Curtice and Bradley Retire Sept. 1

Donner and Gordon Named to Top Posts by GM

Management Structure Changed by Corporation

Donner, Board Chairman, Is Chief Executive Officer; Gordon Heads Operations

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — A finance expert and an authority on production and engineering have been named to direct the destinies of the world's biggest industrial corporation.

General Motors directors yesterday elected Frederic G. Donner, 56, board chairman and chief executive officer, and John F. Gordon, 58, as president and chief operating officer.

Their election, effective Sept. 1, followed the retirement of Board Chairman Albert Bradley and President Harlow H. Curtice, both of whom have passed GM's normal retirement age of 65.

In effect, Curtice's job as president and chief executive officer is being divided between Donner and Gordon.

Donner has been with General Motors since 1926; Gordon joined the corporation in 1923. Donner's work has been almost entirely in finance, Gordon's in engineering and production.

In the selection of the two new top executives, industry circles see an indication of the competitive battle GM anticipates in the post-recession period. It has been said in automotive circles that whenever a new president is named by General Motors an individual with precisely the talents needed at the time has been chosen.

James E. Goodman, a vice president of GM and general manager of Fisher Body Division, was elected a director of GM, a member of the executive committee and group executive in charge of body and assembly divisions succeeding Gordon.

(Both Gordon and Goodman are Oakland County residents, with homes in Bloomfield Hills. The Gordon home is at 1860 Rathmore Drive, and the Goodman home at 451 Goodhue Rd.)

Industry analysts say the battle ahead in which GM will seek to hold its dominating role in automotive production and sales will involve major problems in finance and engineering.

It was under Curtice's driving energy and his philosophy that General Motors "always must lead" that the far-flung corporation in 1955 became the first and only industrial enterprise to pile up more than a billion dollars in net profits for a single year.

Pontiac '59 Cars, Lower and Wider, Shown to Newsmen

By JOHN W. FITZGERALD
Editor, Pontiac Press

Pontiac Motor Division today held a dress rehearsal for newsmen of its completely new line of 1959 cars. This year's styling and engineering changes are the most revolutionary in the history of the company.

Pontiac's sales objective for 1959 is seven per cent of the total industry market, S. E. Knudsen, vice president of General Motors and Pontiac general manager, said this afternoon. He declared that the total automotive market should settle in the area of five and a half million for 1959.

Press, radio and TV men gathered at Detroit's Masonic Temple to view the 1959 Pontiac line, to be publicly introduced Oct. 9. Knudsen said, "With our 1959 car, a superb automobile with a prestige factor built into every model, we are stepping into a new era in automobile manufacturing and selling." He characterized the era as one of "more orderly growth — extremely competitive—but more stable."

S. E. KNUDSEN

Knudsen revealed that the Pontiac line, inspired by completely new, lower and wider bodies, will be available in 14 styles in 3 series, the new value-packed Catalina, the Star Chief and the Bonneville, all with added roominess and trunk capacity.

He indicated that in the new line Pontiac has aimed at lower roof lines to give the car one of the lowest silhouettes in the industry. He said width has been increased, chiefly inside, to provide more seating space.

Touching on styling, Pontiac's general manager remarked that, "In our '59 we have put more emphasis on the sculpturing of sheet metal, less on bright work." He made plain, however, that "this does not mean chrome, aluminum and stainless steel have been eliminated, but rather, judiciously used — both for accent and protection."

Increased gasoline mileage was cited by Knudsen as another Pontiac goal successfully reached in '59. He declared, "This year we offer added economy at no extra cost in an optional V-8 engine giving more miles per gallon and excellent performance."

He reported that this improvement "stems from the use of the same basic engine, with the addition of an economy carburetor, improved manifold, a new cam and a special differential." He stressed that the engine, to be available on all models, will use regular gasoline and will have an 8.6 compression ratio.

Knudsen expressed the view that Pontiac's successful effort

Pontiac has set 7 per cent of the market as its goal for 1959, S. E. Knudsen, general manager of the division, said today. With an anticipated model year of 5 to 5½ million cars this would mean in excess of 350,000 cars.

Skilled Workers Tie Up Pontiac

Strike of About 100 Early Today Keeps 5,000 From Jobs

Approximately 5,000 Pontiac Motor Division employes were idled today by a strike that began at 3 a.m. when about 100 skilled workers, constituting the night shift, left their jobs in the tool and machine repair room of Plant No. 4.

Peaceful picketing by small groups was reported by Pontiac Police this morning.

Division manager S. E. Knudsen attacked the "irresponsible attitude" of the union, charging the strike could affect the jobs of up to 23,000 workers across the country.

Charles A. Beach, president of Local 653, UAW, replied that management had "failed to bargain in good faith," and had been working some employes overtime while others are laid off, due to model changeovers.

Both sides indicated a willingness to negotiate, although no negotiating session had been scheduled this morning.

A membership meeting of Local 653 was scheduled for 2 p.m. tomorrow at the local hall "to bring members up to date on the pro-

Fair and a little cooler with the low dipping to around 48 is the weatherman's prediction for tonight. Today's southwesterly winds will become light and variable tonight and northwesterly at 6-12 miles an hour tomorrow.

Fair and continued cool is tomorrow's forecast with a high reaching around 70 and low 56. The outlook for Thursday is showers and warmer.

Fifty-one was the lowest temperature reading preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The recording was 74 at 2 p.m.

Arkansas Legislators Set to Snag Integration Plans

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas lawmakers gathered today ready to stamp approval on measures aimed at keeping Little Rock's schools segregated unless voters approve racially mixed classes.

The Little Rock School Board scrapped one measure before the Legislature met. It announced postponement of all city school openings from Sept. 2 to Sept. 8 to ease the time pressure on the Legislature and the U.S. Supreme Court.

A bill requiring the delay in the fall term had been prepared for legislative approval.

Mob violence and the meaning of "all deliberate speed" are at the heart of the problem facing the Supreme Court in its special session Thursday.

What the court does will affect the integration situation at public schools throughout the South although it will actually be dealing only with events involving Little Rock's Central High School.

ORDER NOT SPECIFIC

The court didn't say how it should be done when on May 17, 1954, it ordered an end to racial segregation in public schools. It clarified itself somewhat later—in 1955—when it said integration must be carried out with "all deliberate speed."

It didn't say exactly what that meant. It left the task of interpreting "all deliberate speed" to the various federal district judges who were best able to know the problems and attitudes on integration in their districts.

If the Supreme Court lets the Circuit Court's stay order continue in effect it will be agreeing to keep Negroes out of Central High when this year's school term starts.

Chinese Reds Bombarding Quemoy for Fourth Day

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Communists bombarded Quemoy in short, furious bursts for the fourth straight day today, again increasing the volume of shells poured into the little Chinese Nationalist outpost island.

The bombardment, which some officials feared was a prelude to invasion of the Nationalist offshore islands, began with about 80,000 shells over the weekend but subsided yesterday to some 2,900. Today the Reds stepped up the tempo again.

In three rounds of shelling from the nearby mainland beginning shortly after midnight, the Communists hit Quemoy and the nearby Tan Islets about 930 times, Nationalist Defense Ministry said.

Then in nearly three hours of

Uncle Herman Stands Mute

Judge Grants Request by Kierdorf's Lawyer for Lower Bond

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland entered a plea of innocent for Herman Kierdorf when he was arraigned yesterday for possessing a pistol silencer.

Afterwards, the judge granted a request of Kierdorf's attorney, William F. Dohany, to lower a already-posted $25,000 bond. It was lowered to $15,000.

Kierdorf, uncle of Frank Kierdorf, sat behind Dohany as he told Judge Holland his client wished to stand mute on the silencer charge. Conviction could mean five years in prison and a $2,500 fine.

Judge Holland added the case to the September docket. If a jury is requested this would mean that the case would not be heard until sometime after Sept. 23, when the first jury of the September term is to be impaneled.

Dohany, who had once before been refused lower bond by Judge Holland argued Monday that it was "rather excessive" and 10 times the maximum fine for the charge.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem and Assistant Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry opposed any reduction. Ziem introduced Kierdorf's criminal record which he said "shows some aggressive action on the part of Herman Kierdorf."

"He took leave, as it were, after promising one of our assistant prosecutors he would be around," said Barry of Herman's 13-day disappearance after seeing his nephew's charred body at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Aug. 4.

More Than He 'Ever Dreamed of' Back in 1914

Curtice Lauds Nation's Vast Opportunities

From Our Wire Services

DETROIT — Harlow H. Curtice, whose retirement as president of General Motors was announced late yesterday, has one firm conviction about America — there is greater opportunity today than Curtice "ever dreamed of" when he started out in 1914.

Curtice, like the man who succeeds him as head of General Motors—Frederic G. Donner—started out in a tiny Michigan community. He was born in Petrieville (Mich.), Aug. 15, 1893.

Curtice went to a small frame one-room schoolhouse in Petrieville, high school in nearby Eaton Rapids and took two years of accounting at Ferris Institute at Big Rapids.

Curtice came to General Motors in 1914 just before his 21st birthday.

Responding to a classified newspaper advertisement he got a job as bookkeeper for the corporation's AC Spark Plug Division. At 36 he was head of the division.

He moved to Buick and pulled it out of a slump. Then he was made an executive vice president of the corporation. At 58 he was named president.

Curtice's salary, including bonuses — and before taxes — has been estimated at close to a million dollars a year.

"Red" Curtice as his intimate friends call him, is GM's 11th president. He succeeded Charles E. Wilson when Wilson became defense secretary in President Eisenhower's cabinet. GM has had engineering-minded presidents, top executives trained in finance and production experts to direct its destiny. Curtice has been called the corporate statesman. He has been typed as the supersalesman.

But he was more than that. Completely dedicated to his task in GM, his business philsosophy has been that "General Motors must always lead." His drive for that leadership has been described by some industry writers as relentless.

He declined to be disturbed when it was suggested GM's more than 40 per cent of the automotive market invited potential trouble with the Justice Department's Anti-Trust Division. Questions in this connection often were asked of Curtice at press conferences.

His smiling reply usually would be: "Can we help it if more people want our product?"

Under Curtice's leadership General Motors became the first corporation in the world to make a net profit of a billion dollars in one year. That was in 1955 when GM built approximately four million of the 7,942,000 cars produced in this country.

Curtice disagreed bluntly with those who termed annual model changes in automobile design as wasteful and would have the policy abandoned.

He described the annual model change as "the most important single factor responsible for the growth and vitality" of the auto industry.

"It has made possible an annual volume of sales that never could have been achieved had cars remained in the hands of their initial owners during the period of their useful life," he said.

Curtice's associates describe him as swift in decision and rarely wrong. They say he rarely finds time for informality within the corporation. For relaxation Curtice hunts occasionally, watches night

Pontiac Girl, 4, Killed by Auto

Cande Lou Jones Dies of Head Injuries Shortly After Running Into Car

A four-year-old Pontiac girl died at Pontiac General Hospital yesterday afternoon less than an hour after running into the side of a moving car.

Pontiac Police reported she was Cande Lou Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jones, 63 Bellevue St.

Oakland Highway Toll in '58

The driver of the car, Thomas L. Hampton, 46, of 71 Fiddis Ave., told police he was going east on Bellevue just north of Jessie St. when he heard a "thud" on the right side.

He stopped and found the small girl on her hands and knees alongside the car. She had evidently run into the street behind a parked car, said police.

The child's mother ran to the scene and asked Hampton to take her and the child to the hospital. Hampton did so, but the child was pronounced dead at 1:44 p.m.

Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. M. G. Prosser said that death was due to head injuries.

420 May Die in Traffic Over Holiday

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council estimates 420 persons may be killed in traffic accidents during the long Labor Day weekend.

That is 70 deaths more than might be expected to occur during a non-holiday period this time of the year.

The council says the toll could be cut if every driver would reduce normal speed by at least 10 m.p.h., concentrate on a safe rather than quick arrival and not drive after drinking.

The holiday driving period extends from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday.

Country Boy Donner Knows GM Purse

DETROIT (AP)—Frederic G. Donner, new head of the world's largest manufacturing corporation, is a country boy who climbed to the top.

The 56-year-old Donner takes over the reins of General Motors Sept. 1 as chairman of the board and chief executive officer, succeeding retiring Harlow H. Curtice.

Thus into a job that last year paid $558,875 moves a quiet, studious financial expert who in 1902 was born in the rural Michigan community of Three Oaks, population 994.

Donner skyrocketed to the top of the industrial empire without building or selling a single car.

For two decades his job has been to keep the multi-billion-dollar corporation on a steady financial basis. Yesterday he got his reward.

Little known to the public at large, Donner is said by associates to possess a sharp, analytical mind and to speak with remarkable clarity.

As the top financier for GM, his main concern is with corporate bond dealings, stockholder relations and other financial problems which keep him outside the glare of publicity.

After obtaining a degree in economics at the University of Michigan and picking up a Phi Beta Kappa key along the way, Donner moved to Chicago where his first job was with an accounting firm.

In 1926, he moved to New York, joining GM as an accountant. By 1934 he was assistant treasurer and by 1941 was vice president in charge of the financial staff, at the age of 39 the youngest vice president in GM history.

Described by associates as a "brilliant man who is brilliant without ostentation", Donner is generally credited with strengthening the corporation's financial structure which enabled GM to capitalize on the postwar boom in the auto industry.

It was Donner who directed arrangements for a billion dollar GM revolving credit, largest ever extended to a single corporation.

Cost-Conscious Gordon Can Get Things Done

DETROIT (AP) — The new president of General Motors Corp. once nearly went to work for the old Packard Motor Car Co.

That was in 1923 when John F. Gordon had just been graduated from the University of Michigan with a masters degree in engineering. After returning from a vacation in Colorado, Gordon found the prospective Packard job filled.

Applying at four other automobile companies, Gordon was offered jobs by all of them and finally decided on Cadillac. Three months later, he was a laboratory assistant earning 60 cents an hour.

The 58-year-old cost-conscious executive is known as a quiet, unassuming man who gets things done.

Gordon's new job makes him GM's chief production pusher. He knows the oily end of the business. Along with a number of other engineers, he helped design the high-compression V-8 engines of the overhead-valve type which now have become the auto industry's standard engine.

Gordon's engineering genius also helped design and develop the famed Allison aircraft engine during World War II.

After Cadillac broke all sales and production records under Gordon, he was quickly named vice president in charge of all GM engineering. In 1951, less than a year later, he was made group vice president in charge of body and assembly divisions.

Goodman Not Afraid to Get Hands Dirty

DETROIT (AP)—James E. Goodman is a man who is not afraid to get his hands dirty.

As newly-elected head of General Motors' body and assembly divisions, the 53-year-old Goodman takes over a managerial hot spot that requires the respect and admiration of the men on the assembly line. Goodman has it.

For under the clean white shirt of the good-natured executive, bulge the knotty muscles of a man who has worked on the production line in some of the most rugged jobs in the auto industry.

But despite his hard-muscled ability and drive, "Bud" Goodman has a soft heart. Much of the spare time of this man who never went to college is devoted to helping out young men who need financial assistance.

Goodman, who has a son at Purdue University, for years has helped administer the GM scholarship program there.

But he wanted to help youngsters in other ways, so this year he set up the Martha I. Goodman scholarship fund in honor of his mother.

He joined Fisher Body in 1925 at its Norwood, Ohio, plant, on the assembly line. Eleven years and various supervisory positions later, Goodman returned to the plant as its resident manager.

After that, it was one step after another up the executive ladder.

In 1948, he became general manager of the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac Assembly Division. By 1952, he had became vice president of General Motors and general manager of Fisher Body.

Yesterday's promotion moves Goodman into the spot previously occupied by John F. Gordon, who advances to the No. 2 position in the world's largest corporation.

But Sprains His Ankle

Davy Plays Peter Pan

David Fisher, 5, had nothing more serious than a sprained left ankle today to teach him that the story of Peter Pan is really only make-believe.

David, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Fisher, tried to "fly" out an upstairs window at his home, 551 DeSota Pl., only to fall 18 feet to the lawn below.

Afterwards he told his mother, Jane, that he was trying to imitate J. M. Barrie's wondrous child character, recently portrayed on screen and television.

The Fishers have two other children, Rebecca, 3, and Timothy, 18 months. Fisher works in the plant protection department at GMC Truck & Coach Division.

Pontiac Promotes 4 Top Executives

Pontiac Motor Division today announced promotion of four top executives to new posts and duties in the sale division. Appointments, effective Sept. 1, were announced by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager.

The men and their new posts are:

Benjamin A. Kissam, advertising manager;

M. R. Spears, assistant to the general sales manager in charge of field relations;

L. W. Walker, assistant to the general sales manager in charge of staff operations; and

W. P. Holzworth, sales promotion manager.

Kissam joined Pontiac Motor's advertising department in 1936 and became manager of the customer relations department the following year. In 1938 he transferred to Pontiac's field sales organization and received subsequent assignments as district manager, assistant zone manager, zone manager, and regional manager.

In 1956 Kissam returned to the home office in Pontiac, Michigan, to assume duties as assistant general sales manager, in charge of staff operations.

A native of Millburn, N.J., Kissam completed courses at Rutgers Extension Institute and served as advertising manager for a New York publishing firm before affiliating with Pontiac. He lives in Birmingham, is married and has two sons.

Spears joins the Pontiac home office following a three year assignment in Dallas as western regional manager of the field sales organization.

An employe of General Motors since 1924, Spears served the sales departments of other General Motors Divisions prior to transferring to Pontiac Motor in 1934, and was zone manager in Dallas prior to assuming regional duties in 1955.

He was born in Big Spring, Texas, and is married to the former Lena Glenn, of Dallas.

Walker, formerly sales promotion manager for the division, has 30 years service with General Motors. Affiliations with Buick and Chevrolet preceded his joining Pontiac in 1946.

Born in Adrian, Walker attended Adrian and Grove City, Pa., colleges. He is married and resides in Birmingham.

Holzworth has been assistant sales promotion manager since March of this year.

Following his graduation from the University of Virginia in 1948, he joined the Pontiac sales organization and served progressively at district and zone levels as service adjuster, district manager, assistant car distributor, car distributor, business management manager, sales promotion manager for the midwest region, and assistant zone manager in Los Angeles.

Holzworth is a native of Birmingham where he now resides. He is married and has three children.

cate the billion-dollar profit in 1956 or 1957, but held its leadership in the industry with nearly 51 per cent of over-all sales in 1956 and 48.66 in 1957. In the first half of the current year it had increased its sales to almost 49 per cent.

Generally it came through the recession that hit the car industry about a year ago in better shape than its major competitors.

Industry authorities say that the change in the corporate set-up will not lessen the responsibilities that will fall upon "Jack" Gordon.

Gordon, who has been vice president and group executive in charge of body and assembly divisions since Jan. 1, 1951, formerly was general manager of the Cadillac Division, leader in the industry's luxury car field.

To him also will fall the duty of further developing many of GM's cars of tomorrow, although the actual work will be carried on by one of the world's largest scientific and engineering staffs.

Aside from being the largest producer and distributor of motor vehicles in the world GM also has the auto industry's biggest engineering research organization.

Here it has developed not only numerous cars of tomorrow — or "dream" cars as they have been called — but also many devices used in medical practices such as mechanical lungs and mechanisms that temporarily take over the functions of the human heart in delicate surgical operations.

Another modification in GM's organizational structure voted by the directors was the designation of the corporation's finance committee and executive committee as the governing committee of the corporation.

Donner continues as chairman of the finance committee and Gordon becomes chairman of the executive committee. Donner, born in Three Oaks, was graduated from the University of Michigan with a bachelor of arts degree in 1923.

At Ann Arbor he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. His job with GM has been largely that of keeping the big corporation on a steady financial course.

His concern has been chiefly with corporate bond flotations, stockholder relations and other activities not very widely known outside the financial area. In these activities Donner personally has not become as widely known as most other automotive executives.

Gordon, born in Akron, Ohio, has been described as primarily "an engineer at heart." He has been credited with a large part of the development of techniques that brought out the powerful Allison aircraft engine and placed it on an assembly line basis.

Before becoming Cadillac's general manager he was its chief engineer. It was during his Cadillac assignment that a high compression V-8 engine of the overhead valve type was developed. It still is in general use throughout the industry.

What the new appointments will mean in salary for the new executives was not disclosed. Curtice's 1957 salary and bonus totaled $558,875. Donner was paid $442,500 and Gordon $338,700. In each instance the amounts were before taxes.

Thief Forgets Manners

REDONDO BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Leo D. Burr left a note on his door reading, "Make yourself at home, the key's under the welcome mat." Whoever read the note, went in and walked out with two rifles, an adding machine, a typewriter, a sewing machine and a piggy bank didn't even leave a "thank you" note.

to engineer new concepts of style and performance into its automobile will boost Pontiac prestige beyond that of competing makes.

"Now," he pointed out, "car buyers can make a selection on price and features, in both of which we have an edge."

The Pontiac general manager noted that "New, younger and bigger families, the continuing move to the suburbs, coupled to long-range increases in family income have scarcely begun." He stated, "Greater leisure, improving national highways and the room that families with 3 and 4 children seem to need, call for the cars that we make."

He fixed attention on the fact that the bulk of Pontiac sales are still made to the one-car family. He declared, "The basic family car, then, must continue to be a multipurpose automobile, able to meet all the transportation needs of the family and its budget."

Today's potential customers were described by the GM executive as "frightened by the world situation and confused by the recession. They keep their courage up," he remarked, "by regular trips to the bank. They buy steadily, even though they make a big show of economizing on cars." He took the stand that "these people can be induced to part with their money in the months to come."

He based this opinion on the fact that "things are looking better in business. The recession will move into the background as 1958 wears on and we head into 1959. The public is loaded with cash to spend as mood changes from pessimism to confidence."

sports events on television, and sometimes plays poker with old friends when a day off comes along.

Curtice has lived in Flint ever since he went there 45 years ago to become a bookkeeper for AC Spark Plug Division.

Responding to a "Salute to GM," at Flint on his own 65th birthday, he predicted the auto industry will produce 5½ million cars in 1959. "By 1965," he added, "it is reasonable to assume that the demand for new passenger cars will be in the area of eight million units annually."

Curtice reached the height of his career in 1953, when he was named president and for the next five years he spent his week nights at the executive suite in the General Motors Building in Detroit.

Looking back on his career—and it's not over because Curtice is still a member of GM's board—Curtice recently said that his biggest job as president was to find ambitious young men to fill the important jobs in the auto industry. "There are more opportunities today than I ever dreamed of in 1914," he said.

Probers Bear Down on Teamsters

Local 'Sold' for $36,000?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets probers charged today that officials of St. Louis Teamsters Union Local 688 sold it secretly to its present boss, Teamster bigwig Harold Gibbons.

But Lawrence J. Camie, the local's former president, insisted that $36,000 he received for stepping out as president when Gibbons took over in 1949 was severance pay. No sale was involved, he swore.

"I didn't sell that union and I couldn't sell it if I wanted to," Camie said.

He acknowledged that the escrow agreement under which he drew $36,000 in three $12,000 annual installments made no mention of severance pay.

Camie testified he and other local officers and directors were offered a choice of remaining on the job after Gibbons took over, or quitting and collecting severance pay equal to the salaries they would have drawn for the remaining three years of their terms.

The committee's chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), produced figures subpoenaed from the union which showed, he said, that the cost of getting the officers out was $78,410. The local, he said, didn't even have enough money in its treasury to pay Camie's $36,000 share.

McClellan said the rest was borrowed.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, told Camie: "You sold that union to him (Gibbons) for that amount of money."

"I don't think I'd have the right to sell it," Camie replied thoughtfully.

Kennedy said the $78,410 was the amount "actually paid by Harold Gibbons for this union."

Control of Local 688 was the springboard from which Gibbons took off on a rise to power in the union. He now is executive vice president of the Teamsters Union—No. 1 lieutenant to President James R. Hoffa—and head of St. Louis area Teamsters affairs.

Camie testified that Dave Beck, former Teamsters president, who then was executive vice president, arranged the 1949 meeting that led to a merger of Local 688 and a local of the United Distribution Workers Union-CIO which Gibbons headed.

Camie said the Gibbons local was twice as big, had a pension and welfare fund which Local 688 did not, and that he agreed to the merger.
merger.

Camie acknowledged that rank and file members of the two locals were not told about the payments to him and the other former officials until newspapers learned of the payments long afterward.

Kennedy then produced records which showed, he said, that Local 688 paid Camie with $13,000 borrowed from the Unity Welfare Assn., which he said was a pension fund in Gibbons' old CIO local; $6,000 from the CIO local's health and welfare plan; and $17,000 borrowed elsewhere. Kennedy said the $13,000 borrowed from the Unity Welfare Assn. aws never repaid.

In advance of the hearing Kennedy said this phase of the committee's inquiry would center on what he called goon squad violence, misuse of funds and abuse of power in St. Louis area Teamsters affairs.

Kennedy said one of the witnesses would be Capt. Thomas Moran of the St. Louis bomb, arson and union squad.

The Day in Birmingham

Arrest of 3 More Youths Clears 20 Home Robberies

BIRMINGHAM — The arrest of three more Pontiac juveniles has solved some 20 house robberies in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area, Bloomfield Township Police Chief Norman Dehnke said yesterday.

Five other juveniles had been apprehended last week, he said. All are between the ages of 14 and 16.

Dehnke said the youths operated for the past several weeks in an area bounded by Club drive, Franklin, Long Lake and Square Lake roads. In many instances they would go to a home, ask for a drink of water, pose as magazine salesmen, or use other ruses to get on the premises, he said.

Besides the thefts in the township, the boys have admitted robberies in Bloomfield Hills, Waterford Township and other nearby communities, Dehnke said.

All eight members of the gang have been turned over to juvenile authorities.

Birmingham city commissioners again bowed to the wishes of taxpayers and declared "no necessity" on the proposed new sidewalk for portions of Stanley and Watkins streets.

Prior to last night's meeting, protests signed by nearly 100 residents of the two areas had been filed with the Commission. Many attended the session last night to present their views.

They believed the small amount of pedestrian traffic in the area doesn't warrant the cost of new walks. Two other sidewalks, one on Bates street, across from the Community House, and the other on Henrietta street, north of Lincoln avenue, were approved.

Commissioners agreeing with the Board of Education approved a change in the Recreation Board ordinance to permit a simple majority, or four persons, to constitute a quorum. The Recreation Board, made up of representatives of the Board of Education and the Commission, as well as private citizens, in the past was required to have five of its seven members present to conduct business.

A request by the City of Royal Oak to have Birmingham share the expense of a traffic light at 14-Mile road and Melton street was approved.

The light will be installed to protect children attending St. Columban and Our Shepherd schools.

Andrew R. Duncanson

Service for Andrew R. Duncanson, 61, of 15855 Birwood St., Westwood, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the William Sullivan and Sons Funeral Home, Royal Oak. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Detroit.

Mr. Duncanson was fatally injured Sunday morning in an auto accident in Dearborn.

The Elks Lodge of Sorrow will be conducted at 8 tonight at the funeral home.

A structural engineer for the Palmer-Smith Co., Detroit, he was a veteran of World War I and a member of BPOE Lodge 1523.

Surviving are his wife, Gladys; three daughters, Mrs. Robert Patria of Royal Oak, Mrs. John Rossignol of Utica and Mrs. Frank Birdish of Wyandotte; four grandchildren and a sister.

100 Skilled Workers Strike at Pontiac

gress, if any, of negotiations," Beach said.

Knudsen issued this statement:

"The strike is just another example of the hit-and-run guerrilla warfare campaign the UAW has launched against General Motors plants in the last ten days.

"The tragic consequence of the irresponsible attitude on the part of the local and the international union is that it is jeopardizing the jobs of thousands of innocent employes of Pontiac Motor, Fisher Body and Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac assembly plants across the country, and other General Motors supplier divisions.

"Pontiac was scheduled to begin assembly of the 1959 Pontiacs on Tuesday (Sept. 2). Some 5,000 employes were working, readying the plant for volume production of these new models. In addition, the recall of 2,000 employes was scheduled for the next few days."

A company spokesman hinted that new car production could be delayed by the strike. "That depends on how long it (the strike) lasts," he said.

Describing the walkout as "spontaneous," Beach said the strike had been authorized last week by the local executive board "in case any problems came up."

He charged that management was to blame for what he called "cluttered up" grievance proceedings. He listed as another grievance the fact that some 7,000 Pontiac Motor employes are laid off while others are getting overtime pay.

Beach said that no authority from the international union was necessary for the strike.

General Motors plants in Flint and elsewhere were hit by wildcat strikes last week.

Fat in Emulsion Form in Homogenized Milk

MILWAUKEE — Homogenized milk is whole milk which has been treated mechanically to break up the fat into smaller globules and disperse them permanently in a fine emulsion throughout the milk.

No chemical is added. Homogenization is generally carried out by forcing the milk through a small opening under high pressure.

Nose Appeal Returned

NEW YORK — Nose appeal is being put into instant coffee by leading producers. The aromatic factor is removed during the processing and then added to the finished product.

Why Jayne Took Job 'Hoffa Means Business'

DETROIT (AP) — Retired Circuit Judge Ira W. Jayne says he agreed to serve on a Teamster Union cleanup commission after Teamster President James R. Hoffa told him he meant business.

Hoffa put the request to the 76-year-old former Wayne County jurist last Tuesday.

"I told him that if he meant business about straightening out the union's affairs, I'd take it," Jayne said.

The assurance was forthcoming, Jayne said.

Jayne, former presiding judge of the Wayne Circuit bench, is chairman of the board of an insurance agency owned in part by Teamster President Hoffa's attorney, George S. Fitzgerald.

The firm is the Union Square Agency, Inc. It handles union pension and welfare funds. Jayne said he took the post last November because the company was having difficulties.

The company and certain union officials now are involved in litigation including embezzlement charges.

On the Wayne bench, where he served many years, Jayne was known as a firm though fair administrator of the law.

He is one of the three men on Hoffa's cleanup commission. The others are former Republican U.S. Senator George H. Bender of Ohio, chairman, and F. Joseph Donohue, former Democratic District of Columbia commissioner.

"Everyone knows of my interest in the labor movement," Judge Jayne said, "and I have great interest in the sudden and large growth of welfare and pension funds."

Union welfare and pension funds in the U.S. have soared into the billions of dollars in volume.

"It is natural in such a development," Jayne said, "that great amounts of power and money can come into the hands of men little experienced in using it. It is no wonder to me that they make mistakes — some of them tragic."

None Injured as Train Piles Up at Devils Lake

DEVIL'S LAKE, Mich. (UPI) — Nineteen freight cars of the New York Central Railway tore up track and were stacked like cordwood last night in a swampy area a mile north of here. No one was injured.

The freight cars, loaded with coal and stone, were bound from Van Wert, Ohio, to Jackson. The cause of the accident was undetermined and officials released no report on the extent of the damage.

Ingenuity Discouraged

WAUSAU, Wis. (AP) — A 54-year-old farmer who had no maple trees finally found some use for the maple syrup-making equipment a friend gave him back in 1934. But it cost him $250 in Federal Court for unlawful possession of homemade whisky.

To get your prospect lukewarm, you have to get yourself red hot.

Declare Husband-Slayer Sane at Time of Crime

IONIA (AP) — A Belding woman charged in the bizarre april 12 slaying and backyard burial of her factory worker husband today was declared "sane at present and sane at the time of the slaying."

Two physicians testified before Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis in the case of Mrs. Marian McNinch, who has been ordered held at Ionia County Jail to wait arraignment.

Mrs. McNinch, a 26-year-old mother of six, was arrested May 8 along with LarryFisher, 17, of Midland, in the rifle death of Robert McNinch, 52.

Restaurant Teaches Children 'Small Talk'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Walter Brassell is the manager of the restaurant in which Albert Anastasia consumed his last meal before being bumped off.

Now he is performing a similar service for youngsters between the ages of 10 and 14. He is serving them their last meals before they go out into the world to be riddled with small talk and cut down by conformity.

TEACHES POISE

"We call it a restaurant charm school," he says. "It teaches the children poise and confidence. But perhaps most important of all—it teaches them the art of small talk over the dining table.

"Small talk can be very big later in life, you know," he adds soberly.

This is the way the distressing experiment in the development of Lord Fauntleroys and Elsie Dinsmores operates.

Some of the swankier schools for kiddies in suburban New York areas bring shipments of students into the Brass Rail restaurant on Broadway. They are seated at good tables, and then the teachers leave them and retire to another part of the restaurant.

ON THEIR OWN

They are on their own. Or so they think. Actually, waiters and teachers and Brassell himself are all in league to eavesdrop behind palms, trays and archly innocent faces.

"Every move the kids make, every word they speak, is observed. Then the teachers get together and 'grade' them," Brassell confesses, without shame. "When they get back to school, they are trained in how to correct their mistakes in 'public dining manners.' They generally improve 50 to 100 per cent on their second trip to the restaurant."

For most of the young and hungry, the first eavesdropped visit to the B.R. is their debut experience in a restaurant without direct supervision. They either go "hog wild" or get scared. Typical example of two who flunked, first time out:

Hog-wild boy ordered six desserts and nothing else.

Scared boy beside him said, "I'll have the same."

"I have seen," Brassell says, "the first child in a group of 15 order one particular meal, and the other 14 order the same thing. Then they sit wordlessly until the food comes, and eat it all within seconds of the finishing time of all the others. This is a caricature of conformity that we don't approve."

However, the fact of life is that one must conform enough to exchange chit-chat and small talk. So by the second field food trip, the kids know they are being overheard. And they speak up. Their favorite comments:

"How is the roast beef?" "It looks like rain," "This is very good." And, "What will we leave the waiter?"

As polite chatter goes, this is on a par with adult elevator conversation, and considerably superior to cocktail party talk.

Atomic Display at State Fair

Gala Event Will Open Friday in Detroit and Last Through Sept. 7

DETROIT (AP) — Some of the wonders of the atomic age will be on display at the 109th annual Michigan State Fair when it opens here Friday.

Visitors to the "Atoms for Peace" show, presented by the Atomic Energy Commission, will see practical applications of nuclear energy. The exhibit, aimed at explaining the uses of radioactive isotopes in research, industry, agriculture and medicine, will occupy White Hall and part of the Gold Building.

It will offer information about raw materials, nuclear reactors and atomic power and show how radioactive materials are handled by mechanical hands from behind walls of leaded glass.

The fair will continue through Sept. 7. Its theme is "Michigan Means Business — in Education Agriculture and Industry."

The annual event will be launched by a parade with more than 50 marching units starting in downtown Detroit. Twenty floats, from Sault Ste. Marie, Negaunee, Cadillac, Mackinaw City, Lansing and other cities, will take part along with 22 high school bands.

Gov. Williams will lead the procession, followed by a motorcade carrying 25 beauty queens who are vying for the title of this year's Miss Michigan State Fair.

Foot Doctors Getting Rich on New Style

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Foot doctors declared today that the pointed toes, the absolute latest in female footgear, are putting them in the upper income bracket.

"They're the best thing that ever happened to the foot profession," said Dr. B. L. Anderson of Fairview Park, Ohio.

But he said as a Podiatrist (a specialist who cares for the feet) he isn't a bit happy about the business bonanza.

Like the hundreds of other podiatrists and chiropodists attending the 46th annual convention of the American Podiatry Assn., they worry about all those aching feet.

Anderson characterized the fashionable Elizabeth pointed toe pumps as "physiologically precarious" and said women are sacrificing a lot of comfort, just to be in style.

To add insult to foot injury, he said women "don't wash their feet enough." He said that goes for men too.

3 Teamster Probers Are Paid $750 a Day

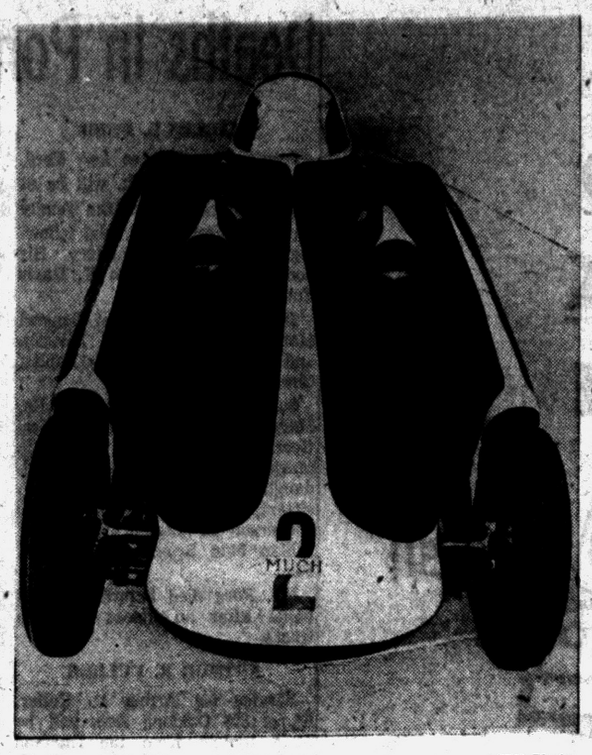

WASHINGTON (AP) — The $250 a day fee fixed for each of the three rackets investigators named by the Teamsters Union is fairly high even for Washington.

The government normally pays outside advisers $50 a day plus expenses. The three men named by Teamsters President James R. Hoffa to advise him on criminal elements in the union are each to get five times that amount, plus expenses.

A union spokesman said the fees had been approved by Hoffa and the union's general executive board. He said the Teamsters' membership was not consulted, but that setting of such fees, similar to payments to union attorneys, are not normally submitted to union members.

The new group selected by the Teamsters to be the union's own anti-racketeering commission is composed of: former Republican Sen. George H. Bender of Ohio; F. Joseph Donohue, Washington attorney; and retired Chief Judge Ira W. Jayne of the Wayne County (Detroit) Circuit Court.

MASTER RACE? — Now that the purple people eater is vanishing, this is "2-Much," which looks like another interstellar visitor. It's really a twin-engined hot rod, built by Jack Moss of Amarillo, Tex. With a fiberglas body, it has turned 154.97 miles an hour in 9.67 seconds and is one of the top contenders in the 1958 Championship Drag Races in Oklahoma City, Labor Day, Sept. 1st.

Put 'Mail Flo' System in 9 More Post Offices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield today announced installation of the new "mail flo" letter processing system in nine additional post offices.

"Mail flo" is a semi-automatic conveyor which moves mail between sorting areas on the workroom floors of post offices.

Summerfield said the first "mail flo" system was set up in the Roosevelt Park annex of the Detroit Post Office and has turned out to be a "tremendous success."

Ex-Officer to Plead Insanity in Robberies

DETROIT (AP) — Former Detroit policeman, Marmion S. Pollard Jr., the "paper bag" bank robber, is going to put up a court defense of temporary insanity.

The 29-year-old ex-officer who put his lot in paper bags in robbing three banks last spring will contend he lost his mind temporarily over the slaying of his wife and child in 1956.

Pollard has changed his plea from guilty to innocent. He lacked counsel when he pleaded guilty June 12 in U.S. District Court. The court has permitted him to change his plea. He is held in $50,000 bond.

The former policeman's wife and child were killed by an intruder at his home while he was on duty.

A psychiatric report to the court says that Pollard shows no evidence of psychotic disorder such as would prevent him from adequately assisting counsel in his defense.

Scott's Suit Against Barbers Is Postponed

The attorney for the International Barbers Union has been granted a postponement until Sept. 22 in the suit brought against the union by Robert P. Scott, who the union said was expelled because he held "dual unionism."

Gene Schnelz, Walled Lake attorney for Scott, said the union's attorney, Boaz Siegal, of Detroit, had requested the postponement of the show cause hearing in order to gather necessary statements.

Scott, of 31 Bloomfield Terrace, filed suit in Oakland County Circuit Court July 31 suing the union for $150,000. He said the ouster from the union was in violation of the union's constitution.

Pair Burned to Death as Fire Sweeps Home

ST IGNACE (AP) — An elderly couple burned to death when a fire swept their modest home in St. Ignace last night.

The victims were Cornelius Carson, 83, and his wife, Virginia, 69.

Police said the couple apparently was trapped inside the one-story, frame dwelling by the flames.

Cause of the blaze has not been determined. Officers theorized that it was touched off by an exploding bottle gas stove.

MR. AND MRS. JIM APSEY

Jim Apseys to Reside in Southfield Township

DAVISBURG—Upon return from their honeymoon trip to Thousand Islands, Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Apsey will make their home at 24501 Kinsel Rd., Southfield Township.

They were married recently in a double-ring ceremony at the Southfield United Presbyterian Church. The rite was performed by the Rev. Paul Sutton.

The former Helen Diane Berres, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthias Berres of Davisburg, formerly of Southfield. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Apsey of Franklin road, Bloomfield Township.

The bride's waltz-length gown of ivory silk taffeta, which she designed herself, featured a basque waistline, bouffant skirt, round neckline and short sleeves, accentuated with embroidered organdy and seed pearls.

Her veil was secured by a lace crown trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a cascade arrangement of white and pink roses.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Mary Lou. Ellen Schreiber of Lathrup Village and Lona Dawkins of East Detroit were bridesmaids.

David Walker of Birmingham was best man and the bridegroom's brother, Joe, and the bride's brother, Ralph, were ushers.

Following the ceremony, guests were received in the church parlors.

The bridegroom is a student at Lawrence Tech.

Author to Address Baptist Conference

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — "Facets of Truth from the Tabernacle" will be the theme of the fall Bible conference at the West Bloomfield Baptist Church, 4900 Orchard Lake Rd. at Green Rd.

Speaking daily from Sunday, Sept. 7, through Friday, Sept. 12, will be the Rev. C. W. Slemming, director of the Bible Testimony Fellowship in London, England.

The Rev. Slemming will discuss the significance of this Old Testament institution and its application to the Christian's spritual life.

Recognized as an authority on Old Testament typology and Palestinian life and customs, he has authored six volumes, including "Made According to Pattern," a study of the tabernacle, and "These Are the Garments," a companion book on the garments of the Jewish priesthood.

Helen Hayward Marries in Rochester Ceremony

ROCHESTER—Helen Jane Hayward became the bride of Gordon T. Nettle Saturday afternoon at St. Paul's Methodist Church in Rochester. Performing the rite was the Rev. J. Douglas Parker, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hayward of 1809 Runyan Rd. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nettle of 1926 Severn Rd., Grosse Pointe Woods.

Given in marriage by her father, the new Mrs. Nettle wore an embroidered Swiss organdy gown with pointed basque bodice, modified sweetheart neckline and short-cap sleeves. Her fingertip veil was held by a cap of ordandy roses and she carried a Colonial bouquet of stephanotis centered by a white orchid.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Oliver Juengel of Columbiaville. Mrs. Gerald Cervenak of Birmingham and Mrs. David Gauler of Huntington Woods were bridesmaids.

Best man was Wilbur Nodacker Jr. of Detroit. Ushers were Oliver Juengel, and the bridegroom's brothers, Norman, Dennis and David, all of Grosse Pointe Woods.

Following the reception at Devon Gables, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip to northern Michigan. They will make their home in East Lansing.

Athletic Field Bonds Go Fast

Rochester High School Goal of $30,000 Near Halfway Mark

ROCHESTER—With a goal of $30,000, the bond sale to raise funds to equip the new athletic field of the Rochester Community High School is nearing its halfway mark, the Board of Education has announced.

The purchase of $3,000 worth of the revenue bonds by the National Bank of Detroit, raised the total sale of $14,000 over the weekend. Bonds, in denominations of $50 and $100, are being sold to individuals, corporations, local business people and service clubs.

The Board has accepted the bid of $20,365 by the Transformer Inspection Co. of Detroit for the installation of floodlights, and the bid of $3,615 of the Northwest Fence Co., also of Detroit, for fencing the field.

The Brayard Nurseries of Rochester was awarded a $2,350 contract to sod the field. The balance of the funds will be used for developing the track around the field.

CONSTANCE JEAN SABAT

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. John Sabat of Alco drive, Waterford Township, of the engagement of their daughter, Constance Jean, to Saluatore P. Monte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Monte of Riverside, Mich. The betrothal ceremony took place at St. Joseph Catholic Church in St. Joseph, where the ring was blessed and vows were taken before the Rev. Donald Edar. The bride-elect and her fiance both attended Michigan State University. No date has been set for the wedding.

At Southfield Council Meeting

350 Protest Xway Bridge

SQUTHFIELD — Some 350 persons attended last night's Southfield City Council meeting to protest plans for construction of any expressway bridge to carry traffic from Northland Shopping Center through the Magnolia subdivision.

The proposed bridge, or bridges, would provide a direct route across the expressway from the center's parking lots to Southfield road.

The Council already has given the State Highway Dept. its tentative approval for extension of Northwestern as a three-tiered highway through the city.

Cornell street, located between Eight and Nine Mile roads, has been specifically earmarked for a bridge.

Irving Rubin, representing the Highway Dept. at the meeting, told the group, however, this is only a tentative layout, and that traffic possibly could be routed around the subdivision.

Harry Ross of 17259 Cornell, spokesman for the protesting property owners, said the bridge would cause a depreciation in the property values. The area has 326 homes.

A petition signed by 427 subdivision residents opposed to the bridge was accepted by City Clerk Patrick Flannery.

Victim of Sawmill at Dryden Improves

A Pontiac man who was seriously injured a week ago today when he fell against a saw at a sawmill in Dryden Township was reported as improving and off the critical list at Lapeer General Hospital this morning.

The condition of Richard Spies, 26, of 680 Granada St., is fair.

Eighteen pints of blood have been used so far and more may be needed. He received a 10-inch gash from the right shoulder to the chest and his right arm was almost severed.

Spies and his brother Bill of Lake Orion and Lewis Hintz had purchased the mill several weeks ago.

Romeo State Police report Richard was working with his brother running timber into the saw when he slipped and fell against the blade.

He is a native of Almont.

Euratom – Future Hope for Power Development

The Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee has approved unanimously American participation in the power development program of Euratom, the European Atomic Energy Community.

Just five years ago President EISENHOWER made his dramatic atoms-for-peace proposal to the General Assembly of the United Nations. Out of this grew the world's dream of beneficial uses of the atom. The Soviets tried to block the idea but worldwide support made them change their minds.

Five nations of Europe's Common Market depend on the Vienna based International Atomic Energy Agency out of which came Euratom, to increase the supply of electrical energy rapidly. This is particularly important because it would lessen dependence on Middle East oil and thus remove a cause of friction in that area.

Atomic power development eventually could solve the Middle East's desperate shortage of water. It could implement the dream of reclaiming vast deserts in Africa and Asia to feed the growing populations.

Full Congressional approval is virtually certain. U. S. loans and contributions to reactor research and construction can then go forward. This will benefit us as well because it will afford an opportunity to test a wider range of nuclear power technics than is possible in this country on account of our lower cost of conventional power generation.

India Needs Financial Support to Survive

India is still in trouble.

The poor people of this benighted area are witnessing the conclusion of their second five year plan with but little of the anticipated living advancements and they struggle along with most of the woes of the past.

The standard of living in this nation would leave every American simply aghast. They have inadequate houses, clothing, food, education and other incidentals thereto.

Within the next 12 months she must dig up some half billion dollars to keep the present plan afloat. She has around two hundred million against the total. England will probably step in by way of the World Bank with a substantial portion and it will probably devolve upon your Uncle Samuel to dig up the balance.

Any wise investment in this land should ultimately pay off. The potential there is enormous. The market for sales is unlimited as soon as India can creep out from under this deadly blanket of poverty. We have a stake in India's progress and advancement. Assisting these people could figure heavily in our overall picture of foreign advancements.

Let's Put Foot Down and Aid Only Friends

Somehow, we go along with a recent statement by HENRY M. WRISTON, former President of Brown University. This sage cannily remarked:

"Too many Americans seem to think that wherever there's anything wrong in the world, IT'S UP TO US TO FIX IT."

Dr. WRISTON, we agree with you. Too many Americans labor under the delusion we're the fixer for all humanity all over the globe and we're the bankers and spiritual advisers to boot.

Certainly we owe a moral obligation to assist and help and lead. But as this newspaper has tried to point out several times, 170 million people can, clothe, feed, finance, house and baby sit for two and a half billion.

It's about time we started separating our global friends and enemies. Let's look with high favor and benevolence on those who take a firm stand against the Russians in a showdown. And let's cast a cold, hard and steely eye on those who plan to leap into the Red camp, come a clash of arms.

We have our own problems.
We have troubles at home.
Thus, we are glad to applaud the University President who declared himself so plainly and so sensibly.
Henry M. Wriston, long may you wave.

Twins to Convene

Pontiac Area Will Have a Good Representation

Adult: An obsolete child.

Oakland County will stand out quite prominently at the 24th annual convention of the International Twins Association

at the Hotel Statler-Hilton in Detroit Aug. 27 to Sept. 1.

Co-vice presidents of the association, which expects 600 delegates, coming from practically every state and some foreign countries, are of Rochester. Co-presidents of the Michigan division are

Floyd and Lloyd Bartley

of Pontiac and Lake Orion.

Others who will be there include

Betty and Bonnie Brewer

of Clarkston;

Mrs. Christine Ballard and Mrs. Maxine Carlisle

of Pontiac and Drayton Plains;

Judy and Karen Barry

of Rochester. The Cellners are to participate in a talent show.

In connection with the convention, an

will be held at the music shell at the State Fair on Sunday at two o'clock, when trophies will be awarded in 17 classifications. The judges will be of the Detroit Free Press.

Mrs. Mary Beck

of the Detroit Common Council;

Judge Victor Targonski

of the Wayne County Circuit Court;

Dr. Philip Clark

of Michigan State University, and of The Pontiac Press.

Joe Haas

Some of the neighbors of

assert that he is over-optimistic in putting six-foot stakes beside the tomato plants in his garden at 561 West Iroquois Road—but they haven't observed Bob's tomato growing in former years.

A summer squash is reported by

Dewey Brookshire

of Lake Orion, growing in Siamese-twin fashion.

Not-So-Secret Weapon

David Lawrence Says:

Sen. Johnson Betrays Southerners

WASHINGTON — Did Senator Lyndon Johnson, Democratic majority leader, betray the South in its fight to preserve states' rights? Did he do so in order to curry favor with northern "liberals" who might help him get the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960?

These questions are being asked today on Capitol Hill as many indignant southerners hold the Texas senator responsible for lining up the votes that killed anti-subversive legislation as well as bills proposed to correct Supreme Court decisions on states' rights questions.

The main criticism is that Lyndon Johnson cleverly manipulated the parliamentary situation in such a way as to hold off till the last minute action by the Senate on crucial bills, when it was a question either of a filibuster that would have delayed adjournment or killing the legislation at this session.

The key roll call came in the Senate last week when, by a 41-to-40 vote, a most important measure—giving states the right to punish sedition and subversion and also dealing with the broader question of states' rights—was defeated. Johnson himself voted with the northern "liberals." The only other defections from the southern group were Senator Yarborough of Texas and Senator Kefauver of Tennessee. Even Senator Gore of Tennessee, often called a "moderate," voted with his southern colleagues.

There is a lot of talk about the tricks that were used to line up the votes of senators. Here is how Anthony Lewis, a member of the Washington staff of the "New York Times," describes it in his dispatch:

DOWN THE DRAIN

"The Senate majority leader has never demonstrated greater mastery of the legislative process than in his handling of a group of bills aimed at the Supreme Court. All the bills went down the drain at the session's end after a dramatic week of debate and maneuver.

"Observers agree that Senator Johnson is largely responsible for that result. Precisely how he managed it is something only he knows."

Another report on what transpired behind the scenes comes from Rowland Evans Jr., of the Washington staff of the "New York Herald Tribune," who writes:

"A remarkable display of legislative black magic, a strange and occult art for which Senator Lyndon Johnson is justly famous, swept from the Senate floor the Smith Bill, the potent weapon of rebuke that the anti-court coalition had wheeled up against the Supreme Court . . .

SENT BACK

"The Smith Bill, in short, had to be sent back to committee, and by a combination of ingenious plays it finally was."

What was this "black magic"? The majority leader is usually the only one who knows in advance how each senator may vote. The story goes that Senator Johnson told many a senator that his particular vote was needed to break a tie and then, with lots of legislative favors that a majority leader alone can bestow to benefit the interests of a senator in question when bills in which he happens to be interested may come up subsequently in the session, the trade is supposed to have been made. It's the oldest game in politics: "You scratch my back, and I'll scratch yours."

Prominent Democrats like Representative Howard Smith of Virginia, chairman of the Rules Committee, and Representative Francis E. Walter, chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, had been able to get through the House their bills to correct such abuses.

It was in the Senate that the death blow was inflicted, largely by the efforts of a Democratic senator who comes from the South but who, through his position of leadership, was able to thwart the will of his fellow southerners.

Dr. William Brady Says:

More Truth Than Humor in Advice on Leg Cramps

"I used to walk a good deal until my legs got so bad I had to quit. Many nights I had to get out of bed and stand and rub my legs for cramps. The muscles would knot and hurt so. But I sent for your pamphlet on Adult Tetany and Growing Pains (available to anyone on request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope) and began eating calcium and vitamin D as you advise in the pamphlet. I no longer have any trouble of that kind and I'm so grateful . . . My sister-in-law in England had the same trouble. I sent your pamphlet and she obtained the same relief as I did . . . (Mrs. R. McM.)"

"Since reading your article about adult tetany I have been supplementing my diet with calcium and vitamin D, and for the first time in many years I am free of painful and frequent leg cramps at night. I started this eight months ago and the only time the cramps have recurred was when I was away from home for a week and neglected to eat my regular daily ration of Ca & D. . . . (M. R. C.)"

"Was kept awake many nights by painful cramps in the muscles of my legs. My doctor said it was poor circulation but nothing helped. From your "contemptible column" (your own words) I got the idea, began supplementing my diet with calcium and vitamin D and soon the pains were gone. My son, chief of . . . in the ... college hospital says there's more truth than humor in your saying that they're all out of step but Brady. (Mrs. M. F. —)"

"My husband suffers from cramps in the legs at night. He has invariably had marked relief when he supplements his regular diet with extra calcium and D, as you suggest in your pamphlet. But now his doctor tells him he must not take any more calcium and vitamin D as it may bring on hardening of the arteries and deposits . . . the doctor has not examined his heart . . . (Mrs. H. J. E.)"

TAKEN FROM FILE

These are representative reports taken at random from a fat file of such reports received from readers.

The very conception of tetany in mature American adults seems absurd to many if not most physicians because in classical medical literature and even current theory the state called tetany is associated only with infancy.

As for the advice of the 18th Century practitioner who thinks calcium and vitamin D may cause hardening of the arteries or "deposits" of calcium, all I have to say here is that some doctors are fools, others are—you finish it.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Spectator Praises Success of Medal Golf Tournament

I had the pleasure of witnessing the first round of the City Medal Golf Tournament. Mr. Barner and his associates should be complimented on a well planned and smoothly operated contest.

With a little more help and less criticism from the Sports Department of The Press, this could grow to be one of the finest tournaments in the area.

'Privilege of Voting Comes Too Easily'

While millions will fight and die for the right to be able to vote, we in America fail to exercise the liberty we possess.

Not long ago you carried an item about a 92-year-old lady in Grand Rapids who exhausted herself by walking half a mile in zero weather to vote. Yet in my precinct, where few walk and none more than five or six blocks in such delightful weather as we've had, 474 out of 562 registered failed to cast a ballot.

To my way of thinking a $5 fine or threat to lose the franchise would remedy the situation. I wonder if perhaps this generation, not having suffered to obtain that liberty, just born into it, don't appreciate it enough to retain it — just a case of getting things the easy way. I have a right to criticize. The record shows I've been the first to cast my ballot for more than 30 years.

Ways to Harness H-Bomb for Peace Use Offered

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Writer

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—A new kind of device which holds possibilities for controlling the blast of the hydrogen bomb and making its energy available for peaceful uses was described here today.

The idea of the device was put forth by a Greek scientist who scooped the world's nuclear scientists a few years ago on a means of greatly increasing the power of atom-smashing machines.

In a paper before the American Physical Society, Dr. Nicholas C. Christofilos said the device is being built at the University of California's H-bomb research laboratory at Livermore, Calif.

The device is called the Astron. Its builders have hopes that it will demonstrate how they can duplicate and use in their laboratories the 100-million-degree heat of the stars. This extreme heat is necessary to start the fusion reaction.

Dr. Christofilos, now a physicist at Livermore, said the device now being built would not produce enough heat to cause fusion but would establish whether the idea is workable. If it proves itself, fusion power should be attainable in a few years, he added.

Like some other experimental devices, this one utilizes the effects of magnetism to confine atoms to be fused. Ordinary materials cannot be used as containers because they cannot stand the stellar heat. But this new idea is much more complicated than the ones previously reported.

In the Christofilos plan a primary magnetic field in a cylinder is used to speed great numbers of electrons along prescribed corkscrew-like paths. When the electrons reach speeds corresponding to energies of three million volts they set something like a very strong electrical current. This current travels through the tube and forms a secondary and still more powerful magnetic field which supposedly can squeeze the confined atoms together tightly enough to produce the enormous heat of fusion.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Urges Scientific Marriage Bureau

Men, do you want a good looking wife, charming and gay, with high moral character? And certified by a talented local clergyman who has checked with her three character references? If you think it is time modern science helped introduce compatible folks, then study this case carefully. Pass it along to eligible men who want a jolly, pretty wife.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Z-302: Marian Q., aged 28, is an executive of Columbia Records.

"Dr. Crane, I am very much interested in your new Scientific Marriage Foundation," she said, as publicity director David Kapralik took us to lunch recently in New York.

DR. CRANE

"But I don't understand why attractive men should want the help of such an organization. They have more freedom than women do in getting dates."

WANT A JOLLY WIFE?

Marian didn't realize that business and professional men are most eager for this scientific help in meeting compatible members of the opposite sex.

For the unmarried physician or dentist realizes it is dangerous to mix romance with his professional duties, else feuds may arise among his patients.

Unmarried clerics, too, prefer to pick mates from outside their parish, but they don't have much time to shop around elsewhere because of the heavy duties that confine them to the local church.

Many a business executive may also have 20 eligible typists in front of him all day long, yet he dares not date one lest he upset the morale of the entire force and cause chaos.

For the girl he dates may take advantage and come in late or try to get by with other violations of rules.

Jealousy and envy will mount till soon the entire office may be shot through with feuding.

So these men prefer to get dates outside their usual business contacts. But at night they are tired and don't know exactly where to look for charming women, gay and compatible, who have religious idealism and mutual hobbies.

Many a widower is also shy about dating a woman, especially if he has young children, lest he be accused of just seeking a housekeeper for his brood.

Yet there are many very wonderful girls and attractive widows who would be delighted to help rear the children and become foster mother to such a group of youngsters.

"Dr. Crane," a Ph.D. chemical engineer recently began, "I applied to your Scientific Marriage Foundation for aid in finding a congenial mate.

"For I don't have much free time after office hours. And I certainly am in hearty agreement that modern science should enter this vital field and eliminate the crude, chance methods of the past as regards meeting eligible girls.

"You quickly introduced me to a good looking woman, of mutual interests and ideals, and certified as to her moral character.

"She is gay and jolly and harmonizes well with my personality. She is a young widow and I have fallen in love with her already, after only six weeks of dating."

CERTIFIED WIVES

We now have about 1,000 leading clergymen of the Jewish, Catholic and Protestant faiths who have generously volunteered to serve as Field Counselors.

They interview all applicants and check with the latter's character references.

If you bachelors and widowers want to meet compatible women of good moral character, pretty and jolly in disposition, then follow the advice below.

Marriage to a congenial person offers you the happiest kind of life. And married men are healthier, too, for they live longer than bachelors!

So send for an Application form, plus full information about the Scientific Marriage Foundation.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

OUTWARD TO THE STARS

(8)—Problems

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

(1) First effect a rocket-borne spaceman will feel is acceleration. Air Force Col. John Stapp, in his daring rides on a rocket sled at Holloman AFB in New Mexico, has proved that man can survive speedups and slowdowns as high as 12 G's (12 times the force of gravity) without harm. This is far in excess of what a space pilot would have to withstand.

(2) Other experiments on human beings have been carried out in giant whirling centrifuges like this one. A reclining position has been found to be best for high and prolonged acceleration.

(3) Under full rocket blast, pilot of a space vehicle will be pinned down into his specially-designed seat. G forces will distort his features and render him almost helpless. During the period of acceleration, automatic instruments will control the rocket until power is cut off and the pilot is able to take over.

(4) The opposite extreme from acceleration is the phenomenon of weightlessness, which will be experienced continually by the pilot of a satellite in orbit around the Earth.

Very short periods of weightlessness have been achieved in an airplane—by diving steeply, then abruptly pulling out and cutting power. In the resulting parabolic arc, the plane falls away from its passenger as fast as he is falling to the floor. Observers, strapped down, watch the human guinea pig's reactions.

It is not expected that weightlessness will be harmful to human beings, nor involve more than a temporary discomfort until the new situation is adjusted to.

(5) But once real space flight is achieved, men will have to perform in a condition of absolute weightlessness for hours and days at a time. The full effects of zero gravity will not be known until a manned satellite is actually launched.

Next: Dinner in Space.

Center of gravity in the human body is slightly to the right.

Ten Negro Students Enroll at Clinton High

"It was a very quiet, normal school opening," Human said.

Petitions to Reopen Barrymore Estate

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A petition to reopen John Barrymore's estate has been continued until Oct. 14.

The actor's son, John Barrymore Jr. opposed the reopening when the estate's executor, Gordon W. Levoy, asked for it.

Young Barrymore said he opposed the reopening because it might involve inclusion of income from a possible movie production of Gene Fowler's "Goodnight, Sweet Prince," a biography of Barrymore Sr.

Levoy said the issue involves the television rights to three old Barrymore films, "Svengali," "Moby Dick," and "The Mad Genius."

Young Barrymore asked the court to explore the executive's motives further.

Sea Voyage Stirs Battle for Custody

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A projected ocean voyage by screen actor Sterling Hayden has brought custody of his children into dispute.

Custody of the four children was not settled when the couple was divorced in 1955. They have been living with their father, but Mrs. Betty Ann Hayden has presented an affidavit saying she learned that Hayden planned to take the children on a long sea voyage without her consent.

She asked the court to settle the custody issue now and a hearing was ordered for Sept. 16.

First Jobless Pay Check Big One for Detroiter

DETROIT (AP)—Obie Carter, 50, a laid off auto worker, has drawn his first unemployment compensation check—a big one.

As father of three children he was due top benefits of $49 a week. But his check was for $9,998.99.

"I knew there was some mistake," said Carter, "but you can't imagine how much I hoped it was real."

The Employment Commission took the check back.

Hollywood Headlines

'To Stay Alive – Work!' Sam Goldwyn Advises

By BOB THOMAS
(First of two articles on Goldyn)

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "If you want to keep living, keep working."

That is the reflection of Samuel Goldwyn on the approach of his 76th birthday tomorrow. At this advanced age, he is putting in a full day's work each day on the biggest gamble and toughest project of his career.

Goldwyn is investing between five and seven million dollars of his own money on a film version of "Porgy and Bess." It is a production that has had more grief before filming than any other film within memory.

He spent eight months negotiating for the folk opera rights with the individuals and estates that control them—"I almost gave up three times." He had trouble lining up a cast because some performers feared the vehicle would portray the Negro in a bad light.

He switched directors in a bitter wrangle that almost evoked a mutiny in the cast. And the stage containing the sets and costumes burned to the ground with a two-million-dollar loss.

But the onetime glove salesman is going ahead with his usual high spirit.

"Life is a fight," he commented. "I'm used to it. I've been fighting all my life.

"I started to work when I was 11. My father left me nothing—nothing but a mother and six brothers and sisters to help support. Every time I earned three or four dollars, I gave one to my mother. I didn't mind. I learned that giving is better than receiving."

Goldwyn talked in his tastefully furnished office at the studio he bought from Mary Pickford. He wore a conservative, double-breasted pin-stripe suit and brown and white shoes and talked earnestly of his belief in the therapy of work. He illustrated with this story, which he said he had never told before:

"Twenty-two years ago, I underwent operations to remove my gall bladder and appendix. I lay in bed for weeks, feeling very sorry for myself. I didn't think I ever wanted to make pictures again.

"One day my wife came in and spoke to me sternly. 'You're through,' she said. 'Finished. You'll never work again.' She carried on so that I got mad. I got up and started working.

"That year I made 'Stella Dallas,' 'Marco Polo,' 'Goldwyn Follies,' 'Dead End' and 'Hurricane.' I was working again, and my wife told me later that was exactly what she wanted me to do."

Goldwyn has been working ever since, and he said he hasn't had a sick day. He used to make 38 pictures a year when he was partnered with Jesse Lasky and Cecil B. DeMille, 26 when he had that Goldwyn Co. which was later merged into MGM (Sam didn't go with the deal).

In recent times, he has made only one picture at a time and he takes two or three years to prepare, film and sell it. But that doesn't mean any letdown in activity.

"When I'm working on a picture, I do nothing else," he remarked. "I take part in every phase of activity; I've got to know what every department is doing.

"Selling is part of my job too. When I finish 'Porgy,' I'll go with it to openings in the key cities of Europe and Asia."

And after that?

"I'll be back in this office, talking to you about another picture," he said.

Tomorrow: How Goldwyn manages his active life at 76.

Struck by Propeller, WAF Seriously Hurt

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A WAF from Detroit was in serious condition today from injuries suffered in a fall from a motorboat at a lake resort near Montgomery Sunday.

She was Airman 2/c Carol A. Stoup, 19, stationed in Gunter Air Force Base at Montgomery.

Miss Stoup fell from the boat when it made a turn during an outing at Kowaliga Beach and was struck by the propellor.

Shelley Winters, Hubby Both Deny Marriage Slips

CAPRI, Italy (AP) — Shelley Winters and Anthony Franciosa issued blistering denials today of reports that their marriage is foundering because of Ava Gardner.

"It's vicious nonsense," said Franciosa, who is playing opposite sultry Ava in "The Naked Maja," story of Goya and the Duchess of Alba now being filmed in Italy.

His blonde actress wife chimed in that there "is not a word of truth to the reports" and that she and Franciosa are consulting their attorneys to sue Italian newspapers that printed the stories.

Some of the stories said Shelley—who arrived in Italy several days ago to visit her husband—had struck Ava in a Rome night club. Shelley said maybe there had been some confusion with a scene in the movie in which Franciosa, playing Goya, had to hurl Ava away from him.

"It was just an accident that Ava slipped and fell harder than intended," said Shelley.

"Ava telephoned me last night," she added. "I never hit her. She is a friend of mine and a nice girl. It's just not true."

Both Shelley and Franciosa said they thought the whole tempest was the work of a press agent.

"I'm very much in love with Tony," said Shelley, "and the story of trouble is a lot of nonsense."

"Looking back on my career, it seems like I was always fighting to get out of one thing and into another. I was always restless, and I still am."

A man with a deceptively easy-going air, Powell, now a kind of strolling Ft. Knox, has had a number of careers in his rise from saxophone player to top status as a movie and TV producer-director.

But even in his lean days Powell had a sturdy independence.

He recalled that 30 years ago, as a young unknown theater emcee, he turned down a chance to play opposite a promising actress. The actress was Janet Gaynor. The picture was "Seventh Heaven," and it made a star of Charles Farrell, who took the role Powell rejected.

"But I still think I was right," said Dick. "I wasn't quite ready for it."

Powell later fought and won the right to play tough guy roles after he starred in 35 musicals in 13 years, the memory of which still depresses him.

The slender tenor from Mountain View, Ark., is busier than ever. He will help supervise the filming of 150 television shows and he still has four full-length pictures to produce and direct under a contract with 20th Century-Fox.

What has been his biggest problem in adapting to his new career as a producer? Powell grinned wryly at his wife, actress June Allyson.

"It's trying to sell an actor on the idea that a proposed role is just right for him. I don't know what that's so difficult for me. After all, I was sold the same way dozens and dozens of times when I was an actor," he replied.

"I'm not exactly the promoting type of producer. I hate to put pressure on people, but sometimes you have to.

"But there's no greater satisfaction than taking a story and turning it into a completed picture. It's far more satisfying than just acting."

"People think Richard's a lot tougher and more practical than he really is," said June, who knows shorthand and says she acts as his secretary when they're traveling. "Underneath, he's a softie."

They relax with their children on a 50-acre ranch that lies within the city limits of Los Angeles. Dick still likes to play his saxophone, but most of his singing now is confined to bathroom arias.

"We have a wonderful life," said Powell, laughing.

Troy Moves on Drain Appeal

City Preparing Briefs for State High Court in Twelve Towns Case

The City of Troy yesterday filed a claim appeal of Judge H. Russel Holland's ruling upholding the Twelve Towns Drain project.

Troy, along with the City of Southfield, had indicated their intention of appealing the March decision back in June.

Stanley E. Burke, Troy city attorney, said he was now preparing briefs which he hoped to submit to the Michigan Supreme Court in order for the appeal to be heard during the court's October term.

Burke said the appeal would be filed jointly with Southfield. Royal Oak Township is also appealing the lower court's ruling, he said.

Major grounds for the appeal, Burke said, is the constitutionality of the drain act under which the 44½ million dollar project was created, and apportionment of costs to participating communities.

Judge Holland ruled the law was constitutional.

Oakland County Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry is awaiting a Supreme Court ruling so that some $62 million worth of drain projects, established under the act, might proceed.

Construction on the Twelve Towns project, designed to relieve inadequate storm drainage facilities in south Oakland County, was delayed for 18 months until Troy and Southfield's suit to block the project could be heard last December. Judge Holland's opinion followed.

City, County Report Five Cases of Polio

Five cases of poliomyelitis were reported to the Pontiac and Oakland County Health Departments last week, according to Dr. John D. Monroe, health director.

One case was reported in the city, and the county report showed cases in Milford, Waterford, Novi and Royal Oak, he continued. Not including pontiac, this brings the total number of cases in Oakland county this year to five, compared to last year's to-date figure of 11.

The following is a breakdown of the communicable diseases reported to the city and county health departments last week.

Dry Weather Generally; East Wrings Out

By The Associated Press

Rain which drenched the entire Eastern coastal states diminished during the night, with only light falls along the immediate coastline.

There were a few wet spots in Midwest areas and in the Pacific Northwest but generally dry weather prevailed in most other parts of the country.

Heavy swells were reported from several points along the Atlantic Coast from Florida to Cape Hatteras, N. C., associated with Hurricane Daisy, the season's fourth tropical storm located some 200 miles from the Florida coast. The Weather Bureau said there appeared no immediate threat of heavy damage.

Hurricane Daisy Drifts Northwest

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Daisy drifted slowly toward the northwest today, 220 miles off Melbourne, Fla. It appeared to follow a pattern that would bring none of its crushing winds to the U.S. mainland.

Reconnaissance aircraft reported today that Daisy was moving toward the northwest at about 5 m.p.h.

Highest winds were estimated at 85 m.p.h. in squalls on the east side of the center. Hurricane force winds extended outward 30 miles from the center.

No important change in intensity is expected today.

Winds near the coast from north Florida to the Carolinas were expected to increase gradually from 20 to 30 m.p.h. with gales some distance offshore.

Small craft were advised not to venture far from protected waters. Shipping in the storm's path was warned to use caution.

8 Persons Die in Auto Crash

Two Others Injured in Collision on Curve in Missouri

HARRISONVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Two cars collided on a curve in U. S. Highway 71 bypass yesterday, killing eight persons.

Two others were injured in the collision 4½ miles north of here.

Dead are: Andrew Boyd Jones, 34, Sun Valley, Calif.; his wife Letha, about 30; their children, Susie, 5, and Larry Gene, 9; Earl R. Jones, 52, Nevada, Mo., brother of Andrew Jones; Rickie Galloway, 5, Nevada, Mo.; Maurice Jones, 43, Kansas City, Mo.; and Norman Wayne Jones, 35, Huntington Park, Calif.

Mrs. Myrtle Allen Galloway, 25, Nevada, mother of Rickie and daughter of Earl Jones, and Leo Charles Jones, 14, son of Earl, were injured.

Maurice and Norman Jones, who were brothers, were in a southbound car. They were not related to the eight in the other auto.

Cause of the wreck wasn't known.

Parents of Missing Boy Say They've Given Up

ESTES PARK, Colo. (AP) — The parents of missing Bobby Bizup, 10, say they have given up hope of seeing their only child again.

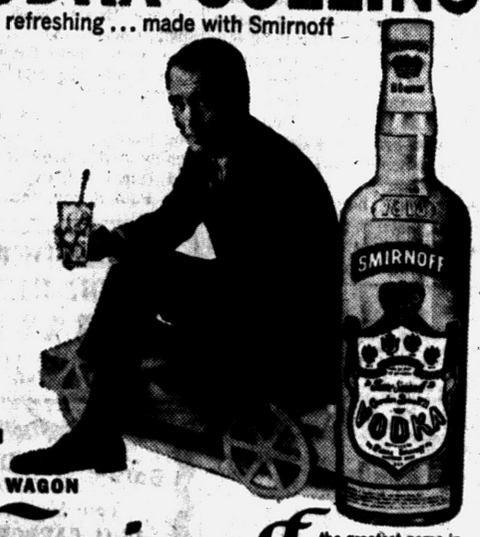

The youngster who was deaf and spoke with difficulty disappeared from a boys' camp in the northern Colorado mountains Aug. 15.

His father, M.Sgt. Joseph Bizup, said "We don't know what happened to our boy, but we don't think we will ever see him again."

Bobby's mother has been seriously ill since he disappeared.

Jack Laken, veteran of 40 years in the boxing game as manager, promoter and publicity man, doesn't denounce the profession in which he has made his livelihood, but he agrees that it needs a shot in the arm.

"I've been in this game a long time and never before have I seen so many amateurs trying to win professional titles," he said.

LAKEN

"Patterson is a good fighter, but he has fought no one but amateurs," he added, "it was ridiculous to even consider such a person as Rademacher, just an average amateur, for a title bout."

It all goes back to National Boxing Commission, an apparent lifeless organization unable to exercise any control under its own roof.

Laken, who is now doing the publicity for the professional fights which will appear at Wisner Stadium Sept. 8, has slowed up a bit after a recent heart condition, but the old ticker doesn't stop his enthusiasm for a good fight.

In the East, around New York and Pennsylvania, they call him "Honest Jack Laken." A Pittsburgh writer gave him the name because he believed that Laken never deliberately arranged a mismatch for the purpose of building the gate.

"I check the complete background of each fighter before I get them together in the ring. No one likes a mismatched fight and that is what has been going on in some of our title fights," he commented.

Two fighters which Laken honestly believes have a bright future in the ring are Eddie O'Hara of Milwaukee and Ronnie Warshensky of Pittsburgh.

O'Hara is managed by former junior welter champ Pinkey Mitchell, while Warshensky is being tutored by ex-world welter champ Fritzie Zivic.

"We've matched them in a lightheavy bout at Wisner Stadium, and Pontiac fight fans are sure to get a sneak preview of a couple boys who will be in the sports headlines in the near future," said Laken.

Mitchell believes his boy O'Hara is the closest to a light-heavy title match. Zivic believes likewise about Warshensky. So we have two ex-champions frothing at the mouth over the future of their two proteges.

"Both will be in the corners of their boys," said Laken, "and I hope we don't get a non-scheduled bout between Zivic and Mitchell."

This will be the first pro boxing show at Wisner Stadium since Julius Piazza staged a program there one year ago with Saginaw's Mickey Crawford.

Laken has put a super-market price on the fights with 3,500 seats at 99 cents.

Hopeful Tigers Pick Bunning

Jim Will Toss 1st of Eastern Windup Series

Detroit Returns Home After Two Contests in Boston

BOSTON (AP)—The Detroit Tigers start winding up their Eastern swing tonight in the opener of a two-game series with the Boston Red Sox.

The series ends with a day game tomorrow. Yesterday was an open date.

Jim Bunning pitches for the Tigers tonight—at the scene of his greatest triumph—and the Tigers are hopeful it may mark a reversal in his recent fortunes.

Since pitching his brilliant no-hit game here in Boston July 20, Bunning has been unable to finish a game. He has been defeated twice while winning once and his record now stands at 9-8.

Planning for the future will be definitely in manager Bill Norman's mind when the Tigers finish here and start back west.

Norman, newly named to be boss of the Tigers again next year, has a date with general manager John McHale at Detroit Thursday for a disucssion of 1959 plans.

The Tigers will be idle that day before going to Chicago to complete the current long road trip in a three-game series with the White Sox. Then they return home for a spell before finishing the season on the road.

On the basis of immediate past performances, the odds are against the Tigers' making as good an American League finish as last year.

Last year Detroit ended up with an above .500 record of 78 victories and 76 defeats. In order to equal it they must win 19 of their remaining 32 games.

Manager Norman is making few remarks about 1959 this time. He has been more pointed on what's left of 1958, saying his team is "still fighting for position."

"From here on out," he said, "it's time for some of our men (he named no names) to show me whether they can cut the mustard next season."

Curb Demanded on UC Booster

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The University of California has sternly rebuked UCLA's head football coach but is investigating his charges against athlete recruiting.

George Dickerson, successor to the late coach Red Sanders at UCLA, shattered pre-semester calm on California's campus by confronting coach Pete Elliott in Pete's office.

Dickerson unexpectedly and unprecedentedly demanded that Elliott curb the activities of Herman Weiner, president of Southern Seas, a University of California booster group in Southern California. This was Saturday. Yesterday Dickerson told a news confetence about it.

Dickerson confronted Elliott with the charge Saturday with two young athletes, Dean Moore, freshman tailback at UCLA last fall, and Bill Kilmer, Citrus Junior College back, standing by. Kilmer is reported planning to enroll at UCLA this fall. Dickerson said Moore and Kilmer told him Weiner had offered them illegal payoffs to enroll at California.

PYC Places 2 Boats in Top 5 at Detroit

Sailing in the last weekend Kendall series races off Crescent Yacht club, in the Detroit River, Pontiac Yacht Club skippers finished two lightnings in the top five. Mack Goodwin was 3rd, Leo Wasserberger 5th in over-all ratings and each brought home a nice cup. There were 35 boats in the event including, besides the two mentioned, Al Oberson, Claude Bennett, Andy Roualet Jr., Phil Smith and John Seaton of PYC.

In regular PYC races, finished in a fine breeze, Ralph Johnson with Beats Me (Doug and Dan crew) was 1st; Ken Raymond in Sabre 2nd (daughter Nancy, Fred Cowan crew), and Fred Prince in Princess 3rd.

Jack Grigsby and Fred Sage were starters.

Waterford Gridders Get Gear This Week

CHAMPS VISIT CAMPY — Former Dodger star Roy Campanella received an autographed ball yesterday from Hector Torres of the world champion Monterey, Mexico team when the players visited the former catcher at a New York hospital.. Campanella is still paralyzed from the waist down due to injuries suffered in an auto accident last January.

'No Speak English'

Mexican LL Champions Visit Campy in Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Many years ago Roy Campanella played a lot of baseball south of the border, and one place he spent several years was Monterrey, Mex.

Last year about this time a team of half-pint players from Monterrey, winners of the Little League World Series, visited Ebbets Field especially to see Campy, their major baseball hero because he had once played on the home team.

Monday another Monterrey team visited Campanella. They, too, were the world's Little League champions. There was just one difference.

To see their hero, they had to go to the New York University-Bellevue Rehabilitation Center, where the great catcher, paralyzed from a broken neck he suffered in an auto accident, is under treatment.

When Campy was brought into a big empty hospital room in a wheel-chair, the kids were tongue-tied. They couldn't take their eyes off his useless legs, though he moved his once-paralyzed arms about constantly to show them how well he is getting along.

"So you are the kids who hit all those home runs, eh?" said Campanella.

The boys only looked bewildered. Then it dawned on Campanella why they were silent, and he spoke in Spanish, which he picked up during his Caribbean and Mexican playing days. The kids cheered up.

Campanella rattled off more Spanish, and the Little Leaguers' manager, Cesar Faz, translated into English. Roy was saying:

"What's the matter with them? They won two World Series and they can't speak English yet? They should learn."

Beat Chisox; Braves Pad Lead

Orioles Make It 13 of 19

By The Associated Press

A week ago it figured that the Baltimore Orioles might have a shot at the first division in the American League standings. Now, after winning six of nine games in a week's time, it's not too outlandish to suggest the Birds might even roost in second place.

The Orioles, who have been on the up grade each season under manager Paul Richards, have won 13 of their last 19, and they manage to knock off the clubs ahead of them over the weekend.

First, they wrestled Detroit for a share of fourth place by taking two of three from the Tigers. Then they beat Chicago 6-5 last night for a sweep of the two-game set with the second place White Sox.

That left the Birds within three games of third place Boston and just four games shy of the White Sox while padding their edge over Detroit to a full game.

Washington defeated Cleveland 5-4 in the only other AL game scheduled yesterday.

In the National League, Milwaukee stretched its lead to eight games once more as the Braves rapped second place San Francisco 6-1. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 7-1, and Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 4-2.

Milwaukee whipped the Giants in the opener of a "show down" five-game series at San Francisco 8-5 in 10 innings Sunday. Last night they did it again, rapping the Giants 6-1 behind Warren Spahn, who shrugged off a sore throat and won his 17th of the year—first on the West Coast.

Baltimore won the hard way last night, blowing a 5-1 lead before cracking a 5-all tie on Al Pilarcik's pinch single in the sixth inning. They had built the early bulge in three innings against Sox' starter Ray Moore on four walks and but four hits, including a two-run single by Brooks Robinson.

It was the fourth defeat in five games for the White Sox since they put together a seven-game winning string. Bob Shaw (5-3) lost this one, his first defeat in five decisions since going to Chicago in a June 155 trade with Detroit.

The Indians were dropped despite the power-hitting of Rocky Calvito, who drove in all four runs with a double and his 31st homer. Clint Courtney, driving in two runs with his sixth homer and a sacrifice fly as the Senators overhauled a 4-0 Cleveland lead, counted the clincher in the eighth on a wild pitch by reliever Ray Narleski.

The first place New York Yankees, their lead back to 12½ games, begin a two-game series tonight against Kansas City that ends their last home stand against the Western clubs. Bob Turley goes after his 19th victory for the champs.

The White Sox move on to Washington, while Baltimore is at home to Cleveland and Detroit plays at Boston.

The Braves, who have won only seven of 20 from the Dodgers, now stand 13-5 over the Giants as Spahn, backed up by a five-run second inning, tossed a five-hitter. He had a one-hit shutout until the fifth while matching Pittsburgh's Bob Friend as the NL's top winner.

Wally Moon had three of the Cardinals' nine hits off loser Ron Kline and R. G. Smith, one a two-on homer that capped a four-run third. Larry Jackson (11-10) was the winner with his fifth consecutive complete game. He gave up eight hits, losing his shutout bid on Hank Foiles' double, a sacrifice and Bob Clement's single in the third that tied it 1-all.

Sandalwood Shares Top Rating in Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Sandalwood, a classy filly who showed late season form, shared the favorite spot today with Emily's Pride and Sharpshooter for the rich Hambletonian.

Sandalwood picked up backers with a fine showing in the Sedalia, Mo., Matron last week. She moved into a favorite role even after drawing a poor starting position. She was placed on the No. 13 spot, third from the rail in a second tier of the starting lineup for trotting's big show for three year olds Wednesday.

Sharpshooter and Emily's Pride hold positions 5 and 6 in the front tier for the 33rd renewal of the classic.

No pari-mutuel betting is permitted at an Illinois Fairgrounds.

Emily's Pride has the best season time for the mile in the field with a 2:00. Sandalwood's fastest in winning the Marton was 2:02.2. Sharpshooter has a 2:04.3 for his best winning heat of the season.

With other times ranging from Great Lullwater's 2:01½ to Baron Colby's, 2:07.3, Hambletonian observers say a new Hambletonian mark may be set.

Hoot Mon, 1947 winner in Goshen, N. Y., set the record for the race with a 2:00 performance.

The high purse came in 1953 in —makes it the fourth largest Hambletonian in history. The winner's net of $62,750.92 is the second largest.

IAAF 'Slaps' U.S. College Recruiting

STOCKHOLM (AP) — American college coaches who have star foreign talent in their stables are breathing a lot easier today. They just had a narrow escape from "death."

The Australians were the proposed executioners. They wanted the International Amateur Athletic Federation to pass a resolution barring foreign athletes from amateur status if they accepted scholarships from American colleges or universities.

The resolution was defeated but the American system of recruiting received a verbal slap on the wrists from the Marquis of Exeter, president of the IAAF. He condemned the practice of granting scholarships to star foreign athletes without regard for scholastic prowess.

Sally, Mrs. Gawne Hot in District

Amateur Qualifying Starts

Pine Lake Country Club was the scene for local qualifying trials today as 49 players vied for berths in U.S. Amateur tourney at San Francisco next month. The low six will make the trip.

Twenty-eight other sectional events are being held around the nation while others have been completed.

All told about 1,500 hopefuls are battling for 175 berths. Successful qualifiers will join 25 exempt players. Reigning senior and junior champions three former U.S. winners, an ex-British Amateur champ and all members of the U.S., Mexican and Canadian America's Cup teams are exempt.

Birmingham's Sally Sharp got off on the right foot in district match play by firing an 81 at Knollwood Country Club yesterday in qualifying action. Mrs. S. E. Gawne of Bloomfield Hills, and Mrs. Keith LaClare tied for 2nd at 83.

Match play began today with Miss Sharp meeting Mrs. Don Weiss, Mrs. Gawne battling Mrs. J. G. Israel and Mrs. LaClare against Mrs. Art Rosenberg in the top pairings. Defending champion, Mrs. Robert Gamble, met Mrs. Robert Mosher.

Knollwood crowned a men's champion yesterday. Sherwin Ross regained the title with a 36-hole total of 151.

John Barnum won the Michigan Open crown Sunday but he could finish no better than third in a pre-amateur bestball at Lakelands Golf Club yesterday. Tom Talkington and Marshall Dann were the winners.

Church Softballers Are Still in Action

A Pontiac Church League playoff game and the Avondale Church loop's All Star contest comprised the local softball action last night.

Darkness halted the playoff between Trinity Baptist and First Baptist with the score 4-4. The game will be replayed Thursday at 6 p.m. at North Side park. Trinity had a 4-3 lead but First Baptist gained a tie on a bases-loaded walk in the 6th.

The Pontiac Church All Stars will meet Sno-Bol of Drayton Plains tonight at North Side at 8.

The "Doc" Davis stars, made up of members of the 1st, 3rd, 5th and 7th place teams, defeated the Ray Geofferion contingent 11-9. Earl Koonce was the winning hurler fanning seven batters in a three-inning relief stint. A five-run 7th decided the outcome despite homers by Hazen Jones and Compton Hallock of the losers.

Settle Foils Title

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The men's epee and the women's foil titles will be decided in the World Fencing Championships tonight, but the U.S. entries all will be on the sidelines watching.

Loose Motor Breaks Race Driver's Arm

When a loose outboard motor flew off its supports and struck the arm of the boat's driver, Mel Schmiet of Saginaw went to Goodrich Hospital, Sunday, with a broken arm. Schmiet was racing in Lake Louise, in the Class B runabout division.

Two other boats flipped at the same instant, during the C-D-F hydro event, tossing drivers Nick Keller of Reese and Charley Morin of Flint into the lake. Neither was hurt.

Races, sponsored by Ortonville Rotarians, drew 50 boats, for this first boat-racing event at Lake Louise.

Leading drivers included Commodore Bud Proffer of Flint, in A-B runabouts; Marvin Scheick of Flint, Class B hydros, who has now accumulated enough points to assure him of the state "B" title; John McMillen of Flint (runabouts) and Sherman Prim (hydros; in C-D-E.

Way Paved for Major Club

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—The city fathers of Minneapolis rushed today to welcome Major League baseball with open arms.

The City Council by a vote of 10-1 gave a green light to a $4,517,223 bond issue to virtually double the seating capacity of 2-year-old Metropolitan Stadium.

The move would pave the way for the Washington Senators, Cleveland Indians or any other Major League baseball club to move here.

The vote yesterday approved the drafting of a resolution on the bond issue and Councilman Kent Youngdahl, who offered the motion, said it contained "the implication that the proposed bond issue would be adopted" at the Council's next regular meeting Friday.

Representatives of the Metropolitan Sports Area Commission indicated that a "firm commitment" is about to be made with an unidentified Major League club.

"At no time have the prospects been brighter for big league baseball in Minneapolis," Mayor P. Kenneth Peterson told the Council as he urged support of the bond issue proposal.

"Minneapolis is the logical next place for a Major League baseball club move."

The Major League fever swept the city after United Press International learned in Washington that the Senators, apparently trying to beat the Indians to the punch, are preparing to ask permission to move their franchise to Minneapolis.

The bonds would pay for improvements to up the stadium seating capacity from 21,626 to 41,330. Another $4,500,000 in bonds also would be issued to replace bonds issued for original construction of the stadium.

The bonds eventually would be paid out from admission fees.

Ed Doherty, president of the American Assn., said Monday the class AAA league would demand at least $900,000 indemnity if Washington, or any other major league baseball club, is moved to Minneapolis.

"We have two good clubs up there, Minneapolis and St. Paul," Doherty said at league headquarters. "Since the Pacific Coast League was paid $900,000 for San Francisco and Los Angeles, we feel we should get no less for Minneapolis and St. Paul.

"It would be up to the directors to vote on it, of course. We have not called any special meeting because we haven't been notified that Washington intends to move anywhere. This is an iffy proposition."

Doherty declined to express any opinion as to where the franchises at Minpeapolis and St. Paul might be moved if the majors go into the Twin Cities.

Lions Release Popular Meredith

A guitar-strumming rookie tackle from Lamar Tech today was on his way home from the Detroit Lions training camp and left a saddened bunch of Lions behind.

The Lions management announced the release on waivers of Dudley Meredith, reducing the squad to 46. Meredith, a 6-foot, 3-inch, 260 pound Texan, had become a popular figure with the team for his fine guitar playing and pleasant, drawling way with a song.

But coach George Wilson decided the hefty Little All-American of last year couldn't block or tackle as well as he should and that was that. Wilson said he didn't expect there would be any more squad cuts until after Friday night's game here against the New York Giants.

After that, three more players will have to go to enable the Lions to meet the National Football League limit of 43, that goes into effect Sept. 1.

The Lions spent yesterday morning viewing films of their 17-7 victory last Friday over the Cleveland Browns and in individual meetings with Lions coaches. In the afternoon, they ran through some light contact drills and worked on pass protection

Pittsburgh, Cleveland and the Giants were other teams who cut players yesterday.

Linebacker Jerry Leahy of Bay City was among six released by the Steelers. Others were halfbacks Maurice Mosley and Bill Zador, guard Aurelius Thomas, a star at Ohio State last fall, fullback Ed Petrarca and Aubrey Rozzell.

Rookie halfback Sam Brown of UCLA was dropped yesterday by the Browns, who will start four rookies in an exhibition against Los Angeles Friday. Michigan State quarterback Jim Ninowski will head the quartet.

New York sliced its squad to 44 by dropping three. They were former Baltimore Colt John Hermann, a defensive back and rookies Frank Mattarocci and John West.

U.S. Rifleman Sets World Mark

Army Man Wins in Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—Joe Deckert, a lanky Army reserve lieutenant from Deming, N. M., Monday broke the world record in winning the running deer title of the international shooting championships.

Deckert scored 223 out of 250 points in the competition calling for 25 double shots at a moving metal deer from 100 meters.

The first six in the event smashed the record of 213 set by D. Dobrun of the Soviet Union at a Moscow meet earlier this year.

Rune Blodman of Sweden was second with 221 and Harry A. Lucker of El Paso, Tex., third with 219.

Russia broke its own team world record of 828 points with 856. The Americans also eclipsed the old record with 855 points.

The Soviet shooters also won the Kruger Trophy for the two running deer events with a combined score of 1,756. The U. S. was second with 1,737.

Soviet gunmen also dominated the other two matches of the day, the final series of the small bore pistol shooting and the 300-meter rifle firing in which Soviet Army rifles were used.

In the pistol shooting, the Russians piled up 2,361 points. The U. S. was second with 2,319. In the rifle contest, Russia scored 79 hits for 723 points. The U. S. was sixth with 72 and 575.

Soviet champion Kropotin broke the record in leading the pistol shooters with 592 points. Capt. William McMillan of Turtle Creek, Pa., was sixth with 587 and Sgt. Huelett Benner of West Point, N. Y., eighth with 582.

The scores of unplaced Americans:

Running deer—Harry Davis, El Paso, Tex., 210; Lt. Richard Wentworth, Escanaba, Mich., 203.

Soviet Army rifles—Sgt. Albert Hauser, San Diego, Calif., 15 and 125; Sgt. Emmett Duncan, San Diego, 19, and 144; Gordon Tarrask, Pebble Beach, Calif., 19 and 151, and Lt. Verle Wright, Ft. Wayne, Ind., 19 and 156.

Pistols—Lt. David Miller, Denver, 575; Aubrey Smith, Monroe, La., 575.

Physicals Thursday for Orion Gridders

Physical examinations for Lake Orion High School football candidates will be held this Thursday in the high school locker rooms, new head coach Frank Kownacki has announced. Varsity physicals are set for 8:30 a. m., followed by the Jayvees at 10.

Exam cards may be obtained from any member of the coaching staff or at the high school office. Grid equipment will be issued at the conclusion of exams. Any boy interested in becoming student manager this fall should report Thursday, Kownacki said.

'Shoe' Tourney Set for Holiday

Pitchers Will Compete on Labor Day; Entries Close Thursday

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department is calling all male horseshoe pitchers in the county to an open tournament on Labor Day—next Monday—at Oakland Park.

"Shoe" pitching enthusiasts may register for the holiday tourney at the Parks and Recreation Department office in City Hall, 35 S. Parke St. Deadline for entries is Thursday of this week.

Competition will be held in men's singles and doubles and the tournament is open to any Oakland County resident. Trophies will go to the winners and a fee of $1 per person per event will be charged. Monday's tourney begins at 1 p.m.

In a recent exhibition match at Oakland Park between Pontiac and Waterford teams, the Pontiac pitchers came out on the long end of the score, 148-103.

Pontiac compiled a 98-70 margin over Waterford in singles and a 50-33 doubles edge. At the finish, Pontiac's team had three shutouts against one for Waterford.

Church All-Star Teams Will Tangle at Drayton

All-Star softball teams from the Pontiac and Waterford church leagues will clash this Saturday night in an exhibition game at Drayton Plains ball park.

Silvercrest Baptist won the Waterford Church League playoffs last Saturday with a 3-2 victory over St. Andrew Episcopal. The winning run crossed the plate in the 7th inning on a wild pitch.

The Waterford Church loop banquet is scheduled Thursday, Sept. 4 at 6 p.m. at Christ Lutheran. Trophies will be awarded to the regular season champion, playoff winner and best sportsman.

Bob Considine Says:

U.S. Attempts to Give Away Fair Buildings

NEW YORK — The U. S. wants to give away two of the most beautiful structures it owns — our superb pavilion at the Brussels Fair and the magnificent 1,100 seat theater which rests at its side. The fair closes Oct. 17 and apparently will not be given a reprieve of another year, as many hoped.

The U. S. pavilion, designed by Edward D. Stone, is a fairyland dream that made the hearts of millions of visitors leap with joy this spring and summer. At night it is breathtakingly airy and as softly luminous as a heavenly body. With the possible exception of Frank Hale's Playhouse in Palm Beach, the U. S. theater at the fair must be the loveliest of all such pleasure domes.

But here's the rub: Belgium says nuts to that idea. Tear 'em down and cart the debris away. Which, I guess, is what we'll have to do. There's a pretty good chance that Belgium backed away from the proffered gifts because it feared it might have to accept our modern art and sculpture exhibits as part of the giveaway.

Dear Mr. President:

It's all very well and good for you to pledge that the U. S. will give up atomic weapons testing, but where does that leave Zsa Zsa Gabor and me? Zsa Zsa is vice president of the Atom Bombwatchers and I'm the prez. It's a group of science writers formed in a Las Vegas saloon some years ago. It has never failed to stage an annual meeting or a rigged election. With bomb tests gone, what'll we watch now? (Besides Zsa Zsa, of course.) Yrs. in sport — B. C.

Unload your nightshirt stocks. The bottom is dropping out of that form of dress. Nasser says so, and what Nasser says these days goes — see?

Just as Kemal Ataturk snatched the veils off Turkish women, Nasser has ordered Egyptian men to put on their pants. The droopy old galabia is going, going, and soon will be gone — replaced by trousers and a shirt. Nasser has barred the tarboosh (fez), too.

No longer can Egyptian politicians boast, "Vote for me. I wear no man's pants."

Former Senator George Bender of Ohio sold his services too cheaply to Jimmy Hoffa's Teamsters Union, whose "anti-racketeering commission" he will head at a tidy $250 a day.

He accepted the post, Bender said, "only on the condition that I would have a free hand to act as I saw fit . . ."

He should have held out for the additional right to lead the delegates to the next Teamsters convention in the rendition of that song he knows so well and I can sing so loud, "I'm looking Offa a Four Leaf Hoffa."

The President went directly to the golf course the other day after offering the U. S. plan for at least a temporary end to A-bomb testing. The White House announced that in the event of a reply from the Kremlin, he'd be notified on the course.

Secretary Dulles took off on a fishing trip minutes after warning Red China in the dire consequences of further shelling and strafing of Chiang Kai-shek's little island 12 minutes off the mainland.

Dulles said, "I hope to be out of contact with the world for a week," as he waved goodbye.

But never fret. The store is being minded.

The U. N.'s confusion over before-meetings prayer and meditation was best capsuled when former Secretary-General Trygve Lie seriously proposed that the intended U.N. chapel be called "The Rest Room."

Plane Forced Down by Burning Engine

CUT BANK, Mont. (AP) — A Trans World Airlines Super-Constellation with 61 persons aboard was forced down by a burning engine last night at this northern Montana town.

One man, Wilfred Price of San Francisco, was injured when he jumped from the plane as it rolled to a stop.

The four-engine plane set a grass fire, but firemen controlled the blaze. The rest of the passengers and crew apparently escaped injury.

The plane was en route from London to Los Angeles. Officials said a propeller went out of control over Cut Bank and the engine caught fire.

Capt. Earl W. Fleet of Kansas City, the pilot, brought the plane in to a smooth landing.

Fishy Jokester Pulls Smelly Gag on Bronx

NEW YORK (AP)—A fishy situation in a Bronx neighborhood has caused its residents to wonder, with bated breath, what next?

First it was a 300-pound, nine-foot shark, Slit down the belly, jaw and teeth removed, it was found lying on the pavement at 150th Street and Park Avenue yesterday.

The Sanitation Department hauled the shark away — destination a disposal area.

The air had begun to clear when, noses a-twitter, the Bronxites sensed something further amiss.

Suspended by a rope, 30 feet above the sidewalk, an eight-foot porpoise was found last night hanging from a nearby lamppost.

Once again, the Sanitation Department went to the rescue.

High Honor Given to Pontiac Attorney

Pontiac attorney William B. Hartman yesterday received a high honor amongst lawyers when he was admitted into the American College of Trial Lawyers during ceremonies in Beverly Hills, Calif.

Hartman, president of the Oakland County Bar Association, was inducted along with Justice Charles E. Whittaker of the United States Supreme Court, and Rt. Hon. Sir Harry Hylton-Foster, solicitor general of Great Britain, both of whom received honorary fellowships.

The honor is considered to be one of the highest in American jurisprudence, according to Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Emil Gumpert, chancellor of the college. Membership, he said, is limited to one per cent of the attorneys in any state.

Hartman is a partner in the Pontiac law firm of Howlett, Hartman & Beier. He lives at 3970 Pitt St., Waterford Township.

To Push War on Terrorists

Attacks on Oil Depots by Algerian Rebels Anger French

PARIS (AP)—Security officials promised stern measures today against Algerian terrorists who attacked oil depots and other installations across France to back up demands for independence of their North African homeland.

French soldiers were posted around a number of key points. A previously planned special brigade was inaugurated to coordinate the campaign against terrorism.

Officials at the Ministry of Interior declined to reveal any other plans to meet possible repetitions of the bombings, burnings and shootings which occurred before dawn yesterday.

Four police and, at least five terrorists were killed. The attacks followed the pattern of rebel strikes in the almost four-year-old civil war across the Mediterranean in Algeria.

Authorities blamed the wave of terrorism on the group that dominates rebel activity in Algeria, the National Liberation Front (FLN). It has a strong underground among the 400,000 Algerians who have left their impoverished countryside to work in France.

Premier de Gaulle will visit Algeria later this week on his tour seeking votes for a new constitution that would keep Algeria as part of France. The attacks obviously were timed to draw attention to rebel opposition to the constitution. The FLN is urging Algerians to boycott the referendum.

50 Attend City GOP Confab

Fifty attended the Pontiac Republican Women's Club meeting held Monday afternoon at Adah Shelly Branch Library. Mrs. Duncan McVean, president, conducted the business meeting.

Guest speaker was Robert C. Miller, acting postmaster of Pontiac. He showed a film entitled "Story of the U.S. Mails."

Other guests were Frank Pavlinac, William Kreklow, Clarence Senger and Mrs. Rose Chase of Bloomfield, N.J.

Mrs. Harry Henderson, president of the Republican Women's Federation of Oakland County, invited the group to attend the 27th annual picnic at Avon Park, Rochester, to be held tonight.

Paul Bagwell of East Lansing, Republican candidate for governor, will be the featured speaker.

Mrs. Paul Gorman was honored as a new member. She is a candidate for the representative to the State Legislature from Pontiac City, District 2.

A tea followed the meeting. Mrs. Kreklow was chairman of refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Emma Pelican, Mrs. Senger, Mrs. W. E. C. Huthwaite, Mrs. Frederick C. Ziem, Mrs. Bessie Brown and Mrs. Edith Tick.

Shower Honors Ruth Baumann

Ruth Baumann was honored at a bridal shower held Friday at the Clarkston home of Mrs. W. E. Baumann.

Among the 18 guests present was the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Pruyn, who came from Chicago for the affair.

Ruth, daughter of Mrs. Helen Baumann of Washington street, will exchange vows with Robert William Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Neff of Milford, Oct. 24 at Bethany Baptist Church.

Bridge Session Winners Named

The Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club met Monday evening at the Elks Club with 22 tables playing in the monthly masterpoint game.

Winners were Dr. W. F. Barron, Morris Berman, Sally Simons, Mrs. George Young, Henry Georgia, Edwin V. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. James White, Elaine Zeve, Ann Steppach, Mrs. Tom Hollis and Mrs. Eleanor Haack.

Marjorie Jean Willard Weds Earl C. Tomlinson

Marjorie Jean Willard and Earl C. Tomlinson were married Saturday evening at Central Christian Church. The Rev. G. W. Gibson officiated at the candlelight ceremony before 275 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Orson B. Willard of Mapleleaf street and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Tomlinson of Hillcliff street.

The bride's embroidered dress featured a fitted bodice and basque waistline accented by a Sabrina neckline, short sleeves and gauntlets. The floor-length bouffant skirt was of tiered ruffles. Her fingertip veil of pure silk illusion was held by a cap of nylon sheer and embroidery.

ATTEND BRIDE

Mrs. Leon Hickerson of Birmingham was matron of honor with bridesmaids Nancy Schack and Mrs. Charles Akers. They wore mint green dotted nylon dresses with boat necklines, shirred cummerbunds and Grecian back panels of chiffon. On their heads they wore double bands of braid matching their dresses and they carried crescent bouquets of white glamellias and glaroses.

William Tomlinson of Lansing was his brother's best man. Ushers were Robert Schuster and Raymond Lange.

To receive guests at a reception held in Friendship Hall, Mrs. Willard wore a beige linen sheath with a chemise jacket and beige accessories. Her corsage was of Hibbard roses. Mrs. Tomlinson wore a beige linen dress with a matching bolero and beige accessories. Her corsage was of Johanna Hill roses.

When the couple left for a honeymoon to northern Michigan and Niagara Falls, the bride was dressed in a black and white cotton suit with a modified chemise jacket. Her accessories were white, and the orchid from her bridal bouquet was her corsage.

They will live on Highland Road.

The bride attended Ferris Institute where the bridegroom was graduated. He was affiliated with Phi Sigma Chi Fraternity.

KAY CURRIER

Mrs. W. H. Currier of South Jessie street announces the engagement of her daughter, Kay, to John N. Hackett. The son of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Hackett of Owego drive, he attends Notre Dame University. No wedding date has been set.

Christ Church Is Scene of Rogers-Jesson Nuptial

Christ Church Cranbrook was the scene of the Saturday evening wedding of Helen Joanne Jesson and John Milton Knight Rogers. The Rev. Lester L. Dobyns officiated at the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. Stanley P. Jesson of Bloomfield Hills and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Rogers of Orchard Lake.

IN ORGANDY GOWN

The bride selected a gown of white Swiss embroidered organdy over taffeta with a V-neckline and pointed bodice. The full skirt of tiers of organdy formed a chapel train. Her veil of French illusion was held by a shell cap of matching pearl embroidered organdy and she carried a cascade of white glamelias and white sweetheart roses.

Suzanne Aline Jesson was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Ilse Rogers, the bridegroom's sister; Deborah Walsh, Denise Robins, Mary Ellen Benjamin and Mrs. Stanley R. Jesson.

All attendants wore dresses of deep turquoise organza over taffeta with full skirts over harem hemlines. Their headpieces were large flat matching bows and they carried crescent bouquets of white glamelias and pink sweetheart roses.

ATTENDS BRIDEGROOM

Howard Townsend Rogers of Cincinnati was best man. Ushers were Robin Morton, Lee Bertling, Ronald Eckert, Alan Frost Betts, Dr. Oscar Link and Stanley R. Jesson. Michael Ward was ringbearer.

Following a reception held at the Jesson home, the new Mrs. Rogers changed to a green and blue paisley print suit with beige accessories. The couple left for a honeymoon to Mackinac Island and Lake Charlevoix. They will live in Ann Arbor.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jesson wore an aqua chiffon sheath dress with matching hat and Mrs. Rogers was dressed in a shaded blue chiffon dress with a matching hat. Both wore corsages of amber roses.

Date Changed

Mrs. James Watt of Moore street, leader of the Top Slimmerettes (Take Off Pounds Sensibly Group) has announced that meeting nights have been changed from Tuesday to Monday.

The group is open for membership.

Hold Hat, Fashion's in a Spin!

PARIS (AP) — Jump on the fashion merry-go-round; here we go again.

The waistline is up, the neckline is down. Skirts are cut off at the knee, except for Dior's, which are down to mid-calf.

All this you can see for yourself today, with permission of the fashion creators, who insist on giving buyers and manufacturers a three-week head start on copyists and the curious public.

Fashion writers were allowed to describe the new styles after opening three weeks ago, but pictures could not be published until today.

WAISTLINE IS UP

Do these new fashion photos make you feel outmoded? It's all a matter of waistline, which has migrated right up under the bust, to imitate the styles Empress Josephine wore in the days of Napoleon's empire.

But before you go overboard for the Empire line, be forewarned; it has all the earmarks of a short-lived fad. The dressmakers—American, Italian, English and French—have all gone in for it a bit too heavily and unanimously. There's no surer way to run a new fashion quickly into the ground, and buyers were already grumbling before the last show ended.

Here are other news notes of the season, in case your memory needs refreshing:

Black is the leading color. Bright shades come in mostly for after-dark occasions. Gold lame, red, rosy pink, mauves, blues and green lead the spectrum.

Loosely woven mohair wool, satiny surfaced or tweedy woolens for daytime give way to sumptuous all-over embroideries, satins and laces for evening. Fur trimmings abound—sable if you can afford it, or mink will do.

COLLARS ARE BIG

Big collars are practically a trademark. They provide top width for Cardin's "Mushroom" line, and are almost capes in some Dior versions.

Rounded or scoop necklines are just about as low as they can go. But some bare-bosomed evening fashions, notably Dior's, modestly cover up the arms with long sleeves. Backs are often bare to the waist.

Dark stockings—black at Lanvin Castillo, creole brown at Desses—are the darling of the moment. Lanvin even brings back stocking clocks for a naughty look, and achieves a shocking contrast with black stockings and pastel shoes.

Most popular hats to go with the new dresses are tall fezzes or puff-crowned mushrooms. Some look like cabbage heads or feathery fright wigs.

Highlights of Fashion From Paris

From the Paris collection of Christian Dior comes this short evening dress designed by Yves St. Laurent. It is made of Parma violet silk faille with a high waistline, a gently curved skirt and shoulder line with three-quarter sleeves. The fez and slippers are of matching velvet.

Deep purple is the color for this new nubbly wool coat by Pierre Balmain. The wide panel back is brought forward over the shoulders in a draped cross stole which is held by a wide suede belt. The turban is leopard.

Dear Abby....

Let This Phony Hang His Own Pictures

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I am over 21 and have been going with a good-looking divorced man for seven months. He told me he was in love with me and we talked of marriage. I went to his apartment to help him hang pictures and while I was there he got two phone calls. He got nervous and started making up so many lies (he told one not to come over because he was having a gin game, and he told the other one she got him out of a shower, and he'd have to call her right back.)

ABBY

"When I asked who called he lied again and said they were men but I could hear their voices and they were women. If he lied to them and then lied to me, do you think I should quit seeing him?"

OVER 21

DEAR OVER: Break off with this phony while the echoes of his lies are still clear. His kind should stay single and make many girls happy rather than get married and make one miserable.

"DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my husband moved his bed out of our bedroom and he hasn't moved it back yet. He said it was nothing against me, but I keep waiting for him to move his bed back and he doesn't do it. We are still young people in our fifties and I don't see any reason for him to act like this. What should I do?"

IGNORED

DEAR IGNORED: Two years is long enough. Move YOUR bed into HIS room.

"DEAR ABBY: We live in a nice community where everybody owns his own home. When these people moved in across the street I called on her and welcomed her into the neighborhood before I knew what kind of people they were. She borrows and never returns. Her phone was disconnected because of non-payment and she has given our number to everybody she knows which keeps me running between my house and hers all day long and half the night to call her to the phone. I have hinted and tried to be tactful but it does no good. How can I put a stop to this?"

NOT NEIGHBORLY

DEAR NOT: You'll never faze a vulture with a fly swatter. Ask your nervy neighbor to please tell her friends to quit calling her on your telephone. If this fails, when a call comes for her, tell the party that you are sorry but you are too busy to get her.

"DEAR ABBY: Going to work every morning there is a man who rides the same bus I do. He is nice looking and I would like to get to know him. I think I should add he gives me the eye so I know he's interested in meeting me. Should I drop my purse or something or just start in a conversation about the weather? Or is it his place to say something to me first?"

AVAILABLE

DEAR AVAILABLE: Don't drop anything as obvious as a purse. A word about the weather or the traffic ought to break the ice. If he is also "available" he will welcome your small talk and introduce himself.

"DEAR ABBY: Our friend has the utmost trust in her husband who is absolutely getting away with murder. Her so-called wonderful husband is always 'tied up late at the office' and he even uses the church as an excuse. He is cheating left and right! She's a good mother and homemaker and we hate to see her made a fool of. How can we tell her what's going on in a nice way before she hears it from strangers?"

HER FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS: There is no "nice" way to tell a woman that her husband is "cheating left and right" . . . Most women sense these things before their friends do, but simply put on a courageous front. Mind your own business.

"DEAR ABBY: I have been going with Howard for eight years but his mother doesn't let him get married. He is 52 and I am 57. Do you think his mother objects to me because I am older than him? The three of us used to get along fine, I would even agree to letting his mother live with us, but she still won't give her consent. Should I just forget about Howard or should I fight for him?"

"57"

DEAR "57": Howard is a big boy and he doesn't need his mother's consent to get married. If you "fight" for him and WIN, you'd still be in second place.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TWENTY": If he were poor, would you still love him? Let this 49'er go — unless you aim to start the gold rush all over again.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MUST KNOW:" A blood test will only prove who the baby's father ISN'T — not who the baby's father IS. Sorry.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SEARCHING FOR HAPPINESS: My father used to say, "To make a man happy—add not to his possessions, subtract from his desires."

Surgeon Must Decide

Many Acne Scars Can Be Erased

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There is probably no physical defect which causes such real suffering as severe scarring from acne. Neglected teen-age acne may leave a woman with a very bad skin and an inferiority complex. This is a handicap which cannot be hidden. It is there for everyone to see, and even worse, stares back at a woman every time she looks into a mirror.

Up until fairly recently this was simply a burden which had to be borne with as much courage and gallantry as possible. Therefore it gives me real happiness to write today's column, for today there is hope.

Success from dermal abrasion may vary from as little as 30 per cent to close to 100 per cent. Some patients may even be turned down if the suregeon feels that little success can be achieved. However, in the majority of cases the situation can be greatly improved, sometimes dramatically so, and even moderate improvement brings some relief to the patient.

The wide variation in the texture and thickness of the skin produces many types of acne and a correspondingly wide variety of scars. If the patient's skin is naturally smooth, with multiple, well-defined craters which appear to be punched out, good results can be expected. If the skin has an overall rough contour, as men with thick skins have, the results may be disappointing.

If there is a serious question about the success of abrading an acne scarred skin, the surgeon may treat a trial area under a local anesthetic in his office or clinic. Evaluation of the results four to six weeks later will help him judge the potential success in abrading the entire face.

Acne scars are not surgically treated until the active acne infection has died down. Such infection seldom lasts into adulthood.

The scars from small pox and chicken pox usually are successfully treated. The deeper layers of the skin are relatively untouched by those scars and even those severely disfigured are likely to show dramatic improvement.

Surgeons continue to be astonished by how happy patients are even with mediocre results. One young girl refused to finish high school, stayed in her room and wept over her acne scarred face. The surgeon who abraded her skin did not feel that he had achieved more than a 70 per cent improvement, but the girl became a different person. She now is well adjusted, happily married and the mother of two children.

Amuse Baby While Bathing

Your own daily bath is a time to relax. But for baby, bath time is play time. It's easy to amuse your little bundle of energy while you take care of the more important matter of soaping him clean.

Just drop a few large corks into his tub and listen to the giggles and gurgles. The bobbing playfulness of the corks will keep baby happy. And this — to take the long range point of view — will start baby early on the road to loving his bath.

Have You Tried This?

Cream Style Corn Is Easy to Put in Freezer

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Tried and true ways of canning and freezing are always good to get. Many of our readers have frozen fresh corn on the cob, or whole kernel style. But do many of you do it cream style?

* * *

Mrs. George McCorkle shares her freezing secrets with us today. She is an enthusiastic gardener and preserves much of what she grows. Working for the Cancer center and in the Eastern Star are her major outside activities.

FROZEN CREAM STYLE CORN
By Mrs. George McCorkle

Cut corn off the cob, about halfway down through each kernel. Scrape the cob to extract all the juice and bulk. Put corn in a saucepan and add just a bit of water to keep it from sticking. Let come to a boil and remove from stove.

Chill immediately by setting pan in ice water. Box and freeze. Do only a small amount at a time so that it cools quickly. The starch present in the corn will be enough to make the product smooth and creamy, Mrs. McCorkle says.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Alfred Fox Jr. and Mrs. Joseph Fox of Amherstburg, Ontario.

Anna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Fox of Ellwood avenue, is the bride-elect of Francis B. O'Connor Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. O'Connor of Detroit.

Miller-Bendig Vows Said

St. Vincent dePaul Church was the scene of the wedding Saturday morning of Janice Bendig and James D. Miller. The Rev. Sabian K. Weber officiated at the ceremony before 300 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Walter Bendig of Judson court and the late Mr. Bendig and Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Miller of Detroit.

EMPIRE STYLED GOWN

The bride wore a princess-style floor-length gown of peau de soie with an Empire top of Chantilly lace featuring a Sabrina neckline and long sleeves pointed at the wrist. A small fitted lace cap held her fingertip veil of French illusion, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with white rosebuds.

Connie Reaver was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of mint green organdy with a matching headpiece. Her bouquet was white and mint green carnations.

Best man was Thomas Carron of Detroit, with ushers Larry Smith and Robert Alyward both of Detroit.

RECEPTION GIVEN

To receive guests at a reception held at Gingellville Community Club Mrs. Bendig wore a Delft blue lace sheath with matching accessories. Mrs. Miller was dressed in a pink lace sheath. Both had corsages of white and pink rosebuds.

Help Child Be Tidy

Children may balk at putting their playthings away if they aren't taught to do so at an early age. A child of eighteen months often enjoys putting his toys away if it's made a game. Shelves and cupboards conveniently arranged, or his own toy chest, will help to instill the habit of putting away toys without being told.

GAIL M. BARBER

To graduate from Grace Hospital School of Nursing, Detroit, on Friday is Gail Mary Barber. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Barber of Cherokee road.

Couple Wed in Rite at Cranbrook

Dressed in a floor-length white silk taffeta gown, Nancy Jane Buckmaster was married to Whitten Seaver Humphreys Saturday afternoon at Christ Church Cranbrook.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hersh Pretz of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Stark Newell Humphreys of Naperville, Ill.

The bridal gown featured a Sabrina neckline embroidered with pearls and iridescent sequins. Her mantilla veil was of silk illusion appliqued in matching lace and she carried a cascade bouquet of white rosebuds and stephanotis with ivy.

Suzanne Christiana Pretz was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Louise Annetta Bost, Barbara Ann Ouderkirk, Ann Harris Willett and Heather Ann Humphreys.

Richard Owens was best man. Alan B. Buckmaster, C. Roger Buckmaster, John W. Jansen and Duane Paluska were ushers, with Stark Lawrence Humphreys as junior usher.

A reception was held at Birmingham Country Club.

The bride changed to a navy blue silk ensemble with matching accessories for a trip to Emerald Lake Chateau in the Canadian Rockies.

Hands-Off Policy Is Best for Marriage

By RUTH MILLETT

Jane and Bill, both 17, after a year of going steady, got married—and then informed their parents of what they had done.

Their parents, dismayed by the news, but convinced that their responsibility to their children didn't automatically come to an end just because the children had gotten married, decided to finance the marriage until the young people could get on their feet.

Jane's parents gave her an allowance and Bill's parents also gave him one. The two handouts, added together, were enough for the young couple to pay rent on an apartment, buy food, keep up Bill's car and have some spending money. That was a year ago.

Today Jane is back with her parents and Bill has moved back with his — and the marriage is going to end in divorce.

But here's a far different story, as told by a young wife in a letter to this column.

"I was 15 when I married and I had a baby when I was 16.

"My husband couldn't get a job that would support us both, so I worked when I could the first two years of our marriage. We quarreled constantly because we didn't understand each other. I admit that if I had had the money I would have divorced my husband any time within the first two years of our marriage.

"What turned our infatuation into real love was facing hardship together — because we couldn't afford to run away. We lost a baby that was born prematurely. It was a struggle just to get enough food to eat. But having to face the hardships together made us grow up fast.

Her letter might also encourage parents to keep hands off — instead of thinking they are being helpful by making things financially easy for a young couple who run off and get married.

An electric razor for women now combines two little shavers. One blade is designed for underarms and another for legs. The razor comes in pink, blue or white cases trimmed with gold and pearls.

Youth's Mistake Is Sex Before Love

By MURIAL LAWRENCE

A neighbor of Mrs. W. has an "untrained, neglected" child named Rosie, about the same age as Mrs. W.'s 7-year-old Joyce. The other day Joyce broke down and confessed that Rosie has been imparting sex information to her.

Mrs. W. writes, "How can I erase the filthy impression made on Joyce by this child?"

Now I am going to shock a lot of people.

I think that sex talk among children of the same age is more wholesome than our grownup, "scientific" sex discussions with them.

Parent-child sex discussions are inevitably artificial. Between sexually experienced adults and inexperienced children is such a gulf of different feeling toward the subject matter that we just can't jump over it — and shouldn't have to try.

NORMAL REACTION

A youngster's startled but comradely giggles over another's revelations are more appropriate to childhood than the uneasy or bored or mystified patience he brings to our efforts to extract from the facts of life the life they contain for us.

So in my opinion "filth" is not what went on between these two little girls.

No, I'm not against sex instruction by parents. I'm just against idealizing it as the most hygienic way to introduce a child to a subject which is charged with emotional meaning for us that he cannot possibly share.

Parents who take pride in their ability to dispense cool, "objective" sex instruction may resist this idea. To encourage them to give it some new, original thought, I am going to quote from the best child guidance book I know — "Don't Be Afraid of Your Child," by psychiatrist Dr. Hilde Bruch. (Incidentally, excerpts from it will appear in this space during my coming vacation.)

Dr. Bruch writes: "There is cause to wonder whether the fact that parents have taken over sex instruction may not have deprived children of something essentially necessary; namely, to learn about sex as a shared experience with their contemporaries.

"What a child hears from other children, even though it may be incorrect, may better satisfy his curiosity because it may be more in keeping with his own way of thinking and current notions."

Haven't you ever wondered?

For Fading Tans Key Make-Up to Skin Color

As summer draws to a close, a lot of girls begin worrying about getting rid of that tan they've spent so much time acquiring.

Actually, there's no reason to hasten the process. A summer tan can look very well with the first dark clothes of fall. And it disappears rapidly anyway once you're away from the sun.

Your daily bath will help to scrub it away. Meanwhile, you will need to change your lipstick, rouge and powder shades as your skin becomes lighter.

If you keep your make-up keyed to your skin, your tan should not present a problem in the early days of autumn.

Does Double Duty

A new nail polish remover does double duty as a base coat. In cream form, the remover also keeps cuticle soft and gives nails a sheen. Polish may be applied immediately after using the remover.

Patricia Ann Achartz and Lt. Daniel Patterson Warwick were married Saturday afternoon at Church of St. Mary Magdalene, Portland, Ore. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Achartz and Mr. and Mrs. S. Arthur Warwick.

MRS. DANIEL P. WARWICK

AF Lt. Daniel P. Warwick Married in Oregon Rite

The Rev. George J. Campbell officiated at the wedding ceremony of Patricia Ann Achartz and Lt. Daniel Patterson Warwick Saturday afternoon at Church of St. Mary Magdalene in Portland, Ore., before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Achartz of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. S. Arthur Warwick of Rosshire court.

The bride selected a floor-length gown of white nylon tulle accented with inserts of hand-cut Chantilly lace. A tiara of seed pearls held her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids.

Diane Achartz, the bride's sister of Portland, Ore., was maid of honor and Delores O'Hara of Portland was bridesmaid. They wore waltz-length gowns of light blue taffeta. Their light blue veils fell from crowns of seed pearls and they carried bouquets of white and light blue carnations.

Best man was Lt. Thomas Wolters, assisted by ushers Lt. Norwood Potter and Lt. Curtis May, all of Portland.

To receive guests at a reception held at the Officers Club, Portland Air Base, the bride's mother wore an ice blue lace dress with a feathered hat. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in an aqua silk dress with a satin hat. Both had corsages of pink roses and white carnations.

When the couple left for a honeymoon to Lake Louise and Banff, Canada, the new Mrs. Warwick was wearing a "Directoire" fashioned dress of lightweight wool with black silk and satin trim and black accessories.

They will live in Portland.

The bride is a graduate of Providence School of Nursing, Portland, and the bridegroom is a graduate of Michigan State University where he was affiliated with Sigma Nu Fraternity. He is serving with the United States Air Force in Portland.

Cleanliness Basic for Teenage Skin

Teen-agers will find cleanliness is fundamental to healthy skin and hair. Because of active oil glands during adolescence, they may be troubled with acne.

Frequent washings with a mild soap help prevent infection which can be serious, and getting an extra hour's sleep each night contributes to better overall health.

Reds' Kapitza Out to Put First Man in Space

AMSTERDAM (UPI)—An American scientist who arrived here from Moscow said today Russia's brilliant Peter Kapitza has been charged with the task of getting a Russian into space and back—alive and first.

The American, whose name must be withheld, is attending the Ninth International Astronautical Congress which has just opened in Amsterdam. He said he got news of Kapitza's new mission from many contacts with Soviet researchers in Moscow.

The high priority granted by the Kremlin to the Soviet projects for manned space flights and moon probes has made Kapitza, as head of the programs, the most powerful scientist in Russia today, the American said.

This was the first word about the legendary Kapitza since last October when, after a long period of obscurity, his name was mentioned by Moscow as one of the "coordinators" of the project which sent the first Sputnik into orbit.

Now, according to the American informant, Kapitza is at the very top and answerable only to the Kremlin. If true, this represents the climax of a strange story.

RESEARCHER AT CAMBRIDGE

The Russian-born Kapitza was a researcher at the nuclear laboratories at Cambridge, England, before the war. He went to Russia ostensibly on a holiday and to visit a sick relative, and did not return.

British scientists campaigned for many years to force his release, believing that he was held a prisoner by Stalin. He has never left Russia since, as far as it is known, but western scientists no longer regard him as a prisoner.

His work for Russia has fulfilled all the predictions made for his career at Cambridge, where he was rated so highly that a special laboratory was built for him.

Meanwhile, the first formal session of the Astronautical Congress today turned into a tribute for Werner von Braun, the German-born American rocket expert who is regarded as the brain behind the Explorer Satellite.

On the failure of Explorer V to reach the orbit stage after the unsuccessful rocket firing at Cape Canaveral Sunday Von Braun said upon arrival at Amsterdam: "In this business anything can happen—and it usually does."

The satellite was designed to explore further the radiation band recently discovered by American and Russian satellites, with a view to determining whether it would make space flights impossible.

"We've got another bird being readied for another project," he said. "However, this one was so important we may try it again."

He said his own hunch about the radiation band was that "a thin metal shield — say, three millimeters of lead — will give space travelers any protection they need."

Dutch Rely on Soil

AMSTERDAM — The Netherlands' national economy depends on the soil. Out of a total of 6,500,000 acres, 2,500,000 are cultivated, 3,000,000 are pastureland, and 1,000,000 are flower gardens and forests.

Daldine, 258 Auburn Rd., and Robert J. Hoffman, Auburn Heights, both for habitual negligence, negligent operation and failure to appear for re-examination; Monte Bigg Pepperell of Birmingham and Bobby R. Spencer, both for driving while licenses were suspended; Thomas W. Tucker, Pontiac Township, unlawfully driving away a motor vehicle, and George Wooten, 249 Harrison St., leaving the scene of a personal injury accident.

Farmer Is Worth More Than Ever

Federal Reserve Sets Assets at $186.7 Billion for 5.7 Pct. Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U. S. farmer is worth more today than ever before.

The Federal Reserve system reported that the value of all U. S. farm assets last year rose to an all-time peak of $186,700,000,000. That is a 5.7 per cent increase in a year.

The Federal Reserve also reported that farmers owed a record debt by the end of 1957 of $20,200,000,000—a 700 million dollar increase.

But even with the increased debt taken into account farmers still were worth a record total of $166,500,000,000. That is an increase of $6,900,000,000 or 5.9 per cent.

Farm assets include the financial assets, automobiles and household furnishings and equipment owned by farmers as well as all the assets used directly in farm production. These include farm land and buildings, livestock, tractors, motor trucks, farm machinery and inventories of crops.

The board said the 1957 increase in farm values and equities resulted chiefly from the upward trend of farm real estate values. Nearly seven billion of the 10 billion dollars in increased assets came from this source.

The farm debt increase in 1957 was almost exclusively in farm mortgage debts. The total of other farm debts showed little change.

Wall Street in General Applauds Donner Choice

By WALTER BUSSEWITZ

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's financial center generally applauded today the elevation of Frederic G. Donner as top man of General Motors Corp.

Bankers and brokers of lower Manhattan found two particularly interesting points in the news: the fact that the new head of the world's largest manufacturing company is a career financial man—not an engineer—and also that he has spent many of his years in GM's New York office, away from the everyday influences of the Detroit motor industry.

Donner becomes chief executive officer and board chairman of the corporation Sept. 1, following the retirement of Harlow H. Curtice as president and chief executive officer. The appointment was announced late yesterday. Curtice reached the concern's normal retirement age of 65 on Aug. 15.

John F. Gordon, an engineer, succeeds Curtice as president. He also was given the title of chief operation officer. In effect, GM divided Curtice's previous jobs between two men.

The partner of a leading investment banking firm said of Donner, "I think it's a splendid choice. He's a darn good man and has a lot of ability."

An automotive analyst at a big brokerage house sair, "It was perfectly natural for Donner to come in. This was simply routine. There was no change in policy."

At another brokerage firm, a spokesman declared, "It's hard to draw any conclusions. A lot of people on Wall Street know practically nothing about the man."

An officer of a commercial bank said, "Mr. Donner's been a prominent guy in the automobile business for a long time. We think he's tops."

Donner has been executive vice president and chairman of GM's financial policy committee for the past two years. He joined the GM financial staff 32 years ago and has worked up steadily in the New York office.

The announcement said Donner will make his headquarters in New York but will frequently travel to Detroit.

This was viewed as significant by observers who felt that GM may be trying to get away from some of the concepts of Detroit's past. Curtice had his headquarters in Detroit.

It was pointed out that changing public tastes and buying habits may call for courageous decisions on product styling and the small car issue.

The financial community had little immediate comment on the auto firm's return to the management system in effect prior to 1946 when Alfred P. Sloan Jr. served as chairman and chief executive officer. For the past 12 years, the president has been the No. 1 man at GM.

Raise Employes' Pay in 22 States, Hawaii

CHICAGO — According to the Public Personnel Association, 22 states and Hawaii raised public employes' salaries during 1957. Increases went as high as $1,500 a year for top New York State employes, about 11 per cent for North Carolina civil servants, and 10 per cent for some groups of California employes. In Canada, too, public-employe salaries were increased — by the Canadian government and the provinces of Manitoba and British Columbia.

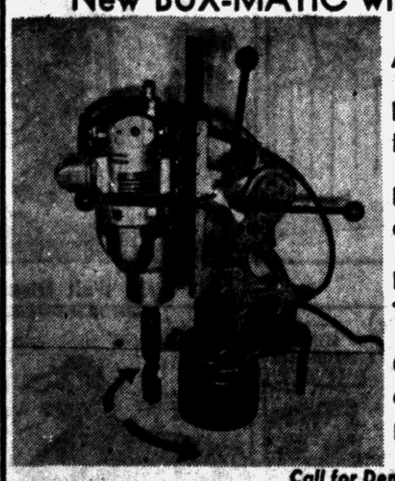

Some people never hit the mark because they never pull the trigger.

Hugh Milton Made Under Sec. of Army

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hugh M. Milton was sworn in today as under secretary of the Army. He has been assistant secretary of the Army since 1953.

Milton, an educator and mechanical engineer in civilian life, has been in and out of the military service since World War I which he entered as an enlisted man. He served as a Chemical Corps and staff officer in the Southwest Pacific during World War II, rising to the rank of brigadier general.

He was recalled to active duty again in 1951 to aid in development of the reserve program and was promoted to the rank of major general.

Auto Strikes Hindering Less

Agreements Send 4,000 Men Back to Work on Big 3's '59 Models

DETROIT (AP) — Strike interference with production of new 1959 model automobiles was at a reduced level today.

Settlements sent 4,000 strikers back to work yesterday as the United Auto Workers and the car industry's big three began a sixth month of contract negotiations.

But some 3,500 Ford and Chrysler employes remain on strike at Detroit and Cleveland area factories.

Most of the strikes have been over management call-back policies of idle workers for new car production. The union has demanded that no employed workers be given overtime work if unemployed men can be called back.

The UAW and Ford, General Motors and Chrysler have negotiated since early spring. Since Memorial Day there have been no contracts because of the stalemate. Old contracts expired at that time.

Strike settlements were achieved at plants of Chrysler, Ford and General Motors in Detroit, Chicago and Flint.

In another facet of the auto-labor picture, American Motors offered $100 pay advances to 800 laid-off Grand Rapids appliance plant workers.

The pay advances were offered workers whose state unemployment compensation has been suspended pending a judgment on the legality of an AMC-UAW vacation pay-bonus plan.

News in Brief

Charles Hitchcock, of 340 Roslyn St., Waterford Township, reported to Pontiac Police Monday that someone had stolen a set of golf clubs valued at $175 from his car while it was parked in the Elks Temple parking lot, 114 Orchard Lake Ave.

Thomas H. Charboneau, 21, of 109 S. Josephine St., Waterford Township, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk driving Monday before Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback and was sentenced to 30 days in the Oakland County Jail after failing to pay a fine of $100 plus $7 costs.

Thomas J. Sparks, 30, of 623 E. Lake Drive, Walled Lake, pleaded guilty to a drunk driving charge Monday before West Bloomfield Township Justice Robert F. Scott and paid a fine of $50 plus $25 costs.

Pontiac Police reported yesterday that someone had entered the home of Mrs. Frankie Coad, 3 Mechanic St., and stolen her purse containing $80.

Grain Prices Steady to Firm

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market mustered some scattered support today and prices on the Board of Trade were steady to firm in early dealings.

Some traders said the Chinese situation appeared to be the main market influence but that it had considerably less force than it had yesterday.

There appeared to be some hedge lifting in both wheat and soybeans along with short-cover.

Near the end of the first hour trade was slow with wheat ⅛ to ⅝ cent a bushel higher, September $1.84⅞. Corn was unchanged to ⅜ higher, September $1.24½; oats ¼ to ⅜ higher, September 62⅝; rye 1 to 1¼ cents higher, September $1.22⅝; soybeans ⅝ to 1⅛ higher, September $2.23¾; lard 8 cents a hundred lbs. higher to 5 cents lower, September $12.90.

Chinese Reds Fire on Islands 4th Day

early afternoon some 5,500 shells crashed down on the heavily fortified islands.

Three newspapers in Taipei issued extras saying Communist MIG17 jet fighters flown by defecting pilots had landed on Formosa. One paper said two pilots had defected and another paper said eight.

The Defense Ministry spokesman, Rear Adm. Liu Tu, flatly denied the reports but rumors persisted that something had happened which authorities found inexpedient to disclose.

The 7th Fleet is pledged to protect Formosa but not necessarily Quemoy or the offshore islands. Officials in Washington said close watch was being kept on the set-up in the Communist attack.

Maj. Gen. Thomas F. Moorman, commander of the U.S. 13th Air Force based in the Philippines, visited Formosa for talks with top Nationalist and U.S. military assistance officers.

Nationalist authorities were paying increasing attention to the possibility that the Communists would try to seize Tungting Island, 17 miles south of Quemoy.

Tungting is used by the Nationalists to keep tab on ships trying to sneak out of Amoy, the Communist port opposite Quemoy, so Nationalist warships can be alerted to intercept them. Its capture would help the Reds evade Nationalist blockades. The island is believed fairly well fortified and garrisoned by the Nationalists.

Nautilus Crew Enjoys Holiday in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Proud officers and crew of the atomic submarine Nautilus enjoyed a holiday on the town today with their families and friends.

At the Brooklyn Navy Yard, a fourth of the ship's complement of 12 officers and 97 men maintained a watch on the craft which crossed under the North Pole ice-cap to history.

The blue-black sub is berthed for dockside view by the public today and tomorrow. She cannot be boarded.

New York's three-day welcome will continue tomorrow with the honor the city traditionally extends to conquering heroes—a ticker tape parade.

Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, controversial expert on nuclear ship propulsion and "father" of the Nautilus, will ride up lower Broadway with the sub's crew in full view of sidewalk crowds. In the lead car will be the Nautilus' skipper, Cmdr. William R. Anderson.

Woman, 75, Beaten, Raped and Robbed

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — Beaten, raped and robbed, a 75-year-old woman was found yesterday in critical condition at the farm home where she lived alone.

The woman, Mrs. Edith Busse Eversharp, was hospitalized here. Hospital officials said she had been beaten on the head and had marks on her throat and bruises over much of her body.

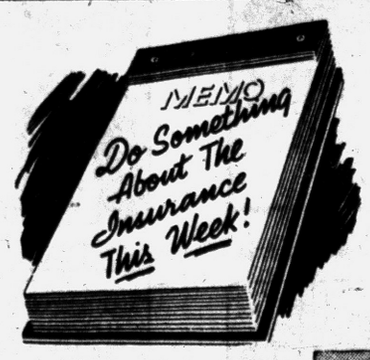

State Police at South Haven said the front door of her small house had been smashed open and an undetermined amount of money was missing, along with a rifle, shotgun and radio.

Police said they were seeking a young Negro who was seen leaving the house in a pickup truck yesterday morning. They believe the beating took place late Sunday or early Monday.

More Utensils Sold

WASHINGTON—Imports of Japanese stainless-steel tableware now aecount for about 41 per cent of United States sales of these utensils. This compares with 4½ per cent in 1953.

New Jersey, a heavy industry state, has forests over 46 per cent of its land.

Stock Market Inches Upward

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market managed a slight edge to the upside in fairly active early trading today.

Key issues were mainly higher but by small fractions. Quite a few were unchanged. Slight losses peppered various sections.

The market was active at the opening. The pace continued brisk but with no appreciable change in the price level.

Babbitt rose a fraction as it continued to advance on company predictions of expanding business. Revlon resumed its rise of yesterday, adding a sizable fraction.

U.S. Steel traded about unchanged after touching a record high yesterday. Bethlehem also was about unchanged. Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin were steady.

No great change in the business news background occurred. Tightening interest rates were reflected in another boost in the U.S. treasury's short-term borrowing costs and in the discount rate rise by the Atlanta Federal Reserve Bank, following the example of San Francisco and Dallas.

A 15,000-share block of American Can was sold at 46⅝, off ¼.

General Motors eased following news of its change in top echelon executives. Other automotive stocks were about unchanged.

Small gains were made by Commonwealth Edison, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Raytheon, Eastman Kodak, Air Reduction, Baltimore & Ohio, Schering, Merck and Standard Oil of Indiana.

Down a bit were American Smelting, International Nickel, Westinghouse Electric, Royal Dutch, Eastern Air Lines and Pan American World Airways.

He May Criticize Bill in Part

Ike Expected to Approve Hike in Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources said today President Eisenhower is expected to sign the bill increasing Social Security benefits by about 7 per cent.

Eisenhower may, however, strongly criticize provisions increasing the federal grant contribution to public assistance programs run by the states.

Persons in position to know said both the President and Secretary of Welfare Flemming have strong feelings against increasing the federal share in supporting such programs benefiting the aged, dependent children, the blind and totally disabled.

But these sources said it has been decided the merits of the legislation outweigh the demerits.

Though they did not mention it, this is an election year and practical politics is a likely factor.

The principle demerit is described as the 198-million-dollar annual increase in the federal share of funds Congress voted for the federal-state public assistance program.

Points regarded as favorable include these:

1. Increased Social Security insurance benefits — establishing a new monthly minimum of $33 instead of $30 and a new maximum of $116 instead of $108.50 for eligible retired workers; also making possible a $127 maximum in the more distant future.

2. Strengthening the financing of the system by increasing the tax rate from 2½ per cent to 2½ per cent on both employer and employe, enlarging the taxable base from $4,200 to $4,800 of a worker's annual earnings, and shortening the timetable for future tax increases.

3. Relating part of the federal share for public assistance to the financial ability of a state.

4. Simplifying administrative procedures for both the insurance and public assistance programs.

Pontiac to Ask Sewage Funds

Commission to Request $250,000 U.S. Grant From Health Agency

Pontiac tonight will ask for a $250,000 federal grant to help finance the proposed $3,300,000 sewage treatment plant which voters will pass on Nov. 4.

If the grant is approved, City Manager Walter K. Willman said, the city will not have to issue the whole $3,300,000 bond issue it is asking voters to approve at the coming general election.

"There is, of course, no assurance that the grant will be approved by Washington," Willman said. Approval hinges on how well the Pontiac project competes for available federal funds, he said.

City commissioners will be asked tonight to forward a resolution requesting the funds to the Department of Health, Welfare and Education, which controls them.

They are also scheduled to take final action to place the $3,300,000 bond issue on the ballot. To pass, it must be approved by three-fifths of the property owners voting.

Willman will also ask for authority to pick up options on two pieces of property sought for a municipal parking lot south of Pontiac General Hospital.

He said that negotiations are continuing for five other privately owned parcels and three held by the hospital.

The city hopes to have a 214-stall lot, priced at $200,000, ready by the time the hospital building program is completed late this year.

Commissioners, in other business, have action scheduled on nine neighborhood improvement projects. One involves acceptance of an assessment roll to finance a sanitary sewer on the north side of Montcalm street at Lakeside drive. The others involve confirmation of rolls for projects that have been completed this summer.

A petition will be presented calling for changing the polling place in Precinct 11 from the Oakland County Office Building to Fire Station No. 3.

Business Notes

Several representatives and their wives from the Pontiac District Office of the Equitable Life Assurance Society recently returned from their annual educational conference, held at the Grand Hotel, Mackinac Island. Those attending were C. B. Clark, district manager; Richard L. Mineweaser; Howard Peterson; Charles H. Vaughan; Ronald Stanhouse; and Albert C. Benter, Jr.

Robert F. Lima has joined the International Department of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., it is announced by John H. Byrne, vice president. He will serve as international copy supervisor. Lima, who for over eleven years was technical editor of The American Automobile and El Automovil Americano has edited monthly magazines in Havana and worked in radio advertising there.

Commissions are not paid on arguments won, but on sales made.

HE'S WELL-PAID — Ricky Nelson is the highest paid teen entertainer in the nation. Besides appearing with his parents and brother David on the Ozzie and Harriet TV show, he sells millions of records and draws huge crowds on singing appearances.

He Only Needs $10 Per Week

Teen Sensation Says All Earnings in Bank Until 21st Birthday

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Meet Ricky Nelson, doubtless the highest-paid 18-year-old in the nation.

Ricky is the youngest of the talented Nelson clan. Not only does he appear on the Ozzie and Harriet TV show with his parents and brother David, the lad also sells millions of records and has drawn up to 26,000 people (Minnesota State Fair) on singing appearances.

MAKING MOVIE

He's now making his first dramatic move, playing a young gun slinger in "Rio Bravo." Here is the result of a question-and-answer session:

Q. Pat Wayne said he read you're worth 1½ million dollars. Is that true?

A. I don't know what I'm worth. I never see the money.

Q. Where is it?

A. In the bank. I get it when I'm 21.

Q. What are you going to do with it?

A. Spend it.

Q. What do you live on now?

A. My folks give me money when I ask for it. I don't need much—about $10 a week.

Q. Are your personal appearances dangerous?

A. They can be. I lose some of my clothing now and then. I generally take along two ex-UCLA football players, Paul Cameron and Jack Elena, to protect me. I spend most of my time in each town in the hotel room. It's too much of a problem to go out.

Q. If they're so rugged, why do you go on these tours?

A. I like to sing.

Q. Did you ever take any lessons?

A. No. I used to sing in a church choir. And I was a big fan of classical music when a kid.

Q. Are you going to college?

A. Not this year. I'll be too busy making another picture, the TV series, recording and doing personals. If I took four years of college, then went into the Army for two years, that would be too much time lost.

Q. What is your draft status?

A. I'm registered. I suppose I'll have until I'm 22 before I go in.

Q. Your father once told me you and David could cut out from the TV show any time you wanted. Have you ever thought of it?

A. No. It's a good thing to have. I wouldn't want my own show.

Algae Oxygen Keeps 2 Mice Alive in Test

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Two dwarf mice from Texas lived for 37 days in an imitation space chamber on oxygen produced by green algae, it was reported today.

The mice are still alive and well, but the method of providing their oxygen isn't practical at least at present for any space project involving man, the report said.

The mice were provided with everything they needed to exist in their space capsule—food, water and oxygen. But they never left the ground.

If man does get into space, he'll need at least 600 quarts of oxygen a day to survive, Dr. Myers said. But the very weight of the oxygen provision in tanks for several days flight would be prohibitive.

Perhaps sometime in the future the use of green algae to recycle the oxygen supply might be practical. The algae consume carbon dioxide and turn out oxygen. The researchers constructed an algae chamber for the mice but it would take an awful lot of the green water plants to supply enough oxygen for man.

Dr. Myers and Mrs. Doney conducted their project under contract to the U.S. Air Force School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Air Force Base, Tex. Dr. Myers' report was prepared for presentation to the American Institute of Biological Sciences, meeting on the Indiana University campus.

Modern Cowboy Goes the Way of the Buffalo

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — How you fixed for buffaloes?

Get hold of Guy Madison if your buffalo's been mischievous. He'll make it into buffaloburgers quicker'n you can say "Wild Bill Hickok, star of TV, movies and state fairs."

WILSON

You see, Guy's making a $5,000 bet (with Wilbur Clark, of Las Vegas that he can kill a "rogue buffalo"—a mean, nasty, clubhouse-lawyer kind of buffalo — with a bow-and-arrow from horseback.

Guy was here rustling up some Wall Street wumpum for a new TV series — some "middle-westerns" and "easterns" rather than westerns, to be made in New Orleans, Texas and even in Ohio—when Clark heard he was also going to shoot at a buffalo target at the N.Y. State Fair at Syracuse.

MADISON

He wired Guy the $5,000 bet offer: 2-to-1 he couldn't kill one. "We of course have many Indians who have done it," he added, pointedly.

Guy, a Sacramento boy and a sailor before he was Wild Bill Hickok, said the other day: "I know I can do it if I have the right horse. A buffalo's a dangerous animal and can rip a horse in two."

His partner, Helen Ainsworth, didn't seem at all worried about the danger to Guy, whom she hopes to make into a new Doug Fairbanks Sr. — it may be that she hopes to tamper with the buffalo before the match.

"Thing is," he said coolly, "if you're gonna get hurt, you're gonna get hurt even if you're walking across the street."

See you back at the corral.

SOME MORE "FUNNY SIGNS": The wide open spaces of Idaho have these: "If you lived here, you'd be home now" . . . "Cowboys on their way to town have the right of way" . . . "Sagebrush is free. Fill your trunk" . . . Near Los Angeles? "Humpty's Dump" (lunch room) . . .Rear auto window in Rapid City, S.D.: "Made in Las Vegas from old slot machine parts."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Elsa Maxwell officially returns to the Jack Paar TV show Sept. 17 (if she feels o.k. from her boat ride) wtih NBC's blessing. She'll appear "every couple of weeks". MMonroe's gown for "Some Like It Hot" will have a red beaded heart on the derriere . . . Steve Allen, back from Europe, will keep his newly-grown mustache for his first TV show.

EARL'S PEARLS: Some husbands think the only difference between paying alimony and staying married is that with the former you mail the paycheck instead of just handing it over.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Have you heard of a Texan who bought a Cadillac — and took his change in Volkswagens? . . . That's earl, brother.

John D. Pierce High School Won't Open Until Sept. 15

Students who will attend the new John D. Pierce Junior High School which opens this fall in Waterford Township will be able to sleep in 11 more days than other students this fall.

According to William Shunck, superintendent, the new school, which will accommodate 1,500 students, has a cafeteria, gymnasium and homemaking and art rooms which are still incomplete.

Students who are to attend this school in grades seve, eight and nine are not to report for regular sessions until Sept. 15 instead of Sept. 3, the regular first day of school for other schools.

Pupils are to register at the new school located at Hatchery and Crescent Lake roads as previously scheduled.

Shunck reported to the board that an enrollment "in excess of 11,000 students" is anticipated this year in Waterford Township's 17 elementary, two junior high and one senior high school.

This year will be the first one in which the high school will be "operating with a full high school student load," he added. He advised the board to seriously plan for additional secondary school construction as well as additional elementary school buildings.

Under construction on the north side of Watkins Lake is the Thomas M. Cooley Elementary School. Shunck advised the board of education at their regular meeting that construction of this school is on schedule and it should be ready for occupancy by Christmas. The 12-room building will facilitate the needs of 400 children, kindergarten through sixth grade.

Bids for the Laura Smith Haviland elementary School to be buitt on the west end o fElizabeth Lake, will be received Sept. 18. The board of education approved the plans and specifications for the 12-room grade school submitted architects of the George D. Mason Co., of Detroit.

In other business at the regular board of education meeting, the board approved the request that three weeks paid vacation be given annually to all 12 month personnel who have completed 10 years of employment. Previously, the vacation was two weeks.

The Assocation for Handicapped Children also received permission to use one room at the Waterford Village School during the 1958-59 school year as they had done last year.

Twenty elementary and secondary teaching contracts were approved by the board. With an addition of eight more teachers this year, the township teaching staff now totals approximately 400.

Come Out, Earth People

2 Teens Admit Rocket Not Fired From Space

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—You can come out now, earth people. That rocket from outer space came from a teenager's basement.

The thing turned up on Ruel H. Barrus' lawn last weekend — still smoking. It was a rocket-shaped aluminum cylinder 10 inches long and 3 across. Its crumpled nose was buried deep in the dirt, and its burned outer shell suggested the kind of heat a rocket might encounter on hitting the earth's atmosphere.

The find caused a stir in this east Idaho community, where flying saucer reports have turned up lately. The press played it big.

It was the publicity that flushed the worried engineers of the prank. Roy Bennell, 14, and Paul Napper, 15, decided to go to the cops before the cops came to them.

In a statement written out yesterday before police let them go, the boys explained: "This . . .was primarily a psychological experiment, to see what would happen if the reported flying saucers had actually fired a reconnaissance missile."

Paul and Roy, who dabble in amateur rocketry, chemistry and radio, said soberly they tried to make the device look as if it was propelled by an ion motor — "something which has not been developed on earth yet."

They burned the shell with acid and acetylene torch, to give it that air-fired look. They put a spring and glass vial inside, crumpled the nose, spooned in some yellow phosphorus to make it smoke, then dug a hole and planted it.

"All in all, the experiment was a success," they said. "The Police Department analyzed the remains quite thoroughly and had the construction of the rocket partially right."

Alaskans Vote on Statehood

Expected to Approve Admission Into Union by 2-1 Margin

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Alaskans decide today whether the northern territory is to be the 49th state.

The votes were being cast throughout the 586,400-square-mile territory in precincts with such names as Metlakatla and Chilkat, Pelican, Fox, Chicken and Eagle, Badger Road, Lincoln Park, North Pole and Turnagain by the Sea.

When all the votes are counted — and some of them won't be tabulated for a week — Alaskans are expected to have approved admission into the Union by a margin of at least 2-1.

Under terms of the admission act signed in July by President Eisenhower, such a vote will mean that a 49th star will be added to the nation's flag next year.

A presidential proclamation creating the newest and largest state — and the first to be admitted since New Mexico and Arizona entered the Union in 1912 — probably will be issued in late December or early January.

In anticipation of approval of the three statehood referendums, Alaskans also were voting today in a primary election to nominate candidates for the first state offices.

Republican and Democratic candidates for Alaska's first two seats in the U.S. Senate were assured nomination without opposition in the primary.

The first of the three propositions in the special referendum balloting is the key to statehood.

On that ballot, Alaskans marked an "X" to indicate yes or no to the question, "Shall Alaska immediately be admitted into the Union as a state?"

If a majority says "Yes," it appears the other two propositions will be approved by a similar margin. One of the other calls for acceptance of the territorial boundaries as the boundaries of the new state. The last one accepts for the new state 103,350,000 acres of public land, and reserves to the President the right to make military land withdrawals in periods of national emergency.

Statehood opposition has been based on the feeling that the thinly settled territory cannot support a state government. A federal survey estimated governmental costs to Alaska under statehood would increase by $1,350,000 a year.

References to Police Backfire on Applicant

KETTERING, Ohio (AP)—A young man who applied for a job on the police force here supplied two references, an Ohio highway patrolman and the police chief of another community.

But when John Shryock, Kettering's police chief, got in touch with them, both expressed surprise and said they had met the applicant only once. Each had arrested him for a motor vehicle violation.

He didn't get the job, Shryock adds.

Thief Talks to Woman as Partner Steals Gas

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP)—L. H. Petree reported a new kind of sneak-thief to police.

He said two young men came to his home one evening with a small dog. One man said they hit the dog with their car and wondered if the Petrees owned the dog. He continued to keep Mrs. Petree in conversation for a long time while the other man disappeared.

Later, Petree discovered all the gasoline from his car had been siphoned by the second man.

Teach Homebound

By BILL W. DEAN

OMAHA (AP) — What youngster would guess that return to schoolwork could bring one of life's brightest moments?

Yet the first visit of a teacher for the "homebound" has joyous significance for many a seriously ill or injured boy or girl.

"Right then that youngster knows he's going to get well," says Don Warner, director of special services of the Omaha Board of Education.

And so getting a child started again in his schoolwork has a therapeutic effect as well as keeping his education from lagging during the period he is away from school.

Each year Omaha's homebound teaching program performs this service for dozens of children kept at home for six weeks or more by accident or illness.

Polio victims formerly accounted for the greatest number of homebound pupils. As a gauge of how far the tide has turned against that disease, in 1957 there were only 62 homebound students compared with 133 in 1954. Only 13 of the 62 were polio cases.

Rheumatic fever and auto accidents also account for substantial numbers.

Omaha's special roving teachers spend an hour a day four or five days a week with each homebound pupil.

Besides the instruction they get from these teachers, high school students also can get an assist from University of Nebraska extension courses.

"Our aim is to keep the child abreast of his grade with the basic subjects of reading, writing and arithmetic," one of the teachers, Mrs. Lucille Stillwell, explains.

One of her pupils has been 7-year-old Scott Graham who contracted polio three years ago.

"Right now Scott could join any first grade class because he is doing what they are doing," Mrs. Stillwell observes.

Because his life is so confining, Scott shares more of his world with his teacher than most elementary pupils. The relationship is less formal, too.

The special schooling costs parents nothing extra. It is paid for from tax funds.

"MUMMY, MAKE IT WELL!"

Sometimes Mummy's love and care just aren't enough to make it well. Here in America, we have ready medical care. But overseas, millions of destitute children would never receive the medicines they need—without your help. Many children and young people need artificial limbs, treatment for tuberculosis, beri-beri and countless other diseases. Your religious faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—conduct world-wide programs of overseas aid. They provide food, clothing and medical care—saving millions of lives and giving people a better chance to live. Give to your faith's OVERSEAS AID Program.

'Right in Christian Family Life'

Anglican Church Backs Birth Control

LONDON (AP)—Bishops of the Anglican Church have endorsed birth control as a "right and important factor in Christian family life."

The leaders of the 40-million-member church took their revolutionary stand at the recent Lambeth Conference in London. Ninety American Episcopalian bishops were among the 300 attending the conference, whose decisions were announced today.

The decisions of the conference, held every 10 years, are intended to guide the churches of the worldwide Anglican communion but are not binding.

"It is utterly wrong," said the conference report endorsing birth control, "to urge that, unless children are specifically desired, sexual intercourse is of the nature of sin. It is also wrong to say that such intercourse ought not to be engaged in except with the willing intention to procreate children."

The report said the questions of how many children to have and at what intervals had to be decided by the parents, "in prayerful consideration of their resources, the society in which they live and the problems they face."

But the report cautioned that "couples who postpone having children until certain financial goals are reached, or certain possessions gained, need to be vigilant lest they are putting their own comfort ahead of their duty."

The report was drafted by a committee headed by the Episcopal bishop of Olympia, Wash., Dr. Stephen Bayne. The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, who presided at the conference's closed sessions, said it was the first time the Anglican communion had considered family planning by scientific means.

The bishops failed to agree unanimously on the moral problem of nuclear weapons. Dr. Fisher said a clear majority favored nations retaining such weapons until an international agreement could be reached to abolish them. But he said a substantial minority favored unilateral abolition of nuclear arms even before an agreement and felt their use was not morally justified in any circumstances.

Confidential Mag Sued by Self-Styled Gambler

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Confidential magazine has been sued again — this time for two million dollars by aself-styled professional gambler.

Nicholas Andrea Dandolos, popularly known as Nick the Greek, brought the action, allegibg libel. He named former publisher Robert Harrison and numerous former associates of Harrison as defendants. Harrison sold the magazine since it published an article on Dandolos in the September 1956 issue. Dandolos contends the article was "untrue, libelous and defamatory."
