Romney Seeks Nixon Debate

Pontiac Press Photo by Ed Vanderwarp

MAKING INTRODUCTIONS—Charles T. Brown, 81, is surrounded by some of his grandchildren during his first visit to the United States from his home in Jamaica. Brown is getting acquainted with 10 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren while visiting his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brown of 550 Fildew. Cecil, a Pontiac Motor Division employe, came to the U.S. in 1946. His father expects to return to Jamaica in six months.

Governor Issues New Hampshire Vote Challenge

CONCORD, N. H. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney, acknowledging that the polls show him "well behind" in the New Hampshire primary campaign, challenged former Vice President Richard M. Nixon today to come to the state and debate him.

"Anything less would be a failure on our part, as candidates, to meet our responsibilities to you as voters in this crucial first primary of the most crucial election year in modern American history," he said.

Kicking off his campaign in New Hampshire, Romney said he and Nixon apparently will be the only major Republican presidential contenders in the March 12 race.

"The New Hampshire primary may answer the question of who the new president will be or whether there will be a new one," Romney told New Hampshire voters.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan governor said he would make a better GOP candidate than Nixon because of "broader experience" and because he has better plans to deal with the nation's problems.

'NEW PURPOSE NEEDED'

"No man persists in seeking the presidency despite polls which show him well behind without a deep belief in the need for new purpose in the White House," Romney said.

Nixon's campaign managers say the the former vice president will not come to New Hampshire until Feb. 3.

Romney said he would agree to any debate format Nixon might suggest.

★ ★ ★

Describing the New Hampshire primary as "crucial," Romney said it will not necessarily be decisive. He indicated he expects to go on to other state races whatever the outcome.

DIG AT NIXON

He took one dig at the former vice president. The governor said he has long personal experience in dealing with foreign affairs.

"I have a lot more current experience, having talked with Soviet Premier Kosygin more than somebody who talked with Khrushchev a few years ago," he said.

This was a reference to Nixon's famed "kitchen debate" with the former Soviet leader.

★ ★ ★

Romney opened his campaign with a handshaking session in bitter cold at a plant gate in Nashua.

Hatless in the below-zero cold, Romney greeted workers arriving at Sanders Associates, Inc., asking support in his campaign to upset former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, favored by the polls in New Hampshire's Republican race.

"It's great to be here and I'm looking forward to the contest," the Michigan governor said.

Broken Water Main Valve Creates Shelby 'Geyser'

Shelby Township had its own version of Old Faithful yesterday.

The township's 100-foot "geyser," however, while roughly comparing to the Yellowstone landmark in size, had an added feature — it didn't stop spouting.

Reported to Shelby police at about 9 a.m., the towering column of water near Dequindre and 24 Mile Roads successfully resisted the attempts of township and Detroit repairmen to quench it manually until nearly midnight.

Then, according to Detroit Water Department information services director Tom MacPhail, the repair crew decided to throttle down the 35-million-gallon line and interrupt service.

After notifying residents of the area and warning them to stock up on house supplies, service was shut down while the 1½-inch valve responsible was replaced.

LOSS ESTIMATES

MacPhail placed water losses at "around 400 gallons a minute" while the spout continued. "Service was resumed at 3:15 a.m.," he added, "and most of the time between was spent gradually reducing pressure and building it back up again."

★ ★ ★

Repair crews had recently been working in the area, he said, and might have been responsible for the loose valve.

Laos on Offensive, Red China Charges

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China charged today that Laotian troops supported by "U.S. Imperialists" had launched a major offensive against Communist-controlled areas of northern Laos and bombed Chinese border areas, inflicting heavy casualties.

An official statement by the Chinese Communist Foreign Ministry broadcast by Peking Radio called the reported offensive a grave step taken by Laotian right-wing elements in helping the United States plan to extend the Vietnam war to Laos and Cambodia.

The broadcast said three planes bombed the Miaochai border area of Yannun Province Sunday causing "serious losses to the life and property of the local population." It called this a grave war provocation by the United States and its "Laotian lackeys."

The Chinese Foreign Ministry warned of possible Red Chinese intervention in Laos "should U.S. imperialism dare to extend the war of aggression to Laos."

Bowles Vows Nonaggression as Talks Close

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Chester Bowles has promised Cambodia the United States "will do everything possible to avoid acts of aggression against Cambodia," according to a joint communique issued today at the end of Bowles' five-day mission to Phnom Penh.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, the Soviet Union moved quickly to oppose any agreement Bowles and Prince Norodom Sihanouk might have reached to restrict the use of Cambodian territory by the Vietnamese Communists.

Bowles, told newsmen as he left for New Delhi that he was "very satisfied with the successful talks."

It was believed in Phnom Penh that Sihanouk agreed for the three-nation International Control Commission to keep a closer watch on the border between Cambodia and South Vietnam. But Cambodian sources reported that Soviet Ambassador Sergei Koudriavtsev and M. Mylicki, the head of the Polish delegation to the ICC, had called on Sihanouk to express their opposition to a U.S. offer of two helicopters to assist the commission in border watching.

The two Communist representatives said their governments opposed the offer because the United States did not sign the 1954 Geneva agreements which got the French out of Indochina and set up the control commission.

★ ★ ★

Sihanouk had said earlier that he was favorable to the American offer but acceptance was up to the commission's three members — India, Canada and Poland — and the two cochairmen of the Geneva conference — Britain and the Soviet Union.

The Soviet ambassador also informed Sihanouk that his government agreed to new military aid for Cambodia, including 50 trucks.

All reports from Phnom Penh told of pleasant and cordial relations between Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, and Bowles during the four-day visit.

Violence Erupts as Rusk Speaks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — With violence erupting between antiwar pickets and police outside, Secretary of State Dean Rusk spoke of an elusive peace in a foreign policy speech last night.

★ ★ ★

Cursing, bottle-throwing, brick-hurling pickets were massed across the street more than an hour before Rusk's appearance before 1,500 members of the Commonwealth Club and World Affairs Council.

Rusk was whisked inside without seeing the 500 or so demonstrators who were swept away by a wedge of police officers holding nightsticks in front of them. Fifty were arrested, many carried or dragged to patrol wagons. Police used an eye-smarting, gagging spray chemical to disperse the disorderly group, which continued to reform in smaller units for several hours.

Rusk delivered an informal speech on U.S. policy as the demonstrators shrieked and milled about outside.

★ ★ ★

His speech centered on Vietnam and the Middle East, but also touched on the balance of payments problem, the President's tax program, free speech and 1967 accomplishments.

Avon Twp. Voters Decide Cityhood Question Monday

A week of intensive campaigning both for and against incorporation will culminate with a vote Monday in Avon Township.

Some 7,700 registered electors are expected to determine whether the township, exclusive of the City of Rochester, will start the process to cityhood.

Related Story, Page A-4

A favorable vote Monday would need to be followed by another favorable vote within two years for acceptance of a charter in order for the township to gain city status.

The charter would be written by nine of 15 candidates who are seeking election to the charter commission Monday.

★ ★ ★

If the vote is defeated, annexation petitions to join the whole township of Avon to the City of Rochester, now on file in the county clerk's office, would be due for consideration.

Both methods aim for unity of the two areas, according to their promoters. Backers of township incorporation claim a favorable vote would provide an atmosphere for equal bargaining on future merger talks.

Two Trains Crash in N.J.; 200 Hurt

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — A New York-bound rapid transit commuter train crashed into the rear of another at the height of the evening rush hour Thursday injuring some 200 persons. Eighteen required hospitalization.

There were no fatalities. The injured began jamming the Jersey City Medical Center shortly after the 5:15 p.m. collision which occurred just west of the Port Authority Trans Hudson (PATH) tubes station at Journal Square here.

Jersey City Police Director George Whelan declared a state of emergency and police, Red Cross, fire and civil defense units swarmed into the area to evacuate injured.

Rescue operations were hampered because of the near-zero weather, and the locations of the trains in a open gully, or cut, just west of the station. Firemen used ladders to climb down the steep, ice-covered walls, of the gully.

2 TRAINS INVOLVED

A PATH spokesman said only two trains were involved in the collision.

However, some of the passengers claimed they were in a train that had been sideswiped by a second train and rammed by a third.

The PATH spokesman could offer no immediate reason for the collision.

The motorman of the standing train, William Wolff, 51, was awaiting clearance to enter the station. Thomas J. McCauley, 34, was motorman of the train which rammed Wolff's and he was among those hospitalized overnight.

★ ★ ★

McCauley said he got a warning to slow down as he approached the station. As he started to slow, his train rounded a southeast bend in the tracks and he saw the other train standing. "It was too late," he said.

Starkey is also an ex-officio member of the state board of the Michigan Association.

Moon Mission Is Testing Soil

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists maneuvered Surveyor 7's soil-testing device into operation today and declared "this will increase our knowledge of the moon vastly."

The success marked a "full mission" for the spacecraft that soft-landed on the moon last Tuesday. Soil testing was a major purpose.

★ ★ ★

Using a digger scoop that makes trenches in lunar soil, scientists gave the shoe box-sized, soil-testing device a final shove today that placed it on the lunar soil, where it must be to make chemical analysis by radiation.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman at Pasadena's Jet Propulsion Laboratory said the data was being transmitted back to earth but added, "It'll be a week and a half before it can be analyzed."

'FULL MISSION'

"This was one of our most important experiments on the spacecraft—it makes it a full mission," the spokesman added.

Scientists thought Thursday night they had successfully lowered the soil tester to the surface. But they discovered they had only lowered it part way. It must be flush with the surface to function.

★ ★ ★

"If we don't get the data, it would be a great disappointment," the spokesman declared. "But these instruments are funny — temperamental — and have straightened out on earlier Surveyors."

★ ★ ★

Scientists especially want to learn the composition of this Surveyor's landing site because it is in a rugged highlands area, near the crater Tycho. Other moon vehicles have landed in lowland areas.

Marines Boost Force Near DMZ by 3,500

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Marine force in South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces increased to 5,000 men today as another regiment was moved north to meet the threat of North Vietnamese divisions around the Demilitarized Zone.

★ ★ ★

Senior Marine officers said there are indications that the Communist troops will concentrate on the provinces of Quang Tri, which fronts the DMZ, and Thua Thien, just below it, in their expected spring offensive in the north.

★ ★ ★

The shift of the 3,500-man 5th Marine Regiment from an operating area south of Da Nang gives the Marines three more maneuver battalions—which can cover a wide area and aren't tied down in static defensive positions—in Thua Thien. Only two Marine battalions had been operating in the province generally.

INFANTRY EQUAL

The enlarged Marine force, together with about 12,000 South Vietnamese infantrymen, makes the allied and Communist forces in the DMZ theater of war about equal in infantry manpower, according to intelligence reports.

★ ★ ★

The allies began shifting troops last April to bolster the Marines under heavy ground and artillery attacks just below the DMZ. Units of the 1st Vietnamese Army Division are scheduled to replace Marines manning the frontier strongpoints of Con Thien and Gio Linh son, freeing more Leathernecks for offensive operations.

★ ★ ★

The 7,000-man Blue Dragon Brigade of South Korean Marines moved to Hoi An, 15 miles south of Da Nang, to take over for the U.S. Marines who moved north. The U.S. Army's American Division, reinforced last month by the arrival of the 11th Brigade from the United States, sent troops to Cape Batanga, 75 miles south of Da Nang, to replace the Korean Marines.

Israel, Egypt Swap POWs

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel today began repatriating 4,500 Egyptian prisoners of war, including five generals, in exchange for 16 Jewish soldiers and civilians detained in Egyptian prisons since the June war.

★ ★ ★

A "small number" of Egyptians started moving today, Red Cross sources said.

★ ★ ★

The exchange agreement — a breakthrough in Israeli-Egyptian relations—was announced by the International Red Cross in Geneva Thursday.

Terms were not disclosed, and a tight news blackout was imposed in Tel Aviv. But informants said the Egyptians were being hauled from the former British Army compound at Atlit, near Haifa, to El Qantara, on the Suez Canal.

NO WORD

The Atlit prison camp was sealed off, and there was no word on the prisoners' reaction to the news.

★ ★ ★

The Israelis on Jan. 1 released 500 Egyptian POWs from Atlit, including two generals. Until then Israel had released only sick or wounded soldiers.

★ ★ ★

The exchange agreement was proposed by Israel through the United Nations in an attempt to improve the warlike situation along its western front.

Groups Try to Get Bodies off Mountain

BATTLE MOUNTAIN, Nev. (AP) — Military air and ground parties converged on a snowy mountain crag today, attempting to remove the bodies of 19 Marines killed in a transport plane crash.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman at Hamilton Air Force Base near San Francisco said three helicopters are in the area but that he believed the bodies would be brought out tonight by a ground party.

From the crash site, a Bureau of Land Management employe radioed that helicopters would have great trouble landing near the wrecked airplane since the slope is at a 125-degree angle.

★ ★ ★

The Defense Department listed the number of victims at 19, reporting that a 20th man left the plane at Denver Wednesday before it began the last and fatal leg of a flight over one of the West's bleakest regions.

★ ★ ★

Stamps Still Sticky Subject

NEW YORK (AP) — Send more stamps.

That's the cry of postmasters around the nation, faced with long lines of people trying to adjust to the higher postal rates which went into effect Sunday.

An Associated Press survey shower supplies of the new six-cent first-class and 10-cent air-mail stamps were low in some centers, particularly outside large cities.

Many post offices were completely out of penny stamps sought by people who were left with a stock of the old, five-cent kind.

Stamps had to be rationed in some areas.

A Norton, Kan. man asked for 1,000 one-cent stamps and had to settle for 15 and a Denver man asked for 300 one-centers and got only three. And the postmaster in Warren, Ohio, had to limit six-centers to 300 per customer.

Related Story, Page A-6

Most large cities fared pretty well.

★ ★ ★

Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien announced Thursday that the post office plans to eliminate airmail as a separate service and send all first-class letters by air at the six-cent rate.

Berz Airport Sold; Buyer Talks With Plane Owners

The Berz Airport in Troy has a new owner, but plane owners may not have to seek for a new home just yet.

★ ★ ★

Fred W. Parker Jr., president of Rockwell-Standard Divisions of North American Rockwell Corp., purchaser of the 140-acre facility, says talks are being carried on with aircraft owners to make long-range provisions for the area.

Parker added that the company plans a technical center on part of the property, located on Maple west of Crooks, but that a lease agreement will keep the airport open on its present basis temporarily.

"In the meantime," he continued, "the corporation is negotiating with representatives of aircraft owners who now use the airport to arrive at a long-range plan for operation of an airstrip at Berz Airport."

★ ★ ★

Milton H. Berz Jr., operator of the airfield, will continue to run it temporarily, Parker said.

RUMORS OF SALE

Rumors that the airport was to be sold began circulating early in December, but pending a possible move by Oakland County to purchase the field for a public airport, no move was made.

★ ★ ★

The county, however, instead made plans to expand Orion Township's Oakland-Orion Airport.

★ ★ ★

Parker said plans for the new technical center will be announced shortly. The sale was handled by Snyder, Kinney & Bennett, Inc., a Birmingham real estate firm.

Detroit Asks State OK for Levy Hike, New Tax

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit has asked the State Legislature for permission to double its municipal income tax, to impose excise taxes on such things as hotel and nightclub bills and to increase its debt limit.

The steps were recommended by a Task Force on City Finance, appointed by Mayor Jerome Cavanagh. It reported that without added revenue there will be a $39 million deficit in the city's budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

Cavanagh said the recommendations already have been passed on to the Legislature's Joint Taxation Committee with a request for action soon.

Present state laws limit city incomes taxes to 1 per cent on residents and ½ per cent on nonresidents working in the city.

★ ★ ★

"If the city does not get substantial relief such as that recommended," the task force said, "It will be faced with the alternative of massive and immediate cutbacks in vital services, with accompanying employe layoffs."

STATE AID

Even with added revenues, the task force said "significant assistance" from state and federal government will continue to be "absolutely essential."

The city income tax now produces $48.6 million of the city's total tax income of $418.6 million.

Permission to levy excise taxes, which also could apply to tickets for professional sports events and movies, was taken away from cities by the 1964 Legislature.

★ ★ ★

The city is asking that its bonding limit be increased from 20 to 25 mills of assessed valuation annually.

PAY RAISES

Included in the estimated deficit for the 1968-69 fiscal year, according to the mayor, are funds for pay raises for city employes, including policemen.

Railroads Start Insurance Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's railroad industry has unveiled a health and welfare plan for 1½ million workers and their families and says it will be financed through "the largest private insurance policy in the world with yearly premiums of about $220 million."

"The only larger plan is the government plan covering federal employes," said John P. Hiltz, chief railroad negotiator who worked out details with 30 union labor unions and virtually all the nation's railroads.

The agreement, said G. E. Leighty, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives Association, should improve labor relations in the rail industry, long troubled by disputes and strikes. He said some 500,000 rail workers will be asking wage hikes of six per cent or more this year.

The agreement covers life insurance, accidental death and disability and hospital, surgical and medical care for 615,000 workers. Family members bring the total number of persons covered by the plan to nearly 1½ million, Leighty said.

3 Juveniles Questioned in Model Homes Damage

Three juveniles have been questioned in connection with $5,000 to $7,000 worth of destruction to three model homes in Waterford Township.

The three were apprehended yesterday and were questioned by Pontiac State Police, Waterford Township police and Oakland County sheriff's deputies concerning the destruction which occurred early this week.

Police also believe the boys — 14, 15 and 16 years old — may have broken into two other establishments, burned down a house in Rose Township and stolen an automobile.

Two of the suspects escaped from the Oakland County Juvenile Home Jan. 4, according to State Police detectives.

★ ★ ★

BREAK-IN PROBED

Waterford Township police believe the youths were responsible for a break-in at Schoolcraft School, 6400 Maceday, reported Monday.

A tape recorder was stolen and machines and windows were broken in the break-in.

Sheriff's detectives questioned the suspects in connection with a recent break-in Tuesday at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club on Waterford Road in Independence Township and an $11,500 fire Saturday at the Channing Hitchcock home at 18501 Pellett, Rose Township.

★ ★ ★

A pistol and $28 in change were reported stolen from the club.

The youths were turned over to Probate Court.

Lights Worry Eye Scientist

Test Rats Blinded by Overbrightness

NEW YORK (UPI) — A recent discovery that exposure to very bright lights for one week will permanently blind rats caused an eye scientist — an ophthalmologist — to raise the question of how bright lights must be before they do it to people.

Dr. David G. Cogan was challenging illuminating engineers because they're steadily making lights brighter and brighter. They're the professionals who advise on how brights lights should be in factories, offices and homes.

"Until recently a safe 20-foot-candle level was thought to be adequate for reading, and this prevails in most public libraries and similar buildings designed more than a decade ago," Cogan said.

"Since then the recommended illumination has gradually increased so that 50-foot levels are commonly recommended with the more 'liberal' suggestions going into the hundreds of foot-candles."

★ ★ ★

The experimentally blinded rats were exposed for one week to 700-to-1,000-foot-candles from a continuously burning bank of fluorescents.

AVANT GARDE

Yet "at least one avant-garde" engineer has urged 1,000 foot-candles for people, Cogan said, and another engineer has set his goal at bringing the sun-lit outdoors — about 10,000-foot-candles — into the home.

Editorializing in the American Medical Association's Ophthalmologic Journal of which he is an editor, Cogan concluded: "Man is still safe from irreversible retinal damage by ordinary exposures to light, but the margin of safety is narrowing with the excessive recommendations of some illuminating experts."

He said that ophthalmologists have always been skeptical about the engineers' claims that low illumination is necessarily harmful to the eyes because they've never been able to identify diseases caused by low illumination.

Holly Hero Memorialized In Pentagon

Holly's War Ace Honored by Portrait in Pentagon

HOLLY TOWNSHIP — Further honors have come posthumously to the local war ace, 1st Lt. Karl Richter.

Shot down in the skies over North Vietnam last summer, Richter, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Richter, 11610 Dixie, has been immortalized by Maxine McCaffrey in a 6-foot painting now hanging in the Pentagon in Washington, D.C.

Richter, on his 198th mission when killed at age 24 was the youngest pilot to shoot down a MIG in Southeast Asia He was the recipient of the Distinguished Flying Cross with one oak leaf cluster, the Air Medal with 13 oak leaf clusters and a Vietnamese Distinguished Service Medal.

The outstanding young pilot was painted twice. One portrait was installed in Richter Hall at Korat, Thailand, where he was stationed. Gen. J. P. McConnell, chief of staff of the Air Force, was present for the unveiling.

The Pentagon picture is to be sent on tour of the United States during the coming year.

CHOSEN BY AIR FORCE

The California artist went to Southeast Asia last spring as the Air Force's choice to document pilots and men of the Tactical Air Command.

The painting depicts the pilot standing in full battle gear after a mission.

Judge Rewards Only Defendant to Brave the Cold

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Out of 100 defendants scheduled for Mecklenburg County Recorder's Court Thursday, only one man braved icy streets and freezing temperatures to go to court.

★ ★ ★

James Rufus Pitts, 33, was charged with littering Interstate 85—by throwing a paper bag of pickled pig's feet on the highway.

He was released.

★ ★ ★

Judge Howard B. Arbuckle said: "I figured that anybody who would come to court on that kind of charge on that kind of day deserved to go free."

Clarkston Adult Classes for Winter to Begin Monday

CLARKSTON — The winter term of the Clarkston area adult education program, aimed at persons interested in a continuing education program as well as those seeking recreation, will begin Monday.

Bishop sewing courses will be offered both in the afternoon and evening at three different locations — at the Community Center, Sashabaw School and the Junior High School. Knitting will also be offered.

A keypunch, comptometer and office machines course will be taught as will typing and possibly speed writing, if the demand is great enough, according to William Dennis, director of adult education.

Heli-arc welding is offered, as is men's and women's physical fitness programs, conversational German and first aid.

★ ★ ★

Registration will take place the evening of the scheduled class, Dennis said. Additional information may be obtained by calling the adult education office.

Now a Personal Issue

Avon Cityhood Vote Near

By JEAN SAILE

Electors of Avon Township will determine Monday the future of their community.

★ ★ ★

Government, which to most has been a hazy sort of thing carried out by "officials," has suddenly become very personal.

At issue is the incorporation of all of Avon Township lying outside the City of Rochester.

A "yes" vote, obtained as a simple majority, could mean that the two units would remain separate forever — or as its promoters say, it would only provide a more equal basis for future merger negotiations.

★ ★ ★

History disputes the latter contention. No successful merger between incorporated units has ever been accomplished in Michigan, according to material presented at recent public hearings.

SECOND VOTE

A favorable vote could also mean that the status of the two communities would be unchanged for a time. A "yes" vote Monday won't incorporate the township immediately. Such action would require a second favorable vote within two years on a proposed city charter.

Standing in the wings are annexation petitions gathered and filed with the county by the Rochester League of Women Voters and Area Jaycees for the purpose of annexing all of Avon Township to the city of Rochester should Monday's vote fail.

Annexation would also require still another favorable vote, probably sometime in the summer. Electors of both Rochester and of Avon Township would decide that outcome.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, there is Monday's ballot.

Voters, subject to numerous statements issued by promoters and objectors to township incorporation, are finding that the decision is not an easy one.

TAX QUESTION

Seemingly caught in the course of an unalterable chain of events, they are haunted by the spectre of increasing taxes over the already admittedly high taxes paid not alone in Avon Township and Rochester; but throughout Oakland County and the State of Michigan.

How much is it going to cost, has been the question most asked.

And nobody has a definite answer.

Also at stake is the admittedly sentimental, but still real, feeling of the residents to keep the two units as one entity.

The break in unity came early last year when Rochester Village voters, feeling the pressure of high township expenses about to be incurred in the establishment of sewer and water services and having their own such services, broke away from the township and incorporated as a city.

Before the incorporation was finalized the Avon Township Study Committee had filed incorporation petitions for the rest of the township in an effort to keep Rochester from annexing any high tax base lands lying adjacent to its boundaries.

The lines regarding the election have split evenly between the township and city governments.

A statement urging a "yes" vote was adopted by the township board Saturday. Rochester councilmen earlier issued a statement indicating opposition to incorporation of the township. It has been followed by several statements from individual councilmen urging a "no" vote Monday.

Both the League of Women Voters and the Jaycees have come out in opposition to the township's incorporation.

Also due to be on the ballot with the incorporation issue Monday is a list of 15 names of residents seeking nine available positions on a charter commission.

Those elected will be charged with the job of wriiting a charter acceptable to the people of the township should incorporation pass.

★ ★ ★

If Monday's vote falls, their election means nothing.

Candidates are:

Township treasurer.

Louis Berklich, 2409 S. Livernois, manager of the Rochester Branch, Secretary of State's Office.

★ ★ ★

George J. Ennis, 800 Ironstone, Avon Township trustee.

Harry S. Huber, 167 Winry, Avon Township Justice of the Peace.

Norman F. Kapcia, 212 Nesbit, an attorney.

George Karas, 1859 Fair Oak, director of physical plant, Oakland University.

Herman F. Lamb, 3783 Mildred, maintenance engineer, White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

★ ★ ★

William E. McCullough, 441 Willowtree, Avon Township trustee.

★ ★ ★

Eugene S. Nowicki, 280 Donegal, clerical and sales employe of National Twist Drill & Tool Co.

Arlen L. Rampson, 860 Castlebar, housewife.

Ross C. Rector, 229 Thalia, salesman for Montgomery Ward Co.

★ ★ ★

George L. Schutte, 708 Sandstone, project engineer, Oakland County Department of Public Works.

Thelma G. Spencer, 161 Perrydale, Avon Township clerk.

Marian Tymkow, 47955 Dequindre, housewife.

More Than $900,000

Farmington School Deficit Up

FARMINGTON — The school district's deficit for the current school year has escalated from an anticipated $200,000 to more than $900,000.

★ ★ ★

The deficit has grown since the original budget was adopted last June. The school board recently approved a revised 1967-68 budget.

This increase is due mostly to salary increases won in personnel contract negotiations and to some operation changes, reported Schools Supt. Roderick Smith.

The original budget listed a $200,000 deficit. The total deficit now of $912,541 will be covered by a reserve of $1.2 million, informed Schools Supt. Roderick Smith.

Revised expenditures are anticipated to be $9,351,525, an increase of $919,158.

However, the deficit is less than the increase because of higher-than-expected tax and state aid income. Taxes brought in about $100,000 more and State Aid about $122,000 more, said Smith.

The board of education also approved the use of eight elementary schools for a Saturday recreation program put on by the Farmington Area Recreation Commission.

The program, to be on six Saturdays starting Jan. 20, will be at Cloverdale, Eagle, Kenbrook, William Grace, Bond, Beechview, Gill and Shiawassee.

Their Assailant May Wind Up in the Pokey

GARDNER, Colo. (AP) — A man pulled a knife and told Mrs. Leda Dietz and her ranch foreman: "I am going to kill you two."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dietz and the foreman, Bill Niehof, 67, wound up in the hospital for treatment of cuts.

The assailant wound up running from the ranch house after the 81-year-old Mrs. Dietz pounded him on the head with a steel poker.

★ ★ ★

Police, who said they could find no reason for the attack, held Julian Cerda, 54, gardner, on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Avon Contract Branch Post Office in Works

Bids will be received until Jan. 21 for the Brooklands Contract Branch Post Office to be located on East Auburn between John R and Dequindre in Avon Township.

Service is to be provided six days a week, Monday through Saturday, between the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Also necessary is a $3,000 bond.

Rochester Postmaster Cole L. Neumann will answer any questions of those who wish to bid for the contract branch.

Walled Lake Annexation Is 'Prize' in Tuesday's Vote

By BETTY ANN SCHULTZ

No one fights for something he doesn't want. Thus it is obvious someone wants what is on the ballot next Tuesday.

Judging from the looks cast between officials of the city of Walled Lake, Wolverine Lake Village and Commerce Township, the prize is indeed valuable.

A "yes" vote Tuesday means annexation to Walled Lake of about 10 square miles of the township and about three-quarters of a square mile of the already small village.

The campaigners have obsecured most of the issues.

Some residents have distilled the issues to the differences between urban and rural living.

Other voters eye projected tax rates versus future services.

Still other electors view Tuesday as a choice of who will govern whom.

One of the most bandied-about issues is sanitary sewers. While none of the three areas has them, Walled Lake has projected plans of installing them for itself and is promising them to parts of the village and township.

A recent change in the sewer system plans away from a local treatment plant to joining the Wayne County interceptor has clouded this issue.

Officials of each area have batted around the pleasure — or the pain — of the costs of the system as originally planned. The director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works. R. J. Alexander, currently reports that costs and the financing methods of the changed system are not yet definite, as the contracts already signed must be amended.

However, Walled Lake City Manager Royce Downey claims that cost already quoted won't change considerably.

He and City Mayor Wendel G. Kellogg Jr. state that the some $4.4-million system will cost $8 per month, for one family, $50 a month for a commercial establishment, and $100 a month for an industry.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, Commerce Township Assessor Wynn Berry has countered that it's illegal to charge users different fees and further that the system will cost more than stated. Downey replies that he has checked the law and found it possible to charge different fees because of the varied volume of service offered.

★ ★ ★

The opponets of annexation have also claimed that Walled Lake's sewer system couldn't service any more people than the city now has. The new plans, say city officials indicate the system can serve 50,000 people — more than the population of the city and Novi Village, the city's partner in the sewer system.

There is less argument over extending the city's water system to serve the new areas. Four city wells are already drilled, and the ordinance regulating financing is ready for adoption.

The cost of the $1.8-million system will be carried by a charge of $2.50 per month for 2,800 gallons for a single family dwelling, quoted Downey.

Commercial establishments will be paying $25 a month for 10,000 gallons of water, and industries will pay $100 per month for 25,000 gallons of water, the city manager reported.

Township and village officials and others opposing annexation strongly claim that Walled Lake desperately needs outside areas to help pay for the water and sewer systems.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Kellogg contends that the city will construct the systems, annexation or not. He also points out, though, that the city's assessed valuation will increase from $10 million to about $43 million with the annexation.

The areas in the township which may be annexed include the industrial corridor on Maple and Haggerty to the east of the city. The village parcels offer mostly residences.

★ ★ ★

Taxes are another isue.

Kellogg and Downey predict the proposed new area's tax rate at 7.5 mills the first year and 6.5 mills the second year.

These figures have been blasted as unrealistic. Kellogg's response is that they are possible from his study of annexations.

Present tax rates are 10.5 mills for Walled Lake residents, 11.88 mills for Wolverine Lake residents, and 3.38 mills for township residents.

Despite the outcome Tuesday, further attempts to change the boundaries of the areas are expected. On file with the county clerk are petitions for the incorporation of the village and parts of Commerce Township.

Also on file are petitions for the annexation of the rest of the village. This area, which includes the village hall, was omitted from this election because of a question of its contiguity to Walled Lake.

Commerce Township Supervisor Robert H. Long has said that incorporation of the entire township area is the best route.

★ ★ ★

For annexation to pass, a simple majority is required in the three portions of the township together and the two portions of the village separately, plus a simple majority of the city on each of the three questions.

City's '67 Fire Damage Toll Estimate 3 Times That of '66

Pontiac firemen responded to nearly 350 fewer alarms last year than in 1966, but the 1967 damage estimate total was more than triple that of the previous year.

Three major fires — two attributed to arsonists — accounted for $1 million of the $1,436,408 estimate for last year.

These were:

- A $550,000 blaze Oct. 1 at the Ellis Trucking Co., 120 Franklin Road, blamed on arsonists who looted the building.

★ ★ ★

- A fire set by arsonists-looters at the Versa Tube Corp., Bagley and Wessen, during Pontiac's civil disturbance July 25, which caused some $200,000 damage.
- A fire Dec. 18 which destroyed the Becker-Palmer Cigar Wholesalers, Inc., 474 S. Saginaw.

The total 1966 estimate was $431,997.

There were 2,117 alarms of all kinds responded to last year, as opposed to 2,462 in 1966. Of these, 831 were for fires in 1967 and 861 in 1966.

The most notable reduction in fire department action last year was in number of rescue runs, down 715 from the previous year.

This was mostly due to the department's policy, effective just past mid-1967, of using the vehicle originally sent on rescue runs as a squad truck.

★ ★ ★

Fire Chief Charles Marion called the move "getting away from being an ambulance service."

False alarms were down by more than 100 — a figure attributed by Marion to the new policy of responding to alarms from streetside callboxes only when the person giving the alarm speaks to the fire dispatcher over the box phone.

★ ★ ★

Fire fatalities in the city increased from eight in 1966 to 10 last year.

Romney Outlines Sound Program

In his sixth annual State of the State address delivered yesterday before the Michigan Legislature and high government officials, Gov. GEORGE ROMNEY unwrapped his 1968 package of legislative proposals.

ROMNEY

Although it hardly fell in the "surprise package" category, the 2,500-word exposition was a well-organized, to-the-point resume of the State's social, economic, health and educational areas and the need, in many cases, for remedial legislation.

Many of the proposals were holdovers from the 1967 session of the legislative body, while others were of initiatory character.

★ ★ ★

High on Romney's priority list were passage of an Open Housing bill, defeated last month 55-47, and related antiriot legislation to protect the State against "the possibility of civil guerrilla warfare on a scale that makes Vietnam look like child's play."

Another anticrime measure urged by the governor would provide more effective control of guns, court-authorized electronic surveillance of suspects in certain cases, and subpoena and immunity-granting powers for prosecutors and the attorney general.

Romney called for increased State funds to support local needs and authorization for cities to levy certain types of excise taxes. He would also up the State's school aid formula and boost by $5 million its support of educational programs for disadvantaged children.

★ ★ ★

Along with lower court reform, consideration of which was deferred by the Legislature's adjournment last month, the governor stressed the need for tougher civil employe relations laws "firming up the ban on strikes, increasing the power of courts and establishing machinery for disputes involving teachers and other public jobholders."

Gov. ROMNEY was firm in his demand for a balanced budget for the next fiscal year and asserted that it could be achieved without additional State taxes.

★ ★ ★

Although the State's chief executive was on the point of departure for New Hampshire to campaign for the Republican nomination for the presidency in that state's March primary election, he gave assurance that, teamed with Lt. Gov. WILLIAM MILLIKEN, his legislative program would not suffer because of his absence.

The Press commends the soundness of Gov. Romney's State of the State program and sees it as a realistic guide for progressive government.

Cigarette Smokers Ignore Health Warnings

The fourth anniversary of the report ("Smoking and Health") of an advisory committee to the U.S. Surgeon General finds the smoking controversy still raging. Although the committee warned that "Cigarette smoking is a health hazard of sufficient importance in the United States to warrant appropriate remedial action," cigarette sales took only a momentary dip before resuming their steady upward climb.

In 1967, according to the Department of Agriculture, Americans smoked around 551 billion cigarettes —about 215 packs (of 20 cigarettes each) for every person 18 years of age or older.

★ ★ ★

A 1967 Public Health Service report, "The Health Consequences of Smoking," affirmed and extended the findings of the 1964 report. Both documents declared that cigarette smoking contributed substantially to mortality from certain specific diseases, including lung cancer, respiratory troubles and heart ailments. Surgeon General William H. Stewart said last October that the connection between smoking and health was no longer debatable: "The debate now is what we do about it."

Little, in fact, has been done. The warning that has appeared on cigarette packages since Jan. 1, 1966—"Caution: Cigarette Smoking May Be Dangerous to Your Health"—has had scant effect as a deterrent.

★ ★ ★

Several bills aimed at regulating cigarette advertising were introduced in the last session of Congress, but none became law. Renewed efforts at regulation may be expected this year. Meanwhile the tobacco industry holds to the position, expressed last June by JOHN D. PALMER, president of Tobacco Associates, that "so far, not one human being . . . can be proved to have died from cigarette smoking."

'Sixies' Caused Post Office Woes

By DICK SAUNDERS

There were few, if any, more confused places on this earth last weekend than the good old neighborhood post office.

SAUNDERS

All the trouble centered largely around some new postal rates and some old stamps that didn't get here on time.

Yes, I said OLD stamps.

There seems to be a misconception about this point in some circles.

People keep referring to the "new" six-cent stamp as if it were something Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien was handing out "It's A Boy" cigars over.

★ ★ ★

"It" is a boy. The lad is Franklin D. Roosevelt, whose chinny-chin-chin is depicted on the six-center.

The trouble is that it's not new. The stamp was issued in sheet form in January 1966.

A word of explanation may be in order here. Stamps are issued in sheets, or coils, or booklets, or combinations of these.

★ ★ ★

Coils and booklets are generally reserved for denominations which will be in high demand.

Thus, the Roosevelt six-center which has been in supply in sheets for two years, was more-or-less reissued in coils and booklets Dec. 28 after Congress okayed the postal rate hikes.

Why there were so few post offices with any sheets on hand is hard to say. Maybe the Post Office Department just didn't think Congress was capable of approving its request for more revenue.

Maybe it was the same reason that one of my Christmas cards, mailed before Christmas, was delivered to a local address last weekend with two cancellation marks on it — one for 1967 and one for 1968.

Maybe it was just as one postal employe told me: "We got caught with our stamps down."

There were a few (very few) post offices around that had the necessary six cent stamps.

★ ★ ★

For some unknown reason, Waterford Township had a corner on the stamp market. Both the Waterford and Drayton Plains post offices were loaded for bear.

The latter reports having sold more than 75,000 of the six-centers since the first of the year, and still has them in supply.

Birmingham had plenty of six-centers and is the only post office around that had a similar supply of the new 10-cent airmail stamps. Bloomfield Hills, Franklin and Walled Lake also were among the winners.

★ ★ ★

The losers included Pontiac, Auburn Heights, Clarkston, Lake Orion, Leonard, Oxford, Keego Harbor, Orchard Lake, Union Lake and Wixom post offices. Rochester had a few but ran out fast.

Many are now getting their supply of sixies, so this weekend should be a bit easier for postal employes.

Really, I can't be too harsh on our good old neighborhood post office.

★ ★ ★

You see, Friday night we paid the bills.

And Saturday morning, we dropped all nine envelopes in the mail slot—without stamps.

For awhile we thought we really had problems. But a quick return trip to the post office that fateful day (attempting to retrieve our unstamped mail) convinced us that we were really pretty lucky after all.

We could have been born postmasters.

Oh, For An Encouraging Word!

David Lawrence Says:

Selective Import Quotas Needed

WASHINGTON — Now that President Johnson has placed restrictions on travel outside the Western Hemisphere, the question has arisen as to why the administration has not put forth any plan to reduce the outflow of American dollars which pay for products imported from other lands.

LAWRENCE

The deficit in the "balance of payments" which is threatening the stability of America's monetary unit amounted to about $3.5 billion in 1967. Yet the total amount of imports of certain products are expected to exceed the exports by $3.9 billion.

In other words, if the United States could wipe out the imbalance between imports and exports in only seven categories of trade, there would be no deficit in the "balance of payments."

The United States traditionally has had a surplus in trade on an over-all basis, amounting in recent years to $5 billion annually, but there are conspicuous deficits in important products.

Thus, in 1967, new automobiles imported from abroad are valued at more than $1.5 billion, but only about $600 million worth of cars were exported, leaving a deficit of more than $950 million.

The same thing is true of iron and steel, which, it is calculated, the United States in 1967 imported in the amount of $1.4 billion. Exports are put at $417 million, leaving a deficit of $983 million.

A big deficit was also noted in textiles and clothing. There were last year nearly $1.5 billion of imports and only $686 million of exports, or a deficit of $768 million.

When the excess of imports over exports is added together in footwear, alcoholic beverages, meat products, toys and sports goods, another $1.3 billion deficit emerges.

It is recognized, of course, that if the United States put restrictions on foreign trade in those products which show a deficit on the export side, there might be retaliation from other countries in various commodities which America sells overseas.

★ ★ ★

So the real problem is how to reduce the deficits in certain categories while not injuring overseas trade in others.

One plan that has been given much attention by leaders in different industries would call for a quota arrangement whereby the average amount imported to this country over the last three years would be taken as a yardstick, and no imports above that amount would be admitted.

Foreign governments would be asked to hold their exports to the United States at the quota level.

This proposal would not immediately wipe out the balance-of-payments deficit, but might reduce it substantially because there is every expectation that, unless pressure is applied, imports will continue to rise.

Spokesmen for American industries are saying frankly that, while they may be able to cope with the existing quantity of imports, they do not want the situation to become worse year by year.

Red Documentary Leaves Khrushchev Out of Cast

NEW YORK — Nikita Khrushchev wound up on the cutting room floor.

The Soviet film documentary heralding the country's first 50 years under communism gives him the back of its neck. The documentary takes fleeting note that there was indeed a meeting of the top comrades in 1956, but it sloughs off Khrushchev's historic damnation of Joseph Stalin as one of the most sadistic mass murderers in history.

CONSIDINE

The documentary, now being shown in Soviet theaters and on TV, confines comment to a statement that the 1956 meeting dealt with "violation of Soviet Legality."

That's like calling the Civil War a family spat.

★ ★ ★

There has never been and never will be a full accounting of that "violation of Soviet legality." Millions died either on Stalin's direct orders or by his consent.

HAIR-RAISING PICTURE

The Encyclopedia Britannica, whose reference to those savage years is couched in less impassioned prose than Khrushchev's, still paints a hair-raising picture:

"In the 1930s alone about 25 million peasants were forcibly shifted from rural areas to the industrial centers and transformed into factory workers by means of intensive training and with the help of an extremely harsh industrial discipline.

"Throughout the Stalin era the U.S.S.R.'s urban population grew by about 45 million. In order to free labor for industry and to secure food for the swelling urban population, Stalin collectivized farming.

★ ★ ★

"In 1929 there were about 25 million primitive rural small holdings in the U.S.S.R. In 1952 there were 100,000 collective farms.

BITTER RESISTANCE

"The peasantry at first bitterly resisted collectivization. Stalin broke its resistance and ordered the deportation of many Kulaks into the notorious labor camps . . . at the height of the industrial drive, Stalin staged the great purge trials in which most of the old Bolsheviks and some military leaders were charged with treason, terrorism and espionage, and brought to 'confess' guilt."

Khrushchev was no angel himself. In fact, he was Stalin's hatchet man in the Ukraine and later in the back-breaking construction of Moscow's ornate subway.

But when he became boss he spared the lives of such conspirators against him as Molotov, Malenkov, Bulganin, Shepilov and his old mentor Kaganovich, thus establishing a precedent which in time preserved his own neck.

★ ★ ★

But he is an "un-person" today. And the cadaver he cursed and booted out of the mausoleum in Red Square seems to be headed back to its place beside the chalky remains of Lenin.

Voice of the People:

'Does Bob Kennedy Pay for His TV Appearances?'

I often wonder how much the "Kennedy Dynasty" pays the National Broadcasting Company for his too frequent appearances on television.

I don't have the time or the desire to watch TV very often but last week we were "treated" to two Bobby Kennedy appearances. One was with the Arizona Indians solving their problems and more recently his double talk about the Vietnam war. If he had the ability and the TV presence of his brother, the late President, it would be good watching. But his monologue and inability to say anything worthwhile have convinced me that the family is spending a chunk of its huge fortune to keep him in the public eye.

★ ★ ★

We have 100 men in our Senate in Washington. Presumably they are all men with outstanding ability and mentality. It is beyond me as to why or how this one egomaniac gets all the TV time unless he buys his way.

Waterford Taxpayer Discusses School Tax

I've lived in Waterford Township over 20 years and was a student in the small building at the side of the Township High School. I can't see where we have made as much progress in this Township as they would like us to believe. When I was a student we were lectured for days on why our parents should vote for a new high school. Now my kids are being given the same messages and I think fourth graders are a little young for this kind of money problems. I voted against the millage proposal because I feel money is not being spent wisely. When I overspend my budget I forget the extras until I get caught up.

Letter Gives Reader's Viewpoints on Peace

I believe there is one man capable of handling the legal part of anything as far as the peace table is concerned—none other than the Associate Judge of the United States Supreme Court, the Honorable Judge William O. Douglas. The Judge was one of the few westerners to visit Mongolia before 1962. The heartland of Asia lies between the USSR and China. The one living man who, in my mind, completely understands the real Asiatic mind is the Honorable Judge William O. Douglas.

Let us once and for all make it clear to people that we are willing in war but far more peaceful toward peace. Agree to cease bombing with the understanding that any real wrong move from the north calls for immediate action by allied forces. The United Nations in New York is one word — "useless."

Question and Answer

About two months ago someone asked about a light at Square Lake and Franklin, and when you checked, you were told one was to be installed. I wonder if you were told the truth, because if a work order had been put in that long ago, it would have been installed by now. This is a dangerous area. Just when will one be installed?

L. S.

REPLY

Delays in government projects can seem interminable sometimes, but we were told the truth. Mr. Harp of Oakland County Road Commission says they're just waiting for authorization from the State to install it, and while we can't give you a specific date, it could come at any time.

Surprise . . .

(Washington Post)

Just as we had reached the point of despair about the possibility of any congressional reforms emerging from the recent session, the two houses voted to forbid future nepotism! It is probably the biggest surprise of the session. Many citizens who read the story are still skeptical.

Yet it is a fact that both houses accepted an amendment to the federal pay bill providing that no "public official" may "appoint, promote, or advocate the appointment" of any relative to a civilian position in any agency in which he (the official) is serving.

★ ★ ★

Apparently the ban will run against the naming of any relative of a congressman to a position in his office. Some lawyers believe that it will also bar a congressman from recommending his wife, son, or daughter to an executive agency.

If that is the case, Congress really must have been asleep when the amendment slipped thru. Heretofore the right to hire any member of a congressman's family had been protected as if it were among the constitutional verities.

★ ★ ★

Since the restriction does not apply to any of the 50 congressional relatives now on the House and Senate payrolls, the pinch will not be felt immediately. But special precautions will be in order after the 1968 election to prevent Congress from tossing out the reform as quietly as it was slipped in. Perhaps we need a citizens commission to watchdog the nepotism law.

Meanwhile some public-spirited group ought to be investigating how this miracle really occurred. Could not the same technique be used to get the congressional reform bill (now buried in the rules committee) enacted? And what about the codes of ethics that the two houses have been shunting aside for lo, these many years?

★ ★ ★

If nepotism is really done in, people will also be talking about applying the ax to the seniority system, the rules committee roadblock, the filibuster, and the little committee dictatorships.

★ ★ ★

But let's not reach for the millennium until at least two close relatives have left the congressional payroll without simply moving across the hall in a swapping operation.

County Checks Bridges' Safety

While no tragedy could occur in Oakland County equalling the proportion of the bridge collapse last month in Point Pleasant, W. Va., year round precatuions are taken to prevent mishaps of any kind on area bridges.

Some 200 bridges, most of them serving local roads, are inspected annually by the Oakland County Road Commission to insure safety of motorists.

Most of the larger spans are inspected by the Michigan Highway Department since they are on state routes.

Oscar Loomis, in charge of maintenance operations for the road commission, said most bridges inspected by the department range from 20 to 40 feet in length.

★ ★ ★

"If there is something we feel can't be repaired and made safe, the bridge is closed," said Loomis.

Presently, there is only one bridge in Oakland County not in use because of its poor condition, according to Loomis. It is located in Lyon Township on Johns Road just south of 12 Mile.

"Most of the bridges that give us trouble are those with wood decks built around the turn of the century," said Loomis.

"There are some that will take only a small load, and in these cases we install signs telling the allowable weight," Loomis added.

★ ★ ★

A number of the bridges were so small that they have be replaced by culverts, thereby reducing maintenance and possible danger, he said.

Junior Editors Quiz on VACUUM CLEANERS

QUESTION: How does a vacuum cleaner make a vacuum?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The Latin word vacuus means empty. From this we have our word vacuum, which is a space without matter in it.

It's difficult or impossible to create a perfect vacuum, but most of the air may be removed from a closed space by sucking it out with a pump or by other means. When this is done, the pressure of the outside air makes air or fluid rush in to take the place of that which has been sucked out.

There is a little electric motor inside a vacuum cleaner (1) which operates a fan. This sucks the air up through the body of the cleaner. New air rushes in to fill the partial vacuum created.

There is a bag (2) inside the cleaner, made of cloth or paper. The air can pass through the sides of the bag, but the bag traps the dirt or dust, which cannot pass through the paper or cloth.

The suction effect of the cleaner works all the way down through the hose and pipe to the attachment at the end (3). Air, carrying dirt and dust, is sucked up and passes into the bag inside the cleaner. The dust is trapped in the bag, while the air passes through the sides of the bag and goes out the cleaner's other end.

'Nation Failing Abused Child'

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The American Humane Association said today this country is failing in its obligations to mistreated and neglected children.

In a report based on a two-year survey, the association charged that not a single state has a child protective program "adequate in size to meet the service needs of all reported cases of child neglect, abuse and exploitation."

★ ★ ★

Vincent De Francis, director of the children's division of the association, said in an interview that "We are at least 25 years behind the times in giving the right kind of care and protection for the abused or neglected child."

The AHA has its headquarters in Denver. The report is based on a survey of all 50 states plus Washington, D.C., Guam, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. De Francis directed the survey, financed by the Child Welfare Foundation of the American Legion.

SHARP CRITICISM

The survey aims sharp criticism at "accumulatory report" laws in 28 states. Such laws have the effect, the report said, of requiring "the doctor or whoever else may be reporting to struggle with his conscience or with ethical considerations."

It added the person reporting a case of "child abuse should not be asked to assess the intent of the perpetrator in terms of whether the act was willful or not." Also, he should not be asked "to identify the perpetrator," the report said, even in such terms as parent or caretaker.

The survey, De Francis said, is concerned with "a program which seeks to prevent neglect, abuse and exploitation of children by 'reaching out' with social services to stabilize family life."

It said 50 per cent of the states expressed a need for a change in laws to define more clearly protective services and emotional neglect, and two-thirds said adequate financing is needed. Officials in 92 per cent of the states said they need larger and better qualified staffs for child protection.

A YARDSTICK

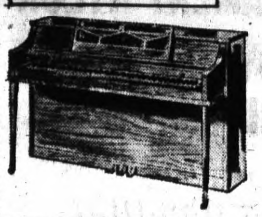

De Francis told a reporter that "there probably are 100 cases of child abuses for every one that gets into the newspapers." He said the association is hopeful the lengthy report "will be a yardstick by which each state can measure what it is accomplishing."

"The fact that the legislatures of all 50 states, in a little more than three years, have enacted laws for greater protection of children is a significant sign of concern, he said. "Some of the legislation, however, has been hastily drawn."

Name for School

JACKSON (AP) — A new Jackson-area Catholic high school scheduled to open next fall will be named the Lumen Christie High School. Officials explained that the name means "Light of Christ." The new facility, expected to handle about 1,100 students, will replace the present St. John's and St. Mary's high schools.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Housing, Law Enforcement: 1-2 Punch

LANSING (AP) — Housing and law enforcement legislation—linked by Gov. George Romney as a necessary combination to prevent civil guerrilla warfare in Michigan—is being presented to lawmakers as a one-two package.

Romney emphasized the connection in his State of the State message Thursday, and Republican House and Senate leaders said lawmakers are beginning to see it too.

★ ★ ★

Romney, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, described elimination of racial discrimination and human injustice by peaceful and orderly changes as "the key issue in the nation's cities today.

"There are citizens organized, trained and armed for violence, riots and civil guerrilla warfare," he said.

LATEST METHODS

"They are using the latest methods and means developed in Cuba, China and Southeast Asia" and are "steadily enlisting and securing more recruits."

"On the other hand," he said, "there are those who are arming at an alarming rate to protect themselves and take the law into their own hands."

★ ★ ★

Passage of a law enforcement program alone would play into the hands of the militant agitators, Romney said.

Housing legislation not only is the focal point of the key issue, it also involves all the wants voiced by racial minorities, Romney said.

'ORDERLY CHANGE'

"If such legislation is passed, it will strengthen those who seek peaceful, orderly changes," Romney said. "If it is not, it will accelerate the recruitment of revolutionary insurrectionists."

Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood of St. Louis and House Speaker Robert Waldron of Grosse Pointe declined to say when action would be taken on the measures.

"But they will all be covered in a period of a week or two or three," Waldron said.

Although the Republican governor's message dealt with issues ranging from lower court reorganization to a higher minimum wage, the emphasis fell on "a balanced program of greater justice and better law enforcement."

STATEWIDE LAW

In the area of housing, he called for a statewide open housing law along with increased tenants rights and landlord responsibilities.

Law enforcement proposals included revision of the so-called "Riot Act" to provide a clear, workable definition of unlawful assembly and to make unlawful the failure to disperse upon command.

Also suggested were prohibitions against willful blocking of streets and highways by demonstrators and possession of incendiary devices and creation of a State Police reserve to serve in emergencies.

Although Romney's message drew some criticism from both parties, most legislative leaders, even minority Democrats, indicated guarded approval.

British Vow to Complete Foreign Pullback by '71

LONDON (AP) — The British government means to stand by its decision to quit Southeast Asia and the Persian Gulf by 1971 despite the protests of Asian members of the commonwealth, high government sources reported today.

The British will try to reassure their partners and allies they intend to remain loyal to all treaty and moral obligations to help them in time of war.

★ ★ ★

"Just as Australians and New Zealanders and others came to our aid during two world wars," one authority said, "we shall go to their help if the need should ever arise."

British defense planners already are devising arrangements to convince their friends of their sincerity. Two ideas being pondered:

—British air, land and sea forces will participate once or twice a year in exercises with their Commonwealth partners and allies in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO).

—A British amphibious task force may be set up to call regularly at friendly countries in the region.

Singapore Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew has been trying to organize a joint descent upon London this weekend by Australian, New Zealand and Malaysian leaders to reinforce his demands for modification of the British decision.

He has threatened that Singapore might pull her estimated 200 million pounds $480 million in sterling deposits out of London and invite the Japanese into his island state to take over Britain's leading commercial role.

NFO's Grain Plan Follows LBJ Practice

WASHINGTON (AP) — In asking its members to withhold grains from the market place to gain higher prices, the National Farmers Organization is following Johnson administration practice.

The Agriculture Department already is holding government-controlled grain stocks off markets in a bid to boost farmers' prices.

★ ★ ★

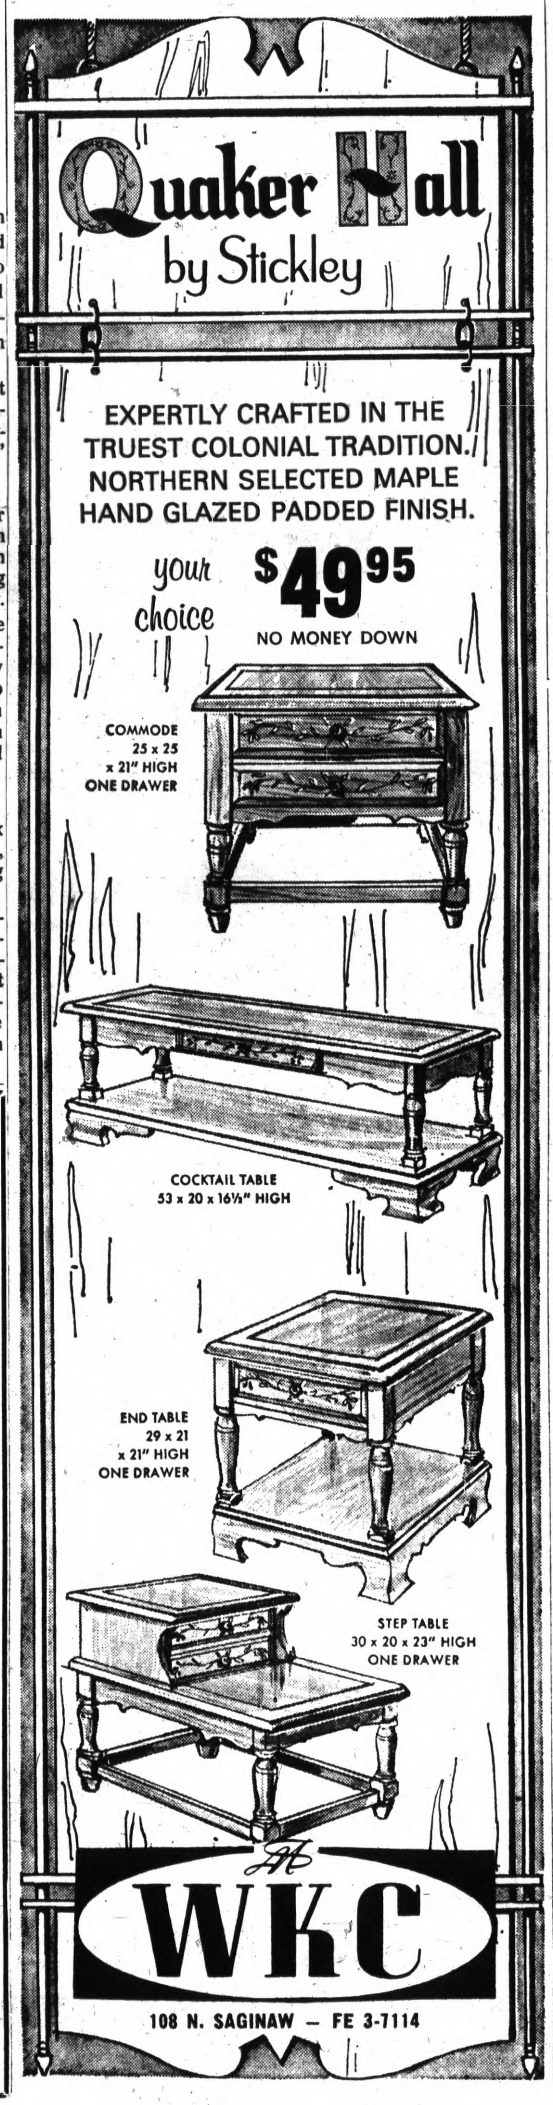

And the NFO action in other ways parallels administration farm marketing and production policies, which call for reducing production when prices are low.

The NFO announced the grain-withholding action Thursday. President Oren Lee Staley said in Corning, Iowa, the "no price, no production" campaign would be followed later with withholding of meat, milk and other commodities.

6 PREVIOUS ACTIONS

The NFO has conducted six withholding actions previously, the latest last March focusing on milk prices.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman declined comment Thursday on the NFO action. But in urging last year that grain be withheld from markets, he appeared in effect to be giving prior approval to such moves.

Humphrey Sees Long-Term Gains From Africa Tour

TUNIS (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey believes his grueling tour of nine African nations will bring the United States substantial long-term benefits in confidence and good will among African nations.

But the most significant result of the high-speed, 26,500-mile safari—which ended Thursday—could be a sharpened awareness in Washington of Africa's towering political, social and economic problems.

★ ★ ★

Some African leaders began to doubt that the United States really cares about their continent after Congress cut foreign aid and private American interests blocked commodity agreements which would have stabilized the market in certain African staple products.

Humphrey, who returned to Washington Thursday, convinced the leaders he met that the Johnson administration is determined to fight for more aid and to press for the rapid conclusion of commodity agreements for cocoa, coffee, rubber and other products.

OTHER CHANNELS

The vice president repeatedly pointed out that the African countries should seek channels of assistance other than direct aid, including the Export-Import Bank, the Food for Peace Act, the African Development Bank and private investors.

He agreed with African leaders who complained that congressional action limiting economic aid in Africa to 10 countries was unjust, unreasonable discrimination.

★ ★ ★

Humphrey's time was limited, so many pro-Western and all politically hostile countries were omitted from the itinerary.

Leftist groups staged demonstrations against the Vietnam war in the Congo, Ethiopia, Tunisia and Kenya, but there was no violence anywhere.

ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME

Somalia, which last year halted a major Communist infiltration effort, gave Humphrey the most enthusiastic welcome. Liberia, founded early in the last century by freed American slaves, showed the greatest indifference.

★ ★ ★

There were cheering crowds in most places, but many in the crowds didn't seem to know whom they were cheering.

Somalia was the scene of one of the tour's mishaps. U.S. security men sent erroneous advance information indicating that two members of the government were planning demonstrations against Humphrey. He almost canceled the visit and finally cut it from a full day to eight hours, leaving the local leaders perplexed and disappointed.

Humphrey signed aid agreements in three countries: a loan of $8.5 million to Somalia for a water supply system, an Export-Import bank loan of 36.5 million for a hydroelectric project in the Ivory Coast and shipments of $12 million worth of tobacco and food to Ghana.

U.S. Spy Plane Crashes

MARYSVILLE, Calif. (UPI)—One of the Air Force's top-secret SR71 reconnaissance planes crashed in flames in marshy northern California farmland yesterday. Its two crew members ejected safely.

Military officials immediately placed an armed security guard around the wreckage. The SR71 supersonic craft is the Air Force's fastest and highest-flying plane and was designed to replace the U2 spy plane.

The two crewmen were assigned to Beale Air Force Base, about five miles south of the crash site. Two other SR71s assigned to Beale have crashed, one last April 13 near Las Vegas, N. M., and the other Oct. 25 near Lovelock, Nev.

The crash occurred as the SR71 was making its final approach for landing at Beale during a training flight.

★ ★ ★

An eyewitness said the plane appeared to stall, turn over on its back and "flutter to the ground like a piece of paper falling."

The SR71, capable of flying three times the speed of sound at 80,000 feet, plunged to earth from about 3,000 feet.

Star-Building School Grooms New Talent

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "They don't teach you to be a starlet. They teach you to be a star, and that's what I want to be."

That is the ambition of Lara Lindsay, and she is being helped toward her goal by the most intensive star-building program ever instituted in Hollywood—the 20th Century-Fox school for new talent.

THOMAS

For 10 years the film industry, out of economic necessity, ignored the grooming of new stars. Studios felt they could no longer employ and train dozens of young hopefuls, a few of whom might turn into stellar attractions. The result: as the established stars died or faded away, there were few new ones to take their places. Box-office stars became fewer in number and higher in cost.

With its return to prosperity, 20th Century-Fox realized the urgent need to replenish the talent pool. The Zanucks, father and son, established a program under the supervision of talent executives Owen McLean and Jack Bauer. Today a score of young hopefuls are enrolled in the compulsory curriculum. Universal also has a talent school, but attendance is voluntary.

ARTIFICIAL NAME

Lara Lindsay is one of the most promising Fox students. The name sounds a bit artificial, and it is. She was born Gladys Jacobs in Chicago, started skating at an early age and ended up in the Icecapades and other shows. She married an interior designer, became the mother of a son, now 4. When the marriage started to break up, she capitalized on her blue-eyed, auburn-haired beauty by doing commercials on television in Tucson, Ariz. Her pay: $15 per commercial.

Then it happened—one of those chance events upon which acting careers are built. The Paramount Western "El Dorado" came to Tucson, and Lara got a job standing in for Charlene Holt. Co-workers encouraged her to come to Hollywood.

★ ★ ★

Lara went through the heartbreaking routine of trying to interest an agent in presenting her to the studios. She finally obtained one, also a new name—Lara from "Dr. Zhivago," Lindsay from a brother—and a rearranged set of teeth.

The agent took her first to 20th Century-Fox, where talent executives were enough impressed to order a personality pressed to order a personality test on film—in which the hopeful answers questions on camera to determine whether the personality comes across. After a couple of readings in dramatic scenes, Lara was signed Dec. 12, 1966, to a term contract starting at $175 a week.

SCHOOLING BEGAN

Her schooling began immediately.

"It's an intensive schedule, from 10 to 5 every day, five days a week," she explained. "And you must attend everything. If you have too many unexcused absences, your salary is reduced.

★ ★ ★

"But it doesn't make sense not to attend. We're getting the best schooling a performer could find in Hollywood, and we're paid for it. I couldn't possibly afford the kind of classes I get at the studio."

Girl's Mother Is Objecting to Request

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am 17 years old and have graduated from high school. My boyfriend, who is 19, is in the Air Force and is now serving in Vietnam. I have talked to his mother very often and have visited her.

Today she asked me to spend a weekend with her since she's alone. I asked my mother and she harshly said, "No, indeed." She told me it would appear that I am "chasing" the mother. I do not feel I'm chasing anyone.

I like his mother very much and I enjoy being with her. If I'm wrong and my mother is right, please let me know. Also, please print this letter for those who may have similar problems.—Carla

★ ★ ★

Dear Carla: Unless your mother expressly forbids it, go and spend the weekend with your boyfriend's mother. Why in the world your mother should object (could she be jealous?) I don't know.

If you and the other lady enjoy each other, and you can help to dispel her loneliness, I am one hundred percent on your side.

GIVES BRIDE AWAY

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please outline the duties of the man who gives the bride away when he is not a member of the family? Does he escort her to the church?

Where does he sit after escorting her down the aisle? What are his duties at the reception in regard to receiving line, toast to the bride and groom? — Susan O'Neil.

Dear Susan: When a family friend agrees to give the bride away, he assumes all the normal duties of a father. He escorts her to the church, and after leaving her at the altar he may join the bride's mother in the first pew.

If he is married, he might sit with his wife in the second pew, or if they are all very close friends, they both could sit in the front pew. The bride's mother, however, answers "I do" to the question, "Who gives this woman?"

★ ★ ★

At the reception he does not join the receiving line, but helps the bride's family by circulating and acting as a host.

No, I'm Not Really Mad, Just a Little Hurt Is All

By JEAN SAILE

Well, I see by the polls that once again I've failed to make the best-dressed list.

I should be getting used to it, I guess. Still, there's that pang that always accompanies failure.

I can't figure out what the powers that be can possibly object to in my wardrobe. There isn't that much there to get too choosy.

But what there is has a certain individualty.

Take for instance my Robin Hood hat with the earflaps which I have produced for the last five winters when the temperature has sunk around the zero mark.

ANOTHER LOOK

That hat has character, so much so, that people have asked me to turn around twice because they couldn't believe what they saw the first time.

Now, that's individuality.

Then there are those dresses with the fashion longer hems which I have quite a quantity of.

I had the same supply when the dress styles were mini, but unfortunately not enough time to do very much about it.

The style-setters might object to my Saturday morning cleaning costume, which often turns out to be a warm corduroy robe over my flannel pajamas.

★ ★ ★

But then on those Saturdays when I've got to get the kids off to catechism and the money to the grocery store, I get quite presentable in a pair of comfortable slacks and one of the kids' old sweatshirts.

The costume has a certain class, particularly in combination with my summer sneakers and a quilted ski coat.

Maybe the pace-setters heard about the time I had to sneak down to the drugstore just before closing one night to get a prescription refilled.

The rain bonnet, which was the only thing I found to disguise my head full of curlers, didn't do much for my overall ensemble and the ensemble wasn't much either, considering I'd crawled out of bed with a 102-degree temperature 10 minutes before.

There's something I'd like to know before I start this year's campaign for best-dressed presentation.

JUST ASKING

What does Mrs. Wyatt Cooper, the former Gloria Vanderbilt, wear when she scrubs out the bathroom? Cleans out the goldfish bowl? Or gets the dust webs off the ceiling?

★ ★ ★

There's another thing I'm upset about too.

I've never made the best-coiffeured list either.

When Pruning, Just Rake Out the Has-Beens

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — I try not to let the big things bug me so that I can devote my ulcer to life's little irritants, but occasionally a major issue gets under my skin.

★ ★ ★

Right now I'm up tight over the news that Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson has been dropped from the list of best-dressed women.

"Why! why! why!" I keep asking myself. And thus far I haven't received a satisfactory answer.

The most obvious assumption is that Mrs. Johnson did not dress as well in 1967, the year that brought her downfall, as she did in 1966, when she was well up in the rankings.

From my personal observation, however, such is not the case.

BEAUTIFUL AT BEAUTIFICATION

I saw the First Lady a few times last year, mostly at shrub-planting ceremonies connected with the beautification program, and each time I thought she looked smashing.

Mrs. Johnson has one of the most stunning shrub-planting wardrobes the world has ever known.

★ ★ ★

Admittedly, however, I have never seen Princess Radziwill or any of the other ladies on the 1967 list plant a shrub. So comparisons are somewhat difficult.

It may be that Mrs. Johnson, feeling complacent, dressed the same as she did in 1966, whereas Princess Radziwill and the others all progressed.

Further complicating the matter is the fact that while Mrs. Johnson was being eclipsed as a best-dressed, her daughter, Lynda Bird, leaped into ninth place.

It was my tentative conclusion that Lynda Bird may have been borrowing her mother's clothes. But when I mentioned this to my wife, she told me I had it all wrong.

DAUGHTERS BIG SPENDERS

My wife said that as a general rule in this day and age a young daughter spends at least 10 times more on clothing than her mother does.

She said that if there were any borrowing in the family, it was more likely that Mrs. Johnson borrowed things from Lynda Bird.

In that event, however, it seems to me that both of them would have been on the best-dressed list.

Designer Eyes 'Movin' Market' With Results

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Up to now the only daddies who could afford to keep the swinging young things in style have been the sugar daddies.

★ ★ ★

One of the paradoxes today is that the only women who can really do justice to the thinny minifashions are the young who tend to be slim of purse, as well as slim figuratively.

And high styles—hemlines and otherwise—tend to be highly expensive.

THE DEFENDER

While not many American designers seem to be defending the woman with wide girth and small purse, Oleg Cassini did frug to the microphone Thursday to defend the beautiful but impoverished young.

His program of low priced high style was a part of the American Designer series, a weeklong preview of spring collections.

The styles were zingy stuff on coltish misses in woolly wigs, or kookie braids, or cork screw curls—and with one girl as falsely bald as Yul Brynner. She wore a nude skull cap. There were tank topped dresses in contrasting colors, and military suits with snap and brass trim.

The nautical bit was heavily played with some navy middy dresses on the short side and some on the long. Groovy.

★ ★ ★

Scotch lasses in plaid midiskirts and red boots and jewel colored natashas wore white down to their booted calves. Groovier yet.

Nothing was as elegant or understated as the gowns made for Mrs. John F. Kennedy when Cassini was her official White House couturier. But nothing carried the Kennedy kind of a price in the new young collection.

Cassini was so happy about the matter that every now and then he raced to the runway to writhe to the rock music with a pretty young model.

Lakeland Players Set 'Odd Couple' Tryouts

The Lakeland Players have scheduled tryouts for their next production "The Odd Couple," for Jan. 24-25 from 7-8:30 p.m. on the auditorium stage at Mason Junior High School.

Neil Simon's play will be performed March 7, 8 and 9. Cast includes roles for six men and two women. The director is Mrs. Howard Heitzeg.

The production crew will be meeting at the same time both evenings and can use any new members interested in the theatre.

Woman Satisfied With Status

Abby Says 'Others Like It Too'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Where does everyone get the silly idea that if a woman isn't married she is a lonely, miserable, sex-starved creature?

I am 57 years old, could easily pass for 45, and I don't know a married woman I'd trade places with. I have four boyfriends going at once, have a good-paying position, a home of my own, trade my car every other year, and I can do what I please with my own money.

ABBY

I don't have to eat my heart out over a cheating husband, and I wouldn't have one around again on a full time basis for anything in the world. I am single by choice after having been married long enough to know what it's like. I like it better this way.

BORN FREE

DEAR BORN: I'll bet your boyfriends like it better, too.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 26 years. During this time my mother has stolen several petty items from my home. They have not amounted to very much — certainly not enough to make a fuss about, but it has been very difficult for me to remain silent when I see them in her home.

The latest item, however, is a dinner ring my husband gave me for my 25th wedding anniversary. If I still had it I would wear it only on special occasions, but my mother never takes it off her finger. Every time I see her wearing my ring it makes me sick and nervous. How can she be so heartless?

My husband says that I am "nuts" — that I should ask my mother for my ring, but I just cannot bring myself to say the words. Can you tell me what to do? I hate scenes and trouble.

HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: My dear lady, your mother cannot possibly be of sound mind to steal a ring from you and wear it constantly in your presence. If you don't get your mother to a doctor and investigate her mental condition, your husband will have just cause to be concerned about your own.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Our son, who is not yet four years old, must wear a patch over one eye in order to make his "lazy" eye work harder, and thus improve his vision.

Abby, would you believe that not one day goes by without the boy being approached by perfect strangers who ask with a horrified gasp, "What happened to your eye, little boy?"

I realize that most people don't mean any harm, they are just curious, but all the same the child is developing a complex over this.

Please, please tell people that it hurts enough to see one's child with an impediment without having others add insult to injury.

AN AVID FAN

DEAR FAN: Thank you for writing. You said it very well. Curious strangers would do well to remember that all obvious scars, blemishes, deformities and disabilities of others should be ignored. And to ask questions pertaining to them is not only unkind, but in the worst possible taste.

Life's Adventure a Form of Art, Says Town Hall Guest Speaker

By JEANNE NELSON

"The adventure of life itself is a form of art," so Thursday's Birmingham Town Hall audience was told by noted art authority, Dr. Richard McLanathan.

In this mood, he further explained that "the arts" are more than paintings, literature and music. They reach out to include all sorts of human activities, including cooking. The basic ingredient for all is a sense of adventure.

★ ★ ★

Introduced by distinguished area sculptor, Marshall Fredericks, Dr. McLanathan focused much of his talk on works and artists during the Puritan period in this country.

He pointed out that through desperation came daring, followed by success. The element of testing became a way of life with the ever-present question, "will it work?"

Thus, through trial and error, American art traditions were born.

★ ★ ★

Some of the first sculptors were tombstone cutters.

A remarkable illustration of this lies in a Connecticut cemetery where the cutter had carved profiles of five children each larger than the other to suggest age. Along the bottom is an example of early abstraction by the use of a handsome symbolic rose bush with five broken branches.

TODAY

Of today's art in America he points up the example of huge magnificent grain elevators replacing the great European cathedrals in the realm of architecture.

Following a celebrity luncheon at Bloomfield Open Hunt, the speaker suggested that perhaps this time is yet another renaissance.

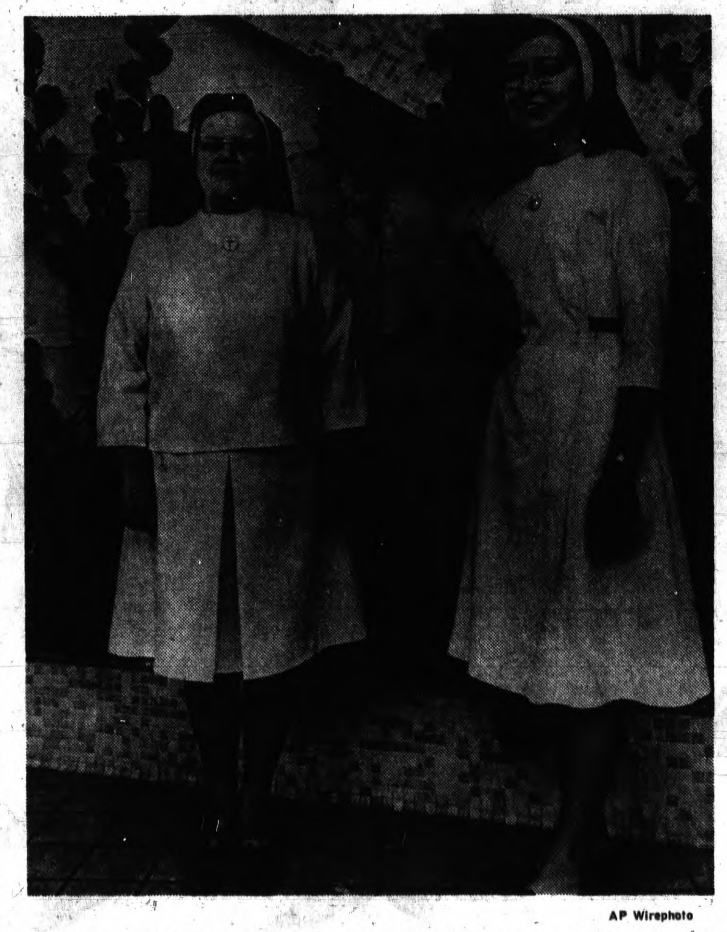

On modern art questions, he explained that art is a point of departure, a voyage into the unknown and the viewer must bring his own experiences into the overall framework to give it meaning.

GRAPHIC ARTS

On the graphic arts he had this to say, "New dimensions and techniques used here put us ahead of the old world."

★ ★ ★

Answering another question on selection, Dr. McLanathan strongly recommended using personal preference and instinct. He reminded his listeners that art for the home is for yourself and laughed at the idea of being influenced by professionals or others.

Sklar Writes of Social Issues

"And People All Around," provocative new civil rights play receiving its American professional premiere next Friday at the Meadow Brook Theatre, represents a new turning in the 36-year writing career of distinguished author George Sklar.

Throughout his career as a leading American playwright, screenwriter and novelist, Mr. Sklar, now 60, has been concerned with contemporary social problems.

His return to the theatre and his turn to the racial trauma afflicting whites and Negroes in America today was occasioned by the murder three years ago of three civil rights workers in Philadelphia, Mississippi.

★ ★ ★

"In 1964, when the three boys were killed in Mississippi and buried under that earthen dam, I knew I had to write about it," Sklar says.

A member of George Pierce Baker's famous 47 Workshop at the Yale School of Drama (Class of '32), Sklar had his first major dramatic production simultaneously at Yale and on Broadway.

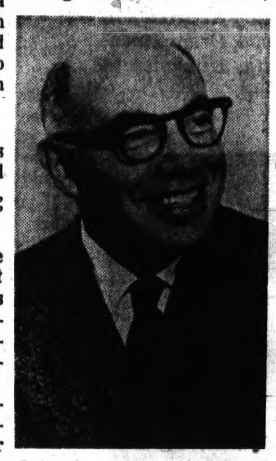

The play was "Merry-Go-Round," an attack on the corruption of the Jimmy Walker regime that opened on April 22, 1932, and was closed immediately by the City of New York for "fire violation."

Mr. Sklar was a contract screenwriter for Columbia and Warner Brothers studios from 1940 to 1945.

He collaborated with Vera Caspary on the dramatic adaptation of Miss Caspary's novel "Laura," produced successfully in London in 1945 and in New York in 1947.

NOVELIST

Mr. Sklar concentrated on writing novels after "Laura," publishing "The Two Worlds of Johnny Truro" in 1947, "The Promising Young Men" in 1951, "The Housewarming" in 1953 and "The Identity of Dr. Frazier" in 1961.

GEORGE SKLAR

"And People All Around" marks his first play since "Laura."

Of his purpose as a writer, Sklar says: "I was born within sound of a munitions plant. During World War I, thousands of workers passed our house.

"At war's end, the plant was deserted, the streets empty. We drilled as boys with the discarded walnut gun stocks. War and depression, boom and bust have dominated this century, brought insecurity to the world.

"The bomb has taken over. Threat and bluster jar the air. Values are awry. There is either glut or starvation — and fear permeates all."

"As a writer, I can only think of presenting the healthy values of peace and of people striving for realization of normal lives."

★ ★ ★

Sklar chose to make his new play available for production through the American Playwrights Theatre (APT) because he said, "Broadway wouldn't leap at so controversial and disturbing a subject."

"And People All Around" ironically received its first professional production in England, at the Bristol Old Vic in October.

Mr. Sklar has worked with co-directors John Broome and George Guidall to make a number of revisions in the script for the Meadow Brook production, and has written a new ending.

Original music and lyrics for the production have been written by Booker T. Bradshaw, Jr.

"And People All Around" opens Jan. 19 and continues through Feb. 18, with performances at 8:15 p.m. on Wednesdays through Saturdays, at 6:30 p.m. on Sundays and at 1:30 each Wednesday.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Doesn't a week go by rapidly? It is a weekend, and almost before we can turn around it is the next weekend. If one week passes with such speed surely the next eight weeks will zip by before we know it, but not before thousands of my readers will have lost from 15 to 20 pounds each.

★ ★ ★

I think that one of the main reasons women often procrastinate about losing weight is because the whole project seems so vague. They do not know exactly how to go about it, and even more important, they do not know just what they can expect to accomplish in any given length of time.

This is why my Eight Week Beauty Improvement Plan (Bip for short) is so popular. You know that by following the directions in this column you can lose from 15 to 20 pounds in that time and improve your appearance generally, 100 per cent.

Here are some rules to follow when planning your reducing menus. Keep the basic food groups in mind. You need some of all of them. To refresh your memory these are: • dairy products, • meat, eggs, cheese, fish, sea food and poultry, • cereals and bread. • fruits and vegetables.

DON'T SKIP MEAL

Do not skip a meal. It has been demonstrated over and over again that this does not lead to success. Eat at least three meals a day.

Some women found that they diet more easily if they divide their allowable daily intake into five meals. Divide your calories in any way which seems best for you.

You may want to save a piece of fruit or a glass of juice or milk to have in between meals rather than at the meal as scheduled.

Eat smaller amounts of everything. Substitute fresh or water-packed fruit for rich desserts. Cut off all visible fat from meat. Use skim milk or powdered, fat-free milk instead of whole milk. Bake, broil or boil, instead of frying. Use low-calorie salad dressings and oils.

Go light on butter or margarine. Use lemon juice on fish and greens. A dash of vinegar is also good on greens. Discover herbs as the great seasoners they are. Use garlic or onion salt, parsley or chives, to pep up green and yellow vegetables and potatoes. East generously of fish, chicken and veal. The latter has much less fat than marbled meats. If meat seems dry without gravy, you can substitute herb-seasoned consomme!

★ ★ ★

If you drink lots of tea or coffee each day use one of the artificial sweeteners. If you have only a couple of cups you can use sugar, two level teaspoons to a cup. This gives you about 30 calories.

SWEET TOOTH

To pamper your sweet tooth you can have two small pieces of hard candy after dinner. Some of these have as few as 14 calories each.

It is not too late to start on my Eight Week Beauty Improvement Plan. If you have missed some of this series you may want my "Bip Kit." You might like to have it anyway for future reference. It has a booklet with directions, a calorie chart, a weight and height chart, menus with calories counted for 15 days, effective corrective exercises, and a unique wall chart on which you can plot your weight daily and watch your beauty line rise as your weight line drops.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have this kit send 25 cents, plus 15 cents for postage and handling, and your name printed and address. Address to Josephine Lowman in care The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Americans drink an estimated 440 million cups of coffee per day, reports the Pan-American Coffee Bureau.

Bride Selects Taffeta Dress for Ceremony

Wearing a traditionally styled bridal gown, Patricia A. Greer spoke vows recently in First Open Bible Church with Jon A. Knibbs.

★ ★ ★

The ensemble, which featured a fitted bodice, sculptured neckline and bouffant skirt, was fashioned from tiered Chantilly lace and taffeta.

A crown of seed pearls and matching lace capped the bride's silk illusion veil.

Mary Abernathy was maid of honor for the candlelight ceremony with bridesmaids Linda Lagault, Linda Greer and Sharon Hanson.

★ ★ ★

Assisting on the bridegroom's side were best man Larry Cole, with Michael and Thomas Knibbs and David Greer ushering.

Before departing for a northern Michigan honeymoon, the newlyweds recieved guests at a reception in the CAI Building.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the bridal couple are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Greer of DuBay Street and Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Knibbs of Jamm Street in Orion Township.

Patients Get 'Lift' From Job's Daughters

By YOLANDA BENAVIDES

Patients are perking up at the the Oakland County Sanatorium these days, thanks to the nimble fingers and thoughtful hearts of a dozen Job's Daughters.

The girls, all students from the area either at the high school or junior high level, have divided themselves into two groups and coordinate weekly visits there.

Under the supervision of their guardian, Mrs. Elizabeth Clay, they style and set hair, give manicures, shave the male patients and assist in the physical therapy department.

SINCE FALL

The girls, who are from Bethel 40, have been making regular visits to the sanatarium since September.

"They noticed a writeup in The Press from the Oakland County Volunteer Bureau asking for teen volunteers," said Mrs. Clay, "and they decided to find out what they could do to help."

"They were all very energetic about it and they've been doing a marvelous job."

Karen Berglund, past honor queen of the group, has put in the most time with an impressive record of over 40 hours.

★ ★ ★

Working from 9:30 a.m. until noon, the girl's average about 18 to 20 patients each time. The majority of patients are wheeled up to the salon on the second floor for their beauty treatment. The girl's visit those confined to their beds for a weekly manicure.

★ ★ ★

Efficiency is one of the key words as the team is divided up into beauticians, those working in the wards, and still others transporting the patients back and forth.

★ ★ ★

The enthusiasm of these girls can perhaps best be seen by their influence on the younger group. Although the latter are too young to work in the wards, they volunteer their free time making terry cloth slippers for patients. They've even planned a special program of entertainment in the near future.

Grandma Wins T-Shirt for Track

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Frida Sigle, 62 and grandmother of six, proudly wears her YMCA T-shirt. She is the first woman at the Irving Park Y to be awarded one for completing 100 miles on the track.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Sigle goes to the Y twice a week, exercises for 20 minutes, runs two miles, swims for about an hour, then takes a sauna bath.

★ ★ ★

After that, she goes home, finishes her housework and prepares dinner for her husband.

Teacher Shortage

There was a shortage of 169,000 teachers in the nation's grade schools and high schools in 1966, according to a survey conducted by the National Education Association.

Pontiac Press Photos

Nanci Clay and Onita Little apply their own styling techniques to create the latest 'do's' once a week at the Oakland County Sanatarium. Nanci is the daughter of the Frank Clays of Claudia Drive. Onita, honored queen of Bethel 40, is the daughter of John Littles of Lakeside Street.

The distance doesn't seem as great for this patient with a little assistance from two helpful Job's Daughters, Paula Rampart and Janet Lamberson. Their parents are the Mitchell Ramparts of McCormick Street and the Roland Lambersons of Second Avenue.

Politicians' Double-Talk Too-Too Much

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Since this is an election year, now is a good time to run through a little drill in double-talk.

Double-talk, of course is the art of saying one thing while meaning something else. It is a saving grace in any social situation, and valuable in all seasons, but in an election year it is positively indispensable.

★ ★ ★

Without double-talk, politics would be unthinkable and probably unendurable. For if politicians actually meant what they said and said what they meant, the republic would have perished from their tomfoolery long ago.

BOYLE

For the beginning student, here is a small primer of political double-talk phrases that will become only too familiar during the months of campaigning that lie ahead. Each phrase is followed by its literal translation.

"My gifted opponent"—The bum I'm running against.

"Naturally, every man is entitled to his own honest opinion."—So why should I listen to yours?

"I find the tremendous response to the announcement of my candidacy profoundly gratifying."—Mother phoned and said she'd vote for me, no matter whether anybody else did.

"Jim, to win public support you have to go out and meet the people, shake hands, ring doorbells."—We don't have enough dough in the campaign kitty to buy you television time.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"And now, friends, I'd like to have you meet the brave little woman who has stood faithfully by my side through 30 years of life's storm and sunshine."—Yes, my wife sure picked a steady meal ticket when she married me.

"Everyone knows I have taken an unqualified position about the situation in Vietnam."—I think we should either stay there or get out, one or the other.

"I take my stand with George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson."—I also hope the leader of the 3rd Ward will back me up.

"My life is an open book."—Did you ever see so many empty pages?

ENJOY LOOT LATER

"And if victory should perch upon our banner, you have my assurance that I will enter upon the duties of this high office with no prior pledges, promises, or commitments of any kind to anyone."—Let's win it first, boys. We can always cut up the loot later.

"The federal highway program has no firmer friend than I."—If it would get me any more votes, I'd agree to pave the countryside.

"Turn the rascals out."—Put in our rascals.

U.S. Probe of Hanoi Bid Unproductive So Far

By JOHN HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

News Analysis

WASHINGTON — The annnounced U.S. search for clarification of Hanoi's peace-talk terms hasn't produced any assurances so far that would lead the United States to call off the bombing of North Vietnam, informed officials say.

Indications are, however, that American policy makers are looking for more than clarification of the apparent shifting of North Vietnam's position.

★ ★ ★

They are reportedly seeking firm indications that cessation of U.S. bombing attacks would produce not only prompt talks but also a halt in the flow of North Vietnamese troop reinforcements to South Vietnam.

Exact U.S. aims have not been spelled out officially, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk made clear at a Jan. 4 news conference he had no intention of giving a detailed accounting of the U.S. price for stopping the bombing.

'NO COMMENT'

The State Department has responded with an almost daily "no comment" since the Rusk news conference to inquiries about what results were being obtained through diplomatic probes, which the State Department originally said were designed to produce "clarification" of North Vietnam's intentions.

The U.S. probes began after Hanoi broadcast a statement by Foreign Minister Nguyen Duy Trinh. He noted the U.S. government had repeatedly said it wanted to talk to Hanoi but had received no response.

★ ★ ★

"After the United States has ended unconditionally the bombing and all other acts of war, (North Vietnam) will hold talks with the United States on questions concerned," Trinh said.

The Johnson administration was uncertain whether Trinh's statement was a legitimate attempt to spur peace talks or whether it was designed to generate a U.S. bombing halt without reciprocal action.

PSYCHOLOGICAL WARFARE?

The trend in Washington now is to regard it more as psychological warfare than as a peace move.

The U.S. position as stated by President Johnson in a San Antonio, Tex., speech was that the United States would "stop all aerial and naval bombardment of North Vietnam when this will lead promptly to productive discussions." And he added America assumed North Vietnam would not take advantage of such a bombing cessation.

U.S. officials said diplomatic soundings so far have failed to bring these two positions closer together. From the U.S. point of view North Vietnam has not met the requirement that a bombing halt would "lead promptly to productive discussions—although Washington officials haven't explained how they could know in advance whether the discussions would be productive.

Such problems were reportedly discussed by Rusk and Britain Foreign Secretary George Brown in a Washington meeting Thursday.

Romney Staff Burns Books by H. L. Hunt

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney's office yesterday sent out to be burned 400 books that were given to Romney by multi-millionaire H. L. Hunt of Dallas, Tex.

Hunt, who supports the ultra-conservative "Lifeline" program, sent the books to the Republican governor with a letter suggesting that they be distributed to prison inmates, a Romney aide said.

The books, all written by Hunt are entitled "H.L.H. Columns," "Weekly Strength," "Right of Average" and "Alpoca Revisited."

"Alcopa Revisited" is a novel. The others are collections of newspaper columns written by Hunt.

★ ★ ★

The aide said he doubted if Romney even knew that the books were sent. Romney is in New Hampshire, launching his first primary campaign for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination.

RETAIL VALUE

The books, with a published retail value of $325, were shipped in four crates with the freight prepaid by Hunt, the aide said.

He said the books were given to the building janitors who sent them out to be burned.

Party-Proofing Fashion Additive

Florence Eiseman's collection of children's spring and summer fashions for '68 comes with a new twist — a party-proofing technique.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Eiseman suggests the use of a new spray starch with the oil-and-stain repellent that puts an invisible protective finish on fabrics to make them safe from accidental party-time spills.

Moods, Modes Cloud Climate of Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — Someone could write a book on "How to Go Broke Through No Fault of Your Own" from material in the Commerce Department's annual survey, "U.S. Industrial Outlook 1968."

You get hints, for instance, on how the hippie hair styles hit the barber and beauty shop business. Or what a chilly summer did to the soft-drink bottlers. And how a declining national birth rate hurt the baby-food canners.

★ ★ ★

The 86-industry survey shows an over-all 1968 outlook that's rosy, but it leaves the impression that business forecasting nowadays requires study of the weather maps, the census reports, and the changing moods and modes of America.

For example:

- Miniskirts mean less testile yardage per skirt but require longer stockings. The Commerce Department says: "The response to textured hosiery and panty-hose has been heartening to the hosiery departments."
- The falling birth rate has curtailed the toy market. Toy and game makers keep sales rising by giving toys a new image as educational materials. Baby-food producers haven't figured out an approach that good.
- Hair sprays have lost top spot in cosmetics sales to home hair dyes.
- The big food chains are feeling competition from, of all things, the corner grocery store. Customers tired of battling long supermarket check-out lines now go to "convenience stores," the fastest growing segment of the food retailing industry.
- The long-hair fad hurts the haircutters. But the department estimates that "in 1967 probably as many heads of hair were straightened as once were permanent-waved." For sidemoney, beauticians sell and service wigs.
- Wood furniture makers eye with alarm some propylene plastics that have the look, feel and weight of wood. They'll even show antique wormholes if desired.
- A chilly summer meant only a small over-all rise in soft drink sales last year. But brewers of beer and ale noticed no chill.
- The familiar steel "tin can" shows slow growth, but the use of aluminum cans for beer and other beverages will double in 1968—and the discarded non-rusting cans can gleam beside the highways for decades.

Hare Cites Police Laxity

LANSING (AP) — The failure of police to appear to testify is thwarting prosecutions in Michigan's new implied consent drivers, Secretary of State James Hare reports.

Hare said six cases in Detroit involving drivers who refused to take sobriety tests had to be dismissed this week when the police officers involved failed to show up and offer testimony before license appeal boards.

★ ★ ★

Hare said the Detroit, Warren, Southfield, Mount Clemens and Farmington police departments were involved.

"Police officers also failed to appear in several outstate area hearings," Hare said. "The problems appear rather widespread."

★ ★ ★

The hearings were to decide whether the Department of State should suspend or revoke the licenses of the drivers for failure to consent to a test for intoxication. The drivers still must appear in court on a charge of driving under the influence of alcohol.

There are 3.5 million Episcopalians in the United States.

SNAKES ALIVE! — Zoo attendants rush to aid Park Commissioner Victor Tedesco as a 16½-foot python starts to take a grip on Tedesco's neck yesterday at Como Park Zoo in St. Paul, Minn. Tedesco was not injured. For the purpose of weighing the snake — and also some zoo publicity — it was wrapped around Tedesco as the commissioner was standing on a scale. Tedesco holds the snake's head as zoo director John Fletcher shouts directions in the background. The python weighed 133 pounds.

Corpse Use in Tests for GM Still Likely

DETROIT (UPI) — The scientist in charge of a safety-testing program financed by General Motors Corp. said yesterday he may continue to use human cadavers in his tests.

GM acknowledged last fall that cadavers had been used in safety tests conducted by Wayne State University in Detroit for several years. But the company said then that phase of the testing was over.

Dr. Lawrence Patrick, professor of engineering at Wayne State, said, "I have used cadavers in the past."

He said there was a possibility he may use cadavers in the current series of tests." But I have not yet decided on that," he added.

"Human cadovers are the best test dummies," Patrick said. He said human bone structure, breaking strength and weight distribution were difficult to duplicate in test dummies.

The cadavers, he said, provide the best indication of human tolerance to impact.

A spokesman for GM, the world's largest industrial corporation, said the company exercised no control over the way testing was conducted. "We've never used cadavers on our own testing grounds," he said.

But Senator's Not Upset

Ohio Democrats Shun Lausche

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Democratic Executive Committee brushed aside Sen. Frank J. Lausche Thursday by endorsing former Congressman John J. Gilligan for the U.S. Senate nomination.

But the action did not upset Lausche, a 72-year-old political maverick known for voting his own way, often in opposition to party leadership.

★ ★ ★

It "will hurt the cause of the Democratic party in Ohio more than it will hurt me," said Lausche, a record-breaking vote-getter and a former five-term Ohio governor. He announced earlier his candidacy for a third straight six-year Senate term.

Gilligan, 46, won endorsement from the committee by a reported vote of 45-14. But Lausche's supporters predicted defeat for the former congressman in the May 7 primary.

HE'S INDIFFERENT

Lausche, in a statement issued in Washington, said he was "neither pleased nor distressed" about Gilligan's endorsement.

"The forces which promoted the rejection of my candidacy would have been glad to support me if I had allowed my thinking and voting to be dictated by them. These forces have unsuccessfully opposed me in every political contest in which I have been since 1943," he said.

★ ★ ★

Lausche, however, had always won endorsement before. It was the first time the state party had endorsed anyone challenging an incumbent senator.

If Lausche wins the nomination anyway, it is not known if the party would support him financially for the November election.

WAIT AND SEE

"We'll cross that bridge when we come to it," said Frazier Reams Jr. of Toledo, a Gilligan supporter who was the party's gubernatorial candidate in 1966.

One county chairman, Don Gosney of Lisbon, who described himself as a "not an all-the-way Lausche supporter," said the committee made a mistake. Gosney called Lausche "the best vote-getter Ohio has had in my generation, and he will prove it again at the polls."

Gilligan, a red-haired Irishman, has not yet formally announced his candidacy. His supporters, including state Democratic chairman Morton Seipp, charged Lausche with voting along Republican lines more than Democratic.

Niagara Coach Will Quit Job After Season

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — In announcing his resignation as Niagara University's varsity basketball coach, Jim Maloney charged he was "hampered" in the areas of recruiting and scheduling.

In his surprise announcement Thursday, the 32-year-old Maloney, a former cage star for the Purple Eagles, said he planned to leave the campus when his three-year contract expired at the end of this season.

★ ★ ★

Maloney asserted that he had been "hampered regarding recruitment and scheduling" since being "asked to assume the head coaching chore" 2½ years ago.

"This has continued and increased to the point that it has become unbearable, not only to myself, but to the members of my team, my staff and my family," he added.

The apparent target of Maloney's wrath as John J. "Taps" Gallagher, Niagara's coach for 31 years who doubled as athletic director for many of them and continues in that capacity.

Gallagher replied that a "breakdown of communications" between he and Maloney was a factor in the problem.

FREE HAND

Maloney, Gallagher asserted, "has had a free hand in the area of recruiting" and had obtained all of the freshmen, sophomores and juniors now playing for the school.

One, sophomore Calvin Murphy, is the nation's second-leading scorer with a 40.0 average.

He has been hobbled lately by knee trouble, however, and his point production has suffered. The team has a 5-6 season record.

Gallagher admitted that scheduling was his responsibility and said he had talked to Maloney about it.

★ ★ ★

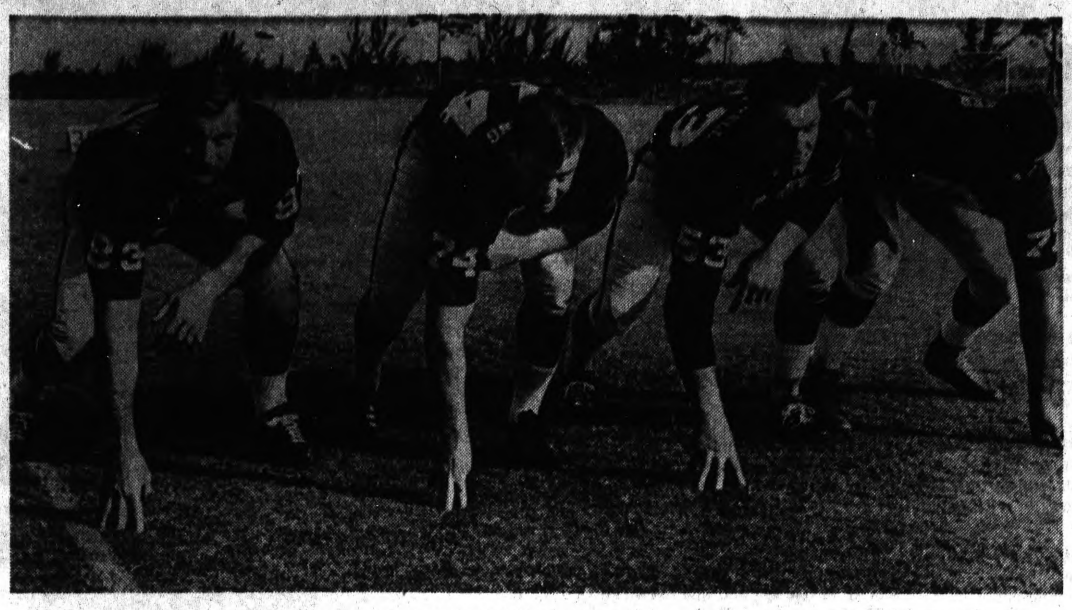

"Sure, his first schedule was challenging," Gallagher added. "I arranged it thinking I'd be the coach. Yet we played the caliber of opponents we always had faced."

NCAA Clarifies New Frosh Rule

NEW YORK (AP) — The rule permitting freshmen to play on varsity teams in all sports except football and basketball — which caused some confusion when first announced — has now been clarified by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Basically, the freshman participation rule takes effect immediately and is not retroactive, the council said.

Thus, this year's freshman class may participate in intercollegiate events on varsity teams and in NCAA championship events for four years.

Sunshine Helps Oakland; Packers Please Lombardi

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — Now that John Rauch has the weatherman on his side, he's become a clockwatcher.

The Oakland coach is concerned that his Raiders might not have enough time to properly prepare for Sunday's Super Bowl date with the Green Bay Packers.

The Raiders worked for 90 minutes in bright sunshine Thursday, a distinct change from the driving rainstorm they practiced in the day before.

"This is more like the kind of weather I expected," said Rauch, enjoying the shirtsleeve climate.

"Our problem now is having enough time to get all our work completed. Preparing for a team like the Packers isn't the easiest thing in the world to do," Rauch continued. "The rain didn't help."

Oakland ran through a spirited, tough practice Wednesday but it was necessarily limited by the storm. "We got the most out of it we could in view of the conditions," said Rauch.

Thursday's sunshine was a welcome change and the Raiders ran through their final full drill in pads.

"We'll taper off from now on," said Rauch.

Meanwhile, at Fort Lauderdale, the Packers drilled for an hour in their best workout yet.

"The sluggishness was gone," said Coach Vince Lombardi. "It was a real fine workout. We'll go for an hour again Friday and then maybe 10 or 15 minutes on Saturday."

END ACTIVATED

Lombardi activated Dick Capp, a rookie linebacker and tight end, for Sunday's game. Capp, who played in two of Green Bay's 14 regular season games, thus qualifies for a cut of the Super Bowl payoff. He'll get just over $2,000 if the Packers win and a little more than $1,000 if they lose.

★ ★ ★

A full winning share, of course, is worth $15,000 per man with losers collecting $7,500 each. At those prices, neither coach sees any problem in getting his team up for the game.

"I'm no psychiatrist," laughed Rauch. "You can't help being impressed with Green Bay. You know you're playing the best. I've never believed in being awed by a team. I've always felt that you have a chance to win any game you play.

"We're loose and we'll go into the game that way," the Oakland coach concluded.

Red Wings' Rally Falls Short

MAIN ATTRACTION — It appears that the officials are holding back the players to let Don Awrey (right) of the Boston Bruins and Bruce MacGregor of the Detroit Red Wings battle each other in the second period of the game in Boston Garden last night. Both players received major penalties for the fight but the Bruins defeated the Wings, 5-4.

Bruin Rookie Fires Deciding Goal in Boston's 5-4 Win

BOSTON (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings' come-from-behind effort to snatch victory from impending defeat at the hands of the Boston Bruins almost succeeded Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

It might have too, if it hadn't been for Bruin rookie Derek Sanderson, whose breakaway goal, his 14th of the season, midway through the final period gave the Bruins a 5-4 National Hockey League triumph.

FLAT PASS

Sanderson took a pass from Eddie Shack, who was flat on the ice at the time, broke in alone on the net and flipped the puck past goalie Roy Edwards.

Goals by Phil Esposito, his 20th and 21st of the campaign, and Skip Krake got the Bruins off to a 3-0 lead early in the first period.

Detroit's Norm Ullman made it 3-1 before intermission.

Then, after Detroit's Kent Douglas and Boston's Don Awrey traded second period goals, Ullman and Gordie Howe tallied within 67 seconds to tie it up. It was Ullman's 20th and Howe's 19th goal.

★ ★ ★

The victory pulled the Bruins within two points of the Eastern Division-leading Chicago Black Hawks, who were idle Thursday.

Elsewhere, the Flying Frenchmen finally have hit their stride — and it's Allez-Oop for Montreal.

Jean-Claude Tremblay, Yvan Courneyer and Jacques Lemaire scored Montreal goals less than 3½ minutes apart, pacing the Canadiens to a 4-2 triumph over Philadelphia.

UNBEATEN STRING

The victory extended the Canadiens' unbeaten streak to eight games and sent them into third place in the NHL's East Division race. Mired in the division cellar two weeks ago, they have won six — including their last four in a row — and tied two to climb within five points of front-running Chicago.

St. Louis played Los Angeles to a 2-2 West Division deadlock.

The Canadiens spotted Philadelphia's West Division leaders a 1-0 first period lead before defenseman Tremblay tied the game with a 60-foot drive in the middle session. Courneyer broke the tie one minute and 29 seconds later and rookie Lemaire followed with another Montreal score.

Joe Watson scored for the Flyers in the third period but Gilles Tremblay added an insurance goal for the Canadiens with 3:22 remaining.

★ ★ ★

The Flyers, who started their initial NHL season with four victories in six games against East Division clubs, now have lost seven in a row to the Establishment.

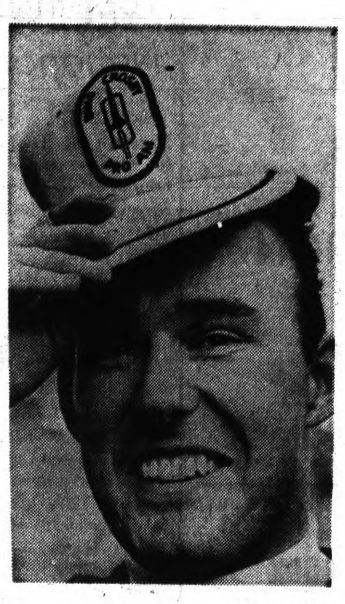

★ ★ ★

St. Louis goalie Seth Martin and his Los Angeles counterpart, Terry Sawchuk dueled through 40 scoreless minutes after late first period goals by Red Berenson and Frank St. Marseille overcame a 2-0 LA lead.

Howie Hughes and Bill Flett scored for the Kings, who snapped an eight-game losing string and now share second place in the West with Minnesota — six points back of Philadelphia.

PRO TIP — Lou Graham, 30-year-old pro from Nashville, Tenn., is the first round leader of the 27th annual Crosby National Pro-Am after a four under par 68 at Cypress Point course in Pebble Beach, Calif. He carded 35-33 for his nines.

Sharp Putter on PGA Tour Leads 1st Round of Crosby

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Lou Graham, one of the best putters on the PGA tour, conquered Cypress Point without too much difficulty and today he tries to do the same to Spyglass Hill in the second round of the $104,500 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am Golf Tournament.

The 30-year-old Graham took just 30 putts and hit 16 greens in regulation strokes Thursday in the opening round of the Crosby clambake to post a four-under-par 68 and take the first round lead.

★ ★ ★

He turned in his sparkling round, which included six birdies and two bogeys, at the 6,464-yard Cypress Point layout, considered by most as the easiest of the three courses over which the Crosby is played.

'MONSTER' COURSE

Spyglass Hill is the "monster," stretching 6,972 backbreaking yards over sand dunes and hillsides. In last year's tourney, Jack Nicklaus had little trouble with Spyglass Hill and that more than any other reason accounted for his victory in the Crosby.

Nicklaus had a one-under-par 71 Thursday, also on the Cyrpress Point, to tie with Mike Fetchick for fourth place, three strokes behind Graham, who came into his own last year when he took home $42,556 on the strength of some of the best putting on the tour.

Graham three-putted the very first green at Cypress Point Thursday, then settled down to take only 27 more putts the rest of the way around.

Veterans Tommy Jacobs and Dave Hill posted three-under 69s at Pebble and Cypress, respectively, to stay on Graham's heels. Jacobs goes to Cypress Point today while Hill takes on Spyglass Hill, along with Johnny Pott, who had a two-under 70 in the first round, and six of the seven players who tied at even par 72.

Coho, Chinook Plantings Set

State Reveals Salmon Plans

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Commission has announced plans for planting 1.8 million Coho salmon and 850,000 Chinook salmon in 18 Michigan streams this spring.

The plantings of salmon yearlings (5-7 inches) are being distributed to provide as much sports fishing as possible along the state's coastal waters.

First massed runs of the salmon planted this spring will not come until the fall of 1969. Some smaller "Jack" salmon, about two or three pounds each, will be legal catches this fall.

Fish planted last spring will be mature for fishermen this fall.

"We have as broad as possible a geographic distribution so the sports fishermen will have some action," said Wayne Tody, chief of the Conservation Department Fish Division.

"We hope to withstand any requests for changes," added Ralph MacMullan, department director. "We hope people will understand there are only so many fish to go around."

NEW STREAMS

All but four of the steams to receive salmon are new to the department's stocking program.

The salmon feed on alewives, a salt water trash fish that has penetrated the Great Lakes and whose carcasses have piled up on beaches and fouled water intake points of coastal cities.

The planting plans for Coho salmon:

Lake Superior—Anna River, 175,000; Falls River, 60,000; Ontonagon River, 50,000; Sucker River, 40,000; Cherry Creek, 25,000. A total of 350,000.

Lake Michigan—Platte River, 250,000; Little Manistee, 75,000; Muskegon, 200,000; Thompson Creek, 25,000; Big Manistee, 150,000; Boardman, 100,000; Whitefish, 100,000; Pere Marquette, 100,000; Bear, 50,000; Boyne, 50,000. A total of 1.1 million.

Lake Huron — Au Sable River, 250,000; Thunder Bay River, 100,000; Carp River, 50,000. A total of 400,000.

Only a few of the rivers planted — the Ontonagon, Muskegon, Big Manistee and Au Sable — are expected to provide major stream runs.

Fishing at other locations will be concentrated along the shorelines and the bay areas of the Great Lakes.

Expected to be prime fishing areas are the Ontonagon area; Keweenaw Bay, Marquette Bay, Munising Bay, the Grand Marais area, Little Bay De Noc, the Manistee area, St. Martin Bay, Little Traverse Bay, the Charlevoix area, Grand Traverse Bay, Platte Bay and the Frankfort area, the Manistee and Arcadia areas, the Ludington area, the Muskegon area down to South Haven and Thunder Bay and Tawas Bay south to Saginaw Bay.

★ ★ ★

The Chinook salmon releases planned this spring call for 500,000 in the Little Manistee River, 300,000 in the Muskegon River and 50,000 in Cherry Creek, near Marquette.

In addition to these larger releases, the department will stock a small number of Chinook in Thunder Bay River under a cooperative study with Alpena Community College.

The Little Manistee and Muskegon, first planted with Chinook last spring, are expected to have runs of "Jack" Chinook this fall. The major runs of the larger salmon species will come on the fall of 1969 off the mouths of these two rivers.

Report Claims Three Continue in Running for U. of M. Position

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The list of candidates for the job of athletic director at the University of Michigan has been narrowed from eight to three, sources at the school report.

The top candidates are Bump Elliott, football coach at Michigan; Davey Nelson, a Michigan alumnus and now athletic director at the University of Delaware; and Dr. Robert Bronzan, athletic director at San Jose State College in California.

Sources said Thursday one of the three would be picked as successor to H. O. "Fritz" Crisler, who will retire some time this year, not later than Jan. 1, 1969.

The choice of a new athletic director is expected to be announced some time after Jan. 19 when the school's Board of Regents meets.

Agree to Contracts

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Pitcher Larry Jackson and catcher Mike Ryan have signed their contracts with the Philadelphia Phillies for the 1968 season.

Jackson, 36, appeared in 40 games with the Phillies last season, compiling a 13-15 record and 3.09 era. Ryan, 26, was acquired from the Boston Red Sox in December.

NCAA Point Leader Pours in 52 for LSU

By The Associated Press

Ron Draper and Pete Maravich both faced pressure foul situation. Both came through.

Drake's Draper was at the foul line for two free throws with one second left and the Crusaders tied 74-74 with Wichita State Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

He missed the first one but made the second, and Drake won its 11th game in 13 starts.

It was the other side of the coin for Louisiana State's Maravich, who played most of the second half against Tulane facing disqualification because he had committed four fouls.

TORRID PACE

But this didn't seem to greatly impair the helter-skelter style of the nation's leading major-college scorer. He poured in 52 points as LSU beat Tulane 100-91 at New Orleans to boost its record to 9-3. Maravich has scored 540 points in those 12 games for a 45.8 average.

Draper got the two chances to score his 14th point of the night at Des Moines, Iowa, when Drake's Al Williams stole the ball with 38 seconds remaining. Willie McCarter led Drake scorers with 18 points. Warren Armstrong got 22 for Wichita, whose leading scorer, Ron Washington, fouled out after scoring just nine points.

The St. Louis at Dayton game also was decided by afoulshot. also was decided by a foul shot. This one was made by Bob Hooper with 20 seconds left for a 57-56 Dayton victory. Don May, who tied the game at 56-56 with 3:14 left, scored 21 points and tied his own Dayton record of 28 rebounds. Rich Niemann paced St. Louis with 18 points.

★ ★ ★

None of The Associated Press Top Ten played Thursday night. And only top-ranked UCLA is scheduled to see action tonight, against California.

SECOND LOSS

In another Thursday night game, Kentucky Wesleyan, the No. 2 small college team, lost its second straight game, 63-62 to Southern Illinois at Owensboro, Ky.

Again it was foul shots that made the difference. Bobby Jackson sank two with 1:07 to play to give the victory to Southern Illinois, a former small-college power, now listed as a major college.

★ ★ ★

Home-court victories included Marquette's 71-56 trouncing of Wisconsin, Mississippi State's 80-64 drubbing of Delta State and New Mexico State's 81-71 defeat of Southern Colorado.

Virginia edged Clemson 95-92, Virginia Tech topped Richmond 80-71, Rhode Island walloped Northeastern 81-66 and San Jose State downed St. Mary's, Calif., 76-69.

LSU Shooters Topping List Nationally

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Maravich of Louisiana State, No. 1 in scoring average, has been joined by teammate Ralph Jokkola as a statistics leader among the major-college basketball players.

Jukkola has taken over the top spot in field goal percentage with .716, the figures compiled by National Collegiate Sports Services through last Saturday's games showed Thursday.

INCREASED LEAD

Meanwhile, Maravich increased his scoring lead to 4.2 points over Calvin Murphy of Niagara. Maravich has a 44.6 point average to Murphy's 40.4.

Elvin Hayes of Houston is third with 32.6 followed by Rich Travis of Oklahoma City 32.1 and Jimmy Hill of West Texas State and Bob Lanier, St. Bonaventure, 29.5.

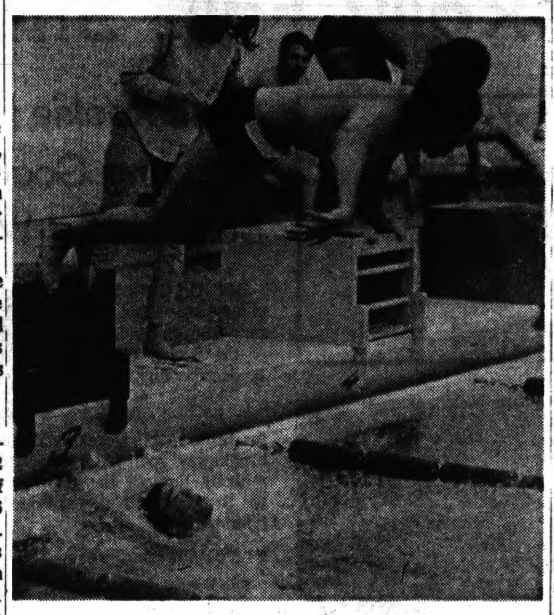

Larry Salci of Detroit is the pace-setter in free throw accuracy with a .932 average while Ed Wilson of Idaho State is the top rebounder with a 23.0 mark.

UCLA, the nation's top-ranked team, leads in offense with an average of 103.4 points a game. Tulsa has the best defense with an average yield of only 56.4 points. Other team leaders are Duke in free throw percentage .759 and St. Peter's, N.J., in field goal percentage with .553.

New KC Owner Has Timetable

• Begins Organizing 1969 AL Ball Club

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Ewing Kauffman, Kansas City's new baseball owner, already has a timetable for his club—a board of directors within a week, an executive vice president not long after, a first division club in five years and an American League pennant in eight years.

It's the sort of ambitious plan you would expect from the man who last year received the Horatio Alger Award.

He started his $130 million drug firm in the basement of his home 18 years ago. The league's owners put the city's 1969 expansion franchise in his hands here Thursday.

Kauffman said he has talked to "three or four top men who want to be executive vice president of the club."

The next step will be setting up a top-flight organization, he said.

Tigers Select Farm Club GM

DETROIT (AP) — David C. Miller, general manager of the Williamsport Mets of the Class AA Eastern League for the last two years, has been named general manager of the Lakeland Tigers, a Detroit farm club in the Florida State League. Miller also was named director of operations of Marchant Stadium in Lakeland, where the Detroit Tigers will begin their baseball training next month.

Record Swim Helps OU to Down Wayne

Oakland University's swimming team needed a pool and school record in the final 400 freestyle relay event to defeat Wayne State University in a dual meet in the OU pool last night, 58-55.

The Pioneers took eight individual firsts, but Wayne had the depth in the following positions, and thus OU trailed until the final event.

Dick Duffield, Ron Mickelson, Ed Englehart and Rick Krogsrud took the relay event in 3:28.1.

Krogsrud was also a winner in the 200 ind. medley.

Mike Campbell, former member of the Battle Creek Lakeview state championship team of 1967, and now a freshman at OU took three events.

He hit a school record of 50.9 in the 100 freestyle and won the 1000 yard and 500 yard freestyles.

LeBeau Tallies 72 in Defense of Title

HOLLYWOOD BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Detroit Lions' cornerback Dick LeBeau seems more at home on the golf course than on the football field.

Randy Johnson, quarterback for the Atlanta Falcons, and Jim Bakken, kicking specialist for the St. Louis Cardinals, were tied at the top with adjusted totals of 71 each.

Aussie Ace Stirs Olympic Chiefs

MELBOURNE (AP)—Australian Olympic officials have reacted coldly to long-distance runner Ron Clarke's announcement that he intends to move from Melbourne to the high-altitude city of Alamosa, Colo., in the United Sates, next May.

Clarke announced Thursday night he would take his family to live in Alamosa and would work and train there in defiance of an International Olympic Committee ruling.

The rule stipulates that Games Athletes can spend only six weeks in high altitude training camps this year, and can spend only four weeks in these camps in the three months preceding the Mexico City Games.

Clarke has admitted he is going to Alamosa for high altitude training, but has also stressed he has a legitimate business reason for the trip, and is not breaking Olympic rules.

"Even if I am told I am not to be picked for the Australian Olympic team, I am still going," he said.

Edgar H. Tanner, the Australian Olympic Federation secretary, said today Clarke may not even be nominated by the Amateur Athletic Union of Australia when nominations close on May 1.

★ ★ ★

However, Ronald Aitken, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of Australia, said he accepted Clarke's statement that he is taking his family to the United States to live and will make his business headquarters there — "until it is proved wrong."

★ ★ ★

In a telephone interview with the Melbourne Age newspaper, IOC President Avery Brundage of Chicago advised Clarke to "explore his position fully" before going to the United States, but added the IOC "certainly would not stop Clarke from competing in Mexico "unless he is declared ineligible by the International Amateur Athletic Federation.

Booth Quintet Nips Rec Foe

2-Man Duel Sees Phillips Earn Nod

Chuck Phillips emerged on top in a sparkling duel with Sammy Soles Thursday night as Booth Homes nipped Perry Drugs, 55-54, in the feature game of the city men's recreation basketball slate.

Club 1 Spot outgunned the Little Giants, 79-60, and Sam Allen's thumped Local 594, 70-53, in other games. Petrolanes gained a 2-0 forfeit win from Auburn Hills.

Phillips outscored Soles, 13-12, in the final period as Booth broke a 37-all tie. Phillips finished with 30 points while Soles had 28 for Perry.

Harvey Rowans scored 10 of his 25 points and teammate Fred Davis 11 of his 15 as Club 1 Spot jumped into a 23-11 lead after one period. Jerry Olsen's 29 couldn't prevent the Little Giants' decisive defeat.

Four players were in double figures as Sam Allen's coasted to its triumph.

OLSM Junior in Tie for County Points

Nowadays, it's usually the big man who dominates the scoring statistics in basketball, but as the Oakland County scoring race moves into high gear, a couple of players on the short side are setting the pace.

★ ★ ★

Tim Megge of Orchard Lake St. Mary and Hazel Park's Jim Merchel own the top spot with averages of 24 points a game.

Both are juniors. Megge goes 6-1 and Merchel is 5-11 and both play the guard position.

Megge has built his average through eight games, and at the same time, sparked OLSM to 7-1 record over-all, and to a 7-0 mark in Northwest Parochial League competition.

TOPS SVC RACE

Setting the pace in the Saginaw Valley Conference is Dave MacDonald of Midland with a mark of 24.3 through six contests.

Elks Ladies National Keg Meet Starts

Pontiac Press Photo

FINAL CHECK LIST — The 11th annual Elks Ladies National Invitational Tournament at Pontiac Lodge 810 will start tomorrow afternoon and committee members (left to right) Hettie Gorsline, J. B. McDermid, and Virginia Ross are busy finalizing all the details — including brushing off and counting the pins under the watchful eye of Exalted Ruler Jim Hanes. Approximately 600 ladies will be visiting the Pontiac Elks' Orchard Lake Avenue facilities during the tournament.

115 Teams Slated at Lodge 810

An annual high point in exposing Pontiac's bowling hospitality will return tomorrow at the Elks Temple on Orchard Lake Avenue when the 11th annual Pontiac Lodge 810 commences its Elks Ladies National Invitational Tournament.

Salted for a 5 p.m. opening squad after appropriate opening ceremonies featuring state and local officials, the tournament will lure more than 115 teams and approximately 600 women to the temple's 12 lanes during the next seven weekends.

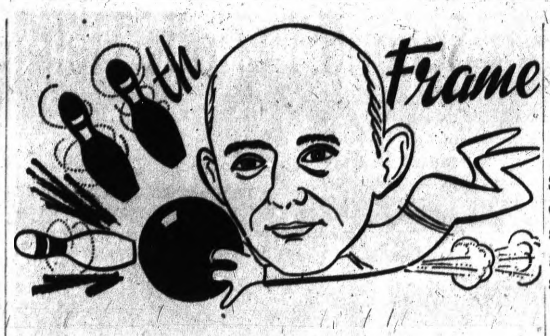

Adding emphasis to tomorrow's starting squads will be the appearnace of the Bowling Green (Ohio) Transfer North American Lines team who will defend its title.

The Ohioans won last year's team championship with a 2964 handicap total. There are also singles, doubles and all events awards, plus individual high games and series prizes.

Illinois and Indiana Elks ladies also will compete in addition to Michigan entries that include 42 Pontiac teams. At stake is morethan $3700 plus trophies.

Tomorrow's team competition will have squads from Battle Creek, Hillsdale, Ann Arbor, Dearborn and Plymouth plus Pontiac and Bowling Green. Singles and doubles action will be each Sunday.

The 1968 tournament chairman is J. B. McDermid. President is Virginia Ross while Hettie Gorsline is the secretary-treasurer.

By JERE CRAIG

That once-a-year opportunity for the league bowler with tournament ambitions hampered by a limited budget makes a two-week knock at the door beginning tomorrow in the Pontiac area—compliments of the Bowling Proprietors of Michigan.

Using the same format as the old March of Dimes Tournament, the association has broadened

The mission now is to provide funds for supplying recreational facilities in youth rehabilitation centers, plus donations for other local charities. Plans call for cooperation between Brunswick Corporation and the proprietors this first year to install a two-lane setup at a youth center.

The tournament couldn't be more convenient for the bowler. All men and women sanctioned league bowlers only have to register for the competition prior to their next league session. The entry fee is a $1 contribution to the fund.

Women will receive an 80 per cent of 200 handicap, men 70 per cent of 200. The top 10 per cent of the scores in each establishment will qualify for the area finals. Each entrant uses his league score for his qualifying total.

Qualifiers from St. Clair, Fenton, Utica, Ann Arbor, Williamston, Belleville and all lanes in that general geographical scope will join the Pontiac leaders Feb. 17-18 at North Hill Lanes in Rochester.

The top 2 per cent then will advance to the state finals to compete for a car. Valuable prizes — such as radios, televisions, cameras — will be presented to the survivors at the state's eight area finals sites. The lone additional charge after the initiail $1 is a $3 cost fee for those who reach the area finals.

Additional information regarding the program or applications for funds from the charity fund should be directed to Joe Bonfiglio of Huron Bowl or Frank Benning of Airway Lanes, the Mid-East Area representatives.

Youngsters again are bidding for a portion of the local bowling spotlight. Last Saturday at Oxford's Collier Lanes 13-year-old Steven Huff earned a couple Youth Bowling Association trophies with a 268 game and a 651 series.

Brad Bertram, another 13-year-old, in the same league as Steve. The Oxford Preps, hit a 236 game.

The same day at Savoy Lanes in the Junior Preps circuit, 14-year-old Dan Romine had a 254 game.

The Baldwin Men's League at Lakewood Lanes this week mourned the loss of Harold E. (Doc) Strickland. The 35-year-team sponsored by his father Harold died suddenly last week. Burial was Monday.

Detroit's Strampe Holds 8th Position

Bowling Is Breather From Books

Young George Ellman is finding North Hill Lanes a relaxing relief from the pressures of studies at Oakland University.

Sitting out a semester in order to restore his campus composure, Ellman is filling in on the North Hill staff for the ailing Les Williams. The secretary of the Friday Niters League, Ellman has found a groove on the lanes.

Recently he put 11 strikes together for a 290 game. Last week his bid to duplicate the feat fell one pin shy, but the young kegler added 231 and 227 games to the 289 for a 747 series — the second best among reported local men this season.

★ ★ ★

Hal Marsh, the Pontiac Open champion, had a 220-204—627 overshadowed by Ellman's performance. Max VanKeuren hit a 253 and Lou Koprince 212-200—600.

Another 11-in-a-row performer was Al Schupbach who had a 290—638 Saturday in the Guys & Dolls League at 300 Bowl.

Joe Foster also joined the leading 700 scorers, registering a 279-211-246—736 for Pontiac Janitor Supply in the Huron Bowl Classic. It is the fourth best total.

TEAM SERIES

Art Pearson hit 225-244—675 for V-K Contracting who tallied 3112 in outrolling the janitors (3006). B&G Tile rolled 3133 in topping Hartford Roofing's 3013. Schupbach had a 258 (653) and Bill Bull 256 (659).

At Wonderland Lanes Monday, the Masters' League first half concluded with a 255-267—709 by Merle Taulbee and the Sportsman's Bar on top by almost four Petersen points over Wholfeil-Dee Engineering.

Bill Bowen posted a 264-254—689, and Bill Diedrich a 247-235—661.

2 Bound Over in Cruelty Case

An Independence Township man and his housekeeper yesterday were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court to stand trial on a charge of cruelty to children.

Paul M. Maczko, 57, and Mrs. Florence Lewis, 29, both of 9052 Ortonville, now face arraignment Jan. 24 before Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

The pair was arrested in September following an investigation by Michigan State Police. The couple is accused of making four of Mrs. Lewis' five children live in a small building behind Maczko's house.

During their preliminary examination in October, Mrs. Lewis' oldest son, Frederick J., 9, testified that Maczko had once chained him to a brother in a garage.

Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth Hempstead had taken the case under advisement until yesterday when he ordered them to the higher court.

City Police Widen Hunt for Weapons

Pontiac police remained cautious today in evaluating the progress of their investigation of the burglary early Sunday of weapons from the Army Reserve Center at 40 Walnut.

They indicated that the search for the more than 50 items taken in the break-in, which included automatic rifles and pistols and four bazooka-type rocket launchers, has broadened beyond the Pontiac metropolitan area.

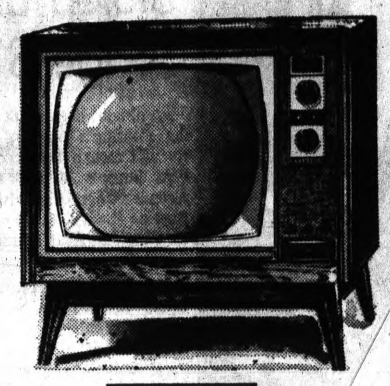

★ ★ ★

A reserve center spokesman emphasized that tight security precautions would be instituted at the building in the future, but refused to comment on the nature of the steps planned.

FBI, state police and Army Intelligence personnel are aiding local authorities in the investigation.

What does the SPARTAN on the door mean to you?

As you enter a Spartan Store you'll notice the green and gold Spartan emblem proudly displayed there . . . but have you ever wondered why it's there—what it stands for—or more important, what it means to you? Well, now that you're through the door, let's get the inside story.

Way back in 1917, a group of twenty-seven food store owners banded together with the idea of pooling their money, so that they could buy in greater quantity and reduce their individual costs. Their idea was a good one, and by 1933 thay had grown to 181 members and had leased a small warehouse.

Today, Spartan Stores are more than 500 strong. They own the largest food warehouse in the state . . . and they are just now completing another warehouse in Plymouth, Mich.

Along with this, Spartan Stores have the biggest "Buy Power Rating" in Michigan, which enables them to buy the widest variety of national, regional, and local brands available today . . . and buy them at a savings. And it stands to reason that when you buy something for less, you can sell it for less . . . and that's exactly what they do.

Another nice thing about a Spartan Store, it's locally owned. That means that the money you spend there isn't sent to a home office in some other city—it stays home and keeps working for you.

Behind the Spartan on the door, there are 50 years of experience in serving Michigan homemakers, and all of this know-how and buying power and modern warehousing and variety of products and brands . . . linked with the efficiency, the courtesy, and willingness of the people who work in Spartan Stores to please you, should be reason enough to . . . .

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

Ever so often we are asked if it is possible for an expert to recognize a sure squeeze as soon as he sees the dummy.

The answer is a resounding NO, but we have seen slams claimed on a squeeze as soon as third hand plays to the first trick.

JACOBY

Here is one that we, or at least the older half of us, remember from the first days of contract. Oswald Jacoby was North, and when the late Ely Culbertson was able to bid three no-trump over East's three club preempt, Oswald raised the Professor (Ely was called that and deservedly so) to six no-trump.

West opened the queen of hearts. Ely looked over dummy carefully and played the deuce. East discarded a club whereupon Ely spread his hand and said, "Six on a squeeze."

Needless to say, the opponents objected but Ely proceeded to make the hand as advertised. He started by dropping a low heart from his own hand. This is what is known today as rectifying the count. He had 11 top tricks and needed 12, so he lost one trick right off the bat.

West led a second heart. Ely won that in dummy and ran off four diamond tricks. He discarded a spade and a club from his own hand. Then he cashed the king and ace of clubs and king of hearts. This left dummy with four spades it had started with, while Ely held two spades, a low heart and a low club.

He turned to West and said, "You still hold a heart. You can't have more than three spades." He turned to East and said, "You still have a club. You can't have more than three spades."

Then he turned to the assembled audience and said. "The spades are all good. Six on a squeeze — just as I announced at trick one."

What do you do now?

A—Bid six diamonds. Your partner has clearly shown that he has diamonds, hearts and spades so that he can't have two club losers. You have shown nothing but that you do have diamonds.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of rebidding three spades, your partner bids three hearts over your two no-trump. What do you do now?

IF TOMORROW IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are down-to-earth when it comes to helping others. You believe in warmth and a full stomach. This is in contrast to some who would sermonize when what is required is wholesome food. This symbolizes what you are: a person who can be relied upto to understand basic needs in time of emergency. Start made last year offers some tests, challenges. But an older woman will provide valuable aid.

★ ★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for GEMINI, CANCER, LEO. Special word to PISCES: mate or partner is going through rather eccentric period. Be understanding.

U.P. Time Fight Still Is Raging

By the Associated Press

"The people of Michigan's Upper Peninsula are extremely unhappy with Central Standard Time."

"We certainly don't want our time zone changed and we've never said that we do."

These two widely differing statements sum up the continuing controversy over time that has raged deep into the winter in Michigan's frozen Upper Peninsula.

The first statement is made by Robert C. Polzin, president of the Marquette Chamber of Commerce, in a formal request to the U.S. Department of Transportation to place the U. P. in the Eastern time zone.

★ ★ ★

The second is made by Kenneth O. Doyle, city attorney of Menominee, which is bitterly opposed to any change.

County boards, city and village councils and commissions, chambers of commerce, and other organizations and individuals who wrote the Marquette chamber were almost unanimous in backing a return to year-around EST — the time observed in 12 U.P. counties for 15 to 20 years.

Four counties in eastern U.P. (Chippewa, Luce, Mackinac and Alger) already are operating on EST although Alger calls it "Central Daylight Time." Boards of supervisors of six other counties have indicated, by resolution, their desire to be in the Eastern time zone.

★ ★ ★

Two counties (Gogebic and Menominee) have formally endorsed Central time, the Marquette chamber was informed, while three others (Ontonagon, Baraga and Dickinson) have taken no action. Of those three, Dickinson seems to prefer Central, while the villages of L'Anse and Ontonagon, the county seats of Baraga and Ontonagon counties, support a return to the Eastern time zone.

AID TO COMMERCE

"Foremost in our desire for a return to Eastern time is our belief that it would be beneficial to commerce to have our entire state on the same time," Polzin declared in his letter to the Transportation Department.

Both Polzin and Jerry Pulliam, executive vice-president of the Marquette chamber, revealed at a meeting of the chamber's board of directors that attempts to obtain assistance from lawmakers in seeking a time switch "have met with no success."

Under the Uniform Time Act of 1966, the Upper Peninsula was placed in the Central time zone—separate from the remainder of Michigan. The act ordered that all states must observe Daylight Saving Time unless a state as a whole exempts itself.

★ ★ ★

Michigan passed legislation to place the entire state in the Eastern time zone and to exempt the state from Daylight Saving Time, but a petition signed by 123,000 Lower Michigan residents suspended effectiveness of the state law and caused Daylight time to become effective in the entire state. The Upper Peninsula was returned to the Central time zone.

A referendum on the question will be conducted in November. If state voters reject Daylight Saving Time, the Upper Peninsula would have to remain on CST all year long — out of step with both Lower Michigan and neighboring Wisconsin. If they approve daylight saving, the Upper Peninsula — unless it gets out of the Central time zone — will have CST for six months during the winter and CDT for the summer.

"We believe that most people in the Upper Peninsula do not want Central Standard Time during the winter months under either of these alternatives," Polzin and Pulliam said. "If we are going to get away from the early darkness of winter and to escape the very undesirable possibility of year-round CST, we must get out of the Central zone and into the Eastern zone."

The other side of the time picture is presented by Menominee City Attorney Doyle.

"It would have a drastic effect on our economy and on our social climate as well. The claim by the Marquette Chamber of Commerce that they have obtained 9,000 signatures on petitions asking for a move into the Eastern time zone is hardly worth recognizing. This represents less than three per cent of the citizens of the Upper Peninsula."

In an editorial Wednesday, the Menominee Herald-Leader said, "The Marquette Chamber of Commerce has appointed itself spokesman for the entire Upper Peninsula in the matter of determining what time zone we are in.

". . . It appears that Mr. Polzin is saying a great deal with very little to back him up. The Marquette chamber has circulated petitions opposing Central Standard Time and has obtained 9,000 signatures.

"There are 305,000 people living in the Upper Peninsula, so what Mr. Polzin is really talking about when he says "the people of Upper Michigan" is less than three per cent of the population."

★ ★ ★

The Menominee Area Chamber of Commerce has called a special directors meeting to consider opposition to Marquette's move. The Menominee City Council is expected to go on record at its Monday night meeting in opposition to the move.

TWO HOURS

"I'm convinced that the people who signed those petitions did not know they were advocating a time zone that would require moving the clock ahead two hours from where it is now," Strand said.

"If the Department of Transportation were to place the Upper Peninsula in the Eastern time zone, it would mean moving clocks ahead one hour when the change was made and another hour on April 27, when the time is normally changed."

When the Federal Uniform Time Act of 1966 became law in April of last year and the entire Upper Peninsula — with the exception of the city of Menominee — moved to Eastern Standard Time, Menominee operated its city government under the home rule provisions of its charter, and remained on Central time.

★ ★ ★

The action was taken because of the close relationship with Menominee's sister city, Marinette, Wis. The cities, each with a population of about 13,000, are on opposite banks of the Menominee River.

Doyle pointed out that one of two bridges between the cities carries 23,000 cars daily.

Service Station Feels the Cold

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — "Sorry," said the gas station attendant. "We're all out of gas."

He went on to explain to a dismayed motorist: "The tops of our storage tanks froze and we couldn't tell how much gasoline we had."

★ ★ ★

The attendant, one of millions of New Yorkers feeling the affects of four straight sub-zero days, said the motorist still could buy dry gas but that it would be impossible to check the car's antifreeze.

"Our instrument for doing that is frozen too," he said.

The low Thursday in Albany was minus 25.

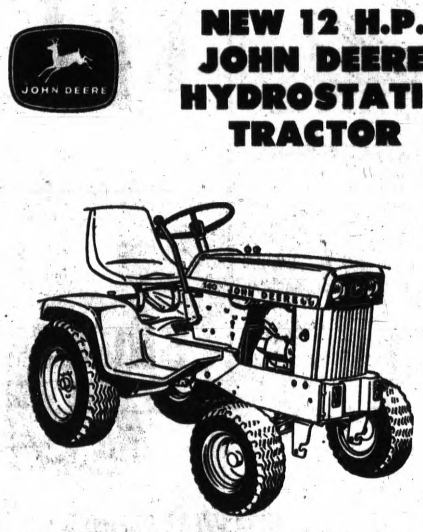

Sea anemones are extremely dangerous when approached too closely. Surrounded by hollow tentacles, each with a poisonous barb, they pierce and paralyze their victims.

The Guns of Judgment Day

Cliff Farrell's new Western thriller

From the Doubleday & Co. novel; Copyright © 1967, by Cliff Farrell. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED

Dan Briscoe, going on patrol in Yellow Lance as night marshal, felt this might be the last night. Dan didn't want to kill, but he did want to survive—and without running. That was his dilemma with the Hatch brothers in town, plainly intent on settling a grudge against Briscoe. John Cass, the Mayor, and Frank Buckman, Briscoe's deputy, tried to persuade the marshal to avoid the showdown.

Chapter 3

John Cass remained at Dan Briscoe's side. Their route carried them past Paddy Drake's Bar — a respectable drinking place on the off-limit side of town.

Dan knew the two Hatch brothers were in Paddy's place. The were armed. It was against the code that Dan, himself, had set down for men to carry guns in this section of Yellow Lance.

The borderline was Bozeman Street which faced the railroad tracks.

He looked again at his watch. It was still more than a quarter of an hour until seven o'clock.

★ ★ ★

Darkness was approaching as he led the way across the street in Ma Murphy's eating place. He hung his hat on the tree and took a table at the front where he could look into Lincoln Street.

BAR

Paddy's Bar was more than a block away, and on the opposite side of the meandering street, but still within his line of vision.

The eating place quickly fulled up. Passersby drifted along the sidewalk, casting quick glances at Dan.

Ma Murphy bustled to their table. "I've saved some of the tenderest elk steaks you ever set teeth in, Danny, me lad," she gushed. "Young veal, cooled proper an' hung to cure in me own meathouse."

★ ★ ★

"More likely you had your cook slow-elk it from one of those beef herds down by the pens last night," Dan said. "Make sure, if it's beef you're wishing off on me, that you bury the hide and the brand its got on it, Ma."

TEARS FROM MA

"As if, at my age, I needed advice from the like of you," Ma snorted. "Tis coolin' down you need. I have just the thing for it. Beer that's had ice packed around the keg for two days."

She brought foaming steins.

"Danny, you always was me favorite customer," she burst out. She wanted to say more, but failed. She hurried away, for tears had started streaming.

★ ★ ★

Dan lifted his stein, "Here's how!" he said. HE had to force himself to drink. His throat was very tight.

WATCHES MAN

He watched a man hurry into Paddy Drake's Bar. No doubt the word was being carried to the Hatches that Diamond Dan Briscoe was following his customary routine—a glass of beer and supper at Ma's place before taking charge of the town.

John Cass did not attemtpt to touch his beer. His lips were ashen. "There'd be no stones cast at you, Dan, if you ducked this one," he said. "At least by the ones who count in this town."

"You may be right, John."

★ ★ ★

John Cass gave him a startled look. "Are you saying that you might actually—might—"

DISSAPPOINTMENT

"—Get out of town, John? If I did, nobody would get hurt, now would they? That's correct, isn't it?

"That's right," John Cass said. There was sudden disappointment in his eyes. And a sort of accusing anger.

Dan laughed grimly. "Don't worry, Mayor. I didn't mean it. You'll have your fun."

★ ★ ★

"Fun? What are you trying to say. Dan?"

"You just cast the first stone, John. Deep down, you began asking yourself if Diamond Dan Briscoe wasn't yellow after all. The clay feet had been exposed."

"Now Dan—!"

"You really don't want me to back out on this, John. None of you do. You'd all feel cheated. Disillusioned. Like children who'd seen somebody step on their rubber balloon."

"Then you are going through with it?" The excitement had returned to the Mayor's eyes.

★ ★ ★

"Yes," Dan said. He was suddenly very tired. And felt very, very old.

FRANK APPEARS

He sat gazing unseeingly into the street. Into Yellow Lance and its heart. Into its integrity and its faithlessness, its virtues and dishonesties, its blessings and its sins.

In the three years he had beed marshal he had become familiar with all of its facets.

He suddenly aroused, his his garb. He wore a green silk ment. Frank Buckman was walking along the opposite sidewalk!

★ ★ ★

He evidently had gone to his living quarters and had changed his garb. He wore a green silk shirt and a satin, flowered vest on which he had pinned his deputy marshal's shield.

NEW GUNS

A new, pearl - gray, wide-brimmed hat was tilted at a challenging angle.

He wore a pair of costly half - boots, stitched with gold thread into which he had stuffed the cuffs of tailored gray trousers. Dan had never seen any of these items on his deputy before.

Above all, he had never seen the pair of six-shooters Frank was carrying in new holsters slung from a heavy leather gunbelt.

★ ★ ★

The guns were long-muzzled, with gold-mounted pearl grips. Specially made weapons that must have cost Frank more than two months' pay.

CHASES FRANK

Dan surged to his feet, overturning his chair.

He ran from the restaurant. "Frank!" he shouted desperately. "No! Wait!"

Frank Buckman had already reached the swinging doors of Paddy's Bar. He looked over his shoulder and waved Dan back. Dan's last memory of him was the glint of his defiant grin.

★ ★ ★

Dan was running. But the distance was more than a hundred yards. An endless space. He was still a dozen strides from the door of the saloon when the guns began.

LEAPS INTO ROOM

His last steps to the entrance were measured by the heavy concussions of the six-shooters.

"Frank!" he kept shouting hopelessly. "Frank!"

He shouldered the swing door open and leaped into the room. He had drawn his silver-mounted guns.

Frank Buckman was huddled on his side with crimson staining the plank floor.

★ ★ ★

One of Frank's fine new pistols was gripped in his right hind. The other lay a few feet away on the floor as though it had been yanked from his hand by the force of the bullets that had torn through his body.

FROZEN HORROR

His hat had rolled against the footrail of the bar. His face was turned toward Dan.

In the flickering light, Dan could see the frozen horror in Frank's handsome features. Frank Buckman had realized, too late, that he was too young to die.

A man was crumpled queerly against the far end of the bar, his knees drawn to his chin in agony.

He was still alive and still clung to a pistol he had been using. He wore the denim jacket, jeans, and half-boots of a rider.

DISBELIEF

He seemed as young as Frank Buckman. In his face also was the disbelief, the horror of knowing that he, too, was finished with life.

A third man stood at the far end of the bar. No other head showed. What few patrons there had been were still huddled beneath poker tables or back of the bar.

The third man held a pistol in his hand. It was pointed at Dan. Dan's guns were leveled on this opponent.

★ ★ ★

The third man was about Dan's age. There was grief and despair in his face. He was a man who had led his young brother to his grave.

At that moment the brother rolled over on his side. His hands drummed the floor in the final throes of death. Then he lay still.

BALTIMORE (AP) — "The Sound of Music" will be done entirely in Latin Jan. 19 by Latin classes at Overlea High School. Last year, the school did "West Side Story" in Latin.

Anthony Capezio, an instructor at the school, said Thursday the students have been working on the two-hour production since last May.

Must Push for Guns AND Butter---Meany

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany urges Americans to insist Congress support President Johnson's Vietnam war policies without cutting back social legislation at home.

"They must speak for the unfinished, unstarted and underfunded programs," including education, job training, Social Security and consumer protection, said the head of the 14-million-member labor organization.

"Above all else, the people of America must insure that their legislators support their President and their armed services in Vietnam and that our defense of freedom in Vietnam is not used as a false excuse for halting progress at home," Meany said in an AFL-CIO report issued today.

He said the record of the 90th Congress, which begins its second session next week, can be summed up as "inadequate funding and unfinished business."

BY CONSTITUENTS

"What the 90th Congress does in its second session will be determined, not by lobbyists or by official spokesmen, but by constituents who make their voices heard," Meany said.

"In 1967 these voices rescued a good meat-inspection bill from forces that would have fatally weakened, it, and saved the whole complex poverty and urban programs from what loomed as inevitable ruin," he said. Congress last year voted to hike Social Security benefits "only at the cost of an incredible retrogression in the field of public welfare," the labor leader declared.

★ ★ ★

"The whole matter of job creation for the hard-core unemployed, so urgent in this time of crises, can no longer be delayed," Meany said.

He also called for further steps to assure equal rights and equal opportunity for all, and said action is particularly needed in open housing. Meany urged that farm workers be covered by federal labor laws.

Big Beds Gaining Favor

NEW YORK (AP) — Queen-size, king-size and king extra-long beds are crowding regular-size beds out of the bedroom.

That's the word from the National Association of Bedding Manufacturers which reports that 40 times as many big beds were sold last year as were sold 10 years ago.

★ ★ ★

The big beds accounted for 20 percent of sales last year against less than one half of one per cent in 1957.

Extra-size beds aren't new but the demand for them is.

"Young couples aren't thinking of anything other than kings or queens," says Elaine Bornheutter, president of Hale's Bedding Stores, Inc., in New York City.

PRESTIGE ITEM

Why? People are bigger, they want to be more comfortable and the bigger bed is becoming a prestige item, according to the manufacturers.

Twenty per cent of American men are 6 feet tall or taller against only 4 per cent in 1900. Since 1960 the average man has become seven pounds heavier and the average woman 11 pounds heavier.

★ ★ ★

The standard double bed size is 54 by 75 inches. The queen is 60 by 80, the king 76 by 80 and the king extra long 76 by 84.

Manufacturers expect the interest in bigger beds to push sales this year over the $1 billion mark for the first time. Last year's sales were estimated at $950 million.

ODD SHAPED BEDS

And there's another, though smaller, trend in the offing: odd-shaped beds. Among these are round beds and beds made in the shape of a heart, a piano and, for one Long Island couple that shopped at Hale's, a teardrop.

Prof Grades in Extremes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Patrick Gallagher, chairman of George Washington University's anthropology department, announced to the nearly 500 freshmen in his introductory course that for the semester just ending every one of them will get a grade of A. He got applause.

He plans to announce grades soon to another 100 students in his psychological anthropology class. Their reaction isn't likely to be applause.

★ ★ ★

He says every one of them will get an F.

Gallagher, 37, said Thursday he doesn't believe in grades and that his actions aim at making everyone think about the issue. Grades get in the way of learning, he told an interviewer.

SELF AS EXAMPLE

Gallagher pointed to himself as an example of what he considers the absurdity of grades. He said he graduated 228th in a class of 235 at Turtle Creek (Pa.) High School but first in a class of 2,000 at the University of Pittsburgh.

Gallagher said he will grade final exams for the students but won't give the grades to the registrar.

Calvin Linton, dean of the Columbia College of Arts and Sciences and Gallagher's immediate superior, said: "In all justice to the students, something will have to be done."

State Pesticides Council to Be Organized Sunday

EAST LANSING (AP) — A group of concerned citizens has announced an organization meeting this Sunday at Michigan State University to form a Michigan pesticides council to fight the threat posed by long-lasting chemical poisons.

Sparking the organization was a court fight last fall over plans by the State Agriculture Department to use the chemical spray Dieldrin to control Japanese beetles in Berrien County. Environmental Defense Fund, Inc., a New York group, lost an attempt to block the spraying, which they contended could damage fish, wildlife and birds in the area.

★ ★ ★

The State Conservation Department also has opposed the indiscriminate use of such sprays, saying Great Lakes fish, including newly planted salmon, could be threatened.

Dr. John Kitchel, president of Michigan United Conservation Clubs and a spokesman for the organizing group, said it will seek reasonable solutions to a complicated problem.

CONCERN INCREASING

"I am becoming increasingly concerned by evidence indicating some poisonous chemicals now in use have a harmful effect on the human body and upon other beneficial organisms in our environment," said Kitchel, a practicing physician and chief of staff of the Grand Haven Hospital.

Invitations to the 2 p.m. meeting at the MSU Museum have been sent to Michigan leaders representing labor, industry, government, education, conservation and others, Kitchel said.

★ ★ ★

Organizers said they are disturbed by contradictory testimony by various experts as to the need for using poisonous chemicals and the damage they can do.

Outboard Count

LANSING (AP) — Michigan, with 479,000 outboard motors in use last year, placed second nationally only to New York with 608,000, reports the State Conservation Department. The state had 29,400 outboard motor sales during the year, third behind New York and Florida.

Medicare Use Not Heavy---Yet

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Publications

WASHINGTON — In its 18 months of life, Medicare's big hospital insurance program, financed under Social Security, has poured out $4 billion in covering the hospital bills for 7.6 million admissions of aged persons.

There were not that many elderly individuals involved, since it is estimated one in four instances represents a hospital readmission.

Also paid out in the 18 months under Social Security's Medicare "arm" was $275 million covering bills for 405,000 admissions to nursing homes and other so-called "extended care" facilities.

Besides that, $32 million in bill payments went out to cover the beginnings of "home health care" for 350,000 cases. Some of this latter expense was paid by premiums charged in part to elderly patients participating in the supplemental "doctor bill" insurance program.

★ ★ ★

If the calculated repeat factor is eliminated from hospital admissions, some 5.7 million elderly folk out of 19 million in the hospital insurance program took advantage of it in its first year and a half.

NO GREAT RUSH

This did not exactly constitute the great rush of the elderly to the hospitals which some authorities foresaw.

With a doctor shortage estimated in some quarters at 50,000 and getting worse, and a nurse shortage as well, it is unquestionably fortunate for the nation's health-care structure that it was not more heavily burdened.

Nevertheless, with so many millions in the program and more to be added as the ranks of people past 65 continue to grow, it is reasonable to expect that the Medicare hospital insurance undertaking will be much enlarged in the years immediately ahead.

★ ★ ★

How all this is to be coped with is not entirely clear. Various studies of health manpower and facilities have been made or are under way — some at the highest levels. The matter is judged to be urgent even without some future deluge from Medicare patients.

PREMIUM GOES UP

About 17.6 million of those signed up in the first 18 months for the optional supplemental insurance covering mostly doctor bills. For this insurance, the signers pay a monthly premium which the government matches. (It was $3 for signers but goes up this year.)

Through the first year and a half under this supplemental program, Medicare paid out $1,311,000,000 to cover 28 million doctor bills submitted.

In the beginning months, there was an average five-week lag in the payment of such bills. Now it is down to two weeks.

★ ★ ★

Beginning this month, hospitals will get their money under the hospital insurance program on a more expeditious basis.

PAY PLAN OFFERED

Those among the 6,900 hospitals participating in the Medicare system can estimate their probable Medicare charges for the entire year, divide the total cost by the 52 weeks of the year, notify the government of the weekly figure, and be paid that weekly sum steadily through the year. This plan is, however, optional with the hospital.

The impact of Medicare on facilities other than regular hospitals is becoming enormous. Some 4,200 nursing homes and other extended care facilities presently participate, and the number will rise as more qualify by supplying adequate services.

Also taking part are 1,900 home health agencies (a visiting nurses' association, for instance) and some 2,400 independent laboratories providing various kinds of diagnostic services.

★ ★ ★

As if the normal, expected enlargement of the 65-and-over age group were not enough to pose heavy future difficulties for Medicare and the nation's health facilities, the hospital insurance effort was liberalized in late 1967 to throw still bigger burdens onto the program.

WBH Takes to Skis

By BOB BROWNE

Flourishing skis and flashing smiles, West Bloomfield Ski Club this week made its first trip of the season, journeying to Mount Holly.

The group plans to ski every week until the end of the season, providing transportation is available.

This year's president is Kathy Van-Acker, who works with sponsor Ted Nelson in managing affairs of the club.

The Ski Club has only one officer, who handles all paper work.

★ ★ ★

The membership numbers more than 150 students with the ranks swelling every day.

POSTER COMPETITION

This week is "Poster Week" at West Bloomfield, with members of all classes urged by the Student Council to decorate their lockers with posters.

Posters will be judged by Student Council representatives.

Purpose of the contest is to raise school spirit for the basketball game tonight against the Northville Mustangs, with whom WBH shares the lead in the Wayne-Oakland League.

Judges will consider number and originality of posters.

FRESHMEN GET LOCKERS

Freshmen are cheering as the additional lockers have finally been installed and assigned to students.

This ends nearly a semester of hanging coats on hooks and keeping books on shelves in their homerooms.

The debate team ended its regular season this year in second place in the Wayne-Oakland League and in first place in the newly formed Oakland "B" league by splitting Tuesday with Our Lady of Mercy.

Collecting a 10-6 won-lost record, the team is awaiting the District meet to be held at Pontiac Central next week.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Girls' Athletic Association's basketball team soon will begin play.

★ ★ ★

Student Council is organizing a snow carving contest to be held in the near future between the four classes. It will be judged by the council representatives.

Groves Holding Play Auditions

By BENITA ROSEN

Scores of dramatically and musically inclined students are auditioning for roles in "West Side Story," the spring musical and the first drama production to be held at Wylie E. Groves this year.

The Little Theater, where tryouts are taking place this week, has been full of leotard-clad thespians attempting modern dance-type leaps and kicks, while belting out numbers like "Tonight" and "Get Officer Krupke." Results of the auditions will probably not be available until sometime next week.

"West Side Story," originally a popular Broadway musical, is the tale of two rival street gangs on the west side of New York City.

Complications arise when Tony, a member of the Jets, falls in love with Maria, who is the sister of Bernardo, the leader of the Sharks, bitter enemies of the Jets. A rumble results, bringing tragedy to the lovers, and igniting the sparks of excitement in the plot.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Peter LaBatt, drama and speech instructor, will direct the production, sponsored by the National Thespians and Dramaticus troups at Groves. This will be Mrs. LaBatt's third play at the school, her first two being "Thieves' Carnival" and "Guys and Dolls."

DATES NOT SET

The dates that the musical will be presented have not yet been determined.

During the next few months, the Groves Social Work Club will participate in several activities. According to the club's sponsor, Mrs. William Sharrard, they will hear lectures once a month by professional social workers, pay a visit to the Northville State Mental Institution and plan an activity for the children of the Pontiac State School.

Troy High Seniors Seeking More Traditional Privileges

By LINDA SWEET

Troy High School seniors are striking out for more of the traditional privileges accorded seniors of other schools and of previous Troy graduating classes.

In a petition presented to the Student Government this afternoon by the class's public relations officer, Ted Greenstein, seniors stated several grievances and the lack of respect for seniors in general.

Among the suggestions made to improve the present situation were reinstatement of the senior section during all assemblies and concerts, senior slave day, senior skip day, and the performance of a senior play.

In considering the best interests of the entire student body, the reinstatement of the awarding of the megaphone to increase class competition was also suggested.

In previous years the megaphone was awarded at each pep assembly to the class with the most spirit. The class year was then inscribed on it.

The Troy High Teen Club held its first meeting Monday night. Recreation included sports and dancing to a live band. The club is open only to those possessing membership cards.

On Jan. 19, a Sing-Out Detroit cast will present a 45-minute program to an assembly of the Troy student body.

Novi Plans Fun

By THOM HOLMES

The N Club of Novi High School hopes to sponsor a student-faculty basketball game. The varsity team would play a select group of teachers.

★ ★ ★

The student population of the school is too small to choose a student team from pupils who are not on the team already. The teachers defeated the students last year.

A donkey basketball game is being considered by the Junior class.

The girls' basketball season began this week.

Juniors Sell School Pins

By ANDI BARNES

Juniors at Dominican Academy are at it again. They are sponsoring another sale to build up their class treasury. This time, however, the juniors have undertaken a project that not only involves the class, but the whole school as well. The juniors are selling school pins.

Posters went up around the school Monday, and orders were taken Tuesday and Wednesday. The pins have a large D. A. connected by a chain with the year of graduation and can be obtained in gold or sterling silver and in any year desired.

This is the first time that pins of this sort have been sold at Dominican. Juniors are hopeful that the students will like the pins, not only because of the money (they only make 30 cents on the dollar) but because the pins are a symbol of the school.

The Ski Club had its first outing Thursday. The academy girls with the girls on campus at DeLima College ski at Mount Holly each week.

Avondale Spirit Risers Busy

By JAN MALANE

The Spirit Risers of Avondale High School is the organization dedicated to making AHS the best in athletics and in spirit.

Officers of the club are Larry Jones, president; Sandy Keller, vice president; Terry Ferguson, secretary; and Mary Holmes, treasurer. The faculty adviser is William Lightcap.

The Spirit Risers grew out of last year's Pep Club. While meeting to draw up a new constitution, the Pep Club decided a new name was appropriate.

Purpose of the club is to have not only the members of the cub support school activities but to involve every student and teacher at AHS in school activities.

★ ★ ★

Each day this week a different activity was planned by the Spirit Risers.

TAGS FOR TEACHERS

Monday, teachers were provided with tags to wear. On these tags was the name of the college from which the teacher graduated and that school's color and mascot. It took over a week for three members of the Spirit Risers to get the information from teachers. Another three hours were required to make the tags.

Tuesday, teachers were asked to wear purple and gold, the colors of AHS. Many teachers even borrowed school sweaters from their students.

Wednesday, a contest was held to find out which teacher was the cutest as a baby. It took two weeks to obtain all of the baby pictures from teachers.

★ ★ ★

Students brought apples to their favorite teacher on Thursday. About four hours of work went into advertising for the project, including hanging paper apples in the Hive.

A SUCCESS

Today students voted for the most humorous, the toughest, the slave driver, and the faculty pepster of the week. Dedicated Spirit Risers made Faculty Week a success.

★ ★ ★

The Spirit Risers hope to get publicity throughout the community so that they can carry the spirit of AHS outside of the school and create pride among the students of Avondale for their school.

Mott

By JOAN EDGINTON

Monday was a day of excitement and importance for sophomores at Waterford Mott High School. Orders and deposits were taken for the charter class rings.

The ring was designed specifically for the Corsairs. On the left is a coat of arms, divided into quadrants by the Polaris, an instrument used for guidance by mariners.

Each quadrant features symbols representing the many areas of education. The right side shows the Corsair ship with a block "M" incised in the main sail, and a banner with the name Corsairs on it to symbolize Mott's school spirit and athletic achievement.

The graduation date, 1970, is on the lower shank of the ring. Each ring is of white gold and is set with an aquamarine gem stone.

Despite Blue Chip Weakness

Stock Market Rise Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — The over-all stock market continued to move higher early Friday afternoon while weakness in blue chips depressed the popular averages. Trading was active.

It was the third straight day of such contradictory performance.

While gains outnumbered losses by a ratio of nearly 7 to 4, the Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 1.39 at 898.40.

Profit taking was one reason cited for weakness in blue chips which put in a surprisingly strong performance in the first few trading sessions of 1968.

Stock market interest was rotating quickly to a variety of issues, many of them modestly priced stocks which seemed to give promise of good percentage gains to the small investor looking for something he could buy in 100-share lots.

Market sentiment was bolstered by a leveling off in long-term interest rates, Commerce Department relaxttion of foreign investment curbs and an increase in lendable funds of commercial banks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .3 at 325.9 with industrials off .7, rails unchanged and utilities off .1.

American Telephone, off a fraction, continued to relapse from its upward splurge of the first few trading days.

Losses of a point or so were taken by such blue chips as Goodrich, Goodyear, Sears Roebuck, General Electric, Illinois Central and Pfizer.

IBM ran up 11 points, inspired by its rise in earnings to $11.61 a share for 1967.

The tread was higher on the American Stock Exchange.

2 Area Homes Hit by Thieves

Stolen Items Valued at More Than $2,000

Items worth more than $2,000 were stolen in break-ins at two Waterford Township homes reported to township police yesterday.

Worst hit was the Henry Laughlin home at 3937 Dill where an estimated $1,600 to $1,700 worth of possessions was taken.

An estimated $437 worth of items and $50 in cash were reported stolen from the Pantel Pantelides home at 4304 Sashabaw.

Township police said the loot taken from the Laughlin home included three cameras, five watches, two necklaces, a diamond ring, opals, a jewelry box, a slide projector, a transistor radio, sweaters and scissors.

★ ★ ★

The intruders gained entry by opening the garage door and entering through an unlocked kitchen door.

Taken from the Pantelides home was a $250 wristwatch, 10 car stereo tapes, a pistol, a revolver, a necklace and ammunition.

Wed 42 Years, Divorce Granted

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Judge Murray Feiwell tried to be a mediator and asked a wife if she didn't think she and her husband could live together again. The woman replied: "I don't think I could anymore. I tried too long."

★ ★ ★

The woman, 80, was granted a divorce from her 81-year-old husband after a marriage lasting 42 years.

Ground-Breaking Is Moved Indoors

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Ground - breaking ceremonies were held indoors Thursday for the Collins & Aikman Corp. Science and Service Center to be built near Charlotte.

★ ★ ★

A controlled chemical reaction in a test tube replaced the traditional dynamite blast as civic and business leaders gathered in the City Club because of snow and icy roads.

Collins & Aikman is a textile firm.

Sculptor Pursues Stolen Daphne

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Daphne, the bashful nymph pursued by Apollo in Greek mythology, apparently has her admirers in Albuquerque, too. Ken Dunagan of Albuquerque reported Thursday that his five-foot, 100-pound statue of Daphne was stolen from his front patio.

He said the piece of sculpture, made of plaster over wire with a head resembling a swan and greenish-black in color, is worth at least $200.

Car's Flank Damaged; Horse Just Scratched

A confrontation on Dixie Highway near Holly between a Cougar and a horse produced surprising results.

The Cougar suffered a banged-in side, and the horse —as far as is known today—was only scratched.

Jerry Allen, 30, of Utica, an employe of Sears Roebuck & Co. in Pontiac, was driving his Cougar north on Dixie three miles south of Holly on his way skiing about 7:15 p.m. Wednesday when the mishap occurred.

He said a group of horses was out of a fenced-in field and running along the road. One of the horses ran into the side of his car, he said.

★ ★ ★

The horse bounced off the car, retreated back to the field and showed up a few minutes later with the only visible wounds a few scratches, witnesses said.

Allen said damage to his car was estimated at $500.

Accreditation Reduced, State Hospital Reports

Pontiac State Hospital's accreditation has been reduced from three years to one because of inadequate staffing and physical facilities.

Hospital Supt. Dr. Donald W. Martin reported that the reduction was made by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals after its visit to Pontiac State in November.

The commission said the appropriations by the state simply have not been sufficient to provide adequate staffing and facilities, according to Martin.

He said the commission found no significant fault with the quality of the hospital's programs.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac State Hospital has a shortage of 134 nursing positions, of which 42 occurred during the current fiscal year because of budgetary cutbacks, Martin said.

'NOT COMPETITIVE'

Another problem Martin explains is that it is difficult to recruit qualified male attendant nurses because their salaries are not competitive with those offered by large local industries.

★ ★ ★

"We are expected to provide programs comparable to those in a general hospital but with the expenditure of from one-fourth to one-fifth as much per patient per day," Martin commented.

"Perhaps what is most needed, as an addition to our administrative equipment, is a magic wand."

New Machine Probes Protein

By Science Service

NEW YORK, — A machine that rips apart the basic building blocks of living matter promises to solve evolution and tell who is related to whom — while it also attacks a range of inherited illnesses.

This machine — called a protein sequenator — can do in minutes what today's scientists spend decades on. One prototype now exists; scientists and instrument makers in widely separated laboratories are readying the design for mass production.

And scientists with concern as varied as the relationship among flamingos, herons and geese and the problems of multiple sclerosis are lining up to buy them — when they become available.

An Australian scientist designed, and American instrument makers are perfecting, the protein sequenator.

★ ★ ★

What was considered pointless daydreaming about protein analysis even 10 years ago has become a real possibility that is exciting evolutionists, biochemists and geneticists around the world.

Schools Seek Study Rooms

Thirteen Oakland County school districts have requested adjusted study classrooms next year for children with behavior problems.

The requests were presented to the Oakland Schools Intermediate District Board of Education yesterday for budgetary considerations.

Oakland Schools' 28 local districts requested a total of 75 additional special education classrooms, including 47 for adjusted study, 19 for mentally handicapped and 13 for perceptual development.

Twelve districts now operate 24 adjusted study classrooms.

In other business, the board changed its regular meeting time from afternoon meetings to the second and fourth Tuesday of the month at 7:30 p.m., effective next month.

Planning Unit Board to Hear D.C. Group

A national planning organization from Washington, D.C., will present approaches to comprehensive community planning to the Pontiac Area Planning Council board of governors Feb. 8.

Planning Council governors last night also decided to line up presentations by two other firms — Victor Gruen and Associates of Los Angeles and New York, and Booz, Allen, Hamilton & Associates of Chicago, Ill.

The Washington firm is Urban American, Inc. Council members may engage one or more firms to act as consultants in drawing up long-range plans for the development of the Pontiac area.

Also discussed last night was hiring of a project director — a full-time position — who would act as a liaison between the council's board of governors, the administrative committee and any consultants hired.

★ ★ ★

Only 23 governors or their representatives attended the meeting. The board of governors has 36 appointed members.

A spokesman said meetings of the Pontiac area Urban League and the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity prevented a number of governors from attending.

Falling Girders at Building Site Hurt Detroit Man

A Detroit man was injured seriously yesterday when four steel girders fell on him at a construction site at the Buick Motor Division service parts warehouse, 5260 Williams Lake, Waterford Township.

The victim, Frank Geanette, an employe of the Whitehead and Kyle Construction Co., is a patient in the intensive care unit at Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

According to township police, Geanette received a compound fracture of the left leg, arm and shoulder.

The mishap occurred shortly before 11:30 a.m.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — My wife will soon inherit $6,000 and she would like to obtain some pin money income from her inheritance. I am considering equal purchases of the following which appear to be relatively safe with some prospect of appreciating fast enough to counter inflation. My selections are New York Electric & Gas; Jersey Standard; Anaconda; U. S. Steel; Reynolds Tobacco. What is your opinion? — J. B.

A — I commend you for picking five strong and safe income stocks. If yield is her major objective, these would be satisfactory for your wife. I cannot agree, though, that they offer you much inflation protection. New York Electric is a good stock, but like other utilities it is in competition with bonds for the conservative dollar. If you are patient, this would be my favored stock in your group for income and future long-term growth. Jersey Standard sells below its best levels of 1957 and Anaconda, Big Steel and Reynolds Tobacco have made no real price progress for years. I suggest you substitute for these last three: Talon, a stock of lower yield which has established a fine record and is just beginning to get favorable recognition; Skil Corp.; Del Monte; Stewart-Warner.

Q — I have read that certain savings and loan associations are in difficulties. I have half my money in California S & L. I am now wondering if my money is safe. If an association failed, would I be fully protected? My accounts are all insured by the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corp.—R.R.

A — The Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corp. protects all accounts up to $15,000 per individual account. The corporation is an instrumentality of the government and I believe that if you limit your deposits to $15,000 in each account, you have nothing to worry about. I should like to add that California is one of the best-regulated states and I foresee no difficulties in any of its savings and loan banks.

ORCHARD LAKE LEVEL CONTROL

3rd-Class Mail Rate Clarified

Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson said today there seems to be a misunderstanding by the public as to the proper rate for single-piece third-class mail.

★ ★ ★

Third-class mail is advertising matter and small parcels of merchandise weighing less than one pound.

The new rate is six cents for the first two ounces and two cents for each additional ounce or fraction.

This was an increase of two cents on the first two ounces over the old rate of four cents for the first two ounces.

Many people are apparently under the false impression that it was raised from four to five cents, according to Donaldson.

★ ★ ★

Any mail rated incorrectly will be marked postage due and the deficient amount collected upon delivery to the adressee.

GREETING CARDS

Greeting cards, even unsealed are now six cents.

★ ★ ★

Donaldson also said that any letters recieved at the post office with a five-cent stamp and a penny pasted on will be returned.

Snow Woman Film Is Sold

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — John Green, a weekly newspaper editor, and Rene Dahinden, a lead salvager, said Thursday they have bought the Canadian rights of a 30-second film clip said to show an abominable snow woman, or sasquatch.

★ ★ ★

They said they bought the film, which Roger Patterson of Yakima, Wash., said he made in Northern California last fall, for $1,500.

★ ★ ★

The pair said they intended to use the film in a one-hour movie they are making in hopes of proving sasquatches do exist on the West Coast.

Feb. 2 Is Deadline for Voter Sign-Up

Unregistered voters wishing to vote in the primary election in Pontiac March 4 have only three weeks to register.

City Clerk Olga Barkeley said Feb. 2 is the last day ineligible voters may register and still cast ballots in the primary.

Voters will be choosing two candidates in each of the city's seven voting districts in the March election.

The city's general election — to choose seven city commissioners for two-year terms — will be held in April.

★ ★ ★

Primary elections will not be held in districts where no more than two candidates have filed. The two filing would be automatically nominated in that district and would face each other in the general election.

ALREADY REGISTERED

Mrs. Barkeley said those persons who have already registered under the permanent registration system and who have voted within the last two years do not have to reregister.

The city clerk's office will be open to take registrations from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

In addition, the office will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 27 and from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 2.

The clerk said that residents can transfer registrations from one address to another within the city by applying in person or by sending a signed request to the city clerk, giving the voter's former and new address.

Bug Love Juice May Aid Crops

Sugar Beet Wireworm Is Target of Science

WASHINGTON (AP) — When the love bug bites the sugar beet wireworm from now on, it could be the death of him.

For when he thinks love is in the air it could be just a trap set by scientists who want to keep him out of the potato and lettuce patches of the Pacific Northwest and western Canada, where the sugar beet wireworm causes considerable crop damage.

Scientists reported today the isolation and identification of the chemical used by the female sugar beet wireworm to lure males to lovemaking. They said it opened up possibilities for a new trap-bait for fighting this major agricultural pest.

Researchers Martin Jacobson and Charles Harding of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Beltsville, Md. Research station, and Charles E. Lilly of Canada's Department of agriculture at Lethbridge, Alberta, reported the finding in today's issue of the technical journal Science.

CHEMICAL PLENTIFUL

They said the sex-lure chemical had been identified as valeric acid—which is also readily available in the chemical industry.

Industrially, the acid is derived from such sources as petroleum distillates. It is employed in various kinds of organic syntheses.

In laboratory tests, the researchers said, "intense sexual excitement" was stimulated in male wireworms when dilute solutions of the extracted chemical were deployed in the laboratory.

In field tests, males were lured from distances of almost 40 feet when samples of the love chemical were exposed to the air.

Indicating efforts would now be made to put the finding to practical use, the scientists said the stability, volatility and ready availability of valeric acid from industrial sources make it a potentially valuable material for surveying for infestations of the insect. It also could be used as a bait in traps for population control, they said.

Liquor Permits Available Here

Pontiac Quota 55; 52 Licenses Issued

Would you like to own a bar?

Although a business of this type requires many prerequisites, the most important is a liquor license.

Pontiac appears to be one of the few places in the Detroit metropolitan area that has a quota of licenses available that exceeds the number of license holders.

According to the Liquor Control Commission, the quota for liquor licenses for consumption on the premises is 55. At the present time, however, there are 52 licenses issued.

This includes Class C, B-hotel and tavern licenses.

The breakdown of license holders:

- Class C — authorizes sale of beer, wine and spirits for consumption on the premises — 36.
- B-hotel — authorizes sale of beer, wine and spirits for consumption on the premises and in the rooms of bona fide registered guests — 2.
- Tavern — authorizes sale of beer and wine (16 per cent or less alchohol by volume) for consumption on the premises — 14.

Of these, five businesses also hold accompanying dance or entertainment permits. Three are Class C, one a tavern license and one a B-hotel.

Those present license holders eager to get dance or entertainment permits might run into stumbling blocks, however.

The present City Commission, which makes recommendations closely followed by the LCC, looks askance at any new dance permits or entertainment permits.

Commissioners are not eager either to see new Class C bars unless they might be of the higher class kind serving elegant meals.

POSSIBLE CHANGE

A change in the commission membership — terms of all seven commissioners expire in April — could change this, however.

Ostensibly a new license figures to be one of the lesser expenses of a new bar.

While established licenses, along with the existing bar facilities, a faithful clientele and some good will can cost thousands of dollars, a new Class C license goes for only $500, payable to the state.

Walter M. Noack, director of enforcement, said new applications must be made to the LCC giving the exact location of the establishment.

The names of all applicants are sent to the local legislative body for consideration and in cases where more than one applies for a license the city is asked to advise the LCC which prospective bar owner it favors.

Under the law, Noack said, a license can not be issued without the favorable recommendation of the local legislative body.

After receiving recommendations from the city, the LCC conducts its own investigation.

Part of this is to ensure that no location is within 500 feet of a church or school building since state law prohibits a bar that close to a church or school.

People in the News

By the Associated Press

Miguel Gonzalez' smile outshone even those of the airline counter clerks and stewardesses as he waited for the plane in New York.

Although he had to leave his wife and 6-year-old son behind, he was doing so for a good reason—a chance to get a college education.

Gonzalez, 25, was one of 38 young New Yorkers who left yesterday for Bishop College in Dallas, Tex.

The youths from the city's poor neighborhoods are being helped by the city's Neighborhood Youth Corps program.

Until now, Gonzalez faced a life of menial jobs, his lot as a dropout who left high school at 16 because his father died.

During his four years at college, life will be hard for his wife, Adilia, who makes $80 a week as a machine operator. "But she is happy for me because she knows how much I want to finish my schooling," said Gonzalez. "It will all be worth it later."

De Gaulle's Pen-Friend Writes Him Off

Lt. Col. Frederick Wagg, 77, has broken off a 20-year-old friendship with French President de Gaulle.

The colonel, who has been a pen-friend of the general since the end of World War II, has returned the Cross of Lorraine awarded to him during the war.

He wrote in an accompanying letter: "I can no longer regard you otherwise than one seeking to impose your will and a policy detrimental to the well-being of my country."

Wagg, of Dartmouth, England, has made this form of protest before.

Three years ago he returned his 12 war medals to Queen Elizabeth II because the Beatles were awarded the M.B.E. (members of the British Empire) in the honors list.

Composer to Honor U. S. Bicentennial

Composer-conductor Leonard Bernstein will compose a major work for the Philadelphia Orchestra in honor of the 1967 bicentennial of American Independence, Eugene Ormandy, maestro of the orchestra, said yesterday.

BERNSTEIN

Bernstein will retire soon as conductor of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra to devote more time to composing and other activities.

Ormandy said the scope of the work, financed through a grant from the American Philosophical Society, will be determined by Bernstein but that Ormandy and the composer had agreed it would be of "major proportions reflecting the enormous historical significance of the occasion."

Former Film Star Resigns Civic Post

Dorothy Lamour, the former movie star, has resigned from the Baltimore Civic Center Commission.

DOROTHY

Miss Lamour, in private life Mrs. William Ross Howard III, sold her home north of Baltimore last summer when she went on the road in the title role of the musical, "Hello, Dolly!"

She announced Wednesday that the 40-week tour is being extended and she will be unable to attend even occasional meetings of the commission.

In her early days, Miss Lamour played in 10 or 12 "Road" pictures with Bob Hope and Bing Crosby. Her costumes consisted of a sarong, flower in her hair and not much more.

A Look at TV

Glenn Trek a Bit Tedious

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK—"The Trail of Stanley and Livingstone," the first of NBC's occasional "Great Explorations" series, is the kind of worthy program that good, responsible parents want their children to see. If they happen to be people who enjoy travelogues, they will sit down with the kids and watch, too.

The hour-long special would have gone down easier in a Sunday afternoon time period. It was a documentary—a sort of fancied-up safari in the African wilds. The fancy part was its central figure, former astronaut John Glenn who headed the party and explained where they were and what they were seeing —impressive landscapes, wild animals, colorful natives.

★ ★ ★

The excuse for the program was that the party of 30 or so persons were following the path of reporter Henry Stanley when, for a journalistic scoop almost one hundred years ago, he spent 236 days hunting for missionary David Livingstone. At journey's end, he uttered the immortal line: "Dr. Livingstone I presume?"

Portions of Stanley's journal, telling of hardship, disease and mutiny among his bearers, were read occasionally. But generally, it stretched the viewer's credibility to try to relate the Stanley expedition to the emergence of African nations today.

Would you like to break the cigarette habit? CBS, in a somewhat novel approach in its forthcoming "National Smoking Test," will try to offer some constructive suggestions.

★ ★ ★

The program, to be broadcast next Tuesday, will offer not lectures on the dangers of smoking, but will present the "Insight Development Questionaire." Designed by an expert on the subject, the program will permit the individual viewer to find some clues about his personal makeup and suggest the reasons he smokes or does not smoke. This self-knowledge, the producer of the series suggests, may help him take the first giant step toward breaking the habit.

ABC will postpone its scheduled broadcast of "Laura," starring Lee Bouvier Radziwill, for one week and join the other two major networks on Jan. 17 in covering live President Johnson's state of the union address.

Four Russian Dissenters Are Sentenced

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Moscow City Court today sentenced four Russian dissenters to prison terms of one, two, five and seven years on charges of subversion and of having criminal ties with anti-Soviet emigres in Germany.

MOSCOW (AP) — The son of a former Soviet foreign minister and the wife of an imprisoned writer today denounced the trial of three young Soviet writers and their typist and called it "a stain on the honor of our state."

The court was expected to reach a verdict later today. The defendants—Alexander Ginsburg, 31, Yuri Galanskov, 28, Alexei. Dobrovolsky, 29, and Vera Lashkova, 21—are charged with anti-Soviet propaganda and agitation.

Pavel M. Litvinoff, son of the late Maxim Litvinoff, and Larisa Daniel, wife of writer Yuli M. Daniel, in a statement to western newsmen said the trial was rigged from the start and shot through with illegalities.

Litvinoff and Mrs. Daniel appealed to world opinion for "condemnation of this shameful trial." They said the defendants were innocent and should be released.

SENTENCES DEMANDED

The prosecution demanded sentences of seven years for Galanskov, five years for Ginsburg, two years for Dobrovolsky and one year for Miss Lashkova, the stenographer.

Dobrovolsky pleaded guilty and testified against the others, who denied their acts were crimes.

★ ★ ★

Litvinoff and Mrs. Daniel said the trial violated "the most important principles of Soviet law." They called it a "wild mockery, unthinkable in the 20th century."

They said Dobrovolsky gave false testimony against the other three, who "proved their own innocence."

PROCEEDINGS RELAYED

Litvinoff and Mrs. Daniel were not allowed in the courtroom, but presumably persons who attended relayed the proceedings to them. They accused Judge Lev Mironov of favoring the prosecution and stopping "attempts to depart from the rehearsed spectacle with cries of 'you're out of order.'"

Their long statement described harassment of witnesses who they said left the stand "almost in hysteria." They called for the "punishment of those guilty of perpetrating" the trial.

Litvinoff already had published abroad an interview in which he said a secret police agent tried to intimidate him from his activities on behalf of Soviet intellectuals in trouble with the government. Mrs. Daniel's husband was sentenced to five years at hard labor in 1966 for publishing abroad works satirizing life in the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

Watson became a full-time, paid member of the Waterford Township Fire Department in 1958. Schlutow joined the department in 1960.

Both men began serving as township volunteer firemen in 1955.

As Progress Closes Shop

Stogie Roller's Struggle Ends

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—Machines long ago made an anachronism of the skill that wrinkled, silver - haired Ben Young learned as a boy, but he kept on working at the only trade he knows.

Now, at last, another form of progress is going to end his futile struggle against mass production.

★ ★ ★

His two - man stogie factory, all that remains of Pittsburgh's once - prosperous cigar industry, is going to be torn down to make way for a new highway.

Young's bitterness is as strong as the pungent odor of tobacco that permeates the air of his dingy little shop.

DYING SKILL

Sixty years ago there were 5,000 stogie rollers in this area working for 800 small, individually owned factories. "Today you can't find five rollers," said the 75-year-old Young, deftly wrapping a seven - inch cigar with a leaf of Pennsylvania tobacco as he talked.

"This is a dead business. You can't produce enough, and if you can't produce you can't survive."

Hunched over a long, wooden workbench, Young and Clara Isbrand, 68, make bunches of stogies out of filler and binder tobacco. The bunches are put in a press, then wrapped individually in a leaf.

★ ★ ★

Together, Young and his only employe, turn out 300,000 cigars a year. "That's no stogies. The only way you can exist is to make a couple million a year," Young said.

MACHINE OUTPUT

"Two girls on a machine in a cigar factory make 5,000 a day. I'd need four girls to do the same, and it'd cost me twice as much. But there's no one left who knows how. And, besides, a hand can't do what a machine can.

★ ★ ★

"They make everything by machine today — shoes, clothes and what have you. There's no place anymore for the little man."

★ ★ ★

The stogie, shortened from Conestoga, is a thin cigar once favored by Conestoga wagon drivers. Young thinks stogie is a fancy name. When he started making them in 1906, at age 14, they were called tobies.

★ ★ ★

He recalled that he was paid at piece work $4.25 per 1,000 stogies. "I made 1,000 a day in 1911 and earned $25 a week."

NO MONEY

He sells them today to wholesalers for 6 cents each. "The demand is good, and I can't make enough. But there's no money in it. If I raise the price, the customers, especially the younger generation, will buy the machine-made cigars.

★ ★ ★

"So what do I do? I don't know anything else and I can't sit home and stare at the walls."

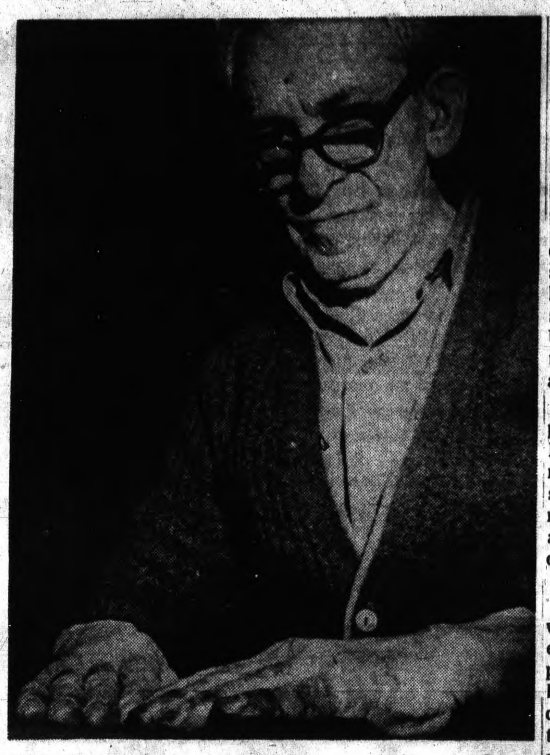

★ ★ ★

Nonetheless, Young is resigned to the fact that soon he will have to find something else to do. In a few months, the bulldozers will arrive to tear down his building.

★ ★ ★

"When they come to settle for the property, I'm going to take what I can, grab my hat and run out the door.

"This is a thing of the past."

ANACHRONISTIC SKILL—Ben Young, 75, of Pittsburgh, his hands stained from tobacco, puts the finishing touches on a hand-rolled stogie in his two-man factory. Young and a helper turn out about 300,000 stogies a year. He says that his business is a thing of the past, that two girls running a modern machine can turn out 5,000 a day.

LBJ Plans to Save Dollar Viewed by Foreign Press

LONDON (AP) — President Johnson's plans for saving the dollar have brought gloom to short-term world economic hopes, some foreign observers say. Others are now attacking U.S. involvement in Vietnam for the high cost in dollars as well as in lives.

"Both President Johnson's proposals for protecting the dollar and the Marshall Plan for rehabilitating Europe can be seen as American reactions to mounting political pressures abroad," said the Times of London.

★ ★ ★

"The depressing fact is that, whereas the Marshall Plan was expansionist, the Johnson proposals are restrictive. It would be wrong to blame the President for the measures he has taken; they had probably become inevitable. But the outlook for the world is gloomier than it was 20 years ago when an optimistic America was firmly feeling its way toward world leadership."

Measures to preserve the dollar's value aim at restoring the U.S. balance of payments. They include curbs on U.S. investment overseas and an appeal for Americans to defer pleasure trips outside the Western Hemisphere for two years.

TOURIST CLAMP-DOWN

For most European and many Asian countries, this means fewer American dollars from tourists and foreign-based U. S. companies, and therefore a slowdown in economic growth.

Among other comments gathered from foreign journals by the Associated Press this week were these sentiments from the Japanese newspaper Yomiuri: "President Johnson, in making public his program to defend the dollar, made no reference to the Vietnam war. But it is clear that the huge war expenses have kept the average U.S. family budget in the red."

★ ★ ★

West German editorial writers took the U.S. economy measures with surprising calm in view of the fact that the United States will certainly ask West Germany for a bigger share of defense costs there.

The news magazine Der Spiegel listed a number of arguments to justify mushrooming U.S. defense costs and said such arguments "were all right as long as the United States restricted itself . . . to taking restricted action in its own sphere of influence, as in Guatemala, the Dominican Republic or in the Bay of Pigs."

PUPPET REGIME

But in Vietnam, the magazine's publisher, Rudolf Augstein, charged, "the entire military machinery of the strongest and most responsible country in the world is engaged . . . to keep a corrupt, overdue puppet regime in power by means of murder and conflagration."

"It was not only the Vietnam war that forced President Johnson to take his foot off the accelerator and put it on the brake," declared Rome's independent, pro-Western daily Momento Sera. "The excessive propensity of consumption, the mania for unproductive outlays which in recent years has put more than one European country in crisis, is basically the most marked characteristic of American society, of the so-called American way of life."

WATER SPOUT — The winter sun adds some dazzle to a "geyser" created yesterday in Shelby Township when a high pressure main valve blew its top. The 100-foot spout continued for some 15 hours before repairs could be made.

Romney in N. H. Cold

NASHUA, N.H. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney began his presidential primary campaign in frigid New Hampshire today, shaking hands at the gate of an electronics plant as the sun rose.

★ ★ ★

Hatless in the below-zero cold, Romney greeted workers arriving at Sanders Associates, Inc., asking support in his campaign to upset former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, favored by the polls in New Hampshire's Republican race.

"We've got to get this country back on the track," the GOP governor said, as he clasped the hands and slapped the backs of entering workers.

"We've got to straighten out this mess," he told one man.

"We're in trouble."

Between greetings, Romney told reporters he expects to win the March 12 primary despite polls that show him trailing Nixon.

'GREAT TO BE HERE'

"It's great to be here and I'm looking forward to the contest," the Michigan governor said.

Even his campaign manager admitted the odds are not good in that contest.

"We're like a football team behind 14-0 at the beginning of the fourth quarter," said William R. Johnson, Romney's New Hampshire chairman.

★ ★ ★

"We can't make any mistakes, and we have to count on our opponents making some."

NIXON STARTS FEB. 5

The opponent, Nixon, has not yet announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the White House, and does not plan to begin his New Hampshire campaign until Feb. 5.

But Romney was up and away with an itinerary that defied the weather.

Romney's schedule had him outdoors to meet voters in three cities, but Johnson said there might not be many voters out in the cold.

Romney's opening day schedule had him on the road for 16 hours.

★ ★ ★

Romney forces were using a computerized mailiing list to contact 130,000 throughout the state, and buying time on 20 radio stations.

GREGORY LAUDS ROMNEY

Comedian and civil rights spokesman Dick Gregory praised Michigan Gov. George Romney Thursday as being two years ahead of his time on civil rights and probably "the most honest politician today."

Broken Water Main Valve Creates Shelby 'Geyser'

Shelby Township had its own version of Old Faithful yesterday.

The township's 100-foot "geyser," however, while roughly comparing to the Yellowstone landmark in size, had an added feature — it didn't stop spouting.

Reported to Shelby police at about 9 a.m., the towering column of water near Dequindre and 24 Mile Roads successfully resisted the attempts of township and Detroit repairmen to quench it manually until nearly midnight.

Then, according to Detroit Water Department information services director Tom MacPhail, the repair crew decided to throttle down the 35-million-gallon line and interrupt service.

★ ★ ★

After notifying residents of the area and warning them to stock up on house supplies, service was shut down while the 1½-inch valve responsible was replaced.

LOSS ESTIMATES

MacPhail placed water losses at "around 400 gallons a minute" while the spout continued. "Service was resumed at 3:15 a.m.," he added, "and most of the time between was spent gradually reducing pressure and building it back up again."

Repair crews had recently been working in the area, he said, and might have been responsible for the loose valve.

Avon Twp. Voters Decide Cityhood Question Monday

A week of intensive campaigning both for and against incorporation will culminate with a vote Monday in Avon Township.

Some 7,700 registered electors are expected to determine whether the township, exclusive of the City of Rochester, will start the process to cityhood.

Related Story, Page A-4

A favorable vote Monday would need to be followed by another favorable vote within two years for acceptance of a charter in order for the township to gain city status.

The charter would be written by nine of 15 candidates who are seeking election to the charter commission Monday.

★ ★ ★

If the vote is defeated, annexation petitions to join the whole township of Avon to the City of Rochester, now on file in the county clerk's office, would be due for consideration.

Both methods aim for unity of the two areas, according to their promoters. Backers of township incorporation claim a favorable vote would provide an atmosphere for equal bargaining on future merger talks.

Violence Erupts as Rusk Speaks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — With violence erupting between antiwar pickets and police outside, Secretary of State Dean Rusk spoke of an elusive peace in a foreign policy speech last night.

★ ★ ★

Cursing, bottle-throwing, brick-hurling pickets were massed across the street more than an hour before Rusk's appearance before 1,500 members of the Commonwealth Club and World Affairs Council.

Rusk was whisked inside without seeing the 500 or so demonstrators who were swept away by a wedge of police officers holding nightsticks in front of them. Fifty were arrested, many carried or dragged to patrol wagons. Police used an eye-smarting, gagging spray chemical to disperse the disorderly group, which continued to reform in smaller units for several hours.

Rusk delivered an informal speech on U.S. policy as the demonstrators shrieked and milled about outside.

★ ★ ★

His speech centered on Vietnam and the Middle East, but also touched on the balance of payments problem, the President's tax program, free speech and 1967 accomplishments.

U.S. Vows Nonaggression as Cambodian Talks Close

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Chester Bowles has promised Cambodia the United States "will do everything to avoid acts of aggression against Cambodia," according to a joint communique issued today at the end of Bowles' five-day mission to Phnom Penh.

At the same time, the Soviet Union moved quickly to oppose any agreement Bowles and Prince Norodom Sihanouk might have reached to restrict the use of Cambodian territory by the Vietnamese Communists.

Bowles, told newsmen as he left for New Delhi that he was "very satisfied with the successful talks."

It was believed in Phnom Penh that Sihanouk agreed for the three-nation International Control Commission to keep a closer watch on the border between Cambodia and South Vietnam. But Cambodian sources reported that Soviet Ambassador Sergei Koudriavtsev and M. Mylicki, the head of the Polish delegation to the ICC, had called on Sihanouk to express their opposition to a U.S. offer of two helicopters to assist the commission in border watching.

The two Communist representatives said their governments opposed the offer because the United States did not sign the 1954 Geneva agreements which got the French out of Indochina and set up the control commission.

Sihanouk had said earlier that he was favorable to the American offer but acceptance was up to the commission's three members — India, Canada and Poland — and the two cochairmen of the Geneva conference — Britain and the Soviet Union.

The Soviet ambassador also informed Sihanouk that his government agreed to new military aid for Cambodia, including 50 trucks.

All reports from Phnom Penh told of pleasant and cordial relations between Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, and Bowles during the four-day visit.

Stamps Still Sticky Subject

NEW YORK (AP) — Send more stamps.

That's the cry of postmasters around the nation, faced with long lines of people trying to adjust to the higher postal rates which went into effect Sunday.

Related Story, Page A-6

An Associated Press survey showed supplies of the new six-cent first-class and 10-cent airmail stamps were low in some centers, particularly outside large cities.

Many post offices were completely out of penny stamps sought by people who were left with a stock of the old, five-cent kind.

Stamps had to be rationed in some areas.

A Norton, Kan., man asked for 1,000 one-cent stamps and had to settle for 15 and a Denver man asked for 300 one-centers and got only three. And the postmaster in Warren Ohio, had to limit six-centers to 300 per customer.

FARED PRETTY WELL

Most large cities fared pretty well.

★ ★ ★

Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien announced Thursday that the post office plans to eliminate airmail as a separate service and send all first-class letters by air at the six-cent rate.

★ ★ ★

O'Brien said most of the mail already goes by air anyway and announced that in 1969 the Post Office Department will ask Congress to eliminate air postage rates in favor of a single class of priority service.

Two Trains Crash in N.J.; 200 Hurt

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — A New York-bound rapid transit commuter train crashed into the rear of another at the height of the evening rush hour Thursday injuring some 200 persons. Eighteen required hospitalization.

There were no fatalities. The injured began jamming the Jersey City Medical Center shortly after the 5:15 p.m. collision which occurred just west of the Port Authority Trans Hudson (PATH) tubes station at Journal Square here.

Jersey City Police Director George Whelan declared a state of emergency and police, Red Cross, fire and civil defense units swarmed into the area to evacuate injured.

Rescue operations were hampered because of the near-zero weather, and the locations of the trains in a open gully, or cut, just west of the station. Firemen used ladders to climb down the steep, ice-covered walls, of the gully.

2 TRAINS INVOLVED

A PATH spokesman said only two trains were involved in the collision.

However, some of the passengers claimed they were in a train that had been sideswiped by a second train and rammed by a third.

The PATH spokesman could offer no immediate reason for the collision.

The motorman of the standing train, William Wolff, 51, was awaiting clearance to enter the station. Thomas J. McCauley, 34, was motorman of the train which rammed Wolff's and he was among those hospitalized overnight.

McCauley said he got a warning to slow down as he approached the station. As he started to slow, his train rounded a southeast bend in the tracks and he saw the other train standing. "It was too late," he said.

Marines Boost Force Near DMZ by 3,500

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Marine force in South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces increased to 5,000 men today as another regiment was moved north to meet the threat of North Vietnamese divisions around the Demilitarized Zone.

★ ★ ★

Senior Marine officers said there are indications that the Communist troops will concentrate on the provinces of Quang Tri, which fronts the DMZ, and Thua Thien, just below it, in their expected spring offensive in the north.

★ ★ ★

The shift of the 3,500-man 5th Marine Regiment from an operating area south of Da Nang gives the Marines three more maneuver battalions—which can cover a wide area and aren't tied down in static defensive positions—in Thua Thien. Only two Marine battalions had been operating in the province generally.

INFANTRY EQUAL

The enlarged Marine force, together with about 12,000 South Vietnamese infantrymen, makes the allied and Communist forces in the DMZ theater of war about equal in infantry manpower, according to intelligence reports.

★ ★ ★

The allies began shifting troops last April to bolster the Marines under heavy ground and artillery attacks just below the DMZ. Units of the 1st Vietnamese Army Division are scheduled to replace Marines manning the frontier strongpoints of Con Thien and Gio Linh son, freeing more Leathernecks for offensive operations.

★ ★ ★

The 7,000-man Blue Dragon Brigade of South Korean Marines moved to Hoi An, 15 miles south of Da Nang, to take over for the U.S. Marines who moved north. The U.S. Army's Americal Division, reinforced last month by the arrival of the 11th Brigade from the United States, sent troops to Cape Batanga, 75 miles south of Da Nang, to replace the Korean Marines.

Israel, Egypt Swap POWs

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel today began repatriating 4,500 Egyptian prisoners of war, including five generals, in exchange for 16 Jewish soldiers and civilians detained in Egyptian prisons since the June war.

★ ★ ★

A "small number" of Egyptians started moving today, Red Cross sources said.

★ ★ ★

The exchange agreement — a breakthrough in Israeli-Egyptian relations—was announced by the International Red Cross in Geneva Thursday.

Terms were not disclosed, and a tight news blackout was imposed in Tel Aviv. But informants said the Egyptians were being hauled from the former British Army compound at Atlit, near Haifa, to El Qantara, on the Suez Canal.

NO WORD

The Atlit prison camp was sealed off, and there was no word on the prisoners' reaction to the news.

★ ★ ★

The Israelis on Jan. 1 released 500 Egyptian POWs from Atlit, including two generals. Until then Israel had released only sick or wounded soldiers.

★ ★ ★

The exchange agreement was proposed by Israel through the United Nations in an attempt to improve the warlike situation along its western front.

Copters Sent for Bodies in Plane Crash

BATTLE MOUNTAIN, Nev. (AP) — Three helicopters have been assigned to recover the bodies of 19 men killed in a Marine transport plane crash on a snowy, windswept mountain crag in desolate northeastern Nevada.

The Defense Department listed the number of victims at 19, reporting that a 20th man left the plane at Denver Wednesday before it began the last and fatal leg of a flight over one of the West's bleakest regions.

★ ★ ★

The 12th Naval District in San Francisco, supervising rescue operations, ordered the high-altitude 'copters to Nevada from El Toro Marine Corps base in Southern California.

One reached Fallon, Nev., late Thursday, refueled, then flew to the Battle Mountain airstrip to await dawn before attempting to reach the scene of the crash on 9,978-foot Mt. Tobin.

2 MORE DUE

The Navy said the other two 'copters were held overnight at Sacramento, Calif., but would fly to Mt. Tobin at daybreak.

Redford Voting Is Under Fire

LANSING (AP) — Citing a recently published book hinting at voting irregularities in Redford Township, 18 House members have introduced a resolution calling for a special legislative committee to investigate the charges.

Rep. John Bennett, R-Redford Township, was principal sponsor of the resolution, which mentions the book "The Romney Riddle" by Gerald O. Plas, which is critical of Gov. George Romney.

★ ★ ★

The book contends that irregularities, possibly including "fixed" voting machines, helped U.S. Rep. Jack H. McDonald defeat conservative Richard D. Kuhn of Pontiac in the 1966 Republican primary in the 19th Congressional District.

★ ★ ★

After his primary victory, McDonald ousted freshman Democratic congressman Billie S. Farnum.

The Bennett resolution said "these allegations are not only of importance to Redford Township, but are of importance to the entire voting system of the State of Michigan and should be investigated from the standpoint of maintaining purity of elections throughout the entire state."

If approved by the House, it would set up a five-member House committee to look into the Plas book's allegations.

Berz Airport Sold; Buyer Talks With Plane Owners

The Berz Airport in Troy has a new owner, but plane owners may not have to seek for a new home just yet.

Fred W. Parker Jr., president of Rockwell-Standard Divisions of North American Rockwell Corp., purchaser of the 140-acre facility, says talks are being carried on with aircraft owners to make long-range provisions for the area.

Parker added that the company plans a technical center on part of the property, located on Maple west of Crooks, but that a lease agreement will keep the airport open on its present basis temporarily.

"In the meantime," he continued, "the corporation is negotiating with representatives of aircraft owners who now use the airport to arrive at a long-range plan for operation of an airstrip at Berz Airport."

★ ★ ★

Milton H. Berz Jr., operator of the airfield, will continue to run it temporarily, Parker said.

RUMORS OF SALE

Rumors that the airport was be sold began circulating early in December, but pending a possible move by Oakland County to purchase the field for a public airport, no move was made.

★ ★ ★

The county, however, instead made plans to expand Orion Township's Oakland-Orion Airport.

★ ★ ★

Parker said plans for the new technical center will be announced shortly. The sale was handled by Snyder, Kinney & Bennett, Inc., a Birmingham real estate firm.

Storm Lashes Midcontinent

By The Associated Press

A massive winter storm pasted the midcontinent with snow, sleet and freezing rain today while the Northeast remained locked in a siege of record subzero cold which crept deep into the South.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of North Carolina families shivered through a night without heat and electricity as a small army of workers labored to repair power lines broken by a three-day ice storm. Repair efforts were frustrated by a forecast of more sleet and freezing rain through tonight.

Detroit Asks State OK for Levy Hike, New Tax

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit has asked the State Legislature for permission to double its municipal income tax, to impose excise taxes on such things as hotel and nightclub bills and to increase its debt limit.

The steps were recommended by a Task Force on City Finance, appointed by Mayor Jerome Cavanagh. It reported that without added revenue there will be a $39 million deficit in the city's budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

Cavanagh said the recommendations already have been passed on to the Legislature's Joint Taxation Committee with a request for action soon.

Present state laws limit city incomes taxes to 1 per cent on residents and ½ per cent on nonresidents working in the city.

★ ★ ★

"If the city does not get substantial relief such as that recommended," the task force said, "It will be faced with the alternative of massive and immediate cutbacks in vital services, with accompanying employ layoffs."

STATE AID

Even with added revenues, the task force said "significant assistance" from state and federal government will continue to be "absolutely essential."

The city income tax now produces $48.6 million of the city's total tax income of $418.6 million.

Permission to levy excise taxes, which also could apply to tickets for professional sports events and movies, was taken away from cities by the 1964 Legislature.

★ ★ ★

The city is asking that its bonding limit be increased from 20 to 25 mills of assessed valuation annually.

PAY RAISES

Included in the estimated deficit for the 1968-69 fiscal year, according to the mayor, are funds for pay raises for city employes, including policemen.

Railroads Start Insurance Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's railroad industry has unveiled a health and welfare plan for 1½ million workers and their families and says it will be financed through "the largest private insurance policy in the world with yearly premiums of about $220 million."

"The only larger plan is the government plan covering federal employes," said John P. Hiltz, chief railroad negotiator who worked out details with 30 union labor unions and virtually all the nation's railroads.

★ ★ ★

The agreement, said G. E. Leighty, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives Association, should improve labor relations in the rail industry, long troubled by disputes and strikes. He said some 500,000 rail workers will be asking wage hikes of six per cent or more this year.

The agreement covers life insurance, accidental death and disability and hospital, surgical and medical care for 615,000 workers. Family members bring the total number of persons covered by the plan to nearly 1½ million Leighty said.

Moon Mission Is Testing Soil

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists maneuvered Surveyor 7's soil-testing device into operation today and declared "this will increase our knowledge of the moon vastly."

The success marked a "full mission" for the spacecraft that soft-landed on the moon last Tuesday. Soil testing was a major purpose.

★ ★ ★

Using a digger scoop that makes trenches in lunar soil, scientists gave the shoe box-sized, soil-testing device a final shove today that placed it on the lunar soil, where it must be to make chemical analysis by radiation.

A spokesman at Pasadena's Jet Propulsion Laboratory said the data was being transmitted back to earth but added, "It'll be a week and a half before it can be analyzed."

'FULL MISSION'

"This was one of our most important experiments on the spacecraft—it makes it a full mission," the spokesman added.

Scientists thought Thursday night they had successfully lowered the soil tester to the surface. But they discovered they had only lowered it part way. It must be flush with the surface to function.

★ ★ ★

"If we don't get the data, I would be a great disappointment," the spokesman declared. "But these instruments are funny — temperamental — and have straightened out on earlier Surveyors."

Scientists especially want to learn the composition of this Surveyor's landing site because it is in a rugged highlands area, near the crater Tycho. Other moon vehicles have landed in lowland areas.

Scholarships to Go to Average Student

The college said the donor, who does not want his name known, feels that most scholarships are restricted to students who make As and Bs.

3 Juveniles Questioned in Model Homes Damage

Three juveniles have been questioned in connection with $5,000 to $7,000 worth of destruction to three model homes in Waterford Township.

The three were apprehended yesterday and were questioned by Pontiac State Police, Waterford Township police and Oakland County sheriff's deputies concerning the destruction which occurred early this week.

Police also believe the boys — 14, 15 and 16 years old — may have broken into two other establishments, burned down a house in Rose Township and stolen an automobile.

Two of the suspects escaped from the Oakland County Juvenile Home Jan. 4, according to State Police detectives.

★ ★ ★

BREAK-IN PROBED

Waterford Township police believe the youths were responsible for a break-in at Schoolcraft School, 6400 Maceday, reported Monday.

A tape recorder was stolen and machines and windows were broken in the break-in.

Sheriff's detectives questioned the suspects in connection with a recent break-in Tuesday at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club on Waterford Road in Independence Township and an $11,500 fire Saturday at the Channing Hitchcock home at 18501 Pellett, Rose Township.

★ ★ ★

A pistol and $28 in change were reported stolen from the club.

The youths were turned over to Probate Court.

Holly Hero Memorialized In Pentagon

Holly's War Ace Honored by Portrait in Pentagon

HOLLY TOWNSHIP — Further honors have come posthumously to the local war ace, 1st Lt. Karl Richter.

Shot down in the skies over North Vietnam last summer, Richter, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Richter, 11610 Dixie, has been immortalized by Maxine McCaffrey in a 6-foot painting now hanging in the Pentagon in Washington, D.C.

Richter, on his 198th mission when killed at age 24 was the youngest pilot to shoot down a MIG in Southeast Asia He was the recipient of the Distinguished Flying Cross with one oak leaf cluster, the Air Medal with 13 oak leaf clusters and a Vietnamese Distinguished Service Medal.

The outstanding young pilot was painted twice. One portrait was installed in Richter Hall at Korat, Thailand, where he was stationed. Gen. J. P. McConnell, chief of staff of the Air Force, was present for the unveiling.

The Pentagon picture is to be sent on tour of the United States during the coming year.

CHOSEN BY AIR FORCE

The California artist went to Southeast Asia last spring as the Air Force's choice to document pilots and men of the Tactical Air Command.

The painting depicts the pilot standing in full battle gear after a mission.

He was released.

Clarkston Adult Classes for Winter to Begin Monday

CLARKSTON — The winter term of the Clarkston area adult education program, aimed at persons interested in a continuing education program as well as those seeking recreation, will begin Monday.

Bishop sewing courses will be offered both in the afternoon and evening at three different locations — at the Community Center, Sashabaw School and the Junior High School. Knitting will also be offered.

A keypunch, comptometer and office machines course will be taught as will typing and possibly speed writing, if the demand is great enough, according to William Dennis, director of adult education.

Heli-arc welding is offered, as is men's and women's physical fitness programs, conversational German and first aid.

★ ★ ★

Registration will take place the evening of the scheduled class, Dennis said. Additional information may be obtained by calling the adult education office.

Now a Personal Issue

Avon Cityhood Vote Near

By JEAN SAILE

Electors of Avon Township will determine Monday the future of their community.

★ ★ ★

Government, which to most has been a hazy sort of thing carried out by "officials," has suddenly become very personal.

At issue is the incorporation of all of Avon Township lying outside the City of Rochester.

A "yes" vote, obtained as a simple majority, could mean that the two units would remain separate forever — or as its promoters say, it would only provide a more equal basis for future merger negotiations.

★ ★ ★

History disputes the latter contention. No successful merger between incorporated units has ever been accomplished in Michigan, according to material presented at recent public hearings.

SECOND VOTE

A favorable vote could also mean that the status of the two communities would be unchanged for a time. A "yes" vote Monday won't incorporate the township immediately. Such action would require a second favorable vote within two years on a proposed city charter.

Standing in the wings are annexation petitions gathered and filed with the county by the Rochester League of Women Voters and Area Jaycees for the purpose of annexing all of Avon Township to the city of Rochester should Monday's vote fail.

Annexation would also require still another favorable vote, probably sometime in the summer. Electors of both Rochester and of Avon Township would decide that outcome.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, there is Monday's ballot.

Voters, subject to numerous statements issued by promoters and objectors to township incorporation, are finding that the decision is not an easy one.

TAX QUESTION

Seemingly caught in the course of an unalterable chain of events, they are haunted by the spectre of increasing taxes over the already admittedly high taxes paid not alone in Avon Township and Rochester; but throughout Oakland County and the State of Michigan.

How much is it going to cost, has been the question most asked.

And nobody has a definite answer.

★ ★ ★

Also at stake is the admittedly sentimental, but still real, feeling of the residents to keep the two units as one entity.

The break in unity came early last year when Rochester Village voters, feeling the pressure of high township expenses about to be incurred in the establishment of sewer and water services and having their own such services, broke away from the township and incorporated as a city.

Before the incorporation was finalized the Avon Township Study Committee had filed incorporation petitions for the rest of the township in an effort to keep Rochester from annexing any high tax base lands lying adjacent to its boundaries.

The lines regarding the election have split evenly between the township and city governments.

★ ★ ★

A statement urging a "yes" vote was adopted by the township board Saturday. Rochester councilmen earlier issued a statement indicating opposition to incorporation of the township. It has been followed by several statements from individual councilmen urging a "no" vote Monday.

Both the League of Women Voters and the Jaycees have come out in opposition to the township's incorporation.

Also due to be on the ballot with the incorporation issue Monday is a list of 15 names of residents seeking nine available positions on a charter commission.

Those elected will be charged with the job of wriiting a charter acceptable to the people of the township should incorporation pass.

★ ★ ★

If Monday's vote fails, their election means nothing.

Candidates are:

Township treasurer.

Louis Berklich, 2409 S. Livernois, manager of the Rochester Branch, Secretary of State's Office.

★ ★ ★

George J. Ennis, 800 Ironstone, Avon Township trustee.

Harry S. Huber, 167 Winry, Avon Township Justice of the Peace.

Norman F. Kapcia, 212 Nesbit, an attorney.

George Karas, 1859 Fair Oak, director of physical plant, Oakland University.

Herman F. Lamb, 3783 Mildred, maintenance engineer, White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

★ ★ ★

William E. McCullough, 441 Willowtree, Avon Township trustee.

★ ★ ★

Eugene S. Nowicki, 280 Donegal, clerical and sales employe of National Twist Drill & Tool Co.

Arlen L. Rampson, 860 Castlebar, housewife.

Ross C. Rector, 229 Thalia, salesman for Montgomery Ward Co.

★ ★ ★

George L. Schutte, 708 Sandstone, project engineer, Oakland County Department of Public Works.

Thelma G. Spencer, 161 Perrydale, Avon Township clerk.

Marian Tymkow, 47955 Dequindre, housewife.

★ ★ ★

Harold Pepper, 325 Hillview, chairman, Avon Township Study Committee.

More Than $900,000

Farmington School Deficit Up

FARMINGTON — The school district's deficit for the current school year has escalated from an anticipated $200,000 to more than $900,000.

★ ★ ★

The deficit has grown since the original budget was adopted last June. The school board recently approved a revised 1967-68 budget.

This increase is due mostly to salary increases won in personnel contract negotiations and to some operation changes, reported Schools Supt. Roderick Smith.

The original budget listed a $200,000 deficit. The total deficit now of $912,541 will be covered by a reserve of $1.2 million, informed Schools Supt. Roderick Smith.

Revised expenditures are anticipated to be $9,351,525, an increase of $919,158.

However, the deficit is less than the increase because of higher-than-expected tax and state aid income. Taxes brought in about $100,000 more and State Aid about $122,000 more, said Smith.

The board of education also approved the use of eight elementary schools for a Saturday recreation program put on by the Farmington Area Recreation Commission.

The program, to be on six Saturdays starting Jan. 20, will be at Cloverdale, Eagle, Kenbrook, William Grace, Bond, Beechview, Gill and Shiawassee.

GARDNER, Colo. (AP) — A man pulled a knife and told Mrs. Leda Dietz and her ranch foreman: "I am going to kill you two."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dietz and the foreman, Bill Niehof, 67, wound up in the hospital for treatment of cuts.

The assailant wound up running from the ranch house after the 81-year-old Mrs. Dietz pounded him on the head with a steel poker.

★ ★ ★

Police, who said they could find no reason for the attack, held Julian Cerda, 54, gardner, on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Walled Lake Annexation Is 'Prize' in Tuesday's Vote

By BETTY ANN SCHULTZ

No one fights for something he doesn't want. Thus it is obvious someone wants what is on the ballot next Tuesday.

Judging from the looks cast between officials of the city of Walled Lake, Wolverine Lake Village and Commerce Township, the prize is indeed valuable.

A "yes" vote Tuesday means annexation to Walled Lake of about 10 square miles of the township and about three-quarters of a square mile of the already small village.

The campaigners have obsecured most of the issues.

Some residents have distilled the issues to the differences between urban and rural living.

Other voters eye projected tax rates versus future services.

Still other electors view Tuesday as a choice of who will govern whom.

One of the most bandied-about issues is sanitary sewers. While none of the three areas has them, Walled Lake has projected plans of installing them for itself and is promising them to parts of the village and township.

A recent change in the sewer system plans away from a local treatment plant to joining the Wayne County interceptor has clouded this issue.

Officials of each area have batted around the pleasure — or the pain — of the costs of the system as originally planned. The director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works. R. J. Alexander, currently reports that costs and the financing methods of the changed system are not yet definite, as the contracts already signed must be amended.

However, Walled Lake City Manager Royce Downey claims that cost already quoted won't change considerably.

He and City Mayor Wendel G. Kellogg Jr. state that the some $4.4-million system will cost $8 per month, for one family, $50 a month for a commercial establishment, and $100 a month for an industry.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, Commerce Township Assessor Wynn Berry has countered that it's illegal to charge users different fees and further that the system will cost more than stated. Downey replies that he has checked the law and found it possible to charge different fees because of the varied volume of service offered.

★ ★ ★

The opponets of annexation have also claimed that Walled Lake's sewer system couldn't service any more people than the city now has. The new plans, say city officials indicate the system can serve 50,000 people — more than the population of the city and Novi Village, the city's partner in the sewer system.

There is less argument over extending the city's water system to serve the new areas. Four city wells are already drilled, and the ordinance regulating financing is ready for adoption.

The cost of the $1.8-million system will be carried by a charge of $2.50 per month for 2,800 gallons for a single family dwelling, quoted Downey.

Commercial establishments will be paying $25 a month for 10,000 gallons of water, and industries will pay $100 per month for 25,000 gallons of water, the city manager reported.

Township and village officials and others opposing annexation strongly claim that Walled Lake desperately needs outside areas to help pay for the water and sewer systems.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Kellogg contends that the city will construct the systems, annexation or not. He also points out, though, that the city's assessed valuation will increase from $10 million to about $43 million with the annexation.

The areas in the township which may be annexed include the industrial corridor on Maple and Haggerty to the east of the city. The village parcels offer mostly residences.

★ ★ ★

Taxes are another isue.

Kellogg and Downey predict the proposed new area's tax rate at 7.5 mills the first year and 6.5 mills the second year.

These figures have been blasted as unrealistic. Kellogg's response is that they are possible from his study of annexations.

Present tax rates are 10.5 mills for Walled Lake residents, 11.88 mills for Wolverine Lake residents, and 3.38 mills for township residents.

Despite the outcome Tuesday, further attempts to change the boundaries of the areas are expected. On file with the county clerk are petitions for the incorporation of the village and parts of Commerce Township.

Also on file are petitions for the annexation of the rest of the village. This area, which includes the village hall, was omitted from this election because of a question of its contiguity to Walled Lake.

Commerce Township Supervisor Robert H. Long has said that incorporation of the entire township area is the best route.

★ ★ ★

For annexation to pass, a simple majority is required in the three portions of the township together and the two portions of the village separately, plus a simple majority of the city on each of the three questions.

City's '67 Fire Damage Toll Estimate 3 Times That of '66

Pontiac firemen responded to nearly 350 fewer alarms last year than in 1966, but the 1967 damage estimate total was more than triple that of the previous year.

Three major fires — two attributed to arsonists — accounted for $1 million of the $1,436,408 estimate for last year.

These were:

● A $550,000 blaze Oct. 1 at the Ellis Trucking Co., 120 Franklin Road, blamed on arsonists who looted the building.

★ ★ ★

● A fire set by arsonists-looters at the Versa Tube Corp., Bagley and Wessen, during Pontiac's civil disturbance July 25, which caused some $200,000 damage.

● A fire Dec. 18 which destroyed the Becker-Palmer Cigar Wholesalers, Inc., 474 S. Saginaw.

The total 1966 estimate was $431,997.

There were 2,117 alarms of all kinds responded to last year, as opposed to 2,462 in 1966. Of these, 831 were for fires in 1967 and 861 in 1966.

The most notable reduction in fire department action last year was in number of rescue runs, down 715 from the previous year.

This was mostly due to the department's policy, effective just past mid-1967, of using the vehicle originally sent on rescue runs as a squad truck.

★ ★ ★

Fire Chief Charles Marion called the move "getting away from being an ambulance service."

False alarms were down by more than 100 — a figure attributed by Marion to the new policy of responding to alarms from streetside callboxes only when the person giving the alarm speaks to the fire dispatcher over the box phone.

★ ★ ★

Fire fatalities in the city increased from eight in 1966 to 10 last year.

Romney Outlines Sound Program

In his sixth annual State of the State address delivered yesterday before the Michigan Legislature and high government officials, Gov. GEORGE ROMNEY unwrapped his 1968 package of legislative proposals.

ROMNEY

Although it hardly fell in the "surprise package" category, the 2,500-word exposition was a well-organized, to-the-point resume of the State's social, economic, health and educational areas and the need, in many cases, for remedial legislation.

Many of the proposals were holdovers from the 1967 session of the legislative body, while others were of initiatory character.

★ ★ ★

High on Romney's priority list were passage of an Open Housing bill, defeated last month 55-47, and related antiriot legislation to protect the State against "the possibility of civil guerrilla warfare on a scale that makes Vietnam look like child's play."

Another anticrime measure urged by the governor would provide more effective control of guns, court-authorized electronic surveillance of suspects in certain cases, and subpoena and immunity-granting powers for prosecutors and the attorney general.

Romney called for increased State funds to support local needs and authorization for cities to levy certain types of excise taxes. He would also up the State's school aid formula and boost by $5 million its support of educational programs for disadvantaged children.

★ ★ ★

Along with lower court reform, consideration of which was deferred by the Legislature's adjournment last month, the governor stressed the need for tougher civil employe relations laws "firming up the ban on strikes, increasing the power of courts and establishing machinery for disputes involving teachers and other public jobholders."

Gov. ROMNEY was firm in his demand for a balanced budget for the next fiscal year and asserted that it could be achieved without additional State taxes.

★ ★ ★

Although the State's chief executive was on the point of departure for New Hampshire to campaign for the Republican nomination for the presidency in that state's March primary election, he gave assurance that, teamed with Lt. Gov. WILLIAM MILLIKEN, his legislative program would not suffer because of his absence.

The Press commends the soundness of Gov. Romney's State of the State program and sees it as a realistic guide for progressive government.

Cigarette Smokers Ignore Health Warnings

The fourth anniversary of the report ("Smoking and Health") of an advisory committee to the U.S. Surgeon General finds the smoking controversy still raging. Although the committee warned that "Cigarette smoking is a health hazard of sufficient importance in the United States to warrant appropriate remedial action," cigarette sales took only a momentary dip before resuming their steady upward climb.

In 1967, according to the Department of Agriculture, Americans smoked around 551 billion cigarettes —about 215 packs (of 20 cigarettes each) for every person 18 years of age or older.

★ ★ ★

A 1967 Public Health Service report, "The Health Consequences of Smoking," affirmed and extended the findings of the 1964 report. Both documents declared that cigarette smoking contributed substantially to mortality from certain specific diseases, including lung cancer, respiratory troubles and heart ailments. Surgeon General William H. Stewart said last October that the connection between smoking and health was no longer debatable: "The debate now is what we do about it."

Little, in fact, has been done. The warning that has appeared on cigarette packages since Jan. 1, 1966—"Caution: Cigarette Smoking May Be Dangerous to Your Health"—has had scant effect as a deterrent.

★ ★ ★

Several bills aimed at regulating cigarette advertising were introduced in the last session of Congress, but none became law. Renewed efforts at regulation may be expected this year. Meanwhile the tobacco industry holds to the position, expressed last June by JOHN D. PALMER, president of Tobacco Associates, that "so far, not one human being . . . can be proved to have died from cigarette smoking."

'Sixties' Caused Post Office Woes

By DICK SAUNDERS

There were few, if any, more confused places on this earth last weekend than the good old neighborhood post office.

SAUNDERS

All the trouble centered largely around some new postal rates and some old stamps that didn't get here on time.

Yes, I said OLD stamps.

There seems to be a misconception about this point in some circles.

People keep referring to the "new" six-cent stamp as if it were something Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien was handing out "It's A Boy" cigars over.

★ ★ ★

"It" is a boy. The lad is Franklin D. Roosevelt, whose chinny-chin-chin is depicted on the six-center.

The trouble is that it's not new. The stamp was issued in sheet form in January 1966.

A word of explanation may be in order here. Stamps are issued in sheets, or coils, or booklets, or combinations of these.

★ ★ ★

Coils and booklets are generally reserved for denominations which will be in high demand.

Thus, the Roosevelt six-center which has been in supply in sheets for two years, was more-or-less reissued in coils and booklets Dec. 28 after Congress okayed the postal rate hikes.

Why there were so few post offices with any sheets on hand is hard to say. Maybe the Post Office Department just didn't think Congress was capable of approving its request for more revenue.

Maybe it was the same reason that one of my Christmas cards, mailed before Christmas, was delivered to a local address last weekend with two cancellation marks on it — one for 1967 and one for 1968.

Maybe it was just as one postal employe told me: "We got caught with our stamps down."

There were a few (very few) post offices around that had the necessary six cent stamps.

★ ★ ★

For some unknown reason, Waterford Township had a corner on the stamp market. Both the Waterford and Drayton Plains post offices were loaded for bear.

The latter reports having sold more than 75,000 of the six-centers since the first of the year, and still has them in supply.

Birmingham had plenty of six-centers and is the only post office around that had a similar supply of the new 10-cent airmail stamps. Bloomfield Hills, Franklin and Walled Lake also were among the winners.

★ ★ ★

The losers included Pontiac, Auburn Heights, Clarkston, Lake Orion, Leonard, Oxford, Keego Harbor, Orchard Lake, Union Lake and Wixom post offices. Rochester had a few but ran out fast. . . .

Many are now getting their supply of sixies, so this weekend should be a bit easier for postal employes.

Really, I can't be too harsh on our good old neighborhood post office.

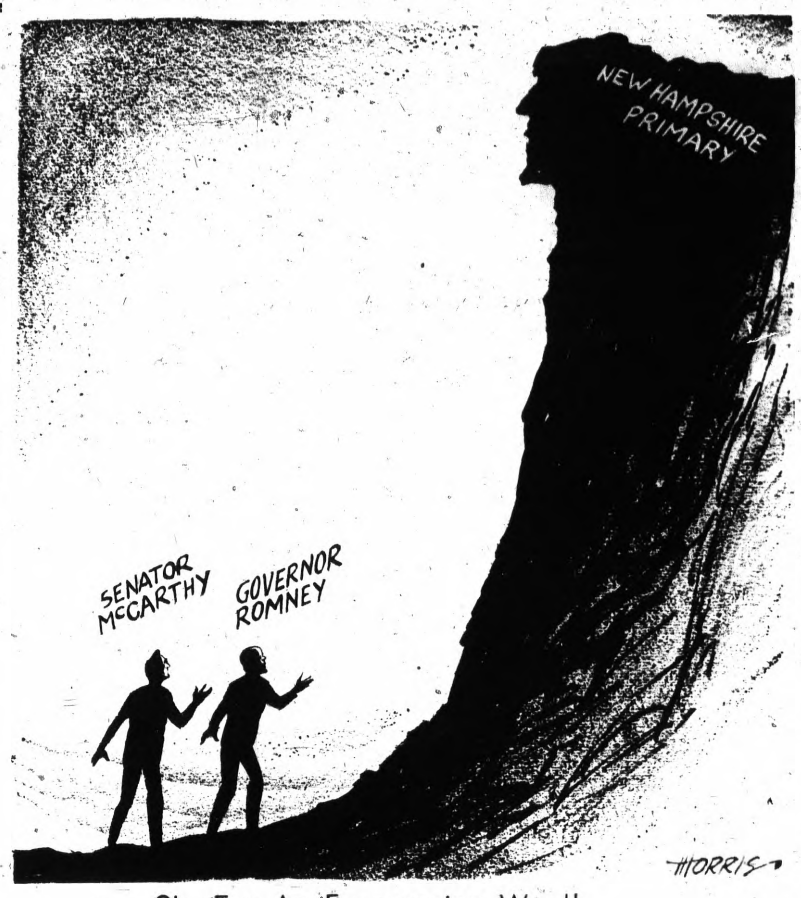

★ ★ ★

You see, Friday night we paid the bills. . . .

And Saturday morning, we dropped all nine envelopes in the mail slot—without stamps.

For awhile we thought we really had problems. But a quick return trip to the post office that fateful day (attempting to retrieve our unstamped mail) convinced us that we were really pretty lucky after all.

We could have been born postmasters.

Oh, For An Encouraging Word!

David Lawrence Says:

Selective Import Quotas Needed

WASHINGTON — Now that President Johnson has placed restrictions on travel outside the Western Hemisphere, the question has arisen as to why the administration has not put forth any plan to reduce the outflow of American dollars which pay for products imported from other lands.

LAWRENCE

The deficit in the "balance of payments" which is threatening the stability of America's monetary unit amounted to about $3.5 billion in 1967. Yet the total amount of imports of certain products are expected to exceed the exports by $3.9 billion.

In other words, if the United States could wipe out the imbalance between imports and exports in only seven categories of trade, there would be no deficit in the "balance of payments."

The United States traditionally has had a surplus in trade on an over-all basis, amounting in recent years to $5 billion annually, but there are conspicuous deficits in important products.

Thus, in 1967, new automobiles imported from abroad are valued at more than $1.5 billion, but only about $600 million worth of cars were exported, leaving a deficit of more than $950 million.

The same thing is true of iron and steel, which, it is calculated, the United States in 1967 imported in the amount of $1.4 billion. Exports are put at $417 million, leaving a deficit of $983 million.

A big deficit was also noted in textiles and clothing. There were last year nearly $1.5 billion of imports and only $686 million of exports, or a deficit of $768 million.

When the excess of imports over exports is added together in footwear, alcoholic beverages, meat products, toys and sports goods, another $1.3 billion deficit emerges.

It is recognized, of course, that if the United States put restrictions on foreign trade in those products which show a deficit on the export side, there might be retaliation from other countries in various commodities which America sells overseas.

★ ★ ★

So the real problem is how to reduce the deficits in certain categories while not injuring overseas trade in others.

One plan that has been given much attention by leaders in different industries would call for a quota arrangement whereby the average amount imported to this country over the last three years would be taken as a yardstick, and no imports above that amount would be admitted.

Foreign governments would be asked to hold their exports to the United States at the quota level.

This proposal would not immediately wipe out the balance-of-payments deficit, but might reduce it substantially because there is every expectation that, unless pressure is applied, imports will continue to rise.

Spokesmen for American industries are saying frankly that, while they may be able to cope with the existing quantity of imports, they do not want the situation to become worse year by year.

Bob Considine Says:

Red Documentary Leaves Khrushchev Out of Cast

NEW YORK — Nikita Khrushchev wound up on the cutting room floor.

The Soviet film documentary heralding the country's first 50 years under communism gives him the back of its neck. The documentary takes fleeting note that there was indeed a meeting of the top comrades in 1956, but it sloughs off Khrushchev's historic damnation of Joseph Stalin as one of the most sadistic mass murderers in history.

CONSIDINE

The documentary, now being shown in Soviet theaters and on TV, confines comment to a statement that the 1956 meeting dealt with "violation of Soviet Legality."

That's like calling the Civil War a family spat.

★ ★ ★

There has never been and never will be a full accounting of that "violation of Soviet legality." Millions died either on Stalin's direct orders or by his consent.

HAIR-RAISING PICTURE

The Encyclopedia Britannica, whose reference to those savage years is couched in less impassioned prose than Khrushchev's, still paints a hair-raising picture:

"In the 1930s alone about 25 million peasants were forcibly shifted from rural areas to the industrial centers and transformed into factory workers by means of intensive training and with the help of an extremely harsh industrial discipline.

"Throughout the Stalin era the U.S.S.R.'s urban population grew by about 45 million. In order to free labor for industry and to secure food for the swelling urban population, Stalin collectivized farming.

★ ★ ★

"In 1929 there were about 25 million primitive rural small holdings in the U.S.S.R. In 1952 there were 100,000 collective farms.

BITTER RESISTANCE

"The peasantry at first bitterly resisted collectivization. Stalin broke its resistance and ordered the deportation of many Kulaks into the notorious labor camps . . . at the height of the industrial drive. Stalin staged the great purge trials in which most of the old Bolsheviks and some military leaders were charged with treason, terrorism and espionage, and brought to 'confess' guilt."

Khrushchev was no angel himself. In fact, he was Stalin's hatchet man in the Ukraine and later in the back-breaking construction of Moscow's ornate subway.

But when he became boss he spared the lives of such conspirators against him as Molotov, Malenkov, Bulganin, Shepilov and his old mentor Kaganovich, thus establishing a precedent which in time preserved his own neck.

★ ★ ★

But he is an "un-person" today. And the cadaver he cursed and booted out of the mausoleum in Red Square seems to be headed back to its place beside the chalky remains of Lenin.

'Does Bob Kennedy Pay for His TV Appearances?'

I often wonder how much the "Kennedy Dynasty" pays the National Broadcasting Company for his too frequent appearances on television.

I don't have the time or the desire to watch TV very often but last week we were "treated" to two Bobby Kennedy appearances. One was with the Arizona Indians solving their problems and more recently his double talk about the Vietnam war. If he had the ability and the TV presence of his brother, the late President, it would be good watching. But his monologue and inability to say anything worthwhile have convinced me that the family is spending a chunk of its huge fortune to keep him in the public eye.

We have 100 men in our Senate in Washington. Presumably they are all men with outstanding ability and mentality. It is beyond me as to why or how this one egomaniac gets all the TV time unless he buys his way.

Waterford Taxpayer Discusses School Tax

I've lived in Waterford Township over 20 years and was a student in the small building at the side of the Township High School. Letter Gives Reader's Viewpoints on Peace

I believe there is one man capable of handling the legal part of anything as far as the peace table is concerned—none other than the Associate Judge of the United States Supreme Court, the Honorable Judge William O. Douglas. The Judge was one of the few westerners to visit Mongolia before 1962. The heartland of Asia lies between the USSR and China. The one living man who, in my mind, completely understands the real Asiatic mind is the Honorable Judge William O. Douglas.

Let us once and for all make it clear to people that we are willing in war but far more peaceful toward peace. Agree to cease bombing with the understanding that any real wrong move from the north calls for immediate action by allied forces. The United Nations in New York is one word — "useless."

Question and Answer

About two months ago someone asked about a light at Square Lake and Franklin, and when you checked, you were told one was to be installed. I wonder if you were told the truth, because if a work order had been put in that long ago, it would have been installed by now. This is a dangerous area. Just when will one be installed?

L. S.

REPLY

Delays in government projects can seem interminable sometimes, but we were told the truth. Mr. Harp of Oakland County Road Commission says they're just waiting for authorization from the State to install it, and while we can't give you a specific date, it could come at any time.

Surprise . . .

(Washington Post)

Just as we had reached the point of despair about the possibility of any congressional reforms emerging from the recent session, the two houses voted to forbid future nepotism! It is probably the biggest surprise of the session. Many citizens who read the story are still skeptical.

Yet it is a fact that both houses accepted an amendment to the federal pay bill providing that no "public official" may "appoint, promote, or advocate the appointment" of any relative to a civilian position in any agency in which he (the official) is serving.

★ ★ ★

Apparently the ban will run against the naming of any relative of a congressman to a position in his office. Some lawyers believe that it will also bar a congressman from recommending his wife, son, or daughter to an executive agency.

If that is the case, Congress really must have been asleep when the amendment slipped thru. Heretofore the right to hire any member of a congressman's family had been protected as if it were among the constitutional verities.

★ ★ ★

Since the restriction does not apply to any of the 50 congressional relatives now on the House and Senate payrolls, the pinch will not be felt immediately. But special precautions will be in order after the 1968 election to prevent Congress from tossing out the reform as quietly as it was slipped in. Perhaps we need a citizens commission to watchdog the nepotism law.

Meanwhile some public-spirited group ought to be investigating how this miracle really occurred. Could not the same technique be used to get the congressional reform bill (now buried in the rules committee) enacted? And what about the codes of ethics that the two houses have been shunting aside for lo, these many years?

★ ★ ★

If nepotism is really done in, people will also be talking about applying the ax to the seniority system, the rules committee roadblock, the filibuster, and the little committee dictatorships.

★ ★ ★

Aussie Ace Stirs Olympic Chiefs

MELBOURNE (AP)—Australian Olympic officials have reacted coldly to long-distance runner Ron Clarke's announcement that he intends to move from Melbourne to the high-altitude city of Alamosa, Colo., in the United Sates, next May.

Clarke announced Thursday night he would take his family to live in Alamosa and would work and train there in defiance of an International Olympic Committee ruling.

The rule stipulates that Games Athletes can spend only six weeks in high altitude training camps this year, and can spend only four weeks in these camps in the three months preceding the Mexico City Games.

Clarke has admitted he is going to Alamosa for high altitude training, but has also stressed he has a legitimate business reason for the trip, and is not breaking Olympic rules.

"Even if I am told I am not to be picked for the Australian Olympic team, I am still going," he said.

Edgar H. Tanner, the Australian Olympic Federation secretary, said today Clarke may not even be nominated by the Amateur Athletic Union of Australia when nominations close on May 1.

* * *

However, Ronald Aitken, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of Australia, said he accepted Clarke's statement that he is taking his family to the United States to live and will make his business headquarters there — "until it is proved wrong."

* * *

In a telephone interview with the Melbourne Age newspaper, IOC President Avery Brundage of Chicago advised Clarke to "explore his position fully" before going to the United States, but added the IOC "certainly would not stop Clarke from competing in Mexico "unless he is declared ineligible by the International Amateur Athletic Federation.

Booth Quintet Nips Red Foe

Lone Cager Outscores Losers in Period

Chuck Phillips emerged on top in a sparkling duel with Sammy Soles Thursday night as Booth Homes nipped Perry Drugs, 55-54, in the feature game of the city men's recreation basketball slate.

Club 1 Spot outgunned the Little Giants, 79-60, and Sam Allen's thumped Local 594, 70-53, in other games. Petrolanes gained a 2-0 forfeit win from Auburn Hills.

Phillips outscored Soles, 13-12, in the final period as Booth broke a 37-all tie. Phillips finished with 30 points while Soles had 28 for Perry.

Harvey Rowans scored 10 of his 25 points and teammate Fred Davis 11 of his 15 as Club 1 Spot jumped into a 23-11 lead after one period. Jerry Olsen's 29 couldn't prevent the Little Giants' decisive defeat.

Four players were in double figures as Sam Allen's coasted to its triumph.

New Yorker, Illini Woman Lead Skaters

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — John Wurster of Balston Spa., N. Y., and Dianne Holum of Northbrook, Ill., posted the best times in the initial heats Friday of the Olympic speed skating trials at the Wisconsin Exposition Center rink.

Wurster's time in the first trial for 500 meter skaters was 41.4, three-tenths of a second better than that posted by Tom Gray of Minneapolis and Terry McDermott of Birmingham, Mich.

Miss Holum topped the women's 3,000 meter test in 5:27.2. Jeanne Melenchuk of Warren, Mich., had the second fastest time, 5:30.3, and Jeanne Ashworth of Wilmington, N. Y., 5:31.2.

The trials will continue until the 46 skaters participating have completed four heats. The women's team will be picked next Tuesday and the men's team Wednesday.

Port Huron scored twice in the first period, three times in the second, and once in the third. Columbus' lone goal, the last of the game, was made by Ken Saunders.

* * *

Marty Reynolds collected two goals for Port Huron, with single tallies made by Jerry Toppazzini, Bob McCammon, Ken Gribbons and Randy Prior.

In tonight's action, Port Huron is at Muskegon, Fort Worth is at Toledo and Dayton plays at Des Moines.

PCH Pins Kettering

Huskies Have 5 in Row

It was close, but Pontiac Northern stayed unbeaten in dual wrestling competition by edging Warren Fitzgerald, 20-18, last night.

Pontac Central won all but two events in whipping Kettering, 36-5, to extend its dual record to 3-1 for the season.

* * *

Northern was behind 6-3 until Bill Green scored a pin over Glenn Malstrom and the Huskies built a 20-9 lead until the final three events which Fitzgerald won to close the gap.

* * *

Green's pin was the only one in the match.

Kettering's lone individual winner was Mike Gray in the 120-pound class. In the 145-pound division opposing wrestlers battled to a draw.

Central had two pins in the match, in the 165-pound division by Larry Hannah and in the heavyweight class by Charles Mason.

In jayvee competition of the two matches, PNH jayvees won, 40-6, while Kettering's yearling edged PCH, 27-26.

U.P. Time Fight Still Is Raging

By the Associated Press

"The people of Michigan's Upper Peninsula are extremely unhappy with Central Standard Time."

"We certainly don't want our time zone changed and we've never said that we do."

These two widely differing statements sum up the continuing controversy over time that has raged deep into the winter in Michigan's frozen Upper Peninsula.

The first statement is made by Robert C. Polzin, president of the Marquette Chamber of Commerce, in a formal request to the U.S. Department of Transportation to place the U. P. in the Eastern time zone.

★ ★ ★

The second is made by Kenneth O. Doyle, city attorney of Menominee, which is bitterly opposed to any change.

County boards, city and village councils and commissions, chambers of commerce, and other organizations and individuals who wrote the Marquette chamber were almost unanimous in backing a return to year-around EST — the time observed in 12 U.P. counties for 15 to 20 years.

Four counties in eastern U.P. (Chippewa, Luce, Mackinac and Alger) already are operating on EST although Alger calls it "Central Daylight Time." Boards of supervisors of six other counties have indicated, by resolution, their desire to be in the Eastern time zone.

★ ★ ★

Two counties (Gogebic and Menominee) have formally endorsed Central time, the Marquette chamber was informed, while three others (Ontonagon, Baraga and Dickinson) have taken no action. Of those three, Dickinson seems to prefer Central, while the villages of L'Anse and Ontonagon, the county seats of Baraga and Ontonagon counties, support a return to the Eastern time zone.

AID TO COMMERCE

"Foremost in our desire for a return to Eastern time is our belief that it would be beneficial to commerce to have our entire state on the same time," Polzin declared in his letter to the Transportation Department.

Both Polzin and Jerry Pulliam, executive vice-president of the Marquette chamber, revealed at a meeting of the chamber's board of directors that attempts to obtain assistance from lawmakers in seeking a time switch "have met with no success."

Under the Uniform Time Act of 1966, the Upper Peninsula was placed in the Central time zone—separate from the remainder of Michigan. The act ordered that all states must observe Daylight Saving Time unless a state as a whole exempts itself.

★ ★ ★

Michigan passed legislation to place the entire state in the Eastern time zone and to exempt the state from Daylight Saving Time, but a petition signed by 123,000 Lower Michigan residents suspended effectiveness of the state law and caused Daylight time to become effective in the entire state. The Upper Peninsula was returned to the Central time zone.

A referendum on the question will be conducted in November. If state voters reject Daylight Saving Time, the Upper Peninsula would have to remain on CST all year long — out of step with both Lower Michigan and neighboring Wisconsin. If they approve daylight saving, the Upper Peninsula — unless it gets out of the Central time zone — will have CST for six months during the winter and CDT for the summer.

"We believe that most people in the Upper Peninsula do not want Central Standard Time during the winter months under either of these alternatives," Polzin and Pulliam said. "If we are going to get away from the early darkness of winter and to escape the very undesirable possibility of year-round CST, we must get out of the Central zone and into the Eastern zone."

The other side of the time picture is presented by Menominee City Attorney Doyle.

★ ★ ★

"It would have a drastic effect on our economy and on our social climate as well. The claim by the Marquette Chamber of Commerce that they have obtained 9,000 signatures on petitions asking for a move into the Eastern time zone is hardly worth recognizing. This represents less than three per cent of the citizens of the Upper Peninsula."

In an editorial Wednesday, the Menominee Herald-Leader said, "The Marquette Chamber of Commerce has appointed itself spokesman for the entire Upper Peninsula in the matter of determining what time zone we are in.

". . . It appears that Mr. Polzin is saying a great deal with very little to back him up. The Marquette chamber has circulated petitions opposing Central Standard Time and has obtained 9,000 signatures.

"There are 305,000 people living in the Upper Peninsula, so what Mr. Polzin is really talking about when he says "the people of Upper Michigan" is less than three per cent of the population."

★ ★ ★

The Menominee Area Chamber of Commerce has called a special directors meeting to consider opposition to Marquette's move. The Menominee City Council is expected to go on record at its Monday night meeting in opposition to the move.

TWO HOURS

"I'm convinced that the people who signed those petitions did not know they were advocating a time zone that would require moving the clock ahead two hours from where it is now," Strand said.

"If the Department of Transportation were to place the Upper Peninsula in the Eastern time zone, it would mean moving clocks ahead one hour when the change was made and another hour on April 27, when the time is normally changed."

When the Federal Uniform Time Act of 1966 became law in April of last year and the entire Upper Peninsula — with the exception of the city of Menominee — moved to Eastern Standard Time, Menominee operated its city government under the home rule provisions of its charter, and remained on Central time.

★ ★ ★

The action was taken because of the close relationship with Menominee's sister city, Marinette, Wis. The cities, each with a population of about 13,000, are on opposite banks of the Menominee River.

Doyle pointed out that one of two bridges between the cities carries 23,000 cars daily.

Service Station Feels the Cold

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — "Sorry," said the gas station attendant. "We're all out of gas."

He went on to explain to a dismayed motorist: "The tops of our storage tanks froze and we couldn't tell how much gasoline we had."

★ ★ ★

The attendant, one of millions of New Yorkers feeling the affects of four straight sub-zero days, said the motorist still could buy dry gas but that it would be impossible to check the car's antifreeze.

"Our instrument for doing that is frozen too," he said.

The low Thursday in Albany was minus 25.

Blue Chips Unimpressive

Stock Market Rise Continues

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to move up early today despite an unimpressive performance by blue chips. Trading was active.

Gains outnumbered losses by a ratio of 2 to 1.

★ ★ ★

The Dow Jones Industrial Average dropped .69 to 899.10.

Merger-minded Gulf & Western topped the list on volume at the start, rising nearly a point, as it responded to a company forecast that sales of the company are expected to reach $1.25 billion this year.

Also active gainers of around a point were Armour, Sperry Rand, Eastern Air Lines and Otis Elevator.

First Charter Financial was unchanged following its recent gains.

★ ★ ★

Goodrich, Goodyear and Standard Oil of Indiana dropped about a point each.

The leading motors showed scarcely any change. Chrysler nudged fractionally higher.

Opening blocks included:

Insurance Co. of North America, off ½ at 68½ on 12,700 shares; American Telephone, off ⅜ at 53 ⅜ on 11,000; and International Paper, up ⅛ at 33⅜ on 10,500.

Indications of a leveling off in long-term interest rates, Commerce Department relaxation of foreign investment curbs and an increase in lendable funds of commercial banks were cited as favorable stock market factors.

★ ★ ★

On Thursday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .1 to 326.2.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

A Look at TV

Glenn Trek a Bit Tedious

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK—"The Trail of Stanley and Livingstone," the first of NBC's occasional "Great Explorations" series, is the kind of worthy program that good, responsible parents want their children to see. If they happen to be people who enjoy travelogues, they will sit down with the kids and watch, too.

The hour-long special would have gone down easier in a Sunday afternoon time period. It was a documentary—a sort of fancied-up safari in the African wilds. The fancy part was its central figure, former astronaut John Glenn who headed the party and explained where they were and what they were seeing —impressive landscapes, wild animals, colorful natives.

★ ★ ★

The excuse for the program was that the party of 30 or so persons were following the path of reporter Henry Stanley when, for a journalistic scoop almost one hundred years ago, he spent 236 days hunting for missionary David Livingstone. At journey's end, he uttered the immortal line: "Dr. Livingstone I presume?"

Portions of Stanley's journal, telling of hardship, disease and mutiny among his bearers, were read occasionally. But generally, it stretched the viewer's credibility to try to relate the Stanley expedition to the emergence of African nations today.

Would you like to break the cigarette habit? CBS, in a somewhat novel approach in its forthcoming "National Smoking Test," will try to offer some constructive suggestions.

★ ★ ★

The program, to be broadcast next Tuesday, will offer not lectures on the dangers of smoking, but will present the "Insight Development Questionaire." Designed by an expert on the subject, the program will permit the individual viewer to find some clues about his personal makeup and suggest the reasons he smokes or does not smoke. This self-knowledge, the producer of the series suggests, may help him take the first giant step toward breaking the habit.

ABC will postpone its scheduled broadcast of "Laura," starring Lee Bouvier Radziwill, for one week and join the other two major networks on Jan. 17 in covering live President Johnson's state of the union address.

2 Russians Denounce Trial of 3 Writers

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Moscow City Court today sentenced four Russian dissenters to prison terms of one, two, five and seven years on charges of subversion and of having criminal ties with anti-Soviet emigres in Germany.

MOSCOW (AP) — The son of a former Soviet foreign minister and the wife of an imprisoned writer today denounced the trial of three young Soviet writers and their typist and called it "a stain on the honor of our state."

The court was expected to reach a verdict later today. The defendants—Alexander Ginsburg, 31, Yuri Galanskov, 28, Alexei Dobrovolsky, 29, and Vera Lashkova, 21—are charged with anti-Soviet propaganda and agitation.

Pavel M. Litvinoff, son of the late Maxim Litvinoff, and Larisa Daniel, wife of writer Yuli M. Daniel, in a statement to western newsmen said the trial was rigged from the start and shot through with illegalities.

Litvinoff and Mrs. Daniel appealed to world opinion for "condemnation of this shameful trial." They said the defendants were innocent and should be released.

SENTENCES DEMANDED

The prosecution demanded sentences of seven years for Galanskov, five years for Ginsburg, two years for Dobrovolsky and one year for Miss Lashkova, the stenographer.

Dobrovolsky pleaded guilty and testified against the others, who denied their acts were crimes.

★ ★ ★

Litvinoff and Mrs. Daniel said the trial violated "the most important principles of Soviet law." They called it a "wild mockery, unthinkable in the 20th century."

They said Dobrovolsky gave false testimony against the other three, who "proved their own innocence."

PROCEEDINGS RELAYED

Litvinoff and Mrs. Daniel were not allowed in the courtroom, but presumably persons who attended relayed the proceedings to them. They accused Judge Lev Mironov of favoring the prosecution and stopping "attempts to depart from the rehearsed spectacle with 'cries of 'you're out of order.'"

Their long statement described harassment of witnesses who they said left the stand "almost in hysteria." They called for the "punishment of those guilty of perpetrating" the trial.

Litvinoff already had published abroad an interview in which he said a secret police agent tried to intimidate him from his activities on behalf of Soviet intellectuals in trouble with the government. Mrs. Daniel's husband was sentenced to five years at hard labor in 1966 for publishing abroad works satirizing life in the Soviet Union.

Waterford Firemen Promoted

Two Waterford Township firemen have been promoted from the rank of driver-engineer to lieutenant, according to an announcement by Assistant Fire Chief Russell See.

The new lieutenants are Douglas Schlutow, 36, of 5173 Farm and Richard Watson, 40, of 4170 Woodstock, both of Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

Watson became a full-time, paid member of the Waterford Township Fire Department in 1958. Schlutow joined the department in 1960.

Both men began serving as township volunteer firemen in 1955.
