

Monday, January 5, 2009

Professor Brad Roth assumed position of director for CBR

On January 5, 2009, Prof. Brad Roth assumed the position of director of the Oakland University's Center for Biomedical Research (CBR). The Center was launched in 1997 under the leadership of Prof. Denis Callewaert. In its current planned format, the center will provide a university-wide biomedical research platform to all the academic units on campus.

SUMMARY

Professor Brad Roth assumed the position of director of the Oakland University's Center for Biomedical Research (CBR).

Created by Heather Mattiello (heather.mattiello@caretech.com) on Thursday, March 26, 2009

Modified by Heather Mattiello (heather.mattiello@caretech.com) on Thursday, March 26, 2009

Article Start Date: Thursday, March 26, 2009