'65 Record Year for GM Truck

GMC Truck & Coach Division of General Motors chalked up a record sales year in 1965, with domestic retail deliveries of trucks and buses totaling 123,925 units, it was announced today.

Calvin J. Werner, a vice president of General Motors and general manager of the Division, said the 1965 sales mark topped the 1964 figure of 105,214 trucks and buses by 17.8 per cent.

Werner said this was some 4 per cent greater than the industrywide truck sales gain over the same period.

He said December deliveries reached 10,451 vehicles, topping the December 1964 figure of 9,334 by 12 per cent.

"New models unveiled by GMC Truck & Coach in 1965 included a '66 line of trucks consisting of 116 basic models, and an intercity bus featuring high-level seating for peak passenger visibility," Werner said.

The general manager added that $20 million in orders and commitments for the new "luxury line" bus have been received since the vehicle was announced in September.

With U.S. domestic truck sales expected to exceed 1.5 million units this year, and equal or surpass this figure next year, GMC Truck & Coach Division will make further progress in the coming months," Werner concluded.

GMC Truck & Coach Division has nearly 7,000 workers on its payroll, second only to Pontiac Division of General Motors Corporation locally.

A highlight of 1965 came in April when GMC Truck & Coach Division set an all-time record for deliveries with 11,480.

There were 11,480 trucks and buses delivered to dealers and specific purchasers, through fleet sales that month.

LBJ Pleased With Progress of Peace Drive

Nations U.S. Envoys Visited Have Sent Messages to Hanoi

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) —

President Johnson is pleased with the results so far of his Viet Nam peace offensive. He is confident the travels of his special peace envoys are having a global impact still largely hidden behind a curtain of diplomatic secrecy.

Although there has been no outward evidence of a favorable response from Hanoi, Johnson remains hopeful of a breakthrough.

On the hopeful side, word has come through diplomatic channels that many countries visited by such traveling American diplomats as W. Averell Harriman and Arthur J. Goldberg are getting in direct touch with Hanoi — to urge steps toward peace.

Diplomatic traffic with the Communist government of North Viet Nam has reached a new peak since the concerted American peace effort began.

Some of this hidden diplomatic intervention has come from countries skeptical in the past about American policy.

If Hanoi remains deaf to such appeals, Johnson believes his efforts, at the very least, will reinforce his claim that if there are obstacles to peace, the blame lies elsewhere.

PERSONAL ORDERS

In a sense, the Johnson peace offensive has been a developing thing, with the President personally ordering each new move, often on short notice.

It was shaped with the passage of time as Johnson made a succession of major decisions in which his politician's sense of timing played a great role.

SGT. WILLIAM HOLLOWAY

Tragedy Averted as Fire Hits Couple's Basement Apartment

A Keego Harbor police officer was credited with saving the lives of two people early this morning and averting Oakland County's second fire tragedy in as many days.

Sgt. William Holloway carried invalid William Baxter from his burning basement home and helped Baxter's wife Dorothy escape through a window.

Mrs. Baxter, 49, is listed in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital, where she is being treated for first and second degree burns on her face, hands, arms and chest.

Her husband, 65, was treated and released from the hospital.

The Baxters lived in an apartment under Lou's Bar at 3064 Orchard Lake.

RECALLED TRAGEDY

Holloway, who had assisted at the Waterford Township fire which claimed the lives of four children yesterday morning, was recalling that tragedy as he patrolled this morning.

The father of two girls and a boy, Holloway was troubled by his vivid memories of the fire.

"I had a feeling that something was going to happen," the 33-year-old officer said. That's why he took extra care in making his building checks.

Holloway spotted the fire in the Baxter apartment at 4:28 a.m.

THROUGH WINDOWS

"The fire was coming through the windows at the back part of the basement, and the two rooms on the east were completely enveloped in flames," he said.

The property slopes down from street level at the rear of the building.

Curbs on Klan Suggested by Chief Prober

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time, Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has suggested possible new laws to curb the power of the Ku Klux Klan.

Willis said at yesterday's Klan hearing that possible approaches include a requirement that Klansmen register with the government as Communists are supposed to do; a federal law forbidding masked gatherings; or a federal law against organized acts or threats of violence.

Willis invited Ralph Blumberg, a former radio station owner in Bogalusa, La., to suggest possible legislation. Blumberg said he had no suggestions, however.

The witness told of being hounded and boycotted by the Bogalusa Klan, his and his family's lives threatened, car windows smashed and the radio station fired at by high-powered rifles.

Cold Air to Make Thermometer Sink

Better bundle up if you are going out tonight as temperatures will sink to lows of 14 to 20.

Mostly sunny and colder with highs of 25 to 30 is tomorrow's forecast. Partly cloudy and not so cold is the outlook for Saturday.

A brisk 31 was the low in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury rose to 36 at noon, then dropped to 28 at 2 p.m.

HOTEL FIRE — Firemen continue to pour water into the burning Carlton Hotel in downtown St. Paul, Minn., today as rescue workers start the grim task of removing bodies from the rubble. At least eleven persons lost their lives in the blaze, which hit early this morning. Sixteen were reported injured.

16 Others Hurt

Hotel Fire in St. Paul Kills 11

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Fire spreading with explosive force swept an old four-story downtown hotel-apartment early today, killing 11 persons and injuring 16 others.

Some occupants fled the Carlton Hotel with their clothing afire. Others jumped from upper floors and were badly hurt.

"It was a screaming mass when we got there," said William Maurer, assistant fire chief. "Three persons were actually afire. They met firemen at the door."

Firemen poured water on the victims to extinguish the flames.

SCREAMING PEOPLE

Screaming people jumped from second and third floors. Some landed on the sidewalk. One man broke his back.

One man, listed in critical condition, suffered fractures of both feet and legs in a leap to safety.

None of the dead was identified immediately.

Maurer said nine bodies were removed from the ice-coated ruins. The Red Cross said two others died in hospitals of injuries.

SOME MISSING

At midforenoon firemen and police said about a dozen of the 51 persons in the building had been unaccounted for. They said some of the missing may have wandered away, or had sought refuge with friends or relatives.

The fire started in a second-floor bathroom about 4:30 a.m. and spread swiftly. Francis Dilts, 40, night clerk, and one of those hospitalized with smoke inhalation, turned in the alarm when he saw flames shoot from a bathroom.

Survivors fled into 5 above zero weather. Several were taken to the public safety building, several blocks away, for shelter.

Most of the hotel interior was burned out and a large section of the roof was gone.

The building was sheathed in ice as firemen entered to search for bodies. Several of the bodies were found on upper floors.

The hotel, occupying the top three stories of a four-story building, had been a fixture in downtown St. Paul for decades. City building records did not show when it was constructed. Damage was estimated at $100,000.

Befriends Man, Ends Up Shot

Pontiac Div. Worker in Serious Condition

A 27-year-old Pontiac Motor Division employee was in serious condition this morning after being shot in the stomach early today in his Waterford Township apartment.

James Trimm of 2275 Elizabeth Lake underwent surgery at Pontiac General Hospital this morning for removal of a bullet from his abdomen.

Township police said Trimm was shot by a man who fled the three-family apartment building on foot after hitting the victim with one shot from a pistol.

Trimm told police he picked up the assailant hitchhiking on West Huron Street as he returned home from work on the night shift.

Trimm said he had offered the man a room for the night when his attacker pulled a gun and demanded Trimm's money and the keys to his car.

The gunman took three dollars from Trimm, but shot the victim when he refused the keys. Police said the suspect was described as white and of medium height and build.

Teachers Shun Pay on Stalled Project

Pontiac's School Community Action Program (SCAP) staggered with a suspension notice yesterday, received a quick transfusion from 25 instructors who volunteered to continue teaching in the program without pay.

SCAP, which includes instruction projects at five Pontiac schools, was suspended following notification from the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) that funds for the program would not be available for at least another month.

School officials said reason for the delay was not immediately given.

Dr. Lee W. Haslinger, public school coordinator of federal funds, notified SCAP officials of the suspension after receiving word of the funds delay.

Albert Shaw, SCAP director for Jefferson-Franklin and Whittier schools, conferred yesterday with Haslinger, however, and was given the green light to continue the program at those schools with volunteer help.

Shaw said teachers at the three schools voted unanimously to work without compensation.

Shaw described the move by the instructors as proof of the "highest kind of concern" for the program and its goals.

Haslinger, while optimistic that funds would eventually be available for continuation of the program, said the school district had not been informed of specific reasons for the delay.

"I think most of the questions were in regard to the way our proposals were written," Haslinger said.

'ACCEPTABLE'

"As far as I know, the proposals themselves — which we submit to qualify for funds — are acceptable."

He also noted that the school district had been delayed in submitting the appropriations request because of an apparent lag by one project group in setting up their proposals.

"Which group this was, I don't know," he said. "Our area under this program includes Hazel Park, Ferndale and Oak Park besides Pontiac."

"It could have been any of the community school projects in these districts."

"At any rate," he said, "I don't feel any particular blame should be attached for the delay."

Peace Drive Progress Pleases LBJ

Ranch in Texas. Gathered at the comfortable ranch house on the banks of the Pedernales were the President, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, and presidential assistants McGeorge Bundy and Jack Valenti.

For many weeks, the administration had given periodic thought to a possible pause in American bombings of North Viet Nam as a potential means of dramatizing U.S. hopes for peace and, hopefully, encouraging a conciliatory response from Hanoi.

FIRST DISCUSSION

The ranch conference marked the first intensive discussion of this possibility, favored by many foreign leaders and by some people in this country who felt a five-day pause in May hadn't lasted long enough.

Johnson sent his advisers back to Washington with instructions to weigh carefully the pros and cons. No decision was reached at the time.

The President, recuperating from his Oct. 8 surgery, gave the matter much personal thought in the weeks that followed.

Then, on Dec. 7, Johnson convened another meeting of key advisers at his home place in Texas to go into the question further. This session was attended by Rusk, McNamara, Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, Bundy, presidential assistants Bill D. Moyers and Joseph A. Califano Jr., and Robert Komer, a Bundy deputy. McNamara was just back from Saigon.

NOT COMMITTED

Even after this conference, Johnson was not committed to a bombing pause or its possible timing. Consideration was given to action early in 1966 — possibly to coincide with the Vietnamese New Year's holiday on Jan. 21.

The President was committed, however, to a broadened search for peace. And two days later, in a telephone address to the AFL-CIO convention in San Francisco, he said he was "determined that every prospect for peace be exhausted before other hard steps are taken" in Viet Nam.

Johnson returned to Washington Dec. 13 for a series of meetings with foreign visitors: President Mohammad Ayub Khan of Pakistan, Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain and Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany.

Even as these international meetings progressed, Johnson was preoccupied with potential peace moves in Viet Nam. Sandwiched among his conferences with the visitors were meetings with top advisers, including two secret sessions with the National Security Council.

CHRISTMAS LULL

Out of these talks grew a decision — subject to ratification by the Saigon government — to propose a 30-hour Christmas cease-fire. The Viet Cong's political arm had called earlier, on Dec. 7, for a 12-hour truce.

On Dec. 22, with Johnson back at the ranch, military officials in Saigon ordered the cease-fire. As part of this holiday package, American planes were to halt their bombing runs over North Viet Nam targets.

Even at this point, Johnson was not certain of his next move. Much would depend on immediate developments. For example, he knew that if the cease-fire ended in some incident like the Viet Cong bombing months earlier of the U.S. Embassy in Saigon, full warfare would have to be resumed.

And the President wanted a chance to gauge American reaction to the Christmas lull before committing himself further.

CHANCE LOST

One opportunity for a quick move toward peace evaporated when the Viet Cong repeatedly ignored the 30-hour cease-fire, nullifying a Johnson decision that fighting would not be resumed even after Christmas unless the other side fired first.

For two days after Christmas, Johnson made day-to-day decisions against resuming the bombing of North Viet Nam, although ground fighting was back in full swing.

Ultimately, on the night of Dec. 27, the President made up his mind that — if events permitted — he had the perfect opportunity to prolong the bombing lull.

It was in keeping with the Christmas spirit and might advance the effort he had pledged anew in toasting Erhard at a White House dinner a week earlier: "We will push on every door for peace."

USED INFLUENCE

Pope Paul VI and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield may have influenced his decision. Both had called for a fighting lull extending well beyond Christmas.

Up to this point, Johnson had tried to stay very much in the background — a silent man who insisted that such questions as holiday lulls were matters to be decided in Saigon.

In these opening stages, the peace offensive was not tied directly to the White House — lest something go wrong and Johnson feel compelled to pull back.

On Dec. 28, Johnson made the first moves to expand his peace efforts manifold and, ultimately, to bring them into the open. Johnson's "peace doves" already have visited or scheduled stops in two dozen countries. More are being added and the envoys apparently will be circulating for at least another week.

Police Officer Rescues Two in Keego Fire had filled the living room and kitchen and was spreading.

"I started banging on windows, trying to wake them up," Holloway said. "Then Mrs. Baxter screamed. I told her to keep screaming so I could find her."

Mrs. Baxter reportedly made one attempt to get through the flames and then jumped through a large bedroom window.

COULDN'T WALK

"She was lying on the ground when I got to that side of the building," Holloway said. "She said her husband was in there and that he couldn't walk."

Holloway entered the apartment through the broken window and carried Baxter out.

The officer had alerted West Bloomfield Township firemen and Sylvan Lake patrolman David DeGroot by radio when he saw the fire.

DeGroot helped Holloway carry the fire victims to a patrol car and rushed them to the hospital.

The two officers barely escaped injuries themselves in an explosion which occurred as they were headed toward the car.

"Those men did a very good job," West Bloomfield Fire Chief Edwin Heiron said. "They had the people out by the time we got there."

Damage from the fire, generally confined to the two rooms, was estimated at $1,700 to $2,200.

Transit Strike Negotiations Moving Ahead---Lindsay

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay reported to New Yorkers that subway and bus strike negotiations moved ahead in "good faith" bargaining which recessed early today.

But he cautioned that the public still "must sweat it out" until settlement of the six-day-old strike.

Heavy morning rain complicated already difficult transportation problems for the city's work force of 3.5 million.

The city laid a new money offer on the table during a marathon night session which broke up at 2 a.m., but the parties would not say what it was. There had been a $187-million gap in negotiating positions for a two-year labor contract covering 34,400 transit workers.

TALKED TO WIRTZ

Lindsay also disclosed that he had consulted with Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, but would not disclose the substance of their talk.

"We have inherited a decade of unanswered questions in transit operations," the mayor said. He refused to elaborate.

Lindsay said that while away from the Americana Hotel negotiating room, he would keep in touch by telephone with the progress of talks between the Transit Authority and the two striking AFL-CIO organizations, the Transport Workers Union and the Amalgamated Transit Union.

As he emerged from the nighttime session, Lindsay said: "There has been some movement, nevertheless the gap remains wide between them. New offers have been made."

Lindsay declined to predict if this could lead to settlement of the six-day-old strike, but he described the new offers as "a very important move."

Lindsay arrived at City Hall at 7:35 a.m. by car—he had been walking—and said he had had only three hours sleep since leaving the bargaining table. He turned aside all questions.

The rain slowed the incoming traffic stream today and cars were bumper to bumper on many major arteries.

Surveying the traffic and the rain, Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes said, "Some people will use the weather conditions as an excuse to stay home, and I hope they will."

HEAVY TRAFFIC

Commuter traffic in the Grand Central, Pennsylvania and Port Authority terminals was heavy. A spokesman for the Long Island Rail Road said, "We're moving a lot more people today than Wednesday or even Tuesday."

"From the looks of things I think we're going to break a record. It looks like World War II when gasoline rationing forced people to use the railroads," he said.

Asked about reports that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had made additional state aid available, Lindsay said, "If there are I have no specific or concrete knowledge of it at this moment."

Lindsay said he had no idea whether Michael J. Quill, head of the TWU, had been consulted during the day by the union's second-line negotiators.

Quill collapsed at the civil jail Tuesday shortly after he and eight other union officials were arrested for refusing to end the strike.

Quill was reported resting well at Bellevue Hospital.

Ingraham said a letter would be sent to Barnes expressing appreciation of the commission for his services while a member of the commission.

Traffic Survey Is Slated at Site of Double Fatality

A traffic survey will be taken at Carroll Lake and Wise roads in Commerce Township with an eye toward installing a flasher signal at the intersection where two sisters were killed Monday.

Meantime, reflectorized signs warning motorists that stop signs are ahead will be placed on Wise 500 feet in each direction from the intersection.

Oakland County Road Commission Chairman Robert O. Felt said that the warning signs would probably be installed today or tomorrow and that the study would be completed in two weeks.

The action was taken after Felt received petitions bearing the signatures of over 600 area residents from Commerce Township Supervisor Thomas Tiley.

The petition requested that a traffic signal be installed at the intersection.

The signatures were obtained after Mary Ann Wilson, 14, and her sister, Lynette, 13, were killed when a driver skidded through the intersection and into four children standing on the roadside waiting for a school bus.

"I doubt very much if the survey will show that the intersection warrants a traffic signal," Felt said today. "But it is possible that it will reveal that a blinker light is needed."

If a flasher was installed, it would be red for Wise Road traffic and amber to caution through traffic on Carroll Lake Road, according to Felt. Neither is considered a primary road.

Tiley and road officials agreed that four-way stop signs at the intersection would hinder rather than help motorists.

ORGANIZERS

He said that he contacted organizers of the petition drive last night to inform them of the decisions made at the meeting and that "they seemed satisfied and happy over the outcome."

While the meeting was in progress a county mechanic inspected the new car involved in the two deaths and reported that he found nothing wrong mechanically.

Assistant Prosecutor Timothy E. Dinan had requested the inspection before making a decision on ordering a warrant against the driver, who was injured in the accident.

Dinan said he has not yet decided, however, what type of charge will be brought against the driver, Mrs. Kenneth Ostin, 24, of 335 Main, Milford.

Near Land-Fill Site

Planners Recommend Zoning Change

City planners last night gave an affirmative recommendation to a request to rezone city-owned land located north of Collier adjacent to the city's 212-acre sanitary land-fill site.

A 22-acre parcel is to be rezoned to manufacturing for probable use in connection with the future land-fill operation.

Final approval of the rezoning rests with the City Commission.

Another city-owned parcel of land also received a favorable recommendation for rezoning.

Residential-3 zoning was proposed for a 29-acre parcel north of W. Columbia, Grand Trunk Western Railroad Belt Line tracks. The land is part of the property involved in a land exchange between an apartment developer there and the city.

REQUESTS TABLED

The City Planning Commission tabled action on two rezoning requests last night.

Requested rezoning for a shopping center for the southeast corner of Woodward and the proposed East Boulevard extension was tabled pending a report from city administrators on the status of plans for the future extension of East Boulevard.

Because a better site plan is wanted by city planners, they tabled residential-3 rezoning for an area bounded by Walton, Joyce Park, Lehigh and Highway.

APARTMENT BUILDING

Rezoning was given an affirmative recommendation for property bounded by Kennett, Carlisle, Dearborn and Dewey. A 32-unit apartment building is planned there.

A recommendation to approve manufacturing-1 rezoning for the northwest corner of Telegraph and Orchard Lake Road was also granted.

The vacating of a 20-foot alley to the rear of property on Montclair and Lounsbury between Blaine and Stanley received a favorable recommendation last night.

$7,500 Damage in Fatal Blaze

Fund Drive for Family of Four Victims Begun

Property damage caused by a fire that killed four children was estimated today at $7,500 by Waterford Township Fire Chief Lewis Goff.

Goff said two-story home in which the youngsters died yesterday morning was valued at $6,000 and the contents worth about $1,500.

The victims were Kathryn, 15; Nancy, 12; Donald, 9; and Julia, 7.

Her oldest son, Larry, 14, reached safety by running across a porch roof and jumping to the ground.

A fund drive to aid Mrs. Brown and her son has been organized by neighbors. Spearheading the campaign are Mrs. Wallace McElroy, 97 Ascot; James Young, 101 Ascot; and Mrs. Ivan Cochrane, 633 Cedar-lawn.

AT WORK

Mrs. Brown, a divorcee, was at work as a nurse attendant at Pontiac State Hospital when the fire was discovered shortly after 4 a.m.

Goff attributed the fire to a downstairs oil space heater and an inefficient smoke pipe hook-up.

Board to Air Purchase of School Land

The Waterford Township Board of Education tonight will consider a recommendation to purchase an additional 2 1/2 acres of land at Williams Lake Elementary School, 2525 Airport.

Designed for recreational use, the land would add to the existing 7 1/2-acre site on which the school is located. The 2 1/2-acre plot has frontage on Airport, according to school officials.

Since the land would be used for recreational purposes the school system is eligible for 50 per cent federal assistance under terms of the open space land grant act.

The recommendation was made by the board of education's building and site committee.

In other business, the board will act on a recommendation of Supt. Don O. Tatroe to create an elementary school planning committee.

Pair Sentenced to Jail for Armed Robbery in Troy

Two Pontiac men were sentenced yesterday to the state prison at Jackson for the armed robbery of the Sears Roebuck & Co. Oakland Mall Store in Troy last October.

Floyd Newbern, 24, of 256 Rockwell, was sentenced to 6-18 years, and Clarence Montgomery, 22, of 94 Lull, was ordered to serve 4 1/2-15 years.

They were sentenced by Circuit Judge William J. Beer. Both had pleaded guilty Dec. 14 to holding up the store Oct. 14. They were arrested by police shortly after the robbery.

Utility's Spending Sheds Light on Faith

To keep pace with population growth and concomitant demand for utility services, Consumers Power Co. plans to spend $134 million in Lower Michigan on new and enlarged facilities.

Exceeding by $34 million last year's record capital outlay, the expansion program is expected to add 20,000 electric and 38,000 gas customers in the 67 counties served by the company. Currently, Consumers has a combined total of 1.6 million electric and gas users.

Foremost of the new projects blueprinted are a new generating facility near Grand Rapids and a peaking plant (for emergency use during excessive load build-up) at Gaylord. High voltage transmission substations are slated for Flint and Grand Rapids areas. New and enlarged office buildings and additions to service, fleet and warehouse facilities are also scheduled.

Included in the over-all capital appropriation are commitments for the Pontiac area, details of which will be announced later this month.

There could be no more welcome New Year's news than this huge spending program of Consumers, representing as it does the company's faith in Michigan and the glowing future it envisions.

The Press acclaims the progressive outlook and zeal in public service that has become the hallmark of our estimable utility system.

Damsels Once Aired Feelings With Gloves

Milady's gloves are strictly a fashion accessory today, but there was a time when they were both that and a vital means of communication between the sexes.

According to "Quinto Lingo" magazine, back in the allegedly romantic days of chivalry, a damsel's gloves spoke a language all their own.

If she dropped both gloves, for instance, it signaled "I love you" to a lucky swain. But if she drew her glove halfway onto her left hand it meant "I am indifferent."

Wearing right glove with thumb uncovered: "Kiss Me."

Turning glove inside out: "I hate you."

Another sign, dangerous to ignore, was the twirling of gloves around her fingers: "We are watched."

Gloves are just gloves nowadays, alas, and females must use other ways of getting their messages across to males.

U.S. Economy Sails on an Ocean of Oil

A generally unpublicized race that goes on continuously is the one between the Nation's oil producers and the steadily mounting consumer demands for petroleum products.

Secretary of the Interior STEWART L. UDALL recently predicted that such demand in the U. S. will rise to around 17.5 million barrels a day by 1980. Current consumption is about 11.3 million barrels daily.

Predictably, petroleum's greatest gains will come in the field of transportation.

Projections for the coming decade, released by Secretary of Commerce JOHN T. CONNER and the Bureau of Public Roads, underscore UDALL's comments. During 1966, some 90 million motor vehicles are expected to use more than 75 billion gallons of motor fuel while traveling 870 billion vehicle miles.

By 1975, if present trends continue, 116 million vehicles will use 93 billion gallons of fuel while traveling more than one trillion vehicle miles.

To meet the rising demand for petroleum products, oil companies spent $3.83 billion in the United States during 1965 for new plant facilities and equipment — more than any other manufacturing industry.

Far be it from us to tamper with classical quotations, but the age-old "It's love that makes the world go round," might well be amended to include oil.

Foreigners See LBJ's Methods

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Because he has concentrated on home affairs there has been little chance—until now—to see how President Johnson would operate in the foreign field where his experience has been far less.

But his tactics in the past 10 days in trying to get the North Vietnamese to discuss peace have provided a priceless and enduring insight into his methods with both friends and enemies abroad.

He'll do what he does at home. While an Air Force uses saturation bombing, Johnson tries to saturate people with persuasion and pressure. It was this, and his persistence, which made him this country's best Senate leader.

Now, to get the Communists talking, he has saturated the world with publicity on his efforts and foreign capitals with his emissaries.

In the Senate his policy was simple and realistic: Get all you can; if you can't get it all, get as much as you can, even if it means compromising, for something is better than nothing.

Johnson hasn't compromised in foreign affairs yet, if only because so far he hasn't had to. There may be some situations in which he can't—Viet Nam, perhaps—but that's to be seen.

The classic example of Johnson as the persuasive technician was in the passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1957, the first in this century. He compromised to soften Southern resistance which had stopped such legislation in the past.

This angered some Negroes whose emotions made them overlook this central point:

Southern resistance would never be the same again, the civil rights forces now had their foot in the door, and the next steps would be easier and stronger. And they are.

Again the astonishing record of Congress in 1965 on major legislation — like medical care for the aged and federal aid to education, long regarded as impossible — was the product of Johnson's ceaseless maneuvering, made easier, of course, by the vast Democratic majorities.

Once Johnson determined to make this effort for peace talks, his use of emissaries to foreign capitals would probably have followed exactly the same course if there had been no publicity and all was done in secret.

The publicity put extra pressure on the Reds while serving some other useful purposes, for Johnson.

Figured from any angle, Johnson is running true to a form developed long ago.

Now If We Could Just Unscramble Them

David Lawrence Says:

Federal Price Role Is a First

WASHINGTON—"Open price-making, openly arrived at!"

This is the phenomenon of the hour, as the President of the United States and the steel companies "collaborate" in fixing the prices of certain steel products — an unprecedented use of economic and governmental power.

If the price-fixing had been done by the steel industry alone, its executives would have been subjected to charges that the antitrust laws were being violated.

But now it seems that prices can be fixed for a whole industry, provided this is done openly and the government is kept informed about what's going on, so that it can express its approval or disapproval.

What happened yesterday marks a turning point in economic history.

It is best told in excerpts from news reports over the wires of United Press International, which has teletype machines not only inside the government but in the offices of many businesses, in addition, of course, to newspapers:

9:45 a.m., PITTSBURGH — "The U.S. Steel Corp. today announced a 'selective' increase of about $2.75 a ton in the prices of structural steel shapes."

10:30 a.m., WASHINGTON — "The White House said today the $2.75-a-ton price increase announced by U.S. Steel Corp. was acceptable under wage-price guidelines. It called on Bethlehem and Inland Steel to pull their boosts back to a similar level."

HOPES FOR ACCEPTANCE

10:44 a.m., WASHINGTON — "In announcing the 'selective' price increase in Pittsburgh, U.S. Steel expressed hope of administration acceptance. It said it was bowing to government insistence that the $5-a-ton hike imposed by Bethlehem and Inland would damage the domestic economy."

"The U.S. Steel hike was 25 cents a ton less than the $3-a-ton increase announced and then rescinded by a smaller firm, Colorado Fuel and Iron Corp., in the face of administration pressure."

11:54 a.m., CHICAGO — "Joseph L. Block, chairman of the Inland Steel Co. board, issued the following statement: 'We have not yet seen the details of U.S. Steel prices for structural shapes. When we do, we will' revise our own prices to be competitive.'"

12:22 p.m., WASHINGTON — "Press Secretary Moyers told reporters: 'U.S. Steel did not ask the administration's consent to its announcement this morning, nor did the administration give its consent to the announcement.'"

"Asked whether government officials had been in communication with U.S. Steel, and whether they had advance word of what the company would do, Moyers replied: 'Administration officials have been in touch with some of the steel companies — which ones, I'm not going to specify.'"

12:25 p.m., BETHLEHEM, Pa. — "E. D. Bickford, vice president of Bethlehem Steel Corp., announced today that Bethlehem was rescinding the price increases and adjustments that it had announced effective Jan. 1 and that it would review the market situation after the details of the price changes announced by U.S. Steel Corp. are known."

12:27 p.m., CHICAGO — "Inland Steel said today it will revise its steel price increases in line with compromise price increases announced by U.S. Steel."

12:40 p.m., WASHINGTON — "After Bethlehem announced its decision today to rescind its price increase, the White House said the President was gratified by the company's action."

If price-fixing can be accomplished in this manner in some industries, there's no reason why it would not be logical to attempt it in other industries as well. For, in effect, the government has become the master of prices though still afraid, for political reasons, to assume a role as the boss of wages.

Bob Considine Says:

After Three 'Disasters,' NY Right to Be Gun-Shy

NEW YORK — People . . . of the most familiar fuzzes in the colony.

In rapid and terrifying succession, New York City found itself disastrously short of water, electricity, transportation and Democrats.

Perhaps there is now time for an agonizing reappraisal of just how fragile is our eight-million-passenger baroque, how prone to be hoisted on unchartered reef.

A drought drains our reservoirs, an obscure blown-out fuse casts us into exterior darkness, and a man named Mike Quill, who talks like a leprechaun from Finian's Rainbow, waves his magic shillelagh and transforms the world's busiest, richest, most mobile city into a beached whale.

Time erodes all dynasties, but we weren't quite braced for the announcement by Cmdr. Edward Whitehead, the magnificently bearded Schweppervelcent that he intends to abdicate his starring role in his tonic's advertisements.

Hit us with almost as much impact as Edward VIII's retreat from Belvedere.

Mercifully the commander is not just stepping out and leaving the whole thing to the rule of let's say, Pinky Lee.

"I will, in effect, phase myself out gradually rather than in one fell swoop," Whitehead announced.

Race for Moon in Crucial Year

By RAY CROMLEY
The year 1966 will be crucial in the race for the moon.

By next December, it should be clear whether the Soviet Union or the United States is ahead.

It may be the United States. This new confidence is not primarily because of the highly successful American space rendezvous, magnificent as it was.

It's rather because of the way this rendezvous was accomplished—in the face of mishaps and boggles.

Space scientists here in their private back room talks say that who wins the moon race in the end may not depend on who gets the big booster rocket first, who docks in space first or who builds the moon-trip vehicle first.

These scientists say privately it's logical to suppose that both the United States and the Soviet Union will have the big boosters about on schedule, the Apollo (and the Russian equivalent) spacecraft when needed and the ability to dock in space in time to meet their moon objectives.

But what can't be put on the calendar is what will go wrong,

Reader Suggests Protest Against Traffic Deaths

Many so-called patriotic groups have protested the United States' stand against aggressive Communist terrorism in Viet Nam by picketing, protest marches, and even draft card burning. They do this in the name of humanity, protesting the loss of American lives in attempting to stop the Red tide.

The Associated Press lists 1,546 Americans killed in Viet Nam during 1965. It also lists 1,276 Americans killed in traffic during the Christmas and New Year's weekends. The men who gave their lives in Viet Nam did so to stop the atheistic Communists in their drive for world domination. For what purpose did the traffic victims give their lives?

If the protest groups are sincere about saving lives, why don't they picket reckless drivers, march on the legislature for better traffic laws, and burn drivers' licenses?

Comments on New Center for Training Poor

How many taxpayers read the obscure little item in last week's paper telling of the new $50 million center for Community Action Education, Inc. scheduled to begin in Washington March 1? Under the wing of the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity, it is supposed to provide education and job training for the poor.

Selected to head this program is James Farmer, former national director of CORE (Congress of Racial Equality). His board of directors will include Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Dr. John Morsell, associate director of the NAACP, and John Lewis, chairman of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee.

Study the history of these men, if you aren't already familiar with them. What kind of "education and training" will be given for our tax dollars under this leadership? Write your congressmen, senators and the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Suggests Ban on Doe Hunting in Michigan

The buffalo herds of the western plains have been slaughtered and the passenger pigeon and grayling fish have been slaughtered from the face of the north country by people with more hindsight than foresight. Which of our wild game species is next? It is little wonder that many of our Michigan deer hunters now travel to Canada to hunt simply because our Michigan deer hunting is being so poorly regulated. A three- to four-year ban on all doe hunting should be placed on the agenda of the legislature in January.

'Can't Viet Nam War Be Stopped for Good?'

I have a question I think is interesting and would like answered. How come the war in Viet Nam can be stopped for three days and not for good?

I'm a 9th grade student at Washington Junior High.
ESTELLE JOHNSON
2245 E. HAMMOND LAKE DRIVE

(Editor's Note: Good question. With your permission we will forward your letter to President Lyndon B. Johnson for an answer.)

what unforeseen bugs will crop up, what accidents will occur, what human miscalculations and silly "minor" mistakes will be made, what simple "little" problems turn out to be tigers to solve.

These slip-ups will occur both in the Russian and American camps.

The nation which has the engineers, technicians, ground crews and astronauts able to recover most quickly and correctly from these mishaps, these space scientists think, will win the race to the moon.

What gives American scientists growing confidence, therefore, was the recent performance of the engineers, technicians and ground crews at Cape Kennedy, and a host of other backup engineers and craftsmen, in the face of the series of mishaps that plagued this rendezvous space venture.

Despite one "bug" after another, these men met the problems and kept to a workable timetable.

It is this remarkable teamwork (and the teamwork of the men who built the rockets and spacecraft systems and the men who manned the tracking systems that these scientists are counting on. They're not forgetting the connection that dropped out before it should have and the dust cap that dropped in where it shouldn't.)

Two years ago the United States was well behind in the race for the moon. The Soviet Union still seemed to be in the lead a year ago. Today, with the tremendous rendezvous achievement, the United States is certainly running neck and neck. Already we may be ahead.

The Soviet Union could take shortcuts. Russian engineers are ahead of the United States in experiments with unmanned soft landings on the moon. Their soft landings have failed, but the Reds may have learned enough in their failures to be certain they would work with a man at the controls.

By using this direct soft landing technique, the Reds could skip some complicated steps and maybe get to the moon faster.

Russian Premier Slates More Separate Talks With Ayub, Shastri on Kashmir Dispute

TASHKENT, U.S.S.R. (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin scheduled more separate talks with President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan and Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India today in another attempt to get their summit conference off the ground.

Kosygin met with Ayub before seeing Shastri. The two Asian leaders were tentatively scheduled to meet later. But their meeting apparently hinged on their individual talks with their Soviet host.

The Indian and Pakistani leaders were still deadlocked over Kashmir, the Himalayan state that both claim. The issue has brought war between them twice since 1947.

Shastri was reported holding firmly to India's view that Kashmir is an integral part of India and not a subject for negotiations.

AYUB UNMOVED

Ayub was said to be unmoved from Pakistan's claim that the Kashmir dispute is the root of the conflict with India and must be solved first. Ayub wants to hold a plebiscite in Kashmir, whose population is predominantly Moslem, like Pakistan's.

Official spokesmen acknowledged the two leaders failed Wednesday even to agree on a formal agenda for their negotiations. They said they have not gotten down to detailed discussion of any major problems although the summit conference is now in its third day.

Pakistan's Information Minister Altaf Gauhar told newsmen the meetings were "essentially in the nature of preparing ground for hard discussions."

C.S. Jha, India's foreign secretary, said "the wheels are moving" but "perhaps not too fast."

Soviets Pushing Reds to Oust Mao

By LEON DENNEN

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Russian emissaries in Europe, Latin America and Asia — according to Western intelligence — are quietly preparing an international conference that will read Mao Tse-tung out of the Communist movement.

This may be one of the reasons why Moscow trouble-shooter Aleksandr Shelepin undertook his mission to Hanoi.

While in the Far East, Shelepin is likely to make one final effort to bring the Chinese to reason.

A conference to "excommunicate" Mao was originally proposed by Nikita Khrushchev shortly before he was ousted as Soviet premier.

However, his successors in the Kremlin decided to play down their conflict with Peking obviously in the hope that they could still come to terms with Mao.

KHRUSHCHEV'S FALL

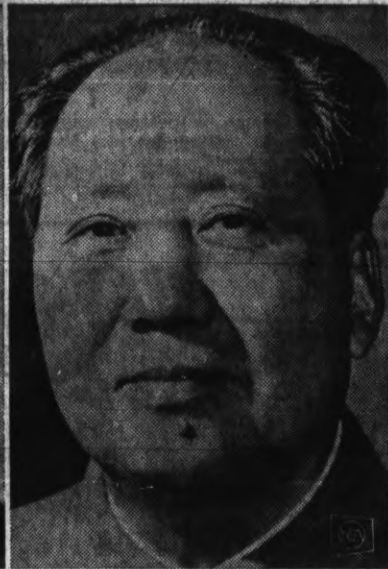

For 14 months after Khrushchev's fall, Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev and Premier Alexsei Kosygin stubbornly refused to retaliate to the invective Peking never tired of hurling in their direction.

Despite Red China's harsh onslaught on Moscow, no criticism of Peking appeared in any Soviet newspaper and no angry retort was directed at Mao.

What changed the situation in the view of specialists on

PLOT THICKENS — Soviet trouble-shooter Aleksandr Shelepin (left) is believed to be ready to make one final effort to bring the Communist Chinese to reason when he visits the Far East. But Chinese strongman Mao Tse-tung has shown no indication he is willing to patch up his rift with Moscow.

communism — is the war in Viet Nam.

There is increasing evidence that the Russians and their east European satellites no longer believe in a Communist victory.

VIET CONFLICT

As they see it, prolongation of the Vietnamese conflict will only serve to undermine Communist influence in the underdeveloped nations of Latin America, Asia and Africa.

As usual, deep secrecy shrouds Moscow's anti-Chinese moves.

But much vital information to supplement the intelligence reports can be gleaned from the current rash of anti-Peking statements by the Russians themselves and by their east European satellites.

Poland's official newspaper Trybuna Ludu just launched a strong attack on the Chinese Communist party for rejecting Soviet suggestions for working out a common plan to help North Viet Nam.

POLAND NEUTRAL

Until this attack, Poland was, officially at least, neutral in the Moscow-Peking conflict.

The harsh tone and language of Trybuna's editorial clearly indicate that even the cautious Poles have given up any hope of ever coming to terms with the present leaders of China.

Trybuna was referring specifically to Mao's argument that joint Russian-Chinese action in Viet Nam would mean "drawing Viet Nam into the orbit of Soviet-American cooperation."

Such statements by the Red Chinese "are extremely provoc-

MOUTHPIECE

Equally significant was the unprecedented castigation of Red China by Neues Deutschland, mouthpiece of East Germany.

Quoting from secret letters exchanged between Peking and Moscow, Neues Deutschland charged that China "refused transit of Russian aid to the Viet Cong."

It also said that Mao, who fears Soviet influence in Southeast Asia, would not participate in any military action in Viet Nam unless Chinese territory were directly attacked.

Like Poland and other east European countries, the East Germans until now have refrained from taking an official stand on the Russian-Chinese rift.

BELLWETHER

However, East Germany is often Moscow's bellwether of new political tendencies in the Soviet bloc.

It is considered certain that East German boss Walter Ulbricht, a noted opportunist even among Communists, is anticipating a new development in the Communist camp.

In this case it is believed to be the certainty that Moscow intends to convoke an anti-Chinese international conference.

Romney Creates Administration and Budget Unit

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney created a Department of Administration and State Budget Operation Wednesday, completing the broad outline of reorganized government approved by the Legislature last year.

The present department of administration yields its budget-preparing function to Romney's office but will include state housekeeping and pension operations.

Controller Glenn Allen Jr., head of the existing administration department, will move to Romney's immediate staff as state budget director.

George Washington, now a public service commissioner, will become director of administration when the new department goes into operation Monday.

The so-called "Fertile Circle" was a half-circle of land stretching from the Mediterranean on the west to the Gulf of Persia on the east.

State Dept. Name List to Stay Secret

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department has won a battle to keep a supersecret list of 800 possible security risks in the department from the eyes of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

A tug of war between the subcommittee and the department over the list was disclosed this week with the release of previously secret testimony which detailed the subcommittee's efforts to get the list.

The two-year-old testimony showed that the department blocked the panel's efforts by invoking a 1948 directive which forbids the transfer of loyalty records without the permission of the President.

The list was such a well-kept secret that William J. Crockett, deputy undersecretary for administration, admitted that neither he nor Secretary of State Dean Rusk knew of its existence until the subcommittee informed them.

Crockett conceded that "Frankly, we had a very difficult time finding the lists in the Office of Security."

ALL CLEARED

At the end of 1955, Crockett said, all State Department employees, including the 800, had been cleared after an evaluation of information which had raised "major" questions," Crockett said.

He said that of the 258, 92 employees had left and 71 had been reinvestigated and re-cleared.

Crockett promised that the 95 employees still on the rolls and not reinvestigated or cleared between 1956 and 1964 would get priority investigations.

The list of 800 was first brought to the attention of the subcommittee by Otto F. Otepka, a chief State Department security evaluation officer who was dismissed for giving the subcommittee information.

GAVE CLEARANCES

Otepka said he granted clearances to a majority of the more than 800 but that he also recommended a large number for dismissal as security risks.

"The final decision to clear the employees in such cases was made by higher authorities," Otepka said in a memo to the subcommittee.

The former security officer said the list included allegations and evidence of actual membership in the Communist party.

Heart Valve Repair Argued

By Science Service
CHICAGO — Heart valve replacements are causing some controversy among surgeons, some favoring metal or plastic devices, and others preferring human or even animal tissue.

Advocating the use of valves from newly dead persons is Sir Russell Brock, president of the Royal College of Surgeons in Britain, and director of cardiology, Guy's Hospital, London, whose views are reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Taking the stand that human tissue is as good and perhaps better than artificial material for repair of heart valves is Dr. Charles P. Bailey of St. Barnabas Hospital, New York.

He points out that repair can be done using tissues from the person's own body, thus lessening the danger of rejection.

A number of surgeons who prefer metal or plastic material, argue that it may not pose the problem foreign tissue does in affecting an individual's immunity.

TIME NEEDED

But Sir Russell and Dr. Bailey say in JAMA that more time is needed to evaluate prosthetic valves.

Artificial valves have not been in use long enough for their long-term survival rate to be evaluated, Dr. Bailey points out. Failure rates as high as 37 per cent within a year after transplantation have been reported.

Sir Russell's principle objection to the artificial valve is that it represents too radical a departure from the shape of the natural valve.

Refugees Working in Las Vegas

Gaming Background Aids Cuban Exiles

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Crap tables and roulette wheels were the one thing Havana and Las Vegas had in common. That link, now broken, has proved vital for some Cubans who have fled their homeland.

More than 500 Cubans, a fraction of those who have left under the Fidel Castro regime, call Las Vegas their new home.

Most of them are on the business side of the gambling tables, and, according to the gambling bosses, they're doing good work.

"I wish more of our American boys were as alert," says a gambling shift boss at a luxury hotel-casino.

KNOW JOB

"They're pleasant, fast, know their job, and they're dependable."

Another boss says, "Some of them may not speak English too well, but they count money fine."

"What I like about them, as far as I know, is they never make a bet or take a drink. They finish their shift and go home — as everybody should in his business," he added.

Nearly every major casino in Las Vegas, and a few in northern Nevada, employ Cubans. Cuban dealers make the same daily pay as the Americans: between $22.00 and $26.00.

UNION OBJECTS

The Cubans' presence is objected to by a union trying to organize casino help. The union has yet to sign a bargaining agreement with any Nevada casino.

Three emigrant dealers are Jose Lopez, 26; Renato Santos, 22; and Arturo Menendez, 29. They grew up in Havana, knew each other there, and worked in Havana gambling before leaving in 1960.

Santos escaped in a boat with 26 others. He served with the Bay of Pigs army, but remained in Guatemala as a reserve during the invasion attempt.

Lopez is married and has two children in school. Menendez and Santos are bachelors, live in apartments and own cars. Lopez is buying a house and car.

ROUTINE WORK

The three men see their work

as routine, the same way they have always maintained the living standard they're accustomed to.

Menendez says, "Castro closed the clubs in Havana. First he says there is no business. Well, they stopped Americans from coming, that was 80 per cent of the business. Then he says we didn't want that kind of business anyway."

He wistfully recalls his old casino, the Tropicana, as "the finest nightclub in the world, all glass. It was truly beautiful."

But if Havana casinos were lush, there's more action here.

HIGHER LIMITS

"Whew, do they bet the money here! The limits are higher too," says Santos.

After work the Cubans whip up batches of chicken and rice, black beans and pork, write plenty of letters, seek out Latin entertainment, watch television, and talk Cuban politics. All want to go home.

Lopez tried golf, "but I broke two clubs. Can't do it."

The three men say all Cubans are grateful for America's help in resettling. Of the 500 Cubans in southern Nevada, none is drawing unemployment and only 12 are on the welfare role which averages 3,160 cases a month.

Wants U. S. Office of Traffic Safety

DECATUR, Ga. (AP) — Rep. James A. Mackay, D-Ga., says he plans to introduce a bill in Congress by Feb. 1 seeking creation of a national traffic safety administration.

He said Wednesday it is time to halt the "indiscriminate killing on the nation's highways."

"There were twice as many people killed in automobile accidents in December than there were killed in Viet Nam since 1961," he said. "We are callous to auto tragedies even though they involve the terrible deaths of innocent people and children."

The term "buccaneers" originated in Haiti where early settlers preserved their meat by smoking or drying — a process called "buccan." The pirates used this method to stock their ships for long voyages.

Indonesia Loss
Malaysia Gain

May Lead to Revival
of SE Asia Alliance

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysia, long a wallflower in Asian political circles, suddenly has become a center of attention.

She owes much of this allure to the Communist-backed coup that foundered in Indonesia. Malaysia watched its arch-enemy Indonesia virtually collapse and then saw its own stock soar among other Asian nations.

The long-range result, some officials say privately, may be a new political and economic grouping in Southeast Asia against threats from China to the north.

The new alignment would range from India through Burma, Thailand, South Viet Nam and the Philippines.

KEY DEVELOPMENT

One key development has been the Philippines' expressed desire to resume diplomatic relations with Malaysia. The two countries broke two years ago after a territorial dispute over Malaysia's North Borneo state of Sabah.

The new Philippine president, Ferdinand E. Marcos, snapped up feelers on resuming diplomatic relations. His favorable response was met by a call from Malaysian Prime Minister Abdul Rahman for the revival of the association of Southeast Asia.

This association, dusty from disuse, links Thailand, the Philippines and Malaysia in cultural and economic pacts. Out of it may come an Asian variation of the European Common Market, some officials predict. It could easily expand to include other Southeast Asian nations.

Malaysia reacted slowly to the Communist-backed coup in Indonesia. Some leaders even suspected it was a trick by President Sukarno, one official said.

TOOK SHAPE

Then events began to slide into place and Rahman seemed to find new assuredness. The Indonesia struggle muted that country's vow to "crush" this nation of 10 million. And Rahman's earlier decision to force Singapore out of the Malaysian federation diminished discontent within the country.

Malaysian officials contend that close relations with China can only mean the kiss of death in the long run.

'U.S. Reds Boost Role in Protests'

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today the Communist party has played an ever-increasing role in generating opposition to the U. S. position in Viet Nam.

Hoover said also that the party is trying to attract more youth and is making plans to take a more active part in the 1966 elections, running candidates wherever possible.

In his annual report to the attorney general on FBI activities during 1965, Hoover said: "Always eager to engage in any activity which will bring embarrassment to the United States, the party has played an ever-increasing role in generating opposition to the United States position in Viet Nam."

INSTRUCTIONS

"In September 1965, party headquarters sent a directive to all districts giving instructions on slogans to be used in protests against United States action in Viet Nam. In addition, the party has expended large sums of money in propaganda efforts designed to hinder United States progress toward peace."

Hoover said the Communist party and other subversive groups supported and participated in various protests against U. S. policy. This was particularly true, he said, in the April 17 student march on Washington, the August Washington summer action project, the October international days of protest, the Nov. 27 march on Washington for peace in Viet Nam and the Nov. 25-28 national antiwar convention in Washington.

Hoover also reported: —Nearly 14,000 fugitives were located and 21,000 automobiles recovered in FBI-investigated cases — both new highs. —The work of the FBI in the field of civil rights continued to expand. —The FBI files now contain more than 177 million sets of fingerprints.

gain, and imports have been reduced.

But while the state has benefited, the change has not been without hardship for the Yugoslav people.

In the controlled economy of orthodox communism, rents for the worker have been all but free.

But as rent subsidies were reduced, the cost of housing more than doubled, as did the cost of electricity.

COSTS JUMP

Transportation costs jumped 45 per cent.

As factories pulled in their belts under orders to get along without government support, thousands of workers were laid off and many still are unemployed. Some have emigrated to other lands to find work.

Unskilled workers who had abandoned the countryside to jam the cities were being forced to return.

Housewives began buying black bread instead of white and rising coffee and beer prices half-emptied the taverns and coffee houses.

But despite dislocations and some hardship, the reform has moved forward with amazing smoothness.

valued the franc, reduced subsidies to state-owned industries, including the railroads and then reduced the astronomic figures appearing on French paper currency by moving the decimal over a couple of points. Thus, a 1,000-franc note became a 10-franc note with the same value as its predecessor.

The same has happened to the dinar in Yugoslavia.

Giving strong support to Yugoslavia's attempt to liberalize its economy has been the United States.

CREDITS GRANTED

In December it was disclosed the United States had granted the country credits and debt postponements amounting to $57 million.

In November the United States had granted a long-term $44 million credit for Yugoslav wheat purchases.

Results of the reforms, which began last July, already have been impressive.

Prices of many products have been allowed to find their own level on the free market. Despite early confusion, some factories are increasing their output.

The trade deficit of about $200 million has been cut in half. Exports are showing a healthy

Yugoslav Reforms Most Far-Reaching

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

As economic realities have forced the East European Communist nations into reforms with more than a tinge of capitalism, the most far-reaching have been undertaken by Yugoslavia, traditional maverick of communism.

The many-pronged objectives of the NEWSOM Yugoslav program are to make Yugoslav products competitive on a free world market, to establish the dinar on an equal footing with Western currencies, including the dollar, to reduce subsidies to state enterprises at home and to place the economy on the basis of supply and demand.

In the Western world, these are recognized procedures and the steps being undertaken by Yugoslavia parallel almost exactly those followed by France when President Charles de Gaulle overruled its economy in December 1958. But in Communist lands it is rank revisionism.

In France, de Gaulle first de-

Another Storm Hits Weather-Wearied Northwest California; 3 Are Missing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Another storm slammed into northwestern California today in a region where 1,000 persons already have left their homes, many roads have been closed and snow-laden roofs have collapsed.

Three hikers are missing on 14,161-foot Mt. Shasta which, residents say, has had the heaviest snow in more than 20 years. The Smith River in the far northwest rose at a rate of a foot an hour. Although the situation remained less than critical, the disaster-hardened people of Crescent City, Calif., took precautions.

Other rivers receded during the lull before the new storm.

This storm, as well as the one before it, originated in Alaska. It was expected to drop heavy rains from Oregon to Ukiah, Calif., 110 miles north of San Francisco.

Another and potentially more dangerous storm spun off from Hawaii and headed toward the mainland.

Torrential rains from Hawaiian storms and melted mountain snow killed 23 and did $1 billion in damage in Christmas week of 1964. The U.S. Weather Bureau in

Woman Shot to Death in Nankin Twp. Home

DETROIT (AP) — A 34-year-old woman was found shot to death Wednesday in a bedroom of her locked Nankin Township home.

San Francisco said, "The flooding pressure on the rivers of central California should ease while those of the extreme north should increase."

Forecaster W. E. Brenkman said an added hazard was snowmelt. Rain and snow fell on Dunsuir, a town of around 3, 700 located in mountains 270 miles north of San Francisco. It has been declared a disaster area. Two days of snowstorms followed by rain snapped power lines, darkening the community.

Taiwan has been making rapid economic gains. It had a favorable trade balance of $53 million last year.

Famed Poet Is 88 Today

Confined to Sickbed in N. Carolina Home

FLAT ROCK, N.C. (AP) — Carl Sandburg, the poet and Lincoln biographer, marks his 88th birthday today in a sickbed. His wife thinks he'll get well and live to be 101.

"He'll pull himself out of this," said Mrs. Sandburg in an interview. "There's nothing that has ever defeated Carl. It's been a great life he's had because he knows how to make the best of things."

Mrs. Sandburg said her husband has not completely recovered from an intestinal inflammation which started in September. He was also shaken by a fall recently.

For years, Sandburg has predicted he would die at an age divisible by 11.

'INEVITABLE'

"It's inevitable, it's inexorable, it's written in the book of fate," the poet told newsmen when he turned 80. "I had two great-grandfathers and a grandfather who died in years divisible by 11. If I don't die at 88, I'll go on to 99."

But Sandburg's 82-year-old wife, who married him 57 years ago, takes no stock in the prophecy.

"I really think he'll live to be 101," she said. "He really has to do something different, you know."

"He still drinks goat's milk. That's why he's lived so long, but I wouldn't say that's what made him a poet."

LIFE'S PATH

"Nobody can tell what made Carl the way he is," she said. "It must have been just the way he was born. His father couldn't even write his name."

"And now Carl's work is going all over the world. Both his poems and his Lincoln biography have been translated into many languages."

"But his heart is really with the poem 'The People, Yes' and other poems of that period," Mrs. Sandburg said. "I think it's because so many young people write to him and say they've been inspired by that poem and they want to write, too."

There will be no birthday news conference at Sandburg's mountainside home as in bygone years. He will not lift a heavy oak armchair over his head to show reporters he is in good condition.

"Oh, he used to do that armchair business until recently," Mrs. Sandburg said. "Then when they'd ask him to do it, he'd just say it was too much trouble to go out on the porch and get the chair."

Rare Nickel Is Yielded by Coin Machine

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Betty Baline, 17, bought a candy bar snack between classes at suburban Kelloggsville High School and now wonders whether the nickel she got in change might be worth a bundle of cash.

Apparently through an error at the mint, the 1959 nickel was stamped on a copper blank. It's darker than ordinary five-cent pieces.

Betty's father, Raymond Blaine, says he has been told by one expert that only five or six such coins may exist and thus may have value as a collector's item.

While making a check of collector centers, the Blaine family is keeping the off-beat coin in a safety deposit box until they learn whether they have a bonanza or just another nickel.

Two Groups of Alumnae Will Meet

Two groups of South Oakland Alumnae Association, Kappa Delta sorority will meet on Tuesday.

The afternoon unit will gather in the Birmingham home of Mrs. George F. Mile. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Russell E. Smith and Mrs. Wayne Stettbacher.

Mrs. John M. Clark will highlight the meeting with a province report.

EVENING GROUP

Mrs. George F. Heine Jr. of Westover Avenue, West Bloomfield Township will entertain the evening group that same day at 8 p.m. Her assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Archie E. Armstrong and Mrs. Neil H. Leavens.

A film of the 1965 Junior Miss Contest will be shown by Mrs. D. J. Tibble.

Is Hostess to Beta Sig

Mrs. Jack Barker was hostess for Zeta Eta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority's first meeting for 1966. Her cohostess was Mrs. Joseph Galardi.

Mrs. William J. Yates, service chairman, reported on the group's Christmas project to the Oakland County Sanatorium.

Plans were initiated for a benefit sale April 1.

Guests for the meeting were Mrs. Raymond A. Bellehumeur and Mrs. Michael Ryan.

Hostesses Write Abby Now About Serving Refreshments

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In your column recently you said that the hostess who asks if her guests want a cold drink, coffee, or a sandwich and then sits on her bottom without making a move toward the kitchen, is just "lazy" — and she shouldn't ask, she should get up and serve it. Well, I'm sorry, Abby, but I don't agree with you. I am on a limited budget and I can't afford to prepare refreshments to throw out.

I always ask if anybody wants anything first. And I am only too glad to serve whatever I have if it is wanted, but it bugs me to watch guests toy with their food and pretend to enjoy it when they really don't.

BUGGED IN BEAUMONT

DEAR ABBY: Just because a hostess doesn't FORCE cats on her guests doesn't mean she is lazy. Anyone who is so stupid as to refuse a cup of coffee when they really want one, deserves to go without.

ABBY

This business of having to BEG folks to have a cookie or a sandwich is for the birds. Whatever happened to the simple "YES" or "NO" when something is offered?

I ask once and I mean it. And whatever answer I get is okay by me. I don't beg anybody to eat or drink anything in my house.

JUST PLAIN FOLKS

DEAR ABBY: Apropos "OFTEN A GUEST": The guest who gets me is the one who, when asked if he wants something, replies, "If YOU are going to have something, I'll join you."

OFTEN ANNOYED

Problems? Write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

BROCADE GOWN

The bride's gown of white satin and silk brocade, with lace sleeves, swept into a cathedral-length train.

She donned a silk illusion veil and carried white roses for the 10 p.m. rite performed by the bridegroom's brother, Rev. Robert Kasten.

Honor attendant was Susan Axford, with bridesmaids Linda Jergovich, Mrs. Robert Kasten and Mrs. Thomas Lane; and junior maids, Vanessa Simmons, Debbie Rakes and Pamela Wilton.

Sandra Wilton and Danny Guilds were flower girl and ring-bearer, respectively.

Lonnie May of Arlington, Texas was best man for his college roommate. Seating guests were Rufus Gage, James Pointer, Roy Holcomb and junior ushers Joe Bridgewater, Roger White and Michael Wilton.

The bridegroom will resume his studies at the Bible Baptist Seminary where his bride plans to enroll for ministerial studies next fall.

Perfect Fit Every Time

If the dress fits, you wear it . . . and wear it, and wear it. That's why many women sew their own clothes: to insure the perfect fit that makes a wardrobe tops in wearability.

As the first step in achieving this goal, the National Cotton Council recommends you make a basic pattern dress in sturdy cotton muslin. After you have altered the basic design to fit perfectly, use it as a guide in cutting out different pattern styles.

Look in sewing books for tips on altering a basic pattern to solve individual figure problems.

Insurance for Breadwinner Is First Need

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

If life insurance were simply a cut-and-dried proposition, where you paid in so much money and your dependents got a certain sum at your death, you could just dig down in your jeans, pay the premiums, and try to forget the whole business.

MARY FEELEY But it isn't. Insurance is one of the most flexible financial muscles you can use in building a future and while you're still around to appreciate it.

The average wage earner is becoming increasingly interested in finding out how to buy life insurance, as well as how much to buy; how and when to re-evaluate his policies; how best to use his dividends; how, if, and when he can borrow when cash is essential; when and how to convert one type of policy to another.

A couple of questions in today's mail may reflect some of your own thinking.

Dear Miss Feeley: When our son was three years old we took out a $1,000 life insurance policy on him. If he dies after age 21, the policy will pay $5,000. Or, if he so decides, it will pay him $25 monthly for 120 months at age 65.

The annual premiums are $51.99, and my husband and I are wondering if we were talked into something we could better do without. Our son is now 14.

He will be going to college in four years and will need money. My question is: should we cash this policy now and invest the money or put it in savings? Or should we keep it in force and let the dividends accumulate?

Mrs. W.C.J., Rialto, Calif.

Dear Mrs. J.: Since you've had this policy on your son all these years, I'd say hold on to it. Your son would have to pay a considerably larger premium for $5,000 worth of life insurance when he's over 21 so you'll be giving him a good start, which will be especially important if he gets married at an early age on a modest income.

I certainly suggest you let him take over the payment of the premiums as soon as he is financially able to do so.

One point I would like to make here. I believe it's always wiser for the father — or the breadwinner — to carry adequate insurance before buying policies for infants or young children. It's a temptation to buy such policies for the young. But if the breadwinner who pays these premiums dies, the young policyholder ends up with nothing.

These policies for young children make sound sense only after the needed family insurance program is already taken care of.

Dear Miss Feeley: How much life insurance should a married man with five children carry?

My husband is 46, salary around $15,000. One child is a junior in college, the next one enters college in the fall of 1966. Three younger children are 14, 11, and 5.

My husband has $26,000 in life insurance policies, not including his plant's policy of $20,000. Our mortgage is $12,000 on a $28,000 home. We have medical insurance which proves adequate.

Any advice you can offer will be appreciated.

Mrs. J. W. Lewiston, N.Y.

In this situation, your husband should have as near to $75,000 worth of life insurance as he can manage — the estimate five-times-gross income figure the Institute of Life Insurance has often recommended. This is assuming, of course, that you do not have an independent income, and that there isn't a cash fund in hand for the children's education.

Leave After 10 Minutes Is Rule

By The Emily Post Institute
When you are paying a formal visit, the important rules are: Don't outstay other visitors who arrive after you, or one who may have come before you but who is plainly an intimate friend in whose news the hostess seems interested.

In such a situation the rule of safety is to leave after ten minutes.

Do not, however, fidget and talk about leaving. Sit down as though your leaving immediately were not on your mind, but after a little while stand up and say "Good-by" and go.

Never make remarks such as "I'm afraid I have overstayed my welcome," or "I must apologize for running off," or "I'm afraid I have bored you to death talking so much." All such expressions are self-conscious and stupid. If you really think you are staying too long or leaving too soon or talking too much — DON'T!

Above all, don't keep your hostess standing while you make parting remarks for half an hour! Having risen to go, GO!

LEAVING TIP

Q: Every so often a woman I used to work with will call and invite me to have lunch with her. She always takes me to expensive restaurants.

The high prices don't seem to bother her a bit but when it comes to tipping, she is very meager. It embarrasses me terribly because I am inclined to be over-generous when the service is good.

Could I possibly leave my own tip without belittling her?

A: Leaving an extra tip would be very belittling and rude to your hostess.

If you would like the booklet entitled, "The Bride's Trousseau," send ten cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Polly's Pointers

Faded Geranium

DEAR POLLY — During the summer I purchased some very pretty plastic geraniums. Much to my disappointment, the hot sun faded them although I was sure they would stay pretty for a long time. I would like to know if any of the readers know how to dye or recolor these flowers.—ETHEL

How about this, girls?—POLLY.

DEAR POLLY—Storing vacuum cleaner attachments was always a real problem until I discovered the following solution.

I took a new carpenter's nail apron, which can be obtained at a lumberyard, and fixed the pockets to fit the attachments. I sewed a new piece of canvas above the pockets and sewed crossways to make two new packets for the pipeline attachments.

The bottom pockets were made to fit the brushes and so on. Two loops were made for the top corners of the apron with the ties that were already there.

The loops were fastened over a couple of hooks I installed on my broom-closet wall.—MRS. E. H.

DEAR POLLY — Showers are given for brides and the gifts they receive are a big help in equipping the kitchen, linen closet and so on. Why not have showers for the groom-to-be so he could get a start with household tools and so on? This could be done during the stag party. — MRS. D. A. S.

DEAR POLLY — I used to find it hard to keep cocktail snacks (the cheese and corn varieties that come in cellophane bags) fresh after the bag was opened and just a few were eaten.

Now I put each kind in one of the new type coffee cans that come with plastic tops. They have stayed fresh for several weeks.—MARGUERITE

DEAR POLLY — After three years of marriage and three years of worry over becoming a messy housekeeper I hit upon a helpful idea that I must share. It stemmed from that age-old adage "A place for everything and everything in its place" and NOW, not later.

It is so easy to put things on a table or counter top, in a corner or in the utility room to wait until LATER, but it is even easier to do it now and have that pleasant, orderly look in the home.

I started this good habit several months ago and although it certainly does not solve all my housekeeping problems it is a surprising help.—MRS. D. R. C.

Preparing Your Will Saves Time, Money for Loved Ones

FROM MARY A. HARDY
Extension Home Economist

Most people are unaware of how necessary it is for the head of a family to have a will, no matter how small his assets may be.

Barry Grant, local attorney, told those attending the Pontiac Mall Women's World program Wednesday that a will is important for the orderly distribution of property at one's death.

Jewelry, silverware and family heirlooms can be given to the people who would appreciate them. A guardian for minor children can be named in the will, and provisions made for their future education, thus protecting their interests.

With sizeable estates the inheritance and estate taxes can be minimized through the proper drawing of a will.

It is wise to have an attorney with probate experience to help write the will, since he is trained in legal technicalities.

Give Reports at Meeting

Mrs. Charles Crawford served as leader of the demonstration group when the Parliamentary Study Club met Wednesday in the Masonic Temple on East Lawrence.

Mrs. Paul Gorman was in charge of reports. Those giving reports included Mrs. John McNeely, Mrs. Fred Goines, Mrs. Ervin Christie, Mrs. Merrill Petrie and Mrs. Joseph Phillips.

New officers elected to demonstrate the next meeting are Mrs. Ross Elliot, Mrs. Eugene Perko, Mrs. David Saks, Mrs. Russell French, Mrs. Lester Oles and Mrs. Henry Simpson.

South Fights Thief Influx

Warm Welcome Set

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Burglars, jewel thieves, pickpockets, con men and other members of the underworld dislike the Northern winter cold as much as their more affluent victims.

So, annually, they follow their wealthy "clients" south to this winter vacationland to acquire a sun tan and perhaps some illegal cash and a few baubles to finance their stay.

Professional jewel robberies hit their peak during the winter season along the Florida Gold Coast, causing police a great deal of work and embarrassment.

This year things may be different.

"For the first time, we've got the manpower to do the job our special enforcement squad was designed for," said Maj. Manson Hill of the county sheriff's office in Miami.

KNOWN THIEVES

The exchange of information on known thieves among police in the major resort areas, Hill said, is so good that uniformed patrolmen know constantly which thieves are in town and how they operate.

Some major operators, Hill said, have been put out of circulation by high bonds, convictions and stiff sentences during the past few months.

After Hideouts Blasted

Cong Make 2 Terrorist Raids in Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Allied troops and U.S. planes knocked out hidden Viet Cong installations in widely separated areas in the past 48 hours, but the Communists struck back tonight with two terrorist attacks in Saigon.

Terrorists exploded a mine outside the Saigon airport and blew up a police substation in the eastern part of the city, killing at least two Vietnamese. Three American servicemen and three Vietnamese were wounded in the attack at the airport.

It was the new year's first terrorism in Saigon, which was hit by a flurry of grenade-throwing incidents aimed at U.S. troops during the celebration of the Viet Cong's fifth anniversary last month.

The U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade, pushing through the steamy swamplands west of Saigon, uncovered a network of Communist bunkers filled with ammunition and supplies as the Viet Cong fell back before the American paratroopers.

The paratroopers blew up the fortifications on the sixth day of the first U.S. invasion in strength of the Mekong Delta, a Communist stronghold.

Other elements of the 173rd Brigade came on what one U.S. spokesman called a Viet Cong "general store" near the marshy Plain of Reeds, a Red stronghold and infiltration route close to the Cambodian frontier.

The paratroopers captured two guards. One of them carried several ounces of gold and 11,000 piasters, possibly part of a guerrilla payroll. The cash was worth only about $150 but was a considerable amount in Vietnamese terms.

As the suspension of U.S. raids on North Viet Nam continued for the 14th day, spokesmen said B52s from Guam in a raid Tuesday night 70 miles northwest of Saigon destroyed two large tunnels, a bunker, 400 yards of camouflaged trench line and a supply area.

FUEL DUMP

Secondary explosions indicated the bombs may have also hit a guerrilla ammunition or fuel dump, he said.

South Korean marines and Vietnamese paratroopers uncovered 32 Viet Cong cave hideouts and seized 147 suspects, many of them women and children, on the fifth day of "Operation Jefferson," a big sweep 12 miles south of Tuy Hoa, a coastal city 240 miles from Saigon.

A U.S. spokesman said the youngsters may have been used as Viet Cong spies and "it is always worthwhile to interrogate them." He said reports from the field showed 314 Viet Cong had been killed, many by U.S. artillery and naval gunfire, during the Korean-Vietnamese operation.

The Viet Cong were reported continuing terror killings in villages the Saigon government has sought to bring back under its control. In the past week, the U.S. Military Command said, 32 village and hamlet officials were killed, 61 were wounded and 130 kidnaped. One farmer was tied to a stake and burned.

"The village official in South Viet Nam is the man who lives in the most dangerous part of this country," said an American of

'Bomb Supply Yanks Adopt 'Scorched Earth' Program in Bid to Cripple the Viet Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — To break the back of the Viet Cong, U. S. and allied forces are adopting a program of destroying houses and crops in areas which feed and shield the Communist forces.

For years, Americans refused to participate in "scorched earth" efforts, leaving them to the Vietnamese. Now Americans are directly involved. They are trying to protect innocent people.

The broad-based program includes the establishment of free-bombing zones in Viet Cong regions, killing rice crops in enemy areas, and burning other crops and homes.

The rich, intensely cultivated flat lands south of the Vaico Oriental River west of Saigon are prime "scorched earth" targets. U. S. paratroopers from the 173rd Airborne Brigade began operating there last week-end.

BASE CAMP

They laid their base camp among the blackened frames of burned houses. Within two miles of the paratroopers' camp not a house was left standing. Constant pounding by artillery and planes had reduced every building to rubble.

The paratroopers' mission was to move out farther, round up all the people they could find, evacuate them north of the river to resettlement camps, and burn and destroy everything eatable and livable.

Patrols waded in neck-deep canals slicing through the canefields, crept stealthily down high dikes, and pushed through thick brush.

Every house they encountered they burned to the ground. Most were of thatch, but some were large with heavy wooden frames and neat gardens.

Their men folk stayed hidden in the canefields and the canals, sniping at the searching paratroopers and mining the trails. The province chief had told the Americans that every man south of the river was a Viet Cong.

"They must be either shootin' or diggin' all the time," said one paratrooper as he picked his way from one covered bunker to the next. These bunkers, some built years ago, others fresh, were in strategic positions around every home and larding the "scorched earth" zone. They know that the Viet Cong will rebuild the razed if we can keep them busy rebuilding their houses and new earthenware pots and planting the crops, then they'll have no time for shooting."

Production at a Halt Early in Viet Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP)—Production of 750-pound bombs was at a halt during the first six or seven months of the U.S. air war in Viet Nam, it was disclosed today.

Manufacture of these "iron bombs" stopped after the Korean War, wasn't resumed until late last summer, the Defense Department said. This was about a half year after the first U.S. air strike into North Viet Nam.

Apparently the bomb stockpile was fast being eaten up by almost daily B52 raids over South Viet Nam and air attacks by U.S. Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers against Communist targets in both North and South Viet Nam. A mission of 30 B52s, fully loaded, carries more than a million pounds of bombs.

U.S. officials have insisted there is no shortage of bombs or other ammunition.

TIGHT SUPPLY

Knowledgeable sources say there were times during the past month of strike operations when the 750-pound-bomb supply was tight. "We sweated a little," said one source.

No missions were scrubbed because of a lack of bombs and the supply situation has been improving, sources said.

Asked about the bomb production situation, the Pentagon also said that manufacture of 500-pound bombs was stopped in the fall of 1963 "when inventory requirements for the general purpose forces were reached."

Output of 500-pounders was started again in March 1965, about a month after American warplanes began hitting North Viet Nam.

PRODUCTION BREAK

This means there was a production break of more than a year in this class of bomb.

The 750-pounders and the 500-pounders have been the major types of bombs dumped on the Communists by Air Force and Navy planes, although 1,000-pound and 2,000-pound bombs also have been dropped.

Defector Felt Life in Danger

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A young Polish interpreter for the International Control Commission told newsmen today he defected because he felt his life was in danger after he had voiced a desire to go to the United States.

Anatol Slavinski, 25, a slightly built English interpreter, said he had overheard Polish military officers discussing ways to get rid of him. He said this precipitated his defection Dec. 31.

Slavinski told a news conference his assignment to Saigon was his introduction to life in the free world. In his two months here, he said, he read many magazines and newspapers and he began thinking about defecting to the West.

When he ran into a Saigon police station on New Year's Eve, several members of the Polish delegation to the control commission rushed in behind him and demanded that the Vietnamese police turn him back to them. The police refused.

TELLS OF WIFE

Slavinski said he is from Lodz, Poland, and that his pregnant wife is in Moscow.

"I am a little sorry to leave her behind," he said.

He said he intends to seek American citizenship but "I know this is very difficult."

"I trust the Americans will protect me," he said—when asked if he still feared for his life.

Slavinski said he was not a member of the Polish Communist party and did not like his country's Communist government. He has been in the hands of Vietnamese police since his defection but will probably be turned over to U.S. intelligence officers' soon, reliable sources said.

Every cooking utensil was smashed, every banana tree severed, every mattress slashed.

Clothing Drive Next Week

More than 10 tons of wearable items — 21,000 pounds — has been set as the goal of the 11th annual clothing drive of the Pontiac public schools next week.

The drive, directed by Don DeVoe, assistant principal at Eastern Junior High School, begins Monday and lasts through Friday.

DeVoe said clothing would be gathered at the city's 28 elementary and eight secondary schools as items are contributed.

He emphasized all clothing collected would go to needy children in Pontiac schools.

School maintenance personnel will deliver the clothing to the Salvation Army, 118 W. Lawrence; St. Vincent de Paul Society, 11 W. Wilson; and Seventh Day Adventist Church, 168 Mt. Clemens, for distribution.

Direction of clothing to needy students is usually initiated by individual classroom teachers, he said.

Ike Planning Annual Vacation in California City

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, undergoing a medical checkup at Walter Reed Army Hospital here, was expected to leave tonight or Friday for his annual winter vacation in Palm Desert, Calif.

The former president, who suffered a heart attack Nov. 9 in Augusta, Ga., flew to the hospital grounds Wednesday by White House helicopter from his home in Gettysburg, Pa. He spent a month at the hospital recuperating from the attack before returning to Gettysburg just before Christmas.

The five-star general plans to travel west by train. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower; Mr. and Mrs. George Allen of Washington; Mrs. Eisenhower's uncle, Joel Carlson of Boone, Iowa; and Brig. Gen. Robert Schulz, his aide.

Insurance Companies Attacked at Senate Hearing in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Witnesses berated insurance companies at a Senate Insurance Committee hearing Wednesday.

For most of the six hours of the City-County Building session, insurance companies were attacked by complaining policyholders. More than 100 spectators packed the hearing room.

One witness, Max Cramer, 46, a Coldwater truck driver, expressed a more moderate view.

Cramer said that while he had to wait for nine months, his insurance company paid him $12,699 for tornado damage to his home last April.

COULD NOT WAIT

However, Cramer also said other families could not wait that long and had to settle for "scarcely enough to buy the materials for repairs."

The hearing opened on the heels of Tuesday's dispute between Sen. Bernard F. O'Brien, D-Detroit, committee chairman, and retiring Insurance Commissioner Allen L. Mayerson.

Mayerson, resigning today from his post, and O'Brien exchanged charges over their capabilities. There was no reference at the hearing to their clash.

Henry Grewe, 62, of Detroit, who said he owns seven Detroit area homes, testified an adjuster put a $300 loss figure on a $500 claim for a fire that destroyed a garage.

Grewe said he wrote to Mayerson but that Mayerson "would not deign to listen to the complaint of a working man like me."

A number of unidentified elderly persons testified their automobile insurance had been canceled despite their years of driving without accidents or without being ticketed.

Grant Awarded for Study of How to Keep Earth Fit for Life

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The U.S. Public Health Service has granted Washington University $14 million to help find a way for life to remain on the earth's surface.

Commoner heads the first research and training center established under a new Public Health Service program. His job is to find out just how seriously man has contaminated his environment, and what can be done.

University botany department about it.

"We're not going to be able to live effectively in our environment if we do not do something suitable to support life if left unchecked include: use of insecticides and other new synthetic chemicals, increasing urbanization, overpopulation, radioactive pollution, and nuclear testing and other sources.

"We already are beginning to feel the effects of unrestricted use of the environment," Commoner said.

He gives as examples smog deaths in London and water shortages in New York, where plenty of fresh—but sometimes polluted—water is available.

"Anyone knows that air and water are essential," he said.

Commoner said it was once possible to build a factory and not worry about its effects because only a small section of the environment was involved. But now man must understand what he is doing, because his activities are large enough to affect the entire earth.

The study center involves all sciences, including medicine and sociology. The Missouri Botanical Gardens and the St. Louis zoo will cooperate in the research.

Mandates were established as a part of the Treaty of Versailles after World War I.

British Police School to Enroll American

CHICAGO (AP) — Police Capt. Patrick V. Needham, 32, will be the first American to attend England's Bramshill Police College. Needham, director of records and communications for the Chicago Police Department, will leave Friday for England to enroll for a six-month course. The school was founded in 1958 to train top-level British police officers.

'I'll Make Something Of Myself' GI Grows Up Overnight, Finds Shooting Gets Easier

By TOM TIEDE
CHINH TAMS, Viet Nam (NEA) — Older men declare war, it has been said, but it is youth who must fight and die and it is youth who must profit from so much death, so much sacrifice and so much ruin.

Anthony J. Anno, for instance, Tony Anno used to be one of the wildest whelps in Los Angeles County. Hot rods and dimes. He says the only reason he didn't wind up in jail was because he never got caught.

But that was scores of jungle patrols ago. Hundreds of fire fights and thousands of dead soldiers in the past.

He's different now. "I ain't the same guy I was before," he was saying. "I ain't but a year older — only 18, but I just ain't the same guy."

GET OLD CAR
"I remember we used to get an old car between a bunch of us and then fix it up. We didn't always have the money so we'd have to steal hubcaps and things like that."

"Once we drove through the streets of downtown L.A. for half the night looking for a dipstick for a '56 Ford."

"When we finally spotted the make, we jumped out, shot the hood up, grabbed the stick and beat it."

It was kicks. And so many wounded men ago.

Talks Avert Bus Strike in Virginia Cities

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Frenzied last-minute negotiations between Virginia Transit Co. and union officials have averted a bus strike that had been called in the state's two largest cities for Wednesday midnight.

Talks continued at the state capitol past the deadline and at 1:30 a.m. today, after more than 16 hours of negotiations, an announcement was made that a no strike order had been given.

Details of the agreement were not announced. It must be approved by transit company locals in Richmond and Norfolk.

Walter Bierwagen, international vice president of the Amalgamated Transit Union, and VTC President K. A. Bradshaw, in a joint announcement, said the proposal would be submitted to the union's membership in Richmond and Norfolk today and Friday.

SHUN COMMENT
Union officials and the VTC declined further comment on the contract proposals.

Bus drivers in the two cities two days ago rejected a company offer which had been submitted without approval of union negotiators.

The union declined to make public specific contract demands other than to say improvements were sought regarding wages, hospitalization and pensions. The top pay scale in the elapsed three-year contract was $2.30 an hour.

pened, maybe it's been a gradual thing. But I think maybe I grew up one night when we were out on an ambush patrol.

"It was drizzling rain and dark as hell and we were sitting by the side of a road waiting for Viet Cong to come by."

"We were there for hours but finally I heard them shuffling toward us. I reached over to wake up the guy with me and when I turned around again, there was this VC looking right at me from over the top of a bush. For a second I just stared at him."

"I don't know why he didn't shoot, the dumb cluck. He had more time than me. But I brought my rifle up first and let him have it full automatic, probably hit him 20 times right in the face."

GETS EASIER
The first one, the worst one. After a time it gets easier.

"Everything the 503rd Infantry has touched has turned to trouble. We been out dozens of times. We've killed thousands. I don't even think about it any more. I just shoot."

"The thing that does get you is to see buddies get it. I've seen dozens fall. It's a terrible experience. You laugh and joke with a guy one day and the next day they are shipping him home in a plastic bag."

But it is youth who must fight and who must profit.

LITTLE THINGS
"I've learned to appreciate things in this war, little things. I like the way my girl sends her letters perfumed."

"I treasure an old Bible my dad carried in the Second World War. Television, high fi, even warm water in a bathtub, they are all something precious now."

"I'm a guy who quit school in the 12th grade, but I'm also a guy who'll never fail again. I learned right here that you got to fight for all the things, little and big, that mean something."

"I learned I can succeed, I learned I can work harder than I ever thought. And I learned that even if I got to sell pop bottles, I'll make something of myself in this world."

Anthony J. Anno. He used to be a wild whelp. So long ago.

Age, Storm's Stress Caused Crane's Death

WASHINGTON (AP) — An autopsy report disclosed today that heart failure from advanced age and possibly the stresses of Hurricane Betsy caused the death of Josephine, matriarch of the whooping crane flock at New Orleans Audubon Park Zoo.

The Fish and Wildlife Service said in announcing this that Josephine was about 28 when she died last September.

It's a Sticky Flight

South Viets Are Caught in Whirl of Spiraling Prices

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The South Vietnamese are caught in the whirl of spiraling prices in a war economy. Food, rent, clothing are climbing week by week.

The prices of many foods have doubled since June. An ao dai, the graceful native high-necked dress, cost from 300 to 400 piasters six months ago. A tailor charges 800 for the same ao dai today. The price of a conical straw hat worn by Vietnamese women has risen from 120 to 200 piasters.

The official rate for the piaster is 73.5 to $1 in U.S. currency.

Foreigners and Saigonese alike shudder at the monthly cost of apartments or villas when compared to the prices paid a year ago. An apartment that once rented for 4,000 piasters a month now is 15,000.

In June, a kilo — 2.2 pounds — of rice cost about eight piasters. The cost today is 15 to 20. Rice to the Vietnamese is what bread and butter is to the American.

A kilo of pork has jumped from 80 piasters to 220 in the same period and beef from 60 to 150.

The price of a package of tea remains about the same. Prices remain generally unchanged both for a loaf of bread or a breakfast roll.

Ice, on the other hand, has doubled in price, and so have candles. A power shortage has plagued Saigon for months.

"There's nothing to do but pay these new high prices," says 35-year-old Nguyen Thi Tu. Her household, which includes a husband and five children, runs on a monthly budget of 4,000 piasters or roughly $50. Some Vietnamese sleep, rolled in various covers against the predawn chill, at the side of the pavement shops they operate by day.

BARGAIN HUNTING

Bargaining and bargain hunting are a national trait.

For many Vietnamese and Chinese here, housing is the least of worries. What would be no more than a pantry in an American home makes a living quarters here.

In many cavernous buildings that house a conglomeration of shops, apartments, bars and hideaways, cot space in the

'Luci's Beau Has D.C. Job'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Airman Patrick J. Nugent, who became engaged last month to President Johnson's daughter Luci, has a job lined up with the Senate Commerce Committee, according to a spokesman for the District of Columbia National Guard.

Commerce Committee aides were unable Wednesday to confirm the report.

Nugent is scheduled to complete six weeks of basic training Friday at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas. He will be transferred at his request from the Wisconsin Air Guard to the D.C. Guard and probably will be assigned to a unit of the 113th Tactical Wing at nearby Andrews Air Force Base for another 120 days of training.

Later he will attend monthly drills.

Before beginning his basic military training, Nugent worked here for the Federal Advisory Council on Higher Education.

U. of M. Gets Grant

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Detroit Edison Co. has given $250,000 to the University of Michigan's Michigan Memorial - Phoenix Project on the peaceful uses of atomic energy. The project was established in 1946 as a memorial to faculty and students who died in World War II.

Transit Strike Pushes NY Businesses to the Wall

NEW YORK (UPI) — Who buys flowers to carry 50 blocks?

Who goes to a nightclub when getting there is no fun? Who walks a mile for a camel hair coat at a January sale?

Nobody does, business is lousy in this business town. The little shopkeepers are hurting.

If the subway and bus strike now six days old, continues much longer, it could mean absolute ruin for many small firms.

Put together, the business losses add up to $100 million a day. The city loses $1 million a day in sales tax collections.

But to a man who invested a lifetime in building a small meat cutting firm which serves the city's better restaurants, the loss adds up to $1,000 a day.

WIPE OUT

"At this rate," the meat cutter said today, "everything I've worked years to build will be wiped out in a couple of weeks, along with the jobs of my nine people."

Ralph Gross, executive vice president of the Commerce and Industry Association, said many small businesses could "fall by the wayside" if the strike lasts another week or 10 days.

Frank Conant, president of the Fifth Avenue Association, wrote President Johnson that business losses "could well spell bankruptcy for many of our business concerns which are operating on a narrow profit margin." He asked the President to prod the strikers into settling.

Despite all the walking being done in New York, even shoe repair stores report a slump.

HARDEST HIT

Hardest hit are the beauty shops, florists, luncheonettes, cleaners and watch repair shops of midtown and downtown Manhattan — the districts Mayor John V. Lindsay has asked the citizens to avoid unless "absolutely essential."

There is some business resentment against Lindsay.

Broadway producer David Merrick, viewing a deserted theater district, said he "has descended from fatuity to banality."

business to tell employers to pay employees who aren't on the job," the president of a major store said.

GETS COOPERATION

Generally, big corporations, at least for a while, were going along with the mayor; small ones said they could not afford to incur business losses and still pay absentee workers.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., with a payroll of 18,000, was paying absentees and giving those who reported for work an extra day's paid vacation for every day worked this week.

It said it would reevaluate this policy at the end of the week.

The Chamber of Commerce endorsed the mayor's position. The Commerce and Industry Association denounced it.

The New York Board of Trade called on Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to mobilize the National Guard to operate the city's buses.

It noted "unprecedented disruption to welfare and economy of every citizen and all business" in its telegram to him.

LBJ Emerges From Price Rift With Consensus Intact

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson emerged today from still another scuffle with industry without seriously smudging his credentials as a friend of businessmen.

In an apparent victory for his "let us reason together" approach to national problems, Johnson batted down a $5 ton price increase for structural steel. He settled Wednesday for a $2.75 boost.

The White House emphatically denied that any behind-scenes deal preceded the announcement by United States Steel Corp. of the pattern-setting compromise increase.

But everybody knew there had been feelers and soundings-out on both sides. U.S. Steel had officials in Washington testing the administration's attitude. The administration — by White House admission — had people in contact with steel producers.

TALKED TOUGH

Unlike President John F. Kennedy in the steel showdown of 1962, Johnson talked tough but never let the controversy reach that point of no return at which a compromise would have been impossible.

Both sides knew — throughout the five tense days after Bethlehem Steel Corp. posted its $5 increase, to be followed by Inland Steel — that Johnson would accept gladly any settlement which did no real violence to the administration's anti-inflation guidelines for wage and price adjustments.

U.S. Steel came up with the formula. It was a price boost only about half as big as Bethlehem's and offset, in part, by a cut in the price of cold-rolled sheet steel which competes with Japanese-made steel on the West Coast.

Quickly, Chairman Gardner Ackley of the President's Council of Economic Advisers applauded the moves as "generally consistent with the price-wage guideposts." Bethlehem canceled its $5 increase. Inland said it would revise its price "to be competitive."

Administration officials were visibly relieved So were most segments, at least, of the steel industry. Neither side wanted the dispute to reach the stage of distrust, if not downright enmity, that marred Kennedy's relations with business after his showdown with the steelmakers.

Kennedy forced a complete and humiliating backdown on the industry by mobilizing a massive show of government force — some of it punitive and retaliatory in nature. The industry found itself denounced publicly, facing a grand jury probe which implied criminal prosecution, threatened with the withdrawal of a planned tax liberalization, and in danger of collusive pricing charges. There was also the threat of antimonopoly action to break up U.S. Steel Corp.

Johnson was content to use one weapon — the appropriate one of ordering government purchasing officials to buy steel from producers who hadn't raised the price. The Pentagon said Wednesday night the order to buy steel at the lowest prices still stands.

Kennedy won, hands down. Johnson came off with half a victory, but with his consensus of support among businessmen still reasonably intact — strained, but not ruptured.

WERE SURPRISED

Some steelmen said they were surprised at the President's angry initial reaction, in which he denounced Bethlehem's $5 boost as inflationary, unwarranted and ill-timed.

One industry source suggested that even this was understandable to many of his colleagues in industry.

He explained: "Most businessmen, I think, just took it to show how strongly the President feels that while American boys are bleeding and dying in Vietnam, businessmen can damn well do a little bleeding at any Committee, said he will introduce legislation next week which would require basic industries to give advance notice to the White House of proposed price increases. He said his bill would provide for a 60-day waiting period before proposed price boosts could be put into effect.

Watercress Soup Has Potato Base

Look at this delightful way to use watercress!

Potato Watercress Soup
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of potato soup
1 cup cold fat-free strong chicken broth
¼ cup milk
1 cup packed watercress leaves

Freshly ground pepper to taste
Into a saucepan turn the undiluted soup; gradually stir in the broth, then the milk. Add the watercress and pepper. Heat slowly, stirring occasionally, until very hot and the cress leaves have wilted and added their flavor — about 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Pretty Fruit

Halve and pare fresh pears; fill cavities with a cream cheese mixture and cover the cheese with halved seedless grapes. Call the dish Bunch of Grapes Salad, and serve it on salad greens accompanied by mayonnaise.

Not all varieties of plastic mixing bowls are suitable for beating egg whites.

Cook Onions With Glaze and Nuts

For most of us, the excellent flavor that onions impart to any menu is reward enough for the peeling.

But one legend tells of a princess who couldn't marry because she couldn't cry. She solved her problem by peeling onions, and was rewarded by living happily ever after with her Prince Charming.

Although you may not win your Prince Charming this way, you'll certainly be rewarded with his praises if you spice your meals with plenty of tasty onions.

And there are abundant supplies of this versatile vegetable in the stores according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Both the sweet Spanish types, used in salads and sandwiches, and Globe types, used for cooking, will be in plentiful supply as a record sized crop is forecast.

Take advantage of this abundance by using onions often in your menu plans. For a real palate pleaser, here is a tempting treat from USDA.

Crunchy Glazed Onions — Use 1½ pounds small, white peeled onions; 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons brown sugar; ¼ cup roasted diced almonds. Cook onions in boiling water until fork tender, about 25 minutes; then drain well.

In saucepan, combine butter, brown sugar and almonds. Cook, stirring occasionally, until butter and sugar are melted. Add onions and heat thoroughly, turning onions to coat with glaze. Serves 5-6.

Tips on Handling Melted Chocolate

The addition of a too small amount of liquid directly to melted semi-sweet or milk chocolate frequently causes it to tighten. The incorporation of steam, contact with damp utensils, or combining with a teaspoon of vanilla may make this happen.

Tightening does not occur when two or more tablespoons of liquid are added — it's the minute amount that is the culprit.

If, despite all your care, melted semi-sweet or milk chocolate should tighten, simply add one or two tablespoons of vegetable shortening, stir well, and the chocolate will liquefy.

Pineapple, Mandarin Oranges

Chilled Fruit Ends Meal

A sumptuous dessert should be served after two kinds of meals: glorious dinners and not-so-successful ones. The underlying principle here is that a really fine meal is enhanced by a fabulous end-off, and a less-than-divine dinner is often "saved" by a delicious dessert.

Try "Mandarin Pineapple Surprise," a marvelous tasting and pretty-as-a-picture dessert that will please your guests.

Fresh pineapple is available the year round. And the canned Mandarin oranges should by now be a staple on your shopping list.

By loosening the meat of each pineapple quarter into bite-size chunks and placing a Mandarin orange segment between each pineapple piece, you create a dessert that pleases the eye as well as the palate.

To give it that "extra" touch, add the spicy sauce made with Sake; Japan's traditional rice-and-water brew that is finding its way into so many luscious recipes.

Mandarin Pineapple Surprise
2 11-ounce cans Japanese Mandarin oranges
1 cup juice drained from Mandarin oranges
¼ cup white corn syrup
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ground clove
2 tablespoons Japanese Sake wine (or any white wine)
1 fresh pineapple, medium size
Drain can of Mandarin oranges, reserving syrup. Combine one cup of juice, corn syrup, cinnamon and clove in saucepan. Boil down to half the original amount.
Remove from stove, add Mandarin orange segments and Japanese Sake. Refrigerate.

Cut pineapple in half lengthwise through green top. Then halve each piece again to make 4 long quarters. Run knife between shell and meat, loosening but not removing pineapple pieces.

Cut pieces into ¼" to ½" slices. Place Mandarin oranges between pineapple slices. Pour chilled sauce over each quarter or pass in serving bowl, so each guest may help himself. Serves 4.

BRIGHTENS WINTER—The busy hostess will be pleased to know that "Mandarin Pineapple Surprise" is a do-ahead dessert that can be prepared early in the day and kept chilled in the refrigerator until you're ready to bring it to the table. Try it soon. It's a spirit-lifting dessert for these dark cold winter evenings.

Ever add a suspicion of cinnamon and nutmeg to a graham cracker crust for a cheese pie? Team cooked shrimp and cauliflower with a cream sauce flavored with minced fresh dill.

Leftover Beef Is Sauced

Beef With Mushroom-Onion Sauce

4 tablespoons butter
1 cup thin strips onion (medium)
½ pound small mushrooms, sliced through caps and stems
1 beef bouillon cube
½ cup boiling water
¼ teaspoon each dry mustard and paprika
1 container (8 ounces) sour cream
2 cups rare roast - beef strips (3 by ½ by ½ inches)

Freshly ground pepper to taste
In a 10-inch skillet, melt 2 tablespoons of the butter. Add onion and cover; cook gently, stirring occasionally, until golden brown. Add remaining 2 tablespoons butter and mushrooms; cook briskly but briefly — just until mushrooms wilt.

Dissolve bouillon cube in the boiling water with the mustard and paprika. Add to skillet with sour cream; over low heat, stir to blend. Stir in beef and pepper. Heat gently but thoroughly without boiling. Makes 4 servings.

Use as Garnish, Too

Crisp Head Lettuce Is Beginning of Salad

With its diced red-skinned apple, pimiento-stuffed olives, bite-size pieces of western iceberg lettuce and zippy sour cream dressing, 'Iceberg Salad' is a real looker. And the combination of flavors is most pleasant.

The delightful crunch that western iceberg provides in salads of all sorts is undoubtedly one very good reason that this head lettuce rates as such a best-seller in markets everywhere in the country.

Iceberg Salad
1 head western iceberg lettuce
½ cup dairy sour cream
¼ cup salad oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
¼ cup chopped onion
1 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon thyme
½ to ¾ cup pimiento-stuffed olives
1 medium-size red-skinned apple

Core, rinse and drain lettuce; chill in saran or plastic bag. Combine sour cream, oil, vinegar, onion, sugar, salt and thyme; chill if you wish.

Cut olives crosswise into halves; tear enough lettuce into bite-size pieces to measure 5 cups. Core and dice apple; toss with lettuce, olives and cream mixture in salad bowl. Serve at once. Makes 6 or 7 servings.

Date-Grapefruit Salad Ringed with Cabbage

What's new in the way of elegant-looking salads? "Make-a-Date Salad," that's what's new, and it's a riot of color and a picnic of flavor!

Moreover, here is a salad that is easy itself to put together. Packaged diced dates, canned grapefruit sections and chopped green pepper and onion are tossed with a dressing of grapefruit syrup, Sherry (or lemon juice), oil and seasonings, then chilled briefly to blend flavors.

Make-a-Date Salad
1 can (8½ oz.) grapefruit sections
2 tablespoons Sherry wine or

Chop Apples, Vegetables for a Relish

Bring fresh new flavor to midwinter meals with crisp apples and juicy pears. Serve them in cobbles, salads, pies and tarts. Try them baked and topped with a pouring of heavy cream or a scoop of vanilla ice cream.

Consider them, too, as a meat accompaniment. For instance, how about serving uncooked Apple Chutney with your next roast? It goes well with pork, ham, lamb, chicken or turkey.

Apple Chutney
1 tablespoon ascorbic acid mixture
¼ cup water
3 apples
1 cup chopped celery
½ cup raisins
1 medium onion, chopped
2 tablespoons chopped crystallized ginger
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons honey

Combine ascorbic acid mixture and water. Peel, core and chop apples. Toss with ascorbic acid and water mixture to coat pieces. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Cover and place in the refrigerator several hours so flavors will blend. Makes ¾ cups.
This relish will keep in the refrigerator for about a week.

Toss Out Seeds

When you are adding a tomato to a tossed green salad, you might like to try this: cut the tomato into six wedges and gently squeeze out the seeds from each wedge. Adding the tomato without the seeds keeps the salad from being watery.

Party Cookies

Beat 1 cup butter with ½ cup brown sugar (packed) thoroughly. Mix in 1 cup chopped raisins and 2 cups sifted flour resifted with ¼ teaspoon each baking powder and salt. Cut in small shapes, sprinkle with sugar and bake in slow oven (300 degrees) 25 minutes. Makes about 24.

Substitution.

Combine three level tablespoons of cocoa with one tablespoon of butter or other shortening to equal one square of baking chocolate.

Animal Cracker Cake

For a child's party, frost a large, square, two-layer cake with fluffy white icing and coconut. Mark into squares with a colored tinted glaze. On each square, stand an animal cracker that has been dipped in melted chocolate.

Fold Grapes Into Creamy Pie Filling

Peel yourself a grape! An Emperor, preferably, for these grapes from California vineyards, are of an extraordinarily fine flavor. This is the beautiful sweet red-purple grape which we like to drape over fruit bowls and the leading table grape during winter months.

Emperor grapes keep beautifully in storage and that's why we can buy them until May. They have a natural high sugar content, a characteristic which lowers the freezing point and makes it possible to store them below 32 degrees.

Even though Emperors are lusciously sweet, they contain no more calories than other table grapes: about 100 per cup. Since they can be eaten out-of-hand without further ado or additional calories, they afford carefree nibbling for weight-watchers.

Emperor Grape Chiffon Pie
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
3 eggs, separated
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup sugar
¼ cup milk
1½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract
1½ cups seeded Emperor grapes
½ cup heavy cream
1 tablespoon sugar
Emperor grapes for garnish

Softened gelatin in cold water. Set aside. Beat egg yolks in top of a double boiler. Add salt and ¼ cup of the sugar. Blend in milk.

Stir and cook over hot water until the mixture coats a metal spoon. Add softened gelatin. Mix well. Cool over ice water until the mixture begins to thicken. Fold in pure vanilla extract and grapes.

Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks, into which gradually beat in remaining ¼ cup sugar. Fold into custard. Turn into a cold baked 9-inch pie shell. Chill until firm and ready to serve.

Sweeten cream with the 1 tablespoon sugar and spread over pie. Garnish with Emperor grapes. Yield: 6 servings.

Soft Cooky Is Chocolate One Full of Walnuts

Make cookies for dessert today and some for the rest of the week!

Chocolate Walnut Cookies
½ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
2 large eggs
2 envelopes (each 1 ounce) no-melt chocolate
¾ cup unsifted regular flour
1 cup chopped (medium fine) walnuts

In a medium mixing bowl, cream butter and sugars. Thoroughly beat in eggs, one at a time, then no-melt chocolate. Stir in flour and walnuts; mixture will be very soft.

Drop level tablespoonfuls of batter, 2 inches apart, on greased and floured cookie sheets. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until bottom of cookies are lightly browned but tops are still soft — about 8 or 9 minutes.

With a wide spatula, remove at once to wire racks; when cold, store in tightly covered container. Makes 4 dozen.

Proposed Changes in Charter Readied

WALLED LAKE—Final drafts of two proposed amendments to the city charter now are being prepared by City Attorney Howard I. Bond.

Councilmen are expected to decide at their Jan. 18 meeting whether the proposals will be placed on the April 4 ballot.

The proposed changes would increase the length of terms and, in effect, the compensation for the mayor and councilmen.

One proposed amendment provides that the mayor and councilmen be elected for four-year terms rather than the present two and that the elections thereof be held every other year instead of annually.

The other would cancel the limitation on the number of of a multiple rezoning request for an area around 25 Mile and Van Dyke.

The request from developers Odillon Houtekier and Roy Church covers five zone changes. They are two one-family to general business classifications, two one-family to multiple dwellings and a retail business to general business.

The proposed changes will now go to the Macomb County Coordinating, Zoning and Planning Committee for a recommendation. The township board will give final approval or disapproval.

Several residents at the hearing last night voiced their objections to a possible traffic hazard if a shopping center is put in.

A township spokesman said plans for a shopping center are not definite.

The area involved extends from 25 Mile south for a half-mile. It extends east from Van Dyke 1,820 feet and west 1,320 feet.

Planning Unit OK of Rezoning Is First Step for Development

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — The first step toward a possible shopping center and apartment development was taken last night when the planning commission recommended approval

PTA to 'Catch' Newhouser

AVON TOWNSHIP—Hal Newhouser, former Detroit Tiger pitching star, will speak at the Monday night meeting of the Meadowbrook Elementary School PTA.

The annual Fathers' Night program, especially planned for men and their sons, will begin at 8 p.m.

Newhouser will tell of his experiences in baseball and what it takes to play in the major leagues.

He now is assistant vice president in charge of advertising and public relations for Community National Bank.

Trailer Park Vote Sought by Petitions

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Petitions seeking a referendum on a trailer park rezoning will be submitted to township officials today.

Bruce Sanderson, who headed the petition circulating drive, said he is confident that he has the required number of signatures which would make it mandatory for the township board to hold a referendum.

He said he has about 500 signatures to turn in. Based on "just a guess" he said he believes that 225 valid signatures are needed to get a referendum.

"Most people have been very willing to sign the petitions," said Sanderson. "There have been only a few refusals."

The referendum is being sought to give voters a chance to express their views on a recent decision by the township board to rezone 50 acres of agricultural property on Coats Road north of Seymour Lake Road to mobile home zoning.

PONTIAC PLANNER — The 300-unit development is proposed by Pontiac attorney Anthony Renne.

Sanderson said residents are objecting to the rezoning because this is the only part of the township left to "grow into." There is a trailer park south and one east of town.

The master plan for the township calls for the disputed area to remain agricultural zoning for the time being.

The township board will act on the petitions at its meeting Wednesday.

Sanderson said he hopes that as many residents as possible will turn out for the meeting to show their opposition.

OPENS SUNDAY — The first service in the Heart of the Hills Church of Christ, Orion and Maple Hill roads, Rochester, will be held at 10:45 a.m. Sunday. The colonial-style building is the first permanent home of the 4-year-old congregation, which has been meeting in the American Legion Hall and the former Pixley chapel. Minister of the church is Henry McAdams.

Public Hearing Set on Street Projects

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — A public hearing on the proposed resurfacing of streets in the Davis and Tan lakes area will be held at the Township Hall at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Plans are to establish a special assessment district to finance the cost of improvements on Edith, Eugene, Fredrick, Spezia and Tanview streets.

The A & A Asphalt Co. of Birmingham has prepared cost estimates for the projects, which will be presented at the public hearing.

The work will include grading, blacktopping and improvement of drainage on the five streets.

7 County Road Jobs Planned

Seven projects in Oakland County are among several that will be put up for bids in 1966 by the State Highway Department.

Location of the projects, their estimated cost and the month in which the department will take bids are as follows:

• 1.5 miles of added lanes on I-96 east from the county line, $900,000, August.

• 1.7 miles of grading, surfacing and structures on M39 from Wide Track Drive to the Grand Trunk Western Railroad in Pontiac, $2,300,000, February.

• 0.6 miles of service roads for I-75 from Mapledale to Kalema in Ferndale and Madison Heights, $1,500,000, October.

• 0.2 miles of grading, surfacing and structures on I-75 from Woodward Heights to Mapledale in Ferndale, $793,000, October.

• 0.5 miles of grading, surfacing and structures on I-75 from Andover to north of 11 Mile in Madison Heights, $1,090,000, February.

• 0.1 miles of grading, surfacing and structure on I-75 from Kalema to Andover in Madison Heights, $675,000, October.

Confab Planned About Sewage Project

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Township officials here are in the process of organizing a meeting with representatives of seven other communities currently considering whether they want to be part of the Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal System.

Township Clerk Howard Altman tentatively set the meeting for Jan. 15 at the township hall.

Altman said they would discuss common interests and consider any questions or doubts regarding the huge project.

The total cost of the project has been estimated at $28.6 million, consisting of $16.5 million plus interest charges.

Independence Township's share would be approximately $2.7 million, according to Altman.

MAKING STUDY — An unofficial study is currently being made by engineers for a projected internal sewer system for the township, noted Altman.

In other business at the Township Board's Tuesday night meeting, a gravel mining and processing business — operated by Paul Eghigian — was approved for one year with certain restrictions.

Located at Sashabaw and Stickney, the operation has been shut down by court order since 1958.

A public hearing for a special assessment district street lighting project was also scheduled for Jan. 15. Residents of Thendara Country Club Park Subdivision would share the cost.

INSPECTIONS — The board also instructed the building inspector and assessor to conduct annual inspections of all Class C liquor establishments before the board considers approval of license renewal.

Trustee Merle Bennett requested Township Attorney Paul Mandel to investigate possibilities of the township adopting a smoke ordinance to lessen air pollution stemming from industrial firms.

Board members decided to visit some mobile home parks in the Detroit metropolitan area Jan. 22.

A request by Anthony Maiullo to operate a similar park will be considered soon by the Township Board and planning commission.

40-ACRE SITE — Maiullo's operation reportedly will be located on a 40-acre site on M15, north of Clarkston. Altman anticipates requests for two other mobile home parks in the near future.

Altman disclosed that he had received a letter from the sheriff's department stating that township police protection cost would be increased from $983 to $1,100 a month.

Higher wages recently granted to deputies was listed as the reason. At present, two deputies patrol the township.

Opening Set for Housing Development

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — The grand opening of a cooperatively owned housing development across from Oakland University will be held this weekend.

The Rochester Village Townhouses, 2504 Patrick Henry Drive, will open to the public Saturday and will remain open from noon to 8 p.m. weekdays and Sunday except Thursday. The models will be open from noon to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Valued at about $3 million, the total community will contain 200 homes.

Each building contains private residences joined together with common side walls and roofing. One-to-four-bedroom apartments are featured.

In cooperatively owned housing, residents comprise the membership of the nonprofit cooperative corporation which holds title to and controls the operation of the community.

FINANCING — Members pay for their housing with an initial investment followed by monthly payments.

Cooperative members build up an equity which is returned to them if they move out and sell their share back to the cooperative.

The Rochester Village community will be fully landscaped with sod and plantings. Special areas are reserved for children's play lots. All parking lots and roadways are blacktopped and streets have curbs and gutters.

The developer of the community is the Bert L. Smokier Co. of Southfield.

Refer Proposed Trailer Ordinance to Planners

SHELBY TOWNSHIP—A proposed trailer coach ordinance has been referred by the Township Board to the planning commission for a public hearing.

The ordinance would establish a trailer coach park classification which the township does not have at present.

More Members Sought

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—The citizens school study committee of the West Bloomfield School District wants to start the new year by adding more members to its roster.

With about 30 official members, the committee is urging other interested persons to attend its next session, scheduled for 8 this evening at West Bloomfield Junior High School.

Speaker will be Dr. Joseph Hill, assistant dean of Wayne

State University's graduate division.

His topic will be "Beyond High School Into College."

Created in October, the committee is to make recommendations to the board of education by April 15.

The three subcommittees which have a Jan. 15 deadline for reporting to the entire group are financial structure, curriculum study and community characteristics and growth projections.

Teen Charged With Murder

'2 Wanted Money of Slain Grandmother'

DETROIT (AP)—Edwin Swiderski Jr., 17, is in jail on a first degree murder charge in the strangling of his 65-year-old grandmother.

SWIDERSKI they could buy two sports cars.

Then they would go to California, sell the cars and take a trip to Hawaii.

The grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Swiderski, a widow, was found slain in her home Tuesday night.

Earlier, police said, she had withdrawn $16,000 from her bank account on a ruse played on her by the boys.

The boys told her a fabricated story that young Swiderski's father, her son, needed money to pay income tax on a $100,000 sweepstakes prize, police said.

A car lot owner, suspicious at being offered nearly $7,000 in cash, helped upset the plan.

The Wayne County Prosecutor's Office said Edwin told of striking his grandmother on the head with a frying pan and then choking her when she tried to telephone his father to verify the boys' story.

'GOT SCARED'
"I was nervous, I got scared. I didn't know what I was doing," Swiderski told reporters in a jail interview.

Car lot owner Joseph Haney, suspicious, notified police. The boys, along with three others, were questioned. Mrs. Swiderski's slaying was discovered.

Police said all the $16,000 was recovered.

Edwin, slim and neat looking, described by neighbors as "quiet and very polite," was arraigned in Recorder's (Criminal) Court on the murder charge. He stood mute and was remanded to jail without bond for examination Jan. 31.

The prosecutor's office said a juvenile court waiver would be sought to permit a murder charge against the 15-year-old. The other three boys were released.

Killer Whale Mate Likely

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Namu, who was caught in a purse seine by mistake, may soon have a companion who was caught in a purse seine on purpose.

Ted Griffin, Seattle aquarium owner, said Wednesday he had gotten a big fish net around a female killer whale off the east shore of Whidbey Island in Puget Sound.

Namu, a male killer whale, blundered into a purse seine on the British Columbia coast last summer and was bought by Griffin. He is wintering across the sound in Rich Cove.

Britain's Profumo Playing New Role

LONDON (NEA)—John Profumo, former Cabinet minister and storm center of Britain's biggest postwar political scandal, is quietly building a new reputation for himself as an unpaid charity fund raiser.

Profumo was forced to resign as Britain's Secretary of State for War in June 1963, after it became known that he and the Soviet assistant naval attaché had befriended call girl Miss Christine Keeler.

The Profumo affair nearly brought down the Conservative government of the day. Profumo was forced to resign not only as war minister, but as a member of Parliament as well. He was politically washed up.

But the ex-Cabinet minister has since transferred his energies from politics to "do-gooder" causes.

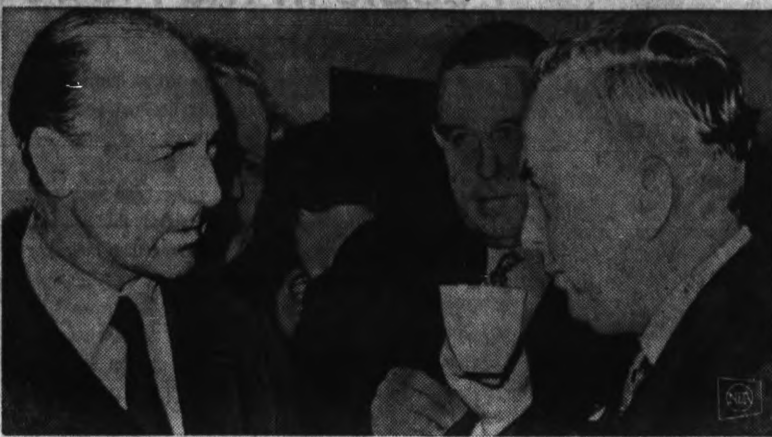

Specifically, he is the driving force behind a campaign to raise $500,000 for Toynbee Hall, the social welfare center for London's East End slums. So far, more than half of the welfare center's goal has been collected.

Profumo has sought no personal publicity for his volunteer work. In fact, he refuses to give interviews to the press. Nevertheless, there is publicity and praise for his work at Toynbee Hall.

"Without Mr. Profumo, we should never have got anywhere," says Walter Birmingham, warden of the welfare center.

Now, less than three years after the scandal reached its international acme, most of the principals are all but forgotten. The scars and heartbreak remain. Western security questions linger.

Capt. Eugene Ivanov, the Soviet naval attaché, was recalled to Russia and hasn't been heard of since. Miss Keller recently married. Mandy Rice-Davies, another call-girl witness, enjoyed a brief career in a cabaret.

COMMITTED SUICIDE

Dr. Stephen Ward, the osteopath who introduced Profumo and Ivanov to the girls, committed suicide during the trials.

But for Profumo, 49, the zeal and ability that made him one of Britain's most promising young politicians has not faded.

NY Welfare Budget Raised $142 Million

NEW YORK (AP)—The City Welfare Department has submitted a $663-million budget for the next fiscal year, an increase of $142 million over the current budget.

Philip Sokol, acting welfare commissioner, said the welfare rolls would continue to grow unless New York provided more jobs for unskilled and semiskilled workers.

Last June, Profumo stationed himself outside an East London subway station with a collection can in an aid-for-the-aged campaign.

WELFARE ACTIVITIES

Founded in 1884, Toynbee Hall quickly became the center of social welfare activities in East London, attracting the attention of social reformers such as Clement Attlee, Stanley Baldwin, Lloyd George and George Bernard Shaw.

Since World War II, however, the Toynbee Hall complex has fallen on bad times. Its buildings, partially destroyed in the German blitz, are run-down.

What's left is used as the East End legal advice center, as a lecture hall, an arts society and as a meeting place for Alcoholics Anonymous, civil rights

'White Says He Shot at Negro'

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (UPI)—Authorities say a white service station attendant admitted firing two shots at a Negro civil rights worker whose body was found about 120 feet from the station.

Macon County Sheriff J. H. Sadler yesterday quoted the attendant, Marvin Segrest, 69, as saying the youth had been harassing him.

Segrest was being held on a first-degree murder charge in the slaying of Samuel L. (Sammy) Young Jr., 21, late Monday night at the all-night station next to the bus depot in this predominantly Negro town.

Sadler said Segrest gave no details of the incident other than it resulted from an argument over use of an employee's rest room at the station.

Segrest said he didn't know his shots had hit Young until the youth's body was found sprawled at the entrance to an alley by a taxi driver.

SHOT IN HEAD

Young, shot in the head with a 38-caliber bullet, clutched a golf club in his hand.

Sadler said yesterday the driver of the bus that left the depot shortly after the incident witnessed a man firing a gun, but did not see anyone hit. A bus passenger reported one of his golf clubs missing.

Serving a Warrant Slightly Hazardous

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Constable Don Smith of Midvale, Utah, served a resisting arrest warrant in Salt Lake City, but it wasn't easy.

Police said Smith's man provoked a fist fight with him, threatened to throw a fire extinguisher at him, swung an ax at him and took him for a cross-town ride in the bed of his pickup truck before surrendering. Smith returned to his own car to find it damaged by vandals.

Stolen Cash Returned in Mail

LAKEWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—Lakewood branch of Home Savings & Loan Association today sought return of a package marked "important" in the robbery, deputies on which they had to pay 25 said.

The package received yesterday contained $1,600 of the $1,900 stolen last Dec. 29 from the Home Savings & Loan Association.

Gallon Holder OK'd for Milk

State Supreme Court Rules in Dairy Case

LANSING (AP) — One-gallon milk containers won Supreme Court approval Wednesday.

Indications were that some housewives might be able to purchase milk in the larger quantity by Friday.

The state court ruled unconstitutional a law prohibiting sale of milk in containers larger than one-half gallon and smaller than three gallons.

DROPS RULING

It overturned a ruling by Judge John VanderWal of Kent County Circuit Court in a suit filed by the Grocers Dairy Co. against George McIntyre, former state agriculture director.

The law, the High Court said, "is in violation of the constitutional right to do business secured under the due process clauses of the Federal Constitution and . . . of our 1908 State Constitution."

The suit was filed in 1963, while the 1908 constitution still was in effect.

George Cope, general manager of Grocers Dairy, said his firm hoped to have gallon containers ready for sale by Friday. It serves some 250 retail outlets in central and western Michigan and has kept gallon container facilities in readiness while the case was litigated.

NO COMMENT

The three largest Detroit-based dairies declined comment on their plans, pending a study of the opinion.

The law allowed the sale of milk in containers with capacities of one-half gallon, one quart, one pint, 10 ounces and one-half pint. Another section allows sale of milk in quantities of three or more gallons.

VanderWal observed that both parties agreed "the legislature may require the use of containers of standard and commonly used sizes or volumes in order to prevent both deliberate and inadvertent deception of the consumer."

The dairy firm argued, however, that other products commonly are marketed in gallon-sized containers without danger of fraud and deception of the housewife. It generally was conceded, they added, gallon containers presented no problems in maintaining health standards.

Fresh Start on Selecting A-Site Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., reiterated his view that the Atomic Energy Commission should scrap what he called its "badly bungled" procedure for selecting a site for the proposed $348-million atom-smasher machine, and start anew.

He repeated his contention, made several months ago in a House speech, that the AEC should concentrate on exploring the merits of the commission-supported Lawrence Radiation Laboratory in California as the site—and on what he termed the possible scientific drawbacks of locating the machine elsewhere—before considering other spots.

But Hosmer disavowed any political interest on his part, saying the Lawrence Laboratory is in northern California, whereas southern California is his territory.

Hosmer, a member of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, did so in an interview at a time when the AEC's quest for a site—begun last April with a virtually nationwide competition for the plum—appears close to the stretch-run phase.

That phase would be the selection of "a manageable few"—in the AEC's words—from among 85 communities in 43 states still listed officially as in the running for the prize, although informed sources speculated the competition already has narrowed sharply. The AEC commissioned a National Academy of Sciences committee to select a handful of semifinalists, but has promised to pick the final winner itself.

Comedienne Phyllis Diller is seeking $50,000 damages from her former in-laws in a suit involving fictional relations in her comedy routine.

Miss Diller alleges in a suit in St. Louis, Mo., that her former mother-in-law, Mrs. W. E. Diller, and her former sister-in-law, Dr. Jeanne Diller, demanded that television networks not produce any of her programs that include references to a sister-in-law or mother-in-law.

Miss Diller refers to her stage mother-in-law as "Moby Dick, the great white whale," and to her stage sister-in-law as "Captain Bligh." She contends this is not an invasion of privacy to her former relatives because there is no application to them as individuals.

How to Save on Taxes—4

Get Full Use of Business Deductions

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Special Writer

In many occupations, employees use their personal funds in the regular conduct of their business. This is particularly true of salesmen.

Their annual income tax return gives them the opportunity to recover these funds if they have not been reimbursed through a company expense account.

The tax form provides two sections where such expenses may be claimed. The first opportunity is on Page 2 of Form 1040 in the section headed "Adjustments."

For most employees the amounts to be claimed here are limited to transportation expense (use of personal automobile, taxi hire, fares on public transportation), travel expense (bus, plane, railroad, steamship fare) and meals and lodging while away from home at least overnight.

All other work-connected expense, such as dues paid to a professional society or labor organization, nonreimbursed entertainment expense, gifts to customers, cost of subscriptions to professional or technical publications required in the performance of your work, are claimed in the itemized deductions section of your return.

SOME EXCEPTION

So-called "outside salesmen" are the exception to this general rule. They may deduct ALL their ordinary and necessary business expense in the "Adjustments" section. This gives them a distinct advantage.

Who are outside salesmen? Internal Revenue regulations define them as spending full time in the solicitation of business away from their employer's place of business.

An outside salesman may make periodic visits to his employer's office for consultation, turn in orders or make reports. But if he is required to sell at his employer's place of business as a regular part of his employment he does not qualify.

To understand the distinction, consider the expenses of two men each earning $10,000 annually. Only one of them qualifies as an outside salesman. Their identical expenses consist of:

Work-connected automobile mileage — 18,000 miles.
Meals and lodging while away from home overnight — $825.
Entertainment expense — $150.
Secretarial help — $50.
Professional dues — $65.
Technical and professional publications — $25.

The outside salesman will deduct $2,825 as his employee business expense and charge off the amount directly against his gross income on Page 1 of his form 1040.

In arriving at the car expense we used the Treasury-approved allowance of 10 cents for the first 15,000 miles and seven cents per mile thereafter.

How does the other salesman fare?

His employee business expense deduction will be limited to:
Car expense $1,710
Meals and lodging 825
$2,535

He will recover the missing $290 in business expense only if he itemizes his regular deductions on his return.

When such employee business expenses are claimed, use either Form 2106 (provided by Internal Revenue) or your own statement to explain the deductions. Strict record-keeping and receipted bills are required by IRS in the event of an audit of your return.

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's largest medical research building — $15-million, 20-story structure — has been dedicated by Columbia University.

The laboratory is named for restaurant chain executive William Black, a Columbia alumnus of the class of 1920. His $5-million gift was the largest amount received by the university from a living period in its 211-year history.

Washington Briefs
'65 Gross National Product Shoots Up
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department estimates the gross national product topped $675 billion last year.
This was a gain of 7.5 per cent over 1964, but after allowing for inflation, the rise was pegged at about 5.5 per cent.
The 7.5 per cent climb was up about 1 per cent over the average rate of growth during the previous four years, but prices also were on the upswing.
In the previous four years, prices advanced at about 1.2 per cent a year compared to about 2 per cent in 1965.
WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is seeking $5.5 million from two foundations once the subject of a congressional investigation.
An Internal Revenue Service spokesman said Wednesday that deficiency assessments had been filed for $1.3 million against the David, Josephine and Winfield Baird Foundation Inc. and for $4.2 million against the Winfield Baird Foundation.
A House Small Business subcommittee investigated the organizations two years ago and Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said later they had operated as "unregulated, tax-free securities dealers."
The subcommittee report said some financial and motion picture industry figures had used the foundations as securities dealers or lenders of money to buy securities.

Say Soviet Prof in U.S. Hands
"Taken Out of Greece Disguised as a Yank"
ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A Soviet professor was whisked out of Greece disguised as a U.S. military officer Dec. 16 and is now in the hands of American authorities somewhere outside the country, a Greek newspaper said today.
An authoritative American source confirmed that Prof. Nikolai Maslovokits, 40, is under U.S. protection outside Greece but declined to give further details.
The centrist newspaper Eleftheria reported that Maslovokits contacted U.S. agents a few hours after he left the Soviet liner Azerbaijan at Piraeus.
That same day Maslovokits, wearing an American officer's uniform, was taken out of the country on a U.S. military plane, the paper said.
REPORTED MISSING
The Soviet Embassy reported him missing on Dec. 17. One Soviet source said the professor was from an agricultural institute but another said he was a physicist.
Eleftheria said U.S. Ambassador Phillips Talbot told Greek Foreign Minister Elias Tsirimokos several days ago that Maslovokits was out of the country and under the protection of U.S. authorities.
The newspaper reported that Tsirimokos protested the U.S. action, and Talbot apologized because he had not told the Greek government sooner.

Land Purchase OK'd for Kennedy Library
BOSTON (AP) — Gov. John A. Volpe has signed a bill enabling the Commonwealth to buy 12 acres along the Charles River in Cambridge to be used for the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library.
The land is valued at about $6 million. Planned for the site near Harvard Square is a complex of buildings housing a museum, library, archives and a political institute.

They're After Nickel's Worth

Want Owosso Man's Initials Put on Coin

OWOSSO (AP)—The Jefferson nickel in your pocket, designed by Owosso sculptor Felix Schlag, is causing a good deal of discussion at the U.S. Mint in Washington.

The coin is the only presently minted U.S. coin which does not bear the initials of its designer—and a number of area coin collectors are trying to correct the situation.

Schlag, 73, designed the coin in 1938 as part of a national competition. His entry was chosen over some 390 others. Since its first minting in 1938, some 5 billion have been produced.

Schlag says he would have liked to have had his initials on the coin, "but no one asked me and I didn't want to push."

ACTION SOUGHT

The Flint Stamp and Coin Club recently passed a resolution calling on Rep. John C. Mackie, D-Flint, to look into the situation.

Mackie said he was in favor of recognition for Schlag's work and said a mint official was surprised to find the nickel is not initialed.

In a letter to Mrs. Eva Adams, U.S. Mint director, Mackie discounted what he said were Treasury Department fears that new nickels bearing Schlag's initials might cause coin hoarding by collectors.

He said the number of nickel coins was sufficient to offset any collectors' demands for a new issue of the coins with initials.

SEEK COMMENT

Michigan's Sens. Philip Hart and Patrick McNamara also have expressed interest in Schlag's request for recognition accorded other U.S. coin designers. Both said they have asked for Treasury Department comment.

The tradition seems to have started just more than 100 years ago when the initial L—for James B. Longacre—appeared on a ribbon of the Indian's war bonnet in the so-called Indian Head penny of 1864.

In 1909, Victor D. Brennan placed the initials V.D.B. on the first Lincoln cent's reverse design. The initials were removed after only a small quantity was minted because critics felt the initials were too prominent.

Those initialed coins were in short supply, and they bring up to $300 today.

BUFFALO NICKLE

The buffalo nickel, predecessor of the Jefferson nickel, bore the initial F for designer James E. Fraser who sketched the design in 1913.

The Kennedy half dollar, introduced in 1964, bore the initials G.R. under the late President's stylized bust, placed by designer Gilroy Roberts, then chief sculptor of the mint.

That coin was unique inasmuch as it had a second set of initials: F.G. appears under the eagle's left leg on the reverse side for Frank Gasparro who designed that side.

Uprooted Nubians Settling Down to New Way of Life in Aswan, Egypt

ASWAN, Egypt (AP)—Their Pharaonic Egypt, consider themselves a purer people than their fellow Aswanis. Tall, slim and tough, Nubians pride themselves on a glorious history and old traditions. Even when they go to Cairo and Alexandria to work as porters or servants they demonstrate this sense of pride. They are known for their cleanliness and honesty.

Late in 1964, the Egyptian government mobilized steamers and sailboats to start the Nubian exodus, perhaps the most dramatic in this area since Moses' flight with the Israelites from the Egyptian Nile delta to Palestine.

The Nubians, whose forefathers once invaded and ruled from the Egyptian Nile delta to Palestine.

Nubians were reluctant to leave. Officials had to convince them that their land was doomed and would be submerged forever as Lake Nasser filled for 314 miles behind the dam.

They were promised better homes, better fields and more money, but Nubians moved only when they felt they had to leave.

Witnesses to the departure from the village of Ballana, near the Sudanese border, said tears streamed down the face of young and old as they stripped their homes of doors and windows. Some kissed the ground and the walls. They kept looking back at abandoned houses and the cemetery where their dead were buried.

At Aswan, workers and students were mobilized to receive them with songs and flowers. But few Nubians smiled.

Although they found their new villages neatly built, they spent their first nights in the open air, unwilling to accept the new life.

Most had farmland, which they started immediately to till. Others were told they had to wait until the dam made possible the reclamation of 1.2 million acres. Meanwhile, they were given jobs on the dam. Others went away on their own, seeking jobs as porters, cooks or servants in Cairo. Young Nubians were encouraged to join the Egyptian army.

The new villages at Kom Ombo, 24 miles north of Aswan, bear the names of the submerged villages. Ballana has become New Ballana, Debed is New Debed, and so on.

Heavily veiled women rarely are seen outside their houses. Men seldom visit the city of Aswan.

When a female becomes ill, no male doctor can see her.

Female doctors finally were assigned to the villages, and Nubians have expressed gratitude.

The government has furnished cut-price transistor radios and batteries and soon the well-to-do may get television sets. Papers also reach them but due to a high percentage of illiteracy, they are not as effective as the radios. Mobile cultural caravans visit the villages from time to time.

Peace Corps, Striving to Attract College Leaders, Steps Into World of Protesters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Peace Corps has stepped into the world of college protest, seeking students who want to help "make the world a little different."

In private discussions and in rough and tumble debates on college campuses, Peace Corps officials are checking up on student leaders representing all shades of political opinion.

"We're interested in the people who can get thousands of demonstrators to turn out because they have the kind of organizational skills that can make democracy work in underdeveloped nations," explained Bob Satin.

Satin, a public affairs officer who ran the Peace Corps programs in the Dominican Republic during the recent revolt, took part in the most notable confrontation in early November — head-to-head debates with Viet Nam protesters on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

NOT MAIN TARGET

But Deputy Director Warren Wiggins, who has handled most of the contacts with student leaders, said the sign-waving activists aren't the main target.

"Most of the so-called activists are quiet activists," Wiggins said in an interview. "They don't carry placards. They do things like tutoring Negro school kids. They work without fanfare. We are trying to understand them and explain the Peace Corps to them."

"We are not trying to change the Peace Corps. We point out that we can't be political abroad. We offer job sites, not political platforms. We offer no protest. We forbid protest. What we offer is work, a very meaningful job that can make the world a little different," Wiggins said.

It all began last summer with some 40 college students who worked at the Peace Corps during their government work-training.

CRITICIZE TACTICS

Soon these interns, most of them now seniors, began criticizing Peace Corps advertisements, recruiting techniques, publications.

"They said they were all wrong for college seniors," Wiggins said. "We realized that we had failed to communicate to the average college student the excitement of what the Peace Corps can mean to a country and what the individual volunteer can mean to a community."

Wiggins notes that the U.S. National Student Association has compiled a list of 27,000 jobs in community action projects similar to Peace Corps Work.

"Doing something worthwhile on a full-time basis is appealing to the average college student," he said.

MET WITH 30

In early October, Wiggins met with 30 student leaders from California, Oregon and Washington, representing "all shades of opinion."

Out of this eight-hour session grew a change in recruiting techniques, with more meetings with students and less with faculty. It brought better results.

On Oct. 20, Paul Booth and Carl Oglesby, top officials of the Students for a Democratic Society, a leading group protesting the war in Viet Nam, told a Washington news conference they felt draft-age youths should be given a choice of public service, such as the Peace Corps or work in slum schools and hospitals.

They met later with Wiggins to discuss community projects. He also plans a similar meeting with the officials of Young Americans for Freedom, a conservative student group.

Then came the recruiting drive at Berkeley.

BLOWUP

"The blow-up came primarily with student groups we hadn't been able to talk to when I was there," Wiggins said. "It's a big campus. Some elements of the faculty were urging students not to join the Peace Corps, as a protest against administration foreign policy."

The recruiters, including Satin and Don McClure, associate director for public affairs, set up for business on Sproul Plaza, center of student debate and protest.

Start an argument in Sproul Plaza at noon and you automatically have a crowd. Viet Nam protesters obliged and there was a lively, even furious debate.

Next day, Satin made the Peace Corps pitch over a loudspeaker system to some 500 students. He was quickly challenged.

"How can you serve in the Peace Corps when the government it is part of it also dropping napalm on civilians in Viet Nam?" he was asked.

"Who is really affected by people who refuse to go into the Peace Corps?" Satin argued.

"It is the man in the remote village in the Andes. It is the malaria victim in Thailand. I don't know if it takes any more guts to face the Hell's Angels than it does to be alone, a Peace

Corps volunteer, in the midst of a revolution."

Hell's Angels is a motorcycle group on the West Coast known for its rowdy, and sometimes violent, behavior.

This sort of tough debate went on for five days. After the drive was over, Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver summed it up.

"At Berkeley, we beat the beatniks. Our representatives met them head on in open debate. We fought it out for five days, and we ended up by getting more applications than at any time in our history."

Suburbs Lead in Population

By Science Service

WASHINGTON—For the first time in the nation's history, more people are living in the suburbs than in the cities.

About 68 million people are living in the suburban areas in 1965, compared with 61 million living in central cities, according to Max S. Wehrly, executive director of the Urban Land Institute, a nonprofit research organization.

Only three years ago, more people — about 58 million — lived in the city, whereas 55 million lived in the more rural areas.

Population growth and modern technology tend to pack more people into highly concentrated urban regions, said Mr. Wehrly. This situation places an increasing strain on man's ability to withstand the friction of crowded urban life.

A growing conflict between man the social animal and man the individual can be eased by comprehensive planning of attractive subcenters or clusters of dwellings with enough stores, branch offices and utilities for the people in each cluster to be self-contained.

A Junior Editors Quiz About SATURN'S RING

QUESTION: Why does Saturn have a ring around it?
ANSWER: Astronomers have tried to answer this question ever since Galileo, in 1610, noticed something peculiar about the big planet Saturn.

His telescope was not strong enough to see the ring clearly, but in 1656 it was observed to be a ring by the Dutch astronomer Huygens.

Saturn's ring is certainly one of the most spectacular and wonderful sights visible to man. In all the universe, as it revealed by our telescopes, there is nothing resembling it.

Astronomers say the ring is made of solid particles, perhaps ice or snow, which look bright because they reflect the light of the sun.

The ring is transparent, for other stars may be seen through it at times, showing there is space between the particles. There are really three rings, although they all lie in the same plane, being about 10 miles thick.

These rings may be material left from the breakup of a former moon of Saturn when it got too close to the planet. Or, when the planet itself was formed, there may have been left-over material which settled into the rings.

Saturn is very light. If placed in some huge imaginary ocean it would float, a fact that we have suggested in our imaginary picture at the lower right. Little Titan is one of Saturn's moons.

FOR YOU TO DO: Ask yourself, is there life on Saturn? Consider that the temperature there is always around 250 degrees below zero. Think this over, then answer the question for yourself.

Pontiac Central Host to High-Scoring Midland

Chiefs Favored to Collect 6th Straight Win

Chemics Have Posted 2-1 Valley Record; PCH Lineup Same

An offensively loaded Midland quintet will invade Pontiac Central's gym tomorrow night determined to remain in the Saginaw Valley Conference race at the expense of unbeaten PCH.

The Chemics will come with a 2-1 SVC mark and four wins in five starts over-all. Their only loss was an 87-75 home court defeat by undefeated Saginaw, the preseason title favorite.

Central is 3-0 and shares the lead with Saginaw which will be host to Flint Northern tomorrow.

More Prep Stories, Page D-4

FAVORED

PCH will be favored to remain unbeaten for the sixth time this season; but coach Fred Zittel has warned the Chiefs of the potent, aggressive play they can expect from Midland.

The visitors have averaged 76 points per game and have the second and sixth leading scorers in the loop, Pete Lyon, a 6-3 senior center, ranks second with a 19-point average.

Junior forward Steve Morrison, 6-2 is hitting at a 16-ppg clip. The leading Chemics scorer last season, 5-8 junior guard Denny Short started slowly this campaign but had 49 points in the last two contests.

Running mate Dennis Carter hit 21 in an earlier victory. Working against the Chemics is a somewhat leaky defense (yielding an average 69 ppg) and the fact they've lacked game action for 2½ weeks.

RECENT ACTION

Pontiac Central, meanwhile, had a winning start against crosstown rival Northern last week. The Chiefs have shown an attack capable of matching Midland's.

In addition to averaging 75 points on offense, PCH has only permitted 54 ppg by the opposition. However, Zittel feels this is the one area that the Chiefs can improve upon the most.

The third-year mentor has seven regulars, but admits concern about changing the starting lineup that has begun each game to date.

Jessie Evans, Ross Ludwick, Larry Platt, Eddie Pruitt and Jim McClendon will again receive the starting nods, while Prentice Hill and Willie Craft will see prompt action as substitutes.

Game time is 8 p.m. preceded by the once-beaten PCH junior varsity's game with the Midland reserves.

TCU Officials Not Protesting Bowl Result

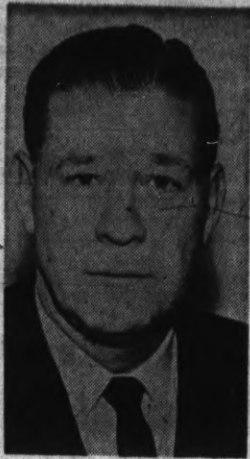

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A faculty adviser to the Texas Christian University Athletic Council says the school probably will not press charges that Texas Western College used two ineligible players in last Friday's Sun Bowl game.

Texas Western defeated TCU in the El Paso postseason game 13-12.

The adviser, Henry Hardt, said in Fort Worth Wednesday night that "we would make no protest. I imagine we will let it rest."

He said, however, if "someone else wants to protest that is up to them."

Texas Western's athletic director, George McCarty, has said that end Bob Wallace and linebacker Fred Carr were not eligible for the game because of NCAA rules regarding junior college transfers.

JOHN ABEL

Pontiac Sports Figure Elected

MFL Picks Abel Commissioner

John Abel, well known Pontiac sports figure was named today commissioner of the Midwest Football League.

Born and raised in Hudsonville, near Grand Rapids, Abel currently has resided in Pontiac since 1938 and is a salesman for the Russel Kanecht Co., of Berkley, Mich.

The Midwest Football League, which will begin its 8th year of operation next Fall, presently has five franchise members in the league including Pontiac, Flint, Lansing, Ypsilanti and Dayton, Ohio.

NAMED BY FRANCHISES

Abel was named by the five franchises to succeed Ed McCracken of Dayton, who will assume the head coaching duties of the Dayton Colts.

An all-sports star at Hudsonville High school, Abel played and was captain of the Western Michigan football and baseball teams in the 1937 era.

He received a Master's Degree from Michigan and played professional baseball in the St. Louis Cardinal system as a catcher.

Abel coached football at Oxford High from 1938 to 1941 and at Pontiac St. Frederick 1942-43, and at the same time he was director of the General Motors

Truck and Coach recreation program until 1957.

He managed the 1947 GMTC baseball team which won the national amateur championship.

Married and the father of four children, Abel is also a member of the Waterford Township recreation board.

In accepting the position, Abel noted his reasons saying, the exposure of pro football has been tremendous and although a league such as this is not expected to compete with the Majors, there is strong possibility of affiliation with the big league teams and it is evident that people have come to enjoy this brand of football.

Abel said he has franchise inquiries for the MFL from Columbus, O., Toledo, Battle Creek, Grand Rapids, Saginaw and Monroe and he has also recently received inquiries from American Football League teams in regard to the "farming" of players by the AFL.

The Pontiac Arrows, the 1965 MFL champion, will have two players, quarterback Karl Sweetan and end Frank Goldberg in the training camp of the Detroit Lions next summer.

Abel said that the meeting of MFL representatives would be held in Pontiac, Jan. 22-23, at which time applications of new franchises would be considered. "We expect to expand the league to eight teams for the 1966 schedule," Abel noted.

WARMING UP — Quarterback Tom Matte—moved into the QB slot after injuries knocked out John Unitas and Gary Cuozzo—looks for a receiver during a passing practice session at Miami. Matte was throwing from the pocket as the Colts prepared for the Dallas Cowboys, who they'll meet Sunday at Miami in the Pro Playoff game.

Dallas Worries NFL's Kickers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "Block that kick!" is more than a corny yell to the Dallas Cowboys, who meet the Baltimore Colts here Sunday in the National Football League's Playoff Bowl. It's an exhortation that the Cowboys take seriously. As a result, they are the kick-block-ingest team in professional football.

"It's not the result of any special preparation or plan," says Tom Landry, the Dallas coach. "We just had some success early in the year and it became a game — a sort of challenge — to the boys."

"They like to see how many they can block."

BLOCK NINE

They have blocked nine. That's almost a third of the total blocked by all the teams of the NFL — 29 — and three times as many as any other team.

Blocked field goals set up Dallas scores in four games and resulted directly in victory in three — the 39-31 win over San Francisco at Dallas, the 21-19 victory over the Eagles at Philadelphia and the 38-20 final game decision over the New York Giants that sent the Cowboys into the Playoff Bowl.

Key men in these defensive maneuvers have been Obert Logan, a 180-pound defensive back from Trinity, Tex.; Mike Gaechter, a 190-pounder from Oregon; Jethroe Pugh, 250-pound end and tackle, and Cornell Green, 215-pound defensive back from Utah State.

They are the Big Four. Logan and Gaechter each blocked two field goals during the recent campaign, Green and Pugh one each.

The group also figured in the blocking of five extra point attempts and one punt, making 15 blocked kicks in all.

Gaechter romped 60 yards with a blocked kick against Washington. Logan grabbed the ball after Green had blocked a field goal try and went 60 yards to break open the final Giants' game.

"This is an example of what team effort can do for a team," Landry said. "The quarterbacking of Don Meredith and the fine pass catching of Bobby Hayes and Buddy Dial have contributed greatly to our season but we can't overlook this showing of defense."

The Dallas coach said he expected an open offensive battle with Baltimore.

Reichow Accepts Post With Vikings

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Jerry Reichow has decided to join the Minnesota Vikings on a full-time basis as director of player personnel.

The Vikings announced Wednesday that Reichow had accepted the position after working during the 1965 National Football League season on a temporary basis in the club's scouting department.

Reichow, 31, played nine years in the NFL, the last four with the Vikings as a pass receiver. He was cut from the team last August but remained in the scouting capacity, covering the Midwest.

In effect, Reichow replaces Joe Thomas, former Viking chief scout who resigned last fall to become director of player personnel with the new Miami franchise in the American Football League.

ARNIE AT WORK—These were the expressions of Arnold Palmer as he putted, pondered and drove en route to a 67 in yesterday's pro-amateur prelude to today's opening round of the $70,000 Los Angeles Open.

LA Golf Open Starts Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)— The 40th annual Los Angeles Open, with a purse of $70,000, was slated to get under way today and the more foolhardy were busy predicting the winner when the last putt drops in Sunday.

There are others to consider, of course, fellows such as Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema, Doug Sanders, Chi Chi Rodriguez, George Knudson, Al Geiberger, Davey Marr, Bruce Crampton, Art Wall, Jr.

Or it could be Paul Harney, the long hitting club pro from Worcester, Mass., who has merely won the last two opens here.

APPLYING THE PRESSURE — Chicago goalie Glenn Hall watches as Bob Rousseau (left) of Montreal and Black Hawks' Stan Mikita (21) fight for the puck in their game in Montreal last night. Other Chicago players are Matt Ravlich (sprawled on the ice), Pat Stapleton (12) and Doug Mohns (2). Montreal's Dick Duff waits at right. While the Canadiens applied some pressure on this play, it wasn't enough as the league-leading Black Hawks took a 4-2 decision.

Bobby Hull, Chicago's blond bombshell, appears headed for a one-season National Hockey League goal scoring record and he could establish a point scoring mark while he's at it.

Hull, with his 30th and 31st goals of the season sparking Chicago's 4-2 victory over Montreal in the only NHL game Wednesday night, holds an 11-point lead over the Canadiens' Bobby Rousseau with 51 points.

His two targets are the 50-goal

Big Margins for Quintets in Rec Play

Lopsided results dominated the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's men's basketball action last night with lowest spread being 15 points.

That came in the Amigo's Club's 64-49 win over the Highland Lakes CC squad in the National League battle for first place. Bob Green of the winners—who led 56-30 after three quarters — topped all scorers with 18 points.

Wilky Peck's 27 and Morris Davis' 25 paced the Unbeatable's to their first victory, 73-52 over Tasty Bakery, in another NL tilt.

American action saw White's Unbeatable's climb past McDonald's Drive-In into third place by beating the latter, 74-51; and The All-Stars won their first game by topping the Champs, 64-48.

Four players for White's Unbeatable's were in twin figures, offsetting a 24-point spree by Bob Horvath of McDonald's. Carl Arnold (17) and Willie Ratliff (16) led the All-Stars' win.

Tonight, an International League double-header at Madison JHS starts at 7 p.m.

QB's Future Clouded

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — An operation performed on Chicago Bear quarterback Bill Wade's knee Wednesday was a success, his doctor said Wednesday night. But he left some doubt about Wade's football future.

Need for More Recreation Facilities Cited

LANSING (AP) — Massive spending will be needed to meet Michigan's outdoor recreation needs in the next 10 years, a university expert and key legislative spokesmen agreed Wednesday.

The spending of more than $1 billion during the next decade was proposed by Prof. Louis Twardzik, a parks and recreation expert at Michigan State University at the 30th annual conference of the Michigan Recreation Association.

The Conservation Department, he said, has proposed the earmarking of $130 million during the 10-year period for state parks expansion alone.

The recreation needs of urban communities, especially in southeastern Michigan, he said, are more than seven times as great, making the $1 billion-plus spending necessary.

"This figure could tend to be on the conservative side," said Rep. Joseph Snyder, D-St. Clair Shores, chairman of the House Committee on Conservation and Recreation.

LONG ESTIMATE

Rep. Thomas Ford, R-Grand Rapids, said his estimate of the spending need in the next 10 years would be between $600 million and $750 million.

"Let's not forget we are constantly harassed by others who think they need the dollars as much as you do," Ford said. "We don't make the money, we merely allocate what taxes are collected."

Republicans, Ford said, "Will support sound growth in recreation and conservation, but will fight duplication and waste in such programs."

The $1 billion estimate could be a reasonable projected figure, said Sen. Carl O'Brien, D-Pontiac, chairman of the Senate Conservation and Recreation Committee.

"But we need to get off the ground right now," O'Brien

Seniors Clash Saturday

Rain Slows Bowl Elevens

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Football players in Mobile for Saturday's 17th annual Senior Bowl hoped today for clearing skies to permit the first good practice day since they arrived last Monday.

Two-a-day practices were scheduled. Both Weeb Ewbank, coaching the South team, and North Coach Mike Holovak indicated they may drill twice Friday also since steady rain has sharply cut into practice.

Despite the rain, the Rebel squad got in a solid workout Wednesday.

The probable starting South offensive unit continued taking shape and it appeared several positions have been settled.

Florida's ace receiver, Charles Casey, was impressive working at split end with Duke's Chuck Drulis and Kentucky's Rick Kestner alternating at tight end.

If Kestner should get the starting nod over Drulis, the South offensive line will probably be composed entirely of men from Southeastern Conference schools.

Louisiana State's Dave McCormick and Kentucky's Sam Ball are good bets at tackle with Florida's Larry Gagner and Mississippi's Stan Hindman working at guard.

The center is apparently going to be Alabama's Paul Crane. The others listed on the Rebel roster as centers and linebackers, Doug Buffone of Louisville, Bill Cody of Auburn and Frank Emanuel of Tennessee, seem to be pretty well set on defense.

INSPIRED QB

Injured Alabama quarterback Steve Sloan threw the ball for the first time in Wednesday's work. But Texas A&I's Randy Johnson will probably open at quarterback.

Sloan's status is not definite, but even if he is able to play, Johnson apparently will have an edge. Johnson has had the advantage of working with Rebel receivers all week.

Elsewhere in the backfield, it looks like Arkansas' Bobby Crockett at flanker, Arkansas' Bob Burnett at halfback and Alabama's Steve Bowman at fullback.

A tentative offensive line-up for the Yanks might read:

Howard Twilley (Tulsa) at split end, Tom Mitchell (Bucknell) or Milt Morin (Massachusetts) at tight end, Francis Peay (Missouri) and Karl Singer (Purdue) at the tackles, Butch Allison (Missouri) and Richard Tyson (Tulsa) at the guards and Paul John Osmond (Tulsa) at center.

Backfield offensive leaders are Bob Daugherty (Tulsa) and Walt Garrison (Oklahoma State) at setback and Tony Jeter (Nebraska) at flanker.

Missouri's Gary Lane and Tulsa's Bill Anderson are sharing quarterback duty and Holovak said, "I'm not ready to pick a starter yet."

Rule Changes Urged by Grid Committee

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Legalization of forearm and hand pads in football was urged Wednesday by a safety committee of the National Alliance of High School athletic Associations.

The pads should be used regardless of whether a player is injured, the committee said. It also recommended: —That games involving students below the ninth-grade level be played in eight-minute quarters.

—A warmup of five minutes, at least, prior to the second half of prep football games.

—Further experiments with the crossbar directly above the goal line.

The committee noted that athletic officials in Georgia, where such an experiment was undertaken, reported that extra point and field goal kicking accuracy was increased, there were fewer tie games and no increase in player injuries.

A general football rules meeting was scheduled Thursday preceding the final general session of the association.

WMU Quintet Nips Ohio U.

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Defending Mid-American Conference champion Ohio University put up a fierce struggle but bowed to Western Michigan 86-80 in basketball Wednesday night.

Ohio led 44-43 at the half and tied the score five times before Western Michigan went ahead for good.

High man of the evening was Ohio's Ken Fowikes with 23. Two WMU players, Reggie Lacey and Phil White, had 19 apiece.

Set Rec Cage Program

The boys' basketball program sponsored by the Birmingham Recreation Dept., will begin its schedule 9:00 a.m. Saturday at six sites for elementary students, and at Derby and Seaboard schools for junior and senior high schools.

Adult programs are set for Thursday nights at Derby.

Temple Sophomore Proves His Value

By The Associated Press

Ron Williams of West Virginia, Nick Pino of Kansas State, Dave Newmark of Columbia, Mike Warren of UCLA, Rusty Critchfield of California and Ogden Mays of Dayton are some of the sophomores who have come to the fore in college basketball this season.

Clarence Brookins of Temple joined the list Wednesday night. The 19-year-old 6-foot-3 Owl scored only eight points, but he calmly sank two free throws in the last 21 seconds for a 57-56 victory over Villanova.

Just six seconds before Joe Crews had put the Wildcats ahead 56-55 with two free throws in the battle of the Philadelphia city rivals at the Palestra. Unfortunately Crews fouled Brookins and the Temple soph won the game.

STREAK SHATTERED

It was Temple's 11th victory in 12 games after the Owls' 10-game winning streak had been shattered by St. Joseph's Hawks in the final of the Quaker City holiday classic.

Virginia overcame Maryland's home court advantage at College Park, Md., edging the Terps 65-62. Jerry Sanders' layup with one minute to go gave the Cavaliers a four-point lead and sewed up the triumph.

The Chicago Loyola Ramblers also paid no attention to the generally recognized home court advantage. They rolled over Marquette 87-65 at Milwaukee for their 11th victory in 12 starts. Billy Smith and Corky Bell combined for 39 points and 25 rebounds to lead the Ramblers.

Creighton also fell on its home court at Omaha, absorbing an 81-78 defeat from Bellarmine on seven free throws by Jim Schurfranz and Bill Popp in the last minute. North Carolina also won on the road, 99-83, over Wake Forest.

Tennessee, Boston College and Memphis State did win at home. Tennessee crushed Furman 82-63. Boston College took Rhode Island 99-91 behind the combined 62 points of John Austin, Steve Adelman and Doug Hice.

All of the Top Ten teams in The Associated Press poll had an open date on a slim national program that saw many close finishes similar to the Temple-Villanova cliff-hanger.

South Carolina, the only team to defeat top-ranked Duke this season, lost the ball on an out-of-bounds play with 17 seconds left at Columbia, S.C., then lost the game to North Carolina State 55-54 on Tommy Matlocks' jump shot from close in with eight seconds on the clock.

Connecticut also was beaten on its home court when Keith Hochstein's free throw with four seconds on the clock gave Holy Cross a 73-72 victory.

Lakers Halt Celtics

Royals Thump Pistons

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Adrien Smith scored his career high of 35 points Wednesday night as the Cincinnati Royals won their third consecutive National Basketball Association game by beating Detroit 117-103.

Neither team shot well from the field as the Pistons lost their third consecutive game and dropped to a 2-14 record on the road.

Detroit scored the first basket, but then the Pistons missed 13 shots in a row while the Royals moved to a 12-2 lead. The Pistons kept hammering away at the Royals and closed in several times before a rally led by Eddie Miles and Joe Strawder gave them a 58-57 lead with 8:07 left in the third period.

The Boston Celtics lost to the Los Angeles Lakers 120-113, snapping a string of five straight victories. Bill Russell was temporary coach of the Celtics in the absence of Coach Red Auerbach. Auerbach did not accompany the team to Los Angeles because of the serious illness of his father.

Jerry West scored 29 and Walt Hazzard 25 for the Lakers.

In other league action, San Francisco edged New York 118-117 and Baltimore downed St. Louis 114-101 in a doubleheader at Baltimore, Md.

New York's Dave Stallworth had three chances to make two foul shots with 25 seconds left but made only one in the Knicks' loss to San Francisco.

Rick Barry led San Francisco with 37 points, hitting on 11 of his first 15 shots from the floor.

Conn in Ring Hall of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Conn, who gave up the light heavyweight championship to make two unsuccessful tries for Joe Louis' heavyweight title, has been voted into Boxing's Hall of Fame.

Four other boxers also were elected in a worldwide vote of sports writers and sportscasters conducted by Ring Magazine.

The other four were old-timers Jake Kilrain, Johnny Coulon, Young Corbett II and Owen Moran. They brought the total in the hall to 87.

Conn captured the lightweight title in 1939, beating Melio Bettina and Gus Lesnevich in elimination bouts.

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A bowling rarity, left-handed Mike McGrath, carried a 19-pin lead today into the third round of the $35,000 Professional Bowlers Association Western Open at Saratoga Lanes in San Jose.

The 19-year-old from nearby El Cerrito, Calif., put together 12 games that totaled 2,650. In second place was Jim Godman, of Hayward, Calif. In third at 2,596 was Jim St. John of San Jose.

The 96-man field will be trimmed to 16 after today's two rounds of six games each. The four survivors roll Saturday in the nationally televised finals.

AFL All-Star 11 Adds Receiver From KC Chiefs

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The coach of the American Football League All-Stars has made a change in the All-Star squad which will meet the champion Buffalo Bills here Jan. 15.

Sid Gillman, coach of the San Diego Chargers and also of the All-Star group, said Wednesday Frank Jackson, Kansas City flankerback, would replace end Art Powell of Oakland. Powell has a pulled Achilles tendon that has failed to respond to treatment.

Meanwhile, Gillman also said the late Mack Lee Hill, Kansas City fullback, has been named an honorary member of the All-Star squad.

Hill, 25, died in December after a knee operation.

Bills Delaying Player Freeze

Commissioner Okays Move by Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills of the American Football League were granted their request Wednesday of postponing the submission of their expansion freeze list until after the league's All-Star game on Jan. 15.

In granting the request, Joe Foss, AFL commissioner, said: "It's only fair to the players there would have been a possibility that players could have been competing for the Bills, even though they knew they were delegated to the new Miami franchise."

The Bills will submit their first list of 22 frozen players Jan. 16.

After the Miami Dolphins select two Bills, Buffalo can freeze one more man. Miami then picks two more players.

Hope Falls to Olivet

HOLLAND (AP)—Olivet won its third game in four MIAA basketball starts by defeating Hope 91-87 Wednesday night.

Wayne-Oakland

Two of the top players in the Wayne-Oakland League face each other Friday at Clarkston where Northville meets the Wolves.

Dan Fife, the talented Clarkston junior, carried a 30.8 average into the game. Jerry Imsland of Northville has a 17.3 mark and is a strong rebounder.

Northville trails West Bloomfield by a half game and could take over the lead should the Lakers slip at Brighton. This is a possibility because the Wildcats have good scoring potential.

If it jells at the same time, any opponent will be in trouble. Bloomfield Hills travels to another potential danger spot — Clarenceville — and Milford goes to Holly in other loop games.

Clarkston Ace Leading

A junior guard at Clarkston heads the Oakland County scoring race as the season nears the halfway mark.

The leader is Dan Fife, a 6-2 sparkplug, who has poured in 123 points in four games for an average of 30.7 while the Wolves were posting a 2-2 record.

Fife will be in the lineup tomorrow night when Clarkston entertains Northville and again Saturday night when the

Falcons Eye 500 Mark in Back-to-Back Tests

Rochester hopes to start the 1966 phase of the basketball season like it left off last year.

The Falcons, who began the season with three straight setbacks before ending 1965 play by knocking Clawson out of a tie for first in the Oakland A League, could be at the 500 mark by late Saturday night.

Winless Lake Orion travels to Rochester Friday with hopes of dumping the Falcons and pulling out of the O-A cellar. Romeo, always a major attraction, is at Rochester Saturday.

Friday's other O-A action will have Madison challenging Cousino's possession of first place at Warren, Avondale traveling to Fitzgerald and Clawson tangling with arch-rival Troy.

Senior center Mike Brophy (6-4) is the key performer for Lake Orion. But after a fast start his scoring has tapered off and the Dragons have been plagued by other problems.

Jim Burton had the biggest scoring night of his first varsity season in Rochester's win over Clawson. He hit double figures for the first time — in a big way — with 22 points.

MOST CONSISTENT

Harry Hogan has been the most consistent scorer for the Falcons with a 14-point average. Bob Mills, Don Golding and Dan Ludwick all have scored in double figures.

The emergence of sophomore Bob Burt and junior Lee Saunders as scorers has triggered Avondale into a challengers role. Coy Bailey, Dave Erwin and Bud Peel have 16 or more points in at least one game.

Fitzgerald, tied with Avondale and Clawson for second place, is a slow breaking team that relies on balance to get the job done.

Weatherman's Keeping Sports Calendar Cloudy

Ski racing, ice speed skating and a snowmobile derby are on the weekend winters sports calendar for the state if the weatherman cooperates.

The Central Division, United States Ski Association's Region III Junior Alpine races are slated to begin Saturday at Boyne Highlands near Harbor Springs with downhill, giant slalom and slalom competition during the weekend.

The Bay County Fairgrounds Ice Rink at Bay City will have the Central Michigan Speed Skating championships Saturday afternoon if there is ice.

The Snowmobile Derby is planned for Cedar Lake at Ishpeming Saturday and Sunday and will include cross country, hill climbing and obstacle course races.

LOCAL OFFICERS

Dr. O. L. Smith of Bloomfield Hills is the Region III chairman and Orchard Lake's Bob Carter is the race secretary for the weekly Saturday-Sunday Junior Alpine races.

Both officials have offspring who will compete. Tom Carter, a West Bloomfield High School senior, and Cheryl Smith, a Bloomfield Hills senior, are veterans of the competition.

Cheryl's brother Geoff—who for several seasons was the most promising southeast Michigan skier—now is a member of the University of Colorado varsity as a freshman.

The Junior Alpine races are open to boys and girls in Ohio, Indiana and lower Michigan. There is a novice division (12-years-old and under), an intermediate class (seventh and eighth graders), and a high school field (9-12th graders).

The latter members are classified as A or B skiers according to racing ability.

Township Gets Loops Started

Spencer Floor Covering drew first blood in its annual basketball battles with Lakeland Pharmacy for Waterford Township recreation league supremacy Wednesday night.

Trailing 21-14 after one period, the floormen edged in front during the middle periods and pulled away in the final quarter for a 79-68 win in the Class A League opener for both.

Bill Gappy hit 25 and John Keller 21 for the winners, while Lakeland's one-two punch was Ray Robinson (22) and Dale Fussman (21).

A 24-12 third quarter carried Drayton Drugs to a 57-51 win over Powell Trucking; and 48 points in the second half helped Frushour & Struble to an 84-67 conquest of Local 594.

Tonight, the Class C race will begin with a triple-header at Kettering HS.

Find a little hill, nothing too challenging at first, and as they say, point yourself down.

Your body should be perpendicular to the slope. Keep the skis flat on the snow and close together, with the weight equally distributed on both feet and the ankles and torso slightly flexed.

This is really your first exercise in free motion, so relax and enjoy it. Hold the poles free of the snow, tips slightly behind you.

Price Controls Seem Less Remote Today

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Are price controls just a fanciful bogeyman dreamed up by nervous business leaders or are they a possibility?

And what different kinds of controls could the government turn to in its fight to ward off a feared inflation?

Businessmen are more and more mulling over these questions as the aftermath of the administration's drive to force some steel companies to rescind a price boost on structural steel — or an alternative, to adopt a smaller one more acceptable to the White House.

Industry dislikes price controls as much as union labor detests wage controls. Both management and labor tend to think the fields of prices and wages should be theirs and not the government's.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler all reported corporate sales records in 1965.

ALL TIME HIGH

Sale of new passenger cars and commercial vehicles by General Motors dealers in the United States during the year exceeded the previous all-time high by three-quarters of a million units, K. E. Staley, vice president in charge of the marketing department, announced this week.

In the calendar year ending Dec. 31, GM dealers sold 5,348,568 new passenger cars and commercial vehicles to surpass the previous high established in 1964 when a total of 4,572,134 were sold.

Passenger car sales during the 12-month period totaled 4,651,184 compared to 3,970,438 for the full year of 1964. Commercial vehicle sales were 697,384 as compared to 601,696 in 1964.

In the final three months of the year 1,242,480 new GM passenger cars and 180,529 commercial vehicles were sold to establish a new fourth quarter record. In the comparable quarter of 1964 passenger car sales were 860,349 and commercial vehicle sales were 126,568.

NEW RECORDS

Every GM division, with the exception of Buick, chalked up a new yearly sales high. For Buick, it was the best sales record since 1955.

Chevrolet sold 2,415,177 cars in 1965, up from 2,399,807 in 1964.

Sales for the final 10 days of December ran slightly behind those of the Dec. 21-31 period in 1964.

This was attributed to two factors — 1, that the auto makers were busy in late 1964 picking up sales they had lost momentarily because of strikes and 2—the fact that some people waited for the second installment of the federal excise tax cuts, a one per cent slash effective Jan. 1 of this year, before they bought their new cars.

Q. "While talking about a forthcoming issue, my broker asked if I wanted to look over its 'red herring.' I thought he was kidding me but he was completely serious. Just what is a red herring?" E. I.

A. The red herring is simply a kind of advance prospectus. The Securities and Exchange Act of 1933 prohibits anyone from selling or offering to buy a new security issue before the effective date of the registration — that is, the day it is OK'd for public distribution. Nevertheless, certain preliminary information may be given the investor through the medium of the red herring — the proposed form of the prospectus but with all details as to offering price, underwriting commissions, etc., deliberately omitted. '65 Car Sales Top 9 Million

ALL-TIME RECORD IS REACHED BY INDUSTRY

DETROIT (AP) — Sales figures confirmed that U.S. car buyers went on a nine-million car buying spree last year for the first time in automotive history.

Unofficial totals, subject to later revision, Wednesday listed 5,348,568 new cars—including 550,000 imports—in the U.S. market in 1965.

This was more than a million cars ahead of 1964 when 8,073,244—including 484,000 imports—were sold. That year marked the first time the eight million mark was reached, but the record did not last long.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler all reported corporate sales records in 1965.

Sale of new passenger cars and commercial vehicles by General Motors dealers in the United States during the year exceeded the previous all-time high by three-quarters of a million units, K. E. Staley, vice president in charge of the marketing department, announced this week.

American Motors was the lone major maker to fall off its 1964 sales pace as its 1965 sales ran about 68,000 cars behind the preceding year.

Sales for the final 10 days of December ran slightly behind those of the Dec. 21-31 period in 1964.

This was attributed to two factors — 1, that the auto makers were busy in late 1964 picking up sales they had lost momentarily because of strikes and 2—the fact that some people waited for the second installment of the federal excise tax cuts, a one per cent slash effective Jan. 1 of this year, before they bought their new cars.

Q. "While talking about a forthcoming issue, my broker asked if I wanted to look over its 'red herring.' I thought he was kidding me but he was completely serious. Just what is a red herring?" E. I.

A. The red herring is simply a kind of advance prospectus. The Securities and Exchange Act of 1933 prohibits anyone from selling or offering to buy a new security issue before the effective date of the registration — that is, the day it is OK'd for public distribution. Nevertheless, certain preliminary information may be given the investor through the medium of the red herring — the proposed form of the prospectus but with all details as to offering price, underwriting commissions, etc., deliberately omitted. Clues Elusive in Triple Killing

Lead Fizzles Out on Man With Package

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — A concrete link to the sex killer of three Benton Township victims last spring continued to elude authorities today while case files remained open and leads were sought.

Authorities said no new information had been developed from a Monday night report by a woman who said she saw a man throw a package last April into a township field where a human skull was found.

The woman said she had not reported the incident when it occurred because she had not believed it important at the time.

The case dates back to discovery of the three mutilated bodies last April 4 in a south-east Berrien County orchard.

THREE VICTIMS

The victims were Mrs. Olin Boyer, 60; Mrs. Mary Esther Jones Wolfe, 37, and 7-year-old Diane Carter. The younger woman's head was missing. Benton Harbor Det. Lt. Ronald Smith said the skull found in the Benton Township field was determined "in all probability to be that of a Negro female."

Mrs. Boyer was white. The two other victims were Negro. All vanished from their homes in the same general area without explanation.

The death of Delores Young, 19, whose nude body was found Feb. 16 in a burned-out Benton Harbor house also is believed a link to the triple slaying.

Cruise Vessel Runs Aground

47 Aboard OK After Schooner Hits Reef

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A cruise ship with 47 persons aboard hung up on a Bahamas Islands reef today.

Coast Guard helicopters from Miami airlifted 14 persons from the 135-foot Polynesia 15 miles to Bimini, but left the others to be brought ashore by civilian boats if they wished to leave the vessel. The Polynesia was reported in no immediate danger with seas only one to two feet and weather mild. The Coast Guard said freeing her would be a commercial tugboat operation.

The Polynesia, built in Scotland in 1930, was the pride of Miami Capt. Mike Burke's Windjammer Cruises fleet.

It was the second such accident to befall the cruise line in the last week and the fifth in five years. Burke is involved in several lawsuits resulting from troubles at sea.

Last Friday, Burke's 96-foot vessel Mandalay struck a coral reef 20 miles southeast of Miami and 25 passengers and 11 crew members had to be rescued by helicopter from angry seas.

The Polynesia, with 35 passengers and 12 crew members, was en route from the Bimini Islands to Gun Cay when it ran aground at Piquet Rocks which lie between.

NO COMMENT

Burke went to Bimini. He declined immediate comment. His cruise headquarters in Miami said the skipper of the stricken vessel was Capt. Charles Tienan.

The Coast Guard said apparently efforts would be made to refloat the Polynesia.

"This is a commercial tugboat operation," the Coast Guard said.

In 1961, the 27 passengers on an around-the-world tour abandoned Burke's brigantine Yankee because of the severe shipboard restrictions they said were imposed.

SHIP ABANDONED

Two years later the Yankee was abandoned after it struck a reef in the Pacific.

Also, in late 1963, the 138-foot barkentine Cutty Sark, with Burke at the helm, hit a reef off Andros Island in the Bahamas and the 96-foot Caribee ran aground off Freeport with a load of vacationers aboard. In both cases there was no loss of life.

Deputy, Dog Nab 2 Teen Escapees

WHITMORE LAKE (AP) — A Washtenaw County sheriff's deputy and his dog captured two escapees from the Whitmore Lake Boys' Training School Wednesday night following a gas station holdup and high-speed auto chase.

Held in Washtenaw County Jail today were Bruce Kendall, 15, of Flint, and Tony Adamczyk, 15, of Bay City. The two, serving terms for breaking and entering, walked away from the training school Wednesday, deputies said.

Officers said they will seek waivers to prosecute the two as adults on armed robbery, auto theft and breaking and entering charges.

Alliance Rapped as U.S. Trick

HAVANA (AP) — A Mexican delegate told the tricontinental conference of revolutionists Wednesday night that the U.S. Alliance for Progress is an attempt to halt revolutionary thrusts in Latin America.

The delegate, Heriberto Castillo, said the aid program is a trick of "Yankee imperialism," but it won't succeed. The United States is the "enemy of all, absolutely all, underdeveloped countries," he said.

His anti-American speech before the 500 delegates from Asia, Africa and Latin America was echoed by representatives from Haiti, Colombia, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Swaziland and North Borneo.

Diego Montana Cuellar of the Colombian Communist party ridiculed the Alliance for Progress and traced a long history of what he called the exploitation of his country by the United States.

Arnaldo Ferreiro, a representative of the Costa Rican Popular Vanguard party, said he came to "condemn the policy of President Johnson" and a U.S. congressional resolution calling for intervention in Latin American countries.

Wu Hsueh Tsien of Communist China told the third session of the nine-day meeting that "wars of liberation" must be started throughout the world to bring about "the final defeat of Yankee imperialism."

The United States "will not fall unless it is felled," he said. Therefore, he said, "it is necessary for us to start still more powerful movements, wage people's wars on a still greater scale, tighten the rope around the neck of U.S. imperialism and bring about its final defeat."

He also charged that the United States is fighting a "hopeless war of aggression" in Viet Nam. He warned that "should U.S. imperialism insist on going farther along the road to war expansion and having another trial of strength with the Chinese people, the Chinese people will resolutely take up the challenge and fight to the end."

Other delegates considered the tone and content of Wu's speech strongly anti-Soviet. The Soviet Union favors advancing communism by less violent means. Some delegates said they expected a Soviet-Chinese clash to develop at the conference.

Bound Over in Shooting

A 24-year-old Pontiac plant worker charged with felonious assault in a shooting Tuesday was bound over to Circuit Court yesterday for arraignment Jan. 18.

James Daugherty of 91 Wall waived examination at his Justice Court arraignment before Bloomfield Township Justice John Baldwin who ordered Daugherty held at the Oakland County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Daugherty is accused of the shotgun wounding of 30-year-old Richard Leverette at the intersection of Opdyke and E. South Blvd.

Leverette told Bloomfield Township police Daugherty, who works with Leverette in the GMC Truck & Coach Division plant at 612 E. South Blvd., fired three times at him after motioning him to get out of his car at the intersection.

Leverette was treated for leg injuries at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released.

$12,500 Is Set as Salary of New Director

A salary of $12,500 per year was set yesterday by the equalization committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors for Herman W. Stephens, newly appointed director of the County Equalization Department.

The committee also confirmed Stephens' appointment of William Hoover as deputy director of the department and set his salary at $10,700.

Stephens, formerly deputy director of the department, was named director last month to succeed Edwin C. Sage who retired Jan. 1.

Total salary range for the job is $14,500.

Hoover has been the equalization department's chief residential appraiser.

Burma Cracks Down on Black Marketeers

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Burma's Socialist government cracked down hard at dawn today on a flourishing black market. Troops confiscated illegal goods.

Profiteers were caught by surprise as troops and police sealed off black market centers.

Senior Kennedy OK After a Heart Block

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy's heart stopped beating for a second or two Wednesday, but his doctor says there is nothing serious about it.

"There was a brief loss of consciousness, but there are no aftereffects," the doctor said. "He'll resume his normal activities."

The 77-year-old father of the late President John F. Kennedy collapsed in a chair just before noon after stepping out of the pool at his ocean-front winter home.

A male nurse carried him inside. Ann Gargan, longtime Kennedy companion, called the doctor and a priest.

FINAL RITES

Mrs. Jeremiah P. O'Mahoney administered final rites of the Roman Catholic Church. Kennedy recovered from the heart block under oxygen and the doctor decided there was no need to hospitalize him.

Members of the family telephoned from around the country. His wife, Rose, said it was not serious enough for them to gather at Palm Beach.

"Heart blocks are not uncommon among older people with a history of heart trouble," said the doctor, Saul Rotter. They are only dangerous if prolonged, he said.

WATCHED TV

Kennedy watched television, ate a normal supper and went to bed at 8 p.m.

He has been recovering slowly but surely from the stroke here Dec. 19, 1961, that left his speech and mobility impaired.

JOSEPH P. KENNEDY

In Hyannis Port, Mass., that he wished the recovery were more rapid.

His oldest son, Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., was killed in action as a naval pilot over the English Channel in World War II.

5 DAUGHTERS

One of his five daughters, Kathleen, widow of the Marquis of Hartington, died in a plane crash in France in 1948.

President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

Seven months later, Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., narrowly escaped death in a plane crash. His back was broken but he walked out of the hospital six months later.

His other son is Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

Kennedy, ambassador to Great Britain from January 1937 to late in 1940, came here several weeks ago for the winter. He swims regularly as part of a rehabilitative program.

Grand Jury Indicts Baker; Could Draw 48-Year Term

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bob by Baker — the man Lyndon B. Johnson once called "my strong right arm" — has been charged with a tangled, three-year skein of financial wrongdoing carrying grave criminal penalties.

A federal grand jury ended a 15-month investigation by charging the former secretary to Senate Democrats with fraud, tax evasion, grand larceny, conspiracy and illegal transportation of stolen money.

The crimes set forth in the nine-count indictment, returned yesterday in U.S. District Court, could mean a maximum prison sentence of 48 years and $47,000 in fines for the soft-spoken, 37-year-old lawyer-tycoon.

Baker was reached by telephone last night at "Bobby Baker's Carousell," the plush motel he owns at the seaside resort of Ocean City, Md. He calmly referred all questions to his lawyers — who said "no comment."

Baker's arraignment is set for Jan. 20.

NO CONFLICT

The grand jury did not — as the Senate Rules Committee had recommended — indict Baker for conflict-of-interest violations. But it did charge that he:

Understated his income by $54,559 for 1961-62 and evaded

Conspired with a Washington coal lobbyist, Wayne L. Bromley, to camouflage large portions of his 1963-64 income as legal fees to Bromley, "secretly and surreptitiously" taking the money himself;

Fraudulently obtained $33,000 from a Los Angeles savings and loan officer, illegally carried it across state lines and failed to report it as taxable income;

TAX RETURN

Helped prepare a false tax return for Bromley to conceal income that went to Baker; and Took by "felonious conversion," or theft, $67,000 from two Los Angeles savings and loan executives, in each case failing to report much of it as taxable income.

The grand jury also indicted a former lieutenant governor of Nevada, Clifford Jones, on three counts of perjury for allegedly false statements Jones made to the jury last March. Jones' indictment carries a maximum penalty of 15 years and $6,000.

Jones and Bromley are named as coconspirators in the conspiracy count against Baker. They are not defendants, however.

Curbs on Klan Suggested by Chief Prober

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time, Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has suggested possible new laws to curb the power of the Ku Klux Klan.

Willis said at yesterday's Klan hearing that possible approaches include a requirement that Klansmen register with the government as Communists are supposed to do; a federal law forbidding masked gatherings; or a federal law against organized acts or threats of violence.

Willis invited Ralph Blumberg, a former radio station owner in Bogalusa, La., to suggest possible legislation. Blumberg said he had no suggestions, however.

The witness told of being hounded and boycotted by the Bogalusa Klan, his and his family's lives threatened, car windows smashed and the radio station fired at by high-powered rifles.

His crime in the Klan's eyes, Blumberg said, was being on a local community relations committee which invited a former congressman and Baptist lay leader, Brooks Hays of Arkansas, to speak in Bogalusa on "better community relations."

Better bundle up if you are going out tonight as temperatures will sink to lows of 14 to 20.

Mostly sunny and colder with highs of 25 to 30 in tomorrow's forecast. Partly cloudy and not so cold is the outlook for Saturday.

A brisk 31 was the low in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury stood at 32 at 1 p.m.

Befriends Man, Ends Up Shot

Pontiac Div. Worker in Serious Condition

A 27-year-old Pontiac Motor Division employee was in serious condition this morning after being shot in the stomach early today in his Waterford Township apartment.

James Trimm of 2275 Elizabeth Lake underwent surgery at Pontiac General Hospital this morning for removal of a bullet from his abdomen.

Township police said Trimm was shot by a man who fled the three-family apartment building on foot after hitting the victim with one shot from a pistol.

Trimm told police he picked up the assailant hitchhiking on West Huron Street as he returned home from work on the night shift.

Trimm said he had offered the man a room for the night when his attacker pulled a gun and demanded Trimm's money and the keys to his car.

The gunman took three dollars from Trimm, but shot the victim when he refused the keys.

Police said the suspect was described as white and of medium height and build.

LBJ Pleased With Progress of Peace Drive

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is pleased with the results so far of his Viet Nam peace offensive. He is confident the travels of his special peace envoys are having a global impact still largely hidden behind a curtain of diplomatic secrecy.

Although there has been no outward evidence of a favorable response from Hanoi, Johnson remains hopeful of a breakthrough.

On the hopeful side, word has come through diplomatic channels that many countries visited by such traveling American diplomats as W. Averell Harriman and Arthur J. Goldberg are getting in direct touch with Hanoi — to urge steps toward peace.

Diplomatic traffic with the Communist government of North Viet Nam has reached a new peak since the concerted American peace effort began.

Some of this hidden diplomatic intervention has come from countries skeptical in the past about American policy.

If Hanoi remains deaf to such appeals, Johnson believes his efforts, at the very least, will reinforce his claim that if there are obstacles to peace, the blame lies elsewhere.

PERSONAL ORDERS

In a sense, the Johnson peace offensive has been a developing thing, with the President personally ordering each new move, often on short notice.

It was shaped with the passage of time as Johnson made a succession of major decisions in which his politician's sense of timing played a great role.

The peace campaign had its beginning — in secrecy — at a Nov. 11 conference at the LBJ Ranch in Texas. Gathered at the comfortable ranch house on the banks of the Pedernales were the President, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, and presidential assistants McGeorge Bundy and Jack Valenti.

For many weeks, the administration had given periodic thought to a possible pause in American bombings of North Viet Nam as a potential means of dramatizing U.S. hopes for peace and, hopefully, encouraging a conciliatory response from Hanoi.

FIRST DISCUSSION

The ranch conference marked the first intensive discussion of this possibility, favored by (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Blaze Sweeps Apartment in Keego Harbor

Tragedy Is Averted as Invalid Man, Wife Are Helped to Safety

A Keego Harbor police officer was credited with saving the lives of two people early this morning and averting Oakland County's second fire tragedy in as many days.

Sgt. William Holloway carried invalid William Baxter from his burning basement home and helped Baxter's wife Dorothy escape through a window.

Mrs. Baxter, 49, is listed in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital, where she is being treated for first and second degree burns on her face, hands, arms and chest.

Her husband, 65, was treated and released from the hospital.

The Baxters lived in an apartment under Lou's Bar at 3064 Orchard Lake.

RECALLED TRAGEDY

Holloway, who had assisted at the Waterford Township fire which claimed the lives of four children yesterday morning, was recalling that tragedy as he patrolled this morning.

The father of two girls and a boy, Holloway was troubled by his vivid memories of the fire.

"I had a feeling that something was going to happen," the 33-year-old officer said. That's why he took extra care in making his building checks.

Holloway spotted the fire in the Baxter apartment at 4:26 a.m.

THROUGH WINDOWS

"The fire was coming through the windows at the back part of the basement, and the two rooms on the east were completely enveloped in flames," he said.

The blaze, which firemen said apparently had started in a gas space heater, by then had filled the living room and kitchen and was spreading.

"I started banging on windows, trying to wake them up," Holloway said. "Then Mrs. Baxter screamed. I told her to keep screaming so I could find her."

Mrs. Baxter reportedly made one attempt to get through the flames and then jumped through a large bedroom window.

COULDN'T WALK

"She was lying on the ground when I got to that side of the building," Holloway said. "She said her husband was in there and that he couldn't walk."

'JFK's Sister and Lawford Plan Divorce'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Patricia Lawford, sister of the late President John F. Kennedy, may become the first member of the Kennedy clan to enter the divorce courts.

Mrs. Lawford, it was learned, plans to divorce her husband British-born actor Peter Lawford, early next month in Idaho. An attorney for the Lawfords said here the couple, married 11 years, already had entered into an amicable separation agreement.

Although the Lawfords have been living on opposite sides of the country since last year, they had denied that they had separated.

The 42-year-old Lawford called it "a geographical problem" caused by his work being in Hollywood and schools for their children in New York.

'65 Record Year for GM Truck

GMC Truck & Coach Division of General Motors chalked up a record sales year in 1965, with domestic retail deliveries of trucks and buses totaling 123,925 units, it was announced today.

Calvin J. Werner, a vice president of General Motors and general manager of the Division, said the 1965 sales mark topped the 1964 figure of 105,214 trucks and buses by 17.8 per cent.

Werner said this was some 4 per cent greater than the industrywide truck sales gain over the same period.

He said December deliveries reached 10,451 vehicles, topping the December 1964 figure of 9,334 by 12 per cent.

"New models unveiled by GMC Truck & Coach in 1965 included a '66 line of trucks consisting of 116 basic models, and an intercity bus featuring high-level seating for peak passenger visibility," Werner said.

The general manager added that $20 million in orders and commitments for the new "luxury liner" bus have been received since the vehicle was announced in September.

With U.S. domestic truck sales expected to exceed 1.5 million units this year, and equal or surpass this figure next year, GMC Truck & Coach Division will make further progress in the coming months," Werner concluded.

GMC Truck & Coach Division has nearly 7,000 workers on its payroll, second only to Pontiac Division of General Motors Corporation locally.

A highlight of 1965 came in April when GMC Truck & Coach

Division set an all-time record for deliveries with 11,480.

There were 11,480 trucks and buses delivered to dealers and specific purchasers, through fleet sales that month.

Jet Wreckage Found

With Body of General

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The wrecked fuselage of a jet trainer plane which plunged into Puget Sound Monday was found in about 60 feet of water Wednesday with the body of the pilot, Air Force Maj. Gen. Irving L. Branch, inside it.

Branch, 53, commander of the Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., Flight Test Center, disappeared from radarscope while making an approach to a Seattle field on a solo flight from Edwards.

State Dept. Name List to Stay Secret

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department has won a battle to keep a supersecret list of 800 possible security risks in the department from the eyes of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

A tug of war between the subcommittee and the department over the list was disclosed this week with the release of previously secret testimony which detailed the subcommittee's efforts to get the list.

The two-year-old testimony showed that the department blocked the panel's efforts by invoking a 1948 directive which forbids the transfer of loyalty records without the permission of the President.

The list was such a well-kept secret that William J. Crockett, deputy undersecretary for administration, admitted that neither he nor Secretary of State Dean Rusk knew of its existence until the subcommittee informed them.

Crockett conceded that "Frankly, we had a very difficult time finding the lists in the Office of Security."

ALL CLEARED

At the end of 1955, Crockett said, all State Department employees, including the 800, had been cleared after an evaluation of information which had raised "major" questions," Crockett said.

He said that of the 258, 92 employees had left and 71 had been reinvestigated and re-cleared.

Crockett promised that the 95 employees still on the rolls and not reinvestigated or cleared between 1956 and 1964 would get priority investigations.

The list of 800 was first brought to the attention of the subcommittee by Otto F. Otepka, a chief State Department security evaluation officer who was dismissed for giving the subcommittee information.

GAVE CLEARANCES

Otepka said he granted clearances to a majority of the more than 800 but that he also recommended a large number for dismissal as security risks.

"The final decision to clear the employees in such cases was made by higher authorities," Otepka said in a memo to the subcommittee.

The former security officer said the list included allegations and evidence of actual membership in the Communist party.

Heart Valve Repair Argued

By Science Service
CHICAGO — Heart valve replacements are causing some controversy among surgeons, some favoring metal or plastic devices, and others preferring human or even animal tissue.

Advocating the use of valves from newly dead persons is Sir Russell Brock, president of the Royal College of Surgeons in Britain, and director of cardiology, Guy's Hospital, London, whose views are reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Taking the stand that human tissue is as good and perhaps better than artificial material for repair of heart valves is Dr. Charles P. Bailey of St. Barnabas Hospital, New York.

He points out that repair can be done using tissues from the person's own body, thus lessening the danger of rejection.

A number of surgeons who prefer metal or plastic material, argue that it may not pose the problem foreign tissue does in affecting an individual's immunity.

TIME NEEDED

But Sir Russell and Dr. Bailey say in JAMA that more time is needed to evaluate prosthetic valves.

Artificial valves have not been in use long enough for their long-term survival rate to be evaluated, Dr. Bailey points out. Failure rates as high as 37 per cent within a year after transplantation have been reported.

Sir Russell's principle objection to the artificial valve is that it represents too radical a departure from the shape of the natural valve.

Gaming Background Aids Cuban Exiles

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Crap tables and roulette wheels were the one thing Havana and Las Vegas had in common. That link, now broken, has proved vital for some Cubans who have fled their homeland.

More than 500 Cubans, a fraction of those who have left under the Fidel Castro regime, call Las Vegas their new home.

Most of them are on the business side of the gambling tables, and, according to the gambling bosses, they're doing good work.

"I wish more of our American boys were as alert," says a gambling shift boss at a luxury hotel-casino.

KNOW JOB

"They're pleasant, fast, know their job, and they're dependable."

Another boss says, "Some of them may not speak English too well, but they count money fine."

"What I like about them, as far as I know, is they never make a bet or take a drink. They finish their shift and go home — as everybody does in his business," he added.

Nearly every major casino in Las Vegas, and a few in northern Nevada, employ Cubans. Cuban dealers make the same daily pay as the Americans: between $22.00 and $26.00.

UNION OBJECTS

The Cubans' presence is objected to by a union trying to organize casino help. The union has yet to sign a bargaining agreement with any Nevada casino.

Three emigrant dealers are Jose Lopez, 26; Renato Santos, 22; and Arturo Menendez, 29. They grew up in Havana, knew each other there, and worked in Havana gambling before leaving in 1960.

Santos escaped in a boat with 26 others. He served with the Bay of Pigs army, but remained in Guatemala as a reserve during the invasion attempt.

Lopez is married and has two children in school. Menendez and Santos are bachelors, live in apartments and own cars. Lopez is buying a house and car.

ROUTINE WORK

The three men see their work

as routine, the same way they have always maintained the living standard they're accustomed to.

Menendez says, "Castro closed the clubs in Havana. First he says there is no business. Well, they stopped Americans from coming, that was 80 per cent of the business. Then he says we didn't want that kind of business anyway."

He wistfully recalls his old casino, the Tropicana, as "the finest nightclub in the world, all glass. It was truly beautiful."

But if Havana casinos were lush, there's more action here. HIGHER LIMITS

"Whew, do they bet the money here! The limits are higher too," says Santos.

After work the Cubans whip up batches of chicken and rice, black beans and pork, write plenty of letters, seek out Latin entertainment, watch television, and talk Cuban politics. All want to go home.

Lopez tried golf, "but I broke two clubs. Can't do it."

The three men say all Cubans are grateful for America's help in resettling. Of the 500 Cubans in southern Nevada, none is drawing unemployment and only 12 are on the welfare role which averages 3,160 cases a month.

Wants U. S. Office of Traffic Safety

DECATUR, Ga. (AP) — Rep. James A. Mackay, D-Ga., says he plans to introduce a bill in Congress by Feb. 1 seeking creation of a national traffic safety administration.

He said Wednesday it is time to halt the "indiscriminate killing on the nation's highways."

"There were twice as many people killed in automobile accidents in December than there were killed in Viet Nam since 1961," he said. "We are callous to auto tragedies even though they involve the terrible deaths of innocent people and children."

The term "buccaneers" originated in Haiti where early settlers preserved their meat by smoking or drying — a process called "buccan." The pirates used this method to stock their ships for long voyages.

Indonesia Loss Malaysia Gain

of SE Asia Alliance

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysia, long a wallflower in Asian political circles, suddenly has become a center of attention.

She owes much of this allure to the Communist-backed coup that foundered in Indonesia. Malaysia watched its arch-enemy Indonesia virtually collapse and then saw its own stock soar among other Asian nations.

The long-range result, some officials say privately, may be a new political and economic grouping in Southeast Asia against threats from China to the north.

The new alignment would range from India through Burma, Thailand, South Viet Nam and the Philippines.

KEY DEVELOPMENT

One key development has been the Philippines' expressed desire to resume diplomatic relations with Malaysia. The two countries broke two years ago after a territorial dispute over Malaysia's North Borneo state of Sabah.

The new Philippine president, Ferdinand E. Marcos, snapped up feelers on resuming diplomatic relations. His favorable response was met by a call from Malaysian Prime Minister Abdul Rahman for the revival of the association of Southeast Asia.

This association, dusty from disuse, links Thailand, the Philippines and Malaysia in cultural and economic pacts. Out of it may come an Asian variation of the European Common Market, some officials predict. It could easily expand to include other Southeast Asian nations.

Malaysia reacted slowly to the Communist-backed coup in Indonesia. Some leaders even suspected it was a trick by President Sukarno, one official said.

TOOK SHAPE

Then events began to slide into place and Rahman seemed to find new assuredness. The Indonesia struggle muted that country's vow to "crush" this nation of 10 million. And Rahman's earlier decision to force Singapore out of the Malaysian federation diminished discontent within the country.

Malaysian officials contend that close relations with China can only mean the kiss of death in the long run.

'U.S. Reds Boost Role in Protests'

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today the Communist party has played an ever-increasing role in generating opposition to the U. S. position in Viet Nam. Hoover said also that the party is trying to attract more youth and is making plans to take a more active part in the 1966 elections, running candidates wherever possible.

In his annual report to the attorney general on FBI activities during 1965, Hoover said: "Always eager to engage in any activity which will bring embarrassment to the United States, the party has played an ever-increasing role in generating opposition to the United States position in Viet Nam."

INSTRUCTIONS

"In September 1965, party headquarters sent a directive to all districts giving instructions on slogans to be used in protests against United States action in Viet Nam. In addition, the party has expended large sums of money in propaganda efforts designed to hinder United States progress toward peace."

Hoover said the Communist party and other subversive groups supported and participated in various protests against U. S. policy. This was particularly true, he said, in the April 17 student march on Washington, the August Washington summer action project, the October international days of protest, the Nov. 27 march on Washington for peace in Viet Nam and the Nov. 25-28 national antiwar convention in Washington.

Hoover also reported: —Nearly 14,000 fugitives were located and 21,000 automobiles recovered in FBI-investigated cases — both new highs. —The work of the FBI in the field of civil rights continued to expand. —The FBI files now contain more than 177 million sets of fingerprints.

Foreign News Commentary

Yugoslav Reforms Most Far-Reaching

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

As economic realities have forced the East European Communist nations into reforms with more than a tinge of capitalism, the most far-reaching have been undertaken by Yugoslavia, traditional maverick of communism.

The many-pronged objectives of the NEWSOM Yugoslav program are to make Yugoslav products competitive on a free world market, to establish the dinar on an equal footing with Western currencies, including the dollar, to reduce subsidies to state enterprises at home and to place the economy on the basis of supply and demand.

In the Western world, these are recognized procedures and the steps being undertaken by Yugoslavia parallel almost exactly those followed by France when President Charles de Gaulle overruled its economy in December 1953. But in Communist lands it is rank revisionism.

In France, de Gaulle first devalued the franc, reduced subsidies to state-owned industries, including the railroads and then reduced the astronomic figures appearing on French paper currency by moving the decimal over a couple of points. Thus, a 1,000-franc note became a 10-franc note with the same value as its predecessor.

The same has happened to the dinar in Yugoslavia.

Giving strong support to Yugoslavia's attempt to liberalize its economy has been the United States.

CREDITS GRANTED

In December it was disclosed the United States had granted the country credits and debt postponements amounting to $57 million.

In November the United States had granted a long-term $46 million credit for Yugoslav wheat purchases.

Results of the reforms, which began last July, already have been impressive.

Prices of many products have been allowed to find their own level on the free market. Despite early confusion, some factories are increasing their output.

The trade deficit of about $200 million has been cut in half. Exports are showing a healthy gain, and imports have been reduced.

But while the state has benefited, the change has not been without hardship for the Yugoslav people.

In the controlled economy of orthodox communism, rents for the worker have been all but free.

But as rent subsidies were reduced, the cost of housing more than doubled, as did the cost of electricity.

COSTS JUMP

Transportation costs jumped 45 per cent.

As factories pulled in their belts under orders to get along without government support, thousands of workers were laid off and many still are unemployed. Some have emigrated to other lands to find work.

Unskilled workers who had abandoned the countryside to jam the cities were being forced to return.

Housewives began buying black bread instead of white and rising coffee and beer prices half-emptied the taverns and coffee houses.

But despite dislocations and some hardship, the reform has moved forward with amazing smoothness.

'Bomb Supply Yanks Adopt 'Scorched Earth' Program in Bid to Cripple the Viet Cong

Had Dwindled'
Production at a Halt
Early in Viet Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP)—Production of 750-pound bombs was at a halt during the first six or seven months of the U.S. air war in Viet Nam, it was disclosed today.

Manufacture of these "iron bombs" stopped after the Korean War, wasn't resumed until late last summer, the Defense Department said. This was about a half year after the first U.S. air strike into North Viet Nam.

Apparently the bomb stockpile was fast being eaten up by almost daily B52 raids over South Viet Nam and air attacks by U.S. Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers against Communist targets in both North and South Viet Nam. A mission of 30 B52s, fully loaded, carries more than a million pounds of bombs.

U.S. officials have insisted there is no shortage of bombs or other ammunition.

TIGHT SUPPLY
Knowledgeable sources say there were times during the past month of strike operations when the 750-pound bomb supply was tight. "We sweated a little," said one source.

No missions were scrubbed because of a lack of bombs and the supply situation has been improving, sources said.

Asked about the bomb production situation, the Pentagon also said that manufacture of 500-pound bombs was stopped in the fall of 1963 "when inventory requirements for the general purpose forces were reached."

Output of 500-pounders was started again in March 1965, about a month after American warplanes began hitting North Viet Nam.

PRODUCTION BREAK
This means there was a production break of more than a year in this class of bomb.

The 750-pounders and the 500-pounders have been the major types of bombs dumped on the Communists by Air Force and Navy planes, although 1,000-pound and 2,000-pound bombs also have been dropped.

Defector Felt Life in Danger

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A young Polish interpreter for the International Control Commission told newsmen today he defected because he felt his life was in danger after he had voiced a desire to go to the United States.

Anatol Slavinski, 25, a slightly built English interpreter, said he had overheard Polish military officers discussing ways to get rid of him. He said this precipitated his defection Dec. 31.

Slavinski told a news conference his assignment to Saigon was his introduction to life in the free world. In his two months here, he said, he read many magazines and newspapers and he began thinking about defecting to the West.

When he ran into a Saigon police station on New Year's Eve, several members of the Polish delegation to the control commission rushed in behind him and demanded that the Vietnamese police turn him back to them. The police refused.

TELLS OF WIFE
Slavinski said he is from Lodz, Poland, and that his pregnant wife is in Moscow. "I am a little sorry to leave her behind," he said.

He said he intends to seek American citizenship but "I know this is very difficult." "I trust the Americans will protect me," he said when asked if he still feared for his life.

Slavinski said he was not a member of the Polish Communist party and did not like his country's Communist government. He has been in the hands of Vietnam's police since his defection but will probably be turned over to U.S. intelligence officers soon, reliable sources said.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—To break the back of the Viet Cong, U.S. and allied forces are adopting a program of destroying houses and crops in areas which feed and shield the Communist forces.

For years, Americans refused to participate in "scorched earth" efforts, leaving them to the Vietnamese. Now Americans are directly involved. They are trying to protect innocent people.

The broad-based program includes the establishment of free-bombing zones in Viet Cong regions, killing rice crops in enemy areas, and burning other crops and homes.

The rich, intensely cultivated flat lands south of the Vao Oriental River west of Saigon are prime "scorched earth" targets. U.S. paratroopers from the 173rd Airborne Brigade began operating there last weekend.

BASE CAMP
They laid their base camp among the blackened frames of burned houses. Within two miles of the paratroopers' camp not a house was left standing. Constant pounding by artillery and planes had reduced every building to rubble.

The paratroopers' mission was to move out farther, round up all the people they could find, evacuate them north of the river to resettlement camps, and burn and destroy everything eatable and livable.

Patrols waded in neck-deep canals slicing through the canefields, crept stealthily down high dikes, and pushed through thick brush. Every house they encountered they burned to the ground. Most were of thatch, but some were large with heavy wooden frames and neat gardens.

TREES CUT
Every cooking utensil was smashed, every banana tree severed, every mattress slashed.

On the first day, the men of C Company found more than 60 Vietnamese women and children weeping as they lay in trenches around their devastated homes. These people were sent in helicopters to Bao Trai District, north of the river, and resettled.

The men folk stayed hidden in the canefields and the canals, sniping at the searching paratroopers and mining the trails. The province chief had told the Americans that every man south of the river was a Viet Cong. "They must be either shootin'

Clothing Drive Next Week

More than 10 tons of wearable items — 21,000 pounds — has been set as the goal of the 11th annual clothing drive of the Pontiac public schools next week.

The drive, directed by Don DeVoe, assistant principal at Eastern Junior High School, begins Monday and lasts through Friday.

DeVoe said clothing would be gathered at the city's 28 elementary and eight secondary schools as items are contributed.

He emphasized all clothing collected would go to needy children in Pontiac schools.

School maintenance personnel will deliver the clothing to the Salvation Army, 118 W. Lawrence; St. Vincent de Paul Society, 11 W. Wilson; and Seventh Day Adventist Church, 168 Mt. Clemens, for distribution.

Direction of clothing to needy students is usually initiated by individual classroom teachers, he said.

Ike Planning Annual Vacation in California City

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, undergoing a medical checkup at Walter Reed Army Hospital here, was expected to leave tonight or Friday for his annual winter vacation in Palm Desert, Calif.

The former president, who suffered a heart attack Nov. 9 in Augusta, Ga., flew to the hospital grounds Wednesday by White House helicopter from his home in Gettysburg, Pa. He spent a month at the hospital recuperating from the attack before returning to Gettysburg just before Christmas.

The five-star general plans to travel west by train. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower; Mr. and Mrs. George Allen of Washington; Mrs. Eisenhower's uncle, Joel Carlson of Boone, Iowa; and Brig. Gen. Robert Schulz, his aide.
