Ask City to Annex Courthouse Site

Would Transfer 100 Acres Now in Waterford

Already Held for Use of Public, No Vote
Would Be Needed

Oakland County supervisors voted today to ask the City of Pontiac to annex 100 acres of Waterford Township as a tentative site for the proposed new County Courthouse and Office Building.

The 100-acre plot lies between Telegraph road and the city's West Boulevard boundary line.

The Board of Supervisors also asked the Waterford Township Board to approve the transfer.

Assurances that Waterford Township would not object to the transfer were given supervisors by Lio Anderson, supervisor from the township.

The resolution was proposed by the ways and means committee headed by Supervisor Fred W. Smith of Royal Oak.

Harry Merritt, county corporation counsel, said the annexation would not require a vote of the people as the land is publicly owned.

City Commissioners plan to meet with county ways and means committee members and other officials tonight to discuss the proposal.

Only approval by Pontiac City Commission and the Waterford Township Board is needed to annex the property.

Slashings Leave Paraders Unruffled

NEW YORK (AP)—Easter paraders, happy and smiling in the spring sunshine, jammed Fifth avenue for their traditional stroll yesterday. But one man in their midst had little spirit for the occasion.

After dresses of about 15 women were slashed from behind, police arrested a razor-carrying Joaquin Gonzalez, 27. He denied cutting the dresses but told police, "I have no use for women—they cheat and they lie."

Later in court he struck at a patrolman and bit and scratched him. He was held for investigation of the dress slashing and for felonious assault on the policeman. Police said he had once been a mental patient.

Only a few in the Easter throng were aware of the dress slashings. Most enjoyed the fine weather and the display of new spring outfits.

Peasant Never to Know About Birth of Children

ROSARNO, Italy (AP)—His wife awakened Vincenzo Fedele, 42-year-old peasant of this Calabrian village, and told him the baby was about to be born.

It was storming outside as Fedele left their isolated house to get a doctor.

He was struck by lightning and killed.

Persons who went to his house to tell his wife were greeted by cries of the new babies—twins.

Boy's Heartache Is Eased by Gift-Pup's Tiny Bites

Little Doug Sheffield got his toes nipped Saturday and it actually felt good.

Those tiny bites eased the pain that has gnawed at the 8-year-old boy's heart since a truck killed his dog, Sandy, last Thursday.

The nipper was a small black Cocker Spaniel who joined the Sheffield household, precisely at 2:30 p. m. Saturday when Doug fell in love with him.

Chider, as Doug calls him, was given to the boy by Oliver Hessam, 5324 Sashabaw Rd., who learned of Sandy's death through a picture and story in the Pontiac Press.

Several persons, including a man in Kentucky, offered dogs to replace Sandy.

So Saturday Doug and his mother, Mrs. Walter S. Sheffield, decided to call on the people who made the generous offers.

Messam's house was the first.

Churches Are Filled

EASTER MORNING—Pontiac churches were filled with capacity crowds for services Easter and many held two services to accommodate the worshipers. Above picture was taken at the entrance of First Presbyterian Church on West Huron street. Shown are Miss Marian Frizzle (left) of 2749 Mott St. and Miss Mary Ann Michie, Pontiac Lake road. Risen Christ Proclaimed in Easter Church Services

With ideal weather for the day, Christians in Pontiac and vicinity turned out in large numbers Sunday to hail the Resurrection of Christ.

From early dawn and into the evening churches held traditional services marking joyful end of the three day period of sorrow which opens with Good Friday.

Hallelujah choruses and other hymns of praise and adoration were a marked contrast to the songs of the Cross sung on Friday.

The black drapings of altars in liturgical churches were changed to white. Flowers, symbolizing the miracle of the Resurrection, were banked on altars in all of the churches.

Many of these flowers were given as memorials for loved ones, bespeaking the donors' faith in the Resurrection.

Some of the Pontiac Churches held duplicate services to take care of the crowds, and in all of the churches record attendances were reported.

Babies were dedicated in many churches, and new members were received, in others.

The day was the traditional day of victory for the Christian Church. In St. George Greek Orthodox Church, Palm Sunday was observed with Holy Week events coming next week climaxed with Easter next Sunday.

Hollyday to Give Housing Scandal Data to Probers

Committee Is Interested in Why FHA Neglected to Stop Irregularities

WASHINGTON (UP)—Ousted Federal Housing Commissioner Guy T. O. Hollyday was scheduled as the lead-off witness today as the Senate Banking Committee opened public hearings on the multi-million-dollar housing scandal.

Chairman Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind) said he would demand to know why Hollyday and Assistant Commissioner Clyde D. Powell—also called to testify—didn't stop the irregularities.

He said he also would ask why they didn't propose legislation to deal with the problem and why they didn't mention the irregularities in previous testimony before his committee.

"Out aim at the moment is to see if we can find out enough about the abuses to be able to amend the housing law to prevent further irregularities," Capehart said. "Afterward, we'll try to fix responsibility for the scandal itself."

Federal Housing Chief Albert M. Cole, who is in overall charge of the administration's investigation, said Sunday night there is evidence that a former official of the F.H.A. was paid for "favors."

He declined to identify the man but said the charges against him included "willful and serious violation of the law." An attempt will be made to prosecute, he said, if the evidence is sufficient.

Cole revealed in an interview that there is evidence of more wrongdoing than he disclosed Monday when he first described the nature and scope of the administration crackdown.

At that time he said two main charges were involved:

1. That hundreds of apartment builders reaped "windfall" profits by getting far bigger government-backed loans than they needed to cover project costs.

2. That chiselers cheated thousands of home owners by saddling them with inflated federally-insured loans for home improvements.

Capehart said it is his guess that the new abuses Cole is talking about concern cooperative and military housing programs in which the F.H.A. guarantees up to 95 per cent of the loans.

Cole, who will appear before Capehart's committee Tuesday, said President Eisenhower asked Hollyday to resign because he "condoned" negligence by other F.H.A. officials.

He conceded the former commissioner had an inadequate investigative staff but charged that even with what he had "he failed to follow through with cases that were found fraudulent."

Pontiac Tot, 3, Killed Playing With Pistol

A three-year-old Pontiac girl was shot to death Saturday night when she accidentally pulled the trigger of a pistol lying in a buffet drawer.

Irvine Lee Marshall, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Marshall of 31 Crawford St., was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital. She had been shot through the chest.

The girl's father and a visitor to the Marshall home told Pontiac Police the child reached into the top drawer while playing and grabbed the loaded .38 caliber automatic.

Marshall said he kept the unregistered, war-souvenir pistol for protection.

First Lady Has Her Own Easter Parade

Easter Monday Egg Roll Held at White House

The south grounds of the White House were thrown open to Washington's younger generation today for the annual Easter Monday egg roll.

After dozens of small-scale Easter parades in Detroit neighborhoods yesterday, many thousands of persons headed for the state fairgrounds. An estimated thirty thousand, in fact, visited the do-it-yourself exhibit at the fairgrounds.

"The number one suit for all ages," said Menscher, New York's Fifth Avenue Easter fame, "is dark, very dark, charcoal gray. With it goes a pink shirt with the new rounded, pinned collar, or button-down collar. Rounded is the number one collar."

"The number one tie," he said, "Two inches wide all the way down—stripes horizontal, not diagonal. By next fall," he said happily, "all the well-dressed men and boys in America will look like undertakers. Darker and darker suits—you'll see nothing but black-gray, black-blue, black-brown, very new that, and black-black."

Urges Indochina Action by U. N.

GOP Senator Warns
Against U.S. Unilateral
Military Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif) proposed today that America seek United Nations action and avoid any single-handed military attempt to save Indochina from the Communists.

Amid a growing controversy over Vice President Nixon's statement that this country might send troops to Indochina as a last resort, Kuchel said, "I don't believe we can put fires out all over the world single-handedly."

"We ought to take the case before the United Nations and ask for united action there," he said in an interview.

"The 16 nations that signed the Korean truce," he said, "pledged themselves to a joint effort to prevent aggression and our allies should be called upon for help."

Nixon told the American Society of Newspaper Editors last Friday he thought French withdrawal from Indochina unlikely, but that if that happened and other means failed the United States might have to send troops.

France so far has opposed submitting the Indochina matter to the United Nations.

Although Nixon's statement indicated to many in Congress that the administration is resolved to hold Indochina even at the cost of

French Battle Desperately to Halt Vietminh Advance

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—The French fought furiously today to hold back Vietminh assault troops stabbing toward the center of Dien Bien Phu's fortifications from the northwest.

The rebels were in a newly menacing position after weekend fighting widened their break in the northwestern rim of the fortress' defense system. They captured a second outpost yesterday and filtered back last night into trenches on the main Dien Bien Phu airstrip.

Vietminh pressure also was reported increasing against the southernmost stronghold of the French-held plain.

Bayonet-yielding French infantryman had driven the Vietminh from airfield entrenchments for a few hours yesterday.

But the latest infiltration re-established their foothold in the shadow of French headquarters' bunkers, just 800 yards away.

A terse French army communique said heavy fighting in the sector still raged today. French tanks and artillery blasted at the Vietminh troops taking cover in trenches running across the northern part of the airstrip. French Union troops charged them in hand-to-hand encounters.

French army spokesmen said thus far there had been "losses on both sides."

An army spokesman said the Vietminh still in the airstrip trenches "were not in considerable strength." But they were bitterly (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

McCarthy Row Hits Showdown

Senator Standing Pat in Demands to Retain Questioning Powers

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and his Senate Investigations subcommittee head for a showdown today on whether he will be allowed to take part in questioning of witnesses at hearings on his dispute with the Army.

The Wisconsin Republican reportedly intends to stand pat against efforts to bar him from doing this. He was scheduled to meet with the group today to iron out the issue.

Also to be settled is whether McCarthy will withdraw as a member of the group during the broadcast—television hearings scheduled to open Thursday.

He already has agreed to step down as chairman during the probe, which acting Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-SD), has described as an "unprecedented" case of a committee investigating its own staff and top member.

McCarthy and his chief counsel were expected to file a formal statement at today's meeting with which they plan to bolster their case against Army officials, who have accused them of "improper" interference.

Their statement of specifications, a reply to one submitted by the Army last week and prematurely leaked to the press, is (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

AP Writer Presents Indochina Outlook

Will the war in Indochina explode into World War III?
What are the possibilities of saving the country from Communist domination? Will the struggle become another Korea?
These are some of the questions William L. Ryan, Associated Press specialist on Communist affairs, will attempt to answer in a series of three articles, the first of which appears today on page 17.

May Discuss Nixon's Statement on Entering Asian War

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles confer here today on American efforts to bolster Indochina against the Reds and save the rest of Southeast Asia from Communist aggression.

The President sent his private plane, The Columbine, to Washington for Dulles, who will give a first-hand report on his London and Paris negotiations last week to work out a Pacific defense alliance.

Dulles planned to lunch with the President at his Easter holiday headquarters at the Augusta National Golf Club then fly back to Washington in the late afternoon.

One aspect of the Eisenhower-Dulles conference may be the controversy touched off in Congress by Vice President Nixon's statement Friday, in reply to a hypothetical question, that American troops might have to be sent into Indochina if the French withdrew.

Nixon prefaced his answer, however, by saying he doesn't think the French will pull out.

The vice president spoke at a meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and stipulated at the time that his remarks were not to be attributed to him. But the identity of the speaker later leaked out.

Eisenhower's headquarters has declined comment on whether Nixon's statement represents administration policy. James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, refused comment specifically last night on a demand by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) that Eisenhower make his policies clear with respect to Indochina.

Dulles also plans to consult with the President regarding the Geneva meeting and an NATO conference he will attend in Paris before going to Switzerland. He leaves for France by plane tomorrow night.

Eisenhower plans to fly back to Washington Thursday afternoon for a brief informal talk at a meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution, then go on to New York for a major address that night before the American Newspaper Publishers Assn.

The President's headquarters announced over the weekend that he will call on American Newspapers to help "transform an age of atomic hysteria and horror into an age of international understanding and cooperative peace." The speech will be broadcast nationwide.

AFL Leader Asks Action on Peace Pact With CIO

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top AFL official today urged the AFL and CIO to go ahead with a proposed peace pact despite the fact some major AFL unions are against it.

Al Hayes, president of the 700,000 member AFL Machinists Union and an AFL vice president, said if unions already willing to go along would do so, despite the hold-outs, a "no raiding area" covering about 16 million workers could be established immediately.

Raiding is the term applied to the practice of persuading members of one union to transfer to another. Both the AFL and CIO have been trying to stop it.

An armistice against the practice, they said, is a necessary first step toward an AFL-CIO merger.

Reluctance on the part of some AFL unions to ratify the proposed no-raiding plan—already approved by the AFL and CIO conventions—is what has been holding it up.

Under the agreement, any union claims to jurisdiction over workers already organized would

ROKs to Attend Geneva Parley

President Rhee Utters Thinly Veiled Threat of Korean Action

SEOUL — President Syngman Rhee announced today that South Korea will attend the Geneva conference opening next week. But he warned it is "a final time-consuming attempt" to unite Korea by peaceful means.

He didn't say what his government would do if the conference fails. But there was a thinly veiled threat in his statement that "we obviously cannot continue to sit idly by while the Communists exterminate or exile our people to the North and make a Red Chinese province out of half our country."

The peppy 77-year-old President said "clear and encouraging" assurances from the United States "enable us to go to Geneva with confidence and considerable hope."

Rhee didn't elaborate on the assurances. But in New York Yoo Chang Yang, Korean ambassador to the United States, said his nation had been assured (1) the United States will aid in greatly increasing the Republic of Korea's army and (2) a prime objective of the conference will be to reunite all of Korea and eliminate all Red Chinese troops from that country.

A highly placed Korean source said the assurances were contained in a letter from President Eisenhower delivered to Rhee Sunday by U. S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs.

The ROK delegation left Seoul today for Pusan on the first leg of its trip to Switzerland.

County Passes Budget Plan

Tax Board Preparing to Review Figures for Millage Split-up

Oakland County Board of Supervisors today passed a tentative budget of $6,513,164.84 to pay county government costs during 1955.

The budget, $463,567.64 higher than this year's was sent to the county tax allocation board, the tax board met this afternoon to choose a chairman and get ready to start splitting the 15 mills of taxes allowed here—between the county, school systems and townships.

The tentative budget, drafted by the county board of auditors, came through a week of study by the supervisors' ways and means committee and salaries without and changes.

The biggest single increase in next year's budget is $330,655.50 more for salaries.

Another sizable increase is $40,363 more for Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, which runs several big parks here. The tentative budget includes $325,000 for the Authority.

Operating costs are $64,361.64 higher for next year as the county's growth in people calls for more service from the children's home, infirmary, health department and other county departments.

County men think the county will get $1,805,597.25 in fees and other receipts next year, leaving $4,707,567.59 to be raised by taxes. But auditors think the county has enough new homes, businesses and industry so the county tax rate can be held down to this year's 5.23 mills ($5.25 on every $1,000 worth of property as valued by the county) and still balance the budget.

McCarthy Refuses to Give Up Powers expected to raise new allegations against Army leaders whom he already has charged with "blackmail" and other offenses.

McCarthy returned to Washington Sunday after an Arizona vacation to recover from a virus infection and laryngitis.

Meanwhile, it was learned by International News Service that Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens have replied to the senator's query on the number of requests by congressmen for special treatment of Armed Service personnel.

The McCarthy-Army controversy centers around former subcommittee aide G. David Schine, now a private in Military Police training at Camp Gordon, Ga.

The Army has charged that McCarthy and Cohn through "improper means" sought special favors for Schine. The senator and his aide countered that the Army tried to hold their former colleague a "hostage" in an attempt to block a probe of Communist infiltration into that branch of the Armed Forces.

Wilson and Stevens told McCarthy that their offices receive thousands of "inquiries" annually from congressmen.

The two officials said, however, that only on "rare" occasions have any lawmakers sought special favors for servicemen.

French Fight to Halt Vietnam Advance resisting attempts to dislodge them.

The spokesmen added that the French were continuing to bolster their defense barricades in the northwestern corner of the fortress and also those in the northeastern sector.

American civilian pilots operating Flying Boxcars dropped tons more ammunition and war material into the fortress.

The Vietnamese already hold a key height in this same sector, and have launched several infantry attacks from it. The French think much of the force of the next rebel mass assault they expect at any time will come from that sector.

There still is no indication when this expected all-out strike will come.

It is thought, however, that the Communist Vietnamese commanders will try for a major victory to influence the East-West conference starting in Geneva April 26.

he bites," smiled Doug. "He chewed on my toes yesterday."

Hessam said he had sold the other puppies, and only had Cider left.

"When I read about Doug and Sandy in the Pontiac Press, I decided not to sell the other pup. That boy needed that dog."

Cider is about eight weeks old. He stays in a little box-bed that Doug made for him Saturday afternoon.

Will Cider ever replace Sandy?

"Boy, he sure is a nice dog," said Doug.

That's the answer.

Lodge Brands Communist China Unfit to Join U. N.

NEW YORK — Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said today Red China is giving substantial aid to aggression in Indochina and that it is "unfit" to join the United Nations.

He gave 10 reasons why the United States would resist any efforts of the Chinese Communists to "bribe" their way into the U.N. with promises of future good behavior.

His statement delivered at The Associated Press annual luncheon, significantly came only a week before the opening of the Geneva conference. Red China will send representatives to the conference to discuss a Korean war settlement.

"I can promise you that the United States will steadfastly resist all maneuvers by the Chinese Communist regime and its advocates to bribe its way into the United Nations on mere promises of good behavior in the future," he said in a prepared address.

Sign Pact With CIO, AFL Leader Urges

be settled on a binding basis by a neutral judge.

Ever since the AFL reported last February that only 40 of its 110 unions were willing to accept the plan, interest in the idea has been waning. The CIO, which had been ready to sign for virtually all its unions, began to lose interest.

However, Hayes reported that more than 65 AFL unions now are willing to go along. This indicated a great deal of active persuasion within the organization on the part of AFL President George Meany. He and the CIO president, Walter Reuther, are the main sparkplugs of the no-raiding plan.

One of the major holdouts is the 1,300,000-member AFL Teamsters Union headed by Dave Beck.

Beck has expressed doubt that any type of arbitration or neutral judging of labor union rivalries can be made to stick. He favors bargaining out such troubles between unions.

4-Car Chain Crash Sends 3 to Hospital

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A fourth car crashing into the last of a chain of cars stopped for a light at Telegraph and Square Lake Rds. last night sent three persons to Pontiac General Hospital.

Treated were Roy Woodworth, 56, driver of one of the cars, and his wife Myra, 46, both of Ferndale, and Thelma Fennell, 30, of Pontiac.

Police said a car driven by Albert Willis, 25, of Detroit struck the last car in a procession of autos driven by Woodworth, Edward Backman, 56, of Detroit and Eugene Tomaszewski, 36, also of Detroit.

Historic Khyber Pass Again a Busy World Crossroads

WASHINGTON — Khyber Pass, historic invasion route to India known to almost every adventure-hungry American boy, again has become a crossroads of world events.

For centuries migrating tribesmen and marching or mounted troops have threaded the narrow defile. Soldiers of Alexander the Great, the Tatars of Tamerlane, bejeweled Mogul potentates and their implacable enemies, the Afghani Pathans, all crossed the pass. Hard-fighting British and their local allies won fame as the Khyber Rifles for guarding its camel caravan traffic.

"That narrow sword-cut in the hills," as Rudyard Kipling called the Khyber (pronounced Ki-ber), now lies on the border between Pakistan's north-west Frontier Province and Afghanistan, says the National Geographic Society. This region has become a bone of contention between the two countries. Afghanistan recently requested the British to revise the 1921 boundary treaty.

In Kipling's day the pass was busy with commerce:

And there fled on the wings of the gathering dusk
A savour of camels and carpets and musk,
A murmur of voices, a reek of smoke,
To tell us the trade of the Khyber woke.

The 30-mile gorge still is a vital link in the trade of southern Asia. Bright-colored trucks carry pomegranates and cotton from the north, and buses transport passengers, inside or on their roofs, from Kabul, Afghanistan's capital, to Peshawar, near the southeastern mouth of the pass in Pakistan. Between sheer, cliffs double-humped Bactrian camels still crest the pass, 3,733 feet above sea level, with bulky burdens. Vehicles use one road, pack-animals another.

The barren, tollsome way is studded with pillboxes erected by the British during World War II. On the Pakistan side a railway winds to the border. Few mountain gaps possess so many historic associations as this gateway to the plains of India through the Safed Koh Range.

Although Alexander led the main body of his Greek forces into India farther to the north along the Kabul River, he probably sent a division through the Khyber. There in 1672 Afghan of them centering about the Fort of Ali Masjid, high on the pass. Today bronze plaques commemorate places where British and Indian regiments fought.

The cropland, waterless Khyber still has its warlike tribesmen, but since World War II they have mainly feuded among themselves, leaving the Khyber open as a door of commerce between nations. There is an ancient reason for this: they are paid to keep the peace.

FIGHT TORTURING PAIN...

from Arthritis or Rheumatism in hands, arms, neck, back, legs

A famous medical authority, one of the nation's leading research specialists, holds out new hope for sufferers from all types of muscular aches and pains in hands, arms, neck, back, legs, feet.

This new approach is so sound, so logical that it is bound to appeal to you as the one safe, sure way to obtain pain relief leading to a better, more enjoyable, more active and more comfortable life.

Hope lies in doing the following things: Relieving the muscular aches and pains, because pain acts in a vicious cycle. It prolongs the spasm of the muscles around the joints and this spasm causes the sufferer to refrain from movement of the joint. This voluntary immobilization may cause the muscle to atrophy or waste away. Result is this vicious cycle. The joint may be on its way to deformity. Relieve the pain to break the vicious cycle and you take a very important step.

First... to break the vicious cycle of muscular pain a safe, harmless, fast-acting medication is indicated. This effective medication is contained in PRUVO Tablets.

Yes, it is a fact that tens of thousands of sufferers have found their best answer in PRUVO — quick-est, longest lasting, non-narcotic relief — at a low cost made possible by wide-spread use and demand for PRUVO Tablets. Think of it — for only $1.50 you can get the trial size PRUVO — and the famous PRUVO guarantee of pain relief or your money back from Pruvo Pharmaceutical Co., if you are not

Movies Scout Met Talent

Three Leading Bassos Able to Sing, Act, Look Handsome

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — In the past quarter of a century, the average age of Metropolitan Opera Company singers has dropped 20 years and the average avoirdupois has dropped at least 40 pounds per singer, with the result that movie talent scouts are now casing the Met performances as attentively as they do the Broadway openings.

This is the word from Gottfried Reinhardt, an opera fan himself who has been eyeing the opera as the background of a possible future screen story.

The time is pretty well past when so many top opera singers seemed to have acquired some hefty physical ballast, the maturity of the years, and a nice comfortable look along with their vocal education, this MGM director reports.

Currently likely to be wooed sooner or later by movies are the Met's three glamorous bassos, who might be said to be jockeying for position to fill the gap left when Ezio Pinza went to "South Pacific."

"All of them are handsome, good actors, in addition to being fine singers, and under 35 years of age," said Reinhardt, who recently completed "Betrayed" in England and Holland for MGM. "And they are all over six feet tall and built like lumberjacks."

These elegant gentles are Cesare Siepi, 30-year-old Italian; Nicola Rossi-Lemeni, who made his American debut with the San Francisco Opera Company, and George London, a 32-year-old American.

That's how come you'll find as many Hollywood scouts sitting in the front row at the Met as you will find at a Broadway musical.

Radioactivity Used to Study Synergism

AMES, Iowa (INS) — Radioactivity is being used at Iowa State College in a study to determine what causes the phenomenon of synergism, or what makes certain chemicals more active and more potent when they are mixed with other chemicals.

In cooperation with U. S. Industrial Chemicals Company, Division of National Distillers Products Corporation, Iowa State scientists are making the study with radioactive piperonyl butoxide, an outstanding synergist in the insecticide field, to determine its biological behavior when mixed with pyrethrin, one of the oldest and safest insecticide materials known. Dr. Paul Dahm, professor of zoology and entomology at Iowa State, who is in charge of the investigation, hopes by synthesizing radioactive piperonyl butoxide to be able to chart the reactions that will clear up the mysteries of synergism, which has been a stumbling block to science.

GOP Woman Prefers Greeting From Truman

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Jackson Bacon, who was 103 last Saturday, is a life-long Republican but she says she likes better the birthday greeting she received two years ago from Democratic former President Truman than the one she got from Republican President Eisenhower. She explained last night that Truman sent her a personal letter while Eisenhower's greeting was on a standard engraved White House card. The Eisenhower card read: "Please accept my sincere congratulations upon your birthday. May good health be yours through many more happy years." There were 936,878 visitors to Grand Canyon National Park in 1953. A divorced person cannot be married in the Church of England.

Ships Near Florida Told to Look Out for Iceberg

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Ships in the Atlantic off the Florida coast were warned today to be on the lookout for—of all things—an iceberg. The SS Trinity, an American merchant ship, reported yesterday that it sighted a small iceberg 300 miles off Cape Canaveral, Fla. It was estimated to weigh 18 tons. The weather bureau couldn't explain how it drifted this far south. There is no part of the Sahara Desert that does not get some rain.

Machine Goes to Hospital Without 3-Year-Old Girl

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Carol Downing, 3, put her finger into the slot of a drugstore chewing gum machine. It stuck there. Bystanders couldn't get it out.

Neither could the crew of a police ambulance. So the gum machine was sawed off and, with Carol, was loaded into the ambulance. As the ambulance sped to a hospital, street bumps jiggled the machine free of the finger. Carol was taken home.

Teachers Asked to Review Bids

Holly Education Board Wants Reconsideration of Wage Demands

HOLLY.—Holly area teachers who are still holding out for more money in next year's contracts were asked to reconsider their demands at a meeting of the Board of Education Friday, according to Charles G. Coggins, superintendent.

About half-a-dozen teachers and three outside citizens met with the board to discuss the problem.

Teachers at Holly have been holding out for a $350 raise above their increment rate, which this year amounted to $150. The board offered a $250 raise above the increment and asked that contracts, signed or unsigned, be in last Thursday.

To date about 42 teachers have agreed to terms of the board, while several others of the 57 full-time teachers are still reluctant to sign and still others have decided not to come back next year. "Many misconceptions, rumors and gossip were cleared up at the meeting," Coggins said last night. "The board explained that it would be $10,000 in the red if the teachers' full demands were met." The board has extended the contract deadline until this Friday to allow the unsigned teachers time to reconsider.

New Vaccine May Cure Cattle Plague

CHICAGO (UP)—The American Veterinary Medical Association reports that a new vaccine shows promise against leptospirosis, one of the nation's fastest-growing cattle diseases.

The association said the vaccine will provide veterinarians with a weapon it hopes will protect exposed herds and half further losses in herds already stricken.

The vaccine was developed at the Veterinary Virus Institute of the New York State Veterinary College at Cornell University.

Leptospirosis, considered rare five years ago, now has been diagnosed in at least 40 states and is a serious problem in many areas, the association said.

Symptoms vary and often resemble those of other diseases, it said.

Mrs. John VanEgmond, first place winner in the adult oil painting class last year, will demonstrate oil painting and display of her water colors.

Judges will be Margaret Yuill and Professor Allen Leppa of Michigan State college.

Reckless Driving Laid to Youth

Hazel Park Resident Chased 3 Miles at High Speed, Police Say

FERNDAL.—A 3-mile, high-speed chase which ended as a Hazel Park youth's car tipped over a convertible in Detroit Saturday night wound up today with the youngster facing arraignment on a reckless driving charge.

Scheduled to appear before Detroit Traffic Judge John D. Watts was Cary J. Graves, 18, of 537 E. Elizabeth, Hazel Park.

Ferndale Patrolman William Hunt said he spotted Graves going 45 m.p.h. in a 35 m.p.h. zone on 8-Mile road about 11:30 p. m. Saturday and ordered Graves to stop.

Instead, Hunt said, Graves fled at high speed leading him on a chase which ended at 7-Mile and Meyers Rds. in Detroit where Graves smashed into another car.

The other car overturned and the occupants — an unidentified man and wife — were taken to Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital. Both were out of the hospital today, Detroit Police said, and were to appear in court.

ALBUQUERQUE — Two persons died in traffic accidents in New Mexico yesterday, ending two deathless weeks on New Mexico highways, a modern record for the state.

University Hospital Works on A-Bomb Casualty Plan

ANN ARBOR — In the event of atomic warfare the University of Michigan's medical facilities would be increased six-fold.

The University Hospital has worked out a joint plan with civil defense officials to make emergency changes which would permit the treatment and hospitalization of 6,000 casualties.

This would make Ann Arbor the medical center of the state should there be atomic bombing of industrial areas.

Dr. Roger B. Nelson, associate director of University Hospital said:

"The first thing we would have to do at University Hospital is mass-evacuate about 90 per cent of our present patients to dormitory row until their families could come and transport them home."

The remaining 10 per cent of the hospital's patients are not capable of discharge under any circumstances, he declared.

University officials have approved emergency use of three dormitories which lie directly south of the hospital should the state undergo atomic incident. Stockwell, Alice Lloyd, and Mosher, residence halls have a present total house capacity of 1,451.

"Taking all our physical resources together," said Dr. Nelson, "we could hospitalize a total of 6,000 patient-casualties."

The defense plan calls for a screening of casualties at points of evacuation. When they arrive in Ann Arbor, all victims of radiation burns would be sent to Alice Lloyd Hall. Those suffering other forms of radiation sickness would be hospitalized in Mosher, and patients requiring general observation would be sent to Stockwell.

All head and chest injuries would be referred directly to the University Hospital.

"We have over 450 doctors on our staff," stated Dr. Nelson. "Together with junior and senior medical students, the hospital could provide an emergency medical staff of over 800 doctors."

To meet the critical nursing situation, University officials are planning on the 300 nurses now on duty, the 125 private registry nurses, and approximately 400 student nurses in the School of Nursing, making a total emergency nursing complement of over 800.

Every car, every station wagon, every ambulance would be pressed into service, meaning that Ann Arbor would be choked with traffic far exceeding that of an entire season of football Saturdays.

Dr. Nelson indicated that any new atomic development might render the plan obsolete. "Today," he said, "there must be more than one ace in the hole."

Tuna Haul Condemned

TOKYO — Health officials at the giant Tsukiji Japanese fish market here condemned 3,000 pounds of tuna from a mid-Pacific catch brought here today.

Parnell Thomas Back in Politics

Pardoned GOP Solon Running for Congress in New Jersey

NEWARK, N. J. — Former Rep. J. Parnell Thomas is making a comeback bid in tomorrow's New Jersey primary election, for which a light turnout is expected.

A lack of statewide issues accounts for the expected slack voting. Both the Republican and Democratic senatorial nominees are opposed. Party battles exist in only eight of the state's 14 congressional districts.

Considerable attention is focused on a bingo-raffles referendum. But here too the issue is strictly local. The games were legalized by constitutional amendment last November. In tomorrow's referendum, each municipality will decide whether it wants the games permitted within its borders.

Thomas, onetime chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, has based most of his campaign on support of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his objectives and methods. He is running against the incumbent, Rep. William N. Widnall, for the Republican nomination in the 7th district. Widnall is backed by the party at state and local levels.

Thomas, 59, served seven terms in the House before he was convicted of padding his payroll while in office. He served a nine-month prison term and was pardoned in 1952.

In his comeback campaign, he says he is "1,000 per cent" behind Sen. McCarthy.

Fruit Punch Will Serve Big Crowd

Mrs. John Neaves Uses Four Juices in Festive Drink

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor
Going to have a party? Want a good punch recipe? Why not try this one contributed by Mrs. John Neaves?

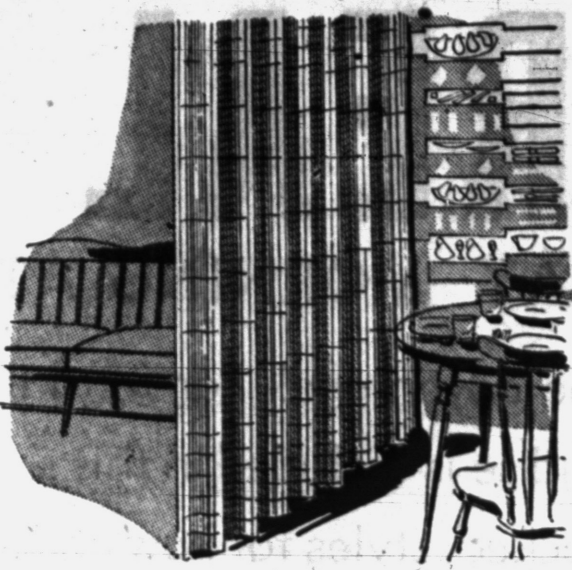

All the ingredients can be readied ahead of time, and putting them together is only the work of a few minutes.

Although Mrs. Neaves is the mother of five children, she is active in outside affairs. She is the president of the Wilson PTA and of the Fashionettes Club. She lists her hobbies as sewing and crocheting.

PUNCH FOR A CROWD

By Mrs. John Neaves

4 cups cold water
2 pounds granulated sugar
Juice of 12 lemons
1 quart pineapple juice
1 quart orange juice
1 quart grape juice
4 quarts gingerale
Boil the water and sugar together for five minutes. Cool this syrup. When ready to serve, add the fruit juices, pour over a large block of ice in a punch bowl. Add the gingerale. This makes about 50 cups of punch.

Wood Slat Folding Door Also Serves as Divider

By ELIZABETH HILLIER

When a wood slat folding door isn't a door, it's a room divider. As a door, it saves space, and it does the same thing as a room divider—can often be used where there's no room for a divider of another kind.

A wood slat divider is taller, ceiling high, and can't be seen through as many open-shelf room-dividing pieces of furniture can, and it folds back to reopen the divided area into a single large space.

And it's as easy to hang the woven wood slat fabric from the ceiling to use as a room divider as it is to suspend it from the top of a doorway or closet front—it comes ready to hang and with the necessary hardware.

For either purpose, building supply and lumber dealers can furnish the right length, standard or cut to measure. The folding doors come in natural finishes or colors, stained or lacquered, to fit the room scheme.

With this sort of room division, there can even be a change of pace in the decoration of walls.

Here a natural finished divider separates the rosy orange painted walls of the living area from a cheerful dining room paper, a pattern called Good Morning in shades of soft brown and beige with touches of lemon and red orange.

Mrs. D. J. McD. "We're trying to bring an old home up-to-date. Our biggest problem is elaborate woodwork with a lot of detail on the doors. Each door has a transom—and there are seven doors in the dining room!"

"The woodwork needs refinishing. Would it look well painted? If so, what color? Dining room walls are blue."

Where there is so much woodwork, and in a design you aren't enthusiastic about, the best idea is to make it as inconspicuous as possible. Do this by painting it the color of the walls.

Mrs. J. G. "I have just purchased a yellow bedspread and draperies to match for two windows of my bedroom, and the rug is a cedar color."

"If three walls were painted light green and one dark green, what color should the woodwork be painted on the fourth wall? Should it be light green if the rest of the woodwork is light green?"

If the woodwork matches three walls, it should also match the fourth wall—the purpose in matching is to eliminate contrast. But there should be a reason to paint one wall different from the others.

We haven't information needed to decide whether or not there should be a contrasting wall, but doubt if two shades of green are the best color choices with the yellow and cedar color. A single shade of green, perhaps a soft olive or light gray-green might be better.

Provides Storage for Various Types of Equipment

By HUBBARD COBB

One of the minor problems connected with modern living is that as we turn out more and more goods, we build homes with less and less room in which to store them.

This eventually produces a very difficult situation. The best thing to do about it, of course, is to take full advantage of every bit of potential storage space about the house.

And fortunately, there are several moderately new materials that can help you to do just this. One of the best materials for helping to solve this problem of where to put things is perforated hardboard.

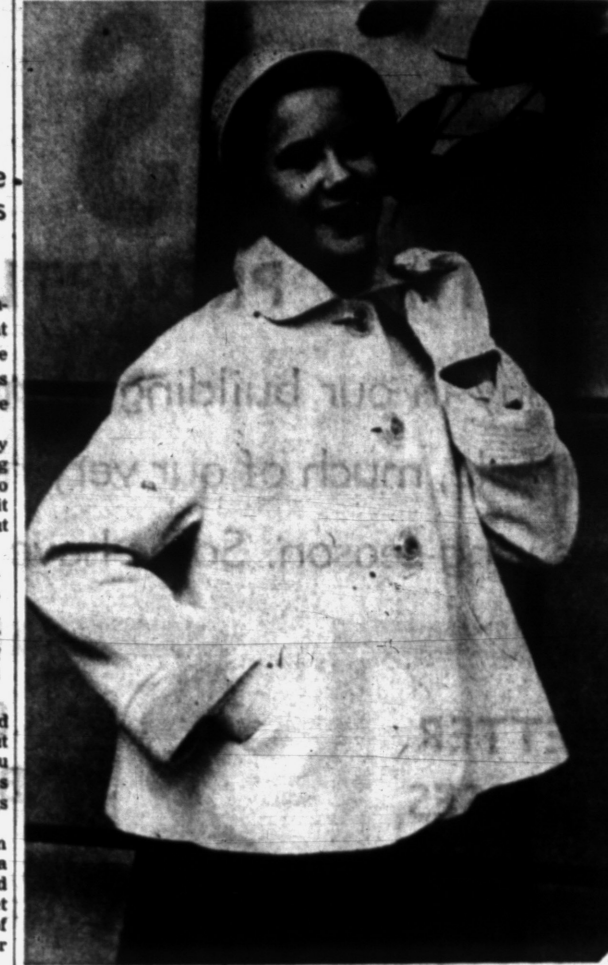

This is a sheet of hardboard with holes drilled into it about 1 inch apart. Into these holes you insert various kinds of devices which can be used to hang things on or to hold them.

For example, if your problem is where to hang pots and pans, a sheet of this perforated hardboard attached to the back of a closet door will probably handle all of the pots and pans you use for daily cooking.

If your problem is where to store the tools you use for doing things about the house, this same material with different hanging devices will do the trick.

If garden equipment is the problem, a heavy grade of this material can be mounted in the garage or basement and will take care of just about every kind of garden tool including the lawnmower and garden hose.

Give Light Reply to Tactless, Personal Remarks

A reader asks: "Will you please print something in your column about those people who always greet others with some unpleasant remark, and how to cope with them?"

"I mean, for example, the person who upon meeting you says, 'My how fat you are getting!' or 'How thin and drawn you look' or 'That color gives you a very sallow complexion.' I am sure you know the type I mean! Mrs. Post, and I know that your comments will be of help to many people."

Answer: It is true that such unthinking, tactless people do exist, but fortunately they are in very small minority.

The best thing to do is to take what they say lightly and answer, in the first instance, "I thought I was getting thinner," and to the second remark you might say, "I've been trying my best to lose weight," and to the third, "I thought the color so very becoming!"

Dear Mrs. Post: I work in an office and am on quite friendly terms with everyone working there. Most of the men are married but I do not know their wives.

I would like very much to invite my co-workers to my wedding, but don't know what to do about their wives. Must they be included?

Answer: If you ask the office force as a group and say that you are being married on such and such a day and that you would like all of them to come to your wedding, then the wives need not be included, unless you know them.

But if you are sending engraved invitations, then they must be addressed to Mr. and Mrs.

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the proper way to help oneself to an olive, and then what is the proper way to eat it?

Answer: Help yourself with your fingers. If it is a big olive, hold it in your fingers, eating it in three or four bites.

If it is a small, stuffed one, you can put it in your mouth whole.

Doll-Making Hobby Proves Profitable

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I have always thought that making dolls would be a fascinating hobby," a reader writes me, "and I wonder if you would recommend a book on it. There seem to be so many, and I have no idea how to tell the good ones from the bad." My overwhelming favorite is

The price of coffee will probably reach the moon before the rocket ships do.

Charlotte Eldridge's "The Godey Lady Doll Book."

This is a charming how-to book, with complete directions and patterns for making and dressing the delightful dolls which are based on the mid-19th Century Godey ladies.

Mrs. Eldridge gives explicit directions for every step, and the finished dolls are captivating.

But more important, the story of how Mrs. Eldridge got interested in this hobby, and the miraculous results, will be a great inspiration to you.

In fact, any young mother at home, who wants and needs a project, could learn a good deal from Mrs. Eldridge's experience.

You see, Mrs. Eldridge was stricken with a severe illness which made it necessary for her to stay home for a while.

She refused to give in to self-pity, and before long she came across a Godey Lady Book, which was a kind of fashion magazine in the 1850s.

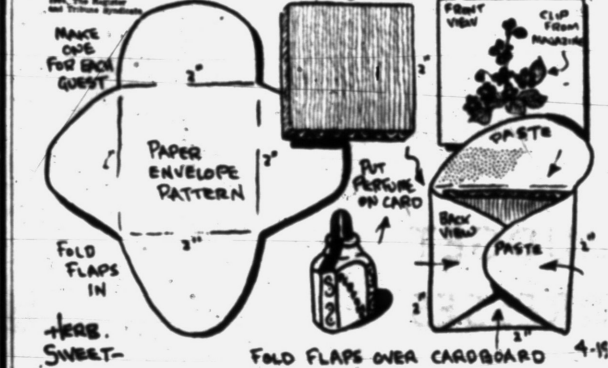

In order to amuse herself and her young daughter, Mrs. Eldridge started trying to make miniature Godey ladies. The story of how she went about it is hilarious, but she eventually succeeded at it.

Next came the process of making the lovely Victorian dresses.

Before she was finished, Mrs. Eldridge had a hobby that brought her fame, money and great pleasure as well.

Now she not only writes and lectures about her dolls, but is besieged by doll buyers, arranges window displays for department stores, and travels all over the country showing her dolls.

Make Sachet Placecards

Here is an idea sent in by Ann Stoddard of Milwaukee. Since I do not know much about sachets and such things, I am following Ann's letter and will let her tell you about them.

This is a fine idea for older girls, for this seems to be something which girls like and, therefore, it will be used. Many favors do not serve a purpose, but are pretty to look at, but Ann's idea is both pretty and useful.

You will need some paper to make the cover. If you are carrying out a color scheme at a party, use paper which will go with your scheme. You can make one of these for each guest and then put their names right on the sachets to also serve as placecards.

To make your cover or envelope, measure a square, 2 inches by 2 inches. Make flaps on each side of the square, and your pattern will look like the one in the drawing.

You will need something to hold the scent of the perfume, and 1 1/2-inch square of cardboard will do this. Use the corrugated kind, for this has thickness which will absorb the perfume and hold the odor much longer.

Put this in the envelope and paste a spring sticker on the cover.
