Cold Wave Follows Storm in Central U.S.

McNamara in Paris

N-Sharing Views Discussed

PARIS (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara began meeting with nine other Atlantic alliance defense ministers today to discuss the complex and delicate problem of sharing nuclear responsibility.

McNamara was expected to make the main speech, detailing U.S. concepts on how nuclear strategy can best be achieved.

France was boycotting the meeting as part of her opposition to any closer ties with in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Others not attending were Norway, Luxembourg and Portugal, who have said they are not especially interested, and Iceland, which has no army or defense minister.

With McNamara was Undersecretary of State George W. Ball. They are on what is described as an exploratory mission to sound out the European allies for their ideas on how nuclear responsibility can be shared.

The United States as the alliance's chief nuclear power has been searching some time now for a method to meet the demands of other allies, particularly West Germany, that they be fully consulted on any recourse to nuclear weapons.

At least two of the ideas which the ministers will deal with have been up for discussion within NATO circles for some time.

These include the proposal for a multinational surface fleet — MLF — armed with Polaris missiles and manned by crews of mixed nationality. President Charles de Gaulle strongly opposes the plan.

Another project is the "Atlantic nuclear force," or ANF, an idea first advanced by Britain. This would provide for a collective nuclear force linked to NATO and operating, like the MLF, under the supreme allied commander.

Four Children Killed in Indiana Home Fire

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI) — Four children were killed early today when fire swept their home on Lafayette's south side.

Authorities said the victims, ranging in age from 3 months to 18 years, were the children of Mr. and Mrs. William Jackman. Two other children and the father escaped the fire. The mother, Priscilla, was at work.

The room has been sealed since Nov. 19, the day on which two of the patients died. The first death occurred on the 18th.

PRIVILEGES WITHDRAWN

Two hospital staff doctors — Dr. Lloyd Goodwin, D.O., 52, and Dr. Stanley Abrams, D.O., 42 — have had their operating privileges withdrawn by the hospital in the course of investigations into the deaths.

Both men are anesthesiologists. Dr. Goodwin, of Pleasant Ridge, is chief anesthesiologist at the hospital.

Dr. Abrams, a West Bloomfield Township resident, is an associate.

Consulate Damaged

TORONTO (AP) — A bomb exploded outside the Yugoslav consulate early today, blowing out windows in homes across the street and smashing the front door of the consulate.

Goodfellows Sell Edition to Aid Charity

Firemen, Police, Mail Carriers Join to Give All a Merry Yule

Firemen, policemen and mailmen — Goodfellows all — took to Pontiac streets in the teeth of a whistling November wind today to sell newspapers for charity.

Opening this year's sale were Metropolitan Club members headed by Police Lt. William P. Nesbitt, president, and fireman Robert L. Koch, chairman of the sale.

Club members picked up special editions of The Pontiac Press early this afternoon.

Koch said the club had boosted this year's goal to $3,000 — up $1,000 from last year — aiming at a happy Christmas for needy families.

Warm clothing for children, fuel oil and coal for last winter months and food baskets are among the benefits of the sale.

Distribution of the goods is handled by the Salvation Army, which coordinates its efforts with Christmas charities sponsored by other area organizations.

TRADITIONAL SURGE

Koch said the drive was scheduled earlier this year to coincide with the traditional surge of holiday store sales following Thanksgiving.

This is the 37th year Pontiac Goodfellows have conducted the sales and given assistance to needy families.

10 Are Nominated to Chamber Board

Ten men have been nominated for five three-year terms on the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

Nominees are Edward E. Barker, Gordon Beckman, Nathan Bressler, Dr. George A. Harless, Howard V. Holdenbrand, Richard L. Mineweaser, Alvin B. Steinman, Robert W. Swanson, Dr. John E. Tirrell and William P. Whitfield.

Balloting at the Chamber of Commerce will end Dec. 11, and mail ballots must be received by Dec. 13.

ASKED QUESTION

Rusk was asked whether the United States would accept a proposal from Hanoi through which the U.S. Secretary-General U Thant would accept negotiations without preconditions or any conditions, discussions.

"That would be one way to find out where the problem of peace lies," Rusk told a news conference late yesterday.

Michigan Feels Lash

By The Associated Press

Power lines were knocked down, some buildings were destroyed and a British freighter was grounded in the St. Marys River because of high winds in many parts of Michigan last night.

The Weather Bureau in Detroit and Grand Rapids issued tornado forecasts for parts of lower Michigan, but there were no reports of any tornadoes. The forecasts were lifted before midnight.

The 8,500-ton British freighter Ramon de Larraga was swept onto a sandbank near Hay Point on St. Joseph Island after a steering cable broke.

The Coast Guard reported winds reached 80 miles an hour in some areas. The freighter was in no immediate danger, however, the Coast Guard said.

Wind caused power line failures that isolated Coast Guard stations at Neeshish Island and Whitefish Point off Lake Superior. A standby oil lamp was put into emergency use at the Whitefish Point lighthouse to guide freighters into Whitefish Bay.

LINES TOPPLE

High winds knocked down

power lines and toppled trees in Calhoun County.

About one-eighth of the city of Marshall was temporarily without power because of downed lines. No deaths or injuries were reported.

Several garages were reported demolished in Athens, about 15 miles southwest of Battle Creek.

Some five inches of snow fell on top of 10 inches already on the ground at Houghton. Marquette recorded an additional four inches for a total of 17 inches on the ground.

Hazardous driving warnings were issued for Upper Michi-

Heavy Snow, Twisters Hit Midwest Area

Winds Are Fatal to 1; Temperatures Below Zero in Montana

By The Associated Press

Winty cold gripped central areas of the nation today in the wake of a powerful storm that left heavy snow in the northern Plains and Great Lakes and ripped the Midwest with tornadoes.

The mercury plunged to 17 below zero at Havre, and 16 below at Glasgow and Cut Bank, all in Montana. Snow depths ranged to 27 at Hibbing, Minn.

Daytime temperatures remained near zero in the snow-covered northern border region. The freeze line reached northern Texas, and it was chill to the Gulf Coast.

Tornadoes and damaging winds took at least one life and caused many injuries. Mrs. Linda Jeffries, 21, was killed when her house trailer was blown over near Horse Cave, Ky., about midnight.

Tornadoes hit Indiana, Illinois, Arkansas and Missouri during the night, and damaging winds were reported in Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska and Iowa.

The Weather Bureau said that drifts of several feet were piled up in parts of Minnesota. Gale winds whistled over Lake Superior.

ROADS OPEN

All Minnesota highways were open, however. International Falls reported 25 inches of snow on the ground. Duluth had 23 inches and Bemidji, 15.

In Wisconsin and Michigan, some sections reported snow depths of up to one foot.

Extensive damage was caused by the winds, with trailer parks in the path of the heaviest gusts getting some heavy damage. At one Ohio trailer park, damage was estimated at $50,000. A motel near Columbus, Ohio, reported damage of $50,000-$75,000.

Plane Crash Kills 13 in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A salt lake charter plane with 13 persons aboard crashed and burned in rugged snow-covered mountains today just minutes after taking off from the Salt Lake City Airport. The Utah Highway Patrol said there were no survivors.

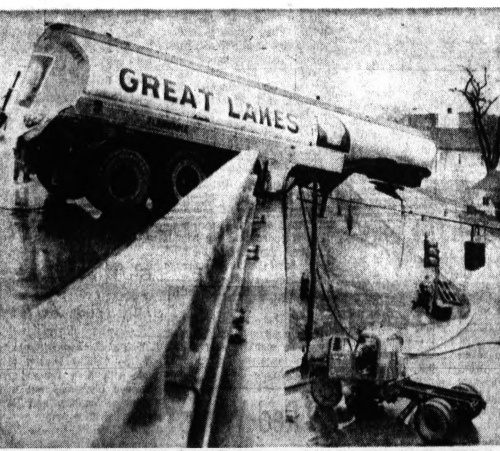

A highway patrol unit at the scene radioed a report that all eight passengers and five crewmen were dead.

The plane, a DC3, carrying eight passengers and a crew of five, took off in heavy snow at daybreak for Provo, 35 miles away. It was to pick up more passengers there for a flight to Albuquerque, N.M., and the Brigham Young-New Mexico football game this afternoon.

No football players were aboard.

The DC3 was on instruments when it took off from Salt Lake City, but the airport tower and radio operator, owner of the craft, said the takeoff was normal.

Early snow and slipping on the runway caused the crash.

NOT QUITE OVER — A gasoline tank truck which crashed through a bridge railing on the Kennedy Expressway in northwest

Chicago yesterday hangs half over the street below. The tractor dropped 30 feet, injuring the driver.

Viet Peace Marchers at White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under damp skies, thousands marched for "peace in Viet Nam" today, seeking to persuade President Johnson to halt bombing of North Viet Nam and push harder for truce talks.

The vanguard of what leaders hoped would be a crowd of 25,000 gathered early in front of the White House. They strode back and forth carrying such placards as:

"War erodes the Great Society."

"No more war. Never again — Pope Paul the VI."

It was raining as the first demonstrators gathered but later the sun showed signs of breaking through the clouds.

Across the street, on the north side of Pennsylvania Avenue, critics of the marchers conducted counterdemonstrations. One of these groups, identifying itself as "The American Party," bore aloft such signs as:

"The lobster fighting for his life isn't really dead until he's Red."

"The Supreme Court must be made to stop coddling Communist swine."

Police were taking down the names of some of the counter-protesters, apparently in case any calls should occur.

CALL ON JOHNSON

Leaders of the march called on Johnson to "tell all" about what they called North Vietnamese feelers for peace.

Socialist leader Norman Thomas, and others billed as speakers, said the Johnson administration had rejected such feelers without informing the American people.

Administration spokesmen have said they regarded Communist offers as seeking U.S. capitulation, rather than genuine negotiations.

The march leaders, meantime, took steps to "surround with American flags" certain protesters who were determined to carry Viet Cong flags in the picketing at the White House and the march to the Washington Monument grounds.

Rusk: No Chance for Viet Talks Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says that on the basis of new statements from North Viet Nam he sees no chance in the immediate future of any peace talks with Hanoi.

On the eve of the latest demonstration here to protest U.S. policy in Viet Nam, the secretary advised any would-be peace marchers to "address a proposal from Hanoi through which the U.S. Secretary-General U Thant would accept negotiations without preconditions or any conditions, discussions."

"That would be one way to find out where the problem of peace lies," Rusk told a news conference late yesterday.

"If they addressed a letter to both sides saying, 'Will you agree to negotiations without preconditions?" we would say, "Yes, and I would be interested in knowing what Hanoi would say."

He made a point that the position of Communist North Vietnam has toughened recently.

ASKED QUESTION

Rusk was asked whether the United States would accept a proposal from Hanoi through which the U.S. Secretary-General U Thant would accept negotiations without preconditions or any conditions, discussions.

In reply, Rusk referred to a statement made by Hanoi and said, "I would not predict that this is likely to occur."

The Hanoi statement declared that some American newspapers had "spread the invention" that since the fall of last year

Hanoi has proposed to negotiate two or three times but that those proposals have been rejected by the Johnson administration.

In a Hanoi broadcast the North Vietnamese paper Nhan Dan said, "This deceitful trick was aimed at two goals: on one hand criticizing the Johnson administration in preparing for forthcoming elections and on the other hand, inventing the story of the so-called proposals for Hanoi to negotiate to sow suspicion among public opinion."

BRAZEN DECEIT

The North Vietnamese declared the Johnson administration's desire for peace was "brazen and deceitful."

Rusk said he had the im-

Punishing Winds to Ease Tonight; Mercury to Drop

Strong morning westerly winds blowing in with gusts of 35 to 50 miles per hour will diminish tonight with colder temperatures, the low falling to 30 to 35.

Partly cloudy and cold is the weatherman's prediction for tomorrow. Highs will reach into the low 30s.

Partly cloudy and slightly warmer is the forecast for Monday.

The mercury dropped from a mid 56 at 2 a.m. today to 34 at 6 a.m. Temperatures registered 33 at 2 p.m.

U.S. School Aid to State Is Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan will receive more than $4 million to improve higher education facilities and scholarship programs in state colleges and universities over the next three years, the U.S. Office of Education said Friday.

Michigan State University will receive a $1 million grant to help build a research library and improve other library facilities. The money is included under the Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963.

Under the Higher Education Act of 1965, Michigan will receive four grants, including $2,507,894 in student assistance funds. Under this plan, needy students showing academic promise would be given $200 to $300 a year, depending on need. The other grants include $65,262 for television equipment; $587,374 for equipment "for the improvement of undergraduate instruction," and $301,635 for "community service and continuing education programs."

Partly, it's the absence of Congress. Mostly, it's the prebudget decisions based on which new or continuing programs the administration will include. Other decisions include key appointments.

This contributes to the low key of action. The administration appears to be in a condition of suspension. Major changes seem to be around the corner and the time is not considered appropriate for announcements.

The unrest is partly political. President Johnson is deeply committed to make a success of the poverty program, but there's confusion, disappointment and some evidence of mismanagement.

CERTAIN AREAS

Both Republicans and Democrats have launched attacks in certain areas. Many agree with Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., that Senator Shriver should devote all his time to this wide range, expensive program and drop his other top post as Director of the Peace Corps.

The turbulent relationship between Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara and the Congress contributes to the suspense.

Members of Congress are independent officials, with certain responsibilities for the military vested in them by the Constitution, and they do not take lightly the secretary's assumption for complete and final authority concerning the make-up and equipment of the armed forces, more often than not with only casual consultation with the Congress, members complain.

Then, there is the delay in naming the secretary of urban affairs. President Kennedy had indicated if Congress agreed to adding a new cabinet member that the secretary would be Robert C. Weaver, an eminent Negro, the administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Refugee Pact Fails to Soften Cuba Polemics

By RICHARD DAW
HAYANA (U)—Fidel Castro's regime seems to be going out of foreign diplomats and even in its way to put down speculation some Cuban government circles that its anti-American attitude as a result of announcement of may be softening.

Such talk sprang up among planes will fly dissent Cuban into exile.

There was speculation that the agreement might lead to further contacts between the two governments.

Prime Minister Castro's reaction has been to blast the United States harder than ever, while that they can count on this island as a continued focal point of agitation in Latin America.

'IRRECONCILABLE'

In a speech, Castro referred to his regime as "the irreconcilable enemy" of the United States.

"In reality, we don't want peace of any kind with imperialism. While imperialism exists and while there are people who are the victims of imperialist aggression, and while there are perils, their cause will be our cause in whatever part of the world," he said.

Then, in Moscow, the Russians were assured that Cuba would

A "SECRET" MESSAGE
Upon receiving a prescription from your physician what is the first thing you do? Of course, you try to read it. But what if you don't understand all of it? Why the secrecy? Is a prescription?

There is none, really. What you are looking at is simply the language of medicine — the expression of your physician's decision on what drug you require, how much you need and how it should be taken. Your prescription is a brief, accurate note of all this price information.

Youth 'Satisfactory' After Gunshot Wound
CADILLAC (AP) — Dennis C. Gilbert, 14, of Fenton was reported in satisfactory condition Friday under hospital care for a gunshot wound suffered Thursday while deer hunting near here. Police said the youth was struck by a bullet which passed through his left shoulder.

PROMINENT ATTENTION
She declared in a speech given prominent attention in the press here:
"We know our role is difficult and hard, but we want to tell our Soviet friends that our revolution knows how to play its role in the revolution of new countries and in the defense of the Socialist camp."

She coupled that with an assurance that Soviet aid — amounting to about a million dollars a day — "is in good hands." She told the Russians that Cuba "is an example for the world."

"If small Cuba, 90 miles from North American imperialism, has been able to maintain its revolution, all nations can do so," she said.

Federal Food Stamp Program to Start Wednesday in County

A food stamp program to in-Agriculture program, qualifying recipients and low income farm-stamps of a higher monetary value than their cost and use them as cash at retail outlets.

Under the U.S. Department of The stamp plan will replace the present surplus commodity program in which food-stuffs are distributed to low-income persons and relief recipients.

The purpose of the stamp program administered by the Michigan Department of Social Welfare is to boost both the consumption of food and quality of diets of those eligible.

The federal government will pay the cost of the bonus feature of the program.

LOWEST INCOME

Generally, persons in the lowest income category will be able to buy the highest percentage of bonus coupons.

For example, a family of four with a monthly income of from $140 to $180 could buy $86 worth of coupons monthly for $56.

The same size family whose income is between $200 and $220 monthly could buy $92 in coupons for $58.

All persons receiving public assistance automatically qualify for the stamp program and will use part of their allotted food income to buy stamps.

REQUIREMENTS

The following requirements on income and liquid assets will govern eligibility of non-assistance families:

- In a one-person household, maximum income must be 125 monthly with a maximum of $7 in liquid assets.

- For two persons, the limitations are $185 and $1,000; three persons, $225 and $1,000; four persons, $295 and $1,000; six persons, $330 and $1,100; seven persons, $365 and $1,200; and a household of eight, $400 and $1,300.

- For larger households, the maximum income would increase by $35 per person and the liquid asset limitation by $100 per person.

Applications for the stamp program are being taken and certified by the Oakland County Bureau of Social Aid (BSA). Stamps will be sold beginning Wednesday by the Oakland County Department of Social Welfare.

Both agencies are located in the county complex at 1200 N. Telegraph, in the white block building northeast of the court-house.

Stamps also will be sold at the Department of Social Welfare's Royal Oak office.

WEDNESDAY START

The U.S. Department of Agriculture office in Mount Clemens has advised retail food stores that the stamp sale will begin Wednesday in Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair counties and is coordinating the retail outlet phase of the program.

Retailers will deposit food stamps in their banks as cash

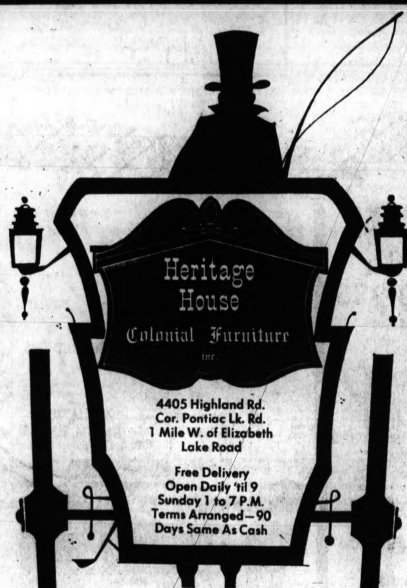

Coupons can be used in the stores to purchase any U.S.-produced food. Items such as alcoholic beverages and tobacco can't be purchased with coupons.

Ora Hinckley, director of the Oakland County BSA and

George H. Williams, director of the County Department of Social Welfare, predicted that some 3,000 families will participate in the stamp program. This is approximately the number of families that have been receiving surplus commodities.

Legislator Hits Ruling Delay

LANSING (AP) — A Republican legislator Friday criticized the attorney general's office for what he termed "unreasonable delay" in a ruling on the constitutionality of a Senate committee investigation of faculty administration relations at Central Michigan University.

Sen. Guy VanderJagt, R-Cadillac, said he has received no response from the attorney general's office to his request from a ruling made last May 7, prior to the start of the hearings.

"A six-month delay in answering questions that could be thoroughly researched in six hours by a second-year law student reflects either inefficiency or else deliberate delay for political reasons in the part of the attorney general's office," VanderJagt said.

"The small pace of legal research is all the more baffling when one considers the attorney general whipped out an 'informal opinion' in 24 hours concerning the legislature's constitutional role in the establishment of an osteopathic college.

'UNEXCUSABLE'

"For the attorney general to delay too long on an issue that threatens academic freedom in our colleges and universities in Michigan is unexcusable," VanderJagt said.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley replied that there has been more than one request for opinions in the area — involving the right of legislative committees to investigate colleges and universities. His staff still is researching the matter and an omnibus opinion probably will have to be issued, Kelley said.

Kelley said the opinion will be issued as soon as possible probably before the legislature returns Dec. 9.

Still 'Working' Mine

Won't Give Up on Gold

GOLDFIELD, Nev. (AP)—Among determined Irishmen, gold-digger Martin Duffy is perhaps the most persistent — panning, polishing and putting around his own nonproducing hole in the ground.

Duffy, 67, has been working his old Florence Mine for 26 years — hoping for the day the price of gold goes up, making mining pay again.

Duffy has his mine in top condition, even though it hasn't produced any ore since 1939. He said the Florence produced $9 million in gold in its heyday.

"And there's a helluva lot more where that came from," he told Los Angeles Times reporter Charles Hillinger. "I've been waiting a long time for the price to go up."

SEMI-GHOST TOWN

Duffy's mine is in the semi-ghost town of Goldfield, a mining camp that boomed furiously from 1904 to 1918. Today it is the withering seat of Esmeralda

County, 180 miles north of Las Vegas.

"Why do I spend every day up here, keeping the mine in top condition, yet not producing any ore since '39?" asks the former state senator, somewhat rhetorically.

"Hell, it's my life. It's the memories. I knew all the old-timers. I grew up with them, worked beside them. They taught me all I know. Now they are gone."

Looking over the town's decaying buildings, Duffy pointed out the old high school he attended, the fully furnished Goldfield hotel — locked up, unused — and other mines.

KNEW IT WELL

"That's the Consolidated over there. Bernard Baruch knew it well. He made millions out of its glory holes."

"That one was the Grizzly, and that over there, the Laguna."

In 1906, Duffy said, more than 30,000 miners, their families and others lived here. Now there are slightly more than 190.

"I cut my teeth on gold in this town and never left," Duffy said. He first went to work in the Florence in 1917, leased the mine in 1923 and has been the owner since 1960.

WASTE OF TIME

He said he also served as Esmeralda County commissioner for 12 years, then served in the state senate from 1959 to 1963.

Duffy admits it sometimes seems like a waste of time working in shafts as deep as 1,260 feet underground, laying track, placing shoring timbers and working with pick and shovel. But he adds: "I can't let go. If I do, the mine and equipment will deteriorate, will rapidly go to rot."

"There's always that slim possibility that gold will go up in price. Then imagine what Ruth and I would have."

His wife, Ruth, a former teacher at the high school, commented: "No one can say Duffy's not a determined Irishman."

Port Huron Resident Named to State Post

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney said Friday he has appointed J. Bruce Ferguson of Port Huron to the State Accident Fund Advisory Board. He succeeds John Brun of Grayling. Reappointment of 14 other board members was also announced. The appointees are nominated at the annual meeting of employers contributing to the accident fund. They serve for one year. Senate confirmation is not required.

Small business firms have received $5,305 billion in defense prime contract awards during fiscal 1965. This is $463 million more than the total for the previous year.

DETERMINED DUFFY — Martin Duffy, a determined 67-year-old Irishman, has been working his old Florence, Nev., gold mine for 26 years, hoping the price of gold would go up, making mining pay again. Here he sits at the controls of a winch he has kept in perfect working order.

Detroit Mayor Sets Talks on Search Law

DETROIT (AP)—Mayor Jerome S. Cavanagh of Detroit Friday announced plans for a late January crime conference which would include a discussion of his proposed "stop and search" law.

The proposal, which would allow police officers to search suspicious persons upon "reasonable belief" that a crime has or is about to be committed, without making an arrest, has drawn criticism from some community leaders.

Cavanagh said deans of law schools, attorneys and other experts would be invited to review the proposed law.

"Naturally we would not press for legislation that is unconstitutional," said Cavanagh. "We would hope that such a conference results in sound community suggestions on crime and the administration of justice, together with understanding of the root causes of crime and delinquency."

Among those to be invited to the conference are U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach and Orlando Wilson, chief of Chicago Police.

Man Crushed to Death

DETROIT (AP)—Henry Rogers, 55, of Detroit, was crushed to death Friday when he was trapped between a car loaded with coke and a beam at Cement Solvay Division of Allied Chemical Co. here where he was employed.

The greyhound is the fastest of dogs.

Congress Seen Likely to Mark Time in 1966

Now that one of the most active congressional sessions in the history of the Country is concluded, people are wondering what the 89th Congress will do for an encore when its second session gets under way next year.

There would seem to be very little left to do. The Great Society has been launched on a tide of laws whose ripples will be felt for decades.

The presidential proposals which Congress turned down can be counted on the fingers of one hand — such as repeal of the "right-to-work" clause of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act, raising the minimum wage, home rule for the District of Columbia.

The answer given by most observers is that Congress will do very little major lawmaking in 1966, although President Johnson says he will put a "must" label on about 23 bills in another Great Society package.

Compared to the energetic first session, however, even this will amount to more or less tidying up of legislative odds and ends and correction of shortcomings and inefficiencies in some of the Great Society programs.

The real question in 1966, however, is the influence the unprecedented volume of social and economic legislation passed by the predominantly Democratic Congress will have on the voting trend in the November elections.

The people have given a president a majority of his own party in the legislative branch before, although seldom so decisively as they did in 1964.

Traditionally, however, they have taken away or reduced that majority in nonpresidential election years.

If President Johnson can convince the voters to break that pattern in 1966, and give him another top-heavy Democratic Congress for 1967-68, it will be an accomplishment fully as impressive as the uses to which he has put the present Congress.

just as serious — that of the drunk-en pedestrian.

"A high percentage of pedestrian fatalities in our urban areas is certainly due to drinking by the pedestrian," says Dr. GEORGE M. WHEATLEY, medical director of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

The authorities are quick to condemn the driver who in not in complete control of his car, he says, but not pedestrians who are not in control of their faculties.

"They lurch out into the middle of the street, ignoring traffic signals, or jaywalking from between parked cars to create a definite urban traffic hazard everywhere in America."

In Pennsylvania, for example, it is estimated that one out of every four pedestrians killed in that state last year had been drinking.

According to WHEATLEY, a report due to be released by President JOHNSON'S Committee for Traffic Safety will recommend that everyone involved in a traffic accident — pedestrians as well as drivers — be routinely examined for the influence of alcohol or drugs.

We need to know more about the role pedestrians play in accidents, he says. Such routine examinations would be a big help in providing the data on which to base future safety programs.

War May Hurt LBJ Politically

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON—President Johnson has another good reason—besides the obvious ones of ending the killing and preventing a Communist take-over—for wanting an early victory in Viet Nam. It's political.

Although Republicans generally support his Viet Nam policy, they are already warning the war may be an issue in the 1966 congressional elections when all 435 House seats and one-third of the Senate seats are at stake.

At the rate the war is going, it won't be over next year.

Johnson, a man of excellent memory, can hardly forget how the Republicans was in Congress during the Korean war and climbed all over President Harry S. Truman and made that war an issue in the 1950 and 1952 elections.

In both wars the problem was basically the same: Communists in the northern half of a country attacked the southern half to seize it.

BROAD SUPPORT AT FIRST
Truman, like Johnson, got broad support from both parties in the beginning.

When North Korea attacked South Korea on June 25, 1950 Truman felt he had to act fast and sent American troops in. He used his presidential authority without first asking congressional approval.

If he had done that, and there had been a long drawn-out debate before he got approval to act, South Korea might have been lost.

But both houses gave their approval immediately without making it formal. They extended the draft another year. Subsequently, they backed him up in other ways.

GOT ON TRUMAN'S BACK
Nevertheless, Sen. Robert A. Taft, Ohio Republican, got on Truman's back, accusing him of usurping Congress' authority. That was a congressional election year.

Within three months after the war began, the Republican National Committee made it a campaign issue—there were other issues, like McCarthyism and the Red-bait at home—in a 56-page document which cited the Red attack on South Korea as a Truman failure.

In the November elections that year the Democrats lost seats in both houses. Korea continued to be an issue in 1951 and was a big one in 1952 when the Republicans captured control of Congress and Dwight D. Eisenhower became president.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

THE FIRST CRECHE

To Saint Francis of Assisi, Christmas was a festival of humanity. The whole Gospel story, the manger and the baby Jesus, the shepherds and the three kings, was for him a history of deep human feeling.

In the year 1223, Saint Francis Christmas in the town of Greccio, Italy, decided that the re-enactment of the Holy night would provide a deeper meaning for him and for the people of Greccio. With his friend, Giovanni di Greccio, he built in a hermitage a stall and manger filled with straw. They brought in an ass and ox like those in the original stable. And in the manger Saint Francis laid an image of the infant Jesus.

On Christmas Eve, the population of Greccio joined Saint Francis in worship at the manger. The forest resounded with their hymns and Francis read the Gospel story.

Although the Nativity scene had been represented in earlier times it was the devout faith of Saint Francis that gave us our creche and our Christmas pageants.

Finding the Way:

Crisis Demands Self-Control

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.
Protest has always been a significant part of the American scene. Our Nation came into being as a "revolution;" our political life has been geared to the freedom of controversy and there is a deep strain of respect for the right to speak up and to speak out. Americans know how to talk back.

Yet there have been times when we seemed to shy at our own tradition. McCarthyism was a brief venture in quelling protest and in recent weeks there have been voices, angered at draft card burnings and other acts, that cried out: "The government knows best." Thus the pendulum swings.

Protest demands responsibility. The extremes in draft-dodging and irresponsible protest are obviously unpatriotic; so are the irresponsible voices that cry for the bombing of Hanoi and Red China.

I interviewed a picket in front of the White House on one occasion. This placard-carrier knew that the President was not at home. He knew that responsible political leaders were not seeing his protest. His chief benefit was simply that he was getting something off his own chest.

It was probably good therapy for him to release his pent-up frustrations instead of encouraging others but there ought to be a better reason for such actions.

Richard Hofstadter in his study of anti-intellectualism, states: "Disseminating intellectuals often seem to feel that they are morally on trial for being intellectuals, and their moral responsibility is then home as well as on the battlefield, born of selflessness and dedicated to responsible action. That person will dare to protest, stand up and be counted; he will also know when and how to be silent.

We want to be known as a people who know the difference between internationalism and interventionism, between strong defenses and saber-rattling, between freedom and license, between youthful vigor and immaturity. All of this requires self-control.

Our nation requires this virtue of responsible protest and creative moral sensitivity in the midst of this debate.

'Gronouski for Sheriff in Poland'

By WASHINGTON STAFF
WASHINGTON (NEA) — John Gronouski now has a chance to try out his ideas on personal diplomacy as the new U.S. ambassador to Poland.

The gruff-talking former postmaster general—who likes to work in his shirt—sleaves with the loose-croaked—exudes informality.

"I'm no diplomat and I don't know anything about protocol," he says. "I'll let my very own how to set the table and stuff like that."

Gronouski's approach emphasizes conversation. On inspection trips to various post offices, he was noted for spending more time talking with the mail room crew than with the postmaster.

In Warsaw, he plans to talk with anyone who will listen — from factory workers to government ministers.

The "Gronouski Diplomacy" has the full backing of President Johnson.

"John," said the President when he offered Gronouski the appointment, "I want you to get

Readers Reply to Letter on Cost of 'Bald Haircut'

In answer to Bald Baldy on the price of bald haircuts, you want justice and fair play—so does a barber. You are buying his time. It doesn't take as long to cut your hair but it takes longer to find it. Also there is a new hair tonic on the market. It doesn't grow hair but it shrinks your head to fit what you have.

FRANK

Thank God for your kind, Baldy. You give us a welcome breather after some of the long-hair customers we work extra hard on. In many ways there is no justice. Another example: the man with the V-W behind the man with a big Bonnevillie at the car wash.

Two Give Views on Supreme Court Ruling

The recent ruling is one of the biggest farces ever produced by the Supreme Court. Our Supreme Court is really trying to protect the incriminated Communists whose goal is to have universal communism. They might as well have declared open season on America. Our Country may be the land of the free, but where does this freedom stop and common sense begin?

ANN HERZOG

The recent Press editorial and views expressed in the Voice of the People concerning the Supreme Court ruling relating to the Communist Party USA are very distressing. The law in question was enacted during the McCarthy witch-hunt era and was incongruous with a free society such as we enjoy.

Forcing the Communist Party to register is a clear violation of the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution. One may not agree with the philosophy of Marxism or the methods of communism (as I do not), yet believe that to deny it representation on the American political spectrum is both unjust and un-American.

The harm done by the McCarran Act and the Subversive Activities Act greatly outweighs any damage that a minuscule fraction of party members devoted to a bankrupt ideology which is split into four or five warring camps could ever accomplish.

RICHARD J. HATHAWAY

'Licensing Law Is Insult to Americanism'

Why don't the people put pressure on the State Legislature for the bad legislation on car licensing and insurance? Any law that forces the citizen to register and pay money in order to make himself eligible to be sued, not only with his own money but by the State he pays mountainous taxes to, is an insult to Americanism and an open flagrant to the Bill of Rights.

Today is Saturday, Nov. 27, the 321st day of 1965 with 34 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning star is Jupiter.

The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

In 1901, the War Department authorized the creation of the Army War College to instruct commissioned officers.

In 1945, President Harry S. Truman named Gen. George Marshall a special representative to China.

In 1964, President Eisenhower issued a statement in which he denied that differences over the Suez Canal had weakened U.S., British and French accord for NATO.

In 1963, the Department of Defense announced that Col. James Chanute had been kidnapped by Venezuelan terrorists. A caller two hours after the kidnapping said Chanute was being held for propaganda purposes.

That's the danger all of us confront. We are liable to be against something without really doing anything about it or shedding any light upon the problem.

This time of crisis demands self-control, in speech as well as in action. There is a quality of courage displayed by men at Connelly's hearing was all that bad.

Health, Education and Welfare Secretary John Gardner takes great care to put all guests or visitors at ease. He avoids any actions which might tend to set him apart.

As chief of the White House conference on education last summer, Gardner took his information officers out to dinner to review questions which might be asked at a press conference the next morning.

After the main course, Gardner—who likes his sweets—queried his guests for dessert preferences. There were no takers. Reluctantly, he passed to go along with the rest.

But, during coffee, he carefully broke open a hard roll and sprinkled it with sugar to satisfy his sweet tooth.

A recent administration seminar for government bureaucrats—urging less verbiage in memos, particularly those for eventual presidential consumption—might have prompted this sign seen at a Pentagon desk:

"The hurrier I go, the hinder I get."

No Early Decision Due in Jury Roll Suit

MONTGOMERY, Ala., (AP) The judges, who held a hearing on the case Friday, have ordered attorneys for a group of Lowndes County Negroes — and to add more Negroes to the Justice Department lawyers jury rolls of Lowndes County, who joined them in the case — to file written briefs on the matter within two weeks. They then gave attorneys for county officials until Jan. 1 to file answers.

Government attorneys brought forth testimony at the hearing that no Negroes have served on trial juries in Lowndes County, which adjoins Montgomery County, in the past 15 years.

That testimony came from Circuit Court Judge T. Werth Thagard, who presides over the court in Lowndes and two adjoining counties.

FORMER SENATOR

Thagard, a former state senator, said no Negroes have served on juries in the county since he went on the bench in 1952, although some Negroes had been on panels of prospective jurors.

The white-haired Thagard presided over the recent trials in Lowndes County of a part-time deputy sheriff and a young Ku Klux Klansman for separate civil rights slayings. Circuit juries acquitted both men.

The Justice Department, in a detailed analysis presented to the court, contended that in 98 per cent of the cases, the names on the jury rolls in Lowndes County were identical to those on the all-white voter list.

The suit was filed before President Johnson said he would ask the Justice Department to prepare legislation which would place more Negroes on jury rolls.

Jury Commissioner Henry Bargainer testified that he only recently began recommending that Negroes be included on the jury rolls.

However, another commissioner, Bruce Crook told the court that he had submitted the names of Negroes to go on the jury lists "ever since I was appointed eight years ago."

The third member of the commission, John Jackson, said that he could recall no term of court when more than six Negroes were on a jury list of 60 to 100 men.

Living Room's Pine Coffee Table Was Once Part Of Blacksmith's Bellows

Cherry End Tables With Matching Brass And Marble Lamps Flank Living Room Sofa

Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Vanderwey

Son Spurs Family Projects

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

"The Royeses' furniture building and refinishing era," said Mrs. Richard B. Royse, "began when our oldest son, Mike, made the cedar table lamp in the family room."

"One thing led to another and we now have quite a few pieces that we have stripped to the original wood and refinished."

"And one of my husband's building ventures was the pine stereo cabinet in the family room."

Located on Ringwood Drive, Commerce Township, the Royeses' trilevel is furnished in Early American.

White walls and white cottage curtains banded in green complement the living room's braided, shades-of-brown rug.

MATCHING FABRIC

Covered in a matching fabric are the room's wing-back chair and sofa. The fabric features shades of green, brown, black with blue highlights on a beige background.

Before the picture window is a pine coffee table created from one-half of a blacksmith's bellows.

A copper teakettle hangs from the piece's wrought iron hook.

"If you lift up the ashtrays," confided Mrs. Royse, "you will find they conceal the bellow's original air holes."

In the adjoining dining area, Mrs. Royse has used a provincial print wallpaper of brown, gold, black and white on beige.

Captain's chairs with olive green cushions are grouped around the maple table.

A short flight of stairs nearby leads to the family room.

COACH PRINTS

Coach prints in gold-and-black frames hang on one wall above the room's paneled dado.

A cherry table serves both the black leather sofa and the mahogany-red leather chair.

Grouped on the table top are a brass scale arrangement, an antique, hand-painted pitcher-plant and 17-year-old Mike's cedar lamp.

The Royeses' youngest son is 13-year-old Rick.

NEW DIRECTION HOUSE — Basic interior plan is used for five exterior treatments by prominent architects. It is designed to reflect individuality for the custom-minded home buyer "at little more than the cost of mass production sameness," said Ivan Frankel, builder. One of the Kelvintor research homes, the model is located in Powder Horn Estates, off Middle Belt Road, north of Maple, West Bloomfield Township. The five bedroom, multi-level home is original and copyrighted.

Make Use of Space in Garage

Stand in the center of your garage (when the car isn't there) and make a complete, slow turn. Look at all that wall space going to waste.

It requires no carpentry skill to put up shelves between the studs of garages with unfinished inside walls.

Almost any type of available lumber will do for this purpose.

You can use plywood strips if desired... or you may happen to have some scrap pieces of plywood around. You will find it easy to set the shelves on wooden or metal supports nailed or screwed to the studs of the studs.

Tools, garden implements and the like can be hung from metal hooks set into the perforations of hardboard.

The hardboard is easily attached to the studs. In the event that the inside of your garage is finished... that is, it has a flat-surfaced wall... you will have to attach furring strips in order to make use of perforated hardboard.

If you do not do this, there will be no space behind the hardboard panels to insert the metal hooks.

If the inside walls of your garage are concrete or some form of masonry, attachments will be more difficult than with wood.

Masonry shields or anchors may be the answer. These are small, hollow receptacles which are inserted in holes drilled into the concrete with either a power drill with a carbide-tipped bit or with a star drill.

When a screw or special bolt is inserted into the shield or anchor, the receptacle expands, firmly gripping itself inside the concrete. In drilling the hole, make it slightly smaller than the shield or anchor, which is tapped into place to make a snug fit.

Masonry nails also can be used.

These are hammered into the concrete like ordinary nails, but require strong blows.

EPOXY ADHESIVES

Some of the new epoxy adhesives permit the attachment of wood or other materials directly to the concrete.

Furring strips or studding are hammered onto nails sticking out from the metal squares.

Should your garage be so small that there is no room at all to put anything on the side walls, you still can make use of the space at the back end.

Housing Program Guide

The Pontiac Board of Realtors and church groups in order that has just received a detailed document that could materially affect the community could be studied to see the future growth and development of this area, Tom Bateman, board president, recently announced.

"Titled 'Realtor's Guide to Housing Programs,' the document is a comprehensive manual detailing programs not only contained in the recently passed, multi-billion dollar Housing and Urban Development Act of 1965, but also those on the books earlier.

In addition to an outline of the provisions of the laws, the guide contains also, interpretations of the regulations laid down by federal agencies that administer the laws.

The guide was prepared by the National Association of Real Estate Boards, of which the local board is a member, and "is the single, most easily accessible source of such wide-ranging housing information available to the realtor and the average home owner and businessman."

Thirty-six housing programs are covered, all of them involving federal financial cooperation or assistance through loans, grants, or insurance of loans.

SLUM ELIMINATION

The guide indicates methods that make possible the elimination of slums and blighted neighborhoods without reference to government-owned public housing.

It suggests ways to house low-income families, through a remarkable system of church or citizen-sponsored projects that involves no expenditure of city funds and, indeed, could cut welfare expenditures.

Bateman said the board would bring the programs to the attention of city officials and citizens.

Congregational Rite Unites Two

MRS. RICHARD A. PATTERSON

Susan Eleanor Kreis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Kreis, Beverly Hills, and Richard M. Patterson, son of the bride, were wed Friday in the Birmingham Congregational Church.

A reception in Kingley Inn followed the marriage of Susan Eleanor Kreis to Richard Austin Patterson, Friday, in the Birmingham Congregational Church.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. William S. Kreis, Beverly Hills, and the Richard M. Pattersons of Birmingham.

Alonzo lace motifs touched with seed pearls enhanced the bride's gown and train of ivory peau de soie.

HEIRLOOM HEADPIECE

Lace from the bridal headpiece worn by the bridegroom's mother graced a Dior bow anchoring the silk illusion veil designed and made by the bride.

She held white roses and ivy for the vows spoken before Rev. Ray Fenner.

Bridal attendants included Mrs. Leon Leigh, Mrs. Kenneth Barker, Dianne Stewart and Faye Lemon.

With Thomas A. Patterson, his brother's best man, were the ushers, James F. Elliott, Birmingham, Bradley L. Lawton, Howell, and Michael J. McCarthy, Ithaca, N.Y.

The couple will live in Detroit where he attends Wayne State University Law School. His fraternity is Beta Theta Pi.

Bloomfield Art Association

Schedule Crafts Symposium

The Bloomfield Art Association will present a Symposium on Silversmithing and Pottery, free to the public Friday, at 8:00 p.m.

Gallery director, Jafar Shoja will introduce potter John Glick and silversmith Otto Dingeldein who will give demonstrations on their crafts.

Glick and Dingeldein, both instructors at the Bloomfield Art Association, will talk and demonstrate on the aesthetic appeal of their art and the unusual characteristics of ancient and contemporary pieces made from metal and clay.

In everyday words, they will each share with the audience their pleasure in the art and craft of their skills.

"NOBLE METAL"

Silversmith Dingeldein calls silver the "noble metal." He will demonstrate and describe historic forms, styles and techniques and show how they related to their times.

He will then show how modern day craftsmen can achieve the same results with simplified techniques. There will be a display of the casting procedures from beginning steps to final piece.

Dingeldein will close his portion of the program by explaining the economic as well as cultural value of the craftsman.

Potter John Glick says of pottery making, "The technique of centering clay on the potter's wheel and forming the preliminary cylinder are basic to the potter's craft. There are close parallels in life to these techniques of the potter. . . . But technique alone is not enough. What we seek to understand is what is combined with technique to make artworks meaningful."

Don't Ask Guests for Own Linens

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My husband and I have a cottage up in the mountains and we go there every weekend throughout the year. We generally ask friends to come along with us.

We love to have company but it does mean a lot of extra work for me. I have no help and after the weekend, all the linen has to be taken home and laundered and then carted back again.

I have often thought what a help it would be if they brought their own linen. This brings me to my question.

Would it be so terribly wrong if I did ask them to bring their own sheets and towels when coming to spend the weekend?

A: Unless these friends are really intimate ones and you know that it will be not be inconvenient for them to take their own sheets and towels, you should not ask them to do so.

PRESIDENT NECESSARY?

Q: About a year ago a friend of mine was to have been married and I was invited to the wedding. I sent her a very nice wedding present.

The wedding was called off at the last minute but she did not return my present. She is going to be married soon to another man and I have again received an invitation to her wedding.

I would like to know if, in view of the fact that my first present was not returned, it is necessary to send another one at this time?

A: It was very remiss of her not to have returned your first present, and you need not send her a second one now.

Clifford B. West Captures Art by Camera

By JEANNE NELSON

He traded his brush for a camera and an easel for a dolly.

Painter and former teacher, Clifford B. West has turned to film in order to capture the wonder of Italian Renaissance masterpieces.

When questioned about this switch in art forms, the noted Bloomfield Hills artist explained that rather than a change, it is simply an extension of his work. This extension however, encompasses unlimited potential for the bringing together of art expression.

FILM AWARD

Last year West was awarded the Golden Eagle by CINE (Committee for International Non-Theatrical Events) for his filming of the color production "Harry Bertola's Sculpture." The artist's wife, Eleanor, and daughter, Gillian, shallcross, wrote the narrative for the 25-minute motion picture.

Gillian who is presently studying art history at New York University, accompanied her parents and brother, Justin, to Italy for six months last year while West photographed various masterpieces.

CLIFFORD B. WEST

him photograph the famous sculpture and architecture.

They were reluctant but he was persuasive and the result was a series of four films in color and sound.

West brings to focus new dimensions in his films due to the sometimes dangerous, always unusual positions and angles his camera has taken.

Each day and evening these same dignitaries would patiently sit there, making sure that West did exactly what had been agreed upon, no more, no less.

STUDIO WAS STABLE

West's studio which lies just a short distance away from the house on Lone Pine Road, is a converted old stable with half the loft still intact.

A large viewer atop a table in the far end of the workshop brings to life the stills the artist has taken of hundreds of pieces of artwork.

The Bertola film is one in a series West is presently occupied with entitled "American Artists Series."

In this same series, the photographer takes his viewers to Woodstock, N.Y., to the countryside studio and classroom of Arnold Blanch, painter, teacher and educator.

HEAR PHILOSOPHIES

In this, you hear the philosophies of this artist as he speaks to his students. The importance of dimension comes forth as Blanch creates on canvases before the viewers' eyes.

Graduated from the Cleveland School of Art, West also holds a BA degree from Adams State College and an MA from Cranbrook Academy of Art where he taught for a number of years.

WCS Slates Christmas Tea

He Suffers Malnutrition of the Old Male Ego

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What can I do with a husband who takes me often to a lovely restaurant, then hardly speaks to me the whole time. He is so busy trying to impress the cocktail waitress, waiters, and even strangers at nearby tables.

He considers himself a gourmet and bon vivant (which he is not) and he tries so hard to appear important to those who serve us. You should hear him show off his high school French from 30 years ago!

How can I let him know how foolish his actions are? To say nothing of his thoughtlessness in keeping busy people from their work, and annoying strangers who couldn't care less. I am too chagrined to sign my name. Just sign me . . .

people who didn't know better that my father was dead.

The priest said he didn't blame me for lying, but I should not lie any more about it. Now I keep having these horrible nightmares in which I see my father in a coffin with the lid nailed down, and him trying to get out. Please help me.

NIGHTMARES

DEAR NIGHTMARES: Your father's marital record is certainly nothing to brag about, but you are not responsible for your father's behavior.

If someone asks about your father, tell them the truth. The chances are they will think you're kidding. Those nightmares are probably caused by your guilt-feelings from lying. From your own mind stick to the truth, and you'll be all right.

DEAR ABBY: Some 13 years ago my wife and I were selected to be godparents by friends who had their first child. We are without children and quite well off.

We have faithfully inquired about the child's progress and have cheerfully played the role of "generous godparents" on all occasions. Birthdays, Christmas, Easter — you name it, we've provided a gift.

Now, would you believe it, Abby, we have NEVER seen the child since his birth. And we rarely see the parents. Our godchild has never shown the slightest bit of interest in us, and every effort we have made to become closer to the parents has met with almost humiliating failure.

Are we expecting too much? Or are we just a pair of old fools?

GODPARENTS

DEAR GODPARENTS: THE OFFICIAL function of godparents is to rear the child in the religion of his parents should they both die while the child is a minor. All gifts should be voluntary.

And anyone who feels like a "fool" for giving generously, and continuing to give, is a bigger fool than he thinks he is.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, for Abby's booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

ELIAS BROS. NEEDS A WAITRESS

She has to be big, strong and healthy. Carrying trays loaded with Big Boy's super-sized portions is no job for a willing magnolia. She has to be fast. Folks who come to Big Boys like their food in a hurry, then take their time enjoying it. Not the other way around.

She has to like kids. We get lots because we're a family restaurant. (Four healthy appetites can eat regularly at Big Boys for less than $5). And she has to have will power. It's pretty tough to resist watching a crispy french fry or golden-brown fried shrimp occasionally but we'd rather she didn't nibble in front of our guest.

What can we offer?

A permanent job, hourly wages plus tips, paid vacation and hospitalization in clean wholesome surroundings, nice uniforms and a lot of wonderful people to work with. You see, girls like the one's we're looking for right now are the only kind we hire.

Coffee Is Ingredient in This FruitcakeBy JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Don't panic if you haven't made your fruitcake yet. There's still time.

Alice Serrell of Rochester gave us today's recipe. She said it was the one her mother always used.

Member of a pioneer Oakland County family, Miss Serrell leads a busy interesting life. She is active in a number of civic activities.

She served for two years as president of the Pontiac YWCA and is completing her work now as chairman of the building fund drive of that organization.

FRUITCAKE
By Alice Serrell

- 3 cups sugar
- 1 cup butter
- 4 eggs
- 1 cup cold coffee
- 4 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon cloves
- 4 cups candied fruit, raisins, currants as desired

Cream butter and sugar until fluffy. Beat in eggs. Sift spices with flour and add alternately with cold coffee. Fold in fruit.

Pour into pans lined with foil or buttered paper. Bake at 325 degrees 1-1/2 hours, depending on size of pans.

Ah, Sew

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and her daughter Luci are among the sew-happy celebrities who like to stitch their own togs on occasion, according to a survey by the Japan Sewing Machine Industry.

Other famous stitchers: Mrs. Hubert Humphrey, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., Mrs. Willard Wirtz, wife of the secretary of Labor. On the Republican side, Mrs. Richard Nixon sews. Joanne Woodward, Claudette Colbert and Carol Lawrence are among show-biz personalities who lean to stitchery, too.

Guests on Holiday

Holiday dinner guests of Mrs. Harry J. Richards, Mohawk Road, included Dr. and Mrs. Harold J. Richards and daughter Barbara Lynn of Ann Arbor.

Also present were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Richards, Flint; Mr. and Mrs. William J. Richards of Livonia with children Nancy and Ronny; and Mr. and Mrs. Jay I. Myers and son Gale, Livonia.

Soaking Does It

To get oven racks clean the no-scrub way, submerge them in a laundry tub full of hot water, add a cup of sal soda concentrate and let soak for a couple of hours. Burnt on grease just peels off with normal washing after this soaking.

Saigon Pressure Blamed

Viet Body Counts Often Misleading

By JOHN T. WHEELER

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — How accurate are announced claims of Viet Cong killed in battle in Viet Nam?

Why are such figures as enemy body counts used at all? These questions are being raised again today in the wake of the bloody Ia Drang Valley battles.

The validity of Saigon and Washington announcements of the enemy dead has been questioned by both U.S. officers and correspondents in the field. In some cases in the past, the counts have unquestionably been inaccurate and frequently they appear inflated.

Some U.S. officers warn that the statistics, even when accurate, can be misleading.

GUIDELINES
The loss of a town, the breakthrough of an opponent's defensive positions, the crossing of a key river defense line, the failure of a massive attack to carry — these were some of the guidelines in past wars.

Despite the escalation to a full-scale war, the Vietnamese conflict still is essentially a battle for the allegiance of people and the destruction of opposing forces. Although North Vietnamese units are operating in up to divisional strength, they basically are observing the rules of guerrilla war.

Strike when you are certain of success, retreat when confronted with a superior force. The mere holding of terrain can mean nothing.

A body count has been practiced from the earliest days of the war here. Ex-President Ngo Dinh Diem's commanders, fearful of palace wrath and desiring to show how effective their troops had been, inflated the figures. Commanders knew the palace wanted victory reports only.

PRESSURE DEVELOPS

Pressure developed for an accurate count, and figures submitted by American advisers with the Vietnamese units became a guideline of the probability. However, one high Washington official a year ago still quoted figures which included old, unconfirmed Diem figures. Last summer, a U.S. officer whose job it is to help prepare official statistics which ultimately reach President Johnson and the Pentagon said that during one six-month period the American body count of enemy dead from government operations exceeded that of government estimates by several thousand. He said Vietnamese commanders gleefully pointed this out and suggested that perhaps it might be better to go back to the old system.

By this time the United States was vastly more committed to the war. U.S. combat troops were pouring into the country and there was pressure to show that things were going much better because of the bigger American commitment.

In August, American troops had their first major engagements with the Viet Cong. Saigon demanded enemy body counts quickly to show how things had gone.

TOOK ESTIMATES
In the field, unit commanders counted the bodies in front of their positions and took estimates from squads and platoons of what they felt was accurate.

The Viet Cong as always tried to recover as many bodies as possible, partly to prevent any hard government victory claims with photographic proof.

In many instances, estimates of spotter plane pilots on the results of air strikes and artillery bombardment were thrown into the "confirmed body count" figure.

Some pilots have privately said they were making only rough estimates and were unable to tell in many cases whether the bodies were civilian or

MISLEADING PICTURE
Comparing a body count of enemy dead to known allied dead sometimes gives a misleading picture.

North Viet Nam has shown it is willing to sacrifice large numbers of men like a heavy better at a roulette table who wants to make one big kill.

The current kill ratio by U.S. command figures stands at just under three Communists to one allied dead.

The French average was 2.5 to one in their favor. They lost the war when Ho Chi Minh's biggest bet paid off at Dien Bien Phu.

No Progress in Flint Talks
FLINT (AP) — Negotiators reported no progress Friday in talks between striking United Auto Workers and the management of Fisher Body Plant No. 2.

Officials of UAW Local 508 met briefly Friday with executives from the General Motors plant.

The dispute involves some 450 unresolved grievances, mostly involving work standards.

Approximately 3,100 workers walked off the job at the plant Wednesday. Another 1,000 at a nearby Chevrolet assembly plant have been laid off.

The Fisher Body plant supplies convertible and station wagon bodies.

Detroit Man Killed

DETROIT (AP)—Murder H. DeBose, 33, of Detroit was killed Friday night in a two-car collision in Detroit.

Virginia has given the nation eight sons who became presidents of the U.S. They were Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Harrison, Tyler, Taylor and Wilson.

Today's Drill Sergeant Uses Soft Touch

PORT DIX, N.J. (NEA)—The company commander received a letter the other day which, considering its "source," was hardly expected.

"We wish to express our appreciation for the fine training we have received from Sgt. Kelly," the note read.

"He is, in our opinion, the epitome of the good Army soldier and a gentleman."

"His pride and love for the Army has inspired us all to do our best in becoming good soldiers."

"He will always have our utmost respect and we shall miss his guidance very much."

And the letter was signed by every member of Sgt. Kelly's unit. They had just been through eight grueling weeks of basic training at the Army's Ft. Dix training center.

MOLLYCODDLING

A couple of years ago Kelly probably would have been reprimanded for mollycoddling his young charges and drumming out of the corps of drill-nonsensics who traditionally followed the spare-the-rod, spoil-the-child dictum while making men out of boys.

The letter will probably surprise a lot of men in this country who remember — and not too fondly — their own Army training. But notes like this seem not to be unusual nowadays.

"Those old horror stories you used to hear about basic training are not true any more," says Sgt. James Gammill, affable instructor of drill sergeants at Dix.

What, no more carrying cement blocks around drill pads as punishment?

NO DISCOMFORT

"Certainly not," replied the sergeant. "There is no imposition of physical discomfort. We withhold liberty or suggest corrective action."

No more yelling and screaming and cursing at the recruits?

"Drill sergeants will not use profanity."

No more punishments for the malingerers?

REHABILITATION

"We make efforts to rehabilitate him. We talk to him."

Sgt. Gammill may be right.

During a recent tour of the training area (which resembles a college campus rather than an old military fort), there was ample evidence that the average recruit was reasonably content, if not quite overjoyed, with his condition.

The youngster's first touch with cold military reality has always been the "reception station," usually filled with frightened, half-naked recruits and coldly efficient Army regulars.

Maj. Alexander Cipriano, boss of the station, has radically altered the image. "This is the boy's first look at Army life, so why shouldn't we make it as pleasant as possible?" he points out.

AREN'T CONCERNED

"Most of these people don't know the difference between an officer and a bus driver," he adds, "so we aren't concerned about the military courtesies — not yet, at least."

Basic training regimen is somewhat inflexible — drill, marksmanship, history, physical training, discipline — but the methods of instruction have changed radically in the last year or so, according to

Lt. Col. Cornelius J. Molloy Jr., head of the training facility.

"Today's trainee is more mature than the World War II variety. He learns faster and is quick to spot an instructor who doesn't know what he's talking about."

"We can no longer afford to tell a man to do something without telling him why. And practical training, we have found, is a lot better than a classroom lecture."

NEW COURSE

One of the reasons why drill sergeants are getting fan mail from their recruits is largely due to the new Drill Sergeant Training Course and the high esteem in which the drill sergeant is now held by Army brass.

"It used to be," explains Sgt. Gammill, "that our training sergeants were people who couldn't make the grade in other Army areas. They were rough, tough and often not too smart."

"The new breed is still pretty tough, but it's smart, too. Our courses teach the instructor 'To a Child' by the design on about diplomacy and psychology a ceramic tile that decorated his fireplace.

With more than 400,000 recruits expected to pass through Army training centers next year, of which a good percentage will wind up in Viet Nam, the new approach to basic training had better pay off.

FAR BETTER

Results have already trickled home. During the crisis in the Dominican Republic, one grizzled veteran of several wars told this reporter that the American soldiers stationed in Santo Domingo were "far better in every way than their fathers in World War II were."

And from Viet Nam, NEA correspondent Tom Tiede wrote home:

"I am tremendously impressed over here by people nobody is usually impressed with in normal times — the 18½-year-olds ..."

"Heroes! There have been times when I've had kids around me whom I would have voted for president had there been an election."

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow was inspired to write his poem "To a Child" by the design on a ceramic tile that decorated his fireplace.

Fire Hits Station, Burns Transmitters

HANCOCK AP)—A fire of unknown origin destroyed the transmitter of radio station in nearby Houghton.

WHDY Friday.

It was not known when the station would resume broadcasting, a spokesman said. The station's studios are located in nearby Houghton.

Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOBY AND SON

Here is another safety play from the new Kay-Silodor-Kar-pin book on duplicate bridge.

South wins the first heart and plays ace and jack of diamonds. West plays the queen on the jack. You can make an extra trick if East holds the ten of diamonds and you play the king from dummy but if West holds the ten-spot, your play of the king tosses your contract into the ash can.

scores and all diamond contracts, and if diamonds do divide 3-1 you will have tied for top.

Now for a little speculation with this hand. Suppose that both opponents follow to the first diamond and that West plays the ten-spot on the second diamond lead.

Can you rise with dummy's king and feel perfectly safe about dropping the queen from East?

The answer is yes unless West happens to be a great player who is gifted with both nerve and imagination.

Such a West player might well play the ten from queen-ten. He would have reasoned as soon as he saw dummy that you as South would play safe in diamonds if he played the queen and would have risked his sure diamond trick in an effort to lure you into going up

Groves Turns Tables on Seaholm Cagers, 81-40

Gabler Sparked Knights

Shoe Award for Kimball Ace

The departure of half-back John Gabler leaves Royal Oak Kimball with the task of filling a pair of pretty big shoes.

The hard-running half-back, one of the state's top college prospects, garnered almost every football honor available to high school players this year, including a spot on the Michigan Class A All-State team.

The latest honor for Gabler, a 6-3, 205-pounder, came this week when he was named recipient of the 10th annual Pontiac Press-Thom McAn Shoe Award.

Many of the nation's top universities are bidding for Gabler's football talents. Among them are Michigan State and University of Michigan.

If John selects U. of M., he would be following in the steps of his brother, Wally, a senior, who quarterbacked the Wolverines this past season.

OFFENSIVE STAR

In 34 varsity games at Kimball, Gabler collected 29 touchdowns, 12 this season. He picked up 1,064 yards in 183 carries this season for an average of seven yards a carry in leading the Knights to an 8-0 season.

Rafferty's 19 Sparks Victory in Birmingham

2nd Straight Triumph in Series by Falcons; Forrester Nets 16

By DON VOGEL

The tide is turning in Birmingham.

And riding the crest is the Groves basketball team that defeated Seaholm a crushing 81-40 last night. The Falcons posted their first game victory over Seaholm last season and now have a two-game winning streak going in the series.

Seaholm, however, has never lost to Groves in football or swimming.

If Groves' latest court conquest is any indication of what is to come in athletic contests between the intra-city rivals, the Falcons had better brace themselves.

The contest was more one-sided than the score indicates. Only an inability to hit several layups and convert free throws kept the Falcons from scoring 100 points or more.

They stole the ball from the Maples 21 times and Seaholm yielded the sphere several other times on trailing violations.

"We were defeated by a very good team," was the only comment offered by Seaholm coach Lew Perry. It was the Maples' second loss in as many games.

Both squads spluttered through the first five minutes as Groves moved ahead 10-6. Then the Falcons pulled the trigger. They scored eight straight points and the rout was under way.

HIGH SCORER

Mike Rafferty sparked the Falcons attack with 19 points. However, Mike Forrester played a key role for Groves.

He scored the game with three minutes gone and finished with 16 points. But it was his strong rebounding, along with Mark Harris, that gave the Falcons complete control of the backboards.

Groves opened a 15-point margin early in the second period. Seaholm spurred briefly behind the shooting of Bruce Landline and Rick Thompson, but the Maples were obviously outmanned.

White Whiteman and Angie Florini repeatedly stole passes by the Seaholm guards with several fast-break baskets the result. Groves led at the half, 40-22.

Dave Cook pumped in four straight one-handers for the Maples in the third quarter, but effort hardly made a dent in Groves' big lead. The Falcons continued to pull away and coach Tom Carson started seeding in the reserves.

Cook was high scorer for the Maples with 11 points.

If the Falcons showed any weakness on the way to making their season mark 2-0, it was in the free throw department. They made only 13 of 27 with many of the misses being the first of one-and-one tries.

Making the Maples even more uncomfortable was the fact that they were the home team and there appeared to be more Groves' partisans than Seaholm's in the crowd of 1,500.

Mikemen Impressive, Too

St. Fred Wins, 99-56

One started fast and the other a little slower last night, but when the final buzzer sounded, St. Frederick and St. Michael had posted impressive opening game basketball wins in the Macomb Catholic League.

St. Frederick poured in 99 points in the first period and never let up. The Rams bombed Detroit St. Rose, 99-56, at Madison Junior High.

It took St. Michael a half to get rolling. But once the Shamrocks found the range they whipped New Baltimore St. Mary, 83-67, on the losers' floor.

Bishop Gallagher rolled over Royal Oak Shrine, 89-59, in a Central Division tussle.

St. Fred's explosion wasn't a record. But it was close. Back in the mid-fifties the Rams scored 107 points against Mount Clemens St. Mary. Bob McManus, now playing in the city recreation league, poured in 72 points that night for the individual scoring mark.

TOP SCORER

Tony Bellarino, a 5-9 senior, led the assault with 23 points. Mike Novington tossed in 16. Tom Wright and Joe Murphy each scored 13. Jim Herrington, a junior, led the bench to net 11 in the fourth quarter.

The Rams piled up a 53-26 halftime lead and capped the one-sided affair with a 27-point burst in the fourth quarter. Twelve players scored for St. Frederick.

The Mikemen had the usual first game problems during the opening two periods and fell behind, 23-31 at the half.

But they rallied in the third quarter for 29 points to build a commanding 60-45 advantage.

"Everything just seemed to start going right for us in the third quarter," said coach Jim Niebauer.

Mike Thornberry led the Shamrocks with 19 points. Five others were in double figures.

Tom Patch netted 12, Rick Lawrie 10, Bill French 12, Gregg Glynn 10, and Jerry Stanton 13. Bob Kallenbach scored 26 for St. Mary.

Shrine was never in the game against Bishop Gallagher. The Shamrocks led 56-38 halftime and coasted home.

Roger Nalepa led Gallagher with 30 points. Rick Chudy scored 22, Nick Berzinski 14, Bob Turner 11 and Paul Seymour 10 for Shrine.

Nobis, Grabowski Named Early in Pro Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Nobis, All-America linebacker from Texas, was the first player in the country drafted by both the National and American football leagues in their simultaneous — but separate — drafts held today.

The naming of Nobis by the NFL's new Atlanta Falcons and the AFL's Houston entry came just 12 minutes apart.

Nobis was the No. 1 pick in the NFL draft, which began at 5:38 a.m. The Oilers, who made the fifth pick in the AFL draft which began about 45 minutes earlier, also tapped Nobis as their first selection.

Two Purdue tackles went next, Boston taking Karl Singer and Denver selecting Jerry Shay. Houston then named Nobis.

The two rival leagues wound up with five first-round selections duplicated last year. The AFL signed three, the NFL two. Both drafts bogged down early. After the Los Angeles Rams of the NFL picked Michigan tackle Tom Mack, the Pittsburgh Steelers used their allotted

7-1 Alcindor in Cage Debut

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Champion UCLA's 1965 basketball team debuts tonight in its new pavilion, but most heads will be directed downtown at the probable star of its 1966 team.

He's 7-foot-1 Lew Alcindor, ready for his first outing on a college court.

He will play for the freshmen team against the varsity.

The mild-mannered giant from Power Memorial Academy in New York was sought coast-to-coast after his senior season.

He chose to come West to play under Bruin Coach Johnny Wooden, veteran of two straight NCAA title-winning seasons.

Wooden has protected Alcindor from press and public, increasing interest in the promising freshman.

The exhibition game will be played before a sell-out crowd of 13,000. The setting is the ultra-modern $5 million Pauley Pavilion, named in honor of chairman and university regent, Edwin W. Pauley.

Lefthanders in Finals of Keg Tourney

DETROIT (AP) — Two lefthanders will clash today for the crown in the finals of the $65,000 sixth annual national championship of the Professional Bowlers Association.

Jerry McCoy, of Fort Worth, Tex., and Dave Davis, of Phoenix, finished a 1-2 in the match play finals at Continental lanes late Friday.

The two will battle in a three-game rolloff for the nationally televised championship (NBC). They eliminated 22 other lefthanders in a series of round robin matches.

McCoy qualified for his shot at the final by leading the field and then by winning two vital position round games over Ske Foremsky, El Paso, Tex.

Davis won a first round game to Tommy Tuttle of Rural Hall, N. C., 231-211, but then came in the second to game to win 216-180.

Seniors' Champs Eliminated 1-Up

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Defending champions Dexter Daniels and Dr. John Mercer were eliminated 1-up on the 23rd hole Friday by J. R. Jacob and A. C. McManus in the semifinals of the annual World Amateur Seniors Four-Ball Golf Tournament.

Jacob, of Canton, Ohio, and McManus, of Windermere, Fla., were one down at 72. Jacobs developed back trouble on the next tee shot and used a wood to sink a 30-foot birdie putt on the 19th.

The teams halved the next four holes and on the 22nd Jacobs sank a 25-foot putt for par while Mercer, of Sarasota, Fla., and Daniels, of Winter Haven, Fla., bogeyed.

Browns Can Clinch NFL Eastern's Title

By The Associated Press

Tommy Wade is 23 but he hasn't arrived yet. Ed Brown has arrived but he's 36.

And that's the dilemma facing the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Either the youngster on the way up or the veteran on the way down will have to handle the quarterbacking Sunday for the Steelers, who could be the final hope for the teams chasing Cleveland in the Eastern Division of the National Football League.

The two teams meet at Pittsburgh with the Browns needing only one victory to clinch at least a tie for their second straight title. A Cleveland victory and defeats by New York and St. Louis would give the Browns the crown outright.

Off their first meeting, which the Browns won 24-19 on a touchdown with 44 seconds left to play, the game figures to be a struggle. But the Steelers will be without injured quarterback Bill Nelson, who took the first-string job from Brown early in the season.

Both Brown and Wade alternated last week in a 31-3 loss to Washington. Wade, a sophomore pro from Texas completed only one pass in the first half and, as the score indicated, Brown wasn't much more effective when he took over in the second half.

The Giants will try to stick in the race when they meet Chicago at New York and the Cardinals will attempt to do the same against Philadelphia at St. Louis.

OTHER GAMES

In other games, Green Bay is at Los Angeles, San Francisco at Minnesota and Dallas at Washington. Baltimore and Detroit played to a 24-24 tie Thanksgiving Day.

Only two American League games are scheduled, Boston at New York and Houston at Kansas City. San Diego and Buffalo played a 20-20 tie Thanksgiving Day while Oakland and Denver are not scheduled.

Candles Flicker in Ceremonies of Church and Home

Candles in Advent wreaths, will be lighted in thousands of homes and churches across the country tomorrow as those of the Christian Faith prepare for Christmas.

Advent is the season of preparation for the celebration of the coming of The Christ.

Many church members who formerly paid little attention to the liturgical calendar have in recent years been emphasizing the observance of the Advent season in the home as well as in the church.

They suggest ways to keep the meaning of Christmas from being lost in the hectic round of shopping and parties.

Advent wreaths seem to be an answer.

MAKE WREATHS

Church School classes make wreaths to be used during class study hour, and also to be taken home for evening devotionals at dinner. Women's organizations sometimes make wreaths for each family of the church.

The four candles in the wreath symbolize the four weeks preceding Christmas. Usually there are three purple candles and one pink, placed in a wreath of evergreen boughs wired together.

During the first week one candle is lighted with a service of meditation, Bible reading and prayer with hymn or carol singing. One of the children might memorize and recite a Christmas poem.

Each Sunday a new candle is lighted along with the first, until the fourth week all candles are burning.

Some wreaths include a fifth, white or red candle, to light on Christmas Day. This is a candle for The Christ.

The wreath, according to the Lutheran belief, represents eternity and reminds us that Christ is the eternal Son of God who came to give us eternal life.

The greenery typifies life. The light of the candles is in remembrance of Christ. The purple candles denote that repentance, humility and penitence are the avenues on which Christ finds entrance to bless one's life.

The one pink candle lighted on the third Sunday is in joyful anticipation of Christ's coming with forgiveness.

The first Sunday of Advent marks the New Year's Day of the Christian Church. It dates from the nearest Sunday near Nov. 30 until Christmas Eve.

Rev. Richard J. Reynolds, assistant pastor, will preach on "He Comes" at First Presbyterian Church tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Everett and the Guy Duffields, deacons of the church, will be hosts at the noon coffee hour.

All fourth, fifth and sixth grade students are invited to attend. Supper will be served.

Fireside Starting for Youth

Under the direction of the Mutual Improvement Association, the Pontiac Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints inaugurated a series of special fireside Saturday evening at the home of Glen Rawlins.

Each fireside, planned and organized by the young people of the MIA, is highlighted by a guest speaker.

The firesides enable the young men and women of the ward to socialize under the influence of the spiritual atmosphere.

Lamar Horton, missionary from the Alaskan—Canadian Mission, spoke on "As Ye Think, So Are Ye" at the first session.

The second fireside on Dec. 4 will center around the film shown at the Mormon Pavilion at the World's Fair in New York City entitled "Man's Search for Happiness."

The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the chapel, 425 Woodward.

The evening is planned for young people from the age of 17 to 25.

At 7 p.m. on Dec. 5 the film will be shown to the public at the same location.

Dissident Methodists Hit Church Reunion
LEEDS, England (AP) — Methodists who oppose plans for their Church's reunion with the Church of England have formed a Methodist Liaison Committee which aims at reversing the decision at next year's Methodist Conference.

The group claims about 50 percent of British Methodists support it and warns that "if union is urged on the present Catholic lines... the Conference must bear the responsibility if the division in the Church ensues."

New Bible House Site at the Crossroads
NEW YORK—A new concept is incorporated in the Bible House being built at Lincoln Center. Like its three predecessors, it will be the world headquarters of Scripture distribution, reading and translation of the American Bible Society.

Unlike the others, however, its site was deliberately chosen at the crossroads for millions of people to "serve as a witness for the Bible to all who pass by."

Bible Sunday Teas Planned Dec. 5-12

Plans are now under way for a 150th Anniversary concert to be given by the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra in Philharmonic Hall November 18, 1968, with Sir Malcolm Sargent of the London Symphony conducting.

Bible Sunday Teas are being planned in many states for Universal Bible Week, December 5-12, 1966, in an effort to call the nation's attention to the 150th Anniversary Advance Program in 1968.

The Women's Speakers' Bureau is taking a leading role in this program, and is planning Bible Sunday Teas across the nation.

It is the hope of the Society that these teas will set the stage for an ever widening celebration in December 1968.

At Bethany Baptist

Bibles, New Testaments on Display

A display of Bibles, Testaments and Bible story books in a wide variety of versions and translations will be exhibited at 12:30 p.m. at the Bethany Baptist Church tomorrow.

The collection will include Bibles for every age group in the family. Large and small story books for children will be included. The Christian Literature Sale is assisting in assembling the material.

Bethany Baptist has secured over a thousand of the daily Bible reading calendars provided by the American Bible Society. This is the "Thanksgiving to Christmas" reading movement. More than 20-million persons are expected to participate in this Worldwide Bible reading, the annual program of the American Bible Society.

President Johnson serves as honorary chairman, and former Presidents Truman and Eisenhower are among its sponsors.

The program takes on special significance this year because thousands of U.S. servicemen in South Viet Nam are expected to participate as did the soldiers, sailors and marines of World War II and the Korean conflict.

The society offers without charge bookmarks listing readings for each day. The bookmarks are available in several languages and in raised letter systems for the blind.

The calendar and Bible selections for each day are:

U.S. Jewish Youth

BARRYVILLE, N.Y. (UPI) — The first official convention of an American Jewish youth organization to be conducted in Israel will be held in December.

The decision to hold a convention of National Young Judeans in Jerusalem was announced 46 here by Bernard Weisberg, national director of Young Judeans. "A national convention in Israel is one of the best ways to strengthen ties between American Jewish youth and Israeli youth," he said. "Forty-four delegates will attend the midwinter convention."

Minister Calls Korea
Field for Evangelism

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — A missionary recently returned from Korea says that unrest in that country has made it "a field for evangelism." The Rev. John W. Hurston, an Assemblies of God minister who spent four years in Seoul, says the unrest is caused by "deep-rooted feelings of inhuman discrimination," the result of many years of Japanese rule.

Hymn-SingingLutherans to Push
'Sing-a-Long' Album

An attempt to make hymn singing a habit in homes throughout the 5,207 congregations of The American Lutheran Church is being planned as a churchwide emphasis throughout the next year.

A three-record album of "sing-a-long" hymns for family use is being offered throughout the ALC in a concentrated effort to introduce vocal music as an integral part of family worship.

The departments of parish education, evangelism, worship and church music, and the women, men and youth auxiliaries are cooperating in the effort.

In commenting on the project, the Rev. Mandus Egge, director of worship and church music, said the Lutheran Church has a 400-year-old reputation as a singing church to substantiate.

The record album features a Los Angeles a cappella group with instrumental accompaniment. Paul Mann, Minneapolis church organist, also is featured.

The recording is in compatible stereophonic sound, and is keyed to the familiar service book and hymnal.

Cunningham to Be Guest
At Academy

The topic for the discussion is "The Priest in Human Society." Father Cunningham is presently a professor of literature at Sacred Heart Seminary, book reviewer for the Detroit Michigan Catholic, and a member of the archbishop's committee on human relations for the Archdiocese of Detroit.

The purpose of the Aquinas Academy is "to discover the significance of the created world as it is reflected in the Arts and Sciences."

Camera Films Stomach Inside

Pictures Areas for Cancer, Ulcer Check

By Science Service
LONDON — A new small camera with flashing lamp has been developed to photograph the inside of human stomachs, suspected of cancerous or ulcerous areas.

It was designed in Japan and the recently improved model is widely used there where stomach cancer is common.

A slim apparatus on the end of a plastic-covered control cable takes 32 color photographs about one-fifth of an inch in diameter.

It is a great improvement over formerly used stomach photography, as it is adapted to the small organs of the Japanese people.

The conventional way of performing this gastric photography is to use a fibroscope, an optical tube of internal reflecting fibers, which works somewhat like a periscope.

LARGER TUBE

This tube must be of a larger diameter, however, than is needed by the new camera operated on a cable method.

Dr. G. D. Hadley of the Mid-dlesex Hospital, London, reports on the new camera in the British Medical Journal.

He pointed out that the Olympus Optical Company, which assisted the University of Tokyo in its development, has no foreign agents or subsidiaries where servicing and minor repairs can be made.

Instructions at this time can only be obtained in Tokyo.

NEW CAMERA

The new camera is less than one-half inch in diameter and about two and a half inches long. These dimensions include the flash light source, which is a long strip about a foot long including film, lens and a tube to blow air into the stomach.

State Senators Tour Factory

German Auto Firm, Consulate Visited

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—A group of Michigan state senators on a European fact-finding tour Friday met U.S. consulate officials in Frankfurt and visited the Rueselsheim auto factory of the German Opel firm, a subsidiary of General Motors.

While most of the party leaves for Zurich, Switzerland, today, Sen. Gilbert Bursley and Ann Arbor advertising executive Jacques Lestrang will be staying at a sister city agreement between the Bavarian University of Tübingen and Ann Arbor, Mich., Sen. Don Bostwick said.

Bursley and Lestrang will rejoin the rest of the party in Switzerland tonight.

Two more senators flew out from Detroit to join the group Thursday night. Sens. John Bowman and Guy Vanderjagt had been held up by previous commitments, Bostwick said.

'SUCCESSFUL'

He said the tour so far had been "enormously successful."

Bostwick said the group was studying port facilities and free trade zones in Europe, as well as making contact with European free trade association and common market groups.

The group plans to visit Milan and Paris before it returns to Michigan Dec. 8.

2 Detroit Men Bound Over in Break-In

Two men were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday on charges of armed robbery in an Oct. 29 break-in at the home of Bernard Glick, 2700 W. 13 Mile, Farmington Township.

The two other men accused are being held in Detroit on previous charges.

The two who were bound over by Farmington Township Justice of the Peace Byron Barnett yesterday were Gerald Dean, 21, and Marshall Esque, 24, both of Detroit.

Held in Detroit are Ronald Poy, 25, of Detroit, charged with another robbery; and Arthur Cardenas, 25, also of Detroit, held as a parole violator.

The four were arrested separately last week by Farmington Township detectives Russ Conway and William Kelly, and Officer Jack Williams.

She died Thursday. Mrs. Chidsey was a member of St. Williams Church.

The rosary will be said at 3 p.m. Monday at the funeral home.

ARMADA-YOUTH

An Armada youth has pleaded guilty to the $3,000 break-in of a Romeo service station Thanksgiving night.

Johnny R. Hensley, 17, of 6330 Ono appeared before Mount Clemens Justice of the Peace Edwin Schmidt yesterday.

Attempts were made to make a safe in the building appear as though it had been forced, police said.

The money was recovered, and the 16-year-old faces juvenile court action Monday.

State 4th to OK Medicare Pact

LANSING (AP)—Michigan has become the fourth state in the nation to sign an agreement to implement the new Medicare program with the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Gov. George Romney said the signing is a step toward insuring that state hospitals and other health institutions will be able to provide services to the aged under the Medicare concept.

Other states which have signed such agreements are Nebraska, New Mexico and Idaho. Dr. Albert Housley, state health commissioner, signed the agreement for Michigan. He estimated some 700,000 Michigan residents are potentially eligible to receive Medicare benefits.

Romney said the first major job of the health department will be to certify that Michigan hospitals, home health agencies and extended care facilities are eligible for participation in the federal health insurance program.

—A Junior Editors Quiz About AULD LANG SYNE

QUESTION: What is meant by "auld lang syne" and who wrote those words?

ANSWER: We all know the famous song starting: "Should acquaintance be forgot," which we often sing at New Year's parties.

"Auld Lang Syne." The song was written by the Scotsman Robert Burns in 1788.

Burns was born of very poor parents and had a difficult time as a boy. Yet sorrow and sickness seemed to make him sympathetic with all kinds of people, and when he began to write poetry, his humanity and honest sentiment made him famous at once.

Burns seemed to speak for the soul of Scottish people. The Scotch had developed a somewhat different language from the English. In the Scotch language, for instance, they said "wee" for the English "small" and "bonnie" for "pretty."

Burns wrote many poems in regular English, but he loved the way the Scots spoke and used this for some of his finest poetry.

So he spoke of auld lang syne in Scotch words, meaning old long since, or days gone by.

We all remember some "auld acquaintance" whose company we once enjoyed and who now lives somewhere else, far from us really forget the "days of auld lang syne."

FOR YOU TO DO: Think of your "auld acquaintances," but do something even better—make a list of them with a note to send Christmas cards. This is a fine way to keep your old friendships alive.

Police Probe the Death of Roy Fruehauf

By The Associated Press

Police are investigating the death of trucking magnate Roy Fruehauf, who died Oct. 31 of an apparent cerebral hemorrhage at a Royal Oak hospital.

Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson of Oakland County said yesterday the inquiry was being conducted by Police Sgt. Jim Helgemo of West Bloomfield Township and Det. Robert Neigabauer of the Pontiac State Police post.

Bronson said an autopsy indicated Fruehauf had suffered a skull fracture.

He said the investigating officers do not think the injury was inflicted by another person but want to establish what caused it.

A report on their findings is expected next week, Bronson said.

Bosch: U.S. Intervention 'Jungle Law'

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Former President Juan D. Bosch says a U.S. decision to intervene unilaterally in the Dominican Revolutionary party made his comment Friday night in reference to Secretary of State Dean Rusk's remarks in Rio de Janeiro that the U.S. government would pursue a policy of intervention to prevent the spread of communism in the hemisphere.

Rusk spoke earlier this week before the foreign ministers of the Organization of American States.

Bosch told newsmen Rusk is "disregarding publicly and before the world a law prohibiting intervention by one nation in the affairs of another."

The United States will have to pay dearly for opposing these principles, Bosch said, adding:

"We have been the first victims but the last one will be the United States of America. One cannot harm without being harmed some time."

Calls City Boy Griffith the Hippest Country Boy

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Andy Griffith, who has been called "country hip" and referred to further as "the hippest country boy in the world," often meditates these nights as he sits around among his money just how much longer he can continue his corn-shucking profitability on TV . . . and what he'll do after that.

"How long we hang around the top has got to figure in it because if we don't hang around the top, they'll drop us," Andy drawled here the other afternoon.

"Hasn't your Southern accent gotten more Southern the longer you've been on TV?" we asked Andy.

"No sir, I had always had a Southern accent but I just put on a little more. That's what Gomer Pyle does, too," said Andy. "Which makes Gomer Pyle a special sort of person."

In playing this part over the last five years, something the reverse has happened. Along about the second year a woman wrote in saying she liked the show. "But does he have to use so much incorrect grammar?"

"I said out loud 'Yes I do.' But I started to thinking about it and then we started correcting the grammar, and along with the grammar we started correcting the speech, too.

"I will always be Southern and will always have that small rural attitude. I don't want to lose it. But within the realm of that we have tried to use a little sophistication."

The WEEKEND WINDUP

Frank Sinatra, spotting Don Rickles in prison garb for "Plotkin Prison, We Love You," told him: "Do a good job, kid, and maybe they'll let you keep the suit." . . . Peter Lawford'll be in Sammy Davis' film, "A Man Called Adam" . . . Chateau Madrid door: Singer Mary Wells and Timmie Barnes.

Jerry Lewis, now making "Three On a Couch," has movies set into 1971 . . . Anthony Newley and Leslie Bricusse (who wrote "Barefoot in the Park") want to do "Cyrano" as a musical, with Christopher Plummer . . . Joe Levine'll give another "party of the year" Dec. 22 (for "Tenth Victim").

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Cop comic Jack DeLeon tells of the Alcoholic Anonymous chapter so strict it ejected one member for listening to Lawrence Welk's champagne music.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The mind is a wonderful thing. It starts working the minute you're born—and never stops till you get up to speak in public."—Anton

EARL'S FEARS: If you examine the skeletons of showgirls, claims Chuck McCann, you'll find they're all wishbones.

Miss Duke, who won an Oscar in 1962 for her supporting role as the young Helen Keller in "The Miracle Worker," was attended by her coach and personal manager, John Ross, and Mrs. Ross. Only eight other close friends witnessed the ceremony.

GOODFELLOWS—Getting set for the Pontiac area Goodfellows newspaper sale today these three members of the Metropolitan Club, including Pontiac Police Lt. William

Nesbitt, club president (right), Robert L. Koch of the Pontiac Fire Department, chairman of the sale (left), and Pontiac Postman Richard E. Witt pick up their papers.

Goodfellows Sell Edition to Aid Charity

Firemen, Police, Mail Carriers Join to Give All a Merry Yule

Firemen, policemen and mailmen—Goodfellows all—took to Pontiac streets in the teeth of a whistling November wind today to sell newspapers for charity.

Opening this year's sale were Metropolitan Club members headed by Police Lt. William F. Nesbitt, president, and fireman Robert L. Koch, chairman of the sale.

Club members picked up special editions of The Pontiac Press early this afternoon.

Koch said the club had boosted this year's goal to $3,000—up $1,000 from last year—aiming at a happy Christmas for needy families.

Warm clothing for children, fuel oil and coal for cold winter months and food baskets are among the benefits of the sale.

Distribution of the goods is handled by the Salvation Army, which coordinates its efforts with Christmas charities sponsored by other area organizations.

TRADITIONAL SURGE
Koch said the drive was scheduled earlier this year to coincide with the traditional surge of holiday store sales following Thanksgiving.

This is the 37th year Pontiac Goodfellows have conducted the sales and given assistance to needy families.

McNamara in Paris

N-Sharing Views Discussed

PARIS (AP)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara began meeting with nine other Atlantic alliance defense ministers today to discuss the complex and delicate problem of sharing nuclear responsibility. McNamara was expected to make the main speech, detailing U.S. concepts on how nuclear strategy can best be achieved.

France was boycotting the meeting as part of her opposition to any closer ties with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Others not attending were Norway, Luxembourg and Portugal, who have said they are not especially interested, and Iceland, which has no army or defense minister.

With McNamara was Undersecretary of State George W. Ball. They are on what is described as an exploratory mission to sound out the European allies for their ideas on how nuclear responsibility can be shared.

The United States as the alliance's chief nuclear power has been searching some time now for a method to meet the demands of other allies, particularly West Germany, that they be fully consulted on any recourse to nuclear weapons.

At least two of the ideas which the ministers will deal with have been up for discussion within NATO circles for some time.

These include the proposal for a multinational surface fleet—MLF—armed with Polaris missiles and manned by crews of mixed nationality. President Charles de Gaulle strongly opposes the plan.

Another project is the "Atlantic nuclear force," or ANF, an idea first advanced by Britain. This would provide for a collective nuclear force linked to NATO and operating, like the MLF, under the supreme allied commander.

Virtually Rule Out Foul Play at Hospital

The possibility of foul play in the ether-injection deaths last week of three patients at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital has been virtually ruled out by Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson.

Bronson said responsibility for the tragedy "may well rest on more than one pair of hands." "It would be unfair," he said, "to single out one person. This was error built upon error built upon error."

Bronson's statement followed an inspection by two assistant prosecutors of the operating room where each of the three patients received an injection of ether.

The room has been sealed since Nov. 19, the day on which two of the patients died. The first death occurred on the 18th.

TWO SUSPENDED
Two hospital staff doctors—Dr. Lloyd Goodwin, D.O., 52, and Dr. Stanley Abrams, M.D., 42—have had their operating privileges suspended by the hospital in the course of investigations into the deaths.

Both men are anesthesiologists. Dr. Goodwin, of Pleasant Ridge, is chief anesthesiologist at the hospital. Dr. Abrams, a West Bloomfield Township resident, is an associate.

Michigan Feels Lash

By The Associated Press

Power lines were knocked down, some buildings were destroyed and a British freighter was grounded in the St. Marys River because of high winds in many parts of Michigan last night.

The Weather Bureau in Detroit and Grand Rapids issued tornado forecasts for parts of lower Michigan, but there were no reports of any tornadoes actually touching ground. The forecasts were lifted before midnight.

The 8,500 ton British freighter Ramon de Larrinaga was swept onto a sandbank near Hay Point on St. Joseph Island after a steering cable broke.

The Coast Guard reported winds reached 80 miles an hour in some areas. The freighter was in no immediate danger, however, the Coast Guard said.

Wind caused power line failures that isolated Coast Guard stations at Neebish Island and Whitefish Point off Lake Superior. A standby oil lamp was put into emergency use at the Whitefish Point lighthouse to guide freighters into Whitefish Bay.

LINES TOPPLE
High winds knocked down

power lines and toppled trees in Calhoun County.

About one-eighth of the city of Marshall was temporarily without power because of downed lines. No deaths or injuries were reported.

Several garages were reported demolished in Athens, about 15 miles southwest of Battle Creek.

Some five inches of snow fell on top of 10 inches already on the ground at Houghton. Marquette recorded an additional four inches for a total of 17 inches on the ground.

Hazardous driving warnings were issued for Upper Michigan.

Near-Blizzard Descends on Center of U.S.

Twisters Accompany Heavy Precipitation; Some Areas Hard-Hit

By The Associated Press

Heavy snow of blizzard proportions hit Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin yesterday and other sections of the Midwest were raked by a series of tornadoes, heavy rain, hail and crippling windstorms.

The tornadoes and high winds reached into the South and Southwest, where earlier in the day record high temperatures were posted.

In northeastern Minnesota, the snowfall was in its second day. At Hibbing, 14 inches of new snow fell, bringing the total on the ground to 25 inches. In International Falls received 10 inches of new snow and had 24 inches on the ground. Duluth had a fall of 12 inches and a total of 22 on the ground.

Many other towns in Minnesota received from two to seven inches of snow.

Some northern Wisconsin towns reported up to 10 inches of snow.

The heavy, wet snow brought down some utility wires and snapped tree limbs.

Tornadoes were reported in Indiana, Illinois, Arkansas and Missouri. Winds of near-tornadoic proportion were reported in Kentucky, Oklahoma, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa and Ohio.

There were no deaths reported, but there were many reports of personal injuries.

Record high temperatures for the date were reported at Wichita Falls, Tex., with 82, Dallas 86, Beaumont 83, Tulsa 83, Houston 86, Memphis 82, Little Rock 83, Jackson, Miss., 84, Shreveport, La., 85; Springfield, Mo., 76, and Fort Worth, Tex., 88.

British Said Zambia-Bound

Warning to Rhodesia Seen Abject of Move

LONDON (AP)—Britain was reported ready today to send a "flag showing" military force to Zambia, the African-ruled nation north of Breakaway Rhodesia.

Tension between Zambia and white-ruled Rhodesia mounted after saboteurs blew up an electrical power line tower yesterday in an apparent effort to curtail Zambia's rich copper production.

Almost all morning newspapers in London reported that some type of British unit, possibly from the Royal Air Force, would be sent soon to Zambia, formerly Northern Rhodesia.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson's office declined to comment on the newspaper reports.

Saboteurs blew up a tower on the electrical power line 27 miles south of Kitwe which supplies the copper mines near Kitwe, in north Zambia.

The copper mines, source of Zambia's chief export, continued limited operation by bringing into grids from the neighboring Congo. Full power was expected to be restored to day.

Punishing Winds to Ease Tonight; Mercury to Drop

Strong morning westerly winds blowing in with gusts of 35 to 58 miles per hour will diminish tonight with colder temperatures, the low falling to 20 to 26.

Partly cloudy and cold is the weatherman's prediction for tomorrow. Highs will reach into the low 30s.

Partly cloudy and slightly warmer is the forecast for Monday.

The mercury dropped from a mild 56 at 2 a.m. today to 34 at 6 a.m. Temperatures registered 32 at 1 p.m.

Rusk: No Chance for Viet Talks Soon

DEAN RUSK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk says that on the basis of new statements from North Viet Nam he sees no chance in the immediate future of any peace talks with Hanoi.

On the eve of the latest demonstration here to protest U.S. policy in Viet Nam, the secretary advised any would-be peace marchers to "address a communication to Hanoi—asking Hanoi to accept negotiations without preconditions or any conditional discussions.

"That would be one way to find out where the problem of peace lies," Rusk told a news conference late yesterday.

"If they addressed a letter to both sides saying, 'Will you agree to negotiations without preconditions?' we would say, 'Yes.' And I would be interested in knowing what Hanoi would say."

He made a point that the position of Communist North Viet Nam has toughened recently.

ASKED QUESTION
Rusk was asked whether the United States would accept a proposal from Hanoi through U.N. Secretary-General U Thant seeking unconditional discussions.

In reply, Rusk referred to a statement made by Hanoi and said, "I would not predict that this is likely to occur."

The Hanoi statement declared that some American newspapers had "spread the invention" that since the fall of last year later the sun showed signs of breaking through the clouds.

Across the street, on the north side of Pennsylvania Avenue, critics of the marchers conducted counterdemonstrations. One of these groups, identifying itself as "The American Party," bore aloft such signs as:

"The lobster fighting for his life isn't really dead until he's Red."

"The Supreme Court must be made to stop coddling Communist swine."

Police were taking down the names of some of the counter-pickets, apparently in case any clashes should occur.

CALL ON JOHNSON
Leaders of the march called on Johnson to "tell all" about what they called North Vietnamese feelers for peace.

So-called leader Norman Thomas, and others billed as speakers, said the Johnson administration had rejected such feelers without informing the American people.

Administration spokesmen have said they regarded Communist efforts as seeking U.S. capitulation, rather than genuine negotiations.

The march leaders, meantime, took steps to "surround with American flags" certain protesters who were determined to carry Viet Cong flags in the picketing at the White House and the march to the Washington Monument grounds.

"We are prepared for discussions without conditions, without preconditions."

"But we are not going to promise in advance or at any time that we are going to give away the basic interests of the South Vietnamese people and South Viet Nam, and the interests of the U.S. when we go into such discussions."

"The other side is not going to do that."

Women Hostages Freed

Phone in Vault Thwarts Bank Bandits

IDAHO, Tex. (AP) — A though, they were pretty nice-to-phone call from inside the vault — saw it that we were trapped a bandit trio in the fairly comfortable and brought First State Bank of Idaho, and they countered by seizing three women hostages. Nearly four tense hours passed before the women were freed and the robbers were captured Friday night.

Once, while the tough-talking gunmen bargained with police for an escape car, a rifle shot sounded from a back room. It was some time before co-workers learned one of the women had been killed, as they feared.

Yielding to the masked intruders' demands, officers provided a radio-equipped car with a full gas tank behind the bank building.

Two men, later identified as Juan Yassaga, 37, and Epifanio Bela, 21, sped away but rammed a park automobile half a block down the street. They offered no resistance as police surrounded them and seized a sack containing about $15,000.

THIRD MAN

The third man, Rudy C. Garcia, 29, stayed behind and gave up after bringing out the women captives, who had been handcuffed together.

"They kept saying they were going to shoot us if they had to," related Bobbie Bartlett, 21, one of the hostages. "Actually,

"Duck!" shouted a sheriff's deputy, anticipating possible gunfire. The women complied.

Garcia surrendered, the other two men soon were in custody and all three were taken to jail in Lubbock.

Holiday Toll Tops Daily Traffic Rate

By The Associated Press

The nation's traffic deaths in the first half of the extended Thanksgiving weekend, a "count down" showed, averaged above the normal daily rate.

The death toll climbed to 290. The count of fatalities on the highways, which started at 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday, showed the total compared to the average of about 110 per day in the first nine months this year. The death toll for the first three quarters this year was about 35,000.

Stormy weather struck wide sections of the nation, with snow in the northern Plains and north central regions and rain and windstorms in a seven-state area from Missouri and Arkansas to the Ohio Valley. Normal such weather conditions result in less travel on the highways. However, they also increase the danger of driving.

Traffic fatalities during the Thanksgiving weekend in recent years have ranged from a low of 42 in 1960 to a high of 554 last year.

As in previous years the National Safety Council did not make an advance estimate of deaths on the highways for Thanksgiving. The council said Thanksgiving is largely a home holiday that involves less long distance driving than other major holidays.

A survey by the Associated Press, for comparative purposes, covered a non-holiday period of 100 hours from 6 p.m. Wednesday Nov. 10 to midnight Sunday Nov. 14. It showed 566 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents.

9 Red Wings Hurt in Crash

Bus, Van Collide on Way Into Montreal

MONTREAL, Que. (UPI) — Nine Detroit Red Wing players, coach Sid Abel and a club official were injured last night when a charter bus carrying the hockey team collided with a moving van.

The accident occurred in a Montreal suburb.

None of the injuries appeared serious although three of the players were examined at a local clinic.

Several other players were shaken up.

Abel said some of the players would be examined today to see if they are in top physical shape for tonight's National Hockey League game against Montreal.

HIT BRAKES

The bus had 26 aboard as it traveled into the city from Dorval Airport. About three miles from Montreal, the bus driver suddenly jammed on his brakes when a car ahead of him stopped.

The brakes locked and the bus skidded sideways into the path of the moving van.

Players were thrown into the aisle or bounced against the seats. Roger Crozier, the Wings' star goalie, came up with a badly bruised face where hit by a seat. Defenseman Bryan Watson suffered a strained back and bruised Bert Marshall face bruises.

Gordie Howe suffered face bruises, Andy Bathgate face bruises, Bill Henderson chin bruises, Phil Gadsby chin bruises, Alex Delvecchio, chin bruises, Warren Godfrey bruised arm and elbow.

BRUISED ELBOWS

Abel suffered a bruised elbow when John Mitchell, assistant general manager.

Sportscaster Budd Lynch and Bruce Martyn suffered minor injuries and the driver of the van and his helper were hospitalized.

Showers and poor flying weather can never stop Santa Claus, as he proved yesterday.

A helicopter dipped down to deposit the jolly gentleman at the Bloomfield Miracle Mile Shopping Center shortly before noon.

The dampness just made his beard more curly, and never diminished his warm greeting for waiting youngsters.

Further north on Telegraph Road, Santa arrived at the Pontiac Mall in more traditional manner. He came to his igloo in the fountain area by sleigh.

Both set up residences to listen to the requests of good boys and girls.

Hours at the Miracle Mile are 2 to 9 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturdays.

Signals Weak From France's First Satellite

PARIS (AP) — France's first space satellite continued orbiting today, but its radio signals had all but died away.

Technicians said that the "beep-beep" signal from the Al satellite could be heard from time to time, but that it was very feeble. Radio transmissions to indicate details on the orbiting also encountered trouble, they said.

Part of the trouble apparently was due to damage to the antennas during the launching.

A three-stage rocket hurled the 92.5-pound space vehicle into orbit Friday from a launching pad at Hammaguir, Algeria.

INTO ORBIT

Long-distance radar confirmed that the Al had gone into orbit.

The Defense Ministry said the principal purpose of the shot was to test the launching rocket called the Diamond.

President Charles de Gaulle said the successful launching "attests to the high value of French science and technique and is an important accomplishment of which the entire nation should be happy and proud."

The launching was the most dramatic demonstration of French technological development since France exploded its first A-bomb in the Sahara Feb. 13, 1960.

Manuscripts Recovered

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Two priceless ancient manuscripts stolen Friday from the Vatican library have been recovered, the Italian news agency ANSA reported today.

The agency said Petrarca's autographed "Il Canzoniere" and a manuscript partly in the handwriting of the 16th century Italian poet, Torquato Tasso, had been found in a package thrown into the garden of a villa on the Via Cassia, just north of Rome.

The manuscripts apparently were undamaged, ANSA added.

S. Viet Regiment Fighting for Its Life After Ambush

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A Vietnamese infantry regiment fought for its life on a huge rubber plantation 45 miles northeast of Saigon today after being ambushed by Communist troops who struck from underground positions.

A U.S. spokesman said some Americans were killed and wounded in the battle, which continued into the night. It was assumed the Americans were advisers to the Vietnamese. No U.S. combat troops were committed to the fight.

U.S. Navy and Air Force planes hammered throughout the day at Red positions on the plantation, a 54-mile-square establishment of the Michelin Rubber Co.

The initial Communist assault, just after dawn, overran the command post of the Vietnamese army's 7th Regiment near the center of the plantation.

CASUALTIES

Casualties among the Vietnamese troops were reported as being moderate to heavy.

The action could turn out to be one of the biggest of the war.

The Red attacking force was estimated at regimental size. It included a heavy weapons company firing heavy mortars and recoilless rifles.

Rezoning Bid Before Board

The Waterford Township Board Monday night will act on a rezoning request previously recommended for denial by the Township Planning Commission and Oakland County Coordinating Zoning Committee.

Tabled two weeks ago, the proposal asks that a plot of land on Dixie Highway, near South Lake Road, be rezoned from commercial-1 to commercial-3.

The applicant intends to build a transmission repair shop on the property.

In other action, it is expected the board will authorize the engineer consultant to make a cost estimate of a proposed blacktopping project on Athens Street.

Birmingham Area News

Youths Plan Canvass to Get Center Boosters

Birmingham-Bloomfield teenagers, 1,000 strong, will be out to meet a challenge tomorrow afternoon.

They will do door-to-door soliciting for funds to create a teen center in the building at 138 Brownell, Birmingham.

Two anonymous donors have offered the young people $15,000 and $1,000, respectively, if they can collect the rest of the $50,000 needed to renovate the building.

So the teen-agers tomorrow plan to canvass the 26,000 homes in the area for financial support.

They will be selling red and white buttons which say "Be a Teen Center Booster."

The Birmingham City Commission is expected to decide Monday if it will recognize the Birmingham Fire Fighters Association (BFFA) as the bargaining agent for firemen without calling for an election.

Officers of the BFFA requested the vote of confidence last Monday, but commissioners postponed action so they could give it further consideration.

Police Probe Two Robberies

Masked Gunman Gets $100 at Supermarket

A gunman held up a supermarket and a 55-year-old man was robbed in his car in two separate armed robberies in Pontiac last night.

Gregory Bodnovich, 26, manager of Wrigley's Market at 536 N. Perry, told Pontiac police a man with a black pistol and a stocking drawn over his face came into the store about 8:30 p.m.

The bandit held out a brown paper sack and told a clerk to "put them bills in this bag," according to Bodnovich.

Bodnovich said the gunman forced him into the office and directed him to open a safe.

The bandit stuffed about $100 from the safe and from a cash register into the bag, ordered Bodnovich and two clerks to lie on the floor, and then fled, police said.

RECOVER CHANGE

Patrolman Stanley D. Helgemo and Raymond V. Solvold, answering the call, said they recovered about $20 in change near the store.

Larry A. Rosales of 464 Auburn was robbed of $100 and his wallet as he left an east side tavern about 11 p.m., according to police.

Rosales said two youths grabbed him as he got into his car, held a "sharp, pointed object" to the back of his neck and demanded the money.

The two then ran. Pontiac police detectives are investigating both cases.

Press City Editor to Attend Seminar

Pontiac Press City Editor Richard M. Saunders will be among editors from 30 U.S. and Canadian newspapers participating in a seminar at the American Press Institute at Columbia University beginning tomorrow.

Participants in the two-week seminar will discuss various aspects of local news coverage.

Among the items to be discussed are investigative reporting, coverage of municipal problems and educational trends.

CORRECTION

In Thursday's Pontiac Press the location of the GTO at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center should have indicated it would be parked in front of the Thom McAn Shoe Store.

Offer $500 Reward in Deer Deaths

Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, prominent area philanthropist, is offering a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the parties responsible for the death of four of her pet deer.

Three of the deer, including a white doe and a black doe, were found dead Thursday at Meadow Brook Farm, 400 S. Adams, Aven Township. A fourth was so badly wounded it had to be destroyed yesterday morning.

A fifth deer had been wounded but is still at large on the farm, Mrs. Wilson said.

One of the deer had been wounded by gunfire and then killed by dogs, according to Mrs. Wilson. A fawn was killed by dogs and the others had been shot.

Michigan Department of Conservation officials have been notified of the incident, Mrs. Wilson said.

U.S. School Aid to State Is Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan will receive more than $4 million to improve higher education facilities and scholarship programs in state colleges and universities over the next three years, the U.S. Office of Education said Friday.

Michigan State University will receive a $1 million grant to help build a research library and improve other library facilities. The money is included under the Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963.

Under the Higher Education Act of 1965, Michigan will receive four grants, including $2,507,694 in student assistance funds. Under this plan, needy students showing academic promise would be given $200 to $800 a year, depending on need.

The other grants include $65,242 for television equipment; $387,374 for equipment "for the improvement of undergraduate instruction," and $301,635 for "community service and continuing education programs."

Detroit Man Killed

DETROIT (AP)—Murder H. DeBose, 33, of Detroit was killed Friday night in a two-car collision in Detroit.

Virginia has given the nation eight sons who became presidents of the U.S. They were Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Harrison, Tyler, Taylor and Wilson.

Today's Drill Sergeant Uses Soft Touch

PORT DIX, N.J. (NEA)—The company commander received a letter the other day which, considering its source, was hardly expected.

"We wish to express our appreciation for the fine training we have received from Sgt. Kelly," the note read.

"He is, in our opinion, the epitome of the good Army soldier and a gentleman.

"His pride and love for the Army has inspired us all to do our best in becoming good soldiers.

"He will always have our utmost respect and we shall miss his guidance very much."

And the letter was signed by every member of Sgt. Kelly's unit. They had just been through eight grueling weeks of basic training at the Army's Ft. Dix training center.

MOLLYCODDLING

A couple of years ago Kelly probably would have been reprimanded for mollycoddling his young charges and drummed out of the corps of hardbitten noncoms who traditionally followed the spare-the-rod, spoil-the-child dictum while making men out of boys.

The letter will probably surprise a lot of men in this country who remember — and not too fondly — their own Army training. But notes like this seem not to be unusual nowadays.

"Those old horror stories you used to hear about basic training are not true any more," says Sgt. James Gammill, affable instructor of drill sergeants at Dix.

What, no more carrying cement blocks around drill pads as punishment?

NO DISCOMFORT

"Certainly not," replied the sergeant. "There is no imposition of physical discomfort. We withhold liberty or suggest corrective action."

No more yelling and screaming and cursing at the recruit?

"Drill sergeants will not use profanity."

No more pushups for the malingerer?

REHABILITATION

"We make efforts to rehabilitate him. We talk to him."

Sgt. Gammill may be right.

During a recent tour of the training area (which resembles a college campus rather than an old military fort), there was ample evidence that the average recruit was reasonably content, if not quite overjoyed, with his condition.

The youngster's first touch with cold military reality has always been the "reception station," usually filled with frightened, half-naked recruits and coldly efficient Army regulars.

Maj. Alexander Cipriano, boss of the station, has radically altered the image. "This is the boy's first look at Army life, so why shouldn't we make it as pleasant as possible?" he points out.

AREN'T CONCERNED

"Most of these people don't know the difference between an officer and a bus driver," he adds, "so we aren't concerned about the military courtesies — not yet, at least."

Basic training regimen is somewhat inflexible — drill, marksmanship, history, physical training, discipline — but the methods of instruction have changed radically in the last year or so, according to

Lt. Col. Connelley J. Molloy Jr., head of the training facility.

"Today's trainee is more mature than the World War II variety. He learns faster and is quick to spot an instructor who doesn't know what he's talking about."

"We can no longer afford to tell a man to do something without telling him why. And practical training, we have found, is a lot better than a classroom lecture."

NEW COURSE

One of the reasons why drill sergeants are getting fan mail from their recruits is largely due to the new Drill Sergeant Training Course and the high esteem in which the drill sergeant is now held by Army brass.

"It used to be," explains Sgt. Gammill, "that our training sergeants were people who couldn't make the grade in other Army areas. They were rough, tough and often not too smart."

"The new breed is still pretty tough, but it's smart, too. Our courses teach the instructor about diplomacy and psychology. We think it's paying off."

With more than 400,000 recruits expected to pass through Army training centers next year, of which a good percentage will wind up in Viet Nam, the new approach to basic training had better pay off.

FAR BETTER

Results have already trickled home. During the crisis in the Dominican Republic, one grizzled veteran of several wars told this reporter that the American soldiers stationed in Santo Domingo were "far better in every way than their fathers in World War II were."

And from Viet Nam, NEA correspondent Tom Tiede wrote home:

"I am tremendously impressed over here by people nobody is usually impressed with in normal times — the 18½-year-olds ..."

"Heroes! There have been times when I've had kids around me whom I would have voted for for president had there been an election."

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow was inspired to write his poem "To a Child" by the design on a ceramic tile that decorated his fireplace.

Fire Hits Station, Burns Transmitters

HANCOCK AP)—A fire of unknown origin destroyed the transmitter of radio station

WHDF Friday.

It was not known when the station would resume broadcasting, a spokesman said. The station's studios are located in nearby Houghton.

NEW YORK (AP) — The National and American leagues began drafting the top college football players in the country today and, were expected to trigger another checkbook battle over last year's draft picks.

7-1 Alcindor in Cage Debut

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Champion UCLA's 1965 basketball team debuts tonight in its new pavilion, but most heads will be directed downtown at the probable star of its 1966 team.
He's 7-foot-1 Lew Alcindor, ready for his first outing on a college court.

He will play for the freshmen team against the varsity.
The well-mannered giant from Power Memorial Academy in New York was sought coast-to-coast after his senior season. He chose to come West to play under Bruin Coach Johnny Wooden, veteran of two straight NCAA title-winning seasons. Wooden has protected Alcindor from press and public, increasing interest in the promising freshman.
The exhibition game will be played before a sell-out crowd of 13,000. The setting is the ultra-modern $5 million Pauley Pavilion, named in honor of oilman and university regent, Edwin W. Pauley.

Lefthanders in Finals of Keg Tourney

DETROIT (AP) — Two lefthanders will clash today for the crown in the finals of the $65,000 sixth annual national championship of the Professional Bowlers Association.
Jerry McCoy, of Fort Worth, Tex., and Dave Davis, of Phoenix, finished a 1-2 in the match play finals at Continental lanes late Friday.
The two will battle in a three-game raffle for the nationally televised championship (NBC). They eliminated 22 other players in a series of round robin match games.
McCoy qualified for his shot at the final by leading the field and then winning two vital position round games over Ske Foremsky, El Paso, Tex.
Davis lost a first game to Tommy Tuttle of Rural Hall, N.C., 231-211, but then came in the second to game to win 210-180.

Seniors' Champs Eliminated 1-Up

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Defending champions Dexter Daniels and Dr. John Mercer were eliminated 1-up on the 23rd hole Friday by J. R. Jacob and A. C. McManus in the semifinals of the annual World Amateur Seniors Four-Ball Golf Tournament.
Jacobs, of Canton, Ohio, and McManus, of Windermere, Fla., were one down at 17. Jacobs developed back trouble on the next tee shot and used a wood to sink a 30-foot birdie putt on the 19th.
The teams halved the next four holes and on the 23rd Jacobs sank a 25-foot putt for par while Mercer, of Sarasota, Fla., and Daniels, of Winter Haven, Fla., bogeyed.

There was, however, some exceptional talent picked last year now eligible for signing. The group includes Texas Tech running back Donny Anderson, Tulsa quarterback Bill Anderson and Missouri back John Roland.

"This is not a bumper crop," said one scout who asked that his name not be used in evaluating this year's available talent. "The so-called 'sure-pop' player is missing from this year's draft. There is no Joe Namath at quarterback and NFL draft by the Green Bay Packers and was a No. 1 future selection of the AFL's Houston Oilers.
