Wife, Mother Defend Moore

Prosecution Rests as Case Recessed After Confession Is Read

Howard Wayne Moore's wife and mother took the stand yesterday to defend the 24-year-old accused sex-slayer, on trial for the first degree murder of his Lake Orion neighbor's daughter, Martha Little, 3.

Although both women called Moore "normal," their testimony was expected to conflict with that of a psychiatrist when the case resumes tomorrow.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem rested his case yesterday after presentation of a barrage of evidence, including a second statement containing a confession which Moore has repudiated.

Read after objections by defense attorney Carl Igraham of Birmingham were overruled by Circuit Court Judge George B. Hartrick, the statement quoted Moore as saying:

"Yes, I killed her, as far as I know. When I'm drinking anything is possible."

The former furnace repairman is accused of driving Martha from her home after dinner on Friday, July 27 to a deserted lovers' lane 11 miles away where he assaulted and beat her to death. She was found there the next day.

BRIDE TESTIFIES

His recent bride, married four months tomorrow, told of drunken weekends spent by Moore on their honeymoon.

Irene Moore, 20, admitted under cross examination Moore "had been drinking beer" before he left home in his car on the night of July 27, but added, "He was not drunk." She said he "always" drank beer weekends.

Mrs. Minnie Fairchild of Oxford, Moore's 49-year-old mother, testified, "Howard was the best son a woman could have. He's still the same good boy."

She said Moore "is a very intelligent boy who always knew what he was doing."

TELLS OF DRINKING

She admitted Moore began drinking beer at 16, adding that he drank heavier after his return from Korean Army duty, when he seemed to have become "moody," Mrs. Fairchild said.

"My boy's one of the healthiest I've ever seen. He never held a grudge, or was resentful, and he thrived on competition."

Staiger has built a reputation as a public speaker throughout Michigan. He lives in Port Huron and takes an active part in that city's community life as a school and library board member.

He was recently honored by the Pontiac Kiwanis Club in its "Flowers To The Living Program."

The speaker has been active in the work of the Port Huron Salvation Army Citadel for more than 26 years.

He agreed to speak to the United Fund workers in response to an invitation from Walter K. Willman, campaign chairman.

More than 400 UF solicitors from Pontiac, Waterford and Pontiac Townships are expected to attend the breakfast.

It is being sponsored by the Pontiac Manufacturers' Assn.

Stevenson Shifts Tactics, Appeals to Party Loyalty

By JACK BELL

WITH STEVENSON IN OHIO, (P)—Adlai E. Stevenson attacked the Eisenhower administration today as a "single interest government" he said must be ousted by "election of the Democratic party."

The Democratic presidential nominee thus wrapped up a new attack on President Eisenhower in the same package with his own obvious shift in campaign tactics toward a party—rather than a personal—appeal for votes.

Stevenson said in a speech prepared for a late afternoon rally in Akron, Eisenhower has a "Cadillac Cabinet" that "fears nothing as much as change."

He added that the people "will carry forward again when the present Cabinet is back in General Motors next January."

"If Mr. Eisenhower didn't want his administration called a big No More Cadillacs?"

AKRON, Ohio (P)—Adlai E. Stevenson said today that Vice President Nixon has "instructed his staff not to use any more Cadillacs in his parades."

In a speech prepared for a political rally here, Stevenson said Nixon is "getting sensitive" over what Stevenson calls the "Cadillac Cabinet" of President Eisenhower.

"Those Republicans think of everything!" said the Democratic presidential candidate.

business single interest government, why did he ever join the Republican party?" Stevenson demanded.

This fresh attack on what he called the "creeping complacency" of the Republicans fitted in deeply with Stevenson's new tactics—developed in a whistle-stop swing through Michigan yesterday—to submerge his own presidential aspirations under a strong appeal for Democratic party votes that might carry him on the coattails of well-liked local candidates to victory in doubtful states.

Willman Learns Estimated Rate of Huron Water

Pontiac Cost of 93 Cents Per 1,000 Cubic Feet Set; Flow in 3 Years

Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman was told yesterday water from Lake Huron can be delivered to Pontiac for 93 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, within three years.

At a meeting of the Southeast Michigan Water Authority yesterday in Royal Oak, held to sound out some of the larger potential users of water from the proposed pipeline on whether they'd be interested in the proposal, Willman expressed guarded interest.

"How firm is the rate?" Willman asked. In announcing plans for the pipeline Tuesday, Authority Chairman Howard K. Kelley of Royal Oak had said rates in Oakland County would average 88 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. Pontiac's rate would be slightly more because of its higher land level.

"The rate's got to stand up before cities will consider the pipeline," Willman said.

Roscoe R. Stitts, an engineer who said he represents the proposed company which will construct the pipeline, told Willman the 88 cents average figure is based on the pipe is carrying at 100 per cent of its 500 million gallon daily capacity.

AGREES TO CONTRACT

Kelley asked Stitts if the rate would be included in a contract between the proposed company and the authority. Stitts said it would, contingent on 41 per cent of capacity use.

Stitts said he represents "a joint venture" known as Lake Huron Water Supply. He said the venture has not yet been incorporated, though it has already flown eight aerial surveys of pipeline routes and bought "the critical 10 per cent" of right of way for the line.

Waterford Pilot Escapes Death in Crashlanding

A 24-year-old Waterford Township pilot escaped death yesterday when he was forced to crashland his single-engine plane in a field near Washington, Pa.

Nicholas D. Manzella, 4163 Woodstock St., left Pontiac Municipal Airport yesterday afternoon for Uniontown, Pa. to attend the funeral of a relative.

He was forced to land when the light plane ran out of fuel. It reportedly sheared power lines while descending, cutting off electricity to many homes in the area.

Mrs. Manzella was told by her husband last night the plane, which he purchased in May, was "a complete loss."

School Building Fund-Raising Dinner Honors Broomfield

Says He'll Push 5-Year Program; Raps Adlai on 'Political Fables'

TACOMA, Wash. (P)—President Eisenhower pledged today to work for a school-building program geared to "this atomic age." He did so after accusing Adlai Stevenson of telling the American people "political fables" in the campaign.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a Citizens for Eisenhower rally at the College of Puget Sound, the President said he would not go into reasons why there was no action on his five-year school program at the last session of the Democratic-controlled 84th Congress. But he promised:

"I shall again call upon the Congress to act at the beginning of the next session. I shall support this request with all the force at my command."

The President, in the third day of a West Coast vote-seeking tour, spoke here after spending the night in suburban Tacoma.

It was in an address last night in nearby Seattle that he charged that Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, has been telling the voters "political fables" instead of dealing with "the world of reality."

U.S. on Brink of Abyss? Been There Since 1808!

ITHACA, N. Y. (P)—The U. S. government "is standing on a precipice, from which she may be tumbled into an awful abyss."

Sound familiar? It's on an 1808 Federalist Party poster on exhibit at Cornell University.

At a $10-a-plate fund-raising dinner last night honoring State Sen. William S. Broomfield, candidate for Congress, a federal trust-buster said President Eisenhower "wants Bill as a member of his team."

Victor R. Hansen, former California Superior Court judge now serving as head of the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice, said the President has "spoken very favorably" of Broomfield.

Retiring Congressman George A. Dondero, who also spoke at the dinner last night in Pontiac's Elks Temple, praised Broomfield as "a young man who has a brilliant record in the Legislature."

Speaking briefly, Broomfield repeated earlier campaign statements of his position on Federal aid.

"I don't think we should ask for federal aid until we have made every possible effort to solve our problems ourselves."

In the main speech of the evening, Hansen reviewed Republican campaign issues of peace and prosperity, and detailed the work of the anti-trust division as an illustration of "honest government working to preserve, rather than supplant, our free enterprise system."

He said fears expressed in 1932 that Republicans would ignore anti-trust action have proved groundless.

War Ends Tomorrow

MOSCOW (P)—A declaration ending the 11-year state of war between the Soviet Union and Japan probably will be signed in the Kremlin tomorrow night.

A front-seat passenger, Robert G. Sharpe, 21, of 340 Highland Ave., Highland Park, died this morning in Pontiac General Hospital of multiple head and internal injuries.

Wozniak's date for the evening, Jeanette McDonald, 16, of 459 W. Otis, Hazel Park, is listed in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital. Authorities said she suffered severe cuts to her neck and scalp.

AT HIGH SPEED

The trio evidently was driving to Lake Orion, where Wozniak had spent the summer, deputies said. Their car apparently had descended a hill at a high rate of speed, and sideswiped the cement railing of the Paint Creek bridge.

It continued on 160 feet, they said, striking six guard rails, then rolling several times down the middle of the road. Sharpe was found lying unconscious next to the car.

The girl was too dazed to tell what happened, deputies said. She was lying off the curb 150 feet behind the car.

Road Aide Says Work to Begin Within 10 Days

Telegraph Intersection Emergency Route to Get Left-Turn Lane, Walks

At a meeting yesterday with the Roads Committee of the Board of Supervisors, chief state deputy highway commissioner George M. Foster agreed to improve the condition of the "temporary" detour at the Orchard Lake Avenue — Telegraph Road intersection.

According to committee chairman Don R. MacDonald, Foster said he will widen the pavement, eliminate two sharp curves in the detour, install a pedestrian sidewalk and put in a left turn lane for cars turning north onto Telegraph road.

Foster said he would start on the program "at once." MacDonald said, and added "I think within 10 days we'll see activity there."

The detour has been in use since May, when construction work on a planned underpass was started on Orchard Lake Avenue 100 yards west of Telegraph road.

Construction work now has stopped, and Highway Department officials have said the underpass probably won't be finished until next June because of a steel shortage.

MacDonald said Foster also agreed to try again to expedite delivery of steel for the bridge.

He also said he would start a survey to see if a three-way traffic light at the intersection is feasible. MacDonald added such a light would include a special green for left turns off Orchard Lake Avenue.

MacDonald said he asked Foster to the meeting because "I thought it was time we made an attempt to avoid any further criticism."

"There are 14,000 cars a day using that detour. I don't think it's a very good policy to have that many people mad at you."

"Enough's enough." Parents of children attending Daniel Whitfield School, just west of the intersection, have protested to the Pontiac School Board their children cannot safely cross the road without a sidewalk on the detour.

Crash on Adams Kills 2, Injures 1

A. Wozniak Jr., Robert Sharpe Dead; Car Rams Bridge Near Orion Rd.

A motorist was killed, a passenger fatally injured and a 16-year-old girl seriously cut when tossed from their car after striking a bridge abutment and rolling over on Adams road south of Orion road last night.

The driver, Arthur S. Wozniak Jr., 19, of 1400 Palister St., Detroit, was found dead with a broken neck in a field 30 feet from his car. Sheriffs deputies said.

A front-seat passenger, Robert G. Sharpe, 21, of 340 Highland Ave., Highland Park, died this morning in Pontiac General Hospital of multiple head and internal injuries.

Bandits Hold Up Service Station

Two Hooded Men Take $150 in Early Morning Slickup; Find Clues

Two hooded men held up a city service station and got away with over $150 early this morning.

Pontiac police found a tam, two T-shirts with slits for eyes, and a woman's single silk hose a short distance from the station later today but had little to go on due to the inability of attendant Harold Werth to give a description of the gunmen.

The robbery occurred at approximately 4:00 a.m. at Schroeder's Service Station, 440 N. Paddock St.

Werth told investigators the men entered his station carrying rifles and ordered him to hand over his money. He said he gave them $150 from his pocket and then was instructed to go into the men's room where "we'll blow your head off."

After the pair left the station, Werth said he left the rest room and found the telephone had been ripped from the wall and the drawer of his cash register, containing an undetermined amount of change, was missing.

According to Werth, the holdup men wore cloth hoods tucked under arms and either white gloves or socks on their hands. He said they made their escape in a car believed to have been a Chevrolet.

Stevenson Appeals to Partisan Loyalty

and Eisenhower had held in four years.

With a trace of exasperation in his voice, he said, "Certainly, no administration in history has enjoyed such immunity from criticism as Eisenhower's."

Then, in the manner of former President Harry S. Truman's new traditional Democratic "give 'em hell" tactics of 1948, Stevenson cut loose in Flint with a scathing attack on Vice President Nixon and former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Stevenson prefaced his onslaught against Nixon with the observation that any president might be prevented by higher will from serving his full term. Then he said Nixon's political "trademark" is a slander.

He depicted the vice president as a "man of many masks," asking:

"Who can say they have seen his real face?"

He accused Nixon of upsetting American relations with India. He said the vice president had been "rash and inexperienced" in saying two years ago that the United States might have to send troops into Indochina.

Stevenson's attack came at the close of what no one in the candidate's entourage would admit was a disappointing day of campaigning through the usually Republican farm areas of Michigan in the quest for the state's 20 electoral votes.

In sunny, warm weather, the railroad station crowds generally were smaller than the Democrats seemed to have expected. Listeners did not seem to be highly responsive.

They tilted rather than guffawed at Stevenson's quips. They listened in outwardly listless silence to his discussion of Republican "hard money" policies.

ILA Wins Anew in Gotham as AFL-CIO Loses 3rd Bid

NEW YORK (INS)—The International Longshoremen's Assn. has defeated the AFL-CIO for the third time in three years in balloting for collective bargaining rights on the New York waterfront.

The majority of New York's 22,000 dock workers rallied to the support of the ILA yesterday, showing they wanted the union that was ousted by the AFL-CIO to continue representing them as bargaining agent.

The Police Department and Waterfront Commission praised the orderliness of the election at six polling places throughout the port, despite the large numbers of voters and the crucial issue of inter-union struggle.

The Day in Birmingham Engineers Move; Work Progresses at 2 Lots

BIRMINGHAM — City projects took several notable steps this week, with cement construction beginning on Parking Lot 3-A, final homes being wrecked to make way for Parking Lot 3-B, and the three departments moving into new quarters at the Municipal Building.

At parking lot 3-A, north of Hamilton, installation of the parking meter blocks began yesterday, with all but one home removed in the past few weeks. Work will progress around the single home, which is to be wrecked soon.

Three homes have been moved, all to new Pontiac locations.

At lot 3-B at the Hunter-Hamilton intersection, two houses were being wrecked, along with a car wash early this week.

On other parking lots, city officials say they are ready to buy the land for parking lot 4 in the southeast sector, and have no immediate plans for parking lot 2 in the southwest section.

The engineering department and offices of the building inspector and city planner have been moved into the eastern end of the municipal building, with all work complete in the remodeled former fire hall wing, except a lengthy corner in the main room. Brilliant lighting there is a feature.

In the city planner's office, paintings of Spain done by his father, Robert Herberg mark the white walls.

Work progresses on the Oak Street crossover between Maple and Hunter, with one lane of traffic being sacrificed to the work on Hunter Avenue. Grading of the new roadway was underway yesterday.

Plans for a $135,000 office building were revealed this week by Harry Stevens, whose permit for the building was issued by the City. The brick structure, whose

Ban Fires, Smoking in South Michigan

LANSING (AP) — To guard against damaging fires and fumes — dry woodlands, Gov. Williams today banned campfires and smoking in rural areas of Southern Michigan.

Noting the lack of rain has increased the fire hazard, the governor said it has been suggested he cancel the pleasant season which opens Saturday.

His emergency ban applies to camp fires or the smoking of pipes, cigarettes, and cigars except in buildings, improved camp grounds, motor vehicles or villages and municipal corporations in the southern half of the Lower Peninsula.

The no-smoking area extends south of a line drawn on M20 from Lake Michigan to Bay City, then north on M47 to Saginaw Bay and northeast in the bay to Lake Huron to a point due north of Port Huron.

Violation of the ban is a misdemeanor punishable by a maximum fine of $25 and three months in jail.

Teen Gang War Kills 1, Injures 2

Chicago Youth Admits Firing the Fatal Shot in Park Battle

CHICAGO (U)—One youth was fatally shot, another was seriously wounded and a third was slashed and beaten in teen-age gang violence last night in a Southwest Side park.

Police said Fred Kruse, 18, walked into a police station shortly after the brief but violent gang fight and admitted he had fired the shots which killed Warren White, 17, and wounded Edward Melant Jr., 18.

Slashed on the face and beaten was Richard Bukovic, 19, described by police as a member of Kruse's gang. Bukovic, Kruse and four other youths were held by police without charge in connection with the shooting and fighting.

Chief of Detectives Patrick Deeley said the shooting occurred after several youths drove to the Cornell Square Park at 51st and Wood streets and approached White, Melant and Gerald Sternal, 17, who were sitting on a park bench.

Deeley said Sternal told him Kruse warned White not to move and when White advanced, Kruse fired once. Then, he added, when Melant got up, Kruse fired three more shots, two of them striking Melant. White, a high school senior, was shot in the heart and was dead on arrival at a hospital. Melant was shot in the chest and right arm.

Kruse and his companions ran to the two cars they had driven to the park but Bukovic was left behind in the park, Deeley said Sternal told him.

A dozen youths, attracted by the shots, ran to the park from a nearby candy store, Sternal's account to Deeley continued, and they grappled with Bukovic, who was slashed as they struggled. Twenty stitches were required to close Bukovic's wound.

Deeley said neither Bukovic nor any of the other youths questioned would give any reason for the attack on the youths. Police, however, attributed the shooting to a dispute among members of rival neighborhood gangs. All of the youths involved are white.

Expressway Mishap Fatal to 2 Motorists

DETROIT (U)—Two men were killed early today in a two-car crash in the southbound lanes of the Lodge Expressway, north of Chicago Boulevard, on Detroit's Northwest Side.

Police tentatively identified the victims as James Pilkington of Detroit, and Adam Edward Mason, 47, of suburban Belleville.

Officers said a northbound car jumped over the center island into the southbound lanes of the Expressway and rammed head-on into another. One of the cars caught fire, but the flames were extinguished quickly.

Police said the crash backed up traffic for about half a mile. The accident occurred at 7:20 a.m.

Mt. Clemens Men Saved as Boat Overturns

ST. CLAIR SHORES (INS)—Two Mt. Clemens men were saved today after being rescued when their 14-foot outboard motorboat capsized in Lake St. Clair.

Henry P. Grotjohn, 65, and Robert L. St. Aubin, 42, were rescued a few minutes after the boat overturned, by two men who had been fishing nearby.

Jack Tighe to Manage 1957 Detroit Tigers

Appointment of JACK TIGHE as manager of the Detroit Tigers comes without great surprise to anyone as his name has been mentioned prominently from the first day it became known that BUCKY HARRIS was leaving.

Tighe brings fine qualifications to his new post. As a player, manager, scout and coach, he knows baseball in all its ramifications. He is the inspirational type, with fire and the will to win. Yet he gets along with his players and is popular with teammates and opponents alike.

He started out as a catcher in his playing days. He was a good catcher, but too weak a hitter to last in the majors. He was a successful manager in several minor league cities and has been with the Tiger system as scout and coach for several years.

He will have the advantage over any outsider who might have been named in that he knows the Tigers thoroughly, gets along well with SPRUE BRUGGS and simply is moving up in the big baseball institution at Trumbull and Michigan Avenues.

TIGHE is fortunate in being named manager at a time when the Detroit Club has a fine group of young, improving players on its roster. If he can fill one or two chinks in the lineup he will have a team that will be a pennant contender.

The new owners of the Tigers have made it clear that they wanted a manager who could inspire a team and who would be ready to fight for it as well as direct it on the field. TIGHE possesses these qualifications. The Tigers should be a much more interesting team to watch next year.

U. S. Rocket Travels 3,000 Miles Over Sea

Rockets and guided missiles are the newest weapons in modern warfare. The United States is pushing their development, as is Russia and other leading powers.

Not too much is given out to the public regarding the progress that is being made, for fear of informing possible enemies.

However, it was announced this week that a new, triple-decked U.S. rocket has traveled approximately three thousand miles out across the Atlantic Ocean over the American testing range from Cape Canaveral, Fla. This marks a new record for rocket flight, according to the announcement.

This rocket stood as high as a twenty-story building. It followed an arc like that of an artillery shell, except that the distance covered was one thousand times as great.

No sane person can consider without a shudder what any new world war would be like with jet planes, hydrogen bombs, atom driven submarines, rockets and guided missiles. President EISENHOWER knows whereof he speaks when he insists that world peace is our most vital concern.

Ben's Excellent Work Lives Long After Him

Pioneer of the Goodfellow movement in his own home town was BEN JONES of Rochester, who died this week. Other communities later took it up along the lines he had established.

Over one-third of a century ago he raised funds each year in various ways to buy presents for the village children who otherwise would have a bleak Christmas.

A little later he began the annual newspaper sale which has since continued through a remarkable growth. Thousands of dollars have been raised in this manner in his home town alone.

The same plan followed through the nation has brought a total sum that runs into the millions.

Although sponsored in recent years by local clubs, the idea was BEN's and bears his name in his home community.

But his memory is perpetuated in other ways. The overall influence of the project that he established is a greater monument to him than anything in a mere material line that could be erected.

The Man About Town Urge Us to Vote And We'll Get Badge of Honor When We Do

Gossip: What when some people don't, they have no friends to speak of.

Following a political campaign that grows with plain nastiness, most of us should need no last minute urging to vote, nor should we expect a badge of honor for doing that duty. But we're to get both.

The Boy Scouts are to hang a "Get Out and Vote" tag on our door knobs early in the morning of Nov. 6. And as we leave the voting booth they will hand us a badge, "I Voted Today. Did You?"

All Depends on How You Look at It

Kefauver Speech Hurts Innocent

WASHINGTON—Sen. Kefauver, Democratic party nominee for the vice presidency, made on television Tuesday night the most shocking speech any man in public life has made in many decades—either within or outside a political campaign.

Not since the days of Sen. Tom Heflin of Alabama, Democrat, perhaps the worst demagogue in the Senate, has anything so obviously unfair and in such bad taste—and in utter disregard of the rights of innocent persons—been presented to a public audience.

Sen. Kefauver, who spoke under the auspices of the Stevenson-Kefauver campaign committee, quoted Gen. Eisenhower as having said in the 1952 campaign "throw out the crooks and cronies." He then pointed to a film of Eisenhower making a promise to clean up the government and "bring integrity and thrift back to Washington."

Gen. Eisenhower, however, mentioned no names.

Since 1952, however, the chief of the Internal Revenue Service under the Truman administration and a deputy commissioner and the heads of two district offices of internal revenue have gone to jail for accepting bribes or for cheating on their income taxes. Two Truman appointees—one of them the head of tax prosecutions in the Department of Justice—have been convicted of conspiracy to defraud the government. This is indeed "corruption."

FLASHES PICTURES Yet, immediately after referring to Eisenhower's 1952 speech, in which he had not assailed any man's reputation, Sen. Kefauver said this:

"Under the Eisenhower-Nixon administration, more heads of government agencies have been involved in corruption than under any administration since the Republican administration of Gen. U. S. Grant."

After saying that the heads of government agencies in the Eisenhower administration were "involved in corruption," Sen. Kefauver specifically showed the pictures of Harold Talbott, former secretary of the U. S. Air Force, Edmund Mansure of the General Services Administration, and Peter Strobel, public buildings administrator. Then Kefauver went on to say:

"But these were not the big time operators. Let me show you one of the most rotten deals in American history—the Dixie-Yates deal. Here was an attempt by big businessmen, in and out of government, to milk an entire region of our nation. Here are some of the people involved."

Then Sen. Kefauver pointed on the screen to the pictures of Adolph Zensell and George Woods—neither of whom was a government official—and of Joseph Dodge, former director of the budget; Sherman Adams, who is executive assistant to President Eisenhower, and finally to Atty. Gen. Brownell. He then referred to the entire group as "these scoundrels."

Not one of these men whose pictures were shown—starting with Harold Talbott—violated any laws or have ever been indicted by any jury or brought into court. Certainly if they were personally "involved," involved in corruption," there has been no evidence brought forth to sustain the charge which, so many listeners heard, and millions of them probably believed they were looking at a gallery of "crooks."

Sen. McCarthy in his most overzealous moments and Vice President Nixon in his most vehement and hard-hitting campaign speeches of 1954 never perpetrated anything like the speech delivered by Sen. Kefauver.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Doctor Says Anesthesia Relaxes Laboring Mother

As a plodding general practitioner, ready, willing, and fairly competent to treat whatever came my way, I was no great shakes in obstetrics. However, I was no bungler either, for I had delivered more patients as an intern in a charity hospital than most physicians deliver in the first five or ten years in private practice.

A few weeks after I opened an office in Penn Yan, at the age of 23, a real estate and insurance man in the village asked me to hurry out to his daughter's. She was in labor and the doctor who had been engaged to attend her was off on a foot. I delivered a 14-pound baby (her first) with forceps, at the patient's home on the farm, without serious injury to mother or infant. Under chloroform anesthesia, administered by a relative whom I instructed as I worked.

Another time a doctor in the village called me to the home of his patient to administer the anesthetic while he applied forceps to deliver the baby. The patient had been laboring all night with little or no progress. She had no anesthetic—the doctor was astonished by my inquiry. While he was getting things sterilized, I began to give the anesthetic. Just to the obstetric stage—which means just enough to take the edge off pains, not enough to make the patient unconscious. As soon as she got this relief she stopped tossing wildly about and wailing. She followed my instructions and rested quietly between pains. Before the doctor could get the forceps ready the patient was ready to deliver herself normally.

I found that her doctor, like many others in the community, either didn't believe in anesthesia for childbirth or didn't know how to use it. However, hard-boiled I may seem to sophomores I can say I never failed to offer a laboring woman an anesthetic, although a good many of my patients thanked me politely and said they didn't want any.

There was just one obstetric patient who not only declined the anesthetic (her first confinement) but bore her baby without evincing any evidence of pain or great discomfort. Possibly there was a psychological factor—the patient was unmarried, she had concealed her condition from her family up to the moment and she was having her baby at home.

The doctor whose proposed forceps extraction was made unnecessary by anesthesia, called me another time to administer the anesthetic while he delivered the baby. When I reached the home of his patient I found the doctor excitedly searching a standard textbook of obstetrics to find what to do, a patient who had been bleeding considerably in the final months of her pregnancy and who now had a large hemorrhage and looked extremely bad. I started the anesthetic with diffidence. The doctor presently remarked to the patient's husband: "There—that's the afterbirth. It came first, but it should have come last"—and immediately afterward the patient expired.

I never discussed the case with the doctor or anybody else, but on the other hand I have never felt at ease in my conscience—perhaps I should have insisted upon examining the patient before I gave an anesthetic. I might have delivered a foot or arm instead of the afterbirth. That would have given the patient at least a chance to live, with or without her baby. At any rate, as any doctor knows or should know, the thing to do in such a case (called placenta previa) is to bring down a foot, hand, or any other protruding part into the birth canal and leave the placenta (afterbirth) intact. This stops bleeding for the duration of labor, and gives the patient a chance to survive.

Today, Caesarean section would be the method of choice in most cases of placenta previa.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. (Copyright 1956)

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Textbooks Don't Need to Be Dull

Dull teachers often employ dull textbooks, for they don't understand the first rules of effective teaching. You must maintain and nurture the natural enthusiasm of pupils instead of killing it. Ask your college sons and daughters about the points raised today, and test all teachers by the rating scale named below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case S-394: Dr. Henry C. Link, author of many famous psychology books, including "The Return to Religion," was a good friend of mine.

Besides, I was a Chicago representative of his Psychological Corporation which conducted frequent surveys of consumers on a nationwide basis.

While the above named book was at its popularity peak, many of you readers may recall that Dr. Link also wrote several very fine magazine articles.

At that time I visited Dr. Link in New York and later dined with some of his staff. One of the latter, in Dr. Link's absence, confidentially informed me:

"We think Dr. Link is going too far in writing for magazines. He is verging on quackery!"

I mention this true episode to show you the artificial scale of scientific values which many Ph. D. professors still hold.

They apparently think nothing can be scientific which is easily understandable! Thus, they not only damned Dr. Link for his magazine writing, but what do you suppose they say about me because of my newspaper writing?

INFERIORITY PROFS

'Get Out the Vote' Urges End of Foolish Complacency

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters. These will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The current nationwide drive being conducted to get out the vote on Election Day brings to mind the story of the British farmer who told his candidate for Parliament, "Mary and I ain't going to vote this year. We like things the way they are."

It's just this sort of foolish complacency that the world is trying to combat. For whether you like things as they are, or want to change them, a visit to the polls is still the most effective way of saying so.

Get Out the Vote
 Get Out the Vote

'North End's Now 3rd Class Area'

I wish to thank our City Commissioners in the North End for their fine accomplishments. This is the way the score reads so far: A city dump on Kennett, city junk yard on North Saginaw near Montclair, cartage carrier lot on Joslyn, trailer park on Walton.

But things are getting better. We are getting a dirty, noisy switch yard on Sheffield, and a stamping plant on Ypsilanti. Five hundred new home owners won't mind. It will be a place for their kids to play.

You have been a success. The North End is now a third class neighborhood. Please give us a public housing project now. Thank you.

Hal Boyle Says:

Nobody's Getting Excited About Current Politicking

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbsome comments of a Pavement Plator.

In 1952 the ordinary voter didn't hesitate to break up a beautiful lifelong friendship over a difference in political opinion.

He was that steamed up.

But do you know of anybody who has broken any lifelong friendship as a result of the 1956 campaign? I don't.

HARDLY STIRRED

Nineteen days from now the nation picks its next president. But the general public seems hardly more stirred by this fact than by the news that there are only 57 shopping days left before Christmas.

What has happened?

In previous presidential election years politics has always ranked as America's top participant sport, a participant sport being one in which you take part yourself—such as playing gin rummy or making love.

The great spectator sports—those at which you just sit and watch—were baseball, football and basketball. But this year politics seems to outrank them as a spectator sport. No one is playing the game but the professional politicians. The voters are on the sidelines sitting on their hands.

It wasn't that way in 1952. Remember? Everybody was in politics, and politics was in everybody. Husbands were so riled up they were even talking back to their wives.

READY TO FIGHT

Democrats were walking into bars offering to "lick any Republican in the place"—and any Republican within earshot was ready to call them.

It was a time when everyone was sure the country needed to be saved, and the only way to save it was to vote the way he did.

The rival candidates weren't simply men. Dwight Eisenhower was another Richard the Lionhearted, leading a new crusade; Adlai Stevenson was a new Woodrow Wilson, reborn more glamorous.

None of the politicians surrounding them were simply human either. All wore halos or had cloven hooves, depending on the voter's view.

PLENTY OF ISSUES

And issues? In 1952 everything was an issue—even animal life. Remember Harry Truman's "red herring"? And Dick Nixon's dog, "Checkers"?

Today all this is changed. There are still patches of strong political feeling across the country, but, on the whole, no stern anger stirs the average voter. Nor any panic fear. Few voters seem to be approaching the polls in the spirit of Paul Revere, alert to save the land.

error and talk about coefficients of correlation.

Their behavior is about as obvious as that of the timid boy who adopts a pipe and drinks beer and drives furiously on the highway to create the idea that he is a big shot.

When the publisher of my college textbook recently pointed out the mistake of turning beginning students sour on introductory psychology courses and of thus failing to apply psychology in the very teaching thereof, one such professor with this inferiority complex wrote:

"Our intent is to teach psychology as a science based on data and not to 'jazz up' our curriculum in order to win a popularity contest."

DULL TEACHERS

Dull teachers often employ dull textbooks because they don't know how to apply psychology itself. They are so theoretical themselves that they don't even realize their textbooks are deadly to the students.

The first requisite of pedagogy is to make the course interesting. This is generally accomplished by showing its practical uses in everyday problems.

At our American Psychological Association Convention in New York a few years ago, the Dryden Press released some booklets in which all professors planning to write college textbooks were begged and implored to remember that the users of such books are teenagers (18 and 19).

The average college textbook is dull because the average author doesn't know how to apply the principles of psychology! He can't practice what he teaches!

If you don't believe that, look at the textbooks your college youth are now using and you'll sympathize better with their groaning. Send for my "Tests for Good Teachers," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane, in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a large 10 stamped self-addressed envelope and 20¢ to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Bob Considine Says:

Voting Registration Should Be Modernized

NEW YORK (INS) — Registration in New York was down 7 or 8 per cent under the 1952 figures. Most pundits owe this to an absence of luster and lack of comprehensible differences between the rival sides.

I owe it to the clumsy, prying, time-wasting practices inflicted on people hereabouts before they become eligible to cast a ballot.

The usually elderly ladies and gentlemen who supervise registrations are, I'm sure, fine people, deserving of this humble but welcome handout from political organizations they have faithfully served through the years.

But neither they nor their methods belong to this century. Any business conducted as our registration machinery is run would go bankrupt in short order.

We know of a spirited lady who refused to register this time because the person assigned to question her on her age, occupation, address and wiving from her other vital statistics was a neighbor with a tongue as long and sharp as a spear.

I took Vincent X. Fishery of the Los Angeles Examiner with me when I registered, and the nice folks at the table would readily have made him eligible, I'm sure, if he had wished to give an address in the neighborhood.

FINALLY ELIGIBLE

What with talk of this and that, and a grilling that would not be alien to a night court, I was made eligible and was handed a slip of paper bearing the insignia of the Republican, the Democrat and the Socialist parties.

I was asked to indicate a preference by making an X in one of the circles. There is no place for the independent voter to sign. I made my choice, folded the slip, dropped it in the box, talked to a cop whose father used to work in the press room at the Journal American, and started out.

But escape was not that easy. A young lady came up to me, eyed me incredulously, and said with vigor, "How could you possibly make such a choice of parties?"

She was quite distressed. "I've worked my fingers to the bone for the other fellow, and I was sure I had reached people like you. Now . . ." her voice trailed off, she turned on her heel and left—bearing away the secret of how she learned what I had marked down.

This is an isolated case, I suppose. The main complaint is that the whole process should have been discarded and replaced with a more efficient system about the time Zachary Taylor resumed the spoils system.

A SURE SUCCESS

Books about Lincoln, doctors and dogs always sell, which accounts for the industry of all those writing a book to be called "Lincoln's Doctor's Dog." Ghosts should be in there someplace, too. ("Lincoln's Doctor's Dog's Ghost"?)

Horses Run Willie Nilly

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (UP)—Willie Jackson, 51, suffered minor back and shoulder injuries in a mishap reminiscent of another era. Police reported a team of horses, pulling a wagon in which Jackson was riding, galloped out of control after being frightened by an automobile. Jackson was thrown from the wagon.

My friend Danton Walker, the Broadway columnist, believes in ghosts, as he points out in his new book, "Spooks Deluxe" published by Franklin Watts, Inc., of New York.

Lincoln is the official White House spook, Kevin McCann will be discouraged to learn.

Carl Sandburg, at F.D.R.'s suggestion, walked through each room of the White House in search of the room where the ghost of Lincoln preferred to reside and felt that it was the Blue Room. F.D.R. felt the same way.

Walker tells a Mrs. Roosevelt-Lincoln story in the book:

"I was sitting in my study downstairs," Mrs. Roosevelt said, "when one of the maids burst in on me in a state of great excitement. I looked up from my work and asked her what was the trouble.

"He's up there—sitting on the edge of the bed, taking off his shoes!" she exclaimed.

"Who's up there, taking off his shoes?" I asked.

"Mister Lincoln!" the maid replied.

Gen. Pate Enters 'Family' Hassle

Puts Marines in Japan on 'loyalty' to Return Dependents to U.S.

TOKYO 18—The commandant of the U.S. Marine Corps said today he expects 250 Marines who brought their families to Japan to send them home, but he admitted he can't order them to.

The Marine commander, Gen. Randolph Pate, arrived with his wife on a tour of the Far East in the midst of a boiling controversy over the wives and children.

Marine Corps policy bars dependents overseas. But about 500 dependents of 250 members of the 1st Marine Air Wing came here on Japanese tourist visas. The husbands paid for their transportation.

Some of the Marine wives say their husbands have been threatened with "continuous transfers" or bad fitness reports unless they sent the families home.

"Neither I nor any other military man has the authority to order dependents to return to the United States," Pate said. "I have the right, however, to expect that Marines... will loyally do their utmost to carry out my announced policy in this regard."

"In a time of crisis which might come quickly in the Far East... our men would have no time to care for their families."

Pate refused to discuss what might happen if the men didn't send their families home, saying any disciplinary action is up to the local commanding officers.

Maybe It's True Love

COVINGTON, Okla. 18—A banty rooster owned by Emil Mackey has given up ruling the roost—he's sitting on the nest. Mackey said when the banty's mate started a family recently, the rooster promptly moved onto the nest. He says the chickens sit on the nest together. The owner attributes the un-roosterlike behavior to a bad case of loneliness. The two chickens are the only ones on a 20-acre farm.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

THE STORY OF GLASS—4
Glass in Legends

Glass appears in poetry and stories. From the Bible comes the famous quotation: "For now we see through a glass, darkly." This was appropriate to the glass used in old houses, which did not admit much light.

In story books we read about the Glass Mountain a prince had to climb, and the magic mirror which told Snow White's wicked stepmother the name of the fairest in the land. Alice had wonderful adventures when she went through the looking glass.

Perhaps the most famous fairy tale reference to glass is the glass slipper that Cinderella received from her fairy godmother.

Here is Cinderella, ready to try on the glass slipper, and in the background is the Glass Mountain, amber yellow against a blue sky. Color it with your crayons and then paste it on cardboard. Cut out the picture and fold it forward on the dotted line so it will stand.

Cut out the picture in the upper left corner and mount it separately for your collection. Glass hats and slippers like these were very popular a century ago as ornaments and to hold toothpicks, matches and pins.

(Beverly Wheeler, Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., wins $10 for suggesting this idea first. Send in your ideas care of this newspaper and you may win the award. Violet Moore Higgins: AP News-features.)

NEWPORT, Ky. (P)—John Bauer was showing passengers how another one of his passengers had been injured earlier in his elevator. Bauer stuck his foot between the doors. But the demon-

Study Reforms in Small Loans

State Solons Expected to Push for Changes in Lending Laws

LANSING 18 — After another look at interest rates charged by loan companies, a legislative subcommittee today appeared even more determined to push for changes in Michigan's small loan laws.

Members of the subcommittee yesterday wound up the eighth hearing in their long investigation. Other witnesses will be called before the group issues its recommendations at the next legislative session.

Representatives of small loan and auto finance companies testified before the subcommittee after several opposing witnesses had criticized lending practices.

Rep. William L. Bowerman Jr. (R-Lansing), subcommittee chairman, concentrated his questioning on the mortgage and security requirements of lending agencies, their advertising policies and the methods of determining credit risks.

He particularly sought to bring out that small loan companies always charge the maximum interest rate allowed by law. He said that allows the companies to obtain 36 per cent annual interest on a $50 loan.

Since the interest rate drops progressively up to the $500 maximum which small loan companies are allowed to lend, Bowerman said, the companies seldom lend a client more than $300—thus securing maximum interest for a minimum of risk.

See Earlier Finish on Span Cable Work

ST. IGNACE 18 — Mackinac Straits Bridge officials have announced an early completion on spinning the two main cables for the auto link between Michigan's upper and lower peninsulas.

Jack Kinney, resident consulting engineer for D. B. Steiman Co., bridge designers, reported the cable project was completed.

It ended a work phase of 3½ months in which more than 46,000 miles of high-carbon steel wire was spooled across the 8,363-foot distance between anchorage piers for the bridge.

Kinney said the cable spinning completion tentatively had been scheduled for Nov. 1, but added that good weather and cable handling efficiency enabled workmen to finish the chore ahead of time.

Has Porfirio Lost His Passion for Wealthy Women?

Rubi's New Love Seems Conventional, Dull

By PHYLIS BATTLE
NEW YORK (INS)—We got to thinking last night about Monsieur Porfirio Rubirosa and all his problems (technically known as women and $$$), and got all upset.

The reason Rubi's present plight is upsetting is that he appears to be lowering his alleged principles by intending to marry a girl who has not yet made her first million.

So far as we can learn, even her father has not made a million. This fact cuts down on the enjoyment of that great American sport, gossiping about playboys and actresses.

It also will spoil a lot of prospective "what does he see in her?" gags, although the age differential between Rubirosa and his French actress—she is 19, he is an undisciplined but considerable number of years beyond that—may cause a certain amount of juicy talk.

There is an air of polite sobriety about the way the Dominican Republic's debonair diplomat is carrying on this romance that is baffling to one and all scandal lovers.

DEWY-EYED LOOK
The handsome couple merely have posed for pictures that show them looking dewy-eyed in a refined way, and have behaved like any other ordinary couple in love, and comfortably in the chips.

There have been no scenes or passionate outbursts. The papa of the potential bride, a distinguished surgeon, has not declared distrust of this four-times-married slicker.

Nobody has served Rubi with a subpoena for anything. Zsa Zsa Gabor has said absolutely nothing. Which is a sinister sign in itself, indicating that the whole thing is running too smoothly and if the marriage comes off, it may even be a dull, conventional affair.

The way Porfirio's latest heart-to-heart hookup is going, in fact, leads us to wonder:

Is he really the man Americans always assumed he was, or has true love finally taken its toll on the ambitions of the suave sultan of international cafe society?

After all, at some time or other almost everyone matures and grows philosophical about marriage and money and the components of happiness—and Rubi certainly has attained the intelligence, sensitivity and age to face the facts and grow up.

HARD TO ANALYZE
It is difficult to analyze a man like Porfirio Rubirosa, the world's most publicized wooer of women with wealth.

We attended the wedding to Barbara Hutton and could see, in-

Shavians Say Idol Becoming Victim of New Ban

CHICAGO (U)—Shavian enthusiasts today said the late George Bernard Shaw has become a victim of "commercial censorship" and that amateur rights to his play "Pygmalion" have "disappeared somewhere behind the Iron Curtain of a Broadway musical, 'My Fair Lady.'"

The Chicago Shaw Society said that as a result of the sensational Broadway show—a musical version of Shaw's play—no amateur or stock group in America is allowed to stage "Pygmalion." It also said that the movie version of "Pygmalion" has been withdrawn from public exhibition.

Elmer Gertz, attorney and president of the Chicago group, and Mrs. Lois E. Solomon, a suburban Glencoe housewife instrumental in formation of the society, said withdrawal of amateur producing rights to Pygmalion violates Shaw's will.

In New York, a spokesman for "My Fair Lady" producer Herman Levin said he had permission of Shaw's estate to produce the musical, as well as stage and screen rights to the musical until 1970.

To each lady guest, one by one, he gave the full, personal and undivided attention of his deep-set, amber eyes (to some society circles, they call this the "once-over"), and at

Friends, who have seen him captivate as many as 10 women at a dinner party with one sweeping glance, say there is no female on earth strong-willed enough to resist a calculated approach by Rubirosa.

The Misses Trujillo, Darrioux, Duke and Hutton—each of whom gave large chunks of their hearts and fat bankrolls to Rubi—attest to the truth of that statement.

Therefore, in marrying a young blonde actress on a salary, Rubirosa figures either to have lost his passion for wealth, or lost his mind.

In either case, if he really settles down with Mile. Odile Rodin, this would be a better—

Group Reveals Study on Detroit Area Jews

ANN ARBOR (U)—People of Jewish heritage now comprise four per cent of the population of metropolitan Detroit, the University of Michigan's Detroit area study has announced.

But university investigators learned that young Jewish families have fewer children than any other racial or religious group in the area.

The study group checked at random residents of Oakland, Macomb and Wayne Counties in its survey.

It reported Detroit's Jewish population is markedly older than Protestants and Catholics and Detroit-area Jews do not attend religious services as frequently as non-Jews.

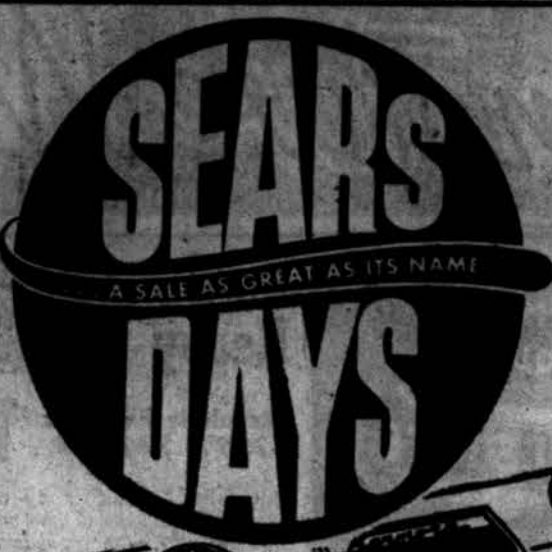

The survey also uncovered other sharp differences between Jewish family heads and their non-Jewish counterparts. These are:

1. Nearly 75 per cent are employed in the so-called "white collar" jobs, a proportion twice as high as that for non-Jews.
2. Nearly 50 per cent are self-employed compared to less than 10 per cent of non-Jewish household heads.
3. Thirty-three per cent have an annual income of $10,000 or more compared to less than eight per cent for non-Jews.

Traditionally Democratic Texas Rated Doubtful State for Nov. 6

AUSTIN, Tex. (INS)—Traditionally Democratic Texas, which dramatically broke the traces four years ago for native son Dwight D. Eisenhower, is rated a doubtful state if there ever was one in the November presidential election.

There is an organized and determined drive by a newly formed "Texas Democrats for Eisenhower" to stage a repeat 1952 performance. A similar organization, then headed by Gov. Allan Shivers, turned the state Democratic party machinery against Adlai E. Stevenson and gave the state's 24 electoral votes to Eisenhower.

But Shivers is retiring from politics after a seven-and-a-half year administration — and the temper of Texas politics has changed since then.

The governor's lieutenants, however, are carrying on the new drive for Ike.

The Democratic party machinery this year is firmly in control of "loyalist" Democrats pulled together by Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Shivers' leadership was torn apart this spring when he lost the battle with Johnson at the precinct level over the Senate leader's bid for chairmanship of the Texas delegation to the National Democratic Convention.

Another factor favoring the Democrats this year is U. S. Sen. Price Daniel, who supported Eisenhower four years ago, won the sure fire Democratic nomination for governor after agreeing to back the national nominee.

The Democrats for Stevenson are aiming their big guns at the farm vote in Texas, on the theory the farmers are fed up with the administration's farm program in the light of the worst drought in history.

SPEARHEAD MOVE

Sen. Johnson and speaker Rayburn are playing major roles in the Democratic campaign. With Shivers mostly out of the picture, the Democrats for Eisenhower movement is being headed up by former state Democratic chairman George Sandlin and Shivers' long time lieutenant and advisor, Weldon Hart.

The apparent closeness of the race in Texas is underscored by indications of nervousness on both sides of the fence.

That the Democrats are "running scared" is indicated by a steady influx of out-of-state U. S. senators to bombard the voters with pro-Stevenson-Kefauver speeches.

That the Republicans are nervous also is evidenced by the recent repeat engagements of Vice President Nixon in Texas after an initial sorry turnout in Houston.

Neither Ike nor Adlai have personally tapped the heart of the Southwest yet, and neither has definitely scheduled an appearance in the state. — Kefauver matched Nixon's efforts with a whirlwind visit.

Texas' only Republican congressman, Bruce Alger of Dallas, has a Democratic district attorney. On the other hand, Democratic opponent of Henry Wade, popular congressman Albert Thomas of Houston has a strong GOP opponent in C. Anthony Friloux, a former assistant U. S. attorney.

WHOOPIING IT UP — Whether he's angry at having his picture taken or simply has a case of the screaming meemies, Cocomo Jr., shows his feelings in no uncertain way. A member of the monkey colony at Miami Beach, Fla., it's typical of the way he hams it up for tourists.

Insurance Aids Report Given

Old Age and Survivor Benefits Show Increase Throughout State

Federal old age and survivors insurance benefits in Michigan for the fiscal year ending in June, totaled $248,130,000 according to Melville H. Hesch, regional director of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

There are 21,000 beneficiaries in Oakland County receiving $1,100,000 a month under this Social Security insurance, a spokesman at the Pontiac office said.

Hesch said this year's total showed an increase of $44,740,000, or 22 per cent, over the previous year.

For the same 12-month period, nationwide benefits amounted to $5.3 billion, an increase of more than a billion dollars over the previous year.

Hesch explained that 789,000 more people received benefits this year. He attributed this to higher rates provided by 1954 amendments to the Social Security Act.

There were 358,740 beneficiaries in the state drawing benefits of $20,320,814 at the end of June.

Pope Studying Russian? Close Friends Say 'Nyet'

That is how Vatican officials interpret the question a Soviet scientist put to the Pope when Russians participated in a papal audience in Castel Gandolfo, the Pope's summer palace.

Those attending the recent audience to the International Milk Congress noticed the Russian delegates—two of them—had been moved up from the back of the open square to the front row. They say the Russians kneel like the others when the Pope says his blessing.

And those present saw the Pope stop and shake the hand of both Russians after he had delivered a short speech in French.

CLOSE CHAT

No one was close enough to hear one of them try to engage the Pope in conversation.

Officials of the Vatican protocol say one scientist asked the pontiff, in Russian, whether it is true he is studying Russian.

The fact he merely smiled and went on to greet other scientists left the question unanswered.

Officials, however, doubt the Pope "due to the pressure of work" can undertake any systematic study of Russian.

"At most," one official suggested, "His Holiness might learn a few opportune phrases to use in the event it should be necessary."

Reports the Pope is studying Russian first were circulated a year ago and were considered as a first sign of a rapprochement between the Vatican and Moscow.

Developments to date provide no confirmation of any improvement in the office. And the Pope's smile left Moscow's curiosity unsatisfied.

Hand-Kissing Is Polish Way to Plague Reds

VIENNA (INS) — Hand-kissing and other old world charms are the fashion in Poland again since the Poman riots.

Communist party functionaries helplessly watch the new trend with great concern, the Vienna newspaper Neuer Kurier reported.

Zoppot, the once fashionable seaside resort, has returned to "western manners" again, the paper said. It is a common sight to see a Polish man kissing his girlfriend's hand.

When Dave Burman and his jazz band paid a visit to Zoppot, the Poles dance western "decadent" dances and even elected a "Miss Zoppot" instead of a "Miss Norma."

When the Polish girls walked over the stage, the announcer forgot his Communist training and reported that they looked like "Palm Beach Beauties."

Poll Shows Ike Still Has Edge in U.S. Popular Vote

STYLE AND POWER — Hudson's 1957 Hornet "Hollywood" hardtop features a new V8 engine which will develop 255 horsepower. Two inches lower than this year's models, the new Hudsons number among their styling changes rear-fender fins, dual-fin front fender ornaments and 14-inch wheels. Scheduled to appear in dealer showrooms for the first time Oct. 25, the cars will be shown locally at Jacobson's Motor Sales, 58 W. Pike St.

Car to Make Debut Next Week

Hudson Hornet to Feature New V.8 Engine

A new, more powerful V8 engine inches lower and will be equipped and several styling refinements with a 255-horsepower engine, according to Roy Abernethy, vice president of distribution and marketing of American Motors' Hudson Hornet series for 1957.

The Hornet models are two show "substantial sales gains" in 1957, Abernethy said that the new cars "are best best in the company's history."

President George Romney has disclosed that the prices of Hudsons, Nashes and Ramblers will be lower than the 1956 models.

The Hornet V-8 series is available in super and custom four-door sedan and two-door "Hollywood" hardtop, Abernethy said.

The new V-8 engine has a compression ratio of 9.5 to 1 and a 327 cubic inch displacement. Its bore and stroke are 4 inches by 3 1/4 inches. The V-8 engine is equipped with a four-barrel carburetor and dual exhausts as standard equipment.

The V-8 engine is available with three transmissions: Standard synchromesh, optional automatic overdrive, and the improved optional "Flashaway" Hydramatic.

The "Flashaway" transmission incorporates many new improvements for smooth and silent shifting in all ranges. The "Dual-Range" feature has been retained, and a new "Park" position has been added for safety in parking.

Graceful rear fender fins highlight the new Hudson's styling refinements for 1957. Dual-fin front fender ornaments complement the flowing lines of the new models.

A new silver textured aluminum panel on all custom models extends from the front fenders into the front door panel on both sides of the car, lending a sweeping effect to the car's modern lines.

The massive V-shaped, die-cast grille highlighted by a modern inner mesh pattern rounds out Hudson's exterior styling. The grille is accented by a new V-type emblem in the center.

Built on a 121 1/4 inch wheelbase, the Hornet is two inches lower for 1957, giving it an overall height of 60 1/2 inches. The new models are equipped with new 14-inch wheels, and the roof panel has been lowered 1 1/2 inches at the centerline.

A wide selection of new exterior colors are offered on the 1957 Hudson V-8. There are 15 solid, 12 two-tone and five three-tone combinations available.

What Banks Go Through to Cash Them!

Handwriting Is Lost Art for Check Signers

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.
If you are a check signature scribbler, you are adding to the belief of two local bank officials that handwriting is becoming a lost art.

L. J. McCall, chief clerk at Community National Bank, and Mrs. Harold Owen, head bookkeeper at Pontiac State Bank, agree that people are spending less time signing their checks, resulting in "Operation Decipher."

But both agree that these illegible scribbles are in the minority. Most signatures are at least readable and some are beautiful pieces of handwriting, they said.

"Never a day goes by that we don't have to struggle to decipher some signature," Mrs. Owen said. This causes extra time—and naturally extra expense—to trace the illegibles through a "mis-sort" chain, the bookkeeper explained.

If the signature gets by the teller as unreadable—and they very seldom do, Mrs. Owen commented—the trouble maker is encountered in the proof and bookkeeping departments where all checks must be sorted alphabetically by signatures.

If no solution is reached, the check is returned to the endorser or to the bank of the payee.

The modern, highly mechanized age in which we find ourselves is the major reason why penmanship is suffering, both officials pointed out.

"The tempo is faster in writing like everything else," McCall stated. He has been in the banking profession since 1925 and at Community National for more than five years.

Both bankers are in harmony in believing that more emphasis should be placed on penmanship in schools. This has been on the downgrade, they said.

Although woes of identifying signatures plague both banks, experienced staffs learn to recognize almost any scribble.

Mrs. Owen emphasized that for a signature to be acceptable, it must match the one on the account application signature card.

"On one particular card, a gentleman's name shows time in signing," she said. "But you should see some of his checks—two initials and a 'Will'."

Some signatures slant one way on one check and then the other, McCall said.

The bookkeeping department is the focal point of headaches in solving the puzzle of signatures.

Because of her experience in recognizing signatures, Mrs. Owen has been asked by business firms to decipher many checks passing through their offices.

She has been in the banking business since 1935 and at Pontiac State Bank the past four years.

The complexity of poor writing on checks is emphasized as her bank handles some 7,000 signed items daily.

"And men have a harder signature to identify than women," she said proudly.

Many things can be learned from signatures such as the age and the mood of the signer.

"In nine out of 10 cases, I can tell the age from the signature," Mrs. Owen said.

But Dems Hold Lead in House Races

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following tabulation of Babsonpoll results is the third of a series of weekly Press articles on current election trends.

The nationwide Babsonpoll, which has predicted election results with unusual precision since its origin in 1952, this week shows President Eisenhower still maintaining a narrow popular-vote margin over Adlai Stevenson.

Excluding the vote for other minor candidates and dividing the unusually small "undecided" vote equally between the two major contenders, the Babsonpoll indicates that the popular vote right now would look like this: Eisenhower 51.06 per cent; Stevenson 48.94 per cent.

Such a division would give Eisenhower a popular plurality of 1.5 to 2 million votes. In 1952, his plurality was over 6.5 million.

In probable electoral votes, the President shows a more comfortable margin—325 to 190, with 16 votes in the toss-up zone.

However, if Stevenson should gain enough in the closing weeks of the campaign to capture the lead in those states which Ike now holds by a very slim margin, Stevenson could conceivably pick up 92 electoral votes and win election by a total of 282 to 233.

This group of states, now "leaning" toward Eisenhower, is made up of Arizona, Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, New Jersey, and Oregon.

Latest Babsonpoll tabulations show two probable switches in Senate seats (New York and Ohio). The other races which last week appeared likely to result in turnovers (Connecticut and Kentucky) have now shifted into the "toss-up" zone.

Other senatorial contests in which extremely close results are now indicated are those in Illinois, Maryland, Nevada, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Utah, and West Virginia.

In all other races for seats in the upper house, the incumbent party holds a comfortable lead.

The voting trend in House contests is announced for the first time in this week's Babsonpoll report.

With its national survey now half completed, the conclusion drawn by Babson analysts is that it is most unlikely that the GOP will be able to recapture control of the House of Representatives.

In the 1954 House elections, excluding the "Solid South," the Republicans received 49.9 per cent of the popular vote; the Democrats, 50.1 per cent. Today, in the same area, 51.5 per cent of the voters say they will vote Republican in House balloting; 48.5 per cent intend to vote Democratic.

Normally, the GOP needs almost 55 per cent of the popular vote in this area in order to gain control of the House—because of the large number of sure Democratic seats in the South.

Furthermore, the small gain for the GOP noted above is concentrated almost entirely in the districts which were won or lost by large margins in 1954, rather than in those in which a minor shift would cause a turnover.

The over-all picture for the 1956 races previously tabbed by Babsonpoll statisticians as "doubtful" shows little or no change from the 1954 voting pattern. Some individual seats within that group will undoubtedly change hands, but there is likely to be very little net gain or loss for either party.

Pontiac Press readers who have not yet participated in the nationwide Babsonpoll are urged to do so—by filling out the Babsonpoll ballot which appears on this page and forwarding it to Babson's Washington Service, P.O. Box 7398, Washington 4, D. C.

BIRD WATCHERS—"Pointed" advice is freely offered to fifth grade math students at Boston's Highland School by one of the school's two pet crows. The unexpected guest and his mate appeared at the window and were persuaded to come in and stay awhile with the aid of a shiny half-dollar. One of the birds made off with the money, sending the owner to the roof to recover it.

EXOTIC HEADGEAR — Hats in Africa rival just about anything modern fashion designers can dream up, as Princess Margaret found recently during her current tour of British possessions on the Dark Continent. The four above greeted her during her stay in Tabora, Tanganyika. Their headgear consists of horns and thick clumps of leaves, among other materials.

SKY AND THE BRIDGE — A setting sun and an autumn sky over the Straits of Mackinac provide a dramatic background for a view of the new straits bridge after engineers announced completion yesterday of the main cable. With early winter blasts beginning to race across the body of water, work crews are toiling around the clock to finish approaches that will complete work for a year.

Row Centers on Woman's Proxy Vote

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A bewildered little woman who "never cared for politics" was caught in a hot political crossfire yesterday as her proxy vote became crucial in naming the probable next congressman from Nashville.

"I didn't know anything about politics," she wailed later. "I just wanted to be friends with everybody. Now everybody seems like they are mad at me."

Mrs. Mary A. Baker, a widowed elevator operator with two grown children, said she didn't want to be a member of the Davidson County Democratic Executive Committee in the first place.

She was elected in last August's Democratic primary in which Rep. J. Percy Priest was renominated to be U. S. representative from Davidson County, which constitutes the 5th Congressional District. Last week Rep. Priest died and it became the duty of Mrs. Baker and her fellow committeemen to name a replacement candidate who would be virtually assured of winning the Nov. 6 general election in this overwhelmingly Democratic county.

The city faction of the local Democratic party, headed by Mayor Ben West, lined up behind City Atty. Raymond Leathers. The county faction lined up behind Dist. Atty. Gen. J. Carlton Loser.

When the roll was called at the deciding committee session, Mrs. Baker was absent.

Mayor West spoke up and said, "I've got her signed resignation right here."

Then Z. T. Osborn, a lawyer leading the floor fight for Loser, rose and announced:

"I have a later statement signed by Mrs. Baker in which she gives me the right to vote for her."

And she states that she does not want her resignation considered until after her vote is cast.

The chairman permitted Osborn to cast Mrs. Baker's vote. When the last name was called each candidate had 42 votes and Mrs. Isa Petre Grissim, secretary, cast her deciding vote for Loser.

Just then, into the tumult and tension Mrs. Baker was escorted, lips trembling, and West shouted: "Here is Mrs. Baker. Now let's see how she votes."

But the parliamentarian ruled her proxy vote was final.

"It was just awful," said Mrs. Baker afterward. "I've signed so many papers—resignations, proxies, and I don't really know what any of this is all about. When they put my name in to run for the committee I didn't want it. I went around and begged my friends not to vote for me..."

Cite Ways to Test Mental Health of Students

“What Emotional Health Looks Like,” was the topic chosen by husband and wife team Harry and Bonaro Overstreet, when they spoke to administrators and supervisors of the Pontiac Public School yesterday.

The Overstreets, well-known writers as well as speakers in the human relations field, told educators how to look for signs of good mental health in the classroom. They spoke at a meeting in Washington Junior High School.

By recognizing signs of poor health mentally, they said, instructors would have better control of the classroom situation.

Planning Group Praised for Zoning Classifications

Close to 100 Pontiac residents heard the City Planning Commission commend last night for its action to provide “personal service district” zoning classifications in the city.

Commissioners will recommend to the City Commission rezoning approximately 40 lots on the east side of Franklin boulevard from Pike to Orchard Lake, on the west side of Franklin from Orchard Lake to West Huron, and on West Huron from Franklin to Palmer.

Atlantic Storm Moves Up Coast

Small Craft Warned to Stay in Port; 2 Dead as Floods Hit Florida

BALTIMORE (AP) — An Atlantic storm spawned off the coast of Cuba last Sunday continued its somewhat leisurely but persistent movement up the coast today with little change in intensity expected.

South of Delaware to Cape Hatteras, N.C., and in Delaware and Chesapeake Bays, small craft were advised to remain in port until the wind and seas subside.

Winds were reported between 30 and 40 miles an hour over ocean areas within 250 miles of the storm which was centered over the Virginia Capes at 5 a.m. and moving northeastward at from 12 to 15 miles an hour.

Floods along the coast in the area of the storm were one to two feet above normal with some heavy flooding at the time of normal high tides.

As the storm moves north, heavy rain is expected to spread northeastward to southern New England today and continue to extend about 150 miles inland from the coast.

The storm flooded the Florida towns of Fellsmere, Kissimmee, St. Cloud and Taft Tuesday.

Two persons drowned in the state — one in heavy surf at Daytona Beach and another on a lake near Cocoa when a boat upset in a squall.

The 100-million-dollar tomato crop in the flooded Lake Okechobee area was believed heavily damaged.

This rezoning was prompted after Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Beaudette offered to deed their home and surrounding property if the entire block would be converted for civic use.

Commissioner William F. Kalwitz waived any action last night pending receipt of a committee report on a suggested “liberalization” of the Beaudette offer.

Jack Webbs to Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Television star Jack Webb disclosed today that he and his wife, Dorothy Towne, have reached the parting of the ways and will be divorced.

The speakers, who interchanged their ideas and examples as they talked, listed seven symptoms by which a child in a classroom could be judged on his emotional health.

The seven included such questions as life movement: Does the student move toward life and its experiences with new ideas and new projects, or does he withdraw taking a negative attitude towards life?

EXPECT GIVE-AND-TAKE

The Overstreets counseled teachers to look for a give-and-take process in the students. Both giving and taking go into the making of a mentally healthy individual, they said.

One of the most important items in the list of seven is “the power of communication.” Overstreet pointed out.

“The biggest job you teachers have is to communicate communication to your students,” Mrs. Overstreet said. “A healthy person is one who, when he wishes to say something, knows exactly how to say it.”

The speakers urged educators to help students enjoy “creative privacy,” the privacy that “doesn’t get bored with itself,” as Overstreet phrased it.

OVERCOME DISAPPOINTMENT

Another necessary step in aiding emotional health is to help prepare the young for disappointment. Negative experiences must be surpassed, the Overstreets believe.

The Overstreets are known for their writings, which include such books of which “The Mind Alive,” and “The Mind Goes Forth.” Together they write a weekly syndicated column for newspapers, “Making Life Make Sense.”

Currently they are conducting short courses for the University of Michigan Extension Service in the University this year is the ninth Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, and in a series that began in the fall of 1945.

Mom Concedes to School Board

Ex-Teacher Drops Fight to Tutor Own Daughter After 2 Hours in Jail

CALIFORNIA, Mo. (INS) — Seven-year-old Mary Schoenholt will go to school Monday because her mother admitted, "I'm whipped."

Mrs. Mary Schoenholt agreed yesterday to send Mary to school after serving two hours in a California, Mo., jail cell.

Magistrate W. G. Heidbreder agreed, in return, to wipe out a $5 fine and a 10-day sentence he imposed upon Mrs. Schoenholt for "neglecting and refusing without good cause" to send Mary to public school.

Mrs. Schoenholt, 46-year-old former school teacher, had contended schools made trained seals out of children. She also said that she could provide a better education by tutoring her daughter at home.

ADMITS DEFEAT
She told newsmen as she was being taken to her cell: "I'm whipped."

After her release, the ex-school teacher declared she was unable to do anything about appealing the judge's action while she was in jail. She continued:

"I'll put her in school. I can't do anything definite until I know what my rights are."

Mrs. Schoenholt, who was not represented by counsel, and her daughter live on a small farm. She and her husband, an employee of an airplane plant in Pomona, Calif., plan to retire there soon.

Continuing as board members are Paul Williams, Don Pixley and Howard Wilson. The election committee were M. H. Haselswerdt, Elliot Jose and Howard Wilson. The officers will be installed in a meeting in January.

Henry Purdy and his committee reported that the gross sales for the clothing sale held last week was $404.20. Proceeds from the sale go in The Underprivileged Children's and Boys' and Girls' Work Fund.

Monday night's program will be given by The Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

LAKE ORION — The Lions' Club is sponsoring a dance on Friday at Al Hanoute's showroom, from 9:30 until 1 a.m. Ray Stanaback announces that prizes will be given, and refreshments will be served.

William Ledger is in charge of decorations and Robert Fagans of the check room.

Win District Posts in Presbytery Council

MARLETTE — Clarence Coupar was elected to a three-year term as treasurer of the Flint Presbytery Council of Presbyterian men last Sunday at Flint, and Bruce T. Hodgkinson was named executive secretary in charge of organization.

Monday Hodgkinson went to Adrian to present the charter for a newly-formed Presbyterian men's chapter at the Presbyterian Church there.

Presidential Candidates Repeat Talks Just Like an Old Phonograph Record

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (P) — The longer this campaign lasts the more President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson sound like phonograph records of themselves.

They've been repeating themselves—not only in their attacks, promises, claims and counter-claims—but particularly in some of the words they use.

This might be expected in a campaign and must be due to one of three reasons:

(1) They can't think of new words, or (2) they like the old ones so much they can't bear to part with them, or (3) they think using them over and over is good politics.

If this campaign sounds dull—as it does to a lot of people—it may be because the candidates are beginning to make one speech sound pretty much like another.

One of Eisenhower's favorite words is "peace." He works that one overtime, using it in practically every speech. Although he says "peace" isn't an issue in this campaign, he's made it sound like a big one.

It's not hard to guess why: The President and his advisers probably decided that—since there's no big-scale shooting in the world and the Korean War ended during his administration—it's one of his best selling points. He manages to bring Korea into most of his speeches some way.

Stevenson has taken out a copyright on a few words and phrases which he bounces off the Republicans every chance he gets.

With these words, sometimes rearranged in new combinations, he accused the Republicans of "complicity" and "political cynicism" and of being "stalled on dead center." He says they are "smug" and put up "stubborn opposition to new ideas."

While he says the Republicans haven't kept their 1952 campaign promises—in those words—he sometimes gives them a rest by juggling up the same idea with a little color, such as saying the Republican promises are "checks that bounce."

Eisenhower is a great man for "facts" and "honesty" and telling the truth. Those words prowl through his speeches as regularly as a night watchman making his rounds and punching a time clock.

Stevenson—perhaps because he has talked far more than Eisenhower in this campaign—has a larger vocabulary of standby words and phrases which he pulls out, dusts off, and plays over and over.

One of his specialties: "The Democratic party is the party of the people." This is often a preliminary for him to accuse the Republicans of being "indifferent" to the "little man" and the "little fellow," not to mention the "small business man" and the "small farmer."

He alternately accuses the Republicans of "indifference" and of an "unfeeling attitude." The phrase which has brought him perhaps the most lively response—at least from Eisenhower—under whose skin it seems to get—is the repeated complaint that the present White House occupant is a "part-time president."

U.S. Woman to Ask for Israeli Pardon

TEL AVIV, Israel (P)—An American woman sentenced to a year in prison as a spy for Syria will appeal to Israeli authorities for a pardon, her defense counsel said today.

Max Krizman, attorney for 29-year-old Mary Frances Hagen, said it had been decided not to appeal her conviction last week by a Jerusalem district court. Instead, he said, a request for pardon will be made to Israeli President Izhak Ben-Zvi.

Miss Hagen, whose family lives in Huntington, W. Va., pleaded innocent to the charges she had violated Israel's Official Secrets Act. Officials in Washington have indicated the United States also would appeal to the Israeli government for executive clemency.

Gin Racket Exposed

TOKYO (P)—Three Japanese were arrested today and accused of peddling 10,000 fifth of bootleg gin to bars and night clubs in used American and British brand bottles. The bottles, one of the trio told police, came from the trash heaps and ash cans of the families of American servicemen living in Japan.

Mom of Slain Baby to Leave Hospital

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (P)—The 33-year-old mother of slain infant Cynthia Ruotolo plans to leave the state mental institution today.

Mrs. Eleanor Ruotolo entered the Connecticut State Hospital voluntarily Oct. 4 after asking doctors for help with her "emotional problems."

Her 6-week-old daughter was taken from her carriage left in the foyer of a department store in Hamden Sept. 1. Five days later her body, stuffed in a plastic bag and weighted down with a rock, was found in a lake about a mile from the store.

State's Atty. Abraham S. Ullman, heading the investigation into the infant's death, said he was told last night by Mrs. Ruotolo's husband Stephen, 33, that his wife had requested release from the hospital and would go home today.

Ruotolo declined to talk to newsmen. When his wife entered the hospital, a hospital spokesman said she would be given a series of physical, psychological and psychiatric examinations.

Pontiac Women for Ike Will Sell Mamie's Fudge

Women of America will remember Mamie Eisenhower for her famous fudge recipe if for no other reason. According to Mrs. Eisenhower, it was one of the few culinary accomplishments she had at the time of her marriage.

Pontiac Area Women of Citizens for Eisenhower will sell

"Mamie's Famous Fudge" throughout the city on Saturday of this week. Saturday is Sweetest Day, a day commonly associated with candy.

Mrs. Earl G. Long is chairman of the sale. She is being assisted by Mrs. William R. McClure, Mrs. John Doig and Mrs. Clarence Chamberlain.

The fudge recipe is printed below for those who buy some and want to make more; and for those who are not able to obtain some of the finished product.

MAMIE'S FAMOUS FUDGE
1 tall can (1 1/2 cups) evaporated milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 pint fat marshmallow cream
4 1/2 cups white sugar
3 packages (3 cups) semi-sweet chocolate chips
12 ounces German sweet chocolate OR square unsweetened chocolate
2 cups chopped nuts
Combine milk, butter, sugar and salt in large saucepan. Bring to a boil and boil six minutes, stirring constantly. Four over remaining ingredients in large bowl. Beat until chocolate is melted. Pour into two 8-inch greased pans. Cool and cut in squares. Makes approximately 4 pounds.

Natural Gas to Benefit UP Industrial Prospects

CALUMET (AP)—The director of the Michigan Economic Development Department says natural gas would bring a "tremendous advantage" to the Upper Peninsula. "Industrial prospects specify natural gas as the type of fuel they want," said Don C. Weeks yesterday at the third annual Upper Peninsula conference of transportation.

He said the "geographic location of the Upper Peninsula will become less a deterrent in the years ahead" as markets are brought closer through improved roads and methods of transportation.

MAMIE'S FUDGE — Mrs. Clarence Chamberlain of Wall Street stirs up a batch of Mamie Eisenhower's famous fudge. It will be sold throughout the city on Saturday, October 20, by Pontiac Area Women of Citizens for Eisenhower.

State Men Probing Warren Election

DETROIT (INS)—The investigation into alleged irregularities in Warren Township's Oct. 2 charter election was joined today by two investigators from the State Attorney General's Office.

The Attorney General's investigators conferred with Township Clerk Hildegard M. Lowe yesterday and then inspected voting machines used in the questioned balloting.

State Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery returned half of the township voting records yesterday, and expects to return the remainder today or tomorrow. He ordered the records seized last Friday.

Walter Reuther Blasts Ike Administration

DETROIT (INS)—United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther blasted the Eisenhower administration yesterday in a speech before delegates to a convention of the International Union of Marine Shipbuilding Workers.

Reuther told 300 delegates in Detroit that the Eisenhower administration is one that pursues a policy of big business favoritism at home and one of "stupidity" abroad.

Four times as many men as women commit suicide.

Storm Jean Expected to Sweep Over Island Manned by U.S.

FT. BUCKNER, Okinawa (U.S.) — U.S. bases on Okinawa, hard hit by two major typhoons last month, braced themselves tonight for another.

Typhoon Jean's central winds were 383 miles southeast of the island and headed on a course which would send the storm sweeping directly across Okinawa.

The storm was traveling slowly, 10 miles an hour, but generating more destructive power. Earlier today Jean's central winds were clocked by U.S. Air Force weather planes at 115 miles an hour.

Present course and speed would slam the full force of the typhoon into Okinawa Saturday morning. Fringe winds of 60 to 75 miles per hour could hit by Friday midnight.

Typhoon Emma, which struck Okinawa Sept. 9, did nine million dollars worth of damage to U.S. Army, Navy and Air Force installations on Okinawa and an estimated 12 to 13 million to civilian property and crops.

Harriet, two weeks later, caused an estimated 1 to 1½ million dollars damage to military property and about two million to civilian property and crops.

Citizens Fighting Export of Art From Italian City

FLORENCE, Italy (U.S.) — Embattled citizens of this art center formally warned their mayor today against letting 40 of their priceless paintings go to the United States for exhibition.

A "diffida," or formal warning, was filed in their name by artist Enrico Sacchetti against Mayor Giorgio la Pira and Prof. Filippo Rossi, superintendent of Florence's Public Art Galleries.

The diffida could be followed by more formal court action.

The diffida said the recent sinking of the Italian liner Andrea Doria was a "sad experience" that shows that the priceless cargo could not be adequately insured against loss.

Filing of the diffida was the latest action since the proposal was first made to take the paintings to the United States on an American military transport for exhibition at the National Museum in Washington and the Metropolitan Museum in New York.

The diffida said that the major part of Florence's art treasures were given by Princess Maria Ludovica Elettrice Palatina, who TOLL-CALL MILLINERY—Greenback-decked hat worn by Mrs. Katy Lochelm as she greeted Adlai Stevenson at Kansas City, Mo., may have inspired the Democratic presidential hopeful to throw his "party-line" party. A few days later, he made two party-line telephone calls, contacting Democratic campaign officials of all 48 states in a fund-raising plea from his Libertyville, Ill., home.

In her will specified the condition that they be "not transported outside the capital or the Grand Duchy."

A-Expert Disputes Adlai's Statement

WASHINGTON (U.S.) — A former medical research chief for the Atomic Energy Commission says nuclear tests have produced only an "insignificant" amount of a substance Adlai Stevenson terms "the most dreadful poison."

The commission made public late yesterday a telegram from Dr. Shields Warren, head of its division of biology and medicine from early AEC days until mid-1952, in which Warren said some statements Stevenson made regarding strontium-90 "should be corrected."

In connection with Stevenson's call for this country to take the lead in working toward an end of hydrogen bomb tests, Dr. Warren said in a telegram to AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss: "To permit us to fall behind (the) Russians is disastrous; to wait for them to catch up to us is stupid."

"My husband and I, my children and my sister are all members of the savings group in the Royal Household," said Britain's Queen in London.

Farmers Hear Kefauver; Nixon Answers Collegians

JOPLIN, Mo., (U.P.) — Sen. Estes Kefauver said today "the Eisenhower price support plan for big banking interests" costs the government more in one year than farm price supports cost in 20 years of Democratic administration.

Crisis-crossing drought plagued western Missouri and Kansas in a bid for the farm vote, the Democratic vice-presidential candidate whacked away at Eisenhower administration farm policies.

He came here from Springfield, where he was accorded a rousing reception last night by a partisan audience filling all 4,000 seats in the Shrine Auditorium.

It was one of the most impressive demonstrations thus far given Kefauver.

Springfield observers said it was on a par with that tendered, Vice President Nixon here three weeks ago. They described it as the biggest Democratic turnout in this normally Republican district in many years.

One reason is the Democrats are waging an all-out fight to capture the 7th Dist. Missouri congressional seat held for the past 24 years by Rep. Dewey Short. Opposing Short is Charles Brown, 35-year-old Springfield businessman.

Springfield is the center of one of the nation's biggest dairy districts. Democrats claim successive droughts have cut milk production sharply and say Republicans have failed to provide substantial aid for dairy farmers.

From Joplin, Kefauver heads for Topeka and Garden City, Kan. In a speech prepared for delivery at a midday rally in Joplin, he asserted:

"As soon as President Eisenhower got into office, he started to force farm prices down and to push interest payments up.

"Net result of the price support plan for the big banking interests is that we taxpayers have to pay much higher interest charges on the federal debt.

"The cost of interest to the federal government has increased to $1,200,000,000 a year more than it was in 1952.

"The added cost of interest amounts to more, every year, than farm price supports cost in all 20 years under Democratic administrations."

Kefauver said a 90-day loan now costs 10 times as much as during World War II.

He said the Democratic party is committed to "bring about 100 per cent of parity farm prices" through rigid 90 per cent supports and other price-lifting methods.

In his Springfield talk, Kefauver stressed peace and pleaded for an international agreement to halt hydrogen bomb testing as proposed by his running mate Adlai Stevenson.

He asserted he and Stevenson will not accept President Eisenhower's "truly astonishing efforts to shut off discussion of the horror which faces all mankind."

DETROIT (U.P.) — Charles Adolph Jakowicz, 67, still was "a little shaky" today. He had just been restored to the rolls of the living.

Since Saturday the Wayne County morgue had listed Jakowicz as dead of a heart attack at Detroit's Receiving Hospital. The man who died was carrying a card with the signature of Charles Adolph Jakowicz's address, too.

AWOL Dog Reaches Home — 2 Weeks Late

TOKYO (U.P.) — A whiskered German schaunder who hates cages and distrusts strangers, finally got to Tokyo today after being AWOL two weeks in Alaska.

His mistress had to fly back to get him.

Capt. and Mrs. Edwin Sweeney of Santa Fe, N. M., bought Jory the day their only son, Steven, was born 4½ years ago. Sweeney was transferred to a jet fighter base in Japan recently, and the family took an airliner from Seattle three weeks ago. Jory's crate was put on another plane later in the week.

At Anchorage, airline attendants decided the lonely, unhappy dog would enjoy a walk. When they started to put the 40-pound animal back into his cage, "he broke his leash as if it were cotton thread and took off for the woods."

The airline advertised for the dog's return via newspapers, radio and television. Hundreds reported sighting him, but no one could get within half a block. At Tokyo's Yokota air base, the smiles disappeared from young Steven's face when he learned his beloved companion was lost.

Last week Mrs. Sweeney flew to Anchorage and began tramping around the places where Jory had been seen. A telephone call sent her hurrying to a vacant block, cordoned off by police to keep strangers from frightening the animal away.

Mrs. Sweeney was 100 yards away when Jory recognized her and dashed headlong for her. The trip to Japan was uneventful.

"Next time," Mrs. Sweeney told newsmen at the airport, "we'll make certain Jory is on the same plane, with us."

War Criminals Freed
TOKYO (U.P.) — The United States paroled four more Japanese war criminals today. This reduced the number of war criminals still serving sentences at Tokyo's Sugamo Prison to 149, of which 98 were sentenced by United States, 47 by Australia and 4 by Britain.

Edison 'Mucker' Recalls Ex-Boss

Early Days of Movies Found Aide Working on Talkies

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (INS) — Today, exactly a quarter of a century after the death of Thomas Alva Edison, a self-effacing, retired chemist recalls the days of the first "talkies" when he was one of Edison's "muckers."

"A 'mucker,'" explained A. M. Kennedy, a retired assistant professor at the University of Alabama, "is what Edison used to call his assistants."

Kennedy went to work for Edison in 1913 in his laboratory in East Orange, N. J. His job was to work on synchronizing the phonograph and motion picture to produce sound movies.

It was in this capacity that Kennedy became a cinematic director. He was given the assignment of producing what he calls a pair of "spur-of-the-moment" kinetophone flickers for use in Brazil.

MONEY WASTED

"I certainly wasted some of the old man's money making rotten pictures at first," he said.

"While the job was assigned to me I tried to do it, but I was really more of a clerk than anything else."

Kennedy admits the first talking pictures such as "Julius Caesar" and "Faust" were not huge financial successes.

"In fact," he said laughingly, "they were exhibited in vaudeville palaces mainly as devices for getting rid of the audience between performances."

"Edison was never interested in the amusement aspect of talking pictures. His idea was that they could be used advantageously for educational purposes," Kennedy said.

"When the amusement movie studios moved from New York to California, Edison dropped the whole matter."

Kennedy said that while he worked for Edison the most important thing he learned is that there "is no substitute for calm, deliberate and continuous effort."

'College' Education Pays

SILVER CITY, N. M. (AP) — "College" is spelled with two L's, says J. Cloyd Miller, president of New Mexico Western College here. The statement was prompted by lettering on the side of the college station wagon.

It read "college" with three L's.

Chase Was Protective

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — A young deer paid a visit to Montana's capital city but he wasn't very well received. Three policemen and a game warden chased the animal out of the city — for its own protection.

Those to Visit World to WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) has announced that seven "individuals of outstanding reputations" will visit various parts of the world to help in special Senate investigation of the multibillion-dollar foreign aid program.

Fulbright, as acting chairman of a subgroup directing the foreign aid probe, announced the following assignments:

William Randolph Hearst Jr., president of Hearst Consolidated Publications Inc., to visit Norway, Denmark, Western Germany and Yugoslavia.

Retired Ambassador Norman Armour to visit Greece, Turkey and Iran.

Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, president of Rutgers University, to visit South Asia.

Retired Ambassador James Clement Dunn to visit the Near East.

Clement D. Johnston, chairman of the board of the United States Chamber of Commerce, to visit Southeast Asia.

James Minotto of Phoenix, Ariz., former chief of the Mutual Security Administration program in Portugal, to visit Central America.

Dr. John A. Hanna, president of Michigan State University, to visit the Far East.

Fulbright said two additional citizens will be named soon to inspect foreign aid programs in South America and other parts of Western Europe.

Lands Upside Down —and Lives to Tell It

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A pilot whose single engine plane ran out of gas and crashed upside down in a residential area two blocks from the airport lived to tell about it.

"I just thought I could make it," said 30-year-old George B. Babcock Jr., from his hospital bed. Doctors said his condition was good.

Babcock said his plane ran out of gas just as it approached the airport. He was flying home from a business trip to Dallas.

CHANCE TO LIVE — Mrs. William Anderson, of West Milton, Ohio, hugs her 18-month-old son, David Michael, just five days after New York surgeons removed both of the little boy's eyes. The parents traded the boy's eyes, affected by malignant tumors, in order to give him a chance to live. Doctors believed the child would not have lived beyond six years of age if the malignancy was not controlled.

Smoking Medics Hear About Evils —of Smoking

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — More than 100 Rhode Island physicians and surgeons watched a closed-circuit television program last night in which a medical authority described long-term smoking as a major cause of lung cancer.

A reporter with them said the doctors sat in a smoke-filled hotel room with most of the doctors putting on cigarettes while watching the program.

In the program originating from Boston, Dr. Henry L. Bockus, of the University of Pennsylvania, said the reason for more lung cancer among males is that men have been smoking longer than women.

Four of the world's greatest rivers, the Yangtze, Mekong, Irrawaddy and Salween, are within about 60 miles of each other in the great mountain areas of Burma and China.

GOP Defeats
of Philly Hall

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Confusion over which political party would have the use of Convention Hall for its presidential candidate found Mayor Richardson Dilworth, a Democrat, right in the middle and eventually siding with the Republicans.

Hall officials leased the auditorium to the Democratic party for a Nov. 1 rally for presidential aspirant Adlai Stevenson. Then it was learned the Republicans had talked to another Convention Hall official prior to the Democratic commitment and received an OK for use of the auditorium the same night by President Eisenhower.

Said Dilworth yesterday in siding with the Republicans:

"I am not going to be in a position of kicking out the President of the United States. There is no doubt in my mind the Republicans had prior claim and they are entitled to use of the hall."

A couple of hitches could still develop. Neither the White House nor the Stevenson camp has confirmed officially that either candidate plans to be here Nov. 1.

The announcement that Stevenson would be here and in Camden, N.J., that day was made by Rep. William Green (D-Pa.) of Philadelphia. The Eisenhower visit has been reported by several sources.

Sonic Booms Blamed for Razing of Library

MOJAVE, Calif. (AP) — Officials have closed Mojave's public library, blaming sonic booms from jet aircraft for damaging the building so badly it will have to be razed.

Public Works Director Chester James urged an investigation to determine whose planes caused the damage. The desert town of Mojave has a Marine air base at its outskirts, Edwards Air Force Base 10 miles southeast and a naval ordnance test station 25 miles north.

British Try Hot Dogs

LONDON — More than 10,000 hot dogs were dispensed on opening day of the Fourth British Food Fair by the United States Agricultural exhibit. American-type doughnuts cooked in lard on the spot went out to British visitors at the rate of about 1,000 an hour.

Gleason, Not His Valet, Gets Up, Makes Coffee

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I was gabbing with Jackie Gleason's valet, Tony, and ... Jackie's new live show leaves him almost dead afterward, for he starts rehearsing anywhere from 5 to 7 a.m. Saturday, Tony said. Jackie beats Tony out of bed that morning—he taps on the bedroom door and says, "Coffee's ready, Tony!"—and they're off. Tony, who's from Pittston, Pa., was a headwaiter at the old Miami Club in Newark when Jackie was a struggling actor, was also Jackie's best man more'n 20 years ago.

Joe E. Lewis'll be Person-to-Personed by Ed Murrow Nov. 2 from the Hotel Warwick. Wonder where they'll hide the scotch. Denying he'll marry again, Joe E. told me, "I like to gamble—but not that much." The Universalist Church where Steve Allen'll preach the sermon Sunday, has a coffee break after the service. Steve's preaching because it's Layman's Sunday.

Talented Gretchen Wyler of Oklahoma and St. Louis will alight into Gwen Verdon's spot in "Damn Yankees" shortly.

Notre Dame's president, Father Theodore Martin Hesburgh, told some friends here: "How Notre Dame changes! Edelstein beat Murphy for treasurer of the senior class—he made a much better trade—and the treasury has never been in better condition!"

Liberace's off to Madrid and Rome for a vacation after cleaning up in England—and he thinks American critics are gentle compared to "Cassandra," who went after him in the London Mirror. The London critic used such adjectives as "winking, sniggering, snuggling, chromium-plated, scent-impregnated, luminous, quivering, giggling, and mincing." But "Lee" picked up a fortune.

Fred Allen's unfinished blog, taking him to '28 when he was in "Polly," comes out Nov. 13 titled "Much Ado About Me." That's the title Fred told Portland he liked. Except for a prologue by Ed O'Connor of Boston, the book is just as Fred left it the winter night he went out for a walk.

Queen Elizabeth Opens
Switch to A-Power Plant

With the turn of a switch, Queen Elizabeth II today opened what British scientists called the world's first full-scale atomic power plant.

The switch-on started electricity flowing from a giant reactor here into the British power grid which lights the nation's homes and turns its industrial machines.

Inside a few weeks, officials said, the plant will contribute enough power to light a city of a million persons.

The atom power plant at Calder Hall, a bleak spot in Cumberland, is the first of a series of power stations planned to place Britain one day fully onto a nuclear basis and relieve it from dependency on coal and oil.

The Russians claim to have an atomic power plant working, too, but it is not believed to be on the same scale as Calder Hall.

The ceremony was a simple one for an event which the 30-year-old Queen called "the making of history."

Uranium fuel rods had been dropped in the nuclear pile before the ceremony. The pile—weighing 22,000 tons with its shields and building — was already radioactive.

When the Queen pressed the into a turbine to start generating electricity.

R. A. Butler, lord privy seal, pointed out that Britain "stands in special need of a new sort of power."

Britain cannot get coal out of the ground fast enough to meet the constantly increasing demands by her burgeoning industry.

In addition, Egypt's nationalization of the Suez Canal and fear that Middle East oil supplies might also be nationalized have spurred the work here for a source of power other than oil.

Butler said that soon after 1965 Britain may be building atomic power plants and no others. After 1975, he said, electricity produced by atomic power will certainly be more than that produced by any other source—possibly twice as much.

General Grant national park, part of Sequoia park in California, was created in 1890 to preserve the famous Grant tree, 35 feet in diameter.

Audrey Meadows may play a bus driver's wife on TV but her bridegroom bought her a raccoon ("Curly Joe"), which she's fetchin' up from Virginia to enter at Belmont.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL ... N. Y. ...

Terry Moore—while in Dixie plugging "Between Heaven and Hell," her movie—was ordered back to Hollywood for a TV show Nov. 8 ... Elaine Stewart's become the "Silver Girl"—silver hair, silver-colored car, $20,000 silver-colored wardrobe ... Eric Portman of the forthcoming "Separate Tables" stage success is slated to be another B'way matinee idol.

ABC board members won't deny that Robert Kintner resigned, but do deny that CBS Pres Frank Stanton's being invited over ... "Giant" actress Carroll Baker (Mrs. Jack Garfin) confessed she's expecting ...

EARL'S PEARLS ...

In some small towns, "reputation" is your character, minus what you've been caught doing.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The late Fred Allen said it a long time ago: "Tallulah Bankhead sounds like a man pulling his foot out of a bucket of yogurt."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Al Hibbler claims he heard this producerism in H'wood: "I'll finish this film in 30 days if it takes me the rest of my life."

Taffy Tuttle says the Princess of Monaco's so pretty, she's surprised nobody's offered her a screen test. That's earl, brother.

Shrimp in Super Dieter's Sauce

Most everyone knows that shrimp itself, though high in protein and minerals, is low in calories, but when you add the sauces that everyone likes, the calorie count goes up rapidly.

The Shrimp Association of the Americas, knowing how Americans like shrimp, and not wanting anyone to miss out on this delightful food because of fear of gaining weight, has developed this dieter's special.

It's a shrimp in a low calorie sauce, using canned tomatoes and non-fat dry milk, and was developed especially for the Shrimp Fiesta, which this year takes place Oct. 15 through Nov. 3, when shrimp catches are at their peak.

Dieter's Special Shrimp-In-Tomato-Sauce

1 pound shrimp, fresh or frozen
2 onions, sliced
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup instant non-fat dry milk
2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2-pound 3-ounce cap tomatoes (8 cups)

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Clean and cook shrimp. Cook onion in butter or margarine until soft. Thoroughly mix milk, flour, tomatoes, salt and pepper. Add to onions and cook, stirring, until mixture thickens.

Add shrimp and cook until shrimp are heated through. Serve with a border of toast or low-calorie wafers. Makes 4 servings.

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

LOUISIANA FLAPJACKS. We found this one down there, and we've always enjoyed it. It may be served with a good sauce made from canned blueberries, to wit:

1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup melted butter
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup oil
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup cornstarch
2 tablespoons orange juice
2 tablespoons butter

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and nutmeg together. Combine yams, eggs, milk and melted butter and mix well. Add to sifted ingredients and mix only until ingredients are blended. Drop by tablespoons on hot, greased griddle, and cook until nicely browned on both sides.

You may use a No. 2 can of yams, well drained, instead of the fresh ones if you prefer.

For the sauce, proceed as follows: Drain the berries, saving the juice. Add enough water to the liquid to make 1 cup. Add sugar and cornstarch and blend well. Heat to boiling point, stirring frequently. Add orange juice, butter and berries. Cook, stirring occasionally, until thick.

Good, about five to ten minutes, and serve over the flapjacks.

CHEESECAKE. and this one is quick and easy, says Mrs. R. E. Peters of the Pueblo (Colo.) Star-Journal Chapter. First, she makes a GRAHAM CRACKER CRUST, by combining 2 cups graham cracker crumbs with 2 tablespoons sugar, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, and 1/4 pound soft butter.

Blend thoroughly and press the mixture firmly on bottom and sides of a pie tin. You may bake this for five minutes, until lightly browned, or not, as you choose. Make an extra 1/4 cup of crumbs and serve as a topping.

For the filling:
1 package lemon pie filling
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups water
1 egg
1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese

In a saucepan, blend filling, sugar and salt, then gradually add water and then the beaten egg. Mix thoroughly. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Soften the cream cheese and gradually stir in the lemon mixture, and beat with a rotary beater or electric mixer until smooth. Pour into the crumb crust, and chill until firm.

Semi-Boneless Ham Offers Economy, Easier Carving

Which ham would you rather carve—a regular ham or one of the new semi-boneless hams? In the semi-boneless hams, the troublesome hip and shank bones have been removed for you. Only the single leg bone remains.

Carving a semi-boneless ham is so easy that dad will enjoy doing it right at the dinner table. Simply stand the ham on its side and slice from right to left, cutting down to the leg bone on each slice. Then loosen all of the slices with one horizontal cut.

The next time you have the girls over for a buffet dinner, let either hot or cold slices of hickory-smoked ham be the star of your menu. You'll be surprised at the large number of beautiful slices a semi-boneless ham will yield!

When you buy a semi-boneless ham, you can be sure you are getting "More meat for your money." Not only have the hip shank bones been removed, but also the fat has been trimmed closely, and the skin has been removed to assure you of the greatest amount of lean meat per pound.

Semi-boneless hams are available at local markets—both ready-to-eat and fully-cooked. Both types are safe to eat without further cooking. The fully cooked hams are ready to slice and serve, while the ready-to-eat hams reach maximum tenderness and flavor when they are heated in a low oven, following the directions given below.

TO HEAT AND GLAZE A SEMI-BONELESS HAM: Remove the transparent wrapper and place the ham, fat side up, on a rack in a baking pan.

Bake in a 325-degree oven until the ham reaches an internal temperature of 130 degrees for the ready-to-eat ham or 125 for the fully cooked ham. A 15-pound ham will heat through in about 3 hours.

About one-half hour before the end of the cooking time, score the fat and stud with whole cloves.

Glaze the ham with a mixture of 1 cup brown sugar and 1/2 cup white corn syrup or fruit juice. Continue baking until the ham is browned.

Use Baby Food as Basis for Sandwich Spread

There's always room for one more sandwich spread, especially when it is fine in flavor and quickly made. Sandwich spreads make excellent appetizers, too.

One of the recent newcomers to the baby food shelf, Junior Egg Yolks and Ham, goes readily into the sandwich department when combined with crunchy foods like chopped celery, ripe or stuffed olives. Here are two tested recipes.

Egg, Olive and Celery Spread

1 container Junior Egg Yolks and Ham

1 tablespoon finely chopped stuffed olives
2 tablespoons finely chopped celery
Salt, to taste
Prepared mustard, season to taste

Combine all ingredients; mix thoroughly. Chill. Makes about 1/2 cup.

Egg and Ripe Olive Spread

1 container Junior Egg Yolks and Ham
1 tablespoon finely chopped ripe olives
Salt, to taste

Combine ingredients; mix thoroughly. Chill. Makes about 1/4 cup.

Note: 1 container Junior Egg Yolks and Ham yields 7 tablespoons.

Paprika, added to the seasoned flour in which chicken pieces are rolled before frying, helps give attractive brown color.

Use Pineapple Juice

Pineapple-glaze carrots this way. Cook carrots in boiling water until barely tender. Then combine 1/4 cup pineapple syrup with 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine and 1/4 cup pineapple tidbits.

Four over carrots in saucepan and cook slowly until liquid thickens and bubbles.

For Festive Sandwich:

For a new twist to a sandwich, try mixing pitted canned black cherries and a little of their juice with cream cheese before you spread it on the bread.

The result is a chocolaty rich pudding that's delicious served warm or cold... enough for 9 servings.

Chocolate Brownie Pudding: Combine 1 package chocolate quick fudge mix, 1 cup chopped dates, 1 cup walnut meats, 2 tablespoons flour, and 2 teaspoons baking powder in large mixing bowl.

Beat 2 eggs yolks slightly; stir in 1/2 cup milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Add to dry ingredients and blend thoroughly. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold into batter. Pour into greased pan (8"x8"x2").

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 45 minutes. Cool. Serve with unsweetened whipped cream.

Stuff Potatoes, Spread on Cheese and Bake Golden!

Popular way to prepare potatoes.

Stuffed Potatoes Supreme: 4 medium-sized potatoes (about 3 1/2 pounds); 1/2 cup butter or margarine; 1/2 cup heavy cream; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/2 teaspoon white pepper; 2 eggs; 1/2 cup grated Romano cheese; 2 tablespoons mayonnaise; Paprika.

Bake scrubbed potatoes in hot (425 degrees) oven until very soft—1 hour or longer. (Leave oven turned on.)

Cut a thin lengthwise slice from the top of each potato; scoop pulp into a large bowl. Put pulp through ricer. Beat in butter, cream, salt and pepper; continue beating until there are no lumps.

Beat eggs until thick and ivory colored; add potatoes and fold in or beat gently just until combined. Spoon back into scooped-out shells, piling high.

Mix grated cheese and mayonnaise; spread over top of potatoes; sprinkle lightly with paprika. Return to oven (on baking sheet) to reheat and brown tops—about 15 minutes. Serve at once. Makes six servings.

Delicious Appetizer

Here's a starter: Mix equal parts of deviled ham and cream cheese. Then put large perfect toasted-walnut halves together with this filling. Serve on toasted melba rounds or toasted buttered rye bread thus made in quantity in the broiler of your range.

Choose small fresh green leaves when you're making a fresh spinach salad. Dress with oil, vinegar, sugar, salt and pepper; garnish with hard-cooked eggs.

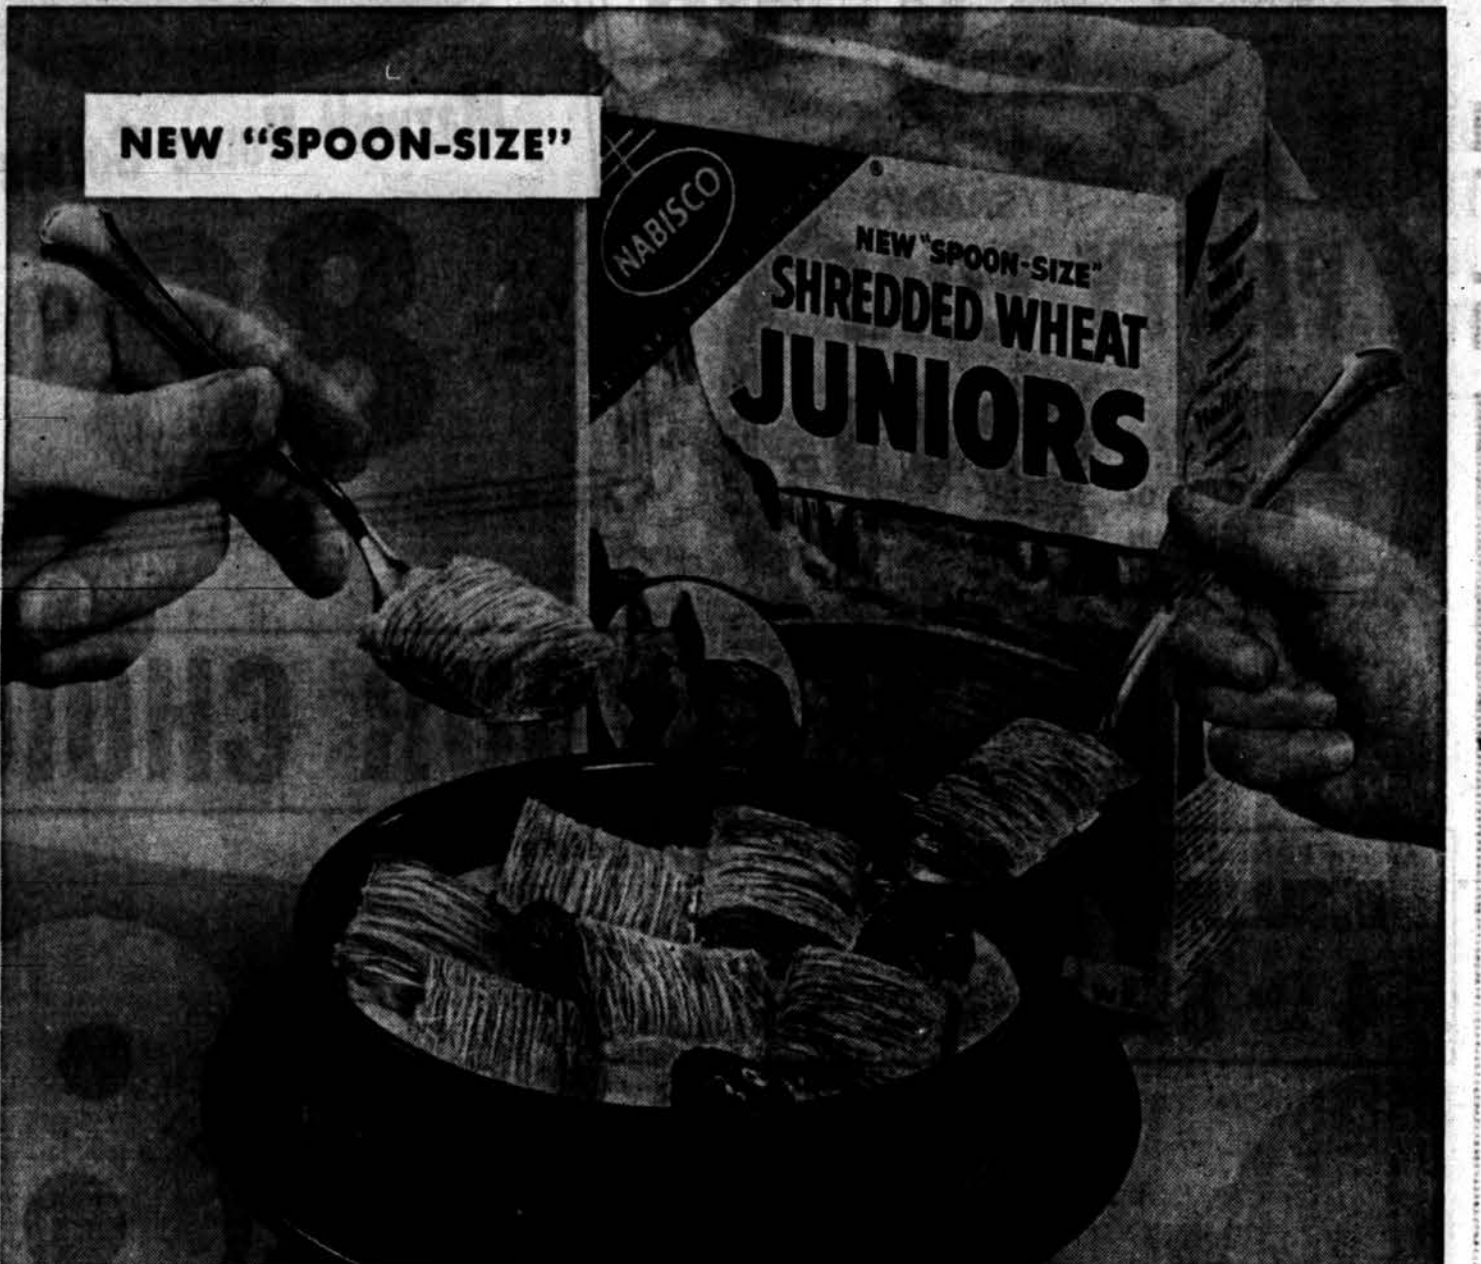

Mix a quarter cup of softened butter with 1 1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard; spread bread with mixture when making ham sandwiches.

A beet aspic is now available in cans. Cut the ruby-red aspic in round slices and serve with cottage cheese and greens for a luncheon salad.

After you slice off the rind from a fresh pineapple, remove the eyes with a small sharp knife. Then cut the fruit into desired shapes.

Macaroni made from durum wheat or semolina can be recognized by its rich golden color. Millers and manufacturers alike strive to retain this pleasing color.

Apple Shortcake Is Autumn Fare

With the fine crop of eating and cooking apples now at your grocer's and the markets, a fine list of new desserts and main dishes, all fragrant with apples, can be part of your autumn entertaining and family cookery.

Here's a delightful one to start with:

Apple-Raisin Shortcakes
1 package cup-cake mix
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup water
1 cup raisins
1 cup seedless raisins
1 lemon, juice and grated peel
Whipped cream or custard sauce

Prepare and bake cupcakes as directed on the package. Cool on cake rack; split in halves, cross-wise.

Combine sugar, nutmeg and cinnamon in saucepan; add water; stir over low heat until sugar dissolves. Core and pare apples; slice thin; add to syrup with raisins.

Cover; simmer until apples are tender, stirring occasionally with a fork. Remove from heat; add lemon juice and peel; mix well.

Use warm or cold to fill, and to put on top of cup cakes. Garnish with whipped cream or custard sauce. Makes eight servings.

Lining cake pans with paper? Cut the paper slightly smaller than the bottom of the pan for easy removal after the cake's baked.

Grapes, Apples Top Buys, Chicken Still Economical

Whether every family member is interested in the World Series or not, everyone is interested in his own "home plate." The shopper who pitches the market list toward foods in plentiful supply is going to score at home. Fryers, chuck roast, ham and pork loins all rate attention in the meat department. Apples, grapes, cabbage, squash and potatoes are "musts" on the produce counters. From the dairy and egg case include plenty of milk (1 quart per day for children, 3 cups for adults) and the economical medium size eggs.

MEATS — Both whole and cut ready-to-cook fryers are a tempting meat choice in many stores at 29 to 30 cents per pound. For the most meat for the money, choose those with rounded broad breasts and thick thighs and legs.

The better grades of beef continue to be high even though there is a very slight decrease this week. Chuck roast and ground beef are two cuts that relieve other beef costs.

Rib end pork loin is a timely meat roast that may please the family for as little as 29 to 39 cents a pound in some stores. A tasty barbecue sauce adds much to the pork flavor and makes an attractive outside coating. Fresh pork should be roasted at 350 degrees F. until the meat is a light gray color all the way through.

Some good values can be found in whole hams for about 50 cents a pound. Shank portions at about 40 cents a pound or butt portions at 30 to 35 cents more per pound may be the choice for the small family. Remember that the center slices are cut from ham portions and there is a larger proportion of bone than in a whole ham.

FRUITS — Michigan's Concord grapes are still in good supply. This blue "slip skin" grape is delightful for dessert or between meals. Don't wait, can grape juice now. A four-quart basket will make 3 pints of juice.

Concord are ideal for jelly. Use 1 cup of sugar to 1 cup of juice. To prevent crystals, chill juice for 2 hours before making jelly.

Good quality Tokay grapes are in abundant supply and low in price. This is a table variety grown in California and most famous for fruit bowls and salads.

There is real variety in apples, but the wise shopper will select them according to their intended use. Cortland, McIntosh and Jonathan are good all-purpose apples, while Delicious are best used raw. Large bags of small sized apples may be the best buy for school children. Include them for mid-morning and afternoon snacks as well as for the lunch box.

VEGETABLES — Michigan frosts have decreased the homegrown vegetable supply, but there are good values for the market list.

Who can pass the solid, firm heads of green cabbage at about 5 cents a pound, or a bag of potatoes at only a penny a serving? Add color to fall meals with economical squash at about 5 cents a pound or 10 cents each for many of the Acorn and Butternut varieties.

quality is about 19 to 25 cents a head.

DAIRY AND EGGS — Plentiful supplies of cheese will be offered on specials this month. When considering the regular milk needs, remember that 6 ounces of cheddar cheese will give the same amount of calcium that is found in a quart of milk.

In most markets, both small and medium sized eggs are now better values than larger sizes of the same grade. Three small eggs have the same volume and weight as two large eggs.

Chicken Casserole
1 to 3 1/2 pounds chicken
1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
1 cup shortening
2 cups milk
1 can (8 ounces) broken mushrooms

Cut chicken into serving pieces. Season flour with salt, pepper and paprika. Place in clean paper bag. Drop 2 or 3 pieces of chicken in bag, shake several times, or until chicken is well coated with flour. Repeat until pieces of chicken are all floured.

Heat shortening in skillet. Brown chicken pieces, putting meaty pieces in first. As chicken browns, place in casserole. When all the chicken has browned, pour off all but about 3 tablespoons of the hot drippings.

Scrape the bottom of the skillet to loosen the browned portions. (This helps to make good gravy.) Add flour left over from flouring the chicken. Stir flour through the melted drippings. Add milk. You can also use the liquid drained from mushrooms in place of part of the milk.

When thickened, add mushrooms. Pour over chicken. Cover casserole. Bake. Serves 5-6.

Trick: Substitute 1 can cream of mushroom soup for the milk and mushrooms. Thin the soup down with about 1/2 cup of milk or water.

Paprika-Lemon Butter

This versatile paprika and lemon flavored butter is easily adaptable to any number of foods. Enhance the flavors of broccoli, canned asparagus or cauliflower with it or spread it on toast sticks for a fruit salad accompaniment.

To make about one-half cup spread, soften one-half cup butter or margarine. Add two teaspoons paprika and two tablespoons lemon juice and beat well.

Gherkin Size Pickles Show Less Shrinkage

The smaller sizes of cucumber, commonly called gherkin size, can be made into very sweet or very sour pickles with less chance of shrinking than can whole cucumbers of larger size. Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent, says that cucumbers 3 1/2 to 4 inches long with a diameter of 1 to 1 1/2 inch are a good size for bread and butter pickles. Cucumbers that are about 5 inches long and 1 1/2 inches in diameter are suitable for chunk pickles, bread and butter pickles, and dill pickles.

Treat Tricksters to Goblin Apple

Candied apples are always eagerly anticipated by the small fry, and today's Goblin Apples are easily prepared.

Good homemade confection with the apples are Caramel Corn Hunks, and cups of steaming hot chocolate complete the menu.

Goblin Apples for Halloween

4 apples
1 cup sugar
1 cup white corn syrup
1/2 cup water
Red food coloring
Peppermint flavoring

Wash and dry apples. Insert skewers in stem ends. Combine sugar, syrup, water and food coloring to make a soft red color, in top of double boiler. Cook over direct, medium heat, stirring constantly until sirup boils.

Then cook without stirring to soft crack stage (280 degrees) or until a small amount separates into hard but not brittle threads when tested in very cold water.

Remove from heat and quickly stir in flavoring. Place pan immediately in cold water to stop boiling, then set over hot water to prevent sirup from thickening.

Hold apples by skewer and dip into sirup. Remove and swirl quickly to coat evenly. Place on wire rack to cool. Make goblin faces on apples with small gumdrops, using leftover sirup to make the candies stick.

Caramel Corn Hunks

1/2 pound caramels
1 tablespoon water
1/2 cup salted peanuts
4 to 5 cups popped corn

In the top of a double boiler place caramels and water. Heat over boiling water, stirring frequently until caramels are melted. Add peanuts and mix well.

Pour sirup slowly over popped corn, tossing so corn kernels are coated. Let stand till firm. Break into hunks. Makes about 1 1/2 quarts.

Canned Ham Practical

A small canned ham (1 1/4 pounds) is practical for a small family. Slices of the ham may be broiled (4 inches from sources of heat) for 3 to 4 minutes for a quick supper. Service with fresh corn pancakes and fried peaches.

Small fry like this: Bowls of cream of tomato soup sprinkled with popcorn.

Summer Squash Makes Simple, Delicious Dish

Zucchini and yellow summer squash are colorful additions for the market basket. They make a simple but delicious dish.

Summer squash will keep its sweet delicate flavor when steamed, but loses it when boiled in large quantities of water. Consumer Marketing Information Agent Mrs. Josephine Lawyer suggests the following method.

Wash, cut into convenient-size pieces, removing the stem. Do not peel unless the squash is old and tough. Add small amounts of water or tomato juice. Cover pan and steam for about 15 minutes. Season with salt, pepper, and butter. To vary, add sautéed minced onion and grated cheese. Scrumptious dessert for three: A pint of vanilla ice cream topped with a package of frozen thawed strawberries.

Make That 'Apple a Day' Into a Delicious Apple Pie

Pontiac Press Home Editor
Someone put an editorial on Fresh Apple Pie into my typewriter the other day. I don't know whether they were hinting that I make apple pie for the office or whether they just thought an article on apple pie was in order.

For pie we would like to quote from the editorial mentioned above.
"A fresh apple pie needs just the right amounts of cinnamon and nutmeg, a whiff of allspice and about one tablespoon of molasses. Before the top crust is riveted on, dot the sliced apples with a dozen bits of butter the size of a chickadee's egg and arrange three or four thin slices of rat cheese to melt while the pie is baking."

Apple Pie
Pastry for bottom pie
1 cup sliced tart apples (about 6-7 apples)
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
3 tablespoons butter
Fit lower crust into a 9-inch pie pan: Pare, core and slice apples.
If very mild, add 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Mix all dry ingredients, add 2 tablespoons mixture to bottom crust, add apples and pour remaining dry mixture over top. Sprinkle with spice if desired. Dot with butter.

Add top crust, crimp edges and cut holes in top. Bake at 425 degrees for 35-40 minutes or until apples are tender and crust brown.
In this version of the old favorite, a cinnamon-flavored, baked sour cream topping and an autumnal garnish of purple grapes enhance its traditional charms.
Apple-'n'-Cream Pie
1 cup halved, seeded Tokyo grapes
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 (1/2 pint) sour cream
2 tablespoons sugar
Pare, core apples. Cut one crosswise into quarter-inch slices.
Fit in bottom of pie shell. Quarter remaining apples. Place rounded side up on apple slices. Scatter grapes to fill spaces.
Combine 1/2 cup sugar, flour and 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon; sprinkle evenly over fruit. Pour cream over all.
Combine remaining sugar and cinnamon, sprinkle on top. Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees F., 10 minutes. Lower heat to 350 degrees F.; bake 30 minutes, or until tender.
Our final recipe for an apple sugar, salt and cinnamon and mix with apples. Fill pie pan.

1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup flour
1/2 tablespoon butter
Cut butter into sugar and flour and sprinkle over apples. Bake in 425-degrees oven for 30 minutes or until apples are tender

Guild Ingathering Planned

By MARY ANGLEMIER

Final arrangements for the annual Ingathering of Needlework Guild were made Tuesday when section presidents, directors and officers of contributing groups met with Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald of Ottawa drive for morning coffee.

Mrs. John W. Fitzgerald, president, announced the Ingathering will be held on Nov. 8 in the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Stuart E. Whitfield with her committee will be at the church at 9:30 a.m. to receive the garments and household linens from directors.

The Queen Mary Section, comprised of women of English, Welsh, Irish and Scottish descent, will serve coffee and British pastries from 10 to 12, with Mrs. George Bickley, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Alex Joss and Mrs. Henry Milligan.

Joining the guild as new directors are Mrs. James Aldrich, Mrs. Bruce Hubbard, Mrs. Leland Clemence, Mrs. Paul Riemenschneider Jr., Mrs. W. O. Roeser, Mrs. Odin Johnson, Mrs. Robert C. Irwin, Mrs. Fred H. Mills and Mrs. Alex Capsalis.

STARTED IN 1885

America's Needlework Guild was started in 1885 by a group of seven young girls who had no thought of their project becoming a nationwide charity, and who had no special knowledge of social service or influence.

They were members of a Sunday School class in the Oxford Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia.

The guild had its beginning more than 70 years ago in Dorsetshire, England, following a mining disaster when hundreds of children were orphaned.

Lord and Lady Wolverton, who lived in a great manor near there, heard of the disaster and immediately sought help from friends to build an orphanage.

It was built but the children needed clothing. So Lady Wolverton invited a group of friends to tea asking them to bring enough material to make two garments. The women sewed, making "one garment to wash" and one "to wear."

Everyone loved the work and Needlework Guild was born.

PROJECT SPREADS

When Mrs. Alenson Harpene returned from a trip to England, she told the girls of Philadelphia's Needlework Guild and they decided to pattern their little group after the one started by Lady Wolverton.

President Theodore Roosevelt said that he knew of "no other national charity which did so much good with so little red tape, time and money."

Anyone may become a member by giving two new articles of wearing apparel of any kind for men, women and children, or household linen such as blankets, sheets, pillowcases, towels and washcloths.

While much of the clothing is purchased, many choose to make little girls' dresses, blouses and pajamas.

The Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts, Girl Reserves, 4-H Clubs, school groups and other organizations often make a project of sewing for Needlework Guild.

MONEY MEMBERS

A contribution of money designates one as a "money member. There are no dues or fees."

A garment member gives two new articles of clothing or household linen, "one to wash" and "one to wear," once a year at the annual Ingathering.

Especially needed are men's, women's and children's outing flannel pajamas, long and short underwear, socks, stockings, wool mittens, sweaters and caps, boys' shirts, girls' skirts and blouses, outing flannel sheets, warm bed jackets and shawls.

Dosens of pairs of knitted or wool bed socks would be very welcome for the sick and elderly people.

The annual meeting is scheduled for 1 p.m. on Ingathering day.

Barbara McSkulin Entertains Chapter

Twelve members attended the October business meeting of Beta Alpha Chapter of Sigma Beta sorority held recently at the home of Barbara McSkulin on Gateway drive.

Plans were made for a toy demonstration to be held on Oct. 24. Jackie Downer will be hostess to the group for the November meeting at her home on South Sanford street.

Newlyweds Visit Florida

In a ceremony performed Saturday in Grace Lutheran Church by the Rev. R. C. Stuckmeyer, Lucille Seiser Menzel became the bride of Jay Sandow.

Given in marriage by her brother, Carl E. Seiser, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of sandalwood taffeta, with pick sequin hat and pink accessories. She carried a crescent bouquet of pink cymbidium orchids, pink stephanotis and variegated ivy.

Mrs. Douglas Menzel was the bride's only attendant. Her gown, similar to the bride's, was of toast-colored taffeta. She carried a bouquet of green cymbidium orchids and bronze chrysanthemums.

Looking over the lists of garments needed for the fall Ingathering of Needlework Guild were three directors (left to right), Mrs. Hart Morris, Mrs. Alex Capsalis and Mrs. S. V. Sekles, all of Ottawa drive. They attended the coffee hour in Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald's home on Ottawa drive to assist with plans for the Ingathering on Nov. 8 in the First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Capsalis is a new director.

Glancing through cookbooks for favorite recipes were (left to right) Mrs. Andrew McKerron of Monroe street, Mrs. Henry Milligan of Belmont avenue, Mrs. Frank W. Snover of Belmont avenue and Mrs. George Bickley of Mechanic street. Members of the Queen Mary Section, they will be baking cookies, scones, English pancakes, Empire biscuits, breakfast breads and other pastries for the morning coffee at the annual Ingathering of Needlework Guild on Nov. 8 in the First Presbyterian Church.

Music Clubs to Supervise '57 Auditions

At the invitation of Grinnell Brothers, the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs has agreed to supervise and conduct the 1957 student auditions for piano.

Through the federation's Student Auditions Committee, applicants will register and be notified where they are to appear before the judges selected by the committee. Ages for the contest are from 18 to 25 years.

The winner of the Grinnell Piano Award will receive a $1,000 scholarship, with the privilege of naming the school or teacher of his choice.

Other awards announced by the National Federation of Music Clubs include a three-year scholarship in strings valued at $500 yearly, covering full tuition at Peabody Conservatory of Music, Baltimore, Md.

Also available to music students are the Shreveport Symphony Society - Centenary College Scholarships. The scholarships are for study at Centenary College of Louisiana, Shreveport, La.

The scholarships, which cover full tuition to a player of an orchestral string instrument, are given on a yearly basis and can be renewed each year. They are valued at $250 per year.

Need Skill for Buying Sweaters

Buying sweaters seems to be one of the principal entertainment sources for teenagers.

The appalling sweater wardrobes of a decade ago—40 or 50 sweaters per girl—have given way to more varied clothes, but they will love to buy them on a flush Saturday.

Getting a good buy in a sweater is less difficult if the local stores have a good selection, but a girl can train herself to select carefully, even faced with a meager collection.

A good sweater is knitted to fit, rather than being cut to fit. A cut sweater will have machine stitches up the sides and under the arms, with no tailoring.

KNOW SIGNS

The "full-fashioned" earmarks—darts of decreased stitches—under the arms mean that the sweater will fit instead of bag. It also means higher cost.

"Mock-fashioned" means that a cut sweater has had stitches added to the underarm which serve no purpose except making the sweater appear to be full-fashioned. A good buy can be had, even in a cut sweater, but it should be tried on.

Good-value sweaters have tape across the shoulders and sometimes in back of the neck to help the sweater keep its shape.

In some brands, the sweater size is meaningless. In others, size 38 means that the sweater is exactly 38 inches around, at a point one inch under the arm hole.

This can be tight-going for those who wear a 36 blouse, so trying on becomes important.

Remodeled Home Is Worth More

If you've been wondering about the costs of remodeling your home, take into consideration how much the value may be increased by the improvements you plan.

A five-foot space—an unused pantry or closet—may become a new bath or powder room. It's a good idea to locate a new bathroom as close as possible to the existing plumbing system.

Presiding at the coffee service was Mrs. Harold Howlett of East Froquois road, past president of Needlework Guild. She is pictured serving Mrs. John Donaldson (left), a director, and Mrs. Edward Barrett, a section president. They were present Tuesday at the morning coffee hour in the home of Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald of Ottawa drive, fourth vice president.

The Quadrennial Goals were given in a lighted candle ceremony presented by Miss Smith. Following a discussion on the meaning of prayer, a reading, "Jesus, A Man of Prayer," was given by Miss Kinney.

Mrs. Arthur H. Harrington (left) of Cherokee road, first vice president of Needlework Guild, was photographed with Mrs. W. Ross Thompson of Eileen drive, treasurer, as they were leaving the recent morning meeting of the guild. Arrangements were completed for the 44th annual Ingathering to be held on Nov. 8 in the First Presbyterian Church.

Family Now Appreciates Loyal Annie

Keenly Feels Loss as Maid Goes On to Better Career

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Members of this household agree Annie was a very real part of the family, mothering us, serving us with imagination, initiative and devotion far beyond the normal expected of a part-time maid.

But always it was Annie who was blamed for any missing article, from a jotted-down phone number to pliers, a sports shirt, or a boy friend's photo or slip-covers for the sofa—things often carelessly stashed away or misplaced by one of us.

"Annie must have hidden it," we'd tell each other with no feeling of guilt whatsoever.

Now, after 12 years, Annie has left us. Shamefully, we never took seriously the earnest effort of this young Mississippian-born Negro woman to improve herself.

After laboring indefatigably in various households all day, after long bus and streetcar trips, she took one night-school course after another over the years—typing, arithmetic, even Spanish—to make up for the schooling she'd had to forego in order to support herself and help her family.

At the end there was more than a year of classroom and hospital training as a practical nurse.

This course required her to put her daytimes at the hospital, but even then she came to work for us far into the night.

Then came the bombshell. "The government wants me to go to Alaska to work with tubercular patients under the Native Health Service. I'm sorry to leave you, but hard as I try, I just can't make a living here, or get ahead. I've just got to take this opportunity now that it's offered," she told us.

Annie, who had never been on a plane before, or in any place except Mississippi and Washington, flew all the way to Seattle, thence to her new job at Mt. Edgecumbe, Alaska.

I got this letter from her: "I was quite tired from the strain of moving, and the emotion of leaving so many things undone didn't help," she wrote, "but really the trip was wonderful and made up for some of the things I have missed in life."

ENOYS HER WORK She likes her job. "The working conditions and the opportunities for practical nurses are much better than in the states," she explained, then went on:

"There are only 15 Negroes here. The social life here is very limited. However, there is NO segregation, and everyone goes all out to make the get-acquainted parties great."

At the beginning Annie wrote: "One of my greatest worries now are the black bedspreads the cleaners couldn't find. I hope you got them. Tell Pauline to keep constant watch for moths."

"If at any time you need to know about something that I have put away, please drop me a note airmail and I'll answer right away."

Fashion Hint

Don't extend with billowing skirts for the short, plump and for the mature figure. Chiffon, in lovely pastels and in subdued colorings for the not-so-slim, is tops in seductive cocktail and evening dresses.

May Widow Have Music at Wedding?

March Is Correct, Although the Bride Was Wed Before

By EMILY POST

"I am a widow in the early 40s and am planning to be married soon. The wedding will take place in our parish church. I would like to know if it is proper to have the wedding march played while I walk up the aisle."

"I have been told that Mendelssohn's Wedding March is not proper at a second wedding. Will you please tell me if this is true?"

Answer: Of course have it played—a bride is a bride even though it is for the second time.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it permissible to leave a young girl home alone waiting for her date to pick her up, if her parents have to leave the house before the young man arrives?"

"My husband refuses to leave the house before our daughter's date arrives, as he thinks it is improper for her to be home alone when he comes. I think this is carrying propriety to a ridiculous degree. Will you please give me your opinion."

Answer: I agree with you. It isn't necessary that her parents be at home every single time someone calls for her.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine broke one of my favorite records while at my house one evening. She said that she would replace it. That was over a month ago and she hasn't replaced it yet. How can I tactfully remind her of this?"

Answer: I'm afraid you can't.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Should a man remove his glove to shake hands with another man, or is it necessary to remove it only before shaking hands with a woman?"

Answer: Only before shaking hands with a woman.

Enjoy the Beauty in Everyday Life

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Perhaps woman's most important role is that of creator of beauty. Every human being longs for beauty. Within each of us lie hope and tall dreams that are reaching up for inspiration and happiness.

Yet in the strain and hurry and the reality-ridden atmosphere of everyday life we miss so much of the beauty which is all about us.

There is beauty in a mother's lullaby, in a surgeon's skilled hands, in an inspiring, lovely building, in poetry, in a sunset and a moonrise, in mist on the mountains, in teeming humanity returning home after work, in laughter, in a kind word, in music, in flowers by the poverty-stricken cabin, and in the peace and quiet of a church.

Since woman is by nature and heritage the keeper of the home fires she is best fitted to add charm and happiness to life with her tenderness and understanding.

No wonder she longs to be lovely! No wonder she wishes fervently for perfection of body and mind and spirit.

Every time she enhances the living moment with a smile, with humor instead of hecticness, with a beautifully pitched voice, with good grooming, with a warm heart, with graceful posture, with enthusiasm, with thoughtfulness, she has added just that much to the sum total of beauty.

OPEN TO BEAUTY

I sometimes think that we would need no rules for personality development, or for achieving success of happiness, if we could just keep our hearts and minds open to the beauty which is all about us.

If we could just take each day as it comes and actually feel it and smell it, and see it and hear it, we would greatly enrich our lives and the lives of those about us.

Since woman is by nature and heritage the keeper of the home fires, she is best fitted to add charm and happiness to life with her tenderness and understanding.

The woman is the one who has the greatest influence on the atmosphere of her home, both its physical and emotional atmosphere.

Haven't you noticed this? Usually if the woman is gay the whole family is gay, even in the face of hard times or hectic circumstances. If the mother is fretful the children are likewise. If the woman is frowny the home is ill kept. If she is well groomed the house has charm.

This role of woman as creator of beauty is a privilege and a responsibility. It is up to her to lead the way in extracting as much beauty as possible from each day.

Spread Your Blessings by Adopting Grandmother

Lonely Older Women Need Attention and Companionship

By RUTH MILLET

Would you like to "adopt" a grandmother?

The idea isn't mine. I read an account of how it was done in one community in a bulletin, "Adding Years to Life," which is put out by the Institute of Gerontology at the State University of Iowa.

In a report of the Golden Age Club in Ames, Iowa, one project listed was an "Adopt a Grandparent" program.

The Ames club worked it through the town's Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls. The young members were urged to get acquainted with, visit, and help brighten the days of some older woman of the community who had no family of her own—or none close by.

Why wouldn't the idea work even better if the middle-aged women of a community with homes of their own and their busy years behind them decided to "adopt" a grandmother as a means of personal service?

NOT ORGANIZED

The effectiveness of the idea is that it need not be organized at all. Each individual woman could find her own lonely, older woman and bring a little happiness into her life.

Where could you find a grandmother to adopt?

Perhaps an elderly woman living alone in your own neighborhood would be the one. Maybe it would be an old person in a nursing home.

Perhaps it would be the mother of a friend, left alone because both the husband and wife with whom she lives work every day.

Every community has its share of older women who have been pushed aside by life. They are lonely and their lives could be considerably brightened by the attention of a younger, more active person.

Think what even a daily telephone call would mean to some women. An occasional invitation to dinner, to the movies, or for a drive in the country would mean even more.

MUCH TO SHARE

We women who are active have so much to share. There should be something left over for those without families or whose families are far away or disinterested.

We women could do a lot individually for the lonely older women of our communities if we were willing to "adopt a grandmother." And such an experience would undoubtedly be an invigorating one for us.

Sisterhood Sees Film Depicting U.N. Child Care

Mrs. I. E. Gordon presided at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob held at the temple. The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Herman Dickstein.

In keeping with the celebration of the United Nations birthday, a film entitled, "Assignment: Children" was presented. The film portrayed the ways in which UNICEF is aiding in the health and education of children throughout the world.

Among future events planned are a money-making project scheduled for Oct. 22-24 and a dance to be held at the temple on Nov. 3.

There will be an Oneg Shabat on Nov. 10 at the home of Mrs. Isadore Goode on Cherokee road. The program will be presented by Mrs. Victor Lindquist.

Luncheon preceding the Tuesday meeting was served by Mrs. Irving Schlystone, Mrs. Harold Abrams, Mrs. Bernard Harowitz and Mrs. Sherwin Birnkrant.

Instead of looking like you're poured into the stark sheath, it'll look like you're bursting out of it. Keep the proportions of the slim silhouette but cheat by adding from shoulder to hem one-sided drape.

The engagement of their daughter, Marilyn, to William P. Tomczak is announced by Mr. and Mrs. John R. Huffman of Wenonah drive. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tomczak of Chicago. The couple, students at Western Michigan College, plans a Jan. 26 wedding.

Bazaar Planned by Mission Bells

The Mission Bells of St. John Lutheran Church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Henry Hoyt on Clifford street. Devotions were given by Mrs. Karl Erickson.

Final plans were made for the fall bazaar and luncheon to be held at the church Nov. 1. Appointed to the nominating committee were Mrs. Orin Clausen, Mrs. Walter Sadtler and Mrs. Samuel McMurray.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Adolf Hornblad showed colored slides of the Bethphage Home in Axtell, Neb.

The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Carl Nelson on Owego drive.

All the new suits are very feminine in deliciously soft fabrics. Slender but not skimpy skirts, rounded shoulders, high bosoms, and lightly marked waists, all becoming to the short, full figure.

Rock 'n' Roll Inspires Teens' Music Hobby

BY EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert
Youth Research Co.

Let's take a look at the credit side on rock 'n' roll, for a change.

This fad, for which Elvis Presley is a symbol, doubtless has much to do with the fact that music as a hobby among teenagers has doubled in popularity in five years to reach a percentage point of 5.2. And most everyone agrees in principle that having a hobby is a darned good thing.

Elvis Presley and rock 'n' roll—together with Harry Belafonte and his folk ballads—are probably responsible to a large extent for the do-it-yourself popularity of the guitar.

Rock 'n' roll may also be responsible largely for dancing's upward swing in young interest. Dancing's popularity is edging close to the level it reached in the time of the Lindy Hop over two decades ago.

Square dancing is back in vogue, too, and the newer Latin American dances, particularly the Merengue and Cha Cha Cha, have an enthusiastic following.

GROUP SINGING

Tops in musical activities are group singing and playing the piano and guitar. A high school girl at Providence, R.I., explains it this way:

"When we kids all sing and play the piano or guitar, we get the most wonderful feeling. Like being part of a big and happy family. It makes me feel all warm inside."

On the other side of the hobby picture there is some indication that, overall, the hobby habit is declining among young people rather than increasing.

And among girls in their late teens, looking for a hobby instead of a hobby is still the chief preoccupation.

About 41 per cent of the girls in the 17-20 year age bracket say they have no hobby—but gosh, they go for beaux.

THE No. 1 TOPIC

They tell us that boys are their No. 1 topic of conversation, and this may account for some of the unexpected statistics our interviewers came up with.

For instance, one out of every four boys and one out of three girls has no hobby at all.

Boys and girls counted together, 23.5 per cent say they have no hobby. This is an even higher

In spite of the rapid gains of music and dancing, one of young people's favorite hobbies remains the old standby—collecting.

Coin and stamp collectors, who make up the largest group, think they have the most exciting hobby in the world.

NO FANCY NAMES

The majority, however, wouldn't call themselves philatelists or numismatists even if they were familiar with the words. They resent fancy connotations.

A 14-year-old explained:

"I've been collecting coins for four years now—and this numismatics is pretty silly. When Dad brought me some yen and francs and so forth from the Orient and Europe, he didn't say 'Son, now you're a numis...' whatever you call it. He told me to save them and see if I could find others, which I have been working at as hard as I can."

This year's favorite set of stamps, by a landslide vote, is the Grace Kelly-Prince Rainier wedding stamps from Monaco. Teenagers by the thousands have been buying them.

One digitated enthusiast from San Francisco sighed:

"Isn't it the most romantic thing you ever saw? I didn't even put the set in my album. It's hung right on my wall where I can see it as soon as I wake up in the morning."

By the time they reach 17, most girls have given up stamp collecting and—as we said—boys become the prime interest. But collecting is ardent business with 11-13-year-olds.

STILL LIKE DOGS

Of course, by the time they reach 17, girls could also have adopted the feminine hobby that involves spending, instead of collecting, coins.

Overall, boys are considerably more intrigued with stamps and coins than girls, the percentage being 10.6 to 3.1.

Girls get even by taking over the field of collecting dolls, pictures of movie stars and animals, and china miniatures.

The combined boy and girl percentage of stamp and coin collecting is 6.3. Compare this with the rapid rise in music as a hobby—in 1951 music was 3.7 per cent; in 1954 it had increased to 5.2 and the latest tally put it at 7.4.

Painting and drawing are growing in popularity and art has jumped from 4.4 per cent in 1951 to 6.3 per cent today. A Davenport, Iowa, youth said:

"Since I took up sketching six months ago a whole world seems to have opened up for me. You'd be surprised how differently you look at things when you are trying to reproduce them on paper."

PETS ARE FAVORED

Pets—which are often considered members of the family—show up as an outstanding hobby. Dog ownership, for example, has these percentages: 1947—24.7; 1954—32.8; 1956—35.1.

Although boys let sewing and knitting strictly alone, girls are encroaching on masculine precincts with a representation in the hobby of building model trains and planes, and doing woodworking.

Looking at the overall hobby picture, therefore, the situation is bright. It should be brighter.

Many authorities agree that healthy, stimulating projects outside school—hobbies, in short—are an effective way to combat juvenile delinquency.

At Historic Williamsburg

Garden Symposium Set

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. — A special preview tour of the 1957 Jamestown Festival, the 350th celebration of America's birthplace, will be given garden enthusiasts attending the Williamsburg Garden Symposium, beginning March 6.

The 11th annual symposium is scheduled in two three-day seminars, March 6-8 and March 13-15. The morning sessions will be devoted to illustrated talks by the country's leading horticulturists and landscape architects.

Registrants will have an opportunity to discuss their gardening problems with the experts during afternoon garden teas, and to tour the 18th Century gardens of Williamsburg.

The preview tour of the Jamestown Festival will include visits to the reconstructed fort and glass factory and other exhibits on historic Jamestown Island. The glass factory will make articles of early 17th Century design by the same methods used by the Jamestown colonists.

American gardeners owe much of their plant material to colonial botanists who exchanged plants and gardening methods with the English botanists.

The symposium will honor two such early Virginia scientists,

John Clayton and John Custis, at the Gardeners' Banquets.

Other special features include flower - arranging demonstrations by J. Gregory Conway and Mrs. William F. Lowry, a candlelight concert in the Governor's Palace and, by popular request, a continuation of last year's symposium bird walks, held by Rev. John H. Grey, past president of the Virginia Society of Ornithology.

A party for all members having birthdays this month will be held Friday and a Halloween party is scheduled for Oct. 26, with prizes to be given for original costumes. On Monday, bazaar chairmen will meet to plan for the event. The meeting will be held at Moose Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Author Speaks to Historical Foundation

Arthur Pound, author and former historian of the state of New York, was the speaker Wednesday afternoon at the annual meeting of the Oakland County Historical Foundation in the Moses Wisner Home.

Mr. Pound, a native of Pontiac, spent some time discussing the local scene in the late days of the 19th century. He was born in a house that used to occupy the corner of East Huron and Mill streets where the Post Office now stands.

At the age of seventeen he worked for The Pontiac Press, serving as cub reporter for a short time. On this period Mr. Pound said, "I came out strong for primary reform and the popular election of United States Senators, then the big issue of the day."

Our State Senator from around White Lake took the opposite side and we skinned him alive. But to what good?

"When the boss came home, he told me primary reform was like a barrel-sounded big when you kicked it but there was nothing inside... I didn't exactly lose my job right then because circulation had been climbing all the while, but pretty soon the boss and I agreed that I had better go to college and learn a little more about politics and journalism."

In the latter part of his talk Mr. Pound traced the growth of the auto industry in Pontiac. In conclusion he said,

"It is therefore vital to your community, and indeed to the nation and in some degree to the whole world, to work with equal skill and tenacity on the processes of distribution, to that end that men here and everywhere may have, not only new and improved automobiles but also all other goods and services which ameliorate the lot of mankind and promote the good life for soul and body."

In the business meeting preceding Mr. Pound's speech, Mrs. Harry F. Going read the annual report. Richard Poole reported on work done recently in restoring two rooms of the Wisner Home.

The following members were elected to the Board of Directors for a three-year term: Mrs. L. L. Dunlap, Mrs. Harry F. Going, Will Flint of Novi and Alice D. Serrell and Sarah Van Hoesen Jones of Rochester.

Others were Mrs. Ann Hepler, Mrs. O. L. Beaudette, Mrs. Ross Stockwell, Adah Shelley and Mrs. Mary Green.

Sheath Styles Call for Molded Lines

Even if you're slim and trim, with nary an excess pound, your foundation wardrobe should include a corselet. Take a look at the sheath fashions in the stores, and you'll see why.

For one thing, those highplaced waistlines require a molded midriff. And those paneled skirts are only shapely when hips are controlled. A corselet does all of the figure-fashioning in one piece.

Renew School Skirts With Appliques

Practically every school girl has a wardrobe of cotton skirts, some of which may be looking a little weary after a season or so of hard wear.

A few minutes at the sewing machine can put new life in old skirts and brighten them up for the new school term. Local sewing center experts suggest adding colorful appliques to solid-color skirts, raiding the scrap-bag for fabrics.

Richard Poole, chairman of the restoration committee of the Oakland County Historical Foundation, talks with other members about some of the recent im-

Previewing his speech for the day, Pontiac, is the author of several books Mrs. W. M. Prall and Mrs. Allan Monroe, and a former Historian of the state of New York. In his speech Wednesday he members of the Oakland County Historical Foundation, chat with Arthur Pound, told of Pontiac's early history, especially of Ann Arbor. Mr. Pound, a native of the growth of the automobile industry.

Old Bedstead Making Comeback

NEW YORK (INS)—A glamorized version of the old bedstead, which in recent years has degenerated into an insignificant piece of furniture, is making a comeback.

Decorators are lavishing their full and complete attention on the modern bedroom and particularly on the old bedstead.

cent of the kind used by European nobility in ages past.

In some displays at the current national home furnishings show, the bed is being planted right in the middle of the room instead of being shoved over to one side near a closet door.

One dramatic room display had a dark-stained four-poster smack in the center of a room while another had a striking white four-poster with canopy as the focal point of a white and red room.

One designer introduced a bed suspended on tempered wires from the ceiling.

"It's easy to make up," he explained.

Food Gives Perspective on People

Gourmet Can Learn Folk Wisdom From Native Dishes

There are many levels on which you can pursue food as a culture. There is the gourmet point of view, the training of one's tongue, one's eye and one's nose to recognize small differences.

Without this ability it is impossible to develop as a critic, as an expert, or as a cook.

Once you start paying attention to food in this critical way you open new areas of speculation, you make observations about how food expresses national and racial differences, how it reflects economic conditions.

Thus the intellect comes into play, and you see food and cooking as an artifact, as living history. The folk wisdom and practices of any nation are embodied in their cooking traditions, and if you know how to analyze them you can learn much about their values.

Scientists have proved that many so-called racial and national characteristics—laziness, energy, persistence, or instability—often bear a direct relation to habits of eating.

Whatever your interests, whatever your bent, all roads of inquiry seem to lead in one way or another back to food, which is linked with every branch in the tree of cultural history.

Start Home Project on Shoestring

By ANNE HEYWOOD

You can learn something from everybody you meet. Often, it isn't the thing you expected to learn at all.

For example, I went to call on a young couple who have a tiny home-weaving business.

It's hardly more than a hobby, really, because the husband, Roy, has a full-time job and the wife, Hilda, has all the housework and three school-age children to care for.

But in their spare time, they turn out charming scarves and table mats. Several local shops stock them and the demand is small but consistent.

I went to see Roy and Hilda to get some pointers on weaving as a hobby, but I emerged with a good deal more than that.

A TABLE LOOM

I was surprised to find that they operate on a small, inexpensive table loom, because I had pictured one of the large, expensive professional ones. When I commented on this, Hilda and Roy both began to laugh.

"It's funny," Hilda said, "but when we first began to consider this kind of hobby, we did a lot of analyzing."

We started by making a list of all the people we knew whose home projects had failed.

"We thought we might learn something from that, especially if we could find any mistake they all had in common."

"And we found one, too," Roy added. "All of them had invested in expensive equipment, and plenty of it, at the very beginning. Now they have rooms full of unused, fancy tools."

IMPORTANT LESSON

"We decided there was an important lesson there. Not only is it a mistake to overinvest your money in the very beginning, it's more than that.

"We figured we could begin with a small setup and test our ingenuity, develop our skill and find out if artistically speaking, we had what it takes."

That's an important point to bear in mind, if you're considering a money-making project at home.

Begin with equipment that's just barely adequate and work up your skill as you go along. If you can do it on simple equipment, you can really shine later on.

Also, you can salt away the profits, as Roy and Hilda are doing, toward the day when you graduate to finer equipment.

If you're interested in starting a project at home, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my list of good books on making money at home. (Copyright 1936)

Safety Measures Urged by McCarroll Principal

Thomas Temple, principal of McCarroll PTA, urged parents to discuss and stress proper observance of safety regulations with their children.

Mr. Temple pointed out that classroom instruction includes the daily teaching of safety, which can be made more effective if such precautionary measures are carried into the home.

At the recent meeting Mrs. Harold Baughner invited the parents to attend a White House Conference on Education at Pontiac High School Nov. 8.

As chairman of the event, Mrs. Baughner announced the PTSA will sponsor a bake sale the day of the conference.

Albert Shaw entertained with several vocal selections from "The Connecticut Yankee" and "Show Boat," accompanied by Mrs. Royal Exline.

Allan Copley spoke of the functions of the visiting teacher and stated that Michigan is the first state to have an integrated visiting teacher program.

Mr. Copley said that such a program is employed when a behavior or emotional problem is apparent in the student.

He explained symptoms of emotional disturbance as an "amplification of things that already exist."

Mrs. Harold Powell presided at the tea table during the social hour.

Government Defends Its Handling of Crisis in Protecting Juliana

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—The Dutch government, replying to mounting criticism of its handling of royal crisis rumors, insisted yesterday it had done everything possible to protect Queen Juliana "from unjust attacks."

The government issued a communique which appeared aimed particularly at criticism coming directly from Queen Juliana's lord-in-waiting, Dr. I. G. Van Maasdijk.

He had accused former Foreign Minister J. W. Beyen of alarming the country by calling in news-men and expressing "deep concern" over the royal family's supposed difficulties.

The communique explained that what Beyen had done was to hold a confidential conference June 8 with the country's editors in chief "to prepare them for news stories which could be expected to appear in the foreign press."

The conference was held after consultation with Premier Willem Drees, the communique said.

Crisis talk had been smoldering since early this year, when stories began appearing in foreign newspapers of a rift between the Queen and her husband, Prince Bernhard.

Bernhard's opposition to the influential role played by the Queen's friend, faith healer Greet Hofmans, was blamed as the cause of the rift.

It was officially announced Aug. 24 that Queen Juliana had ended her association with the faith healer; and that the royal couple "now look forward to the future with confidence."

Prince Bernhard returned home today after a four-week vacation in East Africa.

THE BERRYS

Trees Gave Idea for 'Moonscrapper'

CHICAGO (INS)—Frank Lloyd Wright, architectural wizard and nature lover, says he conceived his projected mile-high "Moonscrapper" building—by looking at some trees.

These trees, he explained, were the ones left standing after a hurricane had smashed through a forest. They were the only ones left standing.

The 37-year-old Wright explained the trees had survived the storm because they had deep tap-roots. And that is how he plans the 325-story building he has suggested erecting on Chicago's lake front.

Wright presided at a three-day exhibition of his work at a Chicago hotel. Among small scale models and photographs of buildings and furniture he has designed, he showed 20-foot enlargement of his sketch of the "Moonscrapper."

The deeply anchored foundation would extend to the top of the building. Carrying out the three concept, Wright would build the construction around this center, like limbs on a tree.

Wright said a foundation similar to his tap-root design was used in the Johnson Wax Co. heliograph-tory at Racine, Wis., which he built. He added he also used the principle when he built the Price Tower in Oklahoma City.

The mile high building he wants to build in Chicago would be called "The Illinois," according to his present plans.

Wright said it would use atomic powered elevators—each five stories high—which would whiz upward one mile a minute on individual gears meshing with tooth-lined tracks running vertically.

He visualizes the entire building as being pressurized like the air controlled interior of some airliners.

Arthur Rubloff, a Chicago builder, estimated the building would cost three billion dollars. But Wright computes its cost at around 100 million dollars.

Wright sees such super buildings as the "city of tomorrow." However, he doesn't believe in city living for people. Being a nature lover, Wright would use the super buildings for places of work—several mile-high structures spaced apart as the "work zone."

A second zone would be another type of structure called the market zone where people would buy food, clothes and other needs. But they, themselves, would live quite apart from the commercial zones—in the living zone—"out in the country where they are close to nature and God."

Where Wrigleys Used to Be

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

For the past three weeks the word "fiery" had become something synonymous for the manager-to-be of the Detroit Tigers.

It was printed and re-printed that the new Tiger owners were looking for a "fiery-type" manager to run the ball club.

"That lets me out," said Bucky Harris. And he wanted no time moving out of the picture.

Just how fiery his successor Jack Tighe will be remains to be seen, but one thing is certain and in Tighe's favor. He had personality-plus and a keen sense of responsibility in handling young players.

Personality doesn't win pennants, but Tighe figures that even in executing authority there must be a mutual understanding between player and coach.

"I always try to put forth a little more, and I expect a player to give a little more effort," he said.

"I want the players to be loyal to me, because I will be loyal to them," he added, "and a lot more players must realize that what's good for the team is good for the individual."

TOO MANY INDIVIDUALISTS

Tighe did not name anyone in particular but he said he had the feeling the past season that "some of the players were out there thinking only of themselves, worrying over their own batting averages or pitching records."

To bear out Tighe's statement, the Tigers' final statistics this year showed the club hitting and pitching were even better than the Yankees, yet Detroit finished a dismal 5th.

"We could have finished in the 1st division—even as high as second," Tighe remarked.

The 43-year-old Tighe admitted he wanted the job badly. "I'd have taken it on a six-week contract," Tighe said. "The team will show the people more bustle than they've ever seen before."

Jack likes the words "fiery and aggressive." "There's a difference between an aggressive manager and a clown."

"An aggressive manager is a leader who is an inspiration to his players."

Those who attended Tiger games at Briggs Stadium during the past two years probably heard Tighe and never knew it.

That familiar whistle coming off the diamond was coach "Jack the Whistler" Tighe.

Next season it will come out of the Tiger dugout. DITTO FROM THE PRESS BOX

Tiger Publicity Director Neal "Doc" Fenkell says there is nothing to the rumor that he was leaving the job. "In fact I'm looking for an assistant," he said.

IRISH QB—Field general Paul Hornung will be the man Michigan State will have to watch when the Spartans tangle with Notre Dame at South Bend Saturday.

Eastern JVs Snatch Victory in Finale

A last-period touchdown, on a pass play that traveled over about 20 yards, snatched victory from defeat, yesterday for the Eastern Junior High varsity football team.

Larry Murray, Eastern halfback, grabbed a pass from Steve Thompson, went 10 yards for the tally. Count at that time, as the game ebbed, was 2-0 for Madison, in a JV Junior High league game at Eastern.

Madison got its two points on an automatic safety in the 2nd period after blocking an Eastern punt. Eastern had stopped Madison on the four, run two plays, then tried the punt that went astray.

Deny Theft Charges

LOS ANGELES (U)—Two UCLA football players have pleaded innocent to petty theft charges.

Court trial of Gerry McDougall, 21, Bruin tailback, and Richard E. Molen, 23, former freshman griddier, was set yesterday for Nov. 28.

MSU Must Beat "Spirit" of the Irish

EAST LANSING (U)—Coach Duffy Daugherty, himself with a dash of the Irish, has warned his Michigan State football players they'll have to beat the Notre Dame spirit as well as the team.

Daugherty made the spirit of the fighting Irish the subject of a lecture to the squad on the practice field.

"They'll be way up for this one," he told the team. "They'll be calling on the spirit of the Four Horsemen, George Gipp and Knute Rockne to help them win this one."

Daugherty went along on this vein for a while. "But Knute Rockne can't tackle you on Saturday, can he?" the coach suddenly shot at Clarence Peaks, State's star halfback. "No, he can't coach," answered Peaks. "But if he did, I'd run right out of the stadium."

As State was going down the home stretch in preparing for the biggest game left on the MSU schedule, there was encouraging news from the line, where a pair of Michigan State injuries are expected to be performing in top shape again.

Guard Dan Currie, one of the roughest of the regulars, also is hitting with total impact after being slowed by a badly bruised hip.

Another standout in the line play is expected to be Joel Jones, a 220-pound, six foot tackle from Weirton, W. Va. Jones, shifted from defensive end last year, is cat-quick and loves to rock the opposition.

Against MSU, ranked No. 2 nationally and pressing Oklahoma for top recognition, Irish Coach Terry Brennan will field one of the greenest teams in the school's history.

For the first time since the Southern California game of 1953, Notre Dame will appear at a kickoff as an underdog. The Spartans are listed 14 or 15-point favorites.

There is great incentive for an upset in the regionally televised engagement, for the Irish have bowed to MSU in four of their last five games.

In Brennan's head coaching debut last year, the Spartans won 21-7. The Irish's only other loss in 10 starts was a 1-3 record, dropping decisions of 18-13 to Southern Methodist and 26-14 to Purdue, and defeating Indiana 20-4. MSU buried Indiana 28-0 last week, to go with victories of 21-7 over Stanford and 9-0 over Michigan.

Not since 1950 has Notre Dame lost as many as four games in one season and the most it has ever dropped since 1937 was five in 1933.

Washington's Skein Snapped

Jefferson Ends Braves' 22-Game Streak, 7-6, to Win Junior High Title

Jefferson 7, Washington 6! That was the final score Wednesday afternoon at Wigner Stadium as Jefferson Junior High wrote finis to Washington's long unbeaten skein and won the Pontiac Junior High League football championship at the same time.

Couch Don Kelly's Braves were riding the crest of a 22-game unbeaten string and four consecutive Junior High League titles. Until yesterday they had not lost since the 1953 season. Their streak consisted of 19 wins and three ties.

Jefferson, which indicated right at the start that it was bent on relieving Washington of its crown by mowing down three opponents, struck for glory in the early minutes of the 1st quarter.

The Warriors marched to the Washington 15-yard line from where quarterback Allen Howze pitched a touchdown pass to end Joe McCauley. Charles Brown converted the all-important extra point from placement.

Washington struck swiftly for its touchdown when Isaac Jones grabbed the ensuing kickoff and sprinted 70 yards untouched down the sidelines. Bob Greenhalgh's placekick for the tying point was wide.

Dick Craig's Warriors crossed the Washington goal once more on a 25-yard end run by Brown in the 2nd period, but an offside penalty nullified the play.

Howze and halfback Dick McCauley sparked the Jefferson attack while end Bill Lee and guard Willie Driver were standouts defensively. Jones starred both ways for the ill-fated Braves.

Steve Thompson's touchdown pass to Larry Murray handed Eastern a 6-2 decision over Madison yesterday in a Junior Varsity game at Eastern.

BACK IN ACTION—Michigan State's two first string tackles, Don Currie (left) and Pat Burke, who saw only limited action in the past two games because of injuries are now back in top physical condition and ready for the Notre Dame game at South Bend Saturday. They went through some dummy drills at workout yesterday.

Plans Running Game

Tighe Wants Team of 'Fire'

DETROIT (U)—The Detroit Tigers, best second half ball club in the American League in 1956, will be full of fire and vinegar from opening day in 1957 if their new manager, Jack Tighe, has his way.

Twenty-four hours after taking over his first major league managing job, Tighe today reviewed his prospects this way:

"My players will be in shape and will stay that way. We have the basis for a good team. We should have finished in first division this past season, maybe in second place. We'll run instead of wait for the home run. There will be a curfew."

Tighe knows the club. He has been a coach for the Tigers for the past two seasons. And his selection as manager to succeed Bucky Harris came as no surprise.

Tighe was first choice of the new Tiger owners who took control of the club after the season ended. He also was in favor of the earlier regime and would have been named manager during the season had Harris quit earlier as was frequently rumored.

The Tiger resurgence in 1956 came with the sale of the club by the Briggs family to a syndicate of radio and television executives headed by Fred Knorr and John Fetzer.

From the start of the season to July 17, the date of the sale, Detroit had a 36-46 record. From July 17 to the end of the season the club had a 46-26 mark, best in the league.

Tigers Trying to Get Rosen

DETROIT (INS)—John McHale, director of player personnel for the Detroit Tigers, disclosed today that he has been trying to get Cleveland Indians' third baseman Al Rosen in a trade.

McHale said: "We talked with Hank Greenberg about Rosen, but he wanted too much. He may change his mind."

Rosen was evidently put on the sale block after Greenberg, Cleveland general manager, publicly said that Rosen was a player of "lost confidence" as the result of repeated booing. Jack Tighe, new Tiger manager, wants to shift Boone to first base.

The Harried Tigers rarely held strategy meetings. Some of the newer men felt Harris ignored them.

But Tighe says: "We'll have frequent clubhouse meetings, where we can talk over the other clubs and work out our strategy. I'm a firm believer in that."

As to his needs in 1957 Tighe figures he ought to have one more good regular, more relief pitching and a stronger bench. He helped engineer the move that sent Ray Boone home for the winter with a first baseman's glove and may consider shifting Harvey Kuenn to third.

In line with these experiments the Tigers last night bought a minor league third baseman, George Risley from Sacramento. Risley was Pacific Coast League's all star third sacker last season. Working with Tighe as coaches will be Billy Hitchcock, a hold-over; Willis Hudlin, the former Cleveland star, as pitching coach; and Don Lund, who has been a Tiger scout.

Gillman Says Rams Will Rise If Offense Clicks

MILWAUKEE (U)—Coach Sid Gillman, whose Los Angeles Rams won the Western Conference title in the national Football league last year said today "when our offense plays up to capacity, we'll be up there were we belong."

Gillman and the Rams are in town for a Sunday meeting with the Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee County Stadium. Both teams will take 1-2 records into the game.

Both Gillman and Liz Blackburn, coach of the Packers, expected better things this season from their charges who trail the division leader, Detroit, and the second-place Chicago Bears. The Lions have a 3-0 record, while Chicago is 2-1.

Gillman explained the Rams' situation by saying "I think we've got a better team in every respect than a year ago, but mistakes have hurt us. We're either going to have to correct those errors immediately or we're going to be killed in this division."

In talking about mistakes he apparently referred to such things as the seven Los Angeles fumbles that led to five scores by the San Francisco 49ers who took a 33-30 victory a week ago Sunday and the failure of the offense to click in the first half in losing to Detroit, 24-21, last weekend.

"We can't expect to win playing like that," Gillman said. Then he predicted that a 7-4 record will win the conference title and add "when our offense starts playing up to capacity, we'll be up there where we belong. Our defense has looked real good."

Dodgers Set Loser's Record

Each Yank Receives $8,715 for Winning Series

NEW YORK (U)—The biggest pick-up by the Cleveland Indians in 1954, with 34 full shares of the $708,561.63 World Series players pool went to 32 members of the world champion New York Yankees who pocketed $8,715.76. Twenty-eight members of Brooklyn Dodgers collected full shares of $6,934.34—a record losers' share.

The previous losers' high was pool of $881,763.72. The players' pool is derived from the first four games.

A total of 330 players, managers, coaches, batboys, ballboys, clubhouse attendants, trainers, groundskeepers and traveling secretaries dipped into the 1956 pool.

The Yankees, taking a $50 top share cut by voting late-comer Enos Slaughter a higher percentage while the series was in progress, and the Dodgers split 70 per cent of the melon. The total share amounted to $520,993.15 with the Yankees getting $318,595.89 in the final figures announced by Commissioner Ford Frick yesterday for the seven-game series.

When Brooklyn defeated the Yankees in seven games in 1955, the player's pool was about $21,000 less. But the Dodgers' full shares were worth $3,768.21. The Yankees' top shares were $5,598.58.

Cleveland and Milwaukee, the second-place clubs in the pennant races, divide 15 per cent of the 1956 pool ($56,892.12 each); the third-place Chicago White Sox and Cincinnati take 10 per cent ($37,928.08 each), and fourth-place Boston and St. Louis 5 per cent ($18,964.04 each).

The Yankees also voted three members, outfielder Norm Sie-bern, Slaughter and clubhouse man Pete Sheehy, three-quarter shares. They upped Slaughter from a half share (a 2,100 hike) after the first series game with Frick's approval.

All the figures are before taxes. In cutting up their slice, the Dodgers sent pitcher Johnny Podres, the 1955 series hero now in the Navy, a $500 cash grant. They had done the same for Don Newcombe when he was in service in 1953.

Net receipts for the series totaled $2,183,254.59 (compared to last year's $2,337,515.34 net). Of that, $1,180,204.76 went to the clubs and the leagues and $327,488.20 to the commissioner's office. That left $675,561.63 for the players' pool, which was padded by $83,000 from pre-game television programs.

The full shares for the second, third and fourth-place finishers came out like this: Cleveland ($1), $1,649.65; Milwaukee ($3), $1,586.32; Chicago ($29), $1,112.75; Cincinnati ($29), $1,185.25; Boston ($34), $505.71; St. Louis ($30), $602.03.

The slimmest share was the $50 voted by the White Sox to pitcher Dick Marlowe, a late-season addition to the roster.

Tired 'Bums' in Tokyo

Get Enthusiastic Welcome

TOKYO (U)—Brooklyn's Baseball Dodgers, weary and five hours late, landed here today to a rain-dampened but enthusiastic welcome for their barnstorming tour of Japan.

A chartered Pan-American DC-7C carrying the Dodgers from Honolulu was delayed more than five hours at Wake Island by a defective brake and a half-flat tire.

"Man, we're beat," said third baseman Jackie Robinson as he walked down the ramp. "We were on the plane, off the plane, on the plane, off the plane. We're tired."

A crowd variously estimated at 3-4,000, mostly school children, waved flags and cheered loudly as the tired "Bums" filed from the plane.

Upsets Start U. S. Olympic Boxing Trials

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—An expected "easy winner" in the featherweight division was eliminated and other solid favorites wondered today if they'd fall prey to upsets that marked opening bouts in the U.S. Olympic Boxing Trials.

Francis Lee, rangy Navy champ from Pittsburgh, won a close decision from Seattle's Bobbie Hicks to snap the Northwestern fighter's victory string at 45. Lee scored a knockdown in the second round and battered his young opponent with repeated blows to the body.

Hicks, a 17-year-old high school junior, had been the unanimous choice to win the Olympic featherweight berth.

Only about half the 105 entrants, representing service, collegiate, AAU and Golden Gloves teams, saw action in the 30-bout card. The others, including many top-ranked battlers, fight tonight for semifinal spots.

The best fight last night eliminated a pair of slugging welterweights. Henry Brown, the Navy champ from Wichita, Kan., knocked out Willie Moran of Louisville with a third-round punch that caught the southeastern boxer off guard and sent him sprawling.

Upsets ousted two other favorites. Sammy Rollins, rated one of New York's classiest lightweights, lost by a TKO to Fred Jackson of the Air Force after piling up a big lead. Rollins was staggered with a right to the jaw early in the third round. He went down a minute later under a barrage of rights and lefts to the head and Referee Frankie Carter called a halt.

Dean Plemmons, NCAA flyweight king from the University of Wisconsin dropped a decision to Hawaii's Ray Perez in a 132-pound quarter-final. Perez earlier outpointed Army champ Sherrisale Morgan.

Two knockouts and five TKOs dotted the first night program.

Home Town Welcome

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP) — Yankee pitcher Johnny Kucks, who beat Brooklyn in the last game of the World Series, was given a home-town welcome yesterday.

Mayor Bernard J. Berry honored the pitcher at City Hall after a motorcade through downtown streets. Johnny was handed a watch, the key to the city and other gifts.

Expect Record Crowd for BC-Flint Battle

BAY CITY (AP) — If Flint Northern can't come up tomorrow night with any better football team than it has with advance sale of reserved seats, the Vikings are in for trouble from Bay City Central.

That was the general consensus here today as irate followers of the unbeaten Wolves still stormed the high school office, hoping some kind soul might have a stray paste-board unaccounted for.

Never in the history of Saginaw Valley Conference football has the advance ticket demand been that for this clash between the unbeaten Class A powers in the state, and the No. 1 contenders for the Valley grid championship.

Northern flushed out some 900 tickets for Bay City fans early Monday morning and without advance notice, all were sold within an hour and a half.

Calls, prepaid telegrams and actual trips to Flint drove Northern Faculty Manager Gene Reccelli into his storm cellar, and harassed Bay City Central authorities are about to follow suit.

A short distance away, however, on the Central practice football field, the picture had a saner look.

Coach Elmer Engel, who has rolled up an amazing 43-14-2 record in six short years in Bay City, is pointing what he considers his best team for an undefeated record. Twice now, Engel has missed by only one, but that all-elusive perfect mark is still up for grabs.

Chiefs Facing Added Woes

By BILL CORNWELL

Two weighty problems are facing Ed Graybiel this week as the Pontiac High mentor drills his gridders in preparation for Saturday night's Saginaw Valley test against Arthur Hill at Saginaw's Memorial Stadium.

Graybiel's biggest worry concerns the injury to halfback Jim Shorter, who is called the best pass defender in the Valley by the PHS coach. Shorter sustained a bruised ankle in the Flint Central game and may not be ready for the Lumberjacks.

The absence of Shorter and his defensive skill would be sorely missed against a feared Arthur Hill passing attack. Shorter has practiced very little this week and his use Saturday, if any, would probably be limited.

Graybiel's 2nd headache is an intangible problem. He is hoping that his boys are not down mentally after last Friday's heartbreaking 13-12 loss to Central. Team spirit seems fairly good, he said.

Aside from Shorter's injury, everyone else is reported in sound physical condition. Scrimmage sessions have been abandoned to avoid injuries. No lineup changes are planned at this time, Graybiel said.

Pass defense has been stressed in practices in an effort to counteract the aerial artistry of quarterback Jim Draves, the Jacks' deceptive signal caller whom Graybiel says the Chiefs must stop.

Graybiel pointed out, however, that pass defense was not being emphasized to the extent of sacrificing their defense against a running attack, because the Hillites have been scouted twice and the Pontiac coaching staff knows that they also have a strong ground game.

Considerable time has also been devoted to offensive work in an attempt to get the attack clicking better. Graybiel feels confident that his runners will be able to gain on the ground against the Jacks.

"The boys have been looking okay in practice," Graybiel reported. "and I think they have the stuff to win." "This would be a good one to win and it would certainly give them new confidence," he added.

"We know we're definite underdogs because of comparative scores, but we're used to that," Graybiel concluded.

The Chiefs and Arthur Hill are about even in the weight department. Pontiac has bigger backs while the Jacks have a heavier line.

Don January's 130 Wins at Apple Valley

APPLE VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Don January of Lampasas, Tex., won the $5,000 Apple Valley Clambake Golf Tournament yesterday with a seven-under-par 33-32-64, giving him a 130 total for the 36 holes.

Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, finished with a blazing 31-32-63 to tie for second at 136 with Ernie Voelker, Midland, Tex., and Bill Trombley, Dallas. Finsterwald's mark set a new course record, January, having set the old record the day before with a 66.

Klisanin Top Back on Showing Against UD

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jim Klisanin, veteran Wichita halfback who was jerked from the starting lineup and responded with three touchdown runs, was named Back of the Week in Missouri Valley football.

Removed by Coach Pete Tillman in favor of Ed Postok, the 171-pound McKeesport, Pa., senior came in with the second unit and produced scoring runs of 30, 12 and 23 yards as Wichita ended a three-game losing streak by beating Detroit 19-13. Klisanin also kicked his team's only extra point.

No Pre-Game Efforts

MELBOURNE (AP) — The Australian Olympic Federation has banned Australian competitors from taking part in the international competitions here before the games.

"We won't be party to any games previews," the federation told amateur sports officials.

An international athletics meeting is planned in Olympic Park on Nov. 10.

Lane May Fight Ryff Nov. 7 If NBA Approves

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — National Boxing Assn. President Floyd Stevens today indicated that a suspension against Kenny Lane would be lifted in time for the Muskegon lightweight to meet Frankie Ryff at Miami, Fla., in a match scheduled Nov. 7.

"I feel that the Lane situation will be resolved at our Oct. 26 meeting in Detroit," Stevens said. The Miami Boxing Commission approved the bout last night despite an indefinite NBA suspension against Lane pending investigation of a contract dispute in New Orleans.

Face Toledo Yearlings

DETROIT — University of Detroit's freshman football team will make its 2nd appearance of the season tonight, when the Titan yearlings face the University of Toledo's frosh on the Toledo gridiron at 8 o'clock.

Detroit lost its opener to Bowling Green last week, 19 - 6.

11th Annual Memorial Gathering Honors Berg

Marking the start of the 2nd decade of existence, the unique Billy Pike Memorial Association last night held its 11th annual dinner and award meeting. Event took place at Highland Manor, where 25 were in attendance.

Jim Berg, former PHS athlete, catcher-manager for the Oliver Bulck club of the Class A City Baseball League this year, was honored with the 1956 award. He followed Terry Thomas, 1955 winner. Charles Irish made the award.

Among honored guests, besides Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Pike, parents of Billy, a city league star for whom the memorial is named, were Chas. Finkell, Tiger public relations man, and A. W. (Ziggy) Thompson of Wayne State University. All were heard in brief talks, and Pierce was invited to become the 1st honorary member of the association.

Billy Pike lost his life in World War II.

Others, many of whom were recipients of the award, included

Logart's Rating Still Stands Up

BOSTON (AP) — The high rating of Isaac (Kid) Logart as a contender for the world's welterweight championship still appeared justified today despite a 10-round decision loss to unranked Gaspar Ortega of Mexico.

The 23-year-old Cuban, rated the No. 3 contender by the National Boxing Assn. and Ring Magazine, was upset by Ortega in a nationally televised bout last night on some surprising vote-casting by the officials.

The referee and one judge voted for Ortega and the second judge a draw. Boxing writers had Logart the winner by a 5-1 margin, while several other veteran ring men also figured the Cuban had won.

Logart subjected Ortega to a heavy body battering from the opening bell, but the Mexican Indian's last-round rally gained him the votes of referee Eddie Curley and Judge John Norton.

The 1911 Yankees were the first baseball club to choose a training site outside the U.S. They went to Bermuda.

Colt Loop Unaffected by California 'Bolt'

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The Colt Baseball League will remain very much in business with a solid organization east of the Mississippi, Commissioner Michael O'Neill said today in face of a bolt by Southern California members.

In a meeting at Riverside, Calif., Tuesday night, members in that section voted to withdraw from the national organization and start a rival circuit for 15 and 16-year-olds.

Waterford After Title Stakes

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The chips are stacked on the table for Waterford High School. The Skippers can take or lose all with a big patch toward the Inter-Lakes title at stake when they tangle with Southfield on the Jay gridiron Friday afternoon.

At the season's start victory would have been just about conceded to Southfield, but now coach Monte Charles has the serious task of reviving the Jays who have fallen apart in their last two games.

"How do you figure it," said Charles, "we hold three teams scoreless to start the season and then give up 66 points in two games."

Being ready mentally isn't the only worry for Charles. The Jays are riddled with injuries. Four starting linemen, defensive tackles Ron Mitty and Jay Fraser, defensive guard Don Mariuz and line-backer Bob Waldron, will not be ready Friday.

Mitty suffered a broken arm. Mariuz torn arm ligaments. Fraser a torn knee cartilage and Waldron an ankle sprain.

To reinforce the line, Charles has moved ends Berrie Misovich and Len Lamb to the tackle posts, and put a pair of sophomores Jim Stela and Tom Kitley at the terminals.

Two big changes in the backfield will have Jim McCann, 175, replacing 250 pound Jim Zurcher at fullback, and Bob Benson, a 170 pound senior at quarterback.

Stopping the county's leading scorer, halfback Ron Brewer, will be Waterford's big task. Brewer has scored 66 points with 11 TD's thus far.

The Skippers, unbeaten in five games, can't afford to take the Jays lightly especially on the Southfield gridiron where the Charles crew seems to regain its poise.

Coach Dave Freeman has been concentrating on his offensive unit in preparation for the game.

"We've worked on defense all season, and our offense has suffered," said Freeman.

Impressed with some of his 2nd stringers in last week's game at Berkley, Freeman plans a two-platoon backfield of experience and speed.

Veterans in the regular backfield include quarterback Warren Miksch, Lyndon Salathiel, Terry Haines and either Stan Jones or Ed Clark.

In the backfield of speed merchants, Freeman has Jim Green, Jerry Nelson, LeRoy Vogt and Aaron Wright.

Big factor in the crucial game could be the punting of Salathiel who is averaging 44 yards a try this season.

Waterford and Walled Lake share the I-L lead presently, and while the Vikings may be in for a rough time at Van Dyke, the Skippers will have to be at their best against the host Jays.

Game time at Southfield is 3:30 p.m.

face Jack Fitzpatrick's dangerous Lapeer team. Romeo stays home to meet the challenge of Oxford.

The Rochester-Lapeer struggle will bring together two of the classiest halfbacks in the Oakland County area, Rochester's Dave Peters and Tom Wilson of the Panthers, points respectively this season, are scheduled to match their talents.

Wilson's passing and running are constant threats while Peters has been the mainstay of the Rochester attack. Lapeer has won three and lost two.

Ted Engdahl's Bulldogs, currently rated 9th in Michigan in Class B, will be heavily favored to whip Oxford. The Wildcats, who own a 3-2 record, are lacking too much in offensive punch to be a threat to Romeo.

Bloomfield Hills, rested after a week's layoff, entertains Detroit Country Day tomorrow afternoon in a Southeast Suburban game.

Southern Thumb member Memphis gambles its unbeaten record against invading Inlay City, defending champion of the South Central Conference. Inlay, sparked by Orill Frantz, has gained four victories while losing once.

Two holes-in-one were posted by two members of the same foursome Thursday at Bald Mountain Golf Club. Police officer Owen Johnson and Frank Hill, both of Berkley, were the golfers who turned the trick.

Johnson, 3733 Thomas, used the 172-yard 6th hole with a 4-iron. The ball struck the flag on the fly and wedged into the cup. Hill, 2131 Sunnyside, used a No. 2 wood to sink his shot on the 185-yard 8th hole.

Johnson, who has toured the links for 10 years, fired an 86. Hill, a 15-year player, shot a 3-over-par 74.

Attesting to the two aces were Rev. Joe Morone and Rev. Orrin Van Loon Jr., both from Berkley. The two holes-in-one brought Bald Mountain's 1956 season to seven.

Average major league baseball game in 1955 required 2 hours 32 minutes.

Traylor Is Lost to Baylor Team

WACO, Tex. (AP)—The undefeated Baylor Bears lacked the services of Doyle Traylor, hard-luck champion of the Southwest Conference, again today after the quarterback broke his ankle in practice.

Traylor broke his left ankle yesterday when tackled while running a split-T option play. He fell with his leg under him and the ankle cracked.

He was expected to be out the remainder of the season.

It's STATE and MICHIGAN!

By DICK DUNKEL
It says here that Michigan State's football Spartans have rated themselves 21 points over their opponents of last Saturday.

They're playing Notre Dame. Shades of the Gipper! Not since the last war years has such an indignity been visited upon the Fighting Irish.

It was back in 1944 when the last previous Notre Dame team was rated to lose by such a margin. And it did—to the Army steamroller driven by Blanchard and Davis.

While Michigan State, the No. 2 team in the Power Index, is thus engaged, the present top rated, Oklahoma will be visiting Kansas. The P. I. gives the Sooners a 25-point edge.

Other members of the upper crust show the following past performance ratios over their Saturday opponents: No. 3 Mississippi, 39 over Tulsa; No. 4 Michigan, 28 over Northwestern; No. 5 TCU, 14 over Texas A. & M.; and No. 6 Southern California, 11 over Washington.

The Power Index has indicated winners correctly in 77.8 per cent of 626 games, other than ties, covered to date.

Rating differences in other big games of the week-end are:

Sat. Saturday—Syracuse 13 over Army, Navy 15 over Cincinnati, Yale 20 over Cornell, Princeton 7 over Colgate, Holy Cross 1 over Dartmouth.

Midweek, Saturday—Indiana 2 over Nebraska, Minnesota 13 over Illinois, Missouri 22 over Kansas State, Ohio State 11 over Penn State, and Wisconsin 1 over Purdue.

Power Index ratings are past performance averages. Example: a 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger, per game, than its opponent.

Prep League Titles Hang in Balance

League championships will be hanging in the balance for a handful of Oakland County teams Friday as the 1936 high school football season swings into the remaining half of the schedule.

Crucial games are on tap in five different conferences tomorrow, with victory a "must" for several squads if they are entertaining any title ambitions.

Birmingham, defending Eastern Michigan League champion, finds itself backed up against the wall as it awaits the invasion of mighty East Detroit, unbeaten and untied in five games and ranked No. 4 among the state's Class A teams.

Alva Asbury's Shamrocks will be prohibitive favorites to defeat the Maples and end their one-year reign. Birmingham's league record is two wins and one loss while the Shamrocks have a loop mark of 2-0.

Two contests of vital importance are scheduled in the Inter-Lakes Conference — Waterford at Southfield and Walled Lake at Van Dyke.

Before last week's action rolled around, Van Dyke would probably have been considered a pushover for the Vikings by most observers. But this is not so now.

The Abes served notice that they are not a pushover by any means when they laced strong Southfield, 26-6, last Friday. They are still the defending champs and they're not going to relinquish their title without a fight.

Southfield, smarting under two straight setbacks, could easily prove a pitfall for the Skippers. Walled Lake and Waterford, both undefeated and untied in five tries, are currently sharing the Inter-Lakes lead with identical 3-0 records.

Another pair of highly significant games are slated in the Oakland B circuit. Troy, Clawson, Avondale and Lake Orion, all chasing the crown, are confronted with "do or die" efforts.

Clawson and Troy, both unbeaten in league play, clash at Troy in an afternoon scrap. The Dragons and Avondale, each beaten once in league activity, square off at Avondale, with the lower facing virtual elimination from the race.

Milford, upset by surging Holly last week, lays its Wayne-Oakland title hopes on the block at Brighton. The host school, stunned by West Bloomfield a week ago, finds itself in a similar position. Both teams have dropped one league decision.

Northville, presently occupying 1st place in the W.O., is heavily favored to down Clarkston on the Clarkston gridiron and Holly should keep its title hopes alive by disposing of visiting Clarenceville.

Tiny Dryden and New Haven collide in an important southern Thumb League game at New Haven. Undelected New Haven, last year's champion, rates a slight edge over the Cardinals, who entered their 1st setback a week ago at the hands of Memphis.

Other league attractions Friday are Ferndale at Port Huron and Mt. Clemens at Hazel Park in the Eastern Michigan; Farmington at Berkley in the Inter-Lakes; Roseville at Fitzgerald in the Oakland B; and Almont at Capac and Brown City at Armada, the latter a Saturday tilt, in the Southern Thumb.

Center Line invades Warren and league-leading Lake Shore plays host to Lakeview in Bi-County tussles while Orionville goes to North Branch for the only scheduled South Central Conference encounter.

Cranes Meet Nichols II in Inter-State Action

Thrice-beaten Cranbrook goes to the post as the underdog again Saturday when Nichols School of Buffalo comes here for an Inter-State League contest starting at 11 a.m.

The Cranes have won only once this season and have lost the last two starts by wide margins.

AIMING — The "big aim" for Walled Lake and quarterback Larry Dion tomorrow is dangerous Van Dyke. The Vikings must win to stay in contention for the Inter-Lakes title.

Nichols is not expected to provide a letup for Coach Fred Campbell's men with a 2-1 record and capable performers at every position.

The inability to move the ball consistently and numerous defensive lapses have been responsible for the Crane downfall, according to Campbell who has been trying to overcome these problems in daily practice sessions.

Cranbrook has scored 54 points in four games this year while allowing opponents 99, 62 in the past two tilts.

Campbell plans to go with his regular starting unit Saturday but expects to do considerable lineup juggling during the contest in an effort to find his best combination.

Current plans call for the Cranes to fill the air with passes against the bigger New Yorkers with the Daves, Cooper and Campbell, throwing to end Chuck Grube and backs Henry Bartholomew and Tom Miltmore.

'M' Seeks First Big 10 Win

ANN ARBOR — Winner over Army in its final non-conference tilt this season, Michigan will seek to break into the Big Ten victory column against Northwestern's resurgent Wildcats here Saturday before an expected crowd of 78,000.

The Wolverines will line up for the 1:30 p.m. kick-off with a record of two non-league victories over UCLA, 42-13, and Army, 48-14, and a conference loss, 9-0 to Michigan State.

Northwestern will take the field with a victory over Iowa State, 14-13, a loss to Tulane, 20-13 and a surprising 0-0 tie with Minnesota last Saturday.

Michigan came through the contest with the Cadets practically unscathed as far as injuries are concerned and gained a starting left halfback in Jim Pace, letterman junior, who will team with veteran Terry Barr at right half, to give the Wolverines greatly improved backfield speed.

Pace was given a last minute starting assignment last week, scored one touchdown and picked up 32 yards in nine plays as well as pitching one pass for seven yards.

He will alternate with Bob Ptacek, husky sophomore, who gained 22 yards in six plays.

This combination will give Michigan top strength at a position that had Coach Bennie Oosterbaan concerned over its lack of depth.

In all other positions the Wolverine line-up will be the same as that which faced Army, Michigan State and UCLA. Big John Herrstein will be at fullback with Jim Van Pelt at quarterback.

Barr at right half leads the Wolverine groundgaining backs with a 5.6 yard average on 123 yards in 22 plays.

Ron Kramer, who teamed with Tom Maentz at the ends, despite a hair-line fracture of his left hand, High School Band Day at the game caught two passes during limited service for 64 yards. Despite a slight neck injury and some bruises he is expected to be in last year.

better shape this weekend than he was for Army.

A total of 10,500 high school musicians representing 171 bands from all parts of the state will participate in the eighth annual Michigan High School Band Day at the game Saturday. This is a reduction from the record number of 181 bands and 11,500 youngsters who participated in last year.

Off the Grapevine

West Bloomfield's victory over Brighton last week plus a few other surprises really threw the grapevine for a loop.

But sports writers are a determined lot, so here we go again as we hang on to the grapevine which by this time is getting to be a pretty thin strand.

The Waterford-Southfield, Lake Orion-Avondale and Milford-Brighton games caused us the greatest amount of thought on this week's schedule.

Are you ready? Read 'em and weep.

Small-Game Army Awaits Season's Start

LANSING (INS) — One of the largest shotgun armies in Michigan hunting history is expected to turn out at 10 a.m. Saturday morning for the major opening of the small game season.

Harry D. Ruhl, head of the conservation department game division, said he anticipates that record numbers of hunters will be out in the fields Saturday. He said an especially large number of youngsters and "first-time" hunters will be out since the season opens on a weekend.

Although, cock pheasants will be the main attraction in the Lower Peninsula, black squirrels will be legal game for the first time in 45 years. In 1911 when conservation officers were ordered to close the season on the jet blacks, the public was of the opinion that they were a separate species.

Game biologists of that day tried to explain to the legislators that blacks were merely a color variation of the common gray squirrels. It apparently took 45 years for that information to sink in.

On the opening Saturday, Ruhl warned hunters to be "careful of fires, the gun and be sure of your target." A "green" hunter or an excited hunter who is overly anxious to bag game is more likely to shoot a human.

The game chief added that ruffed grouse, woodcock, hares and rabbits and fox, gray and black squirrels become legal targets Saturday morning.

The cock pheasant situation was reviewed once more by game expert, Ralph I. Blouch in an article "Ringnecks '56," in the latest issue of "Michigan Conservation" magazine.

"Hunting may be tougher than usual this fall, particularly early in the season," he wrote. "The late spring and abundant summer rains are surely going to delay the corn and bean harvest. That means a lot of good escape cover for wily cock birds on opening day."

Blouch continued: "Then too, for the same reason most other cover will doubtless be ranker and heavier than usual on Oct. 20, and the odds will be just that much higher for quickly educated roosters."

"All things considered, however, it's going to be another good pheasant season."

Michigan isn't the only place with a pheasant problem. Last month, the Ontario department of lands and forests announced that Pelee Island hunting—usually the best spot in North Amer.

ica—pheasants are about 30 per cent off normal. Pennsylvania hunters face a similar problem. The game commission in the Keystone state is also worried about a poor wing season.

First Place Battle

Clawson, Troy 11's Primed

Conditions are ripe for a slambang, give-and-take battle Friday afternoon at Troy when the Colts and Clawson renew their bitter football rivalry.

A possible Oakland B League championship will be at stake for both schools in this smouldering feud. Troy is leading the conference with a 3-0 mark, hotly pursued by the Trojans who have three wins and a tie to their credit.

Tomorrow's encounter will pit Troy's straightaway power against Clawson's speed and deception.

The spearheads of the Troy attack are halfback Sim Acton and fullback Dick Kelly. Acton, hilly recovered from his leg injury suffered in the Avondale game, is a hard-running ball carrier while Kelly gains his yardage by making bull-like rushes into the line.

Sparkling Clawson's offense is quarterback Tom Kollin, one of Oakland County's leading scorers who used to be a student at Troy. Backing Kollin are halfback John Volk, 128-pound scabbard Doug Scott and fullback Lowell Acton, cousin of Troy's Sim.

Troy has been a revitalized team under new head coach Joe Bechard. When the 1955 season began, Troy was gripped in the throes of a 17-game losing streak. The Colts broke the string on the last game of the season and have been going strong ever since. Ironically, their last win prior to the slump was over Clawson.

should be the underdog, a typical view by a football mentor on the eve of a big one.

Rochester, Lapeer County First Civic Concerts This Week

First Civic Music Concerts being presented in the area include those of Rochester and Lapeer County this week. The Lapeer County Civic Music Assn. will present its concert tonight and Rochester's first event is scheduled for Saturday. Both will star America's popular two-piano team, Nelson and Neal.

The Lapeer concert will be held at Lapeer High School at 8 p.m., with all tickets having been sold out for the event.

Rochester's Saturday event will be held in the high school at 8 p.m. Tickets were sold out last spring and no seats are available to the general public.

A fascinating story surrounds the talented piano team. They travel in a specially constructed mobile unit.

The luxurious 35-foot bus contains complete living facilities for them, their two children, maid and chauffeur.

Tucked in the back are two specially matched Baldwin pianos which slide down a specially designed track and are wheeled onto the stage in 45 minutes. Three hours are spent before the concert tuning the pianos. The concert commences two hours, then the Neals have time to "be sociable" before retiring.

The two met while students at the two met while students at Mrs. Neal was Australia's leading child prodigy and was brought to this country in 1914. Harry Neal studied with pedagogue, Mme. Isabelle Vengerova. That was eight years ago. They were married on New Year's Day in 1949 and their life is said to have spiraled from there.

ARTHUR TO BE AT ROCHESTER, LAPEER

For seven and a half years they travel in their mobile home, and the remainder of the time they spend in Paris, Tennessee, where Mr. Neal's parents maintain their 13-room, 180 year old southern colonial home. There they work with antiques, polish up their piano work and just live normal lives.

The pianos they use in their concerts are presents from the Baldwin Piano Company in recognition of their outstanding accomplishments. The specially matched concert grands will be used in the appearances here.

POURED CANDLES FOR YULE—It's never too early to start Christmas decorations, and these candles of white and tinted paraffin are among items done by Mrs. J. D. Benedict, left, and Mrs. William Armstrong and other Northminster Presbyterian Church women for their bazaar. The event is slated for Nov. 3 at 10 a. m. at the new church on Big Beaver road in Troy.

For Northminster Bazaar

Try Candle Tricks for Funds

By DOROTHY JEAN ZACK

TROY — Spooning whipped paraffin onto remodeled, blocky candles and sprinkling the irregular form with glitter is a trick the Northminster Presbyterian Church women have learned to achieve modern Yuletide decor.

And the women, banded together for their first church bazaar, for the church only was dedicated short months ago, are busily making such modern Christmas items. The bazaar is Nov. 3 at the church at 10 a.m.

"It's easy and can be very colorful," points out Mrs. J. D. Benedict as she wields an eggbeater on a bowl of melted paraffin. For her demonstration she had melted the edges of two blocks of paraffin, strung a wick between them, and put them together, letting them seal themselves.

As the foamy paraffin began to set after she had covered the block with it, leaving bumps for interesting texture, she sprinkled red and green glitter on the candle.

In a moment it was hard and ready to deck any holiday table such as the modern homes in subdivisions around the new church.

Tricks of the candle-making trade are few, she says. Wicks can be secured by melting down old candles, milk cartons can be molds for melted candle wax, colored candles or crayons can be added to paraffin for pastel tones of foam.

Off-shaped candles can be molded in cookie cutters, salad molds and other items, she says. Holding a star-shaped green one spangled with particles of gold, she said "It's a floating candle—use a few in a bowl of water or among philodendron leaves."

Angel-white Christmas trees for the table can be formed by cutting stars from crinoline in graded sizes, clipping the centers, and putting them down onto a white taper in a glass candleholder, at inch intervals.

Other ideas for home-work before Christmas, or for items that will be for sale at the bazaar, are styrofoam carved figurines.

Besides ornaments, hand-smocked dresses for little ladies, aprons and table linens, toys, baked and canned goods will be for sale. The Men's club will man a snack bar.

Farmington Manager, Chief Spur Drive

City Fights Horse and Buggy Bridge

By MARY CELINSKE Farmington Correspondent

FARMINGTON — Farmington's persistent young city manager, Earl Scherffus, is still trying to persuade the county to help finance a new bridge on Farmington Road at the foot of McGee Hill. It is his conviction that an artery as heavily travelled as Farmington Road should be considered a part of the county system, and that the county should bear some of the cost of replacing the present "horse and buggy" bridge.

Police Chief Joseph DeVriendt describes that section of the road as "a 30 per cent grade and an 85 degree turn that funnels onto a 20 foot bridge." Accidents are frequent and scraped and crumpled fenders a regular occurrence. All too often, police and tow trucks must fish both people and cars out of the Rouge River, 35 feet below.

In less than two years 16 cars have failed to negotiate the turn and have gone over the concrete bridge rails into the river. So far there have been no fatalities.

Beyond the bridge, the road curves again and rises to 10 Mile road. Drivers descending McGee Hill cannot see oncoming cars until they are almost upon the bridge, and it is impossible for cars to pass each other at that point.

Street lights near each end of the bridge are of little help. One casts a pool of light directly on the curve, the other is beyond. The bridge itself lies in almost total darkness.

"Those of us who have driven that road for years know what to expect; and drive accordingly," DeVriendt said, "but a stranger doesn't realize he's in trouble till it's too late."

In winter the road is often closed to traffic. From winter's first snow or icy rain, blockades stand in readiness at the tops of both hills, to be put in place at the first sign of slippery conditions.

The mushrooming northern end of the township has tremendously increased the flow of traffic on Farmington Road, and the city's recent repaving of that section has speeded up the flow of traffic.

With heavier traffic and greater speeds, higher accident rates inevitably follow.

Both Scherffus and DeVriendt are bending every effort to make the road safer.

New signs, warning motorists of the curve and the one way bridge are to be erected, as well as reflective lights. Metal guard rails have also been recommended, to replace what remains of the old concrete rails.

"But all these things are stop-gap measures," Scherffus said. "We can't afford to fill the valley and straighten the road, but if the county can help us, we hope to be able to build a new bridge."

Michigan Gets Federal Funds

State Is Apportioned $1,053,100 to Restore Outdoor Projects

LANSING.—Michigan will receive $1,053,100 in federal matching funds for game and fish restoration projects during the 1956-57 fiscal year, according to the Department of Interior.

The matching funds include $811,800 for game work under the Pittman-Robertson program and $241,300 for fish projects under the Dingell-Johnson program.

F-E apportionments to the states and U. S. possessions totaled $15,995,000. Dingell-Johnson apportionments totaled $5,148,000. These funds are created by federal taxes on hunting and fishing equipment and are apportioned to states on the basis of area and the number of licenses sold by the state.

In order to make use of federal funds on any wildlife project, a state must pay part of the cost of the project.

The funds are used for purchase of public hunting lands and public fishing sites, wildlife habitat improvement programs, research and other activities.

Hollywood Headlines

Kerwin Mathews Trades Blackboard for Billboard

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—Education's loss is Hollywood's gain. The year's most promising candidate for stardom is a handsome actor who was once an honest-to-goodness schoolteacher in Wisconsin.

The lucky lad is Kerwin Mathews, tall, dark-haired, with flawless diction and a profile right off a Greek coin. He's 30, single at present and on the brink of fame. How did he get there? Not merely by luck. As with most successful stories in Hollywood, he got what he wanted only by dogged confidence in himself. That's what it takes to be a star.

Kerwin is starring in "Garment Center," taking the role originally planned for Glenn Ford. Before taking off for New York locations, he sat down for his first interview. Here's his story:

Born in Seattle, Wash., he grew up in Janesville, Wis., attended Milton College, served in the Air Force, returned to Beloit College. That's where he got the acting bug. He worked in Beloit's distinguished little theater.

Actor Eddie Bracken chanced to see him, thought the boy had talent, invited him to Hollywood for a picture Bracken was making. But Kerwin was only months away from his B.A. degree and decided against it. After graduation, he taught high school for four years, acting at the Beloit Theater in the summer.

"That was my downfall," the actor recalled. "I found those three months of acting meant much more to me than the nine months of teaching."

So he threw caution to the winds and assaulted Hollywood. "I got nowhere," he said. "I found an agent and had auditions all over town, but nobody wanted to hire me."

Husband Feels Days in Jail Well Worth It

LONG BEACH, Calif. (U.P.)—Eugene C. Bennett felt strongly about his action, so when the judge sentenced him to $50 or five days in jail, he took the jail term.

Bennett's action? He cut the wires on his telephone and ripped the instrument out of the wall because, as he explained, his wife spent too much time talking on it to her mother.

The lad was obsessed by the knowledge that Columbia was seeking a lead for "Joseph and His Brethren." Finally he got an audition for the role, was tested and signed, just like that.

And was success his? Well, no. Any student of recent Hollywood history recalls the "Joseph and His Brethren" saga. Rita Hayworth walked out on the picture three days before it was to start.

"The script was ready, the sets were built and I had let my hair grow for six months," Kerwin recalled. "I had made several tests with Rita and we did several days of rehearsals."

For a whole year, he was ordered to leave his locks unshorn, in case the project should be suddenly reactivated. So the poor lad had to wander about town looking like a hapless hermit.

Fortunately, he was able to cut his hair for "Garment Center." But he has been told to stand by to give barbers the brush. "Joseph and His Brethren" is being planned for another go at Columbia.

City Employees to Receive SS

Eckman Says Sept. 28 Is the Effective Date for Some 1,000 Workers

Pontiac Director of Finance Oscar Eckman announced yesterday Sept. 28 as the effective date of some 1,000 city employees coming under Social Security.

He said the date was approved by the Health, Education and Welfare Service in Baltimore and the Michigan State Retirement Board.

The date means that all city employees—except part-time, those on fee basis, elective officials, and students—on the city payroll that date will be qualified to receive Social Security benefits when they retire.

Pontiac police and firemen are also excluded from receiving these benefits under federal law.

Eckman said his department was busy applying credit back to Jan. 1, 1955 for those qualified employees when they retire.

Voters approved supplementing the city's pension plan with Social Security at the Aug. 7 primary.

Sale Dollars Didn't Sell

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (U.P.)—There were no strings to the offer—but a store which tried to sell 100 silver dollars for 88 cents each didn't dispose of a single one. The silver dollar sale was intended as an advertising stunt. The store manager figured people just didn't think the 12 cent profit was worth bothering about.

Pulpwood Use Soars

PORTLAND, Ore. (U.P.)—United States' consumption of pulpwood increased 105 per cent from the end of World War II to the present. From the close of World War I to the start of World War II consumption climbed 162 per cent.

Record Muskrat Yield

SASKATOON (U.P.)—Saskatchewan led all other provinces and territories in muskrat production in 1955.

Canada last year with trappers pelting 1,951,800 animals, a provincial record. Harold Reed, northern game supervisor here, said the pelts brought $2,127,462.

Longer Range, Cheaper

Navy Using New Missile

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Navy revealed yesterday it has equipped fighter planes in its Far Eastern and Mediterranean Fleets with a new antiaircraft missile, the Sidewinder. Until now it has been under the closest secrecy wraps.

It also was disclosed the speedy Sidewinder antihombr rockets are being mass produced under a 12-million-dollar contract with the Philco Co. of Philadelphia. They will be used first in strengthening ships at sea, and later to bolster U.S. air defenses.

The new guided missile, named for the fast-striking desert rattlesnake, was described as simpler, less expensive and longer-ranged than the Navy's Sparrow, a similar antiaircraft rocket sent to the fleet last spring.

The Navy announcement said

"extensive testings and evaluation have demonstrated Sidewinder is reliable and can destroy enemy fighters or bombers from sea level to altitudes of over 50,000 feet."

FLEETS STRONGER

The statement added the missile will "enhance the position" of the patrolling fleets off Europe and Asia, and "also will be employed in the air defense of the U. S."

The first Navy fighter squadrons to get the Sidewinder are based aboard the aircraft carrier Randolph with the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean, and aboard the carrier Bon Homme Richard with the 7th Fleet in the Western Pacific.

The Navy said the Sidewinder will supplement rather than replace the Sparrow. Rear Adm. F. S. Withington, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Ordnance, explained the Sidewinder "represents a new approach to defense against supersonic aircraft."

Carried under the wings of a fighter, the missile is about 10 feet long. The announcement made clear its range is more than 10 miles, whereas the range of the Sparrow has been given as three to five miles.

Withington said: "This new missile has very few moving parts and no more electronic components than an ordinary rifle."

"The simplicity of Sidewinder makes it possible for Navy men to handle and assemble the missile without any specialized technical training."

Higher Education Talks
at UM Nov. 20-21

ANN ARBOR — Presidents, deans and faculty members of Michigan colleges and junior colleges will assemble at the University of Michigan Nov. 20-21 for the 10th annual Conference on Higher Education.

The role of the college in the effective development of superior talent will be the conference theme. Assistant Prof. of Psychology John E. Milholland will direct the conference.

That's Mixing It Up

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Two automobiles — same make, same color, same model — collided on a street here without causing serious damage and without injuring the occupants. But in the excitement that followed, Mike Wright, one of the drivers, climbed into Leon Huey's vehicle and drove away — leaving his own car at the scene of the accident. Police contacted Wright by tracing his license number. He hurried back to make another swap.

Music Soothes Turkeys

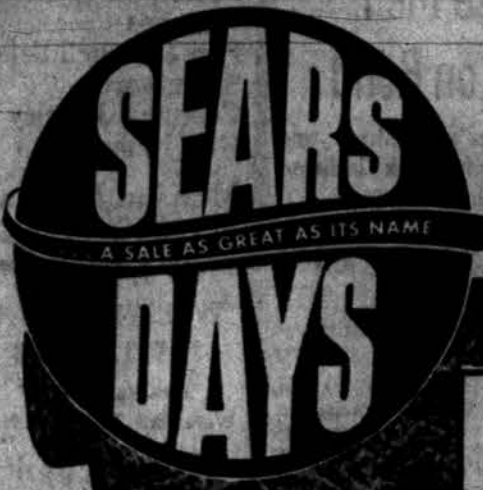

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP) — Glenn and Jerome Byron, who are raising 10,000 turkeys on a ranch near here, found a way to keep the excitable birds contented. They have placed loudspeakers around the ranch and pipe in soothing music. When there's a storm brewing, or a wolf howl upsets the birds, one of the Byrons steps to the microphone and quietly talks to the turkeys into relaxing.

Loading Gas Safer

FORT WORTH — Loading gasoline into curved, slippery tank trucks has been made a safer at a Texas natural-gas plant by the erection of hinged guard platforms that prevent falls. Now the truck driver no longer stands on the center of the truck's tank portion to check on the filling operation. Instead he climbs out on the hinged platform installed to bridge the space between truck and main platform.
