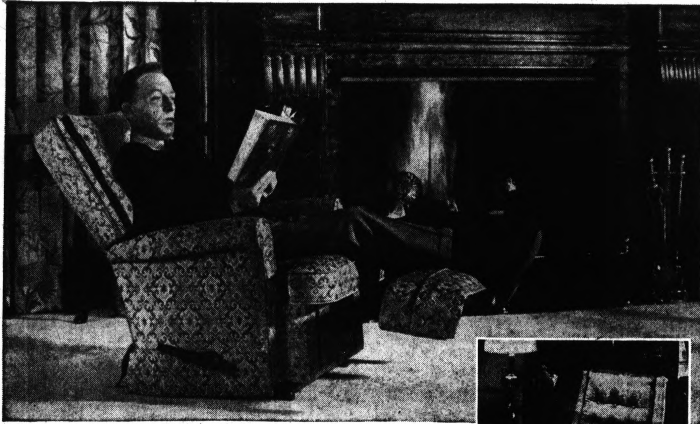

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who said Tuesday the United States made a mistake in getting involved in Vietnam, went into conferences today aimed at boosting his bid for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

Romney meets with senators, congressmen and members of a group promoting his unannounced candidacy. An aide said the one-day trip was designed to make up for visits Romney canceled during last month's riot in Detroit.

Among the conferees will be Leonard Hall, head of the Romney for President movement.

Editors Press for Income Report From House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for The American Society of Newspaper Editors urged the House ethics committee today to require House members to make more detailed and public disclosure of their sources of income and how they spend taxpayers' money.

The press itself, said Norman E. Isaacs of Louisville, Ky., executive editor of The Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times, is second vice-president of the ASNE, which has a membership of 679 daily newspapers.

His testimony was prepared for the first public meeting of the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct, which was created this year.

Isaacs made five suggestions for committee consideration:

- The need to define conflict of interest so each member may know from whom and for what services he may accept payment.
- Individual accountability for tax money spent, with the records available for legitimate public inspection.
- Similar public accountability for all travel on government business.
- "Full and clear" reports on the source and use of campaign funds.
- Disclosure of the sources and amounts of nongovernment income.

While the standards in journalism have risen, Isaacs said, they must go still higher and as they have risen, "so has the quality of our people."

He added, "we would not hesitate to inquire into a staff member's sources of income."

Isaacs said, "If the circumstances should ever make it necessary," he would not hesitate to inquire into a staff member's sources of income.

King Plans Assault in North

ATLANTA (UPI)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said yesterday he will lead massive general strikes and demonstrations in the nation's big cities within the next four months.

King said his Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) is shifting its tactics and its targets to begin an assault on inequality in Northern urban areas.

The tactics, he said, will be devised at an SCLC staff meeting in about two weeks. King did not say where the meeting would be held.

The Nobel Peace Prize winner, speaking to the 10th anniversary convention of SCLC, said the new target will be the big cities rather than the rural South where the organization has worked much of the past 10 years.

The civil disobedience in America's cities "would have to begin this year," he told the convention in a stern speech on urban rioting, its causes and cures.

King said this summer's riots "were a Negro's response that said 'inequality will now be resisted to the death,' and blamed them on 'the policy makers of the white society.'" But he said he still was convinced that the Negroes' goals can best be attained through nonviolence.

"The tragic truth is that Congress, more than the American people, is now running wild with racism," King said.

King interrupted more than a dozen times by applause from 500 whites and Negroes at his Ebenezer Baptist Church, indicated the switch would necessitate changes in SCLC. He gave no timetable for the "civil disobedience" assault and said such a concept "has never been used on a mass scale in the north." He said tactics which worked in the rural south are "unsound" for the big cities.

"To have effect he will have to develop mass disciplined forces that can remain excited and determined without dramatic 'conflagrations,'" he said.

"To dislocate the functioning of a city without destroying it can be more effective than a riot, because it can be longer lasting, costly to the society but not wantonly destructive," King said.

Five-year-old David Miller squints at the tasseled tip of a stalk of his Golden Cross Bantam corn. He hopes to enter some of the vegetables in the junior division, perhaps along with some watermelons he is growing. The children's dog, Bridget, insisted upon sharing the spotlight, with young Dave.

Several County Units of WNFGA Ready Show

There are only about four more weeks before the second Pontiac Mall Flower Show, "Oakland Impressions."

This judged show is being presented by representatives of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, (WNFGA), all of Oakland County.

All members of WNFGA, Detroit Chapter of Ikebana International, and 4-H Clubs are invited to "show" Sept. 11-16 at The Pontiac Mall, sponsored by the merchants in The Mall.

They are awarding the 13 branches of WNFGA $1,000 which is already earmarked for donation to the Drayton Plains Nature Center.

Mrs. R. W. Eddy of St. Joseph Street, entree chairman, says that most categories are open to entries at this time.

"With 3,000 members in this metropolitan area, those who desire to participate should make their selections immediately and call the consultant assigned to that category as listed in the schedule. Delay may be disappointing," she said.

Any member unable to contact the proper consultant, may call her.

Mrs. Duane Miller of Kern Lake Branch, chairman of horticulture for the show, and her children, 11-year-old Robin and 5-year-old David, are eagerly awaiting the opening of the show in which all three expect to participate.

Mrs. Miller would like to remind all potential entrants that it is especially important in these last few weeks to spray growing materials to keep marauding insects from destroying the chosen specimens.

Artificial materials arranged in Florient manner will be exhibited as well as arrangements of fresh material grown by the exhibitor.

"Wonders of Youth," is a section for juniors where they can exhibit specimens of the vegetables, fruits and flowers they have grown.

Again this year, specialists will give demonstrations daily.

Of particular interest will be the Drayton Plains Nature Center creation of Michigan Wildlife, mostly obtained from Oakland County.

Information on tree diseases will be a part of the State Conservation Department exhibit.

Advisors for the show are: Mrs. Fred Stefansky of Osage branch, chairman of Michigan Division Flower Shows and of Flower Show Schools; Mrs. Fred Trickey, Osage branch; and Mrs. Earl Weston, Wing Lake Shores Branch, Michigan Division parliamentarian.

Don't Climb the Walls

Cut-Up Mate Needs Mental Help

By ARIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a big problem — one which I have put up with for two years.

My husband is retired. He won't go any place alone, or with me for that matter. He stays home all day and cuts squares in the walls, takes out the insulation, and puts the squares back. You can just picture what my walls look like!

We have owned this dear little cottage for nearly 30 years, but you should see it now. I am so disgusted. He does just as he pleases and refuses to see a doctor. He isn't helpless. He's in good health.

I would like to move out of here and into an apartment, but he would want to come with me, and with his tearing up the walls the way he does, we'd be put out.

If he were younger I would leave him. I am 50 and this is getting on my nerves. I'll do anything I can to help him. But where do I start?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: You start by calling your family physician. If you don't have one, call your local mental health association and tell them your problem. They'll understand and see that you get help. If you continue to sit by and watch your husband carving up the walls, you'll soon be climbing them.

DEAR ABBY: My mother died on Saturday morning. After a day of overwhelming grief and exhaustive funeral preparations, my wife and I retired early in anticipation of the grueling days ahead.

About 9 p.m. that evening, relatives from out of state who had been notified earlier that day, began phoning, asking US to order flowers for THEM from our local florist!

This went on until midnight, Saturday, and all day Sunday. Abby, I had never heard of such a thing before, but our local florist explained that this was becoming the thing to do because that way out-of-towners could be assured of bigger and nicer arrangements, and the cost of wiring could be eliminated.

I always thought floral tributes were sent out of sympathy and respect by the sender. If this is "the thing to do" I can understand why so many now request, "OMIT FLOWERS, PLEASE."

OUTRAGED IN CONN.

"DEAR OUTRAGED: Florists are pledged to deliver as "big" and "nice" arrangements when ordered by wire as when ordered locally. If calling the bereaved family in such circumstances is becoming the "thing to do" in Connecticut (which I doubt), I hope the trend does not spread.

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that the second child is always better adjusted, emotionally, than the first?

MRS. J.

DEAR MRS. J.: In the first place, your question assumes something that is not necessarily true. But in those instances where it happens to be the case, it's probably because the mother has learned something from her first child.

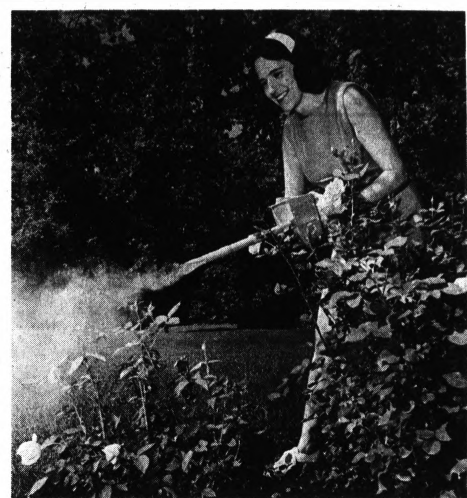

Troubled? Write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056. For a personal reply, include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Robin Miller, 11, is shown preparing a dish garden for entry in the junior division of The Pontiac Mall Flower Show next month. A contented leprechaun nestles in the cool soil, surrounded by hens and chickens. The Variegated Peperomia at Robin's elbow will complete the woody depiction of his forest habitat.

Mrs. Duane Miller of Masefield Drive, Bloomfield Hills, uses a combination insecticide-fungicide to defeat the aphids which would spoil the beauty of her rose garden. Blemish-free leaves and blossoms figure largely in flower show judging. Mrs. Miller is chairman of horticulture for The Pontiac Mall Flower Show. She is a member of Kern Lake branch, WNFGA.

Board Weighs Symphony Expansion, Youth Orchestra

Expansion of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra and development of a North Oakland Youth Orchestra were proposed at the executive board meeting Monday evening in the YWCA.

Some 25 musicians are needed to reach the 80-member goal set by chairman Alonzo Seaboldt.

He has also suggested a backlog of qualified instrumentalists to be on call as substitutes, or for special numbers requiring larger sections.

Vacancies are now existent in nearly all the wind sections, strings, brass and percussion.

The prime objective of the new youth orchestra, Seaboldt explains, is educational — to help young, talented people gain more sophisticated musical experience.

President Glenn H. Griffin appointed Roger Welton, George Putnam, Curtis Patton and Dr. Leo Wasserberger as members of a fact-finding and motivating committee. Their reports are due in September. Later, others will be added from the community. Seaboldt hopes to begin organizing the youth orchestra in October.

AUDITIONS

Audition appointments may be obtained by contacting the symphony office at 840 Riker Building or Seaboldt of West Iroquois Road.

In addition to Griffin, recently elected board members include: Wasserberger, vice president; Mrs. William Furlong, secretary; and Rudolph Hartman, treasurer.

Robert Critchfield is chairman with Mrs. Harold Fitzgerald heading the patrons' committee and Mrs. William Belaney, contributing clubs.

Mrs. Donald Dawson and Mrs. Richard Poole are cochairmen of membership and tickets and Dr. George Harkless is handling ticket procurement.

Others assuming committee posts include Mrs. Palmer J. Strang, Mrs. E.

L. Windeler, Sr. and Mrs. Maxwell Shadley. Still more are Mrs. Richard Fitzgerald, Mrs. James Rosenthal and Mrs. Don O. Tatroe.

MUSIC COMMITTEE

Roger Welton is chairman of the music and artists committee. Assisting him are Dr. Walter Collins, Putnam, Mrs. Rosenthal, Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer and Seaboldt. Mrs. Richard J. Pattison is executive secretary and historian.

Dr. Wasserberger has charge of the organization's second annual dinner dance slated for Oct. 6 at Bay Pointe Club.

The first concert will take place on Oct. 10 at Northern High School auditorium.

Why Grow Old?

by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It is easier to lose weight in summer than in winter. Beside that, if you are wearing a coat of overweight you will be much more uncomfortable than if you discarded it with calorie counting.

Slimmer women stand the heat much better than their heavier contemporaries. It is easier to drop pounds in hot weather because we are not so hungry. Nippy temperatures zoom the appetite. We also indulge in more outdoor sports and activities.

Then, too, we do not actually need so much food in summer because our diet does not have to provide so much heat to keep us warm. This combination makes this season an ideal time to indulge in a reducing trek.

EASIER
When it is very hot, it is easier to deny ourselves those very tempting but fattening foods. Eat less of the high calorie, rich, greasy, heavy foods, and concentrate more on lean meat, sea foods, fish and fowl. Enjoy and profit by the variety in fresh fruits and vegetables.

They are excellent sources of vitamins and minerals and are delicious and filling.

There is no difference in the nutritional value of any certain food whether it be hot or cold. Cold dishes are more appealing on a warm day. However, hot dishes should not be entirely discarded.

You can prepare a salad which is almost a full meal in itself and will be inviting on a hot day or evening. Add generous portions of meat or cheese or fish, or some of all, to the salad greens.

This, with milk and bread and butter, add up to an excellent repast. A dessert can be added if you are not over-weight.

We need more water, or liquid, in the summer because of the increased loss of water due to the speeded up output of perspiration. Of course milk, soft drinks, tea and coffee, and fruit juices can be counted in on the daily liquid intake. Studies indicate that we cannot depend entirely on thirst to tell us how much water we require.

Too little liquid intake can be a factor in producing fatigue. Only those indulging in very strenuous physical exercise need worry about the need for salt supplements.

Most of us obtain enough in the seasoning of our food. In very hot weather a little more salt may be used unless there is some special condition which makes this unwise.

Remember that there are really good low calorie salad dressings on the market, and if you drink lots of iced tea or coffee, use one of the artificial sweeteners while losing weight.

If you would like to start on a short diet, send for my "Nine Day Diet." For your booklet send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-800, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

MRS. R. W. THOMPSON

Bridal Gown of Organza Worn for Rite

An A-line gown of organza and lace was worn in a full length style by the newlywed Mrs. Richard Joseph O'Leary (nee Linda Jane Johnson).

The pair exchanged vows Friday evening in Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church.

A veil of silk illusion held in place by a petal crown was also worn by the bride. Her wedding bouquet was of yellow roses.

Cynthia Duncley was the maid of honor for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson of Whitfield Drive.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Joseph Junglas, Mrs. Kenneth Garwood, Mrs. James Johnson and Janice Simpson. Theresa O'Leary was the junior bridesmaid.

David Huellmantel was best man for the son of Mrs. Richard J. O'Leary of Depew Drive and the late Mr. O'Leary.

Ushers were John Webe, Timothy Breen, Michael Guilford and James Johnson.

A Canadian wedding trip followed a reception in the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Officers Assume New Duties

The Moms of America, Inc., Unit 2, met Tuesday for a co-operative picnic and meeting.

Mrs. Carl Coy of Northfield Road was hostess for the event.

Members beginning their terms of office in September were named. They are, Mrs. C. A. Bondurant, president; Mrs. Edward K. Vanderlind, vice-president; Mrs. John Brewer, recording secretary; Mrs. Duncan McVean, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank G. VanHorn, treasurer.

Others taking office are Mrs. David Edwards, Mrs. Mary G. Howell, Mrs. Clarence E. Hickmott, Mrs. Worth Eastman and Mrs. Harry Luxon Sr.

Mrs. Bondurant will be a delegate to the Michigan state convention in the Pantlind Hotel, Grand Rapids. Sept. 13-15. Mrs. McVean will be her alternate.

Newlyweds at Reception

A reception in the Rochester Elks Club followed the wedding Saturday of Patricia Lynn Robertson and Roger William Thompson.

The bride wore white silk organza with a floor length A-line skirt for the double ring ceremony.

Tiers of re-embroidered lace were featured on her skirt and her chapel train was applied with matching lace.

Her singer strand pearls were a gift of the bridegroom.

She carried white roses with an orchid and ivy in a cascade arrangement, for the ceremony in the First Congregational Church, Royal Oak.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William C. Robertson and the William E. Thompsons all of Rochester.

Mrs. Charles Storm was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Edwinn Brown, Marcia McNutt, Sharon Holt and Lynda Daniels.

James Thompson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Ushers were Stuart Robertson, brother of the bride, Charles Storm, Gary Sullivan and Peter Sweeney.

The couple will reside in Birmingham following a Cape Cod and New England States honeymoon.

Handkerchief Goes Casual

Men can wear pocket handkerchiefs in a straight-across fold, or in four even points.

Both looks are acceptable, says Gentlemen's Quarterly.

But what's making the scene with the younger set: a more casual approach.

Just hold the handkerchief at its center, fold it over casually and nonchalantly poke it into the breast pocket.

For little boys, the same look's achieved by pulling the lining of the pocket up until it shows in the handkerchief place.

'Shell' Supports Man

The earth is 8,000 miles in diameter, yet man depends on a thin shell of soil a few inches thick to produce food and fiber.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I am trying to make some clothes for school and bought a plaid wool for a suit. It wasn't too expensive. Could this be the reason it didn't come out even? What can I do to try to straighten it? Pulling doesn't help!

Ruth C.

The fabric has been woven grain perfect if it is a woven plaid, not a printed one. You will often find this true of fabric that doesn't most too much. However, there is a way of straightening it out.

Place a well-dampened sheet on the wool and together in large folds. Place a piece of plastic over it and allow it to remain covered overnight. In the morning, remove the sheet (the fabric should be fairly damp by now) and place it on your carpet.

It isn't damp enough to ruin the carpet and the nap of the carpet will keep it from slipping. Fold the fabric on the exact center of a block design or wherever the lines underneath will come out even with the ones on top.

Begin by pinning the fold line in place. Next, fold back the top layer of wool the entire length of your fabric; match the cross lines as well as the lengthwise lines about four inches from the fold. When you have shifted the fabric enough to make it even, continue with the same technique about 6 inches further. Continue doing so until the entire fabric has been matched. You won't have to pin it because it won't slip if it is placed on the floor.

This is the only way I know that will guarantee the two layers of fabric coming out exactly even.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Linda Wilson, of North Ft. Myers, Fla., is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for her following suggestion.

Living in a part of the country where we practically spend all of our time in bathing suits, I have found a way of shaping the bra area with a minimum of effort and money.

Take a sheet of foam rubber 1/4 to 3/4 inches thick and cut it from the same pattern as the upper bodice of your suit. This can be sewed right with the layer of your fabric so the shape will be identical. Be sure to place tissue paper over and under the foam rubber when stitching so it will feed into the machine properly and not be chewed up.

Dear Eunice,

I bought a length of wool for a skirt and didn't realize that it had a diagonal stripe. I am wondering if I can use it for a slight A-line skirt?

Mrs. J. P. C.

Dear Mrs. J. P. C.:

I think much too much has been said about diagonal weaves in fabric. It can be used for practically any pattern as long as you don't try to have a "chevron" effect or to match the diagonals. These lines will all appear in the same direction.

I don't advise using a bold stripe for garments with raglan sleeves, shawl collars, or very full A-line skirts. Otherwise, they are beautiful, use them!

Romney Stand on Viet Argued

Some in State GOP Disagree on Bombing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Michigan Republicans who endorse their governor, George Romney, for the GOP presidential nomination, are supporting his right to question the strategy of bombing targets in North Vietnam.

But all do not agree with him. "Personally, I have to agree with former President Eisenhower — if you're in a war, you have got to fight to win it," Rep. Elford A. Cederberg, R-Mich., said yesterday.

"But I recognize there is plenty of room for differences of opinion here."

Michigan Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-18th District, said he was in basic agreement with Romney. Broomfield believed the U.S. should concentrate on infiltration and supply routes as the best means of bringing the North Vietnamese to the conference table.

WHAT TO GAIN?

"I don't see what we have to gain by escalated bombing at this late date," he said.

Rep. Garry E. Brown, R-Mich., questioned the competence of any member of Congress — "or even the governor" — to criticize military policy which, he said, is based on information available only to the administration.

"I don't disagree with the governor," he said. "But you must consider the question of bombing in relationship to the President's request for 45,000 more troops — both are purely military activities."

Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain, R-Mich., said he sided with House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan. "I don't think bombing has achieved the desired result because we held back, because we haven't let the military people control the bombing."

HELP THEMSELVES

He said he agreed with Romney that the South Vietnamese must help themselves, that "We're not going in increasing numbers and do it all for them."

Rep. Edward Hutchinson, R-Mich., too, said the bombing must be a military decision.

"I'm not going to take issue with Romney on that — I'm not in a position to make military decisions," he said. "But even if I didn't agree with him on some points, I'm going to continue to support him for president."

Algeria, Congo Considering Tshombe's Fate

ALGIERS (AP) — Both the Algerian and Congolese governments seem to be having second thoughts about extraditing Mobutu Sese Seko Konde Ngbendu to the Congo to face the death penalty.

Algeria's Col. Houari Boumedienne is in no hurry to hand Tshombe over to Congo President Joseph D. Mobutu—despite the Algerian Supreme Court's July 21 decision recommending extradition.

Tshombe, 47, former Katanga separatist leader, and former premier of the Congo, was kidnapped on a flight over the Mediterranean air brought to Algeria June 30. He had been convicted in absentia of treason and conspiracy against the Mobutu regime.

Algerian officials and the government-controlled press have repeatedly hinted that the Boumedienne government may set up an international revolutionary tribunal to try Tshombe in Algeria for "crimes against Africa."

NOT REVOLUTIONARY

These hints imply that Algeria does not regard the Mobutu regime as sufficiently revolutionary to be trusted to deal with Tshombe in true revolutionary fashion.

Once Tshombe is extradited, Algeria would no longer have any control over what happens to him. A free pardon pronounced following his extradition would be regarded as a grave offense to Algeria's revolutionary dignity—a risk President Boumedienne may not be willing to take.

Diplomatic sources said Mobutu has refused to make the political concessions which might have persuaded Algeria to extradite Tshombe without further trial—but not in public.

The public hanging of former Premier Evariste Kimba and three other former ministers last year left an unfavorable impression among many Congolese, and Mobutu has decided that whatever happens to Tshombe, he will not be publicly executed.

Diplomatic sources in Kinshasa says Mobutu now realizes that an execution of Tshombe—who still has a substantial following—could create more problems than it would solve.

With rebellion in eastern border regions not too far from Katanga, Mobutu must consider whether he can risk antagonizing the Katangans further by executing their longtime leader.

The execution could wreck the summit conference of the Organization of African Unity, scheduled for next month in Kinshasa. Several moderate African leaders plan to boycott it like ex-President Ahmed Ben Bella, held without trial.

The course the Algerians charge since he was overthrown seems likely to take is to keep in a military coup led by Bou-Tshombe locked up in some seclusion for almost two years.

WASHINGTON'S a Haven for Interning Students
WASHINGTON (AP) — Gale Fox, a 20-year-old senior at Beaver College, Pennsylvania, is doing research at the Democratic National Committee on the causes of race riots and phases of Vietnam policy.

Washington's a Haven for Interning Students

Over at the Republican National Committee, John P. Freese, 19, who has completed two years at Illinois State University, is researching the psychology of voters, trying to learn what moves a voter to register as Republican or Democrat.

Both Miss Fox, of Maplewood, N.J., and Freese, of Normal, Ill., are interns—college students spending the summer in Washington. Their primary aim is to learn more about how the wheels of government—and for these particular interns, politics—go around.

Altogether, there are some 8,000 students who have summer jobs in Washington. Not all are, strictly speaking, interns. Some just found and took jobs.

But there are interns in government departments and agencies, in offices of Congress members and in quasigovernment organizations such as the two major political committees.

For purposes of definition, an intern is one who got a job through an intern program.

The whole idea of students interning in Washington is a growing one.

The Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. have national programs called "Washington Citizen-Seminar" geared to interning.

Some colleges are giving academic credit in political science for certain summer work in government. More are extending financial aid to those interns who receive no salary.

Many interns are not paid, although those in government departments get the regular scale for which their jobs are rated.

None of the six interns at the Republican National Committee is paid.

The Democratic National Committee, which currently has 12, says the majority are unpaid volunteers. Congress members have $70 each, available specifically for intern pay. It can be given to one or divided among several. Some in Congress who are financially well off dip into their own pockets to pay interns.

In Congress particularly, the problem is more applicants than jobs.

Wyche Fowler Jr., acting head of the Democratic Committee's Young Americans division, watches over its interns.

"Our hope," Fowler said, "is that the youngsters will take back to campus a better understanding of the complexities of government—the difficulties of the problems and also the possibilities."

Hard-Luck Farmer Aided

ANDALE, Kan. (AP) — Neighbors stepped in when troubles piled up and kept farmer Gordon Smith from plowing his fields.

Friends and neighbors with 13 tractors and other farm equipment moved onto the Smith place Tuesday and in two hours plowed 120 acres of land and prepared it for wheat planting.

They figure it would have taken Smith five days to do the work.

Smith had been getting behind in his work in recent weeks, since his son, Army 1st Lt. Gordon E. Smith, was wounded in Vietnam. The son tried to throw an enemy hand grenade clear of a vehicle but it exploded, taking off his right arm and injuring his face.

Then Smith had an accident with a lawn mower. He lost parts of several fingers.

This put him further behind in his farm work, and the neighbors said they would take over.

Their efforts freed Smith and his wife to go to an Army hospital at Denver where their son is recuperating from his injury.

"We just decided to do the work," said one farmer who pitched in with the chores. "We knew he was behind because of the troubles he's had."

Romney Irked at Highway Dept. Inaction

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney expressed irritation and dissatisfaction Tuesday because there was no crackdown in the State Highway Department following a probe by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

"Some pretty disturbing conclusions were reached, both on the part of personnel and in contractual procedures," said Romney of the investigation report.

The governor said highway employees had presented "inaccurate and incomplete information" to both the governor and the State Administrative Board in the past.

"This is one of the most reprehensible aspects of the whole situation," Romney said. "It disturbs me that we can have this kind of a situation without any recourse."

LEFT DEPARTMENT
Kelley said some of the people concerned were no longer with the department.

"As of this moment," the attorney general said, "No criminal prosecution can be undertaken. But we are always open to more evidence."

It is up to the highway commission, Kelley said, to take any action that might be indicated against its own employees.

Kelley's main finding was that there were improper overpayments to contractors, particularly Holloway Construction Co. of Wixom.

The attorney general is seeking to get back $800,000 in over-payments, more than half of this amount from Holloway.

Romney and the administrative board were meeting to consider a tightening of procedures for approval of overruns and extras charged by contractors for the highway department.

"We found abuses in this five—they made some of the clumsiest excuses," said Assistant Attorney General High Anderson.

Anderson said the main change proposed is that all such extra payments in the future would have to be approved by the administrative board.

ANY PROMISES
In addition, a representative of the attorney general's office will pass on any promises of extra payments to contractors. Henrik Stafseth, acting director, said the highway department is willing to go along with the new scrutiny of its contract payments.

"There's quite a bit of restriction in these regulations, but we'll try to work within them," Stafseth said.

Acting on a request by Stafseth, the board agreed not to adopt the new regulations until they are reviewed by the highway commission.

The next commission meeting is scheduled for Aug. 24. Meanwhile, Stafseth said, the highway department will postpone the letting of $12 million in contracts until the administrative board has a chance to pass on the new regulations.

'Politics Threaten Group to Aid Great Lakes Area'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Politics threaten to destroy the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission, Rep. Philip E. Ruppe, R-Mich., charged yesterday.

The commission was established to aid the depressed northern areas of Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin and, Ruppe said in a prepared statement, was off to a good start.

Noting his work with Michigan Gov. George Romney and other commission members for approval of federal help to reduce tolls on the Mackinac Bridge, Ruppe said the commission was useful.

"Then politics set in," he said. "Democratic senators and governors became fearful the Republican governors in the three states would receive credit for the commission's accomplishments."

"Certain Democratic congressmen and senators even began sniping at the federal chairman, Thomas Francis, who is himself a Democrat and an appointee of President Johnson."

'NOT POLITICAL'

Ruppe said Francis was accused of cooperating too much with GOP governors and congressmen and of being "not politically oriented."

"A move is afoot to oust Francis in favor of a more 'politically oriented' favorite," he charged.

He said the "squeeze" was put on the House Public Works Committee with such effect that the committee authorized only $2.5 million for administration and research and $5 million for supplemental grants in the Upper Great Lakes region. He compared this with more than $300 million authorized for the Appalachian commission.

Ruppe said he will withdraw his support of the three-state commission if it becomes "another political boondoggle to reward the faithful partisans."

2 Tire Vandals Get Pump Task

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Two 13-year-old boys are finding out how long it takes to inflate 132 automobile tires with a hand air pump.

That was the on-the-spot sentence Tuesday of arresting policeman Terry Penland, after the boys admitted cutting valve stems from 33 autos in a five-block area.

Green was given the administrative board go-ahead to arrange for the short-term borrowing. He was told to re-submit the proposal for final board approval when the interest rate and other terms are determined.

described the visitors' arrival: "Cons watched silently, intently."

"Occasionally a relative was spotted in the endless line — the week of violence in Detroit."

"I wasn't too happy to see them," recalled one convict in a recent issue of the prison newspaper, The Spectator.

"Anyone of those guys could have harmed someone in my family."

"The facts were angry, but the hearts cried for a better life," said another convict, a man who's spent more than 32 years of a life term in Michigan prisons.

BURNED HOME

And a third: "They burned my sister's home down." He reached into his locker and put two packages of cigarettes and a bar of soap into a bag of "Donations for the visitors."

The Spectator reported that when the final toll was added, it was found convicts had dipped into their lockers and donated more than $100 worth of cigarettes, soap and toothpaste to the visitors.

"Why are you giving?" a Spectator reporter asked a convict who donated cigarettes.

"Look, man, a lot of those fellows over there aren't guilty of anything besides being at the right place at the wrong time," was the reply in the paper.

"My heart ached when I heard that the area around my folks' home was a blazing inferno."

OTHER COMMENTS

The paper published other comments:

"All I could think about was the safety of my wife and kids."

"I completely forgot that I was in prison. My heart was out there — on 12th Street."

"My heart ached when I heard that the area around my folks' home was a blazing inferno."

Many convicts could only wonder about their loved ones.

Maoists Say Liu, Khrushchev Hatched Plot

TOKYO (AP) — Chairman Mao Tse-tung's leadership continuing its attack on President Liu Shao-chi, claims that Liu and former Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev backed a plot to topple Mao in 1959.

The Maoist-controlled New China News Agency (NCNA) distributed Tuesday an 8-year-old document adopted by the Communist party's Central Committee accusing former Defense Minister Peng Teh-huai of plotting against Mao.

NCNA said Peng's followers at the time included Liu and other anti-party elements that tried to undermine the leadership.

The Peking People's Daily said today that "Peng was in league with the revisionist Khrushchev trying to topple the Chinese proletarian dictatorship." It did not tell how the then Soviet premier helped Peng.

OVERTHROW ELEMENT

The paper said the attack on Peng is "an important element to overthrow and completely discredit a handful of top party persons in authority headed by China's Khrushchev who are taking the capitalist road."

"China's Khrushchev" is the name Mao's leadership uses to refer to Liu. The paper refers to the former Soviet premier as Soviet Khrushchev.

After the Central Committee adopted the document in 1959, Chinese leaders announced Peng's dismissal and his replacement by Marshal Lin Biao, Mao's "closest comrade-in-arms" and his apparent successor as party chairman.

People's Daily said: "When Peng was ousted at the party Central Committee on Aug. 6, 1959, Soviet Khrushchev was so shameless as to praise Peng publicly as 'right and brave' and a 'best friend'."

DEFENSE MINISTER

Lin was appointed defense minister in September, 1959. Liu has been president since April, 1959.

NCNA's distribution of the 1959 party document alleging the plot against Mao followed an editorial attack on Liu by People's Daily and the party theoretical journal Red Flag.

The editorials listed "crimes" Liu is supposed to have committed in the party in the last 40 years, including that of trying to improve Red China's relations with the United States and Nationalist China.

Flag said Tuesday that "China's Khrushchev (Liu) has gone bankrupt" since Mao set off the current purge a year ago. The term bankrupt apparently was used figuratively to indicate Liu's political powers had diminished.

PARTY VICTORY

"This is the greatest and most brilliant of victories of our party," Red Flag said.

In Belgrade, the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said in a dispatch from Peking that the eight-year delay in relating the document of the central committee was a good illustration of party life and intraparty relations in Red China.

Red China and the Soviet Union both drew sharp criticism today from North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung. Kim's comments, distributed by the official North Korean News Agency, did not name either nation but the targets were obvious.

"We are opposed to the line of compromise with imperialism," Kim wrote in reference to Soviet co-existence with the United States. "But he added, referring to Red China: 'We cannot tolerate either the practice of only talking big of opposing imperialism but, indeed, being afraid of fighting against imperialism. The latter is a line of compromise in an inverted form.'"

ANTI-U.S. FRONT

He urged formation of an "anti-United States united front" of Communist and newly independent nations in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

"No one must be allowed to split this anti-U.S. united front and refuse joint action, attaching the first importance to his own nation's or party's specific interests."

Geologists have recently unearthed artifacts that indicate man inhabited the Americas as early as 40,000 years ago, which is about 30,000 years earlier than previously figured.

Suit Seeks Parking

LANSING (UPI)—The Michigan State Employees Association has taken the state to court to force it either to pay for its employees' parking or give it to them free.

The non-union group filed suit Tuesday asking an injunction to bar the state from its "discriminatory and unequitable" policy of charging capitol-area workers $2.50 every two weeks to park in state lots in downtown Lansing.

In its brief, the association charged this amounted to a condition of employment for civil service workers in the capitol area while other state employees elsewhere park free.

"The association certainly does not object to a reasonable charge, but any such requirement must be uniformly applied and enforced," said President Larry Hildre. "It must be non-discriminatory and applicable to all state employees."

Children Will Love a Taste Right From the Oven

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you have a well-organized baking center, you can put together—in about 15 minutes—a nutritious quick loaf for your children and their friends.

We like this loaf best when it is served a bit warm from the oven and cut into chunky slices; the slicing will make for a few crumbs, but small fry won't worry about that.

By a well-organized baking center, we mean that all the dry ingredients usually used in baking, as well as the tools, are in one place.

Just as a reminder, the tools needed for this recipe are a metal loaf pan, an electric mixer, measuring cups and spoons, a metal spatula (for leveling dry ingredients), a mixing spoon, a rubber spatula and wax paper.

When ingredients and tools are conveniently placed, making this quick loaf is a cinch.

Banana Oatmeal Bread

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups unsifted regular flour (sift well to aerate before measuring)
2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder

1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
1 cup quick-cooking rolled oats
1/2 cup walnuts (broken fairly coarse with your fingers before measuring)
3 medium-large (7 to 8 inches) bananas
1 large egg

In a metal loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches) over very low heat, melt the butter, set aside off heat.

On a large piece of wax paper, thoroughly stir together the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt; thoroughly stir in the sugar; stir in the rolled oats and walnuts, distributing evenly.

Into large mixer bowl, thinly slice the bananas. Beat until bananas are a smooth thin puree, using a rubber spatula to work slices toward beater; there should be 1 1/4 cups.

Add the egg to the bananas and beat thoroughly; add the melted butter (from the loaf pan) using a rubber spatula to get it all out; with a spatula, blend the bananas and butter.

Dump in the flour mixture; with the spatula, stir just until no white particles of flour show.

Turn into the loaf pan in which the butter was melted. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — 45 minutes.

With a metal spatula, loosen loaf from sides of pan; turn out on wire rack; turn right side up. The loaf tastes delicious served when barely cool; it will have to be cut in chunky slices because the top will be crumbly.

Celery Is Filled With Ham Mix

To make deviled celery sticks, combine 2 (2 1/2-oz.) cans deviled ham, 1 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce with mushrooms, 1/4 teaspoon instant minced onion, 1/4 teaspoon seasoned pepper, and 2 tablespoons pickle relish in a small bowl; stir until well blended.

Fill 2 inch pieces of celery with deviled ham mixture. Arrange on serving plate. Cover and refrigerate until ready to serve. Makes about 1 1/2 cups filling.

Zippy Tuna Mixture Grilled in Buns

Nippy tuna burgers pepped up with chili sauce and green peppers are a tasty treat on the outdoor grill. You can depend on tuna to satisfy hearty outdoor appetites. — It's as high in protein as a comparable serving of lean meat.

Tuna Bar-B-Que Burgers
2 cans (6 1/2 or 7 ounces each) tuna in vegetable oil
1/4 cup chili sauce
1/4 cup minced green pepper
2 tablespoons minced onion
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
6 hamburger buns, sliced
In medium size bowl, blend

New Pound Cake

A pound cake baked in a loaf pan will have unusual (and old-time) flavor if you add very finely cut candied orange peel and caraway seeds. Call the result English Seed Cake.

Ice Cream May Tempt the Reluctant Eater

Too often, the phrase "good nutrition" sounds pretty square to teenagers. The advice that a balanced breakfast is essential to vigor and high spirits during the rest of the day, leaves them cold.

Mention an adequate breakfast of fruit (preferably citrus fruit or juice), cereal with milk, buttered bread or toast or rolls, and milk to drink, and they instinctively rebel. All this bores them.

As a result of their adolescent selfassertiveness, a large proportion of our young people either skip breakfast entirely or else eat an inadequate one.

Flexibility rather than prescribed routine is the accepted family pattern today. It might wisely be extended to breakfast menus.

Often, the boys and girls themselves have ideas about what they will eat that may sound more off-beat than they really are.

"Let the kids do half the talking," advises Dr. Henry Bray of Cowell Memorial Hospital in California. "The food they want to eat may be nutritionally sound and practical."

If a husky young member of the family likes banana splits, then make a cereal banana split for his breakfast.

Just place some hot toast on the table, too, and a glass of milk. No comments, please. He's eating breakfast isn't he?

That's what he must do to stay strong and growing. So smile. You've won.

Cereal Banana Split
 1/4 cup puffed rice or wheat, plain or presweetened; ready-to-eat high protein cereal, or corn flakes
 1/2 banana, sliced crosswise
 1 heaping tablespoonful vanilla ice cream
 1 heaping tablespoonful chocolate ice cream
 2 teaspoons pineapple preserves
 2 teaspoons jam (any flavor)

1 to 2 tablespoons defrosted frozen strawberries or strawberry sauce
 2 to 4 tablespoons whipped dessert topping
 Pour cereal into a large serving dish or compote. Top with banana slices.

Spoon ice cream onto bananas and cover chocolate ice cream onto bananas and cover chocolate ice cream with jam, any flavor, strawberries, and vanilla ice cream with pineapple sauce.

Serve plain or garnish with whipped topping, if desired.

Note: This recipe provides the elements of a basic cereal and milk breakfast.

Bacon for Flavor

When creaming onions for dinner, crumble that left-over bacon from breakfast over them. Not only does it save the bacon but it improves the taste of the onion dish.

Sandwich Cheeses in Nut Halves

Soften a 3-oz. package cream cheese and one-fourth cup Roquefort or blue cheese. Combine.

Sandwich mixture between halves of salted pecans or walnuts. Roll edges of cheese in chopped parsley. Chill. Makes 16.

Tip: To salt nuts: Melt 2 tablespoons butter and 1/2 teaspoon salt in shallow baking pan. Add nuts. Bake at 250 degrees for 30 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Marinate Fowl in Tea Mixture

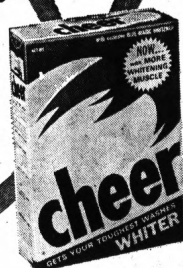

Double-strength tea is the basis for an unusual marinade and basting sauce for poultry. Steep 2 individual size tea bags in 1 cup of boiling water for 5 minutes. Mix the tea with 1/4 cup of soy sauce and 1/2 cup of honey. Cool.

Use to marinate poultry pieces for stews or fricassees a few hours or overnight. For basting, spoon sauce over fowl frequently during roasting or broiling period.

WESTERN BREAKFAST

Eggs, Meat, Potatoes

Start Day Outdoors

Chuck wagon chefs in the days of the Old West probably weren't very fancy cooks, but they certainly did know how to keep their customers well-filled and content.

Their breakfasts were especially hearty — the aroma tantalizing enough to bring cowpokes out of their sleeping bags with a bound. You can tempt your still sleepy troops out of bed in a hurry, too, if you borrow from the old days and serve up a dish like this egg and potato omelet.

It's a dish you'll most likely want to save for a weekend breakfast so that everyone has a chance to savor it to the full.

Prepared in your own cheery kitchen, or over a campfire, should you be lucky enough to live near a beach or wooded area, this is a breakfast to beat all breakfasts.

It's made with easy-to-use frozen French fried potatoes, cooked to a golden brown. Dried beef — the kind that comes in a jar — goes into this creation, too.

Once the potatoes have browned and crisped, the slightly beaten egg and cheese mixture is added and the omelet allowed to cook as directed.

Dish up your omelets with glasses of orange juice, a basket of piping hot biscuits partnered with plenty of butter and honey or preserves, and, of course, milk and coffee.

Western Breakfast
 1/4 cup butter
 1 large jar (5-oz.) sliced dried beef
 1 package (1-pound) frozen French fried potatoes
 8 eggs
 1/4 cup milk
 1/4 cup grated cheese
 Pepper
 For each serving: melt 1/4 tablespoons butter in an 8-inch omelet pan; add 2 tablespoons minced dried beef and 1/4 of the potatoes. Cook and stir over medium heat until potatoes are golden brown on all sides.

Arrange potatoes in a single layer on bottom of pan. Combine 2 slightly beaten eggs, 2 tablespoons milk, 2 tablespoons cheese and a dash of pepper; pour over potatoes. Lift edges and tip pan to allow egg mixture to run under edges as it cooks.

When egg mixture is set, carefully fold and turn out of pan. Serve with catsup if desired. Makes 4 servings.

*Center of egg will still be soft. Heat of potatoes will cook it after it is turned out.

Mushrooms Go Right in Burgers

To one pound ground beef chuck add one teaspoon seasoning salt and 2 teaspoons freeze dried chives. Using large fork whip in 1/4 cup buttermilk and 1/2 cup fine dry crumbs.

Mix well and stir in 2 cups lightly sautéed fresh mushrooms, or a 4 ounce can drained. Keep mix light, not packed. Make big fat hamburgers and put these between toasted buttered buns to serve pronto. Makes 4 servings.

Different and good: add half a cup or so of chopped pecans to a regular pancake recipe.

Chocolate, Coffee Blend for Mocha

One advantage of a parfait is that you can make it in advance. Anyway, it's delicious.

Mocha Coffee Parfait

1 cup whipping cream (1/2 pint)
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 tablespoon instant coffee
 2 pints chocolate ice cream

Combine cream, sugar and instant coffee in small mixer bowl; stir until coffee dissolves. Chill very thoroughly. Beat until mixture holds soft peaks.

Spoon alternate layers of chocolate ice cream and coffee-flavored whipped cream into chilled parfait glasses.

Serve at once or store in freezer and serve frozen, as desired. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

CHILI RICE CASSEROLE — Half the main course is ready when you open a can of chili with beans. Perfect to serve with baked ham, the beans appear in company with rice and orange slices.

To prevent berry juice from them to become soggy, sprinkle soaking through the bottom (the bottom crust lightly with crust of your berry pies, causing flour before adding the filling.

Fix Hearty Casserole of Rice, Chili Beans

The weather is balmy so let's set the buffet table on the patio, or if you prefer, the porch. Guests like the casualness of outdoor eating and when the main dish is a casserole, it is easy service.

For a quick to fix, handsome dish, combine canned chili with beans and fluffy cooked rice in a casserole. Top the rice with fresh orange slices and bake to heat thoroughly.

The casserole can be brought piping hot from oven to table and guests will enjoy this delicious brown and white casserole with its orange accent.

Serve the chili with beans and rice with a clove studded glazed ham and bright, crisp greens, salad laced with tomato wedges, red onion slices, and avocado.

Chili Rice Casserole
 1 medium size orange
 3 (15 1/2 oz.) cans chili with beans

2 tablespoons sliced green onions
 2 cups cooked rice

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Grate 1 tablespoon orange rind. Slice orange into thin slices.

In a 8 x 12" baking dish, arrange rice down center of dish. Spoon canned chili with beans into dish on each side of rice. Top with the orange slices.

Bake, uncovered, for 20-25 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Chive-Cheese Fills a Salad

Chive cottage cheese adds color and flavor as well as high quality protein to many foods. Add chive cottage cheese to scrambled eggs and omelets for a tasty, nutritious lunch or supper; top slices of French bread with a mound of chive cottage cheese and broil for a quick sandwich.

Use plenty of chive cottage cheese in fruit or vegetable salads. It will not only taste good, but the protein in the cheese will act as an appetite suppressant to stretch your lunch while slimming your figure.

The traditional stuffed tomato takes on a special eye appeal when you slice it horizontally into two or three thick slices and spread a thick layer of chive cottage cheese between each slice of tomato.

The amount of the serving is determined by the size of the tomato and can range from a main dish salad to a colorful accompaniment for your entrée. And of course, as all weight watchers know, cottage cheese provides necessary nutrients with few calories.

Creamed cottage cheese is rich in protein; it also contains calcium, vitamin A, thiamine and riboflavin in significant amounts. It is economical. For a small cost it provides a large amount of essential food item elements with no waste.

And, the addition of chives does not in any way change this basic balance of nutrition and calorie count.

A rounded cup (4½ ounces) of creamed chive cottage cheese has about the same amount of protein as a medium serving (3 ounces, cooked) of meat, fish or poultry, or 3 slices of Cheddar cheese, or 3 eggs.

Overseas Trip Offers New Experiences

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Seldom has it been so difficult to get back into the swing of things at work and to meet deadlines as it is this week.

Friday we returned from a month's trip to Europe, during which time new sights, new sounds and new tastes were a part of our everyday living.

I took notes and readers can expect to hear references to this trip for months to come. We went to Holland, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland.

After seeing how hard European women work, I appreciate what marvelous conveniences we have here.

Of course, they have gas, electricity and running water, hot and cold. But they don't all have the whole array of electrical servants we do.

Our hostess for one weekend in England does not have a refrigerator. Both her stove and her sink are about apartment size. And she shops every day at the corner store.

However, she served us one of the most delicious apple pies I have ever eaten, made with apples from a tree in her garden. She also made Eccles tarts.

cakes for us which are pastries filled with currants and chocolate cake — and tarts.

STORE SNOOPING

One of the things I delighted in doing was strolling through food stores; yes, they do have

Can of Deviled Ham Is Sandwich Help

Count on cans of deviled ham to come to the rescue in the sandwich department.

One can of deviled ham can be mixed with three chopped hard-boiled eggs. Add salt, pepper, a bit of prepared mustard and a dash of lemon juice, if desired. Try this on cracked wheat bread.

Another idea uses deviled ham with one-half cup of cottage cheese. Dill seed and basil might be used as seasonings.

Neither of these requires mayonnaise nor salad dressing which is a boon if you're on a strict calorie count. The texture of canned, deviled ham is enough of a binder for the fillings.

excellent supermarkets in many places.

Many of the same brands you and I use are available overseas. When I couldn't read the label, I could usually figure out the contents from the pictures.

Had my luggage allowance permitted, I would have brought home some of the more unusual items I saw.

We had the best food consistently in Sweden and Denmark. And coffee there is superb. I became a tea drinker in the British Isles.

Furthermore, they take the time and make the effort to serve food attractively. Always there is some kind of garnish on the plate.

They are as addicted to parsley as the home economists who run the Pontiac Press cooking school.

One of the things I thought was a parody of a food demonstration.

My mail still remains half-unopened.

I did come across the following recipe just before I wrote this article. It shows well the type of food we ate in Scandinavia.

DANISH BLUE COLD SALMON SUPPER

Cheese Layer:

- 4 ounces Danish Blue Cheese (1 cup crumbled)
- ¼ pound cream cheese
- 1 cup heavy cream
- 1 tablespoon chopped chives
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1 tablespoon water
- 2 cucumbers

Salmon Layer:

- 1 can (1 lb.) salmon, drained
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon fresh dill, or chives, chopped

Combine and cream Danish Blue Cheese and cream cheese; beat in cream gradually. Add chives.

Soften one envelope gelatin in cold water and stir over hot water until dissolved. Add to cheese mixture.

Score one cucumber with a fork; slice very thinly.

Oil a 6- to 7-cup pan or mold and line the bottom with overlapping rows of cucumber slices. Chill in the refrigerator until (or after decorations). Carefully spoon in the cheese mixture. The cheese layer begins to set.

Meanwhile, flake the salmon, discarding skin and bones. Soften two envelopes gelatin in water, dissolve over hot water and stir into the mayonnaise. Add salmon, lemon juice and herbs.

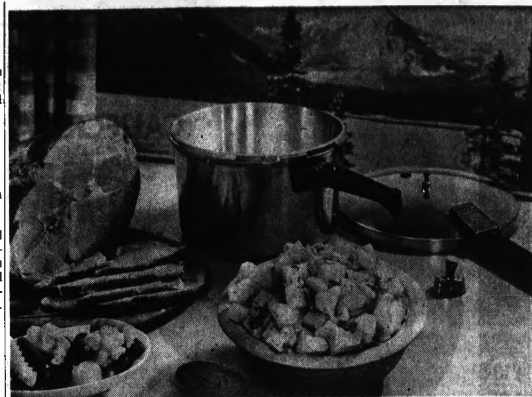

Peel and grate the second cucumber, seed or chop it finely, and add. Pour this mixture into the mold over the cheese layer; return to refrigerator to chill until both layers are firm — several hours or overnight.

To serve, unmold on a chilled platter and garnish to taste with fresh herbs, salad greens, cherry tomatoes, hard-cooked eggs and radishes.

Canned Spreads May Save Day

Two convenience items — canned chicken spread and deviled ham — team in this double-goo spread. In bowl, blend 1 can (5 ounces) chicken spread, 1 can (2½ ounces) deviled ham, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, and 1 teaspoon prepared mustard. Chill. Thin to desired consistency with milk.

Use as a spread or dip for crackers or chips. If desired, garnish with pickle slices. Makes 1 cup spread.

VACATION HELP — A pressure cooker can be your friend on vacation. If Mom is doing the cooking, she'll be happy to have a utensil that cuts her time in the kitchen. "Baked" ham and potato salad are but two of the foods that are quick to fix.

Put Bread Surplus to Good Use

Every homemaker suffers pang of guilt when she wastes food — particularly bread which so frequently accumulates.

Don't discard those bits and pieces! They can be converted into assets.

Put your bread surplus to good use by turning it into toasted crumbs or herb-crumb mixtures for breading meat, fish and poultry, or topping casseroles.

Or, make up a supply of croissants, Melba toast for canapés, or home-made poultry stuffing mix.

These do-it-yourself grocery items keep for weeks stored in plastic bags. And they help shave dollars from your food bill.

"An ounce of prevention . . ." to avoid stale leftovers, store bread and rolls in plastic bags. Use storage-size bags for loaves and large rolls; sandwich bags are just right for a few small rolls or muffins.

Use plastic bags for freezing, too. Their extra-strength plastic provides greater protection as well as the convenience of see-through packaging.

Dry Bread Crumbs: Dry bread before preparing crumbs. To prepare small amounts of bread crumbs, use a rotary hand grater or electric blender.

To prepare crumbs in large quantities, use a meat grinder with a medium chopping blade.

Tie a plastic bag tightly over mouth of grinder to catch all the crumbs. Store bread crumbs in plastic bag in cool, dry place.

Toasted Crumbs: Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in medium skillet. Stir in 1 cup dry bread crumbs and ¼ teaspoon salt. Heat slowly, stirring constantly until crumbs are evenly golden brown. Store in plastic bag in refrigerator.

Croissants: Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in medium skillet. Add 1 cup bread cubes (fresh or dry) and sauté until bread cubes are evenly browned.

Bread cubes may also be browned in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in 375 degree oven. Store in plastic bag in cool, dry place.

Parkinson's first law of bridge is that if you give your partner a chance to make a mistake he is likely to make it. It corresponds to the old Army law that anything that can foul up is likely to do so.

West opened the king of hearts against South's three diamond contract. Dummy's ace held the trick with East dropping the deuce.

South played his ace and king of diamonds and led a low club to dummy's seven and East's jack.

East was a good player and was pretty sure that he could call every distribution and every face card. West needed the queen of hearts, ace of spades and king of clubs for his opening bid and it looked like a certainty that South's original distribution was 6-3-3-1.

East took his queen of trumps. West played the five of hearts and dummy a low spade. Then East led the eight of spades. West won with the ace and returned a spade to dummy's king. The five of clubs was led from dummy.

East played the six and West won with the king. Then West went into one of those long trances that are so common among bridge players of all sorts and finally laid down his queen of hearts. South ruffed and claimed the rest of the tricks.

East was bitter, justifiably, because West's play was terrible. West's play was terrible.

Q—The bidding has been:

A—Bid three hearts. Your hand is worth another bid and this one is all-purpose. It gives your partner a chance to go to four hearts in the unlikely event that he holds four of them. It tells him you can stop hearts if he is afraid of that suit and warns him of your weakness in diamonds.

3 Israelis Held in Theft of Relic

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Three Israelis were being held today for further questioning in connection with the theft of a golden tiara from an effigy of the Virgin Mary in Old Jerusalem's Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

Police recovered the tiara, partly broken up, in a locksmith shop owned by the father of one of the suspects. Authorities said several heart pendants and other parts of the tiara had been broken off and sold.

First St. Louis Alley-Cleaning Sweeps 425

ST. LOUIS (AP) — For the first time in its history, the city of St. Louis has decided to clean its alleys. All 425 miles of them.

An alley-cleaning program was announced Tuesday by Mayor A. J. Cervantes.

The program gets under way Aug. 25 and will cost about $17,000.

Mayor Cervantes said he hoped that property owners would keep the alleys looking good once the city crews clean them.

SNCC Anti-Jewish Charge Draws Fire

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee's charge that Jews are committing atrocities against Arabs has brought charges from Jewish and civil rights leaders.

"Israel is and always has been the tool and foothold for American and British exploitation in the Middle East and Africa," said Ralph Featherstone, SNCC program director.

Featherstone, Executive Secretary Stanley Wise and Miss Ethel Minor held a news conference Tuesday to expand on a SNCC newsletter which charged that Zionists conquered Arab lands through terror, force and massacres. The newsletter also charged that the Israelis destroyed more than 39 Arab villages before and after they took control of Palestine.

Donald Stone, head of SNCC in Atlanta, said the group is not opposed to Zionism, but that the public should be "aware of these situations in the Middle East."

QUICK REACTIONS

Reaction to SNCC's statements came quickly from several sources.

Whitney Young, executive director of the National Urban League, a civil rights group, said in New York that SNCC's "divorce from reality is best illustrated by the resemblance of their comments to those of the American Nazi party on this question."

In a joint statement A. Philip Randolph, vice president of the AFL-CIO and president of the Sleeping Car Porters, and Bayard Rustin, executive director of the A. Philip Randolph Institute, said SNCC anti-Israeli pronouncements reflect "a complete divorce from the opinions and aspirations of American Negroes."

The Negro leaders said SNCC apparently "has formed an unconscious alliance with right-wing anti-Semites and extremists, while consciously trying to undermine liberal forces in this country."

"A statement so filled with anti-Semitic venom," they continued, "can only be interpreted as an attempt to divert national attention away from the problems of jobs, housing and education, as well as an attempt to divide the growing alliance of labor, liberal religious and civil rights forces."

Triple Wedding Unites Families

BOSSIER CITY, La. (AP) — In a triple wedding ceremony here, a brother and two sisters from one family married two brothers and a sister of another family.

John Carroll married Mary McNally. His sister, Catherine Carroll, was wed to James McNally. Sarah Carroll became the wife of Thomas McNally.

Carbon monoxide takes more than 1,000 American lives every year, most of them in automobiles.

Relief Family OKs Home

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — A family of nine, who have been living on relief payments in a $600-a-month motel, have decided after some wavering to move into a rambling private house the Westchester County Welfare Department is offering it.

"I made it clear that it boiled down to that," Kurtis said. "Mrs. Jacobs had some objections about the size of some rooms, but apparently they're overcome now."

The county said it would cut another window in the nine-room house's living room to make it more comfortable for the Jacobs. The house in Yonkers has a big backyard.

The Jacobs were forced out of their original apartment when the owner demanded they move to make way for his daughter's family.

Collegians' Ship Swings With Fun, Classes, Debate

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Stuart D. Gross, author of the following dispatch, is a former staffer at the Saginaw News who now is with Saginaw Valley College.)

By STUART D. GROSS

ABOARD THE MS AURELIA (AP) — Life aboard a student ship is never dull.

In the evening, when the music in the lounge is alternately beating out a fast tempo then waltz, it is a miniskirted heaven.

There are, among the nearly 1,000 passengers aboard, the usual complement of students, but the majority of the young people are clean, bright, ultra smart extraverts who have opinions and are not afraid to express them.

The usual mixture on board for an eastbound voyage on the Aurelia are American college students going abroad for a study year's study, young people going abroad to travel, and exchange students heading home after a stay of up to a year in the United States.

The journey I was on was dominated by the Youth for Understanding students who numbered about 600 out of the total passenger list. The other largest group was from the University of Southern California sending students to Spain for a year of study. Youth for Understanding is the Michigan-born teen-age exchange program which brings European, Mexican, South American, and Japanese students to the States for a family living experience for a period ranging up to one year. The youngsters live the life of American teen-agers and attend American high schools. They are scattered from New York to California, Michigan to Texas, with the vast majority living in Michigan.

They are returned home by the Aurelia each summer, and the 10 days it takes for the Aurelia to cross the Atlantic is used by YFU to prepare the students to return to their homelands. They have lived in America so long they think and talk English automatically, and despite efforts of counselors to get them to return to their native tongues, a Swede will meet a Swede or a Dutchman another Dutchman and automatically talk English. When they do speak their native tongues some have to pause and think for the proper word.

The Aurelia is chartered from June through August by the Council on Student Travel, an agency that coordinates most bulk student travel to and from the States and offers reasonably priced passage for independent college and high school students going abroad to travel. There is romance on the ship but the ship makes a strong effort to keep romance from getting out of hand.

There is a host of activities ranging from language classes for those who want to say hello and order a meal in a strange tongue, drama classes, physical education classes, music classes, music listening classes, a passenger-published daily newspaper, bridge and chess tournaments, and the inevitable discussion groups.

Parking Fees May Be Hiked to Aid Reserve

The cost of parking on metered streets and city parking lots likely will be raised, City Manager Joseph A. Warren said. "It is very clear we have to change our rates from a nickel an hour to a nickel for a half hour."

Warren's response came after director of finance, Edward Gallagher, presented a report detailing the operation of the meters during 1966.

Gallagher said collections are such that the city is not able to reach cash reserve levels for operation as required under bonding legislation.

Last year collections from the parking systems amounted to $113,650. After operating expenses and interest on bonds were paid there was a $73,652 net.

OTHER EXPENSES

Another $60,000 was used to retire outstanding bonds, used to install parking facilities. Construction costs were pegged at $13,000.

Gallagher said the cash flow was just about enough to meet expenses but the city was falling behind in establishing the necessary cash reserves.

To retire the bonds the city will pay $60,000 next year, $65,000 in 1969, $70,000 in 1970 and $75,000 per year from 1971 to 1975.

Commissioners said they would consider a rate hike at a future informal meeting.

City Tells Tavern 'No Dancing'

City commissioners voted 4-2 last night to withhold a dance permit from the Central Bar, 21 East Pike.

The bar did have a dance permit for a five-year period but at the time of annual renewal in February the commission voted not to renew it.

At the time past violations of liquor control laws were cited by the commission as reasons for denying renewal.

Charles Gersten, the owner, said he had talked with police officers and had been told they preferred that the bar not have the permit because it might attract too many people, that there was not enough available parking and that they didn't want too many people "in our end of town."

"I think the reasons are flimsy and cloudy," he said. He added that denial "would be hasty and summary."

WORKIN' CLASS

Gersten said his bar caters to the working class and is often the only place where some people can go "for common social ground."

District 1 Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr., voting for renewal said, "I don't think I should legislate anybody out of business."

District 4 Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson, voting with Fowler, said "it has been a year since violations occurred, and that those that had occurred had been understandable."

Voting against were Commissioners Robert C. Irwin, John A. Dugan, Wesley J. Wood and James H. Marshall. Those opposed cited a police department recommendation made in February and this month advising against the permit.

City Affairs

Finance Firm to Buy Urban Renewal Plot

City commissioners last night approved sale of 40,807 square feet of urban renewal land for construction of a finance company office building.

The parcel is at the northwest corner of Orchard Lake and West Side Track.

The purchase offer was made by Noel Buckner of the Buckner Finance Co. Officials said he has plans to construct a 5,200-square-foot, one-story office building with parking for 46 cars.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said the $60,758 offer "is well within" two appraisals made recently.

Approval for the sale will now have to come from the Department of Housing and Urban Development which provides much for the financing in urban renewal projects.

'GET TOUGH'

In other action, the commission agreed to a "get tough" policy with the contractor for the $1.1-million Galloway Creek trunk sewer.

District 5 Commissioner John A. Dugan said Featherstone, Giddings and other streets had been torn up for five or six weeks without any noticeable work being done on the streets to complete the sewers.

He said many residents are complaining of the dust and dirt generated.

Director of Public Works and Service Joseph E. Neippling said the city could take strong and aggressive actions against the contractor, Ric-Man Construction CO.

NEW PROBLEMS

He warned, however, that because of some differences in the past such actions could create a whole new set of problems.

Mayor Pro-Tem Leslie H. Hudson said the actions should

Blast Kills 13; 60 Are Injured

SALAMANCA, Spain (AP) — A gas explosion ripped a three-story building in the village of Gujuelo Tuesday as a gay bullfight crowd walked by, killing 13, and injuring about 60 others.

Rescue workers moved rubble throughout the night in search for victims. Gujuelo is 36 miles south of Salamanca.

Many of the dead still awaited identification. All appeared to be Spanish.

Police said the explosion could have been touched off either by a cigarette thrown away by a passerby or a short-circuit.

Burglar Loots Home in City

Some $100 in cash, a ring and an assortment of pocket knives were stolen from a Pontiac home, it was reported to city police yesterday.

Leonard Skaggs, 58, of 38 N. Jessie told officers the thief cut a screen away from a bedroom window to make entry.

Investigators said they were able to detect fingerprints at the scene.

Huge quantities of potassium chloride and other chemicals are being taken from the Dead Sea.

Two Appraisals Set for Crystal Beach

City commissioners last night to pay one-half of the fair market value of the project on a basis of the Crystal Beach land contract or time contract housing project in connection over a period not to exceed 10 years to the city.

Commissioners also indicated that they will meet Monday night to discuss the philosophy of the city going into the project.

District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin said "this is rather a large step." Calling the move a "policy change," Irwin implied there was questionable value in the city owning "dilapidated shacks."

The proposal, as outlined by one of the owners, Irving L. Ackerman, a Detroit attorney, calls for the city to demolish the structures within three years of sale.

The owners requested appraisals by two impartial appraisers, one appointed by the city and one chosen by the Association of Appraisers. The offer calls for the city to Warren said the owners paid $121,000 for the 72-unit project seven years ago.

The owners, who purchased the property for investment purposes and have extensive holdings elsewhere, claim they are losing money on it.

Warren said that if the city purchased the property it could accumulate rental payments of $4,500 to $5,000 a month to build a fund to pay for demolition.

RESERVATIONS

Commissioners expressed some reservations about the proposal. District 5 Commissioner John A. Dugan said, "I don't out."

like the idea of the city getting into the real estate business. If the project's phased out in three years, then what? Where are they (residents) going to go?"

District 1 Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr., expressing concern again for more three- and four-bedroom housing in the city, said most persons living in the project have large families.

"I'm not going to say this should be phased out in three years unless we make plans for places where these people can go when they are phased out," he said.

Fowler said there is a definite necessity for more housing publicly supported whether "it is rent supplement or public housing."

Fowler also said residents of Crystal Beach would expect the city to relocate them if they were evicted.

Oriole Manager Worried?

Bauer Shrugs Off 'Firing'

By MILTON RICHMAN
NEW YORK (UPI) — Darn right Hank Bauer is worried.

Anybody would be in his shoes. Anybody, that is, except that cool, impervious fellow with the Dodgers, and you can't really count him because he has been fired so much in the public prints during his 14-year regime that he never really worries about it anymore.

Bauer does. He was "fired" in a newspaper story out of St. Louis Tuesday and in the story it said he was merely finishing out this season with Baltimore and that Rochester manager Earl Weaver would take over the Orioles next year.

Bauer didn't read the story but he was told about it, naturally, by one of those traditional carriers of such warm news.

Bauer said the same thing any worried manager should say:

"I don't know anything about it."

Neither did Harry Dalton, the Orioles' director of player personnel who functions as general manager and is here with the club for its series with the Yankees.

"There's no substance to the story," he said. "No substance at all."

ANOTHER YEAR

Bauer has another year to run on a two-year contract which pays him $50,000 per annum and which he happily signed in that first hot flush following the Orioles' sweep of the Dodgers last October.

That means Bauer is due $50,000 next year, rain, shine or sit at home, but you can bet he's going to earn it one way or another because the Orioles have the same history of throwing away money as your neighborhood bank.

With the Orioles bedded down in ninth place, Bauer has understandable reason for concern. He isn't asked by too many questions, either.

"People still keep asking you what happened?" someone inquired of him.

"Yeh," he grunted.

"Whadd'ya tell 'em?"

"I tell 'em the only thing I can tell

'em, that I lost my whole pitching staff . . . that Frank Robinson got hurt . . . that we had a lotta slumps . . ."

Bauer's voice trailed off. He sounded as if he were weary of having to say the same thing all the time. He sounded weary, period.

The Orioles outlasted the Yankees 11-10 in 13 innings Tuesday night but they still have lost 21 of their 33 contests since the All-Star game and the year has to be written off as a dead loss up to this point.

"What are you gonna do from now on?" Bauer was asked, "showcase some of your kids for 1968?"

"No," replied the manager slowly, "no . . . I'm thinking about winning right now. I'm not thinking about '68 yet. Besides, who have we got to showcase? There's Mark Belanger and young Dave May. I don't really have that many kids."

If a managerial switch is made, Dalton is the man who'll announce it and at this time, naturally he's not saying one way or another.

Deal Boosts Hopes for City Pro Eleven

Hoping to strengthen some of the gaps found in their 28-13 exhibition loss last Saturday to the Ypsilanti Vikings, the Pontiac Firebirds today obtained the services of six players, all from the area, who helped Pontiac win the MFL championship last year.

Their contracts were purchased from Lisle Wells, now the head coach at Mt. Clemens.

The Firebirds face the Flint Blue Devils Saturday night in an exhibition game at Wisner Stadium before opening the regular season Aug. 26 at Mt. Clemens.

Key players involved in the purchase were defensive end Don Quinn and quarterback Bill Harrington. Others obtained were fullback Willie Jones, center-guard Elbert Humphrey, tight end Francis Schapman and defensive back George Tanner.

Head coach Tom Tracy said he was not disappointed in the loss to Ypsilanti. "We did a lot of shuffling of personnel, and I thought our line play on offense and defense did very well against the bigger and more experienced lines Ypsilanti had.

"We found some problems at linebacker and in our passing game," said Tracy, "and we hope we can improve in these departments in the Flint game Saturday."

Quinn, a 6-foot, 245-pounder, was the Most Valuable defensive player on the Pontiac team last year. An All-Stater from Detroit, he played at the University of Wyoming and was with the New York Jets for a spell.

REFUSED TO GO

When Wells left Pontiac to set up a franchise in Mt. Clemens, Quinn and several other area players refused to go along.

Harrington was the backup quarterback for Tommy Myers last year and took over regular duties late in the season when Myers was recalled by the Lions.

A former school teacher in the Pontiac system, Harrington, 6-1 and 180, is now assistant football coach at Birmingham Groves.

Jones is the 230-pound fullback from Hillsdale who had the third best rushing average in the MFL last year behind Flint's Jim Long and Dayton's Chuck Malloy.

The Firebirds continue drills this evening at the Wisner practice field for the Flint contest, which will get under way at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Flint has a veteran team led by quarterback Mace Segal and the running of Long who averaged 6.8 yard per try in leading the MFL in 1966.

Tickets for the game are available at Osburn's downtown, Griff's Grill, Bob-Ken's, VW Post 1370 and the Firebirds office, 12 N. Saginaw.

All tickets for the exhibition game are $2 for adults and $1 for students. There are no reserved seats for the game.

Season tickets, all reserved, can be purchased for the six regular season games at $12.50 for adults and $3 for students. The six home games include Ypsilanti, Sept. 9; Mt. Clemens, Sept. 23; Dayton, Oct. 7; Lansing Oct. 21; Flint, Oct. 28 and Detroit-Rouge, Nov. 4.

Bosox Hurler Tough for Tigers

Morehead Has Easy Time in Shutout, 4-0

BOSTON (AP) — The Detroit Tigers sent their righthanded power into Fenway Park with its cory left field wall—and Boston sent Dave Morehead to the mound.

Morehead sported a terrible 7.20 earned run average and had won one and lost two since being recalled from Toronto.

Sound like a walkover for the Tigers?

Boston won, 4-0, knocking Detroit back a step in the tight American League race.

Detroit's righthanded power didn't amount to much. Al Kaline tripled, but died on third. Willie Horton singled, but no one brought him home. Bill Freehan, the slugging catcher, didn't play due to an arm injury.

"He used to throw harder, but I had more trouble picking up the ball to night," said Hotron who struck out twice and fled out once against Morehead.

Jim Price replaced Freehan and collected three singles, but the Tigers couldn't score.

Norm Cash got the other Tiger hit. Boston jumped on starter and loser Joe Sparrma for two homers in the first inning. Reggie Smith and George Scott boomed home runs.

In the third, Joe Foy tripled and Carl Yastrzemski brought him home with a sacrifice fly.

TUMBLING CATCH

In the fifth, Price singled, Ray Oyler got to first on an error and Dick McAuliffe walked to load the bases with two out. Don Wert almost broke the game open, but Tony Conigliaro made a fine, tumbling catch of Wert's sinking liner and that was the end of Detroit's best threat.

Kalnine tripled with two out in the eighth and Horton lofted a short fly to end the inning.

Boston scored an insurance run in the eighth when Yastrzemski hit his 28th homer.

Sparrma's record dropped to 12-5 with the loss. Fred Gladding pitched the fifth and sixth innings without giving up a hit and Mike Marshall finished.

Denny McLain 15-12 takes the mound for the Tigers tonight in the second game of the series against Lee Stange 7-8.

Morehead, one of the Sox' major disappointments in 1966, has emerged as a possible key man in the club's American League pennant drive.

Honor Awards Made

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Van Heusen Outstanding Achievement Awards in Major League Baseball for July went to heavy-hitting Rusty Staub of the Houston Astros and relief pitcher Minnie Rojas of the California Angels.

1-Hitter Boosts Team in District Play

One-hit pitching by Floyd Hicks boosted Spencer Floors of Waterford into the finals of the state Class B district softball tournament last night at Beaudette Park.

With Hicks checking the opposition, Spencer mowed down Pontiac's American League champion Ron's Roost, 10-0. The losers take on Warren No. 2 this evening at 8 with the winner joining Spencer in the finals tomorrow at 8 p.m.

In Class D state district action at Northside Park, Pontiac's Local No. 594 dropped Waterford's Midget Bar into the losers' bracket with an 8-3 decision, and Berkley eliminated Holly Hotel, 6-5.

Midget Bar and Berkley tangled this evening at 8 with the loser closing the season and the winner moving into the finals 8 p.m. tomorrow against Local 594.

A fourth-inning double by Al Hayward spoiled Hicks' bid for a no-hitter, but he retired the next batter on an infield grounder and set down the side in the fifth for the victory.

HOT ATTACK

Spencer rapped out nine hits and took advantage of four walks and a pair of Roost errors to post the 10 runs. Jerry Hesse collected three straight hits and Fred Milliron added a single and double to spark the winners.

Steve Simmons sparked in the field and contributed two hits along with teammate Mel Taylor to pace the Local 594 attack.

The winners grabbed an early 5-0 lead, and after the losers narrowed it to 5-3 in the fourth they pushed across three in the seventh to lock it up. Jim Fisk confused the losers with a sharp changeup and allowed only three hits.

Berkley's Merchants, down 5-4 going into the bottom of the seventh, tallied twice on two singles and a pair of errors to gain the decision.

Gerald Wisnom paced the winners with a triple and single while LaVern Marin picked up three safeties for the losers.

Pitching proved to be the difference at Waterford where Day's Sanitary of Waterford and Holly Jameson Insurance posted victories in Class C tournament action.

Jerry Thomas fanned three and scattered six hits as Day's eliminated Warren T. R. W. 2-1, and Royce Spalding teamed with Bob Reeves in a two-hit 2-0 win for Holly over Pontiac Town & Country.

The defeat dropped Town & Country into the losers bracket for a game this evening at 7:30 against Days. Tonight's winner takes on Holly Jameson tomorrow night. Class A tournament play also opens in Waterford this evening with Royal Oak and Ferndale paired in a 9 p.m. clash.

Doubles by Tom Studt and Bud Thomason with a walk in between staked Day's to a 2-0

Valley and Bob Myer of Orchard Hills in Buchanan. All had 144 in regulation play.
A total of 1,818 entries went into qualifying this week at 43 sites in the country, seeking 150 berths.

Marly Fleckman, the low amateur in last June's U.S. Open had a 72-72-144 at Kirtland CC in Cleveland.

Topping all sections was John Farguhar who fired a 68-68-156 in qualifying at Odessa, Tex.

Ron Cerrudo, a Walker Cup team member, had 137 in qualifying at Rochester, N.Y., while 17-year-old Don Hawken of Novato, California topped the San Francisco sectional with 79-73-143.
Other teen-agers also led fields at Pittsburgh where 17-year-old Jim Simons of Butler, Pa. had 71-74-145 and at Butte, Mont., where 19-year-old Skip Koprivica had 68-73-141.

Swede Holding Games' Lead

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. — William Matheson of the U.S. Army won the 4,000-meter race in the fourth event of the United States pentathlon championship, but Sweden's Bjorn Fern still held the overall lead.

Matheson won 1,117 points for his time of 13:25.5 Tuesday and moved up from ninth to third place with a total of 3,756 points.

Top Pros to Meet LPGA's Leading Duo

BALTIMORE — Four of 900-yard course about $55 yards shorter for the ladies.
The match is being held for the benefit of the Maryland Association of Brain Injured Children.

In what might have appeared to the passerby as mixed doubles in golf, the two top male pros were paired against Kathy Whitworth and Carol Mann.

The two distaffers are running one and two in the LPGA money race.

As hard to believe as it may seem, the women may have a chance to humble the opposition.

Aside from the fact that Miss Man of nearby Towson, Md., knows the Mount Pleasant course thoroughly, the placement of the tees makes the 6.

WDGA Champ Six-Shot Winner in Weekly Event

Mrs. John Hume of Birmingham continues to set a hot pace among players in the Women's District Golf Association.

She collected the group's match play crown last week for a record sixth time and she came through yesterday with an easy victory in the WDGA's weekly outing at Detroit Golf Club.

Mrs. Hume turned in rounds of 40-38 for a 78 to beat Mrs. T. M. Werner of Indianwood by six strokes.
Winning low net honors in the championship flight was Mrs. Arthur Rosenberg of Knollwood.

LPGA in Western Open

PEKING, Ill. — Defending champion Mickey Wright will be missing but otherwise a full force of lady pros, led by the season's top money winner, Kathy Whitworth, will tee off Thursday in the $10,000 Women's Western Open.

(manager) that I was going to pitch," said the 23-year-old right-hander who was called up from Amarillo of the Texas League Monday. "I thought about it all day."

After eight innings of Tuesday night's game, the Los Angeles Dodgers undoubtedly had some thoughts about Von Hoff—probably unpleasant ones—but that's about all they had. Von Hoff gave them just four hits and no runs before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the bottom of the eighth.

However, he didn't get the victory. But Houston's 2-1 in 12 innings, and that's a story in itself. The Astros had lost their 10 previous games by scoring a total of 25 runs while their pitchers gave up 70 and completed just one game.

In other National League games, St. Louis beat the Chicago Cubs 4-1. Philadelphia swept the New York Mets 3-2 in 12 innings and 7-5. San Francisco topped Atlanta 4-1 and Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh 2-1.

"I thought I could go another inning or two," said Von Hoff who was 4-2 with Amarillo, "but Grady (Manager Grady Hatton) made the right move."

BASES LOADED

The move was to pinch hit Julio Gozay for Von Hoff with one on and two out in the eighth.

Gozy walked and Sonny Jackson singled to load the bases, but Claude Osteen got Joe Morgan to foul out.

Larry Sherry then held the Dodgers until the 11th when Tom Dukes, brought up Monday from Oklahoma City of the Pacific Coast League, took over.

The Dodgers broke through against the Astros when Jim LeFebvre singled home Nate Oliverson. However, the Astros came right back in the bottom of the 11th. Bob Aspromonte singled off reliever Phil Regan, scoring Rusty Staub.

Houston then won it in the 12th when Morgan singled, and with two out, rookie Doug Rader doubled him home.

A five-run sixth inning, highlighted by Julian Javier's two-run triple keyed St. Louis to its victory over Chicago as the Cardinals opened up a 10½-game lead over Atlanta and Cincinnati which are tied for second place. The Cubs dropped to fifth, 11 games back.

Bill White's leadoff homer in the 12th, gave Philadelphia its first game victory. John Callipson raced home on Tony Perez's double. The loss was the Pirates' sixth in the last seven games.

The Phillies pulled off the sixth triple play in the majors this season, three in each league, in the second inning of the nightcap. With two on, Phil Linz grounded to Rich Allen, who stepped on third for one out and threw to Cookie Rojas at second for another force. Rojas then relayed to first baseman White to complete the triple play, the second the Mets have hit into this year.

Ty Cline lashed four straight hits and scored twice and Jim Hart belted a two-run homer in leading San Francisco to its victory. The homer was Hart's 27th.

Cincinnati tied Pittsburgh at 1-1 in the seventh and then won it in the eighth when Vada Pinson raced home on Tony Perez's double. The loss was the Pirates' sixth in the last seven games.

Slow-Pitch Champ Stays in Title Picture

MGM-Shalea kept its hopes alive for a second straight city Slow-Pitch championship last night by eliminating Pontiac Press in the playoffs, 7-6.

In another Slow-Pitch game, Chetlin moved into the finals with a 6-5 decision over Wagon Wheel.

On tonight's slate, Wagon Wheel takes on MGM-Shalea at Beaudette Park at 6:45 p.m. with the winners moving into the finals against Chetlin tomorrow at Beaudette.

Bob Frisbie's oneout single with the bases loaded in the last of the seventh produced the winning run for MGM-Shalea after the Pressmen had scored three times in the sixth to tie it at 6-6.

Jim Gallagher paced the winners with three hits, with teammates Ralph Pounds, Tom Sheehan and Frisbie collecting two apiece.

Trailing 5-2 after three innings, Chetlin came up with a pair of runs in the fourth and won it with two more in the top of the seventh.

Al Fisher's sacrifice fly and Dwight Logie's single chased home the seventh-inning runs. Logie, Mel Gallison and Dick Fisher picked up two hits each to spark the winners.

Larry Olsen and Jim Palan rapped out a couple hits each for Wagon Wheel. George Adams belted a two-run homer for the losers in the third.

Tish Preuss Golf Medalist

Match Play Starts in Women's Amateur

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Blonde Phyllis (Tish) Preuss, who failed to qualify for the tourney last year, leads the field into today's start of match play in the 67th Women's Amateur Golf Championship.

By winning medalist honors with a four-over-par 148 Tuesday over the Annandale Golf Club course, Miss Preuss outplayed three former women champions of the U.S. Golfers Association.

The 32 qualifiers began match play with two rounds today. Tied for runner-up qualifying honors at 150 were Roberta Albers of Tampa, Fla., a straight-A senior at University of Miami, and Martha Wilkinson of Fullerton, Calif., the national intercollegiate champion.

Michigan golfers who qualified for today's rounds were Joyce Kazmierski of Detroit, who shot 78-78-156, and Bonnie Lauer of Huntington Woods, with 81-79-160.

Edward G. Gets 'New' Face and Young Outlook at 73

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Seventy-three-year-old Edward G. Robinson, whose entire face was redone by a plastic surgeon after an auto accident in June 1966, went to Italy to make a picture... acting almost as young as a teeny-bopper.

"There were nine doctors and they did a marvelous job on his face — you can't tell it!" his wife, Jane, proudly said at 21 when the Robinsons stopped there en route to Rome.

Edward G. submitted to inspection of his face. His wife was right, you couldn't tell it.

"I guess I fell asleep at the wheel, I don't know what happened," he said with a shrug.

He preferred discussing "Operation San Pietro," his new film, and five others he's in which are soon to be released.

His hand was bandaged, and I asked if that was a holdover from the car accident.

"No, I burned myself with a fat cigar," he said. He was smoking a cigar as we talked. "I have my cigarettes that I smoke between cigars in my back pocket."

The Temptations, the five top record-setting singers from Detroit, had one of the liveliest openings I've ever seen at the Copacabana... with their fans in the back and on the side standing up to sing with them. Their fans are almost as enthusiastic as Judy Garland's.

LBJ got ribbed in Dave Fries' brilliant impersonations at the Copa. LBJ supposedly said, "I come here before you to tonight not as your president, not as your commander-in-chief, etc., but as a simple barefoot boy from Texas who is your king."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

Arthur Miller and Lee Strasberg will sponsor a show of paintings and sculptures of Marilyn Monroe (Dec. 6, for charity).

D'way producer Bob Weiner expects to star Catherine Deneuve in his film, "The Idle Dancers," about Paris jet-setters...

Either Luba Lisa gets more songs to do or she won't come to N.Y. with "Hellsbop!"... Phil Greenwald's trying to get Danny Kaye to make his Catskills return at the Concord.

Ira Levin, whose book "Rosemary's Baby," is a hit, is working on another. Suggested title: "Son of Rosemary's Baby."

Famed Swedish director Ingemar Bergman agreed to do his first TV for BBC-TV ("Hamlet" or Strindberg's "Miss Julie").

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The number that gives a girl the best social security is 36-24-36.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Man blames fate for all other accidents, but feels personally responsible when he makes a hole-in-one."

EARL'S PEARLS: We've had the Love-In, the Sit-In, and the Dance-In. And now, says Bob Orben, LBJ's raising taxes—it's called the Kick-In.

Carol Lawrence, who'll do a Bell Telephone Hour TV, says the phone company offered to pay her by cash or check. "Or, if I give them my name and address, they'll mail me the stamps." That's earl, brother.

range of weapons of the Viet Cong. Above, members of the U.S. Army's 4th Infantry Division hold the new B-50 rocket, left, and the old B-40, both used with devastating effectiveness against U.S. forces in Vietnam. The B-50 is believed capable of penetrating 11 inches of armor. At right, a Viet Cong suspect is questioned about the presence of a crude, but also highly effective, iron-spiked booby trap.

Hovercraft Device Patented

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — The old-time paddle wheel has it all over the conventional screw propeller for driving a vehicle over water, says, the British inventor of the hovercraft, Christopher Sydney Cockerell.

It can work in shallower water, he says, and, unlike the propeller, needs no fixed supporting structure below the surface to offer resistance — everything underwater is helping to propel the vehicle.

Cockerell this week patented a variation on the paddle wheel for use with air-cushion vehicles. Despite the device's shallow draft, however, it still cancels a major advantage of most existing hovercraft, which are driven by propellers in the air: the ability to go on both land and water. Cockerell's invention is limited to nonamphibious hovercraft.

Conventional paddle wheels, he says, are somewhat inefficient because their blades, pointing outward from a central axis, do not enter and leave the water in truly vertical positions, and thus, cause drag.

Cockerell's design uses two or more blades, which alternately move down into the water, back and out again, remaining parallel to each other and at a fixed angle throughout each stroke.

A pair of cranks, one above the other, give the blades their motion, while moving one shaft relative to the other enables the angle of the blades to be changed.

Fire Heightens Alaska Flood Danger

HOMES ENGULFED — A residential area of Fairbanks, close to the main business district of the central Alaskan city, was a vast lake as floodwaters of the rampaging Chena River swept through town. This area, with Lathrop High School in the background, was later inundated to a greater depth than shown in this Air Force photo, taken about midday yesterday.

AP Wirephoto

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Helicopters and riverboats, moving past dangling power lines, carried 10,000 Alaskans to safety from this city nine feet deep in floodwater, as the danger of fire posed a new element of disaster today.

Three persons were known dead in the flood that Gov. Walter J. Hickel said would have greater impact on the state than the Good Friday earthquake of March 1964. "Every piece of property has been touched," he said.

Firefighters, blocked by deep and swift running water, watched helplessly as six buildings burned in the downtown area yesterday. Mayor H. A. Boucher warned — "If anything major breaks out, we'd need a fireboat to fight it, and Fairbanks doesn't have a fireboat."

Weather forecasters predicted some rain late today as the Chena River, which loops through this city of 30,000, ran up to nine feet deep in the heart of the downtown business district, spilling the waters that it accumulated during four days of rain without letup.

Even if there was no more rain, one forecaster said, it would take days for the river just to return to the flood level.

FIELD RATIONS

Planes brought rations, medicine, typhoid serum for 40,000 people, and federal disaster and rescue personnel including doctors, nurses and Red Cross workers. The Army set up water purification units and handed out field rations to refugees.

A house-to-house check of every building in the flooded sections of the city — and that included virtually all of Fairbanks — was started late last night.

Boucher estimated the check would continue until well into tomorrow but said most people stranded on roofs of homes and business houses had been rescued by nightfall yesterday.

The mayor, who estimated damage starting at $150 to $200 million, said about 10,000 people were moved to evacuation centers by the Alaska National Guard, Army and civilian helicopters and boats manned by civilian, National Guardsmen and police.

Hickel and Boucher narrowly missed being swept away late yesterday when a heavy Army halftrack in which they were touring the downtown area was tossed by the swift current through a downtown street.

A federal team headed for Fairbanks to inspect the city's needs at the direction of President Johnson.

Hickel asked the President yesterday to take steps necessary to declare Fairbanks and nearby Nenana, also hard-hit by the flooding Neena and Tanana rivers, as federal disaster areas.

City May Hike Water Rates

Because of an increase in water rates by the City of Detroit, Pontiac residents can expect a hike in their water rates.

City commissioners last night authorized a complete analysis of the present rate structure and recommendations for the future by Jones & Henry, a firm of consulting engineers.

Joseph E. Nepling, director of public works and service, said the water supply division last year had an operating deficit of $15,000. The deficit this year will be substantially larger, he said.

"Our present rate structure presents a paradox . . . being that the more water we sell, the more financial difficulty we experience," he said.

Under the contract with Detroit, the city is paying $1.39 per thousand cubic feet. Detroit gave notice this week that rates will be raised to $1.60 per thousand cubic feet effective Nov. 1.

ABSORBED BY USERS

The 15 per cent increase will no doubt be absorbed by the users. The city pumps about 16 million gallons per day to water users.

A minimum monthly charge of $10.50 allows up to 1,500 cubic feet of water in a three-month period. The charge includes cost of sewage disposal.

Rates after that are 33 cents per 100 cubic feet more for the next 100,000, 25 cents per hundred more for above that and up to a million gallons.

Partly Cloudy Skies Forecast

Morning winds southwesterly at 8 to 16 miles per hour will continue.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today near zero, tonight 10, and tomorrow 20.

The low in downtown Pontiac arrived at 8 a.m. was 66. The mercury climbed to 84 by 1 p.m.

City Mulls Open Housing Ordinance

The Pontiac City Commission last night was asked to enact an open occupancy ordinance at next week's commission meeting.

The request touched off more than an hour of discussion but the meeting ended with commissioners giving any commitment to when and if such an ordinance would be considered.

Mayor Pro-Tem Leslie H. Hudson, in calling an end to the discussion, said "any member of the commission who desires to bring it up has a right to do so."

After the meeting District 1 Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr. was asked by Negroes to introduce a motion at the meeting next week that would affect the ordinance.

Hudson also said that if the commissioners did not care to bring the question of the ordinance up, those desiring one could petition for a referendum election on the issue.

PROPRIETY QUESTIONED
Commissioners Hudson, Fowler and

John A. Dugan, District 5, all spoke of the questionable propriety and affect of an open occupancy ordinance but several Negro spokesmen implied that delays in enacting such an ordinance would merely be stalling.

Richard Northcross of 188 Astorwood, who asked for the ordinance said, "There doesn't have to be red tape to pass an open housing ordinance."

Related Stories, Page C-12

The ordinance would, he said, "give the victims of racism something to go on." He said that since there was evidence that racism is being practiced there is a need for immediate action.

Charles Tucker, past president of the Oakland County Chapter of the NAACP, who explained that he came to the meeting after hearing the question brought up on a radio broadcast of the commission meeting, urged prompt action on the request.

"If you are representatives of American government . . . then there can be an ordinance," he said. Tucker also said that the commission has in the past been asked frequently by various organizations to adopt such an ordinance.

"The last time it was referred to the Human Relations Commission and the city attorney rendered an opinion that the Michigan Civil Rights Commission preempted any ordinance," Tucker said.

He asked that the commission enact an ordinance without making it necessary for a referendum vote. "Somewhere along the line someone has to provide the leadership to give people in this community faith in human dignity."

In indicating that the city has been slow in passing ordinances that would help eliminate discrimination he said

Grand Jury Ends, Indicts 8

By JIM LONG

Eight persons were indicted yesterday by Oakland County Grand Juror James S. Thorburn, ending the year-long investigation into alleged crime and corruption.

The output nearly equaled the total number of indictments issued since the inquiry began last August.

The indictments named:

• State Rep. Bill S. Huffman, D-Madison Heights; charged with being unlawfully employed by the Hazel Park Racing Association while serving as a member of the Legislature.

• Peter J. Bellanca of Detroit, general counsel for the Hazel Park Racing Association; charged with perjury when he appeared before the grand jury last Thursday.

• Harold Gordon, 42, of 31450 Brainerd, Franklin, a real estate developer and attorney; and Jack Salvadore, 42, a Livonia city councilman; charged with conspiracy and bribery in the rezoning of property for an apartment development in Madison Heights.

• Andrew J. Mavros, 59, of 114 First, Southfield, a horse trainer at Hazel Park Race track; charged with two offenses, resisting an officer and obstructing justice.

• James H. Hudnut, a Detroit attorney; and Peter N. Lazaros, 2410 Dalesford, Bloomfield Township; charged with conspiracy to obtain property under false pretense. The property according to the indictment, is the Country View Inn owned by a Charles Nuzum at 2701 Lapeer, Pontiac Township.

SEPARATE INDICTMENT

Lazaros, who according to investigators operates Dalesford Farms, Inc., 700 E. Maple, Birmingham for Hudnut, also was named alone in another indictment charging him with fraudulently obtaining a $100,000 parcel of property owned by Nuzum in Pontiac Township.

The name of one other person indicted is being withheld by authorities until he is taken into custody.

He is an alleged Mafia leader, according to a grand jury spokesman.

With the exception of Huffman and Lazaros, all those identified were arraigned yesterday on charges and then released on bond by Bloomfield Hills Justice of the Peace Jack Baldwin.

ARRAIGNED TODAY

Huffman and Lazaros were to be arraigned today.

The indictment against Huffman was the second issued for the 66th District representative since Thorburn succeeded Circuit Judge Philip Pratt as grand juror in June.

The first charged Huffman with soliciting a bribe regarding a liquor license while he was mayor of Madison Heights.

OCC Officials Find Site for 4th Campus

Oakland Community College officials have found an undisclosed 80-acre site for a fourth college campus in south-eastern Oakland County, it was revealed yesterday by President Dr. John E. Tirrell.

Dr. Tirrell disclosed that purchase of the 10 parcels of land for $485,000 would probably be finalized at tomorrow's Board of Trustees meeting. Twenty-seven owners are involved.

Tirrell explained that he and the OCC trustees were bound not to discuss the location of the land until tomorrow.

He did say that the site was south of 14 Mile Road, east of Coolidge, north of 8 Mile Road and west of Dequindre and that it would mainly serve students from Hazel Park, Royal Oak, Madison Heights and the Berkley area.

College officials have been searching for a site in the populous section of the county for nearly two years.

'ON-AND-OFF'

The college president reported that negotiations were "on-and-off" with the owners for some time.

He emphasized that the site was not Royal Oak's 167-acre Red Run Golf Course which was once considered but later dropped because the club's members did not want to sell it.

Sites in Royal Oak have been prominently mentioned as possibilities but a Royal Oak City Planning Commission spokesman said yesterday he did not know of a site there that fits the description.

Other municipalities located within the "target area" are Madison Heights, Clawson, Hazel Park, Oak Park, Berkley, Huntland Woods, Pleasant Ridge and Farmdale.

THREE CAMPUSES

OCC, which will celebrate its second anniversary this fall, has three campuses and could well have five or six by 1980 if funds are available.

OCC opened its doors on two campuses — Auburn Hills in Pontiac Township and Highland Lakes in Waterford Township — to 4,000 students in September 1965, the largest initial enrollment for a community college in the nation.

An estimated 6,000 students are expected this fall with the partial opening of the new Orchard Ridge campus in Farmington Township for 2,000 students.

Tirrell said the acquisition of a fourth campus — the smallest of the four — will probably mean the Highland Lakes campus will not be expanded in the near future as planned.

An $11-million project will begin at Auburn Hills this fall to construct the campus' first permanent buildings.

Commission Eyes Open Housing Rule

FEDERAL LEVEL

"We do have these at the federal level," he said.

Hudson, who said he hoped an attempt would not be made to "coerce" the commission into taking the action said the city officials have and do recognize the problems but the "steps we can take are not necessarily legislation."

He said a federal law which would direct compliance in all

50 states at once would be a better solution. He said the commission intends to pursue solutions and he recognizes that there is "a need for action."

Hudson said that because of recent turmoil "there is an awakening of all people throughout the United States," but there are persons who are "still sheltered in an all white society who don't realize problems facing those living in integrated and segregated areas."

He also said nothing will be gained by hurrying an ordinance and that one would not "alleviate any problem" unless it could be worked out in an orderly manner and with total community support.

Dugan said he was opposed to a city ordinance saying that such action should be taken at the state and national level. "As far as I'm concerned there is open occupancy in the city of Pontiac."

Mrs. Rose Cain of 324 Pioneer said "We don't have to wait for direction to come from Washington. Why does Pontiac have to follow? Why can't Pontiac lead?"

FURTHER DISCUSSION

Fowler who again asked for a meeting with young Negroes present, said he would work with other commissioners "in trying to put this across."

"We don't care about white neighborhoods. We just want better housing, no matter where it is," he said.

Fowler spoke of the progress that has been made in the past years in the area of civil rights, but another resident, Mrs. Elaine Bryant of 105 Cherokee, said, "The young black people of this generation may not have the patience."

Tucker, who later predicted that any open housing ordinance might well eliminate future unrest, said "it is ridiculous to think that the majority of occupants have access to open housing."

SURVEY QUOTED

A member of the Pontiac Housing Study Committee, Tucker liberally quoted points from a recently completed study and survey made for the committee by a national economic consulting firm.

Among his points:

• That, according to the 1960 census, the non-white population of the city, 17 per cent, occupied only 13.5 per cent of the housing.

• That the non-whites pay the same or more for housing

as does the white family but receive poorer housing for the money paid.

• That the condition of non-white housing is generally worse than that for the entire city.

• That, according to the census of 1960, 67 per cent of all dwelling units were occupied by owners, but less than 13 per cent of these homes were owned by non-white families.

Party Expels Czech Author

VIENNA — Ladislav Mnačko, one of Czechoslovakia's best known authors, who visited Israel, was deprived today of his Czechoslovak citizenship and expelled from the Communist party.

The Czechoslovak news agency C.T.K. said Mnačko was also deprived of his honorary title of meritorious artist and of his state decorations.

The action was obviously taken because Mnačko traveled to Israel to protest against his government's support of the Arabs in the Israeli-Arab conflict.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS 1 OUT OF 3 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Washington Conferences May Boost Romney Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who said Tuesday the United States made a mistake in getting involved in Vietnam, went into conferences today aimed at boosting his bid for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

Romney meets with senators, congressmen and members of a group promoting his unannounced candidacy. An aide said the one-day trip was designed to make up for visits Romney canceled during last month's riot in Detroit.

Among the conferees will be Leonard Hall, head of the Romney for President movement. At a news conference Tuesday, Romney said the Vietnam war was "tragic," and added, "I think we made a mistake getting involved there."

PREVIOUS OPPORTUNITY

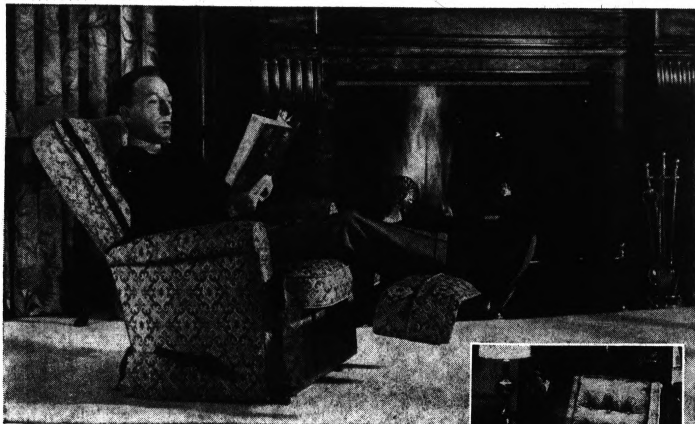

Romney said there was a time when "we had an opportunity to deal with it on the basis of it being a nationalistic effort with a degree of Communist aggression."

"But today we're involved and we've built this up into a very complicated situation where a great deal is at stake and consequently it's not the simple situation it was initially," he said.

Romney said he was not calling for a halt to bombing of North Vietnam, but he said he doubts that the unindustrialized nation can be forced to the bargaining table by the bombing.

Parkinson's first law of bridge is that if you give your partner a chance to make a mistake he is likely to make it. It corresponds roughly to the old Army law that anything that can foul up is likely to do so.

West opened the king of diamonds against South's three diamond contract. Dummy's ace held the trick with East dropping the deuce.

South played his ace and king of diamonds and led a new club to dummy's seven and East's jack.

East was a good player and was pretty sure that he could call every distribution and every face card. West needed the queen of hearts, ace of spades and king of clubs for his opening bid and it looked like a certainty that South's original distribution was 6-3-3-1.

East took his queen of trumps. West played the five of hearts and dummy a low spade. Then East led the eight of spades. West won with the ace and returned a spade to dummy's king. The five of clubs was led from dummy.

East played the six and West won with the king. Then West went into one of those long pauses that are so common among bridge players of all sorts and finally laid down his queen of hearts. South ruffed and claimed the rest of the tricks.

East was bitter, justifiably, because West's play was terrible.

Q—The bidding has been West 1 ♠ North 2 ♦ East 3 ♦ South 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♣ Pass 2 NT. Pass 3 ♣ Pass 2 NT.

A—Bidding three hearts, West is worth another bid and this one is all-purpose. It gives your partner a chance to go to four hearts in the unlikely event that he holds four of them. It tells him you can stop hearts if he is afraid of that suit and warns him of your weakness in diamonds.

TODAY'S QUESTION Your partner surprises you by bidding three spades. What do you do now?

WDGA Champ Six-Shot Winner in Weekly Event

Mrs. John Hume of Birmingham continues to set a hot pace among players in the Women's District Golf Association.

She collected the group's match play crown last week for a record sixth time and she came through yesterday with an easy victory in the WDGA's weekly outing at Detroit Golf Club.

Mrs. Hume turned in rounds of 40-38 for a 78 to beat Mrs. T. M. Werner of Indianwood by six strokes.

LPGA in Western Open

(manager) that I was going to pitch," said the 23-year-old right-hander who was called up from Amarillo of the Texas League Monday. "I thought about it all day."

After eight innings of Tuesday night's game, the Los Angeles Dodgers undoubtedly had some thoughts about Von Hoff—probably unpleasant ones—but that's about all they had. Von Hoff gave them just four hits and no runs before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the bottom of the eighth.

However, he didn't get the victory. But Houston did, 2-1 in 12 innings, and that's a story in itself. The Astros had lost their 10 previous games by scoring a total of 25 runs while their pitchers gave up 70 and completed just one game.

In other National League games, St. Louis beat the Chicago Cubs 6-4, Philadelphia swept the New York Mets 3-2 in 12 innings and 7-5, San Francisco topped Atlanta 4-1 and Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh 2-1.

"I thought I could go another inning or two," said Von Hoff who was 4-2 with Amarillo, "but Grady (Manager Grady Hatton) made the right move."

BASES LOADED
The move was to pinch hit Julio Gotay for Von Hoff with one on and two out in the eighth. Gotay walked and Sonny Jackson singled to load the bases.

Larry Sherry then held the Dodgers until the 11th when Tom Dukes, brought up Monday from Oklahoma City of the Pacific Coast League, took over.

The Dodgers broke through. The Phillies pulled off the sixth triple play in the majors this season, three in each league, in the second inning of the nightcap. With two on, Phil Lins grounded to Rich Allen, who stepped on third for one out and threw to Cookie Rojas at second for another force. Rojas then relayed to first baseman White to complete the triple play, the second the Mets have hit into this year.

Houston then won it in the 12th when Morgan singled, and with two out, rookie Doug Rader doubled him home.

A five-run sixth inning, high-lit by Julian Javier's two-run triple keyed St. Louis to its victory over Chicago as the Cardinals opened up a 10½-game lead over Atlanta and Cincinnati. The homer was Hart's 27th.

The Cubs dropped to fifth, 11½ games back.

Bill White's leadoff homer in the 12th game Philadelphia in its first game victory. John Callipino sparked the nightcap triumph by driving in three runs with a homer and double.

Cincinnati tied Pittsburgh at 1-1 in the seventh and then won it in the eighth when Vada Pinson raced home on Tony Perez' sixth in the last seven games.
