Michigan's Ice Age

FROZEN WARNING — It's been a long hard winter on Lake Michigan, just as it has all over the state. Solid waves and flying spray, dashing against Muskegon's breakwater, have formed a ponderous mantle of ice on the lighthouse tower. With spring only hours away, the tower still wears a heavy coat of ice.

Hospital Wants Full Costs for Welfare Cases

Demands County Pay Year-End Adjustments Plus Annual Rate

By PETE LOCHBILER

Pontiac General Hospital doesn't want to take any more losses on county welfare patients — none at all.

The Board of Trustees decided last night that not only does it want higher payments from the Oakland County Social Welfare Board, it wants a year-end adjustment to cover all its expenses.

Representatives who will negotiate with the welfare board for a new annual rate were given strict instructions:

"Settle for no less than reimbursement for actual costs."

The Board invited St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and William Beaumont Hospital to join in Pontiac General's rigid demands.

The hospital reported a $75,078 loss on welfare patients last year because it cost more to care for them than the county paid.

Although the hospital's per-patient day costs were $41.22, the county paid a daily rate for welfare patients of only $33.

Up to last night, the hospital had only demanded of the county that it up its rates to meet actual costs as of the first of the year.

Now, the hospital wants a year-end adjustment to cover any increase in operating costs that develops during the year.

The Board repeated threats to curtail service to welfare patients if its demands are not met.

"Losses on county patients are being offset by the patients who pay their own bills," said James Clarkson, Board chairman.

"This is manifestly unfair. The county is forcing us to make paying patients subsidize welfare patients."

The only room left open for negotiation was whether the county should help pay for depreciation on the hospital's physical plant, an amount that runs about 74 cents per patient per day.

The county's position has been that in raising its rates too high, budgeted welfare funds might be depleted before the end of the year.

This position was angrily attacked by William P. Babcock, vice president of the board.

'TAP COURTHOUSE FUND'

"Let the county tap its courthouse building fund if it didn't budget enough welfare funds to meet its obligations," Babcock said.

"The building fund amounts to

Stores Offering Free Bus Rides

Give Token With Each $2 Purchase in Plan to Aid City Lines

Thirty-four downtown Pontiac stores and businesses today began distributing free bus tokens in a plan aimed at bolstering public transportation here.

In cooperation with Pontiac City Lines, Inc., and the two main Pontiac banks, merchants and businessmen were distributing free tokens to every customer who made a purchase of $2 or more.

It was hoped that the additional revenues to the bus company would help strengthen its shaky finances.

Participating concerns bore stickers in their windows announcing they had signed up in what was called the "Ride and Shop" plan.

Names of the participating concerns are listed in an advertisement on page 22 of today's Pontiac Press.

U.S. Analyzes Data From Venus Probe

WESTFORD, Mass. (AP)— An 84-foot dish antenna here has beamed a radar signal 28 million miles to the planet Venus and caught its echo five minutes later.

The 56-million-mile round trip transmission, in February 1958, consumed 10 cents worth of electricity for a 300-kilowatt signal but analyzing the data that came back today meant nearly half a billion calculations on an electronic brain at Massachusetts Instute of Technology.

It cost thousands of dollars and months of time.

Scientists at the Lincoln Laboratory project operated by MIT for the Air Force called the feat a notable step in space exploration. They said it permitted the first measurement with great accuracy of inter-planetary distances—an essential to future navigation in space.

Unveil Detroit Waterfront Plan

$100 MILLION PROJECT — This is an artist's sketch of the hotel, offices, apartments and shopping center to be constructed on the waterfront next to the Civic Center in Detroit. Plans for construction of 20 buildings in the project were announced today by Smith-Bisschop & Co., Detroit realtors. Three 12-story apartments are in the foreground, with the 30-story hotel in the center background, with shopping areas in between.

Plan $100-Million Project

DETROIT (AP)—Plans for a 100 million dollar downtown Detroit development, including a 30-story hotel, a 20-story office building, three 12-story apartment buildings and a business center were disclosed today by Karl H. Smith, Detroit realtor.

The project, one of the most ambitious in Detroit history, will be centered on a 23-acre area directly west of the new Cobo Hall and Convention Hall. They are key units of Detroit's civic center along the Detroit waterfront.

The new buildings will be bounded by Fort Street and the Detroit River, the Civic center and the site of the new 20 million dollar post office at Fort and Eighth.

Smith, head of Smith-Bisschop & Co., said the new center will be known as the new Penn-Chessi development because most of the property in the area is owned by the New York Central, Pennsylvania and Chesapeake & Ohio railroads. The project is named after the railroads.

FINANCING SET

Smith said New York, Seattle and San Francisco financiers had agreed to finance the project.

The Union Depot, long a landmark at Third and Fort, as well as the NYC, Pennsylvania and C&O freight buildings will be demolished and railway tracks removed within the next 18 months.

Railroad operations will be transferred to the New York Central facilities at Michigan and Fourteenth and to other West Side locations, Smith said.

Smith said the project had been under consideration for seven months and he termed it one of the best kept secrets in the real estate business.

He said the work would include: a 30-story hotel of 1,500 rooms, a 20-story air conditioned office building, three 12-story luxury apartment buildings, an automobile exhibits building, a merchandise mart and a shopping center.

Demolition work on the property will start within three to six months at Third and the Detroit River. Smith said he hoped to have "the entire project completed by 1961."

Contracts for the first demolition work have been let, Smith said.

Smith said his company had an option to buy all the property, and that it will be "completely financed by private capital."

Smith added that New York, Seattle and San Francisco financiers had agreed to finance the project. Three corporations will be formed to take care of the financing and management of the gigantic project.

It will also have a marina on the riverfront, a riverfront restaurant, swiming pools in front of the apartment buildings and hotel, and there will be underground parking at two levels beneath the entire project, Smith said.

Covered walks will be constructed throughout the project, so that pedestrians can stroll through it without fear of rain or snow.

Fifth street actually will run under the three-story industrial mart. It is also planned to build a covered pedestrian walk from Cobo Hall and Convention Arena west to Third and across the Lodge Expressway.

Seek to Develop Allied Stand on German Issues

President, British Chief Flying to Hideaway for Weekend Confab

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan began their important talks on Berlin and German problems during a visit today with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

The two leaders and British Foreign secretary Selwyn Lloyd paid a call on the ailing Dulles en route to Camp David in the Maryland Mountains where the talks will start in earnest later in the day.

The White House said the visit with Dulles was more than a courtesy call. Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerty said he assumed the half hour or so stop at Walter Reed involved "some preliminary discussions" of the desire for a firm allied stand in the Berlin crisis.

Several hundred hospital employes cheered as the party arrived at Walter Reed. Macmillan looked upward at crowded windows and waved several times.

After a half hour or so with Dulles, they were to board helicopters which would take them to Eisenhower's closely guarded mountain work-vacation spot, called Camp David.

At this rustic retreat in the Catoctin Mountains, about 65 miles from Washington, Eisenhower and Macmillan will plunge into detailed discussions which will keep them occupied through Sunday.

Final talks probably will be held at the White House on Monday.

Working with each man were four advisers, including Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

During the conferences, they will seek to reconcile conflicting views and develop a unified allied viewpoint for negotiating with the U.S.S.R.

Macmillan, arriving from Ottawa, called for development of "common policies that combine firmness and reasonableness."

SEE NO DISAGREEMENT

Among the chief Allied leaders — Macmillan, Eisenhower, German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French President Charles de Gaulle—there was no evidence of any disagreement on the need for firmness in facing up to the Soviet challenger over Berlin.

The governments of all four have proclaimed their intention to preserve their rights and their access to West Berlin under the threat of Communist blockade and the danger of war.

While the top figures were at Walter Reed, a group of U. S. and British officials left the White House by helicopter for Camp David.

Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter led the U. S. delegation in a Marine helicopter, accompanied by John Hay Whitney, U. S. ambassador to Britain; Livingston Merchant, assistant secretary of state for European affairs; and Brig. Gen. Andrew W. Goodpaster, White House staff secretary.

Following in an Army helicopter were the British ambassador, Sir Harold Caccia; Sir Norman Brook, secretary of the British Cabinet; and Sir Frederick Hoyer Millar, permenent undersecretary of the foreign office.

The two helicopters took off from the south grounds of the White House.

A helicopter was waiting at Bethesda, Md., Naval Center for Eisenhower and Macmillan. The center is in the general area of Walter Reed.

Defense Seeks to Shake State's Witnesses in Flint

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

FLINT—The defense sought today to poke new holes in the spreading web of circumstantial evidence against Jack D. Thompson, Flint Teamster standing trial in the Frank Kierdorf torch death.

Two prosecution witnesses, called to link Thompson and Kierdorf together last Aug. 3, appeared confused when subjected to intense cross-examination yesterday.

One, 28-year-old divorcee Mrs. Dorothy M. Wallace, was returned to the witness stand this morning for further cross-examination after spending all of Thursday afternoon answering questions, mostly from Thompson's attorney, James E. Haggerty Sr.

She was still on the stand as the grueling session was suspended at noon today and trial recessed until Tuesday.

Thompson, a $9,000-a-year business agent with Flint Teamsters Local 332 and an ex-convict, is accused of setting fire Aug. 3 to the Latreille Dry Cleaners outside Flint. Kierdorf, who Thompson considered a very close friend, died four days later from burns authorities say he received in the fire.

Mrs. Wallace, caretaker of a Flint apartment house where Thompson's mother lives, said first she didn't even know Thompson, then said she saw him at the apartment building about an hour after the fire and an hour before Kierdorf was dumped off, horribly

Lie Detector Test Refused by Harrelson

FLINT—Leaun Harrelson, president of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, was in the limelight today as the Jack D. Thompson trial adjourned until Tuesday.

It was discovered that Genesee County Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke had asked the Pontiac Teamster to take a lie detector test concerning his whereabouts the night of Aug. 3-4, when Frank H. Kierdorf suffered his fatal burns.

Harrelson refused, saying, "Why should I take a lie test? I'm not on trial."

Both Harrelson and Herman Kierdorf, Frank's uncle, paused in the corridor outside the courtroom to complain of their treatment during the first four days of trial.

Under subpoena but not yet called as witnesses, they have had to appear at the courthouse every day at 9:30 a.m. and wait outside the courtroom, while other witnesses testified.

"They're treating us this way because we're Teamsters," Herman, a former aid to Teamster president James R. Hoffa, observed wryly.

"What's the use of a Teamster taking a lie test? If you pass them, the authorities will say only that the results were inconclusive."

Herman did take a lie test last fall. It cleared him of any connection with the arson in which Frank is believed to have burned, but did not cover the period of time immediately following the fire.

Authorities have long suspected —but never charged—that Harrelson and Herman had a hand in transporting Kierdorf to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital the night he was burned.

Gives Up at Roadblock After Holding Mother, 3 Children 20 Hours

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP)—Elma Baldwin, scared but spunky, hit her ex-convict captor on the head twice with a hammer in an effort to free herself and her three children.

The story of the hours she and her children were forced to spend with their kidnaper, Richard Arlen Payne, was related Thursday night by Mrs. Baldwin via telephone to reporter Don Marsh of the Charleston Gazette.

Payne was captured at a state police roadblock here.

The 29-year-old mother and her three children, pawns in the ex-convict's mad scheme against a former cellmate, were rescued by state police after being held captive 20 hours.

Payne, 23, surrendered late Thursday afternoon at a roadblock near Logan, 70 miles south of Charleston, after firing two shots at trailing police.

He had planned to use Mrs. John Baldwin and her children as a wedge to force the release of Burton Junior Post from the state penitentiary.

Payne had vowed vengeance—and death—on Post and threatened torture and death to his hostages if his demands were not met. The men were cellmates for 17 months of Payne's seven years in prison.

FACES KIDNAP CHARGES

Payne was released from prison eight days ago. Today, the sallow, heavy-lidded young man faces kidnaping charges. He was held at Kanawha County Jail.

"I knew if I was going to do anything," said Mrs. Baldwin, "I'd better do it before we left South Charleston."

She told this story:

I was pretty scared. He'd threatened to torture and kill the children. I didn't know what was go-

Top Officials Confer at Pleasant Retreat

By MERRIMAN SMITH
(UPI White House Reporter)

GETTYSBURG, Pa. — The historic Eisenhower-Macmillan conference will be held in a mountain-top cottage pieced together 17 years ago from three tourist cabins that rented for $1.50 a night.

Such was the beginning of Camp David, the White House retreat operated by the U.S. Navy in the Catoctin Mountains of Maryland 23 miles south of the President's Gettysburg farm.

Focal point of the weekend talks will be Aspen Cottage, the President's gray-walled, one story structure that looks down from an altitude of 1,800 feet to a pleasant, greening valley.

While the principals are in session atop what once was known as High Catoctin, they will be cut off from the prying world by a high metal fence, electronic detection devices to signal the presence of intruders and a skilled guard of about 100 U.S. Marines.

What the public knows and hears of the Eisenhower-Macmillan talks will come from Gettysburg, where a large press and radio headquarters is located.

Camp David is 65 miles from Washington. The nearest town is Thurmont, Md., six miles away.

Scores of workmen at the camp were busy yesterday and early today laying down strips of grass sod to cover unsightly bare ground recently dug up in the installation of new water and steam systems.

The camp, itself, has changed greatly from the days when the late President Franklin D. Roose-

Tough Grid Hero Kneels to Pray, Finds New Life

By MANES JEFFREY
Former Baylor University Football Player

Every boy has his hero. Mine was a crashing football player at Baylor University by the name of Rupert Wright, a blond 6-foot-5-inch giant, at 250 pounds. A real man's man.

JEFFREY

When I got my uniform at the start of my sophomore football season, I ran as fast as I could to get the locker next to Rupert, who was then a senior. Perhaps, I thought, some of his ability and personality will rub off on me.

Rupert was always a lot of fun; he had a great sense of humor. And I knew he was secretly pleased to have me bask in his light. But I soon had to face some unpleasant facts.

Rupert, charming as he was, was also one of the most vulgar, selfish and deceitful fellows I have ever known. But all this didn't bother me too much until I had a life-changing Christian evangelical crusade.

From that moment Rupert lost his position as my Number One Hero and became, instead, my Number One Project.

I guess what bothered me most about Rupert was his language. He had the filthiest tongue of any fellow I ever knew.

One day, after practice, Rupert and I were dressing in the locker room alone. I drew a deep breath and said, "Rupert, I don't want you to think I'm trying to be holier than thou, but just let me ask you this: 'What would you do if someone were to cuss your mother?' "

Rupert looked at me for a moment. "I'd thump his head off."

"Rupert," I said, "I know exactly how you feel, so you must know how I feel when you—the person I look up to so much—curses my God, who means as much to me as your mother means to you."

Rupert looked at me, surprised. Then he said, "Jeff, I don't mean it. I just say it. Okay, no more."

Five minutes later he had forgotten all about his promise.

"Just keep loving him, Jeff," my friends would say when I asked for advice. "You may not reach Rupert, but God can reach him through you."

And so it went through the winter and well into the spring. Rupert always having a wild time, getting by in classes any way he could.

One night, late, I was asleep when I felt a hand touch my shoulder. I opened my eyes and looked into Rupert's face.

"I've got to talk to you, Jeff," he said softly.

I don't know where he had been; to this day I've never asked him. His clothes were torn and there were cuts on his face, but he certainly was not drunk.

We sat down on the bottom step and he turned to me. "Jeff, I've gone as far down as I can go. During my life I've grabbed all I could get from everybody—my par-burned at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac 30 miles away.

Under persistent cross-examination by Haggerty, a nervous Mrs. Wallace admitted she just "took a notion" the man she saw drive into the apartment driveway was Thompson.

She said she hadn't told police of what she believed she saw until three months after when her employer, Roscoe W. Clark, took her to police headquarters to talk to State Police Det. Ralph S. Baney.

A Genesee Circuit Court jury of 11 women and 3 men is weighing the testimony of Mrs. Wallace and 17 previous witnesses. Her testimony concluded the third day of Thompson's arson trial in Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth's sparsely-filled courtroom.

Judge Roth planned to conclude today's testimony at noon so he could attend a legal institute meeting in Ann Arbor. Testimony will be resumed Tuesday morning.

After seeing what she believed was Thompson's four-door Cadillac drive in and out of the driveway three times, Mrs. Wallace testified she smelt something like burning flesh the next morning coming from Mrs. Thompson's bathroom.

Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke is expected to attempt to show that Thompson took Kierdorf to his mother's apartment in hopes she could treat his burns. Finding them more severe than a practical nurse like his mother could cope with, Kierdorf was rushed to the Pontiac hospital in hopes this might confuse police, the prosecution contends.

Investigators believe the blaze at Latreille's pickup station was touched off prematurely by a pilot light in a hot water heater which ignited gasoline Kierdorf was dousing the interior with, engulfing the 56-year-old Unionist in the flames.

Eight defense photographs were examined yesterday by Mrs. Wallace as Haggerty attempted to show that she couldn't have seen or recognized Thompson or his car from her basement apartment, as she claims.

But she insisted she saw Thompson driving the car with another person, whom she thought at first was his mother, in the passenger side. This was at 11:45 p.m., she said.

In earlier testimony by Mrs. Edna Bergeron, a next-door neighbor of Kierdorf, gave somewhat indefinite answers to O'Rourke and Haggerty as to whether she saw Kierdorf or another man leave the Kierdorf home about an hour after the fire.

"I thought I saw Mr. Kierdorf in the car before it backed out of the driveway," [illegible] tified.

Haggerty, however, under cross-examination attempted to strengthen this part of the testimony by having Mrs. Bergeron be more sure it was Kierdorf and not possibly Thompson.

O'Rourke's theory is that it was Thompson driving his Cadillac out of the driveway with the injured Kierdorf supposedly lying in the back seat.

This follows what Mrs. Bergeron first told Haggerty that she believed she saw only one man in the car.

Haggerty then referred Mrs. Bergeron to a five-inch-thick copy of a transcript of Thompson's pre-trial examination to "refresh your recollection."

"Wasn't it a fact that you said then that the man who got into the Cadillac was Frank Kierdorf?" Haggerty inquired.

"Yes," Mrs. Bergeron answered.

O'Rourke jumped up with a rebuttal question. "But isn't it true you said you couldn't see the man clearly?" he questioned.

Mrs. Bergeron again replied "yes" as the prosecution and defense concluded the longest direct and cross-examination exchange of the trial so far.

Pontiac Youth Wins Science Honor Again

A Pontiac Central High School student has won the top prize in the Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair for the second consecutive year.

Richard Serwin, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Serwin of 189 Oneida Rd., was awarded the grand prize last night at a banquet at Rackham Building in Detroit.

A former Orchard Lake girl, Patricia Van De Vyver, was the first girl to reach the top rank in the fair. A former Our Lady of Refuge High School student, she had lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Van De Vyver at 3630 Commerce Rd. until two years ago when the family moved to East Detroit.

RICHARD SERWIN

Patricia, 17, who is attending the Felician Academy in Detroit, aspires to become a nun and teach music and science. Her plant chromotography exhibit was judged a co-winner with Richard's exhibit.

Richard's project, "The Treatment and Prevention of Frostbite," was selected over 1,938 other entries by high school students as the top exhibit.

He was awarded two $100 U.S. Savings bonds, a wrist watch and a free trip to the National Science Fair at Hartford, Conn., May 6-9.

The young scientist is vice president of the Linnean Society, the school biology club, and has aspirations of becoming a physician. He is a senior.

Last year, Richard's entry was "The Effect of Plant Hormones." He also won first place with this project in the 1958 Pontiac Central High Science Fair.

But when Pontiac's fair was held last weekend, "Rick" couldn't enter his new project because it wasn't completed. In fact, he finished it just a few hours before 9 p.m. Tuesday, the Detroit fair's deadline.

The winning project recorded an experiment on the effect of alcohol and quick thawing on frostbite. The story of the man on Drummond Island who this winter nearly froze to death but was saved because of his intoxicated condition gave him the idea for his project.

He froze one hind foot of each of three anesthetized rabbits. The results of the experiments, after thawing the feet, showed that the undoped foot turned gangrenous.

Four Pontiac Central High students entered the Detroit Fair and two came home with honors, according to Wesley Maas, science instructor at the high school.

Besides Richard, Jim Colando, 15-year-old sophomore of 150 S. Edith St., took seventh place in the physics division. His entry was the "Cloud Chamber Research Concerning Subatomic Particle and Photo-Electrons."

The fair, co-sponsored by the Engineering Society of Detroit and the Detroit News, is being held at the Detroit Light Guard Armory through Sunday.

Other Pontiac area winners were: Lee Larson, 17, of 370 E. Breckenridge, Ferndale, fourth place in physics; Sharon Sugden, 17, of 74540 N. Fulton St., Armada, 12th in chemistry; Richard Banfield, 17, of 6927 Longworth St., Waterford, sixth in engineering, and Jim Ashley, 17, of 659 Cambourne West, Ferndale, seventh in engineering.

Others were Faith Schulz, 17, of 560 Farmdale St., Ferndale, 14th in biology; Bob Kasa, 15, of 26415 Deton, Madison Heights, second in general science and Dorothy Bierdron, 14, of 625 E. Kalama, Madison Heights, ninth in general science.

Tough Guy Hero Kneels for Prayer

ents, friends, women. Tonight, I really had a good look at myself for the first time. I didn't like what I saw. Then I thought of you, Jeff."

With eyes that seemed to look through me, he said, "Jeff, I want you to tell me about your Jesus."

I'd hoped and prayed for something like this, but now that it had happened I felt almost tongue-tied. Not being a theological scholar, all I could do was tell him what had happened to me.

So I told him what a difference it had made when I realized that Jesus loved me, imperfect as I was . . . But that He needed me.

Then I tried to describe my exhilaration when I let go of my pride and self-centeredness and said, "Jesus, I surrender my life to You. Take me and use me."

When I finished, Rupert stared off for just a moment. "That's what I want," he said.

Then he knelt by the window. To the day I die, I'll never forget his prayer and the picture he made, this powerhouse of a man, kneeling like a small child.

"Jesus, I've thrown my life away," Rupert prayed. "If You will come into my life and save it, like Jeff said You would, then I'll promise to give my life to Your service from this time on."

Those who knew Rupert pretty well gave him a week to a month. "Then he'll be back to his old ways," they predicted.

But Rupert continued to astound us. He soon became a leader in our Christian Group. He refused to take one exam because he didn't want to cheat and said he didn't know enough about the course. Eventually, because he wouldn't cheat, he flunked two courses. But Rupert finally did graduate and then went out into the world.

All that was about eight years ago. The other day I went to Corpus Christi to visit Rupert, now a line foreman for Raynolds Metals Co. When I knocked on his door, there was no answer. A neighbor saw me.

"You're James Jeffrey?" he said. "Hold on. I want you to meet somebody." And he called his son, who I learned had been a real trouble maker.

Wayne, a big lad of 16, gripped my hand hard. We talked for a while about things in general, then he said rather hesitantly, "Mr. Wright talked to me about Christ and how He could help me. He said he learned it from you. Well, I just wanted you to know that because you helped Mr. Wright, he was able to help me. Perhaps some day soon I'll be able to help someone too."

Those who have been used by God in this way know, as I know, that it tops any thrill the world has to offer.

Jury Deliberating Fate of Flannery

HILLSDALE (AP) — A Circuit Court jury sought to decide today whether the bludgeon slaying of a Hillsdale College student was a "wanton murder with malice" or "the act of a boy of unsound mind."

Final arguments in the first degree murder trial of Patrick J. Flannery, 18, of Berkley, were delivered yesterday. A request by the jury that it be allowed to delay its deliberations until 9:30 a.m. (EST) today was granted.

Flannery is accused of bludgeoning Thomas Neitling, 20, of Tecumseh, to death with a shotgun as he slept last Nov. 26 in the off-campus room they shared. Both were students at Hillsdale.

$4,000 FOR YMCA CAMP — Victor Hoerath (left), manager of the S. S. Kresge Store on Saginaw street, presents $4,000 check in behalf of the Kresge Foundation to Fred J. The Downtown Kiwanis Club will provide the labor.

Four Captives Survive

ing to happen. We stopped at a service station in Spring Hill.

There was a hammer under the front seat and I whispered to my oldest boy to hand it to me when I made a signal.

I motioned with my hand and the boy gave me the hammer.

We were stopped at the service station then, getting gas, but the attendant wasn't paying any attention to us.

I hit him with a hammer, hard, in the back of the head. Then I hit him another lick in the forehead.

It made a deep cut in his head and it bled a lot.

It didn't seem to make him too mad. He took the hammer away from me and said I couldn't hurt him. He said he'd been hit in the head so much it didn't make any difference.

Then he drove out on Davis Creek, past Ruth and on into Lincoln County. I got lost after that. I had no idea where we were.

I kept trying to talk to him. I wanted him to take his mind off the children.

He said he didn't want to hurt anybody. Only that convict up at Moundsville. He said he had to kill him, that it was an obsession with him.

Finally, we came to a sign beside the road that said 'State Police Ahead' and I knew they were going to catch us. I sort of hoped that he'd let us go. I thought that once it was dark, he'd turn us loose.

When he saw them, he drew his gun and turned around shooting. I managed to get my foot on the brake and stop the car. I still don't know how I did it.

The kids came through it in good shape. They love to ride in the car and they didn't know how serious it was. They thought they were on a trip. It was a big adventure for them.

It was the most horrible experience I ever had. I didn't think I could go through with it. I guess it could have been worse, though.

City Hospital Wants Welfare Case Costs

around $1,600,000, and some of this came from surplus welfare funds in past years."

Babcock also criticized the county for shutting down the county contagious hospital.

"They are the ones that have closed their doors to patients, not us.

"If the county thinks our costs are too much, let them reopen their own hospital, let them provide less expensive treatment.

"It's a well-known fact that the per-patient costs at the contagious hospital were more than $50 a day. Yet the county won't pay us in full when our operations are less costly than theirs."

Losses on county and state patients have long been a concern as Pontiac General struggles to end financial problems that have resulted in deficits the past two years.

Clarkson has written Lansing representatives in hopes of an adjustment on state rates, which resulted in a $37,406 loss last year.

St. Joseph is in a similar situation. It reported a $62,556 loss last year on county patients and $49,842 on state patients.

The Day in Birmingham

School Officials Struggle for Proper Class Levels

BIRMINGHAM — School officials have once again fought the battle of the bulge in their almost constant struggle to keep classroom loads at a manageable level throughout the district.

New schools, new residential developments and the shifting of families keeps the school population varying from term to term. To make the best use of every classroom, a committee headed by Ross Wagner, Birmingham High School principal, has just completed a survey and outlines attendance areas for secondary schools as follows:

Barnum Junior High School will serve pupils graduating from Baldwin, Pierce, Midvale and Quarton elementary schools.

Derby Junior High School will serve those living north of 14-Mile road and east of Woodward avenue, plus the area west of the Birmingham city limits.

The new Junior-Senior High School will accommodate students living south of 14-Mile road and will include the Walnut Lake Elementary School area.

The committee recommended that grades 7 through 10 occupy the Junior-Senior High, thus reducing the load at Birmingham High School.

Birmingham High will take pupils advancing from Barnum and Derby junior high schools. Pupils of this year's 10th and 11th grades will continue their studies at Birmingham High to avoid breaking class continuity.

The 1959 Birmingham Community House Fund Drive is lagging alarmingly, Mrs. Effie Schafer, director, told the 250 women attending the Newcomers Club luncheon yesterday.

She said $33,000 of the $60,000 goal has been tallied so far, and urged members to remind possible contributors to send their checks.

Dr. Robert Drews, noted speaker and president of the American Society of Group Psychotherapy and Psychodrama explained how psychodrama techniques are used to probe mental illness. He said patients are permitted to act out their feelings while being closely observed by trained psychoanalysts.

The club announced that its May 9 dance will have Hawaii for its decorative theme.

John A. Reid

John A. Reid, 61, of 311 Woodbridge Rd., Bloomfield Hills, died of a heart attack last night while vacationing at Pompano, Fla., with Mrs. Reid.

He was retired purchasing agent for Ford Motor Co., and a member of the Oakland Hills Country Club and the Detroit Athletic Club.

Surviving besides his wife, Jane, are a daughter, Mrs. Robert Watt Jr., of Birmingham and a son, Allan of Huntington Woods and four grandchildren.

The body is being returned for burial here with funeral arrangements pending.

veit in 1942 picked the mountain site for Shangri-La, a secret hideaway where he could escape the heat of midsummer Washington in World War II.

The camp was one of three operated by the Park Service of the Interior Department and tourists were permitted in the summer to rent the modest cabins which were built originally as a project of the Civilian Conservation Corps.

134 ACRE TRACT

Three of these cabins were pulled together to make what is now Aspen Cottage, the president's residence.

Camp David is a 134-acre tract. It is part of the Catoctin Mountain Park which covers 5,500 acres.

Aspen Cottage sits on the brow of a graceful hill in a clump of oaks, maples, dogwoods and hickory trees. The long, somewhat narrow single-story building is a gray board-and-batten structure, as are the 14 other buildings in the immediate presidential area.

On a clear day, the President can see beyond the town of Thurmont with 16-power binoculars installed on the stone terrace which encircles most of the first floor of Aspen.

A stairway from the outside terrace leads to a lower rock garden, a stone-floored patio and beyond a rolling grassy area which has three tees and one golf green for the President's pitch-and-putt diversion.

Bus-Car Crash Fatal to 3; Five Are Hurt

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Three persons were killed when a northbound Greyhound bus and a car collided about four miles south of here today.

Five Michigan residents were among bus passengers injured.

Dead were Ernest W. Davies, 22, of Atlanta, Ga., Norman Lichter, 20, of Newark, N. J.; and Barry Jacobson, 18, of Newark. The three were riding in the car.

The Florida State Patrol said the car pulled from a side road onto a four-lane highway and into the path of the bus.

Among the injured were Margaret E. Rich, Sandusky, Mich.; Mrs. Anna Rublig, Bay City, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cary and Mrs. Anna Martin, all of Detroit.

The bus was bound from Daytona Beach for Toronto.

Change for Better?

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—A petition was submitted in District Court by George Peter Janetakos, who asked to have his name changed. He wants it changed to George Bill Janetakos.

'Drinks for the House,' Says Stewed Robber

DETROIT (AP)—A customer at an East Side bar became angry when he was refused service because he was drunk.

The man drew a gun and took $79 from the till and six patrons. Then he ordered the waitress to give him a beer and drinks for the house. She did.

Flash floods stem from a cloudburst. Such a one struck Cambridge, Ohio, in July 1914. Seven inches of rain fell in 30 minutes.

Remembering Pearl Harbor, Hawaii's National Guard now has two full time aircraft control and warning squadrons; with a 24-hour-a-day radar alert.

January is a summer month in Chile, but it is also a month in which this southernmost part of South America is exposed to some of the world's stormiest weather.

Wife's Brother Slays Husband and Daughter, Wounds Three

WYNONA, Okla. (AP) — Two members of a Wynona family were killed and three others were wounded Thursday night as they sat in their living room.

Police launched a search for Jerry Miller, 18, who had shared the home of Joe and Freda Moreland for four weeks. Miller, a brother of Mrs. Moreland, was believed to be armed.

Killed by bullets from a .22 caliber pistol were Moreland and his 1½-year-old daughter, Paula.

Mrs. Moreland was critically wounded by a bullet in the neck. The couple's sons, Charles, 8, and Jerry Wayne, 4, were less seriously wounded.

Highway patrolman Joe Burns said Charles Moreland told him young Miller was the gunman.

"Jerry just came out of his room and started shooting," the youngster was quoted. "He'd been acting funny after dinner. He just sat there."

Police went to the home after a woman, apparently Mrs. Moreland, telephoned police at nearby Pawhuska and told Sgt. Earl Grimes: "Get somebody down here. There's been a shooting. I'm bleeding to death."

Reuther Assails Redevelopment

Says Ike's Program Is Weak Solution for Economic Worries

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers president, says the Eisenhower administration's $53 million area redevelopment program is "grossly inadequate."

Reuther said yesterday in a statement prepared for the House Banking Committee that the program was "a reluctant and largely idle "gesture" for coping with unemployment and community economic distress.

Undersecretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller said federal aid to distressed areas should be temporary and only supplemental to local efforts.

Mueller said the administration program is a realistic one that would encourage local initiative.

Reuther questioned what he said were administration arguments that the nation cannot afford the 375 million dollars in area loans and grants proposed in a Democratic sponsored bill.

Despite such arguments, he said, the administration proposes to appropriate 90 million dollars "or private planes for a handful of top government executives."

Phony Stock Deals Cost State Investors Millions

Taking a "flyer" in some unknown stock and expecting to win the jackpot is costing Michigan investors millions of dollars, according to the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission.

There is nothing particularly new in what some Michigan citizens are doing. Basically, we are all looking for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. However, currently there is a drive on to stop the illegal sale of some gas and oil stocks from outstate brokers or dealers.

Word from the Commission is that they are attempting to alert Michigan citizens and seek their help in halting unlicensed broker activities. What happens is this: Dealers in Toronto, New York City and certain other Canadian and U.S. cities are touting certain stocks which, according to the law, they cannot sell in Michigan.

The Commission's action to clamp down on this unsavory practice is an attempt on their part to save some of the millions that are literally thrown away each month. For every deal that is sound, there are hundreds that are phony.

The broker-dealers that fall into this category are merely high-class barkers filching unsuspecting investors through the use of newsletters, long distance telephone calls and the mails.

They are using everything in their sales pitch, even capitalizing on the recent publicity focused on Alaska as a new state. During the year 1958 and the first two and a half months of 1959, the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission has entered 57 stop orders directed against unlicensed broker-dealers or issuers operating illegally.

Michigan investors are urged, whenever they are solicited by mail or telephone to buy securities, to follow these suggestions:

1. Before buying . . . . Think!
2. Don't deal with strange securities firms. (Consult your broker!)
3. Beware of securities offered over the telephone by strangers.
4. Don't listen to high-pressure sales talk.
5. Beware of promises of spectacular profits.
6. Be sure you understand the risks of loss.
7. Don't buy on tips and rumors . . . . Get all the facts!
8. Tell the salesman to: Put all the information and advice in writing and mail it to you . . . Save it!
9. If you don't understand all the written information . . . . Consult a person who does.
10. Give at least as much consideration to buying securities as you would the purchase of any valuable property.

Nationalists and Reds Vie for Control of Iraq

The question in Iraq at the present moment seems to be whether Premier Kassem can keep his country out of Communist hands. In his desire for independence he has accepted Communist help against the United Arab Republic.

Overthrow of the pro-Western King FAISAL regime left Communists stronger than any other political group. After the July 14 revolution thousands of Iraqi Communists returned from exile with others from neighboring states. They received assistance from military men despite KASSEM's orders and they stepped up the Communist line attacks on Col. NASSER.

The recent army revolt in the Mosul oil region shows the conflict between NASSER and KASSEM who believes the revolution was inspired by Cairo. Touched off by an influx of KASSEM's Communist supporters, army Colonel SHAWAF, an ardent Nationalist, ordered the leader shot. That started the trouble. Tribesmen were invited down from the hills and fighting and pillage raged for four days with a total of 500 murdered.

Indebted to the Communists and now not sure of the army's support, Premier Kassem by playing off Communists against Nasserites has fallen into a trap of his own devising.

The Man About Town

City's Centennial

What About Plans to Celebrate It 2 Years Hence?

Company: What you're judged by the kind you keep — or just left.

With the centennial of Pontiac City less than two years away, it is time to begin making some plans to celebrate that event of March 15, 1961. Think it over. This column will welcome suggestions.

Perhaps it already is too late to plan for the dedication of a new assembly and convention hall and civic center on that date. Perhaps, with our wonderful collection of public buildings around our new city hall, we'd better call that our civic center, and let the matter rest.

Our sister city of Flint celebrated its centennial a couple of years ago with a celebration that lasted several weeks. It was a humdinger. Do we want to do anything like that in Pontiac?

Here's something for the City Commission, Chamber of Commerce and all other community minded citizens to take under consideration and seriously cogitate upon.

No other city in the entire nation has greater reasons for celebrating its centennial, some of which were recently noted in this column. If we're going to do it right, it is time to get busy.

In case you hadn't been otherwise apprised of the fact, spring officially sneaks in at an early hour tomorrow morning. Let's hope that it knows it.

On this day before the first day of spring,

"We really fear spring's nowhere near,"

is the prediction of the Old Farmer's Almanac.

Last autumn one of my good prognosticators,

who lives in the hills north of Rochester, told me that his corn husks, hog spleen, squirrels, robins and other forecasters all indicated a hard winter. He told me to make an advance note of it on March 20 on my calendar. Well, Jack, it's March 20.

With all the current rumors going the rounds about the "small cars" for 1960, you can make a little side wager that if GM comes out with a small car, our own will be at the head of the pack with a small car for Pontiac Motor, other than the Vauxhall.

Bi-Partisan Policy

David Lawrence Says:

A 'Saver' in Congress Speaks Up

WASHINGTON—If you're one of the "spenders" in Congress and you ridicule the idea of a balanced budget, you get plenty of attention. But if you're a "saver" and want to keep the American dollar from being forced down to a value of ten cents, then you're old-fashioned and not in tune with the times.

LAWRENCE

Sen. Harry Byrd of Virigina happens to be chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. He also happens to be a member of the Democratic Party, so many of whose members are trying to make a virtue of bigger and bigger spending by Government.

Yet, when he spoke Tuesday night at the National Taxpayers Conference here, his words got scant attention.

"Contrary to general understanding," said Sen. Byrd, "recent great increases in Federal spending have not been for defense or foreign aid, the tremendous increases have been for domestic-civilian programs."

This alone seems to be a worthwhile piece of news. For, in the speeches emanating from Capitol Hill, President Eisenhower is repeatedly being accused of trying to balance the budget at the expense of national defense in the battle against the Communists.

The purpose of the crusade for more spending is, of course, to break the faith of the public in budget-balancing by using defense as an excuse, so that all sorts of subsidies and grants can be made in the guise of social reform. The Virginia senator says:

"Since 1954 expenditures outside of defense, atomic energy and foreign aid categories increased from $19.1 billion to $34 billion estimated in the current year.

"This is an increase of $14.9 billion, or 78 per cent. There is terrific pressure in the current session of Congress for enactment of more nonessential spending programs. Almost invariably these new spending programs involve multi-year or permanent commitments for heavy spending in the future.

"Much of the domestic-civilian spending is for subsidies—and by subsidies I mean nearly all kinds of loans, grants and payments out of the Federal Treasury to special beneficaries.

"Many of these subsidy programs are bottomless pits for Federal spending and contribute to sky-high inflation.

"The Federal Government of the United States cannot now pay its bills except by increasing debt and inflation. Revenue at present tax rates does not meet our commitments.

"Interest on the Federal debt is taking approximately one-tenth of all taxes collected.

"Chronic inflation has reduced the purchasing power of our money 52 per cent. The American dollar is now worth 48 cents by the 1939 index.

"Inflation destroys fixed incomes, provident investment, prudent business, sound financing, national security and democratic government.

"More than 20 years of destructive inflation in the country to date have led to continual demands for increased Federal subsidization.

"The Federal Government is now subsidizing business, industry, private finance, agriculture, transportation, power, health, education, states, localities, individuals, etc.

"By the process of cheapening our money and centralizing power in the Federal Government, we have decended to a level of state socialism which is obvious, if not admitted.

"Social democracy is a subterfuge for sound Government and constructive enterprise. Its evils are historically documented wherever nations have stooped to it . . .

"When individuals become insolvent, they take bankruptcy and dispose of their obligations.

"When governments become insolvent, their money becomes worthless, and they go through a revolution wringer."

This statement by the chairman of the Senate Finance Committee—who, though a Democrat, supports the President's efforts to balance the budget—is significant news.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Oldsters Hate to Admit Dampness No Big Hazard

Middle-aged and elderly readers have been chiding me for my teachings about joint disability almost from the day I, Brady, commenced this column. The old parties resented particularly my insistence that "exposure" to "cold and damp," as Dr. Osler had expressed it, has nothing to do with joint disability.

DR. BRADY

It might have put an early end to my newspaper career too, but for the timely invention of "arthritis." This bit of hokum was timely in more than one respect.

In the first place, it took a million indignant readers off my neck — they discovered their trouble was "arthritis." The new disease, like so many other modern departures, had a scientific name, like sinus-itis, neur-itis, laryng-itis, burs-itis and other exclusive or fashionable ailments, and it sounded and indeed was more expensive.

Now if you think I know more than most doctors do about chronic joint disability, whatever you please to call it, you're quite right. I do—I mean I do think so. I believe insidiously developing joint disability of long standing (a year or more), not obviously of traumatic origin (sprain, strain or other injury) is degeneration of joint tissues—just as arteriosclerosis (hardening of arteries) is physical degeneration of the tissues of the artery wall, and pyorrhea alveolaris is degeneration of the jaw tissues—bone, muscle, tooth socket lining, mucous membrane, everything.

CAUSED BY MALNUTRITION

I believe the primary cause of joint degeneration (which I call rheumatiz, not rheumatism) is nutritional deficiency (malnutrition) through the years from early childhood to the present.

In the booklet Chronic Joint Disability I tell you how to combat, retard, arrest and maybe reverse the degeneration process and relieve or cure the rheumatiz. For the booklet send me 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Having thus defined rheumatiz, I have the audacity to challenge any physician who makes the phony diagnosis of "chronic arthritis" in any case to define chronic arthritis in writing. No medical authority has done so to date, to the best of my knowledge.

For that matter, I beg to remind you that no cure for so-called chronic "arthritis" has been discovered and the few authorities who tell the truth about it concede that pain-killers, such as aspirin, give as much relief in cases of chronic joint disability as any of the costly "miracle medicines."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

State Situation Prompts Letters

I was an ex-Hoosier from 1929 to 1950, and now I'm a real Hoosier for keeps. We do have an income tax, but no sales tax. At 1½ per cent, a man in Michigan who has to spend his entire wages to live will pay three per cent in sales tax, almost double that in Indiana.

As for floods, I saw a lot in Pontiac. I like The Press and we still take it, as it's the best paper I ever read. Every winter and spring it shows pictures of mud and water that would rate with our hog lots.

I had to leave Michigan to carry on in my business. Here I don't have to have a special contractor for this, for that, for that and this. And Indiana is thankful for the 120 large and small industries gained in 1958 from Michigan. We hope Michigan will keep Williams another 10 years so we and Ohio and some Southern states will have all your industry.

Honestly, though, Pontiac, Oakland County and Michigan, wake up and see what's happening before it's too late.

Phillip R. Johnson
Mooresville, Indiana

If this childish bickering in Lansing isn't stopped soon, we will face a crisis equal to the depression. Bankruptcy is nothing to take lightly, and yet the only thing that bothers our representatives is that they may lose their State paychecks. Nothing has been mentioned of the fact that thousands of people may lose their unemployment checks.

Soapy is determined to get his hooks on our Veterans' Fund. If the State is so near bankruptcy, how long would that $50 million keep us from it? Republicans propose a 100 million loan tied to a two-year one per cent sales tax increase. That would not only help the State now but in the future. And it wouldn't cost additional expense. An income tax would require from 300 to 800 new employes, plus another office building and administration costs.

Let's hope we can get the new tax proposal to a vote before it's too late.

Disgusted With Representatives

'Give Citizens Right to Ticket Violators'

Why isn't a whole army of civilians authorized to issue traffic tickets for bad abuses. Many violations go unnoticed and if several hundred area residents could hand out a court summons, it would stop a lot of wrong parking, running red lights, making incorrect turns and speeding. The added income would assist us at a time when we need all the tax assistance we can find.

Piedmont

'School Structure Needs Changing'

The entire school structure of the states needs modernization to bring all schools into a realistic position and to stop shooting at the moon. We should terminate swimming pools, dancing, football, tennis, volleyball, as these only contribute to more money. Most of these games are enjoyed at home and in parks and kindergarten. The Homestead law could be amended to benefit social security recipients or we could do away with the law and have straight income tax.

P. J. B.

'Everyone Should Have That Chance'

The City Commission is considering selling salvaging rights at the City Dump. Everyone should have equal rights and not someone who can afford to make a high bid. People out of work, old people on pension can use and need some of this material, wooden crates and scrap lumber, for wood helps to heat their homes. This is burned at the dump and hauled in by industrial plants and business places at no cost to the City. Why can't people who need it have it free?

CHILD and DEPENDENT CARE

There is allowed a deduction not to exceed $600 for expenses paid by a woman or widower for the care of certain dependents.

These expenses must have been necessary to enable the taxpayer to be gainfully employed.

Gainful employment means working for wages or operating your own business for profit.

The person for whom the care is needed must either be a child under 12 years of age or a dependent who is physically or mentally incapable of caring for himself.

A married couple can only claim this deduction if a joint return is filed. The deduction must be reduced by the amount by which their combined adjusted gross income exceeds $4,500.

If you include in expenses paid the salary of a maid or housekeeper who also cares for your child or dependent, you may deduct only that amount which was for the care of the dependent.

If you deduct an amount for child care expense, you cannot include the same amount as medical expense. In no case may an amount be considered as both.

Your Form 1040 Instruction Booklet has complete information in it regarding child and dependent care deductions.

However, if required, additional information can be obtained by calling your local Internal Revenue Service office.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Can You Top This Salesmanship?

The next time you order French fried potatoes, just offer a mental salute to the great French Parmentier, who was a pharmacist with a vast amount of psychological insight. And if you like advertising and selling, send for the booklet below. It offers some dandy ideas for party entertainment, too.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A-483: Parmentier was the French apothecary who popularized the use of the ordinary white potato.

He thus saved the lives of millions of his countrymen who would have starved without that mainstay of the dinner table.

DR. CRANE

In fact, the Irish famines were largely eliminated because of the potato, so it now bears the name "Irish potato," though it originated in South America, and was unknown to Europe till the discoveries by Columbus.

Parmentier was a fervent scientist who had the welfare of his people at heart, so he obtained an experimental farm from Emperor Louis.

Then he planted the much-hated American tuber, for in Europe the laymen berated the potato in print and the priests thundered against it from their pulpits.

After five futile years, England still couldn't get the populace to accept it. Parmentier knew of this opposition, but he was a deft salesman, so he used psychology.

For example, when his potatoes bloomed, he picked a bouquet and presented them to Emperor Louis.

As Parmentier entered the palace, Louis' courtiers sneered at Parmentier and his bouquet.

But the Emperor was tactful, for he graciously thanked Parmentier for the unique bouquet and wore it as a boutonniere.

Then he planted the much-hated tiers almost broke their necks racing to the florist shops trying to find the same flowers. At that moment potato blossoms would have rivalled our modern fancy orchids.

POPULARIZING POTATOES

Parmentier realized it was time to harvest his new crop. So he tried to shortcircuit the hostility of the public by using some modern merchandising psychology.

With his few remaining francs, therefore, he hired a few soldiers to patrol all sides of his famous potato patch, at least by day.

Then he led distinguished guests through the field, digging a few potatoes here and there, which they peeled and ate with great gusto.

As he would leave the potato patch, in a loud voice he would warn the leader of his soldier guard to keep everybody out.

But at night he would withdraw his soldiers. A few mornings later, the head of his guards hastened to Parmentier with the sad news that thieves had broken into the potato field at night, and had stolen part of the crop.

Much to the surprise of the soldier, however, Parmentier was overjoyed and probably kissed him on both cheeks, as he shouted:

"When the people will steal in order to procure my potatoes, their popularity is assured."

Nowadays most of us Americans relish French fried potatoes with our steak.

We are indebted to a French pharmacist (apothecary) for having made the American potato a basic item on the menu of the French people.

Parmentier's clever sales strategy is often duplicated by other enterprising merchants. After the World War II rationing was over, a Chicago druggist bought a carload of a certain soap.

It didn't move very fast. So he deftly made a sign saying, "Only three bars to customer," and the soap sold like hot cakes.

Unarmed Theft Joke to Farmer

Caught Soon After Bank Holdup Spurred by Loss of Tractor

KRUM, Tex. (AP)—Charles Roy McCrory, 19, worried because his sharecropper family's tractor was repossessed, robbed the Farmers & Merchants State Bank here Thursday without a gun.

An alert Texas highway patrolman arrested him an hour later as McCrory filled the gas tank of a pickup truck he used as a getawty vehicle.

Police who followed highway patrolman Claud Hogue into the filling station at his radio summons pulled $1,865 from the vehicle's glove compartment.

Krum is about 35 miles northwest of Dallas.

All the money was recovered, police said. Dist. Atty. Robert Caldwell Jr., who filed charges of armed bank robbery against the pleasant-mannered robber, said the charges may have to be modified because McCrory had no gun.

McCrory, smiling and joking with his captors, told them he handed a note to Mrs. Ruth Hilliard, cashier of the bank, which read:

"I want to borrow $2,000 for two years. Give me all your $5, $10, and $20 bills. My looks is my security."

"When she put her hand into the drawer," he laughed, "I thought she was going for a gun and she nearly scared the living daylights out of me."

McCrory said he stayed up late Wednesday night trying to figure a way to get money to regain a tractor that had been repossessed. He said he farmed near Boyd, in adjoining Wise County, with his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McCrory. He said he decided then to rob the Krum bank.

Students Set Telephone Booth Squeeze Mark

MORAGA, Calif. (AP)—Howdy now, London, we have a new world record telephone booth crowd.

Twenty-two St. Mary's College students jammed into a phone booth in a dormitory Thursday. The British claimed 18.

The London University team used a booth 3 feet square and 8 feet 4 inches tall and the Englishmen squeezed in three layers of six each.

The St. Mary's booth measured 3 feet by 7 feet, enough room for three layers, seven each, plus one.

First It's Up, Then Down

Play Hob With Ike's Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was experiencing a series of budgetary ups and downs on Capitol Hill today, with more bumps in the immediate offing.

In separate actions, the Snaete and the House Thursday further upset the President's program for a balanced budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

The House, by roll-call vote of 262-134, passed a 297-million-dollar four-year airport aid program which exceded the President's recommendations by 97 millions.

Concurrently, the Senate voted to charge against the new budget $1,375,000,000 of new United States subscriptions to the International Monetary Fund. The President had counted on charging this item against this year's budget, already heavily unbalanced, instead of against the 1960 ledger.

By counting on higher gasoline taxes, postal rates and other tax gains which Congress appears to be shunning, Eisenhower had submitted a 1960 budget precariously balanced at about 77 billion dollars. He has repeatedly urged Congress to kep spending down to that figure.

But the Senate, which also has passd ea housing bill far exceeding Eisenhower's estimates, is debating a 389½-million-dollar bill for area redevelopment, compared with a 53-million-dollar program Eisenhower asked.

The airport bill goes to a Senate-House conference committee for adjustmnt of differences between measures passed by the two chambers.

The Senate previously had approved a 465 million dollar airport program. Somewhere between those two figures a compromise will be reached, but it will be nowhere near the President's 200-million figure.

Republicans, with a smattering of Democratic aid, tried to hold the House version down to Eisenhower's recommendation. They lost out by a 214-194 count. They complained loudly against what they called "budget-busting."

The Senate vote on the monetary fund bill was more lopsided. The bill was passed 73-10 after the Senate voted 58-25 to charge the funds against next year's budget rather than this year's.

Toad Watchers Wait for Their One Big Moment

CHICAGO (AP) — Sleuths are keeping a near-24-hour vigil at Brookfield Zoo.

They are watching a family of South American surinam toads in an effort to learn one o the mysteries of natural science: How do mother toads get their hatched eggs upon their backs to incubate?

"I have slogged through the jungles of South America to find out," said one of the frog-watchers, Robert Snedigar, curator of reptiles. He never has.

Joining him in the project is Dr. George Rabb, curator of scientific research. Night watchmen have been alerted to keep their eyes on the tank the toads call home. A movie camera with lights has been set up.

Snedigar, who has spent 30 years seeking the solution, and Dr. Rabb are keeping a close watch to see how long it takes for the eggs to become tadpole and then toad.

But the big interest is on the pregnant mother. Watchmen have been alerted to call the curators the moment egg-laying begins.

The first known hospitals were established in Ceylon about five centuries before the birth of Christ. Custodial care was their chief function.

'The Babe and I'

By MRS. BABE RUTH with Bill Slocum

(Condensed from "The Babe and I". Copyright, 1959, by Mrs. Babe Ruth and published by Prentice Hall, Inc.)

It is an obvious irony that the second hardest hitter who ever played baseball spent most of his career in the shadow of my husband.

Lou Gehrig was a shy, handsome giant of only 22 when he joined the Yankees in 1925.

He came from the streets of New York but had in him the naivete of a farm boy. He attracted Columbia but always cheerfully insisted, "The only B.A. I have is a batting average."

He and the Babe had much in common—their religion, their German ancestry, their mutual boyhood poverty, their love for baseball, and, of course, their remarkable skill at bat. They were to become fast friends. And bitter enemies. And friends again.

MOST EXPENSIVE HEADACHE

In June of 1925 the Yankees had a remarkable first baseman named Wally Pipp, who was also a good friend of the Babe's, even though the Babe had lost a one-punch fight to Wally a couple of years before.

Wally had a headache on June 1, 1925, and the awkward rookie, Gehrig, was permitted to substitute for Pipp for one day.

Poor Wally has said since that those were the two most expensive aspirins anybody ever swallowed. He was never again to play first for the Yankees. Lou never left the bag until he benched himself in Detroit in June 1939.

Lou was only 36 in 1939, but he knew something was wrong with his reflexes.

He sought expert medical advice and learned that he was victim of incurable amyotrophic lateral sclerosis.

But the Babe and Lou had eight years as teammates. They were the most devastating back-to-back sluggers ever to make life seem utterly hopeless to a pitcher in a tight game.

A thousand newspaper pictures have been printed showing Lou standing at home plate, hand outstretched to congratulate the Babe trotting in from third after belting a homer.

And another thousand have been printed showing Babe waiting at the plate to shake hands with Lou after Lou had driven Babe home.

When Lou reported to the Yankees in St. Petersburg, he carried a cheap bag and wore a cheap suit. He didn't have a dime.

In the beginning he was a very bad first baseman. And a simply gorgeous hitter.

My husband's long drives were much like his swing—gracefully arching balls that semed to flow from the end of a bat that, in turn, was flowing effortlessly,

"The most devastating back-to-back sluggers" ever to bedevil a pitcher.

Lou's career inevitably became entwined with Babe's to the mutual advantage of each. For all that they had in common, they had some contrasts, too.

The same grim childhood poverty that had turned Babe into a wild, free-spending young man, turned Lou into a diffident youth dedicated to a personal economy that was embarrassing to Babe and all the Yankees.

Babe's father and mother had been a home for boys. Lou's were earnest, hard-working German-Americans who were janitors in a middle class apartment house in Lou's childhood and youth.

Babe wanted to go on the town when he could. Lou wanted to build a home for his folks in the suburbs and get home to them just as soon as the ball game was over.

Babe hated authority. Lou accepted it as just and right.

Babe loved people. Lou was a loner, his early shyness replaced by suspicion that came with success.

Who knows who was right? Surely Babe was ridiculous when he left a $10 tip where 50 cents would have been generous. But Lou's dimes were just as silly.

You cannot fault a young man for building his parents a home and staying in it with them, but there must be something in life beyond a ball game and a home cooked meal.

propelled by a gracefully twisting body.

Lou hit that ball like a truck running into a stone wall at 100 miles an hour. You could see mighty muscles tensing and exploding under his taut uniform.

His line drives literally screeched as they headed for the outfield or the bleachers.

No opposing infielder liked to see either the Babe or Lou at bat. But they were physically far more afraid of Lou's bullet-like smashes.

Lou could hit a baseball. And for that alone my husband admired him. And Lou, very frankly, was a Babe Ruth fan.

When Lou went barnstorming with Babe, Babe told me, "I'm supposed to give Lou $300 per day for the trip. I'm going to give him $10,000. He was worth it at the gate."

We lived in New York. Lou lived in nearby New Rochelle. Babe and Lou were mad about fishing and spent many hours at it together in the winter. During the season, the New Rochelle house was a handy retreat for Babe, Benny Bengough and Tony Lazzeri.

Babe and Benny really understood Mom Gehrig's inspired German cooking and her way with pickled eels. The Italian from San Francisco, Lazzeri, apparently got to like it, too.

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD

There were very few men in the history of baseball who ever played so well under as great a handicap as Tony Lazzeri.

He was the best second baseman in the American League, and an outstanding batter. Yet, every time he stooped for a ground ball or walked to the plate, he moved under the dread terror of epilepsy.

In his 15-year career he never had an attack that was seen by a fan, although he left many a game suddenly.

Baseball players, "riding" an opponent to hamper his coordination, can be unspeakably vulgar and cruel. No one ever said a word to Tony referring to his personal tragedy.

Their taunts were always restricted to the morals of his mother, his ethnic background or some such routine insult of the professional diamond.

Sports writers knew all about it, too, but no one ever wrote it.

Tony, in an unexplained accident, was to fall down a flight of stairs and be killed in San Francisco some years later.

On a happier note, as I write this, Benny, fat, bald and healthy, is still in baseball, coaching with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Toots Shor Wins Libel Settlement

NEW YORK (AP)—Toots Shor, restaurant operator, has accepted $48,500 from an insurance company in an out-of-court settlement of his libel suit against Sherman Billingsley, Stork Club propreitor.

Shor originally sued for $1,100,000, contending remarks Billingsley made on a television program were derogatory and made him appear insolvent.

The award to Shor was announced by his attorneys.

Billingsley's attorney immediately protested the settlement by the Seaboard Surety Co., which had issued a policy to Billingsley protecting him against suits arising out of his TV program. He said there would be no retraction by Billingsley. Billingsley contended that no malice was meant.

Atomic Project in Space Has 100-Eyed Father

NEW YORK (AP) — Argus, for whom the outer space atomic test project was named, was a Greek mythological character with 100 eyes.

He was a wide awake character, too, as he always slept with a lot of them open. They were all over him, looking in every direction.

Unfortunately, just keeping awake wasn't enough. He was done in by Mercury.

How this came about is a long, complicated and confusing story. But it seems he was supposed to keep an eye, or eyes, on a princess who had been changed into a cow.

However, Mercury was hired to knock him off. Mercury let him have it with a lot of rocks or lulled him to sleep with soothing flute music, then whacked off his head.

Argus still has a great claim to fame, though. His eyes were put in the tail of the peacock. They are still there.

A wise son heareth his father's instruction.

Mel Ferrer Leaves Audrey in Good 'Paws'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Mel Ferrer turned up in New York this week without his wife, Audrey Hepburn. But he left her in Mexico, he assures, in good hands. Or, rather, paws.

"Audrey's Yorkshire terrier, 'Famous,' is the greatest of guardians. When she was thrown from the stallion (about a month ago on location) and seriously injured, 'Famous' immediately leaped onto the stretcher and laid across her chest. He became vicious. Nobody could come near Audrey.

"They took her to a hospital for X-rays, and still he refused to move. Lay right on the table with her and growled and snapped like he was a police dog. Finally they had to X-ray him too."

Ferrer took a deep draught of cocoa with whipped cream. "'Famous' wouldn't remove himself from Audrey until I arrived from California. Inch for inch, he is more loyal than most men."

In fact, the tiny terrier is the Ferrers' greatest, and only, companion. They live a remarkably remote life, when they're not working, in a small town overlooking Lake Lucerne in Switzerland.

"The only sound we hear is cowbells. I tell you we're not gadabouts. We don't like a lot of parties and a lot of clubs. We don't indulge in gamesmanship. But don't think we're anti-social . . . we have at least four friends."

Ferrer left Audrey in Durango, Mexico (where she is back at work, half-days) to attend last night's premiere of their new film, "Green Mansions," at Radio City Music Hall. It marks the first time he has directed his fragile wife in a movie.

Miss Hepburn is a sensitive actress (she once told us, "a husband and wife working together must be particularly careful not to criticize—only to offer constructive suggestions"), and it could have been a delicate situation.

"But it was not," Ferrer said firmly. "It is not a question of overcriticism between a husband and wife; it is a question of being as tolerant of one another as possible.

"Audrey is terribly meticulous in planning a role. I don't recall ever saying, now in this scene you do this ——. I didn't need to. And I was just as solicitous with the other actors who had a great feeling for their roles."

Mel Ferrer is a man who is long and slender; physically, the masculine equivalent of the tall and lean wife. He claims to have been so happy directing this movie that he has gained 15 pounds.

"It's been a long time since I really enjoyed acting," he said. "Not to be coy, but I was never sure that I had the talent. I certainly don't sneer at acting. It's been remunerative.

"But I sneer at myself when acting. And after I'm finished, I scorn the job I have done. It's such a narcissistic process—spooning your inside out all the time, looking at yourself both objectively and subjectively."

Audrey, on the other hand, spoons her insides out with delight and abandon. Acting and dancing are all she wants of life. Except, of course, Ferrer and "Famous."

75 Pct. of U.S. Families Now Own Car, Is Report

NEW YORK (UPI) — About 75 per cent of American families now own a car against 54 per cent 10 years ago, according to the American Finance Conference.

It also noted that 12 per cent of American families own two or more autos.

Singer, Lumberman Say 'He Started It'

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—Singer Guy Mitchell and a lumber company owner agree they had a fight but they're at odds on who started it.

Abe Berman testified at a hearing Thursday that Mitchell owes him $233 for lumber used in building a den. His left eye was blackened, he said, and he suffered injuries to his hands, arms, stomach and back.

Mitchell said he owes Berman no money but that when he rode by him on horseback Wednesday Berman made a slurring remark and threw a couple of punches at him.

Berman denied striking at the singer.

Vive la France! Gina Purchases Clothes in Paris

PARIS (AP)—The Fifth Republic has scored one small victory in its fight to restore the prestige of La Belle France. Gina Lollobrigida has bought some Paris clothes.

After her first round of Paris fashion houses, the Italian movie queen today had ordered five suits, a coat, several blouses and three hats. "That won't be all," she added.

Heretofore the shapely star had always bought from Italian designers or had her things made to her own design. She once said she didn't care for Parisian fashions.

FULTON, Mo. (AP)—A faculty raiding party searching for liquor in a dormitory at William Woods College found a suitcase filled with empty beer cans in a woman student's room.

College officials said the student explained that the cans were mementos of various dates. On each date, she collected a beer can, painted her date's name on it and filed it away.

Fire Chief Says 1 of 4 Put Newspapers on Oil Stove When Left Alone

BENTON HARBOR (UPI)—Benton Township Fire Chief Harrison Versaw said today a fire in an apartment where four small children were left unattended started when the children tried to burn newspapers to keep warm.

Deputy State Fire Marshal Norwood Neininger of Paw Paw agreed with Versaw that Richard Jarrell, 4, placed newspapers on an oil stove because he and his brothers and sisters were cold.

Boy Scout Troop Advisor Jay Palmer, 36, of rural Benton Harbor and 16-year-old Explorer Scout Loren Kushman, of Benton Harbor, rescued two of the four Jarrell children from the burning four-room, second floor apartment Tuesday night.

Palmer had to crawl through the apartment, guided by screaming four-months-old Scott Jarrell, to rescue the baby. Richard and three-year-old Gordon, ran out of the apartment unaided.

Palmer and the Boy Scout also rescued two-year-old Jeanette. Scott was the only person injured. He is in fair condition with first and second degree burns.

Chief Versaw said the mother, Mrs. Carl Jarrell, was away visiting friends in the neighborhood. Their father was at work.

Versaw said Mrs. Jarrell first told him the oil stove exploded, but he said he did not believe her and asked for the investigation yesterday.

Seaway Makes Ship Route Possible

OKs Great Lakes-Mediterranean Route

WASHINGTON —A new subsidized trade route between the Great Lakes and the Mediterranean by way of the St. Lawrence Seaway was approved yesterday by the Maritime Administration.

The route was declared essential to the nation's trade, commerce and defense.

This means the government will subsidize selected U.S. shipping lines to serve the route, making up the difference between U.S. operating costs and the lower costs of foreign flag operations.

American Export proposes to and American President Lines, Ltd., have applied for subsidies on the new route, covering from 8 to 16 voyages each annually.

2 APPROVED EARLIER

Two other trade routes using the seaway were approved earlier. One is between the Great Lakes and the Caribbean, and the other between the lakes and Europe.

The Maritime Administration defines the newest route as between U.S. and Canadian ports on the Great Lakes, along the general track, and ports in the Mediterranean Sea and Black Sea, Portugal, Southern Spain and Morocco.

It recommended four to six sailings a month during the season when the lakes are open to navigation. All sailings would serve the western Mediterranean—from Italy westward—and some also would serve the eastern Mediterranean.

American exports proposes to serve Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, Cleveland, Toronto and Montreal and other Lakes ports linking them with Lisbon, Barcelona, Marseilles, Naples, Genoa, Casablanca and Seville. It would call at North Atlantic ports when the lakes are closed.

American President Lines wants to ply between Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, Toronto and Montreal and ports in Spain, Portugal, Morocco, France, Italy, Greece and Turkey.

During the closed season on the lakes it would call at Halifax, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Norfolk.

CHANGES DESCRIPTION

The maritime agency also made changes in its description of the trade route between the Great Lakes and western Europe.

The changes include the addition of calls at intermediate Canadian Great Lakes ports and other ports in Canada along the general track of the route. Initially only U.S. ports were included.

Big Ice Chunks Bring Flooding in Montana

GLENDIVE, Mont. (UP) — Three feet of muddy water swirled swirled through a flatland area in West Glendive today as Army engineers kept a watch on the ice-jammed Yellowstone River.

Ice chunks as large as automobiles ground and bucked down the swollen river in the wake of two flash floods.

Hundreds of persons were sent scampering to higher ground by the first flood Wednesday. That flood, like one which followed 24 hours later, was caused when breaking ice jams loosed tons of water on this southeast Montana city of 10,000 persons.

The damage was limited largely to a trailer and cabin court area. There were no reports of injuries. At least two groups of persons were rescued by boat from small islands where they had sought refuge.

Officials said the river appears to have passed its peak, about 9½ eet above flood stage, but it probably will remain swollen for several days.

Mrs. Charles Neldrett, Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers president said, "Quality of parent-teacher cooperative endevor is enhanced and also limited by the quality of leadership."

The MCPT in cooperation with the Wayne State University offers this course in leadership training.

"Presidents and officers of congress units and councils are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to provide the vigorous, informed, and democratic leadership that will result in sucessful parent-teacher cooperation with the local board of education and faculties for better educational programs in the public schools and for the welfare of youth in the home, school, and community," said Mrs. Neldrett.

Bed Snatching Answer Near

Committee in Lapeer Awaits Reply From Lansing on Protest

LAPEER—The legislative committee chairman of the Lapeer Parent Assn. said today he expects an answer "momentarily" to the association's protest against the practice of "bed snatching" at the Lapeer State Home and Training School here.

Richard C. Crowner said a search is currently being conducted in Lansing to see where the order originated that calls for reassignment of a child's bed when he is absent from the state home.

The association sent a telegram to Gov. Williams March 9 urging that those responsible for the bed-snatching policy "discontinue it immediately."

The furore started at Christmastime when "certain legislators" complained they saw 200 empty beds when making an inspection tour of the home, Mrs. Barris Seldon, 21951 Ridgedale St., Royal Oak, said. Mrs. Barris is a director of the Lapeer Parents Assn.

The parents are upset, she said, dren home for a brief visit or because of illness they cannot be assured the beds will not have been assigned to others on the waiting list in their youngsters' absence.

This practice is "inhuman," the association charges, because the child's bed is the only home he knows.

When parents do return their children to the home after a vacation, the youngsters are placed in the General Hospital Admittance Ward until there are beds available in their unit or building, Mrs. Barris asserted.

Sees No Fall in Red Threat

New Army Staff Chief Decries Manpower Cut

By United Press International

Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, the new Army chief of staff, expects the Communist menace to go on unabated and rejects the idea that nuclear weapons reduce the need for Army manpower.

He believes the Army should be modernizing its equipment at a more rapid rate and foresees the need for increased funds in the future to support "essential levels" of manpower and weapons.

President Eisenhower named Lemnitzer, now vice chief of staff, to succeed Maxwell D. Taylor next July 1.

Lemnitzer, 59, is a black-haired, sharp-eyed, stocky officer of medium height.

MIXED COMMAND

He has had a long career of mixed command, staff and diplomatic experience.

In World War II Lemnitzer joined Gen. Clark in the secret submarine mission which led to the African landings in October, 1942.

In intervals between command and staff duties during the war, he negotiated with Italian representatives for Italian capitulation and with the German high command for surrender in Italy and Southern Austria.

He was instrumental in getting American military aid under way in 1949 as special assistant to Defense Secretary Louis Johnson.

At the age of 51, Lemnitzer was determined to become a paratrooper. He took the airborne course and won command of the 11th Airborne Division.

That was in December 1950. The next year he commanded the 7th Infantry Division in Korea.

After a tour as deputy chief of staff in Washington, he returned to the Far East in 1955 first as Army forces commander and then as U. S. Far East commander. He was named vice chief of staff in April 1957.

Lemnitzer was born in Honesdale, Pa., and graduated from the military academy 86th in a class of 271 in 1920. He was a classmate of Air Force chief of staff Gen. Thomas D. White.

He commanded troops and held high staff posts during World War II in the Mediterranean theater, participating in the Tunisian campaign and the Sicilian amphibious operation.

His decorations include the Distinguished Service Medal, the European-African-Middle East ribbon with six battle stars, the silver star for gallantry in action in Korea and several awards from foreign countries.

WED TO SCHOOLMATE

A general officer since 1942, Lemnitzer is married to the former Katherine Tryon, a Honesdale schoolmate.

They have a son, Capt. William L. Lemnitzer, a West Point instructor, and a daughter Mrs. Henry E. Simpson Jr., now living at Ft. Sill, Okla.

To Burn School Fire Trap

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fire! The school's on fire!

A cry to rip at a town's heart, to bring hysteria and heartbreak.

Next month an old school building—a regular fire trap—will go up in flames while firemen stand by and watch. They'll put the torch to it themselves.

What happens then could save your child's life.

This will be one school fire that was planned ahead of time. Flames will roar up drafty open stairways, through transoms. They'll lick through wooden floors in a three-story school considered a potential death trap—a school a lot like those still filling with youngsters five days a week in some places.

Fire experts from over the nation will be watching the unusual experiment. It was born after Chicago's tragic school fire last Dec. 1, killed 94 persons, 91 of them children.

The Los Angeles Fire Department wants to see just what happens when flames sweep through an old building. The firemen also want to try various ways of stopping the fire.

For that purpose, they're installing automatic sprinkler systems in some sections, also thicker transoms and doors in some classrooms.

Inspections this year, touched off by the Chicago fire, showed many fire hazards in Los Angeles private and public schools. Some were easily corrected; some have caused buildings to be condemned. The test building, Robert Louis Stevenson Junior High School, was abandoned because of foundation flaws. It is more than 30 years old.

"Operation school fire," starts April 11. At least 14 separate fires, sealed off from one another, are planned.

Fire officials feel it will take much of the guess work out of school safety precautions.

They think, too, it will help them save lives when somebody shouts: "The school's on fire!"

She's Got Him Around All Day

Pity Poor Pensioner's Wife

CHICAGO (UPI) — Pity the poor wives when their husbands retire, according to a Michigan physician.

Dr. Frederick C. Swartz, Lansing, Mich., chairman of the American Medical Association's Committee on Aging, said wives are the forgotten persons when it comes to planning for retirement.

Yet, he said, the average wife might find that having her husband around the house day in and day out is more of a burden than she can cope with.

"The strain of this adjustment frequently leads to extremely traumatic experiences, from which neither party fully recovers," Swartz noted.

Swartz appeared in a panel discussion at the four-day meeting of the natoinal health forum, which ended yesterday.

The physicians said that while retirement often means putting a man's talents into mothballs, wives "really never retire." Swartz urged that counseling on retirement begin early if the present system of forced retirement at 65 years is to continue.

He said many who reach the age of 65 "become the lost generation" as retirement tends to narrow mental and physical horizons.

"Emphasis has been given often to the concept that it is important to retire to something rather than just to retire," Swartz said.

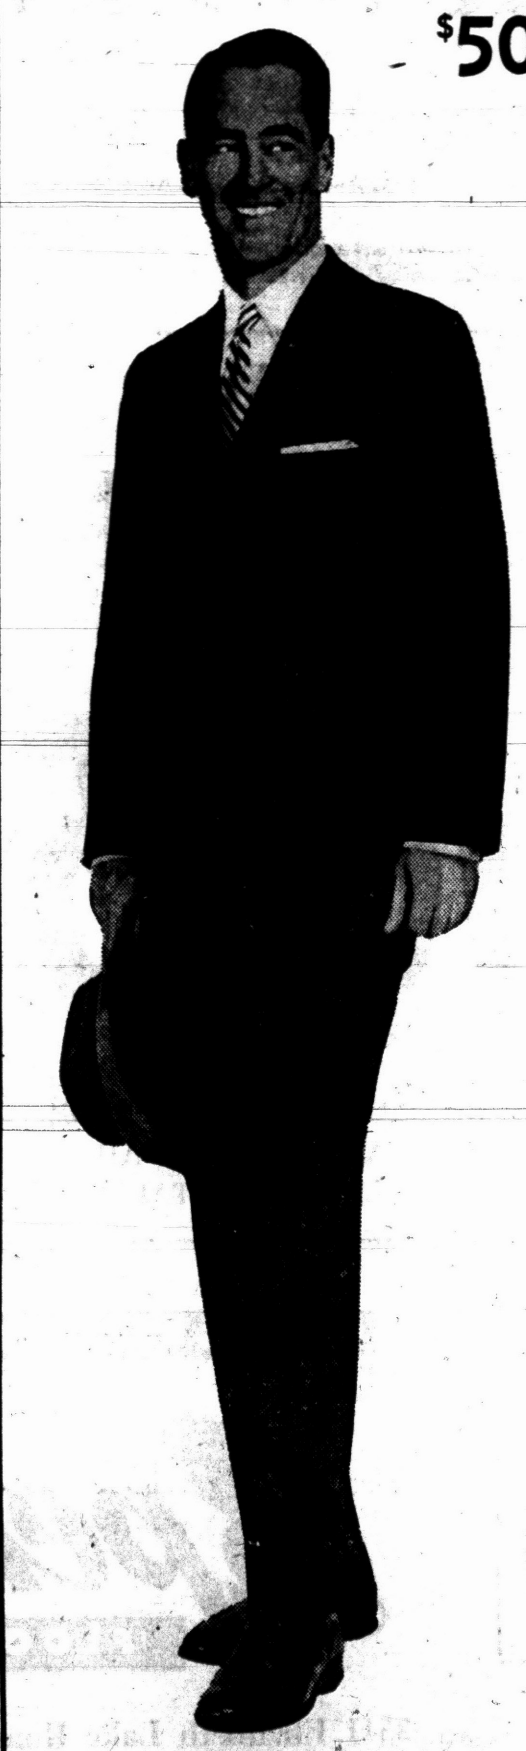

"This is an excellent idea so long as it calls for the full use of the talents possessed by the individual. But to make a messenger boy out of a college president is to promote mental deterioration and physical dissolution."

Royal Pair Planning Gala Nuptials

(This is the third of three dispatches about Michiko Shoda, the next Empress of Japan.)

By AKIO KONOSHIMA

TOKYO (UPI) — The April wedding of Crown Prince Akihito and his pretty commoner bride-to-be presents much the same problems of a gala wedding in the United States or anywhere else—including the big problem of cost.

For this wedding, which will be the biggest in Japan in decades, the cost will be more than 26 million yen ($72,222).

The greatest portion, which has been set aside in the draft of the fiscal budget for 1959, will go for wedding ceremonies, including banquets, ceremonial robes and souvenirs for guests.

Ceremonial robes for the Prince and Miss Michiko Shoda, the flour mill executive's daughter who will be Japan's next empress, will cost in the neighborhood of 1.16 yen ($3,222).

Some old robes will be used. For instance, Miss Shoda will borrow the ceremonial robe used by the Prince's older sister Princess Terunomiya, when she was married. But Miss Shoda also is getting six new formal robes and dresses, each to cost about 150,000 yen ($416).

The Prince will use the winter robe he wore when he was formally declared heir to the throne. But a new winter robe being made for him will cost 300,000 yen ($833).

More than six million yen ($16,667) will be used to feed the 3,000 guests, though all that most of them can expect to get at feasts marking the occasion will be a box-packed luncheon costing $2.78 and a small bottle of sake (rice wine).

SOUVENIRS FOR GUEST

Another six million yen will go for souvenirs to the guests. These will include small silver candy dishes bearing the imperial crest, and copper paper weights.

The 26 million yen set aside in the imperial household budget for the wedding, an amount most Japanese hardly expect to earn in a lifetime, is not expected to cover the complete cost.

Additional funds will have to come from money to be set aside for the imperial household agency's budget.

Once the marriage has taken place, the bride will get two new Japanese-made automobiles, each costing 1.2 million yen ($3,333). About 6.8 million yen ($18,800) will be needed to hire eight court ladies, two chauffeurs and 13 gardeners—all needed for the new Togu Palace, being built for the couple.

These expenses also will have to come from the imperial household agency's budget.

10.24 Inches Rain Pounds Lakeland in Mid-Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three days of rain reached a tumultuous predawn climax in South Florida today as the tip of the state was lashed by a severe thunderstorm.

Sleepers were awakened by driving rain and wind gusts up to 38 miles an hour but no damage was reported.

Downpours were expected to end in South Florida today but North Florida was in for a damp weekend with an inch of rain predicted.

Rain continued at Lakeland in Central Florida where 10.24 inches have fallen in the past eight days. The city has had 11.15 inches this month — more than in any March in 44 years.

As winter prepared for its exit today, its parting salute was a mixture of snow, gusty winds and cold from the Rockies into northern Midwest areas.

But, with spring due officially at 3:55 a. m. EST Saturday, the weather was in seasonal form in most areas in the eastern half of the country — fairly mild temperatures and showers in some sections. It was a little cool in the far Northwest and warm in the far Southwest.

Heavy snow warnings were posted for Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota, northwest Illinois, and north central Kansas.

Minority Parties OK'd for Ballot

Ruling Reaffirmed for Oakland County Vote on April 6

A ruling keeping three minority parties on the Oakland County ballot April 6 has been reaffirmed by Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams.

Adams told Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, chairman of the county election commission, that the Socialist Labor, Socialist Workers and Prohibition parties were qualified, although they did not receive many votes last November.

Adams said there was not time between the November and April elections for the parties to meet the six-month qualifying period, and the requirement applied to general November elections only, anyway.

The election commission had sought to remove the three parties and their 28 candidates from the ballot on grounds that the six-month qualifying requirement had not been met.

Space Age Still Lacking Cold Cure

Let's Quit Reaching for Moon!

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Here's a woman's-eye view of what is wrong with the world, written behind a barricade of pill bottles, tissues and cough medicine.

Scientists should stop trying to conquer outer space until they succeed in conquering the common cold.

In this age of modern miracles, why hasn't some genius come up with a miracle cold pill? This, I am sure, would be of far more benefit to suffering humanity than a moon satellite.

We have push-button kitchens, no-iron clothes, jet airplanes and guided missiles, yet half the world's population is still sneezing.

My outlook may be slightly jaundiced on account of having been unduly exposed for the last few days to a steady barrage of television commercials running something like this:

"At the first sneeze, take miracle snifflefeeze . . ."

"For all cold ills, take our jet-propelled pills . . ."

"Chase cold germs away the modern way . . ."

"Cold miseries stop with supercharged glop . . ."

The cold, hard facts are that even in the current space age, atomic scientists and hard-working housewives alike may still be felled by the old-fashioned common cold, and there's precious little they can do about it that's different from what grandma used to do.

I've been consuming quantities of the newest miracle pills as duly prescribed by a doctor, but I'm still in bed drinking hot lemonade, like grandma used to do.

Also Pass $42 Million Welfare Bill

Legislators Revive Plan to Mortgage Vets' Fund

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams' plan for mortgaging the 50-million-dollar Veterans Trust Fund was alive and kicking again today after five weeks in a legislative graveyard.

In one of the most disorderly, confused sessions of the year, the House kayoed the proposal for a second time yesterday, then revived it for a third vote next Tuesday.

Three-fourths of the Republican delegation turned thumbs down on the plan in an obvious attempt to brand it with a Democratic label. Aware that the fund holds the only apparent hope for meeting the state's growing cash emergency, however, they readily joined Democrats in twice pulling it from the grave to which it was consigned five weeks ago.

Democrats expect to have some absentee members on hand to push it through on the third try next week.

However without a negative vote, the Senate approved 42 million dollars in new welfare and education drains on the anemic state general fund.

Such was the curious chapter in state government finance written yesterday by the Legislature.

The Senate-approved welfare bill, providing 15 million dollars to augment cash for the poor relief and other programs, was routed to Gov. Williams desk for his expected signature, already having passed the House.

The education measure would supplement state aid to public grade and high shools, also for the period ending June 30, by making up to 27 million dollars more available of the state's general revenue kitty.

The bill, which moved to the House, is designed to assure a 100 per cent payout of the 1958-59 school aid formula based on $190 a pupil.

Sylvan Lake City OKs Annexation

Addition of Shopping Center to Be Placed on Ballot

The Sylvan Lake City Council at a special meeting approved placing a proposal before voters asking the annexation of the Sylvan Lake Shopping Center.

Annexing of the property, located in West Bloomfield Township, has been opposed for several years by both residents and councilmen who felt it would have been financially costly to the city.

Jack Raisin, Sylvan Lake real estate dealer who developed and owns the shopping center on Orchard Lake road just southwest of Middle Belt road, told the council he would assume financial commitments to the city that would be necessary for annexation.

Raisin, who has been seeking the move for about three years, said he would furnish the city with a surety bond covering annexation fees, such as tapping into the city's water and sewage systems.

The unanimous approval of the council, the proposal now will be decided in a special election later this year, said city manager David E. Firestone.

In other business, the Council accepted a low bid of $1050.50 plus the trade-in of the city's two patrol cars for a new police interceptor car. The bid was made by Harold Turner Inc. of Birmingham.

The present police cars, 1956 and 1957 Fords, were described by Firestone as "stock" cars, not specially manufactured for police work.

"The city has always maintained a one-car Police Department except for the last two years. The new car will be made specifically for police work with heavy duty equipment throughout," he said.

Delivery is expected in about four weeks.

25 Million to Develop New DeSoto Models

NEW YORK (AP)—Chrysler Corporation's DeSoto Division has budgeted nearly $25 million to develop new models for the early 1960's, according to the division's general manager.

J. B. Wagstaff told a regional meeting of DeSoto dealers yesterday that commitments have been made on the 1960 and 1961 DeSoto models. Wagstaff said development work is underway on the 1962 models and the 1963 models are on the drawing boards.

The Detroit executive said the continuing trend to suburban living will boost demand for cars in the medium price range. He said competition in this price class will be fierce.

Rail Carferry Refitted

ELBERTA (AP)—The reconstructed Ann Arbor Railroad carferry Arthur T. Atkinson made its initial run into this Northwestern Michigan port on Lake Michigan this week. The carferry, originally built in 1916, recently was refitted with new diesel engines. It is capable of carrying 26 loaded freight cars on runs between Elberta, Manistique, Menominee and Kewaunee and Manitowoc, Wis.

It's New to Be Old-Fashioned

Primitive textured drip-dry cotton and decor borrowed from dark-eyed senoritas, vaqueros and Western plainsmen flavor these sports separates by Donovan-Galvani of Dallas. Diversions include flounced skirts, tapered pants and shorts decorated with rickrack and gilt braid and loop tie bandanas.

Femininity Is Keynote at Dallas

By RHEA E. VIETOR
Women's Editor
The Pontiac Press

While the male of the species may be headed for space, the fair sex will indulge in old-fashioned romanticism, according to the Dallas, Texas, manufacturers who are showing their 1959 summer collections to fashion editors from all over the United States this week in Dallas.

Femininity is revived with a grand slam. Curves are fashionable (no news to women who are devotees of the fashion columns), but the way Dallas manufacturers cover these assets is news!

DEFTLY ROUNDED

The rounded look via snug-waisted full-skirted shirtwaists or slim sheaths is deftly handled. What could be prettier than the subtle cotton voile fullness to the skirts?

The return of lace, which is as old as primitive woman, is another flourish emphasizing the boldly romantic turn of fashion.

This summer lace will spice a Mexican-inspired patio dress as well as grace the bodice of a sassy shirtwaist and ice the sleeves of a simply styled navy cotton.

The return of the classic shirtwaist with ingenious floral prints, splashy plaids and rich, earthy colors makes these dresses refreshing additions to tired wardrobes.

SHEATHS APLENTY

There are acres of sheaths, all designed to win male approval. Crisp black and white check, a Schiffli-embroidered linen-like fabric, lovely pastel Arnel and cotton, and a white sundress with a brilliantly printed cover-up jacket are just a few.

Waists are slim with cummerbunds, obi sashes, fitted midriffs and four-inch belts to give that tiny look.

Pants are banana-peel slim, from the short-short to the poured-in Capri. These skinny pants come in the most arresting colors imaginable. Most of the fabrics are "easy care" for an easy-living summer.

Most appealing are the infinite variety of tops to be seen in the collections. Gay tank tops, cotton knit pullovers, wide awning stripes, earthy colored plaids, slashed tops, and sleeveless shirts with convertible collars will all harmonize with both pants and skirts.

Summer is slated for fun as well as femininity and the Dallas showings prove that it is new fashion to be an old fashioned girl!

The waistline gets top billing in a two-part drip-dry glossy cotton by McKell's Sportswear of Dallas. A square-buckled belt keeps the waistline doubly cinched. Skirt fullness is provided in gores and pleats. The print is one of the new splashy florals.

News for half-sizes is this costume in Arnel and cotton checks. It is based on a slenderizing sheath dress, lightly fitted and accented with pique. The softly tailored costume look is complemented by a white-collared jacket accented by side tabs and a back bow.

Beach headlines for the subteen and little sister are the reversible poncho in terry and "Brocaro" print, a Parisian designed fabric inspired by Turkish brocades. Big sister wears her poncho by Johnston Inc. over calf pants. Little sister prefers the terry and pocket-side outside over her swim-playsuit. The bags and hats are designed to match.

Don't Shock Family

Paddling around the house in a robe which has gone absolutely shapeless may be great from the comfort standpoint but it's an awful shock to family and casual callers. Check up on your robes and get rid of the shabby ones.

But Insist He Come Clean—Abby

Use Soft Soap on Obdurate Mate

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I'm so ashamed of my problem I don't know how to say it. Well, my husband is one of those stubborn kind. You can't tell him anything. He isn't a drinker. He doesn't chase. He goes to church and maybe I shouldn't complain but here it is: He thinks it's foolish to take a bath in the winter.

ABBY

"Abby, I have hinted, made suggestions, opened windows and burned incense, but nothing helps. He says a man doesn't have to smell like a "lily of the valley." Outside of that he is dandy. Can you please help me get him into a tub before Easter?"

OVERCOME

DEAR OVERCOME: A man doesn't have to smell like a lily of the valley—neither does he have to smell like a mountain goat. Quit hinting, opening windows and burning incense. Tell him plainly, "If you want ME next to YOU, get next to yourself, Honey, and take a tub, Bub!" (And use plenty of soft soap if you have to.)

"DEAR ABBY: What is a girl supposed to do when she wants to be popular? I try to be friendly with a boy but I don't want to get the reputation of being fast. I kiss them good night, but they aren't satisfied to stop there. They want more. How does a girl act towards a fellow who, when she gives him an inch wants the whole hand?"

THELMA

DEAR THELMA: Compromise. Give him the BACK of your hand.

"DEAR ABBY: I think you were wrong when you told that party that people should call on the phone before coming over. I think that is one of the reasons why families and friends are drifting apart. Far as I'm concerned, any time a friend of ours thinks enough of us to come and visit us, we welcome them. Please print this as I know a lot of people will agree that you are wrong and I am right. Also, tell Andrea for me that we bought a 'welcome mat' for our front door before we had a telephone."

A STEADY READER

DEAR READER: Sorry, I can't agree with you. Most people are not prepared for company "any time." A telephone call in advance is not too big a price to pay for a warm welcome.

"DEAR ABBY: My husband thinks we should take our children to church from the time they are two months old. They cry and wiggle and nearly drive me crazy. I don't get a thing out of the services. We have a nursery but he won't let me leave the children there. He has the idea that a baby must learn to sit quietly in church. Says he had to do it when he was small. What can I do? I might as well stay home."

STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: I agree that children should be taught to sit quietly in church, but if they are too young to understand what's going on and spoil the services for others, they should be left elsewhere.

Hal Boyle Says:

Dick Zanuck Strides in Father's Footsteps

NEW YORK (AP)—It isn't easy to follow in the footsteps of a famous father.

But at 24, Richard Zanuck has taken his first big stride.

His dad, Darryl F. Zanuck, has supervised more than 1,000 films, three times won the Irving Thalberg award. Young Zanuck, vice president of his father's independent company, has just finished producing his first picture.

Dick, a short athletic man whose neat mustache makes him look younger than his years, is aware of both the perils and privileges of his name.

"I realize the chances of my doing what I'm doing now would be a lot smaller if I weren't the son of Darryl Zanuck," he said.

"But I haven't experienced any resentment on the part of others. There would be if I abused the opportunities, or if I didn't do a good job."

Dick is reasonably sure he did do a good job in his initial venture as a producer. He brought the picture in at $1,250,000 — some $100,000 under budget—and shot it in 27 days, five under schedule.

"It was an enthusiastic group, down to the last man," he said.

Dick isn't a bit bashful about admitting he sought the elder Zanuck's help.

Dick has worked in every branch of the movie industry.

"I can't remember ever wanting to be in any other field," he said.

"I was raised around the studio and started selling newspapers there when I was 8. I also worked on the labor gang, in the story department, and in the advertising department."

Dick expects to stick to the producer's role, and has no present desire to direct.

Young Zanuck is strongly optimistic of filmdom's future, feels certain the advent of pay television will boom it tremendously.

"There is a lot of gloom in the industry," he said. "It is sad to see, but I don't know what it is all about. There is too much fear.

"Pictures today — the big pictures—are turning in the biggest grosses in history. The biggest need of the industry is to make more pictures for the present audience—which is the younger generation.

"Seventy-five per cent of movie fans are under 21. A lot of people lose sight of that."

Sea Water Seen Hope of Future

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — A spokesman for the plumbing industry says more economical methods of distilling sea water offer the best method for escaping a critical shortage of water by 1978.

Roy T. Gustafson, regional director of the National Assn. of Plumbing Contractors, said estimated consumption of water in the U. S. will surpass 500 billion gallons daily by 1978, twice as much as we use now.

He said present methods of evaporating and distilling sea water cost about one dollar per thousand gallons, only a little higher than rates in some parts of the country for the conventional water supply. Gustafson said this could be reduced to 70 cents per thousand gallons in the near future.

7 Million Boat Owners Make It Most Popular

NEW YORK (UPI) — The nation's seven million boat owners have made boating America's most popular participant sport, according to industry statistics.

These figures show that the number of boats in the water has increased twice as fast as the number of cars on the road since the end of World War II.

Pontiac Central Pupils Enter Detroit Science Fair

By BARBARA GRIFFIN

Pontiac Central High School's scientific-minded students were busy this week preparing to enter exhibits in Detroit's second annual Science Fair at the Light Guard Armory this weekend.

Winners of the Science Fair held at Pontiac Central High School last weekend have entered the Detroit fair which is sponsored by the Engineering Society of Detroit and a Detroit newspaper. More than 1,800 metropolitan Detroit junior high and high school science students have entered projects in the fair.

Two exhibitors will be selected to represent the Detroit area at the National Science Fair May 6-9 at Hartford, Conn.

With the Saginaw Valley Championship, second rating in Michigan and a debate excellence award behind them, the debaters close the debate season and the forensic season begins at PCH. Spring speech contests in five events including humorous reading, original oratory, sophomore declamation and extemporaneous speaking will be conducted next week.

A contest will select the team consisting of three contestants in each of the five events. The Saginaw Valley tourney will be held April 16 at Saginaw Arthur Hill High School.

The leading candidates in the different events are Stan Walker, Gary Miller, Rodger Olson, Ken Freer, David Martin, Pat DeKay, Doug Spurlock, Kim Robertson, Cynthia Williams, Harold Tate and Alice Reiter.

Others are Clark Davis, Warren Norlund, George Renziperis, Albert Padar, Nancy Walker, Norm O'Neil, Ruth Bellinger, Alvin King, Harold Dunavant, Bill Ratcliff, Barbara Holder, Sandra Brown, Minnie Churchwell and Delbert Gibbs.

SAFE-TEEN CLUB

The Safe-Teen Club, sponsored by the Pontiac Association of Insurance Agents, has grown to almost 40 members. The goal of this club is to show adults that not all teenagers are delinquent drivers. It hopes to cut down on the highway death toll.

Members of Safe-Teens receive Safe-Teen stickers for their cars and courtesy cards to hand out after aiding motorists and pedestrians.

At a recent meeting, the club was divided into committees to establish means of publicizing not only Safe-Teens, but safety as well. Methods include a safety assembly, safety posters and talks before men's and women's clubs of Pontiac.

The last two performances of "The King and I," produced by the dramatic and vocal departments, will be given tonight and tomorrow night at 8 p. m. in the Pontiac Northern High School auditorium.

Registration is now being held for the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Examination to be given May 2 at PCH to all second semester juniors and first semester seniors.

The cost is $1.50 for the test and its administration. In addition to the scholarship funds awarded, these tests are also beneficial in making college plans and planning senior year courses.

Measure Caps, Gowns Today

PNH Prepares for 1st Graduation

By COLLEEN ADAMS

Today, another first occured at Pontiac Northern High School when the class which will be the first to graduate from the school took another step in preparation for commencement.

All seniors who intend to graduate in June were measured today for caps and gowns.

The district vocal festival was held at PNH Wednesday. More than 13 schools participated in this all-day sing. Students swarmed the building with attractive choir robes, and many classes plus study halls were able to enjoy the music.

Starting next week, Monday through Friday, intramural basketball will be headed by Dick Hall, chief coach. The teams will be divided into three divisions: Seniors, juniors, and sophmores.

All players will come from their respective homerooms and are ineligible if they have had previous experience with the varsity or junior varsity basketball squad. Trophies will be awarded to winners of each divisions, therefore there will be an entrance fee of $1.50.

STILL TRYING

The senior class is going to try to have their statue of a Husky dog after all. It will have to be placed near the boys gymnasium and the seniors are now voting on the subject.

Money is one of the problems arising. The senior class is now thinking of ways to make more money. The amount needed is over $1,000.

There are quite a few girls at PNH who are assisting in the offices. In the attendance office, the seven girls who work there include: Peggy Cone, Bonnie Wilsey, Pat Canfield, Nancy Codling, Jane Rathbun, and Kay Twichel and Sally McClellan take over the chores of collecting the slips and recording them on the attendence lists. The advisor is Donald McCracken, and his secretary is Pat Lievar.

Switchboard operators are: Joanne Clark, Claudia Mitchell, Bev Eaglen, Kay LaBarge, Carole Lyons and Donna Tate.

More assistants are the bookstore helpers: Ruth Frisk, Gloria McQueen, Onalee McQueen, Glenda Wagner, and Pat Canfield. Virgie Murray helps before and after school. Secretary is Marlene Sawdon.

Students are urged to attend this novelty dance stag rather than as couples. Two cash prizes of $5 each will be awarded, one to a boy and one to a girl, for the most original costumes.

MUSICAL ASSEMBLY

Members of the WTHS Band, Girls' Glee Club, Boys' Glee Club, and Choir presented a musical assembly for the students of John D. Pierce Junior High School Monday.

Gerald Wallace, social studies instructor at WTHS, was the guest speaker at this week's meeting of Literary Club. During the meeting he showed slides of his 1953 trip to Japan and told briefly of the customs, shrines, and temples of the Japanese. The club will sponsor another guest speaker on April 6.

A case worker from the Family Service Agency in Pontiac told of the work of this agency and its history during a meeting of Future Social Workers also this week.

An organizational meeting for the next college night was held recently. Newly elected sophomores for this committee include Joellyn Prout, Carolyn Klender, Jack Langdon and Mike Mansour.

Final tryouts for the forthcoming inter-class talent assembly were held this week. Seniors, juniors, and sophomores are to each prepare separate 15-minute programs which are to be presented as a student assembly.

The individual programs will be judged by three members of the community. After the winner has been announced at the 12th Annual Honors Convocation Assembly May 21 the name of the class and its year will be added to the assembly trophy.

Members of GAA Letter Club attended a performance of "My Fair Lady" in Detroit this week. Among those seeing the play were Barb Martin, Sally and Sue Fawcett, Judy Patton, Vivian Rusch, Sharon Underwood, Judy Kent, Karen Anderson, Linda Harrison and Karen Madill.

Dismiss Tax Charges Against Auto Dealers

DETROIT (AP) — Sales tax evasion charges against seven Detroit area automobile dealers were dismissed yesterday on grounds of insufficient evidence.

The dealers were charged in January with forging documents that showed new car buyers were residents of other states and not subject to Michigan's three per cent sales tax.

The state claimed it was cheated out of an estimated $200,000.

Four others charged in the case waived examination yesterday before Recorder's Court Judge John P. O'Hara.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

SAUNDERS

HAD ENOUGH DEPT.: Seems as though several other people have had enough rock 'n' roll to bring on the stomach pump, judging from the Detroit disc jockey revolt.

Three cheers for McKenzie and Chase. They've freed themselves from the army of robots we call disc jockeys. The shame of it all is that the talents of these two, and many other record spinners not yet paroled, are being wasted by tasteless station managers and their policies.

What is my personal opinion of rock 'n' roll? It's a form of music, just like jazz, pop, mood, concert, or any other type of music. I may not like it, but I won't knock it just because it doesn't appeal to me personally. When it starts cutting into what I do like, however, then I rebel.

I have attempted from the start to direct this column at music lovers, or record buyers, not just teenagers. Much of my material is beamed at teenage interests, but an equal amount falls into other musical interests, too.

What the rock 'n' roll crowd, the station managers, disc jockeys, etc. must learn is a basic principle well known by jazz fans: You can't try and "educate" the public by cramming "your music" down its throat.

Rock 'n' roll boosters are no more fanatic than jazz enthusiasts, but up to now they have done far too much cramming. A disc jockey is listened to either for a type of music he plays, or for his personality. The personality always lasts longer.

I remember McKenzie when he was good. At some point he became a "spot announcer" squeezed into a stack of rock 'n' roll discs.

The stations make excuses that rock 'n' roll is played during "teenage" hours. Going on this basis, the policies of a good many stations reflect an impression that teenagers sleep little and walk around with pocket portables and earphones.

The whole problem lies in station manager acceptance of a phony thing called the "Top 40." This is not an accurate yardstick of either the record business or public taste. It tells us only what teenagers, for the most part, are buying.

Record companies tell us teenagers form 80 to 90 per cent of the buying public—in single records. What about LPs? In album sales the figures are almost totally reversed. Next time you wonder which is more important, just ask a record dealer whether he makes more loot from total sales of singles or LPs. It's LPs 2 to 1.

FIVE ACES: Tops in singles according to area record shops this week in order of sales are: "Come Softly To Me" (The Fleetwoods); "It's Just A Matter Of Time" (Brook Benton); "Charlie Brown" (The Coasters); "Venus" (Frankie Avalon); "Guitar Boogie Shuffle" (The Virtues).

Round-Trip Rocket to Moon Is Planned

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A space scientist says a seven-stage rocket to take man to the moon within the next four years is in the planning stages.

The first three stages will power the rocket to the moon. It may carry two or three men. A fourth stage will slow the rocket down for landing on the moon, and the other three will return it to earth.

The rocket, called Nova, was described at a conference here Thursday by Dr. Abe Silverstein, director of space flight development for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Silverstein said the first three stages will be 260 feet tall—about equal to a 26-story building. He gave no details of the final four stages.

Rheumatism is comparatively rare in warm climates.

2,000-Mile Trip Near for Rare Whooping Birds

AUSTWELL, Tex. (AP) — Down in the marshes of Blackjack Peninsula on the Gulf of Mexico one of America's tallest wading birds paused in its feeding from time to time, raised its head and trumpeted a whooping, haunting call that could be heard for miles.

Further down the peninsula a pair of whooping cranes engaged in a stately dance, circling, bowing and leaping from side to side with white wings outspread.

These antics signal that the magnificent birds, now almost extinct, will soon start their 2,000-mile flight from their winter home at the Aransas Wildlife Refuge to Buffalo Park and another nesting season in Canada's Northwest Territories.

They will begin leaving in early April, in pairs and families. They probably will leave at night, but the urge to travel may strike in the daytime.

They fly so high nobody will see them unless they come down to some hidden bog for a day of rest and feeding on acorns and crayfish.

The whooper population is now 29, the largest since annual counts were started in 1938. Three times since then it has been down to 23.

The flock of 32 that spent the winter here includes 23 adults and nine young hatched last summer near Great Slave Lake in the Northwest Territories — the biggest crop of whooper chicks in 21 years.

Another young bird stopped off for the winter at Mingo National Wildlife Refuge in Missouri.

Six cranes are in captivity; one at Brackenridge Park, San Antonio, Tex. and five at Audubon Park, New Orleans.

In 183 years, 604,773 Americans have died in battle. In the past 40 years, 1,182,959 Americans have died in highway accidents.

His Fear of Slaying Now Grim Reality

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—One month before he died in a blazing gun battle, Barney Silva wrote a letter saying he feared for his life.

"I, Barney Silva, consider this man, John Sorin, a direct threat to my life," were his words.

Silva and Sorin shot each other to death early Wednesday in the home of Sorin's cousin, Dorothy Chester, 38, of Hollywood.

Sorin, 47, had gone to the house to urge his cousin to return to her husband. An argument started when he found Silva there.

Silva's letter, intended as a will, was written Feb. 16. Silva's widow, Leola, 37, submitted it to Superior Court Thursday.

For God is not a God of confusion, but of peace.

But Ice May Delay Navigation

Lake Shippers See Big Season

CLEVELAND (AP) — Great Lakes shippers are anxious to get the 1959 navigation season started. They may be delayed by the worst ice conditions in years.

The Coast Guard won't predict an opening date for navigation, but if ice conditions aren't too severe it should be early in April.

Prompting the rush is the current production rate of the nation's steel mills. Demand is increasing for iron ore, the lakes' most important cargo.

During last year's recession, when steel production was reduced sharply, shipping was the poorest in 19 years. Many operators used only a portion of their fleets and some ships didn't sail until summer.

The rush to get ships into commission this year is good news for the lakes' 12,000 sailors. Many spent last year ashore and unemployed.

As for the ice, the toughest battle is always on the 86-mile-long St. Mary's River and Whitefish Bay, doorway to Lake Superior and the major iron ore loading ports.

Whitefish Bay and Lake Superior are almost frozen over, the Coast Guard reports. Only 40 per cent is usually ice-covered at this time of year.

In 1957, another year when fleet operators were eager to get started, it took a three-week struggle by Coast Guard ice breakers to reach Lake Superior. It was the second week in April when the ore carriers reached the upper lake.

The Lake Carriers' Assn. took the first step toward opening the 1959 season when its ice committee met March 11. The committee, which meets annually, determines two important dates in consultation with the Coast Guard, the U. S. Weather Bureau and other observers:

1—When to attempt navigation on the lower lakes—Ontario, Erie, Huron and Michigan—and the Straits of Mackinac? A tentative date of April 1 has been set by the Coast Guard to try to clear the straits.

2—When to attempt the big breakthrough into Lake Superior? That question will have to be answered later.

The committee advises members of the association, which is made up of all major lake shippers.

This season, unlike last season, fleet operators are planning full scale operations during 1959. The only possible crimp would be a steel strike this summer.

Pittsburgh Steamship Division of United States Steel Corp., which operates the largest fleet on the lakes, plans to use 53 of its 57 ships. Last season Pittsburgh commissioned only 37 ships.

The Wilson Marine Transit Co. will use its entire fleet, 27 ships, as will Bethlehem Transportation Co. with 11. Oglebay Norton Co.'s Columbia Transportation Division will have 20 of 21 ships sailing.

There's still plenty of ore stockpiled at docks and furnaces, more than 61 million tons. But during the winter, when the lakes were frozen shut, steel mills were taking bigger and bigger bites of the inventory.

In January, iron ore consumption exceeded that of any 1958 month, and stocks fell below the 1958 level.

40 Children Escape Shower of Iron Pipes

MOULTRIE, Ga. (AP)—Nearly 40 children escaped with minor injuries when a trailer truck smacked into the rear of a school bus Thursday and cascaded its load of cast iron pipe into the rear of the homeward bound bus.

The truck driver, Johnny A. Spears of Anniston, Ala., leaped from his vehicle just before the collision plunged the heavy sections of pipe through the cab.

The bus was carrying 75 white school pupils ranging from 6 to 16 years of age.

Thirty-seven youngsters were treated for injuries. None was hurt critically. The accident occurred at Doerun, 12 miles northwest of here.

Spears was treated for shock and several broken ribs. He said he saw the school bus but did not know it was going to stop until too late.

Pieces of cast iron pipe ripped up some of the seats in the rear of the bus and narrowly missed some of the children.

Urges Small City Cars

BURLINGTON, Va. (UPI)—Alderman Charles Ross suggested municipal departments could save money by using small European cars for intra-city travel.

2 Tell Committee It Was Only Visit

New York Crime Group Hears Same Old Story on Gangland Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Rochester, N. Y. brothers are telling the State Investigation Commission the same story told by others —that they were only visiting a sick host at the time a gangland convention was held at Joseph Barbara's Apalachin, N.Y., mansion.

The testimony may not open jail doors for Frank Valenti, 47, and Costenze Valenti, 32.

Commission Chairman Jacob Grumet said the brothers "were very well rehearsed" for their appearance at a public hearing Thursday.

Grumet called Frank's testimony "inherently incredible" and "unequivocally unworth of belief."

Costenze repeated much that his brother had said. He said the auto trip to Apalachin, N.Y., was meant as a social call.

The Valentis and five other men have been in jail here since August for refusing to answer questions before the commission. They were jailed indefinitely for contempt of State Supreme Court orders.

The brothers announced Tuesday they were ready to talk.

The commission and other agencies have been trying for a long time to get the real story on the meeting of 60-odd underworld figures and associates held Nov. 14, 1957, at the mansion of the ailing Barbara.

Visits to Canada by nonresidents climbed in 1957 to 28,700,000 from 27,700,000 the year before. Canadiens reciprocated with 27,300,000 visits to other countries compared with 27,200,000 in 1956.

One Vote for Electrician Makes Him Candidate

CHICAGO (AP)—One vote in a primary election, it appears, has transformed an electrician into a candidate for mayor of suburban Highland Park.

In the March 3 primary Mayor Robert S. Cushman, a lawyer, got 3,527 votes for re-election. There was one write-in vote, for Daniel A. Vetter, the electrician.

Vetter Thursday filed a statement of candidacy that will put him on the ballot in the April 21 general election.

A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in network of silver.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—George A. Anderson, 39, decided to "celebrate" the day he was released from Attica State Prison after serving 13 years. He was promptly arrested for being drunk and causing a disturbance, and was thrown into the county jail.

Space N-Blasts Give Vital Data

But Officials Vague on Knowledge Gained by 300-Mile-High Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's spectacular high altitude nuclear blasts produced valuable information for both military men and scientists, officials say.

But they are talking only in general terms about knowledge gained from the three space explosions late last summer which sent a man-made electronic sheet around the world.

After the hush-hush tests became known, Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles told a news conference Thursday:

1. The world's first known nuclear blasts in space helped the national security.

2. The tests advanced the basis of knowledge required to develop antimissile missiles; they produced results that will be used in perfecting radar systems needed to put an antimissile missile on course; they gave information to back up the Nike-Zeus antimissile now under development.

3. The explosions 300 miles above the South Atlantic will help U.S. offensive weapons.

Questions about the "how" of these statements got no answers.

Pentagon officials, however, indicated knowledge that certain radio frequencies and electromagnetic impulses would be interrupted by high altitude radiation.

The tests indicated a sort of electronic veil can be thrown around the earth to cut radar and radio reception. This might make it possible to knock out a nation's early warning system by nuclear blasts on the edges of space. Even if the invisible veil lasted only hours, it would be long enough to hide the rapid advance of attacking missiles or bombers.

On the other hand, some sources had suggested a high nuclear blast could release enough radiation to make a dud of an enemy nuclear bomb. But many physicists doubt this is even a possibility.

Returns After 30 Years

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI) — Grant E. White returned to his seat in the Vermont House of Representatives after an absence of nearly 30 years. First elected in 1929, White was chosen to succeed Mrs. Eva Lincoln, who resigned at the start of the 1959 session.

200 Live It Up in London

Society Delinquents Toss Drunk Brawl on Subway

LONDON (AP)—Nearly 200 not so juvenile society delinquents threw a drunken brawl in a London subway train Thursday night, but apparently nobody got arrested.

The revellers included debutantes, models, young Guards officers, university undergraduates and members of titled and socialite families.

The mob swarmed into a compartment of a train in the fashionable Chelsea district, armed with bottles, glasses and 35-cent tickets for a 13-mile, 50-minute round trip.

Bewildered passengers — including an elderly parson—escaped as soon as possible, but not before a homeward bound businessman parked his umbrella, dotted his bowler hat and floored an unruly party boy with an uppercut.

The shouting, fighting and drinking continued from station to station. Subway police chucked out a dozen or so of the unruliest at each station, but some got back into other cars.

At Baker street the police made a determined assault and chased 50 squealing girls along the platform and up the stairs. Someone stopped the train for five minutes by pulling the emergency cord. Police struggles with the partygoers held it up at other points.

Survivors who made it back to Chelsea roared out into the street, leaving the train littered with empty bottles and broken glasses. The determined little band wound its way to an apartment and switched to pajamas.

Neighbors called the cops to stop the noise. The party adjourned to another apartment, and stragglers who caught up were told they couldn't get in without pajamas.

"Let's just strip," said a brunette, starting to take off her jacket.

"I say, steady on, old girl," said her escort, a Guards officer.

She steadied.

Once more the police rolled up in answer to neighbors' complaints. Again the party moved on, but its further route was not chronicled.

"I had a funny feeling something would go wrong," complained Maureen (Biddy) Lyle-Purdy, 24, a half-sister of Lady Suirdale and the organizer of the soiree.

Says Other Nations Top U.S. Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former high Army official says other nations, particularly Japan and Germany, are equalling or outstripping the United States in mass production. He blames complacency in U.S. industry.

Frank Higgins, who left his job after serving nearly five years as assistant secretary of the Army, said there was too much of a feeling among American manufacturers that "the traffic will bear it, so let us add it on the end of the price."

Higgins told newsmen at a farewell conference at the Pentagon that his "greatest concern over the future of this country was neither political nor military" but rather a fear that U.S. political and military stature will diminish unless it maintains mastery in mass production.

New or existing home— now you can enjoy built-in

ELECTRIC HEAT

No other heating system offers you so many advantages for just a few dollars more a month

ROOM-BY-ROOM CONTROL

Keep one room at 72°, another at 65°. Turn off the heat in a sunny room while you leave it on in the rest. Without starting up a complete heating plant, you can add extra warmth to any room—fast.

INSTANT RESPONSE

Electricity generates heat right where you want it as soon as you touch the thermostat. No waiting for the heat to build up somewhere else.

EXTRA SPACE

Electric heating units are completely built in. Also, your family can use the space you would otherwise need for chimney, fuel storage, piping and furnace or boiler.

CLEANLINESS

Walls, draperies, carpets and furniture stay clean longer when there are no products of combustion to circulate. Electric heat is the cleanest heating method possible.

EFFICIENCY

All of the heat created is usable heat. None is wasted up a flue. And with individual control, there is no need to overheat several rooms in order to raise the temperature in just one.

UNIFORMITY

Electric heat is clean heat, without drafts, cold spots or layers of cold air. Temperatures vary only two or three degrees from ceiling to floor.

SILENCE

FLEXIBILITY

Electric heat can replace regular baseboards—can be built into the walls or ceiling. Whether it be one room or the entire home, there is a system to give better heating—electrically.

SAFETY

Electric heating systems are designed to distribute heat safely, gently. Concentrations of superheated air are eliminated. There is no combustion process.

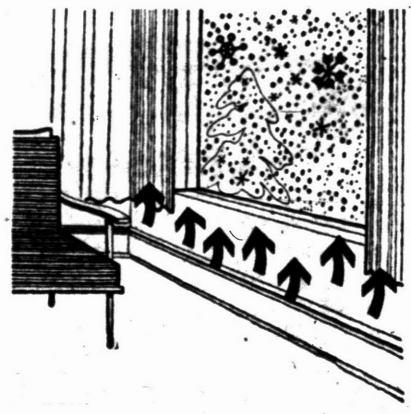

CARES FOR ITSELF

Set a thermostat, then forget it. Except for forced air units, electric heating systems have no moving parts. There's nothing to rust out, no filters to replace, no waiting for fuel deliveries.

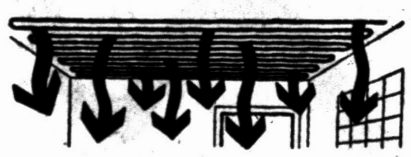

You can choose from several types of electric heat to fit your personal needs exactly

There are two kinds of heat used in the home. One warms you directly with heat waves (radiation) and the other surrounds you with warm air (convection). Either type can be created electrically; some units provide both.

BASEBOARD units heat both by radiation and convection. Without occupying any living space, they keep floors and walls warm for maximum comfort. Baseboard units are very efficient beneath windows, where rising heat dispels the cooling effect of large areas of cold glass.

CEILINGS become "radiators," beaming gentle warmth evenly over the room, when insulated heating cable is embedded in plaster. Or electric heating cable can be fastened to plaster board before the finish coat of plaster is applied.

WALLS can be a heat source with the installation of radiant panels. Panels may be recessed into walls, or surface mounted. Or forced air units, set between partition studding, will circulate heated air through a room.

THE HEAT PUMP is a year-round climate control system. The same unit heats in winter and cools in summer—automatically. It also filters and dehumidifies the air. Electric heat pumps are available as central systems or as individual room units. A central system takes up no more space than a conventional furnace. Room heat pumps are usually built into outside walls.

Electric heat is a new concept in home heating, more efficient than any previous system.

LIVE BETTER ELECTRICALLY

Combustion—once the only way of heating—is now old fashioned. Now you can heat your home the way you operate your toaster, iron and electric range. You can heat safely and simply with the energy that has made possible almost all of your modern living conveniences. In the very room where desired, built-in electric units create heat silently, instantly, efficiently. The advantages of this new form of heating are being discovered by more people every day. Here is another way to live better electrically.

INSULATION IS IMPORTANT! Efficient insulation, properly installed, will reduce heating costs, regardless of the heating system used. Insulation will make your home much cooler in the summer, too. Only with adequate insulation will an electric heating system, or any other kind, give you maximum comfort and economy.

WHAT DOES ELECTRIC HEAT COST? Consider all these factors. Installation usually costs less than other systems. Since there is no furnace or boiler, their cost is eliminated, and extra space is gained for family use. Electric heat systems are simple and require little maintenance. Cleaning and decorating time and expense are reduced. Only the operating cost for electric heat is greater. You pay a few dollars more a month—well worth it, considering the many exclusive advantages of the most modern heating system.

ELECTRICITY, the power which operates almost all modern conveniences, now makes possible a superior system for heating your home. Electric heat adds comfort and value to new homes. It also provides the simple solution for heating problems in an existing home. Oxford to Vote on 5-Mill Hike

School Tax Increase Needed for Operation Through 1961

OXFORD — Voters in the Oxford Area Community School District will be asked to authorize a 5-mill increase in school taxes on May 4, according to R. A. Ambrose, superintendent of schools.

The additional millage is needed for operation from 1959 through 1961, the superintendent said.

In setting the date for the special election, the Board of Education explained that several major factors in the strained school economy necessitated the move.

Listed among them were the rise in operating costs during the past few years and the state's lag in payment of school aid which has necessitated forced borrowing on the part of the local board.

The 1957-58 school year closed, Ambrose said, with the district about $45,000 in the red. The deficit was caused by increased costs brought about by additional enrollments and accompanying facility expansion to handle the augmented student load.

Another factor in determining the need for the millage increase is the gradual decrease in the school tax allocation from the County Tax Allocation Board.

The allocation was reduced from 9.31 to 8.38 mills for the present school year, Ambrose said.

Voters in the forthcoming election need not be property owners nor taxpayers as no bond issue is called for in the proposal, the superintendent concluded.

Union Condemned for Edison Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board has ruled unanimously that refusal of the Plumbers-Pipefitters Union to refer men to work on a Detroit Edison Co. power plant construction job in 1957 was an illegal strike and secondary boycott.

The board yesterday ordered the United Assn. of Plumbers and Pipefitters and its Detroit area Local 636 to withdraw union objections to installing pipe that was not fabricated by members of that union.

The NLRB found the union induced its members to quit work for two months on the River Rouge plant Edison was erecting. The union also refused to send members to work on other Edison construction projects at St. Clair and Monroe.

The union refused to install piping made by Westinghouse Electric Co., because it was manufactured and assembled by members of another union.

Library Will Be Subject

Announce Poster Contest in West Bloomfield Twp.

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Pupils from grades nine through 12 living in West Bloomfield Township will be eligible to compete in a poster design contest intended to produce suitable displays to publicize National Library Week, April 12-18, on the local scene.

The winning poster, to be decided by the township Library Board, will earn a $5 gift certificate from the Old Professor's Book Shop for its young designer.

According to contest rules set by the board, each poster must show the location of the West Bloomfield Township Library and the Westacres Branch, and the hours each is open.

Contestants will be able to choose the theme they deem best emphasizes the value of the library to the community.

Also, posters must not be larger than 22 inches by 28 inches.

The name, home address, school and grade of the entrant should be placed on the back of the poster.

The children are instructed to bring their poster entries to the main library on April 6 before 5 p. m. for judging.

Smoke Routs Students

DETROIT (AP)—Some 800 children were evacuated from the Scripps School on Detroit's East Side Thursday when school officials smelled smoke. Firemen found no trace of a fire. Classes were resumed.

Schoolboys Pull Robbery on Their Lunch Hour

WYNNE, Ark. (AP) — Four schoolboys used their lunch hour Thursday to rob the local post office of $129.

Dep. Sheriff Ivy Ringgold said the four, between the ages of 12 and 15, entered the lobby of the post office while it was closed during the noon hour and broke open a teller's window.

All four were taken into custody later after a search of pupils at the school and released to custody of their parents.

Bishop Leads Move to Repeal Prohibition

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Rt. Rev. Chilton Powell, Episcopal bishop of Oklahoma, will be chairman of a 24-member committee assisting in the campaign for repeal of prohibition in the state.

The repeal movement is sponsored by United Oklahomans for Repeal. A statewide television program launched the campaign Thursday night.

Oklahoma has been constitutionally dry since statehood in 1907 and will vote on the issue April 7.

Jimmie Fidler, Wife Can't Agree About Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Life under the same roof with a husband she's separated from was described Thursday by Mrs. Jimmie Fidler.

"We try to keep everything as natural as possible for the sake of the children," the Hollywood radio commentator's wife told reporters.

They do not bicker, she said. He pays her $25 weekly support pending outcome of the divorce contest. She filed the original suit and he counter-sued. Each charged mental cruelty.

Fidler, 58, and his fourth wife, Adeline, 35, failed to reach a compromise on various issues in Superior Court. The case was continued until Monday.

Mrs. Fidler, a theatrical agent, asks $1,015 monthly support for herself and their two children, Jamie, 7, and Judy 5.

To Open Showboat at San Diego Landing

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Oldtimers often recall with fondness the days of the river showboats and their merry minstrel shows that attracted crowds along the riverbanks.

A California corporation has decided to revive that medium of entertainment, apparently convinced that television and the movies have not dulled the appetite for stage productions.

The group backing the enterprise has purchased the 17-year-old sternwheeler Mansion Belle for $65,000.

The ship will be renamed the Lillian Belle when it is towed from Oakland and set up at a landing in San Diego's Mission Bay.

There will be a cocktail lounge and a theater to seat 300 persons aboard the old vessel.

Niven Seems Best Bet in Academy Award Race

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — The betting up to now favors David Niven to garner the most votes in the Academy Awards race.

Of course, you never know, but David already has won the New York Critics' and foreign press awards, and his friends in the film colony are very active.

He has just signed a contract to star with Doris Day in Jean Kerr's "Please Don't Eat the Daisies." He costarred in "Ask Any Girl" for Joe Pasternak, and Joe wants him for the "Daisies" epic.

Charles Walters will again direct, and the picture starts in midsummer.

You'd never think for a minute that Shirley MacLaine ever tires — she's always so sparkling and full of life.

Now she says her doctor has told her she'll have to take a rest after she finishes "Career" at Paramount.

So she'll go to Japan as soon as she finishes the picture and before she goes into "Seven Women" to be filmed in Yugoslavia.

Shirley and Hal Wallis are getting along like a pair of turtledoves since they settled their misunderstanding. In her new deal, besides the cash bonus, Hal made it possible for Shirley to do three outside pictures in the next two and a half years, in addition to the three she owes him.

He's also given her an extension date on her contract, so it looks like Miss Shirley is riding high.

The condition of veteran actor Edmund Lowe is serious, but not critical. His attending physician, Dr. Carter Hixson, says he will not permit Eddie to return to work in "Heller With a Gun," the Sophia Loren-Anthony Quinn picture.

The actor, who is in Doctors Hospital, caught cold when they were on location. He did not take care of himself, and consequently has a congested chest complicated by a blood condition.

This picture meant so much to Eddie, and when he was signed, he called to tell me about it. Dr. Hixson says Eddie will have to take good care of himself for some time, but that he will be all right if he gives himself a chance to get well.

State Cage Titles Two 'Big' Steps Away From PCH, Holly

Pontiac Central vs. Hamtramck Tonight at MSU

Both Teams 18-1 Going Into Class A Semis on Jenison Court

By BILL CORNWELL

EAST LANSING — It's a mighty difficult assignment facing the Pontiac Central basketball squad here tonight, but veteran PCH coach Art Van Ryzin believes his players are equal to the challenge.

"We think we can beat Hamtramck," was Van Ryzin's lone comment as the Chiefs prepare to battle the speedy Cosmos at MSU's Jenison Fieldhouse in the Class A semifinals of the 1959 Michigan high school basketball tournament.

The Chiefs and Hamtramck tip off at 8 o'clock in the opener of an all-Class A doubleheader on the Jenison court. Grand Rapids Central and Lansing Sexton meet at 9:30 in the 2nd semifinal game.

Tonight's winners clash at 9 o'clock Saturday evening, also on the Jenison floor, to decide the state championship in the windup contest of the annual schoolboy tourney.

The Pontiac Central-Hamtramck meeting is a "natural" which perhaps comes one day too soon from the standpoint of tourney climax. Many observers feel that the PCH-Hamtramck survivor will win the state crown tomorrow.

It is only fitting that the two prep cage powers collide at this time. The two schools fought "tooth and nail" for the mythical state title all season long in the news wire polls with the No. 1 nod finally going to Pontiac.

Each team wants to prove its right to Michigan's top billing and it was inevitable that the two schools would face each other to settle the argument.

The Chiefs hope to completely justify their No. 1 rating in the final voting. The 2nd-ranked Cosmos will try to show that they and PCH should have been in reverse positions.

Both teams have identical 18-1 records. The Chiefs have won nine in a row after dropping a 53-52 overtime struggle to Flint Central on Feb. 6 at Flint for their only loss. Hamtramck's sole setback was at the hands of Edsel Ford and the Cosmos currently boast a 17-game winning streak.

There is little to choose between the two squads. Some observers concede a shooting edge to Pontiac, but think the Cosmos are slightly better on the backboards. The Chiefs will have to contain Hamtramck's team speed plus a versatile scoring punch headed by Art Reid and Len Guinn.

Defense, which has been a vital ingredient in Pontiac's success formula this season, again will be an important factor, along with the Chief's ability or inability to hit the basket.

Hamtramck, coached by Frank Wozniak, bowed to Muskegon Heights in the 1956 Class A final. The Cosmos are slim favorites to win tonight's contest and reach the title round once more. The Chiefs figure on changing their plans.

BIG GOAL — Two Oakland County coaches in the spotlight tonight are Art Van Ryzin (left) of Pontiac Central and LeRoy Decker of Holly. Their respective teams have big games in the state high school basketball tournament today. Pontiac Central goes against Hamtramck tonight, while Holly meets strong Sault Ste. Marie late this afternoon.

Broncos Face Favored Soo Cagers at 4:30

Coach Decker Hopes 'Dream' Won't End in Semifinals

By CHUCK ABAIR

A dream came true for 1st-year Holly coach LeRoy Decker today as his high-riding Broncos took the floor at Michigan State's Jenison Fieldhouse against powerful Sault Ste. Marie in the Class B state semifinals.

"This is something you always dream of but never expect to happen," he said yesterday prior to running his charges through a light workout.

He was hoping along with everyone else in Oakland County that the well balanced Soo squad would not turn it into a nightmare. Last year's runnerup River Rouge met Plainwell in the other "B" encounter.

The gallant comeback against Romeo Wednesday increased Holly's stock considerably since 6-6 senior center George McDaniel had previously been considered the fellow who had to be hot if the Broncos were to keep rolling.

He was held to his season low of 11 and yet the locals were able to eliminate an outstanding opponent. Romeo coach Bud Brotebeck had said before the clash he was conceding "his usual 25" and hoping to hold the other boys down. It worked out just the opposite.

There was little to choose in records, size or anything else between Holly and Soo today although the consensus of the experts was in favor of the boys from the far north.

Sault Ste. Marie had an easy time winning its 21st game in 22 starts over Ludington Wednesday despite some "cold" shooting. It was the 16th straight success for the Blue Devils.

Holly is now 20-2 with 18 of the victories in succession. This is the school's best bid for state honors since the 1923 cagers won the Class C crown. Excitement has certainly reached a fever pitch around Holly this week. Cage teams there had not even won a single tournament game since 1948.

The UP quintet has 6-5½ Jim Ludwig, son of coach J. E., and Tom Talsma, 6-3, to battle lean George on the boards. Ludwig has averaged around the 25 mark in scoring.

The lineups:

HOLLY		SAULT STE. MARIE
Kinney	6-3	F J. Ludwig	6-5½
Morlan	6	F Gordon	6-11
McDaniel	6-6	C Talsma	6-3
Gramett	5-10	G Sanderson	5-10
Coggins	6	G Donnelly	5-7

Holly reserves: Moody, Wagoner, Hasiock, Ennis, Brown, Hall, Richter, MacKenzie, D. Coggins.

Soo reserves: T. Ludwig, Fornarino, Rexses, Hank, Bigelow, Gilroy, Myers.

Experts Pick the Winners

The "experts" agree on most of the selections in the semi-finals of the state high school basketball tournament with the exception of the big game—Pontiac Central versus Hamtramck.

The Associated Press and The Pontiac Press go along with the Chiefs to win, but United Press International and the consensus of the Detroit prep writers give Hamtramck the nod.

"Hamtramck will retire Pontiac Central," said one of the Detroit writers.

"If Charlie Barge was eligible to play, Pontiac Central would win," says Jack Berry of the UPI.

"Pontiac Central is still the state's top team," says Jerry Green of the Associated Press.

"Pontiac Central has the defense to stop Hamtramck," says Bill Cornwell of the Pontiac Press.

"Sault Ste. Marie has too much height, balance and depth for Holly," is the consensus of opinion that the Broncos' 18 game streak will come to and end.

Don Lee Wants Out of Bengal Doghouse

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have suggested all along that if the big, strapping youngster could quit beieng Thornton Lee's son, and be just plain Don Lee, might become a big league pitcher.

It now appears the 25-year-old right-hander is ready to get out of the Tiger doghouse. There still is a question whether he is good enough at the moment to make the Detroit staff.

A vital decision must be made soon, for the club has exercised all Lee's options and cannot send him to the minor leagues again without first getting the other clubs to waive on him.

Lee's brief career has taken some unusual turns. He waited until he had finished college at the University of Arizona before he accepted a major league offer. He was 22 at the time.

Lee, son of former Chicago White Sox pitcher Thornton Lee, stepped right into Class A ranks and compiled a 7-3 record. The very next spring he was given a chance to make the Detroit club, but he didn't.

A high club official said, "No one can tell this kid anything. He acts like he knows more than the rest of us put together."

The husky pitcher made no effort to hide his disgust with the entire organization and said he regreted that he ever signed with the Tigers. He claimed that he had a sore arm.

"I knew there was something wrong," he said, "but they acted like they knew better than I how my arm felt."

Lee finally had a tonsillectomy in July of 1957. Before the season was over he had drifted from Detroit, down to Charleston and on down to Birmingham. Not once did he go the nine-inning route.

Things brightened up on the very first day of the 1958 season. Lee was selected to open the season for Charleston against St. Paul. He went 15 innings and won 1-0, yielding only five hits and one walk.

Late in the season he pitched nine complete games in his last 10 starts, finished with a 14-7 record and a highly respectable 2.95 earned run average.

Maple Leafs Brighten Playoff Chances

SPORTS

Toronto Beats Montreal, 6-3 to Near Berth

Rookie Goalie Blasted With Five Markers in Two Periods

By the Associated Press

Everybody said, as Toronto wallowed around in the National Hockey League cellar, that the Maple Leafs looked like the makings of a fine team next year.

But the Leafs apparently have decided not to wait. Thursday night, they battered the league-leading Montreal Canadiens 6-3 on Montreal's home ice and frightened the wits out of New York Rangers.

The Leafs have 61 points and are in fifth place. New York, holding the fourth and last playoff spot, has 62 points. Each has two games to play.

Since the top three playoff positions are taken by Montreal, Boston and Chicago respectively, the only question is whether Toronto, New York or Detroit will get the fourth. Detroit's chances look dim. Toronto's look brighter all the time.

The records show that the Leafs have had fewer goals scored on them this season than any team but the Canadiens. And they have more players who've scored 20 or more goals than any other team. They have six. Montreal, New York and Boston have four each.

Dick Duff, who was the first of the Leafs to score 20 goals, added his 27th and 28th Thursday night.

George Armstrong became the sixth Leaf to reach the mark when he scored one goal. It was the first time in eight seasons that he had tallied 20 goals.

Bobby Pulford scored his 22nd goal. Ron Stewart, and Billy Harris, who have 20 and 21 respectively, didn't get a goal but each assisted once. Frank Mahovlich, the other Toronto 20-goal man, was blanked.

Bert Olmstead and Gerry Ehman made up for him, Olmstead scoring his 10th goal and Ehman his 11th.

The Toronto power was turned on against a rookie goaler. Regular Jacques Plante sat this one out because of a bad case of boils. Claude (Suitcase) Pronovost, a much-traveled minor leaguer, took his place.

The Leafs blasted five of their goals past him in the first two periods before the Canadiens hurriedly replaced him with Claude Cyr, a 20-year-old from the Hull-Ottawa junior Canadiens. Cyr let in the last goal.

Bradley Plays St. John's Tomorrow in NIT Final

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bradley and St. John's, a couple of "old hands" at winning tourneys, are all set for a showdown re-match in the final round of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament now that the "cinderella teams" have been sent packing with their pumpkins, glass slippers, and hook shots.

And the title in Saturday's nationally-televised (NBC, 4 p.m. EST) battle hinges on one question — can Bradley repeat its 71-66 regular season win over the New York redmen?

Top-seeded Bradley, anxious for its second NIT crown in three years, reached the finals as expected with a 59-57 thriller over New York U. last night on Mike Owens' late layup basket.

And St. John's, seeking to become the first team to win the NIT three times, advanced with a 76-55 romp over a Providence College team that had become the "upset darlings" of the tourney by first-round and quarter-final round upsets.

Coaches Chuck Orsborn of Bradley and Joe Lapchick of St. John's made it clear at once that they both were mighty worried men.

"I thought N.Y.U. was the best team in the tourney — until I saw St. John's beat St. Bonaventure in the quarter-finals," said Orsborn.

"The Braves look like giants to me," said Lapchick, whose Redmen were unseeded but game time favorites in each round so far. "Bradley is a great team and very properly seeded No. 1 in this tournament."

N.Y.U., which had been a strong tourney "dark horse," saw its last chance to beat Bradley thwarted last night by some slick Orsborn strategy. After Owens' driving layup through a hole in the Violet defense put Bradley ahead, 59-55, Cal Ramsey hit a jump shot for the Violets with one minute left. And N.Y.U. got a chance to tie when it gained possession with 33 seconds left.

Gonzales, Hoad Win

DALLAS (AP) — Pancho Gonzales and Lew Hoad easily won their matches Thursday night as the tennis pros brought their tour to Dallas.

Gonzales turned back Mal Anderson in straight sets, 7-6, 8-6. Hoad defeated Ashley Cooper in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2.

Grand National Has 113th Running Today at Aintree

AINTREE, England (AP) — Twelve horses, five jumps and the sadle bag with the most luck are the keys to the 113th running of today's Grand National Steeplechase.

The other 24 horses and 25 obstacles are not supposed to matter.

Well over half the horses are not even expected to be on four feet after the first circuit of the Aintree course. And if as many as 10 horses in the entire field finish with riders still on their back, this will have been a mighty tame—and dull—Grand National.

If you bet on Tiberetta, Mr. What, Greendrill, Wyndburgh, Turmoil or Eagle Lodge, then your horse is an experienced chaser who has successfully jumped the 4½-mile course.

Three other entries are good jumpers and should finish. They are Kirsten, Mr. Vgay and Nic Atkins.

The remainder of the key group are Oxo, Slippery Serpent, and Done Up whom the bookies—for whatever their opinion may be worth—think have a chance.

This is the race where the finish is not the big spectacle. Rather it is (the start 10:15 a.m.), with the huge field lining up before the tape without the benefit of a starting gate.

On the "off" there is a mad charge for the first fence 60 yards away. The in-fighting is terrific. Every year, the first jump weeds out the weak of heart and stamina.

Rain Scrambles Florida Training Camps

Reds--Dodgers Play in Cuba

By United Press International

The zaniest of ventures are making sense today to major leaguers who are trying to beat the worst Florida spring training weather in the memory of Arizona's Chamber of Commerce.

An unprecedented week of rain has scrambled early pitching plans, deprived many promising rookies of a chance to make good and even caused two teams to quit Florida in favor of Havana, Cuba. The situation became so desperate yesterday that:

—The Los Angeles Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds decided to leave the mainland and make a 200-mile jump to Havana for a pair of hastily-scheduled games.

—One manager offered to buy new baseball shoes for players who ruined them stomping through mud puddles around the team's playing field.

—Another team drove 30 miles in a bus to work out in a livestock pavilion.

—Four other teams, desperate to play providing the rain stops, scheduled spring training doubleheaders.

To the four teams training in Arizona it was all a big joke, however, because their schedules are up to the minute. The Boston Red Sox rolled to their 10th win in 11 games by beating the Chicago Cubs, 2-1, at Mesa, Ariz., and the San Francisco Giants hammered out five homers to top the Cleveland Indians, 9-6, at Phoenix, Ariz.

The Dodgers and Reds, idle since Sunday, got together and agreed to head for Havana. The Dodgers flew out Thursday in their private plane, which returned this morning to pick up the Reds. They've scheduled a game for tonight and another for tomorrow afternoon. Each agreed to leave a team behind to fill previous commitments with the Yankees, Tigers and Braves should the weather clear up in Florida.

Solly Hemus of the St. Louis Cardinals was the manager who promised to buy new spiked shoes for players who ruined them running in wet grass or mud.

Hemus explained some of the younger players couldn't afford $25 for new shoes but that he wanted them to get in some running. He also pointed out that Bing Devine, general manager, would pick up the check.

The Braves and Yankees, rained out for the fourth straight time, have also scheduled a doubleheader — this afternoon and tonight. Manager Fred Haney of the Braves pointed out the opening of the season is only three weeks distant and only one of his pitchers, Joey Jay, has gone as much as five innings. Haney also pointed out the string of rainouts has periled the chances of his young pitchers to make good because he now must concentrate on getting his established hurlers ready for the opener.

Meanwhile, back at the western ranches where baseball is being played:

Tom Brewer and Murray Wall collaborated in a six-hitter for the Red Sox, who have virtually clinched the cactus championship. Bobby Thomsson homered for the only Cub run. Dave Hillman pitched eight innings for the Cubs and yielded only four hits.

The Giants hit four of their homers off fireballer Herb Score, who was blasted for seven runs in four innings.

Seats Are Sold

College Cage Coaches Lose Tourney Ducats

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The nation's basketball coaches Thursday night were assured good seats for the NCAA championships here Friday and Saturday after most of their reserved bloc had been sold to the general public by mistake.

"Of the 912 tickets ordered set aside by the NCAA," the association's NCAA executive director, Walt Byers, said, "698 were sold by the ticket office of the Coliseum (Freedom Hall) in violation of the Coliseum's contract agreement with the NCAA."

Byers said a concerted daylong effort to recall the tickets had assured every member of the National Assn. of Basketball Coaches and related committees a seat for the games.

"It's my hope," Byers added, "those seats will be satisfactory."

He said persons from whom tickets were recalled were given their money back and given the same number of tickets free of charge in locations added at the 18,500-seat arena.

The NCAA has an agrement with the NABC whereby the coaches get one complimentary ticket to the championship tournament and may buy an additional ticket. Affiliated members of the coaches' group may buy two tickets.

Before the tickets went on sale, Byers said, the NCAA instructed the Kentucky State Fairgrounds—site and managing organization of Freedom Hall—to hold 912 tickets.

NCAA officials arrived Tuesday to discover only 214 available.

Bill Henry, promotion director of the Fairgrounds, called it an "honest mistake."

Byers said the Fairgrounds management "had made an extremely conscientious effort in getting the tickets back."

State Coaches Retain Smarks

EAST LANSING (AP) — Paul Smarks began his third term today as president of the Michigan High School Coaches Assn.

The landslide election of Smarks, the only candidate placed in nomination by the election committee, was announced yesterday by Frank Crowell, director of athletics at Avondale High School. Crowell said a dozen write-in candidates split fewer than 100 votes. The association was almost 3,000 members.

Four vice presidents elected were Bob James of Warren, Jock Cleary of Hastings, Harold Kaczynski of Frankenmuth and Ed Farhat of Muskegon Catholic Central.

Tickets on Sale Tomorrow If—

Tickets for Saturday night's Class A championship basketball game at MSU's Jenison Fieldhouse in East Lansing may be obtained here tomorrow, provided Pontiac Central wins tonight's semifinal contest, according to an announcement made today by PCH Principal Francis Staley.

If the Chiefs defeat Hamtrack this evening in the Class A semis, 800 ducats to the Saturday night finals will go on sale tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock in Staley's office at Pontiac Central High. They will be sold until 1 p.m. or until they are all gone and the cost is $1.50 per ticket.

COACH IN ACTION — There was plenty of action off court when Cincinnati met Kansas State in the NCAA tournament. Cincinnati coach George Smith gets a workout near his bench as his team defeated Kansas State, 85-75. Tonight the Bearcats meet California in the NCAA semi-finals at Louisville's Freedom Hall where 19,000 fans will watch the contest.

Louisville, Cincinnati Favored in NCAA Semis

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The home court advantage is expected to do more for Louisville than Oscar Robertson for Cincinnati, Jerry West for West Virginia, or a bear-hug defense for California in the NCAA basketball showdown opening at massive Freedom Hall tonight.

Louisville (19-10) meets West Virginia (28-4) in the semifinal opener at 8:30 p.m., (EST), followed by Cincinnati (25-3) vs. California (23-4) at 10:30.

The winners play for college basketball's tastiest plum tomorrow at 10 p.m., following a consolation game between tonight's losers. Capacity crowds of about 18,500 will attend each session.

Despite the general feeling among the coaching fraternity that the home court assist will be minimized by tournament pressure, the odds-makers have made the homestanding Cardinals the favorite.

This although Louisville has the poorest record of the semifinalists, has no one to match All-Americas Robertson and West, and has a defense that's hit-and-miss compared to California's "make-'em-for-everything" style.

The Cardinals also are the only at-large entry lined up against three solid conference champions in a tournament regularly dominated by league teams. No at-large entry has won since CCNY in 1950.

On a point basis, Louisville is quoted at 5½ over West Virginia and Cincinnati 5 over California.

All four teams were in top shape after final workouts yesterday with only Cincinnati due to play short-handed. Mike Mendenhall, regular backcourt man, is ineligible for the NCAA competition as a four-year player.

This didn't stop George Smith's Bearcats from spilling top-ranked Kansas State 85-75 in the Mid-West regional final at Lawrence, Kan., last weekend. Cincinnati, champion of the Missouri Valley Conference, scored its other victory over TCU 77-73.

Louisville, which lost seven of its first 12 games, created the biggest stir when, after bouncing Eastern Kentucky in the first round, it blasted defending champion Kentucky 76-61 and powerful Michigan State 88-81 to win the Mid-East regional.

West Virginia, winless in four previous NCAA tournaments, also has won three straight—from Dartmouth 82-68, St. Joseph's (Pa.) 95-92, and Boston U. 86-82.

Faculty Wins 'B' Waterford Title

The Waterford Faculty won the Waterford League Class B basketball title as expected and regular season winner Drayton Drug was upset in Class A to feature last night's playoff action at Crary and Pierce junior high gyms.

With Gene Nickman scoring 25 points and Vern Cork 17, the Faculty ended a spotless 13-0 campaign with a 65-51 victory over Van Welt's Auto Sales to win the "B" crown. Ray Oates tallied 16 in Van Welt's losing cause.

Johnson & Anderson advanced to the Class A semifinals with a 49-40 conquest of the Drug quintet. Keith Clauser and Bill Pfahlert each fired 14 points for the J&A cagers while Bob Pickett made 13 in defeat.

Lakeland Pharmacy was eliminated by Lytell & Colgrove, 71-56, in the other "A" game. Chuck Gillis dumped in 30 points to pace L&C while Al Serra had 21 for Lakeland.

Rain Continues 5th Day Halting Tiger Workouts

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers tried to make up for lost time today by scheduling two games against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The forecast, however, was for still more rain over most of the state for the 5th straight day.

Manager Bill Norman lined up a "B" squad game for the morning in addition to the regularly scheduled contest in the afternoon at Fort Myers, where the National League Pirates are in training.

Norman will decide today on the first squad cut and plans to make the announcement Sunday. Those likely to go to Tigertown are outfielders George Alusik and Ken Walters, infielder Maurice Wills, catcher Jack Feller and pitchers Bob Bruce and Wyman Carey.

Swimmer Ineligible

MSU to Appeal Ruling

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State swimming coach Charles McCaffree said today he will appeal a Big Ten ineligibility ruling against Billy Steuart, his freestyle champion from South Africa.

Steuart, now a junior, was ruled ineligible for his senior year of competition because he competed in the 1956 Olympics for South Africa after his 20th birthday.

Under Big Ten rules, an athlete loses a year of eligibility for every year of competition after his 20th birthday.

McCaffree said he was burned up because Big Ten faculty members "forgave" U. S. Olympic team members who competed under the same circumstances.

But, the vote was 9-1 against Steuart, with only MSU dissenting, he said.

The husky import from Johannesburg, is unbeaten in the 220, 400 and 1,500-meter freestyle this season and won Big Ten titles in all three races here recently.

"What's fair for one is fair for the other," said McCaffree. "And I don't think it's a very good way to cement international relations through sports."

McCaffree said he will appeal the ruling and will seek affidavits from South Africa on the exact extent of Steuart's competition to back the appeal.

Steuart, meanwhile, is a favorite in his three freestyle specialties for the NCAA swim meet at Ithaca, N. Y., next weekend.

State Yacht in Race

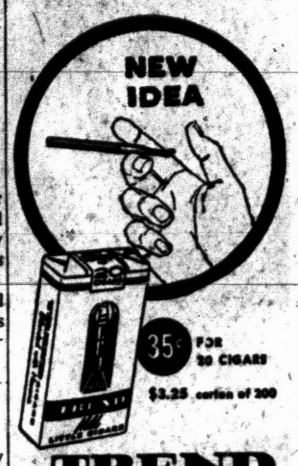

HAVANA (AP)—Twenty yachts, including one from Michigan, headed for Varadero, Cuba, today in a 60-mile speed test to determine the Southern Ocean Racing Conference championships.

The Michigan yacht is the Hilaria. The 55-foot yawl is owned by Hugh Schaddlee of the Macatawa Yacht Club at Holland.

Miss Rawls Sets Pace for Georgia Tourney

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Betsy Rawls, starting swiftly for a change, bubbled with confidence today over her chances of capturing top prize money of $1,050 in the Columbus women's open golf tournament.

The Spartanburg, S.C. veteran, usually a slow starter during her 13-year tournament career, posted a 72, two under women's par, in yesterday's first round of the 72-hole tournament. 7

Wings Need Plante's Aid

DETROIT (AP) — Jacques Plante of Montreal missed the National Hockey League game against Toronto last night, but Detroit Red Wing officials say they have been assured he will play against New York Sunday if he's able.

What does it matter to the Detroit club if Plante does or does not play against the Rangers?

Plante is suffering from a boil on his neck. He was held out of the game last night, but the boil is expected to heal by Sunday.

Montreal, in announcing that he would miss the game against Toronto, said he also would be held out of the Ranger game in fairness to the Rangers. Fourth-place New York is battling Toronto for the final Stanley Cup playoff berth, with Detroit holding a slim chance of overtaking both.

General Manager Jack Adams of Detroit complained to NHL President Clarence Campbell when he learned Plante would be withheld from the game Sunday.

"We weren't taken into consideration at all," said Adams. "That game with New York might mean something to us."

Adams said Campbell assured him Plante would play Sunday if he is able to do so.

Boys' Club Tourney Begins Here Tonight

Local Fans Will Get to See 'Cream of Crop' in Wrestling

Wrestling fans throughout this sector will have an opportunity to see the "cream of the crop" in amateur ranks this weekend as the Pontiac Nrthern gymnasium is the scene of the Michigan A. A. U. mat tournament.

All contestants were on hand this afternoon for a weigh-in session. Competition will be held from 7 to 12 Midnight tonight to get the tourney under way.

Another weigh-in is slated Satuday morning before the action resumes at 2 p.m. The championships will be decided in a night round starting at 7:30.

Entries kept piling up right down to the deadline hour yesterday afternoon, according to director Bill Willson. The PNH mat coach reported receiving 30 application blanks in one group.

Besides a host of outstanding college and amateur participants, there will be many topnotch high school grapplers taking part.

There are separate divisions for prep and "open" entries with separate prizes for each. However, any high school star who took 1st or 2nd in the state tournament this season must be included in the "open" class.

The Pontiac Civitan Club will sponsor the awards to be presented Saturday night. The high school division will have 12 weight classes and the "open" group eight.

Five entries from the host school, four from Pontiac Central and a pair from Walled Lake are among 120 preps entered. Berkley and Ypsilanti will each have 20 while Adrian, Williamston, Royal Oak Kimball and Garden City will be others represented.

The Northern contingent will include Maurice Lackey, Jerry Fields, Bud Beal, Don Davis and Bruce Hynes, who was not on the PNH team. Central will have Henry Smith, Sam Wescombe, Gary Cox and Bob Kaiser. Wes Cosgrove and Gary Esklinen will carry Walled Lake's colors.

At least six Michigan grapplers, some from Michigan state and Canada will head the "open" group.

Borrowed Putter Helps

GULFPORT, Miss., (AP) — Jim Barfield of Grand Rapids, Mich., at 54 successful but still ambitious, carried a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $5,000 Gulf Coast Invitational golf tournament with a big assist credited to a putter borrowed from an old friend.

Dearborn Team Aims for Finals

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—The race for the championship in the National Junior College basketball tournament will be narrowed to two teams tonight.

Henry Ford College of Dearborn, Mich., will play Bethany Lutheran of Mankato, Minn., to determine one of the finalists. Weber of Ogden, Utah, will play Cameron of Lawton, Okla., to decide the other.

Rose Bowl for Cup Test

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The U.S. Davis Cup tennis committee is considering the Pasadena Rose Bowl for the 1959 Challenge Round but no decision has been reached on the matter.

Prep Front

By BILL CORNWELL

EAST LANSING — There's something about this annual hysterical madness known as the Michigan high school basketball tournament that gets in your blood, no matter how hard you try to shake off the fever.

Sixteen schoolboy teams, all that remains from this crazy marathon which started with district action a little more than three weeks ago, swing into semifinal play tonight to begin the final weekend of the 1959 tourney.

When the last shouts have faded away and the cheering crowd has dispersed, there inevitably will be joy for some and heartbreak for others.

After all, winning a state basketball championship is an accomplishment long to be cherished and failure to do so naturally brings great sorrow to the vanquished. But only four prep teams —classes A, B, C and D—will accomplish their goal in this basketball-mad town and it can't be any other way.

But teenagers recover quickly from these tournament setbacks, sometimes more rapidly than adults, and then they go through the same dizzy routine the following year.

This is the time of year when politics takes a back seat in Lansing. The state's youngsters take the city by storm and the grownups fall in line, partly because they too enjoy the tourney and also because the contagious atmosphere makes them feel young again.

And believe me, it does make you feel young again. You watch the youths going through their paces on the basketball court with the cheers of their equally youthful followers ringing in their ears and you remember that it was not too many years ago when you were either playing or shouting yourself.

You can't escape it. It's the weekend for youth to have one grand fling and enjoy every single minute of it—yes, even in defeat. When those four state champs are crowned here tomorrow, you'll feel like a carefree teenager again in spite of yourself.

CORNWELL'S PICKS

Nearly everyone else in newspaperdom is picking tonight's semifinal winners so yours truly might just as well get into the act.

CLASS A — Pontiac Central over Hamtramck. A prejudiced viewpoint, no doubt, but defense and outside shooting will win for the Chiefs. Grand Rapids Central will beat Lansing Sexton and meet PCH for the title with the Chiefs going all the way.

CLASS B—Sault St. Marie over Holly. Loyalty is okay, but those Upper Peninsula boys have ice in their veins and baskets in their eyes. River Rouge will stop Plainwell after a hard battle and go on to take the crown.

CLASS B—Muskegon Christian over Grosse Pte. St. Paul. It's unwise to bet against the champ so why do it now? Kalamazoo Christian should defeat Alcona with the Muskegon lads successfully defending their state title on Saturday.

CLASS D—Fowler over Baldwin. The little central Michigan village has a great winning tradition plus a fine basketball team. Glen Lake should halt Coldwater St. Charles' Cinderella rush, then Fowler will win the crown.

Bardstown Favored

Bardstown, the 7-year-old Calumet Farm gelding, rates the favorite for tomorrow's $100,000-added Gulfstream Handicap at Gulfstream Park—in fair weather or foul.

Elks Mixed Doubles Play Starts Saturday

Women End Tourney

One tournament will be coming to a close while another is just getting started on the bowling front here this weekend.

Concluding hostilities will be the City Women's event sponsored by the Pontiac Women's Bowling Assn. while the Elks Club will open its 3rd mixed doubles contest at Lodge 810.

Despite some impressive performances this year, none of the 1958 championship scores have been matched or bettered in the Women's meet at Montcalm Centre.

Milford Floor Covering is the current team leader with 2962. Eleanor Needham and Marvel Szot head a list of four top-ranking doubles duos with 1238. Frances Johnson of Milford has the high single total of 698.

Marvis Peterson has the best tourney handicap game of 277. Connie Ray's 266 hit the best single of 266. Bernice Driver is tops in actual game with 232 and Mary Salek in actual series at 598.

The Elks meet, which has grown from 155 to over 600 under the direction of Wylie McClellan, will be held on successive weekends running through April 26.

The champion duo will be awarded $150 and trophies while the runnerup will earn $100.

All men participants must be Elks members while their partner may be any lady who is sanctioned with the WIBC.

The 1st squad of the tourney will be made up of lodge officers and the last will be the Bill Warden group.

Besides Pontiac, there will be keglers from Birmingham, Milford, Waterford, Ferndale, Lake Orion, Oxford, Bloomfield Hills, Commerce Township, Orchard Lake, Walled Lake, Northville, Rochester, Royal Oak, Flint, Durand, Plymouth, Wayne, Monroe, Saginaw, Marysdale, St. Clair, Port Huron, Clayton, Pittsford, Drayton Plains, Bowling Green, Ohio, Detroit, Grand Haven, Spring Lake, Fenton, Ann Arbor, Hillsdale and Jonesdale.

Detroit Named 1961 ABC Site

Unanimous Vote Given Motor City; Des Moines Gets 1962 Event

Detroit was a unanimous selection to stage the 1961 tournament, and Des Moines, Iowa, won out in a vote for the 1962 event at a meeting of American Bowling Congress delegates during the tournament yesterday. Toledo had been selected to host the '60 meet last year.

The annual ABC convention met today with Carl Copp of Dayton, Ohio, slated to be named president of the organization which represents three million men's league bowlers.

Copp, now first vice president of the bowling organization, will succeed Richard W. Gano of Salt Lake City. Copp will assume duties Aug. 1.

Yesterday's tourney play featured a pair of 289 games, tying the meet's high single game. Allen Post of Las Vegas and Dr. Emore Broadhoage of St. Louis each had 10 strikes in a row before leaving single pin spares on their 11th try. Bob Orth of Kenosha, Wis., bowled a 289 on Tuesday of this week to set the high mark.

Post, who returned to the game this year after quitting league bowling for 12 years, scored his high game in singles competition. However, he was hurt by an opening game of 148 and failed to land among the leaders.

Royals in Inter-City Final on 51-43 Win

The Lakeside Royals came from behind to defeat Highland Park, 51-43, last night at Lasky Recreation Center in Detroit to enter the championship round of the Class D Inter-Cities basketball tournament.

Trailing by a 22-18 count at halftime, the Royals moved into a 40-30 lead early in the 4th quarter and never gave up their advantage. Larry Douglas with 18 points, Allen Howze 13 and Carl Adams 10 were scoring leaders for Lakeside. Ennis Dix and Jesse Jones made 18 and 13 respectively for the Parkers.

Victory in yesterday's semifinal game qualified the Royals to meet Detroit's Class D representative tonight for the Inter-Cities title. Game time this evening is 7:30 on the Lasky court.

THURSDAY'S FIGHTS

LIVERPOOL, England — Randy Sandy, 139½, Brooklyn, N.Y., defeated Dick Tiger 161, England, 10.

ODESSA, Tex. — Joe Giambra, 158, Dallas, knocked out Andy Anderson, 155, Indianapolis, 1:30, 2.

But Government Borrowing Has Dangers

Cash Market Keeping in Bounds

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Uncle Sam's out looking for more cash today—some four billion dollars of it this time. He needs it to tide him over until you pay your income taxes.

And some bankers are stressing that in spite of the Treasury's constant trotting to the market to raise more cash, today's economy is in many respects less liquid than it was during other periods of business expansion.

Demand for funds by federal, tate and local governments and by home builders has been marked. But on the part of business itself the demand has been slack—a factor that bankers say has helped hold in check the inflationary effects of the Treasury's big deficit.

The U.S. Treasury has raised more than 10 billion dollars of new money in the last eight months. In 1959 alone its previous trips to the markets have netted 3½ billion dollars in January, 1½ billion in February, plus 900 million dollars by increasing the size of its weekly offerings of bills.

Mortgage financing has spurted, too. In the second half of 1958 the volume of outstanding mortgages increased by 8½ billion.

Coupled with various government issues, this more than offset the drop in cor porate financing.

Economists of the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York re-money supply slowed appreciably as business activity picked up and the supply now appears "as small in relation to total economic activity as at any time since the early 1930's."

The bank officials note that until recent weeks corporations have found themselves with limited needs for additional money and with rising internal sources of funds.

"Over the final six months of 1958, corporations raised roughly 3½ billion dollars in the bond and stock markets, 20 per cent less than during the first half of the year," the bank reports. "More recently corporate bond offerings have been running at less than 50 per cent of year-ago levels.

"In essence, the reduction in long-term corporate borrowing has released funds to the mortgage market."

Not only did corporations cut their rate of borrowing from the banks, but they've had idle funds for active buying of government securities. This has been a big help to the Treasury in financing its deficit and to the Federal Reserve Board in trying to keep the deficit from swelling bank credit and speeding inflation.

The bank puts it this way: "in aggregate, corporations have been able to return about as many funds to the credit market over the past eight months (via urpchase of government securities) as they took from the market (via bond offerings or bank loans)."

This condition may not last much longer. If business activity continues to increase, inventory buildups will become sizable, and later business outlays for plant and equipment should rise. Then corporations will be borrowing from the banks instead of buying the Treasury's offerings. The bank draws this moral:

"As production approaches capacity levels, it will become vitally important for the government to cover its expenditures with tax revenues."

Otherwise, inflation will take a new spurt—meaning, up goes your cost of living again.

Hoover Spends More Than HST

But Former President Donates His Pension to Charity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Herbert Hoover has drawn more government funds for office allowances as a former president than has Harry S. Truman, but has donated his personal pension to charity.

The information was included in testimony Feb. 24 to a House Appropriations subcommittee, which made it public today.

The law providing allowances and pensions for former presidents and for widows of presidents became effective last Aug. 25.

General Services Administrator Franklin G. Floete and other GSA witnesses told the subcommittee:

Through Jan. 31, each of the former presidents had drawn the proportionate share of his $25,000 annual personal allowance.

Hoover had drawn $17,910 for office staff, $6,550 or office space and $3,812 for office equipment. Truman had drawn $16,825 for office staff and $452 or office equipment.

GSA reported no payments or office space for Truman, who maintains an office in the Truman Library at Independence, Mo.

GSA reported no payments for presidents were cashing their pension checks, Floete said Hoover is accepting the money, but is turning over to charity the net amount after taxes.

GSA also reported that the proportionate share, $4,327, of the $10,000 annual pension for presidential widows has been obligated through Jan. 31 for Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Market Uneven in Brisk Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stockmarket continued to move unevenly in brisk early trading today.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point prevailed among most keystocks. A number showed no change.

Copper shares resumed their weakness on lower world prices. Magma fell 1⅛ at the opening then cut its loss in half.

Anaconda dropped a point or so while fractional losses were taken by Kennecott and Phelps Dodge.

Motors were unchanged to higher, Chrysler and American Motors gaining slightly while Ford and General Motors made scant price movement.

Steels also stood their ground for the most part although U.S. steel lost a fraction.

New Jersey and Royal Dutch picked up fractions. Texas Co. and Standard of Indiana were off a bit.

Oliver Corp. continued fairly active and higher on merger rumors. Royal McBee dropped a couple of points.

Electronics were scrambled as Radio Corp. and Philco dropped fractions while Raytheon advanced a point. The latter received a 64 million dollar missile contract from the Navy.

American Telephone picked up a point or so. Small gainers included Merck, Goodrich, International Harvester, Boeing and General Dynamics.

Russian Immigrant Dies, Leaves $60,000 to U.S.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Uncle Sam is the beneficiary of the estimated $60,000 estate of a Russian immigrant woman.

Executor Jerome G. Auer said Mrs. Jennie Silverman told him to leave the money to the government.

"She said this country had always treated her well and she wanted to show her appreciation" he added.

Mrs. Silverman died of a heart attack March 6 at the age of 75.

Building Project Set in Motion

Waterford Starting on Its Biggest Construction Program for Schools

Last night, the Waterford Township Board of Education set the wheels in motion for the biggest building program in the school system since the district's consolidation 17 years ago.

The Board authorized the architectural firm of George D. Mason & Co. of Detroit to proceed with plans and specifications for a new 14-room elementary building to be constructed in the Jayno Adams area.

School district voters approved a $5 million bond issue for new schools, plus an additional 5 mills tax increase for school operation, at a special election held March 3.

To be built along the same design as the last eight elementary buildings, the new school will cost approximately $280,000. Waterford Township architect Eugene Cleland is the designer.

According to Superintendent William Shunck, it is hoped that plans will be completed in time to permit bidding and awarding of contracts sometime in May, with occupancy of the building by early fall.

The new school will be located on a six-acre site, known as the Dill property, on the north side of Walton boulevard.

A large number of the overcrowded Jayno Adams school children are being taken care of in the Newberry building, the Presbyterian church on Clintonville road, and at the Drayton Plains school on Sashabaw road.

In other school building business, the first of several meetings was scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday so the Board of Education may begin interviewing architectural firms to draw up plans and specifications on a new senior high school.

After a lengthy discussion, the Board decided to continue the same procedure in acquiring school sites as it has in the past.

Wheat Weak; Others Mixed

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat futures prices were weak but other grains and soybeans were generally narrowly mixed in draggy early dealings today on the Board of Trade.

New crop wheat was off about a cent a bushel on reports of beneficial rain or snow over parts of the Great Plains. Other influences were minor.

West Germany was in the market overnight for 1½ million bushels of corn and the Department of Agriculture accepted subsidy bids of 4 to 10 cents a bushel on 2,180,000 bushels for export.

After about an hour wheat was ¼ to ⅝ cent a bushel lower, May $2.04¼; corn ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, May $1.18½; oats ⅜ to 1 cent higher, May 66¼; rye unchanged to ⅜ higher, May $1.38¾; soybeans ⅝ lower to ½ higher, May $2.24¼.

Pontiac Names Ad Manager

John Malone Promoted to Succeed Kissam in Motor Post

Appointment of John F. Malone as advertising manager for Pontiac Motor Division has been announced by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager. The appointment is effective April 1.

Malone, formerly manager of Pontiac's Cleveland sales zone, succeeds B. A. Kissam who has been named manager of the vehicle sales staff for GM Overseas Operations Division in New York City.

MALONE KISSAM

Malone joined Pontiac in 1940 as parts and service representative in Boston following extensive experience with automobile dealerships in Wilmington, Delaware, and assignments with the GM Sales Section.

He also served as district manager, service manager, and business management manager in the Boston Zone before his promotion to assistant zone manager in Philadelphia in 1949.

During the same year, Malone assumed the duties of Pittsburgh zone manager, later transferring to head the New York Zone in 1955. He had been Cleveland zone manager since 1957.

Following seven years' employment with a New York publishing house, Kissam joined Pontiac's Advertising Department in 1936. In 1937 he was named manager of customer relations and, in 1938, transferred to the Division's field sales organization.

Then followed assignments as district manager and assistant zone manager in New York; zone manager in Cincinnati; and zone and regional manager in New York.

Kissam returned to the Pontiac home office in 1956 to assume the duties of assistant general sales manager in charge of staff operations. He had been advertising manager since 1958.

Housing Starts on Rise

Waterford Request Goes to Lansing

Seeks $500,000 Loan

The Waterford Township Board of Education last night approved necessary steps required to obtain a loan of $500,000 for its operating account in anticipation of state aid.

An application for the funds now will be sent to the Municipal Finance Commission at Lansing for its approval, after which the Board of Education then will advertise for bids on the $500,000 in short-term notes.

In other business, a verbal estimate of $17,015 for additional driveways and a parking lot for the new Thomas Cooley School was submitted by the Ward Ross Company.

The gravel parking lot would accommodate some 40 cars. The site would have 1,191 lineal feet of curbing alongside of some 3,000 feet of sidewalk and landing platform.

The Board postponed action until it can determine how much money of the 1956 school bond issue remains after completion of the Laura Haviland school now under construction.

Board members plan to schedule some time at each of their meetings to study a new recently compiled Policy Booklet. The book contains all resolutions passed by various school boards in the system since consolidation in 1942.

Whether policies used for enrollment of 2,000 pupils at that time are still effective now that the system has swelled to well over the 11,000 figure will be determined in the study.

Recreation Director Thomas Belton presented his budget for the coming year. The board took no action on it, pending further study.

Burglars Get $1,100 at Hub Clothiers

A safe burglary at the Hub Clothiers, 18 N. Saginaw St., netted thieves $1,100 in cash, police reported yesterday.

The intruder climbed a fire escape and entered the building by breaking the third-floor fire door, police said.

The burglars broke a second floor door to get down to the main floor where the safe was located in the credit department offices.

Detectives said the safe had been tipped back and ripped open.

Several pairs of shoes and some sport coats were strewn about the floor.

To Install New Officers of Pontiac Dem Club

Installation of new officers will be the major order of business Sunday when the Pontiac Democratic Club meets at 2 p.m. at the UAW hall, 821 Baldwin Ave.

An additional trustee will be elected to the Executive Board, according to Allen Pilkinton, club president. State Democratic candidates in the spring election also have been invited.

Psychoanalyst on Sunday Spot

TV Interviews Combine Pleasure and Information

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Entertainment can be informing—and information can be entertaining. Look at some of the offerings on the television networks Sunday (all times Eastern Standard):

Psychoanalysts are forever interviewing people, so it should be informative—and entertaining—to hear an outstanding analyst, Dr. Karl Menninger, being the subject of an interview for a change. On "Wisdom" over NBC Sunday at 2 p. m.

At 2:30 on CBS Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts and Arthur Larson, former aide to President Eisenhower, are among those debating the question of "Can Democracy Meet the Space Age Challenge?"

Changing its time for this Sunday only, "Meet the Press" interviews poet Robert Frost at 4:30 on NBC. At the same hour on CBS, Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic will demonstrate how composers through the ages have employed wit and satire in their works.

Eavesdropping is one of the most entertaining pastimes for some humans, and wiretapping is the scientifically informed method of accomplishing it. "The Big Ear" on "Kaleidoscope" at 5 p. m. over NBC is an examination of wiretapping and its implications.

On "Small World" at 6 over CBS Edward R. Murrow leads Noel Coward, James Thurber and actress Siobhan McKenna into a discussion of wit and humor in the theater today.

At the same hour on NBC "The Bell Telephone Science Series" repeats "The Unchanged Goddess," showing how scientists study, analyze and forecast the weather.

There's No Slipping Past Toll Booths

CHICAGO (UPI) — You can't slip by any of the toll booths here at the new $101,000,000 Calumet Skyway bridge.

Concealed beneath the concrete of the 22-lane toll both plaza is a network of piping that circulates 1,100 gallons of hot oil per minute to keep an area of about 58,000 square feet free of winter ice and snow, eliminating skids, slips and other causes of traffic tie-ups.

The oil is heated to 160 degrees before being circulated. It courses through pipes with numerous connections and changes of direction made with welded fitings manufatctured by the Tube Turns Division of Chemetron Corp.

This type of welding fabrication, highway officials say, permits unimpeded flow of the oil and provides permanently leak-proof connections in the road-warming system.

Zoo Feels Living Costs

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI)—The high cost of living has reached the animal world, according to officials at Burnet Park Zoo. The Department of Contract and Purchase says the price of horsemeat, used to feed tigers and lions at the zoo, is two-and-one-half cents a pound higher this year than in 1958. The city contracted to pay 25 cents a pound for 21,000 pounds of the feed.

'For Whom the Bell Tolls' Conclusion Is Magnificent

By WILLIAM EWALD

Part two of CBS-TV's Playhouse 90 version of "For Whom the Bell Tolls," was, to lay it down quickly, magnificant.

Last week's opening section of the Hemingway work had some stiffness and an occasional lack of fire, but last night's piece had a splendor, a luster, that turned the 90 minutes into one of TV's most distinguished offerings.

Jason Robards Jr., who had little to work with last week, managed to shake Robert Jordan loose last night and gave him rasp and lunge. It was the sort of playing you don't often see on TV—Robards laced a harsh majority into his part that was simply overwhelming.

From Robards, I just don't know where to go, but I suppose the next stop should be Maria Schell. Miss Schell, an actress with a builtin corona, beamed light into the evening.

One five-minute sequence in which she talked about the various outrages inflicted upon her by the Fascists, was one of the most moving scenes I've ever seen on the little tube.

The rest of the cast was superb — Maureen Stapleton, Nehemiah Persoff, Eli Wallach, Steve Hill.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: NBC-TV's Behind Closed Doors will be bumped out of its time spot April 16 by a new panel show, Laugh Line.

Jack Benny pulled a nifty 27.2 Trendex for his CBS-TV special Wednesday night.

NBC radio is planning to dump six of its daytime soap operas — Don Ameche's Real Life Stories, One Man's Family, The Affairs of Dr. Gentry, Five Star Matinee, Woman in My House and Pepper Young's Family—in favor of a new variety show, It's Network Time, which will feature Tommy Leonetti, June Valli, Pat Carroll, Arnold Stang, Frank Blair and Don Russell.

PONTIAC CHIEF BECOMES INDIAN CHIEF — S. E. Knudsen (left) general manager of Pontiac Motor Division received one of the highest honors bestowed upon a distinguished visitor to the State of Oklahoma when Chief Jasper Saunkeah named him an honorary chief of the Kiowa tribe of Indians. Along with the presentation of the traditional Indian war bonnet Chief Saunkeah also conferred on Knudsen the title of "Chief Kau-Dale-Ate-Kau-Dadle," meaning "Chief Wide Track Runner."

The Bump on the Head Must Have Caused It

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — They were kidding TV star George de Witt backstage about announcing his "engagement" to Italian movie star Silvana Pampanini—and one friend said, "It was love at first headline."

WILSON

George, who met Miss Pampanini in a Havana swimming pool (they accidentally bumped heads while swimming and he's been out of his about her since), insisted they're really engaged. "I've been married twice but this is the first time I was ever engaged," George announced . . . while rushing off for a date with a German beauty from Miami, Hildegarde Shieba.

George, whose "Name That Tune" show is seen Monday, said he resents Steve Allen talking about going on the air Monday "because some nights are rather dull." Growled George: "Monday night isn't dull on TV but maybe if Steve Allen comes on, it will be."

With Audrey Meadows taking over Person to Person March 27, friends are calling her "Edward R. Meadows." . . . Mel Ferrer (who's in N.Y.) reports that Audrey Hepburn must still lie down in a station wagon which transports her over Mexican roads to shoot "The Unforgiven" each day. She rides, lying down, an hour going and an hour returning . . .

JUNE

It's a kick seeing June Valli looking so beautiful while singing on the Perry Como and Jimmy Dean TV shows. Eight years ago when she was just out of a 5th Avenue lingerie shop, she was on my little TV show. Once married to Chicago d.j. Howard Miller, she's now "fancy free and hoping to meet somebody."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Killing the rumor of bad feelings with Hermione Gingold, Polly Bergen surrendered her first floor dressing room to the British comedienne at the Alvin where they'll do "First Impressions." Goya's "Naked Maja"—banned from the mail—will be a block-long sign over the Astor Theater . . . Castro gave Columbia Pictures his OK to film "Our Man in Havana" there . . .

Linda Darnell's burning at Jayne Mansfield, claiming she signed her autograph right over Linda's in fans' books when both were at Grossinger's . . . Friends of Van Heflin, who gained 35 pounds for his role in "The Tempest," call him Van Hefty.

EARL'S PEARLS: Can you imagine anything worse for a woman than to have a choice chunk of gossip—and a bandaged dial finger? . . . That's earl, brother.

Hubbard Gives Pickets Music

Dearborn Mayor Uses City Hall Speakers; Offers Rest Stretcher

DEARBORN (AP) — Teamsters Union pickets circling the Dearborn City Hall Thursday were serenaded with songs — courtesy of Mayor Orville H. Hubbard.

Hubbard had just returned from a meeting where he stomped on and spat on a subpoena ordering him to appear at a labor mediation hearing for organized city employes when he ordered the public address system in front of the City Hall turned on.

As the pickets marched to such tunes as "Boogie Woogie" and "Come Back Little Darlin'," the mayor broke in periodically and told them "this is coming to you through the courtesy of Mayor Hubbard of Dearborn."

The mayor also ordered a fire department ambulance parked in front of the building and told the pickets "if you get tired of walking you may lie down on one of the ambulance's stretchers. This is also through the courtesy of Mayor Hubbard."

The pickets came from Local 299, the home local of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa. They said the token picketing was to advertise the signing of 350 Dearborn city employes. They claim to represent a majority of the municipal workers in this suburban Detroit city.

Under Michigan law, municipal workers' unions must bargain through the State Labor Mediation Board, but efforts by the board to get Hubbard and other Dearborn officials before it have not been successful.

Hubbard was attending a meeting of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors when a detective shoved a subpoena into the mayor's suit coat pocket.

"How long have you been in the State Police?" the mayor demanded as he opened his coat and the subpoena fluttered to the floor. "I wish I was in the State Legislature, I'd cut your budget."

As the officer left, Hubbard said "I'm gonna spit on it. I'm gonna step on it." He did.

Las Vegas Flabbergasts Ernest Hemingway, Wife

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Ernest Hemingway's first visit to Las Vegas drew this comment from the novelist:

"My wife, Mary, and I are flabbergasted by the ferocity of the slot machine players, the chuckwagons and the wild faces of the women dice players."

The Hemingways came here from Idaho where he has been writing a book for the last five months.

Grand Rapids Fisherman Drowns Near Muskegon

MUSKEGON (AP) — Charles Tarbell, 21, of Grand Rapids, drowned yesterday when the boat from which he was fishing in nearby Muskegon Lake was swamped by a wave and overturned.

Two other youths, Richard Karras and Clifford Fults, both 20, of Grand Rapids, clung to the boat until they were rescued by firemen.

Film Veteran Lowe Has Heart Blood Clot

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Veteran film star Edmund Lowe, 66, has developed a small blood clot in the wall of his heart.

His physician, Dr. W. C. Hixson, said Thursday Lowe's condition is not critical.

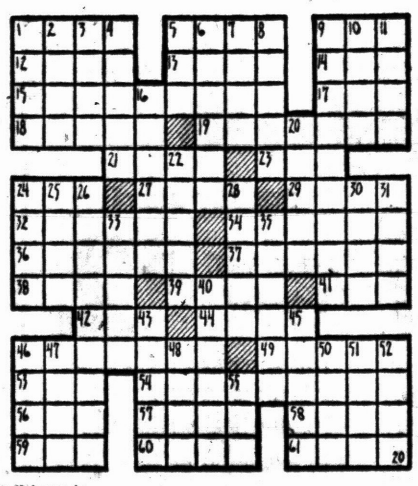

"He suffered the same thing about six years ago," the physician said. "This one was brought on by a virus attack."

Shopping Under Fire

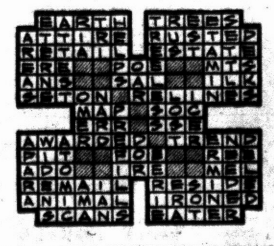

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—While firemen were battling a large fire in a business section here, a man walked up to a shattered shoe store display window, sat down and tried on several pairs of shoes until he found one to his liking. He then put his own shoes back on and walked away with the new footgear tucked under his arm.

Research Reports Reveal

CRAB GRASS PROBLEM SOLVED

One PAX Application Gives Years of Control

Research reports just released reveal a major breakthrough in control of crab grass. Test plots, where a single PAX application was made, show no crab grass three years later. These tests are now confirmed by similar findings by leading universities throughout the country. PAX results were so outstanding that experts state, "The lasting control and ease of a single PAX application solves the crab grass problem."

PREVENTIVE CONTROL

Crab grass is an annual that dies each winter leaving millions of seeds. PAX kills these seeds and those that blow in from neighbors' lawns for years. Thus, PAX ends forever the continuing task of digging or spraying to remove the growing weed.

CONTROLS CHICKWEED

Tests now confirm PAX as a positive control for mouse-ear chickweed, speedwell and Euphorbia.

FEEDS LAWN — KILLS PESTS

PAX contains fertilizer to renew lawn beauty and chlordane insecticide to control lawn moth larvae (sod webworms), night crawlers, cutworms, ear wigs, grubs and ants.

Bob Considine Says:

Fielding Guide Makes Mighty Good Reading

NEW YORK — On a recent trip abroad about 75 per cent of the people on the plane were making their first crossing. A great portion of these had their bills buried, like thirsty birds, in my friend Temple Fielding's Travel Guide to Europe.

I sweated out Fielding's first such guide for William Sloane Associates, publishers 12 years ago, wrote a blurb for its jacket — something to the effect that I could have saved a lot of chocolate bars, cigarettes, etc., during the big war and shortly thereafter if Fielding had written his travel book sooner.

In the ensuing years, lots of people have saved more than that by latching on to this extraordinarily hep and casual guide.

As a consequence, Princetonian Fielding and his ever-loving Nancy now live it up in a villa on Mallorca, travel through Europe six months a year.

We saw them a few weeks ago in their splendid suite at Madrid's Palace Hotel surrounded by a long ton of rare food and drink they had purchased to lug home for the rest of the winter season.

Temple does a commendable job of refraining from tainted plugging as much as humanly possible. It is next to impossible to be in his business and not say that this or that hotel, this or that restaurant, this or that shop, rates over the rest. The pressures on him must be enormous, but I think he makes a good honest effort to be a reporter and avoid the easy luxury of subsidy.

Fielding's new one is fresh out, the 1959-1960 edition, and with it an account of how he and Nancy work.

"We never introduce ourselves anywhere until the check has been paid," he writes. "We're strictly Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith, routine American tourists (which we are!) who apparently speak nothing but English, who are typically easygoing, and who often appear to be baffled (which we also are!).

"We stick by one inflexible rule always: no commissions, rake-offs, cuts, kickbacks, or outside compensation in any form — from anybody . . . certain ruffians whose rackets we have exposed — various Madrid, Toledo and Italian tour guides are vicious examples — continue to spread the smear that they've 'personally stood there,' while we accepted bribes 'up to $5,000' from institutions. . . . .

"Let anyone open this book, pick the name of any hotel, restaurant, shop or local attraction from any page, and go straight to the source for their own checkup."

Fielding says this coming year will be the "dizziest, busiest picnic in European travel history," provided, he adds, "if Maitre Khrushchev, chief chef Mao and first cook Nasser don't try to force their house specialties on unwilling palates."

He tells you where to go and where not, what to eat and not eat, what to have shot in your arm, or someplace, before you venture forth. And what to take along: "Don't take slacks or shorts unless you have a figure like Gypsy Rose Lee's," he commands lady readers. "On fat or plump women, Europeans hate 'em."

It would take too much space to give his comments on countries ranging from Albania to Yugoslavia. Suffice it to say that his new guide, as did the old ones, deals with currency, custom, thievery, conniving, clip joints, saloons, night clubs, laundry, the water, and how the people will probably like you or dislike you.

Fielding doesn't ask you to agree with him throughout, and you won't. For example, my wife and I found the King George in Athens a delightful place with the most courteous service imaginable.

Temp says of the same joint ". . . suffering from the familiar Travel Boom Disease — an acute case of Swelled-Head-itis toward some of its guests . . . rudely indifferent clerks, insulting arrogant management . . ." and worse. We'll never forget its view of the Acropolis.

But by and large, and by gum, old Temp turns out the most readable and instructive of the travel books. It makes good reading even if you don't plan to move off your front porch. It makes even better reading if you are a Congressman and can rent your front porch for enough dough to travel.
