Pontiac Sewage Plant Delaying Progress of City

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of six articles concerning Pontiac's expansion of its sewage treatment facilities.)

By PETE LOCHBILER

Future progress in Pontiac is dependent upon expansion of its sewage treatment facilities.

This sober fact emerges as city officials call upon Pontiac property owners to approve a $3,300,000 general obligation bond issue at the polls next Tuesday.

There are many improvements visualized for Pontiac but none is more necessary than treatment plant expansion.

The city has grown much too big for its present limited facilities. Future growth is impossible without more facilities.

There are hundreds of existing homes in Pontiac right now that are without sewers. At many of these homes, septic tanks are overflowing because the ground can't absorb any more sewage.

Pontiac could build sewers to these homes, but it doesn't dare put any more sewage into its present treatment plant at East boulevard and Featherstone road.

TREATMENT PLANT AT CAPACITY

The present plant is operating at more than capacity and any more demands on it would result in flagrant pollution of the Clinton River.

Again, many areas in the north, northeast and southeast sections of town would open up as subdivisions if they could get sewer service.

Again, Pontiac could build the sewers but the plant can't absorb any more customers. And in most outlying areas, sewer lines couldn't reach the present treatment plant without highly expensive stations along the way.

The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce reports that new industry is constantly eying Pontiac as a place for new plants.

Pontiac looks good to new industry, except from the point of view of sewage. Because of limited plant capacity and unfavorable ground levels, the city doesn't want to extend lines to areas where new industry would locate.

★ ★ ★

MSUO WANTS SEWAGE SERVICE

One and a half miles to the east of Pontiac there is planned a venture that will bring money and culture to the area. Michigan State University Oakland wants to tie into Pontiac's sewage system.

But it can't, not unless the treatment plant is expanded so that new customers can be added.

If the college hooked in, it would be on the same basis as the Waterford Township users who've been hooked on for more than 20 years.

The township pays a flat, metered rate which covers operating and maintenance costs plus a little bit extra for profit that eventually goes into future expansion.

Many planners figure that the MSUO expansion will provide one of the biggest spurts in business and homebuilding here that the city has experienced.

★ ★ ★

If MSUO has to look elsewhere for sewage treatment, it will be at large state expense, with no profit to Pontiac.

These are some of the reasons Pontiac's progress is tied directly to its expansion of sewage treatment facilities.

These are reasons why the city wants to build a new plant on a 47-acre site it already has purchased at Auburn and Opdyke roads, on the city's extreme east border.

The $3,300,000 it is asking for would allow construction that would expand existing facilities by one-quarter, plus add tie-in pipe lines between the two plants.

Harry J. Merritt, 62, Succumbs to Attack After Recent Surgery

Harry J. Merritt, Oakland County corporation counsel for nearly 20 years, died early yesterday at the age of 62.

Victim of a heart attack two weeks ago, the Royal Oak attorney who was known and respected throughout the county and state for his legal achievements, died shortly after midnight in William Beaumont Hospital after another attack.

Merritt had undergone heart surgery there Oct. 13, the date of his attack. It came only a few hours after the Board of Supervisors had appointed him to his twentieth year as the county's top legal advisor.

Funeral service was scheduled for 1 p.m. Wednesday from the William Sullivan & Son Funeral Home, 705 W. Eleven Mile Rd.,

Outlook Cloudy, Cool With Possible Rain

The U.S. Weather Bureau has predicted considerable cloudiness with a few light showers possible and little temperature change for Pontiac and vicinity tonight and Tuesday.

The low tonight will be in the 40 to 45 degree range. Tuesday's high will average 50 to 55 degrees.

In an extended weather outlook, the Bureau has forecast temperatures will average from near normal to a few degrees below the normal 56 high and normal 39 low for the next five days. A slow warming trend is expected Friday and Saturday.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 43. At 2 p.m. the temperature downtown was 52.

Teenagers Flock to Hear Pianist Play Concerto

SCARSDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The teenagers began showing up as early as 9 a.m. By afternoon, when the music started, seven extra policemen had been called to handle the crowd of some 1,800.

Only 1,350 were admitted to the high school auditorium. The others stood outside in the rain and listened.

★ ★ ★

The performer who packed 'em in wasn't Elvis Presley. Nor Pat Boone. Nor Sal Mineo. It was Van Cliburn.

The teenaged audience heard the 23-year-old Texas pianist rehearse a Shumann concerto with the Orchestral Society of Westchester.

DEATH CAR — This is the charred remains of the auto that exploded and burned today, bringing death to its unidentified occupant. This view from the embankment of a gravel pit was taken after firemen ripped open doors, trunk and hood in extinguishing the flames.

Probe Mystery Death in Auto Explosion Here

Sheriff's detectives today probed the flaming auto-death of an unidentified man in a gravel pit two miles north of Pontiac.

The body, charred beyond recognition, was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for autopsy.

Deputies recovered the body after Pontiac Township firemen extinguished the blaze, which occurred after an explosion in the car in a small unworked gravel pit that hunters use as a parking lot near Joslyn and Brown roads in Pontiac Township.

Attempting to identify the victim, authorities traced the license plate of the charred car, a 1956 Chevrolet, to Wade H. Payne, of 251 W. Cornell Ave. Payne's son-in-law, Maxwell Payne, said the car was being used today by Robert L. Payne, the auto owner's son.

WORKS IN FACTORY

Robert Payne is a native of Kincaid, W.Va., who has lived here 1½ years and is employed as an afternoon shift factory worker at Dynamic Manufacturers Inc. in Troy.

Payne, 25 years old and single, had left home about 10 a.m. today, supposedly driving towards Birmingham, his brother-in-law said.

The explosion occurred about 10:15 p.m., about two miles north of Payne's Cornell avenue home.

A Pontiac Township housewife, Mrs. Dorothy Ostrander, 1027 Brown Rd., said the explosion jarred her home. The nearest resident to the explosion scene, she summoned the fire department.

'APPEARS DELIBERATE'

Dr. Richard E. Olsen, St. Joseph Hospital pathologist, examined the body and said unofficially that the explosion appeared to be deliberate. It was not known whether the dead man or someone else caused it.

Olsen and deputies pointed out that two gasoline cans were in the front seat of the car, next to the blackened body, found slumped behind the steering wheel. Caps for the two cans, however, were found ouside of the car, deputies said.

The car had been driven into the gravel pit, up against a four-foot high embankment at one side. The rear window was blown out intact to a distance of 20 feet away.

Deputies theorized that the gasoline was spread throughout the front seat, then ignited.

DOORS STILL CLOSED

Earl Meyers, a township fireman, said the doors of the car were still closed when firemen got there.

Fred Strassburg, 35, of 4637 Jamm Rd., said he was driving nearby when the explosion occurred. He stopped at the scene almost immediately after the explosion, Strassburg said, but saw no one in the area.

Body at Willow Run Today

Mass Said at Idlewild for Cardinal Mooney

NEW YORK (AP) — The body of Edward Cardinal Mooney, who died of a heart attack in Rome Saturday, arrived by air today en route to Detroit.

Cardinal Mooney, 76, died just before the College of Cardinals went behind locked doors to choose a new pope.

A Requiem Mass will be offered over the sealed casket in the Roman Catholic chapel of Our Lady of the Skies at Idlewild Airport before it is sent on to Detroit at mid-day.

★ ★ ★

After laying in state in Vatican City, the body began an airliner flight home yesterday. It was scheduled to arrive at Willow Run Airport at 3:30 p.m. (EST).

The body will lay in state at the cardinal's residence until Wednesday.

Funeral services will be held in Blessed Sacrament Cathedral in Detroit at 11 a.m. Friday.

Churches in the Southeast Michigan Archdiocese will be draped in purple and black for a 30-day period of mourning. The Catholic prayer of a deceased bishop will be offered at masses during the 30-day period.

Requiem High Mass will be said in all churches of the archdiocese Thursday.

The cardinal will be buried in a crypt at St. John's Provincial Seminary near Plymouth, Mich., where he had summer quarters. It is the only seminary in Michigan from which students may be ordained as priests. It was built in 1949, primarily through Mooney's efforts.

The chapel in which he will be buried was the cardinal's personal gift to the seminary. An aide said Mooney expressed a wish four years ago that he be buried at the seminary.

Former City Pastor Subs for Mooney

A former pastor of Pontiac's St. Vincent de Paul Church, Auxiliary Bishop Alexander M. Zaleski, has temporarily taken over the duties of the late Edward Cardinal Mooney, Archbishop of the Detroit Archdiocese.

Bishop Zaleski was pastor at the local church from 1948 until 1956 when he was transferred to the pastorate of St. Alphonsus parish in Dearborn.

He is a native of Laurel, N.Y., studied and taught at St. Mary's College, Orchard Lake, and was ordained to the priesthood in Louvain, Belgium, after taking theology at the American College of Louvain, in 1931.

He was consecrated Bishop of Lybre and Auxiliary Bishop of the Detroit Archdiocese during his pastorate at St. Vincent de Paul, in 1950.

Bishop Zaleski also studied at the Biblical Institute, in Rome. He was credited with construction of the new hall at St. Vincent de Paul Church, which is now used for meetings and church sports events.

★ ★ ★

The selection of Bishop Zaleski as temporary administrative head of the Detroit Archdiocese was made by the Archdiocese's 14 consultors, this weekend.

Williams, Hart Talk in Detroit

By Associated Press

Democratic Gov. Williams, who is seeking a sixth term, and Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, Democratic candidate for Charles Potter's Senate seat, issued statements while campaigning in Detroit yesterday.

Williams repeated his assertion that Paul D. Bagwell's (Republican nominee for governor) campaign figures on Michigan's industrial growth are erroneous.

In another statement Williams said Republicans "are running the same type of smear campaign in several other states as they're doing in Michigan, and for the same reason — to dodge responsibility for the recession."

He said that if the Republicans find success through what he called their smear campaigns, "the next step would be a whole series of enactments . . . designed to hobble labor unions and to cripple unemployment compensation."

Potter celebrated his 42nd birthday four days early for the benefit of a statewide TV hookup. The program touched on the highlights of his life — his schoolboy days at Petoskey, his war record, his time in Congress and his record in the U.S. Senate.

Democrats officially protested the appearance of an Army officer in connection with the portion of the show dealing with Potter's war record. Neil Staebler, Democratic State Central Chairman, wired his objection to Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker.

★ ★ ★

Hart issued a statement which says Potter was "caught in left field without a glove by one of his mimeograph machines" and announced Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) would speak for Hart in West Michigan this week. Hart claimed Potter earlier had said Douglas refused to campaign for Hart.

'59 Models Set to Roll Off Line Here Tomorrow

1,600 More to Return at Fisher Body as Full GM Peace Nears

With another 2,600 UAW workers ordered back to work here, auto production was expected to resume tomorrow at Pontiac Motor Division.

The 1959 model cars rolling off the production line will be the first since Oct. 2, the day the city's General Motors Corp. plants were closed down by local and national strikes.

The national GM picture had almost returned to normal today, as approximately 1,600 Fisher Body employes and 1,000 assembly workers at Pontiac Motor were alerted to come back to work.

NO TEMPORARY LAYOFF

The threat of a temporary layoff at Pontiac Motor did not materialize, although the Fisher Body plant was still idle today, except for a few workers who returned to prepare for production tomorrow.

Ordered back tomorrow at Fisher Body were all first shift body department employes, who were to report back at 8:30 a.m. unless otherwise notified; all trim, final, paint and cushion department employes, who were to report back at 8:48 a.m. unless otherwise notified; and all other employes, who were to report back at regular starting times unless otherwise notified.

The other 1,000 are Pontiac Motor employes working in the assembly and refinishing plants, Nos. 8 and 16.

★ ★ ★

By tomorrow, approximately 8,600 should have returned to their jobs at the two plants. In addition, another 5,000 returned to GMC Truck & Coach Division two weeks ago.

The Pontiac Motor strike was settled Tuesday; the Fisher Body strike Saturday.

End Transmission Strike

A tentative strike-ending agreement was reached today between GM's Detroit Transmission plant and UAW Local 735 there, with a ratification meeting set for the 6,000 union members tomorrow night. A shortage of transmissions was another factor in getting Pontiac production back to normal.

New York Gets Early Taste of Winter

AP Wirephoto

INDIAN SUMMER? — That traditional pleasant period in October vanished suddenly in New York State's Catskill Mountain communities yesterday as up to 17 inches of snow fell. Prime target of the early white blanketing was the Tannersville area where the motorist above struggles with chains on the family auto. Roads were treacherous, and in some places, impassable. Storm-linked accidents took at least seven lives. Other sections of the state which escaped the snow were hit by sleet and rain storms. Autumn? Indian Summer? As far as the Catskill people are concerned, winter is here.

Forum Statement Bore Wrong Name

Statements credited to "Allan Meagher" in a story on the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce's public forum in Saturday's paper were those of Allan Weatherwax, Republican candidate for state treasurer, not Leo Meagher, Democrat seeking to represent the 12th legislative district.

The story should have read:

"The question-and-answer period . . saw Rep. Leslie Hudson charge Allan Weatherwax of "using the facts loosely." It was after Weatherwax blamed the Democratic administration in Michigan for chasing industry out of the state."

Weatherwax stated that the manufacturer's report, claiming that Michigan had actually gained 1,230 new industries during the past recession period was trumped up and entirely inaccurate. . .

The Press regrets the error.

Michigan Vets Get New Aid

Jobless Insurance for 18,000 Based on Sum of Pay Before Filing

New unemployment insurance protection for approximately 18,000 Michigan peacetime veterans goes into effect today.

The new program differs from past ones in not providing fixed payments for a specified number of weeks.

Instead, all benefits, including dependency claims, are based on the amount of pay the claimant receives from government or civilian employment during the 52 weeks preceeding the effective date of the law or any subsequent filing date.

The Michigan Employment Security Commission is administering the program as agent for the federal government.

Claimants must fulfill the same requirements as applicants for state unemployment insurance benefits, and must be available for and seeking employment.

Federal requirements are that ex-servicemen must have had at least 90 days or more of continuous active service which began after Jan. 31, 1955, or began their active service before Jan. 31, 1955 and are discharged or released from active service after Oct. 27, 1958.

Benefit payments as a result of military service range from $26 to $30 per week plus dependency benefits which could reach $41 a week, according to Max M. Horton, MESC director.

If a veteran has less than enough weeks of qualifying military service, he must amplify it by adding civilian employment to reach 14 credit weeks, the minimum for qualification.

An informational booklet will be available on the program at the MESC office at 242 Oakland Ave.

Veterans will not receive benefits until after periods covered by lump-sum terminal leave and mustering-out payments have expired.

In cooperating with the U. S. government, the state will take claims and administer the program and will be reimbursed by the federal government for the added benefit and administrative costs.

Auto Registration Fees Drop $3 Million in '58

LANSING (AP) — Adding to Michigan's gloomy financial picture, Secy. of State James M. Hare today reported income from 1958 motor vehicle registration fees will run more than three million dollars less than in 1957.

From Nov. 1, 1956, to Oct. 1, 1957, he said, 3,514,697 vehicle registrations brought the state $63,993,726. In the same 11 months of this year 3,439,115 registrations produced $60,940,230.

The Day in Birmingham

Proposed Fire Ordinance Ruled Not Enforceable

BIRMINGHAM—An attempt will be made by Birmingham city commissioners tonight to salvage some of the estimated $500 already spent in typesetting the city's proposed fire prevention ordinance.

★ ★ ★

Drafting of the ordinance was started three years ago in an effort to provide the city with a law that would conform closely with the state code.

Dean Beier, legal counsel for the city, following a recent review of the ordinance said he would be unable to recommend adoption of the law as presently drafted.

He is recommending that commissioners either make a complete redraft of the law, or correct it so it will be legally enforceable.

In other business at tonight's regular meeting, the Commission will make appointments to the Martha Baldwin Park Board and to the Electrical Examining Board.

The annual report of the City Employes Retirement Board will be presented.

Through the cooperation of Young's Men's Wear Store of Birmingham, 203 Pierce St., the career of William J. Kleine, 36, came to an abrupt end Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Birmingham detective Richard Chambers arrested Kleine after he attempted to cash a $40 check in payment for a shirt.

Clerks recognized Kleine from a police description of a man wanted for passing bad checks in Birmingham last week.

They delayed him while police were summoned from the Birmingham station, about a half a block away.

Chambers said Kleine admitted cashing bogus checks in Birmingham, as well as in Flint, Detroit and Lansing.

Sarah Van Hoosen Jones, a former member of the State Board of Agriculture, will talk at the 7:30 p.m. dinner meeting tomorrow at Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills Zonta Club at Community House.

She will speak on her recent visit to the Scandinavian countries and England, illustrating her talk with colored slides.

Miss Kathryn Vedder will play hostess to members of the Altrusa Club of Greater Birmingham at Halloween dessert at her home, 2500 Orchard Lake Rd., at 7 tonight.

Mrs. Patrick Tobin

Service for Mrs. Patrick (Anna) Tobin, 70, of 889 Chestnut St., Birmingham, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Manley Bailey Funeral Home, with burial in White Chapel Cemetery.

Mrs. Tobin died yesterday at her home following a long illness. She was a past president of Metropolitan Spirit 9 Auxiliary, Birmingham VFW Auxiliary, a life member of the Board of the VFW National Home at Eaton Rapids and a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham.

Surviving are her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Morgan of Grand Rapids; a son, Jack D. of Birmingham; two sisters and three grandchildren.

In Detroit Disaster

Dredge for Jet Victims

DETROIT (AP)—Pitiful mementos of six airmen and twisted wreckage of their plane were examined yesterday by a team of British investigators trying to find why a jet bomber crashed here Friday.

★ ★ ★

The battered works of a flier's wristwatch and a pair of shoulder pips on the shredded remains of a flight jacket were among the fruits of a dredging operation in a water-filled crater left by the delta-wing Avro Vulcan.

Although the Royal Air Force held faint hopes for a time that somebody might have escaped the falling plane, the six fliers were presumed dead.

The plane, en route from Lincoln, England, to Lincoln, Neb., on a combined training and goodwill mission, crashed in a riverfront residential neighborhood. Three houses were demolished and dozens more damaged but nobody was killed or injured seriously on the ground.

Pontiac Police Nab 3 Fleeing Convicts

Three convicts who walked away from a prison farm in White Lake Township last night, were apprehended early today by Pontiac Police.

Two of the convicts, Velma Outland, 28, of Flint, and William Paige, 28, of Detroit were picked up by officers at Cass avenue and Carter street at about 3:30 a.m.

The third, Fred Martin, 23, of Grand Rapids, was apprehended 30 minutes later on Nevada street. All were lodged at the Oakland County Jail and will be turned over to prison authorities.

Paige and Outland are doing terms for larceny from a building and Martin was sent to the farm, at White Lake and Teggerdine Rds. after being convicted on a burglary charge.

UAW Newspaper Goes All Out for Dem Ticket

DETROIT (AP)—Solidarity, biweekly newspaper of the United Auto Workers Union, today endorsed a straight Democratic ticket in the Nov. 4 election.

It headlined its stand: "End GOP hard times, vote Tuesday, Nov. 4."

Solidarity's Wayne County edition carried its Democratic endorsement down through races for county offices. It opposed a proposed convention to rewrite the state's constitution.

Taking Reservations for Conference Here

Last minute reservations are still being accepted for tomorrow's Foundation for Prosperity Conference, said John W. Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

The conference, sponsored by the chamber's Industrial Affairs Committee, begins at 9 a.m. at Pontiac Elks Temple with remarks by Hirlinger and a welcoming address by John A. Riley, president.

Five other speakers are scheduled for programs throughout the day. The $3 registration fee covers morning refreshments and lunch.

NEW YORK (AP) — Work was to resume in five Mack Truck Co. plants today following settlement of a strike of 9,000 company workers.

★ ★ ★

All workers were urged to return to the job after agreement on basic issues was signed yesterday by negotiators for the company and the Mack Truck Council of the United Auto Workers Union.

Plants affected are in Somerville and Plainfield, N.J., Cortland, N.Y., Sidney, Ohio, and Ala robbery attempt.

Negotiators will continue to meet on "open issues."

Warren Councilman Goes on Trial Today

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)— Irvin G. Little, controversial Warren City Councilman, goes on trial today charged with "corruptly deterring an elector from voting."

★ ★ ★

The 51-year-old Little was indicted on the charge in May 1957 by a Macomb County one-man grand jury.

He is accused of preventing William Wirick, now of Rochester, from voting in Warren's charter election of Oct. 2, 1956.

Wirick testified Little had told him he was ineligible to vote because he had moved a week earlier. But, Wirick, said, he later learned two absentee ballots were cast in his and his wife's names.

Smoke Signals Confusing

Failing to Elect New Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The princes of the Roman Catholic Church failed today, apparently on their eighth ballot in two days, to elect a new pope.

★ ★ ★

Black smoke curled from a chimney of the Sistine Chapel for the second time today and the fourth in two days. It meant the 51 cardinals closeted in secret meeting could reach no agreement on the man who, in their estimation, would be the best teacher and pastor for a half billion Catholics.

The Vatici)nbo $o did not commit itself definitely, but described the smoke as of such obvious blackness that one might assume there was a negative result.

Twenty minutes after the first puff, black smoke still issued from the Sistine Chapel chimney and enough time had passed to have brought any newly elected pope to the balcony.

Thus it was evident the cardinals had failed again.

★ ★ ★

The crowd, which had grown to about 200,000 in a relatively few minutes, turned away once more in disappointment. Vatican radio went off the air still without making its announcement definite. But there could be little doubt about the result.

The cardinals evidently had taken steps to make the hue of the smoke definite.

The 51 cardinals voted twice Sunday morning and twice in the afternoon but failed to give any prelate the 35 votes required for election — two thirds of those voting plus one.

No word on which candidates were running in front came from inside the walled-in, double-locked conclave area in which the princes of the church have been confined since Saturday night.

The end of each pair of ballots was accompanied by wild confusion over the smoke signs.

After every two votes, the ballots are burned in a stove inside the chapel. If a pope has been elected, the papers are burned alone and white smoke is supposed to spiral from the chimney. If there has been no election, a handful of damp straw is added and black smoke is supposed to come out.

★ ★ ★

Something went wrong Sunday. After the morning ballots, a cloud of white smoke shot up just before noon, and many in the crowd of about 60,000 in the square sent up shouts of joy. In a moment the smoke turned to gray and finally black.

A throng of nearly 200,000 in the square awaited the second signal at nightfall.

This time white smoke rolled out the chimney for fully five minutes.

"A pope is elected," declared the Vatican radio. News agencies sent the word around the world. The crowd cheered and waved handkerchiefs.

★ ★ ★

Even Vatican officials were fooled. Callori di Vignale, governor of the conclave, and Sigismondo Chigi, hereditary marshal, hurried to take up the positions assigned them following election of a pope.

★ ★ ★

Then uncertainity set in. The guards were sent back to their barracks. When 20 minutes had passed without a new pope appearing on the balcony, the doubt spread rapidly. Finally the crowd began to disperse.

★ ★ ★

Chigi said there was confusion in the palace until assurances finally were received from within the conclave that black smoke was intended.

There was no official explanation of the mixup.

Two More Polio Cases in Wayne, Detroit Free

DETROIT (AP)—No new polio cases were reported in Detroit over the weekend but two were recorded in Wayne County outside of Detroit.

The cases boosted the outcounty total for the year to 192 with one death.

The Detroit toll stands at 614 cases with 20 deaths, compared to 175 cases and two deaths during the same period in 1957.

GUESS AGAIN — Observers outside the Sistine Chapel in Vatican City thought a new pope had been chosen Sunday when first gray, then white smoke puffed from the chapel chimney. The smoke finally turned black, however, indicating the ballots of 51 cardinals were being burned without agreement on a new pontiff.

Baby Dies Taking Bath

DETROIT (AP) — Gregory Bennett, 16-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bennett of (221 Ratcliff) Garden City, was killed by electricity in his bath Sunday. Police said they believed the boy touched a radio near the kitchen sink in which he was being bathed.

Michigan claims to be the first state to establish an agricultural college which dates back to 1859.

National Income Nears Record

Bounces Back From Depths of Recession to $352 Billion Rate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government says the national income has bounced back from the recession depths to within a few percentage points of the all-time record rate of last year.

A Commerce Department report released late yesterday said the nation's income picked up slightly from April through June of this year and hit an annual rate of $352,400,000,000.

It is said this was up $2,200,000,000 from the rate in the first quarter of the year and within 4 per cent of the all-time peak of $368,700,000,000 attained in the third quarter of 1957.

Third-quarter national income figures for this year were not yet available, the report said, because not all data was in on corporate profits.

However, national income did rise "more substantially" in July-September than in April-June, the department said.

The optimistic new report followed release last week of figures showing that by October the economy had regained about three-fourths of the recession slowdown in production.

Yesterday's report said business activity firmed in the spring and expanded from July through September in factories producing manufacturing equipment and other investment goods.

It's a mystery how foolishly some people spend their money. It's a bigger mystery how these foolish people got the money in the first place . . . National problems weren't so big in the old days. They could be solved by the crowd in almost any barbershop. —Earl Wilson.

Pontiac Business Is Beginning to Hum

Slowly, but surely, Pontiac is getting out of the economic doldrums. Industry is once again beginning to hum in Pontiac. The settlements at the three local GM plants is about the best news this area could possibly have.

★ ★ ★

Quite in contrast to a year ago when the outlook at this time was one of caution and uncertainty, the present is optimistic with all indications pointing toward a full complement of workers on the job.

The green light is on. Local business is moving ahead and the outlook for this fall is definitely good.

The entire auto industry in this general area has about settled all the local isues. In the majority of cases, both union and management have agreed that the three year pact will bring "labor peace."

With the big three settled, and more workers being recalled daily, the effect will be felt by the other allied plants in the area. Generally speaking, business here is like a "chain letter," it mushrooms from the top down.

★ ★ ★

With the auto industry heading into full production the rest of the nation's industrial activity should follow suit. Michigan auto factories are a barometer for the rest of the nation.

★ ★ ★

The nervousness that existed before the recent agreements has ended and instead a period of normalcy with good times is looked forward to for Pontiac and our environs.

Landslide Needed for Kennedy's Purpose

One of the most interesting political races of the fall campaign is currently taking place in Massachusetts.

★ ★ ★

John F. Kennedy is out for reelection as Senator. Of course, this step is just a prelude for the bigger post he eyes two years hence: the Presidency. But he faces his current race first and his immediate assignment is to defeat his GOP senatorial opponent, Vincent Celeste.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy's a shoo-in.

He can't lose.

His opponent is a reasonably likeable young man but with no political record whatsoever. In fact, Celeste is so poorly financed he doesn't even have a campaign headquarters. It was a job to find anyone who wanted to run against Kennedy. Celeste is little known whereas the Senator is a national figure and almost Mr. Massachusetts within the boundaries of his own commonwealth. And Kennedy could finance Rockefeller and Harriman's campaigns combined if he wanted to do so.

★ ★ ★

The Senator's only concern is his margin. He must thunder down to the wire with a huge majority to impress fellow Democrats in other sections. Were he to win ordinarily, other presidential aspirants would try and discount him accordingly.

★ ★ ★

Hence, we have a formidable man running for all he is worth against a push-over while he eyes a ghost that is breathing down his neck in the form of "how big a majority, John."

More Morse Malarkey

Democratic Sen. MORSE of Oregon on a campaign tour of Wisconsin last week sounded off in his usual vein.

On the subject of Quemoy and Matsu he again demanded that President EISENHOWER be impeached if he doesn't call the Senate into session before taking any action in defense of those islands. Such action, the Senator declared, would be unconstitutional.

★ ★ ★

When the 1955 Formosa resolution was passed at the President's request, the wording was left vague deliberately so that the Chief Executive's hands would not be tied in an emergency. However, under the Constitution he already had that power but President EISENHOWER wanted to make assurance doubly sure.

★ ★ ★

There are plenty of logical and sound arguments against the defense of the islands, but, says the Milwaukee Journal, "Morse, in keeping with his frequent irresponsible talk, is way off base in talking about impeachment over the Quemoy and Matsu situation. It is too serious for the irresponsible tactics Morse is using."

Some excuse could be made for the Senator if he didn't know any better.

He was the only entrant among the four survivors to pick the winner in Saturday's contest game between University of Detroit and Arizona State, which the latter won, 27-6.

The contest drew the largest number of entries in the history of such contests with us. Its largest casualty list was in the tie game between Michigan and Michigan State, when 2,611 were eliminated. It was to run through 14 games, but is closed out in the sixth.

A life-long follower of sports, Mr. Wright is 52 years of age, and profited by picking a tie game at the right time, and also by not being influenced too much by what the "experts" predicted.

David Lawrence Says:

Picking Strauss Disproves Theory

WASHINGTON — Appointment of Lewis S. Strauss, a southerner and a conservative Republican, to be secretary of commerce, while not intended by President Eisenhower to be related to national politics, nevertheless is causing some talk about political implications.

LAWRENCE

This seems to be an era in which attention is paid, politically at least, to religious factors in campaigns. Politicians keep talking about it as an important one to bear in mind in selecting candidates or in making appointments to high office.

Lewis Strauss happened to be born in West Virginia, but he grew up in Richmond, Va., where his grandparents settled in 1849. After serving as private secretary to Herbert Hoover, food administrator during World War I, Strauss went to New York City. He worked his way up there in an investment banking firm and became a community leader.

He was for 12 years president of the Temple Emanu-el congregation of New York City, one of the foremost Jewish Church organizations in America. He is also a life trustee of Hampton Institute, one of the prominent Negro colleges in the South, and he is still president of the institute of advanced studies at Princeton, N.J., a top institution in the field of science with which the late Albert Einstein was identified.

Strauss is the first member of his religious faith who has been chosen in more than a decade to the Cabinet of a President of the United States.

Though little is ever said about it in public, the politicians usually advise a President to try to have the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths continuously represented in the cabinet and on the Supreme Court. With the selection of Strauss, all faiths now are to be found in the cabinet as well as on the Supreme Court.

Coming as the incident does at a time when the "hate" organizations are trying to create antagonisms between different religious groups in America, this appointment is evidence to the rest of the world, especially the Soviet Union—where the Communist government encourages anti-Semitism—that prejudices of a religious nature are of no concern to either political party in the United States today in the selection of persons for high office.

The recent attempt to fasten anti-Semitic or anti-Catholic labels on southern Democrats is due largely to mistaken beliefs on the part of those people in the North who are ignorant of the true feelings of the southern people.

Senator Kennedy of Massachusetts, a leading Catholic, got an extraordinary vote, for instance, for the vice presidential nomination in the last Democratic National Convention largely because of the votes of southern states.

Those few people who accept the theory that anti-Semitism is related to the so-called "Confederate underground" do not realize that Judah P. Benjamin, a member of the Jewish faith, served successively as attorney general, secretary of war and secretary of state in the Confederate cabinet of Jefferson Davis.

It seems unlikely that in appointing Lewis Strauss to be secretary of commerce, President Eisenhower had anything else in mind except the unusual ability and capacity of the former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

It will be recalled that President Truman first appointed Strauss to that commission. The latter's persistence enabled America to push ahead with the development of the hydrogen bomb over the protest of som misguided critics.

★ ★ ★

Strauss served with distinction in the Navy in World War II and holds the rank of rear admiral, retired. His knowledge of atomic energy questions, which now have become of great importance in the "atoms for peace" plan which he has consistently championed, will come in handy in the post of secretary of commerce, as will his business experience.

Smiles

It's funny how the folks next door know better than you do how to raise children.

Dr. William Brady Says:

If Blood Pressure Goes Up or Down—Find Cause

The other day a newspaper implied in the index that "a piece on page 6 would tell how a great doctor has found that people with high blood pressure are likely to outlive . . ." On turning to page 6 and reading what the great doctor had to say, I felt cheated. The doctor had remarked that some persons with high blood pressure actually live longer than persons who haven't high blood pressure, provided they take good care of themselves and follow the doctor's advice at all times.

DR. BRADY

Perhaps I should say I would have felt cheated if I had high blood pressure. My complaint, if I had to complain about something, would be about low blood pressure.

There is no specific remedy for high blood pressure, and it is idle to take treatment or follow a restricted diet for high blood pressure when you don't know what is causing it. Neither high nor low blood pressure is a disease. It is merely one sign of something wrong, and it is the physician's job to find out if he can what is wrong, just as it is when examination of a patient reveals rales, high or low temperature or a murmur.

I'm afraid too many credulous customers are as much impressed by the gadget for measuring blood pressure as they are by the Rube Goldberg machine (the metabolimeter) and too many merchants of medicine use the gadgets to make a quick buck.

The stethoscope serves (1) to exclude extraneous sounds so that one may listen more intently to sounds produced by the breathing or the circulation; and (2) as a convenience for listening where it would be awkward to place the ear; and (3) as an esthetic medium in place of actual contact of the ear with the patient's body. It is questionable, however, whether this implement reveals anything a good doctor can't hear with his unaided ears.

On page 36 of the C V D book about heart and arteries, I give some practical emergency remedies for angina pectoris; on page 30 I explain why coffee is good for the heart; on page 31 I talk gingerly about coronary thrombosis; and on page 34 I say, firmly but gently, never mind your blood pressure.

If you think you know more about it than I do, all I can say is the heck with you, I'm off to the bowling green.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Adventist Church Answers Episcopal Ruling on Liquor

I read with interest the Pontiac Press report from the conference of the Episcopal Church on the alcohol problem. Alcohol may be a gift of God when one considers its chemical and industrial uses, but man has perverted its use as he has the power of the atom to destructive purposes.

★ ★ ★

The scriptures are crystal clear on the alcohol problem: No social drinking; "Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor to drink." Hab. 2:15. No intoxicants for people of authority or responsibility (kings, princes, priests, deacons); Lev. 10:8-11, Ez. 44:21, Prov. 31:4, Tim. 3:8.

★ ★ ★

Alcoholic beverages were specifically prohibited to Manoah, the mother of Samson (Judges 13:4) and to John the Baptist, the forerunner of Christ (Luke 1:15). Surely God would not prohibit one of his "good gifts." In short, "wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise." Prov. 20:1.

'Is GOP the Party of Labor After All?'

I'm amazed at the serious accusation against Walter Reuther in Tuesday's paper, and if this be true, we in America should wake up. When we see how the laboring man in Great Britain allowed himself to be taken over by the Socialistic Labor Party and how it actually put that great nation on the rocks, that should be a lesson to all of us here in America.

If this be true every politician regardless of party who has his apron strings tied to this set up should be defeated. Perhaps the Republican party, after all, is the true friend of labor. At least they have never been accused of trying to bring in any form of government that's contrary to our American way of life.

Speaking of governments, could someone please tell me what form they have in Ohio? They have less taxation than we yet the state has over $60 million in the bank and our great state will end up over $60 million in debt.

★ ★ ★

We need to elect some business men to run our state. We need a change badly. We need more than a fiddling Nero fiddling around crowning beauty queens, kissing babies, fiddling for square dances while our great state burns down. See you at the polls Nov. 4.

TB Patients Seek to Correct Notion

Many people in Oakland County are under the impression that part of their donations are being used for entertainment, recreation and rehabilitation supplies of the patients.

★ ★ ★

Patients want you to know this is not so. Not one cent of Christmas Seal money is used for this purpose or any other activity to make their stay compatible. There are many, many things that would be provided for the mental health of patients if there were funds available. Patients, therefore, have set up a fund at the sanatorium for the purpose stated above and request any donation intended for this purpose be sent directly to the Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Pontiac, Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Patients know the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Fund is a worthy cause and in no way wish to deprive the Tuberculosis Association from getting funds for their purpose.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Tells Benefits of Marriage Bureau

Nina refused two marriage proposals in order to help her invalided mother. This same sense of duty explains why thousands of fine men and women are single. But our Scientific Marriage Foundation is now helping such people get acquainted with a view to romance and marriage. Note the followup tomorrow.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z—355: Nina B., aged 20, was a popular girl at De Pauw University and when she graduated, she had received two proposals of marriage.

★ ★ ★

But the first week after she returned home, her mother had a stroke. This confined her to bed as a semi-invalid.

Nina's three older brothers had married and left home, so they figured Nina could look after their mother.

The town's population was only 947, so Nina took a position as teacher in the grade school.

DR. CRANE

Dutifully she prepared lunch for her mother and served as her constant companion at night.

★ ★ ★

But on Sunday Nina taught a girl's Sunday School class and sang in the choir.

Twelve years elapsed and Nina's mother recently passed away.

"Dr. Crane, I'd now like to marry," Nina informed me. "But all the eligible men of my age in this little town already have wives.

"And I must stick to my teaching job five days a week, so I don't have a chance to travel to Europe or California and Florida just in hopes of meeting desirable men.

"So could you please help me? Surely there must be plenty of fine men with whom I'd be compatible.

★ ★ ★

"But how does a girl like me have a chance to meet them?"

SCIENTIFIC MARRIAGE

At the present time there are about 11,000,000 women 21 years of age or older, who are either unmarried or widows.

The corresponding figure for the unmarried men is about 8,000,000.

And my mail through the years has contained hundreds of requests, just like Nina's, from handsome men and beautiful women, whose loyalty to aged or invalided parents caused them to forego a wedding when they were young adults.

Now, maybe 10 or 20 years later, they are free of family obligations and would like to meet eligible members of the opposite sex.

★ ★ ★

Please note that these people are usually cultured, religious folks and of good educations, so they would often make ideal parents, too.

In desperation, I finally helped launch a non-profit social service organization, which we incorporated in the State of Illinois.

You have probably already heard about it, for its Advisory Board consists of leaders of the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish Churches, and includes Bishop Gerald Kennedy, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, Dr. Preston Bradley, Rabbi G. George Fox, and others.

★ ★ ★

It is already helping introduce thousands of eligible people for the purpose of starting friendships that may finally lead to happy marriage.

One of the finest aspects of this Scientific Marriage Foundation is the fact that all applicants must consult a local Counsellor of the Foundation for a personal interview.

This Counsellor is a talented clergyman, professor or YMCA executive. And the Counsellor also telephones the three character references that have been cited on each Applicant's questionnaire.

Thus, when the Scientific Marriage Foundation introduces a man to a woman, it knows it has certified prospects.

And it matches Jew with Jew, Catholic with Catholic and Protestant with Protestant.

It also tries to introduce people of the same racial and educational background, as well as the same hobbies and outlook on life.

We started the Scientific Marriage Foundation in Indiana as a Pilot Plant, but it has zoomed to nationwide proportions.

It bids well to rival the Red Cross as a great social service project in the realm of human emotions.

It feeds heart hungers and helps establish HAPPY homes, which are the bulwark of our Republic and our moral society.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Fears 'Radical' Takeover

WASHINGTON (AP) — Meade Alcorn, GOP national chairman, says "left wing radicals" such as Walter Reuther and Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams will take control if the voters increase the Democrats' majority in Congress.

★ ★ ★

In an air interview yesterday, Alcorn explained his arguments this way:

Southern conservatives in Congress have achieved their maximum strength. Any new Democrats in the House or Senate will come from the North and West "and thereby increase the influence of the left wing."

Asked whom he included in the class of left wing Democrats, Alcorn named United Auto Workers President Reuther, Gov. Williams, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon and Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman.

Says Periodic Check-Ups Mishandled

Decries Doctors' Attitude

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) —Too many doctors brush off patients seeking periodic health check-ups, a public health official says. He says it's because too much emphasis has been placed on medical education for treating disease as distinguished from maintaining health.

Dr. Lester Breslow, chronic diseases chief of the California State Health Department, said it's true there aren't anywhere near enough doctors to give everyone in the country an annual check-up —apparently the "ideal approach to preventive medicine."

Most people don't seek one anyway, he said, partly because of the cost involved.

He said in a talk Sunday to the Assn. of Teachers of Preventive Medicine on the eve of the 86th annual meeting of the American Public Health Assn:

"In addition to the present impossibility of periodic health examinations (for everyone) from the standpoint of physician time, there is also the fact that physicians in the United States are still not oriented toward or interested in health maintenance work.

"Those in public health practice are all too familiar with the lament of the public health nurses who encourage people to go to physicians for a periodic check-up, only to have the physicians give patients the 'brush-off.'"

He said another thing that probably has held down the development of the periodic health examination "is the poor quality of it when it has been offered."

"Experience with the cursory school health examination or usual life insurance examination would not seem to provide much encouragement for regular check-ups," he said.

Dr. Breslow said while the ideal of annual comprehensive check-ups for everyone remains a goal for the future, a partial approach to the ideal lies in a health examination called "multiple screening."

He defined this as the combination into a battery of several disease-detection, or screening, tests performed by technicians under medical direction and applied to large groups of apparently well persons.

Shall We Rewrite Our Constitution?

Legislative Seats Knotty Problem

(Sixth of 10 articles on constitutional conventions)

By ARTHUR W. BROMAGE

Professor of Political Science, University of Michigan

None of the issues awaiting a constitutional convention is more turbulent than legislative apportionment.

How delegates to any convention would distribute the seats in the two houses—by population or area or both—is a big question. The fear in altering the present distribution is that the heavy populated Detroit area might get a controlling majority.

The weighting of people and area in the scale of representation is an old problem.

In 1952, when Michigan arrived at its present apportionment, the issue of area vs. people was a bone of contention. The voters had before them two amendments. One, using population in districting both House and Senate, was defeated at the polls.

The other, called a plan for a balanced legislature, was adopted and is the working basis today.

For the State Senate, a provision for 34 districts was frozen into the constitution. These districts were designed to reflect the interests of area, not the distribution of population.

For the house, a maximum membership of 110 was fixed. In alloting these seats, the ratio of representation was decided by dividing the state's population by 100. At the last apportionment, the ratio came out at 63,718, which would be the number of people ordinarily required for one representative.

★ ★ ★

To any country or group of countries which could not meet this figure but which came up to half of it, the constitution granted a seat. In effect, the sparse areas were favored.

To under represent urban areas and over represent the rural is common in state government.

What is unusual about Michigan is that both houses discriminate against metropolitan populations.

What would the reaction of the delegates be to alternative schemes? A majority of them, having been chosen from the state senatorial districts, would represent a minority of the state's residents. This minority has an interest in maintaining the allotment as now fixed.

Castro Warns U.S. 'Stay Out'

Charges Smith, Envoy to Cuba, Busy Plotting American Intervention

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Rebel leader Fidel Castro says his men will fight any American intervention in the war between him and President Fulgencio Batista.

Castro broadcast personally Sunday night from his mountain camp in reply to U.S. State Department spokesman Lincoln White. White said last week that the United States might have to take action if rebel kidnaping of Americans didn't stop.

The rebel leader charged U.S. Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith and President Fulgencio Batista with plotting to provoke American intervention, and said:

"If the State Department continues to give credence to the intrigues of Ambassador Smith and Batista, thus incurring the unjustifiable error of leading the United States to an act of aggression against our sovereignty, you may be assured we will know how to defend it firmly."

★ ★ ★

Castro's men kidnaped 47 Americans last June and two oil men last week. All were released unharmed.

The rebel chief's charge against Ambassador Smith apparently stemmed from the evacuation by U.S. Navy ship late last week of 58 Americans from the rebel-held northeast Cuban town of Nicaro, site of a nickel-processing plant operated by U.S. government employes. Before the evacuation a Cuban navy gunboat shelled the town and forced the rebels to retreat.

★ ★ ★

The evacuees arrived in Miami over the weekend by plane from the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay. Fourteen of the plant's American employes remained behind.

Their Prank Ends With One Youth Shot to Death

MULDROW, Okla. (AP) — A prank turned into a tragedy Sunday when a youth was shot to death.

★ ★ ★

The victim was Thomas Darrell Wasson, 19, of nearby Roland.

Sheriff E. W. Floyd said two Muldrow youths, Paul Laney and Jerry Duvall, took Wasson to a house on the pretext of introducing him to a girl.

★ ★ ★

As they approached, another youth stormed out the front door, represented himself as the girl's father, and started shooting.

Laney and Duvall said the prank had worked several times before with the frightened victim running away.

★ ★ ★

But the sheriff said Donald Howell, 20, of Muldrow, didn't aim high enough and Wasson was killed.

A coroner's jury ruled the shooting was accidental.

Bad Weather Delays Jet Passenger Flight

PARIS (AP) — Pan American's Clipper America today inaugurated jet passenger service between New York and Paris, but fog and unfavorable weather delayed the arrival of the first flight 95 minutes.

★ ★ ★

The big airliner, with 111 passengers and a crew of 12 aboard, made the flight from New York in 8 hours 20 minutes.

The airline plans on a regular crossing time of 7 hours 5 minutes. Piston-driven planes take about 11 hours.

Nuclear Emulsion Scanner

Terry's a Good Looking Machine

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Terry's a pretty smart gal, much smarter than humans. She has a photographic memory and hands that are writing all the time.

Terry's a good looking machine and was named for a Greek goddess. If she looks something like a microscope, a television camera and an electronic computer all rolled up into one, that's because she is.

Terry's a modern sort of female, something from the atomic age. She's at the University of Michigan. But Terry's not a coed. She has a job. It's to detect and count thousands of faint tracks left by atomic particles flying through sheets of special film. The university's atom smasher grinds up the particles so Terry can count them.

★ ★ ★

Humans can do Terry's job. But she does it 15 times faster.

Her real name is nuclear smulsion scanner. But everybody calls her Terry after Thereteira, the huntress.

Terry has been called a debutante by her inventor, Prof. Paul V. C. Hough.

"She is the first real success among half a dozen attempts in the U. S. and Europe to solve this recognition problem instrumentally," Hough said.

He said she can scan as much film in 90 minutes as her human sisters can in four days. And, said Hough, Terry doesn't make human mistakes.

To see, Terry looks through her television camera. Like many girls, she wears glasses—a 200-power microscope. She's able to look at 60 different tiny squares of film every second.

Her brain, containing her photographic memory, is a specialized 50-foot-square computer. Terry can remember dots within the minute squares. The dots, when they are dark and wide enough, form part of a track. When Terry finds 15 consecutive dots inside a square, she remembers them as one track.

Terry has an electronic printer for hands. She writes down a running count of the tracks and plots them on a graph to show their frequency.

She's very open minded when asked to tell what she knows. Hough said Terry can tell what she knows by projecting her mind on a television screen at any time during her analysis.

Hough thinks Terry's a pretty handy gal to have around in his experiments because of her superhuman faculties.

"We've been handicapped by the fact that nobody really knows how humans recognize situations," Hough said. "We've had to select the vital features of each scene, then trained Terry to remember only those features as she makes her survey."

Terry gets film strips from the university's cyclotron. The film records the flight of atomic particles deflected by the nuclei of atoms and sorted by a magnetic field.

The particles strike the film and leave a faint line. By recording the number of particles hitting the film, Hough and his associates can ascertain the structure of the nuclei. Terry does the whole job for them.

★ ★ ★

Hough said 30 film strips sometimes are used in one cyclotron experiment. Terry can process them in four or five days. It takes a human six months to count the dots on the film, said Hough.

"The job of finding tracks with a microscope in a 12-inch strip of film is equivalent to locating a one-inch-long needle with a four-inch reading glass in a field 20 feet wide and 240 feet long," Hough said.

It took Hough and his co-workers three years to bring Terry to life.

No Segregation at Graham Rally

South Carolina Meeting Draws Mixed Crowd of 60,000

FT. JACKSON, S.C. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham drew 60,000 people Sunday to an unsegregated religious rally here. Plans to hold the meeting on the State House grounds at nearby Columbia were upset last week by protests of segregationist Gov. George Bell Timmerman.

The governor said that to hold it in front of the State House might be interpreted as meaning that the state government favors what Timmerman called Graham's views favoring desegration. Timmerman also said it would violate the principle of separation of church and state.

★ ★ ★

About 2,500 persons came forward after the sermon to dedicate their lives to Christ. Many of them were Negroes.

The estimates of the crowd and those coming forward were made by rally committeemen and military police.

Former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes of Columbia was among public figures attending. Byrnes, a former governor, is a strong segregationist.

The international evangelist, who concluded a five-week crusade in his native Charlotte, N.C., Saturday, spoke on the love of God and world turmoil.

He said people are asking why God allows such a paradox. The answer, Graham said is that "man decided he could run the world without God.

"Our hope is in Christ. He alone can transform human nature."

Graham told a news conference that "some people have become so unbalanced by the whole issue of segregation or integration that these have become their only gospel.

"God pity us if we let our opinions on this one issue take precedence over getting the gospel to a lost world."

Shot Misses 'Victim' but Kills Bystander

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A bystander was killed by a shot fired at a fleeing man early Sunday.

The victim was John Douglas Netherland, 41, one of about a dozen persons in an East Side cafe.

The intended victim, Prett Rollins, 21, told police he had fought a short time before with a man who left and returned with a shotgun. The man fired as Rollins dashed into the restaurant.

Police arrested Robert Martin, 29, and held him for investigation.

GI Home Loans Prove Good Risks Since 1944

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government has had to pay claims on only about eight-tenths of one per cent of the five million home loans underwritter by the Veterans Administration since December, 1944, the VA announced today.

Sumner G. Whittier, veterans administrator, said not all the defaults were attributable to GI borrowers either; some were defaulted by persons who bought property from the original veteran owner.

Whittier said 24 per cent of the loans have already been paid in full.

Confidence of Bench Warmer Returns

When Larry first talked to that man from the Boys' Club of Pontiac, he figured there wasn't much anyone could do for him. Larry, 12, thought he just wasn't cut out to be any good as an athlete, no matter how much he loved sports.

As a little leaguer two years ago he'd spent most of his time on the bench, not getting much of a workout. He was known as the "bench warmer" and now his classmates called him "sissy" because he'd turned his back on athletics.

An older boy, Jack, had been "bullying" him on the way home from school. His grades suffered and he "skipped school" or faked illness because he was afraid to go to school.

The day his dad dropped him off at the local Boys' Club, a United Fund supported agency, Larry started to realize there was a "place" for him somewhere and that he wasn't a weakling.

★ ★ ★

From the first day, Larry participated in sports with kids of his own age and calibre and found he was far from being a "bench warmer."

At the Boys Club the idea is not to make "star" athletes out of everyone.

The club aims at teaching the basic fundamentals of good sportsmanship and the fact that a boy is not always expected to win, just to try to do his best.

Larry's confidence in himself returned. But the Boys' Club didn't stop here. They got Larry and his parents together with Jack and his parents.

★ ★ ★

After a friendly talk with the club representative acting as mediator, Jack decided to "lay off" giving Larry a hard time. Now, the club was interested in Jack's problem. They wanted to try and channel his "fighting" and athletic abilities in another direction.

This was where Larry, himself, came to the resue. He approached Jack at school one day and asked him for help. Larry had become interested in boxing at the club. He knew from painful experience that Jack was an expert at this.

So, Jack came to the club one evening and has since become a member. Both boys are now the best of friends and doing well at school.

Jack has taught his younger companion a lot about boxing, and has even learned a great deal from instructors that he didn't know himself.

This is but one of thousands of similar cases solved each year by the Pontiac Boys' Club, through the aid given by United Fund contributions.

★ ★ ★

According to Cressy Larson, executive director, "We want the parents of Oakland County to realize that we are not just a club for boys who have gotten into trouble with law authorities. We are devoted to helping all kids of all ages, offering them fun and training in arts, crafts, photography, sports and many other fields."

Injured Janitor Key to Ottawa Explosion

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP)—A solution to the mystery of an explosion that did millions of dollars damage in the center of Ottawa Saturday may depend on the evidence of one critically injured man.

★ ★ ★

Police told a meeting of Ottawa's standing emergency committee they got "valuable information" from William Anderson, 45, when he recovered consciousness at Ottawa Hospital Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Anderson, a janitor, was dug out of the rubble of the Addressograph-Multigraph of Canada, Ltd., shop, which fire officials say was the center of the blast. His body was nearly covered with burns.

He was one of five persons seriously injured in the explosion. Hospital treatment was required for 34 others. No one was killed.

FUTURE CHAMPS — At the Pontiac Boys' Club, 530 E. Pike St., these lads are learning boxing techniques and good sportsmanship. Tomorrow they may do some tumbling to sharpen their reflexes. After the shower they may spend an hour in the handicraft shop or photo lab.

Horse Thieves Safe With Vigilantes Club

FERGUS FALLS, Minn. (UPI)—If you believe its constitution, the Anti-Horse Thief Association, formed here in 1872, was a band of blood-thirsty vigilantes.

The charter says "it shall be the sworn duty of any and all members of this society," having nabbed a horse thief with the goods, "to promtply execute the said horse thief, by hanging, or in the absence of facilities for hanging by shooting."

But the Minnesota Historical Society said the association was little more than a social club and that horse thieves really had little to fear from its members.

Churchill Takes 'Copter to Visit U.S. Warship

NICE, France (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill took his first helicopter trip yesterday and paid his first visit in seven years to a U. S. warship.

A U.S. Navy helicopter carried the former British prime minister, who turns 84 next month, from Nice airfield to the aircraft carrier Randolph in the harbor of Cannes where he had lunch with U.S. 6th fleet commander, Vice Adm. Clarence E. Ekstrom. During his visit, Sir Winston gingerly roamed the carrier's vast flight deck and hangars.

Fuchs to Receive Society's Medal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Geographic Society announced today that its Hubbard Medal will be awarded to Sir Vivian Fuchs, the British explorer who led history's first overland crossing of Antarctica this year.

Dr. Melville Bell Grosvenor, president and editor of the society, said the award will be presented when Fuchs comes here to address the society next Feb. 6.

The medal has been awarded only 17 times previously. Earlier recipients have included Roald Amundsen, Sir Ernest Shackleton, Adm. Richard E. Byrd and Charles A. Lindbergh.

Shocks Alert Trout to Danger of Splash

WASHINGTON — Scientists investigating the psychology and habits of trout have cleared up the mystery of why hatchery trout disappear within a few days of being introduced into natural streams.

They discovered that since hatcherymen most usually fed fish by tossing food onto the water, the trout regarded a splash as a chow call. When released in streams for stocking purposes, they continued to surface at a splash. This was fatal because the splash was generally made by an otter, a blue heroh, or a fisherman's fly.

To combat this tendency, hatcherymen were persuaded to give trout a mild electric shock when they surfaced after a splash, making the hatchery-reared fish as wary of splashes as their brothers who grow up in the native habitat.

Refrigerator for Car Has No Moving Parts

DETROIT — A dashboard-mounted car refrigerator with no moving parts is being readied for the market. There is no direct operating cost.

It works by vaporization and recondensation of gasoline drawn from and returned to the engine. Power for operation comes from the car's engine. The unit will keep up to a dozen soft-drink bottles at about 40 degrees.

How much of himself does a father see in his son?

Anyone can see the ways in which a father and son look alike. But the father sees similarities that others miss. Reminders of his own boyhood, his own dreams as a youth.

In quiet moments, he thinks of the future. His son's future. And he feels especially good about certain sacrifices he is making. The money he is putting into life insurance, for instance.

There's a special comfort in knowing that his family is adequately protected, come what may. And it's reassuring that one policy is labelled "for my son's education."

A father is grateful for the chance to plan ahead. To make sure that his boy will have opportunities that he himself may have missed.

Portrait Emerges From Facts

Typical Michigan Tourist

LANSING (AP) — This is the typical tourist who spends his vacation in Michigan.

He's a family man, age 43, with one or more children under 16. He's from Michigan or one of its neighboring states. If he's a typical out-of-stater, he's been here before.

His annual income exceeds $5,000 and he spends $217 on his vacation here. He'll stay 11½ days, most likely in a motel (48 per cent) or cottage (32 per cent).

He travels by automobile (89.8 per cent) and was most attracted by Michigan's scenery, historic or other spots (57 per cent).

Chances are about equal that he'll head for one spot and stay there or travel around the state.

He'll be back again.

That's the "portrait" drawn by the Michigan Tourist Council in a survey of 10,000 vacationers made in cooperation with Michigan State University. Findings were published in a new pamphlet "Facts and Figures on Michigan's Tourist Industry."

It shows Michigan ranks fourth in the nation as a tourist state behind New York, California and Florida.

Annual income of 650 million dollars from about 9,750,000 tourists ranks it with manufacturing and agriculture as one of the state's top three income producers.

At least 39 million dollars goes into the state treasury in the form of taxes and hunting and fishing license fees.

Taft-Hartley Law Provision Fosters Right-to-Work Issue

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is an ABC on the argument over right-to-work laws which ban the union shop. Eighteen states have such laws now. In six other states, voters will decide Nov. 4 whether they, too, want such laws.

The Taft-Hartley Labor Act of 1947, like the Wagner Act before it, recognizes the right of employes to organize a union to bargain with their employer. But it outlaws the closed shop, under which every employe and every new one hired must be a union member.

T-H permits the union shop where a union and employer agree. This provides that every employe must join the union and every new employe must join within 30 to 60 days of being hired. In a union shop anyone who quits the union loses his job.

But there's a gimmick in T-H on this: it says states can pass laws forbidding the union shop. In the 18 states which have already done so this anti-union shop legislation has become known as the right-to-work law.

★ ★ ★

Here are the 18 with such laws: Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Mississippi, Nebraska, Nevada, North and South Carolina, North and South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, and Virginia

Here are the six in which the right-to-work proposals are a real issue in this year's campaign: Ohio, Kansas, Colorado, Idaho, Washington, California.

Generally, business backs the right-to-work laws while organized labor is the main opponent. There are arguments for and against a union shop.

Against it are these arguments:

1. That in a free society a worker should not have to join a union against his will. Some men have strong principles against union membership—at least for themselves. Some believe that by their own initiative they can get more benefits than are obtainable through a union.

2. That union members may some day get disgusted with their union and want to quit. They know they can't quit where there's a union shop without losing their jobs.

3. That where there's a union but membership is not compulsory the union leaders will be more responsive to the members than where members, as in a union shop, can't quit in protest.

4. That with everyone compelled to join a union—and lose his job if he quits—the door is open for corrupt deals between crooked union leaders and employers. For example: by agreeing on a substandard contract that flim-flams the rank-and-file union members.

★ ★ ★

For the union shop are these arguments:

1. That right-to-work laws weaken, if they do not wreck, unions. For example:

A. In a shop less than 100 per cent organized, a union's strength is less than it might be in bargaining with an employer.

B. In such a place the value or effectiveness of a strike or strike threat—to force an employer to meet the union's demands—is greatly diminished when he knows not all his employes will walk out and shut down his shop.

★ ★ ★

C. Anti-union shop laws enable an employer to try to wreck a union when, in hiring new employes, he takes on only those opposing unions until they outnumber the union members.

2. That all employes in a group, both union and nonunion, share the benefits won by collective bargaining and thus should have to share the union's expenses by paying dues.

3. That those who believe they can do better by themselves without a union are misguided because a man dealing singly with an employer can't get what a union can bargaining collectively and with the force of numbers.

4. That there's no reason why union leaders should be indifferent to the members' desires, or make deals with the employer at the expense of the rank-and-file members, if the members are alert, go to meetings to see what's going on, and through the democratic process of elections throw out the leaders who betray them.

(A glaring argument against No. 4 is the corruption in the Teamsters' Union, although evidence of such corruption in unions in general has been very small.)

Cooling Autumn Shifts Hot Music to Silent Cellar

BAYREUTH, Germany (AP) — A jazz club is operating in the basement of Haus Wahnfried, opera composer Richard Wagner's famed villa. The jivesters are the guests of Winifred Wagner, the composer's daughter-in-law.

★ ★ ★

The teen-age jazz club had been meeting once a week on a large balcony across from the Wagner villa. With autumn's cool breezes, the lovers of hot music advertised for warmer quarters.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Wagner welcomed the club to her sound-proofed cellar. That's better than jazz on a balcony near her bedroom window, she explained.

About 100 pounds of separated milk are needed to produce nine pounds of non-fat dry milk solids, according to manufacturing methods.

Frank Sinatra, Lady Beatty Back Together

LONDON (AP) — Frank Sinatra and Lady Beatty were reunited Sunday night. Apparently a weekend apart had calmed their anger.

★ ★ ★

The singer and the American-born London society woman have been keeping company for several weeks but had a spat late Thursday night. Lady Beatty flew to Zurich Friday to see her psychotherapist.

★ ★ ★

She returned by plane Sunday night and was met by Ewan Lloyd Sinatra's personal publicity man. A few hours later Frankie rang her doorbell and was greeted by the lady herself.

Lady Beatty smiled happily for reporters. Sinatra scowled. Neither would discuss their fuss or their plans.

Old Village Rejects Modern Tom Sawyer

STURBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — A 14-year-old Connecticut boy, visiting Old Sturbridge Village, the re-created New England country town, took one look at the rustic mill pond and got an idea.

★ ★ ★

A few days later the Village director received a letter from Timothy Keith that read: "I have an idea that a boy of the Tom Sawyer type could paddle around your mill pond on a raft made of logs and attract visitors to the Village."

Timothy volunteered to be the boy—at $35 a week plus room and board. His offer was rejected because the Village represents a period much earlier than that in which Tom Sawyer lived.

Nature, Parents Stacked Against Teenager

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — It has been a dog's age, as the canine geriatricians would put it, since I was a teenager. But I still remember, with a dull pain in the neck, what a trial it was.

The object of the teenager is to slip one over on nature in general and parents in particular by getting to be 20 without going crazy.

Nature and parents are stacked against you—the one prodding you to kick up your heels, the other commanding you to watch your step.

Dentists give you braces, spring gives you yearnings, teachers give you problems, books give you dreams, newspapers give you disillusions, moonlight gives you ideas, mother gives you rules, friends give you complexes, neighbors give you the fishy eye, and just about everything—when you add up the variant emotional factors—gives you the willies.

Teenage is the time when girls get suddenly fat, and boys get suddenly stuttery; the time—perhaps the last—when kids think for themselves; pimples for no medical reason, and a girl with big feet becomes shy for life. It is a schizophrenic period when tomboys overnight become ladies in red, and when young men who cannot get into Yale become Ivy League cynics and ever afterward wear plaid sport coats.

It is such a swift, confusing, troubling period of life that a great part of the population purposely blots it from mind. The pain, frustration, heartbreak, fear, embarrassment, ban on nail polish, second-hand suit, ticket for speeding, the thrashing, the first kiss that got a laugh, the awful years when she was tall and he was short, the "D" in chemistry, the passion, the guilt—why recall them?

This is why, in easier, more placid times, parents mostly forget. And when parents forget, their teenagers must go through the whole worrisome tradition without help and understanding.

There's never enough understanding for a teenager. His parents don't quite understand. His friends don't quite understand. And, least of all, does he.

So they band together, usually, in muddled groups that give them the impression they know where they're going. And once in a great while, if the group leader is ahead of his time in resourcefulness, they really do know what they're going.

This is the way with John, a senior at a Westchester County high school near New York City. He gathered together a council of 46 teenagers from his school and others nearby, and they drew up a "code of social behavior" for themselves—and their parents.

It was designed, said John, to "eliminate confusion among teenagers caused by the widely varied standards set by different parents."

Included in the code were these rules: At least one adult must be present when teenagers entertain; parents should always know where children are, and children should know where their parents can be reached; a "reasonable" time for getting home should be arranged in advance with parents; a girl should respect her escort's time limit on using the family car, and his athletic training schedule.

★ ★ ★

Except for a few lapses involving legitimately flat tires, the punctuality promises were fulfilled, and the old folks, as ordered, have kept in touch. It hasn't solved all the teens' problems—nothing on earth could do that—but it has brought trust between parents and kids.

And if you can't have all the important things like beauty, your own car, complete freedom, self-confidence or Elvis Presley—well, trust helps make it easier.

Iraq Plans Paper Mill

BAGHDAD — Iraq's Ministry of Development has decided to establish a paper mill with an initial capacity of 25,000 tons a year and an eventual capacity of 30,000 tons. Iraq has had to import all her paper. The $8,400,000 plant is to be in operation in 1961, when Iraq's paper consumption is expected to be 60,000 tons a year.

Can Talk to Friend in Future

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: How can I get a friend of mine to let me pay my share of the bill when we have lunch or dine together? When the waiter brings the bill she usually makes a grab for it and pays it. We are both in the same circumstances and there is no reason why she should always take the check. In fact, it embarrasses me to have her do so but what can I do about it without making a scene? I hate squabbling over a check."

Answer: Before you make a date with your friend for another meal tell her how you feel about her always grabbing the check and make her promise to let you pay this one, and alternate checks in the future.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My mother is engaged and she thinks her fiance should sit with her in the front pew at my wedding. I don't think so. I like him and am glad she's marrying him, but I think for the sake of my father's relatives she shouldn't show him off on this occasion. Which one of us is right?"

Answer: If your mother's engagement has not been publicly announced then I agree with you. But if it has been announced and they are going to be married soon, it would be repudiating him not to have him sit next to your mother in church.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When drinking an ice-cream soda, what does one do with the long-handled spoon that is usually served with it, after one has finished eating the ice cream? A friend of mine tells me that it is proper to leave it in the glass. I can't believe she is right about this."

Answer: If the glass is standing on a plate you put the spoon on it or the marble top table. Otherwise, you have to leave it in the glass and hold it to one side with your forefinger when you drink.

New Look Has Irate Shopper Looking, Looking—Just Looking

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I think you could have done better with your answer to that saleslady who objected to hearing women shoppers say: 'That's not what I had in mind.' For about a year I have been looking for a dress, and let me tell you, what I have been shown is certainly NOT what I had in mind. Who started these sacks, trapeze and chemise type dresses anyway? Men who hated women, that's who! Is it our fault that there is nothing around but these crazy styles? I am 5 feet 6 and weigh 130 pounds and I can't wear them. Thanks for letting me blow off some steam. Now I feel better."

ABBY

WEARING LAST YEAR'S CLOTHES

DEAR WEARING: Shake hands with somebody else who is also wearing last year's clothes. I am 5 feet nothing, weigh 105 and I can't wear 'em, either. The first sharp designer who comes out with an old-fashioned type dress that fits all over is going to get my business.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: What's a gentleman supposed to do when he is seated at a table and a lady walks over to his table and he stands up and she pushes his shoulder and says, "Oh, please sit down." Should he sit down or should he remain standing as long as she stands there even though she keeps telling him to sit down?

Fashion Hint

Mohair appears in things other than coats, suits and dresses. The latest is the satchel-type handbag in mohair. The colors are brilliant.

"My friend says if the lady says to sit down I should sit down. I say no gentleman sits down while a lady is standing no matter what she says. Who's right?" A GENTLEMAN

DEAR GENTLEMAN: Remain standing. If she pushes you down don't stand for it.

"DEAR ABBY: Two years ago I made a foolish mistake with a young lady and she became pregnant. I did a very dishonorable thing and volunteered for the Army to get away from her. My hitch is almost over and I will be separated in a month. The girl is waiting for me with the child she bore and she expects me to marry her. Abby, I didn't care for the Army, but I can't stand this girl. I don't know what I ever saw in her. I'm tempted to re-enlist to keep away from her. I keep hoping someone will take her off my hands before enlistment is through. Should I re-enlist or marry her? Please don't publish my name or location as I have enough trouble already."

FOULED UP

DEAR FOULED: Quit ducking your responsibility! If you are old enough to be a father you are old enough to be a man. You should support the child willingly. An unwilling bridegroom makes a pretty sad lifetime companion. Get "re-acquainted" with the girl. It might help you to remember what you saw in her.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: When I was a little girl my father recited a poem to me. I have asked many people where it came from but nobody seems to know. Maybe you (or one of your readers) will know. It goes like this:

A wise old owl sat on an oak
The more he heard the less he spoke
The less he spoke the more he heard
Why can't we be like that wise old bird"

MRS. L.M.W.

DEAR MRS. L.M.W.:

I don't know who wrote it But gladly Ill quote it,
These wise little words
Are not for the birds.

Improve Reading, Vocabulary

Third Graders Learn to Type

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new technique in education may make Johnny a better reader.

The University of North Dakota conducted an experiment teaching touch typewriting to third and fourth grade children. At the end of the eight-week period, the test group had made a four months' advance in reading comprehension, and a seven months' gain in vocabulary.

Their reading skills were compared to those of children in a control group which did not take typing. The two groups were matched according to IQ, longhand writing speeds, motor dexterity and achievement in learning.

24 IN TEST GROUP

The experimental class consisted of 24 boys and girls, 8 and 9 years old. They attended classes one hour a day, five days a week. The sessions were interrupted by a 10-minute "milk break."

★ ★ ★

Dr. John L. Rowe, chairman of the university's Business Education Department, directed the study on a grant from Smith-Corona Marchant, Inc., which also furnished the electric portable typewriters. (keys of electric machines are smaller and easier for young fingers to operate.)

★ ★ ★

Rowe has had 25 years' experience teaching typing in secondary schools and colleges, has written 14 books, is president of the National Association of Business Teacher Education, and conducted the first course in electric typewriting, given at Columbia University. He also studied piano for 20 years.

★ ★ ★

"That gave me the idea," Rowe said in an interview during a trip here. "I figured that because children of this age can master the piano, they also could manipulate typewriter keys at rapid rates by touch. The same stroke is used for both the electric typewriter and the piano. I played the piano, mostly Latin music, while the children typed to suggest precision stroking."

42 WORDS PER MINUTE

The youngsters averaged 42 words a minute on their machines, compared to 12 words a minute longhand. Their typing accuracy was "outstanding."

"When a child concentrates on the physical effort of writing, he makes more errors," Rowe explained.

Did typing cause the children's handwriting to deteriorate?

"On the contrary, hand writing should improve. It's poor because the child has to do too much under pressure. When he types his homework, he can concentrate on perfecting writing as an art.

"Typing also improves longhand because it gives the child a more accurate idea of letter design.

"The vocabulary is broadened because the child must concentrate on the meaning of words and the formation of letters. He also learns punctuation and spelling this way," Rowe said.

The professor has no definite plans for further study but hopes to continue the experiment with older persons, the handicapped and the blind. He also hopes other schools will adopt typing "as a tool of literacy, not just a skill."

COMPOSITIONS, TOO!

In addition to data, the experiment gave Dr. Rowe some good reading material, such as this extemporaneous theme, composed by a child on the typewriter.

Titled "Love," it read:

"Love is a nice thing. Some people take out dates and the girls spend all of the boys' money. After they have spent all the boy's money they go home and sit in the car for a while and talk and the boy says the wrong thing and the girl slaps him in the face and gets out of the car."

MRS. ROBERT L. PEARCE

Married Saturday evening were Deanna Gail Arthurs and Robert L. Pearce. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Everett B. Arthurs, Mrs. Iva Pearce, and Howard Pearce.

Pearce-Arthurs Nuptials Spoken in Church Rite

Deanna Gail Arthurs and Robert L. Pearce were married Saturday evening at Grace Lutheran Church. The Rev. Richard C. Stuckmeyer officiated at the candlelight ceremony before 150 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Everett B. Arthurs of Glendale avenue, and Mrs. Iva Pearce of Vinewood avenue and Howard Pearce of East Huron street.

IN TAFFETA GOWN

The bride selected an Italian silk taffeta ballerina-length gown accented with French lace and tulle. The gown featured a fitted bodice and Sabrina neckline with long tapering sleeves.

Her ballerina-length veil of silk illusion was held by a pearl tiara and she carried a bouquet of white gardenias and pink rosebuds on a white Bible.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. Before leaving on a honeymoon to Niagara Falls and New York, the bride changed to a wool print sheath dress with matching accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will live in Pontiac.

Holidays Coming

In Lull Between Eating Let's Diet

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Most women gain a few pounds during their vacations. The lack of routine and the relaxed mood, plus the fun of eating food which we neither plan nor cook ourselves are almost sure to leave us refreshed but a little heavier than we were. Even if you did not leave home, you probably took it easier during the hot season.

AND, of course, we women know where this extra weight lands; on our waists, abdomens and hips. Even five pounds makes it difficult to pull the zippers up or fasten the buttons or hooks. Husbands all over the land struggle with this problem every fall.

STRIKE NOW

We are now in between summer vacation time and the calorie onslaught of Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Years. Let us go into battle with our colors flying! In other words, let's lose those extra pounds BEFORE the season arrives when dieting is so especially difficult.

Perhaps you gained at least five pounds during the summer, and you may gain another three at Thanksgiving and maybe another five during Christmas and New Year's. Where does that leave you? It leaves you unable to get into some of your clothes and with 65 new miles of blood vessels through which your heart must pump blood. Oh well, let's forget the blood for the moment. The figure problem is bad enough!

How do your clothes fit? If you have trouble getting into them, it's diet time.

As most of my readers know, I am introducing my new Trick and Treat Diet at this time. The diet is a real treat because the foods are much more pleasant than the usual rapid reducing diet. I will present menus for seven days in the column. Here are the menus for tomorrow.

MENUS FOR TUESDAY

Breakfast

Six ounces orange juice
One poached egg on toast (one tablespoonful of chili sauce on egg or sprinkling of grated cheese)
Coffee with one teaspoonful of sugar

Luncheon

Toasted cheese sandwich (two thin slices bread and a thin slice of American cheese—the equivalent of two heaping tablespoons of the same)
One eight ounce glass skim milk
One-half cup cole slaw

Dinner

One cup consomme (canned)
Four ounces of lean beef broiled)
Sliced tomato
One baked potato seasoned with onion salt and parsley
Two small pieces of hard candy

If you would like to have the complete diet in a convenient little booklet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for my Trick and Treat Diet. You'll lose five pounds in a week's time. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Married Saturday evening in Evangelical United Brethren Church were Sally Ann DeTavernier and Kenneth Eugene Everett. Parents of the couple are Mrs. Irene DeTavernier and the Rev. and Mrs. Myron R. Everett.

MR. and MRS. KENNETH EVERETT

Sally DeTavernier Wed

Sally Ann DeTavernier and Kenneth Eugene Everett were married Saturday evening at Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church. The bridegroom's father, the Rev. Myron R. Everett, officiated at the candlelight service before 250 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Irene DeTavernier of Detroit and the Rev. and Mrs. Myron R. Everett of Baldwin avenue.

The bride wore a taffeta gown featuring a Sabrina lace neckline accented with pearls and lace. Her fingertip veil was held by a princess crown.

Bridesmaids were Jill Ford of Detroit, Joanne Juracek of Inkster and Bonnita Jenary of Melvindale.

Ralph Robertson of Dearborn was best man, with Robert Jurouk of Inkster and William Becker of Lincoln Park as ushers.

Following a reception, the bride changed to a black sheath dress with a red and black blouson jacket and the couple left for a honeymoon through the New England states.

Mrs. DeTavernier wore a wool chemise dress with black accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Everett was dressed in a beige brocaded satin dress with pink accessories.

Wear What With What You Ask?

What to wear with what—that is the question. Seriously, it is a burning question with thousands of women. Many a fashion investment has failed to pay good looks dividends because of poorly chosen accessories. As every well dressed woman knows, an inexpensive dress, well accessorized, can be her most becoming ensemble. Maybe that's why so many women are so faithful to black — no accessory problem!

But there's a different story this year. Last season's purchaser of a little black dress is more likely to burst forth in rose red, glowing amber — or a marvelous green and blue plaid. Accessory problems immediately pop up as fast as mushrooms! What to do?

Well you might find soft brown shoes and handbag are the common denominator if your wardrobe is largely pinks, reds and ambers. Deciding on blue, green, dark red? Try darker blue-red shoes, a black bag. It's easy if you give a little thought. Study the fashion magazines for new ways to combine color.

Just remember to keep away from a "too matched" look of red bag, shoes, hat and gloves. Use color subtly, and above all don't be afraid of it—Nothing does so much for you!

After a shampoo, dry your hair as quickly as possible. Leaving it wet or damp over a long period makes it dull and lusterless.

It Takes Two Kinds of Soap in Homemaking

It takes both scrubbing soap and "soft soap" to keep a family happy, healthy, and at home.

The "real" kind of soap makes a homemaker and her house clean and sweet and nice to come home to. The other kind — the "soft soap" — makes the family feel important and self-confident and more contented at home than in any other place in the world.

★ ★ ★

It's a sure-fire combination: fresh curtains and slipcovers, shining floors, an immaculate kitchen—plus kind words! It's a smart — and happy — woman who provides plenty of all.

Attractive—Until She Articulated

What happens to your impression of a woman once she speaks?

Women who spend hours in beauty salons and on shopping sprees for a chic appearance destroy the good job if they have whining, monotonous or raspy voices.

Just for fun — we're showing this raccoon coat. Although this one is imitation—the real thing is becoming popular too — and, surprisingly enough, not with the campus set—but with their mothers! Anyway—they are warm and have a sly fashionable air about them.

Children Must Learn Even Harsh Realities

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Frank J.'s parents wanted him to "make something of himself" before marrying and saddling himself with family obligations.

So they were upset when he married soon after getting his first job. However, when they learned his wife was keeping hers, they felt a little better.

The relief was short-lived. She became pregnant and had to resign her job. In the bosom of her family, Frank's discouraged mother said over and over, "Poor boy, to be burdened like this before he'd had a chance to make something of himself."

Today her daughter, Lila shows intense dislike of Frark's oldest child.

If, at family gatherings, Frank's daughter, Josie, doesn't finish her pudding, Aunt Lila says "Waste not, want not." If Josie cries because another child has called her a bad name, Aunt Lila says, "What a little waterworks you are." If Josie shoves her brother away from her comic book, Aunt Lila cautions, "Jealousy like that should be nipped in the bud."

Josie never mentions this persecution by Aunt Lila. For the only time she did her mother said, "Shush, Aunty Lila loves you. It's just her way, dear."

Children always have been the targets of the previous generation's unsolved hates. However, I can't see any reason why it has to continue indefinitely.

Though parents may wish to entertain relatives like Aunt Lila, they are not obliged to present them as trustworthy people to Josie. Family life is a child's preview of life in the world he's come to. It is an important demonstration of the fact that hateful human beings exist as well as kindly ones.

★ ★ ★

To tell Josie that she is loved by Aunt Lila who criticizes and persecutes her is to deprive her of her own awareness of reality — and send her into the world with trustful expectations of the wolves in it.

I do not know why parents are so anxious to make children believe that everybody loves them.

★ ★ ★

A mother deer does not poohpooh her fawn's instinctively healthy recoil from a wolf. She does not say, "Shush. The thing with the teeth loves you. Snarling at you is just his way, dear."

MR. and MRS. LARRY J. PANKEY

Married Saturday were Barbara Sue Hunley, whose parents are Mrs. Deci Hunley of West Strathmore avenue and John Hunley of Kankakee, Ill., and Larry Joe Pankey, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Pankey of Pontiac Lake road.

Larry Joe Pankey, Bride Tour Northern Michigan

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Joe Pankey are touring northern Michigan following their marriage Saturday evening at Grace Lutheran Church. The bride is the former Barbara Sue Hunley. Two hundred witnesses attended the double-ring ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Richard Stuckmeyer.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Deci Hunley of West Strathmore avenue, John Hunley of Kankakee, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. James Pankey of Pontiac Lake road.

The bride's gown was of silk taffeta fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice, scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt, trimmed with seed pearls and sequins, featured a chapel train, and her fingertip veil was secured by a pearl tiara.

A white orchid on a white Bible with lilies of the valley comprised the bridal bouquet. She was escorted to the altar by her father.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Gerald R. Bodamer of Sturgis, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Janet Stutesman, Sally DeVar, Carolyn Robertory, Pat Christian, Penny Hanson and Mrs. Donald Gerke of Fort Wayne, Ind., the bride's cousin, were bridesmaids. Flower girls were Sibyl Ann Bodamer of Sturgis and Karen Sue Gerke of Fort Wayne.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom's brother, James Pankey of New Orleans, La., was best man. Ushers were Robert Stowe, Harold Anderson, Kenneth Morrow, Dennis McConkey, Robert Edmunds and George Archer, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Hunley wore an iridescent green dress with a harem skirt, and matching accessories and a pink rose corsage for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Pankey was dressed in royal blue jersey with matching accessories and a pink rose corsage.

A reception was held at the Amvets Hall, following the ceremony.

★ ★ ★

Sculpture Makes Gem Art Piece

NEW YORK—A new ingredient has been added to the fabrication of precious jewelry. Women are now purchasing not only gems and fine metals, but a work of art.

The artistry of one young Fifth Avenue designer has become the subject of much talk in fashion circles here. He is being referred to as a sculptor in jewels, after being presented with three international diamond design awards. In the 1957 competition, the first in which he submitted his work, the designer was also singled out for an award.

Experts describe his jewelry as miniature sculptures because the designs are virtually life-like reproductions of such originals as roses, orchids, carnations, and other flowers and leaves. Contrasted with the flat quality of traditional jewelry, his contemporary designs highlight three-dimensional movement and swirling lines.

Colors, Fabrics Take the Chill Out of Winter

By the power of suggestion alone, the warm colors, prints and plaids of new outdoor wear for the young folks will help to take the chill out of winter's air.

★ ★ ★

Warm fabrics — such as tweeds, meltons, camel blends and corduroys — and pile linings join in to assure cold weather coziness. Adding to the look of warmth are pile collars and bulky knit trimmings.

Topping slim pants are short bloused jackets and longer ones in every length from cat jackets to fingertip stadium coats to full-length storm coats.

U.S. Wool Equal to Imported

American-made wool products, from socks to suits, are as fine as any in the world—since wool is internationally graded and wool garments and accessories must be labeled as to the type of wool they contain, according to a new organization representing all segments of the wool textile industry, from grower to manufacturer.

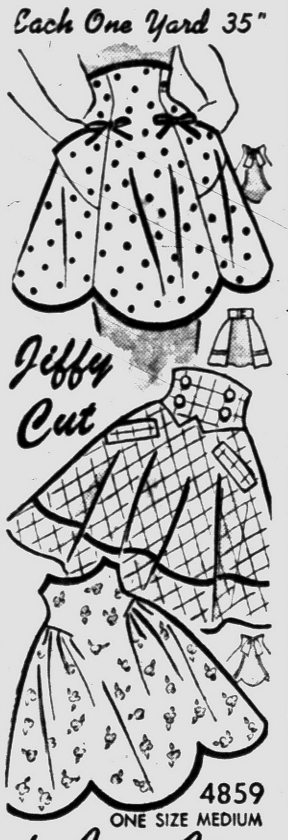

A label stating that a wool garment or a fabric is "imported" does not necessarily mean that the merchandise is superior to that made in America. Regardless of where the wool was grown — America, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa or Great Britain, the wool has been identically and internationally graded for fineness.

In addition, the Wool Products Labeling Act, which Congress passed in 1939, stipulates that all wool products that contain wool (with the exception of floor coverings and upholstery) must carry a label, stamp, tag, or other obvious mark identifying the percentage of wool or any other fiber that may be present in a given article.

Furs to Fabrics

As the stole loses strength as a fur fashion, it gains as a fashion in fabric. One of the newest fabric stoles is an eight-foot number in mohair lined in wool jersey. Cozy on a cold day.

Milk Unusual Ingredient in Family's Lemon Pie

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

For four generations this recipe for Lemon Pie has been in the family of Mrs. Theo R. Selby of Walled Lake. She says the use of milk instead of water makes the filling both different and delicious.

★ ★ ★

Two of Mrs. Selby's children are married and live away. Two others are home. Mrs. Selby is active in church work and community affairs like the Torch Drive.

GRANDMOTHER'S LEMON PIE
By Mrs. Theo R. Selby

2 eggs, separated
Juice and rind of 1 large lemon
6 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup cold water
2 cups milk

Dissolve cornstarch in cold water. Bring milk to boiling and add dissolved cornstarch. Cook 4 minutes. Remove from heat. Add egg yolks, lemon juice and rind and sugar. Beat well.

Pour filling into baked pie shell. Make a meringue of the egg whites and 4 tablespoons sugar. Swirl over top of filling and brown in a hot oven.

Working Wife's Mate Gives His Viewpoint

By RUTH MILLETT

Since space in this column in the past has been given to working wives to tell their success stories, it's only fair to give a husband of a working wife a chance to tell his side of the story. He writes:

"If my wife hadn't insisted on going to work 10 years ago our family would be better off and my wife and I would be happier together.

"Sure, we got a few things more quickly by my wife's going to work. We traded the old car for a new one. We made the down payment on a home. And we had a few luxuries sooner than we could have had them on one pay check.

"But I'm not sure that over the long haul we are even better off financially than we would have been if my wife hadn't gone to work.

"I lost a little of my ambition when my wife seemed to have decided that I couldn't be trusted to bring home the bacon without her help.

"So, although I have a better job than I had 10 years ago, I haven't set the world on fire—which I might have done with a wife who was dependent on me, who believed in me, and who cheered me on.

"Also our life together has suffered by my wife's holding down a job. We aren't always able to take our vacations at the same time. Often one of us gets a holiday and the other doesn't. At night my wife is often too tired to go out or to have friends in—so it's mostly work, eat and sleep for us.

"We have two nice children—but they are closer to my wife's mother, who has looked after them for 10 years, than they are to their mother, for it is to their grandmother's house that they go when they come in from school. She is the one who has food waiting, who listens to their talk, who looks after them when they are sick.

NO BLAME

"I'm not just an unsuccessful man trying to blame his wife for all that is missing in his life. My wife meant well, I know, when she decided she couldn't wait for me to get her the things she wanted for the family. But I do honestly feel that if she had stuck to her main job and encouraged me to make the most of my business opportunities we would be better off.

"I'm just wondering how many men with part-time wives feel as I do."

Dress Up Pumps

A neat trick for the career girl or suburban shopper—silk blossoms that clip onto plain pumps. The flowers turn tailored shoes into dress shoes in a minute.

Tight hats are poison to scalp circulation. If you wear such a bonnet for style's sake, don't keep it on too long.

2 Ex-Legislators Fight for County Seat in Congress

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Two 36-year-old former state representatives have fought a tooth-and-nail campaign down to the wire to represent Oakland County's 643,000 residents in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Eight days from today it will be up to the electorate of the county to choose between Republican incumbent William S. Broomfield and Democratic Rep. Leslie H. Hudson.

★ ★ ★

Hudson, of Pontiac, prepped four years for the Washington job he seeks as his city's representative (District 2) in the Michigan House of Representatives.

But Broomfield, of Royal Oak, hopes to upset Hudson's political applecart and return to another two-year term representing the 18th Congressional District in Congress.

WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD

LESLIE H. HUDSON

Broomfield, after serving six years as District 5 representative in the Michigan Legislature, was elected to the State Senate in 1954, the same year Pontiac voters put Hudson in the State House of Representatives.

★ ★ ★

Broomfield followed veteran Oakland County Congressman George A. Dondero to the nation's capital in 1956.

Hudson, of 361 Gallogly Rd., operates a hardware store and drug store in the city. Prior to 1954, he was Waterford Township clerk from 1947 through 1951. A year later Hudson was appointed one of Pontiac's seven supervisors on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Broomfield, who makes his home with his wife Jane and three daughters at 1116 S. Lafayette St. when he's not in Washington, is bidding to start his 11th year in public office. He's a former insurance salesman.

ROAMS COUNTY

Broomfield's office trailer has roamed the county the past several months in hopes of drumming up re-election votes. Hudson has been equally busy chasing voters.

Accompanying Hudson many times on his campaign swings through the county has been his wife Frances. The Hudsons have three daughters and a son.

During his second two-year term in Lansing, Hudson served on the House Ways and Means Committee which has a big say on state fiscal matters.

During this same time his opponent was a member of congressional committees on public works, rivers, harbors and construction of federal buildings.

Educational records of the two congressional nominees show that Broomfield was a 19[illegible] graduate of Royal Oak High and attended Michigan State University, while Hudson received his diploma in 1941 from Pontiac High and attended the University of Michigan for two years.

Broomfield served in the Air Force, while Hudson is an Army veteran.

This Is How Voting Machine Will Look Nov. 4

TO CORRECT A MISTAKE
Turn up a Voting Pointer Voted in Error and Turn Down Another in its Place.

As no votes are registered until the Red Handle is moved to open the curtain, you can make as many changes as you desire while the Red Handle is at the right side. The machine is so arranged that you can turn down only the proper number of voting pointers for each office, you cannot spoil your ballot by voting for too many candidates.

Each candidate's voting pointer is located just above his name; a voting pointer must be turned down over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote. Leave voting pointers down.

No one will know how you have voted because the movement of the Red handle returns the voting pointers to the unvoted position before the curtain begins to open.

Voting Machine Instruction Ballot--General Election

1. Move the RED HANDLE to the right until the bell rings and leave the HANDLE there.
2. Turn down a VOTING POINTER over the word "Yes" or "No" of each proposition. Leave Voting Pointer DOWN.
3. Pull the LEVER of your Party to the right. This votes a straight ticket.
   To vote a split ticket: after you have pulled the party lever (thereby voting a straight ticket) turn up a voting pointer over the candidate's name you wish to cut out, and turn a voting pointer down over the name of any other candidate for the same office.
4. If you wish to vote for a candidate whose name does not appear on the ballot, turn up a voting pointer over one of the candidates named on the ballot and write in the name of your choice in the slide bearing the corresponding number.
5. Vote the Non-Partisan Ticket by turning down pointers over the names of the candidates of your choice. Leave Voting Pointers DOWN.
6. Move the RED HANDLE to the LEFT.

Around World in Fifty Days

Flight in Light Plane, Planned for Eight Days, Runs Into Overtime

NEW YORK (AP)—Around-the-world-in-50 days, a one-man show starring pilot Charles F. Banfe Jr. in his stocking feet aboard a single-engine plane, has closed after an extended run.

★ ★ ★

Banfe, 39-year-old flier from Palo Alto, Calif., touched down at Idlewild Airport Sunday in his low-winged Mooney single-seater to complete in 50 days a 22,000-mile globe-circling flight he had planned to accomplish in eight days.

★ ★ ★

"Boy, am I glad to be back," said Banfe as he climbed wearily from the orange and black craft into a chilling rain. "I thought I'd never see this airport again."

Banfe began his around-the-world flight from Idlewild Sept. 6.

On the last lap, he flew from Chicago to New York, still munching chocolate bars—his only sustenance during the hours aloft. "I'll never look at one again," he said.

Banfe also carried two St. Christopher medals.

★ ★ ★

He said he flew at altitudes from 150 to 12,500 feet and sat at the controls in his stocking feet because it gave him a "more sensitive feel."

★ ★ ★

Banfe's ambitious plan received a setback on the first leg — a planned nonstop hop from New York to Rome, 4,312 miles away. A balky fuel pump forced him to crash-land on the Mediterranean island of Corsica, 250 miles short of his goal.

★ ★ ★

Bad weather and mechanical difficulties plagued him the rest of the way, and he had to make forced landings 14 times. Various troubles added 12 unscheduled cities to his itinerary.

★ ★ ★

Banfe, married and the father of four, is on vacation from Pan American World Airways. He regularly flies Boeing Stratocruisers over the Pacific.

Overflow Crowd at Reformation Fete

DETROIT (AP) — An overflow crowd of 7,000 took part in the 12th annual observance of the Detroit Council of Churches Reformation Festival yesterday.

Many were turned away for lack of seats at Detroit's Masonic Temple. The ceremony was a rededication to the principles of the Protestant Reformation.

★ ★ ★

U.S. District Judge Luther W. Youngdahl of the District of Columbia told the gathering:

"The Reformation is significant not only as a great religious movement, but it has repercussions in the economic and political world."

Lines are being drawn for the struggle between the church and materialism, Youngdahl said, adding that "leadership in this great moral struggle must come only from a revitalized church. In this fight laymen are needed badly."

★ ★ ★

Prior to Youngdahl's address several hundred clergy, laymen and youth took part in a processional at the auditorium.

Pharmacist, Attorney Fight for Oakland County Seat

A Farmington Township pharmacist has the prescription for Oakland County's future health: Send Leo P. Meagher to the State Senate.

A Pontiac attorney has issued his opinion on the Oakland County case in question: Return Sen. L. Harvey Lodge to represent the county in the State Senate.

Voters No. 4 will make their selection as to just who will be representing the county in the State Senate.

Meagher is a Democrat making his first attempt for a public office, while Republican Sen. Lodge is after his sophomore two-year term in the Michigan Senate. The Waterford Township resident was first elected there in 1956.

Lodge, 55, of 6610 Longworth St., has been in the legal profession since 1930. He operates out of his office at the corner of East Lawrence and Perry streets in Pontiac, when he's not commuting to and from Lansing.

L. HARVEY LODGE

LEO P. MEAGHER

Lodge's opponent in the fall election has been a pharmacist for 29 years. Fifty-year-old Meagher has also for the past 15 years operated a real estate business, specializing in the sale of drug stores and general real estate.

He lives with his wife and three daughters at 29097 Utley Rd., Farmington Township.

Previous to his election as Republican senator, Lodge in 1947 and 1948 represented Pontiac in the Michigan House of Representatives. Up until 1947, Lodge spent eight years in the Oakland County prosecutor's office, first as an assistant, then chief assistant prosecutor, and finally prosecutor.

Lodge graduated from Milford High School in 1921 and later received his law degree from the University of Michigan. Meagher attended Wayne State University when it was called Detroit City College.

The incumbent is affiliated with bar associations of the county, state and nation. Meagher is a member of the state and national real estate boards and the Detroit Retail Druggists' Association.

Adams Quietly Leaves White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Without fanfare or announcement, Sherman Adams has stepped out of the White House, where for nearly six years he was President Eisenhower's top assistant.

He apparently left for his home at Lincoln, N.H. In reply to a question, Hagerty tion-wide television and radio talk on Sept. 22, but said then he would stay on until there had been an orderly transfer to others of the work he had been doing.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty confirmed during the weekend that Adams had left Friday after a farewell chat with the President.

He apparently left for his home at said he had no information concerning Adams' future plans.

Adams decided to quit under mounting political pressure after a House subcommittee dug publicly into his relations with Bernard Goldfine, a Boston millionaire. Goldfine's business firms were having trouble with government regulatory agencies.

Both Adams and Goldfine denied that anything wrong was either done or intended in Adams' contacts with the federal agencies. Both said gifts were exchanged between them were the result of a long friendship.

Wilton B. Persons, a longtime friend and aide to Eisenhower, was named to succeed Adams as chief assistant. Bryce N. Harlow, another veteran of the White House staff, was sworn in Saturday to take Persons' former post as assistant for congressional affairs.

Airline Mechanics Ready to Negotiate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Striking mechanics of Capital Airlines sought today to renew negotiations toward settlement of their walkout. Their union said a new package offer has been prepared.

The new move came as the strike entered its 12th day, grounding the 100 planes of the nation's fifth largest air carrier. Negotiating sessions were broken off indefinitely last Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Francis A. O'Neill of the National Mediation Board said he would meet with the union representatives (2 p.m. EST) before calling in airline officials.

A Capital spokesman said the company had received no official word of the union's request, but was prepared to resume the negotiations if asked.

The strike was called by District 144 of the International Assn. of Machinists. Local President Robert T. Wuick asked the resumption, saying he and other negotiators had prepared a new package offer "which we believe should form the basis for a satisfactory settlement."

Heart Operation May Let Boy Play Baseball

CHICAGO (AP) — Douglas Merrill may make his dad's little league baseball club after all.

Because of a hole the size of a half-dollar in his heart, the 9-year-old boy from Benton Harbor, Mich., never has walked in his life.

But he underwent surgery Wednesday in Children's Hospital to correct the congenital condition.

Hospital officials cautiously described the boy's condition as satisfactory.

His happy father, Edward, 35, a Benton Harbor police officer and manager of the cubs in the little league, said his son was "in wonderful shape."

"Last year Douglas, who is our team mascot, had to be content with throwing out the first ball of the season," said the father.

"He couldn't throw it very far, but he plans to do something about it."

During the operation, a heart pump circulated blood through the boy's system. The blood was donated by friends and relatives in Benton Harbor.

Lions Move Into Role of Spoilers

AP Wirephoto

HEAVE HO! — A San Francisco 49er fan tried to keep his balance as he is ejected for trying to slug Chicago Bears' coach George Halas at Kezar Stadium in San Francisco yesterday. Frankie Albert of the 49er's helped pull him away and line coach Phil Handler then handled the fan by throwing him off the field.

Interceptions Pave Way for 41-24 Victory

Detroit Gets Revenge Against Los Angeles in Easy Fashion

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Detroit Lions have fizzled as defending champions but they look ready to play the role of spoilers to the hilt.

Performing like the National Football League champions they were last year, instead of the ho-hum outfit they have been so far this season, the Lions crushed the Los Angeles Rams 41-24 yesterday.

The revenge-is-sweet spirit hung over the entire contest.

It was these same Rams who dealt Detroit a 42-28 trouncing two weeks ago in a game that many believe sounded the death knell of the Lions' 1958 championship hopes.

That drubbing left the hapless Lions with two losses and a tie in three outings.

Now the Lions have done the Rams the same turn, virtually knocking them out of a chance of winning the crown. This was the Rams' third loss against two victories.

What made the difference for the Lions?

"No doubt about it," said coach George Wilson, "they are a lot more relaxed, not so tight, now that the pressure is off."

Much to the dismay of 81,703 onlookers in Los Angeles, the Lions' relaxing of the tensions produced:

1 — Five touchdowns and two field goals, their highest point production of the season.

2 — A sensational 104-yard touchdown play, somewhat reminiscent of the spectacular achievements on offense that led the Lions to the crown last year.

3 — Seven intercepted passes, compared with a total of only four in their first four games. Linebacker Joe Schmidt grabbed off three of the enemy aerials.

4 — Three touchdowns on the passing of Tobin Rote, the veteran who was left to shoulder the No. 1 quarterbacking job alone when Bobby Layne went to Pittsburgh in a controversial trade three weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

The 104-yard scoring play was the Lions' first touchdown. After Del Shofner kicked a 16-yard field goal for the Rams, the Lions' Gene Gedman took the kickoff four yards inside the end zone. He returned to the 14 and handed off to Terry Barr, who raced 86 yards to the goal.

That put the Lions in front to stay.

They piled on two more touchdowns in the second quarter with Rote passing 15 yards to Dave Middleton for one and 35 yards to Howard (Hopalong) Cassady for the other.

The Rams cut the Lions' lead to 21-10 at the half when quarterback Billy Wade connected with Shofner on a 11-yard pass for a touchdown.

In the second half the Lions wasted no time. Cassady returned the opening kickoff 31 yards. Then Rote fired a pass to Jim Doran, who gathered in the ball at knee level and raced to the end zone. The play covered 56 yards and put the Lions 18 points in front for a brief moment.

The Rams came back with two quick touchdowns. They moved 80 yards in five plays with Jon Arnett scoring on an end sweep from the 15. Then, minutes later, halfback Will Sherman intercepted a Rote pass and zipped 28 yards to the end zone, cutting Detroit's lead to 28-24.

But one touchdown — a 33-yard return of an interception by center Wayne Walker — and two field goals — a 14-yarder by Jim Martin and an 8-yarder by Jerry Perry — wrapped up the game for the Lions.

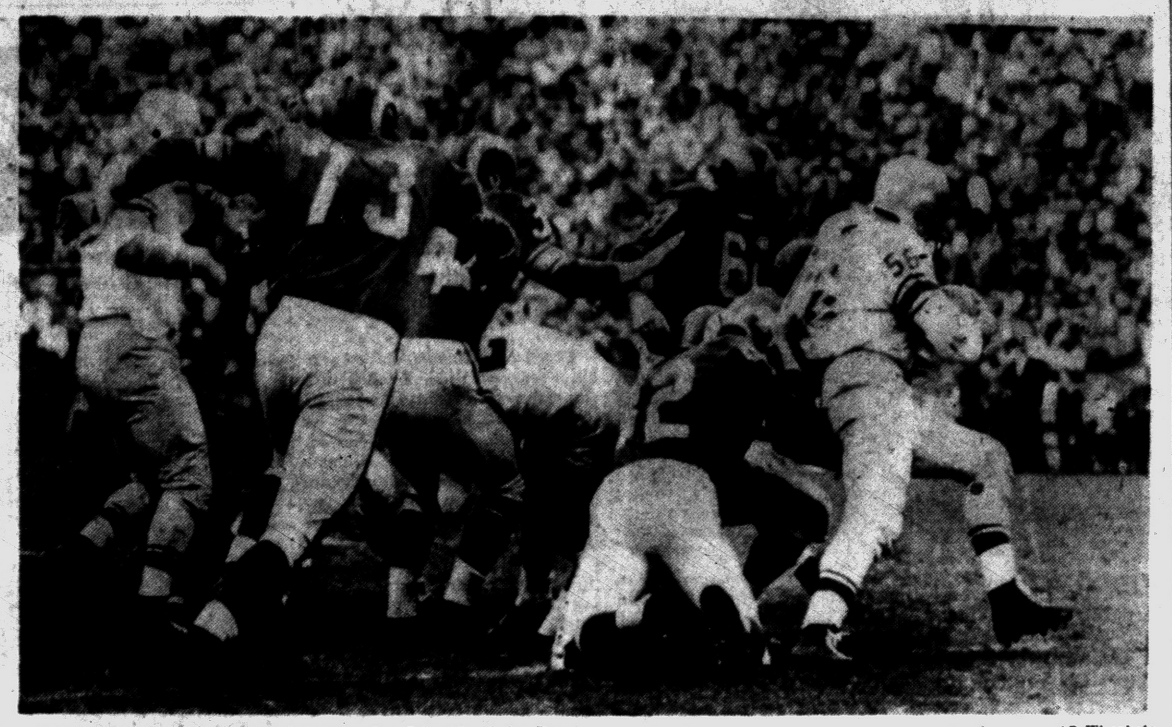

Next week the Lions meet the 49ers at San Francisco and get a chance to do something they've only done once before — complete a clean sweep of a visit to the coast. They beat both teams on the west coast in 1956. Last year they lost both their West Coast games.

LINEBACKER A BALL CARRIER — Joe Schmidt of the Detroit Lions turned ball carrier three times yesterday. He intercepted three passes thrown by quarterback Billy Wade of the Los Angeles Rams yesterday. Uproar and Confusion at 'Frisco

Irate Fan Takes Poke at Bear Coach, Halas

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — All was uproar and confusion in the stands and on the field Sunday, but the dressing rooms after the San Francisco 49ers-Chicago Bears game sounded more like a church social.

The Bears even sang "happy birthday" to Ed Brown, the quarterback who celebrated his 29th birthday by engineering the 27-14 Chicago victory.

"Frank Albert, 49er coach, is a great sportsman," Bear Coach George Halas told newsmen. "He went to the officials before the game and told them not to penalize me if I got outside the 40-yard restraining line."

National Football League rules forbid coaches to stray more than 10 yards from the midfield stripe. Halas is noted for his straying.

In fact, his reputation led to a fan ending up in jail. William Dunn, 33, Palo Alto chemical engineer, raced on to the field at half time and yelled at Halas to stay inside the limits. Then he swung at Halas.

But Albert, standing nearby, fended off the blow. After a melee involving Bear assistant coaches and during which beer was spilled down Albert's shirt front, Dunn was hauled off to nearby Park Police Station and charged with assault and battery.

"They ought to quit selling that stuff in Kezar Stadium," Albert said as he mopped his shirt.

Albert and Vic Morabito, 49er president, apologized to Halas and the Bear coach accepted graciously.

"You can't help that," Papa Bear said.

Halas said he asked the officials not to penalize the 49ers for action by the fans, several of whom swarmed on the field along with Dunn.

What started the noise was a play late in the second period when Referee Ron Gibbs signaled that the 49ers had recovered a fumble by Willie Galimore. Backfield Judge George Smith remonstrated and the officials gave the ball back to the Bears after a huddle. Smith explained later that Gibbs hadn't heard his whistle which blew the play dead before the fumble. The fans didn't hear the whistle either. The avalanche of boos continued throughout the rest of the ball game.

Rangers Win Weekend Pair

New York Deadlocks Detroit and Boston for 3rd Place

By The Associated Press

The new-look New York Rangers have begun to perk up after a slow start in National Hockey League play.

★ ★ ★

The Rangers, who failed to win in their first six starts, made up for lost time over the past weekend. New York edged the Toronto Maple Leafs 3-2 last night after turning back the Chicago Black Hawks 6-2 in a nationally televised game Saturday afternoon.

The two-game winning streak boosted the Rangers into a three-way tie for second place with the Detroit Red Wings and the Boston Bruins.

Larry Cahan and Eddie Shack sparked the Rangers last night with a pair of third-period goals in a span of 59 seconds that snapped a 1-1 tie. Ron Stewart's second goal of the game for the Leafs cut the margin to 3-2 and New York had to hold off a spirited Toronto surge in the waning minutes.

Canadiens Blaze Away

Red Wings Fall to Montreal's Firepower, 5-3

Detroit Skaters Blow 3-1 Advantage in NHL Battle at Oympia

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT — Oh, that Montreal Canadien firepower! Relax even a little bit against the National Hockey League champs and the scoreboard wheels strat turning.

The Detroit Red Wings, who certainly should know better by this time, let the Canadiens off the hook here Sunday night and lived to regret it.

Ahead by a 3-1 score after five minutes of the 2nd period, the Redshirts succumbed to Montreal's thundering siege guns and absorbed a 5-3 shellacking at Olympia Stadium.

The largest crowd of the season by far—13,188 cash customers — watched the Canadiens fire four consecutive goals past goalie Terry Sawchuk to boost their NHL lead to five points.

★ ★ ★

Completely outskated by the Wings for the first 25 minutes, the Canadiens began to move with reckless abandon and demonstrate why they're the kings of hockey.

The Wings could do no better than a 1-1 deadlock at the end of the 1st period, despite the fact that they peppered Montreal goalie Jacques Plante with 20 shots while just four were coming Sawchuk's way.

Ageless Maurice (Rocket) Richard began the scoring parade in the 2nd minute of the 1st period with a 25-foot backhander.

★ ★ ★

It was about six minutes later that Detroit rookie Charlie Burns made the 1st goal of his NHL career, a quick 10-footer after a neat pass from John Wilson, to tie the count.

The Detroiters moved into a 3-1 lead in less than five minutes of the 2nd stanza on a pair of power plays. Alex Delvecchio flipped home the 1st counter, then Burns clicked for his 2nd pointer of the evening after taking a perfect goalmouth pass from Wilson.

Then the Canadiens started to move. Using Warren Godfrey as a screen, Andre Pronovost fired a low liner into the net to make it 3-2. With each team shorthanded, rookie Ralph Backstrom slashed a 15-footer between Sawchuk's legs for the tying goal in the 19th minute of the middle stanza.

★ ★ ★

All square at 3-3 going into the final period, the Canadiens seemed to grow stronger while the Red Wings rapidly faded after a whirlwind start.

Claude Provost tallied Montreal's 4th goal in the 7th minute of the 3rd session and Jean Beliveau applied the clincher about five minutes later with the classiest play of the game.

Beliveau connected only 21 seconds after Godfrey was given a cross checking penalty. He took Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion's perfectly executed lead pass, cut through the sagging Detroit defense and beat the unprotected Sawchuk after drawing him out of position with a clever fake.

TAKES NO CHANCE — Jacques Plante, goalie of the Montreal Canadiens, dives behind the net to smother the puck as Len Lunde (20) of the Red Wings threatened to take possession. Plante's tactics paid off as Montreal won, 5-3.

Lions' Victory Returns Chair to Motor City

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Detroit Lions president's chair goes back to Detroit, thanks to the Lions' victory over the Los Angeles Rams Sunday.

The canvas covered chair, reserved for Detroit president Edwin Anderson was admittedly snitched from Briggs Stadium by Fred Levy, one of the Ram owners, when Los Angeles played there two weeks ago.

The prank was revealed Sunday and Anderson agreed that the chair would become a game trophy.

It's only a wooden chair covered by green canvas.

Scores 4 TDs as Cleveland Takes 5th Straight

Jim Brown Mortal—Barely

By The Associated Press

Jimmy Brown is mortal. But not by much.

The sensational Cleveland fullback, threatening to send opposing linemen to their nearest psychoanalyst, is well on his way to establishing a host of new National Football League offensive records.

★ ★ ★

Equally proficient at racing outside or banging away inside, Brown scored four touchdowns yesterday as the Browns outscored Chicago's Cardinals 38-24. The Browns lead the Eastern Division with a 5-0 record.

The 22-year-old former All-America from Syracuse University made distinct headway in these departments:

1. Most yards gained one season —Brown has amassed 815 yards, 180 in 24 tries yesterday. It seems almost certain he will break Steve Van Buren's mark of 1,146 set in 1949 with Philadelphia.

2. Most touchdowns one season —Brown now has 14, only four shy of Van Buren's 1949 standard.

While Brown was making defensive lines cower, Baltimore's Johnny Unitas was doing the same with the secondary. He tossed two touchdown passes as the Colts, only other undefeated team, remained in front in the Western Conference with a 5-0 mark, whipping Washington 35-10. It was the 20th consecutive game in which Unitas has thrown for a score, leaving him only three shy of Cecil Isbell's record.

★ ★ ★

In other games, Chicago's Bears remained in contention in the west with a 4-1 mark, as they defeated San Francisco 27-14; New York moved into second place in the East with a 17-6 triumph over Pittsburgh; defending champion Detroit won its first game, 41-24 over Los Angeles, and Green Bay outlasted Philadelphia 38-35.

★ ★ ★

Brown scored on dashes of 62, 41, 7 and 2 yards. His second and third TDs, coming in the third quarter, enabled Cleveland to overcome a 24-17 Cardinal lead. The Browns' only other touchdown was produced by rookie LeRoy Bolden, who scampered 102 yards with a kickoff.

★ ★ ★

Unitas hit Ray Berry with his scoring passes for 17 and 48 yards before a record crowd of 54,403. Lenny Lyles, the speedy Colt rookie, made his second end zone-to end zone dash as he lugged a kickoff 101 yards.

★ ★ ★

The Bears won a rough came from the 49ers in which Bear Coach George Hala's had a punch thrown at him by a fan. Willie Galimore, the Bears' flashy back, scored twice, first on a 20-yard run and then on a 47-yard pass play. San Francisco went out in front 7-0 but Galimore's first touch down and a pair of field goals by George Blanda put it out of reach.

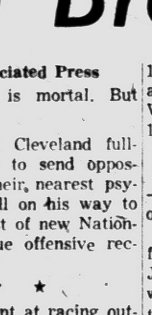

New York brought its record to 3-2 by recovering three fumbles by Pitt fullback Tom Tracy and converting two into scores. The Giants scored only once on their own initiative and it was the clincher. Leading 10-6 in the final quarter, quarterback Don Heinrich led a 70-yard march and scored from the one. The Steeler points came on field goals by Tom Miner.

★ ★ ★

Babe Parilli took over the Green Bay quarterback from Bart Starr and pitched touchdown passes of 34, 14, 10 and 25 yards for the Packers. Paul Hornung's field goal in the opening period was the margin of victory. Philadelphia's Norm Van Brocklin passed for three scores, two to Tommy McDonald.

UD High Clips Eaglets

Running over the Orchard Lake course, University of Detroit High cross-country squad Saturday defeated St. Mary's team 24-31. Loss was the Eaglets' 5th in eight starts. St. Mary's runners finished 2nd (Chet Wlodkowski, 10:37.5) and 5th (Bob Kula, 11:09). Chet was only a step behind the Detroiters' winner, Jerry Orlikowski (10:37).

Things That Glitter Could Be Baseballs

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A glittering orange baseball, more easily visible than the standard white baseball, will be introduced to the game this week in Japan.

Bing Devine, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals who are currently on an exhibition tour in Japan, agreed to introduce the ball in a game with the Japanese all-stars this week.

J. G. Taylor Spink of the sporting news, a baseball weekly published here, made the arrangements in a telephone call with Devine. A supply of the Orange Balls, known as glo-balls and invented by president Ray Dumont of the National Baseball Congress, has been airmailed to Japan.

Dumont had announced earlier that the Glo-Ball will be officially introduced during the 25th annual national championship non-pro baseball tournament at Wichita, Kan., next August.

TRIPLE LIMIT — Three Pontiac hunting partners, working back of two good English setters, had little difficulty last weekend, taking their limit of ringnecks near Romeo. All three work in the General Motors Truck & Coach tabulation department. They are, from left: Bill Ratz, 674 Lounsbury; Claude Brewer, 37 West Chicago and Carl McKinnon, 203 West Howard. None of the birds qualified for leaders in The Press "pheasant derby."

Rams Roll 70-0; St. Mike Edges Eaglets

Lyon Is Leader for Record Win of SCL Season

Jack Takes Scoring Edge With 24 Over RO St. Mary 11

Paced by bulldozing Jack Lyon, St. Frederick gridders rolled to a season's record victory, Sunday, 70-0, over a hapless Royal Oak St. Mary's club. Victory was the 5th straight in Suburban Catholic League play for the Rams, who are the only unbeaten club in the circuit and an odds-on favorite for the title.

Lyon galloped and bulled his way to four touchdowns, and his efforts at Royal Oak, good for 24 points, vaulted him into the area's scoring leadership with 78 points. He was 2nd, behind Busch of Birmingham, who tallied once in Friday's game, for a 66 total.

After the first two minutes of play in Sunday's title, Rams had counted the first of 10 touchdowns. Chuck Deschaine did an exceptional job in collecting seven PATs, by kicking, adding 3 mors by a field goal. That field try was the first in many years by a St. Frederick team, and was made from the 16-yard mark in the final period.

★ ★ ★

Nesbitt counted the first time Rams had the ball, going 24 for the TD. Freds scored two more times in the first five minutes. Lyon ran 53 yards for the 2nd tally after Rams took over on downs. Three plays after the next kickoff Kennedy tossed one to Steve Pocs, good for 25 yards and Steve went rest of the way on a 46-yard TD play.

Lyon made his 2nd tally in the 2nd period, going 16 yards, and added another in a few minutes for his 3rd TD, a 4-yard plunge. Tom Derocher took a Kennedy pass in the 3rd period, scampered 47 for the count. That was the 6th tally.

Another pass to Pocs accounted for the 7th tally, good for 53 yards. Nesbitt intercepted an RO aerial, lateraled to Phil Landry who went 48 for the TD (No. 8). No. 9 was a 28-yard punch by Hoffman and Lyon made the 10th, on a 14-yard drive.

Art Massucci's 99-yard gallop highlighted the 34-0 win for St. Benedict's over St. Clement, Sunday. Ed Eberhardt scored the other four Ben TDs. St. Rita tied St. James 13-13 in the other SCL game of the weekend.

Get Off Apron Strings, Soviet Athletes Told

MOSCOW (AP) — Izvestia, the Soviet Union's government newspaper, told Russian athletes and coaches Sunday that it's time they quit riding the apron strings of the women athletes.

The paper said the country's male athletes should quit claiming victories on the basis of the performance of the women's teams.

The paper didn't refer to the giant United States-Russia dual track meet at Moscow last summer, but apparently it helped provoke the article.

Alert Shamrocks Post Important 12-6 Triumph

Victors Still in SCL Race; Pat Campbell Stars in 1st Start

By CHUCK ABAIR

An alert St. Michael grid team turned two pass interceptions into touchdowns and came up with a big fumble recovery with Orchard Lake St. Mary knocking on the end zone door to gain an important 12-6 triumph at Orchard Lake yesterday.

The victory kept the Shamrocks in contention for at least a share of the Suburban Catholic League championship. St. Mike and St. Benedict are deadlocked for 2nd with 4-1 records behind undefeated St. Frederick.

St. Michael coach Jim Niebauer made a lineup change that could be compared to some Casey Stengel has masterminded for sheer genius.

★ ★ ★

He inserted junior Pat Campbell into his starting offensive lineup for the first time this fall and it certainly paid off.

Pat, who had looked good in spots against St. Fred, took complete charge of the Big Blue offensive. He ran well all the way and connected on three passes, the final covering 20 yards to Ron Call for what proved to be the deciding points in the 2nd period.

"Campbell was the difference in the game today," said the happy Niebauer following the "must" win. He also cited the defensive work of Ken Biron as a key factor.

★ ★ ★

The first of three pass interceptions for St. Mike actually changed the complexion of the game. Fleet-footed Chuck Steinhelper grabbed the pigskin at his own 26 and dashed 74 yards to paydirt to make it a 6-6 tie.

Campbell's grab of an Eaglet flip a few minutes later started the St. Mike TD march which covered 75 yards. Pat's 18-yard pass to Mike Flynn and his fine running featured the drive.

Two Shamrocks recovered the fumble which stopped St. Mary's final of several scoring threats. Frank Bartos had a 1st down made at the 7 when he bobbled the ball and lost it.

★ ★ ★

With St. Mike trying to run out the clock Campbell was again a key figure. The Shamrocks were 4th down and one to go on their own 16 with everyone expecting a punt. But the hard-running 146-pounder dashed for nine and it was all over in two more plays.

★ ★ ★

Orchard Lake started out as if it was going to have an easy day going 70 yards to score after the opening kickoff led by the bull-like rushes of Bill Krull. Stan Krogulecki passed to Mike Wojtowicz for the last 18. The Eaglets appeared on their way both times when Steinhelper and Campbell intercepted. They reached the 13 before stalling just before halftime.

The Mikemen missed a threat of their own early in the 3rd but held on the rest of the way.

Both New York Wins in Overtime

Lakers, Knicks Lead NBA

By The Associated Press

It's been a long, hard summer for fans of the Minneapolis Lakers and the New York Knickerbockers. But today they could point with pride at the division standings of the National Basketball Assn.

The Lakers, who finished last in the Western section last season, were leading the league today. And the Knicks, last-place occupants in the Eastern Division in 1957-58, also were atop their section.

★ ★ ★

The Lakers trimmed the Detroit Pistons 108-100 Sunday afternoon in a nationally televised game. They have won two of their three starts, bowing to the Cincinnati Royals 110-94 Saturday night.

The Knicks won their second straight overtime game, topping the Philadelphia Warriors 100-94 last night. New York opened its season Saturday evening with a 127-125 squeaker over the Boston Celtics, the defending Eastern division champions.

★ ★ ★

Only two games were played Sunday. In other Saturday night action Philadelphia edged the Syracuse Nationals 110-109 and Detroit posted a 117-112 victory over the St. Louis Hawks, defending league titlists.

Willie Naulls paced the Knicks in their success over Philadelphia. His drive-in basket with five seconds remaining in regulation time enabled New York to tie the game 89-all. Naulls then connected with a jump shot with 3:48 left in the extra period to give New York the lead for good, 91-89.

★ ★ ★

It was the Knicks' first victory on a Philadelphia area court since Feb. 22, 1956, New York having lost 10 straight to the Warriors in Philly.

Naulls topped the scoring parade with 30 points. Paul Arizin was high for Philadelphia with 27.

College Forfeits Three Victories

CLEVELAND (AP) — Baldwin-Wallace College said Sunday night it has forfeited three of its football triumphs — over New Haven State Teachers, Wittenberg and Buffalo — because of an ineligible player.

Bob Finowski, the Yellow Jackets' leading scorer with 44 points in four games, was declared ineligible by Coach Lee Tressell before Friday night's game with St. Vincent at Latrobe, Pa. It was learned the freshman star from Cleveland had spent 10 days at the University of Iowa during the spring of 1956.

Finowski had broken a school ruling prohibiting transfer students from competing in varsity sports before serving a one-year residency.

Evashevski Already Worried About 'M'

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Coach Forest Evashevski of Iowa's Big Ten title-tracking Hawkeyes makes a private football homecoming Saturday that gives him the jitters.

The old Wolverine grid star takes his conference-leading club, seeking a fourth consecutive league victory, to Michigan against whom he has never directed a Hawkeye triumph in five encounters.

"You know, I had occasion to talk to Bennie Oosterbaan after his clobbering by Northwestern. Bennie thought he beat me to the punch by saying 'Keep your chin up, Evvy.'

"But I said, 'Bennie, you old so-and-so, you don't get any sympathy from me until we get this game between you and me out of the way. You and your team are real bad news to me, any time, any place. I'll feel sorry for you if I beat you."

Armada 20-2 Victor

Armada celebrated homecoming in impressive style Saturday by hammering out a 20-2 verdict over New Baltimore Anchor Bay. Bob Zorate, Bill Porti and Clarence Priestap tallied the touchdowns.

WEEKEND FIGHTS

HAVANA—Ezequiel Uribe, 136¼, Mexico outpointed Armando Baragano, 137¼, Cuba, 10.

HOLLYWOOD — Dwight Hawkins, 122, Los Angeles, stopped Baby Brown, 121, Philippines, 5.

Dales' MIAA Rule Broken by Hope

By The Associated Press

At long last, Hillsdale's domination of the MIAA is ended.

After going 31 league football games without a defeat, Hillsdale was beaten Saturday night by Hope College 16-13 on a field goal in the last five seconds.

But Olivet College still is without a victory. The Comets' losing streak went to 28 games—longest in the nation—when Alma defeated them 27-0.

★ ★ ★

Bill Huibretgse ended Hillsdale's string — the Dales actually had won 28 in a row but were tied 0-0 by Albion 31 games ago—when he kicked a 23-yard field goal as the game ended.

It was Hope College that last defeated a Hillsdale team in the MIAA back in 1953.

The big victory left Hope as Michigan's only undefeated - untied college team. The Dutchmen have a 6-0 record and naturally are favored for the MIAA championship.

On the other hand, Olivet has not been victorious since 1955, when the Comets beat Grand Rapids Junior College 19-6.

★ ★ ★

More heroics in the final seconds kept Kalamazoo College from winning its first game of the season.

The Hornets dropped their sixth straight 10-7 when Adrian quarterback John Henderson fired a 20-yard touchdown pass to end Gerald Myers in the last seven seconds.

It was a bad weekend for Michigan teams against out-of-state opponents. Only Northern Michigan was successful, the Wildcats turning back St. Norbert of Wisconsin 19-0 mainly on the passing of quarterback Tom Schwalbach.

Louisville snapped Central Michigan's nine-game winning streak and ruined the Chippewas' hopes of a post-season bowl bid when the Cardinals beat the Michigan team 40-7.

Southern Illinois whipped Eastern Michigan 13-9 in an Interstate Conference game, Toledo beat Western Michigan 21-6 in a mid-American Conference contest, Western Reserve of the Presidents' Conference beat Wayne State 26-0, Northern (S.D.) State Teachers beat Michigan Tech 28-6 in a Northern States conference tussle and Wooster of Ohio beat Albion 38-14 despite a pair of touchdowns by All-State end Tom Taylor.

Teaching Pro Wins Florida PGA Event

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — Henry Costillo, a 43-year-old teaching pro, overhauled U.S. professional golf champion Dow Finsterwald Sunday and won the Florida PGA by a single stroke.

★ ★ ★

Costillo, links mentor for Palmacia Country Club in Tampa, carded a 32-33—65 on the Naples Beach course in overcoming a four-stroke lead held by the 29-year-old Tequesta tournament ace at the start of the last 18 holes in the 72-hole medal event.

★ ★ ★

Finsterwald took a 34-36 for 274. Defending champion Pete Cooper of Lakeland was third with 275 and Paul McGuire of Crystal River fourth with 276.

MacKay Enters Air Force

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Barry MacKay of Dayton, a leading American tennis amateur, is now in the U.S. Air Force.

He walked into Clinton County Air Force Base Saturday and enlisted for a six-month term.

Before he enters Air Force training, MacKay said he plans to take a trip to Australia where next month he will compete with the U.S. Davis Cup tennis team.

Strikes and Spares

By JOE WILMAN

A lot of bowlers find themselves elected for the night as babysitters, after planning to go out with the boys and practice bowling. But the evening needn't be a total loss from a bowling standpoint. I recommend home practice in such a case.

For instance, why not mark off an area 12 to 16 feet long in your basement or kitchen, which you can use as an approach? Make it 42 inches wide, of course. Then walk through your approach with or without the ball to help work out any troubles in your footwork, armswing or timing, as we illustrate today.

If you have an old divan or mattress, you can also release the ball at the end of your approach. I don't recommend rolling your ball over cement or concrete floors however, or you may nick or scratch it.

You'd be surprised how time spent in such home practice can pay dividends the next time you step out on the alley.

Shrine 11 Is Victor 33-12 Over Theresa

Two first period touchdowns Sunday sewed up the season's 4th Catholic league win for Royal Oak Shrine, a 33-12 total over St. Theresa. Ron Horvath's club scored first on Ron Bishop's pass from the eight that went 92-yards. Pat McLaughlin took the aerial, lateralled to Jack Seymour who scampered rest of the way. Another pass produced the 2nd tally, in the same period, Boyer went to the 9, Mike Glynn to the one and Bishop went over. Glynn accounted for the 3rd counter on a 23-yard run and Dick Whitney and Bishop tallied the others. Jack Doyle made both St. Theresa tallies.

Cautious Wolverines Slip Past Gophers

Conservative 'M' Lucky to Get 20-19 Win

Retreat Into Defensive Shell After 2 Quarters Against Minnesota

By BILL CORNWELL

The University of Michigan won a big football game Saturday — barely.

It was a crucial Big Ten victory for the Wolverines and a vitally important win for head coach Bennie Oosterbaan.

Under fire from certain alumni quarters after the 55-24 drubbing by the Wildcats of Northwestern the previous Saturday, Oosterbaan was given a vote of confidence late last week.

The rebounding 'Wolverines made Michigan's faith in Bennie look good with a 20-19 triumph over luckless Minnesota in annual Homecoming festivities at Ann Arbor.

Michigan's 2nd half strategy is strange indeed. The Wolverines have a knack for building a 1st half lead, then becoming overly cautious after intermission and letting or nearly letting the victory get away from them.

Why the Wolverines were so cautious Saturday is difficult to imagine. It probably also puzzled many of the 72,981 fans on hand in the U. of M. stadium to watch the yearly struggle for the Little Brown Jug.

Leading by a skimpy 13-7 margin at intermission, the Wolverines made one explosive scoring strike on their 1st play from scrimmage to increase their edge to 20-7 and then retreated into a defensive shell the rest of the way.

It was an Oakland County boy who scored the eventual winning touchdown. Michigan received the 2nd half kickoff and on the very 1st play, halfback Darrell Harper, former Royal Oak Dondero gridder, scooted 58 yards to pay dirt.

Harper also kicked the extra point and it looked as though the Wolverines might roll. Then they stopped and it was almost fatal.

With Bob Ptacek and Gary Prahst hooking up consistently, the Wolverines exploited a Minnesota pass defense weakness in the 1st half. Yet they almost completely abandoned their air arm in the 3rd and 4th periods.

The strong Minnesota line bottled up the Michigan running attack after Harper's run and with the desertion of the aerial weapon, the Wolverines bogged down to a walk.

Michigan's line was riddled by the Gopher backs throughout the 2nd half and the Gophers also found the 'M' secondary highly vulnerable to passes.

Minnesota rallied for two touchdowns to make the scoreboard read 20-19. The Gophers went for broke on the conversion, trying for the two points that might win the game, and failed when a pass fell harmlessly to the ground.

The Wolverines gave Minnesota another chance with the ball in the last minute of play and a long pass just missed clicking which would have sealed Michigan's doom.

★ ★ ★

Bennie's gridders were lucky to escape with their narrow 20-19 victory in view of their conservative 2nd half performance. It is rarely wise to play it as close to the belt as 'M' did Saturday, especially when the Wolverines refused to use what had been their best weapon—the forward pass.

Failed to Show Again at Illinois

Where Is Spartans' Depth?

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State football camp isn't giving up to deep despair despite the 16-0 shutout by Illinois.

"Even though we feel terribly bad, we don't feel as bad as after we lost to Purdue," explained coach Duffy Daugherty. "At least we were in the game up until the last few minutes."

It was the first time in 40 games that Michigan State had been blanked — the last previous time a 6-0 edging by Wisconsin in 1954. But coaches and followers could still find some crumbs of comfort.

★ ★ ★

Michigan State did manage 162 yards rushing compared to the net of 38 yards against Purdue. And the score still was 3-0 going into the final quarter.

"The boys gave all they had," said Daugherty. "But we made a lot of costly mistakes."

The game proved once and for all the talk of "great depth" at Michigan State is a myth as far as this season is concerned. Injuries and the failure of some of the senior hands to produce forced MSU to start five sophomores and experiment with a number of position changes.

Only two seniors—end and team captain Sammy Williams and guard Ellison Kelly — saw much playing time.

"It wasn't an upset," insisted defensive line coach Lou Agase afterwards. "People were rating us on last year's material. They didn't realize how many good ones were lost."

The best Michigan State penetrations were to the Illinois two, the 12 and the 17. Two field goal tries were wide.

★ ★ ★

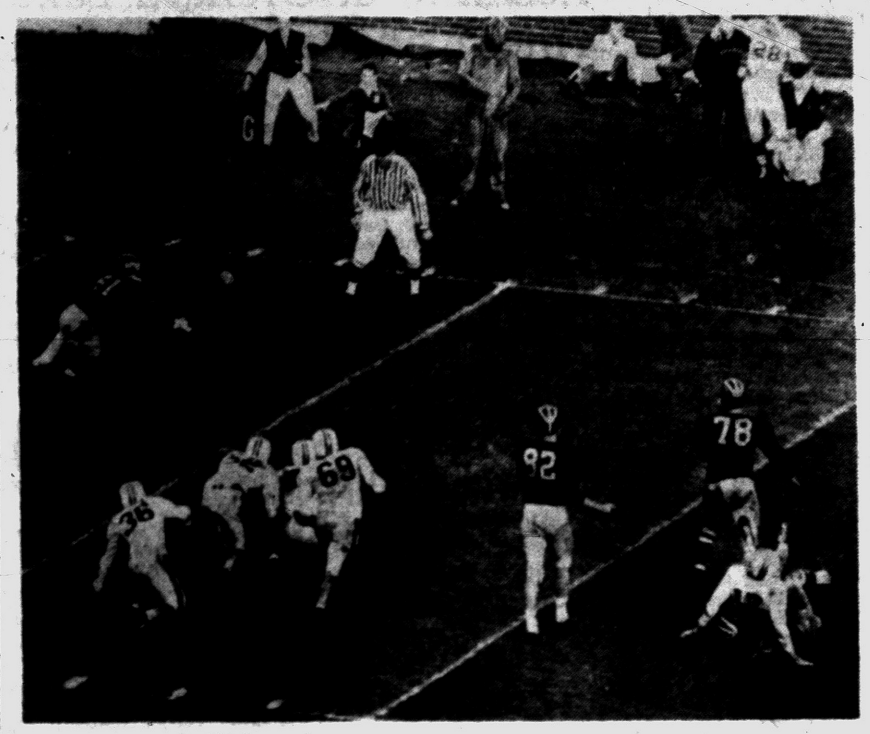

Left half Dean Look, who was supposed to see only limited action, was the only effective ground gainer. Look, wearing a plastic protector around his bruised back and ribs, netted 91 yards.

★ ★ ★

Illinois concentrated on stopping the Spartan running game and could ignore inadequate passing that netted only seven completions for 164 yards.

★ ★ ★

Illinois was ahead 3-0 at the half on a field goal by Don Yeazel. The Illini made it a happy homecoming with two last-period touchdowns, one by Bill Brown after a sustained drive and the other by Bob Hickey on a pass interception.

GOPHERS' LAST HOPE — This play was Minnesota's last hope of snatching the victory away from Michigan Saturday for the Little Brown Jug. Gopher back Jim Reese (17 lower right) was dumped as he attempted to pass for two points after Minnesota scored a TD to get within one point of the Wolverines. The pass fell downward as seen lower left and Michigan won 20-19.

GETS A RIDE — Halfback Darrell Harper (41) rides on the shoulders of two Minnesota huskies after he picked up four yards on this play. Guard Bob Charon (62) finally pinned Harper, who is from Royal Oak, to the ground. U. of M. won, 20-19.

Pistons Break Even in Weekend Contests

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—The Detroit Pistons drew a pair of top-flight performances from George (the Bird) Yardley and Phil Jordon but they only broke even in games against the St. Louis Hawks and Minneapolis Lakers.

The Lakers, taking advantage of the Pistons' cold spell during the second period, took a 108-100 victory yesterday after Detroit whipped the world champion St. Louis Hawks 117-112 in the Pistons' home opener before a slim turnout of 3,698 fans Saturday.

Yardley poured in 36 points in the losing effort yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Minneapolis went into a 25-23 first period lead and Detroit managed only 19 in the second period to trail 50-42 at the half. They closed it to three points early in the third period but the Lakers, sparked by Vern Mikkelsen, Larry Foust, Elgin Baylor and Bob Leonard, put the game out of reach with a quick spurt.

Mikkelsen fired in 22 points while Foust and Leonard each had 19. Baylor marked up 18 as Detroit went down to its third defeat in four starts.

Jordon netted 33 points in the victory over the Hawks. Detroit took an early lead as Jordon recorded 20 of his points in the first 14 minutes. But he made only seven yesterday and Gene Shue had 18 to back up Yardley's 36-point effort against the Lakers.

Yardley pumped in 20 points against the Hawks.

Flint Speedster Woe for Titans

U-D Has Appearance of Jekle and Hyde Every Week

DETROIT (AP)—Coach Wally Fromhart of the University of Detroit feels like he coaches two Jekle and Hyde football teams and they play on alternate weekends.

The Titans took the field Saturday against Arizona State, lost the ball six times on fumbles, helplessly watched the fine running of the Sundevils' Leon Burton of Flint and took a 27-6 beating.

The outcome was in line with the Titans' pattern of going from flat to fabulous and back to flat again. They've won three and lost three so far, starting with a victory and winning one every other week.

There's only the slightest resemblance between the Detroit team that wins and the Detroit team that loses. The names of the players are the same.

★ ★ ★

"I don't know what's wrong," said Fromhart. "In those alternate weeks when we lost, we just weren't able to produce at the crucial point. Some of the breaks would go against us and the boys would just lose their zip."

Sorry, Olivet—There's Longer Losing Streak

NEW YORK (AP) — Olivet College of Michigan has lost 28 straight football games but still has a long way to go to match the record of St. Paul Poly of Lawrenceville, Va.

Olivet was believed to have tied the record when it lost to Alma last Saturday. But the NCAA Service Bureau dug into the records and came up with figures that say the Virginia school dropped 41 straight between the end of the 1940 season and the middle of the 1953 campaign.

4 Colleges in Charmed Circle

By The Associated Press

Only four major college football teams remained in the undefeated-untied charmed circle today and at least one of them must be expelled this week.

Louisiana State and Mississippi, both boasting 6-0 records, meet Saturday night in Baton Rouge, La., with not only their spotless reputations, but probably the Southeastern Conference championship at stake.

★ ★ ★

The team that wins this one should take the championship and the host spot in the Sugar Bowl, for neither figures to get beaten the rest of the season.

★ ★ ★

Of the other two unbeaten-untieds—Rutgers and Colorado—the Scarlet from the banks of New Jersey's Raritan River, appears to have a relatively easy assignment against Delaware.

★ ★ ★

Rutgers, which has had rough going the past decade, has won five in a row and could emerge as the only major unbeaten-untied team in the nation. Lafayette, the Quantico Marines and Columbia, the Scarlet's final three opponents, do not figure to cause any trouble.

Colorado has a mighty rough assignment. The Buffs play Oklahoma, the perennial kingpin of the Big 8.

But the situation is not hopeless. The Sooners are human this year (they lost to Texas, 15-14), and the Buffs have as good a club as they've produced in a long time. Furthermore, Colorado always has made it close, as witness last year when the Sooners eked out a 14-13 decision with a late rally.

Should LSU and Ole Miss happen to play a tie and Oklahoma beats Colorado, that would leave Rutgers in a class by itself as the only unbeaten-untied major team in the nation.

★ ★ ★

Both LSU and Mississippi had close squeaks last Saturday. The Bayou Bombers licked tough Florida, 10-7, while Ole Miss barely turned back winless Arkansas, 14-12.

But their troubles were nothing compared to Army's and Ohio State's, the Nos. 1 and 2 teams in last week's Associated Press poll.

The Cadets could do nothing better than a 14-14 tie with Pitt in a game that was advertised as deciding the Eastern championship, while Ohio State wound up in a 7-7 deadlock against Wisconsin.

★ ★ ★

Then there were the sad cases of Texas and Northwestern.

The Longhorns, on the basis of their victory over Oklahoma, were installed as solid choices to win the Southwest Conference title. Instead, Rice sidetracked them, 34-7.

Northwestern, which couldn't win a game last year, had polished off four straight rivals and the rest of the Big 10 was beginning to sit up and take notice. But once-tied Iowa burst the bubble, 26-20, and now is in undisputed possession of first place.

★ ★ ★

Army plays Colgate this week and Ohio State is at Northwestern in an effort to make up for their failings of the past week. Texas could be in for another rough afternoon against pass-crazy Southern Methodist.

★ ★ ★

There are only two other major schools that are unbeaten but have been tied. They are Auburn, last year's national champion, which halted Maryland, 20-7, Saturday and still has an outside chance of winning the Southeastern Conference title, and the Air Force Academy. The Fly Boys shaded Utah, 16-14, Saturday.

American Gridders Have Big Weekend in Canada

By The Associated Press

A couple of stars from the Western U.S., Jack Hill of Utah State and Ronnie Knox of UCLA, continued their spectacular performances in Canadian professional football over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

Hill, league-leading scorer in the Western Interprovincial Football Union, scored 23 points as the Saskatchewan Roughriders fought back from a 22-0 deficit to tie Calgary 29-29.

★ ★ ★

Hill scored on runs of 15 and 12 yards, picked up a third touchdown on a 91-yard pass play, and kicked four conversions and a single. The Stampeders' points came from touchdowns by former Virginia star Jim Bahktiar, Chick Holloway, of UCLA, Gene Filipski of Villanova, Army and the New York Giants, and Jack Gotta of Oregon State.

★ ★ ★

Knox, on loan to the Toronto Argonauts from the Chicago Bears completed 20 of 29 passes, including four for touchdowns, in leading the Argos to their third straight upset victory, 42-24 over the Ottawa Rough Riders in the Big Four Union.

In three games, Knox has completed 61 of 88 passes. His favorite receiver is former Kentucky star Dick Shatto, who scored three touchdowns for a three-game total of eight.

★ ★ ★

In the other Big Four game Saturday, Montreal whipped league champion Hamilton 28-12 with U.S. imports Dick Hunter, Bill Bewley, Pat Abbruzzi and Joel Wells scoring touchdowns.

In the WIFU, Edmonton clinched second place by defeating British Columbia 25-3 as Johnny Bright, formerly of Drake, scored two touchdowns. Mississippi State's Jackie Parker helped out with two singles, two conversions and a field goal.

Pacific Coast Loop to Discuss Expansion

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — The annual fall meeting of the Pacific Coast League gets underway here Monday with three major items on the docket: Election of a league president, discussions on expanding the circuit to 10 teams with North and South divisions and setting the 1959 schedule.

Leslie O'Connor is currently PCL president, but there's been talk of him stepping down because of health. More talk has had him wanting to keep the $20,000-a-year job.

League expansion talk has mentioned adding Edmonton, Alta., and Denver, but Long Beach, Calif., still is said to be interested in a league franchise. Tucson, Ariz., has talked about getting in, but its chances are reported slim.

Cranes Win at Soccer, Lose Football Contest

Cranbrook school soccer and football teams split Saturday's contests with the visiting Nichols school of Buffalo. Cranes won the soccer game 2-0, lost the football tilt 30-0.

John Hartman scored both Cranbrook goals at soccer, with assists by Captain Pete King and John Plew. Kent Strickland was the winning goalie.

Fire Kills 2 Students in Fraternity House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wood shavings and tar paper, used for decorations at a fraternity house party, fed flames which fatally burned two George Washington University students.

★ ★ ★

Killed in the early morning blaze Sunday were Roger Weldon Ussery, 22, of Rockingham, N.C., and Floyd Lansing Ormsby, 21, of Islip, L.I., N.Y. They were trapped in their third-floor bedroom. Six other young men escaped but one, James G. Wingo, 28, of Washington was burned severely.

The blaze caused an estimated $40,000 damage to the Delta Tau Delta fraternity house in downtown Washington.

Brigitte Bardot's Sister May Star in Movie

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — There certainly can't be two Brigitte Bardots! One is all we are supposed to take! But apparently Brigitte has a very pretty little sister named Mijanou, who also has acting ambitions. Some people say she's prettier than Brigitte.

★ ★ ★

But my story concerns the top comics Rowan and Martin, who will bring to the motion picture screen "Take Me to Your Leader" in Europe. The "leader" is a woman and she'll be Brigitte's sister Mijanou if current negotiations go through.

★ ★ ★

In Hollywood we know Rodolpho Acosta as Ann Sheridan's constant companion. In Mexico, he's president of Tara Films, and he's going to coproduce and finance six new films for American and Spanish release in conjunction with Auslender Productions.

Among them will be "Tiger, Tiger," based on the life of artist Paul Gauguin, and "Rio Blanco Incident," based on the Jesus Cardenas best seller about the Mexican revolution.

Annie will be in one of the movies. She looks great now that she's put on a little weight.

If that talented young beauty Jane Powell likes the title "Have Girl, Will Travel" as much as I do, I'm sure she will listen to the offer that Sy Gomberg and Jack Sher have made her.

Jane is currently at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas.

Anna Maria Alberghetti tells me that all the stories that she and Buddy Bregman are engaged to marry are untrue, and it is equally untrue that they have set any wedding date.

Calls Down Reuther for Political Ties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell says Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers president, is "too tied up with the Democratic Party to render the best service to his people."

Mitchell, speaking in a television interview (ABC—Open Hearing) yesterday, said:

"I think he makes a mistake in mixing his position as a labor leader with his function as a political figure. It seems to me he could more readily represent his people if he were to confine his political activities to issues regardless of political labels."

F106 Displays Controlled Fury

Plane Is Called Missile 'With a Man Aboard'; Newsman Goes Up

(The Air Force took a general off the waiting list to permit Associated Press Aviation Writer Vern Haugland to become the first newsman to fly in the new F106, a plane termed "a missile with a man aboard.")

By VERN HAUGLAND

TYNDALL AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—The new Convair F106 interceptor — the nation's nearest approach to a pushbutton war plane—plunges into its takeoff run like a startled race horse in a headlong runaway.

It flings itself along the runway to a speed of well above 100 miles an hour within seconds, then leaps into the air.

★ ★ ★

A two-million-dollar 30,000-pound monster of metal, fuel, electronic brains and possibly atomic weapons, it raises its tapered nose and climbs skyward at an angle of almost 45 degrees.

The all weather interceptor readily exceeds twice the speed of sound and operates effectively at altitudes over 50,000 feet.

The controlled fury of its Pratt and Whitney J75 jet engine puts it among the world's fastest and deadliest aircraft.

In giving the public its first look at the F106B in flight, the Air Force made public some hitherto closely guarded facts.

Rex Warden, a former ADC jet pilot now serving as chief of the F106 program for Convair division of General Dynamics Corp., said so far as he knew no other civilians except test pilots had flown in the F106. It is still in its test program and is not to become operational with the air defense command until next spring.

★ ★ ★

The single-place F106A and the two-place F106B are being produced under a one-billion-dollar program that also includes the semi-automatic armament control system.

Lt. Col. William Price, Air Force project officer, said the Defense Department first ordered the coordinated electronic equipment and weapons system and then bought the airplane to wrap around it.

★ ★ ★

"This is the first plane to carry a digital computer," Price said. "Actually it is a missile with a man aboard for specialized functions."

Price explained that in operation the pilot merely takes the plane off the ground, then in effect folds his arms and lets the electronic equipment carry it through the mission.

Not Selling One Goat Costs Farmer Barn

HOLLY — Peter Bower, a Holly Township farmer, wishes he had sold one more goat last week.

He got rid of six after he caught them chewing on electrical wiring in a barn on his farm, 1077 Gage Rd., about nine miles northwest of Holly.

The one he kept is blamed for starting a fire which yesterday afternoon destroyed his barn and its contents. Holly Township Fire Chief Maynoard Lowe estimated damages at $8,000.

Lost in the blaze, discovered around 5:30 p.m., were 500 bales of hay, 500 bales of straw, 100 bushels of oats, 100 ducks, 14 rabbits, a tractor and the goat.

Chief Lowe believed the fire was started in the wiring.

DETROIT (AP)—A proposal to allow copper mine exploration and development in the Porcupine Mountains State Park has been opposed by the Michigan State AFL-CIO Executive Council.

★ ★ ★

Opposition to the mineral development project has been voiced by other groups seeking to keep the area a park.

Cabs of Modern Trucks Offer Pleasant Motoring

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — The auto industry is changing the nation's truck drivers so they no longer fit the popular image of a heavily bearded, heavily muscled brute, built to absorb the jolts of the road.

The stereotyped truck driver of the past, who wrestled the steering wheel of a large, lumbering, noisy and smelly bebemoth of the highway, is becoming a "vanishing American."

CHANGE IN ENVIRONMENT

The change has taken place largely because of the change in the environment of truck drivers.

Major advances in the years since World War II have transformed trucks from mere mechanical "work horses" to stylish vehicles that now rival passenger cars in safety and comfort.

The trend actually began slightly before the end of the war but the slight advances made suffered a setback when the auto industry began producing military vehicles.

When the industry returned to civilian production after the war, the trend picked up momentum and has advanced far enough now to change the qualifications of the nation's truck drivers.

The pre-war truck driver, for example, had to have a large frame to keep his vehicle on the highway by brute force.

Now power steering and other improvements which make control of the vehicle almost as simple as driving a car have eliminated the need for bulging biceps.

NO PERSONAL PADDING

The huge frame of the pre-war truck driver had to be well-padded to absorb the jolts as his cab bobbed along the highway like a dingy tied to an ocean liner on a rough sea.

Now the need for personal shock absorbers on the driver has been eliminated by installing air suspension, hydraulic shock absorbers and foam rubber seats on the trucks.

One truck line, for example, boasts five inches of foam rubber underneath the driver and two inches of the same material behind him when he is seated at the wheel.

★ ★ ★

The same truck line offers air suspension and shock absorbers which make the truck cab ride almost as smoothly as pre-war passenger cars.

New improvements in ventilation, including air conditioning in same cases, eliminates some of the need for endurance in modern truck drivers.

The cabs of modern trucks are sealed much better to dampen noises and eliminate drafts of cold air in the winter and dust in the summer.

ELIMINATE JERKING

Automatic transmissions eliminate much of the jerking even the most experienced truck drivers encountered when their vehicles pulled away from a traffic light.

With the automatic transmissions doing much of his work, the modern truck driver also can pay more attention to the road and keep safer control over his vehicle.

Visability in all modern trucks has been increased through use of wrap-around, panoramic windshields and rear windows.

★ ★ ★

Improved headlights give greater illumination, deep-center steering wheels and safety-locking door latches improve safety along self-sealing tubeless tires which also provide greater comfort.

Seats are adjustable to eliminate constant pressure on specific parts of the driver's body and also help prevent the driver from falling asleep.

New groupings of instruments coupled with vivid colors and non-glare dashboards make the driver's job easier and more pleasant.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the best indication of the change in the nation's truck drivers can be obtained from the fact that one truck manufacturer not only advertizes, but sells as optional equipment, seats upholstered in "candy-stripe pattern woven nylon-saran, with vinyl bolsters and side facings."

New Unit Transmits Heart Tone by Phone

CHICAGO — A new device that accurately and easily transmits heart sounds and electrocardiograph readings over the telephone is described in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The new apparatus "seems to solve most of the problems" which have interfered with telephone consultations between heart specialists, Dr. E. Grey Dimond, Kansas City, Kan., said.

Practical usefulness of telephone consultation previously has been limited by the bulkiness of the equipment, by the necessity of some electrical connection between the patient, the electrocardiograph, and the telephone, and by the need for special permission from the telephone company for connection and transmission.

The new device, developed at the cardiovascular laboratory of the University of Kansas Medical Center, overcomes these problems.

The five-pound transistorized unit is attached directly to the patient by standard lead wires and placed adjacent to the mouthpiece of the telephone. The electrocardiograph signal is picked up by the phone and no wire connection is needed.

At the receiving end, a similar unit takes the information from the telephone and carries the signal to any standard electrocardiograph machine, Dr. Dimond said.

In addition, with a standard heart-sound microphone heart tones and murmurs can be transmitted by the apparatus.

Nab Mobster in Arson Try

Police Watch 2 Drill Hole in Roof, Pour Gasoline in Shop

Detroit mobster Louis Fleisher was nabbed in an arson attempt on a cut-rate dry cleaners shop today, in circumstances similar to the bungled arson job which police believe led to the burns which killed Flint Teamster Frank Kierdorf.

Fleisher was picked up just after he and a companion poured gasoline into a new dry cleaner's branch at 1348 East Seven Mile Rd., police said.

Captured with Fleisher was Joseph Anielak, 40, also of Detroit. Both men had been under continuous surveillance since last Wednesday, police said.

Eight detectives surrounded the Dorsey Cleaners' branch and said they watched from rooftops as the two men bored a hole in the roof and poured gasoline into it.

Fleisher leaped from the roof into an alley where he was arrested. Anielak was captured after a rooftop chase in which police fired one shot.

★ ★ ★

Kierdorf staggered into St. Joseph Mercy Hospital August 4 with burns over most of his body, and died four days later.

Police believed that the burns were received in an arson attempt at a dry cleaning branch office on the South side of Flint.

Three owners of Detroit dry cleaners establishments were among those held without charge for investigation. They are Chester Tutha, 51; owner of Town Cleaners; Stanley Sobo, 40, owner of Sobo Cleaners, and Alexander Jendryka, 35, owner of Alexander's Cleaners.

Also held was Ben Seifman, 45.

Police said Tutha and Sobo had been seen at the Dorsey Cleaner's branch last week with Fleisher and Anielak. They did not say immediately why Jendryka and Seifman were picked up.

Fleisher, on parole and with a police record as an extortionist, had been under observation since early this year. Wyrod said all six men will be questioned in a series of eight bombings between January and May.

Anielak and Tutha served prison terms in Alabama for burglary and Sobo has a record as a burglar, Wyrod said.

Fleisher was a member of the notorious "Purple Gang" of Detroit.

The West Virginia Mines Dept. under whose jurisdiction the borderline mine comes, confirmed that an explosion had taken place at the mine, located about 35 miles south of Welch, W. Va.

Waterford Township Hunting Still Taboo

Because of an erroneous article printed in a Detroit newspaper yesterday, the Waterford Township police Dept. has been flooded with protest calls from area residents, according to Chief Millard Pender.

★ ★ ★

The article stated that hunting with firearms is allowed in the township, and that the State Legislature had closed the area to hunters but the law was not effective until approved by popular vote.

★ ★ ★

Voters approved the law by a 3-1 majority at the primary election in August.

Pender stressed the fact that hunting with any type of gun in Waterford Township is absolutely prohibited.

The drivers and three others in the Fontana car were taken to Pontiac General Hospital with cuts and bruises, treated and released.

The injured passengers were Mrs. Jennie Fontana, 53, of Mason; Alfred Powelson, 65, and his wife, Jean, 48, of Mason.

Business and Finance

Grain Futures Easing Slightly

CHICAGO (UP) — Grain futures prices generally eased slightly today in light early dealings on the board of trade.

The broadest setback was in corn, already at new season lows for most contracts, but most losses were in minor fractions of a cent.

Dealers said the recent declines in both corn and soybeans appeared to be meeting some resistance at the lower prices, especially by investment buyers. There was some feeling that rallies could be expected from time to time in both corn and soybeans.

Wheat was unchanged to ⅝ cent a bushel higher near the end of the first hour, December $1.93; corn unchanged to ½ lower, December old type contract 1.09⅜; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, December 63⅞; rye unchanged to ⅜ lower, December $1.29½; soybeans unchanged to ⅛ lower, November $2.10⅞.

Nixon Speaking in Flint Tonight

toskey, Cadillac, Traverse City, Gaylord, Saginaw, Flint and Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Nixon took time out yesterday to rest from a whirlwind political stumping tour in the Midwest in behalf of Republican congressional candidates.

Nixon and his staff arrived in Minneapolis Saturday night after campaigning in South Dakota and Nebraska.

★ ★ ★

The major GOP candidates for statewide office — U.S. Sen. Charles Potter, who is seeking re-election, and Paul D. Bagwell, Republican nominee for governor campaigned on television Sunday.

Bagwell continued to hammer away at what he called the poor economic climate in Michigan. He appeared on a TV panel discussion in Grand Rapids.

★ ★ ★

Bagwell squirmed a bit under some of the questioning but he said he was "pleased to get all this free television time."

Bagwell admitted he has "inadvertently" used some incorrect figures to back up his claims that Michigan is not keeping pace with other states in economic growth.

However, he said Gov. G. Mennen Williams remained a "pshchological symbol" that prevents new industry from coming to Michigan.

came about as a result of a 412 to 21 vote. A breakdown had skilled trade workers approving ratification 118 to 6; and production workers 394 to 15.

ENDS STRIKES

Ratification put an end to strikes that were waged at all three plants over local wage and seniority agreements.

★ ★ ★

Nationally, there were only five GM plants today with local disputes still unsettled. The remaining locals on strike were scheduled to vote today or tomorrow on whether to end their walkouts.

New agreements throughout the nation brought to 260,300 the number of UAW employes ready for work at 119 GM plants. At full operation, GM has about 275,000 UAW employes at 124 plants.

★ ★ ★

The new settlements were at:

Fisher Body at Mansfield, O.; Central Foundry at Defiance, Ohio; Chevrolet at Bloomfield, N. J.; Chevrolet Foundry at Tonawanda, N. Y.; Euclid Division at Cleveland; and two Fisher Body plants at Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Plants where local disputes still blocked a back-to-work move were: Detroit Transmission, Fisher Body Fleetwood at Detroit, Chevrolet Forge at Tonawanda, N. Y., Fisher Body at Tarrytown, N. Y. and Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac at Atlanta.

★ ★ ★

Although the companywide strike lasted only 12 hours, the UAW gave its blessings to locals that wanted to continue on strike until local grievances were settled.

Lower-Priced Stocks Active

NEW YORK (UP)—Activity in lower-priced stocks featured a mixed stock market early today. Trading was heavy.

The ticker tape ran late for six minutes while a succession of big blocks changed hands.

★ ★ ★

American Motors was outstanding, rising more than a point and gyrating from that to a slightly lower price. This stock was resuming a big rise of last week.

Rexall and Servel were among other stocks with big initial volume.

The rails were up a bit, continuing their advance of last week contrary to the industrial trend. Northern Pacific rose a fraction, still riding improved earnings.

★ ★ ★

The market was mixed at the start and continued unevenly.

Rexall's gain was beyond a point. Chance Vought advanced about a point. In an irregular Copper group, Anaconda picked up about a point.

Kennecott was off a sizable fraction. The news was that U.S. Copper Mines are increasing production to help offset shortages created by mine strikes abroad.

★ ★ ★

Bethlehem dropped a fraction while U.S. Steel held firm. General Motors added a fraction.

SWEET SWEDE — Ingrid Goude displayed on Bob Cummings Show Tuesday nights.

Success Certain for Ingrid Goude

Miss Sweden of 1957 Makes Even Cameras Blink With Awe

NEW YORK — Ingrid Goude, a Swedish delicacy from Sandiviken, had heard about the various approaches of the American male. But the shocker which started her TV career came from a petite blonde girl who sized her up in a department store and said, "You know, you'd be perfect for my husband. You're just the type he likes."

While the charming Miss Goude did a fast mental recheck on her knowledge of English ("I vass not sure I understand her,") the young lady introduced herself as Mrs. Robert Cummings, whose husband collects delightfully proportioned young things like Ingrid for his NBC-TV "Bob Cummings Show," seen on Tuesday nights.

Miss Goude, also known as Miss Sweden of 1957, is a green-eyed blonde who has the interesting talent of making other girls look underdeveloped. It's that rare type of figure (39-21-34) which shames a shape into a sack dress.

Ingrid, now 20, became a model in Sweden at 17.

"I vass seeing a soccer game in Sandiviken," she says, "und a famous Svedish dress designer vas dere too. He introduced himself and offered me a job modeling. Always I like to wear nice clothes, even if they are not mine. So I say yes."

In less than a year she became one of the top models and in 1956, entered the Miss Europe contest, placing second. She was chosen Miss Sweden for entry in the Miss Universe contest which brought her to California for the finals.

"I feel strange," she says, "but I call Mrs. Cummings the next week after I see her and, do you know, she was not joking with me? She told me to see her husband that day."

The crew still insists that even the TV cameras blinked when Miss Goude stepped in front of them the first time.

Her only problem was the language barrier. Unless the cues were in Swedish Ingrid was at a loss. This was solved easily enough as the Cummings script girl is Swedish and she translated instructions.

Ingrid's parents still live in Sandiviken, where her father manages a steel mill. In Hollywood, she shares an apartment with Carol Morris, Miss Universe of 1957 and despite the fact that they were rivals for the title, the girls are very close friends.

The surprising thing about Ingrid is her acting ambition. Although she appears to be a placid type of Nordic beauty, she would like to become a comedienne.

But somehow, after taking a long, completely enjoyable look at Miss Goude, it seems a downright shame that she wants to make people laugh.

World's Tanker Fleet Increased by 204 in '57

LONDON — World tanker tonnage at the start of 1958 totaled 50,990,000 compared with 45,250,000 tons at the beginning of 1957. Last year 204 tankers were launched.

Two thirds of existing tanker tonnage was built since 1945. Great Britain leads in tanker tonnage, followed by Liberia, Norway, the United States, and Panama.

Toll May Reach 93

Fear All 77 Canada Miners Dead

SPRINGHILL, N. S. (UPI) — Rescue workers tunneled in three directions deep in the Springhill mine, a tomb for perhaps as many at 93 persons.

There was practically no hope for the 77 missing miners, and it appeared that the final death toll would stand at 93. A total of 16 bodies had been removed by early today. Eighty-one miners escaped, 15 of whom were in serious condition in the hospital.

★ ★ ★

Officials of the Cumberland Railway and Coal Co., which operates the mine, said they were not able to estimate just how long it would take to reach the 13,000-foot face where some 53 men were believed trapped when an earthquake-like jolt or "bump," crumpled the mine shaft Thursday night.

Three crews of draegermen (rescue workers) were tunneling their way to the 13,000-foot face which is in a tunnel or side-gallery branching out from the main shaft.

One group had reached the 13,800-foot face via the main shaft and was digging upward toward the men.

★ ★ ★

Another was inching its way through from the 13,000-foot level, while a third was digging down from the 12,600 foot level.

ONE OF DEEPEST

The 13,000 foot level is the distance down the slope, which is as steep as 30 degrees in places. The actual vertical distance from the surface would be about 4,200 feet.

The mine is one of the deepest in Canada. Two years ago 39 miners were killed and 88 escaped following an explosion in the number 4 shaft.

Two funerals were held Sunday, and seven or possibly more were expected to be held today. The residents of the town still prayed for a miracle, and thronged to the churches yesterday.

★ ★ ★

However, company officials said earlier, there was no indication any of the missing miners was alive.

★ ★ ★

Mine officials said they would continue rescue operations until every miner had been accounted for. The major problems appeared to be poisonous gas, rockfalls and debris.

But the 70 volunteer draegermen continued to inch their way along despite the difficulties and danger.

A crowd of some 200 persons kept a death vigil at the mineshaft yesterday and early today. Many of them were wives and parents of trapped miners.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, an appeal for financial aid for the stricken community went out across the nation.

Veteran Locomotive Wrecked by Vandals

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) — The old steam locomotive donated to the city of Buffalo in 1954 by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad as an "educational exhibit" is winding up on the wrong side of the tracks.

The railroading veteran was given a shiny coat of black paint and its brass was gleaming when it was placed on permanent exhibition in La Salle Park. But, the city fathers didn't figure on the hoodlum element.

The locomotive has been dismantled piece by piece over the months—even a fence didn't protect it—until it has become an eyesore. Officials indicate it soon will be consigned to the scrap heap.

Champagne Use Rises

BERLIN — Sales of domestic champagne in Germany last year climbed 20 per cent, totaling 42,600,000 bottles. In addition, 155,000 bottles were imported and 1,200,000 went tax-free for sale on ships and to foreign military personnel.

Everything Speeds Up Within New Jet Set

By EARL WILSON

PARIS — In the Jet Set which I've just joined, everything flies faster nowadays — including gossip.

WILSON

Six week divorces will be cut down to a point where a one-minute residence will be required in Nevada. The young ladies will consider that two hours is a rather "long engagement." The hour glass will be instructed to do the same job in one minute, or be replaced.

★ ★ ★

I heard here that the Duchess of Windsor dislikes dining alone with the Duke of Windsor because she must carry the conversation and that means smiling a lot — and that gives her wrinkles.

★ ★ ★

Ava Gardner's indignant about singer Bob Anthony's efforts to promote himself and his records by claiming that he commutes from Hollywood to Rome to woo her. She has a letter from him saying: "God only knos how much I really love you for playing along with me on this publicity." She isn't playing along — as this paragraph proves.

★ ★ ★

Jack Benny's been so upset about the critical illness of numerous friends (acording to one of intimates I met here) that he told his wife Mary, "Life is short — so live! Be extravagant! Buy anything you want to!" So she did (in fact, she already was, before he told her).

★ ★ ★

The reason Brigitte Bardot isn't coming to Hollywood to make that picture with Frank Sinatra (I learn here) is that her managers have decided that she can't be much bigger than she already is. Besides, they know that America is very fickle, and worshipful only of people it hasn't seen. "Once it saw "Brigitte," one friend explained, "America would sniff and say, 'Is THIS what we've been raving about! My DEAR!'"

High Scholastic Grades No Key to High Salary

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI) — Dr. Katherine Rea, Dean of Women at the University of Mississippi, says a high scholastic average in college does not seem to help women graduates to higher salaries.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Rea earned her Ph.D. degree by studying how women graduates of eight colleges in Mississippi fare in their jobs. She found that "graduates of distinction" are earning only slightly more than women in the low-average group.

Diabetes is the only major cause of death in which female mortality exceeds male mortality. Chances that a man will die of diabetes before reaching the age of 65 are 3.8 per 1,000; for women, it's 5.2.

Teenage Girl Takes, Passes Realtor Test

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — Roberta M. Neldenger, 14, has qualified to become perhaps the youngest real estate saleswoman in the country.

The teenager took the state test for the job and passed it with flying colors.

Roberta's father, Edwin J. Neldenger, is a real estate broker and an appraiser for the State Board of Equalization and Assessment. Her mother is a licensed real estate saleswoman.

Mrs. Neldenger said her husband insisted Roberta could take the test under the state rules since the law didn't specify any minimum age. So she did—and passed.

An average American uses 8.1 ordinary pencils in a calendar year.

New Drug Destroys 4 Worm Parasites

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chemistry has come up with a blue dye called dithiazanine iodide which safely destroys four of the major worm parasites that attack the human body. The four parasites, according to authoritative estimates, infest 1,243,200,000 persons in the world, 22,000,000 of them in the United States.

★ ★ ★

The drug was developed by Eli Lilly and Company and tested at Louisiana State University. It is taken by mouth as a pill; its trade name is "Delvex."

The four parasites it fights are whipworm, threadworm, roundworm and pinworm.

Half-Billion for Barrels

FRANKFORT, Ky. — The United States distilling industry, required by law to use new white-oak barrels for aging whisky, has bought an estimated 50,000,000 of these barrels — at a cost of more than $500,000,00 — since the repeal of prohibition in 1933.

Dunks Hands 3½ Hours

WILLARD, Ohio — A survey conducted for a Willard rubber company indicates that the average housewife taking care of a home and young children has her hands in liquids 3 hours and 27 minutes every day.

New Drug Destroys 4 Worm Parasites

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chemistry has come up with a blue dye called dithiazanine iodide which safely destroys four of the major worm parasites that attack the human body. The four parasites, according to authoritative estimates, infest 1,243,200,000 persons in the world, 22,000,000 of them in the United States.

★ ★ ★

The drug was developed by Eli Lilly and Company and tested at Louisiana State University. It is taken by mouth as a pill; its trade name is "Delvex."

The four parasites it fights are whipworm, threadworm, roundworm and pinworm.

Half-Billion for Barrels

FRANKFORT, Ky. — The United States distilling industry, required by law to use new white-oak barrels for aging whisky, has bought an estimated 50,000,000 of these barrels — at a cost of more than $500,000,00 — since the repeal of prohibition in 1933.

Dunks Hands 3½ Hours

WILLARD, Ohio — A survey conducted for a Willard rubber company indicates that the average housewife taking care of a home and young children has her hands in liquids 3 hours and 27 minutes every day.

Canada has an estimated 146,000 head of moose.

Big and Still Growing—

The U. S. population has whistled upward at a spectacular rate to pass the 175-million mark—17 million more than were around when President Eisenhower was inaugurated in 1953, nearly 170 million more than the postcolonial states boasted in 1800 when Napoleon was France's first consul and reaching for an emperor's crown.

★ ★ ★

Thirty years later saw the first Mormon Church oragnized by Joseph Smith in Fayette, N. Y.; we then numbered over 12 million.

In 1860 the Civil War clouds were gathering as South Carolina seceded from the Union which embraced over 31 million. Ellis Island opened in New York as an immigration depot in 1890, when the population was almost 63 million.

★ ★ ★

The great flood of new citizens helped push the figure to over 105 million in 1920, the year the League of Nations began in Geneva, Switzerland. More than 150,000,000 of us got the news in 1950 that Brink's, Inc., had been robbed of $2,775,395.12. And this year the counter clicked on while the Pioneer moon rocket sped up and up — symbolic perhaps, of America's population of the future.

Ohio Election Picture Cloudy

Closed Shop Controversy Adds Confusion to Race

(One of four articles on elections in neighboring states)

COLUMBUS (AP) — The issue of compulsory unionism has clouded the Ohio fall election picture.

While it seems likely voters will write into the state constitution a provision prohibiting union shop contracts, there are no clear-cut indications a yea stand will insure success at the polls or a nay spell defeat.

Republican incumbent Gov. C. William O'Neill, for example, who is stumping hard and strong for the proposal, appears on the ragged edge of defeat after a single term in office.

His Democratic challenger, Michael V. DiSalle, who personally opposes the union shop prohibition, sees victory finally within his grasp despite a 427,000-vote trouncing by O'Neill in 1956.

But on the senatorial level, Democrat Stephen M. Young, against it from the first, isn't conceded a ghost of a chance against incumbent Republican John W. Bricker who supports the measure.

Compounding the confusion are Republican fears that the controversy over the right-to-work law will work to the Democrats' favor.

The reasoning is that organized labor's desperate campaign to defeat the measure will bring out many union members on Nov. 4.

The Republicans figure the unionists—among whom there are more Democrats than Republicans—aren't going to walk out of the polling booths without marking ballots for candidates as well as issues. Voter registration already is at a record high for a nonpresidential election year and the big push has been among groups fighting the proposed amendment.

In the May primaries, for the first time in a generation, Democrats outvoted Republicans— and by 100,000 votes.

Republicans now control the Ohio delegation in Congress 17-6. They also dominate both houses of the Ohio legislature and hold all the statewide offices in the capitol building.

The best chance the Democrats appear to have for an upset in the congressional races is in the industrial Third District where Democrat Thomas B. Talbot is putting up a strong fight against incumbent Republican Paul F. Schenck.

Lebanon, in the Middle East, has a new sports coliseum seating 50,000 spectators.
