At Least 21 Die in 3 Air Crashes

Lenten Meditations

By DR. EDWIN T. DAHLBERG
President, National Council of Churches

Psalm 103:1-2, "Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless his holy name! Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits."

We hear a great deal these days about the problems and sorrows of life, and how we can go about it to be happy. I wonder if we think often enough about the happiness we already have, and how we can consecrate it to God?

The amount of happiness I have had in my life has always been a puzzle to me. I have had the average amount of troubles, but that is the lot of all men. I should not expect to be exempt from it.

I have been blessed with good health. And as a friend of mine who had had three operations in one year said, "A man who has good health has a million dollars and doesn't know it."

I have been blessed with a happy Christian home. The late Dr. Albert W. Beaven said, in this connection, "A man can take any kind of a beating in the world outside if he can come home and find his home a harbor of refuge."

I have had a blessed Christian home—great joy in Christ—a rich heritage in the Christian church. Am I the only one in the world so fortunate? I do not think so.

We ought to be asking ourselves, especially here in America. "What shall we do with happiness?" Jesus said, "Unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall much be required." If we have been fortunate and blessed, we should not become smug and complacent. In addition to praising God for our happiness, we can share it with our fellow men who have missed it.

★ ★ ★

Let us remember the words of our blessed Lord, therefore, "Give to him that asketh thee; and from him that would borrow of thee, turn not thou away."

Navy and Sun Engage in Race Over Vanguard

Light to Determine if Moon-Carrying Rocket Will Be Lofted Today

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

So long as the sun was up the Navy by its own restrictions still had a chance to launch its third Vanguard test vehicle and put into orbit the 3½-pound moon in the Vanguard's nose.

A scheduled launching was postponed yesterday because of "minor technical difficulties." In a brief statement the Navy said that "daylight firing is a required objective of this particular test."

However, officials gave no reason for its decision to fire this Vanguard during the daylight hours only. The first rocket blew up on its launching platform Dec. 6 at 11:46 a.m., and the second jack-knifed and crashed into the sea a few miles off the cape testing center on Feb. 6 at 2:34 a.m.

Previously, officials explained that certain tests in connection with the Vanguard require visual observation of the missile to an altitude of 4,000 feet. For the same reason, the Navy satellite cannot be launched into low - hanging clouds.

If bad weather conditions or renewed mechanical difficulties should force another delay, the launching will probably be pushed over into next week, although the men on the project reportedly are anxious to fire the rocket at the earliest possible time.

The newest Vanguard was to have been fired several days before last Wednesday's launching of the Army's Jupiter-C rocket that failed to place an Explorer II satellite into orbit.

But the firing was postponed until yesterday because of "technical difficulties" believed to center in the rocket's 31-foot-long second stage.

The "technical difficulties" presumably are similar to those which caused many postponements in advance of both previous Vanguard firing attempts.

France Votes to Intensify War

Gaillard's Program in Algeria Gets Reluctant Assembly Approval

PARIS (AP)—Despite deep-seated parliamentary discontent with France's Algerian policy, the National Assembly voted last night to intensify the war against the Algerian rebels.

On a vote of confidence in Premier Felix Gaillard's government, the Assembly approved 286-147 his revised military budget of 1,300 billion francs — more than three billion dollars.

Only a few deputes besides the Communists were willing to go on record against the war budget but 160 deputies were absent or abstained, so the vote of approval was by a minority of the Assembly.

The new budget cuts some 95 billion francs — 226 million dollars — from other military needs to increase spending in Algeria. Within the limits of a strained national budget, Gaillard told the deputies, "we are giving an absolute priority to the needs of pacification (in Algeria)." But, he said, there was no money available for transfer from nonmilitary budgets.

The additional military funds will be used to add 28,000 troops to forces conducting the 40-month old war. The additions will bring to 375,000 soldiers the French ground force in Algeria, where another 125,000 airmen and sailors are stationed.

Gaillard asked the deputies to think beyond the simple question of military funds. He noted parliamentary uneasiness and said this uneasiness might lead to a new governmental crisis by disrupting his shaky coalition.

"To assume the heavy responsibility which it has, (my government) cannot be content with a precarious or watered-down confidence of the Assembly," the 38-year-old premier said.

Ike, Congress Push Job-Making Actions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration and the Democratic-controlled Congress pushed job-creation actions today amid reports that unemployment shot up hast month to more than 5,100,000.

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Democrat leader, announced yesterday he will seek swift Senate action on housing, highway, education and other bills — "major measures in providing jobs," he called them.

Johnson made public a letter saying the Defense Department is looking into the matter of speeding up military construction projects in labor surplus areas—those with relatively high unemployment.

"I think we can pick up some 200,000 to 500 000 jobs by government projects," Johnson said, adding this should have a "good psychological effect upon the country."

The letter Johnson released on Defense Department plans to speed military construction projects came from Deputy Secretary Quarles.

Quarles said there are 450 million dollars worth of projects that can be started in areas of "substantial" unemployment and that these are being "initiated as expeditiously as possible." he indicated, however, any speedup on projects already under way will have to be done without increasing government costs.

Quarles said the awarding of contracts for military purchasing and construction has been stepped up 50 per cent above the rate of the last six months of 1957.

"This substantial increase during the months ahead will unquestionably provide a desirable impetus to the economy," he added.

In Chicago, Secretary of the Interior Seaton said yesterday the unemployment problem can't be solved by what he termed a "wild orgy of public spending." But he said the administration is ready to take constructive steps.

Caribou Blaze Definitely Arson

State Police Discover That Inn in Clarkston Was Set Afire

State Police fire inspectors have definitely established the fact that the Caribou Inn fire in Clarkston last Tuesday was the work of arsonists.

"Arson has been suspected since evidence pointing to it was uncovered late Tuesday," said Sgt. Ormell O'Farrell. "Now arson is no longer merely suspected, it's a reality."

O'Farrell, head of the Redford State Police Post Fire Marshal Division, made this statement after he and Detective Hubert Hanley consulted with George F. Taylor, Oakland County chief assistant prosecutors, late Friday afternoon.

"We won't know for certain whether kerosene or fuel oil was used to set off the blaze until reports come back from our lab in Lansing," he added.

"However, the important point is that someone poured a highly flammable liquid throughout the third-story room in which the fire started."

On the heels of this announcement, the investigators and the prosecutor's office made an appeal to the public for any information about the fire or persons seen near the 126-year-old landmark shortly before the fire was discovered.

O'Farrell said manner of starting the fire has not been determined, although a candle might have been used.

2 Marine Planes Collide in Flight Near Okinawa

26 Persons Go Down; Sandstorm in Egypt Causes Disaster

FROM OUR NEWS SERVICES

Three wide-spread plane accidents yesterday brought death to at least 21 persons, and the toll is likely to mount today.

Twelve bodies were reported pulled from the sea off Okinawa today following the collision of a Marine Corps transport plane and a Marine fighter - bomber over the U. S. Pacific bastion Friday night.

A total of 26 persons were aboard the two planes, which exploded and crashed into the sea some three miles off Naha following the collision.

Officials withheld identities of the dead.

U. S. ships and planes searching for possible survivors with the help of Okinawan police and fishermen were hampered by rough water and reefs in the shallow sea.

The two aircraft were en route from the Cubi Point Naval Air Station in the Phillipines to their home base at the Marine air facility at Iwakuni, Japan, by way of Okinawa.

Only the pilot was aboard the small plane, an AD-5 attack bomber. Nineteen passengers and six crew members, all Marines from the first Marine Aircraft Wing at Iwakuni, were aboard the passenger craft, an R-40 transport plane.

Authorities said an explosion followed the rending collision of the planes in the air. But the specific cause of the tragedy was still unknown.

18 DIE IN EGYPT

Eight persons, including an American, were killed and 18 were reported injured last night when an Egyptian airliner crashed in a dense sandstorm near Port Said airport.

Grand Jury Will Investigate All Agencies in Government

WASHINGTON (INS)—Hints of alleged payoffs have spurred a federal grand jury to undertake a sweeping investigation of bribery, corruption, perjury and influence-peddling in all government "departments or agencies."

New information by FBI agents prompted the justice Department yesterday to expand the grand jury probe of the Federal Communications Commission into a full-scale inquiry of Federal activities.

The way was opened when "letters of authorization" were filed with the U.S. District Court. The documents said the Justice Department is informed that "various persons, companies, corporations and firms" have violated federal criminal statutes.

The letters authorized the summoning of witnesses in addition to those called for questioning by the grand jury on disclosures developed in testimony before a House subcommittee investigating the FCC and other federal regulatory agencies.

Justice Department spokesmen explained that the letters were so worded they could lead to an investigation of any federal department, agency, bureau or commission.

The "letters of authorization" named four justice Department criminal division attorneys headed by Robert P. Rosthal, to conduct the broadening investigation.

The alleged violations were described as "giving money and things of value to officers and employes or persons . . . acting for or on behalf of the government."

The letters said the individuals or firms acted with the "intention to influence" government personnel "to commit or aid in committing or to collude in fraud . . . by accepting money or gratuities."

The spokesmen added that the action stemmed from an FBI investigation into the finances of Richard A Mack, who resigned under fire last Monday as an FCC member, and from other still-secret information.

★ ★ ★

They said the new inquiry has no relation to the House subcommittee's investigation of Mack and the FCC award of a Miami TV channel to a National Airlines subsidiary.

Pontiac C. of C. Invites Members to Capital Parley

Invitation to members of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce to attend the national convention in Washington, D.C., will be mailed out next week, John Hirlinger, manager, said today.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac delegation will meet with Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield to discuss airmail service directly to Pontiac and general post office problems, he disclosed.

"We hope that some 30 members will make the trip," he said. "We leave April 27 and return April 30."

The Pontiac delegation will also meet with Sen. Charles Potter and Rep. William Broomfield while in Washington.

They also will attend the Michigan Congressional Dinner to which all Michigan congressmen are invited.

★ ★ ★

Each delegate will pay his own way to the convention, Hirlinger said, but the chamber has already made the plane and hotel reservations to assure accommodations.

Steal Furs, Jewels Worth $15,000

DETROIT (INS)—Furs and jewels with an estimated value of almost $15,000, were stolen last night from the apartment of Samuel S. Bankle, 66, of Detroit.

Bankle returned to his apartment last night to find the place ransacked and mink stoles worth $6,500 and three articles of jewelry valued at $8,250 missing.

Entry was also made into the apartment of Mrs. Anne Polozker, 60, in the same building, but a list of the loot could not be obtained immediately. Mrs. Polozker is in Florida.

Police said the thieves entered after prying a molding off both of the front doors of the building and the doors of the two apartments.

Odd Flying Object Spotted in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (INS) —A mysterious flying object has been spotted in Oklahoma and state police said today they will investigate the reports further.

★ ★ ★

Two units of the state police reported the strange object last night along with a person who refused to identify himself because he "did not want to pass as a crank."

The reports described the object as V-shaped with two orange-colored flames.

The unidentified man — whom police said was a "well dressed, intelligent appearing subject" — asserted that he saw a fast-moving object come out of the southeast sky and disappear, after about 30 seconds, into the northwest.

Prone to Traffic Fines

CLEVELAND (INS) — Ernest Denardy's driver's license was suspended last December for a traffic offense. He was back in traffic court the other day. Fined $5 for jaywalking.

Driver Dodges Freeway Menace

He's Marooned on Island

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Motorist Greg Morton, en route home in heavy freeway traffic yesterday, swerved to miss a wild driver. His car landed on a middle dividing strip.

With thousands of cars whizzing by in solid ranks on either side, Morton found himself as lonely and helpless as if he was on an uninhabited island in the Pacific Ocean.

He signalled for help for an hour and 15 minutes. He said he tried to flag down 14 motorcycle policemen. No. 8 stopped, he said but when he asked, "How do I get off of here," the officer said, "Just start your engine and drive away," Then the cop rode away.

Finally, a civilian motorcyclist paused long enough to size up the situation and promised to telephone for aid. At long last another motorcop appeared, made the traffic pause for a moment and Morton was able to get back onto the freeway.

"I'd have given 20 bucks for a telephone out there," said Morton, 34, a management consultant.

Brazil Train Crash Kills 100, Injures 150

RIO DE JANEIRO (INS) — Rescue workers still were removing bodies this morning from the scene of a railroad crash that killed an estimated 100 persons last night on the outskirts of Rio de Janeiro.

The Brazilian news agency "Asapress" estimated the death toll unofficially at more than 100 killed and more than 150 injured. Thirty bodies had been recovered early today.

A packed electric passenger train, running at high speed, crashed into three other passenger trains that were stopped at Paciencia, on the outskirts of Rio, at 6:30 p.m. (EST).

The crackup came shortly after a heavy storm damaged the railway's electrical system and knocked out warning signals.

Dog Warden Catches Only Friendly Ones

Stray Dogs Reported on Gain in City

By HAROLD S. COHEN

Anyone hankering for the good old days when Michigan was a frontier, and packs of wolves lurked about the tiny settlements waiting for human prey need not despair — they're coming back.

Only the marauders now are dogs instead of wolves.

So contend residents of a number of the city's residential areas, from which repeated reports are received of packs of apparently homeless and hungry dogs, which go about molesting children and destroying property.

Here huge dogs, living in the city dump, emerge each morning and congregate around the children waiting for the school bus.

"Things are so bad, some of the mothers walk their children to the bus and wait with them for fear they will be attacked," Mrs. Darrell Giles, 340 W. Princeton Ave., said today.

"When the children are gone, the pack takes to chasing cars, fighting among themselves and tearing up new shrubs and lawns," she added. "We have lost hundreds of dollars in shrubs in this subdivision."

Mrs. Giles and her neighbors are not the only ones to complain. Packs roam the south side of Pontiac and numerous strays are reported daily to the police from every section of the city.

"Where is the dog warden?" is the common complaint.

Police officer Melbourne D. Griffin is temporarily acting as dog warden since the regular warden quit three weeks ago, saying the pay was inadequate.

Griffin says he just cannot do much alone. "This is no one-man job," he said. "I doubt if I pick up three dogs a week working alone."

Since last Tuesday, he has been breaking in another warden and the two together have seized some 15 or 20 animals.

★ ★ ★

"The problem is out of hand," Griffin said, "I dread to think what could happen if rabies got started among the packs next spring."

Oakland, 3 Other Counties Consider Joint Action for Future

Airline Facilities Called Inadequate

Facilities to serve expanding air travel to and from southeastern Michigan in the years immediately ahead were given a close look Friday . . . and found alarmingly inadequate.

The look was taken when officials of four counties — Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, and Washtenaw — and state and Detroit aviation authorities, met to project a study and consider possible joint action on needs for commercial aviation facilities in the area.

* * *

The meeting was called by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland Board of Supervisors, as chairman of the Aviation Committee of the Supervisors' Inter-County Committee.

The four counties, Detroit, the State Highway Department, the Civil Aeronautics Administration and the Michigan Department of Aeronautics were represented. The group met at Kingsley Inn in Bloomfield Hills.

C. V. Burnett, director of the Detroit Aviation Commission, told the meeting that about two and one-third million passengers used air service in and out of the Detroit area in 1957. If this ratio to the national air travel load is maintained, the Detroit traffic will reach beyond six milion passengers annually by 1960, he predicted.

How to expand airports and other service facilities to meet this demand is the problem which the group will study over the coming months.

Agreement was reached informally yesterday that the problem is area-wide and can best be solved by joint action.

One of the first steps will be to bring up to date earlier studies of area aviation needs. The rapid growth of suburban areas around Detroit and the anticipated use of jet planes requiring larger airports will be considered. Building of adequate highways to serve airports of the future also is to be studied.

The Inter - County Supervisors' Aviation Committee will meet again within a few weeks. A more formal organization is planned.

Supervisor chairmen attending Friday were: Hamlin from Oakland County; Bernard A. Kalahar from Macomb; Edward Connor from Wayne, and William I. Scheel of Washtenaw. J. D. Cruise, chief planning engineer represented the State Highway Department; L. C. Andrews, C. J. Reese, Administration.

Director James D. Ramsey represented the Michigan Dept. of Aeronautics, and L. D. Hale attended for the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

Representatives of major airports in the area will be invited to the next meeting of the group.

Pooch Hops Train to Chicago

CHICAGO (INS) — A friendly brown and black dog named Hobo by the Chicago Anti-Cruelty Society wagged his tail today, hoping that his owner would claim him.

The canine somehow boarded a Grand Trunk Western Railway train somewhere in Michigan and rode to Chicago yesterday in a baggage car.

The dog was badly dehydrated and starved but was reported as nice and friendly a pooch as Anti-Cruelty Society workers have ever seen.

Officials at the society hope the owner claims Hobo who is "pushing nine years" because an elderly dog, no matter how friendly, is difficult to place in a new home.

DE LAND, Fla. (INS) — Otto, a four ton, $6,000, three-year-old hippopotamus was back at the winter quarters of the Clyde Beatty Circus today after a short jaunt to enjoy country living near the banks of the St. Johns River.

The hippo, tired of the ordinary routine of winter inactivity, escaped from a temporary corral at De Land, Fla., yesterday and was found dozing in the sun by an airplane flier.

Otto, hungry and anxious for the food which his captors thoughtfully brought along, munched bread while he was led back to the circus grounds in 20 minutes.

The 35-year-old ex-paratrooper from Tampa, Fla., who learned lion taming under the GI Bill of Rights, had almost completed his act and was trying to make the sleepy-eyed lioness lie down beside 10 other lions and one tiger when the animal sprang.

She caught Anthony's arm, threw him to the ground and closed her teeth around his forearm after her claws ripped his flesh.

The Day in Birmingham

'Y' Membership Drive Adds 950 Men to Rolls

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham YMCA closed its 1958 membership drive with a total of 904 new members representing a cash return of more than $6,200.

Harold Kaldfleish, general chairman of the drive, said this brings membership to 2,072.

Working with Kaldfleish on the drive were Arthur Blakeslee, Leslie Fletcher and Edwin Kirbert, general secretary of the "Y."

The work is progressing swiftly on the new addition, Kirbert said, and it will be ready for the opening of the fall season.

"The addition will greatly increase the organization's facilities on both youth and adult levels" he said.

A stamp auction, sponsored by the Birmingham Stamp Club, will offer 75 lots of foreign and U.S. stamps for sale at the Community House at 8:30 p.m. Monday.

The club is making preparations for its 20th anniversary celebration April 12 and 13. A state philatelic convention will be held here at that time.

Two 15-year-old boys were turned over to their parents yesterday after admitting they stole eight quarts of liquor, according to Bloomfield Hills Police Capt. Walter Sluiter.

Sluiter said the boys were picked up after his investigation of reports of liquor being circulated in the Bloomfield Hills High School area.

The boys admitted taking eight quarts of liquor from the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club bar last month, Sluiter said. They also admitted stealing wine and cigarettes from stores in Birmingham, he said.

Plans for the part they will take in the April 30 convention are being made by Pythian Sisters Temple 94. This will be the main subject of the group's meeting March 18 at 8 p.m. in the Community House.

Several Birmingham women will serve as models when the Women's Auxiliary of the Michigan State University Club of Oakland County holds its annual bridge luncheon and fashion show March 20 at Devon Gables.

Proceeds from the event will go into the fund used each year to send an Oakland County boy and a girl to Michigan State on a full scholarship.

Dr. W. Glen Harris, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham, and his wife, will be honored at a reception tomorrow in recognition of their 20-year association with the church. The reception will be from 3 to 6 p.m. at the church.

Dr. Harris preached his first service here Sunday, March 20, 1938. During his ministry the church has grown from 750 to 3,250 members and a Sunday School membership of 1,800. A new church building was completed in 1954.

He has distinguished himself for his work in the Presbytery, Synod and General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church and interchurch relations.

Dr. and Mrs. Harris were honored Thursday at a recognition dinner given by the officers of the church.

Power Service Will Be Normal

Strike-Hit Consumers Presents Assurances in Letter to State

JACKSON (AP)—Consumers Power Co. says it expects to continue normal service despite a strike by 5,400 linemen, maintenance and construction workers.

* * *

The assurance came in a letter from Dan E. Karn, Consumers president, to Otis Smith, chairman of the State Public Service Commission yesterday. Karn said only a major generator failure or a "serious act of nature" would interrupt service.

Facilities at the utility firm's 40 Lower Michigan plants have been manned by supervisory employes since members of the Michigan Utility Workers Council struck in a contract dispute Wednesday night.

Smith had been ordered by Gov. Williams to meet with company and union officials to insure service would be maintained during the strike.

Contract negotiations broke down over a dispute involving union wage demands, fringe benefits and job classifications. The previous contract expired Feb. 28 but was extended five days.

Blood Bank Appreciates Having Accounts in Red

* * *

This is the community blood bank. Instead of a red pencil denoting loss, the red show.. a life-saving quality and gain, because it is blood.

Mrs. A. H. Magnus, bank chairman, reports the March community blood bank will be held Monday at the Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave.

This month a special appeal is being made to men and women working afternoons and evenings. Therefore, the bank will be conducted from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2 to 4 p.m.

* * *

During the fiscal year of 1957, $13,693,000 was spent on blood programs which provided 2,185,000 pints of blood for the sick and injured throughout the nation, according to Mrs. Magnus.

"In order to meet the tremendous and constant demand for blood everyone in Pontiac who is eligible should attempt to give blood," she said.

No appointment is necessary but to insure prompt service, donors are advised to call MI 6-1313 or FE 8-3937 for an appointment.

Informs Mackie He Was Right

Attorney General OKs Highway Chief Taking Office in July

LANSING (AP)—An attorney general's opinion has assured Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie that he didn't violate the Constitution when he took office last July 1.

* * *

State law providing that highway commissioners take over their jobs in the middle of the year was questioned by Rep. Russell H. Strange Jr. (R-Clare).

He quoted the Constitution as directing that "the terms of office of all elective state offices and all judges of courts of record shall begin on the first day of January next succeeding their election except as otherwise prescribed in this Constitution."

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, however, held the requirement "applies only to those offices created in the Constitution itself." The highway commissioner is not among them.

"Another basic principle of constitutional law," he added, "is that the Legislature is vested with full power to pass legislation which is not prohibited to it by the express terms of the Constitution."

At Least 21 Perish in Three Air Crashes

The American was identified only as William J. O'Brien. His wife was among the injured.

Authorities said the plane had tried twice to land at Cairo airport, and twice at Alexandria airport. The pilot finally tried Port Said's Gamil field.

CREDIT FROGMEN

The Viking plane was completely wrecked. Frogmen and ambulances rushed to the scene. The frogmen were credited with saving many persons in the lake.

The O'Briens reportedly were returning from Germany after visiting their soldier son. Mrs. O'Brien was quoted as saying at the hospital in Port Said that "We were all helpless" and "we knew it was impossible to land safely."

One airman died Friday night but three others parachuted to safety when a B-25 bomber from Offutt Air Force Base crashed and burned southeast of Des Moines, Iowa.

The body of the airman was found in the charred wreckage of the plane several hours after the mishap. His identity was withheld by Offutt officials pending notification of next of kin.

Dress Union, Firms Aim for Settlement

NEW YORK (INS) — Union and employer representatives, aiming at a settlement of the dress industry strike by Monday or Tuesday, meet today for the first formal bargaining session since the four-day strike began.

* * *

New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner has appointed ex-Sen. Herbert H. Lehman and Harry Uviller, chairman of the State Mediation Board, as special mediators of the strike, which has idled 105,000 dressmakers in eight state.

The bargaining session, in a New York hotel, was scheduled for 2:30 p.m. (EST).

No Forwarding Address

MADRID (INS) — Postman Arturo Gonzalez, unable to deliver a letter, returned it to the sender with the notation. "Addressee left without leaving forwarding address." That was putting it mildly. Addressee had escaped from Carabanchel prison.

Burglars Remove 'Enough Artillery to Quell Revolt'

DEARBORN (INS) — Wayne County sheriff's deputies were searching for burglars today who "stole enough artillery to quell the Cuban revolution."

Everett Bartholomew, owner of the shop (at 22014 Ford road) said an assortment of pistols and rifles valued at more than 1,000 dollars were taken. They also took five hundred dollars from a cash box.

Oakland's 'Lost' 10 Acres Turns Up in Senate Bill

LANSING (AP) — A bill specifically designed to put a 10-acre parcel of land in Oakland County back on the tax rolls moved into the Senate today with House approval.

* * *

The lower chamber yesterday okayed the measure, which would direct county supervisors to order an adjoining city to annex any small piece of unattached township property which is escaping taxation.

* * *

The situation developed in 1955 when Troy Township residents voted to become a city and overlooked one 10-acre piece of property.

* * *

Prosecutor's Aide Succumbs in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Martin Paulsmo, veteran Wayne County assistant prosecutor, died of a cerebral hemorrhage yesterday. He was 67.

Paulsmo was a major figure in Circuit Judge Homer Ferguson's graft grand jury hearings in 1940 when he was accused of heading a group which allegedly tried to seize the grand jury's records.

A native of Ishpeming, he was first named an assistant prosecutor in 1935. He served until 1941 and was re-appointed again for 1945-47. He was appointed again in 1949 and served in the office until his death.

Kalamazoo Bus Lines Face Further Trouble

KALAMAZOO — Another crisis is shaping up in the Kalamazoo bus system's case of declining profits. It may call for a prompt decision on the question of municipal ownership.

But unless the continuous drop in bus patronage should suddenly either halt or reverse itself, no plan can long delay a decision for or against municipal ownership of the local bus system, some observers feel.

National City Lines officials claim the anticipated Jackson plan tax exemptions have not been large enough to provide a profit before federal income taxes equal to 10 per cent of gross revenues here.

Geologist to Discuss Detroit's Salt Mines

Robert W. Kelly, geologist of the Geological Survey Division, Michigan Department of Conversation, will discuss the salt mines 1,100 feet under the city of Detroit Monday at the meeting of the Michigan Minerological Society.

The meeting which begins at 8 p.m., will be held at the Cranbrook Institute of Science, according to Floyd N. Mortenson, of 69 W. End Ave., vice president and program chairman of the society.

Report Stray Dogs on Gain in Pontiac to me. They are the friendly ones. But what about the fierce ones that run away," he stated. "They should be shot on sight, but the law says I can be sued up to $1,000 if I shoot a dog, so you can bet I won't unless I'm attacked."

"Until they get two men on the job and supply equipment like leather gloves and boots and special choke nooses, I don't think the problem will get any better," Griffin said.

"We haven't had a rabies case in Pontiac since 1952, but that sure doesn't mean we won't," he said.

The latest case in Mrs. Giles' neighborhood was a small girl attacked by a large dog which ripped up the sleeve of her leather jacket.

"It was just a miracle the jacket lining kept his teeth out of her arm," Mrs. Giles said.

Prisoners Solve Problem

LONDON (INS) — Britain's prison commissioners in their annual report pointed out that penitentiaries now include engineering and blacksmith shops for inmates. This, they said, has created a problem: ". . . Prisoners are able to make copies of keys which could be and have been used in attempts to escape."

Rain, Snow Dampen Scattered Areas

It's Fair for Most of U. S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A mixture of rain, drizzle or snow dampened scattered sections of the country today, but fair skies prevailed over much of the West and along the Eastern seaboard and temperatures were normal.

* * *

Rains which drenched Alabama with up to 6.79 inches in 24 hours at Montgomery tapered off after posing serious flood threats in parts of the state. The rainy weather stretched through the northern Gulf states, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky and the Carolinas today, but overnight accumulations were under two-tenths of an inch.

An invasion of chilly air sliced through west Texas Friday night, spawning at least one tornado. Winds up to 52 m.p.h. churned up huge clouds of dust, limiting visibility to a half mile at Wink, Tex. The twister damaged an oil rig and small buildings near Monahans, Tex.

* * *

North of the rain area, and in New England, snow flurries blanketed some sections. Up to one inch of snow was measured in overnight falls at Las Vegas, N.M., Sydney and Burwell, Neb., and at Sioux City, Iowa. New England measured lighter amounts.

Freezing drizzle was mixed with the snow in Kansas and Iowa. The snow extended northward as far as the Dakotas.

Sheriff's cars reported they were unable to drive because of heavy hail in one section of Grand Prairie, Tex., about 20 miles south of Dallas.

Another rain area dampened the Pacific Coast from the San Francisco Bay region northward to Washington and extended inland to eastern Washington and Oregon.

* * *

Temperature changes over the country were minor, although there was a warming trend of about 8 to 15 degrees from eastern Montana into western Wisconsin. Readings were considerably above normal in the Great Lakes area and the northern Mississippi Valley and the Dakotas.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

How has the winter's weather affected the mule this year?

In some areas of the country the weather this winter has brought the mule back into his own. The heavy precipitation has left farm land so wet tractors cannot be used in some areas and the mule is the only solution to plowing problems.

The weather has also affected all of us, in this respect, by postponing and delaying planting. In some areas planting is already two or three weeks late and that means the markets might not have spring potatoes and other seasonable vegetables as early this year as usual.

In some sections, however, the severe cold accomplished good things too. Insects and bugs—undesirable varieties which often plague farmers and certain crops — have been killed down to a greater degree by the severe cold this winter in many areas.

U. N. Disputes Jet's Position

Theorizes U. S. Fighter Knocked Down Beyond South Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The U.N. command today disputed an American pilot's contention that a U.S. Air Force Sabre Jet shot down Thursday was inside Allied territory, beyond the range of Red guns.

The plane "apparently violated the demilitarized zone" between North and South Korea because the wreckage is in North Korea, a U.N. command statement said.

Earlier, Lt. Ronald E. Martin of Rock Hill, Mo., raised the question whether it was Communist fire that downed the jet flying with his plane. The U.S. Air Force said the plane flown by Capt. Leon Pfeiffer of Kenosha, Wis., was shot down by Communist fire.

"To my knowledge," Martin said, both planes were within Allied territory. He declined to tell a news conference whether he meant South Korean troops had fired on the two jets by mistake.

"Things happened so fast in a matter of a few minutes," Martin said, that it was difficult to be sure about some points.

★ ★ ★

A U.N. command spokesman said the incident was still under investigation. The spokesman said it was assumed Pfeiffer was safe. Martin saw a parachute floating down as the plane crashed.

Woman Meets Son-in-Law at Police Lineup

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Mrs. Lucretia Richardson met her son-in-law for the first time yesterday—in a police lineup.

She identified Duane J. Williams 22, as the man who held up a grocery store in suburban Sunnyslope Tuesday while she was shopping there.

"Are you sure?" asked Sheriff's Sgt. Barney Blaine. She nodded. Blaine told her Williams was her son-in-law and that he married her daughter two weeks ago.

"My God," she cried, "now I know where LaVon is!"

Blaine said later that Mrs. Richardson had never met Williams before.

"Apparently," he added, "Williams used to sit out in the car when he came to call for LaVon."

Blaine said Williams, who also was identified by others as the gunman in several other holdups signed a statement admitting the grocery stickup. No charges have been filed.

The daughter? She was booked on a bogus check charge.

Too Much Science Feared by Hatcher

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, says this country should beware of being stampeded into crash scientific training programs.

★ ★ ★

Hatcher told the 38th annual convention of the American Assn. of Junior Colleges yesterday that complacency is the United States' chief enemy in the race for scientific achievement but he warned against overemphasis.

G. O. Kildow, president of North Idaho Junior College, was elected the association's 1958 president. Marvin Knudson, president of Pueblo College, Pueblo, Colo., was named vice president.

Thief in Novelty Store Apparently Fun-Bent

Area Officials See Need of Heating Unit Checks

A flood of complaints from new home owners during recent sub-zero temperatures have made Waterford Township officials aware that the township does not have any ordinance requiring inspection of heating units when they are installed.

★ ★ ★

Fire Chief Edward Smith also said that his department has received many calls because of faulty installations.

He said, "Anytime a heating unit is installed or moved, it should be checked before it is lighted." He added that the building department has caught a number of installation errors, but there should be a definite person assigned to inspection of the heating units.

Rigid regulations pertaining to cement footings, rough carpentry, septic tank installation and electrical codes are enforced by the building department because, as Chief Inspector Emil Grischow said, "We have something to go by. For heating installations we have nothing."

So far, a builder may submit architectual plans to the building department for approval of a building permit.

If he changes his mind about the size or installation of the heating unit, he may do so and many times unsuspecting home buyers find the furnace too small for the amount of floor space in the home.

An electrical inspector is required to check the wiring connections on the heating unit. However, in many instances this is not the cause of an explosion or the source of a fire, Smith said.

Supervisor Elmer Johnson admits that officials have a problem, but said that in the near future the board plans on drawing up an amendment to the building code to include a heating ordinance.

Book Review

J. Edgar Hoover Warns of Reds

His New Book Carries Program to Combat Communist Threat

"Masters of Deceit" By J. Edgar Hoover

By GEMMA STRIFFLER
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

Why did J. Edgar Hoover, director of our United States Federal Bureau of Investigation, feel compelled to write a book about the perils of communism?

HOOVER

He has a simple answer: "Every citizen has a duty to learn more about the menace that threatens his children, his home, his future, the peace of the world — and that is why I have written this book." Hoover's powerful book, "Masters of Deceit" will be published Monday.

★ ★ ★

The reader finds the wee, small hours creeping upon him as his eyes bulge over the blood-curdling terror facts of Red ideology and practice. Hoover gives us a grim description of what life in our United States could, and would be, like under the Red dictatorship.

★ ★ ★

He carries us through the lives of Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels, on to Vladimir I. Lenin and Leon Trotsky and Joseph Stalin.

He tells us what made them tick, what made them so strong and powerful. He goes on into the more recent days of Malenkov, Molotov, Beria, Shepilov, Zhukov, Khrushchev and Bulganin.

He shows us how the Reds can take beautiful words such as equality and peace, and twist them into a slimy, insidious, creeping virus that can make dupes of so many honest but confused Americans. He explains how and why the Communist Party advocates naked, bloody violence—"slaughter 'em if they won't give in peacefully."

★ ★ ★

Finally, he suggests a program that honest, but clear-headed, Americans can use to counter the Communist plot.

First—Spend just a little time each day studying the Bible and the basic documents of American history;

Second—Young people, as well as adults, should be ever-active citizens;

★ ★ ★

Third—Take a positive attitude. Strive for high goals. Try to improve one's self and one's community.

Fourth—Have faith. Develop a true revolution of the Spirit, not the sword.

Hoover warns us again and again that the United States is target No. 1 for the Soviets. They aim to tear us to pieces and create a new nation in their image. Hoover begs us NOT to live in a fool's paradise.

THE BIBLE

QUESTION: What was the Ark of the Covenant?

ANSWER: The Ark of the Covenant was the most sacred religious symbol of early Israel. It was a large chest in which the Ten Commandment tablets were kept. The Bible says that God commanded Moses to make the Ark at the time he gave him the Commandments.

The Ark was made of acacia wood and was plated inside and out with gold. On the top were two golden cherubs, one at each end.

Men carried the Ark by means of poles put through special rings in the corners. The Israelites took it wherever they went. Eventually it was placed in the Temple of Solomon. After that, the Bible makes little mention of it, but a late passage in Jeremiah implies it had ceased to exist.

Plan Nuclear Rocket Testing

Tomorrow...to the Stars?

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) — The free world's first testing site for nuclear rockets was thrown open to newsmen this week.

Robert Campbell of the Los Alamos, N.M., scientific laboratory, resident director of the 10-million-dollar rocket project, explained how the testing will be conducted.

★ ★ ★

First the scientists will design an atomic reactor which will heat some fluid such as liquid hydrogen and eject it at high velocity.

The reactor will be assembled at a building called the "Mad House." The "mad" stands for mechanical assembly and disassembly.

From the "Mad House" a remote controlled railway car will carry it to the test cell where it will be connected to instruments inside the cell. Then will come the firing, releasing a virtually inexhaustible supply of power.

Today's rockets and missiles are built in numerous sections or stages which are fired at progressive altitudes. No one stage has yet been made which will carry a rocket as far as man wants it to go.

The liquid and solid propellant rockets of today burn out in a few minutes. Tomorrow's nuclear rockets can go for years without running out of fuel.

One day this fall a railway car will back up to a concrete house on Jackass Flats and deliver the kick of a million mules.

On the railway car will be a nuclear reactor which is a device for making an atomic bomb go off slowly. This nuclear reactor or one like it someday will provide the power to take man to the stars.

The concrete house — Atomic Energy Commission scientists here call it a test cell—has already begun rising from the wastes of this desert proving ground.

Security for You

Quiz: I Paid Too Much, What Do I Do?

By RAY HENRY

From T. R. of Fall River, Mass.: "I worked during 1957 for two different firms and both deducted Social Security taxes from my salary. As a result, I've been taxed on more than $4,200—the maximum on which I'm supposed to be taxed. What can I do?"

You can recover the excess tax you've paid by getting a credit, or a rebate, on your federal income tax. There's a space on your tax return to do this.

From Mrs. D. W. of Washington, D. C.: "My cleaning woman is a widow with two children. Her husband worked in a factory and she gets Social Security survivor payments for the three of them. She thinks she can continue to collect the payments even though her work is under Social Security and she makes about $85 a month. Is this right? She asked me to find out for her."

She can continue to collect Social Security for every month as long as her earnings are not over $1,200 a year. If she made more than that, her payments for one or more months would have to be withheld, depending on exactly how much she earned. The children's payments could be continued, however, no matter how much she earned.

From I. M. of St. Petersburg, Fla.: "My husband draws Social Security retirement checks. He also has an insurance policy covering burial expenses. In the event of his death, will Social Security reimburse me to any extent for the cost of his burial expenses?"

If you're living with your husband at the time of his death, you'll be entitled to a lump-sum death payment.

From Mrs. W. C. of Kalamazoo, Mich.: "I'm a housewife anh have never had a Social Security number. When I reach 62 and become eligible for Social Security as a wife, will I need a Social Security card?"

It's not necessary for you to have a card to collect payments from your husband's work. The card is issued only to a wage earner or self-employed person to assist the Social Security Administration in keeping a record of the amount of earnings for which he'll claim Social Security credit.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service. You may obtain Ray Henry's new social security handbook by sending 35 cents in coin to this newspaper and requesting "Security for You" booklet.)

Street Roamer Tears Apart Police Station

CHICAGO (AP)—Veteran Chicago police had a tough time with Carl Marts last night after he was picked up wandering along La Salle street.

Taken to the police station, Marts ripped out drawers from filing cabinets and tore up messages on the police teletype machine. Marts, who is 3½ years old, also smeared chocolate ice cream on Sgt. Harry Lyons uniform.

The boy's mother reclaimed him. She said he wandered to the street from the family's basement apartment.

It Seems to Me . . .

Parole of Nathan Leopold Makes Mockery of Justice

Sentenced by the trial judge to "life plus 99 years, with a recommendation of no leniency," the Illinois trial board has folded and a brutal murderer is out.

Is there NO justice?

Do murderers ALWAYS win?

★ ★ ★

Leopold and a companion named Loeb, the sons of two millionaires, wantonly and brutally murdered an innocent little boy named Bobbie Franks "for a thrill." The killers simply struck with the savagery of beasts.

★ ★ ★

LEOPOLD worked incessantly on his own pardon. All early requests were denied but finally, ADLAI STEVENSON, Governor of Illinois and twice defeated for the Presidency, paved the way for LEOPOLD'S exit. He commuted his sentence to make him eligible for parole. STEVENSON is the father of the escape. For that, HE can answer in the hereafter.

★ ★ ★

And now a five man parole board has given Leopold the right to walk out. Of course, little Bobby Franks has been denied the same rights forever. Loeb and Leopold settled that. There are no pardon and "second chance" for Bobbie. He lies in the ground where his family placed him at the age of 14. There's no sunshine for him or his family. There's no love or laughter for him. Leopold settled THAT— but good.

★ ★ ★

I dislike to think I'm vindictive. I don't want to be cruel or implacable. But my thoughts keep reverting to BOBBY FRANKS and the life, liberty and happiness he was denied by cold blooded design and a savage murder.

★ ★ ★

A noose, an electric chair or a gas chamber would have been an equitable solution. Now Leopold goes free to enjoy life just as you and I.

What a travesty!

The Mail Bag . . . . . .

Well, I qualified for both the Cheers and Jeers. The cheers were letters endorsing CHARLES GEHRINGER. The jeers arose over the sentence: "He looks, acts and lives like a Republican."

"How," chorus several, "does a Republican look, live and act differently from a Democrat?"

Wouldn't you say TRUMAN and EISENHOWER "looked, acted and lived differently?" On the other hand, perhaps the rebuke is fair. It's accepted in that spirit. I've been soundly spanked.

★ ★ ★

EVELYN W. FELDING says: "We like Governor WILLIAMS' cheerful smile, don't you?"

Yes. . . . . durn it.

★ ★ ★

Another letter signed "Vet" says "Can't you EVER cheer for WILLIAMS?"

Very rarely.

Another objects to the reference to MONIQUE VAN VOOREN "and her so large bust." (40-23-35) "How vapid can you get?" asks the writer.

Well, about that vapid, I guess, where MONIQUE is concerned.

★ ★ ★

Mr. ADDIS, of Holly, cheers for GEHRINGER. So did several who choose to remain unidentified. CHARLES, you stand well.

★ ★ ★

A letter signed "A Catholic" asks me if I don't think Senator KENNEDY (a Catholic) "is the outstanding candidate of both parties."

I wouldn't rate him ahead of NIXON, but he's the outstanding Democrat and he's an especially able, capable American. I'm an Episcopalian and I don't pick candidates by their religion.

★ ★ ★

There's another letter kidding me about a grammatical error in The PRESS and underlining my own comments on a mistake made by BERGEN EVANS. The implication suggests no stone throwing in glass houses.

Tit for tat.

And in Conclusion . . . . . .

In Chicago I met our "ABBIE'S" twin sister, ANN LANDERS. They're very attractive women and extra smart to boot (and tremendous rivals) . . . . . Overheard on Saginaw and Huron: "We have two choices. Either we learn math and science—or we learn Russian." . . . . . TV should avoid unhappy conflicts. VICTOR BORGE and MILTON BERLE crossed and they divided the audience in the middle . . . . . BOBBY FISCHER, U. S. chess champion, is celebrating his 15th birthday. He won the two biggest national titles at 14.

London has trained police dogs to break up hoodlum gangs. Teenagers disappear like all-get-out. One smarty kicked an Alsatian and the dog bit five savagely before the Bobbies calmed him down . . . . . Gisele MacKenzie's show will be dropped the last of March. She's one of my most favorite entertainers. Her real name is Gisele La Fleche and Bing Crosby renamed her. "You sound like a strip tease," said Bing. "Use your dad's middle name." She did . . . . . Recently a teenaged daughter was pressed into service with a mop. She turned it end for end three times and finally said: "Where do you plug it in?"

★ ★ ★

The GEORGE GOBEL-EDDIE FISHER TV show will be dropped . . . . . The five big corporations in the U. S. are: General Motors, Standard Oil (N.J.), Ford Motor Company, U. S. Steel and General Electric . . . . . Little Known Facts About Well Known People: A. C. GIRARD is an expert dominoes player . . . . . One of Chief Pontiac's especially comely daughters: CHRIS GAENSBAUER.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

After raising six children of his own, Harry Holt, a farmer in Creswell, Ore., yearned for some way to serve His Lord. With his family, he gathered each night in the farm house and offered this prayer: "If it be Thy will, give us some way of serving Thee, a humble way, a way of Thine own choosing."

One night three years ago, Harry and his wife sat watching a film on Korean war orphans and in their silent sympathy for these unfortunates, they heard the Lord calling to them. Harry responded by going to Korea to adopt eight orphans, who were received joyously by the rest of the family. Since then, Harry, a humble farmer who wanted to serve the Lord, has returned to Korea many times, bringing back more than 600 children for others to adopt. "Ours is a work of faith in the Lord Jesus Christ," he explained to me. Mrs. Holt has written touchingly of their experience in a beautiful book, "The Seed From the East."

Days of All Faiths

Dr. Harper Answers Questions

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

There is only one big figure, and therefore only one big day, in the religious calendar this week — which gives us a fine opportunity to deal with some questions that may come in from readers.

First, the week's important saint: Gregory the Great, sixth-century pope and builder. All English-speaking people owe him a debt of gratitude, for it was he who sent missionaries to the British Isles and revived and strengthened Christianity there after the Anglo-Saxon invaders had all but demolished the early British church.

A charming story tells that Gregory, before he was pope, saw in the slave market in Rome a number of typically handsome, fair-haired blue-eyed Anglo-Saxon boys, who were military captives, offered for sale. Struck by their appearance, he asked who they were and, when told they were Angles, he said, "Not Angles but angels."

"Where are they from?" asked Gregory, "Deira," was the reply. "De ira (wrath of God, in Latin), indeed," said Gregory, "and it is from the wrath of God they shall be delivered."

He wanted to go himself to Britain, but in 590 he was made pope and his travels were over. But seven years later he sent St. Augustine and 40 monks, and the Christian colonization of England in its modern sense was begun.

There had, of course, been Christians—bishops, priests, and congregations—there for centuries before, but the invasions from the Continent a century and a half earlier had driven them into seclusion in the mountains of Wales and Scotland.

7-BRANCH CANDLESTICK

One of the questions from readers is "What is the meaning of the seven - branch candlestick and where does it come from?"

To take one part of the question at a time, we can be a little more sure of the meaning than of the origin. In the Bible, the first mention of the seven-branch lamp is in Exodus, chapter 25, verses 31 to 40, in which Yahweh Himself orders it made.

There is good reason to suppose other nations and other religions had such a candlestick even before then, but the only statement we are sure we could support is that the seven-branch candlestick now used in both Jewish and Christian worship goes back to the Temple at Jerusalem and the one in the Temple goes back to this very early time recorded in Exodus.

The Country Parson

"We ought to be pretty careful what we are — I never heard of a skunk giving birth to anything but little skunks."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Parents, Supposedly Sane, Fed Whisky to Infant

"Parents, supposedly sane and well educated, give their 10-week old baby half a spoonful of whisky to make it sleep at night. Is this harmless, as they say, or do they do it because they are too lazy to get up at night to take care of the baby? (E.R.C.)"

DR. BRADY

Answer — It is revolting! I'd like to say more but I'm afraid the paper wouldn't print it.

"Thyroid removed 16 years ago. Always tired, cold, sleepy and dragged out. Have always had to take thyroid tablets but with or without metabolism tests can't seem to get any results. . .(Mrs. K. R.)"

Answer — Maybe the Rube Goldberg machine hasn't enough chrome. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet The Iodin Ration. Thyroid extract tablets more than 3 months old have little or no effect.

"My nails are in very poor condition. They split and crack and have furrows. . .(T.J.)"

Answer — Diet and nutrition have a good deal to do with the condition of nails, skin and hair. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Young Folks and Old Folks. If you want to have healthy hair, nails, and skin, you must consume three glasses of whole milk, skim milk or buttermilk, a green salad or at least a generous helping of cole slaw and whatever fresh raw leafy or root vegetables there may be available, and fresh fruit and or nuts and peanuts instead of sugary stuff for dessert daily.

"When I go to bed I can't seem to find a position in which my legs will be comfortable. I keep changing position and this keeps me awake. . . (N.K.)"

Answer — Take a nitrogiycerin tablet as you get into bed. Ask your doctor for a few to try or for an order to the druggist to sell you a dozen.

"Family doctor says I have cholecystitis (inflammation of gallbladder). He told me not to eat fruits of any kind, no juices, no fats, no butter, no egg. Please let me know about gall-bladder draining. (T.H.S.)"

Answer — Instructions in booklet So You Have Indigestion? for which send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope. If I had cholecystitis, gallstones or any other gall-bladder trouble, I'd eat whatever I liked.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Denounces Fears About Adoptions

Donnie's case is duplicated thousands of times every year. For many young husbands have an egotistical pride in blood kinship that is not justified by the true facts. Scrapbook this case record or mail it to those who have foster children or are planning to adopt youngsters. It tells how to inform a foster child.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case X-348: Donnie, aged six weeks, is ready for adoption.

"Oh, Dr. Crane," a wife named Hannah eagerly informed me, "we can get Donnie if my husband will only say the word.

DR. CRANE

"We have been married for five years and have had no babies of our own, so I have my heart set on adopting Donnie.

"But my husband is dubious. He says maybe Donnie might inherit criminality. And he is rather hostile to the idea of adopting a baby boy.

"If it were a girl, he says it would be O.K. So what can I tell my husband that will persuade him?"

ADOPTION FACTS

When you marry, you simply "adopt" an adult member of the opposite sex who is usually entirely unrelated to you by blood.

But thereafter you actually feel closer to your "adopted" husband or wife than to your own brothers and sisters who are blood kin.

For true kinship is a matter of spiritual affinity and voluntary affection!

Blood kinship means nothing unless this spiritual kinship has also been cultivated, as Cain's murder of his own brother proves.

God Almighty planted the original germinal tissues in males and females at the start of creation. We don't create it afresh with each generation but simply pass it along.

The procreation of babie is thus akin to the passing of the baton in a relay race. Those runners don't manufacture the baton! No, they just hold it for a lap and then hand it over to the next runner.

★ ★ ★

Well, that's much like the generation of offspring. So young husbands, who often are unduly egotistical about having their "own" offspring instead of "somebody else's brat," need to widen their perspective.

NOT INHERITED

If you young couples who are childless, are lucky enough to get an opportunity to adopt an intelligent, healthy baby boy or girl (or older child, too), then jump at the chance.

For foster youngsters are hard to find. After you adopt them, teach them love and respect for you parents and then your foster youngster will be so devoted to you that he'll give his life in your defense.

And please remember, criminality is NEVER inherited. It is taught, just like piano playing or golf, by intentional and unintentional factors in the environment.

And as soon as your adopted youngster inquires about the facts of life, draw him down on your lap and tell him the following thrilling story.

A medical colleague of mine with a 12-year-old foster daughter asked me to give him the most foolproof psychological formula for informing an adopted child.

I told him to pull her down upon his knee or the arm of his chair after dinner and offer to tell her a most exciting story.

"What makes it so thrilling is the fact it is true," he was to continue.

"Fifteen years ago I met a stranger. She was the most charming, popuar and attractive girl I had ever seen, so I fell in love with her at first sight.

"That was your mother! Luckily for me, she fell in love with me, too. So I adopted her to be my wife and she adopted me to be her husband.

"We were not of blood kinship at all, but ever since then we have felt far closer to each other than I have to my own brother and sister.

"And we were very happy except we wanted a little girl. One day at the hospital, I saw you and fell in love with you. So did Mother.

So we adopted you, just as we had adopted each other. And none of us is of any blood kinship to the others!

"Yet we are held together in this family team by the strongest cement on earth, namely, voluntary love and affection."

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'Give Us Five Days Work; We Won't Ask for Profits'

What's free in this country? I've always heard it's a free world here. But the only difference in this country and Russia is that Russia comes right out and does what she wants. Over here they lie and hide behind someone.

How in the world can they send 11 men from a shop as big as GMC to vote for all the rest? Why not let every man go to the polls and vote for himself? If they go on strike and my husband walks the picket line, he is supposed to get $22.00 a week to feed seven people, pay the rent, gas, lights and bills. I for one know who will live high on the hog.

If GM gives my man five days a week I sure won't whine for their profit. Why should they give it to us. That's why they're in business—to make money. By paying half of the Blue Cross, GM has done a lot for me. In February my hospital bill was more than $1,000.

All Mixed Up

'Lodge Sounds Like McCarthy'

When Senator Lodge called a union member un-American, while he himself belongs to one of the most powerful unions, he sounded like the late Senator from Wisconsin, who, when opposed, would call his opponent a Communist and who staged one of the most vicious witch hunts in our country's history.

Fortunately the members of our United States Senate were so concerned about these activities they censured the Senator. Maybe our Senator in Michigan will profit from this example and censure Senator Lodge.

Reuests Support for Cub Scouts

There is an attempt now being made in the Perry Park area to organize a Cub Scout program.

This cannot be done without support of parents who want their boys to join. Emerson PTA voted to sponsor the program, but it's up to parents to get together and make up working committees before any boys can be signed up. This is a good opportunity for neighbors to get acquainted, and boys, families, school and community will benefit by such a program.

Try to get out to meetings and give these boys a chance to have a Cub Scout program in the neighborhood.

Income Tax-Fax

TO YOUR CREDIT

In most cases you are allowed a credit against your tax of 4 per cent of the dividends included in your income. Subtract 4 per cent of the dividend income (after exclusion) from the total tax as shown on page 1 of the tax return.

You may be entitled to a credit for an excess of social security taxes paid by you.

Usually, this situation will arise when an individual has received wages or salary from more than one employer. If this be the case, add the excess paid in over $84 to your income tax withheld, as shown in the tax withheld column. If a joint return is filed, each spouse must compute the credit separately.

Several Area Communities Going to Polls Monday

2 School Bond Issues on Ballot

Voters in Farmington Consider $1,500,000 Proposal

Two school bond issue proposals, totalling close to two million dollars, annexation, home rule, the decision of whether to become a city, and election of village and township officers are among the many issues voters in several Oakland County area communities will have to decide in elections Monday.

Farmington

Voters in the Farmington School District will be asked to approve a $1,500,000 bond issue to build and equip two new elementary schools, a service building and to purchase sites for future schools.

★ ★ ★

The new facilities are needed to keep ahead of the rising tide of new pupils, Superintendent of Schools Gerald V. Harrison said.

The board anticipates an increase of 750 pupils next fall, he said, and new classrooms must be ready for the 1959-60 school year in order to maintain a full-time schedule.

West Bloomfield

In the West Bloomfield School District, voters will approve or reject a $340,000 bond issue proposal.

Of this amount, $200,000 would be used to remodel the Roosevelt Elementary School, with the balance to go toward installing new equipment in the Scotch School and to improve areas around other schools in the district.

It is hoped that work can begin in time to have the projects completed for the fall term, said Superintendent of Schools Leif Hougan.

★ ★ ★

Polls will be in Roosevelt, Scotch and Green Schools.

Holly

Residents of the Village of Holly will decide whether they want their village to become a city. A nine-member charter commission will be elected at the same time if the proposal is approved.

Candidates for the commission are Raymond Barber, Donald J. Bremmer, Jeff Furbush, Emery Godith, Philip Jackson, George Kean, Margaret McCall, Robert A. McKenney and Robert Wood.

Also on the ballot will be nominees for village offices. They are Paul Kohee, for president; Court Hall, Ronald Oakes and Albert Crite, for two-year council terms; and Harry J. Summers for treasurer.

All except Oakes and Crite are incumbents.

Milford

Milford will vote whether to set up a five-man commission to draw up a home rule charter. Should the proposal be adopted, it could result in a council-manager type of government for the village.

In addition to the charter revision proposal, voters will elect village officers.

Oxford

Oxford Village voters will decide whether they want to annex 450 acres east and south of the village limits. The property, which includes Oxford Lake and part of Ploss Lake, is being processed for subdivision and industrial purposes.

★ ★ ★

Following the charter amendment which eliminated one seat from the Village Council, voters will be asked to elect two of three incumbents for two-year council terms. Candidates are Dr. Donald Davidson, Al Valentine and Lionel Kamm.

Rochester

The nominees are William C. Chapman, Stowell Collins, William J. Crosslin, John L. Dahlmann, Sydney Q. Ennis, Wilson B. Severance, B. Ford Thompson and Jeanne M. Watson.

Ennis, present village president; Collins and Dahlmann are incumbents.

Polls will be in the village firehall.

Almont

Selected in the party's caucus, the candidates are L. T. Bishop, for village president; Verne Messer, clerk; Fred Farley, assessor; Roy Veness, treasurer; and for trustee posts, George Juhl, Dr. Charles Avery and Jay LaMar.

The People's Party didn't have a large enough turnout for a caucus, so it backed Village Party nominees.

County Groups Observe National 4-H Club Week

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

This week more than 1,700 Oakland County 4-H Club members, their families and 250 adult leaders have participated in special programs and projects in recognition of National 4-H Club Week.

★ ★ ★

The activities of 4-H clubs consists of more than learning how to raise animals, grow a garden or make a dress, as many urban residents might first think. Although originally an organization set up for rural children on a national basis in 1914, the clubs have recently continued to organize closer to cities.

This year, the theme of the week was "4-H Salute to Parents," since 4-H clubs are actual a family affair.

One in 4 Students Quits College by End of 1st Year

WASHINGTON — About one out of four students who enter college drops out by the end of the first year, a study just completed by the U. S. Office of Education reveals.

The number of students who stop their education the first year is about equal to the total who drop out during the following three years combined, the study shows.

The information is contained in a 177-page report, "Retention and Withdrawal of College Students," which covers the college careers of more than 12,000 students who initially enrolled in 1950. The report was prepared by Robert E. Iffert of the Office of Education staff.

Some of those who drop out of college at one time or another later re-enter. Altogether, about six out of 10 who enter college graduate, four of them from the institutions in which they first enrolled.

The report shows that more than one-fifth of those who drop out of college permanently were in the top 20 per cent of their high school graduating class.

United States Commissioner of Education Lawrence G. Derthick termed this a "distressing waste of talent, particularly at a time when the number of 18-year-olds in our population is very low. This is the population group our country will look to for leadership 20 to 25 years from now."

Patrolman Slaps Tickets on Cars of 8 Policemen

HOBOKEN, N.J. (AP)—Don't invite patrolman Frank Moracco to the same party with eight of his fellow officers. He ticketed their cars yesterday for over parking.

Police Capt. Edward J. Kearins had just told his men to push a drive against motorists who fail to feed parking meters after time has run out. Moracco took the pep talk to heart.

Kearins, hearing about the tickets issued to eight of his men, said: "They'll pay the fines just like any ordinary citizen."

Rochester Jaycees to Receive Charter

A dinner dance beginning at 7:30 p.m. will be held at the Club Rochester in honor of the receiving of the charter.

Rochester civic leaders and state Jaycee officers will attend the affairs.

Police on Guard During Ingrid's Visit in Sweden

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP)—Police stood guard at the entrance gates today as actress Ingrid Bergman and wealthy drama publisher Lars Schmidt visited the home of his parents.

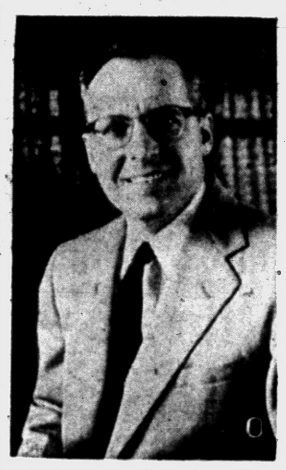
The couple's arrival last night touched off a buzz of conjecture. The Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet said "close friends" expect Miss Bergman to wed the 45-year-old publisher as soon as possible.

The actress is separated from her second husband, film producer Roberto Rossellini, who has a suit for annulment of their marriage pending in a Rome court.

Schmidt's mother has denied reports that an engagement is in the offing.

Hubby, Wife Sentenced

HILLSDALE (AP)—Clarence Warden, 31, of Toledo, Ohio, was sentenced to 3-5 years in prison and his wife Madeline, 34, to 2 years probation on a charge of larceny by conversion Friday. The couple earlier pleaded guilty before Circuit Judge Charles Arch to pawning a typewriter rented from a Hillsdale office supply firm.



REV. WALLACE WOODS

Missionary to Speak in West Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD — Guest speaker at the 11 a. m. Sunday service of the West Bloomfield Baptist Church, 4900 Orchard Lake Rd. at Green Rd., will be the Rev. Wallace Woods, superintendent of the Navajo Children's Home in Cottonwood, Ariz.

★ ★ ★

A graduate of Ottawa University, the Rev. Woods earned his bachelor of divinity degree at Wheaton College Graduate School of Theology.

He has been a department manager for a Sears, Roebuck and Company store, and during World War II attained the rank of lieutenant commander in the Navy as a supply corps officer.

With a background in both business and theology, in September, 1953, the Rev. Woods and his wife, Wilma, were commissioned by the Conservative Baptist Home Mission Society to their present position of service among the Navajo Indians.

The Rev. Woods also will speak to the children's department of the Sunday School at the opening of its 10 a. m. session.

At the 7 p.m. service, Bill Spence, Pontiac auto dealer, will present the work of Gideons International in their program of distributing Bibles and New Testaments to the armed forces, schools, hotels and other public places. Frank Dering will be the song leader at this service, and special music will be brought by Mrs. Carl Gleason and Rusty Rowe.

Schedule 'Live' Music for Oxbow Teen Dance

OXBOW LAKE — The Oxbow Lake Teen Club will hold a dance to live music Wednesday evening at the Dublin Community Center, Union Lake road.

Dancing from 7 to 11 p.m. will be to the music of Bob Garrels and the Collegiates.

Refreshments will be available. Tickets will be 65 cents each. All teenagers are invited.

Discount Leak Raises Query

Rumors on Wall Street Provide Tip to Some Who Clean Up

By GEORGE LAZARUS

CHICAGO (AP)—Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex) said today he will insist that the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board appear before the House Banking and Currency Committee "to explain why there was a leak" on a discount rate announced Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Patman, a member of the committee headed by Rep. Brent Spence (D-Ky), told the Associated Press strong rumors about a rate reduction flooded Wall Street in New York before the board's actual announcement. He said this allowed dealers in government securities to "really clean up a profit."

The board approved a reduction in the discount rate from 2¾ to 2¼ per cent effective yesterday at New York, Philadelphia and Chicago federal reserve banks. The discount rate is the interest charge that member banks pay to borrow from the Federal Reserve System.

In announcing board approval, a spokesman said the reduction was approved "to make credit conditions still more favorable" to economic recovery.

Patman, third ranking member of the committee, said he will insist that Martin appear before the group Tuesday. Patman suggested other Federal Reserve Board members might be asked to appear to determine the leak.

"Public business should not be leaked to insiders so they can profit by it," asserted Patman.

Thursday's cut in the federal reserve rate was the second cut in the discount rate this year and the third since November when the recession became apparent.

Home Rule Charter, Liquor in Glasses

Milford to Vote on Two Issues Monday

MILFORD—Two major issues will face Milford voters when they go to the polls Monday.

They will decide whether to set up a five-man commission to draft a home rule charter and whether to permit the sale of liquor by the glass.

Republican candidates for re-election are Joseph M. Gerrard, for president; Amer Culham, treasurer; Charles Tressler, assessor, and for trustees posts, Wilbur Johnson, Edward Nealer and John Ray. There was no Republican candidate for clerk.

★ ★ ★

On the Democratic ticket, Archie J. Noon is running for village president and Mrs. Beatrice P. Helberg is seeking re-election as clerk.

For the trustees on the Democratic ballot are candidates George Agnew Paul Plotzer and Tilden E. Siever. There are no Democratic candidates for treasurer or assessor.

Seeking election to the five-man commission for charter revision are Richard Arms Jr., William Gharrity, William K. McMachan, Ralph L. Trites, James Van Leuven, Oscar Grondin Jr., and Frank Coe.

If the charter revision is approved, the commission will begin work on the project immediately.

If the charter proposal is passed and the new charter completed, it will be submitted to the electorate for approval or rejection.

Because of the great increase in population in Milford, the Village Council has put the home rule proposal before residents.

If approved, the council could hire a full-time manager to conduct village business.

The sale of hard liquor by the glass periodically has appeared on the ballot and each time has been turned down.

Voting will be in the town hall, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. There are no precincts in Milford.

Forests Making New Comeback in America

WASHINGTON — America's green mantle of forests, shredded by a growing nation hungry for raw materials, is spreading once again.

More wood is being grown than cut. Last year, more than one billion trees were planted. Trees have become a farm crop like cotton or corn.

Owners of small wood lots — who control 60 per cent of the nation's wood resources — are becoming more and more aware of the possibilities of well-managed forests.

Indicative is the growth of the Tree Farm System — a private program to encourage good forestry. It is sponsored by the American Forest Products Industries, Inc., an association of wood users, which offers professional advice and arranges technical assistance for woodland owners.

The number of acres in the program has grown swiftly since it began in 1941. In February, 1958, it topped 45 billion. Moreover, Tree Farm officials estimate an equal amount of well-handled forest acreage has not been registered in the program.

Even a few acres of woods can give a steady income. Careful thinning operations produce poles, pulpwood, and firewood from trees that would be poor for lumber, and afford the good trees a better chance to grow. Christmas trees are also harvested in the early stages.

Man Demands Refund; Goes to Jail Instead

The man, William Lundy, 55, Wallingford, Conn., landed in jail. He had stolen the trousers from the store, police said.

EXPECTS 500—4

Special Election Monday

Annexation Vote Set in Oxford, Township

OXFORD—Voters in Oxford Township and the Village of Oxford will vote in special elections Monday to approve or reject the annexation to the village of about 450 acres just east of the present village limits.

★ ★ ★

They also will choose two Council members for two-year terms in regular election procedure.

The present Council has six members but under the new charter the number will be reduced permanently to five Monday.

Incumbents Dr. Donald Davidson, Lionel Kamm and Allen Valentine, whose terms expire, are seeking re-election. Two will be elected.

Voting will be at the Municipal Building (Village Hall).

Township voters outside the village will vote in their usual precincts—No. 1 at the Township Hall and No. 2 in the Oxford High School auditorium. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Expect 500 Women at State Capital

LANSING (AP) — More than 500 members of the Michigan Federation of Democratic Women were expected today for the semi-annual Democratic women's day at the Lansing Civic Center.

★ ★ ★

A mock legislative session, demonstrating the progress of a bill from introduction to conversion into law by the signature of the governor, topped early events.

Gov. Williams and Dr. Persia Campbell, consumer's counsel for New York Gov. Averill Harriman, were on the luncheon speaking program.

Miss Adelaide Hart, vice chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, will launch a campaign to try to raise $25,000 for television time during the 1958 campaign.

Slate Dinner Meeting

OXFORD—Members of the Oxford Chamber of Commerce and their wives will hold a dinner meeting tonight at the Oxford Veteran's Building. Henry Dahl and James Sherman, co-chairmen of the "Make Oxford Beautiful" program, will explain their plans. Dancing will follow the meeting.

Reflections

SMILE, FOR A WEEK

J. L. VOORHEES

I don't know whose idea it is but we have a National Smile Week March 10th through the 15th.

I am of the opinion that Smile Week should begin with January 1st and continue through December 31st. Of all the expressions a man uses none is more welcome than his sincere smile. A sour-faced business man has two strikes against him before he begins; people quickly respond to smiles. A happy person invites one to smile with him while he who scowls invites a scowl in return; only rarely and in dire need do we brave a scowl and then under protest. This is hardly the secret for business or social prestige. Smiles are the secret.

M. E. SIPLE

A pug-nosed, freckled face boy, with a big grin gets the job, the breaks and reaches the top fastest; a girl with a twinkle in her eye and broad smile wins over the girl with a doll face and a scowl.

Pontiac Press Photos

Girl Scouts Plan Two Big Shows

Sunday marks the beginning of Girl Scouts of America's birthday week. Continuing through March 15, the Scouts will celebrate the founding of Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. by Juliette Gordon Low on March 12, 1912.

★ ★ ★

Girl Scout Sunday will find Scouts in brown, green and blue Mariner Scout uniforms in churches and synagogues, as each girl renews her promise: "On my honor, I will try to do my duty to God and my country. . . ."

PLAN SPRING SING

Spring Sing, being staged by the 78 troops of the Pontiac District, is open to the public. The event will take place in Pontiac Central High School auditorium March 14 at 6:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Waterford District's 106 Girl Scout troops will highlight the international friendship theme in their birthday celebration March 15. Waterford CAI Building will be open from 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. and the public is invited to see booths displaying foods, costumes, dolls, uniforms and flags made by the Girl Scouts of 17 nations.

★ ★ ★

Other celebrations within the council include parties given by Scouts for their parents, in which the girls will use homemaking skills learned in Scouting, and demonstrations of crafts and skills achieved in earning a variety of badges.

City Hospitals to Be Represented at Detroit Confab

Representatives from Pontiac General Hospital and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital will attend the first Detroit Area Workshop being held March 18 at Veterans Memorial Building in Detroit. Mrs. Ralph Babbington, Mrs. William Bedard and Vera Bassett will serve as hostesses.

Dr. Hartman A. Lichtwardt medical director of Woman's Hospital, will speak on "The Volunteer's Part in the Community."

Luncheon speaker will be Lorene Babcock who will present "Volunteer Values." During the afternoon session, a movie, "Hospitals are People," will be shown.

General chairman for the all-day workshop is Mrs. George B. Gaston, assisted by Mrs. James Risdon and Mrs. Eugene McCafferty.

Personal News of Interest in Area

Three Pontiac Central High School students, Charlotte Osmun, Nancy Donaldson, and Kay Hamilton, have been chosen by a committee of the American Legion Women's Auxiliary to attend Wolverine Girls' State which will be held June 17 — 26 on the University of Michigan Campus.

CHARLOTTE

The Cook Nelson Unit will sponsor Miss Osmun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlotte Osmun of Woodland Avenue. A member of the PCHS Choir and Senior Girls' Ensemble as well as Student Union and the Dolphin Club, she has hopes of becoming a lawyer. Her alternate is Mary Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Wood of Owego drive.

Miss Donaldson, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. William W. Donaldson of West Lawrence street will be sponsored by Elks Lodge No. 810. She is also a Dolphin club member and Student Union worker as well as serving on the Student Council and the school's Latin paper with plans for teaching in her future.

NANCY

Chosen to represent the Chief Pontiac Unit was Miss Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Hamilton of Hilldale drive. She is a member of Student Union and the Senior Girls' Ensemble. Membership in the Playcrafters' Club also keeps her busy. She has a role in the school's forthcoming production of "Oklahoma." Teaching is also her goal.

KAY

Serving on the selection committee were Mrs. R. A. Conant, Mrs. Eldon Showen, and Mrs. Verner Macon.

Miss Robertoy will be guest of honor at a shower planned by bridesmaid Mary Lou Lackie for March 15.

Salad, Milk First for Diet Trickery

Be tricky about dieting. Try eating your salad and drinking milk before the main course. This way you should eat less during the meal.

This is important in losing weight since it is the total amount of food a person eats that adds weight, not just one fattening food.

Thoughtless Habit

Putting a cigarette out on the floor of a public building is untidy and thoughtless. Other people don't want to have to walk over cigarette butts or even look at them scattered around.

Go Over Buttons on New Garment

It's a good idea, when you bring home a new dress or coat, to go over the buttons. Manufacturers tend to put on buttons hastily, and usually they need tightening.

Do this before you wear the fashion if you want to save the loss of a button.

Dear Abby....

End of Line for 'Perfect' Husband

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I have been married for almost 20 years and I would say I have been a pretty good husband. I have no bad habits and I have a home paid for. I admit I have stepped out on my wife, but these women cost me very little money, so I don't think the wife has anything to squawk about.

ABBY

"Lately my wife has been giving me a hard time because she has never seen my paycheck. She keeps talking about what would happen if I died and she didn't know anything about my business. She wants to butt into my Credit Union book and wants to know who owes me what. Do you think it is necessary for me to tell her my business? She is giving me the creeps."

BILL B.

DEAR BILL: Your wife is right. Acquaint her with your financial affairs. Tell her what you owe and who owes you and all the things a wife should know in case she should suddenly become a widow. (Pleasant dreams!)

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My wife just had a baby and I have been here in the State Penitentiary for 21 months. I don't think you need to know anything more than that to figure it out. She told the welfare people that I was the father. I would like to get a divorce from her but she won't give it to me. What can I do about it?"

"932776"

DEAR "932776": If every man who sought divorce had the "evidence" as cut and dried as yours, he would be very happy. Talk to the chaplain.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My problem is the opposite from those I see in your column. I am a 19-year-old girl and my mother WANTS me to go steady. She says going with four or five boys at the same time is foolish because I will wind up with nobody.

"I don't care for any one boy enough to cut out going with the rest to stay with him. Please tell me if I should go steady to please my mother. She nags me about this constantly."

DEAR NAGGED: If you don't WANT to go steady, you are not ready to go steady. Your mother may mean well, but she is trying to force you into a decision you aren't ready for.

NAGGED

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: Perhaps times are changing too fast for me, but today I received an invitation to a "Purse Shower." My first thought was, "Who would want so many purses?' After talking to others who had been invited I learned that this meant YOU bring your OWN purse and dish out some money. I am still in shock and can't figure out what people are coming to. What is your opinion?"

IN SHOCK

DEAR IN: I think "showers" that request cold cash are pretty cold.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO WANDA: Give this wolf the boot right now or you could wind up living with one of those men you wouldn't be caught dead with.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self - addressed envelope.

Drop of 40 Pounds Is TOPS Club Gain

Eight charter members of TOPS Slimmerettes have lost 40 pounds in four weeks according to temporary leader Mrs. James J. Watt.

The group which meets each Tuesday evening in the Moore street home of Mrs. Watt is open for membership.

Sorority to Hear Speech Therapist

Mrs. Aileen Lau, speech therapist of the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children, will tell of the work being done in Pontiac to help handicapped children when the South Oakland Chapter of Alpha Chi Omega sorority observes Hera Day Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Edmund Rogers on Linden road.

Mrs. Lau also will describe uses of the audiometer, donated to the society by the sorority for use in speech therapy. Assisting Mrs. Rogers will be Mrs. Robert Nelson, Mrs. R. M. Glenn, Mrs. Roy Corwin and Mrs. Warren Rockefeller.

Pull-Apart Pearls

Ancient Art Reproduced for Homes

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Reproductions of the oldest known sculptured art of the Western world now appear as wall hangings in the most contemporary settings.

Facsimilies of the stylized designs of the Tihuanacu Glphs, an ancient complex society of the Bolivian Andes, have been fashioned into several sets of wall plaques.

Smaller placques in 8-inch squares or rectangles illustrate the "flight of the days" copied from an excavated stone calendar.

Originated by a San Francisco artist, the plaques were drawn, cast, and carved by hand — and priced accordingly. Now as factory productions, the handsome decorations retail from $8 to $15.

How Movie, TV Actresses Stay Lovely

Try Glamor Tricks Used by Stars

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many readers wonder what tricks the stars of movieland and television have to keep them so youthful and glamorous. Here are a few gleaned from Hollywood and New York City.

MARIA ROUMELL

Many stars use cologne instead of water to dampen curls when giving their hairdo a pickup. The fragrance is lovely and the ends are smoother.

Other actresses treat their eyes to a boric acid solution bath each morning upon awakening.

The stars are very careful about the manner in which they cleanse their faces. Many of them use cleansing cream. They use at least two applications. The first removes the surface dirt, dust and grime. The second works into the pores for any dirt which is lodged there.

You really should continue using with which you wipe it off are clean.

Many use liquid powder on their feet when stockings are not worn.

One star has washcloths made into little bags which are filled with almond meal. Almond meal long has been thought to improve the complexion.

SAME HAIRDO

Many famous actresses dress quite individually. They also keep the same hairdo year after year if it is truly flattering.

★ ★ ★

Dipping the nails in ice water after applying polish makes them dry faster, and some feel that this makes the polish last longer.

One well-known actress puts a little bluing in her last rinse after a shampoo. Since she is a brunette this gives her hair a blue-black charm. We usually think of bluing as used only by women who have gray hair.

One actress massages her body with ice cubes, wrapped in a towel. cleansing cream until the tissues She feels that this keeps her skin in perfect condition and wards off colds.

Others rub cold cream on their eyebrows each day or night to keep them soft. They also apply cream and brush the brow into its natural line before removing stray hairs.

Musicale to Feature Soprano

Maria Roumell Will Be Singer Tuesday for City Group

Maria Roumell, soprano, and her accompanist, Margaret Anderson, will be guest artists when members of the Tuesday Musicale meet at Grace Lutheran Church at 1:30 Tuesday.

Both musicians are members of Tuesday Musicale of Detroit. Mrs. Roumell has been soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and has sung in concerts at Carnegie Hall in New York City and Orchestra Hall in Chicago. She was soloist in the Wayne State University production of "The Messiah" and gave a performance of "Tosca" last October with the Michigan Opera Company under the direction of Francisco DeBlassi.

A recording artist having made many radio and television appearances, Mrs. Roumell sang for King Paul and Queen Frederica of Greece on their recent trip to the United States and will sing this summer at the International Music Festival at Athens, Greece.

Mrs. Roumell's numbers will include "La Partida" by F. M. Alvarez," "El Pauo Moruno" by DeFalla, "Del Cabello Mas Sutil" and "Chiquitita La Novea" by Obradors, and the three Shubert compositions "Du Best Die Ruh," "Haiden-Roslein," and "Ungeduld."

Her program wildl conclude with "Depuis le Jour" from "Louise" by Gustave Charpentier, "Silent Moon" by R. V. Williams, "At the Well" by Richard Hageman, "The Evening Prayer" by Maussorgsky, and "How Do I Love Thee," by Edward Leppe.

Introductions at the Tuesday gathering will be made by Mrs. Victor Lindquist, program chairman. An election of officers will be held during the program intermission.

Madison PTSA Elects Officers and Delegates

Serving with her will be Mrs. William Mihalek, mother vice president; Eugene Hoisington, father vice president; Brooks Robertson, teacher vice president; Mrs. Stephen Klives, secretary; Mrs. Wilbur Williams, treasurer and Mrs. Howard Shelley, historian.

Serving as council delegates will be Mrs. Claude Runyon, Mrs. Virgil Everett and Mrs. Carson Cascadden.

Lt. James F. Bale of Pontiac Police Department spoke on "Narcotics — Their Use and Danger" at a Father's Night meeting Thursday. The eighth grade boys' glee club sang.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Barber of Cherokee road announce the engagement of their daughter, Gail Mary, to Lee Milton Hathaway, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. Milton Hathaway of East Iroquois road. The bride-elect attends Grace Hospital School of Nursing and her fiance attended Wayne State University. A fall wedding is planned.

Should Child Be Asked to Perform?

At Home, Parents May Let Him Play One Number

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it the proper thing for parents to urge their own child to play the piano when they have company, assuming of course the child plays fairly well? And what about the times their child is with them in homes of others?"

Answer: On occasion, especially in their own house, they might suggest that Mary or Johnny play one piece, but no more unless everyone applauds enthusiastically.

But in the house of another, the suggestion should come from the host or hostess. And unless those present really applaud with more than perfunctory courtesy, the child certainly should not continue beyond one piece.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter became engaged several weeks ago. The young man's family has not called on us as yet and so I am taking the initiative and inviting them to dinner so that we may meet before the wedding.

"Her fiance has two sisters living at home with his parents—one single and one widowed. He also has two married brothers living elsewhere. I would like to know if it is necessary to invite his whole family to dinner or just his parents?"

Answer: As it is probable that his parents do not know that they should call on you, you are wise in inviting them to dinner. I would suggest including the two sisters with the parents.

"Dear Mrs. Post: For an assignment in my home economics class I have been asked to describe 'Russian service.' I have been unable to find this information in any of my books. Can you tell me exactly what this is?"

Answer: "Russian service" simply means that no serving dishes are ever put on the table except ornamental dishes of fruit and sweetmeats.

The meat is carved in the kitchen or pantry; vegetables are passed and returned to the side table. Only at breakfast are dishes of food put on the table—or, of course, at a buffet meal of any sort.

Homer Tinney Guest Speaker for Zonta Club

"Aerial Photography" was the topic on which Homer C. Tinney spoke when Pontiac Zonta Club met for luncheon at Hotel Waldron Thursday.

The speaker told of his experiences in staff photographic reconnaissance during World Wars I and II. When aerial photography was redeveloped during World War II, Mr. Tinney acted as staff photographic officer.

Aerial photography is now used in civilian service to survey real estate, meetings and events, stages of construction in projects, sports, and capital cities, according to the speaker.

New members received at the luncheon were Mrs. Florence Robinson and Mrs. Doris Scott.

On March 13 the monthly business meeting will be held at Kingsley Inn.

Plants and Gardens Discussed by Club

Mrs. Leonard Barnes and Mrs. Howard Clayton conducted the lesson on house plants and flower gardens at the Thursday evening session.

Received as Member

Mrs. Paul Van Roekel was received as a member of New Sylvanites Club Thursday evening in the Beverly road home of Mrs. William Almas. A March 29 dinner is being planned, to be held at Elks Temple.

Confident Living

What We Give to Others Returns in Joy, Success

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Some years ago a young minister came to visit me. This young man had only recently graduated from a seminary and acted as though he knew all the answers. I found him rather pompous—but we all are, I guess, at that age.

DR. PEALE

"How are you getting along in your church?" I asked my visiter.

"Well, not so good." Then he added rather defensively, "But the Baptists down the street aren't doing too well either." It was almost as if he had said, "I'm not doing very well but, thank God, the Baptists aren't doing any better than I am."

"Do they have a good preacher at the Baptist church?" I inquired.

"Well," he answered, "he's a nice fellow, I guess, but . . ."

"Is he a good preacher?"

"Well, he uses a lot of words, but . . ."

"Is he a fine man?"

"Well, he's all right, I suppose, but . . ."

I had never heard such a string of buts in all my life. "Could it be, son," I asked, "that you don't like this Baptist preacher?"

"Oh, no," he said. "I like him all right, but I don't have to be a buddy of his, do I?"

"Maybe not," I told him. "But why don't we get down to the real facts. You don't really like him."

He protested, but I went on along these lines and concluded, "You really hate him." This obviously shocked him.

"I'll have you understand that I'm a minister," he blustered.

"O.K., but you're also human. The centuries of civilization have put a little veneer on us, but down underneath there's still the old Adam. Even though you are a minister, the old Adam is inside you and you have to fight him."

"What do you think I ought to do," he asked me, for he knew he had a problem and was a forthright person.

"Why not pray about it and ask God's help?"

"Now don't start telling me that love is the thing."

"It certainly is. And I shouldn't have to convince a man who claims to be a minister of God. Actually what you ought to do, every night and every morning, is to pray that the Baptist church down the street will be filled to overflowing with people and to pray that the Baptist preacher will be filled with God's power."

★ ★ ★

"But where do I come in?" he demanded.

"You will come in when you take the other man in. The more you give, the more you will get of joy and also true success in your work."

Finally the young minister did as I suggested. He began his ministry with a real though belated personal conversation to the religion he professed. And his prayers were so sincere and of such depth that presently they filled up both the Baptist church and his own. He and the Baptist minister became great friends and co-workers.

When religion becomes real, it is a real force in the lives of men. There is little power when it is only a formal pattern of thought and observance. But if you believe in it and follow its teaching, it works. And if you can make it work between two people, it will work between two thousand people, between two million, even between two billion people.

Religion that is really believed in and practiced can make the nations live together in peace. Jesus expressed the matter in simple words, but in very profound truth, "Love your enemies . . . pray for them that despitefully use you . . ." And actually it works when worked.

Minister From Alabama, Speaker at Trinity Baptist

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. of Montgomery, Ala., will be the speaker at 8 p.m. Friday in Trinity Baptist Church.

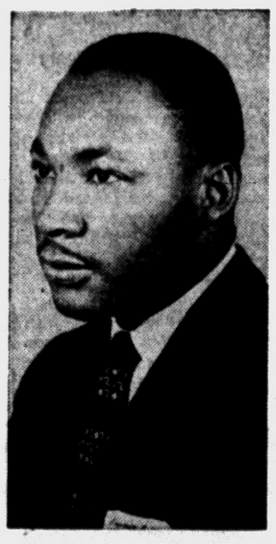
Dr. King was the Negro minister who led the bus boycott in Montgomery in 1956. Although a shot was fired at his home, he urged "no violence."



DR. MARTIN L. KING JR.

Music will be presented by the Senior Choir of Trinity Baptist. A coffee hour will follow the service.

We Thanke Thee, Lord ..... Roff
Lift Thine Eyes ..... Scholin
Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled, Marsh
Hallelujah to the King ..... Salathiel
Blessed Are Ye ..... Salathiel
Lord Hear Us As We Pray ..... Savage

Mrs. James Overton will sing "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" and Mrs. Gloria Gales will give the reading, "Shellbound Train."

James Threkeld will be heard in "If I Can Help Somebody" by Bazel.

Other numbers by the choir will include:

Every Time I Feel the Spirt ..... Ditton
Steal Away ..... Scholin
Battle of Jericho ..... Christy
O How I Love Jesus ..... Morris

Organized three years ago, the choir is directed by Mrs. Anne Mae Murray and accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Pecole Burns and on the piano by Mrs. Hazel Holland.

President of the group is Mrs. Rosalie Burton.

Air Force Chaplain's Aid to Be Pastor of Church

JACKSON CENTER, Ohio (AP) — An Air Force Chaplain's assistant, Staff Sgt. Montie B. Slusher, has accepted the call of Ohio's only Seventh Day Baptist church. He will become pastor here ofter his service discharge.

Differing from other Baptists in their observance of Saturday as the Sabbath, Seventh Day Baptists claim to have given the teaching to 10 other Protestant denominations, including Seventh Day Adventists. There are about 6,000 members nationally.

CHECKING COST — Gordon Carlson, chairman of the relocation committee (left) and the Rev. William L. LaFountain, pastor, are considering the cost of moving the present church, the Lutheran Church of the Ascension on Williams street, to the recently purchased property on Eason street. Other plans call for the building of an entirely new church.

Training School Choir Concert

Reception of Members Tomorrow Morning at Bethany Baptist

The choir of Baptist Missionary Training School in Chicago, will give a concert at 7:30 tonight in Bethany Baptist Church, West Huron and Mark.

The group of 20 voices will sing sacred numbers, including spirituals and folk hymns.

Baptist Missionary Training School is one of the accredited institutions of the American Baptist Convention.

It trains young women for positions as directors of Christian Education in local churches and as missionaries on both the home and foreign field.

Evelyn Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Brown of 101 Osceola Dr., is a student of the school.

Preceding the concert, the choir will be entertained for dinner at the church, and stay in homes of members tonight.

The singers will leave Sunday morning for the First Baptist Church in Owosso.

At 9 and 11 a.m. Sunday, Dr. Joseph I. Chapman, the pastor, will speak on "The Other Side of Concord Bridge." Kenneth Golf will assist at the early service and Michael Sickles at 11.

At the later service, 45 new members will be given the right hand of fellowship by Dr. Chapman; Walter Willson, chairman of the Board of Deacons; and Maynard Johnson, moderator.

"How to Understand the Bible" will be the subject of the Fireside for Adults at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

At the vesper service which follows at 8, Marilyn Barnhart and Nancy Crawford will serve as youth assistants.

Youth Fellowship to Meet at First General Baptist

The Oakland Youth Fellowship will hold a Duo Singspiration at 9:15 p.m. Sunday in First General Baptist Church, 249 Baldwin Ave.

William Meyers and James Madocx will lead the group singing with Robert Kiteley and Glen Farnham, pianists.

Marilyn and Carolyn Davis will sing a duet and several selections will be played by the trumpet trio, comprised of Glen Stone, Ron Carpenter and Dick Rolman.

The accordion band will also be presenting special numbers.

'The Proof of Your Love,' Sermon Topic Sunday

Stewardship Sunday will be observed throughout the Presbyterian Church tomorrow.

At First Presbyterian, Dr. William H. Marbach will preach at both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services on "The Proof of Your Love."

The Men's Chorus will sing "Out of the Depths" by Will James and the mixed choir will sing Copyloff's "Hear My Cry O God."

A film, "Stranger at Our Door," will be presented at the Junior High Pioneers and Senior High Tuxis joint meeting at 5:30 p.m. Providing refreshments will be Wally Bryce, Linda Carhart and the Rev. Galen E. Hershey.

Reservations may be made before Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Stan Levely and Mr. and Mrs. William Bray.

Prayer, Meditation Each Wednesday

A short service of prayer and meditation is being held from 7:30 to 8:15 p.m. each Wednesday during Lent in the Lutheran Church of the Ascension, 96 Williams St.

The Rev. William L. LaFountain is preaching a series of sermons, "Voices of the Passion." In presenting the message in the first person, the pastor gives the listener the impression he is receiving an eye witness account of the Crucifixion and Resurrection.

On March 26, the Senior and Children's Choir will present musical selections.

Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer.

40th Birthday to Be Observed

Bishop, Former Pastors to Speak at Fellowship Banquet Saturday

The members of Baldwin Evangelical United Brethren Church will observe the 40th anniversary of the church Wednesday through Sunday.

In the Lenten service Wednesday evening a program of "Our Church History in Pictures" will be given.

Bishop R. H. Mueller of Indianapolis, Ind., and former pastors will be the speakers at the Fellowship Banquet at 6 p.m. Saturday.

At both the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. services Sunday, Bishop Mueller will preach.

Baldwin Evangelical started in March 1918 with a group of 12 charter members. They met in the building still standing at 108 Home St. In 1919 the parsonage was built.

In 1920 the basement of the present church was constructed and used for services and fellowship. The present church was completed and dedicated in 1928.

The Rev. Myron R. Everett, pastor, serves the congregation of 325 members. Former members of the church have been invited to the anniversary activities.

Rev. Goodwin to Be Installed

Pastor Serves Church as Assistant Minister Prior to Call

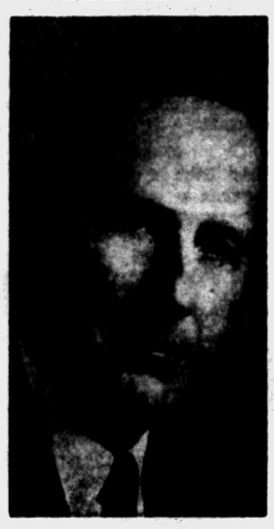
A Recognition and Installation Service will be held at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in Providence Missionary Baptist Church for the new pastor, the Rev. Claude Goodwin.

A native of Greenville, S.C. he is a graduate of Ivey's Bible School of Greenville and American Baptist Seminary in Nashville, Tenn.

A veteran of the U.S. Army, the Rev. Mr. Goodwin is currently attending Detroit Bible Institute.

On May 6, 1957, he was ordained at the Providence Church by the former pastor, the Rev. T. Walter Harris. He served as assistant minister prior to being named pastor.

Besides his church curriculum, he is active in the club, The Business Men of Pontiac.



DR. W. H. NEFF

Second Anniversary Celebration Sunday

The Pilgrim Holiness Church will celebrate the second anniversary of the new church building Sunday with Dr. W. H. Neff, general superintendent of the denomination, guest speaker.

The Rock of Ages Quartet, composed of young men from Owosso College, will present several numbers. Don Bradley a member of Pilgrim Holiness is one of the four.

Former members and friends of the Sunday School will be celebrating tomorrow as Homecoming Sunday. The pastor, the Rev. E. C. Swanson, said the public has been invited.

NORTH EAST COMMUNITY CHURCH — Shown is the proposed new building to be constructed and known as North East Community Church. Located on a two and one-half acre site at Mt. Clemens and Featherstone, it is affiliated with the National Council of the Churches of Christ. The area of development has been assigned by the Detroit Council of Churches. Acoording to the Rev. Harry B. Schlosser, newly appointed minister in charge of forming the congregation, ground will be broken in the spring.

Church Building Site Purchased

Rev. Harry Schlosser in Charge of Forming New Congregation

The Rev. Harry B. Schlosser, newly appointed minister in charge of forming a new congregation in Northeast Pontiac by the Detroit Council of Churches, announces property has been purchased at Mt. Clemens and Featherstone as a building site.

Two and one-half acres comprise the rectangular shaped property with 100 ft. fronting on Mt. Clemens and 100 ft. also facing Featherstone.

According to the Rev. Mr. Schlosser, a nine man Advisory Council will govern the church during its development.

Already named to the council are Roy A. Dorris, Andrew D. Stimer and Melvin F. Wedow. Each of these men represent a different denomination.

The first stage of building will include a chapel with full basement and three bays of a low flat roofed section which will join the main church building.

The community will be served with a seven day week program. Plans include a full time day nursery for pre-school children, a Sunday School and recreational program for children and adults.

As a result of an eight month study, the Rev. Mr. Schlosser predicts that 75 per cent of his new parishioners will be under 40 years of age and parents of small children.

North East Community Church has been incorporated as an Ecclesiastical Corporation under the laws of the State of Michigan and affiliated with the National Council of the Churches of Christ, through its denominational sponsor.

The pastor stated that a $100,000 credit for construction has been made available.

The Schlosser family has moved into the manse at 820 Mt. Clemens St.

On the ground floor of the manse space has been made available for church week day activities and a church office. Arrangements for Sunday worship have not been disclosed.

Children to Present Play, Recitations

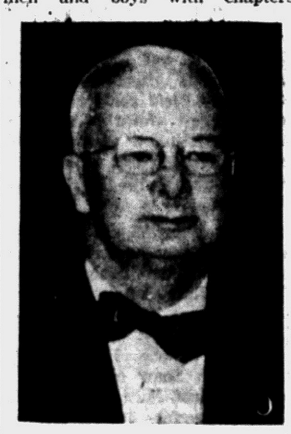
A special youth program will be held at 6 p.m. Sunday in the Church of God, 132 Wessen St.

Under the direction of Mrs. Irene Christmon and Nancy Milton, youth leaders, the younger children will be presented in a play and recitations. The program will also include group singing. Mrs. Dolores Hardiman is directing the music.

Elder M. H. Watkins, pastor, stated the public has been invited.

Thirteen Senior Chapters Organize Brotherhood

Members of 13 Senior Chapters of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, an international organization of men and boys with chapters throughout the Episcopal Church, formed a Michigan Diocesan Assembly this week at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church Drayton Plains.



HARRY S. RICHARDSON

Harry S. Richardson of St. Andrew's was elected president. A charter member of his church, he was a member of the Canadian Chapter in 1914.

According to the Rev. Waldo R. Hunt, vicar of the Drayton Plains Church and one of the chaplains of the new organization, a Diocesan assembly is a central governing body consisting of elected representatives to advance and maintain the corporate program of the Brotherhood.

An Open House and Japanese Tea will be held from 4 to 5:30 p.m. Sunday at St. Andrew's Church.

★ ★ ★

Sponsored by the Church school, the tea is part of the Lenten program emphasizing Japanese Missions. Teachers will be available for conferences with parents.

'Wait a Minute' Set for School

Evangelism Committee to Plan Program for New Members

The Rev. Edward D. Auchard, pastor of Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian will preach on "The Lord of Our Bodies" at the two morning worship services tomorrow. This is the fourth in a series of Lenten messages on "The Lordship of Christ."

★ ★ ★

Music at the 9 a.m. service will be provided by the Crusader Choir of boys and girls in grades two, three and four. The church organist, Alice Smith, is the director.

The filmstrip, "Wait a Minute" will be presented to the church school at both 9 and 11 a.m. The picture concerns the "One Great Hour of Sharing Offering."

The story of Church World Service will be told in the film, "The Long Stride" at the 6 p.m. program of the ninth grade tomorrow.

William Duckwitz will be in charge of the meeting of the Evangelism Committee Tuesday. Other members are Noland Brown, Daniel Geiser, and Ivan Hulliberger. Plans will be made for the new member program.

Following supper Thursday evening, the Junior High Fellowship will continue the study of Japan.

In the day of my trouble I will call upon Thee; for Thou wilt answer me.

REV. G. RUSSELL NACHTRIEB

Rev. G. R. Nachtrieb to Speak at Central

Speaking at the School of Christian Living dinner Wednesday evening in Central Methodist Church will be a former associate pastor of Central, the Rev. G. Russell Nachtrieb. His subject will be "The Eternal Cross."

A graduate of Asbury College and Seminary, he received his master's degree from Drew Theological Seminary.

After 12 years in the New York Conference, he came to Central Methodist in 1948. The Rev. Mr. Nachtrieb later preached for five years in the Upper Peninsula.

In 1955 he was called to the Aldersgate Methodist in Detroit, a church with 425 members. In less than three years the membership has doubled and construction of a new church building will begin this spring.

Rev. D. F. Gabler to Be Installed

Reception for Pastor to Follow in Fellowship Hall of Bethel Church

The Rev. Donald F. Gabler will be installed as pastor of Bethel United Church of Christ (Evangelical and Reformed) at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The new minister's uncle, the Rev. Theophil F. Gabler, pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed Church in charge of the Petoskey and Brutus congregations, will be officiating.

A native of Rome, N. Y., the Rev. Mr. Gabler was graduated from Elmhurst College in 1932 and received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Eden Theological Seminary, Webster Groves, Mo. in 1955.

He came to Pontiac from Grand Rapids where he was associate pastor of St. John's United Church. He served there as minister of music and director of Christian Education.

The Rev. Mr. Gabler received a call from Bethel Church last October and began his pastorate on Jan. 12.

Mrs. Fannie B. Potter is chairman of arrangements. The Rev. Martin L. Bellinger is pastor.

Need Clothes Overseas

NEW YORK (AP)—Any old clothes you don't need? That was the plea this month from Church World Service, overseas relief arm of the National Council of Churches. It said the biggest demand from destitute areas abroad is for more clothing.

Let us no more pass judgment on one another, but rather decide never to put a stumbling-block or hindrance in the way.

Tigers Play Braves in Exhibition Opener

TIGERS IN BRAVES' CAMP — The Detroit Tigers move into the world championship training ground of the Milwaukee Braves tomorrow in an exhibition game at Bradenton, Florida. This is the second exhibition encounter for the Tigers, who face the Braves at Lakeland this afternoon. The Tigers and Braves will later engage in a four-game series en route north, with games in Tulsa, Denver and two in Milwaukee on April 10-11-12-13.

Today's Contest Begins Series With '57 Champ

Rookie Shaw, Aguirre and Presko to Pitch for Detroit

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Pontiac Press Sports Editor

LAKELAND, Fla. — Action begins on the Grapefruit circuit today and the Detroit Tigers get their 32-game exhibition schedule started in the elite company of the World Champion Milwaukee Braves.

A total of seven games will be played between the two teams including a two game series today and tomorrow and a four game series to close the training season.

With another day of sunshine as Lakeland had Friday, a new single game attendance record at Henley Field could result today. Biggest crowd to watch a Tiger exhibition at Henley Field was March 22, 1956 when 3,987 saw the game with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Tomorrow the Tigers will travel to Bradenton to visit the Braves and Monday the highly-optimistic Chicago White Sox will come to Lakeland.

Manager Jack Tighe started rookie Bob Shaw on the mound today against Milwaukee's highly regarded rookie Juan Pizarro. Hank Aguirre and Joe Presko were slated to follow Shaw on the mound. Each was to pitch three innings.

Frank Lary, Tom Morgan and possibly Chuck Daniel are expected to share Sunday's mound chores for Detroit, while the Braves look to Bob Rush, Carlton Willey and possibly Humberto Robinson.

The Braves, who have had their troubles in signing players this spring, figure to be stronger this year because of addition of Rush and several highly touted rookies to the pitching staff.

The Tigers are not without a few hopefuls of their own. Second baseman George Thomas, bonus baby from the University of Wisconsin, was especially impressive in recent intra - squad games. Shaw, Ron Rozman, Jim Stump and Bob Bruce are the outstanding youngsters among hurlers.

Tighe is looking for a 5th starter and is watching Shaw, Aguirre and Morgan as possibilities. The Tiger manager said he plans to take 28 players on the trip north when the team breaks camp Tuesday, April 8th and he hopes to include 12 pitchers on the trip.

The roster is currently down to 15 pitchers as Jim Brady, who suffered an injured wrist and John Drake, a rookie from Greenville, S.C. were sent to the minor league camp at Tigertown.

Frank Bolling, who has been ill with the flu for a week, made his first appearance at second base in workouts yesterday and Jim Greengrass, who was purchased from Sacramento, was also in uniform.

Starting time for the weekend games is 1:30 p.m. with the Tiger Radio Network broadcasting the games direct from Lakeland and Bradenton.

RECORD BREAKER — George Mikan, former Minneapolis Laker great, chats with George Yardley, Detroit Piston forward, before Yardley broke Mikan's National Basketball Association season scoring record. Yardley scored 49 points Thursday night as Detroit defeated Minneapolis, 132-116, to bring his season total to 1,953 points. Mikan set the previous record, 1,932 points, in the 1950-51 season. Mikan took Yardley out for lunch before the game and wished him well.

From The PRESS BOX

Clarkston sparkplugs Leroy Parks and Bill Noles each had better than 40 per cent shooting averages for the regular season. Can anyone match Mike Ribner of North Branch in foul shooting. The freshman starter hit 64 per cent on free throws in 16 games.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Central was among several schools not represented among the top 30 scorers in Oakland County this season despite a successful season. Milford, Oxford and Farmington were some of the others.

★ ★ ★

Kansas track coach Bill Easton is hoping to keep Wilt Chamberlain amateur until the 1960 Olympics. He tabs The Stilt as potentially the world's best in the hop, skip and jump—an event long disregarded by America. Easton also thinks Chamberlain can go a long way in high jumping with more practice.

★ ★ ★

"Shorty" Joe Vasquez won the February monthly contest for pool players at the Monterrey Poolroom. Rocky Rodriguez took 2nd prize and Carlos R. Lopez was 3rd.

★ ★ ★

Farmington wrestlers won 83 matches, lost 58 and tied two during an 8-4 season. Fifty-five of the victories were on pins. Captain Jim Marsh, a 120-pounder, was the outstanding individual with an 11-1 record.

★ ★ ★

There has been a lot of talk about big bowling scores around the Pontiac area this year, but a 100 game gave Ed Jensen a big thrill at Cooley Lanes recently. It was his top effort in five years of trying.

Gerry Planutis, former All-America fullback at Michigan State University, has been named assistant backfield coach at Indiana University. Planutis finished his college football career in 1956.

Pistons Hope to Clinch Second Today at Boston

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Pistons can wrap up second place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn today by beating the Celtics in Boston in a nationally-televised game over NBC.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit-Cincinnati struggle for the runner-up spot and the Philadelphia-New York competition for third place in the Eastern Division are the only battles not yet decided.

A victory for Detroit over Boston would give Pistons a record of 34 season triumphs. Cincinnati has won 30 an dhas three games left to play.

Philadelphia can clinch the third and last playoff spot by beating the Knickerbockers in New York Sunday afternoon. The Knicks must win all three of their games while the Warriors drop the three they have remaining to force a deadloc kand a one-game playoff for the position.

In last night's only game, the St. Louis Hawks, champions of the Western Division, edged the Syracuse Nationals 102-100. Bob Pettit had 39 points for the Hawks who had to stave off a late Nats' rally.

Syracuse has clinched second place although the Nationals' record can still be matched by Philadelphia. But under a rule put on the books this season, in the event of ties for first or second place, the team which has beaten the other more times in the regular season automatically finishes on top.

Syracuse holds an 8-3 edge over the Warriors.

Grapefruit League Schedule Begins Today

It's Time for Baseball Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In the fourth inning of the seventh game of the 1956 World Series, Roy Campanella doubled off Yankee pitcher Tommy Byrne and scored moments later on a single. It turned out to be the winning run as the Brooklyn Dodgers sewed up their first world championship.

★ ★ ★

Times have changed. The Dodgers have moved to Los Angeles. Campanella lies half-paralyzed in a Glen Cove, N.Y. hospital and Byrne has retired.

But although the names may not be the same in many cases, the "game's the same." It's still big league baseball and that's all that will matter when the scores of the exhibition openers come trickling in today from Florida and Arizona.

Much of the interest will center on the Los Angeles and San Francisco teams. The Dodgers play the Philadelphia Phillies in a night game in Miami while the Giants meet the Cleveland Indians in Phoenix, Ariz.

In other games, the Chicago Cubs meet the Baltimore Orioles at Scottsdale, Ariz.; Cincinnati faces the Chicago White Sox at Tampa, Fla.; the world champion Milwaukee Braves take on Detroit at Lakeland, Fla.; Pittsburgh and Boston clash at Sarasota, Fla.; the Yankees and St. Louis get together at St. Petersburg, Fla. and Washington and Kansas City hook up at West Palm Beach, Fla.

The Giants-Indians game will also mark the American League managerial debut of Bobby Bragan.

Herb Score's scheduled first game appearance for Cleveland since his eye injury last May was postponed. The young southpaw suffered a sprained ankle yesterday.

For most managers, the early games will be a time for experimentation.

Baltimore skipper Paul Richard says he will give veteran third baseman Spider Jorgensen a chance to make good. Jorgensen, who hit .291 with 16 homers for Vancouver in 1957, is a one-time Brooklyn Dodgers.

Manager Cookie Lavagetto of Washington has tabbed outfielder Albie Pearson and second baseman Bob Malkmus for lots of action. And Birdie Tebbetts of Cincinnati is watching Vada Pinson, a base-stealing phenon who came up with 53 thefts and a .367 batting mark for Visalia, Calif. last year.

Young shortstop Bob Lillis, up from St. Paul, and Rube Walker, Campanella's proposed catching replacement, will be given more than the once over by Walt Alston of Los Angeles.

The latest hospital bulletin on Campanella indicated the burly catcher is showing general improvement and his paralysis is slowly disappearing. Roy suffered a broken neck in an automobile accident Jan. 28.

Byrne, who had said several times he was considering retirement from baseball, made if official yesterday. He has joined the staff of an oil company in Sanford, N.C.

League Titles Beckon Cage Powers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

West Virginia, gunning for this year's national basketball championship and North Carolina, last season's winner, will be seeking to wrap up conferenc championships tonight. At least one more league titleholder will be crowned when the firing is over.

★ ★ ★

West Virginia and William and Mary advanced to the finals of the Southern Conference tournament last night while North Carolina and Maryland moved into the payoff game of the Atlantic Coast Competition.

So, Saturday's schedule has these all-important games: West Virginia vs. William and Mary, game. North Carolina vs. Maryland. Michigan State vs. Indiana, Oregon State vs. Idaho, Wyoming vs. Montana and Colorado State vs. Utah.

Oregon State can win the Pacific Coast Conference crown by getting past Idaho. The Beavers set up the clincher last night by defeating Washington State 67-62 while California slumped into second place by dropping a 64-62 duke to Oregon on Bud Kuykendall's basket in the final second. Oregon State is 12-3 and California 12-4.

Sophomore Jerry West led second-ranked West Virginia to its victory. He scored 26 points and hauled in 17 rebounds. The triumph was costly. Star guard Don Vincent broke a bone in his left ankle and will miss tonight's game.

Slick shooting from the free throw line and clutch firing by Roy Lange enabled William and Mary to get past George Washington. Lange's foul shot snapped a 50-50 tie with 4:13 remaining in the game and the Indians made good on six of seven subsequent foul shots.

Pete Brennan was North Carolina's strong man down the stretch. He scored 16 of his 23 points in the last 13 minutes and controlled the boards most of the way.

★ ★ ★

Charley McNeil, one of two sophomores who started for Maryland against Duke's all-senior club, came through with the first two baskets in the overtime to give Maryland the lead it never lost.

MSU, Indiana Settle Big Ten Race

Loop Title at Stake

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State and Indiana, co-champs of the Big Ten last season, face each other in a showdown game to decide the winner of the conference basketball championship here this afternoon.

Also at stake is a berth in the NCAA regional tournament at Lexington, Ky., next Friday.

State's Johnny Green will be jumping against Indiana's Archie Dees at the 4:30 p.m. (EST) tip-up. The duel between the two big men is expected to have a lot to do with the outcome of the game.

Last Saturday, Dees poured in 37 points to lead his Hoosiers in burning Purude 109 to 95. Monday night he made 33 points against Illinois. Dees has an average of better than 26 points a game.

The last time the two teams met, Indiana managed a three-point 82-79 margin of the home court at Bloomington. State is favored by 8½ to 9 points by the professional odds-makers, mostly because the Spartans have the home court advantage for the finale.

Attendance for the sellout is expected to top the 13,817 fans that jammed into Jenison Fieldhouse the last time the two teams met here. MSU won that one 76-61.

★ ★ ★

Only a few hundred general admission tickets will go on sale when the doors open at 3 p.m. but the game will be televised regionally and will be carried by a network of more than 40 midwestern radio stations.

★ ★ ★

Both teams have identical 9-4 conference records and the loser will drop down into a tie for second place with Purdue.

Illini Favored in Big Ten Track Meet

The Illini, who have failed to win the indoor crown since a four-year clean sweep that ended in 1954, won nine places in last night's qualifying trials in the Illinois Armory.

Michigan also took nine spots and Indiana swept 12, but the Illini were poised with winning strength in the mile run and the high jump, two events not on the qualifying card.

Other potential Illini point-getters to qualify were George Kerr and John Lattimore in the 440, Frank Hedgecock and Dan Irmie in the 880 and Bob McKown in the 60-yard dash semis and the low hurdle finals.

★ ★ ★

Illinois' Jim Bowers is favored to win the mile today and three Illini may clean up in the high jump. They are Vernie Haisley of Jamaica, whose 6-8½ leap this season tops the record defending champion Al Urbanckas and record-holder Ron Mitchell.

Leading Indiana is Olympic broad jump champion Greg Bell whose leap of 25 feet 3½ inches last night topped the Armory record set by Jesse Owens in 1935 by 1½ inches.

Bell also qualified for the 60-yard dash semifinals and the 300-yard dash. The Hoosiers lost points when hurdler Tom Campbell failed in the highs and was scratched from the lows. Campbell was hobbled with a pulled left leg muscle.

Ohio State pinned its hopes on Glenn Davis, its 400-meter Olympic record-breaker. Davis qualified for four spots—in the 60-yard dash semis, high and low hurdles and the broad jump.

Women's City Tournament Starts Tonight at Huron

The 25th annual city bowling tournament sponsored by the Pontiac Woman's Bowling Association will swing into action tonight at Huron Bowl starting at 7.

An opening night program featuring several guests and team competition will launch the event which will run for three successive week ends.

Hazel Opland, who was 1st president of the PWBA, will officially open the women's tourney. Also on hand for the pre-tournament program will be such other past presidents as Lillian Haney, Dorothy Case, Dorothy Wisser, Ann Wilson and Peggy Bender, city officials and representatives of the Bowling Proprietor's Association of Pontiac.

All of the 1957 champions will be returning to defend their titles. Wards Furniture ranks as the team to beat again with such stalwarts as Bowlerama star Doris Lanktree and other Press tourney entries as Betty Pierce, Nellie Smith, Viola Cargal and Alma Bennett making up the unit.

Wards sees action March 15. Returning doubles kings Gerry Hintz and Shirley Pointer and last year's singles winner Eleanor Baxter are scheduled for the afternoon of March 16.

Prizes will be awarded for total score in all divisions as well as for high games. An all events division will be another feature.

NOTES ON THE CAMPS

When the Tigers travel to Bradenton tomorrow to meet the Milwaukee Braves, they will be welcomed by a painted sign across the Bradenton Field fence which says "Home of the World Champions." Day after the words were painted someone scratched out the words world champions and painted "bush leaguers." A retouching job was immediately done.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers will get some competition right from Detroit even down here in Lakeland today. Local television stations are carrying the Red Wings and the Pistons in action today.

★ ★ ★

Forecast says this will be the hottest day in several months. Temperatures for today's Grapefruit games are expected to go up as high as 88.

★ ★ ★

Jim Stump, Tiger rookie pitcher who hails from Lansing, has been trying to find someone who has a long range radio or receiver with the hopes of picking up the Michigan State-Indiana Big Ten championship basketball game.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday night the Major League teams in Florida, including managers and players, and also writers covering the training camps will gather at the annual Governor's banquet in Tampa.

Delany Eyes 27th in Row; Jones Runs in K.C. Meet

NEW YORK (INS) — Ron Delany goes after his 27th straight victory on boards tonight in what may be a world record climax to a brilliant unbeaten career.

The flying Irishman from Villanova is a prohibitive favorite to capture his third straight Frank A. Brennan Columbian mile in the finale of the Eastern Indoor track and field season — the Knights of Columbus games.

The Olympic 1,500-meter champion from Dublin is scheduled to graduate in June and then return to Ireland. He hasn't yet decided whether he'll return to the U. S. next year for graduate work.

Everybody knows Delany can beat tonight's field of George King of the NYAC, Jim Beatty of Fort Jackson, S.C., Maryland's Burr Gim, and Phil Coleman of the Chicago Track Club. They have helped pace him to three meet records already this year.

But will Delany forget the rabbits and go after Gunnar Nielsen's three-year-old world record of 4:03.6? Two weeks ago he fell one tenth of a second short as he unleashed a terrific last quarter to beat Istvan Rozsyvolgyi of Hungary.

Mel Barnwell of Pitt will defend his 60-yard sprint title against co-holders of the world record, Ed Collymore and George Sydnor of Villanova. Charley Pratt of Philadelphia will be up against two consistent winners of the 60-yard high hurdles—Hayes Jones of Eastern Michigan and Elias Gilbert of Winston-Salem.

Pontiac and Waterford Seek Class A Regional Berths Tonight

By BILL CORNWELL

Last year the Vikings won 15 of 16 games, shared the Inter-Lakes Conference title with Berkley and advanced to the semifinals of the state Class B tournament before losing to Harper Woods.

This year the Lakers were pushed into the "A" ranks, graduation took a heavy toll and they were lucky to escape the Inter-Lakes cellar as they finished their regular season schedule with a 9-8 record.

Last night marked a sorry end to Walled Lake's tumbling cage fortunes during the 1957-58 season. The Vikings were handed a 63-42 drubbing by Detroit Catholic Central in the opening game of a Class A district doubleheader at Southfield.

Detroit C. C. plunges into regional action next week at Livonia Bentley. The Bentley quintet also earned the right to enter regional play on its own court by thrashing Redford Union, 73-41, in Friday's nightcap.

Two other regional qualifiers from the Southfield district remain to be chosen and they will be decided tonight in the tournament's farewell menu—an appetizing twin bill featuring Pontiac Central and Waterford.

The Chiefs, who dealt host Southfield a 68-26 pummeling in Wednesday's opener, square off against Farmington, an also-ran this season in the Inter-Lakes.

Waterford's 7:30 engagement promises to be nip-and-tuck, however. The Skippers make their first and last district appearance, opposing Utica of the Bi-County League.

The Chieftains, although compiling a mediocre 8-7 record this year, are usually tough in tourney play and the Skippers can expect to have a fight on their hands.

Walled Lake battled valiantly yesterday but the Shamrocks had too much height and too many guns. Four of Central's five starters fired double figures, headed by Tony Moha and Joe Olshove with 14 points apiece.

Once in the 1st half and again after intermission the Vikings made serious efforts to catch Central and make a contest of it.

In the 2nd quarter they reduced a 25-13 deficit to 25-21 at halftime. Right after intermission they crept within a single point, 26-25, but the 'Rocks promptly got busy, hiked their margin to 45-32 entering the 4th period and the Vikings never threatened again.

At one time in the 4th stanza they were 10 points away, 47-37, but no closer. A 4-3 edge in the early moments of the 1st session was the only time they were ahead. Dennis McClelland starred in defeat, netting 17 points for Walled Lake.

Rams, Our Lady Bow Out

Eaglets, Almont Win

By H. GUY MOATS

St. Frederick Rams fell victims to one of the shakiest contests it had displayed all season. Gene Wright's club was edged in the last two minutes by a surprisingly chilled Almont club 36-34.

Other finalist in the District 38 windup in PCH gymnasium at 7 p.m. today, preceding the Class B finale, is Orchard Lake St. Mary. Eaglets won, as expected, over a stubborn Our Lady of Sorrows, from Farmington, 60-32.

Where it had been expected that the Rams and Raiders would put on a great exhibition both squads apparently suffered from a bad case of tournament jitters. Raiders collected one lonely point in the first period, a free toss by Frank Hartway. Rams were little better, getting five. Almont, all season long a high scoring outfit, took 22 shots before connecting for a goal, in the 2nd frame. It was the lowest scoring game of the year for both squads.

Count at halftime was 13-9 for Rams, tied at 24-24 going into the finale. A nip-and tuck race developed in the last three minutes when Almont moved ahead 33-32 on charity tosses by little Gerry McAlvey. Don Eschenburg added three more and Raiders stalled until Gerry Dirker broke it with a basket 24 seconds from the end. Almont's 16th win (3 losses) was determined on a free throw margin of 14 compared to only 4 for Rams. Rams had four more goals but fell down on the charity tosses.

Eaglets led most of the way in their victory, but had to stage a terrific 4th period shooting spree to run away from their opponents. St. Mary's shooting was coldest of the year up to the finale when they led by only seven points. But in the last five minutes Eaglets ran up 20 points for one of its hottest single period scoring sprees of the year, a 29-point blast.

Berkley Regional Qualifier

Maples Eliminated, 52-40

Birmingham floundered in the first half last night and the slump was enough to eliminate the Maples from the Ferndale Class A district high school basketball tournament.

Berkley, the pride of the Inter-Lakes Conference, amassed an overwhelming 32-10 halftime advantage, then fought off a late Birmingham surge for a 52-40 win.

It was Berkley's 2nd conquest of the Maples this year and vaulted the I-L champions into next week's regional tourney on the Birmingham court.

Highland Park's classy quintet also qualified for the Birmingham regional by thumping outgunned Hazel Park, 57-25, in Friday's other Class A game at Ferndale. Lerome Hancock tallied 13 points and Gene Lawson made 12 for the winners.

Berkley held a 24-6 first quarter lead and at one time in the 2nd period the Bears topped Birmingham by 20 points. They slacked off badly after intermission, however, and the lapse allowed the Maples to draw surprisingly close.

Birmingham cut Berkley's lead to 45-38 at the 3:25 mark of the 4th quarter before Lance Gentile meshed a long one-hander and Dave Burris notched a tip-in to wrap it up for the Bears.

Two other Class A schools earned regional berths in yesterday's district activity at East Detroit. Port Huron pinned a 59-41 defeat on Detroit Salesian and Notre Dame of Harper Woods handed Mt. Clemens a 71-60 setback.

Maples Collect 10th EML Title

Heavily - favored Birmingham splashed to its 10th straight Eastern Michigan League swimming championship, last night, in the Maples' fine new pool. Jay Myers' squad collected 130 points to lead the Royal Oak Kimball tankers by a wide margin. Maples are also the undefeated EML duel meet champions.

Standings of other teams: RO Kimball 60, Hazel Park and Mt. Clemens 36 each, and Ferndale 16.

Flint Northern Makes Regional

Flint Northern, encountering much stiffer resistance than expected, finally asserted its superiority and dumped stubborn Bay City Handy, 68-57, in Class A district action Friday night at Bay City.

The triumph gained a place in next week's regional tournament at Flint for the Vikings, second best this season in the Saginaw Valley Conference. City foe Flint Central and Saginaw Arthur Hill earned regional berths on Thursday.

Handy amazed the audience and Northern by leading the Vikings at halftime, 30-25. The Vikings rallied to seize the edge entering the 4th quarter, 43-42, and seven consecutive points at the three-minute mark padded their 56-51 cushion and sewed it up.

Reg Gillard paced Northern's offense with 20 points while game honors went to Handy's Bill Wilt who had 25.

The 4th regional qualifier from the Bay City district will be chosen tonight when Lapeer, master of Owosso in its debut Tuesday, takes on Alpena at 8:30 p.m.

Dryden Cagers Fall to Goodrich, 66-45

New Haven, another Southern Thumb team, also took it on the chin in Class C activity at Harper Woods. Detroit Lutheran East was the culprit, handing New Haven a decisive 46-24 licking.

★ ★ ★

Wolfpack Drops 57-55 Decision to Grand Blanc

6 Area Quintets Hope for Class B District Titles Tonight

Clarkston High School, Wayne-Oakland Conference basketball king and one of the county's better pre-tournament hopes for the state Class B title, saw its championship dreams come to a bitter end Friday night.

Genesee County League ruler Grand Blanc, spearheaded by the sensational 30-point firing of Bob Suci, handed the Wolfpack a heartbreaking 57-55 defeat yesterday to annex the Grand Blanc Class B district crown.

Suci not only accounted for more than half of his team's point total, it was his one-handed jump shot from the corner at the final gun that eliminated the proud Wolves from the tourney in one dramatic stroke.

For the 2nd straight time, Bloomfield Hills, won an overtime thriller, this one a 44-32 victory over Redford St. Mary in the Class B district at Oak Park. The Barons ousted Oak Park in overtime on Wednesday.

West Bloomfield earned the right to meet the Hills in the Oak Park "B" finals tonight by squelching W-O rival Clarenceville, 50-42.

Brighton captured Class B district honors on its home floor Friday with an easy 61-49 conquest of Howell. Northville, W-O runner-up to champion Clarkston, was sidelined by Willow Run, 60-53, in the "B" tournament at Willow Run.

Clarkston was ousted because of its inability to protect an 18-10 1st quarter lead combined with the blistering scoring pace set by Suci, who bagged 11 field goals and eight foul toses for his 30 points.

Leroy Parks was limited to 16 points, tops for the Wolves, and Clarkston's cause was seriously damaged early in the 3rd period when Bill Noles fouled out.

Two quick fielders by Jim Townsend gave the Hills a 40-40 knot in regulation time and two free tosses and a basket by Bob Ellston provided the margin of victory in the extra session. Ellston was the top scorer with 19 points.

John Lucadam and Larry Hollister sparked Keego's win with 16 apiece. Brian Watson netted 24 points to lead Brighton to its win.

Fisher Employes Receive $17,307 for Suggestions

According to an announcement just released, employes of Pontiac's Fisher Body plant received a total of $17,307.62 for suggestions submitted and adopted in the General Motors' Suggestion Plan Program during 1957.

The average individual award amounted to $69.79. The maximum award of $2,500 was received by Wayne Stricklin, 102 Stout St., and another six employes received awards of $500 or more, it was announced.

Out of 1,000 suggestions submitted by eligible plant employes, 248 were adopted and put to use. Another 113 were still being considered at the end of the year.

Suggestions dealt with many different phases of operation including ideas to improve safety conditions, elevate the quality of the product, and to save time and material.

Your Neighbor's House

Roland Gegoux' Choose Wooded Site for Home

background for LIVING

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

As we drove up to the front door a flock of birds took off from a feeding station — quail, we learned later which come every day to the Roland Gegoux home on Wormer Lake.

The house of reused brick with cream board and batten trim has been home to Mr. and Mrs. Gegoux for a little more than a year. They had bought it when just the studding was up and finished it according to the original plans. Taipale Builders of Bloomfield Hills did the construction work.

As usual with homes built on lake front lots, the living room overlooks the water. Two of the walls are paneled in knotty pine. The wall which extends out into the entrance hall is papered in white with old fashioned yellow roses on it. Curtains are white ruffled cafe type.

The carpeting is brown tweed. The maple sofa and a platform rocker, as well as a modern arm chair, are fabric covered. Sofa and chair are green, while the rocker has a yellow scenic cover. In addition, there is a Windsor chair on one side of the fireplace and a rush seated maple rocker that is a family heirloom.

OPEN HUTCH CUPBOARD

There's a maple hutch cabinet against the rose papered wall. Mrs. Gegoux' interesting collection of milk glass and her handsome ironstone tureen show up well on the open shelves. Lamps have been made from antique vases and jugs.

On the opposite wall of the room is the door to the glassed in porch and some built-ins. Below the bookcase-desk section louvered doors hide the television set. Above them is a plate rail that holds ceramic pieces the Gegoux' have picked up during their travels.

The kitchen-dining room has golden yellow walls and ceiling. The dining area is papered in yellow and tan on a white background. The braided rug is brown and yellow. On the maple drop leaf table Mrs. Gegoux had arranged a centerpiece to match the room's decor: oranges, lemons, winter pears and grapefruit were piled in a milk glass bowl.

FOR BIRD WATCHERS

The kitchen area has natural finished birch cupboards. Formica counter tops are yellow, as is the sink. The kitchen window overlooks the road and is only a few feet from the bird feeding station.

Although the Gegoux house has no basement, it has a large double garage with space in it for a work bench. There's a small utility room between the garage and the kitchen.

The spreads on the dark twin beds have a history. Mrs. Gegoux' grandmother pieced two quilt tops with eight-pointed stars in red on white. Mr. Gegoux' grandmother made up twin spreads from the pieced tops. A church group did the quilting.

In the front guest room the walls are blue. Curtains again are white ruffled ones. The maternal grandmother mentioned before spun and wove the spread on the bed. The bed itself — a single size oak one — belonged to Mr. Gegoux' grandfather.

Our ancestors were shorter people than we are today. This bed had to be lengthened before any adult of the present generation could sleep in it. There's a small chest to match.

The Gegoux' were the first residents of Lake Angelus Golfview Estates. They now have neighbors within sight all around them. They love country life and wouldn't consider returning to the city to live.

HOUSE IN THE TREES — The Roland Gegoux' live in a lakefront brick home on Adlake drive in Lake Angelus Golfview Estates. Giant trees shade the house and a rustic rail fence surrounds the lot. Cream color board and batten and cream shutters trim the house. Taipale Builders of Bloomfield Hills were the builders. The Gegoux' have occupied the house since December of 1956.

Wood Pictorial Mural Decorates Wall

The suggestion comes from the fertile imagination of western architects who have fathered the popular contemporary home. A wood pictorial, says Edward J. Baar, Seattle, member American Institute of Architects, should be at least eight feet square, should be of exposed natural wood and should compliment paintings and other formal wall decoration.

It should occupy a prominent space on walls or ceilings of living-family rooms, Baar points out. Any space less than eight square feet is not enough — more is desirable. It should be a permanent part of the home.

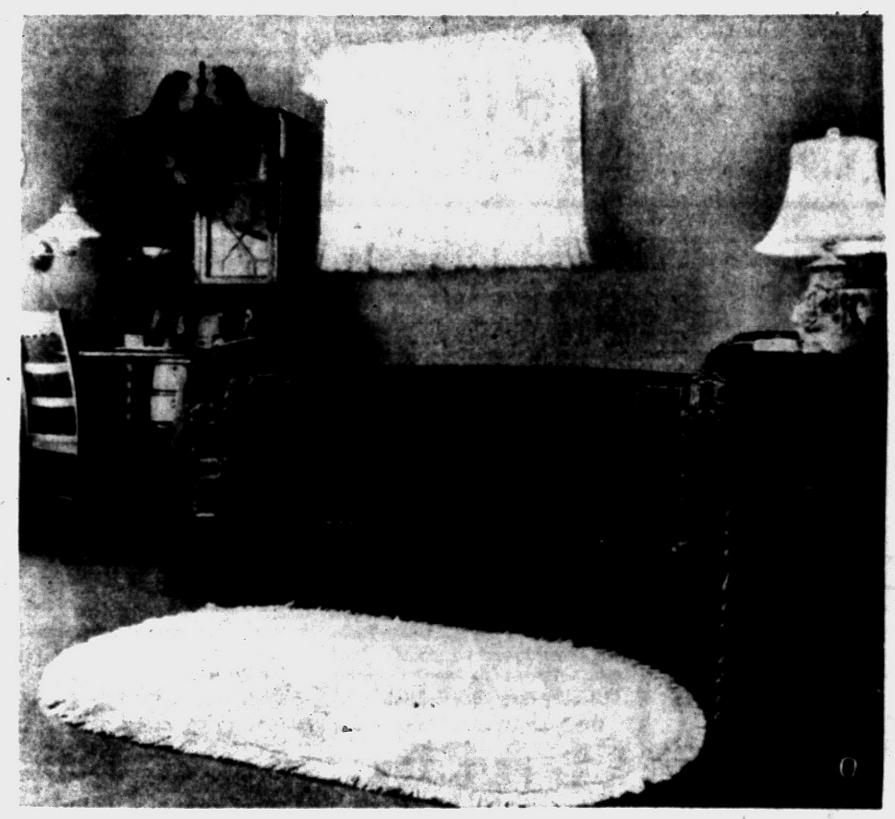
A wood pictorial should capitalize on wood's natural decorative quality, Baar says. It can be finished in clear lacquers to bring out the beautiful texture and grain of such woods as Douglas fir, or it can be stained to match the color scheme of the home.

The wood pictorial should have a striking impact, Baar believes. Like one wall of slash grain Douglas fir which has been sandblasted to bring out the grain more dramatically. For added emphasis, strips of coral toned wood in the form of inverted battens could be used in this wood pictorial to underline the grey tint used on the wood.

Every home, Baar declares, should have an uninterrupted space at least eight feet square of natural wood, for it is a basic human need to have wood visible.

These wood pictorials can be made even more dramatic and eye-catching if they are framed with a simple moulding. Different woods will give varied color combinations.

ANTIQUES DECORATE — Choice pieces of milk glass and a large ironstone tureen become part of the decorating scheme in the living room. They are displayed in a maple hutch cabinet. Mrs. Gegoux reads in an old maple rocker that was her grandmother's. The end wall of the living room is papered in yellow and white, while the area around the picture window is painted white. That armchair at the left is green.



HEIRLOOM SPREAD — The blue spread on the antique oak bed in the guest room was made by Mrs. Gegoux' grandmother; she spun the wool, dyed it, then wove the spread. This room has corktone tile floor, blue walls and white ceiling. Curtains and shag rug are also white. In addition to the stand next to the bed there is an old oak chest in this room.

COZY CHARM — The pink brick fireplace, framed in pine, is set in a paneled wall of pine. At the left is a combination bookcase, desk and concealed television. Carpeting is brown tweed. The door behind the Windsor chair leads to the kitchen.

THE YELLOW ROOM — Kitchen and dining areas are separated by birch cabinets. Wallpaper has tan and yellow figures on a white background, while the rest of the walls and the ceiling are painted a golden yellow. The drop leaf table and rush seated chairs are maple. They stand on a braided rug combining shades of brown and yellow. Cafe type curtains are white.

Ventilation, Paint Are Answers to Moisture

Damp basement walls are the result of moisture condensation, water seepage, or both.

Proper ventilation is the answer to the first problem; a good silicone or cement-base paint and better outside drainage is the answer to the second, says the current issue of a home magazine.

Your first step in making a damp, clammy basement dry is to start outside. Check the drainage around the foundation. Clean the gutters twice yearly, check them for the right pitch so the water will drain instead of dripping over the side onto the ground next to the house, and channel water away from the foundation with longer drain pipes and by grading the ground away from the house. Also, make sure there are no cracks in the walls.

If possible, during construction or shortly after, a good exterior water repellant should be applied. A heavy brush coat of transparent silicone - base water repellent of five to five-and-one-half per cent silicone concentration should be used. This protects parts of the wall that will be exposed after the fill is made. Good materials won't affect the appearance of the wall.

If the building is concrete or cinder block and the wall will be painted, the silicone material will make an excellent prime coat. Better still, a coat of high grade exterior masonry paint, preferably with silicones added, may be used.

Keep in mind that your basement can be damp and not have any seepage or leaks at all. This condition is usually caused by the warm, wet air in the basement striking the cold walls. It vanishes when humidity drops.

Another situation which causes dampness is poor ventilation. Unvented dryers, washing machines with inadequate drainage, and leaky faucets increase the moisture content of the basement which condenses when it hits cold walls and pipes.

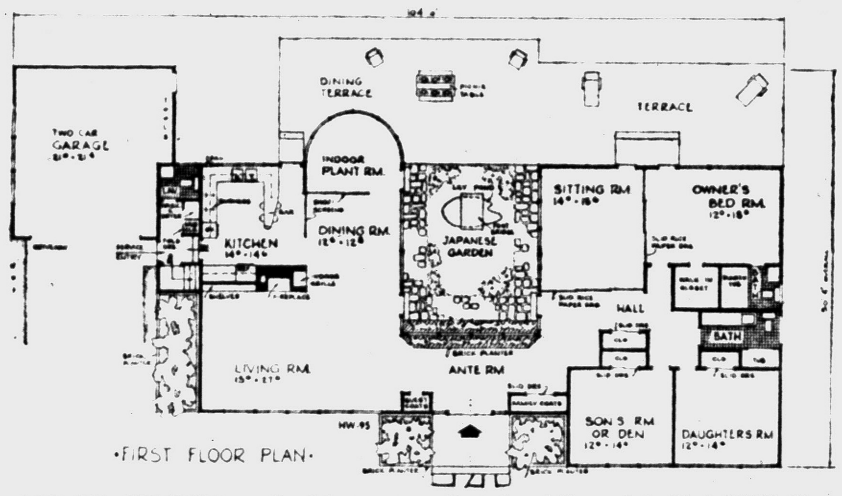
ORIENTAL INFLUENCES — This seven-room house has the perfect proportions and balance of the best Oriental architecture plus the sensible and practical living features of modern American homes.



UNUSUAL FEATURES — Careful arrangement of all living areas, the basic ingredient of any good house design, is clearly seen in this floor plan of House of the Week HW-95. There is a full basement under all habitable areas of the house.

Oriental Elegance Styles Sturdy American Home

By JOHN O. B. WALLACE

Japanese architectural features, such as those which helped inspire today's modern trend in American homes, have been stressed in this elegantly styled seven-room residence. Emphasized also are sensible and practical living features.

As in the finest examples of Oriental architecture, this exceptional House of The Week plan, designated HW-95, has delicately perfect proportions.

It embodies still another feature of Oriental homes — that of indoor-outdoor living where gardens, terraces and surrounding landscape are integrated with the house through open construction.

Designed by Herman H. York, an American architect often cited for unusual accomplishments in residential architecture, HW-95 uses an authentic Japanese garden as its central theme.

All major living areas overlook the lily pond and foot bridge, the garden's focal point. Another feature is an immediate garden view from the entrance foyer, called in Japanese house plans an "ante room." The architect says:

CIRCULAR GLASS WALL

"The garden is not only viewed from all areas, but can be approached through door openings from the living room, the dining room and the sitting room.

"Likewise a feature is the indoor plant room with its circular wall of glass. This area can be screened off from the dining room if desired to produce a greenhouse at the rear.

"The complete sweep of the rear terrace, which is accessible from the kitchen, the dining room, the sitting room and the owner's (master) bedroom, creates an area of complete outdoor living in privacy. The garage acts as a screen, should the house be built on a corner plot."

The house has three bedrooms — (owner's, son's and daughter's rooms) — a sitting room, living room, dining room and kitchen plus two bathrooms, lavatory, indoor plant room, the garden, ante room and a two-car garage.

The dining room, also opening to the garden, has an indoor plant room. The plant room itself is separated from the dining room and the kitchen by shoji screens.

There is an indoor grille for preparing steaks or the tasty Japanese beef dish, sukiyaki.

A WALK-IN CLOSET

Sliding rice paper doors form two walls of the sitting room, 14 by 15 feet 6 inches. The master bedroom has a walk-in closet and a sunken bathtub.

Sliding doors enclose closets in the bedroom hall and in the second and third bedrooms as well as the family clothes closet in the foyer. The foyer has a separate closet for guests.

The service entrance in front of the garage opens into an area which includes the basement stairs, a lavatory, a mud room and a step-up to the kitchen. Built - in shelves flank the living room fireplace.

Nearly all windows are of picture-window dimensions and have wood louvers below for ventilation. There are large wood louvers at all gable ends of the house to provide good air circulation.

Outside, the Japanese garden is made up of stepping stones. The walk is of flagstone or slate, set over the finished grade. The roof is of dark asphalt shingles with aluminum - covered insulation between the rafters.

Exterior surfaces are of waterproof plywood panels with 1 by 2 inch battens over all joints. The architect explains that should other exterior materials be desired, the frame construction is conventional and such materials as shingles or clapboards may be used instead on side walls.

If you are interested in seeing a study plan of this house, send 35c in coin to House of the Week, The Pontiac Press, Pontiac 12, Michigan, and ask for House of the Week plan HW-95

Statistics

The overall dimensions of House of The Week design HW-95 are 104 by 50 feet 4 inches. A minimum plot of 125 by 100 feet is recommended. The house has 2,434 square feet not including the garage and the Japanese garden. The two-car garage has 462 square feet.

Floors Should Shine, Not Be Treacherous

Housewives are advised to apply floor wax in thin coats to keep the floor smooth but not slippery. A thick coat of uneven wax can be treacherous.

Remove slippery wax from the floor surface then re-apply a thin coat and rub it out thoroughly. Make a practice of removing immediately all material such as water, grease or soap suds spilled on the floor.

Trim Garage Door With Crest, Design

Attractive designs may be sawed from hardboard or some other suitable material. Choose a pattern or design that complements the shape and size of the garage and type of door.

Sketch the pattern of your choice on the material and then saw it out with the jigsaw attachment of an electric drill. Even the ladies learn to use this handy tool in a short time.

HOME PLANNER — W. H. Bass, designer and owner of this King-sized Magnetic Home Planner and Visualizer, shows Mr. and Mrs. Les Langford of South Tilden avenue how it works. Prospective home builders can see the size of rooms and how their furniture will fit in. The laminated board is magnetized and ruled off in inch squares.

Realtors, Builders Join to Help Families Build

Seven local realtors and a number of builders have gotten together to form the Realtors - Builders Exchange. With this new organization they hope to help families who need a new home but who still have their "old" home.

★ ★ ★

Such families will be referred through their realtor to the Realtors-Builders Exchange. Here they can look over house plans at their leisure, even take home some planning books from the Exchange lending library. The Exchange has some 700-800 plans on file.

The Exchange will take the family's old home as a trade-in on the new one to be built. The entire transaction can be handled through the one organization. W. H. Bass is the coordinator.

The magnetic planning board shown in the accompanying photograph is ruled off in one inch squares. Pieces of plywood, cut to scale, are used to mark off house walls and represent furniture. In this way the family gets a visual idea of how their new home will be.

In addition, the Exchange has a viewing room where they show sound films depicting every stage of building a house. With specifications in hand, the owners can see exactly what each part is and where it goes.

★ ★ ★

Local realtors associated with the Realtors - Builders Exchange are Roy Dorris & Son, Ray O'Neil, John Irwin & Sons, Ivan Schram and Ward E. Partridge. Two others from Rochester are Morris Watson and R. E. Lawson. At present, none of the builders are local.

Final 1957 Report Shows Less Building

DETROIT — Future construction contracts in December in Michigan amounted to $91,210,000, or 27 per cent above December 1956, Marvin J. Brokaw, district manager F. W. Dodge Corporation, reported today.

Contracts by the major construction in December compared to the like 1956 month showed; nonresidential at $34,502,000, up substantially; residential at $32,014,000, up 49 per cent; and heavy engineering at $24,694,000, down 20 per cent.

For the year as a whole, residential building contracts amounted to $575,802,000, 16 per cent behind of 1956; nonresidential building, at $533,534,000, was up four per cent; and heavy engineering, at $754,939,000, was up seven per cent.

Builders Get Economy Tips

EAST LANSING — Michigan home builders will learn how to save dollars through better engineering at a Michigan State University continuing education conference March 14-15.

Once again, the Michigan Association of Home Builders and the Department of Forest Products of the M. S. U. College of Agriculture will join to present this educational program for home builders of the state. Headquarters for the event will be the M. S. U. Kellogg Center.

The list of speakers will include N. H. Rogg, National Association of Home Builders; Neal Bowman, National Association of Manufacturers, and C. A. Bowser, Federal Housing Administration.

M. S. U. speakers will include Byron M. Radcliffe, new professor in charge of M. S. U. instruction in residential construction curriculum.

Michigan leaders for the project are John VandenBerg, Grand Rapids, president of the Michigan Association of Home Builders, and Orrin H. Weatherill, Flint, conference chairman.

The light-construction industry outranks both the automotive and railroading business in total national expenditures. Next to food, building is the nation's largest industry.

New Clay Pipes Fit Too Tight for Roots

Experience shows that underground pipes must withstand severe chemical and physical attacks. Only clay pipe has such a record of performance. New longer, stronger clay pipe with easy-to-make mechanical joints prevent root penetration. The line is so tight, nothing can force its way into or out of it.

Few people realize how important the house sewer is to our modern way of living. Thousands of tons of waste material laden with dangerous and often deadly bacteria are carried off by the sewer system of your house. This is no place for false economies.

Howeowners who "saved a few dollars" by installing substitute pipe found that this was the expensive way. After a few years their nonclay sewers failed and needed replacement.

If you now have a nonclay sewer, be careful how you clean the roots out of it. Sharp tools will rip soft pipe walls to shreds and chemicals will destroy it.

The ideal solution to the root problem is to use clay pipe with its new root proof joints.

Furnace Filters Need Checking

If your forced warm air furnace is working overtime, but your house is cold, you'd better check the filters in your heating unit.

★ ★ ★

Filters which screen dust and impurities from circulated air become clogged if not changed periodically, making it difficult for warm air to get through.

★ ★ ★

Heating engineers estimate that only 25 to 40 per cent of owners of forced warm air furnaces change filters at the recommended rate of twice during the heating season. Others may not change them for two or three years and many do not realize they have filters in the furnace until a repair man is called to determine why the house is cold when the unit seems to be giving its all.

For proper maintenance of the forced warm air furnace, the blower should be oiled before and after the heating season and filters should be changed at least twice, in normal conditions. Time for the change should be at the end or beginning of the heating season and again during the winter.

Proper care of the forced warm air furnaces results in: More comfort, as air cna penetrate clean filters readily; a savings on fuel or power, as the blower can operate unimpeded; a cleaner, healthier home, as many dust and dirt particles and pollens are screened from the air by the filters; and protection to the homeowner's investment, as the filters prevent excessive dust from gathering on the blower and the motor.

SLICK DIVIDER— Where the front door enters directly into the living room, a short wall divider defines a partial entryway. This ingeniously designed divider wall of easy - to - work Douglas fir, finished in natural tones of burnished gold, serves also as a storage unit for books and bric-a-brac. Mighty easy to build.

NEW INSURANCE BUILDING — Prudential Life Insurance Company opened its new offices at 1350 West Huron street on February 28. The 63x62 foot brick building has a glass curtain wall with aluminum panels. Inside, the air conditioned offices have space for 35 sales representatives and 10 office girls. Private offices and an employes' lounge are added features. Clifford E. Maison is the local manager. Shaefer Realty Company of Flint did the construction work.

Good Architecture Has Certain Fundamentals

ANN ARBOR — Here's a four-way measurement to help you determine whether your house—or any building, for that matter—is "good architecture."

Ralph W. Hammett, professor of architecture at the University of Michigan, says:

"First, it must have proper coordination of space. Many sum this up in the phrase, 'functional planning,' or logical space arrangement, whether the job deals with a house for particular family, or a whole city. Good architecture must be efficient correlation of the necessary spaces of the project.

"Second, good architecture must be proper structural enclosure. This is the science of building, and progresses as our building techniques develop with each new discovery. Time was when man had only stone, brick and wood at his disposal.

"Now there are few limits to what we can do. We have steel that can be used either in compression or tension; we have plate glass, aluminum, plywoods, and a thousand plastics. We can hang space, we can cantilever it, we can almost defy the laws of gravity. Our buildings are becoming technical wonders of structure, heating, lighting and air conditioning. Good architecture must be engineering, the proper enclosure of space.

"A third requisite concerns the economics of the project. Whatever the project, there is always a budget which must be reckoned with. Economics, rightly applied, is a requisite of good architecture.

"Then there is the fourth requisite, and possibly the most important one. Some call it 'beauty.' It is the aesthetic quality that comes through line, color and balanced masses, but it can't be figured, or learned through rationalization, formalized training, or mathematics. It is that quality of a building that causes people to look a second time because they like it. Some people say it is the 'spiritual quality' of the building.

★ ★ ★

"Yes, good architecture can be the city beautiful. It's sculpture; it's painting in three dimensions; it's frozen music. And, like opera and ballet, it can be a combination of all these."

Wood Paneled Walls in Great Demand

Rapidly becoming a basic feature of new homes these days is at least one living room wall paneled in wood. Many successful builders are making it a prerequisite in houses of every price range.

They have discovered that one or more walls of pine paneling are important in creating a favorable first impression on people shopping for a home. In this respect, a study of the way women look at a prospective house is noteworthy.

It was found that a wife shopping for a house would walk in the front door, take a quick look at the living room, then head for the kitchen — unless there was wood paneling in the living room. If she saw at least one wall of wood in the living room, that room would be the first to come under her close examination.

Thus, to many builders, a living room with one or more walls paneled in wood becomes a sales aid. To meet the increasing trend in this direction, paneling of the western pine region is a great favorite. In knotty or clear grades, it fits any decorating scheme — modern, traditional, or Early American.

The natural grain and texture of paneling impart a warmth that helps to achieve a blending of the casual and the sophisticated feeling sought by many people these days. It harmonizes well with a beamed ceiling and a fireplace of stone or brick.

Congress Gets New Plan

A plan of the United States Savings and Loan League for making it easier for families to buy homes is now pending in Congress. The plan calls for the insuring of the top 20 per cent of conventional home loans up to a maximum of 90 per cent of appraised value, so as to encourage lenders to make bigger loans and thus enable home buyers to acquire homes with smaller down payments.

All Building Contracts Down

NEW YORK — January contracts for future construction in the United States registered the sharpest decline in more than a year, the F. W. Dodge Corporation, construction news and marketing specialists, reported today. The January 1958 contracts totalled $2,066,059,000, a drop of 10 per cent from the same month last year. The extent of the decline was widespread, with nearly every major category showing a decrease from a year ago.

Contracts for non-residential buildings in January 1958 were valued at $758,771,000, down 17 per cent from the comparable month last year. Within this category, manufacturing buildings registered the sharpest drop, with contracts running 53 per cent below a year ago. Commercial and educational building contracts showed declines of 6 and 4 per cent, respectively. Contracts for hospitals and religious buildings were down substantially.

Residential building contracts in January 1958 amounted to $777,423,000, 5 per cent below the January 1957 level. Contracts for one- and two-family houses accounted for the major portion of the decline, while apartment building contracts continued to show strength relative to a year ago. The number of dwelling units represented by the January residential contracts totalled 63,121, down 2 per cent from last year.

Heavy engineering construction contracts in January were valued at $529,865,000, down 7 per cent from January 1957. Sharp declines in the public works category, particularly in the Far West, more than offset substantial gains in utilities contracts.

Room for Two Youngsters Can Give Privacy

Privacy and work - leisure comforts are essential in a room for the growing child. Fortunately, even a room that has to be shared by two youngsters can have these essentials through the medium of a functional room divider.

★ ★ ★

A free plan detailing "two of everything" for the two boys or two girls tells how to use common building materials — lumber and Masonite — for modernizing a room for youth.

Separate desks, closets, bulletin boards and cabinets are features. The plan also shows how to construct a radiator enclosure and soffit of "Masonite" over a fluorescent fixture.

Presdwood is specified in the plan because it is considered by many builders to be an ideal material for home modernization. Lumber dealers carry a variety of sizes, thicknesses and patterns for any kind of a home fixup project.

Louvers Add Fashion Note

Louvered doors are attractive "dress-ups" for your linen closets, bedrooms and utility rooms. They're inexpensive and easy to make, with the aid of your workshop power tools, if you have an old paneled door that you may no longer have in use.

★ ★ ★

The stock that's required costs about $3 to $5 depending on your local lumber rates. Here's what you'll need: ¾ by 2½ inch stock for the louver framing; ½ by ¾ inch pine strips for the louvers; a handful of six penny finishing nails, and, of course, the old paneled door.

With an electric saw or jigsaw attachment of your electric drill, cut out the entire interior panels of the door. After these have been removed from the frame, sand out the framework with a portable electric sander or the sanding attachment of your electric drill.

Now turn your attention to the louver assembly that will fit in the door frame. The louver frame should be notched with ½-inch dados (square bottom channel cuts) ¼-inch deep. The dados should be spaced 2½ inches apart.

Slip the louvers into the dados and nail them into position. Be careful not to split the louvers when driving nails through the louver frame.

Place this entire louver assembly into the door frame and fasten it with several finishing nails on each side. Exercise care not to splinter or crack the louvers while hammering.

The door can be painted quickly with a spray gun. If you don't have one, it's advisable to paint the louvers before they are installed in the louver frame.

THE RIGHT HOUSE is the secret of attracting birds. Robins like an open - front house. Woodpeckers want a deep nest space. Wrens love a tiny house. Pattern 341, which givesactual-size cutting guides for the houses shown, is 25c. This pattern is one of five in the Bird House and Feeder Packet No. 31 all for $1. Orders under $1 add 10c service charge.

Multipurpose Room Divider Is Flexible

A room divider with five different functions can be built by the home handyman who wants: A divider between living and dining rooms or a vestibule by his front door, a built-in desk, storage center including a liquor cabinet, hi-fi phonograph and speakers, and a display wall for pictures, dishes and art objects

Designed for a space 8 feet long, 15 inches wide and 6 feet 6 inches high, this combination room divider and entertainmnt center may be made larger or smaller, as preferred, or contain other elements because its plan is modular and therefore has flexibility.

Lumber dealers can supply the the wood and Masonite hardboards needed to build this versatile room divider Various types of hardboard are used in the construction: Tempered Presdwood for the sturdy vertical panels, shelving surfaces, drawer bottoms and fronts; "Peg-Board" panels and fixtures for the display wall on the reverse; and a vertically-ridged hardboard for the sliding door panels

Colorfully painted, the device can become one of the most interesting and useful features of the home. Obtain a free plan showing complete details of construction by sending a postal to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting No. AE-314.

PREPARING THE NURSERY — Before the new baby arrives is the time to fix up one of the bedrooms as a nursery. Any handy man can tackle the chores.

Dads-to-Be Have Work Preparing Baby's Room

If there's a new member of the family scheduled for arrival in your home some one of these times, you might want to consider some suggestions for preparing one bedroom as a nursery.

First to be considered is paint job or wall-covering. Better leave the color selection to the homemaker, but for your own sake insist on washable paint or covering. Now is the time to do the job. Don't wait until the countdown on days before baby's arrival begins.

Check wall outlets in the room. There should be one available for a night light, one to supply power for illumination at the bath table and another within extension-cord distance of a location where you might want to use a vaporizer when baby has a cold. Locate it so that baby can't possibly reach cord from his crib.

Equip all base plugs with safety-type outlets. There outlets have a spring-mounted, circular cover over each outlet position. When an appliance plub is inserted and given a quarter turn, slots in cover line up with connections in outlet.

If you think such a precaution unnecessary at this time, recall that baby will be crawling about the nursery before very long.

You might care to replace conventional electric light switches in and near baby's room with either mercury or mechanical action, silent-action switches. Follow safety-first precautions; throw main switch at fuse box or remove circuit fuse before starting to replace switch.

Take care in painting bassinets, cribs and other furniture that you might acquire from friends. Use lead-free paint ONLY.

There are several nontoxic, lead-free paints formulated especially for nursery use. If baby chews on those, he'll come to no harm.

Check paint labels carefully. Many state specifically that they are suitable for nursery use. Failing such clear-cut information shy away by all means from any paint that lists among its ingredients lead or lead chromate. Lead chromate is found usually in the chrome yellows, greens and oranges.

A finish that you can compound is made from fresh white shellac and certified food coloring. Use dry coloring; water-base coloring will not mix with the shellac.

The finish will dry to a high gloss which can be cut down by rubbing with pumice stone or rubbing compound.

Breezeway Offers Space for Built-In Storage

Having problems finding storage space for the home's maintenance equipment, recreational gear and sundry other indoor-outdoor gear? If closet space near the kitchen is already overcrowded, your basement out of the question, and the garage already a mess, then check your breezeway for possibilities.

★ ★ ★

First, though, make sure the area "can take it." That is, it should be made of rugged, weatherproof all-purpose materials such as quarry or ceramic tile which can withstand any and all domestic use. Wall or chest-high cabinet space can be constructed to house shovels, skis, garden tools, even laundry equipment. Make the storage attractive, though, and different. Surfacing with colorful ceramic mosaics, for example, would be a novel, exciting touch.

Colorful Roof Coating

An aluminum-based roof coating called "Luma-Tint" is being offered by the James B. Sipe Co. of Pittsburgh. It's available in eight colors and can be applied with a brush or spray. The firm says that one coat of this paint produces a metal bound protective finish that waterproofs, insulates and preserves practically any type of roof or hard-surfaced wall

Split Level Is Best Bargain

The split level house gives you more for your money than any other style, says Rudolph A. Matern, a leading residential architect.

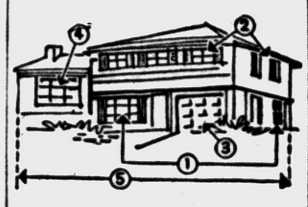
1. Less waste space. "In a 1,400-square-foot ranch house with basement," says Matern, "1,400 square feet below ground are too dim and damp for really comfortable living space. In a 1,400-square-foot split, however, about 800 square feet of the below-grownd area are 'lifted up' for full-time living."



2. Greater privacy, compared with the ranch style. Women especially have a feeling of greater security in bedrooms on an upper level.

3. Saving on garage construction. The money it costs to excavate the garage is less than it would cost to build a separate or attached garage.

4. Better room arrangement. A recreation room in a single level house usually has to be off the living room, greatly increasing the width and traffic length of the house.

5. Less land frontage needed. "How else than with a split," the architect asks, "can you get 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, 2-car garage, recreation room, and foyer in a 56-foot width or under 1,600 square feet of area?"

One drawback Matern admits is the tendency in split levels for floors over the garage to be cold, and a certain amount of unbalanced heating in the various levels.

"But the remedy is obvious," says the architect. "Thick insulation in the right places." Recommendations for conventional heating systems are at least 4 inches of mineral wool in the ceiling, 3 inches in walls, and 2 inches in floors over unheated areas such as the split level's garage.

With central air conditioning or electric heating, the recommended formula is 6 inches of mineral wool in the ceiling, a minimum of 3 inches in walls, and 2 inches in floors.

Straighten Tiny Drills

Tiny drills that bend under too much cutting pressure are easy to straighten. First, sandwich the bent drill between two hardwood blocks. Then, roll it true again using a back-and-forth motion while you press down on the block with the heel of your hand.

Comfort costs so little with

Dody Goodman Believes She's Getting Bum Deal

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Several commentators have opined that Dody Goodman, the wry-faced comedienne, has been getting a bum deal on the Jack Paar Tonight show. Dody agrees.

★ ★ ★

Vermillion-tressed Dody was here this week on her first visit to Hollywood to guest on the Eddie Fisher Show. I nabbed her for an explanation of what has been happening between her and Paar.

"I don't know," she said blankly. "I really don't know."

Very friendly?

"Well, not as friendly as we used to be."

She explained that she started with the show shortly after Paar took it over. She was on five nights a week.

"We were doing very well together everybody said so," she remarked. "Then I was put on four nights a week, then three and two and now it's only one. I never was told why.

"Jack has been trying to work with other people, but it isn't quite the same. When you've worked with someone for seven months, as we have together, you can get much better results."

She needn't worry about the whole thing. She is signing a contact with NBC for her exclusive services on TV. She'll be guesting on the top variety shows and will make "occasional" appearances on Tonight.

★ ★ ★

"I still have the greatest respect for Jack as a performer," she remarked. "I think he could do better in his relations with the people who work with him."

Salesman Gets Wares Back With No Trouble

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Thieves stole salesman Bill Meller's samples again. But, as in the past, he had little trouble getting them back.

Meller sells shoes. His samples are nearly 200 new shoes—all for the left foot.

For the third time in eight years, thieves stole the shoes yesterday, then discarded them—apparently in disgust. Police found them all three times.

Registered Nurses, Emergency Auxiliaries to Participate

Waterford Offering CD Training

A Civil Defense program for training registered nurses and Medical Emergency Auxiliaries from all over Oakland County is now under way at the Community Activities Center in Waterford Township.

Portions of the government-owned portable emergency hospital have been set up in order for trainees to get a working knowledge and understanding for operation of the unit, according to director Mrs. Marie L. Rodriguez.

She said, "In case of an emergency, the injured can't wait. Only trained people can set up and operate a hospital amid the normal delay and confusion which follow a disaster."

Orientation of rules, regulations, equipment and explanation of procedures necessary to operate unfamiliar equipment of the emergency hospital unit will be included in the first session.

The second session will deal with procedures of preparing sterile supplies under emergency conditions, and the third session will be the teaching of principles in use of operating room, under emergency conditions.

Beginning at 8 p.m. Tuesday, the White Lake Medical Auxiliary will attend their first session, followed by registered nurses from Berkley March 17.

Oxford Medical Auxiliary is set for March 25 and April 1. April 2 and 21 have been reserved for nurses from Hazel Park and April 7 for Oak Park nurses.

Rochester Medical Auxiliary will be in session April 8 and 15, with Rochester nurses winding up the first session April 28.

The next two session dates will be selected by class members, Mrs. Rodriguez said.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR husband & father Henry Johnsen who passed away March 8th 1949.
You are not forgotten father dear
Nor ever shall you be
As long as life and memory lasts
We shall remember thee

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ABRAham Massey who passed away March 8th, 1957.
More and more each day we miss him
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
Sadly missed by family & friends.

Marriage to Coogie Is Calmer Than Expected

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Abbe Lane and Xavier Cugat have one of the most interesting marriages on the Glamour Beat. It's interesting—because it works.

WILSON

"Five years—six in May," Abbe said at dinner the other night.

"Six wonderful years," sighed Coogie.

"Do you fight much?" I asked.

"No. Normally!" Abbe laughed. "Over stupid little things. Oh, I broke his glasses once. That was before we were married."

"She wanted I should jump out of the window and it was on the 23rd floor," Coogie remembered.

"Coogie's misunderstood," Abbe told me. She was dining fast before going to her B'way show, "Oh Captain!" Coogie would be playing in a couple of hours at the Statler. "Everybody said 'You married a typically jealous Latin lover. He'll stand over you with a stiletto.' It's not true."

"She trained me," nodded Coogie happily.

LANE & CUGAT

"I don't give him any cause to be jealous. Of course he calls me about 12 times a day. Sometimes after the show I go to a club with some friends and people say, 'Oh, oh, Abbe Lane! Where's Cugat? Uh Huh!'

"Then the kid from Barcelona arrives and joins us about 1 a.m.!"

Now that Abbe's made it as a Broadway actress and is up for really star parts in some pictures, the Cugats are settling down in a co-op apartment. "We were at the furniture store all day today," Abbe mentioned.

Her sexy slinking on the Steve Allen TV show doubtless has accounted for some of the big advance for "Oh Captain!" Twenty-five now, Abbe was 18 when she met Coogie when both were guests on a Vincent Lopez TV show at Dumont.

She was just out of "Follow the Girls," a Mike Todd flop which Mike by sheer showmanship and promotion kept running for a year and a half.

"Coogie asked me if I wanted to audition for his orchestra . . . my mother traveled with us the whole time we were on the road!" she added quickly.

"When we got married in Miami, I broke out in red welts. I was allergic to Cugat!

"It turned out I had the measles on my honeymoon. The doctor said to Coogie, 'I know you married a child bride—but the measles! This is ridiculous!'"

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Sean Downey, whose dad Morton Downey made a mint singing 'em sweet, did some rock 'n' rollers for MGM records. . . . Paulette Goddard and Erich Maria Remarque spent part of their honeymoon watching "Romanoff and Juliet." The Justice Department may beat a Congressional committee to the investigatoin of alleged anti-trust violations in talent agencies . . .

Television Helps Ricardo Escape Latin Lover Role

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — You can never knock TV to Ricardo Montalban. It helped him escape from his fate, that of always playing the Latin lover.

He did a lot of varied parts on TV, which led to his playing on Broadway as a Frenchman in "Seventh Heaven" with Gloria DeHaven in the movie "Sayonara" as a Japanese, and now on Broadway with Lena Horne as a West Indian in "Jamaica."

This Frenchman-Japanese-West Indian is actually a very fine Mexican actor. He quit the lucrative career he had in the Mexican movie industry to the dismay and anger of the Mexicans — and went to Hollywood.

"It was a challenge," he says. "Hollywood then was the mecca, the center of the movie industry."

TV and later Broadway gave him his chance to prove to American audiences that he's a real actor. He's doing just that in "Jamaica," even though the musical is not a critical success.

RICARDO MONTALBAN

"My part," he says, "is nothing. Each scene I come on the stage happy and go off mad, and that's that. I have to make something out of it, and that's hard work.

"I was on tour in 'Don Juan in Hell,' and I did Don Juan a terrifically long part, some speeches 17 minutes.

"But it was Shaw's words—so easy! The reviewers said I was superb, magnificent. In 'Jamaica,' the reviews dismissed me as 'charming' and 'adequate for a musical,' yet it is so much harder work.

207,308 Babies Join Michigan Population

LANSING (AP)— Michigan had a record-shattering 207,308 babies born last year, the State Health Department reported.

Last year's births totalled 2,944 more than the former high of 204,364 babies born in 1956. It was the ninth consecutive year that births were up over the previous year.

Despite the increase in the number of births, the birth rate dropped from 27.2 births per 1,000 population in 1956 to 26.6 births per 1,000 population in 1957.

The State Health Department said births have been increasing steadily in Michigan since 1933 except for a brief drop during World War II.

The increase in 1957 births over 1947 was almost 30 per cent and the gain over 1937 amounts to 126 per cent.

Can You Afford to Gamble?
Can you afford to gamble that the 5 or 6 tubes purchased at the corner drug store, usually at the cost of approximately $15.00 will correct your TV troubles? Can you rely on the "Do it Yourself" tube checker whose purpose is to sell tubes? Or depend on the advice of a soda fountain clerk to decide what your TV set needs? Can you be sure of avoiding the shock hazard* in TV receivers even though the power is turned off? Don't gamble. Call a member of the Oakland County Electronics Association and buy only the parts necessary to repair your TV set. If you must "Do it Yourself," have your tubes checked by an OCEA member and save money.
