City Value Up $15 Million

By L. GARY THORNE
An increase of more than $15 million in the assessed valuation of real and personal property in the city was announced today.

City Assessor Edward C. Bloe reported the city's 1965 total assessed value at $310,630,900, an increase of $15,159,000 over last year's assessed valuation of $295,471,900.

Corp. expansion here, according to Bloe.

The hike in assessed value came primarily from personal property valuations, which jumped $11,825,900 over 1964.

Personal property in the city was assessed at $134,290,300 in 1964, compared to $146,216,200 this year.

Nearly all of the increase came from General Motors

Most of the relief was granted

The Board of Tax Review, a five-man panel that rules on appeals and sets the final assessed value of the city, trimmed the city assessor's total recommended valuation by $1,565,500, about $394,600 more than the cutback granted in setting last year's total valuation.

indigent cases. About 500 such requests accounted for $1.1 million of the board's total $1.5 million deduction.

The board cut a total of $1,538,600 off real estate valuations and allowed relief for only $26,900 on personal property valuations.

U.S. Civilian Being Used as Red Hostage

Viet Guerrilla Under Sentence of Death for Sabotage Attempt

TOKYO (AP) — The Viet Cong broadcast a declaration today that they will execute a captured American civilian if Saigon authorities execute a Viet Cong member arrested in connection with the bombing of the U.S. Embassy March 30.

The American is Gustav C. Hertz, 46, of Leesburg, Va., chief of the U.S. Aid Mission's Public Administration Division in Saigon, who disappeared on a motorbike trip two months ago.

The threatened retaliation was against what was called

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will deliver a major statement of U.S. policy on the Vietnamese war tonight in a speech from Johns Hopkins University. (See Page F-11 for television information.)

"scheming to execute a South Vietnamese patriot named Nguyen Van Thai, a carpenter, under the pretext that he was involved in the bomb blast at the U.S. Embassy."

The broadcast, however, did not mention the scheduled execution tomorrow of Le Dau, the leader of a Viet Cong sabotage team who was arrested at Da Nang's Grand Hotel Sunday night while trying to smuggle explosives concealed in a radio into the hotel.

It has not been announced in Saigon that Thai will be executed.

HANOI BROADCAST
The threat was announced by the South Viet Nam National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong, and broadcast by Hanoi radio heard here.

"If the U.S. and its henchmen execute Nguyen Van Thai," the broadcast said, "the front will immediately give order to execute G. Hertz, a member of the United States operation mission in South Viet Nam, who is guilty of spying activities and many bloody crimes against the South Vietnamese people."

Red Jets Fire Over W. Berlin

Soviets Buzz City as Parliament Meets

BERLIN (AP) — Four Soviet MIG 19 jets firing cannon flew over Berlin today and other jets harassed allied air corridors as West Germany's parliament met in this old German capital.

The flight of the four MIGs at 1,000 feet altitude, a power display for the West German parliamentarians, came after members had assembled in Congress Hall. West Berlin police could not find that the cannon had hit anything.

One formation of four MIGs screamed at near supersonic speed over Congress Hall itself.

Other Soviet MIG jet fighters and twin-jet MIG attack bombers streaked at irregular intervals at low level over West Berlin.

At the same time, an informant said Soviet jets were buzzing western planes flying in the air corridors to and from Berlin.

"There was nothing this morning, but this afternoon they started hot and heavy," the source said.

BUZZED PLANE
One witness reported a Soviet jet buzzed a commercial plane either landing or taking off at Tempelhof Airport in the U.S. sector.

"That Russian could not have been more than 1,000 feet away from the plane," the witness said. "The Russian was going like hell."

New Snow in North Girl Testifies Boosts Flood Threat in Belcher Trial

CHICAGO (AP) — New snow fell along the Canadian border states from Minnesota to Upper Michigan today heightening flood threats from a widespread thaw that has swelled many Midwestern rivers and streams near or beyond bankful levels.

A sudden thaw has melted away much of the winter snowpack in central parts of the Midwest but much still remains in northern areas. Flooding already has started in parts of Iowa and Minnesota.

Other Midwestern areas that were seared by drought last autumn have been transformed into quagmires.

The Little Sioux River left its banks at Cherokee in northwestern Iowa, driving 350 persons from their homes. The surging stream was 15 times its normal width and 10 feet over flood stage.

The river hit a crest of 27.1 feet yesterday with more high water on the way down through its winding watershed. Damage has been estimated at more than $500,000 in lowland areas.

It was the worst flood in the community of 8,500 in 74 years. Flood control experts said a higher crest could be expected. Mayor Dale Goldie declared an emergency.

More than 250 National Guardsmen helped with evacuations and a precautionary shipment of typhoid vaccine was rushed in.

Motorboats and heavy duty vehicles moved in to aid in evacuation.

LITTLE SIOUX
At Sioux Rapids between Cherokee and Spencer, the Little Sioux flooded the waterworks and reportedly contaminated the water.

The Red Cross sheltered 650 persons from Cherokee, Waterloo and Marshalltown. The flooding affected eight counties.

The Zumbro River rose sharply in southeastern Minnesota. Flood stage is 18 feet, and the river hit 28 feet and was still rising.

Downriver at Theilman, flood stage was 38 feet and the river hit 47 feet.

300 FAMILIES
Up to two feet of the flooded Vermillion River in Hastings, Minn., sent nearly 300 families to high ground today. About 35 families were evacuated in Lilydale and 20 at Columbia Flats.

In Illinois, the Mississippi River was six feet above flood level in Cairo and the Illinois River was 14 feet below flood level in La Salle.

Air Crash Near Flint Kills Illinois Pair

FLINT (AP) — An Illinois couple, en route to deliver a talk on aeronautics, was killed last night when their single-engine plane struck a utility pole and crashed near Flint's Bishop airport.

State police identified the dead as the pilot, Paul Stoll, 36, and his wife, Lois E. Stoll, 38, both of Glen Ellyn, Ill.

Police said the two had been scheduled to deliver a talk before an aviation instruction class today on "the psychology of aeronautics."

Police said both were expert pilots, and Mrs. Stoll was believed to have been at the controls.

The plane, approaching the airport for landing, apparently hit a utility pole, snapping off one wing, struck the ground, bounced into the air and came to rest upside down on an embankment, police said.

CAUSE OF CRASH
Officers said the crash may have been due to carburetor icing or an engine stall. An investigation was scheduled.

Electricity was cut off in the southwest fringe of Flint for several hours following the crash.

'Seek a City Saint'—6

Give of Yourself Daily

By DAVID HEAD (Distributed by NEA)

First, the city saint takes himself as he finds himself. His priestly vocation is the backbone of his life, and when he does a good job at work, or gets something done in local politics, or presents accurate youth club accounts or makes a hospital visit on behalf of the Church, he finds satisfaction in it. But that is different from self-esteem.

If the regard for loving were simply nice feelings of self-approbation, it would be worse than a box of poisoned chocolates as a thank-you present; in fact, the reward for loving is more love.

Secondly, the city saint's very worldliness keeps him in size. Like the priests of old, and unlike Jesus the High Priest, he must seek forgiveness for himself as well as others.

He will value the insight of the Orthodox Church in its stress on identification with a sinful world. He will remember how those who went to the Church in New York's East Harlem compared Christ's action with theirs:

NO LOWER PLACE
"He humbled himself. We can't. There is no lower place for us to go."

'Many Key Spies for U.S. Are High-Ranking Reds'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., one of the few men in Washington privy to the Central Intelligence Agency's innermost secrets, said today that many of the best spies the United States has abroad are top Communist party officials.

Young is one of only six senators who know precisely how much money is appropriated for the super-secret CIA and for what purpose. The funds are concealed in the budgets of dozens of other federal agencies for security purposes.

Last winter, the North Dakota Republican toured virtually all of the CIA's overseas offices as a member of a Senate Appropriations subcommittee.

"Many of our most valuable CIA operatives in various countries throughout the world are actually high-ranking Communist party officials," he wrote in a report to his constituents.

Asked to elaborate, Young told United Press International that American spies cannot work their way up in the apparatus of foreign Communist parties.

"Some party members — not too sold on communism — for a price, will work for us," he said.

ADAPTABLE EXPERTS

"These operatives are experts in their line of work and they find little difficulty in adapting themselves to any kind of political environment."

Young declined, for obvious reasons, to cite any current examples. But he did tell of a Russian agent, high up in his country's secret service, who also worked for the CIA.

"He had so many girlfriends, he was one of our most expensive operatives," the senator said, adding that the agent in question was caught and shot about a year ago.

On the other side of the fence, Young said, every Communist to some degree is an espionage agent. He said that in the U.S. they usually hide out in extreme left-wing groups.

But they can conceal themselves effectively in almost any level of society, including far-right organizations.

"They are fewer in number now in the U.S. than at any time in the past 20 years and most of them are known to the FBI," he said.

"The agents and operatives of the Russian KGB (similar to the CIA in scope) and their GRU (military espionage) are much more difficult to cope with."

MAJOR MISSION

"One of their major missions is to seek out top secret military and scientific information," Young said.

There is something "for this world" in taking yourself as you are. Religions say strive, march, fight, Christ says, "Be yourself and let Me look after things, and put you in your place."

Because the saint knows his place, his life is not a constant effort to get to it, or to justify his standing on it. He knows he is not holy by exertion. He is given his status.

Our concentration on holiness could turn you into a self-centered struggler or a self-despairing straggler. You may try to understand holiness, but you must not try to attain it in grim determination, if you do, you will not be at all "nice to know."

KEEN OBSERVER

I remember the comment of a keen observer, "If only you Christian people could relax and enjoy life." Because the saint is "in God," he can be in everything, and take life as he finds it.

Thirdly, the city saint shows a worldly rather than a pious slant by taking other people as he finds them.

His position as (in some sense) "a priestly type," could make it very difficult for him to meet another person simply as a person, and not as a sinner, or a potential saint, or a possible new member, or a useful contact, or someone to serve.

To accept a priestly calling is to get rid of a great deal of the irrelevances of church life; but it is also to occupy a privileged position.

TALKS SERVICE

More and more today the church talks about service. Good — so long as we realize the position we put the world in by wanting to serve it.

It is hard for the church, especially the western churches, to appreciate how uncomfortable it often is to be at the receiving end.

The very fact of giving puts one, or so it seems, in a superior position.

The old-age pensioner, who goes next door, rice pudding in hand, has got more than a pudding when she says, "Now, dear, I hope you won't be of-fended." The truth is that giving without love is always an insult.

PERFECT CITY

In the perfect city love is entirely mutual. Possessive interference, one-sided "charity," unintended offense, dutiful kindness, all give way to the full fulfillment of life in relationship to the in-and-out of adventurous love.

The city saint lives already in this spirit. Every person is a new discovery, and he never gives without receiving.

He recognizes that the bearing of a helpless invalid can be salt that savors a whole lump of living.

He will be glad that the laughter of children's voices in the playground makes a contribution to the city's life.

And he will quietly accept his place in a world that is God's, grateful to know that he may be of most use when he is least conscious of himself and his calling.

Pontiac's Valuation in $15 Million Rise which the tax rate is finally applied. The state won't set the equalized value until May.

To determine the SEV from the city's assessed value, an equalizing factor is applied. The factor, officially established by the state, rarely stays the same from year to year.

However, based on Pontiac's 1964 factor, the city's total SEV could rise about $20 million.

City officials estimate that the city receives about $10 million in the general fund for each million-dollar increase in Pontiac's state equalized valuation.

Thus, if the 1964 factor were to remain the same for 1965, this would give the city's general fund, supported by the 10-mill charter limitation, about $200 million in added revenue.

Give Testimony on Scrap Yard

Residents living in the area of the Sam Allen & Sons, Inc. scrap yard testified yesterday in Circuit Court that the metal-crushing machine used at the yard was a public nuisance.

Five persons were called to the stand by Pontiac City Attorney William A. Ewart at the opening session of the trial before Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

All five concurred that the machine was a nuisance because it created noise which disturbed the neighborhood.

Smoke and odor nuisances also were cited in the testimony.

COMPANY SUE

The city and 15 residents sued the company at 22 Congress last December claiming the machine was a nuisance and that it disturbed the neighborhood.

The trial was scheduled to begin Feb. 24 but was deferred on the request of Ewart who said a postponement was necessary because Allen's attorney had not filed an answer to the original complaint in time for him to properly prepare his case.

Union Installs New Leader

Chief of IUE Resigns After Findings on Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paul Jennings, declared the winner by the Labor Department in a strife-ridden union election, took over today as president of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers.

James B. Carey resigned today as president after a report Monday that his reelection last fall to a new four-year term involved extensive miscounting of votes.

Jennings was unanimously elected president by the union's 30-member executive board.

Jennings will serve the four-year term that Carey had begun Jan. 1.

The Labor Department said Carey had been falsely declared reelected last December by the union's five-man board of trustees, who counted the votes. The Labor Department report said the trustees had switched some 25,000 Jennings votes to Carey.

NO KNOWLEDGE

Carey, who said he had no knowledge of the vote miscounting, submitted his resignation, and then immediately left the board meeting.

The board named a committee to work out problems of transition of the control of the union to Jennings from Carey.

For Carey, president of the union since its founding in 1949, it appears to be the beginning of the end as an important force on the labor scene.

For Jennings, a founder of the union and a member of its executive board, it is a day of vindication and triumph. He has been trying to depose Carey for years.

Carey, 53, said Tuesday in submitting his resignation to the AFL-CIO union's executive board:

'CONCLUSION'

"I have come to the painful conclusion that I can best serve our beloved union's future, its unity and solidarity and its capacity for advancing the interests of all electrical workers by resigning my position as president of the IUE."

Defense attorney John McIntosh said he would put Belcher on the stand. He indicated it probably would be tomorrow.

Technician John R. Matthews said he found the gasoline traces in a pair of white wool socks obtained by Detective Lt. Donald R. Geary of the Female police.

Millage Hike for Roads, Public Safety Brewing

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A request for additional road and public safety funds is in the making here.

With the endorsement of residents received last night, the Township Board is expected to discuss the date for a millage election at its Monday night meeting.

To be sought is one additional mill for the police and fire departments and another half-mill for a five-year road improvement program.

Township officials last night called together representatives of the 91 subdivision associations in the township to discuss the need for increasing taxes.

Some 150 persons attended the session, and a show of hands poll indicated most were in favor of putting the request on the ballot.

NOTED SUPPORT

They were primarily concerned with the present condition of roads in the township and noted they would support a program to improve them.

The Township Board proposes increasing from one-half mill to 1 mill the levy for improvement of roads.

Also due to expire in 1966 are a half-mill levy each for the fire and police department.

Township officials would increase the sum to a 2-mill total designated for public safety.

TO HIRE MEN

With the increase, they would hire enough men to give each department 35. There now are 25 officers in the police department and 21 firemen, although four of the policemen serve as radio dispatchers for both departments.

Supervisor Homer Case said he was told yesterday afternoon that the Oakland County Road Commission can spend no more than $125,000 to match Bloomfield Township road improvement funds in 1966.

The half-mill levy last year provided the township with $74,772. Doubling the amount would provide more than enough to match the county limit, Case said.

The balance would be spent on the purchase and operation of the township's own road truck.

IN NEGOTIATION

Case announced last night that he has been negotiating with the county road commission on the deal for the truck.

The township is forbidden by law from establishing its own road department.

The road commission has agreed to supply a driver to work full time in the township if the township buys the truck, maintains it and pays the driver's salary.

This is expected to cost $20,000 a year.

Whether or not additional millage is accepted, Case said he would ask the Township Board to approve the arrangement.

EMERGENCY MOVE

Meanwhile, he said, emergency measures are to be taken immediately to repair Inker and Eastways roads on a temporary basis.

The proposed program collector roads only — not would cover mile roads and those within subdivisions, Case emphasized.

About 13 miles of roadway would be improved by splitting the cost 50-50 with the county. It would cost roughly $80,000 a mile to bring these up to county standards, Case said, noting the majority would be for tree removal and ditching.

Of the $1,040,000 estimated total, the township's share would be $520,000.

IMPROVED AREAS

Designated for improvement are Square Lake from Opdyke to Adams, Eastways, Square Lake from Klingensmith to the western township boundary, Lone Pine, Wing Lake, Ward, Walnut Lake, Kensington and a Wabek.

In addition, the two-mile Inker stretch between Bloomfield and West Bloomfield townships could be improved if each of the communities paid 25 percent of the cost, Case said.

Three miles of 14 mile could be handled in the same way, that east of Telegraph the road is virtually "a no-man's land," the supervisor said.

At various points, it is controlled by Bloomfield Township, the county road commission, Franklin and Beverly Hills.

Cost of repairing Inker and 14 mile would add another $400,000 to the total. Case said, with the township's share in the neighborhood of $100,000.

ELWOOD G. WEST

New Trustee for Hospital

Appointed to the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees at last night's City Commission meeting was Elwood G. West, 41, of 56 Marquette.

West will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Robert A. Armstrong, 74, of 179 Cherokee.

A purchasing department buyer at Pontiac Motor Division, West is married and has four school-age children.

He is a graduate of Pontiac Central High School and has attended General Motors Institute.

This appointment is West's first venture into civic service.

he said Soviet fighters repeatedly buzzed the British military airfield at Gatow, on the western outskirts of Berlin.

"These buzzings are very dangerous because of our troop planes flying in there," he said.

Despite the buzzing, commercial flights of Pan American World Airways, British European Airways and Air France continued to land and take off.

Reports that two Communist army divisions — one Russian, one East German — were deployed along the autobahn to Helmstedt could not be confirmed by western military spokesmen.

One allied official said East German and Russian military columns had been spotted flanking the four-lane highway at irregular intervals last night and early today.

Interior Loop Is Step Nearer

City OKs Agreement for Reconstruction

The city moved a legislative step last night toward creation of a future interior loop road to circulate traffic within Pontiac's central business district.

City plans call for the eventual establishment of an interior loop highway similar to Wide Track Drive but smaller.

However, no timetable has been set for the road's construction.

City Engineer Joseph E. Neippling disclosed last night that reconstruction of portions of former state trunklines in the state will provide for two legs of the future interior loop.

The City Commission approved an agreement with the State Highway Department for curb repair, street rescaping and catch basin repairs on portions of Williams, Pike, Perry, Saginaw and Oakland.

STATE TRUNKLINES

These streets, partly to Wide Track, served as state trunklines. Before the roadways are turned back to the city, the allowances to reconstruct them.

Neippling said that Pike and Perry will form the southern and eastern legs of the city's future interior loop road.

Cost of the reconstruction project was estimated at $71,000. The city's share would be 25 per cent or $17,750, explained Neippling.

Missing Girl, 7, Safe in Jittery Benton Harbor

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Another wave of fear swept through this already jittery city Tuesday with the disappearance of a 7-year-old Negro girl.

Phetha Yates was missing for more than eight hours, just two days after the discovery of three sexually mutilated bodies, including one of a 7-year-old girl, Sunday.

Police said the missing girl was found after she spent an afternoon of playing in a field on one of the state's first sunny days of the spring.

Two boys Sunday led police to the bodies of Diane Carter, 7, Mrs. Amelia Boyer, 60, and Mrs. Robert Jones 37. Police in much of southwestern Michigan have worked around the clock since then sorting and checking hundreds of tips and leads and searching for the dismembered head of one victim.

GREEN SEDAN
A report of a green 1959 sedan sighted near the scene last Friday was followed Tuesday with two more reports of a similar car sighted at about 10 that evening.

There was a rash of gun purchase permit requests. Local stores were reported to have sold out almost all small-arms ammunition and small-caliber pistols.

Police said they were told by common law husband of the mother of Mrs. Jones he saw Mrs. Jones return home after midnight on Feb. 6 and leave promptly with three men. She was not seen after that according to police.

Officers said another witness told of seeing a man approach Diane Carter about a week ago, pick her up and carry the girl off. The witnesses said the young girl approached the man willingly but he thought he heard her cry for help as the two left.

A plaid woolen shirt and a girl was found in a burned home on Feb. 16.

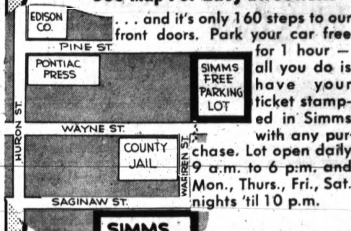

A partially burned Christmas card signed, according to police, "Doris (or Delores) and Joe Young" furthered the belief that the three slayings were connected with the death of 18-year-old Delores Young. The nude body of the Young girl was found in a burned home on Feb. 16.

2 Britons Pan Julie's Oscar

LONDON (AP) — Two British show business critics criticized the American Oscar awards today, suggesting Britisher Julie Andrews received her acting award as consolation for not getting the lead role in "My Fair Lady."

Leonard Mosley of the Daily Express also criticized the award of an Oscar to Britisher Rex Harrison. Other British writers were delighted by the British sweep of the top Academy awards in Hollywood.

Mosley said none was more delighted than he at the awards to Harrison and Miss Andrews, "but compared with the competition, they didn't really deserve them."

"What did Julie get her Oscar for?" he wrote. "Because she gave a delightfully happy-go-lucky performance as the sunshine governess in 'Mary Poppins'?"

"Or because Hollywood's technicians — whose votes decide the issue — felt sorry for her and wanted to get back at Jack Warner, of Warner Bros., for 'cheating' her out of 'My Fair Lady'?"

David Nathan of the Sun said Miss Andrews "is not the best actress in the world... not the best actress in films; nor the best actress in Hollywood; nor even the best actress last year in Hollywood."

After emptying the cash drawer, the gunmen fled, police said. The hold-up took place at about 1:30 a.m.

Murf the Surf and His Pals Get 3 Years

NEW YORK (UPI) — Three Florida beach boys who stole the priceless Star of India sapphire and other gems from a museum here have been given three-year prison terms.

Supreme Court Justice Mitchell D. Schweitzer yesterday sentenced Jack (Murf the Surf) Murphy, 27, Allen Dale Kuhn, 26, and Roger Frederick Clark, 29, to three years each on charges stemming from the Oct. 29, 1964, jewel theft at the American Museum of Natural History.

The celebrated theft resulted in the disappearance of the fabulous Star of India sapphire, the 100-carat Delong ruby — largest of its kind in the world — and 22 other precious gems.

After admitting the theft, the beach boy trio helped police recover part of the loot, including the Star of India and eight other gems, from a Miami bus station locker.

The Delong ruby and the 14 other jewels are still missing.

Funds for Local Hospital in Senate-Approved Bill

The Senate gave approval yesterday to the $6.8 million House version of a supplemental appropriations bill for the current fiscal year.

Included in the total is $150,000 to launch construction of a children's unit at Pontiac State Hospital.

The extra spending bill also contains $1.45 million for expenses of the legislature's increased staff and quarters and for its relocation of other agencies formerly housed in the Capitol.

Nearly $1.5 million goes to bring school grants up to earlier-forsaken levels and $700,000 does the same for junior and community colleges.

Other major items in the bill include:

- $313,115 for the new Court of Appeals.
- $421,277 for care of tuberculosis patients.
- $200,000 for mental hospital drugs, medical, surgical and laboratory supplies.
- $150,000 for purchase of four lots in the Lansing Capitol development area.
- $1 million for a power plant addition and alteration at Kalamazoo State Hospital.

- $196,700 for purchase of a mental health center site in Muskegon.
- $191,000 for three construction projects at Ionia State Hospital and Ionia Reformatory.

The Senate postponed debate until today on the workmen's compensation bill, the week's major piece of legislation. It passed eight routine bills and moved another into position for final passage.

A $9 million welfare measure which boosts the state's share of payments made through county welfare departments progressed from the health and welfare committee to the appropriations committee.

Waterford Boy Struck by Auto; Reported Serious

A 12-year-old Waterford Township boy, injured when he was struck by a car at 3:10 p.m. yesterday, is in serious condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Allen Bellehumeur, 17, of 722 Sunnybeach, White Lake Township, driver of the car, told police he couldn't avoid hitting the boy who was crossing the road. Bellehumeur, who was driving east on Hatchery, said he noticed the boy starting across the road just as a school bus had passed his car.

U.S. Confident Air War on Viet Reds Has Scored Successes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam—The two-month-old air war against the Communists in North and South Viet Nam has scored some major military successes.

Suspected Cong Emplacement Bombed

The blueprint for the future clearly calls for a gradual step-up of pressure on the north. Possibly the bomb sights will turn on Ho Chi Minh's laboriously built industries.

Since the first bombs of the current raids were dropped Feb. 7, U.S. Air Force and Navy planes and Vietnamese Skyraiders have poured some 1,400 tons of bombs and rockets into 26 North Vietnamese targets.

This has cost 12 U.S. Air Force jets, 10 U.S. Navy planes and four Vietnamese air force planes. Five U.S. Air Force pilots, five Navy fliers and two Vietnamese are dead, missing or captured.

GROUND FIRE
All but two of the American and South Vietnamese losses resulted from antiaircraft fire. Communist planes have been reported in the vicinity of the American raiders' only twice, in the past week.

The second time the U.S. Air Force was considerably embarrassed when a handful of outdated MIG jet fighters shot down two F105s and escaped.

The United States has avoided spectacular raids on population centers to concentrate on military targets that might sit better with world opinion.

Although the first strikes were said to be in retaliation for terrorist attacks on U.S. installations in South Viet Nam, it is now clear that the raids were in the offing even if there had been no such attacks.

"The Communists made our job easier by giving us the excuse," said one U.S. source.

U.S. strategists expect the aerial bombing to slow down supplies to the Viet Cong. Cambodia is now the only place that the Reds can store and mass supplies across the border from South Viet Nam that is not open to air strike.

The air strikes also have a political goal. The U.S. government hopes the Hanoi regime will decide that support of the Viet Cong is not worth the destruction of its own vital installations. Some political sources say the North Vietnamese may be prepared to return to a more primitive economy to keep up the pressure on the south and to expel the Americans from the Indochinese Peninsula.

A high U.S. Air Force source said the majority of the raids on North Viet Nam have had extremely good results. He said American and South Vietnamese losses had not been high considering the targets, the extensive defenses, the number of sorties flown and degree of destruction expected.

FLYING CONDITIONS
Flying conditions over the coast of North Viet Nam are marginal. The area will clear soon as the monsoon winds swing from northeast to southwest.

There's been a marked drop in the ground war inside South Viet Nam, and the success of the jets using conventional antipersonnel weapons is still not fully evaluated. More than 100 strikes have been flown by jets in South Viet Nam.

But if the Viet Cong mass for big attacks, the U.S. Air Force is confident it can inflict a terrible toll. In the first major battle in the Mekong delta in months, 276 Viet Cong were killed. B57 jet bombers and armed U.S. helicopters accounted for many of them.

"One other problem," a U.S. Army adviser said, "the more the Americans get into this, the greater the tendency will be among the Vietnamese to sit back more and more and let us do the fighting."

Youth Centers Combat Urban Social Defects

This is National Boys' Club Week. First conceived in 1860 in New England factory towns, the institutional development of character and physical assets of the Nation's youth has flourished into a vast network of inspirational centers.

During the past decade, 12 million boys from 8 to 18 have been touched by the uplifting influence and spirit of comradeship that pervades the 635 boys' clubs in 45 states.

The Pontiac club was formed in 1945, occupying space in Eastern Junior High School. Six years later the building on East Pike was completed, where a many-faceted program of recreation, co-operative endeavor and development in creative arts is carried on.

Last December, as result of contributed effort and funds by many firms and individuals, an extension of the main club was opened on West Columbia. This added facility provides the current enrollment of 2,100 boys the outdoor sports advantages needed to round out the club's recreational concept.

Local observance of Boys' Club Week is marked by a full calendar of events. Included are Boy Staff Day, when the club will be run by its young members; a Balloon Launch and Kite Flying contest; Fun Day, devoted to games and tournaments; Award Night, for issuance of prizes for outstanding achievement in many categories; a Movie Night; and a windup Penny Carnival.

We render a collective salute to Boys' Clubs across the land on another milestone of progress and to their dedicated mission of building better Americans.

Voters Pass Judgment on Candidates, Issues

In a turnout that areawide averaged no more than 20 per cent of the registration, voters Monday settled a variety of issues in district, township and municipal elections.

Highlighting the results was the successful bid of FARRELL E. ROBERTS for a return to the State Senate from the 14th District. A veteran of two terms in the legislature followed by a like number in the senate, ROBERTS had not sought reelection in last November's election, becoming instead a candidate for one of the appellate judgeships created by the new state constitution.

Another significant outcome was the rejection by Detroit's 24th District voters of Daniel W. West's attempt to regain the House seat from which he was barred by action of the legislature following his election last fall. The discredited candidate ran 15th in a field of 17.

Elsewhere, Mrs. RUTH B. MCNAMEE, running for a first term, polled the most votes in Birmingham's City Commission race that reelected CARL F. INGRAM. On a charter issue, voters approved an amendment providing initiative and referendum procedure on city matters.

Bloomfield Hills reelected Mayor LOUIS J. COLOMBO JR. to the City Commission but vetoed similar bids by two other incumbents in favor of MANTON M. CUMMINS and E. R. DAVIES.

In seven other nearby city and village elections, 13 incumbent commissioners or councilmen were reelected while five were defeated.

Voters in Farmington and White Lake townships rejected proposals for additional tax levies.

In neighboring Orchard Lake's lone election issue, the owners' proffer to the City, of Apple Island, centered in the lake, proved unfruitful. The losing margin was pared to a skinny eight votes.

Thus was heard the voice of area voters as they exercised, albeit in regrettably light volume, the priceless right of the ballot.

LBJ Is Having a Busy Spring

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — Spring is the frantic time in Washington, that busy, busy period when much is afoot and little is finished, but few springs have been as busy as this.

To begin with, President Johnson has four big proposals pending in Congress: medical care for the aged, federal aid to education, a voting bill to make sure Negroes can vote to the polls, and some measure to curb the Ku Klux Klan.

But more vague than anything is the unfinished business in Viet Nam.

Johnson probably never expected to get medical care, aid to education and the voting bill in precisely the form he asked, and he is not about to, since some revisions are inevitable after full House and Senate consideration.

But it seems certain he will get all three in a form still satisfactory to him, and perhaps even more far-reaching than he requested.

All of which is a great tribute to his extraordinary ability to get Congress to see things his way, an ability which involves personal meetings with most or all members of Congress, personal telephone calls and messages, and visits from his aides.

ONE IS A TRIUMPH
If any president was able to get just one of those pieces of legislation through in any one year—say aid to education—it would have been considered a great triumph.

But to get aid to education and medical aid through in this one year will be a dazzling performance.

The crackdown on the Klan is still in its baby stage if only because the House Committee is going to investigate the Klan, and not much in legislation can be expected until that is finished.

It is in Viet Nam that the country is left guessing, and there are no prophets around glibly or confidently predicting the outcome there.

REDS NOT YIELDING

As time goes by, and the Reds show no signs of bending, the Johnson administration's inclination to extend bombing ever deeper into North Viet Nam seems sure.

At this time, the Soviet Union and Red China, despite some grumblings and half-hearted threats, have been unusually quiet, too, and all this only adds to the guessing.

No one is pretending to know what Red China will do if the Americans, for the first time, finally decide to bomb the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi.

When all this is added up, it comes down to phenomenal success for Johnson at home and a great, brooding uncertainty about what may happen overseas.

The Dropout

Press Telegram

A school for girls who have dropped out of high school is to be established in a Los Angeles hotel this year, financed by the federal government's national job corps. Already 20,000 girls from seven western states have applied.

The school will feature a swimming pool, classrooms, home economics laboratories, an arts and crafts room, dining areas, a snack bar, and a juke box for parties and dances.

Girls between 16 and 21 will attend a one-year course at the hotel. The curriculum will include everything from the three R's to office work and home and family life, in addition to "health and recreation field trips and cultural enrichment in the arts, crafts, dance, drama, and music."

"We are going to make this as unlike what the girl dropouts think of school as we can make it," said Dr. Eva Schindler-Rainman, an educator at the University of Southern California who heads the course.

The girls will be given $30 a month and $600 when they complete the course. They get one paid trip home during the year. That seems to be about

"as unlike school" as anyone could make it all right.

The basic idea is an excellent one: to provide some sort of education for girls from "culturally deprived" areas who have dropped out of high school.

But the government's hotel-school will be so attractive after a $100,000 renovation job on the building and a $2 million budget that it is likely to encourage more girls to drop out for a year's sojourn in downtown Los Angeles.

Perhaps the job corps school could be made a little more like a school for those who really want a little more knowledge and a little less like a prize won on a quiz show.

Win With Terror

London Daily Telegraph

What the Saigon outrage shows is that the Viet Cong and their backers still do believe they can win South Viet Nam by terror and guerrilla tactics. The most helpful contribution we can make is to show understanding of the problem confronting the Americans.

Risks of wider war are fully appreciated; less so the dangers of wider aggression in Southeast Asia that would result from capitulation to the Communists in Viet Nam.

Already Peking has announced a "war of liberation" to start in Thailand this year. Laos is in a parlous state; and successful subversion would certainly be followed by fresh Indonesian offensives against Malaysia. It is the Communists, not the Americans, who are seeking a wider war.

Bob Considine Says:

Conflict Over Viet Role Must Cause Confusion

NEW YORK — People... places... things... A full-page advertisement appeared recently, addressed to President Johnson and signed by 2,500 American ministers, priests and rabbis.

It implored him "In the Name of God, Stop It!" They meant stop "American involvement in Viet Nam."

What the U.S. men of the cloth who signed the advertisement wish LBJ to stop is what many more than 2,500 South Vietnamese are praying to God that LBJ will continue: prosecution of a war which, if won emphatically enough, might well mean that they and their families could live again in peace, unmolested by terrorist and murderous infiltrators representing atheistic Communism.

Medical Approach Given to U.S. Traffic Accidents

The disease of traffic accidents caused 47,800 deaths in the United States last year. When accidents occur from crossing the double stripe, running a stop sign and driving in the wrong lane, they are called collisions. The collision is only the symptom of the disease, violation of the rules of the road.

The President's commission on heart disease, cancer and strokes is recommending $2.9 billion be used to reduce these deaths. Why shouldn't some of this money be used to reduce traffic fatalities?

The recent request by the Federal Civil Defense Department for 194 million for fiscal 1966 to continue and improve the Office of Civil Defense activities which are supervised by one thousand employees, points up the danger of the perpetuation of costly federal programs that are accomplishing nothing.

In the absence of an official civil defense policy, the program should be terminated and the taxpayers' money saved.

'Can Unlawful Action Help Democracy?'

The United States was born from violation of the "law." As a colony of Great Britain, the American Colonists had the legal obligation to obey the laws of Parliament. England had the legal right to regulate her colonies; it was common knowledge to all Europe and the numerous colonies. The Boston Tea Party, a violation of the Stamp Act, the Sugar and Molasses Act, the Townshend Duties, and the Quebec Act all contributed to the breakdown of respect for law and order all over Europe.

The Continental Congress was a treasonable assembly and contributed to the unlawful rebellions in France, Greece, Russia, Belgium, Poland, and Latin America in the following fifty years. Had the rebellion of the American Colonies failed, Thomas Jefferson, George Washington, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, and numerous other patriots would today be branded as traitors and Benedict Arnold would be acclaimed.

Their "unlawful" activities laid the foundations for the most prosperous nation on earth. By today's standards, their attempts at social reform have not been completed. Do they have less right to rebel than our forefathers? It is possible that the unlawful actions of Dr. Martin Luther King might also help the cause of democracy? If laws tend to be an obstacle to democracy, can it be unlawful to disobey them?

'Union Dues Are for Benefit of Members'

I'm a member of the UAW and I don't think Walter Reuther has the right to give the union's money to any organization without a vote of the members. We pay dues for the benefit of the union members, not to take sides against any state for political use. If the union has money it doesn't need for union business, they should cut our dues and use the surplus funds to benefit union members.

Out Mount Clemens Street, A Grave Problem: Bodies Without Caskets

Finding Graveyard for Cars Is Now a Haunting Problem

By ART SCHEIFLE
Remember when a big problem in this country was what to do with old razor blades? We just thought we had a problem.

Today the problem is what to do with 20 million worn-out automobiles. Old automobiles die, but they just won't fade away.

There were 66,651,415 automobiles registered in this country last July.

According to Ward's Automotive Reports, half of this number will be scrapped in the next five years.

5 MILLION A YEAR

Cars are being scrapped at the rate of better than 5 million a year.

Usually cars don't show up for registration after they are six years old.

Once there was a time when there was a big demand for scrap metal in the making of steel.

New processes and oxygenated blast furnaces at the steel mills have eliminated much of this demand.

PREPARING CARCASS

Costs of preparing an automobile carcass — separating the various metals and components — and transporting the scrap metal have added to the problem.

Annual scrap sales to steel mills fell from $3 billion in 1956 to $1.6 billion in 1958. They haven't gone over $1.9 billion since, in spite of the fact that steel output has increased by an estimated 2 million tons annually.

STEPS TAKEN

Here's what has to be done to reduce an old automobile to marketable value.

First, it must be towed to the old car cemetery. Once there it may be kept for a while, until do-it-yourself repairmen pick its bones clean of usable parts.

If it is to be demolished immediately, the first step is to check serial numbers to make sure the car hasn't been stolen.

Then the car is tipped over and wheels and tires removed. The gas tank is drained, batteries, starters and in some instances engines are removed, and the car is pushed into a huge furnace for burning all combustible material.

CAR MAKEUP

A car is made up of many metals and rubber.

There are about 35 pounds of copper, 60 pounds or more of aluminum, 35 pounds of zinc, 180 pounds of rubber and about 20 pounds of lead, in addition to the steel.

Most of this can be reclaimed to show up in that classy new model.

Could be that part of one of your old cars is actually contained in the metal of your new steel model.

Huge machines can now reduce an old car to steel pellets at the rate of about one a minute. Other machines bale the metal, but this process is slower. TO THE MACHINES

All of which involves getting the wreck to the machines, the labor involved, the cost of buying, operating and maintaining machines and getting the residue to the steel mills.

The cost - profit picture seems to be the reason there are many old junkers sitting forlornly and unsightly in yards and fields all over the country.

Everyone seems to be seeking new uses for old automobiles. Coastal cities have used them as breakwaters or reefs and seawalls.

They've been buried. They've had fences and trees put around them, but they just won't go away.

ALWAYS COMPLAINTS

And no matter what is done, there are complaints.

If they're left in a car graveyard, they're unsightly.

If they're beaten into a small bale, the machines are noisy.

Sweden even tried sinking them to the bottom of the sea. Sure enough there were objections — from fishermen and those who feared water contamination.

Like finding a cure for baldness, the man who comes up with a practical solution can just about name his reward.

Heiress Barbara Hutton Is Plagued by Illness

KAANAPALI, MAUI, Hawaii (AP) — A lingering intestinal infection forced Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton and her seventh husband, Vietnamese Prince Doan Na Champack, to spend a quiet first wedding anniversary today in their Royal Lahaina Hotel cottage.

One of the three registered nurses with the five-and-dime heiress said Miss Hutton had a bad day and was still under the care of a local physician, who has been treating her since her arrival March 18.

Epidote is a common mineral which makes up much of the western side of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Schools Producing Sea of Uniform Mice, MIT Physicist Says

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer
BOSTON, Mass. — "Our schools have been set up in such a way as to produce a sea of uniform mice," says Dr. Jerrold R. Zacharias.

"If you don't believe it, look at the lamps people buy, and the automobiles."

"We're away ahead of the Russians in science, but they're moving faster and if we just sit by they'll pass us. I've already got two bets laid that the Russians will have a baby born in space within five years."

BRIGHT KIDS

"One of the things we really believe here is that kids are brighter than you think. There are all sorts of ways you can get kids trapped into intellectualty."

"For physics teachers, if you give me my pick between a football coach who really likes

Road Revenue OK Until '67

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Highway Commission said Tuesday that Highway Department finances are in proper shape to meet expenses through 1967, but increased traffic will create a need for more highway revenue.

The commission said reviewing the status of highway revenues and expenditures was one of its first orders of business when it came into being this year.

It reported the department is "in proper financial shape in relation to the financing of projects announced through 1967, meeting all debt payments and meeting all predictable maintenance costs."

The commission added, though, "there is a serious gap between projected highway revenues and predictable highway needs if Michigan is to keep up with the increased traffic of our prosperous and growing economy and population."

Retired Jeweler Dies

about 10 per cent of its income on research and development, and is making fantastic strides. Railroads and education spend about two-tenths of one per cent, and they're running downhill."

Zacharias also told writers: "There is no answer to the problem of getting young minds to learn everything. But a good educational system will encourage diversity. We must seek out diversity, even write our examinations so they foster diversity."

"I don't believe we are very far advanced in the education business — but we're moving fast and we'll move faster."

"It's wrong to say that we're pushing things from the graduate school down to the elementary grades. That's not the object at all — to cram more and more things into more and more heads."

"We're trying to get them thinking in sophisticated areas, to find ways to make kids use their heads, and enjoy it. It turns out kids like to use their heads."

Zacharias said that with the strides medicine has made in recent years, "We're going to have a real problem with old age. All we are going to do is fill up the nursing homes."

"Television isn't enough. And we don't read enough in this country. You can make the best-seller list in the New York Times with 20,000 sales in a country with a population of nearly 200 million."

Senate Takes Up School Aid Bill, Unchanged by Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today takes up President Johnson's proposal to assist deprived children by giving $1.3 billion in federal aid to the nation's elementary and secondary schools.

Nobody laid a glove on the measure in the Senate Education and Labor Committee and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield hopes to have it passed by Friday. The question is whether the bill can sidestep amendments from the floor.

The President's priority program has had a charmed life so far in this first session of the 89th Congress.

The House Education Committee was the last to tinker with the bill. It tightened the language to make sure that even though parochial schools will benefit, all aid will be administered through public schools. It broadened coverage to include 215,000 children of relief families.

30 AMENDMENTS

The House Committee then passed the bill March 2 by a vote of 23 to 8, the Rules Committee sent it to the House floor March 22 by an 8-7 vote and the House turned down more than 30 amendments and approved it March 26 by a 263-153 vote.

The Senate traditionally has been friendlier to federal aid to education than the House. Since it is expected to get greater Republican support in the Senate than it had in the House — GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen said he may vote "aye" although House GOP leaders voted "no."

— passage appears certain. But Johnson wants more than this. He wants the bill passed without amendment. Then the House and Senate measures would be identical. There would be no need to take time to resolve differences in a conference committee and he could quickly sign the bill into law.

Most of the proposed Senate floor changes are expected to come from the Republican side. But the amendment most feared by the bill's backers is one Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., has tried to tie to education bills in the past: to specifically authorize judicial review of provisions to aid parochial and other private schools.

Ervin, busy fighting the voting rights bill, said he is not certain he will propose the amendment, but if he does not, someone else is almost sure to.

Also, several Republican senators want to revamp the formula for allocation of aid among the states. They contend low-income states would be short-changed under the present formula.

The key provision authorizes

$1.06 billion in aid to school districts on the basis of the number of children from families with incomes of $2,000 or less or from families on the aid to dependent children relief program.

The two other major titles would authorize $100 million each to help schools set up libraries and to buy books and other instructional materials and to make it possible to establish education centers offering enrichment programs which districts cannot afford.

Hearing Set for 2 Facing Spy Charges

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — A preliminary hearing has been set for April 15 for an Army sergeant and his buddy whom the FBI said stole and sold to Russia secrets involving America's missile defenses.

A federal grand jury yesterday returned espionage indictments against Sgt. Robert Lee Johnson, 43, a courier once based at the Pentagon, and James Allen Minktenbaugh, 46, a former Army sergeant who kept in close contact with Johnson.

Among the secrets the FBI said the two stole during a 12-year period involving international intrigue in Germany, Paris, California and Ft. Bliss, Tex., were diagrams of the electrical system of the Nike-Ajax missile, once regarded as a front line defense against air attack, U.S. anti-tank missile secrets and other classified documents.

A third indictment named Vitaly Ourjournov, once an attaché at the Russian Embassy in Paris. Ourjournov, described as a "coconspirator," is believed back in Russia.

The grand jury set the preliminary hearing for Johnson and Minktenbaugh at Alexandria, Va. Conviction on the spy charges could result in death sentences.

HELD IN JAIL

Johnson, a native of Farmingdale, N. J., was being held in jail at Alexandria, and Minktenbaugh, described as a "middleman" in the alleged spy set-up, was expected to be transferred to Alexandria.

Both were arrested Monday by the FBI — Minktenbaugh in California and Johnson in Virginia. Minktenbaugh is a bachelor and a native of St. Bernard, Ohio.

The FBI said the two Americans used razors, flashlight batteries and shoe heels — all hollowed out — in their espionage along with other traditional and ultramodern means for transmitting documents, sketches, negatives, codes and other classified information about U.S. Army intelligence activities to the Soviet Union.

Specifically, the indictments charged that Johnson began spying in Berlin, Germany, in 1953 and later recruited Minktenbaugh to help him smuggle defense secrets from several bases in Europe and the United States.

FIRST CONTACT

He made his first contact with the Russians at Soviet headquarters in Karlhorst, East Berlin, and agreed to photograph classified documents from the G2 intelligence section of the U.S. Berlin command, the FBI said.

State Board Views U-M Flint Plans

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education went into a closed-door session Tuesday night to discuss what stand it should take on whether the University of Michigan should expand its Flint campus operation.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn Bartlett, who is board chairman, said, though, that voting on board recommendations will come in open session.

He declined to predict when the board would be ready to make its recommendations.

The board held hearings in Flint in March on the subject.

EDUCATION PLANNING

Board President Thomas Brennan said then the issue is one "that affects education planning throughout the state."

U-M President Harlan Hatcher said it "is not the issue on which we of the university want to see the course of higher education in Michigan established or limited."

He said the proposed expansion of the campus from the present junior-senior setup to a four-year operation "will fit into whatever master plan finally evolves."

Behind the Flint controversy are the questions of whether college growth is best accomplished by branches of existing schools or brand new colleges, and whether the state should exert more control over the 10 colleges and universities which it supports.

Gov. George Romney has advocated delay of expansion plans until the board has more time for planning.

South Carolina Klan Leader Says 'Renegades' Beat Negro

PROSPERITY, S.C. (UPI) — The grand dragon of the South Carolina Ku Klux Klan said today "renegades" posing as Klansmen terrorized a young Negro prisoner in the tiny jail in this town.

"I'm going down there tomorrow morning and have my own investigation," said Robert Scoggin of Spartanburg.

He added that agents of the "Klan Bureau of Investigation" had been investigating since, 18-year-old Freddie Jackson was slapped and man-handled before dawn Monday.

Under pressure from Gov. Donald Russell, the State Law Enforcement Division (SLED) pressed its intensive search for the five or six men, robed and hooded with slits in the hoods.

"We will not tolerate such actions in South Carolina," Russell said. He urged SLED chief J. P. Strom "to leave absolutely no stone unturned in order to apprehend the guilty parties."

Scoggin said the first he heard of the terrorizing was on a radio broadcast yesterday.

"I'm positive it wasn't the United Klan," he said. "We don't do things like that."

The young Negro was arrested at a Negro cafe Saturday night and charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. At the jail he allegedly snapped a rusted lock on one cell and was charged with destruction of city property.

While Jackson was being arrested Saturday night, some 150 miles away in the lower part of South Carolina at Hemingway, the Klan rallied with Scoggin and imperial wizard Robert Shelton of Tuscaloosa, Ala.

The next night Jackson was attacked in the cell. Police Chief D. H. Williamson said the hooded men told the Negro they had heard he was a "troublemaker" and had threatened an officer.

I-75 Weighmaster

His Job Lonely, Responsible

By ALLAN S. COLES

Few people these days have jobs that call for almost total isolation from others throughout their eight-hour shift.

Among the exceptions are night watchmen, technicians at remote radar stations and highway weighmasters.

Those in the latter category have responsibilities that exert a far-reaching effect on the condition of multi-million-dollar superhighways and on the safety of those who use them.

A typical example is Richard Loftus, 32, who mans a truck weighing station on I-75 in Pontiac Township, a half-mile west of the Baldwin Road interchange.

Lotus, married and the father of two children, has a job that is deceptively simple in theory but more weighted with responsibility and varied in its duties than many.

LONELY VIGIL

His primary task during his lonely vigil on the freeway is to detect violations of state law governing the weight, length and width of trucks using the highways.

In the interest of preserving state highways in good condition for as long as possible, state highway engineers have devised a complicated series of maximum loadings and size restrictions for the various types of vehicles.

Using a huge counterweighted scale inside the station, Loftus checks the weight of each truck that passes, also checking visually for violations in length and width caused by improper loading.

Violations initiate a series of actions that inevitably spell paperwork, beginning with a "ticket" in sextuplicate. Weekly and monthly reports must also be written.

2 SHIFTS

The scale station is manned in two shifts, 6 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 2 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Lotus and his coworkers keep files on individual violations and a file on specific trucking companies in which are recorded any previous violations.

Trucks in violation of one or more of the restrictions laid down in Act 300 of the Public Acts of 1949 as amended cannot proceed until their drivers or owners have corrected the violation.

This sometimes means leaving a trailer at the weigh station until the load can be rearranged to fit the requirement.

the station. Loftus checks for weight and size violations of trucks, relays emergency assistance calls, keeps the station clean and does a lot of paperwork.

Township sees his function as important to drivers of trucks and cars, as well as to the highways.

"The purpose of the weighing station is preservation of the roads," he says. "If you allowed companies to carry all they wanted, the roads wouldn't last long."

"There is also a danger in driving," he adds. "If a truck had to stop suddenly and it were overweight, its brakes might not handle it."

Lotus points to his radio communications equipment in explaining another, unofficial function of his station.

Blaze Guts Home in Novi

NOVI — A fire apparently ignited by defective wiring yesterday gutted the Edward Gevarhian home at 811 S. Lake. Damage was estimated at $5,000 to the two-story cement block house and at $3,000 to its contents.

Two Walled Lake firemen, Ronald Winkler and John Banks, sustained minor injuries while assisting Novi firemen in their four-hour battle with the blaze.

School Board Okays Budget

HOLLY — A $1,147,313 operating budget for 1965-66 — marking a $132,000 increase over this year's figure — tentatively has been approved by the Holly Board of Education.

Reflected in the additional expenditures are teachers' salary increases and the proposed hiring of 12 new staff members.

The spending will not require a vote on additional millage but should be supported through increased state aid, according to Schools Supt. George Garver.

The 1965-66 teachers' salary schedule recently approved by the board carries raises ranging from $200 to $500 for each of the district's teachers.

The budget proposed by Garver includes an extra $90,000 to support the new schedule and to provide regular increments.

BY SALARIES

Most of the remaining portion of the increase would be consumed by the salaries of new employees.

If state aid jumps as school officials expect it to, the district will hire two new elementary teachers, one junior high teacher, a new elementary principal, a school business manager, a half-time senior high teacher, four custodians, a special education teacher, a special education secretary and a half-time diagnostic psychologist.

Possible Link in 2 Murders

Check Highland Park, Macomb Twp. Killings

MACOMB TOWNSHIP — Police detectives are exploring a possible link between the death of a 29-year-old woman here Monday and the March 22 murder of a St. Clair Shores woman in Highland Park.

Investigation has turned up the information that Raven Shilling, whose body was found in a field on Hayes Road a half-mile north of 23 Mile Road Monday, had a previous conviction for prostitution in Detroit and Grand Rapids.

Miss Shilling, born in Houston, Tex., had her last known residence in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Her body was found by a Macomb County road grader operator not more than five hours after she died of stab wounds in the chest.

An undergarment was wrapped about her neck and the body was nude from the waist up.

FOUND MARCH 22

The body of Mrs. Janet Benson, 20, was found March 22 in a Highland Park apartment house. According to police, she had been strangled with a blouse.

Highland Park police have questioned a bout 65 possible suspects and witnesses.

Detroit police said Miss Shilling checked into the Park Shelton Hotel March 30 and contacted a Birmingham friend she hadn't seen for two years.

The two made plans to go to Cincinnati Monday, police said.

Favor County Drain Office for Wolverine Lake Project

WOLVERINE LAKE — The majority of property owners here would like to see the water level of Wolverine Lake established and maintained through the Oakland County Drain Office.

A lake level control project engineered and put into operation.

AREA NEWS

tion by the drain office was the most popular of three alternatives offered them Monday.

While holding the annual village election, officials conducted an opinion survey to determine sentiment on the controversial issue.

The first suggested program was backed by 199 of those who responded.

Another 111 lined up behind the idea of the village's determining the feasibility of operating its own well and pumping apparatus to maintain the lake level.

ENDORSED BY 95

Rehabilitation of the lake through dredging was endorsed by 95 of those who indicated a choice.

Voters who own property in the village were asked to express their opinions informally after balloting on village officials.

Of the 851 registered Wolverine Lake electors, 507 voted in the election and 405 participated in the poll.

The method of rehabilitating the lake has been much-discussed here during the last two years.

Oakland County Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry originally proposed the proposed dredging project unfeasible on the basis of an engineering report that the work would cost $995,000.

HIRED ANOTHER

The Wolverine Lake Rehabilitation Association hired another engineer who came up with a $425,000 cost estimate.

Considering the conflicting expert opinions on the matter, the drain commissioner again turned down the proposal in October 1964.

With the guidelines it obtained Monday, the Village Council may consider a new approach at its 8 p.m. meeting next Monday.

Petitions to have the lake level set by Oakland County Circuit Court must carry the signatures of two-thirds of the town own property fronting the lake.

Preliminary Budget OK'd

ROCHESTER — The board of education has adopted a preliminary budget of $3,021,714 for the 1965-66 fiscal year.

Representing total estimated expenditures, the estimate is $312,214 higher than the total expenditures during the current year.

Submission of the tentative budget to the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board is the next step.

Once the tax rate allocation is set by that board, a public hearing will be held before the budget is finally adopted this summer.

Instruction costs account for 76.5 percent of the operating budget for the coming year, an increase of $288,265 over the current year.

MORE TEACHERS

Contributing to the instruction cost increase are an addition of 26 teachers to the staff, salary schedule changes and additional requirements to meet the needs of more than 6,550 students.

The board has also approved new salary schedules for custodial and maintenance workers.

Custodial employees will receive a base of $4,500 and a maximum of $5,300 after five years.

Grounds maintenance workers are to start at $4,600 with a top of $5,400 and skilled maintenance men at $5,000 with a maximum of $5,800 in five annual steps.

GENERAL RAISE

The raises generally represent $200 per year more than current figures.

The board also increased the sick leave schedule from 10 days per year with a 90-day maximum to 12 days annually cumulative to 92 days.

Nudists Disclaim Shooting at Solon

(Editor's Note — A battle over nudism in Tennessee. A plague of sea gulls in Seattle. Fort Worth's courthouse troubles. And a plan for refurbishing New York's Central Park are among facts on the U. S. scene this week.)

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee's nudists disclaim firing the shot which made them outlaws and could bring another remarkable court case.

State Rep. Gaines Morton pushed through a bill outlawing nudist camps. He said someone shot at him as he was flying over the state's only known nudist camp.

"I can assure you it was none of our group," said Jim — no last names, please — to a reporter. "We've been thinking of offering a reward for the arrest and conviction of a nonnudist Peeping Tom who shot at the helicopter."

"Tennessee Outdoor Club Inc." was chartered last year, and claims about 125 family memberships. It was planning a quiet expansion this year. How ever, it appears now that it and the American Sunbathing Association may have to fight a test case first.

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — In some cities, it's starlings. In others, pigeons; but in Seattle, it's sea gulls.

The sea gulls in this seaport city are possibly the most arrogant, fat and noisy in the business. Some say it's because of a staple item in their diet — garbage.

Garbage, right now, is one of Seattle's major civic problems. Thus, so are sea gulls.

The City Council has been negotiating for a year on garbage disposal contracts. There have been so many plans and so much official changing of mind it's hard for the average citizen to keep up.

FATTEN ON DELAY
Clouds of sea gulls fatten on the delay — and garbage — at metropolitan — area dumps, including one right next to the University of Washington. The university recently decided to let the city use the dump another year. But please, said the regents, couldn't something be done about the sea gulls?

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — "I don't think it's right to try a man for murder under these conditions. You can't hear yourself think," said one judge.

"It's just the heart throb of a dying structure," said another. They referred to the noise of workmen's drills and hammers, just one of the problems that have plagued Fort Worth's 12-story, $3.5-million new Criminal Courts Building since its design in 1960.

Among other things: bricks broke loose from the concrete siding, aluminum strips fell from the upper portion of the structure, the roof developed leaks, tile crumbled off the walls of restrooms.

TRAP VISITORS
At open house in May 1963, elevators did not function properly and a group of ceremonial visitors became trapped between floors.

County commissioners spent $12,000 moving doors, elevating benches, rearranging witness stands and other things.

More repairs are under way — at a cost estimated by county commissioners and engineers at $50,000 to $150,000.

NEW YORK (AP) — If a grandmother heiress had her way, able-bodied welfare recipients would spend a lot of time in Central Park.

"I say put them to work sprucing up the park," Mrs. Jeanne E. Kerbs said. "This would not only help to beautify the park, but it might act as a deterrent to all the crime going on in the park today."

Since the 1870s, the Kerbs family has resided on the Upper East Side near the park and Mrs. Kerbs said she spent a great deal of time in the vast woodland in the center of the world's busiest city.

"But today, believe me, there are parts of the park I would not venture into even in broad daylight unless I was accompanied by several persons."

The Kerbs family made its fortune with the manufacture of cigars.

Woman Outdoes Gov. Brown of California

California Gov. Edmund G. Brown met his match yesterday — by a woman, no less.

The state's chief executive, 59, challenged pretty Muriel Grossfield of New Haven, Conn., to an impromptu push-up contest in Sacramento. She is a consultant on physical fitness and did 10 quick push-ups. The governor struggled through one, then quit.

"I guess I'm out of practice," Brown said.

Robert Preston to Wed Swedish Actress

Actor Robert Preston made it official yesterday: He plans to marry his current leading lady in the Broadway show, "Ben Franklin in Paris" as soon as he obtains a divorce from his second wife, Catherine.

He said the new Mrs. Preston will be Swedish star Ulla Salari. She recently divorced Baron Lampe, Stockholm music teacher and sculptor after 19 years of marriage.

Accused Guard General Viewed State Action as Land Deal 'Go-Ahead'

LANSING (AP) — Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald, defending himself against gross neglect of duty charges, testified Tuesday he felt attorney general's actions had meant approval for some questioned land deals.

McDonald was to undergo cross examination by state attorneys today as Gov. George Romney's 30-hour-old hearing for him and Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert goes into its 17th day.

Romney pressed questions about a 1958 letter to McDonald from then Deputy Atty. Gen. Joseph Bilitzke. The letter dealt with Camp Grayling land transactions which the charges say were illegal.

He also asked the general to prepare material for today's session which would show how much the State Military Board knew about the land deals when it approved them.

NOT RECOGNIZED

The Bilitzke letter told McDonald a proposed transaction "could not be recognized by the state, nor could the state guarantee any part of it. This would be entirely outside the scope of the authority of any department of the state."

Bilitzke's letter also instructed McDonald to submit deeds and other papers on any transactions to the attorney general's office for approval.

McDonald said that for the first, questioned transaction he "sent the whole thing (the papers) to the attorney general and waited breathlessly. When it came back we were so happy it was approved."

Romney has questioned whether that approval was for the whole transaction or merely dealt with title to the land involved.

"I did not feel we were violating any part of that letter," McDonald said.

HANDLED DEEDS

In cross-examination, Assistant Atty. Gen. Russell Searl said the transaction included 18 lots which were not traded but which went to Charles Moore of Grayling who handled deeds in the deal.

Romney asked Searl to present more evidence on this point.

He asked McDonald: "Weren't you compensating him (Moore) for work done for the state?"

"You could say that," McDonald said.

Claims Canada Hampering Aid

CLEVELAND (AP) — The president of the Lake Carriers' Association today charged that Canadian government officials are trying to influence Washington against advancing government aid to the U.S. Great Lakes fleet.

Vice Admiral J.A. Hirschfield, in a letter to Maritime Administrator Nicholas Johnson, cited widespread publicity given to a recent meeting between Johnson and members of his staff with two officials of the Canadian Ministry of Transport.

The Canadians attended the meeting "to look into how the United States goes about subsidizing its merchant marine," Hirschfield said.

SURPRISING

"This is a surprising development," he said, "in view of the subsidy program which has been in effect in Canada since 1961, the chief beneficiary of which has been the Canadian Great Lakes fleet."

Hirschfield also referred to the recent announcement by Canadian Transport Minister J. W. Pickersgill that his government had suspended processing of further applications for construction subsidies.

Unrest in Caracas Cancels Band Show

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—The U.S. Embassy said Tuesday it has canceled a jazz concert by a touring University of Michigan band at Caracas' Central University because of a danger from pro-Communist students.

A spokesman said the group will play instead at a nearby outdoor amphitheater Saturday.

He added that university authorities warned that the campus concert would be imprudent because of a student strike scheduled to begin today in protest of the death of a student demonstrator in antigovernment riots last week.

Donald said. "As far as I knew, it was perfectly legal."

Romney asked later whether there were any records to indicate that the military board knew full details of the land transactions.

"In the agenda (for the board meetings) there is," McDonald said. He promised to bring some records today. He said he did not remember whether he had shown the Bilitzke letter to the board.

McDonald's attorney, Thomas McAllister, asked the general whether he ever had concealed anything from anyone in the military establishment.

"Not to my knowledge," McDonald replied. "There was no personal gain so I have no reason to conceal it."

Armed with an array of charts, McDonald went into a discussion of army maintenance funds which are involved in one charge against the two generals.

The charges say the quarter-master general's office purchased material for Camp Grayling and Lansing headquarters and charged it to various local armories to conceal the true nature of the expenditures.

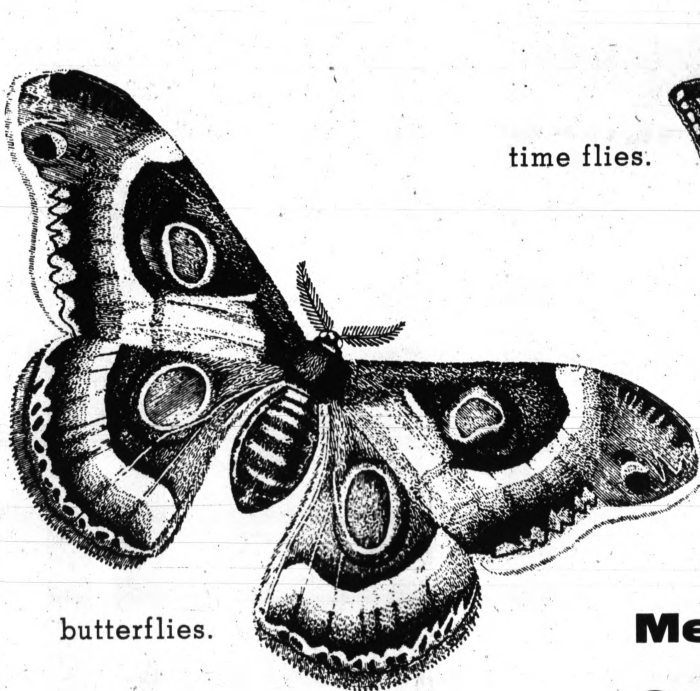

McDonald said control of the armory funds was in the hands of the military. He said the State Building Division was not interested in some questioned projects at Camp Grayling because they involved work done little by little when camp labor was available.

He added that the state was not liable for what armory boards of control do.

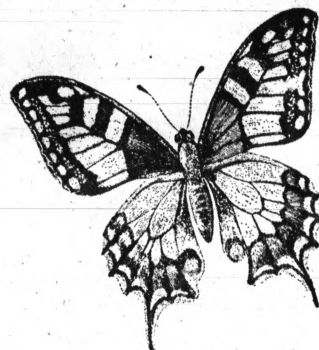

McAllister questioned McDonald for three hours and turned him over for cross-examination by Searl and Assistant Atty. Gen. James Ramsey.

Neifert has yet to testify.

Claims Fluoride Aids in Bone Ills

By FRANK CAREY

AP Science Writer

DETROIT—New evidence has been reported to support a theory that fluoride—the anti-tooth-decay chemical—might aid in treating certain degenerative bone diseases.

The evidence, gleaned from a study of rib bones of dead persons, was reported Tuesday to the 149th National Meeting of the American Chemical Society.

Dr. Aaron S. Posner of the Hospital for Special Surgery, New York City, told about it in presenting a report coauthored by Dr. Edward D. Eanes of the National Institute of Dental Research.

The latter institute for years has been active in advocating that communities add fluoride to their drinking water supplies as a move towards reducing the incidence of tooth decay. Such proposals, however, still meet with sharp opposition in some communities.

RESEARCH STUDIES

Dr. Posner said the new research studies were made on 12 samples of rib bone obtained during post-mortem examination from mature individuals who had lived at least 10 years in one of four geographical areas having varying amounts of fluoride in the municipal water supply.

The study involved use of an X-ray technique called "low angle scattering" in which the X rays help in determining a rather detailed picture of the interior structure of the bone.

Posner said there was a correlation between the amount of fluoride present in the bones and the size of crystals in the bone's mineral structure.

He said this—along with the observation that the presence of fluoride induces an increase in bone-crystal growth rate—suggests that the fluoride actually becomes part of the intimate mineral structure of bones throughout the body, adding to their stability and strength.

PARTIAL CAUSE

"These results," said Dr. Posner, "have provided at least a partial explanation for the biological stabilization of teeth by fluoridation of drinking water.

Declaring there are certain degenerative bone diseases—such as osteoporosis and Paget's disease—which are characterized by progressive loss of a calcium and phosphates, the doctor said:

"Preliminary work in other hospitals has indicated that oral fluoride ingestion can arrest this loss of calcium, and the presumption is that the diseased bone crystals are stabilized chemically and crystallographically as in the experiments I have described."

Taking drugs and alcohol are important causes of aviation accidents.

Ex-Cell-O May Close Plants

DETROIT (UPI)—An official of the strikebound Ex-Cell-O Corp., hinted yesterday at possible closing of Detroit's three plants if the strike continues.

The strike began last Friday. Negotiations between the company and the United Auto Workers Union were scheduled to resume tomorrow with a federal mediator present.

Robert M. Jones, industrial relations director of the company, sent a letter to 2,000 Detroit-area employees saying the strike is "undoing the company's best efforts to stem the decline and possible closing of its manufacturing operations" at the three Detroit plants.

Police Arrested in Burglary Try

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A heavily armed, 25-man police detail ringed around an ex-madam's mansion to prevent a lucrative burglary arrested two off-duty policemen and three ex-convicts last night.

Salvatore Polani, 45, a 14-year veteran of the force, was shot through the neck and was in serious condition at San Francisco general hospital. He was booked on suspicion of burglary.

Police Chief Thomas Cahill personally made the arrests public in phone calls to news media.

Polani and another off-duty officer, Patrick Buckman, 28, were arrested in a private car outside the mansion. Both were armed with revolvers.

EXPERT SAFECRACKERS

The three ex-convicts, identified as expert safecrackers, were arrested as they entered the mansion of Sally Stanford, who ran San Francisco's most famous house of prostitution of the 1930s, police said.

Miss Stanford, now a successful restaurant owner and former wife of a socialite, has been hospitalized since suffering a heart attack last weekend.

Police said they had been tipped about the burglary of the antique-laden mansion in Pacific Heights, San Francisco's most fashionable neighborhood, and they knew beforehand who was involved.

Booked for suspicion of burglary, besides the two officers were Louis Romero, 27, Winston J. Major, 56, and Wesley R. Gant, 56, all of San Francisco.

Polani's 24-year-old son, Kenneth, and Buckman, a four-year veteran, were additionally booked on charges of suspicion of kidnapping.

Africans Cultivating Taste for Meat of Uganda's Huge Hippos

KAPATORO, Uganda (AP) — Nearly every week barefoot Africans from this tiny town trot into the game parks of western Uganda, seek out the white game warden and hand him a note which reads: "I need supply for hippos on Friday."

It sounds like a weighty order, but white traders living at the foothills of Uganda's snow-capped equatorial peaks, known as the Mountains of the Moon, are increasing their orders every month, as more Africans develop a taste for hippo meat and the possibility of an export market increases.

Hippos plunge around in muddy confusion in Uganda's teeming game parks. Thinning them out has been in progress for four years.

The great hulking animals, which weigh anything up to two tons each, have been breeding so profusely that there are not enough muddy pools to accommodate them. Hippos need plenty of water and mud to protect them from Africa's tropical heat.

Each hippo is estimated to eat 400 pounds of fodder daily, mainly bushes, grass and small trees, leaving little food for other animals.

SOMETHING NEW

While the African has found something new to supplement his traditional cassava and corn flour diet, white businessmen visualize the animals as a canned delicacy which might delight gourmets of the world.

They estimate that a processed hippo will provide them with 2,000 cans of succulent meat.

Game Warden Nicholas Rousseau says American importers have shown interest in hippo meat as a delicacy and a few sample cans have been exported.

Rousseau, who has shot many a hippo and enjoyed many a two-pound steak, finds hippo meat comparable to prime beefsteak. He has experimented on friends by giving them hippo meat in place of beefsteak. They were completely fooled.

As many as 180 hippos have been shot monthly in an effort to thin down the herds. But Uganda's game parks are still overstocked with at least 10,000 who jostle around in the muddy pools trying to find sufficient food to immerse themselves.

Traders pay $56 for each animal. The meat is then sold to African butchers who retail it to Africans at around 15 cents a pound. Much of the meat must be dried or smoked before the long trek to the isolated African villages hugging the slopes of the Mountains of the Moon.

Africans living closer to the game parks treat hippo meat much in the same way as westerners enjoy a Sunday dinner—roasted, fried or boiled.

Hippos destined for the stew-pot need careful selection. They must be in perfect health and the shooting must take place a safe distance from his muddy pool to allow African butchers a chance to cut the meat into sizeable chunks.

TAIL TO SNOUT

He must also measure over 10½ feet from tail to snout. It takes an experienced eye to size up a hippo.

But Uganda's hippo meat project has run into all sorts of problems. Having acquired the taste, some Africans have tried to poach the massive animal, with disastrous results, ending in many deaths, broken bones and smashed canoes.

Animal-loving tourists, mostly American and British, express a speaking sympathy toward the ponderous hippo who, although looking harmless, can be an unpredictable two-ton terror.

Another major problem is what happens when the thinning out process is completed and the African is cut off from his supply of cheap meat. Most traders and game wardens believe that, having acquired the taste, the Africans will engage in a full-time poaching war.

Peace Corps Tests Slated

Peace Corps placement tests will be given on a monthly basis in Pontiac for the first time beginning this week.

New offices for taking the aptitude tests will be open Saturday morning at 9 in Room 101 of the Federal Building on East Huron and Perry.

The placement test is used in determining the best possible placement for the volunteer.

Before taking the test, however, a Peace Corps questionnaire must be completed and brought to the exam unless previously submitted. These forms may be obtained at the Pontiac Post Office, 735 W. Huron, from Ferris Feldpausch, in charge of civil service.

The highest known lake in the world is Titicaca in South America, 12,500 feet above sea level. The lowest is the Dead Sea, 1,282 feet below sea level.

Plans were announced for the Founders Day luncheon of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority at the Monday evening meeting of Beta Chi chapter gathered in the 300 Bowl.

The luncheon is scheduled for April 24 in Devon Gables. Elected to new duties were Mrs. James Vincent, president; Mrs. Carl Rose, vice president; Mrs. John Orsney and Mrs. Fred Mueller, secretaries; and Mrs. Donald Murphy, treasurer.

The jewel pin dinner and installation of officers will be held in the Shawnee Lane home of Mrs. L. L. Schiefer on Monday.

Area Group Begins Financial Campaign

At least $242,000 must be raised to operate seven clinics in Wayne and Oakland counties, members of the Planned Parenthood League's campaign committee were told Tuesday.

Mrs. Joseph L. Hudson Jr., a member of the League's campaign committee, said there "is some feeling that private agencies can relax their efforts now that public agencies are becoming involved in birth control services."

"However," she said, "the publicity has increased our appointments at our clinics by 50 per cent, and even after the public clinics are in operation, we still will have to care for those who are not indigent but cannot afford the services of a private physician."

PRIVATE FUNDS

Heading collections for Oakland County are Mrs. Homer Sale, Mrs. Merrill O. Bates, Mrs. Verna Hampton and Mrs. Donald Parsons.

Working with them are Mesdames Theodore Yntema, Fraser Pomeroy, Charles L. Wilson, Hermine Roby Wilson, John Shenefield, Robert Dearth, John Albrecht, Marshall Fredericks, Clifford West, Norman Weston, Bruce Craig and William Davenport.

Others are Mesdames Palmer Sutton, Robert J. Brown, William Bullock, Stephen Hauser, Walter Hickey, Edward Lawrence, Robert McLean, Peter Whitelaw, Glenn Wilson and Matthew Zak.

Chairman of the campaign, which will run through May, is H. Ripley Schemm. Hudson Mead is assistant chairman.

Tuesday's tea was held at the home of Mrs. Elliot Robinson of Birmingham.

His Facts Are Wrong

Lad Is Lover of Animals

DEAR ABBY: Please tell TENNESSEE HUNTER to stop using that old chestnut about how the poor animals would starve to death if hunters did not kill them off "mercifully" with one well-placed bullet.

Even the average high school boy (I am one) knows that Nature's way is best. The old, weak and sick animals will die of starvation, leaving the young, strong and healthy ones to perpetuate the species.

So which animals do our hunters shoot down? The biggest, most physically fit and most beautiful!

I know, I come from a family of hunters who wouldn't waste a bullet on a scrawny specimen.

No, they gun down the deer with the shiniest coat and biggest antlers, show him off to friends, hang him on a tree and let him rot. Sign me.

YOUNG ANIMAL LOVER
DEAR ANIMAL LOVER: You are long on compassion, which I like, but short on facts about the preservation of our wildlife.

Experts say that under present limitation on feed, grazing land, etc., herds must be thinned, else deer will propagate too freely and die.

Hunting seasons, properly controlled, are in the deer's best interest.

DEAR ABBY: I still don't know how people can justify hunting for the sport of it. The Bible clearly states, "THOU SHALT NOT KILL."

Granted, killing an animal for food in order for man to survive is understandable. Although today there are people who manage to live without meat, and they seem no worse for it.

But to go out and kill beautiful wild birds and noble beasts just for the thrill of it, makes no sense at all.

BEWILDERED
IN NUTTER FORT

DEAR ABBY: In reply to "TENNESSEE HUNTER": I would just like to say that if it is so "humane," as hunters claim, to shoot defenseless animals instead of letting them starve to death, I should think it would be much more humane to buy food for the animals with the money they spend on guns and ammunition.

Then let them go into the woods and put the food where the starving animals can get it to enable them to live and keep the beauty and wildlife in our country as it should be.

COLLEGE STUDENT,
BUFFALO, N.Y.

DEAR ABBY: What's all commotion about hunting deer? If someone can tell me why it's kinder to hit a steer over the head and then slit his throat than it is to put a bullet through his heart, I'll quit hunting.

WARREN IN ST. PAUL

DEAR ABBY: Apropos your hunting controversy: I once saw a sign in a Minneapolis sports equipment store which read:

"BETTER TO TAKE YOUR BOY HUNTING THAN TO GO HUNTING FOR YOUR BOY." Isn't that great?

They are Linda Hess, pre-and Carol Stout, treasurer.

DEAR GIRLS — The following
Pointer was given to me by Lynn Bailey who has a popular women's program on Florida station WNOC (Wonderful Naples on Gulf).

Lynn is also a wife, mother and homemaker.

Her favorite trick is to place one bay leaf in each canister or container that holds flour, cereal or anything of the sort that might get weevils or those wee bugs that appear from nowhere to spoil such foods.

Lynn says the foods do not absorb the odor of the bay leaf but the bay leaf does discourage weevils. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — when I was expecting my first child, I knew I would need some towels just for baby.

Rather than spend a big price for them, I bought pieces of lightweight terry cloth that cost

39 cents for each square yard piece.

I trimmed them with flowered and striped bias tape to make some very pretty towels at the cost of ready-made ones.

As an extra bonus I plan to use the same towel for beach robes or house coats for my daughter. When she is older and will no longer need the baby towels as the material will still be good. — NADINE

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell you how happy I am with Polly's Pointers.

I was especially happy to read a letter from a 12-year-old girl who told how she and her father made her own canopy bed.

When I was younger I always wanted one but my parents could not afford it as there were five other sisters who wanted one too.

I always dreamed of having one for my own daughter and now she will have it.

Clean Surface Works Best

If you plan to repaint the house this spring, remember that a thorough washing beforehand will make the new coat go on more smoothly.
Be sure to wash the under side of overhanging eaves or cornices — areas which never get rained on and therefore build up layers of grease and soil.

Unless these surfaces are well-scrubbed with soap or detergent suds, the new paint is apt to peel.

Ask Service Bases About Living Costs

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Mary Feeley: My husband is going into the Navy and will be stationed in Pensacola, Fla. However, we will probably be living in Warrington, Fla.

Can I find out ahead of time what to expect in the way of living costs there? Mrs. R. S. Shelby, Ohio

Dear Mrs. S.: You'll probably find it helpful to contact the Public Information Officer at the Navy Base as far in advance of moving as possible.

Often the information you want regarding location of schools, shopping facilities, entertainment, and such vital matters as how far you'll be from the base if you settle somewhere in that general area, can be obtained from this source.

Of course you can't expect a blueprint for setting up house-keeping but at least you can get some of your questions answered, and a general idea of living costs.

Other young wives planning to join their husbands at service bases might follow this suggestion.

Or you might get some helpful information from the Chamber of Commerce of the town.

Dear Miss Feeley: I would like your help in setting up an allowance for my daughter who will be entering Junior high school in the fall.

She has just turned 12, and has been getting 50 cents weekly—which she spends primarily on candy to which we object, but she does anyway. However, she has agreed to go by what you decree. So please advise us on an allowance that can be budgeted to cover the following:

School lunches at 35 cents a day; clothing; school supplies; movies; records; gifts; savings.

I do not budget my income, but have always saved some and paid bills as they come in.

We have always had a bank account to fall back on in case of larger emergencies. Our joint take-home incomes are about $300 a month. (My husband's is $400 and mine is about $180.)

I would like my daughter to start learning how to budget.

M. V. C., San Bernardino, Calif.

Dear M. V. C.: I agree that this is a good way to start off her 12th year.

But I do make this suggestion: omit that item "clothing" from her budget at this point.

I believe that's putting a bit too much responsibility on a 12-year-old with her first real book-keeping to do.

Even mature family managers run into trouble trying to budget clothing realistically, as there's so much looking ahead to be done from season to season.

Of course, a lot depends on the individual's temperament, and some young people show an early maturity in handling money well.

But I believe you could postpone the clothing category for a year or two. Or at least start out with just one wardrobe item—perhaps socks or stockings (if she wears them) or scarves.

If you set up the following budget, she will have an opportunity to save a little each week; and she will also have to plan her entertainment money so that she can let it accumulate to buy what she wants most:

Lunches at 35 cents a day, $1.75; movies, records, gifts, $1; savings, 25 cents; snacks, 25 cents; school supplies (paper, pencils, folders, an occasional pen), 25 cents. Total $3.50 per week.

I assume you handle the family church contributions yourself. But if you want her to take over her portion of this, you might add that sum to her allowance.

Keep in mind that jumping from 50 cents a week, which she has been getting, to $3.50 a week with specific responsibilities to assume, is a considerable jump.

Help her to plan for such things, perhaps, as a fairly expensive record album or gift—by skipping a movie, by saving her candy money, by planning to use any surplus from her school supplies allotment that isn't needed that week or month.

If she keeps her spending and savings record in a dime-store notebook by the week—or by the day if she prefers—she'll find it much easier to see how her budgeting is working out.

Also, don't either of you be surprised if she starts her book-keeping with enthusiasm, and then gets confused or bored with the whole thing.

This can happen. Just keep at it.

She will especially enjoy seeing her savings grow, so it might be wise to open her first account yourself with a $1 deposit.

Then she can add to it with another dollar each month. (You can get Mary Feeley's booklet, "Building Financial Stability," by writing to her in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It is never too late and it is never too soon to begin giving the complexion good care.

This really should be a life-long project for a woman.

Not long ago in New York City the lovely blonde actress, Dina Merrill, who is starring in Bob Hope's new picture "I'll Take Sweden," spoke of her daughter, Nina.

This 12-year-old is the youngest of her three children.

She said, "I have always stressed complexion care with Nina, even when she was tiny."

"She's been taught to keep her face scrupulously clean with soap and water, morning and night."

"Diet is so important to a good skin so I rarely have candy or sweets around the house."

"Both Nina and my two boys have learned to prefer fruit."

What Dina Merrill said next will sound like a familiar tune to many women who read Why Grow Old? "My daughter is only 12 and she's already begun singing the usual teen-age refrain, 'When can I start wearing makeup?'"

"Then she mentions someone else whose mother allows her to wear makeup."

"My answer to that is 'I'm not her mother. I'm your mother. No makeup!'"

SELECTS CLOTHES

However, Nina is allowed to select her own clothes which she does with surprisingly good judgment, born of practice, and a little guidance when she was younger.

Dina Merrill has successfully combined two careers, those of actress and mother.

Some of her beauty secrets? She feels that the best formula for a lovely complexion, after cleanliness, are good diet, exercise and fresh air.

SINGING LESSONS

She also says that singing lessons are marvelous. They exercise the phragm and the face muscles, and are especially effective for the underjaw area and the chinline.

Miss Merrill concluded, "I'm lucky to have three very pleasant children, but when they do try my patience to the limit sometimes, because they are normal, this is how I relax."

This beautiful mother yawns very deeply a few times. Then she rolls her head around loosely on her neck.

She said, "Mother may look like a kook doing this, but she winds up regaining her calm and logic."

Deep breathing and yawning are very relaxing and making circles with the head releases tension at the back of the neck.

This exercise is especially good if you do it in a lazy way.

Try it when you want to uncoil.

If you would like to have my exercises for relaxing send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for them.

Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Honeymoon in South for Kings

Off on a southern honeymoon are the Paul-Bryan Kings (Linda Kay Hipp) who were wed recently in the First Methodist Church, Clarkston.

Rev. Jack Guigair officiated at the double-ring candlelight ceremony, followed by a reception in the Knights of Pythias Hall in Pontiac.

Parents of the couple are the H. B. Hips of Transparent Drive, Independence Township, and the Lewis Kings of Smiths Creek.

Seed pearl applique enhanced the bride's Empire gown of white silk organza over taffeta, styled with Chantilly lace bodice and chapel train.

A silk rose eroded her veil of French illusion and her bouquet included white roses, ivy and gardenias.

Wearing floor-length Empire gowns of pink Chiara crepe were honor matron, Mrs. James Hazlett and bridesmaids Cheryl Hipp, Jane Montroy and Mary Jane Head. They carried roses and cascading carnations.

Deborah and Randy Hipp were flower girl and ring bearer for their aunt.

On the esquire side were the bridegroom's brothers Bruce, as best man, along with Maynard, Lewis and Shirley King, who ushered with Fred Hipp and Alfred Martin.

The couple plans to live in Lake Orion.

The Savage Cell—3

You Can Help to Prevent Cancer by Using Common Sense

(Editor's Note: Calling for an all-out attack on cancer, a veteran science reporter says the war has begun. This is the third of 12 articles condensed from the new book, "The Savage Cell.")

By PAT McGRADY
Many authorities have said that the most effective way of reducing cancer deaths is to prevent the disease.

Nature has done this. In the last generation, the incidence and death rates for cancers of the liver, stomach, and uterus have declined 50-60 per cent. One knows how — or why.

There are many ways of preventing cancer. Some are highly theoretical and for humans, quite impractical.

For instance, women hysterectomized or ovariectomized before the menopause are less likely to develop breast cancer. Neither of these procedures is recommended as a prophylactic measure.

Some preventive measures call for good and prompt action, such as the surgical removal of precancerous lumps and sores. Their detection by an alert person and an informed doctor is practical.

VACCINATION

Some measures of an immunological nature are still on scientists' drawing boards. They include vaccination against the things which cause cancer and against cancer itself.

Preventing some cancers merely involves avoiding known carcinogens — cancer-causers.

Cigarettes have been shown by statistical, chemical, and biological means to be one of the most common sources of carcinogens affecting man.

We can, however, avoid only some of the large number of chemicals suspect of carcinogenic activity. While more than 500 chemicals are known to cause animal cancers, few persons have any idea as to what products they are in.

LITTLE SAID

For one reason or another — usually because of the damage the information might do to industries and commercial products — little is said about them.

Comprehensive lists of such chemicals are published in the scientific literature; but, without identifying the sources of exposure, the lists are meaningless to the public.

Pending the issuance of a list of suspect substances by some responsible agency, one would be well advised to avoid unnecessary exposure to many mineral dusts, coal-tar products, paraffin, lubricating oils, arsenicals and radiating oils.

An authoritative, comprehensive, and comprehensible list of dangerous and avoidable substances is long overdue.

By the same token, it would be helpful to the medical profession if some of the doubts and disputes on carcinogens and preventive measures were resolved by a competent, deliberative body with adequate authority.

Evidence which would dispel much confusion and ignorance over the safety of certain drugs, the pesticide practices, and the advisability of numerous surgical operations for precancerous conditions has been obtainable for some time from a careful evaluation of the literature and consensus of specialists. No one seems to be doing much about it.

In 1962 and 1963 the Food and Drug Administration, armed with new responsibilities and powers, seemed to be making headway in protecting the public against dangerous drugs.

It remains to be seen whether public servants under multiple pressures of the industry, politicians, press and medical profession will be able to find an equitable and equitable way of resisting enthusiasms for new drugs until they are explored for booby-trap effects, of limiting the use of old ones of doubtful utility, of enforcing a reasonable discrimination in the prescribing and taking of medicines, and of permitting competent investigators to bring new useful drugs into experimental medical practice.

Much skin cancer can be prevented if light-skinned people will keep their exposure to sunshine within reasonable limits.

Young bronzed Adonises and Venuses may have a leathery skin in their 30s, keratoses in their 40s and skin cancers in their 50s.

Additional caution by the patient, as well as the doctor and dentist, in medical X rays would help prevent several kinds of cancer.

Doctors and dentists tend to resent the public's being warned against excessive and unnecessary radiation lest some patients be deprived of necessary diagnostic and therapeutic measures. Nevertheless, the patient has reason to be wary of unnecessary or excess radiation.

Common sense and common cleanliness both offer some defense against cancer.

FOOD FADDISTS

Ignoring fanatical food faddists and their equally emotional critics, intelligent people take the vitamin and mineral supplements missing in their regular diets. People can keep their weight down to a reasonable figure.

As things stand, the best assurance of beating cancer lies in having a thorough physical examination periodically by a competent doctor or, better still, group of doctors, including a general physician or internist, surgeon, gynecologist, radiologist and, in the background, pathologist.

Dr. Emerson Day of the Strang Clinic, New York, feels that a good detection examination includes taking of a careful health (personal and family) history; a thoughtful searching for physical complaints; blood, urine, and feces analysis; uterine smear test; visual and touch examination of every accessible surface and organ.

He suggests that long-term cigarette smokers should have chest X rays and sputum tests twice a year.

GOOD EXAM

A good examination can hardly be done in less than one hour. It usually takes from two to four hours in a detection clinic, and the cost ranges, roughly, from about $25 to much more than $100.

The advice to have two checkups a year is very good and very impractical. Only if every physician in the United States spent 40 hours a week 50 weeks a year giving one-hour checkups, could each person be accommodated twice a year.

The American Cancer Society in a long-term campaign of public education has publicized "seven danger signals" in the hope that patients having any of them for more than two weeks will consult their physician.

They are: (1) unusual bleeding or discharge; (2) a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; (3) a sore that does not heal; (4) change in bowel or bladder habits; (5) hoarseness or cough; (6) indigestion or difficulty in swallowing and (7) change in a wart or mole.

BREAST CHECK

Several studies have indicated the value of women's examining their own breasts periodically.

In one group of 700 women who did so, eight discovered cancers during a 10-year period. The cancers were small and, it can only be hoped, curable.

In animal and test tube experiments, perhaps a thousand studies have suggested ways of preventing cancer. Most of the suggestions are probably impractical. Some of them seem worth pursuing.

With one exception, however—the vigorous campaign against cigarette smoking—there is no really strong and effective effort to apply the fruits of research to the prevention of cancer in humans.

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

The photo essay is a medium photographic storytelling which has undergone several changes in direction and emphasis since its modern beginnings as a journalistic tool about 40 years ago.

These changes can be noted thanks to an exhibition tracing the evolution of "The Photo Essay" at the Museum of Modern Art in New York City.

No one photographer or one publication invented the photo essay but John Szarkowski, director of the museum's department of photography, credits a combination of gifted photographers and pioneering editors in Germany in the late 1920s as a focal point in its development.

When Hitler wrested power in the 1930s, photographers like Alfred Eisenstadt, Marton Munkacsy and Andre Kertesz and editors like Stefan Lorant and Kurt Szafranski fled to the West for photographic and editorial freedom.

They helped to create, first in England and then in America, magazines in which photographs were all-important. Picture stories or photo essays of people, places and events became familiar features of almost every publication in the world of communication thereafter.

There are more than 45 displays in the museum exhibition, selected from European and American publications, to show how photo essays have been able to tell the story of every facet of our 20th Century civilization.

They turn a spotlight on famous personalities, on wars which affect nations and on problems which touch individuals, on architecture, animals and on art... a limitless range of subject matter.

"In its early years," director Szarkowski points out "The Photo Essay" approach was that of a news reporter with a camera. Its function was to tell the story. A change came during the decade after World War II.

The photographer became an individual observer and emphasis shifted to the quality of his personal vision. The subject of these essays was often not the exterior event but the photographer's reaction to it.

RECENT CHANGE

Another change is seen in recent years. The art director has become increasingly important and he strives for visual effect. Visual delight has become an end in itself and perhaps at the expense of other elements in the story.

A couple of the museum displays were especially noteworthy.

One was an essay by photographer Charles Harbutt, "Blind Boys Play," which traced in detail its progress from a set of contact prints to its final appearance in Jubilee magazine in 1962.

There were about 800 contact prints from a 35mm camera to select from. The photographer's personal choices were shown along with several suggest layouts he sketched out.

The art director's choices and sketch layout appeared, followed by the final essay as it looked in print. This exhibit reveals how many other good photos must be omitted from an essay due to lack of space and gives the viewer a chance to "second-guess" the editor's final selections.

COMPARISON

Another display of interest was a comparison of the visual and editorial treatment of a single subject, "Monsoon," with photographs by Brian Brake, as it appeared in four countries: America (Life magazine), France (Paris-Match), England (The Queen) and Italy (Epoca).

The difference in color reproduction quality was amazing especially since the original 35mm transparencies were also shown and color seemed to have been added to them in many instances.

Cropping also showed variations but the most effective visually were very closely cropped faces.

Offers Flood Chaplin's Son

LONDON (AP) — Opportunity is knocking and knocking and knocking for Charlie Chaplin's beatnik son since the newspaper found out he and his family were on relief in London.

A novice agent signed Michael Chaplin to a contract Tuesday, hoping to make a best-selling singer out of him. The agent, Andy Wood, 31, said Michael, 19, wouldn't get any wages "for a couple of weeks, but I'll give them enough cash to keep the wolf from the door."

Michael is also to have a screen test for the part of a beatnik in the movie "Promise Her Anything," now being filmed in London. It stars Warren Beatty and Leslie Caron.

Young Chaplin also had offers from foreign newspapers and magazines for his life story.

Michael, son of the film star and his wife, Oona, married a 24-year-old British actress in Scotland in February after his father refused them permission to marry in Spain. They have a six-month-old son.

RELIEF MONEY

The family has been drawing $28 a week relief money for a month because, Michael said, he couldn't get a job as an actor. His mother, arriving in London over the weekend, said she wouldn't indulge him in a beatnik life and he ought to get a job.

Wood, an unknown in the world of pop music, auditioned Michael in the youth's walkup apartment.

"I listened to him singing three songs out of his head," said Wood. "He didn't know all the words, but I think we're on to something."

"I've got to get him to a studio with a backing group and see what he's really worth. In six weeks, I hope his first record will be on the market and the rest is up to him. I'm giving him 50 per cent of the takings."

But Michael's wispy fringe beard will have to go. "Michael's appearance will have to be tidied up," said Wood.

Insurance Exec Dies

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Edward Bowditch Jr., 83, New York, insurance broker, died Tuesday. Bowditch was associated for nearly 30 years with the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States.

Anti-U. S. Riot in Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Police battled anti-American rioters in the streets here last night. A dozen policemen, a Mexican newsmen and an undetermined number of rioters were injured.

Police said there were no arrests.

Illegal demonstrations by groups ranging from 10 to 300 persons occurred at half a dozen points in the city.

Newspapers here described the rioters as "Communists directed by professional agitators" and praised police for the efficiency with which they dispersed the groups.

Defeats Roosevelt

LA Mayor Is Reelected

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Samuel W. Yorty, controversial mayor of the nation's third largest city, won reelection Tuesday in a smashing primary victory over Rep. James Roosevelt and six other aspirants to his $25,000-a-year job.

The 55-year-old mayor needed more than 50 per cent of the vote to win his second term in the primary. This he did easily.

With 4,622 of the city's 5,055 precincts reporting, Yorty had polled 196,342 votes to Roosevelt's 113,509.

The contest brought out a record number of voters for a municipal election despite overcast skies and the constant threat of a downpour. City Clerk Walter C. Peterson said roughly 55 per cent of the city's 1.5 million registered voters cast ballots.

WIRES CONGRATULATIONS

Roosevelt wired his congratulations to Yorty, urging "every success in solving important and pressing problems."

Roosevelt, 57, the eldest son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, is serving his sixth term in Congress. He will retain his post since a court ruled he didn't have to relinquish it to participate in a municipal election.

Roosevelt and Yorty both are Democrats, although some party leaders have termed Yorty a political maverick. The mayor supported Richard M. Nixon in the 1960 presidential election.

Katzenbach Has Ended Chill Between Attorney General's Office, FBI Chief Hoover

WASHINGTON (AP) — Since Nicholas Katzenbach became head of the Justice Department, an air of friendship spans the long marble corridor which separates the offices of the attorney general and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

The chill that arose between Hoover and the attorney general's office when it was headed by Katzenbach's predecessor, Robert F. Kennedy, has vanished.

The FBI is a branch of the Justice Department.

One day recently Katzenbach, 43, wanted to discuss some aspect of the Bobby Baker case with Hoover. He donned his coat and marched down the hall to the 70-year-old Hoover's office. Asked why he hadn't summoned Hoover instead, he shrugged in some surprise and said, "I'm rather younger than Mr. Hoover."

On two recent occasions, the FBI chief showed up in Katzenbach's office for minor social events — the swearing-in of one assistant deputy attorney general and the farewell party for another.

KENNEDY THERE

Kennedy, now a New York senator, appeared at each gathering, too. From the fringe of a crowd that overflowed the big office for the swearing-in, he spotted Hoover and whispered wryly, "Times sure have changed."

After Hoover had left the farewell party, Kennedy paid jocular tribute to Katzenbach for having made peace with the FBI chief.

Not only did Hoover ignore similar gatherings when Kennedy was attorney general, he didn't even appear at a farewell party for Kennedy in the Justice Department courtyard five floors below or a more formal going-away dinner given by the rest of Kennedy's top aides.

When President Johnson nominated Katzenbach to be attorney general in January, Hoover sent a lengthy congratulatory letter, expressing gratitude for Katzenbach's having defended the FBI's often criticized handling of civil rights cases.

Johnson and Hoover retain their close friendship of two decades. But Hoover is carefully observing the property channels through Katzenbach for official business.

When Kennedy was running the Justice Department, an FBI assistant director was in and out of his office daily, acting as a sort of liaison between the two men.

In an interview with the Associated Press last week, Katzenbach was asked about his relationship with Hoover and the FBI.

"I have long had the highest regard and esteem for him and for the remarkable agency that, really, is his creation," Katzenbach said. "The FBI has always done everything that I have asked it to do and done it well."

The two men from time to time have shared Katzenbach's limousine for the ride to the White House — for lunch, for discussions of crime legislation, or to flank Johnson as he announced the FBI's arrest of some suspects in a civil rights slaying and his war on the Ku Klux Klan.

Together, the two men would return to the Justice Department and ride to the fifth floor in Katzenbach's private elevator.

Smoking cigarettes is linked with a decline in the sense of smell, a recent study indicates.

Clinton River Work Forces Delay of M59 Freeway Project

Construction of the projected M59 freeway within the city won't begin until spring of 1966, city commissioners were told last night.

City Engineer Joseph E. Neippling reported the delay in M59 construction in presenting a State Highway Department proposal to postpone the city's payments on the project.

Previously, the city this year was scheduled to pay $300,000 of its share of free-way costs. The total city share is $500,000.

The commission approved the one-year postponement of the payments but questioned delay in M59 construction.

Neippling said that work on the Clinton River, between Union and Opdyke, must proceed ahead of the projected M59 relocation.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. pointed out that river work was delayed when the project was turned over to the county for construction as a county drain.

Originally, the State Highway Department had planned to award freeway contracts late last year.

Neippling said the earliest date now is February 1966.

The city engineer also pointed out last night that payment of the city's share of M59 costs would deplete funds for capital improvements on major streets in 1966.

The funds, he said, come from gas and weight taxes. M59 payments would cancel all plans for improvements on major streets, Neippling said.

He added that the current level of maintenance on major streets would also have to be curtailed.

Neippling said the alternative would be to increase, substantially, appropriations from other sources for support of the major street system.

He said the $300,000 committed for 1966 payments on M59 represented more than half of the available funds received from gas and weight taxes for major streets.

The proposed M59 freeway will enter Pontiac on the east near 175 and linking up with Wide Track Drive.

In other business last night, city administrators were directed to draft a procedure for enforcement of city licensing practices.

Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson proposed that local businesses should be given two warnings when their city licenses expire.

Mayor Taylor said the procedure on licensing should be strengthened and fees collected on time.

City Clerk Mrs. Olga Barkeley said her office sends out some statements on licenses that expire, but claimed renewal of licenses can be held up for several reasons.

The City Commission appointed Randolph C. Miller, 14 N. Anderson, to fill a vacancy on the Civic Improvement Advisory Committee.

His term will expire Jan. 20, 1967.

Miller replaced Fred H. Burmeister, 44 N. Shirley, who resigned.

Several rezoning requests were referred last night to the City Planning Commission.

One asked for residential zoning at the southwest corner of Ottawa and West Huron for a proposed three-story, 40-unit apartment building.

Another was for a similar rezoning for land between West Ypsilanti and West Columbia. An 88-unit apartment building is proposed there.

In other business last night, City Commission approval was given a $1,300 change in the contract for the swimming pool at the Hayes Jones Community Center.

Drainage difficulties will be changed at the pool.

Take a Good Look at Your Supermarket and Appreciate Today's Food Products

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

If you are a young homemaker who has lived all her life in the city, you cannot imagine how women of another generation obtained their food.

You may complain — doesn't everyone? — about the high cost of food. But if you stop to think about the great variety and wonderful conveniences that are yours, you'll be a bit grateful.

I wasn't brought up on a farm. But I remember my mother phoning in the daily grocery order which was delivered to our back door.

I can remember going to the store and choosing the kind of cookies I wanted from a large box in a rack. All the cookies were weighed out and sold in paper bags.

There weren't rows and rows of packaged cookies; or, for that matter, rows and rows of packaged anything.

Meat was cut off the carcass as you ordered it and how we admired the skill of the butcher who could cut just three pounds.

The point I'm trying to make is that today's supermarket is virtually a magic storehouse.

It contains some 8,000 items, many of which were unheard of even five years ago.

Foreigners often put supermarkets on their list of what they want to see in the United States. Even Queen Elizabeth visited one the last time she was in Washington.

We no longer have to plant and harvest our own food or butcher our own meat.

Milk is available in sanitary bottles. We can give it to children knowing that it has been pasteurized and is safe.

We may still can or freeze fresh fruits and vegetables, but we don't have to.

DO IT BETTER

Commercial producers harvest these items at the peak of the season and have them in cans or the freezer within a few hours.

We have government inspectors to insure our getting safe food. We still need a state meat inspection law in Michigan, but all meat that comes from national packing firms is inspected.

We can all eat like kings. The only drawback is that we have to pay for the extra service we get.

Domestic help is all but unknown these days. But every one of us has maid service in the kitchen.

This maid gives us washed spinach, soup mixes, complete dinners that need only heating, grapefruit sections, orange juice, pie crusts ready to fill, etc.

It takes fewer farmers to feed us. However, there is a whole army of workers who process and sell our food.

This is Food Information Week. It is a time to look more closely at our food and to appreciate what a good bargain it is.

Fragrant Nutmeg Is One of 10 Most Favorite Spices

So many of the commodities we buy in food stores are so prettily packaged, so thoroughly processed, that we tend to forget that these foods have come from fields and orchards, the depths of the sea or from trees luxuriating under the equatorial sun.

housewife prefers this spice ground to a brown powder, but it begins its life-story as a peach-like fruit high on a tropical evergreen tree.

MACE, TOO

Nutmeg never grows alone. The same small fruit produces mace, the "pound cake spice." The nutmeg is the round brown, ish seed.

Clinging to this seed is a coarse, red network. This is mace. Since it weighs only a fraction as much as the nutmeg it has always been harder to come by.

The reason nutmeg ranks so high in our esteem is because it has hundreds of uses in good cooking.

Custards and eggnogs come to mind first, perhaps, and delicately spiced cookies and cakes, but the use of nutmeg isn't limited to sweets.

A little nutmeg enhances all kinds of fruits and vegetables.

Spiced Yankee Trifle

2 round, 8-inch, sponge cake layers
1 cup strawberry or raspberry jam
6 tablespoons cooking sherry
2 packages (3½ oz. each) vanilla pudding
½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ teaspoon pure vanilla extract

½ cup heavy cream
Ground nutmeg

Split cake layers to make 4 layers. Spread one side of each layer with jam and sprinkle each with 1½ tablespoons cooking sherry.

Place cakes in layer fashion in a glass 9-inch serving bowl. Make vanilla pudding as directed on the package, add nutmeg and pour over cake. Chill until ready to serve.

Just before serving, add sugar and pure vanilla extract to cream. Beat until cream stands in soft peaks. Spread over trifle. Garnish with ground nutmeg. Yield: 12 servings.

Spiced Banana Refrigerator Cake

30 chocolate or ginger wafers
1 cup heavy cream
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
½ teaspoon pure vanilla extract

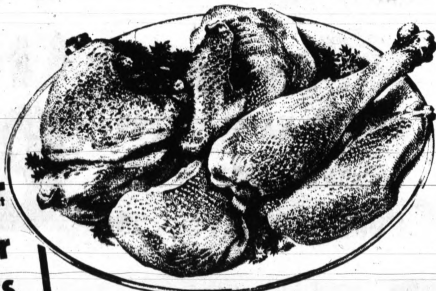

1 cup sliced bananas
¼ square unsweetened chocolate, optional

Arrange half of the chocolate or ginger wafers, overlapping, in a 7-inch spring form pan (cheese cake pan). Whip cream with sugar and nutmeg and pure vanilla extract.

Spread half over the wafers. Chill until ready to serve. If desired, shave unsweetened chocolate over the top. Slice into 6 pie-shaped wedges. Yield: 6 servings.

SUGAR-FREE JELLIES — At last, you can make sugar-free jellies at home. The secret is in the use of unflavored gelatin. These jellies must be refrigerated or frozen, but they'll satisfy your sweet tooth.

Homemade Jellies Can Be Sugar-Free

Because so many diet-minded readers have requested directions for making calorie, sugar-free jellies, we are delighted to be able to pass on to you the following calorie-saving jelly recipes developed by the home economics staff of Abbott Laboratories.

These delightful spreads will be welcomed by those who, for dietary reasons, wish to curtail their intake of sugar.

Ordinarily sugar is required in jelly making to precipitate the pectin and cause a gel to form. In these special recipes, the calorie-free sweetener, sacaryl, is used to replace sugar, and a small amount of unflavored gelatin gives the jellies a proper spreading consistency.

No additional pectin is required. You will note that these low-calorie jellies should be kept in the refrigerator (or in the freezer if large batches are made at one time).

The jellies may be made so quickly and easily that you will probably find it preferable to make a small quantity at a time, as you need it. The recipes given here yield 2 half-pint jars.

Calorie savings are truly worthwhile. Each tablespoon of the sugar-free jelly contains only 9 calories, about 1/4 the usual calorie count.

Sugar-Free Apple Jelly
4 teaspoons unflavored gelatin
2 cups unsweetened apple juice
2 tablespoons sacaryl solution
1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice
Yellow food coloring, as desired
Wash and rinse 2 half-pint jars and lids. Cover with hot water; bring to a boil. Before making jelly, remove jars and lids and drain on towel.

To make jelly, soften gelatin in 1/2 cup of the apple juice. Bring remaining 1 1/2 cups juice to a boil; remove from heat.

Add softened gelatin, stirring to dissolve. Add sacaryl, lemon juice and food coloring, as desired. Bring to a full rolling boil.

Fill jars to within 1/4-inch of top. Place lids on jars and screw bands tight. Invert jars for 1 minute.

Stand jars upright to cool. (If center of lid stays down, jars are properly sealed.) Refrigerate or freeze.

Makes 2 half-pint jars. Each tablespoon contains 9 calories; 0.5 gram protein; no fat; 2 grams carbohydrate. (With sugar 33 calories.)

Sugar-Free Mint Jelly
Prepare Apple Jelly as directed, adding this extra step: Wash, drain and lightly crush 1 1/2 cups firmly packed mint leaves. Steep in the boiling apple juice 10 minutes. Strain and add green food coloring as desired. Proceed as for Apple Jelly.

Oatmeal Takes Place of Nuts

Calorie-conscious and budget-minded gourmets will welcome this mock pecan pie recipe.

Maybe it doesn't taste exactly like the pecan pie you get in New Orleans but it is remarkably similar to the genuine product.

The oats give it the traditional chewiness and contribute to the nutty flavor; they also keep costs down. It is very easy to make from these tested directions.

If you are not worried about calories, then dress up the pie with dollops of sweetened whipped cream.

Mock Pecan Pie
3 eggs
3/4 cup dark corn syrup
3/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup quick rolled oats, uncooked
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup coarsely chopped pecans

Heat oven to moderate (350 degrees). Beat eggs until foamy. Add corn syrup, sugar, salt and butter. Stir in oats and nuts. Pour into pie shell.

Bake in preheated oven (350 degrees) 45 to 50 minutes or until center of pie is firm. Cool.

Eggplant Is Base of Dish That's Hearty

A vegetable and cheese dish that is really hearty includes eggplant.

Eggplant Supper Dish

1 large eggplant
1/4 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup (about) salad oil

2 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce to sauce

1/2 pound cheddar cheese, grated

Cut unpared eggplant crosswise into 1/2-inch thick slices. On waxed paper stir together the flour, salt and pepper; dip eggplant in mixture.

In a large skillet, heat a few tablespoons of the oil; add eggplant in a single layer and brown lightly on both sides; add oil as needed and brown remaining eggplant the same way.

Arrange a layer of the eggplant in a baking dish — about 12" by 8" by 2 inches; cover each slice with about 2 tablespoons of the tomato sauce and some of the cheese.

Repeat layers, centering each slice over the two edges of the slices beneath; have last layer cheese; pour remaining tomato sauce around sides of dish.

Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until bubbling hot and top layer of cheese is melted and lightly browned. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Rice Stuffing for Crown Roast

When spring bursts forth it brings with a number of things including delicate buds, the first blades of green grass and the thrill of hearing a bird as it builds its nest for forthcoming eggs.

Another springtime symbol is the lamb... a symbol of purity and new life.

Lamb is so pure that no religion forbids its use at the table. For this reason it may eaten by those observing Passover... although there are restrictions on what cuts may be cooked... and it is certainly a popular meat at Easter.

A crown roast of lamb for your Easter dinner is certainly one you'll enjoy preparing and serving. Its center is a perfect place to hold a lamb-rice stuffing which is moist and succulent when it comes from the oven.

Your butcher will tell you that a crown roast of lamb should be cooked very slowly... a 325 degree oven is perfect because it reduces the chances of shrinking.

Perk Up Parsnips With Nutmeg

Nutmeg Parsnips

1 pound small parsnips
1 1/4 cups water
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Pinch of nutmeg
Pare and cube parsnips. Boil, covered, with the water and salt until very tender. Drain, mash and mix in butter and nutmeg. Makes 6 servings.

found for the roast and dress it in its Easter best... with white paper frills... before presenting it to your guests.

Crown Roast of Lamb

1 1/2-pounds ground lamb
1 cup chopped onion
3 cups cooked brown rice
1/2-pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
7-pound crown roast of lamb

In large skillet, saute ground lamb and onion until onion is crisp-tender. Combine with rice, mushrooms, parsley, salt and pepper.

Place lamb on rack in shallow roasting pan. Fill center of roast with brown rice stuffing.

Bake in 325 degree (slow) oven 2 1/2 hours or until meat thermometer registers 175 degrees for medium doneness. If desired, garnish with watercress and raw mushroom slices.

CROWN ROAST—A crown roast of lamb made with at least two rib roasts (rack) with the backbone removed... is shaped into a crown and held together with twine. The meat is removed from the ends of the ribs and the bones are "dressed" in paper frills.

Muffins Are Base for Eggs Benedict

Poached eggs seated on thrones of toasted English muffins and ham slices and crowned with a rich, creamy hollandaise sauce make a regal menu feature for that special breakfast, brunch or luncheon. This tasty, attractive dish is appreciated by both men and women. It is so easy to prepare that you will want to serve this Eggs Benedict recipe often.

Eggs Benedict

3 egg yolks
3 tablespoons cream
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/4 clove garlic
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
Dash cayenne pepper
Dash tabasco sauce
1/4 cup butter
3 English muffins
6 thin slices ham
6 poached eggs
Parsley

Mix egg yolks and cream in small bowl. Add vinegar, 1/4 clove garlic crushed in 1/4 teaspoon salt, dry mustard, cayenne pepper, and tabasco sauce.

Set bowl over small saucepan containing 2 inches boiling water. Blend in butter a tablespoon at a time, beating until mixture is smooth and creamy.

Meanwhile, split, toast, and butter English muffins. Saute ham slices.

Assemble by placing a ham slice on each toasted English muffin half, topping with poached egg, and covering with Hollandaise sauce. Garnish with parsley. Yield: 6 servings.

Olive Garnish on Lamb

A crown roast of lamb deserves an elegant garnish. When you bring the roast to the table, place big pitted green olives (pimento stuffing removed) over the rib ends. Use the tiny strips of pimento you take out of the olives in a salad or as a garnish for some other dish.

Onion and celery are "musts" for creamstyle fish chowder. Add about one-half cup (chopped) of each to a pound of fish.

State Official Says Waterford Has Great Industrial Potential

Waterford Township, essentially a residential community, has the necessary characteristics to increase its industrial and commercial tax base — if it wants to.

This conclusion was drawn last night by Harris K. Miller, industrial agent for the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion (MDEE).

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Waterford Township Planning Commission, Miller cited the following ing township qualities as assets in promoting nonresidential development:

- Open space — many industrial and commercial firms established years ago now find themselves in congested quarters and seek more space, he said.

- Transportation — good access to highways, railroads and an airport.

- Skilled labor.
- Good utility services.
- Good recreational program.

These characteristics coupled with the township's nearly completed comprehensive development plan and its zoning ordinance are the basis for a forward push for a greater commercial and industrial tax base, Miller said.

One thing remains. This would be the establishment of an aggressive industrial development committee, Miller said.

Miller noted that the assessed valuation in the township for each school child was $7,500 compared to a state average of $13,000.

He said that business development pays up to 270 per cent of its own way in tax revenue compared to about 80 per cent for residential development.

SAME NUMBERS

"Industry and commerce don't send anyone to school," Miller said.

William Shueck, vice chairman of the planning commission, pointed out that the commission has made no commitment to expand industrial and commercial development.

Also speaking at the third annual meeting of the commission was William C. Fucik who said the real challenge for Waterford is implementation of its nearly completed comprehensive plan.

Fucik, principal planner for the MDEE planning division, said that Waterford with its master plan and zoning ordinance is ready to meet the challenge of its projected growth.

FAST GROWTH

He predicted the township, now with a population of some 55,000, will grow fast and reach near capacity development in 15 years.

Noting that Waterford was the first state township to establish a planning department, Fucik said he has watched the area's development with interest.

Being associated with the 701 Program which aids planning programs of communities through federal grants, Fucik said he became familiar with the Waterford program in 1962 when it received 701 assistance. Fucik attributed progress of Waterford's planning to date to the efforts of planning department personnel and consultants, a strong planning commission and the interest in the area's development displayed both by township officials and the general public.

News in Brief From Around the Globe

Irishmen Going to Polls Today to Elect Government That Will Rule for Five Years

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Irishmen vote to elect today the 143 members of Parliament and the government that will rule them for the next five years.

Because of the complicated system of proportional representation, in which voters grade all candidates in their districts by preference, counting is long and detailed. Results won't be clear until Friday.

Prime Minister Sean Le-

mass and his Fianna Fail party asked the voters for an outright parliamentary majority as the guarantee for stability and continued advance toward prosperity.

Fianna Fail held 70 seats in the last Parliament and ruled with the support of independents.

Lemass' opposition is the Fine Gael party, advocating social reform and a marked swing to the left, and the Irish Labor party, which wants widespread nationalization of industry.

MOSCOW (AP)—The commander of the Soviet cosmonauts today denied reports published in foreign newspapers that some of his men had died in unannounced space shots.

Air Force Lt. Gen. Nikolai Kamanin, writing in Krasnaya

Zvezda (red Star), said the aim of these reports "is to weaken the tremendous impression made by the achievements of Soviet science and technology in space."

Kamanin said the history of Soviet space achievements is accompanied by a history of "such concoctions."

"The names of people who have allegedly died listed in for-ign papers are mostly names of nonexistent cosmonauts," he wrote.

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Congress last night revoked an increase in city bus fares that had touched off two days of bloody student rioting.

Prices Move Unevenly

Market Is Close to Stalemate

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was pretty close to a stalemate once again as prices moved unevenly early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 333.9 with industrials up 1, rails off 4 and utilities up 1.

The tense situation in Berlin and the prospect of a major speech on Viet Nam from President Johnson tonight created a cautious atmosphere. At the same time, the market was being dampened increasingly by the approach of the April 15 tax deadline.

A slightly easier tendency prevailed among steel and motors. Rails headed irregularly lower.

SELECTIVE GAINS
Selective gains among utilities, nonferrous metals, mail orders, drugs and selected issues helped keep the list on a fairly even keel.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon took a minor loss of .73 at 891.77.

Standard, General Motors, Chrysler, U.S. Steel and Allied Chemical.

Prices were generally higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Up more than a point were Syntex, Fischer & Porter and Computer Sciences. Sealed Corp. and Bradford Packaging were up nearly a point. Fractional gainers included Udon Idria Mining, Southern Gulf Utilities, Siboney, Lee Filler and Asamera Oil. Down more than a point were Helena Rubinstein and Analex.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Satellite Races for Space Post

Will Be Switchboard for Communications

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The pioneering Early Bird communications satellite race today toward an outpost where it is to become a switchboard for the first public utility spawned by the space age.

Officials of the Communications Satellite Corp. — Consat — were elated over early success of the flight propelled by a three-stage rocket fired Tuesday night.

Nine days of tricky orbit-shifting maneuvers must be accomplished before Early Bird reaches its roosting place 22,300 miles above the Atlantic Ocean.

It will appear to hover motionless directly over the equator to provide continuous communications traffic between North America and Europe.

COMMERCIAL USE
The first satellite designed for commercial use was injected into an elliptical orbit ranging from 800 to 12,900 miles.

In midmorning, Thursday, a ground signal is to ignite a motor aboard the craft to shift it into a circular path in which both high and low points would be about 22,300 miles.

Ground controllers then are to fire small gas jets to nudge the satellite for a week to nudge it gingerly toward its stationary position.

The launching was the first venture into space for Consat, a business partnership of communications interests in 45 nations headed by the United States. The utility plans to have a global space communications network in operation in 1967.

FIRST TIME
If successful, Early Bird will open a new era in the history of satellite communications. For the first time, the public will be able to use a satellite by making transatlantic telephone calls.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who watched the launching on television at Consat headquarters in Washington, exclaimed: "My goodness, now we will be able to call every body. I will be hearing from old friends overseas."

Consat, with 137,000 stockholders, paid the National Aeronautics and Space Administration $3.3 million, regardless of success or failure, to launch Early Bird.

The corporation plans about June 1 to put the satellite into commercial operation for relaying radio, television, teletype and telephone messages.

With 240 two-way voice communications channels, the 85-pound satellite has the potential of earning $10 million in its first year.

NEW YORK—Americans have jumped the gun on the arrival of real spring weather and thereby set a record as well as possibly laying low an old tradition—when to buy a car.

They used to wait until spring to rush to buy. But this March, when the weather most places was anything but springlike, dealers sold more American-made autos than in any other month in history.

The home-based industry also made more cars than in any previous month. Canadian subsidiaries of U.S. auto giants started shipping Canadian-made cars here.

And European producers say the market here for their models is expanding fast — maybe not up yet to the record of sales set in 1959 for foreign cars, but better than in 1964 and 1965 when the market was recovering from the 1960 dip.

The maker has sent $224 million with some 700 outside supplier companies for components, and provided jobs for about 18,000 Ford employees. How many others are employed by dealers and supplier companies because of the new car can only be guessed.

Production started March 10, 1964, in Dearborn, Mich., and has since spread to San Jose, Calif., and Metuchen, N.J.

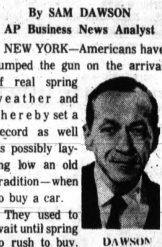

The new car also had its impact on Santa Clara business. In November and December last year, a foot-pedal toy car outsold the adult Mustang by 93,000 units to 58,000.

SMALL PART
All this is only a small part of what the entire car industry is doing for the economy. Sales of all makes in the first three months of 1965 were a record 2,189,787, up 19 percent from a year ago. Production in March alone was a record 963,549 cars, compared with 725,225 in March 1964.

That is one reason that steel mills and other metal makers are booming, that rubber, glass, plastic firms are prospering. And the record car sales mean that the economic stimulant from servicing them is only a fraction of what many business firms in communities across the nation.

ers, the writers of auto insurance, the roadside restaurants and motels. In time this year's buying spree will enrich those who will have to make still more highways to accommodate the fast growing horde of cars crowding today's roads.

HOW MUCH
How much all this adds up to for the economy in general can only be estimated. But makers of just one model, Ford's sporty Mustang, say that in its first year of production its sales of more than 400,000 have had this impact on the economy:

Retail values have topped a billion dollars. Sales have meant $860 million in wholesale financing volume and $580 million in retail financing volume, with insurance premiums on the new cars amounting to more than $54 million.

Some Students Require Extra Attention

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
Making equal schools available to all does not provide equal opportunity to all. Some are not prepared to avail themselves of the opportunity without special help.

A child from a home where no English is spoken has an obvious handicap in an English-speaking class. This is as true of a child coming from a home where English is spoken incorrectly, where few books are read to him in childhood.

In the race for an education, it is no wonder that many become discouraged and drop out before they reach the finish line. They are not even up to the starting line at the beginning of the race.

Compensatory education is the term applied to that aid given a youngster over and above the regular schooling that will help him overcome his handicap and give him a better break in his regular school life. At the high school level, programs are devised to aid the actual and potential dropouts and in some way compensate for earlier failures and help the child adjust and succeed in school.

OPTIMUM PLACE

In the long run, however, the optimum place for compensatory measures is before the race starts—before failure begins.

The cost of the extra effort now is small compared to the eventual total cost to society should these children be allowed to become dropouts, possible delinquents or unemployables.

Increasing state and federal funds are becoming available for compensatory education. States and cities are sponsoring conferences and workshops to develop programs.

At a California conference held in San Francisco, Dr. Neil B. Sullivan, superintendent, Berkeley Unified School District, pointed out that the preschool nursery programs and ungraded primaries had already proved successful compensatory measures.

Funds are now becoming available to cover the cost of the pre-nursery school program, as well as smaller classes in the kindergarten and primary segment.

The preschool program does enlarge a child's environment and increases his opportunities to develop coordination and to improve his ability to understand and use words.

A year or two of pre-kindergarten gives him the head start which he must have if he is to keep up the pace with his more fortunate classmates. This is a start and a good one. But the next program is also essential.

Organization of primary schools, not on the basis of age, but on the basis of development, is the answer.

It should make no difference whether it takes a pupil three or four years in an ungraded primary if, during that time, he develops the learning skills and coordination necessary for future success.

Hard Luck Joe ruffed the diamond lead in dummy, played a couple of rounds of trumps and the ace of clubs, entered dummy with a third trump, and lost the club finesse.

West thought a while and led the queen of hearts whereupon Joe had to lose three heart tricks in addition to the club.

"My unusual hard luck," muttered Joe. "Both the club and the heart were wrong. Still it could have been worse. My opponents would have had no trouble making five diamonds if they had bid it."

Joe was right about the last, but he was not right about the heart. It was unfortunate that both the club queen and the heart ace were wrong but if Joe had studied the hand carefully he would have found a sure thing play at trick one. The sure thing play would have been to discard a club from dummy. East would be in with the ace and probably would lead back a club.

It would not matter, Joe would win whatever was led back and play a trump or two. Then he would cash his ace and king of clubs and lead the ten spot. If West covered Joe would ruff and return to his hand to discard a heart on his last club. If West didn't cover Joe would discard a heart immediately.

Thus, Joe would hold his losses to two hearts and a diamond. It also would not hurt him if East held the queen of clubs. In that case Joe would lose a club trick, but would discard one heart from dummy on the club card that would be left in his hand.

Joe was right about the last, but he was not right about the heart. It was unfortunate that both the club queen and the heart ace were wrong but if Joe had studied the hand carefully he would have found a sure thing play at trick one. The sure thing play would have been to discard a club from dummy. East would be in with the ace and probably would lead back a club.

AUGUSTA, Ga.—There are three historical events which command top attention in the history of the state of Georgia: Sherman's march during the Civil War; the premiere of one of the greatest movies ever made "Gone With The Wind," and the Masters Golf Tournament.

For the normally quiet community of Augusta, located on the Savannah River which is the boundary between Georgia and South Carolina, "Masters Week" is the Mardi Gras of Golf.

The city's population of 70,000 doubles in size during this week. It would probably triple in size except for the fact that there is an enforced limit of 50,000 spectators allowed to walk the famous Augusta National Course during each day of tournament play.

Many of the visitors jam the city early in the week and get to watch the greatest names in golf in practice rounds because they know they may be among some 30,000 or more who will be on the outside looking in when the pros tee off Thursday morning in the first round.

The Masters as Ben Hogan put it, "is the Dignified Tournament of Golf."

"Prestige" may be the keyword to winning the U.S. Open and "Reputation" may go with the PGA championship, but "Dignity" has been associated with the Masters.

MODERN ARMY

Even the modern "Army" (Arnie's Army) unlike Sherman's Army, which ravaged the Savannah-Atlanta trails, has brought a more dignified attitude toward northerners because of the Yankee golf general—Arnold Palmer.

These Dixie golf followers have accepted their Yankee conquerors on the links with great regularity since the Southern element of Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Byron Nelson and Jimmy Demaret dominated the early years of the tournament.

Not since Jack Burke Jr., won the Masters title in 1956 has a native pro from below the Mason-Dixon line been able to wear champion's green jacket.

Doug Ford of Connecticut, Palmer and Art Wall, a pair of Pennsylvanians and Jack Nicklaus, an Ohioan have been the victorious Yankee generals since 1956.

Lone non-Yankee, but a non-Confederate as well, has been South African Gary Player who won in 1961.

This afternoon, most of the 36 invited golfers, including 29 foreign stars, will play a 3-hole "skirmish round" on the adjoining par-3 course with a special prize list for distances from the pin on each hole.

Little is said of this feature part of the tournament but it gets this Mardi-Gras of Golf started in a happy $130,000 mood from Thursday through Sunday.

The Masters has the greatest compilation of statistical data recorded by any tournament in the world. There are even some interesting notes on today's "par-3 skirmish round."

Those who won trophies last year for placing tee shots nearest the pin were the following:

Year	Wins	Player	Distance from Pin
Hogan No. 1	75	Art Wall, Jr.	15 inches
Hogan No. 2	80	Julius Boros	16 1/2 inches

Tigers in Position Battle

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Opening day for the Detroit Tigers is only five days off and several of the Bengals' look like they're trying hard for a spot on Monday's roster.

In a 7-2 blasting of the Cincinnati Reds here Tuesday Al Kaline and Don Demeter each poled a round tripper with a Power and pitching like that could assure a starting place for the outfielders and a shot on the mound for McLain.

McLain claimed the victory in the Tigers' first win in three games with the Reds. Joe Nuxhall, upon three out innings and allowed all seven Tiger runs in 11 hits, took Detroit to 11 hits, took Detroit to 11 hits, took Detroit to 11 hits.

Freehan sent to Hospital; Pitchers Cut

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers cut six pitchers from the squad and put first string catcher Bill Freehan in a hospital today.

Pros Launch 'Grand Slam' Bid in Masters

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

AUGUSTA, Ga.—Every year

on the eve of the famous Masters Golf Tournament the term "grand slam" is brought into focus.

This is an elusive expression which has never been accomplished in the modern era since its meaning has been changed to include the Masters, USGA Open, PGA and British Open.

The old "grand slam" version included the USGA Open and Amateur, and British Open and Amateur, and the original Grand Slam was Robert T. Jones, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., who did it in 1930.

In order to be the modern

"grand slammer" the first challenge is the Masters, the 29th version of which starts tomorrow with Arnold Palmer, trying to win this tournament for the 5th time and start his grand slam bid.

Palmer won the Masters on alternate years in 1955-56-62-64 and each time the powerful swinger from Latrobe, Pa., has been thwarted along the way for his grand slam title.

In 1960 he took the Masters, followed with the U.S. Open, but faltered in the British Open.

PLAYOFF LOSS

In 1962 after the Masters triumph, he lost at Oakmont in a playoff to Jack Nicklaus in the Open, then won the British Open but again failed in the PGA.

This year however, the PGA which he has never won will be played on his "home course," Laurel Valley in Ligonier, Pa., and the Masters this weekend at Augusta National Golf Club is now a bigger must for him.

No one except Palmer has ever won this tournament four times and by the crystal ball gazers, he along with Nicklaus and Tony Lema share the odds in the series.

Billy Casper, who has been playing red hot golf on the tour this far, is considered a close challenger to the big three, followed by Gary Player and Mike Souchak.

Chicago, Toronto Earn Breath of Air

Red Wings Fall to Black Hawks by 5-2 Margin

Detroit Playoff Lead Slips to One Game; Ted Lindsay Nets 2

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks were breathing easier after their first victory, 5-2, in the Stanley Cup playoffs Tuesday night, but the Detroit Red Wings showed little concern despite playing a poor game.

"We were outplayed," said Coach Sid Abel. "There were only three or four guys skating out there. But we're not worried. They can't win it unless they beat us in Detroit. And I think we have a better chance of winning one in Chicago than they have in Detroit."

The Wings were outplayed, especially in the first period, when the Hawks scored three quick goals in a span of 2:40 with Doug Hay, Stan Mikita and Red Murray clicking.

Veteran Ted Lindsay of Detroit cut the margin to 3-2 of goals in the first and second periods. But Bobby Hull of the Hawks, having regained his scoring touch, closed the contest with a pair of goals to give him five for the series.

HOLDS EDGE

Despite the loss, Detroit holds a 2-1 edge in the best-of-seven series, having won the first two games on its ice. Game No. 4 will be played in Chicago Thursday night and No. 5 in Detroit Sunday night.

General Manager Tommy Ivan of the Hawks was especially confident after the victory. "The rules say you got to win four games to advance," said Ivan.

"Who is disputing that?" Ivan was asked.

"Well, I heard some remarks in Detroit," said Ivan, referring to the Wings' first two victories and the optimism in Detroit that the Wings would have little trouble with the Hawks.

"It was a good effort," said Chicago Coach Billy Reay. "We did a good job of killing penalties and a good job of shooting. We sent them out to play hockey in this one."

FIVE CONNECT

The Hawks did shoot well even if they didn't shoot often. They had but 16 shots at goalie Roger Crozier and made five of them.

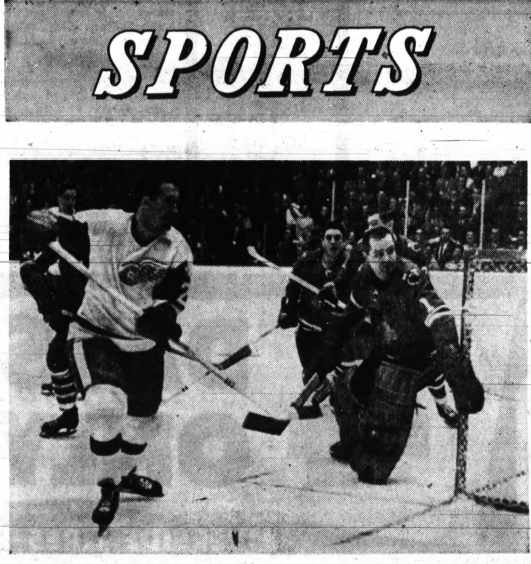

At the end of the game the stadium clock showed time had run out but officially there were three tries to get both teams back on the ice but failed.

Five lingering Hawks took their positions but the Wings flatly refused to come back. Skov set up a face-off and when the puck hit the ice he signaled an end to the contest even though Matt Ravlich hammered the puck into the empty Detroit net.

"I guess they figured they couldn't score three goals in three seconds," said Ivan.

Ruling Aids Sugar Ray

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. tax court rejected Internal Revenue Service claims and ruled that Sugar Ray Robinson does not owe the government $313,000 in back taxes from a 1957 fight in which Robinson lost his middleweight crown to Carmen Basilio.

WINGS TURNED BACK — Goaltender Glenn Hall (1) turned back Detroit's Al Langlois (2) on this first period scoring try last night in Chicago. Hall checked the Detroit attack as Hawks won, 5-2. The loss cut Detroit's lead in the Stanley Cup semifinal playoff series to 2-1.

Celtics 'Snake Bit' in Philadelphia Loss

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Red Auerbach was smoking Tuesday night but it wasn't his usual victory cigar.

The smoke was coming out of the ears of the Boston Celtics' coach after his team lost, 109-103 to the Philadelphia 76ers and sent the two teams back to Boston tied 1-1 in the best-of-7

"This is a snakebite," Auerbach said of Convention Hall, the 76ers' home court. "It's a bush town. I've never liked it. They give you 10 orange juices for 11 guys."

"Okay, Red," said one observer. "So it's a snakebite, and bush, and you got only 10 orange juices, but how about that guy, Wilt Chamberlain."

Chamberlain, the 7-foot-1 star of the 76ers, was slightly juiced up himself. He scored 30 points, took down 39 rebounds, blocked eight shots and handed out eight assists. He simply overpowered the Celtics' Bill Russell, the NBA's Most Valuable Player.

MORE STEAM

Russell mugged 12 points; 16 rebounds, had five assists. Auerbach granted, then let off some more steam.

"He (Chamberlain) gets a lot of help from the referee," commented Auerbach. "The refs have become coaches out there. They're counting 'one, two, three,' when Chamberlain is in the lane. When Wilt hears them say, 'two,' he lifts one foot. That's how he cheats on the three-second rule. He got most of his points standing in the lane."

Russell had nothing to say. Asked why Chamberlain was able to dominate him so completely, the 6-9 Boston captain replied sullenly. "You saw the game, didn't you?"

Spartans Start Drilling Gridiron Troops

EAST LANSING (AP)—Duffy Daugherty starts platoon-building today—organizing Michigan State offensive and defensive eleven for the fall football wars ahead.

Daugherty, starting his 12th season as head coach of the Spartans, always has liked the idea of separate platoons of specialists. Rules changes permit it again this season.

The practice field is a soggy swamp so the Spartans will start out indoors.

Practices will be held four days a week for five weeks with the windup an inter-squad game May 8.

Prospects are for a stronger team than the one that had a 4-5 season last fall. There are 26 lettermen back and this is supposed to be one of the better freshman crops.

SEEKS BALANCE

One of Daugherty's main problems will be to find balance in the running attack. Dick Gordon, gone with graduation, netted 741 yards last year while the other six leading backs had a combined total of 742 yards. The offensive line also need rebuilding. The line was hit hard by injuries last fall but the squad is expected to be helped by return to full playing strength of some of the recruits.

These include linebacker Ron

Wolverines Restricted by Poor Weather

ANN ARBOR—Although not a single touchdown has been scored as Michigan goes into its final week of weather-restricted spring football practice, Coach Bump Elliott believes his squad has made "reasonable progress" under existing conditions.

The Wolverines will wind up the earliest spring drill in their history Saturday at 2:30 p.m., in the stadium, weather permitting.

On Tuesday the Wolverines held their fourth outdoor practice since the session began March 15.

All other periods have been held in Yost Field House where the footballers have shared practice time and space with the baseball and track squads.

While the indoor work has allowed the linemen a good chance to develop their potential, particularly on fundamentals, the backs have been sorely restricted.

However, some problems in the interior of the line, critical because of the loss of offensive center Brian Patchen and his guard mates Dave Butler and John Marcum, appear to have been lightened.

BOWLING

An eight-point loss by pacesetter Andy's Service last week leaves the top three teams separated by three points in the Huron Bowl Wednesday Night "A" League with two weeks to go.

Ron Slack's 233-223—658 paid third-place All-Star Lanes to a sweep and put it right back in the race. Dominic Mazza's 269 for the Wolverine Entertainers was the high game for the night.

Airway Lanes Sunday will have the second and final day of bowling in its fourth annual Father & Son Tournament. The popular affair has been expanded to four divisions this year.

The teams may be paired in a prep, majors, juniors or adult class depending on the age of the younger team member. The tourney is not limited to fathers, but may include grandfathers, uncles, or adult neighbors.

A 70 per cent handicap is used and 20 per cent of the entries in each class will win trophies. The squads will be at 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. Sunday.

SCORING

In recent scoring on the Airway Lanes, Marie Reynolds hit a fine 225-598 among the first leaguers and Betzi Waisanen had 214-581. Cecilia Croteau posted a 216.

Airway Kings & Queens bowlers Friday were led by John Latimer's 255 and Joan Hill's 517. The Wonderers and Bocc Four teams are tied for first place.

Very close scoring in the Ladies Major Classic saw Pauline Welch, Marbara Childress, Lilah Laskey (234) and

Wide Open Diamond Race in SVC

(Editor's Note: This is the ninth article in a series discussing area prep baseball prospects. Today the Saginaw Valley Conference.)

By JERE CRAIG

To pick any Saginaw Valley Conference team right now as the favorite in this spring's baseball race would be strictly a wild guessing game with seven equal chances of being right. (Neither Bay City league member has a diamond entry.)

For the first time in several seasons the seven teams appear about equal in prospects with no coach having an outstanding hurler to rely upon.

may be in as good a contending position as any one.

An abundance of SVC experienced players plus a very advantageous schedule (at present) seem in his favor. Like almost all other loop coaches, Nuss lost all his mound starters from last season.

But he has three returning hurlers who have pitched in varsity SVC competition and that definitely could be an edge. Seniors Tim Carrie and Wally Logan, and junior Tom Howard must produce on the hill to make PCH a serious threat.

Bill Burch will have to take charge behind the plate after limited duty last spring. These appear to be the Chiefs who must show the most improvement.

STRONGER

The infield and outfield promises to be stronger with numerous returnees. Shortstop Mike Doty and Logan (also a first baseman) are the co-captains. Bill White at second and Kelly Gerlinger in center field add strength up the middle.

Infielder Jerry Murphy, and outfielders Dennis Burill and Bob Gibbs also are key players.

Only Midland has a regular hurler back. That is lanky Joe Kierpieck, a control artist. The Chemicks do have infield strength.

Defending co-champion Flint Central lost its pitching like everyone else and must count on inexperienced players.

Saginaw Arthur Hill may have a psychological edge on every one else. The Lumberjacks have had one day of outside practice (on the school parking lot) which very few schools can claim. The infield looks strong. The other co-champion Saginaw has the green look of new players, although outfielders Roy Stedry and Brian Forbes do return.

2 RETURNERS

Flint Northern's strength is on the right side of the infield where Harold Jones and Dennis Weldon are co-captains. Dennis Bergeron won two games last year on the mound, but not in SVC play.

Center fielder Fred Campbell returns for his third season at Flint Southwestern where Bob Diment will debut as coach.

Campbell and shortstop Dan Weldon are co-captains. Dennis Bergeron won two games last year on the mound, but not in SVC play.

The weather could play a factor in the final outcome since there is little room for makeup games on the crowded league schedule.

PCH plays 11 of its 17 total games at home and this includes nine of its 12 league contests. There are five SVC twin-bills on the PCH schedule and this will demand pitching depth.

Sunday Hunting Ban Vote Asked for Orion Twp.

A bill calling for a referendum on closing Orion Township to Sunday hunting has been introduced in the legislature by Rep. Robert J. Slingerland of Lake Orion.

Slingerland also is co-sponsor of a bill now before the House conservation committee, of which he is a member, that seeks a referendum to close Oakland Township to hunting with firearms.

A similar bill setting a referendum on closing West Bloomfield Township to hunting has passed the House and is in the Senate conservation committee hopper. This measure was sponsored by Rep. Raymond Baker of Farmington.

Hunting can be prohibited in a township only by vote of the residents. Legislative action is needed to set such a referendum.

Residents voted last year to close Avon Township. Townships closed to hunting, except on state land, for the last several years are Southfield, Farmington, Bloomfield and Waterford. Slingerland said that several Orion Township residents have indicated to him that they would like a referendum on Sunday hunting.

He cited carelessness with guns, trespassing and a "high density of Sunday hunters" brought on by so much of the surrounding area being closed to Sunday hunting, as reasons given by those urging a referendum.

Bills to give residents an opportunity to vote on banning Sunday hunting in Oxford and Addison townships are being prepared by Slingerland's staff.

Nature Center Board Election Set April 12

Adoption of a constitution and election of a board of trustees will be the main business April 12, at a meeting of the Drayton Plains Nature Center, Inc., in the Oakland Schools building at the Service Center at 8 p. m.

Robert Schmuck of Dearborn Heights, president of the organization, announced in a newsletter this week that "we can reasonably expect financial support to aid us in acquiring the property for the nature center development."

Legislative approval has been received for the Conservation Department to sell the Drayton Plains hatchery site to the group headed by Schmuck for $42,000.

The target date for opening an educational program at the old hatchery site is July 1. Plans for getting the program under way will be discussed at the April 12 meeting.

Hounds to Sound Off

The annual coon dog field trial of the Pioneer Coon Hunters Association will be Sunday at the Orion Gun Club southwest of Oxford. Over 100 dogs are expected.

HAWAIIAN LUNKER — Gladwin Breeze (left), 168 Mohawk, stands next to the 374-pound blue marlin he caught while vacationing in Hawaii. The fish measured 10 feet, six inches. Breeze battled the marlin 39 minutes while fishing off Kono. Harold Goodyear of Detroit holds a smaller fish.

Smelt Run Will Be Delayed

Lower Michigan's smelt-dipping season, like spring itself, will be a little late this year.

From the way conditions look now, the prolonged spell of colder-than-usual weather will set back all but a smattering of the region's first smelt migrations until April 17 at the earliest.

In most years, these small, silvery fish begin trickling into Great Lakes tributaries and minor inland streams of the lower Peninsula around April 10.

April 20 in this part of the state.

Although Lower Michigan's smelt runs may fall behind schedule this spring, the Conservation Department fisheries men advise sportsmen not to become over anxious.

They point out that many net-

Lake Project Near Completion

A picnic — swimming — fishing project in the Bald Mountain area is nearing completion and is expected to be open to the public before the summer is over.

Two lakes stocked with trout will supply the swimming and fishing and will be bounded by picnic sites. No motors will be allowed on boats being used on the 10 and 65-acre lakes, according to Alfred Masini, district parks supervisor from the Conservation Department.

"There will be a concession with row boats and canoes on the large (Lower Trout) lake," he said. The smaller lake will be known as Upper Trout.

A dam separates the two lakes.

The project, started two years ago, is located between Bald Mountain and Kern Roads and is south of Greenfield. The main entrance to the picnic sites will be off Greenfield.

Boat launching sites will be constructed.

The two lakes were formed by flooding the valley created by Trout creek for the larger body and increasing the size of the existing pond to 10 acres.

The smaller is upstream and contains brook trout. Rainbows have been stocked in Lower Trout.

MORE CAMPSITES

Masini also said that extension of the Proud lake campground has been completed. All campsites will have electrical outlets available and a central dumping station is ready for use.

Roads in the east and west areas are being resurfaced. Masini also said that expansion of the Proud lake swimming beach is planned but that the work probably will not be started this year.

"A cross country bridle trail is being established in the Highland area," Masini reported. "It will be ready for use this summer. People can bring their horses and ride along the main trail or take branches that are being readied."

Masini also said that overnight campsites for hikers and backpackers are being established at Highland.

The Birmingham native, now in the army at Ft. Benning, Ga., defeated Joe Begin of Madison Heights and Grosse Pointe's Dave Nyman in a shootoff to win the Pee Wee Open Skeet Shoot at Ted's Blue Rock Gun Club.

Brown is a member of the noted shooting family in Birmingham.

He broke 91 of 100 clay birds in the initial round as did Begin and Nyman.

Other places were taken by: Eddie Brown, Birmingham, AA champion, 90; Bob Thieles, Bloomfield Hills, AA runnerup, 89; Nyman, A champion; Jack Levan, Bloomfield Hills, A runnerup, 87.

Begin, B champion; Dr. Jack Wiant, Birmingham, B runner-up, 90; Leo Morse, Highland Park, C champion, 88; Mike Mitchell, Grosse Pointe, C runnerup, 78.

Dr. Wiant teamed with Ralph Zimmerman of Birmingham to win the two-man title with 174. Florence Schmidt, Birmingham, and Ted Hannaford, Warren, were second.

Turkey Hunting Bill Introduced in Legislature

LANSING (AP) — Michigan hunters would be allowed to take a turkey for the first time since days of the early settlers under a bill introduced last week.

Rep. Joseph Snyder, D-St. Clair Shores, chairman of the House conservation and recreation committee, introduced the measure allowing the State Conservation Department to set up a turkey season.

The department would select areas where the wild birds would be legal targets and set time limits, bag limits and the number of special licenses to be issued.

Field Trial Slated

The spring field trial of the Irish Setter Club of Michigan will be Saturday and Sunday at the Highland recreation area. The trial is limited to 80 entries.

Ceremony to Honor Sanctuary Founder

A bronze plaque commemorating the work of the late Jack Miner will be erected Sunday at the bird sanctuary the Canadian naturalist founded near Kingsville, Ont.

The Essex County Historical Society is cooperating with the Ontario Department of Archives in planning the 4 p. m. ceremony on what would have been Miner's 100th birthday.

The event is open to the public and a reception is planned in the Jack Miner home on the sanctuary from 4:30 to 6:30 p. m.

Veteran of the Sea

He Locates Ships for Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — For 40-odd years, Alan Villiers has been going down to the sea in sailing ships.

The salty Australian is in port on yet another movie assignment, this time to provide passage for a stellar complement of New England missionaries in "Hawaii."

THOMAS

"The Mirisch people called me at my home in Oxford, England, two and a half years ago," he recounted. "They told me what they needed, and I said to them, 'You will have to go to the Baltic to find ships, strong ships fit for sailing the bloody Cape.'"

He located three sturdy ships in Scandinavian waters, but then "Hawaii" was postponed. Last year, the film once more was put in motion.

A WARNING Villiers advised the movie makers not to attempt filming the sailing sequences in the real Straits of Magellan — too foggy, too far from a base of operations. This winter, the sequences were shot close to the Arctic Circle.

Meanwhile Villiers had the task of sailing a Danish ketch from the Baltic to Hawaii, leaving the Baltic in the dead of winter.

"It was blowing something terrible," said the captain, "but thank God it was an east wind we could rise. We were five days to Plymouth, another five days to Lisbon and 23 days to Barbados."

So confident was he that he sailed most of the way through the Panama Canal, against all logic and a few rules. Sailing vessels are supposed to use auxiliary motors through the canal.

A jaunty, balding chap who has never lost his zest for the sea, Melbourne-born Villiers shipped out under sail shortly after the first World War.

His first experience with films came when he and a friend bought a full-rigged ship and made their own documentary in 1929. He learned enough to leave the filming to the pros.

Producers have also learned to send for Villiers for sailing epics. Trouble can result if they don't — witness "Mutiny on the Bounty" and "Moby Dick."

Villiers had a happy experience in filming the cinematographic documentary, "Windjammer." Next came "John Paul Jones," for which he was to use a ship from "Captain Hornblower." But he found it at the bottom of Palermo harbor.

"I remembered seeing a wooden brigantine in Sicily during the invasion," he said. "It was still there, but it took months to clear the title. I think it must have belonged to the Mafia."

Ailing Actress Making Gains

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Patricia Neal may be sufficiently recovered from three strokes to resume her acting career in two years, her husband, English writer Roald Dahl, said yesterday.

"Pat is making progress every day," Dahl said. "She walks about on my arm now, and can almost walk by herself. She wears an ankle brace on the shoe of her right foot for added support."

Dahl said Miss Neal, 39, who won an Academy Award for her 1963 performance in "Hud," is not reading yet, but she does watch television. She also assembles jigsaw puzzles.

Miss Neal, who was to have been an Oscar presenter Monday night, watched the 37th annual Academy Awards presentation on television.

Actress Audrey Hepburn replaced Miss Neal as a presenter and peculiarly failed to mention Miss Neal's name or why she was absent from the ceremonies in nearby Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.

Miss Neal, 39, who is expecting her fifth child, suffered the strokes last Feb. 17 and immediately underwent brain surgery in UCLA Medical Center.

For about two weeks, she was near death, but recovered and was released from the facility one month to the day she was stricken at her rented Pacific Palisades, Calif., home.

Miss Neal and three of her surviving four children — one died earlier — came here with Dahl last January from their home in England so she could work in a John Ford-directed movie, "Seven Women," at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

Mafia." The ship was also used by Villiers in "Billy Budd" and "Damned the Defiant."

His most publicized voyage was the sailing of the Mayflower reproduction to the New World. His crew was the group of lads he had trained for "John Paul Jones."

WONT LINGER Villiers won't linger long in Hawaii after filming is over. He has his next assignment picked out: "The Captain Cook tricenarian comes in 1969-70. We're going to build a new Endeavor and trace his voyage all the way around the Horn. Yes, we'll do it proper and not sneak through the Panama Canal on a bloody motor."

Astronaut to Speak at MSU on April 13

EAST LANSING (AP)—Astronaut Alan Bean, who is in training for flight duty in the Gemini and Apollo manned space programs, will speak April 13 to Michigan State University faculty and student groups. Bean, a Navy lieutenant commander, will pilot his own plane to Michigan.

For Fair Reopening

GM Futurama Updated

The General Motors Futurama — most popular pavilion at the New York World's Fair last year — will offer an updated look at the world of the future when the fair reopens on April 21.

Since last October, when the first season ended, craftsmen have been renovating the entire exhibit.

Carpenters, electricians, painters and scenic designers have been renewing the animated scenes along the ride which depicts the world as we may someday know it.

Exhibits along the Avenue of Progress, which portrays GM's scientific and engineering research and development, have been renewed. Some have been updated to incorporate recent discoveries; others have been replaced with new displays.

The outdoor product areas have been renovated and some of the brightly painted trucks, buses, earthmovers and automobiles have been installed.

ADD NEW DISPLAY

GM Truck and Coach Division has added a new display, a "Tower of Power," in which four successively smaller trucks are shown one atop of the other. Also new this year will be an antique milk delivery truck.

The fair opened last April 22 and closed October 18. During that time, 15,680,922 persons visited the Futurama and established an international attendance record for a world fair industrial exhibit within one year.

The Futurama will be striving for a new mark this season in what promises to be a bigger and better fair.

Five Held in Slaying of Ghanaian Student

MOSCOW (UPI) — Ghana diplomatic sources said yesterday four Soviet citizens and one unidentified foreigner have been arrested in connection with the slaying of a Ghanaian student last month in the Caspian port city of Baku.

The Ghanaian Embassy said it was "satisfied" that Soviet authorities had taken thorough measures to apprehend those responsible for the death of 26-year-old Oppo Kani.

Veteran of the Sea

He Locates Ships for Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — For 40-odd years, Alan Villiers has been going down to the sea in sailing ships.

The salty Australian is in port on yet another movie assignment, this time to provide passage for a stellar complement of New England missionaries in "Hawaii."

THOMAS

"The Mirisch people called me at my home in Oxford, England, two and a half years ago," he recounted. "They told me what they needed, and I said to them, 'You will have to go to the Baltic to find ships, strong ships fit for sailing the bloody Cape.'"

He located three sturdy ships in Scandinavian waters, but then "Hawaii" was postponed. Last year, the film once more was put in motion.

A WARNING Villiers advised the movie makers not to attempt filming the sailing sequences in the real Straits of Magellan — too foggy, too far from a base of operations. This winter, the sequences were shot close to the Arctic Circle.

Meanwhile Villiers had the task of sailing a Danish ketch from the Baltic to Hawaii, leaving the Baltic in the dead of winter.

"It was blowing something terrible," said the captain, "but thank God it was an east wind we could rise. We were five days to Plymouth, another five days to Lisbon and 23 days to Barbados."

So confident was he that he sailed most of the way through the Panama Canal, against all logic and a few rules. Sailing vessels are supposed to use auxiliary motors through the canal.

A jaunty, balding chap who has never lost his zest for the sea, Melbourne-born Villiers shipped out under sail shortly after the first World War.

His first experience with films came when he and a friend bought a full-rigged ship and made their own documentary in 1929. He learned enough to leave the filming to the pros.

Producers have also learned to send for Villiers for sailing epics. Trouble can result if they don't — witness "Mutiny on the Bounty" and "Moby Dick."

Villiers had a happy experience in filming the cinematographic documentary, "Windjammer." Next came "John Paul Jones," for which he was to use a ship from "Captain Hornblower." But he found it at the bottom of Palermo harbor.

"I remembered seeing a

Ailing Actress Making Gains

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Patricia Neal may be sufficiently recovered from three strokes to resume her acting career in two years, her husband, English writer Roald Dahl, said yesterday.

"Pat is making progress every day," Dahl said. "She walks about on my arm now, and can almost walk by herself. She wears an ankle brace on the shoe of her right foot for added support."

Dahl said Miss Neal, 39, who won an Academy Award for her 1963 performance in "Hud," is not reading yet, but she does watch television. She also assembles jigsaw puzzles.

Miss Neal, who was to have been an Oscar presenter Monday night, watched the 37th annual Academy Awards presentation on television.

Actress Audrey Hepburn replaced Miss Neal as a presenter and peculiarly failed to mention Miss Neal's name or why she was absent from the ceremonies in nearby Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.

Miss Neal, 39, who is expecting her fifth child, suffered the strokes last Feb. 17 and immediately underwent brain surgery in UCLA Medical Center.

For about two weeks, she was near death, but recovered and was released from the facility one month to the day she was stricken at her rented Pacific Palisades, Calif., home.

Miss Neal and three of her surviving four children — one died earlier — came here with Dahl last January from their home in England so she could work in a John Ford-directed movie, "Seven Women," at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

Mafia." The ship was also used by Villiers in "Billy Budd" and "Damned the Defiant."

His most publicized voyage was the sailing of the Mayflower reproduction to the New World. His crew was the group of lads he had trained for "John Paul Jones."

WONT LINGER Villiers won't linger long in Hawaii after filming is over. He has his next assignment picked out: "The Captain Cook tricenarian comes in 1969-70. We're going to build a new Endeavor and trace his voyage all the way around the Horn. Yes, we'll do it proper and not sneak through the Panama Canal on a bloody motor."

Astronaut to Speak at MSU on April 13

EAST LANSING (AP)—Astronaut Alan Bean, who is in training for flight duty in the Gemini and Apollo manned space programs, will speak April 13 to Michigan State University faculty and student groups. Bean, a Navy lieutenant commander, will pilot his own plane to Michigan.

Pride Proves the Winner

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Travel troubles they had plenty, but the four women reached Richmond unaided. To have aid for help would have meant a major loss of professional pride.

They left by train yesterday from their home city of Philadelphia. In Baltimore, the train was halted by a derailment ahead. They boarded a bus for Washington. It developed troubles and had to stop. Another bus managed to get them to Washington.

The train that was to have taken them out of the capital had been halted by the same derailment. They took a bus to Richmond.

There, they couldn't find a taxicab. One of the women walked until she obtained a private car.

Then they all made it to a regional meeting of the Travelers Aid Society, of which they are staff members.

Bills to Aid Elderly Poor

Would Remove Lien Placed on Estates

LANSING (AP)—Two bills to remove the so-called "lien" provisions from state old age assistance laws reached the final voting stage in the legislature today.

The bills would make state assistance to the poverty-stricken aged an outright grant rather than a loan. If they pass today they will have made their greatest progress in 10 years, one veteran legislator said.

Since 1939, the state has collected its payments from the estate of the recipient before it is passed on to the heirs. Democrats generally lined up in favor of removing the liens and Republicans against — although Gov. George Romney has favored their removal.

FINAL STAGE

A bill by Rep. David Holmes, D-Detroit, to write off state contributions for medical expenses, passed to the final voting stage without debate.

A second measure, sponsored by Rep. Dale Kildee, D-Flint, and signed by 32 Democrats and seven Republicans, ran into an hour-long debate.

Holmes said his bill would cost the state about $150,000—partially due to uncollected rebates to the state and increased applications by persons who did not wish to encumber their property.

Kildee said his measure would cost about $500,000.

CHILDREN BENEFIT

Objections were raised that "selfish, ungrateful children who wouldn't help their parents" would benefit by receiving their estates free and clear. Supporters pointed out that under state law old age assistance is granted only when children are financially unable to support their parents.

Sees Mason-Sullivan Rift a Bad Break for Show Biz

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — So hear ye! . . . I appeal once more to Ed Sullivan and Jackie (Goldfinger) Mason, the comedian, to make up . . . I wish Mason'd drop that $3,000,000 lawsuit against Ed . . . I wish Ed would take Jackie back, finger and all . . . I feel that Jackie's satirical commentary about Our Leader is much needed in our country today.

A disappointingly small audience saw Jackie open at Basin St. E.—I keep feeling that if he'd had his old status with Ed he'd have packed the place.

"Why did they fire Bobby Baker in Washington?" he demanded. "They should have made him a partner! The only guy working for the government that ever showed a profit, they let go! Imagine, if he could have advertised . . ."

"Goldwater could have won but his timing was wrong. He ran at the beginning of November — just when Johnson was running."

"Nixon gets bigger every year—he's a professional loser. He knows his business, he loses and gets bigger. I'd like to see him run against Al Stevenson. Nobody would win."

"And I'm for economy. What do they mean spending $12 for a bottle of champagne to christen a battleship? If I was President, I wouldn't christen a battleship. I'd bar-mitzvah it. Instead of champagne, they'd use a glass of tea."

He also said Mayor Wagner here in NY "is doing very well for himself."

Jackie, introduced as "Ed Sullivan's favorite comedian," said, "Ed doesn't hate me, he really loves me, he just doesn't know it."

Jackie's topper was: "Ask in any country, 'Where's the American Embassy?' and they'll tell you, 'Oh, it's just a stone's throw away.'"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Ex-Queen Soraya was set for a Frug lesson at "Killer Joe" Piro's studio . . . Carroll Baker's suit against Playboy is reported off . . . Billy Daniels, a hit at Lou Black's, is being held over . . . Leo Gorcey (former Dead End Kid, now 48, is bedded with mumps.

Omar Sharif writes from Finland: "We're working on a lake that is solidly frozen—we hope—filming 'Dr. Zhivago.' I eat small breakfasts; any extra weight might drive me through the ice" . . . Douglas Fairbanks' dr. Melissa, 17, wants an acting career; papa isn't thrilled at it.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A woman—explained why she's a Cary Grant fan: "He has neon diamonds."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Mankind should take lessons from the snowflake. No two of them are alike, yet observe how well they cooperate on major projects—such as tying up traffic." —Norva News.

EARL'S PEARLS: Lisa Kirk insists not all rock 'n' roll music is bad: "Oh no—some of it is terrible."

Contrary to popular opinion New York's meat packing industry is bigger than Chicago's—but here they call it the girde and brasserie business . . . That's earl, brother.

Swap Offer Spoils Deal

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Alice Haugh, who deals in antiques, advertised a Victorian love seat for sale. A woman called and expressed interest. She asked the price, but Mrs. Haugh suggested that the woman come see the love seat, and then they could decide how much it is worth.

Replied the caller: "Well, I have a couple of cemetery lots I'd like to trade in on it."

That ended the prospective deal.

The name of Boulder Dam was officially changed to Hoover Dam by Congress in 1947.

Life's Ordeals Include Hearing Someone Tell of Quitting

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — One of life's little ordeals today is having to listen to someone who has given up a bad habit.

That seems to include just about everybody.

For success is measured not so much by what a man has achieved as by what he is giving up. If you aren't in the process of breaking yourself of a bad habit, you don't belong in the "in" group.

Naturally, if you have sworn off sniffing glue, drinking martinis, or chain smoking cigarettes, you must make your withdrawal pangs public.

The problem in social situations is to grab the conversation at the start. If you don't brag about the bad habit you're throwing, they'll bore you with dire tales of their struggles.

When you have only a single bad habit and give it up utterly, it is usually replaced by another bad habit. This is known as Boyle's Law.

For example:

The two-bottle a day bourbon aficionado remains as shaky as ever, because he gets caffeine nerves from drinking 20 cups of coffee daily.

The compulsive smoker becomes a compulsive eater.

The compulsive eater becomes a compulsive pill swallower.

COMPULSIVE TALKERS

And all become compulsive talkers.

The other day a chubby cab-driver told me:

"Six years ago I gave up smoking when I got up to four packs a day. So what happened? I put on 40 pounds. I can't stop eating. Now when I get home I'm so tired all I can do is fall down on the sofa and look at television. I'm so weak the old lady has to turn on the set."

"You know what I think? I think people are born sensible, and living makes them nutty. But you gotta do something nutty to stay alive. Only dead people ain't nutty anymore."

If you are restricted to one vice, perhaps it would be wiser to surrender it piecemeal. Mark Twain, an inveterate cigar man who lived into his 70s said he never had any trouble giving up smoking: "I've done it a thousand times."

An even better way, probably, is to acquire a number of objectionable habits and conquer them one day at a time. Here is a suggested schedule:

Monday — give up smoking.
Tuesday — no drinking.

Wednesday — give up poverty.

Thursday — absolutely no gambling.

Friday — give up girl ogling.

Saturday — no fatty foods.

Sunday — give up swearing.

SENSE OF VICTORY

Under this program you have a real sense of victory because at least one day each week you are abstaining from a vice that is undermining your character. On the other hand, each day you can remain human by enjoying the other six.

WHALE OF A TIME — These children had a whale of a time playing on the back of a 38-foot, 18-ton black, or picket, whale which was stranded for two days near Panama, Fla. The game broke up abruptly when the whale flipped his tail and tossed one child 10 feet into the air. The child was not hurt. The whale was towed to sea by the Coast Guard.

2 Drowned in Minnesota

Flood Season Begins

CHICAGO (AP) — Fields white with snow a month ago and dusty in one of the worst droughts in history six months ago are quagmires today. Deep snowpacks and April rains, necessary ingredients for successful growing seasons for farmers, melted in spring warmth and for the next few weeks will be an inconvenience and occasionally a tragedy.

Two persons drowned in Minnesota as springtime floods began.

Murky waters slapped against the sides of homes in isolated sections of the country.

Flooding struck Cherokee in northwest Iowa yesterday as the Little Sioux River went about 10 feet over flood stage, driving 350 persons from their homes.

$500,000 DAMAGE

The river hit a crest of 27.1 feet, causing an estimated $500,000 damage.

It was the worst flood in the community of 8,500 in 74 years. Flood control experts said a higher crest could be expected. Mayor Dale Goldie declared an emergency.

More than 250 National Guardsmen helped with evacuations and a precautionary shipment of typhoid vaccine was rushed in.

Motorboats and heavy duty vehicles moved in to aid in evacuation.

LITTLE SIOUX

At Sioux Rapids between Cherokee and Spencer, the Little Sioux flooded the waterworks and reportedly contaminated the water.

The Red Cross sheltered 650 persons from Cherokee, Waterloo and Marshalltown. The flooding affected eight counties.

The Zumbro River rose sharply in southeastern Minnesota. Flood stage is 18 feet, and the river hit 28 feet and was still rising.

Downriver at Theilman, flood stage was 38 feet and the river hit 47 feet.

300 FAMILIES

Up to two feet of the flooded Vermillion River in Hastings, Minn., sent nearly 300 families to high ground today. About 35 families were evacuated in Lilydale and 20 at Columbia Flats.

In Illinois, the Mississippi River was six feet above flood level in Cairo and the Illinois River was 1½ feet below flood level in La Salle.

The Mississippi was also above flood level in Quincy, Ill.

3 Give Up in Alabama Rights Case

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Three Birmingham white men allegedly linked with the Ku Klux Klan surrendered to a U.S. marshal today after their indictment by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to violate the rights of a slain civil rights worker.

Named in the indictment returned yesterday in Montgomery were Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, of suburban Fairfield; Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Easton, 41, both of Besmer. A fourth white man originally arrested in connection with the slaying of Viola Gregg Luzzo of Detroit was not named in the indictment. He is Gary Thomas Rowe Jr., 35, of Birmingham.

The three are charged with conspiring to violate the constitutional rights of the Detroit housewife, who was shot to death the night of March 25. The shooting occurred in rural Lowndes County as Mrs. Luzzo was shuttling back to Selma persons who had participated in the voter rights march on Montgomery.

CALLED KLANSMEN

President Johnson in announcing the initial arrests the day after the slaying identified Wilkins, Thomas, Eaton and Rowe as members of the Ku Klux Klan. Johnson coupled the announcement with a declaration of war on the Klan.

Conviction on the civil rights charges could result in prison terms of up to 10 years and fines up to $5,000.

The three men inacted today had been free on bond, as is Rowe.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. had issued the call for the grand jury session three days after the slaying.

City Personal, Real Property Value Rises

Assessor Announces $15 Million Increase Over 1964 Valuation

By L. GARY THORNE

An increase of more than $15 million in the assessed valuation of real and personal property in the city was announced today.

City Assessor Edward C. Bloe reported the city's 1965 total assessed value at $310,630,900, an increase of $15,159,000 over last year's assessed valuation of $295,471,900.

The city's assessed valuation is set by the Board of Tax Review.

GM facilities accounted for $14,521,900 of the increased valuation.

The hike in assessed value came primarily from personal property valuations, which jumped $11,825,900 over 1964.

Personal property in the city was assessed at $134,390,300 in 1964, compared to $146,216,200 this year.

GM plants again accounted for the climb with $11,305,900 in personal property values.

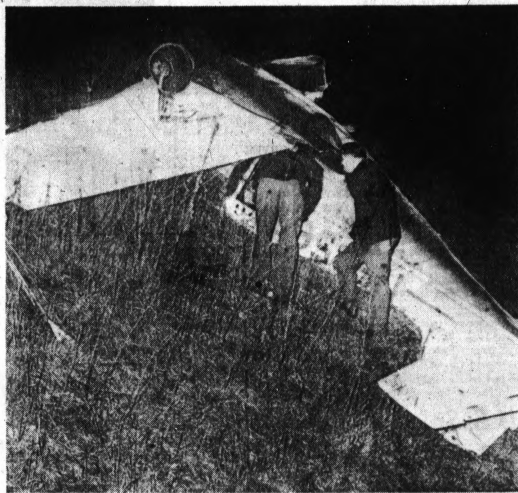

VALUE RISES

The assessed value of local real estate rose about $3.3 million over 1964.

The Board of Tax Review, a five-man panel that rules on appeals and sets the final assessed value of the city, trimmed the city assessor's total recommended valuation by $1,565,500, about $284,600 more than the cutback granted in setting last year's total valuation.

Most of the relief was granted incidental cases. About 500 such requests accounted for $1.1 million of the board's total $1.5 million deduction.

The board cut a total of $1,538,600 off real estate valuations and allowed relief for only (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Says U.S. Has Spies in Reds' Top Ranks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., one of the few men in Washington privy to the Central Intelligence Agency's innermost secrets, said today that many of the best spies the United States has abroad are top Communist party officials.

Young is one of only six senators who know precisely how much money is appropriated for the super-secret CIA and for what purpose. The funds are concealed in the budgets of dozens of other federal agencies for security purposes.

'No Meeting Until Kowalski Replies'

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney implied today he will not call a legislative meeting on fiscal reform until House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, replies to Romney's latest letter.

Romney delivered the letter to Kowalski March 29 when they met for an argumentative 36 minutes.

Denies Giving Him Ultimatum on Divorce

The girlfriend of accused slayer Harry M. Belcher yesterday denied her earlier statement that she had given Belcher an ultimatum to divorce his wife.

Testifying at Belcher's first-degree murder trial in Oakland County Circuit Court, Joyce Ann Cross, 20, said her statement during Belcher's preliminary examination in February was made while she was under effects of tranquilizers.

When reminded of her statement that she told Belcher to divorce his wife, Catherine, she testified that "I was under tranquilizers at the time. My mind was blurred."

"I have been off them for two months and I know exactly what happened. I am telling the truth today."

Illinois Couple Was en Route to Give Talk on Flight Psychology

FLINT (AP)—An Illinois couple, en route to deliver a talk on aeronautics, was killed last night when their single-engine plane struck a utility pole and crashed near Flint's Bishop airport.

State police identified the dead as the pilot, Paul Stoll, 36, and his wife, Lois E. Stoll, 38, both of Glen Ellyn, Ill.

Police said the two had been scheduled to deliver a talk before an aviation instruction class today on "the psychology of aeronautics."

Police said both were expert pilots, and Mrs. Stoll was believed to have been at the controls.

The plane, approaching the airport for landing, apparently hit a utility pole, snapping off one wing, struck the ground, bounced into the air and came to rest upside down on an embankment, police said.

CAUSE OF CRASH

Officers said the crash may have been due to carburetor icing or an engine stall. An investigation was scheduled. Electricity was cut off in the southwest fringe of Flint for several hours following the crash.

Showers Due for Weekend

Umbrellas will be the vogue over the weekend. The weather man predicts precipitation totaling one-half inch in rain about Friday, and again Sunday and Monday.

Partly cloudy with temperatures rising to 53 to 60 is tomorrow's forecast. Temperatures will average about six degrees above the normal high of 54 and low of 36 for the next five days.

A mild 40 was the low preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The mercury reading at 1 p.m. was 58.

'Seek a City Saint'—6

Give of Yourself Daily

By DAVID HEAD (Distributed by NEA)

First, the city saint takes himself as he finds himself. His priestly vocation is the backbone of his life, and when he does a good job at work, or gets something done in local politics, or presents accurate youth club accounts or makes a hospital visit on behalf of the Church, he finds satisfaction in it. But that is different from self-esteem.

If the regard for loving were simply nice feelings of self-approbation, it would be worse than a box of poisoned chocolates as a thank-you present; in fact, the reward for loving is more love.

Secondly, the city saint's very worldliness keeps him to size. Like the priests of old, and unlike Jesus the High Priest, he must seek forgiveness for himself as well as others.

He will value the insight of the Orthodox Church in its stress on identification with a sinful world. He will remember how those who went to the Church in New York's East Harlem compared Christ's action with theirs:

NO LOWER PLACE

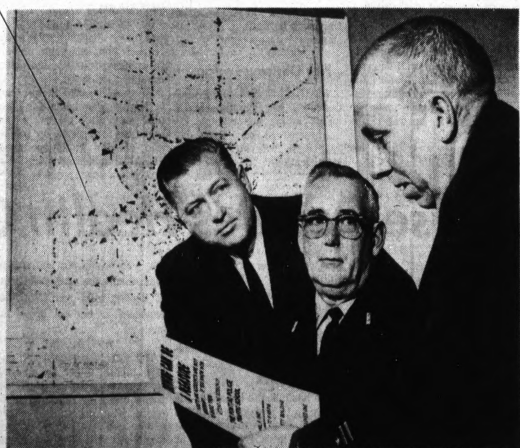

"He humbled himself. We can't. There is no lower place for us to go."

2 Britons Pan Julie's Oscar

LONDON (AP) — Two British show business critics criticized the American Oscar awards today, suggesting Britisher Julie Andrews received her acting award as consolation for not getting the lead role in "My Fair Lady."

Leonard Mosley of the Daily Express also criticized the award of an Oscar to Britisher Rex Harrison. Other British writers were delighted by the British sweep of the top Academy awards in Hollywood.

Mosley said none was more delighted than he at awards to Harrison and Miss Andrews, "but compared with the competition, they didn't really deserve them."

"What did Julie get her Oscar for?" he wrote. "Because she gave a delightfully happy-go-lucky performance as the sunshine governess in 'Mary Poppins'."

"Or because Hollywood's technicians — whose votes decide the issue — felt sorry for her and wanted to get back at Jack Warner, of Warner Bros., for 'cheating' her out of 'My Fair Lady'?"

David Nathan of the Sun said Miss Andrews "is not the best actress in the world... not the best actress in films; nor the best actress in Hollywood; nor even the best actress last year in Hollywood."

Man With a Rifle Robs Bar in City

Pontiac Police are seeking a bandit who held up the Baldwin Rubber Bar early today and made off more than $50.

Virginia Ellis, 37, 464 Auburn, told police she was working behind the bar when a man entered the building carrying a sawed-off rifle.

After emptying the cash drawer, the gunman fled, police said. The hold-up took place at about 1:30 a.m.

Kennedy Establishes Nepalese Trust Fund

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who has nine children, has established a trust fund for children of Sherpa climbing guides in Nepal.

Officials of the Oakland County Department of Public Works and the City of Pontiac will meet soon to implement a plan to remedy the Crystal Lake pollution problem.

An early meeting with city officials was suggested yesterday when township and county officials met with the township's consulting engineers to review the problem.

City officials have charged that the lake's pollution stemmed from township sewage feeding into the lake from the area of the west end drain.

The township has been working on an interim plan to provide sanitary sewers for the area immediately west of the city, which allegedly is the source of the pollution.

Murf the Surf and His Pals Get 3 Years

NEW YORK (UPI) — Three Florida beach boys who stole the priceless Star of India sapphire and other gems from a museum here have been given three-year prison terms.

Supreme Court Justice Mitchell D. Schwartz yesterday sentenced Jack (Murf the Surf) Murphy, 27, Allen Dale Kuhn, 26, and Roger Frederick Clark, 29, to three years each on charges stemming from the Oct. 29, 1964, jewel theft at the American Museum of Natural History.

The celebrated theft resulted in the disappearance of the fabulous Star of India sapphire, the 100-carat Delong ruby — largest of its kind in the world — and 22 other precious gems.

After admitting the theft, the beach boy trio helped police recover part of the loot, including the Star of India and eight other gems, from a Miami bus station locker.

The Delong ruby and the 14 other jewels are still missing.

"I will maintain my interest in politics," Keating said.

The 5 x 2 foot cross, wrapped with rags and doused with flammable liquid, was burned in the back yard of George P. Brown, 51. No damage was reported.

Funds for Local Hospital in Senate-Approved Bill

The Senate gave approval yesterday to the $6.8 million House version of a supplemental appropriations bill for the current fiscal year.

Included in the total is $150,000 to launch construction of a children's unit at Pontiac State Hospital.

The extra spending bill also contains $145 million for the addition and alteration at Kalamazoo State Hospital.

• $106,700 for purchase of a mental health center site in Muskegon.

• $191,000 for three construction projects at Ionia State Hospital and Ionia Reformatory.

The Senate postponed debate until today on the workmen's compensation bill, the week's major piece of legislation. It passed eight routine bills and moved another into position for final passage.

A $9 million welfare measure which boosts the state's share of payments made through county welfare departments progressed from the health and welfare committee to the appropriations committee.

Other major items in the bill include:

• $313,115 for the new Court of Appeals.

• $421,277 for care of tuberculosis patients.

• $200,000 for mental hospital drugs, medical, surgical and laboratory supplies.

• $150,000 for purchase of four lots at the Lansing Capitol development area.

Waterford Boy Struck by Auto; Reported Serious

A 12-year-old Waterford Township boy, injured when he was struck by a car at 3:10 p.m. yesterday, is in serious condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Hospitalized was Michael Harrison, of 3880 Percy King, who suffered a broken pelvis and possible internal injuries in the accident on Hatchery west of Bender, Waterford Township.

Allen Bellehumeur, 17, of 722 Sunnybeach, White Lake Township, driver of the car, told police he couldn't avoid hitting the boy who was crossing the road. Bellehumeur, who was driving east on Hatchery, said he noticed the boy starting across the road just as a school bus had passed his car.

Ask Service Bases About Living Costs

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Mary Feeley: My husband is going into the Navy and will be stationed in Pensacola, Fla. However, we will probably be living in Warrington, Fla.

Can I find out ahead of time what to expect in the way of living costs there? Mrs. R. S. Shelby, Ohio

Dear Mrs. S.: You'll probably find it helpful to contact the Public Information Officer at the Navy Base as far in advance of moving as possible.

Often the information you want regarding location of schools, shopping facilities, entertainment, and such vital matters as how far you'll be from the base if you settle somewhere in that general area, can be obtained from this source.

Of course you can't expect a blueprint for setting up housekeeping but at least you can get some of your questions answered, and a general idea of living costs.

Other young wives planning to join their husbands at service bases might follow this suggestion.

Or you might get some helpful information from the Chamber of Commerce of the town.

Dear Miss Feeley: I would like your help in setting up an allowance for my daughter who will be entering junior high school in the fall.

She has just turned 12, and has been getting 50 cents weekly—which she spends primarily on candy to which we object, but she does anyway.

However, she has agreed to go by what you decree. So please advise us on an allowance that can be budgeted to cover the following:

School lunches at 35 cents a day; clothing; school supplies; movies; records; gifts; savings.

I do not budget my income, but have always saved some and paid bills as they come in.

I would like my daughter to start learning how to budget. M. V. C., San Bernardino, Calif.

Dear M. V. C.: I agree that this is a good way to start off her 12th year.

But I do make this suggestion: omit that item "clothing" from her budget at this point.

I believe that's putting a bit too much responsibility on a 12-year-old with her first real book-keeping to do.

Even mature family managers run into trouble trying to budget clothing realistically, as there's so much looking ahead to be done from season to season.

Of course, a lot depends on the individual's temperament, and some young people show an early maturity in handling money well.

But I believe you could postpone the clothing category for a year or two. Or at least start out with just one wardrobe item—perhaps socks or stockings (if she wears them) or scarves.

If you set up the following budget, she will have an opportunity to save a little each week; and she will also have to plan her entertainment money so that she can let it accumulate to buy what she wants most:

Lunches at 35 cents a day, $1.75; movies, records, gifts, $1; savings, 25 cents; snacks, 25 cents; school supplies (paper, pencils, folders, an occasional pen), 25 cents. Total $3.50 per week.

I assume you handle the family church contributions yourself. But if you want her to take over her portion of this, you might add that sum to her allowance.

Keep in mind that jumping from 50 cents a week, which she has been getting, to $3.50 a week with specific responsibilities to assume, is a considerable jump.

Help her to plan for such things, perhaps, as a fairly expensive record album or gift—by skipping a movie, by saving her candy money, by planning to use any surplus from her school supplies allotment that isn't needed that week or month.

If she keeps her spending and savings record in a dime-store notebook by the week or by the day if she prefers—she'll find it much easier to see how her budgeting is working out.

Also, don't either of you be surprised if she starts her book-keeping with enthusiasm, and then gets confused or bored with the whole thing.

This can happen. Just keep at it.

She will especially enjoy seeing her savings grow, so it might be wise to open her first account yourself with a $1 deposit.

Then she can add to it with another dollar each month.

(You can get Mary Feeley's booklet, "Building Financial Stability," by writing her in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Clinton River Work Forces Delay of M59 Freeway Project

Construction of the projected M59 freeway within the city won't begin until spring of 1966, city commissioners were told last night.

City Engineer Joseph E. Neippling reported the delay in M59 construction in presenting a State Highway Department proposal to postpone the city's payments on the project.

Previously, the city this year was scheduled to pay $300,000 of its share of free-way costs. The total city share is $500,000.

The commission approved the one-year postponement of the payments but questioned delay in M59 construction.

Neippling said that work on the Clinton River, between Union and Opdyke, must proceed ahead of the projected M59 relocation.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. pointed out that river work was delayed when the project was turned over to the county for construction as a county drain.

Originally, the State Highway Department had planned to award freeway contracts late last year.

Neippling said the earliest date now is February 1966.

The city engineer also pointed out last night that payment of the city's share of M59 costs would deplete funds for capital improvements on major streets in 1966.

The funds, he said, come from gas and weight taxes. M59 payments would cancel all plans for improvements on major streets, Neippling said.

He added that the current level of maintenance on major streets would also have to be curtailed.

Neippling said the alternative would be to increase, substantially, appropriations from other sources for support of the major street system.

He said the $300,000 committed for 1966 payments on M59 represented more than half of the available funds received from gas and weight taxes for major streets.

The proposed M59 freeway will enter Pontiac on the east near I-75 and linking up with Wide Track Drive.

In other business last night, city administrators were directed to draft a procedure for enforcement of city licensing practices.

Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson proposed that local businesses should be given two warnings when their city licenses expire.

Mayor Taylor said the procedure on licensing should be strengthened and fees collected on time.

City Clerk Mrs. Olga Barkley said her office sends out some statements on licenses that expire, but claimed renewal of licenses can be held up for several reasons.

The City Commission appointed Rudolph C. Miller, 14 N. Anderson, to fill a vacancy on the Civic Improvement Advisory Committee.

His term will expire Jan. 20, 1967.

Miller replaced Fred H. Burmeister, 44 N. Shirley, who resigned.

Several rezoning requests were referred last night to the City Planning Commission.

One was for residential-3 zoning at the southwest corner of Ottawa and West Huron for a proposed three-story, 40-unit apartment building.

Another was for a similar rezoning for land between West Ypsilanti and West Columbia. An 88-unit apartment building is proposed there.

In other business last night, City Commission approval was given a $1,380 change in the contract for the swimming pool at the Hayes Jones Community Center.

Drainage difficulties will be changed at the pool.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren reported that the buckling of the pool's floor, caused at the time of draining last fall, would be repaired by the contractor this spring.
