OU hosts 'Concepts and Coffee for Educators'

Oakland University's School of Education and Human Services (SEHS) is sponsoring "Concepts and Coffee for Educators," a morning of workshops and curriculum ideas for educators. The program is Saturday, Nov. 16, from 8:30 a.m. to noon.

Faculty and lecturers in the Teacher Development and Educational Studies Program will present a variety of topics. Sessions include how to integrate poetry into social studies; hands-on science instruction; linking children's television programs, art and learning; suicide behavior and prevention; money and fractions; teacher leadership skills; and more. Tours of the new Education and Human Services Building, Lowry Center and Education Resource Lab will be available.

Cost of the workshop is $25, which includes continental breakfast. Program details are available online at the Department of Professional Development and Education Outreach Web site. To enroll, contact Professional Development at (248) 370-3033 or e-mail pro-development@oakland.edu.
