OK Bids on Public Safety Building

6 Win Contracts to Erect, Equip New Structure

Boost Early Estimates by $49,401 as Officials Approve Builders

Bids totaling $49,401 more than the estimated $750,000 for the new Public Safety Building were unanimously approved last night by the City Commission.

The city had estimated $750,000 for the proposed building but accepted a combined six-section bid of $799,401 for the edifice which will contain police headquarters and jail, plus municipal court offices.

The general architectural trades contract was awarded to J. A. Fredman, Inc., of Pontiac. The bid was $556,665.

The contract for mechanical trades was won by Jack Skitch of Royal Oak who bid $134,199 with the understanding that the proposed pistol range, a boiler and air conditioning for the building be eliminated.

City Manager Walter K. Willman told the commissioners the work could be completed in 1957 at the estimated low bid with the jail section included, or the contract could be awarded without the jail, lowering the cost considerably.

He added that the amount of $49,401 approached what the city paid the county for use of the Oakland County jail and for transporting prisoners to it.

Willman said $575,000 could be made available this year with the balance coming from 1957 funds.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles questioned whether the present two-boiler system at the City Hall could not be used for the new building thus eliminating the one boiler to be installed.

Leo J. Heenan, architect for the building, along with Willman, explained that this would not be

Restore Dems' 49-47 Margin in U.S. Senate

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—The Democratic 49-47 margin in the U. S. Senate was restored yesterday when Gov. William C. Marland appointed William R. Laird III to temporarily fill the seat of the late Harley M. Kilgore.

He will serve until a successor is elected in November and sworn in next January.

Committee Offers 'Hints' in Solving Aviation Debate

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — With tongue in cheek, a group of Traverse City citizens known as the Downtown Affairs of the Nation Committee has offered a solution to the jet base squabble in northern Michigan.

* * *

First, the committee said in a statement yesterday, the Air Force should remove one of the Navy's airplane carriers from mothballs and base it in Lake Michigan. Then the carrier should be rotated each week among four counties competing for the jet installation, basing it first on Sheep or Pine Creek in Manistee County, the Platte or Betsei Rivers in Benzie County, Torch Lake or Petobego Swamp in Antrim County and finally on Lake Mitchell near Cadillac.

* * *

As an alternative, the committee suggested that the Air Force build bases in all four counties and then take turns occupying each base. This, they said, should satisfy members of Congress who are trying to obtain the base for their own congressional districts.

Eden Defends Deportation of Archbishop Makarios

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Eden today defended the deportation of Archbishop Makarios of Cyprus, and said the only pledge Britain ever sought from the archbishop was a word from him denouncing terrorism.

Eden spoke in the House of Commons after British feelings had been ruffled by what some of the British press called American "meddling" in the Cyprus issue.

Feelings were roiled by a declaration of "sympathetic concern" to the Greek government yesterday by U. S. Ambassador Cavendish Cannon.

The Foreign Office indicated today that officials were mollified by a later U. S. State Department stand that it was taking no sides and was offering to help find a "fair and just solution."

The Foreign Office said it had "no criticism to make" of that State Department policy.

Cannon expressed to the Greeks, who want to annex the restive island, "the sympathetic concern of the U.S. government over recent developments in Cyprus." The statement was the target of furious attacks in almost all British newspapers. Most of them viewed the envoy's remarks as outright meddling.

There was an hour-long discussion today of the United States position on Cyprus by U.S. Ambassador Winthrop Aldrich and Minister of State Anthony Nutting.

Meanwhile, in Cyprus pro-Greek terrorists shot and killed a British police sergeant and seriously wounded a Cypriot policeman today in the heart of Nicosia.

A Greek civilian bystander was wounded slightly by the two bursts of automatic gunfire which rattled through a main street of the British island colony's capital gripped by a general strike for the fourth day.

Terrorists also set fire to a school at the village of Karavas where a huge American radio monitoring station listens to broadcasts from behind the Iron Curtain. The school was gutted.

Man Acquitted in Dixie Killing

Mississippian Is Freed in Shotgun Slaying of 33-Year-Old Negro

SUMNER, Miss. (AP)—Elmer Otis Kimbell was acquitted of murder late yesterday in the shotgun slaying of a 33-year-old Negro.

"I wasn't sure justice would be done," said the 35-year-old white Glendora cotton gin operator, "but I should have known."

A 12-man, all-white jury, made up mostly of farmers, deliberated more than four hours before freeing Kimbell.

Two witnesses testified they saw Kimbell blast Clinton Melton three times with a shotgun Dec. 3 at a Glendora service station.

Witnesses said the shooting was an aftermath of an argument between Kimbell and Melton over gasoline to be put into Kimbell's car. Kimbell testified that Melton cursed him during the argument.

Defense Atty. J. W. Kellum said Kimbell fired the fatal shots in self-defense. Kimbell said three shots were fired at him before he opened fire, one wounding him in the shoulder. He showed a scar and brought in a doctor who verified the gunshot wound.

But neither Lee McGarrh, white owner of the service station, nor George Woodson, Negro who said he witnessed the slaying, said they saw or heard Melton fire.

Hospital Wing Bonds Approved by Commission

Seek State Approval of $2,900,000 Issue for Addition

The City Commission last night unanimously approved the issuance of $2,900,000 worth of general obligation bonds to finance the addition to Pontiac General Hospital.

The figure is $100,000 below the original $3,000,000 estimate because bonds in this amount have become void because their retirement date will have been reached before the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission gives approval to the issuance of the bonds.

In another resolution passed by the commissioners, Director of Finance Oscar Eckman was authorized to make application to the Lansing financial group for permission to issue the bonds.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the deduction of $100,000 would be compensated for from $105,000 authorized in the 1955 city budget.

Between Nov. 2, 1954 when Pontiac voters approved the bond act, and expected state approval, the retirement date of April 1, 1956 is expected to be passed, making the $100,000 worth of bonds void, Willman said.

He stated that after approval by the Municipal Finance Commission, the bonds will be advertised for sale after bids are taken.

Dawson Admits Larceny Count

Former Auto Dealer Enters Plea of Guilty Prior to Trial

Former Lake Orion auto dealer David P. Dawson, 32, pleaded guilty to larceny by conversion today just before his trial was to begin in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Dawson was arrested last June 23 on a warrant obtained by the Universal CIT Credit Corp. which bought vehicles from the factory for sale by the dealer who was to return the wholesale price to CIT.

The firm claimed Dawson owed them $87,146, although $28,862 was specifically claimed in the warrant. It alleged the dealer had sold four sedans, three station wagons, nine trucks and one tractor between Oct. 27, 1954 and May 18, 1955, without paying CIT for them.

Besides larceny by conversion, Dawson was charged with embezzlement and concealing mortgaged property. The last two counts were dismissed today, said Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Dawson is free on $7,500 bond pending sentence April 9 by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams. Larceny by conversion can bring up to five years in prison or a $2,500 fine.

BIG SMILE — Vice President Richard Nixon smiles broadly as he poses in Washington today as President Eisenhower told his news conference he would be happy to have Nixon on any political ticket with him.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson says Vice President Nixon is the best man the Republicans can offer as a running mate to President Eisenhower.

Wilson indicated his vice presidential preference in a question-and-answer exchange yesterday after he had addressed the National Press Club.

"I am sure that I know the vice president better than any possible candidate who would do as well," he said.

Wilson said flatly that he himself is not a candidate for Nixon's post and that "it doesn't sound right to me" to dump Nixon, a move some political informants say is developing.

Wilson replied simply "yes" when asked whether he expects to be Secretary of Defense under the next President.

He also said he doesn't think he "would be in character as Defense Secretary" to make any campaign speeches for President Eisenhower.

Heavy Snowfall Seen by Tonight by Weatherman

The weatherman is predicting a heavy snow by late afternoon with an accumulation of 2-5 inches. The forecast for tonight is colder with a low of 18-22.

High tomorrow will be near 30 degrees with occasional snow flurries. The outlook for Friday is mostly cloudy and continued rather cold with a chance of additional snow.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 29 degrees. The thermometer registered 32 at 2 p.m.

Irish Premier Arrives With Shamrocks for Ike

He brought an antique Irish silver bowl, filled with shamrocks, to give the President.

Annexation Is Topic at Waterford Session

A panel group will discuss the advantages and disadvantages of Waterford township annexation to Pontiac tonight, in an 8 p.m. meeting at the Waterford Township High School gymnasium.

A question and answer period is scheduled to follow the discussion.

The meeting follows an earlier discussion of incorporation of the township area. The two sessions have been sponsored jointly by the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the Waterford Township Business and Professional Women's Assn.

Georgi Off to Britain

MOSCOW (AP)—Georgi Malenkov left by plane for Britain today to tour British power stations. It is the former Soviet Premier's first trip to the Western world.

Since he resigned the premiership in February 1955, Malenkov has been a deputy premier and minister of Soviet power stations.

President Ends All Speculation by Endorsement

Vice President Rolls Up Heavy Write-In Vote in New Hampshire Prelim

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower said today he would be "happy" to have Vice President Richard M. Nixon as his 1956 running mate and ended all speculation about his own desires on the makeup of this year's GOP ticket.

The chief executive, in one of the most unusual tributes he has ever made to any man, told his news conference:

"Anyone who attempts to drive a wedge of any kind between Dick Nixon and me has just as much chance as if they tried to drive it between my brother and me.

"We are very close. I am happy that Dick Nixon is my friend. I am happy that Dick Nixon is my associate. I would be happy to be on any political ticket in which I could be a candidate with him."

Eisenhower, aware of the speculation and rumor which up to today had befogged the vice president's political future, said that anyone who doesn't know now what he means in regard to Nixon can't understand the plain, unvarnished facts.

He said he told Nixon, apparently at their private meeting yesterday, what he was going to tell the nation today.

Speaking in emphatic, emotional terms, the President said anyone who tries to drive a wedge between Dick Nixon and himself might just as well try to do the same with his brother.

He said he is very close to Nixon and would be happy to be on any political ticket with him.

The statement appeared to end — finally and irrevocably — any question that Mr. Eisenhower was considering "dumping" the vice president.

The Presideint said he will have nothing more to say on the subject until the Republican convention next August.

When a reporter checked the President's comment about his being happy to be on any ticket with Nixon, Mr. Eisenhower replied crisply that he had said the same thing last week.

But his comments today were much stronger than a week ago when he said he had asked the vice president to "chart his own course."

Mr. Eisenhower strongly indicated today that the course has been charted and that Nixon definitely will be on the Republican ticket in November.

The first question asked at the President's weekly news conference was whether he had any comment on Nixon's surprising write-in vote in New Hampshire.

He replied with a smile that apparently there are lots of people in New Hampshire who agree with what he has said about Dick Nixon.

Skin Diver Locates Body Beneath Cooley Lake Ice

A skin diver swam for three minutes under the ice of Cooley Lake this morning to recover the body of an ice fisherman who drowned last night.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Bill Jackson voluntarily lowered himself into 12 feet of icy water after Sheriff Frank Irons declined to order him under the ice.

Jackson recovered the body of 32-year-old August Vangeloff of White Lake Township, reported missing last night after an evening of ice fishing on the lake.

Sheriff's deputies Donald W. Fauser and Donald K. Kratt, on patrol last night, found Vangeloff's wife, Mary, weeping hysterically in her car beside the lake at 11:10 p.m.

She told the deputies her husband was to have joined her in the car when she flashed the car lights over the lake at 10 p.m.

Investigating Vangeloff's tracks in yesterday's fresh snow, Kratt found he had not left the lake. His coat, hat and fishing equipment were discarded beside the hole he had cut in the ice.

After dragging operations by deputies and White Lake Township firemen failed to recover the body, Jackson volunteered for his icy swim.

According to his wife, Vangelhoff recently received treatment for mental illness and had attempted to take his life three months ago.

House Splits on Two Michigan Aviation Hassles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Michigan aviation hassles, one involving a jet base, the other a proposed switch of commercial airline operations, erupted into sharp words on the House floor yesterday.

Rep. Lesinski (D-Mich) set off the first dispute, drawing rebuttal from Rep. Meader (R-Mich), by demanding that the Defense Department seize Detroit's Willow Run Airport for military purposes.

Then Rep. Knox (R-Mich) assailed the House Armed Services committee for voting to shift a proposed jet fighter base from Kalkaska to Manistee County. Both are in the northern sector of Michigan's lower peninsula.

Kalkaska is in Knox's district. Rep. Ruth Thompson (R-Mich) has sought for two years to have the base built in her district, which includes Manistee County. She listened while Knox read his 11-page speech, but said nothing afterward.

Lesinski's arguments centered around a recommendation by President Eisenhower's air coordinating committee that airlines now using Willow Run should move to Detroit - Wayne Major Airport, main commercial air terminal.

Lesinski said he has asked Secretary of Defense Wilson to seize Willow Run so that military air activities may be concentrated there, as proposed by the President's committee.

Lesinski, in an obvious reference to Meader, added: "When one congressman can say for four million people what airport they are to be served from, some definite action should be taken."

Meader said his major reasons for battling to keep the airlines at Willow Run was to save the taxpayers the 30 million dollars he said it would cost to make an adequate terminal out of Wayne-Major.

Lesinski accused Meader of "fighting for ANTSCO (Airlines National Terminal Service Co.)." ANTSCO operates Willow Run, which it rents from the University of Michigan.

Meader, in turn, suggested Leroy Smith, Wayne County Road Commissioner, inspired Lesinski's speech. Smith, Meader declared, "has been plugging for the Wayne Major Airport bullheadedly and foolishly against all expert advice for 10 years and it is only natural that he should get some congressman from Detroit to help him in his fight . . ."

"Leroy Smith never saw me," Lesinski retorted.

Lesinski accused Capital Airlines and the U. of M. of "collusion" in the matter. He said the airlines pay only $38,000 a year rent for Willow Run and that Capital has been subsidized for many years by the federal government and now is trying to stay on "the gravy train."

He said in a statement that Capital was only one of six companies that have joined in opposing a move to Wayne-Major.

* * *

In the second dispute, Knox accused "self - seeking individuals" with trying to force the Kalkaska-to-Manistee move "in total disregard of defense considerations, without concern for economy and in a selfish effort to further their own personal interests."

Scientists Battle Coastal Scourge

Fatal Fish Organisms, 'Red Tide' Causing Big Headache Along Shores

WASHINGTON — United States Government scientists, armed with a $162,000 grant, are poised for battle with the "Red Tide," a periodic coastal scourge.

The Red Tide can appear anywhere in the world, in both tropical and temperate waters. It last "bloomed" in 1954 off the west coast of Florida. Plane observers at sea reported mile-long rafts of floating dead fish.

The misnomer, Red Tide, is the popular name for the brownish-amber discoloration of sea water caused by a microscopic organism called Gymnodinium brevis, says the National Geographic Society. Under certain conditions, G. brevis multiplies at a fantastic rate, giving the water an oily, viscous consistency. Sixty million of them have been counted in a single quart.

The organism exudes a toxic substance that is fatal to fish of all sizes from fingerlings to such large specimens as grouper and tarpon. The poison affects sea reptiles and mammals too.

* * *

The tiny pest also releases an airborne "poison gas" which irritates the human respiratory system and may cause coughing, sneezing and shortness of breath.

* * *

Working continuously since 1947, after the worst outbreak in history, Fish and Wildlife Service experts and scientists of the University of Miami's Marine Laboratory have managed to cultivate G. brevis artificially. Its feeding, breeding and other characteristics have been explored, and effects of light, heat and reaction to chemicals have been examined.

Although the scientists are not prepared to say exactly what causes a G. brevis cluster to explode into hyperproduction, they have created blooms under laboratory conditions and have evolved weapons to combat them. Copper sulphate has been found successful in killing the organism. Spraying the chemical has broken up small oceanic blooms.

* * *

As it is impossible to treat miles of ocean in this way, teams of observers are constantly on guard watching the normal G. brevis population. They hope to catch incipient blooms in the early stages and "nip them in the bud."

Clues Indicate Lincoln Expert May Try for 64

NEW YORK (INS) — Big Bob Bennett indicated last night that he might try for the top prize next week on CBS-TV's "The $64,000 Question."

The contestant, better known as Robert Edward Bennett of Kingsland, Ga., won $32,000 last night by answering a tough question on personnel changes in the cabinet of Abraham Lincoln, whom he chose as his category.

Bennett, who towers over master of ceremonies Hal March, gave a clue last night to what his decision might be next week.

When asked if he were going to try for the $32,000, the 48-year-old store clerk quoted Lincoln:

"Let's drive home and finish the job we started."

Two other huge contestants, the Egan brothers of Hartford, Conn., turned down their chance at the $64,000 question.

Bill Egan turned to his brother, James, and said "It's Jim's decision" when asked if they wanted to go for the big money.

Jim said they had had a wonderful time the past few weeks but added, "We've had it."

He was born in Indian Territory, Okla. Feb. 1, 1891, the son of Silas and Ella McCumber Sutton. On Oct. 14, 1929, he was married to the former Evelyn Pierson in Bowling Green, Ohio.

A veteran of World War I, Mr. Sutton was employed as a jitney driver, and had worked at the American Forge & Socket Co.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two sons, Oscar W. Sutton Jr. and Donald V. Sutton, both of Auburn Heights, and two grandchildren.

Service will be at 1:30 p. m. Friday from the Dudley H. Moore Funeral Home, Auburn Heights. The Rev. J. Harvey MCann will officiate with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Wages being already high, West German labor leaders have adopted the theme that labor deserves a larger share of the national product, Bonn observes.

Baby Chewed by Pet Ocelot

'Cat' Gnaws Off Toes of 7-Week-Old Infant in Maryland

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 7-week-old boy who was attacked in his crib by a pet ocelot was reported in fair condition today. Part of the child's left foot, including the toes, was chewed off by the animal.

The infant, Thomas Perry, was taken to suburban Prince Georges (Md.) General Hospital yesterday after he was found crying in a blood-soaked crib.

Thomas' condition was discovered by Winslow Prescott, 49, a handyman who was caring for him and an older sister at the Perry home in Beltsville, Md.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tardy Perry, returned from a New York visit last night after learning of the accident. They said the ocelot generally had the run of the house. The catlike animal is about 2 feet long from head to tail.

Prescott called police after he discovered the attack yesterday morning. The officers said they found the ocelot, two Siamese cats, five kittens and an Afghan hound in the house. The ocelot was taken away by police on a leash, first to the University of Maryland livestock laboratory and then to the county animal shelter.

Prescott said the Perrys had the animals for show purposes. The ocelot came from Brazil, he said.

Shell Stations Hit by Strike

But Supplies in Pontiac Will Last 5 to 7 Days, Says Spokesman

A Shell Oil Co. spokesman in Pontiac said this morning that the strike of some 80 company workers in Detroit would have no immediate effect on stations in the city.

H. H. Smith said the trucks out of the Detroit depot reportedly had built up a supply at the city's stations to last at least five to seven days.

But a Shell service station operator said if the trucks stopped supplying him he would have to shut down Saturday noon.

Smith said the strike which threatens to shut down Shell stations in the Detroit area would effect only stations in the Pontiac area and not fuel oil deliveries to homes.

"We are jobbers here at this office and we buy the product direct from the company which we could have shipped in by rail if necessary," Smith said.

Negotiations between company and Local 389 Oil Workers International Union representatives broke off yesterday, triggering the Detroit walkout.

Victim of Dr. Small Leaves Small Estate

NEW YORK (INS) — An attorney said yesterday that Jules Lack, slain by former Detroit dentist Dr. Kenneth Small two years ago, was not a millionaire as believed, but instead died almost penniless.

Arthur Newman, attorney for the administrators of Lack's estate said a year's research for assets turned up only $3,790 while claims against the state totaled $73,339.

Lack, president of the Majestic Air Conditioning Corp., was with Small's wife, Edith, on a week-end party at a Lake Michigan summer cottage when the dentist invaded the home and shot the New Yorker.

Small won acquittal on a murder charge and has since divorced his wife and moved from Detroit.

Newman said a quarter-million-dollar damage suit against Small had been settled for $6,000.

REPORTS ON GAME HUNT — Karl D. Bailey, Birmingham resident and Oakland County horticulturist, stands in the wooded hunting grounds of British Honduras with one of the wild creatures he bagged for museums at Michigan State and Cranbrook.

Horticulturist to Show Pictures of Game Hunt

A journey into the Mayan mountains of British Honduras and a hunt for rare animals such as the tapir, the giant anteater and the manatee will be retold by an expert photographer and horticulturist at Cranbrook Institute tomorrow night.

Karl D. Bailey, who spent several weeks this winter collecting animal specimens for Cranbrook and Michigan State University museums will present the illustrated lecture to the public. His talk is being sponsored by the Bloomfield Hills Camera Club, of which he is vice-president.

Former Oakland County agricultural agent, he is district horticulturist for MSU's extension service, and lives at 5275 Adams, Bloomfield Township.

Bailey went, with a hunter guide and an American-built jeep into the Pine Ridge area and the mahogany-covered Mayan mountains. The areas he reached were inhabited by the tapir, howler monkeys, paca, agouti, King James vulture ocelot and red deer.

An eight-foot manatee was Bailey's most prized catch. He found the mammal in a herd of 30 off the south shore of Hick's Cay. With a 24-foot inboard motor-drive launch, he and two men landed the creature, which he killed with a spear and deer rifle.

Ancient Mayan ruins in Yucatan, Southern Mexico and British Honduras were visited and are included in the colorful photographs.

The lecture is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Lynn Allen to Seek 13th Term as Clerk

Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen said today he will seek his 13th consecutive term in office.

Allen has been clerk since Jan. 1, 1933. He will attempt to win the GOP nomination at the August primary election.

Born in Birmingham, Allen was educated there and at the University of Detroit. He moved to Pontiac in 1918 following Navy service in World War I.

Allen, 57, is active in American Legion and Pontiac Elks Lodge functions. He heads the Elks program encouraging and honoring newly naturalized citizens. He is a past president of the Michigan County Clerks Assn.

State Trunkline Weight Restrictions Suspended

LANSING (AP) — Truck weight restriction enforcement will be suspended on all types of state trunklines effective at noon today, the State Highway Department said.

Effective at noon, March 19, weight restrictions will be enforced on blacktop and gravel highways from the south state line north to and including M46.

Bandits Facing Two Charges

Federal Counts Leveled Against 3 Bank Robbers May Total 35 Years

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Three Ann Arbor men captured less than half an hour after they fled with $4,328 taken in a bank holdup today faced two charges that could mean up to 35 years' imprisonment on conviction.

James Walling, 26, Robert Davidson, 25, and Charles Howard, 24, were to be arraigned later today in Detroit before Federal Judge Arthur A. Koscinski.

Two federal charges have been filed against each man. Conviction on a theft charge could bring a maximum prison sentence of 10 years. The second charge involves putting a life in jeopardy. Police say the men threatened the life of the bank's manager.

Police said Davidson and Howard are ex-convicts.

WALLING

HOWARD

The three entered a branch of the McPherson State Bank at Pinckney, 18 miles northwest of here, shortly before noon yesterday while the manager, Albert Freddenb u r g, was alone in the bank.

Scooping $4,328 from the cash drawers, the robbers stuffed the money inside their shirts and escaped in a car.

Fleeing on U.S. 23, they were seized on the outskirts of Ann Arbor by Patrolman George Miller, who had just heard the description of their car broadcast over his police radio. He found the money and a .22 caliber pistol inside their car.

Ann Arbor police said the three readily admitted the holdup and told how they plotted it yesterday morning in an Ann Arbor restaurant within earshot of Police Lt. Henry Murray.

Murray said he knew of their police records and took a seat in a booth adjoining the one where they were sitting. They got up and moved to another booth. Murray said he wondered at the time what they were "plotting."

New Hampshire Pulls Surprise

Vice President Draws Write-In Total of 21,000 Without Campaigning

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP) Sen. Estes Kefauver's clear-cut victory in the New Hampshire primary put new punch and power today into his drive for the Democratic presidential nomination—but the election's real surprise was Vice President Nixon.

The vice president received a towering write-in vote of 21,000 from 289 of the state's 297 precincts in the vice presidential preference poll.

The figure is all the more astonishing in light of the fact that Nixon's name was not on the ballot, he did no campaigning in New Hampshire, and no organized effort was made on his behalf.

It appeared to be the result of a spontaneous burst of public sentiment for the much-discussed vice president.

In the nation's first presidential primary of 1956, New Hampshire did this:

1. It gave Kefauver all 12 Democratic delegates, and their eight convention votes. He crushed a slate favoring Adlai E. Stevenson, who did not personally campaign in this primary, and was not even on the ballot.

Kefauver's preferential vote was 21,340 in 289 of 297 precincts. Stevenson had a total write-in of 3,419.

2. As expected, it elected 14 Republican delegates who are backers of President Eisenhower. In addition, the state gave the President a vote of 55,082 in 289 of 297 precincts in the preferential section of the ballot. He was unopposed there.

This was the opening round between Kefauver and Stevenson.

Both are looking to the Minnesota primary next week as a more decisive test of strength. Stevenson is officially entered in that contest and, like Kefauver, has been campaigning in Minnesota.

This was the second consecutive time that Kefauver has successfully bucked the Democratic party organization in New Hampshire. Four years ago, it supported President Truman against him and he captured all the delegates.

The organization this year backed Stevenson but failed to come close to taking a delegate away from Kefauver. The senator's eighth-place candidate was still some 2,000 votes ahead of Stevenson's front-running candidate.

But Nixon's write-in vote, even though it has no official effect on his chances for renomination, overshadowed the whole contest.

Gov. Lane Dwinell, a Nixon supporter, said flatly that the vote showed New Hampshire wants Nixon on the ticket with Eisenhower again this year. He called the outpouring "very significant."

The state GOP chairman, Judge William Treat, said, "No matter who this state sends to the convention at San Francisco, they can't ignore the mandate of the Republican voters on Vice President Nixon."

Nixon's name began appearing with the earliest returns. There is a space on the ballot for vice presidential candidates, but no names were printed there this year. People took the trouble to write his name as their preference.

With 289 out of the 297 precincts complete, Nixon's vote was 21,757. Herter had 2,685 and Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire had 1,878.

Infant Blaze Victim in Critical Condition

Six-month-old Frank Polson, victim of a Keego Harbor house fire last Friday, still hovers between life and death in Pontiac General Hospital today.

His mother, Mrs. Betty Polson, 28, was listed in fair condition for the first time yesterday afternoon. She had been on the critical list since Friday night.

Mrs. Polson was burned in a dash through the blazing living room of the two-family frame house to rescue Frank from his crib.

The Day in Birmingham

Fire Stations to Contain Voting Machines April 2

BIRMINGHAM — Voters in Precincts One and Six will be voting in the city's new fire stations, when candidates for commission and library board and three proposals are placed on voting machines on April 2.

City Clerk Irene Hanley proposed the change, which won commission approval this week, because of inconvenience to personnel in the Lutheran Church and the Department of Public Works Garage, where ballots for Precincts One and Six had been taken previously.

The church had requested removal of the voting machines several weeks ago, Miss Hanley reported, and the DPW had had to have additional phones installed and their own workers schedules have been interrupted by the voting procedures.

Precinct Six voting place will be Adams Fire Station, and that of Precinct One will be Chesterfield Station.

Besides the choice of two commissioners and two members of the library board, voters will be deciding whether the city retirement plan will be altered and whether certain properties shall be disposed of.

Proposal No. 2 asks if the city may sell lots 56, 57 and 58 of Adams Park Subdivison, on Hunter boulevard.

Proposal No. 3 seeks power to exchange the southerly portion of outlet A of Quarton Lake Estates replat of the east part of Quarton Lake Estates subdivision north of lot 175.

Ike Stays Up to Watch Film

President, Full House Audience See Premiere of 'Richard III'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower stayed up way past his usual bedtime last night at a benefit showing of the motion picture "Richard III." But he seemed none the worse for it.

* * *

For almost three hours, until past 11:30, he and his family were part of the full-house audience that watched the Washington premiere of the British-made picture at a theater a few blocks from the White House.

It was a benefit for the Heart Fund, and Eisenhower's appearance—his first of this kind since his September heart attack—was something of a surprise. It wasn't finally disclosed he would attend until about an hour beforehand.

* * *

After it was all over, the President said his goodbys. But Mrs. Eisenhower lingered in the lobby, wife-like, saying additional goodbys. Eisenhower, husband - like, came back and took her by the arm. They left for good then.

* * *

Eisenhower told Sir Laurence Olivier, the producer and star of the film, that he was surprised the case listed .ly two murderers—since there were so many murders. Eisenhower also reported he enjoyed the picture very much.

Mrs. Eisenhower's mother Mrs. John S. Doud was in the party. So were Maj. John Eisenhower and his wife Barbara, the President's son and daughter-in-law.

Seeking Options to Extend Strip

Want 80-Acre Site for Lengthening Plan on East-West Runway

City Manager Walter K. Willman told the City Commission last night he hoped by next week to have options on 80 acres of land intended to extend the east-west runway at the Municipal Airport.

"We are meeting with good results with the negotiations and we have retained the engineer approved by the City Commission two weeks ago for the work," Willman reported.

The 80 acres is west of the present field and if acquired it will enable the east-west strip to accommodate larger planes.

"I hope to have the options by next Tuesday and if we do, the work might get under way Wednesday," Willman added.

He warned the commissioners that the federal grant to cover a cost of this expansion, must be filed by June 30 and approved, or the city would lose the aid.

Pontiac received a grant of $91,500 on Feb. 9, of which $50,000 was allocated for the extension of the runway.

Award Six Contracts to Construct Building

Other contracts awarded for the job were: electrical trade, Fred W. Moote, of Pontiac, $61,034; Detroit Elevator Co., $23,094; Pauley Jail Building Co., $22,284; and the Hawkins Equipment Co., $2,125.

In addition to the pistol range, boiler, and air conditioning being deleted from the plans, the public elevator was also dropped to lower costs. Only the prisoners' elevator will be installed.

Like the City Hall, grading, side walks and pavements, sewers, water connections, permits and inspection fees will be furnished by the city under separate contracts when other work is completed.

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley told the commission, "I want to thank the commissioners for the favorable consideration that they have shown the Public Safety Building."

"This is a much-needed public building which I know even our citizens will appreciate, along with the men of the police force," he added.

Streetcars to Be Obsolete

GMC Launches Deliveries on 150-Bus Order by DSR

The death knell for Detroit's streetcar system moved closer to reality today with the delivery of the first 10 of what will eventually become a new city fleet of 150 buses.

The vehicles, built by the GM Truck & Coach Division here, will be delivered at the rate of 10 a working day until 120 are put into service, according to Leo J. Nowicki, general manager of the Detroit Street Railways Commission. Thirty more of the diesel-engined coaches are scheduled for delivery later this year.

Representing a total order of $3,150,000, the buses will be used on the Woodward and Gratiot avenue lines. The changeover is expected to be completed by April 8.

The 51-passenger coaches feature air-ride suspension and will be painted in pastel colors on the inside. The latter innovation, according to GM officials, represents an idea in public vehicle design which is rapidly spreading in U.S. communities.

Contracts for delivery of the busses were approved Jan. 17 by the Detroit Common Council, and when completed will bring to 280 the total number of busses GM has delivered to the Detroit system.

Streetcars on the two thoroughfares are believed to be the only ones currently in service in the state.

Commission Spends Hour on 27 Points of Agenda

A 27-point agenda, containing mostly public improvement items, was written into the records last night by the City Commission in one hour.

Some 30 spectators in the audience heard the commissioners accept a recommendation of the City Plan Commission for the proposed tentative plat of a 10-acre parcel on the north side of Featherstone road.

The recommendation of the planning group applied only to the street layout and lot size of the plat.

Upon the request of Commissioner Harry W. Lutz (District 7), a recommendation of the same group for rezoning the south side of Auburn avenue from Perkins to Center from residential 2 to residential 3, was tabled for one week.

"It seems funny that so many people have become concerned over this one building at 148 Auburn Ave.," Lutz said. "I desire it to be tabled in order that I can investigate it further."

The residents of the Auburn avenue address reportedly submitted a petition requesting the rezoning.

In further business, the commission accepted two engineer estimates for curb, gutter, and related work for Yale and Hopkins streets from Baldwin to University. The projects will be aired at a public hearing, March 20.

Resolutions were approved authorizing the city assessor to prepare special assessment rolls for March 20 for the following public improvement projects which were aired in public hearings last night:

Curb, gutter, and related work for Princeton avenue from Baldwin to Stanley, East Princeton avenue from Baldwin to University, and for Del Rey drive from East boulevard to 94 feet west.

Water mains for Grandview boulevard from Paddock to Omar, McGregor avenue from Paddock to Gilmour, and Gilmour drive from Grandview to Paddock.

Water main hearings were also conducted for installation in Peacock avenue from Joslyn to Fuller, Fuller avenue from Peacock to Columbia, and after a slight revision, for Clara avenue from Joslyn to west property line of lot 30, assessor's plat 102.

The latter main was shortened upon the request of Commissioner John A. Dugan (District 5) and Billy G. Miller, 733 Clara Ave., who said lot 30 on which he lived, had no need of the main.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles (District 4) heard his request approved for declaring it a public necessity for grading, graveling, and storm sewers for West Ypsilanti avenue from Baldwin to Carlisle.

The reading of an ordinance to amend building zone ordinance 944 which would prohibit automobile bumping shops in commercial 1 districts, was not held last night. Copies will be sent to the commissioners.

In final action, 10 public hearings were held on special assessment rolls for two-inch blacktop pavement for the following streets:

Hill street from Auburn to north line of lots 23 and 28, assessor's plat 132 and from north line of Bliss street to East Pike street; St. Louis avenue from Baldwin to Hollywood; Sheffield street from Baldwin to University; Sylvan court from Orchard Lake to 50 feet west of Myrs; Tennyson avenue from Baldwin to Hollywood; Virginia avenue from Baldwin to Saginaw; Whitfield street from Saginaw to Edison; Willard street from Jessie to Shirley; Ypsilanti avenue from Carlisle Shirley; Ypsilanti avenue from Carlisle versity.

Confirmation was deferred on the 10 projects.

Bob Considine Says:

Tired of Politicians? Just Ostracize Them

NEW YORK (INS)—My much traveled friend, Bill Hillman, who sometimes assists Mr. Truman in his literary chores, flew to Greece just before the second volume of H.S.T.'s memoirs hit the bookstalls a shattering blow 'mid a shower of sparks.

But we learn, via fast packet, that Bill isn't on the lam. He is engaged in some engrossing work with the American School of Classical Studies, whose men are busy digging around Athens.

With now discernible reference to his distinguished friend, Bill writes:

"The ancient Athenians had a way of getting things off their chests by writing letters which they dropped down a well instead of sending to a newspaper.

"They were more than letters of criticism. They were requests to the underworld gods that their enemy not only be confounded and cursed but that various parts of his anatomy be plagued.

* * *

"I saw some of this Athenian pan mail today at the headquarters of the Agora excavations of the ASCS. The Agora was the ancient market place where business and politics were conducted and philosphers roamed, among them Plato and Socrates.

SHEETS OF LEAD

"Prof. Homer A. Thompson, brilliant archaeologist connected with the Institute of Advanced Study at Princeton, is in charge.

* * *

"The letters are made of sheets of lead. People would scratch their curse on a sheet and asked the god of the underworld—usually one named Typhon—to bring trouble to someone they hated or envied."

Most curses or appeals to hard luck for a foe began "Babarphorhobaborb" or "Borphabi." One letter from the Fifth Century before Christ is the work of a bellows worker in the mint.

This bird asked the underworld god to curse a certain man and his wife and his work, then added, "and his money and his hands and his feet and his mind and his head —and his nose."

* * *

The esteemed diggers are learning more about the old Greek practice of ostracism, Bill reports.

"The Athenians hated tyrants so much they passed a law to expel would-be dictators and over ambitious politicians by booting them out of the country for varied periods.

"Once a year at the town meetings of all the citizens of Athens the question was put whether there was need for ostracism that year.

"No specific names had to be mentioned by petitioners. If enough hands were raised, the balloting took place two months later.

PIECE OF POTTERY

"The ballot was a broken piece of pottery. The Athenian could write any name he wanted and drop the piece in a wooden ballot box. A minimum of 6,000 votes had to be cast in any election for exile.

* * *

"The man with the greatest plurality was given 10 days to leave the country. After he served his time he could return, regain his civic rights and his property. The aim was not to ruin any individual for life but to cool off the overly ambitious and clip the wings of would-be Big Brothers.

"Prof. Eugene Vanderpool of the school tells me, 'Any broken piece of pottery would do. Many ballots found in the course of the excavations bear the names of the great Athenians of the Fifth Century B.C., such as Themistocles, Aristides, Pericles and others. Pericles was never banished. Ostracism soon turned into a contest between two politicians, one trying to oust the other.

"What really killed ostracism," Bill continues, "was the battle between Alcibidies and Nicias in 417 B.C. They were the two top fellows and feared ostracism worse than death.

* * *

"By some screwy coincidence both hit upon a kind of 'smoke-filled room' tactic. Each separately urged his followers to vote against a third person—fellow named Hyperbolos.

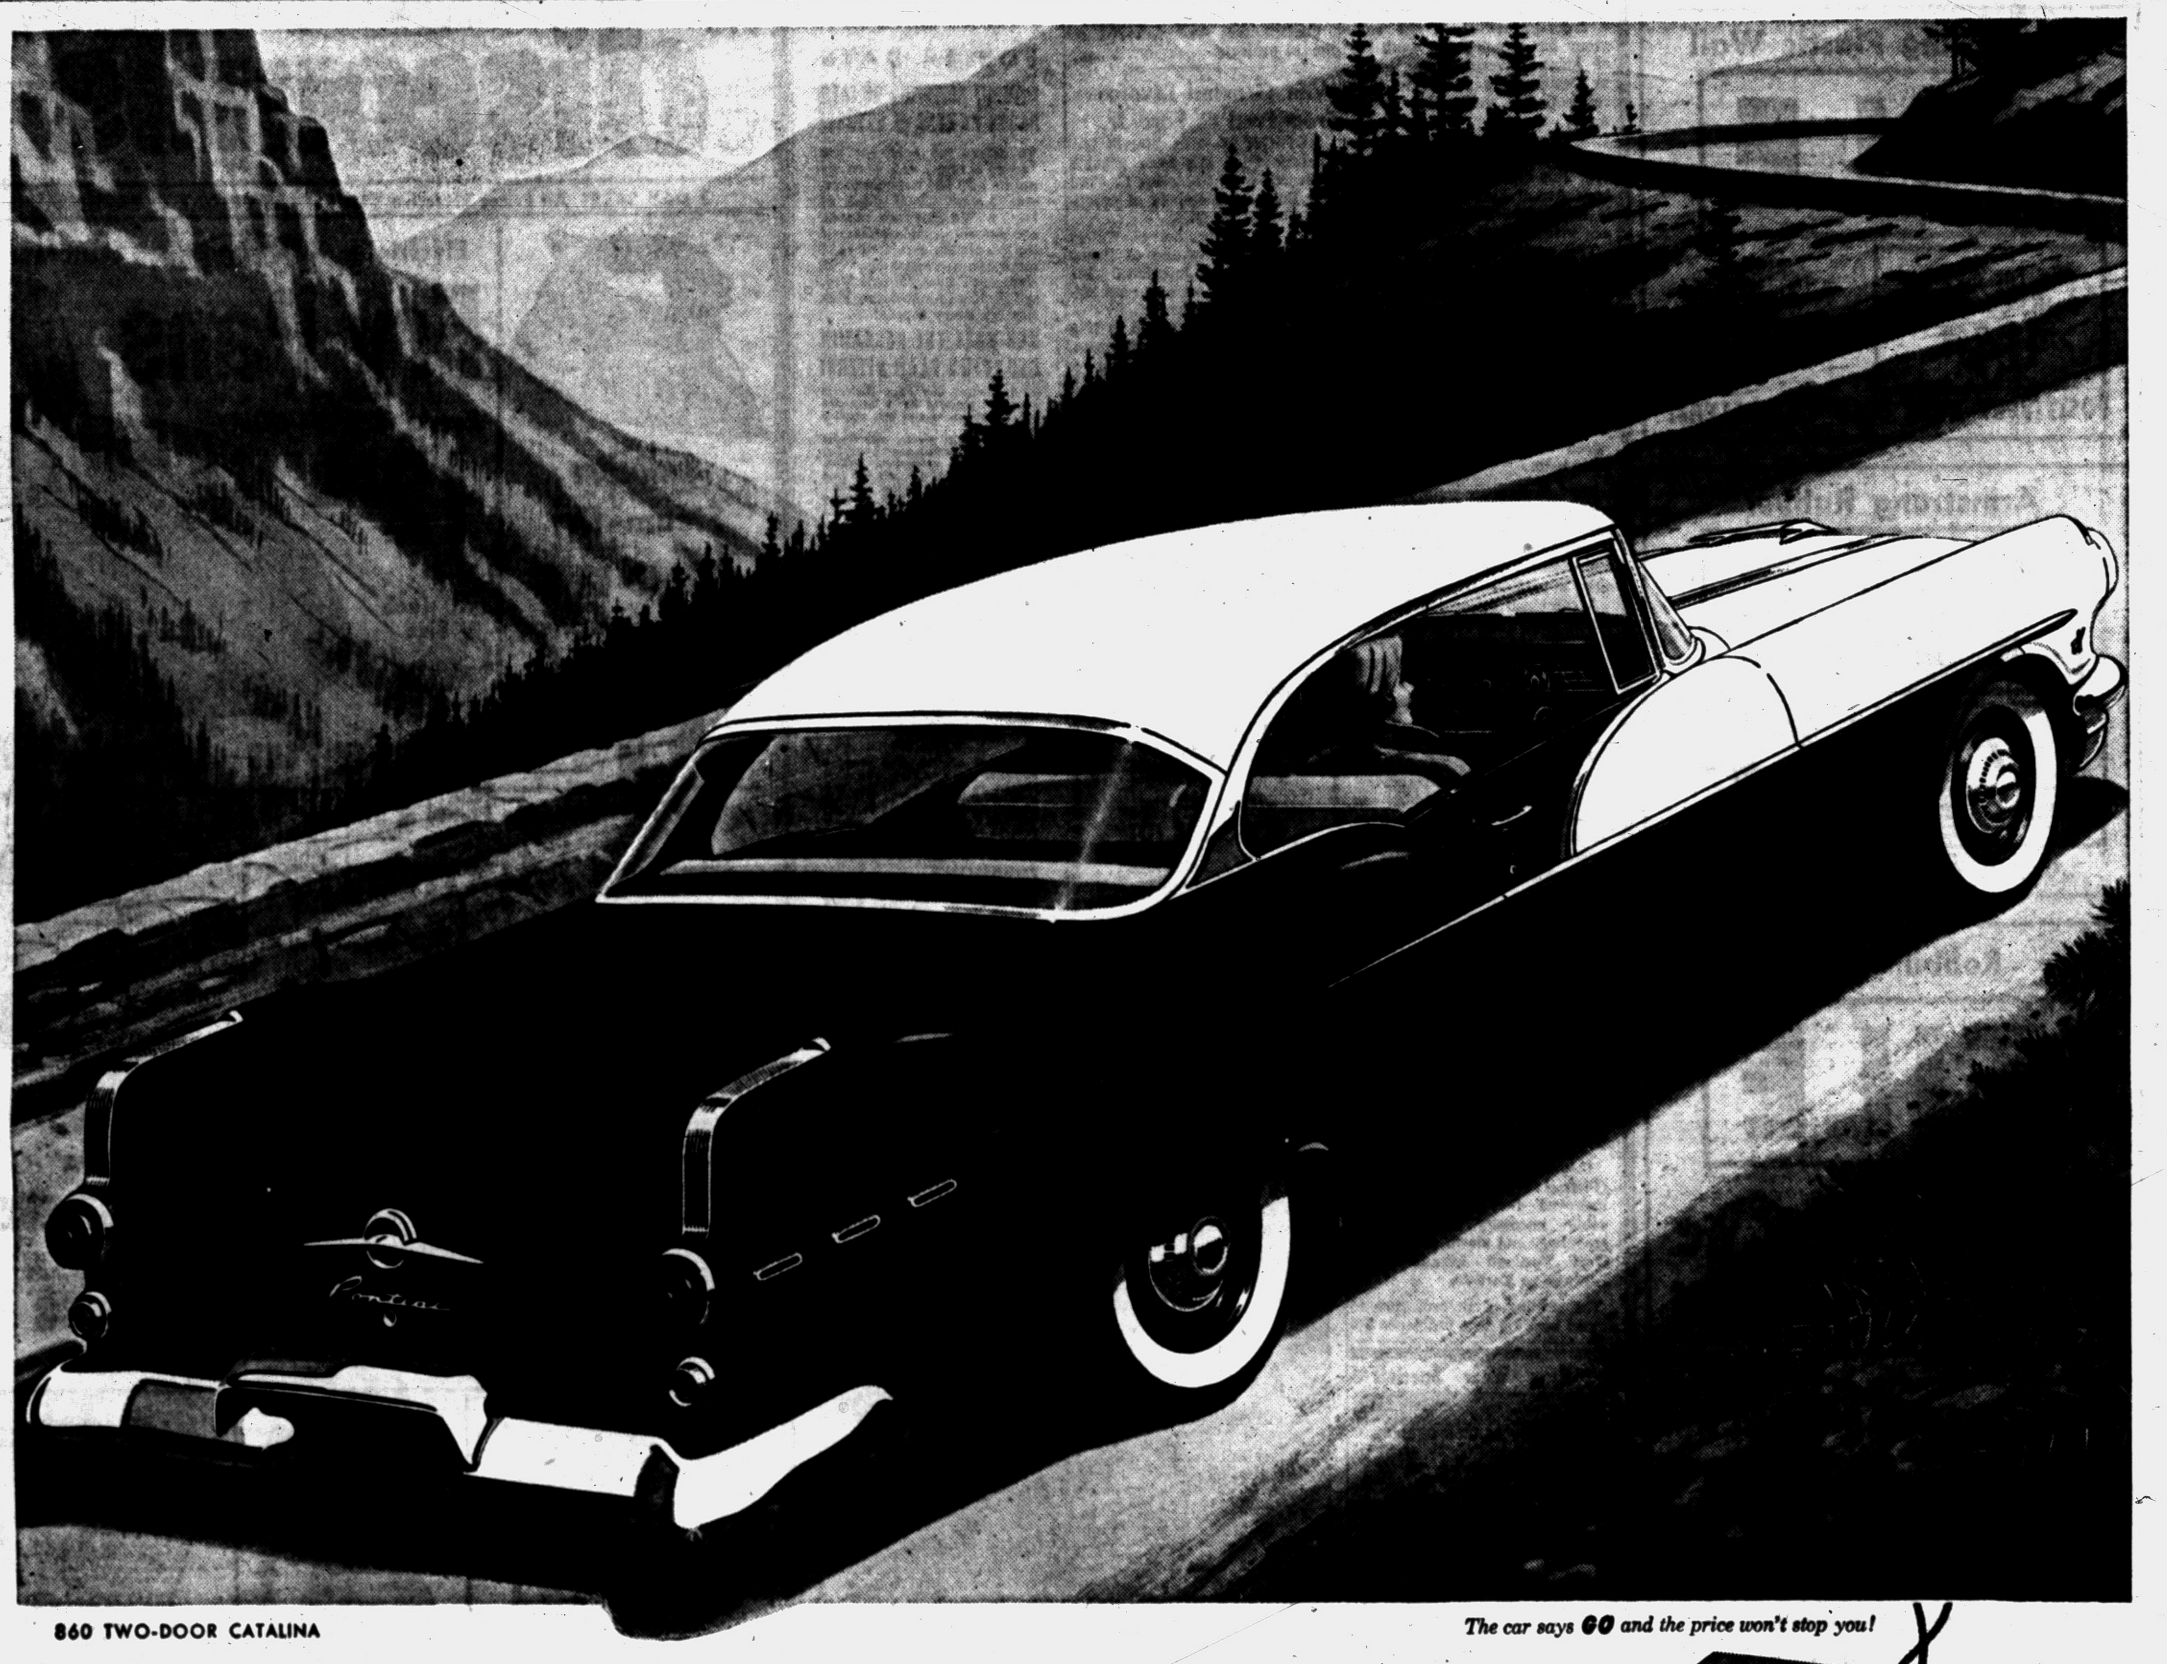

"Hyperbolos got the gate, but the better Athenians, recognizing that the aim of the law had been twisted, never used it again."

Aer Lingus, Eire's national airline, made a net profit of $1,027,000 in the first half of its current fiscal year, up 44 per cent from a year ago, Dublin learns.

TRIBUTE TO VOTERS — City Commissioner Philip E. Rowston (District 2) receives a new trophy from Boy's Club Mayor Dean Perkio at last night's City Commission meeting. Rowston's district had the highest percentage of registered voters turn out for last Monday's primary. The trophy will be rotated for each city election to the commissioner whose district accomplishes the same goal.

Commissioner Rowston Gets Vote Turnout Award

It looks as though Commissioner Philip E. Rowston is going to have a fight on his hands to retain a new trophy presented to him by the Pontiac Boy's Club.

The District 2 representative received the trophy last night from the mayor of the club, Dean Perkio, for his district having the highest percentage of registered voters vote in last week's primary election.

But Perkio let it be known how close a decision had to be made. Rowston's district just edged out Commissioner Roy V. Cooley's District 1 by 32.9 to 32.5.

After the presentation, Cooley congratulated Rowston on his district's victory and said he expected the same after District 1 captured the trophy in the coming April 2 balloting.

"I wish to express my appreciation to the Boy's Club on behalf of the voters in District 2," Rowston said. "I will do my best to retain it at the April 2 election."

This brought a challenge from Mayor William W. Donaldson who reminded Rowston and Cooley that only four precincts voted for both issues and candidates while three others voted only on the issues.

The trophy was the result of a week-long campaign of 1,740 members of the Boy's Club to remind their parents to vote in the primary.

Director William Coulacos termed the drive very successful and said 800 boys were rewarded with "I Reminded My Parents to Vote" cards.

May Construct Giant Building 120 Floors High

ST. LOUIS (INS)—The height of architectural ambition will be achieved if plans sumbitted by a private development company to the St. Louis County Council are put into work.

* * *

A preliminary plan presented by the group calls for erection of a 120-story building, largest in the world, in the St. Louis suburb of Clayton.

Ira Fleischmann, an attorney and president of the Audubon Investment and Development Co., submitted the plans, which call for:

A 200-million-dollar structure, with the first 20 stories to be occupied by a department store, the next 30 by newspaper, television and other office space, and the next 40 by a law school and the top 30 stories by a hotel with room for 2,000 guests.

Fleischmann said his firm wishes to purchase or lease the necessary property for construction of the building. It would have 18 levels below the ground for parking and a helicopter landing attached to the side of the skyscraper.

* * *

At present, the legal limit for a building in Clayton is five stories.

State Bonuses to Vets Reach $220,130,160

LANSING (AP) — State bonuses paid ot World War II veterans totaled $220,130,160 as of the end of February, the state adjutant general's office reported today.

* * *

The department said 616,122 claims have been approved with the average payment $357. Although the deadline for general filing for the World War II bonus claim has passed, veterans remaining in the service or in hospitals are still eligible.

* * *

State Ranked 8th in Invested Funds

NEW YORK (AP) — Michiganders invested $40,479,000 in mutual funds last year, the National Assn. of Investment Companies reports.

California again led the nation with $213,397,000 invested. Michigan was eighth.

The survey was based on 95 per cent of the 1955 sales of $1,207,458,000 reported by 125 company members of the association.

Police Overcome Teenage Girl With Weapons

ATLANTA (AP)—A 16-year-old girl with red hair, a straight razor and a switch-blade knife held suburban DeKalb County authorities at bay for three tense hours yesterday before she was disarmed.

Police Capt. Harry Christian said she placed the razor at her throat and the open knife at her side and warned officers:

"One step more and I'll kill myself."

Christian and Juvenile Judge Murphy Chandler eventually persuaded her to put down the knife. Then the police captain grabbed the razor. He said his trouser leg was slashed open in the struggle.

The girl was found in a wooded area near her home after chasing her step-father and her mother across the street. They called police.

Christian said she seemed to think her family was too strict. "She told us she'd ben sent to an institution last December and stayed for six weeks. She said she'd die before going back."

Juvenile authorities released the girl in the care of her uncle. Georgia's Juvenile Court law prohibits publication of the names of persons 16 or under.

New Songbird in U.S.

WASHINGTON — The United State has a beautiful new songbird, the flame-orange and black Spotted-breasted Oriole from southern Mexico and Central America. A colony of the orioles nest near Miami, Florida, and the birds apparently are here to stay, says the National Geographic Society.

Because of an acute manpower shortage in South Africa, hundreds of boys and girls are leaving school before they have a reasonably good education, according to Department of Labor officials in Pretoria.

Piles—Get Relief Now

Millions of sufferers in the last 40 years have found a way to fast relief from itching smarting piles. They use a delightful cooling soothing astringent formula — Peterson's Ointment. No wonder one sufferer writes, "The itching and smarting were relieved, and I slept all night. Peterson's Ointment is marvelous." 50 & 75c, all druggists. Be delighted or money back.

"A painful strain almost ruined my vacation!"

Victoria Lamb of Westmont, Ill., says, "I was about to board a train when I suffered a nasty fall, straining my back so painfully that I was scarcely able to walk. With assistance, I managed to get on the train, wondering what I could do about the dreadful pain. Then I remembered I had a tube of Ben-Gay in my bag. I thought it was worth a try, and it certainly was! After an application of Ben-Gay, I made myself as comfortable as possible. The next day, I found the pain had eased amazingly. I was able to walk without pain and arrived home feeling relieved and ever grateful to Ben-Gay."

Thousands of people, like Miss Lamb, have found Ben-Gay to be amazingly effective in relieving the pains of muscle strain. Here's why: Ben-Gay contains up to two and a half times more of two famous pain-relieving agents than five other widely offered rub-ins! Ben-Gay acts two ways. First, extra blood is brought coursing to the painful area. Second, a pain-deadening action starts at once. The painful muscle strain starts to ease up almost instantly. So keep Ben-Gay on hand always for fast relief from muscle aches and pains. Ben-Gay acts fast where you hurt!

Tempers Cool in Wake of Crisis Over Cyprus

Action of Greece in calling off anti-British demonstrations has served to ease somewhat the crisis over the deportation of Archbishop Markarios.

The demonstrations had been urged by Greek Orthodox Archbishop Spyridon. They were called off after the Archbishop himself warned that Communists had planned to disrupt them.

A measure of the heat generated by the issue of union of Cyprus with Greece is given in the demand of Greek Premier Karamanlis for U. S. intervention. There could be no such intervention, of course, as Cyprus has been British controlled since 1878 and a British colony since 1925.

Once negotiations with Archbishop Markarios for settlement of the Cyprus issue had failed, the British had no choice but to take drastic action. It was natural, too, that there should be violence not only on Cyprus but to a lesser degree in mainland Greece.

Considering events on Cyprus and in the recent Greek elections when a coalition; including Communists, almost defeated the government, it is difficult to criticize the British action. It should not be forgotten that the security of the United States and the free world is involved. Naturally, it is to our interest that British military installations be maintained on Cyprus.

★ ★ ★

For the sake of all concerned, it's to be hoped that Britain soon will be able to restore order on Cyprus. Just as much to be desired is that new negotiations will result in Cypriot acceptance of Britain's compromise offer of limited self government.

Last Hurdle Cleared for Germany's Army

With enactment of a bill in the Bundestag, the last hurdle has been cleared for creation of West Germany's new army of 500,000.

Although legislative approval for such a purpose is far different from actually putting a trained force in the field, the lower house at Bonn has taken historic action. So important is it, in fact, that within a short time it should result in greatly strengthening West Europe's defenses.

Approval of this bill is an important personal triumph for Chancellor Adenauer. It also reflects the work and wisdom of Western diplomats who have fought so many months for the strongest possible defense against the Communist tide which has engulfed eastern and central Europe.

This new army, the Bundeswehr, will be wholly unlike that with which Hitler terrorized all Europe. It will be entirely under civilian control. Every precaution has been taken that it will be the servant and not the master of the people.

For example, a two-thirds parliamentary vote will be necessary before the Bundeswehr can be used in a domestic emergency. Drastic though these provisions are, they should be welcomed by any nation that has reason to fear the prospect of a militarily strong Germany.

As for the free world, there should be a greater feeling of security in the knowledge that this new force already is being recruited.

Shades of Huey Long!

Unless current reports are false, something is radically wrong with the spirit of some legislation proposed in Kentucky.

According to one account, Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler has resorted to tactics like those used by the late Kingfish, Huey Long in Louisiana. Back in 1934 when Long was governor he set about punishing his political foes in Alexandria and Baton Rouge through legislative decree.

Now, Gov. Chandler's senate floor leader has introduced a bill which has all the earmarks of a Long maneuver. Its clear aim is to punish officials of the capital city of Frankfort who opposed Chandler's governorship.

If passed, as Chandler bills have a way of doing, it would throw out of office the 12-man council, elected city solicitor, city treasurer and city assessor. Only the mayor and police judge, who supported the Governor, would escape and Chandler would appoint a five-man city council and other henchmen to fill city jobs.

★ ★ ★

One can only hope that public opinion in the Blue Grass state will be so strongly against this bill that Gov. Chandler will abandon it and the tactics it reflects.

The Man About Town

Signs of Spring

Many Indications That It Should Arrive on Schedule

Honesty: What isn't always the best politics.

Spring is rapidly approaching. From Gingellville, Pontiac's enterprising suburban community, robins are reported by the dozen. In fact, of 581 Arcadia Ave. He points out that the grass has blades, the buds shoot, the trees get sappy, the flowers have pistils, the dandy lions jump up and the bullrush is out.

Advance warning is given by

I like the spirit of the clerks in a Pontiac suburban store, who wore bow ties made of dollar bills during a dollar sale.

Something's Got to Be Done, Fast!

David Lawrence Says:

Dissatisfaction of Present Candidates May Incline Dems to Draft Truman

WASHINGTON — There's a surprising amount of talke among the professional politicians on the Democratic side about the possibility of drafting Harry Truman to run again for the presidency.

* * *

Part of it is due to a dissatisfaction with the most-often-mentioned candidates—Messrs. Stevenson, Kefauver and Harriman. Part of it is based on the theory that no other candidate would have the solid backing that Truman would get from labor-union and radical organizations as well as the big city political organizations.

It so happens that Truman will be traveling abroad during most of the time when the pre-convention campaign will be in full swing and will avoid participation therein. Europeans admire Harry Truman. Under his regime the biggest amount of money was sent abroad out of the U.S. Treasury, and much of it was in the form of grants—not loans.

But there is another reason for European admiration. The Democratic party itself is much more highly regarded in London and Paris than the Republican party. Even though General Eisenhower led the rescue of France from Hitler's military power and saved Britain from a similar fate, most newspapers abroad wanted Adlai Stevenson to win in 1952. To this day, while they like Eisenhower in Europe, it is only because they think the New York City clique which is influential in the Republican party will keep the so-called "right wing" in that party from getting on top.

EFFECTIVE CAMPAIGNER

But the selection of Truman to head the Democratic party once more would not be altogether because of the preponderant influence which the internationalists exercised during his administration. It is related primarily to the Truman kind of campaigning, which some professionals on the Democratic side believe would be most effective this year.

What is desired, according to the Trumanites, is a "give 'em hell" campaign, which means recklessness of statement and impugning of motives. It's the pattern of so-called "McCarthyism," but nobody in Congress ever arises to "condemn" it. It is felt that neither Stevenson nor Kefauver till the requirements of vigorous campaigning.

Truman is cocky about his political prowess and is convinced that he could have won in 1952—and he implies he could win in 1956. That's what he tells his intimate friends. This attitude is due in some respects to the well-known habit among politicians of exuding confidence so as to conceal altogether any signs of weakness in a campaign year. But some of it is actually believed by Truman whose recently published memoirs shows he doesn't think much of the candidates now being put forward by the Democrats.

ALREADY CHIDED AD, ESTES

He has already brushed off Stevenson in some of his comments, and he hasn't quite forgiven Kefauver for once beating him in the New Hampshire primary election. The few remarks favorable to Governor Harriman that have come from Truman are not indicative of any great enthusiasm for the New Yorker and stem largely from unforgotten contributions made by Harriman to the Truman cause when the party treasury was empty.

* * *

So it all comes down to the same old query—who else but Truman? He is, of course, eligible to run for another term, since the Constitutional amendment which limits a president to two terms exempts specifically the president who was in office when the amendment was being processed for adoption in 1951.

In many respects, Harry Truman is the logical nominee of his party. He still stands on both the fair deal and the new deal and is proud of his record in international affairs, including intervention in Korea and his dismissal of General MacArthur.

Truman will be 72 years old on May 8 next, but Chancellor Adenauer is 80 and still in power, and Churchill was past 80 when he retired. So the former president is looked over by the politicians on the theory that, on the personal side, Truman's age will be no more of a barrier than Ike's heart attack and that the chief concern of the Democratic national convention should be basic issues and the choice of the best man to interpret them to the people.

* * *

One thing is fairly certain already — if Harry Truman doesn't desire the nomination himself, he will have more to say about who the nominee shall be than any other single personality among the party's bosses.

Fats, Starches Also Cause Pimples and Blackheads

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Most physicians apparently still go along with the traditional notion that excessive consumption of sweets causes or at least predisposes to oiliness of skin, blackheads and pimples.

Like a convicted murderer who feels he may as well knock off a few more persons who annoy him, before he goes to the gallows, I don't mind saying that I think the notion that indulging in ice cream, candy, pastries, cake, chocolate fudge sundaes, syrup on pancakes, honey or what's you have causes blackheads, oily skin, and pimples (BOP), is just one of the many theories or fancies expounded by the eminent medical authorities of yesteryear when they didn't know what they were talking about.

The list of foods which some skin specialists still exclude from the diet of one with BOP (acne), comprises not only the items named but also fatty foods, such as cream, butter, mayonnaise, pork, ham, bacon, sausage, gravy, and anything fried with or in any kind of cooking fat or shortening. Remember, now, kids, I'm telling you, not advising you.

From The Care of Your Skin, by Herbert Lawrence, M.D. (Little, Brown & Co., Boston, $2.50), published last year, I quote what is probably regarded by the 99 other certified dermatologists in the U. S. A. as radical:

* * *

"The unfavorable effect that starches and fats have" (note the author doesn't say "purport to have") "on some patients with acne is primarily a matter of medical observation. It has by no means been proven beyond all doubt in the laboratory." (At this point I thought: "Here's a book about BOP I can recommend to anyone interested in the problem.") But the author immediately backpedaled: "However, sometimes physicians are slow to find the exact explanation for conditions which are common knowledge."

All we have to do, then, is to decide, as amicably as possible, just which conditions are common knowledge.

Yahbut.

I remember how I suffered when I had BOR, at the age of 16, and I have great sympathy for any young person who is going through it now, expecially for the girl with acne for blackheads and pimples embarrass a boy now and then when he makes a girl miserable all the time.

Signed letters not more than one page of 200 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Says Six Months of Play Acting Can Put Romantic Glow Back in Marriage

Stop, look and listen before you finally get your divorce. You were happy on your wedding day. Well, you can regain that happiness even yet if you will both spend six months at play acting. Go through the proper motions. Play the game of marriage per the rules, just as if you were a Hollywood actor or actress. Then you'll be surprised.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-303: Lola R., aged 31, has been married three years.

"Dr. Crane, my husband thinks we might as well call it quits," she tearfully informed me.

* * *

"He says we don't get along and never will. And he tells me I am cold and would not be able to thrill any man.

"Oh, I feel terrible for I don't want a divorce. Is it too late?"

NEVER TOO LATE

No, it is never too late to use good sense, if the divorce has not actually been obtained.

If two people will vow to act a role, just like Hollywood actors and actresses, they can be ardently in love again in six months, regardless of their "cat and dog" existence now.

That is no exaggeration. We psychologists and clergymen who handle marriage counseling are in agreement on that point.

The big stumbling block is the selfishness of one or the other of the two feuding partners who are so immature and egotistical that they will not make a sincere attempt, even for their children's sake.

If you have any stage ability at all, then act the role you'd like to be and soon you'll be the way you act! That's eminently true.

Grit your teeth and pay your wife a compliment tonight. Verbalize a few syllables of praise or appreciation for her.

She can't be all wrong, or you'd never have married her in the first place. So pick out some of her good points and commend her thereon.

Meanwhile, you wives do likewise. Be good actresses, for the ultimate greater happiness of your children, your parents and even of you and your mate in the years ahead, will warrant this sincere six months' stage acting.

STAGE MARRIAGE

Kiss your wife as if you mean it. Don't give her one of those perfunctory and insulting little pecks on the cheek.

Kiss her till you can feel her response, for if you go through the proper motions, you'll soon begin to feel the corresponding emotions, regardless of your earlier bias.

Take her to at least one romantic movie per week, even if you must mortgage the automobile to do so.

And go to church together on Sunday. If your minister is dull and uninteresting, shop around till you find one who will keep you awake and be stimulating.

"But I'm not the religious type," many a man protests, "so why should I go to church?"

* * *

Because women are generally of the religious type and it will please your mate! Besides, maybe you'll get to be of the religious type if you expose yourself to this environment for six months.

We know that active church people rarely get a divorce, so be scientific enough to go through these proper motions and see what will happen. Church going must have some powerful influence, so let it work on you awhile.

SEX TECHNIQUES

Then learn the proper sex techniques by which to stabilize your marriage.

Remember, the male and female bodies were not built anatomically so they would satisfy each other sexually—unless a new technique invented by the intelligent modern mind is added to the process.

That's why so many couples get maladjusted at the outset. They think Nature will take care of this intimate phase of marriage, but it definitely doesn't.

So learn the facts, instead of upbraiding each other. Use the proper technique.

It doesn't pay to kick a fender when you want your car to start. Instead, push the starter. The same insight is needed in marriage but woefully lacking.

So send for the booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. It has stopped thousands of potential divorces.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'You Can Spank a Child Without Half Killing It'

I spanked my two sons until they got so big I was sort of afraid to try it again. I'm sure it did them both a lot of good. I see they spank their own children when they go wrong. So that must have decided I was right. You can spank a child without half killing it, you know.

Urges Residents to Enjoy Good Music of Symphony

Tonight Pontiac folks will again have an opportunity to enjoy an evening of relaxation, education and pleasure by attending the Pontiac Symphony Concert. It is an opportunity no one can afford to miss.

It has been said that music has "charm to soothe the savage beast, to crush rock, to bend knotted oak." Recently an American musical organization performed, upon invitation, behind the Iron Curtain a typical American opera, Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess." No spy cry, no propaganda, they spoke to the people with the voice of music and received genuine enthusiastic acclaim.

Listening to good music is like listening to a great sermon. May I suggest each of us take a youngster to the concert? If none of your own, give a well-deserved treat to your newspaper carrier. You'll have the satisfaction of having exposed a youngster to something good and beautiful. God knows they are exposed to ugliness too often.

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The next target of Arab opponents of the Baghdad Pact is Iraq, headquarters of that anti-Communist defense grouping.

* * *

Saudia Arabia, Egypt and Syria won a victory in Jordanian King Hussein's ousting of British Gen. John Bagot Glubb as chief of staff of the Arab Legion in that country.

Now pressure will be put on 20-year-old King Faisal II, cousin of Hussein, in the effort to get Iraq to drop out of the pact.

Saudia Arabian King Saud, in a recent attack on the pact, said "it will be no surprise to me if there is the same kind of rising in Iraq against the pact and its British-paid stooges as there has been in Jordan."

* * *

RACE AGAINST TIME

The pro-Western Iraqi government is making a race against time to try to end great stretches of poverty in the nation through revenues from the British Iraq Petroleum Co.

* * *

Legion says it is the Old Testament's fiery furnace, where Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, flung Shadrack, Meshach and Abdednego.

Now it is a small fire caused by seepage of gas from the oilfield, 3,000 feet below. And since 1927 the oil company has been tapping the riches as an indispensible part of Western European economy.

* * *

Iraq, under the impact of immense oil revenues wisely used has something of the promise and momentum of an Oriental Canada. Egypt, the great rival of Iraq for leadership of the Arab world, not only suffers from a record of past instability but is burdened by a nightmarish economic situation.

STRANGE MIXTURE

Baghdad, the Iraqi capital, is a mixture of modernity and squalid feudalism. At the moment, the British-educated King Faisal is having a new palace built for him—with so much marble in it that the Italian suppliers have a resident agent on the spot.

With a covetous Russia in the northern wings—and Arab pressure from the south—much of the Western retention of strength and position in the Middle East depends on the two Western-oriented men—the youthful king and the old premier.

Adlai Supports Court's Rulings

Says High Tribunal Did Not Exceed Authority in Racial School Decisions

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson says the nation must follow the course "so clearly marked out" by the Supreme Court to eliminate racial segregation in the schools.

* * *

"I do not agree that the Supreme Court exceeded its proper authority in its rulings on school segregation," Stevenson said yesterday. "I think rather that these rulings are correct interpretations of the Constitution and the conscience of the nation."

Stevenson commented on the pledge of 97 Southern senators and representatives to press all legal means to reverse the court's order in a statement on the eve of his return today to Minnesota, where he is battling Sen. Estes Kefauver in the Democratic presidential primary.

"The fact that the list of signers of the 'Declaration of Constitutional Principles' includes distinguished, responsible leaders of a great region of our country is a reflection of the gravity of the racial tensions that have arisen in the South," Stevenson said.

"It is very important to recognize that these Southern leaders urge that violence and extreme measures be avoided. . . .

"It remains my own firm belief that the differences which now divide us can be resolved through legal processes, and in accord with the essential principles recognized by the Supreme Court."

Air Compression Limits

Air compression for airplane cockpits becomes impractical at 80,000 feet, says the National Geographic Society. The machinery required becomes too large and generates too much heat.

Japanese Couple Fighting to Retain Swedish Child

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — The Swedish government and a Japanese couple contested in court today for custody of the pretty, 6-year-old blonde daughter of a dead Swedish woman and an American father who has never seen his child.

The girl's unwed mother was identified as Viviane Wilson, a Swedish national whose father formerly taught at Yokohama National University. Miss Wilson died of tuberculosis less than a year after her daughter Marianne was born in 1949, and her friends Mr. and Mrs. Masakatsu Yamaguchi have raised the little girl.

The court was told the child's father was an American civilian employe of the U.S. Army who returned to the United States before Marianne's birth. His name was not disclosed.

Sweden's minister to Japan, Baron K. G. Lagerfelt, contended in the Yokohama District Court that the child is a Swedish citizen because her parents were not married. He asked the court to appoint him her guardian and approve her removal to Sweden.

An attorney for the Yamaguchis asserted the child had American citizenship from her father, but since he had deserted her she should remain with her foster parents.

The Japanese couple did not appear in court. Their lawyer said Mrs. Yamaguchi had been in a state of semihysteria since learning she might lose the child.

* * *

The court scheduled another hearing on the case for May 4. It was told that both sides were trying to reach an amicable out-of-court settlement.

Says U.S. Folk Seem Relaxed

French Industrialist Is Surprised at Coolness of Americans

NEW YORK (INS) — Americans aren't usually described by visiting foreigners as a "relaxed, unhurried" people, but that's how French industrialist Jacques Michotte sees us.

"Permanently relaxed" people going about their business at an unhurried pace . . . streams of well-regulated traffic . . . skyscrappers staggered to permit the sun to shine between them . . .

This is the picture of America Michotte will take back with him to Paris where life, he says, is much more hectic.

* * *

Michotte is the leader of a group of 12 French executives — top production men in their country's electric cable and cable machinery manufacturing industry — who are on a five-week tour of 25 manufacturing companies in New York, New England, Ohio and Washington, D. C.

HAVE NO WORRIES

"American men and women," said the serene-looking, white haired Frenchman, "all look proud and stand upright, as if each is conscious of his own worth. They do not go along bent over with worry as people do in Europe. They seem permanently relaxed."

Through an interpreter, Michotte, production manager of Ste. Electro-Cable of Paris, observed the "casualness" of Americans.

"The women especially," he said, "do not seem to care what they look like or what they wear. They don't seem to give a hoot what the neighbors think."

* * *

Although he has found America to be a "land of contrasts" in the industrial plants the group has visited, Michotte has found one thing in common — "the high level of efficiency."

"Maybe this is the result of the fact that everyone seems to be conscious of his own usefulness," he commented.

The study tour of Michotte heads, while independently financed, is sponsored by the International Cooperation Administration, a U. S. government agency. The Frenchmen will observe American plants in an effort to standardize and simplify equipment, smooth out production operations and improve raw material control in their own cable industry.

In some parts of northern Canada, mosquitoes are so thick that 280 bites have been made on a bare forearm in a minute.

MSU Choral Group Reveals Spring Slate

EAST LANSING (AP)—Plans for a spring tour for the state singers, 60-voice A Capella group at Michigan State University, have been announced. The concert schedule:

March 22, Croswell; March 23, Alma, Fremont; March 24, Saginaw; March 26, Breckenridge, Au Gres, Gladwin; March 27, Traverse City, Vassar; March 28, Saginaw, Flint, Bad Axe; March 29, Lapeer.

Science Teachers Set for Annual Convention

Science teachers across the nation will gather for their fourth annual convention Thursday in Washington, D.C. Some 1500 members of the National Science Teachers Association will attend the four day session that will focus attention of good classroom instruction and stimulation of interest in science.

Convention keynote address will be given by Under Secretary Harold C. Hunt of the department of health, education and welfare.

Symposia, panels and workshops will be held covering every science field and every level of instruction from elementary school through college level. NSTA is a department of the National Education Association and an affiliate of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Although 1700, 1800 and 1900 were not leap years, 2000 will be a leap year.

We Forget to Be Grateful— Until Our Blessings Vanish

By ROBERT HILLYER
Pulitzer Prize-Winning Poet

It is not remarkable that we forget to be grateful for our daily food, work, shelter and recreation.

Habitual routine goes on, so much a matter of custom that it is not noticed until something goes wrong with it.

Robert Hillyer

When something does go wrong, we call in God as we would call a doctor in time of illness. Prayers mount to heaven in an unceasing stream.

We are suddenly aware that the simple duties and pleasures we took for granted were precious gifts. We would do anything to have them restored. More likely than not they are restored.

For days or even weeks thereafter we move in a glow of thankfulness, but it gradually fades and acceptance again becomes a matter of course.

In my own life I have been delivered from accident and snatched from near-death not once but several times, and I should be both thankless and untruthful if I did not acknowledge the superhuman force that accomplished my survival.

Some years ago I was sitting reading in the living room of my country house after luncheon, when, without the slightest warning, I was seized with a major internal hemorrhage. I vaguely remember the 70-mile ride in the ambulance to the Boston hospital—and the darkness.

SINKING INTO DEATH

Meanwhile, the doctors were giving me transfusion after transfusion. I next remember sliding and sinking down into death as into the profound depths of a sea of exquisite repose.

To remain in that blissful suspense was a temptation that almost made me defy the clear command through all my being to struggle up to the surface again through the dark, suffocating pressure.

If I were to attempt a description of this command, I should compare it to the sharp almost unendurable light that stings and dazzles the eyes of someone desperately eager to sleep on. Yet it was more than that: It was a distinct and personal appeal from Someone who wished me to make a huge effort.

At last, and reluctantly, I obeyed.

STRUGGLE TO LIVE

The slow push upward into life was an agonizing experience. My first clear memory is the look of amazement on the face of the young intern when he arrived in the morning. Later on my great doctor and friend said to me:

"Don't thank me; it was between you and God."

Even now I cannot find words to describe the experience except to say that nature had decreed my death, but God, working through my own will, decreed that I should not die.

* * *

Sir Thomas Browne in the seventeenth century set down his beliefs. Everything he observed showed him the handiwork of God. He never forgot that Presence, and He witheld nothing through shyness. "Life is a pure flame, and we live by the invisible Sun within us." And sleep is "so like death, I dare not trust it without my prayers and an half adieu unto the world, and take my farewell in a colloquy with God."

* * *

But we have found that with every discovery the range of the unknown retreats into yet vaster proportions and that the physical universe has magnified beyond our comprehension.

* * *

Though we may be too forgetful to show full thankfulness or too shy to acknowledge it to our neighbors, it is always there, and without it the whole fabric of our lives, with all the familiar things we hold dear, would collapse.

Missiles Cutting Universal Gaps

Army General Writes on Offensive, Defensive Powers of Satellites

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The problem of creating "One World" now is hurtling toward humanity on the wings of the approaching intercontinental guided missile.—

That's the conclusion a reader draws from views of Army experts in a new, and as yet unpublished book—the first of its kind, entitled "Guided Missiles in War and Peace."

* * *

The book, with a foreword by Commanding Gen. John E. Dahlquist of the Continental Army Command, is authored by Maj. Nels A. Parson, USA. Parson is a writer on guided missiles in military journals, former instructor in guided missile tactics, and now is chief of Review and Analysis Branch, Combat Developments, Headquarters, Continental Army Command. The book will be published in mid-March by The Harvard University Press.

In his foreword, Gen. Dahlquist says: This nation lives under a real threat of devastating aggression. The tempo of warfare has vastly increased and our statesmen are filled with a sense of urgency to find a pattern of lasting peace . . . Guided missiles, especially when atomic armed, represent the most radical changes in weapon systems since the invention of gunpowder. . . ."

* * *

Maj. Parson tells you: "The most powerful destructive force in military operations is the nuclear warhead and . . . the most potent carrier is the guided missile. The atomic guided missile is a most deadly weapon, and all military operations will be radically influenced by it . . .

"The so-called 'ultimate' weapon in air warfare is the long-range surface-to-surface missile capable of spanning the oceans and directly attacking a nation's heartland . . ."

* * *

Builders of long-range high altitude missiles face obstacles of terrific temperature ranges at varying altitudes, the effects of ultraviolet radiation; the penetration of cosmic rays; meteors whizzing into our atmosphere like ultra highspeed bullets; unexpected speeding up or slowing down of the missile, or drift, caused by atmospheric forces; up and down vertical winds of perhaps 250 miles an hour; plus creation of extremely sensitive mechanisms to control the missile under possible violent vibration.

Gov. Williams OKs Bill Expanding Mental Home

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams today signed a bill appropriating $500,000 to start construction on two new units of the Coldwater State Home and Training School.

The units, which will cost two million dollars, will house 448 mentally retarded children. They were authorized by the Legislation last year.

Stave Off Shark

Sewanee Funds High

Quick and Easy on the Draw . . .

My! How sophisticated corduroy has grown! Stepping out with satin and laces to the fanciest formal functions, but retaining its virtues of washability and long wear. What it can do to cheer up a tired room! I'm impatient to copy the gold-colored corduroy drapes Evie's made for her wide living room windows. Needing panels that could be drawn at night, she stitched cafe-curtain heading lengthwise down the side of one panel of corduroy—attached large self covered buttons down the side of a second panel—then buttoned them together. They're handsome, and so easy to handle at cleaning time.

THE WELCOME MAT IS OUT

With all the suggestions contributed for being a good hostess, has anything been said about a guest's contribution? A guest can be a star or a dead geranium! She's not expected to come laden with gifts, but let's hope she'll come laden with thoughtfulness.

Entertaining is usually hectic for all hostesses. There's extra excitement and work, but NO extra help. So blessed is the guest who keeps her eyes open to such things as the need for emptying and cleaning the ash trays . . . takes over part of keeping the children from under foot . . . or ASKS how to manipulate the electric dishwasher instead of guessing. Blessed is the house guest of several days, when she leaves the bathroom in apple-pie order, refolding the towels and washcloths and hanging them neatly on their racks . . . who remembers Dad's shaving time . . . and who gets her own breakfast if she sleeps later than the usual hour for the family breakfast. These are the guests who receive another invitation, for in spite of words to the contrary, a guest always means extra work for a hostess.

ALL THAT GLITTERS IS NOT GOLD

The neighbor gals dropped in yesterday, and during the conversation one of my friends was telling us about eating the many delicacies of the world during her round-the-world trip—all very interesting too. But why travel great distances just to eat, when at any National Food Store you have the finest selection of "worldly" foods right at your finger tips. Maybe they're not all imported, but did you ever hear tell of anyone getting a delicious "Corn Fed Beef" steak anywhere else in the world besides the good old U. S. A., and where's the place to get those mouth watering tantilizing steaks—naturally—NATIONAL! There's one near your home.

Yours for satisfaction,

81 Policewomen to Don Uniforms in Chicago Soon

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's 81 policewomen have been notified they soon will be required to wear uniforms, and most of them don't like it.

After Police Commissioner Timothy J. O'Connor disclosed the uniform plan today, some women objected that:

"Mature figures" aren't suitable for uniforms; that it's a waste of money and will impair efficiency; and "you might as well not have policewomen at all if you put them in uniforms."

Other police commissioners have proposed uniforms for the women but abandoned the idea.

U.S. Politics Forcing Allies Into Economic Soviet Pit

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS)—A group of friendly foreign ambassadors today told this correspondent that election-year pressures within the United States will force their governments to succumb to Russia's smiling new economic offensive—or starve.

Object of their wrath is the administration's recent decision to begin dumping surplus cotton at reduced prices on the world markets. Southern senators—all strongly anti-Communist — are behind the move that may throw some of our strongest allies to the Russian bear.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, seeking to win congressional approval for the administration's flexible farm support program, bowed to demands of cotton senators that we get rid of our surplus cotton overseas. From eight to 14 million bales are at stake.

The action is already having far-reaching repercussions on our friendships with Pakistan, Egypt, Turkey, Peru, Brazil and Mexico—all major cotton producing nations.

Egyptian ambassador Ahmed Hussein whose country depends on cotton for 85 per cent of its exports, told this writer: "America's action will inevitably lead to a price war that will wreck our Egyptian economy. If the U. S. takes away our historic markets, there is nothing left for us but trade and barter with the Iron Curtain countries."

Peruvian ambassador Don Fernando Berckemeyer, agreeing, said the administration move "is bound to wreck the price structure in the world cotton markets and bring untold hardships to your struggling Allies."

Calling it a "dumping" operation, Berckemeyer said the step is "not calculated to promote good neighborly feelings and will do the U.S. more harm than good." He said cotton, which represents 30 per cent of Peru's exports, is the most vital to his nation's economy because it is home-owned, unlike the copper and silver mines controlled by U.S. and British firms.

Science Develops New Tablet:

Relieves "Hot Flashes," Irritation From Change-of-Life For 8 of 10 Tested—Without Costly Injections

Boston, Mass. (Special)—Medical science now offers women new freedom from much of the miseries of change-of-life! You no longer have to face those years with dread. Today, you can have relief from "hot flashes," tortured nerves and other functionally-caused distress... thanks to a remarkable tablet developed especially to relieve these discomforts. Doctors report amazing results using this home treatment alone ...and no expensive injections.

Irritability was calmed. Dizziness was relieved. Suffocating heat waves subsided. A feeling of "well-being" returned for woman after woman. 8 out of 10 women tested found complete or striking relief!

Unlike aspirin and "general-purpose" remedies, this new formula is a unique combination of special medicines... that acts directly on the cause of these troubles. The new tablet acts through a woman's sympathetic nervous system to relieve the tense feelings and physical distress that have brought unhappiness to so many homes. Clinical tests prove it has positive medical action.

This amazing formula is now sold at drug stores, without a prescription, under the name of "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets." Developed by the world's largest manufacturer devoted exclusively to women's ailments! Easy-to-take, contain blood-building iron.

If you are going through change-of-life, don't let it rob those years of joy. Start taking Pinkham's Tablets at home today. See how fast you can feel your happy self again—without troublesome injections! (Also liquid Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

FRIGIDAIRE LEADS THE WAY WITH DOUBLE VALUES

If you've been confused by fancy "discounts" and outlandish "allowances" on refrigerators with inflated price tags, here's big news! We offer you the finest selection of Frigidaire Refrigerators in history—at honest prices that give you the true double values of high quality and low cost.

Top Value 9.5 CU.FT. FRIGIDAIRE

Model FD-95-56

ONLY $329.95

LESS a True-Value Allowance on your present refrigerator (See Trade-In Examples Below)

SEPARATE ACROSS-THE-TOP FOOD FREEZER • JUICE CAN DISPENSER • BIG FAMILY-SIZE REFRIGERATOR SECTION WITH AUTOMATIC DEFROSTING • BIG STORAGE DOOR • THREE ALUMINUM ROLL-TO-YOU SHELVES • FULL-WIDTH HYDRATOR • SLIDING MEAT TENDER • THREE DOUBLE-EASY QUICKUBE ICE TRAYS • BUTTER COMPARTMENT • EGG SERVER • TOTAL STORAGE CAPACITY OF 9.5 CUBIC FEET

There's a 1956 Frigidaire Refrigerator in a size—and at a price—to fit every family's needs and budget. Not "warmed-over" models—not "stripped-down" models—not "Specials" built to a price. Every one is a genuine 1956 Frigidaire Lift to Living refrigerator—with its full complement of big features.

If you're "burned up" about padded prices and phony discounts—COME SEE US!

We could quote you a padded list price of, say, $399.95 on this refrigerator and then offer you $100 trade-in allowance on your old refrigerator. You might think you were getting a bargain.

BUT WE DON'T DO BUSINESS THAT WAY!

Instead, we quote you our low true price of $329.95. Then, even if your old refrigerator is worth only $50 (and it may be worth up to $150) you still get a better buy.

If your present refrigerator is worth a trade-in of, say, $90—	If your present refrigerator is worth a trade-in of, say, $120—	If your present refrigerator is worth a trade-in of, say, $140—
you pay only $239.95	you pay only $209.95	you pay only $189.95

Dulles Commends Viet Nam Progress

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles declared today that South Viet Nam has made "striking progress toward consolidation of a strong and free country" in the past year.

Dulles flew in from Thailand for a 22-hour official visit with President Ngo Dinh Diem and Foreign Secretary Vu Van Mau. He is touring the Far East after attending a conference of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization in Pakistan.

Speaking to a large crowd at Saigon's airport, he said the recent election of a constituent assembly in South Viet Nam "is a significant step toward development of a constitutional representative government."

No Pauper's Grave

BRANTFORD, Ont. (INS) — Frederick Dean, 72, died in Brantford and at the last moment was saved from a pauper's burial. He was found to have left a $50,000 estate. Police are seeking his heirs.

So Say Psychologists

Happy Worker Not the Best

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—You'd think a factory full of happy workers would outproduce one where employee morale wasn't so high.

Not necessarily, say two Kansas State psychologists. They insist there's no significant relationship between employe satisfaction and productivity.

Brayfield noted that employe attitude surveys began to reach their vogue as a personnel tool in the early days of World War II.

* * *

In their analysis of the field, Brayfield and Crockett cite numerous instances exemplified by this study conducted by Brayfield himself:

A job satisfaction survey was conducted among 231 women office employes in the same firm. The findings were matched against the women's production records. The index of job satisfaction agreed with the index of high productivity in only 5 per cent.

* * *

"If you do an attitude survey in a certain plant," Brayfield said, "and return some time later—in this I speak from personal experience—you'll find that many of the workers who got promotions came from the group of those least satisfied.

"I don't mean to advocate that management should neglect to keep its employes contented. But it shouldn't conclude that high production is the necessary result of favorable results in an attitude survey."

* * *

A more fruitful approach for research, he suggested, would be to investigate what "gets people to produce — without being sidetracked by this intervening, and not very significant, angle of job satisfaction."

Virus Vacation for Kids

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP) — Pupils at the suburban Spackenhill School have received an unexpected vacation for the rest of the week. Principal Martha Lawrence last night called off classes until March 19 because 12 of the 18 teachers on her staff are out with virus illness.

Man, 100, Weds Again

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Charley Steward, a Tulsa man who listed his age as 100, was married last night to "a girl up the street half my age." His bride is Miss Beatrice Daniel. His first wife, by whom he had 12 children, died 12 years ago, he said.

British wives are asking laundries to remove the "20 times clause," which limits compensation for a lost article to 20 times the charge for washing it.

Your Income Tax Primer—No. 3

How to Figure Your Exemptions

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
(3rd of 12 articles)

Past experience has shown Internal Revenue that taxpayers have more questions about claiming dependents than about any other part of the tax return. Every taxpayer, regardless of source or amount of income, must determine how many exemptions he can claim.

The easiest way to figure out your exemptions is to use this article along with the brief explanations that are in the official instructions mailed with your blank tax returns.

YOU AND YOUR WIFE

Let's take up first the exemptions for you and your wife.

The official instructions make it clear that extra exemptions are allowed when you or your wife reach 65 or are blind. It will help you figure the exemptions for you and your wife if you remember two things:

First—an individual was 65 or over in 1955 if his 65th birthday was on or before Jan. 1, 1956.

Second—unlike your dependents, you cannot claim your wife as an exemption if she files a separate return to get back the tax withheld on her earnings of less than $600.

If your wife has income of less than $600, you should file a joint return.

Her income has to be included with yours, but you get a $600 exemption for her (more if she is 65 or blind) so it's cheaper than filing separate returns.

Furthermore, even though your wife had no income during 1955, you cannot claim an exemption for her if you file a separate return and she's claimed as a dependent by another taxpayer who furnishes more than one-half of her support.

Another advantage of filing a joint return is that dependents of either the husband or wife can be claimed on the return.

OTHER DEPENDENTS

This brings us to the exemptions you can claim for your children and other dependents.

You will find these tests in Item 12 of the instruction for Form 1040A and on pages 4 and 5 of the instructions for Form 1040.

Remember, unless otherwise indicated in the test, each of your dependents must meet all the following:

1. Received more than one-half of his or her support from you (or your spouse if you file a joint return).

Explanation: Support includes such items as the cost of education, food, clothing, medical care, and lodging expense. If your child, stepchild, or adopted child is a student, any amount he or she receives as a scholarship need not be considered in determining whether you have furnished over half the cost of supporting the child.

Prior to 1954 this test made it impossible for any member of a group, say three brothers, who shared in the support of a parent, to claim an exemption if no one of them contributed more than half the support. Under the new law, a parent can be claimed by one of the brothers provided he contributes at least 10 per cent and the other brothers state in writing that they will not also claim an exemption for the parent in 1955.

These statements should be attached to the return of the person claiming the exemption.

Internal Revenue has Form 2120, Multiple Support Agreement, which you can fill in to supply the necessary information if you desire.

* * *

2. Received less than $600 gross income.

Explanation: This test does not apply to your child, stepchild or adopted child who did not reach his 19th birthday on or before Jan. 1, 1956; or even though the child was 19 or over in 1955, the test does not apply if he was a student in each of five calendar months during 1955.

This means that you no longer lose an exemption for your child just because he earns over $600, but he is entitled to an exemption for himself and this does not prevent your claiming him as a dependent provided he meets the other tests. Remember that gifts or non-taxable income received by the child, such as dividends on GI insurance, disability payments, and insurance proceeds, are not included in his gross income.

3. Did not file a joint return with her husband or his wife.

Explanation: Suppose your daughter was married on Dec. 31, 1955. Even though you were her sole support during 1955, you cannot claim her as a dependent if she files a joint return with her husband.

4. Was either a citizen, or resident of the U. S. or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama, or the Canal Zone.

Explanation: This means you cannot get an exemption for parents or other dependents living in Europe or other places not listed in 4 if they are not citizens of the U. S. If your dependent is a citizen of the U. S., it does not matter where he lives.

5. Was related to you in one of the ways specified in the instructions or who lived with you in your house, even though not related to you.

Explanation: This means you can claim an exemption for someone dependent upon you even though he isn't a relative. He must live with you as a member of your household, however, and meet the first four tests.

NEXT: Reporting income from salaries and wages.

Asks Payment Hike in Paternity Hassle

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An attractive brunette wants Jess Barker to increase child support payments from $50 to $250 a month pending trial of her paternity suit against the actor.

In a superior court petition Miss Yvonne Doughty, 25, said yesterday she requires a "reasonable minimum" of $250 to care for the 3-month-old girl.

Barker, former husband of actress Susan Hayward, has denied that he is the father of the child. Judge Elmer D. Doyle previously had ordered Barker to pay hospital costs and $50 a month support pending the paternity trial.

Buddy Baers Divorcing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Now that she had a property settlement, Mrs. Buddy Baer has sued the former heavyweight boxer for divorce. The suit, charging mental cruelty, was filed yesterday in Superior Court. Originally, Mrs. May Mann Baer, 38, had sued the 40-year-old actor for separate maintenance. Mrs. Baer is the former Miss Utah of 1938.

Viruses Killing Cancer in Tests

Scientists Reveal New Find After Encouraging Results in Patients

WASHINGTON (INS) — Government researchers report that giving patients an illness closely akin to the common cold may help treat advanced cases of cancer.

This new line of attack was disclosed by scientists at the National Cancer Institute, who have already completed "encouraging" tests on 36 patients at their Bethesda, Md. clinical center.

The discovery stems from attempts to produce a vaccine that can prove effective against the so-called "APC" viruses, which bring on symptoms very much like the common cold.

* * *

Researchers at the national Microbiological institute were attempting to grow APC virus in a laboratory culture of uterine cancer cells. The experiments "failed" —but the scientists found to their amazement that the virus actually destroyed the cancer cells.

They took their findings to the cancer institute where it was decided to inject small amounts of APC virus into patients who had received other types of treatment for their advanced cancers.

DAMAGES CELLS

The researchers began by injecting the virus directly into tumors. It was found that the cancer cells were damaged "within a few days." Later, the doctors combined this type of injection with injection through the arteries.

"Tumor damage resulted in all cases," the scientists reported, although the effect did not last long because the body soon built up resistance to the virus.

The scientists are now working on production of stronger virus doses in an attempt to destroy the cancer cells before the body's immunity-building process can nullify the virus action.

Information on the new development was recently submitted by the National Cancer Institute to the House Appropriations Committee.

The researchers also reported important new progress in chemotherapy—the use of drugs to treat various forms of cancer.

They disclosed that contracts have already been let with five commercial laboratories for the screening of 2,000 new chemicals by June 30 of this year. During 1957, another 5,000 drugs will be tested.

To Plan Convention

LANSING (AP)—The board of directors of the Michigan Engineering Society will meet at Lansing March 29 to make plans for an annual convention May 11-12 at Grand Rapids.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

Can You Tie a Bow?

Everyone needs to know how to tie a bow.

Not only must neckties be tied, but packages, shoelaces and ribbons.

Color him brightly and paste the picture on cardboard. Cut it out and cut or punch out the circles under his chin marked X. Strengthen these circles with ring reinforcements pasted on the back — the same kind used for notebook paper.

Take a piece of ribbon, tape or shoelace and thread it through the holes so that the loose ends appear in front, as shown in the small sketch. Fold back the side panels on the dotted lines just enough so that the picture stands up. Now try tying the ribbons in a bow. Your mother or an older brother, sister or friend can show you just how. Practice until you can do a neat job.

George Schwartz of Milwaukee, Wis., gets $10 for this idea. If you have one as good or better, send it to Junior Editors, in care of this paper. It cannot be acknowledged.

Red Cross Has Big Booster in Chicago Hack

CHICAGO (AP) — A Chicago cab driver who has made a habit of helping others plans to dig deep into his pocket this month to aid the Red Cross.

Milton Bronstein, 48, has big signs on his veteran cab reading: "I will match your contribution up to the amount of your fare. The Red Cross needs you. You need the Red Cross."

* * *

He said in an interview today he plans to display the signs each Tuesday during the rest of March and figures it could cost him well over a hundred dollars.

"I thought it might provide an incentive for other cab drivers throughout the country to do the same thing and bring in a lot of contributions," he said in explaining his newest project.

* * *

Bronstein regularly campaigns for many charities, usually having customers put their offered tips into containers for the heart, cancer, polio and cerebral palsy funds.

He has offered the elderly and handicapped free rides to the polls on election day and hauls donors to blood banks free of charge.

Bronstein, a taxi driver-owner and member of the American-United Cab Assn., said his charitable pursuits have not hurt his income.

"In most cabbies' lives there are often hours or days one wastes sitting in restaurants talking, whereas I'm out plugging for charity," said Bronstein who is married and the father of two children.

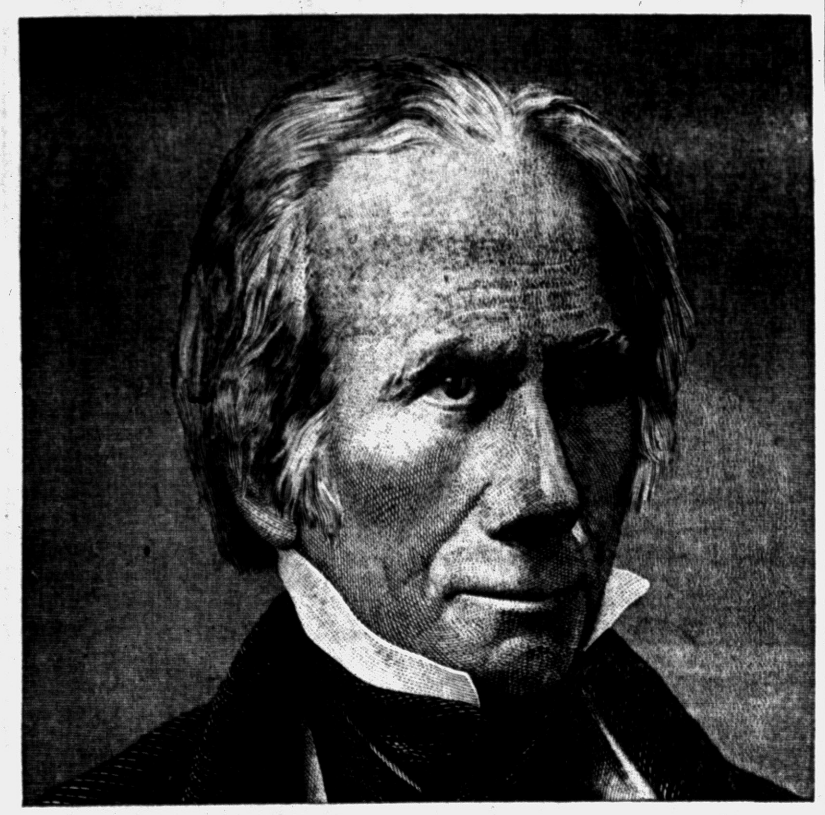

Dublin, Eire, taxpayers are objecting to the plan to pay $980,000 for a new swimming pool.

Discover Body of Bride, 21

Find Charred Remains in Flaming Car Wreck; Suspect Foul Play

ALVA, Okla. (AP)—The charred body of a 21-year-old Northwestern State College bride, who officers surmise was killed by an unknown assailant, was found yesterday in the flaming wreckage of her car on a country road near Alva.

• • •

D. R. Reynolds, teacher and athletic coach at nearby Avard High School, identified the body as that of his wife Mildred Ann. He said she drove the road every day to attend college classes in Alva. He said he last saw her when she left home early yesterday.

Woods County Sheriff Ed Doctor called in State Crime Bureau agents after highway patrol troopers declared the death was not a traffic fatality because "all the evidence shows the car burned too fast. That the fire had some help."

• • •

The sheriff said there were two sets of car tracks leading to a blackjack tree just off the road. He said indications were that the woman's car was forced off the road by another vehicle, then later was pushed back across the road and 150 feet east of the tree. The tree had been snapped off, apparently by the impact of a vehicle.

Reynolds identified the charred body through jewelry, shoes and other articles of clothing.

Officers found several .38-caliber bullet cases on the highway about a quarter of a mile from the scene, but they said they had formed no connection between the bullets and the death.

• • •

Teenage Boys Face Life Term for Killing

BALTIMORE (AP)—Three boys in their teens faced life in prison today following their conviction of first degree murder in the holdup-slaying of grocer Louis Pristoop last Christmas Eve.

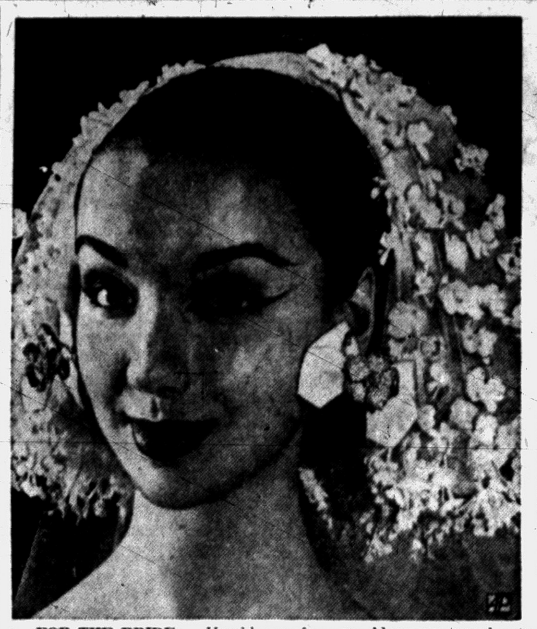

• • •

Sentenced yesterday were Tyrone John Stokely, 17, Edward Butler and Richard Avon Briscoe, both 15. All are Negroes.

• • •

Judges James K. Cullen and Cornelius P. Mundy, who returned the verdict, said only the age and mental status of the boys saved them from the death penalty.

After the slaying the boys fled from the store without loot.

Surface Fleet of Cruisers Seen as A-Striking Power

ABOARD THE U.S.S. BOSTON IN THE CARIBBEAN SEA (AP)—Atomic striking power of tomorrow's surface fleet may be the task force of cruisers firing robot weapons and huge Forrestal class carriers.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, made that prediction to newsmen today before they boarded this forerunner guided missile cruiser to witness the first public demonstration of its weapons.

Burke, discussing the likely composition of future forces, said "you can see that a half dozen Bostons and three or four Forrestals would be a pretty tough nut for an enemy to crack."

The Boston, like the 70,000-ton carrier Forrestal, is on her shakedown cruise in the Caribbean, with her crew learning the intricate technique of firing missiles instead of guns. The Boston does retain two turrets of 8-inch rifles forward. The two twin-mount Terrier missile launchers are mounted aft.

The 673-foot heavy cruiser Boston was commissioned last November after undergoing extensive conversion for missile firing. A second converted cruiser, the Canberra, is scheduled for commissioning next month. The Navy has said a whole line of similar vessels, new and converted, are to follow.

The Terrier antiaircraft guided missile used by the Boston is a slim, needle-beaked weapon of supersonic speed and an effective range of over 10 miles—approximately half that of the Army's antiaircraft missile, the Nike.

Burke commented that "missiles are young weapons and they grow." Besides foreseeing longer ranges, he was forecasting a dual purpose for the missiles—in one form, they will continue to be antiaircraft; in another they will become surface-to-surface bombardment weapons.

Burke also disclosed the Navy hopes to resume conversion work on the partially completed 45,000-ton battleship Kentucky, now at Newport News, Va. Under this plan she would become the mightiest guided missile ship—armed with a variety of guided and ballistic missiles.

Accompanying the Boston today was the cruiser Northampton, a new design of task force command ship directing Cruiser Division 6, which will include the Boston and Canberra. The Navy claims the Northampton, a 17,000-ton ship with standard armament, carries the largest seaborne radar in the world.

Blind Do Better Job

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Nine blind workers at the National Bank of Commerce are doing a job in three days that used to take 15 to 18 workers as long as a week. They are stuffing the annual report of Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. into envelopes to be mailed to some 60,000 stockholders.

George Sees No Tax Cut Yet

Doesn't Want to Tie Up House-Passed Bill on Corporations, Excises

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) said today he knows of no move to add a cut in personal income taxes to a House-passed bill to extend present corporation income and excise rates.

There had been some talk that advocates of election year income tax relief might use this one-year extension bill as the vehicle for their effort.

But George said "I know of no one" who will make such a move and added that "I have no such plan myself." He said, "I do not want to tie up the House bill in any way."

He said he regards it as important to get quick action on the measure to extend the corporation and excise taxes. Without such action, they would drop to pre-Korean War levels on April 1, costing the government three billion dollars in annual revenue.

George has said he hopes an income tax cut, perhaps through a $100 increase in individual exemptions, can be put through this session.

But he reiterated in an interview today he wants to see reports on the April 15 income tax collections before deciding what he might propose.

The House yesterday passed the extension bill 366-4, following the recommendation of President Eisenhower that no drop in excises or the corporation income tax rates at the 52 per cent level for another year until April 1, 1957, preventing a drop to 47 per cent. It also would continue for the next year present excise rates on liquor, gasoline, beer and wine, cigarettes, autos and trucks.

The new Turkish Government has announced in Ankara that it hopes Parliament will approve a bill to insure recognition of the right of the press "to substantiate the validity of allegedly libelous statements."

DRIVE-IN OPENING — The Pontiac Drive-In, 2435 Dixie Hwy., will open Thursday for the 1956 season. In the double billing are "Fort Yuma" starring Peter Graves and Jean Vohs, (above) and "Desert Sands," with Ralph Meeker and Maria English.

More of everything ...but water more life • more flavor • more fun
We at Blatz have an idea that when you ask for beer—beer is what you want. And when a man asks for a beer, he ought to get what he asks for. We say that because we like beer ourselves—because we've lived beer for over a hundred years. And there's nothing we'd rather do than brew beer for people who enjoy it.
That's why Blatz is brewed to give you more of everything you like in beer. Try it. Tonight?

If it's beer you want...
the beer you want is Blatz

Another reason why GM and General Motors dealers are prospering together

WHAT HAPPENS when engineers develop advanced designs which make automatic transmissions smoother – or give them a quicker getaway than they have ever had before?

What changes gave power steering a better "feel" in 1956 – and power brakes even more perfect control?

How about automatic window lifts – or six-way adjustable seats – or air conditioning? There's something that opens up a whole new field to men who have been servicing cars for most of their lives.

So we recognized that we had a duty to our dealers – and their customers.

That duty was – to pass on to dealers' mechanics the best possible information about engineering advances.

This was a big challenge – and it would take a big program to answer it.

It would take, in fact, something that the automobile industry has never had before – complete facilities for individual mechanic training – thousands at a time.

So – in thirty cities throughout the country – new Training Centers were built, new from the ground up.

They were equipped with the service tools, the classrooms and specially trained instructors to make the service departments of our 16,957 dealers the finest in the industry.

The proof of this statement is – General Motors' 30 Training Centers are now handling more than 20,000 service mechanics and other dealer personnel every month.

Advanced thinking and planning, such as this, is surely one reason why General Motors – and General Motors dealers – lead the sales parade.

Rita Is Loser in Contract Suit Against Studio

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Rita Hayworth has lost her $75,000 breach of contract suit against Columbia Pictures Corp. and now faces the studio's countersuit for $150,000.

U. S. Judge Ben Harrison ruled yesterday that Miss Hayworth was entitled to nothing because she had waived her rights, if any, by her own actions. She claimed Columbia failed to start principal photography on the movie "Joseph and His Brethren" in time for her to take her daughter Yasmin to see Aly Khan in Europe July 1, 1955.

When the shooting did not start April 5, Miss Hayworth walked out of rehearsal and refused to return, wiring the studio it had breached its contract. Her suit then was instituted.

The studio had contended in the trial that Miss Hayworth's departure from the movie was inspired by maneuvers of crooner Dick Haymes, then her husband. The court commented at the close of the case that testimony showed Haymes was the source of trouble between the actress and her studio.

Columbia's countersuit alleges $150,000 was spent in preparation for the still unmade movie.

Bit Players' Salary Up

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A fair day's wage for movie bit players has been set at $80 by the Screen Actors Guild and the Assn. of Motion Picture Producers. The new four-year agreement raises the day player minimum from $70 to $80 immediately, and from $80 to $90 on Feb. 1, 1958. The weekly free-lance minimum jumps from $250 to $285 now, and to $300 in two years.

Marilyn Is Becoming 'Most Impersonated'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Marilyn Monroe may as well face it—she's going to be the most impersonated gal of the year—and TV star Edith Adams' takeoff on her at the Persian Room is one of the slickest and most devastating . . . you can almost see Marilyn batting her eyes, parting her lips and whispering, "H-U-L-L-o.o.o.o.o. . . .!"

It's so realistic that when Edith sat in her suite, in her Monroe wig and mostly bare, a waiter bringing her some coffee said, "Pardon me, isn't your name Monroe?" . . . "That's right, James Monroe, fifth President of the United States," said Edith.

Edith's gowns are mostly by Hollywood's Don Loper. Just as her husband, TV star Ernie Kovacs, was ordering a new Cadillac, the bill for the costumes arrived. Looking at it, Kovacs gasped, "Never mind the Cadillac."

Marion Marlowe—who's lost 22 pounds—was ecstatic at the Copa when somebody told her, "I saw you on TV and you looked too skinny." She replied, "Bless you! You've made my whole day. Nobody ever said that before!"

MARION

Barbara Britton made it definite—decided to leave "The $64,000 Question" Apr. 3 to go into the B'way show, "Wake Up, Darling," opposite Barry Nelson . . . Jesse Kaplan reports one TV comic snarling at another one, "Why, you're lower than your rating!"

Pretty blonde Marion Stafford has been fired from modeling on "The $64,000 Question" because she unintentionally posed for some too-revealing pictures in Playboy magazine. Charles Revson, head of Revlon, "was personally upset," she understands.

Miss Stafford, daughter of two Pasadena, Tex., school teachers, says she thought the pictures, taken by a woman, were "test shots," and when she found they were in the magazine, flew to Chicago to try to get them killed. "Daddy," she says, "is just sick about it, and some of my very nice young men friends aren't happy about it, either." She was also fired from modeling on another Revlon show, "Appointment With Adventure."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Laraine Day's TV deal calls for 10 hours work a year; her pay is a new Caddy annually . . . Singer Bill Tabbert is entering W. Virginia State Prison—to visit his cousin, Warden Skeen . . . Judy Garland will do her autobiography for Simon and Schuster.

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

Women's hats are all different because nobody likes to make the same mistake twice.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A lot of the so-called economy in government is like a woman spending $2 for a washable dress—and $300 for a washing machine to wash it in."—P-K Sideliner, Dayton.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Tony Pettito swears he overheard this dialogue: "What makes you think you married the smartest woman in the world?" . . . "She does."

With golfing weather on the way, the only way to get some men to dig in their gardens is to call it a sand trap. That's earl, brother.

Drop Noel Coward From Ford Jubilee

NEW YORK (AP) — British playwright - actor Noel Coward has been dropped as the star of the Ford Star Jubilee television show.

A Ford spokesman said yesterday the first two shows in the Jubilee series hadn't drawn big enough audience ratings.

Coward appeared last October in "Together With Music," a 90-minute program. His last show for Ford was one of his own plays, "Blith Spirit," in January.

No replacement for Coward was announced.

Injunction Puts End to Hubby's Beatings

CHICAGO (AP)—A woman who obtained an injunction Friday to prohibit her husband from adding to her claimed total of 1,151 beatings in 12 years of marriage was back in court yesterday with two black eyes.

• • •

"He beat her twice more before the injunction could be served," explained the attorney for Mrs. Phyllis Valentino, 41. "That brings the total beatings he has given her in their 12 years of marriage to 1,153—assuming she has not overlooked any."

Judge Harry G. Hershenson then issued a new order—that Peter Valentino, also 41, leave the house and pay $40 a week for support of his wife and two daughters.

State Cancer Body to Meet in Detroit

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan division of the America Cancer Society has announced its third annual national cancer conference will be held June 3-6 in Detroit.

Spokesmen at the division's executive committee meeting Monday night said the conference, first time in the Midwest, is expected to attract medical and lay representatives from throughout the United States and 10 foreign countries.

The executive group also presented two awards, for cancer education, to Dr. Norman Miller, professorof gynecology at University of Michigan, and Dr. Frank Rector, formerly of Lansing and no living in Portland, Ore.

Mrs. John Borg of Lansing, chairman of the division's volunteer activites, reported to the committee that more than 15,000 persons have been screened in mass Ingham County lung x-ray tests.

Post Office to Issue New Jefferson Stamp

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department said today the forthcoming 20 cent Monticello stamp will show a photographic view of the Thomas Jefferson home near Charlottesville, Va.

The stamp will have its first-day sale at Charlottesville April 13. The color for the issue remains to be selected.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—What's in a name? Try Kelly Greene for size next Saturday—St. Patrick's Day.

It now belongs to one Grand Rapids youngster, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Greene—and the family isn't Irish.

Kelly's birthday is April 16 and his only connection with the wearin' of the green is his name.

Mrs. Greene said she and her husband liked the name so well they had planned to name their first child Kelly—boy or girl. They agree their son carries it proudly.

Take It From Lilly: You Can Have Glamor

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Many things can be said of Lilly Dache, the peppery Parisian import who makes hats, clothes, cosmetics, friends and money with equal alacrity.

* * *

She is frequently unintelligible when she rattles orders like ze French machinegun. She is often plump, after a trip and before a diet.

She is almost always late (Lilly has heard of time, oui—it's a magazine), and she will sometimes explode temperamentally at the literal drop of a hat.

But one thing must be conceded: Mme. Dache is never "unglamorous." Whatever her age, she is young of heart, and whatever her mood, she is exciting.

* * *

As someone astute once said—when one can irritably rip a phone book apart, and do it with charm—this is glamor.

"If I talk too much about this thing called glamor," says Mme. Dache, "this I cannot help . . because to me glamor is more important than bread and meat. I am perhaps what you call overboard on this subject."

IDEAS ON ANYTHING

That is the beginning of a new book called "Lilly Dache's Glamor Book," in which a woman can read one hatmaker's ideas on anything from how to relax and dress smartly to how to hold down her weight and control her husband.

* * *

In fact, for a mere $3.95 a woman can easily acquire for herself life, love, potential beauty and happiness—Dache makes it sound that simple.

After all: "We have in America today what is truly a golden age for women, and only a woman who is a mule will refuse to make the most of it."

I have only browsed through the book so far, explaining why I fall short of Helen of Troy, but I'd like to recount some tidbits of advice that every would-be glamor girl should know.

* * *

Before you do anything else, "take off all your clothes and stand in front of a full-length mirror. Be brave, for this is going to be a shock." Now take your measurements and, if you don't like them, do something arduous to change them.

EXERCISE 'N' WORK

Mme. Dache suggests, among other possibilities, that you make graceful exercises out of your housework: "When you are doing something like sweeping the porch," for example, "swing your whole body and twist your middriff." (This is taken from a chapter on how to have a nice figure, not how to make friends with the neighbors.)

Relaxing is important to beauty and charm. The newest tip MMe. Dache offers is this nighttime therapy: "Spray some cologne on your pillow," after your bubble bath, "settle yourself with a glass of warm milk and your book, and don't let your mind stray to nagging worries."

Dache celebrated, yesterday, her 25th wedding anniversary. So she heartily recommends that girls get married and that wives hold onto their husbands.

She concedes this is hard because keeping a man happy "may not seem worth the effort" on occasions. Her recommendation: "Even if he is at times difficult and behaves like a spoiled child, even if he puts his feet on the furniture and drops ashes on the rug," don't leave him.

"You must remember how lonely you would be without him."

Space limitations forbid further quotes from the glamor book but, take it from Lilly, everything a woman should know is there.

Woman Admits Slaying of Kin

Waitress Confesses to Killings of 2 Husbands, 3 Daughters, Mother

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — State's attorneys headed for court today with the strange tale of a middle-aged waitress who, they said, admitted slaying her mother, three small daughters and two of her five husbands with arsenic.

Plump, 49-year-old Mrs. Rhonda Bell Martin also told in a signed statement, said Circuit Solicitor William F. Thetford, how she fed ant poison to her present husband, who was once her stepson. He is still alive though paralyzed.

* * *

A preliminary hearing was scheduled in City Court today on the only formal charge drawn up thus far against the auburn-haired waitress—the killing of Claude Martin, her fourth husband, who died in 1951.

She is now married to Martin's 29-year-old son Ronald, who has been under treatment for nine months for arsenic poisoning.

After three days of questioning, Thetford announced yesterday that the bespectacled waitress had signed a statement admitting she poisoned the two Martins, and five other kinspeople.

* * *

Mrs. Martin was vague about a motive for the killings, the solicitor said, but she told of having insurance on all six victims who died. The amount was not disclosed, but Thetford said she recalled receiving between $3,000 and $4,000 from the death of Claude Martin.

Thetford said the woman told of feeding lethal doses of ant poison to 3-year-old Emogene Garrett in 1937; to 6-year-old Anna Carolyn Garrett in 1940; and 11-year-old Ellyn Elizabeth Garrett in 1943. They were daughters by a former marriage.

The solicitor said she also described how she poisoned her second husband George Garrett in 1939, and her mother Mrs. Mary Frances Gibbons in 1944. Garrett was the father of the slain children.

Mrs. Martin denied killing two other children, Judith and Mary Adelaide Garrett.

Grandmother Finally Made Citizen; Once Faced Deportation to U. S. S. R.

BATLIMORE (AP)—Mrs. Matrona G. Karpuk, 62-year-old button-sewer who doesn't express herself in English very well, stood in an almost empty courtroom late Monday and took the oath of citizenship of the United States.

The ceremony —and expected receipt of the citizenship papers today—mark the end of a long ordeal for the quiet grandmother. She once faced deportation to Russia, a land she hadn't seen in 42 years.

Mrs. Karpuk, born in a part of Poland that was then Russian territory, was ordered deported in June, 1954 on grounds she had been a Communist party member. She denied belonging to the party but admitted she had joined the International Workers order to take advantage of an inexpensive life insurance plan it offered.

* * *

The deportation order was fought by Sen. Beall (R-MD). He introduced a bill in Congress to stay the mandate. And yesterday in court, naturalization officers took the position Mrs. Karpuk had not been more than an involuntary member of the now-defunct IWO.

* * *

As she appeared on the verge of winning last September, Mrs. Karpuk was unable ot cvncnieo Federal Judge Roszel C. Thomsen she had adequate knowledge of the principles of American government, and was refused citizenship.

Yesterday, however, she had her second chance to prove she understands the meaning of democracy.

Still, she hesitated in the courtroom before the judge, the officers and a few anxious friends who stood near.

* * *

She murmured dejectedly she did not know "how to start" her answers. But she passed the test.

Before she took the oath she asked if her son Anton Karpuk Jr. an Army major in World War II, could stand beside her while she said the words, and the request was granted.

Muses Club Planning Ninth Annual Antheon Ball

Slate Dance to Benefit Church Fund

Saturday Set for Flower Motif Event at Hellenic Hall

The ninth annual semi-formal Antheon Ball is slated for Saturday evening at the Hellenic Community Hall. The affair, sponsored by the "Muses" will benefit the club's fund for the building program for the new Greek Orthodox church.

Adhering to the literal meaning of the title "Antheon" which derives its meaning from the Greek word "anthos" meaning flowers, flowers will again be the focal point of the decorative theme.

Flowers and ivy covered trellises will set the scene for a Colonial background. Music will be provided by a Detroit orchestra.

Moshoula Athanas is dance chairman and entertainment is being planned by Evelyn Ryeson. Bethania Gregory is handling dance publicity. Tickets are being distributed by Martha Savas and Maria Kiriako, Mary Varon and Helen Govenis are making decorations and refreshments will be provided by Cleo Pantel, Christine George and Martha Savas, Jr.

Pilgrim Group Has Luncheon

"Brotherhood" was the devotional theme of the Pilgrim Group of the First Congregational Church when members gathered with Mrs. Wilbur Rowston of Norton avenue for a luncheon-meeting. Mrs. Harry Lillie, Mrs. James Hatton, Mrs. Henry Noll and Mrs. Ora Travis assisted the hostess.

* * *

Devotions were given by Mrs. J. L. VanWagoner. Mrs. Irving Gillies reported on the parish dinner and also gave a short program based on "Giving." Cancer pads were sewed at the recent meeting.

* * *

PTA Activities

Baldwin PTA will meet Thursday at 2:30 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Fathers Night of Wever-Hawthorne PTA will be held at the Wever School gymnasium, Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The Thursday meeting of Madison Junior High School PTSA has been postponed until March 28 at 7:30 p.m. at Wever School.

Women's Club Enjoys Fashion Show

Mrs. Cecil McCallum, president, presided at the Monday evening meeting of the Junior Pontiac Women's Club held in the Civic Room of the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan building.

A clue to the evening's program was evidenced when the officers presided wearing new spring hats.

Mrs. Edward Eichmeier and Mrs. Frank Anderson presented spring fashions from the De'Cor Shop. Modeling the stunning fashions were Mrs. Claire Hinckley, Mrs. Ronald Hodge, Mrs. Philip Long, Mrs. Donald McCandless, Mrs. Bradley L. Scott, Mrs. George Watters, Mrs. Kenneth White and Mrs. Horace Young.

Announcement was made of the plans for guest night March 26 at Old Mill Tavern. Husbands and guests will be entertained at dinner and will hear Robert Thom, famous illustrator of the history of pharmacy, speak.

* * *

Mrs. Richard Bashore and Mrs. Francis Larkin presided at the tea table. Serving on the committee for the evening along with Mrs. Harry Rice, chairman were Mrs. Russell Auten, Mrs. Watters, Mrs. Donald Ely, Mrs. J. T. Engle, Mrs. Milton Evans, Mrs. Leslie Ware, Mrs. George Morrow and Mrs. Roy Wright.

State Association Has All-Day Event at MSU

Hospital Group Sponsors Workshop

"Your Hospital—For You and Your Community" was the theme of the all-day workshop sponsored by the Michigan Hospital Association Tuesday in East Lansing.

* * *

Thirty-three hospitals throughout the state were represented at the workshop held in Michigan State College Kellogg Center.

During the meeting it was announced that of the 33 hospitals, there had been a total of 104,000 volunteers hours given during 1955 and a total of $150,473 raised for hospital equipment.

Mrs. Harold E. Conklin, president of the Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries welcomed the 211 representatives, and Mrs. H. A. Powell of Children's Hospital Auxiliary, Detroit was the presiding officer.

Greetings were read from Mildred Riese, president of the Michigan Hospital Association.

Participating in the morning session were Mrs. Harry O'Malley, chairman of West Central District; Mrs. Victor Zerbi, Beyer Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, Ypsilanti; and Mrs. J. P. Carr, St. Lawrence Hospital Auxiliary, Lansing.

* * *

Miss Sanders showed slides of the disaster in Flint and told how this city has learned from such an experience. It is now prepared for such emergencies and is not relaxing its efforts.

The speaker pointed out many ways in which hospital auxiliaries can help in a time of distress; pointed to the nurseries which are necessary; to emotionally disturbed relatives who are in need of help at such times, and she pointed to the need for messengers at this time.

Also speaking during the final session was Mrs. Gordon MacMorran of Port Huron General Hospital Auxiliary and Mercy Hospital Auxiliary.

Bowling Green Alumni Planning Saturday Dinner

Alumni of Bowling Green State University will meet for dinner Saturday evening at Devon Gables.

* * *

The Rev. Lyle Loomis of Royal Oak will be toastmaster for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Spitler of Oak Park, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Dotson of Dearborn will serve on the reception committee.

Guests of honor will be Robert Shelton of Toledo, president of the Bowling Green National Alumni Council and Dr. Walter A. Zaugg, former director of alumni affairs at the University.

Dr. Richard V. Jaynes, of Detroit, program chairman, has announced the program will feature a special attraction.

* * *

Election of officers will be held at this annual meeting. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Neil Crowe of Rochester, president of the Detroit Area Alumni Association, and her committee members.

Sisterhood Has Election of Officers

Mrs. W. Henry Sink was re-elected president of Chapter CL, PEO Sisterhood, when the group met Monday for its election and installation of officers.

* * *

A luncheon preceding the meeting was held at Mrs. Sink's home on Avondale avenue. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Max Fell, Mrs. Clark Morgan and Mrs. Martin Wager.

Additional officers elected were Mrs. Charles Matson, vice president, Mrs. Howard O'Toole, recording secretary and Mrs. Morgan, corresponding secretary. Others were Mrs. Waldron Keasey, treasurer, Mrs. Wager, chaplain and Mrs. Harry Chapman, guard.

Delegates named for the state convention in April include Mrs. Sink and Mrs. Wager, with Mrs. Matson and Mrs. Keasey as alternates.

Tuesday Musicale Members Elect Officers

Pontiac Tuesday Musicale members held election of officers, celebrated Federation Day and listened to the annual spring concert by the Tuesday Musicale Chorus at their Tuesday meeting in Fellowship Hall at Grace Lutheran Church.

* * *

New officers for the coming year will be Mrs. Gordon Woolcock, president with Mrs. Ralph Norvell serving as first vice-president. Mrs. John Nicolls will act as second vice-president, Mrs. J. B. Forman, recording secretary; Mrs. Collis Scott, corresponding secretary; Mrs. B. B. Kimball, treasurer and Mrs. E. C. Russell as historian.

Mrs. Woolcock and Mrs. Norvell were elected delegates to the Michigan State Convention of music clubs in Flint April 23-25. Mrs. William Maybury was presiding officer for the election.

The program for the day, entitled "Words and Music" was planned and directed by Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer assisted by Mrs. Addison Oakley. Mrs. G. F. Williams was the soloist. She was heard in a group of three numbers accompanied by Mrs. Gaensbauer. Soloists in the chorus numbers were Mrs. Geraldine Snapp, Mrs. R. G. Gaff and Mrs. Woolcock. The program closed with an arrangement of "Onward Christian Soldiers" assisted by a trumpet trio of Washington Junior High students.

Pontiac Home Awaits Return of Wellingtons

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sullivan of Dearborn are parents of the bride. Dallas is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. James Wellington of Lowell street.

The bride carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy. She chose a white crystallette floor-length gown and a fingertip veil of illusion secured by a pearl-trimmed headpiece.

Jane Johnston and Jane Hansen of Dearborn were the bridal attendants. They wore identical gowns of crystallette in orchid and green, respectively.

Following their March 3 wedding, the newlyweds honeymooned in Pennsylvania. On their return they will reside on North Tasmania avenue.

The engagement of their daughter, Kathleen, to Thomas R. Masters is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Fraser E. Pomeroy of Birmingham. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Masters of Birmingham.

Should Girl Really Use Leap Year?

BY EMILY POST

A reader writes me as follows: "According to tradition, at least so I have always heard, it was supposed to be quite proper during Leap Year for a woman to propose to man. Is this true?"

Answer: How many women have been encouroged to take this opportunity to prod a shy suitor into marrige, I can't answer I am sure there have been a few.

As a matter of fact, when Priscilla said to John Alden, "Why don't you speak for yourself, John?" that was a proposal in a way. From the standpoint of good taste, however, for a woman to actually propose to a man is not approved.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me just when one is supposed to shake hands. I'm never quite sure about this."

Answer: A host and hostess shake hands with every visitor upon entering and leaving. People in receiving lines usually shake hands all the way down the line.

A woman is supposed to offer her hand to a man, but if he offers his hand, she must accept. It is never permissible to refuse a proffered hand. A man shakes hands when introduced to another man. And you, of course, shake hands when greeting friends.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My 18-year-old son and I are going to motor to the coast this summer. We will be stopping in motels on the way. I would like to know if my son and I could share one room or must we get separate rooms.

Many of the rooms have a bed and a sofa that opens up into a bed. We would like to avoid the double expense of two rooms if possible. I will be anxiously awaiting your reply."

Answer: I think you would risk criticism unless he is very boyish looking.

Amvets Auxiliary Has District Parley

District Three Amvets Auxiliary meeting was held Monday evening at Bemis-Olsen Post Home on Oakland avenue. Reports were given by Americanism Chairmen Mrs. Charles Butler and Mrs. Carl Bartlett on a recently held essay contest.

An invitation was extended by Mrs. Cameron Hoxie and Mrs. Walter Dunneback to attend the next meeting being held by Capital City Amvets Post 32 Auxiliary in Lansing.

Refreshments were served by the Wright-Fournier Auxiliary.

Attend Yearly Fete for 30th Time

Annual St. Patrick Dinner

Saturday evening five women will get together for dinner. It will be the 30th time these same women have met for dinner on the Saturday nearest St. Patrick's Day. This year the anniversary falls on that holiday.

In March of 1927, Florence Collins, at that time an eighth grade teacher at Webster School, asked six of her former students to dinner. They had graduated into high school the June before.

Every year since, Mabel Jones Crawford (Mrs. J. Earl), Kathleen Dickie Andrews (Mrs. Marvin), Georgia Ricketts Sanderson (Mrs. Kenneth), Evanca Theodoroff Sharcoff (Mrs. Chris) and Ruth Corbett Janczarek have attended the reunion. Mary Ellen Webster Galbraith (Mrs. Wisner) was a faithful member of the group until she moved with her family to Santa Barbara, Calif.

Miss Collins was hostess for the get-together as long as her health permitted. Then the younger women took over. This year they will meet in Detroit with Mrs. Janczarek.

Mrs. Crawford, a teacher in the Waterford Township schools, lives in Elizabeth Lake Estates. Mrs. Andrews, a teacher at Willis School, lives in Pontiac.

Mrs. Sanderson is a Westacres resident, while Mrs. Sharcoff will travel to Detroit from her home in Toledo.

Gold Star Group Hears Report During Meeting

American Gold Star Mothers, Inc. Chapter Nine, met at the home of Mrs. Edward Ellefson on Cameron street Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Zelphea DeWitt, Mrs. Pauline Smith and Mrs. Therman Floyd were guests of the group.

* * *

A report on the meeting of the Michigan Women's Security Council held at Hotel Leland in Detroit recently was presented by Mrs. Joe Doyle.

Mrs. Sybella Stevens of Holbrook avenue, department historian, will have a vote at the department convention when it convenes at the Hotel Statler, April 18-19-20.

Mrs. Doyle will serve as delegate for the group. Others attending are Mrs. Verke Weatherbee, Mrs. Edna Matheny, Mrs. Edna Olmsted, Mrs. Lauretta Stockwell, Mrs. Lola Erb, Mrs. Julia Thomas and Mrs. Herbert Langdon.

Will Represent Toastmistress Club at Contest

Mrs. Clayton Rule will represent the Pontiac Toastmistress Club at the Area Speech Contest Saturday at Hotel Waldron.

Plans for the affair were completed at the club's Tuesday dinner-meeting at Hotel Waldron. Gertrude Foley served as toastmistrss.

Mrs. W. Arthur Vernon gave a review of the play, "Anastasia." "Fashion is a Husk" was the topic chosen by Mrs. Howard Wheatly. She told how world events and personalities affect fashions.

The special event was conducted by Mrs. J. Wendell Green who called on members to give impromptu speeches on "difficult situations."

Critics for the day were Mrs. Alice Sinclair and Mrs. Lewis Davidson. Mrs. Robert Bunce was chief evaluator and Mrs. George Gaches was tail twister.

HAS PERSPIRATION EVER RUINED YOUR DRESS?

Once a dress has perspiration stains, no amount of cleaning will take them out. Well, here's a new vanishing cream deodorant that stops all that.

DRAMATIC STEAMBATH TEST SHOWS HOW

Arrid with Perstop* Keeps Skin Dry Stops Perspiration Stains

This woman was put in a steambath at 104 degrees. Arrid with Perstop* was rubbed into her forehead. Fifteen minutes later . . .

. . . her face was dripping with perspiration—but Arrid with Perstop* kept her forehead dry. Arrid will do the same for your underarms, too.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Girl Fears Criticism of Family Festivities

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: My aunt and uncle belong to a very well-known club—it's a wonderful place. Twice now they have invited me to go with them and my cousin (she's 21 and I'm 18).

"Liquor is served there, but my cousin and I are served pop. It's the law of this club; it has very high standards.

"Now, does it look all right for me to go there with them? We have a swell time and I really enjoy myself, but I couldn't stand it if people talked about me. Does it look right and proper?

"I make friends the hard way—they're few and far between—'cause I'm bashful. I have a good time with my cousin—she makes me feel at ease.

"But I want respect from people, and I'm worried about my reputation. So please help me."

Answer: Who could possibly reproach you for going to a well-known and respectable club with members of your family?

Certainly not other members of the same club, for, unless you behave conspicuously, they would hardly notice your presence. Certainly not other members of your family, unless they generally disapprove of everything your aunt and uncle do.

Certainly not strangers to you—and their opinions wouldn't matter. Certainly not people you know who aren't members of the club, for they wouldn't know about you going there.

You enjoy going to this club, you feel at ease, and you have a good time. Yet you feel guilty about it. As though everyone were watching you and commenting on your presence.

Actually it's proof of why you have trouble making friends. You're rather thoroughly immersed in your own self. You don't give yourself a chance to care about people.

You don't let them come first with you ever. You are the person of most importance to you—which is no way to attract friends.

Behave like a lady wherever you go, then concentrate on getting to know and to appreciate the people you meet on your rounds. That will take care of your reputation—and make friends for you.

"Dear Miss Woodward: My girl friends want me to go skating with them and their boy friends on Saturday. I said I'd like to go, but my boy friend and I aren't well acquainted. What's the proper way to go about having him go with me?"

Answer: Call him up and tell him a group is planning to go skating together (naming names, particularly of the boys) and you'd like to have him come along, and won't he come to your house for lunch beforehand?

That would give you a chance to get better acquainted with him on your own home ground. Lunch can be simple, and might include another girl and her boy friend. You can meet the other couples there.

If it goes off well, he might be enthusiastic about going another time.

Layered Date Bars Different

Mrs. Lee Rolls Out Crust on Wax Paper, Bakes on Sheet Pan

Here's an interesting way of making the "crusts" for Date Bars. Mrs. Robert Lee is today's cook. An aversion to getting her hands covered with dough led her to using this method. The original recipe came from an aunt of hers in Canada.

There is one grown up child and one in junior high school in the Lee family. Mrs. Lee does some PTA work. The entire family is interested in church work. Mrs. Lee teaches a Sunday School class and is active in a missionary society.

She also enjoys sewing, making some of her own clothes and many of the draperies in her home.

DATE BARS

By Mrs. Robert Lee

1 package (8 ounces) stoned dates, chopped
1 cup sugar
½ cup cold water
1 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
2½ cups quick oats
2 cups sifted flour
½ cup warm water
1 teaspoon soda

Cream sugar and shortening, add oats, flour and soda mixed with warm water. Mix well. Divide into two parts.

Roll between sheets of waxed paper to two rectangular shapes, about 9x12 inches. Be sure that waxed paper is big enough; dough will stretch.

Place on a cookie sheet. Cover with date filling. Place second oats crust on top of dates. Bake about 30 minutes in a 350-degree oven.

Don't Chase Love--Let It Find You

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Some lives are so tightly closed that a lucky break couldn't get its foot in the door if it tried.

* * *

I thought of this the other evening when I went to a lecture on handwriting analysis.

This subject has interested me ever since a French friend, who was stationed here during the last war, told me that it is used in making selections for government posts in his country.

At the lecture, my attention was attracted to two girls who were sitting in front of me. They were young, attractive, well-groomed and well-dressed.

But they had a frenzied, tense look which made me uneasy and would, I am sure, have the same effect, only more so, on men.

TOO BRIGHTLY

In a lull in the question period, I heard one say, too brightly, to the other, "Yes, I come to these lectures every Wednesday. Monday, there's bridge at the club; Tuesdays, a lecture series on philosophy at the church; Thursday is my French conversation night; Friday, ceramics."

* * *

It almost broke my heart. You could tell that they weren't at all interested in these subjects, but thought taking them was a good way of meeting people—especially men — and getting a little quick culture.

But their lack of interest and frenzied compulsion to "get around" made them awfully unattractive.

They would do far better to relax and stay home occasionally and go only to the courses and lectures in which they had a real interest.

* * *

Coming back, I went over in my mind the girls who did meet interesting people and did meet men and marry happily.

Most of them, like these girls, were attractive and had jobs in a big city.

But the difference was, the other girls did what interested them and weren't so busy chasing over town looking for romance.

* * *

They sat back and let romance find them—which it does, if we let it, and if we develop our interests and build a happy life of our own.

After all, as the saying goes, "Them as has, gits."

Them "as has" a happy life of their own, even if it's in a furnished room, "git" the husband who wants to share that life.

Janet Gortner Lists Members of Bridal Party

Janet Lee Gortner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gortner of Orchard Lake avenue, has announced members of her bridal party. Janet is the bride-elect of Abodine Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Peters of East Pike street. The couple plans an April 14 wedding.

* * *

Mrs. William Arnold has been named matron of honor. Janet's other attendants will be Mrs. Gorden Irwin, Mrs. Robert Beltzs, Mrs. Steven Sauers, Mrs. Daniel Adams, Marylyn McCarthy and Iren Peters. Kathleen Ann Sauers will be flower girl.

* * *

Showers being planned for the bride-elect include a personal shower to be given by Mrs. William Arnold of Clarkston, a linen shower by Mrs. Robert Beltzs and miscellaneous showers by Mrs. Robert Edward, Mrs. Thomas Lewis and Mrs. Daniel Adams.

Many Attend Annual Exhibit of Coin Group

An estimated 1,000 attended the fifth annual exhibit sponsored by the Pontiac Coin Club. Judges for the exhibit Sunday at the Knights of Columbus Hall were Andrew Sydlah and Leslie S. Coombs of Detroit and E. C. Henige of Flint.

* * *

John Clemons won a first prize for ancient coins; Walter Willson, a first for U. S. paper currency; Kenneth McLain, third for U. S. broken bank bills. Martha Gravlin, best of show for Civil War cards and tokens; Clyde Gravlin, second for display of U. S. silver coins and another second for display of U. S. copper coins.

John Drozen of St. Clair Shores exhibited a rare 1913 V nickel, one of six in existence, and Clarence Eggleston showed his rare 1856 flying eagle cent.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Hughes of Grand Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roethke were among the out-of-town visitors.

Annual 'Spin' Is Big Event at MSU

Spinsters Take Men to All-University Dance on Campus

By BARBARA JOHNSON

The last all-university social events of the winter term were held last weekend at MSU. One of the biggest attractions was the annual Spinster's Spin. This is the one dance of the year where coeds get a chance to ask the man of their choice.

The entire evening was on the girls: transportation, dinner, corsages, and tickets. The mere fact that Buddy Morrow's popular orchestra played at the dance, promoted many collegians to attend.

Music consisted of a variety of tempos and the latest tunes of the day. Causing a lot of conversation were the unique corsages that the boys wore.

Each girl's initiative and cleverness was brought out by these creations. The object was to make one that was characteristic of the boys interests. For example, a large bow with a harmonica wired on, for the musically inclined, or one with cufflinks and a toy gun for a boy in police administration.

A large clock in the auditorium reading 11:58 carried out the theme of the dance "Cinderella's Knight." The motif was a pink and blue castle with gold pennants flying from the towers.

IF SHOE FITS

A shoe was placed at the back of the auditorium for all the men to try on. Naturally this brought about a lot of confusion and giggling. At intermission the one whose foot most nearly fit the shoe was crowned "Cindy" by name. Incidentally, the shoe was size 14 C.

In addition to the crowning there was entertainment provided by a group of dancers, singing by the Men's Glee Club Quartet, Alpha Chi Omega duo, and a trio from Alpha Phi.

It is apparent that the evening was an enjoyable one for all, and resulted in many pleasant memories.

Attracting a good deal of attention on campus last week was the overflow of the Red Cedar River. With all of the rain and snow that fell, the river rose several feet.

At one point it almost reached the street and at another point it covered one of the footbridges leading to South campus. One brave college man plunged into the icy waters to carry out his end of a $10 bet. The news of his feat traveled fast and brought him a lot of kidding and curious glances.

Friday's State News (the MSU daily newspaper) was devoted almost completely to religion. It presented detailed articles on 16 religions, giving their views, beliefs, origin and customs.

It is felt that this was a particularly appropriate gesture since this is the Lenten Season. The paper also stated that 1,500 students are enrolled in the various religion courses offered here, pointing out the conscientiousness of today's youth.

Biggest 'Surprise Oscar Winner Was Loretta Young

(This is the third of seven articles by the "First Lady of Hollywood" describing dramatic moments in the history of the "Oscar" awards. Awards for 1955 will be announced March 21.)

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The biggest all-time "surprise" winner of an Oscar was Loretta Young for "The Farmer's Daughter" in 1947, and I mean to take nothing away from her fine performance by saying this.

* * *

The rumors had been rampant and the trumpets blowing . . . . Variety, a trade paper, actually printed it in headlines (after its own private poll of eligible voters) . . . Rosalind Russell was a sure thing for her great dramatic performance in "Mourning Becomes Electra"!

Then the big night rolled around and the name of the winning actress was called from the stage of the Pantages Hollywood Theatre, While the audience sat with bated breath, came the call — "Loretta Young"! And an entire theatre full of people were shocked. They felt the heart of a gallant lady and a wonderful girl, Roz, quietly break.

The acclaim for Loretta was heartfelt and enthusiastic. But I think this is the night Hollywood fell in love with Rosalind Russell as one of the best scouts our industry ever has known.

Roz would not have been human if losing the prize hadn't hit her hard. She was half out of her seat when Loretta's name was called. Those close to her heard her give a little gasp, a sharp intake of breath, then she rose all the way to her feet and led the applause as her very good friend Loretta swept happily onto the stage to receive her trophy.

STILL BEST FRIENDS

The fact that Roz and Loretta were, and still are, very close friends made the occasion even more dramatic. Loretta told me later at the "victory" party that used to be held for the winners following the presentations: "My heart is singing with happiness at this honor from my own people, but it's aching for the disappointment of my best friend."

It didn't ache for long. Suddenly, the hundreds of guests were electrified when the door swung open and Roz, who had gone home and changed her dress into something very bright and gay in red, came in. She rushed up to Loretta, kissed her, and stayed to dance and dance and be the gayest guest of the evening.

Few people know, however, what went on between leaving the theatre and arriving at the party. A very close friend who was with Rosalind during that fateful hour told me:

"She was all right until we actually got home. She held her head high and joked with the sidewalk crowds about not carrying the Oscar home.

"But the minute she was inside her own walls she broke down and sobbed like a litfle girl. She was so ashamed. She kept telling Freddie (her husband, Frederick Brisson) and me, 'I'll be all right. It's just an emotional reaction. Just let me sit here a minute. I'll be all right.'

COMPLETELY HERSELF

"And darned in a little while if she wasn't completely in possession of herself. She insisted that Freddie and I mix a cocktail while she went upstairs and changed her dress and makeup. I've never seen a more gallant performance by any actress, only this time there was no camera to record what was really an Academy Award winning portrayal!"

The most surprised male ever to win an Oscar was our good friend Clark Gable, who admittedly "nearly fell over" when he won the little gold statuette for his high comedy performance in "It Happened One Night" in 1934.

The reason Clark was so flabbergasted is that up to this time only the scenery-chewing dramatic actors had come off with the top honor. Comedy, for some reason, was looked on as "easy," which it isn't.

But so great was "It Happened One Night," the Columbia movie starring King Gable and Claudette Colbert, that it practically swept the card. Clark made a cute and touching speech. As he grasped his Oscar he gulped, "I don't feel at all funny."

I remember so well the night Clark and Claudette won their unexpected awards. Claudette was all packed to go to New York and had no intention of attending the Academy banquet. She didn't expect to win and she had an important business engagement in the big town.

A hurried call went out to Claudette, breaking the news to her that it was imperative that she come to the dinner at once. That was before TV announced the winners. The newspapers had been alerted in advance to make the late editions.

There was no time for Claudette to dress in evening clothes. She arrived dramatically on the scene dressed in a tailored suit, small hat and with her traveling bags. It was the first and only time a star wore street clothes to this affair.

Both Claudette and Clark have been going full speed ahead ever since that eventful night.

Bing Crosby was so wonderful in "Going My Way" that I sincerely believe he was the only person truly surprised when he came up the winnah. In 1944, the beloved crooner was crowded by such hot competition as Alexander Knox's fine portrayal of Woodrow Wilson in "Wilson" and Dana Andrews in "Laura." Bing, himself, was convinced that Knox would win.

* * *

When he found himself standing in the middle of the stage with the spotlight on him, clutching his gilded prize, Bing proclaimed to the world, "This is not only the first time I have been selected 'the best actor', it is one of the few occasions I have ever been called an actor!" Bing is even hotter today than he was in 1944.

Commander to Attend Legion Birthday Fete

GOOD HAIR STYLING
How do you choose your hair style? Do you ask your hairdresser to give you what is new or perhaps you've cut an attractive hair style out of the paper to show her. A friend at bridge may be the inspiration for your new spring style. These are quite natural things to do but they do not always lead you to a happy choice. So many things enter into a choice of a hair do, texture and color are not among the least. A good style should be in the new trend but modified to meet your particular need. The most satisfying solution is a talk with your hairdresser about the prevailing styles and how they might be adapted to suit you.

Wolverine Lake Election Slated

Voters to Cast Ballots for Three Council Posts on April 2

With late returns still coming in from elections held at some Oakland County area villages this week, still another community has announced a coming election for next month.

Wolverine Lake

Voters of Wolverine Lake will go to the polls April 2 to elect three candidates to the village council.

The remaining positions on the seven-man governing board will not be open until 1958.

Oscar Fritz, James Farley and Jim Bierley were elected for two-year terms when the village was incorporated in 1954. At the same time, Kenneth Cattrell, president of the council, along with George Belprez, Walter Dawes and Ed Sims were elected to four-year terms.

The April election will center around the posts held by Fritz, Farley and Bierley. This time, however, election to any of the three open positions will cover a four-year period.

The names of nominees will be announced on March 23.

Marlette

The council holds meetings on the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

Metamora

Others elected in the Monday balloting were Grove C. Morse, clerk; C. W. Albertson, treasurer; Gordon Ribble, assessor; and Floyd Walker, Lee Whiteman and Lloyd Jacubos, trustees.

Albertson won the treasurer's post by 8 votes over Mrs. Ingeberg Maslin's 30. Others came in by fairly wide margins.

Dryden

In an uncontested election at Dryden, candidates picked by the village caucus system were placed in office.

* * *

G. Harold Leever was elected president; Dale Wilcox, clerk; Hazel McCauley, treasurer; Robert Weingartz, assessor; and Robert McCauley, Oliver Braidwood and Earl Faulds as three-year trustees.

A total of 29 voters turned out to the polls.

Wolverine Lake Full-Time Clerk Is John Finlayson

WOLVERINE LAKE — The fast-growing village of Wolverine Lake, only two years old, now has a full-time village clerk.

He is John C. Finlayson, one-time clerk, tax collector and assessor of Sylvan Village. He assumed the new position on March

Adult Shop Course to Open at Holly

HOLLY—A ten-week course in adult shop work is starting at the Holly High School shop building. Classes meet Thursday evenings at 7:30, with Orvid Harju of the local faculty as instructor.

A six-week course in basic and novelty adult dancing, meeting on Tuesday evenings at 8 o'clock at the high school gymnasium, also is offered, with Mrs. Helen Brown as instructor.

Cites Improvement of Fire Department

ROYAL OAK — City Manager E. M. Shafter has reported to City Commissioners that there was a "decided improvement" in the morale of the Royal Oak Fire Department.

Fire Chief Clyde Wray was given six months to improve the general adminstration of the department last fall, after an investigation by the city's Employe Relations Committee. The city commission took the report under advisement for study and discussion at next week's commission meeting.

Southfield Optimists Set Sports Program

A film on the beauties of inland lakes and fresh water streams where fighting fish abide will be featured. D. D. Moyle of the Helin Tackle Co. of Detroit will present the movie

The regular meeting will be followed by a board meeting.

Speaker to Tell Bureau of Juvenile Traffic Court

NORTH BRANCH — Lapeer County Undersheriff William Porter will be guest speaker at the meeting of the North Branch Communiy Farm Bureau, to be held at the home of Mrs. Carrie Reid, 3924 West Huron St. Thursday evening.

Porter will talk on the Juvenile Traffic Court, recently set up in Lapeer.

DeMolay Unit to Be Instituted

State Representatives to Officiate at Lake Orion Ceremony

LAKE ORION — Active state representative for Order of DeMolay, Harold F. Koch, will institute the Lake Orion Chapter in ceremonies Saturday at 7:30 p.m., at Lake Orion High School.

Local school and civic officials have been invited to attend a 5:30 p.m. dinner at the Masonic Temple, honoring all new candidates.

Cheery Chums to Hold Annual Party Friday

Members of the group will bring gifts for their chums and at the same time reveal who their secret chums are. There will be a pot-luck dinner.

Family Night Postponed

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Due to conflicting dates, Family Night at the Waterford Community Activities building will not be held tonight as previously announced. It will take place on Wednesday, April 4, instead.

Miss Waterford Contest Planned

Township Jaycees Slate Sports-Building Show Queen Competition

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Details of the new "Miss Waterford" contest, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, were announced yesterday by Donald Arsen, chairman.

* * *

The queen, who will be eligible to compete for the Miss Michigan title, will be chosen because of her poise, speaking ability, facial and figure attractiveness, posture and taste in clothing.

Three women and two men will compose the judging committee. The Jaycees have scheduled a dinner meeting for the judges and entrants next Wednesday evening.

The contest will be a highlight of the forthcoming Sports and Building show to be held March 23, 24, and 25 at the CAI building.

* * *

On that Friday evening, the ten girls who have the highest scores will be chosen. On Saturday, five of these will be eliminated, and the queen will be crowned Sunday.

Those interested may obtain more information by calling Mrs. Charles Pappas, OR 3-9091.

Nola Ann Snyder Becomes Bride of Earl Colburn

IMLAY CITY—Nola Ann Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Snyder, and Earl Colburn, son of Clarence Bush, spoke their marriage vows in the First Congregational Church Saturday. Only the immediate families were present at the 7 o'clock ceremony.

* * *

* * *

Walled Lake Decides Sale of $350,000 School Bonds

WALLED LAKE—The Walled Lake Board of Education awarded the sale of $350,000 in bonds to Braun, Bosworth and Co. of Detroit at the low average bid of 3.3681 per cent.

The premium will cost $160 and interest on bonds maturing between 1957 and 1975 will be 3½ per cent, and on those between 1976 and 1981, 3¼ per cent.

Sale of these bonds represents the first sale of the most recently voted $750,000 bond issue approved by the community. The remainder of the bonds will be sold as construction proceeds.

In other financial transactions the board voted to call $45,000 of the 1951 issue and $100,000 of the 1953 issue on May 1. Notice of redemption of these bonds will be posted prior to April 1.

The board of education agreed to supply housing for the community library in the junior high school building, provided that the library committee will provide lights and that the organization and administration of the library are jointly approved by the board of education and a committee from Commerce Township.

A teaching contract was approved for Mrs. Barbara Sanders to teach the sixth grade at Wixom. She is a graduate of Southwestern College in Winfield, Kans.

Following the receipt of a letter from the Commerce Oil Co., the board agreed to release the company from its contract to supply oil to elementary buildings.

In final business the board approved the auditors' report and bills for payment.

Imlay Church to Hold Course in Leadership

IMLAY CITY — The Methodist Church will conduct a Leadership Course for church school teachers beginning at 8 p.m. Thursday in the church fellowship rooms. It will be continued on March 18 and 21st.

The Rosary Altar Society sent Mrs. George Pridmore and Mrs. John Spencer as delegates to the 18th Annual Day Convention of the Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women, held at the Hotel Statler, Tuesday.

Business Women to Back Waterford Tennis Courts

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Following a talk by Thomas Belton, Waterford Township recreation director, the Business and Professional Women's Club here voted last night to support the community's proposed tennis court project.

The club will sponsor a rummage sale later this month to raise funds for its donation, members decided. It is hoped to net enough profits to donate $300 to the project.

The club also voted to participate in the "Meet Your Neighbor" campaign, sponsored by the Federated Women's Clubs to promote a Pontiac civic auditorium.

Plans were made to attend the annual district meeting April 22. This year the 24 clubs in the district will convene at West Bloomfield Township Hall. The Waterford, Keego Harbor and Pontiac organizations will serve as hosts.

Commerce Township Board Meets Tonight

COMMERCE — The regular monthly meeting of the Commerce Township Board will be held at 7 p.m., today, in the township hall, 2840 Fisher Ave.

Among items on the agenda will be the question of whether the board should purchase outright or obtain three new voting machines on a rental basis.

Planter Club Schedules Films, Talks Tomorrow

ROCHESTER—The Planter Club, a newcomers' group in Rochester, will present two cancer films as a feature of the regular meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Rochester Library.

Principal speaker will be Mrs. Helen Williams, education chairman of the North Oakland County branch of the American Cancer Society. Dr. Edgar Geist will be present to answer questions.

Women's Relief Corps representative Mrs. Harriet Porter also will give a short talk on her organization.

The regular board meeting of the Planter Club was held last week at the home of Mrs. J. A. Watson Jr., newly elected president of the club, with new officers and committee chairmen in attendance. Programs for the coming year were presented by program chairman Mrs. Robert Shimmel.

Plans for a style show and luncheon at the Sylvan Glen Country Club are being arranged for the April meeting of the group by a special committee.

Hal Boyle Says:

Something Perfumes Air---Ah, It's Spring

NEW YORK (AP) — Spring has busted her girdle.

A wind that promises freshness to everyone sweeps like a benediction across the land.

It has been such a long, hard winter. It is such a pleasure to look across the acres dull with the duty of yesterday now freshened with the promise of tomorrow.

SO MUCH GREEN

There is about this time such a bewilderment of tossing boughs, such a fog of confused buds, opening with restless fingers into leaves that know where they are reaching, such an over-all fog of purposeful greenery!

Anywhere in the country now spring ruptures winter with a rapture evident to all. Wonder holds the eye.

In town, however, nature is policed by a duller constable. Yet the man in blue, plowing his daily city furrow, is first aware of the difference.

The old cop, plodding a worn beat, is the one who naturally is first aware of any change in the neighborhood. He has swung a wondering club at a brooding bud, broke it wide open, seen the pale green birth leaves it sheltered, pondered how he would get his own kids through school.

DRUM BEATS

Meanwhile the people he patrols are stirred by an ancient rebirth. The old drum of humanity, tossed aside during the winter but not carried away by the neighborhood garbage collectors, begins to beat . . . beat . . . beat.

In the big city there is no such thing as a first robin. Spring is a wind. It does odd things.

This wind churns up old, uncollected winter dust and blows it into everyone's eyes. But even as they grumble they realize there is something different about this wind.

The staleness of perpetual cold has gone from it. Behind its chill is a hidden warmth. A penetrating freshness flows through it.

AH, FRAGRANCE

The old people in the park lift sad eyes and welcome renewal. Young people who live in their own particular dark grudgingly greet a brightness they had forgotten and thought might never chance their way again.

Along the pavement the big fat male pigeon pursues his irrefrangible path toward a duller-clad lady pigeon who is seriously stumbling all over her feet to keep from getting out of his way.

Ah, spring. Sweet majesty. The seas sigh softer. The air sings. All land-bound creatures send and surge toward freedom. Oh, blossoming, rule the world! Stride on tremendous feet.

Now is your time. It is such a little while.

Long Ball Missing, Tigers Lose 3-2

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The answer to the Detroit Tigers' search for long ball hitters does not appear to be showing up among the second stringers.

Manager Bucky Harris now has used mostly reserves and minor leaguers in the three exhibition games. The club hit total is 22 and only three of those blows were more than singles.

Benny Downs blasted a home run Sunday. He's still on the Charleston roster but is bound to be promoted if he continues his good work. Jack Phillips, a holdover from the 1955 club, doubled on Sunday and Charlie Maxwell, another holdover, contributed a pinch double in yesterday's 3-2 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Twice yesterday the Tigers had the bases loaded. Once they brought in one run with a sacrifice fly. The other time all three were stranded.

* * *

Against the Cardinals the Tigers managed nine hits but they had to rely on sacrifice flies to score both their runs.

One encouraging factor in the St. Louis loss was the Tiger pitching. On the whole it was very good. With some hitting support it would have been good enough to win.

Frank Lary opened and gave up four hits in the first three innings. He struck out two and didn't walk anybody. Lary was followed by Dick Marlowe who faced only 11 men in his three inning stint. He was touched for one hit and walked a man.

* * *

Babe Birrer was the only Tiger hurler to run into trouble and it didn't take him long. After retiring the first man to face him Birrer hit Alex Grammas, gave up a single to Hal Smith on a hit and run play and then made a pitch too fat to Cardinal pitcher Gary Blaylock. Blaylock blasted it far over Downs' head in left field for a triple.

* * *

Birrer settled down but in the next inning, while pitching to Stan Musial, he pulled a muscle in his side and had to retire. But Black answered the hurried call to the bullpen, walked Musial and Rip Repulski, gave up a single and then Grammas squeezed Musial home on a sacrifice bunt. All three of the runs were charged against Birrer.

The Tigers faced the Cardinals again today, this time on Detroit home grounds at Lakeland.

World's Best in Skate Test

Albright, Heiss, Hayes, Jenkins Among 100 in U.S. Championships

* * *

Ten titles will be decided by Saturday night. Entrants in the men's and ladies' novice school figures go through their paces today.

* * *

Most of the attention is centered on the senior ladies' singles championship. Tenley Albright, trying to extend her reign as ice queen to a third straight year, faces the challenging opposition of 16-year-old Carol Heiss.

Hayes Alan Jenkins, 22, Colorado Springs, Colo., will be trying to make it five years in a row as men's senior singles champion. He is the Olympic and world titleholder. Jenkins will oppose Ronnie Robertson, 18, a Californian who gave him a great run in the Olympics, and his talented 18-year-old brother, David Jenkins.

Miss Albright, 20-year-old Bostonian, defeated Miss Heiss, of New York, for the Olympic Games' championship in Italy. A few weeks afterward in Germany, Miss Heiss, a high school junior, outscored Miss Albright for the world's title.

Waterford Rec Meet in Semis

The Waterford Recreation League tournament reached the semi-final stage after last night's action which saw Drayton Drugs eliminate Johnson and Anderson 82-44 behind Clarence Beers' 24 points. Joe Umphrey had 23 for the losers.

In the other game, Mannys dropped Beattie 63-50 as Dick DeWitt hit 25 points for the winners and Dick Carter 29 for Beattie. Next Monday night Clarkston will face Poole at 7:15 p. m. and Drayton will go against Mannys at 8:30 in the semifinals.

The finals will be played Tuesday night.

Calumet Entry Among 14 in Fountain of Youth Race at Gulfstream

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The final major test for Florida Derby eligibles, the $15,000 added Fountain of Youth Handicap, will be run at Gulfstream Park today with 14 competing.

* * *

Ten of the sophomores entered in the mile and a sixteenth feature are eligible for the $100,000 added derby at a mile and a furlong 10 days hence.

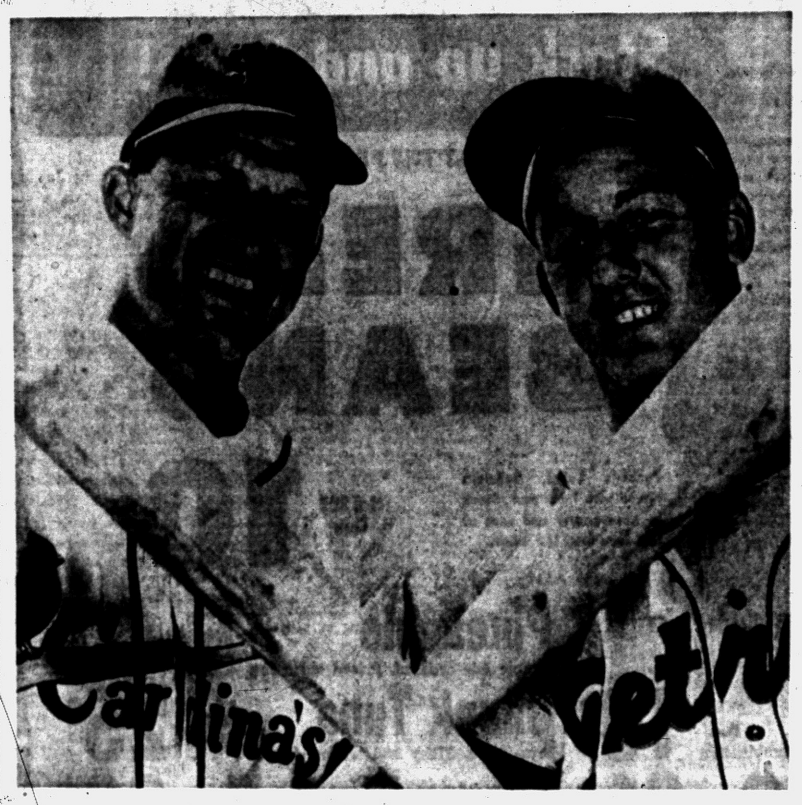

* * *

Early favorite for the Fountain of Youth is Calumet Farm's Fabius, third in the recent Flamingo Stakes, who shares top weight of 118 pounds with Maine Chance Farm's Busher Fantasy. The latter goes as an entry with Busher's Idol, assigned 110 pounds.

Mrs. Henry Obre's Skeptical Kid and Mrs. E. K. Weil's Plain Chance also run as an entry. Skeptical Kid carries 112 and Plain Chance 108 pounds.

Meets Saxton Tonight

Basilio Defends Welter Title

CHICAGO (AP)—It's slugger vs. boxer for the welterweight championship of the world tonight as champion Carmen Basilio defends his 147-pound crown against ex-titlist Johnny Saxton in a nationally televised bout.

* * *

Basilio, a wade-in belter, held as a 2-1 favorite as the two little scappers turned up for the official weigh-in at the Chicago Stadium (1 p.m. EST) where the 15-round title match will be contested beginning at 10 p.m. EST.

A crowd of 10,000 is expected to contribute a $75,000 gate with another $50,000 coming from TV-radio. The fighters will split 30-30.

* * *

Excepting an 80-mile blackout of the Chicago area on TV, the scrap will be beamed to the nation's video and radio fight fans via ABC.

This is the second title defense for Basilio, 28, who won the championship from Tony DeMarco June 10, 1955, and then repulsed DeMarco's bid to recapture the crown Nov. 30, the champ's last start.

* * *

Saxton, 25, lost the 147-pound title to DeMarco April 1, 1955, on a 14th round TKO in his very first defense after winning the toga from Kid Gavilan with a much-debated decision Oct. 20, 1954.

Although tonight's principals have somewhat similar records, Basilio with 48-11-7 and 22 knockouts and Saxton with 50-4-2 and 20 KOs, the muscular little titlist from Canastota, N.Y., is regarded much the harder puncher.

While Basilio was dishing out two knockouts to rugged DeMarco last year, both in 12 rounds but the first called a technical KO, Saxton chilled only one foe, Jimmy Fuller.

Furthermore, Basilio is riding a 15-bout unbeaten streak dating from a 15-round loss to Gavilan in a 1953 title match at Syracuse, while Saxton gets this title shot after a modest comeback.

* * *

Saxton had won four straight since being dethroned by DeMarco, but that string has only one notable verdict. That was a 10-round decision over Tiger Jones Nov. 9, Saxton's last start.

CHICAGO (AP)—Tale of the tape for the Carmen Basilio-Johnny Saxton world welterweight championship bout tonight:

Coercion Charged

Fight Manager Suspended

* * *

The action came after Pirolli declined to be sworn in as a witness yesterday at the commission's hearing into charges that he and Herman Taylor, widely known fight promoter, had conspired to take over the management of Johnson by coercion.

* * *

Morton Witkin, counsel for both men, advised Pirolli not to be sworn in."

* * *

The hearing was on citations brought by the commission against Taylor and Pirolli to show cause why their licenses should not be suspended or revoked by the state.

Favorites Fall in NCAA Tilts

Four Teams Picked to Win Get Bounced in Eastern Eliminations

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Defending champion San Francisco, Iowa, Kentucky and Utah had better forget about favorite roles in their opening games Friday in the National Collegiate Championship Basketball Tournament—this eyear's shindig is fast becoming a haven for underdogs.

All four favorites were given the boot in the first-round Eastern eliminations at Madison Square Garden, with Dartmouth toppling West Virginia 61-59 in overtime and Connecticut walloping Manhattan 84-75 in last night's windup doubleheader.

And at Wichita, Kan., Southern Methodist, considered the best club to come out of the Southwest Conference in a long, long while, had to scramble to get past Texas Tech 68-67.

Oklahoma City was the only favorite to come through without too much trouble last night, belting Memphis State 97-81—but even with a 64-point second half, the Chiefs didn't see the lead until the last 10 minutes.

THE POWERHOUSE

By Jimmy Powers

Ebbets Field is getting along in years and the Dodgers no longer think it a proper house for the baseball they play. The answer to their stadium problem, it seems, is to erect a Brooklyn Sports Center.

O'Malley's original scheme called for the city to condemn some acreage so that he could build his own park, but the servants of the people figure on a big athletic center, which would accommodate sports and crowds of all kinds.

It's funny how the ball bounces. It wasn't too long ago our Dodgers were two jumps ahead of the sheriff and couldn't go into a bank to get a blotter. Now, the most modern of stadiums is in the works.

Right about now, I'd like to wonder outloud what Charley Ebbets would think and say if he saw what was going on.

★ ★ ★ ★

Some of the graybeards in the sports writing lodge will recall the trials and tribulations old Charley went through to erect the present "inadequate" Ebbets Field.

EBBETS BECAME CLUB PRESIDENT IN '97

In 1897, after 14 years of club service, Charles Hercules Ebbets found himself with enough stock to become club president. His first move was to shift the club back to South Brooklyn from East New York, where is had migrated eight years before.

★ ★ ★ ★

Thus, you can see, the Jersey City switch is not new to the Dodgers. They were pulling stakes due to lean crowds when JC was still considered a British possession.

The financial setbacks in East New York forced Ebbets to lease land between First and Third Sts. and Third and Fourth Aves. The contractors threw up a fence and wooden grandstand and the "new" Washington Park was ready for business.

Inside of 10 years, though no flags were won, Ebbets was starting to yell that Brooklyn needed a new park. The fact that too many cash customers were being turned away for lack of space probably had something to do with Charley's yelping.

Realizing that if Brooklyn was to have a new home he'd have to build it, Ebbets began buying parcels of land in a four and a half acre plot in Flatbush known as Pigtown. When Charley spotted the territory, it was being used as a garbage dump by neighboring residents.

Just when he was acquiring his land at no great expense, someone got wind (no easy trick in a garbage dump) of what was going on and in no time, landowners were doubling and tripling their prices.

In March, 1912, Charley, pretty well strapped for cash, broke ground for the new park. In company with Ebbets as the squire turned the first spadeful of dirt were the Brooklyn newsmen, known collectively as "The Four Kings."

"The Kings"—Abe Yager of the Brooklyn Eagle, Lew Wooster of the Brooklyn Times, Bill Granger of the Citizen and Bill Rafter of the Standard-Union—were the most influential scribes in the borough.

"I dunno, Washington Park, I guess," replied Ebbets.

"Washington Park?" roared Wooster. "That name means nothing out here. It's your monument. You're in hock because of it."

AND SO THEY NAMED IT FOR CHARLEY

"All right," said Ebbets, "we'll call it Ebbets Field."

Halfway through the construction, old Charley suddenly ran out of money. However, in August 1912 Ebbets field was assured when Charley induced the McKeever Boys to back him.

In return for their $100,000 investment, the McKeevers—Ed and Steve—received 50 per cent of the club's stock. That was a partnership that the heirs on both sides later regretted. But, when the dough was needed, the McKeever brothers supplied it and Charley Ebbets never forgot that.

Penalty for Stardom!

Williams Hits Politicos in Podres Draft Case

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Ted Williams says Brooklyn pitcher Johnny Podres faces drafting by "gutless" authorities "for no other reason than he gets famous by beating the Yankees in the World Series."

* * *

The Boston Red Sox slugger lashed out yesterday on the Podres case as typical of policies toward well-known ball players.

* * *

Podres recently was reclassified 1-A from 4-F after being deferred three years due to a bad back.

"Podres is paying the penalty for being a star," said the fuming Williams. "If Podres had lost those World Series games, he would probably still be with the Dodgers."

Williams blamed the situation on "gutless draft boards, gutless politicians and gutless sports writers."

"When Podres became a hero in the series," Williams continued, "some politicians said: 'Why isn't a big strong kid like that in the Army?'

"The draft boards didn't have the courage to oppose the politicians and the sports writers are equally to blame because they didn't take up the case for Podres.

"Here's this kid who was deferred three years ago for a bad back and then what happens? He wins a couple of games, gets famous and some two-bit draft board puts the arm on him. It's a damned shame and something should be done."

* * *

Williams' blast brought into the open a tender subject to the players. And it was the first public utterance in the field by baseball's colorful "Thumper" who was recalled as a Marine flier at 34 for Korean action in 1952 after a World War II hitch.

* * *

Williams decried what he called the inequality of deferments which allow college students and major corporation employes to continue their work while players are robbed of some of their comparatively few productive years.

In a Class B game, opening the Flint Regional, Lapeer bowed out to Flint Tech 48-43 in a hotly contested argument that was not settled until the final minute.

Kentucky Next

Wayne Upset Minded

DETROIT (INS)—Wayne University's surprising basketball team—which upset DePaul 72-63 Monday night in the opening round of the NCAA—prepared for its final home workout this afternoon before departing for Iowa City where the upset-minded Tartars will meet the University of Kentucky.

The game with the Wildcats—who are heavily favored—will be played Friday at 7:30 p.m. (CST).

Wayne gained stature with its win over DePaul since DePaul lost to Kentucky 71-69 at Lexington and won 81-79 in Chicago. Kentucky won 18 and lost five playing one of the toughest schedules in the nation.

Coach Adolph Rupp's team finished second to Alabama in the Southeastern Conference race but got the big chance when Alabama refused the invitation.

Guard Clarence Straughn was the entire show at Fort Wayne as he paced the Tartars to their win with 27 points.

Coach Joel Mason's team received added help from another Detroit sophomore, Bob Kendrick, who chipped in 14 points and did a commendable job of helping center George Brown under the boards.

* * *

Coach Mason, who celebrated his 44th birthday by watching his team win one of the biggest games in Wayne history, had high praise for the entire squad. "It was a team effort," he said. "They did just what they had been told to do. It showed what I've felt all along, that this team could play anyone in the country."

* * *

Regional Play Gets Heavier

By BILL CORNWELL

Marine City survived a last half rally by Detroit St. Bernard to hang up a 68-55 victory and St. Gregory outlasted St. Cecilia of Detroit, 58-53, in the initial engagement.

* * *

St. Gregory tangles with Marine City Friday at 7 p.m. in the 1st half of the 'C' semis.

The balance of the Class C field swings into action tonight on the PHS court. St. Michael's Shamrocks clash with Lake Shore at 7 o'clock and Orchard Lake St. Mary encounters Highland Park. St. Benedict at 8:15.

Marine City had everything its own way in the 1st half. The Mariners started fast and compiled a 21-9 lead entering the 2nd quarter, then increased the margin to a prohibitive 40-19 count at intermission.

St. Bernard managed to draw within five points early in the 4th period, 51-46, but the Mariners regrouped their forces and scored eight straight points to put the game out of reach.

The St. Gregory-St. Cecilia battle was hotly-contested from start to finish. The two squads were deadlocked at halftim, 24-24, and the score was tied six times during the 3rd quarter.

* * *

St. Gregory's Cherokees put on a six-point spurt near the end of the 3rd period to grab a 42-36 edge and the advantage stood up.

Don Gallagher paced the Cherokees with 24 points. The loser's Dan Griffin fired 27 points to take game honors.

St. Mike will be confronted with two sizeable problems tonight against Lake Shore. First, the Shamrocks are facing a strong team which finished 3rd in the Class B Bi-County circuit. Second, they must stop Don Sharpe, high-scoring forward who rewrote the league record books this season.

The Eaglet-St. Benedict match brings together two Suburban Catholic League rivals. Orchard Lake twice dropped decisions to the Ravens in the SCL race.

SOUTHFIELD BEATS BERKLEY

East Detroit, highly regarded as the team to beat in the Birmingham regional, swept past Detroit St. Joseph 71-59 in the first game with Southfield easily ousting Inter-Lakes rival Berkley 58-57.

The Shamrocks of the Eastern Michigan League put together a well balanced scoring attack headed by Gary Ballman and Ed Zormeier each with 18 points to win with ease.

Inter-Lakes champion Berkley could not overcome early jitters as Southfield moved out into an 8-0 lead. The Bears scored their first two-pointer with 1:30 remaining in the first quarter.

* * *

Big Bruce Gentile, 6-4 center, collected only seven points as three Jays hit in double figures. Guard Ken Moser who had only two free throws in the first half, added 15 points in the second half to finish as the leading scorer with 17 points.

Southfield led at halftime 23-20. The Jays then proceeded to widen the margin as much as 16 points in the second half with the Bears moving no closer than six points at anytime.

East Detroit and Southfield will meet in a single game Thursday night. Tonight at 7:30 p.m. Royal Oak tangles with Catholic Central in the first game with Birmingham and Mt. Clemens taking the floor at 9:00 p.m.

More Competition

Publinx Body Plans Bigger and Better State Affairs

Michigan's Publinx Golf Association is going out after more widespread entries in its annual links championship, this year, than ever before. So says the new prexy, Pontiac's Roy Iceberg.

Iceberg was named president for the current period, after rounding out the unexpired term of Tex Ellison, who resigned last November. MPGA's annual meeting was held the last weekend at Redford G\ Club, at which time Iceberg and other officers were elected, and provision made to line up more outstate entries for the June 8-9-10 1956 state tournament at Saginaw.

Other officers are: Vice-presidents, Jay Law and Harold Rutledge of Detroit; treasurer, Clyde Bates, Detroit and secretary, Al Bezverkov, Detroit. Don Nelson, Royal Oak, heads the tournament committee; George Greenhalgh the handicaps and Tex Ellison, publicity.

Jim Briegel, Ann Arbor, Hugh Pittman of Jackson and Walt Van Sickle of Saginaw were named district representatives to handle entries from their areas. Others will be named for Flint, Lansing and Grand Rapids.

Iceberg says the MPGA wants the National Publinx back in Michigan, and is already talking sites and dates. Nothing definite can be done now until the 1959 season. James Standard, Detroit, told the MPGA that finances for a national would be provided, if the event is brought back here, Iceberg reported.

The group heard a fine talk on an African "golf safari," by Charles Kendrick, who announced the state amateur would be held at Jackson's Country Club and the Cascades course, July 11-15.

The White Sox have not won a pennant since 1920.

Skippers Out, PHS Moves in for 1st Test

By H. GUY MOATS

Waterford's basketball Skippers paid a brief visit to the big Flint IMA floor last night, and came away with some very interesting experiences — along with a 58-36 defeat at the hands of the Saginaw Valley Conference kings. Pontiac High's Chiefs move in tonight for an 8 p.m. date with Port Huron.

Coach Don Beedle's club didn't look too bad against the veteran Flint Northern Vikings in the 1st Class A game of the Flint Regional tourney. As it turned out, the top scorer for the game was Skippers' 6-4 Chuck Gillis, with 10 points. But Jack Marlette yanked his regulars after the 1st few minutes and ran in a flock of subs. Beedle matched Vikings in this particular, using 15 players and cleaning his bench.

Waterford scored 1st against Vikings, but soon lost the small margin and rapidly became submerged. At halftime the count was 33-15. Skippers had a lot of trouble with free throws, getting only 7 in 20 tries. They collected 14 baskets in 61 shots while Vikings bagged 19 in 63.

Northern faces Lansing Eastern Friday at 9:30 and the PHS— Big Reds winner meets the winner of tonight's Sexton — Flint Central tilt.

Chiefs — Reds setto should be a fast, close test. The clubs have the same overall record (10-5), stand about equal in height and each has an outstanding performer. Chiefs' ace is Willie DeWalt and the Reds have Rich Robins. Both are fine scorers, good rebounders and ball handlers.

North, South Test Begins; Wiffi Will Defend Title

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Sixty-eight players from 22 states, the District of Columbia and Canada stepped to the firing line today as the 54th North and South Amateur Golf Tournament for women got under way with an 18-hole qualifying round.

* * *

Signalling the northward trek of the players, who've been golfing in Florida for two months, the North and South has a field making up in quality what it may lack in quantity.

Playing the 6,000-yard, women's par-74, No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club for the first time, she was only one over par for 13 holes.

19th Annual Wildlife Week March 18-24

Theme of Event Is 'Save Endangered Wildlife'

The 19th annual observance of National Wildlife Week has been scheduled for March 18-24 by the National Wildlife Federation.

The 1956 Wildlife Week theme will be "Save Endangered Wildlife" and a nationwide educational program will point up the plight of fish, birds and animals that face extinction over vast portions of their natural range.

Included in the "endangered species" category are the rare whooping crane, a species down to its last 28 individuals now wintering in Texas, and the ivory-billed woodpecker which some experts believe may already be extinct.

Other species to receive attention are the grizzly bear, Everglade kite, Eskimo curlew, Attwater's prairie chicken, lake sturgeon, bighorn sheep, sea otter, Key deer, California condor, Montana grayling, trumpeter swan and the lake trout of the Great Lakes.

'Sonic' Plug Now Devised to Lure Even Educated Fish

By JACK PATTERSON

PATTERSON

Next summer's fish, even educated ones, have a rather nasty little surprise in store for them if the James L. Heddon company has its way. This Dowagiac tackle manufacturer has introduced a "sonic" plug which reportedly sends out a vibration that no right-thinking fish can resist.

Noisy plugs, of course, are nothing new. Gadgets scientifically tuned into the fish's favorite channel are something else again. The sonic plug does this by means of a vibrating fin and a resonant body which "broadcast" at a frequency near the upper threshold of a fish's audio receiving range, which, in case it has slipped your memory, is about 9,000 cycles.

We see no reason why this sound-attraction principle shouldn't work very well, particularly in waters which are something less than crystal clear, or on those deep, dark nights when fish are itching to be taken, but are hard to locate.

As a matter of fact, sound vibrations may be the key to a minor mystery which has troubled us, in a rather satisfying way, for a number of years.

* * *

* * *

Now, admittedly, the clanking together of the downy fibers of a marabou feather wouldn't be likely to create a commotion that would be heard any great distance up or downstream, but maybe there's enough vibration for a trout to sense that something — something badly needing attention, is in the immediate area.

If you've got any better ideas on the subject, we'd be glad to hear them. Maybe we ought to forget about streamers and try a tuning fork with gang hooks.

They don't make things the way they used to, and its a good thing. Got out some fly lines the other night to see if they'd go the route another season.

* * *

One in particular, a popular non-sinkable (we'll go into that at a later date) variety had been laying in a quiet state of decay since last June, thoroughly soaked in that vitriolic black fly dope the Canadians are so fond of, and which bites worse than the flies.

* * *

It was pretty well stuck up with bits of leader, remnants of plastic fly boxes, assorted oddments of paper and whatnot. After it was untangled, no mean feat in itself, the line felt a trifle tacky, as you might imagine. It was a likely candidate for the incinerator, but in a fit of frugality we decided to try to save it.

The ice jam on the St. Clair river below Roberts Landing may be a source of concern to riparian owners but the quiet backwater it creates upstream is greatly appreciated by large numbers of canvasbacks. These fowl find it a splendid place to loaf, preen feathers, and give in to their one character weakness, which is eating minnows.

Chess-Checker Tourney Slated Monday Night

An open Chess and Checker Tournament, sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, will be held next Monday, March 19, at the Adah Shelley Branch Library. Starting time is 7 p.m.

The tourney will be conducted on a single elimination basis. Chess winners will be determined by the best of three games per match; checkers four games per match. Trophies will be awarded to winners of both events.

All registrations and trophy fees must be done in the Parks and Recreation Department's office at City Hall by 5 p.m. this Friday. Eight entries are required in each event to hold a tournament.

Program Shows Dogs at Work

Sunday Demonstration Has Trained Spaniels in Field Action

A free demonstration of well-trained spaniels working in the field will be held Sunday, March 18, at 2 p.m. at 40545 Fourteen Mile Road, Walled Lake. It is sponsored by the Huntersfield Kennels.

Anyone interested in witnessing spaniel field work is invited. Teenagers are especially welcome. These demonstrations are held in the interest of conservation of upland game by training spaniels to return all downed game, as well as flushing the birds.

Lure of the Smelt!

Annual Run Big Attraction

LANSING — Smelt spawning runs, expected in late March or early April, will attract thousands of persons to Michigan streams to net the tasty little fish.

Exact time of the spawning runs varies from year to year and is influenced greatly by water temperatures.

Studies of spawning runs indicate the earliest begin in the northern Michigan watershed region late in March, while the latest get under way about mid-April in the Huron and Superior watersheds of the upper peninsula.

Best spots to dip smelt are in streams that flow into the northern third of Lake Michigan, including Green Bay. The next best locations are in streams and cuts that drain into the Saginaw Bay area.

Hand nets, not more than five feet in circumference, may be used to take smelt in designated waters up to May 31. Larger dip nets may be used in certain non-trout waters from April 1 to May 31.

OCSC Wins Match by Single Point

A single point in the handicap division of last night's rifle shoot against Detroit Great Lakes Club gave Oakland County Sportsmen's team a match victory. Event was shot off at OCSC's range at Waterford and the host team fired 939 in actual and 1013 in handicap against Great Lakes' 883—1012.

The scores—OCSC, Frank Brusha 189, Jane Martini 187, Margaret Kempel 188, Merrick Guy 189, Treeful 186 for 939 (actual); Martini 201, Kempel 206, Guy 203, Vitasinski 202, D. Bennett 201 for 1013 (handicap).

Ward Predicts Moore Victory

Detroiter Fails in 2nd Try at Pompey, Figures Him Easy for Archie

LONDON (AP)—Moses Ward, the Detroit, Mich. middleweight who failed in his attempt to make it two victories in a row over Trinidad's Yolande Pompey, predicted today that Archie Moore will have little trouble defending his light-heavyweight title June 5.

* * *

"Moore will win by a knockout or easily by a decision," he said. "Pompey will meet the champion at the right weight and he'll have plenty of trouble."

The once-postponed Moore-Pompey match is scheduled for London's White City Stadium.

Pompey, outweighing Ward by more than six pounds, 170¾ to 164½, was credited with a seventh technical knockout last night when the bearded Negro failed to answer the bell for the eighth.

"He was too strong for me," said Ward. "But he had me in a bad way several times and a better puncher could have finished me earlier."

ASHLAND DETERGENT FLYING OCTANES

Proved power gain measured on the Dynamometer, the nationally accepted scientific measurement for engine power. Thanks to detergent Flying Octanes Gasoline, harmful engine dirt is driven out while you drive. Result: increased power, smoother performance, a better engine

NON-DETERGENT REGULAR

But here's proved power loss measured on the same Dynamometer when harmful engine dirt from non-detergent gasoline builds up as you drive, robs your engine of power. This actual power loss was measured with engine developing maximum power, operating at a constant speed.

Why accept less than an ASHLAND DETERGENT gasoline!

GRAPEFRUIT League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sal Maglie, the erstwhile barber of the New York Giants' pitching staff, apparently is out to make a clean start with the Cleveland Indians this season.

1. Regain the healthy salary cut he took in signing his 1956 contract.

2. Prove that he's not washed up at 38.

3. Win his first American League ball game.

Maglie, who reportedly was slashed the maximum 25 per cent in salary, was sitting atop the baseball heap a scant five years ago. He won 23 games for the Giants in 1951, the year the Dodgers "lost" the pennant.

* * *

He still had enough on the ball to come up with 14 victories in 1954. But he had a 9-5 mark last summer before the Indians bought him from the Giants. With Cleveland he was 0-2.

Yesterday, however, the menacing - looking righthander from Niagara Falls, N. Y. gladdened the heart of Manager Al Lopez by turning in a brilliant three-inning stint against the Chicago Cubs.

The Indians won the exhibition game 11-7 but it was Maglie's showing that made the victory that much more palatable. He walked the lead-off man, Gale Wade, and then set down the next nine Cubs in order, registering three strikeouts.

* * *

Meanwhile, Maglie's former teammates, the Giants, maintained their perfect exhibition record by edging the Baltimore Orioles 7-6 on George Wilson's single with the bags loaded in the 11th inning. The triumph was New York's fourth straight. The Giants got home runs from rookie Bill White, West Westrum and Dusty Rhodes. Dusty was a pinch-hitter (what else?).

* * *

The New York Yankees won 3-2 over the Boston Red Sox. But it took a running catch by outfielder Bob Martyn to shut off a Sox rally in the ninth. Frank Sullivan turned in three scoreless innings for Boston while Mark Freeman worked four scoreless frames for the Yanks.

Ten pitchers paraded to the mound as the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the Kansas City As 11-10. The game was a weird one with 19 bases on balls, 3 wild pitches, a couple of balks and a wild pitch or two thrown in.

* * *

The Milwaukee Braves collected 21 hits in routing the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers 13-0. Wally Post and Chuck Harmon homered as the Cincinnati Redlegs blanked the Philadelphia Phillies 9-0 and the Chicago White Sox jumped on lefty Dean Stone for nine runs in the first three innings and a 9-2 victory over the Washington Senators.

Morey Shoots 65 in Warmup

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP)—Dale Morey of Indianapolis showed promise today of becoming the second amateur to beat some of the nation's top home professionals in the $5,000 Gulf Coast Invitational golf tournament.

Morey, a member of the U.S. Walker Cup team last year, fired a six-under-par 65 to serve notice he would be hard to beat when the 10th staging of the tournament opens tomorrow.

But it also includes Jim Barfield of Grand Rapids, Mich., Bill Jellliffe of Denver, Colo., Hank Mercer of Nashua, N.H., and Al Watrous of Detroit.

Genesee Club Spring Trials This Weekend

Annual spring field trial will be held this weekend, March 17-18, by Genesee County Sportsmen's Club. A number of open events are listed for the trials, to be held east of Goodrich on Hegel road.

Irish Gridders Join Forces at Air Force Base

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Ralph Guglielmi and Dan Shannon, who combined their talents at Notre Dame to become an All-America football combination, then separated for pro football and business, have been reunited at Lackland Air Force Base here.

The last time the two had joined forces was in the East-West game of Dec. 30, 1954, at San Francisco, where they helped tilt an East all-star victory.

Wings' Alumni Lead in Shutout for Bruins

BOSTON (AP)—Red Wing alumni figured all but exclusively last night in Boston's 1st shutout victory over Detroit in 53 National Hockey League games.

Ex-Detroiters Vic Stasiuk, Real Chevrefils and Jerry Toppazzini each scored a goal as former Wing goalie Terry Sawchuk blanked his onetime mates, 4-0, in a bruising game that swept the Bruins into 4th place in the NHL standings. Johnny Pierson scored Boston's other goal.

Two of Boston's goals were hotly protested by Detroit. Red Wing goalie Glenn Hall was handed a misconduct penalty for a too energetic display of pique at a couple that got by him.

No one argued about Chevrefils' opener at 9:38 of the 1st period. But Hall screamed the goal was illegal when Stasiuk was credited with the next tally at 18:37 after Leo Boivin's passout bounched in at close range off his chest.

The Pierson hit on a 15-foot backhander that whistled off Hall's arm just as Stasiuk whizzed by and took what Hall said was a cut at him. Hall said it was interference. Referee Jack Mehlenbacher held Stasiuk was knocked into Hall by a Detroit player.

Despite a raft of running blowups in the last 10 minutes of the game, Mehlenbacher took official notice only when Larry Hillman and Marcel Bonin came to blows with five seconds left. Each drew a major penalty.

Bruins gave the idle New York Rangers a shot in the arm by defeating Detroit. Wings are in 2nd place with 75 points — two more than the 3rd-place Rangers have. Detroit would have won, New York would have had virtually no chance of overhauling the Wings.

Hall flung his stick into the net in protest and chased Mehlenbacher halfway down the ice. That brought the misconduct penalty with its automatic $25 fine.

Dutch Reibel worked the entire game at center for Detroit, wearing his new harness as protection for a dislocated shoulder. It was his 1st game since he was hurt last Thursday.

All-Events Leader

Truck Driver Tops in ABC

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A Milwaukee truck driver today held first place in the all-events division of the American Bowling Congress tournament.

* * *

Matt Bruder posted a nine-game total of 1,879 yesterday to better the previous high of 1,864 rolled earlier in the tourney by John Jinookie of Chicago.

* * *

In the only other change in the regular division standings, Horace Yomtob and Michael Rapchick of Erie, Pa., rolled into a tie for third place in the doubles division with 1,250.

Yomtob scored 667 and Rapchick 583 to pull abreast of Henry Kaminski and Frank Caruso of Youngstown, Ohio.

Schwartz, a 42-year-old bowling supply salesman, racked up 11 strikes in his final singles game for a high 279. He missed a perfect game on his seventh ball when he left the six pin standing. He rolled 175 and 188 in his first two games for a total of 642. It was not good enough to put him among the division leaders.

Wins Boston Award

BOSTON (AP)—Golie Terry Sawchuk, formerly of the Detroit Red Wings, is the winner of the Elizabeth C. Dufresne Trophy, awarded to the Boston Bruins' outstanding player in home games. Sawchuk was obtained from Detroit before the opening of the National Hockey League season.

Titans Finish 4th in All-MVC Total

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The University of Houston is the winner of the Missouri Valley Conference's all-sports trophy as the team scoring the most points in six sports.

Houston won the basketball and tennis championships and wound up with a point score of 2,675. Oklahoma A & M, winner of the track and golf titles and a share of the baseball crown with St. Louis, was runner-up with 2,637.5.

Wichita finished 3rd with 2,192 and Detroit, the football co-champion, 4th with 2,137.5. Tulsa, Bradley and St. Louis finished in that order.

Still St. Nick's Shows

The University of Detroit will play a 10-game football schedule next fall. The first game is at home Sept. 21 against Marquette.

Housing Project Proposed for Aged

WASHINGTON (INS)—Development of new homes for elderly persons over 65 years of age promises to be a lively issue in the present session of Congress.

Senate Democrats are sponsoring a bill to provide 50,000 special public housing units over the next five years for aged persons while Republicans have introduced a bill to authorize 75,000 units over the same period of time.

Congressional experts expect the Senate to pass a compromise bill on the issue but it's still a toss-up whether the House, which consistently opposes public housing in any form, will go along with the Senate and approve the proposal.

A buzzard with a four-foot wing span attacked A. J. Hutchins in Parracombe, England, when he saved a hen it was holding in its talons. Hutchins killed the buzzard.

A crowd of about 1,000 islanders watched as the archbishop and his three fellow exiles disembarked from the British frigate Loch Fada. There were no demonstrations.

Gunman Loots Bar Never Before Robbed

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Over a sociable beer a customer asked bartender Virgin M. Washam if the place ever had been robbed.

"Nope," Fasham said.

Anxious Man Decides to Inflict Own Justice

UNION, S. C. (AP)—Magistrate J. Lee Gregory says he told a man charged with a minor crime to come by his office for trial at a certain hour. When the defendant got there, Gregory was out.

The man left a note: "Gone to the gang."

Gregory found he had gone to the county road gang camp, told the supervisor "I come to make 10 days."

Canine Rabbit Fancier Finds Sitter for Pups

But she became a mother and having a family of four required a puppy sitter if Belle was to chase rabbits.

So Belle arranged with a Rhode Island Red hen who likes nothing better than spreading her wings over the pups while Belle roams. The pups like it, too—it's warm

Let's Have a Party!

LAWTON, Okla. (AP)—Prisoners in the Comanche County jail didn't try to escape when hacksaw blades were smuggled into the jail. They sawed an opening into an adjacent vault where liquor was stored, helped themselves to a dozen bottles of wine and started a celebration.

Mendota, Minn., claims the smallest town jail in the United States — a five-by-five-foot stone building.

Copper, Steel, Oil in Spotlight

NEW YORK (AP) — Copper, steel and oil shares sparked a strong advance in the stock market in late morning dealings today. Chemical, motor and rail issues also were ahead in the general upswing.

* * *

Gains ran to around 3 points. Losses were infrequent and generally in small fractions.

The high speed ticker ran behind in reporting transactions from the floor as the drive ahead came near the close of the first hour. The market had opened mixed, and then began a gradual climb.

* * *

Kennecott Copper was a feature, up around 3 points, after its president forecast substantial earnings for 1956. Anaconda and Phelps Dodge rose around a point as the government postponed delivery of 36,000 tons of copper to stockpiling in an effort to ease the domestic shortage of the metal.

Revere Copper & Brass was ahead a major fraction after the company announced it is raising its prices for copper products by three cents a pound. Revere said the new prices are predicated on the basis of 49 cents a pound for its copper supply. Major producers have been charging 46 cents, after a three cent hike three weeks ago.

* * *

In the steel division, Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet were up around 1½ and U. S. Steel rose about a point. Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, reported today that the steel supply in the next three months will be just as tight as it has ever been.

Other strong issues included Chrysler up more than 2 and Phillips Petroleum up more than 1½.

* * *

The advance came after the market time yesterday, closing a shade lower on fairly close mixtures of gains and losses. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks yesterday closed at $186.20, off 30 cents from the historic high set on Monday.

Traffic Fatality New Year's 1st

Record of 1955 Shows Two Deaths by March in Road Mishaps

The city's first traffic fatality of the year occurred yesterday with the death of an Auburn Heights man whose car was struck by a train, according to Pontiac police. A report from the Traffic and Safety Bureau shows that by this time last year two persons had died in automobile accidents.

During February, 82 accidents occurred in which 33 persons were injured, 11 of them severely, the report says.

Failure to yield right of way, speeding and following too closely remained the major causes of accidents, which the report indicates happened at intersections in over half the cases last month.

The five pedestrians injured in February all were struck down at intersections, the bureau said.

Ex-National Head Addresses State PTA Officials

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Parents-Teachers Assn. should be an action group, a one-day conference of more than 500 local leaders of Michigan PTA groups at Michigan State University was told Monday.

"The PTA must stir up the community to see its educational responsibilities and opportunities," said Mrs. Lucille P. Leonard of Providence, R. I., immediate past president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. Leonard suggested a six-point program for local groups. These included:

4—Seek up-to-date school equipment.

Two New Mental Units at Coldwater Set for '57

COLDWATER (AP) — Two new units at the Coldwater State Home and Training School should be ready for occupancy by the summer of 1957, Dr. Edward J. Rennell said today.

* * *

Dr. Rennell, director of the school, said the units will provide beds for 448 mentally retarded children.

Legislation providing for the units was signed into law yesterday by Gov. Williams.

Mother Dies Never Knowing Son Was Dead

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Thirteen years of merciful deception ended when Mrs. Rebecca Orleck died yesterday without learning that her son Joseph died a Navy hero in World War II.

Mrs. Orleck, bedridden for 15 years with twin hip fractures, believed the neatly contrived 'white lies," strange happenings and sometimes implausible explanations given by her daughter Ethel as to why Joseph failed to return from the war.

* * *

"It had to be this way," said Ethel, "for if mother found that her youngest son had died, I'm sure the shock would have killed her. I had the help of my brother Ben until he died last October, and then I had to explain Ben's absence as well as Joe's. I only hope I did the right thing."

Lt. Joseph Orleck was killed off Salerno, Italy, in 1943. A 2,250-ton destroyer, the Orleck, was commissioned in his honor at Orange, Tex., in 1945.

May Ask Dismissal of Assault Charges

Authorities today planned to ask for dismissal of charges against Thomas E. Hunphrey, 58, who was deemed mentally ill after the stabbing of his wife, 48, last month.

Humphry, 7181 Pontiac Lake Rd. was ordered committed last week to a state or veterans administration hospital. Held in Oakland County Jail, he is scheduled for examination today in Pontiac Municipal Court on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Police said Humphrey admitted slashing his wife Helen Feb. 4. on the grounds of Pontiac State Hospital where she is employed.

Solons' Pension Plan Up for Senate Vote

LANSING (AP) — A legislative retirement plan which will cost taxpayers up to $200,000 a year was before the Senate today after sliding through the House under the gag rule.

* * *

The bill, which passed the lower chamber by an 83-21 vote, would allow legislators with 16 years' service to get state pensions of $2,000 a year after they reach age 60.

Under the plan legislators would contribute 5 per cent of their salaries for their own pensions or 7 per cent to give their widows pensions.

Lawmakers in the current Legis- benefits. Thus, a legislator with four years service now would be eligible without contributing a cent to the plan.

* * *

Senate Nearing Wheat Decision

Tighter Limits on Debate to Speed Vote; Domestic Parity Plan Passed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate buckles down under tighter debate limits today to complete its version of an election year farm bill now containing a new wheat price support plan opposed by the administration.

A combination of Democrats and wheat state Republicans wrote into the bill last night, by a 54-39 margin, a "domestic parity" program for wheat.

* * *

This is designed to assure that wheat used for human food in this country will bring growers a return equal to 100 per cent of parity—in other words, a fair return in relation to their costs. Wheat going into export, livestock feed and similar uses would be sold for what the markets bring.

The new wheat program would not take effect before the 1957 crop and then only if two thirds of the wheat farmers voted for it in a referendum and the secretary of agriculture agreed to try it.

COTTON PLAN DEFEATED

Sen. Russell (D-Ga) helped put the wheat amendment through, then tried to follow it up with a similar program for cotton but lost 57-33. Some of the wheat state lawmakers refused to go along and cotton state senators split their votes.

* * *

With these issues out of the way, Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) won agreement to tighten limits on debate. He pointed to the slow progress made under a two-hour limit on amendments in effect since Thursday.

* * *

The senate agreed to hold debate on each proposed amendment to one hour and hold long sessions Thursday and Friday in an effort to speed final action.

Buick Names Three to Production Posts

The appointment of Jesse L. Powers as general manufacturing manager of the Buick Motor Division of General Motors was announced yesterday by General Manager Edward T. Ragsdale.

Other promotions: Donald F. Taylor to assistant manufacturing manager, and Joseph J. Schweinfurt to general superintendent of all plants.

Powers, a veteran of 40 years in the organizatin, had been assistant general manufacturing manager for the preceding five years. He succeeds to the post vacated by Ragsdale last week when he was named general manager.

Both Taylor and Schweinfurt have been general superintendents since 1952 with each responsible for half of Buick's manufacturing operations.

Stockholders Approve Name Change, Payment of Major Debts

From Our Wire Services

TOLEDO, O. — The stockholders of Kaiser Motors Corp. yesterday voted overwhelmingly to re-organize the firm and pay all its major obligations, including $12,300,000 owed to the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

The disclosure was made by Edgar F. Kaiser, president. The corporation was renamed Kaiser Industries Corp.

The business of Kaiser Industries Corp. will also be broadened and diversified by the acquisition of all the outstanding stock of Henry J. Kaiser Co.

The Henry J. Kaiser Co. is engaged in the engineering and construction, sand and gravel businesses, and also has substantial holdings of the common stocks of Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp., Kaiser Steel Corp., and Permanente Cement Co.

The corporation and Henry J. Kaiser Co. have jointly entered into a credit agreement with nine banks, providing for a $95 million term loan and a revolving credit in the maximum amount of $6.5 million for financing construction projects undertaken by Henry J. Kaiser Co.

Stockholders authorized 25 million shares of four dollar par common stock of which 20,521,940 shares will be outstanding. The stock will be listed on the American, Detroit, Los Angeles and San Francisco exchanges. Each four shares of the former one dollar par value common stock of the motors company will represent one share of the new stock of Kaiser Industries.

Willys Motors continues as a wholly-owned subsidiary of Kaiser Industries and will be relieved of all its present bank debt under the plan.

Blowout-Proof Tubeless Is Unveiled by Firestone

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A new tubeless tire, which in effect has two air chambers and is designed for blowout protection, was announced yesterday by Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

The new casing is built of safety-tensioned and gum-dipped nylon cord. It has a specially compounded gummy sealant that prevents air leakage from nails and small cuts.

For blowout protection, the tire contains a safety diaphram made of two plies of rubberized nylon cord. The diaphragm divides the interior of the tire into two chambers. A safety valve in the diaphragm automatically locks two thirds of the air into its inner air chamber when the outer casing is ripped open or slashed.

South Carolina Drafts Race Bills

Measures Would Bar All NAACP Members From State Employment

Chief among the bills is a House-passed measure which would fire from state, county or local employment any members of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. The bill also would ban any future employment of NAACP members on South Carolina government payrolls.

• • •

Morton's article said the Senate is "intent on circumventing" integration. It added: 'I am ashamed to be called 'a Southerner,'" and that he was a Southerner by "the biological accident" of birth.

The USC English student says he has prepared an article for this week's student paper explaining that the original article was just an experiment.

Two of the segregation bills went to Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr. for his signature or veto.

One would allow police officers to transfer a Negro child enrolled by court order at a white school back to a Negro school to avoid "civil commotion."

The other would create a legislative - governor's committee to investigate the effect of activities of the NAACP at State College for Negroes.

Circuit Court Date Set for Ferndale Resident

LeRoy Gray, 20, of Ferndale, who waived examination on charges of unlawfully driving away from an accident yesterday before Royal Oak Township Justice Delbert W. Hunt, was bound over to circuit court for arraignment Monday.

Gray failed to furnish bond of $500.

Clawson Youth Waives Examination in Breakins

Charged with nighttime breaking and entering, Frederick Rendell, 18, of Clawson, waived examination yesterday before Royal Oak Municipal Judge Fletcher R. Renton.

Rendell, arrested by Royal Oak police, was bound over to circuit court for arraignment Monday. He didn't furnish bond of $500.

2 Anniversaries Marked by City Commissioners

Two Pontiac organizations celebrating anniversaries, were commended last night by the City Commission in resolutions adopted by the commissioners.

The groups were the Urban League and the Pontiac post of the Gound Observers Corps.

The Urban League is celebrating its sixth year of civic service and promoting racial understanding in the city.

THe GOC post this week is celebrating its third anniversary of helping to guard the skies from possible enemy atta k for the Pontiac area.

Youth, 12, Injured in Run Across Road

A 12-year-old Rochester boy was critically injured yesterday afternoon by a car which struck him down on Auburn Road at Emmons Street, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said today.

Pontiac General Hospital authorities said Richard K. St. Clair is in critical condition after suffering a concussion.

Driver of the car, Wallace Mitterle, 38, of Rochester, told deputies Richard was playing with a friend beside the road and ran out without warning.

Mitterle said he couldn't avoid the accident.

Council to Hear Report on Plans for Study Group

Some 200 delegates of the Greater Pontiac Advisory Council will meet tomorrow night in the City Hall commission chambers to hear a preliminary report on a newly-created committee to study the recreational facilities in the city.

The executive committee of the council met last Friday to authorize the appointment of the study group.

The committee will consist of 35 members and will be an exploratory group to study needs and facilities of leisure-time activities for all age groups in the Pontiac area.

Cash Register Emptied

Board to Examine School Wage Scales

Pontiac Board of Education will discuss 1956-57 wage scales with four groups during its regular monthly meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the board offices, 40 Patterson St.

The Teacher's Salary Committee is expected to attend along with representatives of school custodians, maintenance and secretarial personnel, according to Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer.

Other scheduled business includes a report on bids for contracts to construct multi-purpose rooms planned in this year's building program, said Whitmer.

Car Wash Entered, $1.50 Is Stolen

According to the owner, Paul Palace, 15 W. Howard St., the building at 92 Baldwin Ave. was entered through a rear door, where police reported finding a single set of footprints.

'Twisted Cross' Slated Tonight

Semi-Documentary to Attempt Explanation of Dictator's Power

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The demoniac career of the man Winston Churchill called "a bloodthirsty gutternipe," and whom others called "evil incarnate," and "a cannibal god," will be recreated tonight for the Americafi television public.

• • •

An impounded German film revealing the rise and fall of Adolf Hitler and entitled "The Twisted Cross" will be aired over NBC-TV.

The hour-long film, part motion picture film and part documentary, accurately reconstructs the story of the shabby neurotic who emerged from the slums of Vienna and shook the world.

The Hitler story catches the dead dictator early in his career—the Hitler of the shabby trench coat and the floppy hat—and shows sequences of the widespread wretchedness of Germany after World War I.

• • •

This was the seed bed out of which grew the crazed Nazi regime, a movement that spawned power-mad men like Herman Goering, a jobless air force officer; Joseph Goebbels, a down-at-the-heels writer, and Heinrich Himmler, one-time chicken farmer who became Hitler's deputy of terror.

NO SOLUTION

The film attempts to convey a sense of the baffling power of Hitler on the rise, but after it's all over the viewer is no nearer a solution than before.

• • •

This incident, never before depicted for an American audience, is one of the outstanding moments of the film although the sequence was lifted from a German-made motion picture.

The semi-documentary is the second in a series of "Project 20" historical films that are to add up to a composite drama of the 20th Century.

• • •

The first was "Nightmare in Red," the story of communism, telecast last Dec. 27.

ROUNDLY CRITICIZED

Although network executives openly admitted they used motion picture inserts in the drama, the Commie film was roundly criticized by documentary producer George Rony, ex-Russian refugee called it a "trumped up report on communism."

• • •

He claimed "nearly 50 per cent" of the report was recruited from professional motion picture films made by the Russians, therefore causing the hour-long drama to be "incomplete and unauthentic."

Sid Caesar Splits With Nanette Fabray

NEW YORK (AP)—Comedian Sid Caesar is parting company with the leading lady of his television show for the second time in a little more than two years.

A statement yesterday said Caesar and Nanette Fabray were "sorry to announce that they have not been able to arrange for the continuance of Miss Fabray's association with Caesar's Hour beyond the present season ending in June."

In 1954 Caesar and Imogene Coca split up after both achieved top television ranking in the Show of Shows on NBC.

Hollywood Headlines:

James Cagney Will Play Lon Chaney in New Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Fascinating are the plans for the life story of the late Lon Chaney now being readied by Jimmy Cagney, who will play Chaney, and Ralph Wheelwright, who has written the story.

Jimmy and Ralph have formed a partnership and they are calling their script "Man of a Thousand Faces."

It's a very dramatic tale. Lon's parents were deaf mutes. He lived during the period when movies were coming into the big league as colorful, exciting entertainment.

Ralph said, "I have Norma Shearer's permission to include Irving but I am letting her select the actor to play him.

FASCINATING TITLE

The new Anita Loos play (an adaptation of Ludwig Bemelman's "The One I Love Best"), the Elsie Mendl story on which she is working with Charles MacArthur, has a fascinating title. Anita is calling it "Cockadoodle Daisy."

• • •

"We do not mention Lady Mendl," she said. "It's the story of a lady who lives to be very, very old. Helen Hayes, of course, plays Daisy, and we've been talking to Arthur Treacher about playing a role which could be described as similar to the Sir Charles Mendl character."

• • •

Anita expects the play to go into rehearsal the end of August.

• • •

Interesting that "Richard III," for which $500,000 was paid for the television rights, opened next day as a motion picture attraction at the Bijou in New York.

• • •

The only thing that will keep Helen Rose from dressing Grace Kelly the day of her wedding is the failure of MGM to get an actress to play opposite Robert Taylor in "The Power and the Prize." Helen may have to stay and get the costumes ready for Bob's co-star.

But Helen has her reservations to fly out from here to Monaco April 14, and to help Grace with her gowns both for the civil service on the 18th and the religious ceremony on the 19th.

YOUNG SINATRAS

I nabbed Frank Sinatra at the party Sol Siegel gave for Grace Kelly to ask him if he is taking Nancy Jr. and Frank Jr. with him when he goes to Spain to make "The Pride and the Passion."

"They won't go when I leave," Frank told me, "but I would like to have them visit me when school is out. But that has not been decided yet. Nancy Jr. is having a pretty good time these days with her school friends."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: All the newspaper editors need to go crazy is for Margaret Truman to schedule her wedding on the same day as Grace Kelly's. One of the best-kept matrimonial secrets was Margaret's intention to marry E. C. Daniel.

Producer Sues Stan Freberg for 'Imitation'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A TV producer, Robert E. Clampett, has sued NBC and Stan Freberg for two million dollars, claiming the comedian is imitating Cecil the Seasick Sea Serpent—a leading puppet character on Clampett's "Time for Beany" show.

• • •

Clampett also asked Superior Court yesterday for an injunction preventing Freberg from featuring his snake-like puppet; Grover, on the weekly TV program.

• • •

Freberg formerly was associated with Clampett in the "Beany" show. Upon leaving the show in 1950, Freberg agreed not to attempt to imitate Cecil, Clampett's complaint stated.

Las Vegas Set for Boom Year

4 New Casinos to Open as Resort Town Plans for Richer '56

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS)—Leaders of the Las Vegas resort hotel industry are mapping plans to welcome 7,000,000 tourists from across the nation this summer.

While the economy of the booming gambling industry suffered a mild case of economic doldrums this winter, two of the three multi-million dollar spas which closed are planning to reopen in a few weeks.

Four new resorts valued at $25,000,000 are preparing to claim their share of the $60,000,000 "take" which the Nevada tax commission estimated was dumped into casino strongboxes last year.

* * *

The new hotels—Lady Luck, Stardust, Tropicana and Fremont—will be open for business by the end of June, according to present construction estimates, with 1781 additional rooms.

The chamber of commerce estimated that 7,200,000 persons visited the city last year. Chamber managing director Herb McDonald hopes for 10,000,000 visitors this year.

Overall tourist spending last year, according to an independent survey conducted by realtor Thomas A. Campbell, was placed at $160,000,000, up more than $20,000,000 over 1954.

* * *

The three spots that closed this winter were Bill Miller's Royal Nevada, the Dunes Hotel and the Moulin Rouge. Miller, also the former operator of New Jersey's Riviera Club, has taken a 20-year lease on the Dunes.

The Royal Nevada will be reopened next month with a bankroll furnished by Phil Spitalny, orchestra leader, of the all-girl "Hour of Charm" musical group. Spitalny's partner is Jake Kozloff, former operator of the New Frontier Hotel.

Practically every hotel plans an expansion of room facilities, part of a $50,054,000 building program which Campbell says is in the cards for Las Vegas this year.

Was Steak Worth It?

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—A convicted forger, put on probation in Federal Court, made a mistake when he tried to pay for a steak dinner with a check. The mistake, Police Chief B. J. Riley said, was signing the name of Bion W. Hall, federal probation officer, to the check. Police, called to the cafe by the cashier, gave Gordon M. Crawford permission to finish his steak before they took him to jail.

New Air Force Jet Now Fires Missiles

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The Air Force today took the wraps off a new version of the Northrop Scorpion known as the F89H. It is the first operational plane to be equipped with the new Falcon air-to-air guided missile.

The new all-weather interceptor, which will be assigned to Continental Air Defense Command bases, also is equipped with air-to-air folding fin rockets. Missiles and rockets are carried and fired from the wing tip pods.

* * *

Effective range for the missile is greater than that of rockets or air-borne cannon. The missiles need not be aimed precisely at the target, since they are capable of sensing the presence of a selected target and seeking it out, once released.

He Begs for Trouble

DETROIT (INS)—A 65-year-old Detroit beggar, who police said has $5,700 in the bank, went to jail for the 100th time today rather than pay a $100 fine. Gentry Adams said times were hard so he never begged for more than a nickel at a time.

Complete Vicious Circle

OSWEGATCHIE, N.Y. (AP)—This is what is known as a vicious circle: A fire truck couldn't get to a fire in the town garage here because of snow-covered roads. The fire, which leveled the garage, was discovered as highway workers reported for snow removal. Three snowplows were destroyed.
