of the editorial department. In her first contest effort, the winner weathered six games and the competition of several thousand to gain her victory.

A Football Forecaster

Woman Wins Contest

The women are back — back in control of the Press' Annual Football Contest, in case you're wondering.

Mrs. William F. Nesbitt, of 128 Whitemore carried the pennant for her sex and emerged the winner after correctly calling the outcome of six games and eliminating several thousand contestants.

The West Coast game Saturday between Washington and Oregon was the clincher. The Huskies' 26-19 triumph spelled cash for their Pontiac router and defeat for her lone opponent.

Although it was Mrs. Nesbitt's maiden venture into the yearly event, she had absorbed a lot of football savvy as two sons won gridiron prominence.

The 45-year-old mother of four, however, gives an assist to "Football Facts," the collection of pickings disseminated by General Motors' Truck and Coach Division.

With this statistical prompting and the application of a considerable amount of women's intuition, the winner made the choices in the 15-game contest schedule that brought her the $500 U.S. Savings Bond award.

What plans has the Pontiac prophetess for her windfall?

FEMININE CAGINESS

Well, with typical feminine caginess, she gave out little enlightenment. But with a family of six and a wedding imminent for one of its members, it was indicated that the fruits of victory would not go unshared.

One thing, however, is reasonably certain — that the lady will immediately blow herself to a new hat.

Police Try to Link Cases in Abduction

LANSING (AP)—FBI agents today sought to link the Friday abduction and criminal assault of Michelle Moran, 5, with the September kidnap-murder of two Minneapolis girls.

Local police meanwhile were methodically checking out a deluge of tips which, together with names of sex offenders drawn from card files, involve 150 to 190 men.

A federal agent brought an artist's conception of the man wanted in the Minneapolis case to the Lansing police detective bureau and said the sketch will be shown to Michelle and her brother, Frank, who saw his sister taken from the family car by a young, slender, bespectacled stranger.

The bodies of the Minneapolis girls were found Oct. 1 at Plymouth, Minn. They disappeared from their neighborhood Sept. 7.

Rescue Crews Struggling to Save Miners

Pinned in Gold Shaft;
3 Germans Trapped

From Our News Wires

Miners in Germany and South Africa waited today while rescuers worked to free them from their underground prison.

In Peine, Germany, three brave men played cards in an air pocket beneath the earth while rescuers worked to free them from the flooded iron mine where they have been trapped four days.

The three miners reported jubilantly last night that rising flood waters, which earlier threatened them with slow death, were receding.

In a gold mine in Carleton, South Africa, rescue teams were lowered down a badly damaged shaft today in an effort to reach 20 men who were trapped inside an elevator.

CABLE SNAPPED

The elevator was one of two which plunged deep into the shaft after a cable snapped.

Fifty-four miners — four white and 50 Africans — were rescued shortly after noon from the upper cage which had stopped at the 1,000-foot level. There were no casualties in the group.

The lower cage stopped at the 5,000-foot level.

It was not known if any miners in the lower cage survived the accident.

DELICATE JOB

Meanwhile, rescuers in Germany faced a ticklish job trying to sink a shaft through which a rescue capsule can be lowered to the trapped trio. Engineers said the boring could break the air pocket and release the three men in the water which fills the rest of the mine.

Drilling was proceeding carefully through shields to prevent a loss of pressure. Two separate two-foot escape shafts were being drilled, but it appeared doubtful that either one would reach the miners before Wednesday.

The three — Emil Pohls, 34, Fritz Leder, 36, and Gerhard Hamisch, 43 — were among 129 miners in the shaft Thursday night when 19 million gallons of sludge from an ore-washing process at the surface, spilled into Mathilde mine.

U.N. Saigon Team Shuns Diem Route

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.N. mission to South Viet Nam discarded its restricted government itinerary today in an attempt to counter the Diem regime's efforts to keep opposition Buddhists from the fact-finders.

The U.N. team announced it would decide for itself who it will see in its investigation of Buddhist charges of government persecution.

Since its arrival last Thursday, the U.N. mission has been briefed by President Ngo Dinh Diem and his powerful brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, and pro-government Buddhist leaders. The government schedule has given the U.N. investigators almost no opportunity to talk with opposition Buddhists or any opposition political group.

The diplomats decided to break from the tour-like schedule arranged by the government just as another Buddhist monk burned himself to death in front of the Roman Catholic cathedral yesterday.

It was the seventh Buddhist suicide by fire since June, and it was carried out to dramatize the Buddhist charges during the visit by the U.N. team.

Catching government police off guard, the monk arrived by motorcycle, poured gasoline on himself and lit a match. A crowd of about 100 persons gathered around the flaming figure.

RECITED PRAYERS

Some prostrated themselves and recited Buddhist prayers. As the fire enveloped him, the monk bowed and raised his arms in prayer. He was dead in three minutes.

Buddhist sources predicted more suicides to protest what they called repression by the government.

WRENCHED FREE

Robinson wrenched free and hopped into a government limousine which had just pulled opposite him. It carried him and another Western newsmen to safety.

Inside were a high government official and a woman, Robinson said.

Black Muslims Cancel Rally

Flint Meeting Ends Over Tiff With Police

FLINT (AP) — Leaders of the Black Muslims suddenly called off an assembly yesterday after they protested the presence of armed, plainclothed policemen.

Some 2,500 persons in the audience marched quietly out of the IMA auditorium at a signal from Elijah Muhammad, reputed head of the Negro cult.

"If they want to come in with guns, we'll all go out," Malcolm X, reputed No. 2 man of the Black Muslims, told the predominantly Negro audience.

Three Flint police detectives had objected to orders of Muslim officials to surrender their guns or stay out of the auditorium.

WOMEN LEAVE

The audience, including several women members of the sect wearing white robes, filed out of the building after discussions between Muslim leaders and city officials.

Glenn Sommers, Flint detective captain, said he told Muhammad he was aware that the Black Muslim's religion was against carrying arms, but he still was required to attend the meeting and required to carry a gun.

Romney Lifts UP Fire Ban

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney withdrew his ban on fires in the Upper Peninsula as of noon today as the result of an easing of drought conditions.

The ban remains in effect in the Lower Peninsula where a severe fire hazard still exists, the executive office said.

Lifting of the order in the north means hunters and others may build fires and smoke in forests, field and wild lands.

Russ Pullout Won't Slow Space Plans

But Nikita's Move May Be Used by Foes of Heavy Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's full speed ahead for the U. S. program to land a man on the moon in this decade.

"That's the way American space officials greeted yesterday the news from Moscow that Soviet Premier Khrushchev apparently has pulled his country out of any moon race.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, chairman of the Senate Space Committee, agreed. "First of all, I do not believe we should develop our space programs on the basis of the press statements of Mr. Khrushchev," the New Mexico Democrat told The Associated Press.

However, there were signs elsewhere that the Soviet leader's move may provide ammunition for American critics of heavy space spending.

In an interview Saturday night in Moscow, Khrushchev declared: "At present, we are not planning manned moon flights. I have read a report to the effect that the Americans want to land a man on the moon by 1970.

Well, I wish them success. And we shall watch how they fly there, how they come to earth, or rather come to moon, and this is the main thing, how they take off and return home."

The reaction in Washington was varied.

James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said Khrushchev's statement "could have the effect of strengthening this country's desire to go ahead with the moon program."

Home Crises Turn Soviets

Space Race Dropped to Save on Spending

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union, now officially out of the race to the moon, turned today to the domestic problems that may have prompted its decision.

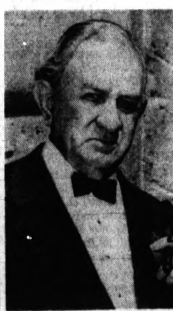

Western observers believed the decision may have followed recognition that the money earmarked for space was more urgently needed on earth to solve industrial and agricultural problems and to provide a better standard of living.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev made news on a number of fronts Saturday during an interview in which he announced the Soviet space withdrawal.

MAJOR POINTS

His major points included: — American wheat: Khrushchev balked at agreeing to ship the $250 million worth of American wheat he seeks to buy on U.S. ships, which would cost the Russians as much as $12 a ton more than the world average.

The Soviet economy: Khrushchev said that on the whole it was going "very well," but bad weather caused grain crop failures and made foreign grain purchases necessary.

Prisoners Striking at San Quentin

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — San Quentin Prison's more than 4,000 inmates staged a sitdown strike today in California's second prison strike within a week.

One group set up a picket line. Others refused to go to work in prison shops.

Prison officials said it was a quiet action, apparently in sympathy with a stop-work strike last week at Folsom Prison for more pay and shorter terms.

"After breakfast at 7:30 a.m., a group of 30 to 50 convicts gathered at a gate and started booing inmates going to work."

Associate Warden Walter Achuff said: "In effect, this is setting up a picket line."

WOULDN'T CROSS

"It had quite an effect on the inmates in the yard. They would not cross the line. It became a work stoppage."

Normally the men are locked out of their cells after breakfast. But today cells were unlocked after the strike started to permit convicts to return to their cells if they wished.

"There is no outward excitement, no violence," Achuff said. "The intention is that this is sort of a sympathetic action for the Folsom group."

It is a senseless thing, we do not believe it represents the thinking of a majority of inmates.

"But it is easy for a small group to get control."

Summer's Gone! Really! Cooler Weather Due

The hatchet has fallen on Indian summer. It split the weekend into seasons with a high Saturday of 81 and a high yesterday of 68. Today it will reach 61.

Now that Nature's gotten tough with a flighty autumn, you can expect cooler temperatures. During the next five days, they will average three or four degrees above the normal high of 55 and low of 39.

Generally cool weather is predicted except for a slight moderation on Thursday and Friday. Little or no precipitation is expected.

In spite of threatened frost, the sun smiled and shined the temperature up to 61 by 2 p.m. Low before 8 a.m. was 46.

AUTUMN FUN—Children romping in fallen leaves is a sure sign that winter is just around the corner in spite of recent warm weather. Delighting in the golden foliage here are

Gas Firm Sets Alternate Lines

Consumers Power Co. will spend some $7,500 in alternate gas line installations to keep a portion of the central business district warm this winter.

The alternate lines were necessitated by the delay in construction on the Clinton River Drain project.

Consumers has a ready-invested an estimated $225,000 in relocating gas facilities in the downtown area due to urban renewal and perimeter road construction.

"We had planned to feed a revamped gas system in the central business district through a line to be installed in the proposed river culvert under the perimeter road north of East Huron," said M. S. Blackman, assistant district manager.

Pal Claims Miss Keeler Won't Pay

LONDON (AP) — A defendant's claim that Christine Keeler reneged on paying money she promised him for his court testimony was heard today as the playgirl's hearing on charges of perjury and conspiracy to obstruct justice resumed after a three-week adjournment.

The court heard a complaint attributed to Randolph Fenton, 39, a West Indian, that Miss Keeler refused to pay him a promised $2,000 to support her story that she was beaten up last April by her ex-lover Jamaican jazz singer Aloysius Gordon.

LARGE PROFITS

The court was told Miss Keeler was reaping large profits by selling her story to the newspapers.

The case against Miss Keeler is based on police charges that she framed charges against Gordon which resulted in his being sent to jail on accusations of beating her up. Gordon's conviction was later reversed. Police investigated further and arrested Miss Keeler and three others on charges that might mean 28 years in prison.

Miss Keeler became a world news figure when War Minister John D. Profumo resigned in June after admitting to Parliament that he had lied about his associations with her. The incident nearly caused the British government to fall.

"Now that the permanent culvert isn't going to be built before winter, we are taking an alternate route."

The originally planned feeder line in the culvert was estimated to cost about $4,000. It connects the central business district distribution system with a new $20,000 regulator station at Howard and Stockwell.

The alternate lines on East Huron, Mill and Mount Clemens will cost about $11,565.

"When the permanent culvert is built, we'll complete the line originally planned, but we still intend to make some use of the alternate lines so they won't be entirely temporary," Blackman noted.

UTILITY RELOCATION

The revamped system downtown was necessitated mostly by the relocation of utilities due to perimeter road construction. About $25,000 of the $225,000 was spent in the heart of the downtown business district.

The alternate lines will connect a $100,000 gas line installed in perimeter road right-of-way last June, but cut off on either side of the river crossing.

Arrested Man's Home Incorrectly Recorded

A Pontiac man arrested in a gambling raid Oct. 19 does not live at 77 E. New York, the address given to The Pontiac Press by the police department.

Police said a mistake had been made on the arrest card of Fred C. Frye, 34, and his last known address was 77 Lehigh.

Heart Pump Keeps Man Alive 4 Days

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For four fateful days last July a man lived with a substitute plastic pump implanted in his heart.

It coursed his blood through his body, driven by a pulsing air compressor lying beside him.

It marked the first historic step in a human, with partial success, toward the grand goal of giving doomed heart patients a substitute mechanism.

Cigarette Linked to $3,000 Fire in Waterford

Fire believed caused by a smoldering cigarette butt caused an estimated $3,000 damage today to an apartment house at 39 N. Telegraph, Waterford Township.

Reported at 4:36 a.m., the blaze damaged the living room of a street-level apartment occupied by George Finn and caused smoke damage to the two other apartment units in the building.

The two-story frame building had been converted to an apartment house from a single residence.

In Head-On Collision Father, 7 Children Die

GALLUP, N.M. (UPI) — A migrant farm worker and seven of his 10 children were killed yesterday in a head-on collision of a car and truck on U.S. highway 666 about 35 miles north of Gallup, N.M. Five others were injured.

State police identified the victims as Luz B. Garza, 37, whose last permanent address was Route 1, Nysa, Ore., the driver of the car, and the seven Garza children — Noelia, 16; Odella, 13; Irma, 11; Viviano, 8; Luge, 5; Mercedes, 4; and Rojelio, 1.

The mother, Marie Garza, 40; the truckdriver, William Delbert Wakefield, 48, of Aztec, N.M.; and three other Garza children were injured. All were expected to survive.

State police said the family was on its way to Alamo, Tex., from the Idaho potato harvest. They planned to visit Mrs. Garza's relatives at Alamo.

WRONG LANE

The truck driver told officers he saw the car approaching him across a narrow bridge in the wrong lane. He locked his brakes, hoping to avoid the collision, skidded 50 feet and hit.

The impact tore the cab

"It is a source of pride that the United States has generally met or exceeded its goals, and a source of regret that certain others in the alliance have not," he said.

Erhard, who recently succeeded Konrad Adenauer as chancellor, indicated he agreed with the U.S. position and called on his countrymen and Europeans generally to remember the debt they owe to the United States.

SIMILAR HELP

"Just as the Marshall Plan and the United States helped us Europeans, so we today must do more to give similar help to the developing nations," he said.

Rusk also said the most effective way of meeting any Soviet threat was a NATO nuclear fleet.

The plan was first put forth by President Kennedy in a meeting with former British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at Nassau in the Bahamas last December.

Britain has been cool to the plan and France has rejected it. De Gaulle wants his own nuclear striking force.

RUSSIAN CRITICISM

While Rusk's speech pleased West German officials, it drew unexpected criticism from the Soviet Union. The speech, said Tass, the official Soviet news agency, "contradicted greatly the spirit of the beginning relaxation of international tension."

Morocco Near Algeria Town

MARRAKECH, Morocco (AP) — The Moroccan government announced today that its troops are seven miles from the iron ore center of Tindouf in the Algerian-controlled Sahara.

CAIRO (AP) — Egyptian newspapers published today reports from abroad that Egyptian troops and equipment were heading for Algeria but no confirmation of any troop movement was available here.

The announcement by Information Minister Abdel Hadi Boutaleb indicated the Moroccan troops have penetrated deep into the territory contested by the two countries. According to most international maps, Tindouf is some 60 miles inside the Algerian Sahara.

Morocco's King Hassan II and Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella are scheduled to meet Tuesday in Bamako in an effort to settle the border dispute.

The leaders of the warring North African neighbors will be joined in the Mali capital by Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and President Modiba Kella of Mali in the four-power conference to seek an end to the fighting. The attitudes of both sides, however, left little hope for a quick settlement.

DEMANDS OF EACH

Ben Bella was expected to demand unconditional withdrawal of the Moroccans from the disputed frontier. Moroccan officials said there would be no yielding of land the kingdom considers part of its national heritage.

Moroccan infantry units on Sunday chased the remnants of three Algerian battalions from Hassi Beida, a muddy water hole clustered by palm trees north of the ore-rich Tindouf Valley. Two American television teams at the front confirmed the Moroccan victory.

Dad Finds Son Dying After Crash

CHINO, Calif. (AP) — Inside a shattered wreckage of a car, two teen-age boys lay dead. Outside, tangled in the branches of trees, one boy was dead, another lay dying.

For nearly 10 hours, they lay there, unseen by passing motorists.

At 10 a.m., a car stopped above. A man clambered down the embankment to the crash scene.

"Hi, Dad," he said.

"Hi, Dad," was the reply.

SEARCH ENDS

Thus ended John R. Walsh's five-hour search for his son, which began at 5 a.m. when his son failed to return home. An ambulance took his son, John M., 17, to a hospital, but it was too late.

The father had first searched all of the boy's haunts with no luck. He was told by a youth that the boys may have taken Carbon Canyon Road. He searched there and found the wreckage.

OTHER DEAD

Also dead were Joseph G. Gurkewitz, 19, Ronald D. Harris, 17, and Richard E. Loomis, 18.

The car was partly hidden from the road and could only have been found by someone looking for it.

Lost Children Found Asleep

A 13-hour search for two West Bloomfield Township children ended happily this morning when they were found in a playhouse a few blocks from their home.

Twenty officers from five police departments took part in the search for the children of Mr. and Mrs. William McNally — Marilyn, 8, and Donald, 10 — of 2475 Ivanhoe.

The youngsters were reported missing about 1 p.m. yesterday. Trooper William Stark of the Pontiac State Police found the pair at 2:30 a.m., sleeping under a mattress in a doll house.

State Police Cpl. Maitland Landon supervised the search. Police from the sheriff's, West Bloomfield, Sylvan Lake and Orchard Lake departments assisted.

Birmingham Area News

Commission, Troy Eying 1st Step in Setting Border

BIRMINGHAM — The city commissions of Birmingham and Troy are expected to lay the groundwork tonight for the possible realignment of their mutual border.

At stake are approximately 10 acres of property in the extreme southwest corner of Troy.

The managers of both cities are to be directed tonight to estimate the net worth of the property.

'NOT ECONOMIC'

Troy officials maintain that it is not economical for them to provide city services to the property. The cost of such services also would be prohibitive to any prospective developer of the property, they claim. Birmingham, they say, can provide the services much more economically.

Transfer of the property was discussed at a joint meeting of the two commissions last week.

They met to determine future policy in the wake of a decision by the Birmingham Commission last week to furnish city services to a similar parcel.

Birmingham has held to the line that it will not furnish city services to property outside the city limit.

The commission a week ago agreed to supply water, sewer, fire, police and general municipal services for a piece of property which Michigan Building Components, Inc., plans to develop.

The 3 1/4 acres are at the east end of Cole, mostly in Troy. Birmingham stipulated in the agreement that Michigan Building Components take all necessary steps to annex the property to Birmingham.

The transfer of the property from Troy to Birmingham would require a favorable vote of the electorate in both municipalities.

George H. Bosworth II

George H. Bosworth II, 58, of 2841 Pembroke died Friday after a brief illness. His body is at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

An employee of Central Trust Co. of Birmingham, Mr. Bosworth was also a member of the Nashua, N.H., Lodge, F&AM.

Surviving are his wife, C. Verne; a son, George H. III of Southampton, England; and three sisters.

Richard Maddren

Service for Richard Maddren, 81, of 2164 Deering will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will follow in Pine Lake Cemetery.

Mr. Maddren, a retired grocery store owner, died Saturday after a long illness.

He was a life member of United Crafts Lodge No. 534, F&AM, and a member of Chapter No. 477, Order of the Eastern Star.

Surviving are two sons, William H. and Richard H., both of West Bloomfield Township; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

U. S. Proceeds on Moon Shot

Edward C. Welsh, executive secretary of the National Aeronautics and Space Council, said the Russians "have caused some slackening of support for the moon program here and have made a strategic move to capitalize on this situation." The council is a top administration advisory group.

President Kennedy in 1961 set as a national goal the landing of a man on the moon in this decade, hopefully before the Soviets do. The cost has been estimated at $20 billion or more.

Getting Congress to see things his way has not been easy.

The administration asked $5.7 billion for NASA this fiscal year, most of the money to go into the manned spaceflight program. Congress authorized $5.35 billion.

TIME HAS COME

Now that the time has come to appropriate funds, the House has voted $5.1 billion—a figure NASA officials say is too low. The Senate Appropriations Committee has yet to be heard from.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he expected congressional advocates of reduced spending to step up their arguments on the basis of Khrushchev's remarks.

Area Teen Gets Youth Governor Bid

Top honors went to a Waterford Township Hi-Y club member at a preliminary Youth Legislature meeting held at Ann Arbor Saturday.

Jan Appel, 17, of 70 S. Avery was nominated as youth governor to represent the southeast district at the annual Youth Legislature to be held Dec. 5-7 at Lansing.

He was a youth House representative last year and will compete against other boys and girls from three participating districts in Michigan.

Another Waterford Township High School Hi-Y member, Richard Miller was elected attorney general at the Saturday meeting.

Spectators Jam in Room as Thompson Trial Starts

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Attorney T. Eugene Thompson went to trial today on a first-degree murder charge in an alleged plot of murder for hire and murder-for-profit in the slaying of his wife, insured for more than a million dollars.

The small Hennepin County District Courtroom was jammed with spectators and prospective jurors as the trial opened with Judge Ross Peterson presiding. Only 15 spectators at first found seats. A small knot of others waiting to hear the case stood in the corridor waiting for room.

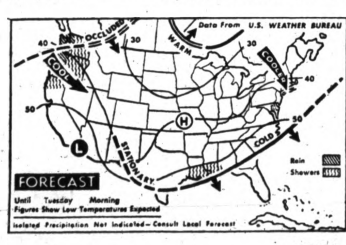

Thompson, 35-year-old St. Paul criminal attorney, one-time church elder and trustee, is charged with hiring a go-between to arrange the slaying of his 34-year-old wife, Carol. The mother of four children.

Shortly after Judge Peterson named three juries to settle cases of bias in juror selections. Court was recessed for a half-hour while he huddled with defense and prosecution attorneys. Problems discussed were not disclosed.

Booming U.S. Economy Confounds Pessimists

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. economy is barreling along today at a pace that must confound some of the pessimists of a few weeks ago.

If there is a recession in the immediate future, it seems to be well hidden in the charts—the documents with the wavy lines and long columns of numbers which are placed together by economists searching for clues to the future.

Now Many Wear FALSE TEETH

With More Comfort
False teeth, a present sensitive (non-metal) product, finds false teeth more comfortable to wear and less likely to cause discomfort. Just replace a little false teeth on your plate for a happy, easy, daily smile. Get your false teeth at any drug counter.

Right now, just about everything seems to be coming up optimism.

President Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisers keyed the happy theme this week by estimating the Gross National Product (GNP)—the total estimated value of all goods and services—at $58.5 billion for the three-month period ended in September. It was the biggest jump in 21 months.

PUMP VIGOR

And there are reasons to feel that the forces that fashioned the healthy third quarter will continue pumping vigor into the economy for the remainder of the year and on into 1964.

The recession talk that was prevalent as recently as two weeks ago is starting to fade away. The administration still feels that President Kennedy's $11-billion tax cut is vitally needed, but there is less emphasis on its role as an anti-recession device in 1964.

The third quarter GNP rocketed to a new high mainly because of spirited consumer and business spending.

PAY RAISES

Two important contributions also are expected from the recently enacted military pay increase and the second stage of a federal civilian pay raise. Actually, the civilian increase won't go into effect until early next year.

But economists reason that the consumer—assisted by charge plates, credit cards and human nature—will be spending it in advance during the Christmas season.

Business spending for new plants and equipment also shows signs of staying up, on the basis of industry plans outlined six months ago. It probably will not jump as high as the third quarter but it is expected to continue playing a vital role in propping up the economy.

What about next year? There are two favorable signs that are causing some of the limb-climbers to predict a healthy 1964.

ROOM YEAR

The auto industry opened its new model year this month with sales reports that suggest a boom year for car sellers. The first 10 days of the month exceeded the corresponding 10 days in October of last year.

which the industry at that time felt was "tremendous". The auto industry is one of the main pillars in the economy. When it is in a robust state, some of its vitality is channeled off to all of the other business sectors.

At Special Session

Action Due on Romney Tax

LANSING (UPI) — The prospect of major action on Gov. George Romney's fiscal reform program loomed today as the legislature returned for the seventh week of the special tax session.

The Republican Senate floor leader, Sen. William Milliken, R-Traverse City, said major floor debate on the income tax centered reform program could take place by mid-week.

Key to progress remained the 10-man legislative committee set up last week to work out with the governor "minimum modifications" on the $306 million program.

The legislators, five leaders from each house, are supposed to negotiate a program that will develop "maximum Republican support."

KEY FACTS

Romney has indicated such key facts as the income tax for individuals, corporations and financial institutions, repeal of the business activities and intangibles taxes and exemption of groceries and prescriptions from the 4 per cent sales tax are not negotiable.

Items that may be worked are likely to be in the property tax relief area, Republican leaders said.

The governor's proposal to provide a 20 per cent across the board property tax relief costing the state $80 million has provoked sharp criticism from Speaker of the House Allison Green, R-Kingston.

Democrats have assailed his plans to give the elderly special homestead tax relief through acceptance of a lien that would be paid off by their heirs.

RESUME HEARINGS

The Senate Appropriations Committee was due to resume its hearings today on the income tax bill.

The measure was sent to the 16-man appropriations committee last week after Democrats and some Republicans balked at a bipartisan maneuver that had seen all 61 tax bills dumped on the chamber floor without amendment.

Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, indicated over the weekend that a key question many of his party members will want answered before giving support to any tax program is how great a surplus will the state accrue in the current fiscal year.

When Romney was designing the tax program he said the surplus was expected to run the $13 million over the $500-million general fund budget.

Now revenue department officials and State Controller Glenn Allen claim it will be at least enough to wipe out the state's remaining $22 million deficit.

Zoning Battle in Rochester

ROCHESTER — At least 20 people here don't like Village Council plans for rezoning Walnut for office use.

They will say so — in writing — at tonight's public hearing on a new zoning ordinance.

A spokesman for the petition signers, all owners of property on Walnut, today issued a plea to the people of Rochester to attend tonight's session.

"Back in March, we submitted a petition like the one we'll turn in tonight," he said, "and it has been ignored. What we're after now is to get the people out in force to express their opinion."

SET TONIGHT

The public hearing, second reading, and possible adoption of the controversial new zoning ordinance is scheduled tonight.

Although the meeting starts at 7:30 p.m., the spokesman urged interested persons to arrive at 7 p.m. to avoid being late.

After more than a year's study of the code and the revision of several portions of it, the council has kept the clause which calls for rezoning of Walnut for office use. It is presently zoned for business.

Throughout the lengthy consideration of the ordinance, Walnut residents have argued that the street should not be rezoned to the "highly restrictive category."

PLANNER CONTENT

However Village Planner Viljoen — Leman & Associates of Southfield contended the street as an office area will serve as a buffer between housing and the central business district.

Area Youngsters Will Hear Naturalist Lecture Series

Thousands of youngsters will discover some of nature's wonders this fall when naturalists of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority visit their schools.

The authority will begin its annual five-month lecture series Friday.

Some of the creatures the boys and girls will be learning about include the marsh bird called "The Least Bittern," the great horned owl and the saucy red squirrel.

Through illustrated slides and film, they will also learn about forests, marshes, animals, birds, insects and rocks.

LECTURERS READY

William F. Hopkins, chief naturalist, pointed out that Authority naturalists are available to give lectures on topics of natural science at schools in Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne counties from Nov. 1 through March 31.

Over 65,000 youngsters in the five-county area participated in the lecture program last year compared to over 41,000 in 1961-62, 39,000 in 1960-61, and 17,000 in 1959-60.

This free service may be obtained by contacting the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, 1750 Guardian Building, Detroit (48226) and requesting an application form.

Appointments require several weeks advance notice and each school can be visited only one day each year and naturalists prefer to talk to auditorium groups, but can provide up to four lectures on a single day if a divided student body is necessary.

Most lectures are designed for boys and girls in grade 3 through 12 and cover 45 minutes, but 30-minute programs are also available for youngsters in the kindergarten, first and second grades.

Faulty Chute Is Blamed in Death of State Skydiver

TECUMSEH (UPI) — The blame of the death of a veteran skydiver Oct. 20 was placed today on an improperly altered parachute.

The accident claimed the life of Marion J. (Jack) Wallace Jr., 36, Ypsilanti.

Robert McTaggart, Dearborn, area safety officer for the Parachute Club of America, said tests made at Meyers airport showed that Wallace's chute had been improperly altered.

Officials also said Wallace had traded chutes with Fred Miller, Wyandotte, before making the jump.

Miller, recently discharged from the Marine Corps, said he purchased the parachute from another Marine at El Toro, Calif., Air Base.

GAVE AWAY CHUTE

Wallace had volunteered to make the trade because Miller, a novice, needed a chute that could be attached to a static line in the plane.

Tests of the parachute were made Saturday, John Money-ham, Manchester, president of the Jackson Parachute Club and a master rigger, said after watching a test jump, "The actual cause of Wallace's death was due to the fault of an improper modification by a probable 'bootleg rigger.'"

He said a bootleg rigger was one that did not have federal approval for making modifications of parachutes for skydiving.

Throughout the lengthy consideration of the ordinance, Walnut residents have argued that the street should not be rezoned to the "highly restrictive category."

First Worship Set for New Troy Church

TROY — The first worship service of the new Lutheran Church of the Master will be 11 a.m. Sunday at the Poppleton School.

Under supervision of the Board of Missions of the Lutheran Church in America, the church will serve the Troy-Birmingham-Bloomfield area.

Rev. C. William Pearson will speak on "One Man's Journey" at the first meeting.

Until worship facilities are erected on the church's site near Big Beaver and Coolidge roads, the congregation will meet in the school, at Crooks and Big Beaver.

The new pastor is a native of Oil City, Pa. He received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Lutheran School of Theology, Rock Island, Ill., in May. He was ordained June 13.

He resides at the parsonage, 2220 Yorkshire, Birmingham, with his wife and young son. Anyone interested in joining the congregation should contact Rev. Pearson at his home.

State Weekend Road Toll 21

From Our News Wires
At least 21 persons died in Michigan's traffic over October's last weekend.
In addition, Michael Fredericks, 15, was killed at Brethren when his tractor tipped over. He was on his way to pull a hayride wagon for a freshman class outing.

A 10-year-old Detroit boy, Eugene Bledsoe, drowned when the raft on which he was taking an Indian summer ride sank in the Detroit River.

Three persons died in a two-car smashup near Scottville, and two other collisions claimed two lives each.

John W. Mowery, 59, of Flint, and his wife, Beulah, 60, were killed yesterday in a two-car collision in Warren, a Detroit suburb.

OUT OF CONTROL

Rex Snider, 69, of Auburn died last night when his car veered out of control and crashed at a Huron County intersection near Sebewaing.

Gale Macklem, 15, of Crosswell was injured fatally last night when his car left a road and crashed in a culvert abutment in St. Clair County.

Richard L. Farn, 20, of Wyoming, died Saturday when the car he was driving rammed a building in Grand Rapids, then veered across the street into an electrical equipment store.

John Fredericks, 69, of Pontiac, and Harold Elenbaum, 18, of Deckerville died Saturday in a two-car, head-on collision on M46, just west of Sandusky in Sanilac County.

AREA NEWS

Harold W. Brown Jr., 2, of Springville, was dead on arrival at Port Huron General Hospital yesterday after being struck by a car in Springville.

Herbert Wireman, 18, of Albion was hit by a car and killed three miles south of Eaton Rapids Saturday night. Police said Wireman and Jack Derr, of Jackson had parked their cars partially off the road and had started to cross it when they were struck. Derr was critically injured.

Mrs. Elsie O'Rourke, 40, of Melvindale died Saturday of injuries suffered when she stepped into the path of a car on a dimly lighted street in Melvindale, Friday night.

Mrs. Phyllis Charlene Moody, Benton Harbor, died in a four-car collision near Mount Vernon. Authorities said she lost control of her car and the collision followed.

Donald L. Walker, 4, was injured fatally when hit by a car near his Detroit home Saturday.

Mrs. Alice Cote, 40, of Detroit died yesterday three hours after the car in which she was riding collided with another automobile at a Detroit intersection.

Ruth Ann Motley Is Wed in Milford

MILFORD TOWNSHIP — A Niagara Falls honeymoon followed the recent wedding of Ruth Ann Motley and Theodore Blascsak Jr., who exchanged vows in the Milford Presbyterian Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Motley, 1347 Dawson, and the Theodore Blascsak Sr., 1615 Duck Lake.

The bride's floor-length gown of lace over taffeta featured a scalloped, round neckline and a tiered skirt. Her fingertip veil was attached to a tulle of rhinestones and pearls.

The bridal bouquet was comprised of white roses and baby white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Tom Motley, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. George Mann of Union Lake and Mrs. Hugh Heintzelman of Detroit and Sue Blascsak, both sisters of the bride.

The bride's cousin and another brother, Debbie and Ricky Motley, attended as flower girl and ring bearer.

Why Ain't They in College

Women Aren't as Smart as They Was

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

American women are lagging farther behind in higher education. They outnumber the male sex in high school, but not in college. Women now earn only one in three bachelors' and masters' degrees, and only one in ten doctorates.

Worse yet are these figures: Four million adult U.S. women have had less than five years of schooling and 11½ million started but failed to finish high school.

We've just discovered that National Macaroni Week is over—and we failed to celebrate with a single meal. But it is nice to know, isn't it, that if the 1½ billion pounds of macaroni products we consume each year were converted to spaghetti, they'd stretch 102,414,000 miles.

British science has come up with what may turn out to be the wonder drug of the century. It's a tranquilizer that reportedly turns women's hair blonde at the same time it calms their nerves. Supposed to work on men, too, fellows.

Our quotable notables: "Never" give a man up until he has failed at something he likes." —Warden Lewis E. Lawes.

It takes 200 employees to staff Buckingham Palace's 760 rooms. The palace also has 200 clocks and 50 television sets.

Don't be the kind of boss who is always giving orders. Studies show that too much supervision tends to downgrade the performances of workers.

Operators of gambling casinos hate to see a red-haired woman in a green dress make a bet. She's supposed to bring bad luck.

Thieves in the first nine months of this year stole 249,368 cars valued at $225 million, a 13 per cent increase over the same period in 1962.

NY Dermatologist Dies; Was Soviet Defector

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dr. Abraham S. Kagan, 75, noted dermatologist, died yesterday of a heart attack.

A major in the Russian Army during World War I, Kagan fled to Harbin in Manchuria following the Russian revolution. There he became director of the Jewish hospital, a post he held until 1935.

According to Sophia Loren, "sex appeal is 50 per cent what you've got—and 50 per cent what people think you've got."

Ever wonder what the difference is between a wiener and a frankfurter? It's a matter of size, butchers say. Franks are last 32 years.

It Seems to Me....

Barry Leading Candidates for '64 Presidential Primary

With our national election just a shade over a year away and the nominating conventions much closer, the political pot is simmering merrily.

The position of the front runner is not always an envious political spot, although sometimes it pays off handsomely. At the moment there is no question over the leader. It's BARRY GOLDWATER.

Gov. Rockefeller topped the parade for months, but the Westerner has "come on" rapidly and has passed the New Yorker in the picture today. Talks with publishers around the Nation disclose a rather general unanimity in regard to Goldwater's leadership.

One of the best-known newspapermen in the South told me that if the vote were taken today, Goldwater would sweep Dixie. This means a Republican would be invading sacred precincts that never knew this strange master before.

It seems incredible. He bases his impression on the fact the Southern Democrats are ready to repudiate JOHN F. KENNEDY and they flinch BARRY GOLDWATER as the most acceptable substitute. They prefer him to ROCKEFELLER, whose philosophies are close to KENNEDY's.

"ROCKY" is losing ground in the East. He is still a likely candidate in those sections because of geography, but he isn't meeting with as great favor among the very important neutral voters as he did. The handicap of his second marriage is lessening and may disappear by the time of the national convention, but it can always bob up to plague him at inopportune moments.

One group of veteran Republicans says Goldwater is sound on domestic issues but too impulsive on foreign affairs. However, the Arizona Senator is steadily adding stature to his image.

Gov. Scranton of Pennsylvania never quite disappears from the picture, but he is far from a contender. Our own George Romney possesses even greater popular acceptance. But the Michigan announced at the outset the governorship here could never be converted to a sound basis in a single two-year term. Happenings prove the truth.

Many of ROMNEY's best friends would rather see him available in 1968. If KENNEDY is reelected, the Democratic party will have to produce a new man then, and re-election is traditionally easier than making it the first time.

And always over there in the deepening shadows is the silent but formidable figure of Richard Nixon. As long as the tumult and the shouting fill the air, he will remain where he is. But if the front runners collapse, or if they become hopelessly deadlocked, Mr. Nixon is probably available, and he remains a man of stature and achievement.

And there you are — up to now.

Ahead of Us?....

The latest model 1963 Russian TV has just been dissected by U.S. engineers.

It's about comparable with our models of 1953. The thing is 17 inches and sells for $360 (U.S.).

A comparable 19-inch model here sells for $170. Our engineers say it's equipped with "captive channels," which means only the specific stations the Russian government controls can be received.

And this is from the home of the Khrushchev nincompoops who claim to be outdoing us in everything.

Inquiries....

Several people have written about the wheat situation. One asks: "Why don't we convert the wheat to flour? This would avoid some of the subsidy and put a little more employment here at home."

Why don't we? Well, it's too sensible.

Another suggests our payments be made in gold and thus bolster our dwindling gold reserves. Otherwise the Soviet government will take credit for having "raised it." The wheat question is a big one and can fall into avaricious or incompetent hands unless it is carefully guarded.

Another terse letter says: "If the Reds can't raise enough to feed themselves with all those acres, let 'em starve. They would us."

I challenge the first — but not the second.

And in Conclusion....

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

By 1969, Pan American will be flying you 1,450 miles an hour, and within a short decade at 2,250 m.p.h. Even as it is, I left Germany after lunch and had dinner between New York and Detroit. . . . LUDWIG ERHARD, West Germany's new chancellor, greeted the Olympic group in Baden-Baden as his first official duty. Reputedly, he is a stout foe of communism. . . . Overheard: "My new secretary is pretty wonderful, but she's clocked."

I can't prove it, but I'll bet a sugar cookie you don't know the all-time 500-mile speed record is held by a 1962 Pontiac and was set at 152.529 m.p.h. at Daytona. . . . I hereby nominate our Jutta, German translator, as an especially attractive young lady. She was our interpreter in Baden-Baden, and you'd be surprised how many times the (male) delegates needed her assistance. . . . When you get cigarettes from a machine at Columbia University, you also get a low-pressure sermon against smoking. . . . Two local residents complained of the junk mail. A good rule: If it isn't important enough for the sender to pay first-class postage, it isn't important enough to open.

Authorities are alarmed at the tremendous leap in mail order firearms in Alabama. Purchases have spurred all over the Nation. . . . Officials believe the biggest cause of traffic accidents is switching from one lane to another without using the flasher. WLODZIMIER REZCEK, Olympic delegate from Poland, and I rode 100 miles into

The Season For It!

David Lawrence Says:

Russ Quit Moon in Penny Pinch

WASHINGTON — Dollars and sense — with a capital "S" in that third word — applies as a slogan of national policy in the Soviet Union, too.

For it's the principal reason why Premier Khrushchev has called off the race to the moon.

The Russians simply haven't got the money for the contest, and if the Americans want to go broke on such an adventure, Moscow wishes them "success."

It should have been no surprise to official Washington to read that the Russians have taken themselves out of the moon race. The State Department had more than an inkling of it some time ago.

In fact, that's why President Kennedy politely proposed a joint effort to go to the moon, knowing full well that it would publicize American willingness to cooperate with the Soviets as well as furnish a convenient setting for either side to wiggle out of or slow down the moon race.

Intelligence sources available to our European allies, plus information gathered by diplomatic observers, several weeks ago prompted the conclusion that Premier Khrushchev was up against a serious dilemma in his spending policies.

He doesn't have an opposition political party, nor does he have the advice of any constructive critics, such as President Kennedy has in Sen. Harry Byrd, D-La., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

But the Soviet chieftain has been struggling for several months now with an economic problem that no censorship or technique of "managed news" has been able to hide from the outside world.

As for internal political turbulence — due to the economic distress of the Soviet people — the danger always is that some element in the army may suddenly capitalize on the discontent and upset the men in the Kremlin. So caution and quick changes to satisfy public sentiment became urgent.

The basic ingredients of depression in Russia are easy to recognize. The agricultural situation is bad. It has led to an ignominious maneuver—the decision to purchase $250 million worth of wheat from the United States.

It's a case of sense finally emerging at the top, whether it be in spending dollars or rubles.

First things come first, and a trip to the moon isn't in the cards for either country for many years in the future.

Bob Considine Says:

Age of Supersonic Flight Is Coming Quite Casually

NEW YORK — One of these years, almost before you know it, you'll be accepting supersonic passenger planes as casually as you now step into 600-m.p.h. jets.

Three American companies already have them on order. Pan Am, TWA and Continental. Nothing will stand in the way, including cost.

At the time of Pearl Harbor, the standard carrier of that day, the DC-3, cost $100,000. Today's jets are tagged at $6 million. Tomorrow's supersonic job will run about $15 million.

Seems hard to believe that only a comparatively short time ago there were serious doubts expressed as to whether man would ever be able to fly faster than the speed of sound in a winged craft.

One of the De Havillands, test-piloting a British jet designed to fly faster than mach 1, was incinerated with his aircraft as it reached the sound barrier.

An observer on the ground far below likened the spectacle to a kitchen match being scratched across a hot stove lid.

Sgt. Edith T. Blair of The Air Force, official journal of the Air Force, says that of bursting through the sound barrier as a task akin to developing enough leg power to be able to run 100 yards in 10 seconds through hip-deep water.

DOZEN TYPES We've now produced about a dozen types of fighters that have no difficulty plunging through the sound barrier and, beyond that, developing speeds up to and a bit beyond twice the velocity of sound.

Our one supersonic bomber, the B-58 Hustler, which is no longer in production, continues to make news and beckon the way to passenger flight that will be as advanced over today's standards as the current jet transports outdistanced the DC-7s and the Constellations.

Some of the things the B-58 has done give an inkling to what the supersonic airliner will do.

On March 5, 1962, a B-58 flew from Los Angeles to New York in 2 hours and 56 seconds, refueled over the ocean off New York, and flew back to L.A. in 2 hours, 15 minutes and 40 seconds.

The time for the round-trip transcontinental flight was 4 hours, 41 minutes and 11 seconds, including nearly half an hour needed for the refueling.

A year earlier, another B-58 flew from New York to Paris in 3 hours and 19 minutes on the 34th anniversary of Lindbergh's crossing in 1927.

That was 19 times faster than the Spirit of St. Louis' time.

We sympathize with those who want to keep the space budget within sensible bounds. But Senators should think through the long-range consequences before agreeing to the cut made by the House.

In this, the first year that the United States Congress seems determined to cut the space budget, foresight and caution are in order.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration had asked for about $5.7 billion for fiscal 1963-64. It is prepared to live with the lower amount that has been authorized.

But in the opinion of NASA Administrator James E. Webb, the further cut now voted by the House would stretch out the lunar landing program by two to three years.

Voice of the People:

'Man Identified as Rapist Was Out of Jail on Bond'

We have a man in our community, who was out of jail on bond, that has been identified by two women as the party who assaulted and raped them.

It took police departments working as a team to catch him and yet in less than ten days our laws allowed him to roam the streets again.

No civilized American wants backyard justice, why is it necessary to protect our homes?

Disgusted

Favors Legislation of Censorship

Albert L. Hoover, U.S. Army, in his letter of Oct. 13 fears that censorship legislation might "deny our people one of the most guarded rights: the right of free choice." Actually, no one has a complete right of free choice. Under the "framework of our democracy" each individual must accept responsibility for the welfare of his community and country.

I was once in a country where pornographic pictures were displayed for sale in the windows of a store. Any person had the "right" to purchase them. This freedom, I hope, will always be censored by legislation in Pontiac.

There are many individuals who are near the emotional line of becoming murderers, sadists or rapists. Films, TV and books have the power to shove them over the precipice.

I asked my pastor about the request of the pastors association to the City Commission. This was not printed verbatim in this newspaper. The tone and message of that carefully worded request has been misunderstood. I personally approve of the legislation of morals in the criminal field, in civil rights, in business and in entertainment.

Give Views on Waterford Incorporation

The committee for Waterford's incorporation has been giving one-sided facts. Letter writer "One Who Checked the Facts" is either misled or is without all the facts.

He states "as a city, we will have an estimated budget of $450,000 for the maintenance, building and repair of our roads, from gasoline and weight tax." The $450,000 estimate is about right, but the amount of return from these taxes will be about $325,000. He is planning to donate the remaining $125,000.

He states that we will be just substituting a mayor for a supervisor and commissioners for board members. What about the city manager, attorney, sanitation department, new city hall with courthouse facilities and full-time police and fire departments?

A large portion of people in the township are young and still raising families. This lays claim to about 90 per cent of our taxes for schools and expansions. These taxes will continue and possibly rise until there's leveling off of population and school demands.

Some day, Waterford will be a great city but at present we must give priority to our necessities. We can have another seven years of good low-cost township government before we should decide for city government.

Dem Senators Hit Medicare

Say Kerr-Mills Plan
Doesn't Meet Needs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eight Democratic senators today attacked the Kerr-Mills medical care program on its third anniversary as "ineffective" in meeting the health needs of the nation's 18 million elder citizens.

The highly critical majority report issued by the Senate Health subcommittee on aging said less than 1 per cent of the country's elderly persons received aid under the program and most recipients were subjected to "degrading" welfare tests to become eligible.

The report was a frank effort to push President Kennedy's long-stalled plan for health care for the aged financed through Social Security.

This measure is in the House Ways and Means Committee with no chance for action this year.

GOP CHALLENGES

Three Republican members of the Senate subcommittee challenged the majority report's conclusions that the Kerr-Mills program represented an "ineffective and piecemeal" approach to the problem.

They called the report a "premature judgment based on inadequate evidence." They also accused the Kennedy administration of deliberately failing to implement Kerr-Mills.

The only explanatory material put out by the Health, Education and Welfare Department to help the states, the Republicans said, consisted of three documents prepared during the Eisenhower administration.

The Kerr-Mills program enacted by Congress in October 1960 created for the first time a new category of public assistance — Medical Assistance for the Aged.

MATCHING FUNDS

It provides matching federal grants to the states for health benefits for the "medically indigent," or persons over 65 who are not on relief but are too poor to bear the burden of costly medical bills.

The majority report said only 28 of the 50 states had joined the program, hence it was far from a national plan to help the aged.

8 Quakes Reported in California Area

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Eight earthquakes — centered about 100 miles from Pasadena — were recorded at the California Institute of Technology, and a seismologist says they were strong enough to cause damage in populated areas.

Dr. Charles Richter, director of the Cal Tech Seismological Laboratory said it was possible the quakes, which were recorded early Sunday, were centered off the coast or in a remote inland area.

Richter said there were at least 20 other smaller tremors. No damage was reported.

Junior Editors Quiz on GOATS

QUESTION: Do goats really eat tin cans?

ANSWER: Our first picture tells you that goats definitely do not eat tin cans, so you can stop worrying about how they digest them.

But perhaps you have seen goats muzzling around a pile of tin cans and other rubbish as in picture two. The truth is that goats are rugged animals who can live on impoverished land.

They actually seem to like coarse food and will chew on shrubs and weeds, even trying to get nourishment from rags and newspapers.

They like to lick the paper labels off tin cans, often chewing them and swallowing them—perhaps they like the taste of the label's paste.

Although they don't eat tin cans they do need minerals in their diet; people who raise them often give them mineralized salt.

Goats make interesting pets. They are playful and recognize their owners, sometimes kicking strangers who try to milk them. Goat's milk is very fine in quality, and is easier to digest than cow's milk.

FOR YOU TO DO: If you feel an urge to make friends with a goat, don't tease him. There's a "but" to almost everything, and that includes a goat.

Street Paved With Money

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston policemen spent hours early Sunday picking up money from the street—$10,000 worth of rare coins.

The money was scattered after a head-on automobile collision involving a rare coin collector, E. J. Cole, 32, of Pasadena, Tex.

When wreckers started to haul away Cole's car, which had burned after the impact, the bottom fell out—and so did the thousands of coins. Six police units were assigned to retrieve them.

German Beauty's Friends

Senate to Hear Scandal Story

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Senate investigator is expected to unfold at a closed hearing tomorrow a Profumo-like story of a German beauty's relations with prominent Washington figures.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., was reported ready to give details of the affair at a session of the Senate Rules Committee called to investigate the outside business activities of Senate employees.

Williams would not discuss the case with reporters, but one published report said the woman, who has returned to Germany, had friends both in Congress and the administration.

The party girl was described as the 27-year-old brunette wife of a West German Army sergeant who had been assigned to the German military mission here.

"RAVISHING BEAUTY"

The woman, called a "ravishing beauty" by an embassy spokesman, was whisked back to Germany with her husband on Aug. 21 at the urging of the FBI, which had investigated her behavior.

She attracted the attention of the FBI because of the expensive clothes she wore and the high standard of living she and her husband maintained in the country club section of nearby Arlington, Va.

The woman also had a habit of dropping the names of prominent persons, according to reports.

The Washington Post, which reported the woman's measurements as 35-25-34, said that the case involved "a spicy tale of political intrigue and high-level bedroom antics."

"The importantly placed politicians with whom she is alleged to have cavorted in the more than two years she partied here were for the most part unaware she had a husband — or, for that matter, a small child — back at the chic Arlington home which investigators said hardly could have been maintained on the pay of a German Army enlisted man," the newspaper added.

BEHIND WALL

The Post said the woman was born and reared in East Germany and her relatives still were behind the Berlin Wall.

She came to Washington in April 1961 when her husband was attached to the West German military logistics unit here. A German Embassy spokesman said her husband had begun divorce proceedings since their return to Germany.

Williams is scheduled to be the leadoff witness at tomorrow's closed hearing, which was called to look into the activities of Robert G. (Bobby) Baker, who resigned on Oct. 7 as Senate Democratic secretary following published reports of his business interests.

Baker also was secretary of a private Washington club, the Quorum Club, which has been mentioned in some accounts of the German party girl's activities. The club was said to have been patronized by lobbyists and some members of Congress.

TOWN HOUSE

Earlier it was disclosed that Baker also owned a $28,000 town house where his former secretary, Nancy Carole Tyler, lived with a girl friend. Miss Tyler quit her job after Baker resigned his Senate post.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, said the investigation would be limited to activities of Senate officials and employees.

However, some committee members want to broaden the "conflict of interest" inquiry to consider legislation that would require members of Congress, as well as top congressional staff employees and top officials of the executive branch to disclose their income, assets and transactions.

The Atlantic City boardwalk was opened in 1870 and was a mile long and eight feet wide.

RUMORED BOYFRIEND—Bruce B. Baxter III, 24, of Corpus Christi, Tex., with newspaperwoman Doris Klein, is rumored to be the millionaire boyfriend of Le Thuy, 18-year-old daughter of South Viet Nam's First Lady, Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu.

Nixon Says No to '64 Bid

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has issued a strong denial of reports that he may be a dark horse candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

"I have noticed a rash of statements about my intentions," Nixon said.

"First, I am not a candidate and there will not be a draft. I am not supporting or opposing any of those who have indicated they are candidates."

"I will support any one of those who wins the nomination in San Francisco (the site of the GOP convention)."

Nixon made the comments on his return Saturday from a 10-day European trip. He also criticized the Kennedy administration.

Scottish Lad Crowned for 'Insult' to British

LONDON (UPI) — A sign reading "Stolen in 1296" was found yesterday on the Stone of Scone, the old coronation stone of Scotland which rests in London's Westminster Abbey.

A Scottish youth was arrested later and charged with using insulting words and behavior.

Adlai to Heat Up Madame Nhu Spat

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — United Nations Ambassador Adlai Stevenson was expected to heat up his cold war with Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu today at a news conference just a short distance from where the controversial first lady of South Viet Nam was scheduled to deliver an address.

Stevenson and Mme. Nhu have leveled thinly veiled barbs at each other during the past few days, although their paths have never crossed directly during their visits to the same cities.

However, a spokesman for the ambassador said yesterday that Stevenson "now intends to make a major statement" at today's news conference "in regard to the latest statements by Mme. Nhu."

He said Stevenson would meet the press shortly after addressing a breakfast meeting of the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation at the Fairmont Hotel. Mme. Nhu was scheduled to address the Commonwealth Club of California at noon (3 p.m. Pontiac time).

MIGHT INDICATE Mme. Nhu said in Texas last weekend that an attack on Stevenson in Dallas Thursday by anti-U.N. demonstrators might indicate that Texans "are fed up with people who are soft on communism."

Stevenson was struck with a picket sign and spat upon following an address in Dallas the day before Mme. Nhu arrived there on another stop in her tour of the United States.

The ambassador, who had flown to Los Angeles from Texas to speak on the United Nations, "just smiled and was not particularly disturbed" when he was informed of Mme. Nhu's comments, according to a friend.

However, Mme. Nhu softened her remark about Stevenson lightly when she met with newsmen in Los Angeles Friday, saying that "the people of Texas said to me that the incident in Dallas happened because he is believed to be soft on communism."

CAME AFTER

Her comment in Los Angeles came after Stevenson indicated to reporters there he felt Mme. Nhu was receiving too much news coverage during her present tour.

FLOOD STOPS TRUCK

BUT NOT TELEPHONE REPAIRMAN

While on a service call, Michigan Bell Repairman Clarence Fromm of Saginaw discovered the cause of a dead telephone. It was a small flooded area caused by the Saginaw River overflowing its banks during heavy rains. Driving along the road to the house through two feet of water, he found he could go no farther. The water was coming up over the floorboards of his truck, threatening to flood the engine.

But this didn't stop Clarence Fromm. He signaled the man whose phone was out of order and was soon being rowed to the marooned house in a boat. Fromm was able to raise the submerged telephone wires to a point well above the water, and quickly restored the phone to normal service.

The customer was understandably grateful for the repairman's persistence. But what Clarence Fromm did is just another example of how Michigan Bell people always try to make sure you get the kind of service you want. They're about as friendly and cooperative as anyone you will ever meet.

United Church Women Join in World Community Day

Pontiac area women are welcome to participate in the nationwide World Community Day Friday, Nov. 1, by attending the special program at the Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian.

Mrs. Major Ernest Alder will be the main speaker, talking about experiences at the United Nations and her visit to the Holy Land last March.

Others participating in the service are Mrs. Harry Patton, Mrs. Fred Cockle, Mrs. James Fleming, and Mrs. Edward Auchard. Also leading the service are: Mrs. E. George Widdifield, Mrs. L. R.

Miner, Mrs. Robert C. Anderson, and Mrs. John Appleton. Mrs. Fred Haushalter, Mrs. Fred Priestly, Mrs. Floyd Salow, and Mrs. Harold Welch complete the list.

TWO DECADES

World Community Day was founded by United Church Women in 1943 to speed the building of a lasting peace. One of the group's projects for peace for this year is the assembling of friendship packets for needy children. These include personal items and occasionally a small toy.

The offering received at this nationwide service will be used for an in-service training program for church women from this country and some of the newly independent countries.

MONEY GOES FAR

It will also help support the refugee work of the World Council of Churches, scholarships for training for women from the developing countries and will expand the work of the Church Center.

Hospitality chairman is Mrs. Lewis Ball with Mrs. John Ashby and Mrs. Thomas Bertrand as hostesses.

Hold Gift Until Pair Has Arrived

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: Our son is going to be married in England to an English girl. After the wedding they plan to make their home here in the United States.

We cannot go to the wedding. What is the proper thing to do in regard to sending a wedding present?

Should I send our wedding gift to her home in England of wait until she arrives here to give it to her?

A: If you are giving a check, you would send it to her before the wedding, but if you are giving something for their home, it would make little sense to send it to England when they are coming here to live.

When you write to your daughter-in-law-to-be, explain that you are waiting until she comes here before giving her a wedding present so that she can decide what she would like for their house.

Q: In a few weeks an organization to which I belong will have its annual dinner. We intend to invite two guest speakers.

I would like to know if it is necessary to invite their wives to this dinner. Some of the members say "yes" and others "no." Will you please advise us concerning this matter?

A: The wives of the guest speakers should be sent invitations in courtesy. Whether or not they wish to come is up to them.

Area Group to Meet at Local Church

About 900 area Methodist women are expected to attend Woman's Society of Christian Service, Detroit Conference, (WSCS) at Central Methodist Church Tuesday.

The fall assembly will honor Mrs. Marshall R. Reed, wife of the Michigan bishop who is soon to retire.

Working on the luncheon committee are cochairmen Mrs. James Hon, Mrs. William Bullock and Mrs. Harold Sibley.

Other chairmen include Mrs. Donald Porritt, Jr., Mrs. Junior Olson, Mrs. Donald Porritt Sr. and Mrs. Lloyd Huntley.

Mrs. C. D. Steeber, president of WSCS at Central Methodist, will give the welcome. Mrs. W. Henry Sink will provide the music.

Christmas Mart Aids Parenthood League

Oakland County women are assisting with the Planned Parenthood League's fifth annual Christmas mart Wednesday and Thursday in Veteran's Memorial, Detroit.

New this year is the preview dinner on Tuesday with selling hours from 5 to 9 p.m. Sales begin at 10 a.m. on the other days.

According to Mrs. Nelson Holland, chairman, eight new shops will present unique different articles to the Mart. Back again will be 13 of the old favorites.

SKI MODELS

Ski enthusiasts Mrs. LeRoy W. Dahlberg, Mrs. Hugh Martin Jr., and Mrs. S. E. Gawne will model the latest wear for the slopes.

Recruited to work as saleswomen are Mrs. Dean Coffin, Mrs. Frederick Robinson, Mrs. Alfred Davock, Mrs. Martin L. Butzel, Mrs. Albert Powers, Mrs. Homer Sale, Mrs. Lance Minor, Mrs. Bruce Craig, Mrs. Walter Young, Mrs. Charles L. Wilson, Mrs. Asa Wilson, Mrs. Philip Moon, Mrs. Olin Carpenter.

MANY WORK

Others are Mrs. Vern Hampton, Mrs. David Burton, Mrs. James Carmel, Mrs. Marshall Fredericks, Mrs. J. W. Sanders, Mrs. John McNaughton, Mrs. Olson Wilson.

Mrs. Fraser Pomeroy, Mrs. Clifford West, Mrs. John Albrecht, Mrs. Clark Matthews and Mrs. Morton Harris.

Mrs. Franklin Rowland, Mrs. Morton Grattis, Mrs. Robert Bender, Mrs. Elliot Robinson, Mrs. John Cole, Mrs. John Stevenson, Mrs. William Bullock, Mrs. Robert Martin, Mrs. John Kerr and Mrs. William Bachman complete the list.

Proceeds from the project will aid the 15 clinics which Planned Parenthood operates in the Wayne-Oakland area since the League receives no money from the United Foundation. In the first eight months of this year, the League clinics assisted nearly 9,000 women.

Distribution of these kits will follow the annual World Community Day Friday at Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian.

He's No Friend

Confide in Your Parents

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am a junior in high school, but quite mature for my age.

A good friend of the family, who is 40 and married, has taken an interest in me. He said, "If there is anything you want to know about the facts of life or anything you want to confide, come to me because you wouldn't want to go to your parents with things like that, would you?" He's right.

There are some things I wouldn't go to my parents with. He said when he was my age, he developed a close friendship with a woman teacher and he learned a lot. He thinks every young person should develop a close friendship with someone older of the opposite sex.

There are a few things I would like to know more about. Should I confide in him?

LOTS OF QUESTIONS
DEAR ABBY: No. In my opinion this family friend is out of line.

A real friend would encourage a young girl to confide in her parents. The best thing you can develop between this man and yourself is distance.

DEAR ABBY: My son is in Germany and has been there for five months. He got a "Dear John letter" from this girl in our home town who had promised him she'd wait "forever."

We, being in the same town, knew she was writing our son this letter and we worried for fear he would take it very hard. We worried in vain.

We heard that he put her picture up on the bulletin board with her name and address under it, and across the top he printed AVAILABLE. Now she is mad at all of us.

because she got six letters from soldiers in his outfit.

CASEYVILLE, ILLINOIS

DEAR ABBY: Would you kindly inform me as to how soon a bride is expected to get her thank-you notes out for her wedding gifts?

I was married three months ago. Over 700 people attended our wedding.

We went on a two-week honeymoon, but the day after we returned I started back to work again. I have a five-room apartment to take care of, so you know I am not just sitting around doing nothing.

My mother-in-law told my husband that if I didn't hurry up and get those thank-you notes out, she would offer to do it for me.

I'd like your opinion on how guilty of negligence you think I am.

VERY, VERY BUSY

DEAR ABBY: Very! You should have started writing your thank-you notes the day after you returned from your wedding trip — if you had to burn the midnight oil while doing it.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Church Group Slated to Hear Project Report

The Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Alhambra Methodist Church has scheduled a special program to follow a 12 o'clock luncheon Wednesday in the church.

Mrs. Melvin Norberg, Mrs. Alfred Tollison, Mrs. Horace Murry and Mrs. Herbert Blom are planning the project study.

On the national level, the group is assisting with expansion and improvement of urban and community center programs; remodeling Campbell House, Gary, Ind., Wesley Community House, Fort Worth, Tex. and the Susannah Wesley Center in Honolulu.

Foreign projects include aid to medical colleges and nurses' training schools also the Christian literature programs in India.

The WSCS will sponsor the annual family style turkey dinner from 5 to 7 p.m. on Saturday.

Prevent Accidents

Prevent falls at home by keeping stairways and passages clear, providing good lighting in halls and on stairs, wiping up spills at once, fastening rugs securely and thinking safe-4-ly.

Forests Ubiquitous

If all of the national forests were combined into one huge forest, the area would equal all of New England, New York, Pennsylvania and the Atlantic coastline states down through the upper half of South Carolina.

Urban League

Guild to Hear Music

Dr. Donald Gibson of Wayne State University will speak at the first fall meeting of the Urban League Guild, Nov. 7 in the Community Services Building.

His subject will be "The Meaning of the Past: Negro Folk Music." He will accompany himself on the guitar in his interpretations of examples of folk music.

Dr. Gibson holds bachelor and master's degrees in English from the University of Kansas City. He earned his Ph.D. degree at Brown University for his dissertation on Stephen Crane.

A new course in Contemporary Negro Literature for the English department at WSU was also outlined by Dr. Gibson.

The business meeting at 7:30 p.m. will be followed by the open meeting at 8:30.

Dinner Follows Heald Wedding Vows

USAF Capt. and Mrs. Stephen Thomas Heald (Bonnie Jean Urquhart) exchanged nuptial vows Friday evening in the Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian.

The dinner-reception in the Orchard Lake home of the bride's parents, the Charles D. Urquharts, followed the informal ceremony performed by Rev. Edward D. Auchard.

With her gown of ivory silk brocade styled with three-quarter length sleeves, the bride wore a princess-length veil held by a silk circlet. She held a nosegay of white roses.

Carol Swanson of Chicago, who was maid of honor, wore teal blue satin and carried yellow roses.

USAF John Heald of Ann Arbor and Capt. James Heald of Amsterdam, The Netherlands, assisted their brother as best man and usher. They are the sons of the Alva A. Healds of Ann Arbor. Also seated guests were Carlton Bey Jr. of Des Moines, Iowa.

The couple will honeymoon in New York City before leaving for Ismir, Turkey, where he is stationed with the Army Dental Corps.

The new Mrs. Heald attended Albion College and is a senior at University of Michigan where her husband received his degree from the College of Dentistry.

Bonnie Jean Urquhart, daughter of the Charles D. Urquharts of Orchard Lake exchanged vows with USAF Capt. Stephen Thomas Heald, son of the Alva A. Healds of Ann Arbor, Friday in Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian.

Saturday Ceremony Marks Marriage

Perry Park Baptist Church was the setting for the marriage on Saturday of Carol Sue Armstrong to USN Hospital Apprentice Robert Kane. Ralph Pardee performed the evening ceremony.

The Owen Armstrongs of Broadway Avenue are parents of the bride who made her own wedding-gown of winter white faille. The long-sleeved fitted bodice extended into a skirt of unpressed pleats and short train.

ROSEBUD CENTER
A handmade pillow held her tapered veil of lace-edged tulle. Red rosebuds centered her bouquet of white carnations.

Honor matron, Mrs. Dale Luetke and the bridesmaids Pamela Adams and the bride's sister Linda carried white carnations tipped to match their royal blue brocade dresses.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Harold Ogles of Bigham Avenue and Robert Kane of Somerville, Mass., had Dale Luetke for best man. Seaman Appren. William Midkiff of Jacksonville, Fla. ushered with Theodore Santana and Daniel Kane.

After a reception in Avon Township Hall, the couple left for a northern Michigan honeymoon. He is stationed at the great Lakes Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill.

Club Holds Party

The Golden Age Club will gather for a Halloween costume party at 7:30 p. m., Wednesday, in the CAI on Williams Lake Road.

Refreshments will be served following an evening of games and dancing.

Luncheon Club Meets

An afternoon of cards for members of the Maple Leaf Luncheon Club followed the Friday meeting in the Waldron Hotel Board Room.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Lawrence Taylor and Mrs. Erwin Rogge.

Corsages were presented to Mrs. Stuart Townsend honoring her 40th wedding anniversary and to Mrs. Mark Conoley who was married recently.

Guests were Mrs. Kenneth Strine, Mrs. John Woodcock and Mrs. Esther Johnson.

Meredith Willsons to Appear

The creator of '76 Trombones' will herald the fifth anniversary of Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall Nov. 8 at 8 p.m. at Pontiac Northern High School.

Meredith Willson and his wife Rini, concert singer, will appear in a bonus program. This first for the series offers tickets on sale for the general public, unlike the regularly scheduled morning programs for which season tickets are sold.

The Willsons will present a "musical lecture" entitled "A Meredith Willson Social with Rini." Humor and music will be featured.

Though known mainly as the creator of the musicals "The Music Man" and "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," Willson has had a long and varied career.

He has played the flute for John Philip Sousa and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra. He has starred in and directed radio programs and conducted symphony orchestras.

From his pen has come popular songs, serious symphonies and two books.

Testing Broadway now is Willson's third musical, "Here's Love," based on the movie "Miracle on 34th Street."

Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Paul Gorman, North Genesee Avenue.

Why Grow Old?
by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This week I am bringing you my Trick AND Treat Diet which gives you a loss of around five pounds in seven days.

This diet not only gives you well-seasoned food but can be used as a skeleton diet for the rest of your family.

You can simply give the other members of the gang larger helpings and second servings if they wish. They can drink whole milk instead of skim milk and eat more butter and bread and desserts and sugar than your diet calls for.

Here are the menus for Tuesday.

BREAKFAST

Six ounces orange juice—One poached egg on toast (one tablespoonful of chili sauce on egg or sprinkling of grated cheese) Coffee with one teaspoonful of sugar

LUNCHEON

Toasted cheese sandwich (two thin slices of bread and a thin slice of American cheese—the equivalent of two heaping tablespoons of the same) One eight ounce glass skim milk One-half cup cole slaw

DINNER

One cup consommé (canned) Four ounces of lean beef (broiled) Sliced tomato One baked potato seasoned with onion salt and parsley Two small pieces of hard candy

If you would like to have my complete Trick AND Treat Diet in a small booklet send ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Husband
"too tired"
times?

If your husband keeps coming home too "beat" to be gay and stimulating, too worn out to take you out, remember—the hectic "rat race" of today's business requires men to perform like human dynamo day after day, which builds up churning tensions that rob literally millions of husbands of energy and vigor they might otherwise enjoy!

What can you do to help counteract this tension-caused loss of vitality?

Many doctors recommend augmenting the daily diet with nature's remarkable "bounce-back" food, famous Kretschmer Wheat Germ. Made from the germinating heart of the kernel, wheat germ has been established by official U. S. Dept. of Agriculture studies to be the most healthful food known!

WHEAT GERM

• Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually supplies a whopping 30 nutrients important to good health, vigor and stamina!

• Serve your husband this remarkable food every day and see how much more pep and vitality he has! Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes on a cereal, on cereal, or add to pancakes, waffles, scrambled eggs, etc.

• Thrifty, tasty Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

• GUARANTEE—(1) Kretschmer Wheat Germ is the most beautiful food known; (2) Your family will like its taste like flavor. If you are not satisfied, just write your name, address, and price paid on back of label and mail to Kretschmer, Carmichael, Michigan, for full refund.

Use Salt, Lemon

First sprinkle salt on a rust mark on fabric. Then squeeze on lemon juice. Spread the garment in the sun to dry.

MRS. R. G. ELLIXSON

Couple Will Make Home in Clarkston

A new home in Clarkston awaits the Robert Gene Ellixsons (Sharon Louise Dion) who left for a northern honeymoon following morning vows Saturday, in St. Benedict Church. Joining the couple at the reception in the "300 Lounge" were their parents, the Ernest E. Dion of Orchard Street, and the Audrey G. Ellixsons of Lacota Road.

With her gown of white Chantilly lace over satin, styled with bell skirt and satin cummerbund, the bride wore a bouffant veil of illusion secured by a pearl tiara.

GIFT PEARLS

The bridegroom's cultured pearl gift pendant and a cascade of white carnations with orchids, completed her ensemble.

Honor matron, Mrs. Gregory G. Stieber of Warren, and Mrs. David Bell of Royal Oak, who was bridesmaid, carried cascading white carnations tipped to match their dresses, of royal blue silk organza.

On the esquire side were best man James Wert with ushers Gene Helene and the bride's brother Ronald Dion. The bridegroom is attending Lawrence Institute of Technology in Detroit.

Lodge Hosts State VIPs

Grand officers of Michigan conferred the degree at the Friday meeting of Esther Court No. 13, Order of Amaranth at Roosevelt Temple. Mrs. Ernestine Pearson and Mrs. Pierre Shaver were in charge of refreshments. Decorations were handled by Mrs. Bert Weddel and Catherine McCrindle.

Nancy Messler Busy With Showers

The arrival of 20 guests Friday at the Watkins Lake home of Mrs. Herbert Howarth climaxed a round of pre-nuptial entertaining for November bride-elect, Nancy Jean Messler. Mrs. Paul Gorman was cohostess.

Mrs. William Sonnenberg of Sylvan Lake opened her home for a recent shower honoring her granddaughter. Sharing hostess honors were Nancy's aunts, Mrs. Fred Beedle, Mrs. Jack Beedle, Mrs. Kenneth Black and Mrs. Robert Woodard.

Collaborating in a neighborhood shower were Mrs. Ray Doan, Mrs. Howard Mudge and Mrs. Carl Woods in the latter's home at Cass Lake.

PERSONAL GIFTS

Personal gifts for the bride-elect were opened recently in Mrs. Floyd Stetwell's home at Sylvan Lake, with Mrs. Joseph Chircop, shower cohostess.

Miss Messler's parents are the Leon Messlers of Cass Lake. Her fiancé, John Marquis Hood of Voorhees Road is the son of the senior John Hoods of Speedway, Ind.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Most Scars Slowly Fade if Left Alone

Q—Why is it that sometimes when I cut or scrape my skin I heal and there is no scar and other times there is a permanent scar?

A—Your skin is constantly replacing itself from the deeper layers outward. When it is injured the reparative process is speeded up.

If the scraping is superficial and only the regenerative layers are involved, you will heal without a scar but, if the cut or scrape is deeper, a scar will form, the scar will be red at first but will slowly fade.

Many skin lesions, notably those of acne, chickenpox, eczema and mosquito bites would leave no scar if left alone, but picking at them or scratching may carry the damage to the deeper layers and scarring will result.

This is especially true if the scratching introduces infection into the wound.

Q—I recently had a major operation and have been home from the hospital five weeks. I am able to do light housework, but I still have terrific gas pains. Is there anything I can do to help this?

A—Gas pains are common following an operation, but usually clear up in five or six days, especially when the patient is allowed to be out of bed.

Since you still have them after five weeks they are probably not related to the operation. The commonest cause is air swallowing and this is aggravated by eating too fast, by trying to force a belch and by drinking carbonated drinks.

Other causes are intestinal fermentation and the transfer of nitrogen from the blood to the intestines.

Recent studies indicate that dexpantanol (Ilopancholine), obtainable only a doctor's prescription, or methyl polysiloxane (Mylcon) give fairly prompt relief to most persons who have this trouble.

Q—My doctor says I have melanosis. Is there any cure for this condition? Will a suntan lotion aggravate it?

A—Melanosis is a broad term that covers an increase of dark pigment in the skin or mucous membranes. It may occur as freckles or dark brown moles or it may be evenly distributed over the entire body.

It may be due to a variety of causes including pellagra (a vitamin deficiency), arsenic poisoning or overexposure to X rays. It may occur in pregnancy or in persons with a disease of the thyroid, pituitary or adrenal glands.

If your doctor has ruled out any serious disease as the cause, no treatment is necessary. If the pigmented spots are patchy and occur on the face, masking cosmetics may help to make the spots less conspicuous.

Suntan lotion will not affect the underlying cause but if you have a generalized melanosis you don't need such a lotion.

Red Chinese Need Time Before Testing N-Bomb

TOKYO (AP)—Red China's Foreign Minister Chen Yi was quoted today as saying it will be several years before his country can test an atomic bomb.

Kyodo News Service said the Chinese vice premier made this statement in Peking to visiting Japanese newsmen.

Chen reportedly said that the delay in testing was due to the backward state of China's industrial base and that it will be some time before it can mass produce atomic weapons.

But he emphasized the Chinese Communist government has every intention of acquiring nuclear power, because without it China would remain a second- or third-class nation.

He said China is close to resolution of the problems of atomic weapon production.

China's objective is he added, to be equipped with atom bombs, missiles and superatomic weapons "within a few years."

He noted that the Russians had taunted China on wanting to produce expensive nuclear weapons when it didn't have enough trousers to go round. Chen added that even if China had to go without trousers, it must have modern weapons.

FOREIGN POLICY
In any case, Chen Yi added, possession of atomic weapons will not affect China's domestic or foreign policy. With or without bombs, it will refuse to kneel before the United States.

Chen said the Chinese economy has been going through a period of adjustment following three years of natural calamities, the withdrawal in 1960 of Soviet engineers and Western restrictions on trade. As a result of the Korean war, he said it would take another year for the economy to right itself.

Chen denounced the limited nuclear test-ban treaty as aimed at putting the blame on China when it begins testing.

He said China did not expect an early entry into the United Nations.

Hospitalized After Shooting Wife, Self

DETROIT (AP)—Zygmunt Kapuscinski, 70, was recovering from a gunshot wound in the psychiatric ward of Receiving Hospital today after a shooting at his home Saturday night in which his wife, Josephine, also 70, was killed.

Police said Kapuscinski admitted shooting his wife in an argument over her proposed return to Poland and then turned his pistol on himself. He was wounded in the cheek.

Surprise Package Found Beside Sunday Paper

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—When H. L. Witt went to his front door in suburban Farmers Branch to hunt his morning newspaper he found it beside a clothes basket containing a baby girl.

"She wasn't crying and was very congenial," Witt said later. There were no laundry marks on the baby's garments or blanket. Police checked her footprints with those on file at several hospitals and none matched. The baby, about six months old, was taken to a foster home.

Observed Witt, who works for an auto appliance firm, "This sort of thing doesn't happen every day. It kind of shakes you up on Sunday morning."

Best Method to Cope With Bursitis

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—It will be a comfort, although a small one to the occasional but innumerable victims of bursitis, to know medical science is far from being of one mind on how to deal with it.

Dr. J. Drennan Lowell, a teacher of orthopedic surgery at Harvard Medical School, listed a dozen possible ways including "manipulation" which means flinging the affected arm (or leg) about no matter how much it hurts.

Dr. Lowell was asked by the New England Journal of Medicine to instruct its readers on the best way to cope with it and make it go away as quickly as possible.

He puts the tender arms into slings and their owners into beds, in a sitting or a semi-sitting position. He gives them a pain-lessening drug and an anti-inflammatory drug, phenylbutazone, four times a day and otherwise doesn't touch them.

DRAMATIC RESPONSE
"The response in most cases is dramatic and occurs within 48 to 72 hours, and occasionally as early as 24 hours," he said. "There is a rapid loss of pain and concomitant increase in available motion."

"During this period the arm is taken out of the sling for increasing periods and gentle exercises are started, first, swinging the arm as a pendulum, later, using the opposite arm to assist in bringing the affected one overhead or behind the back."

Almost never is it necessary to "manipulate" the arm, with consequent torment to its owner, in order to help the inflamed bursa, he said, and only rarely is it necessary to get to the bursa surgically to remove a calcium deposit.

He also rejected treatments with vitamin A, penicillin, traction, diathermy and ultrasound.

UPSURGE OF BURSTITIS
Although there is no statistical evidence, medical authorities believe there has been a great upsurge of bursitis in the last few years.

They can't really explain it, but many of the victims are weekend golfers, woodchoppers, do-it-yourselfers, and other males who think a Saturday and a Sunday of strenuous physical activity will make up for their physical sloth during the other five days of the week.

For those who are unsure, a bursa is a sac in bony prominences over which muscles and tendons move. It contains a fluid which looks like the white of an egg; and when a bursa gets inflamed, oh brother! There's no pain quite as persistent and as excruciating.

In the current rash of bursitis victims, the bursa usually afflicted is the one where an upper arm merges with the shoulder. There is no comfort for them whether standing, sitting or lying down and even the slightest arm movement becomes an ordeal.

Weds Again

POUND, Va. (UPI)—Francis Gary Powers, the former spy pilot whose high-flying U2 was brought down deep in Russia in 1960, planned to bring his bride of two days to this mountain village today for a visit with his parents.

The former Central Intelligence Agency pilot who became a central figure in a major cold war crisis, was married in Catlett, Va., Saturday to Mrs. Claude Edwards Downey, 28, who also worked for the CIA.

It was the second marriage for both. Their earlier marriage ended in divorce.

Powers' parents didn't attend the small ceremony Saturday. His father, Oliver Powers, said they were not invited, but then added: "It was too far for me to drive."

"I've met the girl," the elder Powers said. "She's real nice and I'm very glad."

Light Rain Dampens Areas in Parched Eastern U. S.

CHICAGO (AP)—Light rain, the first measurable amounts in weeks, dampened parched areas in eastern drought sections today but afforded only minor relief from the prolonged dry spell.

Unseasonably mild weather covered broad areas in eastern and southern parts of the nation Sunday. Temperatures soared to the 80s and upper 70s, setting record high marks for Oct. 27.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said that the spotty rainfall Sunday from the Ozarks northeastward to the northern Appalachians and in parts of New York State did little to relieve the severe drought conditions. The only substantial rains, the bureau said, splashed along the Ohio River in Indiana and Kentucky, with up to about one inch.

LIGHT RAIN
Light rain sprinkled areas in western and central Pennsylvania but 27 new fires flared across the state's woodlands, 8 more than were reported Saturday. One fire swept through about 700 acres at the foot of Big Pocono Mountain in the resort area near Stroudsburg.

Heaviest rainfall in the state was .45 inches in Erie. The fire danger in New York State's forest lands continued, with 21 new blazes Sunday and a total of 62 burning. The .02 inches of rain in Albany ended 23 days of rainless weather, the longest recorded dry spell in the city. The first measurable rainfall in 16 days, .10 inches, was reported in Rochester and Buffalo.

In Ohio, which needs heavy, steady rains to break the drought, light rain fell in Cleveland, Cincinnati and Zanesville. The 19 inches of precipitation in the Cleveland area broke a 27-day dry spell.

Washington, D.C., has had 29 rainless days but there is a possibility of widely scattered showers Tuesday. Sunday's reading of 83 was a record for the date. New Jersey, without any rain for 24 days, reported temperatures of 81 in Newark, a record for Oct. 27.

EMERGENCY PIPELINE
Most of the 1,100 residents of Mt. Orab, in southeast Ohio, joined over the weekend in building 3.5 miles of emergency water pipeline to the town's reservoir from Lake Grant. The reservoir, nearly dry, is expected to be full by Wednesday.

In the Midwest, fires burned over a three-square mile area of underbrush and woods southwest of Detroit. In Iowa, nearly 100 acres of pasture land near fire was brought under control.

Decision Day Is Nov. 5

Township or Cityhood for Waterford

By JOE MULLEN
Nov. 5 will be the day of decision in Waterford Township.

Voters will cast ballots on a proposal to incorporate the charter township as a city.

The electorate also will select nine charter commissioners to draft a proposed city charter if the cityhood issue carries.

If the issue passes, charter commissioners will convene within 10 days of the election to begin their work.

PRESENT CHARTER
Their goal will be to present a charter acceptable to the people in a subsequent election.

Incorporation will take place only when the charter is approved at the polls.

Commissioners will have two years to present a maximum of three proposed charters to the electorate.

During this period, the township would be immune from any annexation or from internal incorporation.

IF ISSUE FAILS
If the cityhood issue fails Nov. 5, there would be no purpose for the charter commission to exist and it would be voided.

Three basic issues have evolved in discussions on the election. They are: taxes, fragmentation and borrowing.

Opponents of incorporation contend that taxes will rise because it is the nature of city residents to expect and demand greater services.

Those who advocate incorporation stress that taxes will remain the same if services remain the same. They concede that a demand for more services would result in greater taxes.

CITE DANGER
Proponents of incorporation cite the danger of fragmentation, that is, annexation of township area from without or incorporation of land from within.

They point out that failure to vote affirmatively Nov. 5 would leave the township open to fragmentation into numerous weak municipalities.

Alternatives, they say, are remaining a township or becoming a part of the Greater Pontiac area. They feel that with its present growth and future growth potential, Waterford is ready to stand alone as a city.

Opponents of incorporation feel that the present charter township form of government offers sufficient flexibility.

BORROWING FUNDS
Cityhood boosters maintain that Waterford as a city would be able to borrow money for improvements at a better interest rate. Opponents to the cityhood move say this is not necessarily true.

Bonding experts agree that, generally, cities can borrow better, but not always. The individual case must be considered, they say.

The initial move toward an incorporation vote came in August 1962 when Waterford Township was threatened with the loss of land to the proposed city of Union Lake.

This planned city never materialized, but Waterford began exploring the feasibility of incorporation.

STUDY COMMITTEE
On the recommendation of the township's planning commission, the Township Board appointed an incorporation study committee Aug. 13, 1962.

While the study was in progress, a petition calling for an incorporation vote was filed Dec. 4 last year to prevent fragmentation pending completion of the study report.

The study committee, comprised of 19 civic leaders, finished its 15-page comparison of the township and city forms of government Jan. 21, 1963.

Budget structures of a city and township would be essentially the same except for road income and expenses, according to the report.

BUDGET REQUIREMENT
Assuming services were similar, the report stated that Waterford as a city would have required a budget of $1,013,494 in 1962. Its actual budget as a township was $582,849.

State revenue for road improvements would account for the difference in the two budgets, since cities receive a share of gas and weight taxes and townships do not.

Waterford received a token $1,000 as a township in 1962 in state highway funds.

Here's Text of Nov. 5 City Issues

Issues in the Nov. 5 election will be presented to the voters as follows:

1. Shall the following described territory located within the County of Oakland, State of Michigan (proposed to be known as the City of Waterford) be incorporated as a Home Rule City pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 279 of the Public Acts of 1909 as amended?

For City Incorporation. Yes ☐ For City Incorporation. No ☐
(Note: The proposal includes a description of the proposed city area and lists exceptions. See map on this page.)

2. Candidates for Members of Charter Commission. (Vote for not more than nine.)

As a city, it would have been granted $456,945, which was also the estimated expenditure figure.

INCREASE FACTOR

The increase of a net $400,645 in road expenditures as a city, is due to the fact that cities are responsible for construction and maintenance of their roads. Township roads are the responsibility of counties.

Aside from the budget, there are many differences in the township and city forms of government.

The Charter Township Act limits elections to an at-large and partisan basis.

The charter commission of a home rule city has the responsibility to propose, and the voters the power to adopt, one of several forms of government: mayor-council, mayor-commission, council-city manager or others.

City voters have the option to choose between partisan and nonpartisan or by district or at-large elections in the adoption of a charter.

Townships, charter or ordinary, are allowed only one representative on the county board of supervisors. If Waterford were a city, its 50,000 plus population would allow it to have five supervisors.

Under the township system of government, justice is administered in Waterford by two justices of the peace courts, each with a $300 civil jurisdiction limit.

COURT CHOICE
As a city, Waterford could either retain its justice courts with a $500 civil jurisdiction limit or establish a municipal court with a $1,000 ceiling in civil cases.

Only a licensed attorney who has been a resident for a minimum of five years could be elected a judge.

The justice courts are doomed to die in five years anyway, as decreed by the new state constitution.

FINANCE POWER

In the area of finance, a charter township has greater power than an ordinary township.

The Township Board may spread up to five mills ($5 per $1,000 of equalized valuation) and, by approval at the polls, an additional 5 mills.

A city may levy up to 20 mills, and with more approval of the voters for certain specified purposes. But, the millage limitation is spelled out in the charter.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS

Incorporation would have little effect on the existing school district. State revenue would be essentially the same.

Problems now facing Waterford Township and other growing communities such as the establishment of adequate sewer and water facilities, would exist whether the area remains a township or becomes a city.

A recently formed organization called the Waterford Citizens Action Committee for Incorporation has strongly endorsed the incorporation proposal.

Also on record as favoring cityhood is the Greater Waterford Community Council and the township's Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A group known as the Save Waterford Township Committee formed recently to oppose incorporation.

A Glance at the Issues on Cityhood

Two issues face Waterford Township voters in the Nov. 5 special election.

Whether the present charter township should be incorporated as a city.

The election of nine charter commissioners from a field of 21 candidates.

Passage of the cityhood proposal will not necessarily mean that Waterford will become a city.

It merely authorizes the charter commission to draft a proposed city charter for presentation to the voters in another election.

IF APPROVED

If the charter is approved in the second election, then Waterford will be incorporated as a city.

A defeat of the cityhood proposal in the Nov. 5 election automatically would void the charter commission because there would be no need for its existence.

Opposing Leaders State Views on Waterford Cityhood Issue

Pro

Dr. John F. Naz, chairman of the Waterford Citizen's Action Committee for Incorporation (WCACI), issued the following statement advocating an affirmative vote on incorporation:

Waterford Township, nearly 35 square miles, is the center of Oakland County. Location and lakes (over 30) make it a very desirable place to live.

Since township organization in 1834, there has been growth in activity and population. The Indiana powwow was the first method of government. Early settlers used quite similar methods.

When population became too great for simple methods, organized government began. The first township board met in 1835.

DEMANDS UP
Progressively, demands for services and for solutions to local problems increased.

Even though governmental structures improved, population growth with its problems found the rural government too limited to be of help. The problems were water, sewers, sewage disposal, industry, fragmentation, etc.

In view of increasing needs, the Waterford Community Study Committee arose in 1956 from the local Business and Professional Women chapter and Jaycees.

This group researched the problem in detail, bringing in speakers such as Paul Reid (Detroit Regional Planning Commission) and Dr. Louis Friedland (Wayne State University).

LISTS POINTS

The latter pointed out that a rural township could go to a chartered township or to a city; that the chartered township is not a home rule city but a midpoint between township and city; and that it had a 10-mill tax rate to better finance government services.

He emphasized that a chartered township could not prevent fragmentation of its desirable areas, and that it would have one representative on the County Board of Supervisors. (Cities are represented according to population).

Lastly, he said, no community can exist on resident taxes alone.

The net result of the community study proved the inadequacy of rural government. The voters confirmed this September 12, 1961, when Waterford became a charter township.

ANNEXATION

This government looked as though it would serve the community well. However, annexation came to threaten us. A move was made to incorporate four square miles of Waterford into the city of Union Lake. This failed.

On July 16, 1962, the Waterford Planning Commission recommended that the Township Board appoint a 15-man committee to study incorporation. The board appointed a nonpartisan committee a month later.

In November 1962, the Waterford Community Council, anticipating annexation problems, petitioned for cityhood.

In 1963, the Jaycees reviewed the incorporation study and voted to inform our citizens.

THE FINDINGS

(1) No disadvantage to cityhood.

(2) Temporary protection against annexation.

(3) Personnel comparatively the same.

(4) Increased representation on the county board of supervisors.

(5) Gas and weight taxes for roads an advantage.

(6) More beneficial judiciary powers.

(7) More favorable bonding position.

(8) More adequate services.

(9) More flexibility for future development.

It is an advantage to become a city. The Waterford Citizen's Action Committee endorses a yes vote on Nov. 5.

Absentee Deadline

Waterford Township voters may apply for absentee ballots for the Nov. 5 election up until 2 p.m. Saturday. Applications are taken at the clerk's office in the township hall.

Con

Fred Morningstar, a certified public accountant and chairman of the Save Waterford Township Committee (SWTC), has issued the following statement outlining his group's position on the Nov. 5 special election:

The committee believes that supporters of a proposal to cause any major change in our local government should show the people that the change is needed, particularly if the change involves a tax increase.

The main argument put forth in support of incorporation is the danger of fragmentation and annexation. Dr. Louis Friedland, professor at Wayne State University and a noted authority in the field of local government, has stated that fragmentation "may be the only real issue" facing the people on the question of incorporation.

Royal Oak Township has been cited as an example of the danger of fragmentation. This township was broken into 14 separate government units. But what caused this situation?

Fragmentation occurs when industry develops heavily in one or more sections of an area, or there is a wide range in residential values. Royal Oak Township had these problems.

NO PROBLEMS

We do not have either of these situations in Waterford. Since there is no motivating factor, the danger of fragmentation is almost nonexistent.

We are also told that if we do not incorporate, Pontiac will annex the Mall. However under present law, incorporation as a city does not prevent annexation.

In either case, the owner of the Mall would have to ask for annexation.

The local tax rate in Pontiac is less than $3 per $1,000 of assessed valuation; it is over sixteen dollars in Pontiac.

It seems unlikely that a businessman would want to increase his local property tax over 500 per cent. Even if the Mall were to be annexed, loss to Waterford residents would total only $1 per year per taxpayer.

THERE IS NO NEED

As has been shown, the main argument for incorporation does not demonstrate a need to become a city at this time.

Ideally, a community's tax base should be between 30 per cent and 35 per cent industrial and commercial before incorporation as a city.

Waterford only has about 15 per cent commercial and industrial, so we have a long way to go before cityhood is feasible.

The number of people in a township is not the deciding factor in becoming a city. Redford Township has over 70,000 people but, since they do not have a broad industrial base, incorporation is not feasible for them.

PERHAPS LATER

The committee believes that incorporation may be necessary at some time. But we do not believe that this is the answer to Waterford's problem now.

We can observe the experience of other communities where the tax increases upon incorporation as a city. Dr. Friedland confirms this.

We believe that since we have been a charter township for only two years, we should give it a chance. There is very little that we can do as a city that we cannot do as a charter township.

After all, the city of Warren was a charter township for seven years before becoming a city.

Hopefuls Speak

All 21 charter commission candidates have been invited to speak Wednesday at a public meeting slated for 8 p.m. at Waterford Township High School.

Following the series of three minute talks, residents will have an opportunity to speak with candidates during a social hour. Cider and doughnuts will be served.

Morrall Wins First Full Assignment, 28-10

Lions Regain Victory Touch Over Vikings

Detroit's Make-Shift Defense Puts Stopper on Minnesota QB

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
After four years in the "bullpen," Earl Morrall started and finished his first game for the Detroit Lions yesterday, chalking up a 28-10 victory over the hapless Minnesota Vikings.

Of course, playing an outstanding game against the Vikings is nothing new for Morrall, except that he started this time and didn't go back to the bullpen once.

Over the past two years, Morrall has come into the games against Minnesota as a second half reliever and received credit for victories.

Milt Plum did get into the game yesterday but in the role of place kicker. He booted four extra points and handled the kickoffs as Wayne Walker, recovering from a leg injury devoted all of his playing time to the linebacker slot.

VIKING STOPPED

The Vikings, with Fran Tarkenton, one of the leading passers in the league, and Tommy Mason, one of the better runners in the circuit, getting shackled by a make-shift Lions' defense, managed only 86 yards running and 40 passing. Tarkenton hit on only 5 of 25.

After taking a 7-0 lead on a 35-yard pass play from Morrall to Terry Barr the first time the Lions' had the ball, it almost appeared as if another second half downhill was in the making.

Minnesota received an early break after recovering a fumble on the Detroit 46. Five plays later Fred Cox booted a 38-yard field goal.

The Lions managed a touchdown per period, the second one coming after only two minutes of the 2nd quarter. With Tom Watkins enjoying his best running day of the year, along with Nick Pietrosante, the Lions moved from their own 26 to the Vikings' three from where Pietrosante smashed over for the TD.

INTERCEPTION

Another threat for Detroit ended when Morrall's pass was intercepted by Tom Franchhauser on the Minnesota four yard line, thus the half ended 14-3.

Another fumble in the third quarter gave Minnesota the ball on the Detroit 14-yard line and on the first play Bill Brown literally hit a stone wall, but rolled off the mass of players and scooted the corner in complete daylight for the touchdown. Cox made it 14-10.

There were only 36 seconds left in the third quarter when Barr made a dazzling run of a 27-yard pass play from Morrall to make the score read 21-10 with Plum's conversion.

The big play in this 73-yard march was a spectacular catch of a pass by Gail Cogdill pinched between two Vikings. It covered 36 yards for a first down on the Viking 37, from where Morrall threw to Barr.

After stopping Minnesota on the Detroit 28, the Lions went

ONE LIONS' PASS—Halfback Tom Franchhauser (4) of the Minnesota Vikings and Gail Cogdill of the Lions battle for possession of the ball in the second period of the game yesterday. Cogdill got possession for a key first down in the second period of the game won by Detroit, 28-10.

Title Has Big Day

Giants Slow Brown(s), 33-6

CLEVELAND (AP) — New York Coach Alie Sherman had a plan to defeat the previously unbeaten Cleveland Browns — control the ball, move it in short bursts and smother the league's best offense.

It was a tall order. But the Giants, in a do-or-die game for them, did it all and more Sunday before 84,213 stunned fans en route to a 33-6 National Football League victory.

Y. A. Tittle hit on 21 of 31 passes for 214 yards and two touchdowns, Alex Webster ran over for another score and Don Chandler booted field goals from the 29, 34, 33 and 42-yard lines and kicked three conversions for a total of 15 points.

How well the Giants controlled the ball can be seen in the statistics. They ran off 78 plays, or 40 more than Cleveland, which now has a 6-1 record compared with 5-2 marks for New York and St. Louis in the NFL Eastern Conference.

NO OFFENSE

Jim Brown was held to 40 yards on nine carries and Frank Ryan completed only one of nine passes — and that for a minus six yards to Ernie Green, who was injured on the play.

"It was as good a game as the Giants ever played," said a happy, cigar-smoking Sherman, relishing revenge for a 35-24 loss two weeks ago in New York.

Sherman said the Giants were disciplined to play the game according to plan. A Cleveland fumble and a pass interception led to 10 points for New York before the game was three minutes old.

"We didn't know we could move that fast," said Sherman. "Our plan was to chunk it out a little at a time, just keep going nose to nose with them. We had to stop their offense. We just didn't let 'em get going," Sherman said.

Temperers got out of control 52 seconds before the final gun when Brown and Giants' linebacker Tom Scott traded punches and both were ejected.

"I've got no comment about it," said Brown, who was a pass blocker. "It was just one of those things that happen in a game."

Scott said he was blitzing when he ran into Brown. "We just tangled and started swinging. Both's all there was to it." Both Sherman and Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier were willing to drop the matter. "It was (Continued on Page 21, Col. 5)

Pass Interference Call Helps Packers Triumph

BALTIMORE (AP)—Max McGee, Green Bay Packer end, wasn't sure Lenny Lyles of the Baltimore Colts interfered with him on a pass Sunday, but said "I sure was happy to see it called about that time."

That was putting it mildly.

The penalty gave the Packers a golden opportunity to beat the Colts 34-20 when it looked like the result would be a 20-20 tie.

The penalty was good for 23 yards and a first down on the Colt 34 with less than four minutes to play. Before the Colts defense could settle down, Elijah Pitts swept around left end all the way for a touchdown.

"I think there was interference along the way although it was not too severe," admitted McGee. "There was some just-ling. I think he must've been tapping me on the back along the way."

NO COMMENT

Coach Don Shula refused to speak out. He said he had been misquoted once before on a call by an official and besides "I never want to use them as an alibi."

The pass interference was the second penalty called against the Colts in the last quarter when they came on with 10 points to tie the score. The first forced the Colts to settle for a field goal instead of going for a touchdown.

With third down on the Pack-er 12, quarterback John Unitas ducked a couple of would-be tacklers, ran to the line of scrimmage and let the ball fly toward a receiver in the end zone. It sailed away off its mark. The officials ruled he had intentionally got rid of the ball and put the Colts back on the 27.

CHICAGO — The Bears retained a share of first place in the Western Division by clipping the Eagles, 16-7.

Roger Leach booted a 45-yard field goal and Joe Maroon took a 23-yard pass from Billy Wade for a touchdown in the first quarter to give the home team all the points it needed.

A King Hill-to-Tommy McDonald five-yard scoring pass in the second quarter cut the halftime margin to 16-7.

The two Bear touchdowns came on 67 and 80-yard drives featuring the passes of Wade.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Quarterback Roman Gabriel fired a 51-yard touchdown pass to Carroll Dale for one touchdown and ran 12 for another as the Los Angeles Rams scored twice in the final quarter Sunday in a come from behind performance to defeat the San Francisco 49ers 28-21.

In a battle to escape the cellar of the Western Division of the National Football League, the Rams saw a 14-7 lead vanish as the 49ers rallied with a pair of touchdowns in the third quarter.

The last time the Rams won two in a row was in 1961 when they defeated Minnesota and the 49ers.

STAYED CLOSE

The 49ers, who upset the Chicago Bears last week, were completely dominated for most of the first half but trailed by only 14-7 at the intermission.

Veteran quarterback Lamar McLean and the 49ers could get nowhere on the ground against the Ram defense. They took to the air and almost saw the aerial fireworks pay off.

U. S. Golf Team Wins Canada Cup Tournament

PARIS (AP) — The United States, with Jack Nicklaus chalking up a fantastic run of birdies, won the Canada Cup Golf Tournament for the fourth straight year today as play in the final round was delayed by fog and then finally cut to nine holes.

The only possibility that the American victory would not stand up was the weather. Fred Corcoran, tournament director, ruled that all teams must finish the shortened round.

Nicklaus birdied six of the nine holes and also won the individual title with a 63-hole total of 237 after being tied with South Africa's Gary Player at the end of 54 holes.

Arnold Palmer, a member of two of the three previous U. S. championship teams, had a 245 to give the U. S. a combined score of 482. Palmer had a 34 for the final nine holes.

HEAVY FOG

The final round originally was scheduled for Sunday but was postponed because of a heavy fog. Fog blanketed the par 72 Saint-om-la-Breche links yesterday, but, after a long delay, it ended enough to permit the players from 33 countries to tee off.

Corcoran, tournament director, ruled, however, that the round be reduced to nine holes because of weather conditions and the fact a number of the players have commitments in Australia Wednesday.

Spain, tied with Nicklaus and Palmer at 416 for the team championship going into the final round, ended up with 485. Sebastian Miguel had a 33 for a 63-hole total of 242 and Ramon Sota a 36 for a 243.

Player finished with a 37, giving him a 63-hole total of 242 and a tie with Miguel. With a number of players still on the course it looked like 242 would be good enough for second place in the battle for the individual crown won last year by Argentina's Roberto de Vicenzo.

The top scoring one-eighth of the total entries at each qualifying establishment will reach the finals. There are two Saturdays and four Sundays remaining to attempt to qualify.

Including the first weekend's scores, the top performances have been:

Wings Lose, 6-4, but Fans Cheer Howe's Record Goal

Large Olympia Crowd Gives Gordie Ovation

DETROIT (AP)—Gordie Howe, the Detroit Red Wing's golden boy for 18 years, now owns a share in the National Hockey League all-time scoring record with Maurice (Rocket) Richard.

The Canadiens beat Detroit 6-4, but that made no difference to the Detroit fans, who have long held Howe as their darling.

Howe, as pandemonium broke out in Detroit Olympia Stadium's stands, drove home goal No. 544 Sunday night to draw even with Richard's 18-year record set with the Montreal Canadiens.

The crowd of 14,749, Detroit's largest of the year, shook the rafters with a roaring ovation that lasted five minutes. The fans showed the ice with printed programs and other throwable items.

"I'm glad I got it," Howe said, giving credit to his teammates. He added "this should help the club. They've been out there looking out for me."

Coach Tex Blake of Montreal was among those congratulating Howe. "I wish I could have played center for you," Blake said.

Howe gets his first chance for No. 545 Tuesday night when the Red Wings play the Chicago Black Hawks at Chicago.

Gordie's big one came on a power play at 11:04 of the third period. He slashed in a short shot past goalie Gump Worsley after taking a pass from the boards from Bruce MacGregor. "Then five guys hit me," Howe said.

Bill Gadsby also was in on the play. It was the 400th assist for Gadsby in his own 18 NHL years.

Howe made his 544 goals in 1,126 games. Richard made his in 978 games in 18 seasons from 1942 to 1960, when he retired. When Richard began his accumulation the NHL schedule was 50 games a season. Since then it has been 70 games.

Howe also holds the records for the most total points, 1,216, and the most assists, 673.

WINGS BEHIND
The Red Wings were trailing 5-1 when Howe got the goal. It was his second goal attempt of the game.

Montreal, with the big line of Jean Beliveau, Bernie Geoffrion and John Ferguson in top form, commanded the most of the action. The line fired in three of the six goals, Beliveau shooting 21 within 70 seconds in the second period.

In other NHL action, winning goals in the last minute of the first period sent the Chicago Black Hawks flying, 4-1, over the New York Rangers.

The Hawks now have an unbeaten string of four victories and two ties. Al McDonald and Bobby Hull scored the vital points within 37 minutes of each other, topping the Rangers' lone tally by Don Marshall from 35 feet out.

McDonald and Jack McKenzie fired insurance goals in the last period in the game that 15,616 watched in New York.

Meanwhile, a six-game streak of a different kind than the Hawks' was snapped when the Boston Bruins beat the Toronto Maple Leafs 2-0. Goalie Ed Johnston shut out the Stanley Cup champions for the Bruins' first season victory after six losses.

Forbes Kennedy and Murray Oliver scored for Boston in the home game.

TIES SCORING MARK—Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings holds the 544th goal he has fired into an opponent's net during his 18 seasons in the National Hockey League. The goal against Montreal last night tied Maurice Richard's career record. The Canadiens won, 6-4.

Ex-NFL Coach Teaching Oakland How to Score

By The Associated Press
Sid Gillman, the old professor of the American Football League, has taught his pupils well. Too well for Coach Sid Gillman.

Two of Gillman's able assistants have become head coaches in the AFL—Jack Faulkner at Denver and Al Davis at Oakland. Faulkner's Broncos have beaten San Diego three times without a loss. Gillman matched wits with Davis for the first time Sunday.

He's 0-4 against his pupils now. Cotton Davidson's nine-yard touchdown pass to Glenn Shaw, reactivated from the deferred injury list just before the game, carried the Raiders from behind to a stunning 34-33 upset of the Western Division leading Chargers.

The victory pulled the Raiders to within 1 1/2 games of the front-runners, San Diego is 5-2, Oakland 4-4.
FIRST PLACE
Houston took over the top spot in the East as George Blanda passed for three second half touchdowns in the Oilers' 28-7 triumph over Kansas City. Houston leads with a 5-3 record. Boston dropped to a tie for second at 4-4 after a 28-21 loss to Buffalo Saturday night while New York remained in contention at 3-3-1 after a 35-35 tie with Denver before a record AFL turnout in New York of 20,377. The four-game program attracted 106,133, the season's high.

In the National League, New York overwhelmed Cleveland 33-6, Green Bay wallowed Baltimore 34-20, St. Louis defeated Washington 27-21, Chicago downed Philadelphia 16-7, Pittsburgh edged Dallas 27-21, Detroit whipped Minnesota 28-10.

Michigan Tech 11 Wins Championship

By The Associated Press
Michigan Tech has grabbed the first glory in the state's small college football action.

The Huskies reign as champions of the Northern Intercollegiate Conference by virtue of their 23-14 victory over Moorhead (Minn.) State on Saturday.

In other small college games, Omaha defeated Northern Michigan 28-17, Allegheny (Pa.) edged Wayne State 22-21, Central Michigan outscored Illinois State 24-22, Ferris State took the measure of Geneva (Pa.) 8-6, Hillsdale overcame Northwood Institute 27-20, Hope rolled over Albion 21-6, and Kalamazoo steamrollered Olivet 40-14.

Western Michigan whipped Toledo 18-7 and Detroit played to a 14-14 tie with Dayton.

Junior quarterback Troy Allen and fullback George Archer were the big guns in Western Michigan's come-from-behind 18-7 Mid-American conference victory over Toledo.

Allen trying to sneak two yards for a first down early in the second half, went 21 yards for a touchdown, then passed to George Thier for the extra points in the fourth quarter, Archer cracked over from the three after setting up the score on a 32-yard gallop.

Detroit was leading 14-6 and was headed for victory with less than a minute left when Dayton tied it up on fullback Jim Overman's one-yard plunge and Gary Hussion's two-point conversion pass to Tom Tipton.

The Titans scored on Gary Wilkie's nine-yard dash in the second quarter and Fred Beier's one-yard plunge in the third period. U-D and Dayton each are 1-4-1 for the season.

SHARED HONORS

Fullback Paul Butkovich and quarterback Ralph Abata shared the honors in Michigan Tech's championship victory over Moorhead State. Butkovich scored two touchdowns on short plunges and Abata got the other Tech TD on a 10-yard run. The victory was the Huskies' fourth in five games.

Kalamazoo's homecoming victory over winless Olivet starred senior halfback Ed Lauermann. He accounted for 32 points on four touchdowns—two on runs of 10 and 9 yards each and two on passes from Jim Harkema.

The Hornets now are tied with Hope and Albion for first place in the MIAA Conference standings. Each has a 3-1 league record.

In the MIAA clash between Hope and Albion, sophomore quarterback Harlan Hyink passed for three touchdowns to hand the Brittons their first conference loss.

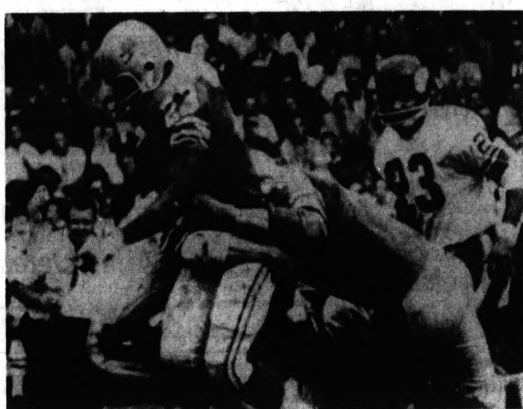

Bill Shupple's 34-yard touchdown run in the fourth period supplied the margin which brought Central Michigan its Interstate Conference victory over Illinois State.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charley Johnson pitched three touchdowns passes and the St. Louis defense handcuffed fumbling Washington Sunday as the Cardinals whipped the Redskins 21-7.

The Cardinals quarterback connected on 18 of 30 passes for 284 yards, including touchdown tosses of 28 yards and 54 yards to Sonny Randle and 14 to Bobby Joe Conrad.

He had three passes intercepted by Redskins defenders, but a stumbling Washington offense failed to cash in the scoring opportunities.

By winning, St. Louis boosted its record to 5-2 and remained in a tie with New York for second place in the National Football League's Eastern Division, one game behind Cleveland. The Giants whipped the Browns 33-6.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—If the Pittsburgh Steelers ever need advise on play calling, he'd do well to ask the opinion of end Red Mack.

Mack, a speedster from Notre Dame, called the electrifying 54-yard touchdown play in the closing minutes of the National Football League game Sunday that helped the Steelers pull out a thrilling 27-21 victory over Dallas.

With less than four minutes left in the game and Dallas leading 21-20, Brown, standing on his own eighty-yard line, threw a long pass to Mack who grabbed the ball over his shoulders on the Dallas 30 and outraced two Cowboy defenders into the end zone.

"I knew I could beat both of those boys (Mike Gaechter and Jerry Overton)," Mack said in the dressing room after the victory. "So I told Ed. He thought it would be best if I went to the outside but I knew I could to it by playing tight and going straight down the field."

"That's what I did and he hit my perfectly. It was a helluva throw, for if it had been any longer or any shorter it would have been no good."

Local Cyclists Take Laurels at Brighton

Motorcycle drivers from the Pontiac area won seven of 12 trophies yesterday at the Melva Causse Club races near Brighton.

Taking first places in the amateur classes were Bud Graham of Pontiac in the heavyweight class and Roger White of Drayton Plains in the lightweight division.

Bill Cox took a third in the amateur heavyweight class. Unwhipped in the expert lightweight on Lake's Mike Northrup was third in the expert lightweight class.

There were 51 racers from the state competing at the event which was witnessed by approximately 1,500 fans.

Tri-County Grid Race Ends in Tie

Waterford Kettering made short work of Mount Clemens L'Anse Creuse's hopes for a share of the Tri-County League football crown Saturday with a convincing 60-4 victory.

The win permitted the Captains to the Oxford for the title with a 3-1 mark. Kettering whipped Oxford, 34-0, during the campaign, but stubbed its toes last week against Lapeer.

The visitors jumped into a 13-0 first quarter lead and made it 27-0 at halftime.

Coach Jim Larkin inserted his reserves into the contest all during the final half but the deluge continued. Three third quarter touchdowns followed the intermission and two more in the last quarter produced the school grid scoring mark of 60 points.

Mel Patterson went over twice on runs of one and five yards. Reserve halfback Pat Nutter also took the ball across the final stripe twice on runs of 65 and 42 yards.

Earl Hook caught a four-yard pass from Patterson, and Jim Haviland ran four yards and brother Chuck Haviland ran 48 yards to paydirt with a pass interception.

One yard runs by Mike Shipman and Phil Ragata accounted for the other two scores. Hook kicked five points after touchdowns and Steve McCallum caught a pass from Patterson for a sixth.

Kettering is now 5-2 overall.

Harrier Teams in 'A' Finals

The regional cross country showdowns Saturday found Birmingham Seaholm edging Milford, 50-51 in the competition at Redford Union and Royal Oak Kimball qualifying with a second place at River Rouge.

The three county teams advanced to the Class A finals next weekend at Ypsilanti along with individuals Girmay Pedra of Rochester and Bob Richards of Bloomfield Hills.

Richards finished first at Redford Union with a 10:01.5 timing. Pedra is an Ethiopian exchange student who is participating in cross country for the first time in his life. He qualified for a trip to Ypsilanti by finishing sixth at Rouge Park Saturday.

Oxford just missed the Class B finals by finishing fourth at Cass-Park. The Wildcats had 138 points, four behind the last qualifier. Dick Evans finished 12th to lead the Oxford team.

WEEKEND FIGHTS
SYDNEY, N.S.—Tyronne Garvey, 193lb, Sydney River, N.S. Garvey accounted for 108 points, four behind the last qualifier. Dick Evans finished 12th to lead the Oxford team.

LAST MINUTE SCUFFLE—Fullback Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns (32-right) and New York defensive back Tim Scott (left, obscured, held down by referee) are both on the ground 32 seconds before the end of yesterday's National Football League game in Cleveland after they engaged in fistfights. Both players were ejected from the game. Other players mill around as Andy Robustelli of the Giants (81) lunges at Brown. The Giants won, 33-6.

MSU Tied Atop Big 10 Heap

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State suddenly is in a three-way contest for the Big Ten football title, thanks to Sherm Lewis, the fleet little senior halfback.

Lewis, smallest on the Spartan squad at 155 pounds, was the biggest man on the field in the scoring department against Northwestern Saturday.

The 15-7 victory over the Wildcats put Michigan State into a tie for first place in the conference standings with Illinois and Ohio State. All three now have two victories and one tie in Big Ten play.

We're not a great team but we do have tremendous desire, said coach Duffy Daugherty after the game.

Lewis put Michigan State back in the game after MSU was trailing Northwestern 7-0. He caught a 29-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Steve Juday and then escaped on an 87-yard scoring run—the longest touchdown run from scrimmage by any MSU player, in a Big Ten game.

Lewis also thrilled the spectators at Evanston, Ill., with an 84-yard punt return.

Lewis was awarded the game ball for his starring performance.

Tiny Texan
Thunderbird

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Sandra Haynie, a tiny Texan with a cool swing, won the Thunderbird Open Golf Tournament title and $1,350 Sunday.

The 20-year-old Fort Worth stylist led all the way and sewed up the title with a one-under-par 71 for a 72-hole total of 285.

It was her first win on the tour since June 1956 when she took the Cosmopolitan Open in Rockton, Ill.

Defending champion Kathy Whitworth of Jal, N.M., was four strokes back in second place for $1,070. She fired a final round 70.

Shirley Englehorn of Caldwell, Idaho, and Mickey Wright of Dallas, Tex., tied for third with a 291. Miss Englehorn started Sunday's play only two strokes off the pace, but slipped to a 74.

Miss Wright recorded a 71. Clifford Ann Creed of Alexandria, La., had the best round Sunday as she fired a record-setting 68. Miss Haynie had set the standard in opening round play.

Miss Creed's 296 total put her in sixth place, just behind Carol Mann of Atlanta, Ga., who finished with a 295.

Birmingham Golfer 5th in 'Bing' Tournament

Lewis Miller of Birmingham, competing in the "Beat Bing" golf tournament at Tucson, Arizona yesterday, finished 5th in his class with a 36 hole score of 78-75-154. Miller was one of 27 golfers selected nationally for the tournament, with the winners slated to compete in the Crosby Invitational later this season.

Cotton, Hank
Fight TuesdayMichigan's Version of Title on Line

By The Associated Press

Veteran light heavyweights Eddie Cotton of Seattle and Henry Hank of Detroit battle for a synthetic title Tuesday that could earn the winner a shot at world champion Willie Pastrano.

The two contenders clash at Flint, Mich., in a 15-rounder that will be recognized by Michigan as a world light heavyweight title fight. Michigan stands virtually alone on this. Even the contestants don't take it too seriously. But both hope it will force Pastrano into a title defense against the victor.

The World Boxing Association recognizes Pastrano as champion, Cotton as the No. 1 contender and Hank as No. 6.

Michigan got mad when Hank was forced by injuries to bow out of a title fight with then champion Harold Johnson. Pastrano was quickly subdued to fill a television commitment and surprised by dethroning Johnson. Michigan insists that Hank should have not been passed over.

Cotton, 36, has a 47-14-1 record, including 21 knockouts. Hank, 32, has a 54-17-3 record, including 18 knockouts.

County GOP Chief May Stay On

By JIM DYBERT

As some Republicans predicted the would, Oakland County GOP Chairman Charles L. Lyle is changing his mind about resigning before the end of the year.

"It's possible I may revise my thinking and stay on through 1964," Lyle said yesterday. "Some things have happened to change the situation."

However, he said he definitely would not be a candidate for re-election to the top party post after the 1964 elections.

A new state law has changed the time for a party's picking its county chairman from just after the August primary to within a month after the general election.

Last April, Lyle gave personal and business reasons for his intention to step down.

Now he says his "business situation is pretty well ironed out." He is a sales representative for the Electroly Co. of Bridgeport, Conn., with an office in Birmingham.

MORE VOLUNTEERS
Lyle also cited changes for the better in the GOP organization. "Because of the large influx of new and willing volunteers, the job of chairman may not require so much time."

He said he planned to make a definite decision on staying or resigning within the next six to eight weeks.

County GOP chairman since Arthur G. Elliott left in 1961, Lyle attributed the upsurge in volunteers and citizen interest in the GOP to Gov. George Romney's "immense popularity" and the encouragement he gave Republicanism.

Ginny Moves East in Ocean

Away From Coast, but Still Dangerous

CAPE HATTERAS, N. C. (UPI)—Hurricane Ginny completed its frightening circle around the South Atlantic and moved eastward across the open sea today, still a "dangerous hurricane" but well out of reach of land areas.

And Helena, the season's eighth tropical storm which sprang up in the Caribbean during the weekend and showed signs of growing to hurricane proportions, degenerated into little more than squalls.

Ginny still packed the 95-mile-an-hour winds which kept residents of the eastern seaboard edgy all last week and forced removal of about 4,000 persons from the Carolinas' coastline during the weekend.

But its remote position made it a threat only to shipping.

FORWARD BERMUDA
It passed yesterday near the spot off the North Carolina coast where it was born eight days ago and headed in the direction of Bermuda.

The storm was last reported about 50 miles west of Bermuda on a line between the British island and Charleston, S. C. It was moving eastward at 12 m.p.h.

Helena was located about 60 miles east-northeast of Antigua in the Leeward Islands. Its highest winds were 40 m.p.h.

The storm, described by the weather bureau as "diffuse and poorly defined with no strong winds near the center," was moving to the northeast at about 7 m.p.h.

ERRATIC SWING

Ginny's erratic swing along the coasts of Florida, Georgia and the Carolinas sent gale winds and high tides crashing into shore in some areas, but damage was minor.

Coast Guard ships and planes are searching for a possible victim of the storm. The tug McIlwain had been missing for eight days with a crew of four persons aboard.

Stop Corn Pain Fast!

Also known as corns, calluses, blisters, and other painful conditions of the feet.

Dr. Scholl's Zino pads publicans by winning the governorship after 14 years of Democratic control.

Lyle survived an ouster move last year when accused of too-independent action by some GOP members.

He was re-elected by the county GOP executive committee, which consists of the party's state legislative and county office nominees, along with members appointed one each by the nominees.

A new law has changed this procedure slightly for next year, providing that executive committee members formerly appointed by the nominees will be elected by precinct delegates to give the rank and file a voice in the selection of party officers.

Sicilian Chapel Fire Damages Art Works

PALERMO, Sicily (AP)—Fire broke out Sunday in a wing of the Norman Palace, seat of Sicily's regional parliament, and damaged one of the most famous chapels in Italy.

The blaze, attributed to a short circuit, destroyed paintings and damaged mosaics in the Palatine Chapel, built in 1132. The palace dates from the medieval conquest of Sicily by the Normans.

The daily high temperature in Saigon, capital of South Viet Nam, averages from 87 to 95 degrees the year round.

Oh! Those Labels

LONDON (UPI)—The Mid-dlesex County Council said its three-year study of food labeling and advertising turned up a "Boston cream pie" cake mix from America which was not a pie, contained no cream and did not come from Boston.

Actress Starts Painting Career

By BOB THOMAS
 AP Movie-Television Writer
 HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Another first for the art world — Mae Clarke is having a one-woman show in her unemployment insurance office.
 You remember Mae. Anyway, you remember the grapefruit. Jimmy Cagney pushed in her face in "Public Enemy." It set a whole new style in male-female etiquette and did wonders for the citrus industry.
 Mae is also noted as the girl who almost got the guy in the original "Frankenstein."

are near the North Hollywood office of the state unemployment insurance department, you might drop in and see her show — well, two canvases, anyway.
 How did she happen to choose the unique gallery?

BETWEEN JOBS
 "Well, I took up painting a year ago just to see if I could do it," she explained. "It was something to do between acting jobs, and I got interested. People began telling me my work was good, and I wanted some exposure. No sense in hiding my talent in my apartment wall."
 "The ideal thing would be to have an exhibit at Raymond Burr's gallery, but he only has Picasso and people like that. Or I'd have a big party and let Vincent Price introduce me. I can't afford it."

Such accomplishments may now fade in the glow of Mae's latest career as an artist. If you

It was the dapper Menjou who attracted attention to the practice by arriving at the site office in his chauffeur'd Rolls Royce, standing in line for his check, then driving back to his Beverly Hills mansion.

"The fact that we can get checks shows that we have been working," Mae remarked. Under California law, unemployment insurance funds are deducted from work checks.

Troops Rotate From Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — The United States shipped home 1,500 combat troops on return flights of Operation Big Lift planes but kept the movement secret to avoid arousing European concern, it was learned today.

Big Lift, which brought more than 15,000 combat troops from bases in Texas to Germany for maneuvers, caused fears here that the number of U.S. troops permanently stationed in Europe would be cut.

The 1,500-man battle group was being returned to the United States in a normal rotation move and its withdrawal had nothing to do with reducing strength of six U.S. divisions here.

But Washington officials, currently seeking to counteract suspicion in Europe that U.S. combat power here may be reduced, were reported to have feared the rotation move would be misunderstood.

Strenuous efforts were made to divert attention from the Kansas office's return after six months' temporary duty and no announcement was allowed.

West German cattle now are 99.9 per cent free of tuberculosis because of an eradication program started in 1952 when 40 per cent of the cattle were affected.

GOP Slate
Seen in Dixie

HOUSTON (UPI) — Rep. William E. Miller, Republican national chairman, predicted last night that the GOP soon would have candidates in every congressional election in the South.

The New York congressman said "We may elect the governor in Kentucky and Mississippi — What do you think of that?"

Miller told the Texas Federation of Republican Women's Clubs the GOP never has been stronger "from the grassroots up" than it is today.

"It will not be long before the Republicans will contest every congressional race in the South," Miller said.

Miller said the GOP has "more issues than we know what to do with" for the 1964 campaign.

He charged the administration "has flopped in Cuba three times." He said there were foreign policy failures in Viet Nam, Pakistan, India, France, the Philippines and "we have lost eight countries in South America."

Miller said the GOP has "more issues than we know what to do with" for the 1964 campaign.

He charged the administration "has flopped in Cuba three times." He said there were foreign policy failures in Viet Nam, Pakistan, India, France, the Philippines and "we have lost eight countries in South America."

Man in Space

Astronauts Get More Control

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.
CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — On future U.S. manned flights into space, astronauts are going to have more control over their own destinies.

This intent has placed another heavy burden on the shoulders of engineers. Theirs is the task of now determining where human capabilities leave off and superhuman demands begin.

And still paramount is the utmost demand for safety that characterized the Mercury man-in-space program and the "follow-on" projects Gemini and man-to-the-moon Apollo.

Striking a happy medium between the roles of man and machines on space flights is not proving easy.

THE BEST BETS
U.S. Astronaut Frank Borman, considered one of the best bets for an early flight aboard the two-man Gemini spacecraft, offers a general rule-of-thumb for deciding what man can do and what cannot be permitted to attend to on hazardous space journeys:

"The pilot will have to be able to prove that he offers some unique capability that will help to insure mission success."

In other words, the astronaut is not to be given a task simply in order that he will have something to do. He first has to prove that, in some way, he offers an advantage over the machine.

Project Mercury, which sent missions of varying lengths, was an acid test. "As a result of the Mercury experience," said Borman, "the pilot in both the Gemini and Apollo missions will have a more demanding role."

Borman cited a vivid example — the decision to let astronauts monitor the blast-off and powered flight and, if necessary, select a means of "aborting" a Gemini shot in an emergency.

In Project Mercury, most of this delicate task was handled from the ground.

Giving astronauts more say in the matter, said Borman, was based on one simple fact: "The pilot provided the most reliable, lightest method of selecting and initiating the proper one of Gemini's three different abort modes (methods)."

On the other hand, there have been suggestions that human pilots pre-empt automatic guidance systems and actually fly the entire rocket and space capsule into orbit. The idea was nixed, at least for Gemini.

Again, there was a simple engineering answer, said Borman. "In the Gemini, it was considered simpler and more reliable to mechanize auto-pilot guidance for the restrictive 'down the groove' type guidance problem encountered."

MORE COMPLEX
The young astronaut cited the Apollo manned lunar landing mission as an example of a still more complex relationship between man and machine, especially in the area of "aborting" the flight in case something goes wrong.

"In examining the Apollo abort problems," Borman said, "we found that there were certain malfunctions which required superhuman reaction times to permit safe abort. The reaction times actually vary with the time of flight."

The answer in this case was to leave the decision to the pilot's own judgment — whether to trust his own reactions to the tricky task, or to turn them over to an automatic system.

Equipment is being built into the Apollo space capsule for both contingencies.

NO OBJECTION
Borman, for one, has no objection to leaving the blast-off and re-entry jobs in the hands of computers, guidance systems and other machines.

The pilots will have plenty of time to prove their own unique value and importance along the rest of the space trip.

"Too often," he said, "undue emphasis is placed on the pilot's role during boost and re-entry. These phases of flight are transition phases for a true spacecraft."

"We could hardly justify placing a crew aboard if their sole mission was to accomplish the transition phase successfully."

What this means, in general, is that astronauts are working toward more and more control over flights into space — but that it probably will be a long time yet before they match their aircraft brethren in flying their ships every minute, from take-off to landing.

Red Blows Top
Over Surplus

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—In Cuba today, there are many bottle caps—but few bottles.

Havana radio reports that the industries minister, Ernesto Guevara, complained loudly about this at a meeting Saturday.

Four months, Guevara said, one plant has been busy turning out caps for bottles that no longer were in production. As a result, there are far more caps than there are bottles.

Things like this happen, he said, because there is much talk and not much work around Communist Cuba these days.

'Problems' Separate
Carolyn Jones, Spouse

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Carolyn Jones and her husband, producer Aaron Spelling, say they have separated "to work out some problems."

Miss Jones, 30, and Spelling, 37, have been married 10 years. They have no children.

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

ANTI-SEMITISM: Sen. Jacob K. Javits has called for a "great wave of indignation" around the world to protest the Soviet Union's "anti-Jewish persecution."

"The Kremlin must not be permitted to believe that the world will take at face value its claim of having prohibited anti-Semitism by law," the New York Republican said Sunday night at the annual convention of Hadassah, a Jewish women's organization.

MILITARY HOUSING: The Civil Rights Commission has charged the Pentagon with failing to provide the leadership necessary to "meet the challenge of equal opportunity in housing for all military personnel."

"The services are without any policy or guidance from the Department of Defense and generally have been no corrective action," the commission said in a staff study released Saturday.

Negro servicemen are forced to choose between living under squalid conditions near their bases or enduring family separations, the commission said.

SECOND FIRST: The Democratic convention next year may switch things around by selecting the vice-presidential nominee first.

In making this known Sunday night, Sam Brightman, public relations chief of the Democratic National Committee, said the decision isn't final.

Brightman had no doubt, however, that whatever the selection procedure the result would be re-nomination of President Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

"In 1968, when we will have some competition again, we probably will go back to the other schedule," he said.

OVERSEAS OUTPUT: U.S. controlled manufacturing firms abroad produced a record $28 billion worth of goods in 1962.

U.N. Finds Out in Hurry

What Ails the Small Powers

By DONALD JOHNSTON
United Press International

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The current session of the General Assembly has underlined the fact that many of the world's problems are not of the Cold War variety.

While the big powers of the East and West have skirted such explosive issues as Berlin, Laos and Cuba, the smaller countries have been trading charges in their lesser disputes.

A year ago virtually attention was focused on the Cuban crisis. This year the central themes are disarmament, decolonization and development, with plenty of time and opportunities to warm over old quarrels about border lines and national sovereignty.

These disputes have been sprinkled liberally throughout the major policy speeches since the Assembly opened Sept. 17.

TERRITORIAL DISPUTE

Just last Friday Bolivian President Victor Paz Estenssoro referred in his speech to the Assembly to a territorial dispute with Chile.

Though there traditionally is no right of reply after a head of government speaks here, a Chilean delegate felt compelled to rise and say his government would put its response in writing for all delegations to see.

The fighting between Algeria and Morocco has received much attention here, even though the issue has not been put formally before any U. N. body. Representatives of both sides have consulted with Secretary General Thant, have held news conferences, and have explained their positions privately to other delegates.

Morocco also is sustaining its perennial quarrel with Mauritania, whose territory the Moroccan government long has claimed.

APARTHEID DEBATED

South Africa's apartheid policy of racial separation is not a Cold War item, but it has occupied the delegates of Africa and Asia more than any other issue. The 56-member Afro-Asian group even has threatened to try to force South Africa out of the world organization.

The Africans have been building up steam against Portugal to obtain independence for the Portuguese territories in Africa.

A side feud has developed between Portugal and the Congo (Leopoldville). The Congolese government, which has given refuge to Angolan nationalists, has accused the Portuguese government of trying to block its major outlet to the sea.

Britain, which is willing to decolonize its remaining terriories, but only when they are well-prepared for self-government, has been the target of frequent attacks from many sides.

The Rhodesians want their freedom, and Spain wants Gibraltar. Venezuela claims part of British Guiana, and Irish Prime Minister Sean Lemass told the assembly Ireland hoped Britain would be agreeable to ending the partition that has kept Northern Ireland under British rule for years.

British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, who addressed the assembly as foreign secretary on Oct. 1, expressed consternation at the course some of the quarrels have taken.

He pointed out that Kenya's march to independence from Britain has been accompanied by a rupture of Britain's relations with Somalia because of a territorial dispute involving Kenya.

In another instance, the British leader said the proclamation of Malaysia recognized by the U. N. secretary general as being the will of the Malaysian people led to attacks on Britain and Malaysia by Indonesia. The Philippines also has opposed formation of Malaysia because it claims a territory included in the new federation.

Work to Free Miners

From Our News Wires
Miners in Germany and South Africa waited today while rescuers worked to free them from their underground prisons.

In Feine, Germany, three brave men played cards in an air pocket beneath the earth while rescuers worked to free them from the flooded iron mine where they have been trapped four days.

The three miners reported jubilantly last night that rising flood waters, which earlier threatened them with slow death, were receding.

In a gold mine in Carleton,

South Africa, rescue teams were lowered down a badly damaged shaft today in an effort to reach 20 men who were trapped inside an elevator.

CABLE SNAPPED

The elevator was one of two which plunged deep into the shaft after a cable snapped.

Fifty-four miners — four white and 50 Africans — were rescued shortly after noon from the upper cage which had stopped at the 1,000-foot level. There were no casualties in the group.

The lower cage stopped at the 5,000-foot level.

It was not known if any miners in the lower cage survived the accident.

DELICATE JOB

Meanwhile, rescuers in Germany faced a ticklish job trying to sink a shaft through which a rescue capsule can be lowered to the trapped trio. Engineers said the boring could break the air pocket and release the air pressure, engulfing the three men in the water which fills the rest of the mine.

Drilling was proceeding carefully through shields to prevent a loss of pressure. Two separate two-foot escape shafts were being drilled, but it appeared doubtful that either one would reach the miners before Wednesday.

The three — Emil Pohlat, 34, Fritz Leder, 36, and Gerhard Hamsch, 45 — were among 129 miners in the shaft Thursday night when 19 million gallons of sludge from an ore-washing process at the surface, spilled into Mathilde mine.

All three are married men and fathers.

OTHERS DEAD

At least 39 men are known dead and 40th, Karl Eull, is believed dead. Seven others were brought safely to the surface Friday night after being trapped in another air pocket.

Rescue workers in a sugar beet field on the surface first learned the three men were alive yesterday when their faint knocking was heard.

An oil-well rig bored the 362 feet into the narrow air pocket, three yards wide and 100 yards long. A microphone was lowered to catch the miners' first words:

"We're getting along fine. Don't worry about us."

The men reported they were passing the time by playing a children's card game called "Black Peter" and a dice game called "Man, Don't Get Mad."

A mine official said only high air pressure inside the slanting tunnel off the mine's 270-foot level saved the men from being engulfed when a sedimentation basin at the surface collapsed Thursday night.

WRENCHED FREE

Robinson wrenched free and hopped into a government limousine which had just pulled opposite him. It carried him and another Western newsmen to safety.

Inside were a high government official and a woman, Robinson said. They were "crying in sympathy with the monk," he said. The official was not identified.

The seven U.N. investigators met yesterday with pro-government Buddhists at a pagoda about the time the monk made his sacrifice. They conferred with the aging patriarch of the Vietnamese Buddhists and Dieu Hue, mother of Dr. Bau Ho, South Viet Nam's observer at the United Nations.

Latin Chief Due in U.S.

CLICKS WITH PICKS — Mrs. William F. Nesbitt of 128 Whittemore is shown receiving The Press Football Contest award of a $500 U.S. Savings Bond from Howard Heldenbrand

of the editorial department. In her first contest effort, the winner weathered six games and the competition of several thousand to gain her victory.

Football for Femmes

Woman Wins Press Contest

The women are back — back in control of The Press Annual Football Contest, in case you're wondering.

After standing on the sidelines a year ago as two males — one 14 years old, the other nine months — tied and split the award, the distaff division this year resumed business at the old stand.

Mrs. William F. Nesbitt, of 128 Whittemore carried the pennant for her sex and emerged the winner after correctly calling the outcome of six games and eliminating several thousand contestants.

MAIDEN VENTURE

Although it was Mrs. Nesbitt's maiden venture into the yearly event, she had absorbed a lot of football savvy as two sons won gridiron prominence.

The 45-year-old mother of four, however, gives an assist to "Football Facts," the collection of platoon data disseminated by General Motors' Truck and Coach Division.

With this statistical prompting and the application of a considerable amount of women's intuition, the winner made the choices in the 15-game contest schedule that brought her the $500 U.S. Saving Bond award.

What plans has the Pontiac prophetess for her windfall?

FEMININE CAGINESS

Well, with typical feminine caginess, she gave out little enlightenment. But with a family of six and a wedding imminent for one of its members, it was indicated that the fruits of victory would not go unutilized.

One thing, however, is reasonably certain — that the lady will immediately blow herself to a new hat.

Rusk Pledges 6 Divisions Will Stay in W. Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk, seeking to still West German fears that last week's massive troop airlift foreshadows a military manpower cut, has pledged the United States will keep six divisions in Germany as long as necessary.

Rusk also joined yesterday with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard in an appeal for a stronger Atlantic alliance. Both cautioned against any loosening of ties with the United States.

Rusk and the new West German government leader spoke at the dedication of a memorial honoring the late Gen. George C. Marshall, who as secretary of state gave his name to the economic blueprint known as the Marshall Plan for the recovery of postwar Europe.

Both speakers appeared to be aiming their remarks at President Charles de Gaulle of France, who has warned that one day the United States may decide to withdraw its forces from Europe. He has

Police Try to Link Cases in Abduction

LANSING (AP)—FBI agents today sought to link the Friday abduction and criminal assault of Michelle Moran, 5, with the September kidnap-murder of two Minneapolis girls.

Local police meanwhile were methodically checking out a deluge of tips which, together with names of sex offenders drawn from card files, involve 100 to 150 men.

A federal agent brought an artist's conception of the man wanted in the Minneapolis case to the Lansing police detective bureau and said the sketch will be shown to Michelle and her brother, Frank, who saw his sister taken from the family car by a young, slender, bespectacled stranger.

The bodies of the Minneapolis girls were found Oct. 1 at Plymouth, Minn. They disappeared from their neighborhood Sept. 7.

NO CLUES

City detective bureau chief Elwyn Grook said there were no solid leads in the hunt for the man who took the East Lansing kindergarten from a shopping center parking lot and abandoned her in a ditch beside M78 in northeast East Lansing.

Michelle remained in Sparrow Hospital under observation today.

Russian Pullout Can't Slow U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's full speed ahead for the U.S. program to land a man on the moon in this decade.

That's the way American space officials greeted yesterday the news from Moscow that Soviet Premier Khrushchev apparently has pulled his country out of any moon race.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, chairman of the Senate Space Committee, agreed. "First of all, I do not believe we should develop our space programs on the basis of the press statements of Mr. Khrushchev," the New Mexico Democrat told The Associated Press.

However, there were signs elsewhere that the Soviet leader's move may provide ammunition for American critics of heavy space spending.

In an interview Saturday night in Moscow, Khrushchev declared: "At present, we are not planning manned moon flights. I have read a report to the effect that the Americans want to land a man on the moon by 1970."

Well, I wish them success. And we shall watch how they fly there, how they come to earth, or rather come to moon, and this is the main thing, how they take off and return home."

The reaction in Washington was varied.

James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said Khrushchev's statement "could have the effect of strengthening this country's desire to go ahead with the moon program."

INDEPENDENT ACTION

Dr. George E. Mueller, director of NASA's manned spaceflight programs, said the American moon effort should continue independent of any action the Soviet Union might take.

Edward C. Welsh, executive secretary of the National Aeronautics and Space Council, said the Russians "have sensed some slackening of support for the moon program here and have made a strategic move to capitalize on this situation." The council

Flint Meeting Ends Over Tiff With Police

FLINT (AP)—Leaders of the Black Muslims suddenly called off an assembly yesterday after they protested the presence of armed, plainclothed policemen.

Some 2,500 persons in the audience marched quietly out of the IMA auditorium at a signal from Elijah Muhammad, reputed head of the Negro cult.

"If they want to come in with guns, we'll all go out," Malcolm X, reputed No. 2 man of the Black Muslims, told the predominantly Negro audience.

Three Flint police detectives had objected to orders of Muslim officials to surrender their guns or stay out of the auditorium.

WOMEN LEAVE

The audience, including several women members of the sect wearing white robes, filed out of the building after discussions between Muslim leaders and city officials.

Glenn Sommers, Flint detective captain, said he told Muhammad he was aware that the Black Muslim religion was against carrying arms, but he still was required to attend the meeting and required to carry a gun.

Home Crises Turn Soviets

Space Race Dropped to Save on Spending

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union, now officially out of the race to the moon, turned today to the domestic problems that may have prompted its decision.

Western observers believed the decision may have followed recognition that the money earmarked for space was more urgently needed on earth to solve industrial and agricultural problems and to provide a better standard of living.

Communist union spokesmen for 68 million workers met here today to discuss better working conditions, including a proposal to cut the work week for most employees from 41 to 36 hours.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev made news on a number of fronts Saturday during an interview in which he announced the Soviet space withdrawal.

MAJOR POINTS

His major points included: — American wheat: Khrushchev balked at agreeing to ship the $250 million worth of American wheat he seeks to buy on U.S. ships, which would cost the Russians as much as $12 a ton more than the world average.

"If the Americans attach any discriminatory terms to the sale of wheat we shall not buy wheat in America," he said.

— The Soviet economy: Khrushchev said that on the whole it was going "very well," but bad weather caused grain output failures and made foreign grain purchases necessary.

He said the nation's chemical industry, which will be the subject of a Central Committee meeting next month, needs an investment of $22 billion in the next seven years to make more fertilizer for the farms and more plastics for industry and the consumer.

Summer's Gone! Really! Cooler Weather Due

The hatchet has fallen on Indian summer. It split the weekend into seasons with a high Saturday of 81 and a high yesterday of 68. Today it will reach 60.

Now that Nature's gotten through with a flighty autumn, you can expect cooler temperatures. During the next five days, they will average three or four degrees above the normal high of 55 and low of 38.

Generally cool weather is predicted except for a slight moderation on Thursday and Friday. Little or no precipitation is expected.

In spite of threatened frost, the sun smiled and showed the temperature up to 60 by 1 p.m. Low before 8 a.m. was 46.

U.N. Team in Viet Nam Discards Diem Itinerary

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The U. N. mission to South Viet Nam discarded its restricted government itinerary today in an attempt to counter the Diem regime's efforts to keep opposition Buddhists from the fact-finders.

The U.N. team announced it would decide for itself who it will see in its investigation of Buddhist charges of government persecution.

JFK to Get Decision on Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy gets the answer today to his request for bipartisan agreement on a civil rights bill.

The House Judiciary Committee is to vote tomorrow on a bill Kennedy fears is too controversial to pass. Whether it can be blessed depends on the success of an intensive selling campaign by the administration.

Since Thursday, when Kennedy won a postponement of the crucial committee vote, the Justice Department has been negotiating with House Republican leaders to see how strong a bill they will accept.

A busy round of weekend meetings with Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, ranking Republican on the judiciary committee, who kept in close touch by telephone with Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, led to cautious hopes an agreement might be possible.

WILL MEET

Democratic leaders were to meet with Kennedy late today to find out what the GOP position is and decide whether they can join in it.

The bill to which Kennedy objects is a 10-part omnibus measure a Judiciary subcommittee superimposed on the administration's original seven-part package.

Gas Firm Sets Alternate Lines

Consumers Power Co. will spend some $7,500 in alternate gas line installations to keep a portion of the central business district warm this winter.

The alternate lines were necessitated by the delay in construction on the Clinton River Drain project.

Consumers has already invested an estimated $225,000 in relocating gas facilities in the downtown area due to urban renewal and perimeter road construction.

"We had planned to feed a revamped gas system in the central business district through a line to be installed in the proposed river culvert under the perimeter road north of East Huron," said M. S. Blackman, assistant district manager.

"Now that the permanent culvert isn't going to be built before winter, we are taking an alternate route."

The originally planned feeder line in the culvert was estimated to cost about $4,000. It connects the central business district distribution system with a new $20,000 regulator station at Howard and Stockwell.

The alternate lines on East Huron, Mill and Mount Clemens will cost about $11,565.

"When the permanent culvert is built, we'll complete the line originally planned, but we still intend to make some use of the alternate lines so they won't be entirely temporary," Blackman noted.

Pal Claims Miss Keeler Won't Pay

LONDON (AP) — A codefendant's claim that Christine Keeler reneged on paying money she promised him for his court testimony was heard today as the playgirl's hearing on charges of perjury and conspiracy to obstruct justice resumed after a three-week adjournment.

The court heard a complaint attributed to Rudolph Fenton, 39, a West Indian, that Miss Keeler refused to pay him a promised $2,000 to support him in the story that she had been with last April by her ex-lover Jamaican jazz singer Aloysius Gordon.

LARGE PROFITS

The court was told Miss Keeler was reaping large profits by selling her story to the newspapers.

The case against Miss Keeler is based on police charges that she framed charges against Gordon which resulted in his being sent to jail on accusations of beating her up. Gordon's conviction was later reversed. Police investigated further and arrested Miss Keeler and three others on charges that might mean 28 years in prison.

Miss Keeler became a world news figure when War Minister John D. Profumo resigned in June after admitting to Parliament that he had lied about his associations with her. The incident nearly caused the British government to fall.

Police said a mistake had been made on the arrest card of Fred C. Frye, 34, and his last known address was 77 Lehigh.

PEACE MEETING—Parents of Oakland University students get a sample of lecturing at the university's first "Parents' Day" Saturday. They're listening to assistant professor of history Robert Howes lecture on communism. Some 200 parents attended the event, which opened with an address by Chancellor D. B. Varner. "Parents' Day" was sponsored by the Friends of Oakland Committee, which is composed mostly of students' parents seeking to fulfill some of the functions of an alumni organization. The school is too young to have such a group.

Texas' Connally, Ex-Senator, Is Dead at Age 86

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Sen. Tom Connally, D-Tex., died at his home here today of pneumonia. He was 86.

Connally died shortly after midnight.

Connally, a former chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, had lived in Washington since his retirement from the Senate in 1952.

The Texas was chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee during and after World War II.

Father, 7 Children Die

GALLUP, N.M. (UPI) — A migrant farm worker and seven of his 10 children were killed yesterday in a head-on collision of a car and truck on U.S. Highway 666 about 36 miles north of Gallup, N.M. Five others were injured.

State police identified the victims as Luz B. Garza, 37, whose last permanent address was Route 1, Nysa, Ore., the driver of the car, and the seven Garza children — Noelia, 16; Odella, 13; Irma, 11; Viviano, 8; Lupe, 5; Mercedes, 4; and Rodelito, 1.

The mother, Marie Garza, 40, the truckdriver, William Delbert Wakefield, 48, of Altice, N.M.; and three other Garza children were injured. All were expected to survive.

State police said the family was on its way to Alamogordo, N.M., from the Idaho potato harvest. They planned to visit Mrs. Garza's relatives at Alamogordo.

President Kennedy in 1961 set as a national goal the landing of a man on the moon in this decade, hopefully before the Soviets do. The cost has been estimated at $20 billion or more.

Getting Congress to see things his way has not been easy.

The administration asked $5.7 billion for NASA this fiscal year, most of the money to go into the manned spaceflight program. Congress authorized $5.35 billion.

TIME HAS COME

Now that the time has come to appropriate funds, the House has voted $5.1 billion—a figure NASA officials say is too low.

The Senate Appropriations Committee has yet to be heard from.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he expected congressional advocates of reduced spending to step up their arguments on the basis of Khrushchev's remarks.

He added that the space committees of both chambers should re-examine the whole U.S. program in the light of the Soviet position.

But Anderson, who heads the Senate committee, said: "Our moon program is valid even if we never go there. Our astronauts will put in 2,000 hours of flying time in earth orbits which will have both scientific and military values. Hence, I believe we will pay little attention to Mr. Khrushchev's statement."

A similar view was taken by Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif., chairman of the House Space Committee.

Wrong Co-Ed Named Queen

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — No one, but there wasn't much we could do about it," Vivian said.

"Right there, I just told myself to let things go which had been announced."

"It just wouldn't have looked very graceful for them to take the crown off Julie and give it to me," the shapely Erlanger girl added.

But, graceful or not, that's just what those in charge of the ceremonies did — without announcing to the crowd what was going on.

'REAL CLOD'

"I felt like a real clod," Miss Shively said. "Someone had taken the crown off Julie and placed it on my head before we ever got to the sidelines," she said.

Miss Shively said the tears she shed were not for herself but for Julie, "who was in a much more embarrassing situation."

Lost Children Found Asleep

A 13-hour search for two West Bloomfield Township children ended happily this morning when they were found in a playhouse a few blocks from their home.

Twenty officers from five police departments took part in the search for the children of Mr. and Mrs. William McInally — Marilyn, 3, and Donald, 10 — of 2478 Ivanhoe.

The youngsters were reported missing about 1 p.m. yesterday.

Trooper William Stark of the Pontiac State Police found the pair at 2:30 a.m., sleeping under a mattress in a doll house.

State Police Cpl. Maitland London supervised the search. Police from the sheriff's, West Bloomfield, Sylvan Lake and Orchard Lake departments assisted.

Morocco Near Algeria Town

Peace Meeting Set in Mali Tomorrow

MARRAKECH, Morocco (AP) — The Moroccan government announced today that its troops are seven miles from the iron ore center of Tindouf in the Algerian-controlled Sahara.

The announcement by Information Minister Abdel Hadi Boutaleb indicated the Moroccan troops have penetrated deep into the territory contested by the two countries. According to most international maps, Tindouf is some 60 miles inside the Algerian Sahara.

Morocco's King Hassan II and Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella are scheduled to meet Tuesday in Bamako in an effort to settle the border dispute.

The leaders of the warring North African neighbors will be joined in the Mali capital by Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and President Modibo Keita of Mali in the four-power conference to seek an end to the fighting. The attitudes of both sides, however, left little hope for a quick settlement.

DEMANDS OF EACH

Ben Bella was expected to demand unconditional withdrawal of the Moroccans from the disputed frontier. Moroccan officials said there would be no yielding of land the kingdom considers part of its national heritage.

Moroccan infantry units on Sunday chased the remnants of three Algerian battalions from Hassi Beida, a muddy water hole clustered by palm trees north of the ore-rich Tindouf Valley. Two American television teams at the front confirmed the Moroccan victory.

Moroccan headquarters said 60 Algerians were killed and 70 captured.

The Moroccans claimed they captured 96 weapons, mostly of Soviet and Czech origin.

Birmingham Area News Commission, Troy Eying 1st Step in Laying Border

BIRMINGHAM — The city commissions of Birmingham and Troy are expected to lay the groundwork tonight for the possible realignment of their mutual border.

At stake are approximately 10 acres of property in the extreme southwest corner of Troy.

The managers of both cities are to be directed tonight to estimate the net worth of the property.

'NOT ECONOMICAL'

Troy officials maintain that it is not economical for them to provide city services to the property. The cost of such services also would be prohibitive to any prospective developer of the property, they claim Birmingham can provide the services much more economically.

Transfer of the property was discussed at a joint meeting of the two commissions last week.

They met to determine future policy in the wake of a decision by the Birmingham Commission last week to furnish city services to a similar parcel.

Birmingham has held to the line that it will not furnish city services to property outside the city limit.

The commission a week ago agreed to supply water, sewer, fire, police and general municipal services for a piece of property which Michigan Building Components, Inc., plans to develop.

The 3 1/2 acres are at the east end of Cole, mostly in urged the creation of an independent Europe acting as a third force in world politics.

Rusk arrived in Germany at the end of last week to Exercise Big Lift in which an entire armored division was flown here from Texas in less than three days. Speculation has arisen that successful completion of the operation means that the United States is preparing to reduce its troop strength here.

"We have six division in Germany," Rusk said.

NO DOUBT

"We intend to maintain these divisions here as long as there is need for them—and under present circumstances there is no doubt that they will continue to be needed."

Rusk also diplomatically told the Europeans he didn't think they were living up to their military commitments to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"It is a source of pride that the United States has generally met or exceeded its goals, and a source of regret that certain others in the alliance have not," he said.

Erhard, who recently succeeded Konrad Adenauer as chancellor, indicated he agreed with U.S. position and called on his counterparts and Europeans generally to remember the debt they owe to the United States.

SIMILAR HELP

"Just as the Marshall Plan and the United States helped us Europeans, so we today must do more to give similar help to the developing nations," he said.

Rusk also said the most effective way of meeting any Soviet threat was a NATO nuclear force.

The plan was first put forth by President Kennedy in a meeting with former British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at Nassau in the Bahamas last December. It calls for a fleet of surface ships, manned by crews of mixed nationality and equipped with U.S. missiles.

Britain has been cool to the plan and France has rejected it. De Gaulle wants his own nuclear striking force.

RUSSIAN CRITICISM

While Rusk's speech pleased West German officials, it drew expected criticism from the Soviet Union. The speech, said Tass, the official Soviet news agency, "contradicted greatly the spirit of the beginning relaxation of international tension."

United Church Women Join in World Community Day

Pontiac area women are welcome to participate in the nationwide World Community Day Friday, Nov. 1, by attending the special program at the Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian.

Mrs. Major Ernest Alder will be the main speaker, talking about experiences at the United Nations and her visit to the Holy Land last March.

Others participating in the service are Mrs. Harry Patton, Mrs. Fred Cottle, Mrs. James Fleming, and Mrs. Edward Auchard. Also leading the service are: Mrs. E. George Widdifield, Mrs. L. R.

Miner, Mrs. Robert C. Anderson, and Mrs. John Appleton. Mrs. Fred Haushalter, Mrs. Fred Priestly, Mrs. Floyd Salow, and Mrs. Harold Welch complete the list.

TWO DECADES

World Community Day was founded by United Church Women in 1943 to speed the building of a lasting peace. One of the group's projects for peace for this year is the assembling of friendship packets for needy children. These include personal items and occasionally a small toy.

The offering received at this nationwide service will be used for an in-service training program for church women from this country and some of the newly independent countries.

MONEY GOES FAR

It will also help support the refugee work of the World Council of Churches, scholarships for training for women from the developing countries and will expand the work of the Church Center.

Hospitality chairman is Mrs. Lewis Ball with Mrs. John Ashby and Mrs. Thomas Bertrand as hostesses.

Hold Gift Until Pair Has Arrived

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Our son is going to be married in England to an English girl. After the wedding they plan to make their home here in the United States. We cannot go to the wedding. What is the proper thing to do in regard to sending a wedding present?

A: Should I send our wedding gift to her home in England or wait until she arrives here to give it to her?

A: If you are giving a check, you would send it to her before the wedding, but if you are giving something for their home, it would make little sense to send it to England where they are coming here to live.

When you write to your daughter-in-law-to-be, explain that you are waiting until she comes here before giving her a wedding present so that she can decide what she would like for their house.

Q: In a few weeks an organization to which I belong will have its annual dinner. We intend to invite two guest speakers. I would like to know if it is necessary to invite their wives to this dinner. Some of the members say "yes" and others "no." Will you please advise us concerning this matter?

A: The wives of the guest speakers should be sent invitations in courtesy. Whether or not they wish to come is up to them.

Aids Christmas Mart Parenthood League

Oakland County women are assisting with the Planned Parenthood League's fifth annual Christmas mart Wednesday and Thursday in Veteran's Memorial, Detroit.

New this year is the preview dinner on Tuesday with selling hours from 5 to 9 p.m. Sales begin at 10 a.m. on the other days.

According to Mrs. Nelson Holland, chairman, eight new shops will present uniquely different articles to the Mart. Back again will be 13 of the old favorites.

SKI MODELS

Ski enthusiasts Mrs. LeRoy W. Dahlberg, Mrs. Hugh Martin Jr., and Mrs. S. E. Gawnie will model the latest wear for the slopes.

Recruited to work as saleswomen are Mrs. Dean Coffin, Mrs. Frederick Robinson, Mrs. Alfred Davock, Mrs. Martin L. Butel, Mrs. Albert Powers, Mrs. Homer S. Aile, Mrs. Lance Minor, Mrs. Bruce Craig, Mrs. Walter Young, Mrs. Charles L. Wilson, Mrs. Asa Wilson, Mrs. Philip Moon, Mrs. Olin Carpenter.

Others are Mrs. Vern Hampton, Mrs. David Burton, Mrs. James Carmel, Mrs. Marshall Fredericks, Mrs. J. W. Sanders, Mrs. John McNaughton, Mrs. Olson Wilson.

Mrs. Fraser Pomeroy, Mrs. Clifford West, Mrs. John Albrecht, Mrs. Clark Matthews and Mrs. Morton Harris.

Mrs. Franklin Rowland, Mrs. Morten Grattis, Mrs. Robert Bender, Mr. Eliot Robinson, Mrs. John Cole, Mrs. John Stevenson, Mrs. William Bullock, Mrs. Robert Martin, Mrs. John Kerr and Mrs. William Bachman complete the list.

Proceeds from the project will aid the 15 clinics which Planned Parenthood operates in the Wayne-Oakland area since the League receives no money from the United Foundation. In the first eight months of this year, the League clinics assisted nearly 9,000 women.

Gold Clutch Bag Glows at Night

The latest little gold clutch bags are designed to retain their glitter for countless gala evenings. A special Mylar coating — which has the gleam of gold — is non-tarnishable and easy to sponge off with thick soap or detergent suds; followed by rinsing with a clean damp cloth.

Indian Oscars are lined-up, waiting to be presented to victorious women chairmen in this year's Pontiac Area United Fund Drive. Mrs. Charles Gerston, North Berkshire Road, Area III chairman, examines one of the statues to be presented at the women's luncheon Wednesday. The women have achieved 91 per cent of their quota at the present time.

Distribution of these kits will follow the annual World Community Day Friday at Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian.

He's No Friend

Confide in Your Parents

By ARIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a junior in high school, but quite mature for my age.

A good friend of the family, who is 40 and married, has taken an interest in me. He said, "If there is anything you want to know about the facts of life or anything you want to confide, come to me because you wouldn't want to go to your parents with things like that, would you?" He's right.

There are some things I wouldn't go to my parents with. He said when he was my age, he developed a close friendship with a woman teacher and he learned a lot. He thinks every young person should develop a close friendship with someone older of the opposite sex.

There are a few things I would like to know more about. Should I confide in him?

LOTS OF QUESTIONS

DEAR ABBY: No. In my opinion this family friend is out of line.

A real friend would encourage a young girl to confide in her parents.

The best thing you can develop between this man and yourself is distance.

DEAR ABBY: My son is in Germany and has been there for five months. He got a "Dear John letter" from this girl in our home town who had promised him she'd wait "forever."

We, being in the same town, knew she was writing our son this letter and we worried for fear he would take it very hard. We worried in vain.

We heard that he put her picture up on the bulletin board with her name and address under it, and across the top he printed AVAILABLE.

Now she is mad at all of us.

Church Group Slated to Hear Project Report

The Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Aldersgate Methodist Church has scheduled a special program to follow a 12 o'clock luncheon Wednesday in the church.

Mrs. Melvin Norberg, Mrs. Alfred Tolison, Mrs. Horace Murry and Mrs. Herbert Blom are planning the project study.

On the national level, the group is assisting with expansion and improvement of urban and community center programs; remodeling Campbell House, Gary, Ind.; Wesley Community House, Fort Worth, Tex.; and the Susannah Wesley Center in Honolulu.

Foreign projects include aid to medical colleges and nurses' training schools also the Christian literature programs in India.

The WDCS will sponsor the annual family style turkey dinner from 5 to 7 p.m. on Saturday.

Yours truly, CASEYVILLE, ILLINOIS

DEAR ABBY: Would you kindly inform me as to how soon a bride is expected to get her thank-you notes out for her wedding gifts?

I was married three months ago. Over 700 people attended our wedding.

We went on a two-week honeymoon, but the day after we returned I started back to work again. I have a five-room apartment to take care of, so you know I am not just sitting around doing nothing.

My mother-in-law told my husband that if I didn't hurry up and get those thank-you notes out, she would offer to do it for me.

I'd like your opinion on how guilty of negligence you think I am.

First sprinkle salt on a rust mark on fabric. Then squeeze on lemon juice. Spread the garment in the sun to dry.

Wash Baskets Before Using
Before putting bread, fruit, or other table foods into new baskets, swish these through warm soap or detergent suds and rinses.
This is a sanitary precaution because most such baskets are made by hand — mainly in foreign countries

MRS. R. G. ELLIXSON

Nancy Messner Busy With Showers

The arrival of 20 guests Friday at the Watkins Lake home of Mrs. Herbert Howerth climaxed a round of pre-nuptial entertaining for November bride-elect, Nancy Jean Messner. Mrs. Paul Gorman was cohostess.

Mrs. William Sonnenberg of Sylvan Lake opened her home for a recent shower honoring her granddaughter. Sharing hostess honors were Nancy's aunts, Mrs. Fred Beedle, Mrs. Jack Beedle, Mrs. Kenneth Black and Mrs. Robert Woodard.

Collaborating in a neighborhood shower were Mrs. Ray Doan, Mrs. Howard Mudge and Mrs. Carl Woods in the latter's home at Cass Lake.

PERSONAL GIFTS.
Personal gifts for the bride-elect were opened recently in Mrs. Floyd Shotwell's home at Sylvan Lake, with Mrs. Joseph Chircop, shower cohostess.

Miss Messner's parents are the Leon Messners of Cass Lake. Her fiancé, John Marquis Hood of Voorhees Road is the son of the senior John Hoods of Speedway, Ind.

There are 1,200 sawmills operating in Minnesota.

MAKE OVER DIPS

To clean the hard-to-reach stem of a percolator, use a cotton swab. The swab will slide easily into the stem and do a thorough job of collecting coffee residue.

Couple Will Make Home in Clarkston

A new home in Clarkston awaits the Robert Gene Ellixson (Sharon Louise Dion) who left for a northern honeymoon following morning vows Saturday, in St. Benedict Church.

Joining the couple at the reception in the '300 Lounge' were their parents, the Ernest E. Dions of Orchard Street, and the Audrey G. Ellixsons of Lacota Road.

GIFT PEARLS
The bridegroom's cultured pearl gift pendant and a cascade of white carnations with orchids, completed her ensemble.

Honor matron, Mrs. Gregory G. Stieber of Warren, and Mrs. David Bell of Royal Oak, who was bridesmaid, carried cascading white carnations tipped to match their dresses, of royal blue silk organza.

On the esquire side were best man James Wert with ushers Gene Heline and the bride's brother Ronald Dion.

Lodge Hosts State VIPs

Grand officers of Michigan conferred the degree at the Friday meeting of Esther Court No. 13, Order of Amaranth at Roosevelt Temple.

Mrs. Ernestine Pearson and Mrs. Pierre Shaver were in charge of refreshments. Decorations were handled by Mrs. Bert Weddel and Catherine McCrindle.

Trading Is Heavy

Stock Market Zooms Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved further into new high ground early today in heavy trading.

General Motors, up 2 points, touched another historic peak.

Chrysler, however, still underwent profit taking and dropped about a point.

The market pattern was similar to Friday's when strength in GM, AT&T and other blue chips boosted averages to all-time highs.

The decision of the Russians to withdraw from the race to the moon was accompanied by a drop of more than a point in North American Aviation, prime contractor for the Apollo moon shot project.

OTHERS STEADY
Other aerospace stocks, however, remained steady to higher.

The market pattern was similar to Friday's when strength in GM, AT&T and other blue chips boosted averages to all-time highs.

United Aircraft gained a point. General Dynamics added a fraction.

McDonnell Aircraft was about unchanged.

IBM gained 5, Xerox 5, U.S. Smelting more than and Control Data a point.

Steels, airlines, drugs, chemicals and electrical equipments were generally higher. Rails were mostly unchanged, non-ferrous metals mixed.

The trend was generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were fairly steady.
