Make the Most of Spring -- Winter Still Packs Punch

Roll down the convertible tops, boys; trot out the Bermuda shorts, girls — it may be your last chance for a while.

Pontiac's brief interlude of spring is due to end tonight, the weatherman says.

Showers and turning colder this evening is his forecast, but it is wonderful while it lasts.

Youngsters out with their bats and balls, teenagers dreamily floating down the sidewalk, women standing hypnotized in front of store window displays of summer cottons . . .

Men just happening to pass by the sporting goods shop where fishing equipment is being featured . . .

Today's high was expected to fall slightly short of yesterday's.

Martial Law Rules Indonesia

Sukarno Takes Action as Island Strife Grows; Premier Resigns

JAKARTA (INS) — President Sukarno proclaimed martial law in crisis-ridden Indonesia today and assumed virtual dictatorial powers.

Sukarno decreed that a state of war and siege existed throughout the archipelago republic. Immediately prior to issuing the proclamation, he accepted the resignation of Premier Ali Sastroamidjojo and his government.

The president said he would appoint a new premier-designate "as soon as possible."

The Sastroamidjojo government announced its decision to resign several hours earlier, following the withdrawal from the coalition cabinet of two members of the Islamic Party.

The resignation communique said only that the government was quitting because it was unable to reshuffle the cabinet.

Government authority has been crumbling since December, when army officers staged a bloodless coup in Sumatra.

Revolts broke out later in the Celebes, Moluccas, Sumatra and three days ago Borneo defied the government, leaving federal authority unchallenged only on Java, the island on which Jakarta is located.

Indonesia, which won its independence in 1949 from the Dutch, has a population of 82,000,000 persons living in a huge belt of 3,000 islands stretching along the equator.

Hoffa Arrested by FBI in Attempted Bribery

Troops Quell Attempt to Kill Cuban Leader

Fighting Takes 40 Lives as Rebels Storm Palace; One American Dies

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Tank-backed troops have wiped out a bold student attempt to capture or kill President Fulgencio Batista in fighting that took an estimated 40 lives.

The government said the entire nation was calm early today.

One of the dead was an American tourist.

A curfew, imposed after the assault on the presidential palace in the heart of Havana, was lifted last night.

Many persons, including American tourists, moved about as usual in bars, restaurants and night clubs.

Armored cars and tanks still mobilized about the palace, Batista's office and residence, were the only open signs of the trouble that erupted violently yesterday afternoon.

There was no official announcement of arrests, but it was evident that police were carrying out an intensive search for participants in the attack.

In addition to the 40 persons reported killed, an estimated 60 were wounded.

(Editor's Note: Seven Detroiters reached Havana yesterday just in time to find themselves in the middle of the uprising against President Batista.)

"We were close enough to the fighting to hear shots," Mrs. Peg Shouman told the Detroit Free Press in a long distance telephone interview.

ON VACATION

(Mrs. Shouman is in Havana with her husband, Fred, public relations representative of the Mercury Division of the Ford Motor Co., and their daughter, Maureen, 24, a Detroit school teacher.)

"The police looked like they meant business, so we stayed in like good American tourists," Shouman said. "Those shots sounded nearer than they were."

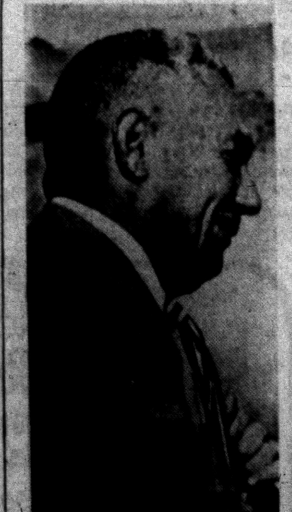

(Other Detroiters in the hotel were Robert Kirby of the Kirby Travel Service, Paul Pious of the Mercury Division sales promotion department, and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart J. Wolfe, of the division's public relations department. "It's been quite exciting," Miss Shouman said.)

FLED BUS

(Another group, 11 Grand Rapids residents, fled their sight-seeing bus in the heart of Havana when gunfire broke out.)

The dead included tourist Peter Korenda, Clifton, N. J. A stray bullet killed him as he watched the battle from the fifth-floor balcony of the Regis Hotel. His roommate, Ed R. Butts, Garfield, N. J., was wounded slightly.

Police said the rebel dead included Jose Antonio Echeverria. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Novi Annexation Voted by Doty

Rules That Vote Fraud Cancels Takeover by City of Northville

Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty today held that a vote fraud voided annexation by Northville of a 95-acre Novi Township parcel. As a result, the area — in Oakland County just north of Eight Mile road — reverts to its status before a special election last June 21.

Judge Doty also ruled that the election was illegally delayed by the secretary of state. He noted that petitions had been filed under one law and the election granted under another law a year later.

The annexation had been favored overwhelmingly by Northville voters. Residents in the affected township area voted for it five to one.

The judge ruled on evidence brought out in trial Jan. 3 that at least four if not all of the township votes for annexation had been obtained by fraud.

AGREEMENT SIGNED

Records showed two of the residents had signed an agreement with a Detroit building firm to vote and work for the annexation.

The agreement was between John C. Burkman, 535 E. Eight Mile Rd., and his wife, Ruth, in an option with the D&R Building Co., 19740 James Couzens Highway, to buy their property at $2,000 an acre.

The Burkman, the judge ruled, influenced the vote of their son, Conrad, and of William and Lena Sample, a couple then living in another home owned by the Burkman at 525 E. Eight Mile Rd.

The suit was brought by a small steel stamping firm in the disputed area, the Warren Products Co., 637 — Eight Mile Rd. The company maintained municipal taxes would be an overburden.

New Yorker Lost Is 1,400-Mile Puzzle

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A tourist from New York, lost overnight in suburban Coral Gables, was reoriented yesterday by the New York Post, 1,400 miles away.

Stephen Masco, 42, got lost on a stroll and couldn't recall the address of his Miami lodgings. He appealed to police. A Miami correspondent for the Post got in touch with a New York printing plant where Masco works, found a man who had a memo of where Masco planned to stay in Miami, and relayed the word back.

Charged With Bribery

Ran Teamsters Here

Hoffa Familiar to Local Turmoil

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

The name of James R. Hoffa—arrested yesterday by the FBI on an attempted bribery charge—is not an unfamiliar one in Pontiac labor circles.

Hoffa's name can be linked to the turbulent history of the AFL Teamsters Local 614 here, whose members can well remember back to 1949 when two bomb blasts shattered the previous harmony of the history of the local.

Hoffa, 44, stepped into the local's affairs, under orders of International President Dave Beck, and placed it under trusteeship because two of its local officers faced extortion and conspiracy charges. This was in October, 1953.

The two officers, Daniel J. Keating and Louis C. Linteau, pleaded guilty later to accepting bribes in connection with labor contracts. (Keating last year was charged with income tax evasion.)

After stripping Keating and Linteau of their power, Hoffa named himself trustee. This caused a split in Local 614's membership. Opponents of Hoffa and his self-appointed officers circulated petitions asking for their ouster.

Hoffa's foes and their families were threatened with physical violence because of their efforts to drive him from Pontiac.

OPPOSITION GREW

The opposition faction grew in numbers in early 1954. When removal proceedings failed, the insurgent group, numbering some 1,500, filed suit in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Hoffa and Beck, who today is awaiting appearance before the Senate investigating committee, were named as defendants. Keating and Linteau, plus former Pontiac State Representative Leam Harrelson, were also named in the suit.

Harrelson is today "acting president" of Local 614, whose headquarters is at 1410 S. Telegraph Rd. The suit, among other things, asked for the accounting of some $1 million in local union funds.

Present Circuit Judges Frank L. Doty, George B. Hartwick and H. Russell Holland threw out the suit in September, 1955, claiming the court had no jurisdiction.

BOMB TARGETS

It was Hoffa who appointed Keating and Linteau to posts during the local's trusteeship reign. The two were targets of the bomb blasts in the fall of 1949, but were uninjured.

Although those who placed the bombs were never apprehended, police officers attributed them to dissengers of Hoffa's trusteeship. Officers stood by with riot guns and tear gas at many anti-Hoffa meetings in the county.

Senate Probers Say His Agent Raided Files

Claim Teamster Boss Paid Attorney $1,000 for Secret Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa, a power in the giant Teamsters Union, today faced charges that he tried to bribe a lawyer for a Senate committee investigating racketeering in labor and industry.

Hoffa, 44-year-old Teamster vice president, was arrested by the FBI last night and charged with hiring John Cye Cheasty, a New York attorney, to get a job with the committee and then feed him information from its files.

Two other arrests were announced at the same time, one in Florida and one in Detroit.

Both the FBI and Committee Chairman McClellan D-Ark said Cheasty had cooperated fully in the monthlong investigation that led up to Hoffa's arrest. Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Cheasty worked as "a double agent."

The FBI said that when Hoffa was seized, "he had in his possession documents from the committee files which he had just received."

Soon after Hoffa's arrest, he was taken before U.S. Commissioner James Splain on charges of violating the federal bribery statutes. Splain ordered Hoffa freed in $25,000 bond pending a hearing before the commissioner March 28. Hoffa's lawyer protested the bond was excessive. After the proceeding, Hoffa declined comment.

After announcing Hoffa's arrest, the FBI said it had arrested Hy-

Court Arraigns Hoffa Secretary in Bribery Case

DETROIT (INS) — Mrs. Fred Dobrescu, personal secretary to James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union vice president who was arrested last night in Washington on bribery charges, was arraigned early today in U.S. District Court in Detroit as a material witness.

Federal Judge Thomas P. Thornton set bond at $5,000 and Mrs. Dobrescu was released.

The attractive secretary was ordered by Judge Thornton to appear "forthwith" in Washington when the government opens its case against Hoffa and 47-year-old attorney Hyman I. Fischbach, who was arrested last night in Coral Gables, Fla., on bribery charges.

MEMO TO CAESAR

Jesus Recruits Followers

(Eighth in a Lenten Series)

Again, Caesar, I dispense with the usual greeting to report promptly that the Nazarene, Jesus, is recruiting followers. This may be a serious matter.

Our agent Junius says that hundreds of people gather whenever the man pauses to preach or teach, and he is no longer doing so just in places of worship, but by the roadside, in homes, or anywhere he happens to be.

The news is abroad widely that he has healed many sick persons. This alone is enough to bring great groups of anxious friends and relatives of the feeble and infirm wherever he goes. More than this though, many persons come just to hear his magical voice and his interpretation of the ancient scriptures by means of parables which all can understand.

Having heard him, quite a few of these people are ready to give up their families and their business and follow him in this cause. This I consider alarming.

For example, one day he came to the shores of the sea of Geneserath — according to Junius' report — where he found a group of fishermen drying their nets. He got into one of the boats and asked its owner, Simon, to pull the craft a little way out from the shore.

He preached for a time and then suggested that the fishermen go out on the lake. They told him fishing had been no good all day.

Jesus assured them their luck would change and, indeed, they all returned to shore with full nets.

They were so astonished that Simon fell to the ground as if in the presence of a deity and began to call himself a sinful man.

Jesus told him to rise up and follow. He added that he would make him a fisher of men.

Simon and two of the other men immediately abandoned all their boats and gear, as well as their large catch, and went away with the Nazarene. . . .

Lansing Favors 5 County Judges

Report Compromise Bill Requires Filling Seat in 1958 Election

A compromise bill for a fifth Oakland County Circuit Judge was reported favorably out of the House Judiciary Committee in Lansing yesterday.

It calls for election of the new judge in November, 1958. Rep. Farrell E. Roberts, Republican of West Bloomfield Township, said he expects the county's six legislators will sponsor the legislation before the House.

The effort towards non-partisanship resulted in amendment of an original bill introduced by Rep. Leslie H. Hudson, Democrat of Pontiac.

Hudson's bill called for a Democratic appointment in January.

president of the University of Havana students' federation, and Menclao Mora, a congressman when Carlos Prío Socarras was Cuban president.

The bullet-riddled body of another revolutionary leader, former Sen. Felipe Cuervo Navarro, was found early today on the grounds of a suburban country club but it was not immediately clear whether his death had any connection with the attempt on Batista.

GUERRILLA'S FRIEND

Echeverria was identified as a friend of Fidel Castro Luz, young anti-Batista guerrilla leader operating in the mountains of eastern Cuba. The attack on Batista was not directly linked with Castro, but the students undoubtedly were inspired by the guerrilla campaign which the army has been unable to suppress completely.

Observers here attribute the abortive uprising to long-smoldering resentment against some aspects of Batista's regime. Cuba is experiencing prosperity, but many persons fear increased public debt and inflation. Unemployment has been rising. Cuban student groups have always been bitter about the dictatorial side of Batista's rule.

The uprising began with a caravan of buses and cars roaring into the palace plaza. A band of armed student rebels streamed off.

Apparently operating under pre-arranged plans, one group immediately charged into the palace while other attackers took cover in nearby buildings and laid down a curtain of protective fire. Shooting also broke out in other parts of the city.

Palace guards went into action and word was flashed to Columbia barracks, eight miles away, for help. Tanks and troops quickly poured into the city, cordoned off the palace area and opened a counterattack.

Batista, Cuba's ex-sergeant-at-arms, was eating a late lunch on the second floor of the palace when the shooting started. After riding out the fighting on the floor beneath him, he went to his private office and directed the army counterattack.

He said the main assault inside the palace was by eight men who shot down a sergeant, a colonel and a private on guard and forced their way through the south palace door. On the first floor, four headed for Batista's office while the other four raced to other rooms. They threw three grenades. Batista said, one of which exploded.

"All I did was to use the telephone and give orders to my aides," Batista said, "although my loaded .45 was very near my hand."

About 20 of the student-led attackers and three guards were killed in the fighting at the palace. The other deaths came in other clashes around the city.

Dr. James B. Blodgett, the surgeon who operated, said that if Harlow Weaver is allowed to get out of bed it will be 12 hours earlier than is usual in heart surgery, because of the unusual hour of his operation (9 p.m. Tuesday - 12:20 a.m. Wednesday).

"We've had a good first 24 hours," Dr. Blodgett said. "He ate. His pulse, temperature and blood pressure are good."

Bunche Denies Pledging to Cooperate With Egypt

CAIRO (INS)—Dr. Ralph Bunche, obviously trying to keep the new Gaza crisis from resulting in a shooting war, backtracked today on his pledge of "full cooperation" with the Egyptian civil administration of the Gaza Strip.

Before flying to Gaza with the United Nations Emergency Force commander, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, Bunche issued a formal statement through the U.N. office in Cairo.

He denied saying Wednesday that the U.N. "agreed to... welcome or would cooperate with" the new Egyptian-appointed governor, Maj. Gen. Hassan Abdel Latif, who was to arrive in Gaza today.

Bunche, it was believed, issued the statement through the U.N. Middle East Information Center after he received sharply worded instructions from his boss, Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

The statement said: "Mr. Bunche stated for the record he has made or has authorized to be made none of the comments attributed to him other than to say as a member of the United Nations Secretariat that he has no authority to comment one way or another on the action of any member, state, nor would it be proper for him to do so."

STICK TO STORY

Reporters who talked to Bunche yesterday after the U.N. trouble-shooter's 30-minute conference with President Gamal Abdel Nasser insisted he told them the U.N. would give "full cooperation" to the new Egyptian administration in Gaza.

The same sources who said Bunche issued the new statement on Hammarskjöld's orders also said there is no indication that the U.N. will not cooperate with Latif and his aides.

At the same time, an official Egyptian spokesman, Abdel Kader Hatem, reversed Egypt's publicly critical attitude toward the U.N.E.F.

Hatem issued a formal statement saying there is "full cooperation between the U.N.E.F. and Egypt." He added: "The people of Gaza look on the U.N.E.F. as a friendly force."

This renewal of Egyptian confidence in the U.N.E.F. spiked reports that Nasser is planning to ask for withdrawal of the international police force. It also silenced the barrage of criticism of the U.N.E.F. by the Egyptian press because of the MANCHESTER, England (AP)—A British European Airways four-engine turboprop Viscount airliner crashed and burned here today on a flight from Amsterdam. A BEA spokesman said first reports indicated "there are casualties."

He described the documents involved in the case as "extremely important." He said they were given to Cheasty by the committee in the knowledge that they would be passed along.

Documents involved, Kennedy said, were "two staff interviews with certain key people, a copy of a telephone interview between a member of the staff and a future witness, and other documents."

The FBI said Cheasty "fully cooperated" in the investigation. McClellan voiced gratitude to Cheasty "for his great courage and patriotic devotion." He said Cheasty would stay with the committee "so far as I know."

Not only does he hold the Central States Conference, but he also controls the Teamster organization in the South and along a large part of the East Coast.

The Day in Birmingham

U. S. Picks School Plan Designed by Local Firm

BIRMINGHAM—The Waldo E. Lessinger School in Oak Park, designed by Birmingham architect O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach has been selected by the U.S. Dept. of Health Education and Welfare, to be exhibited at the U.S. exhibit of school buildings at the 20th International Conference on Public Education in Geneva, Switzerland.

Selection was made from entries recently displayed at the American Assn. of School Administrators annual convention in Atlantic City. While on exhibit, the Lessinger School was awarded a seal for meritorious design.

The exhibit in Geneva will open in July for one year duration with about 75 countries participating in the display.

The building is a 16 room, one-story structure of contemporary design and was occupied in January of this year.

The model also will travel with the exhibit from Atlantic City to Washington, D. C., where it will be shown at Octagon of the American Institute of Architects, one of the events of the centennial anniversary of AIA.

Birmingham City Commissioners received an estimated bid of $103,800 for complete renovation of the unfinished portion of the Municipal Building.

Feeling the figure is higher than they care to tackle at the moment, commissioners have decided to leave the building from which less important areas may be dropped if costs are still prohibitive.

Certain for finishing are the police areas and offices of the city clerk and treasurer. Health department sections will be completed if possible.

Birmingham Civil Air Patrol is planning a completely formal set-up for its 1957 Military Ball Saturday evening, at the Community House.

Guests arriving at 9:30 will find an honor guard at the door, one to open the car door, another to escort the ladies into the lobby and once inside when joined by her date, formal presentation in the dance area. Music will be supplied by John Palmer's orchestra.

Highlight of the evening will be the selection of "Miss Military Ball." Lists of candidates are on display in stores selling tickets.

The Birmingham City Manager has been authorized to start proceedings for the purchase of land and plans for resurfacing the Hamilton-Hunter alley, between Maple Avenue and Hamilton street. Assistant City Manager told commissioners Monday that a small portion of land will be purchased to permit the turning of large trucks servicing stores in the area.

Wesley H. Staebler

A native of Ontario, Mr. Staebler, 75, of 808 Purdy St., died yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after a short illness.

A resident of Birmingham for 25 years, he was a member of the First Methodist Church. He had been on the custodial staff of Cranbrook School for the past seven years. He is survived by his wife, Laura, and one sister Mrs. Daniel Swartz of Birmingham.

Dr. Harry O. Martin will officiate at the 3 o'clock service on Saturday from Manley-Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Minnie Weber

Mother of Mrs. Franklin Roberts of Birmingham, Mrs. Weber, died early this morning in the Florence Crittenden Hospital, Detroit. Her body will be taken today from Bell Chapel of the Wm. R. Hamilton Co. to Sault Ste. Marie, for service and burial.

Democratic campaigns in Waterford and Independence Townships will receive a boost as Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams begins an all-day tour of Oakland County tomorrow.

Township candidates will meet with their party's top state standard-bearer at an 8 a.m. breakfast in the Elks Temple.

Other county Democrats will attend, said the chairman Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott of 31 Bloomfield Terrace.

Before the governor leaves Pontiac at 1 p.m., he is scheduled to visit the Pontiac State Bank and other business houses. City officials are expected to confer with him during the morning.

Gov. Williams will visit Royal Oak at 1:30, Hazel Park at 2:30, Royal Oak Township at 3:30 and Ferndale at 4:30, meeting city officials in each visit.

A dinner will be given by Clawson and Royal Oak Democrats in George A. Dondoro High School at 6 p.m.

Evening stops in Oak Park, Huntington Woods and Royal Oak will be followed by a dance in Farmington Township at 11 o'clock.

Got Sinking Feeling—and Who Wouldn't?

George Washington Matteson, 445 Valencia Ave., had a sinking feeling yesterday while he was driving on Kenilworth street.

As he approached Mt. Clemens street he saw the road cave in just in front of him, police report. He was unable to stop in time to avoid running into the hole, which measured 3 feet long and 18 inches deep.

Investigation revealed that excavation work was done in the area last fall. The frozen loose dirt apparently had thawed out and decided to sink just when Matteson drove up.

Oxford Area Voting Friday on $1,500,000 Issue

For New School, Extra Rooms

Reorganized District to Erect $1 Million High Building

Oxford Area Community Schools will go to the polls Friday to vote on a proposed $1,500,000 bond issue for the community which reorganized its school district last September.

The money will provide a million dollar high school for 600 students, thus releasing the present building for junior high school purposes.

The other half million will provide for additions to the present Lakeville, Leonard and Thomas Schools.

Each addition will include two classrooms, conference room, general purpose room, kitchen, lavatory facilities and heating plant. Also included are plans for a four or six classroom building with like facilities for the west side of the district.

At a public meeting last evening, community leaders anticipated a battle over the bond issue, although some opposition has developed in the Leonard area.

Only taxpayers will be allowed to vote.

Those in the Leonard and Lakeville areas will vote at the Rowland Hall in Leonard. Others will vote at Oxford High School.

Canvass Ballots, OK Redemption

Walled Lake Board Is Negotiating for Land in Commerce Area

WALLED LAKE — Except for the official canvassing of Monday election ballots, the regular meeting of the Board of Education here was mostly routine matters.

Negotiations are still proceeding for the acquisition of property in the vicinity of the Commerce School. No action was taken on the application for an easement to lay underground cables on the Union Lake property by the Bell Telephone Co., since the contract was not clear on the matter of liability, and the Board wishes this matter to be clarified before granting the easement.

The Board voted to redeem $85,000 of the 1953 bond issue and post notice of the redemption.

Supt. Clifford H. Smart reported on the portion of the budget for 1957-58 which has to do with expected income. He explained what the district could expect from State Aid for the prospects for further funds from the Legislature. He stated also that the expenditure portion of the budget would be ready at the April meeting.

Smart also said he had conferred with Marshall Smith, attorney who would represent the Walled Lake Board of Education, at the hearing at the Oakland County Board of Education on March 21, concerning petition of the Novi Board to have that portion of the Walled Lake district south of the 13 Mile road transferred to the Novi district. Smith has been furnished the necessary data to be used at the hearing.

LAKE ORION — The beginning steps for an Orion Township Police Department were taken at the Township Board meeting here last night to create the department, along with traffic ordinances were deferred until next meeting.

Following a weekend of many grass fires, Board requested that the fire chiefs check the origin of the fires and determine whether burning permits have been secured from the Conservation Department, Village or Township Halls.

A delegation from Bunny Run Subdivision requested street/lights near the club house, ball park and along the dark streets and the township will provide eight lights.

A request for road improvement could not be considered as the roads are private. The board is checking into the possibility of a road assessment to fix the roads in the area, in behalf of residents.

Craze Will Kill Calypso, Asserts Singer Belafonte

From California up to Maine Calypso songs are on the brain. They even the nation, there's no doubt and this is what it's all about.

By HARRY BELAFONTE
As Told to Dick Kleiner

NEW YORK (NEA) — I want no part of the Calypso craze. I'm just afraid that the sudden emergence of Calypso as a popular fad may prove to be a death knell in disguise.

The association of West Indian music with fastidists and a cultish hysteria movement may build it up to the heights of a crazed following—and that can only result in eventual shunning of this music form.

I don't want to be involved in that. I don't want to be rock-and-roll's killer nor do I want to be a "Calypso King." I'm basically a folk singer and actor who happens to do some authentic Calypso material.

The interest in Calypso being developed by the opportunists will cheapen the true Calypso form and degenerate the level of Calypso entertainment. Some so-called "Calypso acts" feature a type of music that is more in the cha-cha category.

What is true Calypso?

LIKE NEWSPAPER

Actually it is a living newspaper, with verses telling of events, past and present; that the unique to the Islands. There are many work songs and ballads that are erroneously called Calypso. In my last album for RCA Victor, called "Calypso," most of the songs were work songs and ballads.

Some people label all songs that originate in Trinidad, Barbados, Martinique, Jamaica and that region as Calypso. Most people think of my current hit records, "Jamaica Farewell" and "Day-O" (which other groups have recorded as the "Banana Boat Song"), as Calypso. They're not. "Farewell" is a West Indian folk ballad and the other is a song of the dock workers.

True Calypso is a healthy mu-critically upon current events. I'm afraid that Calypso will become a caricature of itself because of the influence being exerted upon it by the fast money men.

MODERATE SUCCESS

Calypso reached a moderate level of success in the U.S. during the '30s, and was kept partially alive by a small group of enthusiasts. Now, however, I'm afraid that the real beauty and meaning of the music will be debased by the imitators and the "bandwagon" element.

The charge has been made that most Calypso is pornographic. This is not true. When people object to the dirty lyrics of some Calypso, I think what they really find fault with is the debasement of the originally material, or dirt for the sake of dirt.

I will never sing the phony, cliché Calypso material that is already flooding the market. I won't do it just as I won't become a banner-bearer for those who are looking to make a killing from the current spiraling craze for this special brand of West Indian music.
