Hope to Avert Holiday Death Toll Here

Many Agencies Will Cooperate in Safety Drive

Red Cross Volunteers Man Emergency Cars in 'Trouble Spots'

Oakland County authorities today launched a vigorous campaign in a spectacular effort to avert a grim traffic death toll here during the three-day Memorial Day week end starting tonight.

The unique life-saving project utilizing ham-radio Red Cross cars, special first aid teams, traffic observation from the air and scores of volunteers includes complete support by various county police agencies.

An estimated 2,675,000 cars will travel Michigan's highways.

With a predicted 20 to 30 deaths due to traffic accidents during the holiday span, Gov. Williams also asked National Guard units to work with state police on traffic patrol and proclaimed the weekend an emergency period. Last year's state death record during the weekend reached 20.

The mobilized strategy of war on traffic injuries and deaths here is conducted under supervision of the Oakland County Chapter of the Red Cross for the second year after its successful start in 1954.

Mrs. Mildred Bennett, the county's Red Cross executive secretary, said an average of 30 volunteers will man 12 emergency cars each of the four days from today through Monday.

CARS RADIO-EQUIPPED
Six of the cars will be radio-equipped and will contain two ham operators and two Red Cross first aid men, patrolling "trouble spots" on congested streets and highways.

Cars, receiving radio messages from a Civil Air Patrol plane — giving locations of traffic jams or accidents — will be dispatched to scenes.

Waterford Files Appeal on Tax

Township in Protest Against Higher Rate Ordered by County

An appeal was filed yesterday with Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen by Waterford Township Attorney John W. Bell which will be forwarded to the State Tax Commission claiming the township has been slated to pay an unduly high percentage of county taxes.

HIGHER FACTOR
"The County Equalization Committee has given Waterford a higher equalizing factor than it should have in proportion to the rest of Oakland," said Waterford Supervisor Lloyd Anderson.

"We contend that unless the factor is reduced by the state, Waterford will be forced to pay a larger share of county taxes this year than it legitimately should," Anderson stated.

No taxes can be spread until the state commission rules on the appeal, the supervisor declared. It will probably review the entire county.

APPEALED IN 1950

Waterford appealed for the same reason in 1950 "and the state reduced our factor to 1.59," said Anderson. This year's county-set factor on Waterford is 1.68.

"We have raised our valuation 23 per cent ourselves since 1950 and feel the old factor of 1.59 is closer to what the state would set," the supervisor asserted.

"A jump of two points in the factor raises taxes $6 on a home assessed at $3,000," he added.

Action resumed this morning in the $5,000 Wolverine Ladies Invitational Open golf tournament at Forest Lake Country Club.

Miss Betty Hicks, professional from Palm Springs, Calif., led the field into the second 18-hole round after shooting a three-under-par 72 Thursday. She holds a slim one-stroke lead and nearly all the 17 other pretties are still in the running along with several of the amateur standouts.

Ike Authorizes Aid for Kansas Tornado Areas

Four-State Toll Rises to 122; Ruined Regions Face Flood Threat

From Our Wire Services
WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower today authorized use of such federal funds "as are necessary" for relief of tornado-damaged areas of Kansas.

In a telegram to Gov. Fred Hall, the President said in effect that he was authorizing a blank check to supplement state and local efforts.

In reply to questions White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said no formal request had been received as yet from Oklahoma for federal assistance. Areas of that state also were hit by tornadoes Wednesday night and yesterday.

In his telegram to Hall, Eisenhower said:

"I am deeply concerned with the hardship and suffering caused the people of Kansas by the tornado and, as you requested, I have today declared a major disaster under authority of Public Law 875 in those areas of the state of Kansas which have been damaged."

"I have allocated to the Federal Civil Defense Administration such funds for federal assistance as are necessary to supplement state and local efforts."

Civil defense officials have been in Kansas since yesterday surveying the damage, Hagerty said.

REQUEST BY HALL

Eisenhower acted after receiving a telegram from Hall saying that the community of Udall, Kan., and neighboring rural areas "were virtually destroyed" by a tornado.

Hall asked that the region be declared a disaster area to qualify it for federal aid.

Flood waters were rolling into tornado-devastated areas in Kansas today and the death count from killer twisters went far past the 100 mark.

Tornadoes have killed at least 122 persons in Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Missouri since they began their rampage through the nation's midsection Wednesday night.

UDALL TOTAL WRECK

Udall was a total wreck, wiped off the map by the worst tornado in Kansas history. Across the state line at stricken Blackwell, Okla., the rain-swollen Chickasaw River went over its banks, threatening homes which had escaped the tornado's fury.

EDEN VICTORY TURNS INTO LABOR PARTY ROUT

LONDON (UP)—Sir Anthony Eden's triumph over the Labor Party turned into a rout today when late returns from the general elections gave seat after seat in the House of Commons to his pro-American Conservative Party.

The Socialists failed even to hold their own when returns from the first 357 of the 630 constituencies were counted at end of yesterday's voting. Most of those seats were from Labor strongholds and the Socialists fell far short of their customary lead.

The heavily pro-Conservative country vote from the remaining 273 constituencies poured in today and began heading the Eden victory toward a landslide over British socialism.

At least a 70 seat majority was indicated for Eden in the House of Commons—a victory that would eclipse the past political triumphs of Sir Winston Churchill. Eden had only a slim 18-seat majority in the last House.

FRIENDSHIP ASSURED
The vote was a solid backing of the prime minister's policy of close friendship with the United States. The sharp swing to the right heavily dented the prestige of left-wing leader Aneurin Bevan. Two of his lieutenants were ousted from Parliament.

July Date Eyed for Road Plan

House Wants to Make Gas Tax Hike Effective as Soon as Possible

LANSING (AP)—Chances that the Legislature's highway program will go into effect in July appeared greater as a result of House action last night.

Rep. Emil Peltz (R-Rogers City), strongest opponent of the bill, moved to have it sent back to the House.

"The motion was made in good faith," explained Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston), Republican floor leader. "We want to get it back to give it immediate effect."

"I want to assure the House that I don't intend to amend the bill," Peltz said.

DELAY COSTLY

As it left the House, the bill would become effective in mid-October. Some lawmakers argue this will cost the state $13,000,000 in additional gas tax revenue.

The bill provides for a one-and-one-half cent-per gallon gas tax and a 10 per cent increase in the cost of truck licenses.

The additional money would be used to start construction on an arterial highway system involving interstate highways and specified state trunklines.

Miss Pontiac Semi-Finals Scheduled Here Tonight

A small but "outstanding" group of swimsuit-clad young ladies will parade across the stage of the Oakland Theater tonight at 9:30 in the semifinals of the 1955 Miss Pontiac contest.

Although there are only seven girls entered, contest chairman James A. Martin said the group was "really outstanding and one of the best we've had in years."

The judges will have to eliminate only two entrants tonight for the contest finale the evening of June 4. Miss Pontiac will be crowned at the King Brothers and Cole Brothers Circus which will be playing in Pontiac that day.

Miss Pontiac will vie for the Miss Michigan crown. If she captures that she will be entered in the Miss America contest.

Sponsored by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce, the contest will be judged by Earl A. Maxwell, personnel director, GMC Truck & Coach Division; James F. Spence, secretary-manager, Pontiac Manufacturers Assn.; Dr. George Petroff, physician; Mrs. Melvin C. McPherson, president, Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club; and Mary Ellen Wyngarden, of the Camp Fire Girls.

Instinct Turns Mother-to-Be Into Pupnaper

SAN PEDRO, Calif.—The maternal instinct has turned Lady, a miniature brindle boxer, to doll-stealing and puppy-napping.

The three-year-old pet of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Alvarado first stole the dolls of the Alvarados' daughter, Sandy, 7, and carried them around the house. She wouldn't let Sandy touch them.

Then, yesterday, Lady brought home four Doberman pinscher puppies. They are so young their eyes are just barely open. And Mrs. Alvarado can't find where they came from, either.

"What'll I do now?" she asked. "I've been all over the neighborhood and I can't find the owner."

The Alvarados figure Lady's crime spree will end soon. In two weeks, they said, she's due to have puppies of her own.

Auto Workers Getting Ready to Strike June 1

Employees Offered Ford Stock at Half Price and Severance Pay System

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

DETROIT—The CIO-United Auto Workers today flatly rejected a multi-billion dollar plan by Ford and General Motors for five more years of labor peace and prepared for a strike June 1.

The Ford offer, including provision for sale of Ford stock at half price to its 140,000 employees, was called by the company the most challenging and comprehensive in the history of the industry.

The UAW negotiating committee, however, call it "crumbs," ordered an emergency meeting of the National Ford Council tomorrow and ordered its locals to prepare for a walkout at 12:01 a.m. next Wednesday.

Key points in the Ford offer, in addition to the sale of stock, are a severance pay plan and a system whereby laid-off workers could borrow money, without interest, against future wages.

This was obviously as close as the company chose to come to the demand by CIO President Walter Reuther for a guaranteed annual wage.

Ford Vice President John S. Bugas said the offer "closely parallels" a secret proposal advanced by GM last week.

37 CENTS AN HOUR

Both packages were worth an estimated 37 cents an hour per worker and were known to hinge on five-year agreements.

Thus the union's rejection was taken to extend to GM, where the UAW contract expires a week after Ford's.

Other Ford benefits offered were:

An increase in pensions from the present maximum of $161 monthly, including social security, to a maximum of $188.50 for a 40-year employee.

A Ford employee's "income stabilization" plan which would enable workers with one-year seniority to receive cash advances during layoff periods. These loans would be made at no interest cost to employees and would be repayable on an employee's return to work if he works 32 or more hours a week.

Increases in the so-called "annual improvement factor" in the present five-year contract. These have provided employees a five-cent hourly wage increase each year to compensate for technological advances in the industry. These are unrelated to living costs, which would continue to govern wage rates for another five years.

HOURLY PAY BOOSTS
Hourly wage boosts of 5 to 10 cents an hour for certain skilled employees.

A seventh paid holiday, actually to be taken as two half-holidays on Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve.

Triple time for holidays except those involving workers in seven-day operations and in the steel division.

Increase in midnight shift premium from 7½ to 10 per cent, except in steel operations.

Time and a half for Saturday work as such, except on seven-day operations and in the steel division.

Increase in vacations from 2 to 2½ weeks for employees with 10 to 15 year's service.

Also included was a provision (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Wright Plans AF Academy

Famed Architect Says New School Designs Look Like 'Factory'

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (INS) — Internationally known architect Frank Lloyd Wright, in a copyrighted story published today in the Colorado Springs Free Press, described U. S. Air Force Academy designs as those of a "factory."

The newspaper quoted Wright as saying the 126-million-dollar academy to be constructed north of Colorado Springs—he called it "the place"—"will probably be known as (Air Force Secretary Harold) Talbot's Aviary or, more realistically, a factory for bird men."

Wright said in a letter to the Free Press the Academy plans look "as if another factory had moved in where it ought not to be."

The preview of the models, sketches and plans was billed as the architectural event of the century. Wright viewed the exhibit, his letter, as published in the Free Press, read in part:

MAKING A NICE MAN

"Talbot may be a nice man up to his job... but that would disqualify him from being a good judge of architects and architecture. The two are incompatible."

Wright's comment was his first since the Air Force Academy plans were made public. He last year headed Kittyhawk Associates, a group of architects bidding for the job of designing the nation's third military academy.

The famed architect also wrote that he understood the chapel was going to be "studied" another year. He added:

"I suggest 10 more (years) and then throw it away."

His opinion of the sawtooth-roofed chapel concurred with an earlier lay criticism by Colorado Gov. Ed Johnson.

CHAPEL AN 'INSULT'

Gov. Johnson outspokenly said the chapel plan was an "insult." He urged Secretary Talbot to have the designers make another try.

Wright's general observation of the Academy plans was summed up in a closing sentence:

"When the great art of architecture comes down to this sort of thing—what is the right name for such a violation of nature?"

Weekend Walkout at Straits Called Off

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Employees on the state ferries at the Straits of Mackinac agreed yesterday to send delegates to Lansing June 17 to discuss their wage demands with the state Civil Service Commission.

The ferry employees made their decision at two meetings. Those residing on the Lower Peninsula voted in the afternoon while those on the Upper Peninsula side voted last night.

Their action eliminated any possibility of a strike tying up the ferries during the Memorial Day weekend.

The 250 ferry employees previously had set Friday as a deadline for granting of demands.

The Civil Service Commission had announced it would not make any decision before June 17.

The workers asked for a raise retroactive to March 1 of either 30 cents an hour or time-and-one-half for Saturdays and double time for Sundays.

and Harry E. Bird, the county's chief civil defense communications officer, will act as the central nerve center for the giant operation. It will be set atop Bald Mountain and the unit will be fed by a powerful 5,000-watt civil defense generator.

TO DISPATCH MESSAGES

Relay messages will be dispatched immediately to radio station WPON which will in turn broadcast to motorists information about congested areas, accident points and re-routing of traffic.

The emergency cars will be identified in the front and rear with banners bearing "Red Cross Holiday Highway Patrol."

Meanwhile, State Police of Pontiac Post reported that all leaves were canceled and extra troopers would be added. Post Commander Melvin Will said reckless and drunk driving "definitely will not be tolerated."

Also adding to the extra police enforcement during the critical period, Lt. Joseph Koren, head of Pontiac Police traffic and accident bureau, said police reserves and "every available patrolman" will be called on duty to handle traffic on the heavily traveled streets.

MOTORISTS CAUTIONED

Undersheriff Elmer McQuern cautioned motorists about speeding and said deputies are instructed to jail drunk and reckless drivers. The sheriff's department, said McQuern, is putting every possible patrol car on 24-hour patrol duty.

Waterford Township Police Chief Frank J. Van Fatta warned motorists. "Speeding is strictly out. If some drivers don't realize that safety pays in saving lives on the roads, they may have to learn the lesson in jail."

The National Safety Council estimates that holiday weekend deaths will total 360 in the nation's traffic mishaps.

Some 40,000,000 vehicles traveling nearly 3,000,000,000 miles are expected on the highways for the long weekend, which is the traditional start to the summer holiday and vacation season.

Noting that 20 persons were killed in 19 accidents last Memorial Day weekend, Cyle R. Haskill, Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee chairman, said, "We are going to try to reduce that this year. But the final answer is the driver himself. It's up to the driver to save his life and others, too by driving sensibly."

UAW Snubs Plan Advanced by Ford

that upon mutual agreement between the company and employee, a separation allowance would be paid to an employee who is laid off permanently because of lack of work through no fault of his own.

This would give such a worker 40 hours' pay for each year of seniority up to eight years, and 80 hours' pay for each additional year up to 30.

Finally, broadened insurance benefits.

Bugs also said Ford would match any settlement made between GM and the UAW if that settlement is more favorable.

FORD LEADS WAY

Over the years, the Ford Motor Co. has been first in the auto industry with many major concessions to its employees.

Back on Jan. 5, 1914, the late Henry Ford initiated the five dollar a day wage. At that time, that was revolutionary.

Five years later, the six dollar daily wage was installed. That, too, rocked the labor-management world.

Then on Dec. 1, 1929, the daily pay was boosted to seven dollars. All this was in pre-union days.

On June 20, 1941, after a long and bitter strike, Ford signed its first contract with the CIO United Auto Workers. At the same time, Ford granted the UAW its first union shop at a "big three" company.

Ford's last major "first" in labor relations came on Sept. 28, 1949. At that time the UAW was granted the first major company-financed pension plan in the industry.

Waiting Period to Wed Reduced to Three Days

LANSING (AP)—Cupid got a break from the Legislature last night. The House passed and sent to Gov. Williams a bill cutting the wait for marriage licenses from five to three days.

Only man to speak against it was Rep. John J. Fitzpatrick (D-Detroit) who said he didn't think five days was too long in which to consider the important step of marriage.

Eisenhower said: "The persons permitted to enter the country under the program will make a fine contribution to the body of your citizens. And we shall again reaffirm that they bear tradition of sanctuary lives in America."

Ponder Protest of Salk Handling

Women's Clubs May Demand Better Plans for Future Discoveries

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Alarmed by confusion over the Salk polio vaccine, the General Federation of Women's Clubs today is considering a resolution demanding better advance planning when future medical discoveries of prime importance are announced.

The resolution asks that research scientists, manufacturers, distributors and governmental agencies work together untiringly to assure a safe, effective plan of use of medical discoveries.

Failure to do so brings confusion, lack of confidence and heartbreak to the families of America, the resolution says in noting that research is under way seeking the cause, prevention and cure of many other ailments and diseases.

"At any moment may come announcements which are comparable in importance to that of the discovery of the Salk polio vaccine formula with its inestimable values," it said.

PUBLIC LAMED

The resolution notes that American people are eager for knowledge of any discovery that promises release from anxiety concerning a dread disease and are impatient at any delay in its instant use.

This, the resolution continues, may cause them to bring great pressure for immediate results that might be disastrous. Therefore the people are urged to school themselves to await patiently every possible test of the discoveries' safety and effectiveness.

The resolution is sponsored by Mrs. Walter V. Magee, Lakewood, Ohio, chairman of the Community Affairs Department, and Mrs. Harold V. Milligan, New York, chairman of the Health Division. It has the endorsement of the Resolutions Committee.

Gen. Carlos Romulo, Philippine ambassador to the United Nations, in addressing the federation's convention last night told the clubwomen grave events that affect their lives are taking place in Asia.

ASIA IGNORED

He said Asia has too long been ignored. "While your attention was riveted on Europe, you woke up to find that Russia had conquered China."

He urged that it not be forgotten that Lenin wrote that the road to London and Paris is through Peking and Calcutta, meaning, Romulo went on, that Soviet Russia to conquer the world first must conquer Asia.

He said the aim of Soviet strategy is to integrate the industrial areas of North Korea and Manchuria into industrial Russia. "That is a very great danger," Romulo continued.

"The Pacific Ocean no longer affords you the protection it did 10 years ago," he said. "Modern technology eliminated the Pacific Ocean."

Romulo recommended this country should get to know Asia better — "Make Asians friends and allies." He has recently returned from the Bandung conference and events there showed, he went on, that the West has friends in the East.

The Day in Birmingham

Three Candidates Will Vie in School Election June 13

BIRMINGHAM — Three candidates, one an incumbent, will run for two vacancies in the June 13 Birmingham School Board election while the Bloomfield Hills Board of election will be a token affair with only two candidates entered for two vacancies.

One of the Birmingham board vacancies was created by Mrs. Louis Sappington who has decided not to seek re-election after 11 years as a board member. The second vacancy is the seat held by Amos F. Gregory. He will be seeking re-election to a fourth term.

Candidates who will compete for the vacancies in addition to Gregory include Mrs. Peter B. Loomis and John Nahabedian.

Shoo-in candidates entered for the two vacancies on the Bloomfield Hills board are Karl E. Scott and Robert H. Hoffman. The terms are for three years.

The vacancies will result when Robert Sadler ends two terms on the board and Mrs. Rita Mackenzie leaves after three terms.

The Bloomfield Hills City Commission last night adopted a budget of $171,500 for the 1955-56 fiscal year.

The budget is $26,170 more than for the current fiscal year but will cause no hike in the city's tax rate, according to Robert J. Stadler, city clerk.

Accounting for the increase was a general hike in salaries of city employees and a larger appropriation for road improvements, he said.

Mrs. Fred Brock, Bloomfield Hills, will serve as instructor for a Red Cross orientation course beginning next Wednesday. Volunteers for future Gray Lady or nurses' aid positions will receive two hours credit by taking the course.

The Birmingham Chamber of Commerce has moved its office from 350 E. Maple to 124 S. Woodward. The office will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and from 9 to noon Saturdays.

MRA Group Meets on Mackinac Island

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — The World Assembly of Moral Re-orientation opened here yesterday. It will continue through June 5.

Dr. Frank N. D. Buchman, founder of the MRA, has arrived and more than 300 of 1,500 anticipated delegates were on hand to greet him.

When the assembly ends, 160 chosen spokesmen, artists, actors and others will leave for a tour of Asia and the Middle East to stress the belief that a "moral ideology," as contrasted with a Communist "materialistic ideology," is the answer to establishment of peace and friendship.

MRA believes that if mankind will meet problems with personal integrity, complete honesty and unselfishness, under the guidance of God—regardless of what name each individual uses for his God—then mankind can solve his problems instead of muddling from one crisis to another.

Coffin of First Governor Being Dug Up in Detroit

DETROIT—The coffin of Stevens T. Mason, Michigan's first governor, today will be disinterred by workmen renovating Capitol Park in Detroit.

The coffin of the state's so-called "boy governor," will be stored at the county morgue until a new grave is dug for it in another area of the park.

The current major face-lifting of the park includes the shifting of a bronze statue of Mason to another site within the area at Griswold and State. The statue stands atop the coffin.

Hunt 'Davy Crockett' in Theft of $96.07

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The boy was wearing one of those new Davy Crockett T-shirts but he was a far cry from the real Davy.

The youngster, about 12, approached a department store counter and asked Mrs. Frances Gromovsky, the saleslady, where he could get a hunting knife.

Mrs. Gromovsky directed him to another floor. The boy then saw her pick up two clothbound bags and offered to carry them for her.

Okay, she said, and they started walking down the hall. But then the boy suddenly wasn't there — "he disappeared into thin air," said Mrs. Gromovsky.

Missing: $96.07. It was Mrs. Gromovsky's receipts for the day and she was preparing to turn the money over to the store cashier.

During World War II, U.S. munitions was about 45 per cent of the total of all belligerent nations on both sides.

'Worse Than Could Have Happened'

Death and Debris in Udall Shock Helping Patrolman

(Editor's Note: Patrolman John Nail from the Sedgewick County Sheriff's Office (Wichita, Kan.) was one of the first persons to arrive on the scene in tornado-battered Udall, Kan., shortly after the town was struck. In the following story he tells of the horrifying scene of destruction that he saw.)

By PATROLMAN JOHN NAIL

UDALL, Kan. (INS) — I got to Udall about 45 minutes after the tornado hit the town and the first thing I thought was "My God, the whole town is flattened."

It was about 1 o'clock this morning and pretty dark, but I could still see the dead and the injured laying around.

There was debris all over. We heard cries for help, but there was no panic. I think the people were just too shocked to do anything hysterical.

To say it was a horrible sight is putting it mildly.

I saw people mangled to bits. One boy had been smashed up against a tree. We couldn't find his head. His arms and chest were gone and there was a 2x4-inch board right through the lower part of his body.

NOTHING LIKE IT

I've never seen anything like it. Many of the bodies were stripped of all clothing.

Udall couldn't have been more leveled had a bulldozer gone on a rampage through the town. I counted only two buildings on the fringe of town left standing.

A big grain elevator was demolished and there wasn't anything left of the railroad station.

All the sidewalks were torn up and the cars were stacked up like pancakes.

There was no electricity in the town and we went in there with searchlights to look for the injured and dead.

CITIZENS HELPED

Even though they had been through this terrible experience, those Udall citizens who were able to help joined us.

As we rounded up the injured, the ambulances began picking them up and took them to hospitals in Wichita, Winfield, Wellington and a makeshift hospital at the high school in Mulvane.

As the toll of victims mounted and the injured were taken to the hospitals, I thought to myself:

"This is something absolutely worse than could have ever happened."

Dow Begins Making Glycerin Coagulant

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP) — Dow Chemical Co., has begun making glycerin, a new coagulant, and latex paint for outdoor uses.

The big firm, with huge properties at Midland, plans to spend 25 million dollars for expansion in this area and is testing 97 proposed new operations. Many involve new plastic products.

The new product and plans for the future were discussed yesterday by top officials of the firm at a news conference.

Glycerin is being made at Freeport, Texas, to meet consumer demands and a market shortage, they said.

The plant will make 30 million pounds a year.

Millford Students Now May Apply for Aptitude Tests

MILFORD—Applications for the Gaty aptitude tests are now being taken at Millford High School, according to Erwin Johnson, principal.

These tests are taken at 142 Wayne St. in Pontiac to determine which field of occupation a student is best suited for, and advisers at the center consult with the applicant to help him select the right course of study.

This aptitude test is conducted by the State Civil Service Commission, and anyone interested in the tests may take them any time, Johnson said.

Schools all over Oakland County are being advised of this important service, and encouraged to take advantage of the tests, Johnson added.

'Past Deadline for Withdrawal'

Committee Head Denies Right of 14 Candidates to Refuse to Run

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP—Mrs. Virginia M. Solberg, secretary for the Madison Heights charter election committee and chairman of the election committee, stated today that there was no foundation to the stories that 14 of the 27 candidates had withdrawn their names from the ballot for the coming June 7 election.

All names will appear on the ballot, because the deadline for officially withdrawing has passed, she said.

Mrs. Solberg said that 14 had applied for withdrawal to Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen, who had no authority in the matter.

When asked about the controversial "void ballot" provision, she quoted directly from the charter: "If you vote no against the charter, do not vote for any candidate for office. Ballots containing a 'no' vote on the proposed charter and votes for candidates for the city council listed on the ballot, will be counted as void."

Mrs. Solberg is herself a candidate for the city council. Whether the charter provision voiding ballots which show a vote for council members and opposition to the charter is legal is a question.

Two legal consultants of the area to be incorporated could not agree on its legality yesterday.

Hal Boyle Says:

This 'Girl Watching' Has Got to Go

NEW YORK (AP)—Has the American working girl become too attractive? Is her eye appeal so irresistible that her male coworkers in office, store or factory have difficulty keeping their minds on their jobs? Wouldn't it make for more efficiency in the business world if the glamorous working girl were turned back again into a Plain Jane, perhaps by making her wear a standard uniform?

To many of us thoughtful students of the industrial scene the answer to all these questions is a stern and simple "Yes!" In the interest of a greater productive output, it is high time we did something to make working girls look nondescript, if not downright repulsive.

Girl watching has become a major disrupting factor in the average firm—so girl watching must go!

Let me explain: Take an ordinary small office. Tillie the typist is dressed as chic, and made up as pretty, as a Hollywood starlet.

Every time Tillie steps out of the boss's office to go to the water cooler she passes the desk of Walter Beaver, the junior executive.

Walter glances up. His eyes follow her trim figure to the water cooler. They stay with her all the way until she trips back and disappears into the boss's office. So do the eyes of two young male clerks and the old bookkeeper.

What are these four men thinking of? One cannot be sure, of course, but it is reasonable to assume they aren't brooding about how to make more money for their employer. Their minds have been distracted from their tasks. And this doesn't happen once a day. It happens a dozen times—every time Tillie winks. How often the boss finds his own mind wandering when he looks at Tillie is his own secret. But after all he is human, too.

What happens in this one small office is duplicated in every other business establishment in America.

Now girl watching, while it is undoubtedly habitforming, isn't a bad thing in itself. Many men report they find it quite relaxing. But a man should do it in his free hours. He has no right to do it on company time. It is basically unfair to his employer.

Just how important a problem is this? Well, from a random sampling of evidence, we have reached the conclusion that 40 million American men spend a half hour on the job each day staring at a pretty working girl. This means that 20 million hours—or 228 years—are frittered away every single working day in this pleasant but nonproductive pastime.

Think how the great American industrial machine would leap forward if all these wasted hours could be put to a productive use. We'd all live better.

What can be done about it? There is no point in employers' pasting signs on a bulletin board saying: "Male employees will cease and desist from looking at the female help during working hours." That won't work.

Girl watching, once a fellow falls into the habit (and most fellows do), becomes an unconscious thing. A fellow can't help it.

The real answer is to make the American working girl so unattractive that watching her is no longer fun. Girls never in history looked more unattractive than they did in an old-fashioned gym class a couple of generations ago.

There's your clue. American employers simply should band together and issue a flat rule that all working girls, no matter what their job, should remove all makeup, wear their hair in a bun on top, and don a uniform consisting of flat shoes, black cotton stockings, black bloomers, and a dark blue middie.

The girls might rebel at first, but in time they'd probably learn to enjoy working in such a uniform. They say bloomers are really quite cool and comfortable.

But they aren't much to look at. In a week girl watching on company time would become a vanished art.

Anybody against this whole idea?

House Slashes Agency Budgets

Appropriations Group Cuts 21 Per Cent From Administration Request

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee has cut 21 per cent from the money requested by President Eisenhower for four federal agencies.

Percentage-wise, this was the largest cut made by the committee this year on a regular appropriation bill, but the reduction amounted to only $5,810,000 in cash since the agencies' budgets are relatively small.

The committee's action was taken on a bill to finance the President's own office, the American Battle Monuments Commission, the Subversive Activities Control Board and the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission in the bookkeeping year starting July 1. The House will consider the bill next Tuesday.

No reduction was made in four items directly affecting the President. These included $150,000 required to pay the chief executive's salary and expenses, $2,055,500 to operate the White House office, $366,200 for White House "house-keeping" expenses, and a million dollars for the President's emergency fund.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers, which sought $340,000, was given $325,000. The Office of Defense Mobilization, a White House agency, was given $2,125,000 of the $2,220,000 it requested.

The American Battle Monuments Commission, which sought $5,420,000, was given $3,920,000. The committee said the cut would not retard the construction program of the commission, which operates military cemeteries and memorials in this country and abroad.

The entire $300,000 requested to finance the Subversive Activities Control Board was approved. The board makes decisions in cases involving charges of Communist affiliation of organizations.

For payment of claims of prisoners of war and civilian internees growing out of the Korean conflict, the committee recommended eight million dollars, a cut of $4,200,000. It authorized payments of similar World War II claims from funds already available.

Says Straits Span Will Be Greatest Bridge in World

DETROIT — "Without any doubt," says the chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, the 100 million dollar span which will link Michigan's two peninsulas "will be the greatest bridge in the world."

Prentiss M. Brown, the chairman and a former U. S. Senator, made his assertion recently in an address to the Detroit Historical Society. The bridge is going up across the Straits of Mackinac.

"There are longer bridges," Brown conceded, "and there is one (California's Golden Gate) which has a greater span between its two main towers."

"But there is no other suspension bridge with both of its feet in deep water, and none that has a greater suspension system from anchor block to anchor block."

HAS NO EQUAL

"It is possible that in the future a greater bridge may be conceived and built," he added, "but nothing in the history of the world can match this project."

Brown said construction of the 5-mile span is on schedule and it should be completed by November, 1957. Work started over a year ago.

He said steel framework for the two central towers will begin to rise about June 15.

"The towers," he continued, "will stand above the water exactly as high as the Penobscot Building—tallest in Detroit. The height is 552 feet."

Brown predicted that all six towers of the suspension system will be completed this summer and catwalks strung over them where tremendous steel cables will go later.

The cables, each containing 12,000 wires almost as large as a man's finger, will be spun near the bridge site.

MORE SOLID

Brown said the four-lane bridge will be much more solid than a two-lane one which was proposed in 1938 at an estimated cost of 24 to 33 million dollars.

"Such a (two-lane) bridge would be entirely inadequate today," he said.

The authority, "disturbed" over collapse of the Puget Sound Bridge at Tacoma, Wash., "hired as one of our engineers the man who re-built it," Brown said.

Brown traced the history of a Straits bridge proposal, which he said first was voiced in 1882 by the Traverse City Record-Eagle.

Then in a jocular mood, he asked: "Who wants a job?" He explained there will be two elevators in the main towers of the bridge to carry service crews to the top, "and we'll need two elevator operators."

Ten Hours Per Week?

KOKOMO, Ind. — Things may be different in another 25 years if you can hold out that long. Dr. J. Hart Walsh, dean of education at Butler University in Indianapolis, told the Rotary Club the work week may be only 5 to 10 hours by 1980.

TOP NAVY JOB—Rear Admiral Arleigh A. Burke, above, was nominated May 25 by President Eisenhower to be Chief of Naval Operations, succeeding Admiral Robert B. Carney. Carney recently was the center of a controversy over the likelihood of a Communist attack in the Formosa area.

Hams' Auto Plates Really Fouled Up

ATLANTA — Someone hammed up the hams so—those strange looking auto license plates issued to amateur radio operators look even stranger than usual. These special plates—which cost the ham $1 extra—are made up of the operator's call letters, like "W4BIW."

This year while the plates were being made at a state prison, someone used inverted M's instead of W's in about half the places. W's were called for.

An upside-down M is too wide at the bottom and generally not nearly so graceful as a proper W. Particularly unhappy are those who have plates on which both an inverted M and a regular W appear. That just makes the topsy-turvy M look worse.

Helps You Overcome FALSE TEETH Looseness and Worry

No longer be annoyed or feel ill-at-ease because of loose, wobbly false teeth. FASTEETH, an improved alkaline (non-acid) powder, sprinkled on your plates holds them firmer so they feel more comfortable. Avoid embarrassment caused by loose plates. Get FASTEETH today at any drug counter.

KEEGO HARBOR—The new city of Keego Harbor approved its first budget last night at a public hearing in the city offices in the Roan Building. Councilmen gave their OK to a $54,390 figure to take care of the city's expenses for a period ending June 30, 1956.

Expected revenues to operate the city break down into the following: Sales and intangibles taxes, $21,590; gas and weight tax, $16,000; police fines, permits and licenses, $3,600; liquor licenses, $2,000; miscellaneous, $200.

The balance of $11,000 would be raised from a proposed general property tax of 6 1/2 mills.

It was reported at the meeting that dirt roads in the city were graded and received the first coating of chloride this week. The process will be repeated three more times during the summer. Currently the city is paying Oakland County to maintain the roads.

A proposed traffic ordinance has been drafted and will be presented to the council at a later meeting. It also was announced that Police Chief Calvin Baxter will take office on June 1.

Meeting time for the council has been changed to the first Tuesday of each month, at 8 p.m. Formerly the governing body met on Thursday nights.

Next meeting is scheduled for June 7.

Residents of Troy Assured No Water Shortage Exists

TROY TOWNSHIP—Troy officials have reassured residents that there is no water shortage in the township, and at the same time challenged the South Oakland County Water Authority's right to furnish water to the proposed Vickers Corp. plant at Crooks and 15 Mile Road.

In a letter to residents, Supervisor Norman R. Barnard said, "There are no shortages of water in the area we serve, you may use as much water as you need for domestic and sanitary purposes."

"You may even water your lawns and gardens, provided you display the same neighborly consideration so evident during last year's dry spell," Barnard said.

Many south Oakland County cities have imposed sprinkling restrictions on their residents, to curtail the use of water during heavy demand times.

"We expect peak demand periods to express themselves in very hot, dry weather when people want more water for drinking, sprinkling, and other purposes. And we expect you will be careful and considerate when peak demands hit us again this year," the supervisor stated.

He cautioned against the waste of water through leaky faucets and lines.

Township officials have notified the Water Authority that serving the Bickers Corp. plant would be illegal, unless approved by the township.

The township has a 1950 ordinance on its books prohibiting "any person, firm or corporation from competing with the township in furnishing water to any area within its corporate limits."

The Water Authority has approved furnishing water to the building.

The fifth member will be selected by the county superintendent of school's office.

This group will decide on the payment that Clawson must make to acquire the school. Members will base their findings on a survey conducted by Kenneth W. Brown, assistant county superintendent of schools.

Now's Time to Start Thinking About Role Played by Wedding Guests

June Traditionally Brings Invitations to Many Rites

By MARILYN SHEARER

Since June is a popular month for weddings, it seems that this is an appropriate time to start thinking about festivities and rules of etiquette which concern the guests.

When you receive an engraved invitation to a church ceremony, do you know that an answer is not required? However, if you are invited to both the ceremony and reception, or to the reception alone, an answer is usually requested and must be sent.

Although the answer is, of course, not engraved, it follows the form of the engraved invitation. It is written on personal writing paper and must be written by hand.

A similar form of reply is sent when you are unable to attend the ceremony or reception. If one cannot accept the invitation, it is polite to stress the kindness of those who have sent the invitation.

ANSWER BY LETTER

Invitations to small weddings should be answered by letter, although you need not follow any set or formal pattern.

After you have received your invitation and made your reply, the first thing usually considered is the wedding present you may want to give to the couple.

A wedding present is not an obligation for each guest who accepts an invitation to the wedding or reception.

If you do wish to give a present to the couple there is no end to the items which are available. Silverware, china, crystal and linens are among the popular gifts, but there are also many attractive and practical household objects made of wood and copper.

In buying wooden gifts the first point to consider is the rule. "Avoid pretentious decoration or carving." Some wooden bowls and trays have simple peasant carving which is charming. The second rule to consider is a practical one, "Avoid wood with a shellacked surface which may peel or blister."

ARRIVE ON TIME

When the day of the wedding rolls around, budget your time before the wedding so you will arrive at the church on time. No guests should be seated in the church after the bride's mother has taken her place.

Guests at the wedding should wait at the back of the church until an usher comes to escort them to their seats. If the guest is a woman the usher will offer her his right arm.

A man guest does not take the usher's arm, but walks beside him. When couples arrive together, the woman takes the usher's arm and the man follows behind, unaccompanied.

If a guest who arrives at a reception is a stranger to the rest of the guests, the bride's mother, as hostess, should delegate a friend or member of the family to introduce him to a few of the other guests.

If she fails to do this, the stranger may talk to other guests who look congenial. But, as a rule, a guest who arrives at a wedding reception as a total stranger leaves shortly after going through the receiving line.

NO NEED TO STAY

The point of going to the church, not difficult to do by oneself, is to witness the ceremony. The point of going to the reception is to greet the families of the bride and bridegroom, and to wish the newly wedded couple good luck. There is no need to stay after this has been done.

Friends who stay until the reception is over gather outside the church to see the couple off on their wedding trip. The guests shower the couple with confetti and rice which is thrown up in the air so it can shower on the couple.

The throwing of rice is one of the oldest of all wedding customs. Rice is the symbol of fertility and for thousands of years has been used at weddings to wish the couple the blessing of "many sons."

In the raccoon-coat-and-rumbl-seat days of the 1920s, it was very much the fashion to decorate the "going-away" car with signs reading, "Just married." Old shoes and tin cans were tied on long strings to the back bumper by the ushers.

Nowadays, after a wedding in a big city, it is more usual to tie only one old shoe, for luck, to the back bumper and let it go at that.

ROBERTA MARIE WEDDLE

Mr. and Mrs. Bert E. Weddle of Oxley drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Roberta Marie, to Neuton Henry McCandless, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. McCandless of Lenox avenue. She is a graduate of Northwestern University. He was graduated from Ferris Institute. They will be married Aug. 6.

Dinty Seibert Becomes Bride of Daniel Crawford

A gown reminiscent of the late 19th Century was worn by Dinty Seibert for her marriage to Daniel Crawford.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Seibert of Cameron avenue and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Crawford of Birmingham.

Narrow borders of val-type lace were designed in the molded bodice of the gown and the belled skirt was fashioned of nylon tulle, encircled by bands of lace.

The bridal flowers were white roses and an orchid carried with a prayerbook.

BIRMINGHAM RITE

The 4 o'clock wedding ceremony was performed Sunday by the Rev. Theodore Wuggazer in Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Birmingham.

Rose Seibert attended the bride as maid of honor and Marlene Crawford of Birmingham was a bridesmaid. They wore orchid gowns and carried arrangements of peach roses.

Cynthia Bussard wore a green dress and carried peach roses for her duties as flower girl.

David Longworth of Chelsea served as best man. Seating the guests were Jerry Adrean of Franklin and Jack Crawford.

RECEPTION FOLLOWS

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church parlors. The bride's mother wore a blue lace dress with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother chose a pink dress with matching accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

The newlyweds are making their home in Birmingham.

Metallic Towels

Metallic yarns lend a new look to towels. A wide strip is done in gold on pink, honey, white, green, chocolate, black, aqua. The towels may be washed at high temperature.

Ball Patrons Announced by Sorority

Members of Alpha Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority are announcing patrons for their annual summer ball to be held June 4 at Westacres Country Club. Music for the dance will be provided by a local orchestra and decorations will follow an under water theme. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the chapter.

Among the patrons invited to attend are the Floyd Levitts, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Perkins, the Leslie Palmers, the Donald Featherstones of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hruska.

Others are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gaudier Jr. of Birmingham, Dr. and Mrs. George Petroff, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giroux, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Bergeron, the Theodore Johnsons, Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Worster, the George Olivers and the Melvin Brims.

Picnic Planned for Youngsters

Smaller children at Oakland County Children's Home can look forward to June 13, the day that junior high school girls in the Stata Club have planned to take them on a picnic.

Plans for the affair were started when members met recently at the James K boulevard home of Myrla Henry.

A new constitution was also approved. The document was drawn up by Sharon Holland, president, and Lynne Benter, recording secretary.

They received the help of Judy and Mary Inman.

On Tuesday, the club will meet with Gail Blamy of West Iroquois road. Sponsor of the group is Mrs. Basil E. Brown.

Physical Therapist Softens Men of Stone

Panic-Stricken War Veterans Responding to 'Kindness' Treatment

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (INS)—In the Veterans Administration mental hospital victims of three wars sit and stare, men of stone who have not smiled or spoken a word in years.

These are the "catatonics," the most pathetic of all mental cases, who suffer from an illness characterized by stupor and incoherence. And until recently, they were the most neglected.

A new program for curing them is being tried out at the Chillicothe VA hospital and the results are so promising the program may soon be expanded to all 37

VA institutions throughout the country.

Men who have been "hopeless" catatonics for years—frozen into statues by fear—are responding to the new treatment in a few weeks.

SOME ARE CURED

Of 72 such cases in an experimental group, 45 have been moved from locked wards to "privilege" wards, and nine will be ready for discharge not long after Memorial Day.

They have been under treatment less than a year.

In previous years these men have had the most drastic treatment to neuropsychiatry—electric shock or removal of part of the brain—without result. Today they are responding to treatment as old as humanity—kindness, patience and affection.

The man who has developed the technique, Paul Roland, has no degrees in medicine or psychology. He is a physical therapist who simply found out how to get through to the men inside the masks. Now the VA is putting its best psychologists to work to figure out why Roland gets the results he does.

MAN IS IN PANIC

The biggest obstacle, Roland says, is winning the confidence of a man who appears to have lost all contact with the world. But inside, Roland explained, the man is in a panic. The fear may have originated with battle fatigue, or simply accumulated over a period of time to the snapping point.

The victim withdraws into a world of his own. Many of the men have been that way since World War I, others since World War II or the Korean War. In mental institutions they are often pushed aside because attendants figure "they don't know the difference anyhow." Actually they do, and are highly sensitive to how they are treated.

Roland may begin by just sitting quietly with the man for an hour each day. One day the patient will let Roland touch his arm, and before long he submits to physical therapy.

The rub-down relaxes the hypertense muscles which hold him in rigid postures for hours at a time, and after a while he may answer a question, like "What is your name?" or "What day of the week is this?"

REHABILITATION FAST

Once the ice is broken, his rehabilitation moves rapidly.

The attendant is with him for hours at a time, praising every effort he makes to speak, gently prodding him to fit pegs in round holes on a board. Gradually his interest can be focused on more complex things. When he agrees to take simple gymnastics with other patients, the first seeds of social integration are sown.

COLLECTING STAMPS—5

Marines Raise The Flag

As World War II was drawing to a close in 1945, the Post Office Department began issuing a series of stamps honoring the heroic deeds of the Armed Forces.

Five three-cent stamps were issued.

The first, and perhaps foremost, of the stamps was the Marine Corps stamp. The design incorporated the famed picture of the Marines raising the flag on Mt. Surabachi, Iwo Jima. It was based on the photograph by Associated Press photographer Joe Rosenthal.

The Army stamp shows a parade of GIs marching down the streets of Paris under the Arch de Triomphe. Air Force planes fly above.

The Coast Guard stamp showed an invasion barge heading for the beach with an assault transport in the background.

The Merchant Marine stamp showed a Liberty ship being loaded at a pier.

To complete the drawing of the Iwo Jima picture, above, apply natural colors with crayons. Save it for your stamp hobby book.
