Pastor's Keyed Up by Stormy Singers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pastor Wayne A. Eurich says the John H. Chapman family ought to be kicked out of church because they engaged in bolsterous and uncouth singing during services.

But a judge says no.

Superior Court Judge McIntyre Faries ruled yesterday that Chapman, 49, and his daughter, Connie Ray, 22, may attend services at the Mar Vista Baptist Church.

Chapman's wife, Betty, 41, however, remains enjoined from attending church while the court hears further testimony.

★ ★ ★

She is accused of singing too loudly and deliberately off-key during services.

INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE

An injunction was granted in August 1961 against the entire family, but Judge Faries has refused to make it permanent, saying evidence of the uncouth singing, especially against the husband and daughter, was insufficient.

Eurich testified yesterday that Mrs. Chapman also disrupted services by "murmuring 'liar' and making faces."

Eurich also said Mrs. Chapman once raised a glass of communion wine in a toast to him, although she was not entitled to take communion because she was under disciplinary action.

★ ★ ★

"I definitely did not toast Eurich," Mrs. Chapman replied.

EARLIER DISPUTE

Eurich told the court earlier that the disagreement between the church and the Chapmans began in August 1960 over arrangements of a wedding.

He said he was in Mexico when the ceremony took place and on returning found that Mrs. Chapman had threatened to punch a deacon on the nose.

"I talked to Mrs. Chapman and suggested she apologize," he testified, "but she said she would not."

★ ★ ★

Thereafter, he explained, the Chapman family was expelled by vote for un-Christian conduct, but, nonetheless, continued to attend services and business meetings.

Music, Prizes, Displays at Home and Sport Show

Lending a ray of warmth to the blustery arrival of spring will be the North Oakland County Home and Sport Show starting today.

The big annual show, sponsored by the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce, opens at 6 p.m. at the Community Activities Inc. building.

It will continue through Sunday.

Highlights of the show will be some 50 booths where area merchants and businessmen will display their wares.

★ ★ ★

A wide variety of entertainment also is planned for show visitors and numerous prizes will be given away.

ENTERTAINMENT

Heading up the entertainment program will be a contingent of musicians associated with the Pontiac Mall Grinnell store.

Other live entertainment will include the appearance of two rock and roll groups and a concert at 4 p.m. Sunday by the Waterford Civic Band.

During intermission between entertainers, hi-fi music will be piped into the building.

An innovation at this year's show will be the Pixie King and Queen contest slated for 4 p.m. Sunday.

SHOWS PICTURES

A special booth containing pictures of all the 1-3 year-old contestants pasted on separate ballot boxes awaits visitors.

Winners will be crowned by Nancy Shadrick, Miss Waterford of 1964.

Snacks and meals will be served during the three-day show and the Jaycettes will operate a sweet shop where candy and homemade baked goods will be sold.

★ ★ ★

Another of the show's many features will be the treasure chest located in the Waterford Jaycees' booth.

KEYS AT BOOTHS

Keys to the chest will be distributed from all display booths. Owners of keys that fit the chest lock will be awarded prizes donated by the merchants.

A grand prize television set will be awarded Sunday at 9 p.m. but the winner need not be present.

Cutting the ribbon for the formal show opening will be

'Landmark' Vote 91-13

House OK's State Minimum Wage

$1 Hourly Base Would Be First Michigan Law

Rural Republicans Are Main Opposition; Senate Now Has Bill

LANSING (AP)—A state minimum wage proposal, highly placed on Gov. Romney's list of priority legislation in this election year, was halfway along the road to becoming law today.

Overcoming opposition from rural members of Romney's own Republican party, the bill cleared the House on a 91-13 vote yesterday and moved to the Senate.

It was a landmark vote for the House where minimum wage bills have died frequently in prior years and never before in the memory of House veterans come to a vote.

Michigan is one of 17 states without a minimum wage law of some kind, despite repeated efefforts dating back to 1937 to enact one.

A Romney-backed bill passed the Senate in 1963 but was killed in the House by opponents who stalled out the clock in the final night of the session.

14 AMENDMENTS

Although opposition to this year's bill came from both sides of the House and some 14 amendments were offered during lengthy final debate, the vote proved House GOP leaders correct in their assumption that the bill would pass easily.

House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, had predicted the bill would pass despite opposition from some Republicans.

All 13 votes against the measure yesterday were by Republicans, most from farm areas.

COMMITTEE STUDIES

The bill, drafted as the result of studies by a 1963 interim committee, is modeled on the federal law.

It calls for a graduated scale of minimum wages beginning at $1 per hour next Jan. 1, increasing to $1.15 and then $1.25 over the following two years.

Passed by the House exactly as it came from the labor committee, the proposal would cover some 100,000 persons in Michigan as of Jan. 1, 1964 and about 250,000 at top employment level according to the best estimates available.

★ ★ ★

It would apply generally to such fields of employment as restaurants, hotels, car wash racks, hospitals and nursing homes and retail stores.

BEST JUDGMENT

Rep. Don Gordon, R-Leland, chief sponsor of the bill, said it "represents the best judgment of Republicans and Democrats who studied the subject."

Dispute centered around provisions to exclude persons under 18 and over 65, persons who work less than 13 weeks for the same employer in a year, and those who work for an employer with four or fewer employes.

★ ★ ★

Rural Republicans argued the 13-week provision could prove a "crippling blow" to many independent farmers who hire seasonal labor to pick crops but cannot afford wages of $1 per hour.

Democrats argued that exclusions in the bill would deprive many deserving persons of a minimum wage.

Motion for New Ruby Trial Filed With Judge's Office

DALLAS (AP) — A lawyer filed a motion today for a new trial for Jack Ruby, sentenced to death for slaying accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

The motion was filed with the clerk of Judge Joe B. Brown, who presided at the month-long trial which ended Saturday. Brown is not expected to take action until Monday or later.

The motion was filed by Phil Burleson, one of the staff of attorneys who defended Ruby.

The chief defense attorney, Melvin Belli of San Francisco, has been discharged and Percy Foreman of Houston, Tex., employed in his place.

★ ★ ★

Ruby was convicted for killing Oswald Nov. 24, two days after, police charge, Oswald killed President John F. Kennedy in Dallas.

PRELIMINARY MOTION

The motion for a new trial is preliminary to an appeal to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin, the capital.

The appeal motion alleges four main errors were made by Judge Brown:

- Failure to move the trial out of Dallas, where Kennedy and Oswald were shot. The defense claimed Dallas residents cannot judge the facts impartially because of emotionalism over the slayings.
- Permitting persons who saw the televised shooting of Oswald to become jurors. The defense claimed they were witnesses and thus ineligible to serve on the jury.

SANITY HEARINGS

- Denial of a pretrial sanity hearing.
- Admission of testimony of police officers quoting Ruby's statements after Ruby's arrest.

Fate of Fliers Put in Hands of E. Germans

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko said today that the fate of three U.S. fliers shot down in East Germany is "a matter for the East German Democratic Republic."

At the same time, Gromyko expressed Soviet concern about border violations and said that Moscow still wants better relations with the United States.

Gromyko is winding up an official visit to Sweden. He was asked at a news conference if he had studied and made any decision on the U.S. warning on Wednesday that improving relations between the United States and the Soviet Union would be jeopardized if the fliers continued to be held.

"I know the contents of the note very well," said Gromyko, "but this is really a matter for the East German authorities."

State Leaders Fighting Over Drunk Testing

Romney for 'Implied Consent' Bill; Blast Leveled by Lesinski

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. George Romney and Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski were locked in an all-out argument today over a proposal to strengthen the chemical test law for suspected drunken drivers.

Romney said the implied consent law he was supporting which would require suspected drunken drivers subject themselves to a chemical test or lose their license — would make the roads safer for all Michigan citizens.

But Lesinski, an attorney, insisted Romney was "advocating an attack on our very institution of freedom and guarantees of liberty."

Lesinski said Romney's advocacy of the implied consent law is a direct assault on the constitutional rights that are the very foundation of our democracy."

★ ★ ★

The argument flared yesterday when the governor suggested Lesinski's opposition to his bill indicated the Democratic lieutenant governor was not sincere in trying to crack down on intoxicated motorists.

THREAT TO LIFE

Romney has said the bill should be enacted because "the 8 million people in Michigan have the constitutional right to expect no other individual will operate his vehicle in such a way as to be a threat to their lives.

"It seems to me the constitutional rights of the individual do not deny the rest of the people the right to expect that individual will use the highways only if he will avoid a condition where he is as dangerous as a man with a gun who is prepared to use it," Romney said.

Lesinski countered, however, the bill portended "a reign of terror on the little man. It would debate our long-cherished American ideal of equal justice for all."

PIERRE SALINGER

LBJ Aide Set to Seek Senate Seat

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Pierre Salinger posted a $450 filing fee today for his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States senator from California. He has until 5 p.m. to file a formal declaration of candidacy. It must be endorsed by at least 65 supporters.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pierre Salinger flew into his home town today after resigning as President Johnson's press secretary, apparently to seek a seat in the U.S. Senate.

Salinger would not say what his plans are, but told newsmen at San Francisco International Airport that he would hold a press conference to announce whether he will seek the Senate seat.

"It would be better if I don't say anything firm for another four or five hours," Salinger said.

It wasn't so much a question that the press secretary of two presidents intends to come home to run in a Democratic race which already has split the party.

It was, can he?

His eligibility, Salinger said, is one of the pressing subjects "to be discussed" prior to his press conference.

He apparently was warmed with legal advice that there's nothing to prevent him from seeking the nomination for the seat of Democratic Sen. Clair Engle in the June 2 primary.

Engle underwent brain sur-

'Need More Men to Halt Road Deaths'

Acting Police Chief William K. Hanger, alarmed at the recent rash of traffic deaths in Pontiac, said that better traffic enforcement depends largely on more equipment and personnel.

"The answer is increased patrol and enforcement," Hanger noted. "We're undermanned and ill-equipped in many areas.

"I'm doing everything I can to get more men and equipment and have reassigned some men to traffic patrol in an effort to bolster enforcement," Hanger said.

Both Hanger and City Manager John F. Reineck asked motorists for support and cooperation.

Reineck, in a separate statement, said that "the recent wave of traffic slaughter in the city makes it mandatory that all of us pause and reexamine our driving habits.

NEED YOUR HELP

"The courts and law enforcement officers are doing everything humanely possible to stop this insane slaughter," Reineck noted, "but they desperately need the help of each individual driver and pedestrian."

Reineck said he has ordered the police department to put a second radar car into operation.

After several months of no fatal accidents, traffic deaths in Pontiac have spiraled.

There are now seven for the year, five of them in the last four days, climaxed by a triple fatality on West Huron early yesterday morning.

TRAFFIC ENFORCEMENT

Hanger said the city's traffic enforcement index was roughly 11 now, compared to an index of 4 for the same period last year. The lower the figure, the more effective the enforcement.

"Oddly enough, we have the same number of fatal accidents this March as last March, but there have been two more deaths this month," Hanger said.

"As for equipment needs, Hanger said that "we have quite a few cars now with 100,000 miles on them. As they get older we try to use them for plain-clothes work.

★ ★ ★

"The fact is that we pay more in a year to maintain an old car than it would cost to replace it with a new one," Hanger explained.

NINE CARS

He said that a minimum of nine police cars need replacing now.

"With more emphasis on traffic the last few months," he said, "we've increased our afternoon shift so that if one car breaks down, there's no longer a replacement for it."

Much the same holds true in manpower.

"We are now in a position where, if a man is sick or on vacation, we have to shut his job down in many cases," Hanger said. "There isn't anyone available to put into his job."

★ ★ ★

Chief's Request a Seasonal City Woe

By DICK SAUNDERS

The police chief wants more men and more cars.

The need for more men and more equipment in Pontiac's Police Department has been almost a seasonal request.

Former Chief Joseph Koren asked for money to increase manpower and keep the fleet of patrol cars from growing old.

He usually hit the theme hard in late autumn, when the city budget was being prepared.

Unfortunately, there has been trouble on the income end for several years and the police department budget hasn't increased much.

★ ★ ★

The existence of a City Commission majority which felt the police department already was over budgeted didn't help any.

PREVIOUS ALLOCATIONS

In 1961, the police department got a $51,600 hike. A year later, the budget was increased about $3,000 more and stood then at $930,773.

Last year, Koren asked for a considerable increase to handle growing manpower and equipment problems. Former City Manager Robert A. Stierer recommended a $50,000 increase.

The commission knocked this down $35,000, and the police ended up with a budget $5,000 under the previous year.

Their budget allocation this year is down another $11,900.

LBJ Handyman Press Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Reedy is a friendly, pipe-puffing giant of a man who is taking on the almost impossible task of trying to keep both the press and President happy about public relations.

Sunny, cigar-smoking Pierre Salinger suddenly quit this job of White House press secretary yesterday to try for the Democratic nomination for the Senate in California.

With him went Andrew T. Hatcher, the assistant press secretary to the President and one of the highest ranking Negroes in government.

For Reedy there is nothing like the break with the past that there is for Salinger.

GEORGE REEDY

HANDYMAN

Around the White House he has been one of the Johnson handymen with no clear-cut title.

Now he has a title and one of the roughest, most responsible publicity jobs on earth.

At times his voice will be the voice of the nation on foreign and domestic policy.

But since he has been so close to Johnson so long, Reedy at times may find that the boss is going to be his own press secretary.

EX-SCRIBE

Like Salinger, Reedy is a former newspaperman.

At 46, he is eight years older.

Like Salinger, Reedy enjoys good food and, like Salinger, he is on the rotund side but on a more massive scale.

★ ★ ★

THIRD OF WAY

From 265 or 270 pounds he is about a third of the way to the 200 the doctor recommends.

Reedy still was in a hospital yesterday, recovering from gall bladder trouble and doing some supervised dieting, when he got word of the forthcoming change.

He went to the White House for a joint appearance at his first press briefing and Salinger's last.

★ ★ ★

Saliner announced his own resignation and the appointment of Reedy.

The old and the new press secretary differ in many ways.

Salinger is short and has dark, slicked down hair.

Reedy is taller and his graying sandy hair sticks out as if he had been shocked.

Salinger Eying Senate Race

gery last August, but he has filed for reelection in the face of assertions by state Democratic leaders that he's too ill to campaign.

The U.S. Constitution requires only that a senator be 30 years of age and an inhabitant of the state.

Some election experts seemed to think that Salinger, 38, former San Francisco newspaper reporter, could qualify if he's primed to get his nomination papers in on time. The deadline is 5 p.m. today.

Others weren't so sure because he let his California residence lapse when he left for jobs that led to his post as press advisor to the late President John F. Kennedy and then President Johnson.

Democratic leaders expressed surprise over reports of Salinger's decision to jump into a political contest in a state where he once worked the hinterlands for other candidates.

Most of them, from Gov. Edmund G. Brown, on down, already have committed themselves for Engle or his chief opponent, State Controller Alan Cranston.

Brown, who has endorsed Cranston, remained silent on the possible entry of Salinger, who helped out in one of the governor's earlier campaigns.

BATTLEFIELD HELP — A wounded South Viet Nam soldier is carried by a comrade from a battle near the Cambodia border. The battle took place yesterday and featured a shoulder-to-shoulder charge by Communist Viet Cong guerrillas. Vietnamese are trying to clear the area of guerrillas and have been charged with violating the border.

16 Villagers Die in Viet Attack

Charges Yanks Aided Cambodia Raid

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI)—Prince Norodom Sihanouk charged today that U.S. military advisers were involved in a South Vietnamese attack on a Cambodian border village that killed 16 villagers yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Reports from the scene said South Vietnamese fighter-bombers and armored vehicles attacked the village of Chantreau and that three "white men" questioned prisoners in the village after the attack.

U.S. military advisers frequently accompany Vietnamese units on antiguerrilla drives around the Cambodian border.

Sihanouk, Cambodia's chief of state, charged in a radio broadcast that Americans were in the amphibious armored vehicles that moved in on Chantreau, firing at home guards who were armed only with hunting rifles.

Chantreau is four miles from Vietnamese territory.

PLANE DOWNED

He said a Vietnamese air force L19 observation plane shot down by Cambodian fighters during the attack would be brought to Phnom Penh for exhibition.

★ ★ ★

A U.S. military spokesman announced in Saigon that an American was injured in the crash of an observation plane yesterday.

Sihanouk was reported to have said the incident ruled out any chance of success for the negotiations on normalization of relations with South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

NEWSMAN ON SCENE

UPI correspondent Veng Eng drove to Chantreau from Phnom Penh today and became the first newsman to reach the scene.

The talks on normalization of relations were aimed at restoring diplomatic contact and settling border disputes between South Viet Nam and its neutralist neighbor.

★ ★ ★

HOME GUARD

Villagers said that after the attack, five South Vietnamese helicopters circled Chantreau and one of them landed.

Several Vietnamese and three "white men" got out and questioned captured militiamen, they said.

★ ★ ★

The International Control Commission, which is in charge of keeping the peace in former French Indo - China, sent a team to the village to investigate the incident.

ICC members counted bodies and questioned survivors.

Seasonal City Woe

blamed entirely for the lack of money.

The problem is created largely by a shrinking tax base, increasing operational costs in all departments and limited millage.

Koren tried to explain his plight of enforcement versus funds last year in reply to mounting complaints from commissioners. The answer from a five-man majority of the commission was an order to Stierer to fire Koren.

STIERER FIRED

When Stierer refused, on grounds that he found no evidence to justify the move, the five-man commission majority fired Stierer.

Koren later was suspended and reinstated as traffic engineer, a position totally separated from the police department.

Koren had stated in his defense that a majority of the city's patrol cars were unfit for pursuit — a necessary part of traffic enforcement.

★ ★ ★

He said that a police car with more than 50,000 hard miles on it should be replaced. A check last September revealed that at least half of the police fleet was over the 50,000-mile mark—two were as high as 100,000 miles.

CARS UNWANTED

A survey of several other Michigan police departments, in cities comparable in size and character to Pontiac, resulted in police chiefs stating that they wouldn't want a majority of Pontiac's police cars in their fleets.

The Michigan State Police and Oakland County Sheriff's Department concurred that once a car reached 50,000 miles it was "ready for replacement" and that 70,000 miles was the maximum limit.

Then, too, there was a manpower problem.

Trying to be conservative, Koren only asked for an additional 10 men. The requested figure is now three times that.

all police divisions this month "showed that we would have to add 34 officers to cover things adequately throughout the department."

Last month, total accidents were down 1 per cent and the number of persons injured was down 24 per cent from February 1963. Hanger commented in pointing to the way traffic deaths often come in streaks.

Hanger said that the new radar car had been used between 8 a.m. and midnight, and a second car would possibly be used on a staggered schedule.

Newspaper Says Security Risks Listed in D. C.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Journal-American said today that "a list of 847 grave security risks in the State Department" exists in a safe deposit vault in the Washington, D.C., area.

It said the list "is a legacy" from the late Scott McLeod, head of the State Department's Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs for four years prior to being appointed ambassador to London in 1957. He died in 1961.

The newspaper said McLeod turned the list, and two copies, over to trusted friends in 1957. The copies, it said, are each in safekeeping in a separate place. The friends were not identified.

The story by Guy Richards, said that news that McLeod's "list of questionables" had been preserved intact was circulated privately yesterday to members of a few congressional committees and that it caused a stir.

Four Define Stand on Zoning

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The four city commissioners who supported provision for three-story apartment buildings in the new zoning ordinance are standing together to face their critics.

In a joint statement, they defined their position, compared the old and the new provisions and explained their reasons for disregarding a public opinion survey.

The new code was approved by the commission March 6 after nearly three years of preparation during which it often was the center of controversy.

Voting for it were Mayor Pro Tem Louis J. Colombo Jr. and Commissioners James A. Beresford, John W. Blanchard and David W. Lee.

★ ★ ★

CONDUCTED POLL

A last-minute public opinion survey conducted by a three-member citizens committee indicated 82 per cent of those responding wanted multiple residences limited to two stories. The citizens committee has since been critical of the four commissioners for ignoring the poll.

But the four said they did not give serious consideration to the poll because the letter requesting replies was "biased and written in a manner to invite only expressions favoring two - story apartments from people who had not had an opportunity to thoroughly study the town house proposal."

Furthermore, they noted two-thirds of the city's voters did not reply to the survey, thus implying they preferred to leave the decision to their elected representatives.

In comparing the new ordinance to the old, the commissioners noted that the height of apartment buildings will now be limited to a specific number of feet.

UP TO BOARD

On parcels of property of five or more acres, the board of appeals can permit town houses three stories or 35 feet in height above the average grade.

The old ordinance restricted height to two stories but contained no regulation on how much of the basement need be below grade.

The new ordinance also is more specific and restrictive in regard to two-story apartment buildings, allowed on multiple residence parcels under five acres, the commissioners said.

The two-story buildings are limited to 30 feet in height and must be set back 60 feet from the street and 45 feet from side and rear lot lines. The former setback was 40 feet from streets and lot lines.

CHANGE REQUIREMENTS

The requirement for each apartment to have rooms on both floors of a two-story structure was abandoned in the new ordinance, which also permits the number of apartments on a site to be contained in a smaller number of larger buildings.

Reasons for approving the three-story town house provision recommended by the planning commission were listed by the four city commissioners:

● By permitting an increase in stories from two to three, 50 per cent less ground area will be covered by an apartment building.

The commissioners also see the requirement for 150-foot setbacks and greater spacing between buildings attributing to a "campus-type development."

● Elevators will be more economically feasible in the three-story town houses, thus diminishing the chances for development of walkups.

● The commissioners believe a three-story limitation is more defensible in court than two. The city already contains a "substantial number" of dormitories, nursing homes and private residences which are three stories high, and city fire-fighting equipment is adequate for them.

Therefore, in an attempt to maintain a two-story limit, the city might be forced to allow buildings higher than three stories.

● The quartet maintains that a 35-foot three-story building set back 150 feet from the street looks lower than a typical two-story building set back 40 or 60 feet.

● Because building permits for town houses will be issued with the approval of the board of appeals, the commissioners believe the city would then have an opportunity to persuade builders to change any unattractive plans. However, they noted, the city could not legally force developers to do so.

A pancake supper at Kingswood School Cranbrook will precede tomorrow night's presentation of "Li'l Abner" on the Bloomfield Hills campus.

The 5:30-7:30 p.m. event in the school dining room is planned to benefit the Kingswood American Field Service fund. Tickets can be purchased at the door.

"Li'l Abner" will be presented as the spring operetta of Kingswood and Cranbrook schools.

Chairman of the dinner is Catherine Lobett, 1011 Orchard Ridge.

Helen M. Bentlif

Service for Helen M. Bentlif, 86, of 960 N. Hunter, Bloomfield Township, will be 1 p.m. tomorrow at Christ Church Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills. Burial will follow in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Miss Bentlif died yesterday after a long illness. Her body will be at Manley Bailey Funeral Home, Birmingham, until 11:30 a.m.

Former owner of the Bentlif Shop in Detroit, Miss Bentlif sold the needle- and fancy-work establishment in 1928.

Memorial contributions can be made to St. Peter's Home for Boys, Detroit.

Clarence W. Videan

Service for Clarence W. Videan, 69, of 4280 Carey, Bloomfield Township, will be 1 p.m. Monday at Redford Presbyterian Church. Burial will follow in Woodlawn Mausoleum, Detroit.

Mr. Videan died yesterday after a lengthy illness. His body will be at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham, until 10 p.m. Sunday.

A Detroit attorney, Mr. Videan was a member of Detroit Friendship Lodge No. 417, F&AM; the Detroit Consistory; Detroit Bar Association and Michigan State Bar Association.

He was chairman of the title standards committee of the State Bar Association and moderator of the Detroit Presbytery.

Surviving are his wife, Hazel E.; his daughter, Mrs. Edwin S. Adler of Dallas, Tex.; his son, Donald W. of Detroit; a brother; and four grandchildren.

Lift Restrictions on Truck Routes

Trucks will be able to roll normal loads over all Class A roads in the county effective Monday, Road Commission Weighmaster Tom Kennedy announced today.

Truck weights have been restricted to prevent surface damage while frost left the roads.

Restrictions still are in effect on all other county roads.

Facilities for Errant Youths

Presents Halfway House Bill

LANSING (AP) — Halfway houses to care for youthful law violators would be set up in six Michigan cities if the legislature approves a program outlined Thursday by Gov. George W. Romney.

He suggested that four of the halfway houses be established in Wayne County and the others in Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Traverse City, Flint and Marquette.

Two of the Wayne County facilities would house boys, the other two would accommodate girl delinquents. The five out-state facilities would be for boys.

Romney set May 1 as the target date for completion of three of the halfway houses and said the others could be ready by Jan. 1. He indicated that $300,000 would be needed to pay for the projects.

PREPARE YOUTHS

Halfway houses are used to prepare delinquent youths for the transition from institutions to freedom in society. Many state and local leaders have advocated the facilities as one means of reducing overcrowded conditions at the Boys Training Schools.

Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Thayer, R - Ann Arbor, and Raymond D. Dzendzel, Senate minority leader, both pledged their support of the program.

★ ★ ★

House Speaker Allison Green, R - Kingston, said he was "sympathetic" to the plan. The House minority leader, Rep. Joseph Kowalski, D - Detroit, has previously spoken in favor of halfway houses.

The interest in halfway houses was heightened by recent school violence in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Juvenile Court Judge James Lincoln of Detroit said Tuesday he was forced to release 20 case hardened delinquents because of lack of space at a detention center. And Kent County Probate Judge Wallace Waalkes had warned Monday that he might be compelled to free some delinquents for the same reason.

Legless Vet Flies Plane; Aids Others

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UPI) — The walking days of Russell W. Heriford were cut off by German machine gun bullets during World War II but that hasn't stopped the 36-year-old veteran from flying his own plane throughout the country helping other paraplegics and serving as a church evangelist.

In addition, Heriford has invented what he calls the Stand-Alone Therapeutic Aid which allows a paraplegic to be pretty much on his own, without help.

It allows him to stand alone or wheel himself to a car, home or plane.

He can fold up and store the device knowing that he simply reverses the process when he desires.

FLYING LESSONS

Heriford began taking flying lessons in Memphis, Tenn., in 1946 and got his commercial license in 1951. Recently he was able to buy his own plane.

Charles Bray, vice president and general manager of Riverside Air Service, said he was worried about selling Heriford the plane.

But a special hand rudder control was installed so Heriford could operate the rudder controls without his feet and he was ready to take off.

★ ★ ★

The StandAlone Therapeutic Aid required the removal of the TriPacer's rear seat, still leaving the front seats for Heriford and his wife Kittie.

VISITS CONVENTIONS

Heriford says his chief purpose in flying around the country is to visit paraplegic conventions, veterans hospitals and other gatherings where he can and explain other methods how a legless person can achieve independence.

A religious man, Heriford is a commissioned evangelist in the Church of the Nazarene and uses his plane in his work.

He and his wife plan to extend their field of operations—both in church work and with paraplegics—to other countries.

"The world is not too big a place for a paraplegic," Heriford said.

Not Appendicitis . . .
Judy Just Had the Flu

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Judy Garland didn't have appendicitis after all. She had the flu.

Miss Garland, 40, was released yesterday from Cedars of Lebanon Hospital after a day under observation for abdominal pains. Her doctor said Wednesday she might have to undergo an appendectomy.

FAT OVERWEIGHT

Available to you without a doctor's prescription, the ODRINEX plan. You must lose ugly fat or your money back. One of the basic problems of losing weight is your inability to stick to a planned diet. The ODRINEX plan contains a tiny tablet and is easily swallowed. When you take ODRINEX, you simply don't have the urge for extra portions because ODRINEX depresses your appetite and decreases your desire for food thus making it easier and more comfortable for you to diet. Your weight must come down because as your own doctor will tell you, when you eat less, you weigh less. Get rid of excess fat and live longer. Of course ODRINEX can't do all the work for you alone. But if you really want to cut down on your eating, and lose weight ODRINEX can be a powerful helper. The ODRINEX plan costs $3.00 and is sold on this guarantee: If not satisfied for any reason just return the package to your druggist and get your full money back. No questions asked. Blown Paycheck Is Floater

BOSTON (AP)—Festus Johnson was at work on the 26th floor of a building under construction when the foreman delivered his paycheck.

A gust of wind tore the check from Johnson's hand and blew it out a window.

Johnson thought it landed several blocks away and went looking for it, without success.

★ ★ ★

A half hour later a gas station attendant showed up at the building — with the check. It landed right after Johnson gave up the search, he said.

Most Latin Americans Would Welcome Visit by De Gaulle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Virtually all the Latin-American countries would welcome a visit by France's President Charles de Gaulle, a survey of the Latin American embassies here showed today.

In fact, some of the American republics seem to regard such a visit as the New Hemispheric status symbol.

"If de Gaulle goes to a particular country it has to mean that country is important enough for him to come from Paris to visit," was the way one Latin-American diplomat put it.

JOIN FRANCE

While questions have arisen over U.S. policy toward Latin America, de Gaulle has invited Latin America in simple terms to join France "hand in hand" toward a world undergoing a "complete transformation."

His visit to Mexico has been impressive.

Now the French leader has chosen September — the southern hemisphere's spring—for a visit to the countries which, with Mexico, are among the leaders of Latin America: Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Uruguay and Peru.

"We will be glad to have this formidable leader of France," a Peruvian diplomat said. He recalled that Peru's cultural bonds with France have been close and that President Fernando Belaunde attended school in Paris.

★ ★ ★

The Latin-American countries not yet on de Gaulle's visiting list are almost scrambling to get on it.

From the embassy of Panama with which the United States is currently at odds over the Panama Canal treaty, came this remark by an official: "De Gaulle obsolutely must come to Panama. His Panamanian welcome would be ecstatic."

Newspapers and the government in El Salvador, according to reports reaching here, decided to play down accounts of the de Gaulle visit to Mexico when informed the French leader was unable to visit Central America for the time being.

Said an Argentine diplomat: "The contact with the most outstanding leader of the Western world could not but be a towering event."

A Chilean diplomat: "How could I not be interested in expansion of French activities in Latin America?"

REMEMBER URUGUAY

A Uruguayan official: "Anyone who knows de Gaulle's attitude should know he will do anything rather than forget Uruguay. We were the first to recognize his government in exile in World War II."

A Brazilian: "With France having cast aside its internal problems, it is natural to expect France to turn its attention to the New World, to which it is linked by old traditions."

By French Leader's Trip

Mexico's Policy Hasn't Been Changed

MEXICO CITY (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's visit to Mexico this week was heralded as the start of a drive to extend French influence through Latin America.

De Gaulle plans a tour of South America in the fall. What effect did his four days in Mexico have on Mexican policy?

"Nothing has really changed" some Mexican officials commented.

UPSPARING PRAISE

The 73-year-old French hero was unsparing in the praise he heaped on Mexico.

Mexicans responded with their limitless hospitality, even giving de Gaulle the unprecedented honor of addressing the Mexican nation from the balcony of the National Palace.

De Gaulle mixed his compliments to Mexico in equal proportion with praise for France.

TOASTED BY MATEOS

President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, a champion of the limited nuclear test ban, said in a luncheon toast to de Gaulle:

"We do not want our history to disappear amid atomic radiations. We must all make efforts to maintain international harmony and peace, and to foster a general and absolute disarmament."

This runs counter to de Gaulle's determination to continue nuclear testing until France develops its own nuclear strike force.

Neither disarmament nor nuclear testing was mentioned in the joint communique the two presidents issued.

Lopez Mateos stated shortly before de Gaulle arrived he had no intention of following the Frenchman's move in recognizing Red China, although Mexico has begun to sell cotton and wheat to Peking.

De Gaulle took a cue from Lopez Mateos who said in his welcoming speech that the French-Mexican alliance was not designed "against anyone or anything." De Gaulle immediately, and on two other occasions, said his visit was not intended to affect Mexico's good relations with the United States.

Mexico's trade with the United States is vastly greater than its trade with France.

Now that the confetti has been swept away, Mexico, while welcoming French aid and friendship, will continue to pursue its own policy of independence.

De Gaulle may have tried to project an image of himself as a helpful big brother, but he may have found that many Latin Americans don't want a big brother.

TWO KILLED—A blast of unknown cause tore a hole in a huge ocean-going barge yesterday killing two men in Alameda, Calif. The barge, one of the largest of its type, is capable of carrying 42 railroad cars. The blast came minutes before the 358-foot vessel was to be towed by tugboat to Seattle. It was launched only eight days ago.

So Men Know What They're Sniffin'

FTC Wants Cosmetics to Go American

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Trade Commission has proposed a new rule that may shake Madison Avenue to its very foundations, assuming that Madison Avenue has any foundations to shake.

WEST

In essence, the rule says that you can't sell or advertise American cosmetics or toilet articles with foreign names unless you clearly identify them as products of the U. S. A.

In other words, to use a hypothetical example, if you are putting out a U. S. perfume called "Place Pigalle," you would have to print "made in Brooklyn" in large type on the front label.

The commission says it has reason to believe that foreign words on cosmetics tend to deceive consumers by leading them to believe some of the domestic stuff is imported.

* * *

It will hold a hearing next month to permit manufacturers advertising agencies and other interested parties to air their views on the proposed rule. But I can't wait.

JUST RETURNED

I have just returned from a drug store where I inspected the cosmetics counter and I feel I should warn the commission right now that it may be letting itself in for a lot of grief.

Certain products will, of course, present no difficulty.

Take perfumes bearing such names as "Toujours Moi" and "Bon Voyage," to choose a couple of the less sensuous brands.

* * *

These are clearly foreign words.

Both perfumes are compounded or blended in America.

Therefore, there is no question that the rule would apply to them.

But what about such products as "Fabulash" an eye shadow and "Eterna 27" a skin cream?

* * *

Neither of those names comes from any language that I am familiar with.

* * *

Presumably, the commission would have to judge them by their sound.

Do they sound American, or do they sound foreign?

To me, they sound like science fiction, which, I suppose, would be considered foreign.

* * *

Another potential problem is a line of lipsticks called "Sidewalk Cafes."

FOREIGN CONNOTATION

We have some sidewalk cafes in America, but they generally have a foreign connotation.

How will the commission handle that?

There is also a perfume called "Chantilly." Which could mean either Chantilly, France, or Chantilly, Virginia.

* * *

For that matter, if foreign names on cosmetics are deceptive, how about such things as Bermuda shorts, Dutch ovens and Irish potatoes?

* * *

If this rule is adopted, I fear the commission may be opening another Pandora's box, which, by the way, didn't contain Greek deodorant.

Unregistered Voters Risk Loss of Voice

Schools, it seems, are not the only area suffering from dropout blight. Pontiac's core of eligible voters has also shown susceptibility to the ailment.

The 1962 total of 38,601 registered voters dwindled to 29,804 last year —where it currently stands.

The drop is attributed to the change in registration procedure under the new state constitution, which went into effect Jan. 1. Under it, a citizen is required to vote once every two years to keep alive his registration, as contrasted with a four-year provision in the former constitution.

Notices and renewal forms were mailed last November to 9,532 local residents who hadn't voted in two years—thus making them ineligible to vote in this year's elections. But 6,525 were never returned, with registration status thereby invalidated.

Compared with the last presidential election year (1960) registered voters' count, 1964 shows 11,787 fewer qualified to vote in the year's crucial elections. The first of these is April 20, when new city commissioners will be elected.

But there is still hope for the delinquents, who may regain their voting rights by registering at the city clerk's office any time until 8 p. m. March 23.

★ ★ ★

Don't ignore the exercise of your right of free voting. America is one of the few countries where it has survived, and responsible citizenship prescribes that you cherish and employ it.

'Hope Springs Eternal' at Baseball Camps

If the news about national and world affairs is getting you down, we recommend the sports pages as practical therapy.

You never saw so much good news at one time in your life as is coming from the baseball training camps.

It is hard to figure out just how it can be arranged, but it looks now as if every one of the 20 Big League teams is going to win the pennant.

National morale just can't help but be lifted by this demonstration of hope and confidence. We hope Secretary of Defense McNamara and other high government officials note it and take heart.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Survey Assures Rise in Lake Levels

As our lake levels have sunk year after year, so have the hearts of owners of lake-front property and outdoors enthusiasts distressed by the unsightly shorelines left by receding water.

Currently, levels of Lakes Michigan and Huron are at an all-time low, St. Clair is near its record low set in 1901, Erie five inches below a year ago, and Ontario looks back to 1935 for a level lower than its present one. Lake Superior is closest of all to its normal level, but it too is slightly below a 10-year average.

Although this trend has raised many anxious questions, authorative answers, while dispelling a few water myths, are mainly reassuring.

The United States Lake Survey asserts that the water will come back. The agency asks us to recall 1952, when everyone was worried about high water—about shoreline property being flooded. We'll have this situation again in a few years, says the Survey, but adds that it nor anyone else can predict how many. A six-month projection is as far ahead as experts will go.

Marine authorities also:

- Refute the idea that the lakes follow regular cycles (seven years is often advanced) of high and low water. They do observe cycles, but they aren't regular. High water follows low, and vice versa. It depends entirely on precipitation, and that has been below normal over the Great Lakes basin for many years.
- Deny that Chicago's drainage canal is responsible for the lower lake levels; that it is slowly washing Lakes Michigan and the equalized Lake Huron, both two feet below their 10-year ago level, down the Mississippi River. Actually, the Lake Survey reports, Chicago's diversion has lowered the two lakes less than three inches on a permanent basis—and is causing no further lowering.
- Remind that the Great Lakes form the largest reservoir of fresh water in the world, containing a third of the entire globe's supply of it.

Michigan's water is a priceless resource, to be guarded and conserved; but it is also there for us to use. If we use it wisely and not wastefully we need have no fear for the foreseeable future.

Press Touches Off Annual Event

Entries to Pick Top Batter After Thirty-Day Swing

Tempus fugit. Or, as the scholarly Casey Stengel put it, "Seems like only yesterday we was battlin' for last place. Time, if nuthin' else, jets for the Mets."

★ ★ ★

The pundit's right. Here it is, with another baseball season soon to open—and here we are with another Press contest by way of a curtain raiser.

The contest is simplicity itself. All you have to do is pick the American League player who, after 50 or more times at bat, will be leading the league Friday night, May 15—and predict his batting average.

There's always great satisfaction in being right—who was it said he'd rather be right than President?—but in this case there'll be added satisfaction in the form of a $500 U.S. Savings bond to the one having the best Swami average crystal-balling the best swatting average, and its owner.

Let's huddle for a few ground rules:

- Everyone is eligible to enter contest but Press employes and members of their families.
- Families may send in as many entries as there are members.
- Write choice of player and average on postal card, or card of similar size, with your name and address.
- Entries should be addressed to The Press "Baseball Contest," and may be mailed or deposited in the Huron Street drop box.
- Contest closes Monday noon, April 13, and all entries must be in hand—not just postmarked—by that time.
- Decision of judges will be final on all points related to contest.

So-o-o, start poring over Press sports pages for clues as to which player might be on top of the league come May 15 and put you on top of the world the same day.

'Say 'Ah,' Please!'

David Lawrence Says:

Business Can Cure Job Woes

WASHINGTON—Nobody here has started the real "War on Poverty."

The politicians are afraid to do it.

So, instead, there is a big fanfare about how the federal government, by spending money for better schools and for training students or by eliminating "discrimination" in employment and by other welfare measures, can eventually increase the incomes of the unfortunate individuals who are earning less than $3,000 a year.

LAWRENCE

But, as is always the case with those theorists in our midst who never see the economic forest for the realistic trees, the biggest single way to cure much of today's "poverty" is overlooked.

The remedy is to be found in opening the doors of job opportunity in business.

★ ★ ★

The most important thing needed to encourage economic growth today is the removal of the barriers against business expansion.

NO LONGER FREE

This ranges all the way from the need for a reduction of tariff and quota walls imposed overseas to a recognition of the trials and travails of the American free-enterprise system at home which is no longer free.

It will do little good in the long run to multiply the number of government agencies, increase the handouts, and foster the "welfare state" concept.

There must be a drive to increase the number of jobs. For the real problem today is what is best described as "job creation."

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the biggest factor in unemployment is the geographical dilemma.

LOSES CONTRACT

A big company, for example, employing many thousands of people suddenly fails to get renewal of a government contract because a particular item is no longer needed.

The workers have bought their own houses, and their roots are imbedded in their home communities.

To get new employment, they must, of course, move away, and it's expensive to gamble on the place to which to take a family.

★ ★ ★

The President't program submitted to Congress provides for some relief in this direction for the coal miners of the Appalachian region whose work opportunities have been diminished through no fault of their own or of their employers.

GO NORTH

Undoubtedly, there are many Negroes in the South who would like to go North.

Certainly many of them could get jobs as domestics which pay from $2,000 to $3,000 a year. When two in a family work, this would be doubled.

Somewhere in the country there are plenty of men and women who would jump at the chance of getting jobs in the cities and they have adequate education — but they are far away geographically.

A war to overcome geographical barriers would help in the "War on Poverty."

It doesn't take a high school education to be able to operate a plow or a truck and it doesn't require any knowledge of science or history to be a night watchman or a waiter or a cook or perform some other tasks in factory or store or home.

Yet current unemployment figures, including many persons in such categories, are high. Also the population of working age is growing rapidly.

★ ★ ★

But the greatest chance for high employment will develop when business is permitted to expand naturally.

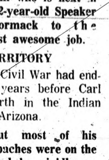
Capital Letter:

Sen. Hayden Points Up Brief U.S. Role in History

WASHINGTON — America's reluctant decline from its unchallenged postwar position as the dominant nation on earth serves to dramatize the brief role that this country has played on the world stage.

In the broad sweep of history, the United States is but a dot.



RUTH MONTGOMERY

Perhaps nowhere is this fact better illustrated than in the person who stands only two heartbeats removed from the presidency.

That man is 86-year-old Carl Hayden, Senate president pro tem who is next in line after 72-year-old Speaker John McCormack to the world's most awesome job.

INDIAN TERRITORY

The bitter Civil War had ended only 12 years before Carl Hayden's birth in the Indian territory of Arizona.

Throughout most of his boyhood, Apaches were on the warpath, and he vividly remembers when the wily Geronimo was finally captured and deported to Florida.

One of his mother's brothers was killed in the bloody battle of Shiloh while fighting for the Confederacy.

★ ★ ★

His father, a Connecticut Yankee who had gone west with an ox train, became a trader and shipped goods from the East to West coasts by sailing vessels around Cape Horn.

NO CRISIS

In those days, there was no Panama crisis, because there was no canal.

Lyndon B. Johnson was 3 years old when Carl Hayden first won election to Congress in 1911.

Six years later, Rep. Hayden voted to declare war on Germany, the month before John F. Kennedy was born.

Hayden switched to the Senate in 1927, and once again voted for a declaration of war against Germany in 1941.

★ ★ ★

In point of congressional service, he outranks every other legislator in either chamber.

Ulysses S. Grant, who left office the year that Sen. Hayden was born, was our 18th president. Lyndon Johnson is our 36th.

Few Americans are in a better position to sympathize with this old-world resentment of youthful virility than Hayden and McCormack.

These two, having amassed a lifetime of experience in the service of their country, are now being told by comparative newcomers:

"You're too old to be president. We must change the succession law so that you cannot serve."

Voice of the People:

'MHSAA Unfair in Ruling Against Seaholm Player'

I was glad to see Bruno Kearns voice an opinion on Michigan High School Athletic Association and Charles Forsythe. Michigan needs to get a new MHSAA athletic director or Mr. Forsythe should change a few rules.

★ ★ ★

The ruling on a boy playing a church league basketball game while playing on a high school team should be thrown out. What possible harm is a boy doing other than getting more practice?

★ ★ ★

Forsythe took away the all-star football game in Oakland County. Other states have had all-star games for years with large turnouts. Oakland County fans would have supported such a game.

Mr. Charles Sparks is seeking his 17th term as County Treasurer. I have a few questions—When was the picture in The Press taken? How old is he? How is his health? Why is it so difficult to see him at his office? Why must one pay to get some back taxes looked up?

'Ban on School Prayer Aid to Commies'

A house committee is studying a bill that asks Congress to approve a Constitutional amendment assuring a right to offer prayers in schools. This bill is opposed by Senators Charles Blondy, a Jew, and William Ford, a Roman Catholic.

★ ★ ★

The amendment in our constitution that gives us freedom of religion protects us in that it would keep any particular religion from coming into our public schools. This is not what is being done. The Bible is merely being read. Any religion based on the Bible should not object.

★ ★ ★

People who try to keep Bible reading out of schools are playing right into the hands of the Communists.

Says Parkway Road Area Disgraceful

The letter from "A Home Owner in Jack's Green Lake Subdivision" should be given much thought and action. There is no excuse for yards to be cluttered with junk.

★ ★ ★

Parkway Road which overlooks Cass Lake and is the entrance to a beautiful state park, is a disgrace. This area has the essence of a typical slum section. Does Waterford Township have a health department and dog warden? Dogs run in droves and some of the houses appear to be fire traps and the premises are deplorable. Perhaps some cannot afford better but why not keep the premises respectable?

★ ★ ★

Proper authorities should take time to inspect these unsightly areas and get things cleaned up.

Anybody need a hole in the ground? Better yet, 54 of them?

They are not ordinary holes, as can readily be adjudged from their original price of $25 million apiece.

They come in groups of three. Each hole is 165 feet deep and is complete with air conditioning, underground well water, fuel tanks, antennas and a diesel plant capable of supplying all the electricity needed by a city of 10,000 people. Each group includes a control center. Nothing but a direct hit by an H-bomb could knock them out.

★ ★ ★

The 54 holes are the underground silos for the Titan I missile near Denver. Today, not quite two years after the first Titan site was declared operational, the missiles and all their complicated launching and service equipment are obsolete.

★ ★ ★

Twenty five million dollars a hole ... and they are of no earthly use whatever now. Yet these holes in the ground cannot be written off as a total loss because they, and the rest of the nation's defense establishment, are responsible for the peace we enjoy today.

Familiar Pattern

The Chicago Sun-Times

The revolutionary government of Zanzibar has seized all privately owned farms in the name of the People's Republic. The purpose is to take over the island's clove and coconut industry which provides 95 per cent of the export trade.

It is a familiar pattern. It has happened in other countries where a form of socialism or nationalism, thinly disguising Communist intent, has come to power.

The end result can be predicted. It will undoubtedly be economic failure. That has been the history of nationalized agriculture.

The question to be answered is: What country will support Zanzibar, as Russia has supported Cuba, when the cries of distress begin to come from Zanzibar?

The Florida East Coast Railway has been struck for more than a year, but has kept its freight trains running.

It has been plagued by continual acts of sabotage, some slight and some serious. These climaxed recently with bomb derailments of two trains.

At that point, President Johnson, on a political trip in Florida, roared that such lawlessness had to stop and that he was calling in the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Well, better late than never, we'd say, for the President to take notice of persistent criminal damage to property and threats to human life — and we wish the FBI good hunting along the Florida East Coast right-of-way.

Cyprus Tension Eases After Violent Skirmishes

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Roadblocks erected by Turkish Cypriots in a village west of Nicosia were pulled down today easing the possibility of another flareup in the area.

Only a few miles away, however, Greek and Turkish Cypriots were reported entrenched in opposing positions.

The roadblocks went down in the Turkish Cypriot village of Ghaziveran, and attacking Greek Cypriots withdrew after the arrival of a British peacekeeping contingent.

Five Turkish Cypriots and one Greek Cypriot were killed in a day-long battle yesterday.

Some 200 to 300 Greek Cypriots hurled bazooka and machine-gun fire at Ghaziveran, 28 miles west of Nicosia, after 500 villagers refused to lower roadblocks on the main road to the west of the island.

REPULSE BULLDOZER

At the height of the battle, the Turks repulsed an armored bulldozer with explosives.

★ ★ ★

The sudden arrival of several dozen photographers and correspondents brought a halt to the Turkish Cypriot firing—directed at fleeing Greek Cypriot police.

Pier Spinelli of Italy, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's representative, flew to the scene with the British force and arranged a cease-fire.

★ ★ ★

Fighting also occurred yesterday at the mixed village of Kalokhorio, 4 miles southwest of Ghaziveran. Each side suffered one dead.

Greek and Turkish Cypriot fighters continued to glare at each other from dug-in positions today.

The flare-ups were the first serious incidents since the first Canadian troops arrived last Saturday to begin forming a U.N. peace force.

In Ankara, Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu angrily accused the Greek Cypriot leaders of setting off the fighting.

In an interview with the Associated Press, Inonu revived a warning that Turkey will intervene unless peace is restored on Cyprus.

In Nicosia last night, Soviet Ambassador Pavel Yermoshin received an ovation from nearly 200 leading Greek Cypriots at a cocktail party given in his honor by the "Trust," the capital's most conservative Greek Cypriot club.

The club presented the envoy with a silver plate in appreciation of "the Soviet Union's support of the Cyprus government in the past weeks when the island's territorial integrity was threatened by a Turkish invasion and British-American machinations."

★ ★ ★

It was the first time in the club's 42 years that a Communist official had crossed its threshold.

Says Cleveland Surgeon

'Artificial Hearts Work'

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A Cleveland surgeon said yesterday that artificial hearts have already been developed to the point that they have functioned in calves for as long as 22 hours.

Dr. Donald B. Effler, speaking at the annual convention of the American College of Surgeons, said mechanical hearts would be a reality soon and when they finally were perfected they would be better than human hearts.

Effler, chief of thoracic and cardiac surgery at Cleveland Clinic Foundation, said "This is just the beginning."

He said the mechanical heart was an offshoot of the Pacemaker, a machine now used to stimulate and regulate heartbeat. The mechanical heart, he said, was simply a combination of the Pacemarker and the mechanical valves now being used to replace defective ones.

★ ★ ★

"We will develop a simple container to hold it, provide the energy to drive it, and you will have an artificial mechanical heart," he said.

FAR SUPERIOR

Dr. Effler said a mechanical heart would be far superior to transplanting of a human or animal heart "because tissue transplants are devilishly complicated."

"The proven success of the Pacemaker and heart valves leads to believe that this is where our best chances lie," he said.

Effler said Dr. William Kolff, who developed the artificial kidney now in use, is experimenting with a mechanical heart at the Cleveland clinic.

Dentist Studies Blood Type's Link to Cavities

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Blood type may be a factor in whether a person has dental cavities, says a Detroit dentist.

Dr. Gordon E. Green of Henry Ford Hospital told a dental research convention Thursday his findings indicated a hereditary factor.

In blood tests and dental examinations of 473 persons aged 18 to 23, Green found those with RH negative or RH positive CDE type blood had fewer cavities.

He said blood type, which is a reflection of heredity, may explain why the incidence of cavities differs in populations with similar eating habits.

Wallace Cautious in Northern Invasion

By HARVEY BREUSCHER

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama rode an airplane emblazoned with the Confederate battle flag into Yankee territory this week to make his first bid for Northern votes in his quest for the Democratic presidential nomination.

But once he left the plane, his campaign turned, in his own words, "Cautious—we don't want to press it too hard at first."

Cautious seemed a fair description when compared with Wisconsin's political style, which finds the office-seeker on the go from factory gates at dawn to dinners after dark.

GOOD GROUNDS

Wallace, 44, a candidate in the April 7 presidential primary, had good grounds for caution.

* * *

He found that a lot of voters won't accept the distinction he makes between a segregationist and a racist, and that at least three of his 60 delegate candidates have tried, unsuccessfully to get off the ballot.

* * *

The governor's political experience is enough to tell him he is the long odds entrant in his primary fight with Gov. John W. Reynolds, who heads a Wisconsin delegation pledged to President Johnson.

But, the three - day Wallace tour was anything but the intense effort expected of a politician trying to catch up.

NOT A TIGER

"I thought this guy would be a tiger, but he's not pushy enough," said a Wallace admirer.

News Analysis

To many Northern observers, Wallace didn't match their image of the man who in a doorway stand attempted last year to block Negroes from attending the University of Alabama.

* * *

Wallace said that's partially due to "left-wing, pinko press" descriptions of him and happenings in Alabama.

"I'm a segregationist, but that doesn't mean I hate people—a racist hates people," the governor told challenging Protestant and Jewish clergymen in Oshkosh.

STUDENTS OPPOSE

Some students encircled him at Oshkosh State College voicing disapproval, and published criticisms came from Wisconsin's three Roman Catholic diocesan newspapers.

* * *

Wallace reacted goodnaturedly to the student demonstrations and said Catholic voters would make up their own minds.

* * *

En route from Oshkosh to Milwaukee, Wallace told newsmen he was surprised by the number of people who said they supported his opposition to the civil rights bill now in the U.S. Senate.

"There are a lot of folks in Wisconsin, just like in Alabama, who are tired of all this federal meddling," he said.

Reds Gripe About Service

MOSCOW (AP) — The City Council reported Thursday it received more than 5,000 complaints from Muscovites about dry cleaning, laundry, shoe repair and auto service last year.

* * *

Because of these and other falldowns, the capital achieved only 97.7 per cent of its planned income for 1963. The council taxi income fell $4.99 million short of the assigned goal. This was no surprise to Muscovites, who find it almost impossible to get a taxi at night.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Alum Stick Helps to Heal Canker Sores

Since writing about the treatment for canker sores, several readers have written in to remind me of a time-honored home remedy that I have used myself in the past — touching the sore three or four times a day with a styptic stick of alum.

BRANDSTADT

Alum is an astringent and is well worth trying until something better is discovered.

Tincture of thimerosal (Merthiolate) will also give relief.

A dentist writes that his preference is ammoniacale silver nitrate, ampules of which are available at dental supply houses.

* * *

He finds it very effective but I would hesitate to recommend it for home use. Better let your doctor apply it when needed.

Q — Is it safe for a person with low blood count, hip or spine injury, diabetes, vitamin deficiency or sinus trouble to take the Sabin oral poliomyelitis vaccine?

* * *

A — Yes. You should get this protection even if you have already had the Salk vaccine.

Q — What are the symptoms and how do you get rid of a tapeworm? How could I have got them to begin with?

I don't know whether I have them but no matter what I eat I seem to lose weight.

* * *

A — There are three principal varieties of tapeworm. Tapeworm infestation is acquired by eating raw or undercooked fish, beef or pork, depending on the variety.

Most persons who have such an infestation see large segments of the worm in their stools long before there are any symptoms.

The victim may have intestinal cramping, nausea, diarrhea or a slight loss of weight.

* * *

Since the treatment is not the same for the three types, you should have your doctor determine whether you have tapeworm and, if so, what type before any treatment is given.

IMPORTANT CAUSES

There are several much more important causes of loss of weight that should be looked into.

* * *

These include tuberculosis, several diseases of the digestive tract, cancer, diabetes, and hyperactivity of the thyroid.

Q — Will a varicose vein in my leg put a strain on my heart? And would it interfere with my circulation?

* * *

A — Your varicose vein will not put a strain on your heart and it will interfere with the circulation only in the affected leg.

Elementary Deduction

They Took Him 'Litterly'

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. George Romney's antilitter drive to keep Michigan beautiful could turn out to be a controversial political item if an East Grand Rapids grade school has the right slant on things.

* * *

Mrs. Marjorie Sharpe Dunakin, teacher at an East Grand Rapids school, was discussing the antilitter campaign in her elementary school class recently.

When she asked what the governor meant by "do not litter," Mrs. Dunakin reported to the governor in a letter: "A long silence followed, then one little boy raised his hand and came out with this—'It means don't have babies'."

* * *

In a return letter, Romney told Mrs. Dunakin "the boy shows quite a vivid imagination, and I can imagine the reaction from you and the students when he came out with it."

Junior Editors Quiz on HORSES

QUESTION: Why are all horses' birthdays on January 1?

ANSWER: Our questioner has a wrong impression—the rule about January 1 "birthdays" applies only to race horses, of the breed called Thoroughbred.

To understand the reason for this rule, think of a Thoroughbred colt born in May, 1964. Supposing there is a race for two-year olds held in April, of 1967. By that time, our colt will be two years and eleven months old.

But there might be another colt racing against him born in March, 1965, and this, although also called a two year old, will be 10 months younger than the first horse, giving the first one a tremendous and unfair advantage of added growth and speed.

The whole point about horse racing is to have the animals as evenly matched as possible.

Most race horses are bred so their colts are born between February and June.

If you take such a group of colts, according to the present rule, and say their birthdays were all January 1, of the year in which they were born they will be able to race together with only a few months of actual age difference, and this will make for an exciting race.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: To get this idea firmly in your mind, think of other popular sports where the fun of looking on is increased if the contestants are evenly matched. This is the reason for "one-design" yacht racing, with all boats made alike. Think of other examples.

School-Agers Up in Ratio Since 1960

DETROIT (AP)—The number of school-aged youngsters in Michigan has been growing faster than the rest of the state's population since the 1960 National Census, the U.S. Bureau of the Census reported Thursday.

Michigan's population was 8,029,000 on July 1, 1962—a 2.6 per cent increase since the 1960 census, the bureau estimated. The national population gain was 3.6 per cent during that time.

Greatest gains in population in Michigan were among youngsters aged 5 to 17 years, the bureau said. On July 1, 1962, they accounted for 26 per cent of the state's residents. Children under 12 made up 12 per cent of the population, persons 18 to 44 accounted for 34 per cent, persons 45 to 64 for 20 per cent and persons over 65 for 9 per cent.

Bill on Sterilization Rejected in Dixie

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A bill setting up voluntary sexual sterilization of charity patients has been rejected by the State Senate Public Health Committee.

The committee recommended yesterday that the measure, which also would have set up planned parenthood clinics, not be passed.

Under the proposed bill, voluntary sterilization would have been authorized when a patient was unable to pay for such a procedure after having 4wo children. As indigent woman with an illegitimate child also would have been offered the sterilization operation.

Drive on Elm Disease

LANSING (AP) — The 1964 campaign against Dutch Elm Disease has begun. Some of the state's 84 communities with spraying and sanitation programs to curb the deadly Elm have started spraying Elms, the State Agriculture Department said.

MSU Trustees Okay Export of Ideas to Turkey

EAST LANSING (AP) — The export by Michigan State University of American business ideas to Turkey was approved Thursday by the MSU Board of Trustees.

The five-year, $1.9-million educational project will be financed jointly by Turkey and the U.S. Agency for International Development.

The initial federal grant is $322,000. The agreement will continue through 1968 and calls for subsequent grants to be made by the federal agency and the Turkish government.

MSU President John Hannah termed the agreement "a continuation of the policy of this university reaching out into the world."

PROBLEM: Why can we see our breath on a cold day?

HERE'S WHY: When air has come up from the large moist surfaces in the lungs, it is warm and holds much moisture.

Since cold air cannot hold as much moisture as warm air, some of the moisture in the breath condenses into tiny droplets as the breath becomes cooler.

A book of the Science For You experiments and explanations can be bought in better bookstores. Its name is "Science Circus."

LBJ Tells McNamara to Stay Out of Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has told Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara he wants him to stay out of the 1964 political campaign, it was learned today.

Johnson has given similar word to Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

* * *

In all probability, sources said McNamara would have kept clear of any political campaigning even if Johnson had not expressly ordered it that way.

* * *

Cabinet officers in less sensitive fields often are expected to pitch in and help win votes for the man in the White House. But the heads of the State and Defense departments traditionally have tried to remain above the battle.

MAJOR ASSET

Nonetheless, McNamara could prove to be a major asset to Johnson in the campaign merely by continuing to serve in the Cabinet.

He seems to have established with the nation at large an image of the dynamic civilian chief who has wrought a revolution in the Pentagon and has gained firm control of the military.

* * *

McNamara's obvious high standing with Johnson, coupled with the defense secretary's "image" has raised some speculation that the President might tap McNamara for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

The defense secretary considers himself an independent Republican and has given no outward sign he is considering a change to Democrat.

ONE REPLY

Only once in this political year has McNamara been drawn into replying to a charge by a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination.

That was on Jan. 9 when Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona campaigning in New Hampshire said that U.S. long-range missiles are not dependable.

McNamara felt Goldwater's charge should be challenged before it was accepted by the public.

So he fired back in a matter of hours with a statement calling Goldwater's remarks "completely misleading, politically irresponsible and damaging to national security."

Inheritance No Problem for Woman

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — A $1.4-million Battle Creek fortune probably will go to 80-year-old Mrs. Loretta Baker Secor of Toledo, Ohio, who said "I have everything I want now."

Richard Secor, 39, a Toledo attorney and mayor of fashionable Ottawa Hills, a suburb, said Thursday at his home the apparent inheritance "didn't seem to bother her."

"There's nothing sillier than talking about money you don't have and, besides, I have everything I want now," Secor quoted his mother as having said.

Mrs. Secor, a widow, had known for several months she was to inherit the money from Charles J. Pearson, her cousin, a Battle Creek business executive, her son said.

NO WILL

Pearson died last Nov. 28 without leaving a will. He was a widower and had no children. Probate Court found Mrs. Secor to be his only heir at law. Ten second cousins are not heirs under the court ruling. Pearson was vice president and sales manager of United States Cash Register Co. in Battle Creek.

Secor described his mother as a "young 80." He said she still drives her car, is in good health, and keeps active.

A native of Michigan, she grew up with Pearson. They had not seen each other since the funeral of Mrs. Secor's sister in 1950. Mrs. Secor lives alone. Her husband, Richard, died in 1938.

The first coast-to-coast paved road in the United States was the Lincoln Highway which opened in 1913.

'Better Deal for Everyone,' Johnson Pledges in Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, making a bold bid for bipartisan support in the November election, has pledged that all Americans can "look forward to a better deal."

* * *

Speaking in strident tones Thursday night at a Democratic fund-raising dinner at the National Guard Armory Johnson sung the praises of his party and said:

"Let us invite all of the people to unite with us, to work with us in this truly national party which is a stranger to no region, an open party closed to none, welcoming all; a unifying party which knows no color, knows no creed, knows no north, no south, no east, no west."

* * *

The President, who was an acknowledged master as Senate Democratic leader at bringing warring factions together, seized the opportunity at the $100-a-plate dinner to make a pitch for his proclaimed goal of being a President of all the people.

"We make no narrow and petty discriminations as to party," said Johnson in paying tribute to the evening's honored guests—the congressional committee chairmen first elected in the Franklin D. Roosevelt landslide of 1936, the year Johnson was first elected to the House.

* * *

Then, as he continued, Johnson made it clear that he had not forgotten he was speaking to a Democratic audience.

"It is just a most remarkable coincidence," he said, "that those first elected in 1936 and still serving tonight happen to be—just happen to be—all Democrats."

And while earlier in his speech Johnson had said Democrats should always put "our country first and our party second," he struck a Democratic stance with the statement:

"The thing to be noted is not that they are all here this year but the thing that we want to note and remember is that they are all going to be back here next year."

* * *

He also made a strong plug for the prosperity half of the peace-and - prosperity platform which is expected to embrace this fall.

"I tell you tonight that the American economy is stronger than it has been at any time in your lifetime," he said.

In the area of foreign affairs, Johnson simply promised that "our interests will also always be protected."

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major Republican drive for big city votes with particular emphasis on minority groups features an election year campaign plan drafted by party leaders.

This proposed campaign strategy, keyed to a budget of $12 million is being circulated among GOP members of Congress by Rep. William E. Miller, Republican national chairman.

Committee aides identified the cities as Detroit, New York, Chicago, Newark, Baltimore, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Minneapolis - St. Paul and Los Angeles.

Bank Branch Okayed for Minden City Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State of Michigan and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. Thursday approved the application of the Hubbard State Bank, Bad Axe, Mich. to establish a new branch in Minden City, Mich., the FDIC said.

A similar announcement also was being made by Charles D. Slay, commissioner of the Banking Department of Michigan.

New Rector at U. of D.

DETROIT (AP) — The very Rev. Lawrence V. Britt, president of the University of Detroit, was named rector of the University's Jesuits Thursday. Fr. Britt, 51, succeeded the Very Rev. Marxhall L. Lochbiler, 70, in a return to prior policy under which the president is also rector.

Dearie . . . Remember When?

You're Over the Hill if You Can Recall This Stuff

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Memory has no boss.

You can't tell your mind what to retain as worthwhile and what to forget as worthless.

BOYLE

Memory is a strange miser. It hoards the oddest things, and in moments of reverie parades them before your inner eye in a seemingly haphazard fashion.

You've been through life's mill yourself, if you can look back and remember when—

You could be the life of any party by imitating Charlie Chaplin's duck-footed waddle.

Ladies were so delicate and fainted so often that every well-run household kept a bottle of smelling salts handy to revive them.

A wife who held a job outside the home tried to keep that fact from her relatives — as if it were a kind of disgrace.

One of the biggest thrills of boyhood was to get to wear the wool wrap-around leggings your soldier uncle brought home from World War I.

Noisy pneumatic drills never set people's nerves on edge because streets were repaired by pick and shovel crews.

10 Shots in a Case

DETROIT (AP) — With one break for a water chaser halfway, attorney William A. Bedrosian belted off 10 shots of whisky in court yesterday.

The jury of four men and eight women watched intently. So did Circuit Court Judge Theodore R. Bohn.

Bedrosian then walked a straight line. He walked with a precise, unfaltering step.

Bedrosian represents Mrs. Mildred Swayze in a $100,000 damage suit in the auto traffic death of her husband, Wesley, 63.

The suit is against Janusz F. Krol, 26, and his father, Vincent. A car driven by the younger Krol with his father as a passenger struck and killed Swayze Nov. 18, 1960, near the Swayze home in suburban Melvindale.

The defendants said Swayze was intoxicated and staggered into the path of the car. Mrs. Swayze admitted her husband had had a few drinks beforehand. Medical experts said there was alcohol in Swayze's blood.

Attorney Bedrosian did his drinking from a newly opened bottle in court to prove, he said, that Swayze's imbibing could not be held responsible for his death.

The jurors failed to reach a verdict. They'll try again Monday.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH! — There is a limit you know, Carole Beckett of 819 Pensacola tries to silence Tom Hahn of 23 Delaware. Both Pontiac Central High School sophomores are preparing for the Saginaw Valley forensics contest April 9, which isn't really conducted in this manner.

Skiers at Kettering Try Boyne Slopes

By JOY McREYNOLDS

Recently schussing the slopes of Boyne Mountain Ski Resort were five members of the Waterford Kettering High School ski team.

Together with chaperones Gerald Thomas, ski team sponsor, and Jack McKenna, the skiers began the trek last Friday.

Upon arriving in Petoskey, the party spent the night at a farm owned by Pontiac Central High School instructor John Zimmerly. Saturday was spent on the slopes of nearby Boyne Highlands.

Returning to Petoskey that evening, the skiers visited the Club Ponytail and listened to the music of Kettering alumnus Gene Gustafson, currently a student at Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

★ ★ ★

Following several hours of skiing at Boyne Mountain Resort, the team departed for home. Skiers attending included Cynthia Dalton, Stephanie McKenna, Thomas Ojay, Donald Sweeney and Jean Trevethan.

EXPRESS VIEWS

Designed to let students express their views on current school problems, the student council citizenship committee

Other School News Throughout Week

staged discussions in all English classes Wednesday.

Topics of discussion included smoking, destruction of school property, lack of respect for teachers and tardiness to classes.

Results of the discussions were submitted to the citizenship committee for evaluation.

Maintaining the sophomore class tradition, the class of '66 will sponsor "Oldies But Goodies" in the Waterford Kettering gym tonight.

The dance, featuring the song hits of recent years, will begin at 8 p.m.

Oxford Show Is Musical

Jerome Kern Play Begins Run Tonight

By SHIRLEY EVANS

Brace Beemer, (who was the origial Lone Ranger on radio) and his wife will be choreographers as Oxford High School presents the 1904 Brodaway musical, "Leave It To Jane".

The story, written by Jerome Kern, centers around the annual Thanksgiving Day football game between Atwater College and Bingham College and will be given tonight and tomorrow at 8 p.m.

In the play, prospects for an Atwater victory appear hopeless as the students learn that Bingham has secured the services of an All-American halfback.

The daughter of Atwater's president fools the halfback but finally confesses and asks to be forgiven. They become engaged and the game turns out as an upset.

OTHER MEMBERS

Mrs. Dorothy Valentine, the choir director, is also play director, Ann Mathieson is dancing choreography.

Jerry Limbert is taking care of dramatics and Walt Magee is in charge of lighting.

Technical advisor is Terry Hallead. Given management of the props is Barbara Perry. Nancy Haines is in charge of the publicity.

Several of the costumes are actual apparel from the early 1900's and others were specially made.

Seeking Title for Conference

Winners Past 2 Years in Saginaw Valley

By DIANE OLSEN

After contests held last week, the Pontiac Central High School speach department is preparing for the Saginaw Valley Forensics contest April 9.

Winning first place in the humorous reading division was Carole Beckett. Also placing were Evelyn Alderson, Margy Rosner and alternate Ben Francis.

Interpretive reading winners were Cheryl Hight, Jan Carline, Herman Williams and alternate Cheri Gay.

Earning recognition in extempory speaking were Robert Sullivan, Carol Godoshian, Bill Chafets and alternate Carolyn Morris.

Dick Taylor, Jim Embree, Steve Hardiman and Kim Carless, alternate, placed in the oratory division.

CONTEST JUDGE

Judging the speakers were David Muxworthy, English department; John Burton, social studies; Jean Smith, art department; James Hudson, English; Richard Tilwick, counseling; and Walter Smith of the speech department and head of forensics division.

For the last two years, Central has won the conference forensics contests. Returning winners who have previously placed first in the valley are Carol Godoshian and Robert Sullivan.

The National Honor Society has chosen this year's members. Seniors elected to this society based on scholastic and citizenship achievements are Jill Anderson, Richard Anderson, Doreen Beacco, Stephanie Bennet, Monita Calhoun, Micki Chappell, Cheryl Coffing, Don Crawford, Donna Darrow and Mary Doerr.

★ ★ ★

Also included are Carol Dudas, Dianna Epley, Linda Fought, Carolyn Gaensbauer, Carolyn Gjelhaug, Carol Godoshian, Stephanie Hardenburg, James Haskins, Jim Howard and Chuck Hubbard.

Others are Bob Erwin, Nancy Jack, Steve Johnson, Gerda Jurgenson, Bruce Kesselring, Ralph Koprince, Jens Kusk, Steve Lambouris, Nancy Lee and Joyce Livingstone.

Others honored are Anne Madsen, Joseph McNeely, Michael Mellen, Tamara Melnik, Ray Merriman, Chris Miller, Carolyn Morris, Michele Morrow, Richard Northcross, Barbara Olds and Diane Olsen.

Also named are Denise Patton, Larry Ragsdale, Carole Rapaport, Rose Marie Reibling, Bill Roach, Helmut Schick, Lenore Schoonover, Tim Schroeder, Margie Seaman and Sarajane Serwin.

Concluding the list are Janice Shepherd, Tom Smith, Glenn Sutt, Carol Valenti, Nancy Ward, Alice Warling, Cheryl Wharff, Barbara Wheeler, Kit Widdifield, Cheryl Wilton and Paule Wine.

"Turnabout" will be the theme of the student council sponsored dance April 17. All proceeds from the girl-ask-boy affair will go to the American Field Service foreign exchange student fund.

EMMANUEL

By CAROL ARMBRUSTER

Winners have been announced in the annual science fair at Emmanuel Christian High School.

First place winner was John Allen, who did a periodic table on the arrangement of elements as they fall into certain classifications.

Receiving outstanding recognition were Bob Bryan, Cheryl Jackson and Ron Jackson.

In the excellent classification were Rod Dufour, Gail Konno, Greg Peterson and Anne Wyers.

HONORABLE MENTION

Concluding the list are those students who received honorable mention: Leta Carpenter, Joy Konno, Shirley Palenkas, Bill Robertson, Rob Roe, Julie Spiegel and Linda Wright.

Judges for the fair were John Ellithorpe, Charles Joss and Hubert Karl.

LAKE ORION

By NANCY GREENHILL

The Lake Orion Youth Center will be the site tomorrow night for the Lake Orion High School Y-teen's annual "Bermuda Bounce."

"Springtime" is the theme of the girl-ask-boy affair.

Yesterday morning the government and economics classes held a seminar presented by Dr. Edward Heubel of Oakland University, who discussed several of the recent major Supreme Court rulings.

Students enjoyed a half day of leisure on Wednesday. The teachers participated in a half day of in-service training.

WALLED LAKE

By SUE GERVAIS

Walled Lake High School recently held its spring forensic contests. First and second place winners in declamation were Cheryl Cass and Cheryl McCray, respectively.

Bob Smart and Rick Blough placed first and second in the original oratory classification while Paul McVey and Linda Board took first and second place in extemporaneous speaking.

The journalism staff has begun work on the Viking Varieties, a supplement to the yearbook. This publication not only provides useful identifying information but also the senior class motto and history.

Walled Lake and North Farmington High Schools will cosponsor vocations night Wednesday.

W. BLOOMFIELD

By SUE GOTSHALL

West Bloomfield High School cheerleaders will sponsor a Sadie Hawkins dance tonight at 8 p.m. in the school gym.

All girls attending the dance are required to wear sweatshirts and carry their dates books to each of his classes today.

Computer Provides Flexible Class Time

Flexible programming that provides for classes lasting from twenty minutes to more than two hours was introduced this year in two high schools in California and one in Oregon.

A high speed computer and four years of research by staff at Stanford University have made possible the tailoring of class time to subject matter.

In approximately fifteen minutes, a computer that makes a half-million calculations per second can schedule a school of 2,000 students.

★ ★ ★

Into the machine go data indicating course structure, length of class, how often it meets, a list of teachers assigned, and the type and availability of rooms; and then out come the answers: who teaches what, when, where, and to whom.

Pontiac Northern Is Host for Annual Choir Festival

By SUSAN KILLEN

Today the a capella choir at Pontiac Northern High School played host to the annual Michigan Vocal Association District 11 choir festival.

★ ★ ★

After arriving at Northern, choirs from the surrounding areas warmed up their voices and prepared to sing before various judges who rated them on such points as sight-reading, total balance and other style points.

Northern's choir also went through the competition. The choir first presented Mozart's "Lacrymosa," a number required of all schools.

Following the required number the choirs were allowed to present a number of their own choosing.

★ ★ ★

Members of the PNH choir also acted as guides for the visitors who had not been to Northern before.

The senior class has decided upon the location of their senior trip. This year they will be going to Camp Tamarack, located four miles northwest of Ortonville.

Seniors will leave May 29 after the noon hour and return on the afternoon of May 31. Payment for food and lodging will be collected on April 1 and May 1.

Date of the spring concert of the Northern band has been announced. It will be April 22, under the direction of Eldon Rosegart.

★ ★ ★

Because the band is composed this year of a great number of graduating seniors, the theme will be "Auld Lang Syne." The band is now preparing the program, which will include traditional classic band music, band marches and novelty numbers.

TESTING PROGRAM

Northern's juniors and sophomores who are aiming for a college education participated in the National Merit Testing Program Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Along with thousands of other students in the area, the juniors came to PNH to take the National Merit Scholarship Development Test.

★ ★ ★

These tests will be graded on a national level and returned to Northern so that both student and counselor will be able to ascertain just how the student ranks in his scholarship and interests.

Cage Sport on Donkeys at BHHS

By KAREN TRIMMER

Tuesday found the Bloomfield Hills High School gym filled with spectators witnessing the first "donkey basketball" game in Bloomfield's history.

★ ★ ★

The game, sponsored by the senior class, matched members of the 'B' club against the faculty. The 'B' club was victorious.

Playing was normal with the exception that players rode, dribbled, passed and made all other plays atop live donkeys. Several schools in this area have previously sponsored such games.

Seventeen senior girls will travel throughout Europe this summer with teacher Deanna Maher.

They will tour for 22 days from July 15 to August 3 and will visit Belgium, Holland, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, France and England.

'UNSINKABLE TITANIC'

The "unsinkable Titanic" will sink tonight at 7:30 in the BHHS little theater.

Walter Lord's best seller, "A Night to Remember," has been made into a movie, which will be shown to adults and students along with a cartoon and a special feature on Hollywood stars.

Proceeds will go to the varsity and junior cheerleader funds.

Career Day Held at St. Fred's

By KATHY CARRY

The week at St. Frederick High School was highlighted by the annual career day, sponsored by the student council.

Those professions scheduled to be represented included lab technician, interior decorator, airline hostess, registered nurse, fireman, social worker, beautician, journalist, dental hygienist, teacher, public accountant and policeman.

Students chose two professions they wished to know more about which would enable them to choose their future vocation.

As of Tuesday's report this week, the stamp drive to purchase a new car for the sisters is on its last leg.

With only 250 more books to go, top rooms are junior homeroom 306 with 730 per cent, sophomore homeroom 209 with 668 per cent, and junior homeroom 310 with 458 per cent.

High school students had no school yesterday due to a teachers institute.

Week Short at St. Michael for Holidays

By MICHAEL OMANS

Students of St. Michael High School had Tuesday and Thursday off this week.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday was St. Patrick's Day, and students were given the day off while teachers attended lectures and conferences on education.

Thursday was St. Joseph Day, and since it is the 75th anniversary year of the Sisters of St. Joseph, who teach at St. Michael, arrangements were made so that the day could be a free day for both students and faculty.

Bulletin boards around the school have articles concerning the life of the religious in connection with retreats and vocation talks that have been given through this month.

★ ★ ★

Michael Pope, 6-foot, 7-inch center of the basketball team, received an athletic scholarship to Aquinas College in Grand Rapids. Mike plans to take courses in physical education and become a coach.

NEW TYPE GAME

Today the student body was treated to a new type of basketball game as junior girls played junior boys to decide which had the better basketball squad.

Senior boys play the faculty tonight.

Avondale Planning Government Day

By KATHY WILKES

Plans for senior government day are being made at Avondale High School. Sponsored by the student council, the traditional take-over will see senior students replace school personnel in all departments April 8.

Sandra Bragen is in charge of all arrangements.

Practice for the annual cheerleading tryouts will begin April 23.

In April members of the Spanish club are planning to attend the Masonic Temple to view Jose Greco, the famous Flamenco dancer.

A new constitution has been adopted by the "A" club. Requirements for membership have been tightened up and just earning a varsity letter is no longer automatic admittance.

Book Sale Slated for WTHS Cafeteria

By MARY BARNINGHAM

Students in Anne Commire's unified studies class are sponsoring a book sale tomorrow in the Waterford Township High School cafeteria from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Proceeds will be used to help finance a trip to Washington D.C. for the class.

All types of books — history, texts, children's, mysteries, humorous, fiction, and westerns — will be on sale.

Also included will be encyclopedia sets, a wide range of paperbacks, priced from 5 to 15 cents, and hard covers, priced from 25 cents to $1.

Eleven journalism students have been chosen as new members of the Quill and Scroll Society, a national organization designed to honor those journalists who have done superior work in some phase of journalism or school publications work.

UPPERCLASSMEN

Students chosen for this honor must also be of junior or senior classification, be in the upper third of their class, and recommended by the supervisor, Mrs. Barbara Shupe.

New members of Quill and Scroll are George Ballingall, Mary Barningham, Mary Ann Boyt, Helen Carrick, Joan Davidson and Priscilla Feole.

Thomas Koechig, Bruce McDonald, Sharon Reed, Susan Welch and Carol Willis were also named to the society. Returning senior members are Joy Delauter, Rhonda Trzos, Marlene Kiggle and Thomas Keel.

Following a brief study of William Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, Mrs. Arden Newell's sophomore English students visited Wayne State University to see the play enacted.

NEW THEATER

The performance took place in the new Hilberry Classic Theatre, which was built to mark the 400th anniversary of the birth of William Shakespeare.

Travelling by bus, 30 WTHS students attended the performance yesterday.

Winners in the WTHS forensics contest were announced this week. Five categories were open to students who entered Monday's contest.

★ ★ ★

Jan Appel and Gary Hundley were winners in the humorous division; Sherry Zannoth and Helen Carrick, interpretative reading; Thomas Talaba and Herbert Harroun, extemporary speaking; and Thomas Zetty and Harold Balmer, original oratory.

There were no entrants in the declamation division.

Health Execs Named

DETROIT (AP) — The Wayne County Board of Health Thursday named three divisional directors to handle duties of retiring Dr. Joseph Molner until his post is filled. Dr. Molner retired as director, effective today, for health reasons. The three named for him under a form of divisional operation division; Sam Stock, sanitation, and Jessie Pergrin, nursing.

More Workers Taking Second Job

Labor Worry Grows Over Moonlighting

WASHINGTON (AP) — More people are "moonlighting" than ever before, the government says.

And, declares the AFL-CIO, "Moonlighting is bad and we try to discourage it."

* * *

"Moonlighting" is the term applied to the practice of one person holding two jobs.

The Bureau of Labor statistics reported a sharp increase in double job-holding in a recent survey.

SIGNIFICANT RISE

The figures showed that 3.9 million Americans held an extra job, a rise of 600,000 in a year and "the first significant increase in extra job-holding" since 1956.

The number of moonlighters added up to 5.7 per cent of American workers.

* * *

The figure is almost as high as the nation's unemployment rate.

The AFL-CIO deplored moonlighting on grounds that it is one of the factors contributing heavily to the nation's high number of unemployed, now 4.5 million persons.

HIGHER WAGES

He added that nobody likes to moonlight and "only people who need to" hold two jobs.

The term moonlight stems from people who go to work on another job at night after spending the day at their regular job.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics survey, to be published soon, says the actual number of moonlighters may be even higher than shown by the survey, taken last year.

SOME FIBBERS?

It didn't exactly say some people fib about moonlighting, but pointed out that some government agencies and private firms forbid double job holding and such persons counted in the survey are "subject to greater response error."

A good many government employes apparently are moonlighters.

The postman, who traditionally always rings twice, is also highly likely to work at two jobs.

"Fifteen per cent of all postal workers were dual job holders," the survey showed.

NEXT HIGHEST

The next highest rate shown was for employes in public administration, who moonlighted at a rate of 10 per cent.

Teachers and other educational workers also stood high in the survey at more than 8 per cent.

* * *

Plan Pushed for Retirement

UAW Delegates After Link to Years Served

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A determined rank-and-file campaign to link retirement to years of service, regardless of age, was under way today as the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers Union opened its annual convention.

Advocates of a "25-30 & 60 now" plan claimed at a gathering of more than 300 delegates Thursday night they have support of locals with more than 600,000 of the UAW's 1,125,000 members.

* * *

The plan calls for the union to demand retirement after 25 years' service at one-half pay. After 30 years a worker would be eligible for two-thirds pay. At age 60, regardless of service, a worker would be entitled to a pension of $5.60 monthly for each year of service.

The retirement age in the auto industry is 65 years and the pension rate is $2.80 monthly for each year of service.

* * *

Three-year contracts with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler expire Aug. 31, and negotiations will open about July 1. The convention here will set the union's goals.

Delegates at Thursday night's meeting voted to seek signatures to petitions calling for the resolutions committee to propose "earlier retirement, based on service, wherever feasible."

* * *

Unless this is done Jack Wagner, president of a 15,000 member Buick local at Flint, Mich., said, "25-30 & 60 now" supporters would force a floor vote on the issue.

Walter P. Reuther, union president, has listed earlier retirement as a goal which will be sought this year, but he stopped short of endorsing the "25-30 & 60 now" plan.

Protects Parking Spot With Sign of Contempt

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)— Circuit Judge William J. Kirby has a new sign protecting his parking space at the courthouse.

"Unauthorized use of this parking space is in contempt of court," it says.

Will he enforce the warning? "Of course not," Kirby said.

Spring Arrives in Paradox--a Time of Hope and Concern

By KELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP) — The lady "with soft mists in her hair," as the poet sang, officially returns to the United States today.

She arrives at 9:10 a.m. Eastern Standard Time.

Spring is here, the season of splendors, the time of rebirth, the end of winter.

What did she see as she crossed the Atlantic Coast, spanned the Great Plains, swept across the Great Divide, and down the Sierras' slopes to the Pacific?

NATION'S HOPES

A prosperous nation, tingling with hope and energy, but with pockets of poverty.

* * *

A nation still carrying the weight of its tragedy, but carrying, as well, the pride of a people who quietly closed ranks after the moment of shock.

All over America, birds were bringing the message.

SWALLOWS BACK

In California, the swallows returned to mission San Juan Capistrano Thursday, right on schedule — always on St. Joseph's Day.

In Spring Valley, Ill., Mayor Bill Savitch said, "We've had robins already. It's a good sign." The town (pop. 5,300) is trying to attract new industry.

* * *

In Nashville, Tenn., spring came to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Evans when Baby Boy began singing. Baby Boy is a mocking bird that lives with them year-around. He doesn't sing in the winter.

Here and there, the flowers couldn't wait.

FLOWERS BLOOM

In Portland, Ore., camellias, daffodils, primroses and trillium have been blooming for a week. In Seattle, Wash., for the "Spring Festival of Fun," 70,000 daffodils, riotously golden, decorated store fronts.

In Northern New York, a farmer said, "The maple sap run looks fine these days."

* * *

In New York City, two nuns found a bud on the tulip tree in the garden beside the Church of St. Vincent Ferrer.

"For winter's rains and ruins are over,

"And all the season of snows and sins."

Well, granting a touch of poetic license, this was more or less true. But in New England, the fishermen always tell you "the first day of spring is one thing, and the first spring day is another."

WEATHER FORECAST

Said the U. S. Weather Bureau forecast for Friday:

"It will be colder over much of the country's midsection while warming is expected in many sections of the West. Widespread precipitation is expected over the eastern half of the country. Heavy snow is indicated for portions of Wisconsin and Michigan."

* * *

How does a weather man feel at the approach of spring? Does his fancy roam, his heart beat gladly?

Said James F. O'Connor, a meteorologist in the Washington Weather Bureau, laconically, "Spring does something to some people." He didn't say what, if anything, it does to weathermen.

BAD SEASON

Evidently, it doesn't need people rushing to buy orange blossoms. The chief of Philadelphia's marriage license bureau Robert Costigan, said, "The start of spring always is a bad season for us."

* * *

To individuals, this spring day meant different things.

* * *

Actor Michael Redgrave is 56 today. Lauritz Melchoir, a star of grand opera, is 74.

To Lynda Bird Johnson, daughter of President Johnson, it meant she was one day further removed from her teens. She was 20 Thursday.

EASTER VACATION

To Rhonda Linder, 14, a Philadelphia school girl, "Friday is the day before we start nine days of Easter vacation."

But for Oregon students it is just the reverse. Except for the weekend, this is the last day of a week of spring vacation.

* * *

For the first time in eight years, Lemuel Garrison, superintendent of Yellowstone National Park, will not see spring come to the high mountains. He has been transferred to Omaha, Neb. "Before we left," he said, "my wife and I went out to look at the sunrises on the snowy peaks, so we won't forget how they look. This has been an unusually lovely year."

Spring brought something unusual to Vero Beach, Fla., where the Los Angeles Dodgers, world champions of baseball, are training. Walt Alston, their manager, invited a sports writer to take a swing at him after berating the reporter for an uncomplimentary story written last summer.

LATE ARRIVAL

In Minnesota, "spring" comes well after the calendar date and the baseball fans there wonder whether snow will prevent the Twins from opening their American League season next month.

On Manhattan's West Side, food vendors were bringing out the pushcarts, filling the air with the savory aromas of chile (yes, this is New York, not El Paso, Tex.), sauerkraut, onions in tomato sauce, and frankfurters. "Seventy-five per cent of the men leave the cart in the winter and get a job indoors," said peddler Rocco Pagnotta. "But in the spring, the carts blossom like flowers."

Spring and the Big Picture in America? To thousands of Americans, these were meaningful signs in the sky:

Washington — The Labor department reported that February brought a net gain of 280,000 in non-farm employment, biggest increase in nearly two years.

Detroit — General Motors Corp., expecting an economic boom, announced it will spend a record $2 billion on equipment and hire up to 50,000 new workers to boost production by 20 per cent in two years.

* * *

Dallas — Martin R. Gainsbrugh, chief economist for the National Industrial Conference Board, said, "The tax cut adds a new layer of demand to an economy that already is rising broadly but moderately. While the uptrend in business will continue through 1964, the tax cut is not likely to trigger a boom."

* * *

New York—The stock market, as measured by the Dow Jones industrial average, dipped 0.89 Thursday. The decline ended a string of nine straight historic highs for the average.

Washington—The Agriculture Department reported that farmers plan to plant 310,000,000 acres to crops for harvest this year, about 3 per cent more than last year.

RADIOACTIVITY DOWN

Moscow — The Academy of Medical Sciences says radioactivity in the atmosphere has decreased 100 times since the signing of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty last August.

New York — Workmen are putting finishing touches on the New York World's Fair. It opens next month, and 4 million tickets already have been sold.

This is the vernal equinox, spring, 1964.

"And time remembered is grief forgotten.

Consecs, Simults Are Tops in Field of Translation

ROME (UPI) — Most people would no doubt prefer to become a "consec," for a consec is tops in his profession, but it's much more difficult than becoming a "simult."

Of course, the aspiration of all is to be a consec and simult at the same time, but let's face it — it takes real talent and application.

A good consec these days can make an average of $50 a day, plus all expenses paid, and if he or she has really got the qualifications, then work is assured for no less than 200 days per year.

"Consecs" and "simults" are the products of the get-together mood of most of western European countries.

NEED GROWS

As Europe laboriously draws closer together the need for more and better consecs and simults is growing apace.

More international congresses, meetings and parleys mean more language barriers to be broken down.

Consecs and simults are the new professions.

* * *

A simult is one of those vacant faces, all lined up with earphones, that are seen behind glass from any international assembly floor, steadily pouring into mouthpieces the running, simultaneous translation in several languages of what a delegate is saying.

A consec is the translator who gets up after someone has made a 20-minute speech, or a long-winded statement, and repeats, consecutively, the whole thing, in another language.

Their primary merit is that most of the time they make the meaning of a speech much clearer and gramatically better than when originally spoken.

With European integration in mind, many Italian cities have set up interpreters' schools.

These are the factories that produce the consecs and the simults.

It has become fashionable to join these schools. Girls who in the past used to take art courses or other refinements are now flocking to them by the thousands.

Only a few really make the final grade after what is generally a gruelling three years of study of at least three languages.

An additional five or six years "in the field" may finally produce a good consec or simult in more than one version, such as for example English into French or German into Italian.

Education Can Get Mighty Sticky

Sweet Sugarin' Time at Kingsbury School

PICTURE STORY
By ROGER SRIGLEY

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — Call it sugarin', tree-tappin' or sugar-bushin'.

Whichever term you use, converting sugar maple sap into syrup, candy or sugar means just plain fun!

And that it is for students of Kingsbury School, a small private institution on Hosner northeast of Oxford.

All six teachers at the school have their classes, from kindergarten through ninth grade, learning a phase of the sticky project.

★ ★ ★

School Headmaster Bruce N. Coulter, a former Vermont resident, is an old pro at sugar-bushing. Now he's relating some of his skill to the youngsters.

TASK FOR BOYS

The task of the older boys, like Bill McClelland of Avon Township, is to gather wood, and lots of it, which is used to provide boiling heat for the viscous sap.

For every 40 gallons of liquid brought in, about 39 drift away in steam.

When the flames are high and the shallow pans hot, the sap starts cooking.

It has already been picked up, taken from buckets which hang on spouts earlier driven into the 25 sugar maples.

PAIL CARRIERS

Sue Chapman of Avon Township knows about this phase of the process. She and Lucie Lovell of Metamora have been busy carrying the heavy pails from the trees to the outdoor furnace.

"Under favorable conditions, each tree gives off about 10 quarts per day," Headmaster Coulter explains to his young trainees.

Most of the excess is steamed off outside, under watchful eyes of students like Joan Willis of Independence Township and Sharon Berridge of Orion Township.

Then the remaining liquid is brought inside the headmaster's house, where a thermometer and float are used to make sure the final product won't sour or crystallize.

JUST A LITTLE TASTE

When the syrup is ready for canning, some of the youngsters sneak a dipper of it and go "sugarin' off."

Sally Lovell and Mary Nagel, both of Metamora, and Alison Geist of Washington Township enjoyed this unrequired step of the process.

It's really not too technical, but makes for laughs of delight.

First one of the girls grabs a fork, another attracts the supervising adult's attention and the third youngster scurries outside with the pan of syrup.

SNOWY TAFFY

Then they meet on the snow, pour a bit of the syrup on it, and eat the resulting taffy.

Meanwhile, girls like Peggy Schultze of Lake Orion are inside filtering the aqueous solution, pouring it through a felt-like cloth to remove any foreign matter.

And now it's ready to go. The syrup is funneled into cans or jugs to be sold, or heated a little more to convert it into sugar bars.

Back at the school, members of the art classes are designing container labels for the finished product. It will be put on sale at the annual Kingsbury School Fair May 23.

This is the first year the students have taken on the venture. Thus far, about 20 pints of syrup are ready and double that is expected to be prepared before the "run" is through.

"It's a good year," Coulter says to his students. The headmaster explains the warmer weather is with us, causing trees to run well.

Tina Spitzley of Avon Township and Amy Skillman of Lake Angelus can tell by the taste of their sticky fingers.

★ ★ ★

Others are certain because they're having fun and learning at the same time. And the game's only half over!

WINDY BEGINNING—The fun starts for Sue Chapman and Lucie Lovell, both 13, as they take the 16-quart bucket off an old "sugar-bush" and pour its clear contents into a large milk pail. The sap must be gathered as frequently as possible and then quickly boiled. Twenty-five trees near Kingsbury School providing the sticky liquid which is slowly converted into the succulent syrup and sugars.

BOILIN' IT DOWN—Wood, sap and flames are the necessary ingredients in this phase of the project, as well as the help of youngsters dipping the sap into the large flat pans and skimming off the froth. Joan Willis, 13, (left) brings out another scoop of sap as Bill McClelland works through the steam to remove the foam. Fourteen-year-old Sharon Berridge was self-appointed supervisor of this operation for a while.

SYRUP MAID—It's somewhat of a sticky title, but cute Peggy Schutze looks as much the part as anyone could. The 10-year-old student at the private school in Addison Township concentrates on her part of the task, filtering the syrup. Her job is warmer than the others. She works in front of the fireplace in the home of Kingsbury School Headmaster Bruce N. Coulter, 4931 Hosner.

FINGER-LICKIN' GOOD—Tina Spitzley thinks it is. In fact the 11-year-old Kingsbury School student probably could have licked her way through one of the half-pint cans of syrup without any other utensils. The finished products will be put on sale at the annual Kingsbury School Fair, this year scheduled May 23. Besides the cans, the golden liquid will also be available in pint jugs like the one 11-year-old Amy Skillman is holding.

'SNO WONDER — These three girls found that playing in the snow pays off—with candy dividends. Here they laugh at each other as they pour the warm syrup on the snow, dip a fork in and sample the results. Ten-year-old Sally Lovell (left) watches Mary Nagel, 11, give Alison Geist, 11, one of the sweet treats. The only problem is that after a while the girls' knees got cold.

4-H Entertainers Chosen for Achievement Day Acts

The roster of "Share the Fun" finalists was rounded out last night with the selection of 15 more youngsters who will compete in 4-H Achievement Day activities April 4.

The youthful entertainers composing six acts join two girls and a group selected at Green Elementary School in West Bloomfield Township Monday night.

Those chosen last night at Lake Orion High School represent 4-H Clubs on the northeast side of the county. The Green Elementary School event was for those of the southwest side of Dixie Highway.

East Orion Club members were given the nod in the large group category. Jim Anker, Greg Donovan, Bill Rathburg, Larry Van Inwagen and Dave Rathburg got together to take honors as the "Sophisticates," pulling a successful takeoff on the Beatles.

★ ★ ★

The other winning East Orion group was the Ballet Brutes consisting of Tim Phillips, Tom Middleton, Dennis Waite, John Wilson, Bill Rathburg and Marvin McLachlin.

SMALL GROUP

The Ortonville Club dominated the small group category with a winning piano solo by Tim Stayton and saxophone solo by Allen Bess.

Carmen Sue Miller of the Seymour Lake Club will deliver a speech entitled "Go, Seeker" for the public speaking portion of the competition. Her alternate is Ann Weeks of the Oak Hill Club, who spoke on "Up From Slavery."

The other side of the county will be represented by two Milford Club members, pianist Kathy Boyle and Brenda Long, whose novelty recitation is entitled "Little Bo-Peep."

★ ★ ★

The Bloomfield Club entry in the large group category is a shadow play called "Dr. Ben Crazy." Performers are Margaret Stack, Debbie Karlson, Karen Tino, Walter Alix, Mike Griffin, Nick Lawrence and John Carr.

★ ★ ★

The Achievement Day program, to be held at Pontiac Northern High School, also will feature displays of projects to be judged for prize-winning ribbons and the All-County 4-H Dress Revue.

PTA Council Elects Officers

New County Leaders Chosen at Meeting

Heading the list of new officers of the Oakland County PTA Council is Mrs. J. E. Frankenfield of 6340 Pine Knob, Independence Township, who will be president again this year.

Others elected at a recent business meeting of the council include Mrs. Kenneth D. Pawley of 4725 Oakvista, Independence Township, first vice president; and John Waldo of 2219 Crane, Waterford Township, second vice president.

Also from Waterford Township are Mrs. Richard Stock, 1732 Paulsen, recording secretary; Mrs. F. Dwane Hammond, 3600 Oakshire, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Stanley D. Krause, 3427 Addie, historian.

Rounding out the list of new officers is Chester Murphy of 6957 Dandison, West Bloomfield Township, who will serve as treasurer.

Troy Church Choir Sets Good Friday Cantata

TROY — The Chancel Choir of Troy Methodist Church will present DuBois' "The Seven Last Words of Christ" at the God Friday Night Cantata, beginning at 8:15 p.m.

Rodger H. Phillips, the church's organist and director of music, will conduct the performance. The church is located on Livernois just north of Square Lake Road.

Troy Churches Unite for Lenten Service

TROY—A children's choir of 75 voices will sing at the seventh annual Good Friday service for the Troy community, March 27.

The children will be from eight local congregations participating in the service sponsored by the Troy Pastors' Union.

This year's service will be held from 1 to 2:30 p.m. at the Troy Assembly of God at 3200 Livernois, across from the Troy High School.

Choir director will be Mrs. Charles Johnson, choral director at the Troy High School. Rodger Phillips, organist at Troy Methodist Church, will be the organist for the service.

Speaking on the topic, "The Day Called 'Good'" will be the preacher for the service, Rev. Alan J. Kieffer of Prince of Glory Lutheran Church on 14 Mile Road.

Other ministers participating in the Good Friday observance will include Rev. Louis H. Calaway of the host church; Rev. Bual Eldridge, First Baptist Church of John R; Rev. Ralph Janka, Troy Methodist; and Rev. Albert Hartoog, Big Beaver Methodist.

Also taking part will be Rev. C. William Pearson, Lutheran Church of the Master; Rev. Donald Pendall, First Presbyterian Church of Troy; and Rev. Richard Snoad of Troy's American Baptist Church.

The Pastors' Union annually sponsors the community Thanksgiving and Good Friday services. It was organized in 1958 to promote Christian fellowship and to foster good-will within the community.

CHERYL LEONARD

An Aug. 22 wedding date has been set by Cheryl Leonard and Jack Rathka. Parents of the couple are the Kenneth Leonards of 5635 Linton, West Bloomfield Township, and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Rathka of 9143 Cripple Creek, White Lake Township.

Fish Fry by Jaycees

HOLLY — The Holly Jaycees are sponsoring a fish fry Monday, featuring take-out and delivery service. The supper will be held at the Dairee Dyne Restaurant from 5 to 8 p.m.

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A film on Downs syndrome, commonly known as mongolism, will be featured at the 7 p.m. meeting of the Special Parents Unit for Retarded Children Wednesday.

The meeting in the sewing room of Clifford H. Smart Junior High School will be held an hour earlier than usual for those who wish to attend Lenten church services.

Population Talk Planned

ROCHESTER—Speaker at the third in a series of meetings Tuesday sponsored by the Rochester Human Relations Council will be Dr. Mel Ravitz, member of the Detroit Common Council.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Ravitz, who is also on the Wayne State University faculty, will talk on "Population Growth and Movement."

The session is slated for 8 p.m. at the University Presbyterian Church, 1385 Adams, Avon Township.

Ravitz is author of many articles on the subjects of urban renewal, neighborhood conservation, race relations and social action.

He was elected to the Detroit Common Council in 1961. He has taught sociology at WSU since 1959 and is an associate professor of sociology and anthropology.

Says Oxford Material Passed Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former member of the Army Engineers Corps testified Tuesday that checks showed materials used in construction of the Selfridge Air Force Base at Mount Clemens, Mich., met specifications.

James E. Hampton, now sales manager for the American Aggregates Corporation's Detroit district, appeared before a House Armed Services subcommittee which is investigating details surrounding a $9.9 million contract for paving at the base.

★ ★ ★

Previously, there was testimony that because faulty materials were used in the paving, it will cost the government $2.7 million to repair it.

Hampton was chief of the Army engineers soils and paving branch of the construction division at Detroit during the pavement construction work at Selfridge.

ACCEPTED RUNWAY

Western Contracting Corp., Sioux City, Iowa, was awarded the contract on July 28, 1958. The Air Force accepted the runway in December 1958 and the remaining pavement in November 1959.

Hampton testified that he resigned in December 1959 to go to work for American Aggregates Corp. at a guaranteed minimum salary of $12,000 annually. At the time he was receiving $11,090 annually from the Army engineers.

The contractor used materials from the Oxford pit of American Aggregates although it was not on the original approved list of five sources for this type of material.

James H. Hammond, an official of the General Accounting Office, testified that on Aug. 15, 1958, the contractor submitted new samples of the Oxford pit aggregate.

ADVERSE REPORT

In spite of an adverse report on these samples, Hammond said, Elmer A. Sorensen, chief of the Army Engineers Construction Division at Detroit, and Hampton favored approval of the Oxford pit as a source of aggregate for the job.

Hampton said the Army engineers had used materials from the Oxford pit for other work besides that done at Selfridge.

Under questioning, Hampton said Ohio River District Laboratories tests did not agree with findings of the Army engineers field tests.

Church Unit to Hear Talk by WSU Prof

ROCHESTER — "Women of the Bible" is the theme of the lecture to be given at next Thursday's 10 a.m. meeting of the Women's Fellowship of First Congregational Church.

Miss Thelma James, professor in Wayne State University's Liberal Arts College, will be guest speaker.

Miss James is the author of two books and is also past president of the American and Michigan Folklore Societies.

All people of the community have been invited to attend the program and the breakfast which will be given with it. Sitter service will be provided for young children.

A brief business meeting of the Women's Fellowship at 9:30 will precede the program. First Congregational Church is located at 1315 N. Pine.

Fedorenko Represents New Breed of Russian Envoy

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Nikolai T. Fedorenko has one thing in common with the five men who preceded him as the Kremlin's spokesman at the United Nations; he is regarded by his colleagues as a top-flight diplomat.

But the Soviet delegate, now beginning his second year at U.N. headquarters, represents a new breed. Suave, scholarly and affable, he bears little resemblance to such old Bolsheviks as Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

Fedorenko, 51, wears a bow tie like an American college professor, wears well - tailored clothes, speaks English passably and has a doctorate in classical Chinese literature.

Because of the differences of style, objectives and the international atmosphere, it is difficult to measure him against the performances of his predecessors. His colleagues agree, however, that he is doing his job well.

JUST AS PERSISTENT

Once or twice he has shown that, if the occasion calls for it, he can be just as persistent as Andrei A. Gromyko or Jacob Malik. But his main task is to reflect the atmosphere now emanating from Moscow, while their job was to fight the cold war bitterly.

Some Western diplomats compare him to Arkady A. Sobolev, who was perhaps the most popular of the Soviet permanent delegates. Sobolev, an electrical engineer by training and a one-time assistant secretary-general of United Nations, is regarded as the best negotiator among the Soviet representatives.

While Fedorenko seems to be well suited for the mission he has to carry out in 1964, one can only wonder how he would have done in 1946 or in 1950. Would he have been able to carry out the unpopular assignments given to Gromyko and Malik?

When Gromyko took over as the first permanent U.N. representative, he was 37 and already the deputy foreign minister. Unsmiling by nature, he presented a grim picture as he hammered away at the West.

LITTLE CHANGE

When Malik succeeded Gromyko, there was little change. Malik had once been a correspondent for Pravda, the Communist party paper. At 44, he was one of the young "old bolsheviki."

★ ★ ★

Malik had a role in two historic events. He opened the door, in a television speech, to the armistice negotiations which led eventually to the end of the Korean War. Along with U.S. Ambassador Philip C. Jessup, he negotiated the end of the Berlin blockade in 1949.

★ ★ ★

Malik was followed by one of the giants of Soviet diplomacy, the sharp-tongued Vishinsky, who came to the United Nations after serving as foreign minister. Vishinsky was the most colorful of all the Soviet delegates and he was a dominant figure of the cold war. He had a quick mind, a talent for phraseology and an aptitude for repartee never surpassed in the United Nations.

Vishinsky died at his post Nov. 22, 1954.

APOLOGIZES TO WEST

On the day before his death at 71, this correspondent wrote: "Vishinsky, the prosecutor, has now become Vishinsky, the kindly old gentleman, who apologizes when he differs with the West."

Sobolev, as Vishinsky's deputy, had been groomed to take over. Although Sobolev lacked Vishinsky's flamboyance and showmanship, he was well known at the United Nations and had no trouble stepping into the job. His three years as Soviet delegate were relatively uneventful.

U.S. Judge Tells Embezzler: Gee, That's Too Bad

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Dolly Gee, 64, the lady manager of the Bank of America's Chinatown branch, is under a five-year prison sentence for embezzlement she had concealed for 34 years.

★ ★ ★

U.S. District Judge Albert C. Wollenberg Thursday denied parole. He agreed she had been a valuable executive, building branch assets from $2 million to $12 million, but said:

"Miss Gee continued these embezzlements over 34 years of time and they now amount to $340,000."

★ ★ ★

Her attorney said she was impelled by the Chinese concept of face to cover up embezzlement by her father. He said the father, Charles Gee, also a bank employe, used illegal fund transfers to cover losses in the failure of a Hong Kong bank.

Flash Fire Caused by Gasoline Fumes

A flash fire caused by gasoline fumes caused an estimated $3,000 damage to a Pontiac home yesterday afternoon.

Firemen said the blaze started while Horace Wood, the owner of the one-story house at 842 Melrose, was cleaning an automobile carburetor with gasoline in the utility room.

The fumes ignited after going along the floor to a hot water heater. Wood was not injured. The fire was reported at 12:49 p.m.

Kentucky Hunger Strikers See Rights Bill Fail

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The Kentucky Legislature ends its regular session today, without passing a civil rights bill and 33 hunger strikers in the House gallery supporting the measure also reach a crossroads.

Despite a vow to starve unless the Legislature acts, the integrationists—most of them beginning the fifth day of fasting—appear weary, discouraged and uncertain whether to continue.

★ ★ ★

"We'll stay as long as we feel we are serving a useful purpose," said Frank Stanley Jr., 27, a Negro newspaper editor of Louisville, who heads the contingent. "Naturally we'll have to make a decision later today."

The bill to grant Negroes equal access to public businesses is technically dead for this session.

It never emerged from committee in the House or Senate.

WATCH PROCEEDINGS

The 19 Negroes and 14 whites sip ice and water, chew gum, smoke, read, talk, sing, pray, and watch the House proceedings from the gallery.

The Rev. Grayson Tucker, white minister of a Louisville Negro church, said fatigue and dizziness have enveloped the original 20 in the group.

★ ★ ★

Stanley reports the average weight loss in four days has been five pounds per hunger striker—ranging as high as 14 pounds for some strikers.

The strikers sleep on the floor or in seats on bedding furnished by friends. They are guarded at night by regular custodians and at least one State Police detective in plainclothes.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Mr. Tucker said that to his knowledge, no one in the group has eaten secretly, although rumors to that effect are rife and many legislators openly skeptical.

★ ★ ★

The House conducts business as if the group did not exist.

★ ★ ★

But during daily introduction of guests, Rep. Norbert Blume, D-Louisville, sponsor of the public accommodations bill, calls attention to the contingent and praises its courage.

Stanley said four House members quietly went to the gallery after hours two nights ago "and received new insight into the hopes and feelings of the oppressed."

★ ★ ★

"You all keep sitting and staring at us as though we were bad," Stanley quoted one lawmaker as saying. "I want you to know we have good hearts."

Mr. Tucker said that no matter what the outcome, the "starve-in" already has served one useful purpose after the Legislature's refusal to enact a civil rights law.

"The hostilities of all Negroes in the state find expression through us instead of degenerating into violence," he said.

Czechs Hold 3 From West

Envoys Try to Help Group in Love Plot

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Austrian and British diplomats in Communist Czechoslovakia left Prague today to visit three Westerners jailed for trying to help an East - West romance overcome the Iron Curtain.

An Austrian woman and two friends were held at Bratislava for trying to smuggle her Hungarian fiance across the Communist border.

The fate of the Hungarian refugee, a former political prisoner, was not known.

The mother of the Austrian woman and friends of the trio, including Annelies Ruthel, 20, of Sheffield, Mass., told this story:

Andrea Walder, 35, of Vienna; Norman Stone, 23, of Glasgow, Scotland and Janice Wilson, 25, of Sydney Australia, left Vienna last Saturday for Bratislava to meet Miss Walder's fiance.

Miss Walder, a free-lance reporter and a native of Hungary, and the Hungarian had been childhood sweethearts.

The Hungarian, whose name was not disclosed, had tried repeatedly to get a passport out of Hungary since his release from prison several years ago.

He went to Czechslovakia recently in accordance with the escape scheme he and Miss Walder had planned.

Miss Walder tried to rent an American - made station wagon to bring her fiance to the west but had to settle for a Volkswagen.

Stone, a teacher at an English school in Vienna, offered to accompany her. Miss Wilson, a colleague of Stone, volunteered to drive the car because she had a license.

They met the Hungarian as planned, but on the return trip Sunday Czech guards arrested them at the border, only 30 miles east of Vienna.

The guards were said to have easily spotted the Hungarian, who had tried to hide in the small vehicle.

Didn't Join the Strikers

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — About 50 waitresses, eating fried chicken while sitting in the Kentucky House gallery Wednesday, reacted promptly when asked to move.

★ ★ ★

They had not realized they were seated next to about 30 Negroes and whites engaged in a hunger strike to dramatize a plea for a public accommodations bill. The hunger strike was in its fourth day.

★ ★ ★

The waitresses were on hand to lobby against a measure which would allow employers to deduct 25 cents an hour from their salaries if they received tips.

Driver Kills Wife, Then Shoots Self

MAPLEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — A bus driver shot and killed his wife in her parents' home yesterday and then turned the gun on himself and inflicted a critical stomach wound, police said.

★ ★ ★

A demolition team searched the couple's Woodbride home following the shootings, fearing the man had booby-trapped it.

Gunpowder and a detonator were found but officials said they were not wired.

Mrs. Madeline Hadley, 33-year-old mother of two, was shot once through the heart.

★ ★ ★

Her husband, Elwood, 38, a driver for the struck Public Service Coordinated Transport, was in poor condition in Orange Memorial Hospital today following surgery.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

I THIRST

In His death agony on the cross, Jesus cried out several times. When He said, "I thirst," a soldier standing nearby put a sponge on the end of a spear and plunged it into a vessel of vinegar. To the vinegar he added some gall. Whether this was done to soothe the wounds of Jesus or to mock Him further, we do not know.

But John tells us that after the vinegar reached His mouth, "He said, 'It is finished,' and He bowed His head, and gave up the ghost." (John. XIX.30)

Approximately 19 million adults and children camp out each year at organized camps, public and private camp grounds, the American Camping Association reports.

One of every $18 of the gross national product originates in timber based activities.

Young Pontiac Soprano Climbing Toward Fame

Women's Section

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

To be a concert singer you have to have talent. But you need so much more than that for a successful career.

Phyllis Smith Harris is at the beginning of what should be an exciting career as a lyric soprano. Still in her twenties, she fills numerous engagements in the Detroit Metropolitan area.

Tuesday night she will sing with the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra at Pontiac Northern High School.

Phyllis remembers earning her first money for singing when she was five. It was a church concert.

VOCAL LESSONS

Her family must have thought that her voice was unusual because she was given vocal lessons at the Detroit Institute of Arts while she was in eighth grade.

But it was George Putnam and Mrs. Charles Buck, music teachers at Pontiac Central High School, who really "discovered" Phyllis.

They worked with her in classes and in vocal groups. Her voice was just beginning to develop and to show promise of what was to come.

Now, of course, she knows the real range of her lyric soprano voice and uses it effectively.

AFTER HIGH SCHOOL

After high school graduation in 1956 Phyllis went to the New England Conservatory of Music and to Boston University. She had scholarships; she worked to support herself; her family helped.

Currently, she studies with Celeste Cole of Wayne University.

* * *

Although Phyllis is a wife and mother with a home to maintain, she practices one and a half to two hours a day. She has studied Italian, French and German.

Her young husband is working 12 hours a day to get money ahead to complete a course in computer science. He is thoroughly in accord with his wife's ambitions.

Phyllis says she no longer gets nervous when she appears before an audience.

COMING TO ENJOY

"If these people didn't want to hear you, they wouldn't come. They are coming to enjoy what they're hearing. They will enjoy it because you are enjoying it."

Phyllis is soloist at Christ Church Cranbrook. She is a member of the new Kenneth Jewell Chorale in Detroit.

On Tuesday she will sing "Care Selve" by Handel; Recitative and Aria from "Pagliacci" by Leoncavallo; and "My Man's Gone Now" from Porgy and Bess by Gershwin.

The concert begins at 8:30 p.m. and tickets are available at the door.

Oakland U Opens Exhibit of Pablo Picasso Prints

A diverse and representative exhibit of 51 Pablo Picasso prints, lithographs, etchings and wood engravings is open to the public through March 30 in the Oakland University art gallery.

Exhibit hours are 12 to 4 p. m. Monday through Friday and 2:30 to 5 p. m. Sundays.

Picasso is as gifted a graphic artist as he is a painter and sculptor and is one of the most renowned and influential artists of our time. Among the prints which date from 1910 to the middle 50's, are many illustrations from the works of Vollard and Balzac.

The collection, on loan from a Baltimore gallery, is currently on a tour of universities throughout the United States. All prints, excepting one loaned by a faculty collector, are for sale.

The exhibit is a student-intern project by David Fullerton of Pontiac in conjunction with OU's second annual student-faculty Fine Arts Festival which closes on Sunday.

Personals

Taking their four children on a motor trip soon will be Mr. and Mrs. Noel Buckner of Orchard Lake.

Elizabeth, Marcy, Kevin and Noel Jr. will visit the Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina coast for a week to 10 day trip during their spring vacation.

* * *

Mrs. James Clarkson will open her St. Jude Drive home Wednesday to those selling tickets to the 1964 Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall Series.

Mrs. C. J. Adams will be cohostess for the 10 a. m. coffee hour.

Tell Where You'll Be

New Plans? Call Home

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl who is being severely punished for something I did that I don't think was so terrible.

I got permission to go to a party at a girl friend's house. My boy friend picked me up at 7:30 and I told my mother I would be home at 11:30.

ABBY

When I got in the car, this other couple suggested driving downtown first. We noticed that a movie we all wanted to see was playing, so we went to the movie instead.

We had a snack afterwards and I got home at exactly 11:30 like I said I would. Well, my mother was standing in the doorway waiting for me.

She looked at me like I had killed somebody. It seemed she wanted to tell me something, so she telephoned the girl's house where the party was, and I wasn't there.

* * *

She said she'd been pacing the floor for three hours. I got home when I said I would, and I didn't do anything wrong.

Mother grounded me for a month. Was this fair? Just the look on her face when I got home was punishment enough for me.

PUNISHED ENOUGH

* * *

DEAR PUNISHED: A month of staying home is bound to make a more lasting impression that the "look" on your mother's face.

You should have called home when you decided to change your plans.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a great one for attacking the female intelligence.

Whenever he sees a driver do something stupid, he will stay "Must be a woman driver."

He claims that the reason there are fewer women than men in the professions is because a woman's learning capacity is inferior to a man's.

He knocks women every chance he gets. I am tired of listening to him blame every misfortune from the Chicago fire to the San Francisco earthquake on women.

I'd like to give him a real snappy answer that would shut him up once and for all. Any ideas?

MERE WOMAN

DEAR MERE: Ask him how come he didn't remain a bachelor. Like his father!

Give Idea, but Keep Hands Off

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: A friend recently remodeled and redecorated her house. She invited me and several other women friends in to see the finished product.

We all thought it was lovely and in very good taste. After a while, one woman remarked about a vase in the living room.

She said that she thought it would look better in another place and moved it to where she thought it ought to be and then turned to the hostess and said, "Now don't you think it looks better there?"

It so happened that it did, but even so don't you think she was very rude to have said anything?

We are all close friends, but I don't think this fact excused her behavior.

* * *

A: To actually moved the vase was indeed very presumptous, but as a close friend of the hostess, it would have been all right to have asked, "Have you thought of putting that vase over there? I think it might look better."

Q: Just what is a candlelight service? Every now and then I read in the society column of our local newspaper that a bride was married at a candlelight service.

* * *

A: It is a wedding at dusk at which candles are placed at the end of each pew down the whole length of the center aisle of the church. No electricity is used.

Q: My parents are going to announce my engagement shortly at a party. My mother thinks that my fiance should present the ring to me at the party in the presence of the guests.

I think making a production of this is in very bad taste. I would like your opinion.

A: You are right. The ring should be given to you privately.

The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Table Rules of Importance," describes how to eat spaghetti as well as other difficult foods.

Sorority Has Evening Tour

Members of Xi Pi chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, and some 16 guests toured the Michigan Bell Telephone Company building Tuesday evening.

New officers were elected at the business meeting.

Heading the group will be Margaret Luther as incoming president. Also elected were Mrs. Howard Shaw, vice president; Mrs. Harold Cousins, secretary; and Jean Warnock, treasurer.

Clubwomen Active

Garden Club

Mrs. Lucinda Wyckoff spoke on refinishing furniture before members of the Better Home and Garden Club Thursday in Adah Shelly Library.

She brought table tops and trays along with a sewing cabinet from Sally's Interiors (Salvation Army Store) which she had 'antiqued.'

Mrs. Alex Christie read a paper on "Aphid and Insect Control on New Plantings."

* * *

New members Mrs. Walter DeNio and Mrs. Harry Sibley were welcomed.

Mrs. Joseph Phillips, chairman for the afternoon, was assisted by Mrs. Lulu Luby, Mrs. John Lyons and Mrs. W. H. Eustice.

Insurance Women

Joseph C. Finnell was speaker at the Wednesday dinner meeting of the Insurance Women of Pontiac in the Mayfair Room of the Waldron Hotel.

* * *

An outstanding insurance authority, he teaches in the continuing education courses sponsored by the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents and Michigan State University.

A lively question and answer period followed his talk on special multi-peril insurance coverages for homeowners.

Mrs. James Boaz will be hostess for the April 15 meeting.

Pillar Club

Russell A. Gustauson showed slides of a flight over the Hawaiian Islands before members of the Pillar Club at a dinner meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Ross P. Tenny on Cherokee Road.

Sharing hostess honors were Mrs. Floyd F. Smith, Mrs. Ralph Howell and Mrs. Earl Martin.

WCTU Unit Studies Laws

New by-laws of the 19th district were explained at the Thursday meeting of the Anna Gordon Unit, Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Mrs. Frank Deaver, president of the group, explained the by-laws to members who gathered at the First Baptist Church.

State Legislative Day in Lansing Wednesday was attended by Mrs. Peter A. Niemi. Gov. Romney addressed the group of some 500 women, many of whom were representatives from the state of Michigan.

A Year, a Smile and a Son

By MIRIAM NEAL

Ned did come back, the next weekend and several more. One you remember more than any other.

Ned and your husband had been rough housing in the living room and Ned knocked over your favorite vase. You cried something about its being your favorite and Ned turned to you shouting:

(Editor's Note: This is the last of a three-part series on adopting an older child.
Although the information has been verified, details and names are fictitious for the safety of persons and institutions involved.
The series has dealt, in part, with an older child named Ned who was made a ward of the Probate Court and later sent out on weekend visits. The second article ended immediately after Ned's first visit with a particular family.)

"My real mother wouldn't have said that! She wouldn't have made so much fuss!"

REAL MOTHER

It had shocked and hurt you. You looked at him a long time, then said gently: "But I did, Ned, because we love the things in this house or they wouldn't be here."

* * *

Your husband had put his hand on Ned's shoulder and said: "Don't worry Ned, we'll figure out a way you can buy her a new one. Now help her clean up the mess."

* * *

Ned had pulled himself away and started picking up the pieces.

WILL HE RETURN?

Again, when the caseworker came, you wondered: "Will he be back?"

* * *

He almost didn't return. It took the caseworker more than a week to convince the three of you to try again.

* * *

Soon after that the agency agreed to let you petition to adopt Ned. You and your husband talked to Ned and the three of you signed the papers. He was legally yours now but there was still time for you, or Ned, or the agency to decide it wouldn't work.

* * *

During the year's supervisory period you learned a great deal about Ned and parenthood.

Friends kidded you about how lucky you were not to have to do diapers, but you knew a lot more anguish that year than they ever had in the laundry room.

* * *

Once he began to fit in your home, he clung to it. Often he'd break rules at school just to be sent home. It took long talks and much love to make a seed of trust and security grow.

* * *

It did grow though and he became part of you—part of your husband's fishing trips and your own quiet moments in the library.

FINAL DECISION

Finally the agency gave its approval and you asked Ned if he would like to make the adoption final so he would always be your son.

* * *

The three of you were sitting in the library. Ned put down the fishing tackle he was working on and stood up. He walked around the room, fingering the bookshelves and the vase he bought you then he turned slowly and said:

"Well, I guess so," and smiled.

* * *

A year and a half for "I guess so" and a smile, and a son.

ONE WAS LUCKY

Ned was lucky. Usually couples adopting older children "grow tired" of trying. Often they don't want a child enough to "put up with" him while he is feeling his way around in a new world.

* * *

But, too often, these older children aren't even given a chance. People prefer diapers to children who are already people.

* * *

Pontiac Press Photo

The world seems brighter when there are two helping hands. Some older children are adopted, do find a real home. But many, too many, aren't given a chance.

Pilot Club Will Receive Charter on Saturday

Mary Louise Downing of Livonia, governor of District 15, Pilot International, will present a charter to the Pilot Club of Pontiac, Saturday in Devon Gables.

Mrs. Frank Lodge, president, will accept the charter in behalf of the 41 members.

Welcoming the organization to the area will be Dr. F. Milton Hathaway, immediate past president, Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Hon. Philip Pratt, Oakland County Circuit Court Judge.

RADUNZ TO SPEAK

Mrs. John Buhr, first vice president, will introduce the speaker, Robert B. Radunz, president of Pontiac Lions Club, following the 7:30 p.m. dinner.

The Pilot Club of Pontiac was sponsored by the Pilot Club of St. Clair Shores. Mrs. Karl Wile, District 15 extension chairman has worked closely with the local unit.

* * *

The Pontiac club is one of more than 650 clubs of international scope, for executive business and professional women interested in service.

Service projects under consideration by the local group will be announced at a later date.

Educational Unit Holds Installation

New officers for the 1964-65 school year were installed at the Tuesday spring meeting of the Oakland Association of Educational Secretaries.

* * *

Receiving the gavel was Mrs. Harlan J. Oakes of Denby Drive, who will lead the group as president.

* * *

Assisting her will be Mrs. Norman Ford of Troy, vice president; Mrs. Bernard Byrnes of Royal Oak, recording secretary; Mrs. Gavin Blackwood of Birmingham, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. John Stepleton of Miller Street, treasurer.

* * *

Board members elected for two years include Mrs. Robert Ried of Royal Oak and Mrs. Don Sanderson of Southfield.

Judith Day of Avondale was elected for one year.

State Chief Visitor at Local Lodge

Mrs. James Beach of Ypsilanti, Grand Chief of Grand Temple of Michigan, paid her official visit to Mizpah Temple, No. 7, Pythian Sisters, Thursday in Fellowship Lodge Hall.

She presented her motto "Faith, Love, Work" as she explained the Grand Temple project which sends deserving girls to camp at the Michigan Pythian Recreation Center, Indian River. Mizpah Temple will participate in this project.

The District 8 convention of Pythian Sisters, April 8 at Ivanhoe Temple in Flint, was announced.

Among the guests were Mrs. Russel Clark of Rosseville; Mrs. E. G. Rathbun of Durand; Mrs. Joseph Davidson, Mrs. Ross Adams and Mrs. Harry Snure, all of Birmingham.

Completing the list were Mrs. Margery Frymuth of Ypsilanti and Mrs. Mae Kocher of Clawson.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Eleray Thomas, Mrs. Paul Etter, Mrs. John F. Austermann and Mrs. Kretz.

Tidiness Now Within Reach

If your youngster irritates you by never hanging up his towels, perhaps it's because he just can't reach the towel rack!

★ ★ ★

Why not remedy this situation by attaching a clip-on towel rack to the side of the wash basin, or suction cup a towel rack to the wall — low down.

This strategy may also encourage him to reach for the soap to wash his hands and face more often.

Rioting Brews Controversy

Teens Blast U.S. Student Actions in Panama

Gilbert Youth Research, Inc.

Young people in the United States are critical of those who triggered riots in the Panama Canal Zone by raising the American flag alone.

More than four-fifths of the 1,237 boys and girls interviewed in our latest survey are aware the demonstrations were touched off by high-school students who displayed the American flag without at the same time raising the Panamanian flag.

And 71 per cent of them say the students were not justified in their action.

Many of the teen-agers say the high school students were wrong because they violated an agreement between the U. S. and Panama.

BOTH AGREED

Neil Levine, 16, of Miami, Fla., said, "The agreement to fly both flags was an agreement between two governments.

The American students were in effect taking the law into their own hands, and disobeying the law.

Linda Ulrich, 18, of Evart, Mich., says the American students "should have known it would cause trouble even if they had the right."

Several other teens pointed out that violence is rarely a solution to any problem, and the situation should have been discussed calmly and rationally.

PRAISED ALSO

Nevertheless, some of those interviewed feel the students were in the right.

"They were showing what I believe is true patriotism," says Kevin McCormack, 17, of Brookline, Mass. Adds Elise McMahon, 16, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.:

"The students felt that the Americans should fly the flag because the American government has financed much in Panama."

★ ★ ★

The teen-agers generally agree that if the students were wrong they should be punished, but the question is how.

'SEVERE, STRICT'

Roger Birkenbent, 18, of Sunnyvale, Calif., says the punishment should be "very severe and strict."

"They should be asked to apologize and then let it be forgotten," says Kim Keubel, 16, of Indianapolis, Ind.

What should be done if similar situations arise in other South American countries and American property is damaged and lives are lost?

★ ★ ★

In answering this question the teens seem more level headed than adults might be. Many of the boys and girls favored diplomatic action, and only a few advocated the use of force and U. S. troops.

TAKE TO U. N., OAS

"Take the problem to the United Nations and the Organization of American States," suggested Mary Becker, 17, of Denmark, Wis.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I saw a dowager the other day
She looked quite smart but not very gay
She had three chins and a dowager's hump.
I'd rather be me without the bump.

Believe me, we all have to work against that hump which fights for recognition at the back of our neck, especially as the years pass by. I suppose this prominence at the base of the neck is called a "dowager's hump" because it is often the product of easy living.

The more money, the more leisure, the more cars, the richer the food, the less the physical activity, the more the weight and the poorer the posture — does it! However, this defect is almost universal unless measures are taken to avoid it.

Gravity, as well as fatigue and discouragement and overweight, are apt to cause a woman to slump, and poor posture is the main reason for the dowager's hump. We are all so busy with our various activities and interests and obligations that we are likely to forget what our day by day habits in posture are doing to us.

From now on try to remember to straighten your spine through the region of the neck as well as the shoulders. You will experience a light feeling, a release of tension, in your neck, if you will push toward the ceiling with the top of your head.

EXERCISES

There are also corrective exercises. For instance, lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor at your sides. Keep the back of your head on the floor but try to stretch your neck, making it as long as possible. Do this and then relax and repeat.

When you work at your desk bend from the waist slightly. Don't slump and duck your chin into your neck and collapse at the back of your neck!

We spend close to a one-third of every 24 hours sleeping. Therefore our posture while sleeping is important. If you can sleep without a pillow or with a very small one it will be an aid in avoiding or correcting the hump at the back of the neck.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my free leaflet "Dowager's Hump" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet number 17 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Expenses to and from New York are paid by the show. The winning team each week receives $1,500 for its school, the runner-up $500.

Finding and clearing the right name for a new product in today's crowded market can be expensive. One firm reported spending $300,000 to do the job.

The Otis N. Waltons of Green Lake announce the engagement of their daughter Judith Diane to Lt. William Roy Grover, son of the Wesley F. Grovers of Orchard Lake. The bride-elect is a junior at Eastern Michigan University. Her fiance, presently stationed at Fort Lee, Va., was graduated from the University of Michigan School of Business Administration where he was affiliated with Theta Chi fraternity. A May 22 wedding date has been set.

King Fredrick II Clean Cut Ruler

Kink Frederick II of the House of Hohenstaufen, who dominated the cultural and political life of the early 13th century, was an ealy advocate of the daily bath. History indicates that he placed his bath on a par with his other two favorite pleasures: ladies and war.

Polly's Pointers

'Paint' With Chalk

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Picture framing can be done more cheaply with unfinished frames.

I like these best if they partially match a color in the picture. To do this I generously coat the inside of the frame with the desired color of chalk.

★ ★ ★

Carpenter's chalk is good because it is soft. Then I sand the frame all over and the chalk settles into the grain of the wood while the upper ridges of the wood are plain.

This type of frame harmonizes with its painting and with the rest of the room. — CAROLYN.

GIRLS—This works quite well with regular children's crayons, too. I have applied paint to such frames and rubbed it off but this is quicker as there is no time needed for drying and one is more likely to have colored crayons or chalk on hand than the right color of paint. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — In the children's play area of our basement I have fashioned a "hat tree" from one of the supporting posts by pounding in nails at a slant on all four sides.

These nails hold an assortment of army helmets, cowboy hats, birthday and New Year's party caps and so on.

They stay clean and the children are taught to hang up things. Visiting playmates are fascinated with the "hat tree" and help themselves as they invent all sorts of games to play. —MRS. H. P.

DEAR POLLY — I put a half snap on each of my head scarves and the corresponding half on the armhole of my coat.

No matter what scarf I wear, it can be snapped into the coat sleeve when taken off, thus keeping it in place so it is not lost, dropped on the floor or left someplace.

● I had my husband take an old bathroom tissue roller and screw the bracket into a wooden block. I put my ball of crochet thread on this and it unrolls easily as I work.

It is as simple to put on as a rool of tissue and sets handy anywhere. — MRS. J. G.

Fringe Benefits

Anything New About Cosmetics?

By MIRIAM NEAL

The road to beauty has always been both tortuous and torturous, but the modern male is getting off easy with mere mud packs.

* * *

Beauty "recipes" date back to the ancient Egyptians and include everything from smoke from a hot shovel to turpentine.

* * *

In developing a new wrinkle remover, researchers at Helene Curtis Industries, Inc. uncovered the secrets behind the fairness of milady of old.

In ancient times, it is believed, Egyptians used a wrinkle remover consisting of oil, wax, incense and cypress berries.

* * *

Babylonians rubbed their faces with pulverized pumice stone, then with creams. The Roman formula consisted of "Four grains of sublimate, hydrochlorate of ammonia thickened milk of almonds, all to be carefully mixed."

QUEEN ELIZABETH

It is said that Queen Elizabeth I of England kept her forehead wrinkle free by washing it with possett curd, a hot drink of sweetened and spiced milk, curdled with wine or ale and thickened with bread.

* * *

Another beauty formula supposedly used by Elizabeth to keep her skin smooth was reprinted in "A Little Book of Conceited Secrets & Delightes for Ladies," an anthology of 17th century (and older) beauty and health aids for women.

* * *

To prepare this you must "take the whites of two layd eggs, beat the shells of them to powder & put them in a quart bottle with the whites & let them be beaten together for three hours.

No Face Lifting With Scrub Brush

Countess de Zogheb of France, still a film actress at the age of 83, "brushes her face daily with soap." That's to keep her complexion lovely enough for camera close-ups under revealing klieg lights.

* * *

The Countess, who has never resorted to face lifting, insists that a young spirit conserves a fresh, alive look.

"Then put in four ounces of burnt Allum in fine powder, beat it two hours longer; then put in three ounces of white Sugar candy in powder, & beat it also for two hours, then put in four ounces of Borax also in powder, & beat it also.

* * *

"Then take a pynte of water that runs from under the wheel of a mill & put into it four ounces of white Poppy seeds well beaten, mix them well together, so that it will be like milk, then pour into the quart bottle with the other things; at four several times, beating it every time the space of two hours; then strain it thorough a white linnen cloath; & having put it into the bottle again let it be beaten for two or three hours longer."

"Tis a wonder, is it not, that the good queen had time to rule her country.

Tom O'Brien, son of the Ward L. O'Briens of Lotus Court was graduated from Michigan State University recently. He received a degree of Bachelor of Arts and Letters with a major in industrial design.

Banana Split Pie Has Chocolate in Filling

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

What's for dessert? Have any bananas in the house? You can make Banana Split Pie.

Mrs. L. L. Schiefler, today's cook, is an energetic active homemaker and volunteer worker.

Newly elected president of the city council of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, she is active in Beta Chi chapter. Service on the PTA board, United Fund committees, the subdivision organization and as a girl scout leader leaves her little time to enjoy experimental cooking.

BANANA SPLIT PIE
By Mrs. L. L. Schiefler

Crust:
- 1 cup sifted enriched flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅓ cup vegetable shortening
- 3-4 tablespoons cold water

Sift together flour and salt. Cut in shortening until particles are size of small peas. Sprinkle water over mixture, tossing lightly with fork until dough is moist enough to hold together. Form into a ball.

Roll out on floured pastry cloth or board to circle ½ inch larger than inverted 8-inch pie pan. Fit loosely into pan. Fold edge to form standing rim. Flute. Prick crust with fork.

Bake in 450-degree oven 10 to 12 minutes. Cool.

Filling:
- ½ cup butter or margarine
- 1½ cups sifted confectioners sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 or 3 bananas
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 square baking chocolate
- ¼ cup walnuts

Cream butter or margarine. Gradually add sugar, creaming well. Add eggs, one at a time, beating 3 minutes after each addition. With electric mixer, use medium speed.

Blend in vanilla. Slice bananas and sprinkle with lemon juice. Reserve 12 slices for garnish.

Grate chocolate and fold into sugar mixture with bananas. Turn into cooled baked pie shell. Garnish with walnuts and banana slices.

Chill 2-3 hours. This pie is best served the day it is made. Makes 1 pie.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora A. Foster of Lake Orion announce the engagement of their daughter Gari June to Albert Floyd Monroe, son of the Floyd A. Monroes of West Ann Arbor Avenue.

There are approximately 300,000 brands of products on the American market today, says Lippincott & Margulies, industrial designers and marketing consultants.

Dinner Dance After Rites

The Central Methodist Church was the setting for the recent marriage of Mrs. Yvonne Sarver Anderson of Briscoe Street to Arthur L. Berry of Pine Lake Country Club.

She is the daughter of the Charles E. Sarvers of James K Boulevard.

Mrs. Joseph Symons of Mt. Clemens was matron of honor at the half-past noon ceremony. The bridegroom's sister Sharon Catie of Detroit was bridesmaid.

Lincoln Jackson of Southfield was best man for the bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cane of Detroit. Ushers were Charles and William Anderson.

* *

A reception followed immediately in the church parlors. The bridal couple were hosts at a buffet dinner and dance for 150 guests in the Redford Country Club House, Detroit.

The newlyweds are residing on Briscoe Street.

Now New Snap to Fasteners

Have you noticed what's happened to those snap fasteners which started as utilitarian grips for jeans and overalls?

They have become circles and squares of pearlized gem tones, decorative silver or copper, gay seals, or circlets asplash with color.

Look for them on rain ponchos, boating togs, and sporty shirts and slacks — as well as on traditional work and play clothes. These stylish snaps continue to be indestructible and machine-washable.

Two Honor One Bride

Mrs. Edward H. Lerchen and Mrs. Frederick C. Nash, both of Bloomfield Hills, will honor Patsy Hunt of Lake Orion at a kitchen shower and bridal tea Monday in the Village Woman's Club.

Miss Hunt, daughter of the Sidney Hunts of Cleveland will marry Howard Aldridge Coffin II, son of the Dean Coffins of Lake Orion, recently of Birmingham, on April 18.

Tax Tips

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The following income tax information is furnished by the Internal Revenue Service as a public service.)

Q: My daughter was married in December 1963. Her husband works and they are filing a joint return. Could I claim her as a dependent, since I contributed almost her entire support for the year?

A: Since your daughter elected to file a joint return with her husband, you cannot claim her as a dependent. If you contributed over 50 per cent of her support during the year and her husband filed a separate return, you could have claimed her as a dependent.

For the answer to YOUR question, call your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

Former Tax Chief Drops From Race

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—T. Lamar Caudle withdrew as a Democratic candidate for Congress in North Carolina's 8th District Thursday, less than eight hours after his $225 filing fee was paid by two Charlotte Negroes.

Caudle, 60, former head of the U.S. Justice Department's tax division, and Matthew J. Connelly, former appointments secretary for President Harry S. Truman, were convicted in 1956 of attempting to block prosecution of tax evasion charges against Irving Sachs, St. Louis industrialist. They were sentenced to two years imprisonment, and paroled after a few months.

BURMEISTER'S

Chiefs Go Hunting for Tigers Tonight

Pontiac Central's well-armed Chiefs moved into East Lansing today to await tonight's battle with Michigan's No. 1 Tiger — Benton Harbor.

★ ★ ★

The two Class A basketball powers will square off at 7 p.m. at Jenison Fieldhouse in East Lansing in the semifinal round of the state cage tournament.

The winner of tonight's match will move into the final tilt tomorrow against the winner of the Saginaw-Detroit Northern contest.

The Chiefs will occupy the underdog position when they take the floor against the Tigers, the team that dismantled Lansing Sexton Wednesday, 94-79.

★ ★ ★

The Sexton squad was ranked No. 1 in the state in the AP prep poll going into the game, a fact which the Tigers failed to find impressive.

CLAIM NO. 1

Benton Harbor easily outclassed the Sexton unit and Tiger fans roared "We're No. 1 . . . . we're No. 1," when the final gun sounded.

And now the Tigers are No. 1.

Tickets for tonight's clash were scarce at Pontiac Central. The school sold 1,200 Thursday morning and picked up another 300 from Detroit Northern which went on sale early today.

The Tigers and Chiefs are much alike.

Both will enter the game with 17-3 records. Both are fast, and both are accurate on the firing line. Neither has a commanding height advantage.

Coach Fred Zittel will floor the same lineup that disposed of Monroe High at the quarter-finals in Detroit Wednesday, 65-63.

Central hit on 50 per cent of its shots in squeezing by Monroe, and a similar performance may be needed tonight to keep a state cage title in sight.

★ ★ ★

Forwards Mel DeWalt (6-0) and Gerald Henry (6-0) provided the outside shooting support for the Chiefs Wednesday.

Bill Morgan (5-10) and Al Keel (5-11) will handle the guard assignments, and Jim Johnson (6-3) is slated for pivot duty.

DeWalt, Henry, Keel and Morgan are averaging more than 10 points a game. DeWalt heads the list with a 22-point mark.

A big weakness in the Chiefs' armor against Monroe was the absence of defense.

Central threatened to run away several times during the game, but each time the defense relaxed and Monroe would catch up.

★ ★ ★

A similar performance against Benton Harbor could mean the end of the tournament trail for the Chiefs.

The Tigers fired away at a 50 per cent pace against Sexton and held the losers well in check with a sticky pressing defense.

TOP SCORER

The big man in the Tiger attack is L. C. Bowen, who is averaging 27 points a game. Bowen (6-2) and Tony Ashman (6-2) hold down the forward posts.

Coach Don Farnum juggled his lineup against Sexton, putting junior Perry Dodd (6-4) at center and moving Mike Pollard (6-1), the regular pivotman, to a guard position.

If Dodd starts at center, Pollard will team with John Rudley (5-7) at guard. If Pollard gets the call at center, Rudley will team with Dave Mack (5-7).

Four of the Tigers are averaging more than 10 points a game — Bowen, Pollard (15), Ashman (10) and Rudley (12).

Stars in Spotlight

Any championship basketball team has good size, speed, shooting ability and leadership.

The ninth annual Pontiac Press All-County team has all of these ingredients. It is a team that would hold its own with any other all-star unit from a given area in Michigan.

Following is a rundown on the 1963-64 All County players and Coach-of-the-Year:

BRUCE RODWAN . . . Ferndale . . . 6-5 . . . senior . . . a mainstay on 1963 Ferndale state Class A championship team, Rodwan continued his stellar rebounding and scoring during the season just concluded. Averaged over 22 points a game with a season high of 34 against Royal Oak Kimball. Eagles copped Eastern Michigan League championship.

ROGER HAYWARD . . . Pontiac Northern . . . 6-4 . . . junior . . . developed into a good outside shooter for a center, averaged almost 20 points for Inter-Lakes champion PNH . . . set school record in rebounding. Scored 32 points in losing effort against Pontiac Central.

MEL DEWALT . . . Pontiac Central . . . 6-0 . . . senior . . . only unanimous All Saginaw Valley selection. Topped Chiefs in scoring. Failed to top 20-point mark in only two games during regular season. Possesses deadly outside jump shot and is good rebounder.

EARL HOOK . . . Kettering . . . 5-10 . . . senior . . . one of the hardest working basketball players in the state. Excellent floor general who can score. Solid defensive player. Helped Captains to an unbeaten regular season and the Tri-County championship.

BRUCE NYBERG . . . Seaholm . . . 6-4 . . . senior . . . outstanding player in Maples strong finish during the regular season . . . carried team in scoring during early games, but average dropped as teammates began hitting baskets. Good rebounder.

FRED ZITTEL . . . Coach-of-the-Year . . . Pontiac Central . . . first season as head coach of the Chiefs after long tenure as assistant at PCH . . . Chiefs carry 17-3 record into tonight's state Class A semifinal game against Benton Harbor. Developed small, but fast team into a top contender. Two of losses by total margins of three points.

State Champions Pace All-County Wrestlers

By FLETCH SPEARS

One of the smallest prep matmen in the area stands the tallest on the 1963-64 Oakland County Wrestling Team.

He's Dave Beebe of Pontiac Northern, a 112-pound package of power and finesse described by PNH wrestling coach Bill Willson as "the kind of kid you like to have around."

The senior grappler was named "Oakland County's Outstanding Wrestler of 1963-64" by a vote of wrestling coaches in the county.

Beebe recorded a 27-1-1 record during the season, closing the campaign two weeks ago by taking the state title in competition at Ann Arbor.

Other big wins in Beebe's record included a first in the Christmas tournament along with Inter-Lakes League and regional crowns.

"He's an excellent boy . . . a wonderful boy," Willson said. ". . . a real competitor; they don't come any better."

ONE OF THREE

Beebe was one of three PNH matmen named to the All-County Wrestling squad. Others making the grade were Jim Stephens (120) and Don Weyer (145).

Weyer compiled a 27-1-0 mark with the Huskies and also picked up a state championship.

Pontiac Central wound up with three men on the team — Willie Nelson (120), Harold Whiting (138) and Neil Peterson, heavyweight.

Whiting chalked up a 23-1-0 record that included regional and Saginaw Valley Conference titles.

Peterson received the coaches' nod although he sat out the latter part of the season with an injury.

Berkley landed two men on the squad — Dennis Prescott (103) and Rod Elnick (165).

Joe Allen of Kettering was the top vote getter in the battle for the 95-pound position. The little Captain's biggest setback came in the regional competition when he suffered a broken arm and retired from the meet.

SKIPPER SCORES

Waterford's Dale Jones nailed down the 180-pound position.

Ron Burger of Hazel Park was a solid choice for the 133-pound slot.

Stan Secosky led the pack in the balloting for the 154-pound position, and he was second to Weyer in the 145-pound voting.

Secosky lost in the finals of the state Class B meet at East Lansing Mar. 7, and the loss snapped his string of 56 consecutive victories. In four years of competition, he racked up an 85-11 mark.

BILL WATTS
Outstanding Swimmer Award

Record Swim Season Completed in County

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

This was a record smashing season for Oakland County's swimming teams and there is certain to be a record amount of bidding for the top individual tank stars looking to college.

* * *

Royal Oak Kimball moved into the county scene strongly, thereby wiping out some of records which Birmingham Seaholm has monopolized for years.

Outstanding Swimmer of the County honors went to Kimball's Bill Watts, whose versatility in every swim stroke earned him the majority vote of the coaches.

Watts holds the county record in the individual medley in 2:10, but his times in individual freestyle, butterfly and backgstroke events are comparable with some of the best ever among county swimmers.

"He's the kind of swimmer you could call on to do a good job in any stroke," said his coach Dick Heller, "he certainly deserves the award."

For the past two years, Bob Wolf, a similar swimmer of versatile talents was the recipient.

COMPETITOR

Watts had good competition for the honor from Seaholm's Tom Coupe and Pete Adams, a pair of state champions and from Kimball teammate Doug Webster, who was the first swimmer in the state to break the 4-minute barrier in the 400 freestyle.

He did it twice in the state prelims and in the state finals, by defeating his closest rival Adams, who had beaten him three times during the season.

Seaholm and Kimball naturally dominated all events except one and that was the 100 yard backstroke where Rochester's "one man" swim team Hugh Wilder was voted the honor.

Wilder finished second behind the state's top swimmer Ken Wiebeck in the finals of the backstroke.

* * *

A close battle developed in diving between Ken Heft, the 1963 state champion, and Ferndale's Chuck Stenback, who won the 1964 crown by edging Heft last week in the state meet.

Heft received the nod by the coaches for the second straight year.

GROVES TEAM

In the team relays, Birmingham Groves cracked the all-county list with its free-style relay team, made up of Scott Jones, Kevin Tooma, Dave Mead and Pete Decker.

* * *

The Falcon foursome took a thrilling relay event in the class A state meet touching in at 1:31.6 for a new Oakland County record.

The future for swimming doesn't look bleak for county schools as many of top tankers will be back.

Doral Tourney Lead Taken by 'Slammer'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sam Snead, still booming his shots off the tees at the age of 51, led the year's strongest golf field into second round of the $50,000 Doral Open Tournament today.

* * *

Racking up a four-under-par 68 in the opening round despite his usual putting difficulties, Slammin' Sam staked a first-round claim on the $7,500 first prize awaiting the winner Sunday.

One stroke behind were Mike Souchak, Dave Hill, Bob Shave Jr., Bert Hancy, Joe Lopez Sr. and Ken Venturi. Ten others were only two strokes off the pace.

Snead, who plays in only a few tournaments but continues to add substantially each year to one of golf's biggest bank rolls, complained that he missed five birdie putts.

BLUE COURSE

The 7,128-yard Doral County Club "Blue Course," called the "Blue Monster" by some pros, gobbled up two of golf's Big Three, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player.

Palmer, still looking for his first victory of 1964, finished in a tie for 30th place after scrambling to a par 72 in a round that included a double-bogey.

Player, complaining that the Doral course "is too exacting," did even worse with a 73 after a double-bogey seven on the eighth hole.

'Good Sportsmen'

Dale Fussman of Lakeland Pharmacy and John Collins of Frushour & Struble were the recipients of the Class A "Good Sportsmanship" trophies in the Waterford Township men's basketball Class A and Class B Leagues, respectively.

Northwestern and Notre Dame started their football rivalry in 1889.

Crown Champions in Waterford Loop

Captain Don Douglas' Mothra team won the championship of the grades 11-12 boys' basketball league by beating the J. V. Rejects, 65-44, in the Waterford Township Recreation Department program.

Craig Hanson (18 points), Douglas (17) and Tom McDonald (16) led Mothra to its 11th win without defeat.

In grades 9-10, captain Gary Biskner's Spartans upset the Chiefs, 40-27, to capture the crown as Jerry Mathews tallied 13 points.

The Crary Rejects, coached by Gentry Ellingsworth and Charles Bradsher, rallied to edge the Pierce Pistons, 21-16 to grab the grades 7-8 title.

Oakland U. Hosts District YMCA Swim Meet

The Michigan Northeast District YMCA swimming and diving championships will be held Saturday in the Oakland University pool.

Nearly 300 swimmers in three divisions from YMCA teams in Pontiac, Rochester, Port Huron, Flint, Mount Clemens, Bay City and Saginaw will compete in the day long championships.

Competition will take place in midget, prep and junior divisions with preliminaries slated for Saturday morning and the finals Saturday afternoon and evening.

Jack Zahn and John Moreau are meet managers. The referee is Pontiac Northern coach Ed Dauw and the judges include Corey Van Fleet of Seaholm, Herb Stoutenburg and Dave Wilder.

The Rochester branch of the YMCA is hosting the event.

The junior team of the Pontiac swimmers is favored to win in its division.

Ribbons will be awarded through six places and team trophies will go to the division champions.

It will be the first competition swimming meet held in the handsome six-lane pool at Oakland University.

Errors Help Mets Down Tigers, 5-0

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The New York Mets played straight man to the Detroit Tigers Thursday and walked away with a nifty 5-0 exhibition baseball victory.

"We did what the Mets do all year," Tigers manager Charlie Dressen said of Detroit's two errors that resulted in three unearned runs.

Tigers pitchers gave up only two earned runs, and Detroit's attack consisted of three singles.

Starting pitcher Frank Lary opened the gates in the third inning with a costly two-out error. It was followed by a home run off the bat of rookie Hill Haas.

Tigers first baseman Bill Roman let in another unearned run in the seventh.

SPOILED DINNER

Met manager Casey Stengel was happy to beat Lary. "That man used to spoil my dinner," remarked the 72-year-old field boss.

Lary beat the New York Yankees 23 times when Stengel was at the helm.

"It was a windy day and Lary couldn't get a sweat up," observed Dressen.

Pitcher Ed Rakow, who worked the sixth and seventh innings, left the game when his arm tightened up at the start of the eighth frame. Dressen said it would be a couple of days before the extent of the injury is known. Dick Egan finished up for the Tigers and fanned four men in three hitless innings.

Wings Bomb Rangers, 9-3

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings are three points out of third place entering the last weekend of the regular season, and there is no doubt in the minds of the players that they'll pass Toronto and pocket a little extra cash.

The Red Wings bombarded the New York Rangers 9-3 Thursday in the only National Hockey League game scheduled. Detroit will face the Maple Leafs in a home-and-home weekend series.

The victory, in which Parker MacDonald and Alex Delvecchio each scored two goals, was the fourth straight and gave the Red Wings 13 victories in their last 19 games.

OPENING BARRAGE

Five of Detroit's goals came in the first period. Four of those were made in a span of 3 minutes and 16 seconds.

Floyd Smith opened the scoring, but Phil Goyette and Camille Henry each scored to give the Rangers a brief lead before the four-goal barrage.

MacDonald got his two goals in the flurry, while Delvecchio got his first and Doug Barkley scored the other.

Gordie Howe and Paul Henderson tallied in the second period. Delvecchio and Andre Pronovost beat goalie Jacques Plante in the final period and Goyette scored again for the Rangers.

Pronovost's goal ended a 30-game scoreless drought.

FOUR ASSISTS

Al Langlois, traded by the Rangers a month ago, picked up four assists for Detroit.

Manager-coach Sid Abel predicted that the Red Wings would go all the way this weekend.

"It wasn't too long ago that we thought this game would be a big one in deciding whether we or the Rangers would make the playoffs," Abel said. "But now it's all a matter of us keeping at this peak and finishing third. I think we will."

★ ★ ★

The difference between a third and fourth place finish is about $250 per man. Many of the Red Wings also have clauses in their contracts which call for a $1,000 bonus if the team finishes in third place.

Boston is at Montreal in Saturday's other game. In Sunday's schedule, Montreal plays at New York and Chicago at Boston. Montreal can finish in first place by sweeping its two remaining games.

4th Grade Program to Begin Saturday

Operation Waterproof - 4th Grade has been accepted by the parents in Pontiac schools and the first phase of the swimming program as advised by the National Safety Council will begin Saturday at Northern and Central high school pools.

★ ★ ★

The physical education department, directed by Dr. Lee W. Haslinger, conducted a recent survey of 1,945 fourth graders in both public and parochial schools and 980 replies, or 45 per cent returned their forms.

Of the returned survey sheets, 470 indicated that their children could not swim. Another 247 indicated that their children could swim very little.

Dr. Haslinger pointed out that "these figures clearly show the definite need for the swimming program" and that the water safety program would begin.

Starting tomorrow, the program will run for 10 weeks at a cost of $8.00 for the entire program per child.

★ ★ ★

Children must attend the class at the time their school appears on the schedule. All parents are requested to accompany their children for the first class and pay their $8 fee. Children should have bathing suit, towel and girls should have bathing caps.

Children who are not 50 inches tall may be enrolled but with mutual consent of the parents and pool director.

NORTHERN HIGH SCHOOL POOL — Mr. Ed Dauw, Pool Director

8:30 a.m. - 9:30 a.m. — Hawthorne, Malkim, McCarroll.

9:30 a.m. - 10:30 a.m. — Rogers, Wever, Willis, Twain.

1030 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. — Emerson, Owen, Herrington.

11:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. — LeBaron, Alcott, St. Michael.

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL POOL — Mrs. Catherine Craig, Pool Director.

8:30 a.m. - 9:30 a.m. — Irving, Whitfield, Franklin, Webster.

9:30 a.m. - 10:30 a.m. — Bethune, Bagley, Emmanuel Christian, Crofoot, Central Baldwin.

10:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. — Wilson, Longfellow, McConnell.

11:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. — St. Benedict, Wisner, Cottage, Whittier.

Favor Ferraris in Saturday's Sebring Race

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — If one Ferrari doesn't do it, another one will. That's the way the script at Sebring looks, and it's a familiar one.

John Surtees of England and Lorenzo Bandini of Italy will start No. 1 in their Ferrari when the 12-hour Sebring endurance race goes off at 10 a.m. EST Saturday.

Numbers 2 through 5 also belong to Italian-made Ferraris, in the hands of equally skilled and renowned international drivers.

Registration Times Set for Baseball Leagues

Registration will get under way Saturday for boys desiring to take part in baseball leagues sponsored by the Hi-White Boys Athletic Association.

Registrations will be taken at the Duck Lake Fire Hall and the White Lake Township Hall from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Boys may also register by contacting Gene Morin, 887-5208, or Gene Grantham, 363-7557.

Teams will be organized in minor, major and senior leagues. Age limit for players in the minor loops is 8-10 years, 11-13 years for majors and 14-16 for seniors.

The association will also offer a T-Ball program for seven-year-olds. Fee for this activity is $2 a player.

The fee for the other leagues is $5 for each player with the exception of families that have more than one boy participating. In such case, the fee is $5 for the oldest and $2.50 for each of the others.

Honor Bud Acton for MIAA Efforts

DETROIT (AP) — Bud Acton was named the MIAA's most valuable basketball player Thursday in a vote of the seven league coaches, marking the first time an Alma player has been so honored.

Acton, from Troy, topped six other candidates, named the most valuable by their respective teams. Other nominees were Dick Seagert of Adrian, Jerry Chandler of Albion, Jim VanEerden of Calvin, Glenn VanWieren of Hope, Dick Johnson of Kalamazoo and Ed Donaldson of Olivet.

Wayne State named Fred Wolcott its most valuable player and honorary co-captain. He shared the latter honor with Colin Barnes.

"Our Best Salesmen Are Our Servicemen!"

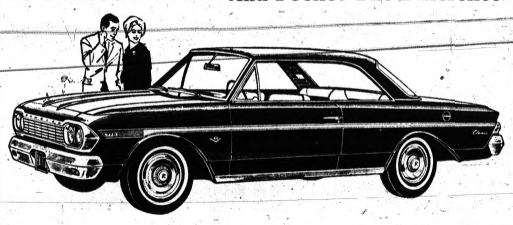
Now, that's probably going to bring loud howls of protest from the sales force. But I mean it. It's no trick to sell cars today — specially Rambler. It's got so much more to offer in the way of service-free performance and economy. But the thing that brings folks back to us for service and for cars is the better service we insist on giving.

It pays off for the customers and for us, because that's the kind of good news that gets around fast."

Sincerely yours,

Bill Farrah

Go Rambler! And Pocket The Difference.



Yes, pocket the difference you save by driving a Rambler, the Economy King, winner of every mileage competition it has ever entered, including the Mobilgas Economy Run and the Pure Oil Performance Trials. Over a year, that's a big difference that's well worth pocketing.

Then think what rust can cost you in this part of the country. Plenty. But it's a thing of the past with Rambler because Ramblers alone are Deep Dip Rustproofed right up to the rooftop. And Rambler exhaust systems are Ceramic-coated to prevent rusting.

Monday Night Draw for Pros by Pro-Am Bowlers

BOWLING

Calbi Music was able to cut the league leading 300 Bowl team in half last week in Huron Bowl Classic action.

An eight-point sweep by the music men while "300" was dropping a 6-2 decision to Veterans Disposal put Calbi four points off the pace.

Gay Brothers Construction had 1147—3153 figures for the top team results. Oz Jewett with 248 and Irv Gray with 242-234—687 led the individual results.

The "300" team continues to pull away in the West Side Classic Monday nights. Bob Murphy of the leaders had 234-225—661 to top the bowling at West Side Lanes this week.

Ed Avadenka's 257 was the top game among the 68 in the 200 category.

West Side's Saturday morning Boys League had a prize winning performance by 16-year-old David Johnson. He bowled a 263 game and will receive a trophy from the American Junior Bowling Congress.

The local doubles pair of Charles Burch and Jim Anderson last weekend captured first place in the Elks National tourney now under way at Cincinnati, Ohio.

SINGLES LEAD

Their combined 1200 actual pins lead, and they rank second in the handicap portion with 1284. Pontiac's Robert Gibson holds first place in the actual singles with 648.

He is third in the handicap phase, 18 pins behind the 698 total of runner-up Bill Kelly, also from the Pontiac lodge.

Galan Manufacturing Co.'s entry has 2927 for fourth place among the team competitors.

Action at 300 Bowl last Saturday saw Joe Foster bowl 223-201—618 and Bob Keller 228 in the Ins & Outers loop. Sunday the American Legion Mixed League had a 212 by Alex Rabe.

Irwin Dudley bowled 241 for a Century Club performance Tuesday at Sylvan Lanes in the Classic Twelve Men's loop.

The Three - Man Four - Game circuit saw the three McDougall Tool team members hit 800 series. Fred Rider has 241-246—826, Bill Crawford 224-214—825 and Hector McDonald 212-215-206—817.

Last Friday in the Sylvan Manor Men's League, Pat Treacy bowled 246—662.

Floyd Bartley scored 213-232—640 Saturday in the Marimont Baptist Church circuit at Montcalm Bowling Centre. Louis Smith rolled a 200.

The Columbia Avenue Church League at Airway Lanes the same night Pud Rhew converted the 4-7-10 split; and George Code made the double pinochle Sunday in Wonderland Lanes Hits & Mrs. loop.

MERRY DOINGS

That day at Howe's Lanes the Merry Mixers League recorded a 222-208—629 effort for Jerry Almas and Bob Sines had a 212.

The Howe's Foursome League that night had a 232 by Ray Devine and Orv Warren 228—610. Pauline Hickman hit 523 and Barb Howe 208 among the women.

The Dixie All Star League was led by Hal DeLongchamp's 257-221—645; and wife Pat led the Ladies Doubles Classic with 201-200 — 595. Karl Froling topped the Men's Doubles with 233-216—653.

Bob Kent of Waterford Auto Body hit 232-210—640 in the Waterford Merchants League and Al Swaney had 236-205—635.

Howe's Tri-Coty League saw Bloch Brothers take a commanding lead last week entering the season's home stretch. Larry Meyers (222-208—621) and Arnie Kind (224) paced the bowling.

Irene West's 211-213 — 549 paced the Clarkston Women's circuit last week, and Jackie Haxer rolled 213 — 530. The Thursday Morning Men's loop had a 238 by Tony Zografos.

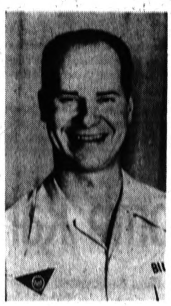
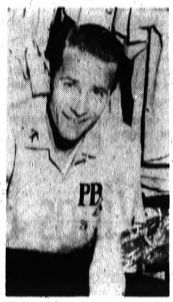
Howe's Senior Classic League action last Friday featured Jim Beebe's 221-222—657, Karl Froling's 255-201—656 and an increased league lead by J & I Pattern Co.

That same night Walt Lucas led the house loop with a 229 game; and Let Samuels hit 212-207—623 and Don Bilbey posted a 231 in the Clarkston Men's Saturday Advanced loop by League.





LOOKING FOR PARTNERS—The nations' outstanding bowling names, including (left to right) Don Carter, Billy Welu and Dick Weber, will start arriving in town this weekend for the PBA tournament and Tuesday night all 150 pros will team up handicap bowlers in the pro-am event. Monday night the draw for partners will be held at 300 Bowl. Final qualifying for handicap bowlers takes place all day Sunday at seven area locations.

Sunday Final Opportunity to Qualify

All Sites in Area to Hold Squads for Handicap Keglers

The waiting will end shortly for many bowlers around the county and state.

What could be the bowling thrill of a lifetime may develop Tuesday night for some lucky local bowlers.

★ ★ ★

Who will be paired with Don Carter, Billy Golembiewski, Dick Weber, Billy Welu, George Howard, Bob Strampe or another outstanding professional bowlers to participate in the tournament preceding the North American Open?

The pairings haven't been made yet and they won't be until Monday night. The opportunity for a chance to draw one of bowling's biggest stars for a partner still exists.

The final qualifying for spots in the Pro-Am tournament at 300 Bowl is set for this weekend at "300," Huron Bowl, Howe's Lanes, North Hill Lanes, Auburn Lanes and Airway Lanes.

Troy's Thunderbird Lanes, Lapeer Recreation, Colonial Lanes and Sunnybrook Lanes in Utica, Drayton Plains' Primrose Lanes and Oxford Lanes in Utica also will have squads.

A total $5,000 in prizes will be divided among the amateurs who score best with the aid of a pro partner Tuesday, preceding the four-day Professional Bowlers' Association Open tournament.

★ ★ ★

There will be 150 pro bowlers competing in the North American Open along with 10 amateurs selected last Sunday. They'll be gunning for part of the $26,000 prize money.

The Pro-Am qualifying gives bowlers a 100 per cent handicap. One out of every 10 entrants qualify at each site.

To date, more than 70 amateurs from around the state have made Monday's drawing for the $5,000 Pro-Am.

The number is expected to jump considerably this weekend as action continues throughout Michigan and south to Toledo.

Those who do qualify will be eligible to draw their partner's name at 8 p.m. that day in the 300 Bowl banquet room. A meeting for the scorekeepers is set for 7 p.m.

Frame

By JERE CRAIG

As Pontiac's week in the national bowling spotlight arrives, the thought persists that this should be the best of the Professional Bowlers' Association meets locally.

Certainly, it will be the biggest. The 160-man field filled its delegation of 150 pros earlier than any other tournament on the winter schedule. The previous two Pontiac tourneys were limited to 120 professionals maximum.

The lessons learned in staging the 1962 and 1963 affairs have helped to build the 1964 PBA tournament into a well-planned operation.

Promoter Joe Puertas of the host establishment, 300 Bowl, has combined forces with bowling and public relations people around the Midwest to organize this year's meet.

The fans will find lower ticket prices and the official program promises to be one of the brightest on the tournament trail.

Amateur bowlers in Tuesday's Pro-Am event will have a bigger, more talented field of potential pro partners. The use of numerous establishments locally and around the state has aided the chances of qualifying for the Pro-Am.

QUALIFYING

At least seven county proprietors and many others around the Midwest have cooperated with Puerto in holding the qualifying.

They and the North American Van Lines co-sponsor merit the appreciation of all bowlers and fans who will be enjoying next week's gala event.

If local bowlers have not realized it yet, they'll soon discover that the Pontiac PBA is now the North American Open—not only in name but in scope.

★ ★ ★

County bowlers very likely will be in the minority in terms of participation in the Pro-Am and maybe from a spectator standpoint, also.

This is not bad. It could insure the future success of the tournament here and, certainly, will not harm the national exposure such an affair brings.

★ ★ ★

This is no excuse for local support to dwindle. Conversely, it is excellent reason for continued backing because any decrease in Pontiac acceptance of the PBA tour would leave the door wide open for one of the many other Michigan proprietors who would gladly take tournament from Oakland County.

New Leaders for Paddlers

Anita Lettering dropped a 1-2 decision to Kennerly's Service Thursday evening and tumbled from the lead in the Pontiac Table Tennis League.

Moving into the top spot was Dorris and Son Realty a 5-1 winner over Pepsi Cola.

In other games, Clark's Drive-In downed Crocker Candy, 4-2; A & W trimmed Beuttner's Cleaners, 5-1; Francis Fuel tripped Frostop Drive-In, 5-1; Club 99 tied Harvey's Colonial House, 3-3; and Pine Knob battled Country Kitchen to a 3-3 draw.

Cooley Lanes	9	9	Fairgrounds	5	14
Montcalm	9	9

There are still six teams with very good chances to make the four playoff berths in the Pontiac Traveling Classic League although only two Sundays remain on the schedule.

Only one of the six has a definite idea of its position entering the post-season bowloff. The Huron Bowl team seems certain to finish third.

★ ★ ★

Airway Lanes and 300 Bowl remain in a tight battle for first place following upsets last weekend. "300" was dumped by last place Fairgrounds Bowling, 15-12, but retained a half game lead over Airway.

The latter fell to Wonderland Lanes, 15-13, as the winners took over fourth place by a half game. Still in a good position to catch Wonderland are Cooley Lanes and Montcalm Bowling Centre.

Both lost last Sunday. West Side Lanes surprised Cooley, 10-7, and Huron Bowl bombed Montcalm, 21-5. Sylvan Lanes kept its slim playoff hopes alive by nipping Howe's Lanes, 11-9.

Two men played the chief roles in each of the upsets. Bob Liebler and Jim Sherwood paced Wonderland over Airway, posting six points apiece on 644 and 637, respectively.

Fairgrounds' upset was led by Art Latimer (675 for eight) and Chuck Mackey (600 for five).

All of the teams must wait two weeks now, however, before attempting to improve their positions. The League will not compete the next two Sundays, but will resume at noon April 5 at Huron Bowl.

Hartwig Leads in PBA

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Sixteen men advanced into the semifinals of the $25,000 Professional Bowlers Association Buffalo Open Thursday night and Billy Hartwick of San Mateo, Calif., led the way with a total pinfall of 5,248.

Pontiac's three-man delegation failed to make the grade.

Mike Samardzija Jr., who was 10th after the opening round; fired a 12-game total of 5,000 for 19th place. He had a 236 game in a six-game block of 1,211 yesterday.

Monroe Moore slipped from 15th to 22nd with a 4,949 after having a final game 159. Al Pietz placed 89th with a 4,476.

Hartwick, who took the lead Wednesday at the end of the first six-game block, finished his 24 qualifying games with an average of 218 a game.

RUNNERS UP

Jack Biondolillo of Houston followed with 5,238 and Ed Bourdase of Fresno, Calif., was third with 5,214 pins.

The 16 finalists will bowl 16 match games Friday. Each man bowls every other man with the top four advancing into Saturday's nationally televised finals.

Hartwick, the PBA 1963 national champion and leading money winner, will be seeking his sixth PBA championship. He won four last year and added the Birmingham Open last month.

Andy Marzich of Redondo Beach, Calif., was fourth with 5,151. John Fohagy Jr. of Buffalo took fifth place with 5,123.

Butterfingers Grab Volleyball Crown

Captain Burley Mondy's "Butterfingers" completed their sweep of all the honors in this winter's men's volleyball league conducted by the Waterford Township Recreation Department.

The Butterfingers, who won both the first- and second-half season titles, grabbed the playoffs in a two-game sweep over Williams Lake, 15-8, 15-3.

Liston Case Minus Charge

DENVER (AP) — No effort will be made to prosecute Sonny Liston, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, under a Colorado law forbidding anyone convicted of a felony during the past decade from carrying concealed weapons.

★ ★ ★

Gregory A. Mueller, deputy Denver district attorney, said a letter interpreting the law from Atty. Gen. Duke W. Dunbar means Liston can't be prosecuted.

★ ★ ★

Dunbar held that it is questionable whether the law could be applied since the felony conviction against Liston occurred in another legal jurisdiction. He was convicted in 1956 in St. Louis, Mo., on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon and was sentenced to nine months in the city's work house. The attorney general's letter did not mention Liston by name.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Toledo defeated Des Moines 4-2 Thursday night in an International Hockey League game and climbed within one point of front-running Fort Wayne.

City Women Will Finish Keg Tourney

The Pontiac Women's Bowling Association annual tournament moves into its final weekend tomorrow with 64 teams and more than 200 women knowing exactly what they must bowl for a championship.

If last weekend's competition is any indication, there will be numerous changes Saturday and Sunday in the standings.

Leaders in all five events changed during the action at North Hill Lanes last weekend. The biggest reshuffling was in the handicap singles where five women surpassed last week's leader.

The team event had new names in the top three spots.

SKILL TO SPARE by Dick Weber

The 2-5 leave is easy to make, hard to set up.

To clear off these two pins, follow the Sparemaker.

The reason you don't see this spare every day is because it is difficult to throw the kind of ball that sets it up.

It is caused by a ball that goes into the 1-3 pocket, but very thin.

All-Star Champion

EASY making, hard to set up.

PROXY CHEERLEADERS — Giving out with all the spirit of the native New Mexico gals, these New York models lead cheers for the University of New Mexico basketball team in the National Invitational Tournament. Unable to afford sending the regular cheerleaders, the university accepted the offer of an Albuquerque group to provide the models.

Semifinals Scheduled Tonight

Coaches Tell of NCAA Cage Woes

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Cazzie Russell has a tender ankle, Duke had a minor plane mishap, UCLA is fighting the doldrums and Kansas State is a longshot. All of which, the various coaches say, means practically nothing.

★ ★ ★

The four coaches with teams in tonight's NCAA basketball championship semifinals outlined their troubles after brief workouts Thursday, then confidently repeated their vows of optimism.

Each of the quartet — John Wooden of UCLA, Dave Strack of Michigan, Vic Bubas of Duke and Tex Winter of Kansas State —said he felt his team had a legitimate shot at the championship none of them has ever won before.

DUKE VS. U.M.

The line-up has Atlantic Coast Conference champion Duke, 25-4, playing Big Ten co-champion Michigan, 22-4, in the opener. Top-ranked UCLA, 28-0, takes on Big Eight champion Kansas State, 22-5, in the second game. The winners meet Saturday for the title.

UCLA finished the regular season with the ranking of the nation's No. 1 college basketball team. Michigan was second and Duke third. Kansas State, which had to upset Wichita in the Midwest regionals to gain the semifinals, was unranked.

★ ★ ★

"Since we're playing in our area, it figures that we're going to have a lot of Kansas State supporters on hand," Winter observed. "And there may be an advantage in playing here. We play here three times each year and our boys like to play in Kansas City. Maybe those are advantages. If they are, we'll take 'em. We need all the help we can get."

Kansas State, beaten 78-75 by semifinal opponent UCLA in the regular season, has won 13 straight. It features a zone defense, built around 7-foot Roger Suttner, and the scoring and rebounding of Willie Murrell.

RUNNING ATTACK

The mighty Bruins have a blistering running attack, featuring the backcourt pair of Walt Hazzard and Gail Goodrich and a disturbing zone press. They're the shortest team in the tourney, with no starter over 6-foot-5.

Duke was shaken up a bit when its charter plane skidded off a rain-slick runway just after landing at the Kansas City Airport. There were no injuries and less than an hour later the team was taking part in a closed workout at Municipal Auditorium.

★ ★ ★

Russell, Michigan's sophomore backcourt sensation, still is nursing his right ankle, injured in Big Ten play, Strack said.

Bradley, New Mexico Battle for NIT Crown

NEW YORK (AP)—New Mexico's Ira Harge, at 6-foot-8 and 203 pounds, presents a formidable barrier between Bradley and its third National Invitation Tournament basketball championship.

To hear Bradley personnel talk, removing Harge is tougher than getting rid of dandruff.

The New Mexico senior was the object of everyone's admiration following the NIT semifinals Thursday night in which the Lobos pressed their way past NYU 72-65 and Bradley rambled over Army 67-52. Fourth-seeded New Mexico and second-seeded Bradley clash Saturday afternoon for the title.

"I don't think anyone can handle Harge," Bradley Coach Chuck Orsborn said flatly. "At least I haven't seen anyone handle him."

★ ★ ★

Levern Tart, the Braves' top scorer, called the Detroit resident "a whale of a player."

TOUGH JOB

Joe Strawder, at 6-foot-9 the only Bradley player of comparable height, said Harge is "one of the greatest I've seen in college." It will be Strawder's job to guard Harge, but he's not sure how he'll do it.

Harge's 17 points weren't high for New Mexico, but he missed seven minutes of the first half and had to play cautiously in the second half because of personal fouls. On defense, he blocked a number of shots and generally got in NYU's way.

★ ★ ★

Despite Harge, NYU threatened to continue its tournament hot streak, forging into the lead in the second half after trailing by 10 points late in the first half. New Mexico's zone press defense, however, ended any dreams the Violets might have had.

Although Bradley used the Army game as a tune-up for the final, Osborn was not pleased with the over-all performance. He told the players about it afterward.

"We had a 12 and 14-point lead, and nobody could wait to throw the ball up from the outside," he explained. "We shouldn't be taking those shots.

2 Women in World Flight

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — Mrs. Jerrie Mock, mother of three from Columbus, Ohio, was scheduled to head her small plane for the Azores today "depending on the winds."

Another air-minded housewife setting out on a solo flight around the world, Joan Merriam Smith of Long Beach, Calif., hopes to take off tomorrow from Miami for San Juan, P.R.

Both deny they are racing to become the first woman to fly around the world alone. Amelia Earhart was lost attempting the feat in 1937.

Mrs. Mock, 38-year-old wife of a Columbus advertising man, landed her single-engine plane in Hamilton an hour ahead of schedule yesterday on the first leg of her 24,000-mile global flight.

"I picked up a tailwind," she told welcomers.

She plans to be back in Columbus in 30 days or less after stops in the Azores, Casablanca, Tunis, Cairo, Bahrain Island, Karachi, Bombay, Madras, Singapore, Manila, Guam, Wake, Honolulu and San Francisco.

CHANGED CLOTHES

Mrs. Smith's landing in Miami — after changing clothes in the air for fear she would be late for a luncheon — was her third stop on a 27,000-mile course. The luncheon was delayed until her arrival, two hours late because of thunderstorms.

The 27-year-old blonde test pilot, flying a second-hand twin-engine plane, plans to land in Puerto Rico, Surinam and Brazil before setting out across the Atlantic for Senegal on the African coast next Wednesday.

She hopes to finish the flight in Oakland, Calif., April 14.

★ ★ ★

She is the wife of Navy Lt. Cmdr. Martin Smith, commander of the minesweeper Endurance stationed at Yokoshuka, Japan.

News Notes From Washington

Report Latins Review Relations With U.S.

JOHNSON-LATINS: Latin-American diplomats are reported to be taking a new look at their countries' relations with the United States as an aftermath of the Johnson administration's handling of the Panama dispute last weekend.

The envoys are said to be concerned about these matters:

Johnson's decision Sunday night to override the announcement by the Organization of American States of a U.S.-Panamanian agreement.

His interjections of the Panama situation into his Alliance for Progress speech at the Pan-American Union here Monday.

SWIFT DEPARTURE

And his swift departure from the hall in which he shook hands with only several of the Latin ambassadors on hand.

Latin-American sources said that at a White House reception Monday night the President thumped the chest of more than one member of the OAS mediation commission with his forefinger and insisted that by its action Sunday the commission had confused the Panamanian situation for the United States.

Also there were persistent reports of differences between Johnson and his director of Latin-American affairs, Thomas C. Mann, over how to handle negotiations in the Panama dispute.

The State Department, however denied there are any disagreements within the U.S. government "on the basic issues" of the Panamanian situation.

The OAS has decided to try once again to solve the canal dispute.

SHIPYARD CUTBACKS: The Navy disclosed Thursday it is tentatively planning to cut employment at its 11 shipyards by as much as 6,000 workers by June 30, the end of the current fiscal year.

More than 85,000 civilians are now employed at the Navy-owned yards.

A Navy spokesman said the final figures at each yard will be determined by work load—the number of ships being overhauled or repaired and the amount of work that has to be done on each ship. In some cases, he said, there could be slight increases in employment.

FLIERS-SOVIET UNION: The Soviet Union apparently rebuffed another U.S. effort Thursday to gain freedom for three American airmen shot down over East Germany.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk called in Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin to renew —as the State Department put it—"our insistence on the return of the fliers." They parachuted after their RB66 jet reconnaissance plane was downed by the Soviets March 10.

Dobrynin "was not responsive to our request," said State Department press officer Richard I. Phillips.

After his 15-minute session with Rusk, the Soviet ambassador told newsmen that he had no further information beyond a March 11 Soviet note that charged the U.S. plane was on a spy mission.

Dobrynin said Rusk gave him a written note.

Informants said Rusk made these points:

That the Soviets must return the airmen promptly.

That their plane was not on a spy mission but strayed inadvertently.

That Soviet failure to free the Americans would affect other U.S.-Soviet relations.

Truce Ends With New Picketing

King Poised to Renew Birmingham Racial Protests

United Press International

Integration leaders in Birmingham, Ala., said last night that Dr. Martin Luther King stands ready to move into Birmingham "at the flick of a switch" to lead a new wave of demonstrations in the Southern steel city.

A six-month racial truce ended in Birmingham yesterday when 12 Negroes picketed in the downtown area on a claim that city officials and merchants had reneged on integration promises.

Leaders said more demonstrations would be staged today.

All 12 pickets were arrested, including one who appeared to be about 10 years old.

* * *

In other civil rights demonstration activities, a group of seven New Englanders at Boston prepared to leave for St. Augustine, Fla., to participate in demonstrations in the 400-year-old city.

JOURNEY IN WAVES

The all-white group is the first of about 60 New Englanders, including the mother of Massachusetts Gov. Endicott Peabody, who plan to make the journey in waves.

The plan was announced by the Massachusetts unit of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) which is headed by King. The SCLC called St. Augustine "one of the most segregated cities in the country."

The first group plans to leave Boston by bus tomorrow afternoon.

* * *

At Birmingham, Negro leader Fred Shuttlesworth said yesterday's demonstration had the full support of the SCLC.

LAST YEAR

King led demonstrations in Birmingham last spring and summer which erupted in battles between Negroes and police in which bricks, rocks and bottles were thrown and hundreds arrested.

Yesterday's demonstrators carried signs saying "City hall, unlock the toilet doors" and "Don't buy where you can't be hired."

* * *

Elsewhere:

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—Five Ku Klux Klan members charged with conspiracy in the bombing of a 6-year-old Negro boy's home were scheduled to be arraigned in federal court today and hearings in state court were scheduled for 23 Negro demonstrators arrested yesterday for sit-ins at restaurants.

PUBLIC ACCOMMODATIONS

FRANKFORT, Ky.—The Kentucky House of Representatives yesterday rejected a final effort to bring a public accommodations law before the current General Assembly, but passed a resolution favoring voluntary integration of public places.

COLUMBIA, S.C.—Dr. Robert Weaver, director of the federal housing and Home Finance Agency, told Negro educators last night they have a "new ally" in President Johnson.

Weaver said Johnson's "war on poverty" will benefit many Negroes.

* * *

ATLANTA—Fulton County Superior Court Judge Durwood T. Pye yesterday refused to relinquish custody of a Negro civil rights demonstrator to U.S. marshals which had been ordered by Federal Judge Boyd Sloan.

The action presented a head-on confrontation of federal and state authority.

MOBILE, Ala. — Federal Judge Daniel H. Thomas ruled yesterday that a county grand jury has the right to require government lawyers to testify and refused to order a halt to alleged interference with Negro voter applications.

Protesting Death Sentences

Haul Moroccans From Russia Embassy

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet police hauled protesting Moroccan students out of Morocco's Embassy in Moscow during the night after pleading failed to budge them.

The students, about 50 strong, were taken back to their dormitories in buses about eight hours short of their goal of a 24-hour sit-in.

* * *

The students occupied the embassy at 10 a.m. Thursday to protest against death sentences ordered in Rabat for 11 persons convicted of plotting to assassinate Morocco's King Hassan II.

There was no violence as the demonstrators streamed into the embassy offices, seated themselves on the floor with arms linked and announced they would resist any attempt to oust them.

Soviet authorities did not intervene at first, since by diplomatic tradition the embassy of a country is its own soil.

There the students sat as the hours passed, refusing to eat, singing Arabic songs occasionally and posing for news photographers.

* * *

They turned a deaf ear to harried junior embassy officers who urged them to leave. The ambassador was out of town.

Shortly after dark, three officials of the Soviet ministry of education arrived and appealed to the demonstrators to leave. The students refused. The Soviets threatened further measures.

REQUESTS ACTION

A student leader said the Soviet officials told them the Moroccan government had asked the Soviet ambassador in Rabat to have something done.

Three buses loaded with police wheeled up outside the embassy about 1:30 a.m. and corroded off nearby streets. When several ranking officers had no better luck with the students than the others, police moved in and carried the Moroccans away.

* * *

An embassy spokesman said they went voluntarily. One student said they put up some physical resistance.

The demonstrators, members of the Soviet section of the National Union of Moroccan Students, said three of the 11 persons condemned for the assassination plot last year were former leaders of the student's union. Eight of the 11 are at large.

On Promotion Supplement

Romney Bans Use of Picture

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George W. Romney, whose picture has appeared in and on the covers of many national magazines, has banned its use on the cover of a Michigan-promoting newspaper supplement.

The 20 to 24-page supplement with the May 10 Sunday edition of the New York Times — but without Romney's picture on the cover, said Bernard Conboy, state director of economic expansion.

* * *

The governor Wednesday vetoed Conboy's plans to superimpose a portrait of Romney on a map of Michigan for the cover.

"We didn't want to take a chance on unnecessary criticism," said an aide to the governor. "Someone would be sure to complain that state funds were being used to promote the political career of one man."

* * *

"We wanted to use it," Conboy said. "It's been in the national magazines. He's a personality people are interested in."

Journalist Succumbs

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — George Starr Lasher, 78, founder of the Ohio University School of Journalism and past national president of Theta Chi social fraternity, died Thursday in a nursing home. Lasher was one of the first journalism educators to take students from the classroom into newspapers for practical training.

The Internal Revenue Code now in effect was enacted in 1954, and represents a complete revamping of the income tax law to that time.

Excused From Trial

Auschwitz Inmate Won't Talk

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)— A former Auschwitz concentration camp inmate testified at Germany's largest war crimes trial today that he appeared on the stand fearfully.

* * *

"I am afraid, I am concerned about being here as a witness," Karl Seefeld, 60, told the court trying 21 former SS guards and Auschwitz functionaries.

Seefeld, who entered Auschwitz in 1941, spoke after presiding Judge Hans Hofmeyer told him that his testimony today differed "greatly from what you told the prosecution in pretrial testimony."

"Do you fear an act of revenge from the comrades of these defendants here if you tell us the truth about them?" Hofmeyer asked.

PRISON GUARD

He referred to Wilhelm Boger, a former SS sergeant whom previous witnesses have pictured as a sadist who killed and tortured for the pleasure of it.

"I have a good position now, a position of trust, and I don't want to do anything that might jeopardize it . . .

"I would prefer not to say anything at all."

Hofmeyer then consulted with the prosecution and defense attorneys and announced that Seefeld was released as a witness and that his oral testimony would not go into the trial records.

READ TESTIMONY

The judge then read Seefeld's pretrial testimony in which he had described how Boger had killed two babies in Auschwitz:

"The parents of the babies, twins, had just arrived from Czechoslovakia. The twins were in a large baby carriage.

"As soon as the mother saw Boger heading their way, she bent over her babies, tried to protect them with her body.

"Boger threw her on the ground and yanked these two little babies out of the carriage. He had a baby by the leg in each hand.

"He swung them against a wall with such force, their heads were smashed open and they were killed.

"Their parents were eventually gassed."

Another witness, Paul Scheidel, 67, testified that he personally saw Boger shoot prisoners in batches of up to 35.

Boger jumped to his feet and shouted:

"I never shot anybody. I'll give this same answer for the next thousand years."

NEVER FORGET

Scheidel told the court Boger certainly did shoot people:

"I could never forget that face — nobody could forget Boger's face."

Insurance Should Be Long-Range Buy

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: We have a bond a month deducted from my husband's salary. However, now that we're expecting our third child, we're worried about my husband not carrying enough life insurance. He has only $10,000 worth of insurance in a group plan with his company.

We are wondering if it would be smarter to stop buying bonds and use this money to increase our insurance protection. My husband is 26 years old. What do you think of this plan?

And could you give me some idea of how much insurance he could get for the same amount we have been putting into bonds — $225 a year.

MARY FEELEY

Mrs. W. H., Dallas

* * *

Dear Mrs. H.: You could certainly buy more protection with that $225 if you put it into life insurance. You and your husband should sit down with an insurance agent and go over your situation — what you can afford now, what kind of policy fits your needs best, what you hope to plan for in the future as your husband's income increases.

Buying insurance should always be approached with a long-range point of view.

Just as an example of what might be possible at your husband's present age; $10,000 of permanent life insurance, with a family income rider that would give you $100 a month during the period while your children are growing up (15 years). This combined policy would cost around $171 annually.

* * *

Then there's the family plan policy that insures each member — $10,000 for the breadwinner, $2,500 for the wife, and $1,000 term insurance on each child.

DIFFERENT ARRANGEMENT

This would cost around $210 annually. I mention these types of policies to point up the fact that different arrangements serve different needs.

Perhaps you'll find it possible to continue a small savings allotment in addition. Give it a try — a dollar here and there squeezed out of the grocery money, a bargain now and then in clothing maybe.

It's a nice feeling to see a little money getting bigger every month.

Dear Miss Feeley: We are in our later 20's and have one child aged 2. My husband has an income of $500 a month after deductions are made.

* * *

I would like to know approximately how much to allow for basic expenses and approximately how much we could hope to accumulate in a savings account over the next year.

Mrs. R., Clarendon Hills, Ill.

Dear Mrs. R.: If you were starting from scratch, with none of the committments which you undoubetedly have at the moment, this would be a reasonable monthly guide:

Housing, $95; household operating costs including utilities, $45; food, $105; clothing, $40; savings, $50; personal expenses for you and your husband, $45; miscellaneous, gifts, contributions, $30; medical costs, $30; recreation, vacation, $20; car operating costs, $40; total, $500.

That $50 for savings, of course, should include life insurance unless your husband's deductions already provide for it. The combined basic expenses — housing, food and clothing — amount to less than 58 per cent of your take home pay.

This is a fine idea when you're trying to build up some savings — if you can manage it. It's not always possible. But just don't, let these basics add up to more than 58 per cent, or you'll run into trouble.

I suggest you write down your actual expenses, as of now, and compare them with this budget. See how close you can come to matching the figures.

(You can write to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. She will answer questions of widest interest in her column.)

People Leave, but Flies Happy With Cuba Life

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)— If you shoo a fly in a Cuban concentration camp, you get swatted, a refugee said today.

Alejandro Aguero, 25, one of 54 exiles who arrived in five small boats yesterday from Cuba, said he served 10 days in such a camp.

"Flies were thick there because of lack of sanitary facilities, and they would get in our food and on our person," Aguero said. "But we were supposed to let them bite us. Part of our punishment, I guess. If we shooed them, guards would hit us with sticks."

Aguero, a student, said he was sent to the camp for not attending classes.

Murderer in Wales Kills Six in Family

LLANHARAN, Wales (AP)—Six persons were slain today in a house only a few hundred yards from Glamorgan County police headquarters.

The dead were a widow, her daughter, the daughter's estranged husband and the couple's three children, aged 6, 8 and 16. Police were called by the widow's son after he stopped at the house on his way to work and got no response to his knocking on the locked front door.

U.S. exports of farm products in 1963 were about eight per cent higher than the $5,031 million in 1962.

Starts Right Out With Crosby Joke

Linda Hope a Chip Off the Old Block?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — There's a new hope on the television screen tonight and her name is Linda.

THOMAS

The daughter of Bob Hope makes her debut tonight on her father's show. She plays Miss November in "Her School for Bachelors," in which Bob plays owner of a girlie magazine and night club.

Linda is 22, and she explained why she had waited so long to make her debut: "I wasn't sure show business was ready for any more Hopes. Look at all the Crosbys it had taken!"

★ ★ ★

Besides, she wanted to enter the family profession prepared. With that in mind, she has been taking lessons in acting from Agnes Moorehead. She studies both in private with Miss Moorehead and in group classes.

PAST TEACHER

She graduated from St. Louis University in Missouri and taught English for a couple of years at Our Lady Queen of Angels high school in downtown Los Angeles.

She continues to teach one day a week, but now she is giving serious thought to a career in entertainment. She saw her chance for a break when she found the script of "Her School for Bachelors" at the Hope Manse.

★ ★ ★

She landed the part as one of the magazine dollies. Nine lines and everything. She confessed it was not really her acting debut. She had appeared in one of Bob's films, "That Uncertain Feeling."

"No lines in that one," she admitted. "In fact, no face. I was standing at a filing cabinet with my back to the camera."

BIGGER THINGS

She's hoping for bigger things, especially in the field of light comedy or drama. But she admitted that her interest leans more toward direction. She plans to go to Europe this spring with the intention of studying the methods of Ingmar Bergman, Tony Richardson and others.

What about the rest of the family?

"Tony seems to be thinking about show business," Linda reported. "I talked to him on the phone the other night and he told me he was writing a movie script. I don't know how he finds the time, because he's going to Harvard Law School.

"Nora, who's in high school, seems to be very interested in the singing and dancing field. As for Kelly, his biggest problem is getting through high school. His interests appear to be more in the field of oceanography."

BACK TO CAREER?

Linda added that their mother had been expressing a desire to resume her singing career, especially after Kathryn Crosby appeared on Bing's television special. Bob's reply: "Television won't be ready for you until they develop a cinemascope screen."

★ ★ ★

Said Linda: "That's not true, of course, because mother has an excellent figure. That's just Dad's way."

AP Photofax

FATHER, DAUGHTER ACT—Blonde Linda Hope makes her television debut on her father, Bob Hope's, show tonight portraying Miss November in "Her School for Bachelors." Linda is 22 and the first of the Hope children to go into show business.

Howl by Dog-Lovers 'Muzzles' State Ban

LANSING (AP) — Dogs have won a victory over people.

The State Conservation Commission admits it might have been barking up the wrong tree on the idea of banning dogs from state parks and recreation areas.

There was so much howling about it by dog-lovers that the department backed down.

Director Gerald Eddy said the antidog edict won't be in force this year.

MAKE STUDY

When in doubt, any government department figures, make a study so: "In view of the controversy and some misunderstanding by the public which have developed as the result of the Conservation Commission's tentative approval for a change in the park rules and regulations concerning dogs, the park section will. . . ."

Then Eddy orders that:

—A study and survey be made of the dog problem.

— Take steps to acquaint the public with the problem.

NOTHING DONE

"This means that nothing will be done this year" said Eddy, who is stepping down as chief of the department.

Arthur Elmer, chief of the parks division of the department, had urged the ban.

★ ★ ★

Surveys showed, he said, that park users were 3-1 against dogs. Some very serious dog-bite cases have been reported, Elmer said, mostly involving children.

The main problem, Elmer said, is dog litter and the dogs howling and fighting at night and keeping campers awake.

TIME AND PLACE

"I think there is a time and a place for dogs," said Elmer. "This is up to the commission to decide."

Elmer suggested, as a compromise, that dogs be banned only from the more heavily-visited parks.

California, Ohio and Florida, he reported, currently ban dogs from their state parks.

Gallup Blasts Method of Picking Candidates

CHICAGO (AP) — George H. Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion, said in a speech at Chicago that a new method is needed for selecting political candidates.

"Party conventions resemble tribal rituals," said Gallup. "Almost everything about them is phony. The spectacular campaigns and 'give 'em hell' speeches reduce office seeking to the intellectual level of professional wrestling."

Woman Gets Danish Post

Ex-New Jersey Mayor Named Envoy to LBJ

MRS. WHITE

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — U.S. diplomacy in Denmark is going to have a feminine touch again.

For the third time, the United States has named a woman as envoy to Copenhagen. Katharine E. White of New Jersey, the new U.S. ambassador, succeeds William McCormick Blair Jr., whose resignation was announced Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Blair refused to comment on Danish newspaper reports that he will return to the United States to run President Johnson's election campaign.

President Kennedy named Blair ambassador three years ago, and for 11 years before that he was one of Adlai E. Stevenson's closest associates.

NO DATE SET

No date was announced for Mrs. White to take over the Copenhagen post.

Mrs. White, 58, a grandmother and former mayor of Red Bank, N.J., is among the first of 50 women Johnson hopes to name to top posts.

★ ★ ★

"This administration is not running a stag party," Johnson told the Women's National Press Club March 4 in announcing the appointment of Mrs. White and nine other women to high-level jobs. Johnson said then the country of her assignment would be disclosed later.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. White and her husband, Arthur J. White, a New York broker, are on vacation in Spain. They are due home March 24.

NO COMMENT

In Madrid, Mrs. White declined to comment on her appointment because she had no official word of it. But she said Denmark is "a place I know well and think is wonderful."

The United States has only one woman ambassador. Miss Frances E. Willis, a career diplomat, represents the U.S. in Ceylon, which has a woman prime minister, Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike.

★ ★ ★

Denmark was host to the first woman to head a U.S. diplomatic mission abroad, and to America's first woman ambassador as well.

★ ★ ★

The pioneer was Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of three-time presidential candidate William Jennings Bryan. President Franklin D. Roosevelt named her minister to Denmark in 1933.

Bill for Longer Trucks Stays Alive in Senate

LANSING (AP) — A bill to permit the use of 60-foot car haulaways on state highways survived its initial Senate test Thursday when a motion to kill it died 13-10.

★ ★ ★

Proponents of the bill said it is needed to improve Michigan's competitive situation — both in trucking and the automotive industry — with respect to neighboring states which allow the longer carriers.

Germans Skeptical Bormann in Brazil

BONN (UPI) — Observers here viewed with skepticism today the report that former Hitler deputy Martin Bormann is alive in Brazil's Mato Grosso state.

★ ★ ★

They pointed out that Bormann has previously been reported sighted in Italy, the Andes and Turkestan, but none of the reports has been verified.

This time the report on Bormann was made by a man who turned himself in to police at Sao Vicente, Brazil, and claimed he was Richard Bohrmann, Martin's younger brother. He insisted the family name was originally spelled with an H.

Martin Bormann's only known brother was named Albert. His whereabouts is not known.

★ ★ ★

Richard Bohrmann said he has not seen his brother since 1945, but heard from an old acquaintance 15 months ago that Bormann was living in a place called Vila Brasilia near the city of Dourados in southern Mato Grosso state.

RIDING IN JUNGLE

A few years ago, another man claimed he had met Bormann in Mato Grosso state. He said the ex-Nazi was riding along a jungle path on a mule.

Brazilian officials apparently made no attempt to locate Bormann in the sparsely populated state, which is almost twice as large as Texas.

Since he disappeared in the wreckage of Berlin when the Russians captured it at the end of World War II, Bormann has been reported seen:

- Riding a motorcycle down a highway near Munich, Germany.
- In a Monastery in Italy.
- Near the summit of a mountain in the Andes.
- Jumping out of a bus in Sao Paulo, Brazil.
- Sitting in a cafe in Algiers.
- Working for the Soviet Union in Turkestan.

A number of persons who were with Bormann when he tried to escape through Russian lines after Hitler's suicide in a Berlin bunker on April 30, 1945, reported they saw him killed by Red Army tank fire.

U.S. Probes Downing of Viet Plane

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — American authorities are investigating the possibility that a Cambodian fighter plane shot down a Vietnamese spotter plane flown by an American near the Cambodian border Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The American pilot was injured and his Vietnamese observer killed in the crash, which occurred during a Vietnamese air strike on a village the Cambodians claimed was in their territory.

American sources said circumstances surrounding the shooting down of the L19 plane were "extremely unusual." They claimed the plane was hit a mile inside South Viet Nam territory, but the border is poorly defined in that area.

VIET PLANE

It was first believed that a Vietnamese fighter-bomber unintentionally hit the low-flying spotter plane while strafing the village. But authorities now feel that a foreign aircraft, probably Cambodian, may have been in the area at the time.

★ ★ ★

The Cambodian government charged that the Vietnamese forces violated the Cambodian frontier, killing several persons and wounding others. Cambodia asked the International Control Commission to investigate.

Hospitalized Glenn Still Planning to Run

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Astronaut John Glenn, recovering here from a brain concussion, still "has every intention" of making his campaign for the U.S. Senate in Ohio, his doctor says.

It will be a week or 10 days before a decision is made on just when Glenn will be able to campaign, said Dr. Earl W. Brannon at an Air Force hospital.

Scooter Mishap Injures Painter Wyeth, Wife

CHADDS FORD, Pa. (AP) — Painter Andrew Wyeth and his wife, Betsy, were injured in a motor scooter accident in the driveway of their home at Chadds Ford, Pa.

★ ★ ★

They were trying out scooters brought home by their son Jamie, 17, and a friend, actor Lee Kinsolving. Wyeth, 46, suffered a broken left foot. Mrs. Wyeth suffered a concussion. The hospital reported she was in fair condition.

LETTERS...

From The Voice of The People!

A reader objects to the proposed legislation for "Public Flogging". A mother appreciates the services of the local library. A motorist finds the license office a disgrace. A taxpayer sounds off on limitations of deductions for alimony.

Letters from the people to The Pontiac Press range the whole field of human interest and emotion. A writer tells of delays in receiving his mail. Another comments favorably upon an editorial proposing a University for average students. A third analyzes and appraises a local murder trial.

Letters may be critical, informative, approving, disapproving. They may be impassioned, calm with logic, or blaze with anger and protest. They may touch on questions of citizenship, social relationships, politics, education, business, religion, local government — each facet of the daily news encourages free and widespread discussion, and these views — pro and con — find their way into the "Voice Of The People" columns of The Pontiac Press.

If you are not a reader of "The Voice Of The People", get acquainted with it soon. It is a regular, daily feature of The Pontiac Press.

SPRING IS HERE—Mallards taking flight from the edge of open water on an area lake herald the return of spring to Oakland County. Ice is fast receding from the shorelines and the last snow is melting off banks sheltered from the sun. Large flights of ducks and geese are winging northward. Many daily on the the county's multitude of waterways before continuing toward breeding grounds in the north. Most of the fowl won't be back until October when the hunters will be waiting for them.

Waterford Board Okays School Boundary Changes

Several changes in elementary school attendance areas were approved last night by the Waterford Township Board of Education.

Effective next September, the changes were necessary because two new schools will open in the fall.

The new Silver Lake School district will include the southeastern portion of the present Adams School area. Some 180 to 200 pupils are affected.

★ ★ ★

Designated as the district for the new Riverside School will be a rectangular area bounded by M59 on the north, Crescent Lake Road to the east, Pontiac Lake Road on the south and Airport Road to the west.

NEW BOUNDARIES

Because the Silver Lake School will take approximately half the present pupils from the Adams School, new boundaries for Adams have been established.

The southern boundary will be a line beginning at the corner of Shawnee and School House streets extending southwesterly to Loon Lake. The western boundary will be the culvert between Wormer and School House lakes.

The canal between Wormer and Mohawk lakes will continue the boundary which will follow the shoreline of Mohawk Lake to the Waterford district line on the east.

★ ★ ★

Since the Lutes School area will lose to the Riverside area residences inside a triangle bounded by Pontiac Lake Road, Crescent Lake Road and the Clinton River, it will gain a portion of the present Stringham School area.

STREETS INCLUDED

This will include the following streets: Fenmore, Filer, Hobson, Gilboe, Christy, Lyford, Siebert, Norway and both sides of Elizabeth Lake Road, north from Siebert.

The Waterford Center School area will yield the area bounded by the east side of Airport Road, the south side of M59, the Clinton River and the north side of Pontiac Lake Road to the new Riverside School.

Waterford Center will receive from the Williams Lake School area the following streets: Irwin, Harger, Groves, Dwight and Alma from M59 to Dwight. This area includes about 90 pupils.

★ ★ ★

The Four Towns School district will lose all of Bloomfield Knolls to the Haviland School area.

OTHER INTACT

All other elementary school areas will remain intact.

In other business at last night's meeting at Schoolcraft School, the board authorized reinvestment of $14,000 in United States Treasury Bills for 180 days at an interest rate of 3.71 per cent.

Board members also approved the purchase of seven pianos for replacement in elementary schools. Cost of the pianos will be approximately $4,900.

Several audio-visual aids and other items of equipment were approved for purchase under the National Defense Education Act.

★ ★ ★

Also, the board heard a report by Robert Scrivens, mathematics consultant for the school system, on some of the new mathematics programs being offered.

MATH PROGRAM

Scrivens also said that the recently completed mathematics program for parents was well attended.

In other business, the board acknowledged the potential traffic problem of the two bridges over the Clinton River in the vicinity of the new Riverside School.

Board members agreed to meet with subdivision groups to discuss a solution.

2 Hospitalized in Area Crash

3 Vehicles Involved in Waterford Township

Two persons were hospitalized at 9:56 p.m yesterday with injuries suffered in an auto accident at West Walton and Addie, Waterford Township.

Jackie Langley, 19, of 6564 Cloverton, Waterford Township, a passenger in a car driven by his brother Clarence, 21, of the same address, is in fair condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital with facial cuts.

Eleanor Peters, 32, of 1343 Jeffwood, Waterford Township, driver of the other car, suffered a broken rib and is in satisfactory condition at the hospital.

Clarence Langley told police he was driving east on West Walton when Miss Peters' westbound car turned left in front of his.

A third car driven by Robert Haugh, 27, of 328 North Hill Circle, Rochester, struck the rear of Langley's car after it had been disabled by the first accident.

Haugh told police he was driving east on Walton and couldn't avoid hitting the car, which was partly in his lane.

Find Unidentified Man Shot to Death in Ditch

PAW PAW (AP) — Gunshot wounds apparently caused the death of an unidentified man whose body was found in a ditch southwest of here, state police said today.

They said the man was a homicide victim after medical findings that wounds from a 22 or 32-caliber weapon probably caused the death.

By County GOP Leaders

Templin Backed for Prosecutor

By JIM DYGERT

To the surprise of no one, the Oakland County Republican executive committee last night endorsed Senior Assistant Prosecutor Robert L. Templin for appointment as county prosecutor.

As expected, the GOP leaders spurned a compromise idea of appointing Chief Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long as an interim prosecutor who would not seek election this fall.

This proposal was put forth by some of the former Republicans among the county's seven Circuit Court judges as a way to avoid giving any of three announced candidates the advantage of incumbency in the GOP primary.

The three announced candidates are Templin, Jerome K. Barry and William E. Lang—all senior assistant prosecutors.

★ ★ ★

Whether Templin or Long will become the appointed prosecutor will be up to a majority of the county's seven judges. They have the task of filling the vacancy Republican George F. Taylor will leave when he resigns March 31 to run for Congress.

Five of the judges, however, are former Republicans who count on GOP backing at election time even though they run on a nonpartisan ballot.

Three of them were appointed last year by Republican Gov. George Romney and will be facing election for the first time this year.

Only one ballot was needed for the GOP committee to decide on its recommendation, which was to be forwarded to the judges today. The judges are expected to meet on the matter Monday.

Most of the county's top Republicans were strongly behind Templin because he has been the most active party worker of the three announced candidates and they had committed their support to him.

AFTER INTERVIEW

The committee's voting came after it interviewed Templin, Barry, Lang and a surprise applicant, Royal Oak attorney Donald A. Brown.

A former assistant prosecutor and 1958 candidate for lieutenant governor on the GOP ticket, Brown had been reported interested in the post, but had made no announcement of candidacy.

Lake Orion Man Seated as Chief of Engineer Unit

Oakland County chapter of the American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers last night installed Albert Post in his second term as chairman-delegate.

Post of 1253 Randall, Lake Orion, is a manufacturer's agent.

Installed as first vice chairman was Paul Anderson, 440 Elm, Rochester, chief draftsman for Beaver Precision Products.

William Snow, 6206 Grace K, Waterford Township, a Fisher Body Division die-maker, took office as second vice chairman.

Again taking the posts they held previously were John S. Sulo, secretary, and Wallace M. Morgan, treasurer. Both are manufacturing engineers at Fisher Body Division.

State Road Toll at 399

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic accidents have killed 399 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The highway death toll at this date last year was 285.

Sentence Date Set in Assault

Two men accused of robbing a Pontiac policeman at knife point will be sentenced April 7 for assault with intent to commit unarmed robbery.

Major Finley, 19, of 59 Chapman and James Gibson, 23, of 520 Franklin were permitted to plead guilty to the lesser charge before Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn although they originally were charged with armed robbery.

Finley, Gibson, and a third man were accused of stopping police officer Norman Kilmer, 23, Jan. 11 while he was driving in the Bagley-Wessen area and robbing him of his wallet.

The third man, Robert A. Miles, 23, of 184 Prospect stopped when Kilmer drew his revolver and ordered the three to stop fleeing. Miles later pleaded guilty to armed robbery and is now serving a prison term.

★ ★ ★

Finley and Gibson were arrested later.

To Receive Project Bids Next Week

Construction bids on a $7-million central water system for Waterford Township will be received Monday and Wednesday by the Oakland County Board of Public Works.

The project is being divided into three major contracts because of its size.

Bids received at 10 a. m. Monday will be to construct and equip a water building, construct three storage tanks and install 250,000 feet of pipe.

On Wednesday, bids will be taken at 10 a. m. on 218,000 feet of pipe and at 3 p. m. on 245,000 feet.

Construction is slated to begin within two weeks after bids for a bond issue come in March 31. The project is to be completed by the end of this year.

CONNECTION CHARGES

Bonds to finance construction will be retired over 30 years through connection charges and other revenues from the system.

Several existing community water systems will be tied into the central system.

Others using private wells will be able to convert to the central system.

★ ★ ★

Water will be supplied by township wells.

Car Crash Kills Man

ATHENS (AP) — Harold Edgell, 63, of Battle Creek was killed today when his car and a truck collided two miles south of here.

World News

Religious War Is Feared

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A new outbreak of religious rioting was reported today in central India, raising the threat of new large-scale battles between Hindus and Moslems.

★ ★

Seven Moslems were reported killed and several injured in Raigarh, a jute mill town in Madhya Pradesh State.

★ ★

Arson and rioting were reported in three other towns in the state.

About 20 Moslems were killed Monday night in rioting in Calcutta, on India's east coast. Other parts of the nation reported unrest.

★ ★ ★

Such incidents in the past have led to retaliatory attacks by Moslems on the Hindu majority in India and anti-Hindu violence in neighboring Pakistan, which is predominantly Moslem.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A terrorist placed a homemade bomb in a milk can aboard a bus carrying U.S. military officers today, but the bomb failed to explode.

★ ★ ★

The top third of the can contained milk and the lower compartment was filled with powder to which a pull-type fuse, believed of Chinese Communist manufacture, had been attached. There was no immediate explanation of why the bomb failed to explode.

Viet Film Set by Broomfield

Twenty minutes of movie film he shot last fall in war-torn South Viet Nam will be shown at 8 p.m. Monday in Birmingham Community House by U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County.

Broomfield said today he also will answer questions and explain to his constituents the strategy in the southeastern Asia country's efforts to oust Communist guerrillas with U.S. assistance.

The gathering will be informal and open to anyone interested, he said.

The film was taken during Broomfield's visit to South Viet Nam with seven other congressmen on a two-week inspection tour of southeast Asia trouble spots.

★ ★ ★

Fifth-ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee and ranking GOP member of the Far East subcommittee, Broomfield was ranking Republican on the trip, which ended shortly before former South Viet Nam premier Ngo Diem was overthrown and killed.

E. Dennis Dionne

E. Dennis Dionne has just been appointed Assistant manager of the Waldron Hotel by Harold J. Brown, general manager.

Dionne came to the Waldron one and one-half years ago in the capacity of desk clerk and has more recently handled the bookings of meetings and functions. In the future he will assume charge of the function and promotion departments, along with various other executive duties.

The Waldron is presently enjoying a general increase in business and therefore finds it necessary to accelerate its expansion plans.

Expansion of the Tempest room is now under way due to the tremendous increase in the popularity of the buffet attraction.

In addition to the noontime buffet and the evening buffet, the Waldron is also pleased to announce the opening of a breakfast buffet served daily and Sunday. This additional service now offers to the public and to its guests a complete buffet service seven days and nights a week.

The same fine quality and quantities that are found in the noontime and evening buffets may also be found in the breakfast buffet. The same "All you can eat" motto prevails.

Blue Chips Take Sharp Losses

Stock Mart Decline Widens

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market today widened its decline, blue chips taking fairly sharp losses, as the list continued a corrective process of its prolonged climb to new peaks. Trading was moderately active early this afternoon.

* * *

Key stocks fell from fractions to a point or more.

Steels, motors, oils, airlines, chemicals, utilities, drugs and electronics were among the losers.

NEWS IS GOOD

The general background of economic news remained good.

Brokers said, however, that the auto stocks may have reflected some fear over the size of union contract demands, now that the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers Union has opened its convention in Atlantic City.

* * *

Wall Streeters were also talking about the approach of the April 15 income tax deadline as a reason for selling stocks to meet tax payments.

Another big factor was American Telephone stocks rights offer which will sop up about $1.25 billion of investors cash to enable them to subscribe to AT&T stock.

AVERAGE OFF

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .8 at 302.3, with industrials down 1.3, rails unchanged and utilities off .5.

Prices declined in slow trading on the American Stock Exchange. Down more than a Corporate bonds were mixed with rails higher. U. S. Government bonds were unchanged to higher in light dealings over the counter.

2nd Army Test Failed by Clay

Heavyweight Champ Won't Be Inducted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army said today heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay failed his second preinduction examination and is "not qualified for induction into the Army under applicable standards."

* * *

The Army made no mention of which examination Clay failed. Rumors have been heard for several days that he failed the mathematics portion of the test.

The Army said only: "Tests given Clay included measurement of aptitudes for various skills needed in military service."

SECOND TEST

Clay was given a second test after it was determined that the results of his first examination were inconclusive, the Army said.

"Interviews conducted by experts in the field of testing and analysis of results of the two tests indicate that Clay put forth his best efforts on both occasions," the Army said.

* * *

Clay won the heavyweight championship earlier this year from Sonny Liston.

In New York, Clay said he first heard the news of his rejection by the Army in a telephone call from his mother.

"They had to notify me first," the heavyweight champion said. "I got the news about a half-hour before it was announced in Washington.

* * *

He declined to describe his reaction to the news.

"It's the Army's decision," he said from his quarters in a Harlem hotel. "The Army's the boss. I don't want to say anything about it."

ASKED PLANS

Asked about his plans for a world tour, which he earlier had said he probably would make if he didn't have to go into the military service, Clay said:

"I'm working on that, but I may have a fight first."

He said he would like to have another fight within the next three or four months.

* * *

He was asked if he wanted to meet Sonny Liston, the man from whom he wrested the crown at Miami Beach on Feb. 25.

"If he's ready, I'll meet him," Clay replied. "I'll meet any qualified contender."

Grain Prices Mixed on Board of Trade

CHICAGO (AP)—Transactions were somewhat mixed and prices generally little changed today in slow grain futures activity.

Brokers said speculators appeared to be shifting positions both ways in the absence of any new market influences.

Wheat was 1⅜ cents a bushel lower to ¼ higher near the end of the first hour, May $1.94⅞; soybeans ¼ higher to ⅝ lower, May $2.60¾; corn unchanged to ⅜ lower, May $1.22⅛; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, May 65¾ cents; rye ¾ to 1¼ lower, May $1.31¾.

Europe's Economy Due to Keep Rising

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Europe's economy is due to keep on rising and so are the opportunities for American sales there. That is the happy prediction of American international bankers scanning the latest trade figures.

DAWSON

They also note that the United States sells much more to Europeans than it buys from them. With European production costs now on the way up, the markets look even better for the Yankee trader — unless European nations restore some of the old barriers against American goods.

* * *

Europe's gross national product should go up between 4 and 5 per cent a year through the rest of this decade in the view of economists at the Chase Manhattan Bank, New York. And since the population growth will be less than 1 per cent a year, the rise in this value of total production of goods and services should mean an even faster increase in the standard of living in Europe than in the United States — in other words, larger markets overseas.

Rising costs of production and increased prices are already plaguing the European Common Market, economists at Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., New York, point out. The trend seems still higher.

LESS COMPETITION

For American producers this means less competition in many markets — those in Europe, in the rest of the world, and also here at home where foreign imports have been a problem for some industries.

The six Common Market nations are France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. Their trade deficit with the United States was $2.5 billion in 1963. U. S. businessmen sold 13 per cent more goods there last year than they did in 1962, but in turn imported only 5 per cent more.

* * *

Production costs, and prices, have been rising fast in Europe. Since 1960 wage increases outran productivity gains by three to one in the manufacturing industries of some of the bigger industrial nations. Britain has had the same experience.

Labor cost per unit of output has stayed about level in the United States between 1960 and 1963 while it was rising in France, Germany, Italy and in Great Britain.

CONTINUING RISE

But the continuing rise in their general economies leads the economists at the Chase Manhattan to predict that by 1970 the after-tax personal incomes of these industrial countries will rise enough to make ownership ratios of refrigerators, washing machines, and television sets comparable to those already in effect in the United States.

* * *

The bank also tells American businessmen to watch for another development: upgrading both in quality and size of the appliances Europeans can buy. This would bring the American models into better competitive range.

And the final American touch in the European economy, the bankers think, will be the spread of instalment buying. They see room for a great increase in instalment borrowing there. In the Common Market and the United Kingdom the total instalment credit outstanding is now under $6 billion, compared with the U. S. debt of about $50 billion.

But the European consumers are getting the idea fast. And Americans can look for this and other factors to combine in opening new trade opportunities — if Europe doesn't get too protectionist-minded.

Area Hospital Represented at Meeting

ROCHESTER — The Haven Hospital and Psychiatric Center is being well represented at the annual meeting of the Central Neuropsychiatric Hospital Association in Chicago. The two-day meeting started yesterday.

* * *

Dr. Ralph Green, medical director of The Haven, is president of the association. In addition to presiding at the meeting, he will participate in the program by presenting a paper on "An Approach to Interdepartmental Integration in the Hospital".

Graham Shinnick, business manager of The Haven is chairman of the business section, and Mrs. Jean Dudley, director of nursing, heads up the Nursing Section at this CNPHA meeting.

Both are in charge of the program for their respective sections.

* * *

In addition, The Haven Hospital will be represented by Dr. Lawrence Koltonow, assistant medical director and Miss Norma Boyd, assistant director of nursing.

* * *

The Central Neuropsychiatric Hospital Association consists of twenty selected private psychiatric hospitals and is the oldest established group in its field.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I am a widow of 93. I own Container Corp., Continental Can and Union Carbide. I don't seem to be getting much action from these three stocks. What do you think of switching them into American Telephone and General Motors? I want growth with secure income." L. S.

A) The three stocks you now own are "name" stocks, but they can in no way be characterized as growth issues. Container's share earnings last year were the same as in 1956. Continental Can's net per share for 1963 was below the levels for the mid-50's and Union Carbide's last year results were about even with 1962 but much lower than in 1959.

I believe in your position you would do well to switch to Telephone and General Motors. You might also add Texaco, which offers growth and well-protected 3 per cent return.

* * *

Q) "What rate of interest do Series E bonds pay? Can they be called at any time? What other bonds can you suggest that would be absolutely safe and pay 4 per cent tax-free?" R. C.

A) I should like to correct a misapprehension.

Series E bonds are not — as you seem to believe — exempt from Federal taxation. They yield 3¾ per cent if held to maturity, and are not subject to call. Since these bonds accrue interest and pay nothing until redemption or maturity, Federal income tax is deferred until either of these events occurs.

If you wish 4 per cent on tax-exempts, you will have to buy second quality bonds.

I suggest that you lower your sights a little. There are California 3.40's of 1992 (when issued) available to yield 3.40 per cent. This rate—under present market conditions—is about as high as you can get on a tax-exempt bond with absolute safety.

Will Stay in Office at Johnson's Disposal

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dean Rusk seems likely to stay on as Secretary of State through the November elections, but what will happen after that is uncertain.

Sources close to Rusk said he has given no thought to resigning now.

As they pointed out that it is up to the voters in November to name the next President, and it will then be up to the chief executive—whether President Johnson or someone else — to select his Cabinet.

Pending these decisions, they said, Rusk can hardly say that he will be staying on for another four years.

The American Broadcasting Co., which said yesterday that Rusk would step down after the elections, also reported that Pierre Salinger planned to resign as White House news secretary.

PREDICTION TRUE

He did, and his top assistant, Andrew T. Hatcher, also quit.

Rusk, in Salt Lake City for a speech, told newsmen: "The day after President Kennedy died, President Johnson asked me to stay on. I am at his disposal.

"I have no plans to resign at all. The President and I haven't discussed the matter."

In Washington a State Department spokesman promptly denied that Rusk plans to resign. Even if he plans to, a denial would be expected at the State Department because a secretary of state's influence with foreign leaders would tumble fast if they thought he was on his way out.

Pooch Has a Nose for Honest Dollar

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — A dachshund named Katrina is very much American and very patriotic, too.

* * *

Henry Jacobs, Katrina's owner, says he will toss a hatful of fake or foreign coins, intermingled with genuine American coins, on a floor and Katrina will ferret out the good American money.

Jacobs says Katrina's scent for a good coin is so good she can differentiate the genuine from the false in other people's coins.

A neighbor once tried to palm off a false half-dollar that had been palmed off on him, but Katrina wouldn't take it.

News in Brief

A telephone booth break-in yesterday at 474 S. Sanford resulted in an estimated $75 damage to the booth and the theft of $40 from the coin box.

An envelope containing $119 was reported missing yesterday from the safe at Clark Gas and Oil, 382 Orchard Lake. The safe was not forced open.

A break-in of a cottage at 4557 Lakeview, Independence Township, was reported yesterday to sheriff's deputies. Loss has not been determined by owner Julian Kline of Detroit.

The Waterford Township Democratic Club's meeting scheduled for tomorrow has been canceled due to a conflict with the Jefferson-Jackson dinner the same night.

Prince Thanks Burglars for Breaking Into Safe

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — Sicilian Prince Gaetano Hardouin di Belmonte has asked police to thank two burglars who broke open his wall safe and fled with $320,000.

Police recovered the loot. The prince said he had not been able to get the safe open for 20 years and did not know it contained money. It had been locked since the death of his father.

Pressuring Poor Student May Not Help

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our 12-year-old son is in the sixth grade. Although he is above average in intelligence and in perfect health he is a very poor student.

DR. NASON

A private counseling and testing service reports him to be perfectly fit, but very lazy.

So my husband and I have laid down the law. No television for two weeks. After that, even weekends will depend entirely on his progress in school. We plan to check the school every other day.

Mrs. R. D.,
Washington Grove, Md.

Answer: At age 12 your son has firmly established habits of learning and the way he is going about it obviously is getting poor results. More of the same is not the answer.

Before you put pressure on him to spend more time studying, diagnose his poor learning habits and help him substitute more effective procedures. This calls for professional assistance.

Your school administrator should be able to refer you to a person skilled in this type of analysis and correction.

Dear Dr. Nason: My 16-year-old daughter just doesn't seem to have the will to want to learn. She has always had a reading problem. She has had private remedial reading lessons which she did not respond to.

She also had a summer course in remedial reading. I was told she would have to read to overcome her block but she rebels. The more we mention reading the more she goes into her shell.

She loves to dance and would like to take choreography in college, but the academic courses needed for college entrance seem too difficult for her. Can you suggest a possible solution?
Mrs. W.I., Wheaton Woods, Md.

Answer: Better reading appears to be the key to your daughter's success in academic courses and a chance at college. Your daughter's picture of herself as a person who cannot learn to read well will be difficult to change.

Because of your efforts to help her she may unconsciously associate you with the reading block in some way. If so, efforts on your part will make matters worse.

A person skilled in dealing with emotional reading blocks would be your best scource of help.

Your local superintendent of schools should be able to refer you to such an expert.

Dear Dr. Nason: I have a son in high school who needs a scholarship if he is to attend college. He is in the upper 10 per cent of his class in a small school that has no counselor.

How and where can he apply for scholarships?
Mrs. N.S.A., ———, Iowa

Answer: Your son, along with many students in small high schools, must take matters into his own hands.

He should let it be known that he plans to go to college and will need financial help. Talk over his financial problems with his principal.

His church, local service clubs and lodges are sources of information as to available college funds. Have him write the admissions officer of college of his choice.

By OSWALD JACOBY

West opened the six of diamonds against South's four spade contract. East won with the nine and took the second trick with the king. Then East led the jack.

JACOBY

South ruffed and started after trumps. East showed out on the second trump lead and South was doomed to lose his contract. Actually, he went down two tricks because West was unkind enough to ruff the third round of clubs.

South's whole exhibition had been very poor. To start with he had had a rush of honors to his head and insisted on playing spades instead of just raising his partner to three no-trump. Then he had played carelessly on the third diamond.

If he had only discarded a small heart on that lead the bad trump break would not have hurt him. West would have ruffed and could have led anything he wanted, but South would have made his 10 tricks.

Have you spotted any other mistakes on this hand?

There was one. East should have led the ace of diamonds instead of the jack at trick three. This would have set up dummy's queen for a discard.

But that discard would not have done South any good, provided West made sure that he ruffed with his long trump at exactly the right time.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Activity in connection with NEIGHBORS indicated. Highlight harmony, cooperation. Fine for becoming interested in new persons, projects. Emphasize research, original approach.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Key is SHARING. Includes activity in connection with hobby, gift or exciting project. Avoid being bogged down with unpleasant details. Fine for an evening on the town.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Spotlight on personality, personal convictions. Be definite, DYNAMIC. Say what you mean. Others will respond. Key is being able to expand point of view. Keep mind open.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Fine for attending theater. Become a part of creative endeavor, personal or otherwise. Enlarge horizons. Become more familiar with emotions OTHERS feel.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Exchange ideas. Make new friends by being outgoing. Express opinions. Fine for change, variety. Be willing to EXPERIMENT. Better to plan evening than act on impulse.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Emphasis on ACHIEVEMENT. Push forward in direction where ideals can be fulfilled. Take a chance on your abilities. Don't be timid, doubtful. Maintain POSITIVE attitude.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Fine for business dealings, making future plans. Avoid petty actions, thoughts. Be generous. Analyze personal needs, motives. Time when you can obtain greater wisdom.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Pleasant indications regarding SECURITY due. Important that you give of yourself — put forth ideas. Be especially considerate of marital or business partner.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): ADVENTURE indicated. Even the "adventure" of debate. Don't feel you have to agree with everyone. Ask provocative questions. Feel out the opposition. Let chips fall where they may.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Dig beyond surface indications. Many around you require praise, recognition. Give it! You'll be surprised at favorable response. Take initiative in being kind, understanding.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Excellent for entertaining. Emphasis on romance department. Also, great stress on need for SELF-EXPRESSION. Make others aware of your unique way of putting ideas across.

★ ★ ★

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY — you are capable of achieving much — but first you must seek out ambitions.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for CANCER. Special word to AQUARIUS: Social contact with fellow worker proves rewarding.

'More Against Rights Bill'

Dixie Senator Says Opposition Growing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Sparkman said today "voices from the precincts are growing louder" against provisions in the House-passed civil rights bill.

The Alabama Democrat declared in a speech prepared for Senate delivery that he was confident many senators originally dedicated to the bill now "are shaken in their judgments.

"They are shaken by what they have heard here, and yes, they are shaken by what they are hearing from back home."

Sparkman was listed as the opening Southern speaker in the 11th day of debate on the motion to take up the measure.

★ ★ ★

He was the latest among the Dixie forces to insist that opposition to the bill was growing in the Senate and around the country.

QUESTION RESPONSE

However, managers of the bill have responded to this with the question — if this is so, why don't you agree to a vote?

The Southerners made it plain yesterday there would be no votes until next week. Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., their leader, blocked a request of Democratic leader Mike Mansfield for a roll call on his preliminary motion Monday.

The word was passed, however, that this test would come probably on Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Sparkman centered much of his fire on the title of the bill dealing with desegregation of public facilities.

WAS KILLED

He said this section, together with other provisions of the bill, gave "new and elaborate powers" to the attorney general comparable to those in the old Title III of the 1957 civil rights bill. That title was killed in the Senate.

★ ★ ★

The language in the pending bill, Sparkman said, would enable federal officials "to get into more areas of life back in our smallest towns in villages as well as in metropolitan centers."

The senator said it was his understanding Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy did not want such powers.

SOLDIERS REST — George Hamilton, Vince Edwards, James Mitchum and George Peppard (from left) take a brief respite from battle in "The Victors," opening tonight at the Miracle Mile Drive-In. Hailed as an antiwar film, "The Victors" also stars Albert Finney, Melina Mercouri, Jeanne Moreau, Romy Schneider, Elke Sommer, Eli Wallach, Michael Callan, Peter Fonda and Senta Berger.

West Leaders Get Together for Meetings

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—Away from the tensions of world capitals, a hundred high-ranking leaders of Western governments meet here today for a diplomatic get-together.

There are no scheduled speeches. No papers will be delivered. The three days of meetings will go on behind closed doors.

★ ★ ★

Among those attending are Prime Minister Lester Pearson of Canada, George W. Ball, U.S. undersecretary of state, former U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Dirk U. Stikker, secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands, who will preside, commented:

★ ★ ★

"One of the greatest assets of the meetings is getting people together, getting them to know each other, thereby having them become friends. We don't aim at changing a country's policy or man's opinion."

Future Greek Queen Flies Back to School

ATHENS (AP) — Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark, 17-year-old fiancee of Greece's new King Constantine, flew from Athens to Switzerland today.

Sources in the Greek court said she would go to her Swiss school to pack and say goodbye to friends, then go home to Denmark. She and Constantine are to marry by the end of the year.

Vatican, Mindszenty Discuss End to Exile

BUDAPEST, Hungary (UPI) — Vatican envoys talked last weekend with Jozsef Cardinal Mindszenty about his possible departure from his self-imposed exile in the U.S. legation here, reliable sources said today.

Hungarian and U.S. diplomats refused to confirm or deny the report.

The sources said two priests from the Vatican discussed the question at the American legation here. The two Vatican representatives left Budapest earlier this week.

Mindszenty took refuge in the American legation Nov. 4, 1956, after Soviet forces crushed the Hungarian revoultion. He had been released by rebels from prison.

Progress had been made to resolve the Mindszenty case during the reign of Pope John XIII, but after the Pope's death the case lay dormant for several months.

TALKS RESUMED

However, the talks have been resumed recently.

There have been reports that Vatican and Hungarian authorities have been meeting secretly for several weeks in an undisclosed European city.

There reports have been strengthened by recent Hungarian overtures calling for an improvement of relations between Hungary and the United States.

Political sources here said that the cardinal himself has been reluctant to leave his native land.

SAFE EXIT

The Hungarians have been willing to guarantee his safe conduct exit, but only if he consents to leave the country.

But Mindszenty is reported to be insisting that the Communist authorities first clear him of all charges of treason.

Letter From Jackie Sold for $3,000

NEW YORK (AP) — A letter Mrs. John F. Kennedy wrote to an Englishman, rejecting his request for money, brought $3,000 at a public auction last night.

Charles Hamilton, who held the auction, said it was by far the highest price ever paid for a letter from a living person.

Alvin J. Slater, a 44-year-old Boston lawyer, was the successful bidder. He said he plans to keep the letter in his collection of autographs, which includes one of Abraham Lincoln. Slater outbid Louis C. Ostrer of Kings Point, N.Y., an insurance agent and stamp collector, who dropped out at $2,750.

Arrest 23 Negroes in Florida Protest

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Police arrested 23 Negroes Thursday night as demonstrators stepped up their drive to end segregation in downtown Jacksonville.

★ ★ ★

Twenty Negroes were arrested Wednesday in demonstrations against a hotel and several eating places. The trial of the 20 was postponed Thursday until March 25 after 200 Negroes gathered in front of the Municipal Court building, singing and praying.

★ ★ ★

Judge John Santora said there was too much noise to carry on the trial.

Between 1950 and 1960 the nation's population increased from 132 million to 180 million.

Old Alanson School Destroyed by Blaze

ALANSON (AP)—A fire broke out while students were at lunch Thursday and destroyed the old Alanson High School in a blaze which defied the efforts of firemen from four communities.

At its height, flames shot through the roof of the building and nearly 200 feet into the air. No one was injured.

Marty Allen Wins Bows on Liz's Fifth Vows

Rusk Blasts U.S. 'Quitters'

Says They're Playing Into Russian Hands

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Thursday night that if the country's "quitters" had their way, the U.S. would be playing into the hands of its adversaries.

"There are those," Rusk said, "who would quit the struggle by letting down our defenses, by gutting our foreign aid programs, by leaving the United Nations.

★ ★ ★

"They would abandon the field to our adversaries, which is what our adversaries want."

In a speech opeging a three-day meeting of the Western Political Science Association, Rusk said the State Department is working to build a decent world order "bit by bit."

He said the "world struggle is going well from our viewpoint.

"West Berlin remains free and prosperous," he said, "so does Western Europe as a whole. So does Japan. Many of the less developed nations have moved ahead impressively.

"Meanwhile, the Communist world is not only torn by disputes but beset with economic difficulties.

"The notion that communism is a short cut to the future for developing nations has been proved false."

Rusk noted that "we are living in a world of 120 foreign policies.

"We don't give orders to other nations—we don't believe in the kind of world in which any government takes its orders from others."

He said that world quarrels, no matter how "remote and complex," must involve the United States.

He added that as long as the possibility exists that minor quarrels can result in war, or a confrontation of the major powers, "The United States has a fundamental national security interest in the peaceful settlement of such disputes.

★ ★ ★

"The role of the peacemaker is usually thankless. But it is a responsibility we dare not shirk."

K Will Attend Egypt's Aswan Nile Diversion

CAIRO (AP)—The Egyptian government announced today that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will be present in May for the historic diversion of the Nile River into a new channel created by the Aswan Dam. The Soviets have provided much aid for the project.

On May 15 the Nile will be diverted into the channel which will house the Aswan Dam's giant electric generators when the project is completed. The main river itself is now being spanned by rock-filling operations forming the base of the dam itself. This operation will completely cross the river by May 15.

★ ★ ★

The Egyptians have planned a packed week of activities for Khrushchev, who will travel to Aswan in the special railroad car previously used by ousted King Farouk.

The giant dam will have cost $1 billion when completed in 1970.

Pastor's Keyed Up by Stormy Singers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pastor Wayne A. Eurich says the John H. Chapman family ought to be kicked out of church because they engaged in boisterous and uncouth singing during services.

But a judge says no.

Superior Court Judge McIntyre Faries ruled yesterday that Chapman, 49, and his daughter, Connie Ray, 22, may attend services at the Mar Vista Baptist Church.

Chapman's wife, Betty, 41, however, remains enjoined from attending church while the court hears further testimony.

★ ★ ★

She is accused of singing too loudly and deliberately off-key during services.

INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE

An injunction was granted in August 1961 against the entire family, but Judge Faries has refused to make it permanent, saying evidence of the uncouth singing, especially against the husband and daughter, was insufficient.

Eurich testified yesterday that Mrs. Chapman also disrupted services by "murmuring 'liar' and making faces."

Eurich also said Mrs. Chapman once raised a glass of communion wine in a toast to him, although she was not entitled to take communion because she was under disciplinary action.

★ ★ ★

EARLIER DISPUTE

Eurich told the court earlier that the disagreement between the church and the Chapmans began in August 1960 over arrangements of a wedding.

He said he was in Mexico when the ceremony took place and on returning found that Mrs. Chapman had threatened to punch a deacon on the nose.

★ ★ ★

Thereafter, he explained, the Chapman family was expelled by vote for un-Christian conduct, but, nonetheless, continued to attend services and business meetings.

LBJ Aide Eyes Senate Race in California

Quits Johnson Staff; to Tell Future Plans at Conference Today

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Pierre Salinger flew into his home town today after resigning as President Johnson's press secretary, apparently to seek a seat in the U. S. Senate.

Salinger would not say what his plans are, but told newsmen at San Francisco International Airport that he would hold a press conference to announce whether he will seek the Senate seat.

"It would be better if I don't say anything firm for another four or five hours," Salinger said.

It wasn't so much a question that the press secretary of two presidents intends to come home to run in a Democratic race which already has split the party.

★ ★ ★

It was, can he?

His eligibility, Salinger said, is one of the pressing subjects "to be discussed" prior to his press conference.

LEGAL ADVICE

He apparently was warmed with legal advice that there's nothing to prevent him from seeking the nomination for the seat of Democratic Sen Clair Engle in the June 2 primary.

Will Stay in Office at Johnson's Disposal

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dean Rusk seems likely to stay on as Secretary of State through the November elections, but what will happen after that is uncertain.

Sources close to Rusk said he has given no thought to resigning now.

As they pointed out that it is up to the voters in November to name the next President, and it will then be up to the chief executive—whether President Johnson or someone else — to select his Cabinet.

Pending these decisions, they said, Rusk can hardly say that he will be staying on for another four years.

The American Broadcasting Co., which said yesterday that Rusk would step down after the elections, also reported that Pierre Salinger planned to resign as White House news secretary.

PREDICTION TRUE

He did, and his top assistant, Andrew T. Hatcher, also quit.

Rusk, in Salt Lake City for a speech, told newsmen: "The day after President Kennedy died, President Johnson asked me to stay on. I am at his disposal.

"I have no plans to resign at all. The President and I haven't disscussed the matter."

By State House

Minimum Wage OK'd

LANSING (AP)—A state minimum wage proposal, highly-placed on Gov. Romney's list of priority legislation in this election year, was halfway along the road to becoming law today.

Overcoming opposition from rural members of Romney's own Republican Party, the bill cleared the House on a 91-13 vote yesterday and moved to the Senate.

It was a landmark vote for the House where minimum wage bills have died frequently in prior years and never before in the memory of House veterans—come to a vote.

Michigan is one of 17 states without a minimum wage law of some kind, despite repeated efforts dating back to 1937 to enact one.

★ ★ ★

A Romney-backed bill passed the Senate in 1963 but was killed in the House by opponents who stalled out the clock in the final night of the session.

14 AMENDMENTS

Although opposition to this year's bill came from both sides of the House and some 14 amendments were offered during lengthy final debate, the vote proved House GOP leaders correct in their assumption that the bill would pass easily.

House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, had predicted the bill would pass despite opposition from some Republicans.

All 13 votes against the measure yesterday were by Republicans, most from farm areas.

★ ★ ★

COMMITTEE STUDIES

The bill, drafted as the result of studies by a 1963 interim committee, is modeled on the federal law.

It calls for a graduated scale of minimum wages beginning at $1 per hour next Jan. 1, increasing to $1.15 and then $1.25 over the following two years.

Passed by the House exactly as it came from the labor committee, the proposal would cover some 100,000 persons in Michigan as of Jan. 1, 1964 and about 250,000 at top employment level, according to the best estimates available.

★ ★ ★

It would apply generally to such fields of employment as restaurants, hotels, car wash racks, hospitals and nursing homes and retail stores.

BEST JUDGMENT

Rep. Don Gordon, R-Leland, chief sponsor of the bill, said it "represents the best judgment of Republicans and Democrats who studied the subject."

Dispute centered around provisions to exclude persons under 18 and over 65, persons who work less than 13 weeks for the same employer in a year, and those who work for an employer with four or fewer employes.

★ ★ ★

Rural Republicans argued the 13-week provision could prove a "crippling blow" to many independent farmers who hire seasonal labor to pick crops but cannot afford wages of $1 per hour.

Democrats argued that exclusions in the bill would deprive many deserving persons of a minimum wage.

House minority leader Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, said it carries "an effective escape mechanism" for many employers, citing the age and 13-week exemptions and a provision allowing waitress tips to be included as salary in computing the wage in certain cases.

Soviets: Fliers' Fate Up to East Germans

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko said today that the fate of three U. S. fliers shot down in East Germany is "a matter for the East German Democratic Republic."

At the same time, Gromyko expressed Soviet concern about border violations and said that Moscow still wants better relations with the United States.

Gromyko is winding up an official visit to Sweden. He was asked at a news conference if he had studied and made any decision on the U.S. warning on Wednesday that improving relations between the United States and the Soviet Union would be jeopardized if the fliers continued to be held.

★ ★ ★

"I know the contents of the note very well," said Gromyko, "but this is really a matter for the East German authorities."

"I want to state that the most important thing in this connection is that states do not violate each others borders and not fly across or otherwise infringe on other territories. Nations should refrain from all incidents of this kind, to promote better international relations.

★ ★ ★

"The Soviet Union still wants better relations with the United States, as repeatedly stated earlier by Premier Khrushchev to President Kennedy and later also to President Johnson."

Gromyko's comment that the fliers were a matter for the East German government was a standard Soviet reaction

Spring's Here! (Shiver, Shake)

Our long-awaited spring officially blew in from the east this morning at 9:10 with cloudy skies and a threat of snow.

Pontiac area residents may expect snow mixed with rain late today with snow changing to snow flurries and turning colder late tonight or Saturday.

Temperatures will dip to a freezing 20 to 28 tonight and rise to 30 to 35 tomorrow.

Report End Is Near for Writer Behan

DUBLIN (UPI) — Playwright Brendan Behan's condition was reported deteriorating today, and a spokesman at Meath Hospital said the end was near.

★ ★ ★

"Behan's condition has gravely deteriorated in the past few hours," the spokesman said. "He is considerably weaker. This looks liked the end."'

The 41 - year - old dramatist sunk back into a deep coma today. A hospital spokesman said earlier Behan appeared to be near death but it was difficult to judge how long he could last.

Behan, who has been hospitalized for 11 days with jaundice complicated by diabetes, was reported "slightly worse" last night, but a spokesman said at that time he might continue to alternate between coma and semiconsciousness for days or even weeks.

★ ★ ★

Behan's wife, Beatrice, 36, remained confident that her husband could win his struggle for life.

AWAITS SURPRSIE

"Brendan will surprise everyone yet — he's used to doing it," she said.

New Attorney Takes Over

Lawyer Confident of New Ruby Trial

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby's new attorney is confident his client will be granted a new trial and will escape death in Texas' electric chair.

Percy Foreman, president of the National Association of Defense Attorneys and probably the best known criminal lawyer in Texas, agreed yesterday to succeed Melvin M. Belli as Ruby's chief counsel.

A Dallas jury sentenced Ruby to death Saturday for slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy, last Nov. 22.

Foreman, who has handled more than 700 capital offense cases and lost only one defendant to the electric chair, was hired by three brothers and a sister of Ruby hours after they fired Belli, a famous California attorney.

★ ★ ★

One of the remaining Ruby attorneys, Joe Tonahill of Jasper, Tex., said he would file a motion for a new trial in Judge Joe B. Brown's court today although Foreman has not said who his assistants will be.

SIGNED CONTRACT

Foreman said he signed a contract with Eileen Kaminsky, a sister of Ruby, and with three of Ruby's brothers, Hyman Rubenstein, Chicago, Earl Ruby, Southfield, Mich., and Sam Ruby, Dallas. The four drove from Dallas to Houston to see Foreman.

The family said Belli was fired by special delivery letter, signed by Jack Ruby and another sister, Eva Grant of Dallas, and mailed Wednesday night.

Belli arriving at his San Francisco home last night, said he will meet newsmen at his office today to make a statement.

"If we are successful in getting a reversal of this case and a new trial, I don't think Mr. Ruby will ever be executed," Foreman, 61, told newsmen.

The family said Foreman, a 210-pounder who stands 6-4, was their choice as chief attorney all along. They said they hired Belli after a go-between who approached Foreman crossed them up.

'Need More Men to Halt Road Deaths'

Acting Police Chief William K. Hanger, alarmed at the recent rash of traffic deaths in Pontiac, said that better traffic enforcement depends largely on more equipment and personnel.

"The answer is increased patrol and enforcement," Hanger noted. "We're undermanned and ill-equipped in many areas.

"I'm doing everything I can to get more men and equipment and have reassigned some men to traffic patrol in an effort to bolster enforcement," Hanger said.

Both Hanger and City Manager John F. Reineck asked motorists for support and cooperation.

★ ★ ★

Reineck, in a separate statement, said that "the recent wave of traffic slaughter in the city makes it mandatory that all of us pause and reexamine our driving habits.

NEED YOUR HELP

"The courts and law enforcement officers are doing everything humanely possible to stop this insane slaughter," Reineck noted, "but they desperately need the help of each individual driver and pedestrian."'

Reineck said he has ordered the police department to put a second radar car into operation.

After several months of no fatal accidents, traffic deaths in Pontiac have spiraled.

There are now seven for the year, five of them in the last four days, climaxed by a triple fatality on West Huron early yesterday morning.

TRAFFIC ENFORCEMENT

Hanger said the city's traffic enforcement index was roughly 11 now, compared to an index of 4 for the same period last year. The lower the figure, the more effective the enforcement.

"Oddly enough, we have the same number of fatal accidents this March as last March, but there have been two more deaths this month," Hanger said.

As for equipment needs, Hanger said that "we have quite a few cars now with 100,000 miles on them. As they get older we try to use them for plain-clothes work.

★ ★ ★

"The fact is that we pay more in a year to maintain an old car than it would cost to replace it with a new one," Hanger explained.

NINE CARS

He said that a minimum of nine police cars need replacing now.

"With more emphasis on traffic the last few months," he said, "we've increased our afternoon shift so that if one

Chief's Request a Seasonal City Woe

By DICK SAUNDERS

The police chief wants more men and more cars.

The need for more men and more equipment in Pontiac's Police Department has been almost a seasonal request.

Former Chief Joseph Koren asked for money to increase manpower and keep the fleet of patrol cars from growing old.

He usually hit the theme hard in late autumn, when the city budget was being prepared.

Unfortunately, there has been trouble on the income end for several years and the police department budget hasn't increased much.

★ ★ ★

The existence of a City Commission majority which felt the police department already was over budgeted didn't help any.

PREVIOUS ALLOCATIONS

In 1961, the police department got a $51,600 hike. A year later, the budget was increased about $3,000 more and stood then at $930,773.

Last year, Koren asked for a considerable increase to handle growing manpower and equipment problems. Former City Manager Robert A. Stierer recommended a $50,000 increase.

The commission knocked this down $55,000, and the police ended up with a budget $5,000 under the previous year.

Their budget allocation this year is down another $11,900.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army said today Heavyweight Champion Cassius Clay failed his second preinduction examination and is "not qualified for induction into the Army under applicable standards."

LBJ Handyman Press Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Reedy is a friendly, pipe-puffing giant of a man who is taking on the almost impossible task of trying to keep both the press and President happy about public relations.

GEORGE REEDY

Sunny, cigar-smoking Pierre Salinger suddenly quit this job of White House press secretary yesterday to try for the Democratic nomination for the Senate in California.

With him went Andrew T. Hatcher, the assistant press secretary to the President and one of the highest ranking Negroes in government.

For Reedy there is nothing like the break with the past that there is for Salinger.

HANDYMAN

Around the White House he has been one of the Johnson handymen with no clear-cut title.

Now he has a title and one of the roughest, most responsible publicity jobs on earth.

At times his voice will be the voice of the nation on foreign and domestic policy.

But since he has been so close to Johnson so long, Reedy at times may find that the boss is going to be his own press secretary.

EX-SCRIBE

Like Salinger, Reedy is a former newspaperman.

At 46, he is eight years older.

Like Salinger, Reedy enjoys good food and, like Salinger, he is on the rotund side but on a more massive scale.

★ ★ ★

THIRD OF WAY

From 265 or 270 pounds he is about a third of the way to the 200 the doctor recommends.

Reedy still was in a hospital yesterday, recovering from gall bladder trouble and doing some supervised dieting, when he got word of the forthcoming change.

He went to the White House for a joint appearance at his first press briefing and Salinger's last.

★ ★ ★

Saliner announced his own resignation and the appointment of Reedy.

The old and the new press secretary differ in many ways.

Salinger is short and has dark, slicked down hair.

Reedy is taller and his graying sandy hair sticks out as if he had been shocked.

★ ★ ★

Salinger Eying Senate Race

gery last August, but he has filed for reelection in the face of assertions by state Democratic leaders that he's too ill to campaign.

The U.S. Constitution requires only that a senator be 30 years of age and an inhabitant of the state.

Some election experts seemed to think that Salinger, 38, former San Francisco newspaper reporter, could qualify if he's primed to get his nomination papers in on time. The deadline is 5 p.m. today.

Others weren't so sure because he let his California residence lapse when he left for jobs that led to his post as press advisor to the late President John F. Kennedy and then President Johnson.

Democratic leaders expressed surprise over reports of Salinger's decision to jump into a political contest in a state where he once worked the hinterlands for other candidates.

Most of them, from Gov. Edmund G. Brown, on down, already have committed themselves for Engle or his chief opponent, State Controller Alan Cranston.

Brown, who has endorsed Cranston, remained silent on the possible entry of Salinger, who helped out in one of the governor's earlier campaigns.

BATTLEFIELD HELP — A wounded South Viet Nam soldier is carried by a comrade from a battle near the Cambodia border. The battle took place yesterday and featured a shoulder-to-shoulder charge by Communist Viet Cong guerrillas. Vietnamese are trying to clear the area of guerrillas and have been charged with violating the border.

16 Villagers Die in Viet Attack

Charges Yanks Aided Cambodia Raid

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI)—Prince Norodom Sihanouk charged today that U.S. military advisers were involved in a South Vietnamese attack on a Cambodian border village that killed 16 villagers yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Reports from the scene said South Vietnamese fighter-bombers and armored vehicles attacked the village of Chantreau and that three "white men" questioned prisoners in the village after the attack.

U.S. military advisers frequently accompany Vietnamese units on antiguerrilla drives around the Cambodian border.

Sihanouk, Cambodia's chief of state, charged in a radio broadcast that Americans were in the amphibious armored vehicles that moved in on Chantreau, firing at home guards who were armed only with hunting rifles.

Chantreau is four miles from Vietnamese territory.

PLANE DOWNED

He said a Vietnamese air force L19 observation plane shot down by Cambodian fighters during the attack would be brought to Phnom Penh for exhibition.

★ ★ ★

A U.S. military spokesman announced in Saigon that an American was injured in the crash of an observation plane yesterday.

Sihanouk was reported to have said the incident ruled out any chance of success for the negotiations on normalization of relations with South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Talks between Vietnamese and Cambodian delegations were to have begun here today.

NEWSMAN ON SCENE

UPI correspondent Veng Eng drove to Chantreau from Phnom Penh today and became the first newsman to reach the scene.

The talks on normalization of relations were aimed at restoring diplomatic contact and settling border disputes between South Viet Nam and its neutralist neighbor.

★ ★ ★

HOME GUARD

Villagers said that after the attack, five South Vietnamese helicopters circled Chantreau and one of them landed.

Several Vietnamese and three "white men" got out and questioned captured militiamen, they said.

The International Control Commission, which is in charge of keeping the peace in former French Indo-China, sent a team to the village to investigate the incident.

ICC members counted bodies and questioned survivors.

blamed entirely for the lack of money.

The problem is created largely by a shrinking tax base, increasing operational costs in all departments and limited millage.

Koren tried to explain his plight of enforcement versus funds last year in reply to mounting complaints from commissioners. The answer from a five-man majority of the commission was an order to Stierer to fire Koren.

STIERER FIRED

When Stierer refused, on grounds that he found no evidence to justify the move, the five-man commission majority fired Stierer.

Koren later was suspended and reinstated as traffic engineer, a position totally separated from the police department.

Koren had stated in his defense that a majority of the city's patrol cars were unfit for pursuit — a necessary part of traffic enforcement.

★ ★ ★

He said that a police car with more than 50,000 hard miles on it should be replaced. A check last September revealed that at least half of the police fleet was over the 50,000-mile mark—two were as high as 100,000 miles.

CARS UNWANTED

A survey of several other Michigan police departments, in cities comparable in size and character to Pontiac, resulted in police chiefs stating that they wouldn't want a majority of Pontiac's police cars in their fleets.

The Michigan State Police and Oakland County Sheriff's Department concurred that once a car reached 50,000 miles it was "ready for replacement" and that 70,000 miles was the maximum limit.

Then, too, there was a manpower problem.

★ ★ ★

Trying to be conservative, Koren only asked for an additional 10 men. The requested figure is now three times that.

★ ★ ★

'Need More Men to End Road Death'

car breaks down, there's no longer a replacement for it."

Much the same holds true in manpower.

★ ★ ★

"We are now in a position where, if a man is sick or on vacation, we have to shut his job down in many cases," Hanger said. "There isn't anyone available to put into his job."

★ ★ ★

Hanger said that a survey of all police divisions this month "showed that we would have to add 34 officers to cover things adequately throughout the department."

Last month, total accidents were down 1 per cent and the number of persons injured was down 24 per cent from February 1963, Hanger commented in pointing to the way traffic deaths often come in streaks.

Hanger said that the new radar car had been used between 8 a.m. and midnight, and a second car would possibly be used on a staggered schedule.

★ ★ ★

"As the weather gets warmer, we'll concentrate more on the evening hours," he concluded.

Four Define Stand on Zoning

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The four city commissioners who supported provision for three-story apartment buildings in the new zoning ordinance are standing together to face their critics.

In a joint statement, they defined their position, compared the old and the new provisions and explained their reasons for disregarding a public opinion survey.

The new code was approved by the commission March 6 after nearly three years of preparation during which it often was the center of controversy.

Voting for it were Mayor Pro Tem Louis J. Colombo Jr. and Commissioners James A. Beresford, John W. Blanchard and David W. Lee.

★ ★ ★

CONDUCTED POLL

A last-minute public opinion survey conducted by a three-member citizens committee indicated 82 per cent of those responding wanted multiple residences limited to two stories. The citizens committee has since been critical of the four commissioners for ignoring the poll.

But the four said they did not give serious consideration to the poll because the letter requesting replies was "biased and written in a manner to invite only expressions favoring two-story apartments from people who had not had an opportunity to thoroughly study the town house proposal."

Furthermore, they noted two-thirds of the city's voters did not reply to the survey, thus implying they preferred to leave the decision to their elected representatives.

★ ★ ★

In comparing the new ordinance to the old, the commissioners noted that the height of apartment buildings will now be limited to a specific number of feet.

UP TO BOARD

On parcels of property of five or more acres, the board of appeals can permit town houses three stories or 35 feet in height above the average grade.

The old ordinance restricted height to two stories but contained no regulation on how much of the basement need be below grade.

The new ordinance also is more specific and restrictive in regard to two-story apartment buildings, allowed on multiple residence parcels under five acres, the commissioners said.

★ ★ ★

The two-story buildings are limited to 30 feet in height and must be set back 60 feet from the street and 45 feet from side and rear lot lines. The former setback was 40 feet from streets and lot lines.

CHANGE REQUIREMENTS

The requirement for each apartment to have rooms on both floors of a two-story structure was abandoned in the new ordinance, which also permits the number of apartments on a site to be contained in a smaller number of larger buildings.

Reasons for approving the three-story town house provision recommended by the planning commission were listed by the four city commissioners:

• By permitting an increase in stories from two to three, 50 per cent less ground area will be covered by an apartment building.

The commissioners also see the requirement for 150-foot setbacks and greater spacing between buildings attributing to a "campus-type development."

• Elevators wil be more economically feasible in the three-story town houses, thus diminishing the chances for development of walkups.

• The commissioners believe a three-story limitation is more defensible in court than two. The city already contains a "substantial number" of dormitories, nursing homes and private residences which are three stories high, and city fire-fighting equipment is adequate for them.

Therefore, in an attempt to maintain a two-story limit, the city might be forced to allow buildings higher than three stories.

• The quartet maintains that a 35-foot three-story building set back 150 feet from the street looks lower than a typical two-story building set back 40 or 60 feet.

• Because building permits for town houses will be issued with the approval of the board of appeals, the commissioners believe the city would then have an opportunity to persuade builders to change any unattractive plans. However, they noted, the city could not legally force developers to do so.

A pancake supper at Kingswood School Cranbrook will precede tomorrow night's presentation of "Li'l Abner" on the Bloomfield Hills campus.

The 5:30-7:30 p.m. event in the school dining room is planned to benefit the Kingswood American Field Service fund. Tickets can be purchased at the door.

"Li'l Abner" will be presented as the spring operetta of Kingswood and Cranbrook schools.

Chairman of the dinner is Catherine Lobett, 1011 Orchard Ridge.

Helen M. Bentlif

Service for Helen M. Bentlif, 86, of 960 N. Hunter, Bloomfield Township, will be 1 p.m. tomorrow at Christ Church Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills. Burial will follow in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Miss Bentlif died yesterday after a long illness. Her body will be at Manley-Bailey Funeral Home, Birmingham, until 11:30 a.m.

Former owner of the Bentlif Shop in Detroit, Miss Bentlif sold the needle- and fancy-work establishment in 1928.

Memorial contributions can be made to St. Peter's Home for Boys, Detroit.

Clarence W. Videan

Service for Clarence W. Videan, 69, of 4260 Carey, Bloomfield Township, will be 1 p.m. Monday at Redford Presbyterian Church. Burial will follow in Woodlawn Mausoleum, Detroit.

Mr. Videan died yesterday after a lengthy illness. His body will be at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham, until 10 p.m. Sunday.

A Detroit attorney, Mr. Videan was a member of Detroit Friendship Lodge No. 417, F&AM; the Detroit Consistory; Detroit Bar Association and Michigan State Bar Association.

He was chairman of the title standards committee of the State Bar Association and moderator of the Detroit Presbytery.

Surviving are his wife, Hazel E.; his daughter, Mrs. Edwin S. Adler of Dallas, Tex.; his son, Donald W. of Detroit; a brother; and four grandchildren.

Home Show in Waterford

Moderately Active Trading

Market Stays in Hesitant Mood

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued in a hesitant mood today after Thursday's mild correction of a series of daily advances. Trading was moderately active.

Changes of most key stocks were fractional.

★ ★ ★

Here and there were some wider moves. Gains exceeding a point were posted for Johns-Manville, Polaroid and U.S. Smelting — the latter after reporting a sharp increase in earnings.

Baltimore & Ohio followed up Thursday's rise of 1⅛ by pushing ahead nearly a point, as an outstanding gainer in the scrambled rail group. The renewed action in B&O followed Chesapeake & Ohio's purchase of a large holding of B&O stock owned by New York Central and its holding company, Alleghany Corp.

NEW HIGH

Thursday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .1 to 303.1, a new high.

Prices were narrowly mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Small gainers included Syntex, Data-Control Systems and Pyle National.

Barry Echoes Ike's Words

Ex-President, Senator Agree on Party Unity

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater, carrying a call for party unity from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, said today President Johnson's vision "is limited to political retreads."

But the campaigning senator took a crack, too, at what he called "copycat" Republicans.

★ ★ ★

Goldwater carried his presidential campaign southward with a string of whistle - stop style visits to his headquarters in cities and towns along the Pacific Coast.

The Arizona senator, seeking the Republican presidential nomination, flew his own plane to Palm Desert, Calif., Thursday and spent more than two hours conferring with Eisenhower.

URGED UNITY

Goldwater said the former president urged Republican presidential hopefuls to focus their fire on President Johnson and the Democrats, not on each other.

The senator said he asked no endorsement from Eisenhower.

★ ★ ★

"If he wants to endorse me, I'd be tickled to death, but that's his own business," Goldwater said. "We didn't even discuss it."

Goldwater said Eisenhower was "quite upset" at indications the Senate Rules Committee may drop its investigation into the business affairs of former Senate Democratic secretary Bobby Baker.

LEAVES CLOUD

"He thinks it leaves a cloud on the Senate that should be removed," Goldwater said.

The senator attacked Johnson on the Baker case before a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner.

★ ★ ★

"I don't care if there's a baker's dozen of sacred cows involved in this scandal," the senator told them, winning applause with almost every line. "They should be herded out in a roundup of honesty."

"Public morality," he added, "is an issue, and a major one."

News in Brief

A telephone booth break-in yesterday at 474 S. Sanford resulted in an estimated $75 damage to the booth and the theft of $40 from the coin box.

An envelope containing $119 was reported missing yesterday from the safe at Clark Gas and Oil, 382 Orchard Lake. The safe was not forced open.

A break-in of a cottage at 4557 Lakeview, Independence Township, was reported yesterday to sheriff's deputies. Loss has not been determined by owner Julian Kline of Detroit.

The Waterford Township Democratic Club's meeting scheduled for tomorrow has been canceled due to a conflict with the Jefferson-Jackson dinner the same night.

Pooch Has a Nose for Honest Dollar

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — A dachshund named Katrina is very much American and very patriotic, too.

★ ★ ★

Henry Jacobs, Katrina's owner, says he will toss a hatful of fake or foreign coins, intermingled with genuine American coins, on a floor and Katrina will ferret out the good American money.

Jacobs says Katrina's scent for a good coin is so good she can differentiate the genuine from the false in other people's coins.

A neighbor once tried to palm off a false half-dollar that had been palmed off on him, but Katrina wouldn't take it.

Scientists can tell by studying the rings of a tree all about the climate, whether there was drought or heavy rains, if fires struck the tree any time during its growth. The tree is an accurate historical barometer of a region's climate during its life, and some trees are 4,000 years old.

Europe's Economy Due to Keep Rising

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Europe's economy is due to keep on rising and so are the opportunities for American sales there. That is the happy prediction of American international bankers scanning the latest trade figures.

DAWSON

They also note that the United States sells much more to Europeans than it buys from them. With European production costs now on the way up, the markets look even better for the Yankee trader — unless European nations restore some of the old barriers against American goods.

★ ★ ★

Europe's gross national product should go up between 4 and 5 per cent a year through the rest of this decade in the view of economists at the Chase Manhattan Bank, New York. And since the population growth will be less than 1 per cent a year, the rise in this value of total production of goods and services should mean an even faster increase in the standard of living in Europe than in the United States — in other words, larger markets overseas.

Rising costs of production and increased prices are already plaguing the European Common Market, economists at Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., New York, point out. The trend seems still higher.

LESS COMPETITION

For American producers this means less competition in many markets — those in Europe, in the rest of the world, and also here at home where foreign imports have been a problem for some industries.

The six Common Market nations are France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. Their trade deficit with the United States was $2.5 billion in 1963. U. S. businessmen sold 13 per cent more goods there last year than they did in 1962, but in turn imported only 5 per cent more.

★ ★ ★

Production costs, and prices, have been rising fast in Europe. Since 1960 wage increases outran productivity gains by three to one in the manufacturing industries of some of the bigger industrial nations. Britain has had the same experience.

Labor cost per unit of output has stayed about level in the United States between 1960 and 1963 while it was rising in France, Germany, Italy and in Great Britain.

CONTINUING RISE

But the continuing rise in their general economies leads the economists at the Chase Manhattan to predict that by 1970 the after-tax personal incomes of these industrial countries will rise enough to make ownership ratios of refrigerators, washing machines, and television sets comparable to those already in effect in the United States.

★ ★ ★

The bank also tells American businessmen to watch for another development: upgrading both in quality and size of the appliances Europeans can buy. This would bring the American models into better competitive range.

And the final American touch in the European economy, the bankers think, will be the spread of instalment buying. They see room for a great increase in instalment borrowing there. In the Common Market and the United Kingdom the total instalment credit outstanding is now under $6 billion, compared with the U. S. debt of about $50 billion.

But the European consumers are getting the idea fast. And Americans can look for this and other factors to combine in opening new trade opportunities — if Europe doesn't get too protectionist-minded.

Area Hospital Represented at Meeting

ROCHESTER — The Haven Hospital and Psychiatric Center is being well represented at the annual meeting of the Central Neuropsychiatric Hospital Association in Chicago. The two-day meeting started yesterday.

The Central Neuropsychiatric Hospital Association consists of twenty selected private psychiatric hospitals and is the oldest established group in its field."

Successful $ Investing

Q) "I am a widow of 93. I own Container - Corp., Continental Can and Union Carbide. I don't seem to be getting much action from these three stocks. What do you think of switching them into American Telephone and General Motors? I want growth with secure income." L. S.

A) The three stocks you now own are "name" stocks, but they can in no way be characterized as growth issues. Container's share earnings last year were the same as in 1956. Continental Can's net per share for 1963 was below the levels for the mid-50's and Union Carbide's last year results were about even with 1962 but much lower than in 1959.

I believe in your position you would do well to switch to Telephone and General Motors. You might also add Texaco, which offers growth and well-protected 3 per cent return.

Q) "What rate of interest do Series E bonds pay? Can they be called at any time? What other bonds can you suggest that would be absolutely safe and pay 4 per cent tax-free?" R. C.

A) I should like to correct a misapprehension.

Series E bonds are not — as you seem to believe — exempt from Federal taxation. They yield 3¾ per cent if held to maturity, and are not subject to call. Since these bonds accrue interest and pay nothing until redemption or maturity, Federal income tax is deferred until either of these events occurs.

If you wish 4 per cent on tax-exempts, you will have to buy second quality bonds.

I suggest that you lower your sights a little. There are California 3.40's of 1992 (when issued) available to yield 3.40 per cent. This rate—under present market conditions—is about as high as you can get on a tax-exempt bond with absolute safety.

Death Asked in Spain Trial

Prosecutor Appeals; Wants Garrote for 2

BARCELONA, Spain (UPI) — A Spanish public prosecutor asked the Supreme Court today to reverse a lower court decision and sentence an American man and Spanish woman to death by garroting for the murder of a Barcelona businessman.

James Bell Wagner, 22, of Union Beach, N.J., and Mrs. Maria Pilar Alfaro, 32, of Barcelona, were sentenced to prison terms of 30 and 23 years, respectively, last Monday.

Three other Americans and an English girl received lesser sentences.

Luis Solano, chief prosecutor for the Barcelona District Court, said he appealed to the Supreme Court to sentence both Wagner, an alleged U.S. Army deserter and dope addict, and Mrs. Alfaro to death by the 16th Century garrot.

Solano said he presented his appeal today. He said he expected it to reach the Supreme Court in Madrid tomorrow.

BEATNIK MURDER

The trial was dubbed the "Beatnik Murder Case" here. All six defendants spent 15 months in jail awaiting trial after their arrest on charges of robbing businessman Francisco Rovirosa Closas and killing him with a knife and a meat-tenderizing hammer.

Wagner was convicted of "murder with robbery" and Mrs. Alfaro of "co-authoring" the crime.

The prosecution had asked for the death sentence for both, but the court found only Wagner guilty of actually committing the murder and ruled that his "social inadaptibility" ruled out the death penalty.

It apparently referred to his claim that he visited Rovirosa's office while under the influence of drugs, and could not remember what happened there.

Prince Thanks Burglars for Breaking Into Safe

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — Sicilian Prince Gaetano Hardouin di Belmonte has asked police to thank two burglars who broke open his wall safe and fled with $320,000.

Police recovered the loot. The prince said he had not been able to get the safe open for 20 years and did not know it contained money. It had been locked since the death of his father.

Rather Be Poor

$630,375 Saddens Charlie

LONDON (AP)—He won 225,134 pounds ($630,375) and he's sad.

"I must be the unhappiest man in Britain," said bachelor Charlie Cooper. "I don't want all this money. I was happy as I was with my mum in Bethnal Green (a poor section of London).

The 46-year-old clerk had just come out of a bank where he held a two-hour conference with investment experts.

"I feel depressed and really unhappy, but I should be the happiest man in Britain. I'm worth a quarter of a million quid, (pounds) and today the doctors gave me a final checkup on the hernia operation I had six weeks ago. And they passed me A1.

HEFTY PROBLEM

"If it had been 2,000 pounds or even 20,000 pounds I would have been happy. But this is too much for a man like me—much too much."

Charlie won the sum two days ago by picking draws correctly in the weekly soccer pools.
