

Kidnaped Ruotolo Baby Found Dead in Lake

Take Early Honors

Blondes Off to Fast Start in Bid for Beauty Crown

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (INS)—The blondes are off to a fast start in the battle for the "Miss America, 1957" crown.

The first two gold trophies in this year's Atlantic City beauty pageant were won last night by Miss California and Miss Alabama as preliminary judging got under way.

In addition to being blonde, both have more than a passing interest in the newspaper business.

Miss Alabama—Anne Stuart Atrial, a blue-green eyed charmer from Birmingham—won the talent division first prize with her singing and dancing portrayal of "Ado Annie" from "Oklahoma."

Miss California—Joan Colleen Beckett, a well-known Sacramento lass—won first place in the swim suit competition.

The southern belle has written a newspaper column for the past year for her college paper and one of her state sponsors is the Birmingham News.

The bathing beauty queen from the Far West said she was considering the study of journalism if she were lucky enough to share in the $50,000 scholarship fund set up for the current contest.

Both girls will try to continue their winning ways tonight when the preliminary judging is renewed.

Miss Alabama will be one of 17 girls entered in the swim suit division and her 35-23-35 measurements should be eye-catching to say the least.

Miss California will compete with 15 other girls in the evening gown competition in which the panel of experts does not announce its ratings. For some reason, the Miss America hopefuls that look good in a bathing suit also seem to score in this category.

Currents Drown 11 U.S. Marines at Okinawa Base

Typhoon Emma Blamed for Freak Conditions; 12 Others Saved

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—Eleven U. S. Marines drowned off the north shore of Okinawa yesterday while swimming during a break in field exercises, the Marine Corps announced.

The men were knocked off their feet by a strong undercurrent which was believed due to typhoon conditions.

Brig. Gen. Victor H. Krulak, commander of the 3rd Marine Division, said a freak ocean current caused the drownings.

At least 12 other Marines were saved by their Leathernecks in the area.

An extensive land and sea search was under way for remains of the 11 who drowned. All available planes were searching the sea within five miles of shore and foot patrols combed the shoreline.

The Marine Corps said that the Marines took a break from their field problem on the coast of Okinawa and went for a swim in apparently calm water.

"Before they got waist deep, the men were in trouble," an eye-witness was quoted. "They were knocked from their feet by a vicious undercurrent and tumbled seaward on the bottom."

The chain was unable to keep its footing due to the intensity of the current, the Marines said. Lt. Col. James A. Donovan, battalion commander, called helicopter and 2nd Lt. John L. Shanahan, a skindiver, played a large role in the rescue.

Hearing of trouble, Shanahan raced to the beach with a rubber raft and pulled many bathers to safety.

Unable to swim against the heavy currents, the men clung to the raft until arrival of the helicopter, piloted by Lt. James M. Middleton, Balboa, Calif., which dropped a 100-foot rope and towed the raft to shore.

After all visible Marines were rescued a roll call indicated 11 Marines missing. Persons familiar with ocean currents during a typhoon attributed the unusual undertow to Typhoon Emma, now 500 miles south of here.

The names of the Marines listed as missing were withheld.

Typhoon Emma Blows Toward Okinawa Bases

TOKYO (AP)—Typhoon Emma, carrying winds up to 144 m.p.h. was spotted 518 miles southeast of the American fortress of Okinawa today.

Students Return to Classes for Fall Semester

SCHOOL OPENS—High school students above returned to the senior high this morning as 18,500 pupils began the fall semester at Pontiac schools. The students shown began enrollment at 8 a. m. and then went on to a full day of classes.

Back-to-School March On Ask Liberalized Beaudette Offer

By PETE LOCHBILER
They started back to school in Pontiac this morning—the signal for most folks that summer is over.

The leaves were turning as high school students trooped down West Huron street, notebooks in hand. Sunny days of play were over for all the youngsters who headed for enrollment at their elementary and junior high schools.

A record number of city

students were filling the classrooms—more than 18,500, or 700 more than last year.

Another 850 pupils began enrollment after Mass at St. Frederick's Catholic School. About 750 were at St. Michael's, and 550 at St. Benedict's.

There was something new for everyone.

For the kindergartners—who are just dropping in today and tomorrow for a quick look-see and to get their names down on the books, the whole thing was new.

Some were excited, some cried and some were bored. They'll all start one and a half hour long sessions Monday.

Everyone found that classrooms smelled of new paint and fresh varnish. Corridors looked suspiciously clean, not as they were when last seen in June.

Teachers looked rested and relaxed. That certainly wasn't so as the last days of the spring semester came to a close.

Books were full of new mysteries, from simple ABC's for the little folk, to the strange laws of physics faced by seniors.

For the first time in years, youngsters at Crofoot Elementary School did not attend in wooden temporary buildings.

They're gone, to be replaced by new classrooms this January.

School officials are hoping to clear out the last of the temporary Bagley School as soon as possible.

Other elementary pupils looked at the rising buildings where they will enjoy their first gymnasium classes next semester. These are the multi-purpose rooms, where there will be cafeteria and auditorium, too.

PLEASED WITH GYM

Students at Madison Junior High School looked with pleasure at their new gymnasium, then planned to eat lunch in the gleaming new cafeteria downstairs.

As the students unpack their sandwiches, the public address system will play the latest tunes.

Linda Vista School youngsters had something new, too—an extra four-day vacation until the $339,613 glass and brick building opens Monday.

Construction schedules have delayed the opening of the $1,200,000 Walton Boulevard School and the $71,000 Cora Bailey School until later this month.

Theft Puts School on Half-Days at Rochester High

Because of a thief's fast work, some 1,400 junior and senior high school students in Rochester will begin the school year Monday with half-day sessions.

Superintendent of Schools Donald C. Baldwin said the opening of the new $1,750,000 high school has been delayed by the theft of 300 feet of specially-made underground electric cable.

This forces half-day sessions in the old high school.

The cable was delivered this spring, and the contractor discovered the theft in the final stages of completing the new building. Baldwin anticipates a month's delay.

Baldwin said it is impossible to bring sufficient power into the new building on a temporary hookup.

Boys Lead Police to Body Floating in Reservoir

Officials Rope Off Site, Decline to Say Whether They've Found Clues

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP)—The body of kidnaped 6-week-old Cynthia Ruotolo was recovered from a lake here today, the medical examiner reported.

Dr. Sterling Taylor came to newsmen held in a roped off area 100 yards from the shore of Lake Whitney and said the identification was definite.

Cynthia was taken from her carriage in the foyer of a store two miles from the lake Saturday. Her mother was shopping inside.

The recovery came only a brief time after a new radio appeal was made for the abductor to return the baby safely. The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ruotolo, had all but given up on appeals to the kidnaper Tuesday.

The latest appeal came from the New Haven County Bar Assn., asking that the baby be returned to a lawyer.

There was no word from police whether the discovery of the body brought with it any clues as to the kidnaper.

The child's body was found floating on the lake and was recovered by the Hamden Fire Dept. rescue team.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruotolo were whisked away in a police car to an undisclosed destination.

Police converged on the scene shortly after noon. They roped off the lake shore.

The site is not far from a heavy residential area. The body was found near a bridge crossing the lake. The bridge is seldom used. From the department store to the lake, it would have been possible for the kidnaper to remain under cover of a wooded area.

Two boys walking along the lake, which serves New Haven as a reservoir, saw the body and called police.

Fair—Much Cooler Weather Coming Up

Fair and much cooler weather is predicted for tonight in the Pontiac area. The low is expected to be 46 to 50.

The forecast for tomorrow is fair and cool with a high of around 65.

In downtown Pontiac the low last night was 60. At 1 p.m. the thermometer read 68.

Eden Future Debated

LONDON (INS)—The future of Sir Anthony Eden's government was being actively debated today because of Suez policies which have divided Britain down the middle.

Chamber of Commerce Supports Rail Yard Plan

The Pontiac Chamber of Commerce has voiced support for the $700,000 Grand Trunk Railroad industrial support yard proposed for the northwest side of Pontiac. Manager John W. Hirlinger emphasized the Board's unanimous action "did not concern the site" but only the need for the yard because of its importance to the expansion of industry.

While Grand Trunk officials wait possible city approval of a site south of Walton boulevard and north of the railroad's belt line, the City Commission has suggested an alternate plot to the southwest.

City officials have been reluctant to put their stamp of approval on the Walton boulevard site because it will prevent a city program to extend Stanley Avenue north to Montclair.

This would relieve some of the rush-hour traffic snarls on Baldwin Avenue, officials pointed out.

Since the original presentation of the proposal by railroad officials June 26 to the City Commission, commissioners have asked for a study on the feasibility of their suggested site.

Results of this survey are expected to be presented at Tuesday's City Commission meeting.

COURT CASE DELAYED
The railroad has since filed a

Angelus Observers Watch as Mars Nears

Astronomers' eyes across the country will be trained on the planet Mars early Friday morning as it comes within 35 million miles of Earth—the closest it has been in 32 years.

Dr. Keith Pierce, University of Michigan associate professor at the McMath-Hulbert Observatory at Lake Angelus, said the 24-inch lens, reflector-type telescope there will be pointed at Mars to study any changes on the planet's surface.

To the naked eye "it won't look any different than it does any other time," Pierce warned.

He added that Mars will be visible in the southwest sky. It will reach its closest point at around 1 a.m. Friday, he said.

RED COLOR IS RUST

It will appear red or orange, he said. It is believed this is due to the presence of iron oxide (rust) in the desert soils of the planet.

"We will observe the cloud formations around Mars Friday in an attempt to see whether they are dust or moisture containing clouds," the professor said. "We are interested in these climatic conditions and their effects on the planets."

He said the presence of moisture-filled clouds might indicate the existence of vegetation on Mars.

Pierce said the disappearance of the polar cap on the south pole of Mars will be studied. The planet will be in its late spring season sending moisture spreading over its surface, he explained.

Better telescopic and photographic equipment will enable observers to improve surface maps of Mars made 33 years ago when it was thoroughly studied.

Only visual observation at the Lake Angelus observatory will be used. Photographs will be made with larger telescopes across the country.

STAR GAZING—Getting a huge telescope at the McMath-Hulbert Observatory ready for some astronomical peering, are Dr. Helen Dodson (left) and Dr. Keith Pierce, both associate professors of astronomy at the University of Michigan. They are seen here orienting the device on the planet Mars which will be observed late tonight as it sweeps to its closest point to Earth since 1924.

Changes in surface features will be visible on Mars Friday, the astronomer said.

Feb. 17, 1946, the planet was 230 million miles from earth—the greatest distance between the two bodies.

It takes Mars a little less than two years in its orbit to circle the sun while the earth makes the trip in one year, Pierce said.

Research shows that living on Mars, if there is any life, would be extremely cold with very little air, something like climbing atop Mt. Everest, he stated.

Spat Preceded Shooting of Confidential's Publisher

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Witnesses agreed today there was a loud quarrel over a story in Confidential magazine just before the publisher, Robert Harrison, 30, was shot.

But police waited to get Harrison's own story before deciding whether to prosecute Richard Welby, 35, jungle trapper and guide. The New York publisher was in a hospital here suffering from exhaustion, exposure and a slight flesh wound in the left arm.

Welby was under arrest in this city on a holding charge. He acknowledged to reporters at police headquarters yesterday he had shot Harrison Tuesday in woods where the publisher was hunting in the Jarabuco Mountain district about 70 miles northwest of here. But he said the shooting was an accident.

He said his rifle fell and went off as the two were having a "big argument" over a story in Harrison's magazine. The story told how Welby introduced Peruvian actress Pilar Palette, then his wife, to Hollywood star John Wayne in Peru in 1932. She later became Mrs. Wayne.

"I never had any intention of hurting Harrison," he declared, "although I was sore because of the story in the magazine."

A. P. Govoni, managing editor of Confidential and Harrison's hunting companion, said last night "Welby was shooting and gesturing abuse because of the story in the magazine."

He said he did not see the shooting because he had just stumbled and fallen on his face. He told newsmen he could not say whether the shooting was accidental or deliberate. "Harrison will have to tell you that," he added.

A pretty American woman singer, Geene Courtney, also was on the hunting trip when Welby happened upon the party. Welby and Govoni left her with the wounded Harrison in the jungle.

Both were found yesterday, the day after the shooting, suffering from exhaustion, nervousness and exposure. They were brought to the same hospital in Ciudad Trujillo. Doctors would not let reporters or photographers see them. They said Harrison's arm had merely "a flesh wound—nothing serious at all." But they reported Miss Courtney near nervous collapse.

Women Earn 30 Billion

WASHINGTON — The Department of Labor reports that the annual earnings of American women total some 30 billion dollars before taxes. Of the 21,000,000 women who work, more than 3,000,000 are "professional workers, managers, officials, and proprietors."

Male Boss 'Motherly'

CHICAGO—In the case of both the largemouth and the smallmouth bass it is the male that selects the nesting site and builds the nest. He finds a wife, has her provide eggs, then drives her away, and from this point the father bass tends the eggs till they hatch. Without the aid of the mother he defends the small fry and takes care of them till they can fend for themselves.

About 35 per cent of U.S. passenger cars date back to before World War II.

Fish-Land Ratio

NASHVILLE—The average fertilized farm fish pond can produce about 20 pounds of fish per acre each month. Successful fishing can be expected nearly any time of year if the fish are removed at about this rate. A well-balanced pond supports about 5 pounds of bluegills for each pound of bass, and the fish should be removed as nearly as possible in this ratio.

Typical elderly woman of the U.S. is a widow; average elderly man is married.

Do It With a Bang, Girl

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP) — Two blue-jeaned small fry dashed into the barbershop, one climbed into the chair, and the barber began shaping up a boyish haircut. When the job was half finished, the smaller youngster watching broke into tears. Between sobs, he asked the barber: "Aren't you going to leave my little sister some bangs?"

Everglades Park Large

MIAMI — Everglades National Park, which occupies the southern tip of the Florida peninsula, is the United States' largest subtropical wilderness. Its land and water area combined amounts to some 1,500,000 acres. The most interesting birds are the egrets, roseate spoonbills, and other large wading birds that nest in the area in midwinter and early spring.

Excise Taxes Hit New High During '55, but Fiscal '56 Will Easily Break That

WASHINGTON (U)—The public paid more federal taxes last year on whisky, gasoline and autos than in any previous fiscal year.

And the current year seems headed toward still another record, because of a July 1 increase in gasoline and other highway user taxes to finance the highway building program.

The Internal Revenue Service reported today that excise taxes yielded the government $10,004,135,000 in the 1956 fiscal year ended June 30.

In that total, the service said, consumers paid record amounts on all types of alcoholic beverages and on gasoline.

Taxes on liquors at $10.50 a gallon piled up to $2,062,242,000—the first time the total ever went over the two billion mark.

Coupled with peak yields from levies on beer and wines, alcohol taxes brought in $2,920,574,000. That was 123 million more than in fiscal 1954, the previous top year.

Gasoline taxes yielded a new high of $1,030,397,000, about 75 million more than in fiscal 1955, the previous record year.

The booming sales of automobiles in the last half of 1955 helped to boost the excise tax return on vehicles to a record $1,376,372,000.

Tobacco taxes, another big source of revenue, brought in $1,813,497,000, but this was below the record set in fiscal 1953. Following controversial reports that certain types of cancer might be attributed to smoking, the tax total declined in fiscal 1954 and 1955 but rose again last year. Of the 1956 figure, cigarette taxes brought in $1,549,045,000, a gain of 45 million over the previous fiscal year.

The administration already has said it expects the excise taxes to yield about $10,800,000,000 by next June 30. Thus, the 1957 fiscal year total would be pressing the record take of $10,837,401,000 set in fiscal 1953.

Based on the big gain in gasoline sales the last fiscal year, the increase of one cent a gallon which went into effect July 1 should yield about 500 million dollars more in revenue. This increase together with higher taxes on tires, tubes, trucks and buses, general funds of the treasury will to help pay for the big new road building program, may boost the fiscal excise total to a new high, one well placed source said.

Of the nearly 11 billion dollars the government expects to take this year from excise levies, about 1 1/2 billion will go into a trust fund to be used for highway construction. Thus the amount going into general funds of the treasury will run closer to 9 1/2 billion or considerably less than for the last fiscal year.

Mule Mothers Abandoned Calf on Georgia Farm

MOULTRIE, Ga. (U)—For 19 years Queen was just a mule on the Harry Grubbs farm. Now she's something special—the foster mother of an 8-month-old calf, which she has nursed for six months.

The calf was abandoned by its real mother last February. That started Queen on her way to what veterinarian Quincy Derbyshire calls a "real curiosity."

Grubbs said the calf was almost gone from starvation. Then Queen began giving milk and nursing the calf. Grubbs says this is the first time Queen has given milk.

Derbyshire has never heard of a mule rearing a calf, and says only in rare instances have mules ever given birth to colts. The hybrid animals, he explains, generally do not reproduce.

Harold Lloyd's Daughter Sues Actor for Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Mrs. Marjoe Patten, 30, daughter of comedian Harold Lloyd, has sued actor Robert Patten, 31, for divorce.

Mrs. Patten, a Hollywood publicist, charged cruelty. She and Patten were married in Las Vegas last March and separated Aug. 20.

French Troopships Arriving at Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (U)—The French troopship Athos II neared Cyprus waters today with several thousand French troops.

Shipping sources said the 15,276-ton ship was scheduled to anchor off Limassol on the south coast later in the day.

The French contingents, mostly battle-seasoned paratroopers, Foreign Legionnaires and airmen, are being sent to Cyprus for the duration of the Suez Canal crisis.

A second troopship, the 30,447-ton Pasteur, is expected the next day.

Unofficial estimates of the number of French troops to be stationed on this eastern Mediterranean island range from four thousand to five thousand. It is estimated that Missouri's coal fields contain an available supply of approximately 84 billion tons.

TWO OF A KIND — Getting their first look at life outside the confines of their cage, two baby black panthers are admired by a young visitor at the Rome Zoo. The male twins, among the first

Hey Paisano, Drink This

Government to Assist Wine Makers

Got a hankerin' to run barefoot through your grape harvest, and lay up a little nectar for the cold winter evenings, to sort of take the chill off?

The government wants to help. You can't count on several pairs of government feet to help you with the pressing, but the Internal Revenue Service is willing to help your pocketbook.

As far as helping the pocketbook, the government wants to keep your activities legal, and not subject to fine and tax.

200 GALLON LIME

According to William N. Woodruff, assistant regional commissioner of the Alcohol & Tobacco Tax, the head of a family may produce 200 gallons of wine per year, tax free.

This is for the use of his immediate family, however, and he must first register his intention to produce such wine with the Alcohol & Tobacco Tax Division of the Internal Revenue Service.

The prospective wine maker must secure the proper forms, and submit them at least five days before the wine production is started.

If the applicant is qualified, one copy of the form will be returned as authorization to produce the wine.

The exemption under Federal law for stamping out tax-free wine is solely for family use, and does not apply to an unmarried person, unless he qualified as head of a family, or a married man living apart from his family, or to the production of wine by corporations or partnerships for commercial purposes.

She Returns Wallet

'You're a Sweetheart!'

GRAND RAPIDS 28—A little girl in Calumet City, Ill., stood $10 richer in worldly goods today and high in the esteem of a Grand Rapids family she recently aided through a trying period.

Kathy Paterek, 9, earned the admiration of Delos Russell by returning through registered mail the wallet he had lost in a Manistique restaurant.

The wallet was lost as Russell and his wife returned from a trip to Ishpeming. Their trip was cut short by the death last week of Russell's father at Big Rapids, where they detoured to attend the funeral.

They returned yesterday to find the wallet waiting.

A note from Kathy's father, Frank, said his little girl found the wallet Aug. 16 and "would appreciate a reply confirming its return."

Mrs. Russell said her husband "got such a lift" because the wallet contained only three dollars in cash but held valuable papers.

Russell's note told Kathy he was "happy to know such an honest little girl" and asked that she send a photograph of herself.

"You must be a real little sweetheart," he added.

Japan Couple Survives Fall in Volcano Crater

MOTOMURA, Oshima, Japan (U) An elderly couple fell into the smoking crater of Mt. Mihara while sightseeing at Japan's famous suicide volcano. Both survived.

Oshima police said Mrs. Kiyoko Kato, 54, curious to see what a "suicide volcano" looks like, stepped too close and fell in.

Her husband, Ichiro Kato, 58, tried to rescue her but he was soon overcome by fumes and toppled into the crater. Both landed on a ledge, and were rescued by police.

Report 'Monks Revolt' Freed Tibet From Reds

KATMANDU, Nepal (INS)—Nepalese traders returning from the Tibetan capital of Lhasa said today the Chinese Communists have turned over the entire internal administration to Tibetans.

They said that the transfer of local autonomy resulted from the so-called "Monks Revolt" in North-eastern Tibet earlier this year.

Willow Village Nurse Dies as Car Rolls Over

YPSILANTI (AP)—A nurse on her way to work was killed yesterday when her car rolled over on Goddes road three miles northwest of Ypsilanti. She was Mrs. Casimare

Haney, 31, of Willow Village. Mrs. Haney worked at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Gasoline tanks which are painted with aluminum covering are said to have a 25 per cent less evaporation loss than those which are painted black.

NEW YORK — A magazine devoted to electronics has found, by questioning its readers, that the average electronics hobbyist is 30.3 years old, has an income of $5,389 a year, owns a car and does some of his own repairs on it, owns a television set and has installed his own TV antenna.

He lives in a one-family home, has a home workshop, owns and uses power tools, and has other hobbies, the most popular being fishing and photography.

Fire Insurance Tops

CHICAGO — The International City Managers' Association reports that a survey of 738 American cities shows fire insurance is more widely used by cities than any other type of insurance. The survey revealed that 98 per cent of the cities insure their property against fire losses. Motor-vehicle-liability insurance ranks next to fire protection, in city popularity, with 87.7 per cent of the cities using it.

Men in the Armed Forces Can Collect Full SS Rights

By RAY HENRY
AP Writer

Men on active duty in the armed forces after next January will be able to acquire full Social Security rights. For this, they'll have to pay regular Social Security tax.

Since Sept. 15, 1949, the government has given them limited Social Security rights for which they paid nothing.

The change grows out of a new law — Survivors Benefits Act — which Congress recently passed to try to improve the benefits for servicemen and to make military service more attractive as a career.

What the change will mean to servicemen varies depending on how long they choose to serve.

To the career serviceman, the new Social Security status can mean a great deal. To the young fellow who serves a couple of years the new status will mean little.

Take the career serviceman: As a practical matter, about the only rights he acquired under the old status was the possibility of Social Security payments to his survivors if he died. And, the size of the payments, his survivors could get was limited compared to those a civilian worker could acquire for his survivors.

Chances are he never would be eligible for Social Security retirement payments under the old status. Generally, he would be eligible for military retirement pay which, in most cases, would make him ineligible for Social Security retirement pay.

Under his new status, he may acquire rights to full retirement payments for himself and his wife when he reaches 65 and full payments for his survivors if he should die.

For example: He may acquire rights to monthly retirement payments for himself of up to $108.50 a month, whereas under the old set-up the maximum he could get was $70.50 a month. The fact that he gets military retirement pay will have no bearing on his eligibility for Social Security retirement pay.

And, he can acquire rights to Social Security disability payments at 50 if he's severely disabled. The only chance of his not receiving such disability payments would be if his disability resulted from his military service.

He would get payments from the Veterans Administration or his service for such a disability. These payments count against the Social Security disability payments he might be eligible for.

Thus, this new status, puts the career serviceman almost on a par with civilian workers who have been under Social Security.

The tax a serviceman will have to pay for being under Social Security will be 2 1/4 per cent of his base pay to $4,200 a year. The government will have to put up an equal amount.

The new status, unlike the old, will require that each serviceman have a Social Security account number. The armed services are making special arrangements to issue numbers to their men who don't have them.

Bob Considine Says:

Strategy Dictates Move of Far Eastern AF

HONOLULU (INS) — Headquarters of the nation's Far East Air Force is in the process of being pulled back from Japan to Hickam Air Force Base, where the Japanese struck with savage force Dec. 7, 1941.

There are two reasons for the move. We are not as popular in Japan as we were in the years when Gen. MacArthur virtually replaced the Emperor in the reverence and affection of the Japanese people.

The recent Japanese election was a blow to the most pro-American party, the Liberal Democrats.

We will continue to maintain air bases on Japan's hard-pressed soil and assist that nation's efforts to build up its Air Self-Defense Force. But the voice of command will be taken off-stage.

The primary reason for FEAF's move, however, is strategic. The enemy in the Pacific is Red China. It is not considered good tactics to place a headquarters "eyeball to eyeball" with the enemy.

FEAF's brass is being moved back to give it proper perspective. Nothing short of clear perspective will suffice. The revised Air Force setup here, to be known as U. S. Air Force, Pacific, will be the biggest military theater in the world.

It will reach out from this primary American target of World War II to the Philippines, Japan, Korea, China, Formosa, Okinawa and all the way down through Southeast Asia almost to Australia. Its immense mission is to keep a great big area of the earth safe from aggression and solidly in the camp of the U. S.

8,000 RED PLANES

It is opposed at this hour by a Red Chinese air force of about 8,000 planes, nearly half of them jet propelled. The Chinese Communists have 100 airfields aimed at the heart of Japan, and a radar screen extending for several thousand miles.

Red China has at least 10,000,000 Chinese working through the area with which USAF, Pacific, will be concerned, infiltrating all levels. Chinese families by the thousands are sending their children to Peiping under scholarship plans, and these will return to home areas thoroughly indoctrinated.

There is no shooting war between the U. S. and Red China in the foreseeable future, our military believes. Mao Tse-tung at present is content with letting Chiang Kai-shek "die on the vine," as one intelligence report puts it.

The Chinese Reds' demands for Formosa, and sporadic lobs by Red Chinese artillery, are taken gestures for home consumption only.

Here's an intelligence rundown on some of the countries under the Air Force's electronic eye: Viet Nam: "Dien has done a great job." Cambodia: "Too neutral." Laos: "There is a tendency on the part of its leaders to respond to Red overtures."

Burma: "...is learning the hard way that neutralism isn't the way out." Thailand: "...keeps asking 'are we being abandoned?' now engaged in trade of non-strategic materials with Red China."

Malaya: "Things are better." Singapore: "The People's Action Party (Communist) will take over." Indonesia: "Moscow laid out a redder carpet for Sukarno than Washington did."

AERIAL PICTURES

The Air Force took aerial pictures of every airfield in North Korea in the last 48 hours of the war there. Periodically since then it has rephotographed the same airfields and sent the results to U. N., to support its claim (largely ignored) that the Reds continue to violate the armistice.

This checkup photography is done without invading the North Korean air space, so scrupulously do we abide by the provisions of the armistice.

The Air Force and Navy still battle bitterly in Washington, but out here the cooperation is excellent....

South Korean boys have taken more readily to jet training than those of any other country in our military aid list in the Pacific, including Japan — where the former Kamikaze boys all seem to want to fly slow-moving transports, and the jet fliers have come from a new generation....

A big problem in Japan is to enlarge our landing strips to accommodate jets. Land is so precious there that months of negotiations attend such acts as stretching a strip from 9,000 to 13,000 feet....

Japan must trade with Red China to keep its now 90,000,000 population alive—Americans there resignedly agree.

Life-Insurance Funds' Earning Rate Rises

NEW YORK—For the eighth consecutive year the earning rate on invested life insurance funds in this country, after all expenses but before federal income taxes, increased during 1955.

The rate reached 3.51 per cent, one-fifth above the 1947 rate. Last year's rate compares with 3.46 per cent in 1954 and 2.88 in 1947, the lowest point in the history of the business. The average for the 1920s was 5.07 per cent.

Wood, Bolts Help Make His Inexpensive Violins

PUEBLO, Colo. (U)—Take some plywood, darning, rubber bands and four stove bolts and what have you? Robert Hornseth, instrumental music instructor for Pueblo elementary schools, makes violins from these materials—at a cost of $2.85 each.

The violins may not approach the Stradivarius quality, but they do enable parents to determine the musical aptitude of their children. And Hornseth says the instruments have "excellent tone and are quite adequate for teaching fundamentals."

DES MOINES—Farm experts advise using a hay thermometer to keep a close watch on green, uncured, or wet hay to prevent hay fires. When the hay's temperature reaches 200 to 212 degrees, it rises quickly and the hay may ignite. Then the temperature must be lowered or the hay removed.

Fighting Man Need Not Be in Tiptop Shape

LONDON (AP)—A British doctor contends a man need not be physically in top shape to make a first class fighting man.

Writing in the Practitioner, an authoritative British medical journal Dr. J. C. L'Etang recalls that President Eisenhower as a cadet at West Point, suffered a knee injury, and a medical board questioned whether to commission him.

In World War II, Gen. Troy Middleton, commanding the American 8th Corps, suffered from arthritis of the knee. Dr. L'Etang quotes Gen. George C. Marshall as saying:

"I would rather have a general with arthritis of the knee than arthritis of the head."

Citing examples from World War II and all the way back to the American Civil War, Dr. L'Etang says:

"Should not the doctor, before he rejects a man for military service, ask himself whether he is rejecting a man who has it in his power to serve his country and even to shape world events?"

AF General Ill, May Quit Soon

Ailment Slows Plans to Reorganize Defenses in America

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Roger M. Ramey, one of America's most famous air generals, has been stricken ill on the eve of a new assignment and probably will retire soon.

Ramey, formerly Fifth Air Force commander in Japan, returned to the United States last June to take charge of the Air Defense Command. He was to serve as deputy to Gen. Earle E. Partridge, chief of the Continental Air Defense Command, at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Ramey, 52, suffered a heart attack at Barksdale Air Force Base, La., before he could check in at his new post. He has told friends the heart attack means the end of his Air Force career. He said he had no post-retirement plans.

Currently he is recuperating at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla. His sudden illness has delayed Air Force plans for reorganization of CONAD, which includes not only ADC's 2,000 jet fighters, but also the Army's expanding system of Nike anti-aircraft defenses, and ships and aircraft assigned to a central warning and defense system.

Partridge has retained his responsibility for the Air Force ADC, which Ramey was to take over, along with his command of the expanding Continental Air Defense Command.

Ramey, a native of Emblem, Tex., was commander of the 2nd Bomb Squadron at Hickam Field, Hawaii, at the time of the Japanese air attack there, and fulfilled several Pacific assignments during the war.

In June and July 1946 Ramey commanded the Army-Air Force task force at combined Army-Navy atomic bomb testing operations at Bikini atoll in the central Pacific.

Senator Wants Probe on Paint Contract Deal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) today ordered a Senate investigation of the repainting program which is changing mail boxes and mail trucks from drab colors to red, white and blue.

Johnston said the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee, of which he is chairman, will conduct public hearings to determine whether influence peddling or favoritism marked the awards of contracts for the paint.

Johnston said there have been complaints from sources he did not name that the Post Office Department "has favored a well-known paint manufacturer."

Say Chinese Volunteer for Work as Suez Pilots

HONG KONG, (INS)—The Chinese Communist New China News Agency reported that 29 Chinese have volunteered to work for Egypt as pilots on the Suez waterway.

Egypt called for pilots in advertisements in the Chinese press and in other parts of the world. The idea is to replace British, French and other non-Egyptian pilots who are threatening to quit because of Egyptian nationalization of the Suez Canal Company.

Idaho Farmer Won't Profit From Tobacco

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Joe M. Mayer is a Lewiston, Idaho, farmer whose specialty is wheat. But, he wanted to learn about burley tobacco.

The reply he gets may dampen his enthusiasm. Mayer wrote the Lexington Chamber of Commerce for aid in processing his crop for market.

Traveling in Kentucky, he wrote, he purchased 17 plants which with "special care" thrived in Idaho soil.

Hogan Trammell, trade board administrative assistant, said a tobacco authority estimated Mayer's crop would weigh five pounds, worth perhaps 50 cents a pound.

But, the Idaho farmer would have to sell his leaf under penalty since he had no allotment and the penalty, plus shipping costs to market, probably would leave him $3.50 in the red.

Outstanding Casts and Songs Win Acclaim of Broadway Critics

'Lucky 100' to See Five of Year's Top Shows

NO TIME FOR SERGEANTS — Myron McCormick (left), in the role of an often-perplexed sergeant, tries to explain the purposes of some plumbing apparatus to Andy Griffith in the current stage version of a best-selling book. The show, currently appearing at New York's Alvin Theater, has been acclaimed by critics as one of the funniest to hit the city in recent years. The story is about a farm boy who joins the U. S. Air Force and his adventures with the regimentation expected of a serviceman.

"A rare achievement for the theater . . . a work of genius."

Thus did two of New York City's leading play critics describe their reactions to "The Most Happy Fella," one of the highlights of next week's "Adventure on Broadway" for 100 members of The Pontiac Press Theater Special.

Some 35 songs and a company of 100 are featured in this musical about a middle-aged, emotional vineyard owner who wins the hand of a waitress he has never met before their brief romance-by-letter.

Jo Sullivan, a 32-pound beauty with a truly big and magnificent voice, plays the part of Rosabella, the shy, mail-order bride, Tony, her volatile and good-hearted husband, is played by Robert Weede.

Miss Sullivan, who won earlier fame as Julie in "Carousel," sings "beautifully" in the words of critic Brooks Atkinson "and is likely to break the hearts of the audience as thoroughly as Tony's."

And she does break Tony's heart—shocked by the aspects of life as his wife, she has a wild but brief affair with a man of her own age. By the time she finds herself genuinely in love with her husband she is carrying the other man's child.

Frank Loesser wrote the book, music and lyrics for this very-close approach to grand opera. Among the top musical numbers are "Standing on the Corner," "Big D," "Somebody, Somewhere," and "Song of a Summer Night."

An entirely-different kind of show, go to the Ethel Barrymore Theater to see "New Faces of 1956."

Acclaimed as "a breezy little revue that periodically hits town with the impact of a tornado," the show is made up of a cast of 19, each member of which was a comparative "unknown" before being tapped for a part in Faces.

Producer Leonard Sillman spent four years in putting the current show together. The present company, each "star" of whom is listed alphabetically in the program, was pared down from an original collection of 4,000 hopefuls.

Although it has been presented only six times, "New Faces" boasts such alumni as Henry Fonda, Sonny Tufts, James Stewart, John Lund, Eartha Kitt, Eve Arden, Gypsy Rose Lee and Van Johnson.

By the time Press Special guests take their tickets into the theaters to see these top productions, they will already have seen to a conclusion the misadventures of an Air Force "bad back," Andy Griffith, who stars in "No Time for Sergeants."

The comedy, first in the five-play series, is about a recruit from the hills of Georgia who wears out several sets of superiors by his blithe refusal to conform to barracks life.

The last two days in New York, Thursday and Friday, will be highlighted by visits to the 46th Street and Shubert Theaters where the "Lucky 100" who have Press Special seats will see "Damn Yankees" and "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?"

Gwen Verdon, one of the country's most vivacious dancers, is the exuberant star of "Damn Yankees," a musical account of the Devil's machinations with the soul of a Washington Senators fan over which Satan has an option because of a fervent hope that the New York Yankees will lose a pennant race.

Orson Bean and Jayne Mansfield share the best part of the footlight glare in "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" Miss Mansfield's obvious charms and a humorous plot have made tickets to this comedy one of the most sought-after of the show season.

JO SULLIVAN

City Is Target in Spare Time

It's improbable that any member of The Pontiac Press Theater Special will come home with a case of "footlight burn" . . . but to make sure, excursion planners have filled in the times around the week's five plays with a series of events which might rival the shows themselves as trip highlights.

By the time the Press' 100 guests gather at Leoni's Restaurant next Friday night to meet such stage personalities as Jo Sullivan, they will have seen more of New York City than many people who live there.

The local excursionists will have their first look at the city's night life with a Monday evening arrival party at the Village Bar in Greenwich Village.

Before they see their first play, they will have become familiar with the huge city's famous skyline in a Tuesday morning yacht tour around Manhattan Island.

Even the people who call the place their home rarely see the metropolis as a continuous panorama of skyscrapers, docks and buildings.

But it won't be all hustle and bustle—that afternoon the group will be invited to split up and see other points of interest in the first period of free time.

The allowance appears again on the schedule the next morning when our traveling 100 can either take in more sights or sleep until noon in their rooms at the Paramount Hotel.

Few visitors leave New York without a glimpse of the United Nations Building whose classic lines rise over the shores of the East River.

The 100 will more than just see the structure from the decks of their sight-seeing boat, for they will be guided through the inside Thursday morning. Luncheon will follow in the delegates' lounge.

And Press travelers won't be "babes on the sidewalks" when they're not attending one of the planned events: each has been supplied with a thick packet of folders which list every feature from the best restaurants to the oldest historical monument.

Maps trace in great detail all the meanderings of New York streets. Thumbnail descriptions tell the background of the new and not-so-new, from the Bowery to the newest bridge.

The chances that homesickness will rob visitors of their enthusiasm is unlikely, but even that possibility has been foreseen by trip planners—each member of the train will find a copy of The Pontiac Press at his door every morning.

It'll be a tired group that makes its way back to Pontiac next Saturday, but plans point toward it being a happy one and as expert as any you'll find on the highways and byways of New York City.

GOP to Revive 'Truth Squads' for Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans are returning to a 1952 tactic — sending "truth squads" around the country behind Democratic campaigners.

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall announced today a squad will be assigned to follow former President Harry S. Truman and "other Democrats as well, whenever the occasion warrants."

Teams of researchers and speakers, including members of Congress, were assigned in 1952 to precede and follow Truman and other campaigners "just to keep the record straight," Hall said. He called the results "salutary."

"We had hoped it would not be necessary to send the team out again this campaign," Hall's announcement said. "Certainly Mr. Truman showed a refreshing candor during the Chicago convention in his appraisal of both Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Kefauver."

"But against his better judgment," Hall continued, "he is now embarked on a campaign to put over the Democrat ticket which he himself said couldn't win."

Logging Congress Set

IRONWOOD (AP)—Demonstrations of heavy duty machinery and logging equipment will highlight the 11th annual Lake State Logging Congress, Sept. 13-15. A logging progress parade will climax the meeting, largest timber industry gathering in the Midwest.

SUCCESS AND ROCK HUNTER — Shapely Jayne Mansfield displays her famous figure in "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?," the fifth and last of the plays offered to Pontiac-area residents who travel to New York City aboard The Pontiac Press Theater Special next week. The show presents Orson Bean in the role of a matinee idol who is exposed to the charms of Miss Mansfield in one of the current play season's most hilarious comedies. It will be viewed by the local group Friday night at the Shubert Theater.

DAMN YANKEES — Stephen Douglass and Gwen Verdon relax in one of the less hectic moments which make up "Damn Yankees," a musical comedy about a Washington Senators fan who options his soul to the Devil to keep the New York Yankees from winning a pennant. Miss Verdon, who has earned a reputation as one of the year's most exciting dancers, plays the part of a temptress who tries to vamp Douglass (a Senator pitcher) into losing the pennant.

THE MOST HAPPY FELLA — An exuberant male singing group is oblivious to the attractions of a female member of the cast as they warble one of the songs which has made "The Most Happy Fella" one of Broadway's top current hits. The play is about the

tac Press Theater Special goes will see at the Ethel Barrymore Theater next Wednesday, is famous for turning out some of the top actors and actresses of today. The four above are among 16 of the 4,000 who originally tried out for parts four years ago.

Legionnaires Razz Adlai; Nixon to Face Vets Today

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon addresses the American Legion National Convention today, giving the veterans a full political sweep from the earlier appearance of Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson.

Nixon still was working on his speech late last night, and only bare indications of its contents seeped out of his temporary headquarters at nearby Whittier.

He was reported planning to list achievements of the Eisenhower administration and to show what it has done for veterans.

Political observers said Nixon could be expected to answer some of the statements Stevenson made when he addressed the convention yesterday.

Nixon, saddened by the death of his father, Frank A. Nixon, 77, in Whittier Tuesday night, was able to work on his address only sporadically. Friends visited the father's home throughout yesterday, extending sympathy, and arrangements were being made for the funeral service tomorrow.

The illness of his father twice summoned the Vice President from the Republican National Convention in San Francisco, where he was renominated for a second term, and called him back from Washington last Friday.

City Guardsmen Slated to Receive 2nd Pay Check

Pontiac National Guardsmen will be paid $5,896 in state funds during the next week for serving two weeks active duty during the annual summer encampment held recently at Camp Grayling, it was announced today.

The troops and officers of Pontiac's Company M of the 125th Infantry and the 107th Ordnance Co. had received checks at Grayling totaling almost $16,000 at the conclusion of the summer training period from the U.S. Government.

The additional state checks to be issued will bring the total to approximately $22,000 received by the 207 Pontiac area Guard members who took part in the training program.

Rainier, Grace to Sail

PARIS (INS) — Prince Rainier and Princess Grace landed quietly in Paris today before driving to Le Havre where they will sail tomorrow aboard the liner United States for a two-month visit to America.

Escort Negroes to Dixie School

Fist-Swinging Mob in Sturgis, Ky., Fails to Block Guardsmen

STURGIS, Ky. (AP) — An angry, yelling mob of 400-500 persons swung lists here today as National Guard troops escorted nine Negro youths into the previously all-white Sturgis High School.

The armed troops got the youths through the yelling, fist-swinging crowd after a five-minute struggle. Five unidentified men were seized by the troops, who moved into this western Kentucky town of 5,000 last night. The seized men were quickly removed from the scene by State Police.

The troops, after taking the Negro youths into the school approximately a half hour before classes were to open, fixed bayonets and drove the crowd away from the school building.

About 210 guardsmen and four tanks camped overnight on the grounds of Sturgis High School. Maj. Gen. J. J. B. Williams said "we're well prepared for any eventuality. . . . At the moment I believe things are well in hand."

Integration began Tuesday in most of Kentucky's 221 school districts and generally proceeded quietly in that border state.

At Sturgis, however, a crowd of 500 turned back eight Negro children who sought to attend classes with 310 white pupils.

Yesterday another jeering crowd of coal miners and farmers strung picket lines around the school, the only one in town. Some of the pickets carried signs saying "Go home or get hurt."

Four of the Negro youths attended classes at Dunbar Negro High School, 11 miles away at Morganfield. The others stayed home. It wasn't known if they would make another attempt to enter classes.

At Clinton, scene of a series of violent riots, the Tennessee National Guard relaxed restrictions somewhat last night and only scattered disturbances were reported.

About 100 of the 633 guardsmen rushed to the town Sunday were sent home.

2 Sisters Killed Returning Home From 1st Classes

CHICAGO (AP) — Two young sisters were killed by a careening automobile yesterday as they walked home to lunch from the opening day of school.

Jeanette Griffiths, 7, a second grader, and her sister, Alexandria, 5, a kindergarten pupil, were struck as they walked in a group of 25 other students on a sidewalk adjoining the school.

A third girl was knocked down and scalded by water spilling from the car's radiator. She was not seriously injured. The other pupils escaped injury.

Richard Dombek, 16, driver of the car, had received a temporary driving permit Tuesday and was operating the family automobile for the first time alone.

Police said the car apparently made a sharp, fast turn and hit a lamp post, bouncing off the post it swerved against the sidewalk and over the curb into the children.

Dombek, a high school student, became hysterical after the crash. At a police station he beat his head against a washroom wall and tried to strangle himself.

Area Men Promoted in Royal Oak Reserve

Three area men are among the 15 members of the Royal Oak Air Reserve squadron recently promoted, announced Lt. Col. Stuart D. Rodgers, commander.

New majors are Alvin L. Smith of Birmingham, Max Richardson of 2624 West Walton Blvd., and Allen A. Strom, 4702 North Woodward Ave.

The newly promoted list constitutes nearly 15 per cent of the squadron's 102-man roster said Col. Rodgers.

Democrats Rap Ike Tag for Span

Suggest Straits Bridge
Bear Cobo's Name

LANSING (AP) — A Republican proposal for naming the Mackinac Straits Bridge for President Eisenhower today drew a Democratic taunt it might better be called the "Cobo Bridge."

The reference was to Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo, Republican nominee for governor.

Neil Staebler, Democratic state chairman, recalled that the Eisenhower label was recommended in a resolution adopted at the Republican State Convention last week end.

"We suggest the Republicans pass a resolution naming the bridge the Cobo Bridge because the Detroit mayor has a talent for claiming credit for things he did not begin, like the Detroit expressways," Staebler said.

He said, "Cobo finally found his way to the Upper Peninsula for the first time during the primary campaign."

"SUITABLE MEMORIAL"

"Such a compliment to the people of Northern Michigan should be suitably memorialized," he added.

As for the Eisenhower part of it, Staebler said, the idea would mean a claim to credit for something he had nothing to do with and "can only embarrass the President."

Moreover, Staebler said, Michigan Republican leaders "dragged their feet" on the 100-million-dollar project for years.

He singled out Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler and former Treasurer D. Hale Brake as two Republicans who "threw road blocks in the way of the Mackinac Bridge bond issue."

The big bridge linking the Upper and Lower Peninsulas is scheduled for completion next fall.

Baptist Group Urges Anti-Racial Pledge

DALLAS (AP) — The Christian Life Commission of the Baptist General Convention of Texas yesterday asked Christians of all faiths to join Baptists in a five-point pledge aimed against racial violence.

The pledge adopted by the meeting of the group urged that Christians:

"Behave with charity and good will toward all persons in a time of racial crisis; not to engage in, nor to encourage, any action involving or implying violence, not to join with any group in actions which a person would not carry out openly as an individual; to encourage moderation and patience at all times by word and action; and to show friendship and consideration for persons of all races with whom a person is associated."

Man in Isolation Booth Sane, Doctor Testifies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — During the 15 months he spent in San Quentin Prison's death row James Merkuris was sane, the prison's senior psychiatrist says.

Dr. David C. Schmidt testified yesterday at the former Grand Rapids man's sanity trial.

If sane, he will be tried for the murders of his ex-wife, Mrs. Despire Forbes, and her husband, Robert Forbes. Earlier, he was found guilty of murdering Mrs. Forbes but the conviction was reversed by the State Supreme Court.

Merkuris, 40, has been confined in an isolation booth in the courtroom since he disrupted the proceedings by shouting, screaming and striking the prosecuting attorney.

Paperboard boxes made for the U. S. military services are so weatherproof that they can be submerged in water for 24 hours or more without danger of falling apart.

Javits Testimony 'Inconsistent'

More Face Questions
on New York Politico's
'Red Ties'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Internal Security subcommittee said today it may call more witnesses for a check on "inconsistencies" in testimony involving Jacob K. Javits.

Javits, New York State attorney general campaigning for his state's Republican U.S. senatorial nomination, sought at a hearing yesterday to disprove what he called rumors linking him with Communists. He told the subcommittee his record as a member of Congress from 1947 through 1952 stamps him as an anti-Communist.

Robert Morris, subcommittee counsel, told reporters he expects the subcommittee will consider today whether to call for more witnesses to check on what Morris termed inconsistencies between Javits' testimony and that of witnesses who had accused him behind closed doors.

Without giving its source, Morris said "there has been so much pressure" that the subcommittee may continue the hearings. He said further testimony had been urged also by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.), a subcommittee member, "in justice to all concerned."

Morris said the witnesses who may be called are Mrs. Bella Dodd, a self-styled former Communist official; Louise Branstetter, a former San Franciscan who now lives in New York; Murray Baron, a New York City political figure, and Max Yergan, whom Morris has described as "a person who was involved with the Communists."

Javits asked for the public hearing yesterday, and urged Morris and Sen. James O. Eastland, the only senator present, to "ask me what you please." Morris fired a series of questions based on what he said was information and evidence about Javits in subcommittee files, much of it from witnesses who had been heard in closed door hearings.

PLAN KC DINNER — Final plans are being completed by members of the local Knights of Columbus Council for a testimonial dinner-dance to honor District Court Judge Frank A. Picard Sept. 22 at the KC hall. He was chosen the out-

Churchmen to Honor Judge Picard

Several state and local dignitaries and high officials of the Catholic Church and its Knights of Columbus organization will participate in a testimonial dinner-dance in honor of District Judge Frank A. Picard Sept. 22 at the Pontiac Council rooms.

Picard, a judge of the Eastern District Circuit Court, was chosen recently by the city's Mgr. Sharpe Council as the outstanding Catholic layman of the year.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Lt. Gov. Philip Hart, a church cardinal, and several area bishops have been invited to attend the fete here.

Other guests expected to be on hand are Federal Judges Arthur Koscinski, Theodore Levin, Charles S. Simon, Arthur Lederle, and Thomas Thornton, Pontiac Police Chief Herbert Straley, City Commissioner John A. Curry, Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons, Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice Finnegan, Detroit Judge Joseph Moynihan, and Walter Graveline. Also, church leaders from Pontiac and Detroit and members of the state council of Knights of Columbus will attend.

Final plans for the event are being completed by a committee of four from the local Council. Robert A. Landry is serving as general chairman, Jerome Barry is in charge of ticket sales, Stanley S. Evanoff is decorations chairman, and Diamond R. Wright is working in various capacities.

It Might Work, Too

LA CRUCES, N.M. (U) — Man's best friend is certainly leading a dog's life in Las Cruces these days only one bite of a mailman. Joe Camunee, acting superintendent of mails at the Post Office here, says that after a dog once bites a carrier, the householder must either keep the dog confined or get his mail at the Post Office.

Williams' Campaign to Start Off in Ypsi

LANSING (U) — Faithful as the swallows of Capistrano, Gov. Williams and his crew will alight in Ypsilanti Monday to begin their biennial fall campaign.

Williams has returned to the southeastern Michigan city every two years to begin his campaign where he launched his political career in 1948.

Accompanied by Democratic state candidates, Williams will attend a reception Monday afternoon at McKinney Hall, where he began his first campaign before a crowd of 30 supporters.

The Democratic State Central Committee said a thousand party leaders throughout the state were asked to organize "television parties" to watch the program.

Williams said the candidates will "deal with some of the counterfeit issues the Republicans have been trying to create."

Joining him in the campaign kickoff will be Lieut. Gov. Philip A. Hart, Secretary of State James M. Hare, Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski, and State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown.

Girl Misses Boyfriend, Dives From Hotel Roof

SAN FRANCISCO (U) — Patricia Ann McCarthy, upset by the disappearance of a male friend, leaped to her death from the roof of a downtown hotel yesterday.

Her mother, Mrs. La Donna Folmer, told police that Patricia, 20, was in love with Charles Lee Waters, 24, a truck driver, who vanished Tuesday, leaving a wife, Marie, and a 3-month-old son. His car was found at Golden Gate Bridge, Police list him as a possible suicide.

Device Guards Files

WALTHAM, Mass. — A Waltham firm is manufacturing security bars for locking file cabinets. They consist of a steel channel, a notch pin that bolts to the bottom of the file, and a clevis pin that bolts to the top. The bars come in various lengths and need only two drilled holes.

College Chemist Says It Costs to Be a Scientist

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (U)—It costs money to be a scientist these days, says Julian M. Sturtevant, Yale chemist. Time was when you got your scientific degree, acquired some chemicals and a batch of test tubes and you were in business as a researcher.

Now, says Sturtevant, the use of test tubes is diminishing, and electronic equipment is used more and more for testing. You could buy a few carloads of test tubes for the cost of one electronic device.

Carnation Cost $11,500

BOSTON—The first carnation to be introduced to America—an outdoor, summer-flowering type—was exhibited in 1829 by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society. The following year some 100 other varieties were shown. In 1890 the first Mrs. Thomas Lawson carnation was grown, the first really important American greenhouse carnation. This plant sold for $11,500.

American Kennel Club lists and recognizes 112 different breeds of dogs.

Life Jacket Improved

LOS ANGELES — An aircraft company has perfected a new life-saving device that automatically inflates a pilot's "Mae West" life jacket on contact with water. The inflator assembly weighs only 5 ounces. It will inflate a life jacket within 15 seconds after immersion. Formerly pilots who fell unconscious into water usually drowned because the inflator was not automatic.

The U.S. aircraft carrier Saratoga flight deck covers an area of four acres.

Stout Is Sweeter

LONDON—Porter and stout are variations of ale. Porter is brewed with some dark malt to produce a drink sweeter and less hoppy than regular ale. Stout is still sweeter, as well as stronger, darker, and heavier; it has a marked flavor of malt. Both are far more popular in Great Britain and the dominions than in the United States.

HONG KONG — In Eastern Europe, the Communists build ingenious barriers to keep the discontent ringed in. In Southeast Asia the Reds in some cases demand the right to allow their contents to flow. And here the West slams the door.

Graft Prober Confined to Two Communities

DETROIT (U) — Circuit Judge Theodore H. Bohn says he can't extend his one-man grand jury investigation beyond suburban Ecorse and Taylor Township.

Bohn, investigating reports of graft and corruption in the down-river communities, said yesterday he is not empowered to look into affairs at Inkster, Ferndale and other suburban communities where irregularities have been reported. He said the Circuit Court order which authorized his investigation confined the scope of the probe to Ecorse and Taylor Township "and all crimes emanating from those communities."

Free World Is Stronger
Today Than '53, Says Ike

WASHINGTON (U) — President Eisenhower said today the free world is in a stronger position in the cold war than when he took office in January, 1953.

Eisenhower also said Wednesday that he saw no advantage in a new

Big Three summit meeting with Russia's leaders, at this time.

He said there has been little cooperation from Russia in solving the major world problems he placed before Soviet leaders at the Big Four summit conference at Geneva last year.

Reporters told Eisenhower Democratic speeches contended the United States is losing the cold war. They asked Eisenhower for comment.

He said settlement of the Indo-China and Korean problems, as well as issues involving Iran's oil, Trieste, the Austrian peace settlement and the overthrow of a leftist government in Guatemala are evidence of Western successes.

Setbacks to world communism prompted Russia to resort to an economic propaganda campaign rather than force, he said, but he added this too appears to be a disappointment to the Kremlin.

Eisenhower said there was little success in settling the Israeli-Arab quarrel in the Middle East. He spoke only briefly about the present dispute between Egypt and Western countries over the Suez Canal.

He said the United States wants a settlement which will assure to all nations of the world the use of the canal in peace and war, in keeping with the 1888 convention guiding traffic through it.

Eisenhower said it was unlikely that Indian Prime Minister Nehru could visit the United States for talks with him before the November election.

Ben Fairless to Head
New Citizens Group

WASHINGTON (U) — President Eisenhower today selected Benjamin Fairless, former head of the U. S. Steel Corp., as chairman of a new Citizens Committee to review the government's foreign aid programs and make recommendations for possible changes.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said a viewpoint on foreign aid from outside government is wanted.

Hope College to Open

HOLLAND (U) — Hope College, expecting an enrollment of more than 1,000 students, has announced it will open Sept. 13 for the new semester with regular classes starting a day later. Two new buildings on the campus, a men's dormitory and the music building, remain to be completed but are available for limited use.

Kefauver to Launch VP Drive in Florida

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Estes Kefauver has announced he will launch his vice presidential campaign in Florida Sept. 14 at a series of three meetings.

from Harrisburg, Pa., where he will be on Sept. 13 with presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson for a party rally and nationwide radio-TV appearance kicking off their overall campaign.

Kefauver said that he will go to St. Petersburg, Sarasota and Orlando. The Orlando meeting, he said, would be the largest in Florida and would represent "the beginning of the state campaign."

Kefauver Campaign Tour May Include Trip to UP

By ROGER LANE

LANSING (AP)—Democratic campaign strategists are trying to work out a swing through the Upper Peninsula by Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee later this month or in early October.

State party headquarters confirmed today that bid for such a trip by the Democratic vice presidential nominee was advanced at a regional campaign planning meeting in Chicago last Friday.

No commitments have been made yet, but a headquarters spokesman said at least one, and probably a second Kefauver visit to the state, was regarded as a certainty.

Kefauver has enjoyed considerable popularity in the state, and received the bulk of Michigan's votes on two ballots for the presidency in the 1952 national convention, and for the vice presidency in last month's convention.

WANT UP TOUR

Party leaders would like to have him tour Lower Peninsula as well as territory above the Straits, but regard his campaign technique as especially well suited up to the UP.

"If we can get him for a UP tour, we will try to walk him down the streets of towns," the spokesman said. He added:

"There are many sizeable communities in the state which have never seen a presidential or vice presidential candidate."

The success of the bid for UP tour will hinge to some extent on how a Michigan visit fits into the general itinerary being shaped for Kefauver.

If the candidate comes in from, say, Ohio, it might not be advantageous use of his campaign time to skip him clear over the Lower Peninsula.

However, if he approaches the state from Minnesota or Wisconsin, it probably would be an easy matter to set a course from Ironwood across toward St. Ignace.

State party officials also have put forward suggestions for a second visit from presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson, who is expected to return in October.

New Caledonia has its first helicopter, Noumea reports. The Nickel Co. uses it to visit mines and carry prospectors and supplies to isolated sites.

Pontiac Iraq Grotto Host to Convention Saturday

The Iraq Grotto of Pontiac will be host to the 10th Annual Michigan-Western Ontario Grotto Association convention Saturday beginning at noon, at its club rooms at 118 S. Padlock St.

of Los Angeles, will be the guest of honor at the banquet.

French Draft Liner

PARIS (INS)—Another French ocean liner, the Pierre Loti, has been requisitioned by the French defense ministry at Marseille in line with the "military precautions" taken in the Suez Canal crisis.

Registration for the convention will be held from noon until 2 p.m. at the club rooms, followed by a business meeting. An election of officers will be held during the convention with Earl C. Smith expected to be named local president.

Pontiac President William H. Anderson, a past monarch, is in charge of arrangements for the event. Local Monarch Leland C. Hunt will preside over all activities.

Entertainment will be provided for the wives of members during the business meeting.

Among the leading topics to be discussed at the business session will be the Association's major project of aiding the cerebral palsy program. Grottoes donate to the drive locally and nationally.

Wily Wyandottes Outwit Kansas City

Indians Get Even With the White Scalpers

By PHYLIS BATTLE
NEW YORK (INS) — The Indians have got a small bunk of revenge at last for that foolhardy real estate transaction they made with Pete Minut many generations ago. And now it's the white man who is red in the face and crying "Ugh!"

It happened in Kansas City, Kan., where a thoughtful tribe of Wyandottes has long coveted an old cemetery below which reside some of their most revered ancestors.

The city papas of Kansas City were very much attached also to this two-acre plot of burial ground as a "site of interest" for local citizens and tourists.

so they've held onto it in the face of Indian epithets for 60 years.

This week, however, it was revealed that the Wyandottes managed to slip a "sleeper bill" through Congress, granting the 900 of them full rights and privileges of ownership to the property—which is almost directly in the heart of the big city, and a valuable sliver of soil indeed.

The congressmen from Kansas were horrified. When they learned that President Eisenhower had signed the bill into law, at the last session of Congress, they sent frantic messages of inquiry to Washington. But too late.

SOLONS IN THE DARK

Mourning Rep. Errett P. Scrivner, Republican: "I didn't know anything about it." Mourning Sen. Frank Carlson, Republican: "I not only didn't see the bill, I never heard anybody mention it."

Wyandotte Chief Lawrence Zane nodded sagely as he returned to his job as janitor in an Oklahoma post office. He said of course the white men hadn't heard about it—it was heap big secret.

Like his forefathers before him, who crept through the forests with the quiet of the undropped pin, he "just kept it quiet."

To us, there's a lovely poetic justice about the whole stealthy affair.

Ever since childhood, when we motored through America reading signs that said "site of Indian massacre" or "Indian atrocity," we have suspected vaguely that there was something slightly smelly in this white man's propaganda.

Even the sight of Gary Cooper perspiring within a crude stockade could not quite convince us that the pioneers were as Christian and

Fumigant Kills

WILMINGTON, Del. — A chemical now being offered by a Wilmington firm as a soil fumigant is said to be effective against many soil pests. Applied to moist soil before planting, the chemical forms vapors the company says will kill or suppress many types of undesirable organisms, including weed seedlings, certain soil insects, fungi, and nematodes.

Flying Family Affair

VANCOUVER, B. C. (U)—It was a long wait, but a Canadian Pacific Airlines polar flight to Amsterdam was finally a family affair for the "flying Randalls." The lineup of pilots was Capt. Bob Randall and his 23-year-old twins, Bob Jr. and Ted. It was a long chance luck of the flying schedule draw that finally put all of them together.

Mitchell Denies Steel Strike Role

Says He Didn't Force Labor to Settle or Face Taft-Hartley Action

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell denied flatly yesterday, he had black-jacked industry to bring about a settlement of the steel strike last summer.

The Cabinet official made the denial at a press conference after he addressed the International Assn. of Machinists Convention.

The question developed from a speech by Albert J. Hayes, Machinists' International president, at the Press and Union League Club here last weekend.

Hayes said the Washington Evening Star last August asserted Mitchell had threatened Taft-Hartley action and a mediation board "stacked" in favor of labor to bring the steel companies to a settlement. If that is true, he added, Mitchell was guilty of black-jacking industry into an involuntary settlement.

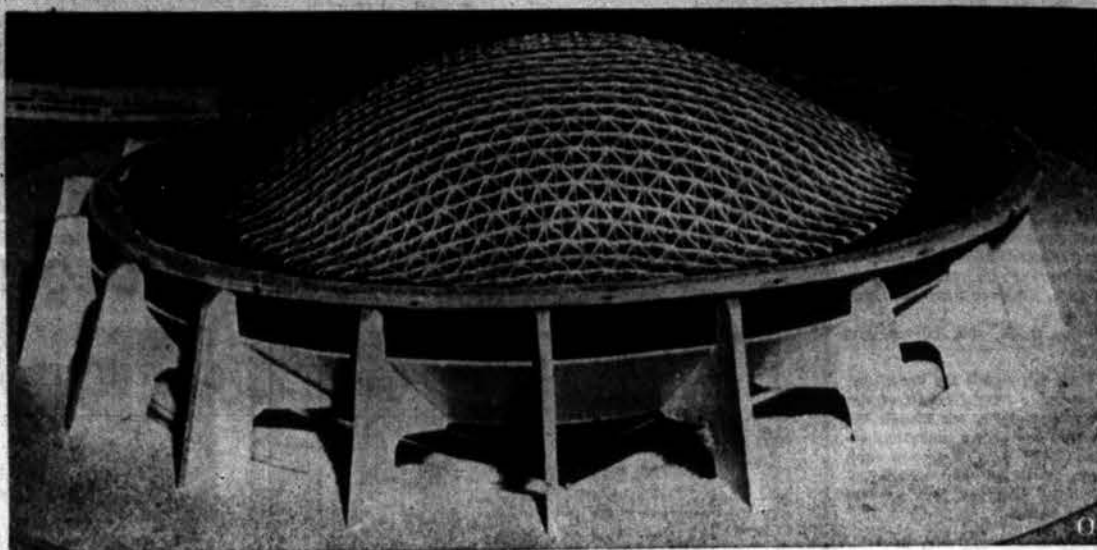

Reporters asked Mitchell if the story was true. He denied it flatly. He said he arranged a meeting and that was all.

"There were no threats. There was no coercion," he declared. "I got the two groups together merely as a mediator and walked out and let them settle their own problems."

Asked if that might be construed as government intervention, Mitchell shot back, "absolutely not."

Mitchell told the 1,500 machinists delegates "America must not waste its manpower—our most valuable resource—as it has wasted other resources."

"We cannot afford to waste the potential skills of six million Negroes; neither can we afford to neglect the skills and experience of mature workers over 45."

MODEL ARENA — Showing its dome, which would protect spectators from the weather, this model of the proposed Brooklyn Stadium demonstrates the new-as-tomorrow features which will be incorporated into the structure. It may be completed by 1958, and will seat 50,000 spectators. If it has the all-weather dome, the stadium will cost $9,000,000 and $7,000,000 if the roof is eliminated.

The new arena would be built on the advanced cantilever lines, minus posts, and would be air conditioned. The super-modern two-deck stadium will have giant motors under the stands capable of moving entire sections of seats on the field deck. The stands could be shifted according to the nature of the sporting event.

Army to Explode Cannonballs of Civil War Days

ANNISTON, Ala. (U)—Several Civil War cannonballs, found recently near Chattanooga at the site of the battle of Missionary Ridge, are expected to be fired at Ft. McClellan, Ala., later this week.

The cannonballs, considered "live" because rust prevented a complete examination, are scheduled to be set off by Lt. Donald White, commanding officer of the 142nd Explosives Ordnance Disposal squad.

The battle of Missionary Ridge, a major Confederate defeat, was fought Nov. 24, 1863.

Most Credit Is for Cars

PARIS — Before World War II, French banks were reluctant to give any backing to credit loans. Now at least 70 per cent of all credit sales are made in the automobile trade, but relatively large increases have occurred also in payment facilities extended in connection with electrical appliances, motorcycles, radio and television.

Malaria is a common disease in almost all of the warmer parts of the world.

Billy Graham Unknown—at Least to Delegate

LAKE JUNALUSKA, N.C. (U)—Evangelist Billy Graham made a surprise appearance here during the world Methodist conference. As he entered the auditorium, an overseas delegate set off a gale of laughter by inquiring, "Are you Bishop Graham?"

Two centenaries Down Under will be marked by a special stamp issue, Sidney reports. They are the 100 years of government in New South Wales and the settlement of Norfolk Island in 1856.

No Suez Worries for Vacationing Reds

MOSCOW (INS)—Many top Soviet leaders are on vacation today, an indication that they do not expect any early hostilities over the Suez Canal crisis.

Jules Moch, French representative on the U. N. Disarmament Commission who just arrived in the Soviet Capital, conferred with Vice Premier Anastas Mikoyan on world problems. Moch will tour parts of Russia as an official guest.

Mikoyan is acting for Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev who are on vacation, as is Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepi.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

OLD WHALING DAYS — 4
A Trick at the Wheel

The steering wheel on a ship is vital. Connected with the rudder, it can turn the ship from one direction to another.

Day and night there must be an expert sailor at the wheel, for alert handling can mean life or death to all aboard. To the old whaling ships, sailing in polar seas, a skillful maneuver was often needed to avoid icebergs or another ship appearing suddenly in fog.

In calm water, younger crew members are given their turn at the wheel, so that they can learn how. As the wheel turns the steersman moves his hands from spoke to spoke so that he can keep complete control. There is a compass to guide him, and he must know how to use it.

Paste the picture on cardboard, after you have colored it with your crayons, and cut out the parts carefully. Cut around the wheel support down as far as the ends of the dotted line around it. Slip the wheel behind it and fasten wheel and support together with a bent pin or brass fastener through the indicated holes. Then the wheel will turn.

(Tom Milton, Dunbar, W. Va., wins $10 for submitting this idea first. Send your ideas care of this newspaper and you may win the Junior Editors award. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures).

Illinois Dem Judge
Runs for Governor

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Richard B. Austin, 54, a judge of Cook County (Chicago) Superior Court and a former assistant state's attorney, is the Democratic candidate for Illinois governor in the November election.

Austin was picked by the Democratic State Central Committee yesterday to succeed Herbert C. Paschen, Paschen, Cook County treasurer, was nominated in the April primary but withdrew from the race after a controversial employes fund was investigated by county and federal grand juries, and by Senate Banking Committee investigators.

Austin flew to Springfield after his selection and promised a hard campaign against Republican Gov. William G. Stratton, who is seeking re-election.

Alma Woman Killed

ALMA (AP)—Mrs. Iva Deline, 47, of Alma, was killed Tuesday when the car in which she was riding veered off U.S. 24 near Defiance, Ohio, and hit two trees. Mrs. Dora Look, 58, the driver, and Mrs. Margaret Bailey, 57, both of Pekin, Ill., were injured critically.

Nasser Sees No Limits in Assuming Role of Leader

(This is the last of three articles on the life and ambitions of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt. A three-part series headed by "Nasser: The Man Who Defied the World" and "Nasser: The Man Who Defied the World" is published by the conference in London for international control of the Suez Canal.)

BY HOWARD HANDLEMAN
LONDON (INS) — Gamal Abdel Nasser has upset western experts on the Middle East.

The man who prompted an international crisis by nationalizing the Suez Canal doesn't fit into the pattern of Arabs.

Last winter the Egyptian leader was vitriolic against the United States in a speech to his army officers. The most knowledgeable U.S. experts cautioned against taking the speech too seriously.

They said he had to talk tough to keep his officers in line and it was impossible to be mild in Arabic languages.

FLAMBOYANT TERMS

But it turned out that when Nasser, the young strong man of Egypt, spoke in flamboyant terms he had flamboyant thoughts and intentions.

The question of why he differed from the accepted pattern is one of much importance to the whole world. That is because Nasser claims only to be the product of an awakened Arab nationalism, and if that is true some old concepts and comfortable ways of doing things are endangered.

For, as Nasser says, the Arabs have the population, the strategic position astride a main crossroads of world commerce, and the oil to make a united Arabia powerful.

NEW WORLD FORCE

And if Nasser is merely a symbol of the new Arab man, or if he can mould the Arabs in his own image, a powerful new force is being born in the world.

Nasser revolted against more than a government when he led the young officers against King Farouk on July 23, 1952. He revolted against a whole way of life in Egypt.

From boyhood, as Nasser tells it, he was ashamed and angered when he thought of the Arab as a supplicant. Arabs are strong, he said, "not in the loudness of our voices, but rather when we remain silent and measure the extent of our ability to act; when we really understand the strength resulting from the times binding us together, making our land a single region from which no part can withdraw, and of which no part, like an isolated island, can be defended without defense of the whole."

Today, as the youngest government chief of any important nation, Nasser is still ranked by the thought of an Egyptian or an Arab being inferior to anyone.

RESENTED PASHAS

He also continues his resentment of the old Egyptian pashas who lived in luxurious ease while the people of Egypt were in squalor.

The people of Egypt remain in squalor, four years after the Nasser revolt. But Nasser has taken care to live most modestly. He, his wife and five children live only a little better now than they did when he was paying his way on the salary of a lieutenant colonel in the Egyptian army.

There was no money in the Nasser family. His father was a modestly paid civil servant, but he had enough money in 1926 to send his eight-year old son to Cairo to school.

LED DEMONSTRATIONS

Nasser remained in the capital for the rest of his school years. He led demonstrations, or participated in them, was wounded, arrested, banned from government schools for awhile.

Politics were his passion. The law seemed to be the easiest way. And the slogan of Nasser's childhood, the slogan he repeats in his book, "The Philosophy of the Revolution," always was, "O, almighty God, may disaster take the English!"

Gradually the law lost its charm for Nasser and the army took its place. In after years he wrote:

"This situation demanded the existence of a force set in one cohesive framework, far removed from the conflict between individuals and classes, and drawn from the heart of the people; a force composed of men able to trust each other; a force with enough material strength at its disposal to guarantee a swift and decisive action."

LEADER IN SCHOOL

"These conditions could be met only by the army."

Nasser, at 13, entered the military college. The year was 1937. From then on the course was straight for Nasser. He became a leader among his fellows, an officer with a good combat record, a spokesman for anti-British and anti-colonial sentiment among the young officers.

In the Palestine War he was brave and wounded in a lost and humiliating cause.

He returned from the lost war with his vision and ambitions. He thought of the cause of the Arabs as a "role without a hero." He was determined to provide the hero.

Nasser closes his revealing book with the paragraph:

"And now I go back to that wandering mission in search of a hero to play it. Here is the role. Here are the lines, and here is the stage. We alone, by virtue of our place, can perform the role."

To Nasser the "we" is Egypt.

Band Leader of 20s, Danny Russo, Is Dead

SAGINAW (U.S.) — Danny Russo, 70, dance band leader of the 1920s and 1930s, died Tuesday of a heart attack in Hollywood, Calif., relatives here said today.

Russo's band, the Orioles, which he organized in Detroit in 1930, was one of the first to broadcast nationally in the early days of radio. Russo composed the 1920 hit tune, "Toot, Toot, Tootsie, Good-bye."

Band leader Ted Fiorito and Nick Lucas, billed as the "Crooning Troubadour," were among musicians who got their start in Russo's orchestra.

Russo made his first public appearance at the age of 10 as a solo violinist with a Saginaw orchestra. For a time the boy and his father, a harpist, played on the old Saginaw-Pontiac Lookout excursion boats.

In the late 1930s Russo went to Hollywood where he directed movie studio orchestras until his retirement in 1947.

General Lauds NATO Strength

Gruenther Says Group Will Prevent War, but Still Lacks Peak Force

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme commander of allied powers in Europe, believes the North Atlantic Treaty Organization eventually will prevent another war, but is not strong enough to do so today.

Gen. Gruenther, main speaker and honor guest at the American Legion convention banquet in Los Angeles Tuesday, said:

"I am sure we are going to prevent a war from taking place."

But he said NATO is "still not strong enough" to resist an all-out attack by Russia.

He said he believes NATO will reach the point within the next three to four years where it can push back any onslaught by Communist forces from the Soviet Union. He said the point would be reached only after Germany is able to make a full contribution to the alliance.

The soldier-statesman reported that NATO is improving steadily and that it is "now four or five times as strong as five years ago."

But he pointed out that the Soviets "still have the largest and strongest land forces in the world—475 divisions, an air force of 20,000 planes, 80 per cent of them jets, and some 400 submarines."

Blood Preservation Predicted by Medics

BOSTON (INS)—A British blood specialist and an American researcher today held out the possibility that blood taken from a person today may be frozen by new techniques to save lives of unborn generations.

Dr. Patrick L. Mollison of London's postgraduate medical school and Dr. Ivan W. Brown, Jr. of Duke University, said the new technique involves mixing red blood cells with glycerine and keeping the mixture at 80 degrees centigrade below zero.

They told a joint session of the international society of blood transfusion and the American Assn. of Blood Banks at Boston's Hotel Somerset that "indefinite" preservation of blood now appears possible.

Thieves Steal Watchdog

EGG HARBOR, N.J. (AP)—Jerome Lane, owner of a garage in nearby Elwood, reported to police that thieves broke into his establishment and stole only one thing: His watchdog, Sport.

Scooters and Caddy-Carts to Ease Loads for Mailmen

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Post Office Department is buying 1,500 new motor scooters and 6,000 golf-caddy-type carts to help speed letter carriers on their appointed rounds.

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield has announced a "major extension" of the scooter program, the first production-line order of hand carts, and the purchase of 2,000 more bicycles and 5,743 new trucks.

And, as a further streamlining project, Summerfield said 200 post offices, stations and branches will get new, counter facilities—replacing the familiar tall wooden barrier and small windows with counters of the type used in modern banks.

Also, 22,500 mail boxes will be ordered this year for installation "in growing communities all over the nation."

The light, three-wheeled scooters, the department said, have already "put many carriers on wheels" to further speed deliveries.

EASE BACK STRAIN

The hand carts — to take the load off the mail carriers' backs—have been tried experimentally. Now 6,000 are on order. Adapted from the golf course, the aluminum carts will let the mailman push his load instead of lugging it.

The carts, like the trucks, scooters, bicycles and mail boxes, will be painted red, white and blue.

Of the 5,743 modern trucks, 2,968 have been ordered and delivery is to be completed in six months. Many, said Summerfield, will be ready for the Christmas rush.

Bicycles will be used mostly in suburban areas. Some have already been in use in southern communities.

BIG FORWARD STEP

Summerfield said the new vehicle program of the department "represents one of the most important steps taken since 1953 to modernize the postal service in line with the President's mandate to improve service and reduce costs."

In 1953, he said, the government had a "mongrel" group of 19,000 vehicles of seven types.

Now, and since 1954, he reported, trucks for all postal needs are in four standardized models, using economical parts and particularly adapted to carrying mail.

They feature a righthand drive to aid in curbside pickups.

The department also said that thousands of the new mailboxes will have "snorkels" or chutes to permit easy deposit of mail from the window of the family automobile.

About 15 million Americans buy vegetable seeds for home gardens each year.

Line Up Kefauver Visit

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan Democratic leaders reportedly are attempting to line up Estes Kefauver, Democratic vice presidential nominee, for a Michigan visit. Kefauver got Michigan's votes on the first two presidential ballots at the 1952 party convention and the state's delegation supported him for vice president at this year's convention.

Tucson, Arizona has a metropolitan population of about 180,000 in 60 square miles. In 1942 it had 140,000.

Devil of a Treat: Deviled Chicken

The question before us is: What's a little "different" from the usual in the way of picnic fare? Winning answer: Deviled Picnic Chicken is. For savory deviled ham glorifies everyday foods and, with hardly any extra effort, something really special goes into the picnic basket.

Yummy deviled ham gives that chef's touch to a familiar food. Eat it hot—eat it cold—just be sure you eat Deviled Picnic Chicken with the fingers!

A colorful salad of elbow macaroni heaped into green pepper shells, which make natural cups, completes the pretty picnic picture.

Salad-in-a-Cup
4 cups cooked cold elbow macaroni
1 cup finely chopped green pepper
1 cup finely chopped celery
1 cup chopped cucumber
1 cup mayonnaise
Salt and pepper
6-8 whole green peppers, stem and seeds removed Combine all ingredients (except peppers) and mix lightly. Fill pepper shells with macaroni mixture. Chill. Makes 6-8 salads, depending on size of peppers.

Horseshoe is a natural for roast beef; serve grated fresh horseshoe (in a lettuce cup) if you can get it or use the commercially prepared bottled variety.

Unusual Chinese Version of Beef and Cauliflower

A very colorful, light sauce accompanies this Chinese-type recipe for Beef and Cauliflower on Rice. The vegetables, if cooked until barely tender, retain their fresh flavor and some of their garden crispness. The meat is seared only and should be slightly rare for tenderness and best flavor. Serve over hot fluffy rice. An Almond Torte for dessert brings a final oriental touch to the meal.

Be Bread-Thrifty and Stretch Budget

If you're a budget watcher, you'll find that you can stretch your bread dollar to prevent waste by buying only as much bread as can be used at one time and using any leftovers in cooking. Proper storage will provide longer bread life, too.

Always store your bread in the original wrapper and close it tightly after each use. The best place for storage is a freezer where bread will keep for several weeks or even longer. If this is impossible, a well ventilated bread box in a warm part of the kitchen is a good second choice.

And if yours is a family that goes easy on the bread, buy it in smaller quantities. Many markets sell a half or small-family loaf. Keep it in mind, too, that the day-old bread frequently sold at a discount is ideal for toast, bread puddings, stuffings, and crumb toppings.

Beef and Cauliflower on Rice

1 pound round steak, cut 1/4-inch thick
1 small cauliflower
1 tablespoon salad oil
1 green pepper, cut in 1/4-inch squares
1 cup soy sauce
1 clove garlic, minced
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 cup water
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 cup sliced green onions
2 cups hot cooked rice
Cut meat into 1/4-inch squares. Separate cauliflower into the smallest possible cauliflowerettes. You should have about four cups. Heat salad oil in large skillet almost to the smoking point. Add meat and cook, stirring constantly, until meat loses its raw appearance, about one minute. Remove meat from skillet and keep warm.

Add cauliflower, green pepper, soy sauce, and garlic to skillet. Toss lightly with a fork until vegetables are coated with soy sauce. Cover pan tightly and simmer until vegetables are barely tender, about 15 minutes.

Blend cornstarch, water, and sugar. Add to vegetables with meat and green onions. Cook until thoroughly heated and sauce is thickened, stirring constantly. Serve over the hot rice. Yields six servings.

Tuna-Cheese Mix for Grilled Sandwich

A high-protein sandwich!
Tuna-Cheese Sandwiches
1 1/2 lbs. can chunk-style tuna (drained)
1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese (about 1 1/2 cups)
1 tablespoon finely grated onion (juicy and juicy)
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 slices bread
butter (melted)
Mix tuna, cheese, onion and mustard. Spread on bread to make sandwiches. Brush outside of bread with melted butter. Toast slowly on both sides under broiler until golden brown. Makes 4 servings.

Tiny Biscuit-wiches Just Right for Snack

For that afternoon or evening patio or TV snack to serve with your favorite beverage, try Tiny Biscuit-wiches.
Heat oven to 450 (hot) and follow the directions on the package for rolled biscuits, except roll dough to 1/4 inch thickness and bake 8 to 10 minutes.
Slit hot biscuits, spread with butter and place thin slices of ham, frankfurter or cheese between halves.

Write-On Tape Boon for Home Freezing

Pressure-sensitive cloth tapes that self-stick in a warm kitchen and stay stuck inside a freezer offer shortcuts in home freezing. Proper preservation of home foods depends largely on sealing air out of tightly wrapped packages, bags and cartons. Freezer tapes created in three colors provide easy air-tight seals. The three colors provide simple color coding—red for meat, blue for fish and neutral for other foods. All three are "write-on" tapes for convenient recording of freezing dates and noting specific contents of the package. The freezer tapes are manufactured by a large adhesive products company. They are available in single rolls and in freezer kits of Unflavored gelatin . . . all protein and containing no fat or sugar . . . is extremely adaptable on reducing diets. As a protein supplement beverage for mid-morning or mid-afternoon, stir an envelope of the unflavored gelatin into a glass of orange juice, water or milk.

Try Danish Muffins to Spark Breakfast

Start September days with imaginative breakfasts. Danish Muffins add mighty good eating and they're different, too. Sift together 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt. Cook 1/4 cup small apple cubes until tender in only enough water to cover. Drain. Beat 4 egg yolks. Add 1 1/4 cups milk and 1/4 cup melted shortening. Add to flour mixture. Fold in 4 stiffly beaten egg whites. Fill greased muffin pans 3/4 full. Press several pieces of apple into center of each muffin. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Dust with confectioners' sugar. Makes 2 dozen 3-inch muffins.

Trout Poached in Court Bouillon

If you enjoy thinking of the beautiful trout that swim in the cold mountain streams and lovely blue lakes of our country, perhaps you'll be interested in what "Truite au Bleu" (Blue Trout) found on restaurant menus really means.

The natural color of the fish isn't exactly blue, but the flesh turns blue after being poached in a court bouillon of 1 part vinegar to 5 parts water.

So we're told by James Beard in his "Fish Cookery." He adds that "Truite au Bleu" was originally an outdoor meal, the trout cooked as soon as caught. Here's his recipe:

Truite Au Bleu.
Prepare a court bouillon of 3 parts water to 1 part vinegar. Add 6 peppercorns, a part of a bay leaf, and 1 teaspoon of salt to each quart of liquid. Bring this to a boil.

Plunge in the trout and poach them just long enough to cook them through—about 4 minutes for the average fish.

Serve them hot with melted butter and boiled potatoes.

Egg Salad Is Different

While some egg salads may lean slightly toward blandness, this one certainly has enough dash to lift it from that category.

Molded in lemon flavored gelatin the chopped eggs are enhanced by a variety of chopped vegetables and by authoritative seasonings.

To give a creaminess that's particularly pleasant along with the eggs a cup of evaporated milk is blended in with the gelatin base. This adds to the smoothness of the salad's texture, too, which is in nice contrast to the crispness of the chopped celery and green pepper.

Sliced ripe juicy tomatoes and crisp potato chips would be ample to complete a menu that includes this hearty main dish salad.

Molded Egg Salad
1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup evaporated milk
1 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
4 hard cooked eggs, peeled and chopped
1 cup sliced celery
1/2 cup sliced green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped pickles
1 cup pickle relish
Empty gelatin into a medium size mixing bowl. Add boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Cool slightly, then stir in milk slowly. (Appearance will be

Pack a Surprise in School Lunchbox

Remember that a lunchbox should supply a nourishing, interesting noontime meal. Select sandwich fillings with care, choosing those which "keep" well during the morning hours. Vary them from day to day.

If a lettuce leaf or tomato slice is to go into the sandwich, wrap it separately to keep it crisp. Be sure sandwiches are always made with enriched bread, which assures your youngster three B-vitamins and food iron.

If you have a reliable thermos, you can pack hot beverages, soups, chili or stews. Small plastic containers enable you to include fruit or gelatin salads.

Every so often, tuck a surprise into the lunch box—a frosted cupcake, wrapped hard candies or a favorite fruit.

Baked Alaska in a Jiffy

Ready-bought sponge-cake cups can be filled with scoops of ice cream, wrapped individually in transparent plastic wrapping or aluminum foil and frozen. When you're ready to use them, cover them with meringue and bake them in a 450 degrees oven about 6 minutes. You'll have Baked Alaska all ready for a party.

SCHOOL BELLS ARE RINGING — School bells, books and lunches... all to remind you school has started. Sandwiches and pickles are real helpmates for lunchbox and at-home menus for the youngsters.

Crisp Pickles Add Zest to Hearty Lunch Spreads

Summer's almost over, and school days have begun. There are clothes to be bought, shoes to repair, lunches to be planned either for the lunchbox or at home. Sandwiches are, of course, ideal for the lunchbox. They're also a good item to serve when the youngsters come home for lunch.

Nutmeg Spices Rich Meat Balls

Danish Recipe Uses Product of the Indies for Distinctive Flavor

From faraway places with strange sounding names — Siam, Java and Banda in the East Indies, and Grenada in the West Indies — comes the nutmeg we take from the kitchen shelf.

Equally world-wide in origin are many of the most interesting uses for this aromatic spice.

We've long known, of course, of nutmeg's affinity for dessert type dishes, but nutmeg as an enhancer of vegetables is a cosmopolitan idea.

From Denmark, land of pictorial pastures and fine foods, come Danish meat balls, richly, spicily distinctive thanks to a liberal dashing of nutmeg.

Danish Meat Balls With Mashed Potatoes

3 pounds ground lean beef
1 cup minced onion
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 teaspoon ground nutmeg
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup flour
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup water

Combine first six ingredients. Shape into 2-inch balls. Mix flour with the 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1-1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper into which roll the meat balls. Brown on all sides in hot shortening.

Add bouillon or water and bay leaf. Cover. Cook slowly 20 to 30 minutes. Remove meat balls.

Blend 3 tablespoons flour with drippings left in pan (use flour left from the 2-3 cup). Brown. Stir in 1 1/2 cups water or bouillon. Cook until medium thickness, stirring constantly. Serve meat balls and gravy with fluffy mashed potatoes. Yield: 5 to 6 servings.

Try these sandwich spread recipes featuring crisp, salty pickles in combination with cheese, meats and vegetables. They have three prime virtues of being good tasting, easily prepared and excellent keepers.

Keep a good supply of pickles handy for school lunches... pack them between the sandwich and apple in the lunch box, or pass the pickle relish for hamburgers at home.

Double Cheese Pickle Sandwich
1 3-ounce package cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup grated Cheddar cheese
1/2 cup chopped sweet mixed pickles
2 tablespoons milk
Salt and pepper to taste
8 slices buttered bread

Combine cream cheese, Cheddar cheese, pickles, milk and salt and pepper; mix well. Spread on bread to make sandwiches. Makes four sandwiches.

Dill Pickle Peanut Butter Filling
1/2 cup chopped raisins
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped dill pickles
1/2 cup peanut butter
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
Buttered bread slices

Combine raisins, celery, dill pickles, peanut butter and mayonnaise. Mix well. Spread on bread to make sandwiches. Makes about one cup filling.

Pickle Hash Sandwiches
2 hamburger rolls, cut in half
2 tablespoons softened butter or margarine
1 1/2-pound can corned beef hash
1/2 cup drained sweet pickle relish
2 slices processed Swiss cheese

Spread rolls with butter or margarine. Cut hash into 8 slices and place on bottom halves of rolls. Top with pickle relish and cheese. Broil 3-4 inches from source of heat 3-5 minutes, or until cheese is melted and golden brown. Top with remaining roll halves. Serves six.

Hard-to-Resist Dessert

For a dessert that is hard to resist, place alternating layers of ginger wafers and vanilla-flavored canned applesauce in a dessert dish, using 1/2 teaspoon pure vanilla extract to a No. 2 can of sweetened applesauce. Chill two hours. Top with vanilla-flavored whipped cream just before serving.

New Sandwich Treat
Making peanut butter sandwiches to go into a lunchbox? Give the spread a new flavor by sweetening it with honey. Then perk it up with a little grated orange rind and chopped ripe banana.

After-Game Snack: Crispy Nut Mallows

After a brisk game of golf or beside a brightly burning log in the fireplace, there's nothing like Crunchy Peanut Mallows to still the appetite of your friends and family.

1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup peanut butter
1 lb. marshmallows (32)
1/2 cup milk or sugar jets
Melt butter, peanut butter, marshmallows over hot water, stirring constantly. Fold mixture into cereal in large bowl, stirring gently until cereal is evenly coated. Turn into greased square pan. Pat out evenly. Cut into bars.

Heavily waxed cartons come in round tub shape with snap-on lids; they're useful for freezing either liquid or dry foods.

Choice Hors D'Oeuvres Don't 'Just Happen'

Really choice hors d'oeuvres—ones that you remember with fondness—don't just happen without planning. Memorable concoctions that delight women guests and satisfy male appetites as well, require but a slight touch of culinary genius.

Try this dip that reflects a little of both: "Perfection," they'll say, when you serve a bowl of this cheese-flavored dip with crisp celery or small plum tomatoes. Mix a can of chicken spread (5 ounce size) with 1/4 cup shredded process sharp cheese, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise and enough light cream to thin to the consistency you like. Chill well before serving. Equally successful when spread on small tasted bread rounds. Makes one cup.

Serve an Antipasto Platter

Antipasto, that old favorite of Italian restaurants, is a delightful dish to serve at home. The tiny, tasty tidbits whet heat-faded appetites and yet are as nutritious as many a heavier dish.

Fish is the prop and mainstay of the antipasto platter and sardines from Maine are the perfect focal point for this tray of goodies. They are plump and meaty, delicately flavored and extremely rich in body-building protein and minerals.

Choose sardines in whatever pack you and your family prefer. The flat cans of tiny fish are packed in a variety of oils, in tomato sauce or in a tangy, mustard sauce.

Surround the glistening, silvery sardines with a variety of other foods. Let your imagination be your guide. Stuffed eggs are always popular. Slices of salami are frequently used, as are pimientos and olives.

CRISP VEGETABLES

Refreshing crispness is provided by carrot curls, radish roses and hearts of celery.

Spiced, marinated mushrooms are an interesting addition to the antipasto plate. It's fun to have something really new on an antipasto plate.

When to serve antipasto? That's no problem at all! Serve it anytime! It is traditional, of course, as a first course for dinner.

In larger servings, bolstered by crunchy peasant bread, it makes a marvelous luncheon main dish. As a snack, served with your favorite beverage, it is a refreshing change from overly sweet nighttime nibbles.

The Maine Sardine Industry gives us two interesting recipes to include on the antipasto platter.

Marinated Mushrooms For Antipasto Platter
3 (2-ounce) cans sliced mushrooms
1 tablespoon wine vinegar

2 tablespoons oil
1/2 teaspoon powdered dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon chopped olives
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
Grate salt

Drain mushrooms. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over mushrooms. Chill several hours in refrigerator, turning over occasionally to insure mushroom being well coated with marinade. Yield: 1 cup.

Deviled Eggs for Antipasto Platter

4 hard cooked eggs
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon chopped olives
1/2 teaspoon prepared horseradish
Salt
Capers

Cut shelled eggs in half lengthwise. Remove yolks carefully and set whites aside. Mash yolks and add all remaining ingredients except capers, seasoning to taste with salt and pepper.

Round Steak Recipe

Makes Entertaining Fun

Got friends you really should invite for dinner, but feel hardly up to it? Do it anyway! Here's how to do yourself proud with a round steak dinner that looks like hard work but really isn't.

Mix 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon black pepper; pound this into 1 1/2 pounds round steak with meat hammer or edge of saucer. Brown steak on both sides in 1/4 cup shortening.

Add 1 can (1 1/2 cups) V-8 juice; cover and cook over low heat about 1 1/2 hours, or until tender. Stir occasionally. Makes 6 servings.

With this main course whipped potatoes are mighty delicious. Also green beans cooked with a little finely chopped onion.

SARDINES IN ANTIPASTO — Silvery fish from the coast of Maine form the focal point on an antipasto platter which is as delicious to eat as it is beautiful to look at. Let your imagination be your guide for the rest of the food on the platter.

Don't Overlook Balance-Meal

Breakfast is, in a very real way, a balance-meal for which there is no substitute.

Lunch and supper differ only in time. Dinner is essentially an expanded version of lunch or supper. Breakfast is quite different from other meals and for this reason more important of itself than other meals.

Consider food requirements. Certain of our favorite foods for breakfast are rich in nutrients often short in American diets.

Whole grain or restored cereals are important sources of minerals and the B vitamins. Milk, the chief source of calcium, contributes to the cereal-milk serving top quality protein as well. Foods high in vitamin C, notably citrus fruits, are needed daily.

Not surprisingly, it has been found that breakfast-skippers seldom have truly balanced diets.

Consider time. From evening till noon is a long time—too long. Breakfast balances the meal schedule.

Consider the budget. The basic cereal breakfast of fruit or juice, crisp cereal with milk, bread, butter and a beverage is remarkably low in cost for food value received. Breakfast is a budget-balancing bargain.

Make breakfast an every-morning meal. Breakfast-skippers miss too much!

Add Spanish Flavor to Pork and Beans

Pork and beans with tomato sauce delight practically everyone — especially the homemaker pressed for time. Here's a quick way to dress up this old family friend with a flash of Spanish flavor.

Fry 2 slices of bacon until crisp; drain; break into bits. In bacon drippings, cook 1 large onion (chopped) and 1 green pepper (chopped).

Stir in 2 cans (3 1/2 cups) pork and beans, 1/2 cup ketchup, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/2 teaspoon salt and a dash of black pepper. Cook over low heat about 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Makes six ample servings.

WHERE PICKLE IS KING — These are huge pickling vats large enough to hold 800 bushels at this Bay City pickling plant. Vats are covered with planks during pickling period and the brine foams up to form layer over them.

Pickle Harvest Season Going Full Blast

BAY CITY (AP)—They're up to here in cucumbers and salt at the Madison Co.'s. Pickle preserving plant these days.

With the pickle harvest season going full blast, the plant is in the process of putting away some 55,000 bushels of pickles in wooden vats.

William Dembowske of nearby Pinconning, who runs the operation, says the pickles may be cured for 60 days or three years, depending on how much demand there is for them.

It makes no difference how long the pickles are left in the salt brine, says Dembowske, because once they are cured they stay in that form.

When a pickle company wants a shipment, the stored cucumbers are shipped in railroad tank cars or by tank truck for processing into any type of pickle.

Each vat holds up to 800 bushels in salt water plus a six-inch layer of brine which covers the top.

Planking is laid across the vat during the curing process and the brine foams up to form a layer over the boards.

Dembowske says this year's pickle crop is only "fair" as to quantity. Last year his plant purchased 85,000 bushels and sent some of them to other company curing plants.

The going price is $5 a bushel for pickles up to an inch and 1/16th in diameter, $2 for inch and a half pickles and $1 a bushel for larger pickles.

Party Punch Appealing Amid Hawaiian Setting

Party punch is the leading actor at this party—with a theme from the South Sea Islands. It's served with an eye to making your buffet table the focus of admiring attention. The chilled, scooped-out halves of the pineapple are pretty and delicious. Just as delicious is any one of the three following recipes for making a basic punch—then spike it to your own special taste! When you use canned soft drinks, no added flavoring is necessary. The sweetness is in the can.

Peppy punch, with a soft-toned Hawaiian note, will delight thirsty guests, while the decorative air appeals to the eye. You may carry through the theme by serving the punch with fresh coconut cubes in the scooped-out shell, and nuts, fruit and tiny sandwiches spread with ham, peanut butter or such mixtures as chopped walnuts and cream cheese. It's fun to greet your guests with twined wreaths of wild flowers, too, in true South Seas fashion.

South Sea Pop Punch

Combine one each of 12-oz. can black cherry soft drink, ginger ale and pineapple, well chilled. Makes 4½ cups. There are large 46-ounce handy cans of soft drinks available too. Fill four pineapple halves. To prepare pineapple—cut in half lengthwise; use grapefruit knife to remove center of pineapple. Cut pieces of pineapple and spear on slippers with strawberries. Float cubes of pineapple cut out of halves

Salt Sticks Add Texture to Meal

Try sparking your menu with an inviting accompaniment, such as these fresh-from-the-oven salt sticks.

Thanks to one little innovation, these sticks are cracking crisp—just before baking they're rolled in crushed oven-toasted rice cereal, which is mixed with the standard ingredients of salt and caraway seeds, or poppy seeds, for an interesting flavor difference.

The sticks can be prepared in a matter of minutes and only a brief baking period is needed.

Quick Salt Sticks

2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
½ cup vinegar
½ cup milk
1 cup oven-toasted rice cereal
1 teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoon caraway or poppy seeds
Sift together flour, soda and salt; cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse corn meal. Add vinegar and milk, stirring only until combined.

Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently a few times. Divide into 16 equal parts. Roll each ball on board with palms of hands until it becomes a cylinder about 6 inches long. Brush with milk.

Crush rice cereal; mix in salt and caraway seeds. Roll each stick in cereal mixture. Place on greased baking sheets. Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees) about 15 minutes. Yield: 16 sticks, 6 inches long.

New Sardine Spread for Toasty Lunch

Good Sardine Sandwiches

1 can (3½ ounces) sardines
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
1 tablespoon chili sauce
¼ teaspoon onion powder
4 slices toast
¼ cup minced parsley
Mash sardines with oil in can; mix in well with the mayonnaise, chili sauce and onion powder. Spread sardine mixture on toast and sprinkle with minced parsley. Makes 2 open-sandwich servings. 2 slices for each portion.

Add mixed pickling-spice to a boneless pork shoulder butt when you are simmering it in water. Extra flavor!

Try baking fruit cobbler in custard cups for individual servings.

Cheese Has Appeal for Eye and Palate

No matter what the hour, or the setting, cheese has a definite charm for any audience. The eye, the taste, the imagination, all respond. Just notice sometime when you set out an attractive yet simply prepared, cheese tray.

Explore and experiment with cheese. The vast collection of both natural and process varieties gives us a choice for any meal.

Cheese is a concentrated food containing most of the nutrients of the milk from which it is made. Not only does it satisfy the appetite, but it provides protein in tasty, easily digested form.

Try cottage cheese at breakfast on toast, French toast, or waffles... or you might like it as a filling for your omelet. As a luncheon sandwich spread, cottage cheese appears on the scene again—this time mixed with finely chopped watercress, chives, or shredded coconut, and seasoned to taste. A new ready-to-serve cheddar cheese sauce makes a quick, nutritious hors d'oeuvre, spread on crackers or Melba toast.

Cheeses like Camembert, Liederkranz, and Swiss Gruyere, served with fruit, will solve many a desert problem.

Stir a half cup of grated cheddar cheese into a package of pie-crust mix. Use as pastry for green apple pie.

Use Paprika for Decoration and Good Taste

Melon-Paprika Scallop — Cut honeydew melon into crosswise slices about ¼-inch thick. Pare melon slices and cut in half. Sprinkle paprika along outer edge to form scallops.

Melon-Paprika Ribbon — Cut honeydew melon into crosswise slices about ¼-inch thick. Pare melon slices and cut in half. Sprinkle paprika in thin line down center of melon.

Lettuce-Paprika Petals — Dip edges of lettuce leaves in paprika.

Cucumber-Paprika Boats — Cut

cucumber lengthwise into ¼-inch wedges; dip wedges in paprika.

Onion-Paprika Pinwheels — Cut onion into ¼-inch slices. Separate onion slices into rings. Dip alternate rings in paprika. Replace onion rings to form slices.

Starter for Teenagers

Teenagers love steaks for breakfast. So, save money, buy low cost economy steaks from grass-fed beef now plentiful. Shake on meat tenderizer, pierce as directed on jar, broil. Teeners will be on time!

Lard has greater shortening ability than most fats. Remember this when you are following a pastry recipe calling for some other kind of fat.

Jiffy Rarebit Made With Bologna, Olives

Bologna strips and chopped ripe olives give extra color and flavor to this new jiffy rarebit.

Combine 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup with a quarter pound of cubed American cheese and ¼ teaspoon prepared mustard. Heat till mixture is smooth. Add ¼ pound of bologna cut into thin strips and ¼ cup chopped black olives. Heat thoroughly.

Serve over toast points. Serves four.

Ever add anchovy and green olives to potato salad? Good!

Plan a Lunch to Pack a Punch

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Lunch boxes are coming out of hiding, and mothers all around the Pontiac area are wondering what Junior and Janie will like for lunch.

Mothers have a tremendous responsibility in this phase of their children's well-being. To provide a nutritious diet for each child takes imagination, knowledge and work.

Let's review, as we usually do at this time of year, the essentials of a good lunch for school children. The American Institute of Baking has this to say on the subject:

"Whether the lunch is carried, eaten at home or at school it should provide one-third of the daily needs for calories, proteins, vitamins and minerals. If mother packs the food correctly, neither breakfast nor dinner need do double duty for a skimpy lunch."

"A simple basic menu pattern is the type A lunch. Recommended by the National Research Council, it consists of two ounces of protein-rich foods such as meat, eggs or fish; three-quarters cup of vegetables or fruits or both; one or more portions of bread with two teaspoons of butter or margarine and a half pint of milk."

If we translate that into actual food for a grade schooler this is what we get: A meat sandwich, spread with butter or margarine of course; carrot and cabbage salad; milk; one large cookie; and fruit.

If there is more than one child in the family, the lunches can be similar. Perhaps Junior eats only peanut butter sandwiches, while Janie likes meat or cheese. They will both eat the same vegetable, the dessert and the fruit.

When you have a child who is particularly fussy about his lunch, enlist his aid in planning what goes into his lunch box. If he is old enough to appreciate the reasons why he should have certain types of food, he might take pride in suggesting menus that include all essentials.

Here's an interesting suggestion. Make a self-refrigerated lunch box. Pack at least two foods frozen in paper containers to act as refrigerators.

In three to four hours, the frozen foods thaw to eating or drinking consistency. In the meantime they keep other foods in the lunch box safely cool. A frozen sandwich will do the same thing.

Mrs. Jay E. Stockwell of North Cass Lake road knows all about packing school lunches. The mother of seven children, she has three children in school, three at home.

"Each child takes the same lunch to school, with the exception of the sandwich. This is made according to the likes and dislikes of Jimmy, Jeanne and Ann Marie."

Sometimes Mrs. Stockwell has to put enough food for two meals

A GOOD SCHOOL LUNCH — Mrs. Jay E. Stockwell of North Cass Lake road has to pack three school lunches each day. She knows the importance of planning a varied and nutritious meal in those little metal boxes. Here, watching into the lunch boxes of the two older children. When they go to school early enough to attend Communion, they have to take their breakfasts with them.

This means an extra hard cooked egg, more bread and butter and more fruit. They buy milk at St. Benedict School.

Here is her favorite recipe for Peanut Butter Cookies.

PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES
By Mrs. Jay E. Stockwell

1 cup white sugar
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup shortening
1 egg
1/2 cup peanut butter
1/2 teaspoon soda dissolved in 1/2 cup hot water

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
3/4 cups sifted flour
Cream sugar and shortening. Add egg. Beat. Add peanut butter and soda. Blend in flour and salt. Add vanilla. Drop by teaspoonfuls. Make a cross-cross on each cookie with a fork. Bake 10-12 minutes in a 375-degree oven.

Whipped Cream Tops Coffee Pie

New Orleans Coffee Pie is easy to make—it requires no cooking at all except for the brief baking of the spicy crumb crust.

We suggest making the crust early in the day and preparing the fluffy filling later when you have a spare moment or two.

Chill the pie in the refrigerator and just before serving, bedeck it with a crown of snowy whipped cream. Then fill up the coffee cups and let nature take its course!

New Orleans Coffee Pie
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold double-strength coffee
2 eggs, separated
1/4 cup sugar, divided
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons rum flavoring
1 cup hot, double-strength coffee
1 (8-inch) crumb crust
1 cup whipping cream

Soften gelatin in cold coffee. Beat egg yolks until light; then beat in half-cup sugar, salt and rum flavoring. Add softened gelatin and hot coffee. Stir until gelatin dissolves and chill until syrupy.

Beat egg whites until they form soft peaks and add remaining quarter-cup sugar gradually, continuing to beat. Fold into coffee gelatin mixture. Spoon into cinnamon crumb crust and chill until firm. Whip cream and spread on pie.

Cinnamon Crumb Crust
1/4 cups graham cracker crumbs
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
Combine all ingredients. Mix well and press firmly on bottom and sides of 9-inch pie pan. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., 10 minutes. Cool before filling.

Diced avocado, strips of drained canned pimiento and French dressing make a fine before-dinner cocktail.

Good Breakfast Aids Work, School Efficiency

September is a fine time to brush up good breakfast habits. School children, as well as adults, who eat good breakfasts are more efficient during the morning than those who skip the first meal of the day. Breakfast can be a tasteful and satisfying meal.

Just include these important foods in amounts that add up to 1/4 to 1/3 of the day's caloric needs: Fruit or fruit juice, an egg at least three or four times a week, whole grain or whole grain bread, enriched or fortified margarine, milk and, for adults, coffee or tea if desired.

Add Sherry to Batter

The next time you are making cakes or cookies, particularly those that contain fruit, chocolate, molasses or brown sugar, add two tablespoons of sweet oloroso sherry—either a cream or brown sherry—to the batter to bring out all the flavors.

Mich. Peaches Are Tops in Flavor and Bargains

It's a busy time in Michigan. Besides getting the children ready for school again, most homemakers are taking advantage of the bountiful summer crops of fruits and vegetables and are storing them for winter use. According to Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent tomatoes and peaches are tops on the market list from the standpoint of supply and price.

FRUITS—Since about August 20, Michigan peaches have been arriving from local orchards. Both the early Red Haven and Golden Jubilee varieties are excellent for canning or freezing, and this is a good time to add them to the freezer or pantry.

Tree ripened peaches really have the best flavor, and lucky is the shopper who can pick his off the tree. When choosing peaches to can or freeze, select those which are firm and ripe. Two to three pounds of fresh peaches yield about 1 quart of canned or frozen peaches. One bushel yields from 15 to 25 quarts of canned or frozen peaches.

For free copies of freezing bulletins contact the County Cooperative Extension Office.

Peel fresh peaches just before using. If it is necessary for them to stand for a period of time, cover them with orange, lemon or pineapple juice to prevent the cut surface from browning.

More Michigan cantaloupes are available in September. Prices are more reasonable as supplies increase. Put more color in the fruit bowl with the big selection of plums and grapes in most produce departments.

VEGETABLES—A long look in the vegetable direction again reminds those interested that supplies of tomatoes are right for canning and using in as many ways as the imagination can fancy.

Tomatoes are always welcome when featured as a main dish for hot weather luncheons. Cottage cheese with sour cream, onion, and cucumber is a tasty stuffing. Or try a tomato filled with tuna, chicken, or shrimp salad for an easy compliment-winning meal.

A bushel of tomatoes will go a long way when canned, since canned tomatoes are used in preparation of so many dishes. A bushel will yield between 15 to 20 quarts depending upon the amount of waste and the water content of the tomatoes.

Yellow summer squash and the green striped zucchini are delicately flavored vegetables to add rich color and texture to summer meals. To keep the delicate flavor, steam in a covered pan with small amount of water or tomato juice. Chopped green onions and cheese add much in complimentary flavor.

MEATS—After September 1, all chicken and turkey pies packed under supervision of federal inspectors will contain more meat. Read labels carefully and look for the federal inspection seal assuring this quality.

Ground beef for hamburgers or for meat loaf may spell economy in many homes after the big holiday. If choosing a chuck roast, remember to broil it by covering it tightly and cooking at low temperature until tender.

When comparing beef prices make sure the cuts that are being compared have the same grade. For example compare U.S. Choice chuck roast with U.S. Choice sirloin steak. U.S. grades indicate quality or cooking tenderness and flavor. The U.S. beef grades seen in meat departments are U.S. Prime, U.S. Choice, U.S. Good, U.S. Standard, and U.S. Commercial, with prime the top quality.

Baked Summer Squash
2 summer squash (1/2 lb. each)
2 tablespoons boiling water
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
1/2 cup grated American cheese
1/2 cup chopped luncheon meat
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 teaspoon minced fresh parsley
1 teaspoon minced onion

Wash squash, (do not peel) and cut in half lengthwise, allowing 1/2 squash per serving. Scoop out the centers, leaving a shell 1/4 inch thick. Cook the scooped out portion in the boiling water and 1/4 teaspoon salt until tender.

Mash and combine with bread crumbs, eggs, cheese, luncheon meat, black pepper, parsley, onion, milk and remaining salt. Fill squash shells with the mixture. Cover and bake in a preheated hot oven (400 degrees F.) 1 hour or until squash is tender. Remove cover and bake 10 minutes longer or until crumbs are brown. Serve hot. Yield: 4 servings.

Make a brown-sugar syrup and add maple flavoring. Nice for pancakes.

Cookies, of necessity, are important in the Stockwell home. When Mrs. Stockwell makes them, she usually makes several kinds at one time, keeping her oven going for a couple of hours.

Flavorful Soup Has Double Life

Onion soup leads an interesting double life. Served piping hot and fragrant with grated cheese, it is perfect on a cold day. Then on a warm day, and there are still quite a few in view, it can be magically transformed into a delicious chilled soup.

The magic is accomplished by combining a convenient package of onion soup mix with tomato juice, water and diced celery in a jar. This is chilled in the refrigerator for a couple of hours. Then just before serving, the mixture is strained and a cup of sour cream is added.

The end result is a rich, smooth creamy soup permeated with the savory essence of the beef-flavored stock and golden toasted onions that make up the onion soup mix.

Try this new chilled soup to perk up flagging appetites. You'll find it an easy soup to make without ever going near the stove.

Summer Tomato-Onion Soup
1 quart tomato juice
1/2 cup water
1 package onion soup mix
1 small stalk celery, cut in 1-inch pieces
1 cup commercial sour cream
Combine tomato juice, water, onion soup mix, and celery in a 2-quart jar. Chill in refrigerator 1 to 2 hours. Strain into bowl and blend in sour cream. Makes 6-8 servings.

Spicy Tomato Sauce Has Number of Uses

A wonderful sauce for omelets, fritters, frankfurters and hamburgers is made by sauteing a cup of sliced onions in a quarter cup of Spanish olive oil. Then add a cup of tomato paste or two cups of tomatoes, a chopped green pepper, a bay leaf, and a pinch of oregano or thyme along with salt and pepper.

The sauce should simmer for fifteen minutes, or longer, depending on the consistency you want.

Commerce Seeking Roads

Postpone Vote Until Spring

Attorney to Survey Fund-Raising Ideas for Township

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—The Road Study Committee and the Commerce Township Board last night presented the proposed road improvement program to S. S. Brown, a Detroit attorney, asking ways and means of financing the project. The two groups met in the township hall.

The issue will not go before electors on the November ballot as originally planned, it was decided, because of the need for more time to study legal aspects connected with raising the necessary money.

The proposal will face township voters next spring, according to E. E. Schaffer, chairman of the Road Study Committee.

The committee gave a complete picture of the current situation to Brown, representing the Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone law firm.

It is expected that the law firm will submit several different methods of financing a road improvement program to township and committee officials. The committee will choose the type of financing which appears best suited for Commerce Township.

Currently under consideration are a pay-as-you-go plan and a form of bond issuance under Act III of the Public Acts of 1954.

The pay-as-you-go plan calls for a four-mill tax levy spread over five years without obligating the township to a bond issue. Act III of the Public Acts of 1954 calls for a tax levy, a bond issue and a declaration of which roads will be paved.

Opposition to the Act III form of financing stems from the naming of which streets will be paved. The Road Study Committee has recommended that streets be paved according to a traffic count, Schaffer said.

"A traffic count assures the paving of the most heavily traveled roads," he added.

Cheery Chums to Meet

WATERFORD—The Cheery Chum group will hold a supper meeting at 6 p.m. Friday at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Giddings, 6180 Van Syke Rd.

Each member will bring a gift for their "Cheery Chum." Chairman of the hostess committee which will furnish the salads is Mrs. Thomas Corbin.

Members will bring for the supper a passing dish other than a salad.

Before the thermometer was invented, physicians developed an unusual skill in measuring the degree of body temperature with their hands.

Double Ring Rite Unites Oxford Pair

OXFORD — A double ring ceremony in the Oxford Baptist Church on Saturday evening united in marriage Wanda Conner and Thomas C. Knauf.

Altar decorations of palms and white gladioli formed the background as the candlelight service was read by the Rev. Robert Morris in the presence of more than two hundred guests.

The bride, who was given to marriage by her father, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Conner, and the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Knauf.

For her wedding the bride had chosen a full-skirted gown of white lace and net over taffeta. Her fingertip veil fell from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a white orchid on her white pearl-covered Bible.

Sonja Boose, maid of honor, and Lila Empson, bridesmaid, wore pink net and lace gowns and carried pink nosegays. Brenda Galloway of Lapeer, a niece of the bride, served as flower girl and was similarly gowned.

The bridegroom was attended by his brothers, Robert of Oxford, and Karl of Ann Arbor. Seating the guests were Lloyd Cook of Pontiac and Morris Jewell.

Following a reception in the church parlors the young couple left on a trip to northern Michigan. After their return they will make their home on East street in Oxford.

Lathrup to Fight Elm Tree Blight

Appropriates $2,500 for Citywide Spraying, Trimming

LATHRUP — The City Council here has authorized an increase of the budget appropriation from $500 to $2,500 for a citywide spraying and trimming program in an effort to check disease in elm trees.

The Council was informed Tuesday night that 130 diseased elm trees had been removed this year, which is double the number lost last year.

At the meeting, discussion as to the status of Administrator Leonard Wachowski was deadlocked. A motion for discussion in a closed meeting lost by a 2-2 vote. A motion to fire Wachowski at a recent meeting has never been acted upon.

Decker School Construction Delays Opening

WALLED LAKE — Delay in opening of Decker road school was announced by Supt. Clifford H. Smart during meetings Tuesday with faculty members. The school will open Monday, after construction delays are dispersed, he said.

Junior High schoolers, for the same reason, will not have cafeteria service until further notice, he announced. Students will carry lunches and their beverages, as there is no refrigeration as yet.

Teachers heard Smart stress important tasks facing teachers of today, and the need for cooperation between teachers and PTA in working for needed bond issues.

Optimists Invite Guests to Dinner

SOUTHFIELD — Fruitridge Inn will be the scene of a membership-raising meeting of the Optimist Club of Southfield at 6:30 p.m. tonight. Guests are invited.

The club is seeking transportation for the "state fair outing" set for Saturday for youngsters. Northwestern and Eight Mile road is meeting spot at 10 a.m. for the trek to the fairgrounds.

Teeple Lake Club Maps Fall Plans; to Meet Sept. 13

TEEPLE LAKE — Officers of the Teeple Lake Extension group discussed the fall program and arranged for a window display at Gambles, Milford, when they met at the home of Mrs. Charles Chih here. Mrs. Frieda Bennett, Oakland County Home Extension Agent, aided in the planning.

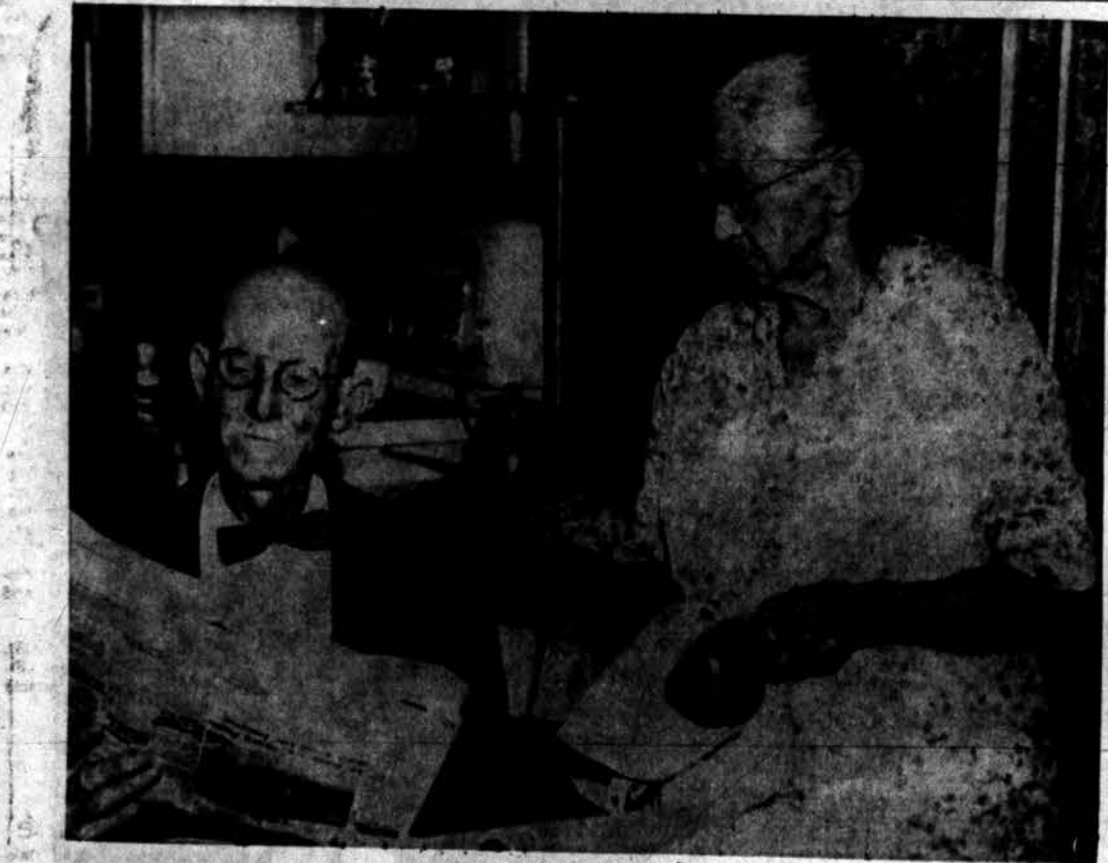

The group will meet Sept. 13, at 7:30 p.m., in the home of Mrs. D. J. Markel, 5435 Cedar Island Rd., for a lesson on "Safety First."

Round Lake Group Meeting Saturday

MILFORD — Questions on ascertaining easements and rights-of-way will be on the agenda when the Round Lake Improvement Assn. meets at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Midway road summer home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cleary.

125 at Gathering

MARLETTE — About 125 relatives and friends met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hager, for a reunion and also to welcome into the neighborhood their new daughter-in-law, Mrs. Carlyle Hager. Guests were present from Pontiac, Flint, Clio, Brown City, Saginaw and Marlette.

Say 'Nothing to Get Excited About'

Oldsters Mark 72 Years of Marriage

BOYERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Slotter are observing a wedding anniversary today. Nothing special in the way of entertainment. Some of the children might drop by. But that's about all.

"Nothing to get excited about. Can't understand all the commotion anyway," was the way Reuben put it when newsmen called.

Of course, wedding anniversaries are hardly a novelty to the couple. After all, this is their seventy-second.

Ellamina Crouthamel was a bride of 20 and Reuben, whom she'd known as a neighbor boy all her life, was a year younger when they took their vows at the home of their minister, Rev. Jacob Kehm in nearby Sellersville.

The retired farmer and his wife have a simple philosophy to offer today's newlyweds:

"To have a long marriage requires, of course, a long life. And the healthy life of a farm is the best advice I can offer," Reuben observed.

His wife, with an impish smile had this to add:

"Men can't do without women."

Remember this, girls, and live by the golden rule, and you'll both be very happy."

Slotter, now 91, and his wife live with their daughter, Mildred. She and her husband, Howard Schanley, have a jewelry store in Boyertown, about 25 miles north of Philadelphia.

Six of the Slotters' seven children are still living. There are also 17 grandchildren, 36 great-grandchildren, and 8 great-great-grandchildren.

So if some of the children do "drop by" today, it might not be such a small party at that.

Carl Grossbauers to Mark 50 Years

HUNTERS CREEK — An open house will mark the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Cal Grossbauer, 2866 Newark Rd., Lapeer, at the Hunters Creek Community Hall on Sunday, Sept. 23rd between 2 and 6 p.m.

Among the guests will be the couple's maid of honor, Mrs. Mae Russell and their best man, Clayton Russell.

The Grossbauers have been lifelong residents of Lapeer. They have three children, Mrs. Onilee Smith, of Flint, Donald of Marquette, and Harry of Metamora, and six grandchildren.

Sorority Plans Style Show

3 Awards Are Given for Fashions

Editor, Designers Honored by Famed Dallas Store

DALLAS, Tex. (INS)—The "Continental Look" bringing the 1912 era into today's fashion picture, was featured this week as three Europeans were honored for the part they played in the transformation.

Marie Louise Bousquet, Paris editor of Harper's Bazaar; Cecil Beaton, British costume designer, photographer and author, and Guiseppe Camerino, Italian handbag designer, were recipients of the 19th annual Neiman-Marcus Fashion Awards.

Exuberant Madame Bousquet, referred to as the grande dame of fashion, gave a French-English thanks for the award given her for the tremendous influence she has had over fashion designers for many years.

As he received his silver and ebony plaque, Beaton referred to his influential "Fair Lady" era as a favorite—"one which I remember from my perambulator."

It was Beaton's costumes designed for the Broadway musical "My Fair Lady" which inspired the current fashion trend and most of the gowns shown at the elaborate Exposition Ball in Dallas.

Madame Camerino, designer of Roberto handbags, expressed her thanks and hope that her honor would make "a new friendly relationship of the United States and Italy."

LAVISH SHOW
Moving stages, silhouetted scenes and spectacular lighting made the show one of the most lavish ever held in Dallas, and in the opinion of Madame Bousquet, the most impressive and complete anywhere. Show-stoppers included long-hair coats and a white beaver coat, fantastic plumed and draped hats, voluminous capes, diamond-studded stockings, and a French-designed dress of aluminum cloth.

But the trend the fashion-dictating Texas store told was the lady look, soft and uncluttered, but sometimes bare and vampish.

Black and violet—like the flowers peddled by Eliza Doolittle before she is transformed—into the "Fair Lady," are the dominating colors shown.

A new "elbow bag" was introduced, flat and uncluttered and hung by a longer length handle from the bend of the arm.

DANGLING EARRINGS
Long ear clips were stressed for evening wear, as were floor-length coats over ball gowns. Coats, daytime and evening, are sometimes hooded, with a small jeweled hat worn beneath the hood.

As for dress lengths, the Texas fashion prediction is that a happy medium of 13 inches from the floor will prevail this year for daytime but will be lengthened 2 inches for cocktails and an inch more for the short formal.

Deanery to Meet at St. Michael

Mrs. John Shada will speak on "Family Life" Oct. 2 when the women of St. Michael Church are hostesses to the meeting of the Northwestern Deanery, NCOW. About 75 members of the organization are expected to attend the meeting being held in St. Michael Hall.

Committee members are Mrs. Floyd Sanchez, Mrs. Louis Swartz, Mrs. Kenton Plourde, Mrs. Frank Pruente and Mrs. Robert Gallo.

Plans for the meeting were made at the Tuesday meeting of the St. Michael Altar Society. The Rev. Michael J. O'Reilly was a guest for the meeting. Mrs. Gayle Coulson presided.

The annual fall bazaar and dinner Oct. 7 was also discussed, and plans were formulated.

Church Women of Pontiac Plan Monday Institute

On Monday the women of Oakland Park Methodist Church will be hostesses for the Missions Institute being sponsored by the Pontiac Council of United Church Women.

Mrs. Carl Gladstone of Paw Paw, state director of migrant work, will be the speaker at the afternoon session.

The speaker will bring with her the recently purchased station wagon called "The Harvest" that is used throughout the state to bring education, recreation and church services to the migrant workers.

Members of the Birmingham United Church Women purchased the station wagon and it is being equipped by the Pontiac United Church Women.

Reservations are being handled by Mrs. Ralph Clara.

Mrs. Whitehead is also handling publicity for the event, scheduled for 8:30.

Election of Officers Held by First Philathea Class

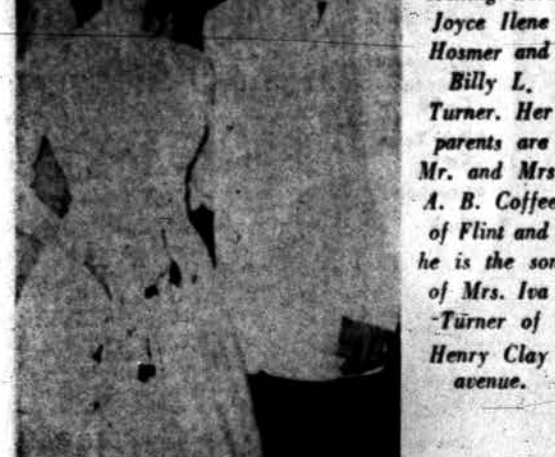

Margaret Putnam was elected President of the First Philathea Class of the First Baptist Church when the group met Tuesday evening. Mrs. Florence Harcourt opened her home on Dwight avenue for the meeting.

Elected to serve with Miss Putnam are Ethel Kennedy, first vice president; Emma Souther, second vice president; Gertrude Williams, secretary; Miss Kennedy, assistant secretary; Mrs. Harry Haggard, treasurer, and Mrs. Harcourt, assistant treasurer.

Also elected were Mrs. Emory Kalso, reporter; Miss Williams, assistant reporter; Mrs. Howard Barnett, pianist; Mrs. Harcourt, chorister; Mrs. Barnett, teacher; assisted by Mrs. Warren Newhouse and Mrs. Harry Newhouse.

Following the business meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gould of Detroit showed pictures of their trip through Latin America. Refreshments were served by Emma Souther and members of the social committee.

Joyce Hosmer Repeats Vows With Billy Turner

Joyce Ilene Hosmer and Billy L. Turner were united in marriage Saturday evening by the Rev. Galen E. Hershey at First Presbyterian Church.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Coffee of Flint. Billy is the son of Mrs. Iva Turner of Henry Clay avenue.

The bride's floor-length gown of shimmer satin and Chantilly lace featured a mandarin collar, chapel train and long sleeves coming to points at the wrists.

Her fingertip veil was secured by a Juliet cap of lace trimmed with seed pearls. She carried an arrangement of white roses and ivy on a white ribbon.

Mrs. Byron Hosmer, sister-in-law of the bride, was her matron of honor. Her other attendants were Mrs. Milton Galbraith and Mrs. Leland Turner.

SHEDD PINK AND BLAU
They wore ballerina-length gowns.

Couple Exchanges Vows in Nebraska Church Rite

In a ceremony performed in Holy Rosary Church in Alliance, Neb., on Saturday, Rita-Al Goding became the bride of Burwell Jones. The Rev. J. Clement Ryan of Creighton University, Omaha, Neb., uncle of the bride, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Alvin Goding of Alliance and Burwell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burwell J. Jones of Orchard Lake.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of light ivory silk tulle with a small stand-up collar and long tapered sleeves which formed lily points over the wrists.

The bodice was designed with a princess waistline fitted over the torso from which the bouffant skirt fell and extended into a sweep train.

Completing her bridal costume was a sculptured cap of matching tulle with Alencon lace and seed pearls. The cap held her tiered silk illusion veil.

ATTENDS SISTER
Elene Goding, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sara Goding, another sister of the bride, and Betty McGinley.

The attendants were gowned alike in sheath dresses of rose peau de soie. The gowns were fashioned with fitted bodices, draped square necklines and small cap sleeves.

The ballerina-length skirts were fashioned with full fishtail backs.

Norman Jones was best man for his brother. Ushers were Gene Brennan, cousin of the bride,

Allow for Emergency

Best travel rule is the one which says: travel light. But this doesn't mean that you should not allow for emergencies. Wherever possible, have an alternate (sweater, blouse, slip, skirt) in case of loss, theft or damage.

Cheap plastic beads, clipped together one by one to necklaces of any length are very popular in Paris. French girls wear as many as six or seven strands in their own color combinations.

Capes are more important than they've been in years. And in all lengths, too, from capelet to full length.

Cultural Subjects Are Useful Too

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Some things in life help us directly and some help us indirectly. And it is almost impossible at the time to know one from the other.

I would have said when I studied typing that it was the most practical subject I had ever taken; and I would have said when I was studying Latin that it was about as impractical and "ivory-tower" a subject as a person could waste her time on.

But now, when I have many lectures to give and articles and books to write, I can see that that early training in logic and composition, which Latin gave me, was a very practical thing indeed.

I think of this when young people write me complaining and rebelling about taking liberal arts courses.

"I want to be in business and make a lot of money," they will say, "so why waste time with Latin?"—or English or French or whatever.

They are all in favor of getting specific, practical skills and letting the so-called "culture" courses go by the board.

SUCCESSFUL PEOPLE

Yet the fact is that the most successful people in any field are almost invariably those with well-rounded educations.

They know the technical skills necessary for their own specialty, but they don't stop there.

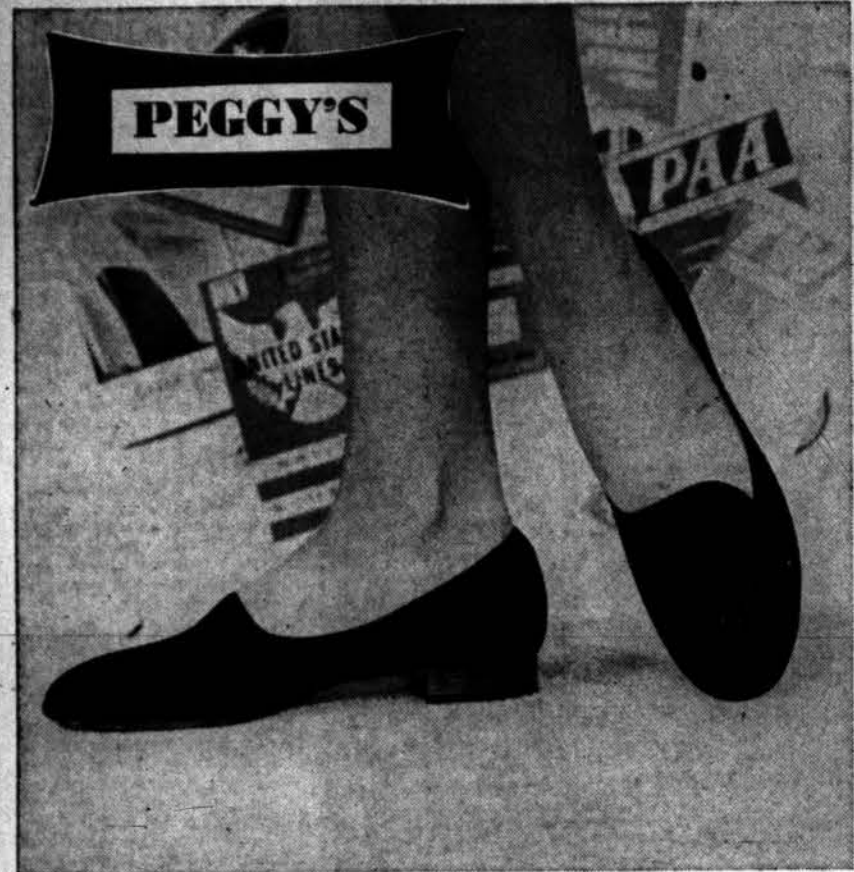

Business and industry are beginning to realize this. Some big companies are even running special summer courses in literature, history and languages for their highly-trained specialists.

During this past August, Vassar College held its first liberal arts seminar for secretaries in conjunction with the National Secretaries Association.

If you feel that your training and experience have been too specialized, and if you would like suggestions for courses that might open new horizons to you, drop me a note in care of The Pontiac Press telling me about your background, and I will be happy to make some suggestions.

Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright 1936)

Royal Photographer Hits at Hollywood's Vulgarly

NEW YORK (INS)—Hollywood is a "basically vulgar" town to British royal photographer Cecil Beaton.

In his new book about the U. S. Beaton, with aristocratic disdain, calls the city a "center of American daydreams" where in days gone by stars of the magnitude of Charles Chaplin, Pola Negri and Gloria Swanson reigned supreme over a "fantastic celluloid world."

Nostalgically, he laments the "disappearance" of the old and fabulous Hollywood of the early 30s.

"F. Scott Fitzgerald celebrities," he writes, in "I Take Great Pleasure," "have given way to a new type of star. The latest crop of male idols are youths wearing blue dungarees and paint-spattered moccasins and they are photographed sawing wood or fishing for abalone."

Hollywood's so-called "vulgarity," according to Beaton, is borne out even in the city's architecture.

TASTELESS BUILDINGS

"More slipshod and tasteless buildings cannot be found anywhere else in the world," he declares. Then he adds:

"We have all heard about the restaurant disguised as a bowler hat, a sweet shop as a sugar cat, a bank as a pretentious Spanish bordello and the 'Georgian Funeral House, 24-Hour Service.'"

"Nevertheless, the effect of this excreting jumble of styles is always surprising as if the running of the city had been given to a lot of delinquent children."

The distinguished, sharp-tongued Britisher observed that this "barbarity" is merely a hangover from the early days of the film era and that much of Hollywood today is "infinitely changed."

LACK GLAMOR

You can always tell who the boss is. He's the fellow who watches the clock during the coffee break.

"Here and there a few veteran 'sacred monsters' like Joan Crawford still live 'mysteriously' or in a flamboyant, picturesque manner as movie queens used to. But most of the luminaries of today's screen go about unnoticed and unmolested."

"My sister was going steady with a young soldier who was stationed in Germany. He sent her many lovely things from there which were intended for their future home.

"The young man is home now and soon will be discharged but my sister no longer sees him as she has found someone else.

"Mother and I think she should return all the gifts she received from the first young man but she refuses to do so, saying that they were given to her and she has a right to keep them. Will you please give us your opinion?"

Answer: I agree with you that they were given as engagement presents and she should very definitely return them.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a person mentions that he (or she) has been ill, is it ever in good taste to inquire as to the nature of the sickness.

"I think it is a personal question and should not be asked. A friend of mine disagrees with me and says it is very uncaring not to ask. What is your opinion?"

Answer: You rather naturally say, "I hope it is nothing serious." To this he (or she) either answers, "Oh no!" and goes on further, or tells as much as he (or she) feels inclined.

Mixed cooked diced carrots and a little minced onion. Serve in lettuce cups with cold cuts. Blend a little prepared mustard into mayonnaise. Gives zip!

What Becomes of the Nation's Fairest Girls?

Miss America's Snub Shocks Hollywood

(This is the third of four articles on the girls who have won the "Miss America" title and what has happened to them in the years since their triumphs.)

By PHYLIS BATTELLE

When Frances Marie Burke, 19, became "Miss America of 1940," she shocked the publicity boys involved in the race for the rhinestones by saying no, she didn't want to go into the movies, thanks all the same.

Many "Miss Americas" have declined those allegedly fabulous "seven-year-contracts" since, but Frances was the first to put it on the line.

"I only took up singing and dancing a few days ago, in order to enter this contest," she revealed, winsomely but flatly, "and I have no use for a theatrical career."

Furthermore, the Philadelphia girl pointed out, "They try to run your life for you in Hollywood."

Today Frances is a housewife fatale, living with husband Lawrence Kenney, a funeral supplies manufacturer, and four children. Sixteen years ago, she had told the press she didn't care what her man looked like but "he must have ambition; I don't like slackers."

SHE FOUND THE MAN

Evidently she found him — for she has a suburban Philadelphia home in winter and a Wildwood, N. J., summer house.

During the war years, the "Miss America" contest was, to much of the public, like a glass of water in the Sahara. With austerity everywhere, any pictures of girls in swimsuits and evening gowns, with up-titled chins and dimpled knees, were more than ever in demand.

The queen for 1941 was Rosemary La Plante, a blonde with hair that fell unassumingly to 4 inches below her shoulder.

After a brief and not altogether luminous fling in Hollywood, she settled down with Harry Koplan of Sherman Oaks, Calif. They now have two children, Carol Louise, 5, and Terry, 3.

In spite of all existing hair trends, Rosemary's coiffure is still fashioned as in the day of her triumph.

WED TO COMEDIAN

Jo Carroll Dennison, 1942's most beautiful brunette, was one of relatively few "Miss Americas" who has suffered through the pains of separation and divorce. She was married, not long after her Atlantic City heyday, to comedian Phil Silvers. When that didn't last, she became Mrs. Russell Stoneham, and lives in Santa Monica, Calif.

Parsonage Rite Unites Couple

The marriage of Oscar A. Anderson of McKinley drive and Mrs. Edna C. Jacqueline of Frank street is announced. The couple was married Aug. 18 at the home of the Rev. Elwood Dunn of the Church of God.

For the service, the bride wore a blue lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Jesse Medlen of Ortonville, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's attendant. She wore a navy blue dress. Jesse Medlen served as best man.

The ceremony for the family and close friends was followed by a bridal supper.

Jana Bartel came in for a lot of publicity in 1943 after captaining the Atlantic City seer. Though she received her beauty oscar for posing in a swimsuit, she promptly thereafter shook her honey blonde head when asked to pose for cheesecake pictures.

"What for?" was her stock reply. "I'm not going swimming." Many Miss Americas since have emulated her prim behavior.

Miss Bartel spent a year selling war bonds and visiting military camps in the primmest of suits and evening clothes. Her marriage to Non Norton of West Los Angeles didn't take and she now devotes her energies to a show business career as actress, singer and TV hostess.

LIVING IN MEXICO

Little is known of Venus Ramey, a dark-haired, petite trick who won the crown and scepter in Atlantic City in 1944, except that she is now Mrs. Joe Murphy Jr., living in Mexico City with two young sons.

Much is known, however, of the 1945 "Miss America"—Bess Myerson, TV temptress and lady emcee. Suffice it to say she is separated from Alan Wayne, has an 8-year-old daughter, lives in New York City and has donated a great deal of tax money to Uncle Sam as the result of her night in New Jersey.

Marilyn Buford, a dark-haired regal-looking young woman, swept the "Miss America" field in 1946. After failing to conquer Hollywood, she invaded Italy's fast-growing film business and became a star.

She also became the wife of Italian producer Francesco Barbato. The couple had a son, Nicolo Rafael, now 4½. But Marilyn divorced Barbato for "extreme mental cruelty" two years ago and she is now back in Hollywood with Nicky and aiming for a career as a television actress.

Barbara Jo Walker was a singing Sunday School teacher who happened, quite casually, to be beautiful. She wanted to get married, when she entered the 1947 "Miss America" finals, to a medical student named John Hummel. With the financial rewards she received from winning, she did get married, and has helped put John through his costly training.

CONDUCTS TV SHOW

They now live in Memphis with their two children. He is a successful obstetrician and she is a beautiful housewife who runs a TV show called "Miss America Matinee" on a local station. Again the happy ending.

The girl-of-the-year 1948 was Bebe Stopp of Minneapolis; now Mrs. David Waring of Arlington, Mass. She received a $5,000 scholarship with which she took a course at the Manhattan School of Music.

Later she conducted a TV woman's show in Minneapolis for three years. Then she met Waring on a double date.

So? "I have a 1-year-old baby. My music is relegated to the background. I have lost two pounds since Atlantic City. I am immensely happy."

It's a regulation in the "Miss America" contests that the winner shall not be married for one year after she is elected to wear the crown.

LOVE WINS OUT

Jacque Mercer, "Miss America of '49," was the first to say the heck with it, I'm in love.

Three months after Atlantic

City, she announced "I cannot bear it," and married her 20-year-old fiancé, Douglas Cook, an artist.

A high school romance is usually sweet, but not always compatible. The Cooks were divorced and today Jacque is the wife of Richard F. Curran of Litchfield, Ariz., her home town.

They have a 2-year-old son, Richard Curran III.

Yolande Betbeze, the next "Miss America," is a slim and thoroughly exotic brownette, now married to Matthew Fox, a motion picture executive. They have a fashionable residence on Park avenue, New York City.

It was she who put the finger, frankly, on the "honor" of winning the "Miss America" contest. "The opportunities are tremendous," she said. "But the smiling is painful."

"Twenty hours a day you have to smile until your face, you're sure, is going to crack up in small pieces."

(Next: The gal who set three all-time records)

This is how honey-blonde Evelyn Ay looked the night in September 1954 when she became America's girl of the year. Three months later she married her college sweetheart, thereby passing up the chance to do nine months of traveling and personal appearances.

Willis PTA to Hold Meeting on Sept. 13

At the Willis School Parent Teacher Association executive board meeting held Wednesday evening at the school, plans were made for the first regular PTA meeting to be held Sept. 13 at 7 p.m.

The meeting is planned to give members an opportunity to become acquainted and also to meet the new principal, Mrs. Ann Galbraith, and the administrative intern, Paride Ninotti.

Mrs. Bert Hilcock announced that the months of September and April have been designated as "Dimes for Scholarship" months, the aim being to aid the PTA Scholarship Fund.

Concert Scheduled

Plans are completed for the Friday concert to be presented at Social Brethren Church beginning at 7:30 p.m. The all-sacred concert will be given by the Singing Star Trio of Detroit. The public is invited to attend.

Past, Present Blend in Fabric by Guatemalans

GUATEMALA CITY (INS) — Designs 2,000 years old and modern-day metallic thread have combined to make the newest in leisure-wear: Hand-loomed Guatemalan skirts woven in Mayan patterns with lurex thread.

Tourists who like the old-fashioned Guatemalan handmade skirts, usually decked in quetzal birds and dancing men or cats, will find the new skirts far more wearable in the U.S.

In fact, the new Guatemalan skirts look so good they're being sold in America as fancy cocktail or patio items.

The ancient designs have been stylized into discreet one-size patterns, accented by glittering threads in color or in gold and silver.

They are sold ready-made as skirts, or the enterprising woman can buy a skirt "length"—3 full yards—for $10 and then make either a very full skirt or a skimpy sheath.

The fabric, made by hand on Indian looms, is decorated in border patterns. That makes it possible to have either a skirt hemmed in design or a sheath with design on bust and hemline both.

Chicago Fig Tree 'Hibernates' During Winter

CHICAGO (INS) Ever heard of a tree that toes underground for the winter? Philip Granatelli of Chicago has one.

He explains that to protect his 10-foot-tall fig tree from the rigors of Chicago winters, he digs a trench, lays the tree in it, boards it over and throws dirt over the boards.

Granatelli says that when he digs it out in May it already has buds and produces more than 1000 figs each summer.

Tips to Use in Furnishing

1. Strive for non-conventional ways of doing things. The obvious is fatal in a mass-produced, hence oft-repeated plan.
2. Use one color in all rooms that can be seen together. Get variety in rooms like bedrooms which can't be seen from the rest of the house.
3. Avoid overscaled pieces of furniture. Get bold, smashing effects with color instead.
4. Avoid big patterns in fabrics and wallpapers.
5. Try for one-of-a-kind accessories and fine art.
6. Outside, create distinction by landscaping and architectural additions.
7. Vary the exterior paint or finish color from those of your neighbors.

Combine Red Caviar With Cottage Cheese

Cool and tangy spread.

Coral Spread

1 package (12 ounces) cream cheese
1 container (8 ounces) cream-style cottage cheese
1 jar (4 ounces) red caviar (salmon roe)

Soften cream cheese by beating with spoon stir in cottage cheese well but do not try to make smooth. Stir in red caviar.

Turn into serving container and chill for an hour or two. Makes about 1½ cups. Serve with small squares of pumpernickel bread.

If weather is warm, insert container of spread in bowl of crushed ice. Serve spread shortly after chilling; if kept overnight it develops a bitter flavor.

Lapp housewives of northern Finland make thread by splitting dried reindeer sinews into hairlike fibers. The fibers are then braided tightly and rolled between palms and against the cheek until they are smooth and round. Used with bone needles, the thread is so strong that it has to be cut rather than broken, says the National Geographic Society.

We Get What We Really Go After

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Few women ever think of giving themselves a day of their own once a week or at least twice a month. This would seem impossible to the average woman but actually it is not. Once you get the idea over to your family they will cooperate with you.

The fatiguing factor for a woman is the fact that she has to fit so many pieces into the pattern of her daily life—her husband's interests her children's interests, and often those of her parents and sisters and brothers and friends.

In other words she is meeting deadlines all day long every day. Even though they are pleasant they still are deadlines. She seldom can follow her own inclination of the moment.

You will have to be tough about only what you feel like doing all day long. You may wish to stay in bed and read. Or you may want to go on a picnic in the country and simply sit and soak up the sunshine, or play bridge or just sit on your front porch. Whatever it is, do it.

OUT OF RAT RACE.

This procedure will take you out of the daily rat-race temporarily, and will return you to everyday living much refreshed. It will restore energy and give you a new outlook.

Surely every woman owes herself this much time! Just writing about this makes me realize that I haven't had a day like that for some time and it's about time I had one.

We are all apt to get into a rut in the way we think. What seemed impossible wasn't at all. After forming the habit of rest periods during the day we wonder how we ever got along without them.

When we count up the time required by our beauty and health and good grooming routines we find that they really take only a small chunk out of each day.

And, we are really not so important that our duties cannot do without us completely for a day every once in a while!

If you would like to have the leaflet "Essential Daily Routine" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 19. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

You will have to be tough about your day and insist that you do only what you feel like doing all day long. You may want to stay in bed and read, go on a picnic, soak up the sunshine or play bridge. Whatever it is, do it.

U. S. Fall Fashion Trend Foreign Styles Influence

Ideas from abroad will dominate the fashion picture this fall—just as fashion styles in the U. S. A. have become increasingly popular overseas, according to William Doniger, executive vice-president of McGregor-Doniger Sportswear Co. Here's how he traces the major trends:

From the Tyrol: Lodencloth, made of wool with the oil left in—resulting in a water resistant garment, highly popular with skiers and other outdoor fans, will appear in coats with peeping collars that can be worn up or down, great patch pockets, big enough even to hold books.

From Scotland: Authentic checks originating in distinctive districts of Scotland have been adopted for outerwear blouses, and three button sports coats.

From Ireland: Continental tweeds cut on the diagonal rather than up-and-down. Colors are softer, lining made of a high pile Patch or slash pockets.

From Norway: Blouses in the famed Sengull Model in an expanded range of colors. Many of them have contrasting bands of color woven into the material.

Toggles: Should be the biggest closing of the season. These many men and will be seen on Loden, wool coats and others.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

If you're going to the Nephrosis Benefit bouts Saturday night at Pontiac High School, keep your eye on the little referee in the ring.

It will be Johnny Weber, former boxer and now a well known ring official, who has had more stories written about him than some fighters have had bouts.

But if you hear Johnny himself tell of some of his experiences you can't help wonder why someone doesn't write a best-seller novel about him.

Even Robert Ripley found enough copy of Weber's life in boxing to use in his famous "Believe It or Not" columns.

Johnny got started in the fight game with a crash. He was 15 years old and one of his favorite spots on fight nights was at a skylight window looking down over the ring of a Chicago arena.

"I lost my footing one night and through the skylight I went, landing right in the middle of the ring," said Weber. "I guess that's what you would call a flying start," he added.

The officials found there were three other kids up there with Johnny and they brought them all down and put them in the ring against each other between bouts.

"I won my fight and got fifty cents," said Weber, "so you see I was a professional at 15."

"That was sure a proud moment for me, but when I got home, 10 miles away, I really got a paddling from my dad," he continued. "It wasn't for what happened at the arena, but it seems that when Weber went into the ring barefooted, someone walked off with his shoes."

At 16, Weber came to Detroit and his fight career actually started in full course.

"Pontiac was one of my favorite areas," he said, "I sure ran into a lot of tough characters in the ring around here."

The biggest purse he ever drew in his first year was ten dollars for a single fight.

No one can make the claim that Johnny Weber was knocked off his feet from a punch, and he had 400 fights during his boxing career.

After he hung up the gloves, because of a doctor's warning about an injury, Weber stayed in the game as a referee.

Today he is licensed in seven states and Canada and you probably will see him on some TV fight night.

Johnny isn't a big guy. He fought as a featherweight, but now he claims he's in the heavy class.

One of the fighters, named Ed Kurtz, was a mammoth human standing 6 ft. 6 in. and weighing 345 pounds.

His opponent, that night in 1931, was Buck Edwards who stood 6 ft. 7 in. at 235 pounds.

"And there was little me, 5 ft., 6 in. and 160 pounds," said Weber. "Every time I went in to break a clinch, I was on my toes and afraid of being crushed to death," he laughed.

During the first round, Weber stopped the fight four times. "I had to, Kurtz kept losing his trunks and I had to pull him aside to get them pulled up."

In the second round Edwards won on a TKO. "I was sure glad that fight was over," he added, "I felt like Jack, in the beanstalk nursery rhyme, with those two giants." They were the biggest fighters ever to face each other in Michigan Golden Gloves, according to Weber.

One of the weirdest stories in boxing history involved Weber. It's an official documented story which many of the oldtime fight fans probably remember.

Weber will never forget it. In fact every year he celebrates the anniversary — of his death.

We'll bring you that story tomorrow, as Weber himself remembers it.

Plans Initiated to Form Pee Wee Football League

Plans have been initiated for the organization of a Pee Wee football league for the Pontiac area.

Frank Thompson, active in the midsize baseball program in Pontiac, is spearheading the grid circuit which will comprise boys from 9 to 12 and weights up to 110 pounds.

Assistants in four elementary school areas, Whitfield, Wilson, Bagley and Emmannet have already begun working with interested candidates with practice sessions slated for Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

According to Thompson, equipment is being purchased through the aid of the merchants and the help of PTA groups.

Along with the four schools mentioned, the league is interested in two more schools to form a six-team circuit. Some consideration is being given in the Webster and Baldwin school areas.

Information can be obtained from Thompson at FE 5-3823.

Grigger Breaks Foot

LARAMIE, Wyo. (U)—Letterman guard Bob Kagle of Pittsburgh, Pa., broke his right foot during a University of Wyoming football practice yesterday and will be out of action indefinitely.

The junior lineman suffered a similar injury early last season. The break was believed to be at the same spot.

Peaks Sidelined by Case of Flu

EAST LANSING (U)—Michigan State will have to do without the services of two more varsity prospects during the next few days of football practice.

Also sidelined for a few days was Francis O'Brien, sophomore tackle from Holyoke, Mass. He has a kidney infection. Senior tackle Tom Saldock of Dearborn has been out of action with sprains of the left knee and ankle. The three are expected back at practice within a week.

POOR LITTLE ME—Former featherweight boxer and now prominent referee, Johnny Weber gets between two of the biggest fighters ever to box in Michigan's Golden Gloves in Bay City in 1931. On the left is 6 ft. 6 in. Ed Kurtz who weighed 345 pounds and on the right is Buck Edwards who stood 6 ft. 7 in. at 235 pounds. Weber (center) is 5 ft. 6 in. and 160 pounds. (See Press Box column for story.)

Browns to Give Lions First Real Grid Test

DETROIT (U)—In their only home appearance of the 1936 pre-season schedule, the Detroit Lions square off against the defending World Champion Cleveland Browns, Friday night, in Briggs Stadium. Kick-off is slated for 8:00 p.m.

Winners in two of three pre-season games to date, the Lions will get their first real test against the perennial Eastern Division champs. Detroit has defeated Pittsburgh 20-15, lost 20-17 to the Chicago Cardinals and downed Philadelphia 30-14 to date.

Cleveland, after scoring an easy victory over the College All-Stars, dropped successive games to San Francisco (28-17) and Los Angeles (17-6) on the West Coast, and lost 21-20 last Saturday night in their own ball park to Green Bay.

The game Friday will be the first of a two-game back to back set between the Lions and Browns. The clubs meet again in Akron, O., Saturday night, Sept. 15.

Detroit area fans will have an opportunity to watch several top Lion rookies in action for the first time. Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, top draft choice from Ohio State, halfback Don McHenry of Southern Methodist, quarterback Jerry Reichow of Iowa, guard Gene Cronin of the College of the Pacific are rated as top prospects for the forthcoming National Football League season.

McHenry has been the Lions' leading ground gainer in games.

NBC Will Telecast Hawk, Hoosier Game
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (U)—First of five Big Ten football games to be televised regionally by the National Broadcasting Co. this fall will be the Iowa at Indiana contest Sept. 29.

Bill Reed, assistant commissioner, said last night other games in the regional setup along with a nationally telecast Big Ten game also over NBC will be announced as the season progresses. The nationally telecast game is set for Nov. 10.

Plenty of familiar names dot the Cleveland roster, including ends Darrell Brewster and Dante Lavelli, tackle Lou (The Toe) Groza, halfbacks Ray Renfro and Curly Morrison, and fullback Ed Modzelewski, but most fans will be primarily interested in the quarterback position, with George Ratterman and Babe Parilli taking over for the retired star Otto Graham.

Just how far the Browns go in defense of their NFL title this year depends on how well Ratterman and Parilli can take over for Graham. Ratterman has been sidelined with a sore shoulder but may play against the Lions.

Oosterbaan Sees Better Potential

Sophs in Big Role at 'M'

Following is another story in a series on Big Ten football prospects by Jerry Linka, Midwest AP sports editor, who is making a flying tour of the grid camps.

ANN ARBOR (U)—Michigan's Wolverines, who just missed the Big Ten football title and a Rose Bowl bid last year, will be "thinner, but tougher" this fall.

With 19 returning lettermen and a half dozen fine sophomores, coach Bennie Oosterbaan thinks Michigan potentially is better than the 1935 Wolverines, who lost all the marbles in a closing 17-0 spanking by Ohio State.

The title thus went to the Buckeyes (6-0) and cost Michigan (5-2) a Rose Bowl bid which went to runnerup Michigan State (5-1).

"We're not as solid as last year, no more than two deep at any position," said Oosterbaan. "But we'll be tough to lick if we're not injured."

Bennie concedes that much of Michigan's success will hinge on whether two fine sophomore backs deliver as starters. They are 205-pound Bob Placak, 19, from Cleveland, Ohio, and 212-pound John Herrstein, 18, Chillicothe, Ohio.

Placak is tabbed to start at tail-

Front Office Shakeup

Changes Loom at Chicago

CHICAGO (U)—After the baseball season is over, there may be a shakeup in the Chicago Cubs from the front office to the field.

That's the general report by Chicago newspapers as the Cubs are destined for their 10th straight second-division finish in the National League.

A report that Leo Durocher, ex-

Redlegs Ready to Go All Way

Cincy Sweeps Three Straight at Milwaukee

Birdie Tebbetts Sees Psychological Factor as Help to Club

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Manager Birdie Tebbetts, an off-season insurance agent who knows all about life-expectancy tables, figures his Cincinnati Redlegs "can go all the way—now."

"Our whole mental outlook rested on that four-game series in Milwaukee," said Birdie. "It was the psychological (he also has touched the sciences in post-graduate work) turning point. Now that we've come this far, our guys figure 'why stop now?'"

All the happy talk followed a startling, three-game sweep by second-place Cincy after losing the opener to the Braves. The homer-happy Redlegs switched to singles and pounded the bejabbers out of Milwaukee and southpaw Warren Spahn 12-3 in the series windup yesterday, cutting the Braves' National League lead to 1½ games.

The three-game kick also has put Manager Fred Haney to thinking about a shakeup in the Braves' lineup. Milwaukee now has only a two-game edge over Cincinnati and Brooklyn in the "lost" column with 21 games left. The Redlegs have 20 games remaining, Brooklyn 21.

The sweep kept Brooklyn's third place world champs in the race, too. Slumping through an eight-game schedule in six days, the Dodgers climbed to within 2 games of the lead by slipping past Pittsburgh 4-3 last night, their fifth victory in the eight-game nightmare.

St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in 11 innings and New York's Giants trimmed Philadelphia 5-4 in 10 in the other NL games.

In the American, the New York Yankees built their lead to 9½ games by breaking Willard Nixon's jinx with a 5-3 decision over Boston. Washington defeated Baltimore 2-0. Second-place Cleveland, Chicago, Detroit and Kansas City were not scheduled.

Rookie Frank Robinson, and Roy McMillan each drove in two runs as the Redlegs scored five on five hits in the second off Spahn, who sought his 200th career victory.

HARD HITTING REDLEGS—Herschel Freeman, Alex Grammas, Frank Robinson and Roy McMillan have a good reason to smile after their team walloped the Milwaukee Braves 12-3 (left to right) Freeman was the winning pitcher and drove in four runs, Robinson two and McMillan three. The victory put the Redlegs within one and a half games of the league leading Braves.

Look to Farm System

Bengals Seek Assist

DETROIT (U)—The Detroit Tiger farmhands are doing no better than their big league brothers, but the front office is convinced that some of the youngsters in the lower classification will be wearing Tiger uniforms before long.

With another 5th place finish a near certainty, the parent club will be shopping around among their Minor League clubs for new talent to bolster the Tiger hopes. Detroit will count on strong-armed Frank Lary tonight in the opener of a four-game series at Kansas City.

Lary (15-13) will be opposed by ex-Tiger Lou Kretlow (4-8), whom he defeated last Saturday in Detroit.

With the minors winding up their seasons, here's the picture on Tiger farm clubs:

Charleston, the top affiliate, is 5th in the American Assn. with a slim chance to gain a step. The Senators were in the basement for most of the season but put on a stretch drive to climb a couple of notches.

Augusta in the Sally League is 3rd, Durham is running between 4th in the Carolina League, Idaho Falls is 5th in the Pioneer League, Valdosta has been in 1st place all year in the Georgia-Florida League, Jamestown was 5th in the six-club Pony League and Terre Haute—which folded in mid-season—was 2nd in the Three-I League.

Jamestown also folded after many years of organized baseball. A pair of Class D teams, Panama City in the Alabama-Florida League and Palatka in the Florida State Circuit, finished 7th and 8th respectively.

The Tigers have called up four of their top young Charleston prospects and they will report Sept. 11. One of them, lefthanded pitcher Hal Woodeshick, was purchased. He compiled an 11-5 record and talk around the league is that Woodeshick is the association's best southpaw since Herb Score, now with Cleveland.

Eight Teams Remain in Women's Tourney

CLEARWATER, Fla. (U)—Eight teams, each with one loss, battled today to stay in the Women's World Softball Tournament.

The loser in each of the four games will be eliminated. St. Petersburg, Fla., meets Buena Park, Calif., and New Orleans plays Stratford, Conn., Phoenix, Ariz., plays Fresno, Calif., while Fort

Seixas Winner of Fourth Test

Beats Bearded Dane, Takes Breather Today in Nationals

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (U)—Vic Seixas, at 33 the old man of the tennis wars, took his first breather in the past four days of the National championships today and admitted: "I can use it."

They don't keep records on who plays the most sets in this tournament, but if they did Seixas certainly would be near the top.

He has played four matches, all against foreigners. They have gone a total of 202 games and 18 sets. That's two sets short of the absolute maximum.

His fourth victim yesterday, Torben Ulrich of Denmark, who sports a beard and a shaggy mane that makes him look like he just stepped out of a prehistoric cave, threw up another stiff battle before Seixas won 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3.

Seixas, a handsome Philadelphia who has been playing in the Nationals for 16 years, said his big problem was to snap back tomorrow when he meets sixth-seeded Ashley Cooper of Australia who won a bitter 3-6, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5 decision from Sam Gaimalva of Houston, Tex.

Olympic Water Polo Trials Start Today

LOS ANGELES (U)—The Olympic Water Polo Trials get under way today with several crack teams bidding for the right to represent the United States at the Melbourne Games.

The New York Athletic Club, the Olympic Club from San Francisco, Southern California and El Segundo, Calif., teams are prominent contenders.

The trials wind up Sunday. The scene is the Los Angeles Swimming Stadium, site of the 1932 Olympic Games.

quarterbacks, Jim Maddock and Jim Van Pelt, whom he describes as "adequate." But neither provides the strong passing arm Bennie would like for his two great ends, Ron Kramer and Tom Macents, and his great wing back, Terry Barr.

Thus, Placak, a good passer, may start firing passes on the run to enhance the threat of Michigan's tricky, dangerous ground attack. The line will be tough, fast and mobile in best Michigan tradition. Two veterans, Jim Orwig, 20, and Al Sigan, 21, will be the tackles, mainly because they are veterans.

Dick Hill, 190, and Marv Nyren, 205, backed by another good sophomore, 225-pound Gerry Martiniak of Chicago, form a solid guard nucleus and experienced Gene Snider, 205, brings savvy to the center post.

Again, Michigan has a preponderance of home games in its cavernous bowl which seats 100,000. Seven of the nine Wolverine games this season are at home, including the first five: UCLA opens at Ann Arbor Sept. 29, followed by Michigan State, Army, Northwestern and Minnesota.

Bosox Lose Rookie

BOSTON (U)—Rookie shortstop Don Buddin is lost to the Boston Red Sox for the remainder of the season because of a broken bone in his right hand.

Buddin sustained the injury last night in the first inning against the New York Yankees while sliding into third base. New York won 5-3.

Bernstein'd Do It Again

CHICAGO (U)—"If I had it to do all over again, I'd follow the same career."

That's what Ike Bernstein has to say while waiting to celebrate his 79th birthday Monday. For more than half a century, Ike has been a fight manager. He is the oldest active fight manager in the business.

Commenting on reports of hoodlums in boxing, Ike says: "I know we have undesirable associated with the sport and they should be removed. In fact, many of them have been. We should also get rid of crooked politicians, bankers and others. If there is something wrong, I don't object to investigations of boxing, but I insist that there must be evidence presented."

"I've been in the boxing game 51 years and at no time have I ever actually known of a boxer being doped, or intentionally being rendered ineffective by his handlers."

Accident May Stop Janowicz

LOS ANGELES (U) — A doctor says it is problematical whether Vic Janowicz, injured Aug. 18 in a car accident, will play football again this year or any year.

But the husky Washington Redskins halfback predicted from his bed at Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital that he would be back in a Redskins uniform "in another week."

"He could be through forever, it depends on how he comes along . . ." Dr. Paul Moore said yesterday. "He may be out this year or he may be able to play this year, it's always problematical in the case of head injuries," Dr. Moore added.

Janowicz, who suffered a severe concussion in the accident, said, "I feel good and plan to go on with my career."

Minnesota Will Try Duck Experiment

LANSING (U) — Waterfowl specialists in several states in the Mississippi flyway will have a special interest in Minnesota duck hunting this fall.

Legislation Might Help to Solve Minnow Question

LANSING (U) — Chief of the conservation department's fish division said the current shortage of lake emerald shiners could probably be helped by legislation.

The shiners are one of the most popular baits used by Lake Huron perch fishermen. A shortage of the bait has seriously hurt fishing this year.

Fred Westerman, fish division director, said the shortage might be eased if the state repealed a law banning export of live minnows.

"But in the long run, we think it would work against the interests of Michigan anglers," Westerman said.

Fishermen in the Saginaw Bay area say Ohio bait dealers would be glad to sell them minnows, but want assurance they will be able to buy Michigan minnows in the future.

"If the law were changed," Westerman said, "Michigan anglers would probably see more minnows being exported than would ever be imported."

Westerman says he believes the low supply of bait shiners this year is exceptional and will be short-lived.

Olympic 5 Cards Exhibition Games

NEW YORK (INS) — The U.S. Olympic basketball team will play ten exhibition games as part of its training program for the Olympics which start Nov. 22 in Melbourne.

Col. Harry D. Henshel, chairman of the U.S. Olympic basketball committee, announced last night that the tour will open at Indianapolis on Oct. 20 and conclude at Long Beach, Cal., on Nov. 9, two days prior to departure for Melbourne.

Gerald Tucker of the Phillips 66ers and Bruce Drake of the University of Oklahoma are coaches of the Olympic team, which is composed of AAU, armed force and collegiate players.

The Ocala Chamber of Commerce made Needles an honorary member even before he won the Kentucky Derby. The colt was foaled in Ocala, Fla.

Seven Year Home Runs

BROOKLYN — It's a long time between homers at Busch Stadium in St. Louis for Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers.

When Reese rapped a homer on July 20 it marked only the third of his career in the Cardinal park. His first round tripper there occurred in 1942 and the second in 1949. Thus an interval of seven years elapsed between each round

Oakland's Part Cited at Grain Elevator Meeting

Wixom's Holden Seeded Farm Bureau's Program

BY JOE HAAS

Recollections that our own Oakland County was the pioneer in putting its parent organization, the Michigan Farm Bureau, on its way to success were revived Wednesday at the 36th annual meeting of the Michigan Elevator Exchange at Lansing.

It was in 1919 that B. S. Holden of Wixom began his activities in securing members for the Michigan Farm Bureau, and he surely did some good seeding.

There had been some agitation in that line in other states, but in Michigan the movement was dormant. The farmers had not been put in the get together spirit.

From Mr. Holden's humble start

Area Couple First to Marry in N.Y. Chapel

OXFORD — First wedding ever held in the new Memorial Chapel of the Methodist House, Chautauque, N. Y., was the marriage of Irene Perreault, Lake Orion, and William Lewis of Oxford, who spoke their vows before the altar flanked by baskets of white gladioli.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock Sunday, August 26, by the grandfather of the bridegroom, the Rev. W. J. Guilding, a missionary to Kenya Colony, East Africa. About 50 guests were present.

The bride wore a hoop-skirted pink crystal gown and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses. Maid of honor was Judith Millman of Randolph, N.Y., who wore blue crystal and pink rosebuds. Robert Lewis of Oxford served as best man.

Following the ceremony a dinner for fifty family members and friends was held at the Davis Tea Room. Attending from Michigan were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lewis, Oxford, parents of the groom.

The newly-wedded couple left for a trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, and now are at home at 33 Cayuga Drive, Lake Orion.

American investors are preparing to build a tuna cannery in Ecuador, Quito learns.

Plan Residing in Walled Lake After Travel

WALLED LAKE — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lorne Ballantyne, who were married recently in Northville, are honeymooning in northern Michigan. They will live at 1159 N. Quinif Dr., when they return.

The bride is the former Linda Jean Gay, daughter of the Clarence Gays of the Quinif address, while her bridegroom's parents are the J. L. Ballantynes of 2293 Austin Drive.

The bride's ballroom gown was of net with a Chantilly lace jacket. Her headpiece held a shoulder length veil, and her bouquet was of white carnations entwined with ivy.

Honor attendants were the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Robert Schovan, and her husband. Ushers were Larry Boice, and Don Simpson of Detroit a cousin of the groom.

Later, a reception was held in the church's fellowship hall.

Tell Finances of Labor Event

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A Labor Day get-acquainted party at Lower Straits Lake netted the Maple Pointe Beach Improvement Club, Inc. a profit of about $200, according to Clay Stokes, chairman of the affair and member of the Board of Directors.

The money has been turned over to the club fund which is used primarily for road maintenance.

Nearly 450 residents of Maple Pointe Beach and Maple Pointe Beach Annex subdivisions gathered at Pointe Park for games, refreshments, an amateur contest, an auction and a community sing.

Prize winners in the talent contest were Karen Kolke, Andy Coleman and Elaine Tognetti. A total of 17 youngsters competed for honors.

Berkley Woman Hurt in Santa Fe Wreck

BERKLEY — Frances Gusk of 3270 Buckingham, was among four Michigan residents in the list of 35 persons injured yesterday in the wreck of the Santa Fe railroad's Chief near Springer, N. Mex. Others were Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hamilton of Traverse City and Jane Wilkinson of Millington. All had minor injuries.

St. Joseph School Starts With Mass

LAKE ORION — Children of the St. Joseph Catholic School, grades 1 thru 8, began their school year at 9 a.m. this morning with a special mass.

The Rev. George Ging, advised them in a brief sermon based on the idea that education should be for the soul as well as the mind.

Illinois Woman Dies of Auto Crash Injuries

PETOSKEY (N) — Mrs. Mildred K. Huffaker, 63, of Glencoe, Ill., died Tuesday at Little Traverse Hospital of injuries suffered in an auto crash near Harbor Springs.

Sheriff's deputies said she was injured Monday night when her car left a rural road three miles east of Harbor Springs and struck a tree. She had been vacationing nearby.

A recent car show in Paris went off without a hitch—except that one woman got stuck under a car.

Sunday Reunions Recall Settlers of Early Era

ROCHESTER — Three well known families whose ancestors were early settlers of the Mt. Vernon area have set Sunday as the day for their annual reunions.

The Crissman families will have their reunion at Ayon Township Park Pavilion and will convene at 11 a.m. A variety of entertainment is planned.

Hosts for the affair will be Mr. and Mrs. Leon Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Crissman of Rochester and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Crissman of Utica.

The Chapin-Fangbender reunion will be held Sunday at the Mt.

Top Hog Caller

WIXOM — Andy Benoit, 49, of this village has won the hog calling contest for the third consecutive year at the Michigan State Fair.

Vernon Church with a potluck dinner at 12:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. George Blount of Royal Oak have arranged the program and George Cole Jr. will have charge of the sports for the day.

Hotchkiss Kin Tally 123 at Thomas Event

THOMAS — The 29th annual Hotchkiss reunion on Labor Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rose Phipps, 1875 Oakwood Rd., Oakland, attracted 132 persons from ten area towns.

Oldest member attending was Herbert Hotchkiss of Oakland, who is 84, and youngest was baby Tena Maria Leach of Lapeer.

Elected president was Morris Hotchkiss of Lake Orion and secretary - treasurer, Mrs. Louise Houghtling of Lapeer.

Soil Banking Starts Here

Cook States Deadline for Wheat Reservations in County

Under the 1957 Soil Bank Wheat Acreage Reserve Program, farmers with wheat allotments may earn a cash payment for reducing their 1957 acreage of wheat below the 1957 wheat allotment for the farm, Walter R. Cook, office manager for the Oakland County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced today.

The only requirements are that a tract or tracts of land suitable for the production of wheat be designated as the reserve for the farm, and the operator agrees not to harvest any crop from the acreage reserve, not to pasture the acreage reserve and to control the spread of noxious weeds on the reserve area.

The acreage which may be placed in the Wheat Acreage Reserve for a farm may not exceed the wheat allotment.

The maximum is 50 per cent of the allotment or 50 acres, whichever is larger. The minimum is three acres or the allotment, whichever is smaller.

The deadline date for signing up in the 1957 Wheat Acreage Reserve is September 21, 1956, warns Cook.

Wheat growers interested in the program should not delay in contacting the county office as contracts will be completed on a "first come - first served" basis. Contracts will be signed only as long as funds are available.

State Official Blasts Institution Site Delay

LANSING (AP)—A state official told a critic of the new site selected for the Boys Vocational School that further delay in relocating the Lansing institution is "unthinkable." W. J. Maxey, state social welfare director, took the position Wednesday in a letter to Reade S. Pierce, vice president of the Ann Arbor Board of Realtors. Whitmore Lake is about 16 miles north of Ann Arbor.

Discover Empty Boat With Distress Flags

PORT HURON (AP)—Coast Guard officials say they are puzzled by an outboard motorboat, flying two homemade distress flags, found floating four miles off Port Sanilac.

The boat, with a half tank of gasoline, was sighted by the freighter J. R. Sensibar, Coast Guardsmen from Harbor Beach found two distress flags flying from makeshift masts made of tree branches.

One theory is that pranksters may have taken the 15-foot boat from a cottage.

Gal Needs Brains, Too, Diana Dors Maintains

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD—Diana Dors almost came out against bosoms here at Pootown-on-the-Pacific.

That'd be like Henry Ford coming out for more bicycle riding. England's blond sounded a warning.

"Don't get me wrong, I think beautiful busts are wonderful but a girl's got to have more," asserted Miss Dors.

"Gina Lollobrigida feels this way, too, and I think we're right," she added. She was lying back languorously on a couch in her dressing room.

"You see," said Miss Dors, "almost any young girl with a beautiful waistline suddenly gets feted and photographed."

"She gets signed up for pictures."

"But unless she has some talent to back it up, she's in for a very sad letdown."

"For there comes a time when the girl gets up in front of a camera and somebody says, 'Well, what are you going to do?'"

"And what is she going to do?" asked Miss Dors. "She can't take her sweat-off."

Diana finds Hollywood restful and can't understand why so many stars "finish up on the psychiatrist's couch."

"If I ever get to that state, I will pack up," she promised. Miss Dors, who starts another film at once, will also do the Bob Hope TV show Oct. 23—her 25th birthday. "Was a Hope show that introduced her to the U. S. Somebody observed that Hitler and Mussolini both tried to cross the Atlantic and couldn't, but that swinging Dors did it."

She lost weight here and is now down to 120. She still measures 37½-24-35.

Clark Gable's Wife Admitted to Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Clark Gable's wife, the former Kay Williams Spreckels, was admitted to hospital last night for observation of an acute abdominal condition.

Her physician, Dr. Richard

Gable accompanied his wife to the hospital. She has been confined to her home in Encino for the past several months with a heart ailment.

Farm Speeches of Ike Blasted

Dems Claim Proposed Talks Indicate Failure of GOP Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) said today that President Eisenhower's projected farm speeches indicate "that the President realizes his farm program has not worked and has hurt most of the farmers."

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) another consistent critic of Republican farm policies, agreed with Douglas that the Midwest farm belt "will certainly be a major battleground in this year's campaign."

Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday he plans to discuss the farm situation Sept. 21 at one of the "national field days" at Newton, Iowa, and make a major nationally televised farm speech a week later.

Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, previously had agreed to make a farm speech at Newton on Sept. 22, the day following the Eisenhower appearance.

Both parties apparently retain vivid memories of the 1948 presidential voting in which President Truman surprised the GOP by carrying Iowa and other normally Republican farm belt states and winning re-election.

Republicans got a boost earlier this year when average farm prices moved up about 11 per cent from a 14-year-low in mid-December. More recently July prices were down 1 per cent and mid-August levels dropped another 3 per cent.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson credited these declines to a seasonal downturn at harvest time but Democrats are certain to use the drop as campaign ammunition throughout the farm belt.

Heroic Admiral's Son to Boss New Destroyer

BOSTON (AP)—The son of the first American naval flag officer killed in World War II is to become the first commanding officer tomorrow of the USS Barry, one of the Navy's newest and most powerful destroyers.

He is Cmdr. Isaac C. Kidd Jr.,

son of Rear Adm. Isaac C. Kidd, who was killed Dec. 7, 1941, at Pearl Harbor. Kidd was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor posthumously for heroism during the Japanese attack.

His son is a 1941 graduate of Annapolis and a native of Cleveland. The Barry is to be commissioned tomorrow.

State Committee to Study Fair Milk Price System

DETROIT (U) — Gov. Williams last spring and the threat of further strikes, Williams said: "It is evident that when farmers are driven to strikes and to strike threats they have serious price grievances."

"The housewife who buys milk is entitled to a fair price and should not be gouged on the false claim that the farmers are getting too much—a claim that every dairy farmer knows is false."

Turning to another farm problem, the Governor said he will ask the 1957 Legislature for a general revision of the Livestock Auction Law to safeguard farmers against the kind of swindle now the object of a one-man Grand Jury inquiry at Jackson.

He added he would announce the commission membership in a few days.

It will include farmers, processors and consumers, he said.

Reviewing the milk strike of it a bill increasing the amount of bond required of auction managers, but Williams said he thinks the remedy "should go farther than that."

The Governor also put in a plug for an agriculture "Seal of Quality" plan, an idea he has pressed upon the Legislature without success for several years.

Williams said every major farm group has supported the plan and he "confidently hopes" the Legislature will not pigeonhole it again.

Motor City Youth Dies of Car Crash Injuries

ANN ARBOR (U) — Frank Donahue 15, of Detroit, died in University Hospital Tuesday of injuries suffered Thursday in a car-truck collision on U.S. 112 near Chelsea.

The youth's aunt, Mrs. Genevieve J. McDonough of Detroit, was killed in the crash and eight other persons were injured.

Grain Market Notes Decline

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat again turned lower on the Board of Trade today but the decline met more resistance than in the previous session.

Other grains opened firm and then became quite erratic as dealings progressed at a fairly fast pace. Soybeans gave up early gains as did some corn futures. September corn again was very strong as only 35 cars of cash corn arrived.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/4 to 1/2 lower, Sept. 2.19%, Corn 1/4 to 1/2 lower, Sept. 1.49%, Oats 1/4 to 1/2 higher, Sept. 72%, Rye 1/4 to 1/2 higher, Sept. 1.42%, Soybeans 1/4 to 1/2 lower, Sept. 2.33%. Lard unchanged to 7 cents a hundred pounds lower, Sept. 11.20.

The young crowd is taking a firm stand on floor-level fashions this year. Their shoes are the indispensable favorites like the saddle, the slip-on and the sweater flat ... but there's a wonderful new weightless feel to them, a new low, slender, sport-car sleekness! This year it's the well-mannered look for campus. See it in our young Kerrybrooke collection here at Sears.
