

Charge Man in Meredith Attack

HERNANDO, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi authorities formally charged Aubrey James Norvell, a balding white man from Memphis, Tenn., today "with assault and battery with intent to kill and murder James Meredith."

Ross Franks, De Soto County prosecutor, told newsmen waiting outside the jail here that Norvell, 41, an unemployed hardware contractor, would be taken before a justice of the peace for arraignment.

And 25 miles to the north, Meredith issued a statement from his Memphis hospital bed, promising, "I shall return and we shall arrive in Jackson, Miss."

Meredith, the slender Negro who cracked racial barriers at University of Mississippi in 1962 in a night that brought rioting on campus and death to two men, was wounded in the back yesterday by a man who had hidden in a gully with a shotgun.

In his written statement today, Meredith said the significance of his "march against fear through Mississippi" was proved by the reception of Negro residents in Hernando, near where he fell bleeding on the roadway.

"The day for the Negro man being a coward is over," he said.

The arraignment before Peace Justice Whitley Perryman was delayed through the morning.

A red car pulled up at the jail about 8 a.m., carrying four persons, two of whom identified themselves as the wife and brother of Norvell. They refused to talk.

Little was known about the man accused of firing three times at Meredith from a ditch 30 yards away.

Neighbors in Memphis knew little of his background other than to say "he is a quiet, Christian man."

Before the hearing, Sheriff W. L. Meredith answered critics who claimed Meredith had received inadequate police protection.

"There were something over 20 law enforcement officers in the immediate area when he was shot," the sheriff said. He added the officers did not see the man in time to stop the shooting.

In Washington, Atty. Gen.

Nicholas Katzenbach said 75 shotgun pellets lodged in Meredith's body, but none in vital parts. He said he understood no surgery would be necessary.

TO RESUME TREK

After an attorney read Meredith's statement at the Memphis hospital, Negro comedian Dick Gregory, who arrived here before dawn, was quoted by an aide as saying he planned to drive immediately to Hernando after his own news conference.

Gregory inquired about Meredith's condition on arriving at the hospital about 3 a.m., then commented, "If he is going to come out in two days, we will start at the place where he was shot and march back into Memphis."

Meredith's condition was listed as good. He was hit on the back and in the legs with No. 6 shot — used commonly for rabbit hunting.

Meredith said when he saw the armed man rise from the weeds of the gully "I was thinking that I had made a mistake not to carry a gun."

Waterford Fire Dept. Plans Millage Petition Campaign

Waterford Township Fire Chief Lewis Goff said last night that petitions will be circulated in an effort to place a fire department millage proposal on the Nov. 8 election ballot.

Goff explained the proposal to Township Board members last night. No objections were raised.

The department seeks a one-mill levy over a 10-year period. It would finance the purchase of fire hall sites, motor vehicles and fire fighting equipment and the maintenance of vehicles, equipment and fire halls.

Goff emphasized that the proposal would not result in wage increases for firemen. The additional mill would mean from $7 to $8 more per year in taxes to the average property owner.

An estimated $123,000 in revenue would be raised this year.

EXPANSION PLAN
Goff said that the proposed 10-year fire department expansion program would be "a definite asset to the township and would provide better fire protection for the people."

Goff feels that this population figure may be reached by 1970.

"I definitely think this is a step in the right direction," said Goff, who essentially said that it is better to provide for future needs progressively rather than "letting it pile up on us."

"One of our biggest problems in fire department expansion has always been the financial picture," said Goff. "We never seem to have the money."

Goff commented on the large number of multiple dwellings now being built or planned in (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Two Cityhood Issues Beaten

Farmington Township, Lake Orion Vote No

By PAT McCARTY and JAN KLOUSER

Proposals to create two new cities in Oakland County were beaten soundly yesterday by Farmington Township and Lake Orion voters.

The incorporation bid in Farmington Township was turned down by a 5,657-1,547 vote, while the Lake Orion cityhood question was defeated 348-41.

There are 13,589 registered voters in Farmington Township. Lake Orion's registered electorate numbers about 900.

In both communities, the election of charter commission members was negated by the defeat of the cityhood propositions.

Petitions were filed for the cityhood election in Farmington Township to ward off the prospect of an alleged "land grab" by the City of Farmington.

ANNEXATION NIXED
A proposal to annex about 560 acres of the township to the city was defeated last November.

However, rumor had it that the city would make another attempt to annex the portion of the township zoned for industrial development, around 10 Mile and Haggerty.

Township officials appointed a study committee which backed incorporation and held a series of often-heated meetings at which arguments were presented.

Opposing the move was the Committee for the Preservation of Farmington Township, formed to "preserve the dignity, serenity, beauty and culture" of the township.

Township Clerk Floyd Cairns cited the "dozen or more" letters sent to residents by the group as a major factor in defeat of the proposition.

"There were so many letters going out against it, I think the people were confused," he said.

Cairns declined to guess what the next development would be. During the incorporation drive, there was talk of possible (Continued on Page A-4, Col. 1)

Junta Action Spurs Monk Defiance

SAIGON, South Viet Nam

(AP) — Buddhist militants made new gestures of defiance against the government today after Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime excluded its chief Buddhist critics from the enlarged junta.

Three battalions of government troops arrived outside the northern Buddhist citadel of Hue, but their officers said they were en route to an operation against the Communists and would make no attempt to seize the city.

A report from Hue said the militant Buddhist leader Thich Tri Quang had instructed his followers to allow the troops to move through the city tomorrow morning by temporarily removing Buddhist household altars they had placed in the streets as a new form of antigovernment protest.

The 12,000 marines and paratroopers pitched their tents six miles south of Hue today after moving out of Da Nang earlier in the day.

Tri Quang's underground radio said yesterday that Ky planned to send his soldiers into the city as he had done last month to seize Da Nang from Buddhist rebels.

Southfield Golfer Clears Hurdle in British Amateur

A 25-year-old golfer has cleared one hurdle in his bid to carry the 1966 British Amateur trophy from his native Scotland to his home in Southfield.

But another Oakland County golfer wasn't as fortunate in today's second round.

Meanwhile, a Pontiac pro is making a strong bid to gain a berth in the U.S. Open during today's sectional qualifying at the Country Club of Detroit. Details on Page C-1.

Fairly Strong Quake Recorded Near Peru

NEW YORK (AP) — A "fairly strong" earthquake, probably off Peru, was recorded at the Fordham University seismograph last night, the university reported today.

The Rev. Joseph Lynch, director of the seismic observatory, said the quake occurred 3,700 miles to the southwest.

Havana Feels Gale Winds as Hurricane Moves Closer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Alma, with 73 dead in her soggy wake, sent gale winds into the Cuban capital of Havana today and reached 400 miles outward to lash the Florida Keys with squalls.

At least two cities, one on the Cuban coast and another on the Cuban Isle of Pines, were evacuated as the 90-mile winds moved in, pouring torrential rains and churning the sea into massive waves.

Weatherman Sticks With Rain Forecast

Maybe the weatherman is playing games with us.

For several days he led us to believe showers would fall on the Pontiac area, but even yesterday, as clouds rolled into the area, he sent them to the north and south of Pontiac.

Once again the weatherman forecasts a chance of some scattered showers about late afternoon tomorrow with temperatures aiming for 74 to 82. Showers possible and mild is Thursday's outlook.

Fair and cool with a low of 48 to 56 is the prediction for tonight.

West to southwest winds at 5 to 15 miles per hour will continue late today.

A balmy 60 was the low reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 79 by 2 p.m.

IN POLICE CUSTODY — A man identified by police as Aubrey James Norvell (with sunglasses, smoking pipe) is ushered into a police car after being arrested in connection with the shooting of civil rights figure James Meredith near Hernando, Miss. The butt of the shotgun believed used in the shooting is in the foreground.

described it as an "awful act of violence." There were angry speeches on Harlem street corners, but calls for calm and reason also were heard.

"We shouldn't allow ourselves to lose our heads," said black nationalist Edward Davis. The shooting happened as the slender former Air Force sergeant, who cracked the racial barrier at the University of Mississippi in 1962, strode jauntily along in U.S. 51, wearing a pith helmet, green sports shirt and slacks.

GUNMAN UNCERTAIN
He was walking from Memphis to Jackson, Miss., on the assumption that if he could do it safely it would prove to Mississippi Negroes that they had nothing to fear in registering to vote.

A witness, Claude Sterrett, 24, of New York, said the gunman, apparently uncertain of his target, stepped from a wooded area and shouted: "Meredith! James Meredith! I want you Meredith! Then he fired."

Gov. Paul Johnson said Norvell admitted the shooting. No motive was given.

BLOODY SYMBOL
The splash of blood Meredith left on the dusty delta road side threatened to become the symbolic staging area for bigger marches than his own demonstration.

Floyd B. McKissick, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said CORE will continue the march started by Meredith.

Area Legislator Will Run Again

State Rep. Francis A. Crowley filed yesterday for reelection as representative from the 61st District.

Crowley, 57, of 7340 Deer Lake, Independence Township, was first elected to office two years ago. He is a Democrat.

The district includes Waterford, Independence, Springfield and White Lake townships and Sylvan Lake.

A native of Vermont, Crowley gained international fame in the mid-30s as a distance runner. He was a member of the U.S. Olympic team and won national and world titles in track events.

Crowley served as an Army captain during World War II. Confined to a wheelchair for the past three years because of a spinal condition, Crowley has been a leading proponent for legislation to assist physically handicapped persons by making all public buildings accessible to the handicapped.

His efforts also have been directed to legislation that would prohibit hiring discrimination against persons over 40.

A resident of his district for 15 years, Crowley is married and the father of four children. He is a graduate of Manhattan College.

City Commission Okays Record '66-'67 Budget

BIRMINGHAM — A record $2,532,190 budget for the 1966-67 fiscal year was adopted by the City Commission last night.

The tax rate was established at $18 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The tax will provide $1,721,786 of the total budget, with the balance coming from state sales tax, weight and gas taxes, local fines and construction permits.

The $18 to be levied is $1 more than the current $17 per $1,000, but is 10 cents lower than the $18.10 that had been estimated a month ago when the preliminary budget was drafted.

The new budget is $9,000 less than originally proposed, a $1,000 higher than present expenditures in the 1965-66 budget.

EXPENDITURES

Departmental expenditures total $1,646,730, with capital improvements adding a net of $343,283, and the operation of the library another $141,712.

Three departments, police, fire and public works, account for more than $1 million.

The highest single department appropriation, $431,106, went to the police department. Of the total, $376,429 is for wages.

The fire department appropriation was $201,460.

The budget will go into effect July 1.

Enrollment deadline is June 13 for the summer speech correction program to be conducted from June 20 to July 29 at Pierce Elementary School.

Each child will receive 30 minutes of specialized speech correction each day in groups of three to five students.

Parents can observe the classes and consult with the school social worker.

The program is financially supported by the state.

Registrations can be made at the special education office in the Hill Building.

Fangboner Will Seek 3rd Term

Waterford Aide Files for Dem Nomination

Incumbent Elmer E. Fangboner, 59, of 3327 Melndale, Waterford Township, has filed petitions for the Democratic nomination for township clerk in the Aug. 2 primary.

Seeking his third term as clerk, Fangboner became the first township political candidate to file for the forthcoming election. However, Herbert C. Cooley, 40, of 995 N. Cass Lake, Waterford Township, previously announced he will seek Republican nomination for a trusteeship post.

Prior to his election as clerk in 1963, Fangboner served as township fire chief for three years. He is a retired Pontiac fireman.

Following graduation from Pontiac High School, he attended Olivet College and later Michigan State University.

Fangboner is credited with organizing the township's volunteer and full-time fire departments in 1942, as well as the Goodfellows Association.

SCHOOL BOARD
For six years, Fangboner was a member of the township board of education, having served as secretary at one time.

Married and the father of one son and three daughters, Fangboner is on the executive board of Community Activities, Inc., and the Boys' Club of Waterford Township and is a member of both the township and Pontiac youth assistance committees.

Fangboner is the township's civil defense director, is treasurer of the Goodfellows Association and belongs to the Oakland County Mental Health Association, Pontiac Elks Lodge and Waterford Area Fraternal Order of Eagles.

He is also a member of the Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club, Drayton-Waterford Breakfast Optimist Club, Greater Waterford Community Council and of the AFL-CIO through its affiliation with the International Association of Fire Fighters.

Druggist Gets Jail Term, Fine

Pontiac druggist Louis Finegold was sentenced to 30 days in jail, fined $100, and placed on two years probation yesterday following his conviction on a charge of illegally selling a prescription drug.

Defense attorney Meyer Leib promptly appealed the sentence to Circuit Court, and Finegold was released on $200 bond pending disposition of the appeal.

In handing down the sentence, Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum denied a motion by Leib for a new trial.

Defense counsel has asked for the new trial on grounds that newspaper publicity of Finegold's arrest had been allegedly prejudicial to his chance for a fair hearing.

Finegold, 45, a Southfield resident and owner of Lou's Drugs and Hardware, 493 S. Sanford, was convicted last Tuesday by a six-member jury of selling penicillin without a prescription.

Union Revolt Seen on Hoffa 'Successor'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major rebellion was reported in the giant Teamsters Union today against the plan of twice-convicted President James R. Hoffa to name a caretaker successor in case he goes to prison.

Harold Gibbons, Hoffa's executive assistant until they broke in a bitter personal quarrel in 1963, will lead the fight against Hoffa's choice of Frank Fitzsimmons to take over if Hoffa loses his Supreme Court appeal, said a well-informed union source.

"Gibbons is going to run against Fitzsimmons," this source said. He added that apparently not even Hoffa knew of the decision.

Gibbons reportedly reached his decision after a series of secret meetings with top Teamsters officials across the country. "It means plenty of fireworks for sure" at the union's July 4 convention in Miami Beach, Fla., the source said. "Hoffa won't like it."

CINCH FOR ELECTION

Hoffa, 53, although facing 13 years in prison for jury tampering and mail fraud, is considered a cinch for election to a third 5-year term.

But a major fight is certain if Gibbons goes through with his plan to oppose Hoffa's choice of his old Detroit friend, Fitzsimmons, to be his stand-in. Hoffa got his start in the union in Detroit.

Informed sources said a rebellion already has been drafted to change the union's constitution to create a new "executive vice president," who would take over automatically if the top job became vacant — meaning if Hoffa goes to jail.

Hoffa reportedly had planned in 1963 to install Fitzsimmons with the apparent understanding that he would hold down the job only until Hoffa got out of jail if his court appeals fail.

BASE OF POWER

Hoffa had expected no opposition to Fitzsimmons, sources said.

Gibbons, whose base of power is in St. Louis, Mo., has wide spread support from Teamsters officials around the country, one source said.

"This is being done at the urging of Teamsters in key sections of the country," one union official said. "Gibbons feels somebody has to offer the delegates an alternative."

State Doctor Shortage Viewed

The Pontiac surgeon said osteopathic physicians had been eligible for the draft as it affects physicians since 1955, but the practice had been to defer DOs.

COULD GO

According to Dr. Dickinson, osteopaths called by their local draft board could go into the armed forces as ordinary soldiers or, if they appealed their draft call, were deferred.

He said, for example, that during World War II osteopaths called for military duty served as regular soldiers.

Dr. Dickinson said that "permissive" legislation was passed in 1955 making DOs eligible for induction as commissioned officers. Osteopaths still, however, were not drafted.

Dr. Dickinson said that only in the past two months has a directive been issued because of public pressure that DOs be drafted and inducted as commissioned officers.

NOT EXPECTED

The doctor draft has been projected until October, said the past association president. Thus, he did not expect any DOs to be drafted until then.

"Naturally," said Dr. Dickinson, "this aggravates the old problem of the shortage of physicians with an increased load on those at home."

The heavy drafting of doctors because of the demands of the Viet Nam war accentuate an existing doctor shortage, according to both M.D. and D.O. spokesmen.

Last week the Michigan Public Health Department and the Michigan Health Council said there was an urgent need for 1,000 more physicians in the state.

IN MILITARY SERVICE

Michigan currently has 471 physicians in military service with the number expected to climb to 600 in 1967.

Dr. Dickinson said a government survey in 1959 showed the state was behind the national average in the ratio of physicians to population.

The national average is 140.7 physicians per 100,000 population, while the Michigan average is 132.1 physicians per 100,000.

"Even if every graduate of our present medical schools were to remain in Michigan," said Dr. Dickinson, "the expected population increase is so great that within the next decade we will have an even lower ratio."

51 PER CENT

Dr. Dickinson added that only about 51 per cent of the physician graduates stay in Michigan and only half of these go into general practice.

Still another important factor in the doctor shortage problem is the trend toward the specialization.

Dr. Dickinson said that medical social-economists claim present day medical schools are concentrating on the production of specialists instead of good family physicians.

"The trend must come back to making the family physician the hub of medical practice," he said.

ONE OF REASONS

The doctor shortage has been one of the main reasons advanced for the establishment of the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine, slated for a 164-acre site at Auburn and Opdyke.

Dr. Dickinson said 75 per cent of the osteopaths are general, family doctors.

"Most people," he explained, "do not suffer from the rare and obscure diseases."

Dr. Dickinson concluded that the same government survey that revealed the state's shortage of doctors also pointed out that Michigan needed one or two new medical schools.

Israel Claims Violation

TIBERIAS, Israel (UPI) — Syrian troops fired into Israeli fields near Ashdod north of the Sea of Galilee last night, setting fire to crops, a military spokesman said. It was the second such attack in two nights, the Israelis said.

155 Cong Weapons Captured

Attacking N. Viet Company Decimated

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—American soldiers dealt heavy blows to the Communists today, almost wiping out a company of North Vietnamese regulars in one bitter fight and capturing 155 weapons in another.

The "Screaming Eagles" of the U.S. 101st Airborne Brigade repulsed a pre-dawn attack in Kontum Province near the Laotian border and decimated the attackers. The reinforced North Vietnamese regular company of more than 100 men left 77 dead on the battlefield, a U.S. spokesman said.

Elements of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division pounced on a Viet Cong supply area near Cu Chi, 25 miles northwest of Saigon. They flushed Viet Cong guards from a swampy area and discovered 155 weapons buried in the muck. The weapons ranged from rifles to rocket launchers and were all carefully wrapped in plastic bags.

The pitched battle involving the 101st Airborne soldiers brought the first disclosure of a new multibattalion search-and-destroy operation launched in the area central highlands last Friday.

Operation Hawthorne began just north of the Pleiku area, where a similar drive ended last week. The Ho Chi Minh trail branches into South Viet Nam from Laos and Cambodia in these areas. The evident target is the reserve of North Vietnamese regulars that have infiltrated from across the frontiers.

The first heavy North Vietnamese reaction to Operation Hawthorne came at 3:30 a.m. when the Communists fired mortars into a valley artillery camp set up by the "Screaming Eagles" and followed with a hail of machine gun fire.

The company guarding the camp replied with everything available. Eight Air Force jets raked the attackers with bombs, rockets and machine guns while a flare plane lit the jungles.

After an hour, the North Vietnamese pulled back, with the "Screaming Eagles" after them in the wooded highlands. By 9 a.m. the North Vietnamese had vanished, the U.S. spokesman said.

Lynda, George Are Separated

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Lynda Bird Johnson and her best boyfriend, movie star George Hamilton, go their separate ways today—temporarily at least.

The President's 22-year-old daughter headed back to Washington with her parents, and Hamilton returned to Hollywood to start a new movie in a day or so.

Scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory said picture transmission began at 5:15 a.m. EST and was expected to continue through 11:30 a.m.

Hamilton was a guest at the LBJ Ranch for an extended weekend when he came to see Lynda graduate with honors from the University of Texas.

Noon in the moon's Sea of Storms, where Surveyor settled gently June 2, came at 2:27 a.m. Officials said the shots probably would be taken in short sequences because of the intense heat on the lunar surface.

She went through the common acceptance formalities, but mostly they have been together swimming, boating, dancing and having a gay time.

Before today, Surveyor had sent 2,920 pictures of itself, the lunar surface, the horizon and stars, including 667 shots in an eight-hour session Monday.

In much secrecy, Lynda soon will begin her trip to Spain to visit Ambassador and Mrs. Angier Biddle Duke at the embassy in Madrid.

Laboratory officials, who have sent more than 50,000 commands to Surveyor via antennas at Goldstone, Calif., said there is a possibility the craft's solar panels may store enough energy to survive the two-week lunar night, beginning June 14.

Temperatures during this period will fall as low as 260 degrees below zero.

Cityhood Issue Loses in Two Communities

consolidation of the city and township, which includes the villages of Quakertown and Wood Creek Farms.

However, Carins noted defeat of the cityhood issue was overwhelming.

"They apparently don't want a city type of government," he said.

Defeat of the cityhood proposal in Lake Orion clears the way for a vote, probably in August, on a new charter for the village.

NEW CHARTER

A five-member village charter commission, elected in March, is now in the process of drawing up a new village charter.

If the charter is approved at the Aug. 2 primary election, it will replace a general law charter, based on a 71-year-old state statute, by which the village now is governed.

Lake Orion is one of the few villages in the state still operating as a general law village. Last revision of the charter was in 1909.

Village President Wallace C. Crane said he was not in favor of cityhood because "it is too much too soon."

NEW CHARTER

"I feel we should get our feet on the ground first with a new village charter, then perhaps cityhood would be a good thing," he said.

"If the people had voted for cityhood, then fine, we would have gone along with it, but obviously they didn't want it."

The village charter revision generated considerable opposition led by a group campaigning for cityhood. The cityhood backers claimed that the village would be better off financially as an incorporated city.

City Manager Paul York said the proposal, if recommended for approval, probably would be on the ballot in the November general election.

Part of the money raised by the half-mill tax increase would be used for building and the rest would be used for operating expenses, according to York.

The library now is housed in a store on Livernois and East Square Lake Road.

REQUEST DENIED

In other action, the commission denied a request from Alexander Hauck for an entertainment license at the Colonial Post House on Rochester Road.

Police Chief Forrest O. Fisher Jr. recommended the denial on the grounds that the type of entertainment proposed "would lead to trouble."

The commission stopped go-go lounge entertainment at the lounge several months ago.

York was authorized to take bids on about $600,000 worth of water main construction in the northeast portion of the city.

The seven projects constitute the second phase of the city's water improvement program.

The new mains are to tap into the Detroit water system on Dequindre and provide several miles of water mains to an area not presently served by city water.

GASHED PIPE — A power shovel operator for the Vito Construction Co. accidentally drove the steel bucket into a natural gas main on Interlock between 14 Mile and Scottsdale in Farmington Township yesterday.

and gas were blown into the air, police and Consumers Power Co. emergency units rushed to the scene. Homes and people in the area were not endangered and the pipeline was fixed shortly afterward.

Back to Nearly Full Production

Jered Rebounds After Blaze

TROY — In spite of a fire Saturday which virtually destroyed a third of their operation, officials of Jered Industries, Inc., expect to be back to 90 per cent production by tomorrow.

Sitting in his open-air office, comptroller Rudy Pavelka said that production was up to 50 per cent yesterday and up to about 75 per cent today.

He said no employees have been laid off because of the fire which caused more than a half-million dollars worth of damage.

Those who are not working at their regular jobs, he said, are helping to clean up and take inventory. Temporary help is also being employed to clear up the debris.

Jered Products, a subsidiary of Jered Industries, was completely gutted but plans to move into a new plant next week were stepped up and the company now operating in its new building on Temple City Road. Pavelka said the company had to buy all new machinery.

MATERIAL DAMAGED

Raw materials and light machinery used by Jered Industries were damaged, according to Pavelka, but work will be resumed until the building is repaired and the machinery replaced.

Four trailers are being set up to house the office help. The engineering staff is renting space in a nearby building.

Jered Industries manufactures marine deck equipment. Jered are Sally Ann Aul, 1800 29 Mile; Dawn Douglas, 5845 Cathey; and Adrienne Castle, 11370 26 Mile.

The fire, in which an employee was killed, started in the men's room shortly after the night shift went off duty, according to Fire Chief Lauren Ford.

Wash-Oak District OKs Annexation

SOUTH LYON — Wash-Oak School District electors yesterday approved annexation with South Lyon District by an 18-10 vote.

Wash-Oak, a rural district in Salem Township of Washtenaw County and Lyon Township in Oakland, has a one-room schoolhouse now attended by 19 youngsters in kindergarten through sixth grade.

Junior high students pay tuition to South Lyon school and high school students pay tuition to Northville High School.

Now that annexation has been approved, students will go to South Lyon Schools. Those already enrolled in Northville High School will continue there as tuition-paying students.

While approving the annexation question, voters yesterday also agreed to increase their taxes to correspond to those of the South Lyon district. Vote on this question was 17-11.

INDEBTEDNESS

A proposal providing for Wash-Oak property owners to accept their share of the bonded indebtedness of the larger district passed 17-10.

Frank Bartlett, superintendent of schools, said the board of education has not yet decided what will become of the rural school. It is possible that it might serve as an elementary school for one or two grades, he said.

According to Marvin Partidge, Wash-Oak School Board secretary, the annexation will mean about 12.63 mills increase to district taxpayers.

Novi Postpones Decision on Incorporation Petitions

NOVI — The Village Council last night decided to postpone calling for an election on a proposal to convert Novi to a fourth-class city.

13 Girls Seek Romeo Title

ROMEO — Thirteen girls will compete for the title of Miss Romeo in a contest to be held at 8:30 tonight at Romeo High School.

The winner of the contest will automatically become a candidate for the Romeo Peach Queen pageant to be held Aug. 12.

Competing for the title tonight will be Romeo residents Linda Neddermaier, 140 Tilton; Wendy Lou Brunk, 67550 Sisson; Mary Lou Baker, 199 Tilton; Patricia Sam, 11788 Tilton; Patricia Sam, 11788 Tilton; Patricia Sam, 11788 Tilton; Patricia Sam, 11788 Tilton.

Others from Romeo are Dorothy Jean Davis, 68815 Dequindre; Ann Conway, 14655 S. 32 Mile; Erika Sza, 17535 33 Mile; Marilyn Sieger, 297 Benjamin; and Annette Scheuneman, 165 Pleasant.

Contestants from Washington are Sally Ann Aul, 1800 29 Mile; Dawn Douglas, 5845 Cathey; and Adrienne Castle, 11370 26 Mile.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. MacNeill, 60968 Waschull, Washington, are master of ceremonies tonight, according to contest chairman respectively.

More than 100 persons signed the petitions asking for a vote on the proposal to incorporate Novi as a fourth-class city, in which the city charter would be determined by state statute.

The council postponed the matter because of what C. A. Smith, Novi Industrial Development Committee chairman, called "new, rapid developments."

Smith requested a 60-day delay to provide time for meeting with representatives from the Secretary of State's Office to discuss the requirements for fourth and fifth-class cities.

TO VILLAGE'S ADVANTAGE

To Village's advantage, both the committee and the council would be able to determine which proposal would be to the village's advantage, Smith said.

Smith headed a group which last November presented petitions calling for an election on incorporating Novi as a fifth-class city, with a home rule charter and city manager.

However, the village did not meet the state statute requirement that the area must contain at least 500 persons per square mile in order to qualify as a fifth-class city.

Smith then circulated the petitions for fourth-class cityhood.

BOUNDARY CONTROL

Village Manager Harold Ackley noted that a city has control over its boundaries to prevent annexation.

As a village, Novi does not have this power, he said.

Howard Bond, village attorney, explained that the postponement is a definite commitment, making any action before Aug. 15 illegal. No annexation of village property can occur during this time, he said.

On Ballot for Monday

Clarkston JCs Back Four Proposals

CLARKSTON — The Clarkston Junior Chamber of Commerce, which petitioned the board of education here to place a swimming pool proposal on Monday's ballot, has endorsed all four propositions to be voted on in the election.

In addition to the $600,000 swimming pool, voters will consider a $2.5-million bond issue, a 5-mill increase in operating revenue to be spread over a 10-year period and transfer of the $37,224 balance from the 1954 debt retirement fund to the building and site fund.

Robert E. Brumback, external vice president of the Jaycees, emphasized that the organization does not want a swimming pool at the expense of needed school buildings and proper salaries.

He said the Jaycees proposed the swimming pool to improve the high school physical education program, to provide a more complete athletic program and to provide the only public swimming facility in the school district for swimming instruction and for use by all residents of the district.

only the ninth graders will have any physical education," said Brumback.

ANOTHER DIMENSION

"It is not feasible to enlarge existing physical education facilities, but a swimming pool would add another dimension to the physical education program and still allow for an increase in the school athletic program and a public swimming program."

Brumback said the Jaycees are stressing that the pool will be a community pool.

"We feel that this is imperative, and the school board has unanimously approved its use for this purpose if the voters approve its construction," he said.

"There would be open swimming instruction for all age groups and family swimming during the evenings and on weekends," he said.

RECENT STUDIES

According to Brumback, two recent studies conducted in the Clarkston area indicated an increasing need for recreational facilities.

"The few existing facilities in north Oakland County are used to the maximum and are relatively unavailable to our residents," he said.

"These facilities will continue to become less available. If our residents are going to have this type of facility — then they will have to provide it themselves."

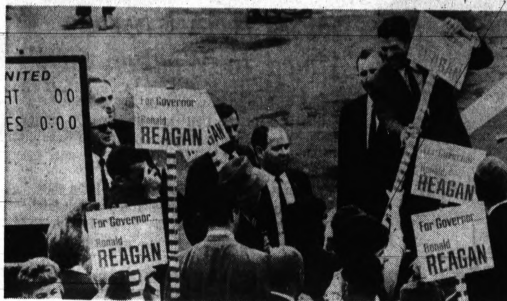

Brumback said the Jaycees and Clarkston School Board are offering the residents of the district a "package" of issues, each of which is important to the educational enrichment of all the residents of the school district.

FUND TRANSFER

"If all the issues pass, the school board guarantees a transfer during the 10-year period of time — of 4 mills from debt retirement to operations, as needed, with the possibility that one additional mill may be levied at sometime during the 10-year period."

"The ingredients of this package are a real bargain for the maximum increase of only 1 mill which would amount to approximately $6 per year for the average property owner in the district," Brumback said.

date for the Republican nomination for governor of California, was on a six-city campaign tour in his battle against former San Francisco Mayor George Christopher. The primary election is today.

Big Turnout Is Expected in Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi expected brisk voting today in congressional primary elections staged under the gaze of federal observers assigned to insure newly registered Negroes free access to the polls. With a 300 per cent increase in Negro voting strength, a new racial incident and hot contests in three races, the turnout could top the estimated 280,000 expected earlier.

The state will have Democratic contests for the Senate, with veteran Sen. James O. Eastland expected to win easily, and all five House seats, plus the first Mississippi Republican party primary for one House seat.

Asked if he felt the wounding of Negro James H. Meredith at Hernando on a march from Memphis, Tenn., to Jackson, would affect the turnout, Gov. Paul Johnson said, "I don't think so."

However some Capitol sources predicted there might be a larger turnout of Negro voters because of it unless the quick arrest of a white man in the shooting reassured them the state would not condone such violence.

RIGHTS ORIENTED

The largely Negro Mississippi Freedom party, a civil rights-oriented group, will field a full ticket that was expected to make more than a token showing against the regular Democrats.

John Doar, head of the Justice Department's civil rights division, was in Mississippi to head a team of department lawyers and coordinate federal efforts to check voting.

"We don't look for any difficulties," said Doar, who split his team up among Greenwood, Jackson and Meridian.

California Voters Pick Nominees in Today's Primary

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Californians decide today whether Ronald Reagan or George Christopher will carry the Republican banner in November's race for governor. They also register their opinions about Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown's bid for a third term. About 65 per cent of the state's 7,865,102 registered voters were expected to mark their long ballots in the end of a sometimes bitter campaign.

A slightly smaller turnout of 62 per cent was forecast for Los Angeles County, home of 38 per cent of the voters and the area that provides Reagan with his greatest support.

All the candidates returned to their home bases to vote.

It marked the end of a memorable, expensive battle. Even on the final day, attention centered on the clash between Reagan, the actor who burst into politics in a fund-raising telecast for Barry Goldwater, and Christopher, former mayor of San Francisco.

San Francisco's Chinatown provided a colorful, but rainy, setting for the 55-year-old Christopher's final appeal. Firecrackers exploded as his supporters marched four blocks down Grant Avenue, a paper dragon in the lead.

While an aide held an umbrella over him and his wife, Fala, Christopher repeated his contention that he is the only Republican who can defeat Brown — or any other Democrat — in at Los Angeles International Airport after a swing that took him into the San Francisco Bay area and down into the Central Valley.

CITES POLLS

He said the polls show him defeating Christopher and also for president in 1960.

"show I can lick Pat Brown in November." He warned his supporters of overconfidence.

Brown seemed a winner in his race against Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorth, 56, a maverick Democrat who supported another term. Earl Warren, now chief justice of the United States, is California's only three-term governor.

But Democrats awaited the size of his vote as an indication of how the 61-year-old governor will fare in his attempt to win another term. Earl Warren, now chief justice of the United States, is California's only three-term governor.

Celebrate Freedom of the Press

Today we celebrate "Freedom of the Press."

This newspaper can think of no better way than to set down here the current remarks of JACK HOWARD, President of the Inter American Press Association.

Mr. HOWARD says:
"Freedom of the Press Day, instituted by the Inter American Press Association in 1953, will be observed today. This year we rededicate ourselves to the preservation of this freedom which HERBERT HOOVER described as a foundation stone of democracy."

"Our immediate goal is absolute freedom of the press throughout the Americas. Its extension into the farthest and darkest corners of despotism throughout the world is also our aim, for only in the bright light of freedom does the hope of universal peace have any chance of becoming real.

"We do this mindful that Freedom of the Press does not exist in Paraguay, Haiti or Cuba. We do this mindful that more than 40 Cuban newspapermen languish in Castro's prisons for having dared to defend this freedom which all too often is taken for granted until it has been lost."

"These men must not be forgotten. As symbols of the aims of IAPA they must and do serve to remind us that the struggle for freedom, and freedom of the press upon which it stands, is constant. On Freedom of the Press Day 1966 let us think especially of them."

The Inter American Press Association is the stoutest defense against communism that we possess in this hemisphere. The reds hate it — cordially.

Can you think of a stronger recommendation?

Shortage of Michigan Physicians to Worsen

The State Public Health Department says we need 1,000 more doctors in Michigan, and the selective service situation is making the shortage worse.

The Oakland County Medical Society, however, opposes the new osteopathic medical school slated for Pontiac, which would train more of the needed doctors.

Isn't this an odd position to take.

A medical spokesman says other state colleges in Michigan will suffer financially if state funds go to an osteopathic medical college.

But more people will suffer if we don't train enough doctors.

Osteopaths point out that in addition to their college, expansion is also needed at the medical training facilities at the University of Michigan and Wayne State University.

Michigan now has 471 physicians in the armed services, and the number is expected to reach 600 next year. In addition to this problem, the onset of Medicare is expected to send more senior citizens into the waiting rooms.

Clearly, the need is established. The stumbling block to meeting it is the long squabble between the medical doctors and the doctors of osteopathy.

Pulitzer Winner's Stories Reported in Press

Young PETER ARNETT, crack reporter for the Associated Press, recently was awarded the 1966 Pulitzer prize for his reporting of the war in Viet Nam.

As a member of the AP we have carried many dispatches written by Mr. Arnett. It is interesting to note that this is the third year in a row that an AP staffer has won a Pulitzer for coverage of the conflict in Viet Nam.

ARNETT qualifies as a soldier's reporter. He does not get his news sitting around headquarters with the top brass. He goes about his job the hardest way there is — moving up front with the troops.

Other reporters say Arnett has spent more time with the soldiers than any other reporter stationed in Viet Nam.

We are happy and pleased that this 31-year-old reporter is daily on the job filing stories to The Pontiac Press.

The battlefield stories are the ones that reach home because that is where our boys are fighting.

Disenchantment With LBJ Grows

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson tried to play it cool while critics of the Viet Nam war raised the temperature and now opinion polls indicate a dwindling confidence in the way he handles his job.

There are other reasons for what seems to be a growing disenchantment.

But the poll results must be disturbing to a man who likes to feel he has broad public support for his actions before he acts. Consensus he calls it. He had it in 1965, a calmer time than this.

In that first year after his election Congress, overwhelmingly controlled by his Democrats, listened to him dutifully and responded with the most productive legislation in history.

He isn't having the same sleighride now. In the meantime two things above all happened:

The United States got up to its neck in Viet Nam, where factional chaos sometimes makes American help look ludicrous, and the criticism of American involvement and Johnson's leadership took on big dimensions. Johnson had a choice.

DETAILED REPORT
He could have tackled his critics head on — say with a detailed explanation to the nation on television — or let his top aides do the answering.

He chose the second course which has been much less than fully effective.

His own explanations have been in bits and pieces in speeches and news conferences, sandwiched in among other things, and his aides, trying to state the administration's case to Congress, got banged and interrupted by critics.

Perhaps Johnson hoped as weeks and months passed the war would take such a happy turn that the critics, and the doubts and discontent set ablaze by them, would be rendered meaningless. Instead the war got worse.

EXTREMELY SENSITIVE

This failure of Johnson to handle his critics directly may turn out to be one of his greatest mistakes. Yet Johnson, like other consistent, hard-working men, is extremely sensitive to criticism.

But Congress is also sensitive — about the voters — in an election year like this when all the House seats and one-third of those in the Senate are at stake.

His magic isn't the same elsewhere, either. Labor, which backed him in 1964's elections, sounds increasingly dissatisfied with his attempt to limit wage increases to 3.2 percent a year.

Inflation, or the danger of it, is a problem. The United States has its hands full trying to reorganize NATO. Johnson is under pressure to be nicer to Red China, which just hisses.

The best bet that Johnson has had so far in 1966 is that critical trouble has not broken out elsewhere around the world while the United States is bogged down in Viet Nam.

"I've Been Saying That For Centuries, Buster!"

David Lawrence Says:

Bobby's S. Africa Actions Novel

WASHINGTON — Maybe Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, Democrat, has established a precedent of far-reaching importance in world affairs.

He has gone into the Republic of South Africa to give support to a youth movement there which has been critical of its own government and which invited the senator to deliver an address.

In his major speech of a six-day tour, he heartily endorsed the objectives of the youth movement and criticized the policies of the South African government.

It might develop now that officials of the governments of other countries in Europe or Latin America or Asia which have controversies with the United States may feel justified in addressing the American electorate in the hope of changing the policies of their government.

This is certainly a novelty in international affairs. Throughout history, government officials have not felt free to discuss internal problems inside another country or to be critical of them, unless they were invited to do so by the government. Usually such visits are cleared with the foreign offices in every country.

In this instance, Sen. Kennedy did not apprise the South African government of his intention to make speeches there, and the government instructed its Cabinet officers not to confer with him, as the visit was construed to be purely private.

The New York senator devoted much of his speech to generalities, but made reference to religious and racial prejudices inside the United States and then asked:

"What price will we pay before we have assured full opportunity to millions of Negro Americans?"

After a discussion of the courage of youth, Kennedy said that only earthbound man still clings to the superstition that "his common humanity is enclosed in the tight circle of those who share his town and views and the color of his skin."

In pointing out various evils in the world, Sen. Kennedy listed "apartheid in South Africa."

The speech delivered by Sen.

Kennedy, a member of the legislative branch of the United States government, will be pointed to in the future as an example of the right to stump a foreign country and discuss questions of internal policy.

Capital Letter:

Congressman Takes Lighthearted Look at Job

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — Nearly every member of Congress writes a weekly news letter, which is printed free and mailed home to his constituents at public expense.

Most are as dull as the wastebasket into which they're promptly consigned, but a brash freshman who took Jimmy Roosevelt's seat is turning out one that's as slyly hayseed as "Innocents Abroad."

Although 41-year-old Rep. Thomas M. Rees was a California state senator for three years and an assemblyman prior to that, he writes of Washington with the wide-eyed wonder of a pookish Cub Scout on his first outing.

After being assigned to the 33-member banking and currency committee, Rees found that through the inexorable law of seniority his chair was so far removed from the gravel that "On a clear day I can sometimes see the chairman."

In another weekly letter, Rees bemoaned the problems of trying to identify the other 43 congressmen by their pictures in the directory, since vanity impels most of them to furnish photographs taken in their youth.

BRIGHT YOUNG COMER

Deciding that a green freshman can't be too careful, he opined: "That skimpy white-haired man you think is an assistant doorkeeper might be chairman of a committee. The youngster you think is a page could be a bright young comer from a Midwest state."

Rees said one sure test is to ask the stranger: "Sir, could you tell me what bill they are working on now?" He has discovered that a man knows he's either a page or an assistant doorkeeper: "If he doesn't know, he's a congressman."

For a freshman who's only been here since January, Rees has already achieved a minor miracle by getting the French ambassador mad at him.

He wrote a news letter saying that the only embassy where he's been invited to dine is the French, which had up status during the Kennedy administration, but has slipped under the Johnson regime.

If there were a black market on embassy invitations, he deadpanned, "one Spanish would be worth one and a half Kuwait, and Kuwait would be worth five French."

He said the French meal was a masterpiece, "and the wines up to some of California's finest," but he hasn't been invited to another embassy party since.

In fact he may starve, if the French have anything to do with it.

A Nomadic Citizenry Developing

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — It is becoming a commonplace in this capital that even men who are comfortable with big government are worried about it.

Actually, this concern is not new. It showed itself in the Kennedy administration, when special juvenile delinquency projects were designed to magnify local control and downplay Washington.

In many aspects, the poverty program consciously follows this example.

One can hardly attend a major conference these days without hearing new stress put on the need for stronger action at the state and local level. The theme rang through many speeches and comments in the two-day White House parley on civil rights.

Even those friendliest to a big federal establishment see a limit to what Washington can manage successfully. The view is growing that state and, especially, local participation is absolutely demanded by various health, welfare and civil rights programs to be genuinely effective.

There can be no complaint that state and local governments are not expanding. Since World War II their combined expenditures have risen from $20 billion annually to around $90 billion. Experts

Says Precinct Scraps Aimed to Weaken GOP

Making Birchers the scapegoat for contested precinct delegates in the GOP is foul play. A former Democrat, I have been faithfully working for Republican party candidates for several years.

From my experience on both sides, I can state that the majority of contested precinct delegates are simply activity by do-gooders, left-wingers, racists, etc. trying to undermine the GOP.

Anyone in his right mind will not vote for a candidate who has never helped the party. But no one bothers to look beyond the smear phrases and phony labels used by the conspirators.

Question and Answer

The Highway Department has installed left turn arrows on the north-south traffic lanes at Telegraph and West Maple. With all the repair on Square Lake Road, I think the Department should install left turn arrows for east-west traffic at Telegraph and Long Lake. I've seen traffic backed up west to Echo Road and east almost to Lahser. The goodly number of cars turning left are really slowed down and tie up traffic unnecessarily. Isn't it possible to install left turn arrows at this intersection?

H. H.

REPLY

The traffic signal at Telegraph and Long Lake has been adjusted to give more time to Long Lake Traffic. The last investigation indicated that seemed to control the problem quite well, according to Mr. Lingmann of the Highway Department, who says it will be checked again to see if further adjustment is necessary. Because of the expense of installing new signals (approximately $6,000), the Department prefers to meet this temporary problem by adjusting the existing signal, if at all possible.

predict their outlays may catch up with federal spending (defense included) in the early 1970s.

The relative gain in state-local outlays exceeds federal growth by a fair margin. In the last two decades, if defense expenditures are left out of calculation, the state-local jump is much greater.

There is, however, a sticker in all this. The population specialists say that in the decades just ahead Americans will move about from place to place even more often than they do now. Figures show that one in every five currently moves each year.

Politicians, already fretful over the constant shifts in the make-up of local constituencies, are wondering how any kind of stable electorate can be built at that level. Mobility in the job field is sending them not merely to different neighborhoods, but from Seattle to Dallas to Kansas City to Baltimore and points beyond.

Party professionals agree that with such major mobility accelerated, not too many Americans can be expected to feel intense attachment to particular places. Their "home areas" may be as numerous as those of career servicemen.

The question that follows is: "How can such a floating citizenry be counted upon to take active interest in local problems when they will be constantly trading them in for another set?"

One election expert here thinks people simply will not develop that interest, that they are already too accustomed to looking at problems from the national perspective.

Yet John Anderson, the former Kansas governor who is now leading one of several groups bent on improving state government, believes that floating citizens may become "issue-oriented" rather than "place-oriented."

Wherever they move, he suggests, they may jump almost instantly into domestic matters that really concern them—the condition and function of schools, transportation to and from work, civil rights developments, housing issues, and so on.

One Washington observer goes so far as to add that the process of moving from one area to another may so enlarge the mobile American's experience with the grasp of local affairs that in time he may become a far more alert and astute participant than he is today.

This has the ring of idealistic fancy. But if there is not at least some soundness in it, then the warring over big government in Washington are going to have a great deal more to frown about for the rest of this century.

Tentative Nod to Ad Truth Bill

State Senate Acts on House Measure

LANSING (AP) — The Senate gave preliminary approval Monday to a truth-in-advertising bill.

The House-approved measure prohibits any advertisement which is untrue, deceptive, misleading, or overstates the available supply of the goods advertised.

Newspapers, broadcasters and certain other third parties in advertising would not be liable under the act for unknowingly accepting illegal advertising in good faith.

The attorney general would first warn an advertiser of any violation of the act, then could seek a court injunction if the illegal practice did not cease.

An advertiser could be fined $1,000 for continued violations.

Preliminary approval also was given to a billboard control bill required by federal highway financing regulations.

Signs within 660 feet of an Interstate or primary highway would eventually be illegal unless they were in a business area, gave official directions or advertised the site upon which they are located.

The state, with federal aid, will pay for removal of nonconforming signs. They need not be removed until July 1, 1970, however.

DRIVER'S LICENSE

A probationary driver's license was also given preliminary approval.

Such a license would be issued to all new drivers for their first year on the road. It could be suspended for up to one year for one moving violation.

The Senate met for less than three hours Monday in order to allow its appropriations committee to near completion of work on the state budget.

Insurance Rates to Be Aired June 16

LANSING (AP) — The State Insurance Department will hold a hearing June 16 at Lansing on rates to be charged by the Michigan Hospital Service (Blue Cross) and Michigan Medical Service (Blue Shield) during the fourth quarter of the year.

John Wickstrom, acting insurance commissioner, said the hearing will be held although Blue Cross and Blue Shield have made no request for a change in the existing base rate premium schedule at this time.

Wickstrom said the hearings are conducted each quarter of the year to permit a continuous review of the rates charged by the two services and their relation to the existing economy.

House OK's Faster Jobless Pay

LANSING (AP) — That first "payless payday" would end for laid-off workers in Michigan under terms of a bill passed by the House and sent to Gov. George Romney yesterday.

The House passed 59-29, a bill to eliminate the one-week waiting period now required before a worker can start collecting unemployment compensation.

Although it would not increase the 26 weeks of benefits to which the worker is entitled, the quicker start would cost Michigan employers $3.5 million, the State Employment Security Commission estimates.

This, spokesmen said, represents a 12.5 per cent increase over the more than $100 million expected to be spent this year.

Opponents of the compensation bill said the waiting period encouraged workers to look for new jobs rather than turn immediately to the state for assistance.

NO INCREASE

For workers laid off for 26 weeks or more, the bill would not represent an increase in compensation — merely a speed-up in payment.

But the worker who was off the job for a shorter period would realize increased benefits. For example, if he were out of work 10 weeks, he would receive compensation for 10 weeks. Under present law, that same worker receives nine weeks' compensation.

Rep. James Bradley, D-Detroit, chairman of the House Labor

Committee, called the bill "an overdue victory for the Michigan working man."

The reasons for establishing the waiting period no longer exists, he said. These once included administrative problems in checking out claims and inadequacy of the state compensation fund. The fund now is worth nearly $500 million, he added.

COUNTY AUTHORITY

It would seriously encroach on the autonomy of the Legislature is trying to grant to counties under terms of a bill now in a House-Senate conference committee, he said.

The House killed, 46-45, a Senate bill that would have created a State Boundary Commission. The commission originally was intended to oversee annexations by cities, and incorporation and consolidation of new municipalities.

The annexation provisions, however, were amended out of the bill to reduce opposition and get it out of the Senate.

Opponents, however, saw it as a foot in the door, arguing that future legislatures could add the annexation powers to those given the proposed commission in the defeated bill.

The House also approved Senate amendments to a complex bill to regulate installment purchases.

It requires all installment contracts to list all charges and payments — including the time-price differential, that is: the amount the purchaser is paying for the privilege of buying on time.

You'd buy a Pontiac instead of a low-priced car if the price were right?

The price is right.

Forget about having to confine your new-car shopping to those ordinary low-priced cars again. Because now, that very same money will get you a big, powerful Pontiac Catalina with everything that goes with it.

Like what? You ask.

Like a 399 cubic inch V-8 that delivers up to fifty more standard horsepower. A longer, limousine-like wheelbase. A typically plush Pontiac interior with practically everything standard from a cigarette lighter to a raft of safety features like seat belts front and rear, and padded sun visors.

And, of course, Wide-Track ride and handling. So now you know why we've been calling it the low-priced high-price car.

The only thing left to say is, why aren't you on your way to your Pontiac dealer's?

Request for Grant Hike, Overpass on City Agenda

A request for an increase in the federal grant for the R20 renewal urban renewal project and proposed pedestrian overpass are among items to be considered tonight by the City Commission.

Also scheduled for action at the regular weekly meeting at 8 at City Hall are several proposed property rezonings.

City Engineer Joseph E. Neippling is slated to report on the need for a pedestrian bridge across Kennett at Alcott School.

The urban renewal grant increase is proposed to provide federal grants and loans for the School, between Bay and the rehabilitation of houses that are Belt Line Railroad tracks.

The federal government will make grants of up to $1,500 and loans at 3 per cent interest upon the request of the City Commission.

REVISED DRAFT

In other business, a revised draft of a refrigeration and air conditioning ordinance is to be introduced.

Among the rezoning items to be considered is proposed residential-3 rezoning for property north and west of Herrington School, between Bay and the Belt Line Railroad tracks.

Top Shareholder at AMC Elected Board Chairman

DETROIT (UPI) — Robert B. Evans, American Motors Corp.'s largest single shareholder, yesterday was elected board chairman of the auto firm.

Evans, a Detroit industrialist, succeeds Richard E. Cross who resigned.

Gross, who has served as board chairman since Feb. 12, 1962, will remain as a director and as chairman of the executive committee of the board.

AMC, the nation's fourth largest auto maker, will retain Roy Abernathy as president and chief executive officer.

Gross, who said he was resigning to spend more time with his law firm in Detroit, expressed confidence that AMC would regain a larger share of the auto market.

Why a strike against Edison?

• Some Unpublished Details of Edison's Proposal to Local 17, IBEW

A strike against Detroit Edison has been called by Local 17 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, representing 747 of our 9500 employees. About 450 of the men on strike are linemen.

Background of the Dispute

The current contract expired May 30. Since April 7, union representatives have discussed, in many meetings with the company, terms of a new two-year contract.

The union is asking for 20 per cent more in cash and benefits, effective immediately.

The company offers a 10.3 per cent increase in cash and benefits—5.6 per cent in June 1966 and 4.7 per cent in June 1967.

This is well in excess of the 3.2 per cent guidelines urged on industry and labor by the Federal administration.

The union has rejected this offer.

The Edison Linemen Are Well Paid

Edison linemen are currently paid a base rate of $8380 a year—guaranteed. There are no layoffs, and overtime is frequent. Of our 450 linemen, 355 made over $11,000 in 1965.

The hourly rate for our linemen, before the offered increase, is $4.03 an hour. This is 15 to 25 cents an hour more than comparable skilled tradesmen earn working for representative steel, auto manufacturing and refining companies, and other major employers in Metropolitan Detroit.

Our lineman rate is 30 cents an hour more than the average lineman rate of the three major electric companies close to Detroit.

In addition, so-called "fringe benefits" cost Edison $1.06 an hour — $2200 a year — per employee. This includes life insurance, pensions, health and major medical-surgical insurance, and pay for time-not-worked (holidays, vacations, sickness, personal affairs). Edison's fringe benefits are well above the Metropolitan Detroit average.

Edison's Offer Is Fair and Reasonable

In Metropolitan Detroit the cost of living has gone up 7.4 per cent since January 1, 1961 (Federal Index of April 1966). In that time Edison's base rate to linemen has increased by 16.6 per cent, not including our present offer.

Edison is proud of its linemen. Theirs is often difficult work. We believe they should be well paid. They have been and, with our offer of $4.165 per hour, they will continue to be.

At the same time, this company is regulated by the Michigan Public Service Commission so far as rates and earnings are concerned. We have a continuing responsibility to serve customers well and at a reasonable cost.

Why, then, a strike against Edison?

Talks to Students in Cape Town

Bobby: Halt S. Africa Racism

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy has called on South African students to work for an end to their government's racial segregation policies and "strip the last remnants of that ancient, cruel belief from the civilization of man."

Addressing 14,500 students at Cape Town University Monday, the New York Democrat compared South Africa's apartheid policy of strict racial segregation to starvation in India, serfdom in Peru and discrimination in New York.

Man, he said, must recognize "the full human equality of all our people — before God, before the law, and in the councils of government for the single and fundamental reason that it is the right thing to do."

Kennedy was to enter one of the citadels of apartheid today when he visits the Stellenbosch University men's residence about 30 miles east of Cape Town. The sentiment at Stellenbosch is overwhelmingly in favor of the government policy.

BANNED STUDENT

The senator spoke privately Monday with Ian Robertson, 21, the white student leader who was placed under a government ban after he took a leading part in inviting Kennedy to South Africa.

An aide of the senator said he told Robertson he was deeply sorry about his plight and urged him to continue his law studies at the university. The aide said Kennedy apparently felt his visit to Robertson's apartment did not violate the restrictions placed on the youth.

Robertson is barred for five years from all gatherings and restricted to the Cape Town area. He can attend the university but cannot publish, be quoted for publication, enter non-white areas or teach. He must report regularly to police. The ban was imposed under the Suppression of Communism Act.

An empty chair was placed symbolically for Robertson beside Kennedy on the rostrum at the rally Monday, which was sponsored by the multiracial National Union of South African Students.

STUDENT THROG

About 1,500 students jammed Cape Town's Unity Hall, another 7,000 listened outside, and a loudspeaker system carried the speech to 8,000 more students in their dormitories.

Kennedy noted Robertson's absence, saying, "It is too bad he can't be with us today." He said there are people in many lands who label as "Communist" every threat to their privileges.

Reform is not communism, Kennedy continued, and the "denial of freedom, in whatever name, only strengthens the very communism it claims to oppose."

Michigan Congressman to Observe Dixie Vote

Conyers said he would be accompanied by Reps. Ben Rosenthal and Lester Wolff, both D-N. Y., and Rep. Ogden Reid, R-N. Y.

Record Set in Light Plane

MANILA (AP) — An American rancher and his wife today cut 3 1/2 days off Max Conrad's five-year-old record for a round-the-world flight in a light plane.

To the cheers of some 200 Filipinos and the music of a string band, Robert and Joan Wallick landed at Manila Airport 5 days, 6 hours, 16 minutes and 40 seconds after they left it.

The previous light plane record of 8 days, 18 hours, 35 minutes and 57 seconds was set by Conrad, the flying grandfather, in 1961.

The Wallicks, who live on a ranch at Big Horn, Wyo., piloted a twin-engine Beechcraft flying Philippine colors.

"Boy, I'm glad it's over," said the 45-year-old pilot. "We haven't slept for days."

The Wallicks were only 6 minutes and 40 seconds behind schedule at the end of their 23,629-mile flight.

Mrs. Wallick looked fresh and relaxed as she waved to the crowd. She said she wanted a bath and a chocolate malted.

Construction Value Down During May

While the number of building permits increased slightly last month, the estimated value of new construction dropped.

There were 134 building permits issued in May for construction valued at $732,005 compared to 130 permits for construction worth $990,790 in April.

According to Robert M. Gerds, city building inspector, there were five permits in May for new family dwellings, construction worth $27,500, compared to nine permits and construction valued at $75,000 in April.

One permit was issued in May for a school addition, construction valued at $338,000, and a permit for a church addition showed construction valued at $150,000.

Gerds reported 54 permits last month for residential alterations and repairs, construction worth $58,746, while six permits for commercial alterations and repairs were issued for construction valued at $30,900.

There were five permits issued in May for new commercial buildings, construction worth $69,800.

But Issues Warnings

Space Expert Ecstatic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Robert C. Seamans Jr. radiated happiness today over accomplishments of the orbiting Gemini 9 and the moon-photographing Surveyor 1. But the deputy chief of the American space program had two sobering reminders for the nation: 1. The Soviet Union is still ahead in "some significant areas" of the space race. 2. Thousands of scientists and other specialists will leave the U.S. space program in the next 12 months because the country has not yet planned what it will do after landing men on the moon.

His eyes sparkling, Seamans, 47, told an interviewer of the "extremely valuable" experience and knowledge gained in the orbiting exploits of astronauts Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan.

Seamans, tall and graying, has his finger on the space program's countless pulses as Seamans was reluctant to draw any score card to show exactly how this country stands in the space competition with the Soviet Union.

"A year ago, counting on the Saturn 5 rocket, we were anticipating moving out in front and clearly establishing a lead. This is not an obvious today as we thought a year ago," he said.

The Soviet Union, in the meantime, has produced a new launch vehicle, Proton, and has shown an ability to loft markedly increasing loads.

RED TRIUMPHS
Moreover, the Soviets landed a payload on the moon ahead of this country and has a satellite, Luna 10, orbiting the moon, a thing the United States has yet to do. They have succeeded in sending a three-man ship in orbit around the earth, as compared to the American two-man Gemini.

Looking ahead to the time after the United States succeeds in landing men on the moon, Seamans said: "we ought to cash in on our hard-won capabilities instead of frittering them away."

Teen Gains in Fight

to Stop From Sneezing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — June Clark appears to be gaining ground in her months-old battle against sneezing. The 17-year-old girl, who had been sneezing as often as once every five seconds, now sneezes only ever 8 to 10 minutes, her father said yesterday.

SEVEN REASONS WHY O-JIB-WA BITTERS MAY BE BEST FOR YOU

1. Like vegetables and other plant products, herbs are congenial to the human body. They have similar vital elements without weight building calories.
2. From the earliest days man has depended upon roots and herbs. Your parents and grandparents knew the value of God's gift and used them successfully. O-JIB-WA BITTERS has been famous for 50 YEARS and in that time has helped millions of people.
3. GOD CAUSETH THE HERB TO GROW FOR THE SERVICE OF MAN — Psalm 104:14.
4. There is a revolt against chemicals and a return to nature in drug products. In our opinion, most remedies made from chemicals and dope will never stand favorable comparison with the product of nature.
5. In the mad scramble to squeeze out of the coal tar barrel every available virtue, research has neglected the botanicals. Herbs have served the world well for centuries and O-JIB-WA continues as a leader in the fight against medicines containing unproven chemicals and dope; many of which have harmful side effects.
6. Nature in her wisdom has provided in her great laboratories — the fields and forest — herbs for the benefit of all mankind. Why not take advantage of God's great gift?
7. O-JIB-WA BITTERS is a dope free medicine and tonic made from 12 fresh herbs (not extracts) which are gathered and imported for our use from many countries of the world. By combining nature's herbs; a proven formula; skillful blending and our vast experience, we offer you a successful medicine not duplicated anywhere in the world. TRUCK OVERTURNED — Student demonstrators overturn a government public works truck in Panama City, Panama, during eight hours of rioting yesterday. The trouble started in Colon when students demonstrated in front of the National Department of Investigations to protest the unsolved killing of an ultraleftist student leader who was found dead a week ago.

2 Students Die in Panama Riots

PANAMA (AP) — The Panamanian National Guard restored order in Colon and Panama Monday night after eight hours of student disorders. Two students were killed.

President Marco A. Robles ordered all high schools in the two cities closed indefinitely, but more trouble was expected. A 2-year-old girl was brought dead to a hospital in Colon during the disturbances and there was an unofficial report that she died after being overcome by tear gas. Doctors would not give the cause of her death until after an autopsy.

27 INJURED

In addition, 27 persons were injured in Colon, Panama's second city at the Caribbean end of the Panama Canal. Five of them were hospitalized.

The trouble started in Colon when students demonstrated in front of the National Department of Investigations to protest the unsolved killing of ultraleftist student leader Juan Navas Pajaro. The students claim the department's agents killed him.

He was found dead from a blow on the skull by a roadside near Colon a week ago, shortly after he returned from medical treatment in Moscow.

The government has denied its agents were responsible and said an investigation has yielded no leads.

Official accounts said shooting began when the demonstrators disarmed two National Guardsmen and stoned three others. The two students, Carlos Matthews, 21, and Elvira Miranda, 17, were killed during the shooting.

500 INVOLVED

The presidential press office said about 500 students were involved. It said they were led by "Communist elements" who were following directives of the Tricontinental Conference of Revolutionaries in Havana last January.

That meeting of delegates from Latin America, Asia and Africa called for an increase in agitation and disorders on the three continents and in particular in Latin America.

Colon's City Hall, post office and the National Lottery Building were destroyed by fire. All are close together. The provincial governor's office nearby was damaged by flames. Firemen retreated when demonstrators stoned them.

The students also smashed store windows in Colon and burned five vehicles. There were reports of extensive looting and a radio commentator said after touring the city that damage would total $1 million.

Coffin Is Unearthed at 'M' Garage Site

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Workmen excavating to build a University of Michigan parking garage unearthed a coffin today. Officials said it may contain the remains of the first chief justice of the Michigan Supreme Court.

The coffin bore the name Fletcher, and was dated 1852.

A university spokesman said it could be the body of William A. Fletcher, the high court's first chief justice and a former regent of the university.

Fletcher died Sept. 19, 1852.

The site formerly was a cemetery, officials said, but all bodies supposedly were removed before the university bought the land.

'Clouded Viet Vote Better Than None'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said today that it is better to take a chance on a questionable election in South Viet Nam than risk the "disaster" of no voting at all.

Mansfield thus reflected in an interview the generally pessimistic reaction among senators to U.N. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg's somber report on efforts to get U.N. action toward supervising elections scheduled for September in war-ravaged South Viet Nam.

Goldberg was reported to have told about 15 senators in a closed session Monday that there is little prospect of getting the U.N. poll watchers asked by the Saigon regime.

Moreover, he was quoted as saying Poland had shown no

MUST BE HELD

Mansfield, who has advocated the reconvening of the Geneva Conference if the United Nations balks at taking a hand, said he thinks the election promised by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government must be held even if there is no international supervision.

"It is better to take a chance on a questionable election than to have this whole effort to get an expression from the people of South Viet Nam fall flat," he said. "That would be a disaster."

There have been suggestions that the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization countries might be asked to supply observers. But Mansfield said this wouldn't do because some of them, like Australia and New Zealand, are involved in the war and others, like Pakistan and France, have no apparent interest in what goes on in South Viet Nam.

Mansfield said he is not giving up hope of U.N. action. But he said he believes elections can be conducted which will be fairly representative of South Vietnamese opinion, despite the fact that the Communist Viet Cong controls substantial areas of the country.

IN GOVERNMENT HANDS

"Every provincial capital and almost all divisional capitals are in the Saigon government's hands," he said. "Certainly there could be voting in these central points which would reflect the views of the people there."

But the Democratic leader said he believes the Saigon government must permit all who turn up at the polls to vote.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., told the Senate that the election commission set up in Saigon had advised the military junta that all of those who "directly or indirectly work for Communists or neutrals" should be excluded from voting.

Describing this as a dangerous practice, Javits said that universal suffrage by secret ballot should be the order of the day.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-

Conn., one of those who heard Goldberg, said he agrees with Javits and Mansfield on that point.

Councilman in Detroit Will Seek Judgeship

DETROIT (AP) — Common Councilman James H. Brickley Monday announced he will be a candidate for judge of the State Court of Appeals in the August 2 primary. Brickley, 37, said he will run for the seat vacated by the death of Judge John D. Watts last week.

Ford sales are at an all-time high. During May Ford outsold all other car makes!

The word is spreading — fast — that Ford Division is building the best cars it has ever built. And it's true. Never have Ford cars been so good — never have Ford sales been so high.

People discovered our 1966 Ford was the strongest Ford ever built. A strong car, well-engineered, is a quiet car — and the '66 Ford has a ride that is quieter even than some of Europe's most expensive hand-built luxury cars.

Over a million people have already bought Mustangs. This rare blend of sports-car excitement and solid value is the most popular new car in history... and right now it's the world's best-selling hardtop and convertible.

Wagon buyers are excited about our Magic Doorgate — the greatest step forward in wagon convenience in years. It opens out like a door for people and swings down like a tailgate for cargo. It's standard equipment on all Ford and Fairlane wagons.

Car shoppers discovered a whole new range of comforts and conveniences. The '66 Ford offers power front disc brakes, a Stereo-Sonic Tape System, America's largest V-8 to perform on regular fuel, Silent-Flo Ventilation that keeps air fresh with all windows closed, and a new Safety/Convenience Control Panel that lets you lock all doors with one switch, has lights to warn if fuel's low or a door's ajar, reminds you to fasten seat belts.

A whole new group of sports-minded car buyers has come over to Fairlane. We've redesigned it completely with 30 new models, including GT's, sports-luxury XL's, convertibles, Squire wagons, and an exciting new Sport Shift Cruise-O-Matic Drive (on GT/A models) that gives you the ease of an automatic — or lets you shift manually for the fun of it.

Economy-minded people responded to the bold new look of Falcon for '66. They found a new body with more strength and more room both front and back, a longer wheelbase, a smoother ride, and a choice of nine engine-transmission combinations. They appreciated the lively 170-cu. in. Six that gives Falcon thrift and performance, too.

People everywhere are finding out just how much extra value we've built into today's Ford cars — extra value that's the reason why Ford sales have soared to an all-time high.

And that's why Ford Dealers... leading from strength... are now offering you the best deals ever. There are specially equipped, specially priced Fords, Fairlanes and Mustangs, and special values on all our cars — across the whole line. See them soon.

Wisner Stadium Setting for PCH Commencement

By HELEN COLLIAS

For the Pontiac Central High School Class of 1966, June 16 will be a much remembered day. Beginning at 8 p.m. in Wisner Stadium, graduation exercises will be held.

In case of bad weather, exercises will be in the Pontiac Central Boys' Gym. Each student will be given four admission tickets.

Monroe Osmin, president of the board of education, will open the exercises, followed by senior class vice president Cecelia Hunt, who will give the invocation.

An address will be given by senior class President Jerry Murphy.

GUEST SPEAKER

This year's guest speaker will be Dr. David Molyneux, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Flint. His address is entitled "Barbarians at the Gates."

The Pontiac Central Symphonic Band, under direction of Richard Morse, will provide the music.

Francis Staley, Central principal, will present the class and Dr. Dana Whitmer, superintendent of schools, will award diplomas.

Sunday, at 7:30 p.m., baccalaureate will be held for graduating seniors in the Central boys' gym. Dr. Emil Kuntz, pastor of the Bethany Baptist Church, will give the address.

TO GIVE TALK

Several seniors were recently initiated into the National Honor Society.

They are Judith Adams, Lee Ann Anderson, Carol Bacak, Carole Becket, Janet Boettger, Belinda Brown, Cynthia Bryant, Carol Burke, Gary Bussard, Jan Carline, Gail Coughlin and Frank Denli.

Others are Kathy Devereaux, Pat DiGiovanni, George Ellenwood, Duane Ellsworth, David Emms, Debra Gorden, Cynthia Gowen, Deborah Gulacsek, Thomas Hahn, Elmer Harrington, John Harrington and Eileen Hatchett.

ALSO ON LIST

Others are Bonnie Lafontaine, Ronald Lewis, Danial Levee, Marcia Luther, Diane McCall, Mark MacFadyen, Christopher Marinos, Jerry Murphy, Mary Jo Myers, Cheryl Newman, Susan Niotiti and Vicki Pote.

Concluding the list are Patricia Ressler, Carolyn Reuter, Marianne Rolo, Marjorie Rosner, Kenneth Seay, Cynthia Shaffer, Sandra Shea, Douglas Shelton, Charles Smith, Barbara Warren, Constance Weber, Charles Wilkinson and Roberta Wine.

Tomorrow evening, the Thespian Dramatic Club will have its annual banquet at Alban's Country Court to formally initiate new members and award pins and guards to deserving members.

Through participation in dramatic productions, students earn Thespian points. When a total of 30 points is reached, students become eligible for Thespian membership.

Each new member receives a Thespian pin and a free year's subscription to a dramatics magazine.

Honored guests from the school administration have been invited to attend. Stuart Packard, dramatics coach, and his wife will also be feted.

FORTY WINKS — John Eichhorn, senior sponsor and math teacher at Utica High School, plans to snitch a quick nap at the all-night party following June 16 graduation ceremonies. Looking on are Darlene Benjar of 39500 Utica and Lowell Dr. of 40255 William, both of Sterling Township. The seniors' fun week will begin Friday following tomorrow and Thursday's finals.

SCHOOL NEWS ROUNDUP

Cranbrook

By RICHARD BOSLEY

Robert M. Sandoe, headmaster of Cranbrook School, announced the appointment of 10 juniors to the office of prefect for school year 1966-67.

They are Kip Craig, Roger Cummings, Richard Bosley, Jon Pavloff, Ed Randle, Hugh Mahler, Ted Lowrie, Craig Talberg, Charles Monroe and Peter Stryker.

The prefects, as leaders of the senior class, assume a variety of duties; the number of prefects has been reduced this year in an attempt to put more responsibility on the senior class as a group.

Country Day

Bloomfield Country Day School held its graduation Sunday.

Awarded the school's top honor, the Trustees Award, was Patricia Robin Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Turner Jr. of 735 W. Long Lake, Bloomfield Township.

Robin was cited for being a "graduate ready to enter an outstanding college but whose academic success has not detracted from her other contributions to the school."

She has served in many ways, including work in dramatics, music and helping in all school activities.

She contributed a weekly school column to a local newspaper. Robin was also cited by the Phi Beta Kappa Association of Detroit for scholarship.

South Lyon

By DIANNA DANIELSON

Students of South Lyon High School are busy studying and taking exams. Exams are being held today and tomorrow.

Results of the school elections are in.

Winner of the office of president of the Student Council is Dianna Danielson.

Next year's senior class officers will be Janice Hutchins, president; Debbie Yadosky, vice president; Susan Ballo, secretary; and Sharon Grimes, treasurer.

Boy and girl representatives for Student Council will be Connie Blevins and Doug Taulbee.

Next year's junior class officers will be Sharon Newman, president; Sandy Bovol, vice president; Sharon Ogle, secretary; Nancy Whitford, treasurer; and girl and boy representatives, Jody Hines and John Van Bomm.

Next year's sophomore class president will be Darlene Ogle; Debbie Gearhart, vice president; Larry Bowring, secretary; Beverly Wiseman, treasurer; and representatives, Connie Allard and Bill Boyle.

South Lyon High Varsity Cheerleaders gave a farewell dance Friday for the seniors. It was the last dance for the year.

Tomorrow will be the seniors' annual Class Night. At 6 a dinner will be held in the high school cafeteria for seniors only.

Following the dinner, Gail Bennett, senior class president, will act as mistress of ceremonies.

Marian

By PATRICIA POLMEAR

Three Marian High School seniors, Marcia Pasley (University of Michigan), Patricia Naughton (University of Michigan), and Kathleen Heinen (Marquette University) have been awarded Chrysler Corporation Fund Scholarships.

Jane Wilson has won a Mundein Liberal Competitive Honorary Scholarship.

Patricia Finan was awarded an honorary scholarship from Oakland University.

Gail Lift will study under a University of Michigan Regent's Alumni Scholarship.

Milford

By RICHARD WIXOM

Milford High School students are winding up the year today with the second day of underclassmen examinations. Seniors completed their finals last Friday.

James Druce, principal, announced at the honors convocation last Wednesday that seniors Terry Lovejoy and David Powers, with four-year grade point averages of 4.0, have been chosen to give the greeting and farewell addresses for the class of 1966.

They will speak at outdoor commencement exercises beginning at 7:30 tomorrow evening on the Milford Memorial Field.

Dr. Eldon R. Nonnamaker of Michigan State University will speak at the commencement for the 240 graduates.

Kingswood

By CINDY GRISSOM

Events of the coming weekend are highlights of the calendar at Kingswood School.

Friday morning at 9 a faculty will honor the graduating class with a breakfast. The alumnae of the class of 1946 will welcome the girls into the alumnae association.

Later that morning, the seniors will bequeath the assorted odds and ends they have collected at Kingswood to underclassmen. The classes then disperse to attend picnics at various homes.

That evening, juniors will host a banquet for the seniors. Joanne Gosling is general chairman and Mona Majzoub will be toastmistress. Members of both classes will give speeches.

At 9 p.m. the Commencement Formal will be held in the auditorium. Sherry Strickland is having an informal party afterwards for all seniors of Kingswood and Cranbrook School and their dates.

Saturday at 4 p.m., commencement exercises will take place at Christ Church, Cranbrook.

A Children's Concert was held recently in the gym. Over 350 fifth and sixth graders attended.

Sacred Heart Grads Plan for Annual Ball

By MELINDA CHURCHES

Sacred Heart seniors are busy making final plans for the 16th Annual Candlelight Ball to be held at the Latin Quarter Thursday.

The ball is given by the Alumnae Association to present the new graduates.

Each graduate, accompanied to the stage by her father, is formally presented.

An early morning breakfast, hosted by Jackie Canto and Kathy Schna, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Schna will conclude the festivities.

Father William B. Tarrier, O.P. presided at this morning's graduation exercises. Valerie Cheadle, Student Government president, was valedictorian.

Every year, the Alumnae Association presents a special award to the girl who has excelled in essay writing during her four years of high school. This year's award went to Marce Russo.

ANNUAL BANQUET

The juniors gave the annual Junior-Senior Banquet last Thursday. This year's theme was "It's a Small World" and the banquet room was decorated with travel posters. The centerpiece was a replica of a travel balloon made out of pink and white daisies.

Banquet folders, decorated with replicas of travel balloons, were given to each girl. They contained class wills and prophecies.

The juniors were presented with their class rings and seniors received gifts of monogrammed silver bowls from the juniors.

Denny King, junior class president, read the dedication. After the readings of the prophecies and wills, each class sang its farewell song.

COMMITTEE HEADS

This year's various committee heads were Melinda Churches, Anne Conklin, Nancy Huber, Jane Johnston, Mary Helen Lorenz, Maureen Judge, Sue Reck, Annette Slavsky, Mary Ellen Quinn, and Mary Viscon.

The work was divided between the decorations committee, book

Junior Editors Quiz on LIE DETECTOR

QUESTION: How does a lie detector work?

ANSWER: The man on the left in our picture, seated in the chair, looks uncomfortable. He has good reason to be. He is a suspected criminal who has agreed to take a lie detector test.

The test is not painful in any way and suspects are not forced to take it.

Let's suppose the man in our picture is really guilty but that he has agreed to take the test because he thinks it will convince the police that he's innocent.

He thinks it's safe to tell a lie because he doesn't believe any collection of wires and buttons could reveal it. As he sits in the chair, there is a bandage around his arm and wires leading to the lieutenant's desk. These will show the suspect's blood pressure.

Other wires lead from the respiration tube across the chest and show the suspect's breathing. His hands are connected with electrodes and the chair has devices to record movements of the body.

These movements or changes will be shown on a chart or graph. The suspect will be asked a set of questions. If he is lying, he usually will hold his breath when certain questions are asked or there will be an increase in his blood pressure and these will show up on the chart.

FOR YOU TO DO: Are the results of lie detector tests permitted as evidence in a court trial? See if you can find out.

Gallery of Art Is Protesters' Meeting Spot

By Gilbert Youth Service
LONDON — Walk up the steps of the National Gallery of Art and you have to sidestep your way through a crowd of students, primarily art students, who sit for hours on the rails and steps with guitars and harmonicas in hand.

This isn't a boisterous crowd. The music and the conversation are subdued.

They are just there — strategically overlooking Trafalgar Square where crowds perpetually gather to protest, to fling banners into the air, to sound off on any subject.

In case there's a protest march, the students are ready to join in.

Clad in universal blue jeans, and with sandaled feet, they move off with the crowd, expressionless, gaunt, looking almost like Dickens' characters.

NO SCATHING

They cast no scathing looks at the tourists. They make no remarks under their breath.

Often they seem like nonbings, probably restless beneath their impassive surface, but outwardly showing nothing.

State Police Veterans Retire From Service

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police have announced the retirements of Capt. Donald Oates, commander of the East Lansing safety and traffic division; Sgt. Daniel Comrie, commander of the St. Clair post, and Staff Sgt. Oscar Bergland, commander of the Rockford post.

All joined the department in 1940 and have more than 25 years of service.

Teens Split on Right-to-Vote Question

By Gilbert Youth Service

As a teen-ager, do you feel you should have something to say about the election of officials who guide the destinies of our nation, our cities and our communities?

Or would you rather leave the responsibility of voting to adults 21 years of age and over?

Since there has been considerable hue and cry about permitting 18-year-olds to vote, it might be supposed that you young people would be overwhelmingly in favor of such a move.

It was, therefore, somewhat surprising to learn that a sizable minority apparently are against any such change in the law.

We asked 1,136 boys and girls this question:

EYE QUESTION

"The New York State Legislature is wrestling with the question of letting 18-year-olds vote: do you think this would be a good idea?"

Only 53 per cent of the teens said "yes," 46 per cent "no," with the rest giving no reply.

When asked whether a boy in service should be allowed to vote, regardless of his age, 55 per cent said they thought he should, compared with 41 per cent who answered in the negative.

More than 73 per cent thought a voter of any age should be required to have a certain amount of education, but only 29 per cent believed that a new voter should have his or her own income.

PECULIAR RESULT

A peculiar statistical result emerged from questions involving the sexes.

Ninety-three per cent of the youths saw no reason why men should be allowed to vote any earlier than women.

And nearly 92 per cent did not think women should be given an earlier vote. Nothing unusual there, especially since the boys and girls voted fairly much alike.

But to the question, "Should there be any difference between the voting age in boys and girls?" the boys suddenly went off on a different tack.

A DIFFERENCE

More than 77 per cent said they thought there should be a difference — presumably allowing the males to vote earlier.

The girls remained consistent with their previous replies. Ninety-one per cent of them said there should not be a difference.

Tom Wolf, 17, of Lyndhurst, Ohio, believed 18-year-olds should be allowed to vote because "young people are more aware of problems today than older adults."

But 16-year-old Lawrence Resnick, of Camden, N.J., thought that age was too soon for exactly the opposite reason. "Some," he said, "are too immature to understand the position of politics."

YOUTH EMPHATIC

From Richard Szumowski, 17, of Gloversville, N.Y., came this emphatic statement: "I believe that if an 18-year-old is old enough to vote for his country, he is old enough to say what he is dying for."

Ben Keller, 18, of Indianapolis, Ind., said: "Teen-agers are accustomed to waiting until they are 21 to vote, drink, etc., and they should have to continue to wait."

Among the girls, Elaine Giddens, 17, of Miami, Fla., supported an earlier voting age on the grounds that "18 is an age where young people are asked to take on many responsibilities."

Katy Nadal, 15, of Portland, Ore., was equally sure the voting age should be lowered.

"Why not?" she asked, and then answered her own question, "we fight and pay taxes, and we're more up-to-date politically than many adults because of our school classes."

The girls will love the reply Jamie Limmerman, 17, of Cleveland, Ohio, gave to the question of whether men should be allowed to vote at an earlier age than women.

Said Jamie: "No. Men and women are mentally equal."

Representative to Run

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — State Rep. Martin D. Butz, R-Cornstock Park, filed nominating petitions in the Kent County clerk's office Monday as a candidate for a 11th term. Assistant minority leader of the House, Butz represents the 90th Kent District.

WOMEN'S SECTION

She Expects Crashers' at Teen Dance

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am giving quite a large dance for some of my high school friends. I can't have every one in the school, of course, but I know the word will get around and I'm afraid there may be quite a few crashers.

How should I handle this? — Jeanette F.

Dear Jeanette: Frequently some of the guests who have accepted can't make it at the last minute, and if you have a few spaces and you know and like the crashers, ask them in. It will make for a pleasanter time at school later.

But if you don't like, or don't know them, or if they are tight or not properly dressed, it's up to you, with the backing of the chaperones, to tell them that you are very sorry, you just can't squeeze one more person in.

At a large party your parents should have another couple to help out if things get out of hand, or you may even hire an off-duty policeman to help park cars, and be there to lend a little authority if you need it.

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if a widower continues to wear his wedding ring after the death of his wife. If so, does he remove it when he starts dating another woman? — George K.

Dear George: A widower, if he was happily married, usually wishes to continue to wear his wedding ring. There is no need for him to do so after he starts dating another woman. It is entirely up to him.

The clothes of the bride and groom as well as those of their attendants are described in the booklet entitled, "Clothes of the Bridal Party."

If you would like a copy, send ten cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Fifteen dealers from Michigan and Ohio will display their wares at the Clarkston Antique Show, Thursday and Friday, in the First Methodist Church on Waldon Road.

The David Pottingers of Bloomfield Hills will show and sell 18th and early 19th century furniture, stoneware and wood-ware.

William Mooneyham Antiques of Livonia will feature paintings, furniture and china. Very early glass and primitive items will be presented by Richard Morrish, 1866 House, in Flushing.

Old painted pieces and early country items will be shown by Ann Thatcher Antiques of Oxford and Leonard Berry of Detroit will exhibit old iron and furniture.

Catherine Benson of Troy is offering books on antiques and fine old prints. The Silhouette Shop of Eaton Rapids will show unusual fine art glass.

The Country House of Utica will bring the old-fashioned candy and Waterford glass and Canton china are promised by Mary Beth Antiques of Fraser.

Now in its second year, the show will present Mrs. Donald Zell of Troy, Ohio showing primitives and fine furniture, also Pauline Work of Detroit with jewelry and old silver. They were unable to attend last year.

The women of the church will provide a buffet. Tickets for the show and sale are available at the door.

Tots to Display Art

An outdoor art show displaying the works of the Children's Art class of the YWCA will be held Saturday from 1:30 p.m. until 3 p.m. on the grounds. Leta Frank, instructor will be in charge of the event.

Calendar

WEDNESDAY

Cass-Sylvan extension study group, 11 a.m., home of Mrs. Wayne Bigler of Brambles Drive. American Association of Retired Persons No. 7, 1:30 p.m., K of C Hall on South Saginaw Street. Mrs. Jane Mitchell, OTR will speak on "Rehabilitation of Stroke Patients."

THURSDAY

Women's Society of Bethany Baptist Church, noon, home of Mrs. Franklin Peck of Silver Lake Road. Annual picnic.

Webster Club, 12:30 p.m., home of Mrs. James Montante of Tegderline Road, White Lake Township. Co-operative luncheon and sewing of cancer pads.

Fashion Your Figure Club, 7:30 p.m., Adah Shelly Library. Queen coronation.

The R. E. Spohn home in Clarkston makes an ideal background for Mrs. W. J. Cattin of Holcomb Road, Springfield Township. Wearing an antique handmade graduation dress, she carries a rocker that will be on sale at the Clarkston Antique Show this week. Show hours in the First Methodist Church are 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Thursday and 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday.

A Double Tip Might Button Lip Is Advice for Salon Patron

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How can I get it across to my hairdresser that I wish she would keep quiet when she is working on me?

I have changed beauty operators three times in the last year because all these girls do is talk, talk, talk. I am not interested in their private affairs and I have no desire to talk about my own. My husband says it is the same way in his barber shop. The barbers talk the men's ears off, too.

People who work in offices and stores can't be jabbering to their customers or clients about everything under the sun. They have to keep their minds on their work. I would appreciate total silence so much while I'm getting my hair done that I would pay a double tip for it. How can this be accomplished?

ABBY

QUIET, PLEASE

DEAR QUIET: Offer your hairdresser a double tip to button her lip, and the only words you are likely to hear before a long silence will be, "You just made a deal, Lady."

DEAR ABBY: My husband's boss wants him to open a store in another town about 300 miles from here. It's a bigger town and would be a promotion for my husband, but Abby, everything I think of moving I burst into tears. I have even put off going to look for a place to live there because I can't stand the thought of leaving this town.

I've grown up here, my whole family lives here, our children's friends are here, and we have just built a lovely home.

I know I sound selfish but I can't help it, Abby. If I need a good lecture, let me have it.

DEAR ROOTS: You rattled the right cage! An ambitious husband has no greater asset than a wife who is truly in his corner. Your children will make new friends, and so will you, if you try. Your "family" are your husband and child.

Be a good wife and help your man get where he wants to go, and you shall have another "lovely" home that his "jack" built.

DEAR ABBY: I am absolutely stuck for a solution. I have a 16-year-old son and, while I don't usually brag about my children, HE is something to brag about — and not because he's good-looking.

He's mannerly, respectful, a good student, and has loads of friends. A very good friend of mine has a daughter who goes to my son's school.

This girl is a little boy-chaser. (She's telephoned my son many times.) She is not very popular, which I realize is hard on the girl, but here's the problem: The girl's mother has called me several times and has BEGGED me to ask my son to ask her daughter for a date.

Abby, can I ask this of my son — even as a favor to me? (He doesn't care for the girl.) But how can I tell this to a mother?

DEAR STUCK: It's enough that YOU are "stuck," don't try to stick your son with a girl he doesn't care for.

Tell the girl's mother you've never told your son whom to date, and you don't intend to start now. (P.S. I think I know where the girl got her aggressiveness.)

Troubled? Write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Women Contribute Funds to Orchestra, Students

The Women's Association of Pontiac Symphony Orchestra contributed $1350 to the orchestra during the past year.

Members heard this report Monday afternoon at the Cherokee Road home of Mrs. John Q. Waddell during the final meeting of the season.

Two young violinists with the symphony were given scholarships to study at Interlochen this summer, Beverly Patton is a Pontiac Central High student and Gary Shelton attends Pontiac Northern.

The group also gave a check to the Pontiac Creative Arts Center, Inc.

New officers were installed for the 1966-67 season by Mrs. Paul Gorman.

Mrs. William A. Furlong is president; Mrs. Theodore Koellia, first vice president; Mrs. F. E. Bonner, second vice president; Mrs. W. O. Roesser and Mrs. J. R. Slavsky, secretaries. Treasurer is Mrs. Myron C. Buck; auditor, Mrs. J. C. Walker and parliamentarian, Mrs. Gorman.

Mrs. Bonner and Mrs. Gorman served on the hospitality committee.

POH Group Has Luncheon

Guild Fetes Mrs. Ross

The Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Guild honored its outgoing president, Mrs. Ward Ross, at a luncheon Saturday in Rotunda Country Inn.

A gold pin was given to Mrs. J. W. Davis for donating over 500 volunteer hours.

Those receiving silver pins for 200 or more hours are Mrs. Janet Dow, Mrs. J. J. Cavanaugh, Mrs. Charles Gates, Mrs. Joe Hawkins and Mrs. Michael Fons.

Others are Mrs. M. C. Worster, Mrs. B. F. Dickinson and Mrs. L. C. Johnson.

Certificates for 100 hours of service were given to Mrs. T. H. Tull, Mrs. William Fraser, Mrs. Donald Fraser, Mrs. Ross and Mrs. L. G. Huddle Jr.

Following the showing of original oils by seven Hungarian artists, was installation of officers.

Assuming new posts are Mrs. P. W. Trimmer, president; Mrs. Fraser, vice president; Mrs. G. L. Barker and Mrs. Huddle, secretaries and Mrs. Kenneth Mahoney, treasurer.

Mrs. Cornish Begins Term for Jaycettes

Waterford Jaycette officers were recently installed at a dinner meeting in Fortino's.

Mrs. Jeffery Cornish is president; Mrs. Michael Patterson, vice president; Mrs. Charles Wood and Mrs. Richard Shipman, secretaries; and Mrs. Raymond Freebrey, treasurer.

Directors include Mrs. Whitney Caranahan, Mrs. Timothy Patterson and Mrs. Richard Gilchrist.

Awards were presented to Mrs. Shipman for "Outstanding New Jaycette"; Mrs. Gilchrist for "Jaycette of the Year"; and to Mrs. Cornish for "Key Woman."

Michigan "Sparkette" awards were also given at this time.

Richard Headlee, past president of the National Jaycees, was the keynote speaker at the dinner held with the Waterford Jaycees.

Golden Wedding of Ward Lakes Is Celebrated

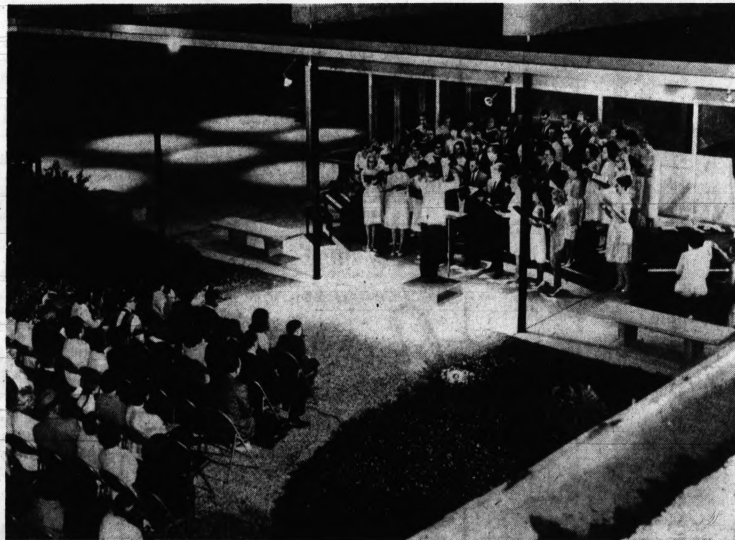

Mr. and Mrs. Ward-Lake of Schick Drive, Orion Township, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday.

The couple was married June 6, 1916 in Central Methodist Church and since has resided in the Oxford, Lake Orion area.

The Lakes were honored Sunday at an open house in the home of their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Lake, Miller Road, Oakland Township.

Cohosts were other sons, daughters and their families: Lloyd and Donald, both of Oxford Township; Mrs. Edward Hill, South Edith Street; and Mrs. Edward Mayer, Mouton Road, Orion Township.

Among the 100 guests were the senior Mrs. Lake's brothers Earl Jewell, Metamora; Andrew, of Oxford; and her sister Mrs. Lloyd French, Oxford. Mr. Lake's brother Francis of Oakland Township also attended. There are eight grandchildren in the family.

The Oakland University Chorus, under the direction of George Cripps, will present an open-air "Spring Musicale" on Thursday at 8 p.m. The concert, featuring Aaron Copland's "In the Beginning," will be presented in the court between North and South Foundation Halls on the OU campus. The performance will be open to the public without charge.

Garden Clubs Are Active With Reviews, Luncheons

Mrs. Arthur W. Selden of Pontiac branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, reviewed Margaret Kreig's book "Green Medicine" at the June meeting of the new Interlakes branch.

The author accompanied one Dr. Halstead on a scientific expedition throughout Europe in search of plants useful to the medical profession. The book also includes experiences of research in this field by botanists.

Hostess for the afternoon was Mrs. Arley Lowe of Lakewood Drive. Mrs. Franklin Read and Mrs. Allen Howard assisted her.

GUESTS

The guest list included Mrs. H. A. Zujko, Mrs. Douglas Ellison, Mrs. Leon Vlaeminch and Mrs. James Semper.

New members, Mrs. Victor

Sutt and Mrs. George Doig were welcomed.

The Oakland branch WNFGA will install officers at the 10th annual meeting and luncheon, June 14, in the Red Run Country Club, Royal Oak.

Mrs. Archie Coran, outgoing president, will present the president's bell to her successor, Mrs. Chester Wells of Birmingham.

The slate of officers includes Mrs. Donald Austin and Mrs. Roger Burgess, first and second vice presidents, respectively; Mrs. Edward Kosyard, secretary, and Mrs. George Ward, treasurer.

Oakland branch received top award in Class A for its program book at the recent Michigan Division awards luncheon in the Hotel Pontchartrain, Detroit. Mrs. Coran accepted the honor for the branch.

Double Standard Is Very Real Thing

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Delinquent girls whose delinquency often takes the form of sexual misconduct resent the "double standard" which penalizes them for it while it indulges such misconduct by boys as "wild oats," according to a new book by sociologist Gisela Konopka, "The Adolescent Girl in Conflict." Dr. Konopka shares their resentment!

"The 'double standard' can no longer be tolerated. Sex education should be directed to boys' acceptance of responsibility for their partners and the child who may be born."

Her resentment baffles me. How on earth can you have a standard? BUT — a "double standard" of sexual conduct when we've got it is not one sex but two — two different sexes who share neither the same biology nor the same emotional and psychological constitutions?

It will be certainly very nice when boys can be matured to the point where they can take some responsibility for their sexual partners.

In the meantime, however, girls have to take sexual responsibility for themselves. And our failure to instruct them in this truth is what plunges them into precisely the kinds of tragedy so movingly described in Dr. Konopka's book.

Nor are we going to protect them against tragedy by encouraging their fascination with boys' sexual privilege.

That's only going to be done by training in appreciation of their own different female sexual privilege.

Girls can have babies. Boys cannot. And it is the diversion of girls' attention from this unique feminine privilege to what they imagine is boys' sexual privilege that is the crux of the sex education problem. That a professional sociologist could demand a "single standard" of sexual conduct completely bewilders me.

Conformity is the sickness of American society. It's a sickness that isn't limited to resentment of sexual difference. In America nobody wants to be what he is. Parents resent being grownups as much as children hate being children. Many Negroes wish that they were white people.

Isn't Dr. Konopka missing the sociological point entirely with this demand for the same sexual standard for unsame sexes? I think so. I think she's fallen right in with a national pathology that is trying to smash all human differences, including sexual ones, into one vast glob of sameness.

June Wedding for Two

The Calvin H. Princes (Shirley Jeanne Christensen) left for a trip to Virginia after recent vows and reception in the First Methodist Church. Parents are the Lester F. Christensens, South Tassania Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Prince of Wardlaw Road.

White organza and French lace fashioned the bride's gown and wrap-around train. Their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. William Myers, the James Galloways and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Evans.

Trip to Falls Follows Rite, Reception

Reception in the Waterford Hills Country Club followed the recent vows of Sherry Colleen Wyrick and Roy Sylvester Cook, in the First Methodist Church, Lake Orion. Their parents are the J. F. Wyricks, Atwater Street, Mrs. Kenneth Pearce, Diane Wyrick, with David, Charles and Willard Cook. The pair will honeymoon in California and Mexico.

Lavender lace accented the bride's gown of white silk organza and capped her illusion veil.

Attendants were Mrs. Larry Blackburn, Mrs. Kenneth Pearce, Diane Wyrick, with David, Charles and Willard Cook. The pair will honeymoon in California and Mexico.

At Niagara Falls for a honeymoon are Mr. and Mrs. James Mitchell Champion III (Carol Maria Walk) who were wed recently in the Stringham United Missionary Church.

Parents of the newlyweds who greeted guests at a dinner reception in the Armvets Hall are the Kenneth W. Chapins of Charest Drive and Mr. and Mrs. James M. Champion II of Goldner Avenue.

The bride's gown of sequined white French lace over taffeta and her bouquet of white carnations carried out the colonial theme. A pearl tiara held her illusion veil.

With Julie Champion, honor maid, were bridesmaids Ann Warren, Sue Tatham, and Sandra Deaton. Jennifer Champion was flower girl.

Best man at the rite performed by Rev. James Randall was Jerry Robertson. Ushers were Jeffrey Champion, Richard Smith, and Michael Guthrie.

Expert Claims Teens 'In Know' on Drinking

Most teen-agers who drink are just copying Mother and Dad and can probably handle the stuff better. The youngsters regard drinking as a part of growing up. Few of them let the practice get out of hand.

These conclusions are the result of a study of 10,000 teen-agers by Dr. George L. Maddox, Duke University sociologist.

Most teen-agers, he finds, learn to drink at home and will probably have guzzled their first shot before the age of 13 or 14.

Teen-age drinkers are most common in the northeastern states, where the proportion may be as high as 8 out of 10. In southern states, it is markedly lower.

MORE SENSE

But these kids could set an example to their elders. When they're out on the town, they usually take wise precautions, such as appointing a teetotaler to drive the car.

And over the last 13 years, there's no evidence that teen-age drinking habits have become worse.

Nor are they heavy imbibers. Dr. Maddox believes that no more than 2 to 4 per cent of those who drink at all average as much as a drink a day.

In a given month about 1 in 4 may get a bit "high" and 1 in 10 get actually drunk. (Adult users of alcohol please note.)

Dr. Maddox also believes that laws to regulate teen-age drinking — for instance, minimum ages — have little effect. Patterns and attitudes in question are, in most cases, well-established by the age of 18 he says.

So laws can only force the teen-ager to do his tipping in private.

TYPICAL?

The typical teen-age drinker is male, from the top or bottom of the socioeconomic scale, a city dweller and more likely Jewish or Catholic than Protestant.

Moreover, Dr. Maddox emphasizes, his drinking habits probably reflect those of his parents.

And the chances are that, if a problem exists, it's a parental one.

Daisies Growing as Print Choice

Daisies do tell, in summertime fashions. Daisy patterns show in sportswear and sleepwear, in dress prints, in jewelry, even in wallpaper patterns.

One cosmetics manufacturer has given a "crazy daisy" title to its new lipstick, powder and nail enamel. The cosmetics themselves are summertime pinks for lipsticks and nails, and the range of beige shades for the powders. It's the packaging that plays up the daisy theme.

Why Grow Old?

Bruce Cassidy believes that you can't see a straight line as well as sew one if you will try. His book, "Practical Home Repair for Women," (Tappan Publishing Company) is the first of its kind, so far as I know.

Before my relatives and friends laugh me out of the country I hasten to admit that this book is probably not for me. However, they do not know about my little-publicized efforts at fixing things.

I once posed myself at the carpenter's desk in the hobby workshop of a friend and had I gone into action with the saw pointed the way it was, I would have cut off my left hand.

I have painted many a wall and much woodwork in my time with great enthusiasm and glee. I love this because you see results so quickly. However I usually end up with as much paint on my hair and hands as on the wall. I come by this naturally. My father once slipped and broke his big toe while trying to fix a lock on a door.

Seriously, this book made me want to try all over again. It gives all sorts of practical help for the woman who is creative and clever in this way and even for beginners such as I.

Cassidy assures us that it only takes a little knowledge of tools and materials — and practice. His advice to the housewife who can't saw is straight line or pound a nail without bending it, is to try again. It is not the muscular strength you put into the hammer blow that drives the nail but the accuracy with which you hit the head.

To keep the homemaker from becoming bewildered by the variety of paints on the market he acquaints the reader with types of paints, their uses, methods of applying them and the proper use and care of brushes.

Here are just a few of the helpful suggestions from "Practical Home Repair for Women."

Remove paint from your hands with linsed or some other fatty oil, then wash thoroughly with soap. Turpentine will chop your hands.

Protect your hands when cleaning a paint brush by pouring a solvent or cleaning fluid into a plastic bag. Shove the brush into the solvent and work the paint out, manipulating the bristles through the plastic. You can watch your progress through the transparent plastic and need not wet your hands at all.

NEW PRODUCT

Mr. Cassidy calls attention to a comparatively new product on the market, steel tiles, which come in standard sizes and permanent colors and can be used on floors or walls. This sounds like fun.

He suggests that women approach carpentry jobs in the same manner they approach making a dress. Shaping and fastening are two operations required in the former activity. These are similar to the basic processes of making a dress; to cutting and sewing.

Improving the beauty of our home is a creative and satisfying hobby, and learning to fix a few things ourselves would help the budget tremendously.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Hobbies" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Arellano-MacIntosh Vows Are Exchanged

An evening reception in the Italian-American Club honored the Alfred Rudolph Arellanos (Karen Sue MacIntosh) who were wed recently in St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church.

Their parents are Mrs. Robert MacIntosh of South Jessie Street, the late Mr. MacIntosh, and the Rudolph Arellanos of Benson Avenue.

ORCHID

An orchid-centered bouquet of white roses and Stephanotis complemented the bride's gown of organza over silk styled with full overskirt and cathedral train. Triple tiers of illusion formed her veil.

Darlene Lutzkow was honor maid with bridesmaids Gloria Rogers of Livonia, Mrs. Randall Stiles and Mrs. Thomas Teddar. Monique Arellano and David Latta were flower girl and ring-bearer.

Randall Stiles, Terry Brennan, and Anthony Rubio were ushers, with the bridegroom's brother, Arthur, as best man. The couple who chose the Old Mill Tavern for their wedding breakfast will reside on West Huron Street after a northern honeymoon.

MRS. A. R. ARELLANO

Early October vows are planned by Donna Lee Van Horn, daughter of the Francis R. Van Horns of Meadowleigh Lane and James Charles Shepard, son of the Walter Shepards of Clarkson Road, Orion Township, and Beaver-ton, Mich.

Psychiatrists Offer Views on Abortion

New York — A nationwide survey of some 13,000 psychiatrists shows that about eight out of 10 favor liberalization of current abortion laws in order to cut down the estimated one million back-alley abortions performed each year.

These illegal operations kill an estimated 5,000 to 10,000 women who seek this desperate way to end an unwanted pregnancy.

Reporting on the survey, a spokesman for the Association for the Study of Abortion (ASA), its sponsor, said that many psychiatrists are deeply concerned not only with the pregnant woman and what happens to her physically and emotionally, but also with the rights of children.

NO LOVE
What is asked to happen to children, they asked, who are unwanted and whose families are unwilling and unable to provide a loving home? What is the cost to society of unwanted children brought up in miserable conditions? What are the social costs of delinquency, disease, crime, economic dependence, individual maladjustment, and emotional illness?

The psychiatrists who favor liberalization of abortion laws emphasize the right of children to be born and brought up well, to live a full and healthy life. One physician who acted for 20 years as consultant on problems of unwed mothers, said, "I have yet to see a case in which an unwanted pregnancy has not resulted in psychological damage to the mother, to the child or to both. Frequently the damage is major and untreatable."

A new book that explores many aspects of the abortion picture in this country is "Abortion," by Lawrence Lader, published by The Bobbs-Merrill Co.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York is the nation's highest paid Governor, receiving a $50,000 annual salary.

Polly's Pointers

She Splices Yarn

DEAR POLLY — I want to pass on a Pointer I learned at knitting class. When the wool ends in the middle of a row I splice the yarn instead of making a knot. I knit to within two or three inches of the end and split the remaining piece in half. I then take the first two or three inches of the new ball of yarn and split this in half, too.

Then I twist the two loose ends of this old yarn around the two loose ends of the new yarn and finally twist the yarn completely so I have one nice tight strand. Be sure to twist it tightly or you will have several bulky stitches. An entire garment can be knitted without a single knot. — JESSIE

DEAR POLLY — Do tell Mrs. F. S. that she took the "seasoning" out of her iron skillet by washing it with a detergent instead of soap. Wash it well, oil it good with cooking oil or unsalted fat, put in the oven with very low heat for several hours. (Polly's note: Occasionally swab more fat around the inside of the pan with a pastry brush or crushed paper towel.)

When the pan is next used wash it immediately with hot water (no detergent) and dry it well. If any food clings to the pan soak it in hot water until loosened. I am 70 years old, raised three adopted children and was in the food business for 45 years.

If I could have only one cooking utensil it would be an iron skillet. I could take an iron skillet and one stew kettle and cook for a family. — IVA

DEAR POLLY — When on a trip I used to save folders, post cards, sales slips, etc., thinking I would put them all in a scrapbook when I returned home. However, the scrapbook never materialized. Now I have discovered a way to come home with a complete scrapbook and no extra effort is involved.

I take with me a regular school composition notebook and a roll of gummed plastic tape. Each day I tape in the book any accumulated material, hotel or motel bills, sales slips from purchases and so on.

Also, I may write a few lines telling of the day's activities, mentioning any places that I particularly want to remember. I carry this book and the tape in my large handbag and do the taping while riding or while waiting to be served in a restaurant. — HELEN Anyone submitting a Polly's Problem, a solution to a problem or a favorite homemaking idea will receive a dollar if Polly uses the item in Polly's Pointers.

Close zippers before putting garments in closets or drawers to help keep the placket seams from sagging or stretching.

Sibling Rivalry Never Ends

No Inborn Affection

CASE 2-416: Timmy G., Aged 3, has a baby brother just learning to crawl.

"But, Dr. Crane," their mother protested, "Timmy" seems to be so fond of his brother.

"Why, I have watched them when they didn't know I was looking."

"And Timmy will pinch Jimmy just to make him cry."

"Once I even had to intervene because Timmy was pounding the baby over the head with a toy wooden hammer."

"I thought that brothers would have more affection for each other!"

BLOOD MALARKY

Did Cain show affection for his brother, Abel?

No, Cain murdered Abel.

And millions of firstborns likewise resent their younger siblings.

For there is no innate or inborn affection between brothers or sisters!

Instead, the oldest child often hates the next one in line.

For many parents fail to inform the firstborn that another baby is coming.

For years the firstborn thus rules as an absolute monarch in the household.

On her return, an intruder called the new baby also comes home with her.

But the baby now usurps most of the attention of mamma as well as of daddy.

now finds himself deposed by a squawking interloper.

And as soon as that newcomer can crawl, he even tries to steal the toys that belong to the firstborn.

Remember, nobody loves another person until that other individual inflates the ego or pride of the first!

Memorize that axiom!

For thousands of mothers, even with college degrees, still don't understand that simple law of psychology.

If the other person deflates our ego, we dislike him.

If he inflates our ego, we grow fond of him.

This same law also holds for sweethearts, as mentioned earlier this week when I coached Norma in tooting her escort's horn.

After she did that, he felt happy and began to look with greater favor upon her.

So will you parents PLEASE prepare the firstborn well in advance so he will look with favor on the advent of his baby brother or sister?

"Yes, Dr. Crane," you may ask, "but how can we inflate our firstborn's ego when we bring a new baby into the home?"

Easy! Use the rivalry motive and show him that he has a baby brother whereas the youngster next door doesn't have one!

And because he is such a BIG boy, he may hold the bottle in the baby's mouth!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 30c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Street Lights for Telegraph Are Discussed

The Waterford Township Board last night discussed having street lights installed along Telegraph Road from Voorheis to the north end of Pontiac Mall.

Supervisor Dorothy W. Olson agreed to study the budget to determine whether sufficient funds are available for the proposed project.

According to Mrs. Olson, the township would be assessed an annual service charge of $2,389. Thirty-one lights would be installed along the route by the Detroit Edison Co.

Pontiac city officials are awaiting the township's decision in accordance with city plans to have street lights erected along both sides of Telegraph Road from Orchard Lake Road to Voorheis and along the east side of Telegraph from Voorheis to Pontiac Mall.

The city would pay an annual service charge of $5,665, according to township officials. Its 73 lights would be installed by Detroit Edison and Consumers Power Co.

SAFETY PREDOMINATE
Safety is the predominate factor for the proposed street lights, noted Mrs. Olson.

Police Chief William Stokes earmarked that other areas in the township also are in need of street lights.

"I'd like to see our intersections lighted up; all of them," said Stokes.

In other business, bids were opened on a proposed pedestrian overpass on Scott Lake Road near Otsego even though the location for the structure still is indefinite.

3 BIDS APIECE
Two firms submitted three bids each, depending on what structural features are desired. Apparent low bid of $16,850 was turned in by Guardian Engineering and Development Co. of Pittsburgh, the firm that built the existing two pedestrian overpasses in the township.

The Pittsburgh firm also submitted bids of $18,350 and $23,700.

W. J. Stewart Supply Co. of Waterford Township offered bids of $18,950, $19,495 and $19,700.

TO BE ANALYZED

Clerk Elmer Fangbner and a township engineering consultants Johnson and Anderson, Inc. for analysis.

Township officials disclosed that a meeting with the board of education will be sought to determine a definite site for the proposed overpass.

Also last night, the board accepted the lone bid submitted for construction of a 600-square-foot addition to Fire Station No. 2 on Walton at Mainard.

The bid of $8,387 was submitted by Arthur C. Linney, Inc., General Contractor of Pontiac. Cost for the structure had been estimated at $8,700, according to Fire Chief Lewis Goff.

ADDITIONS
Under the project, an alarm room and lounge will be added and the dormitory and kitchen facilities at the station will be enlarged.

In still other business, the board approved the transfer of an SDM license at Clintonville Super Market from Charles Martin to Edward M. White.

Action was tabled on a proposed amendment to a sewer contract with the City of Pontiac, pending submission of a plan from Pontiac officials.

Extension of city sewer services to include the new Cherokee Hills Elementary School and about 30 properties is being sought.

Mrs. Olson issued two proclamations last night, designating June as recreation park month in the township and the period between May 15 and June 15 muscular dystrophy month.

First Notices Are Read on Waterford Rezonings

First notices were read on five rezoning requests at last night's meeting of the Waterford Township Board. Final action on all five proposals is slated for next Monday night's board meeting.

Three of the requests previously were recommended for approval by the Township Planning Commission and county coordinating planning and zoning committee.

They are:

- A request to rezone from agricultural (AG-1) to multiple dwelling residential (R-2) property on Elizabeth Lake Road near Doremus for construction of apartment units.

- A request to rezone from single family residential (R-1A) to R-2 a parcel of land off Crescent Lake Road north of M59 for construction of apartment units.

- A request to rezone from small farm (AG-2) to R-2 and C-2 a parcel at Hospital and Cooley Lake Roads for construction of apartment units and retail shops.

Negative recommendations were made on the other two zoning change proposals by the planning commission and county committee.

CAR WASH

They are:

- A request to rezone from AG-2 to extensive business (C-3) two lots on the southwestern corner of Lochaven and Elizabeth Lake Road for establishment of a coin-operated car wash.
- A request to rezone from light industrial (M-1) to general industrial (M-2) five lots on Warren Drive in Fairplains Subdivision.

In the last request, the applicant, George Beechum, also seeks special approval for the operation of a junk yard on the property. The planning commission took no action on the second request.

Beverage Group Outing Set

The Oakland Licensed Beverage Association will hold its second annual all-day outing June 11 at Morey's Golf & Country Club, 2280 Union Lake, Commerce Township. Ticket chairmen for the event are Chuck and Angie Austin, licensees of Tom's Bar, 928 Mount Clemens.

City Underwriters to Hear Pontiac Division Exec

John F. Malone, 6077 Gilbert Lake, Bloomfield Township, advertising manager for Pontiac Motor Division, will speak at the annual award meeting of the Pontiac Life Underwriters Association at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Pontiac Elks Temple.

Malone will discuss the "Problems of Communication." The meeting will honor the National Quality Award winners men who have met the highest standards of the industry by conducting quality businesses; the members of the Million Dollar Round Table; and the Michigan Life Leaders.

Cuban rail passengers will be traveling in air-conditioned comfort in cars plus 80 locomotives bought from the Soviet Union, France and Great Britain by the government.

By Mayor Cavanagh

Viet Reassessment Is Urged

TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP)—Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh called Monday for a re-assessment of U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Cavanagh, a Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate nomination in Michigan, told the commencement class at Talladega College that "We're beginning to question the foreign policy which led us into Viet Nam."

The mayor also praised the work of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and said there is much yet to be done in the field of civil rights.

The percentage of credit cost to the average American family last year was 23 per cent.

For Shipping, Economy

Use Seaway Fully, State Urged

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan was urged Monday to take full advantage of the potential of the St. Lawrence Seaway as both a shipping artery and a lever to gain more favorable economic treatment.

Prof. John L. Hazard, professor of marketing and transportation at Michigan State University, told a Detroit Press Club seminar that at present only 14.2 per cent of the state's exports are going out through lake ports.

The remainder, he added, are being hauled overland to go out through Eastern Seaboard and Gulf Coast ports despite the economic advantages of shipping through the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Seaway.

He urged better knowledge and understanding of the mechanics of the export business, adding that surveys show a lamentable lack of such knowledge among potential Michigan exporters.

The professor said that the Great Lakes states and Canadian provinces are today the most populous, richest and economically strongest of the North American continent but have less voice in tariff matters than the east.

He advocated using the area's economic strength to bring more favorable treatment for the area's welfare.

Hazard said the Seaway is presently limited by a shipping season of only 8½ months, a 27-foot depth that does not allow deep draft ocean vessels to load to maximum capacity and the inadequacy of some services. But he added this does not prevent its very effective use at present and a promise of greater value in the future.

CITES DRAWBACK

High rail freight rates were cited by Hazard as a drawback to Great Lakes shippers.

The professor called the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway system an evolving system, which already is in grave danger of obsolescence unless it keeps abreast of vessel development.

Strike Voted on Waterway

OTTAWA (AP) — St. Lawrence Seaway workers have voted overwhelmingly to strike, it was reported Monday. The walkout could paralyze the waterway, blocking its key Montreal-Lake Ontario and Welland Canal sections.

The Canadian brotherhood of railway, transport and general workers said the strike vote was taken during the last six days.

Union President W. J. Smith was expected to set a strike date today. Informants said the walkout is likely June 20, or within a week after that date.

The union has demanded a 35-per-cent wage increase to bring Canadian seaway rates more in line with pay on the U.S. side of the waterway. The strike vote rejected a federal conciliation board recommendation for an immediate 7 per cent wage increase and another 7 per cent in 1967.

Beverage Exec Killed

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Theodore Bachman, general sales manager for Faygo Beverage Co. in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana was killed Monday when his car struck a tree in Macomb County about 10 miles north of here.

PAIR REJOICE — Samuel H. Sheppard and his second wife, Ariane, rejoice after the U. S. Supreme Court decision that he did not receive a fair trial in 1954 when he was convicted in the bludgeoning-slaying of his first wife, Marilyn. The pair are shown on the lawn of their suburban home in Rocky River near Cleveland, Ohio.

'Black Book' Case Ruled No Mistrial

DETROIT (AP) — A defense motion for a mistrial was denied yesterday in the Recorder's Court examination of two Detroit restaurant operators who were charged with bribery and conspiracy to bribe.

However, Judge Vincent J. Brennan said he would ask the Bar Association to rule on the making public of the contents of two alleged payoff rosters and a black address book listing names and telephone numbers of high-ranking police officers.

The book and rosters were confiscated following the arrest of Costas (Gus) Colacandis, owner of the Grecian Gardens, and Peter Vitale, the restaurant's night manager.

Meanwhile, Police Commissioner Ray Girardin said he was forming a team consisting of himself, Police Eugene Reuter and Assistant Corporation Counsel William Doran to interrogate "the men whose names alleged to be on those lists."

Defense attorneys Joseph W. Louissell and James E. Dane charged that a prosecutor had violated grand jury secrecy by letting some of the confiscated material be photographed by the press.

Organization in State Gets Poverty Grant

CADILLAC (AP) — A grant of $12,316 was announced Monday by the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity for anti-poverty programs covered by One Cap, Inc., an organization serving the areas of Crawford, Missaukee, Roscommon and Wexford counties.

Prosecutor Must Decide on Any Retrial of Dr. Sam

CLEVELAND (AP) — The final decision on a possible murder retrial for Samuel H. Sheppard rests today with one man—Cuyahoga County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan.

"I'll decide in a day or so whether the case will be retried," Corrigan said. "I'll have to read the court's opinion first."

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled Monday that Sheppard didn't get a fair trial in 1954 because of what it called prejudicial publicity and bedlam in the courtroom.

The court ordered Sheppard freed unless the state gives him a new trial "within a reasonable time." That could mean within 60 days, as indicated by U.S. District Judge Carl A. Weinman of Dayton, who freed Sheppard in 1964.

"I could release Sheppard now," Weinman said. "Whether he is again under bail would be up to the state courts."

In Columbus, an assistant attorney general said "as far as the state is concerned, the case is closed. It will be up to Cuyahoga County."

Sheppard, 42, the balding former osteopath who has fought almost 12 years of legal battles, said he would welcome a new trial "because I am sure I could vindicate myself."

He was convicted Dec. 21, 1954, of second-degree murder in the bludgeoning slaying of his first wife, Marilyn, in their suburban Bay Village home. He was sentenced to life imprisonment and served less than 10 years.

Sheppard's lawyer, F. Lee Bailey of Boston, said he will demand a new trial. He flew here Monday night to be with Sheppard.

Sheppard said he "would hate to put my family through such an ordeal" with a retrial, but added that "they don't have enough evidence to put me back in jail, much less retry me."

Sheppard has maintained since before the trial began that a "bushy-haired" stranger murdered his wife.

Corrigan, who was not in office during the original trial, said "memories of witnesses might be hazy after all these years. It would be difficult to try the case under the conditions of today."

The Supreme Court, in its 8-1 decision, said trial Judge Edward J. Bluth, who died in 1957, "should have adopted stricter rules governing the use of the courtroom by newsmen, as Sheppard's counsel requested."

School Bus Hits Truck; 13 Pupils Are Injured

COMSTOCK (AP) — A school bus struck the rear of a truck-trailer Monday, injuring 13 elementary school pupils.

The children, among approximately 30 on board the 66-seat bus, were treated for minor injuries at Borgess Hospital in Kalamazoo and were released to their parents.

Romney-Javits Ticket 'Not Bad,' Says California's Sen. Murphy

DETROIT (AP) — A 1968 Republican ticket headed by Michigan Gov. George Romney and New York Sen. Jacob Javits has been termed "not too bad a combination" by California Republican Sen. George Murphy.

Murphy, in a speech Monday before the Economic Club of Detroit, termed Romney and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon "front runners" for the GOP presidential nomination.

A Romney-Javits ticket recently was suggested by New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. The former Hollywood actor also predicted what he described as voter unrest with President Johnson's foreign and domestic policies would result in substantial Republican gains in this fall's congressional elections.

He said the GOP should pick up 45 to 50 House seats this fall and at least four Senate seats as a result of the President's "handling of the Viet Nam war and failure in the Great Society."

Murphy, who has traveled 30 states as a fund raiser in recent months, said he is convinced there is "little disagreement" about Johnson's "firm stand in Viet Nam."

"But I feel his conduct of the war is at issue," Murphy added.

House Ignores Controversy

LANSING (AP)—The House of Representatives usually ready to debate anything from the comparative virtues of trout over bluegill to the beauties of the Potosi stone—passed up a hot issue Monday: the Christopher Columbus-Lief Erikson controversy.

Rep. Thomas Ford, R-Grand Rapids, issued the challenge in debate over a Senate-approved bill to declare Columbus Day a legal holiday. He said:

"I don't see the need for this bill. It has been authenticated that this isn't the man who first stumbled across the continent."

MILD REACTION

The reaction was mild. Rep. Ray Flavin, D-Swartz Creek, said he was willing to accept popular accounts of the discovery of America: "I wasn't there."

Rep. Marvin Stempfen, D-Livonia, said simply, "Columbus was a great man whom we could all emulate; it is fitting that we set his day aside to bring him to mind."

The house—with its eye on the calendar and the two days left to pass legislation—then passed the measure, 71-19, and sent it to Gov. George Romney. The bill actually makes the Saturday nearest Columbus Day, Oct. 12, a legal holiday, to keep it from forcing many institutions to close in midweek.

Hospital Chief From Virginia to Tour City Facility

Dr. James H. Druff, superintendent of Western State Hospital in Staunton, Va., is scheduled to tour Pontiac State Hospital tomorrow to view facilities and programs.

Just three weeks ago, Dr. Druff was host to Ted A. Panaretos, Pontiac State Hospital community relations director.

Panaretos delivered the keynote address at the annual meeting of the volunteer service council at the Virginia hospital.

While at the local hospital, Dr. Druff will confer with various department heads on the Pontiac State programs.

Southfield Golfer Advances in Amateur

Native Scot From U.S. After British Title

CARNOSTIE, Scotland (AP) — A quiet, blue-eyed Scot finished the second round of the 1966 British Amateur Golf Championship today, determined to carry the golf trophy abroad — to the United States.

This strange twist of events surrounded 25-year-old Hunter McDonald, a native of Glasgow now working in a sales organization in Michigan. His home is in Southfield.

He returned to Britain for the Amateur last year at Porthcawl, Wales, and was an impressive threat for three rounds.

"I'll not mind the excess baggage if I can carry the cup back," McDonald said.

Although the Scot is now living in the United States, his victory would still go down in the books as one for Britain.

In today's second round, McDonald downed John Rome of Scotland, 6 and 5. Tom Draper of Royal Oak was ousted by England's Jack Hayes, 4 and 3.

"I still have my British passport," he said.

He waited through Monday's first-round with a bye, as the original field was cut down to 128, including 28 Americans.

Another local golfer, Berry Byard of Royal Oak was a 5 and 4 loser to J. T. Lambie of Scotland.

Bill Hyndman III, veteran Walker Cup player from Philadelphia, rallied from three holes down for an overtime victory.

Hyndman defeated David Moffat, an English international player, on the 20th hole.

Other winners included Frank Strafaci of Miami, Fla.; Henry Wilmer of Charlotte, N.C.; and John Hoey of Baltimore, Md.

American losers were Mark McCormack of Cleveland, business manager for Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus; John Hendrickson of Flourtown, Pa.; and Warren Tibbets of Manchester, N.H.

Twenty-eight Americans were hole and sinking for a par four, among the 128 who started the second round over the 7,659-yard, par 71 Carnoustie course, where Ben Hogan won the British Open in 1953. The weather was cold, wet and forbidding.

Hyndman, who with Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., was regarded as America's best bet for the title, won his match by chipping to within four feet on the extra hole and sinking for a par four.

McCormack, a 35-year-old lawyer, lost to Ronnie Shade, Scottish Walker Cup star, 3 and 2.

State Golfers Bunched in U.S. Open Qualifying

Herbert Leads After 18 Holes in Tournament

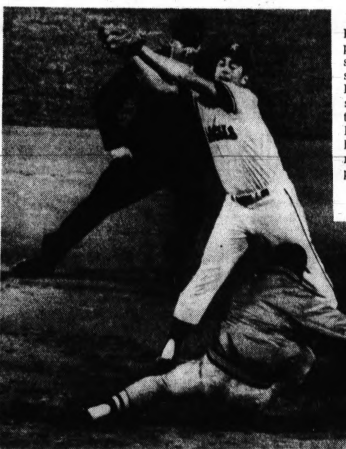

Bone Fires 74 First Round; Green Scores Eagle at Detroit

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
DETROIT — Michigan golfers were bunched in the middle of the pack in the morning round of the U.S. Open 36-hole sectional qualifying at the Country Club of Detroit today.

With many of the touring pros from the Buick Open in the field, Lionel Herbert led the morning round with a 34-68.

Most of Michigan's entries in the field were bunched between 70 and 78 led by Cass Javor of Glen Oaks with a 37-65-73.

At 74 were Gene Bone, Bay Point; John Molenda, Bay Point; Chuck Kocsis, Red Run; Bud Stevens, Western; and at 75 was Pete Green of Orchard Lake.

LONG STRETCH — Juan Pizarro, Chicago White Sox pitcher has to stretch his legs sliding into second base, and shortstop Jim Fregosi of the Los Angeles Angels has to stretch to get his hands on the throw from catcher Bob Rodgers in a game in Anaheim, Calif., last night. Pizarro was safe on the attempted pickoff play.

Wisner Game Set by Lions

The sixth annual Detroit Lions-Intra-Squad scrimmage will be Saturday night, July 30 at Wisner Stadium, and it may be the one and only time football fans will have a chance to see the Lions before the regular exhibition schedule starts.

Lions' officials announced this week that all practice sessions from the opening of rookie camp at Cranbrook would be closed to the public, and thus the Wisner appearance of the Lions would be the first chance to see the team prior to the pre-season games.

The Lions open exhibition play against the Vikings in New Orleans Saturday Aug. 6, and follow with a Thursday, Aug. 11, game against the Cardinals in Detroit.

First Win for 'A' 9 at Jaycee

The odd innings proved the big ones as Booth homes rapped Talbot Lumber, 9-2, to enter the win column in the city recreation department's Class A Baseball League Monday at Jaycee Park.

Booth scored three times in the first, third and fifth innings to give Gary Pearson his first men's league mound victory. Pearson allowed five hits and had only one rough inning.

Howard McCray doubled home a Talbot run in the third and scored the other on Dick Miller's single.

Meanwhile, Booth had taken a 3-0 lead in singles by Rick Pankey and Dan Grigg, John Kaspar's double and an error.

After Talbot's (0-2) trimmed the deficit to one run, the winners (1-1) plated three more on a walk, singles by Dan Fife and Gary Heaton and a wild pitch.

Tonight at 8 o'clock, the Clippers and Cranbrook battle for the top lead.

Ailing Dressen Given 'Intentional Walks'

DETROIT (AP) — Drawn and weary, said Red Jones, a friend pelted under a fading sun, Detroit Tigers manager Charlie Dressen still was quick with the quips Monday as he left a hospital, three weeks after his second heart attack.

"I don't know how long I'll be here," said Dressen, who moved from the hospital to a suite in Detroit's Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel. "Dr. Keyes (Dr. John Keyes Sr., heart specialist) says we'll play it by ear for a while."

"I've got to walk up and down the hall, three times a day," Dressen said.

"That's about 100 feet one way," said Red Jones, a friend pelted under a fading sun, Detroit Tigers manager Charlie Dressen still was quick with the quips Monday as he left a hospital, three weeks after his second heart attack.

Seeded Tennis Players Win in Eastern Meet

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — Four top-seeded players won their matches handily Monday in the opening day of the 44th annual Eastern Interscholastic Tennis Tournament.

Ron Goldman of Georgetown University, defending singles champion, defeated John Lewos of Hampton Institute, 6-1, 6-2.

SPORTS

Games End Early in Softball Loop

None of the four city recreation men's softball games went the distance last night as the winning teams managed to build "game-ending" leads early.

Six-inning victories terminated by the three-run rule were posted by L and S Standard, Bud and Lou's Bar and Timberlans Lounge.

37 Are Added to Buick Open

Veteran Bob Batdorf of Redding, Pa., and rookie Chuck Matlack of Rockford both fired a one under par 35-36-71 today, and led qualifiers for the Buick Open which begins Thursday.

Scores ran high as 79 players completed for 37 places on the wind-whipped Flint Golf Club course.

Bengals Draft Maine Infielder

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Tigers chose shortstop Dick DeCary of the University of Maine in special phase of this morning's major league baseball free-agent draft.

The Tigers had the second choice in the selection of players who had been drafted previously but failed to sign a professional contract.

San Francisco took pitcher Bill Frost of the University of California, as the first pick.

WBA Contenders to Begin Training

HOUSTON (AP) — Ernie Terrell's challenger for the World Boxing Association heavyweight crown, Doug Jones of New York, was scheduled to arrive here today to begin training for the title bout June 28.

Terrell, of Chicago, is expected to ride a train to Houston Wednesday for the 15-round fight. Training sites have not yet been selected.

Pontiac Press Hole-in-One Club

Bole Kennedy is hereby admitted to The Pontiac Press Hole-in-One Club on this day, June 7, for having caught his wedge shot on the 19th hole at Clarkson's.

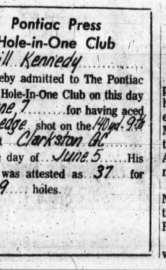

His score was attested as 37 for the 9 holes.

Paper Reports Paul Horning Going to AFL

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Times Herald said Tuesday that Sonny Werblin, owner of the New York Jets of the American Football League, has Paul Horning's contract for 1967 in his pocket.

The paper continues that the Green Bay Packers halfback, one of the great stars of the National Football League, is receiving a bonus of $175,000 to play out his option this fall and then sign with the Jets for three years.

Additionally, the Times Herald continued, AFL negotiators are going all the way in demands for settlement of the dispute with the NFL over signing of veterans.

Midland Title to Flint Nine

MIDLAND (AP) — The winning pitcher and a teammate hit home runs as Flint Northwestern downed defending champion Midland 6-5 Monday and won the Midland High School Class A Invitational Baseball Tournament.

Northwestern pitcher Jim Novaro's two-run homer in the third inning was duplicated by pitcher Edend in the sixth.

Losing pitcher Brian Sullivan went six innings.

Pitcher Sandy Koufax 'Finally Hitting'

NEW YORK (AP) — No wonder, he capped the Dodgers' seven-run explosion with a two-run single.

"Last year I broke a 10-year slump," he said, "and it looked like I was starting another one this year."

Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodgers' phenomenal southpaw pitcher, collected his first hits of the season in a 16-3 victory over New York Sunday — and tied a modern National League record by getting both of them in the same inning.

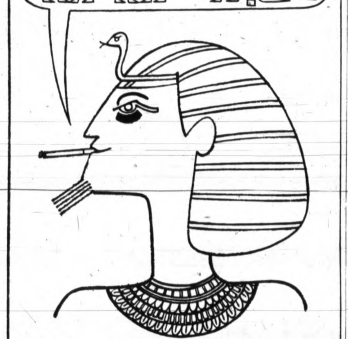

Sandy enjoyed his best year later, he capped the Dodgers' seven-run explosion with a two-run single.

"I missed spring training, but I'm a little late," he said. "I missed spring training, but I'm a little late," he said. "I missed spring training, but I'm a little late," he said.

nia Angels, who have lost three about Anaheim Stadium being a swing for the fences." That's the advice Manager Bill Rigney has for his Califo-

Monday night after Chicago's Juan Pizarro and Dennis Higgins combined to stop the Angels 5-1 on a six-hitter.

The Angels spoiled several early scoring chances against Pizarro by grounding into four double plays.

"Most of our hitters are over-swinging," said Rigney, noting that the Angels have scored one run or less in three of their last five games here.

LOW EBB

Rigney and his troops are at low ebb and Chicago Manager Eddie Stanky knows exactly how they feel.

Less than two weeks ago, the White Sox had a 16-20 record and were in a plunge toward the American League cellar.

Now they've won five games in a row and nine of their last 11, a streak that has lifted them into fourth place—five games from the top.

The performance by Pizarro and Higgins continued a strong run of pitching by a Chicago staff that has given up just 10 runs in the past 11 games. They've hurled six shutouts in that span.

Chicago's series-opening victory featured base-empty homers by veteran Bill Skowron and rookie shortstop Lee Elia. Floyd Robinson drove in two other Chicago runs with a single and a sacrifice fly.

The loss went to starter Jack Sanford 5-2, who allowed three runs in four innings.

Dislikes Baseball Travel

Buc Rookie Prefers Farming

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Woody Fryman, emerging as one of the top pitchers for the Pittsburgh Pirates in his rookie year, has one regret about leaving his Kentucky tobacco farm for baseball—too much traveling.

"I never was crazy about traveling," said Fryman.

A year ago, Fryman was growing tobacco on his farm outside of Lexington, Ky. And he admits he might be there now if his father hadn't helped convince him to give baseball a try.

"I guess I signed because he wanted me to try it," Fryman said Monday, saying he had several tryouts before signing with the Pirates last July.

"I could never get together (on money) with any of those teams," he said. "I had tryouts with the Pirates going back to 1960. Finally, last year at a Pi-rate tryout camp they said they wanted to sign me even though I only pitched to four hitters."

With Batavia in the New York-Penn League and Columbus in the International League last season, Fryman had a combined 3-4 record. Now he is pitched among the top pitchers in the National League, with a 4-0 record and 2.41 earned run average—in his first season of major league baseball.

"I'm not doing anything differently," the 23-year-old southpaw said. "Actually, I've been pretty fortunate to get some pretty good defense and a few runs scored behind me. Last year at Columbus, I lost 2-1 in 11 innings, went 10 innings to no decision and then lost another game 3-2."

Manager Harry Walker says he is pleased, but not overly surprised with Fryman's showing.

"He's no freak," Walker said. "Fryman throws the ball well." Woody's victories have come against St. Louis, Los Angeles and Houston (twice). He has three complete games in four starts.

"I'm real excited with the way everything has gone," Fryman said. "I hope I can keep it up. I've only faced two of the teams twice and each time you pitch against a club, of course, they get to know you better and it gets tougher and tougher to beat them."

Fryman said that before last year, his pitching was in a semi-pro league around Lexington, and limited to Sundays.

Littler Gains in Money Race

Sanders PGA Leader for Winnings

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Gene Littler, who won $12,000 for his second place finish in the Memphis Open, moved into eighth place among professional golfers with $33,993 in total earnings this year.

Doug Sanders continued to pace the pack with $74,549, made up of $54,551 in official winnings and $19,998 in unofficial money, the Professional Golfers' Association reported Monday.

Gay Brewer moved up to second place with a total of $55,968 while Jack Nicklaus came from fifth last week to third with $54,313, followed by Frank Beard at $51,027 and Arnold Palmer, who slipped to fifth with $47,967 in official winnings but was second in total money at $66,801.

The leaders, with official, unofficial and total winnings: Doug Sanders, $54,551, $19,998, $74,549; ay Brewer, $51,027, $4,941, $55,968; Jack Nicklaus, $50,853, $3,460, $54,313; Frank Beard, $49,230, $1,797, $51,027; Arnold Palmer, $47,967, $18,833, $66,801.

Bruce Devlin, $41,581, $206, $41,917; Phil Rodgers, $37,575, $5,480, $43,054; Gene Littler, $34,559, $1,334, $35,893; Lionel Hebert, $33,369, $1,407, $34,767; Tony Lema, $32,546, $1,994, $34,640.

All-Star Game Duets

Have Greater Demand

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals announced Monday that they had received orders for more than 100,000 tickets for the July 12 major league All-Star game at their new 97,500-seat stadium.

The club began accepting mail orders for reserved seats last Friday. The Cardinals said the only tickets left for the classic are 4,082 bleacher seats.

Baseball's Fund Still Has Woes

NEW YORK (AP) — The manner of raising $150,000 to run the major league baseball players' association, including $50,000 for executive director Marvin Miller, still is causing problems between the owners and the athletes.

The athletes wanted to take the money out of the pension fund but the owners told them May 3 that it might be illegal. In return, they suggested that the players be freed of the obligation of paying about $350 a year ($2 a day for 172 playing days) to help support the pension fund. They figured this money then could go to run the players' office.

Plan Transfer to Home Area for A. J. Foyt

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Auto racing star A. J. Foyt will be transferred Wednesday to a hospital in Houston, Tex., to complete his recovery from surgery suffered in a crash during a practice run Saturday. Foyt, in good condition, suffered second and third degree burns of the hands, face and neck in an accident that he occurred while he was testing the Wisconsin State Fair Park track.

The 31-year-old Houston driver was to compete in a 100-mile race at the park last Sunday. Dr. Michael A. Polacek said Foyt was being removed to Houston where he would be closer to his family.

The doctor said the outlook was optimistic that Foyt would regain complete use of his hands.

"He has good function right now," Polacek said. "He's doing very well."

Foyt plans to return to the track once he recovers.

When the player representatives met with the executive council Monday, they rejected the owners' suggestion. Instead, the players asked to continue to pay the $2 a day into a fund that would be accounted for separately so that the association could draw out money for expenses.

STUDY LAW

The owners suggested again this might be illegal under the Taft-Hartley act, governing labor-management relations.

Miller, who takes over as director of the players' association July 1, still is an official of the United Steelworkers of America. He wants to refer the matter to the four-man pension committee and eventually to arbitration, if no agreement is reached.

"If the owners think our proposal might violate Taft-Hartley," said Miller, "they must consider us a labor organization. I haven't even thought of that."

"There were no legal problems when this matter first came up in 1964. Nor any other time until I was nominated for the office. It's as simple as this. We want to do as we planned. They think that is illegal. We say let's test it."

The two groups hope to get together again before the All-Star game in July.

Franchise Picks Allen to Coach

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia's National Hockey League club confirmed Monday that Keith Allen, 43, has officially agreed to coach the team.

It was reported last week that Allen was a likely choice. The team, which begins play in the 1967-68 NHL season, announced that Allen, a Saskatchewan, Saskatchewan, native, will sign his contract Tuesday in Philadelphia.

Allen, a member of the Stanley Cup champion Detroit Red Wings, in 1955-54, coached Seattle of the Western Hockey League to two first-place finishes and one playoff championship from 1956 until the end of the 1965 season, when he was appointed general manager.

2nd Place Tie in Waterford Softball

McAnnally's Auto Sales built a 5-0 lead and coasted to a 7-4 win over Midget Bar Monday to tie for second place in the Waterford Township Men's recreation softball league.

Buckner Finance posted its second win by thumping winless Dixie Tool and Stamping, 12-2, in last night's other game at the Drayton Plains diamond.

McAnnally's Ted Wharry posted his fourth victory without a loss as the leading township mountman, Jim McClellan touched the hurler for a solo homer for the barnen.

Ross Desenfantes retired the first 13 Dixie batters and his Buckner mates erupted for nine first-inning runs on four hits, four errors and three walks.

The top of the standings will be rearranged tonight when McAnnally's and Hillcrest Naz-fire are battle for second place at 7 o'clock before Day's Sanitary and Lakeland Pharmacy meet in a showdown for first place.

The Monument, the Man—2

DeGaulle's Greatness Began in 1940

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second article in a five-part series on Charles de Gaulle.)

By TOM A. CULLEN

PARIS (NEA) — Greatness begins when? For Brig. Gen. Charles de Gaulle it began at 6 p.m. on June 18, 1940, when, broadcasting from London, he declared: "France has lost a battle. France has not lost the war!"

Until then, de Gaulle was merely a professional soldier with unorthodox views on tank warfare. Views, incidentally, have earned him a reputation among his fellow officers of being a "Bolshevik."

He had no political experience before June 18, 1940. Nor did he aspire to political leadership when he made his announcement.

In his naivete, he supposed that it would be the signal for an uprising throughout the French empire.

But there was no response. De Gaulle stood alone, committed to a proposition which manifestly was untrue.

FRANCE SUBMISSIVE

France had lost the war. Her armies had been defeated on the field of battle. Her government had bowed its head in submission to their German occupier, and the majority of Frenchmen had acquiesced.

But because he continued to insist, against all evidence that his proposition was true, something remarkable happened.

France had not lost the war. But only Gen. de Gaulle believed this. Therefore, he alone was France. Did not his name literally mean "of France?"

From 1940 the general never wavered in the conviction that he was France's alter ego.

HOLDER OF SOVEREIGNTY

In his own words: "The general possessed something elemental, permanent, necessary which he incarnated by history. . . . He was a kind of designated holder of sovereignty."

In retrospect, his earlier life was merely a preparation for that moment in June, 1940, when history tapped him on the shoulder.

"Perhaps it is my mission to represent in the history of our country its last upsurge towards the lofty heights," he cried.

"Perhaps it is my lot to have written the last pages in the book of our greatness."

Like Joan of Arc, he spent as much time scolding and warning the nation, as he did in listening to his interior voices.

In the '20s and '30s those warnings took the form of urging France to modernize its defenses against a possible invader.

After meeting with many rebuffs, de Gaulle was promoted to colonel in 1937 and given command of the 507th Tank Regiment stationed in Metz, which meant a chance to test his theories of mechanized warfare.

The armada of French tanks, tumbling in formation over the low-lying hills, soon became a familiar sight to the peasants of Lorraine.

CROSS OF LORRAINE

For his personal emblem, de

Gaulle chose the ancient two-armed Cross of Lorraine, red upon a white ground.

It was soon to become known the world over as the symbol of the Free French movement.

Of the three armored divisions with which France started World War II, one was smashed on the first day of the German advance in May, 1940.

The other two were broken up to relieve dangerous situations — and hence were ineffectual.

'PAPER' DIVISION

As for de Gaulle, at the outbreak of the war he was given command of the Fourth Armored Division — which existed largely on paper.

Even so, he and his scraped-together force rampaged around the countryside, and took 130 prisoners — almost the only Germans captured in the Battle of France.

On June 6, 1940 de Gaulle was called into the government of Paul Reynaud as undersecretary at the National Defense Ministry.

He at once urged Reynaud to transfer the seat of government to North Africa, from where Frenchmen could continue the war against Nazi Germany. But Reynaud hesitated.

MISSION TO BRITAIN

On June 9, de Gaulle was sent on a mission to Britain, and met Winston Churchill for the first time at No. 10 Downing Street.

"Under an impassive demeanor he seemed to have a remarkable capacity for feeling pain," Churchill wrote of him. "Here is the Constable of France."

Flying back to France de Gaulle learned upon landing at Bordeaux that Reynaud had resigned, and that Marshal Petain, his commanding officer of former days, was forming a government pledged to cooperate with the Nazis.

De Gaulle told his British pilot, "Be ready at dawn — I shall return to Britain."

It was thus that Grig. Gen. Charles de Gaulle, with two Khaki shirts and 100,000 francs as his only earthly possessions, arrived in Britain to organize the liberation of his stricken country.

Lansing Candidate

LANSING (AP) — Thomas L. Brown, Lansing attorney, has announced as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the 57th representative district seat now held by H. James Starr, D-Lansing.

Hare Reports on Uninsured

LANSING (AP)—The total of known uninsured vehicles on Michigan roads has climbed to 145,982—or 3.86 per cent of all registered vehicles, Secretary of State James Hare reports.

Hare has estimated Michigan has between 150,000 and 200,000 uninsured drivers. He believes several thousand still have not paid their $5 uninsured motorist fee as required by law.

The state's motor vehicle accident claims fund had $8.75 million as of May 26. Hare reported Monday. Of the total, $3,785,750 was paid by the $1 fee for insured motorists and $4,963,388 was paid by uninsured drivers.

About $30,010 in claims has been paid out, mostly for property damage, Hare said, and uninsured drivers have repaid $300 in claims paid for them by the fund.

Eliminate Old Troublesome House Windows With Low-Cost Nu-Sash

Unique New Replacement Unit is Installed Easily and Economically to Modernize Home

Costly problems caused by old-fashioned, troublesome, hard-to-wash house windows are quickly and economically answered for homeowners who need to modernize. Nu-Sash, a unique new product that has gained fantastic success in thousands of homes, provides the easy solution.

Nu-Sash is an aluminum unit specifically designed to replace old windows — at about 40% in savings over other methods of replacing.

One Low Price

One low-price includes complete installation. The reason Nu-Sash are so economically priced is due to the unique and exact method of installation.

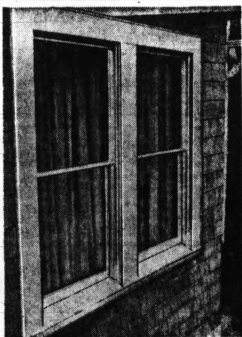

No outside work or renovating is required. Plaster and woodwork are never disturbed. The old sash are removed, new side jamb liners are fitted into place, then the Nu-Sash units are inserted. The average window can be converted in about 20 minutes.

Nu-Sash replace most all types of house windows. Picture window models are available to replace old-fashioned twin and triple units. A heavy duty model is available for schools, apartments, and commercial buildings.

Nu-Sash replacements are so sturdy that test results show the window superior to standards set up by FHA for new-house construction requirements.

Nu-Sash Pays For Itself

Savings in heating bills and air conditioning will pay for a Nu-Sash conversion. Other costly painting, puttying, and constant maintenance are eliminated.

The windows are constructed entirely of rigid vinyl and aluminum. A satin-like anodized protective coating keeps the aluminum finish bright and new looking for years.

Complete fiberglass insulation all around the window, as well as complete full weatherstripping, seals out cold, dust, dirt, drafts, and air.

As an important and permanent addition to the home, Nu-Sash qualify for low interest home improvement loans. Additional details and free literature about this replacement window are available by mailing the coupon.
