

K Warns Russia Will 'Crush' Enemies in War

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today that President Kennedy's recent call for a "peaceful settlement" of world tensions "is to be welcomed."

But at the same time he said that if war starts the Soviet Union will "crush" its enemies and "hundreds of millions" will die in a nuclear conflict.

"It is precisely for a peaceful settlement that the Soviet government is striving," Khrushchev said.

"But in order to ensure peaceful settlement, it is necessary to conclude a peace treaty with Germany."

The Soviet leader then urged that West Berlin be made a "free city" with "reliable international guarantees," although he did not elaborate on these "guarantees."

The theme was the same one Khrushchev has played in three speeches on Berlin, Germany and world tensions in the past week.

Khrushchev stressed that the Soviet Union does not want war.

BONN, Germany (U)—The Western powers are preparing notes to Moscow on Berlin and Germany expressing willingness to enter negotiations on the problem but making no direct offers for talks, authoritative sources reported here today.

But it will strike back with everything it has if attacked.

"In our atomic age, it is madness to threaten to unleash war," he said.

"If the West unleashes a war against us," Khrushchev told a Soviet-Romanian "friendship meeting" in the Kremlin. "We will deal crushing blows against the aggressors and all their bases."

"We are threatened by those bases in Italy, Greece, Denmark, Norway and other countries."

But at the same time, Khrushchev offered to settle the Berlin problem by negotiation, assured his audience that "we are against war" and predicted that "all mankind" will go Communist without war.

"We will not be the first to push the nuclear button," Khrushchev said. "But if we are attacked, we will deliver the crushing blow!"

It was the third time this week that Khrushchev has made speeches which contained belligerent threats to crush the West if war starts, while combining each threat with offers to negotiate the Berlin and German issues.

His terms have been those rejected in the past by the West, however.

REPEATS TREATY AIM

Khrushchev repeated his determination to sign a peace treaty with East Germany.

He vigorously denied that such a treaty would threaten the freedom of the two million West Berlin residents.

The premier said the United States is now going through an "aggrading" of its values, but some "American capitalists still think we should bow to them."

"We think of them as if they had lost their eyesight," he said. "Don't you realize we are a great country now?"

"Gentlemen capitalists, your arms are short. You are not frightening us. Only those who are frightened themselves think they can frighten someone."

Rusk Reports High Degree of Allied Unity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the major Western powers all expect negotiations with Russia over Berlin but at this point have no timetable for such an East-West meeting.

After reporting personally to President Kennedy on the week-long consultations in Europe from which he returned Thursday night, Rusk told newsmen he had found "a high degree of unity among the Western allies on the Berlin problem."

He minimized reports that France and the United States differ on the timing of any approach to the Soviets toward an East-West conference aimed at a peaceful solution of that crisis.

European reports had it that the United States proposes that the West take an early initiative while France believes no move toward negotiations should be made for some time.

Rusk said this is a matter "on which the gap may be more apparent than real."

RISK ENCOURAGED

He added: "We all understand that negotiations will occur."

Rusk was reported encouraged not only over the signs of policy unity but over prospects of a military build-up by other NATO nations paralleling that ordered by Kennedy in this country.

Kennedy and Rusk, however, were reported increasingly concerned over what they consider the rigid, threatening attitude being displayed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev in public statements and private meetings with Western diplomats and visitors.

There is a growing conviction that Khrushchev's present position offers no real hope of successful negotiations, in spite of his demand that the West seek a peaceful settlement of the Berlin dispute he has created.

Tentatively, therefore, U.S. officials have concluded that further steps in the military build-up charted by Kennedy recently, and discussed by Rusk in Europe during the past week, will have to be taken before Khrushchev realizes the resistance he's up against.

'West Expects to Negotiate'

Claims Convicts Faking Insanity

By DICK SAUNDERS

Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor today revealed a scheme whereby convicts and ex-convicts allegedly "play paranoia" to avoid prison terms.

Taylor claimed that "psychiatrists are defeating the purpose of law and justice" after uncovering evidence that two escapees from Ionia State Hospital for the "Criminally Insane" had "faked insanity to gain admittance to the hospital," he said.

The two escapees, James G. Stives, 33, of Clare, and John T. Auld, 42, formerly of Toledo, Ohio, were charged with kidnapping and rape before Springfield Township Justice Emmet J. Leeb yesterday.

Examinations have been set for the two before Leeb Aug. 17. They are confined to the Oakland County Jail with bond set at $10,000 each.

Stives and Auld were captured by two Brighton state policemen Wednesday night in West Bloomfield Township. They had held a 15-year-old mother and her brother hostage for some eight hours.

Normally escapees would be returned to Ionia but Taylor today announced he would file a petition in Oakland County Circuit Court asking the court to certify Stives and Auld as sane.

"This has never been done before in Michigan," the prosecutor said. Taylor had both men examined by two psychiatrists, Dr. Ivan LaCure and Dr. Edward S. Salem of Pontiac.

Both psychiatrists judged the men sane. Taylor said, "In fact the prisoners told Dr. LaCure and myself that they weren't insane when they were committed to Ionia two years ago."

Taylor quoted the escapees as saying they "foiled the psychiatrists." He also stated that questioning he found the practice was "relatively widespread."

"I plan to hold conferences with the state attorney general and possibly the governor to see if something can't be done about the situation," Taylor said.

The time has come for us to do it. The toll for the same day a year ago was $74.

McNamara Hits Report He'll Kill Aid Proposal if JFK Removes Name

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Pat V. McNamara, D-Mich., denied today that he had agreed to drop a restrictive amendment to the foreign aid bill in return for President Kennedy's withdrawal of a Michigan federal judiciary nomination.

At the same time, the White House said its request to the Senate for confirmation of Republican John Feikens of Detroit to be a U.S. District Court judge still stands.

McNamara said his proposal to cut all but military aid from the foreign aid bill is still alive.

Of reports that he has agreed to drop it in return for Kennedy's withdrawal of the nomination of Feikens, he said:

"That's a damn lie!"

The situation remains unchanged from last week, when he submitted his amendment, McNamara said.

He reiterated his statement that the amendment has no connection at all with Feikens' nomination.

NOMINATION PENDING

McNamara said his present feeling is that if this country cannot afford the domestic programs it needs, such as federal aid to education and medical care for the aged, it cannot afford to provide them for other nations.

The Senate Judiciary Committee reported that Feikens' nomination still was pending. No hearing date has been set. It was said, although one might be scheduled.

If it is a possibility which many sources discount, McNamara has said he will testify against Feikens.

Feikens was Republican state chairman when McNamara campaigned for and won his first senate term in 1954.

McNamara has not forgiven him for the bitter campaign, or for charges made by Feikens after McNamara's victory.

Lifer Missing at State Prison

Mike Gisondi Either Escaped or Was Killed, Say Jackson Officials

Escape artist Mike Gisondi, sentenced to life in prison for a double murder in Hazel Park, was being sought again today by police and sheriff's deputies.

Jackson Prison officials reported the dangerous 33-year-old convict missing after a 6 p.m. roll call behind the walls yesterday.

A thorough search of the prison turned up no trace of Gisondi.

"It looks like he is outside the walls," a spokesman for Warden William Ransan said this morning.

"There was a lot of traffic through the south gate yesterday and it is not unlikely that he rode out in a truck," the spokesman added.

Another possibility was that Gisondi had been slain by fellow inmates. He was involved in the killing of a fellow prisoner last year.

"The has some enemies here," said the spokesman. "They might have killed him and stashed the body somewhere."

State police said Gisondi had been working in the prison tailor shop and had access to knives and knives. They described him as extremely dangerous.

Oakland County Undersheriff Donald Francis described Gisondi as a "light-headed, poker-faced little killer."

The 5-foot-4, 135-pound Gisondi escaped from the maximum-security prison at Marquette in 1959 after being convicted along with Harold J. Hummel in the holdup-slaying of a Hazel Park bar owner and his son in 1953.

Chance of Rain, Storms Is Seen

DETROIT (UPI)—The Weather Bureau today issued the following special statement:

"Radar shows a line of thunderstorms from Harbor Beach to south of Saginaw, north of Lansing to southwest of Grand Rapids, moving from the north west at about 30 miles per hour. Some of these thunderstorms have heavy rain and possible hail with briefly strong gusty winds."

"The thunderstorms can be expected in the Detroit area between 3 and 4 p.m."

There's a chance of scattered showers or thunderstorms again tonight and perhaps a few Saturday, the weatherman says. Tonight's low will dip to near 63. Saturday's high will climb to near 80.

For the next five days temperatures will average near or a little below normal high of 80 to 84 and normal low of 64 to 68. Monday will be a somewhat warmer and Tuesday a little cooler with only minor day to day changes in temperature otherwise.

Precipitation will total less than three-quarters of an inch in showers mostly Monday and Tuesday. Morning light westerly winds at 10 miles per hour will become northerly at 8-15 m.p.h. by evening.

Seventy-one was the lowest reading in downtown Pontiac, recorded 8 a.m. The recording was 87 at 2 p.m.

Reds Already Negotiating on E. Reich Treaty

Berlin (AP)—East Germany announced today that negotiations already are under way in Communist Capitals for the German peace treaty demanded by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Stern measures also were promised to stem the refugee tide flowing through West Berlin as the total for the year passed 150,000.

Western refugee officials announced that during the past week 12,486 East German refugees were registered in West Berlin, bringing the 1961 total to 150,921. The total at this time last year was about 115,000. Thousands more have crossed without registering.

The refugee figures mounted as a special session of East Germany's rubber-stamp parliament met in East Berlin to hear about East German countermeasures from Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz and Deputy Premier Willy Stoph.

Parliament approved a resolution endorsing all measures already taken to stop the flight of refugees. The vote was unanimous, as always.

The resolution also welcomed the recent statement of the Communist Warsaw Pact countries calling for a peace treaty without delay. But it added nothing about negotiating it.

Bolz said the foreign ministers of the Soviet bloc will meet later in the fall—exactly when or where he did not say.

New Wisner Lights Expected Next Year

Will Wisner Stadium get new lights? This was a matter of concern at the Pontiac Board of Education meeting last night.

The consensus of opinion among board members and administrators seemed to be: Yes, but not this year.

The reason: It would take three to four months to put lights in and 1961-62 budget funds are already spoken for.

Administrators said designs, bidding, awarding contracts, ordering materials and installation could not be completed before Dec. 1 if begun today.

"The lights are getting very old. Pictures are deteriorating and rusting and sockets are leaking," said Dr. Otto C. Hutzinger, assistant superintendent.

"This is why lights fail in a heavy rain. Water seeps into the sockets."

Hutzinger pointed out that new lights have been in the board's supplementary budget requests for several years but never made the final budget.

The supplementary budget is a list of things that are desirable or necessary, a necessity but cannot be financed within expected income.

This year's budgeted amount for electrical needs is devoted mainly to rewiring of main circuits and panels at Pontiac Central High School.

This project alone will cost nearly $50,000, about $20,000 more than the rough estimate for Wisner lighting.

STANFORD SUGGESTIONS

Suggestions last night from selling Oriole field to raise money for lighting, to taking the city to go 30-50 on the cost of new lights.

Oriole field is a 2 1/2-acre lot near Central Elementary School and has been used by the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation for many years as a playfield.

Board members finally voted to authorize Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent, to meet with City Manager Walter K. Willman "to discuss and exchange ideas on how to finance new lights."

Whitmer explained that, not only are the lights old, but far below today's standards.

"As an example, at one time the acceptable measure of lighting per classroom was from five to ten footcandles," he said.

"After World War II it was 40 footcandles. Then it went up to 70. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

"The lights are getting very old. Pictures are deteriorating and rusting and sockets are leaking," said Dr. Otto C. Hutzinger, assistant superintendent.

"This is why lights fail in a heavy rain. Water seeps into the sockets."

Hutzinger pointed out that new lights have been in the board's supplementary budget requests for several years but never made the final budget.

The supplementary budget is a list of things that are desirable or necessary, a necessity but cannot be financed within expected income.

This year's budgeted amount for electrical needs is devoted mainly to rewiring of main circuits and panels at Pontiac Central High School.

This project alone will cost nearly $50,000, about $20,000 more than the rough estimate for Wisner lighting.

STANFORD SUGGESTIONS

Suggestions last night from selling Oriole field to raise money for lighting, to taking the city to go 30-50 on the cost of new lights.

Oriole field is a 2 1/2-acre lot near Central Elementary School and has been used by the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation for many years as a playfield.

Board members finally voted to authorize Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent, to meet with City Manager Walter K. Willman "to discuss and exchange ideas on how to finance new lights."

Whitmer explained that, not only are the lights old, but far below today's standards.

"As an example, at one time the acceptable measure of lighting per classroom was from five to ten footcandles," he said.

"After World War II it was 40 footcandles. Then it went up to 70. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Area Teen Dies After Injuries

3 Others in Hospital After Car and Tractor Hit in Addition Twp.

A farm tractor collision in Addison Township yesterday afternoon claimed the life of one of the victims at Pontiac General Hospital five hours later.

William Gates, 19, of 363 Prospect St., Romeo, died of a fractured skull.

Little, in serious condition at the hospital today was a second victim. Clyde R. Douthard, 19, of 421 Main St., Romeo, also suffered head injuries in the crash on Lakeville Road.

Both were passengers in a car driven by Edward P. Miles, 22, of 211 Currier St., Almont, along with Darryl W. Martin, 22, of 7387 Kanawha Road, Bruce Township.

The car collided with a tractor driven by Charles Rugenstein, 50, of 1444 Brower Road, Lake George Road.

Rugenstein was in fair condition at the hospital today with a fractured elbow. Miles was listed as satisfactory with a fractured right leg.

Sheriff's deputies who investigated the accident said Rugenstein was making a left turn with the tractor when the collision occurred. The oncoming eastbound car was unable to stop, they said.

What's Wrong in This Picture?

HIDDEN THREAT—Obviously these youngsters shouldn't be swimming here—as the sign indicates. Drownings in Oakland County have reached 23 for the year. Swimmers should be sure the water is deep enough and that no obstacles lurk beneath the surface before diving in, Sheriff Frank Iron cautioned.

Will Hold Meeting on Sleeping Bear

WASHINGTON (U.S. News, Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Thursday a citizens meeting will be held in Glen Arbor, Mich., Aug. 30 to discuss the proposal to turn the Glen Lake-Sleeping Bear Sand Dune area into a National Park.

Conrad L. Wirth, director of the National Park Service, will attend the meeting.

The proposal by Sen. Hart and Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, D-Mich., has stirred a storm of protest among property owners and residents in the popular summer resort area in Leelanau County.

Most property owners are against the plan because they fear it will destroy property values and eventually deprive them of their holdings.

Machine Cleans Mailboxes on Mass Basis

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The federal government is applying automation to the problem of mailbox grime.

The result—a machine with two drums of soapy water, hose, handle, control valve, and a scrub brush powered by a gasoline motor, all mounted on the back of a truck.

Postmaster Otto K. Olsen, who designed the machine, demonstrated it Wednesday on a mail-drop box in front of the Hollywood Post Office.

He explained: "One load of cleanser is sufficient to clean 30 mail boxes. Seventy-five hundred should be possible like new within six months. The cost is only $1.25 per box per year."

It's not all automatic, however. A man has to run the machine.

Racing Club to Use Split-Second Timers

Twelve precision hand-timers—described as the most accurate mechanical timing instruments ever built—will keep tab on times of entrants in the Oakland County Sportsman Road Racing Club races Aug. 12 and 13 over the Waterford Hills Road course.

They will be provided for the meet by Shaw Jewelry Co. of Pontiac and the Marine Watch Co., Inc., of Jackson Heights, N.Y.

Developed after nearly five years of research, the 21-jewel timing instruments are precision built to tolerances of 4/10,000 (four one-thousandths) of an inch and are checked to an accuracy of one second in 24 hours of operation.

Because of their extreme complexity and delicacy, only 200 have been built in the past two and a half years. Each has a retail value of $350.

About 31 per cent of U.S. farms are classified as noncommercial or part-time farm operations.

Ring Gets Around

NEWPORT, Vt. (UPI) — Police here found a high school ring belonging to Margaret T. Donohue five years after it had been lost. She said, "I can't understand how the ring was ever found in Vermont as I have never been there."

Auto Industry to Start Output of '62 Models

DETROIT (AP)—Ward's automotive reports said today the auto industry will begin production of some 400 different versions of 1962 model cars next week. Studebaker-Packard, which completed initial framing operations this week, will be the first to bring 1962 models to final assembly. Chrysler, American Motors and some General Motors divisions also will initiate 1962 production during the coming week.

Approves Extension of School Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Labor Committee today approved today a one-year extension of a measure which allows about $800 million a year to school districts overburdened by children of federal employees. Senate Democrats view the extension of the impacted school bill as the death knell for this position of President Kennedy's multimillion-dollar education package, now hopelessly mired in the House Rules Committee. The committee moved with speed in approving the stopgap education bill.

Kennedy Signs Bill Creating Labor Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today signed a bill creating a new position as assistant secretary of labor and immediately nominated Mrs. Esther Peterson, director of the Labor Department's women's bureau, for the post. The new law increases the number of assistant secretaries from three to four. It always was the intention to give the new position to Mrs. Peterson. She is 54, a former teacher, and served as legislative representative in Washington for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union from 1945 to 1958.

Foreign Aid Time Limit Appears Doomed to Fail

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., led an apparently doomed fight today against President Kennedy's request for authority to borrow money to finance five years of economic development loans abroad.

Byrd's amendment requiring the President to come back to Congress each year for appropriations was set for a Senate vote tonight after seven hours of debate. Each side will have 3 1/2 hours to debate the amendment with debate to start shortly after disposal of routine business. The Senate arranged to meet an hour early.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana worked out this arrangement Thursday with unanimous Senate support. Under the agreement, the Senate will remain in session as late as necessary to vote on the Byrd amendment.

CONGRESSIONAL Kennedy's request for borrowing authority for a five-year, $8.1-billion program of loans to struggling nations is the chief item of controversy in the pending foreign aid bill. The bill provides $4,327,500,000 in foreign aid this year, including $1,187,000,000 in the loan funds.

Dancer, Violinist Take 1st Prize 'Y' Talent Show

A little ballet dancer and a young violinist are the first-place winners in the annual YMCA Summer Fun Club talent show. The dancer is Jenny Madden, 11, of 3822 Meadowlark Lane, Waterford Township, and the violinist Michael Owa, 17, of 1801 Vassar Road.

The winners received free, full year memberships in the "Y." More than 375 persons attended the talent show and then viewed craft displays during a carnival. Eleven youngsters won prizes for their displays. They are Scott Templeton, Christine Storer, Robert McKinney, Cathy Plinnick, Chuck Greenwood, Judy Penberg, Albert Yee, Susan Barling, Gordon Mapley, Carla Bradford and Larry Collier.

Gets Broken Ankle Lighting Cigarette

A driver who told police he was concentrating on lighting a cigarette instead of the road was in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with a broken ankle today after his car jumped the curb and rolled over on West Huron Street in Waterford Township last night. Emile J. Croteau, 57, of 94 Dwight St., said his car swerved off course without his noticing it.

Registrations of New Cars at High for Year

DETROIT (U-P) — R. L. Polk & Co. says June registrations of new autos reached 573,422, the highest since the similar month of 1959.

The statistical firm said six-month registrations totaled 2,875,453, a drop of 15.4 per cent from last year.

The firm said compact cars accounted for 32.2 per cent of all new car registrations in the first six months of this year. The compact took a record 31.7 per cent of the total market in June.

Included in the six-month total were 192,330 foreign cars, a decline of 29 per cent from a year ago.

Cholera Epidemic Reported in China

HONG KONG (UPI) — Newspaper reports in Mexico and Hong Kong today claimed that a cholera epidemic has broken out in South China's Kwangtung Province.

The unconfirmed reports said that some 2,000 persons had died in Canton, the provincial capital.

The reports, appearing in almost every right-wing Chinese paper in both Mexico and Hong Kong, said some 30 doctors had been rushed from the Soviet Union to help check the allegedly fast-spreading disease.

The Hong Kong and Mexico governments neither confirmed nor denied the reports. Both border on Kwangtung Province.

The council cited highway safety factors and generally favorable September vacation weather as reasons for the change.

School starting dates are set locally but most Michigan districts start classes in the fall during the same week as Labor Day. The council wanted Bartlett to advocate the later opening in his contact with local school district officials.

Samuel Olsen Given Clean Bill of Health

LANSING (U-P) — Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen was given a clean bill of health today in an investigation of his conduct in office, including the acceptance of an $11,000 contribution from the Teamsters Union.

The findings were reported to Gov. Swainson by Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, who recommended that no action be taken against Olsen.

Adams said the evidence did not support a finding that Olsen had been guilty of official misconduct or neglect of duty or any of the other possible grounds under the law which would be the basis for his removal from office.

GOP Moderates Expect Leaders to Attend Session

TRAVERSE CITY (U-P) — Two prominent Republican leaders may be sitting in on a four-day meeting of eight so-called GOP moderate senators when their strategy sessions open Aug. 17.

Sen. William G. Milliken, R- Traverse City, who will be the host, said that he expects Senate Majority Caucus Leader Frank D. Beidle of St. Clair, and State Chairman George M. Van Pelt to attend the deliberations on future GOP programs and policy.

The moderates announced earlier that they planned to draw up their own "white paper" of objectives they would seek for the party next year.

They said their plan of action might include actively campaigning in the primary for candidates who share their views.

Likes to Make People Laugh

Cary Grant Doing Another Comedy

by BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Cary Grant is making his 40th movie. Like the majority of the others, it's a comedy.

Still an also-ran in the Oscar derby, he admitted he could probably garner an academy nomination with a drama. But Cary is more interested in box office gold than in platted stardom. And he likes comedies.

"It's good for an audience to laugh or cry, because either one is a release," he commented.

THOMAS — It happens to like to hear people laugh. There is no more pleasant sound to me than to go into the Radio City Music Hall and hear that immense place filled with laughter.

The new comedy is called

"Touch of Mink," and it combines him for the first time with Doris Day—"an excellent comedy," he said. "A drama can be greeted by silence and still be successful. A comedy must draw laughter. And you never know if it will until you're all finished and it's too late to change it."

Despite the complex nature of the Cary Grant comedy, the premise is simple, he said. "You take a man who seems to have every advantage and you put him in an untenable position," he explained. "The laugh-morning be arrived with point-ter's reactions from audience's reactions from his own house under-tion to his discomfort and their arms—Curtis and other mis-ter's."

Cary was having a rare day off from shooting. He roamed his of-yields 63 million pounds of food.

No Settlement Seen in 11-Day Bus Strike

DETROIT (U-P) — The strike against Intertown Suburban Lines Corp. went into its 11th day today with no sign of a settlement.

A State mediator Walter Quillico said a six-hour meeting Thursday brought no progress. He said no further negotiating sessions were scheduled.

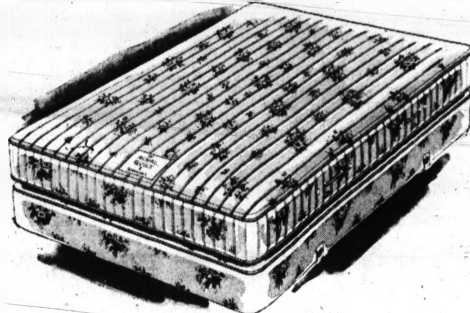

About 30,000 commuters between Detroit and Western Wayne County communities are affected.

Cubans Getting Ready for Propaganda Need

Cuba's economic boss has been giving an impressive demonstration of the thoroughness of Communist propaganda. At the Latin American economic conference in Uruguay, his latest speech resulted in a near riot when an anti-Castro Cuban shouted "Assassin" as ERNESTO GUEVARA spoke.

Guevara made a two-hour address. He accused the United States of plotting to assassinate Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's brother, Raul, and then firing on its own Guantanamo naval base to set up an excuse to intervene in Cuba.

He implied the United States was behind the assassination of the late RAFAEL TRUJILLO, former dictator of the Dominican Republic.

He presented two allegedly secret U.S. State Department papers, one insulting Venezuela, the other analyzing prospects for joint Latin American action against Cuba.

He belittled President KENNEDY's plans for aiding Latin America and told his hearers Cuba already has been offered more Soviet aid than Mr. KENNEDY is suggesting for all of Latin America.

Robert Woodward, undersecretary of state for Latin America, immediately called Guevara's charges "a pack of lies," but some of the Cuban's hearers undoubtedly were taken in by his statements. Many Latin Americans are suspicious of anything the United States suggests.

The GUEVARA address was an attack presented in the best Communist manner. It hurled diversified charges calculated to divide and spread suspicion among the American nations against each other. It laid the groundwork for possible Communist fakery at a later date. It sought to undermine the position of the United States in the case of any possible future move, even though that move might be provoked by a Castro attack on the Guantanamo base.

It is typical of Red propaganda methods. It indicates how difficult our future relations with Latin America are to be made by Castro and his agents. It marks one more attempt to prevent us from taking a firm stand against Cuba for fear we will antagonize South and Central American nations, already fearful of a dominating United States.

Reader Draws Picture of One Billion Dollars

We've just voted to spend another four billion dollars and then another three billion dollars on top of that. Well, how much is seven billion dollars?

How much is one billion? A reader sends in a mathematical answer to this question and we append the breath-taking facts herewith:

"Have you ever wondered what a billion dollars looks like? Here is the picture as painted by slide-rule experts:

"Stacked up in pennies, a billion dollars would reach 230,000 miles toward the infinity of the blue sky."

"Stacked in round silver dollars on a ten-foot square, a billion dollars would reach four times as high as the famous Washington Monument."

"Counted out in one-dollar bills, one-two-three-four style, a billion dollars would keep the person counting it busy for fifty years on a regular forty-hour week."

"Perhaps we need to think more about how much a billion dollars really is. And the budget of our Federal Government now calls for the annual expenditure of about eighty billion dollars."

"If the person counting the money used thousand-dollar bills it would not take him nearly so long. But he would have to stop before he finished, because Uncle Sam has printed only 666,000 of them!"

MANUFACTURERS of hats for men are making considerable progress toward doing what many had considered impossible — that is, to turn out hats that are ridiculous as millinery.

The Man About Town

Must Register

Matters in Which Our Young Men Are Warned

Lamatic Fringe: Status of the driver who wants to pass every car on the road.

Local Selective Service officers tell me that some young men are dilatory about registering when 18 years of age. This still is required by law.

Registration must be made at the draft offices, both of which are at 701 Pontiac State Bank Building. If you cannot appear there on your birthday, contact them by phone and advise cause of delay. The phone number of the Pontiac City office is FE 2-2374, and that of the out-county office is FE 5-1001.

It also is stressed that all holders of draft cards must notify their board of any change of address, either by letter, phone or in person. This also is a legal requirement and may get you into trouble if not obeyed.

Advice received from Medical Superintendent

And now that once great Saturday Evening Post, whose center spread of two pages for many years was sold out for months ahead at fantastic advertising rates, in its current issue is occupied by—themselves."

David Lawrence Says:

Scientists Question Titov's Story

IN EUROPE — Unquestionably Nikita Khrushchev has overlapped his hand in the propaganda speeches he has delivered extolling the Soviet orbital flights as the product of the Communist-Socialist system. This is resented throughout Europe.

Many a newspaper in countries like Sweden, Norway and Denmark has just expressed the criticism that celebration of a scientific experiment should not be cloaked in the language of international politics or polemics. In addition, there is some skepticism developing about Maj. Titov's feat itself.

While this is not an outgrowth as the doubts that were expressed about Maj. Gagarin's story of his flight last year, some significant questions are nevertheless being raised.

Thus, Maj. Titov told newsmen in Moscow that he controlled the ship himself. When asked how he did this, he replied:

FEEL LIKE A PILOT

"I began manual guidance of the cosmic ship according to program at 10 o'clock on Sunday. My ship is a very cleverly constructed machine, and easy to steer. It was possible to orientate it in any direction, to direct it where you needed, and where you wanted it to land. When I had the steering of the ship in my hands, I felt just like a real pilot. My first impression from manual operation is very good."

Now, here is what the Reuters News Service reported to the European press in a dispatch from Stanford, Calif.:

C. Stark Draper, head of aeronautical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, described as "malicious" press reports that cosmonaut Gherman Titov controlled the course of the Vostok II during his orbiting of the earth. Draper says:

"That boy didn't do anything more than Shepard did on his ride. He didn't have the thrust aboard to go out of his orbital path."

On this same point comes an article in the London Daily Telegraph by its science correspondent, Anthony Smith, who writes:

"Maj. Titov's remarks about his ability to maneuver his craft in space are frustratingly obscure. It would be interesting to know more about those automatic manual controls which work so easily..."

"Until fresh evidence is available, it must be assumed that he carried no large power unit on board which could change his orbit. Until such a power unit is carried in a Russian rocket, the space man will be able only to rotate his craft within its orbit or

For uncomplicated breast cancer may occur in a breast that is painful for some other reason, as breasts often are.

Perhaps both my critics and I would agree to the following principles: regard to any isolated lump in the breast whether painful or indolent, whether sensitive or insensitive:

Have it removed by a competent surgeon who has access to complete facilities for immediate diagnostic investigation and for further surgery if necessary. The

Vapor Trails

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Some Readers Disagree With Cancer Statement

Written for NEA

My recent remarks on the important subject of breast cancer brought forth the following criticism that merit more than passing attention.

You recently made the statement that breast cancer is a painless disturbance.

"Perhaps it is in the early months before it has been detected. But I must tell you that it can be very painful and your readers should be so informed."

"Otherwise there might be an uneasy few who think 'Oh, well. This can't be anything serious. Dr. Hyman said there is no pain from breast cancer.' And then they'll go on blithely ignorant until it's too late."

And in the same vein:

"You made the statement that breast cancer is a painless disturbance. I am sure you made that statement as a doctor, not as a cancer victim. For, in reality, this is a false statement."

"I had a small lump in my breast for more than a year. It was observed by a most reputable surgeon who is not 'knee-deep' because the tumor was sensitive and tender, he was led to believe it was benign."

"Later, when it changed in shape and size, he finally removed it and it proved to be malignant."

"You well meaning doctors are misleading people by just such statements as you made. No doubt you meant extreme pain such as occurs in advanced cases. But what I mean is tenderness. That is to say, sensitivity to the touch. I mean this to be helpful criticism since I hold you in high esteem."

"LET ME CLARIFY"

I feel the need for making a clarifying statement, particularly for the benefit of my kindly critics to whom I am most grateful.

Perhaps both my critics and I would agree to the following principles: regard to any isolated lump in the breast whether painful or indolent, whether sensitive or insensitive:

Have it removed by a competent surgeon who has access to complete facilities for immediate diagnostic investigation and for further surgery if necessary. The microscope and only the microscope tell the whole story.

Removal of the benign tumor for investigation is a minor procedure.

Removal of a tumor whose appearance is suspiciously or definitely malignant calls for more extensive surgery without further loss of time. Whether this requires removal of the breast alone (simple mastectomy) or of the muscle and glands in the near vicinity (radical mastectomy) is a decision that must be made by the surgeon and the surgeon alone.

Voice of the People:

Rep. Rogers Wants to Stop All Trading With Cuba

Florida representative Paul Rogers introduced a bill in Congress asking for a total cessation of trade between Cuba and the United States. Rogers said that Castro was receiving millions of dollars from American sales, plus land, breeding cattle and poultry from the U.S. Introducing the bill he stated that firm parliamentary action was necessary after "the failure of the State Department to halt trade with Cuba." The State Department dreams on.

'Goldwater's Next With Good Chance'

Barry Goldwater will be the next nominee for the Presidency and his chances of election have been mounting steadily for several weeks. And the Democrats will please remember that Kennedy was only elected by a tiny percentage and a lot of that was stolen and fraudulent.

'Church Would Help Boy Who Lied'

That boy who lied to get into the Catholic Church should join the Catholic Church and he would be taught the fallacy of telling lies and going counter to God's laws.

'Castro Can't Duck Charges Anymore'

Now that Cuba is adopting the one-party system, Castro is being spun the charges as he sometimes has tried to do in the past. The Russians have him nailed down exactly as they want him.

'There Should Be Some Apologies'

What has happened to all the people who complained so loudly when Kennedy named his Attorney General? He is doing a great job and he will make one of the best we have ever had.

GAO Saves $38 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Accounting Office figures it saved the taxpayers at least $38 million last year by keeping an eagle eye on the cost of such things as nuts and bolts and airplane engines, to say nothing of transportation charges.

Tootsie Rolls Shipments Halted for Mislabeling

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government announced Thursday it has obtained a court order preventing interstate shipment of Tootsie Rolls from the Hoboken, N. J., factory where they are made.

A carton of Tootsie Rolls is labeled as containing nine ounces but the candy actually weighs 8.25 ounces, the Food and Drug Administration said.

The FDA said a temporary restraining order has been obtained from the Federal Court at Newark, N. J. against the Tootsie Roll Co. of America and its treasurer, Joseph T. Hand.

It said the company reduced the size of the candies last January without changing the label. Tootsie Rolls sold in vending machines also do not weigh as much as the cartons proclaim, the FDA said.

800 Families Homeless in Philippines Fire

TACLOBAN, Philippines (AP)—A spectacular seven-hour fire destroyed five blocks of buildings in this Central Philippines city Thursday.

No casualties were reported but police estimated 800 families were made homeless and estimated property damage at $5 million. At least 600 houses and commercial buildings were destroyed.

Fast-Flying Cosmonaut Titov Whizzed From 1 Day to Next

By FRANK CAREY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov, smart operator though he is, must have been hard pressed to know just what day of the week it was during his flight around the world. His whizzing capsule played hop-scotch with the earth's time during the 25-hour flight — with Sunday becoming Saturday beneath Titov, then Sunday again, then Monday, then back to Sunday again and finally, Monday once more for Titov's triumphant homecoming in the Soviet Union.

These seeming tricks of time are due to the fact that in his 18,000 m.p.h., 17-orbit flight starting last Sunday at 9 a.m. Moscow time, Titov crossed both the International dateline, plus the earth's imaginary "Midnight Meridian" 17 times.

So says William Chamberlain of the National Geographic Society, who has compiled a unique log of Titov's flight, utilizing a special world globe equipped with measuring tools to enable users to plot graphically the courses of satellites and rockets.

Death Possible for Hijackers

Even Senators From States Against Capital Punishment Vote Yes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate has put the hijacking of airplanes in the same class with treason and wartime espionage by voting to permit juries to sentence sky pirates to death.

Those are the only two federal crimes punishable by death that do not involve actual death or serious injury to innocent persons. Piracy on the high seas brings a maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

The Senate clearly underscored the gravity with which it views the current rash of plane pluckies by amending the pending anti-hijacking bill to provide for optional death penalty.

That body has divided in the past on capital punishment. And at times, movements to abolish the death penalty for all federal crimes have gained some headway.

Six of the nation's 50 states now outlaw capital punishment. They are Maine, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Delaware, Alaska and Hawaii. All of their senators voted to include the optional penalty in the hijacking bill.

Three other states — Michigan, North Dakota and Rhode Island — permit capital punishment only in special circumstances. All six of the senators from those states voted for the permissive death penalty.

Area Educator to Get Award

Josephine Seeley to Be Honored at State Fair
Teachers Day

Josephine Seeley, 4736 Sylvester, Drayton Plains, is one of more than 50 teachers, educators and school administrators to be honored at the awards luncheon which highlights Teachers Day at the 112th annual Michigan State Fair on Saturday, Sept. 9.

The Teachers Day events feature the final weekend of the fair which opens its 10-day run Friday, Sept. 1, and continues through Sunday, Sept. 10.

The luncheon, in the clubhouse, pays tribute to leaders in the field of education for outstanding contributions during a long period of service.

Miss Seeley, a native of Franklin, received a bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University in 1930 and a degree in nursing from St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing in Washington, D. C., in 1932.

She started her teaching career at Vandercook Lake School, served as Pontiac school nurse from 1937-1951 and has been coordinator of health services for the Pontiac Public School system since 1951.

Miss Seeley has been a member of the national jury for evaluating school health service standards, which they were descending into a deep mine near Johannesburg.

Fatal Accident Ends Beginning

Family of Five Killed
as Car Goes Out of Control, Hits Tree

STURGIS (AP) — An Illinois family of five, planning to start a business and new life in Canada, never will realize either. All five died when their car sideswiped a pickup truck and struck a tree near here Thursday.

The crash wiped out the family of Frank Vercoe, 56, La Grange Park, Ill.

State police said Vercoe, the car driver, may have suffered a heart attack. An autopsy was ordered.

Killed with Vercoe were his wife Dorothy, 36, their daughter Patricia Ann, 5, their son James, 3, and Mrs. Vercoe's mother, Ruby Page, 72.

Police said the Vercoe car, returning from Canada, crossed the center line, sideswiped the truck and slid 40 feet down the highway before smashing against the tree.

The truck driver, Frank B. Butler, 43, of Bronson, was not injured. The Vercoe family, originally from Ottawa, Ont., had intended to return there to operate a business recently purchased, police said. Their home in the Chicago suburb had been for sale for several weeks.

South African Police Seize Scores in Raids

WINDHIEK, South West Africa (AP) — Scores of Africans have been seized for questioning by police in widespread raids in urban centers of this mandated territory ruled by South Africa.

Police said the raids were intended to "clean up concentrations of work-day African loafers and those who don't possess necessary

14 TONSILS TO GO — The seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Woody Benson of El Reno, Okla., are all in Park View Hospital for tonsillectomies. They comprise the largest family group ever admitted to the hospital for the operation. From left are Bowdy, 10; Shon, 11; Clay, 12; Barry, 4; Julia, 9; Dawn, 5; and Margo, 7.

There's a Reason for Them

Empty Beds at Hospital?

By PETE LOEBLER

You have to have a minor operation, your doctor says. Not too much to it, but you'll be in the hospital a few days.

"Okay," you decide. "Let's get it over with." So a hospital bed is reserved for you at, say, Pontiac General Hospital.

But when the big day comes, you're told, "Sorry, the hospital's 90 per cent filled. We can't take you now."

Why? If 5 per cent of the hospital beds aren't filled, why can't you have one of them?

This question has been raised more than once recently. Routine hospitalizations were being postponed at Pontiac General while 94 per cent of the 381 available beds were occupied.

Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, offers an explanation — some beds are reserved for special purposes.

Intensive care, for instance, with 12 beds, is reserved for critically ill patients.

MATERNITY CASES
The obstetrical unit, by law, is solely for maternity cases. Pediatrics is for children, not adults.

The mental health unit is self-explanatory. Some 121 of the hospital's 381 beds are set aside for special purposes. The routine adult patient will not be admitted to them, even if there are empty beds.

Headline cases go to the general medical and surgery floors, where 260 beds are available.

"But even here, the necessity of segregating male and female patients sometimes prevents utilization of all the beds," Euler said.

"The necessity to isolate patients with certain illnesses also prevents maximum utilization.

"Consequently it is possible to have an occupancy rate of 90 to 95 per cent and still not have beds available for admission of patients."

SURGEY PROFITABLE
Anyone familiar with hospital finances knows there's no profit in turning away surgical cases, since it is to surgical patients that the hospital usually sells the most services. Hence, the hospital usually gets more revenue from surgical cases.

A hospital full of nothing but surgical cases would be a real money-maker.

But, of course, the other services must be available to the community. Euler pointed out.

'Battle of Fences' Aired at Sylvan Lake Meeting

A "Battle of the fences" got airing at the Sylvan Lake City Council meeting Wednesday night.

Verbal combatants are residents of two Sylvan subdivisions—Woodlawn and Sherwood Forest.

The price is a strip of land is foot wide, which seems to have too many "owners."

About three blocks long, it is bordered on the east by the rear of homes on Lakeland Avenue.

At last count, the strip had 146 owners, according to City Manager Earle Knapp. The city is not one of them.

CROWD INTO HALL
Sylvan residents, many of them angry, crowded into the hall at the council meeting to discuss the matter.

Mayor Howard E. Wideman attempted an explanation, digging back about 50 years into Sylvan history when Sylvan subdivision was formed.

That subdivision is on the lake at one end of the strip. The strip had been given to the 14-plot subdivision as a means of access out to Orchard Lake Road.

In 1920, Woodlawn subdivision was developed. The new subdivision bought 2 lots from Sylvan.

The original Sylvan subdivision was developed. Many residents on Sherwood Road said they were told the 16-foot strip was either half theirs or city owned.

Some families have built fences down the middle.

"We are trying to get everyone to split the ground with fences and settle it peacefully," said Wideman, "but there are a few who don't see it that way."

Angry Woodlawn residents on Lakeland Avenue charged "none of it belongs to Sherwood residents." They claim ownership.

Sherwood residents argued, "Lakeland residents can't have it all. They own only 1-132 of it."

Donald G. Tucker, 28, one of two men sentenced Wednesday for the theft of hubcaps, no longer lives at 650 Second St., according to the owner, Alex Hazely, 44, of that address. Tucker hasn't lived at the address he gave Pontiac police for more than a year, Hazely said.

He Rules Dog Catchers Can't Catch Stray Dogs

DENVER (UPI) — Municipal Judge Robert F. Fullerton ruled Thursday that Denver dog catchers cannot catch dogs.

Fullerton ruled dog catchers have only the authority to issue a summons to a dog owner whose pet is running loose.

Fire Damage Up in Waterford Twp. for Month of July

Although Waterford Township firemen answered ten more fire calls in June than in July, damage from fire was six times worse last month than in June.

According to a monthly report of Fire Chief Elmer Fangbener, there were 64 fires with damage of $1,786 in June. Compared with July's total of 34 calls with damage of $11,725.

Cause of the difference was the complete destruction of a $4,000 cottage on Sahabaw Road and $7,000 fire damage at an upholstery shop on Dixie Highway this month.

There were only three fires in buildings, and 13 grass fires. Six fires in automobiles were extinguished and firemen had 12 rescue and emergency runs.

Estimated direct fire damage is more than $3,000 less this year than last.

Gave Incorrect Address

Donald G. Tucker, 28, one of two men sentenced Wednesday for the theft of hubcaps, no longer lives at 650 Second St., according to the owner, Alex Hazely, 44, of that address. Tucker hasn't lived at the address he gave Pontiac police for more than a year, Hazely said.

Japanese Protest Red Official's Visit

TOKYO (AP)—Truncheon-wielding policemen repelled a march on the Soviet Embassy today by more than 1,000 Japanese ultrarightists protesting the visit next week of Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan.

Some 300 Japanese policemen, backed by four armored trucks, sufficed with the slogan-shouting demonstrators 200 yards from the embassy's main gate in downtown Tokyo.

The police phalanx, five deep, held firm against two charges. The demonstrators gave up after 40 minutes and marched off. One policeman was injured slightly. No one was arrested.

Find How to Keep Meat Without Refrigeration

CHICAGO (AP)—Scientists and medical men have found how to preserve meat indefinitely without refrigeration. They do-gern it.

Maj. Gen. Webster Anderson, U.S. Army, said Thursday the preservation technique is to bombard the meat with rays from radioactive cobalt or from atom accelerators.

The rays kill micro-organisms that cause food spoilage. Anderson said he told newsmen the germless meats have been proved safe for human consumption by scientists and medical men.

The daily drawback, Anderson said, is that bombarded meats lose some flavor. The scientists are working on that.

Razor and blade sales in the United States set a record last year and ran three to four per cent ahead of the previous year's level, according to a survey by the National Razor and Blade Association.

Quarterly Payments Taken in Earnest

PITTSBURGH (AP)—John F. Hanlon, assistant director of the Internal Revenue Service in Pittsburgh, is a little leery of housewives who pay withholding taxes for domestic help.

He said one day a woman appeared at the cashier's cage and plunked down $20—all in quarters. The cashier asked why she was paying all in quarters and the woman replied.

"I was told it was supposed to pay it quarterly."

Famous 'Tin Lizzie' Not Tinnier After All

DETROIT (UPI)—The Ford Times that said, although it was called the 'Tin Lizzie,' the old Model T contained less than half a pound of tin.

"If it really had been made of tin," the magazine said, "the Model T would have cost about $8,000."

READYING FASHION SHOW—Pretty Sherie Hutchison, Bloomfield Township coed, models one of the dresses that will be featured in Tel-Huron Shopping Center's sixth annual outdoor fashion show next week. The two-hour program, featuring two dozen models, entertainment and prizes, is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Tel-Huron parking area before

1,000 or more persons. If it rains, the show will be Thursday. Checking Sherie's outfit are Milton Shafran, owner of One Hours Valet shop, and Rosalind May, director of sales and promotion of Sew N Save Fabric Shop. Shafran will be master of ceremonies at the show and Miss May the commentator.

Sours on Newscast In Tune With Guy

DETROIT (AP)—The fellows who wash cars for a living say hand-leader Guy Lombardo's recent complaint to the Federal Communications Commission about weather forecasts on radio is the sweetest music this side of heaven.

Lombardo complained to the FCC that some New York City broadcasters were putting out forecasts for storm conditions last weekend with little factual basis. Lombardo, who promotes an outdoor water show, said this hurt his business and he asked the FCC to investigate. Thursday William H. Coy, director of the Car Wash Institute fired off a three-page letter to Newton H. Minow, FCC director, renewing his longstanding complaints about "the way radio and television commentators over-dramatize the possibility of bad weather."

Coy, who claims his association represents a $2-million daily business, maintains "many commentators and DJs do it in trying to fill time—simply ad libbing about the weather and for some reason paint as dreary a picture as possible.

"The car wash industry suffers immeasurably from this type of negative forecasting," Coy wrote and claimed business was off as much as 40 per cent this summer because of such forecasts.

He also said "restaurants, department stores, resort areas, shopping centers, parking lots, gas stations, outdoor and urban theaters, automobile dealers and other service business suffer unquestionable damage through negative weather reporting."

It's a Short Line

CLEVELAND (UPI)—The shortest privately owned railroad in the nation is a 1.8-mile line serving several industrial plants in the Indian Hill section.

Brother Team Captures Top Awards at 4-H Fair

A Lyon Township brother team nearly swept all the top beef awards and special honors yesterday during the third day of the Oakland County 4-H Fair.

Steve and Jim Smith of 28318 Dixboro Road received six awards between them during the day-long program at the 4-H Fairgrounds on Perry Street just south of Walton Boulevard.

Steve, 17, president of the Nu-Lix 4-H Club, took three major awards in competition that was made more difficult due to intermittent rain in the afternoon and the heavy downpour in the evening.

His awards included the grand champion of all breeds, the champion Angus steer and the senior beef showmanship trophy.

WINS TROPHY

Jim, 12, was selected winner of the Ralph Brad Memorial Trophy, the Optimist Special award and placed second in the junior beef showmanship event.

The Brad trophy is presented annually on a rotating basis by the Oakland County 4-H Club to the best junior beef judging champion.

The Birmingham Optimist Club presented ribbons to six top steers at the fair that will be shown at the Junior Livestock show in Detroit in December.

Another top winner during the day was Roger Bowers, 13, of 4105 S. Hill Road, Milford Township, whose beef was judged top in the junior showmanship event.

He also won awards for the reserve champion Angus steer and the reserve champion of all breeds.

The grand winner of all the dress revues was Karen Koopke, 17, of 1830 June St., Avon Township. She is a member of the "Stitch 'n' Sew Club and a senior at Avondale High School.

Ed Vanderhoff, 18, of 1140 Porter Road, White Lake Township, member of Think & Do Club, was winner of the tractor operator contest. He will now participate in the state 4-H Fair.

The county 4-H Fair will end tomorrow.

Following is a list of other winners in yesterday's competition:

- JUNIOR BEEF
- SHOWMANSHIP WINNERS:
- 1st—Roger Bowers, Milford

To Be Arraigned in Circuit Court

Three Detroit Youths Bound Over on Charge of Beating 2 Boys

WALLED LAKE — Three Detroit youths charged with beating two Wall Lake boys here Aug. 10 were bound over to Circuit Court yesterday on charges of felonious assault.

Charles Donohoe, Edward Polyn and John Cicio, all 18-year-old Detroit residents, will appear before Circuit Judge William J. Beer for arraignment at 1 p.m. on Aug. 31.

In their examinations yesterday before Wall Lake Justice of the Peace Gene Schneck, bonds for Donohoe and Cicio were reduced to $500 and Polyn's to $100.

Donohoe and Cicio both are on probation for breaking and entering and assault from Detroit Recorder's Court.

Schneck had set bond at $2,500 apiece for the three youths following a 1st beating of Wallace White, 16, of 1930 Austin St., and Richard Griffin, 17, of 215 Sawdust St.

Griffin and White told police they were beaten in a dark alley that night following an argument with the three youths over a girl.

The four out-of-town judges will score each contestant on poise, personality, beauty, grooming and public speaking ability in addition to talent.

1951 Rochester Class Plans Oct. 7 Dinner

ROCHESTER — The 1951 graduating class of Rochester Community High School will celebrate its 10th anniversary Oct. 7 at Old Mill Tavern in Waterford Township.

Persons interested in attending the reunion are asked to contact Janet Howell, 600 Ludlow St., or Wayne Myers, 11890 Lewiston St., Utica.

Cocktail hour at 7:30 p.m. will be followed by a dinner dance at 8:30 p.m.

Transatlantic Brides To Meet in Royal Oak

ROYAL OAK — The South Oak branch of the Transatlantic Brides and Parents Association will host the organization's honorary general secretary here at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The meeting will be at the Royal Oak Canadian Legion Hall. Special guest will be T. H. Robey.

During the celebration there will be a golf tournament, art, craft, parade, antique shows and a North-South skit show.

The skit show is the main event of the celebration and will be held both days of the festival.

The shooting contest is being sponsored by the 8th Michigan Cavalry Civil War unit and the local Jaycees.

EARN COUNTY HONORS—The hot, humid weather this week couldn't thwart food stored by these four girls who were named Oakland County honor winners in the freezing contest at the 4-H Fair. Proudly displaying her frozen food (front) is Linda Dalaba, 19, of the Oak Hill 4-H Club, Holly. Pictured behind her (from left) are Jerree Bachelor, 13, of the Hi-Lu Club, Milford; Carolyn Canfield, 17, of the Busy Bingers Club, New Hudson; and Nancy Mills, 14, of the Oak Hill Club. They will represent the county at the state show in Lansing.

CHAMPIONS—Receiving top awards in showmanship competition at the Oakland County 4-H Fair yesterday were Steve Smith, 17, with his Angus steer entry and John Rose, 16, with his Hampshire ram. Awards are presented on the basis of how the animal appears and responds to the commands of its trainer. Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Smith of 28318 Dixboro Road, Lyon Township. John's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John E. Rose of 670 N. Adams Road, Avon Township.

Nine Beauties to Be 'Framed'

HOME — A giant gold picture frame will provide a fitting background for nine area titleholders as they appear on stage here to compete for the Romeo Peach Queen crown tomorrow night.

The annual contest will be held at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Romeo Junior High School. It is open to the public.

The contestants will be judged in three categories: street dress, a talent show and formal gown. During the competition they will be identified solely by the names of their sponsors.

William F. Dorn, will act as master of ceremonies.

Climax of the contest will be when the queen candidates come on stage in their formal dresses and answer extemporaneously.

The four out-of-town judges will score each contestant on poise, personality, beauty, grooming and public speaking ability in addition to talent.

To Reign at Festival

The winner will reign over the 25th annual Peach Festival in Romeo Sept. 24.

Between the time of the contest and the celebration over Labor Day weekend, the queen and her attendants will have a busy schedule.

They will be making appearances daily on television and radio, at area hospitals and at public events like a Tiger baseball game and the horse races at Hazel Park.

Her majesty also will take part in a service at Selridge Air Force Base near Mount Clemens Aug. 22 and to Detroit's Mayor Miriam two days later.

The highlight of her pre-festival activities will be a gift trip to Washington D. C. where she will be received by Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Utica.

Competing for the crown will be

They will then go to West Baden College in Indiana to complete their training which includes philosophy three years of teaching in Jesuit high schools or colleges, followed by four years of theology.

Ordination to the priesthood takes place during the third year of theology.

Wary of Limits on Billboards

State Legislative Unit Told Move May Injure Business, Industry

LANSING — Warnings that severe limitations of billboard advertising will damage Michigan business and industry have been issued to a legislative study committee.

Representatives of tourist groups, restaurateurs and hotel owners, construction workers and others urged lawmakers Thursday not to be overly restrictive in limiting highway advertising.

"I'd forego regulations to any great extent rather than shut business," he said. "We need jobs."

The committee was formed to study problems of billboards advertising after the legislature last spring twice turned down a bill that would control advertising along the new interstate highway system.

Michigan will be eligible for a $5-million federal grant if it agreed to limit the number, size and placement of billboards in accordance with federal standards.

"The highway department is in favor of regulation, not prohibition of billboards," said Frederick R. Tripp, the department's director of administration. "We favor it for its safety and aesthetic values aside from any federal funds."

Spokesmen for tourist and business organizations voiced support for regulations, but argued that the federal plan was overly restrictive.

Flower Show August 19-20 at Oxford School

OXFORD — The Oxford Garden Club will stage its 5th Flower and Festival Show in the junior high school on Washington street Aug. 19 and 20.

The theme of the show is "There's No Place Like Michigan." It will be carried out with flower arrangements representing the different aspects of life in this state.

Visiting hours are 3 to 10 p.m. Saturday and noon to 7 p.m. Sunday. The event is open to the public, admission free.

Anyone wishing to enter exhibits must have them in before 11 a.m. Aug. 19. The show sponsors said.

Oak Park Faces $10,000 Claim

Parents Want Money for Injuries Suffered by Child in Park

OAK PARK — The parents of a 9-year-old Oak Park girl have filed a $10,000 claim against the city for injuries she suffered in a park accident here July 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin K. Soule said their daughter Michelle Ann suffered "permanent and disfiguring injuries in the accident and will require continuing medical treatment."

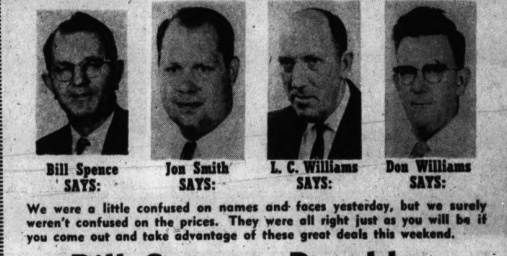

Michelle had eight of her permanent teeth knocked out and her jawbone was badly splintered, according to her parents, when she was in the month by a swing at the city-owned Major Park.

She had an emergency operation immediately following the accident. She is scheduled to undergo plastic surgery.

The parents claim that the city was negligent in its duties because no one was supervising the play area when the accident occurred.

The City Council has turned the claim over to City Attorney Carl W. Forsythe.

Managing Girl Guest Is a Duty

By the Family Post Institute

Q: A friend's daughter recently came to this city to work. I asked her to come and stay with us, as we had an extra room. My daughter, who is this girl's same age, was delighted.

Everything went well for a while, but she has suddenly taken to staying out very late. I do not approve of this at all as she is still rather young and I certainly wouldn't allow my own daughter to do this.

I feel that since she is living with us I am more or less responsible for her and I think she should conform to the rules of the house.

My daughter thinks it would be very wrong for me to say anything to her as I have no right to tell her when to come and go. Don't you think I have the right to say something?

A: As long as she is living in your house, you not only have the right to see that she comes in at a reasonable hour, but it is your duty. If her mother tell you she does not object, that would be a different story.

Q: I am giving a dinner party soon and would like to serve champagne. Will you please tell me the proper way to serve it?

A: It should be put in the refrigerator for a day and then a half hour before serving placed into a cooler with water and ice, and holding the bottle by the neck turned back and forth from time to time. Also, when opening be sure to wrap the bottle in a towel or rapidly as a protection in case it explodes. If the champagne must be chilled quickly, add a handful of salt to the ice and water mixture.

Q: When a boy has asked a girl to dance, shouldn't he escort her back to where she was sitting after they have finished dancing? Quite a few of the boys I know leave the girls on the dance floor after the music has stopped and I do not think this is proper. Will you please give me your opinion?

A: Unless he has been cut in on by another boy, he takes her back to where she was sitting and does not leave her stranded in the middle of the dance floor.

Q: When giving a birthday present to a married friend, shouldn't it be something for her own personal use rather than something for her house? I always receive a tablecloth or some such item for a birthday present and think it inappropriate. What is your opinion?

A: Unless the giver knows of some special item that her friend would like for her house, something for her own personal use is more appropriate for a birthday gift.

Ordained at the Detroit Annual Conference of the Methodist Church at Adrian in June, Rev. Ronald J. Thompson is in charge of the new Methodist Mission meeting in the Community Activities Building on Williams Lake Road. With his wife who is holding baby Christy he plays ball with four-year-old Cynthia. The Thompsons make their home at the parsonage located on seven and a half acres of land on Maccady Drive where the future church will be built.

What's Happening in the Pontiac Area

Mrs. Allen Bentley of Columbus, Ga., is visiting with her parents, the Albin F. Andersons of Sherwood Road, Sylvan Lake. While here, Mrs. Bentley will serve as an attendant in the Aug. 13 wedding of Virginia Harten of Huntington Woods and Dan Gerber Jr. of Fremont.

Visiting here from El Paso, Tex., are the Alton McKnight (Margaret Fox) formerly of Pontiac. Spec. A.C. McKnight is stationed with the U.S. Army at Ft. Bliss in El Paso.

Also with them is their son David James born May 31. Grandparents are Mrs. Beatrice Slotha of Pontiac, and Mr. and Mrs. James Fox of Mt. Clemens, formerly of Pontiac.

Mrs. Ralph Roderick and Mrs. Roy W. Johnson of Indianapolis left Friday after a week's visit with Mrs. Johnson's sister Mrs. T. C. McFetridge of Millbourne Place.

Announcing the birth of a son Robert Frank on Aug. 7 at Pacima Memorial Hospital, Calif., are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Petruska (Madonna Stark). Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Leo Stark of Monticello Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Petruska of Oliver Street are the paternal grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Lynneer Spees (Ann Oliver) announce the birth of a daughter, Susan Lynneer, July 29.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Oliver of West Iroquois Road. Mr. and Mrs. Lynneer M. Speers of Watkins Lake are the infant's paternal grandparents.

Don E. Batten, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Batten of South Jessie Street, recently received his Ph. D. degree in experimental psychology at Washington State University. Dr. Batten is presently visiting his parents with his wife Joan, and their two children, Carl, 3, and Karen, 1.

Following their stay here, Dr. Batten and family will return to Washington, where he will serve on the faculty of Eastern Washington College, near Spokane.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Johnson, Mrs. Omer Lewis, Iva Jane Price, Mrs. Aden Thornton, and Mary Jean Thornton of the Pontiac area are among the nearly 500 attending the National Missions Conference. The conference, with highlights of "The Christian Mission in Latin America" and "Churches for New Times" is in session this week at the American Baptist Assembly, Green Lake, Wis.

Abby Says: Get Him Work

Grows Romantic at 62

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been retired for almost a year, and he is driving me out of my mind. He doesn't leave my side unless I send him to the store for something. I think we are together too much for people our age. I am 58 and he is 62.

Don't get me wrong. I still love my husband, but I may as well be frank with you. He acts like we are still on our honeymoon. I like a little romance (even at my age), but my old man is overdoing it.

Do you think it would help matters any if I got some sort of job? If I don't get out of this house (and away from him) I will go mad.

WEARY WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Getting out of the house is not the answer. Absence would only make the heart grow fonder, and when you came home he'd devour you like a hungry trout takes a fly. He needs something to occupy his mind.

Get him interested in gardening, or stamp collecting. Chess, checkers, acrobatic and two-handed card games are good mental exercises. (But don't suggest "honeymoon bridge" ... it might give him ideas.)

DEAR ABBY: We would like your opinion of parents who whistle for their children when they are trying to locate them in the neighborhood. They have a special family whistle to call their children, which reminds me of calling dogs.

We have put up with it for three years. The children in that family are from seven to sixteen years old—certainly old enough to know their names. We neighbors think it is a disgrace, and would like your support.

THE NEIGHBORS

DEAR NEIGHBORS: I see nothing "disgraceful" about a family whistle. I think it is far

Teen-Agers Have New 'Slanguage'

AP NEWSFEATURE
(Gilbert Youth Service)

Signs point to the slangage of teen-agers taking a sudden turn for the Hawaiian some time this winter, but parents needn't be alarmed. They might even like it, now that they realize that "22-skiddo" and all that razzamatazz are pau-ha-wai word for finished, tired, out.

The new fad has been brewing since the Islands became a state and wahines and kanes (guys and gals, in the uninitiated) have been introduced to many native expressions.

For instance, Ino-ino, pronounced "ono-ono," has a nicer sound than "crinkey" or "rooney" which have long since replaced "lousy" on the mainland. Inquiring if someone is popular (popoey) is certainly quicker and gentler than asking him, "Whata-matter—you some kind of nut or something?"

ALPHA IN

Alpha has long been in, but it's gaining new popularity. Lifting vowels sound better than a brah "Hiya, chick," or "It's Spiltaville—we're going to cut out." Any cat-sorry, popoey—would be crazy to use old worn-out line on a wahine.

As a matter of fact, he would be lapwale, a real good for nothing.

May Lack Something as Wife

'Good' Woman Can Be Bad

By BETH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. "I've always been a good wife," snails the woman whose marriage is breaking up. She is sure it is no fault of her own.

The trouble is that in most such cases the woman who can't understand what happened to her marriage has confused being "a good woman" with being a "good wife."

There's more—lots more—to being a good wife than just being a good woman. A good woman can, and sometimes does, get the idea that she is always in the right and that whenever there is a difference of opinion her husband is bound to be in the wrong.

FOUR HOMEMAKER

A good woman can be an excellent housewife—but a poor homemaker if she thinks of her home as her castle.

A good woman can be overly ambitious for her husband and push him until he becomes resentful.

A good woman can make the mistake of always putting her children first and blaming her husband if he wants to be first himself sometimes.

A good woman can make the mistake of trying to live through her children, neglecting her own needs and wants until she is nothing but a door mat.

A good woman can be self-righteously intolerant of others, especially when she is thoroughly sold on the idea of her own goodness.

A good woman can fail to keep step with her husband's intellectual growth or take a superior attitude toward his hobbies and outside interests.

So a good woman isn't necessarily a good wife—though too many women think they are one and the same thing.

There's a lot of activity in store for this one-piece jump suit in wool knit. For relaxing or coveting, the suit features its own knee skimming coat with low patch pockets in gold and gray wool plaid. All of these bright ideas by Mr. Mort are available locally.

Matchmakers now team up tweed and silk paisley for a chic sportswear look. Of brilliant blue, vivid red-colored monotone wool, the contoured jacket is outlined in welt seaming accompanied by a masterful front-wrap skirt.

Here's one 'straight' jacket that's a la mode. The sweaters jacket look features a straight-lined cardigan in patterned wool with wool rib edging. Its own slender skirt in rust, magenta, and gray assures wear with pleasure through the year.

With Autumn comes a new idea for jackets—leather-outlined and sleeveless. Pair it with a softly bowed crepe skirt in beige and a box-pleated skirt in brown and white for a young, free-swinging fashion ensemble of herringbone wool tweed.

Among 34 high school students attending the last of three University of Michigan Summer Journalism Workshops were Pontiac residents (from left) Karen Strong, South Ardmore Avenue; Mary Stoch, Sander-son Avenue; Karen Allhouse, Blaine Avenue; and

Exercise May Help

She Worries Over Pounds

If you have a few inches to lose from the abdomen, try this: Touch your leg with your hand. Later, bend the leg further back and attempt to touch your toes. Lower arm and leg to floor at same time.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Q. "Can you tell me whether I'm overweight? I am 5 feet 3 inches tall and weigh 126 pounds. My measurements are bust 36, waist 29 and hips 38 inches."

A. You are only about three or four pounds overweight if you have a medium frame. If you have a very small frame, you're about 10 pounds too much. Your measurements are fine. You might take a few abdominal and waist-slimming exercises to come closer to perfection.

Q. "Please tell me a few plain facts about a raw egg. Does it have value in nutrition? What is the calorie count of a raw egg?"
A. Eggs are a valuable part of our diet. There is no difference in the food value between a raw egg and one which is cooked. The calorie count is the same, too, except for any butter or seasoning you add. An average egg has about 75 calories.

Q. "I would like to have your advice about my father who is over 80. He is in fair condition but he has difficulty getting in and out of chairs, and when walking he puts his feet down unsteadily and shuffles. Is there an exercise that can remedy these conditions?"

A. There are some people who are quite active at 80, but more usually age shows as it does in your father's case. I do not think special exercise would help. It might even be dangerous. However, if you think that your father does not do enough walking, ask your doctor how much he should do.

It is true that moderate exercise such as this is good at any age. The body deteriorates rapidly when most of the time is spent sitting in a chair or lying in bed. Perhaps your father should take short walks many times a day. Consult your physician.

Q. "I have a mania for baked potato skins. Can you tell me how many calories there are in a potato skin?"

A. That's a nice healthful mania to have. The skins are rich in health value. I do not know exactly how many calories a potato skin has—it would depend partly on the size of the potato. But a potato is not high in calorie count, not unless you load it with butter or margarine.

Q. "I would like to know whom to see for removal of superfluous hair. Should I see a medical doctor?"

A. You see an electrolytist. Some skin specialists have one in their offices. Your doctor or a skin specialist probably can recommend one to you.

Q. "Can you tell me what causes little tiny red blood vessels to show up on the nose? What can be done about these?"

A. No one seems to know what causes this condition. The blood it improves the situation for some vessels can be removed by a der-time. You also can completely hide matologist. This is temporary, but them with the correct make-up.

'Laundering' China

When "hand laundering" crystal or china dressing table accessories—such as decorative perfume bottles, jars and trays—use a washcloth or small towel to pad the wash-basin before filling it with warm soap or detergent suds. This "cushion" will prevent breakage of these fragile items which depend on cleanliness for their sparkle and beauty.

Brush Has Sponge

A new aid for homemakers is an upholstery brush with a synthetic sponge center, rimmed on three sides by bristles. It's handy for rugs and car interiors, as well as furniture.

Use it with plenty of thick soap or detergent suds, and the bristled "busy end" will take care of concentrated spot cleaning while the sponge absorbs excess moisture and speeds drying.

Special Cakes Add to Shower for Bride-to-Be

Janie Lou Ashby, bride-elect of Jerry Reynolds, was fêted at a bridal shower Wednesday evening in the Whittemore Street home of Patricia Boughner. Cohostesses were Phyllis DeVault and Marilyn Winkley.

Special attraction at the refreshments table were cakes baked in the forms of bride, attendant and flower girl. The bride-elect was asked to break balloons containing rhymes telling the hiding place of her gifts.

Among the guests were the bride-elect's mother Mrs. Lawson Ashby, Betty Douglas, Rosalind Zarnick, Lois Zimmer, Bobbie Kilby, Sandra Smith and Shirley Macmillan.

Also present were Cynthia Curtis, Carole Morris, Mary Smaltz, Mrs. David Blower, Mrs. Roscoe Goddard and Mrs. Harold Boughner.

Kitchen Has Cosmetics

Don't Throw Away Those Used Tea Bags

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor
You can have a pretty penny and become prettier yourself — by the clever use of kitchen cabinet cosmetics.

Right in your own cooking supplies are beauty items as effective as many high-priced products with miracle ingredients and hush-hush scientific formulas.

Don't toss out lemon and cucumber skins or used tea bags; stock up on olive oil, and hoard the leftover egg whites. They'll all come in handy as beauty treatments.

A leading exponent of the theory that women don't have to put themselves in the red to look in the pink is John Lanquette Brenner. A young Boston bachelor who lectures on beauty and conducts a group of charm schools in New England, Brenner insists: "It's not how much you pay for a cosmetic, it's how deftly you use it. All a cream, no matter how expensive, can do is cleanse and lubricate the skin. It cannot remove lines or wrinkles, feed the skin or supply it with vitamins."

EGG WHITE FACIAL
Blend two tablespoons cornmeal with one egg white. Beat lightly to a heavy cream paste. Massage over neck and face. Leave on until it feels taut. Rinse off with cool water.

OLIVE OIL
Shampoo for Very Dry Hair:

Apply olive oil and wash off excess. This type of shampoo softens hair and gives it sheen and luster.

Scalp Treatment for Dry Hair: Apply olive oil to your hair. Wrap hair in hot towel and leave on for one hour or all night. Then shampoo. This is a temporary lubrication treatment, but it won't nourish scalp or make hair grow.

Hair Treatment: If hair is too dry after a shampoo or permanent wave, add one teaspoon olive oil to three ounces alcohol, put a few drops on your comb and comb through hair. The alcohol evaporates and leaves a bit of oil to help keep hair soft, pliable.

Cuticle Softener: Apply olive oil to tips of fingernails and cuticle. Soak for a few minutes in warm, soapy water.

Hand Lotion: For hands that cannot tolerate strong glycerine preparations, olive oil massaged over the hands and nails every night is an effective skin softener.

Sun Tan Treatment: Olive oil rubbed over the skin affords protection from the sun. In some cases it's effective in allowing tanning without burning.

LEMONS
Nicotine Main Fader: Rub lemon skins over yellowed areas.

Hair Rinse: Undiluted lemon juice contains too much acid for hair. A teaspoon of lemon juice in rinsing water, however, helps remove grease and soap.

Sun Tan Bleaching Lotion: Mix juice of two lemons with three drams of alcohol and few drops of glycerine. Apply to face, neck and arms several times daily, letting it remain a few minutes and wiping off.

CUCUMBER SKINS
Brown Spot Remover: An excellent skin bleaching agent, when rubbed over brown spot areas.

COCOA BUTTER
Stretch Mark Softener: Massage cocoa butter in areas where stretch marks are visible. Tends to soften areas, so they don't have a creepy white-scar look.

OATMEAL FACIAL
Mix three tablespoons raw oatmeal with olive oil to paste consistency. Add two teaspoons glycerine. Before applying pack, massage a light film of lubricating cream over your skin. Leave pack on for five to ten minutes. Remove with a cold, rough cloth.

USED TEA BAGS
Eyes Treatment: Place a used tea bag, still warm, over each closed lid. Leave for three to five minutes. Rinse with cool, clear water. Excellent treatment for relaxing and brightening tense and tired eyes.

EGG WHITES
Shampoo: Beat the white of an egg, pour over the hair at end of shampoo. Rinse off with warm water. Effective, harmless treatment for adding sheen and luster to hair.

SIMMERED MEAT BALLS
By Mrs. Harold Brown
1 pound hamburger

Form hamburger into balls the size of large walnuts, about 1 to 1½ inches in diameter. Brown in a skillet. Add sliced onions.

Add steak sauce or mushroom soup and enough water to keep the mixture from burning. Simmer one hour. If necessary, add a little more water. Serve over baked or mashed potatoes.

Try Making One Pixie Cap Covers Curls

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprises Assn.
Finding something becoming to cover jumbo rickles while your hair is drying often is a problem. One solution is to make yourself a pixie cap of terry cloth with an elasticated band to hold it in place. Pretty and practical!

HERE'S HOW
To make this cap, you need a half yard of terry, a package of jumbo rickrack and a package of baby rickrack. You'll also need a package of half-inch twill tape, 23 inches of elastic, color matched sewing thread, four white pom-poms from large-size ball fringe and bits of yarn for pom-pom.

For your pattern, draw a 16-inch triangle and curve the lower edge. Baste edge slightly. Pin the pattern on doubled fabric and cut. Baste jumbo rickrack on both slanting sides of one triangle.

Cut baby rickrack in four-inch lengths for last design on same triangle. Attach balls (cut from ball fringe) as flowers. Sew triangles together and finish seams. Sew twill tape to right side bottom-edge of cap. Turn tape inside and slip stitch, leaving ends open.

MAKE POM-POM
Cut elastic through tape, adjust for fit and sew ends together. Make big pom-pom by looping yarn, tying in fringe, cutting loops and trimming. Stitch pom-pom to peak of cap. You might also find this cap handy for concealing wet hair or pin curls at the beach.

It could prove indispensable on vacation. In fact, you're quite likely to want several in different colors.

Blind Gal Given OK for Teaching

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (UPI)—Blue-eyed Mary McCollough, 22, is the daughter of a school teacher.

Ever since she can remember she has had one goal in life—to teach school.

State School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey asked the state cabinet yesterday to certify the Stetson University graduate as a full-fledged teacher. The state's top officials agreed to waive a requirement that all teachers be physically fit and voted to give the red-haired Miss McCollough a teaching certificate.

She has been completely blind for the past eight years.

"I'm so happy they have given me a chance," Miss McCollough said after hearing the news. "I'll try very hard to be a good teacher."

Miss McCollough attended the State School for the Deaf and Blind here after she lost her sight in the ninth grade. She was graduated from Stetson this year with a degree in elementary education and did her intern teaching at the sixth grade in the North Ridgewood Elementary School at Daytona Beach.

Teaching, she said, is a pinch. "The children tried to see what they could get away with at first," she said. "But they soon learned I could hear and knew more than they thought and they soon settled down."

"I use more or less an honor system, and there is little cheating. Other students really on their honor start down any who may try to cheat. And sixth graders don't like to do anything to displease their little boy or girl friends."

"I have wanted to teach since I was very small," she said. "When I lost my sight, I wondered if I could still become a teacher. It is my job to convince others I can do it. But my father said I could."

Miss McCollough said she does her own cooking, washing, ironing, and other domestic chores and hires a reader to help her grade examination papers. She said she plans to be married next summer to Earl Mauldin, a dormitory supervisor at the Deaf and Blind School, and then "I plan to teach right on."

Folk Songs Are Outlet for Teens

AP Newfeature
Folk singing has been around too long to be called a fad among teenagers, although interest is increasing at a fast rate presently.

Why? Perhaps because teens in their quest for individuality feel akin to the excitement of folklore's heritage; perhaps because it's an outlet for their creative efforts—or maybe because it's simply a lot of fun.

What better enjoyment can one find than a rousing community song fest of spirituals, calypso, Irish war songs, lie-brew ballads, and so forth? It's evident that folk singing is becoming a major pastime of teens around the country.

Some groups have encountered problems, such as when New York City clamped down on traditional Sunday gatherings in Washington Square to which thousands of teens gravitated—complete with guitars and untrained, but hearty voices.

But there are numerous competitions and concerts else-

MARLENE KITCHEN

Scholarship Presented

Hurly Hospital School of Nursing student Marlene Kitchen of Kimball Street was presented the Pontiac Women's Club nurses' scholarship at a scholarship desert luncheon and card party Monday in the Crescent Lake Road home of Mrs. William H. Bedard.

Seventy members and guests attended the affair. Mrs. J. O. Radenbaugh, luncheon chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Bedard and co-hostesses Mrs. M. E. Baldwin, Mrs. E. M. Malone, Mrs. C. W. Myers and Mrs. A. D. Stinger.

Protect Furniture

The 1961 version of the old-fashioned antimacassar (Victorian dolly which protected furniture from stains caused by nervous oil hair-dressing) is made of crystal clear plastic that's almost invisible.

These adjustable modern arm and head-rest protectives, which come in sets for chairs or sofas, are easily installed with trim pins to hold them in place. Best of all, they can be wiped off even daily with soap or detergent suds.

Presidents in Mexico are elected for six-year terms, and then are ineligible for re-election.

Comforts of Home

Talk about luxury cars? Now there's one that lets you travel on a "groom as you go" basis. In it you can take a shower, suds your clothes—even iron them! It contains practically every electrical appliance and comfort of home you can think of—and also has a trailer that holds fuel, plus 50 gallons of both hot and cold water.

It took seven years for a master mechanic from San Diego, California, to build this car which costs $73,000.

Wait 20 Minutes

(NEA)—If you want to avoid that rich and glossy look when you've applied lipstick, give it 20 minutes to set, then blot it with cleansing tissue. Blot it until there's nothing on your lips but the color of the lipstick itself. You'll never be guilty of smudgy stains on silverware, glasses or coffee cups.

Lawn Institute Started to Upgrade Grass Seed

KANSAS CITY, Missouri—The Lawn Institute, an independent, non-profit association, has been appointed to develop regulations governing the quality content of commercial lawn seed. This appointment is part of the effort by the lawn seed industry to upgrade the quality of lawn seed mixtures being sold to consumers. The program is under the supervision of Dr. Robert W. Schery, director of the Lawn Institute.

"Definite means by which the average homeowner can estimate the quality and performance of the lawn seed he buys have been established," Dr. Schery reports. "In order to protect the consumer, we have determined that in a package of seed, 75 per cent of that seed must be normally perennial and long-lasting in the climate where that seed is marketed. It must be free of weed seed, narrow leaf blades and no-forming, rather than the bunch grass type," Dr. Schery states.

"Taking this consumer service a step further," Dr. Schery adds, "we have developed a Lawn Institute seal of approval for quality seed mixtures. This seal will appear this spring on retail packages of lawn seed which comply with the Institute standards of quality."

The lawn seed industry has long been concerned about the quality of its products. The Institute's seal of approval will be available on the market. Surveys have shown that only about one-third of the lawn seed being retailed was of really top quality, with another third perhaps passable. For the last two years, seed officials have consulted with the Lawn Institute's board of advisors, authorized at U.S. Government experimental station and research centers throughout the country concerning the possibility of establishing specifications on lawn seed quality.

Dr. Schery is a national authority on lawn and turf problems. He has been director of the Lawn Institute since 1956. The Lawn Institute is sponsored primarily by lawn seed harvesters in the Midwest and in Oregon, and is concerned with the development of research and the distribution of information on lawn and lawn care. Its headquarters are in Maryville, Ohio.

Oriental Trees Popular Here

The Spore Age still hasn't come up with the answer to how high up. But suburban living has, as far as the landscaping is concerned.

For this reason, hardy Oriental immigrants have become a familiar part of the American scenery. These are the attractive trees of modest size that fit in so nicely with low-slung ranch type and elevated homes, and cope so well with the ever-growing problem of overloaded utility lines.

J. M. McNeely, field representative of the Davy Tree Export Co., points out horticultural activities have had a hand in helping the arboreal aliens adapt to our way of life. Imports have been improved in blossom, fruit and foliage. Many have also been improved in type and size through selection and plant breeding.

One of the most famous of these is the Japanese cherry, which presents the blossom spectacle of delicate pink blossoms through to the nation's capital each spring. Although rare when the first Tidal Basin plantings were made, this spectacular tree is now sold by thousands of nurserymen.

Not as notable, but growing in popularity, are the Japanese flowering apple, Japanese black pine, Japanese tree lilac and the Japanese maple. Not to be outdone, China has contributed such decorative as the goldenrain tree, Chinese Chiosolatre, Chinese magnolia, and a small silk tree and the inevitable weeping willow.

Skill of the propagator has largely overcome all objections to the gingko, formerly held in disrepute because of unsatisfactory form and ill-scented fruits, this super-hardy tree is now offered for sale in pleasing, fruitless forms, especially selected and propagated for street tree planting.

New Lawn Needs Careful Handling

The easiest way to distribute grass seed evenly is by using a wheeled spreader, though careful scattering by hand is quite satisfactory for a small area. Then raise lightly, preferably with a wooden rake, and roll or tamp the surface so that contact with the moist soil will be maintained.

A light cover of straw or hay will prevent washing if heavy rain should come. Do not allow the soil to become dry until the grass is well up. Then you can remove the cover, being careful with the rake so as not to pull up young seedlings.

Roll the grass lightly a day or two before the first mowing, when it is about 3 inches high, so as to firm the roots, and be very sure that the blade is sharp and set high.

Watering Roses

Roses require a lot of water. Overhead sprinkling in the morning hours is most satisfactory. Direct contact with water will help control mildew. Watering at this time permits rapid drying of foliage to prevent blackspot which is formed by foliage wet too long.

Mulching Copies Nature's Way

AP Newsfeature
There's good advice in a little dirty white authorship we don't know. It goes:

Feed water and mulch. Mulch, water and feed. This stem refrain goes through my brain. As I cultivate and weed, Mulch, water and feed. The feeding and watering I understand.

But what is the magic of mulching the land? This every expert should give the command: Of Mulch, Mulch, Mulch!

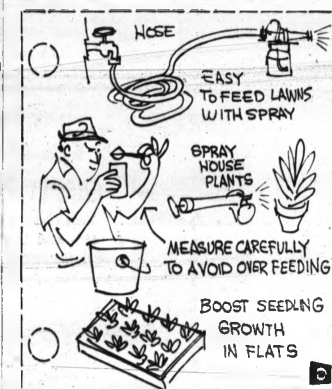

Mulching is the natural thing to do. If you dig in the weeds you will note how black and rich the soil becomes from the layers of decayed vegetable matter deposited over the years. The humus gives the soil a fine texture and consistency to hold the seedlings.

Of course you can't do it precisely the way nature does, but you can abet the process by mixing compost or straw or peat moss or even a bit of sawdust mixed with sand. If the soil is acid, add lime to sweeten it. If it isn't acid enough, add oak leaves or the needles of pine, hemlock and other evergreens.

Among plants that like acid soil are blueberry, rhododendron and azalea.

Green's the Color

Just as your youngster might need vitamins, your lawn needs help if it turns pale. There are types of non-burning, long-lasting lawn foods to keep your lawn a healthy green instead of a bedraggled brown.

Feed 'em Through Leaves

Foliar feeding has gained increased attention from farmers as well as commercial plant producers to recent years. Home gardeners also have begun using high-analysis fertilizer sprays to feed plants through foliage.

Luxuriant foliage, more profuse, bigger blooms and larger fruits and vegetables have been the rewards for using this new supplemental fertilizing method.

Foliar feeding has advantages of speed, direct application in specific crops and high analysis to give plants a boost at a critical growth period. Some disadvantages to consider include higher cost, necessary repeated applications and the possibility of burning foliage with excessive amounts.

Nonroot type feeding offers you a chance to experiment this year.

Recent research using radioactive isotopes has traced the movement of plant foods through the living plants. It has been proved that nutrients sprayed on leaf surfaces do enter the leaf.

These nutrients have been traced through other parts of the plant. According to Michigan State College horticulturists, foliar feeding also is absorbed by twigs, branches, buds, fruits and even flowers. Fruit growers following Cornell University's research have used nutrient sprays of urea to put nitrogen into the trees. Tomato growers have applied up to 25 per cent of the plant's phosphorus requirements with sprays on foliage.

At the famed Jackson and Perkins Rose Garden at Newark, N. Y., liquid fertilizer, insecticide and fungicides are applied together. Michigan researchers also found combination sprays each week fed roses effectively and controlled pests, too.

DANGER SIGNS—Midsummer heat is obviously getting to this young lad, intent on doing anything. She may harm her pet and herself as well. She demonstrates the tendency to forget good safety practices in gardening now that summer is well underway. Purina Dog Care Center researchers warn that many of the newer insecticides, fungicides and fertilizers are dangerous to both pets and people. As dangerous as the carefully placed sharp garden tool.

If you have a pet, it is particularly important to read and then carefully follow manufacturers' directions on garden chemicals. And don't leave the open containers around. Animals can't read labels.

Sweet Marjoram
From an early American cookbook: "Few people know how to keep the flavor of sweet marjoram, the best of all herbs for broth and stuffing. It should be gathered in bud or blossom, and dried in a tin-kitchen at a moderate distance from the fire; when dry it should be immediately rubbed, stirred and corked up in a bottle carefully."

Growing fruit in the home garden should be a means of relaxation, or a hobby, rather than a production enterprise. Fruits, well grown, provide much the same enjoyment that one gets from ornamental plants. There's pleasure, too, in having your own fresh "tree-ripened" fruits of top quality. In great variety—fruits that you cannot buy.

So say fruit experts, in "Fruits in the Home Garden," the latest handbook published by the Brooklyn Botanic Garden. This 96-page book, designed to help amateur gardeners, is a complete guide to selecting and growing all kinds of fruits.

Eighteen leading authorities in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and state colleges and experiment stations in this country and Canada cover all phases of fruit culture—selecting the stock, location, soil, planting, fertilizing, summer and winter care, mulching, pruning, disease and pest control.

There are separate articles on major kinds and classes of fruits, including strawberries, bush fruits, blueberries, raspberries and gooseberries, nut trees and persimmons.

George L. Slate, guest editor of this handbook, suggests that amateurs try unusual fruits not commonly grown, such as the pawpaw, American elder and quince. He reviews the qualities of the Western sand cherry, Nanking cherry and Korean cherry which are often featured in nursery catalogues.

PRUNING
Two articles are devoted to pruning fruits, illustrated with numerous sketches, to show how to prune young fruit trees at planting time, and as they develop, and pruning and training grapes.

The old fruiting wood of raspberry should be removed immediately after fruiting.

Everyone Likes Ivy
English ivy is gaining increasing popularity because of its versatility as both an outdoor and indoor plant. It can be most successfully grown and kept in red clay pots, sturdy enough to allow you to train your ivy in tree form, without supports. The key to success in growing ivy indoors is to keep it in a porous clay pot, which maintains the constant aeration, moisture and temperature condition this plants likes.

medically after fruit harvest, the handbook recommends. This prevents the crowding of the new canes, and also prevents the spread of disease from old canes to new ones. Canes which have just born fruit should be cut off close to the ground. The new canes can then develop strong growth to produce fruit in the following season.

In appraising all the known methods of preventing birds from destroying fruit, Professor Roger D. Way concludes that for home gardeners the only completely sure way to repel birds is to cover fruiting plants with netting or other material.

Throughout this handbook, the selection of varieties, especially suited to home gardens is stressed. In separate articles, choice varieties are recommended for five groups: the Northeast, Middle West, Great Plains, the West, and tropical and subtropical regions.

"Fruits in the Home Garden" is the thirty-fifth in the famous series of handbooks published over a period of seventeen years by the Garden. This 96-page paper cover book is lavishly illustrated with over 80 halftone and line plates. Single copies are available by mail from the Brooklyn Botanic Garden, Brooklyn 23, N. Y., for $1.00 post paid.

Seeding Time for New Crop

NEW YORK (UPI)—It's too early to let your summer garden go to seed, says the National Garden Bureau. There's still time to plant seeds for beans, beets, cabbage, lettuce, onion, peas, radishes and sweet corn for late summer harvest.

The bureau offered these tips for late planting:
Soak turnips thoroughly with water before planting. Plant the seeds a little deeper than you would in the spring and cover them with dry soil. Tamp seeds down lightly.

To protect late seedlings from the sun, cover them with a light mulch. Beans also may be used to shade vegetables over. If you water regularly after planting, keep it up after seedlings come up. Select quick-growing varieties for these plantings.
And don't forget to weed, hoe and thin.

Peat Moss Is the Answer
You needn't worry about watering your favorite house plants while you're away from home for a week or so, says the August issue of Better Homes and Gardens. Use a plant box which is at least an inch deeper than the tallest pot. Fill it with moist peat moss or vermiculite, insert pots to rim, then place near a window for diffused light.

Summer Lawn Repair Calls for Ryegrass
For one reason or another it sometimes becomes desirable to repair or patch a lawn in summer. In such a case it is better not to seed with the regular, good quality mixtures.

Stir the soil, add some fertilizer, water it in and then sow ryegrass. This will come up quickly and make green cover until early fall, when the place should be gone over again with the better seed.

21 Men From Pontiac Area to Graduate at GM Tech

There will be 20 Pontiac area men among some 1,100 graduates at the General Motors Institute's 34th commencement Friday evening at Alcoa Stadium in Flint.

The main commencement address will be delivered by Dr. James R. Killian, chairman of the Corporation of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

James E. Goodman, GM vice president and chairman of the board of regents, will present the speaker.

Nine of the area graduates are sponsored by Pontiac Motor Division and nine are sponsored by GMC Truck & Coach Division.

Among the Pontiac Motor Division graduates are James H. Faxon of 130 Seminole Drive and William G. Kraus of 29 Gignell Court, receiving industrial engineering degrees.

A mechanical engineering degree will go to Albert H. Post Jr. of 102 1/2 S. Roseville Drive.

FOUR-YEAR DIPLOMAS
Getting four-year engineering diplomas are Herbert L. Adams III of 1584 N. Perry St., Donald L. Edmunds of 1010 E. Walton Blvd., Herbert D. Stong of 3331 Fort St., Leon B. Vannick of 4025 Linwood Drive, and John W. Woodman of 133 Dover Road.

Those sponsored by GMC Truck & Coach Division include Eugene L. Grelat of 700 Wing St., Richard C. Gierhart of 400 Lakeside Drive, and Gary L. Smith of 406 Irish St., all getting mechanical engineering degrees.

Four-year engineering diplomas will go to K. Joseph Duerr of 35 E. Square Lake Road, Bloomfield Township, and Robert J. Wilson of 278 Garland Ave., Sylvan Lake.

Also to Pontiac residents Emil D. Frisco of 581 Peacock Ave., Robert D. Propper of 123 Seminole Ave., Robert E. Smoler of 8 Miller St., and Charles R. Taylor Jr. of 212 E. Robin Creek Road.

Donald P. Jones of 685 Robinwood St., sponsored by the Chevrolet Engineering Center in Warren, and James E. Jones Jr. of 241 Voorhees Road, Waterford Township, sponsored by the Fisher Body Division, will receive mechanical engineering degrees.

A four-year engineering diploma will also go to Rodney B. Manning of 3112 Hendrydale St., Auburn Heights, who is sponsored by the Chevrolet Motor Division Springfield & Bumper Plant in Livonia.

Trains Crash in England; 1 Man Killed, 4 Injured

LEEDS, England (AP)—A diesel passenger train and a freight locomotive crashed on a viaduct 40 feet above street level and burst into flames Thursday.

A section hand was killed and at least four persons were injured. The injured were identified as a woman and two children, traveling on the train, and a garage mechanic hit by falling masonry.

'Erase' Gets Rid of Unwanted Plants
WHO ELSE BUT SCOTTS COULD DO THIS JOB
Erase is a unique new product which makes it possible for the homeowner to transform a problem-ridden lawn into a lawn he can be proud of—without digging up his old lawn or bringing in topsoil. It can be done easily by the man of the house, his wife or teenager.

How it works:
Erase is a dry granular substance which wipes out crabgrass, weeds and other grasses—all vegetation—in a simple spreader application. It works thoroughly and fast. Seed for a new lawn can be planted in just a few days, right on the stubble of the old lawn. There is no scratching up of soil for seedbed and no need to cover the seed—just seed and fertilizing after a good soaking rain or watering. There is no danger to the new seed because Erase does not affect seed or soil—acts only through absorption by foliage.

You may be better off. Most of us tend to think the other way. Few of us shrink in horror from the prospect of being enriched by the passing of a distant relative or, for that matter, a total stranger. It is a heart-warming hope to us all that somewhere, somehow, someone has mentioned us favorably—and remembered us financially—in his will, and that in the fullness of time the money will drop from the sky like a ripe plum. Even orphans, gypsies and Bowerly junks cling fondly to this hope. CURE EVERYTHING We all have the idea, too, that an unexpected inheritance would in some mysterious way solve all our problems and cure our present defects of character. Yes, it would enable us to become patrons of the arts and sciences, and give us the leisure to pursue learning for its sweet sake and dedicate ourselves to the service of mankind. We would automatically become nobler, kinder, more generous and open-hearted.

But would we, really? Actually, inherited money is just as likely to ruin us as to enhance the character of its recipient.

Let me cite the terrifying experience of a friend of mine whose wife received a letter from a lawyer notifying her she had inherited a small bequest from a relative. The letter contained a form for her to sign. "At first I was tremendously pleased," said my friend. "Then I got suspicious. 'Sign nothing,' I told my wife. 'We'll hire our own lawyer.'"

DOUBT AND MISTRUST "My initial feeling of gratitude had been immediately replaced by one of doubt and mistrust. I suspected a plot, a conspiracy to cheat my wife of her rightful due."

Approves Reduction in Home Insurance

LANSING (AP)—A 5 per cent reduction in homeowners insurance rates on package plans offered by most insurance firms was approved Thursday by the State Department of Insurance, effective Sept. 5.

Savings to Michigan policyholders will amount to more than $1 million a year, the agency said.

The homeowners program packages fire, liability, theft and other protection into a single policy.

It was the second rate decrease in the past 18 months. Homeowners rates were cut 27 per cent in 1960, the agency said.

Cures Hiccoughs by Manipulating Hair in Ear

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Dr. Erminio Cardi says he has cured hiccoughs in seven of eight patients by manipulating a hair protruding from the inner ear.

This short-circuits the nerve system between the ear and the intestinal system and stops the hiccough, the physician said.

And if there is no hair to manipulate? Twirl a stick tipped with cocaine-soaked cotton in the ear. Works fine, the doctor says.

wife's inheritance? Were they trying to muscle in on our windfall before we even got to count it ourselves?

"I tell you I was a greedy, grasping physical wreck when our lawyer finally returned after the estate was settled."

"How much did you get?"

"Well, after paying off our lawyer," my friend replied, "My wife and I found we were out exactly $137.42."

"But I learned a good lesson: Beware the possibility of inheriting money. It not only can destroy your character—it also can cost your dough."

So the next time anyone tells you you've inherited a million dollars, back away fast.

Hen That Laid Curved Eggs Dies in England

POOLE, England (AP)—Adelaide, the hen that laid curved eggs, is dead.

Between 1957 and her death this week Adelaide laid hundreds of eggs, every one of them as curved as a banana.

Her product amazed naturalists and won her fan mail from all over Britain and the United States.

She made television appearances and collected more than 1,000 pounds—$2,800—for charity.

Adelaide died quietly on the nest in this Dorset town after laying an egg-curved as always.

S. Viet Nam Ripe Plum for Red Troublemakers

By WILLIAM D. MILLER
TOKYO (UPI)—If Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev decided against going all the way in Berlin many Asians suspect that the Communists will quickly divert world attention by stirring up new troubles in the Far East.

The Communists have successfully pulled this play before.

And there are several tinderbox areas in Asia which could be ignited into a world crisis. Most likely trouble spots are considered to be South Viet Nam, the Formosa Straits, Korea and Laos.

Of these, South Viet Nam is considered the most immediately threatening situation. Already Communist Viet Cong terrorists and guerrillas, directed by North Viet Nam's Ho Chi Minh and backed by Red China and Russia, have become bolder.

The Viet Cong bands are moving in larger and more aggressive forces in the rural areas. And they have stepped up their activity in the very outskirts of South Viet Nam's capital city of Saigon.

The anti-Communist government of Ngo Dinh Diem has answered by stepping up armed strength and a partial mobilization. The United States has pledged all-out support, is pouring in aid and equipment, and actively helping in the build-up of South Vietnamese regular, reserve and antiguerrilla units.

South Viet Nam thus has the elements for a major showdown between powerful Communist and anti-Communist forces.

MAYBE, FORMOSA

Another trouble spot the Communists could turn on as easily as the front burner of a gas range is the Formosa Straits.

The Communists engineered a major crisis there in 1954-55 over the Nationalist Chinese offshore islands. They finally forced a Nationalist withdrawal from the northernmost Tachen group, aboard U.S. Seventh Fleet transports, after Communist Chinese troops stormed the Yikiangshan Island.

Again the Communists set off another crisis with a $7,000,000 artillery bombardment of Quemoy on Aug. 23, 1958. The artillery siege went on for 44 days until, according to U.S. military observers, the Communists ran low on ammunition.

And in June 1960 the Red Chinese again raked Quemoy with 170,000 shells to protest the visit of President Eisenhower to Formosa.

In Korea, the Communists have never seriously broken the 1953 cease fire although they have violated the terms of the agreement by moving in troops and equipment. A contributing factor has been the presence of two combat-ready U.S. infantry divisions and a greatly strengthened South Korean Army. Korea, particularly under its new, severe military government, would be hard picking for the Communists.

U.S. to Orbit Capsule Within Two Weeks

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—The United States is expected within two weeks to take a crucial step toward placing a man in orbit around the earth.

In a repeat of a previous trial that failed, U.S. missilemen will attempt to send an unmanned Mercury capsule into a once-around orbit and bring the capsule back to earth.

An Atlas "D" missile, which will be used for the flight, is on a launching pad here and has been mated to a Mercury spacecraft.

There had been talk of putting a monkey into the forthcoming flight but apparently the idea was dropped so as not to delay it. A chimpanzee is due for an orbital flight later in the year before an astronaut takes the ride.

Sources at the federal space agency say studies are being made to determine whether also to attempt a third suborbital manned flight before one of the seven astronauts goes all the way. The decision is expected to be negative.

The success of the forthcoming flight, switching from the Redstone suborbital booster to the Atlas orbital power plant, probably will determine whether there is a chance of accomplishing the first U.S. orbital mission this year.

Since the Mercury man-in-space program began three years ago

Hold Missile Firing for Ship to Leave

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The army Thursday night delayed firing a Pershing missile until an unidentified vessel sailed from the downrange target area, then destroyed the rocket when it appeared to go off course.

The range safety officer blew up the 36-foot solid fuel rocket after the first and second stages had appeared to ignite normally.

Four failures in 20 tests have now been counted for the weapon, scheduled to be deployed next year with troops in Europe.

Truck Driver's Wife Has 3rd Set of Twins

WATERVILLE, Maine (AP)—A third set of twins—girls—was born Thursday to Mrs. Robert L. Hamlin, 36, wife of a truck driver.

The Hamlins have 16 other children. The oldest is Robert Jr., 19; the youngest are Ricky and Randy, 2-year-old twins. The third set of twins are boys, Mack and Jack.

Francis Wolfe invented a paper bag making machine in 1852.

Houghton Time Capsule Is Taken From Vault

HOUGHTON (AP)—City officials buried a time capsule Sunday with appropriate ceremonies marking the community's centennial.

Thursday they admitted shamefacedly that the capsule was missing.

The loss was discovered Monday.

The world-famous Taj Mahal structure, known for its architectural beauty, is said to have cost $15 million.

Different Types Swell Jobless

Negroes, Older People and Youngsters Find Work Hard to Get

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Of the 5.14 million unemployed persons in the United States in July, one in five had been jobless a half-year or more.

Who are these very long-term unemployed?

New labor department figures show:

They are Negroes and older people. Many employers refuse to hire them because of their color or their age.

They are youngsters looking for their first job. Some are school "dropouts" whose chances of finding work would be much better if they had a high school, or even grade school, diploma.

They are semiskilled machine operators and unskilled laborers—people who are among the first to be laid off and who are easily replaced.

They are auto and steel workers whose jobs have been taken over by machines—for them and for society the price of progress is an age of rapidly advancing technology.

To put these men and women back at work—or to help them qualify for first jobs—the administration has asked Congress to authorize federally sponsored training and retraining programs.

Officials believe this is the only way to solve the paradox of growing "hard core" unemployment in an expanding economy.

Taps Top Force to Guard Planes

Kennedy Selects Border Patrol in Effort to Stop Airline Hijackings

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy tapped a well-trained, energetic bunch with pride in its work—the Border Patrol—in efforts to stop plane hijacking.

The patrol itself wasn't giving any details about its new assignment, announced Thursday by the President, to put border patrolmen aboard some planes.

One of its men, Leonard Gilman, happened to be a passenger on the plane hijacked at El Paso last week. Gilman ended the incident with a wallop to the jaw of one of the hijackers.

"I'm a trained officer," Gilman explained later in brushing aside any idea of his being a hero. The Border Patrol has about 1,500 men with the principal duty of guarding the borders of the United States against illegal entry of persons.

1,500 MAN OUTFIT
Border patrolmen wear uniforms of khaki-green trousers and shirt and a Sam Brown belt with holster and gun.

They use their feet, horses, jeeps, boats and airplanes—some are pilots—to carry out their duties. They're crack shots, too.

The Border Patrol was established in 1924 under the old Bureau of Immigration in the Department of Labor. In the reorganizing of government agencies in 1930, the Immigration and Naturalization Service, including the border patrol, was transferred to the Department of Justice.

As far back as 1934 mounted inspectors patrolled the Mexican border in an effort to check the smuggling of Chinese into the United States.

Order Changes on X15 Plane

Modifications Will Be Made on Craft That Lost Cabin Pressure

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Modifications have been ordered for an X15 rocket plane which lost cabin pressure during a Navy pilot's checkout flight.

When cabin pressure dropped during Cmdr. Forrest Peterson's flight Thursday, his pressure suit inflated automatically to protect him.

The suit, ballooned out by gas pressure, slowed Peterson's reactions a trifle—and he went 280 miles an hour faster and 5,000 feet higher than he had planned.

because he was slow in reaching a flap control.

The X15 reached a speed of 2,720 m.p.h. and an altitude of 80,000 feet in an eight-minute flight, then landed here. It was Peterson's first flight in the X15 with a newer, more powerful rocket engine.

The X15's record flights have taken it to 3,600 m.p.h. and up 100,000 feet.

Judge Stops Actor's Petition for Alimony

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"When a wife earns more money than her husband, he should be granted alimony," a lawyer for unemployed actor Chester Marshall, 29, told a Superior Court commissioner.

But Commissioner George M. Dell Thursday denied Marshall's petition for $913 monthly alimony from his estranged wife, actress Karen Sharpe, 27, and said that Marshall is "perfectly capable of supporting himself."

Delay Arraignment of Two Hijackers

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—The arraignment of a father and son accused of hijacking a Continental Airlines jet has been postponed until they can confer with their lawyers.

Defense attorneys were selected by the court for Leon Bearden, 35, and his son, Cody, 36, who were were to have been arraigned on Thursday. U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thompson said he would reschedule the hearing after they have received legal advice.

The Beardenes have been indicted on charges of kidnapping and taking a stolen aircraft across state lines.

They were subdued aboard the jet at the airport here Aug. 3 after holding 10 hostages for about 25 and his son, Cody, 36, who

Launches Liquid Rocket Under Water 1st Time

AZUSA, Calif. (AP) — Aerojet General Corp. says it has achieved the first successful underwater launching of a liquid-fueled rocket.

A 15-foot-long Aerobee was shot from a water-filled test basin at the company's plant in Azusa on Thursday and flew 30 feet into the air.

The company said the engine was ignited while under water, and proved the feasibility of launching giant rockets directly from the ocean.

Provides a Penthouse for High-Living Cats

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Mrs. O. M. Gowan's cats live in a "penthouse."

The cats loved to scamper about on top of the roof so much that Mrs. Gowan's husband finally built them a "trash can" house there.

Seventeen Michigan boys, six representing Oakland County clubs, are summer college graduates under scholarships obtained through the auspices of the Evans Scholarship Fund and the Western Golf Association.

This worthy program, initiated by Chick Evans and sponsored by the WGA, annually awards college scholarships to caddies from coast to coast on a competitive basis.

The WGA has just announced the list of 1961 summer graduates at colleges and universities throughout the country. Degrees were awarded to 76 young men early this month and a total of 94 have been presented during the 1960-61 school year, the largest graduating class in the program's history.

Michigan boys who were graduated this month and the clubs where they caddied include:

Stephan, Augustyn, Lochmoor, David Hovinen, Detroit Golf Club; Thomas Hrynki, Plum Hollow; Thomas Peick, Detroit Golf Club; Anthony Perlick, Western; Ronald Peters, Grossa Ille, Arthur Platon, Bloomfield Hills; Larry Werschly, Detroit Golf Club; Charles Woods, Detroit Golf Club.

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY — George Bankeroff, Leominster; James Bissella, Detroit Golf Club; Roger Bree, Plum Hollow; Jim Clancy, Pine Lake; Carl Paabjerg, Franklin Hills; Jack Pyle, Bloomfield Hills; Robert Rieckle, Kent; Gary Whitener, Western.

The nationwide list just announced follows to $14 the number of youths who have done the cap and gown since the Evans-WGA program was initiated. There are 44 Evans scholars still in school pursuing their diplomas.

Congratulations are in order to the new graduates and the WGA again should be commended for carrying on this educational program.

Once more it illustrates the virtues of being a "gentleman and a scholar" — and a caddy.

MRS. COMAS BEST
Mrs. Barbara Comas shot 37 to win low net honors this week in the Women's Silver Lake Golf League. Mrs. Jane Looney and Mrs. Irene Daniels each carded 39 to divide 2nd place.

"Blind hole" laurels were split among Mrs. Fran Martz, Mrs. Rachel Lowley and Mrs. Madeline Castleberry, who posted sevens at No. 9. Mrs. Helen Thayer, Mrs. Looney and Mrs. Daniels were the best putters with 15 apiece.

SHORT PUTTS
The Junior District Golf Association championship is scheduled Monday at Tam O'Shanter and Western will be host to a Pro-Ladies event on the same day.

MSU's Forest Akers golf course is the scene of the Western Junior tournament next Tuesday through Saturday, a record field will compete and a new champion is assured since defending champ Labron Harris Jr. of Stillwater, Okla., will not enter the tourney.

The Slate Public match play event is slated Aug. 24-27 at Pontiac C.C. and Indiana's annual Invitational Best Ball will run on the same days.

Trying to Stop Mike Andonian Is Top Problem

Pontiac Teacher Seeks 6th City Championship at Municipal Links

Trying to shoot better golf than Mike Andonian will be the No. 1 challenge Saturday and Sunday when 35 of the area's finest players tee off in the annual Men's City Medal Play Golf Championship at Pontiac Municipal Golf course.

Andonian, 35-year-old Pontiac Central math teacher and part-time insurance salesman, will be regarded for an unprecedented fifth city title and 3rd in a row.

He'll be a prohibitive favorite to win the 36-hole weekend event and become the first man ever to win more than five city golf crowns.

This has been a prosperous year on the links for Andonian. He was runner-up in the Michigan Amateur quarter-finalist in the National Public Links and finalist in the Birmingham Invitational.

Seven other former city champions are among the talented players attempting to wrest the title away from Andonian. Included are four-time champion P. C. Harding, three-time winner Kip Jarman, Ron Rothbarth, Paul Bada, Frances Fowler, Ed Wask and Butler Cooper.

Eighteen holes are scheduled each day with a 12 o'clock noon starting time. New pairings will be made for Sunday's final session following Saturday's first session.

Saturday's first-round pairings and starting times:

1:00—Mike Andonian, Paul Bada, David Daniels, Joe Dineen

Class D Title Game Scheduled Tonight

It will be winner take all whenings in relief of starter Ed Erick-300 Lounge and Huron Bowl meet just after opening the game in right field.

A five-run outburst in the first inning carried Big Bear to its championship win over Sarko. Gene Lund scattered for hits, including a bases empty homer by Sarko's Darrell Lovell, to get the win. Jim Westley had four hits and Dick Smith two for Big Bear.

The game was rained after six innings because of rain.

Vikings Get Haliback

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings Thursday acquired Don Smith, University of Missouri halfback released by the New York Giants, on waivers.

All city league baseball action was a victim of the rain. The postponed games will be played today with the exception of those in Class F which will be re-scheduled for a later date.

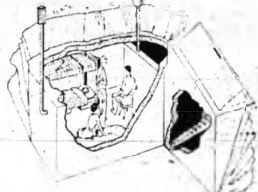

Two softball exhibitions are set tonight at Northside Park. In the 7:00 game, Class B champion Flaher Local 586 plays Class C champion How's Lanes. 5:00-5:30, the Class AA champ, meets Elks Class A kingpin, in the nightcap.

Huron Bowl pulled its game out with two runs in the last of the seventh and final inning. With one out, leading batter Dick Vivian walked. Tom MacManon, Dick Macintosh and Bill LaRoc and then yielded a two-run double to Lloyd Harper.

Harper worked the last two in-

Grains Are Affected Little by U.S. Report

CHICAGO (AP) — Except for soybeans, the government crop report appeared to have little effect in today's early grain futures transactions on the board of trade.

Prices slanted toward weakness although oats and rye were strong in spots during the first several minutes. Soybeans fell well over a cent on all contracts with the September delivery off more than two cents, but the market steadied at those levels.

Brokers said the bearish soybean report apparently had been largely discounted in the steady and sometimes heavy liquidation earlier this week.

Realizes Her Dream

PROUD YOUNG MAMA—Eleven-year-old Dorothy Glantz had a big hug for her Cheviot yearling lamb yesterday after it was awarded a blue ribbon at the Oakland County 4-H Fair which ends tomorrow. It was the fulfillment of a dream for Dorothy whose purchase of the lamb was underwritten by the Waterford Drayton Plains Kiwanis Club just two months ago. Dorothy lives at 6175 Flamingo Lake Road, Independence Township.

New Wisner Lights Expected Next Year

Will Wisner Stadium get new lights? This was a matter of concern at the Pontiac Board of Education meeting last night.

The consensus of opinion among board members and administrators seemed to be: Yes, but not this year.

The reason: It would take three to four months to put lights in and 1961-62 budget funds are already spoken for.

Administrators said designs, bidding, awarding contracts, ordering materials and installation could not be completed before Dec. 1 if begun today.

"The lights are getting very old. Pictures are deteriorating and rusting and sockets are leaking," said Dr. Otto C. Buzdick, assistant superintendent.

"This is why lights fall in a heavy rain. Water seeps into the sockets."

Hutzinger pointed out that new lights have been in the board's supplementary budget requests for several years but never made the final budget.

The supplementary budget is a list of things that are desirable or becoming a necessity but cannot be financed within expected income.

This year's budgeted amount for electrical needs is devoted mainly to rewiring of main circuits and panels at Pontiac Central High School.

This project alone will cost nearly $50,000, about $20,000 more than the rough estimate for Wisner lights.

FINANCING SUGGESTIONS
Suggestions last night ran from selling Oriole field to raise money for lighting, to asking the city to go 50-50 on the cost of new lights.

Oriole field is a 3½-acre lot near Central Elementary School and has been used by the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation for many years as a playground.

Board members finally voted to authorize Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent, to meet with City Manager Walter K. Willman "to discuss and exchange ideas on how to finance new lights."

Thompson to Report on Possible Action for U.S. in Berlin Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, U.S. envoy to Moscow, joined Kennedy administration consultations today on moves which the United States and its allies may make in the increasingly grave Berlin crisis.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, returning to Washington Thursday night upon the conclusion of allied strategy talks in Western Europe, brought Thompson with him.

President Kennedy called Rusk to the White House at noon for a report on his meetings with the foreign ministers of Britain, France and West Germany, and the government chiefs of West Germany and Italy-Konrad Adenauer and Amintore Fanfani.

State Department officials said that Thompson came to Washington for consultation for a few days, after which he will return to Europe.

On his arrival here, Rusk said "we have had very successful consultations" with representatives of Western countries. He added: "I am very much encouraged by the unity and solidarity of our alliance."

Upon his departure from Paris, Rusk had said of his talks with allied leaders: "I think there is agreement there will be negotiations."

FRANCE REFUSES

At the same time a French spokesman said the De Gaulle government had turned down a U.S. proposal to take the initiative in proposing negotiations to the Soviet Union.

Thus it appeared that the allied strategy discussions which began in Paris at the end of last week had failed to resolve differences on specific steps which may be taken by the Western side as the Berlin crisis deepens.

However, authorities here insisted that the basic unity of the allies in resisting Soviet pressure against West Berlin was complete and strong.

Apart from the reported difference over possible approaches to East-West negotiations on Berlin, there also appeared to be some uncertainty as to the extent of participation by the Western European allies in building up military forces under the NATO command in Western Europe.

U.S. Sends Note to Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has sent Cuba a note on the subject of hijacked planes and ships, officials said today. Contents of the message were not immediately disclosed.

The situation remains unchanged from last week, when he submitted his amendment, McNamara said.

He reiterated his statement that the amendment has no connection at all with Feikens' nomination.

NOMINATION PENDING
McNamara said his present feeling is that if this country cannot afford the domestic programs it needs, such as federal aid to education and medical care for the aged, it cannot afford to provide them for other nations.

The Senate Judiciary Committee reported that Feikens' nomination still was pending. No hearing date has been set, it was said, although one might be scheduled.

If it is, a possibility which many sources discount, McNamara has said he will testify against Feikens.

Feikens was Republican state chairman when McNamara campaigned for and won his first senate term in 1954.

McNamara has not forgiven him for the bitter campaign, or for charges made by Feikens after McNamara's victory.

When Feikens' name first was (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Work on German Treaty

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany announced today that negotiations already are under way in Communist capitals for the German peace treaty demanded by Soviet Premier Khrushchev. Sterner measures were also promised to halt the tide of refugees through West Berlin.

The announcements were made to a special session of East Germany's Parliament in East Berlin by Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz and Deputy Premier Willy Stoph.

Parliament approved a resolution ordering all measures already taken to stop the flight of refugees. The vote was unanimous, as always.

The resolution also welcomed the recent statement of the Communist Warsaw Pact countries calling for a peace treaty without delay. But it added nothing about negotiating it.

Bolz said the foreign ministers of the Soviet bloc will meet late in the fall—exactly when or where he did not say.

BE'LL GO ABOARD
Khrushchev has demanded that peace treaties be signed with East and West Germany. Since the West is firmly against signing a treaty with anything but a reunited Germany, it appeared the projected conference would draw up a treaty, the West would reject it and then Khrushchev would go ahead and sign it before the end of the year, as promised.

As part of the campaign against the West on Berlin, Khrushchev named Marshal Ivan S. Konev, former military commander of the Warsaw Pact, to command Soviet forces drawn up against the West in Germany.

The Communist press made no fuss about the appointment. Neues Deutschland, the official party organ, carried the one-sentence report in bold type on page one, under a small headline.

That way of playing the news was in accordance with the Communist line that the West is making threats, but that there will be no war. The appointment of Marshal Konev—who was said to have retired more than a year ago for reasons of health—may be designed more for its effect on the West than on sentiment in the Communist area.

Bolz told Parliament Berlin would remain a free city—but under Communist definition this would mean withdrawal of West German garrisons posted against such Communist devices as "spontaneous demonstrations."

With Berlin in Communist hands, East Germany would be virtually sealed off from the West and its people would be unable to flee.

HINTS AT CURBS

Stoph warned that new measures might be taken to stop the refugee flow, now approaching 150,000 for this year, and he hinted they might be taken even before a peace treaty is signed.

He gave no details but it appeared that some form of ban on travel to Berlin and West Germany is in the works, perhaps a decree that special permits will be required for East Germans that would enable the police to turn back those without the permits—which undoubtedly would be given only to the politically reliable.

Echo Schedule

Tonight will be a big night for echo fans. The flashy old gabbing will complete one year in orbit at 2:39 a.m. After making nearly 4,500 trips around the globe and traveling 138 million miles, the artificial star is a little wrinkled with age, but is expected to plod along for at least another six months. You'll be able to make an anniversary observation twice tonight, at 9:05 and 11:09. 66 and 77 degrees, respectively above the horizon. The first pass will send Echo in a northwesterly direction, the second on a southeasterly path.

HST Doubts Red Orbits

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Former President Harry S. Truman doubts the Russians sent a man into orbit around the world. Truman told newsmen Thursday night the Russians and their premier, Nikita Khrushchev, are the "biggest liars in the world."

Rugenstein was in fair condition at the hospital today with a fractured elbow. Miles was listed as satisfactory with a fractured right leg.

Sheriff's deputies who investigated the accident said Rugenstein was making a left turn with the tractor when the collision occurred. The eastbound car was unable to stop, they said.

Area Teen Dies After Injuries

A farm tractor-car collision in Addison Township yesterday afternoon claimed the life of one of the victims at Pontiac General Hospital five hours later.

William Gates, 19, of 363 Prospect St., Romeo, died of a fractured skull.

Listed in serious condition at the hospital today was a second victim, Clyde R. Douthard, 19, of 421 Main St., Romeo. He suffered head injuries in the crash on Lakeshore Road.

Both were passengers in a car driven by Edward P. Miles, 22, of 211 Currier St., Almont, along with Darryl W. Martin, 22, of 7367 Kanier Road, Bruce Township.

The car collided with a tractor driven by Charles Rugenstein, 30, of 144 Brewer Road near Lake George Road.

Rugenstein was in fair condition at the hospital today with a fractured elbow. Miles was listed as satisfactory with a fractured right leg.

Sheriff's deputies who investigated the accident said Rugenstein was making a left turn with the tractor when the collision occurred. The eastbound car was unable to stop, they said.

MIKE GISONDI

Mike Gisondi Either Escaped or Was Killed, Say Jackson Officials

Seeking life for a double murder in Hazel Park, escape artist Mike Gisondi was being sought again by police and sheriff's deputies today.

Jackson Prison officials reported the dangerous 31-year-old convict missing after a 6 p.m. roll call behind the walls yesterday.

A thorough search of the prison turned up no trace of Gisondi.

"It looks like he is outside the walls," a spokesman for Warren County Sheriff William Hannan said this morning.

"There was a lot of traffic through the south gate yesterday and it is not unlikely that he rode out in a truck," the spokesman added.

Another possibility was that Gisondi had been slain by fellow inmates. He was involved in the killing of a fellow prisoner last year.

"He has some enemies here," said the spokesman. "They might have killed him and stashed his body somewhere."

State police said Gisondi had been working in the prison tailor shop and had access to scissors and knives. They described him as extremely dangerous.

Oakland County Under Sheriff Donald Francis described Gisondi as a "tough-tipped, poker-faced little killer."

The 5-foot-4, 135-pound Gisondi escaped from the maximum security prison at Marquette in 1959 after being convicted along with Harold J. Hummel in the holdup-slaying of a Hazel Park bar owner and his son in 1951.

Chance of Rain, Storms Is Seen for Area Tonight

There's a chance of scattered showers or thunderstorms again tonight and perhaps a few Saturday. The low will dip to near 63. Saturday's high will climb to near 80.

For the next five days temperatures will average near or a little below normal high of 80 to 84 and normal low of 56 to 62. Monday will be a somewhat warmer and Tuesday a little cooler with only minor day to day changes in temperature otherwise.

Precipitation will total less than three-quarters of an inch in showers mostly Monday and Tuesday. Morning light westerly winds at 10 miles per hour will become northerly at 8-15 m.p.h. by evening.

Seventy-one was the lowest reading in downtown Pontiac during the 24 hours. The recording was 82 at 1 p.m.

News Flashes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme allied commander in Europe, has been rebuffed by the Defense Department on a request for 35,000 additional troops for the U.S. Army in Europe. It was reported authoritatively today.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy signed a law today that cuts to $180 the value of foreign goods which each American tourist can bring back duty-free to this country.

Millions to Die if West Pushes N-Button First

Soviet Leader Stresses Free Berlin but Pushes for Negotiation

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today that President Kennedy's recent call for a "peaceful settlement" of world tensions "is to be welcomed."

But at the same time he said that if war starts the Soviet Union will "crush" its enemies and "hundreds of millions" will die in a nuclear conflict.

"It is precisely for a peaceful settlement that the Soviet government is striving," Khrushchev said.

"But in order to ensure peaceful settlement, it is necessary to conclude a peace treaty with Germany."

The Soviet leader then urged that West Berlin be made a "free city" with "reliable international guarantees," although he did not elaborate on these "guarantees."

The theme was the same one Khrushchev has pushed in three speeches on Berlin, Germany and world tensions in the past week.

WAR IN MADNESS
Khrushchev stressed that the Soviet Union does not want war, but it will strike back with everything it has if attacked.

"In our atomic age, it is madness to threaten to unleash war," he said.

"If the West unleashes a war against us," Khrushchev told a Soviet-Romanian "friendship meeting" in the Kremlin, "we will deal crushing blows against aggressors and all their bases."

"We are threatened by those bases in Italy, Greece, Denmark, Norway and other countries."

But at the same time, Khrushchev offered to settle the Berlin problem by negotiation, assured his audience that "we are against war" and predicted that "all mankind" will go Communist without war.

"We will not be the first to push the nuclear button," Khrushchev said. "But if we are attacked, we will deliver the crushing rebuff."

It was the third time this week that Khrushchev has made speeches which contained beligerent threats to crush the West if war starts, while combining each threat with offers to negotiate the Berlin and German issues.

His terms have been those rejected in the past by the West, however.

Titov Relanded on Earth by 'Chute

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet cosmonaut Yury Titov said today he was ejected from his space ship at the end of his 25-hour orbital flight and parachuted to earth.

The second Soviet spaceman told a jammed news conference his spaceship Vostok II came down separately by parachute "but if the need had arisen, I could have landed it myself."

Titov said there were two landing systems available—either to remain in the space ship and parachute down with it or to descend separately. He said he had permission to use either system.

Lightning Bolt Hits Oil Tower

First Measurable Rain Since Spring Drenches Los Angeles Area

By The Associated Press

Lightning storms and early today the Los Angeles area rain struck. Lightning, as in oil derrick tower at Beverly Hills. Bolts hit several other communities.

Torrential rain hit Los Angeles International Airport and Van Nuys in the San Fernando Valley. Sprinkles fell over the entire Los Angeles area.

It was the first measurable rain since last spring.

Numerous power failures were attributed to the lightning. Electrical storms swept desert areas Thursday.

MORE RAINS

Elsewhere, more rain fell across broad areas from the northern Plateau region into the Ohio Valley today, with heavy falls and possible flash floods in sections of the Midwest.

Rains during the morning in northern Illinois and over central Illinois followed Thursday's downpours in southern and west central Illinois which caused flooding of rich lowland farm sections and homes.

Most widespread showers and rains during the night were in the eastern Great Lakes region and in the Ohio Valley.

Strong winds and heavy rain hit the Indianapolis area. More than three inches of rain doused the Columbus, Ohio area and more than two inches in Dayton, Ohio section.

Titov said after landing neither he nor medical experts could detect any changes in his physical condition.

The self-sufficient young man reported one variation from normal. He said he had not hunger pangs or from his first two meals, although the transition from weightlessness to earth was on schedule.

"Frankly speaking I had no particular appetite," the 26-year-old cosmonaut said. "This was probably due to the sustained weightlessness and excitement."

Titov spoke at a news conference held at Moscow University for more than 1,500 Soviet and foreign newsmen, scientists and diplomats.

Team May Seek Strike Vote OK

UAW Unit Negotiating With Ford Expected to Decide Issue Today

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Ford negotiating team was expected to decide today whether it would join UAW teams at Chrysler and General Motors in seeking strike vote authorization.

The union's Ford department planned to review its six weeks of bargaining at a meeting at Solidarity House, UAW national headquarters.

Both the GM and Chrysler departments of the UAW have announced they will ask the union's international executive board for strike vote approval when the board meets Sunday in special session.

Another union bargaining with GM, the International Union of Electrical Workers, said Thursday two of its six GM locals have voted to strike, if necessary, to support new contract demands.

The IUE represents only 25,000 of GM's 325,000 production workers but the union says a strike by it could close auto assembly lines within 30 days. GM has notified the IUE it will terminate their current three-year contract on Sept. 1, its anniversary date.

The low construction bid called for 750 calendar days to complete the building.

Denies Tunisia Swinging to Red Alliance

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—President Habib Bourguiba denied today this North African country is swinging toward an alliance with the Soviet bloc.

But Bourguiba conceded Tunisia's quest for withdrawal of French forces from Bizerte coincides with Soviet interests.

"We are not throwing ourselves into the arms of the Red bear," Bourguiba told 2,000 persons representing the country's profession and party elite. "We have asked the Soviet aid to obtain the evacuation of Bizerte. This evacuation serves the interests of Tunisia and of Russia. That is why I am in agreement with Russia."

For the first time in Tunisia's recent history, an official rally was held in the name of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Israel Shoots Off Space Rocket for Second Time

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—Israel fired its second space rocket "during the last few days," extremely reliable sources said today.

The sources said the rocket, called Shavit Two, had an altitude range of 100 miles.

They said it included one more stage, than Shavit Two, the multi-stage rocket which Israel launched July 5 to become a member of the world's "space club."

The sources said the rocket, called Shavit Three, had an altitude range of 100 miles.

The Day in Birmingham

Schools Are Ready Now to Enroll New Students

BIRMINGHAM (AP)—Registration in the Birmingham school system is being accepted now through the end of the month as a convenience to parents and pupils entering local schools for the first time.

Nearly 15,000 students are expected to attend Birmingham schools when classes resume Sept. 7, school officials announced.

Early registrations are being encouraged by the school board to avoid last-minute rush. Counselors are on duty at all secondary schools to assist pupils plan appropriate class schedules.

Elementary children may be enrolled at the office of the school they will attend. Offices are open daily from 8 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3:30 p.m.

New secondary students may enroll at their respective schools during the same hours.

Those students entering grades 7, 8 and 9 for the first time at Barman and Derby schools are asked to arrange for a testing session at the school they will attend. The tests are scheduled for 8 a.m. Aug. 30.

The Beverly Hills Village Council has awarded a contract for road repairs and bridge painting to the Detroit Concrete Products Co. for its low bid of $42,201.

Carl G. Wonnberger, head of the U.S. Army, said today that the U.S. Army is withdrawing all its military personnel from Laos, providing other foreign troops—including the Communist Viet Minh forces—pull out at the same time.

U.S. Army Ambassador W. Averell Harriman offered to write such a promise into the final agreement on Laos as the Communists simultaneously debate on the protocol session for international controls over the war-torn southeast Asian kingdom.

Anticipating the standard Communist demand that North Vietnamese troops were operating in the rebel-held areas of Laos, Harriman said "We know a great deal about the presence" of the Vietnamese.

Harriman said the 300 U.S. military advisers would be withdrawn from Laos, but that the U.S. would continue to provide military aid to the rebel-held areas of Laos. Harriman said "We know a great deal about the presence" of the Vietnamese.

Unknown Use for Hemoglobin?

Professor Thinks Red Pigment in Blood Has Undiscovered Function

LA JOLLA, Calif. (UPI)—A professor of physiology at Scripps Institution of Oceanography said experiments he has conducted indicate hemoglobin, the red pigment in blood, may perform an important function not known before.

Prof. P. F. Scholander said the tests indicated hemoglobin may hasten the passage of oxygen, but not other gases, through tissue walls of the body.

Hemoglobin is known to carry oxygen from the lungs to the tissues, but it was not previously known that it might be a key in accelerating passage of other gases, he said.

Scholander said it is not known how hemoglobin functions to separate gases. He said his experiments have compared the rate of diffusion of atmospheric oxygen and nitrogen through filters moistened by different substances.

According to the scientist, oxygen and nitrogen diffuse through a water-moistened filter into a vacuum chamber at a rate that depends entirely on pressure.

He said that if the air pressure is lowered, less oxygen and nitrogen get through, but the amount is always at a constant rate.

But, if a solution of hemoglobin is used to moisten the filter, important changes occur, he said.

Using hemoglobin in the tests, Scholander found that, as the pressure is lowered, less nitrogen gets through than with water, but the amount of oxygen remains the same.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Services Administration has asked Congress to authorize the expenditure of $257,000 to supply quarters for two federal judges in Detroit. The request was part of a $12-million proposal to supply quarters for 36 federal judges whose positions were created in a bill recently enacted.

Will Try to Swim From Detroit to Toledo, Ohio

DETROIT (UPI)—Mary Margaret Revell, the first person ever to swim the Mackinac Straits, will attempt a 56-mile swim next Monday from here to Toledo, Ohio, via the Detroit River and Lake Erie.

The California beauty hopes eventually to swim the English Channel. Detroit Mayor Louis C. Miriani will act as official starter for Miss Revell's swim Monday.

Only 1 Gripe of Those for Whom They Up Tolls

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—L. W. Newcomer, chief engineer and director of the Kansas Turnpike, says he has received only one letter of protest since turnpike toll rates were increased 10 percent on Aug. 1.

The letter was from an out-of-state citizen near Bonner Springs who wrote: "I haven't used your turnpike for five years, and now I don't ever intend to."

Area Educator to Get Award

Josephine Sealey to Be
Teachers Day

Josephine Sealey, 4738 Sylvester, Drayton Plains, is one of more than 50 teachers, educators and school administrators to be honored at the awards luncheon which highlights Teachers Day at the 112th annual Michigan State Fair on Saturday, Sept. 9.

The Teachers Day events feature the final weekend of the fair which opens its 10-day run Friday, Sept. 1, and continues through Sunday, Sept. 10.

The luncheon, in the clubhouse, pays tribute to leaders in the field of education for outstanding contributions during a long period of service.

Miss Sealey, a native of Franklin, received a bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University in 1930 and a degree in nursing from St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing in Washington, D. C., in 1935.

She started her teaching career at Vandercook Lake School, served at Pontiac school nurse from 1937-1951 and has been coordinator of health services for the Pontiac Public School system since 1951.

Miss Sealey has been a member of the national jury for evaluating school health service standards, a deep member of Michigan curriculum planning, school nurses policy making committee sponsored by the Michigan Department of Public Instruction and the State Department of Health. She received the distinguished

16 Gold Miners Killed

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Sixteen African gold miners were killed when a car in which they were descending into a deep mine near Johannesburg left the rails Thursday night and crashed into the side of the slanting tunnel.

The Pacific Ocean reaches east to the longitude of Maine.

Fatal Accident Ends Beginning

Family of Five, Killed
as Car Goes Out of Control, Hits Tree

STURGIS (AP) — An Illinois family of five, planning to start a business and new life in Canada, never will realize either. All five died when their car sideswiped a pickup truck and struck a tree near here Thursday. The crash wiped out the family of Frank Vercoe, 36, La Grange Park, Ill.

State police said Vercoe, the car driver, may have suffered a heart attack. An autopsy was ordered.

Killed with Vercoe were his wife Dorothy, 36, their daughter Patricia Ann, 5, their son James S., and Mrs. Vercoe's mother Ruby Page, 72.

Police said the Vercoe car, returning from Canada, crossed the center line, sideswiped the truck and skidded 40 feet down the highway before smashing against the tree.

The truck driver, Frank B. Butten, 43, of Bronson, was not injured. The Vercoe family, originally from Ottawa, Ont., had intended to return there to operate a business recently purchased, police said. Their home in the Chicago suburb had been for sale for several weeks.

14 TONSILS TO GO — The seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Woody Benson of El Reno, Okla., are all in Park View Hospital for tonsillectomies. They comprise the largest family group ever admitted to the hospital for the operation. From left are Bowdy, 10; Shon, 11; Clay, 12; Barry, 4; Julia, 9; Dawn, 5; and Margo, 7.

Empty Beds at Hospital?

By PETE LOCHNER
You have to have a minor operation, your doctor says. Not too much to it, but you'll be in the hospital a few days.

Why? If 5 per cent of the hospital beds aren't filled, why can't you have one of them? This question has been raised more than once recently. Routine hospitalizations were being postponed at Pontiac General while 94 per cent of the 381 available beds were occupied.

But when the big day comes, you're told, "Sorry, the hospital's 96 per cent filled. We can't take you now."

Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, offers an explanation — some beds are reserved for special purposes. Intensive care, for instance, with 12 beds, is reserved for critically ill patients.

'Battle of Fences' Aired at Sylvan Lake Meeting

A "battle of the fences" got an airing at the Sylvan Lake City Council meeting Wednesday night. Verbal combatants are residents of two Sylvan subdivisions—Woodlawn and Sherwood Forest.

The price is a strip of land 18 feet wide, which seems to have too many "owners."

In 1920, Woodlawn subdivision was developed. The new subdivision bought 2 lots from Sylvan subdivision for use as a swimming beach for Woodlawn residents.

According to a monthly report of Fire Chief Elmer Fangbomer, there were 44 fires with damage of $1,156 in June. Compared with July's total of 34 calls with damage of $11,724.

In 1927, Sherwood Forest subdivision was developed. Many residents on Sherwood Road said they were told the 16-foot strip was either half theirs or city owned.

Angry Woodlawn residents on Lakeland Avenue charged "none of it belongs to Sherwood residents." They claim ownership.

There were only three fires in buildings, and 13 grass fires. Six fires in automobiles were extinguished and firemen had 13 rescue and emergency runs.

That subdivision is on the lake at one end of the strip. The strip had been given to the 14-lot subdivision as a means of access out to Orchard Lake Road.

Donald G. Tucker, 28, one of two men sentenced Wednesday for the theft of hubcaps, no longer lives at 630 Second St., according to the owner, Alex Haseley, 44, of that address. Tucker hasn't lived at the address he gave Pontiac police for more than a year, Haseley said.

Estimated direct fire damage is more than $3,000 less this year than last.

Brother Team Captures Top Awards at 4-H Fair

A Lyon Township brother team nearly swept all the top beef awards and special honors yesterday during the third day of events at the Oakland County 4-H Fair.

Steve and Jim Smith of 28318 Dixboro Road received six awards between them during the day-long program at the 4-H Fairgrounds on Perry Street just south of Walton Boulevard.

Steve, 47, president of the Nu 1, Wile 4-H Club, took three major awards in competition that was made more difficult due to intermittent rain in the afternoon and the heavy downpour in the evening.

His awards included the grand champion of all breeds, the champion Angus steer and the senior beef showmanship trophy.

WISS TROPHY

Jim, 13, was selected winner of the Ralph Braid Memorial Trophy, the Optimal Special award and played second in the junior beef showmanship event.

The Braid trophy is presented annually on a rotating basis by the five local 4-H Clubs to the best junior beef judging champion.

Another top winner during the fair was Roger Bowyer, 13, of 4105 S. Hill Road, Milford Township, whose beef was judged tops in the junior showmanship event.

He also won awards for the reserve champion Angus steer and the reserve champion of all breeds.

The grand winner of the dress revue was Karen Koenig, 17, of 1806 Dun St., Avon Township. She is a member of the Stitches 'N' Sew Club and a senior at Avondale High School.

Yanderhof, 18, of 1143 Foster Road, White Lake Township, number one of Think & Do Club, was winner of the tractor operator contest. He will now participate in the state 4-H show.

The county 4-H Fair will end tomorrow.

To Be Arraigned in Circuit Court

Three Detroit youths Bound Over Charge of Beating 2 Boys

WALLED LAKE—Three Detroit youths charged with beating two Wallied Lake boys here Aug. 1 were bound over to Circuit Court yesterday on charges of felonious assault.

Charles Hamilton, Edward Polyn and John Cury, all 18-year-olds, were arraigned at 1 p.m. Aug. 11.

In their examinations yesterday before Wallied Lake Justice of the Peace Gene Schmidt, bonds for Polyn and Cury were set at $2,500 each, and for Hamilton at $1,000.

Polyn and Cury both are on probation for breaking and entering and assault from Detroit Circuit Court.

Schmidt had set bond at $2,500 for the three youths following the Aug. 1 beating of Wallace White, 16, of 1310 Austin St., and Richard Griffin, 17, of 215 Saywood St.

Griffin and White told police they were beaten in a park after they had been arguing with the three youths over a girl.

1951 Rochester Class Plans Oct. 7 Dinner

ROCHESTER—The 1951 graduating class of Rochester Community High School will celebrate its 10th anniversary Oct. 7 at Old Mill Tavern in Wallied Lake.

Persons interested in attending the reunion are asked to contact Janet Howell, 609 Ludlow St., or Wayne Myers, 11800 Leeward St., Tel. 6.

Cocktail hour at 7:30 p.m. will be followed by a dinner dance at 8:30 p.m.

Transatlantic Brides To Meet in Royal Oak

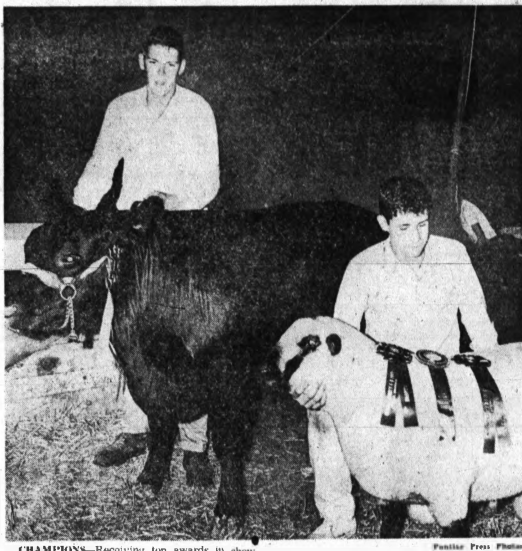

ROYAL OAK—The South Oak branch of the Transatlantic Brides and Parents Association will host the organization's honorary general secretary here at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

The meeting will be at the Royal Oak Canadian Legion Hall. Special guest will be T. H. Robey.

During the celebration there will be a golf tournament, an art, craft, parade, antique show and a North-South skit.

The skit is the main event of the celebration and will be held both days of the festival.

The shooting contest is being sponsored by the 8th Michigan Cavalry Civil War unit and the local Jaycees.

CHAMPIONS—Receiving top awards in showmanship competition at the Oakland County 4-H Fair yesterday were Steve Smith, 17, with his Angus steer and John Rose, 16, with his Hampshire ram. Awards are presented on the basis of how the animal appears and responds to the commands of its trainer. Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Smith of 28318 Dixboro Road, Lyon Township. John's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John E. Rose of 670 N. Adams Road, Avon Township.

Nine Beauties To Be 'Framed'

PEACH QUEEN CONTEST SATURDAY

ROMEO—A giant gold picture frame will provide a fitting backdrop for the winners of the annual Peach Queen Contest, which will be held at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Romeo Junior High School. It is open to the public.

The contestants will be judged in three categories: street dress, a talent show and formal gown. During the competition they will be identified solely by the names of peaches until the queen and two maids of honor are selected.

William F. Dunn will act as master of ceremonies.

Climax of the contest will be when the queen candidates come on stage in their formal to answer a series of questions which they must draw from a hat.

The four out-of-town judges will score each contestant on personality, beauty, grooming and public speaking ability in addition to talent.

TO REMAIN AT FESTIVAL

The winner will reign over the 29th annual Peach Festival in Romeo Sept. 24.

Between the time of the contest and the celebration over Labor Day weekend, the queen and her attendants will have a busy schedule.

They will be making appearances daily on television and radio, at area hospitals and at public events like a Tiger baseball game and the horse races at Hazel Park.

Her majesty also will take peaches to servicemen at Selfridge Air Force Base near Mount Clemens Aug. 22 and to Detroit's Mayor Miriam two days later.

The highlight of her pre-festival activities will be a gift trip to Washington D. C. where she will be received by Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Tel. 6.

Competing for the crown will be:

Princessing—Next month are William Bayless of Rocky River, Ohio; Norman Betz of Bay Village, Ohio; George Desmamps of Detroit; David Gaur of Detroit; and Thomas Powers of Fairview Park, Ohio.

TO REMAIN FOR STUDY

After taking their vows the men will remain at Colomere for two years of college studies with concentration on literature and humanities.

They will then go to West Baden College in Indiana to complete their training which includes philosophy, three years of teaching in Jesuit high schools or colleges, followed by four years of theology.

Ordination to the priesthood takes place during the third year of theology.

Also on the feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Wary of Limits on Billboards

State Legislative Unit Told Move May Injure Business, Industry

LANSING (AP)—Warnings that severe limitations of billboard advertising will damage Michigan business and industry have been issued to a legislative study committee.

Representatives of tourist groups, restaurant and hotel owners, construction workers and others urged lawmakers Thursday not to be overly restrictive in limiting highway advertising.

Rep. Lloyd Gibbs, R-Troy, chairman of the House Interim Committee, agreed.

"I'd forego regulations to any great extent rather than slug business," he said. "We need jobs."

The committee was formed to study problems of billboards advertising after the legislature last spring turned down a bill that would control advertising along the new interstate highway system.

Michigan will be eligible for a $5-million federal grant if it agrees to limit the number, size and placement of billboards in accordance with federal standards.

"The highway department is in favor of regulation, not prohibition of billboards," said Frederick E. Tripp, the department's director of administration. "We favor it for its safety and aesthetic value as well as from any federal funds."

Spokesmen for tourist and business organizations voiced support for regulations, but argued that the federal plan was overly restrictive.

Flower Show August 19-20 at Oxford School

OXFORD—The Oxford Garden Club will stage its 27th Flower and Festival Show in the junior high school on Washington street Aug. 19 and 20.

"The theme of the show is 'There's No Place Like Michigan.' It will be carried out with flower arrangements representing the different aspects of life in this state."

Visiting hours are 3 to 10 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. The event is open to the public, admission free.

Anyone wishing to enter exhibits must have them in before 11 a.m. Aug. 19, the show sponsors said.

Oak Park Faces $10,000 Claim

Parents Want Money for Injuries Suffered by Child in Park

OAK PARK—The parents of a 9-year-old Oak Park girl have filed a $10,000 claim against the city for injuries she suffered in a park accident here July 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin K. Southerland said their daughter Michelle Ann suffered "permanent and disfiguring injuries in the accident and will require continuing medical treatment."

Michelle had eight of her permanent teeth knocked out and her jawbone was badly splintered, according to her parents, when she was hit in the mouth by a swing at the city-owned Major Park.

She had an emergency operation immediately following the accident. She is scheduled to undergo plastic surgery.

The parents claim that the city was negligent in its duties because no one was supervising the play area when the accident occurred.

The City Council has turned the claim over to City Attorney Carl W. Forsythe.

YOUNGEST ENTRY—Holding his 3-month-old Jersey calf prior to entering her in competition at the Oakland County 4-H Fair is Brian Austin, 12, of 3940 Dutton Road, Oakland Township. He is a member of the Silver Bell 4-H Club. Brian's calf will be a youngest Jersey to be entered in her class today.

Managing Girl Guest Is a Duty

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: A friend's daughter recently came to this city to work. I asked her to come and stay with us, as we had an extra room. My daughter, who is this girl's same age, was delighted.

Everything went well for a while, but she has suddenly taken to staying out very late. I do not approve of this at all as she is still rather young and I certainly wouldn't allow my own daughter to do this.

I feel that since she is living with us I am more or less responsible for her and I think she should conform to the rules of the house.

My daughter thinks it would be very wrong for me to say anything to her as I have no right to tell her when to come and go. Don't you think I have the right to say something?

A: As long as she is living in your house, you not only have the right to see that she comes in at a reasonable hour, but it is your duty. If her mother tell you she does not object, that would be a different story.

Q: I am giving a dinner party soon and would like to serve champagne. Will you please tell me the proper way to serve it?

A: It should be put in the refrigerator for a day and then a half hour before serving placed into a cooler with water and ice, and holding the bottle by the neck turned back and forth from time to time. Also, when opening be sure to wrap the bottle in a towel or napkin as a protection in case it explodes. If the champagne must be chilled quickly, add a handful of salt to the ice and water mixture.

Q: When a boy has asked a girl to dance, shouldn't he escort her back to where she was sitting after they have finished dancing? Quite a few of the boys I know leave the girls on the dance floor after the music has stopped and I do not think this is proper. Will you please give me your opinion?

A: Unless he has been cut on by another boy, he takes her back to where she was sitting and does not leave her stranded in the middle of the dance floor.

Q: When giving a birthday present to a married friend, shouldn't it be something for her own personal use rather than something for her house? I always resent receiving a tablecloth or some such item for a birthday present and think it inappropriate. What is your opinion?

A: Unless the giver knows of some special item that her friend would like for her house, something for her own personal use is more appropriate for a birthday gift.

Ordained at the Detroit Annual Conference of the Methodist Church at Adrian in June, Rev. Ronald J. Thompson is in charge of the new Methodist Mission meeting in the Community Activities Building on Williams Lake Road. With his wife who is holding baby Christy he plays ball with four-year-old Cynthia. The Thompsons make their home at the parsonage located on seven and a half acres of land on Macedonia Drive where the future church will be built.

Abby Says: Get Him Work

Grows Romantic at 62

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been retired for almost a year, and he is driving me out of my mind. He doesn't leave my side unless I send him to the store for something. I think we are together too much for people our age. I am 62 and he is 68.

Don't get me wrong. I still love my husband, but I may as well be frisk with you. He acts like we are still on our honeymoon. I like a little romance (even at my age), but my old man is overdoing it.

Do you think it would help matters any if I got some sort of job? If I don't get out of this house (and away from him) I will go mad.

WEARY WIFE: Getting out of the house is not the answer. Absence would only make the heart grow fonder, and when you came home he'd devour you like a hungry trout takes a fly. He needs something to occupy his mind.

Get him interested in gardening, or stamp collecting. Chess, checkers, scrabble and two-handed card games are good mental exercise. (But don't suggest "honeymoon bridge" . . . it might give him ideas.)

DEAR ABBY: We would like your opinion of parents who whistle for their children when they are trying to locate them in the neighborhood. They have a special family whistle to call their children, which reminds me of calling dogs.

We have put up with it for three years. The children in that family are from seven to sixteen years old—certainly old enough to know their names. We neighbors think it is a disgrace, and would like your support.

THE NEIGHBORS: DEAR NEIGHBORS: I see nothing "disgraceful" about a family whistle. I think it is far

AP NEWSFEATURE (Gilbert Youth Bureau)

Signs point to the slangage of teen-agers taking a sudden turn this winter, but parents needn't be alarmed. They might even like it, now that they realize that "Zz-ziddo" and all that razzamatazz are just—the all-encompassing Hawaiian word for finished, tired, out.

The new fad has been brewing since the Islands became a state and walises and kanes (guys and gals, to the uninitiated) have been introduced to many native expressions.

For instance, lo-lo-lo, pronounced "eco-eco," has a nicer sound than "grinchy" or "roachy" which have long since replaced "lousy" on the mainland. Inquiring if someone is popular (popolepy) is certainly quicker and gentler than asking him, "Whattamatter—you some kind of nut or something?"

ALOHA'S IN

Aloha has long been in, but it's gaining new popularity. Lulling vowels sound better than harsh "Rlys, chiks," or "It's Spillaville—we're going to cut out." Any cat-sorry, popoki—would be crazy to use old worn-out line on a walise. As a matter of fact, he would be lapwaula, a real good for nothing.

less offensive than, "MAAA-AAAA-EEEEEE, JOHNN-EEEE, come home for SUUUUUUH-FER!"

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with a man for about six years. I don't go out with anyone else, and don't care to. He feels the same way about me.

My big problem is this: He told me that he cannot marry me as long as his mother is living. At first I thought I would work out all right because he was 49 and his mother was in her early seventies. But he is now 55 and his mother is in better condition than I am. (She bows.)

Tired of waiting. DEAR TIED: Don't spend your life waiting for the life of another to end. If it's marriage you want, look for a man who can give you an unconditional surrender.

I am 44, divorced, and support myself. Do you think I should hang on to this man? He has money.

What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cake Decorating Topic for Group

Mrs. Edwin L. Cadwallader demonstrated and discussed cake decorating for Country-side Improvement Association members and guests Wednesday.

Mrs. Hugh Ralston of Pine Lake was hostess to the group, assisted by Mrs. J. T. Arno, Mrs. Armin Darmstadter, Mrs. E. A. Dohany and Evelyn Dohany.

May Lack Something as Wife

'Good' Woman Can Be Bad

By RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. "I've always been a good wife," walls the woman whose marriage is breaking up. She is sure it is no fault of her own.

The trouble is that in most such cases the woman who can't understand what happened to her marriage has confused being "a good wife" with being a "good wife."

There's more — lots more — to being a good wife than just to being a good woman. A good woman can, and sometimes does, get the idea that she is always in the right and that whenever there is a difference of opinion her husband is bound to be in the wrong.

FOUR HOUSEMAKER

A good woman can be an excellent housewife — but a poor homemaker if she thinks of her home as her castle.

A good woman can be overly ambitious for her husband and push him until he becomes resentful.

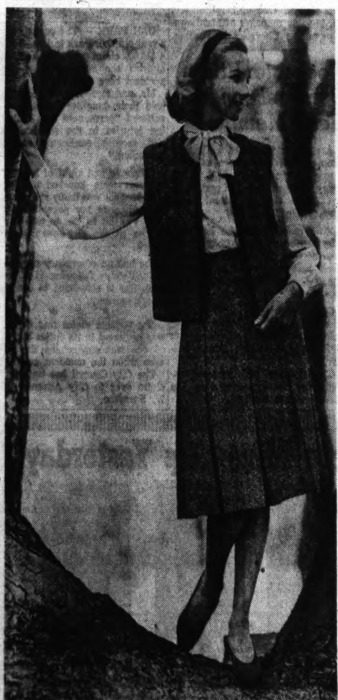

A good woman can make the mistake of always putting her children first and blinding her husband if he wants to be first himself sometimes.

A good woman can make the mistake of trying to live through her children, neglecting her own needs and wants until she is nothing but a door mat.

A good woman can be self-righteously intolerant of others, especially when she is thoroughly sold on the idea of her own goodness.

A good woman can fail to keep step with her husband's intellectual growth or take a superior attitude toward his hobbies and outside interests.

So a good woman isn't necessarily a good wife — though too many women think they are one and the same thing.

There's a lot of activity in store for this one-piece jump suit in wool knit. For relaxing or covoring, the suit features its own knee skimming coat with low patch pockets in gold and gray wool plaid. All of these bright ideas by Mr. Mori are available locally.

Here's one 'straight' jacket that's a la mode. The sweaters jacket look features a straight-lined cardigan in patterned wool with wool rib edging. Its own slender skirt in rust, magenta, and gray assures wear with pleasure through the year.

With Autumn comes a new idea for jackets—leather-outlined and sleeveless. Pair it with a softly bowed crepe shirt in beige and a box-pleated skirt in brown and white for a young, free-swinging fashion ensemble of herringbone wool tweed.

Rare Blood Cell
Key to AllergiesIt Releases Histamine,
Also Anticoagulant Into System . . . at Times

CHICAGO (U.P.)—The rarest, most elusive, but relatively obscure blood cell known as the basophil leukocyte was reported today to be a key to a variety of allergies and possibly hardening of the arteries.

Two researchers and they found the cell, when activated, releases histamine, the substance that triggers allergic reactions. The Journal of the American Medical Association reported that the same researchers demonstrated, in an article to be published later, that basophil also dumps the anticoagulant heparin into the blood stream after a person eats a meal high in fats.

This results in rapid clearing of the fat from the circulatory system, the Journal said, but the degree of clearing varied among the individuals tested.

INTERESTED CELL

It is evident that here is a cell, intensely concerned with a variety of critical physiological processes: blood coagulation, fat transport, allergic reactions, and possibly, clot lysis (dissolution), the Journal said.

The basophil studies were made by Drs. Leonard J. Jaffe, now at Sweden, and Walter B. Shelley, professor of dermatology, University of Philadelphia School of Medicine.

They also reported development of a basophil test which could make possible the detection of allergic persons before they suffer symptoms. The test was used to measure sensitivity to cold, penicillin, prochlorperazine and bee stings.
