Open Housing Clears Legislature

Pontiac Press Photo by Edward R. Noble

WHERE'S BO PEEP? — If Little Bo Peep doesn't know where her sheep are, these motorists in Pontiac Township do. The lost animals were discovered at Walton Boulevard near Squirrel by passing drivers. The sheep were herded off the road and the last time they were seen they were heading for home, wagging their tails behind them.

Senate Okays Stronger House Measure, 26-5

LANSING (AP) — A statewide law to ban discrimination in housing passed the Michigan Legislature today and appeared headed for the desk of Gov. George Romney for his signature.

The Senate approved 26-5 a bill passed earlier by the House which tacked on 21 amendments to a measure which originated in the Senate.

Members of the House, which passed the stronger measure two days ago following a session of bitter debate, greeted the news of Senate passage with applause.

Romney was expected to take quick action on the bill. He has been pushing for the passage of the measure since the 1967 Detroit riots.

IMMEDIATE EFFECT

The bill would become law 90 days after the Legislature adjourns for the year.

The Senate passed its original version of the bill April 4. Several senators today objected to voting on all 21 amendments together.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy, called the move a "slap in the face for those of us who can support some—but not all of the amendments."

Efforts to consider the amendments individually failed.

VOTED AGAINST BILL

Besides Huber, those voting against the House amendments were Sens. N. Lorraine Beebe, R-Dearborn; James G. Fleming, R-Jackson; George W. Kuhn, R-West Bloomfield Township, and Gordon Rockwell, R-Mount Morris.

The bill prohibits discrimination because of race, religion or nationality in the sale or rental of housing. It also provides for financial penalties and permits courts under certain circumstances to force completion on a real estate deal.

Fines up to $1,000 could be levied against real estate firms, banks or other professional violators who commit an "unfair housing practice." The fines could be increased up to $2,000 for a repeat violation.

City 'Poor' March Canceled Today; Will Be May 24

A Poor People's March in Pontiac has been rescheduled for next Friday. It had been originally set for tonight.

The march will be sponsored by the Oakland County Ministerial Association. A bus will be sent to Washington, D.C., with 41 persons from the area who will join the campers at the capital.

Rev. Arlond Reid of Newman AME Church, chairman of the march, said plans were rescheduled after an announcement from Washington that the camp set-up plans were behind schedule.

Next Friday, four contingents of marchers will parade through the city's streets, starting at 6 p.m., according to plans. They will converge on St. James Baptist Church, 337 Bagley. Starting points will be: Pearsall and Motor; Wilson and Sanford; Orchard Lake and Johnson; and Auburn and Hill.

Rev. Reid said services will be held at St. James' until bus departure time, 8 p.m. The 41 delegates were gathered from representative groups in the county, Rev. Reid said.

He encouraged all interested in the plight of the poor to join next Friday's March.

Fishermen Released

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel has released 26 Egyptian fishermen captured a month ago after they allegedly entered waters claimed by Israel off the occupied Sinai coast, the Israeli state radio announced today.

U.S., N. Viet Deal Is Seen on Bombing

PARIS (AP) — Informed French and American diplomats expect a compromise deal between the United States and North Vietnam to end the bombing of the North in spite of the apparent stalemate in the Paris peace talks.

★ ★ ★

The North Vietnamese appear at present to be trying to rally world opinion against the United States to pressure it into ending military action against North Vietnam without any compensating Communist cutback.

To counter this maneuver, U.S. spokesmen cite what they consider the unacceptably high military price the United States would have to pay to end the bombing under present conditions. They are driving for restoration of a buffer zone to cut off Communist troop movements.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of truck loads of men and supplies per month could pour into South Vietnam without interruption, they say, if attacks were stopped without North Vietnamese de-escalation. Reconnaissance flights over the North would be stopped, cutting off vital information. Artillery shelling and aerial bombing of the Southern border area of the North would be halted while Communist troops massed there could move South at any time.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman said today the United States will go into tomorrow's session of the peace talks with hope that it will "move us closer" to ending the war.

William J. Jorden, member of the U.S. delegation, told a news conference: "I would say our attitude is one of hope that tomorrow's meeting and successive meetings will move us closer to a solution of the basic problem we face."

Downtown Group Advised on How to Fight Shoplifting

BY LOIS FRIEDLAND

Some 45 downtown businessmen and professionals were told yesterday that the best way to eliminate shoplifting is to work together and press for prosecution.

The Downtown Pontiac Business Association sponsored the meeting to develop a program to improve police protection.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger told listeners that the police often have the necessary information to arrest shoplifters but that the shop owners had refused to sign complaints, after being threatened by the shoplifter.

"You can't just call someone else. You must sign a complaint and you must be prepared to testify," said Hanger, adding that police can not charge a shoplifter with the crime until the shop owner signs a complaint.

NOT EASY

Al Shamie of Al's Discount, 52 N. Saginaw, urged members to "get together and prosecute — and follow it down. We must show them that in this town we're not easy.

"We should back the policeman. If we don't, we can't blame policemen — we've got to blame ourselves."

★ ★ ★

There have been 101 convictions of shoplifters caught in downtown Federal's since January and there is currently no shoplifting problem," said Kenneth Osborne of National Security, Inc., which handles security for that store.

★ ★ ★

The shop owners generally agreed that most of the problems were caused by preteen-age gangs.

MORE POLICE NEEDED

Other related problems discussed were the need for additional beat policemen in the area and ways to make the downtown area a little safer, nicer and more comfortable for the women shoppers.

★ ★ ★

Hanger said there will be two men patrolling the streets on the day shift and two more working afternoons after

Chance of Showers in Area Tomorrow

There's a chance of a few showers tomorrow, with little sunshine before Sunday.

The U. S. Weather Bureau reports the following forecast:

TODAY—Breezy and cool with partial clearing this afternoon. High around 60. Partly cloudy and cool tonight, low 40 to 45.

★ ★ ★

TOMORROW—Cloudy with a chance of showers and little temperature change.

SUNDAY—Partly sunny and continued cool.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: tonight 20, tomorrow 30.

A chilly 46 was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury hovered near 55 at 2 p.m.

Ex-Road Official Charged in Fraud

Former Oakland County Weighmaster Thomas Kennedy, today was charged with three counts of embezzlement while he was employed by the Oakland County Road Commission.

Kennedy, 49, of 2908 Voorheis, Waterford Township, resigned from his job last October, two days after being confronted with reports about irregularities in his department. He had held the position 15 years.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy was arraigned today before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth H. Hempstead and released on $500 personal bond on each of the three counts.

He stood mute to the charges and was ordered to return June 20 at 2 p.m. for his preliminary court examination.

Kennedy said he wouldn't make any statement concerning the charges.

★ ★ ★

An investigation into Kennedy's activities has been carried on by detectives from the State Police since last February.

The charges, brought by Det. Sgt. Frederick Carpenter of the Redford post and issued by Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson, accuses Kennedy of keeping funds that he had accepted from truckers in lieu of surety bonds.

ROAD INSURANCE

The bonds insure truckers against damage that they might cause to roads.

The three separate offenses allegedly occurred Oct. 22, 1964, March 1, 1966, and May 31, 1967, and involved sums of $400, $600 and $250, respectively, for a total of $1,250.

★ ★ ★

The offense, embezzlement by a public officer, is a felony, punishable with up to a maximum 10-year prison term and a $5,000 fine on each count.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said there is no record of Kennedy turning over the money in question to the road commission.

CIVIC LEADER

A former president of the Pontiac Optimist Club and one of the founders of the Pontiac Boys' Club, Kennedy for the last two seasons has been an assistant coach with the Pontiac Firebirds in the Midwest Football League.

★ ★ ★

An ex-Detroit Lions football player following his graudation from Michigan State University, Kennedy coached football for many years at the old St. Frederick's High School. He is self-employed as a sales representative.

★ ★ ★

Sunday Liquor Bill Defeated Twice by State Senate

LANSING (UPI) — The Sunday liquor bill went dry in the Senate yesterday when it was voted down twice 13-16 and 17-13.

The perennial bill, which would have put the issue of Sunday liquor sales to the voters in November, squeaked past the House last month, but was snagged in the Senate where the powerful influence of conservative churches were felt. It died 13-16 after little debate, then was revived for a second try.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, proposed legalizing the liquor sales only in restaurants, hotels, ski resorts, or any other place taking half its receipts in from food sales.

★ ★ ★

Lockwood's amendment was adopted, much to the displeasure of senators who wanted to see the bill apply to all liquor establishments. That version failed 17-13, with 20 votes required for passage, apparently killing the issue for yet another year.

GOLF COURSES

In another liquor measure, the Senate passed a bill to extend resort liquor licenses from 10 to 12 months. It also amended the measure to include licensing of 18-hole regulation golf courses "which are designed to stimulate and promote the resort and tourist industry."

★ ★ ★

This bill went back to the House for concurrence of the golf course amendment.

Why Did OCC Head Quit?

By DICK ROBINSON

When the highest paid public official in Oakland County unexpectingly quits his $32,000-a-year job and says he has no definite plans, you're probably wondering what's up.

That's what cigar-puffing Dr. John E. Tirrell, president of Oakland Community College, did earlier this month. He is the last of the four original officers of the college to leave within a year.

JOHN E. TIRRELL

Why was the 42-year-old educator so mysterious concerning his resignation? He would only say that he was quitting June 30 to take up "exciting and creative challenges" in educational planning?

A few days later after resigning, he packed his bags and took off to Europe for an accrued two-month vacation.

RUMORS FLY

Tirrell, who brought nationwide attention to OCC in four short years, normally gloats over attention from the press.

But not the night of his resignation. He would hardly talk to reporters.

Rumors flew that the college paid him $100,000 to resign, but this is not true.

OCC gave him $41,000 as the settlement on his new three-year contract, which would have expired in 1971, in return for his consulting services, The Press learned.

'NOT PRESSURED'

Reports indicate that Tirrell was not pressured into resigning but that his initial rapport with the trustees had diminished greatly.

Some trustees were irked at Tirrell for hiring Wally Nikkel, former chief business officer at Macomb Community College, as OCC executive director of business without sanction of the board, according to an inside source.

★ ★ ★

Some sources feel that he may now go into educational consulting, which he has been doing part-time.

"Jack could make more on a weekend in the consulting business than he could all week working for us," a source close to him said.

$1,000 A WEEKEND

Tirrell could make $1,000 a weekend—$500 a day—as director of Planning and Consulting for Education, Inc. (PACE), a Bloomfield Township firm which help set up colleges and school systems, according to the source.

Observers believe that the field has become so lucrative and exciting, Tirrell couldn't turn down the opportunity.

★ ★ ★

At one time his going rate was $100 a day, it is reported. Business is better for the two-year-old corporation since community colleges are opening at the rate of better than one a week.

May Be Scrapped Before It's Formed

Army Division Is at Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon planners and Army leaders are locked in behind-the-scenes debate over a civilian proposal to scrap a partially formed new infantry division.

The move, if approved, would save an estimated $300 million a year and help President Johnson meet congressional demands for $6 billion in budget cuts in return for a tax increase.

★ ★ ★

The issue is still very much in doubt. No final decisions have been made.

There was one report that Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, is prepared to carry the fight to the President. However, the general is to retire in about six weeks.

Top civilian analysts contend that dropping the 6th Infantry Division would leave the United States with a large enough home-based force to meet any foreseeable crisis overseas.

★ ★ ★

They also argue that, as one of them put it, "we can get a higher degree of readiness with a concentration of skilled personnel" in fewer units.

Dropping the 6th Division would leave the United States with the equivalent of nearly six Army and Marine divisions in its central force.

CITE NEED

Army leaders, fighting for a seven-division force, claim the central reserve of troops for crisis deployment has been dangerously depleted to meet Vietnam war demands.

★ ★ ★

They long have urged a sizable callup of National Guard and Reserve troops, but Johnson has chosen to limit the recent muster to some 20,000 citizen soldiers.

TOLD PLANS

Then-Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced plans to start forming the 6th Infantry Division last September.

About 8,000 of the division's contemplated 16,000 men are at Fort Campbell, Ky., and organization of the division has proceeded only part way.

Since McNamara's announcement there have been several significant developments which bear on the fate of the new division:

● Johnson has ordered a boost of nearly 25,000 men in the U.S. commitment to the Vetnam war because of intensified enemy offensives.

● The President called up more than 23,000 Army, Navy and Air Force Reservists and Guardsmen, about 10,000 of them to serve in Vietnam and the remainder to bolster the central U. S. force.

★ ★ ★

● The unanticipated boost in U.S. troop levels, triggered by the enemy's winter offensive, will add nearly $1 billion to war costs already running at better than $25 billion a year.

★ ★ ★

● Congress has demanded sharp administration spending cuts at a time when war costs are rising.

Interim Newspaper Is Suing Detroit Teamster Local 372

By JIM LONG

An interim Detroit newspaper filed a $3,291,000 damage suit in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday against Detroit Teamster Local 372 for allegedly causing it to cease publication.

The suit, started by the Daily Press, Inc., also asks that the local, headed by Claire O'Connor, be ordered to pay $67,000 to the corporation for newspapers for which it was never compensated.

★ ★ ★

CITES LOSSES

The damages include $791,000 for loss of business profits, and $2.5 million in punitive damages, according to the suit.

The $67,000 claim involves what the suit describes as an unlawful transaction by O'Connor and Elton Schade, local secretary-treasurer, in collecting funds from some Teamsters and then paying the funds to other Teamster members without the consent of the Daily Press.

★ ★ ★

Attorney William A. O'Brien, who with his law partner Noel L. Lippman are representing the Daily Press, said that no prosecutor had been contacted about the allegation of conversion of funds.

The suit was assigned to Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn.

DOCKET LOAD

O'Brien said that the legal action was initiated in Oakland County because the Circuit Court docket is not as heavy as in Wayne County.

"We could get to trial in nine months in Oakland, said O'Brien, "while it could take as long as three to five years in Wayne."

★ ★ ★

Since some of the defendants in the suit reside in Oakland County it is permissable to file the suit in Pontiac, he said.

CITES CONTRACT

The suit contends that the local breached a contract it had with the newspaper, and that officers of the union interfered with contractural relationship.

The defendants ordered its members to quit working on Jan. 22, 18 days after the paper had entered into an agreement with the union, according to the suit.

★ ★ ★

At that time the Teamster local contended that the Daily Press had failed to live up to a contract calling for the employment of all Teamsters wanting to work at a basic wage rate of $183 a week. It was about $33 a week above what the Teamsters earned under the old contract at the News and Free Press.

★ ★ ★

Among the defendants named in the suit are Frank S. Fitzsimmons, acting international president of the union while its president, James R. Hoffa, serves a prison term for being convicted of tampering with a jury in Tennesee; Robert Holmes, a vice president of the international; and Charles O'Brien, an international representative of the union.

$80,000 OK'd for Oakland Planning Unit

A grant of $80,000 to the Oakland County Planning Commission has been approved by the U.S. Housing and Urban Development office.

The grant will be used to make an extensive plan for the county's development, according to county planners. An additional $40,000 will be added locally.

★ ★ ★

Officials said the grant will cover the second phase of the project. In the first phase, starting in 1962, some $600,000 was allocated by local and federal sources to collect data on county population, facilities, resources, etc.

The second phase of the plan will use the data to project future growth and development, county planners said.

It is planned to hire the consultant firm of Development and Resources Corp., of New York headed by David Lilienthal, former head of the Tennessee Valley Authority and Atomic Energy Commission.

Allies Wind Up A Shau Sweep; N. Viets Return

PHU BAI, Vietnam (AP) — The allies ended their monthlong sweep through the A Shau Valley today and North Vietnamese were believed moving back to the area, their biggest supply and staging base in South Vietnam. U.S. officers said the drive through the valley had killed 726 enemy troops.

Lt. Gen. William L. Rosson, the U.S. commander of the big allied invasion into the enemy stronghold southwest of Hue, said his forces turned up a fourth of the enemy supplies stockpiled inside the 25-mile-long valley.

★ ★ ★

The cost, according to the U.S. Command, included 139 Americans killed, 662 wounded seriously enough to require hospitalization, 21 helicopters destroyed and 108 damaged.

There was no report from South Vietnamese forces in the operation, named Delaware.

MONSOONS APPROACHING

U.S. commanders said the allied force—estimated earlier at more than 15,000 men—closed out the operation in the valley 370 miles northeast of Saigon because the approaching monsoon rains were about to cut off their air support.

★ ★ ★

Maj. Gen. John J. Tolson, whose 1st Air Cavalry Division on April 19 made the first allied invasion into the valley in two years, said Hanoi should realize American forces can go back into the valley any time.

Businesses Open War on Shoplifters

the additional 12 policemen recently recruited graduate from police school.

★ ★ ★

Various plans for interim security policemen were suggested.

Currently there is a policeman with a two-way radio patrolling the shopping area in the afternoons.

NOT SURE

A request for a pamphlet detailing a shop owner's rights was brought up by several shop owners who claimed they were not sure about the limits of their legal rights when dealing with undesirables hanging around their stores.

The possibility of a class on the legal rights of a store owner also was discussed.

★ ★ ★

Municipal Court Judge Cecil B. McCallum said the courts also were concerned with the shoplifting problem.

UAW Local 594 Hall Riddled by Gunshots

A union headquarters of a United Auto Workers local in Pontiac was discovered riddled with bullets yesterday.

Pontiac police said UAW Local 594 at 525 S. East Blvd. was hit by numerous shotgun blasts and pistol bullets sometime Wednesday night. The building was unoccupied at the time, police said.

Boy, 15, Gets Lung Transplant

EDINBURGH, Scotland (UPI) — A 15-year-old poisoning victim rested today from a lung transplant operation that offers hope for lung cancer victims.

Alex Smith, the youngest son in a Scottish family of nine, received one lung yesterday from an unnamed 18-year-old girl who died two hours before the operation began, hospital sources said.

★ ★ ★

Doctors said his condition was "satisfactory."

The operation was said to be the fourth attempted lung transplant in the world. The three other patients, two in the United States and one in Japan, died shortly after the operations.

LAST RESORT

If it succeeds the operation could become an acceptable last-resort treatment for lung cancer, medical observers said.

Prof. K. W. Donald of Edinburgh University said Smith's operation "involved a pretty new procedure" but he did not elaborate.

★ ★ ★

Officials at the Royal Infirmary where the surgery was performed released little information but relatives of the youth said he was flown to Edinburgh from Stornaway, on the Isle of Lewis in the outer Hebrides off northern Scotland where he attended school.

His uncle, Arthur MacIver, said the boy was taken to the infirmary in Stornaway after swallowing some weed killer.

★ ★ ★

Hospital sources said the lung graft was considered less difficult than a heart transplant but they said both operations presented a danger from tissue rejection.

Plan to Retire Revealed by Long-Time Supervisor

BIRMINGHAM — After 35 years on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, David Levinson is retiring.

The 72-year-old businessman, who has served as chairman of the influential ways and means committee for the last 10 years, has announced that he will not run for office when the job of supervisor becomes an elective one rather than appointive. The election is expected to be called this fall. However it could be delayed by lawsuits.

"I've been thinking about retiring, and this seems like a good time," Levinson commented.

The supervisor added that he forsees "strong partisan attitudes" on the county body as a result of the recent Michigan Supreme Court ruling on redistricting.

Previously, each township, regardless of population, was represented on the board by its supervisor, while supervisors for cities were appointed by their governing bodies.

RICHARD SANDERSON

GOP Official Runs for House

Richard H. Sanderson of Clawson, a member of the Republican State Central Committee, announced his candidacy today for state representative from the 66th Legislative District.

If elected, Sanderson said he would work toward the goals established by Gov. Romney.

Sanderson, 35, of 211 Essex, is employed by General Motors Corp. Truck & Coach Division as a staff assistant in the engineering department, responsible for engineering communications.

Since moving to Clawson in 1959, Sanderson, a graduate of the Walled Lake High School and the General Motors Institute, has taken an active part in civic and political groups in the community.

CIVIC ACTIVITIES

Chairman of the campaign policy committee of State Central, Sanderson is a precinct captain and delegate and a member of the Oakland County GOP Executive Committee, the Clawson Republican Club and the Oakland County Young Republicans.

His civic activities include serving on the Clawson Board of Review, the Clawson School Needs Committee, the Clawson Youth Protective Service and the Clawson Chapter of People to People.

Sanderson said that the basic promise of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness has often been disregarded and subverted during the history of America and that the responsibility to fulfill it lies with all three sectors of society: government, business and labor, and individuals and their associations.

The 72-year-old businessman, who has served as chairman of the influential ways and means committee for the last 10 years, has announced that he will not run for office when the job of supervisor becomes an elective one rather than appointive. The election is expected to be called this fall. However it could be delayed by lawsuits.

The supervisor added that he forsees "strong partisan attitudes" on the county body as a result of the recent Michigan Supreme Court ruling on redistricting.

Previously, each township, regardless of population, was represented on the board by its supervisor, while supervisors for cities were appointed by their governing bodies.

COURT DECISIONS

However, the Supreme Court decision, which affirmed the constitutionality of the 1966 "one man, one vote" law, will divide the county into districts of equal population, each to elect a supervisor.

The redistricting will make necessary the election of the entire board, possibly this fall.

Levinson sees at least one advantage to retirement—a longer Florida vacation. As ways and means chairman, he had to be on hand each spring for the annual formulation of the county budget.

In addition to his committee work, Levinson is a former chairman of the board of supervisors—the only one still serving on the board. He occupied the post in 1940-41.

Levinson was Bloomfield Township Justice of the Peace prior to his appointment to the board. He graduated from Birmingham High School and received a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Michigan.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Ivor Housler, principal at Vaughan Elementary School, will direct the summer 4 R's recreation and education program in this school district this year.

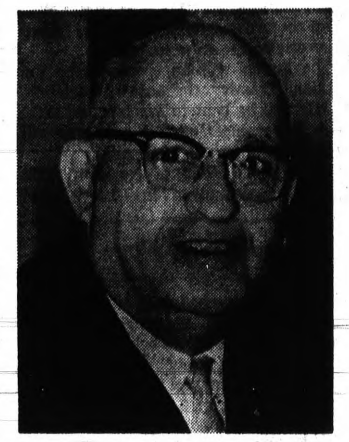

Recreation Director Edwin Wichert will be in charge of the recreation phase of the program.

Assisting Housler in supervision of the educational phase will be Mike Vartanian, assistant principal of Bloomfield Hills Junior High and Robert Thomadsen, assistant principal at East Hills Junior High.

★ ★ ★

The program will start June 20 in most areas of the district. Courses will vary in length, and Aug. 17 will be the last scheduled day of activity.

Brochures are being printed, according to Wichert, and will be mailed to each family in the school district. Additional information will be available through the recreation office.

DAVID LEVINSON

90 Educators at Drug Parley

More than 90 educators from Oakland County attended yesterday's opening of a two-day drug conference organized by Dean Arthur Jalkanen of Oakland Community College and the Oakland County Prosecutor's office.

Presenting the historical development of drug dependence at the meeting at the Holiday Inn in Bloomfield Township was Charles Voll, who represented the Bureau of Dangerous Drugs in Detroit.

Voll represented the enforcement concept of drug use. In his review of the history of drug use, his response was "strict police enforcement," which was somewhat questioned by the educators.

It appeared that the feeling was that enforcement has reached a saturation point. The educators felt that more personal involvement was necessary to cope with the total problem.

EDUCATIONAL SETTINGS

The second day of the conference today relates to the psychological concept of drug abuse and includes a panel of educators who will react to issues present in educational settings pertaining to drug abuse.

The summary of the conference indicates that in many areas there are no real answers. The effect of marijuana may be profound and long lasting to chromosomes and genes, but present research can not scientifically establish this point.

It is the opinion of the professionals that educators ought to level with young people and provide accurate data and as much as they know rather than to use "scare tactics" to inhibit youth.

The conference was organized in an attempt to create knowledgeable personnel in each secondary school in Oakland County, said Jalkanen.

GETS BORED

When the job is done, Tirrell gets bored. "I feel like a surgeon only taking out tonsils and appendix," he remarked.

He left the St. Louis (Mo.) Junior College District after he played a leading role in establishing three junior colleges. Now he leaves OCC after creating a bold new idea in learning — programmed self-instruction.

★ ★ ★

Some insiders have claimed that Tirrell and some other top administrators have spent more time out of town working for PACE than they have back in the offices at OCC.

★ ★ ★

A board spokesman said Tirrell made these out-of-town trips on "his own time" but another board source revealed he did work for PACE during the week.

MADE UP TIME

The trustee adds that Tirrell let the board know about his ventures and that he made up the missed time on weekends and nights.

Rumors that Tirrell may take a job elsewhere can apparently be dismissed by the fact the board has agreed to let him and his family remain in the George A. Bee mansion in Bloomfield Hills for one year until his son completes school.

They rent the 10-room house with an indoor swimming pool from the college for $175 a month.

★ ★ ★

But Tirrell in return for the house and $41,000 has agreed to give the college some free consulting services on his "thinkbelt and thinklink" idea.

ASSOCIATED WITH PACE

This concept would include sending portable or temporary facilities into an area to meet the particular needs of its residents.

Three of the four original officers who have left are associated with PACE.

Former Vice President-Treasurer James W. Hobson left the college last summer to become vice chancellor in charge of business at UCLA. He was secretary-treasurer of PACE.

PRESIDENT OF FIRM

Dr. Albert A. Canfield, former vice president for curriculum, research and development, left in March to become the first director of community college education for the State of Washington. He was president of PACE.

Dr. Ervin L. Harlacher, who was soon to become executive vice president, leaves July 1 to become president of the new Monmouth (N.J.) Community College. He's not officially connected with PACE.

★ ★ ★

Right now he's the No. 1 man at OCC four days of the week; the other day he's in New Jersey.

A college official says the board is looking at eight candidates for the president's job from within and outside the college and that there is "plenty of breathing time" before Harlacher leaves.

UNIQUE ASPECT

A unique aspect is that a six-man committee of faculty and administrators has been organized to review candidates and make a recommendation.

It is likely that an interim president would be named if the top man is not found by July.

★ ★ ★

The situation is so confusing, some people who have business with the administration find it more practical to address letters "To Whom it May Concern."

Positions Taken at Paris Are Outlined

PARIS (AP) — Here in digest form are the positions the United States and North Vietnam have taken at the Monday and Wednesday negotiating sessions.

● Responsibility for the war—

The United States: The introduction of forces and weapons from the North into South Vietnam, the armed attacks upon the government and people of South Vietnam, the violation of the borders of South Vietnam and interference in the lives of its people—all these constitute a violation of the Geneva accords of 1954 . . . the introduction of regular units of the North Vietnamese army preceded the introduction of U.S. combat forces into South Vietnam and the sustained bombing of the North . . . This is why we are in South Vietnam . . . clearly North Vietnam is the aggressor and the people of South Vietnam the victim. (U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, May 15).

★ ★ ★

North Vietnam: The U.S. government has sabotaged the 1954 Geneva agreements on Vietnam, unleashed war and perpetrated ruthless prosecution in South Vietnam. In face of this situation, the South Vietnamese people have no other choice but to rise up and struggle for their right to life . . . (Minister of State Xuan Thy, May 13).

● U.S. bombing of North Vietnam

The United States: President Johnson stopped all bombing in and around principal populated areas, and in the food producing areas of the North. The President said that even this limited bombing could come to an early end—if our restraint is matched by restraint on the other side. (Harriman, May 13).

UNCONDITIONED HALT

North Vietnam: Since the U.S. government has unleashed a war of destruction against the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, the United States has to cease unconditionally its bombing raids and all other acts of war on the whole territory of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam. (Thuy, May 13).

● Proposale for action

The United States: We believe the demilitarized zone should function as a genuine buffer. Let us begin by pulling apart the contending forces as a step toward broader measures of de-escalation." (Harriman, May 13).

★ ★ ★

We propose that we agree now that all parties should comply meticulously with the 1962 agreements on Laos. (Harriman, May 15).

We propose that all armed elements from outside Cambodian should fully respect the territorial neutrality and integrity of Cambodia (Harriman, May 15).

BOMBING RAIDS

North Vietnam: "To reach a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam problem, the U.S. government must first of all stop definitely and unconditionally the bombing raids and all other acts of war on the whole territory of the Democratic Republic of North Vietnam." (Thuy, May 15).

● Bases for a settlement

United States: As to the future of South Vietnam, we reiterate the fundamental principle that the South Vietnamese people must be allowed to determine their own future without outside interference . . . (Harriman, May 13).

★ ★ ★

In Vietnam we seek no sphere of influence—no military presence, no bases, no alliances. (Harriman, May 13).

I am struck by some similarities in our respective position.

First—we both speak of an independent, democratic, peaceful and prosperous South Vietnam.

Second—we both speak of peace on the basis of respect of the Geneva accords of 1954.

Third—we both speak of letting the internal affairs of South Vietnam be settled by the South Vietnamese themselves.

Fourth—we both speak of the reunification of Vietnam by peaceful means. (Harriman May 15).

BASIC RIGHTS

North Vietnam: "The government of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam expounded its viewpoint in April 1965:

1. Recognition of the basic national rights of the Vietnamese people: peace, independence, sovereignty, unity and territorial integrity.

2. Pending the peaceful reunification of Vietnam, the military provisions of the 1954 Geneva agreements on Vietnam must be strictly respected.

★ ★ ★

3. The internal affairs of South Vietnam must be settled by the South Vietnamese people themselves, in accordance with the program of the South Vietnam National Front for Liberation without any foreign interference.

4. The peaceful reunification of Vietnam is to be settled by the Vietnamese people in both zones, without any foreign interference." (Thuy May 13).

Speed Limits Save Lives, Sweden Finds

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — If Sweden has learned anything from its switch-over from left-hand driving to righthand driving (conforming with the rest of Europe) it is that speed limits save lives.

When the switch was made last September, there were ominous predictions of a "blood-bath" on the roads. In fact, the opposite has been true.

★ ★ ★

Statistics for the first six months after the change showed that 440 persons died in automobile accidents during the period. But this was 211 fewer than the 651 total for the same period the year before.

Last year the traffic death rate was 3.5 persons per day. In the first six month of right-hand driving it was 2.3 per day.

ENFORCEMENT

Although the change to right-hand driving has worked much more smoothly than at first expected, this isn't what authorities credit for the drop in fatalities.

They credit the enforcement of speed limits that went into effect at the same time.

Effort Made to End Imlay City Pay Row

By TOM GRAY

IMLAY CITY — An intensive effort appears to be under way today in this village to find some accord in the wage dispute which caused all municipal employes but one to submit their resignations yesterday.

Village Manager Harvey Weatherwax, the only employe not to resign, was to meet some time today with the rest of the city's work force to "explain exactly what each of them would earn under the budget."

★ ★ ★

In addition, the Village council held a special meeting last night to discuss the situation.

The nine resignations, which include the four-man police department and the superintendent of public works and his employes, will be effective Monday.

ACTION 'DEFINITE'

While stating that the action taken is "definite," Public Works Supt. Kenneth Harley this morning allowed for the possibility that the employes might reconsider if the city were to alter its position.

Objections to the new budget centered around the elimination of a cost of living schedule amounting to $350 to $550 for each employe. In place of the schedule, the council approved straight wage increases.

★ ★ ★

However, Harley indicated the dispute involved more than salary. "We asked for a pension last year, and they (the council) agreed," he explained. "It was all set. But then they had a meeting and threw it out, and said we'd have to wait for another year."

This year, Harley added, the council told him and Police Chief Larry Dougherty that their salaries were to be raised $500. Not until later, he added, did the council inform them that the cost of living allowance was to be taken away.

'TOOK AWAY $400'

"They gave us $500," the superintendent summed up, "but they took $400 away."

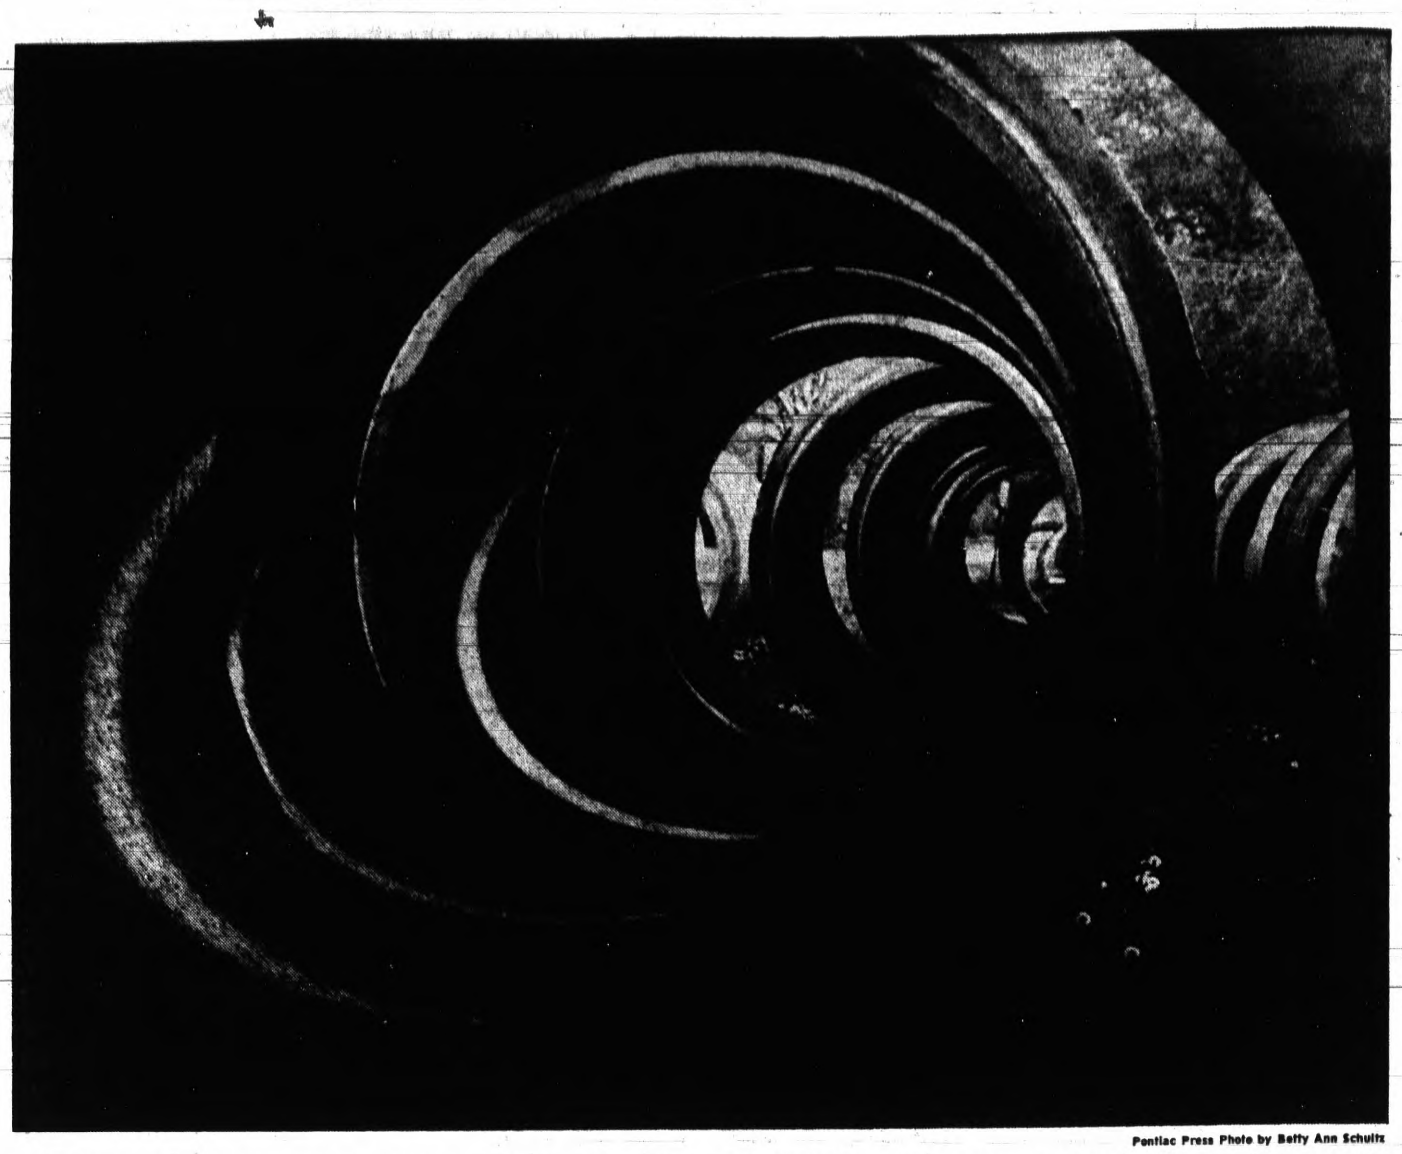

Council President John Folk said the raises were all the village could pay without increasing the present 9-mill tax rate.

The present pay scale compares favorably with other villages of the same approximate size as Imlay City, Folk added.

Area News

Pontiac Press Photo by Betty Ann Schultz

TUNNELS — These concrete pipes nearly seven feet in diameter will soon rest under the south side of Maple just west of Telegraph. The pipes compose one arm of the Nichols Drain, named after the chief deputy of the county drain commission, James R. Nichols. The $5.8-million project, including other arms in a seven-square-mile area in southern Bloomfield Township, is scheduled for completion in October. The drain empties into the Rouge River east of the 14 Mile-Cranbrook intersection.

Orion Twp. to Proceed on $65,000 Storm Drain

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has voted to proceed with construction of a $65,000 storm drain which is to alleviate flooding south of Miller Road in Bunny Run Subdivision.

Rather then spread costs on a special assessment basis, the project will be paid for by general funds with some help from the County Road Commission where road drainage is involved.

The board has voted to close Sections 1, 2, 3, 10, 11 and 12 to all types of hunting. The area takes in the Northeast portion of the township.

Firemen's pay has been increased from $3 hourly for days and $4 for night duty to $4 for the first hour and $1 for each additional hour.

CLEANUP CAMPAIGN

A cleanup campaign was ordered for the last two weeks of May with residents given the privilege of free usage of Kern Road dump.

The board voted to purchase additional fire hose for the new $23,000 fire truck received by the Gingellville Department last week.

★ ★ ★

A decision was made to take part in the proposed village-school district-township recreation board. The board is being set up to obtain United Fund help for the development of a recreation program.

Meantime the township voted to contribute $1,200 to the summer area recreation program.

BUILDING INSPECTOR HIRED

David Johnstone was hired as building inspector at a salary of $5,700 a year. He will also assume duties as electrical inspector on the basis of 75 per cent of fees.

The position of building inspector is a new one for the township. Douglas Frisch who served in that capacity part-time has been named full-time water commissioner.

Walnut Lake Teacher to Be Honored at Tea

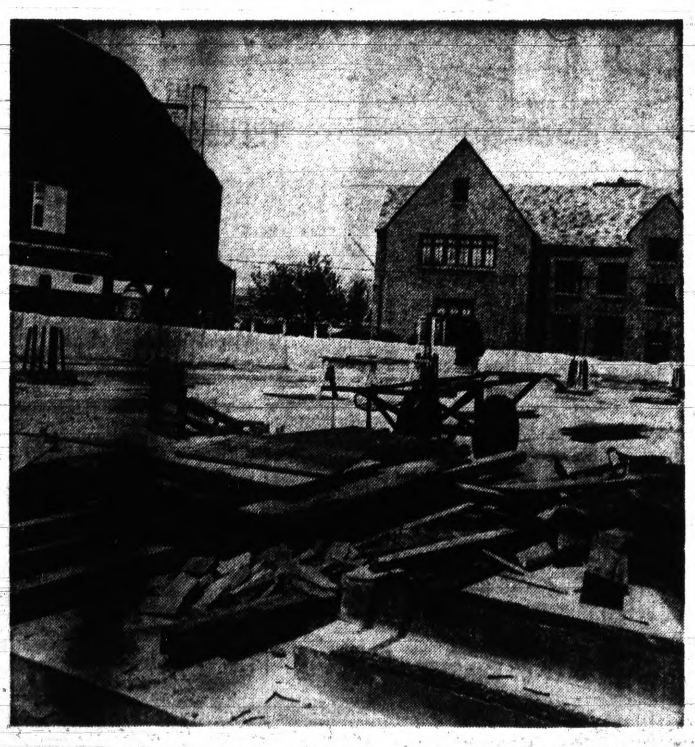

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—A retirement tea is planned for Sunday, May 26 to honor Mrs. Eva Johnson, who is retiring next month after 20 years as a teacher at Walnut Lake School, 2075 Walnut Lake.

Sponsored by the PTA, the tea will be from 2 to 4 p.m. Former students, their families, friends and associates will participate in the tea.

Wallace Group Sets Meeting Tomorrow

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — The "Wallace for President" group of the American Independence party will hold a meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. at 2160 M15.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss delegates for county and state conventions, according to Guy Foster, Ortonville area campaign chairman.

STALLED BY STRIKE — Sawhorses and stacks of building materials stand idle at the site of Birmingham's new parking structure. Work on both the $1.5-million facility and the new Merrillwood apartment-shopping building (at left) has been halted by striking construction workers.

Ex-School Head in Area Discloses New Position

On the heels of his resignation Huron Valley Schools Supt. Truman Owens has disclosed that he is accepting the superintendency of the Muskegon area intermediate school district.

The 43-year-old superintendent, who receives a $21,000-a-year salary here, has served in Huron Valley three years and had signed a three-year contract last June.

★ ★ ★

Owens submitted his resignation and the board of education accepted it Monday.

In other action at that meeting, the board reinstated part of the summer education program to include courses for high school students who must retake classes and remedial reading and math for elementary pupils.

$2,000 TUITION

The budget now allows $6,300 for the program to be partially financed by $2,000 in tuition, said Owens.

The board has also rejected bids for renovation of the Highland School because they were about $100,000 more than the anticipated expenditure of about $800,000.

Because of a delay in securing plans for less expensive renovation, the 275 ninth graders expected at Highland this fall may attend classes at Milford High School.

School Rites Sunday

Apollo Elementary School, 2029 N. Milford, Highland Township, is holding its dedication ceremony Sunday at 1:30 p.m. Donald M. Currie, Royal Oak Schools superintendent, will be guest speaker. Apollo opened early this year.

Oxford Dedicates Center Tomorrow

OXFORD — Some 250 invitations have been sent to local and state officials for a dedication ceremony at 2 p.m. tomorrow for the $190,000 Civic Center.

In use since last October, the building houses township and village offices and the Oxford Public Library.

★ ★ ★

Three pioneer settlers and businessmen of the area — Louis Haddrill, George B. Tunstead and Fred Stevens — will be honored at the program.

R. A. Ambrose, former superintendent of Oxford Schools and president of the Oakland Schools Board of Education, will be dedication speaker.

Oxford OES to Serve Chicken Dinner Today

OXFORD — Chapter No. 266 OES will serve a chicken dinner from 5 to 7 p.m. today at the Masonic Temple, 22 S. Washington. The public is invited.

Davisburg Residents Protest Consolidation

Drive On to Reinstate Voting Precinct

HOLLY — Petitions are being circulated in this school district to ask for reestablishment of the Davisburg voting precinct.

Mrs. Marlan Hillman, 7800 Ormond, Springfield Township, said today that petitions had been drawn up and "are in the process of being signed."

★ ★ ★

The Davisburg precinct was expunged by the board of education three weeks ago at the suggestion of Supt. of Schools Russell Haddon.

Haddon urged that all of the voters in the district be required to vote in Precinct 1, at Holly High School. He pointed out that the simplification of election procedure would save the district money and would help to unite the district.

LONE OBJECTION

Trustee Robert Longstreth was the lone board member objecting to the proposal, saying that it might further fragment the district were Davisburg residents to be denied their separate precinct.

Longstreth proved an accurate prophet, as residents packed the next board meeting to protest the abolition of the precinct.

★ ★ ★

Many of the objectors cited such factors as the extra distance which Davisburg residents would have to travel to vote and the "pulling apart of two factions" in the district.

After some discussion, Longstreth moved to rescind the original motion. However, Haddon questioned whether the motion was proper parliamentary procedure, since Longstreth had opposed the first motion.

Trustee Robert Barner then offered the motion to rescind, but it failed for lack of a second.

Mrs. Hillman said that petitioners have had "no trouble" getting signatures. "The people here are really quite concerned over this matter," she added.

★ ★ ★

Plans for the petition drive were formulated Tuesday night during a meeting of Davisburg citizens. Mrs. Hillman said the drive is a cooperative effort of citizens, and that no formal organization has been established to conduct it.

Man Appointed to Orchard Lake Council Position

ORCHARD LAKE — Edwin R. Dreyer of 3717 Wards Point has been appointed to City Council to fill the vacancy left by John C. Hall who has resigned.

Hall's term ends in November. The former councilman, who has served in the position since about 1952, offered no reason for his resignation in his letter to the council, according to a city spokesman.

★ ★ ★

In other council action, June 3, 8 p.m. was set for a public hearing on the proposed 1968-69 budget. The budget is available for public inspection one week before the hearing.

The council also declared that commercial through trucks can't travel Indian Trail. Trucks with deliveries to residents on Indian Trail are permitted access.

★ ★ ★

This council prohibition was enacted in response to letters from most of Indian Trail residents, reported the city spokesman.

President Is Elected by Rochester Jaycees

ROCHESTER — David Ohman of 306 Wimpole, Avon Township, plant accountant for Carmet Co. of Madison Heights, has been named president of the Rochester Jaycees. He replaces Robert Jasinski, immediate past president.

Assisting him are Al Larson, internal vice president; Frank Sellgren, treasurer; William Potere Jr., secretary; George Moran, Dr. John Ohlsson, William Firment, and Ronald Todd, directors.

For Utica Schools

3 Elementary Principals Named

UTICA — The board of education has announced appointment of three new elementary school principals.

The new principals, who have no definite assignment yet, are Robert Rilley, a teacher at Jack Harvey Elementary School, and Martin Kasiska and Theodore Kasey, teachers at Plumbrook Elementary School.

★ ★ ★

Rilley, 33, received a bachelor of arts degree from Wayne State University in Detroit and a master's degree from Eastern Michigan University.

TAUGHT IN DETROIT

Prior to coming to this district, he taught at Benedictine High School and St. Scholastica High School in Detroit.

Kasiska, 35, received a bachelor of science degree and a master's degree in elementary supervision from Northern Michigan University.

★ ★ ★

A veteran of the Korean War, he has taught in the Utica system since 1962. He is a member of the Detroit Metropolitan Science Teachers Association and chairman of the elementary science curriculum committee.

KOREAN VETERAN

Kasey, also a Korean War veteran, attended Detroit Institute of Technology, where he was awarded a bachelor of science degree, and the University of Detroit, where he earned a master's in elementary administration.

★ ★ ★

He is currently engaged in post-graduate work at Eastern Michigan University and has served as summer recreation supervisor for Plumbrook.

NEW CLERK—West Bloomfield Township's new clerk, Mrs. Robert B. DuPree, 7230 Stonebrook, took over the reins yesterday from Mrs. Doris O. Leach who resigned. Mrs. DuPree was a candidate for clerk in the 1966 election. Her husband is a Chrysler Corp. executive, and they have a 10-year-old son.

Utica Teacher Pact Gets Tentative OK

UTICA — A tentative agreement has been reached between the board of education and the 700-member Utica Education Association (UEA) on a contract for next school year.

Details of the new pact were not disclosed pending ratification by both sides, but Doug Springer, UEA chief negotiator, said he thought it would be accepted.

★ ★ ★

Announcement of the tentative settlement was made jointly by representatives of the board and association.

Utica, the first area district to begin negotiations, thus becomes the first to reach agreement. Last year, the district also was a pace setter, settling on a contract in February.

★ ★ ★

Teachers are presently working under the second year of a two-year salary agreement, with a starting salary for this year of $6,200.

GM Exec Charts Defense Revision

At a time when loose opinions are bandied about by self-styled authorities on all manner of subjects, it is refreshing to hear sound expressions on one by an expert.

KYES

There was such revelation in the address delivered before the American Ordnance Association in Washington by ROGER M. KYES, an executive vice president of General Motors Corp. and a onetime deputy secretary of defense.

★ ★ ★

Outlining a four-point program for strengthening the defense structure of the United States, Kyes would accelerate joint research and development by industry and government on weapons and weapons systems; establish two separate and specialized defense systems in place of the single one that has evolved; explore the sociological causes of war with the object of averting it; and encourage private development of sophisticated weaponry and materiel by protecting proprietary rights.

"Generally," said KYES, "we have entered each new war with the basic weapons of the last one."

Implicit in KYES' proposals is preparedness for an all-out global war combined with the flexibility essential in coping effectively with limited conflicts.

★ ★ ★

We think the GM executive has put forth a significant approach to the refinement of America's defense concept and one worthy the deep consideration of Congress and the Pentagon.

School Meeting Rules News Blackout

Lake Orion school district residents will have to wait to find out whether allegations made three weeks ago against the district's policies are truth or fiction. Most of the allegations concern the discipline of students.

Seemingly, some of those who made the allegations, the school board, and the school administration prefer to do their investigating behind closed doors.

A Press reporter was told to leave a meeting held Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

The morning after the secret meeting a statement was issued that essentially told The PRESS and district residents that the investigative group's findings would be presented later.

★ ★ ★

We oppose secret meetings by public bodies as a matter of principle. It is a simple matter that the taxpayers of the Lake Orion school didn't have the right to know what the policy is and how it was determined. If allegations are to be made in public, they should be answered in public.

Area residents had asked The Press for coverage of the meeting. They were frustrated by the board and those present who agreed to meet in secret.

★ ★ ★

In the Lake Orion incident there perhaps is still another irony. Representatives of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU), which purports to guard individual rights, were among those agreeing to the exclusion of the reporter.

Is it that the public has a right to know ONLY sometimes? We think not!

Solons Up in the Air Over CAB's Airline Ruling

A group of 20 congressmen really hit the ceiling recently when the Civil Aeronautics Board ruled that airlines must start charging extra for inflight movies and liquor.

The irate congressmen claimed the order was against the public interest, and that inasmuch as the extra charges would not be accompanied by a reduction in basic fares, the order amounted to a fare hike.

The legislators voiced no criticism of flight schedules or airline service in general. So their complaint seemed to boil down to congressional concern that airline passengers — including congressmen — would be paying just as much for less, getting where they were going no sooner, and perhaps not getting as high while getting there.

Oh, yes—the CAB order was held up.

Neckwear Fad Part of Growing Up

By DICK SAUNDERS

I often wonder if we adults don't get a little too hysterical about baubles, bangles and beads. I mean the kind kids wear around their necks.

SAUNDERS

Not long ago there were some gentle rumblings of discontent from a few of our schools regarding such jewelry.

★ ★ ★

Some teachers weren't too happy about the hardware. To confuse the matter, some students were unhappy because they weren't allowed to wear their choice of hardware, while other students wore various emblems without any administrative interference.

Personally, I think we get too excited about these things. Most of them are fads and kids need fads.

★ ★ ★

What we should do is ask ourselves exactly what these things mean in the eyes of those who wear them.

Take for example the wearing of a Swastika. We automatically associate this with the Nazi party.

Wouldn't it be embarrassing to reprimand a student for wearing a Nazi symbol, only to find out he was wearing it as a good luck charm?

★ ★ ★

Before the Nazis picked it up, the swastika was usually thought to be a charm, talisman or religious token, especially a sign of good luck or benediction.

It was found in remains of the Bronze Age in various parts of Europe; also in ancient Persia, India, China and Japan and among Indian tribes of North, Central and South America.

Then there are tikis. These are emblems with figures usually carved on them, which are worn around the neck mostly by Negro students.

★ ★ ★

It would be pretty narrow-minded to get excited about students wearing tikis. Men of an African tribe wear these when they pass from adolescence to manhood.

The tiki is, in reality, a symbol that says the wearer is ready to become a man and assume the responsibilities of manhood.

In one sense, it's a search for identity. Who am I? Where do I come from? Where am I going?

★ ★ ★

Some wear bullets around their necks. Since we associate bullets with killing, we automatically are repelled by the sight of one around any student's neck.

"They're a symbol of power," says John Perdue, director of school-community and human relations for the Pontiac School District.

"But the key lies in what kind of power they represent. Generally, they represent power in unity and cohesiveness; not necessarily a destructive type of power."

★ ★ ★

It's funny how we associate some things with evil and violence which were originally associated with the opposite.

"Even the Klu Klux Klan white cape and mask are an example of this," says Perdue. "They were originally worn by a Negro religious order in Spain."

★ ★ ★

And then there are the beads.

They stand for peace. Who can argue with that?

I think I'd have to go along with one administrator who simply told his students they could wear bullets, beads or what-have-you as long as they weren't physically harmful.

Thus, the neckwear was shed in gym classes and the shop. A sensible compromise often breeds more respect and understanding, than does a snap judgment based on fear.

The Uninvited!

David Lawrence Says:

Labor Defies Law in Ohio Vote

WASHINGTON — It is possible in America for a labor organization with a vested interest in legislation to spend a huge sum of money to bring about the defeat of a member of Congress even though the Federal Corrupt Practices Act bars any corporation or labor organization from contributing "anything of value" to a federal election, including primaries.

Frank J. Lausche, former mayor of Cleveland who served five terms of two years each as governor of Ohio, is perhaps one of the most objective and conscientious members the United States Senate has ever had. Yet he was defeated in a Democratic primary for a third term.

LAWRENCE

★ ★ ★

Although most of the prominent newspapers in Ohio supported Lausche for renomination, he went down to defeat by Cincinnati Councilman John J. Gilligan.

Up to now, the courts have ruled that labor unions could conduct "educational" campaigns and could participate in "get-out-the-vote" movements.

NOT SPECIFIED

But the many ways by which the union members are at the same time individually told how to vote are not specifically covered in any existing law. Does "education," for instance, include "electioneering"?

The state labor federation selected the strategic industrial areas in which Democratic primaries may be won and concentrated on them, so the "educational" campaign was not necessarily applied throughout the state in every district.

★ ★ ★

Some of the national unions made direct contributions of their own and gave political dollars to district and regional offices. The Ohio AFL-CIO will report to the state government that $8,750 was contributed to the "educational" campaign.

If the executives of a group of corporations turned over their mailing lists to a campaign committee, supplied the money to canvass voters, told them to "register and get out the vote" and urged them to support a particular candidate, it may be taken for granted that this would be called "scandalous."

PUNISHMENT

Many members of Congress would promptly introduce legislation to mete out severe punishment for the use of money to buy an election.

But the "civil rights" of a senator or member of the House who votes according to his conscience in an endeavor to serve the public interest impartially seem to be ignored.

★ ★ ★

It is doubtful whether either the House or Senate will take any corrective action.

Bob Considine Says:

Washington Has Seen Many Poverty Marches

WASHINGTON — There were other poverty marches on Washington . . .

In fact, the capital was located here in order to avoid poverty marches. Ragged troops from the Revolutionary War had been hounding the Founding Fathers in search of money which they felt was due to them for winning independence from Britain.

CONSIDINE

So G. Washington, having retired to Mt. Vernon, was appealed to for advice by the harassed new government. He knew the swamplands around Tiber Creek, and used his muscle to have Maryland and Virginia donate 10 square miles of the goo for a capital city.

It worked. The District of Columbia was just too much for the indignant troops to tackle.

Coxey's Army moved on Washington in 1894.

DREAM OF REFORM

Jacob S. Coxey was a businessman who had a dream of national economic reform.

His movement, known as the Commonweal of Christ, called for free coinage of silver and a $500-million noninterest bearing bond bill.

Coxey "marched his army up Capitol Hill and marched them down again," as a popular song of the time related. He was arrested for trespassing and the movement disappeared.

The Bonus March of 1932 ended in worse disarray, but it stimulated new federal concern for the needy, helped defeat Herbert Hoover's bid for a second term, played its role in bringing the presidency to Franklin D. Roosevelt, and in varied ways affected the lives of the two foremost American military figures of World War II — Douglas MacArthur and Dwight Eisenhower.

WANTED PENSION FUNDS

In short, the hard-pressed veterans of World War I wanted Congress to pay them, during the pit of the Depression, pension funds that were not due until some years later.

In time, the order was issued to run them out. Most Americans believed it came from President Hoover.

The order was turned over to Chief of Staff Douglas MacArthur. MacArthur decided to take personal charge, against the advice of a public relations officer he had acquired to improve his image with the Washington press corps. He was a 42-year-old major named Eisenhower.

The bonus marchers didn't want to leave Washington.

BLOODY BATTLE

They fought the cops in bloody battle, then fought MacArthur (on his white horse) and the young army regulars who came after them.

Tear gas had to be used here and there. It was perhaps the blackest day of the great Depression.

By contrast, the late Martin Luther King's march in 1963 was superbly organized and disciplined.

But he is dead, and hotter heads promise to prevail. They will not just go away, like Coxey, or the benumbed veterans of World War I.

'Jaycees' Creed Should Answer Questions'

On various occasions the Pontiac Jaycees have been asked their reasons for supporting the upcoming open housing ordinance. It is our feeling that sufficient direction in this regard is provided in the Jaycee Creed: We believe that faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life; that the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations; that economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise; that government should be of laws rather than of men; that earth's great treasure lies in human personality; and that service to humanity is the best work of life.

Three Express Views on Change in Time

Many who believe in private enterprise, private property, private initiative do not have enough initiative to get up as early as they choose and stay up as late as they like. Instead, they must feel that all the rest of the world is up and doing also in order to be comfortable in their self-disordered world. If the time tamperers want so much to be in step with the East Coast, let them have the guts to ask the East Coast to go on Central Time year 'round, which is where we rightfully belong.

GLADYS CONNOLLY

In December our paper said cheers because the days are getting longer. Now you are calling daylight saving time double names again. I don't care what handle you put on it, I love daylight saving time. No matter what time it gets light in the morning, we all still arise at our usual time to go about the day's business; so more or less morning light means nothing.

In May and June longer evening hours aren't too important as the evenings are quite long anyway, but during July and August when the weather is nice is when I really appreciate daylight saving time. I love every minute of it to enjoy our water wonderland in dozens of ways.

MRS. JOHN R. CRARY
800 OTTER

In answer to Mr. and Mrs. McGowen about daylight saving time, no one stops you from getting up any time you want to go swimming, fishing or traveling, if you are able to do it most of the summer. But don't brag about it, you may be poor some day like the rest of us workers. We can afford to do these things only about two weeks of each year. So, why shove daylight saving time down our throats?

★ ★ ★

Where do you get that blarney that daylight saving time gives you safer driving and less crime? Most wrecks are early in the morning or just after dusk or dark, and that also goes for crime.

Question and Answer

How can I form or join the family style foundation your paper carried a story on some time ago?

DOROTHEA VIOLETT
HIGHLAND

REPLY

This unique and controversial way of saving on taxes by forming a family foundation is being pioneered by R. O. Hayes, Grand Blanc. We suggest you write him for information. However, we advise you to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply and don't expect a prompt answer, because a national magazine is currently carrying an article about him. He may be getting lots of mail with similar requests.

Salary Values

Richmond News Leader

In 1931 the New York Yankees paid Babe Ruth $80,000. This year Willie Mays will draw $125,000 from the San Francisco Giants, the same salary he got last year. Which of the two actually earned more? Mays, right?

★ ★ ★

Wrong. A New York professor of finance, Lawrence W. Ritter, points out that Babe paid $11,500 in federal income taxes on his $80,000 salary in 1931, leaving him a net salary of $68,500. Mays must pay $73,000 on his $125,000 salary, giving him a net salary of $52,000.

★ ★ ★

Besides the increase in tax rates, Mays' salary also is worth less because of a loss in buying power. Prices now are 2.2 times higher than in 1931; Mays $52,000 net salary will buy goods that $23,600 would have purchased in 1931. That makes his salary, in actual value, worth only one-third of Ruth's.

To have a salary worth Ruth's $80,000, Mays would have to be paid $454,000, on which he would have to pay $303,300 in income taxes. That would leave him a net salary of $150,700, which would have the same buying power as Ruth's net salary of $68,500.

★ ★ ★

From these figures, Mays might conclude that it just doesn't pay to get ahead any more, even when your talents and ability can put you in the $125,000-a-year class.

Patriotism . . .

Rockford (Ill.) Morning Star

Every day is a special day in Wasco, Ill.

The tiny community sets an example of patriotism by flying 37 Americans flags on the town's 52 buildings.

★ ★ ★

The flag-flying project was started last November as a tribute to the 21 Wasco men who are in the U.S. military services.

Wasco residents have expressed the hope that their venture will serve as an inspiration to other communities and organizations.

"By flying our flags," explains Mrs. Adrian Landrath, who is the spark plug of the community flag program, "we are thanking our men in the service for a job well done."

★ ★ ★

As long as the war in Vietnam continues, Wasco will keep its flags flying high.

Old Glory is a symbol of freedom and of the American strength that lies in the patriotism of its people.

Abortion Ring Cracked in Detroit Area

DETROIT (AP) —Four Detroit-area residents and a Chicago man were arrested on conspiracy charges Thursday in what Wayne County Prosecutor William J. Cahalan said was an abortion ring that worked in "well-to-do" neighborhoods and netted from $10,000 to $20,000 a week.

Other arrests are planned, he said.

★ ★ ★

Bonds between $15,000 and $50,000 were set after they stood mute at arraignment before Recorders Court Judge Vincent J. Brennan. Court examination was set for May 31.

Cahalan said the investigation began after a complaint was made by a Detroit-area resident. He did not name the source.

"We've been working on this for a little over two weeks and now we've been able to make the arrests," he said.

The ring, the prosecutor said, did not operate in any single spot, but "would use several homes in well-to-do neighborhoods and perform the operations there." Individual fees, he said, ran up to $1,200.

★ ★ ★

In order to charge all the people involved, Cahalan said he had to use a conspiracy charge because "each one of them had a different function. One would set up the telephone call, one would make the referral, one would call back with advice."

The conspiracy statute, he said, provides the same prison penalty as the law against committing abortions. It provides a maximum penalty of a four-year jail sentence and a $10,000 fine.

Charged were Dr. Emery Stein, 64, of Highland Park, Mike Bartello of Livonia, Paul Leggio of St. Clair Shores, Barbara Winokur of Detroit, and Philip V. Abraham of Chicago.

Cahalan praised the cooperation of the State Police and the homicide division of the Detroit Police Department for help in the investigation.

Tulip Festival Parade Reset

HOLLAND (AP)—Tulip Time Festival officials rescheduled their children's parade for this afternoon after rain and temperatures in the mid 40s Thursday forced a postponement.

At Benton Harbor, where there was no rain but 40-degree temperatures, the blossomtime kiddies parade went off as scheduled.

Tulip Time officials said Friday normally is an "open" day with no parade scheduled and they anticipated no problem in rescheduling the children's parade.

Other events today at the Tulip Festival included a parade of barbershop quartets at the civic center and the "kick-off" square dance.

PARADE OF FLOATS

The 39th annual festival concludes Saturday with a parade of floats and 50 bands, performances by the Klompen Dancers and the Tulip Time varieties program.

The blossomtime festival climaxes Saturday with a grand floral parade and the evening grand floral ball.

Diocese in State Nears Fund Drive

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—More than 6,000 volunteers in 182 Catholic congregations in the Grand Rapids diocese of West Michigan Sunday will help launch the 14th annual diocesan development fund campaign.

The Most Rev. Allen J. Babcock, bishop of the 29-county diocese, said contributions in excess of operating costs will be used for development of a human relations program in the diocese. Last year the campaign raised $824,726 for use in schools and seminaries, catholic charities and missions in the diocese.

Reaganite Sees Rocky as Oregon Key

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's Oregon backers say their prospects in the Republican presidential primary rest with a man who is not on the Oregon ballot—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

"Will the Rockefeller people campaign intensively for write-in votes? And how successful will they be? That will be the key for us," says Fred Van Natta, director in Oregon of an unsanctioned campaign for the California governor.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller's backers have not disclosed their plans.

Reagan and Richard M. Nixon are alone on the May 28 Republican presidential primary election ballot.

THREE SPEECHES

Reagan has not campaigned in Oregon although he has given at least three speeches in the state since he became governor of California. But his campaigners are working full blast for him here.

An estimated 1,000 volunteers are distributing about 120,000 pieces of campaign literature on street corners and in door-to-door campaigning. Oregon has 438,000 registered Republicans.

★ ★ ★

Ten television advertisements are being used, ranging from 20 seconds to a half-hour. Van Natta estimates the television bill will be $50,000, and the total campaign cost will be $85,000. He says half of this comes from Oregon contributions, the rest from the National Citizens for Reagan organization.

★ ★ ★

Nixon forces dispute his figures. Alan K. Abner, Nixon's campaign coordinator in Oregon, estimates the Reagan backers have spent at least $300,000 and says it easily could exceed the $400,000 he estimates is going into the Nixon campaign.

Van Natta had planned the Reagan campaign to reach a peak in the May 15-20 period. On May 19, for example an eight-page tabloid for Reagan will be inserted in some 600,000 copies of newspapers around the state.

Reagan received 22 per cent of the vote in Tuesday's Nebraska primary without campaigning there. Since then, Van Natta has stepped up his activity.

★ ★ ★

He sent telegrams to 50 Portlanders, appealing for more money. He says he hopes to get $8,000 from this, adding that $1,200 has come in so far.

"Nixon probably will get 65 to 70 per cent of the vote. The rest could be split 15 for Rockefeller and 15 for us. Or it could go 10 or less for Rockefeller and 20 or more for us," Van Natta says.

★ ★ ★

Howell Appling, Nixon's Oregon campaign chairman, estimates Reagan will get 30-35 per cent of the vote, and Nixon 50-60 per cent, depending on what Rockefeller does.

Van Natta says Appling uses that high a figure for Reagan to try to make a 20-25 per cent outcome appear as a blow to the California governor.

Negro Gets New Post as MSU President's Aide

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State University Board of Trustees today appointed a Negro to the newly created post of assistant to the president for equal opportunity.

Dr. George Johnson, professor of administration and higher education at MSU, will assist Dr. John Hannah, MSU president and chairman of the U. S. civil Rights Commission.

★ ★ ★

The MSU trustees pledged an all-out effort to increase the enrollment of Negro students at the university, to add more Negroes to the faculty and to place more Negroes in high administrative posts.

Establishment of a center for race and urban affairs also was recommended.

GIFTS, GRANTS

The board accepted gifts and grants totaling $3,692,817, including two grants from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare totaling $2,007,214 for student aid programs.

The trustees announced that the June commencement speaker will be Dr. Benjamin Mays, president of Moorhouse College at Atlanta, Ga., who read the eulogy sermon at Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s funeral.

★ ★ ★

Also announced was the appointment of James Bibbs as assistant track coach. Bibbs, a former Eastern Michigan University track star, has been track coach at Ecorse High School since 1964.

FBI Arrests Mafia Suspect

DETROIT (AP) — The FBI announced Thursday the arrest of a reputed Mafia chief for allegedly forging $7,250 in checks and transporting them in interstate commerce.

Anthony Cimini, 46, of Grosse Pointe Park was arraigned before U.S. District Judge Ralph Freeman and released on $1,000 personal bond.

Cimini was named in testimony before the U. S. Senate rackets committee as one of the chiefs on the Detroit-area organized crime syndicate. He was considered to be on the third level in the Mafia strata of authority.

Paul Stoddard, FBI special agent in charge, said Cimini was accused of taking three checks from Detroit to New York City. The checks were made payable to Empire Cartage Company, a firm operated by Cimini, and drawn on the account of the United Trucking Company.

Cimini also faces a federal charge in connection with the recent highjacking of a load of color television sets.

5 Killed Near Grayling as 3 Vehicles Collide

GRAYLING (AP) — Two married couples and a man who was returning home from work were killed Thursday afternoon in a three-vehicle accident near Grayling in northern Lower Michigan.

Crawford County Sheriff Arthur Clough said one vehicle was either passing another or was being driven on the wrong side of the road during a heavy rainstorm.

★ ★ ★

Four persons who died were in one car. They were identified as James Forsang, 48, of Los Angeles, Calif., his wife, Lillian, 43; Ernest Demo 57 of Standish, and his wife, Flossie, 53. Also killed was Mack McLeod, 28, of Kalkaska, the driver of a pickup truck. Forsang was the driver of the car.

The sheriff said a car driven by Mark Robillard of Traverse City crashed into the side of the pickup. Robillard was taken to a hospital in Grayling, where he was reported in satisfactory condition.

The accident happened 4½ miles west of Grayling on M-72.

McLeod was returning home after completing work at the Bear Archery Co. at Grayling at the time, the sheriff said.

★ ★ ★

The sheriff said no one was thrown from the vehicles which remained entwined after the wreck. He said the front of the Forsang car was pushed into the seating area.

The sheriff said the investigation was continuing.

Marriage Foes Draw Support

'Fails to Meet Needs of a Modern Society'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Many experts nowadays demand that the ancient institution of marriage be reformed or abolished on the grounds it fails to meet the needs of modern society.

★ ★ ★

They are not necessarily in the majority, but they seem to be winning adherents every day. Their indictment goes something like this:

● The divorce rate now has reached the level where one in every four marriages is dissolved in the United States. In the case of teen-age marriages the rate is almost one out of two.

● Illegitimate births are soaring. In 1940 about seven of every 1,000 births in the U.S. were illegitimate; the latest figures are 22.5.

●There is a tendency of youth in general to subscribe to the theory that you don't have to get married to engage in sexual activity.

CURRENT PROPOSAL

Those are the symptoms cited by some of the authorities. As for treatment and cure, here are some current proposals:

Dr. Harold Greenwald, Psychoanalysis: The mistake being made, he said, is that we have the cart before the horse so far as marriage is concerned. For centuries we have been forcing men and women to conform to the mold of marriage, when what we should be doing is changing marriage to suit the convenience and happiness of people.

★ ★ ★

He proposed that marriage become a "non-legal, voluntary association" between a man and a woman, and he continues:

"What are some of the advantages of taking marriage out of the sphere of legalism?

'DIVORCE NONSENSE'

"First there would be the elimination of the nonsense about divorce proceedings . . .

"Strangely enough, what would seem to be the most logical reason for divorce — the marital dissatisfaction of both partners to the marriage — is rarely if ever accepted as a bonafide reason for divorce in the United States. The attitude that seems to be evolving among certain enlightened groups is that sex practices between or among consenting adults are no longer the concern of anyone except themselves."

★ ★ ★

What about the children of voluntary marriage?

Greenwald said: "Here one might point out that safeguards already exist and that a father's responsibility for the support of his children does not depend upon his being married to their mother. Nor is his being married an ironclad proof of his fatherhood."

FIVE-YEAR CONTRACT

Virginia Satir, psychiatric worker, Esalen Institute, Big Sur, Calif.: Marriage should be either renewal or concellation.

Persons contemplating matrimony should go through an apprentice period to test their compatability "because such important learning is now denied them in an effort to preserve the fiction of chastity."

★ ★ ★

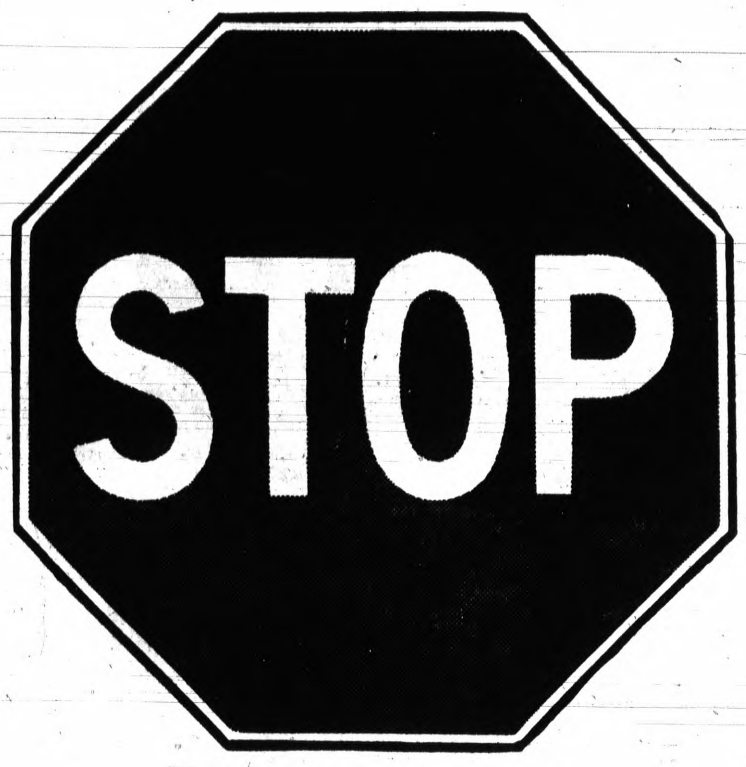

When a marriage is dissolved on one of the five-year renewal dates, any children would be turned over to substitute parents — specially trained in child rearing "because the significance of blood ties is mostly in our heads."

Dr. James Hemming, writing in the official publication of Great Britain's Marriage Council Guidance: The institution of marriage is going to collapse of its own weight, he said, because the next generation will not regard matrimony as the only respectable way to engage in sexual intercourse.

'PAIR BOUND'

The word "marriage" itself will probably disappear and the phrase "pair bound" will be used to describe a man and woman living together. If they want some sort of ceremony after they have lived together for a while they can make "a social statement of intent."

"Social emphasis will not be on maintaining chastity at all costs but on sincerity, mutual concern and responsible mate selection."

Emmy Show Producer Aims for Entertainment

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The awards season comes to an end on Sunday night when a wagon-load of Emmies will be handed out in 90 minutes.

Television viewers have been exposed to the Oscars, the Tonies, the Golden Globes, Grammies, etc., and some have lasted two hours or more. The Emmies, promises executive producer Greg Garrison, will be wrapped up in an hour and a half.

★ ★ ★

"I think we can do it," said the producer. "I don't think you should bore your audience by taking two hours or 2½ to give out every award in the book. We can give out all the key awards in 90 minutes. But I mean only the key awards.

"I think people are more interested in the best specials and best supporting actors than they are in the videotape editors and best special news broadcasts.

ENTERTAINMENT

"After all, we're in the entertainment business. And if television can't give its own awards in an entertaining manner, then there's something wrong."

The television academy has recruited two powerhouse emcees—Frank Sinatra, who will handle the Hollywood end of the program, and Dick Van Dyke, in charge in New York. Most of the other big names Garrison sought will be on hand.

★ ★ ★

"There have been a few sore losers who refused because they weren't nominated," said the producer. "But the big ones will be there. Dean Martin said he couldn't very well not appear since the show involves his best friend Sinatra and his producer Garrison.

"Bob Hope will be in New York doing a "Fight for Sight" benefit at Philharmonic Hall, but he said he would steal 15 minutes to rush down to the Americana Hotel and appear. The fact that we have his own director, Jack Shea, directing the show didn't hurt us any.

LETTER FROM BING

"I got a letter from Bing Crosby in Mexico saying he would love to be on the show, but this was the only time this year he would be able to get in some fishing down there. I was prouder of his refusal than I was of some of those who accepted."

Garrison said there will be some brief entertainment and perhaps a few clips of the top shows. But otherwise he'll keep the awards coming.

★ ★ ★

"Do you realize that the Oscar show ran for 28 minutes before the first award was given?" he remarked. "If six minutes go by without an award on our show, it will seem like an eternity."

One category that causes Garrison concern is the outstanding musical or variety series. Competing with the Bell Telephone Hour, Carol Burnett show, Laugh-in and the Smothers Brothers hour is the Dean Martin show, produced by Greg Garrison.

"I've always been a loser," he admitted "and my wife always gives me the same routine in the car going home: 'It's enough of an honor just to be nominated.' Baloney! This year I'd like to win!"

HOODED WITNESS — A hooded witness, identified only as John Doe, is shown testifying earlier this week before the Senate Small Business Committee investigating the activities of "loan sharks." Identified as former New York City businessman, he told the senators that loan sharks forced him to pay more than $14,000 in interest on loans totaling $1,900. He said the hood was needed to protect him from underworld retaliation.

Alabama Has Stop for Flower Lovers

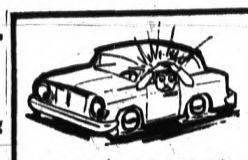

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — Flower-loving tourists on trips along the Gulf of Mexico coast make 65-acre Bellingrath Gardens south of here a must stop.

★ ★ ★

You name it and the Gardens grow it, but their pride are the camelia, Alabama's State Flower, and the azalea, the City of Mobile Flower.

There are more than 4,000 camelia, some as tall as 20 feet, and 200 varieties of azaleas with more than 250,000 plants.

The Gardens, founded and developed by the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Bellingrath, are open all year.

GET UP TO 3 TIMES MORE ROSES

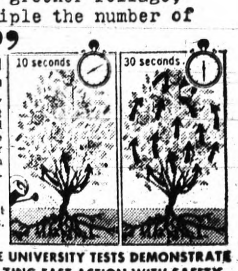

Famous University reports —

"Use of Miracle-Gro increased the general vigor of rose plants considerably, with many more stronger, longer shoots and branches, much more and greener foliage, as well as double to triple the number of more beautiful blooms."

University test proves 30-second "instant action" in 5-ft. rose bush

Famous University scientists added tiny quantities of radioactive tracers to test solution of Miracle-Gro. They then applied this solution to the roots of a 5-foot rose bush. Within 30 seconds, Geiger counter registered definite activity at top of bush —proof of how fast Miracle-Gro works.

Concorde Jet May Never Take Off

PARIS (AP) — There are nagging doubts on both sides of the English Channel that the supersonic airliner Concorde will ever go into service.

The main reasons are financial and political. As for the plane's technical capabilities, French and British engineers connected with the joint project are convinced Concorde can do everything that was promised for it.

★ ★ ★

"If Concorde never goes into production, it won't be the fault of the plane," a project engineer declared.

The doubts spring from a feeling that the British government, under pressure to make economies, may withdraw from the project when its treaty with France permits it to; that is, after the flight-testing phase of the prototypes.

OPEN TALK

In Paris, there is open talk about an "anti-Concorde lobby" in England. Associated Press inquiries in London show that this "lobby" extends even to the Cabinet of Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

The feeling of these anti-Concorde officials is that the Concorde as a prestige project ranks low in Britain's scale of priorities while the country is economically beset.

★ ★ ★

Spiraling costs provide arguments for Concorde's foes.

France and England signed an agreement Nov. 29, 1962 to build what was to be the world's first supersonic passenger plane. Joint development costs were estimated at $420 million, to be shared equally by Sud Aviation, No. 1 airframe builder in France, and the British Aircraft Corp., with the backing of their governments. The agreement involved a commitment to construct two-later four-prototype aircraft and two extra airframes for structural testing.

COST SPIRALS

Two years later, the figure was revised to $784 million. By 1966 the estimated development costs had surpassed $1 billion, and last year were calculated to be $1.4 billion, plus $168 million in direct government spending for tools and test facilities. About $600 million has been spent.

In addition, there have been reports that the builders will lose more than $2 million on every plane sold unless orders for Concorde increase dramatically. So far, 74 paid options have been placed.

★ ★ ★

Based on a production run of 100 planes, it has been estimated that the real cost per copy will be $2.5 million over the purchase price agreed to by the airlines. The difference presumably would be made up by the two governments.

"If it turns out that the British taxpayer will be contributing up to 50 per cent of every Concorde passenger's fare, we'll have a lot of explaining to do," a British official remarked.

KEENLY AWARE

French officials are keenly aware of anti-Concorde feeling across the channel. They recall that the newly elected Labor government tried in 1964 to withdraw from the project, but sat tight under a French threat to take the matter to the International Court of Justice.

One official said that if the British canceled at the end of the flight-testing phase, France probably would be forced to drop the project — "It would be too much for us to carry on alone."

He hoped, as other French authorities do, that Britain will view Concorde as the French see it: A way to preserve a European-based civil aircraft industry.

This argument weighs heavily among British authorities who support Concorde. Having cut back on defense spending, threatening the British military aircraft industry, the Wilson government would be foolhardy to deprive Britain of a civil aircraft industry as well, they reason.

In addition, some British authorities see Concorde as the last living functional form of cooperation with France. To ditch Concorde, they think, would be to ditch all prospects of entering the Common Market in the foreseeable future. French-British relations have been strained by French opposition to Britain's Common Market bid.

★ ★ ★

A sign of this strain appeared last January after The Associated Press disclosed that the maiden flight of the first Concorde prototype would not take place Feb. 28 as planned.

★ ★ ★

French Transport Minister Jean Chamant blamed the delay on late delivery of the British-made Olympus 593 engines to the Sud Aviation works in Toulouse where the French-built prototype, 001, has been assembled. In fact, engines were delivered ahead of schedule. Chamant later retracted his charge.

The latest word is that 001 will be ready for its first flight in September by that time, its British-built mate, 002, should be ready on schedule to fly at Filton, England.

'MINOR PROBLEMS'

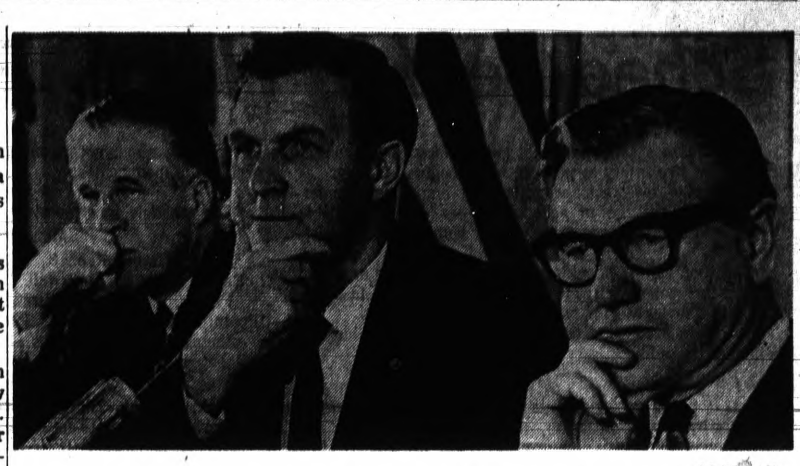

Spokesmen for Sud Aviation say the delay in getting 001 off the ground has been due to minor problems and does not involve errors in design. The basic timetable calls for certification of airworthiness and production in 1971.

Since the American supersonic transport, the Boeing 2707, has been sent back to the drawing boards for design changes, he Concorde has a built-in, four-year lead over its competitor.

★ ★ ★

All of Concorde's problems would not be over even with an irrevocable British government imprimatur. There is still the problem of the sonic boom.

Te builders are keeping an eye on Washington to see how the U.S. Congress deals with it. A ban of supersonic flights over the United States could compromise Concorde's commercial future, nearly one-third of the orders have been placed by U.S. carriers which have overland routes.

Black Jaguar Born in Philadelphia Zoo

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia zoo officials reported Thursday the birth of a black jaguar.

Zoo officials said it's only the third known black jaguar in an American zoo. One other is located here and is the father of the new arrival. Zoo officials said the other black jaguar in captivity in North America is at Jacksonville, Fla.

★ ★ ★

The baby jaguar was born to a tawny yellow mother about May 5, but keepers did not check on it for fear of disturbing the mother and possibly causing death of the baby.

Most people don't know much about what goes on under the hood of a car.

And they figure, what they don't know can't hurt them. But it can. Take dirt in an engine, for example. It can form deposits on moving parts. If enough deposits build up, some of the parts stop moving.

And then you're stuck. (At worst, 100 miles from home with nobody around to help you. At best, for a repair bill.)

To help keep this from happening to you, both Mobil Premium and Mobil Regular Gasoline have a Detergent that actually helps clean your engine, while you drive. When you fill your tank with Mobil Detergent Gasoline, it begins cleaning your engine after you've driven just one mile.

It will clean a dirty carburetor. And keep it clean.

It will clean up a dirty oil screen.

It will help keep pistons and rings clean.

It will help keep intake valves clean.

It will help keep the cylinders clean.

It will even clean your engine's PCV valve. (An anti-pollution device that helps keep the air cleaner outside. And keeps your engine cleaner inside.)

The cleaner your car's engine, the less gasoline it will waste. The less likely that something will go wrong with it. And the more you can forget about what goes on under the hood.

Next time you need gasoline, pull into a Mobil Station.

And start cleaning your engine just one mile after you've pulled out.

Prizes range all the way up to $2,500. And all the way down to 50¢.

Aside from money we're also giving away a car every single day. (A brand new Plymouth Barracuda.)

All you have to do to play is visit any Mobil Station where you see a Clean Up With Mobil banner. There's no need to buy anything.

But if you do decide to buy something, you'll find out that although we're sensational at giving away money, we're even better at taking care of your car.

Schedule for Home Fire Safety Inspections Is Announced

The Pontiac Fire Department today announced the schedule for its home fire safety inspection, which begins Monday.

During the two-week program, five engine companies—at least 25 men—will be in scheduled areas daily, available to citizens who request inspections of their homes.

★ ★ ★

"The men will be knocking on every door in the area so that everyone we can reach will get a chance at the inspection," Fire Chief Charles Marion said.

He emphasized that the program is strictly voluntary on the part of the public.

GOAL OF DRIVE

Goal of the drive, he said, is to ultimately reduce house fires in the city by 50 per cent.

Also available from the inspectors will be invalid stickers for persons who want firemen to be aware of an evacuation problem in their homes.

FDA Head Calls Vitamin Pills Useless

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. James L. Goddard, head of the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), believes vitamin pills for the most part are useless but he will make no attempt to cut off their sale to millions of Americans.

Goddard said "there is great misunderstanding" about hearings scheduled by FDA next month on proposed regulations to control the content and labeling of vitamins and vitamin supplements. They will begin Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

"We are not trying to keep people from buying vitamins," he told UPI in an interview. "There is no intent to rule vitamins out of the market." Goddard said he doubted this would be possible anyway in this country's entrenched pill-taking society.

The vitamin manufacturers aren't so sure. They have mounted a considerable campaign against proposed FDA imposition of what is known in the trade as "the crepe label" — a label that says in effect vitamin pills are unnecessary for most people.

'CAN BE USEFUL'

Goddard agrees "for the most part," but said he believes vitamins can be useful on occasions where people are found by physicians to be unable to absorb needed vitamins from their food.

Nor would he rule out the use of iron, for example, for children in periods of great growth — such as infancy or adolescence — for pregnant women, or for persons with medical problems.

★ ★ ★

Goddard's advice to the person who disagnose himself to have iron deficiency anemia would be to first spend money on a laboratory test rather than on a bottle of pills.

A man responsible for administering an agency with far-reaching regulatory power that affect every American, Goddard sees "no evidence of a widespread vitamin deficiency in our society."

DIET GAP CITED

A recent Agriculture Department report said flatly that half of the households in the United States had diets that failed to meet the allowances for one or more of the nutrients recommended by the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council.

The vitamin industry hopes to make much of the report at the FDA hearings even though it was limited to a sample of 7,500 households and has posed as many questions as the answers it sought to provide.

★ ★ ★

Asked about the report, Goddard smiled and said diplomatically that FDA will welcome any scientific data at the vitamin hearings. He personally would like to see the detailed data behind the agriculture report.

Junior Editors Quiz on BABY ROBINS

QUESTION: How do baby robins grow?

ANSWER: At nesting time the cheerful robin becomes a busy bird. By April, robins often pair off and begin nest building, although nests are often constructed in May and June.

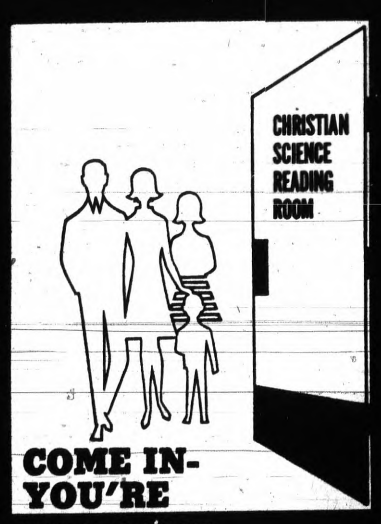

Since robins love to pull worms out of lawns they build nests near houses, picking convenient spots in trees, sheds and outbuildings. Mother robin does most of the nest building, though the father may help with keeping the beautiful robin's-egg blue eggs warm while the mother snaches a refreshing worm.

Inside the shell the unhatched birds have horny bumps on their beaks. When ready, a chick will drill several holes in the shell, which will crack and allow him to wiggle out.

He is wet and tired, but quite soon is rested enough to open his huge red mouth and start pleading with his parents for worms and more worms. At first his eyes are closed and he has no feathers, but after 10 days, his eyes are open and his flight feathers well developed.

After two or three weeks, he is teetering on the edge of the nest, ready for the great adventure. He flutters off and lands, with his parents still feeding him. Very soon he can really fly — even find his own worms. Then he's on his own.

MRS. HANS SCHJOLIN

Today's Woman

Maja's Decor by Nature

By JEANNE NELSON

Natural beauty isn't just a sometime thing with the Hans Schjolins of Stoney Brook Lane. Their picturesque home is surrounded by three acres of colorful wild flowers of every description.

Maja Schjolin and her husband (who incidentally is one of Michigan's outstanding inventors) have worked hard at preserving this natural haven which includes a subdued River Rouge running through the property.

Foot bridges and even a dam have been built to further enhance the overall beauty.

★ ★ ★

As we sat chatting on the enclosed porch overlooking all this, Maja brought out her Indian Princess headdress. She proudly explained that she has been taken into the Ottawa Tribe as "Bok-ti-goque" which means "lover of wild flowers who lives on the rapids."

Her acceptance into the tribe, located near Walloon Lake, was complete with ceremonial dance and blessing of the chief. The Schjolins often stay on the lake as part of the University of Michigan Alumni summer campers' group.

Usually travels for this couple are more extensive than the northern parts of Michigan. They have been around the world and often take shorter trips abroad.

Mrs. Schjolin prefers to wander about foreign countries without tour services, since she says, "you get to meet the people and have a better chance to understand customs and traditions that relate to the way they live."

★ ★ ★

On one long distance junket, Hans had to move on to Australia so Maja decided to go it alone in Japan.

Without a word of Japanese at her disposal, she somehow managed to make new friends, travel third class aboard a steamer and tour the countryside by bus.

She even got to view the palace grounds since the Emperor's birthday (the only day in the year the grounds are open to the public) was observed during her stay.

CLUBWOMAN

Even though travels through exotic lands lend an exciting aura to her life, Mrs. Schjolin is far from passive on her own home ground.

Named for the second consecutive year to the president's post of the Oakland County Federation of Women's Clubs, she is also the State Federation's Southeastern District conservation chairman.

Studying Oakland County history is also of great interest to this vivacious and attractive woman.

As a past president of the Birmingham Woman's Club, she discovered that the original Federation was begun 67 years ago by Martha Baldwin who with several others rode to their monthly meetings with a horse and buggy.

★ ★ ★

She is also active in Parliamentary Study Club, Birmingham Humane Society, Village Players and University of Michigan Alumnae Association.

And if all these things aren't enough, she can pass the time giving first aid to a battered cat (well, if a guy's name is mouse you have to fight — right?)

Jackson Chorale Plans Auditions

The Jackson Chorale will hold auditions for prospective members in the vocal music room of Pontiac Northern High School. Auditions begin at 8 p.m. on two successive Mondays, May 20 and 27.

Membership is open to anyone past high school age interested in studying and performing good vocal music literature.

The Chorale is directed by Gilbert Jackson of the Pontiac Central High School vocal music faculty.

Additional information may be obtained from him or from Thomas Marsh of West University Drive, Rochester.

Both Have 'Heady' Problems

Your Son's No Better Than Girl

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Here are the facts: I have a 23-year-old son who went with a very pushy girl off and on all through college. She kept pressuring him to marry her, but he said he wanted to graduate from college first. Just for spite, in her senior year she married somebody else.

ABBY

She hasn't been married three months, and already she's after my son again. She wrote, saying she still loves him, made a mistake and is "considering" divorcing her husband. She meets my son on weekends and tells her husband she is going "home" to visit her parents.

What do you think of a girl who continues to live with her husband and sneaks around with her old boyfriend? Am I being narrowminded in refusing to accept this girl with open arms when my son brings her to my home?

She has no shame. She writes love messages to him on postcards! My son says he may not marry her after all, but he is not about to turn down a good thing! What is your advice?

HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I don't think you're being "narrowminded," nor do I blame you for not accepting this girl with open arms. She should use the rocks in her head to fill up the holes in your son's.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: While preparing for my wedding, a problem came up concerning my bridesmaids.

A friend of my mother asked Mums if her daughter could be a bridesmaid. Mums didn't know what to say, so she said yes.

Abby, I have known this girl all my life, but she is not yet 14, and the bridesmaids I want are between 18 and 20. Besides, this girl is not a particularly close friend of mine.

Now what do I do? The time is getting short.

STUCK IN TORONTO

DEAR STUCK: Unless you can prevail upon your mother to tell her friend that she answered before having consulted you, and therefore was not aware that all the bridesmaids had been selected, you are indeed stuck. Since "Mums" got you into it, I think it's up to "Mums" to get you out of it.

DEAR ABBY: Re the new, effeminate-looking styles for men. They aren't "new" at all: In 1916 as a college fop I wore silk underwear, pleated, pink shirts, and a handkerchief tucked into my cuff. And as a boy I was "dressed and curled." In 1918, the Germans learned what the "Ladies from Hell" (the Scots) could do despite their kilts, purses and bagpipes. So cool it, Ma'am.

Trace Progress and Highlights of Detroit Opera Presentations

By SIGNE KARLSTROM
(Second of Three Articles)

In 1952 a Junior Women's Committee, the Detroit Grand Opera Association was formed. Among the leaders in this group were Mesdames: E. Steven Bauer, William S. Edwards, Frederick C. Matthael Jr. and Charles L. Wilson Jr. with Blenda Isbey as chairman.

A committee was also formed of the business and professional women's groups.

One of the most memorable performances was in 1954 when "Hansel and Gretel" was presented. It had appeared in New York and members of the Women's Committee wanted so much to have it come to Detroit.

★ ★ ★

There was some reluctance on the part of the management here as well as in New York, but the mothers wanted their children to hear and see this opera. So it was brought here.

Lovely Laurel Hurley was Gretel, the admired Frances Bible was Hans and comedienne Anna Russell took the part of the witch. Thomas Schippers was the conductor and the Masonic Temple was packed with children, mothers and friends. The artists were overwhelmed.

Some of those who came from New York City Opera to assist the Women's Committee during this period were Eric Leinsdorf, now conductor and music director of the Boston Symphony; Joseph Rosenstock who visits Detroit now conducting Met's operas; Julius Rudel, now gereral manager of New York City Opera; Donald Gramm, Walter Cassel, Phyllis Curtin, all members of the Metropolitan today.

COMPOSER CAME

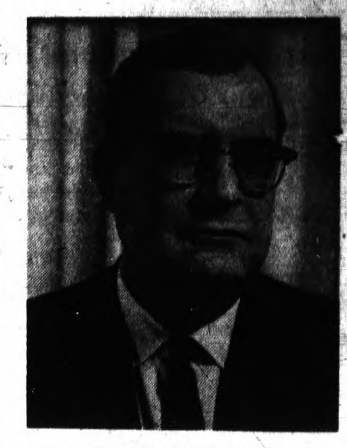

In 1953 when Gian-Carlo Menotti's opera "The Consul" was presented, Menotti came for the performance.

Samuel J. Lang became the president of Detroit Grand Opera Association in 1952. Another president from this area was the late Leslie C. Allman, 1955-56, when Mrs. Walker A. Williams was chairman of the Women's Committee.

Later Mrs. Williams became the Scholarship Chairman, a post she held after the late Mrs. Arthur B. Tilton. For some years now Mrs. Sam B. Williams has been chairman.

★ ★ ★

This is the Grinnell Music Foundation $2,500 scholarship award, sponsored by the Detroit Grand Opera Association. The scholarship award originally was started by the late John Riccardi, one of the founders of the Detroit Grand Opera Association.

JOHN CUMMING

Colorful Past Is Highlighted for Exhibit

Under the theme "Heritage is Fun," the Oakland Pioneer and Historical Society will exhibit part of its collection at The Pontiac Mall Shopping Center during Michigan Week, May 19-24.

Several sides of Oakland County life during both the pioneer and later Victorian periods will be shown. These include men's and women's crafts and hobbies, the home, inventions, the school and the Civil War.

★ ★ ★

Fashions for women from 1820 to 1910 will be displayed in a "Fashion Walk."

Wednesday at 10 a.m., the Women's World program at The Mall will have as guest speaker, Maurice Cole, prominent local historian. His topic will be "Oakland County 100 Years Ago."

The annual dinner meeting of the Society is scheduled Wednesday evening with a social hour beginning at 5:30 at Central Methodist Church.

SPEAKER

Following the 6:30 dinner, John Cumming, director of the Clarke Memorial Library at Central Michigan University, will speak, and the Girls' Ensemble of Pontiac Central High School will entertain.

Cumming is the author-printer of a book on Temperance Mack, widow of Oakland County pioneer Stephen Mack.

★ ★ ★

Having worked since 1961 with letters and diaries of people who made Michigan's history, Cumming has a broad knowledge of the history of our state as well as the early history of America.

Continuum Center Gets Large Grant

East Lansing, a $230,000 grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation to support a unique educational and service program for mature women was accepted here Thursday in behalf of Oakland University by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

The grant is for support over a four-year period of Oakland's Continuum Center for Women, which since its founding in 1965 has helped more than 1200 women find creative outlets outside the home for their talents and energies.

★ ★ ★

The program was made possible originally by a two-year grant from the Kellogg Foundation.

In announcing the grant, an official of the Foundation said:

"We have great respect for the fine program and the vital service being provided by the Continuum Center for Women. We are particularly pleased to assist the Center in aiding other educational institutions to develop similar programs.

The Continuum Center offers a multifaceted program designed to help women, as individuals in metropolitan areas, to discover and exploit their optimum roles in society beyond the traditional ones of homemaking and child-rearing.

Deploring the "empty-nest syndrome" which psychologists say affects most women after their children have left home, the University believes women want creative outlets for their talents and energies and that the nation needs feminine aptitudes often largely unused outside the home.

PLANNING

The program was begun after several years of planning conducted by the Division of Continuing Education at Oakland University Women, the League of Women Voters, the Junior League, and other similar organizations.

Educators, psychologists, and business and professional groups also are lending counsel and support.

Salient features of the program include psychological testing and counseling; a central site on the Rochester campus of Oakland University to offer counsel for the adult woman who needs guidance; and a permanent bureau of specialist advisers in the areas of education, volunteer placement and employment.

During the past year, the heart of the program has been the testing and psychological counseling known as the "Investigation Into Identity." The tests indicate intellectual capacity, aptitudes, personal values, vocational and educational interests, and personality attributes.

★ ★ ★

Records show that most of the women have subsequently requested appointments with Center advisers in their fields of major interest.

Two of the main aims of the Center are to assist in aiding national replication of the Investigation Into Identity program, and to conduct a national invitational conference to share with other institutions the skills learned in the developmental years of the project.

An important corollary of the Center activity comes from a built-in provision for research which, through interviews and questionnaires, contributes understanding of the psychology of normal, adult women.

This research has shown typical interests, concerns and attitudes; the rhythm and sequence of psychological states in women; how women respond to education and perform in the classroom; and what unique contributions may be expected from the feminine sex as they more widely gain entrance into business and professional areas.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Sometimes it seems as though the whole wide world is tired! How often do you hear a person say, "Oh, I am so tired?" Even advertisements, for everything from travel to food, are frequently aimed at the "tired housewife" or the "exhausted executive."

There is probably nothing which contributes more to success and happiness than an extra portion of energy, and nothing makes one's outlook so dull as chonic fatigue. The latter can affect a person's life in drastic ways. It is insidious, too, because the person who is tired all of the time does not have the pep or vision to get out of the trap.

Don't settle for chonic fatigue! Too many people take it for granted as a necessary part of life. Some weariness is normal, but one soon recovers from this kind. Everyone is tired at times, even those human dynamos you think never are. This is not the sort of fatigue I am thinking of.

PUSH THROUGH

I have in mind the many people who are tired when they awaken in the morning, push themselves through the day and their duties with effort, and then go to bed for a restless night's sleep. There is no spark or sparkle to life. Something can be done about it!

Naturally your first concern should be a complete physical checkup. If no reason for your weariness is found then investigate other factors. For instance, negative emotions such as fear, worry, anxiety, hate, and even indecision, sensitiveness, take a terrible toll of energy. Negative thoughts create negative emotions and these can change the function and chemistry of the boy.

★ ★ ★

Too often folks spend a thousand dollars worth of energy on a five cent problem, such as what someone said about them or which dress to choose. Of course sometimes there are bigger problems and real reasons for feeling hurt.

Then it seems that the only thing to do is look at the hurt in perspective and try to forget it, and either solve the problem or adapt to it. Sensitiveness and indecision are too famous kidnappers of energy.

★ ★ ★

Of course boredom is another. Most tired people would instantly become energized and electrified with enthusiasm and joy, if some wonderful unexpected surprise came their way. Fatigue would fly out of the window.

Try to plan something you really look forward to evey day. If you cannot manage this every day, then do it several times a week.

If unable to remove creases in material when lengthening hems or sleeves, use a small amount of spray starch and then steam iron.

BROCK-SCHULTZ

A reception in the First Federal Savings of Oakland, Lake Orion, followed vows Saturday evening in Evangel Temple by Joette Kathleen Schultz and Ronald Gene Brock. The bride's ensemble of Chantilly lace and organza was complemented by an illusion veil secured with an organza bow. She held roses with ivy. Members of the wedding party were Linda Heath, Jolene Schultz, Claudia Gordon, George Crossley, James Jensenius, and Dennis, Kenneth and Robert Brock. The couple will travel to New York for their honeymoon. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Anita Schultz of Clarkston and Joseph Schultz of Rossdale Street. His parents are the Harold Brocks of Guyette Street, Independence Township.

Anniversary Observance at Cranbrook

A Service of Rededication Sunday at 10:45 a.m. in Christ Church Cranbrook will mark the beginning of the 64th anniversary observance of the founding of Cranbrook.

Board members and heads of the six Cranbrook institutions will march in procession behind their respective flags.

★ ★ ★

The address will be given by Robert M. Sandoe, headmaster of Cranbrook School.

★ ★ ★

At 4 p.m., the Founders Day invitational reception will begin in Cranbrook House with Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Booth as hosts.

From 4 to 5 p.m., Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald will receive guests, followed by Mr. and Mrs. David G. Booth from 5 to 6 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Tea table hostesses will be Luella Houser and Mesdames John P. Denio, Howard M. Wert, John R. O. McKean, Frank G. Gerard, Paul Gerhardt, G. Arthur Brown Jr. and Donald Willet.

Mix 'n' Match

Sew a lively cotton stripe for spring. Make it doubly effective in look-alike fashions for you and your daughter. Run stripes on the vertical for your outfit, on the horizontal for hers. Pick stripes, fat or thin, bright or pale. You will find them all in washable cotton fabrics that will stay fresh and colorful all summer long.

Judith A. Hosack was recently awarded a BA degree in ceremonies at Western Michigan University. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hosack of Greenridge Road, Avon Township.

A BS degree was granted to Gladys A. Maxim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max A. Maxim of Shawnee Court, in recent ceremonies at Western Michigan University.

Women's Officers Named

Announcement was made of the newly elected officers of the Women's Committee, Cranbrook Academy of Art, at a meeting of the Academy's Board of Trustees recently.

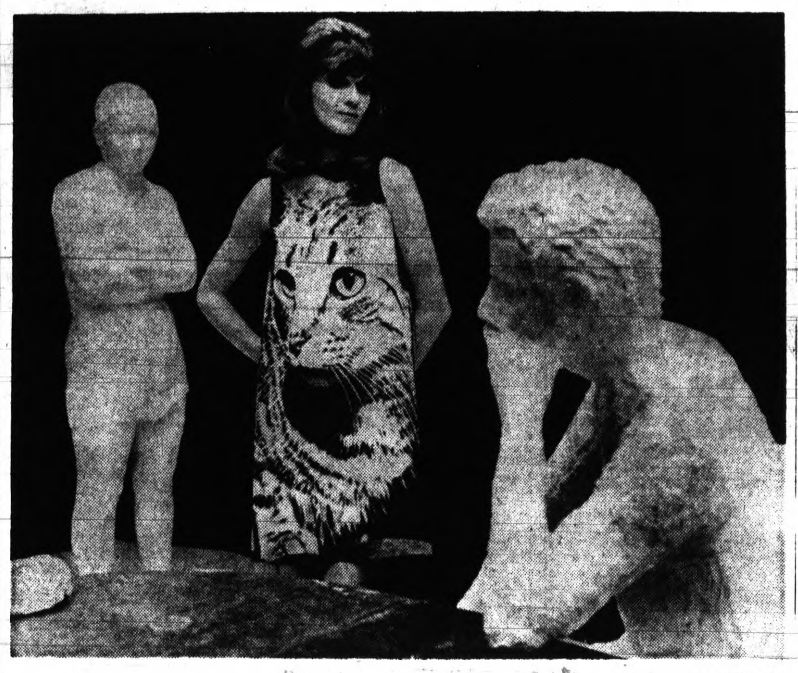

The new officers are Mrs. William L. Mitchell, chairman; Mrs. David Walker Lee, vice chairman; Mrs. Leonard T. Lewis, secretary; Mrs. Theodore O. Yntema, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert H. Flint, treasurer.

★ ★ ★

This committee sponsors and arranges the receptions prior to openings of exhibitions for patrons and members. This fall will find these women exceptionally busy as the second Arts Ball will be held on Nov. 2. No chairman has been selected as yet.

Newest Water Wings

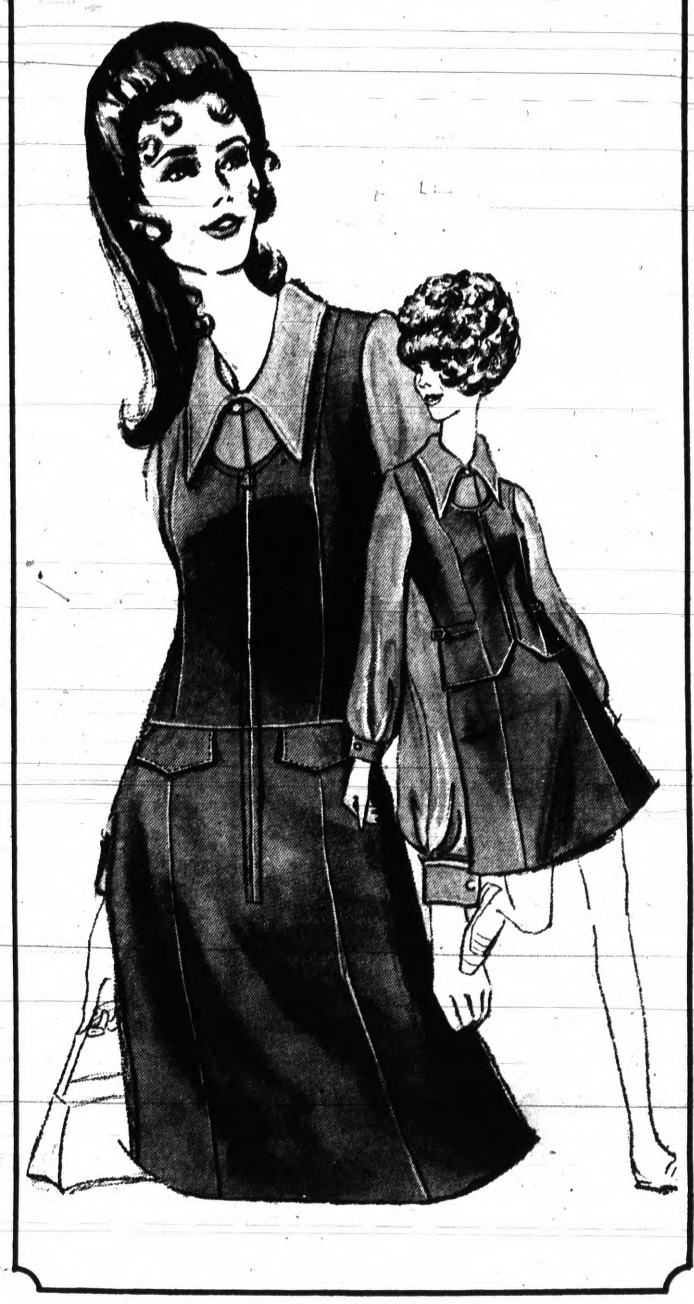

The newest water wings are worn on the arms. They look like squared-off puffed sleeves and are worn on the upper arms. They come in sizes for children or adults.

Two of sculptor George Segal's plaster figures seem to be perplexed by a tabby cat poster dress at exhibit in Chicago's Museum of Contemporary Art. The dresses, designed by Harry Gordon of New York with images printed on them, are meant to be worn, then cut and hung as posters when one tires of wearing. Or, if preferred, the $3 creation can be used as a tablecloth or to wrap packages.

Colorful Shirts OK for Execs

The white business shirt is no longer the standard choice of the conservatively-suited executive, even if he intends to go straight from the office to a restaurant and theater. Color and pattern are accepted almost everywhere as tasteful and proper.

★ ★ ★

Gentlemen's Quarterly reports double and triple stripings, in color on color, are adding to the what's new for fashion-aware men. The new shades include salmon, rust, melon, purplish blue, bottle green, dark blue and dark brown. The dark shirts are meant to wear with white or tan twill suits.

The Living End---Self-Serve Funerals

By BETTY CANARY

Wouldn't you know it would happen? I had just finished writing about leisure time when what to my wondering eyes should appear but an article setting forth a new idea on how to save me even more time.

In order to collect this leisure time I would have to move to Atlanta, however. And, I wouldn't know when I was going to get the time either, what with the way things are. I mean, since I don't know anybody in Atlanta, I'd have to make lots of friends and then wait around until they died.

The report is that the management of an undertaking establishemnt there is thinking about installing drive-in facilities.

The idea is that, when my dear old friend Emma dies, I won't be put to much trouble. I won't even have to get dressed but can go in curlers and bathrobe and drive through the parking lot because there Emma is, in window No. 3, "the coffin slightly tipped for better viewing."

I always knew Emma was a real friend! She has arranged to lie in state in a manner calculated not to distrupt my daily routine. I can drive by and look at her in her public showcase and then get on with the grocery shopping and the ironing and all the really important stuff.

NATURAL

It will save me from listening to those trite remarks one hears at funeral parlors also. For one thing, nobody is going to say, "Emma looks so natural!" because obviously she does not. I knew Emma and she just wasn't the type who went around lying in store windows.

I do think this innovation might produce some problems. Some sort of protocol will have to be established with decisions being made as to whose body can occupy window No. 1 and whose will be consigned to that window around the corner.

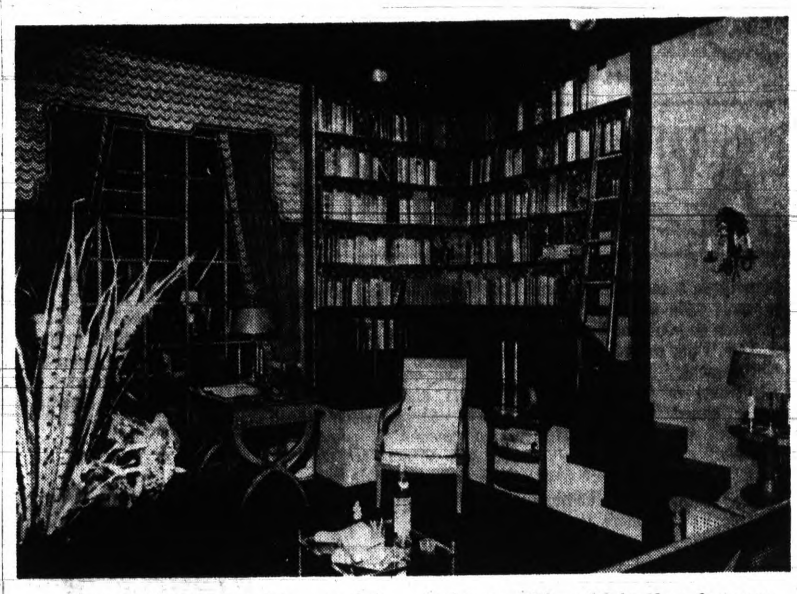

Then, since the family will no longer find it necessary to be inside the building to greet old friends, maybe some sort of reception stations will be put in at the end of the driveway.

★ ★ ★

A moving sidewalk for those not owning automobiles would be necessary and perhaps little wire baskets like those used on expressways could be installed. Instead of flowers, you just toss in a contribution as you exit. Maybe you pick up a bumper sticker on your way out.

★ ★ ★

Actually, now that I think of it, going there in curlers and bathrobe won't be possible. Surely the designers will come up with a simple black suede car coat — just the thing for driving down to view the dead.

Inspiration for this model room, a library, began with the embroidery that has been applied to the suede window treatment. It represents the end paper found on fine leather book bindings. Its colors are repeated in carpet and upholstery with gold leather for contrast. Dramatic interest is centered in the raised platform with railings. Designed for Donald Patric Burrows and shown by J. L. Hudson Company.

Try This Easy Method

DEAR POLLY — Mrs. R. J. M. wanted to know how to keep her baby's toes from curling up while putting his shoes on. My mom told me, years ago, to place baby on his stomach and then put his shoes on. It works like a charm. — JOAN

DEAR POLLY — I am a mother of four, plus many visiting ones, and I want to tell Mrs. R. J. M. that if a baby curls up his toes when you are trying to put his shoes on, just hold his leg out stiff so he cannot bend it and hold the back of his sock stretched up the back of the leg. This makes it easy to get a shoe on.—MRS. V.D.

DEAR POLLY — I am sure that at one time or another ladies have had my problem of getting marks on the right heels of suede shoes when driving a car. I do hope they will be kind enough to share some solutions. —MRS. E.S.

DEAR POLLY — I think the vacuum cleaner is the housewive's best friend. However, there is one place I will bet you have never used it before and that is for cleaning the stove. Salt, rice, bits of macaroni and other crumbs of dry foods often collect under the burners.

To make a messy job easier, just attach your dusting brush to the wand, then clean out all of this before starting your regular cleaning. For corners, use the handy crevice tool. — IRIS

DEAR POLLY — About 40 years ago I was a shoe saleslady in a large department store and our method for getting a shoe on a baby's foot was to start the shoe on the foot with both hands. Then, using the palm of one hand, press gently on the knee to keep the leg straight. For some odd reason, the toes uncurl and the foot straightens out so the shoe slips on easily.

I have used this on tiny tots, grandchildren and even great-grandchildren and it really works. I do hope this helps that young mother. — MRS. C.M.V.

Don't Simply 'Dab on' Scent

Merely dabbig on a scent is like putting a beautiful record on the stereo and turning down the volume so that no one can hear it. The right way, say experts at Avon, is to use more than one form of fragrance at the same time: a light, more diluted form used lavishly as a background, and a more highly concentrated form in smaller amounts.

★ ★ ★

The lighter form should be applied first. Lighter forms include cologne in either liquid or spray mist. Next come the concentrated scents—perfume in an alcohol base or perfume in aerosol form.

When it is necessary to trim surplus material from the bottom of a garment, slip it over the ironing board and cut. This is handier than trying to work on a table, and it also prevents accidentally cutting into some other part of the garment.

OCCEO Community Aide

She's a Major Link With Poor

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fourth in a series on the people and programs of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity — the antipoverty war.)

By ED BLUNDEN

Working to help the disadvantaged comes naturally to Rosemary Gayton. She was helping them before most war on poverty programs began.

And now she's taken it up on a full-time basis as a community aide for the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO).

★ ★ ★

Miss Gayton, 28, of 341 S. Marshall, holds one of the key positions in the OCCEO —she's the person who directly contacts the poor in their own homes.

As a community aide, she knocks on doors, gives counseling, fills out forms, makes referrals, and in all, is in the front line of the poverty war.

The community aide is the main link between the home of the disadvantaged and the coordinated centers where they can help.

Miss Gayton works out of the North Opportunity Center, 7 W. Lawrence, and covers the neighborhood between Wide Track, East Boulevard and Pike, a predominantly Negro and Latin American area.

Before joining the OCCEO staff nine months ago, Miss Gayton worked for many years as a volunteer with the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

"I have always been interested in this work," she said. Besides her 40-hour workweek, Miss Gayton still volunteers her time on church projects at St. Vincent's church in Pontiac.

OUTGOING PERSONALITY

With an outgoing personality, Miss Gayton especially enjoys the personal contact her job brings. She finds her fluency in Spanish very useful.

In describing some of her recent cases, she recalls how a Mexican woman with six children became ill, had to be hospitalized and at the same time faced eviction from her home. She could not read or write.

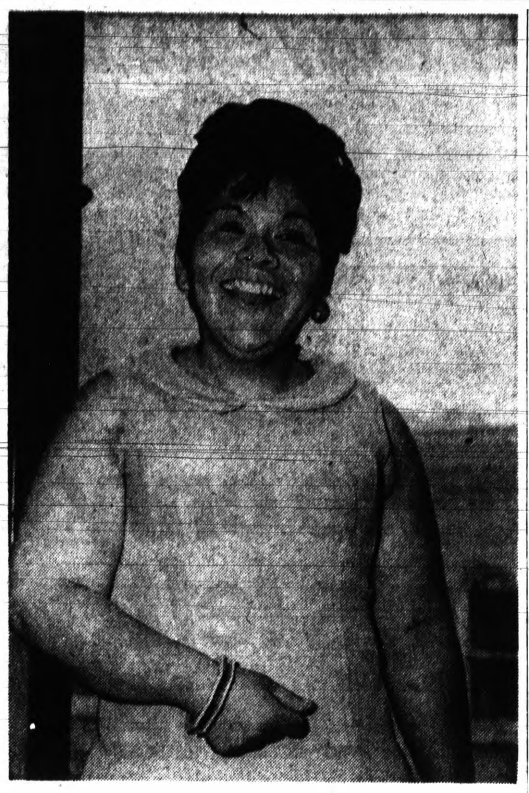

Miss Gayton saw to it that the woman got assistance for her medical bills and also found a new place to live.

She used the technical services at the North Center, but also relied on a group of women volunteers from Birmingham and Troy who donated $400 for a down payment on a home the woman could afford.

In another instance, a 35-year-old Negro returned to her area from a long term in prison, determined to reform but with few prospects.

Miss Gayton was able to see that he eventually found steady employment and consequently an improved outlook on life.

Miss Gayton enjoys working with young people the most. "If there is emotional trouble among the parents, the children are going to be affected, too. They have to be helped as they grow up," she said.

Roddy McDowell Hates to Be Typed

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Roddy McDowell has a notion that success makes its own problems for actors. "The most difficult thing for an actor to overcome is success," he says.

McDowell, who came to Mexico to film "Five Card Stud," a Paramount picture starring Dean Martin and Robert Mitchum complained that as soon as an actor is a success in a part, producers only want to give him similar parts, "and there's no fun in that."

★ ★ ★

First, for the London-born actor, was a series of successes as a child actor ("How Green Was My Valley," "My Friend Flicka," "Son of Fury," "Lassie Come Home," etc.).

But growning up, he said "nobody in Hollywood realized I wasn't a child actor anymore and kept offering me roles for a wide-eyed 12-year-old.

CRAZY BUSINESS

"But this is a crazy business. When you're a success in a dramatic role, producers think of you in terms of straight dramatic parts afterwards and you have to try to prove that you can also do comedy (which he's out to prove in "Five Card Stud").

Then when you've been a success in a comedy role you have to prove all over again that you can also do drama."

★ ★ ★

McDowell is a man of many parts. He is a top photographer and a contributing editor to Harper's Bazaar, and has had photo spreads in national magazines.

★ ★ ★

He is a dyed-in-the-wool old movie buff and has a tremendous collection of autographs of movie stars going back to the days of the silents, plus a collection of memorabilia such as silent star Milton Sills' contract with Warner Brothers, Maude Adams' pantaloons and Stan Laurel's hat.

"You know," McDowell said with a smile, "the other day Mr. Hathaway (the director) had me dashing out of a saloon, jump on a horse and go galloping off. I started laughing when I suddenly realized 'this is just like being in the movies.'"

Book Review

The place is the Los Angeles area. The people are what usually are called swingers.

Swingers are more sophisticated than hippies.

★ ★ ★

They take baths, and don't bother with the flower, gong and gave bit. But they also use sex and umpteen kinds of

"A Case for the Angels" by Gavin Lambert

naracotics to turn themselves on, so they won't have to think about life, or commit themselves to anything.

They seem to be self-flagellating, imitation hedonists.

NARRATED BY GIRL

The story takes place in the span of three days, Dec. 24 through Dec. 26, and is narrated by Dora, and English girl.

The trouble with Dora is that, in the beginning, she shows traces of being a solid citizen, as the swingers would say. Somehow she has let herself get married to Keith, a complete zero who is afraid to face any responsibility at all.

★ ★ ★

But the marriage is only a convenience, and Keith still runs around with a crowd presided over by a couple of amoral brothers, whose principal interest in life is conducting sex orgies. Complete with narcotic effects, of course.

For contrast, there is a bizarre episode in which Keith's grandmother — a full-blooded Indian, made rich by oil wells — unexpectedly arrives for a Christmas visit.

ILLUMINATING

In case you're interested in what crawls from under an overturned rock, this stroy — written by the author of "Inside Daisy Clover" — is quite illuminating; it lets you know what sort of strange creatures exist in the present world. It is a comedy, if that classification can be used to cover the macabre, and it is a thoroughly bitter one.

Ten Days in 'Tomb'—They Prayed a Lot

RICHWOOD, W.Va. (AP)—"I told the men if the water don't get us in two hours, it won't get us at all."

★ ★ ★

Edward Scarbro, one of the 10 men given up for dead but rescued yesterday after being trapped nearly 10 days in a coal mine, was able to recall those days in a living tomb without emotion at a hospital.

★ ★ ★

The 38-year-old Scarbro and the other five who survived were treated at Sacred Heart Hospital here after being rushed from the mine at nearby Hominy Falls. Four others didn't survive and their bodies were brought out shortly after the six were rescued.

Other survivors showed the same faith in a rescue that had to be a one-in-a-billion shot.

THEY PRAYED

Tears rolled down Eugene Martin's face as he talked with newsmen.

The men spent their time praying, the 34-year-old miner said, "and we always had faith — . . . never gave up hope."

Scarbro had been cleaned of the coal dust when he appeared in a T-shirt and trousers.

"I'm all right," he said. "I can get out of here.

'I HEARD THEM'

"I heard them first," he said, referring to the rescue team which reached them in the predawn hours. "I heard the voices and the boots tromping down the tunnel and I knew it was the rescue. We all started hollering."

"That water just came out like a river and washed me around the corner of the tunnel," he said. "The five others were up where it was dry. I hollered to them to help get me out."

★ ★ ★

Scarbro, his pregnant wife by his side, said "it got colder and colder down there. But when the water didn't come up any higher, I knew we were okay on high ground."

He said the men took brattice cloth—a kind of burlap hung on the mine's walls to control air flow—and made a little tent of it. Then they huddled together in it to keep warm.

2 STILL IN BED

Of those rescued, only Martin and Joe Fitzwater stayed in their beds at the hospital. The others—Larry Lynch, John Moore Jr. and Jennings Lilly—were up but Lilly told newsmen he was too weak to talk.

Fitzwater's brother, Ernest, barely got out of the mine when the water flooded the passageway.

"I never expected him to come out alive," he said of his 33-year-old brother, "but I sure changed my mind fast this morning."

★ ★ ★

Moore, who spent the winter hospitalized in Baltimore, minimized the dangers of the long entrapment and said "I could have lasted four or five days more, maybe six days down there. I knew we would get out."

The 46-year-old Moore, a miner for 17 years, was the only one of the six who said he would not return to the mines.

The others said they hadn't made up their minds on whether they would return.

Five in Family Called to Duty

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Mrs. Ola Kent, 65, is preparing to hang a five-star service flag in her window—symbolizing three sons and two grandsons called to active duty with the National Guard.

Legislator Gains in Fight for Kidney Program Boost

By JIM NICHOLS
Associated Press Writer

LANSING (AP) — A tenacious woman legislator won a $300,000 fight with the House Appropriations Committee Thursday as the House approved bills spending $80.22 million in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Action on the $252-million budget for Michigan's public colleges and universities and the $150.7-million mental health appropriation was put off until today, while bills to license snowmobiles and require motorcycles to carry crash helmets were sent to the Governor.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Joyce Symons, D-Allen Park, overrode the objections of the powerful appropriations committee and tacked onto the $19.5-million public healthspending bill another $300,000 for a program aiding kidney disease victims.

The Senate version of the bill included no funds for a kidney program. The House committee approved spending $200,000 and Mrs. Symons raised the figure to $500,000.

'TOTAL INVALID'

Mrs. Symons, who said her brother became "a total invalid" while waiting for access to a hospital's artificial kidney machine, added that 39 people in Michigan now are in a similar situation. She added it costs about $10,000 a year to maintain each such machine.

Committee members argued that existing machines are becoming obsolete, and that increasing their spending recommendation would open the door to other proposed boosts, trimming the state's anticipated budget surplus.

★ ★ ★

"We're going to be lucky if we have an $8-million surplus, and before we're through we may not have that," warned Rep. William Copeland of Wyandotte, he committee's ranking Democrat.

"For God's sake, let's save as many of these people as we can," urged Rep. Arthur Law, D-Pontiac.

MAY BE REMOVED

Mrs. Symons' amendment won 61-31 House approval. Some members predicted the Senate would remove it from the bill.

Also approved and returned to the Senate were bills appropriating:

—$25,993,830 to the State Department of Education;

—$25,377,933 to the Corrections Department;

★ ★ ★

—$8,728,349 for planning and construction at community and junior colleges;

—$575,000 for preliminary studies of several proposed building projects.

Plot to Kill Police Foiled

NEW YORK (AP) — Five men were arrested in an East Harlem apartment Thursday night and charged with conspiring to murder policemen, break into a state armory and rob a check-cashing establishment.

Police said the men planned to murder a policeman a week in the hope that other members of the department would resort to violence and arouse the wrath of the slum community.

★ ★ ★

A high police official said no details concerning targets of the purported conspiracy would be released immediately because of "the enormity of the charges" against the five.

The men, all Negroes, were arrested about 7 p.m. in a fifth floor apartment on Fifth Avenue at 132nd Street by a raiding party of 15 detectives.

CHARGES

They were booked on charges of conspiracy to murder policemen, conspiracy to burglarize a state armory, conspiracy to rob a check-cashing establishment and possession of explosives with intent to use them.

Detective Sgt. Frederick Watts who led the raiding party said they found two homemade bombs, nails, wire and gunpowder, two rifles and a pistol in the apartment.

GATOR LEAVES MARK—Freddie Waldron gets a surprise bite on the leg from the alligator he captured in his back yard at Margate, Fla. Freddie at first tied up the mouth of the creature which is almost 5 feet long but loosened the rope and lifted the alligator by the tail for a picture to be made. This is when the alligator showed its strength, flipped, and made 12 toothholes in Waldron's leg.

Registration Nears for Kindergarteners

More than 2,245 Pontiac children are expected to register for this fall's kindergarten classes in the next few weeks, Gerald White, director of elementary education, estimates.

★ ★ ★

The following entrance requirements must be followed, White said:

A child must be 5 years old on or before Dec. 1.

- The parent must present the child's birth certificate (not hospital certificate) before the first day of school.
- An immunization record for smallpox, diptheria, tetanus, pertussis, poliomyelitis and measles must be presented.

New Unit Eyes Housing Action

A county committee has been formed to seek action on the problem of housing for the poor. It's called the Inter-Agency Housing Committee.

Forming the group was the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO).

★ ★ ★

Among organizations participating are the Pontiac Area Urban League, Pontiac Planning and Urban Renewal Department, county office of social services, Pontiac Housing Commission and the Voice of Oakland County Action League (VOCAL).

According to an OCCEO spokesman, the new committee is addressing itself to several concerns. One is to see that all rental property sought for low-income families has no city code violations. Also, homes are to be checked for health and safety.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said the effort is to create better living standards for tenants and cooperate with the city in its code enforcement program.

Auto Devices Cut Pollution

This 11-year-old frying pan borrowed from the all-electric kitchen of Mrs. R. L. Phillips, Detroit, Michigan.

Place your cleanest pan here.

If it's this clean, you don't have to read this ad.

You probably have an electric range already.

There's no flame with an electric range. So there's no sooty combustion to dirty up pots and pans or soil kitchen walls and curtains. It's the cleanest way to cook.

With many electric ranges, you can forget messy oven cleaning for good. They clean themselves, automatically, for about 7½ cents per cleaning.

Other advantages? Plenty.

An electric range keeps your kitchen cooler, too. The heat goes into the food—not into the kitchen.

You get pinpoint temperature control for recipe-perfect meals, day after day.

There's no worry about repairs. Edison will repair or replace electrical operating parts. No charge for labor. No charge for parts. All you do is call us.

There's Free Installation, too. That's right. Buy at any retail dealer and Edison will pay installation cost. (As long as your electric range is installed on Detroit Edison lines in any existing residence up to and including a four-family flat.)

For a bright difference in your pots and pans—and maybe even in your family's appetite—switch to an electric range.

Miami Beach Calm About GOP 'Show'

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Miami Beach becomes a rumpus room for Republicans in August, but the Florida vacation spot isn't getting too excited about it. It's a convention city accustomed to big crowds and hectic hotel arrangements, and the GOP convention, at least at this stage, is just—another convention.)

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)— Most cities, called upon to host a national presidential nominating convention for the first time, might find the prospect nerve-wracking. But this bustling resort couldn't be more blase about the big Republican show beginning the week of Aug. 4.

Work on the convention site is running well ahead of schedule. The 25,000 first - class hotel rooms promised the party are in the bag. No big protest demonstrations, like those threatening the Democrats at Chicago, are anticipated.

★ ★ ★

And the 30,000 political visitors, plus 5,000 from the news media, will scarcely be noticed among the millions who come and go annually in this subtropic tourist mecca.

"It will be a routine and normal situation," says City Manager Jack Duffield. "People here are experts in getting along with millions of visitors."

Because the oceanside hotel rooms that command $50 a day in the winter can be had for $10 in the summer, Miami Beach is pretty well filled up with tourists in August, anyway.

"In body count, that's actually our best month," says Hal Cohen, liaison man between the city and the GOP. "If the convention people weren't using the rooms, somebody else would be in them."

The walls are up and ceiling beams in place on a 131,000-square-foot addition to the present Miami Beach Convention Hall. The new section will seat 18,100 persons and will be the site of the convention itself.

The existing hall, which seated 15,000 will be turned over to television and radio crews.

Newspapers and news services will take over the 3,500-seat Miami Beach Auditorium, which sits adjacent to the Convention Hall and is connected by an overhead ramp. The auditorium is used for boxing matches, basketball games and other events and is taken over in the winter by the Jackie Gleason television troupe.

Miami Beach is spending $4 million on the convention site but expects to get it back. It estimates that delegates and guests will bring $6 million in fresh money into the city and the news media and others will spend $4 million on goods, services and wages paid special employes.

★ ★ ★

A $1 million coaxial cable is being laid from the mainland to Miami Beach by Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co. It will make possible broadcasting from all major hotels.

More conventions are booked into Miami Beach than any other city in the world. When the Republican layout is completed, the beach will put one or two of these extra conventions into it for trial runs.

A chain link fence is being put up around the Convention Hall area, but Police Chief Rocky Pomerance says its only purpose is to keep outsiders out of the 5,000-space parking area reserved for the convention.

Immediately after the Republicans chose Miami Beach, Pomerance contacted federal and state agencies all over the nation, seeking clues to any possible disturbances. He said all replies were negative.

"The Democratic party, as the party in power, will bear the brunt of the protest movement," Pomerance said. "We expect to have a few peaceful demonstrations, and will cooperate in setting them up. But this doesn't mean we'll be lax. We'll have enough police to handle any situation. We won't tolerate agitators."

There are no plans to bring in police reinforcements for the convention, but the Dade County sheriff's office and police departments of the 20 municipalities in the county have offered to cooperate. Pomerance says he will pick a few officers trained in crowd control from these departments.

CONVENTION SITES — When the two national political parties convene in August for their presidential conventions, they will be greeted by some pleasant additions. The Miami Beach Convention Hall will feature an 18,100-seat addition for the Republicans. In Chicago, Democrats, who will use the International Amphitheatre, will utilize seven connected buildings holding caucus rooms, the main convention hall and space for the news media.

A Better Pugil Stick

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (UPI) — The butcher, the baker and the pugil stick maker are hard at work at this Army post.

Everybody knows the butcher and the baker, but pugil stick maker?

Pugil sticks are used by training soldiers to learn to parry and thrust. After they absorb the fine arts of pugiling, they are graduated to guns mounted with bayonets.

But many recruits seem to remember Robin Hood and Little John's famous footbridge fight and tend to use the pugil sticks as cudgels. This of course takes a product made of stern stuff—and a tough pugiler too, of course.

THEY BROKE

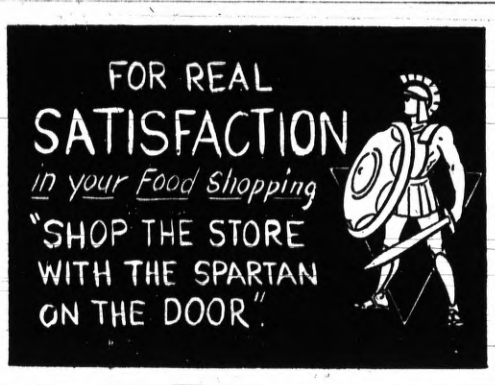

The first pugil sticks used here were smooth oak rods padded on the ends. But they lacked the heft, balance and feel of a rifle. And besides, they got broken.

So, the pugil stick makers at Ft. Lewis were asked to do a little better. They tried other various chemical compounds. No luck. Even steel rods surrounded by fiberglass and polyester resin didn't do the trick.

★ ★ ★

Finally the persistent pugil stick researchers substituted epoxy resin for polyester, covered the contraption with canvas and sealed the thing with more epoxy.

Now the trainees, wearing football helmets, face guards, hockey gloves and other protective gear, can clobber each other merrily without breaking heads, fingers or the sticks.

Waterfall, Tropical Fish Bedeck Service Station

United Press International

These days there are more and more posh restaurants and deluxe nightclubs. But would you believe an out-of-this-world gasoline service station?

There is one at Vero Beach, Fla. And you can tell it's a service station because there are gas pumps outside.

★ ★ ★

But when you step through the revolving glass doors of the service station building, you're greeted by a ceiling-to-floor waterfall with tropical fish swimming in the pool beneath.

To your right is a lounge with wall-to-wall carpeting and pecky cypress paneled walls. In one corner is the coffee-nook where, if you become a regular customer, you pick up a coffee cup with your name on it and serve yourself a cup of coffee — on the house.

IMPRESSIVE

In the center of the room is an antique Spanish three-tiered table with a firepan for charcoal on the bottom. That's for the weary traveler to take off his shoes, sit in a chair and put his feet on the table, warming his toes from charcoal fire.

Since it's Florida, this is of course unnecessary, and the table is only a showpiece. But it's impressive.

★ ★ ★

The building itself is beautiful. It was designed by a local architect and is finished in Pennsylvania green stone.

The landscaping features palm trees and Australian pines but other features include poinciana, mangoes, coconut palm, orchid trees and hibiscus.

COSTS $125,000

The station is owned by the Earman Brothers who are jobbers for Pure Oil Co., and operate 16 other service stations in Florida.

The Vero Beach station is their newest and most deluxe service station — probably the most deluxe ever built. It cost $125,000.

For service other than gasoline, there is only one entrance into the station building. You drive your car through the entrance onto an 18-foot turntable — long enough to accommodate the largest wheelbase cars. The turntable then turns the car to head into any one of six service bays.

Each of the service bays has a completely chrome-plated hydraulic lift. The walls of this circular area are painted in pastel colors, a different one for each service bay. And all the latest electronic equipment is available at each service bay to check out and tune the car.

All done while you sit in the pecky-cypress paneled lounge room sipping coffee and watching color television.

It's a Gnawing Problem

By National Geographic Society

WASHINGTON — The chunky porcupine — a pigeon-toed, bowlegged, buck-toothed rodent that waddles when it walks — gnaws his way into trouble.

No gourmet, the porcupine likes almost everything but meat, and sometimes he'll eat that, too, the National Geographic say.

★ ★ ★

His favorite food is the juicy inner bark of trees. One animal can maim or kill up to 2,000 trees.

A porcupine also favors all kinds of vegetables, fruits, plants, and nuts. Lacking these, he eats leather boots, cork handles on fishing rods, saddles, aluminum pails, automobile tire treads, the glue in plywood, and almost any object salt-soaked from food or perspiration.

★ ★ ★

A forest ranger, who parked his car for weeks at a time near a lookout station, once carelessly left a window open. A porcupine ate all of the steering wheel except the spokes.

Waterford Schools Will Survey Voters

The Waterford Township Board of Education last night decided to survey voters, who May 6 approved a proposition to renew the system's 15-mill taxing authority for operation, to find out if they would approve a 5.2-mill property tax increase in the June 10 board of education election.

Comments from voters also are welcome in the direct mailing questionnaire, according to board members.

★ ★ ★

In other business, Donald Arsen, director of adult education, gave a report on the district's adult education program.

Arsen told board members that the number of enrollees in the adult education program has increased from 30 in 1964 to 971 this year.

CLASS COUNT

The class count for the same period has risen from 30 to 2,093, Arsen said.

The board accepted the resignation of James W. Marshall, principal of Children's Village School, effective July 15.

★ ★ ★

Marshall intends to accept anouther position.

Also last night, the board approved the realignment of school voter precincts to conform with Waterford Township changes.

★ ★ ★

There still will be eight precincts, but Beaumont School will be used as a polling place instead of Waterford Center School.

Korean Reds Warned of Costly Errors

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The United Nations Command warned North Korea today that Communist miscalculation of the situation in Korea may bring about serious consequences to both sides.

U.S. Army Maj. Gen. Gilbert H. Woodward told the 270th meeting of the Joint Military Armistice Commission that there now "exists a grim possibility of miscalculation" and "the danger of this miscalculation is twofold."

★ ★ ★

He said such miscalculation is dangerous not only to the other party but also to the party who miscalculates.

He made the statement after enumerating a series of border incidents that he said were initiated by the Communists along the demilitarized zone.

LODGE PROTESTS

The meeting was called by North Korea to protest a number of alleged armistice violations committed by the U.N. forces.

Woodward told North Korean Maj. Gen. Pak Chung Kook:

"We have no aggressive intentions, but the U.N. Command is determined to defend the Republic of Korea and to ensure the security of its personnel. Be absolutely certain that any aggression from the North will be met.

Police Foil Burglary Try

Pontiac police broke up an apparent burglary attempt early this morning after an alarm indicated a break-in was in progress.

★ ★ ★

Arriving at Saginaw Cleaners, 376 S. Saginaw, police said they saw three men with a ladder at the side of the building. The suspects were chased along the adjacent railroad tracks and a shot fired at them, but they escaped, police said.

An attempt had been made to enter the building through a vent, according to police.

Driver Facing Day in Court

Youth Charged With Negligent Homicide

A youth involved in the double fatal auto accident in Farmington Township Sunday is scheduled for hearing before Juvenile Court Judge Norman R. Barnard June 17 at 1:30 p.m. on a negligent homicide charge.

The youth is Robert Duff, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron J. Duff of 3767 W. Maple, Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

He was driving the car which collided into another car driven by Mrs. Robert Luttman, 64, of 514 Laguna, Wolverine Lake, according to Farmington Township police reports.

BOTH DIED

She and her husband, 76, died as a result of the accident, said police.

Duff was treated and released from William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. His passenger, James Scollin, Jr., 17, of Royal Oak is listed in satisfactory condition at Providence Hospital, Southfield.

★ ★ ★

The accident occurred at 12:45 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of Halstead and 12 Mile.

WJR to Tell of Area Parks

Edgar A. "Bud" Guest, Jr., radio personality and host of the Time Traveler program, will tell facts of history about the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority and its eight parks over WJR through May 24 each day at 6:40 p.m.

The five-minute show, heard Monday through Friday, is in its third year and deals exclusively with Michigan subjects including history, personalities and firms.

Guest, well-known for his radio work at WJR since 1945, will explain the origin of the idea for a "Huron-Clinton chain of metropolitan parks and the development of all eight recreational sites in the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne which serve over 4 million residents.

★ ★ ★

These sites include Metropolitan Beach near Mount Clemens, Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica, Marshbank Metropolitan Park near Pontiac, Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford, Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville, and Delhi, Dexter-Huron and Hudson Mills Metropolitan Parks near Ann Arbor.

"Bud", son of the late poet-philosopher Edgar A. Guest, was graduated from the University of Michigan and at one time was a newspaper writer and editor and later became a morning newscaster.

As Head of Safety Commission

Hare Works to Cut State Highway Slaughter

By BOB VOGES
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. — Secretary of State James Hare has good reason to be concerned about the rising highway fatality and injury rate.

Hare also is chairman of the State Safety Commission.

He is able to see past the bare statistics and realize how much pain and suffering is caused by every automobile accident.

★ ★ ★

Hare was hospitalized five weeks with serious lung and rib injuries in 1956 when his car was involved in an accident with one driven by an uninsured motorist.

Partly as a result of this experience, Hare kept hammering away at a pet project and finally saw its passage by the Legislature.

COMPENSATES

This is the State's uninsured driver fund that compensates the victims of accidents involving uninsured djrvers, primarily paying any hospital and medical costs.

This year, as during the past 13 years he has headed the safety commission, Hare has been trying to push safety laws through the Legislature.

★ ★ ★

Items that have been approved or have a good chance of passage include:

- Authority for the department of state to suspend the license of a driver who fails to answer a traffic summons.

★ ★ ★

- Power to impound the car of a motorist caught driving after his license has been suspended or revoked.
- Authority to take disciplinary action against accident-prone drivers regardless of the number of points on their records.

★ ★ ★

- A stricter motorcycle driver licensing law including the requirement for a road test.

Laws that Hare would like to see on the books but which appear dead as far as this legislative session is concerned include:

- A uniform licensing authority under the department of state, removing the driver licensing powers of local police and sheriffs.

★ ★ ★

- Authority to pick up the license of a person facing court appearance, allowing the motorist to drive on a temporary permit until he answers to the charge.
- Creation of a state medical examination board to aid in the examination of drivers who might be mentally or physically unfit to drive.

★ ★ ★

- A uniform motor vehicle examination law, providing for a yearly safety check of all vehicles.

The State Safety Commission is only one of Michigan's major groups working to cut the slaughter on the highways.

SAFETY PROGRAM

The commission recommends a safety program to the Legislature, coordinates and publicizes the latest in safety information, conducts regional safety conferences and cooperates with local safety organizations.

Traffic safety for Michigan Inc., supported by business, industry, labor and agricultural interests, was formed to stimulate citizen interest in the safety effort. It also distributes literature and supports radio and television programs carrying the safety message.

The Interindustry Highway Safety Foundation primarily is interested in driver education and largely was responsible for the state law requiring driver training in the schools.

The first solid indication of how high Michigan's fatality count will go this year should come over the Memorial Day weekend, traditionally a killer weekend on the highways.

FIRST CHANCE

For most families it is the first chance to take to the road in the pleasant weather for a weekend holiday.

Memorial Day falls on a Thursday this year so the weekend will be a long one, especially for those who can take Friday off from work.

★ ★ ★

For statistical purposes, State Police are counting this as a 102-hour weekend, from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday.

Last year, over a similar 102-hour Memorial Day period, there were 43 persons killed on the state's highways.

State Police will have every man they are able to pull from other duty out patrolling the highways.

925 TO 950

Maj. Paul Gaboury, head of the uniform division, estimated that between 925 and 950 troopers will be on patrol. This compares to about 600 patrolling on a routine week day.

"We are instructing our men to concentrate on the peak accident areas during the most dangerous times," Gaboury said.

★ ★ ★

The locations of the high accident areas are obtained from the Safety and Traffic Division, the State Highway Department and other sources.

The most dangerous hours for driving have proven to be from 4 p.m. until 11 p.m. Motorists are likely to be weary during these hours after a long day of driving and to be more accident-prone.

There also are often a rash of accidents just after the bars close — especially drinking drivers in run-off-the-road accidents.

Police advise motorists to start early, plan ahead and try to reach their destination before dark.

★ ★ ★

Other basic tips are to make sure the vehicle is in good condition before starting out on a trip, to be especially wary in conjested areas, not to follow another car too closely and always drive defensively — leaving room for escape in an accident situation.

The metropolitan Detroit area and areas near other large cities will be especially dangerous the Sunday night following Memorial Day.

CLOGGING ROADS

Motorists returning from their weekend trips will be clogging the roads. Statistics have shown, also, that a surprising large number of accidents occur near the victim's home.

The key word is caution. One careless moment can turn any driver into nothing more than a dead statistic.

Police Action

Pontiac police officers and Oakland County sheriff's deputies investigated 84 reported major incidents and made 12 arrests in the past 24 hours.

- Vandalisms—13
- Burglaries—8
- Larcenies—11
- Auto thefts—1
- Disorderly persons—10
- Assaults—7
- Shoplifting—3
- Obscene phone calls—1
- Bad checks—4
- Property damage accidents—9
- Injury accidents—8

U.S. Workers to Aid Drive for Poor

By JACK MILLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Substantial numbers of federal employes say they'll use off-hours and vacation time to join the Poor People's campaign—some lining up against programs and policies of their own agencies.

Neither campaign nor federal officials are able to say how many employes are volunteering for the demonstration, but a reporter's check of several agencies shows interest running strong.

* * *

This interest is more pronounced among Negro employes but many whites also are planning to help.

Although few yet have taken part in the newly started campaign, large numbers of employes from such agencies as Health, Education and Welfare; the Public Health Service, and the Peace Corps are offering their services.

PASSES OUT SLIPS

At HEW's Office for Civil Rights, employe Walter Warfield took three hours of annual leave time to pass out enlistment forms. He got back volunteer slips from about 40 of the 100 employes in the office.

Physicians from the PHS's National Institutes of Health have volunteered in force.

Mrs. Mary Holman, administrator with the campaign's medical committee, estimates that 300 doctors have volunteered and that about 200 are from federal posts.

A spokesman for the Public Health Service confirmed that many doctors are taking part. He said many are "'desk doctors' who have practiced very little medicine" and they look upon the campaign as a chance to do something directly for the poor.

GOVERNMENT POLICY

At the Peace Corps, Special services Director Allen Rothberg said a privately organized effort to round up volunteers has enlisted about 300 of the corps' 700-member Washington staff.

The government's policy on participation by employes is the same as it was for employes taking part in last October's anti-Vietnam War march on the Pentagon and for signing a petition against the war: They must do so on their own time and they cannot take part in any direct criticism of their agency, especially if they are in policy-making positions.

* * *

The Civil Service Commission has advised agency personnel directors that annual leave or vacation time may be granted on the same basis as for any other purpose, which means there should not be undue interruption of agency work.

HEW has gone a step farther and authorized a liberal policy on granting leave for those taking part in the campaign.

OPPOSE POLICIES

In the broad sense, many of the employes joining the effort are aligning themselves against policies and programs of their agencies merely by taking part in the campaign. And many of them mean to.

One HEW employe who asked not to be identified said he had helped members of the campaign draft one of the series of demand papers that were presented to his department.

Asked whether this amounts to disloyalty to the agency, Michael Tabor, a community affairs assistant at HEW, replied: "Not at all. I think we have a duty to support constructive change."

Michigan Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., voted with the majority as the Senate voted, 52-29, against an amendment by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to ban interstate mail-order sales of rifles and shotguns. Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., voted for the amendment.

U.S. Proposes Tire Ratings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal government is proposing a requirement that auto tires built after Aug. 31 of next year be labeled as to how they compared in quality with other brands.

* * *

All tires would be evaluated by the government for high-speed endurance, trade wear, traction and ability to stand overloads.

The proposal was published in the federal register yesterday and final standards will be set forth after 30 days during which comment will be received and considered.

Negro Militants Don't Start Riots, Cavanagh Asserts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit downgrades the role of Negro militants in starting race riots.

"I view militants as unchosen leaders . . . leaders in search of a constituency," Cavanagh told the Senate Permanent Investigating Subcommittee Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The mayor said that since the destructive riots of July, 1967 in his city, he thought there had been increased "polarization of the races." But he quickly added he also thought general conditions were improved.

★ ★ ★

As to the militants, Cavanagh said they played their biggest role after the riots got under way. "Riots are not started by the militants, they exploit riots."

'MINOR TROUBLE'

Cavanagh said he was gratified that trouble in Detroit following the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King was minor.

He said, "The people of Detroit 'have had it.' There was a great collective sigh of relief when the government demonstrated it could respond to keep order."

★ ★ ★

But economic conditions in Detroit also have improved, Cavanagh said. He said since last year's riots, between 28,000 and 30,000 hard-core unemployed had been given jobs. He said there were still about 40,000 such unemployed, but that private enterprise, particularly the motor industry, had programs going to hire them.

In response to questions from Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., Cavanagh said the people in Detroit did not riot because of lack of food or shelter. Curtis said his reason for asking the question was that that impression was being spread around the world by the Poor People's Campaign here, and that the government was not doing enough for its impoverished.

★ ★ ★

Cavanagh responded that was his view, too. "I do not believe the national government, including the Congress, has responded to the needs of the cities. Washington is where the money is. I've said so a hundred times.

"The programs Congress has passed are inadequately funded," the mayor said.

Jet Stuck in Mud

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A United Air Lines Boeing 737 jetliner with 77 passengers and a crew of seven skidded off a runway at Kent County Airport in a rain storm and became stuck in the mud Thursday.

No injury was reported.

The basic design of the Volkswagen was laid down before World War II.

4 State Men Killed in Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Thursday four Michigan men were among the latest American dead in the war in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Listed as killed in action were Marine Corps Lance Cpl. Richard A. Nuber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Nuber of Detroit, and three men from the Army; Sgt. Terrance W. Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Allen of Bay City; Spec. 4 Richard F. Turpin III, son of Mrs. Dorothy M. Palmer of Roseville; and Pfc. Donald E. Slater, husband of Mrs. Vivian E. Slater of Kalamazoo.

Warning Given on Mushrooms

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Mushroom hunters beware.

That's the timely warning from a Michigan State University plant pathologist, who reminds us there are Mushrooms that are deadly.

★ ★ ★

"Over 2,000 different kinds of mushrooms grow in Michigan," says Everett S. Beneke. "A few are edible, some are considered unsafe for eating and others are deadly poisonous."

"Some can cause cramps, nausea, loss of muscular control, hallucinations, diarrhea, or coma. Others can be fatal."

BULLETIN OFFERED

Beneke suggests that if you can't tell the difference you'd better get hold of extension bulletin 614 from Michigan State or county extension offices.

The pocket-size brochure includes pictures and descriptions of edible and poisonous mushrooms.

Can't Maintain NATO Level Indefinitely, U.S. Warns

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is telling its NATO allies it cannot keep 300,000 American Servicemen in Europe forever.

It is urging European allies to plan, in the long run, to take over a greater share of their own defense.

★ ★ ★

In the shorter run, it is urging them to increase their efforts to help cure the U.S. balance of payments deficit, even over and above that portion of the deficit caused by the outflow of dollars to sustain U.S. troops in Europe.

These, according to Johnson administration sources, were among points made by Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford in a little-publicized trip to Brussels, Belgium, May 10.

CLEAR IMPLICATION

Addressing a closed meeting of NATO defense ministers, Clifford is reported to have presented a clear implication — short of outright warning — that the extent of European help on the payments deficit may be a determining factor in future levels of American troops in Europe and U.S. expenditures in behalf of NATO.

★ ★ ★

One reason for the current emphasis of these points is recent congressional criticism of keeping such a large U.S. force in Europe in view of both the payments deficit and the need for men in Vietnam.

Only a Warning

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Tourists who violate traffic laws in the State of Jalisco, Mexico, get another chance, says the American Automobile Association (AAA).

Their "traffic ticket" reads: "You have infringed the traffic laws, but because you are a tourist, the offense will be overlooked this time . . . Please obey traffic signals.

HEW's Cohen Sworn In WASHINGTON (UPI) — Wilbur J. Cohen was sworn in yesterday as the new secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, succeeding John W. Gardner.

★ ★ ★

Vice President Hubert Humphrey administered the Oath at a White House ceremony during which President Johnson described Cohen, who moved up from the undersecretary's post, as "builder, architect and repairman of every important piece of social legislation for 35 years."

California's population probably will pass the 2 million mark in the middle of this year.

BUDDING BANKERS

For many years Community National Bank has worked with the Oakland County schools in a special cooperative education program. Participating high school seniors earn both academic credit and pay for part-time work at one of our 20 offices. And after graduation many become full-time CNB employees.

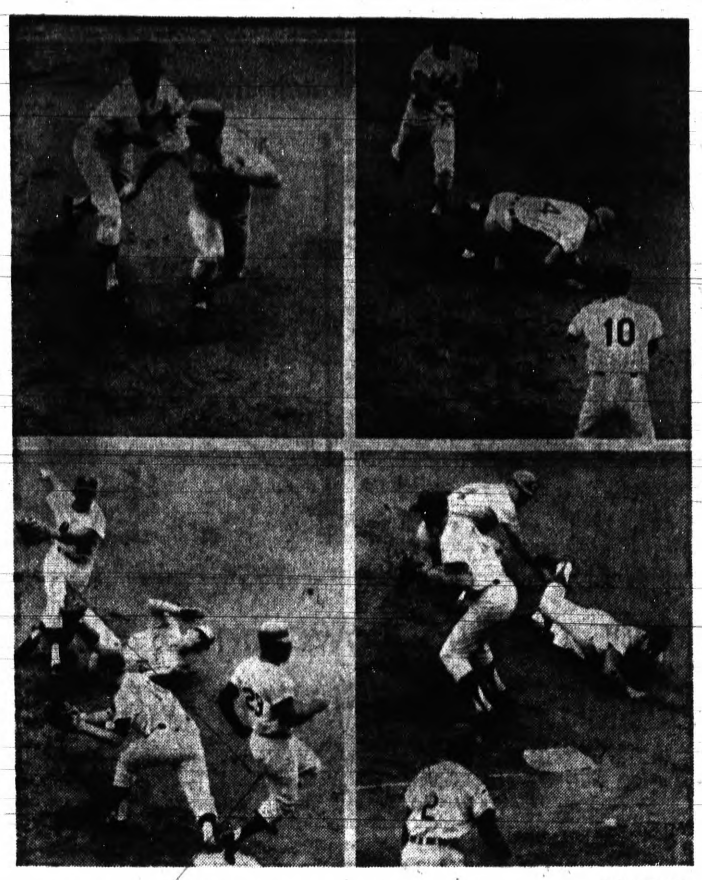

This year the program has been significantly expanded through the able assistance of Mr. Clarence Barnes, Executive Director of the Pontiac Area Urban League. As a result, even more students are discovering careers in banking.

Like all CNB people, these young bankers are the foundation of our service to the community. Therefore, to give public recognition for their consistently fine work, we present six of this year's group.

We're proud that people like them have helped Community National provide Oakland County with the best in banking for 35 years.

INFIELD MISPLAY—The New York Mets managed one out and an error messed up the attempt for the second against Cincinnati on this double play try in the first inning of their game in New York yesterday. At top, second basemen Ken Boswell tags Reds' runner Pete Rose who was heading for second base, but Boswell's throw to first got away from (bottom) Greg Goossen for an error, allowing Reds' hitter Alex Johnson to reach first safely. Watching the play is Reds' coach Jimmy Bragan (2). Mets won, 2-1.

Six Clubs in Six Months

Reliefer Tires of Baseball Treadmill

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Dick Radatz, known as "The Monster" when he was the relief ace of the Boston Red Sox three years ago, now is more like a friendly giant looking for a Wizard of Oz to restore his lost magic.

The yellow brick road leads from Detroit to Toledo and the 6-foot-7, 260-pound Radatz makes the round trip daily from his Farmington home outside Detroit to pitch for the Toledo Mud Hens.

★ ★ ★

"It's been hard on my wife and the kids," admits the former Michigan State pitching ace. "I've been with six teams in the last six months.

"I don't need baseball. I made lots of money at Boston and I didn't blow it. But I love the game. The thing that keeps me going is that my arm is still strong. I'm 31 and I think I still can pitch."

12 STRIKEOUTS

Radatz has posted a 1-1 mark at Toledo with a 1.50 earned run average. He beat Richmond in an International League game last Sunday, striking out 12 and walking two.

The big right-hander was tagged for two runs, and four hits, including a 450-foot homer by Al Kaline, during a four-inning stint as the Mud Hens dropped a 7-3 decision to Detroit in an exhibition game Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

"My stuff was bad," admitted Radatz. "My fastball was straight as a string. But the 12 strikeouts against Richmond helped my confidence."

Radatz slump began with the Red Sox in 1965. He began experimenting with a sinker pitch and inadvertently changed his pitching motion, losing his pinpoint control.

"I was dropping my arm lower and slinging the ball instead of throwing it," he recalls. "At least my control was better against the Tigers. It was horrendous for awhile."

Boston traded Radatz to Cleveland and the Indians sent him to the Chicago Cubs. He posted a 1-0 record with the Cubs early last season, but walked 24 men in 23 innings and Manager Leo Durocher sent him to Tacoma in the Pacific Coast League.

"Leo told me he couldn't count on me in the late innings with men on base if I couldn't get the ball over the plate," said Radatz. "He was right. A relief pitcher has to have control."

Radatz's control grew worse at Tacoma where he was 0-2 in 22 innings, walking 33 and posting a 9.00 ERA.

"It started off as a physical thing by lowering my arm with the new sinker pitch," he said. "I began to depend on the sinker and it hurt my control. It became a mental thing.

"I was really down this spring for awhile," he went on. "But I built a house in Farmington. This gave my wife a home we can live in for the rest of our lives, and the kids roots. My nine-year-old boy, the oldest of the three children, has been in eight schools. Kids need permancy at that age."

Jim Campbell, the general manager of the Tigers, was looking for a relief specialist. He called Radatz and asked him to come to Detroit after he had been cut from a minor league team out west. Radatz worked out at Detroit for a week and went to Toledo.

John Sain, the Detroit pitching coach, got Radatz to raise his arm, restoring the pitching delivery that provided the control for his zinging fastball.

Mud Hens Bombed, 7-3

'Manager' Horton Helps Tigers to Win

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, unleashing three home runs in a 12-hit attack, bombed the Toledo Mud Hens, their top farm club, 7-3 in a light-hearted exhibition game Monday night that marked Willie Horton's debut as a manager.

Horton, who did not play in the game, managed the last two innings, inserting catcher Bill Freehan in left field and putting outfielder Gates Brown behind the plate.

Freehan made one put out on a liner and Brown threw the ball into center field as Mud Hen Lenny Green stole second in the ninth.

Detroit Manager Mayo Smith, with his team ahead 5-3, allowed Horton to take over in the eighth inning.

"You'll have to ask Willie about his moves," grinned Smith.

But Horton, moving swiftly, declined to be interviewed, saying: "I'd rather take a shower."

Toledo scored all three runs off Detroit starter Dennis Ribant. A walk to Wayne Comer, singles by Bob Christian and Don Pepper, plus a throwing error by Al Kaline produced two runs in the first and Comer slammed a homer leading off in the third.

Kaline slammed a two-run homer, a 450-foot shot, off Mud Hen starter Dick Radatz in the third inning before leaving the game. Veteran observers said it was the first time a ball cleared the double outfield fence in dead center field at Lucas County Recreation Center since the stadium was opened in 1965.

Ribant, who had a double and a triple, was on base.

Radatz, the former Boston Red Sox relief ace trying for a comeback with the Detroit organization, gave up two runs and five hits in four innings.

"His fast ball wasn't moving tonight," said Toledo Manager Jack Tighe.

Indy Drivers Rehearsing at Speeds Topping 170

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — With two racers already over the 170 miles per hour, today promises to be an almost full dress rehearsal for Saturday's opening round of "500" qualifications for the Memorial Day Indianapolis 500-mile auto race.

Near ideal weather conditions were forecast for the final full day of practice before the first of four weekend days of time trials.

★ ★ ★

Although unofficial, two machines — one a piston-powered car and the other a turbine — hit 170 mph Thursday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway for the fastest times ever recorded on the track. Official clockings are made only during the time trials and the race itself.

★ ★ ★

Bobby Unser, who toyed with the 170 mph mark Wednesday, surpossed it twice Thursday on consecutive laps, hitting 170.778 mph after a lap of 170.099. Unser, from Albuquerque, N.M., was driving a turbo-charged Offenhauser.

ELECTRIC EYE

Joe Leonard, San Jose, Calif. was caught by the electric eye at 170.422 mph in one of Andy Granatelli's turbines.

This is the same machine in which Mike Spence of England hit 169.555 mph just hours before he was injured fatally in an accident while driving another turbine.

★ ★ ★

Unser and Leonard hit speeds which the experts feel will be needed to have a chance at winning the pole position — the prize to the fastest qualifier Saturday.

The two hit the 170 mark on a windy day which saw most of the other drivers reaching top speeds in the 165-166 category, although Dan Gurney, Santa Ana, Calif., turned one lap at 168.004.

★ ★ ★

Howe Selected to NHL Squad

NEW YORK (AP) — Gordie Howe, 40-year-old right wing for Detroit, has been named to the National Hockey League's all-star team for the 10th time, equaling the record set by Doug Harvey with Montreal.

Howe has made the second team nine times in his 22-year NHL career.

★ ★ ★

Other first-team all-star selected Thursday by league coaches included goalie Lorne "Gump" Worsley of Montreal, defensemen Bobby Orr of Boston and Tim Horton of Toronto and center Stan Mikita and left wing Bobby Hull of Chicago.

★ ★ ★

SECOND VOTE

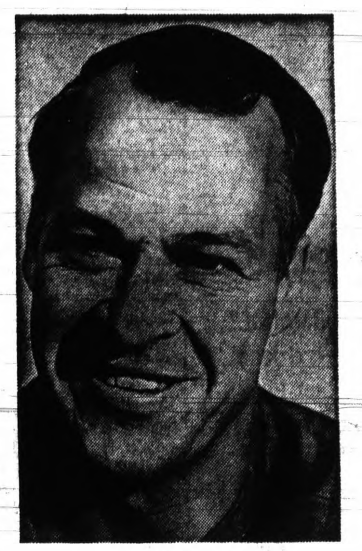

The coaches vote at midseason and again at the end of the campaign. Howe, Mikita and Hull were first-team selections in both halves of the voting.

★ ★ ★

Mikita's selection brought his total award prize money to $10,000. He was the NHL scoring champion and most valuable player and also won the Lady Byng Trophy for gentlemanly play.

★ ★ ★

Glenn Hall, St. Louis goalie, was voted the outstanding player in the West Division, which consisted of six first-year expansion teams. Hall also won the Conn Smythe Trophy as the top performer in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Lahser's Golf Team Misses 'B' Qualifying for State by 1 Stroke

Fledgling state Class B golf regional entry Bloomfield Hills Lahser almost pulled a major surprise Thursday at Glen Oaks Country Club, just failing to qualify for the state finals May 27 at Midland.

The Knights recorded a 351 total for 72 holes, finishing fourth one stroke behind third-place Detroit Cathedral (the last qualifier) in their first regional activity.

Monroe Catholic Central and Detroit Benedictine tied for first at 346. Lahser's Jim Frith, a sophomore, took medalist honors with a seven-over-par 76 (38-38) and did qualify for the state individual finals.

Keith Mohr and Marv Blemley carded 77s to pace Southfield (318) to victory in the Class A regional competition at Glen Oaks. Berkley (328) was second and Birmingham Groves (329) third. Robert Larkins of Brother Rice (330) took medalist honors with a 36-36—72. Regional play continues today.

The 'A' and 'B' finals are slated for Midland's Currie Municipal Course May 27.

PCH Golf Crew Edges Northern

Pontiac Central needed strong performances by ace Gary Balliet and No. 2 player Albrey Tipton to overcome a determine Pontiac Northern golf team Thursday, 197-201, at Pontiac Municipal Golf Course.

The Huskies led by three strokes with the 3-4-5 players having finished, but Tipton's 39 made up the three and Balliet's 35 handed the Chiefs 50 more points and a 400-200 lead in the All-Sports Trophy duel.

Dave Gentges paced PNH with a 36. PCH is now 11-1.

9 Grid Giants for 1 Sayers?

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Wellington T. Mara, president of the New York Giants, denied a published report today that his National Football League team is about to trade nine players for running back Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears.

"That is the most ridiculous story of the year," Mara said when asked about the report of such a trade.

Singles Pair Are Selected

NPW YORK (AP) — United States Davis Cup captain Donald Dell named Clark Graebner and Arthur Ashe Thursday to play the singles matches against Mexico in the American Zone semifinals.

Dell also picked Robert Lutz and Stanley Smith, both of Los Angles, as the doubles team for the May 24-26 matches in Berkeley, Calif.

NFL Owners Keeping Strategy Under Wraps

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — National Football League owners are keeping under wraps the strategy they plan to use to counter demands by the NFL Players Association for a bigger share of receipts.

Worried about the possibility of a players' strike, NFL owners closed out a four-day meeting Thursday without revealing whether they are willing to compromise on the players' demands or plan to reject requests for more money.

A committee headed by Art Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns and president of the NFL, was empowered to negotiate with the association at a meeting in New York next week.

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Barry Orms of St. Louis University, drafted by Baltimore of the National Basketball Association, signed Thursday with Dallas of the National Football league.

Frank Howard Keeps Belting for Senators

CLEVELAND (AP) — Washington's Frank Howard raised his major league-leading home run total of 14 last night with a pair of tfo-run shots off Sam McDowell that carried the Senators to a 4-1 victory over Cleveland, ending a five-game Indian winning string.

★ ★ ★

Howard's home runs gave him seven for four consecutive games, tying an American League record set by New York's Tony Lazzeri in 1936 and tied by Gus Zernial of Philadelphia 15 years later.

FIRST BLAST

Sam Bowens was on with a single when Howard hit his first homer into the left field seats in the third inning. Bowens was on again—with a walk—when the big first baseman belted a fifth-inning shot far over the 385-foot sign.

SLUGGING FALCON — Husky junior first sacker Stan Babiuk of Rochester clouted two opposite field home runs over the left-center field fence at Romeo Thursday to spark the Falcons to a 10-3 Oakland A League triumph. He had five runs batted in. (Story on page C-6).

Casper and Fleckman Tied for Colonial Golf Lead

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Billy Casper and Marty Fleckman had a one stroke edge on the field going into the second round of the Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament today with their two-under-par 68s, but they had better keep a wary eye on Gary Player.

Player wasn't even among the five players bunched in third place with 69s, but the cocky little South African — his brown eyes bristling like his closely-cropped hair — was only two shots back thanks to a closing rush of 3's and a regained putting touch.

★ ★ ★

"I'm a good putter and I admit it," Player said, "but I've been putting well for only about one round out of a 72-hole tournament.

"Today, George Archer, Bob Verwey and Harold Henning gave me a little putting lesson and I think I may have my problem licked. They told me I was jabbing at the ball and had me change my grip."

Player sank a 20-footer for a birdie on the second hole, but then four bogeys in a row left him three over at the turn and apparently out of the running for the day.

★ ★ ★

He was in the first threesome of the day and the dew-wet grass was causing his approach shots to sail and miss the greens. But, at the 13th hole he started a string of five straight 3's and said he didn't know "why it wasn't six in a row." Player, who had his troubles off the tee when he hit only nine of 14 fairways, wasn't by himself.

★ ★ ★

Fleckman, for instance, en route to his 34-34-68 hit only six fairways, and Casper, with a 35-33, strayed into the rough four times off the tee.

Sandwiched in between Casper and Fleckman and the Player-led-fivesome at par 70 were Earl Stewart, Kel Nagle, Jack Montgomery, Tommy Aaron and Ken Still. Bracketed with Player were defending champion Dave Stockton, Terry Dill, Tommy Bolt and Bob Charles.

Domed Stadium Gets Approval at Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The Erie County Legislature approved Thursday a $50 million bond issue for the construction of a major league domed sports stadium in the Buffalo area to improve the city's prospects for a National League baseball franchise.

The question of the location for the stadium was put off until Monday, with some legislators proposing a downtown Buffalo site and others supporting a suburban location.

League-Leading South Lyon Back in Victory Groove

Southeastern Conference leader South Lyon started a new winning streak Thursday, topping Dundee, 5-3, after having its eight-game victory skein snapped Wednesday, 3-0, by Saline.

The Lions, defending league champs, fell behind, 1-0, in the opening inning, but quickly surged back for three runs and never trailed again.

Paul Jamieson, one of three seniors in the lineup and the league's top hitter with a .414 mark, clouted a triple and double to account for three runs.

Sophomore Larry Boyles needed relief in the fifth in order to gain his fourth win. Reliefer Larry Roper, a junior, fanned four of the final six batters he faced for South Lyon (10-3), the country's ninth-ranked prep diamond squad.

Waterford Pitcher Tosses One-Hitter

Waterford pitcher Rod Kennedy, with one no-hitter to his credit already this season, almost came up with another yesterday as the Skippers whipped Farmington, 7-1.

Kennedy struck out 12 in holding Farmington to only one hit, an infield bounder in the sixth that hit his glove and bounded away.

Pete Taylor and Darwin Clement picked up two hits apiece and Larry Hemmerly drove in a pair of runs for the Skippers (12-8).

Jim Lonborg Put on Roster

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox placed pitcher Gary Roggenburk on the 60-day emergency disabled list Thursday, making room on the roster for Jim Lonborg whenthe 1967 Cy Young Award winner is ready.

Roggenburk, 28, will undergo surgery for removal of a bone spur from his left elbow. He appeared briefly in only four games in relief this season.

6th Victory for Marichal

Giants Sweep Series With Houston, 3-1

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jesus Alou, who entered the game as a replacement for injured Ollie Brown, belted a run-scoring single and Juan Marichal pitched a five-hitter Thursday, leading the San Francisco Giants to a 3-1 victory over the Houston Astros.

Marichal's victory made him the first major league pitcher to win six games. Marichal, who has lost twice, retired 13 straight astros over one stretch and lost his shutout on Rusty Staub's two-out double in the ninth.

The victory gave the Giants a sweep of the three-game series and was the 32nd victory for San Francisco in the last 35 games with Houston at Candlestick, Park.

Alou, taking over after Ollie Brown suffered a finger injury when hit in the fourth after Ty Cline and Dave Marshall opened the inning with successive singles.

Alou also had a sacrifice in the seventh inning, when the Giants added two more runs on walks to Willie McCovey and Frank Johnson and Hal Lanier's two-run double.

The Eaglets of Orchard Lake St. Mary managed only three firsts yesterday in dropping a 79-39 track decision to Detroit St. Anthony.

George Imanowski won the shot put (45-7½), Andy Jugan set a school record in taking the 440 (53.4) and Bob Gorecki took the pole vault (10-6) for the Eaglets.

Little Hawaiian Gridder Major 'Find' at MSU

EAST LANSING — The major accomplishment of Michigan State's spring football drills which end this week may prove to be finding a regular playing spot for the littlest Spartan—5-7 Charley Wedemeyer.

Wedemeyer, a senior from Kailua, Hawaii, has put in two lackluster varsity years mainly as a bench-warming reserve quarterback. Now he has benefitted from creation of a new position in State's offense and an injury to become a first stringer.

The new post is flankerback, an important development in itself of State's drills. The injury was an ankle hurt suffered by Frank Waters, the first incumbent of the flanker spot, a couple of weeks ago.

OPENS THE WAY

The injury opened the way for Wedemeyer and he has moved in so solidly that Waters, who hasn't yet returned to full duty, now is listed as first string defensive halfback and back-up flanker to little Charley.

Wedemeyer's lack of height always worked against his chances at quarterback. The kid brother of the great St. Mary's All-American of a generation ago, Herman Wedemeyer, barely lettered as a sophomore on the great 1966 team. Last year he played but 34 minutes and didn't letter.

★ ★ ★

But coaches always praised his courage, speed and quickness and good hands. These are precisely the assets which he has put to good use at flanker this spring. In the big stadium scrimmage last Saturday, he caught several passes from quarterback Bill Feraco, including a 16-yard touchdown toss.

The spring drills will conclude with a final stadium scrimmage Saturday. It will be closed to the public, as have all practice sessions this spring.

Farmington Nets Waterford in I-L

Waterford's improving tennis squad won the first two singles matches but couldn't upend unbeaten Inter-Lakes League leader Farmington Thursday, 5-2.

Roger Reed and Dave Lindsay gave the Skippers two early victories, but the Falcons (6-0) had too much strength for the Skippers (2-10).

Pittsburgh Blanks Cards, 3-0

Bucs' Clemente Delivers Key Blow

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Roberto Clemente smashed a two-run triple as the Pittsburgh Pirates broke out of a scoring slump and whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 3-0 Thursday night behind Bob Veale's pitching.

* * *

Veale scattered eight hits and struck out 13 for his second straight victory after dropping his first three decisions.

* * *

The Pirates, who lost 1-0 to St. Louis in their last two games, ended a 27-inning scoring drought in the third inning when Clemente belted the triple off the right-field wall off loser Ray Washburn, 3-2. Willie Stargell then cracked a single to center field, scoring Clemente.

Matty Alou started the rally with two away by blooping a single to right field. He bumped into Orlando Cepeda while rounding first base and the umpire waved Alou to second base, charging Cepeda with obstructing the runner.

Cubs' Pitcher Stops Dodgers With 6-Hitter

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rich Nye pitched a six-hitter and Ron Santo singled home a run in the first inning to give the Chicago Cubs a 1-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Thursday night.

* * *

Santo's single came after Glenn Beckert singled and advanced to second on an infield out. Nye went on to outduel Don Sutton for his second victory against four losses.

* * *

Nye, who struck out seven, allowed four runners to get as far as second base, but none went any farther as he dealt the Dodgers their sixth shutout of the season.

Two-Run Pinch Single Helps Twins' to Win

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Pinch hitter Frank Kostro lashed a double down the third base line to key a two-run eighth inning for Minnesota as the Twins rallied to edge Oakland 4-3 Thursday.

* * *

Kostro hit the first pitch to him from Paul Lindblad, who had just relieved starter Chuck Dobson. His double scored Bob Allison, who had beaten out an infield single and moved to second on a walk to Rich Rollins.

John Roseboro's sacrifice fly to center then scored Rollins from third with the winning run, pinning the defeat on Dobson.

Dobson allowed the first two Minnesota runs in the third but pitched his way out of bases-loaded jams in the third and fourth and toughened until the eighth.

* * *

The A's had broken a 2-2 tie in the fourth when John Donaldson singled, stole second and scored on Ramon Webster's double down the right field line.

Rick Monday, who drove in the A's first run with a first inning single, had to leave the game when he jammed his left ankle sliding into second in the third. Precautionary Xrays were ngative.

Huskiest Husky Joins Powerful BOLENS Team!

Golf Champion Arnold Palmer test drives the new 12½ hp BOLENS Husky 1250...

Exclusive safety and convenience features give commercial size Husky 1250 all-purpose, all-season performability. The new "1250" is the toughest Husky BOLENS ever offered. Testing it on the difficult Latrobe, Pennsylvania golf course, Arnie breezed through the hardest turf care and tillage work in record time! Here's why:

• Hydrostatic Transmission, exclusive "1250" automatic, needs no clutch, belts or chain drive. Fingertip touch gives you infinite speed variation to match dozens of chores. • Instant One-Foot Pedal Control . . . like having a third hand. Provides greatest safety with instant, one-foot braking, speed variation, forward-reverse. • Fast-Switch Power-lock Hitch delivers power directly from power-take-off (PTO) to attachments. No finger-pinching belts. • Hydraulic Lift Lever hoists Husky 1250 attachments; "Position Gauge" lets you regain original height. All controls easy to see and reach. PLUS: Hose coupling on rotary mower base for quick flushing and cleaning while mower is running; Foam-padded, adjustable seat; Parking brake for positive hill-holding safety.

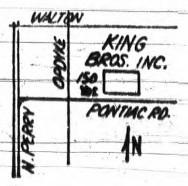

The Husky 1250 is powerfully perfect for commercial, industrial, farm and large estate use. See your BOLENS dealer soon: ask for the specifications catalog. Remember, you expect more from BOLENS . . . and it's all standard.

Stevenson Nips PNH Thinclads

Pontiac Northern came within two steps of winning its first dual meet of the spring Thursday at Livonia, but the Huskies will have to enter next week's Inter-Lakes League meet hopeful of history repeating itself.

★ ★ ★

Two springs ago the Huskies failed to win a dual track meet against league opponents, then stunned their I-L foes by winning the league meet.

Yesterday they had strong performances by sophomores Jack Dunn and Rufus Hannah, who won the pole vault (11-0) and long jump (22-0) respectively, and Mel Reeves who took both hurdles plus finished second in the long jump.

However, host Stevenson won the 220-yeard dash and the mile relay by one-tenth of a second each to deprive the PHN squad of seven points that would have given it the win.

Sandy Seay ran a :51.2 final mile relay leg to make up 25 yards and then lost by one step.

Leaves Course After 2nd Ace

Leonard R. Nichols, 1367 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills, recorded his second ace in less than a year and one hole later walked off the golf course.

He drove a three wood shot on the 216-yard third hole into the cut Wednesday at Tyrone Hills near Fenton. After the fourth hole, he and his friends left because of darkness.

Nichols first hole-in-one was scored last June at Bay City Country Club.

Younger Quarry Wins

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mike Quarry of Anaheim, Calif., 17-year-old brother of heavyweight fighter Jerry Quarry, won a split decision over William Cross of Portland, Ore. in the 165-pound class in the opening round of the Western Regional Olympic Games boxing tryouts Thursday night.

Potential State Champs in Waterford Regional

Six potential state champions and possibly the No. 1 team will be competing for Class A regional track and field honors Saturday at Waterford Township High.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Central, a leading threat for the state team championship, has two individual contenders.

HIGH JUMPER — Rick Sherrell of Pontiac Central is a leading contender for high jump honors Saturday in the Class A regional track meet at Waterford. He has cleared 6-2 this spring.

★ ★ ★

Bob Johnson has been unbeatable in the high and low hurdles and has faced strong competition from the Midwest. Jon Costello is a front-runner in the mile.

Johnson will first display his ability in the preliminaries starting at 10 a.m. The finals are scheduled to get under way on the all-weather track at 1:30 p.m.

20 SCHOOLS

This will be the first regional hosted by Waterford and 20 schools have entered.

Other top contenders for state laurels in this regional will be pole vaulter Larry Biskner of Waterford, half-miler Mike Imirie of Bloomfield Hills Andover, Walt Hughes of Seaholm in the 440 and distance runner Dave Galloway of Waterford.

The top three finishers in each event qualify for the state finals May 25 at Ann Arbor.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Central is a top-heavy favorite to grab the regional championship. In addition to Johnson and Costello, the Chiefs have four competitors who could take individual honors.

Rollie Garcia in the long jump, Larry Hurst in the two-mile, Rick Sherrill in the high jump and Walter Terry in the pole vault are possible winners.

Biskner has gone higher than Terry this spring, but has not been consistent. The Skipper star also could take the long jump. He has cleared 14-6 in the vault, five inches higher than Terry.

SPRINT STAR

Any other year Rochester's fine sprinter Bob Woodroof would be among the contenders for state honors in the 100 and 220. But Flint Central has Herb Washington and Flint Northern will challenge with Williams Wallace. In addition, there is Bailee Reid of Ferndale.

★ ★ ★

These three won't be competing at Waterford, but they will be in the state finals. Woodroof has been clocked at 9.8 in the 100 and 21.6 for the 220.

★ ★ ★

There are some who feel he may have a chance of catching Washington and Wallace in the longer sprint.

Gene Pankner of Kettering is a solid favorite in the shot put. Tim Foley of Andover is a co-favorite with Sherrill in the high jump. Both have cleared 6-2.

★ ★ ★

Birmingham Seaholm's strong mile relay quartet is favored in the regional and is a contender for state honors. Groves' 880 relay team has recorded the best time (1:30.1) in the county this spring.

QUARTER-MILER — Rochester's Dave Marr has hopes of gaining a regional win at Waterford. He will compete in the 440. Top three finishers advance to the state Class A meet.

Larry Adams of Pontiac Northern will duel the other favorites in the long jump. Central's Johnson, who has jumped better than 22 feet, could also be entered in this event.

★ ★ ★

The two-mile, 440, long jump, low hurles and pole vault, high jump and 880 relay are expected to be the most closely contested events.

★ ★ ★

Other schools entered are Birmingham Brother Rice, Clarkston, Grand Blanc, Lake Orion, Lapeer, Mt. Clemens L'Anse Creuse, Port Huron, Port Huron Northern, Utica, Utica Stevenson and Walled Lake.

Six Runs in Eighth

Bosox Rally to Whip Yankees

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox spotted the New York Yankees a 9-3 lead and then roared back to capture a drama-packed, rain-soaked 11-10 victory on a six-run eighth inning Thursday night.

A throwing error by third baseman Bobby Cox, who had trouble with a wet ball, opened the gates in the Boston eighth and helped the Red Sox to a fifth straight victory.

★ ★ ★

The Yankees, who had not scored more than two runs in nine previous starts, exploded against Boston starter Dick Ellsworth, shelling the veteran southpaw for seven runs in 2 2-3 innings.

Rookie catcher Frank Fernandez capped a six-run New York third with his first major-league grand-slam homer, a line shot into the left-field screen.

The Red Sox jumped out to a 3-1 lead on Ken Harrelson's fifth homer in the first inning.

ANOTHER RUN

Roy White's third homer was good for two runs in the New York fourth. White singled in another run in the sixth.

The Red Sox chipped away at Mel Stottlemyre but still trailed 10-5 going into the eighth. Jose Tartabull opened the inning by reaching first on Cox' error. Gene Oliver singled and Mike Andrews walked, loading the bases.

Joe Verbanic relieved Stottlemyre and Joe Foy doubled for two runs. Dalton Jones' infield single brought Andrews across and made it 10-8. Reggie Smith doubled for the fourth run of the inning, knocking out Verbanic and bringing on Dooley Womack.

Harrelson was walked intentionally and George Scott's sacrifice fly tied the game with Smith moving to third and Harrelson to second after the catch.

Then Jerry Adair dropped a perfect suicide-squeeze bunt and Smith scored the winning run.

Hitters Rule Pontiac Softball Action

Hitters ruled in three games while pitchers controlled a fourth last night in Pontiac's American League recreation action.

Tom Stilwell yielded only four hits and his teammates picked up only two, but they were enough to lead Milburn Industries to a 2-1 decision over Ron's Roost.

Milburn came up with the two runs in the sixth, both scoring on wild pitches by Ralph Long. A walk, a double by Charles Robinson and successive wild pitches brought the markers across. Al Hayward picked up two of the loser's four safeties.

In other games, Union Lake downed Ray's Sunoco, 9-2, Town & Country whipped Timberlanes, 7-3, and Local No. 594 trimmed J. A. Fredman, 8-4.

Union Lake rapped out 13 hits, three apiece by Bill White and Jim Stoddard, in trimming the Sunoco nine.

Don Moorhead hit a triple and home run and drove in three runs in pacing the Town & Country victory. Gary Acker picked up two singles and scored twice for Timberlanes.

★ ★ ★

Cy Green collected three hits and Bruce Mann picked up a pair in pacing Local 594 to victory. The winners scored four times in the first inning and broke it open with three in the top of the seventh.

Ex-Sprint Ace on MSU Staff

EAST LANSING (AP) — James Bibbs, a former Eastern Michigan sprint star and track coach at Ecorse High, has been named to the Michigan State varsity track coaching staff.

The appointment as assistant track coach and assistant professor of health, physical education and welfare was approved Thursday by the MSU Board of Trustees.

Bibbs is the second Negro to be named to the spartan coaching staff within a month. Don Coleman of Flint, former All-American tackle for MSU, was recently named an assistant football coach.

Michigan state officials have said they were negotiating both appointments before Negroes on the campus presented a series of demands, including the hiring of more Negro coaches.

Shrine Pitcher Flips 5-Hitter

Knights Win, 5-0; Dondero Falls, 3-0

Strong-armed right-hander Jim Chiesa blanked Detroit Servite, 5-0, on five hits Thursday as Royal Oak Shrine stayed in hot pursuit of Bishop Gallagher in the AA Section of the Detroit Catholic League's First Division diamond action.

★ ★ ★

Chiesa struck out 12 Servite batters to raise his season total to 88 in 54 innings. He has allowed only seven runs, 24 hits and 16 bases on balls while posting a 6-2 mark.

Wally Swartz singled twice, drove in two runs and scored once for the Knights who are 7-2 over-all. They trail Bishop Gallagher by one-half game.

Another Royl Oak squad, Dondero, wasn't as fortunate. It dropped a 3-0 outing to Monroe's Ken Mattera, who yielded just three hits. The Oaks are now 5-4.

The loss kept Dondero from keeping a share of the Border Cities League lead.

Bluegills, Perch Also Active

Walleyes Brighten Fishing News

By DON VOGEL
Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press

It's Walleye time in Michigan!

Fishing results on this leading piscatorial table fare is good to excellent in most areas of the state.

★ ★ ★

One of the real hot spots has been Lake St. Clair from the end of 15 Mile Road to Metropolitan Beach with special emphasis a half mile offshore of 11 and 12 Mile.

The St. Clair River from Port Huron to Marysville and near Marine City also has been productive for walleyes. So has the upper Detroit River. Flatfish baited with nightcrawlers, pencil plugs and rapala-like lures are favored by successful anglers.

BEST TIME

Most of the fish have been running in the two-to-four pound class. Best time is between midnight and 5 a.m.

Walleye fishing is fairly good at Lakes Mitchell and Cadillac, but the fish are running small. The Thornapple River below Ada dam in Kent County is rated fair.

★ ★ ★

Excellent catches of medium-sized walleyes are being made at Big Manistique and Gogebic lakes in the Upper Peninsula.

Perch are biting in Lake St. Clair off Huron Pointe, the Clinton River and its spillway and Salt Creek. Minnows and small worms are being used by fishermen.

Moving north around the Thumb, perch fishing is good early in the day at the Seaway terminal in Port Huron, fair off the breakwall at Harbor Beach and slow at Port Austin.

Lower Trout Lake in the Bald Mountain recreation area also is good for perch. Other leading spots are Cedarville and Brimley Bay in the U.P.

ON MOVE

Bluegills are moving into shallow water on most Lower Peninsula lakes and fishermen using poppers are having fair to good success.

Some of the more productive lakes in Oakland County have been Wildwood, Crystal, Crotched, Oxbow and Stony Creek (impoundment).

★ ★ ★

Coho salmon have been active in Lake Michigan in the Grand Haven area and some are being taken from Lake Superior in shoal water off the mouths of the Two-Hearted, Sable and Sucker rivers.

★ ★ ★

Trout fishing in northern Michigan continues to improve with warmer weather. Mayflies are starting to appear, but most of the hatches have been gnats and stoneflies.

BIG BROOKIES

Brook trout, some going 16 inches, are being taken on small streams in Newaygo County, namely Upper White and Martin. Most streams in the eastern U.P. are good for brookies with the Sucker River watershed and the Upper Tahquahmenon the best bets.

★ ★ ★

Steelhead fishing along Lake Superior is beginning to taper off. The run was earlier this year. Fair success is reported on the Two-Hearted, Big Huron and Sucker with most of the fish being spent spawners weighing five to 10 pounds.

★ ★ ★

Lakers are being caught in the shoals along the Superior shore line.

★ ★ ★

Brown trout fishing is holding up in Paint Creek. Minnows are the preferred bait by anglers who have been creeling browns 15-17 inches in length.

LIGHT PRESSURE

Although the rainbow fishing has been good, pressure continues light at Union and Cooley Lakes. Splake fishermen on Maceday are scoring but it takes patience.

Catfish are moving into the shoals on Lake St. Clair near Selfridge Field and Mt. Clemens. Shrimp and doughballs fished after dark are taking some good channel cats.

★ ★ ★

Northwest Lower Peninsula counties are among the best for morels in May, but a two-week drought curtailed picking. A good rain last Tuesday was expected to encourage the tasty morels to start showing up.

★ ★ ★

Campers are warned that an extreme fire hazard exists in the Huron National Forest. Conditions are not much better in the Manistee area.

Arnold Palmer to Speak at 'Hall' Dinner

DETROIT — Arnold Palmer and Chris Schenkel will be the principal speakers at the 14th annual Michigan Sports Hall of Fame induction dinner Tuesday, May 21 in Cobo Hall.

★ ★ ★

Harry Kipke, former University of Michigan football player and coach; former Red Wing star Ebbie Goodfellow; and the late John Kobs of Michigan State will be honored.

★ ★ ★

Palmer, winner of 66 tournaments during a 13 year pro career, has been golf's leading money winner four seasons. His unprecedented four Masters championships vaulted him as the "general" of the famed "Arnie's Army" of golf followers.

Schenkel, commentator on ABC's Wide World of Sports has been a prominent telecaster of NBA basketball, Pro golf and bowlers tournaments, football and baseball games.

Defending Champ Keg Tourney Loser

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — After finisihng last in the qualifying, Bev Ortner of Galva, Iowa upset the defending champion in the first round of the Queens Tournament Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

And she did it in record form.

Miss Ortner, 64th among the 64 qualifiers for the women's International Bowling Congress event, defeated Mildred Martorella, of Rochester, N.Y., with a record four-game block of 970. Her total bettered the previous mark of 956 set a year ago by Mrs. Mortorella.

★ ★ ★

Despite the loss, Mrs. Martorella still has a chance to get revenge. The tournament is a double-elimination affairs with the championship match Sunday pitting the winner of the winner's bracket against the winner of the loser's bracket.

Final Inning Nightmare for Huron 9 Rec Team

A nightmarish seventh inning cost Huron Bowl a potential 5-3 victory and handed Ward Body a 7-5 conquest in the Waterford Township Men's League Thursday night.

Huron (1-3) led by two runs with one out in the top of the last inning. A bunt single by Jerry Dennis began the downfall of the kegmen. An error, stolen base and another error let him score.

★ ★ ★

Jim Swain then tripled to the opposite field to tie the game. Winning hurler Gary Achenback smashed a hard grounder down the left field line.

The outfielder failed to retrieve the ball — thinking the game was over when Swain scored — and Achenbach circled the sacks for a ground ball home run.

Bill Cumberworth smashed three singles to lead Ward's 11-hit attack. It was the first win for Ward's after three losses. Ed Gorney and Bill Cox had two hits for Huron.

New County Teams Continue to Win

Two new high school baseball teams continued to be impressive with triumphs Thursday afternoon.

Waterford Mott (7-4) and Bloomfield Hills Lahser (6-2) each won its third straight game. Mott outlasted Pontiac Catholic, 8-5 while Lahser nipped Country Day, 2-0.

ONE EACH

Mott scored in each of the first four nniings to take a 6-1 lead over the Titans (6-11), another new prep nine.

Jerry McNair produced three singles to drive in three runs and scored once, and Rod Strader blasted a home run and a single to account for four runs in the Corsairs. Randy Cooper won his fourth in a row, posting six strikeouts.

★ ★ ★

Randy Mills gained his fourth mound decision without a defeat for Lahser's Knights by holding Country Day to three hits and whiffing eight. Jeff Kezlarian's two-run double in the fifth provided all the runs.

Lahser is the 10th ranked prep team in the county.

No Antireligion, Says Campbell

NEW YORK (AP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said Thursday a 2½-month investigation shows there is no antireligious feeling or any other form of discrimination among NHL players.

The investigation grew out of a March 7 stick-swinging duel between Philadelphia's Larry Zeidel and Boston's Eddie Shack. Zeidel, the only Jewish player in the league, charged later that he had been the subject of anti-Semitic remarks by Boston players, not including Shack, during the season.

Broncos Blank Milford, 4-0

Holly's Win Boosts Northville

Holly handed Northville a share of the Wayne-Oakland baseball crown by spilling Milford, 4-0, yesterday while the once-beaten Mustangs were idled by wet grounds.

In Oakland A League action, Clawson whipped Lake Orion, 2-1, Rochester downed Romeo, 10-3, and league-leading Utica (5-1) blanked Madison, 5-0.

Sophomore southpaw Roy Phillips limited Milford to four hits (including a triple and single by John Stanley), walked none and struck out five in ending Holly's three-game losing streak.

Jeff Reagan's run-scoring single and three errors gave the Broncos (6-6) three runs in the first inning. They completed their scoring on Chuck Swegles' triple and Tom Roeder's single in the second.

Runner-up Milford now is 7-5 in the W-O race and Northville is 9-1. Phil Morse had Holly's other two hits in the tilt. In another W-O game, Brighton downed West Bloomfield, 8-3.

BREAKS TIE

Clawson broke a 1-1 tie with Orion when Paul Rajala doubled (his second two-bagger in the game) and Mike Dodds duplicated his feat with two out in the sixth inning.

Rajala's first double and Dave Freezza's single gave the Trojans their first tally. Don Upton's two-bagger and an error enabled Lake Orion to tie it.

★ ★ ★

Larry Niedowicz (6-1) struck out 14 and held the Dragons to three safeties in hurling Clawson to its 12th straight victory. It is 6-2 in the league.

SEASON HIGH

Rochester set a season high of 12 safeties and clouted four home runs on Romeo's hitters' haven diamond. Stan Babiuk blasted a two-run homer in the first and a three-run shot in the third.

Jim Davis followed with a solo blast in the third, and Marl McAllister connected with one on in the fifth. He also had two singles.

★ ★ ★

Babiuk's second circuit clout broke a 2-2 tie that was forged by Clyde Cushingberry's homer for Romeo in the opening inning. Corky Semp had two singles for Romeo.

★ ★ ★

Mike Scally struck out 12 and stopped the Bulldogs on four hits in going the route for the first time. The Falcons are 5-3 in the race.

Gordon Schwartz gave up only two hits and struck out nine, and he collected a pair of hits to spark Utica. Catcher Paul Chapoton drove in three runs with a sacrifice fly and a double.

Roger Ritter clouted a pair of home runs and drove in five runs to lead Brighton to victory. Mark SeSilvio picked up three singles for West Bloomfield.

Agee's Single in Ninth Helps Mets Whip Reds

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommie Agee's single with two out in the ninth scored the winning run for the New York Mets and hard-luck Tom Seaver in a 2-1 victory Thursday over the Cincinnati Reds.

Seaver and Gerry Arrigo were locked in a 1-1 duel when the Mets struck with two away in the ninth.

★ ★ ★

Greg Goossen walked and Don Bosch went in to run for him. Jerry Buchek, who had singled home Goossen in the second inning for the Mets' first run, singled to left center but Bosch stopped at second.

Then Agee singled to right for the winner.

Pro Gridder Makes Claim for '67 Pay

CLEVELAND (AP) — John Morrow, former center for the Cleveland Browns, filed suit in U.S. District Court Thursday against the Browns and the New Orleans Saints, claiming that one or the other should pay him under 1967 contract terms.

Morrow said he signed a two-year contract with the Browns prior to the 1966 pro football season which paid him $24,000 in 1966 and would have paid $25,000 in 1967.

The veteran center was sent to New Orleans in 1967 as one of the National Football League players selected to stock the Saints their first year, but the suit claims the Saints breached a $30,000 contract for 1967 with Morrow and cut him from the team.

Because of a knee injury suffered in a Cleveland-Pittsburgh game Nov. 6, 1966, the suit claimed, Morrow was unable to work out in preseason training with the Saints and failed to make the team.

Lawn and Garden News

Disappearing Lawn Plagues Residents

The case of the "disappearing lawn" is starting to bother more and more people in the Metropolitan Detroit area reports Don Juchartz, County Extension Agricultural Agent.

He points out that "as trees grow and mature and give more shade the homeowner is finding that his beautiful bluegrass lawn is beginning to thin out and actually 'disappear'."

This is not unusual in areas that are beginning to reap the benefit of having planted shade trees several years ago. "What actually happens," said Juchartz, "is that the first grass put on the majority of new home lawn areas is Merion bluegrass or bluegrass blends.

"These grasses do very well in full sun or light shade but thin out or die in heavier shaded areas. It is at this time that diseases come into the turf and usually finish off the grass."

★ ★ ★

There is hope for the shaded lawn, however, the Agricultural Agent indicated, because there are grasses that are better adapted to these areas than the most commonly used bluegrasses.

He specifically singled out the "Pennlawn" variety of creeping red fescue for the dryer shaded areas, and "Poa trivialis" (sometimes called "roughstalk bluegrass") for the wetter shaded areas. When in doubt as to the existing turf and, if watered in, will have an excellent chance to germinate and grow.

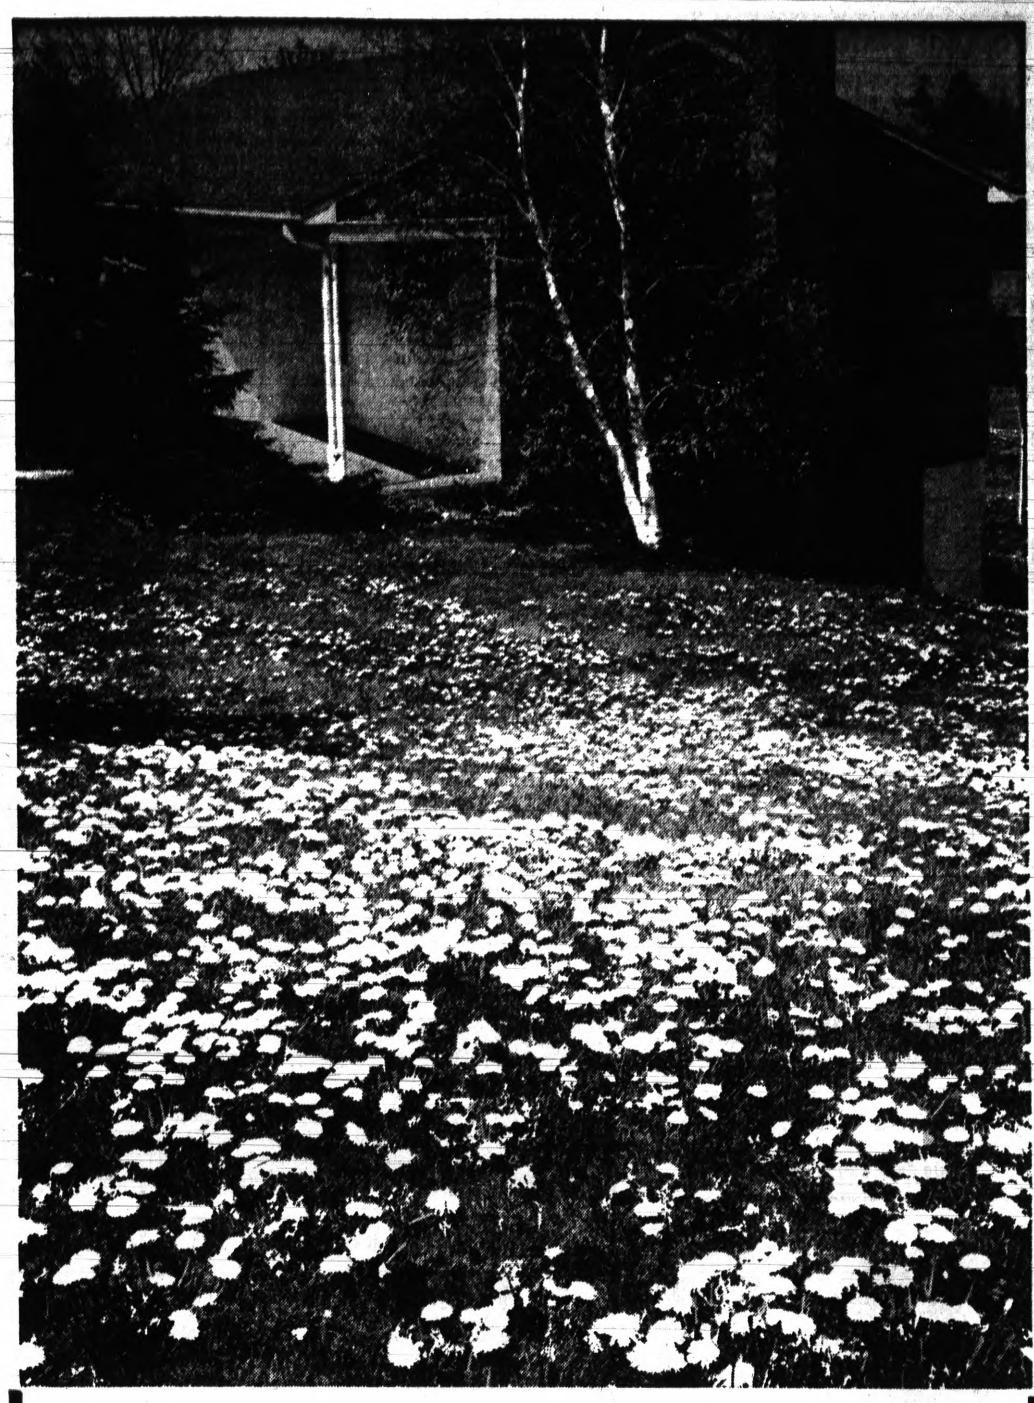

PETUNIA HAPPINESS—Happiness is a warm rose pink Petunia. Its name expresses our pleasure in offering what is believed to be the finest rose pink grandiflora. It is very free flowering, exceptionally weather tolerant, and resists botrytis better than any pink grandiflora that we have seen.

Juchartz emphasized, however, that these two grasses cannot stand the high rates of nitrogen fertilization commonly given to Merion bluegrass and will die if they receive too much nitrogen. If the lawn is fertilized about April Fool's Day, Decoration Day and Labor Day with the ordinary lawn fertilizers, sufficient nutrients will have been applied.

Research at Michigan State University has shown that there are some turf cultural factors necessary to grow good lawns in shaded areas, and Juchartz lists them as being —

- Use adapted varieties, such as the Pennlawn creeping red fescue and the Poa trivialis.
- Make certain these grasses are not cut lower than 1½ inches with 2 inches being preferred.
- Avoid excessive nitrogen.
- Water infrequently but deep, more grass is killed by light frequent sprinkling than any other way, one-inch of water applied weekly should soak 4-6 inches deep into the soil.
- If at all possible avoid excessive traffic through the shaded area which will compact the soil.

2 New Hybrid Teas Released for Spring

Good breeding in roses for show or garden use is just as important as in horses or dogs and when varieties come from good parents you can expect them to be worthwhile additions to any garden.

"Carla" is one of the finest new Hybrid Tea varieties to be introduced this year and it combines the good qualities of its parents, the famous "Queen Elizabeth" and equally beautiful "The Optimist."

"Carla", however, is a different color from either of the varieties that were hybridized to produce it and none of the color illustrations really do it justice or capture the clean, fresh, lively pink that fairly radiates from the flowers as they open in the garden. It is a distinctly new color for a rose and to describe it as dawn pink does not fully indicate the brightness and luminosity the color possesses.

Like its parents, "Carla" is a strong vigorous grower forming a bushy, well branched plant clothed with rich green leaves. From both an exhibition and garden viewpoint the flower form is just about perfect. It has long pointed buds which open slowly into full petaled, well formed, high centered, fragrant blooms usually borne singly on straight, stiff stems.

★ ★ ★

It's an excellent variety for cutting and its continuous flowering makes it equally fine for garden use.

CRIMSON RED

"Viking" is a new crimson red variety obtained from a cross between "Volcano", a strong, healthy rose, and "Happiness", a beautiful rich red variety extensively grown for the florist trade.

It combines the good qualities of vigorous growth, excellent color and form, and healthy foliage.

While there are many good red varieties already on the market, "Viking" should not be considered 'just another red rose.'

★ ★ ★

It is a distinctive, abundantly fragrant, hardy, disease-resistant rose of both garden and show quality which will please the most critical gardener.

Investigations by the Lawn Institute showed that not a single crabgrass seed was found in nearly 2000 lots of quality bluegrass and fine fescue.

Carla (Dawn Pink) And Viking (Crimson)

Lacewing Fly Eats Aphids

Don't destroy the lacewing fly, with its silvery wings and jewel-like eyes.

It helps keep down the population of aphids, the tiny pest that sucks juices from trees and other plants and helps spread plant viruses.

Many aphids have 13 or more generations in a year.

★ ★ ★

The lacewing's efforts are described by a Bartlett tree expert.

EGGS

The insect settles on a leaf, ejects a drop of fluid, draws this into a fine thread on which the fly lays an egg and departs.

Seven days later an aphis-lion creeps out of the egg.

★ ★ ★

The aphis-lion has an insatiable appetite for aphids and by the time it is 10 days old it may destroy 30 an hour. At 12 days, it can eliminate one a minute.

★ ★ ★

The full-grown larva wraps itself in a silken ball inside a white, pea-size cocoon from which 16 days later it emerges as a lacewing fly adult.

Special Lubricant for Power Mower Now on Market

A new oil specifically formulated for power lawn mower and other four-cycle engine garden equipment has been introduced by Mobil Oil Corporation.

This is the first time an oil company has made a specialized garden equipment lubricant available to the public through its retail outlets.

Chief advantage claimed for the new lubricant is longer motor life because the additive level of the new oil is carefully matched to the operating characteristics of garden equipment.

Mobil spokesmen pointed out that most power mower owners use regular automotive engine oils. These are not ideally suited to the relatively constant speed operation of power mower and similar engines and their continued use can lead to formation of deposits which contribute to wear.

★ ★ ★

Two-cycle outboard motor type oils formulated to be mixed with gasoline are also not suited to use with four-cycle garden equipment motors.

Grass Rootlets Condition Soil

Kentucky bluegrass and other fine turfgrasses grow many rootlets in the top few inches of the lawn each year.

It is normal for some of these to die and decay. Thus your lawngrass is yearly improving the soil by "mixing" organic matter into it.

Dianthus Deltoides Zing

Perennial Treated as an Annual

A real breakthrough in Dianthus breeding is this new creation, Dianthus Deltoides Zing, starts blooming a few weeks after sowing and never stops all summer long.

The plant keeps growing, forming a dense green mat topped with brilliant rose flowers until frost. It is a completely winter hardy, long lived perennial.

★ ★ ★

However, it can be treated as an annual, because it blooms the first year from seed.

Never before has Dianthus Deltoides done this. Instead of a short burst of color in spring, Zing blooms spring to autumn year after year. It is ideal for the rockery, the border or as a lovely pot plant.

Raspberries Rated Tops

Red raspberries are rated as tops among the small fruits being grown by many backyard gardeners..

Because of the high cost of berries purchased ar roadside markets, and the ease of freezing raspberries, home growers aften include them in their gardens.

Virus-free planting stock is scarce, but research in Michigan is working on the development of virus-free varieties. This is undoubtedly the number-one problem that berry growers have to face today.

MASSEY-FERGUSON

You won't want to settle for less than the Massey-Ferguson 7 and its 7 H.P. engine . . . with electric starter, 3-speed gear shift, adjustable cushioned seat with comfortable back rest.

YELLOWING EVERGREENS
TURN HEALTHY GREEN FAST

5 EVERGREENS worth $250 . . . with $1 worth of MIRACID!

Contains Miracle CHELATED IRON — releases "locked up" nutrients

"Yellow anemia" (Chlorosis) is a dangerous killer! It is caused by improper soil acidity or serious iron deficiency. Instant-action MIRACID stops "yellow anemia" almost overnight!

MIRACID MAKES THIS DIFFERENCE

WHY MOST FOUNDATION PLANTS NEED MIRACID

Chemical lime from concrete foundation continuously leaches into soil, making it unsuitable for evergreens, causes destructive "yellow anemia". MIRACID ironizes soil quickly, releases locked-up nutrients, produces proper soil chemistry for evergreens. Adds new vigor fast! See results in 7 days!

Iron Lack Pales Leaves

If your trees look pale and anemic, they may have iron deficiency chlorosis. This also is known as trace element deficiency.

You can test your trees for this ailment by holding a leaf up to the light. If it is quite yellow yet has green veins, the odds are that the tree has iron deficiency.

Another indication is the presence of an alkaline soil.

Iron in small amounts is a necessary element for plant growth, particularly in the proper functioning of chlorophyl (the green coloring).

★ ★ ★

A lack of green coloring matter is called chlorosis. It takes an expert to diagnose the cause, but iron chelate, a preparation of iron sulphate, has been found effective in correcting chlorosis.

★ ★ ★

However, improper use may cause irreparable harm to trees, shrubs and plants.

Officials Take Steps

Cactus Rustler Plagues Mexico

Desert landowners in Mexico are being plagued by a new breed of outlaw — the cactus rustler.

Bootleggers export plants to Europe and Japan, where demand for ornamentals is high. Tourists spirit away cactus to decorate their homes and gardens.

Mexican authorities have taken strict customs measures to halt the illegal traffic. Cacti are a valuable natural resource in Mexico. The prickly pear species has a place of honor on the country's coat of arms, the National Geographic Society says.

Living fences of organ pipe cactus mark rural property lines. Tender young leaves of the nopal provide fodder for hungry livestock. Prickly pear adds flavor to salads and candy.

A variety of cactus known in Mexico as tuna has an edible fruit that actually suggests strawberries in taste and color.

DROUGHT RESISTANT

Cacti (Cactaceae) are drought-resistant plants with special stem areoles that produce sharp spines. Some plants resemble trees, shrubs, or vines. One variety forms a round clump with more than a hundred prickly heads. The barrel cactus has one massive stem.

Arizona's saguaro (Cornegiea gigantea), also heavily stemmed, grows slowly but to impressive heights. A 200-year-old saguaro may lift its finger-like arms as tall as a four-story building and weigh 10 tons.

The saguaro, like other cacti, has no leaves, their function being assumed by a tough green stem covering. The spines discourage hungry desert animals.

★ ★ ★

The stem is a cylindrical framework of long vertical ribs fused at the base. This skeleton supports the pulpy tissue that stores water. In a drought, the saguaro shrinks as moisture diminishes; it can live three years without a drop of water.

Rainfall swells the stem like an accordion. The plant may drink a ton of rainwater at one time.

The saguaro's waxy white blossom is Arizona's state flower. This type of cactus grows in no other state except California. In spring buds appear in a crowded cluster at the tip of each arm.

★ ★ ★

Many other types of cacti help turn the deserts of the American Southwest into a riot of color. Big Bend National Park on the Texas-Mexico border probably has as great a variety of cacti and desert flowers as any area in the world.

RAINBOWS

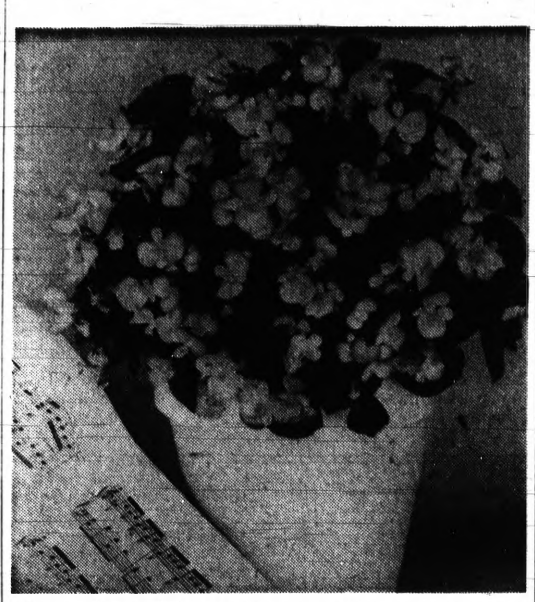

Hedgehog cacti dazzle the eye with bright red, crimson, or purple flowers. Prickly pear blossoms range from yellow to orange, and often take on deeper hues with age.

The golden barrel cactus opens its flowers during the day and closes them at night. In contrast, the delicate greenish-white and brownish-green petals of one variety of organ pipe cactus unfold only at night.

The decorative cactus may someday save human lives. Some chemists believe cacti contain drugs capable of combating such diseases as arthritis and diabetes.

★ ★ ★

Research has shown, for instance, that the nopal contains sterols which could be used to make synthetic hormones, steroids, and vitamins.

BEGONIA MELODY—Neat mound-like fibrous begonias growing to a height of 6 to 8 inches cover themselves in two-tone flowers. The inner part of the flower is white becoming deep salmon pink near the edge giving a picotee effect. The foliage is deep bronze color providing depth, contrast and elegance to the border or pot plant.

Repair Lawn Spots With Soil Substitute

Bald spots on the lawn rank right behind bald spots on people as a source of despair. Home gardeners are getting relief from the lawn variety through a new "soil substitute" perfected at Cornell University. Marketed under the trade name Redi-Earth, the lightweight man-made soil consists of sphagnum peat moss, horticultural vermiculite, trace minerals and plant nutrients.

★ ★ ★

The new mix has demonstrated remarkable ability to speed germination and propagation. Initial success was reported by commercial growers in New York State working with Cornell, and has since been duplicated by home gardeners in seven test markets selected by the manufacturer.

The manufacturer suggests these simple steps in mending bare spots:

- Loosen dirt in the bare area with a metal rake.
- Pour a half-inch layer of the soil-less mix over the bare spot.
- Sprinkle seed on top.
- Add another thin layer of Redi-Earth over the seed. Water thoroughly.

As in starting a new lawn, frequent gentle watering provides the best chance of good results. The mix affords the essential water-retention, aeration, and nutritive value to virtually assure success. Redi-Earth, in lightweight bags, is found at garden supply outlets.

Spring Hints on Planting Rose Bushes

Have you ever marveled how your next door neighbor's roses do so well? Here are some early-bird planting and growing tips that will help you create a beautiful garden this year.

Select a well-drained site, one which receives full sun all or most of the day.

Near coastal areas or where high velocity winds are common, select sheltered locations.

★ ★ ★

Soil should be prepared several months in advance, using well-aged manure. Do not attempt fertilizing prior to planting time. Using 25 per cent peat moss to 75 per cent soil ratio, mix this combination into the planting site.

PLANTING SITE

In selecting a planting site, try to center it in shallow, circular depressions which serve to catch and hold rainwater for future irrigation.

Remember to make the holes wide enough to accomodate the root system in its natural, spread out form.

After plant has been seated, work loose top soil under and over the roots so there will be no air pockets. Then, add additional soil around the plant until hole is three-fourths full.

★ ★ ★

Allow water to run slowly into the hole until the soil is thoroughly seated.

Highest quality garden tools are the most economical buy.

Broad-Leaved Evergreens

Many a new gardener puts azaleas on his "must have" list during the spring when azaleas and rhododendrons give the landscape a lift with splashes and masses of color.

The best time to plant azaleas is in the early spring. Plant later only if you're willing to take extra care to overcome the greater risk. Here's some advice on azalea care, from Jack Schwartz, urban horticulturist.

- First, buy species and varieties adapted to your area. A reputable nurseryman knows which will survive cold weather and withstand hot.
- Plant them in well-drained, acid soil that is high in organic matter.
- Set plants no deeper than they grew in the nursery.
- Be ready to provide an inch of water every ten days if rain is scarce.
- You'll also need to protect azaleas from insects.
- Get the soil ready before planting time. Don't wait until the plants have arrived from the nursery, then hastily dig a hole and stick the plant into place.
- Prepare the entire planting area at least eighteen to twenty-four inches deep. If soil is poor — remove it entirely. If soil is good — add one-third to one-half parts well decomposed hardwood sawdust or peat moss to the existing soil.

This should help make the soil more acid and make it more conducive to establishing a good plant.

- When the azalea is planted — mulch it with one or two inches of sawdust or peat moss. The mulch retains moisture the plant needs and at the same time provides an additional acid condition.

Any lawn product that does this many things at once has got to be man's best friend!

TURF BUILDER PLUS 4 does practically everything but mow your lawn. It full-fertilizes your grass. It clears out weeds (both rosette and vining types). It prevents crabgrass, foxtail and goosegrass. And it grubproofs your soil for a full year. All from one application.

Right now is the ideal time to use PLUS 4 — while weeds are actively growing and crabgrass is just sprouting. You'll be pleased with the results — or your money back. It's as simple as that.

PATIO CARPET — Once upon a time lush-textured carpet had to stay indoors, away from sun and rain. Not so now! Modern science changes that with carpeting that is rich enough for living rooms yet goes outdoors to terrace, patio or porch to make an elegant and comfortable living/dining area. Its Acrilan acrylic pile, approved for outdoor use, keeps it so moisture resistant it can be hosed clean; solution dyes keep colors bright under burning sun. With carpeting outdoors, just add hanging plants, glistening crystal and linen — and "presto" — elegant dining, al fresco!

How to Cope

Gardeners' Outdoor Hazards

With warm weather comes the opportunity to recover the old zest after an inactive winter. For many it means the excitement of planning a new garden; the urge to get out and dig in the soil; and plant the latest selections found in the many flower and seed catalogs.

The growing season also brings with it the common outdoor hazards of poison ivy, windburn, sunburn, insect bites, blisters, minor cuts and abrasions, skinned knuckles, puncture wounds and other gardening misfortunes.

In many cases just the simple use of garden gloves and other protective clothing will be of great benefit in safeguarding against these perils, and make it a lot easier to enjoy your green thumb activities.

Garden gloves offer excellent protection for hands and wrists against many garden hazards, but for those misfortunes that cannot be prevented, it is always best to be prepared and know what to do when they occur. Following are accepted procedures for handling the most common gardening hazards.

CUTS AND SCRAPES

If you suffer from skinned knuckles, scraped knees or minor cuts, wash the wound thoroughly with soap and water, then cover it with an adhesive bandage. A good antiseptic also helps. Any serious cut or abrasion should be treated by a doctor.

The most common spring and summertime discomfort is sunburn. For most people the risk of sunburn can be easily avoided. With the use of modern protective lotions, coupled with limited exposure, severe sunburn can be prevented. When safeguards are overlooked, and painful sunburn results; wash gently with soap and water, and apply a mild ointment.

There is a marked difference between sunstroke and heat exhaustion. Heat exhaustion is the milder of the two but a physician should be called in either case. Both are brought on by excessive exposure to heat and sun, plus overexertion. Common sense, and working in moderation, will let you condition your body for longer work periods.

★ ★ ★

Most gardeners can identify poison ivy plants and thus avoid physical contact. But this is not always enough to avoid affliction. The sap can be carried by other people, clothing, household pets, even the smoke or vapor of a brush fire.

However, when working around poison ivy, garden gloves and long-sleeved clothing are a necessity for proper protection. If you suspect that you've touched poison ivy wash immediately with strong laundry soap. Wash and rinse the exposed skin repeatedly five or six times.

Using this precaution you may be able to wash away the plant's oily sap before it penetrates the skin. If not, call your doctor to suggest a remedy.

Common symptoms of insect bites are swelling and itching. This can be minimized with the use of cold compresses for the swelling and calamine lotion for the itching. The use of a good insect repellent spray, used in the area in which you plan to work, will help to minimize the number of insects.

FERTILIZERS, HERBICIDES

Materials such as these should only be handled with the protection of gloves. Some liquid materials are especially harmful and one should always wear liquid-proof gloves when handling them. The new ambi disposable gloves are excellent for this purpose. By disposing of the gloves, there's no chance of carrying the hazard into the home.

Tetanus can be a serious complication resulting from a puncture or laceration from rusty nails, dirty tools, bits of broken glass, etc. For such wounds, see your doctor without delay.

Observance of the above procedures, along with the use of proper clothing and garden gloves, should make your spring gardening projects more enjoyable.

New Fescue Wintergreen

Wintergreen red fescue is a new turfgrass variety being released by the department of crop science of Michigan State University. This variety was selected from plant introductions from the Netherlands.

Spaced plants were grown in the introduction nursery and seven clones were selected in 1959 on the basis of first year trials.

Seed from a six-clone polycross was planted in 1962 by Dr. James Beard at East Lansing for further turf evaluation. Additional planting were made at Traverse City in 1963 and Iron Mountain in 1966.

MOVED TO OREGON

In the summer of 1963 seed was composited from four clones of the six clones which produced seed in East Lansing and the composite was planted at the Oregon Experiment Station in Corvallis for seed increase. This seed increase is the basis for the Wintergreen variet.

Compared to Pennlawn Fescue, Wintergreen Fescue is a better red fescue variety for Michigan conditions.

Wintergreen is superior in color, density and uniformity, with a deep, dark green similar to Merion Kentucky bluegrass. The color retention in late fall and winter is outstanding.

★ ★ ★

The denstiy is very high — twice that of Pennlawn. Growth is very uniform and upright. Compared to Pennlawn, it has retained superior turfgrass quality under minimum water and nitrogen fertilization.

The range of Wintergreen outside Michigan is not yet well established. Wintergreen is being released specifically for use under the moderate climate and light soil conditions of Michigan.

Wintergreen does not have any greater disease resistance than Pennlawn. The leaf texture is somewhat finer than Pennlawn Fescue. It is slower in rate of establishment than Pennlawn.

Seed is being increased in Oregon and should be available in quantity by 1970 through members of the Michigan Seed Dealers' Association.

U.S. Education Benefits—5

Work-Study Plans Available

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fifth article in a 15-part series on U.S. educational and training benefits available to you.)

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Publications

The Army, Navy, Air Force, Treasury and Commerce Departments, the Federal Communications Commission, General Services Administration and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration operate a cooperative work-school program for students with a group of participating colleges.

Under this program, students alternate periods of college study and work for the government. Students are paid for the work phase.

★ ★ ★

The work is considered an essential part of the college course and is required for a degree.

Most of these programs are in science and engineering and require five years for a B.S. degree.

SUMMER 'INTERNS'

Under another program there are summer "internships" available. Through the Youth Opportunity Campaign, the federal government has summer training employment for young people 16 through 21.

Most of these programs are supervised by the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D.C.

★ ★ ★

Positions are filled for the most part through competitive examination for Office and Science Assistant and Post Office Seasonal Assistant.

The State Department Foreign Service, the U.S. Information Agency, Congress, the Agency for International Development, the Tennessee Valley Authority, the Atomic Energy Commission, the Central Intelligence Agency and the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery of the Veterans Administration have their own programs.

HOURS LIMITED

Employment is limited to 700 hours during the summer. The minimum wage is $1.40 an hour. First priority is given needy youth.

For information, contact the nearest State Employment Service office or the Youth Opportunity Campaign Unit, Department of Labor, Washington, D.C.

Some offices of United States federal agencies offer still another plan of part-time employment during the school year and full-time employment during vacation periods. College students and high school students 16 and older are eligible.

In most cases, appointees must be enrolled in or accepted for enrollment in an accredited high school, college or other institution of higher learning.

Employment during the school year may not exceed 20 hours a week.

★ ★ ★

While employed, appointees must maintain an acceptable school standing. They must need the earnings from the employment to continue in school.

Appointments under this authority are made for not more than one year, but there can be extensions.

(NEXT: Federal Grants Available.)

Car Is Stolen; Police Find It; Then There's Trouble

(EDITOR'S NOTE — You just haven't had your car stolen until you've had it stolen in Caracas. It took our man in that Venezuelan city three days to get it back-after it had been recovered by the police. It's kind of a Kafka caper with a Spanish accent.)

By CLEM COHEN
Associated Press Writer

CARACAS, Venezuela — There's one thing worse than having you car stolen in Caracas. It's having the cops find it.

Getting it back from the police is almost like hitting a winning lottery number.

This reporter's car was stolen recently and he learned firsthand that seemingly simple situations can become vast complexities where least expected.

As usual, the vehicle is stolen in the middle of a major shopping operation. Police are informed by telephone. The car owner is told to report the theft in person.

FINGERPRINTED

At police headquarters, a courteous officer takes down all the pertinent information, then asks the owner to leave his fingerprints. Protests are courteously ignored. He is told he will be called when the car is found.

Days later the police call. It's from the station at La Guaira, a beach resort 25 minutes by car down the mountain from Caracas. The car has been found. A rush to police headquarters to confirm the report results in this exchange:

"Who told you the car had been found?"

★ ★ ★

"La Guaira said the car had been found there."

"Sorry," says the officer, "but you car is not among those reported found."

Car owner, exasperated: "But I was just told it was found."

'LIKE YOURS'

The officer looks stunned. But after a recheck, he replies: "They've found a car like yours at the beach. But the serial number and license plates are different."

Dismayed, but on a hunch, the car owner later calls the police station at the beach. Yes, the duty officer replies, your car is here. The license plate and serial numbers check out.

'CAN'T BE'

Back at main headquarters, the department head is approached once more and told the beach station has confirmed the car has been located.

"It can't be," he says impatiently, "because we've not been told."

★ ★ ★

"Okay, but suppose I go to the beach and find my car. What then?"

He is told: "Notify them and they'll notify us. Until we are officially informed, the car cannot be considered recovered."

VEHICLE SITS

Down to the beach speeds the car owner. The police chief there confirms th recovery in person. Out in the police parking lot sits the vehicle, battered but still in one piece.

"May I take it away?" the owner asks hopefully.

"Where's the slip of paper?" asks the attendant. "The one from the technical police."

Stunned, the car owner replies: "I don't have one. Where are the technical police?"

Fortunately they are a few blocks away, but the officer in charge there announces: "Your car was stolen in Caracas. You'll have to obtain the recovery permit there."

APPREHENSIVE

Back up the mountain to Caracas, some 36 hours after the car was reported recovered, the owner once more approaches headquarters apprehensively.

Sure enough, he is told, the car still hasn't been recovered, so no slip. Anger, affection, hysteria are ignored.

What to do? A police reporter friend, with "open sesame" connections high up, is suddenly remembered. The next day the slip to recover the car is obtained.

★ ★ ★

Back in steamy La Guaira once more, the car owner triumphantly greets the police parking lot attendant with the slip.

A quick check and the attendant announces: "Fine. There's a five-day parking charge."

"But the car was stolen only four days."

TOWING, TOO

"It's still five days charge," says the attendant. Then he adds: "There's also a towing charge of 50 bolivares." — a bit more than $10.

The car owner is edging his battered vehicle out of the lot when the attendant stops him again. "By the way, once the car is totally repaired, you must bring it back here so we can check it for the fingerprints of the thieves."

The Gourmet Adventures of Jayson's

In the early days of American politics, candidates for office resorted to an eminently successful device to get out the voters: They supplied the electorate with food and drink. Electioneering—beginning even before 1758, when George Washington served voters rum, punch, beer, wine, cider, and cakes—was always carried on in the midst of great outdoor feasts. In 1840, the rallies reached their zenith in the "Log Cabin and Hard Cider" campaign of William Henry Harrison. At Wheeling, West Virginia, Harrisonites entertained 30,000 at a rally with 360 hams, 26 sheep, 20 calves, 1,500 pounds of beef, 8,000 pounds of bread, over 1,000 pounds of cheese, and 4,500 pies.

We may not use that much food in an average day, but no matter how much food is consumed, we always serve the highest quality, freshest products available at JAYSON'S, 4195 Dixie Hwy. at Hatchery Rd. Friendly, courteous service is always yours. Specializing in American food — steaks, chops, seafoods. Full selection of fine domestic and imported wines and champagnes. HELPFUL HINT: For quick and lumpless gravy, keep a jar filled with a mixture of half cornstarch and half flour. Put three or four tablespoons of this into another jar and add water. In just a few seconds, a smooth paste for all gravy.

Story Boosts His Collection

KALAMAZOO (AP) — If Thomas M. Turner had been collecting antique automobiles, he'd have to build a great big garage.

But the 29-year-old Kalamazoo resident goes for antique radios, and news stories about his yen for old sets have triggered a deluge of more radios for his collection.

He has also received about 60 letters and an equal number of telephone calls from people who read or heard about a feature story originally published in the Jan. 14 Kalamazoo Gazette.

In all, Turner, a senior majoring in electronic technology at Western Michigan University, has added about 10 sets to his collection since then.

HAD TO BUY SOME

"I had to buy some," he said, "and some of the better sets were given to me." Most of the antique sets came from retired people, including a schoolteacher, a woodworking instructor and a purchasing agent.

He's happiest about the 1923 Atwater-Kent "Bread Board" that a woman in Parchment gave him. That set, so named because all on the parts are mounted on a flat board, had eluded Turner until the news story, he said.

★ ★ ★

In fact, he picked up two "Bread Boards" after the article appeared, although the Parchment women's donation was an older set than the other.

Turner received his first antique set as a gift in 1948.

Since then, his collection has grown to about 60 sets, most of which are in working order.

1st Rail Sleeper Rough Going

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — The first railroad sleeping car was divided into four compartments, each equipped with three bunks. In the rear of the car was a towel, a wash basin and a bucket of water.

The traveler, fully dressed, reclined on a rough mattress with his overcoat or shawl drawn around him. Candles furnished the light, and heat was supplied by box stoves burning wood or sometimes coal.

Radical Changes in U. S. Way of Living, Learning Foreseen

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of educators peering toward the year 2000 predicts radical changes in the American way of living and learning in the generation ahead.

The educators foresee a greatly expanded system of education that would blend the wildly new with the distinctly old-fashioned to produce a higher level of learning and culture.

★ ★ ★

The thinkers, headed by Dr. Louis L. Bright, research director of the U.S. Office of Education, laid the groundwork for two federally financed "future centers" recently announced. One is to be run by the Stanford Research Institute, Menlo Park, Calif.; the other by Syracuse University in New York.

In a series of interviews, the educators emphasized that their goal—and that of the centers—is to determine possibilities rather than plans. But they generally envision a society 30 years from now in which:

● Children will start school around age 3 and continue studying regularly throughout their lives.

PERIODIC TRAINING

● Adults in nearly all work classifications, including professionals and top executives, will have to be retrained about every 10 years because of the outpouring of new knowledge and because machines and computers will be taking over their jobs.

● Most students will attend the equivalent of two years of college.

★ ★ ★

● Youngsters and adults alike will use new techniques and materials which permit them to learn on their own, in or out of school.

● Traditional boundaries between school and work will be erased; work-study programs will be common.

GENERAL PRINCIPALS

Subject matter will emphasize general principles and methods of thinking and learning rather than specialized information that quickly becomes outdated.

● Students will be taught more about how to express themselves, how to get along with others and how to live fuller lives.

Starting youngsters in school at age 3 is expected, Bright says, because research has shown that the learning experience of children prior to normal school age has "a tremendous and permanent impact on their abilities to learn."

★ ★ ★

He said the change should raise the learning capacity of most children and greatly improve the performance of youngsters from poor backgrounds.

EFFICIENCY OF LEARNING

The educators expect a great increase in the amount and efficiency of learning from use of a technique, now in developmental stages, called Individually Prescribed Instruction—IPI.

★ ★ ★

The approach, which many educators believe will have a revolutionary impact on education, is to provide materials specially suited for each individual at his stage of learning. This requires great quantities of materials and the means of pulling out the right ones quickly.

★ ★ ★

It utilizes so-called programmed materials, which present the student a small amount of subject matter, test him immediately and let him know if he has mastered it.

Bright and his aides say the technique will break down the main barrier to adult education—the problem of getting a class of people together with a teacher to study the same subject at fixed times.

AT HOME

With IPI, adults could study when they had free time, at a school or at home. IPI materials vary from printed sheets, pamphlets and books to a variety of visual and electronic devices to computers.

★ ★ ★

Starting youngsters in school earlier would have a leveling effect: it would take away the big head start of children from culturally rich families.

But the thinkers expect individualized learning to create a much wider range of achievement levels. As Bright puts it: "The most gifted kids would go ahead on their own at a fantastic rate."

★ ★ ★

They believe many students in the future will interrupt their educations—even more than college students now do—to work for a year or two, then return to study.

LATEST DEVELOPMENTS

The regular school program would combine work and study in order to relate education more closely with the latest developments in society and the world of work, and to stimulate the learning process.

★ ★ ★

"Anybody who thinks about how much he learned on his first job knows he could learn a lot more if work were linked with study," says Dr. Henrik Gideonse, director of program planning under Bright.

★ ★ ★

The educators believe education in the year 2000 should make Americans much more aware of their society and of the world. And this, they say, is a measure of the strength of a democratic society in which the people rule.

Dial Climate, Hear Music

Office of Future Is Eyed

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (UPI)—Would you believe a business office where you can dial your own climate, while music and fragrance fill the air, and background lighting makes you think of wafting tree branches and intermittent clouds?

That's the pleasant picture of the office of tomorrow drawn by an industry executive who says that if present trends continue, all office employes will work in a single open area landscaped by arranging furniture according to working groups.

★ ★ ★

"The individual will be able to control his own environment — with an ultraviolet sun lamp, a radiant heating lamp, a cool airflow louver, a humidity control, a rheostat spotlight for reading and a choice of three types of background music," says C. F. Henderson, vice president of Art Metal, Inc., manufacturer of office furniture, which recently completed an $18-million plant here.

"Ozone is an innovation that will be in general use in future offices. Encountered at high altitudes, it is the reason why mountain air is so stimulating. Easily generated electrically, it also sterlizes and purifies the air.

"Engineers are exploring the use of fragrances. Faint odors introduced experimentally into air system indicate that female workers like floral fragrances, while men prefer spicy scents.

★ ★ ★

"Background lighting will slowly fluctuate up and down in alternate areas with slowly changing patterns of pastel hues and shadows — suggesting the effect of wafting tree branches and intermittent clouds."

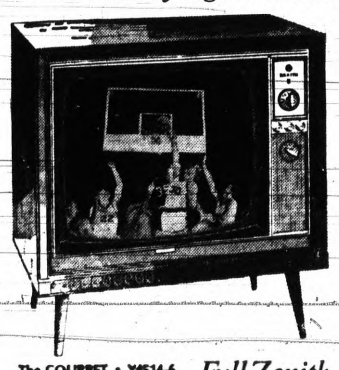

As for the boss, Henderson says, he'll still be working at a desk, but it'll be a small table top for reading and writing, with nothing beneath it, and adjustable so he can pull it into his lap or shove it away with ease. Working equipment will be housed in cabinets within arm's reach.

'Our Town' Starts Tonight at PNH

By BETTY ATWELL

Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" will be presented by the Pontiac Northern Players tonight through Sunday afternoon in the school's Little Theater.

The play is directed by Anthony Chiarilli with the assistance of Jeanne Rayner, student director.

Stuart Packard, counselor, is in charge of the lighting; Mrs. Frank Seaver, English department, publicity; and Barbara Holzer, English, tickets.

In the cast are Ken Jahnke, Dr. Gibbs; Joe Crowell, Matt Walsh; Mike Loulakis, Howie Newsome; Liz Cinque, Mrs. Gibbs; and Kathy Hoisington, Mrs. Webb.

OTHERS IN CAST

Others are Mark Weaver, George Gibbs; Teresa Dean, Rebecca Gibbs; Bill McIninch, Wally Webb; Charlene Depner, Emily Webb and Jerry Bixby as Professor Willard.

Jock Felt portrays Mr. Webb; Linda Tenjeras, woman in the auditorium; Bill Green, man in the auditorium; Mark Cook, Simon Stimson; and Marlene Fowler, Mrs. Soames.

★ ★ ★

Completing the cast are Larry Adler, Constable Warren; Matt Walsh, Si Crowell; Dana Coin, Sam Craig; Dave Weaver, Joe Stoddard; Joe Blaylock, Farmer McCarthy; and Jeanne Rayner and Linda Tenjeras as the dead women.

The student production staff for "Our Town" consists of Mike Giroux, Bill Green, Gary Roerink and Dick Tucker. Pat Griffin is stage manager.

Elections were held last Thursday and Friday for the Student Council officers for next year.

★ ★ ★

Robin McIlroy was elected president; Rob Clancy, vice president; Terry Kay, secretary; and Dennis Vallad, treasurer.

The new president has served as a Student Council representative, is on the Junior Class Advisory Board and is a varsity wrestler.

JUNIOR PRESIDENT

Rob Clancy is this year's junior class president, sports editor of the school paper, a Pep Club member and active in varsity basketball and baseball.

Terry Kay is the Student Council secretary this year, a junior varsity cheerleader, past sophomore class president and a member of the yearbook staff.

★ ★ ★

Dennis Vallad served as a Student Council representative, a member of the swim and golf teams and is an active member in the junior class.

The 1968-69 cheer-leading squad was recently chosen.

Cheerleaders next year will be Linda Crabtree, Dorothy Duncan, Venessa Edison, Jan Felt, Edith Hartung and Debbie Hogg.

★ ★ ★

Others include Terry Kay, Sue Leever, Janet Lemanski, Pam Redden, Nancy Schmucker, Julie Tangen, Denise Vallad, A. A. Whitehead and Joanne Woodside.

Waterford Students to Display Art Work

By MARY JERGOVICH

Waterford Township High School art students will present a showing of their works Wednesday.

The pieces will be on display from 7 to 10 p.m. and until 1 p.m. Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Many of the students displaying their works have received commendation awards this year.

Jack Freeman, Jim Russell and Lance Rutledge each made wood cut prints which will tour European colleges for a year.

WATER COLOR

Russell also has a water color traveling throughout Michigan for one year.

In the regional exhibition in Detroit, Freeman won a blue ribbon and gold key which made him eligible for national competition in New York City. He also won a certificate of merit along with Russell and Richard Eagle.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-three juniors and 24 seniors were recently elected into WTHS' chapter of National Honor Society.

Juniors joining the society are Deborah Anderson, Ram Bauer, Linda Blust, Charles Bush, Don Crabtree, Colleen Farris, Lois Fenlon, James Forbes, Peni Frisch and Kim Hayes.

★ ★ ★

Others are Paul Klemm, Kim Kriigel, Martha McAllister, Mary Reynolds, Lance Turledge, Paul Shallman, Mike Sheldon, Ted Stiger, Heather Underwood, Debra Wright and Deborah Zannoth.

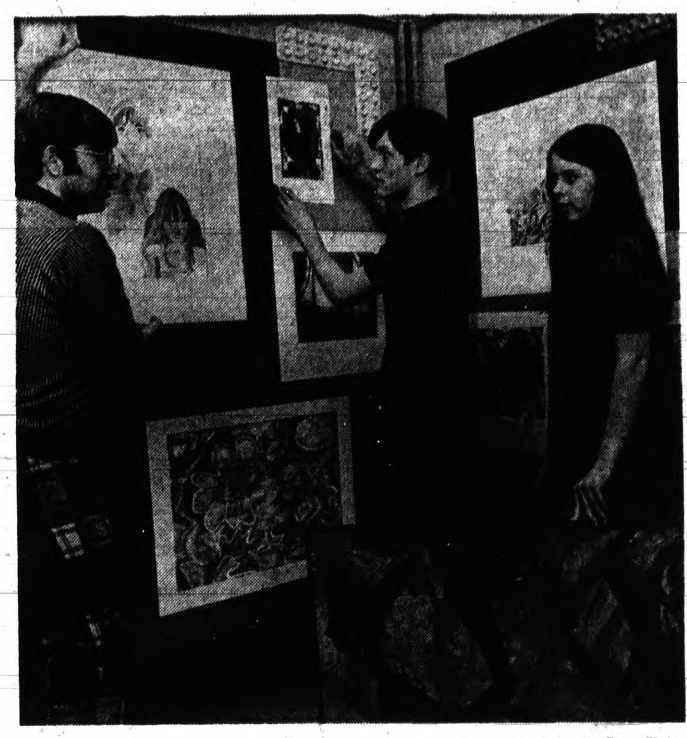

New senior members include Elaine Adamczyk, Linda Adams, Julie Bird, Londa Briles, Linda Byrd, Juli Crary, Sally DeBarr, Lynn Ferguson, Dana Hilthon, Martin Kimmel and Jonathon Kitchen.

★ ★ ★

Concluding the list are Valerie Koehn, June Kusk, Robert McAllister, Lynda McLaughlin, Chris Plaicher, Sharyn Richmond, Sally Saari, Cheryl Shelton, Robert Sickles, Nancy Sines, Gregory Stuk, Russell eVnie and Shirley Winne.

Varsity cheerleaders for next year are Sue Allen, Peni Frisch, captain; Mary Jergovich, Joyce Kent, Sue Steele, Debbie Szymanski, Barb Way and Pat Hall. Daine Russ is alternate.

Election Is Tuesday

Groves Student Hopefuls Are Busy

By KIM SEROTA

"If I am elected . . .," has been the political cry of candidates for student government offices at Wylie E. Groves High School.

This week, Student Council candidates attempted a new method of reaching the student body with their opinions and ideas.

★ ★ ★

Speaking in the cafeteria to groups of history classes the nominees were able to debate and answer individual questions.

Council President Kyle Andeer and Treasurer Barb Mangrum officiated over the meetings.

CANDIDATES LISTED

Candidates for each office are Kathy McNabb and Chuck Mitchell, treasurer; Connie Becker and Shelly Jacobs, secretary; Dave Stacy and Jim Scherer, vice president, and Wendy Wilder and Marc Bergeron, president.

★ ★ ★

Due to new procedures this year, more issues and ideas were brought out than ever before.

PLANS PROPOSED

Several of the major plans proposed include a joint committee with Birmingham's other high school, Seaholm, to bring up ideas before the board of education, a semester election of homeroom representatives and a regular council bulletin or a council section in the school newspaper, the Scriptor.

The class election assembly was initiated this year because the student council felt previous all-school election assemblies in which each candidate gave just a speech did not accomplish their purpose.

★ ★ ★

The change is part of this year's council plan to better serve the student body.

Primary elections Monday and Tuesday, prior to the campaign assemblies, were used to eliminate all but the two final candidates for each office.

VOTE TUESDAY

Next Tuesday the final election for council officers and individual elections for class officers will be held.

In the class elections, juniors and sophomores each pick five class officers.

★ ★ ★

Running for junior class offices are Robin Greeson and Sue Lapp, historian; Sue Dickson and Melinda Rex, treasurer; Linda Shahan and Sue Van Lopik, secretary; Rob Carp and Peggy Maas vice president; and Jim Cameron and Doug Tull, president.

Sophomore candidates are Mary Jane Sharkey and Cheryl Tischler, historian; Nancy Jardack and Cindy Johnson, treasurer; Carol Owens and Nancy Stepanian, secretary; John Diefenbacher and Rob Perkins, vice president; and Kevin Burke and Gary Coller, president.

PRIMARY RESULT

Also in the political realm is the announcement of the results of the recent Groves primary.

The primary was an adaption of the "1968 Student Presidential Poll" taken by Time Magazine and the Sperry Rand Corp. on college campuses across the United States.

★ ★ ★

As in the Time poll, Sen. Eugene McCarthy was chosen as the first choice for president. Sen. Robert Kennedy was second and Richard Nixon, third. Vice President Hubert Humphrey placed sixth with the students.

ROMNEY WINS

In the vice presidential race, 52 candidates were nominated. Gov. George Romney received almost twice as many votes as the nearest contender, Robert Kennedy, to become Groves number one choice for vice president.

The poll included a referendum and two subjects, U.S. action in Vietnam and the "urban crisis."

★ ★ ★

A majority favored some form of lessening military activity in Vietnam, either immediate withdrawal or phased reducton.

The second question concerned priority in government spending to ease the "urban crisis." The possibilities in order of votes received were education, job-training, riot control, housing and income subsidy.

All-School Fair Next Week Is Another Avondale First

By JAN MALANE

Another first — an all-school fair — is coming to Avondale High School.

Each department will have a display Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

Student Council members have personally telephoned the parents of every student at AHS to invite them to the fair.

The art department display will include tempera paintings, oil paintings, ceramic sculpture and various craft projects.

DEMONSTRATION

Also during the evening there will be a demonstration by six art students working in clay, oil paintings, and tempera paintings.

The home economics department will display some of the usual and unusual work of the students. Among the displays will be miniature rooms that have been made and decorated by students, fabric covered shoes and knitted stocking caps.

★ ★ ★

The contemporary affairs class of the social studies department, which is taught by Allen Fensch, will display model cities. The students attempted to design the ideal city in every capacity including government, population and industry.

The distributive education and retailing classes are making exhibits portraying the major events of the year such as homecoming and graduation.

SCIENCE SEMINAR

In conjunction with the school fair the advanced chemistry and biology students will hold a science seminar. Projects will be presented and explained by these students who have conducted the year-long experimentation and research.

It is hoped that over 1,000 parents and interested public will attend the fair.

Even though the year has nearly ended, the Spirit Risers have not stopped working.

The members have made an enormous spirit horseshoe to present to the Pep Club of Pontiac Northern High.

★ ★ ★

The Spirit Risers hope that in this way they can express their gratitude for the help the PNH Pep Club has given them throughout the year.

Dignitaries to Visit OLL for Mock U.N. Assembly

By CHRIS GINGRAS

Important guests are expected at Our Lady of the Lakes this weekend. Coming to speak at the school's first mock United Nations General Assembly will be State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, R-Waterford, and U.S. Rep. Jack McDonald, R-19th District.

Also visiting the school will be Gary Frink, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 19th District, and Dr. Kenneth Wiley, an assistant professor at Wayne State University.

★ ★ ★

Lodge and Wiley will speak tomorrow and McDonald and Frink Sunday.

The speakers will give their addresses at sessions beginning at 1 p.m. on both days. The sessions are open to the public.

'U.N. LEADERS'

Leading the Assembly will be President Dave Tait, assisted by Secretary-General Doug Ritter, Parliamentarians Jon Weston and Tim Flynn and Secretary Diane Moultrup.

The 34-nation affair will be supervised by Margaret McClellan, faculty moderator of the U.N. Club.

★ ★ ★

This past week the new varsity and junior varsity cheerleading squads were chosen.

On the varsity squad are Pat LaBrie, Pam Wise, Anne Marie Matzelle, Sue Budnik, Karen Kloss and Kathy Budnik, captain.

★ ★ ★

Junior varsity cheerleaders are Pabette Schulze, Judy Mauro, Tony Motsinger, Michele Landry, Kathy O'Malley and Terri Mauro.

No junior varsity captain has been chosen as yet.

It's Year-End Fete Time

By DEBBIE FOCKLER

Now that school is coming to an end, many clubs and organizations at Walled Lake Senior High School are holding their annual year-end banquets.

★ ★ ★

Ninety new initiates, 76 juniors and 14 seniors, were installed in the Walled Lake chapter of the National Honor Society at the banquet and induction ceremony recently held at the high school.

Master of ceremonies for the event was Charlie Miller, president.

Entertainment was provided by Norma Hofmeister and Sue Woodard.

Talking on "Young Adults and the Preservation of a Constructive Society" was the guest speaker, Arthur Rahl.

Senior members of the society were honored recently at a banquet sponsored by the Walled Lake Rotary Club.

★ ★ ★

A "Bouquet of Thanks" was the theme for the fifth annual Employer-Employee Banquet yesterday in the high school cafeteria.

Sponsored by the members of the four co-op groups at the high school — Office, Trade and Industry, Distributive Education and Nurse's Aid—the dinner showed gratitude to their employers.

275 ATTEND

The banquet was attended by approximately 275 people including students, employers, supervisors and school personnel and administrators.

Leading off the program were greetings from Dr. George Garver, school superintendent; Dwight Wiseman, vice president of the board of education, and Art Hansen, Michigan supervisor of technical education.

★ ★ ★

Speeches were also given by the presidents of the four co-op clubs. The five trophies co-op students won this year were presented to the school.

The annual Junior-Senior Reception is tonight in the school auditorium.

7-ACT PLAY

The juniors are presenting a seven-act play they have written.

Main roles in it are played by Louise Buffmyer, Christie Grapentine and Sandi Bales.

★ ★ ★

Refreshments and a dance, with music by the "My Guys," will follow the play. There is no admission charge, and all juniors and seniors are invited.

Teachers sponsoring the event are Jacqueline Bowers, producer-director; Ronald Rentschler, class sponsor; Alexander Zerban, lights and sound, and Carolyn Boyd.

TWO QUALIFY

Two Walled Lake Students qualified for the state forensic contest by placing in the regional contest at Dearborn High School. Sheryl Dooley, a junior, took a second place in interpretive reading Patt Spurr, a sophomore, placed third in the humorous reading category.

Making the semifinals were Dan Conway, extemporaneous speaking and Nanette Bridge, original oratory.

★ ★ ★

The students were coached by Jacqueline Bowers, head of the school's speech department.

Dominican

By ANDI BARNES

Dianne Morse and Sue Riharb have been named valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, for the 1967-68 school year at Dominican Academy.

Dianne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Morse of 545 Mechanic, Oxford. She carries a 3.7 average and has participated in many school activities.

She plans to continue her studies at Oakland University where she will major in history and minor in art.

Sue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riharb of 3448 Arrowvale, Orchard Lake, also has participated in many school activities during her three years at D.A.

UN ASPIRATIONS

Sue plans to attend Alma College and major in languages and later to act as an interpreter at the United Nations.

Today was "dress-down" day at Dominican. For a fee, girls were allowed to come to school in slacks, bermudas, skirts, culottes and bloomer dresses.

All money went to the Student Council treasury.

Stevenson

By RANDY KARP

Utica High tradition for the first time in history is establishing precedents for the newly opened Stevenson High School.

As the school year approaches an end, the awaited slave day, which was held today, will have most Student Council members at the mercy of their masters.

★ ★ ★

During the preceding week Student Council members were auctioned off to the highest bidder of the student body or faculty.

The Utica high schools, with Rochester High and St. Lawrence have planned a computer dance for May 24.

IDEAL DATE

Students participating have prepared and answered a personality card which will ultimately lead to their ideal date.

Three bands will provide entertainment, the Tea, the Lofft and the Molly McGuires.

★ ★ ★

Stevenson High will celebrate Michigan Week by electing seniors to fulfill township offices May 23.

On Government Day, the elected seniors will sign in at the Township Hall and assume the duties of their respective office. At the close of the day, all junior officials will join the full-time township officers at lunch.

Emmanuel

By JOHN SINER

Flowering cacti will make up only a small portion of the "Enchanted West" as the junior class of Emmanuel Christian High School sponsors tonight's junior-senior banquet beginning at 7:30.

The western theme was chosen when junior class officers selected the Westerner Beef Buffet of Birmingham as the banquet site.

★ ★ ★

Decoration chairmen are Pamela Baslock and Ann Jokinen.

This year Emmanuel will again participate in the Pontiac area Salute to Youth Program.

Mott

By GEORGIA ROSEWALL

The charter class of Waterford Mott High School received class rings, white gold with an aquamarine stone, this week.

The cheerleaders are sponsoring a candy sale beginning this week to raise money to help send the varsity cheerleaders to cheer leading camp this summer.

★ ★ ★

The Waterford Mott Student Council constitution has been completed and distributed to students and teachers this week.

Corrections will be made and then a final draft of the constitution will be presented to the student body, faculty and administration for final approval.

COUNCIL ELECTIONS

Elections for the Student Council officers for next year will be held May 23.

Drama Club sponsored a bake sale Wednesday. Proceeds from the sale will help buy props for the play, "The Lottery," to be presented June 5 to the student body.

Troy

By LINDA SWEET

Troy High School underclassmen are beginning to prepare for next year's activities with class elections. Speeches by the 1968-69 senior and junior class officer candidates were given Wednesday and voting was today.

Candidates for class of '69 officers are Linda Gies, Terry Dew and Gary Rosenaw, president; Ron Barnard, Bob Dygert and Tina Molinaro, vice presidents; Rhonda Tucker and Linda Dunn, secretary; and Steve Rickabus, treasurer.

Opening lead—♠ 2

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

The Jacoby transfer bid is easy to learn. Specifically when your partner opens one no-trump, the two diamond response is a transfer to hearts and the opening bidder rebids two hearts unless he has a maximum no-trump with very good hearts in which case he may rebid three hearts. The two heart response is a spade transfer in the same manner.

JACOBY

The responding hand is unlimited in strength. You may transfer with a bad hand and intention of passing at the two level or you may transfer on your way to a slam.

The bidding of today's hand shows a transfer bid slam. South had almost enough to jump to three spades after North's two heart transfer. North in turn might have gone directly to four spades but he saw some slam possibilities so he forced with three clubs.

South's three diamond bid said, "Partner, if you are interested in a slam I have the ace of diamonds." North's jump to four spades said, "I have slight slam interest with very good spades."

South's four no-trump call was Blackwood. He might have gone directly to the slam but there was some slight chance that North would only hold one ace.

★ ★ ★

Played by South there was no defense against the spade slam. South drew trumps and led a heart from dummy. If East ducked, South would have to lose a diamond eventually but wouldn't lose a heart. Actually East went up with the heart ace. This allowed South to discard two of dummy's diamonds on the king and queen of hearts.

If North played the spade slam and East happened to lead a diamond, North would have to take the finesse and lose his contract.

If South played at six no trump, correct defense would leave him no play to make it.

A—Bid five diamonds. Your partner has shown second round club control. Show him second round diamond control.

TODAY'S QUESTION

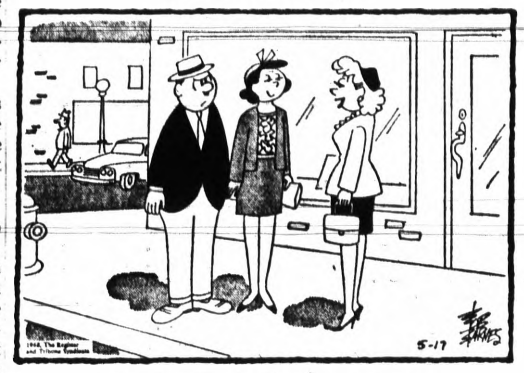

Your partner continues to six hearts. What do you do now?

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Saturday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Answer calls, messages from friends. Reach out for greater understanding. Turn on charm at social gathering. Avoid argument. Make concession. You win in long run.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): To attain goal you must check fine print. One who has authority may place obstacle in your path. Key is to keep guard up. Be friendly but not careless.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Ideas flow; you seem able to perceive how to accomplish major goal. Keep up with correspondence. Gain indicated through reading, writing and publishing. Keep up with times.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Look beyond immediate indications. Fascinating person tonight could compel your curiosity. Don't be afraid of the unknown — bring it closer. Examine — ask questions. Greater knowledge is result.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Accent on relations with mate, partner, public in general. You are judged, tested, studied. A period of self-analysis is indicated. Find out why. Outline program, goal — understand motives.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Fulfill promises, obligations and responsibilities. No day to be satisfied with superficial efforts. Be careful within. This comes about when you know a job has been completed. Act accordingly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): The push to complete a project is evident. One person may fade from your consciousness but another grabs spotlight of attention. You appear on a precipice where emotions are concerned.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): New viewpoint where home, property enter picture. You find ways of moving immovable objects, obstacles. You gain added information. Roadblock opens; path is clear because you are confident.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Day to collect, analyze data. Spotlight on ideas, short journeys, relatives. Confusion exists about immediate plans but can be ironed out through intelligent discussion. Socialize.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Be flexible. Don't feel past methods are only ones. Make headway in streamlining operations. Spend money wisely. Tonight relax with congenial people. Be alert for ideas.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Cycle high. You find out things about people, events. Gain may not be immediate but long-range effects are vauable. Make up your own mind. Others tend to be confused.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Find out about competition. Dig for information. Someone could confide secret. Evaluate, analyze — piece together bits of information. Accent today on getting rid of doubts, fears.

★ ★ ★

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have knack of comforting people who are in difficulty. This causes many to lean on you and some to take advantage. Current cycle favors collecting of facts, preparing for future. Don't rush. Patience is your ally at this time.

★ ★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for AQUARIUS, PISCES, ARIES. Special word to SCORPIO: older individual opens door of opportunity.

Stock Market Widens Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market widened its losses in active trading early Friday afternoon.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 7.22 to 896.50, making a decisive break below the psychologically important 900 level.

Losses outnumbered gains by about 450 issues on the New York Stock Exchange. Except for some of the very high-priced issues, declines ran generally from fractions to one or two points.

No fresh news was linked with the decline but rather an accumulation of developments—the soaring price for gold in world markets, the weakness of the British pound and U.S. dollar abroad, the postponement of action on the tax-spending measure, climbing interest rates, tight money and concern over the cost-price inflationary spiral.

AVERAGE DOWN

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 2.1 to 326.7, with industrials off 4.3, rails off .8, and utilities off .1.

* * *

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange. Cubic Corp. and Woofs Corp. advanced 2 or more, Volume Merchandise Inc. about 1½, and Commonwealth United a fraction, Airlift International, down a fraction, paced the list on volume. RIC Group and El-Tronics Inc. were active fractional losers.

James Earl Ray: MAN ON THE RUN

Sleuthing by federal agents and newsmen has pieced together key moves in a year-long cross-country journey of the No. 1 man on the nation's wanted list—the suspected murderer of Martin Luther King Jr. The trail starts at the Missouri State Penitentiary with James Earl Ray's escape on April 23, 1967. Four months later, on Aug. 26, Ray, using the alias Eric Starvo Galt, rented a room at a Birmingham, Ala., boarding house saying he planned to stay three or four months.

On Aug. 30, he bought a 1966 white Mustang, paying $2,000 in cash. On Oct. 7, he checked out of the boarding house, after only six weeks, saying he was going to Mobile to look for work.

The trail picks up next in Los Angeles. Ray and a Hollywood songwriter, Charles Stein, made a Los Angeles-New Orleans round trip in the Mustang between Dec. 15 and 21. Ray also took dancing lessons at a Long Beach, Calif., studio during December. He mentioned to both Stein and a dance instructor owning a bar in Mexico.

Next came a bartending course. Ray began six weeks training on Jan. 20, 1968, graduating March 2 but declining a job the school had available for him. Ray said he was leaving Los Angeles to see a brother. On March 29, he turned up in Birmingham again, buying a .243-caliber rifle at a sporting store but turning it in next day for a .30-06.

April 4, Memphis: A man registering as John Willard but fitting Ray's description checks into a rooming house at 3:15 p.m., requesting a back room facing the motel where Martin Luther King was staying. At 6 p.m., King, standing on the motel balcony, was killed by a bullet from a .30-06 rifle.

Early on April 5, residents of an Atlanta housing development near the Georgia state capital noticed a man park a white Mustang. Police, alerted several days later, identified the car as Galt's. At Atlanta the trail vanishes, despite a manhunt extending beyond the border of the United States, to Mexico and Australia. Where is James Earl Ray?

ORDINANCE NO. 119

Pontiac Township Junk Yard and Auto Dismantling Ordinance.

An Ordinance providing for the licensing of junk yards and places, and establishments, for the dismantling of automobiles, prescribing rules and regulations thereof and providing for penalties for violation of this Ordinance.

The Township Board of Pontiac Township, Oakland County, Michigan ordains as follows:

Section 1. That no person, firm, association or corporation shall hereafter engage in or carry on the business of dealing in junk, or maintain, manage or operate any place for the dismantling of automobiles, without first having obtained from the Township Board, a license permitting and authorizing such person, firm, association or corporation to carry on such business within the Township of Pontiac.

Section 2. That all licenses provided for hereunder shall be issued by the Township Clerk and countersigned by the Supervisor upon the payment to the Township Clerk for the use of the Township of Pontiac, the following fees: (a) for dealing in junk, Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00); (b) for maintaining or operating a place for the dismantling of automobiles, Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00).

Section 3. That any person, firm, association or corporation desiring to engage in or to continue to engage in the business of (a) dealing in junk, or (b) maintaining, managing or operating a place for the dismantling of automobiles, shall file with the Township Clerk a written application for a license. Such application, which shall be signed by such applicant, shall state, among other things: (A) whether the applicant has at any time been convicted of any crime or misdemeanor, and if so, the date, place and nature of such offense; (B) the exact location of the proposed business; (C) the true names and addresses of the owner or owners of such business; (D) whether the business is to be carried on under the immediate supervision of the applicant or of others; and an agreement on the part of the applicant that the Township Board may, at any time, revoke the license for cause.

Section 4. That upon receipt of such application, the Township Clerk shall, at the next regular or special meeting of the Township Board submit such application to the Township Board for its consideration, and said Board may continue the consideration thereof from time to time and may, in its discretion, provide for a public hearing on the pending application.

Section 5. That, if such license be authorized by the Township Board, it shall be displayed prominently on the premises licensed.

Section 6. That, for the purposes of this Ordinance, the businesses of dealing in junk and maintaining, managing or operating a place for the dismantling of automobiles shall be considered separate and distinct businesses, each of which is subject to license and regulation hereunder.

Section 7. That all licenses issued hereunder shall expire on the first day of January following the issuance thereof.

Section 8. That all places or establishments coming within the scope of this Ordinance shall:

(a) Be located in any area zoned as commercial, C-3, reference hereby being made to the Pontiac Township Zoning Ordinance.

(b) Conduct such business between the hours of 7:00 A.M. and 7:00 P.M. only, and no business shall be conducted on Sundays.

(c) Encircle completely the entire limits of such places or establishments with an eight (8) foot, well-painted board fence of solid construction, said fence to have two entrances or exits only; both to be plainly visible from the road or highway on which such establishment or place is located, such entrances or exits to have gates of the same construction as the fence.

(d) Inform the Township Board of any proposed alterations in dimensions or location of such place or establishment and secure approval of said Board before any such change is made.

(e) Remove any refuse material not salable, not less than once a week.

(f) Not dispose of surplus, or waste materials by burning with the exception of waste paper.

Section 9. Every such establishment or place shall be under the personal direction and supervision of some person living in the County of Oakland and the State of Michigan, and such person, or persons, and the owners or principal officers of such place or establishment shall be of good moral character and shall have never been convicted of a felony nor of a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude. No such place or establishment shall be located within five hundred (500) feet of any other building unless such building be used for commercial, C-3, purposes only, or unless such building is owned by the owner, or owners, of said junk yard and/or automobile dismantling place.

Section 10. That license issued hereunder shall not be transferable.

Section 11. That, in the event the licensee shall make a false statement in his application, or shall violate any of the terms and conditions of this resolution, the Township Board may thereupon revoke and cancel the license issued and retain the fees paid by the licensee.

Section 12. That all licensees coming within the scope of this Ordinance shall keep a separate set of books open at all times for inspection by any police officers of the State of Michigan or any Michigan Municipal Corporations including counties, cities, townships and villages. Such books are to be kept in the English language and shall set forth every article purchased with a separate number for each article, the price paid and from whom purchased, with a description of the person from whom purchased, and all articles purchased shall be numbered, such number to correspond with the number as set forth in such books. All articles purchased shall be retained at least fifteen (15) days before resale unless purchased from a person, firm, association or corporation having a fixed place of business. No automobile shall be junked, or dismantled, within fifteen (15) days of its receipt at the establishment, and when dismantling or junking is accomplished the engine number must be retained.

Section 13. That the licensee shall, at least once per month, prepare and mail to the Pontiac Township Supervisor and the Commissioner of the Department of Public Safety at East Lansing, a sworn statement of all purchases made by said licensee in the previous month.

Section 14. That failure to comply with this Ordinance shall be grounds for immediate revocation of the license granted herein by summary action, of the Pontiac Township Board.

Section 15. Any person, firm, association or corporation which shall violate this Ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding One Hundred (100.00) Dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail, not to exceed ninety (90) days, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court.

Section 16. A "junk yard" as used herein is defined to be any establishment or premises where worn out or discarded material is bought, kept, sold and/or stored; any premise upon which two or more unlicensed used motor vehicles which cannot be operated under their own power are kept or stored for a period of 15 days or more shall be deemed to be a "junk yard" within the meaning of this Ordinance.

Section 17. In the event any section, sentence, word, phrase or part of this Ordinance shall be held invalid by a Court of competent jurisdiction, such holding shall not affect the balance of the provisions hereof.

Passed this 13th day of May, 1968 to become effective thirty days after publication.

Archbishop Asks Priests' Opinions on Filling Posts

NEW YORK (AP) — Archbishop Terence J. Cooke has asked 1,265 priests in the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of New York for their recommendations on filling various diocesan posts.

Chancery officials said Thursday, in disclosing the archbishop's letter of May 7, that about 200 priests had already responded and that more letters were "coming in regularly."

★ ★ ★

In his letter asking for their confidential nominations, the new archbishop also said it would be his policy in the future not to transfer any priests to a new assignment "wihout prior consultation."

The officials said it was the first time that diocesan priests had been asked their opinions on filling important posts. They noted however that several of the church heirarchy in this country, including Lawrence Cardinal Shehan of Baltimore, have sought the views of laymen and priests on the naming of bishops.

Typewriter to Aid Blind Employes

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The Social Security Administration placed a Braille electric typewriter in operation Thursday at its national headquarters in suburban Woodlawn.

Jack S. Flutterman, assistant commissioner for administration who presided at a ceremony, said the machine would be used to provide its blind employes, with the same written communications that all other employes receive, and to answer inquiries from sightless claimants.

Rockefeller Gives the GOP 'a Choice'

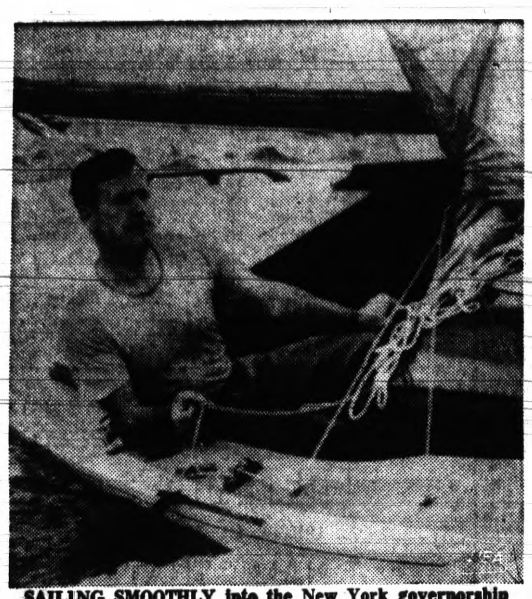

DIVORCE in 1961 was thought by many to be a negative factor in the minds of voters. First wife, Mary, is shown in top photos, a lone and with husband at Venezuelan ranch. In 1963, Rocky married Margaretta "Happy" Murphy and they honeymooned at the ranch, bottom pictures.

CROWD PLEASER, Rockefeller is surrounded by Cub Scouts in Albany, N.Y. He lost popularity with some grown-ups, however, for his recent handling of New York City's sanitation workers' strike.

ROCKY backed Nixon in 1960 after an expected draft failed to materialize.

SAILING SMOOTHLY into the New York governorship in 1958, Rocky has been re-elected twice against weak opponents. Although promising no tax hikes during '62 campaign, taxes were raised and a state sales tax imposed after election.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower appointed Rockefeller a special assistant in the field of cold war strategy in 1954. Here he sorts papers after resigning as Undersecretary of Health, Education and Welfare to take new post.

EARLY political appointment came from FDR, who made Rockefeller co-ordinator of inter-American affairs. He is shown here at a Brazilian press conference.

STUDENT LEADER at Dartmouth College, Rockefeller posed in 1928 in his soccer uniform.

OLD SIGNS wave again. Photo made in 1964 could very well apply today. Rocky failed in '64 bid when conservative elements backed Barry Goldwater.

130 to Attend Gathering at Juvenile Unit

About 130 guests will visit Camp Oakland Sunday afternoon in the annual spring directors' gathering.

The directors and their guests will tour the children's facility and inspect the operation starting at 1 p.m.

★ ★ ★

A new addition to the school facility is opening soon. It will add a gymnasium and two classrooms.

The camp, located in Oxford Township east of Oxford Village, is a program for wards of the County Juvenile Court.

★ ★ ★

The camp also operates a summer program for underprivileged children financed by metropolitan area agencies. This summer some 600 children and about 35 parents are expected to spend two-week camping vacations there starting June 17.

Everglades Park Is Level Land

FLAMINGO, Fla. (UPI) — Everglades National Park, capping the Florida peninsula, possesses one of the most nearly level landscapes in the world.

Vacationers driving the 38 miles from the Visitor Center just inside the Park entrance (5½ feet above sea level) to the Flamingo tourist center on Florida Bay proceed downhill at an average rate of an inch and three-quarters each mile.

Yucatan is a peninsula which includes parts of Mexico, Guatemala and British Honduras.

Cafeterias Offer Cosmopolitan Menu

NEW YORK (AP) — Students at Queens College are having their palates, as well as their minds, educated.

Each Thursday, the school's cafeterias feature three or four hot dishes and several desserts typical of a particular country.

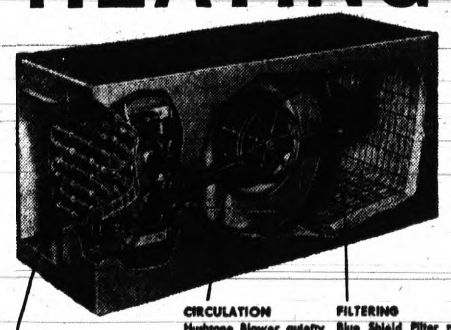

The students and faculty have tasted French, German, Spanish, Israeli, Greek, Russian, Sicilian and Cantonese dishes.

Recipes come from the United Nations cookbook, from faculty members who have traveled or studied abroad or from foreign students.

Eagles Keep Utility Workers on the Ground

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — Eagles have driven utility workers to the ground.

The Pacific Gas & Electric Co. put up two 85-foot steel towers near Lake Shasta, north of here, to carry a power line across a highway.

★ ★ ★

Before a line crew arrived to string the line, a pair of eagles built a nest in one tower and flailed at the workers until the men descended.

Supt. Gordon Sparrowe ordered the work delayed until three eaglets are able to fly, in several weeks.

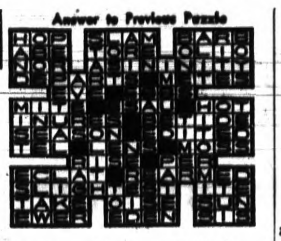

India has one dentist for every 175,000 people compared with one for every 2,650 in the United States and one for every 17,000 in the whole of Asia.

Tightwad Benny Offers LBJ a Loan

Comedian Jack Benny likes to pretend he's a tightwad — but he's ruining his image by offering to loan the U.S. government money.

Benny called at the White House yesterday to talk with President Johnson and afterward reporters asked whether he'd volunteered any advice.

"I think the only thing the President would have liked to have known from me was if I could help some way in balancing the budget — how to save money," Benny said.

Could he help?

"I can make a loan," Benny replied. "If he'd like it, he can have it. That stingy I'm not. I'm a very, very big fan of President Johnson."

'I, a Woman' Star Gets Lampoon Award

Essy Persson, the Swedish actress who was always taking off her clothes in the foreign film, "I, a Woman," has been awarded the "Iowa-Woman Award" by the Harvard Lampoon, the undergraduate humor magazine, in Cambridge, Mass.

The Lampoon said yesterday a special award had to be given to Miss Persson because shapely actress Raquel Welch edged her out in voting for its annual "Worst Actress of the Year Award."

The "Iowa-Woman Award" citation was so named because Essy had a grandfather who was born and reared in the state.

A Present for Liz---$305,000 (33.19 Carats)

Richard Burton doesn't need an occasion to buy his wife a present — such as a $305,000 diamond.

The Welsh actor just "gives presents because he likes giving them," his secretary, Richard Hanley, said today in London.

Burton bought the 33.19-carat diamond ring at a New York auction yesterday. It belonged to the late Mrs. Vera Krupp, second wife of one of the world's richest men, German steel magnate Alfred Krupp von Bohlenund Helbach.

Burton did not even surprise his beautiful wife.

"We knew about this sale," said Hanley. "Miss Taylor was very anxious that she should have it. So Mr. Burton has bought the diamond for Miss Taylor."

Glenn Ford Is Sued for Divorce

Married two years, actor Glenn Ford has been sued for divorce by his second wife, 18 years his junior.

Ford, 51, one of Hollywood's top stars, was married March 27, 1966, to actress Kathryn Hays, 33. They separated last month. She charges extreme cruelty in her petition.

She has a 10-year-old daughter, Sherri, from an earlier marriage. Ford has a 23-year-old son, Peter, from his 1943 marriage to actress Eleanor Powell. They divorced in 1959.

A Look at TV

Another 'Saga' on Tap

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — There are a number of good, serviceable series titles in television which are carefully designed to cover a wide range of material and subjects—"American Profile," "Omnibus," "White Paper," "Houseparty."

Perhaps the best umbrella title of all is appended to ABC's long-playing skein of actuatlity shows "The Saga of Western Man."

★ ★ ★

As it has worked out over the past few seasons, this title is a catch-all for just about any subject that piques the interest of its executive producer, John Secondari, a quadruple-threat operator who has turned out a best-selling novel, done service as a newsman, writes and narrates his own show.

★ ★ ★

In the past three season, Secondari's attention has rested on such diverse subjects as Leonardo da Vinci's contributions to civilization, Columbus' journeys to the New World, a play-by-play reconstruction of Custer's last stand and the slow crumbling of Venice into the waters from which it arose.

CHANGE OF PACE

Now, in a real change of pace, "Saga" will come up with a documentary about contemporary missionaries in India and the islands of Micronesia in the Pacific.

★ ★ ★

To make "In the Name of God," the missionary special scheduled for Monday night, director John Hughes and a photography team headed by one of the best men in the business, William Hartigan, spent months in out-of-the-way tropical islands and poverty-stricken corners of India shooting thousands of feet showing modern missionaries at work.

★ ★ ★

Hughes, who started out with some preconceived notions on the subject, was surprised at what he found.

★ ★ ★

"The last thing in the world they seem to want to do these days is convert people," Hughes reported. "Mostly modern missionaries are interested in helping the natives. They are concerned with constructing—houses and roads—and digging wells, educating the children and improving health and diets."

PLAYING BASEBALL

In the course of two months in and around the Caroline Islands, Hughes saw more examples of missionaries helping people than converting them to Christianity. His one regret about the resulting program is that time does not permit showing film of teams of young natives of Ponape, a remote island, playing baseball with the enthusiasm of American boys.

Recommended week-end viewing:

Tonight—"Discover America with Jose Jimenez," NBC, 10-11 EDT, Bill Dana on a conducted tour of interesting, off-beat corners of the country.

★ ★ ★

Saturday—"Miss U.S.A. Pageant," CBS, 10-11:30 p.m., live finals from Miami, with the winner to compete for the Miss Universe title later this year.

Sunday—Emmy Awards, NBC, 10, p.m., to conclusion, live from New York and Hollywood, with awards in 47 different categories from current events to comedy.

Report Published on Sex Practices of Young Swedes

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Almost 80 per cent of young Swedes experienced their first sexual contact before marriage, said a scientific report published Thursday.

And among 1,300 young people interviewed in Stockholm only one boy and three girls said they had not had first intercourse until they were married.

★ ★ ★

The findings were reported by Prof. Joachim Israel of Uppsala University.

In a questionnaire of the 1,300, described by Israel as "normal youth," they were asked which partner had taken the initiative. To that, 15 per cent of the boys answered "the girl," while 10 per cent of the girls said "the boy."

★ ★ ★

But most of those interviewed, aged 16 to 25, replied: "It just happened."

FACTS ABOUT COLOR TV ANTENNAS
Experience has proven that the following facts apply to most locations in this area regarding Color TV Antenna installation.
• Modern, broad-band antennas are definitely superior for color reception.
• Lead-in wire should be high quality, low-loss type
• One continuous lead-in to set is best without couplers or series outlets.
• Good antennas are more directional — they tend to reject stations from other directions.
• Effects of weather on antennas and lead-in wire can cause severe loss of performance.

The sheep were herded off the road and the last time they were seen they were heading for home, wagging their tails behind them.

U.S., N. Viet Deal Seen on Bombing

PARIS (AP) — Informed French and American diplomats expect a compromise deal between the United States and North Vietnam to end the bombing of the North in spite of the apparent stalemate in the Paris peace talks.

★ ★ ★

The North Vietnamese appear at present to be trying to rally world opinion against the United States to pressure it into ending military action against North Vietnam without any compensating Communist cutback.

Related Story, Page A-3

The appeal for support has been sounded this week by Ambassador Xuan Thuy in Paris and by Hanoi Radio.

To counter this maneuver, U.S. spokesmen cite what they consider the unacceptably high military price the United States would have to pay to end the bombing under present conditions. They are driving for restoration of a buffer zone to cut off Communist troop movements.

DANGERS CITED

Thousands of truck loads of men and supplies per month could pour into South Vietnam without interruption, they say, if attacks were stopped without North Vietnamese de-escalation. Reconnaissance flights over the North would be stopped, cutting off vital information. Artillery shelling and aerial bombing of the Southern border area of the North would be halted while Communist troops massed there could move South at any time.

Ambassador W. Averell Harriman in an interview yesterday made a tight link between restoring a buffer zone and ending the rest of the bombing and "all other acts of war" against the North.

Hariman was asked in an ABC-TV interview whether he was encouraged by North Vietnam's willingness so far to talk here about subjects other than ending the bombing of the North.

He said they had not talked about anything in such a way that "we can get at the subject and agree to it" but only "in a propaganda way."

Ex-Road Official Charged in Fraud

Former Oakland County Weighmaster Thomas Kennedy, today was charged with three counts of embezzlement while he was employed by the Oakland County Road Commission.

Kennedy, of 2908 Voorheis, Waterford Township, resigned from his job last October, two days after being confronted with reports about irregularities in his department. He had held the position 15 years.

★ ★ ★

An investigation into his activities has been carried on by detectives from the State Police since last February.

The charges, brought by Det. Sgt. Frederick Carpenter of the Redford post and issued by Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson, accuses Kennedy of keeping funds that he had accepted from truckers in lieu of surety bonds.

ROAD INSURANCE

The bonds insure truckers against damage that they might cause to roads.

The three separate offenses allegedly occurred Oct. 22, 1964, March 1, 1966, and May 31, 1967, and involved sums of $400, $600 and $250, respectively, for a total of $1,250.

★ ★ ★

The offense, embezzlement by a public officer, is a felony, punishable with up to a maximum 10-year prison term and a $5,000 fine on each count.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said there is no record of Kennedy turning over the money in question to the road commission.

CIVIC LEADER

A former president of the Pontiac Optimist Club and one of the founders of the Pontiac Boys' Club, Kennedy for the last two seasons has been an assistant coach with the Pontiac Firebirds in the Midwest Football League.

★ ★ ★

THOMAS KENNEDY

★ ★ ★

Kennedy was charged after voluntarily appearing at the Pontiac State Police post with his attorney, James Lawson of Farmington, this morning.

He was to be arraigned on the complaints before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth H. Hempstead.

Sunday Liquor Bill Defeated Twice by State Senate

LANSING (UPI) — The Sunday liquor bill went dry in the Senate yesterday when it was voted down twice 13-16 and 17-13.

The perennial bill, which would have put the issue of Sunday liquor sales to the voters in November, squeaked past the House last month, but was snagged in the Senate where the powerful influence of conservative churches were felt. It died 13-16 after little debate, then was revived for a second try.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, proposed legalizing the liquor sales only in restaruants, hotels, ski resorts, or any other place taking half its receipts in from food sales.

★ ★ ★

Lockwood's amendment was adopted, much to the displeasure of senators who wanted to see the bill apply to all liquor establishments. That version failed 17-13, with 20 votes required for passage, apparently killing the issue for yet another year.

GOLF COURSES

In another liquor measure, the Senate passed a bill to extend resort liquor licenses from 10 to 12 months. It also amended the measure to include licensing of 18-hole regulation golf courses "which are designed to stimulate and promote the resort and tourist industry."

This bill went back to the House for concurrence of the golf course amendment.

★ ★ ★

The House, meanwhile, struggled with its share of the budget bills and finally approved $79.95 million worth of general fund spending for 1968-69 in four areas.

★ ★ ★

Approved were measures of $19.25 million for public health, $25.38 million for corrections, $25.99 million for the Department of Education, $575,000 for capital outlay planning and $8.85 million for capital outlay at community and junior colleges.

Business Group Mulls Ways to Fight Shoplifting

BY LOIS FRIEDLAND

Some 45 downtown businessmen and professionals were told yesterday that the best way to eliminate shoplifting is to work together and press for prosecution.

The Downtown Pontiac Business Association sponsored the meeting to develop a program to improve police protection.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger told listeners that the police often have the necessary information to arrest shoplifters but that the shop owners had refused to sign complaints, after being threatened by the shoplifter.

"You can't just call someone else. You must sign a complaint and you must be prepared to testify," said Hanger, adding tha police can not charge a shoplifter with the crime until the shop owner signs a complaint.

NOT EASY

Al Shamie of Al's Discount, 52 N. Saginaw, urged members to "get together and prosecute — and follow it down. We must show them that in this town we're not easy.

"We should back the policeman. If we don't, we can't blame policemen — we've got to blame ourselfes."

★ ★ ★

There have been 101 convictions of shoplifters caught in downtown Federal's since January and there is currently no shoplifting problem," said Kenneth Osborne of National Security, Inc., which handles security for that store.

★ ★ ★

The shop owners generally agreed that most of the problems were caused by preteen-age gangs.

MORE POLICE NEEDED

Other related problems discussed were the need for additional beat policemen in the area and ways to make the downtown area a little safer, nicer and more comfortable for the women shoppers.

★ ★ ★

Hanger said there will be two men patrolling the streets on the day shift and two more working afternoons after

HUBERT HUMPHREY

'Humphrey Out to Ambush Any Kennedy Bandwagon'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's supporters say they are trying to mute any trumpeting of Robert F. Kennedy's two primary victories into the start of a "psychological bandwagon" for the New York senator.

They said yesterday that despite Kennedy's success in the Nebraska and Indiana voting, Humphrey is close to corralling enough support to win the Democratic presidential nomination on the first ballot.

★ ★ ★

The vice president is riding herd on delegates and is watching carefully for political rustlers carrying RFK branding irons, the Humphrey campaigners reported.

Humphrey and his strategists talked until 2:30 a.m. yesterday, about primaries and delegates, about Kennedy and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy—and about the best way to beat them at the August convention.

POOR PEOPLE; CAMP

While Humphrey people spoke with newsmen, he strolled through the Poor People's Campaign encampment near the Lincoln Memorial with Mayors John V. Lindsay of New York, Ivan Allen of Atlanta and Walter E. Washington of the nation's capital.

The vice president flies to Maine today for a question and answer session with University of Maine students and for some talks with party officials in the Pine Tree State.

★ ★ ★

The Humphrey campaign sources contend Kennedy is far enough behind in the delegate count and in the public opinion polls that he needs some kind of winning confrontation with Humphrey—and they say the vice president is moving to see that he doesn't get one, directly, indirectly or symbolically.

Area Forecast: Showers---Maybe

There's a chance of a few showers tomorrow, with little sunshine before Sunday.

The U. S. Weather Bureau reports the following forecast:

TODAY—Breezy and cool with partial clearing this afternoon. High around 60. Partly cloudy and cool tonight, low 40 to 45.

★ ★ ★

TOMORROW—Cloudy with a chance of showers and little temperature change.

SUNDAY—Partly sunny and continued cool.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: tonight 20, tomorrow 30.

A chilly 46 was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury hovered near 51 at 12:30 p.m.

City 'Poor' March Canceled Today; Will Be May 24

A Poor People's March in Pontiac has been rescheduled for next Friday. It had been originally set for tonight.

The march will be sponsored by the Oakland County Ministerial Association. A bus will be sent to Washington, D.C., with 41 persons from the area who will join the campers at the capital.

Related Story, Page B-13

Rev. Arlond Reid of Newman AME Church, chairman of the march, said plans were rescheduled after an announcement from Washington that the camp set-up plans were behind schedule.

Next Friday, four contingents of marchers will parade through the city's streets, starting at 6 p.m., according to plans. They will converge on St. James Baptist Church, 337 Bagley. Starting points will be: Pearsall and Motor; Wilson and Sanford; Orchard Lake and Johnson; and Auburn and Hill.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Reid said services will be held at St. James' until bus departure time, 8 p.m. The 41 delegates were gathered from representative groups in the county, Rev. Reid said.

He encouraged all interested in the plight of the poor to join next Friday's March.

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel has released 26 Egyptian fishermen captured a month ago after they allegedly entered waters claimed by Israel off the occupied Sinai coast, the Israeli state radio announced today.

Cleanup Begins in 5-State Wake of Tornadoes

By the Associated Press

People treated their injured, arranged to bury their dead and made plans to clear wreckage and rebuild after the tornadoes that hit in five states Wednesday.

The twisters left 71 killed, more than 1,000 injured and millions of dollars in property damage in Arkansas, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri.

★ ★ ★

The death toll: 43 in Arkansas, 15 in Iowa, 10 in Illinois, 2 in Indiana and 1 in Missouri.

Arkansas, hardest hit had 470 injured and some remained in critical condition.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller asked President Johnson to declare it a federal disaster area.

★ ★ ★

School for some ended two weeks early in Jonesboro, allowing 1,200 pupils more time to spend helping their families clear away the debris. Rescue workers took advantage of a clear, hot day Thursday to begin that task in Jonesboro, and in Oil Trough, Tuckerman and Mountain Home, communities which suffered most in the storms.

Why Did OCC Head Quit?

By DICK ROBINSON

When the highest paid official in Oakland County unexpectingly quits his $32,000-a-year job and says he has no definite plans, you're probably wondering what's up.

That's what cigar-puffing Dr. John E. Tirrell, president of Oakland Community College, did earlier this month. He is the last of the four original officers of the college to leave within a year.

JOHN E. TIRRELL

Why was the 42-year-old educator so mysterious concerning his resignation? He would only say that he was quitting June 30 to take up "exciting and creative challenges" in educational planning?

A few days later after resigning, he packed his bags and took off to Europe for an accrued two-month vacation.

RUMORS FLY

Tirrell, who brought nationwide attention to OCC in, four short years, normally gloats over attention from the press.

But not the night of his resignation. He would hardly talk to reporters.

Rumors flew that the college paid him $100,000 to resign, but this is not true.

OCC gave him $41,000 as the settlement on his new three-year contract, which would have expired in 1971, in return for his consulting services, The Press learned.

'NOT PRESSURED'

Reports indicate that Tirrell was not pressured into resigning but that his initial rapport with the trustees had deminished greatly.

Some trustees were irked at Tirrell for hiring Wally Nikkel, former chief business officer at Macomb Community College, as OCC executive director of business without sanction of the board, according to an inside source.

★ ★ ★

Some sources feel that he may now go into educational consulting, which he has been doing part-time.

"Jack could make more on a weekend in the consulting business than he could all week working for us," a source close to him said.

$1,000 A WEEKEND'

Tirrell could make $1,000 a weekend as director of Planning and Consulting for Education, Inc. (PACE), a Bloomfield Township firm which help set up colleges and school systems, according to the source.

Observers believe that the field has become so lucrative and exciting, Tirrell couldn't turn down the opportunity.

★ ★ ★

At one time his going rate was $100 a day, it is reported. Business is better for the two-year-old corporation since community colleges are opening at the rate of better than one a week.

May Be Scrapped Before It's Formed

Army Division Is at Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon planners and Army leaders are locked in behind-the-scenes debate over a civilian proposal to scrap a partially formed new infantry division.

The move, if approved, would save an estimated $300 million a year and help President Johnson meet congressional demands for $6 billion in budget cuts in return for a tax increase.

★ ★ ★

The issue is still very much in doubt. No final decisions have been made.

There was one report that Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, is prepared to carry the fight to the President. However, the general is to retire in about six weeks.

Top civilian analysts contend that dropping the 6th Infantry Division would leave the United States with a large enough home-based force to meet any foreseeable crisis overseas.

★ ★ ★

They also argue that, as one of them put it, "we can get a higher degree of readiness with a concentration of skilled personnel" in fewer units.

Dropping the 6th Division would leave the United States with the equivalent of nearly six Army and Marine divisions in its central force.

CITE NEED

Army leaders, fighting for a seven-division force, claim the central reserve of troops for crisis deployment has been dangerously depleted to meet Vietnam war demands.

★ ★ ★

They long have urged a sizable callup of National Guard and Reserve troops, but Johnson has chosen to limit the recent muster to some 20,000 citizen soldiers.

TOLD PLANS

Then-Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced plans to start forming the 6th Infantry Division last September.

About 8,000 of the division's contemplated 16,000 men are at Fort Campbell, Ky., and organization of the division has proceeded only part way.

Since McNamara's announcement there have been several significant developments which bear on the fate of the new division:

● Johnson has ordered a boost of nearly 25,000 men in the U.S. commitment to the Vetnam war because of intensified enemy offensives.

● The President called up more than 23,000 Army, Navy and Air Force Reservists and Guardsmen, about 10,000 of them to serve in Vietnam and the re- the remainder to bolster the central U.S. force.

★ ★ ★

● The unanticipated boost in U.S. troop levels, triggered by the enemy's winter offensive, will add nearly $1 billion to war costs already running at better than $25 billion a year.

★ ★ ★

● Congress has demanded sharp administration spending cuts at a time when war costs are rising.

Interim Paper Suing Detroit Teamster Unit

By JIM LONG

An interim Detroit newspaper filed a $3,291,000 damage suit in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday against Detroit Teamster Local 372 for allegedly causing it to cease publication.

The suit, started by the Daily Press, Inc., also asks that the local, headed by Claire O'Connor, be ordered to pay $67,000 to the corporation for newspapers for which it was never compensated.

★ ★ ★

CITES LOSSES

The damages include $791,000 for loss of business profits, and $2.5 million in punitive damages, according to the suit.

The $67,000 claim involves what the suit describes as an unlawful transaction by O'Connor and Elton Schade, local secretary-treasurer, in collecting funds from some Teamsters and then paying the funds to other Teamster members without the consent of the Daily Press.

★ ★ ★

Attorney William A. O'Brien, who with his law partner Noel L. Lippman are representing the Daily Press, said that no prosecutor had been contacted about the allegation of conversion of funds.

The suit was assigned to Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn.

DOCKET LOAD

O'Brien said that the legal action was intited in Oakland County because the Circuit Court docket is not as heavy as in Wayne County.

"We could get to trial in nine months in Oakland, said O'Brien, "while it could take as long as three to five years in Wayne."

★ ★ ★

Since some of the defendants in the suit reside in Oakland County it is permissable to file the suit in Pontiac, he said.

CITES CONTRACT

The suit contends that the local breached a contract it had with the newspaper, and that officers of the union interfered with contractural relationship.

The defendants ordered its members to quit working on Jan. 22, 18 days after the paper had entered into an agreement with the union, according to the suit.

★ ★ ★

At that time the Teamster local contended that the Daily Press had failed to live up to a contract calling for the employment of all Teamsters wanting to work at a basic wage rate of $183 a week. It was about $33 a week above what the Teamsters earned under the old contract at the News and Free Press.

★ ★ ★

Among the defendants named in the suit are Frank S. Fitzsimmons, acting international president of the union while its president, James R. Hoffa, serves a prison term for being convicted of tampering with a jury in Tennesee; Robert Holmes, a vice president of the international; and Charles O'Brien, an international representative of the union.

$80,000 OK'd for Oakland Planning Unit

A grant of $80,000 to the Oakland County Planning Commission has been approved by the U.S. Housing and Urban Development office.

The grant will be used to make an extensive plan for the county's development, according to county planners. An additional $40,000 will be added locally.

★ ★ ★

Officials said the grant will cover the second phase of the project. In the first phase, starting in 1962, some $600,000 was allocated by local and federal sources to collect data on county population, facilities, resources, etc.

The second phase of the plan will use the data to project future growth and development, county planners said.

It is planned to hire the consultant firm of Development and Resources Corp., of New York headed by David Lilienthal, former head of the Tennessee Valley Authority and Atomic Energy Commission.

UAW Local 594 Hall Riddled by Gunshots

A union headquarters of a United Auto Workers local in Pontiac was discovered riddled with bullets yesterday.

Pontiac police said UAW Local 594 at 525 S. East Blvd. was hit by numerous shotgun blasts and pistol bullets sometime Wednesday night. The building was unoccupied at the time, police said.

Allies Wind Up A Shau Sweep; N. Viets Return

PHU BAI, Vietnam (AP) — The allies ended their monthlong sweep through the A Shau Valley today and North Vietnamese were believed moving back to the area, their biggest supply and staging base in South Vietnam. U.S. officers said the drive through the valley had killed 726 enemy troops.

Lt. Gen. William L. Rosson, the U.S. commander of the big allied invasion into the enemy stronghold southwest of Hue, said his forces turned up a fourth of the enemy supplies stockpiled inside the 25-mile-long valley.

★ ★ ★

The cost, according to the U.S. Command, included 139 Americans killed, 662 wounded seriously enough to require hospitalization, 21 helicopters destroyed and 108 damaged.

There was no report from South Vietnamese forces in the operation, named Delaware.

MONSOONS APPROACHING

U.S. commanders said the allied force—estimated earlier at more than 15,000 men—closed out the operation in the valley 370 miles northeast of Saigon because the approaching monsoon rains were about to cut off their air suppor .

Maj. Gen. John J. Tolson, whose 1st Air Cavalry Division on April 19 made the first allied invasion into the valley in two years, said Hanoi should realize American forces can go back into the valley any time.

the additional 12 policemen recently recruited graduate from police school.

★ ★ ★

Various plans for interim security policemen were suggested.

Currently there is a policeman with a two-way radio patrolling the shopping area in the afternoons.

NOT SURE

A request for a pamphlet detailing a shop owner's rights was brought up by several shop owners who claimed they were not sure about the limits of their legal rights when dealing with undesirables hanging around their stores.

The possibility of a class on the legal rights of a store owner also was discussed.

★ ★ ★

Municipal Court Judge Cecil B. McCallum said the courts also were concerned with the shoplifting proglem.

Boy, 15, Gets Lung Transplant

EDINBURGH, Scotland (UPI) — A 15-year-old poisoning victim rested today from a lung transplant operation that offers hope for lung cancer victims.

Alex Smith, the youngest son in a Scottish family of nine, received one lung yesterday from an unnamed 18-year-old girl who died two hours before the operation began, hospital sources said.

★ ★ ★

Doctors said his condition was "satisfactory."

The operation was said to be the fourth attempted lung transplant in the world. The three other patients, two in the United States and one in Japan, died shortly after the operations.

LAST RESORT

If it succeeds the operation could become an acceptable last-resort treatment for lung cancer, medical observers said.

Prof. K. W. Donald of Edinburgh University said Smith's operation "involved a pretty new procedure" but he did not elaborate.

★ ★ ★

Officials at the Royal Infirmary where the surgery was performed released little information but relatives of the youth said he was flown to Edinburgh from Stornaway, on the Isle of Lewis in the outer Hebrides off northern Scotland where he attended school.

His uncle, Arthur MacIver, said the boy was taken to the infirmary in Stornaway after swallowing some weed killer.

★ ★ ★

Hospital sources said the lung graft was considered less difficult than a heart transplant but they said both operations presented a danger from tissue rejection.

Plan to Retire Revealed by Long-Time Supervisor

BIRMINGHAM — After 35 years on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, David Levinson is retiring.

The 72-year-old businessman, who has served as chairman of the influential ways and means committee for the last 10 years, has announced that he will not run for office when the job of supervisor becomes an elective one rather than appointive. The election is expected to be called this fall. However it could be delayed by lawsuits.

"I've been thinking about retiring, and this seems like a good time," Levinson commented.

The supervisor added that he foresees "strong partisan attitudes" on the county-body as a result of the recent Michigan Supreme Court ruling on redistricting.

Previously, each township, regardless of population, was represented on the board by its supervisor, while supervisors for cities were appointed by their governing bodies.

RICHARD SANDERSON

GOP Official Runs for House

Richard H. Sanderson of Clawson, a member of the Republican State Central Committee, announced his candidacy today for state representative from the 66th Legislative District.

If elected, Sanderson said he would work toward the goals established by Gov. Romney.

Sanderson, 35, of 211 Essex, is employed by General Motors Corp. Truck & Coach Division as a staff assistant in the engineering department, responsible for engineering communications.

Since moving to Clawson in 1959, Sanderson, a graduate of the Walled Lake High School and the General Motors Institute, has taken an active part in civic and political groups in the community.

CIVIC ACTIVITIES

Chairman of the campaign policy committee of State Central, Sanderson is a precinct captain and delegate and a member of the Oakland County GOP Executive Committee, the Clawson Republican Club and the Oakland County Young Republicans.

His civic activities include serving on the Clawson Board of Review, the Clawson School Needs Committee, the Clawson Youth Protective Service and the Clawson Chapter of People to People.

★ ★ ★

Sanderson said that the basic promise of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness has often been disregarded and subverted during the history of America and that the responsibility to fulfill it lies with all three sectors of society: government, business and labor, and individuals and their associations.

COURT DECISIONS

However, the Supreme Court decision, which affirmed the constitutionality of the 1966 "one man, one vote" law, will divide the county into districts of equal population, each to elect a supervisor.

The redistricting will make necessary the election of the entire board, possibly this fall.

Levinson sees at least one advantage to retirement—a longer Florida vacation. As ways and means chairman, he had to be on hand each spring for the annual formulation of the county budget.

★ ★ ★

In addition to his committee work, Levinson is a former chairman of the board of supervisors—the only one still serving on the board. He occupied the post in 1940-41.

Levinson was Bloomfield Township Justice of the Peace prior to his appointment to the board. He graduated from Birmingham High School and received a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Micihigan.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Ivor Housler, principal at Vaughan Elementary School, will direct the summer 4 R's recreation and education program in this school district this year.

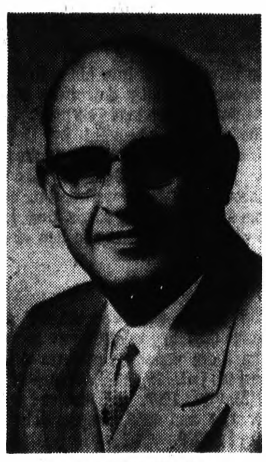

Recreation Director Edwin Wichert will be in charge of the recreation phase of the program.

Assisting Housler in supervision of the educational phase will be Mike Vartanian, assistant principal of Bloomfield Hills Junior High and Robert Thomadsen, assistant principal at East Hills Junior High.

★ ★ ★

The program will start June 20 in most areas of the district. Courses will vary in length, and Aug. 17 will be the last scheduled day of activity.

Brochures are being printed, according to Wichert, and will be mailed to each family in the school district. Additional information will be available through the recreation office.

OCC Head's Departure Leaves Questions

"Jack the Jet," as he is sometimes called, has been described as a man "who wants to be where the action is" and as "too restless to sit behind a desk" handling routine administrative details.

GETS BORED

When the job is done, Tirrell gets bored. "I feel like a surgeon only taking out tonsils and appendix," he remarked.

He left the St. Louis (Mo.) Junior College District after he played a leading role in establishing three junior colleges. Now he leaves OCC after creating a bold new idea in learning — programmed self-instruction.

★ ★ ★

Some insiders have claimed that Tirrell and some other top administrators have spent more time out of town working for PACE than they have back in the offices at OCC.

★ ★ ★

A board spokesman said Tirrell made these out-of-town trips on "his own time" but another board source revealed he did work for PACE during the week.

MADE UP TIME

The trustee adds that Tirrell let the board know about his ventures and that he made up the missed time on weekends and nights.

Rumors that Tirrell may take a job elsewhere can apparently be dismissed by the fact the board has agreed to let him and his family remain in the George A. Bee mansion in Bloomfield Hills for one year until his son completes school.

They rent the 10-room house with an indoor swimming pool from the college for $175 a month.

★ ★ ★

But Tirrell in return for the house and $41,000 has agreed to give the college some free consulting services on his "thinkbelt and thinklink" idea.

ASSOCIATED WITH PACE

This concept would include sending portable or temporary facilities into an area to meet the particular needs of its residents.

Three of the four original officers who have left are associated with PACE.

★ ★ ★

A college spokesman says they left for more money or prestige rather than pressures or dissatisfaction at OCC.

Former Vice President-Treasurer James W. Hobson left the college last summer to become vice chancellor in charge of business at UCLA. He was secretary-treasurer of PACE.

PRESIDENT OF FIRM

Dr. Albert A. Canfield, former vice president for curriculum, research and development, left in March to become the first director of community college education for the State of Washington. He was president of PACE.

Dr. Ervin L. Harlacher, who was soon to become executive vice president, leaves July 1 to become president of the new Monmouth (N.J.) Community College. He's not officially connected with PACE.

★ ★ ★

Right now he's the No. 1 man at OCC four days of the week; the other day he's in New Jersey.

A college official says the board is looking at eight candidates for the president's job from within and outside the college and that there is "plenty of breathing time" before Harlacher leaves.

UNIQUE ASPECT

A unique aspect is that a six-man committee of faculty and administrators has been organized to review candidates and make a recommendation.

It is likely that an interim president would be named if the top man is not found by July.

★ ★ ★

The situation is so confusing, some people who have business with the administration find it more practical to address letters "To Whom it May Concern."

90 Educators at Drug Parley

More than 90 educators from Oakland County attended yesterday's opening of a two-day drug conference origanized by Dean Arthur Jalkanen of Oakland Community College and the Oakland County Prosecutor's office.

Presenting the historical development of drug dependence at the meeting at the Holiday Inn in Bloomfield Township was Charles Voll, who represented the Bureau of Dangerous Drugs in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Voll represented the enforcement concept of drug use. In his review of the history of drug use, his response was "strict police enforcement," which was somewhat questioned by the educators.

It appeared that the feeling was that enforcement has reached a saturation point. The educators felt that more personal involvement was necessary to cope with the total problem.

EDUCATIONSL SETTINGS

The second day of the conference today relates to the psychological concept of drug abuse and includes a panel of educators who will react to issues present in educational settings partaining to drug abuse.

The summary of the c Nference indicates that in many areas there are no real answers. The effect of marijuana may be profound and long lasting t chromosomes and genes, but present research can not scientifically establish this point.

It is the opinion of the professionals that educators ought to level with young pelple and provide accurate data and as much es they know rather than to use "scare tactics" to inhibit youth.

The conference was organized in an attempt to create knowledgeable personnel in each secondary school in Oakland County, said Jaikanen.

Reaganite Sees Rocky as Oregon Key

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's Oregon backers say their prospects in the Republican presidential primary rest with a man who is not on the Oregon ballot—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

"Will the Rockefeller people campaign intensively for write-in votes? And how successful will they be? That will be the key for us," says Fred Van Natta, director in Oregon of an unsanctioned campaign for the California governor.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller's backers have not disclosed their plans.

Reagan and Richard M. Nixon are alone on the May 28 Republican presidential primary election ballot.

THREE SPEECHES

Reagan has not campaigned in Oregon although he has given at least three speeches in the state since he became governor of California. But his campaigners are working full blast for him here.

An estimated 1,000 volunteers are distributing about 120,000 pieces of campaign literature on street corners and in door-to-door campaigning. Oregon has 438,000 registered Republicans.

★ ★ ★

Ten television advertisements are being used, ranging from 20 seconds to a half-hour. Van Natta estimates the television bill will be $50,000, and the total campaign cost will be $85,000. He says half of this comes from Oregon contributions, the rest from the National Citizens for Reagan organization.

★ ★ ★

Nixon forces dispute his figures. Alan K. Abner, Nixon's campaign coordinator in Oregon, estimates the Reagan backers have spent at least $300,000 and says it easily could exceed the $400,000 he estimates is going into the Nixon campaign.

Van Natta had planned the Reagan campaign to reach a peak in the May 15-20 period. On May 19, for example an eight-page tabloid for Reagan will be inserted in some 600,000 copies of newspapers around the state.

Reagan received 22 per cent of the vote in Tuesday's Nebraska primary without campaigning there. Since then, Van Natta has stepped up his activity.

★ ★ ★

He sent telegrams to 50 Portlanders, appealing for more money. He says he hopes to get $8,000 from this, adding that $1,200 has come in so far.

"Nixon probably will get 65 to 70 per cent of the vote. The rest could be split 15 for Rockefeller and 15 for us. Or it could go 10 or less for Rockefeller and 20 or more for us," Van Natta says.

★ ★ ★

Howell Appling, Nixon's Oregon campaign chairman, estimates Reagan will get 30-35 per cent of the vote, and Nixon 50-60 per cent, depending on what Rockefeller does.

Van Natta says Appling uses that high a figure for Reagan to try to make a 20-25 per cent outcome appear as a blow to the California governor.

Negro Gets New Post as MSU President's Aide

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State University Board of Trustees today appointed a Negro to the newly created post of assistant to the president for equal opportunity.

Dr. George Johnson, professor of administration and higher education at MSU, will assist Dr. John Hannah, MSU president and chairman of the U. S. civil Rights Commission.

★ ★ ★

The MSU trustees pledged an all-out effort to increase the enrollment of Negro students at the university, to add more Negroes to the faculty and to place more Negroes in high administrative posts.

Establishment of a center for race and urban affairs also was recommended.

GIFTS, GRANTS

The board accepted gifts and grants totaling $3,692,817, including two grants from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare totaling $2,007,214 for student aid programs.

The trustees announced that the June commencement speaker will be Dr. Benjamin Mays, president of Moorhouse College at Atlanta, Ga., who read the eulogy sermon at Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s funeral.

★ ★ ★

Also announced was the appointment of James Bibbs as assistant track coach. Bibbs, a former Eastern Michigan University track star, has been track coach at Ecorse High School since 1964.

FBI Arrests Mafia Suspect

DETROIT (AP) — The FBI announced Thursday the arrest of a reputed Mafia chief for allegedly forging $7,250 in checks and transporting them in interstate commerce.

Anthony Cimini, 46, of Grosse Pointe Park was arraigned before U.S. District Judge Ralph Freeman and released on $1,000 personal bond.

Cimini was named in testimony before the U. S. Senate rackets committee as one of the chiefs on the Detroit-area organized crime syndicate. He was considered to be on the third level in the Mafia strata of authority.

Paul Stoddard, FBI special agent in charge, said Cimini was accused of taking three checks from Detroit to New York City. The checks were made payable to Empire Cartage Company, a firm operated by Cimini, and drawn on the account of the United Trucking Company.

Cimini also faces a federal charge in connection with the recent highjacking of a load of color television sets.

5 Killed Near Grayling as 3 Vehicles Collide

GRAYLING (AP) — Two married couples and a man who was returning home from work were killed Thursday afternoon in a three-vehicle accident near Grayling in northern Lower Michigan.

Crawford County Sheriff Arthur Clough said one vehicle was either passing another or was being driven on the wrong side of the road during a heavy rainstorm.

★ ★ ★

Four persons who died were in one car. They were identified as James Forsang, 48, of Los Angeles, Calif., his wife, Lillian, 43; Ernest Demo 57 of Standish, and his wife, Flossie, 53. Also killed was Mack McLeod, 28, of Kalkaska, the driver of a pickup truck. Forsang was the driver of the car.

The sheriff said a car driven by Mark Robillard of Traverse City crashed into the side of the pickup. Robillard was taken to a hospital in Grayling, where he was reported in satisfactory condition.

The accident happened 4½ miles west of Grayling on M-72.

McLeod was returning home after completing work at the Bear Archery Co. at Grayling at the time, the sheriff said.

★ ★ ★

The sheriff said no one was thrown from the vehicles which remained entwined after the wreck. He said the front of the Forsang car was pushed into the seating area.

★ ★ ★

The sheriff said the investigation was continuing.

Concorde Jet May Never Take Off

PARIS (AP) — There are nagging doubts on both sides of the English Channel that the supersonic airliner Concorde will ever go into service.

The main reasons are financial and political. As for the plane's technical capabilities, French and British engineers connected with the joint project are convinced Concorde can do everything that was promised for it.

★ ★ ★

"If Concorde never goes into production, it won't be the fault of the plane," a project engineer declared.

The doubts spring from a feeling that the British government, under pressure to make economies, may withdraw from the project when its treaty with France permits it to; that is, after the flight-testing phase of the prototypes.

OPEN TALK

In Paris, there is open talk about an "anti-Concorde lobby" in England. Associated Press inquiries in London show that this "lobby" extends even to the Cabinet of Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

The feeling of these anti-Concorde officials is that the Concorde as a prestige project ranks low in Britain's scale of priorities while the country is economically beset.

★ ★ ★

Spiraling costs provide arguments for Concorde's foes.

France and England signed an agreement Nov. 29, 1962 to build what was to be the world's first supersonic passenger plane. Joint development costs were estimated at $420 million, to be shared equally by Sud Aviation, No. 1 airframe builder in France, and the British Aircraft Corp., with the backing of their governments. The agreement involved a commitment to construct two-later four-prototype aircraft and two extra airframes for structural testing.

COST SPIRALS

Two years later, the figure was revised to $784 million. By 1966 the estimated development costs had surpassed $1 billion, and last year were calculated to be $1.4 billion, plus $168 million in direct government spending for tools and test facilities. About $600 million has been spent.

In addition, there have been reports that the builders will lose more than $2 million on every plane sold unless orders for Concorde increase dramatically. So far, 74 paid options have been placed.

★ ★ ★

Based on a production run of 100 planes, it has been estimated that the real cost per copy will be $2.5 million over the purchase price agreed to by the airlines. The difference presumably would be made up by the two governments.

"If it turns out that the British taxpayer will be contributing up to 50 per cent of every Concorde passenger's fare, we'll have a lot of explaining to do," a British official remarked.

KEENLY AWARE

French officials are keenly aware of anti-Concorde feeling across the channel. They recall that the newly elected Labor government tried in 1964 to withdraw from the project, but sat tight under a French threat to take the matter to the International Court of Justice.

One official said that if the British canceled at the end of the flight-testing phase, France probably would be forced to drop the project — "It would be too much for us to carry on alone."

He hoped, as other French authorities do, that Britain will view Concorde as the French see it: A way to preserve a European-based civil aircraft industry.

This argument weighs heavily among British authorities who support Concorde. Having cut back on defense spending, threatening the British military aircraft industry, the Wilson government would be foolhardy to deprive Britain of a civil aircraft industry as well, they reason.

In addition, some British authorities see Concorde as the last living functional form of cooperation with France. To ditch Concorde, they think, would be to ditch all prospects of entering the Common Market in the foreseeable future. French-British relations have been strained by French opposition to Britain's Common Market bid.

★ ★ ★

A sign of this strain appeared last January after The Associated Press disclosed that the maiden flight of the first Concorde prototype would not take place Feb. 28 as planned.

★ ★ ★

French Transport Minister Jean Chamant blamed the delay on late delivery of the British-made Olympus 593 engines to the Sud Aviation works in Toulouse where the French-built prototype, 001, has been assembled. In fact, engines were delivered ahead of schedule. Chamant later retracted his charge.

The latest word is that 001 will be ready for its first flight in September by that time, its British-built mate, 002, should be ready on schedule to fly at Filton, England.

'MINOR PROBLEMS'

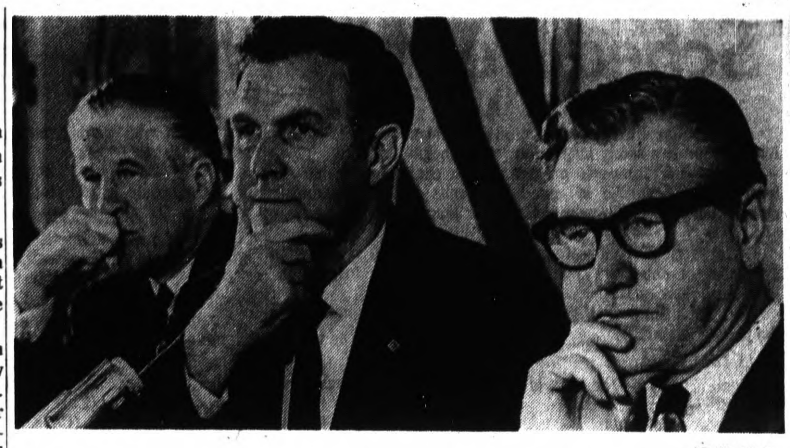

Spokesmen for Sud Aviation say the delay in getting 001 off the ground has been due to minor problems and does not involve errors in design. The basic timetable calls for certification of airworthiness and production in 1971.

Since the American supersonic transport, the Boeing 2707, has been sent back to he drawing boards for design changes, he Concorde has a built-in, four-year lead over its competitor.

★ ★ ★

All of Concorde's problems would not be over even with an irrevocable British government imprimatur. There is still the problem of the sonic boom.

Te builders are keeping an eye on Washington to see how the U.S. Congress deals with it. A ban of supersonic flights over the United States could compromise Concorde's commercial future, nearly one-third of the orders have been placed by U.S. carriers which have overland routes.

Black Jaguar Born in Philadelphia Zoo

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia zoo officials reported Thursday the birth of a black jaguar.

Zoo officials said it's only the third known black jaguar in an American zoo. One other is located here and is the father of the new arrival. Zoo officials said the other black jaguar in captivity in North America is at Jacksonville, Fla.

★ ★ ★

The baby jaguar was born to a tawny yellow mother about May 5, but keepers did not check on it for fear of disturbing the mother and possibly causing death of the baby.

Most people don't know much about what goes on under the hood of a car.

And they figure, what they don't know can't hurt them. But it can. Take dirt in an engine, for example. It can form deposits on moving parts. If enough deposits build up, some of the parts stop moving.

And then you're stuck. (At worst, 100 miles from home with nobody around to help you. At best, for a repair bill.)

To help keep this from happening to you, both Mobil Premium and Mobil Regular Gasoline have a Detergent that actually helps clean your engine, while you drive. When you fill your tank with Mobil Detergent Gasoline, it begins cleaning your engine after you've driven just one mile.

It will clean a dirty carburetor. And keep it clean.

It will clean up a dirty oil screen.

It will help keep pistons and rings clean.

It will help keep intake valves clean.

It will help keep the cylinders clean.

It will even clean your engine's PCV valve. (An anti-pollution device that helps keep the air cleaner outside. And keeps your engine cleaner inside.)

The cleaner your car's engine, the less gasoline it will waste. The less likely that something will go wrong with it. And the more you can forget about what goes on under the hood.

Next time you need gasoline, pull into a Mobil Station.

And start cleaning your engine just one mile after you've pulled out.

You can also play "Clean Up with Mobil" by writing to Mobil Oil Corporation, P.O. Box 538, Detroit, Michigan 48232

Only licensed drivers eligible. Void where prohibited. No purchase required. Car given somewhere in U.S.A.

Your next splurge could be paid for by Mobil.

Pick a splurge, any splurge. Will $2,500 help? Then you should play our new game, Clean Up With Mobil.

Prizes range all the way up to $2,500. And all the way down to 50¢.

Aside from money we're also giving away a car every single day. (A brand new Plymouth Barracuda.)

All you have to do to play is visit any Mobil Station where you see a Clean Up With Mobil banner. There's no need to buy anything.

But if you do decide to buy something, you'll find out that although we're sensational at giving away money, we're even better at taking care of your car.

Schedule for Home Fire Safety Inspections Is Announced

The Pontiac Fire Department today announced the schedule for its home fire safety inspection, which begins Monday.

During the two-week program, five engine companies—at least 25 men—will be in scheduled areas daily, available to citizens who request inspections of their homes.

★ ★ ★

"The men will be knocking on every door in the area so that everyone we can reach will get a chance at the inspection," Fire Chief Charles Marion said.

He emphasized that the program is strictly voluntary on the part of the public.

GOAL OF DRIVE

Goal of the drive, he said, is to ultimately reduce house fires in the city by 50 per cent.

Also available from the inspectors will be invalid stickers for persons who want firemen to be aware of an evacuation problem in their homes.

FDA Head Calls Vitamin Pills Useless

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. James L. Goddard, head of the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), believes vitamin pills for the most part are useless but he will make no attempt to cut off their sale to millions of Americans.

Goddard said "there is great misunderstanding" about hearings scheduled by FDA next month on proposed regulations to control the content and labeling of vitamins and vitamin supplements. They will begin Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

"We are not trying to keep people from buying vitamins," he told UPI in an interview. "There is no intent to rule vitamins out of the market." Goddard said he doubted this would be possible anyway in this country's entrenched pill-taking society.

The vitamin manufacturers aren't so sure. They have mounted a considerable campaign against proposed FDA imposition of what is known in the trade as "the crepe label" — a label that says in effect vitamin pills are unnecessary for most people.

'CAN BE USEFUL'

Goddard agrees "for the most part," but said he believes vitamins can be useful on occasions where people are found by physicians to be unable to absorb needed vitamins from their food.

Nor would he rule out the use of iron, for example, for children in periods of great growth — such as infancy or adolescence — for pregnant women, or for persons with medical problems.

★ ★ ★

Goddard's advice to the person who disagnose himself to have iron deficiency anemia would be to first spend money on a laboratory test rather than on a bottle of pills.

A man responsible for administering an agency with far-reaching regulatory power that affect every American, Goddard sees "no evidence of a widespread vitamin deficiency in our society."

DIET GAP CITED

A recent Agriculture Department report said flatly that half of the households in the United States had diets that failed to meet the allowances for one or more of the nutrients recommended by the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council.

The vitamin industry hopes to make much of the report at the FDA hearings even though it was limited to a sample of 7,500 households and has posed as many questions as the answers it sought to provide.

★ ★ ★

Asked about the report, Goddard smiled and said diplomatically that FDA will welcome any scientific data at the vitamin hearings. He personally would like to see the detailed data behind the agriculture report.

Junior Editors Quiz on BABY ROBINS

QUESTION: How do baby robins grow?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: At nesting time the cheerful robin becomes a busy bird. By April, robins often pair off and begin nest building, although nests are often constructed in May and June.

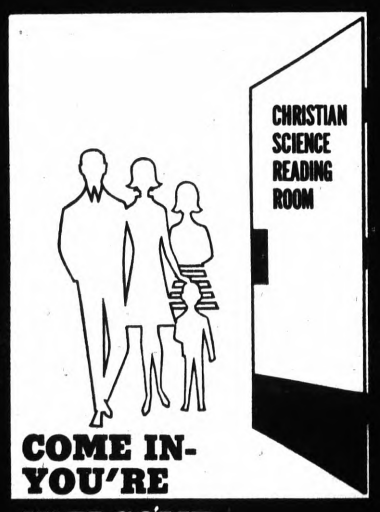

Since robins love to pull worms out of lawns they build nests near houses, picking convenient spots in trees, sheds and outbuildings. Mother robin does most of the nest building, though the father may help with keeping the beautiful robin's-egg blue eggs warm while the mother snaches a refreshing worm.

Inside the shell the unhatched birds have horny bumps on their beaks. When ready, a chick will drill several holes in the shell, which will crack and allow him to wiggle out.

He is wet and tired, but quite soon is rested enough to open his huge red mouth and start pleading with his parents for worms and more worms. At first his eyes are closed and he has no feathers, but after 10 days, his eyes are open and his flight feathers well developed.

After two or three weeks, he is teetering on the edge of the nest, ready for the great adventure. He flutters off and lands, with his parents still feeding him. Very soon he can really fly — even find his own worms. Then he's on his own.

Try This Easy Method

DEAR POLLY — Mrs. R. J. M. wanted to know how to keep her baby's toes from curling up while putting his shoes on. My mom told me, years ago, to place baby on his stomach and then put his shoes on. It works like a charm. — JOAN

DEAR POLLY — I am a mother of four, plus many visiting ones, and I want to tell Mrs. R. J. M. that if a baby curls up his toes when you are trying to put his shoes on, just hold his leg out stiff so he cannot bend it and hold the back of his sock stretched up the back of the leg. This makes it easy to get a shoe on.—MRS. V.D.

DEAR POLLY — I am sure that at one time or another ladies have had my problem of getting marks on the right heels of suede shoes when driving a car. I do hope they will be kind enough to share some solutions. —MRS. E.S.

DEAR POLLY — I think the vacuum cleaner is the housewive's best friend. However, there is one place I will bet you have never used it before and that is for cleaning the stove. Salt, rice, bits of macaroni and other crumbs of dry foods often collect under the burners.

To make a messy job easier, just attach your dusting brush to the wand, then clean out all of this before starting your regular cleaning. For corners, use the handy crevice tool. — IRIS

DEAR POLLY — About 40 years ago I was a shoe saleslady in a large department store and our method for getting a shoe on a baby's foot, was to start the shoe on the foot with both hands. Then, using the palm of one hand, press gently on the knee to keep the leg straight. For some odd reason, the toes uncurl and the foot straightens out so the shoe slips on easily.

I have used this on tiny tots, grandchildren and even great-grandchildren and it really works. I do hope this helps that young mother. — MRS. C.M.V.

OCCEO Community Aide

She's a Major Link With Poor

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fourth in a series on the people and programs of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity — the antipoverty war.)

By ED BLUNDEN

Working to help the disadvantaged comes naturally to Rosemary Gayton. She was helping them before most war on poverty programs began.

And now she's taken it up on a full-time basis as a community aide for the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO).

★ ★ ★

Miss Gayton, 28, of 341 S. Marshall, holds one of the key positions in the OCCEO —she's the person who directly contacts the poor in their own homes.

As a community aide, she knocks on doors, gives counseling, fills out forms, makes referrals, and in all, is in the front line of the poverty war.

The community aide is the main link between the home of the disadvantaged and the coordinated centers where they can help.

Miss Gayton works out of the North Opportunity Center, 7 W. Lawrence, and covers the neighborhood between Wide Track, East Boulevard and Pike, a predominantly Negro and Latin American area.

Before joining the OCCEO staff nine months ago, Miss Gayton worked for many years as a volunteer with the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

"I have always been interested in this work," she said. Besides her 40-hour workweek, Miss Gayton still volunteers her time on church projects at St. Vincent's church in Pontiac.

OUTGOING PERSONALITY

With an outgoing personality, Miss Gayton especially enjoys the personal contact her job brings. She finds her fluency in Spanish very useful.

In describing some of her recent cases, she recalls how a Mexican woman with six children became ill, had to be hospitalized and at the same time faced eviction from her home. She could not read or write.

Miss Gayton saw to it that the woman got assistance for her medical bills and also found a new place to live.

She used the technical services at the North Center, but also relied on a group of women volunteers from Birmingham and Troy who donated $400 for a down payment on a home the woman could afford.

In another instance, a 35-year-old Negro returned to her area from a long term in prison, determined to reform but with few prospects.

Miss Gayton was able to see that he eventually found steady employment and consequently an improved outlook on life.

Miss Gayton enjoys working with young people the most. "If there is emotional trouble among the parents, the children are going to be affected, too. They have to be helped as they grow up," she said.

Rosemary Gayton: Helping Others Suits Her

Roddy McDowell Hates to Be Typed

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Roddy McDowell has a notion that success makes its own problems for actors. "The most difficult thing for an actor to overcome is success," he says.

McDowell, who came to Mexico to film "Five Card Stud," a Paramount picture starring Dean Martin and Robert Mitchum complained that as soon as an actor is a success in a part, producers only want to give him similar parts, "and there's no fun in that."

★ ★ ★

First, for the London-born actor, was a series of successes as a child actor ("How Green Was My Valley," "My Friend Flicka," "Son of Fury," "Lassie Come Home," etc.).

But growning up, he said "nobody in Hollywood realized I wasn't a child actor anymore and kept offering me roles for a wide-eyed 12-year-old.

CRAZY BUSINESS

"But this is a crazy business. When you're a success in a dramatic role, producers think of you in terms of straight dramatic parts afterwards and you have to try to prove that you can also do comedy (which he's out to prove in "Five Card Stud").

Then when you've been a success in a comedy role you have to prove all over again that you can also do drama."

★ ★ ★

McDowell is a man of many parts. He is a top photographer and a contributing editor to Harper's Bazaar, and has had photo spreads in national magazines.

★ ★ ★

He is a dyed-in-the-wool old movie buff and has a tremendous collection of autographs of movie stars going back to the days of the silents, plus a collection of memorabilia such as silent star Milton Sills' contract with Warner Brothers, Maude Adams' pantaloons and Stan Laurel's hat.

"You know," McDowell said with a smile, "the other day Mr. Hathaway (the director) had me dashing out of a saloon, jump on a horse and go galloping off. I started laughing wren I suddenly realized 'this is just like being in the movies.'"

Book Review

The place is the Los Angeles area. The people are what usually are called swingers.

Swingers are more sophisticated than hippies.

★ ★ ★

They take baths, and don't bother with the flower, gong and gave bit. But they also use sex and umpteen kinds of

"A Case for the Angels" by Gavin Lambert

naracotics to turn themselves on, so they won't have to think about life, or commit themselves to anything.

They seem to be self-flagellating, imitation hedonists.

NARRATED BY GIRL

The story takes place in the span of three days, Dec. 24 through Dec. 26, and is narrated by Dora, and English girl.

The trouble with Dora is that, in the beginning, she shows traces of being a solid citizen, as the swingers would say. Somehow she has let herself get married to Keith, a complete zero who is afraid to face any responsibility at all.

★ ★ ★

But the marriage is only a convenience, and Keith still runs around with a crowd presided over by a couple of amoral brothers, whose principal interest in life is conducting sex orgies. Complete with narcotic effects, of course.

For contrast, there is a bizarre episode in which Keith's grandmother — a full-blooded Indian, made rich by oil wells — unexpectedly arrives for a Christmas visit.

ILLUMINATING

In case you're interested in what crawls from under an overturned rock, this stroy — written by the author of "Inside Daisy Clover" — is quite illuminating; it lets you know what sort of strange creatures exist in the present world. It is a comedy, if that classification can be used to cover the macabre, and it is a thoroughly bitter one.

Truck Too Fancy to Drive Around

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Joe Lanza owns a pickup truck which is his pride and joy, though he never drives it.

It is a fiery red 1934 Ford that he has provided with 14 coats of lacquer, pearl white upholstery, a carpeted rear with a built-in bar, television, tape recorder and two lounge chairs.

★ ★ ★

"It's too fancy to drive around," the local policeman admits. "I just go to the garage every day and work on it.

"Sometimes I add new features or change the color scheme. I just take it out to enter it in shows."
