Nixon Plans to Limit
Draft Risk to 1 Year

From Our News Wires
WASHINGTON — President Nixon plans to thrust the draft onto the 19-year-old age group starting Jan. 1, regardless of whether Congress has requested reform legislation by then. It appeared Congress would not be able to act fast enough to make the legal reform Nixon requested yesterday.

The basic point of Nixon's reform plan is that young men will be prime draft bait only during the year after their 19th birthday, instead of the present seven-year span from 19 to 26. Those with college deferments would run the risk during the year after they graduate.

This apparently will be put into effect by executive order if Congress fails to act.

The President's plan also calls for a system of random selection of 19-year-olds. However, because Congress specifically forbade implementation of a draft lottery in its 1967 draft law, this proposal would require congressional enactment.

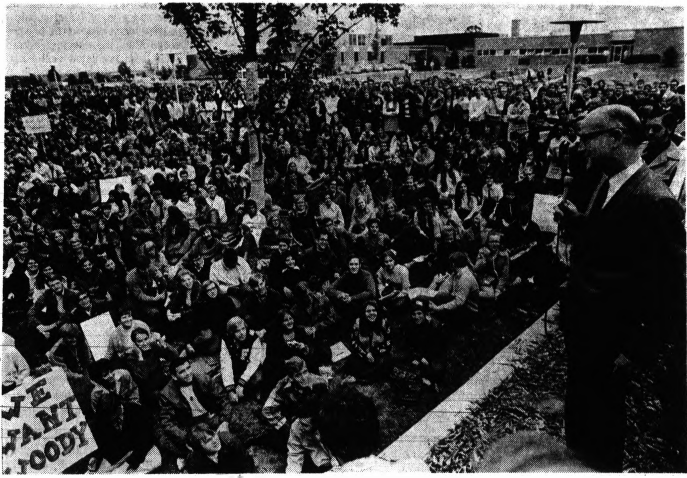

If Congress does not approve a draft lottery, Nixon could use his executive powers to go to a plan that each month would call up the oldest 19-year-olds—those closest to their 20th birthdays.

However, some White House aides involved in work on the President's draft-reform proposal said earlier they think implementation of this by executive order is extremely unlikely.

They said that without a lottery, administrative procedures needed to accomplish this would either be cumbersome or unfair since they could discriminate against 19-year-olds born early in the year or early in a month.

Nixon, in effect, admitted this to some extent when he said that no executive order could accomplish his objectives "as clearly and effectively" as the proposed legislation.

This was echoed by acting Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, who said congressional approval of the President's proposals "would accomplish draft reform in a much more clear and effective way than an executive order."

BACK ON JOB — Oakland University Chancellor Durward B. Varner reassures students that he is "totally committed to Oakland" following a meeting Friday with the MSU Board of Trustees in Lansing. Some 2,000 students staged a pro-Woody "protest" yesterday outside Wilson Hall following a rumor that the chancellor would be drafted to fill the vacated president's spot at MSU.

Students Want Varner to Stay

It was a typical campus scene at Oakland University yesterday, but it had a big difference.

A large mob gathered on the lawn, many in hippy garb. The bullhorns were there, the angry speakers and protest signs.

A long-haired coed plunked away at her guitar singing "The Times They Are a Changing" as the crowd began to thicken.

Classrooms were empty. Students were restless and in a mood to be heard.

THEY WANT 'WOODY'

On thousands of angry lips was "Woody," the nickname of OU Chancellor Durward B. Varner.

The students wanted "Woody." They wanted him to STAY.

The spontaneous call to arms for Varner was the result of a rumor that streaked through the campus Thursday night naming Varner as the next man to fill the vacated president's post at Michigan State University.

The possibility that Varner might be drafted was heightened when the OU chancellor left for Lansing Thursday to attend a meeting of the MSU Board of Trustees.

TELEGRAMS SENT

Telegrams, including one reminding the chancellor that "Oakland University is your bag," were sent to Varner as well as members of the board of trustees.

To strengthen their appeal, a delegation of nine students under the leadership of John Springfield of Vandenberg Hall drove to Lansing to meet with the chancellor.

By Friday afternoon "We want Woody" petitions had grown to 2,500 signatures.

"When we saw him Thursday night he assured us that there wasn't any other job in higher education that he would rather have," said Springfield.

'BEHIND HIM'

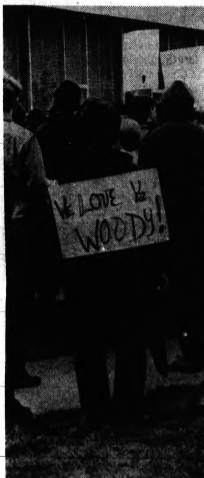

"We just want him to know that his people are with him and they're sticking behind him if he wants to stay at Oakland," according to sophomore Steve Sinkoff, also from Vandenberg.

"Sure we fight him a lot of the time, but we respect him too. This university is his baby; he's been here 10 years and he's a good man," he added.

Many agreed that Woody Varner listens rather than alienates students; he's interested in what they have to say and he's one man that can relate to the student body.

In general, those who joined the more than 2,000-strong protest agreed that Woody is the kind of man that cares.

Now it was their turn to return the favor.

GOLDWATER'S SON CRASHES — Rep. Barry Goldwater Jr., R-Calif., escaped serious injury last night when the single-engine plane he was piloting crashed in a residential section of Van Nuys, a Los Angeles suburb. Goldwater and his passenger, Bill McClain, were treated for minor lacerations and released. No one was hurt in the house (right) which escaped the brunt of the crash. (Story, page A-2).

U.S., Allies Air
Peace Prospects

From Our News Wires
NEW YORK — The United States summoned its Vietnam allies to a foreign ministers conference today to assess the prospects of a peace settlement after the Soviet Union called on them to renounce their "aggressive war."

Secretary of State William P. Rogers is host for the seven-nation conference. Later he meets with Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban, then joins foreign ministers from the Soviet Union, France and Britain for dinner with U.N. Secretary General U. Thant.

The morning session, at the headquarters of the U.S. mission to the United Nations by the foreign affairs chiefs from the United States, South Vietnam, South Korea, Thailand, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand is another periodic review of the war effort. The last one was held in May in Bangkok, Thailand.

Allied diplomatic spokesmen discouraged speculation the seven allies might consider troop withdrawals by the Asian contributing nations.

REBUFFS NIXON

Yesterday at the United Nations, Andrei A. Gromyko, the Soviet Foreign minister, rebuffed President Nixon's plea the day before to help "persuade Hanoi to move seriously into negotiations which could end the war."

One of the participants in today's conference, New Zealand's Keith Holyoake, followed Gromyko in the U.N. General Assembly policy debate yesterday and defended the allied position.

He said the allies have made fair offers at Paris while negotiators for the other side have responded only with "the demands of men who seek to impose their will by force."

EAST LANSING UP — The trustees of Michigan State University have directed a student-faculty committee to make further recommendations from a previously considered list of 20 candidates for the school's presidency.

Don Stevens, chairman of the eight-member board, said yesterday the board now hopes to name "a new president by the end of the month."

Stevens' assessment of the board's timetable, postponed by the recently settled maintenance strike on campus, came amid student efforts at Oakland

That condition was one of seven forwarded yesterday by the university's board of trustees in response to the state board's inquiry.

Pleased by the MSU bid was John D'hoie, chairman of the board of trustees of the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine (MCOM) in Pontiac.

D'hoie did not see any immediate advantage to the privately funded MCOM, but favored MSU over either the University of Michigan or Wayne State University for the location of the osteopathic college.

FACILITIES YOUNG, GROWING

"Their medical facilities are young and growing and so will ours (osteopathy) be," he said.

The state board is expected to decide by Nov. 3 where to establish a new osteopathic school authorized by act of the Legislature earlier this year. The offer may be refused by any college of either.

Michigan State, the University of Michigan and Wayne State University operate the only three, state-funded medical schools in Michigan and are considered top candidates for the award.

MSU's position included these stipulations:

School District Future Hazy

By DICK ROBINSON

When will Waterford Township students go back to school for a full "academic" day?

This is anyone's guess right now. It could be soon. It could be never. It certainly won't be by Sept. 29 as a judge ordered.

John Rogers, attorney for the school system, told an Oakland County Circuit Court judge in a motion yesterday that the school board can't restore full day classes by that date.

He asked Judge William J. Beer to reconsider his ruling that half-day school sessions for elementary pupils and a shortened day by one hour for secondary pupils is unconstitutional.

Rogers points out to Beer that the judge said his ruling was identical to one made by a Wayne County judge in a similar case in Livonia.

WITH 'EXPEDIENCY'

But no time limit was placed on

Livonia schools except that it be done with "expediency." Beer gave Waterford schools only two weeks.

The school attorney also asked for a rehearing of the case. Beer is expected to rule on the motion Wednesday and that could start a series of legal maneuvers which could delay the outcome for some time.

Rogers could take the issue to the Michigan Supreme Court where the matter is likely to be decided. Or, if a delay is granted, Waterford could sit back and wait to see what happens to Livonia in the higher court.

Two choices of action were offered the school board by Rogers—appeal or go into the red and face the possibility of being dissolved and being consolidated with the Pontiac district.

COULD GET STATE AID

The board's decision Thursday not to appeal now doesn't mean it wouldn't eventually appeal, Board President Philip Hampton indicated.

There seems to be too much at stake trying to comply with the court order via loans. If the district goes into the red, it certainly will get state funds under the so-called Inkster Act.

But the stipulation is that if you don't have a balanced budget then in the next fiscal year, the district faces "reorganization."

If one's income remains about the same year to year, and money has to be borrowed one year to meet expenses, chances are that more money will have to be borrowed the next year. It will be a double debt.

That's why the district decided to hold a millage property tax increase election Nov. 25 to get more income. But that too has some voters boiling. They have vowed to fight it.

Judge Beer's ruling, some school officials note, didn't solve the school district's financial problems. It only complicated them.

GRASS-ROOTS PETITION

At the East Lansing campus, a grass-roots petition urging the selection of Adams reportedly has been signed by some 600 faculty members.

One trustee proposed at yesterday's board meeting that Adams and his wife move into the vacant presidential mansion on campus. Adams declined, saying he preferred "not to become a public target."

The long-standing search for a successor to former President John A. Hannah became engulfed in controversy recently with reports the board was seriously considering naming Williams to the post.

Cuban Survives Sea Terror, Reaches U.S.

MIAMI (AP) — The survivor of a raft ride from Cuba told yesterday of one companion falling amid circling sharks and another—driven insane by thirst—who “threw himself to die at sea.” Oscar Camp Ferro, 20, suffering from sun and saltwater burns on arms he used as paddles, recounted the horrors of the five-day trip which ended on a beach here yesterday afternoon.

“I saw the beach and I thought it was still Cuba,” Ferro told a Miami Herald reporter from a hospital bed. “Someone shouted to me, and I asked him, ‘Are you a Russian?’ He said, ‘No, American,’ and I knew I was safe.” Ferro washed ashore clinging to an inner tube—that was left of a raft fashioned from three tubes lashed to wooden boards when the three men left Santa Cruz del Norte on Sunday, he said. RAFT OVERTURNED “On Monday morning, I had a small can of milk. That’s all I have eaten since we left,” he said. That day the raft overturned in rough water. The three men dismantled it and each grabbed an inner tube. Tuesday all

Damage From Fire May Hit $300,000

Damage is expected to total $200,000 to $300,000 in the fire which swept a building complex in the Pontiac Township community of Auburn Heights early Thursday. Firemen were called back three times to the scene from Thursday morning to early yesterday to extinguish flames in the complex on Auburn just east of Squirrel.

The fire, which destroyed three businesses, a doctor and dentist’s office and two unoccupied apartments, started shortly after midnight Thursday in the wooden garage and shed at the rear of the building complex.

Mars Trip in '80s Tied to N-Rocket

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — The first nuclear rocket engine probably will be flown in outer space in 1977 and should enable the United States to land a man on Mars in the 1980s, according to the predictions of a federal space expert. Dr. George Mueller, associate administrator of NASA in charge of all manned space projects, also predicted yesterday that space travelers will be able to journey to any city in the world within an hour in a suborbital craft in the 1980s. Mueller told a news conference that the nuclear rocket, being tested at Jackass Flats, Nev., would act as a shuttle from earth orbit to lunar orbit and would be used for the exploration of Mars.

Mueller declared that the first moon shuttle service would be supplied by chemical rockets because the nuclear rocket would not be ready in time. But he said when the nuclear rocket was complete, it would be boosted into outer space atop a Saturn V and then would glide toward its destination with occasional start-ups for on-course maneuvers. “In 1981, if we wanted to grab the opportunity provided by the position of the planets, we could launch manned spacecraft to Mars and to Venus—and have them back to earth by the fall of 1983, Mueller said. Scientists announced this week that testing was completed at the nearby Jackass Flats on an experimental nuclear engine system and the next step was development and testing of a flight-ready engine.

Bandits Get Over $13,000 in Two County Robberies

Two armed robberies in western Oakland County yesterday netted holdup men more than $13,000 according to local authorities. Michigan State Police and the FBI continued their investigation today of the robberies of a Clarkston bank and a credit union in Wixom. The robberies occurred only 1½ hours apart. Police were unable to say if the robberies were committed by the same team of gunmen.

Held up first was the Community National Bank branch at 3801 E. Wixom, where four employees and six customers were ordered into a vault before the two robbers escaped. Fifteen miles away, at 12:30 p.m., two men entered the Wixom Credit Union of 29100 Wixom Road and ordered four employees to turn over all cash. James Price of Jackson, manager of the credit union, estimated that between $5,000 and $6,000 was taken, but until an audit is conducted, the exact amount would not be known. William Summerville, spokesman for Community National Bank, stated that a preliminary audit showed $8,500 was taken from the Clarkston branch.

Nasser Wants Russian Recalled

By United Press International
Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser has demanded the recall of Soviet Ambassador Sergei A. Vinogradov, one of the Kremlin’s leading envoys, informed diplomatic sources said today. The sources in Beirut said Nasser is trying to emphasize his annoyance with what he considers Soviet interference in Egypt’s military campaign with Israel. The Soviets are believed to have been alarmed at what they consider Egypt’s increasing belligerence.

One such example was Egypt’s recent 100-plane raid against Israeli positions in the Sinai Desert. Some reports said recently Nasser appealed to the Soviets to reduce the staff of technicians and experts in his country but they refused. Vinogradov, 61, is regarded in diplomatic circles as the dean of Soviet diplomats and perhaps next in line for foreign minister.

“Eduardo got very nervous,” he said of his second friend. “He started shouting, ‘water, water.’ All of a sudden he went crazy and threw himself to die at sea. When I saw my friends despair, I knew I would have to be strong, or I would die too.” Ferro, listed in serious condition, said he was an office worker in the Cuba National Institute of Fisheries who left the island nation because of “abuse and exploitation” by Fidel Castro’s government.

charter of the private Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine. Assurance by the state board of “adequate funding for the existing college of human medicine.” MSU currently is expanding its two-year program into four, a move that will enable it to grant medical degrees. MSU students in the past had to transfer elsewhere to finish their studies. Construction of additional buildings and “improvement” of “at least 45 additional faculty.” Identical academic standards and privileges for both osteopathic and allopathic medical students, including the right to transfer between colleges and enroll in courses taught by other colleges in the university. Dedication by the Michigan Osteopathic College Foundation of “its entire efforts to the support of the new affiliated school.” A development timetable of costs and financial support for the project, worked out by representatives of the osteopathic profession, the state board, legislature and executive department. The present plan under which the state board is to award the project to an established college or university grew from a variety of earlier proposals advanced in the Legislature. Several of those attempted to secure state funds and authority for a privately operated osteopathic medical school. The Pontiac school began operation this week. In addition, efforts were made to assign the project to Oakland University as part of a move to enlarge it and spin it off from MSU’s superintendency.

Goldwater's Son Survives Plane Crash

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rep. Barry Goldwater Jr., R-Calif., and his field deputy were pulled from the wreckage of Goldwater’s single-engine plane moments after it clipped high-tension wires last night and plummeted onto a car in the driveway of a suburban Van Nuys home. Neither Goldwater—30-year-old son of the 1964 Republican presidential candidate, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona—or aide Bill McClain was seriously hurt. Fire department officials said they were hoisted from the crumpled Beech

Bonanza by Ron Binko, 28, a car painter who was standing at a nearby corner. The two were taken by ambulance to Valley Receiving Hospital nearby where they were treated for minor lacerations and released, officers said. LANDS ON CAR The plane nosed down on the car and the tail section was propped up against the home, authorities said. Laura Adams was inside her family’s home but was not injured, officers said, and damage to the house was minor. The plane crashed blocks from Van Nuys Airport, where Goldwater reported he was heading after refueling the control tower he was low on fuel, the Federal Aviation Administration said. In Washington, an aide said Goldwater was returning home from a speaking engagement 100 miles to the north. Binko said the plane came down “just like a falling object. There was no engine noise at all. All of a sudden it was there.” He said he saw a “bright light” as the plane hit high-tension wires above a palm tree before sliding into the driveway.

They were pronounced dead at Wheelock Hospital in Goodrich. The driver of the truck, Clarence Levasseur of Bay City, was not injured.

Top-Level Administration Reorganized at Oakland U.

A major reorganization of the top administrative structure at Oakland University was announced yesterday by OU Chancellor D. B. Varner following its approval by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

The changes include the establishment of two new positions of assistant chancellor and two vice chancellorships.

Named to the new position of assistant chancellor for urban affairs was Elmer B. Cooper, 29, former dean of student activities at San Francisco State College. He is a graduate of Harvard University in Washington, D.C., and attended the American University School of Law.

Before joining San Francisco State last year, Cooper was a field representative and job developer with the Bay Area Urban League in California and served from 1962-67 as staff assistant for Congressman Charles S. Joelson, D-N.J.

CORE CONSULTANT

He is a consultant for National CORE, served as a staff consultant for the California Black Conference, held during 1967 in Los Angeles, and is immediate past president of the Afro-American Council on Higher Education.

Varner also announced the assumption of new titles by H. N. Stoutenburg Jr., named assistant chancellor for chancellor's office administration; Donald D. O'Dowd, who will serve as vice chancellor and provost; and Thomas B. Dutton, named to the new post of vice chancellor for student affairs.

Stoutenburg is a member of Oakland's original administrative group, having come here in 1959 as director of admissions and registrar.

O'Dowd has been at Oakland eight years, the last four as provost. Dutton has been dean of students at OU since 1965.

URBAN AFFAIRS

Oakland's urban affairs program, launched last year, embraces such projects as Upward Bound, Project 20, the Pontiac Cultural Center located in a low-income, black community near the university; and other programs to increase the involvement of the university in urban affairs.

Earlier this week Chancellor Varner announced his intention to seek a $250,000 appropriation from the Legislature next year to increase the urban affairs program.

His proposal specifically calls for a pilot program, to be carried out in cooperation with the Pontiac schools, Oakland Community College and other community groups, to provide every student in Pontiac an opportunity for post-high school training or education.

Three new appointments and four promotions were also approved yesterday.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

The new faculty members are Barbara L. Blass, visiting assistant professor of physics; Ralph F. Glenn, assistant professor of art; and Andrew P. Phillips, visiting associate professor of sociology and anthropology.

Promotions, all from the ranks of instructor to that of assistant professor, were approved for Charles M. Broh, in English; Robert N. Blockovich, psychology; and David P. Doane and Kenneth C. Young in economics and management.

Mrs. Blass, who previously taught 3½ years at Marygrove College, holds a doctorate from the University of Leipzig in Germany.

Glenn, a doctoral candidate at Harvard University, holds A.B. and A.M. degrees from the University of Michigan and an A.M. degree from Harvard. He has taught at the U-M, Detroit Institute of Arts and Honolulu Academy of Arts and previously did curatorial work for the Dearborn Historical Museum.

Phillips has taught at San Francisco State College since 1963 and holds B.A., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of California at Los Angeles.

Police Testify in 'Beating Case'

Different reports of an alleged beating of a black man by a white man, involving a VanSousers — muttering "I'm blackjack while VanSousers was Farmington Township police" — didn't resist in any way to officer and a stolen car suspect way when they handcuffed him were offered in court yesterday and made him lie face down on by members of the Farmington the shure.

Next the detective recalled seeing a foot placed on VanSousers' neck and Hedrick's hand yanking back the prisoner's hair.

Switzer then recalled placing in the back seat of his police car without trouble shortly after they returned to cars blocking the road.

When coming back to his car, Patrolman Peter Larion, Switzer said he heard a sharp crack and rushed up to see the street directing traffic and Hedrick hitting VanSousers on never came near the lake.

Hedrick has been charged with assault and battery against John VanSousers, a 22-year-old Plymouth resident, picked up while joyriding in a stolen auto Sept. 9, 1968.

If convicted, the policeman could receive up to 90 days in jail for this misdemeanor.

The two Farmington city officers who actually apprehended VanSousers related different series of events than did the one Farmington Township officer who was still on the witness stand as the court recessed for the weekend.

Detective Murry Switzer of the city police force reported seeing his superior, Sgt. Daniel Burns chasing VanSousers at a high rate of speed at about 1:15 a.m. on a dark night.

Switzer said he followed them to Grand River just west of Gill Road, the city limit where VanSousers stopped, got out of his car, and ran into a small pond nearby.

'TACKLED IN WATER'

Switzer told the jury of six women, that he saw Sgt. Burns chase VanSousers into the water and tackle him. When he reached the two men, Switzer said, VanSousers was floating without resisting and being held up and dragged to shore by Burns.

THE PENNEY STORY

Old-fashioned words for a modern store

By ROBERTA NASH

There's a funny thing that happens when you try to describe the Penney company to people.

Part of you wants to talk about 1970 while the other part wants to talk about 1902 when Penney's started.

And you may begin with the youthquake words like hip and mod and tuff.

But before long you're back to the old-fashioned words like honor and integrity and standards.

Can you be as contemporary as 1970 and as old-fashioned as 1902? We think so.

Catholic Schools Lose 20,000 Pupils

DETROIT (AP) — Warning that 70 more parochial schools are in danger of closing before next spring, Catholic school officials today reported a drop of more than 20,000 students in enrollment through the Archdiocese of Detroit.

This was a decline of 50,041 from the record enrollment of Catholic schools.

M15 Crash Fatal

MILLINGTON (AP) — Ralph Ellis, 39, died in a Flint hospital Friday from injuries suffered in a head-on collision on M15 just south of Millington in Tuscola County. Police said Ellis was a passenger in one of the cars. The drivers of the two vehicles suffered minor injuries.

Six Green Beret Suspects Keep Up a Running Banter

LONG BINH, Vietnam (AP) — Six Green Beret officers, Budge E. Williams of Athens, Ga., and Maj. Thomas C. Middleton Jr. of Jefferson, S.C., were in good spirits today as they began the two-mile run they make every morning. Rheaugh, an ash blond, told photographers, "My wife is getting worried about me. She says I look like I've turned gray since all this started. Could you guys retouch the photos?"

The Army announced Thursday that Marasco and Williams were charged with the murder of a Vietnamese double agent who was killed in a head-on collision on M15 just south of Millington in Tuscola County. Police said Ellis was a passenger in one of the cars. The drivers of the two vehicles suffered minor injuries.

However, a military attorney for Col. Robert B. Rheaugh, 43, of Vineyard Haven, Mass., and mer commander of the 3,000 David E. Crews of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, will be tried.

An Army spokesman indicated the second court-martial might not be held.

"If the first three are acquitted and there is no new evidence, it is possible the others may never come to trial," the spokesman said. "If there is new evidence it might go the other way."

The six officers are charged with murder and conspiracy to commit murder. The maximum sentence is life in prison.

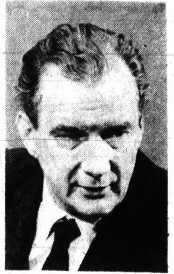

Rheaugh's military attorney said he did not know when Williams would arrive in Saigon to begin the defense preparations. Williams over the years has represented such famous persons as James R. Hoffa, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell and Bob Baker. He has a good record of winning acquittals.

The two attorneys represent Capt. Robert F. Marasco of ...

Their military attorneys have complained that the Army is not taking adequate steps to let the defendants communicate with their families back home. They are unable to place telephone calls to relatives, even at their own expense, because the only telephone in the barracks is one that can't be used for calls outside the base although it can receive such calls.

Originally eight Green Berets were arrested in the case, but charges against two—CWO Edward M. Boyle of New York City and Sgt. L.C. Alvin L. Smith Jr., of Naples, Fla.—were held in abeyance.

Sources said the two have been offered immunity to testify for the prosecution. They have been released from confinement in the South China Sea, but must remain on this post, 15 miles from Saigon, on a "parole status," an Army spokesman said.

EDWARD B. WILLIAMS

The six officers who will stand trial are accused of slaying Thai Khach Chuyen, a Vietnamese man who, according to various sources, was working as an espionage agent for both the allies and the Communist command.

He allegedly was killed June 30 and his weighted body dumped in the South China Sea. The body has not been recovered.

Strom: Dem Helped on Story

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., says the director of the South Carolina Democratic party helped Life magazine with "false, malicious and unfounded" article.

The story concerns the 1966 sale of land owned by Thurmond and a federal judge to South Carolina for highway right-of-way.

AT HIGHER PRICE The Life story said Thurmond and Simons, a former law partner of the senator, sold the land to the state for more than twice the average amount received by other landowners in the area.

The senator disclaimed any wrongdoing in the transaction and said Friday the article was designed to destroy Southern influence with the Nixon administration. "It's another battle between northern liberals and the South," Thurmond said.

Thurmond said Don Fowler, executive director of the state Democratic party, helped Life magazine with the story.

gather information for the article.

Fowler issued this statement: "I understand Sen. Thurmond has accused me of taking around a reporter for Life magazine. I did not accompany nor take a reporter of Life or any other reporter anywhere in the investigation referred to or any other reporter anywhere in the investigation of any other public officials."

Danny Walsh, who wrote the Life story, said in New York, "I met Don Fowler and talked to him and many others, but I can say without hesitation that Don Fowler was not a prime source for this story."

Police, Hippies Clash in London

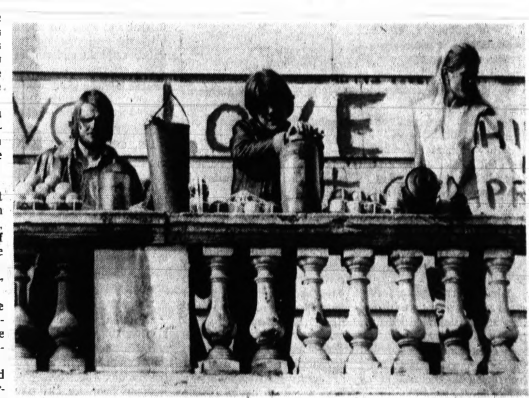

LONDON (AP) — Police clashed briefly early today with hippie squatters a few yards from Buckingham Palace at a 100-room mansion which the hippies have occupied for the past five days.

A young woman and a man were arrested during the 20-minute fight that began when firemen arrived to put out a fire in a house next door.

Police said the hippies hit firemen and spectators with rubber and plastic balls, eggs, water bombs and pieces of wood, and kept it up as police arrived.

No serious injuries were reported. The hippies stored "defense equipment" to ward off any attempt by authorities to enforce a court order to vacate the mansion, police said.

The hippies said they planned to turn the mansion, which overlooks the palace, the Hilton Hotel and Hyde Park, into a refuge for the homeless and the jobless.

OU Lights 10 Candles

If you're casting about for one of the great success stories of the times, you need look no farther than the meteoric development of Oakland University, now observing the 10th anniversary of its founding.

VARNER

The center of higher education had its birth in the generosity of the late Mr. and Mrs. ALFRED G. WILSON who presented 1,400 acres of their estate and $2 million toward establishment of the institution.

lion in the value of the university plant to accommodate a student body of 11,000.

Chancellor DURWARD B. VARNER took the auspicious occasion of OU's birthday celebration to unveil a program concept that would contribute importantly to the educational climate of the area. Contingent on a $250,000 grant from the State Legislature, the program would embrace a study of Pontiac's junior high and high school dropouts during the past five years and the establishment of a plan whereby every student entering a local high school would be guided through four years of schooling and into some kind of post high school program that would equip him to serve society.

We render a hearty salute to Chancellor Varner and his body of academicians and staff on the tremendous growth and accomplishments of Oakland University and the perceptive innovation in socioeducation that is now proposed.

From a two-building school with a combined faculty and staff of 53 to welcome the initial class of 570 students, OU has grown to a $30-million campus complex of 20 major buildings with a current enrollment of 5,800 and a 600-700 complement of faculty and staff personnel. Moreover, a five-year projection envisions an increase of $40 mil-

Computer Called to Account

Few frustrations in this modern life are better calculated to reduce even the most mild-mannered person to a seething jelly of impotent rage than to find oneself in a letter-writing duel with a bill-collecting computer.

The company has made a simple error. One has receipts and canceled checks to prove it. It could easily be adjusted. But the computer blithely ignores all protests and continues to grind out statement after statement.

There is, fortunately, still time for man to assert his mastery over the machines he has made, and at least one state has taken a step in that direction.

In Maryland, a newly-passed law states that if a customer does not get an answer "in clear and definite terms" within 60 days after making a written inquiry about the status of his account, he is not liable for any service charges that come due from the time the creditor receives the inquiry until the matter is finally straightened out.

The law applies to any kind of bill with a finance or service charge on it, department store revolving account, gasoline credit card, bank card, check-credit, etc.

Also, a really tough law might make it a criminal act for a creditor to send a false delinquency report to a credit bureau if it were based on a billing error which he made.

Most Americans, however, would be content to go along with the Maryland law as it now stands—happy to know that, at least to some extent, human beings are being put back in control of the computer.

Summer of 1969 'Cool' on Racial Front

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The summer of 1969 has been relatively cool on the racial front largely because of militant blacks perceive major riots as badly self-destructive, because a new rash of outbreaks would spark death-dealing counterviolence, and because government ghetto-aimed programs to alleviate distress are at last making some dent.

BLOSSAT

These judgments represent a consensus among several practiced observers of the racial scene — all but one of them black.

Says one seasoned black appraiser here: "They look at the destruction left by riot — that's what everybody sees every day — and they know things are a lot worse physically than they were before the outbreak.

"The lesson from them is that nothing has been gained. Riot is not really a prod for something better."

This particular observer says he has seen film clips of riot areas today in at least six major cities, and that they are compelling evidence that little or no repair and rebuilding has occurred in the badly devastated sectors.

It is significant that only in Chicago and New York have there been major repetitions of riots. Chicago blew badly in 1966 and again in 1968, at the time of Dr. Martin Luther King's assassination. New York erupted in 1964 and again at the King episode last year. The 1968 Harlem riot was minimized in some accounts, but it was in fact more intense than 1964, though less extensive.

All black sources queried make the further point that black communities greatly fear repressive counterviolence from whites if new eruptions come. Says one man: "Many brothers feel that in any new riots they would get their heads shot off."

A veteran white observer agrees, saying he thinks black militants are impressed by the weight of blue (police) and brown (National Guard) force that can be brought against them — and the evident willingness of cities to employ it more quickly and fully than in the early riots.

Says a Negro leader in Philadelphia: "There's too much firepower against them."

The argument, cherished by many white liberals especially, that "violence pays" is seen, then, by blacks themselves as at best a mixed thing. The self-destructive aspects of riots appeal them. It may be contended reasonably, nevertheless, that violence has been useful attention-getting and has fixed a new climate within whose bounds more constructive efforts at betterment can proceed.

"The efforts to help the ghetto — however meager they may be — have had their beneficial impact," says a top southern black.

Others feel the same, that even inadequate efforts have made some mark. And there is a consensus of those queried that federal manpower programs have scored some real successes in easing critical black ghetto unemployment — particularly among the multiplying young.

Black leaders, including some stern militants, are believed to be convinced, moreover, that the big advance must not come from federal and other job and anti-poverty programs but from major self-help undertakings. Black entrepreneurs and black elected officials (who just met in force in Washington) are viewed as key evidence of this growing awareness.

Yet, even as black leaders move constructively and with new sophistication to target their own problems (as in Chicago and Pittsburgh against nearly all-white building unions), unrelieved tensions crackle in ghetto areas where the focus of poor, young, unemployed blacks grows greater in spite of all.

As similar cities have done in prior times, smaller cities like Hartford, Conn., York, Pa., Camden, N.J., and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., "blew" this summer. Some big cities had brief, little-noted flurries. But their micro-size was the overriding, operative fact.

The POWER of FAITH

WOODI ISHMAEL

During Jesus's brief ministry among men, the "Sermon on the Mount" (St. Matthew 5, 6, 7) is probably the most complete summary of his teachings. He showed that the laws of Moses and the laws of God differed in that the Ten Commandments dealt with what one does and one's actions, and God's law deals with what one really thinks, feels and desires. He shows that if one thinks, feels and desires unselfish life and service, it will be recognized. "Wherefore by their fruits we shall know them." (St. Matthew 7, 20).

Christians know by heart many of the verses and quotations from the Sermon. "Judge not that ye be not judged." (St. Matthew 7, 1) "... Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you and persecute you; ..."

Also in the "Sermon on the Mount" is the one great prayer of the Christian world, "The Lord's Prayer. Jesus gave it as an example of a way to pray. He said, "... When ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathens do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking." To re-read the "Sermon on the Mount" is to renew the strength of one's faith and realize these truths are the basis of a purposeful life in a world of peace.

"For Thine is the kingdom and the power and the Glory, For ever and ever, Amen."

Confident Living:

Life Is Filled With Possibilities

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How to have what it takes; that is a know-how which everyone needs. There is real strength built into you whether you realize it or not. In fact, you have within you all the strength you will ever need to handle anything you will ever have to face. Quite a claim, but true.

DR. PEALE

It's important to develop this inner toughness. The tough-minded person, for example, does not like criticism any better than anyone else. But he knows how to handle it. He carefully extracts from criticism all the positive know-how it contains and ignores the hostility. The tough-minded person grows strong inwardly. Problems and obstacles challenge him. He develops his basic toughness through opposition. The tough-minded optimist knows there is always something new and wonderful in store for him regardless of obstacles.

A few months ago I was talking to a friend, a fascinating and lovable person, Colonel Harland Sanders. The Colonel always wears a white suit and a black string tie, has white hair and a white beard and carries a cane. His ruddy face is written over with kindness. He looks like, and is, really a Kentucky Colonel of the old school.

His father was a miner, back in the days when miners didn't make much money. I believe his father was killed in the mines and his mother had to go to work in a shirt factory. She had several young children and Harland was given the job of being cook for the family, which later paid off with the fried chicken business. He worked hard all his life.

He had to leave school at the end of the sixth grade, experiencing the kind of poverty that has always existed in the Kentucky mountains and in Tennessee, at least in the poverty pockets. He was very poor. Finally he opened a little restaurant. Folks have to eat, he reasoned. He put several years of back-break work into it. Then the highway was re-routed and he lost everything. He was 65 years old at the time.

As Colonel Sanders was sitting on his porch in Corbin, Ky., one morning, the mailman came up the walk and handed him his first social security check. Sixty-five years old, broke and defeated, he looked at the check and said, "My government is going to give me $105 a month so I can eke out an existence. Surely there is something I can do for myself and other people." He began to think, and thinking always produces results.

The thought of his mother's special recipe for fried chicken came to him. It was a particular formula which he considered something special. He decided to try to sell franchises for marketing his fried chicken formula.

After being turned down by scores of restaurants, he sold his first franchise in Salt Lake City. It was an instantaneous hit. Ten years later at age 75, he sold his rights in his company and was employed as goodwill ambassador for the new organization. It is not the financial success that Colonel Sanders achieved that makes his life story significant.

His experience primarily underscores the fact that no person need be defeated unless he wills it so. Life is full of possibilities if we look for them and work and think.

During a visit to Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., in the years when Frank Leahy was turning out his marvelous football teams, I noticed on the locker room wall a fascinating legend. It was seen by players as they trotted out to the football field. It read, "When the going gets tough, let the tough get going." Hold that thought in your consciousness and the tough in you will indeed get going and keep on going when circumstances become difficult.

'Waterford School Board Asked for Extra Money'

In the last two school millage votes in Waterford, the board of education has not asked for the exact amount of millage needed. Each time they have asked for ten mills when a lesser amount was needed to run the system. Each election they stated "they wouldn't touch the extra money." This may be one of the key issues why the millage was defeated. Why should we put "extra" money in their hands to spend? If another millage vote is asked, seek the amount needed and no more.

'Kennedy Tragedy Gossip Is Disappointing'

It is a great disappointment to see some of the best known and respected newspapers and magazines using gossip as a means of selling their product. I hope The Pontiac Press sticks to reporting the facts and not basing stories on speculations or conjecture. I believe Ted Kennedy or any other politician should be judged on the performance of his duties. It would seem that the facts given in the Ted Kennedy tragedy would allow the average American to draw his or her own conclusions without sensationalism. This type of gossip story should be left in the magazines and papers you find in the "adults only" section of trash bookstores.

'Many Latin Americans Support Perdue'

A great number of members and leaders of the Latin-American community of Pontiac favor the appointment of John F. Perdue to the position of assistant superintendent of Pontiac schools. We believe Mr. Perdue's experience, knowledge and dedication to our community more than qualify him for this position. We need someone who knows our problems and is able to work on them immediately. Mr. Perdue knows this community and is interested in its welfare.

We also believe that the school system should promote qualified personnel from within its ranks when an outstanding candidate is available. Such seems to be the case with Mr. Perdue, and his appointment would be a great benefit to all.

Calls Attention to Dirksen's Law Studies

Just to set the record straight in your editorial ecology of Everett M. Dirksen, he did not work his way through law schools. According to a newspaper columnist, Dirksen spent only three semesters in law school. After gaining power in Washington, D.C., he received a special dispensation to take the bar examination in that city.

'Game Spectators Were Not Free Loaders'

The "free loaders on the hill" at the Waterford Kettering-Waterford Mott game last Friday night were not free loaders. The game was played on the Waterford Kettering field because Mott's stadium had not been completed. Kettering fans not only had to pay the away-game price for admission, but had to sit on the old bleachers for the guest team. Since there were more spectators than seats, people had to sit on the hill. Kettering fans gave up a lot for that game, but we refuse to give up our pride. Let's keep the editorizing off the sports page.

'Fall in Michigan Brings Pageant of Beauty'

Once again we are slipping from summer into the beautiful season of fall. The magic of Jack Frost will change our countryside into a wonderland of dazzling color. Question and Answer

Monday, Aug. 4, my husband and I were at the Waterford Drive-In Theater. During the second show we saw something streaking across the sky, parallel to the earth. It was bright green followed by yellow flames. Has anyone else reported seeing this, and can you say what it was?

UNION LAKE

REPLY

We checked with several astronomers, none of whom was aware of any unusual celestial events that night, so we can't tell you what it was. However, Selfridge Air Force Base says one man from Detroit also reported a sighting that night. They'll send forms to make a report of what you saw, along with the address of the Washington, D.C., agency which collects data of this kind. The agency will send you a reply. Anyone who wants to report UFOs can call Selfridge, HO 5-1241, and ask for report forms.

Question and Answer

I'd like to know on what basis Mr. Farnum was appointed to fill the vacancy on Waterford Board of Education. It seems the person who polled the next highest number of votes in the last election would automatically fill the post.

INTERESTED

REPLY

Phil Hampton, President of the Board, says the procedure for filling such a vacancy isn't defined by law, so the Board considered all previous candidates and individual names submitted by Board members. It was the collective opinion of the Board that Farnum was the most qualified to serve the school district.

He Gets Written Off by Junk Mail Sender

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Something happened to me this week that sent my crest falling into a dish of humble pie and gave my ego such a shattering blow it will never again become tistical.

I suffered what was surely the ultimate humiliation, the supreme abashment, the granddaddy of all put-downs.

I was notified that my name was being removed from a junk mail list. How lowly can one get?

This crushing disgrace was inflicted upon me by a mailorder gift house in a note attached to its new Christmas catalog. I reproduce the cruel message below although the sight of it still causes me to burn with shame:

"Dear friend: The time has come to remove your name from our mailing list since our records show you have not purchased anything from us in a while, even though we have been sending you catalogs regularly."

The phrase "remove your name from our mailing list" was printed in boldface type, and it seared itself into my brain like a hot branding iron.

My first impulse was to crawl into a hole and try to hide my mortification from the light of day. But I knew my family and friends would see the guilt on my face and find me out. So I have decided to take the matter to court and make a test case out of it.

DEAD TO RIGHTS

In one respect, they have got me dead to rights. I must confess that I have not purchased anything from them in a while. Indeed, I have never purchased anything from them at all.

I got on their mailing list in a roundabout way, which the courts may decide is a mitigating circumstance.

A few years ago I saw a magazine ad offering inflatable plastic legs for 50 cents each. That sounded like fun, so I filled out the coupon and sent off for a pair. They were good for a million laughs, just as the advertisement promised.

If I was having a party, I would leave them sticking out from under the shower curtain in the bathroom used by the guests. But the best time I had with them was after a blizzard when I had the legs poking out of a snowdrift (write for details).

CLASSIC CASE

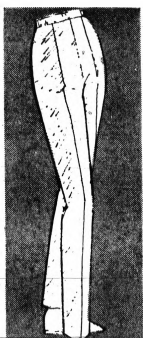

After I ordered those plastic legs, I began receiving catalogs from mail-order gift houses all over the country. I was a classic case of junk mail proliferation.

The firm that has now threatened to unlist me is willing to give me a second chance if I will order something from the new catalog. But I have turned the whole thing over to my lawyer. I hope to obtain an injunction to keep my name on the mailing list.

If things have reached the point where an American citizen can be summarily deprived of junk mail, our republic cannot long endure.

Minnesota Politics Focus on Humphrey

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — he the central figure at both Minnesota Republicans and Democrats are holding off-year conventions this weekend, and the delight of Democrats and Hubert H. Humphrey, who the dismay of Republicans, has won't even be in the state, will moved front and center in Minnesota politics. Leaders of both parties fully expect him to run for his old stamping grounds, the U.S. Senate, next year.

The Democratic Farmer Labor (DFL) party meets in St. Paul, the Republicans in Rochester for the ostensible purpose of revising their constitutions. But the way things are shaping up, the spotlight will be on the 1970 campaign and Humphrey's role in it.

Humphrey's local office said he would be in Washington all week and is not expected home until Monday. Those close to Humphrey feel it will be some time yet before he officially announces for the Senate seat Eugene J. McCarthy is giving up.

IN LIMELIGHT
But Humphrey spends a good share of his time in Minnesota and has no trouble staying in the limelight. Whether he's at a rousing farm speech at the National Plowing Contest, a remedy this in 1970. Early in handshaking tour down the midway at the state fair, or a could be beaten and if right in the stands cheering the Minnesota Twins, Minnesota voters are well aware that Hubert is home.

And to most observers, he is a political warrior hungry for a new combat assignment. This poses a problem of some magnitude for Republicans, whose fortunes rose in recent years as Humphrey transferred his political activities from the state to the national level. In 1966 the party took all but one recently Minnesota Republicans state office and elected five of are spending much of their time the state's eight congressmen, giving each other pep talks on

HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

Republicans, however, have not been close to a Senate seat since 1958, when McCarthy ousted the late Ed Thye. They had been confident they could win this in 1970. Early in handshaking tour down the midway at the state fair, or a could be beaten and if right in the stands cheering the Minnesota Twins, Minnesota voters are well aware that Hubert is home.

RECORD VOTE-GETTER
Now the Minnesota GOP has the likely prospect of facing a united DFL slate headed by Humphrey, a record vote-getter, here, with a ticket including Republican Gov. Harold Levander, whose popularity has dropped dangerously in the polls.

One GOP worker said recently Minnesota Republicans state office and elected five of are spending much of their time the state's eight congressmen, giving each other pep talks on how Humphrey is deflatable, on the theory that he can be pushed a has-been and tied to the policies of the Johnson administration.

One of the chief cheerleaders in this area, GOP sources say, is Rep. Clark MacGregor, who announced early this year he was giving up his seat in Congress to run for the Senate. Both MacGregor and Atty. Gen. Douglas Head are conducting spirited campaigns for the nomination, and most observers see a close race.

With Humphrey the assumed senatorial candidate, the big prize in the DFL camp is the nomination for governor. A gang of hopefuls are in the race, including a professed "law and order" candidate, J. J. Hennepin (Minneapolis) County Atty. George Scott, who claims strong labor support.

German Woe Is Dramatized

Track Star Dilemma: Where's Real Home?

BERLIN (AP) — How is a West German different from an East German? Where is the real Germany?

These questions have been dramatized in the case of Jürgen May, a 27-year-old athlete with a soft Thuringian accent.

May is the East German who caused the West German team to walk out of the European track and field championships in Athens because he was not allowed to run the 5,000 meters for their side.

The International Amateur Athletic Federation (IAAF) said he had not been resident in his new country for the required three years.

TOUCHY TERRITORY
This moved the athletic regulators into territory where many Western politicians have feared to tread: recognizing East Germany as a state. Neither it nor West Germany existed until May was 7 years old.

May fled from East Germany to West Germany in 1967. East German commentators call him a traitor. The West German welcomed him as a German "who had gone from one part of Germany to another."

May, slightly built, with dark hair and eyes, does not give the impression of a political activist.

When he returned from Athens he told newsmen he deeply regretted becoming the center of a controversy.

OLD RULES
"There is no paragraph in the rules that covers my case," he said, "and with a little good will, there could have been a ruling in favor of my running."

He said the rules that barred him were 50 years old, nearly twice as old as the division of Germany.

West German commentators are asking what will happen to athletes who defect from East Germany in the future. The Olympics will be held in Munich in 1972. Under the Athens ruling, an athlete fleeing from the German city of Leipzig, for example, could be barred from competing in the German city of Munich.

The East Germans will enter a separate team in Munich for the first time under their own flag with their own national anthem. May says he hopes to run in the games there.

Agent's Death Is Accidental

MEXICO CITY (AP) — George Emrich, a top U.S. narcotics agent whose body was found washed ashore on the beach at Acapulco Friday, apparently drowned accidentally, Mexican officials said.

"There is no plan for an autopsy," an official said. "There was no evidence of foul play."

Emrich, 44, was regional director of the U.S. Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs. He held the diplomatic rank of embassy attaché and represented the bureau in all of Latin America.

Earl Flies to Bavarian Alps to View Angela's Filming

By EARL WILSON
FUSSEN, Germany — The Bavarian Alps were thronged with famished tourists gobbling up all the restaurant food and I said to myself, "If the worst come to the worst, I'll take the Weiner wurst."

I was here near famous Neuschwanstein Castle where Crazy Ludwig, the nutty king, sometimes called Looney Louey, was drowned by his subjects 100 years ago because he was bankrupting them with his costly fancy-schmancy castle construction.

Four thousand miles I had flown to see Angela Lansbury filming "The Cook" or "The Rook" — the latter title hadn't been cleared yet — with Broadway Producer Hal Prince directing a movie for the first time.

I was in the lovely town of Hohenschwangau which looks like a toy. It's a snow-cooled country where the peaks climb to 3,000 meters, where the beer is big with lots of foam.

"A lot of Americans traveled pretty far to see you in 'Mame,'" I reminded Angela, "but it's doubtful if anybody traveled 4,000 miles as I have now."

"Everything's been going so very well," Angela said, and her husband Peter Shaw, the agent, who's been visiting her, nodded agreement.

The living is good. Hal Prince has a schloss, or castle, of 40 rooms and 10 bathrooms.

"We see deer on the road. Angela's son ran into one of my drivers hit one. I hate to sound Pollyannaish, but we've had no crises at all."

"I hope I'll ever do a film with Hollywood extras that they're as free and self-conscious as the local actors."

"They don't get seen on much film outside the country because there are so many nude films made here. And their movie titles in Germany are incredibly pornographic. God knows what they will call our picture in Germany!"

THE WEEKEND WINDUP IN N.Y.
Authoress Rona Jaffe set a scene in her book "The Fame Game" at the Plaza Hotel because "they have the nicest public ladies' room in town and I wanted to do something to reward them."

David Merrick's hefty payroll this season will include a cast of 40 in "A Patrit For Me" and 28 in "The Penny Wars" . . . The N.Y. discotheque, Raffles, loaned its record spinner Slim Hyatt to London's Anabel club, got their disk jockey Vivian Swayne in return.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A man's true value is determined by how much his boss has to spend on a computer that replaces him.

EARL'S PEARLS: Suggested simile: "As indignant as a woman whose laundry lost her very best hotel towels."

Director Abe Burrows is also a successful writer. He says a director-writer needs certain qualities: "As a director, he must thing on his feet. As a writer he must think on his seat."

Presidential Boost is Sought in Senate for Electoral Reform

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon's help in being sought to bolster the shaky chances for Senate approval for a constitutional amendment for direct popular election of presidential electors.

Nixon has said he favors direct election but doubts the plan could survive all the obstacles to ratification.

"What more evidence does he need?" Sen. Birch Bayh asked yesterday at a news conference, referring to House passage of the direct election amendment by a surprisingly lopsided vote of 339 to 70.

"If he joins us now with sincerity and enthusiasm and uses all his influence it would be a significant asset," said Bayh.

'TENUOUS SITUATION'

The Indiana Democrat said he is confident the direct election of the state legislatures to be sent to the voters in November would be enough votes to come off.

"But I cannot honestly say if we do indeed have the necessary two-thirds needed for passage. The situation on the floor is a tenuous one," he said.

As passed by the House, the direct election amendment would abolish the Electoral College, award the presidency to the candidate who wins with 40 percent or more of the popular vote, and establish a runoff of the top two candidates if neither receives 40 percent.

Bayh hopes to duplicate what happened in the House: backers of alternate plans joined the direct election forces after the alternatives were defeated. This happened, the senator said, because most realized some sort of reform is needed.

If passed by two-thirds of both houses of Congress, the direct election amendment would need approval of three-fourths—38—

Four Are Injured Tests for Epilepsy as Car Hits Tree in Pontiac Twp.

A Pontiac man is in fair condition following a one-car accident in Pontiac Township early this morning. Three other persons were injured, but not hospitalized.

Dennis Michael Nesbitt, 21, of 235 W. Rutgers, was injured when the car he was driving went out of control and struck a tree on Bald Mountain Road near Dutton at 1:15 a.m., according to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

Three passengers, Nesbitt's car received minor injuries. Margaret Ender, 21, of 4855 Pine Knob Lake, Clarkston and Donna L. Scarborough, 22, of 169 N. Miller were treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital. Wilbur Cash, 20, of 169 N. Mill did not require treatment.

Dr. Robert L. Maushy said such tests are given points in many foreign countries, rarely used in the United States.

Split-Rail Fence Marks Entrance To Troy Maschmeyer Ranch In Lapeer County

Antique Lumber Wagon Displayed On Pool House's Field-Stone Terrace

Horses Hold the Key

By JODY HEADLEE

Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

The lure of horsemanship has the entire Troy Maschmeyer family including Troy Jr., 14, and Kathy, 21, in its power.

"It all started when Kathy was 6, in a Grosse Pointe University School and had a chance to take riding lessons," chuckled Maschmeyer. "I'm the latest one in the ranks. I started fox hunting six years ago and competing in shows just one year ago."

It was the family hobby that led the Maschmeyers to buy the 300-acre ranch three years ago to stable and raise their 20 thoroughbred jumpers and hunters.

Decor in the three-bedroom, 100-year-old house on the grounds is geared to a hunt theme as it is in the nearby out-building which houses the pool, the lounge and the indoor riding track.

OUTDOOR TRACK

"We're building an outdoor track right next to the indoor one," said Maschmeyer. "In the center will be a 10-acre lake."

Ribbons proving the Maschmeyer family's riding success frame the entrance to the spacious lounge carpeted in gold plush. Peeking down from the authentic wagon wheel fixture above the barn-board paneled table is one of Maschmeyer's latest fox trophies.

Split field stone and barn-board panels create a cozy atmosphere before the commanding fireplace. Matching sofas in shades of brown invite toe-toasting after a frosty morning's hunt.

Picture windows draped in a black embroidery on natural linen, overlook the pool on one side and the winter track on the other.

AUTHENTIC ANTIQUES

Many of the furnishings in the room are authentic antiques including the trunk on the track wall, the chopping block table and the dropleaf table. Paintings above the fireplace and the barn-board bar depict hunt scenes.

In the remodeled farmhouse, from the brick-floored entrance to the upstairs bedrooms, one never doubts the family's interest in horses and hunting.

Two pictures of horses by Jerry Heider hold the focal point above the pine chest in the pine paneled foyer. Continuing the rustic approach, the honeyed pine of the living room is complemented by green-gold carpeting.

VICTORIAN INTEREST

On the marble-topped Victorian piece before the shades-of-brown sofa is a Staffordshire tea set decorated in hunt scenes. Whimsical fox figurines on pedestals flank the antique framed mirror and decorate the fox horn lamp on the table beneath.

The Maschmeyers will open their home to benefit the Oxford Junior Women's Club on the organization's third annual home tour. The six-home tour will be held Oct. 4 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. with tea being served from noon to 3 p.m. at the Dominican Sisters' Delima College on Drahter Road, Oxford Township.

Tickets may be purchased at any one of the homes on the tour. Participants are asked to wear low heels and refrain from smoking while in the homes.

A Private Well Can Be Help

Water... and plenty of it... is the basic ingredient for a healthy, green lawn all summer long.

But an increasing number of community water usage restrictions are turning green lawns brown.

According to Joseph R. Schmitt, director of marketing, A.Y. McDonald Mfg. Co., Dubuque, Iowa, leading maker of private water systems, one solution is your own private water system for non-drinking usage only.

These systems are being installed in increasing quantities in the hundreds of communities that now restrict lawn sprinkling altogether, and in the hundreds more that restrict the times of day and how long you can water your lawn.

SHALLOW WELL. Many communities allow the use of nonpotable water for lawn sprinkling.

Thus, in areas where shallow underground water is unsuitable for drinking, it still may be tapped for sprinkling, or for swimming pools, and car washing.

No pressure tank is required, for these systems, just a well, a pump, and a lawn sprinkling apparatus, if you want a truly self-contained lawn sprinkling system.

The well itself need only be two inches in diameter, which is all a shallow well pump needs.

SWING AROUND SHELVES are a convenience for the corner of a kitchen counter. Pattern 399 shows the corner cabinet construction, lists materials and gives a full-size guide for shelves. COMFORT-ORIENTED — Perfect for relaxing after the rigors of a challenging fox hunt is the living room of the Troy Maschmeyers in Lapeer County. Hunt-scene Staffordshire, antique china and milk glass are displayed on the pine cabinets. Avocado velvet covers round serving table. A milk glass and brass lantern lights the area.

Many of the new larger-than-life pieces are made with conical casters, so that they are actually more mobile than their smaller counterparts of other times. Too, they often boast swivel bases, so that turning in any direction is no problem. Backs and arms are often wide enough to accommodate guests who like to perch informally; seats are so deep that they can be used for full-sized extra beds.

Plank-and-Beam Homes Special

Spaciousness, openness and a feeling of freedom are hallmarks of wood plank-and-beam homes. These appealing features are the results of simplicity of structure and form.

A plank-and-beam home is distinctive in character because of its sweeping roof system created by horizontal ceiling beams under a canopy of wood decking. Roof structure and ceiling are one and the same and room height extends to top roof level.

As a general rule, the roof decking is formed with two or three inch thick lumber which has extremely high insulation value.

Major advantages are the strength and efficiency of the medium for jointly utilizing the high strength and striking grain texture of freshrun Southern Pine.

In some of the newer modern homes, plank-and-beam comprises the floor as well as the roof system. Here again, it does double duty providing both floor structure and a comforting attractive walking surface.

Plank-and-beam is adaptable to two-story buildings and to apartments and commercial structures as well as homes.

Massive Sofas, Chairs Gain Wide Approval

If there is one person who probably isn't sighing for the good old days, it's the man of the house, provided that his mate has kept up with the "in" trend to massive sofas and bulkier chairs.

With a nod to fashion's "mod look," furniture companies have come up with new seating that ranges from chairs that are actually low platforms with generously cushioned seats and backs, to sumptuous upholstered seatings made entirely of latex foam rubber over a wood base.

Whatever the size or shape, they're usually bigger — and more comfortable.

Many of the new larger-than-life pieces are made with conical casters, so that they are actually more mobile than their smaller counterparts of other times. Too, they often boast swivel bases, so that turning in any direction is no problem. Backs and arms are often wide enough to accommodate guests who like to perch informally; seats are so deep that they can be used for full-sized extra beds.

Along with new shapes, upholstered pieces are helped to acquire their "different" appearances with new upholstery fabrics. Striated or crushed velvets; tapestry-like fabrics; simulated furs that bear no resemblance to any known animals; boundstooth and nubby tweeds and fashion's "wet look" vinyls are all to be found on both large and more diminutive pieces.

Typical of the built-in comfort in upholstered pieces is a chair introduced at a recent market by Selig of Leominster, of such size that it has been named "Mr. Big." An adaptation of an 18th Century wing chair, the vinyl-upholstered piece has a square arms, thickly cushioned with latex foam, and a comfortable headrest at the back. A matching ottoman permits the New Idea in the massive introductions is a controu chaise — suggested for use in pairs — with headrest actually an integral part of the piece. A "stazy bear" pile fabric, either black or red, is used to upholster the pieces, which, together, could serve as the focal point of a room.

Another concern has produced a deep, sink-in sofa, with all-over tufting and low, square floor chair, of generous lines, accompanied by a huge square ottoman. Pumpkin-colored wide-wale corduroy is the elegant fabric chosen for this luxurious seat.

Ten Ways the Realtor takes the worry out of home buying!

Buying a home can be a barrel of fun. Or a pack of pitfalls. And that's where a Realtor comes in. Even though you may know the difference between a dormer window and a bay, his expert help can open your eyes to other features you might never notice. And steer you clear of drawbacks you might easily overlook. Before you will find ten of the best reasons we know for starting your search for a home in the Realtor's office.

1. THE REALTOR SAVES YOU TIME EFFORT AND HEAD-ACHES. He discovers your architectural interests, learns something of your personal tastes—and tries to show you only the types of homes you want to see, within your price range.
2. THE REALTOR ADVISES YOU ABOUT NEIGHBORHOODS. His professional experience is invaluable to you in analyzing future trends and the potential value of your home as a long-range investment.
3. THE REALTOR HELPS YOU SEE THROUGH INFLATED PRICES. Owners who try to sell personally, often tend to overprice a home. But homes listed with a Realtor—benefit from his knowledge of current market values.
4. THE REALTOR ARRANGES FOR DEFINITE INSPECTIONS. He makes appointments for your convenience. He will also see that you have plenty of time for a thorough, unharried inspection.
5. THE REALTOR HELPS YOU SHARPEN YOUR VISION. He inspects homes with you, calls your attention to improvements and advantages you could overlook. And points out any disadvantages his trained eye may spot.
6. THE REALTOR PROVIDES YOU WITH FULL INFORMATION. He will give you essential facts about taxes, maintenance costs, quality of construction, adequacy of public services, schools, churches—even introduce you to the neighbors.
7. THE REALTOR ACTS AS A NEGOTIATOR. Settling the finer points of price and other differences can get pretty hectic. Your Realtor smooths over the details and helps buyer and seller arrive at a mutually advantageous agreement.
8. THE REALTOR HELPS YOU STAY WITHIN YOUR BUDGET. He will help you analyze your financial situation, give you a sound mortgage advice. Then, if you desire, he can recommend sources of mortgage funds so you can arrange financing.
9. THE REALTOR HELPS YOU KNOW FINAL FACTS AND FIGURES. At the closing of the transaction, you will need a complete financial statement, giving you an exact record for insurance, tax and other purposes.
10. THE TERM REALTOR is your assurance of competence, fair treatment and integrity. Display of the Realtor seal is evidence of the pledge to uphold the Realtor's Creed.

Set a Mood in the Kitchen

Your kitchen should be as attractive as possible and equipped to be more than just a place to prepare and serve meals.

So says interior decorating consultant Barbara Brody. She notes that the kitchen is frequently used for informal gatherings, checking household accounts, and even for hobbies and homework.

As consultant to the B. Brody Seating Company, Chicago, manufacturer of metal dining furniture, she advises that your kitchen dining set should be made of durable materials and be pleasingly styled to match the many uses of the kitchen.

The mood of the kitchen is also important. If the room is small, a monochromatic color scheme that matches or blends with the table and chairs can be the answer.

Junking Fun for the Family

In the dark ages of the depression when a hard-pressed homemaker might household items or used furniture from a second-hand shop, the family was pledged to silence and the origin of the purchase forever shielded from neighborhood gossip.

In today's booming economy, however, "junking" has become a national avocation.

Americans from coast to coast are gleefully making decorative capital out of hand-me-downs and "found" objects scavenged from second-hand stores, demolished buildings, antique shops, rummage sales, and auctions.

Novel Exterior Plan Distinguishes 1-Story

Ever wanted the convenience of a ranch house with a more elegant exterior than usually is seen in a one-story residence? If your answer is yes, take a look at this unusual home. It's a four-bedroom ranch with all the comforts of most well-designed one-story houses, but with the elegance, formality, good zoning and privacy normally found in two-story dwellings.

Note the stately appearance of the outside. Architect Samuel Paul has created a formal courtyard entrance (flanked by two low-roofed wings).

In the center is a 12-foot-high columned portico, with a gracious double door entrance. The garage faces the side, and the driveway brings guests right to the formal courtyard entrance.

FRONT FACADE The entire front facade is covered in brick and accented with colonial style windows and shutters.

Inside the main entrance, there is a spacious reception foyer with a closet on each side.

Straight ahead is a sunken formal living room, with an attractive window wall overlooking the rear patio and garden.

Alongside the living room and located up two steps is a bal-coned dining room, which also faces the rear patio and garden.

WROUGHT IRON

A decorative wrought iron railing divides the two rooms, yet permits one to flow into the other without a wall break, resulting in a sense of tremendous space.

To the left of the foyer is the informal activity area of the home, highlighted by a paneled family room with a log-burning brick fireplace.

Adjoining this is the kitchen, which stretches out to a breakfast room or dinette. The latter can be used for morning or other informal family meals, permitting the regular dining room to be reserved for special occasions.

DINETTE

The dinette has sliding glass doors leading to the patio.

Next to the kitchen is a convenient laundry-mud room center, with a separate entrance from the outside and another to the garage. The stairway also is located here.

Within the area, too, is something which will please the women—a large pantry.

The entire right wing of the house comprises a private and quiet bedroom zone. There are four bedrooms, with an abundance of closet space and two full baths.

MASTER BEDROOM

The master bedroom features an enormous walk-in closet with a full private bath, including shower and tub.

Besides space for two cars, the garage is large enough to handle some storage items. There is a good-sized basement underneath the left wing.

The balance of the house is located over crawl space.

Despite its truly impressive facade and interior layout, this home is not extravagant in size, with a comfortable 1,862 square feet of basic living area.

Fences, Siding Can Unite Theme

Many modern homes use identical or matching patterns of lumber for siding on exterior walls and fencing.

This strengthens the identity of home with landscape and creates overall unity of design.

Bethany Baptists Have 50th Anniversary

GREETING OLDTIMERS—Arriving at Bethany Baptist Church, West Huron at Mark for festivities connected with the 50th anniversary of the church are (from left) Ivan Long of Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. Clifton Dennis of Lake Alfred, Fla.; Mrs. Donald White of 1220 LaSalle, Waterford Township; and Dr. Emil Kontz, pastor, who welcomes the three charter members to the church.

STUDY TEXT—Looking over passages in the Bible about which they will be questioned in the Bible Quiz at 7 tonight are (from left) Karen Saul, Debbie Waldrop and Janet Saul, all of White Lake Township. The Bible Quiz will be a part of the Rally for young people at Oxford Baptist Church, Oxford. Youth of several churches will compete in the quiz.

The history of Bethany Baptist Church began more than 50 years ago in the summer of 1906 when Mary Barnett started it. It was on July 22, 1906 when work in the west side of Pontiac as a city missionary. She was a recent graduate of Kalamazoo College and Baptist Missionary Training School, and organized as the West Side Mission of First Baptist Church. All this happened under the inspiration and guidance of Dr. Rufus M. Traver, pastor of First Baptist from 1906 to 1915. During that time he also served as minister of the new mission group that was to become Bethany Baptist Church. This was the beginning of Bethany Baptist Church. The congregation will celebrate its 50th anniversary tomorrow.

GUEST SPEAKERS
Dr. Arthur L. Farrell, executive director of the Michigan Baptist Convention, will preach at 11 a.m. tomorrow. After a decade as a pastor, Dr. Farrell was appointed to his present position more than 10 years ago. Most significant in his ministry to human need has been the establishment of several retirement centers for senior citizens.

The most recent venture was acquiring the Whittier Hotel in Detroit. This will become a retirement center in January 1970.

Sunday evening is designated as Historical Night. There will be a program beginning at 6 p.m. to help relive the past history of the church as well as to face its present challenge.

Mrs. Robert Sickels wrote the special program for the occasion. This will include the recognition of about 12 charter members. Several oldtimers will reminisce on "I Remember When."

CHALLENGE
The concluding part of the evening will feature young adults in presenting the challenge to the church of the present day.

The gala festivities will close Wednesday evening when the congregation and friends assemble for the anniversary banquet at 6:30 p.m.

Speakers include Dr. Selwyn Smith, executive secretary of the Detroit Baptist Association of 35 ABC churches.

Coming from Ohio where he is executive minister of the Ohio Baptist Convention will be Dr. Joseph L. Chapman, pastor of Bethany Baptist Church from 1957 to 1960. He will speak on "Secret of a Vital Ministry."

All services are open to the public. Admission to the banquet is by reservation. It was on July 22, 1906 when the Sunday School was started. On that date 24 people met in a house on Lake Street. The following Sunday the group work expanded even more, the Sunday School purchased the building. So an empty store was rented for one dollar a week. When the church work expanded even more, the Sunday School purchased the building. Soon it was apparent that a church building was needed. A movement was started to build the West Side Chapel. Records show the money was secured and the building erected and dedicated on June 6, 1954. It was known as the Green Street Church.

On Sept. 17, 1919 Bethany Baptist Church was formally incorporated as an autonomous Baptist congregation. The Rev. T. S. Marsh was the first pastor of the newly formed church.

Before long the growth of the church fellowship made it evident that a larger structure was necessary.

In May 1922, two lots were purchased on West Huron and Mark. The educational building present church constructed and dedicated on June 6, 1954. Dr. Emil Kontz is the present pastor.

Why I Go to Church

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the 11th in a series of articles by Pontiac area citizens.)

By DR. RAYMOND MAYOR
Pontiac Physician

DR. RAYMOND MAYOR

The changing world today with its perplexities makes the teachings of the Bible essential. The Christian life is a constant challenge and cannot be successfully accomplished without guidance from the Bible.

Church attendance directs my mind to Jesus Christ who is my example. It presents to me a better way of life through the ministry of God's Word. There is the opportunity for study and discussion of various Bible principles. The minister presents spiritual food for the days ahead.

I find church attendance brings fellowship with Christians, and the sharing of experiences to encourage one another.

There is a feeling of satisfaction from being of service to those in need. I have realized that one's interest is where his money is invested. Therefore, as I give time and money to the church, so there lies my interest, not for any gain of mine but to help forward God's work.

Regular attendance is important in the spiritual growth.

Just as a log that rolls from a bonfire soon dies out, so the Christian dies spiritually as he loses contact with the source of his power.

"Urban Orientation," a parish-wide conference on race relations, will begin at 7:45 Tuesday evening at the church, 5500 N. Adams, Troy, and continue through three successive Tuesdays at the same hour.

Purpose of the conference will be the development of a program which will increase understanding of the racial crisis as perceived by the blacks who live in the midst of it; discover projects to alleviate the problems that are now going on; and discover in what way St. Stephen's resources, personal and financial, can be offered and used.

Cochairmen Mrs. George I. Wilson and Francis G. Faustman, directors of the conference, and the adult education committee planned the "Urban Orientation." The group worked with the Rev. Canon William S. Logan, executive director of the department of programs for the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan.

The public is invited to attend the four Tuesday evening sessions. No reservations are necessary.

Legg Writes Letter of Work in Nigeria

The Rev. and Mrs. Lyle Legg, missionaries to Nigeria, West Africa from First Baptist Church, write of their work. The Rev. Mr. Legg, a medical missionary, serves a leper colony. Here are excerpts from his letter: "Greetings from the land of Africa. God is, working in a wonderful way. Recently I called in a little village and was asked to visit a man who was quite sick."

"It was a surprise to see this man holding a Hausa song book and reading the songs from it. Throughout this country there are mostly Yoruba people, so I asked if he understood Hausa and he said he did."

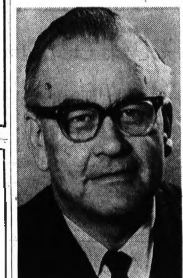

"We had a nice time singing together from his hymn book."

"It was real encouraging to hear he had become a Christian more than 20 years ago from listening to one of our old doctors preach in Jos market."

"One of our greatest joys is to see many who found Christ in their youth who are now pastors, evangelists and teachers in this great land of opportunities."

"My wife and I attended a meeting in Ilorin for all the Christian national workers of West Africa. More than 500 were present. We spent much of the time talking with various persons with whom we had worked in the Moslem north."

"One man from the far end of Sokoto Province said he never knew there were so many Christians who could gather together in one place at one time."

Hold Revival Each Evening Sept. 21-28

The Rev. E. D. Coxan, superintendent of the movement known as the United Holiness Church, will hold revival at the local church, Mariva and Auburn beginning at 7:30 each evening.

Services will continue through Sept. 28.

A graduate of Spring Arbor College, the guest preacher began his ministry in the Upper Peninsula at the age of 22. After serving several pastorates he was named district superintendent.

In January of 1966 several ministers and laymen founded the United Holiness Church. The congregation under the leadership of Pastor D. M. Kifer recently joined the denomination.

The movement is Wesleyan in doctrine, the pastor said.

Lauds Graham

NEW YORK (AP) — An American Jewish Committee official, Rabbi Dr. Marc Tanenbaum, praises Evangelist Billy Graham for breaking down stereotypical attitudes about Baptists being interested only in "personal salvation" and not in social concerns. The rabbi said that Graham, in his recent sermons, has demonstrated a keen concern for "social justice and for commitment to confront such basic issues as racial injustice, poverty, war and the generation gap," and has helped remove a common caricature of Baptists.

More Women

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — The Church is becoming a feminine movement with many more women joining than men according to a survey issued by the (Presbyterian) Church of Scotland. The survey showed that 65 per cent of recruits under 21 and 53 per cent of those over 21 were women.

LIGHTHOUSE QUARTET — Singing at 7:30 this evening in Calvary Missionary Church, 1361 Giddings, Pontiac Township, will be the Lighthouse Quartet. Organized in January, the quartet consists of (left front) Roy Cummings, Mrs. David Porritt; (left second row) Mrs. Cummings, David Porritt; and pianist Kathleen Cummings. They are all members of the Calvary Church.

During his 46 years in India, Dr. Pickett served as pastor, editor, publisher and secretary of Regional and National Christian Councils.

He was the organizer and first president of the United Christian Mission to Nepal which has built up a missionary force of more than 100.

It now runs three hospitals and several educational institutions in that Himalayan kingdom which had previously not allowed the entry of missionaries.

After conducting a prolonged investigation under the auspices of the Rockefeller supported Institute of Social and Religious Research, Bishop Pickett wrote

Open House Set

at Rectory Sunday

The Rev. and Mrs. M. J. Fleming of 5301 Hatcher, Waterford Township, will hold an open house at the rectory tomorrow for members and friends of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. Hours are from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m.

The Rev. Mr. Fleming is rector of St. Andrew's Church. The Thrift Shop sponsored by the churchwomen is open for the fall and winter season.

Good used clothing is for sale each Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the church basement.

Join Blacks

ST. LOUIS (AP) — For the first time in Southern Baptist history, one of the denominational's mainly white congregations, Christ Memorial Baptist Church here, has also joined a black denomination, the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A.

Now dually aligned both with the big white and black conventions, the church's pastor, the Rev. Bill Little, said it was "a way of saying to black Baptists, 'you have something to give to help me, and I have something to learn from you.'"

Notes Reform

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — "It is far more exciting to be a Catholic than a Protestant these days," says the Rev. Dr. Walter W. Benjamin, a Methodist and head of the religion department at Hamline University, St. Paul, Minn.

After attending a two-week seminar at a Jesuit seminary here, he says the "healthy ferment" in Roman Catholicism has made it the "Protestant church today — the church reformed, but always to be reformed."

Those who love deeply never grow old; they may die of old age, but they die young. — Sir Arthur Wing Pinero, English dramatist.

Bride's Wish for Privacy
Isn't Selfish

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of the Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: When I get married, my mother would like to have her two sisters, their husbands, and two children stay with us. Therefore, my two female cousins will have to stay in my room.

I have never minded sharing my room with my cousins at any other time, when cots have been set up for them. But I would like to spend my last evening at home in the solitude and comfort of my own room. This last night at home should be a restful one before the confusion when my room is used as the dressing room for my bridal party before an early wedding. Am I wrong in feeling this way? Am I being selfish? — Kay

Dear Kay: No, I do not think you are being selfish, and you should explain your feelings to your mother. You certainly have a right to your privacy on that of all nights. If it is necessary to set up cots anywhere, let it be the dining room, the living room, or any other room except your own.

"DROP-IN" SHOWERS

Dear Mrs. Post: I am interested in the etiquette on "Drop-In" Showers. They have become very common in this area, and I think they are awful. To me, such an invitation says "Bring a gift to Jane Doe. She's getting married (or having a baby or what not) and needs all the gifts she can get. We don't have room to ask you to sit down and visit awhile. . . that way we would be limited to asking only a few people and she wouldn't get enough gifts."

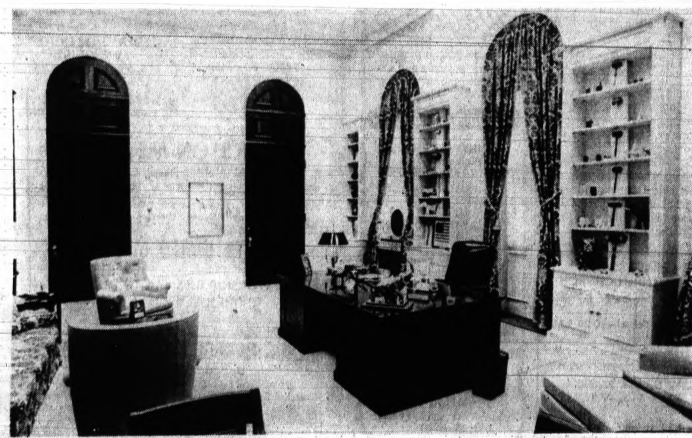

Showers used to be fun — where you knew the honoree, had the fellowship of other guests and where you shared the "oohs" and "aahs" of the guest of honor as she opened her gifts. At these "Drop-In" showers, you greet the honoree, present your gift which is opened (sometimes by someone else) and put on display, have refreshments, and go your merry way. — Jennifer.

Dear Jennifer: I agree that the "Drop-In" — sometimes called "Floating" — shower is a very commercial affair. As you point out, it has none of the intimacy or warmth of a true shower. If people wish to entertain a bride in that way, it is certainly their privilege, but let's call it a "Present-Party" or a "Gift-Getter" rather than trying to soften the commercialism by calling it a shower.

Sheer Fabric Labeled
Flammable by FTC

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission has warned that a certain "very sheer" fabric, on the market since 1968 both as finished curtains and as material for women's apparel such as see-through blouses, is dangerously flammable.

The commission said every effort is being made to halt distribution of the fabric manufactured by Berkshire Hathaway Inc., New Bedford, Mass. The commission said the fabric comes in white, blue and pink and in two patterns, No. 78150 (flocked and No. 73150 plain.

Theatre World Delights Ex-Steno

By JUNE ELERT
"I'm completely captivated," Barbara Heymann says of the theatrical world she entered a short few years ago when she was hired as executive secretary for the newly-formed Meadow Brook Theatre.

"Theatre people are wonderful to work with — my enthusiasm for the theatre itself just has to be second to the feeling I have for the people."

Her appointment as business manager for the Theatre was announced recently.

Mrs. Heymann's business experience had all been in the realm of general office and secretarial work, including a three-year stint in the mathematics department at Oakland University. As a Pontiac Central High School graduate, Barbara attended Ypsilanti State Normal School years ago without definite career aspirations and some vague notion of transferring later. Marriage and motherhood eliminated that problem.

"I suppose," she said, "I sort of grew into this job. I've absorbed a good deal about theatre management over the years and my business background helped, too."

Barbara's fascination extends to seeing each of the plays about four times, plus snatching moments to watch scene rehearsals. She says, "I wouldn't miss the dress rehearsals. They are almost as exciting as opening night. "You know, while the plays are in production, I catch glimpses of scenes here and there and I know about the problems with lights and costumes and props. Then, all of a sudden, there it is on stage, all pulled together and working beautifully. It's like a miracle each time."

No acting goals have been inspired in the tall, slim mother of five, who says she will leave that to daughter, Amy, 12, who played the part of the young page in last season's production of St. Joan and is now, Barbara smiles, "happily stage struck."

Barb's other children, all at home on Ottawa Drive, are Rick, 20, who is at Oakland Community College; Janet, 18, who graduated from Pontiac Central in June; Tommy, 17, a student there; and Fritz, 14, who, with Amy, is at Washington Junior High. They all enjoy going to the plays, too.

Favorite plays? Barb thought "The Seagull" was a "beautiful thing." And I liked "Waltz of the Toreadors" and I guess I'll always remember "Caucasian Chalk Circle" probably because it was the very first one and everything about it was new and exciting.

"As for actors, that's hard to say. They're all great, but I've been thrilled by certain people in certain roles, and I think that's the key. It's hard to have a favorite."

WIDE-EYED DAYS

Asked, "Have you become a critic?" Mrs. Heymann displayed some of the tact which fits her for her new job and discreetly admitted only to an increase in knowledgeability since the early wide-eyed days.

While we talked, performers waved as they passed the tiny office under the Meadow Brook Theatre.

Down the hall, an English accent told me Artistic Director John Fernald was meeting with members of the company, to discuss aspects of the upcoming production. In another room, unaware, costumers argued the relative merits of a full slip, bra slip or corset for a certain scene.

Barbara's brown eyes crinkled easily into a smile. "I'm content," she said.

An Olympic spokesman said Onassis may make the trip with her. In New York, Mrs. Onassis will rejoin her children, Caroline and John Kennedy Jr., who flew to the United States three weeks ago to resume school, they said.

The couple and the children spent the summer on Onassis' private island of Skorpios, where the Onassises were married Oct. 20, 1968.

They also cruised the Mediterranean on the luxury yacht Christina. Their travels included a weekend at Capri and stop at several Greek islands.

Nixons Redecorate White House; 50 Phone Lines, Jackie's Mantel Go

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In making the White House a home, President Nixon has tossed 50 telephone lines and a four-poster bed Lyndon Johnson slept in out of his bedroom and the first lady has taken a plaque inscribed by Jacqueline Kennedy out of her's.

A look at how the Nixons are settling in at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. was provided Friday by Pat Nixon, who escorted newsmen on a room-by-room tour of some of the usually off limits sections of the Executive Mansion.

When the tour arrived at the first lady's bedroom the reporters noticed that a fireplace mantle bearing the "Jackie Kennedy" plaque had been removed and replaced with an entirely different mantle. The old mantle had contained a plaque noting the years of the Lincoln Presidency, to which the former first lady, in her last days in the White House, had added:

"John F. Kennedy and his wife Jacqueline lived in this room . . ." and the dates.

The mantle had been replaced by one designed by architect Benjamin Latrobe at about the time the mansion was built at the end of the 18th century. The old one was put in storage.

FOUR-POSTER BED

Also in the first lady's bedroom was a four-poster bed she admitted had been in her husband's bedroom, until the first time he saw it and announced, "I'm not going to get into that."

She said she bought him a two-poster bed instead and brightened his room with red, white and blue prints. She also revealed that Nixon had 50 telephone lines removed from the presidential bedroom. The bedrooms and the first lady's predecessor, Lyndon B. Johnson, a "phone man" of note.

She picked up a miniature knight in shining armor mounted on a horse from a desk in the presidential bedroom, and added "he's my knight."

She also took the tour through the Lincoln sitting room, "Dick's hideaway," where she pointed out a well-worn velvet armchair and matching ottoman.

"Dick comes down here late at night," she said, "turns on the music, looks out at the Washington Monument and dreams."

Princess Margaret Is in Japan

TOKYO (UPI) — Britain's Princess Margaret, wearing a yellow miniskirt and a tiara of white flowers stepped smiling from a jetliner today for a 10-day state visit to Japan.

Ahead of the princess and her husband, Lord Snowdon, lay a vigorous schedule of surveying Japan's ancient culture, riding bullet trains and helping sell British exports.

Japan's ruling establishment gave the princess a warm welcome. It was her first visit to Japan, although she once visited Hong Kong.

Mrs. Onassis off to Join Children

ATHENS (UPI) — Jacqueline Onassis was to leave Greece today to rejoin her children in New York, Onassis household sources said.

The sources said the former Mrs. John F. Kennedy planned to leave on Olympic Airways, owned by her millionaire husband Aristotle Onassis.

An Olympic spokesman said Onassis may make the trip with her.

In New York, Mrs. Onassis will rejoin her children, Caroline and John Kennedy Jr., who flew to the United States three weeks ago to resume school, they said.

The couple and the children spent the summer on Onassis' private island of Skorpios, where the Onassises were married Oct. 20, 1968.

Fat Content Limit Set on Hot Dogs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Virginia Knauer, the White House's consumer advocate, is the winner of the hot dog war.

Her recommendation of setting a 30 percent level on the amount of fat to be permitted in federally approved hot dogs, bologna and knockwurst was accepted Friday by the Agriculture Department. It will be effective Oct. 23.

It was a defeat for the department's experts, who had urged that the limit be set at the current average fat content of 33 percent, and for spokesmen of the meat packing industry, who wanted either no limit, as now or a level higher than 33 percent.

Mrs. Eisaku Sato, wife of the Japanese prime minister, met the princess at the plane along with Minister of International Trade Masayoshi Ohira, who was accompanied by his wife.

With her yellow dress the princess wore elbow-length white gloves and white pumps.

Escorted by British Ambassador Sir John Picher, the princess rapidly worked her way through a receiving line of Japanese officials, commonwealth diplomats and their wives and high-ranking members of the British embassy staff.

Mothers of Toddlers Are Prisoners

By BETTY CANARY
NEA Writer

During the month of September, the most forgotten woman in America is that mother whose children do not go to school. She's subjected to a flurry of back-to-school news and there she is with preschoolers and a long winter looming.

Everyone knows preschoolers are endearing creatures, what with their milky mouths and fuzzy sleepers, but even the most appreciative mother can't help thinking they would be even more endearing if they'd stop doing such things as squeezing oatmeal through their fingers or waking from naps with a temperature of 101.

If remembered at all, the mother of preschool children is recognized only in articles telling her why she feels trapped.

She knows the reason she feels trapped is because she is trapped, but she will conscientiously read the articles anyway, just to see if perhaps this time somebody has come up with something new. (They never do.)

Shopping in Off Season Means Savings

By ANNE TAYLOR
AP Newswriter

Last spring I remember looking in the window of a well-known New York women's apparel store and finding winter coats on sale for $59. These same coats had sold at considerably higher prices all winter long.

The clothes explained to me when I inquired that they were loaded down with the coats and would prefer selling them now at near cost in order to avoid storing them for the summer. He called it a "post-season sale."

"They'll be back to their old price in the fall," he said.

Well, they are back to their old price that fall is here. But three or four weeks ago you could have purchased the coats for the same price as in the spring, for they were on a "pre-season sale."

There's a real lull in our business later in the summer. The store manager explained, "People stop buying summer clothes because it's so late in the season. But until the chilly weeks ago I watched scores of weather comes, they're reluctant to buy their fall apparel."

These situations illustrate the bargains that can be obtained by shopping in the off season. Many people make a custom of shopping this way. In fact, some mothers already are buying toys to put under the Christmas tree.

OPPOSITE

Off-season shopping is the opposite of impulse buying, a malady that afflicts almost all of us and for which we pay dearly. Off-season buying requires planning, discipline and patience. The summer clothes you buy in the late summer, for example, may have to remain in mothballs for months.

A tip: Although you can get real bargains during the off season you should not as a rule believe the "low" price as compared with the "sale" price. Exaggerations are common.

Will-O-Way Starts Season

An addition to the local Will-O-Way Playhouse on West theatre scene will be the in-Long Lake Road.

Under Celia Merrill Turner, director, and her husband, Kenneth E. Turner, general manager, a resident company of young actors will present "Lav," "Star Spangled Girl," and a musical "The Apple Tree," which will open the season on Oct. 13.

Performances are scheduled, Tuesdays through Sundays, with curtain at 8:30.

The occasional introduction of experimental plays for short runs is being considered for later in the year after the three show repertory has been cycled.

Mrs. Turner, who is Chairman of the Performing Arts Department for Northwood Institute in Indiana, will continue to commute from Will-O-Way to the Indiana campus at West Baden in addition to directing the repertory season here.

The program of weekly classes is under the direction of Mrs. Carol Wolfe and is open to girls now attending kindergarten through sixth grade.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Department office.

Mixing Styles Fashion Error

Men's fashions have gone wild and wonderful, but the basic rules still apply.

Gentlemen, please remember that no one, in any fashion era, has looked anything but silly if he mixes his styles — which is to say that silk ties and sports jackets worn together is still a fashion no-no.

So is wearing any type of loafer with a business suit, or wearing wingtips with casual slacks. Look as suave as you please, but be consistent.

Cotton Is Choice for Serviceability on Dorm Beds

A bedspread for a dorm room doesn't have to be pretty, as long as it's supremely serviceable.

However, new cotton bedspreads score high on both points. They can take all the hard wear dormitory life can give, and still look fresh as a daisy. In vivid, colorfast shades, patterned in up-to-the-minute motifs, the spreads can be machine-washed and dried and put straight back on the bed.

Some of the new bedspreads on the market come in coordinated ensembles for decorating a dorm room. Sets include bedspread, tablecloth, draperies, and chair cushions, all in the same printed or solid-color fabric.

Vinegar Lifts Lint

If lint adheres to your washable black garments, make the last rinse half-water, half-vinegar. The lint will be removed and there will be no vinegar odor.

Reel Holds Wire Without Tangling

Snarling and tangling of household wire are eliminated with new packaging from one company.

The wire, either galvanized or nylon coated, comes in three gauges and is wound on a steel frame so that the consumer can cut off just the amount needed. The reel holds the rest neat and tangle-free.

Girl's Death Puts Focus on Growing Crime in Italy

ROME (UPI) — Bartolomeo Calleri drowned in the Po River, but he was a known bandit, and few people worried about it. What upset many Italians was the death of a 13-year-old schoolgirl Calleri had held captive.

The 34-year-old bandit died in the river near Turin while trying to escape from police.

It was later that authorities found the body of Maria Teresa Novara, 13—dead of asphyxiation, in an airless underground room where Calleri had left her eight days before his own death.

Authorities said several people knew Calleri was holding the girl—but that they said nothing.

OTHER CASES

The situation recalled other cases in recent years involving abuses of children in which witnesses failed to notify authorities.

Until now Italy has been, if anything, notorious for its pampering and spoiling of children — a trait common to most Mediterranean peoples.

But the case of Maria Teresa Novara focused public attention on the fact that organized crime, has become a growing problem in the country, and children have not been spared as its victims.

The growth of crime, officials believe, has been enhanced by the mass exodus from southern Italy and Sicily to the industrial cities of the north.

Potential Mafia recruits, who in an earlier day might have left Sicily for the United States, now emigrate instead to Turin, Milan and Genoa.

ing and drug-running all have become familiar phenomena in Italian cities that escaped these blights longer than cities in many other countries.

The case of Maria Teresa has drawn public attention to the growing number of girls who disappear from home. Police are now investigating the possibility that a professional ring is engaged in luring them away from home, into a life of prostitution and drugs.

It can take from 50 to 100 years for a new breed of dog to gain acceptance.

Junior Editors Quiz on CELLOPHANE

QUESTION: What is cellophane made from?

ANSWER: If a person from 50 years ago, who had never seen a modern supermarket, could suddenly step inside one, he'd be amazed at the great number of items which would attract him — not only because they were useful, but because they were so sparkling-looking, so fresh, so untouched, so clean.

We must give a great deal of the credit for this to that transparent material, cellophane. Meats, fruits, dresses, shirts—all kinds of things you wouldn't buy if they were the least bit dirty—all these are preserved intact for your use under a wrapping of cellophane.

And you can look right through and see what you are buying. Cellophane, a product of the modern age of plastics which began in 1920, comes from cellulose, the material of which the cell walls in plants are composed.

Our picture shows hemlock and spruce logs (1), reduced to chips, passing through various chemical processes (2), (3), until the original material emerges as shining rolls of cellophane, ready to serve all of us who demand cleanliness in our modern world.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Year-book if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Kicks Go Wrong for Chiefs

Punt Miscues Aid Flint SW in 16-6 Win

By DON VOGEL

Flint Southwestern's Colts got a big kick out of last night's football game with Pontiac Central at Wiser Stadium.

The Colts turned a fumbled punt recovery into one touchdown and used a long punt return for another as they downed the Chiefs, 16-6, in a Saginaw Valley Conference inter-divisional game that doesn't count in the standings.

It was the second straight loss for Pontiac Central. Southwestern evened its record at 1-1.

Quarterback Perry Humphrey scored PCH's touchdown in the second quarter when he elected to run after dropping back for pass. The play covered 10 yards and earned the Chiefs a 6-0 halftime lead.

BIG BREAK

Southwestern's first big break came late in the third quarter.

On two straight plays the Chiefs fumbled punts. The first time it didn't count because of a Colt penalty but the second proved fatal as Southwestern took over on the 30 and drove across in eight plays.

The Colts were carried to fourth down before Tim Davis leaped over right tackle and barely made it into the end zone.

Quarterback Don Burroughs faked to a back running into the line and then scooted unopposed around right end for the conversion and an 8-6 advantage.

The Chiefs stormed back as Humphrey clicked on two passes. Then came the play that may have cost PCH the game. Humphrey fired 29 yards down the middle to end Ron Ransom who was wide open. However, Ransom dropped the pass and the Chiefs were forced to punt.

Poor punt coverage during the game finally caught up with them.

Southwestern's John Lick fielded Dennis Brown's punt on the 21 with the closest Chief over 10 yards away. He quickly cut to the right sideline and a block took care of the only defender in his way. Lick went the 79 yards untouched and Don Robinson ran the two-point conversion.

The Chiefs were not finished. Humphrey ran 15 yards and passed 37 to Ransom to put the ball on the Southwestern 11. But his pass on the next play was behind the receiver who tipped it into the hands of Lick.

Southwestern completely bottled up Central's running attack. The Chiefs netted only 85 yards and 32 were by Humphrey when he decided to run instead of passing.

The senior quarterback did complete five of 11 passes for 66 yards.

The Colts had just as much difficulty running against the Chiefs' defenders led by Eric Walker, Chris Anderson and Humphrey. PCH also checked Colt pass receivers to such an extent that most of the time only one was able to get out and he was double covered.

Burroughs completed only four of 15 for 56 yards. Humphrey intercepted one pass and the Chiefs let a couple of others go through their hands.

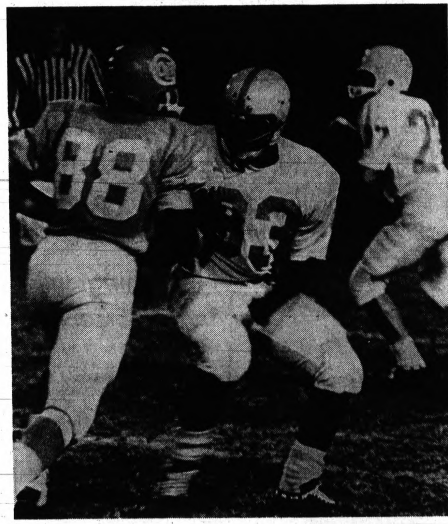

Pontiac Central will open SVC West Division play next Friday at Saginaw Arthur Hill.

Dexter Pins Loss on Novi's Wildcats

Dexter pushed across six-pointers in the second and third stanzas last night and went on to a 14-6 decision over Novi's Wildcats (1-1).

Rich Hill, who gained 143 yards in 22 attempts for the Wildcats, put Novi ahead in the first stanza on a three-yard run, but Dexter (2-4) came back to knot the count at 6-6 in the second period on a one-yard run by Dan LaVall.

Then Dexter added the clincher in the third on a one-yard sneak by Greg Ianni, who flipped a pass to Dan Arbor for the two-point conversion.

Along with his running, Hill checked in with 18 unassisted tackles and six assisted tackles.

Win Streak Ends for South Lyon

Ypsilanti Lincoln ended South Lyon's eight game winning streak last night by whipping the Lions, 14-6.

Butch Meggett flipped touchdown passes of seven and three yards to Loyce Hoffman in the first and fourth quarters.

Dave Brandon, who hit on 6 of 17 passes for South Lyon, put the Lions on the scoreboard in the third on a 40-yard pass to Dave Perkins. The loss left both teams at 1-1.

Southfield Rallies to Edge Waterford

The Blue Jays of Southfield stormed from behind in the fourth quarter last night to down visiting Waterford Township, 22-10.

"They kind of wore us down," said Waterford coach John Moffat.

Ahead 10-6 as the final period opened, the Skippers staged a stirring defensive stand midway in the period and halted a Southfield drive at the Waterford four-yard line.

Then the Skippers started a drive of their own. They moved from their four to their own 25 but a fumble there was gobbled up by the Blue Jays at the 27.

FUMBLE OPENS DOOR

Setting the stage for their go-ahead touchdown.

The touchdown came on a run from that point by halfback Chuck Petrillo who also ran the two-point conversion to boost the Blue Jays into a 14-10 lead. Petrillo's dash came with just four minutes left in the game.

FINAL TALLY

Moments later, the Blue Jays picked off a Skipper pass and moved in again with John Solberg running the final three yards. Petrillo ran the two-point.

Solberg was a thorn for the Skippers early in the game, too. Taking the opening kickoff on his own five-yard line, the speedster ran it back all the way behind some beautiful blocks. The Blue Jays missed the conversion but they still led, 6-0.

BOOTS FIELD GOAL

Then it was Waterford's turn. Later in the first, guard Steve Kresbach sliced the deficit to 6-3 with a 25-yard field goal, and the Skippers moved in front in the second period on a three-yard run by fullback Craig Wheatstone.

It was a standoff until Petrillo's scamper late in the fourth.

Waterford managed 160 yards on the ground and 195 in the air while Southfield collected 195 yards rushing.

Senior tackle Dave Marsh, a 6-2, 225-pounder, turned in an outstanding defensive performance for the Blue Jays.

Lions Face 'New Look' Pitt

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers open the National Football League season against Detroit Sunday under a new coach, a new starting quarterback and 11 new players.

But it's probable Pittsburgh will be, as their fans often lamented last season, "The same old Steelers."

Pittsburgh ended its exhibition schedule with a victory over an old NFL foe, the New York Giants, in posting a 2-5 post-season record under Chuck Noll, who succeeded the fired Bill Austin.

Noll, an assistant coach at Baltimore, brought the largest crop of rookies ever to camp and began paring the squad, dropping rookies and some veterans and keeping some first-year men and trading for others.

Gone from this year's team are defensive halfback Clendon Thomas, linebacker Bill Saul, defensive tackle Ken Korfias, running back Don Shy and fullback Bill Asbury.

Replacing Thomas is Charles Beatty of North Texas State, while Ray May, in his third year in the pros, has taken over Saul's middle linebacker job.

Joe Greene, Pittsburgh's No. 1 draft choice out of North Texas State, will be a starter at defensive tackle and another rookie, L. C. Greenwood, is expected to see a lot of action at defensive end.

Other rookies on the squad are halfback Bob Campbell of Penn State, fullback Warren Bankston of Tulane and quarterback Terry Hanratty of Notre Dame.

Milford, W. Bloomfield Win

Redskins Pin 30-20 Setback on Kettering

The Milford-West Bloomfield game should be a dandy.

When those two tangled last year, West Bloomfield won, 60-25.

Last night those two Wayne-Oakland League powers ran up impressive scores in posting victories in their hoop debuts.

Milford outscored Waterford Kettering (0-2), 30-20, while West Bloomfield (1-1) ripped Brighton (0-2), 28-3. Those two met Oct. 24 at Milford.

COULD BE WRONG

Coach Jerry Ganzel figures this year would be one of rebuilding for the Redskins of Milford, but it could be the team's already arrived.

Last night, the "Skins, down 14-12 at halftime, scored once in the third and added a couple more six-pointers in the fourth stanza to hold off the surging Captains.

TOP PERFORMER

Tom Newcomb, a senior halfback, was the chief threat in the side of the Captains. He scored on runs of 32 and 12 yards in an offensive role, and ran back an interception 35 yards for another score. Matt Partridge hauled in a 32-yard pass from Mike Monnier for another Milford score, while Monnier rambled 15 yards for the other one.

Bob Gratz sparked the Captains with touchdowns on runs of 32 and 1 yards.

EIGHT STRAIGHT

The Lakers of West Bloomfield, defending champions in the W-O, made it eight straight league wins with the romp over Brighton. The Lakers piled up a 28-0 lead before turning the game over to the reserves.

John Sopko scored on a three-yard run and John Hugelst tallied on a one-yard run as West Bloomfield took a 14-0 lead at intermission. Glen VanGorder hauled in a five-yard pass from Bill Bullock for the third score, while Ron VanGorder, Glen's older brother, picked off a Brighton pass and raced 50 yards for the final score.

Rich Ashton led the Albion victory with a clocking of 22:34, followed by Bill Magee (2), Keith Wathles (4) a graduate of Rochester, Bob Kuehl (5) and Mark Kuehl (6).

Mike McCartan checked in with a 22:36 to place third while seventh through tenth went to Bruce Anderson, Randy Peiprin, Mike Morrison and Tom Williams.

N. Farmington 11 Tops WL Central

The Raiders of North Farmington made it two victories in a row last night by downing Walled Lake Central, 30-0.

Mike Gow and Bob Hughes proved to be the big guns for North Farmington combining for 210 of the Raiders' 295 total rushing yardage.

Gow carried the ball 18 times for 116 yards, and one touchdown while Hughes carried 10 times for 94 yards and two tallies.

Hughes also led North Farmington's strong defensive unit intercepting three pass, one 70 touchdown run that was called back.

Andover Rolls by Clarkston

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Coach Bob Keigen of Bloomfield Hills Andover keeps insisting he's hurting. And it's for real. He and the Barons are hurting . . . other teams.

BLANKS, AGAIN

The Barons put their second whitewash in a row on the line last night by saddling Clarkston with a 34-0 defeat before a large Clarkston crowd. Last week, Oak Park fell before the might of the Barons, 20-0.

"See, there's our fastest runner," Bob says, pointing a finger at Rick Kaufman, who was providing a little ball-retrieving assistance for the squad in the pre-game warmups despite the cast on his broken ankle.

"And there's our tackle Dick Souther between the goal posts," added Bob, again pointing. Souther, a senior, is recovering from a bout with mononucleosis.

NOT MISSED

Keigen missed neither of the two. Filling in capably were halfback Bob Reid and quarterback Scott Roley, along with a tenacious defense that simply refused the Wolves any room to roam.

Ferndale 11 Passes Over Warren High

Quarterback Bill Screws passed 54 and 35 yards to Gordon Daziel last night to lead Ferndale to a come-from-behind, 22-12 victory over Warren in a non-league football game.

Warren took a 6-0 lead on an 18-yard screen pass to Pat Jones in the second quarter, but Ferndale tied the game just before the half on Screws' first aerial to Daziel.

John Owen put the Eagles, now 2-0 for the season, ahead for good in the third period with a one-yard sprint and the Screws-Daziel combination made it 22-6 early in the fourth quarter.

The game was the Wayne-Oakland League opener for both. In another W-O encounter, Clarenceville blanked Northville, 16-0.

Keigen and the Barons were picked in a pre-season poll of league coaches to take the '69 championship, and so far, the team is living up to those expectations.

OPENS SCORING

Reid, a junior speedster, put the Barons on the scoreboard, 6-0, with a minute left in the first period on a three-yard run, ending a three-play 18-yard advance that started after Andover pounced on a Clarkston fumble at the Wolves' 18.

It became 8-0 midway in the second frame when halfback Rick Prasi was collared by the Barons' Brad Fiora in the endzone for a safety.

PAYOFF PASS

Taking the punt after the kickoff at the Clarkston 45-yard line, the Barons scored in seven plays with the payoff coming on a 33-yard pass from Roley to Reid. Another pass to Reid produced a two-point conversion.

The Wolves then showed their only offensive spark of the evening as they took the ensuing kickoff and marched from their own 23 to the Andover seven before losing the ball on downs.

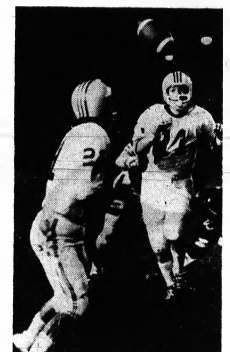

Roley tallied in the third stanza on a one-yard sneak, and end Bob Heussner came up with the defensive play of the night in the fourth period.

GOES FOR TD

Clarkston's Mark Swanson, back to pass, turned the ball loose. Heussner, just a couple of steps from him, batted the ball in the air, juggled it a couple of times, gained control and raced 50 yards for a touchdown.

The Barons finally came late in the fourth on a one-yard sneak by second-string quarterback Rollie Barrett.

Kimball Routs EML Foe; Bathers Whip Seaholm

A couple of area prep leagues broke even on the gridiron last night.

Mount Clemens of the Eastern Michigan League ripped Birmingham Seaholm of the Southeastern Michigan Association, 38-0, while Royal Oak Kimball of the SMA pinned a 34-8 setback on EML's East Detroit.

RIG OUTLIT

Two big quarters provided the Knights of Royal Oak Kimball with the edge against East Detroit. The victory was the second in a row for the Knights while East Detroit is now 1-1.

After a brief standoff in the second period, the Knights grabbed a 16-4 lead at intermission and wrapped up the game with an 18-point outburst in the fourth frame.

INTERCEPTIONS HELP

Four of the Royal Oak touchdowns were set up by pass interceptions, two by Steve Hebold.

Rick Knox got the Knights on the board early in the second on a three-yard run. Then quarterback Tim Cole took charge and flipped scoring passes of 1 and three yards to Tom Brown and Rick Campbell.

SPARKS SURGE

Mike Kilbourne started that big surge for the Knights in the fourth with a six-yard scoring run. Then quarterback Tim Cole took charge and flipped scoring passes of 1 and three yards to Tom Brown and Rick Campbell.

Campbell was the big gun for the Knights. He collected 158 yards on 25 carries. Turning in sharp defensive performances were linebackers Gregg Briggs and Tony Filippis.

ONE SIDED

Mount Clemens made the game with Seaholm about as one-sided as you could ask for. The Battling Bathers held Seaholm to only one first down and only 41 yards in offense — 32 rushing and 9 passing.

Mount Clemens, meanwhile, ripped the Seaholm defense for 271 yards rushing and 69 passing and wrapped up the scoring in the first three frames.

Mike Duda started it with a two-yard run. Bob Steeh went over on a two-yard dash, Bob Denison made it on a five-yard scamper, while Duda flipped a 24-yard pass to Bill Beardslee and a 15-yarder to Al Norwood.

is enjoying his best season in three years.

The former Kent State runner is averaging 4.4 yards a carry for 85 attempts. Brown is close behind at 3.9 per try.

Holcomb went over the 1,000 yard mark in passing yardage in the rout of Dayton last week and he has thrown for nine touchdowns.

One statistic which has been overlooked has been the kick return of little Jim Little who has a 90- and 70-yard punt return for touchdowns to his credit.

The 90 yarder came against South-west Michigan in St. Joe three weeks ago, and last week the large crowd at Wiser was thrilled with his sparkling run of a 70-yard punt.

Defensively, the Firebirds and Lansing are tied for points allowed behind Lakawanna, both giving up 82 points.

5 INTERCEPTIONS

Little Ken Simms has already intercepted five passes, a total which is one short of the best mark set by Chuck Stein in 1967 and Jesse Parrish in 1965, each with six.

Stein, who has missed a lot of playing time this year with an injury, has two interceptions thus far.

The game at Grand Rapids starts at 7:30 tonight.

Next week, the powerful Lakawanna Lancers visit Wiser Stadium and it could be a showdown of the two divisional leaders and possibly a preview of the MFL championship game Nov. 9.

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League today loaned five players to the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League.

Sid Abel, Detroit general manager, said Cleveland received goalie Gerry Gray, left winger Craig Reichmuth and defenseman Bob Falkenberg, Doug Piper and Jim Watson.

The five players will be available to the Wings on a 24-hour recall, Abel said. He added they will report to the opening of Cleveland's training camp in Bowling Green, Ohio, Monday.

Play East Catholic

Titans Seek 1st Win

Three once-beaten teams will be trying for first wins as action resumes in parochial grid activity.

The area's only representative in the Catholic League's first Division I Football Championship of the A-West bracket, will tangle with East Catholic tomorrow at Wiser stadium.

The Titans, who moved up this year to first division competition from the second division's northwest section, will try to bounce back from a 22-3 opening game defeat from Detroit Benedictine last weekend.

East Catholic lost 6-0 to the Aquinas last week. The other opening game losers, Detroit St. Rita and Orchard Lake St. Mary, will battle it out for positions in the second division's northwest bracket Sunday afternoon.

St. Rita was bounced by Waterford Our Lady of Lakes in its opener, 38-0, while the Eagles suffered a 48-0 defeat from Ferndale St. James.

The OLSM squad, under coach Fr. John Rakoczy, is hoping to get back on the winning track after a disappointing 1-6 non-loss record last season.

In other second division action tonight, Hamtramck St. Florian will invade the Waterford Kettering gridiron to do battle with the Our Lady of Lakes while Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows will challenge Uliha St. Lawrence at Uliha.

Tomorrow, two first division powerhouse, Brother Rice and Detroit St. Ambrose, will collide at Grosse Pointe South High School at 2:30 p.m. The Warriors, under first-year coach Al Fracassa, polished off Redford St. Mary of the double-A bracket, 48-22, while the Cavaliers in turn, defeated U of D, 28-14.

Orion Edges Lahser, Oxford, Madison Tie

How about Lake Orion and Oxford for a couple of the early season football surprises.

The season is now two weeks old and neither has been beaten. It's the first time that's happened in some time.

WIN, TIE
Lake Orion's Dragons made it two in a row last night with a 14-12 decision over Bloomfield Hills Lahser, while Oxford and Madison played to a 28-28 stand-off.

It marked the end to the pre-season struggles for all of the Oakland A League teams. Next week, they move into conference competition.

LATE DEADLOCK
Oxford and Madison's Eagles were locked in a wild one that appeared to belong to Oxford when the Wildcats scored a touchdown with just a little more than a minute left to make a 28-28 tie.

But it wasn't to be. On the ensuing kickoff, Ken King fielded the ball on his own 20 and raced all the way for a touchdown. That came with 1:05 left. Then King ran the two-point conversion to knot the count.

SCORES TWICE
King added another touchdown on a five-yard run in the fourth period along with two of the two-point conversions. Jeff Miller raced 55 and 30 yards for Madison's first two touchdowns.

Baginski Leads Utica Triumph

Utica capitalized on the ball carrying of Gary Baginski to shut out Madison Lahser, 26-0, in an Oakland A inter-divisional game last night.

Baginski, who carried 11 times for 62 yards, had two touchdowns including a 58-yard punt return to give Utica its second win in as many games.

The Chiefs powered a defensive line, led by middle guard Vince Norkus, sophomore tackle Rick Stade and defensive back Bruce Berman held Lahser to just three first downs and an overall combined rushing total of 75 yards.

Utica meanwhile, gained a total of 13 first downs, 204 yards rushing and 51 yards through the air on the strength of quarterback Dave Hall's four completions out of 10 attempts.

Drought Ends Against Colts

Medlen, Price Hit End Zone

A fired up Avondale took the lead with a first period touchdown and sewed up its first victory of the season with a fourth quarter tally as the Yellow Jackets dumped Troy last night, 12-6.

Despite a penalty filled game which saw both teams have offensive drives stalled because of excessive fouls, Avondale was not to be denied securing its first win over Troy in seven years.

Avondale picked up 80 yards in eight penalties, while Troy had five penalty calls for 75 yards.

The Yellow Jackets scored first in the game when fullback Craig Medlen took a lateral from quarterback Randy Cornell and raced 52 yards to the tally.

Bob Mutter's attempted run for the PAT was stopped, but the Yellow Jackets held a 6-0 lead with 1:14 remaining before the second period.

START MOVING
Troy remained incapable of launching a real scoring threat until midway through the second quarter when the Colts took possession of the ball on their own 24 following Avondale's punt.

Four minutes and 12 plays later fullback Bill Mitchell slid off right tackle and through the Avondale line covering the 33 yard distance to the goal line without being touched.

Fullback Cecil Parsons tried to sweep around left end but the PAT ball was stopped trying to pass 6-6 with 3:21 before the end of the first half.

After a listless third quarter which saw both teams punt several times because of stalled offensive drives, Avondale came alive and picked up the game-winning touchdown when a halfback Gary Price raced 18 yards to paydirt with 7:06 left in the game.

Price's score was set up following a 22-yard pass play from Cornell to Al Decker from the 40 to the Troy 23 following a Colt punt.

Groves Drops 28-8 Verdict to Cranbrook

Cranbrook's speedy cranes flexed their football muscles yesterday in rolling past the Falcons of Birmingham Groves, 28-8.

It was the season opener for Cranbrook while the loss was the second straight for Groves.

BIG BULGE
Cranbrook grabbed a 22-0 lead at halftime. The Falcons added their final tally in the third quarter. Groves also hit paydirt in the third stanza.

Anthony Thomas put the cranes on the scoreboard with a 17-yard jump early in the first and he ran the two-point conversion. A short while later, Jim Williams raced over from six yards and John Wallace ran the point.

HIS TURN
Wallace then closed the 17-yard jump early in the first and he ran the two-point conversion. A short while later, Jim Williams raced over from six yards and John Wallace ran the point.

TWO BLANKS
In a couple of non-conference games, Richmond blanked Harper Woods, 28-0, and Port Huron Catholic ripped Anchor Bay, 45-0.

Bob Gonzales and Eli Sims scored two touchdowns apiece to spark the New Haven Rockets past Armada.

LONG RUNS
Gonzales tallied on runs of 30 and 25 yards, while Sims reached paydirt on scrampers of 55 and 50 yards. Tyrone Moore ran one two-point conversion.

SHARP PASSER
Rich Radicki turned in a spectacular performance for Armada, hitting on 13 of 19 passes for 240 yards and two touchdowns.

Goodrich Nips Brandon

A weaving, 89-yard run by Brandon's quarterback Dale Herman back to pull within one point, 7-6, brought Goodrich from behind, 6-0, on a one-yard plunge by Don Bowen after Wilcox had set it up with a 34-yard pitch to Wagner.

LOOKS GOOD
But Herman spoiled that with about five minutes when he backed around the left side and outran the Black Hawk secondary.

Coach Dean Baker singled out Westberry for his offensive efforts and Andy McDermott for his play at linebacker for the Hawks.

DECISIVE KICK
Herman scored Goodrich's first touchdown on a one-yard run and the point that eventually decided the game came at a kick by Peter Garbriel, an exchange student from Sweden.

Beating McLain More Satisfying

Bosox Manager Oblivious to Homer Mark

DETROIT (AP)—The Boston Red Sox set a team home run record Friday night but manager Dick Williams seemed oblivious to the fact.

"When you've beaten that fellow, you've beaten somebody," he said of Denny McLain, the Detroit Tiger star pitcher who fell 3-1 to Boston behind a solo shot by Reggie Smith and a solo homer by Carl Yastrzemski.

"That's the first time we've beaten him this year," he added. "He's quite a pitcher."

"Well, your team broke its own season home run record," Williams was told.

"Yeah, that's right," he said nonchalantly. "Now we've got to go."

The Red Sox went into the game with 185 home runs this year, one shy of the record they set in 1964. But Smith tied that mark in the first inning by tagging a homer, his 24th, off McLain, following a triple to Yastrzemski.

"Oh yeah? Did we break the record?" Smith asked casually. "I think I hit the 100th homer this year too."

YAZ READY

"Yaz said he was ready to hit his home run before he went up to bat," Smith added.

"I look for them all the time,"

West cashed the king and queen of spades and shifted to the jack of clubs. South won in dummy, played a trump to his ace and back to dummy's queen and jack. Then he led the jack of spades in an effort to smother the 10.

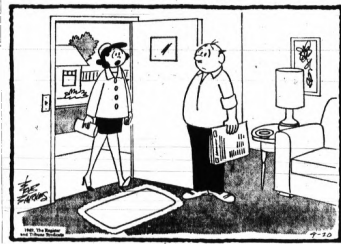

If the 10 had appeared he would have discarded a club and the nine of spades would have been established as his 10th trick.

The 10 did not oblige so he trumped. South was still in good shape. He had noted the fall of the queen on the club lead so obviously West had started with a 4-2-6 distribution and since he needed the king of diamonds for his opening bid he was going to be squeezed in three suits.

South cashed his last two trumps. West let his 10 of diamonds go on the last trump because he had to hang on to two clubs and the ace of spades. Now South led a diamond to dummy's ace and made his 10th trick with the queen.

South was very happy about the result until he checked the scores and found that most of the three no-trump bidders had

'Speeds Justice, Saves Man-Hours'

Navy Jurist Hails 1-Judge Rule

SUBIC BAY NAVAL BASE, Philippines (UPI) — The U.S. Navy captain who sentenced two officers of the ill-fated destroyer Frank E. Evans to a general court-martial to seek reprimands believes a new regulation allowing a single military judge to try military offenders speeds justice and saves a lot of man-hours.

Capt. James Keys, 49, of Kansas City Mo., was the first man to try a case under a new congressional law which permits military defendants in a general court-martial to seek reprimands instead of facing a sole judge instead of a military jury composed of at least five persons.

The law came into effect Aug. 1, and Keys convened the first case as the sole judge in an attempted murder case at 8:30 a.m. in Da Nang, Vietnam. Stateside military jurists were at least 12 hours behind because of the time difference.

Under the new regulations, a defendant or "the accused" in the military terminology, can ask the military judge to hear his case, decide on the verdicts and determine sentence. Previously, the military jury by a two-thirds majority determined the decision and the punishment.

FASTER SYSTEM

Keys told a news conference the new system was "very definitely" faster. He said he could not comment as to whether it improved the quality of justice but that the new system saved a lot of time.

With a single judge trying cases, "the government saves 30 to 40 man-hours per day" on a case, Keys said.

Keys said that from Aug. 1-18 when he was trying cases by himself in Da Nang it was estimated "900 to 1,200 officer man-hours were saved."

After hearing the Navy's case against Cmdr. Albert S. McLemore, 40, a VJL, Calif., the skipper of the Evans, Keys took only 35 minutes to decide on a guilty verdict. It took him less than five minutes to decide on a reprimand as the only punishment.

DEFENDED BUCHER

Ironically, Keys was the military defense counsel for Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher, the captain of the spy ship Pueblo. Like McLemore, Bucher lost his ship but he escaped a court-martial. Keys, a graduate of the University of Missouri law school, was on PT boats in the Pacific during World War II. He switched to legal specialist in 1946. His current post is Yokosuka, Japan, where he serves as head of the Navy Marine Corps judiciary branch office.

From 1962 to 1966 when he was "riding the circuit" in North and Southeast Asia, Keys said he flew "in excess of 600,000 passenger miles" while presiding over military courts.

The ruddy, sandy-haired captain was the legal adviser on the staff of the commandant, 12th Naval District in San Francisco, from 1967 to June 1969, when he returned to Asia.

Aside from the Evans oficers' courts-martial in the Philippines, Keys' current circuit includes only Japan, Korea and Okinawa.

SHOW

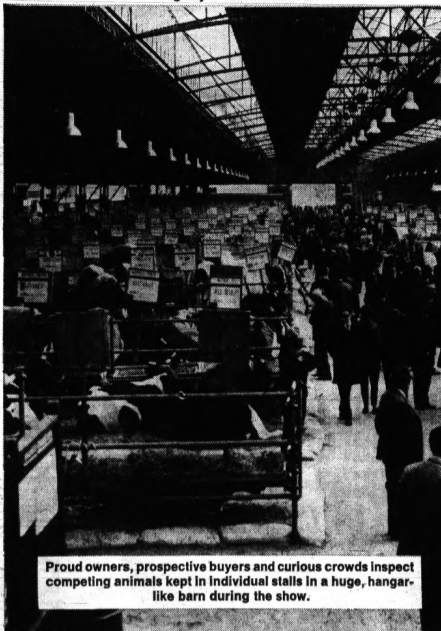

A noble aspirant to a "best bull of the year" crown marches haughtily to the main arena.

One of the aristocracy: a Brahman cow.

A 10-year-old, pure white Arab stallion is congratulated by his owner on winning the coveted thoroughbreds' blue ribbon.

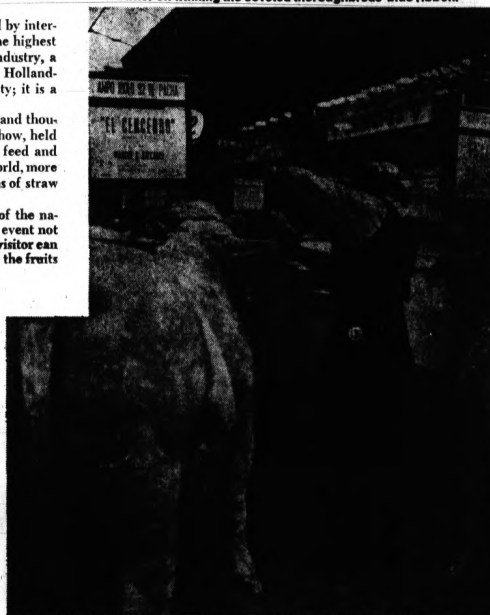

Proud owners, prospective buyers and curious crowds inspect competing animals kept in individual stalls in a huge, hangar-like barn during the show.

Gauchos and grooms make a hearty meal of Argentine beef and wine—"au naturel."

A champion merino ram, whose fine proportions are complemented by the beauty of his fleece and horns.

A tourist quenches his thirst from a wineskin—a feat calling for some skill!

Italian Airline Plans a Fare Cut

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — An 18-year-old boy who police said kept a detailed journal of his nocturnal activities was held on six counts of breaking and entering.

Sgt. Harry Morse of the Lee County sheriff's office said that when officers arrested Alan Aulen they found a 60-page handbook detailing burglary activities. The book was entitled "Almafia Enterprises," Morse said, and was by "Alan Aulen Prop., Dallas-Boop Drooper."

ROME (AP) — Alitalia Airlines has announced that it air traffic treaty, spokesmen plans to reduce its minimum said, fare for the Rome-New York and Rome-Rome fares to $499, disregarding an international air-fare agreement.

The state-controlled airline said the new fare, the lowest ever, will go into effect Nov. 1 if it is approved by the Ministry of Transport. Approval is regarded as virtually automatic.

U.S. approval will not be necessary because Italy and the United States currently have no treaty, spokesmen said.

The new rate is about one-fourth lower than the minimum fare set by the International Air Transport Association in its agreement on air fares over the North Atlantic.

AGREEMENT DENOUNCED

Alitalia coupled its announcement with a denunciation of the agreement, saying the association has been adjusting fares continuously, "thus causing great confusion, especially for the general public."

Alitalia said its decision "brings a revolution in airline fares in the North Atlantic sector."

An airline spokesman said the Rome-New York route has been attracting steadily increasing numbers of passengers in the past few years. He added he expected the new rate to attract many tourists during the winter season.

Jeanne Moreau Not French-Actress Type

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood
sees French actresses in three categories:

• The sex kitten: Simone Simon, Brigitte Bardot.
• Glamour: Leslie Caron, Claudine Longet.
• Worldly, jaded: Simone Signoret.
The spectrum is limited. There are other varieties of French females, one of which is Jeanne Moreau, who just completed her first motion picture in Hollywood.

She is the Gallic femme incarnate — the one the doughboys came back raving about in 1918 and the GIs slobbered over in 1945.

Miss Moreau is divorced, beautiful, intelligent, insouciant and blessed with the capacity for looking at each man she meets as if he were the only male on earth. She can also act.

IGNORES HOLLYWOOD

Jeanne Moreau has ignored the blandishments of Hollywood for 20 years, choosing to work and attain fame in Europe before treading the shifting sands of Sunset and Vine.

Why, pray, did she wait two decades to come to movie mecca?

"I was finally ready," she said, sitting in the patio of a rented Bel-Air pad which should surely have been called a villa in Cannes.

"The script was good, I had a real leading man, a director who was making his first picture, plus a tremendous interest in coming to Hollywood at last. I did not want to come here and carry the weight of a picture all alone."

HAS NO ACCENT

Because her mother was English, Jeanne speaks without an accent.

"Now I have fallen in love with southern California. I will return to make more pictures and to spend perhaps as much as six months a year here."

Miss Moreau would like to play opposite Lee Marvin once again. They costar in "Monte Walsh."

"I have worked with the finest actors in Europe, Peter O'Toole, Belmondo and Mastroianni," said the lady from Paris. "But Marvin is the greatest of all. He is an extraordinary man. It was a miracle the way we worked together."

THEY'RE ALIKE

"We are alike in that our work is our lives. Every emotion, the people I know, things I have learned all came through acting. It is a way of life with me."

"I want to come back to Hollywood because it is the right time. A new wave is coming here with young directors and writers. It's already happened in Europe."

She's off to a curious start for one seeking new horizons. She plays a French prostitute with a heart of gold in the Old West.

Sheriff Fighting 2-Month Stay in His Own Jail

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Worcester County Sheriff Joseph A. Smith is appealing a two-month sentence to his own jail.

He was sentenced and fined $35 Thursday by District Court Judge Walter D. Allen on charges that he left the scene of an Aug. 5 highway accident in suburban Rutland.

Smith testified that he left to drive a short distance to his home, where he unsuccessfully tried to reach Rutland Police Chief John Collins. Two persons injured in the accident were released after hospital treatment.

Judge Allen released Smith in personal recognition after the sheriff's lawyer appealed the case to Superior Court.

Campbell Drops 'Marbles' Soup

WASHINGTON (UPI) — No more cream of marble soup. The Federal Trade Commission announced yesterday Campbell Soup Co. and its advertising agency, Batzen, Barton, Dunning & Osborne Inc., have agreed to stop sinking clear glass marbles in the bottom of their soup bowls used in television commercials.

The commission had said such tactics were false and deceptive and tended to exaggerate the amount of solid ingredients actually in a can of soup.

Crash Kills Man

LANSING (AP) — Wesley B. Reed, 61, of Grand Levee was injured fatally Friday in a head-on collision of two cars on a road at the outskirts of Lansing.

'More Than 1' Involved in Tate Killings'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A panel of two psychiatrists and a psychologist says the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and four others at her Bel Air home must have been the work of more than one person.

The panel also concluded in a report Friday to Coroner Thomas Noguchi that drugs were involved in the slayings. It did not elaborate.

Both conclusions agreed with police views.

Noguchi told a news conference the panel considered theories that one of the killers was a woman and that the slayings were part of a death ritual.

The evidence, Noguchi said, makes it unlikely that a woman was one of the killers. But he said a "possibility still exists" the murders stemmed from a ritual that went too far and forced one or more persons into an induced paranoia.

Miss Tate, wife of film director Roman Polanski, was found slain at her home Aug. 9 along with hair stylist Jay Sebring, coffee heiress Abigail Folger, Polish producer Voltyck Prokowsky and 19-year-old Stephen Parent.

Officers said two of the victims had hoods over their heads and a nylon cord was looped from one's neck over a roof beam to the other's. "Pig" was smeared in blood on the door of the home.

"It is very difficult to understand how one person would be able to accomplish a mass killing," the coroner said.

GROUP INHIBITION
"Two, possibly... three. But the more the number it becomes there would be a certain group inhibition. It is rather difficult for them (a larger group) to accomplish the type of injury patterns found on the bodies."

Noguchi said bizarre features of the crime suggested possible severe psychopathy of at least one of the killers. Further details indicated someone was thinking clearly.

He said sex was not involved in the killings.

"One or more persons were suffering either paranoid tendencies or suffering from psychopathic characteristics, and showed what we call overkill syndrome, more than enough to cause the deaths," Noguchi said.

A spokesman for the coroner said it is customary to convene such panels in unsolved murder or suicide cases.

People in the News

By the Associated Press
Karl Wallenda, semiretired patriarch of "The Flying Wallendas," says he is going back to the high wire and trapeze, full time next year "to celebrate my golden jubilee."

Wallenda has spent 49 years thrilling circus crowds with death-defying acts. He retired from the family act two years ago and has been working with the Imperial Circus in Mexico City, mainly as an executive, although "I have been making some appearances just as a personal thing."

He said he and grandson, Alberto, 19, will go to Sarasota, Fla., next month to find a third man for their act. His youngest daughter, Carla, 33; her husband, Richard Futzmann, 26; and her son, Ricky, 14, have decided to go their own way with their own act, Wallenda said.

Protection Agency Sues Nancy Sinatra

Singer Nancy Sinatra is being sued for $2,200 by Carex Investigation & Security Inc.

The suit, filed yesterday in Clark County District Court, Las Vegas, said Frank Sinatra's daughter did not pay for 24-hour protection the agency provided her.

Miss Sinatra ended a three-week engagement at the International Hotel last night.

Cigarette Sponsor Quits Debbie Reynolds Show

American Brands, whose cigarette commercial prompted Debbie Reynolds to quit after the first night of her new television show, has withdrawn as a sponsor, leaving the field to producers of food, drugs and shampoo.

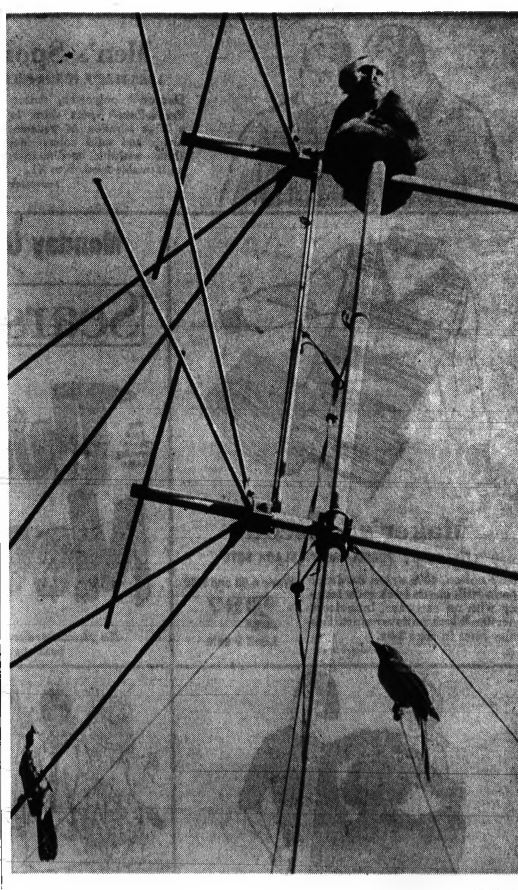

National Broadcasting Co. announced the withdrawal yesterday. Miss Reynolds quit after the premiere of the "Debbie Reynolds Show" on Tuesday but agreed to continue after NBC explained it had a contractual commitment to American Brands, of which American Tobacco is a subsidiary.

Actor's Wife Gets 5 Children in Divorce

Actor Macdonald Carey's wife of 25 years was awarded custody of five of their six children in a final divorce decree after she testified he refused to discuss family problems and stayed out overnight.

Carey, 54, was ordered Thursday by Santa Monica Superior Court to pay $2,200-a-month alimony and all of the children's expenses. The children range in age from 13 to 22.

Mrs. Carey, the former Elizabeth Heckacher, met Carey when she left Philadelphia social life to study drama. Carey was a struggling radio soap opera actor when they were married in Bryn Mawr, Pa., on May 9, 1941. They separated Jan. 1, 1968.

BIRDS MONKEY-WATCH — A wayward monkey is scolded by two birds after the small animal invaded their territory atop a television antenna on a Sacramento, Calif., home yesterday. The stray monkey descended and fled the scene after onlookers left the area. The monkey's home and owner are a mystery.

Jimmy Rodgers Recovering After Collapse on Fair Stage

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Singer Jimmy Rodgers, 47, collapsed on stage Tuesday night at the New Mexico State Fair. Then he collapsed on stage.

He was rushed to Presbyterian Hospital by ambulance and later was reported recovering, even signing autographs for fellow patients.

The hospital said the singer, who underwent three brain operations in 1968, was in good condition.

Friends said Rodgers has frequently blacked out since a mysterious accident in Los Angeles in 1967 that left him with a fractured skull.

But, the friends said, he usually recovers within a short time and is ready to perform again.

Rodgers was found lying in his car Dec. 1, 1967, near a Los Angeles freeway. He was bleeding slightly from the head and apparently had suffered a fall, police said.

Rodgers told newsmen he did not remember the events around his accident, but later filed an $11-million wrongful injury suit against three policemen, the Los Angeles Police Department and the city. He said he recollected being shoved by an officer who stopped him while driving.

Police said Rodgers had been stopped by an off-duty policeman but had not been shoved.

Court Rules on Murder of Unborn Child

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — It is murder to kill an unborn child capable of living if born prematurely, a California appeals court has ruled.

"We are satisfied that a fetus which has reached the stage of viability is a human being for the purposes of California homicide statutes," the 3rd District Court ruled Friday 3-0.

22 ANSWERS FOR YOUR PEACE OF MIND

- Q. What is Med-Income?
A. A revolutionary insurance policy that pays $100 a week up to 100 weeks ($10,000 total) direct to you when you're hospitalized.
- Q. Will I collect even though I have other health insurance?
A. Positively! Med-Income pays direct to you regardless of what other policies you have.
- Q. Will I collect even though I have Medicare?
A. Absolutely! Med-Income pays in addition to Medicare and can be used for all those many items not covered by Medicare.
- Q. Do I need Med-Income even though I have hospitalization?
A. Yes, Med-Income pays direct tax-free cash to you, which you can use for house payments, groceries, credit bills, salary loss, etc. And Med-Income can pay for all those hospital items not covered by a hospitalization policy.
- Q. Do I need a physical examination?
A. No. No physical exam is needed to be issued a Med-Income Policy.
- Q. How long will I be paid?
A. For up to 100 weeks or $10,000.
- Q. Do I have to use the Med-Income money on hospital bills?
A. No. This $100 tax-free money is paid directly to you for use as you see fit. Pay rent, bills—anything. Or put in the bank!
- Q. Do I have to pay taxes on the Med-Income payments to me?
A. No, your payments are absolutely tax free!
- Q. What about a health problem that may occur again?
A. Even pre-existing conditions are covered by Med-Income after your policy has been continuously in force for two years.
- Q. What is NOT covered?
A. Hospitalization for nearly every imaginable sickness and accident is covered except hospitalization caused by mental and nervous disorder, or when confined in a veterans administration hospital. Any heart or circulatory disease or sickness requiring a surgical operation is fully covered if the condition originates after the policy has been in force for six months.
- Q. When does my Med-Income Policy go in force?
A. On the date your application is received in our office. Accidents are covered on that day. After 30 days in force, the policy covers you for sicknesses.
- Q. If I'm hospitalized, when do I start receiving benefits?
A. You get $100 a week ($14.28 per day) paid directly to you from the very first day you go in the hospital from an accident. When hospitalized for sickness, you will be paid $100 a week after a three-day waiting period.
- Q. Why the three-day wait?
A. To lower your policy costs. By starting benefits on the fourth day of hospitalization from sickness, Med-Income eliminates the small one, two-and-three-day claims that run up your cost. Consequently, these savings are passed on to you in the form of a lower rate for this policy. Of course, benefits are payable from the first day if hospitalized from an accident.
- Q. May I have more than one Med-Income Policy?
A. Because of the exceptional nature of the policy, we are forced to limit the number each person may have to two.
- Q. Does Med Income pay in any hospital?
A. You are covered in any lawfully operated public or private hospital except nursing homes and veterans administration hospitals.
- Q. As I grow older, will my benefits be reduced?
A. No. Never! Everyone paying adult rates gets the same benefits—regardless of age.
- Q. Will my claims be handled quickly?
A. Yes! When you get your policy you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Notice. Your claims will be processed quickly and your checks sent directly to you.
- Q. Can I save by paying in advance?
A. Yes, almost 10 per cent. If you pay 11 times your monthly premium, you will receive credit for one full year.
- Q. Why are premiums so low?
A. Because we only sell through the mail. We pay no salesman's commission. It is on a volume basis, our costs are lower and so we pass the savings on to you.
- Q. Why should I enroll now?
A. You risk nothing—not even a postage stamp, because there is absolutely no risk on your part and delaying could cost you $100 a week. Send your application now. If in any way you are not completely satisfied, you may return your policy within ten days. You've lost nothing. So fill out the self-addressed card now.
- Q. Will a salesman call on me?
A. No, that's why we can offer such low premiums.
- Q. Is Industrial Life Insurance Company approved in my state?
A. Yes, this old line legal reserve company is licensed to do business in your state.

Nixon Plans to Limit Draft Risk to 1 Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon plans to thrust the draft onto the 19-year-old age group starting Jan. 1, regardless of whether Congress acts on his requested reform legislation by then. It appeared Congress would not be able to act fast enough to make the legal reform Nixon requested yesterday.

The basic point of Nixon's reform plan is that young men will be prime draft bait only during the year after their 19th birthday, instead of the present seven-year span from 19 to 26. Those with college deferments would run the risk during the year after they graduate.

This apparently will be put into effect by executive order if Congress fails to act.

The President's plan also calls for a system of random selection of 19-year-olds. However, because Congress specifically forbade implementation of a draft lottery in its 1967 draft law, this proposal would require congressional enactment.

If Congress does not approve a draft lottery, Nixon could use his executive powers to go to a plan that each month would call up the oldest 19-year-olds—those closest to their 20th birthdays.

However, some White House aides involved in work on the President's draft reform proposals said earlier they think implementation of this by executive order is extremely unlikely.

They said that without a lottery, administrative procedures needed to accomplish this would either be cumbersome or unfair since they could discriminate against 19-year-olds born early in the year or early in a month.

Nixon, in effect, admitted this to some extent when he said that no executive order could accomplish his objectives "as clearly and effectively" as the proposed legislation.

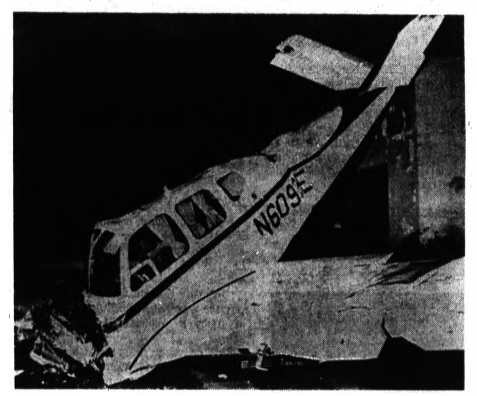

This was echoed by acting Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, who said congressional approval of the President's proposals "would accomplish draft reform in a much more clear and effective way than an executive order."

NEW YORK — The United States summoned its Vietnam allies to a foreign ministers conference today to assess the prospects of a peace settlement after the Soviet Union called on them to renounce their "aggressive war."

Secretary of State William P. Rogers is host for the seven-nation conference. Later he meets with Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban, then joins foreign ministers from the Soviet Union, France and Britain for dinner with U.N. Secretary General U. Thant.

The morning session, at the headquarters of the U.S. mission to the United Nations by the foreign affairs chiefs from the United States, South Vietnam, South Korea, Thailand, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand is another periodic review of the war effort. The last one was held in May in Bangkok, Thailand.

Allied diplomatic spokesmen discouraged speculation the seven allies might consider troop withdrawals by the Asian contributing nations.

U.S., Allies Air Peace Prospects

YESTERDAY at the United Nations, Andrei A. Gromyko, the Soviet Foreign minister, rebuffed President Nixon's plea the day before to help "persuade Hanoi to move seriously into negotiations which could end the war."

One of the participants in today's conference, New Zealand's Keith Holyoake, followed Gromyko in the U.N. General Assembly policy debate yesterday and defended the allied position.

He said the allies have made fair offers at Paris while negotiators for the other side have responded only with "the demands of men who seek to impose their will by force."

MSU Willing to Develop Osteopathic Med School

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University has informed the State Board of Education it is willing to develop an osteopathic medical school if it receives additional funds to pay for the project.

That condition was one of seven forwarded yesterday by the university's board of trustees in response to the state board's inquiry.

Pleased by the MSU bid was John D'hoie, chairman of the board of trustees of the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine (MCOM) in Pontiac.

D'hoie did not see any immediate advantage to the privately funded MCOM, but favored MSU over either the University of Michigan or Wayne State University for the location of the osteopathic college.

'FACILITIES YOUNG, GROWING'
"Their medical facilities are young and growing and so will ours (osteopaths) be," he said.

The state board is expected to decide by Nov. 3 where to establish a new osteopathic school authorized by act of the Legislature earlier this year. The offer may be refused by any college offered it.

Michigan State, the University of Michigan and Wayne State University operate the only three, state-funded medical schools in Michigan and are considered top candidates for the award.

MSU's position included these stipulations:

- Full cooperation from the osteopathic profession, including cancellation or assignment to MSU of the BACK ON JOB — Oakland University Chancellor Durward B. Varner reassures students that he is "totally committed to Oakland" following a meeting Friday with the MSU Board of Trustees in Lansing. Some 1,500 students staged a pro-Woody

"protest" yesterday outside Wilson Hall following a rumor that the chancellor would be drafted to fill the vacated president's spot at MSU.

Students Want Varner to Stay

It was a typical campus scene at Oakland University yesterday, but it had a big difference.

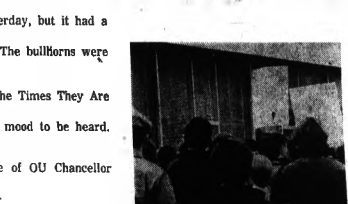

A large mob gathered on the lawn, many in hippy garb. The bullhorns were there, the angry speakers and protest signs.

A long-haired coed plunked away at her guitar singing "The Times They Are a Changing" as the crowd began to thicken.

THEY WANT 'WOODY'
On thousands of angry lips was "Woody," the nickname of OU Chancellor Durward B. Varner.

The students wanted "Woody." They wanted him to STAY.

The spontaneous call to arms for Varner was the result of a rumor that streaked through the campus Thursday night naming Varner as the next man to fill the vacated president's post at Michigan State University.

The possibility that Varner might be drafted was heightened when the OU chancellor left for Lansing Thursday to attend a meeting of the MSU Board of Trustees.

TELEGRAMS SENT
Telegrams, including one reminding the Chancellor that "Oakland University is your bag," were sent to Varner as well as members of the Board of Trustees.

To strengthen their appeal, a delegation of nine students under the leadership of John Springfield of Vandenberg Hall drove to Lansing to meet with the Chancellor.

By Friday afternoon the petition had grown to 2,500 signatures.

"When we saw him Thursday night he assured us that there wasn't any other job in higher education that he would rather have," said Springfield.

'BEHIND HIM'
"We just want him to know that his people are with him and they're sticking behind him if he wants to stay at Oakland," according to sophomore Steve Sinkoff, also from Vandenberg.

"Sure we fight him a lot of the time, but we respect him too. This university is his baby; he's been here 10 years and he's a good man," he added.

Many agreed that Woody Varner listens rather than alienates students; he's interested in what they have to say and he's one man that can relate to the student body.

In general, those who joined the more than 2,000-strong protest agreed that Woody is the kind of man that cares.

More Nominees Urged for Prexy

EAST LANSING (AP) — The trustees of Michigan State University have directed a student-faculty committee to make further recommendations from a previously considered list of 20 candidates for the school's presidency.

Don Stevens, chairman of the eight-member board, said yesterday the board now hopes to name a new president by the end of the month.

School District Future Hazy

By DICK ROBINSON
When will Waterford Township students go back to school for a full "academic" day?

This is anyone's guess right now. It could be soon. It could be never. It certainly won't be by Sept. 29 as a judge ordered.

John Rogers, attorney for the school system, told an Oakland County Circuit Court judge in a motion yesterday that the school board can't restore full day classes by that date.

He asked Judge William J. Beer to reconsider his ruling that half-day school sessions for elementary pupils and a shortened day by one hour for secondary pupils is unconstitutional.

Rogers pointed out to Beer that the judge said his ruling was identical to one made by a Wayne County judge in a similar case in Livonia.

WITH 'EXPEDENCY'
But no time limit was placed on

Livonia schools except that it be done with "expedency." Beer gave Waterford schools only two weeks.

The school attorney also asked for a rehearing of the case. Beer is expected to rule on the motion Wednesday and that could start a series of legal maneuvers which could delay the outcome for some time.

Rogers could take the issue to the Michigan Supreme Court where the matter is likely to be decided. Or if a delay is granted, Waterford could sit back and wait to see what happens in Livonia in the higher court.

Two choices of action were offered the school board by Rogers—appeal or go into the red and face the possibility of being dissolved and being consolidated with the Pontiac district.

COULD GET STATE AID
The board's decision Thursday not to appeal now doesn't mean it wouldn't eventually appeal, Board President Philip Hampton indicated.

There seems to be much at stake trying to comply with the court order via loans. If the district goes into the red, it certainly will get state funds under the so-called Inkster Act.

But the stipulation is that if you don't have a balanced budget then in the next fiscal year, the district faces "reorganization."

If one's income remains about the same year to year, and money has to be borrowed one year to meet expenses, chances are that more money will have to be borrowed the next year. It will be a double debt.

That's why the district decided to hold a millage property tax increase election Nov. 25 to get more income. But that too has some voters boiling. They have vowed to fight it.

Judge Beer's ruling, some school officials note, didn't solve the school district's financial problems. It only complicated them.

GRASS-ROOTS PETITION
At the East Lansing campus, a grass-roots petition urging the selection of Adams reportedly has been signed by some 600 faculty members.

One trustee proposed at yesterday's board meeting that Adams and his wife move into the vacant presidential manse on campus. Adams declined, saying he preferred "not to become a public target."

The long-standing search for a successor to former President John A. Hannah became engulfed in controversy recently with reports the board was seriously considering naming Williams to the post.

Mars Trip in '80s Tied to N-Rocket

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — The first nuclear rocket engine probably will be flown in outer space in 1977 and should enable the United States to land a man on Mars in the 1980s, according to the predictions of a federal space expert.

Dr. George Mueller, associate administrator of NASA in charge of all manned space projects, also predicted yesterday that travelers will be able to journey to any city in the world within an hour in a suborbital craft in the 1980s.

Mueller told a news conference that the nuclear rocket, being tested at Jackass Flats, Nev., would act as a shuttle from earth orbit to lunar orbit and would be used for the exploration of Mars.

"We should proceed with development of this sort of transportation device. It is a significant step in our true capability of going into space," Mueller added. He also said the nuclear rocket would be ready for a manned flight to Mars in the 1980s.

Mueller declared that the first moon shuttle service would be supplied by chemical rockets because the nuclear rocket would not be ready in time. But he said when the nuclear rocket was complete, it would be boosted into outer space atop a Saturn V and then would glide toward its destination with occasional start-ups for on-course maneuvers.

"In 1981, if we wanted to grab the opportunity provided by the position of the planets, we could launch manned spacecraft to Mars and to Venus—and have them back to earth by the fall of 1983, Mueller said.

Scientists announced this week that testing was completed at the nearby Jackass Flats on an experimental nuclear engine system and the next step was development and testing of a flight-ready engine.

Bandits Get Over $13,000 in Two County Robberies

Two armed robberies in western Oakland County yesterday netted holdup men more than $13,000 according to local authorities.

Michigan State Police and the FBI continued their investigation today of the robberies of a Clarkston bank and a credit union in Wixom. The robberies occurred only 1 1/2 hours apart.

Police were unable to say if the robberies were committed by the same team of gunmen.

Held up first was the Community National Bank branch at 5801 Ortonville, where four employees and six customers were ordered into a vault before the two robbers escaped.

Fifteen miles away, at 12:30 p.m., two men entered the Wixom Credit Union of 29100 Wixom Road and ordered four employees to turn over all cash.

James Price of Jackson, manager of the credit union, estimated that between $5,000 and $6,000 was taken, but until an audit is conducted, the exact amount would not be known.

William Summerville, spokesman for Community National Bank, stated that a preliminary audit showed $4,500 was taken from the Clarkston branch.

Nasser Wants Russian Recalled

By United Press International
Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser has demanded the recall of Soviet Ambassador Sergei A. Vinogradov, one of the Kremlin's leading envoys, informed diplomatic sources said today.

The sources in Beirut said Nasser is trying to emphasize his annoyance with what he considers Soviet interference in Egypt's military campaign with Israel. The Soviets are believed to have been alarmed at what they consider Egypt's increasing belittlement.

One such example was Egypt's recent 100-plane raid against Israeli positions in the Sinai Desert.

Some reports said recently Nasser appealed to the Soviets to reduce the staff of technicians and experts in his country but they refused.

Vinogradov, 61, is regarded in diplomatic circles as the dean of Soviet diplomats and perhaps next in line for foreign minister.

Cuban Survives Sea Terror, Reaches U.S.

MIAMI (AP) — The survivor of a raft ride from Cuba told yesterday of one companion falling amidst circling sharks and another—driven insane by thirst—who "threw himself to die at sea."

Oscar Camp Ferro, 20, suffering from sun and saltwater burns on arms he used as paddles, recounted the horrors of the five-day trip which ended on a beach here yesterday afternoon.

"I saw the beach and I thought it was still Cuba," Ferro told a Miami Herald reporter from a hospital bed. "Someone shouted to me, and I asked him, 'Are you a Russian?' He said, 'No, American,' and I knew I was safe."

Ferro washed ashore clinging to an inner tube—all that was left of a raft fashioned from three tubes lashed to wooden boards when the three men left Santa Cruz del Norte on Sunday, he said.

RAFT OVERTURNED

"On Monday morning, I had a small can of milk. That's all I have eaten since we left," he said.

That day the raft overturned in rough water. The three men dismantled it and each grabbed an inner tube. Tuesday all was well. Then rough weather again struck.

"On Wednesday, Guillermo disappeared from sight. One minute he was there, and the next he was gone," said Ferro, who claimed he knew his companions only by their first names.

With sharks circling them, the two held hands in an effort to stick together, he said. But on Thursday Ferro found himself alone.

'WENT CRAZY'

"Eduardo got very nervous," he said of his second friend. "He started shouting, 'water, water.' All of a sudden he went crazy and threw himself to die at sea. When I saw my friends disappear, I knew I would have to be strong, or I would die too."

Ferro, listed in serious condition, said he was an office worker in the Cuba National Institute of Fisheries who left the island nation because of "abuse and exploitation" by Fidel Castro's government.

Fire Damage Put at $200,000 to $300,000

Damage is expected to total $200,000 to $300,000 in the fire which swept a building complex in the Pontiac Township community of Auburn Heights early Thursday.

Pontiac Township Fire Chief Carl Schingneck said he wouldn't have a more exact damage estimate until he meets with insurance representatives Monday afternoon.

Firemen were called back three times to the scene from Thursday morning to early yesterday to extinguish flames in the complex on Auburn just east of Squirrel.

The fire, which destroyed three businesses, a doctor and dentist's office and two unoccupied apartments, started shortly after midnight Thursday in the wooden garage and shed at the rear of the building complex.

He expressed hope that the burned out businesses would be able to relocate somewhere in the area.

A development timetable of costs and financial support for the project, worked out by representatives of the osteopathic profession, the state board, legislature and executive department.

The present plan under which the state board is to award the project to an established college or university grew from a variety of earlier proposals advanced in the Legislature.

Several of those attempted to secure state funds and authority for a privately operated osteopathic medical school. The Pontiac school began operation this week.

In addition, efforts were made to assign the project to Oakland University as part of a move to enlarge it and spin it off from MSU's superintendency.

Goldwater's Son Survives Plane Crash

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rep. Barry Goldwater Jr., R-Calif., and his field deputy were pulled from the wreckage of Goldwater's single-engine plane moments after it clipped high-tension wires last night and plummeted onto a car in the driveway of a suburban Van Nuys home.

Neither Goldwater—36-year-old son of the 1964 Republican presidential candidate, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona—nor aide Bill McClain was seriously hurt.

Fire department officials said they were hoisted from the crumpled Beech

Bonanza by Ron Binko, 28, a car painter who was standing at a nearby corner.

The two were taken by ambulance to Valley Receiving Hospital nearby where they were treated for minor lacerations and released, officers said.

LANDS ON CAR

The plane nosed down on the car and the tail section was propped up against the home, authorities said.

Laura Adams was inside her family's home but was not injured, officers said, and damage to the house was minor.

The plane crashed blocks from Van

Nuys Airport, where Goldwater reported he was heading after radiating the control tower he was low on fuel, the Federal Aviation Administration said.

In Washington, an aide said Goldwater was returning home from a speaking engagement 100 miles to the north.

Binko said the plane came down "just like a falling object. There was no engine noise at all. All of a sudden it was there."

He said he saw a "bright light" as the plane hit high-tension wires above a palm tree before sliding into the driveway.

Auto News Service Is Now Based in City

BIRMINGHAM — United Broadcast News, the nationally syndicated automotive radio and publishing service, has moved its general offices from Burns Avenue in Detroit to suite 204, 700 E. Maple.

Founded in 1944 by Austin Grant, United Broadcast News recently affiliated with The Spectrum Organization, an editorial management and communications company.

Veteran radio and television personality Ross Mulholland is the "voice" of the United Broadcast News radio program "Cars and Comments." The program is broadcast daily on a national network of radio stations, including WJR in Detroit.

Mulholland has been active in Detroit, Los Angeles and New York City broadcasting for 25 years in areas ranging from talent to ownership and management of major market stations. He has also been a photographer, producer and writer.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — David C. Pence, attorney for the city during the past four years has quit the post effective Oct. 1.

In a letter to the City Commission, Pence said requirements of his private practice interfered with his work concerning the city's legal affairs.

The commission accepted his resignation with regret.

OPPOSE PAYMENT

In other business, commissioners voted against paying either the original $700 assessment from the 48th District Court or the additional $238 assessed this month.

"The City Commission doesn't want to pay the assessment until the distribution of funds is explained," a spokesman said.

Bids on water main construction will be opened Oct. 14. Commissioners are regarded as being cautiously optimistic about the sale of the bonds.

The commission also tabled ordinance 108 concerning cluster housing. Associated Surveys has been appointed to do the assessing on this project.

Teachers Refuse to Ratify Contract in Birmingham

Members of the Birmingham Education Association (BEA) refused to ratify a tentative agreement with the board of education Thursday night, 345 to 280.

The BEA will meet Tuesday night, "to determine a future course of action," according to Donald Cameron, the organization's executive secretary. Cameron said a strike vote will be held and other possible alternatives discussed.

Classes meanwhile will meet as scheduled throughout the district. Teachers have been reporting for work since classes began as scheduled Sept. 8.

Differences over the salary range in the middle part of the pay scale were considered the principal factors for rejection of the contract.

Under terms of the tentative contract, the salary scale ranged from a $7,450 minimum to a $13,800 maximum.

Terrorists Strike Near U.S. Facility

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Police exchanged gunfire with terrorists last night outside the U.S. Consulate. The attackers escaped after fire-bombing a police car and wounding two policemen.

The consulate and the U.S. Information Service Library next door were not damaged.

The police car has been parked outside the consulate since the kidnapping of U.S. Ambassador C. Burke Elbrick in Rio de Janeiro two weeks ago. It was not known whether the terrorists' target was the consulate or the patrol car.

One policeman was shot in the neck and the other in the arm. The terrorists captured several police weapons including a machine gun.

Detroit Catholic Schools Lose 20,000

DETROIT (AP) — Warning that 70 more parochial schools are in danger of closing before next spring, Catholic school officials today reported a drop of more than 20,000 students in enrollment through the Archdiocese of Detroit.

This was a decline of 50.04 percent from the record enrollment of 153,348 in 1964-65.

Youngsters entered Catholic schools this fall in the eighth year, Bishop Cullen said.

He repeated calls for state aid to help operate nonpublic schools and said that taxpayers have paid approximately $90 million to educate in public schools the 50,041 pupils requested out of Detroit-area Catholic schools.

Six Green Beret Suspects

Keep Up a Running Banter

LONG BINH, Vietnam (AP) — Six Green Beret officers awaiting trial for the alleged slaying of a Vietnamese double agent jogged for nearly two days today and joked with newsmen, but declined to discuss their case.

However, a military attorney for Col. Robert B. Rheault, 43, of Vineyard Haven, Mass., former commander of the 3,000 Special Forces troops in Vietnam, said Edward Bennett Williams, one of America's top criminal lawyers, will come to Saigon to prepare his defense.

And attorneys for two of Rheault's staff officers presented a petition at the White House Friday appealing to President Nixon to intervene and shift the case to the United States.

The attorneys—Guy Scott of Atlanta, Ga., and Robert McKinley of Newark, N.J.—said their clients could not get a fair trial in Vietnam because Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander in Vietnam, and Maj. Gen. G. L. Mabry, commander of U.S. support troops, "are prejudiced because they have prejudged the defendants."

IN ABOUT 3 WEEKS
The two attorneys represent Capt. Robert F. Marasco of Bloomfield, N.J., and Capt. Budge E. Williams of Athens, Ga. The six officers appeared to be in good spirits today as they began the two-mile run they make every morning. Rheault, an ash blond, told photographers, "My wife is getting worried about me. She says I look like I've turned gray since all this started. Couldn't you guys retouch the photos?"

Their military attorneys have complained that the Army is not taking adequate steps to let the defendants communicate with their families back home. They are unable to place telephone calls to relatives, even at their own expense, because the only telephone in the barracks is one that can't be used for calls outside the base although it can receive such calls.

HELD IN ABEYANCE
Originally eight Green Berets were arrested in the case, but charges against two—CWO Edward M. Boyle of New York City and Sgt. J. C. Alvin L. Smith Jr., of Naples, Fla.—were held in abeyance.

Sources said the two have been offered immunity to testify for the prosecution. They have been released from confinement but must remain on this post, 15

The six officers who will stand trial are accused of slaying Thai Khach Chuyen, a Vietnamese man who, according to various sources, was working as an espionage agent for both the allies and the Communist command. He allegedly was killed June 20 and his weighted body dumped in the South China Sea. The body has not been recovered.

Thurmond said Don Fowler, executive director of the state Democratic party, helped Life for this story.

Police, Hippies Clash in London

LONDON (AP) — Police clashed briefly early today with hippie squatters a few yards from Buckingham Palace at a 100-room mansion which the hippies have occupied for the past five days.

A young woman and a man were arrested during the 20-minute fight that began when firemen arrived to put out a fire in a house next door.

Police said the hippies hit firemen and spectators with rubber and plastic balls, eggs, water bombs and pieces of wood, and kept it up as police arrived.

No serious injuries were reported.

The hippies stored "defense equipment" to ward off any attempt by authorities to enforce a court order to vacate the mansion, police said.

Bride's Wish for Privacy Isn't Selfish

Of the Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: "When I get married, my mother would like to have her two sisters, their husbands, and two children stay with us. Therefore, my two female cousins will have to stay in my room."

I have never minded sharing my room with my cousins at any other time, when they have been set up for them. But I would like to spend my last evening at home in the solitude and comfort of my own room. This last night at home should be a restful one before the commotion when my room is used as the dressing room for my bridal party before an early wedding. Am I wrong to feel this way? Am I being selfish? — Kay

Dear Kay: No, I do not think you are being selfish, and you should explain your feelings to your mother. You certainly have a right to your privacy on that of all nights. If it is necessary to set up cots anywhere, let it be the dining room, the living room, or any other room except your own.

"DROP-IN" SHOWERS.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am interested in the etiquette on "Drop-In" Showers. They have become very common in this area, and I think they are awful. To me, such an invitation says "Bring a gift to Jane Doe. She's getting married (or having a baby or what not) and needs all the gifts she can get. We don't have room to ask them to sit down and visit awhile... that way we would be limited to asking only a few people and she wouldn't get enough gifts."

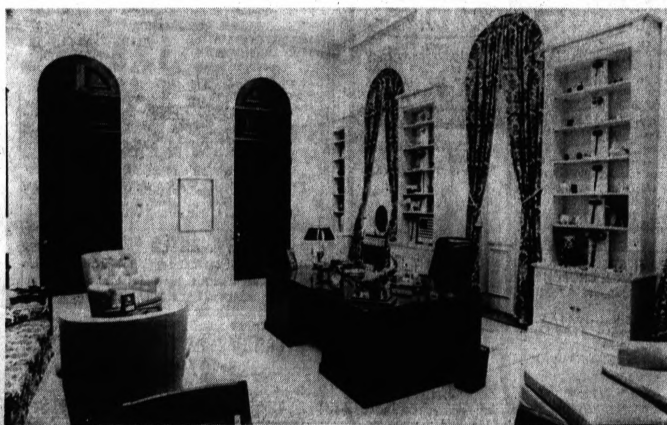

Showers used to be fun — where you knew the honoree, had the fellowship of other guests and where you shared the "cooks" and "talks" of the guest of honor as she opened her gifts. At these "Drop-In" showers, you greet the honoree, present your gift which is opened (sometimes by someone else) and put on display, have refreshments, and go your merry way. — Jennifer.

Dear Jennifer: I agree that the "Drop-In" — sometimes called "Floating" shower is a very commercial affair. As you point out, it has none of the intimacy or warmth of a true shower. If people wish to entertain a bride in that way, it is certainly their privilege, but let's call it a "Present-Party" or a "Gift-Getter" rather than trying to soften the commercialism by calling it a shower.

Sheer Fabric Labeled Flammable by FTC

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission has warned that a certain "very sheer" fabric, on the market since 1968 both as finished curtains and as material for women's apparel such as see-through blouses, is dangerously flammable.

The commission said every effort is being made to halt distribution of the fabric manufactured by Berkshire Hathaway Inc., New Bedford, Mass. The commission said the fabric comes in white, blue and pink and in two patterns, No. 78150 flocked and No. 73156 plain.

Theatre World Delights Ex-Steno

By JUNE ELERT

"I'm completely captivated," Barbara Heymann says of the theatrical world she entered a short few years ago when she was hired as executive secretary for the newly-formed Meadow Brook Theatre.

"Theatre people are wonderful to work with — my enthusiasm for the theatre itself just has to be second to the feeling I have for the people."

Her appointment as business manager for the Theatre was announced recently.

Mrs. Heymann's business experience had all been in the realm of general office and secretarial work, including a three-year stint in the mathematics department at Oakland University.

As a Pontiac Central High School graduate, Barbara attended Ypsilanti State Normal School years ago without definite career aspirations and some vague notion of transferring later. Marriage and motherhood eliminated that problem.

"I suppose," she said, "I sort of grew into this job. I've absorbed a good deal about theatre management over the years and my business background helped, too."

Barbara's fascination extends to seeing each of the plays about four times, plus snatching moments to watch scene rehearsals. She says, "I wouldn't miss the dress rehearsals. They are almost as exciting as opening night.

"You know, while the plays are in production, I catch glimpses of scenes here and there and I know about the problems with lights and costumes and props. Then, all of a sudden, there it is on stage, all pulled together and working beautifully. It's like a miracle each time."

No acting goals have been inspired in the tall, slim mother of five, who says she will leave that to daughter, Amy, 12, who played the part of the young page in last season's production of St. Joan and is now, Barbara smiles, "happily stage struck."

Barb's other children, all at home on Ottawa Drive, are Rick, 20, who is at Oakland Community College; Janet, 18, who graduated from Pontiac Central in June; Tommy, 17, a student there; and Fritz, 14, who, with Amy, is at Washington Junior High. They all enjoy going to the plays, too.

Favorite plays? Barb thought 'The Seagull' was a "beautiful thing." And I liked 'Waltz of the Toreadors' and I guess I'll always remember 'Caucasian Chalk Circle' probably because it was the very first one and everything about it was new and exciting.

"As for actors, that's hard to say. They're all great, but I've been thrilled by certain people in certain roles, and I think that's the key. It's hard to have a favorite."

WIDE-EYED DAYS

Asked, "Have you become a critic?" Mrs. Heymann displayed some of the tact which fits her for her new job and discreetly admitted only to an increase in knowledgeability since the early wide-eyed days.

While we talked, performers waved as they passed the tiny office under the Meadow Brook Theatre.

Down the hall, an English accent told me Artistic Director John Fernald was meeting with members of the company to discuss aspects of the upcoming production. In another room, unaware, customers argued the relative merits of a full slip, bra slip or corset for a certain season.

Barbara's brown eyes crinkled easily into a smile. "I'm content," she said.

Princess Margaret Is in Japan

TOKYO (UPI) — Britain's Princess Margaret, wearing a yellow miniskirt and a tiara of white flowers stepped smiling from a jetliner today for a 10-day state visit to Japan.

Ahead of the princess and her husband, Lord Snowdon, lay a vigorous schedule of surveying Japan's ancient culture, riding bullet trains and helping sell British exports.

Japan's ruling establishment gave the princess a warm welcome. It was her first visit to Japan, although she once visited Hong Kong.

Mrs. Onassis off to Join Children

ATHENS (UPI) — Jacqueline Onassis was to leave Greece today to rejoin her children in New York, Onassis household sources said.

The sources said the former Mrs. John F. Kennedy planned to leave on Olympic Airways, owned by her millionaire husband Aristotle Onassis.

An Olympic spokesman said Onassis may make the trip with her.

In New York, Mrs. Onassis will rejoin her children, Caroline and John Kennedy Jr., who flew to the United States three weeks ago to resume school, they said.

The couple and the children spent the summer on Onassis' private island of Skorpios, where the Onassises were married Oct. 29, 1968.

They also cruised the Mediterranean on the luxury yacht Christina. Their travels included a weekend at Capri and stop at several Greek islands.

Nixons Redecorate White House; 50 Phone Lines, Jackie's Mantel Go

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In making the White House a home, President Nixon has tossed 50 telephone lines and a four-poster bed Lyndon Johnson slept in out of his bedroom and the first lady has taken a plaque inscribed by Jacqueline Kennedy out of her's.

A look at how the Nixons are settling in at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. was provided Friday by Pat Nixon, who escorted newsmen on a room-by-room tour of some of the usually off limits sections of the Executive Mansion.

When the tour arrived at the first lady's bedroom the reporters noticed that a fireplace mantle bearing the "Jackie Kennedy" plaque had been replaced and replaced with an entirely different mantle. The old mantle had contained a plaque noting the years of the Lincoln Presidency, to which the first lady, in her last days in the White House, had added:

"John F. Kennedy and his wife Jacqueline lived in this room... and the dates.

The mantle had been replaced by one designed by architect Benjamin Latrobe at about the time the mansion was built at the end of the 18th century. The old one was put in storage.

FOUR-POSTER BED

Also in the first lady's bedroom was a four-poster bed she admitted had been in her husband's bedroom, until the first time he saw it and announced, "I'm not going to get into that."

She said she bought him a two-poster bed instead and brightened his room with red, white and blue prints. She also revealed that Nixon had 50 telephone lines removed from the presidential bedroom. The lines were left from his predecessor, Lyndon B. Johnson, a "phone man" of note.

She picked up a miniature knight in shining armor mounted on a horse from a desk in the presidential bedroom and added "he's my knight."

She also took the tour through the Lincoln sitting room, "Dick's hideaway," where she pointed out a well-worn velvet armchair and matching ottoman.

"Dick comes down here late at night," she said, "turns on the music, looks out at the Washington Monument and dreams."

Keep Your End of Bargain Now That Nephew Has

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last week I went to Chicago for my nephew's Bar Mitzvah. (I live in New York.) I saw many relatives there I hadn't seen in a long time. One nephew I didn't even recognize. He had a beard like he just came out of the Klondike, and bushy hair, like a girl's. He's not a hippie. He's a real smart college kid. I was shocked, and told him right to his face that I thought he looked disgraceful.

Toward the end of the evening this bearded long-haired nephew came over to me and said, "Uncle Dave, I've been watching you all evening, and you must have smoked a pack of cigarettes. I'll make a deal with you, if you will quit smoking, I'll cut my hair and shave off my beard." Without even thinking I said, "It's a deal!" Then I added one condition. He'd let me "supervise" the haircut. He agreed, and the next morning we went to the barbershop and he got the works.

It's been six days and seven hours since I've had a cigar, and for a heavy smoker like I was for 36 years, this is rough! But I am going to try my best to keep my part of the bargain.

How do you like that kid doing what he did for his old uncle? UNCLE DAVE DEAR UNCLE DAVE: He must love you a lot. Congratulations. But don't "cheat," unless you want your nephew to return to his former image.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to ask

"Disgusted," what in her opinion is a NORMAL haircut?

In George Washington's day, men wore their hair shoulder length, usually powdered, and caught in the back with a black ribbon. And George Washington was neither effeminate or abnormal. Suppose your son were to say to you, "Ma, I wish you'd wear a normal helmet!" Exactly what length would that be?

Styles change constantly, and like it or not, "this too shall pass." GRAND MOTHER: MIDDLEBORO, MASS.

DEAR ABBY: Re all the talk about long hair and beards: My son's hair is moderate, but he did grow a beard while he was in college because he took the part of Macduff in Macbeth and the director was striving for realism and all the male members of the cast were asked to grow their own beards.

Then my son went into the Army, and he had to shave his beard because beards are not allowed in the Army. This is to laugh because one of his forebears served with the Union Army in the Civil War, and HB wore a beard, and I have the photos to prove it.

Now that my son is home again he grew his beard back, and whenever we are out somewhere, someone has to make a comment about his beard. I am in my sixties, and... NOT DISTURBED. MRS. E. L. B.: MICHIGAN

DEAR ABBY: I cannot understand all the commotion about whiskers and long hair. My parents were married in 1867, and their wedding picture shows my father, his best man and the minister with long beards and shoulder-length hair, and they were certainly respectable and responsible people.

I have lived well over 90 years, and have seen fads come and go, but I have yet to see one that stirred up such a furor as long hair and whiskers. It seems to me that there is a lot of energy being wasted that could be put to better use. ONE OLD LADY

DEAR ABBY: Jesus wore long hair, a beard and sandals and I'm sure if He were walking around that way today nobody would call Him a "hippie." Can you give me a definition of a hippie?

DEAR JERRY: No. But if someone can give ME a good definition of a hippie I'll gladly print it.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column, someone quoted SOCRATES, pointing out that criticism of the young by the elders is nothing new. In your reply you gave your readers the impression that Greece went to the dogs immediately following the death of Socrates, and didn't recover until Melina Mercouri made "NEVER ON SUNDAY" and Jackie Kennedy married Onassis.

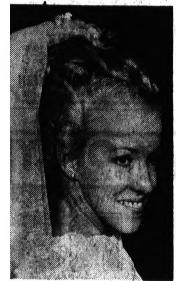

May I point out that the great works of Sophocles, Euripides, and Thucydides came AFTER Socrates? And later still the Greeks produced such schlemiels as Plato and Aristotle.

Melina Mercouri is loved for her patriotic devotion to a free Greece, but Mr. Onassis, with or without Jackie, is hardly the greatest thing that happened to Greece since the original Aristotle.

Sincerely yours, JOANNE IN OAKLAND

Trip Marks 50 Years of Married Life

A wedding trip to the church in which they were married will mark the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Becker of South Shirley Street.

St. Mary's Catholic Church in Leary, Ohio was the setting for the Becker's marriage on Sept. 20, 1919. They have resided in Pontiac since 1922.

Mr. and Mrs. Becker have three daughters and 13 grandchildren. The children are Mrs. George Sourial of Whittier, Calif., Mrs. Douglas Child of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Mrs. Wesley McCann of Liberty Street.

He'd soon learn that real life isn't as easy as life on the printed page, where the characters never see a vacuum cleaner suddenly disgorge its contents on the living room floor and the washing machine never makes a clucking sound and just after he has planned the last dry diaper on baby.

He'd never again come up with phrases such as "A woman can plan a certain time of day just for herself," if he had put in an 8-hour week alone with the kiddies where accidents not only can happen, but DO, and never during a specific time scheduled for them.

As a matter of fact, after a month of conversing only with toddlers, there's a good chance all he could tell us would be, "Night-night! Coo-ky! See the truck!"

Mothers of Toddlers Are Prisoners

By BETTY CANARY
NEA Writer

During the month of September, the most forgotten woman in America is that mother whose children do not go to school. She's subjected to a flurry of back-to-school news and there she is with preschoolers and a long winter morning.

Everyone knows preschoolers are endearing creatures, what with their milky mouths and fuzzy sleepers, but even the most appreciative mother can't help thinking they would be even more endearing if they'd stop doing such things as squeezing oatmeal through their fingers or waking from naps with a temperature of 101.

If remembered at all, the mother of preschool children is recognized only in articles telling her why she feels trapped.

She knows the reason she feels trapped is because she is trapped, but she will conscientiously read the articles anyway, just to see if perhaps this time somebody has come up with something new. (They never do.)

NEW PILL

One always keeps hoping that perhaps the author has invented something, say a Grow-Fast pill designed for slipping into a toddler's orange juice. As of now, there is nothing a mother can do except wait it out, year by year, until kindergarten.

Looking back through a haze of peanut butter, I can see that I tried all the standard solutions for keeping sane during the preschool years.

I slapped on lots of moisturizing lotion, read books, painted some pictures, even knitted one aryle sock. I stole from the grocery money occasionally and on Tuesdays I'd hire a sitter so I could attend a lecture series. It was terribly interesting and stimulating and on Wednesdays there I'd be, back among the bibs and diapers.

A moist face and knitting needles ready didn't solve things and I do grow tired of bearing others hand out this kind of advice to a young mother who is clawing at the windows.

A way to stop this kind of advice would be to shut up the writer for just one cold, wet

Simulated Leathers Need Extra Care at Dry Cleaners

A hide is a hide, is a hide, but not if it's man-made. Depending upon the type, man-made leathers have two distinct characters when they're cleaned, according to Bernetta Kahabka, textile specialist at Michigan State University.

One type of simulated leather can be cleaned with water, but stiffens when dried. The other can only be drycleaned. If a leather garment cannot be drycleaned, you can still take it

Water Purifier Now Available

For purists, a water purifier now can be mounted wherever space is available, takes up little area, and requires no electrical connection.

It processes three to six gallons per day, using a "space age membrane technique" to remove cloudiness, sediment, bad tastes and odors. It is for sale or rent.

Add Versatility

If your wardrobe is limited, remember that a silk scarf, of any size, shape and number, can be worn any number of ways to change the look of an outfit.

to a dry cleaner for professional care, however. The garment can be "wet-cleaned," which is a process involving hand brushing, the specialist explains.

"You should alert the dry cleaner on any care instructions on labels or hang tags," she adds.

"Expanded vinyl fabrics, which should never be drycleaned, are identifiable if you examine the wrong side of the material," notes Miss Kahabka. "They will have a knitted background."

FAKE HIKES
"The polyurethane-coated simulated leathers, on the other hand, have a woven cotton background. Simulated leathers of this type can be drycleaned."

"If you're considering the purchase of some of the new simulated leather or leather-trimmed fashions this fall, be sure you can identify which type of imitation leather you're buying," Miss Kahabka cautions.

This identification may not be easy if the leather is in the form of trim since the wrong side of the fabric is not easily accessible. However, the information should be available from the retailer selling the garment or printed on the hang tag.

Shopping in Off Season Means Savings

By ANNE TAYLOR
AP Newswriter

Last spring I remember looking in the window of a well-known New York women's apparel store and finding winter coats on sale for $39. These same coats had sold at considerably higher prices all winter long.

The clothes explained to me when I inquired that he was loaded down with the coats and would prefer selling them now at near cost in order to avoid storing them for the summer.

He called it a "post-season sale."

"They'll be back to their old price in the fall," he said.

Well, they are back to their old price now that fall is here. But three or four weeks ago you could have purchased the coats for the same price as in the spring, for they were on a "pre-season sale."

"There's a real lull in our business later in the summer," the store manager explained. "People stop buying summer clothes because it's so late in the season. But until the chilly weather comes, they're reluctant to buy their fall apparel." These situations illustrate the bargains that can be obtained by shopping in the off season. Many people make a custom of shopping this way. In fact, some mothers already are buying toys to put under the Christmas tree.

OPPOSITE

Off-season shopping is the opposite of impulse buying, a malady that afflicts almost all of us and for which we pay dearly. Off-season buying requires planning, discipline and patience.

The summer clothes you buy in the late summer, for example, may have to remain in mothballs for months.

A tip: Although you can get real bargains during the off season you should not as a rule believe the "last" price as compared with the "sale" price. Exaggerations are common.

With this reminder, let us look at some off season bargains:

Air conditioners. Several weeks ago I watched scores of buyers load their cars with air big sale on TV sets is likely to conditioners purchased at big he held. Frankly, I'm not looking for bargains until after the football season and the post-season bowl games.

Furniture. Many of the summer sales already are over but clear their showrooms in order you still can get some bargains well into the fall. Next sale time or introduce next year's versions. Remember, however, is that for resale purposes, a 1969 February. Begin saving now car is a year old the minute the 1970 model makes an ap-bargains then.

FURNITURE BARGAINS

Summer vacation equipment. Look for bargains in tennis, clothes, swim suits, outdoor motors, golf clubs. Summer vacation homes even drop in price. Well, you could go on and on, but I think you get the idea. Most products have a season, and most dealers in these products have pre-season and post-season sales.

Keep in mind, however, that there are some drawbacks. In a way you might find yourself summer home — it's a wearing last year's styles. Same with automobiles. But many products remain undated can't really determine when a

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department is continuing its Ballet Program for Girls on an after-school basis this year.

The schedule is: Owen School, 3:30 to 4:30 p.m., starting Sept. 30; Malkin School, 3 to 4 p.m., starting Oct. 1; and Herrington School, 3:30 to 4:30 p.m., starting Oct. 3.

The program of weekly classes is under the direction of Mrs. Carol Wolfe and is open to girls now attending kindergarten through sixth grade. Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Department office.

Mixing Styles Fashion Error

Men's fashions have gone wild and wonderful, but the basic rules still apply.

Gentlemen, please remember that no one, in any fashion era, has looked anything but silly if he mixes his styles — which is to say that silk ties and sports jackets worn together is still a fashion no-no.

So is wearing any type of loafer with a business suit, or wearing wingtips with casual slacks. Look as avante-garde as you please, but be consistent.

Reel Holds Wire Without Tangling

Snarling and tangling of household wire are eliminated with new packaging from one company.

The wire, either galvanized or nylon coated, comes in three gauges and is wound on a steel frame so that the consumer can cut off just the amount needed. The reel holds the rest neat and tangle-free.

Under Celia Merrill Turner, director, and her husband, Kenneth E. Turner, general manager, a resident company of young actors will present "Lavender Star Spangled Girl" and a musical, "The Apple Tree," which will open the season on Oct. 13.

Performances are scheduled, nightly, Tuesdays through Sundays, with curtain at 8:30.

The occasional introduction of experimental plays for short runs is being considered for later in the year after the three show repertory has been cycled. Mrs. Turner, who is Chairman of the Performing Arts Department for Northwood Institute in Indiana, will continue to commute from Will-O-Way to the Indiana campus at West Baden, in addition to directing the repertory season here.

Cotton Is Choice for Serviceability on Dorm Beds

A bedspread for a dorm room doesn't have to be pretty, as long as it's supremely serviceable.

However, new cotton bedspreads score high on both points. They can take all the hard wear dormitory life can give, and still look fresh as a daisy. In vivid, colorful shades, patterned in up-to-the-minute motifs, the spreads can be machine-washed and dried and put straight back on the bed.

Some of the new bedspreads on the market come in coordinated ensembles for decorating a dorm room. Sets include bedspread, tablecloth, draperies, and chair cushions, all in the same printed or solid-color fabric.

If lint adheres to your washable half garments, make the last, rinse half-water, half-vinegar. The lint will be removed and there will be no vinegar odor.

The Milford-West Bloomfield game should be a dandy. When those two tangled last year, West Bloomfield won, 60-25. Last night those two Wayne-Oakland League powers ran up impressive scores in posting victories in their local debuts. Milford outscored Waterford Kettering (6-2), 30-20, while West Bloomfield (1-1) ripped Brighton (6-2), 28-8. Those two meet Oct. 24 at Milford.

COULD BE WRONG

Coach Jerry Gantzel figures this year would be one of rebuilding for the Redskins of Milford, but it could be the team's already arrived.

Last night, the "Skins" down 14-12 at halftime, scored once in the third and added a couple more six-pointers in the fourth stanza to hold off the surging Captains.

TOP PERFORMER

Tom Newcomb, a senior halfback, was the chief threat in the side of the Captains. He scored on runs of 32 and 12 yards in an offensive role, and ran back an interception 35 yards for another score. Matt Partridge hauled in a 32-yard pass from Mike Monnier for another Milford score, while Monnier rambled 15 yards for the other one.

Bob Gratz sparked the Captains with touchdowns on runs of 32 and 1 yards.

EIGHT STRAIGHT

The Lakers of West Bloomfield, defending champions in the W-O, made it eight straight league wins with the romp over Brighton. The Lakers piled up a 28-0 lead before turning the game over to the reserves.

John Sopka scored on a three-yard run and John Huguet led the team to a 14-0 lead at intermission. Glen VanGorder hauled in a five-yard pass from Bill Bullock for the third score, while Ron VanGorder, Glen's older brother, picked off a Brighton pass and raced 50 yards for the final score.

Andover Rolls by Clarkson

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Coach Bob Keigen of Bloomfield Hills Andover keeps insisting he's hurting. And it's for real. He and the Barons are hurting... other teams.

BLANKS, AGAIN

The Barons put their second whitewash in a row on the line last night by saddling Clarkson with a 34-0 defeat before a large Clarkson crowd. Last week, Oak Park fell before the might of the Barons, 20-0.

"See, there's our fastest runner," Bob says, pointing a finger at Rick Kaufman, who was providing a little ball-retrieving assistance for the squad in the pre-game warmups despite the cast on his broken ankle.

"And there's tackle Dick Souther behind the goal posts," added Bob, again pointing. Souther, a senior, is recovering from a bout with mono-nucleosis.

NOT MISSED

Keigen missed neither of the two. Filling in capably were halfback Bob Reid and quarterback Scott Roley, along with a tenacious defense that simply refused the Wolves any room to roam.

The Wolves then showed their only offensive spark of the evening as they took the ensuing kickoff and marched from their own 23 to the Andover seven before losing the ball on downs.

Roley tallied in the third stanza on a one-yard sneak, and end Bob Heussner came up with the defensive play of the night in the fourth period.

Clarkson's Mark Swanson, back to pass, turned the ball loose. Heussner, just a couple of steps from him, baited the ball in the air, juggled it a couple of times, gained control and raced 50 yards for a touchdown.

The Barons final tally came late in the fourth on a one-yard sneak by second-string quarterback Rolfe Barrett.

The game was the Wayne-Oakland League opener for both. In another W-O encounter, Clarendonville blanked Northville, 16-0.

Keigen and the Barons were picked in a pre-season pool of league coaches to take the '69 championship, and so far, the team is living up to those expectations.

OPENS SCORING

Reid, a junior speedster, put the Barons on the scoreboard, 6-0, with a minute left in the first period on a three-yard run, ending a three-play 18-yard advance that started after Andover pounced on a Clarkson fumble at the Wolves' 18.

It became 8-0 midway in the second frame when halfback Rick Prasit was collared by the Barons' Brad Fiora in the endzone for a safety.

PAYOFF PASS

Taking the punt after the kickoff at the Clarkson 45-yard line, the Barons scored in seven plays with the payoff coming on a 33-yard pass from Roley to Reid. Another pass to Reid produced a two-point conversion.

The Wolves then showed their only offensive spark of the evening as they took the ensuing kickoff and marched from their own 23 to the Andover seven before losing the ball on downs.

Kimball Routs EML Foe; E. Detroit Halts Seaholm

A couple of area prep leagues broke even on the gridiron last night.

Mount Clemens of the Eastern Michigan League ripped Birmingham Seaholm of the Southeastern Michigan Association, 38-0, while Royal Oak Kimball of the SMA plined a 34-6 setback on EML's East Detroit.

BIG OUTPUT

Two big quarters provided the Knights of Royal Oak Kimball with the edge against East Detroit. The victory was the second in a row for the Knights while East Detroit is now 1-1.

After a brief standoff in the second period, the Knights grabbed a 16-0 lead at intermission and wrapped up the game with an 18-point outburst in the fourth frame.

INTERCEPTIONS HELP

Four of the Royal Oak touchdowns were set up by pass interceptions, two by Steve Hebold.

Rick Knox got the Knights on the board early in the second on a three-yard run. After East Detroit came back to tie it at 6-6 on a short run by Dave Sort, the Knights moved quickly downfield again with Knox going over from the four.

SPARKS SURGE

Mike Kilbourne started that big surge for the Knights in the fourth with a six-yard scoring run. Then quarterback Tim Cole took charge and flipped scoring passes of 1 and three yards to Tom Brown and Rick Campbell.

Campbell was the big gun for the Knights. He collected 156 yards on 25 carries. Turning in sharp defensive

Noll, an assistant coach at Baltimore, brought the largest crop of rookies ever to camp and began paring the squad, dropping rookies and some veterans and keeping some first-year men and trading for other players.

Gone from this year's team are defensive halfback Clendon Thomas, linebacker Bill Saul, defensive tackle Ken Kortas, running back Don Shy and fullback Bill Aubrey.

Replacing Thomas is Charles Beatty of North Texas State, while Ray May, in his third year in the pros, has taken over Saul's middle linebacker job.

Joe Greene, Pittsburgh's No. 1 draft choice out of North Texas State, will be a starter at defensive tackle and another rookie, L. C. Greenwood, is expected to see a lot of action at defensive end.

Other rookies on the squad are halfback Bob Campbell of Penn State, fullback Warren Bankston of Tulane and quarterback Terry Hanratty of Notre Dame.

Firebirds Eying Better 2nd Half

Marty Malatin, Craig Hanson and Doug Holcomb continue to lead the offensive statistics for the Pontiac Firebirds after seven games of the 14-game league schedule.

After flanker Mickey Blazitz was injured and ruled out for the season, Hanson, the former Kettering High griddier, took over the leading role as pass receiver and he now is tops in the MFL with 26 receptions for 605 yards and seven touchdowns.

Tonight, the Firebirds travel to meet the Grand Rapids Chiefs hoping to start the final seven games of the schedule as they did in the opener when they routed the Chiefs, 36-6.

SHARE CHORES

Malatin and Bobby Brown have shared the running chores for the Firebirds and Malatin, the 210-pound back is enjoying his best season in three years.

The former Kent State runner is averaging 4.4 yards a carry for 85 attempts. Brown is close behind at 3.9 per try.

Holcomb went over the 1,000 yard mark in passing yardage in the rout of Dayton last week and he has thrown for nine touchdowns.

One statistic which has been overlooked has been the kick return of little Jim Little who has a 90- and 70-yard punt return for touchdowns to his credit.

The 90 yarder came against South-west Michigan in St. Joe three weeks ago, and last week the large crowd at Wisner was thrilled with his sparkling run of a 70-yard punt.

Defensively, the Firebirds and Lansing are tied for points allowed behind Lackawanna, both giving up 82 points.

INTERCEPTIONS

Little Ken Simms has already intercepted five passes, a total which is one short of the best mark set by Chuck Stein in 1967 and Jesse Parrish in 1966, each with six.

Stein, who has missed a lot of playing time this year with an injury, has two interceptions thus far.

The game at Grand Rapids starts at 7:30 tonight.

Next week, the powerful Lackawanna Lancers visit Wisner Stadium and it could be a showdown of the two divisional leaders and possibly a preview of the MFL championship game Nov. 9.

Red Wings Loaning Players to Cleveland

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League today loaned five players to the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League.

Sid Abel, Detroit general manager, said Cleveland received goalie Gerry Gray, left winger Carl Reimann and defencemen Bob Falkenberg, Doug Piper and Jim Watson.

The five players will be available to the Wings on a 24-hour recall, Abel said. He added they will report to the opening of Cleveland's training camp in Bowling Green, Ohio, Monday.
