

Plan to Probe Draft System

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government plans to analyze selective service histories of possibly 200,000 men as part of a massive study that could lead to a halt in the military draft.

Officials told the Associated Press today that Pentagon experts conducting the draft studies for President Johnson have asked the Selective Service System to take a 1 per cent sample of the records of all men in the draft pool.

This involves men between 18½ and 35. Selective Service headquarters said there are about 29 million men in that pool.

The purpose of the sample, authorities explained, will be to "get a more definitive view of the status of people within the pool," from which men are called for induction.

Among other things, the sample will seek to find out to what extent men have moved from one deferred classification to another, thus avoiding induction.

WHAT HAD HAPPENED

In the case of a man of 35, for example, a study of his file would trace what had happened over the years since he became draft-eligible.

UAW Hopeful for Ford Accord in Short Time

Reuther Optimistic
About Package Offer
Similar to Chrysler

DETROIT (AP)—United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther said today he was optimistic about reaching a settlement on a new labor contract with Ford Motor Co. in a "relatively short time."

Ford offered an economic package to the UAW Monday night similar to the agreement worked out earlier between the union and Chrysler Corp.

Reuther said union specialists had studied the Ford offer and found that, in terms of essential benefits, it came close to matching the Chrysler agreement.

"As far as economics are concerned," Reuther said, "it forms the basis for a settlement."

The UAW leader said there still were some "very knotty and very critical problems" to be resolved in the non-economic field, such as working conditions at the plants, but that with "common sense and good will" these problems could be solved without the necessity of getting a strike decision.

WORK DIVERSION

Reuther said one of these problems yet to be discussed was the situation where Ford in previous years has diverted part of its production from the plant on strike to other plants.

Reuther described this situation as "intolerable, where workers have the right to strike and that other workers, in effect, must scab on their fellow union members."

Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president for labor relations, said the company hoped said expected that the proposal "will lead to an early agreement."

"Our proposal would provide for wage increases and additional benefits for represented employees substantially equivalent to those already offered by Chrysler and accepted by the union," Denise explained.

Shortly after the proposal was handed to the union, UAW President Walter Reuther told newsmen the broad outline appeared to be equivalent to the basic benefits of the Chrysler package.

OTHER DEMANDS

Still to be discussed however, are the union's so-called non-economic demands, such as for improved working conditions including additional relief time for workers on the assembly line.

Chrysler already has agreed to increase to 36 minutes the present 24 minutes per day in relief time for production workers tied down to their machines.

Barry Raps High Court in Dixie Talk

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater charged into the South today with a drumbeat of criticism for the Supreme Court and he said that some Democrats don't even think the South is part of the United States.

"This country wants a change," he said.

Goldwater said he senses a deep concern among Americans about "the drift of our government," and about foreign affairs and the way the administration deals with communism.

He said modern Democrats belie the heritage of Jefferson. He said some of them think the Supreme Court "can rule any way but down the path of the Constitution."

Goldwater said a Jeffersonian Democrat could not accept the court's decision ordering reapportionment of state legislatures.

REAL PART
Some people "don't think the South is a real part of the United States," he told some 500 people at a Republican breakfast.

"In fact," he said, "you're going to be visited by one most any day."

Goldwater said he was talking about Minnesota Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic vice presidential nominee.

Goldwater went from the breakfast to a hotel balcony and declared a real two-party system is growing in the South.

The crowd packed the streets for a block, but police officials would not estimate its size.

The Arizona senator ripped into President Johnson's handling of the crisis in South Vietnam.

Goldwater told an airport crowd at Winston-Salem he is working "for Republicans and disenfranchised Democrats."

The nominee's supporters packed 15 deep along the airport fence to hear his arrival.

Goldwater thanked them in advance for "your great support" of the Republican ticket.

His bodies were discovered by Art Laing, an announcer at CKLW, a radio station in neighboring Windsor, Ont. He is a teacher at the school.

Inspector Phipps said De Potie, father of three sons, was a friend of Paulin's and Mrs. Frazier's.

Police said Paulin's wife, Frances, 47, told them she and her husband recently separated. Detectives quoted her as saying that Paulin "had been drinking heavily for some time and had been very abusive."

2 Men, Woman Killed in School for Announcers

Pierre Paulin, Radio Personality, One of Murder Victims

DETROIT (AP)—Police, lacking clues and the killer's motive, pushed an inquiry today into the bizarre slayings of a woman and two men at a radio announcers' school.

All three victims, including onetime Detroit radio personality Pierre Paulin, 51, were found shot to death Monday at Paulin's private school.

Paulin's body, fully clothed, was found in a control booth room of his Detroit School of Announcing and Speech, Inc.

The nude bodies of Mrs. John H. Frazier, 40, mother of four children, and Clarence De Potie, 47, a father and used car dealer, were found in a soundproof lounge.

Police said "no proven motive" had been found nor was there any trace of the killer. The gun was not found.

BY SURPRISE
Police said the evidence indicated the killer had taken his victims by surprise.

Paulin, father of five, had operated his school on Detroit's northwest side since leaving the public radio field in the 1950s.

"We think that the killer or killers knew the victims," said Inspector Hiram Phipps, head of the Police Homicide Bureau.

He said some 20 persons, including relatives of the victims, were questioned last night, but emphasized that no arrests had been made.

SHOT 7 TIMES
Mrs. Frazier, wife of a railroad engineer, had been shot seven times and the men once each.

Their bodies were discovered by Art Laing, an announcer at CKLW, a radio station in neighboring Windsor, Ont. He is a teacher at the school.

Inspector Phipps said De Potie, father of three sons, was a friend of Paulin's and Mrs. Frazier's.

Police said Paulin's wife, Frances, 47, told them she and her husband recently separated. Detectives quoted her as saying that Paulin "had been drinking heavily for some time and had been very abusive."

Featured on the new Cadillac were a redesigned chassis, wider tires, an engine moved six inches forward, a new rear suspension, and an optional feature which keeps the rear of the car at the same level, regardless of load.

Cadillac General Manager Harold G. Warner prefaced the showing with an account of "the biggest expansion ever undertaken by Cadillac."

"We have added more than half a million square feet of new floor space and an additional 200,000 square feet has been converted to manufacturing space," Warner said. He said the expansion will create 600 Detroit-area jobs.

MODEL RUN
He said the division plans a model run about the same size as the 165,959-unit 1964 output. Warner predicted "a new calendar year sales mark of 166,000" for the 1965 if the current production rate continues.

'NY School Boycott Loses Some Support'

NEW YORK (AP)—A two-day white boycott of New York's public schools, protesting the busing of children to racially integrated classrooms, lost some of its support this morning, school authorities said.

Although announcing that attendance was better yesterday, when more than a quarter of a million children stayed home, the board of education gave no overall total of absenteeism. It was explained that not all of the 850 schools' reports had been received.

For the second and final day of the protest, parents returned to picket lines in greater numbers than before. Police said 2,352 persons marched at 194 schools.

Attendance figures were being compiled with an anxious eye on possible loss in state aid exceeding $2 million.

Isolated checks this morning indicated a substantial loss of attendance.

A Brooklyn school completely vacant yesterday had only one pupil present today out of an enrollment of 398.

BRONX SCHOOL
At a Bronx school, a milkman delivered only 75 cartons of milk for lunches, compared to the customary 400.

A Queens school of almost 1,200 enrollment was reported to have less than 100 children present, as it did yesterday.

Noting that the widespread protest touched many schools not involved in new integration programs, the superintendent of schools said this "indicates that the school boycotters were not concerned with what is going on at present but what might be going on in the dim, distant future."

The pickets, most of them mothers, took their stations carrying such placards as "Better schools—no busing" and "Quality schools—not racial balance."

Integration Protest—Fred M. Reuss (white coat), chairman of the Queens Parents and Taxpayers Association, leads a group of women pickets outside J.H.S. 109 yesterday in protest against New York's school integration methods. The parade was part of a massive school opening boycott resulting in sharply reduced attendance.

Olds Shows Its '65 Line

DETROIT (AP)—Oldsmobile Division of General Motors showed its 1965 line at a press preview yesterday, with the emphasis on roomier and sportier models.

A new line, the Delta 88, was added to Oldsmobile's cars. In all, Olds will have 32 models and will feature more powerful engines.

Oldsmobile will feature a sharply sloping roof line as will most GM cars this year.

On the inside, the Oldsmobiles have been enlarged. Most of the interior dimensions have been increased, with shoulder room nearly 4 inches greater.

TRUNK SPACE
The design of the automobiles has also allowed an increase of 3.9 cubic feet in trunk space.

The F85 models will boast a new grille, headlamps, bumpers and taillights.

Prices of the new cars have not been set yet.

LBJ to Get Preview of Space Age

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Johnson flew off to Cape Kennedy for a preview of the space age today after whipping up a labor union audience with a plea for strengthened Social Security.

Johnson, addressing the convention of the International Association of Machinists, drew some of his loudest applause when he said, "I think that you think the Social Security law ought to be strengthened and not weakened."

He went on to claim majority support for the nuclear test-ban treaty and medical insurance for the aged under Social Security.

Presumably, it was no coincidence that the union audience responded most warmly to Johnson's defense of programs and proposals opposed by his Republican rival, Barry Goldwater.

Johnson flew from Miami to Cape Kennedy to watch the preliminary countdown for a Saturn rocket launch, scheduled for Friday, and to talk with Gemini astronauts Wally Shira and Gus Grissom.

The President, in his Miami Beach appearance, told the whooping machinists that prosperity must not be sacrificed to partisanship.

Chance of Frost as Mercury Falls

There's a chance a few flowers and vegetables may be snipped tonight should the light frost forecast for Southeast Michigan come this way.

Temperatures are expected to fall to near 34 tonight and climb into the 60s tomorrow, the weatherman said. Partly cloudy and warmer with showers is the outlook for Thursday.

This morning's northeasterly winds at 15 to 25 miles per hour will diminish tonight.

A low of 44 was registered in downtown Pontiac at 7:30 a.m. today. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 60.

Districting Proposal Due for Vote Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate votes today on a legislative reapportionment compromise proposal.

Its acceptance would move the $3.3-billion foreign aid bill a step closer to passage and speed up the timetable for adjournment of Congress.

A battle over a proposal by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen — to force a delay of a year or more to Supreme Court-ordered reapportionment of seats in both houses of state legislatures on a population basis — has tied up the foreign aid bill for several weeks.

Dirksen offered the proposal as a rider to the foreign aid bill on the theory that President Johnson would not veto that measure. Dirksen's purpose is to gain time until Congress can submit and the states ratify a constitutional amendment nullifying the Supreme Court decision.

BACKS COMPROMISE

In an effort to break the stalemate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Johnson's vice presidential running mate, has moved into the picture by backing a "sense of the Congress" compromise first advanced by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., and a group of senators supporting the Supreme Court decision have been conducting a talkathon against the Dirksen rider to prevent its adoption.

Up until Monday, the group was holding out against the "sense of the Congress" substitute until its sponsors agreed to accept modifying language the liberals proposed.

They claimed a better than even chance of its adoption.

FIRST PROPOSAL

The substitute at first proposed making it "the sense of the Congress" that the federal courts should allow the states "adequate time" (1) to comply with the Supreme Court decision or (2) to consider a proposed constitutional amendment submitted by Congress to permit apportionment of one house of each legislature on other than a population basis.

The group supporting the court's decision objected to the second part of the substitute on the grounds that it constituted a "pledge" by Congress to submit a constitutional amendment to the states.

At their suggestion, sponsors of the substitute agreed to modify the proposal to request the courts to allow "reasonable time" to comply with the court ruling.

To Act on Sewerage Extension

Formal action to extend Pontiac sewage treatment service to a portion of Waterford Township immediately west of Telegraph will go before the City Commission tonight.

The area for which sanitary sewerage is proposed lies between Elizabeth Lake Road and Menominee, extending about three blocks west from Telegraph.

Storm drains are currently serving as sewers for the area under an old agreement with the township.

In turn, the drains feed into Crystal Lake in southwest Pontiac. City officials feel this is one source of pollution of the lake.

A 1963 request by the township for sanitary sewers in the remaining unserved areas of the west end drain was revised at last week's commission meeting.

SLATED TO ACT

The commission is slated to act on a formal resolution at tonight's regular session.

In other business, a recommendation is expected on the awarding of a contract for site improvements in a portion of the urban renewal R20 project.

Give Tentative Approval for Mile-Long Boulevard

An agreement to build a mile-long boulevard on Coolidge Road was given tentative approval last night by the Birmingham City Commission.

Troy commissioners, who also considered the proposal last night, tabled action on it until next week when they can weigh the changes suggested by Birmingham.

The latter has declared necessity for its portion of the boulevard, a half-mile strip running from Maple to Derby.

Alteration of the road is viewed as the answer to traffic problems expected with the construction of a $50-million Troy development on the east side of Coolidge.

The portion of the boulevard from Derby to Big Beaver would be within Troy, which has made no commitment on the improvement.

PETITION TROY

The Biltmore Development Co. has petitioned Troy for establishment of the special assessment district necessary for the work there.

The firm also has agreed to reimburse Birmingham for its share of the program if the boulevard is not extended to Big Beaver.

Birmingham City Attorney Harold R. Howlett was authorized to draw up an agreement with the company which also would include payment to other property owners in the district if the plan is not completed.

Specifications for the project were approved on the condition that the agreement be ratified. Khrushchev to previous Soviet aid for Egypt.

One Change in Charter Will Go on April Ballot

BIRMINGHAM — At least one proposed charter amendment providing for initiative and referendum will be on the April ballot here.

City commissioners approved the proposition last night, including zoning ordinance amendments on the list of items which could not be initiated by or referred to the electorate.

The resolution to place the amendment on the ballot passed 5-2, with Commissioners David F. Breck and Charles F. Clippert dissenting.

Breck's suggestion that voters be given the choice between that and one including the zoning provision was voted down.

However, James H. Walker Jr. of 1555 Villa, who had criticized the action contemplated by the commission, said he hoped to have a similar amendment appear on the ballot.

WORKING HOURS

Commissioners also added the regulation of working hours, retirement and other benefits of city employees to the list of exclusions in the amendment as proposed by the League of Women Voters of Birmingham-Bloomfield.

Mrs. Garvin Bawden Jr., league president, said the commission's decision would be discussed at the October meeting of the organization.

Breck and Clippert formed a losing combination on several suggested amendments to the constitution.

These included removing zoning from the list of exclusions and changing the number of signatures necessary on initiative and referendum petitions from 15 to 10 per cent of the electorate.

REFERENDUM

Breck also suggested that all commission resolutions should be subject to referendum and that too was defeated 5-2.

Among the additions which were approved was the provision that referendum petitions be filed 90 rather than 30 days after the commission action being questioned.

Initiatory petition signatures are to be gathered within 90 days of the date a petition committee has declared its intent to the city clerk.

New College Gets $415,560 in State Funds

Oakland County's new community college has received a $415,560 appropriation from the State Administrative Board, it was disclosed today.

The appropriation, restricted to capital outlay items, is part of a $4-million fund appropriated to the state for junior and community colleges.

A spokesman for the board of trustees said that no definite plans have been established for spending the state funds.

However, state regulations stipulate that the funds must be used on a matching basis for construction costs.

This would include planning, utilities, equipment, site development, remodeling and alteration costs.

The college board is currently interviewing architects for future construction and site acquisitions.

Nunneley and his wife, Jean, have three children, James, Ruth and Stewart. They live at 1137 Holland.

Believe Hurricane Loses Force, Turns

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Gladys began losing force today and forecasters said signs pointed to a more northerly turn of the storm—good news for the U.S. mainland.

Winds in the latest of this year's parade of seven tropical storms dropped from 90 to 75 miles an hour, barely hurricane force, and a further decline was in prospect.

At 11 a.m., EST, Gladys was centered about 750 miles east-northeast of San Juan, P.R.

Hurricane Ethel still flickered on the Western Bureau radar screens but Dora, killer of at least seven persons, no longer exists.

Men being drafted these days average about 22 years old. Roughly 100,000 men a year are inducted, all of them going into the Army.

A little-noticed request to Congress calls for $75,000 to finance the sampling job this fiscal year.

In another phase of the Johnson-ordered study, it was learned, the Census Bureau will make a special effort in its monthly survey of households to determine the attitude of young men toward military service.

ON REQUEST

This, too, is to be done at the request of authorities conducting the draft study.

About 300,000 households are likely to be touched by the Census Bureau survey, officials said today.

The draft study was ordered by Johnson last April. He said at the time it will consider "the possibility of meeting our requirements on an entirely voluntary basis in the next decade."

PROMISES END

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate, promised to end the draft "as soon as possible." Goldwater said Johnson has used Selective Service for "political and social schemes."

Would Be Rochester's Largest

Seeks OK for Apartment Complex

ROCHESTER — A rezoning application referred to the Regional Planning Commission last night by the Village Council could result in the largest apartment development ever constructed here.

Preliminary plans for a 16-building, 220-unit development on 10 acres were presented to the council by developer Bernard G. Head of Royal Oak along with his request that the land be rezoned from a single family to multiple dwelling classification.

Head presented a color rendering of the proposed development and a preliminary plan for the construction, to be privately financed without government funds.

The site of the proposed development is bounded by Baldwin on the west, the New York Central railroad tracks on the north, subdivision property on the south (Meadow Street) and Parke, Davis & Co. property on the east.

Head told the council that if the rezoning application were approved, construction would begin in the area adjacent to Rochester Meadow No. 2 subdivision, so that initial construction would form a buffer area between the site of further construction and the subdivision.

LETTER READ

Another matter concerned a letter from Rochester Paper Co., in which the firm pointed out the dangerous traffic situation on Mill Street east of the viaduct on M150.

A sharp curve with poor visibility exists there, and the firm suggested that the possibility of straightening the curve be considered.

The company owns part of the property involved, and said in the letter that it would be willing to donate that portion of the property to the village in order that the curve might be reconstructed.

There have been a number of near accidents on the curve, with cars and trucks both leaving the road, the letter said.

RENEWAL PLANS

Inasmuch as the area of the curve is included in urban renewal proposals, the council tabled the matter until after the Sept. 28 public hearing on urban renewal.

In the meantime, the council agreed to install "Caution" or "Slow" signs there to increase safety.

In other action, the council authorized acting manager Arthur Cox to make sewer and water taps to vacant, privately owned lots on Parkdale, to preclude the necessity for tearing up the asphalt for such taps in the future.

The taps will run to the property line from the mains now being installed.

RESOLUTION PASSED

The council passed a resolution giving D. S. Wiggins of Highland 45 days to clean up a garage and property he owns at 322 East Street, which was condemned by the council at a previous meeting.

Rochester Church Adds Full-Time Staff Member

ROCHESTER — A full-time worker in Christian education has been added to the staff of St. Paul's Methodist Church, the official church Board announced today.

The new staff member is Karen Eastman, 22, of 206 Second.

She will work with the children's division of the church school, direct the children's choir program and serve as teacher of the daily cooperative nursery sponsored by the church.

A June graduate of Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., Eastman majored in Christian education. She has had wide experience in church camping and spent the summer as program director of the Judson Oaks Camping program.

Her official title at St. Paul's is that of educational assistant to the pastor.

Rochester Coin Club Sets Seventh Semiannual Show

ROCHESTER — There will be no shortage of coins in the Rochester area Sunday.

The Rochester Coin Club will hold its seventh semiannual coin show then, with several thousand people expected to attend.

The show will be held in the Gold and Sunset rooms at Oakland University, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The choice of the university as the site for the affair reflects the growth of the coin show since its inception.

The first show, held at the Avon Park Pavilion, drew a few hundred people. More recent shows at the Rochester Elks Temple saw attendance grow to 1,900.

Highlights of Sunday's show will be many fine exhibits ranging in age from before the birth of Christ to modern proof sets as well as gold, foreign and paper money.

The exhibitors will compete for awards in 10 classes, as well as the "Best of the Show" grand prize.

Dealers from all parts of Michigan, Ohio and Canada will be represented by 40 booth tables, where collectors can fill gaps in their collections.

SHOW PROCEEDS

Proceeds of the show are used to furnish subscriptions of "Coin World," a leading coin newspaper, to all Rochester area schools and the two area colleges.

The Rochester Coin Club meets at North Hill Lanes on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. The meetings are open to the public.

AREA NEWS

Township Set to Alter Junk Law

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The recently adopted junk and unsold car ordinance is scheduled to be amended to night.

Trustees propose adding the word "or" after "and" in the section which excludes "daily licensed and/or operable vehicles or trailers with substantially all mechanical component parts attached."

The ordinance was adopted July 20 by Township Board members, who agreed that it should be amended shortly after going into effect.

The code became effective Aug. 30, two days after a petition had been filed to place it on a referendum ballot.

However, township officials ruled the petition bearing 386 signatures was invalid. Robert P. Allen, Oakland County corporation counsel, had informed them he could find no statutory provision for a referendum vote on the matter.

CHIEF OBJECTION

Chief objection to the ordinance was that it gives township residents just 24 hours to repair their automobiles in their own yards.

According to Supervisor Edward Cheyz, the change expected to be made at the 8 p.m. session was the only one suggested at a July 18 meeting attended by some 45 persons.

Pretty Pickets Circle Capitol

Protesting New Law on Hair-Styling Art

LANSING (AP)—Some of the picket lines ever seen at the State Capitol blocked the building entrance today, protesting a new law governing cosmetologists.

Blondes in puff hairdos and brunettes showing the latest hair fashions from Paris circled in the picket line.

Irving Goldman, vice president of the Michigan School Owners Assn., said the nearly all-girl picket line was protesting a newly enacted law he claimed would permit public schools to teach cosmetology—the art of hair-styling.

Goldman said some 400 pickets were from Metropolitan Detroit, Cheboygan, Flint, Saginaw, Ann Arbor, Marquette and Lansing.

William Weaver, secretary of the State Board of Cosmetology, said the group was misinformed.

AGE TO ENTER

The new law, he said, only specifies that no student can enter a school of cosmetology until age 16, although this will not apply to a student enrolled in a public school.

Only one school, Chadey High in Detroit, has such a program at present and the board has given no indication it will allow others to offer such courses, Weaver said.

"Somebody apparently told them that such courses might be offered in almost every high school in Michigan," Weaver said. "They were misinformed. The present board has not indicated it will approve any more."

Goldman said his group was planning to make a court test of the new law.

Milford Seeks Federal Loan

Finances Desired for Sewage Plant Work

MILFORD—The village today is applying for a federal loan to finance part of a $440,000 addition to its sewerage treatment plant.

Village councilmen approved the move last night. The application for 30 per cent of the cost must be filed with the State Water Resources Commission by midnight.

Plans and specifications for the addition, paid for by a federal grant, have been completed by Hubbell, Roth and Clark, Inc., Birmingham engineering firm.

The council last night also joined other state, county and local officials in saluting Police Chief J. Stewart Brophy, who has served the village for 10 years.

A testimonial party Friday night was attended by some 60 persons.

Arraignment Held in Wife-Shooting

Frank Mayes, 58, of 83 Jackson stood mute in Circuit Court arraignment yesterday on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

A plea of not guilty was automatically entered for him by Circuit Judge James S. Thornburn.

Mayes is accused of shooting his wife, Marie, 41, three times with a 22-caliber pistol in the bedroom of their home on Aug. 14. She was hospitalized with bullet wounds in the stomach, neck and arm.

Mayes is still being held in the Oakland County Jail on bond which was reduced yesterday from $3,000 to $1,000. No date has been set for trial.

Festival Set in Ortonville

ORTONVILLE—A turkey dinner with all the trimmings will be a feature of the annual Harvest Festival at the Ortonville Methodist Church Thursday.

Booths will be set up by members of the Women's Society of Christian Service, sponsor of the event.

On sale at the booths, which will be open at 3:30 p.m., will be rancy food, candy, baked goods and mystery packages.

A fish pond will be another attraction to appeal to youngsters of all ages.

The dinner will be served beginning at 5:30 p.m.

FASHION PREVIEW — Two models look over the clothes they will wear in the Ninth Annual Fashion Show and Luncheon to be staged by the Rochester Junior Women's Club Thursday at Pine Knob. The two are Mrs. Norman E. May (left), club member, and Sandy Rogers, house model for Ahlin's of Pontiac, which is providing the fashions. Refreshments will be served at 11:30 a.m. with the luncheon to follow at 12:30.

Half-Day School Sessions Draw Bias Charge in Utica

UTICA — The Utica Board of Education was accused of acting contrary to the new State Constitution in putting first and second grade students on half-day sessions in a stormy meeting last night.

Attorney Roy W. Rogensues of 8510 Walnut Hill said that the selection of those two grades for curtailed schedules was discriminatory and violated the equal protection statutes of the constitution.

"I don't think that the equal protection clause of the constitution is met by the school board putting part of the students on half-day sessions and the rest on full-day sessions," he said.

"In other words, if curtailment is necessary, it should be applied equally to all students," he continued.

"Furthermore," Rogensues added, "it is the duty of the board to encourage education by providing the necessary school facilities and educational program. I don't think the school board is doing this."

CRIMINAL OFFENSE

"The state makes it a criminal offense for parents to fail to send their children to school for an entire, continuous school year, but the school board thinks that it has the right to do so with part of its students and apparently thinks it doesn't have the same duty as parents," said Rogensues.

"They're taking first and second graders in their formative years and giving them exactly half as much instruction as they themselves recommend. And yet they're spending money on nonacademic subjects," he concluded.

The transportation issue also sparked argument last night, as another attorney, Roger Roemisch of Shelby Township, requested that the board appeal to the State Department of Public Instruction for a release from the 1½ mile limit.

School districts do not receive reimbursement from the state for transporting students who live within 1½ miles of their school.

USE HAYWAGON The Utica board recently curtailed transportation for students inside this limit, parents last week used a haywagon drawn by horses to transport 25 Disco elementary school children to school to dramatize their opposition to the action.

Yest-day pickets paraded in front of West Utica School also to protest the bus transportation policy.

Roemisch said last night that "for many of these children, there is no direct route to school without walking on the highways."

He also urged the board to "adopt a positive, viable program to be conducted on a basis that puts aside any animosities and vindictiveness to increase bonding and obtain necessary funding to assure proper education for our children."

URGES AUDIENCE

Rogensues urged the audience to "give the school board what they're requesting and then hold it accountable for results."

Superintendent Fred W. Atkinson said last night that he would attempt to make arrangements for a meeting with Department of Public Instruction officials with himself and others with different points of view.

With regard to violation of the constitution with half-day sessions, Atkinson said that "in my opinion, he (Rogensues) is not interpreting the school code correctly."

"Every school district with kindergarten has half-day sessions. It's been the rule rather than the exception in fast-growing areas," he said.

STATEMENT TRUE

"His (Rogensues) statement regarding attendance requirements (on the part of parents) is true, but the length of time students are at school is set by the board of education according to their funds."

Atkinson said that "there are cases throughout the state where school districts have been upheld by the courts when curtailment has been necessitated due to lack of funds."

The board stated a special meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the board offices for a discussion of the upcoming bond issue and increased millage election.

Invited to the meeting were Roemisch and Rogensues, as well as any interested citizens and the citizens' committee.

Rides for children and games for adults will be available on the grounds of St. Francis Council No. 4401 at 21900 Middle Belt.

Fish will be served from 4 to 8 p.m. Friday. An old-fashioned square dance will be held after the 4-8 p.m. ham dinner Saturday. The roast beef dinner is scheduled for 1 to 8 p.m. Sunday.

To Hear Wife of VP Nominee

LANSING (AP) — Some 500 Michigan Republican women were to hear about campaign strategy today from a top-level woman campaigner—Mrs. William Miller, wife of the GOP vice presidential nominee.

Another major speaker was to be Mrs. Elly Peterson of Charlotte, who credits an almost all-female grass roots organization for her winning the GOP nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Gov. George Romney's wife, Lenore, who will address the luncheon meeting, to be followed by briefings on registration drives, fund raising drives and other campaign and election assignments.

Attending will be representatives of the Michigan Federation of Republican Women, the GOP Women's Advisory Committee, young Republican groups, members of special campaign committees and volunteer campaigners.

YWCA Returns to Milford With a Slate of 8 Classes

MILFORD — The YWCA is returning to Milford.

The organization offered a few classes in the community last spring on an experimental basis.

Response to the initial program was strong enough to warrant a schedule of eight classes this fall.

These being offered on Tuesdays and Wednesdays vary from bridge to yoga and will be taught by local women and instructors from the Northwest Branch of the YWCA of Metropolitan Detroit.

Preregistration, necessary for enrollment, will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Sept. 22 in the civic room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland.

REQUIRE MEMBERSHIP

Membership in the YWCA is required but is open to everyone for a nominal fee.

Nursery care for preschool

At the same time, Mrs. George Crawford of Milford will lead a cake decorating class.

Mrs. Helen Hunter, a Northwest Branch instructor, will explain methods of making over, restyling and creating new apparel from old pieces of fur during the 9:30 a.m. furcraft course Wednesday.

At 1 p.m. Tuesdays Mrs. Bennett will teach intermediate sewing and Mrs. Keith Bird of Milford will give bridge instruction.

Prosecutor Avoids Dem Fight

HOWEL (AP) — Livingston County's Republican prosecutor refused Monday to issue warrants against five Democrats in connection with a brawl which erupted at the Democratic county convention Saturday.

"I do not want to get involved in a political fight," said Prosecutor Charles B. Gatesman.

Ironically, one of the men against whom Gatesman was asked to issue a warrant was Martin Lavin, who will run against Gatesman in the November election.

The warrants had been requested by Edward Rettinger, the county Democratic chairman. After being turned down by Gatesman, Rettinger said he would seek warrants from the state attorney general's office if necessary.

REQUESTS WARRANTS

Rettinger also had requested warrants against Lavin's son, Scott, Jack Shine, candidate for county registrar of deeds, and two Teamsters union officials: Otto Wendell, Michigan director of DRIVE, the union's political arm, and Henry Hopf, president of a Detroit Teamsters local.

State Police and sheriff's deputies cleared and padlocked the Livingston County building Saturday night about 90 minutes after the convention began. In the meantime, Rettinger and at least two others received minor injuries in the melee.

Witnesses said the fighting erupted when Gerald Slaby, treasurer of the county committee and chairman of the convention's credentials committee, read a report proposing to unseat some 80 Lavin-backed delegates.

Several men then charged the speaker's table and attacked Rettinger and others, witnesses added. Rettinger said at least six men were hitting him as he lay on the convention hall floor.

Observers said the fighting was another development in a power struggle within the county Democratic organization which began three years ago when Rettinger ousted Lavin as chairman.

Two factions ran opposing slates for all county offices in the Sept. 1 primary, and some of the races produced charges of fraud and other irregularities.

HST Not So Spzy, but Still Ready With Advice

Humphrey Helps Re-create Old Times for Truman

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — It was almost like old times for Harry S. Truman — a news conference and later a brisk walk with a mob of spectators and reporters trooping behind him.

Only this time, Democratic vice presidential nominee Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey asked all the questions.

Humphrey, here to help Missouri Democrats launch their state campaign, brought the former president to a hotel to meet the press Monday night.

It was explained it was not to be a news conference, but rather an informal conversation between Humphrey and Truman.

ONLY WAY

"We were afraid that this would be the only way they would get a chance to see you," Humphrey told Truman.

The former president is 80 now, not so spzy as when he led reporters on his early morning walks from the White House but he was ready with some "give 'em hell" advice for Humphrey.

Truman, selected by Franklin D. Roosevelt as his running mate in 1944, told Humphrey that the senator was the "best selection that ever was made for vice president."

Humphrey asked the former president what he thought of the party's chances in the South.

NO TROUBLE

"I don't think you are going to have any serious trouble in the South," said Truman.

"They will do a lot of talking. And when it comes time to vote, they go to the polls and think, 'Well, I can't afford to do that. My daddy will turn over in his grave.' So they vote the Democratic ticket. That is what they will do this time."

Truman said he liked the way Johnson and Humphrey are campaigning. "I think you are campaigning in the right direction. Carry the battle to them.

Don't let them bring it to you. Put them on the defensive. And don't ever apologize for anything."

Humphrey noted that in warning Democrats against being complacent he had reminded them of 1948 when Truman upset Republican Thomas Dewey, the dopest's forecast and the polls.

DISREGARDS POLLS

Said Truman wryly, "I never pay any attention to polls. If I had I wouldn't have been elected."

Later, Truman and Humphrey strode the block from the hotel to Municipal Auditorium for the Democratic rally.

They walked straight down the middle of the street, almost surrounded by the crowd. Truman was beaming.

He no longer steps off at the rapid Army pace of an artillery captain, but as one policeman remarked, "I hope I'm as spzy as that at 80."

Has Bright Campaign Report

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey wings home to Washington today, packing a bright report for President Johnson on his first big campaign swing for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket.

With the election seven weeks off, the Democratic vice presidential nominee has found so much optimism in the ranks that he is warning the party faithful against complacency — reminding them how their own Harry S. Truman upset the Republicans and the polls in 1948.

Humphrey is stepping off the campaign trail briefly after delivering one of his sharpest attacks on the Republican presidential nominee, Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Cab Crooks Believe in P(aying) 'Fare'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cab Driver Charles Blasko 37, picked up two men Monday and drove to a destination several blocks away.

There one of the men pointed a pistol at him and took $17. Before fleeing the men tossed him $1.50—90 cents for the meter reading and a 60-cent tip.

Drive With Extra Care; School Back in Session

With the opening of school, it behooves motorists to exert an extra bit of driving caution in avoidance of injury to children, many of whom are away from home on their own for the first time.

The school-related routine and observance of safety rules that became ingrained in youngsters during the school year have likely become a bit rusty with the freedom and comparative security enjoyed in residential areas.

Considerate drivers of motor vehicles will at all times be conscious of the risks involved as young folks spill out of school buildings and often, in youthful exuberance, dash into streets.

Traffic signals, too, can be a source of danger as well as safety if children impetuously ignore them. This puts an added burden of responsibility on drivers to compensate for such lapses by an anticipatory attitude at stop-and-go points.

It is timely also to warn children against accepting rides offered by strangers or being receptive to friendly overtures from unknown persons.

Youngsters should be continually reminded of the danger inherent in such casual contacts, and coached to report them immediately to parents or teachers.

Children are the Nation's greatest asset. Let's protect them with all our resources.

With hot and cold war clouds hanging heavy over many areas of the globe, conflict has erupted in another quarter: Cannes, France.

There, at the casino, Marlene Dietrich and Zsa Zsa Gabor mixed things up (orally, not bodily) because the Gabor private photographer was exposing Marlene in the form-fitting gown with filmy top she wears for night club appearances.

Still, a photo is a pretty negative incident to trigger hostilities; it would seem—though one shudders at what it might be blown up to.

18 Nations Delinquent in Paying U. N. Debt

The 21-nation finance committee of the United Nations this month tackles one of the stickiest problems to confront the global organization since its formation in 1945.

At issue is the delinquency of 18 countries in payment of assessments for employment of U. N. armed forces in the preservation of peace.

Under Article 19 of the U. N. charter, countries two years in arrears on such obligations may be deprived of their votes in the General Assembly.

The indebtedness of the nations in default is related mainly to the Congo and Middle Eastern operations initiated by the U. N. Security Council to resolve spreading conflict in those areas.

As might be expected, Russia is the Number One deadbeat. She owes nearly $55 million for her share of those ventures, all of which is more than two years overdue.

The United States has made it clear that if the Soviets and other debtor nations do not meet their debts before the General Assembly of the U. N. convenes Nov. 10, it will move to invalidate their voting privileges.

Premier KHRUSHCHEV for one, however, has flatly refused to agree to payment of the amount in default and has so informed U. N. Secretary General THANT when he recently conferred with the Red boss in Moscow.

Unless the United Nations is to become an ineffective international debating society, as many of its detractors have forecast, it should resolutely adhere to the principles upon which it was founded and still the council voices of the delinquent nations.

In nondiplomatic language, let them "put up or shut up."

Women Entrants Give Men Fits

Distaff Gridders Grab Most Contest Decisions

A mystifying aspect of the Press Annual Football Contest is that the lady entrants have pretty well monopolized the blue ribbons.

One quick answer (given by a lady staffer of the newspaper) is that women are just smarter than men.

We smiled indulgently at the absurdity, and let the matter drop.

But the fact remains that the girls, allegedly not at their best where comprehension of sports is concerned, are usually the ones demurely waiting when the $500 U. S. Savings Bond winning awards are dealt out. Maybe they do it with mirrors.

Last year, two of them, having outscored a starting lineup of several thousand, were neck and neck to the game that decided the winner. Incidentally, the winner subsequently joined our sports panel of Swamis for a Saturday's prognostication, and what she did to the — well, we'll let the Swamis tell you.

To coin a phrase, tempus fugit, and tempus is liable to fugit you right out of a crack at the winning award if you don't get your entry in by the time the contest ends Saturday noon, Sept. 19. Entries must be in our hands by then — a POSTMARK won't suffice.

After checking the winners you predict of the 15 games listed below (for a tie, check neither) send the form or facsimile to the newspaper's FOOTBALL CONTEST. Entries may be posted to cards or envelopes and mailed or slipped in the Press Huron Street drop box. WARNING: Don't gamble by attempting to communicate your game choices by mental telepathy or via grapevine.

Only Press employees and members of their immediate families are ineligible for the contest. Each member of a family may enter, but just one entry per person, amigos.

Should any question about the contest rear its ugly head, decisions of contest judges will be final. From now on, you're in business for your self. We hope business is good.

David Lawrence Says:

LBJ Lead in Polls Not Surprising

WASHINGTON — One sometimes sees a race in which the favorite horse jumps off to a lead of several lengths at the start and almost everybody in the stands immediately concludes it is all over.

This could describe the presidential race. The underdog, President Johnson LAWRENCE, has had a masterful job of publicity done in his behalf.

From the moment he came into the White House on Nov. 22, 1963, the eyes of the nation have been fastened on him. He has had his share of publicity through TV, radio and the press — to present a favorable image of himself to the people and to capitalize on the political assets revealed by his predecessor, without assuming many of the liabilities. The Republican party, on the other hand, being disorganized, as an opposition party usually is — did not make use of the same facilities of expression available to it. The opposition, of course, does not have the benefit of the vast government machine which engages in many a politically motivated action of an official nature and pours out statements on almost every conceivable subject that could affect the voters.

Some day the party out of power will learn how to organize a continuing opposition to carry on every day of every year. This is done effectively in Great Britain.

NOT SURPRISING. It is not at all surprising, therefore, that many of the public opinion polls today show Mr. Johnson in the lead by a substantial margin.

The polls have been wrong before — even as recently as the California Republican primary in June — but they do reflect a simple fact of life in politics. It is that whoever occupies the White House has from the outset of a campaign a long lead on any rival candidate.

Already the Democratic politicians, with their private polls, are discounting the "cross-over" vote. But this, of course, is something of which they can't be sure.

Surprises have occurred again and again in American political history. Favorites do not always win, as was evidenced last week when a favorite, Gov. Peabody of Massachusetts, was beaten for re-nomination in the Democratic primary even though he had the endorsement of the Kennedy family. Maybe the private polls were wrong then, too.

GOOD CHANCE

Mr. Johnson seems to have a good chance to be elected. He certainly is, in the betting today — but he can't be too sure of victory. For nobody knows the extent of the protest vote, and no polls can accurately reflect it.

The issues are such that many people prefer not to diverge their leanings to anybody. Some are silent through fear, and others don't like to argue with their neighbors, and least of all to talk to interviewers for polls.

Mr. Johnson has had experience with close elections and is likely, therefore, to keep on running hard till the last day of the campaign.

The Bobby Baker case will get some more headlines, but unless the disclosures can pinpoint a direct connection with Mr. Johnson himself, there is not likely to be much mileage in that issue for the Republicans.

Mr. Johnson had a tough task in a political sense when he took over the presidency. He had to sell himself quickly as a stable, effective leader.

Being an experienced politician with some veteran political experts surrounding him, he has been able to line up not only the local politicians but a few executives in big business.

Considine Asks: Foreign Visitors to U.S. Leaving With New Image?

NEW YORK — People have been all that talk about how foreign visitors to the U. S. don't like NY, or much else about us. Now hear John E. Wason, U. S. Travel Service, U. S. Department of Commerce.

"It is fascinating to talk to Europeans who have just vacationed in the U.S.A. Almost without exception they are going home from their American vacation thrilled by their visit."

"A highlight for many of the visitors has been a visit with an American family, in one of the 35 cities participating in the U.S. Americans-at-Home Program. Thousands of them have enjoyed our hospitality over a cup of coffee or a drink."

"Our overseas visitors, like all tourists, express a preference for the well-known tourist sites. A ride on the Maid of the Mist at Niagara Falls ranks high as an experience to be told to friends back home."

"Many have discovered that their preconceptions about the U.S.A. were false. We live on a budget just like they do. Many things are cheaper, and we are friendlier than they had anticipated."

GOP vice presidential nominee B. B. Miller tells us about a venerable Republican who is coming into the September 14th election and for many years has been a school in the handling of the nation's conventions.

Late one night last July there was a knock on his door at the San Francisco Hilton.

When he answered it sleepily, dressed in his nightgown and cap, he was startled to see that his midnight caller was an attractive young blonde.

VERY SORRY

The courtly gentleman explained that the credentials had been handed out that afternoon at the Cow Palace, and he was very sorry, etc.

The aggressive girl put her foot in the door.

"You must have credentials here right now," she said. And then she added, "There isn't anything I wouldn't do to pick mine up right now."

The fine old gentleman yawned unhappily.

"Young lady," he said, "you should have been here when we nominated Warren G. Harding."

Economy of Island Affects Vote

BY BRUCE BOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — One of America's continuing off-shore concerns, the island commonwealth of Puerto Rico, is approaching a major crossroads.

Its upflited economy, still rising in power, needs infusion not only of more capital but of political and management skills suitable to a growing economy.

Burgeoning industry, fed for years by island tax advantages not enjoyed on the mainland, now requires better technical integration. Improved transportation facilities are a necessity, including some kind of mass transit for traffic-besieged San Juan.

As one close observer of the Puerto Rican scene portrays it: "Men who had no shoes to wear 25 years ago are now complaining about the difficulty of parking their new cars."

The impending change is also political. Gov. Luis Munoz Marín, the island's recognized leader since 1940, is retiring from office. Puerto Ricans have hardly begun to imagine what it will be like without this now fabled figure sitting in the governor's chair, La Fortaleza.

The governorship race this year will be fought principally between Secretary of State Roberto Sanchez Vilella, anointed this manner by Munoz as his successor candidate in the Popular Democratic party, and Luis Ferré, choice of the Statehood Republicans.

Odd as it is to favor Sanchez strongly. He represents a party whose dominance appeared reconfirmed this spring by an unusually large registration advantage. And he is campaigning vigorously against a background of 16 years as intimate counselor and "chief of staff" to Munoz.

Statehood Republicans often argued that their prospects of victory would bound upward the moment Munoz left the picture. Yet in the battle against Sanchez they are cautious in their claims.

Few observers look for Sanchez to match the nearly 60 per cent of the total vote run up by Munoz in 1960. But should he come within three or four points of that it might prove a stiff blow to the Statehood Republicans and produce a party upheaval.

Munoz, unaffiliated by Republican and other charges, that he has held the governorship beyond reasonable tenure, insists he would like to see a stronger party rivaling the Popular Democrats.

He believes the Republicans have been wrong to stake their whole case on the statehood issue. "It's their coat and their pants," he says.

Evidence grows that some Republican elements are, in fact, putting stress on such

Voice of the People:

'Let's Display Our Flag for Constitution Week'

We Americans should be very proud of our heritage and should make it evident by displaying our beautiful flag on all national holidays.

Very few take advantage of this opportunity. We have that privilege during Constitution Week of September 17-23 when we honor the basic law of our land.

Let everyone display the flag this year.

Union Brother Disagrees With Reuther

Thank you Brother Reuther for heeding the loud wailing of your charges. We are incensed at the bargaining committee for periodically shunting aside our shop troubles in favor of monetary gains. What troubles are we beleaguered by, you might ask?

A look at our shop grievances will give you a portrait. It will reveal how shop supervision has slowly and methodically deprived us of most of the working standard gains. We appreciate your intent to get us a fair and complete settlement of all our legitimate grievances. Management must be informed that we will be happy only through restoration of all our stolen gains—not through the dollar!

A DISILLUSIONED BROTHER

'Wide Track Drive Becoming Speedway'

There has been quite a bit of controversy on the appropriate name for Wide Track Drive. I know it isn't a very suitable name, but we could call it "Drag Strip Lane." After all the money and labor that went into this beautiful road, it is being used more as a speedway. The posted speed limit is 35 m.p.h. but there are few who stay within this limit.

Let's not use this road for speed, but as a scenic drive, and the purpose for which it was intended.

Suggests Writer Read About Bay of Pigs

I have a few comments to make on the letter signed Harry H. Mead. I knew the minute I started to read it that he was a Democrat. They seem to be the smearers, like Humphrey in his acceptance speech at the convention. That was a smear all the way through.

Evidently, Mr. Mead has not studied about the Bay of Pigs invasion. I advise him to read "Decision for Disaster" by Dr. Mario Lazo in the September issue of Reader's Digest and get his facts straight before he writes such a letter again. He puts the blame right where it belongs, not on Eisenhower.

HENNING A. BLOMEN

The Socialist Labor Party candidate for vice president, Henning A. Blomen, will speak at 8 o'clock tonight at the party's Pontiac section headquarters, 7771 Auburn, Utica.

Blomen was nominated at the party's 26th national convention in New York City May 24. He has previously been the party's candidate for several state offices in Massachusetts, including governor, state senator and state auditor.

He presently makes his home in Somerville, Mass. Eric Hass is the party's candidate for president.

Candidates on the Michigan Socialist ticket are James C. Horvath of Warren, governor; term. Knesset members are W. Clifford Bentley of Pleasant

Lawsuits Filed Against Troy

Lawsuits totaling $625,000 have been filed in Oakland County Circuit Court against the City of Troy and its deputy assessor Alex Ventitelli as the result of an October 1962 auto accident in which a woman school bus driver died.

Latest plaintiffs in the case were Mr. and Mrs. Jon W. Powers, 807 S. Bywood, Clawson, who filed a suit asking a total of $440,000 in damages.

Two other suits totaling $135,000 have been filed on behalf of the children riding in the school bus, which was driven by Mrs. David E. Grady.

A third was filed on behalf of a passenger in the Powers car.

The suits allege Ventitelli, driving a city owned vehicle, was responsible for the accident.

Storms Dash Hopes for '64 2-Man Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Lightning and hurricanes have dashed U.S. hopes for a manned space flight this year. Dr. George E. Mueller, National Aeronautics and Space Administration associate administrator, has announced.

The manned Gemini mission has been postponed from December to sometime in the first three months of 1965, Mueller said.

Astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young have been selected to fly the two-man spacecraft in three orbits of the earth.

Lightning struck the Gemini 2 rocket, damaging scores of electronic diodes in the Titan 2 rocket, and the dismantling of the rocket to protect it from hurricanes Cleo and Dora forced the delay.

Ballistic flight The Titan 2 is to launch an unmanned Gemini spacecraft on a ballistic flight down the Atlantic. Data from this firing is required before a manned mission is attempted.

Mueller said the launch now is scheduled for the last three months in 1964. Most observers say November will be the soonest the rocket can be ready. It was recreated Monday.

Vatican, Reds Sign Accord

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican and Communist Hungary signed an accord today giving the Vatican at least partial administrative authority over the Church in that country for the first time in 15 years. It paved the way also for the eventual transfer of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty to Rome.

Within minutes after the announcement, the Vatican press office said Pope Paul VI had named five new bishops and confirmed the selection by Pope John XXIII but never approved by Hungary.

Vatican officials said the timing indicated the appointment of the new bishops was part of the accord and that Budapest had approved their nomination.

The Vatican has had no administrative direction over the church in Hungary since the conviction of Cardinal Mindszenty on charges of treason 15 years ago.

STATUS UNSETTLED But the status of the cardinal was left unsettled in the new accord, and Vatican sources stressed that he remained in refuge in the U.S. legation in Budapest.

He took refuge there during the abortive Hungarian revolt of 1956.

The partial accord was regarded as a major step forward in relations between the church and Hungary, and could effect relations between the church and other Communist countries.

as well as between Washington and Budapest.

The fate of the 72-year-old cardinal has figured in negotiations between the church and the Communist regime, and also in talks between Washington and Budapest.

CLAIMS TORTURE The trial of the cardinal in 1949 was a sensational one. He made a confession, but during his few days of freedom in 1956 he told an interviewer he had been tortured before the trial.

A fiercely proud man, the cardinal has shown no intention of obtaining freedom at the expense of either his dignity, or that of the Roman Catholic Church.

Freak Mishap Injures Girl A 3-year-old West Bloomfield Township girl is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital after a freak car-pedestrian accident yesterday in Pontiac.

Sandra Mahrie, daughter of Mrs. Lynne Mahrie of 2050 Apollone, was playing with her two young sisters in the auto while it was parked on a steep grade on Yale.

One of the three youngsters pulled the vehicle out of gear, police said. The child either fell or jumped from the rolling car and was run over by the vehicle, officers reported.

Coming September 23—three different new Ramblers THE SENSIBLE SPECTACULARS 65's most sweeping changes in size in style in power

We can tell you this about the new automobiles coming to market for 1965:

No other new cars will be more dramatically changed, or better attuned to the new motorizing age, than the '65 Ramblers.

These Ramblers are changed, but not for the sake of change.

They are changed to meet today's changing tastes, changing traffic, changing turnpike demands, changing car uses.

To meet the challenge of these changes, we designed three different kinds of Ramblers, in three different sizes, in three different wheelbases, in three different price ranges.

We powered these Ramblers with seven spectacular engines, Sixes and V-8s, including Torque Command, world's most advanced engine. Boosts both power and economy.

We put new brawn and heft into these Ramblers, new space inside, yet kept the famed easy handling, parking, maneuverability.

We added new features to the long list of extra-value features you get at no extra cost—added new sportiness and action—added new glamor models, including dazzling new convertibles in Ambassador and Classic.

These new 1965 Ramblers you will see next week are Ramblers through and through—the most sensible Ramblers we have ever built.

But they are also the most spectacular Ramblers in history—spectacular in looks, size, beauty, performance.

Thus, they named themselves. They are The Sensible Spectaculars. No other words describe them better, more honestly.

When you see the new Ramblers on Wednesday, September 23—sit in them, drive them—you will understand the honesty of the name—The Sensible Spectaculars.

We invite you to see the 1965 Ramblers yourself—at your Rambler dealer, next week. American Motors—Dedicated to Excellence

No Drinking in Bowling Alley Concourses

Waterford Twp. Board Restates Alcohol-Serving Rule

Waterford Township Board members last night stood firm on their Aug. 31 ruling against serving alcoholic beverages in bowling establishment concourses.

Two weeks ago a quorum of four of the seven board members denied a request from four area bowling alleys seeking approval for concourse serving.

The matter was brought before the full board again last night by Joseph F. Kosik, attorney for Jow Pueras.

Kosik asked the board to reconsider its earlier action and allow Pueras to serve persons in the concourses of his two establishments, the 300 Bowl and Primrose Lanes.

Kosik argued that his client has a fine record as a bowling alley operator and that both establishments have been set up for concourse serving.

NO DISPUTE

Trustee Loren Anderson said he did not dispute Pueras' reputable status as a proprietor but that he objected to the principle of concourse serving.

"Bowling has been promoted as a family sport," Anderson said. "Serving drinks in the concourse would make it difficult for those who want to bowl free of a drinking environment."

Anderson added that he felt drinking in a concourse would add to the township's enforcement problem regarding minors.

Treasurer Mrs. Dorothy Olson pointed out that many leagues have bowlers under 21 years of age which would contribute to the enforcement problem.

NONE FAVOR

None of the board members spoke in favor of the request for concourse serving.

In other business last night, the board appointed Rudy Mansfield to fill the unexpired term of John S. Coleman, on the township's zoning board of appeals.

Coleman, who also served on the Township Board, recently resigned both posts when he moved from the area.

Also last night, the board set Sept. 28 as the date for a public hearing on the proposed 1965 budget.

REVIEW BUDGET

The proposed budget will be reviewed by the board at its meeting next Monday night.

Robert Lawyer, recently appointed service coordinator for the community school program, invited board members to a kickoff breakfast next Tuesday at Drayton Plains School.

The breakfast will launch a day-long program to acquaint area residents with the function of the community school program.

Also last night, the board set Oct. 12 as the date to receive bids on a car for the water department.

Miller to Blast Johnson in Texas Sortie

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller packed a kit of campaign barbs aimed at President Johnson today as he headed into Texas in the first sally by the Republican national ticket into Johnson's home state.

Texas was the first stop on a week's campaign swing that will take the GOP vice-presidential nominee through 11 states in the Southwest, Midwest and back East again.

Aides said before Miller left Washington that he could be expected to press his attack on the President in his brief Texas sortie.

Miller's forum was the Republican State Convention in this Texas capital city not far from Johnson's ranch home at Johnson City.

BARRY TO FOLLOW
Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, is to follow Miller into Texas with an appearance at Longview on Friday.

Miller directed sharp fire toward Johnson in a series of campaign appearances, mostly in the Northeast, last week.

Among other things, he questioned the propriety of the Johnson family's financial interest in a radio-television broadcasting company — here because the operation is subject to regulation by a government agency, the Federal Communications Commission.

Traveling in his special campaign airliner, Miller was to go from Austin to Denver, Colo., and on into Nebraska tonight.

His tentative schedule through Saturday also listed stops in Kansas, Iowa, Wisconsin, Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Delaware, before winding up the swing on Long Island in his home state of New York.

Killed in Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Six Indonesian guerrillas were killed today in a fresh outbreak of fighting in Malaysia's southwest jungles, the government announced.

Several other guerrillas were reported captured during the day, indicating widespread action in the Labis area of Johore state where about 50 parachutists were dropped Sept. 2. Thus far, 18 guerrillas have been slain. Unofficial estimates of the number captured exceed 30.

ONLY HAMILTON GIVES YOU
TWIN AIR STREAM DRYING

The air stream in any dryer has two different jobs to do — cradle clothes while they dry, and carry away used, moist air. Single air stream dryers can't be right for both jobs — they're apt to be too harsh or too slow. Only Hamilton gives two separate air streams. It's the big difference in dryers today. Other features are Dual Cycle Timer — choice of "Normal" or "Wash-N-Wear", Sun-E Day Lamp — gives clothes fresh smell, Temperature Guide with Air, Low, Medium, or High settings, Soften-Smooth Drum, Door Switch, Double-Door Construction, Black Phenolic Port Ring.

U.N. Says Makarios Will Lift Cyprus Blockade

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — U.N. officials said today President Makarios has agreed to lift the economic blockade of Turkish Cypriot communities on Cyprus some time this week.

Makarios reportedly relented under heavy pressure from Galatz, U.N. chief representative on Cyprus, and Lt. Gen. K. S.

Thimayya, commander of the peace force.

U.N. officials have warned Makarios ever since he imposed the blockade early last month that cutting food supplies to the Turkish Cypriots might bring armed action from Turkey.

Turkey announced last week it would break the blockade by using a naval-air convoy to ship food to the hard-pressed village of Kokkina, on the northwest coast. Makarios' regime declared this would be considered an invasion.

The Turks dropped their convoy plan Monday, and Makarios then said Turkey could land relief supplies for Kokkina at the port of Famagusta.

Makarios told the U.N. peacekeeping command that the supplies, if landed in a routine fashion at Famagusta, would be given all privileges.

The Turkish Embassy in Nicosia said Turkey would send a shipload of food to Famagusta if the U.N. peace force would supervise the unloading and take the supplies without delay to Kokkina, a Turkish Cypriot village that has been under blockade for six weeks.

There was no immediate response from the U.N. or the Greek Cypriot government to these conditions.

FFERS FOOD

Makarios also offered to feed Kokkina for four or five days, until a ship could arrive from Turkey, but Turkish Cypriot leaders told U.N. officials their people would not eat food sent by Greek Cypriots.

U.N. helicopters delivered two tons of emergency rations to Kokkina Sunday.

An armed Turkish convoy had been scheduled to sail for the north coast of Cyprus today. The government in Ankara announced Monday it was postponing its plans indefinitely at the request of U.N. Secretary-General U Thant.

The Greek Cypriot government had said it would regard that approach of an armed convoy as aggression which

Union Not Complaining

'Overworked' Men Like Pace

WASHINGTON — The trouble with longshoremen at the port of Galveston, Tex., is that they work too hard, the labor department said today.

"It cannot be in the best interest of the health of the men to carry on hard physical labor at such a pace all day, much less day after day," it said.

But, the report disclosed, the men like it that way and resist any efforts to add more men to longshore gangs or slow the pace of the work.

What's more, there is no seniority system in hiring, and union officials want to keep it that way, even though employers control the hiring.

This unusual situation came to light in one of a series of Labor Department reports on Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports.

SHARP CONTRAST

The Galveston situation is in sharp contrast to many other ports, where the Labor Department reports disclosed problems of too many men on some jobs and jealously guarded seniority by the union, which completely controls the hiring on the docks.

The key to the Galveston situation is a unique incentive pay system in leading cotton.

"Men who are able to stand the pace can earn as much as $9 to $10 per hour," the report said.

At all other cotton ports, longshore gangs of 19 to 21 men are used, but Galveston, 15-man gangs "work at a very fast pace," the report said.

INCREASE DANGERS

"Both parties agree that the speed of the operation increases the dangers of the work, but pointed out that the pace is set by the men themselves," it said.

"The gang's speed, is presumably, dictated by its desire to make as much money as possible in the least amount of time," the report said.

While seniority is a well established practice sought by many unions, the Galveston officials of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association don't want any part of it.

UNION OPPOSITION

"Union officials expressed sharp opposition to any form of seniority system," the report said.

This apparently stems from a fear that older men with longer seniority would slow the breakneck pace of loading cotton.

"Gangs saddled with individuals physically unable to produce at that rate would earn proportionately less," the report said.

And while the union is virtually in complete control of hiring in many other ports, the Galveston union doesn't even have a hiring hall. A telephone answering service is used for men to list themselves as available and for employers to call in assignments. The only restriction on employers is that all union members must be hired before nonmembers.

In commenting on the rapid pace of work, the Labor Department said:

"A real question exists whether the present practice in cotton handling is in the best interests of either management or men."

More Flights to California?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Detroit told the Civil Aeronautics Board Monday more nonstop air service is needed between Detroit and California.

George C. Kiba spoke for the Detroit Board of Commerce, the Detroit Aviation Commission, and the Wayne County Road Commissioners at a hearing before Examiner William J. Madden.

Kiba said the three groups are unanimous in their view that more nonstop air service is needed between Detroit and California.

Detroit has asked the CAB to remove restrictions on service World Airlines and United Air Lines between Detroit and Los Angeles and between Detroit and San Francisco or Oakland.

Student Sets Stump Stint

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Lewis B. Shepley will divide his time this fall between classes at Yale University and campaigning for his father in Missouri.

Shepley, 25, is a senior law student. His father, Ethan Shepley, is the Republican nominee for governor.

"I'll drop into school once a week until November and spend the rest of the time campaigning, mainly in Kansas City," young Shepley said.

He said he plans a career in politics.

Rich Canadian Brewer Dies in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — George Norzani, 79, multimillionaire Canadian and a central figure in a $17-million income tax suit, died Sunday. His holdings in breweries and real estate were estimated at $25 million. He and nine others were charged in 1964 by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service with having evaded $17 million in U.S. income taxes through the sale of Canadian whisky in the United States.

German Paper Hails U.S. Army Hero as 'Soldier of the Year'

BERLIN (AP) — West Berlin's biggest paper, the Morgenpost, today hailed the U.S. military policeman whose heroism on the Berlin wall helped save the life of an East German refugee.

"If there existed the honor of 'soldier of the year,' the award would undoubtedly go to Spec. 4 Hans Puhl of the 28th U.S. Military Police Co.," the paper said in an editorial.

"The determination of this 22-year-old, his valor and his coolness most likely saved the life of the one-year younger East Berlin refugee Michael Meyer.

"Hans Puhl — as well as his helpers in civilian clothes, our police and fire department — has lived through the highest soldierly virtue and discipline. He was brave like every soldier should be.

RISKED LIFE

"The fact that he climbed the wall at the decisive moment bravely, and even foolhardy, made out of the hitherto unknown military policeman Hans Puhl the man to whom yesterday the headlines of the newspapers of the Western world and sympathy and appreciation of millions of people belonged — a man who risked his life to save life."

A number of papers also published interviews with his mother, Wilma Makarevich, who is married to U.S. Army Sgt. Vaslo Makarevich. They live at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Puhl was born in Germany, and his father was killed in World War II. His mother married Makarevich when he was stationed in Germany. Makarevich adopted Puhl and took him to the United States in 1956.

The young refugee, a jockey, is recovering from five bullet wounds.

DELIVERS PROTEST

U.S. Ambassador George C.

McGhee delivered a protest to Pyotr A. Abrasimov, the Soviet ambassador to East Germany. "I most strenuously urge you to take the necessary measures to prevent recurrence of such highly irresponsible and inhuman actions," the note said.

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party paper, accused West Berlin police and American soldiers of a "crude provocation."

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP) — Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Republic have agreed to try to end the war in Yemen.

An authoritative source said that in three days of talks that ended Monday, Prince Faisal of Saudi Arabia and U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser agreed to a seven-month armistice, and that Egypt would begin withdrawing some of its 40,000 troops from Yemen.

Nasser supports Yemen's republican government. The Saudis have been giving arms and money to tribesmen fighting under the ousted ruler, Imam Mohammed Al-Badr.

The source said a new Yemeni government will be formed and that it will include some royalists.

MOSCOW (AP) — The economic chief of the Russian Republic has endorsed a proposed reform of the Soviet economic structure which would make profits the index of factory performance.

Sergei Afanasyev, chairman of the republic's economic council, gave an important boost to the pressure for sweeping reforms in the economic system in an article in the Communist party organ, Pravda.

Pravda has been publicizing proposals to give factory bosses a chance to pursue profits by abolishing many of the detailed plan targets they are obliged to fulfill.

LONDON (AP) — The Sun, billing itself as Britain's first popular new daily in 34 years, hit the newsstands today with 3.5 million copies aimed at the nation's affluent postwar generation.

Owned by the giant International Publishing Corporation, which puts out the 4-million-circulation Daily Mirror, the new morning paper has a magazine style makeup with half-page pictures and features mingled with news for 24 pages.

The Sun is printed on the presses of the Daily Herald, voice of Britain's Laborites for 52 years. The corporation killed it off Monday after vainly trying to pull it out of the red.

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Hilda headed across the South China Sea toward Hong Kong today after lashing sparsely populated islands in the northern Philippines with winds of 90 miles per hour.

Formosa, north of the Bashi Channel, suffered no ill effects from the typhoon.

Junior Editors Quiz on CLAMS

QUESTION: What kind of life does a clam live?

ANSWER: The average clam probably leads the easy-going life shown in the top picture, but many of them get into hot water, which is where the unfortunate clams in the bottom picture are going to end up.

The soft body of the clam is so tasty and edible that a lot of creatures besides man enjoy dining on them.

But few of these creatures can find the clams in the first place, because nature has given clams a remarkably successful way of hiding from enemies and getting the necessities of life at the same time.

They accomplish this by lying buried in the sand or mud. As the tide comes in, the clam sticks up a tube called the "siphon."

Through this he draws water into his body, which is protected by the hard outer shell. Like other living animals, the clam needs oxygen; he has gills which take the oxygen from the water and supply it to his blood.

The water is also filled with various food particles such as tiny animals. These the clam strains out and uses for food.

So, the clam has a remarkable amount of security and gets fed with hardly any effort on his part.

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can name at least six other animals which have hard outer shells.

Ask Hubby's Forgiveness; Your Behavior Is Childish

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago my sister told me that my husband never missed a chance to hug and squeeze a certain woman we both knew. I asked my husband about this and he denied it. My sister has a habit of making a lot of nothing, so I let the matter drop.

I had really forgotten all about it until I saw this woman at our church picnic.

My husband didn't know I was watching him and he came up behind this woman, placed both his hands on her bare arms and gave her a squeeze.

She didn't seem surprised or angry, either. Since then I told my husband not to speak to me.

I'd go to this woman's husband and tell him about it, but he's very jealous and might hurt my husband.

Am I making something out of nothing, or do you think I have a problem?

I've had men try stuff like that with me, but I've always give them such a dirty look that they never tried it again. I'd appreciate your advice.

TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: Start talking to your husband and ask him to forgive your childish behavior. Your sister is a troublemaker.

Avoid her. The woman probably knew your husband's "squeeze" was nothing more than an affectionate, innocent gesture.

Grow up and thaw out or you'll create more problems than can be solved in one letter.

DEAR ABBY: I am blonde, 5 feet, 3 inches tall, weigh 110 pounds and have a fairly good shape.

I live in a nice apartment which is beautifully furnished with my own things; in fact, I decorated it myself.

It's Another Girl

Grandparents of the new infant are Mr. and Mrs. Elbert W. Smith of South Marshall Street and the Glen W. Laverys of Pioneer Drive.

DEAR STILL: If you want to get this boy back, your technique could hardly be worse.

You've probably wrecked your chances by now so you have nothing to lose by ignoring him entirely, which is what you should have done in the first place.

Parties Honor Departing Friends

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Friends have said good-bye to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw who left today for their new home in Phoenix, Ariz. This will make their permanent home closer to their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shaw, now living in Tucson and formerly of Bloomfield Hills. Also, Charles Shaw Jr., and his family are living in Tucson.

Before Dr. and Mrs. Torsten Althin depart for their home in Stockholm, Sweden numerous parties are scheduled in their honor.

Among them is the bon voyage party on Sunday, given by Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hatt in their home Miles House.

Harold Ward is entertaining for dinner on Friday.

Dr. Althin has for two years been associated with the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

BACK HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Richard V. Oxford have returned from their summer home at Bellaire. Mr. Oxford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Oxford of Rochester, are also back after spending two weeks at Shanty Creek and visiting their son.

Mrs. Martin Archangeli who last week motored with daughter, Charley, to Philadelphia is spending a few days with friends in New York. Christy is a student at Pennsylvania University.

Mrs. Hildegard Parker who has been spending the summer with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Ford, will shortly return to her home at Longboat Key, Fla.

FROM THE WEST

Mr. and Mrs. David H. Preston of Vista, Calif. are spending the month of September with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David M. Preston.

Mrs. R. V. Hutchinson has invited Mesdames H. H. Albinson, Glen Shoemaker, Anatole Waiters and Wheeler Lovell for lunch on Wednesday, prior to the opening of the antique show at the Birmingham Community House.

The Edgar S. Collicks of Clarkston announce the engagement of their daughter Sharon Lynn to Hermes Francisco, Adornes Perez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francisco A. Perez of Caracas, Venezuela. She is a senior at Adrian College.

Garden Unit Marks Its Sixth Year

Cranbrook Branch, Women's National Farm and Garden Association, marked its sixth birthday at a tea, Monday, in the home of Mrs. Russell Kelly on Long Pine Road.

The hostesses were Mrs. Lloyd C. Sherwood, Mrs. Glenn S. Glass and Mrs. E. W. Lavery.

NEW OFFICERS

Newly elected officers are Mrs. Edwin O. George, president; Mrs. W. H. Pettibone, vice president; Mrs. Dale D. Douglas, recording secretary; Mrs. James Tenney, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Sherwood, treasurer.

Special guests included Mrs. J. Philip Wernette, Mrs. LeRoy G. Vandover Jr., Mrs. Charles W. Taylor, Mrs. Frederick H. Zeigen, Mrs. William McCallum and Mrs. Arthur K. Hyde.

I make a good living, do all kinds of art work as a hobby and have even sold some of my oil paintings.

I can put on wallpaper as good as any professional. Also paint, lay tile and even repair my own car.

I am my own cook, housekeeper and I make my own clothes. When I go out there isn't a dance I can't do. Do you think I need a man?

MISS INDEPENDENT

DEAR MISS: Obviously you do, or the question would never have occurred to you.

DEAR ABBY: I still love this boy I went steady with. We broke up about two months ago.

I have tried everything to forget him, but it is no use because I loved him too much from the start.

I have called him up and all my girl friends have called him up, too, trying to get him to go back with me.

They all say we are perfect for each other. He always says he has something important to do. How can I get him back?

STILL CARES

DEAR STILL: If you want to get this boy back, your technique could hardly be worse.

You've probably wrecked your chances by now so you have nothing to lose by ignoring him entirely, which is what you should have done in the first place.

But the land he found was not the land he left. Since the 1930s, groups had been urging a free state for Moslems, separate from India. Now the rumblings could be seen and felt as well as heard.

Told that, Bombay was no longer safe, Aziz fled to Lahore. He arrived just in time for the August split during which Moslems fled to Pakistan while Hindus fled to India.

THE EVACUATION

All his relatives evacuated the family home in Jullundur, India, heading 75 miles northwest to Lahore, Pakistan. They took none of the family books or treasures, except a sewing machine.

They thought they were going to return.

With Aziz's help they found a roof under which they could live. There were no homes left in Lahore. Then they started over.

FIRST DAUGHTER

Because of the turmoil and the living conditions, he couldn't send for his wife until January 1949. When she came, she brought a 35-month-old daughter he'd never seen. They named her Alice Mahmooda.

Mrs. Akram moved into the Lahore house with 15 of her husband's relatives. Partly because it is against custom for a young man to choose his own wife and partly because she was from the West, the other women excluded her from the kitchen.

Though the house was large, there was a large number of people and each unit had to have its own section partitioned off. Says Mrs. Akram, "There wasn't much privacy."

Her daughter grew up learning the Punjabi dialect right along with her English. By the time she was 2½ she was translating for her mother.

VISIT HOME:

By 1950 Mrs. Akram longed for her own home and her own way of life so Aziz arranged a "business trip" to the United States. He was able to stay 18 months, she, two years. With her on her return were Alice and a son, Johnny Khalid.

When she returned, population of the Lahore house had diminished and Mrs. Akram got "kitchen rights." She began to make her own impact on Lahore by teaching at a school for American children.

In 1959 she and her children again visited her parents. This time there were four grandchildren coming 10,000 miles to see the John Hoovers. Mariana Zohra and Susan Maran had been born in Lahore.

They visited for six months and returned to Lahore. They were American citizens and Catholic but their home was

SHARON LYNN COLLICK

Family a Part of West and East

By MIRIAM NEAL

Weddings, after all, are normal events, important, only to those around them, usually indicating that one more pair has settled down and is ready to fall into the pattern of babies, PTAs and eventually old

Eighteen years ago, under a large tree on Haddell Avenue, a wedding took place that completely transformed the life of the young bride.

A graduate of Wayne State University, Martha Hoover had been teaching in Birmingham for almost five years when she met Aziz B. Akram through mutual friends.

The young man from India, a graduate of the University of Michigan, was getting a degree in mechanical engineering at the Lawrence Institute of Technology.

"ONION BULBS"

He was young, handsome and intelligent and spoke enthusiastically of the land of Rudyard Kipling and buildings with "onion bulbs" for tops.

His goal was to return to Bombay and set up an import-export business. He had planned to return alone, until he met Miss Hoover. On Aug. 9, 1946 they were married. In January 1947 he returned to his native land to set up his business and find a home for his new wife.

But the land he found was not the land he left. Since the 1930s, groups had been urging a free state for Moslems, separate from India. Now the rumblings could be seen and felt as well as heard.

Told that, Bombay was no longer safe, Aziz fled to Lahore. He arrived just in time for the August split during which Moslems fled to Pakistan while Hindus fled to India.

AMERICAN SCHOOLS

In August she came home again. This time she put her three younger children in American schools. In December, Alice, her oldest, and her husband will join them.

The parents agreed long ago that their children would attend American universities and Alice, now 17, will enter Oakland University in January.

In the meantime, Johnny, 13, is attending Avondale Junior High School and Mariana, 10, and Susan, 7, are attending Elmwood Elementary.

All the Akram children can speak Urdu and Punjabi as well as English. Johnny is currently learning Arabic and plans to learn Hebrew.

TWO WORLDS

The family, in a sense, belongs to two worlds — the modern, advanced United States and the young, struggling Pakistan.

After Alice is settled at OU, the rest of the family will go back to Lahore. There Mrs. Akram will continue to be a living example of courage — the American woman, and her children who can live in two worlds and help both understand the other more.

It's a long way from Lahore to grandmother's house in Auburn Heights but through the years travel time has diminished and understanding has grown — all because of an everyday event 18 years ago.

Touring in East

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Patterson of Dow Ridge in Orchard Lake are on a two-week tour of England and Cape Cod. While in the region they will visit Mrs. Patterson's sister, Mrs. Olive Folsom in Redding, Mass.

Was Proper for Women to Sit Down

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My husband, myself, and two maiden sisters and his brother went to a smorgasbord restaurant. We three women preceded the men in line to get our food.

When we had found our plates we went directly to our table. After setting their plates down, my husband's two sisters stood at their places waiting for the men to come and seat them.

As the men were not following directly behind us, I sat down immediately. I thought they made themselves very conspicuous by standing there and that they should have sat down and not waited to be seated.

Wasn't this very strange behavior?

A: It was indeed strange. They should have sat themselves down as you did and not waited for the men to come to seat them.

Q: My mother and father are divorced. Neither has been remarried, although my mother plans to soon. My mother would like her fiancé to sit in the first pew with her at my forthcoming wedding.

I think it will be both improper and embarrassing to my father to have this man sit in the front pew and that he should be seated with the other guests.

A: If your mother's engagement to this man has been announced, it will be proper for him to sit beside your mother in the front pew. If, however, her engagement has not been announced, he should not be seated with her.

Q: At a small informal gathering of friends, is it not rude for two of the guests to carry on a private conversation to the exclusion of others?

A: You are quite right. A private conversation of any noticeable length that excluded others in the room would be rude.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

MRS. OSCAR M. GUILLAMONDEGUI

Argentine Is Best Man for His Son

Oscar N. Guillamondegui and his wife traveled from their Buenos Aires, Argentina home to St. Hugo of the Hills so he could be best man in the marriage of his son, Dr. Oscar Mario Guillamondegui, to Sally Jean Nickerson.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. I. D. Nickerson of Birmingham. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, gardenias and Stephanotis for the ceremony performed by Rev. Gerald A. Flanigan.

Her white floor length gown was of brocade silk with the scoop neckline and empire style waistline accented with pearls. A detachable train fell from a flat Dior bow. Her fingertip illusion veil was held by a pearl crown.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. David Spedding of Traverse City. Bridesmaids were Linda Scholtz of Birmingham, Mrs. Brent Myott and Marilyn Liebold of Dearborn.

USHERS FOR EVENT
 Ushers for the bridegroom were Dr. Walter Baranowski, Dr. Bernard Tucker and Dean Nickerson, brother of the bride.

After a reception at the Red Run Golf club the couple left for a honeymoon in the East. They will make their home in St. Clair Shores.

MRS. S. H. WHITE

Newlyweds Take a Trip to Tennessee

Off on a honeymoon in Tennessee are the Samuel Harvey Whites (Carol Ann McGee) who were wed recently in the Lake Orion Methodist Church.

The E. W. McGees of Long Lake Boulevard, Orion Township, parents of the bride, were hosts at a home reception following the ceremony performed by Dr. Robert J. Huggins.

CASCADE BOUQUET
 A cascade star bouquet of white chrysanthemums, yellow sweetheart roses and croton leaves, complemented the bride's gown and train of white Rochelle lace over taffeta.

A bouffant imported silk illusion veil was secured by a tiered crystal tiara.

With honor matron, Mrs. Wesley Lemon were the bridesmaids Sallie Metzger, Ann Dunaskis and Mrs. Arne Doimer, all of Lake Orion.

The bridegroom, son of Jack White of Center Street, Drayton Plains, and the late Mrs. White, had Wesley Lemon for his best man.

Escorting guests were Jack Tinker and Gerald and Thomas McGee.

Protect Mattress
 A washable mattress pad protects the mattress.

Needlework Kit

Stitch This Sampler

Every woman loves to make something pretty for her kitchen. This sampler, or wall hanging with its cross-stitched vine-like design is stamped on warm beige imported linen to be embroidered in shades of purple, blue, yellow, orange, brown, red and green.

The stitches are large, with a little outline and loop stitches for form, so it will work up very quickly. The color chart on the instruction sheet will make it easy for you to know where each color is to be used.

This kit also includes a wooden dowel stick and red tape cord for hanging. But if you wish you may frame the sampler with your own frame.

Should you be looking for something to make for a new bride, your church bazaar, Christmas gift or for your own home this is worth thinking about.

LWV Is Promoting the Female Vote

At the New York World's Fair, Wednesday has been designated as 'League of Women Voters' Day, highlighting 'Women Voters' Week', Sept. 13-19.

Gov. George Romney's proclamation of 'Women Voters' Week follows President Lyndon B. Johnson's announcement of the Week of the National LWV convention in Pittsburgh last April.

'Citizenship Day' is being observed at the same time.

EMPHASIS ON VOTING

This week was set aside initially by the national LWV, a non-partisan organization, to provide a focal point to stimulate the voting record of American women.

The campaign is opened to all individuals and groups interested in promoting greater participation of all qualified voters at the polls.

cerned with politics and government."

While it is difficult to ascertain the number of women voting in national elections, various polls would indicate that women have a poorer voting record than men. Their population, however, is greater than their counterpart, the male voters.

SLOGANS HELP

The League is promoting two national slogans this week. The "Your Vote Makes a Difference" slogan helps groups to break down psychological barriers for not voting.

The other slogan "Each One Reach One" combats apathy and encourages citizens to instruct those who have not voted before how to register and the legalities involved in qualified voting.

Among other groups participating at the national level in this week's venture are The American Association of University Women; American Women in Radio and Television; the U.S. Chamber of Commerce; the National Council of Churches; the National Education Association; the General Federation of Women's Clubs; B'Nai B'rith and others.

The Ladies Home Journal for September carries an article by Mrs. Robert Stuart, national LWV president, titled "The New Political Power of Women."

Colored Tape Will Identify

The start of the school season marks the beginning of a not-so-merry mixup of youngsters' books and rubbers which can continue, to the dismay of parents until spring.

To help your children identify their own books and rubbers quickly and easily, apply strips of brightly-colored self-sticking tape to the foot- wear.

A vivid red stripe around the tops of Junior's galoshes or vivid yellow initials on Susie's rubbers is good insurance against their loss. Not a guarantee, mind you, but it helps.

First-in-Nation Project to House, Aid Detroit Skid Row Men

DETROIT (AP) — Skid Row has survived the surgery of urban renewal, but now the city appears ready to try some unique psychology on it.

In the works is a plan to provide hotel-like accommodations—not the flophouse type—for upwards of 200 men who've hit the end of the line.

It's described as a first-in-the-nation project and has the financial backing of Uncle Sam and the support of a host of Detroit city agencies.

The program's purpose will be the rehabilitation of many of the degens of Skid Row—men trapped at the bottom by alcoholism and other problems.

HOUSED IN HOTEL

They would be housed in an old, downtown area hotel and would receive medical and psychiatric help, job counseling, spiritual guidance, and the like.

The hotel is to be purchased. The government, through the Federal Housing Administration, has granted some $250,000 to pay for the two-year pilot project, said the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Clement H. Kern, a member of the Mayor's Rehabilitation Commission.

Detroit would supply many of the services, he said, with such institutions as the city-operated Receiving Hospital playing a decisive role. Volunteers also would help out.

"We're looking for the guy on the bottom," Msgr. Kern said, and then he described the Skid Row man this way:

THROWN OFF WHEEL

"He is the mental inadequate, thrown off the wheel, the hard-core alcoholic, and the man who gets trapped down there."

"There's a whole host of different kinds of people, including the fast-back guys."

The soft-spoken priest, pastor of Most Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church, didn't use the word "research" in referring to the program.

"We want to see what can be done for the whole man," he explained.

NOMINAL CHARGE

If the project jells—and it needs only Detroit Common Council approval now—the men would be required to pay a nominal rental charge for their rooms. Much of the other things they required probably would be taken care of by various city and state agencies, Msgr. Kern indicated.

A key factor here would be the cooperation of state and federal employment offices. Msgr. Kern said these agencies have expressed a real desire to pitch in.

Physicians and psychiatrists also would be important and in some cases hospitalization may be required.

For men desiring it, the counseling of clergymen would be available.

PIVOT POINT

But the hotel is the pivot spot, the launching point for the rehabilitation program.

"Maybe we can talk some of these men into this kind of housing to get them started," Msgr. Kern said.

For 21 years the priest has tried to help Skid Row people. His church is just a few blocks from what had been Detroit's Skid Row.

About two years ago, he said, a group of citizens conceived the hotel idea. A year ago they stepped up their name when Skid Row was demolished.

TORN DOWN

The Row—then mainly along Michigan Ave. near downtown Detroit—was torn down under an urban renewal program. Away went the flophouses, the blotter-like bars, and the ancient hallways and cluttered alleys where men often slept.

But Skid Row didn't die. It just moved, Msgr. Kern said. He pointed out that many Skid Row people shuffled to other nearby streets—still not far from the downtown section—and now populate part of a neighborhood. Instead of being a strip, the Row has changed into a complex of streets which often overlap.

DREAM ALIVE

But what Msgr. Kern calls the dream—the hotel—is very much alive. He said a hotel has been chosen by the citizens committee.

The priest said the Common Council probably will be asked to act later this month.

If the okay comes, "we'd be ready to buy (the hotel) the next day," Msgr. Kern said.

Other cities will be watching with interest since, according to Msgr. Kern, the Detroit project will be the first of its kind in the nation.

Autos Hopeful for Full Output

Model Introduction Only a Week Away

DETROIT (AP)—Auto companies were hopeful this week of getting maximum car production with 1965 model introductions only a week away.

The industry turned out an estimated 116,906 cars last week, despite the loss of a day's production because of Labor Day.

There was some doubt about this week's production pace, however, due to isolated walkouts or slowdowns at some auto plants as a backlash of the auto labor talks.

Chrysler was hit by some walkouts despite agreement by the company and the United Auto Workers on a national contract. There were indications that more walkouts would occur before the UAW locals reach local agreements with Chrysler's 106 bargaining units in 12 states.

LOCAL ISSUES

Ford and General Motors continued discussions of a national contract, but they also faced the problem of some unhappiness among workers over local issues. Industry sources expected some scattered walkouts at both companies.

The industry has turned out 400,000 of its 1965 models to date and reported that dealers will have adequate stock in their showrooms when new cars go on display starting Sept. 23.

Chrysler scheduled operations at all its assembly plants last Saturday, with three GM plants and most Ford plants on similar operations.

Output from Sept. 1 through 12 reached 226,000 cars, far ahead of the 190,024 built during the whole month of August when companies were making their starts on 1965 production.

Condition of Cardinal Said 'Slightly Better'

ROME (AP) — The condition of James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, Roman Catholic archbishop of Los Angeles, was described as "slightly better" today.

The 78-year-old cardinal collapsed Monday during ceremonies opening the third session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council in St. Peter's.

Khanh Holds Tight Grasp on Saigon

But He Must Listen to Leading Generals

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Khanh and the generals who remained loyal to him appeared in firm control of Saigon today after failure of the weekend coup attempt.

Khanh's political future appeared to depend, however, on his acceding to demands of leading generals, including some leaders of the brief, bloodless rebellion.

The official Viet Nam news agency disclosed that 10 of these military leaders sent Khanh an ultimatum two days before Sunday's uprising. They demanded that the premier purge all "corrupt elements from the armed forces and civil administration" in the next two months.

The group also called for severe punishment of profiteers "who have exploited the people and strangled the national economy" rather than the usual government policy of sending such persons abroad. The generals insisted that Khanh crack down on persons in the government with Communist or neutralist leanings.

Cambodia Hits Envoy of U.S.

Delays Presentation of His Credentials

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI) — Neutralist Cambodia announced today it has postponed the presentation of credentials by U.S. Ambassador Randolph A. Kidder indefinitely.

Kidder was appointed in July. Cambodia has long objected to American alliances with her traditional enemies South Viet Nam and Thailand and to border incidents, growing out of the Vietnamese War, in which U.S. military advisers have been involved.

Late last year Cambodia stopped American military aid, turning to France and Communist China for weapons and training missions.

Ung Hong Sath, president of the national assembly, told the assembly in a speech this morning that Kidder's presentation of credentials was being postponed. It had been scheduled for today.

The assembly president said he was notified of the postponement in an audience with chief of state Prince Norodom Sihanouk. He said the prince felt that relations with the United States had worsened since Kidder's arrival.

It is the Americans who are feeding the Can Lao (the late President Ngo Dinh Diem's defunct political party) and want neutralism," the handbill said.

The Saigon Students Union has banned all student demonstrations for the time being.

Several hundred students began a march today, apparently demonstrating against corrupt elements in Khanh's government. They were quickly dispersed by leaders of the student union.

Movement of troops and armored vehicles around Saigon continued to spark rumors of still another coup, but they appeared unfounded.

Verdict Due Oct. 1 in Suit by 'Happy'

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — It was up to State Supreme Court Justice Joseph F. Gagliardi today to decide who gets custody of four children — their mother, Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller, or their father, Dr. James S. Murphy. His decision is expected about Oct. 1.

Seven days of testimony behind closed doors ended Monday. Both sides were optimistic. Nobody has said anything about what went on inside the courtroom.

Justice Gagliardi is expected to chat informally with the children — James, 13, Margaret, 11, Carol, 9, and Malinda, 4 — before rendering his decision. The children did not appear in court.

Their parents were divorced April 1, 1963, after a separation agreement giving Murphy custody of the children with visitation rights for their mother.

MONTH LATER

She married the governor of New York a month later. A son was born to them last May 30, shortly before her 38th birthday, and Rockefeller's 56th.

Murphy, 41, virologist at the Rockefeller Institute, married Victoria Thompson, 25, a school teacher, on June 10. Miss Thompson had taught several of the Murphy children at a private school.

Edwards said the instigators created "mass excitement and hysteria, inducing people to do this terrible thing," for example, by the "spreading of falsehoods, that a woman was dead, or that a woman was beaten by the police . . . that sort of thing."

Asked whether only three persons could have incited riots on the scale seen in Philadelphia, Edwards said, "If the opinion is right, yes."

HIS OPINION

"It is my belief," he added, "that they were taking advantage of a climate already existing."

Muhammad, or Hayes, arrested Monday, was free in $10,000 bail posted following an earlier arrest. That arrest came when a squad of 100 policemen raided his place after the riots and seized a gun, two bayonets and ingredients they first said might be the makings of gasoline bombs. The material later was identified as cleaning fluid.

Muhammad was charged with violating a city ordinance regulating the amount of cleaning fluid that can be kept on the premises. He operates a tailoring establishment at his headquarters.

Another deputy commissioner, Frank Rizzo, said Muhammad had been expelled by the Black Muslim organization as "too militant."

RIOT COST

Mayor James H. J. Tate said Monday the riots would cost the city about $4.2 million, including indemnification of more than $2.5 million to some 500 merchants whose stores were damaged or looted.

Train-Truck Crash Kills Two in Flames

CLIFTON, Tex. (AP) — Flames engulfed the locomotive and two trainmen died as a passenger train hit a tank truck carrying 8,000 gallons of gasoline Monday.

Kirby R. Vaughn, 71, of Temple, Tex., the engineer, and Leslie B. Himmelmreich, 38, of Cleburne, Tex., were killed. The truck driver, Aubrey Butler, 41, of Hubbard City, Tex., suffered burns.

None of the train's 61 passengers was hurt. The Santa Fe's Chief No. 16 was on route from Galveston to Chicago.

Rusk Sees Headway in Unifying Viets

Rusk reportedly believes that the danger of open fighting between anti-Communist elements on Sunday will now have a unifying effect in the South Vietnamese capital.

"It was important and gratifying," he said, "that these recent incidents did not lead to armed conflict and to violence among elements of the armed forces, and we hope that these incidents will have a stabilizing effect, and people, having now seen this prospect of violence which was avoided, will now recognize the importance of getting on with the thorough consultation and movement toward a stable and more permanent constitutional system."

U.S. VIEW

As to what the United States is now doing about the situation, Rusk said that the differences among the leaders "are of secondary importance compared with the overriding necessity of saving the country, establishing its security, maintaining its independence."

He made it clear that U.S. diplomats in Saigon have been taking this line with all the Vietnamese leaders, urging them to work for political stability.

"And therefore we would hope," he continued, "that these lesser differences would be put on ice, that a moratorium would be declared on them, until the main job of building a secure and independent country has been accomplished."

"We have tried to make that clear. And I think that we have made some headway on that point."

NEW COUNCIL

In response to questions, Rusk said it is important that all elements of the population, including Buddhists and Catholics, be represented in a projected new council to be formed by the present regime to develop a new constitution for South Viet Nam.

FOR THE BIRDS

On Dec. 11, 1928, Coolidge quipped:

"Mr. Bok is giving the bird sanctuary as a tract of land at his place, he is dedicating it as a bird sanctuary and putting up these bells to interest the birds in music."

THE DRY WIT OF COOLIDGE was ever present, but it sometimes became lost to the casual listener. Hunting brought forth these words on Sept. 14, 1928:

"I think the idea that I might go hunting in Kentucky arose from the fact that the bird dog that was given me in Superior I had Colonel Starling send down to a friend of his in Kentucky who is a very fine trainer of dogs. I presume that all the hunting I will do in Kentucky will be done by proxy through this dog."

THE UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS Press has just published "The Talkative President: The Off-the-Record Press Conferences of Calvin Coolidge," based on records found at the Forbes Library, Northampton, Mass., Coolidge's home town.

The editors, Dr. Howard H. Quint, head of the University of Massachusetts history department, and Prof. Robert H. Ferrell of Indiana University, write:

"We believe the reader of this novel material will obtain a fresh view of Coolidge . . . as a shrewd politician who demonstrated a surprisingly wide comprehension of public issues."

NEVER QUOTED

In Coolidge's day the president's remarks to reporters were never quoted. What he had to say always was attributed to a "White House spokesman."

The transcripts were sent from the White House to the Forbes Library in March 1929 when Coolidge moved out of the executive mansion and Herbert Hoover became president.

Forbes Librarian Lawrence Wikander turned up a wooden box addressed to the library. It held the verbatim transcripts of all the Coolidge press conferences.

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — "Perhaps one of the most important accomplishments of my administration has been minding my own business."

The words are those of President Calvin Coolidge to a news conference March 1, 1929.

OLD DEFINITION

At a press conference July 18, 1924, Coolidge said:

"I don't think I can give any definition of the words 'reactionary' and 'progressive' that would be helpful. That reminds me a little of the old definition of 'orthodoxy' and 'heterodoxy.' I think they used to say that 'orthodoxy' was 'my doxy' and 'heterodoxy' was 'your doxy.' "Sometimes the person is not well thought of and he is labeled ACCUSED — Shaykh Muhammad (left), 34, and Raymond Hall, 25, were arrested last night and charged with conspiracy and inciting riots that led to violence and looting Aug. 29-30 and caused more than $2.5 million in property damage in Philadelphia. Both are members of a Negro separatist movement.

Hold Men, Seek Woman in Philadelphia Rioting

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia police are holding two Negro men and are seeking a woman on charges of inciting the rioting and looting that burst on north Philadelphia's Negro area just over two weeks ago.

Arrested Monday night were Abyssinian Hayes, 34, who is known as Shaykh Muhammad, and Raymond Hall, 25, also known as Yusuf Abdullah. Police described them as members of an extreme Negro separatist movement. They were charged with conspiracy to riot, inciting to riot, and rioting.

Also sought on similar charges was a woman identified as Florence Mobley.

All three are Philadelphians.

OTHER RIOTS

Deputy Police Commissioner Richard Edwards said there were no indications, at present, that the alleged riot instigators were representing any larger organization, or that they had anything to do with recent rioting in such other northern cities as New York, Brooklyn, Rochester, N.Y., and Paterson, N.J.

Hayes founder of the National Muslim Improvement Association of America, and Hall, another of its leaders, were arrested outside their headquarters. It is only a block from the scene of an arrest on Aug. 28 that police say touched off two days of rioting and looting.

Edwards said the instigators created "mass excitement and hysteria, inducing people to do this terrible thing," for example, by the "spreading of falsehoods, that a woman was dead, or that a woman was beaten by the police . . . that sort of thing."

Olympic Village Opens in Tokyo; Houses 7,000

TOKYO (AP) — Tokyo's Olympic Village that will house some 7,000 athletes for the 19th Olympiad starting Oct. 10 was officially opened Tuesday.

In a 30-minute outdoor ceremony attended by about 500 persons, including government officials, diplomats and a scattering of early arriving athletes Olympic executives declared the sprawling, 165-acre site open. A band played as flags from 100 nations were raised. Press helicopters whirling low overhead virtually drowned out the opening speeches by Olympic Organizing Committee chairman Danjuro Yasukawa, Olympics Minister Ichiro Kono and Tokyo Governor Ryutaro Aizawa.

Kono struck the theme of the occasion by emphasizing the village was a place where athletes from all over the world would be able "to relax and mingle in peace and friendship."

But even as workmen carried in beds, TV sets and refrigerators and put the finishing touches to what was formerly a U.S. security force dependent housing area, complaints were heard.

The Italians have complained the accommodations were too crowded, a situation apparently resulting partially from the fact that more athletes are coming than originally anticipated.

EXCESSIVE NOISE

The Yugoslavs complained their quarters were subject to excessive noise from highway traffic. Officials said they proposed to reduce the noise by planting trees between the highway and the Yugoslav billets.

A prewar training ground for the Imperial Japanese Army, the site was taken over by U.S. occupation forces after the war and named Washington Heights.

The 249 independent wood and mortar housing units built for the Americans have been renovated for the male athletes. The women's quarters in the village consist of four four-story, newly built facilities with a total of 244 rooms.

In keeping with custom, the village will serve no liquor. The only "bar" is a milk bar.

Opening ceremonies will be held simultaneously at smaller "villages" outside Tokyo — at Karuzawa where participants in the equestrian events will live, at Lake Sagami for the canoeists, at Hachioji for the cyclists, and at Oiso for the yachtsmen.

No. 2 Quarterback Out for Two Weeks

EAST LANSING (AP)—Here's an advertisement that should be appearing in East Lansing area papers:

"Want a Young man who can throw ball, excellent opportunity to travel. First trip, southern territory, then Midwest. Young man might even go west — like Rose Bowl."

The Michigan State football team is looking for another quarterback to take along for the opening game at North Carolina, a week from Saturday.

Dick Probstle, the No. 2 quarterback, will be sidelined by a mild head concussion suffered in a head-knocking tackle became too hard. It is expected he'll be back in the lineup, but will miss the opener.

NO. 1 CALLER

Meanwhile, Steve Juday long has been picked as the top signal-caller. His understudy now will be Dave McCormick, a junior from Chicago, who lettered as an understudy last year, hitting seven of 22 passes for 102 yards and one TD.

A couple of sophomores already are applying for the job as third man at the position. Top prospect appears to be Larry Lukasik of Cleveland, who has worked well at defensive back as well as learning the quarterback chores.

Top Black Hawk Says Sawchuk Toronto's Key

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (U.P.)—Tommy Ivan, general manager of the Chicago Black Hawks predicted Monday the Toronto Maple Leafs will take first place in the National Hockey League this season.

One of the big reasons, he said, is "a guy named Sawchuk."

Terry Sawchuk, former Detroit Red Wings goaltender, was picked up by Toronto last June. He blanked the Black Hawks for two periods in an exhibition game here Sunday, before the Hawks scored six goals against net minder Johnny Bower to defeat the Leafs 6-3.

McAuley Will Start for Northwestern 11

CHICAGO (AP) — Midwest Football Briefs:

Northwestern—H. Dick McAuley and Wood Campbell, counted on for defense, will start as offense against Oregon State in Saturday's opener. The switch was necessary because of injuries to three other offensive backs.

Wisconsin—Sophomore guard Bill Maseller, a 250-pounder, was welcomed to the Badger camp after being declared to make the grade in time for Saturday's opener against Kansas State.

Illinois—Guard Willie Fox and halfback Wayne Paulsen returned to action to test injured legs after lengthy layoffs. Left end Dave Mueller, who came back to drills Thursday after a five-day illness, reclaimed his first string job from Gregg Schumacher.

MOVIE REVIEW

Indiana—The Hoosiers were told by coach Phil Dickens they are moving the ball better following a review of movies of Saturday's 36-18 intrasquad game. The squad went through a single session Monday and then was dismissed for registration and enrollment.

Iowa—Several minor injuries were reported as the Hawkeyes ended two-day drills with a 90-minute morning workout and a longer afternoon session.

Purdue—Coach Jack Mollenkopf regrouped his forces into offensive and defensive units, with plans to devote two-thirds to each practice to each unit's specialty. Non-letterman Bill Harmon, a senior, took over as No. 1 fullback.

Minnesota — Halfback Dick Harren returned, to practice to test an injured knee and showed indications that he is returning to full strength following a winter operation.

Wings Having Player Trouble

DETROIT (UPI)—Alex Faulkner, the little center who was the hero of the Stanley Cup playoffs two years ago, failed to report Monday when the Detroit Red Wings practiced at Olympia Stadium.

Faulkner is balking at a minor league berth in the Detroit system this year. He was demoted in mid-year last season after being a regular with the 1962-63 Wings and scoring five goals during the playoffs.

The Wings held a two-hour scrimmage with Gordie Howe scoring two goals to earn the Red team a 4-1 tie with the Whites.

Bruce MacGregor and Pit Martin scored for the Reds while Eddie Joyal notched two for the Whites and Lowell McDonald and Norm Beaudin each tallied once.

Coach Sid Abel scheduled the first inter-squad game for Wednesday. The Wings open pre-season play Thursday night against the Toronto Maple Leafs.

NEWPORT, R.I. — (NEA)—A tricky wind fin and pulley arrangement was supposed to steer the boat on course and give Eric Tabary a chance to sleep. Eight days out it broke. For the next 19 days he never got more than two hours sleep at a time.

"I woke up one time to find I was going around in circles in the middle of the Atlantic," admitted the 35-year-old lieutenant in the French navy who sailed from Plymouth, England, to Rhode Island—alone.

No bad scars, but continual worry, he grinned: icebergs, ships, storms, chance of breaking an arm or leg. He scheduled himself to cook and eat two hot meals a day and lost no weight on the way over.

The small grizzled Frenchman held the solo sail in 27 days.

Pro Football Wash Could Turn Stiff

By The Associated Press.

Let's hang out the pro football wash for the first time this season, but when it dries, don't be surprised at all the stiffness.

It was a long summer between tackles for some and the result should be evident about now. The worst injury of the opening weekend was suffered by San Francisco 49er tackle Bob St. Clair, whose 12-year career may have been ended by a freak pre-game accident.

St. Clair, a 6-foot-9 offensive tackle, pulled fibers loose from the Achilles tendon of his right heel while running to catch a punt in a pre-game drill. He'll undergo surgery within eight to 10 days and, at 33, he could be finished.

Linebacker Larry Morris, hero of the Chicago Bears' 1963 National League championship victory over the New York Giants, was operated on Monday after injuring his right knee in Sunday's opener at Green Bay. There was no word on how long Morris would be out.

The Pittsburgh Steelers lost defensive end Dan LaRoche, who hurt a knee against Los Angeles. Three other injured Steelers, halfback Dick Hoak (injured back) defensive back Willie Daniel (injured hip) and right end Jim Kelly (arm injury) are expected to be ready for the New York Giants next Sunday.

Players weren't the only ones hurting. Giant Coach Alie Sherman was nursing a severe case of strained eye after watching films of the Giant-Eagles game with the press Monday. The 38-7 Philadelphia victory was still there at the end.

For three periods Sunday, the American League Kansas City Chiefs looked great against the Buffalo Bills. But the Chiefs got started 15 minutes too late.

Kansas City outscored the Bills 17-3 over the final 45 minutes but for the first 15 it was Buffalo 31-0. Result: Buffalo 34, Kansas City 17.

Moral: Don't procrastinate.

The New York Jets unveiled Shea Stadium's football layout and also presented a linebacker who could inherit Sam Huff's fans.

He's Wahoo McDaniel, part Indian and part-time wrestler, who was picked up from Denver in an off-season trade.

GIVEN TEMPO

The fans seemed to pick up Wahoo's tempo after he was in on the first few tackles and cheered his every move. Eventually the public address announcer got into the swing of things, too.

After starting with the rather conventional "New York tackle by McDaniel," the PA man later shifted to "tackle by guess who — Wahoo."

Pro Football Wash Could Turn Stiff

By The Associated Press

Let's hang out the pro football wash for the first time this season, but when it dries, don't be surprised at all the stiffness.

It was a long summer between tackles for some and the result should be evident about now. The worst injury of the opening weekend was suffered by San Francisco 49er tackle Bob St. Clair, whose 12-year career may have been ended by a freak pre-game accident.

St. Clair, a 6-foot-9 offensive tackle, pulled fibers loose from the Achilles tendon of his right heel while running to catch a punt in a pre-game drill. He'll undergo surgery within eight to 10 days and, at 33, he could be finished.

Linebacker Larry Morris, hero of the Chicago Bears' 1963 National League championship victory over the New York Giants, was operated on Monday after injuring his right knee in Sunday's opener at Green Bay. There was no word on how long Morris would be out.

The Pittsburgh Steelers lost defensive end Dan LaRoche, who hurt a knee against Los Angeles. Three other injured Steelers, halfback Dick Hoak (injured back) defensive back Willie Daniel (injured hip) and right end Jim Kelly (arm injury) are expected to be ready for the New York Giants next Sunday.

Players weren't the only ones hurting. Giant Coach Alie Sherman was nursing a severe case of strained eye after watching films of the Giant-Eagles game with the press Monday. The 38-7 Philadelphia victory was still there at the end.

For three periods Sunday, the American League Kansas City Chiefs looked great against the Buffalo Bills. But the Chiefs got started 15 minutes too late.

Kansas City outscored the Bills 17-3 over the final 45 minutes but for the first 15 it was Buffalo 31-0. Result: Buffalo 34, Kansas City 17.

Moral: Don't procrastinate.

The New York Jets unveiled Shea Stadium's football layout and also presented a linebacker who could inherit Sam Huff's fans.

He's Wahoo McDaniel, part Indian and part-time wrestler, who was picked up from Denver in an off-season trade.

GIVEN TEMPO

The fans seemed to pick up Wahoo's tempo after he was in on the first few tackles and cheered his every move. Eventually the public address announcer got into the swing of things, too.

After starting with the rather conventional "New York tackle by McDaniel," the PA man later shifted to "tackle by guess who — Wahoo."

The Boston Patriots have never won an exhibition game and Coach Mike Holovak couldn't care less. His club wins when it counts.

More than 275,000 non-campers flocked to state forest campgrounds in Michigan during 1963. They routed $415,000 into the economy of local areas.

To Start Tours of UF Agencies

Aim at Explaining Functions of Groups

The annual "Come See" tours sponsored by the Pontiac Area United Fund got under way today and will continue through Thursday at the YMCA auditorium and City Hall.

Chairman of the five tours aimed at explaining the functions of two representative UF-supported agencies will be former Tiger pitching great Hal Newhouser.

The tours, or information sessions, are slated all three days from 10:30 a.m. to noon at the YMCA and tomorrow and Thursday from 1:30 to 3 p.m. at City Hall.

Four doctors and two cancer patients are scheduled to speak at this year's tours featuring the Michigan Heart Association and the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

Speakers will include Dr. Michael Kozonis, Dr. Jack Kozonis, Dr. Gerald Timmis, Dr. John Marra and cancer patients Mrs. Pat Fisher and Andy Barba.

PUBLIC INVITED. Several employes and organization groups are invited to attend the five tours. The general public also is invited to attend any of the sessions.

Displays and literature elaborating on the work of UF-supported agencies will be provided at the tour sites.

City Officials Due at Confab

Led by Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., a contingent of more than a dozen city officials will depart tomorrow for a three-day convention in Lansing.

The 66th annual convention of the Michigan Municipal League (MML) will meet in the Jack Taylor Hotel.

Taylor will preside at a social meeting on Friday morning. The meeting will feature a presentation of the city's work of government on a local governing bodies.

Former City Manager Walter K. Willman will participate in a similar session meeting on Thursday. Willman will discuss the view of management in public employer-employee relations.

The convention will feature appearances by Gov. George Romney and his gubernatorial opponent, Congressman Neil Staebler.

OTHERS TO APPEAR. Also, Democratic Sen. Philip A. Hart and his GOP foe, Mrs. Elly M. Peterson, will appear. Taylor and Mayor Leo Tom Leslie H. Hudson are the city's official delegates to the MML confab.

Other Pontiac officials attending the Sept. 16-18 convention include City Manager Joseph A. Warren and 10 department heads.

Still on Danger List

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—The Rev. John F. O'Neill, 53, of Cadillac, Mich., remained in fair condition, on the danger list at Rhode Island Hospital Monday night with injuries suffered when his car knocked down a fence and struck the rear of a house in Narragansett.

Freeway Roar Can't Disturb Silence of Tranquil Society

By BOB THOMAS
AP Wire Service Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Each day 300,000 automobiles race through Hollywood on the freeway, and many of the drivers catch a momentary glimpse of a triple-domed building that resembles a miniature Taj Mahal.

This is Vedanta Temple, a curious island of tranquility amid the city's roar.

From 1930 to 1953, the Vedanta Society maintained its headquarters in the sleepy street three blocks north of the boulevard. Then the freeway came slashing through the hills. The temple took measures to exclude the noise, and the intrusion appears not to have impeded the function of the society.

Twenty men and women live in the Vedanta colony, which consists of the temple and bungalows surrounding it. The colonists staff the office and bookstore and care for the buildings, and gardens, which are a picture of neatness. They also partake of three daily hours of meditation.

WHAT IS VEDANTA?

The society explains itself in literature written by Aldous Huxley, John Van Druten, Christopher Isherwood and others who have been attracted to its promise of peace. The name stems from the Vedas, ancient Indian scriptures on which its teachings are based.

The thesis of Vedanta is threefold: That man's real nature is divine; that the aim of his life is to unfold and manifest the divinity hidden within him; that truth is universal, hence all religions are valid.

Head of Vedanta in Hollywood is Swami Prabhavananda, an ageless, serene-faced man who came here from India in 1923 to further the work of the society. He took time from meditations to talk to a visitor in his immaculate office adjoining the Indian-scented temple.

Swami Prabhavananda is a Hindu monk, but he is a devotee of a monistic society; like a monk, he is celibate. Vedanta is conducted on a teacher-disciple basis, hence he and his assistants conduct temple services on Sunday and lead lecture and discussion classes during the week.

"I teach students how to meditate," he said. "There is no one method of teaching; the temperament of each student is different and must be approached in a different manner. I don't disturb his ideas and beliefs. If he believes in Christ, I teach him to meditate on Christ."

Romney Proclaims 'Constitution Week'

LANSING (AP)—Noting that Sept. 17 marks the 177th anniversary of the signing of the U.S. Constitution, Gov. George Romney has proclaimed Sept. 17-23 "Constitution Week." He urged "all citizens to repledge in the Constitution and to the great principles upon which the republic was founded."

Christ. If he believes in God generally, I show him how to meditate in that regard."

Swami Prabhavananda admitted that the atmosphere around the temple was more peaceful before the advent of the freeway.

"But that is progress," he said with a weary smile. "The freeway makes noise, but the mind is a noisy place, too."

"Even when you are in complete silence, you may not be able to stop the noise that is inside your mind. It takes practice, patience and perseverance to achieve solitude where noise exists. That is what we try to teach."

Claim the Capture of Indonesia Force

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Malaysia's government said today that a small landing force from Indonesia slipped ashore on the Malayan peninsula last week but said it was captured along with its arms and ammunition.

The government radio said further details of the landing last Wednesday were being withheld for security reasons.

Government sources said the landing took place 30 miles south of Kuala Lumpur.

Fire Hits 2nd Freighter; 3rd Runs Aground

Ship Flames Leave 3 Dead, 6 Injured

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Disasters on the high seas left three men dead, six injured, two freighters disabled by fire and another aground.

The three dead were from the Spanish freighter Sierra Aranzazu, last reported burning uncontrollably 50 miles off the eastern tip of Cuba.

Two of the sailors were dead when plucked from a life raft by the U.S. P.G. Thaler, a Netherlands vessel. The third died as the rescue ship raced for the Bahamas. Six other crewmen were injured.

There was some speculation that the ship might have been sabotaged by Cuban exile groups fighting the Communist government of Fidel Castro.

Reports from exile sources in Panama that anti-Castro commandos attacked a ship Sunday night could not be confirmed.

to Face Tax Charges

CHICAGO (AP) — Former Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois must stand trial Oct. 5 on income tax evasion charges.

In setting the trial date Monday, Judge Robert L. Will of U.S. District Court overruled a contention by Stratton's attorneys that the trial should be delayed until after the national elections to avoid "political implications."

1,800-ton Sierra Aranzazu, owned by the Compania Maritima del Norte de Madrid, has not been determined. The ship reportedly was carrying a cargo of blankets, garlic and other produce from Spain to Havana.

The U.S. Coast Guard was attempting to remove nine men from the freighter Globe Explorer, disabled by a flash fire 300 miles southeast of New York.

Thirty-three crewmen were taken to New London, Conn., by the Coast Guard. Four crewmen and five Coast Guardsmen remained aboard.

High seas caused by Hurricane Dora hampered removal of the men, but they were reported in no immediate danger.

LOAD OF COAL

The Globe Explorer, out of Norfolk, Va., carried 20,000 tons of coal and was en route to Rotterdam. The fire occurred when fuel oil overflowed and ignited in the engine room. An attempt to tow the ship to port was to be made.

In another incident, the freighter Henriette ran aground in rough weather on Chesapeake Bay Sunday night while heading for dry dock at Norfolk, Va.

The captain of the vessel said the ship was not damaged and none of the crew of 40 was hurt. He declined help to pull the ship free.

Female Architect Dies

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Lois Illey Howe, the first woman to receive an architecture degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, died Sunday. She would have been 100 years old Sept. 25. She was born in Cambridge and graduated from MIT in 1890.

Dies in Car Crash

REED CITY (AP) — Walter Narozny, 46, of Detroit was killed Monday in a head-on automobile collision four miles south of Reed City on U.S. 131.

where did you dig up your jump to five? Don't you think four diamonds would have been enough? If you had bid only four diamonds, I would have had a chance to bid four spades, which cannot be defeated."

North was entirely correct. His hand was worth a raise to three diamonds. Four diamonds would have been sufficient. In fact, some players might have bid three spades in stead of any diamond rebid. Either of these calls would have allowed North to place the contract in the winning spot.

How smart are you about investing?

(Take this test about stocks and bonds and see. Check all answers you think are correct.)

- A good reason to consider investing is:
 - A. You want to get rich quickly.
 - B. You want to give your money a chance to grow.
 - C. You hope to get a second income from interest on bonds or dividends from stock.
- The amount of money you might consider investing is:
 - A. Everything that's left over after paying the rent, food and clothing bills.
 - B. Whatever you can scrape together after taking out a personal loan, mortgaging your house and emptying the cookie jar.
 - C. As much as you feel you can afford to invest after giving first call to living expenses and an emergency fund.
- The way to choose stocks and bonds is:
 - A. Get facts from a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange, a Registered Representative for his opinion of the stock you are considering.
 - B. Ask your friends and neighbors about the stocks they have heard about. Choose the ones that most of them recommend.
 - C. Listen to any exciting rumors from an acquaintance or a persuasive stranger willing to let you in on a "sure thing." Buy fast.
- The thing to keep in mind about securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange is:
 - A. They can usually be bought and sold quickly in a fair and orderly market.
 - B. They represent ownership in most of the largest corporations in America.
 - C. They offer varying degrees of rewards and risk.

Answers:
1. "B" and "C" are correct. (Smart investors set goals for themselves, usually for the long term. People who plunge to get rich quickly usually get poor quickly.)
2. "C" is correct. (Smart investors don't invest money they are going to need in the foreseeable future. Some systematically invest through the Monthly Investment Plan, with as little as $40 every three months.)
3. "A" is correct. (Smart investors take advantage of knowledgeable advice. One source to consult is the Registered Representative. He had to meet Exchange requirements at the time he became a broker in a Member Firm.)
4. All the answers are correct.

State Gubernatorial Foes Handshaking Way to Party Confabs

By The Associated Press
Michigan's two major candidates for governor shake hands—with every voter who's handy—and come out fighting this week, starting tonight in a debate in Grand Rapids.

The busy campaign week for Republican Gov. George Romney and his opponent, Democratic Congressman-at-large Neil Staeble, winds up this weekend with the party state conventions.

The two actually will cross paths twice. They debate tonight at the Michigan AFL-CIO Convention and both will address a Michigan Municipal League luncheon Wednesday in Lansing.

Both will be in the Lansing area most of the week, although Staeble will spend all of today—exactly seven weeks before the election day—in Grand Rapids.

TEMPERANCE FOUNDATION
Romney will address the Michigan Temperance Foundation in Lansing, attend the 14th annual Peach Ridge Apple Smorgasbord in Sparta and drop in at a meeting of Republican women workers at Comstock Park today before heading to Grand Rapids.

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. Frank Luther Mott, 78, wife of the dean emeritus of the University of Missouri School of Journalism, died Sunday. A native of Mt. Airy, Iowa, Mrs. Mott was graduated from Simpson College and was on the school's faculty from 1926 through 1928.

Staeble plans to be up early both Wednesday and Thursday for handshaking at the Oldsmobile plant gate in Lansing.

Romney, who spent Monday morning in Detroit shaking hands, has scheduled plant visits in Jackson at Aerquip Corp. and Foote & Jenks Inc. on Wednesday. He also plans to visit a shopping center. While a staff meeting in Detroit occupies the governor

Thursday, Staeble will address the Temperance Foundation, have lunch at Ingham County Democratic headquarters, attend some Lansing-area coffee hours and have dinner at a local hospital.

PARTY CONVENTIONS

Both candidates head Friday for party conventions, where they'll have a hand in choosing lieutenant governor candidates. Romney will address the Greater Detroit Safety Council first, though. Democrats will meet in Laning and Republicans in Detroit for the conventions.

Romney, following his usual pattern, will take Sunday off. Staeble will address the Senior Citizens for Direct Action in Lansing.

Oakland County Coach Owns Perfect Grid Mark

Webster Holds Lead With Sorrows Team

At the opening kick-off this week for the county high school football squads there will be one perfect record at stake among the 37 returning coaches.

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows compiled an impressive 7-0-0 mark last season under the first year direction of Bud Webster and he'll attempt to add to that mark this week.

He is far from being the only one with a glossy mark, however, and takes a back seat when it comes to proven ability over a number of seasons.

Rochester's Gene Konley is, of course, the dean of county scholastic grid mentors, entering his 21st season with the Falcons.

Only Bob Mineweaser of Waterford Our Lady of Lakes is close to the "Dean," having put in 14 years at St. Michael and another three at his present post.

Konley is the leader in total victories with 121, an edge of 48 over Mineweaser. The latter has 59 defeats on his log for the largest amount there, although Konley's 48 is the highest for one school.

OVERSHADOWED

But even Konley's 121-48-2 record (.707 winning percentage) is overshadowed by the fancy marks of other veteran mentors.

Ferndale's Frank Joranko has experienced only three losses and a tie in 27 games over three seasons for a fancy .851 winning mark.

Dave Smith at Walled Lake has succeeded at an .833 pace (55-10-1) in eight seasons; and John Shada at Ferndale St. James is clicking at an .825 rate (33-7-0) for five years.

Something of a paradox is Ron Howath at Northville. In five years at Royal Oak Shrine he was 13-18-0 for .418. The past six seasons with the Mustangs he has posted a 42-9-2 log for a .792.

However, Shrine's present coach, Al Fracassa, has a 21-8-3 mark (.656) in four years.

At the opposite end of the ladder, two returning mentors will be looking for their first grid triumphs.

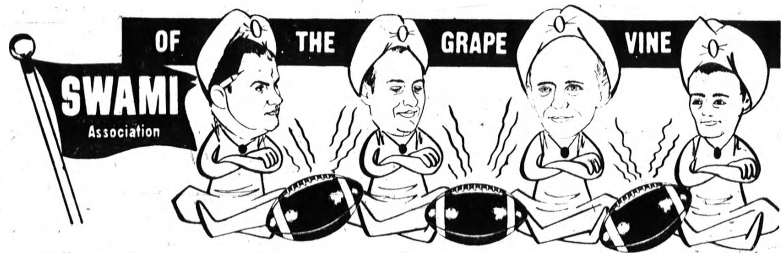

Birmingham Brother Rice leader Joe Pascuzzi witnessed seven defeats last year in his baptism of fire; while South Lyon's Gary Dode took eight beatings without a conquest.

Frank Crowell has moved to Madison High after 12 years and a 50-55-6 record at Avondale.

He is replaced by Dick Bye. Other coaches in their first season locally will be Pontiac Northern's Dave Schmidt, Roger Sykes at Emmanuel Christian, Lake Orion's Dale Jessie, Cranbrook's Del Walden, Royal Oak St. Mary's Glen Goode, and Bill Tunnick at Bloomfield Hills.

Hello and Cheerio, all you Swami fans.

My, my, another season full of gridiron thrills and a Grapevine just waiting to be picked. Swami president Don Vogel, re-elected for two straight years, and last year by a very close vote in the last week of the season, is back to call the '64 meeting of Swamis into session.

This is election year and rumors are when the campaign ends there may be a new Swami in the chair despite Swami Vogel's reluctance to give it up.

But, away we go with our picks from the Grapevine.

County Prep All-Star Game

The green light has been given to the Pontiac area Jaycees to reinstate the North-South Oakland County All-Star game which was held for the first time in 1960.

The game is expected to be played next August with the top players from North Oakland County schools meeting those from South Oakland County and chosen from the All-Oakland County team which appears in The Press each November.

The Jaycees were forced to call off plans for a 1961 game when the NCAA and Michigan High School Athletic Association failed to give their approval.

RULE CHANGED

Since then, the NCAA has relaxed its rule which made players ineligible for freshman college football should they appear in such a game.

The NCAA now approves all-star games conducted on a non-profit basis and the local Jaycees, who use the profits of the game for their youth activities in Oakland County, have been given tentative approval for the 1965 contest.

Final okay is expected to come out of the All-Star game committee of the NCAA during their next meeting in March.

Meanwhile, the MHSAA has taken a hands off policy in regard to such games due to the fact that the players competing are graduates and no longer under high school jurisdiction.

In the 1960 game, the North team coached by ex-Lions' player Leon Hart and assistant Jack Simmons, defeated the South County squad 19-12 in a thrilling contest at Wisner Stadium before 7,500 fans.

Lou Creekmur also an ex-Lion star, and assistant Wally Fromhart coached the South team which had the county's Outstanding Player Ron Bishop at quarterback.

Pontiac Northern's Bob Hocking was the running star of the game. The speedy little back scored the winning TD for the North to break a 12-12 tie in the final four minutes of play.

The Jaycees have not indicated who will do the coaching of both teams but they note that all players chosen from All-Oakland County selections will be mailed invitations as the school year reaches its end.

Confident Skipper Ready for Cup Race

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—Robert N. Bavier Jr. did "nothing heroic" in World War II and there is nothing heroic he expects to do in America's Cup races starting today.

There is one thing he does expect however: "to win."

Bavier, born to the sea, is the skipper of the Constellation which has been entrusted with the task of keeping the America's Cup in the United States, where it has been since the greatest of all yacht races was inaugurated 113 years ago.

Confident, but not cocky, he promises he will do just that.

In the process — if this prediction is right and yachting experts say it is — he will whip an old sailing buddy, Peter Markham Scott who will be at the helm of Sovereign, the British millionaire yacht.

It was in 1851 that the proud British first challenged the upstart United States for world supremacy and put up for first prize, the America's Cup — a silver trophy worth something like $250 if melted down.

The British have been sorry ever since. Seventeen times they've tried to win it back without success. They even called or sister commonwealth, Australia, to do it once—and the bid failed, too.

No Weak Sisters Found in Saginaw Valley Loop

In a league where there are no weak sisters, grinding out a championship on the gridiron can be a man-sized chore.

The league is the Saginaw Valley Conference and most of the nine teams in the loop will open the title race Friday night.

In looking for favorites there are a couple — Flint Central and Bay City Central and a pair of contenders in Saginaw and Flint Southwestern.

Bay City Central rolled through the rugged schedule to win the crown last year with a 7-1-0 record and the Wolves have enough personnel returning to howl again this year.

Flint Central and Flint Northern shared second place on the loop ladder with 6-2 records.

Both teams were hit hard by graduation — Central lost 35 lettermen — and the addition of another high school — Flint Northwestern — may further drain the Indians.

Flint Central's first string has heaped up a pile of league experience but coach Bob Leach may have trouble when he turns to the reserves.

RESERVE STRENGTH

Saginaw has 10 lettermen returning from last year's 4-4 team, one for every position. The squad is well-stocked with reserve strength.

Expected to carry a big part of the load for Saginaw is senior quarterback Tom Beck along with backfield mate Bob Markey (5-10, 175), a second team selection on the All SVC squad.

Saginaw Arthur Hill has 12 lettermen back, but the squad has a few holes to fill on a light line.

Flint Southwestern could surprise a few teams. The Colts have 18 veterans on the squad. Dick Miller (5-9, 152), a senior, will guide the Colts at quarterback.

The forward wall is anchored by tackle Mike Palmer (6-2, 210) and guard Jerry Berryman (5-10, 185).

Midland, 3-5 last year, may be a sleeper.

The Chemics, if they stay healthy, will have one of the biggest lines in the conference, a line built around guards Jim Rutledge (6-4, 220) and Wes Wade (5-10, 210) along with tackles Jim Woods (6-2, 195) and Steve Dowling (6-0, 205), who may also see duty at center.

Bay City Handy and Pontiac Central occupied the bottom rungs on the SVC ladder last year and both have offensive and defensive problems to solve if they are to move up.

- The forecast:
1. Bay City Central
 2. Flint Northern
 3. Flint Southwestern
 4. Flint Central
 5. Saginaw
 6. Pontiac Central
 7. Arthur Hill
 8. Midland
 9. Bay City Handy

Eastern Michigan Has 21 Lettermen

Eastern Michigan University opens the season September 26th at home against Adrian and the Hierens are building their 1964 hopes around 21 lettermen.

Playing the President's Athletic Conference for the first time this season coach Fred Tröske will pin the team's hopes on former East Detroit high quarterback Bill MacGillivray, and Jeff Barth of Farmington at fullback.

John Carroll will be the first PAC opponent for Eastern on the home gridiron and October 24 the Hurons will meet Wayne State in Detroit in a league contest.

One of the oldest rivals on Pontiac Central's gridiron schedule is Bay City Central. The two squads met for the first time in 1914, with BCC emerging on top, 15-14. In 33 meetings, Pontiac Central won 19, lost 13 and one game ended in a tie.

Tribe Needs Defense to Plug Holes

Pontiac Central's Chiefs will need a well-honed hatchet to carve out a more comfortable position in the rough and tumble Saginaw Valley Conference football race.

The Chiefs suffered through a dismal 0-8-1 season last fall, but they have enough strength returning to start the climb from the SVC basement.

Coach Paul Dellerba is starting his fifth season as chief of the tribe with a record of 11-30-5 behind him.

The Chiefs lacked the two important elements of a good football team last year — defense and offense.

In nine outings, the Tribe mustered only 33 points while the opposition was rolling up 266.

EXPERIENCE

The losing string did give Dellerba an opportunity to experiment with new players and he tossed all available hands into action.

The experience of the 13 returning lettermen could serve as a springboard for the Chiefs in their bid for gridiron respectability.

Dellerba will field a light line (by SVC standards) but one that could be strong up the middle.

The two big men in the line are senior tackles Neal Peterson (5-11, 225) and Norman Coates (5-11, 195). They will be flanked at the guard positions by a pair of junior letter winners — Leroy Jackson (5-11, 175) and lightweight Sylvester Robinson (5-9, 145).

Junior Marvin Quince (6-0, 180) looks like the starter at center.

Improved blocking on offense could make the Chiefs a threat to any team in the conference.

They have the backfield built around quarterback Jerry Murphy (5-11, 170) and speedy junior halfback Karl Williams (5-10, 170).

Another problem which Dellerba will have to solve is the defensive backfield. Last year's defensive line was adequate, but the backfield was particularly vulnerable to the touchdown pass.

The Chiefs open the gridiron grid Friday at Bay City Central, the team picked by conference coaches to finish on top. Saginaw Arthur Hill will provide the opposition for the Tribe's home opener Sept. 26 at Wisner Stadium.

Flint Central and Pontiac Central started their football rivalry in 1910, with the Flint school taking the initial game by the unusual score of 5-0. The Chiefs lost by the same score a year later at Port Huron.

Boilermakers Brew 'Instant Passers'

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — If Purdue's long history of creating instant quarterbacks prevails, the veteran Boilermakers finally may visit the Rose Bowl this football season.

Sophomore Bob Griese, a fine prospect from Evansville, Ind., must fill the quarterback shoes of graduated Ron DiGravio if coach Jack Mollenkopf is to make any Big Ten hay with an impressive batch of 23 lettermen.

Mollenkopf, starting his ninth season at a school which never has gone to the Rose Bowl, thinks the versatile Griese may prove another in a line of overnight Purdue quarterback finds. "We have been fortunate in having new players take strong command — like Bob DeMoss, Dale Samuels, Len Dawson, Ernie Allen and DiGravio," said Mollenkopf.

MAY BE BETTER

"I think we'll be fortunate again. At least, we may be better at quarterback than some people suspect."

Griese does not rate as a passing whizz, like Purdue's former soph quarterback stars, but he is a more than adequate tosser, runs well, picks and kicks off.

Competing with Griese are Doug Holcomb, a non-letterman junior and son of Northwestern athletic director Stu Holcomb, and senior Ken Eby, a defensive specialist.

Purdue's seven-game Big Ten schedule includes defending champion Illinois, well-regarded Michigan arch-rival Indiana, tabbed a conference sleeper. But Purdue does not meet well-boomed Ohio State.

Illinois, however, cannot return to the Rose Bowl, so the call could go to Purdue when the smoke clears from such throat-cutting as the Illinois-Ohio State, Illinois-Michigan and Michigan-Ohio State contest.

FOURTH PLACE

"Our big problem, beyond quarterback, is to prove defensively and I believe we will have a better defensive team than last year," said Mollenkopf. The Boilermakers wound up fourth in the Big Ten at 4-3 and had a 5-4 over-all mark.

Purdue is loaded with seasoned and swift, if smallish backs, and has a batch of dandy pass receivers who could cause Big Ten havoc if Griese finds range.

Heading no fewer than five lettermen ends is Bob Hadrick, second best Big Ten pass catcher last year.

Although Mollenkopf has several letterman ball-carriers, his best break-away threat is sophomore Louis Sims, 170, Steelton, Pa. at that, 40-yard speed tests, Sims is matched at 4.7 by lettermen Charley King, Jim Morel and Eby. Tom Fugate and Gordon Teter also are swift seasoned halfbacks.

Two experienced fullbacks are John Kuzniewski and Randy Minniear. The line is well stacked that such standouts as tackle Jim Garcia, and guards Louis DeFilippo and 260-pound Bob Hopp are struggling to achieve first team status.

Problem for New Coach

PNH's Huskies Lack Experience

The best cure for inexperience is experience.

Simple? Yes, and it may be upon this elementary analysis that the hopes of the Pontiac Northern football squad will ride this fall.

Directing the 1964 Huskies will be Dave Schmidt, in his freshman year at the helm following four years as an assistant coach. Schmidt moved into the head position after Bob Dingman moved to Lansing Eastern.

Schmidt has a lot of lettermen returning—17 in fact—but only three members are back from last year's team which finished second in the Inter-Lakes League with a 3-2 mark and a 6-3 over-all record.

The new mentor is whipping the Huskies in shape for the opener Friday against Troy at Wisner Stadium.

"Inexperience will probably hurt us more than anything else," Schmidt said. "And our major job is to find 11 men with enough confidence and desires to overcome this lack of experience."

Despite the team's lack of game action, the outlook is not a dismal one.

Pontiac Press Photo

SOMEONE MISSING — New coach Dave Schmidt at Pontiac Northern will have experience at the center and running back slots, but he must find someone to fill the quarterback's role. Mike Samuilow (43), Mike Woodruff (30), Ron Dempsey (with ball) and John Cojocar should contribute much to the offense.

Runnerup Battle Looms in League

The battle for the runner-up spot in the Inter-Lakes League football race could be a dilly.

Walled Lake, the perennial powerhouse, is conceded the No. 1 position on the basis of past performances plus a big mobile line.

Scraping for the second spot will be Farmington, Waterford and Pontiac Northern.

Berkley and Southfield dropped out of the I-L to join the Southeastern Michigan Association.

Farmington has a lot of talent in 12 returning lettermen and the Falcons could give Walled Lake a real tussle.

FINISHED FOURTH

The squad finished fourth last year with a 2-2-1 record, and a good share of the regulars are back.

The strong point in the Falcons attack is a big speedy backfield.

Dick Johnston (5-10, 165) at halfback and Roy Leach (5-11, 175) at fullback have earned a pair of letters at the positions.

Holding down the other running spot will be Bruce Charles, a 5-11, 165-pounder.

Junior Ron Cleveland (6-1, 165) will get the call at quarterback.

LIGHT LINE

Lack of weight in the forward wall may pose a problem for coach Jack Hayes.

Bill Crane at center is the heaviest at 200 pounds. Counted on to man two of the line posts are lightweights Mike Perry (5-10, 150) at guard and Fred Niemiec (5-11, 160) at tackle.

Waterford has a vastly-improved unit which should keep the I-L race interesting.

The forecast:
1. Walled Lake
2. Pontiac Northern
3. Waterford
4. Farmington

Waterford's Success Depends on Scoring Punch

Vikings Building New Unit

Walled Lake's Ranks Thinned by Graduation

Heavy Line Bolsters Hopes for Successful League Season

The last time Walled Lake coach Dave Smith said "This will be a rebuilding season," the Vikings constructed themselves another Inter-Lakes League football championship.

It's been a couple of years since Smith uttered those words.

Now he repeats, "This would have to be classed as a rebuilding year."

Gone are 27 lettermen from the 1963 team that defeated eight straight foes before falling before nonleague Plymouth in the final contest.

All-State quarterback John Thomas, and his replacement, Rick Trudeau, have graduated leaving a void in this department. It could be the major stumbling block toward another successful campaign.

BIG ANCHOR

The 1964 line, however, is anchored by All-County tackle Roger Ruminiski who packs 265 pounds on his 6-3 frame.

The other tackle probably will be 190-pound Ken Huber. Rick King, a 225-pound center-tackle, and Fred Ferguson, 200, another guard-tackle return.

Greg Giglio, is probably the lightest fullback (130) in the county. Halfback Pat Godfrey and fullback Lon Snook are lettermen. So are guard John Campbell and end Jim Grant.

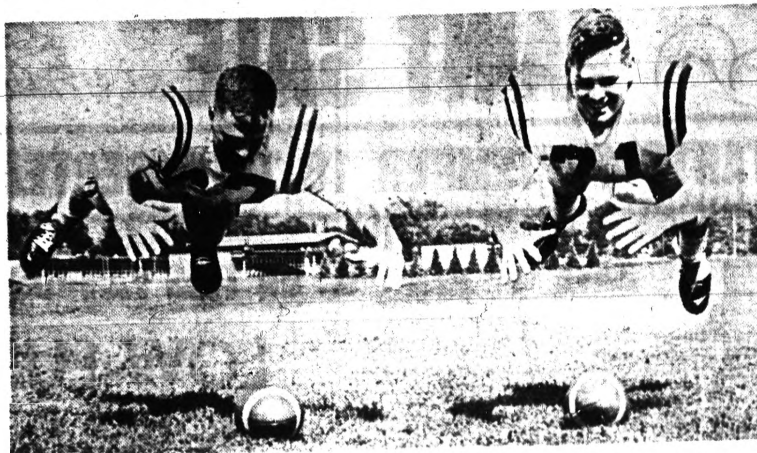

Walled Lake is the favorite in the four-team I-L. Southfield and Berkley have department for the Southeastern loop.

A strong nonleague schedule probably will keep the Vikings from posting a top-heavy win record. Included are Royal Oak Kimball, Detroit Eastern, East Detroit and Plymouth.

"We feel our squads have a lot of pride in being good," said Smith, "and will not roll over and play dead for any opponent. We may go down, but we hope that we will die hard."

Skipper Unit Finished Last in '63 Race

Defensive 11 Sound; Club Opens Season at West Bloomfield

You have to push the 'ole pigskin across the goal line to win ball games.

In 1963, Waterford didn't. The result was a 1-5-3 record and last place in the Inter-Lakes League.

In eight outings in the '63 campaign, the Skippers scored only 54 points. However, the defense remained respectable by giving up only 119.

This year, it could be different. As in most early football champs, an air of optimism prevails among members of this year's edition of the Skippers.

And if paper plans hold true, the 1964 squad may solve the problem of getting the ball across the goal line.

The Skippers face a rugged schedule that includes perennial powerhouse Walled Lake, the first league opponent, along with Pontiac Northern and arch rival Kettering.

OPENS FRIDAY

The team will get its first taste of action Friday at West Bloomfield.

Starting his fourth year at the Skippers' helm is Stu Thorell, whose teams have racked up an 8-15-3 mark in the past three years.

Defense has been the key to Thorell's modest success with the Skippers, and there are a few reasons returning to indicate that the team will pack an offensive punch.

The returning reasons are 13 lettermen, a list that includes junior quarterback Rick Ziem, a 170-pounder, and a two-letterman in senior guard Mike Elwell.

Ziem is a steady ball handler and a good runner.

Two other veterans in the backfield are senior Ralph Lane 5-9, 165 pounds, who will run at one of the halfback slots, and junior fullback Mike Lewis who weighs in at 170 pounds.

Tackle Robert MiHay a 5-11, 210-pounder, anchors the Skipper line which may be a bit on the light side.

Joining MiHay on the line are senior guards Jerry Charter (155) and Elwell.

RECOVERY ACE—Waterford linebacker Mike Lewis made several key fumble recoveries last year for the Skippers and will be alert on the job this season, also.

After Opening Loss

Hillsdale Unit Hopes for Rebound

HILLSDALE — Coach "Muddy" Waters was greeted with 71 candidates for this year's squad, and of the initial group 64 remain. There are 23 lettermen listed on the roster.

The Dales will be hoping to improve on last Saturday's opener when they lost to Findlay, 34-12.

Destined to see only kicking duties is Max Stokes, the Dales' leading scorer, pass receiver, and rusher last season. Stokes is currently nursing a broken hand. However, Waters has stated that team spirit has remained at a high pitch. Sophomore Larry White is expected to fill the gap left by Stokes.

Handling offensive starting berths are Bill Murphy and Larry Fowler, Bob Hallendick and Gary Tinkle at tackles. At guard, Alex Korzeniewski and Larry Scroby hold the upper hand. Jerry Rigelman or Dennis Korowin share the center slot. All are lettermen but Rigelman.

BACKFIELD BATTLE

In the backfield there is a three-way battle for the starting quarterback slot between Mel Bank, Pat Brown, and Tom Zientek. The halfbacks are held down by Bruce McLenna and Larry White, with Tom Marti-lotti and Jerry Albert vying for the fullback assignment.

Defensively, the Dales line up with Murphy, Rigelman, Korowin, Scroby, and Fowler up front. Backing them are Tinkle, Doug Sattler, Gene McFadden, and Mel Patterson. The other slots are still vacant.

Leading the Dales this year are co-captains Bill Murphy and Gary Tinkle.

Murphy is a hard-nosed player from Hazel Park, Michigan. He has a great deal of defensive experience, but will probably go both ways this season. "Murph" was selected as "Best Defensive Back" last year. The popular team leader is a business administration major with plans of entering business upon graduation this spring. Bill and his wife Sheila have a son, Mike 4.

FROM FARMINGTON

Tackle Gary Tinkle hails from Farmington, Michigan. He is also a business administration major with plans of entering sales promotion or public relations. "Tink" is being switched from the guard slot that he capably filled last season. Gary will also graduate this spring.

Tri-County Colors Flown by Captains

The top spot in the Tri-County League has been conceded to the smooth-sailing Kettering Captains.

The only question remaining among coaches in the loop is which teams will occupy the other rungs on the league ladder.

Lapeer is a likely choice to give the Captains a run for the title.

The Panthers were hot and cold in a 1-3 record that placed them in a tie with Romeo for fourth place.

An experienced group of players give the Panthers enough talent to improve their ranking in the league.

L'Anse Creuse is a question-mark. The team was hit hard by graduation after compiling a 3-4-1 season record.

Romeo is strong at all positions and should challenge Kettering and Lapeer. Oxford's main problem is reflected in the team's inexperience.

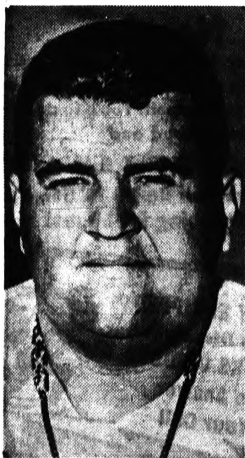

The forecast:
1. Kettering
2. Lapeer
3. Romeo
4. Oxford
5. L'Anse Creuse

Central Michigan OKs Freshman Grid State

MT. PLEASANT — Central Michigan University's freshman football schedule of four games has been approved and announced by athletic director Daniel P. Rose.

The four-game card has two games at home and two away with all of the games in the month of October.

Coaching the frosh this year is Bill Odykirk, who joined the staff this month and replaces Leo Wisneski who is concentrating on head assignments in swimming and golf.

Captains to Cruise Uncertain Course

The good ship Waterford Kettering sailed its best course on the usually rough gridiron seas last fall and will be eager to stay with the flow beginning Friday night.

The route charted by coach Jim Larkin last season found the Captains with their first winning record and a share of the Tri-County League football title.

Only a brief squall named Lapeer, which took home a 13-12 upset win, denied the Kettering crew the entire treasure cache.

Kettering was 7-2 overall and 3-1 in league play with a 139-19 point advantage against circuit rivals. Larkin can only hope for an offensive thrust that approximates last year's effort.

Gone are standout quarterback Mel Patterson and rugged tackle Chuck Wallace, both All-County Class A selections. Lack of experience at both positions — particularly along the offensive line — figures to hurt this year's chances.

Senior Mike Shipman and junior John Kampsen will have to mature quickly at the key quarterback spot. They can expect superior support from the other backfield candidates.

GOOD POTENTIAL

Jim Haviland and Pat Nutter, co-captains, are the starting halfbacks, and Dave Currin will be the fullback. They could combine into one of the top running attacks in the county.

Middle guard Bill Laing (6-1, 210 pounds), linebacker John Methner (6-0, 170) plus safety-men Nutter and Haviland provide defensive experience.

Added to the seven letter-winners that returned is Bill Graham, a 6-1, 170-pound end who sat out last season but is ready for duty and could provide help up front.

Also expected to see playing time on the defensive line is 230-pound sophomore tackle Mike Mobey. Guards Steve Allen and Roger Brady can also expect a lot of playing time.

But Larkin will need to produce numerous new faces to add to the regulars. The first three games of the season could easily determine whether or not this year's cruise will have smooth sailing or rough water ahead.

Friday's foe Lake Orion gave Kettering all it could handle in last year's opener, and then will come Pontiac Northern and Romeo, both of which will be out to torpedo this year's crew of Captains.

Larkin expects Lapeer and Oxford to give the defending co-champions the most trouble in the Tri-County race. Those two will be encountered in back-to-back away games in mid-October.

Pontiac Press Photo

ROUGH OBSTACLE—Middle guard Bill Laing of Kettering should prove a stubborn obstacle for opposing offensive linemen. The veteran Captain stands 6-0 and weighs 210.

ASSISTS KICKING CAPTAIN—Co-captain Pat Nutter (left) will likely assist Dave Currin on kickoffs when the conditions are not suitable for using a tee. Both are senior letter-winners at Kettering.

St. James Expects Another Good Year

Five years ago one-time Pontiac St. Frederick coach John Shada took over the grid coaching reins at Ferndale St. James following a dismal 2-5-1 1958 season.

That was the last losing season the Dales' football fans have witnessed. The ex-University of Detroit aide has guided St. James to a 33-7 mark during the past five campaigns.

The outlook is bright again. A solid representation of senior and junior returnees from last year's 5-2 team indicate another winning season.

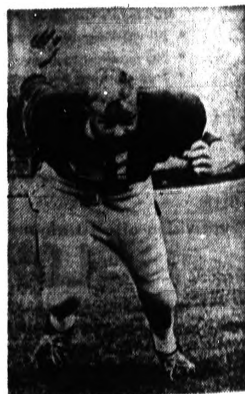

Heading the list of letter-winners is 6-2 end Pete Marvin, a three-year varsity performer. He will team with John Zbyrad at the terminal positions and, along with an experienced offensive backfield, promises a good attack.

Quarterback John Kozlowski will have runners Stan Sullivan Pat Law, Ed Haak and Dan Slivatz for offensive help. Linemen Stan Cavazos and Don Bond, plus back Dave Dell add experience to the defensive platoon.

Romeo 11 Eyes Revenge in Tri-County Action

Romeo's Bulldogs have a few scores to settle with a few football squads in the Tri-County League.

And the Bulldogs have enough players returning who remember last year to indicate that the scores may be settled.

Coach Stan Motschenbacher and the Bulldogs wound up a tie (1-3) with Lapeer for fourth place in the league race last year and were embarrassed on several occasions in compiling a season record of 3-4-1.

Kettering and Utica were the villains on Romeo's schedule last year. The Captains treated the Bulldogs like toy dogs in a 33-0 rout while Utica rolled to an easy 28-6 decision.

Romeo may have to wait awhile longer to wreck the Captains' ship, but the squad should cause a few headaches among the other league members.

The Bulldogs may be stronger than Motschenbacher is willing to admit.

Looking over the pluses and minuses, 23 lettermen departed via graduation, leaving the future in the hands of 11 capable veterans and members of last year's undefeated reserve team.

HEAVY LINE

Romeo will field one of the biggest lines in the conference. Operating the tackle slots will be Bill Fetter (6-4, 205) and Dick Sieweke (6-2, 198). Bill Redd (5-10, 176), a two-year veteran, will operate at a guard post along with Dave Dorn (5-11, 165).

Junior Bob Rowley (6-2, 190) will occupy one of the end slots with the newcomers battling for the other berth.

Tim Quinn, a senior who stands 6-2 and weighs 202 pounds, fills the center position.

A pair of husky runners are battling for the fullback slot—Mike Simunic (5-8, 180), a senior and junior Tom Walker, a 5-10, 197-pounder.

'Cats Prepare Title Defense

15 Lettermen Gone From 1964 Team

Speed will be the key to the 1964 gridiron plans of Oxford's Wildcats who open the season at Clarkston Friday.

Trying to put a growl in the Cats' attack is coach Walter Braun, in his third year at Oxford. In two seasons at the helm, Braun has coached the team to a 11-6 record and a share of the 1963 Tri-County League championship.

Defending that share of the title may turn out to be a major chore for the Cats.

Graduation plucked 15 lettermen from last year's team, leaving only none to form the nucleus of this year's unit.

A big part of the Oxford offense disappeared when Dan VanVleet graduated. The All-League selection performed capably at three positions — halfback, full back and quarterback.

There is a lot of speed in the returnees which could help keep the record respectable, providing the team isn't plagued with the injury bug.

The reserves are green and Braun will be forced to go along with a few of them to fill the vacancies.

The team's strength at this stage of the proceedings is wrapped up in a fast, experienced backfield.

RUNNING BACKS

Dave Houck (5-11) and Phil Broome (5-7) both seniors, are the lightest members of the running backs at 155 pounds. Houck will handle the signal-calling duties while Broome will operate from a wingback post.

Rounding out the backfield are a pair of veterans with a lot of power — seniors Tom Risinger, 5-11 and 185 pounds, and Steve Bowker, 5-11 and 175 pounds. Both earned letters at fullback but one could wind up as a halfback.

A couple of junior speedsters give Braun depth at the winged T running game. They are Tom Heard, 5-8, 150 pounds, and Mike Lantry, 5-11, 160 pounds. Both are tailbacks.

Only three lettermen are available for line duty — Jerry Sowels, 5-6, 145 pounds at guard Elroy Converse, 5-11, 185 pounds at tackle and Jim Marsh, 5-10, 180 pounds at end.

Utica Seeks Team Depth

Chiefs Experienced in Front Line

Development of bench strength is the important goal at Utica as the Chiefs prepare an assault on the Bi-County League football championship.

There are veterans available to man every position on the line and take care of half the backfield.

Quarterback Tom Orlowsky and halfback Paul Schaffer are the lettermen returning in the backfield. Holding down frontline duties are veterans Bob Cedar and Nels Bauer, 200-pound tackles.

Others are guards Art Zaske and Ray Hinson, center Dave Grandchamp and ends Dave McIntosh, John Kolopos and Tim Chickering.

Utica placed fifth in the league last year and posted a 4-5 overall record.

Bloomfield Hills Mentor Tries Various Recipes

Coach Bill Tunncliff is trying various recipes at Bloomfield Hills.

Starting is first year as head football mentor at the Wayne-Oakland League school, Tunncliff is not playing his trade in the school's home economics department.

He is mixing and blending seniors and underclassmen on the gridiron in hopes of coming up with a first prize. He hasn't been overly pleased, so far.

Also, the former University of Michigan fullback is facing reality.

"I would say right now that Milford, Holly and Northville look like the strong teams. We'll do our best against the league's best, but I don't feel we'll be more than a spoiler team this fall."

Graduation eliminated several key players from the 1963 squad that posted a 2-6 overall record and wound up near the league cellar.

Fullback Bill Barnes, a hard running 180-pound senior, is the top returnee in the backfield. High Carney is slated to handle the quarterback duties.

RETURN ON LINE

Tackle Ken Davies and center Marv Booth, both 180-pounders, saw considerable action last season.

Tunncliff is taking a long look at sophomores Bruce Samarian and Ken Black, guard and center respectively, and quarterback Bob Calhoun as he starts the rebuilding project.

Grid Outlook Now Changed at South Lyon

There is a new outlook on football at South Lyon this year.

One of the reasons is Gary Dode who has taken over as head coach. Another factor that brightens the picture is the return of 17 lettermen from the 1963 team that was 0-8.

Dick Root, a 180-pound fullback, and end Bob Flavin are two-year veterans returning. Linebacker Mike Hutchins, won a letter last season as a sophomore.

Top newcomers are fullback Kim Bridenstine and end Ron Melfe, a 200-pounder. South Lyon will play as an independent again this season.

HAND-OFF REHEARSAL—Bloomfield Hills backs Hugh Carney (30) and Neil Fleming run through a "belly-series" hand-off. The Barons will be under a new coach, Bill Tunncliff, and could present several innovations in their attack this season.

ANN ARBOR—During 84 years of football Michigan has played 667 games, won 474, lost 166 and tied 28—with a percentage mark of .731, best of any Big Ten school.

Coaches Wary of Clarkston 11

Wayne-Oakland coaches are keeping a wary eye out for Clarkston.

The Wolves have only nine lettermen returning from the 1963 team that tied for the championship.

Gone are such standouts as halfback John Williams, quarterback Dan Craven, guard Len Bullard, end Ken Miskin and tackle Jon Gary.

Coach Ralph Kenyon feels, "We should have a fairly good team."

Finding replacements for the departed first liners and re-vamping the defensive secondary are primary problems. The lack of experienced depth at all positions could prove troublesome.

The strength appears to be in the offensive backfield.

BACKFIELD VETERANS

Two-year veterans Randy Armstrong and Dan Jenks are slated to handle the halfback duties. Sophomore Dan Fife has shown good potential and may get the starting nod over senior Rich Paladino.

There is a good chance they will share the signal calling duties at the beginning of the season.

Tackle Frank Miller, 210, and end John Wilberg, 175, hold two varsity letters. Guard Bill Bailey, 180, and end Dave Coulter, 175, are expected to see plenty of action.

Bolstering the guards will be newcomers Dave Osgood, 160, and Paul Hoxie, 185. Both are juniors.

The Wolves may have been hurt too badly at graduation to chalk up another title this fall. But they are expected to make any contender earn the crown.

A test of the team's potential will come Friday when Clarkston hosts a good Oxford 11 in a non-leaguer.

The finale will be Nov. 13 at home against Rochester, a new foe on the Clarkston schedule.

Egad! Here we are at the start of another football season and millions of football followers can relax in the knowledge that their favorite forecaster will be back at the old stand.

Yes, dear readers, I am prepared once again to give you the authoritative line on the big games in 1964. In fact, you have my personal pledge (Ed. Note: for what it's worth) to give you the Right Score in '64—hakkaff!

Enough of the chit-chat! Now let us plunge into the important business at hand.

The season gets off to a robust start this weekend with heavy cannonading on all fronts.

In the East, Penn State meets rugged Navy, while Boston College plays host to well-regarded Syracuse. Down South it's Alabama vs. Georgia, and Louisiana State against Texas A & M, to mention just two.

In the Midwest, Kansas tackles Texas Christian, and Northwestern kicks off against Oregon State. Headline meetings in the West include the California-

Missouri, and Washington-Air Force Academy contests.

The Hoople System foresees victories for Navy, Syracuse, Alabama, LSU, Kansas, Northwestern, California and Washington.

The top intersectional contest, pitting Maryland against Oklahoma Sooners, will account for the day's biggest upset. I predict a 23-17 triumph for Maryland—har-rumph!

Suburban Midget Conference Grows

Walled Lake's expansion will permit the Suburban Midget Football Conference to kick off its regular competition next week with an enlarged lineup.

There will be ten teams responding to the opening whistle next week, a growth of one over last season. The weekly bye of last year has been eliminated.

Communities represented in the conference are Madison Heights, Troy, Royal Oak and Keego Harbor, in addition to Walled Lake.

The latter will have two three-unit organizations as will Madison Heights. Royal Oak has two associations which will each field two three-unit operations.

Each entry in the conference has a plebe, junior varsity and varsity team. The scheduled games, thus, are played as triple-headers.

LAKELAND AA

Keego Harbor participates as the Lakeland Athletic Association. Bob Carter coaches the varsity. Al Vidrio has the junior varsity and Wes Roberts handles the plebe unit.

The home games are played at West Bloomfield High School Stadium on Sundays. The plebes start the action at 1 p.m., and are followed by the jayvees at approximately 2:15 p.m. and the varsity at about 3:30 p.m.

The latter two units play 12-minute quarters (running time). All boys 8-12 years old as of Sept. 1st and 65-120 pounds are eligible. Equipment, uniforms and insurance are provided.

There is no admission charge for spectators except for the annual fund-raising final game with Walled Lake.

The Walled Lake Beavers last season fielded an unbeaten varsity squad and won the Howard Nielson Sportsmanship Trophy. There are no conference champions crowned.

The Walled Lake group has decided to double its efforts this year. It has now three Walled Lake Red Devil teams and a trio of Blue Devil elements.

Coaches for the Walled Lake Beaver entries are (Blue Devils) Bill Floto, varsity, Don Kelly, jayvee, and Harr Campbell, plebe; and (Red Devils) Jim Welch, varsity, Don Kenyon, jayvee, and Bill Denny, plebe.

Madison Heights has its Wolverines and Spartans; while Royal Oak representatives are the Yankee Marauders, Yankee Warriors, Rebel Rangers and Rebel Raiders.

Conference members will each have a practice game this weekend prior to entering their regular schedules.

Lakeland will visit the Blue Devils Sunday while the Red Devils meet Madison Heights' Wolverine teams Saturday night.

The Walled Lake games are played at the senior high and junior high fields. Sunday triple-headers begin at 1:30 p.m. and the Saturday night action starts at 6 o'clock.

'But My Ball Is Bigger Than Yours'

'PLAY, KID?'

Bill Farrah Says,

"We're Out to Win!"

We're not as big as the Big 3. So we have to be better to stay in the game. We have to run faster, kick farther and fight harder to score against that kind of competition. That means that we have to give you more car for less money. More room inside with easier park-a-bility outside. More safety, performance and economy. It means that we have to do better service work on your car than you can get anywhere else. Yes, we have to give you all that and more to compete with the Big Boys in this business. We must do it if the Big 3 is ever to become the Big 4. And, Believe me, it is or my name isn't Bill Farrah.

DOUBLE WORKOUT — While West Bloomfield end Rick Hacht (left) works on his pass receiving, teammate Les Randall practices his pass defense. The two letter winners are expected to see a lot of action for coach Art Paddy's green squad.

Actions Will Talk for Holly Gridders

Coach Ray Figg of Holly isn't saying much these days when asked how he thinks the Broncos will do in the Wayne-Oakland football chase.

The veteran mentor will let 17 lettermen do the talking with their ability during each game. Holly is rated No. 1 in the pre-season forecast.

The Broncos finished fifth last fall and posted a 4-4-1 over-all record after being .500 in the conference. But only three lettermen are missing.

Back Larry Wood is the only top player not returning.

One of the big reasons for the high rating of the team is the return of Tom Fagan at quarterback. The 6-1, 175-pound senior will be directing the attack for the third season.

He was a highly regarded signal caller last season, but a mediocre team record plus the fact that the county was blessed with an abundance of leading quarterbacks kept Fagan in the background.

Other two-year veterans returning are fullback Jim Starr, center Bob Wiechert, 190, and tackle Gary Thrall, 175. Another top returnee is end Bill Stark, 175.

Figg sums up the outlook for Holly as "good."

He is reluctant to single out any player for special praise, stating that there is experience-plus at every position. Depth on the bench may be the deciding factor for Holly in close games.

Lakers Seeking New Magician

The magician is gone from the West Bloomfield backfield.

Dan Greig's slight-of-hand antics from the quarterback post baffled Wayne - Oakland opponents and others for three seasons. He could also pass and punt with the best in the county.

Thirteen others who made Greig's task easier also have departed. This leaves seven around which coach Art Paddy hopes to begin building another title contender.

Unfortunately for the opposition, all seven saw plenty of action last fall. Only quarterback Fred Hepinstall lacks varsity experience at that position.

End Rick Hacht, tackle Jim

QB's a Bit Stingy

DETROIT (NEA)—Earl Morrall and Milt Plum, the Detroit Lions' quarterbacks, are ranked first and third in the all-time National Football League record books for fewest passes intercepted. The record is based on 1,000 or more attempts.

Morrall has allowed just 63 interceptions while Plum has allowed 71. John Brodie of San Francisco is second with 64.

Shoots and halfback Jay Williams are starting their third seasons on the varsity. All three started last year.

Tackle Mike Cady, end Les Randall and guard Bob Brown round out the list of returning letterwinners.

POSSIBLE STARTERS

Among the better newcomers vying for starting berths are halfback Don Patterson, guard Tom Leahy and end Rich Baya.

Center Marty Foxman, line-backer Lonny Lowen and half-back Clarence Vick also are expected to see plenty of playing time during the season.

The Lakers will field a light team for the second straight year.

Paddy's squads are noted for being fast and hard-nosed. This is what makes opposing coaches worry.

RUGGED REDSKIN — Guard Jim McFarlane, 5-8 and 176 pounds, gives coach Jerry Ganzel a dependable two-year letterman in the Milford offensive line.

Redskins Count on Heavy Line

Milford is counting on a big, experienced line to pave the way toward a Wayne-Oakland Conference football championship.

The Redskins are being fingered by coaches and experts as a top contender this fall. Coach Jerry Ganzel is optimistic, but points to problems in the backfield as possible drawbacks.

Keith Grantham, a 6-3½, 210-pound veteran tackle is expected to lead the line play along with 176-pound guard Jim McFarlane.

Bolstering the tackle slot and vying for first string jobs are John Griffin, 233, and Kurt Auchenbach, 200. Guard Vincent Rander, 175, is another newcomer highly regarded by the coaches.

Senior Jim Ward, who already has won three varsity letters, is the break-away threat in the backfield. Missing because of graduation is speedster Bob Miller.

John Haspar is a leading candidate to take over Miller's old spot.

The inside power will be supplied by 220-pound veteran fullback Chuck Andrews.

11 LETTERMEN

Although only 11 lettermen are on hand from the team that finished fourth last season and posted a 5-2-1 overall mark, Ganzel is not singing the blues.

"Our line play should be stronger," said the coach, "It definitely will be heavier and faster with more depth. This lack of depth up front hurt us last season."

Ganzel feels the quarterbacking should be improved, but he is worried about a lack of experienced second-line ball carriers.

"Our biggest problem is filling Miller's spot at halfback," he pointed out.

"I feel that with our improved line possibilities and coming up with a fast and balanced backfield, we should definitely be in contention. Overall, we should be a better balanced ball club."

One possible handicap facing the Redskins is the fact that they play two tough foes — holly and West Bloomfield — on the road.

South Lyon will close Milford's season on Nov. 13. This will be the first time in several years that the Redskins have played a nine-game schedule.

Pontiac Press Photo

STEPPING SMARTLY — Milford backfield candidates Jack Ward (15) and Mike Yeager work on their footwork. The two are counted upon to take up some of the running slack created by the graduation of Skip Miller.

'Indians Horse Race' in Wayne-Oakland Play

The Wayne-Oakland League scrap shapes up as an "Indian horse race."

Milford's Redskins have been voted by league coaches as the team most likely to replace the 1963 co-champions Northville and Clarkston.

Northville's Mustangs and Holly's Broncos could gallop into the winner's circle if the Redskins prove prone to ambush.

Coach Ron Horwath has a lot going for him at Northville.

He has 17 members of the championship squad back for another gridiron season and the list includes a lot of weight in the forward wall.

GOOD SIZE

Among veteran linemen on hand are 223-pound tackle Bob Tuck, a senior, center Dave Kerr (5-11, 190) and end Jerry Inslund (6-2, 190).

Horwath is without his high-scoring fullback, Ron Rice who graduated, but he is counting on a sophomore, Doug Swiss (5-10, 185), to fill Rice's shoes.

Junior Tom Baughman (5-9, 145) will hold the quarterback reins when the Mustangs are on attack.

Holly has a lot of power in its Bronco herd and the squad should turn out to be a challenger.

Clarkston's Wolves may have to do their howling from the second, third or fourth position.

MAY SURPRISE

West Bloomfield could pull a surprise and the same goes for Bloomfield Hills.

Brighton and Clarenceville are expected to field improved teams. Brighton was 3-5 last year and the Trojans closed with a 1-7 mark.

The forecast:

1. Milford
2. Holly
3. Northville
4. Clarkston
5. Bloomfield Hills
6. West Bloomfield
7. Brighton
8. Clarenceville

Shrine Missed Grid Plum by 'Four Yards'

Royal Oak Shrine missed a big gridiron plum last year by only "four yards" but still came away with a share of the Detroit Catholic League championship.

The Knights won the First Division title with a 6-1 record and battled Harper Woods Notre Dame to a 0-0 tie in the Soup Bowl game.

Notre Dame, outgaining Shrine by "four yards," was selected to represent the Catholic League against the Public School champion.

Coach Al Fracassa said he would gladly settle for a similar record this year, but personnel problems may keep the Knights more than "four yards" out.

BRIGHT SPOT

A bright spot in the Knights attack is quarterback Dennis Bienkowski, one of the best in the league in his execution of handoffs and options. He led the team in scoring last year with seven touchdowns.

Fracassa has another pair of veterans in halfbacks David Allen (5-9, 160) and Tom Ben-tittelli, a speedy 120-pounder.

A lot of holes remain in the line with only two lettermen on hand — Jim Seymour at end and Greg Malcolm, who will see duty at offensive center and defensive end.

Defense may be a weak link in the Knights' armor, with all-county star Ron Ranieri and Dick Landry missing. The 225-pound Ranieri enrolled at Michigan State University this fall.

Punt, Pass, Kick Contest on Again

Extension of the age group to include 12- and 13-year-olds is expected to swell the number of entrants in the national Punt, Pass and Kick contest to more than one million.

The competition is sponsored by the Ford Dealers in cooperation with the National Football League. John McAuliffe Ford, Inc. is coordinating the program in Pontiac.

Deadline for registration is Oct. 9. Competition is open to all grade and junior high school boys 8 through 13. Contestants may register at any sponsoring Ford dealership; however, parents or guardians must countersign the registration form.

Local competition will start

Saturday, Oct. 10, at sites which will be designated later.

The PP&K competition is based on the distance and accuracy the entrants punt, pass and kick the football.

Competitors receive one point for each foot the ball travels minus one point for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of the center line. Boys must compete with their own age group.

LOCAL WINNERS

Local contest winners will move into district competition, with district champions moving into area duels which will be held during halftime of 14 National Football League games. Those winners move into national competition.

The top scorers, six from the eastern and six from the western divisions of the NFL, will meet in the "runner-up" NFL game in Miami, Fla.

The finalists and their parents will be guests of Ford dealers and will travel on a "Tour of Champions" to the NFL game.

Eighteen awards, including football warmup jackets, place kicker devices, regulation size footballs and winner certificates go to the winners of local contests.

Boys who are members of school athletic teams are not eligible to compete in the contest.

The age extension—including boys 12 and 13 — brought endorsement from Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner, who, along with the 14 clubs, have helped stimulate interest in the program.

The PP&K program is endorsed and supported by many of the nation's leading service and civic groups.

These groups include Boys Clubs of America, Boy Scouts of America, Catholic Youth Organization, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Lions, Optimists, Rotary, Parent-Teacher Associations, Young Men's Hebrew Association and the Young Men's Christian Association.

PROFESSIONAL SUPPORT — The National Football League has joined forces in recent seasons with the Ford Motor Co. to promote the annual national Punt, Pass and Kick competition for pre-high school age boys. The Detroit Lions give local support to the

Junior Varsity Players Rate High at Cranbrook

Last year's junior varsity players are being counted on to lead Cranbrook back up the football ladder.

The Cranes are attempting to recover from a 1-7 season in 1963. Del Walden has taken over as head coach. He will be assisted by Pete Slader who stepped down from the top spot to devote more time to the athletic directorship.

Going into last season, Slader had a 10-6 record at Cranbrook.

"We are expecting a lot of help from the boys who played junior varsity last year," said Walden. "Only time can tell the eventual results, but I am anticipating a good showing."

Top players among the 10 returning lettermen are, co-captains Phil Maxwell, a center, and Buzz Mieras, an end. Each has won two varsity letters.

Walden has tabbed four newcomers to the varsity as top prospects.

They are tackle Carter Hicks, halfback Bob Foster, center Ray Buch and guard Mike Stern.

The Cranes, who started practice a week later than other schools in the area will delay opening the season until a Sept. 26, meeting with Groves.

Cranbrook will compete in the Inter-State Prep League again.

"University School of Cleveland has won the championship for the last four years, so it apparently is the team to beat," said Walden.

LIMITED DUTY—Husky Jim Lutz is the biggest of the Cranbrook gridders but he is limited to only Inter-State Prep League contests since he is a fifth-year student at the school. The 200-pounder fills the center slot.

Oregon Prep Coach Uses 'Play of Year'

A wing-T play with elements the single wing formation's buck lateral technique has earned an Oregon high school football coach the top national award in Du Pont's second annual "Play of the Year" contest.

Charles Halstead of Oakland, Ore., submitted what was selected by five well-known collegiate football coaches as the contest's top play.

Halstead is head coach at Oakland High School. Almost 800 coaches throughout the country submitted entries through cooperating processors of Du Pont motion picture films.

Dave Nelson of the University of Delaware, coordinator of the panel of judges, points out that the committee picked Halstead's play because it is not a typical or routine play but still fits into the total offensive scheme.

Judges included Nelson; Darrell Royal, Texas; Ara Parseghian, Notre Dame; Frank Howard, Clemson; and Jack Curtice, University of California at Santa Barbara.

Coach Halstead's play combines the threat of an off-tackle plunge, a power sweep, a forward pass, and the use of an end as a fifth back. The team lines up in a balanced line wing-T formation with the wingback to the left.

The quarterback spins and flips the ball to the wingback who has started to move to his right. He cuts in and heads for the right tackle slot but hands back to the quarterback who is standing with his back to the line of scrimmage. The quarterback then tosses the ball back to the left end who has swung to the right. The end — a fifth back — has the option of running the flank or throwing a pass to the tight end.

Detroit Has Two Boat Show Dates

Dates for two Detroit boat shows have been announced by the National Association of Engine and Boat Manufacturers.

There are 45 boat shows in 20 states and Washington, D.C. listed on the 1964-65 schedule, starting with the Chicago Marine Trades exhibit, Sept. 17-20. The Greater Michigan Boat Show, sponsored by the Michigan Marine Dealers will be held January 23-31 at the Eight Mile Army Artillery.

The Michigan Boat, Sport and Vacation Show at Cobo Hall is scheduled for Jan. 30 through Feb. 7th.

Conservationists in Wisconsin Get Fire Weapon

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Conservation Department is going to put a new weapon into action against forest fires on the Apostle Islands in Lake Superior. It is an LCM (landing craft, machine) once used by U.S. Army reservists in Michigan.

Neil LeMay, chief ranger for the department, noted that there had been several serious fires on the islands which have been difficult to fight because of lack of docks.

The landing craft, capable of carrying several tractors and plows and about 15 men, could get equipment directly to shore.

Wisconsin will receive the vessel under the federal government's excess equipment program.

Golf Putter Returned After Test on Course

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — Police found a stolen golf putter in front of the police station, with this note attached:

"Please return. Guilty conscience." The note was written on a score card used at a local course.

When George Izo and Bobby Mitchell of the Washington Redskins combined on a 99-yard touchdown pass play in 1963 they tied a 24-year-old National Football League record set by Frank Filchock and Andy Farkas of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Country Day Set to Roll

Masteller to Guide Try for Best Mark

Detroit Country Day School of Birmingham will commence its eight-game schedule Saturday morning still looking for a winning season and with its third new coach in three seasons.

The Yellow Jackets have 27-year-old Larry Masteller, who guided Constantine to an 8-0 record and seventh place in the Associated Press Class C poll, to direct their maneuvers this season.

Since 1958 Country Day's record top was 3-4 log in 1962. It came in 3-5 last season and now departed is the only experienced quarterback.

Masteller does express hope for a better performance this season, built around a stronger defensive unit.

Linemen Jeff Bisage and Bob Davenport, Linebacker Al Saylor (a three-year letter-winner), and defensive back Fred Goldberg are key performers.

Pontiac Press Photo

RECEIVING END — Avondale end Barry Peel is expected to latch on to numerous passes this season as the Yellow Jackets attempt to climb in the Oakland A race.

Experienced Backs Aid Dondero Cause

An experienced backfield will have to offset a green forward wall if the Royal Oak Dondero football fortunes are to improve this year.

Coach Ivy Loftin does have one returnee up front in end John Waters; but the Oaks will depend heavily on veteran runners.

Russ Brown and Dick Waters are solid threats at halfback; but Dondero is backing on junior power runner Randy Miles to make the attack move.

The 5-10, 220-pound fullback scored six touchdowns as a sophomore and should substantially increase his output this year.

The passing burden will fall on junior quarterback Bob DeJulius' shoulders. A lot is also expected from sophomore halfback Rod Rider.

Chuck Stuart, Doug Gouliet and Rich Hirsch comprise the returning defensive secondary. A loaded schedule, though, could prove too much for the Oaks' rather green branches to bear.

MSU Gridders 3rd on Won-Lost List

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Michigan State heads into its 12th Big Ten Conference football season ranking third among league members in all-time won-lost percentage.

The Spartans have competed in football in the conference since 1953 and in 11 seasons have won 39 games, lost 25 and tied two for a winning mark of .606.

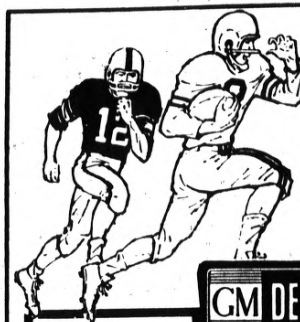

The all-time leader is Ohio State (175-87-19 for 51 seasons and .657) with Michigan second (186-97-13 for 58 seasons and .650). Michigan State comes next and Minnesota is fourth (179-131-23 in 66 years for .572).

Back of Minnesota in order, are Chicago (last played in 1939), Wisconsin, Illinois, Purdue, Iowa, Northwestern and Indiana.

Starr After Record

Now Held by Lion QB

Bart Starr, quarterback of the Green Bay Packers, will enter the 1964 season with a string of 135 straight passes attempted without interception. . . . How does he do it? What kind of a ball does he throw? "Bart throws an easy pass to handle," says Packer flanker Boyd Dowler. "It comes in soft, but it seems to travel fast in the air." . . . The record is 208 by Milt Plum when with the Cleveland Browns in 1959-60.

St. Frederick May Surprise Some Foes

Good Backfield Play Expected; Rodriguez Heaviest on Line

St. Frederick's Rams have grown horns.

This should be bad news for several foes in this year's North-west Catholic League play. The Rams are no longer ready to be downtrodden as in the past.

The 1963 season got off to an auspicious start with a 6-0 win over St. Michael, but the rest of the opponents were not impressed and St. Fred finished 1-7.

Coach Bud Duff is working with 14 lettermen and predicts, "We should give all opponents a tough game."

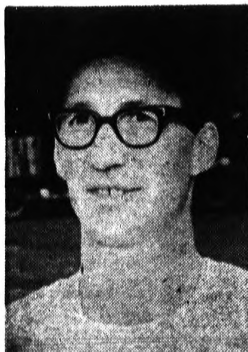

St. Fred has a light backfield and the line is light by football standards.

One exception is Rich Rodriguez, a 225-pound tackle starting his fourth year on the varsity. End Mike Dean, who has won two letters, tips the scales at 190.

Larry Walters, who started last season at quarterback but was knocked out of action with an injury, has been shifted to halfback. Mike Murphy, who took over for Walters in '63, returns at quarterback.

Ralph Landry is expected to be one of the stalwarts at guard while Joe Murphy handles the wingback duties.

Duff is high on the backfield and hopes that the line will have the necessary speed to make up any weight disadvantages.

St. Mike Plans to Quit Cellar in NWC Loop

12 Lettermen Striving for Better Record in Coming Campaign

There is no place for St. Michael to go but up this season.

The Shamrocks struggled through a winless campaign in 1963, but the outlook is for better things to come.

A strong backfield, improved line play and needed experience are the factors expected to send the Mikemen out of the North-west Catholic League cellar.

Tackles Rick Lavoie and Bob Taylor, end Top Patch and backs Mike Backes and Rog Cook are two-year veterans. So is guard Frank Lainger.

Returning with one year's varsity experience are sophomore backs Dan Couture and Gregg Flynn, junior back Bob French and sophomore center Bill Cook.

All told, 12 lettermen were on hand when coach Jim Niebauer whistled the first practice.

COULD SURPRISE "We could, and should, be much improved," commented the coach. "We have some real good backs and with some help up front, we may surprise a few people."

The Mikemen will find out just how much they have improved in the first four games.

They open against always strong Royal Oak St. Mary, then play city rival St. Frederick, Orchard Lake St. Mary and defending champion Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows.

The story of the season should be told after these games.

DETERMINED RAM BLOCKERS — St. Frederick's interior line blocking will be the responsibility frequently of guard Ralph Landry (60) center Joe Roncone (54) and guard Barry Smothers. Much of the Rams chances for success will depend on the work of the offensive line.

One Steeler on Sidelines

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Four Pittsburgh Steelers, injured in Sunday's loss to Los Angeles, were X-rayed Monday but only one, defensive end Dan Larose, who hurt a knee, is expected to miss next Sunday's game against New York.

The others, halfback Dick Hoak, with an injured back; defensive back Willie Daniel, injured hip; and tight end Jim Kelly, arm injury, are expected to be ready.

The National Football League team also said halfback Theron Sapp, who missed the Los Angeles game because of a broken finger, and defensive back Dick Haley, out with a bad ankle, also are expected to be ready next Sunday.

Ed Ryan, Michigan State line-backer and team captain in 1961, once tackled an opponent so viciously he popped fillings out of five of his own teeth.

Pistons Open Training at St. Clair High Site

ST. CLAIR (UPI) — Head coach Charley Wolf of the Detroit Pistons greeted 15 candidates Monday night when the Pistons opened training camp at the St. Clair high school gym.

Wolf, who "cleaned house" after the Pistons finished fifth in 1963-64 in the five-team Western Division of the National Basketball Association has only one returning player (forward Ray Scott) in camp from the quintet that started last season.

Other holdovers from last year's "bench strength" include forward Jackie Moreland and guard Willie Jones, both four-year veterans, and sophomore guard Eddie Miles. Dennis Butcher, Bob Duffy and center Reggie Harding, all of whom joined the Pistons late in the season, will also report.

NEW FACES

But, the main hardcourt ace Wolf is counting on to spark the Pistons out of the cellar are forwards Terry Dischinger and Don Kojis and guard Rod Thorn, who were obtained during the off-season from Baltimore in exchange for Bailey Howell, Don Ohl and Bob Ferry.

Missing from the practice sessions will be rookie guard Joe Caldwell and guard-forward Dave DeBusschere. Caldwell is on the U.S. Olympic team and won't report until October while DeBusschere is pitching for the Chicago White Sox' farm club at Indianapolis and won't report until after the baseball season, if he reports at all.

The Pistons haven't yet received confirmation from DeBusschere that he will return for another two-sport year.

Only four rookies are in the camp—the smallest crop in years.

The rookies are Jim Davis of Colorado, Larry Phillips of Rice, Jerry Jackson of Ohio University and Ralph Telken of Rockhurst (Mo.) College. Davis and Phillips are forwards while Jackson and Telken are guards.

transferred to Hillsdale where he starred as a signal caller. He is now employed at Pontiac Motors.

Charles Brown wore the shoe in 1959 for Pontiac Central, and Charlie continued to find success with the Spartans at MSU.

Mike Brown (1960) of Fern-dale enrolled at Iowa and later left school to take a job. He now lives in Royal Oak and has exchanged the football for a golf club.

The winners in 1961, '62 and '63 are wearing MSU colors.

Steve Juday (1961) of Northville is the starting quarterback on the Spartan unit and one of his understudies is Chuck Lowther (1962) of Royal Oak Shrine.

Another Shrine griddier, center Ron Ranieri, grabbed the shoe last year. Ron joined the MSU freshmen this fall.

Massachusetts on the Carpet for Title Bout

TORONTO (AP) — Merv McKenzie, newly-elected president of the World Boxing Association, said Monday that the Massachusetts Boxing Commission will be suspended by the WBA for approving a return bout between heavyweight champion Cassius Clay and ex-champion Sonny Liston.

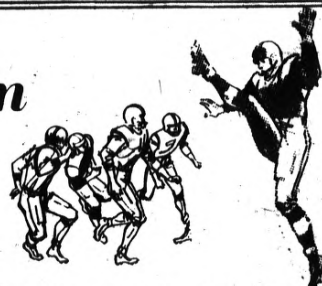

McKenzie said the bout will not be considered by the WBA as a title match.

"All promoters, boxers, seconds, trainers, managers, ring officials and any persons having anything to do with this bout will have their licenses suspended in all WBA territory," McKenzie said. "These suspensions become automatic when the fight papers are signed."

Members of the WBA, besides Massachusetts, include most states in the U.S., Canada, the Orient and Latin America.

Big Target at OLSM

John Stojnicki will be a marked player when he takes the field with his Orchard Lake St. Mary teammates this fall.

The 190-pound senior end will be easy to spot. He stands 6-6, orite passing target of quarter-the Eaglets than just a Krogulecki to Stojnicki passing combination. There are some definite problems, too.

This should make him a fav-back Conrad Krogulecki, and also the defensive players assigned to keep the rangy flank from catching the ball.

On the plus side are six of 15 lettermen who have won two or more varsity letters. The backfield looks impressive with speedster Bernie Stec and full-back Ed Ignaczak returning.

The big weakness will be at tackle where there is no experience available. Coach Fr. John Rakoczy indicated he may switch a veteran guard or two to tackle.

OTHERS RETURNING

Other top returnees include guard Ed Suchyta and Carl Michalski, halfback Phil Megge, and center Ed Kelly.

"We will lack size and speed," said Fr. Rakoczy, "and a lack of depth will hurt us if injuries pile up as they did last year."

The Eaglets finished second last season in the Northwest Catholic League and are expected to challenge for the top this fall.

GLUE-FINGERED? WOLL opponents may start wondering if end Rick St. Louis has glue on his fingers if he makes many fingertip catches such as this one. The 6-1, 195-pound sophomore is expected to see a lot of varsity playing time.

Our Lady Ace Hurt

Team Receives Jolt

Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes' football hopes received a jolt before practice even started.

Terry Lilley, senior halfback, suffered a fractured toe on his last day of summer work. The three-year veteran was expected to trigger the Lakers' attack.

The date of Lilley's return and how effective he will be are question marks.

Coach Bob Mineweaser has a good nucleus around which to build a "spoiler" in the Northwest Catholic League. Fourteen lettermen returned.

The line will be manned by veterans. The strength should be at tackle where Bill Methner (200) and Dwayne Weber (210) return. Letterman Gary Priemer moves in at center.

Mike Anderson and Rick St. Louis are veteran ends and Brian Lalone is a letterman guard. Mike Ogg returns at center.

ed to break into the starting lineup as a halfback.

Finding a quarterback to replace graduate Wes Borys is a major concern to Mineweaser. He also lists lack of depth on the line and rebuilding the defensive secondary as other problem spots.

HARD CHARGE — Lineman Dwayne Weber of Waterford Our Lady of Lakes can present a formidable obstacle when he adds momentum to his 6-1, 210-pound frame.

STRATEGY TALK — Orchard Lake St. Mary coach Father John Rakoczy (left) discusses possible moves when co-captains Bernie Stec (22) and Dennis Wilczewski (87) have choice of penalty or down. The OLSM mentor can usually be counted upon to produce a contender in the Northwest Catholic League.

BLACKHAWK MANEUVER — Ortonville will depend on Steve Bolyea (15) to do the passing and the quarterback, in turn, will rely heavily on backs George Palshan (left) and Jerry Richart for protection from opposing linemen.

LEADS WAY — Halfbacks Larry Cracium (right) and Greg Stephens will probably take turns running interference for each other this season at Rochester.

Charge by White Sox Owner Brings Denial

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — American League President Joe Cronin termed totally unfounded Monday charges by Chicago White Sox owner Arthur Allyn that information had been withheld at the recent meeting reapproving sale of the New York Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System.

In answer to Allyn's accusation, Cronin said:

"Mr. Allyn's statement that the American League office deliberately withheld information is totally unfounded. Nothing was withheld with which the owners could base their decision.

"I regret I have to make public what the American League normally treats as a privileged document," Cronin said.

He then produced transcripts of portions of the Sept. 9 proceedings, the meeting at which sale of 80 per cent of the Yankees to the communications medium was reaffirmed.

The key passage in a transcript of remarks by John T. Hayes, league special counsel, concerning possible anti-trust violations in the transaction, read:

"And I have been asked by the commissioner to state to this meeting that it is his view that such a risk exists. It is also his view that the matter has been passed upon by competent counsel."

Allyn had charged Commissioner Ford Frick had been advised of possible risk by his counsel, Paul A. Porter, but that Porter's sentiments in the matter had not been expressed at the meeting.

"Porter asked me by telephone to state the commissioner's view to the meeting and that is what I did," Hayes said.

The name of Porter does not appear in the transcript because the expression was made in the name of the commissioner as had been requested by him through his counsel, league officials added.

Cronin also produced a copy of a wire received from Porter in Washington, D.C., Monday.

In the telegram Porter said he never submitted a formal written opinion to the commissioner concerning anti-trust aspects of the sale but that "the commissioner did direct that I give him a verbal opinion as to the possible consequences of this transaction."

Porter restated his view "that the transaction was not free from doubt or risk" and said at the commissioner's direction he had asked Hayes to so state the commissioner's views at the meeting.

In the wire to Hayes, Porter concluded: "You have today read to me from the transcript of the special meeting of Sept. 9 your comments relating to this request. Your statement reflects the views which I had previously expressed to the commissioner."

As to the Allyn charges the words "calculated risk" did not appear in the transcript, league officials pointed out only the word "risk" was used by the commissioner and Porter.

Cronin pointed out that the resolution passed 8-2 at the meeting, with Allyn and Kansas City's Charles O. Finley voting negatively, reconfirmed the sale.

But it did so subject to an inquiry by the department of justice and encouraged the parties to the transaction — CBS and the New York Yankees — to go to the justice department and seek an early decision.

"We want the justice department to give its answer, the sooner the better," Cronin said.

RULES OF THE GAME

With the flip of a coin, roll of a dice or a cut of cards you determine which team you're on "A" or "B". Then with the roll of a dice or tossing a coin at the square in the lower left hand corner you move towards your goal line following the symbols defined below. The one with the highest score of a pre determined time wins. There's a short cut to the goal line for those who want to take a chance.

hauer, guard; and Barry Peel, end; in the opening lineup. Bye is in his first season as head coach, replacing the veteran Frank Crowell, who moved to Madison High, also in the Oakland A League.

Avon Shores Defenses Against Oakland A 11s

Despite a porous defense, Avondale's Yellow Jackets have been tabbed as one of the teams to beat in the Oakland A League race.

The Jackets' problem, and many coaches would like to have a similar problem, is that with two exceptions the 1963 team is back.

Offensively, it brings a smile to the face of coach Richard Bye, who stepped into the head coaching post when Frank Crowell moved over to Madison.

When defense is mentioned, Bye's smile turns to a frown.

COACH: Dick Bye
HIGH SCHOOL: Sault Ste. Marie
COLLEGE: Northern Michigan
COACHING RECORD: 20-8-1
SYSTEM: T with variations
ASSISTANTS: John Thompson, Joe Shanabrook, Al Macknis

The frown is easily explained. The '64 team is the same one that gave up 221 points in nine games and finished with a 2-9 record. The leaky defense was seventh in the league. Warren Cousino finished last in that department.

Bye has five veterans who have held down regular assignments for the past two years.

The group is headed by senior quarterback Lynn Thorpe, a 5-10, 180-pounder, an able ball handler who can toss the ball and make like a halfback when necessary.

Joining Thorpe in the backfield is Dick Reddaway, a speedy 180-pounder senior halfback.

Other two-year men, all seniors, are Gary Sipperley, a 160-pound guard, tackle Bob Schwerin, a 5-10, 200-pounder, and Rick Bye, 5-9, 170 pounds, who will handle the center chores.

Some of the promising newcomers included in Bye's plans are junior ends Barry Peel, 6-0, 160 pounds, and Harold Bartkowiak, 5-9, 170 pounds, along with junior fullback Richard Grattop, 5-10, 165 pounds, and senior halfback Dan McCoskey, 6-3, 160 pounds.

The squad lacked consistency on offense last year, a problem which a year's experience should have cured.

Falcon Coach Sifts Lineup

Carried away in the diploma line were the Falcons' leading scorer and their air-minded quarterback.

Halfback Carl Stefanski scored 78 points for the Birds last year to rank eighth on the Oakland County scoring list and signal caller Roger Thompson provided much of the offensive attack with his passing arm.

They're both gone, and Konley has the task of filling those two slots plus a few others on the graduation-depleted squad.

Eighteen members of the '63 unit picked up sheepskins, leaving only 10 veterans for Konley to build a new team around.

The Falcons finished fourth in the Oakland A League race last year with a 4-3 mark and they closed the campaign with a 5-4 overall record.

That record may be hard to equal unless some of the newcomers fill some of the key posts.

Konley has four lettermen who will anchor a light, mobile line.

TWO-YEAR VETERAN

Howard Hagen, a 5-10, 208-pounder, has handled a tackle position for the past two seasons, and Bruce Campbell, 6-0, 175 pounds, is a two-year veteran at end.

The two other experienced linemen are guards Tony Scifranic, a 6-0, 175-pounder, and 6-1, 170-pound Dan Brown.

Al Boughner, 5-10, 160 pounds, is the lone holdover in the backfield.

Konley is counting on three juniors and a sophomore to fill some of the holes.

Two are halfbacks — sophomore Bob Chichon, 5-8, 150 pounds, and Dave Schultz, a 6-0, 190-pounder. Another is fullback Mike Martin, 5-10, 170 pounds. Randy Diench, 6-0, 209 pounds, is bidding for the center post.

WALL OF INTERFERENCE — Lake Orion ball carrier John Alban (26) would like to see this much interference in front of him every time he carries the pigskin this season. Leading the way (left to right) are Herb Mattis, Bill Bainton and Bill Schultz.

New Coach and Outlook for Madison Heights 11

After 111 football games (50-56-won-lost-tied) at Avondale, coach Frank Crowell decided it was time for a change.

Frank made the change, moving from the Yellow Jackets to Madison as head man of the Eagles.

And if reports trickling out of the Eagles' camp are true, Crowell has the Oakland A League championship within reach — just seven loop games away.

Madison, fifth in 1963 with a 3-4 mark, will field much the same team as last year and the experience factor rates the Eagles an edge over the other units.

Fitzgerald, Troy and Avondale are picked to occupy the second, third and fourth positions —not necessarily in that order.

Fitzgerald is the defending champion, and a good crop of returning lettermen should keep the Spartans in contention.

UPSET POTENTIAL

Clawson and Warren Cousino are question marks. Either could upset the apple cart.

Cousino, graduating its first class in 1965, has an experienced eleven with a beefy line and a smooth-working backfield.

Lake Orion and Rochester are both in the rebuilding stage. If a few holes are plugged, Orion could be among the top five squads.

The forecast:
1. Madison
2. Fitzgerald
3. Troy
4. Avondale
5. Warren Cousino
6. Clawson
7. Lake Orion
8. Rochester

Texas Again Loaded

DALLAS, (AP) — There's a move on, probably instigated by Texas, to name somebody Southwest Conference football favorite other than Texas.

A few writers are looking toward Rice, but making so many excuses it's apparent that their hearts aren't in it.

Texas has won the championship two years in a row, and the year before that tied for the title with Arkansas. In the three campaigns Texas won 30, lost 2 and tied 1, counting bowl games.

Now the Longhorns, national champions last season with an 11-0 record including a smashing victory over Navy in the Cotton Bowl, have 26 lettermen but plead that they lack manpower.

Nevertheless, Texas will be the favorite with such fellows as Ernie Koy, slated for tailback this year; Phil Harris, whose pass-catching knocked down Navy, linebackers Tommy Nobis and Tim Doerr.

Rice should be the team for Texas to beat to win the title and forecasts are plentiful that the Texas-Rice game at Houston Oct. 24 will settle the question.

Rice has 24 lettermen, probably the top quarterback in the league in Walter McReynolds, an improved offense, a terrific defense featuring Malcolm Walker and Russ Wayt, good kicking and everything else, except an overabundance of tackles.

Arkansas has 21 lettermen of which 13 are seniors with quarterback Fred Marshall operating the I formation, defense centered around Ron Caveness.

TCU with 20 lettermen will improve with Jim Fauver leading the running attack, and Texas A&M with 24 lettermen and Baylor despite loss of quarterback Don Trull, are optimistic.

SMU, which looked good in losing a 4-6 season last year has 20 lettermen and Texas Tech with 25 lettermen is led by Don Anderson, their all-purpose player.

Orion Forgets Dismal 1963

Forget last year. That's the attitude at Lake Orion where the Dragons are preparing for their 1964 debut against Kettering.

The squad finished sixth in the Oakland A League race last year with a 2-5 mark and racked up an overall record of 2-7.

Returning from the '63 squad are 16 lettermen, including five starters, among them all-league tackle Mark Moran, a 5-10, 180-pounder.

Directing the Dragons will be 28-year-old Dale Jessie, as assistant coach since 1958, who took over the reigns when Frank Kownacki resigned.

Jessie views the situation as one of inexperience, despite the presence of 16 veterans.

Along with Moran, he has two other definite starters in fullback John Alban, a hard-running 160-pound senior, and senior end Jim Chamberlain, a 6-0, 155-pounder.

Jessie will have a few untested players filling a few of the team's key roles.

Heading this list is junior Ed Williams, 5-10, 150 pounds, who is being groomed for the quarterback assignment. Ed saw limited service last year playing behind departed Bruno Jandasek.

Another trouble spot may be at halfback, a slot left vacant by the graduation of all-league halfback Jon Cucksey. The tackle and guard posts may also create some problems for Jessie.

Working at one of the guard spots is a lightweight, Herb Mattis, 5-10, 155-pounder, who earned a letter at the position last year.

The team is well-stocked at end. Along with Chamberlain, there are seniors Jim Greenhill, 6-0, 165 pounds, and Denny Davis, a 5-11, 155-pounder.

On offense, the Dragons averaged slightly more than 13 points a game last season in nine outings, but the defense didn't keep pace. Opponents rolled up 204 points.

If Jessie can find players to fill the trouble spots, the Dragons could improve their league ranking. Unless those are filled, the squad may have to "wait till next year."

Pontiac Press Photo

UTILIZING BLOCKING — Bill Dunn (62), Lake Orion back, has the proverbial "truck-size" hole to drive through aided by the blocking of Mark Moran (left) and Bill Schultz. New coach Dale Jessie will have to develop a lot of such blocking if the green Dragons are to win in the Oakland A race.

Can Rich Maples Prosper?

Brother Rice Hopes to Pise

"I don't think things can get any worse than they were last year," said coach Joe Pascuzzi as the Brother Rice football team worked out.

He was speaking of the Warriors' 0-8 season in 1953 and the last-place finish in the Catholic League's Central Division.

Although there are better men in uniform, the coaching staff is pressing for improvement in the offensive line and trying to find a quarterback to direct the split-T attack.

Halfback Dan Corrigan is highly regarded as a ball carrier along with fullback Mike Hudgens.

Greg Murphy, a senior, appears set at one guard spot. End Doug Keating, sophomore, and junior guard Gene Ferstle join Hudgens as newcomers in the lineup.

Defensively, the team has improved. They kept improvement in the running back last year will be defensive line play.

Seaholm Has Title Funds But Could Go Bankrupt

Add up the assets of the Birmingham Seaholm gridiron and you should have enough to put a Southeastern Michigan League title in the bank.

All the Maples have to do is get the top dollar from a few positions and avoid a recession against some rich opponents that could lead to bankruptcy.

The Maples are one of six teams in the new league, a loop made up of Seaholm, Ferndale, Hazel Park and Royal Oak Kimball from the Eastern Michigan League and Southfield and Berkley from the Inter-Lakes League.

Directing the talent — rich Maples is Carl Lemle, who is in his 11th year at Seaholm.

"With a few breaks at some positions we could be pretty tough," is the way Lemle adds it up.

With 15 lettermen in the fold and veterans at every position except at end, the Maples will be looking for their first title in nine years. They won the EML crown in 1955.

Last year the squad racked up a 7-1-1 record, finishing 5-1-1 in the EML. Roseville kept Seaholm from taking the title with a 13-12 upset in the next-to-last game of the season.

INTERIOR LINE

Listing the Maples' assets in order, a solid interior line is first.

Holding down the two tackle slots will be 230-pound Mike Garza, a senior and another senior, Dick Rozek, 6-2 and 195 pounds. Rick Snyder, a 6-0, 195-pounder, is a two-year veteran at his guard post. John Hilty, a 210-pound newcomer is expected to hold down the other guard slot. Junior Bill Kovachivich, 5-10, 185 pounds, gets the nod at center.

Next on the list of assets is a well-stocked backfield.

Senior Dick Swaney has won a pair of letters at quarterback and he is back to guide the attack this year. Another two-year veteran, John Kingscott, will be at one of the running back spots.

Buzz Downey, a newcomer, is being groomed for the other halfback slot.

At the end position, a pre-season questionmark, Lemle may not be poor after all.

Candidates on hand for the positions are Craig Newton, 6-0, 200 pounds, and Bill Benner, 6-0, 175 pounds, a transfer pupil from Orange, Calif.

Another transfer pupil could fill an end slot. He's Jamie Miller, who played quarterback for Bloomfield Hills last year. He could fill in as a running back or an end in addition to providing signal calling insurance.

Now come the liabilities—the other partners in the league.

"The new league will be very tough," said Lemle.

"Kimball and Ferndale are loaded. Hazel Park is always tough and newcomer Berkley should have its best team in years. Take a look at our schedule—I'll trade with anyone."

Roseville Rates in EML Race

Although the Eastern Michigan League was cut in half this year, a scramble is expected to develop among the four remaining squads for gridiron supremacy.

Port Huron, Roseville, Mount Clemens and East Detroit remain in the EML after Birmingham Seaholm, Ferndale, Royal Oak Kimball and Hazel Park dropped out to form another loop.

Roseville is a heavy choice to don the EML crown.

The Wildcats rate the lofty berth because of the presence of 15 lettermen, all seniors.

A beefy line anchored by 251-pound Jack Adkinson is expected to open a lot of holes for quarterback Jack Nizza and fullback Doug Firosz.

HEAVY LINE

Mount Clemens will toss a line averaging 205 pounds at its opponents.

Mainstays in the forward wall are tackles Bob Racine and Weirfield Coffin, both 215-pounders.

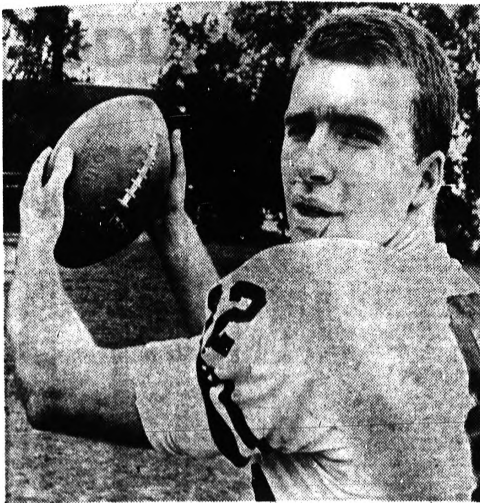

Mount Clemens' biggest problem is the backfield where coach Dick Chapman is trying to find a replacement for departed Jesse Hairston, an all-league selection last year.

Port Huron didn't win a game last year, but the Big Reds gained the necessary experience to move into contention this year.

A veteran Big Red backfield is directed by senior Bob Wedge, who will have a heavy line in front of him built around 271-pound center Dwight 'Tiny' Simmons.

East Detroit is another team with a lot of beef on the forward wall but the squad lacks experience in the backfield.

The forecast:
1. Roseville
2. Port Huron
3. Mount Clemens
4. East Detroit

VETERAN END — Mike Dean will begin his third season at a regular St. Fred terminal post this week. He is expected to handle the team's punting chores in addition to his pass catching and blocking duties.

Graduation Hits Sorrows With Heavy Grid Losses

The only beating the 1963 Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows football team took was at graduation time last spring.

The Lancers brushed aside seven opponents in 1963 on the way to winning the Northwest Catholic League championship. Eighteen lettermen were lost at graduation.

Coach Bud Webster has only eight lettermen available and he is worried about the coming season.

Opposing coaches keep pointing a finger at the Lancers as the strongest in the league, despite the heavy losses.

One of the big reasons is back Myles Kearney who Webster flatly states is "the best, by far, in the league, possibly in the state." He also puts the same tag on center Mike Bars, a 210-pounder.

Royal Oak St. Mary lost ace halfback Don Wells and his father, Major Carl Wells, the team's coach, at graduation.

11 LETTERMEN

Glen Goode has taken over the grid reigns and is working with 11 lettermen.

Among the better returnees are guard Jim Dietrick and halfback Tom Flack.

The general feeling is that the Irish will be hard-pressed to equal their second place finish of last season.

Groves Readies Shock Squad

Falcons Have League Title, Key Veterans

Opponents on the gridiron schedule of Birmingham Groves can start bracing for a shock.

With exception of the backfield, the 1964 version of the Falcons bears a striking resemblance to last year's unit.

There's a good reason for the similarity. Fifteen of the lettermen of the '63 squad are back.

Coach Jim Kinnison and the Falcons flew away with the Northwest Suburban title last year with a 4-0-1 mark. They compiled an overall record of 6-1-1, losing only to city rival Birmingham Seaholm.

Among the returnees are two-year veterans at seven positions.

The strength is stretched along a heavy line that should apply the shock treatment again this year.

Anchoring the line are David Woodson (6-0, 200) and Dick Balgenorth (6-0, 207) at tackles. Hal Morse (5-6, 165) holds down a guard slot and Kirk Olson (6-1, 195) occupies the center berth.

Heading the receiving corps are Randy Fraser (6-0, 175) and Rick Rowan.

Kinnison's split-T formation will be built around veteran running backs Tom McKennie (5-9, 190) and Doug Jardine (5-10, 165).

An unknown link in the otherwise strong gridiron chain is at quarterback where Kinnison is going with Steve Green, a letterman who saw little action last year playing behind now-departed Bill Stephenson.

The Falcons will get perhaps their strongest test of the season Friday evening against Seaholm, one of the area's top 11s.

After Seaholm, the Birds take on Cranbrook and then open the league slate against Livonia Franklin Oct. 2.

Assistant Coach for Wayne State

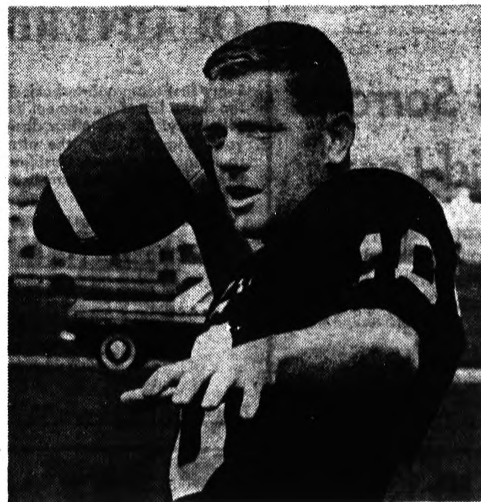

DETROIT — Leon A. Lande, assistant professor of health and physical education at Wayne State University, has been named full-time freshman football coach, Dr. Richard C. Havel, divisional director, announced Monday.

This is the first time since WSU joined the Presidents' Athletic Conference days that a member of the Tartar athletic staff has held such a position.

Lande, who holds a Ph.D. in physical education from the University of Michigan has held the job of Tartar baseball coach at WSU since the spring of 1960.

Ferndale 11 Given Nod for Crown

It has become customary in picking pre-season gridiron powerhouses to include the name of Ferndale.

The custom hasn't changed.

The Eagles dominated play in the Eastern Michigan League, winning the title the past two years, and this season they will be gunning for their first championship in the newly-formed Southeastern Michigan Association.

Along with the Eagles, the new loop includes Royal Oak Kimball, Birmingham Seaholm, Southfield, Berkley and Hazel Park.

At Ferndale, coach Frank Joranko has 13 lettermen on the squad, many of whom saw considerable action with the first string last year. Among the returnees is Bob Super, a three-year veteran at quarterback.

Seaholm has a huge line, a trifle on the slow side, but if the Maples' running attack jells, they will be on top or near the leader.

LINE SLOTS

Kimball is another squad with a heavy front line. Craig Irwin (5-10, 225) and Bob Swanson (6-2, 230) hold down key guard and tackle slots.

The Knights also have an experienced signal caller on hand in Bob Miles, a 5-9, 160-pound senior.

Hazel Park, fifth last year in the EML, looms as a contender in the new association.

The squad has a sharp offense geared around halfback Gary Eddings (5-9, 170) and fullback Lloyd Welch (6-2, 197), but coach Charles Skinner will have to shore up the defense to keep the team in the running.

Berkley's Bears occupy the darkhorse position.

Most of last year's strong defensive unit are back, and coach Hugh Wilson has the entire backfield intact.

Graduation thinned the ranks of Southfield's Blue Jays. The squad is short on experience, a must-have asset in SEMA play.

N. Farmington Eyes Possible Honors

Although their ranks were thinned by the loss of 23 lettermen, North Farmington's Falcons are expected to battle Birmingham Groves and Detroit Thurston for top honors in the Northwest Suburban League.

The Falcons and Thurston wound up with 2-2 league marks and a tie for third last year, with the Falcons moving onto a 6-3 overall record.

North Farmington coach Ronald Holland is moulding a unit together with 13 returnees providing the nucleus.

A big plus in the Falcons' corner is senior quarterback Andy Lawing, a 5-10, 155-pounder who has earned three letters at the signal-calling position.

A light, mobile line will be built around a pair of 190-pound tackles — junior Pete Dolan and senior Gerald Pound.

VETERAN TEAM

Thurston recorded a 4-5 season mark, but a large crop of returning lettermen is expected to put more power in the Eagles' attack.

Livonia Franklin 2-1-1 second last year, suffered from graduation and will join Oak Park (0-4) in darkhorse roles.

Auburn Coach Discouraging Injury Talk

Builds Tiger Attack Around Jim Sidle, Top Rushing QB

By KELSO STURGEON

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — If you want to scare Auburn football Coach Ralph (Shug) Jordan to near heart failure, just ask him what he would do this season if something prevented quarterback Jimmy Sidle from playing.

"Don't ask things like that," Jordan says, knocking on all the wood within reach. "Any injury to Sidle would shake up our situation, to put it mildly."

Sidle, who was an All-American back last season as a junior, is the only quarterback in history to lead the nation in rushing. The 6-foot-3, 218-pound senior, picked up 1,006 yards on the ground last year and was the Southeastern Conference total offense leader with 1,712 yards.

If something happened to Sidle, the Auburn football machine would by no means collapse, but the Tigers' chances for the SEC championship would most likely go down the drain.

MADE HISTORY

Sidle's performance against Houston last year has already placed him among the rich legendary history of Alabama College football.

In this contest, Auburn shot to a 21-0 halftime lead but found itself near collapse early in the fourth quarter as the vicious Texas heat vented its wrath on air-tight Rice Stadium.

The Auburn team was so exhausted that, as the quarter wore on, it hardly had the strength even to huddle.

At this point Sidle, who has amazing strength and endurance, took over and ran the ball almost every play on offense. He would just step behind the center, tell him to snap the ball, then drop back a step and run for the nearest hole in the line.

Through this system, Auburn was able to hang on for a 21-14 victory.

Running behind Sidle at present are Joe Campbell, a 6-2, 185-pound sophomore, and Tom Bryan, a 6-0, 180-pound soph. Both are adequate, but Jordan says the gap between them and Sidle is as wide as the Grand Canyon.

Spartans After Three Trophies in Grid Tilts

Michigan, Indiana, Irish to Provide Tough Opposition

EAST LANSING — Michigan State's football team will vie for gridiron trophies when it meets three traditional rivals this fall.

The trophies are the "Paul Bunyan - Governor of Michigan Trophy" (MSU-Michigan), the "Old Brass Spittoon" (MSU-Indiana) and the "Megaphone Trophy" (MSU-Notre Dame).

The Paul Bunyan-Governor of Michigan Trophy was put in circulation by G. Mennen Williams in 1953.

The trophy is a four-foot wooden statue of the north woods folklore hero standing over an axe on a five-foot stand. An "S" flag is on one side of the pedestal and an "M" flag on the other.

The Spartans took initial possession of it in 1953 and have been able to display it in Jenison Fieldhouse every year but two since then.

At stake when the Spartans meet Indiana is the "Old Brass Spittoon," a relic from one of Michigan's oldest trading posts and believed to be well over 100 years old.

EXCLUSIVE PROPERTY

The spittoon has been the almost exclusive property of Michigan State since it was first contested in 1950. The Spartans won it that year with a 35-0 victory and have retained it every year except 1958 when the Hoosiers came up with a 6-0 win.

The oldest of the three prizes is the "Megaphone Trophy," a large megaphone with an ND monogram on one side and an MSU monogram on the other. It was donated jointly by the Michigan State and Notre Dame alumni clubs of Detroit in 1949.

Notre Dame took first possession of it with a 34-12 victory but has managed to win it back only once, that in 1954 with a 20-19 decision.

New Small Outboards in '65 Johnson Line

Johnson Motors introduces outboard engines of 5, 6 and 33 horsepower in a 1965 line company officials describe as the largest, lightest and quietest in the Waukegan (Ill.) manufacturer's 44 years.

There are 17 models in the 1965 Johnson line, 17 outboards in 10 horsepower classes (3, 5, 6, 9½, 18, 33, 40, 60, 75 and 90) and three inboard-outboard engines (90, 120 and 150 hp). The 120-hp product is offered for the first time through Johnson Sea-Horse dealers.

Terry Barr of the Detroit Lions and Gary Collins of the Cleveland Browns each caught 13 touchdown passes to lead the National Football League in 1963.

Ferris 11 Prepares for Opening Game

A one-deep veneer of veterans continues to hold the key to Ferris State's grid outlook as the Bulldogs wade through full-dress contact work pointing toward their Sept. 19 opener against Michigan Tech.

In recent intra-squad workouts and a scrimmage clash with Grand Rapids JC., FSC's 16 lettermen were thinly staffing virtually all first-string slots, with two-way performers bulwarking both the offense and defense.

Among the few newcomers drilling at starting berths are Steve Naumcheff and Mike Seelman. Naumcheff, a 6-0, 180-pound freshman end from Ann Arbor, may make it both ways . . . by virtue of an impressive blend of good downfield moves and a crashing-type defensive style.

Seelman, freshman center candidate from Bridgeport, has displayed speed and power in out-hustling other hopefuls vying for the pivot post.

Also looking much the same as it did in '63 is the No. 1 backfield, with veteran Carlton

"Chub" Wayer, Morley, at quarterback, Chuck Gramlich, Detroit, at fullback, and Emery Welsh, Grand Blanc, and Muskegon's Tom Hornik handling the halfback assignments.

Defensively, Ketchman figures to field a unit averaging 208 pounds across-the front. In addition to Anderson and Naumcheff, the forward wall will be staffed by veterans Mike Warren, 6'3, 205, Pittsford; Brian "Mike" Fitzgerald, 6'3, 205, Grand Rapids; and Tom Campbell, 6'4, 240, Pontiac.

Besides his offensive role, big Mike McDonald has been tagged for center-linebacker duty on the basis of his hard-charging play in practice.

The problem of filling the other two linebacker slots has been eased by the equally aggressive work of veteran John Brandstatter and first-year man Ron Murphy.

The latter is a squat 5-9, 180-pound fullback with a sixth sense for tracking down ball carriers, while Brandstatter, a 6-4, 205-pounder who lettered as an offensive end last season, has indicated he thrives on rugged defensive work.

"Our first-year men are progressing right along with the regulars, and if they maintain the present pace there could be a few more new faces on the first string," commented head coach Sam Ketchman.

Hawks' Line Disintegrated by Diplomas

Ortonville Brandon's football line was disintegrated by graduation leaving the backs to carry the load early in the coming season.

As the campaign wears on, the Black Hawk forwards should gain experience and make the work of the ball carriers and defensive secondary easier.

Brandon, which finished second in the Suburban C League, has eight lettermen. The two experienced linemen are guard Dave Porritt and end Don Wagner.

The backfield is the strong point.

Hard-running Steve Hubbs returns at halfback and Mel McDowell starts a second season at fullback. Steve Bolyea is a letterman quarterback as is John Kier.

Hit by Graduation

Lancers Start Over

The cream of the crop has graduated at Emmanuel Christian and with their departure may have gone the Lancers' hopes of repeating the good-football showing of last year.

Quarterback Ralph Wingate and halfbacks Ron Jackson and Dick Lawson have graduated. They spearheaded Emmanuel to a 7-2 record, the best in the school's history.

Coach John Malone has accepted assignment elsewhere. His place has been taken by Roger Sykes, a member of the coaching staff during the last school year.

Eight lettermen were on hand when practice started.

The Emmanuel football team has never been large in numbers and Sykes is well aware of the problems this presents.

"The team is young and inexperienced," he pointed out, "and we can ill afford injuries to key personnel."

The backfield appears to be the strong point with quarterback Tim Mayer ready to take over direction and backs Darrel Hutto and Ron Morgan set as ball carriers.

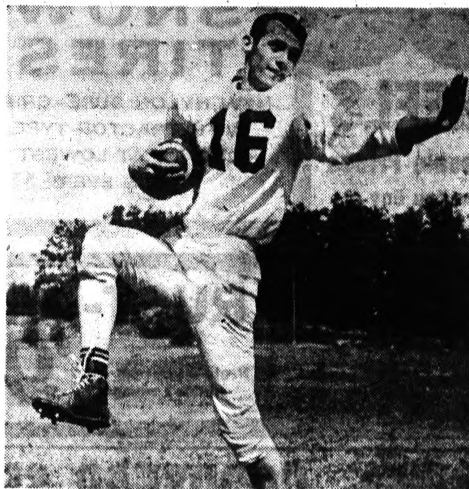

Don Stone, a 205-pound tackle, end Mike Chase and back Paul Linker are listed as top newcomers.

The Lancers should gain experience in a hurry. They play perennially strong Linden in their opening game.

Pontiac Press Photo

SLOTBACK—Paul Lenker is expected to see considerable duty as a slotback in the Emmanuel Christian lineup, performing pass catching, blocking and some ball carrying assignments.

Pontiac Press Photo

CUTTING AWAY—Emmanuel halfback Darrel Hutto practices his swivel hiping. The Lancer letterwinner will be one of the main cogs in coach Roger Sykes' running attack.

Southern Thumb Struggle Looks 'Very Interesting'

"This should prove to be a very interesting season," said Dryden football coach Robert Mason.

This just about sums up the Southern Conference race. Dwight Lee and Jack Belt have departed from New Haven along with a host of other Rockets and this is expected to be the big equalizer.

Brown City and Aconhor Bay are being rated co-favorites by fellow coaches with Armada included in the running.

Almont and Dryden are being ranked second division.

But this doesn't seem to daunt Almont coach Bill Briggs who has suffered through a couple of winless seasons with the Raiders.

There were 15 lettermen ready to start practice and several of them have been around for two years or more.

APPEAR READY

Actually, the Raiders appear ready to win a few for a change.

There is good experience along the line.

John Bassier and Steve Wolkowski return at ends. Veteran tackles are Bill Korth and Tayne Tessmer. The guards will be manned by Dick Stine and John Liblong or Arland Rayl. Howard Redd is the center.

Halfback Larry Hoffner and fullback Larry Millikin add experience to the backfield which will be rounded out by newcomers Ken Schulte, a halfback and his brother, John, a halfback.

Dryden managed a couple of victories last season after some years of gridiron futility and there is a suspicion the Cardinals may get more of the same.

"We lack size and speed," said Mason, but we have experience returning.

Quarterback Tom Sterner and placekicking end Dennis Hilliker are the top veterans. Others are halfback Larry Panderen, tackles Tom Townsend and Francis Blaszczyk, guards Perry Arnold and Richard Pandurans, and backs Tom Kline and Dave Reynolds.

Veteran Anchor Bay mentor John Laurant says, "Things look better than 1963."

This could spell trouble for all opponents because the Tars finished in a tie for second last season.

The forecast:
1. Anchor Bay
2. Brown City
3. New Haven
4. Armada
5. Almont
6. Dryden
7. Capac
8. Memphis

Imlay City Plans Gridiron Rebound

South Central — Prep
The 1963 football season for Imlay City was long, very long. The once proud Spartans were the doormat of the revised South Central League as they failed to win or tie in eight starts.

A reversal of form is indicated for 1964. It probably

COACH: Roger Sykes
HIGH SCHOOL: Sparta Township
LOCATION: Sparta, Ill.
COLLEGE: McKendree (Ill.) and Illinois
SYSTEM: Split T with variations
ASSISTANTS: William Yost and Dr. Ken Frederick won't be 8-0, but the Spartans should make far more noise than they did last fall.

Reason for the optimism is the return of several starters including two-year veteran halfback Mike Schonfeld and quarterback Dale Goodrich who has won two varsity letters.

Other returnees with proven game ability are end-quarterback Bill Hoeksema, tackle John Van Conant, and Bill Lawrence and guard Scott Brown.

NEWCOMERS

Best of the newcomers appear to be end Rick Bogart and halfback Spencer Teller.

Millington is the definite dark-horse in the league. After three years as the doormat, the Cardinals posted three wins overall in 1963.

Now 18 lettermen are ready to make a charge at championship

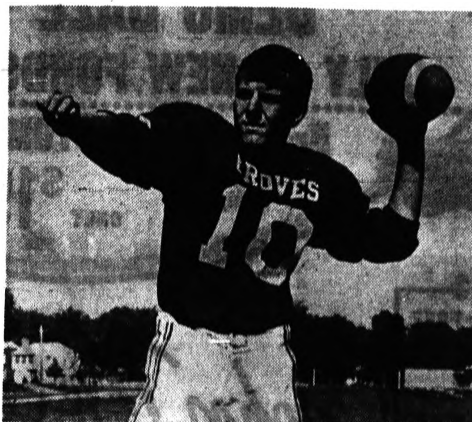

Halfback Ed Jewell, tackle Wally Prihs and guard Jim Seagar are three-year veterans. Fullback Dick Gladly is back for his third season.

Deckerville is being rated as the team to beat. The school entered the league last year and took the title. North Branch is an unknown as is Harbor Beach, the newest member.

The forecast:
1. Millington
2. Deckerville
3. Imlay City
4. Harbor Beach
5. North Branch

Outlook 'Sound' for Fighting Irish

NOTRE DAME, Ind. (UPI) — Notre Dame's 1964 football team will be "fundamentally sound" against every opponent, new coach Ara Parseghian decreed today, but he wouldn't predict any return to an unbeaten season, or close to it, for the Fighting Irish.

"Our object is to do better than we did last year," he said flatly.

That would mean only three wins, since the Irish, who haven't had a winning season since a 6-4 mark in 1958, were 2-7 last year, and Parseghian, who in 13 years as head coach has played to only two ties, said he "might be willing to settle for some this year."

"I'd rather have 2-1-7," he grinned, "than 4-6."

A 2-1-7 record might be a credit since Notre Dame plays four Big Ten schools — Wisconsin, Purdue, Michigan State and Iowa — three from the Pacific Coast — UCLA, Stanford and Southern California — as well as Navy, Pittsburgh and Air Force.

"I'd say it's a tough schedule," he said. "No better than we had at Northwestern when we were playing a Big Ten schedule."

DOESN'T KNOW

Parseghian, at the moment, doesn't know exactly how the Irish will face the foes since his offense hasn't jelled, and it won't until he has time to estimate the capabilities of quarterback John Huarte.

If Huarte is healthy and can throw the ball, then Notre Dame will use a passing offense from the pro T, the winged T, or an option attack. If he isn't or can't, then the Irish will resort to a "possession attack and try to grind it out."

"We hope two things will stimulate our offense," Parseghian said, "platooning and improvement in our passing. If Huarte doesn't come through, we'll have to go to a possession type game and work on our field goal kicking."

Parseghian estimated that lack of depth in key positions, lack of over-all speed and lack of talent at the ball handling positions were Notre Dame's problems with spirit, size and desire the assets.

"We're going to try to groom three boys for each position on both offense and defense," he said, "and if injury hurts us, then we may have to switch a few players from offense to defense or otherwise."

With Huarte the key to the offense, the rushing could be good if Bill Wolski gets healthy and Nick Eddy and-or Nick Rassas comes through and if both fullbacks, Joe Farrell and Joe Kantor, can play.

But defense against passing may be a constant problem since he'll use newcomers in his defensive backfield — Ken Ivan, Tom Longo and Tony Carey — and he didn't believe they could possibly replace Tom McDonald, Bill Pfeiffer and Frank Budka.

In the line however, prospects were brighter with experience at all but two of the offensive positions and all but three of the defensive unit.

Among the regulars, too, were some standouts, notably ends Jack Snow and Phil Sheridan, tackles John Meyer and Mike Wadsworth, guards Dick Arrington and Jim Lynch, linebacker Jim Carroll and center Norm Nicola.

"We can have two good units without injury," Parseghian said. "But we don't have the depth and platooning definitely will help us."

Without any help from freshmen, Notre Dame may need all the help it can get.

Has Tough Choice

DALLAS (NEA) — National Football League quarterbacks are beginning to envy Don Meredith of the Dallas Cowboys who has two of the best targets in the league this year—Buddy Dial and Tommy McDonald.

Someone recently asked Meredith how he will choose between McDonald and Dial.

Meredith replied: "Aw, I'll just throw the long ball down the middle and yell 'Get it babies.'"

Size, Number Increasing

All-American Prospect List Bigger

By HARRY GRAYSON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — Football is the only game in which the players come up bigger and better each year.

There are numerous reasons for this. More kids are playing. High school coaching is vastly improved. But the principal reason is that the American boy is instinctively competitive. He likes to whack 'em.

It used to be that All-American selectors had difficulty finding 11 super stars. Now they name 22 plus specialists and apologize for leaving off a raft of tremendous performers.

New names pop up with each sophomore class. Floyd Little of Syracuse is a striking current example. Coach Ben Schwartzwalder calls this 5-11, 190-pound, bowlegged halfback more advanced at this stage than were Jim Brown or Ernie Davis. He runs the 100 under 10 seconds and relishes contact.

BIG LINEMEN

Remember when they talked in hushed tones about the mammoth 220-pound interior linemen? They're little people now.

Dick Butkus, Illinois' one-man strong-arm squad, is more like it at 6-3, 237. The Illini has other big guys up front, too, starting with Archie Sutton, the 6-4, 249-pound tackle.

Ralph Neely, 6-5, 243-pound tackle, figures to make Gomer Jones' maiden voyage as Oklahoma's head man considerable easier. This could go on and on through schools that rarely crash the headlines, as in the case of Bowling Green of Ohio with 300-pound Tony Lawrence at tackle.

Emphasis on the wide open game resulted in a plethora of superior quarterbacks. A small army of them pitched their final college game last fall, yet this season finds an even greater number of proven performers on the firing line.

The list is headed by Roger Staubach, Navy's truly All-America boy. Jimmy Sidle, 6-3, 210, of Auburn is the only quarterback ever to rush more than 1,000 yards. He was second in the nation.

Coach Bear Bryant only has to curb Joe Namath's extra-curricular activities to keep him very much in the All-American picture. Fred Mazurek of Pittsburgh is the slickest thing ever honed on a roll-out.

There is no end to the ends. You begin with Allen Brown of Mississippi and Baylor's Larry Elkins, and don't overlook Arkansas' Jerry Lamb.

Neely of Oklahoma, Memphis State's Harry Schuh, Illinois' Sutton, Ohio State's 237-pound Doug Van Horn and Navy's Jim Freeman are tackles of extraordinary stature.

TOP GUARD

Stan Hindman of Mississippi at guard could be the Lineman-of-the-Year. Rick Redman of Washington was a 1963 All-American. Navy's place-kicking Capt. Fred Marlin merits recognition.

Center - linebacker Butkus of Illinois probably will be the top pro draft choice. Glen Ressler of Penn State made 53 unassisted tackles last season.

You run out of space listing halfbacks who get places in hurry. None is more spectacular than Gayle Sayers, Kansas' 200-pound sprinter. You don't have to go out of the Big Eight to name two more — Johnny Roland of Missouri and Iowa State's Tom Vaughn.

Ernie Koy eats up acreage for Texas. Larry Dupree of Florida is the most dangerous runner in the Southeastern Conference. Mike Garrett moves the ball for Southern California.

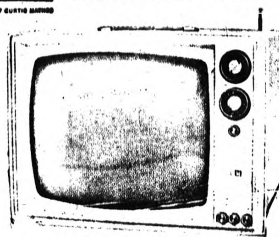

Among the fullbacks, Jim Grisham of Oklahoma, Washington's Junior Coffey and Illinois' Jim Grabowski hit and come again. Tom Nowatzke of Indiana is mentioned in the same breath with the great Bronko Nagurski. Pat Donnelly is the most vicious hitter Navy ever had. Cosmo Iacavazzi of Princeton would look good in any livery.

When you see these guys knock people down and run over them you know why football is peculiarly an American sport.

Brother a Grid Star

Steve Juday, Michigan State's top quarterback, is the younger brother of Vanderbilt co-captain Bill Juday.

Chargers' Ladd Abdicates Crown as Biggest Eater

By BOB SUDYK

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. The national champion of tired. An abdominal growl is America's favorite sport has re-emerging across the country. Repercussions are being felt in road houses, hotels and restaurants. Key clubs are teaching their bunny girls to cook.

Unhappy, cholesterol-conscious guys who fondly remember the good old days when they sported at the plate and preparing for a comeback. The king has abdicated.

Ernie Ladd, gastronomy title holder, has retired his gravy-stained bib. The 6-9 giant who managed to sandwich in a slice of pro football between competitive eating reported to the San Diego Chargers at a svelte 293 pounds. It was an even 40 pounds below his eating weight.

"I was the best at any kind of groceries ever invented."

TRIPLE THREAT — Co-captain Dick Reddaway gives Avondale a solid offensive backfield threat with his running, blocking and pass receiving.

he was quoted. "I could come out of retirement right now — for lunch — and whip 'em all. I was what you call a hungry champion."

It was an empty boast. A retired monarch who "deserted" his crown. A Sonny Liston abdication with no return clause.

BIG CONTEST

Ernie will always be remembered for his magnificent triumph over undefeated Italian champion Nick Cordileone in 1961. The eating contest drew 1,800 fans in San Diego.

Cordileone is a spaghetti eater by land. By sea, he is a tuna fancier considered on par with Lent as the major boon to the seafood industry. On occasion he ties the entire Archdiocese of Los Angeles for one Friday's eating.

But Ladd, a two-steak favorite, had height, weight and reach. Cordileone's failure to eat the chicken skins cost him the contest. You might say he fouled out — or chickened out! Nick claimed Ernie heaved between courses — an automatic disqualification.

"I agreed to meet him on his own ground, which was Italian style," Ernie recalled. "He started fast as we went through a two-pound tossed salad, a platter of meatballs and spaghetti, two stuffed lobsters, a three-pound steak, a four-pound prime rib, half dozen hamburgers and two whole chickens."

"He began slowing down. I knocked off two plates of rolls and butter, a quart of ice cream and cake and he was finished."

Nick brought his own wine. A few thought it was a tummy soother in colored water. But the official taster had to be led out with his hat on sideways by the middle of the evening.

Ernie could eat anything, which gave him an edge on foreigners who tend to specialize. But now he has gone the way of Babe Ruth, Mario Lanza, Two-Ton Tony Galento and Les Bingaman. . . . An eat-off to decide a new champ will begin any day now.

Under the rules laid down by the USSPA (U.S. Stomach Pump Assn.), contestants can eat anything set in front of them except each other. Burps are allowed and you can stick your fingers into your mouth only to lick the gravy. Anyone turning green will be allowed a one-minute rest.

Nostrums for stomach upsets will be considered illegal.

Eaters everywhere, start training now. Begin at dinner tonight. Just double order everything. If the wife complains, tell her you are in training for the world title. . . . At the sound of a belch, come out eating!

Championship Host

Michigan State staged the national collegiate championship in cross-country, tennis and women's golf during the 1963-64 school year.

DETROIT—Bobb Thompson, Detroit Lions defensive back from Arizona, averaged better than 7.0 yards per carry in college ball as a senior but will concentrate on defense in the NFL.

NFL Eagles Looking for Improved Team

By RUSS GREEN
United Press International

PHILADELPHIA, (UPI) — There's plenty of room for improvement on the Philadelphia Eagles who have posted just five National Football League victories over the past two seasons.

And that's what new coach Joe Kuharich and new owner Jerry Wolman hope for after their victory in the season opener over the N.Y. Giants, 38-7.

It's a daring word, improvement, for a team which traded off pass catcher Tommy McDonald and bomb thrower Sonny Jurgensen. But the hope which springs eternal has the broad-shouldered Kuharich figuring things may not be too bad after all.

On the other hand, you won't find Kuharich glum after his swapping spree which saw seven old Eagles leave and 15 new Eagles arrive.

MATSON REVITALIZED

Fellows like center Jim Ringo from the Green Bay Packers and what appears to be a revitalized Ollie Matson from Detroit make him feel good. He has the confidence that quarterbacks Norm Snead from Washington, holdover King Hill and rookie Johnny Concannon learning the ropes will be of mutual benefit.

And his weeks of watching the team jell at training camp and against the Giants have him imbued with the idea that the outlook isn't as dark as first glance might warrant.

"We're not a team of superstars, yet we don't need a great deal to add up all right" Kuharich said. "We need more efficiency from our personnel, we need a good performance from everyone consistently. We can't get anything easily, and what we achieve depends on how well everyone performs."

RINGO ANCHORS LINE

Ringo and All America rookie tackle Bob Brown of Nebraska are the anchor men on an offensive line that's young but still whetted by NFL play in the persons of Dave Graham, Ed Blaine and Pete Case. Reliable Pete Retzlaff is at one end. It could be ex-Viking Ray Poage at the other, or Poage as a flanker if brittle ex-Steelers Red Mack succumbs to injuries.

Snead, not yet rounded into his better form, and Hill should be the quarterbacks with Concannon largely an observer for this first year. They should get better protection from a stronger line.

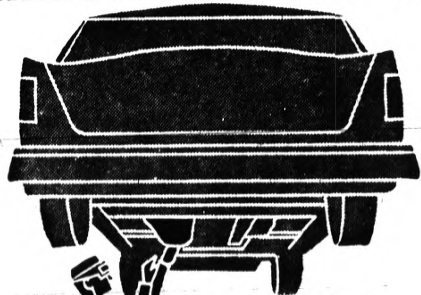

Spectacular Timmy Brown is the backfield best with fullback probably entrusted to ex-Packer Earl Kros, Tom Woodeschick and possibly Israel Lang.

Kuharich believes his defense will be adequate, and doesn't go for the thoughts the secondary is vulnerable. That's to be seen. The Giants saw a lot of it.

Wisconsin won its first undisputed Big 10 football title in 1959 since the season of 1912.

Cornell football teams in the 1956 and 1957 seasons each scored 100 points against opponents.

Pitt's Mazurek Keeps Trying

Staubach's Shadow Follows QB

PITTSBURGH (NEA) — The startling thing about Fred Mazurek is his sensitivity — the deep, brooding kind a person would more readily understand in an artist or a musician.

You see it every time the Pitt quarterback walks past a magazine rack, every time he reads a paper and every time people tell him he'll have to pull a miracle to defeat Navy's Roger Staubach in the All-America balloting.

"I know I'm bucking something tough," Mazurek said, "and I know all about Staubach and what people think of my chances for All-America."

"I try to forget it but I can't because everywhere I go something reminds me of it. Making All-America means a lot to me. I've thought about it ever since I started playing."

PENNSYLVANIAN

That was in Republic, Pa., a town about 30 miles south of Pittsburgh where you either leave or wind up in the mines.

Mazurek got out, but he was one of the lucky ones because he almost died during his sophomore year in high school when he collapsed in a game. He had a blood clot on the brain and for 12 days the doctors weren't sure if he would survive.

After his recovery, the doctors told him to rest for a while, but it didn't do much good because when basketball season started there was Mazurek — outfitted with a special helmet.

When he finally was ready for college he chose Pitt because it offered pre-med, and that was one of the things he had been thinking of since his narrow escape in high school.

"I didn't stay in pre-med long, though," Mazurek said. "I just got too upset when I see people sick and dying. I thought I would overcome this fear, but I never did."

He's a psychology major now and lately he's been doing a lot of wondering — respectful wondering, of course — about the people who choose All-America teams.

"I know that for me to make it," he said, "I must have a great year. But Roger might do things wrong and it won't matter that much because of all the backing he has."

"I understand about the publicity and I know what my chances are but if I don't play up to All-America standards this year I won't mind about missing it."

Mazurek will have another direct confrontation with Staubach Oct. 24, at Pitt Stadium.

Pitt's only loss in 1963 was to Navy, 24-12, and three Mazurek interceptions led to a Middle field goal and two touchdowns. Staubach, meanwhile, had another great afternoon, completing 14 of 19 passes.

"I know I looked bad that day and because of that so did the team," Mazurek said, "but I still feel we were best in the country last year."

John Michelosen, the Pitt coach, usually confines his comments to the weather and other equally challenging subjects, but when he's asked about Mazurek he does a Dr. Jekyll.

"I wouldn't trade him for any quarterback in the country," Michelosen said. "I know one thing. There isn't a better running quarterback."

3 County Lettermen on Northwood Team

Northwood Institute of Midland will play a seven game schedule this season under coach Lou Juillerat.

Among the county gridders at Northwood tackle Larry Vernier of Royal Oak; guard Dave Richard of Walled Lake and Jeff Hicks of Ferndale, a halfback among the lettermen.

The season opens Saturday night at Grand Rapids.

That may be, but college football has changed in its battle to match the pros and the trend is toward the offense.

This is why Roger Staubach has the edge. He's a great passer. Mazurek is the runner.

Platoon Football on Way Back

Rules Changes Opened Up for College Teams

It's ironic now when you think back and realize that college football abandoned unlimited substitution in 1952, the same year professional football began its popularity spiral with rookies like Frank Gifford, Ollie Matson and Hugh McElhenny.

The colleges have tried unsuccessfully to catch up since then, but this year they will have their best opportunity because the Rules Committee finally realized that when 90 per cent of the nation's coaches think the same way, it is time to listen.

So they passed a new rule which allows unlimited substitution whenever the clock stops.

When it is running, coaches will be able to use the old "wild-card" rule to substitute two men between downs.

The decision was a popular one and it received immediate approval in all areas.

"I think they liberalized substitution enough that it should satisfy everyone," coach Jess Neely of Rice said.

"There still should be the need to coach a player both ways, but it does appear those wishing to play platoon ball can do so virtually 100 per cent of the time."

To Bobby Dodd, the change means a better all-around game for the colleges and the first step toward combating the professionals.

"The best way for the colleges to meet competition from the pros," Dodd said, "is with the rules book."

We have those good throwers and those ends who can make great catches. We should let them play. Put your 11 best offensive players on the field, but let 'em walk off when you haven't got the football."

PROBLEMS

The rule does have its problems, though, and Columbia's Buff Donelli was one of the few who cared to analyze them and their possible effect on the game.

"It might force coaches to use time-outs," he said, "for purposes other than what they're meant for. It also invites the boys to throw out of bounds and fake injuries to stop the clock."

This may bother Donelli's conscience, but it's doubtful if too many others have been thinking about it during early drills when the emphasis has been on developing either two platoons or three.

East Eyes Syracuse 11 as Power

Every indicator points to Syracuse as the best college football team in the East this season. On Sept. 19, the opening day for most teams, the accuracy of the indicators will be tested and by Oct. 17 it should be known whether they're right or wrong.

Navy, Penn State and Army must be considered as Syracuse's leading challengers.

Navy opens against Penn State at University Park, Pa., Sept. 19 but plays only one other eastern rival before the Army game.

Penn State takes on a couple of tough intersectional rivals then plays Army and Syracuse on successive October Saturdays.

Ben Schwartzwalder, starting his 16th season as Syracuse coach, is rich in backs—for instance, four quarterbacks—and not as poor in the line as he'd like to have rivals think. Penn State's Rip Engle could use just one of those spare quarterbacks.

Navy has Heisman Trophy winner Roger Staubach back for his senior season.

Army has Ronnie Stichweh, who rubbed some of the glitter off Staubach's reputation when they met last fall, and should be helped by the 1964 substitution rule and Coach Paul Dietzel's three-team system.

No other team looks like a contender for top honors in the East. Pittsburgh lost too much to hold its usual place and such teams as Boston College, Holy Cross, Boston University, Buffalo and Rutgers haven't gained.

Nick Pietrosante holds the Detroit Lions single season rushing record, established in 1960, when he gained 872 yards on 161 carries, to eclipse the record set in 1963 by Ace Gutowsky.

BRONCO — Former PCH gragger Elick Shorter will take over a tackle spot at Western Michigan this fall. Shorter tips the scales at 240 pounds.

After nine years of football, counting high school, college, and one year of pro experience, Jim Simon of the Detroit Lions has found a new position at offensive guard.

His previous experience all was at end, both offense and defense.

Writers Poll Unfavorable to NFL-AFL Play

The American Football League is strong enough offensively but its defense lacks the power and depth to meet the National Football League in a pro championship game for at least another two years.

This is the majority opinion of 249 sportswriters and sports broadcasters across the nation in answer to a recent questionnaire.

The vote opposes a 1964 title game by a margin of 142 to 107. Many responding to the poll said they believe the San Diego Chargers have an offense equal to most NFL teams but doubt if the AFL defense could contain the likes of Jim Brown, Jim Taylor, Paul Hornung, the aerials of Y. A. Tittle and John Units.

Some went so far as to say a playoff between the two leagues would prove "highly embarrassing" to the AFL and the clash would "set the American Football League back a number of years" if not "destroy" it.

This group cited as proof the charge that many of the present AFL "stars" are "castoffs" from the NFL.

"I can't imagine the Green Bay Packers packing them in against the Denver Broncos," comments one observer, "and we have seen enough of Tobin Rote, now with the San Diego Chargers, and Babe Parilli, now with Boston—both Green Bay castoffs."

A number of writers and broadcasters point out the AFL has improved vastly in a short time, but a pro football champion cannot be named unless the best in each league meets.

Four questions were mailed by Petersen's Pro Football. Here are the responses, with some scribes' not answering all questions:

1) Do you think an NFL vs. AFL championship game should be set up this year in pro football? Yes, 107 No, 142

2) In your opinion, is the AFL strong enough to furnish a good title game? Yes, 100 No, 144

3) Do you think fans would patronize pre-season games in greater numbers if some were interleague? Yes, 172 No, 70

4) Would an All-Star game between the two leagues be better for the present than a title game? Yes, 112 No, 129

Evident in the voting was the fact that cities with strong NFL teams balloted lopsidedly against the title game while cities with AFL teams, for the most part, strongly favored the playoff.

Platoons Returning

Predict More Grid Upsets

By The Associated Press

College football had its first upset almost before the 1964 season began — the UCLA victory over Pitt, 17-12, last Saturday. You can expect more of the same next weekend when almost everybody gets into the act. That is if anything can be called an upset at this stage.

There's a note of uncertainty in the preparations almost everywhere in this year of returning platoons and even the big teams that have been awarded the top places in the pre-season ratings aren't exempt.

Coaches who recruited players a couple of years ago with the idea they'd have to play both offense and defense now are trying to get set with two of three line-ups to operate effectively under 1964 rules. Anything could happen.

TOP PLACES

The sports writers and broadcasters composing The Associated Press football panel voted the top places to Mississippi and Oklahoma in the annual pre-season poll. It was a close vote for first with Illinois, Texas, Ohio State, Alabama, Washington, Auburn, Syracuse and Navy trailing along to complete the top ten.

Eight of these teams swing into action Saturday and it would hardly be a stunning surprise if half of them were beaten. Illinois and Ohio State are safe because they don't play until a week later.

The UCLA-Pitt game, scheduled early to give the national television audience a preview of what's to come, proved a good indicator. Pitt was favored mostly because of last year's No. 4 rating and a fine quarterback, Fred Mazurek. But the UCLA quarterback, Larry Zeno, got more help, more points and more headlines than Mazurek.

OTHER GAMES

In other games on last Saturday

Princeton Ivy Choice

The Ivy League race, as usual, figures to be about as orderly and predictable as the fat man's race at a county fair. On manpower and experience, Princeton and Dartmouth should be the front runners, but they could trip.

Princeton has 22 returning lettermen from the team that tied for Ivy honors last season.

Dartmouth must rely heavily on Mickey Beard, a flashy but inexperienced quarterback. Dick Horton, converted to fullback, Capt. Jack McLean and Gary Wilson complete a good backfield. Bob Komives is a fine line backer.

Dartmouth and Princeton may settle the Ivy title when they clash Oct. 10.

Loose Ball Chatter

DUFFISM OF THE WEEK: Loose ball handling by Michigan State soph back John Grogan, son of the chief of police in Athens, Ohio, brought this admonishment from Coach Duffy Daugherty: "Grogan, if you don't cover that ball somebody'll steal it from you even if you are the chief's son."

day's brief program Houston tuned up for its coming contest with Auburn by stomping Trinity of Texas 34-7; Furman, a Southern Conference member, barely got past Mississippi College 13-10 and East Carolina, a new Southern member, whipped Catawba 25-0.

Southern California, one of the top teams in the enlarged Athletic Association of Western Universities, opens this week's program with a Friday night game against Colorado.

WOLFE ON PROWL—End John Wilberg saw regular duty as an offensive end last year for Clarkston's co-Wayne Oakland League champions and he's back hungry for more victories.

Elliott Era Spreads to Ann Arbor

Experts See Bump Taking Grid Spotlight

Michigan Is Expected to Be Strong Big 10 Contender

The "Elliott" era in the Big Ten was in its infancy in the Big Ten last year.

Pete Elliott at Illinois guided the Big Ten fortunes to the Rose Bowl and the head bumpers at Champaign are still ready to go for another crown.

But — there's brother Bump Elliott at Ann Arbor and the Wolverine fans are calling this the year reckoning for the their "Champions of the West," as they sing each football Saturday.

There's more speed and depth in the backfield and a junior team always seems to be a strong contending team in college competition.

Michigan has grabbed a couple good crops of freshmen in the home state the past two years and this is the season for yield.

Some injuries hurt Michigan during training camp, but it has been many seasons back that a depth chart of at least four players at every position has come out of Ann Arbor.

Only one position is shy of a letterman, that being one of the guard spots, and this could be improved with a couple line changes.

CLOSE COMPETITION

Quarterbacks Bob Timberlake and Frosty Evashevski are staging a head to head battle for the starting spot and sophomores are even pushing veterans at several positions.

Carl Ward a soph halfback from Cincinnati has been the feature of practice sessions with his speed, driving ability and even on defense.

It has been many years since Michigan was put into the national spotlight in pre-season predictions and there are many who predict New Year's roses to be growing in Ann Arbor this year.

WALKER PAVLOFF

PASSING IN REVIEW — Better get used to this young man this fall. He's Roger Staubach, All-America quarterback, Heisman Award winner, the No. 1 man at Navy and the most prominent collegian in the country. He will face Michigan at Ann Arbor, Oct. 3.

Familiar Face Taking Reigns of Bronco II

Western After Duty Bill Doolittle Heads With Army Squad

Western Michigan University has brought a familiar face back to Michigan to be its head coach in Bill Doolittle.

After seven years of coaching at Flint Central, and a stint at Mansfield, Ohio, where he played his prep ball, Doolittle moved to the United States Military Academy as assistant to Paul Dietzel.

Last winter he accepted the post at Western and he inherits a team with 23 lettermen from the squad which posted a 2-7 record last season.

The Broncos will have good strength at tackles where former Pontiac Central griddler Elick Shorter, a 240 pounder, is one of the returnees.

Also at the spot is 270 pound sophomore Ruddy O'Boyle who stands 6-5 and hails from Plainwell.

Starting quarterback Troy Allen returns and he will have senior Bob Radlinski to back him up.

From the quarterback slot, Allen still ran for 301 yards and he was the team's top scorer.

Western doesn't have to contend with Wisconsin of the Big 10 as it did last year but it has two non-conference games out of the Mid-America scheduled with Louisville and Brigham Young.

Top Oakland Gridders Get a 'Boof'

The outstanding high school football player in Oakland County will get a "boot" at the close of the 1964 gridiron campaign.

It will be a painless "boot," and one which might give a player a boost toward college.

The "boot" is the Thom McAn Football Award — a bronze shoe — given annually by The Pontiac Press to the county's top griddler.

This season marks the ninth year for The Press' Bronze Shoe, whose past recipients have gone on to achieve recognition on the college gridiron.

Of the eight players receiving the award since 1956, four have been attracted by the Green and White of Michigan State University. Three played at University of Michigan, one later transferring to Hillsdale, while the other enrolled at Iowa.

The first griddler to get the "boot" was Walled Lake's John Walker in 1956. Walker later held down the starting assignment at fullback with the University of Michigan Wolverines. He now makes his home in the east.

ANOTHER WOLVERINE

Hazel Park's Lou Pavloff grabbed the award in 1957 and later played guard for the Wolverines. He was one of the original defense "Raiders" em-

MSU Rebuilds but May Be Surprise

Juday Returns at QB Slot for Spartans

State Must Rebuild Both Front Lines to Hope for Success

It seems when no one is looking or making big predictions about Michigan State, the Spartans always come up their best football teams.

This could be one of those years since prognosticators say MSU will be lucky to win three games.

There are plenty of good sophomores available at East Lansing and they may have to be recruited into action as both offensive and defensive lines and the offensive backfield will be entirely rebuilt.

There's good strength at quarterback where Northville's Steve Juday, Dick Proebstle and Dave McCormick return.

Until he was knocked out for the season with a shoulder separation, Juday was the sophomore sensation last year, having played five games and completing 30 of 68 passes for 509 yards and five touchdowns.

He stayed in condition by playing varsity baseball last spring.

RUSH AT TACKLE

Pontiac's Jerry Rush, a senior tackle, is expecting to get the starting nod on defense, although he has been going both ways.

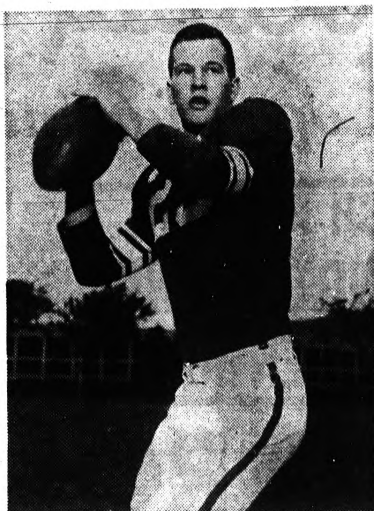

Among the other Oakland County players on the squad are Chuck Lowther of Royal Oak Shrine, a sophomore who has been moved from quarterback to halfback; Ron Goovert, a junior end from Hazel Park; Tony Angel, an end from Utica and John Denison, a sophomore end from Troy.

MSU opens the season on the road against North Carolina and then opens at home against Southern Cal, Oct. 3 with Band Day activities.

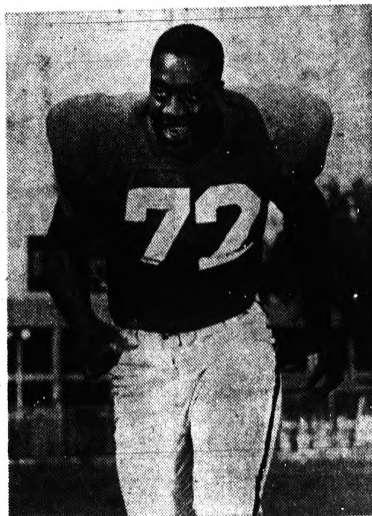

Michigan Tech Greets 58 Grid Candidates

HOUGHTON — A squad of 58 players reported to the opening of football practice at Michigan Tech with only four players lost from graduation.

On the team which posted 6-2 over-all record last year are local players Bob Wozniak, sophomore guard, and Ken Hoffman a freshman tackle, both from Walled Lake High School.

LOCAL SPARTANS — Steve Juday (left) and Jerry Rush are two former standout county athletes now performing for Michigan State. Juday of Northville was the regular quarterback last season as a sophomore until sidelined by an injury. Ex-Pontiac Central star Rush enters his senior season with two years of extensive duty at tackle; at 245 pounds he is the second heaviest member of the varsity.

New Grid Era of Football in Big 8 League

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Oklahoma is starting a new football era under Gomer Jones, but with almost the same players who won 16 games in the last two years. This is reason enough to give Oklahoma the edge in a hot four-team title race in the Big Eight.

Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska all have the talent, size and depth to win, but none matches Oklahoma in experience. Iowa State could finish third or fourth, but lacks the depth to go all the way. Oklahoma State gets the nod over Colorado and Kansas State for sixth.

The conference has never been so deep in top backfield men. It has prime All-American candidates like Gale Sayers of Kansas, Jim Grisham of Oklahoma, Tom Vaughn of Iowa State and Johnny Roland and Gary Lane of Missouri. And each of the top five clubs has an outstanding four-man unit.

FINAL TRY — Former Royal Oak Shrine quarterback Ron Bishop returns to the University of Detroit Titans for his final try at winning the regular signal calling job.

Area Gridders After Berths at Hillsdale

Hillsdale College, which for many years has been a haven for Pontiac area football players, will again have a large number of local boys in 1964.

Jim Lucadam, who earned 10 letters at West Bloomfield High, is a strong contender for the center spot. The 218 pounder is the brother of John Lucadam who quarterbacked the Dales for the past three seasons.

Another West Bloomfield player who transferred from the University of Michigan is Jack Newton, a 170 pound halfback who is a specialist on the kick-off and punt return teams.

Former Kettering High players of 1963, Charlie Haviland and Mel Patterson are making birds in their freshman season.

Patterson is after a fullback slot and also hoping for a line-backer job as a 210 pounder, while Haviland, at 180 pounds is also trying at linebacker.

Both were All-County selections.

Duffy Happy It's Him

A newsmen asked Duffy Daugherty, Michigan State's whimsical head football coach, whom he was happiest to see returning to the Spartan football camp this fall. Without hesitation he responded: "Me."

Titans to Field Vet Backfield With Big Line

Ohio Fullback Called Best at U. of D. Since Lloyd Brazil

With one of the nation's leading ground gainers returning among 20 lettermen, the University of Detroit is hoping for a much better season than the 2-6-1 record of 1963.

Fred Beier, 210-pound captain from Fremont, Ohio, who is considered the school's best runner since All-American Lloyd Brazil in 1928, will be back at fullback where he rolled up 766 yards last season.

Coach John Idzik has a letterman at every position except right guard but several top sophomore prospects are expected to solve the problem.

Steve Mass, a huge 282-pound junior tackle, spearheads the line which also has three sophs near 250 pounds including 340-pound Thomas Materniak.

If size means anything, the Titans front line will probably be the biggest in its history. There are seven players on the roster at 240 pounds or more and five more between 230 and 240 pounds.

The backfield is U. of D.'s strength, with Dennis Hacket, Dennis Assenmacher, Mike Randall the top ball carriers, and quarterback Ron Bishop of Royal Oak Shrine returning to call the signals after a year's absence because of grades.

ALL STATERS

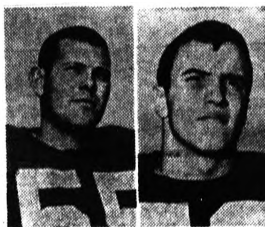

Two of the top players in Michigan prep ranks, two years ago, Tom Beer and Tony Richardson, both all-staters, are leading sophomore prospects for end positions. Both received high school All-America honors, Beer at St. Ambrose and Richardson at Oscoda.

Another all-stater is soph tackle Armondo Cavazos of Ferndale.

The Titans open the season at Kentucky next Saturday night and among the five home games are Toledo, Cincinnati, Dayton, Miami of Florida and VMI.

All home games are 8:15 p.m. Friday nights.

Charley Migyanka, defensive backfield ace and team captain, is the player Michigan State football coaches have pegged as "the player we'd least like to do without."

Kearns Picks Lions--Browns

1. The Lions want to forget 1963 and go back to 1962 when with this same team they battled for the title all the way, using the Thanksgiving Day assault on the Packers to prove their point. But it wasn't enough. This year it will be.

2. Green Bay is the consensus favorite to win it all again and there is no reason to think differently, except that the Packers will be pointed by all teams, most of which have improved.

3. John Unitas is hitting again and with great corps of receivers and a highly improved offensive line, the Baltimore Colts could surprise everyone, even themselves.

4. The rookie crops of the past two years are paying off for the Vikings, and Fran Tarkenton is ready after four years of grooming by the great Norm Van Brocklin. Beware of this team when they are hot.

5. A great defense was the winning factor for the Bears last year but Papa Halas has hardly improved offensively and the ball won't be taking the Chicago bounce this season.

6. The Rams have been improving but keep getting hit with injuries. Young quarterback Bob Munson could push Roman Gabriel for the spot and help the Rams to a fast finish in '64.

7. Injuries are also hurting the 49ers, but John Brodie and the fine rookie George Mira have shown in exhibition season they can be dangerous, especially after whipping the Cleveland Browns in pre-season play.

Figure Bears Will Slip to Fifth Place

Cardinals Seen Close Contenders in Eastern Division Race

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Some may call it wishful thinking or sentimental selections, but our choice in picking the Lions to win the Western Division title and go against the Browns for the NFL title honestly comes from close evaluation.

There were many who thought we were off base when we picked the Lions to finish as low as 4th last year.

"They can't be that bad after the great season in 1962, and the loss of Alex Karras shouldn't mean that much, 'we were told.'"

Well, we had our reasons and 4th place is where the Lions finished, although we missed on Packers who were second behind the Bears.

The Browns had a great start in 1963 and faded at the end with the Lions administering the key setback at Tiger Stadium, but this year the Cleveland crew has added depth and speed and we'll stand to be corrected December 27th if the Lions and Browns don't meet at Municipal Stadium for the title before 85,000 fans.

The two losses suffered by the Packers in exhibition season isn't the sole reason for not going along with the consensus of writers to pick Green Bay to win it all.

The Packers may be in trouble down the middle more than most people think. The loss of Jim Ringo at center, no adequate quarterback reserve for Bart Starr and Jim Taylor's injuries at fullback will all be noticed by mid-season.

The Bears won the title last year because they stayed healthy, got the offensive breaks and displayed a frightening defense.

Billy Wade, in our mind, was never a title calibre quarterback, and the Baltimore Colts, stronger offensively, and better defensively will be the team that could move up ahead of everyone.

WATCH VIKING

The Vikings' 5-0 exhibition record is nothing to be overlooked. They could pass up the Bears and finish as high as third.

Injuries already are hurting the 49ers and Rams; and this is what they can't afford with the little depth on hand.

Cleveland and St. Louis should battle it out in the East and the deals made by the Redskins will give Washington something to cheer about.

1. The Browns have a tendency to fade during the season as they did last year, but with added depth and great speed, this could be the first title team since 1957, the year, incidentally the Lions last won it. Jimmy Brown and a souped up passing attack look big.

2. St. Louis is a fine offensive team and has a solid enough defense to give the Browns plenty of trouble for the Eastern Division crown. Charley Johnson is rated a first class quarterback and adept at reading defenses.

3. The exhibition season did do one thing for the Redskins. It gave George Izo plenty of experience with Sonny Jurgenson hurt. The pair, along with help from trades in getting Sam Huff and Angelo Coia has boasted Redskin chances.

4. Y. A. Tittle is still around and even though the youth movement is on in the Giants' den, it means at least a break even year for the Big Town team. Tittle's health could bring the team up a notch or it could mean hitting the bottom.

5. Dallas still has a good running offense, but has been hit with quarterback problem and hasn't done anything to improve its defense. The Cowboys can't beat a Western Division team and are too erratic in their own sector.

6. Trades, injuries, morale, suspensions will have a lasting effect on the Steelers all season. With a team similar to '63, the Pitt outfit could have been a contender, but there's nothing similar about it now.

7. The Eagles will manage to make it close for half each game, but for the last 30 minutes each Sunday the Philly 11 will have new head coach George Kuharich pulling his thin hairline. Norm Snead will get little help from his line or his defense.

2 Gaping Holes Along Line Cause Problems for Gophers

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Coach Murray Warmath, whose University of Minnesota gridgers aren't expected to make much noise in the Big Ten this year, has two gaping holes to fill at tackle.

Departed are All-America Carl Eller and 1963 captain Milk Sunde. Both are now with the Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League, which picked Eller first in last winter's draft.

Warmath's search for replacements continues hampered by injuries to three top experienced candidates — Fred Nord, Jim Krause and Jim Leslie.

The squad will consist mostly of 1963 reserves and untried sophomores. It will be junior-dominated.

In the positions that appear more or less "set," Bob Bruggers, Kent Kramer and Ken Last appear to be pretty well established in that order at left end. Bruggers, a junior from Danube, Minn., is the only letterman. At right end letterman Aaron Brown and John Rajala, both juniors, and Roger Micalski, hard-working sophomore, have been listed 1-2-3 consistently in recent practices.

LINE FIXTURES

Frank Marchlewski and Joe Pung, both seniors and two-time lettermen, are fixtures at center. As long as both remain healthy, Marchlewski will carry the offensive burden, with Captain Pung specializing on defense. Warmath rates both players as "highly capable" and up to Big Ten standards. The 220 pounds he is carrying have not slowed Marchlewski's offensive charge while making him more effective as a blocker.

Unless injuries enter the picture, Bill Crockett, 152-pound senior from Raleigh, N.C., is firmly entrenched at left half. He is the backfield corps' niftiest runner. Both Crockett and Lon Morgan, rated No. 2 at left half, sat out the 1963 season because of scholastic problems, but have apparently regained their competitive edge.

Fred Farthing, Gale Gillingham, Mike Reid and Joe Holmberg are fighting it out for fullback, the position which could be the Gophers' most solid by mid-season.

Other lettermen who will probably play a prominent role this season are guard Willie Costanza and halfback Dick Harren.

John Hankinson, who was injured last season appears to have the edge at quarterback.

The top sophomores on the club are Last, end Chet Anderson, halfback Jerry Newsom, guard Tim Wheeler, and halfback Ray Whitlow.

This will be the first season in four years that the Gophers do not have a candidate for national honors.

Eller, tackle Bobby Bell, quarterback Sandy Stephens and Guard Tom Brown were Minnesota's top players of the last four years.

The Gophers open their season Sept. 26, hosting the University of Nebraska.

"At this time our defensive unit is considerably stronger than our offensive unit," Warmath said. "Our offensive chances hang on the balance."

"If all goes well we could be considerably improved over 1963," he said. "If not, well, let's be positive thinkers."

Lions 5 'Musts' for '64

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

All preseason prognosticators say, "If the Lions stay healthy they could win it this year."

Well, in pro football this will hold true for any team, not only the Lions.

In reality, the key to the Lions' title chances rests not in health, but in talent.

The personnel for a champion is there. The attitude is changed and the Lions are hungry.

That $7,000 check at Christmas time would appeal to anyone, but after seven years of hoping since the 1957 title, the players themselves feel it's about time that Yule stocking was filled again.

Alex Karras will make a difference. The Golden Greek doesn't like patsies playing on the same team with him and he lets everyone know it.

Give it all or get out is his attitude and the coaches will be the last to argue with this thinking.

BIG TITLE FACTORS

Where will the title hopes hinge?

Nick Pietrosante at fullback MUST have his best year to keep the defenses honest. Milt Plum appears ready and MUST regain his form prior to that of 1963, and Earl Morrall's reputation of being a late starter, but an outstanding reliever, also is following true to format.

The third essential is the offensive line. Another year's experience made a big difference as the exhibition campaign denoted, and the Lions MUST get the expected mileage out of J. D.

Smith to help their 1964 cause.

The defensive line and linebackers will hold their own with any team in the league, but in the secondary Bobby Thompson MUST fill the big shoes of Dick Lane at cornerback, and the other defensive backs MUST show they run with and not behind the many great receivers they will face this year.

The pass receiving department is the best in pro football, and Gail Cogdill is the extra-ordinary guy in his field. If there's a better pass receiver in football, it's not in the NFL.

Terry Barr is the "bread-and-butter" player of the Lions. When everyone gangs up on Cogdill, Plum or Morrall need only to throw "at" Barr and the veteran co-captain will find a way to make it a Lions' gain.

Jim Gibbons, Pat Studstill, rookie Warren Wells, and now the addition of Hugh McElhenny to help with the pass receiving makes this the solid offensive department of the team.

No one has picked the Lions to finish better than 4th in preseason publications. "Health and age" they say "and not enough running threat" will hurt.

But as coach George Wilson agrees, "Experience is the best teacher" and with this rests the '64 title hopes.

Yale Larry Needs Title

Yale Lary, the Detroit Lions' defensive back, needs just one more individual punting title to tie the alltime record of the Washington Redskins' Sammy Baugh. Lary has led the league three times . . . Baugh's four (from 1940 through 1943) is the record . . . Lary's chances seem dim for 1964 on the basis of his pattern of winning in odd-numbered seasons (1959, '61 and '63).

Pontiac Press Photo

'64 MUST—The big MUST for the '64 Lions is for Nick Pietrosante to have his best season. Petro (33) works with Earl Morrall in running practice. He is the one who must keep enemy defenses honest this year say the experts who feel the Lions "could" win it.

Southern College Power Proposes Super League

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

ATLANTA, Ga. (NEA) — The newest maverick of college football, Georgia Tech, would like to join hands with the other major independent powers of the nation in a super All-American Conference.

It would be composed of Army, Navy, Notre Dame, Penn State, Pitt, Duke (which would have to abdicate from the Atlantic Coast Conference) and Tech, plus possibly a western school like Southern California.

"We would be honored to be in on a conference with those schools," said Bobby Dodd, head football coach and athletic director of Georgia Tech, "— if it could be worked out only on a football basis."

The idea is not new. Georgia Tech's interest in it is.

For the first time in 43 years, the famed Ramblin' Wreck is without conference attachment, going it single-o. Tech, originally in the Southern Conference, had been a charter member of the South-eastern Conference since 1933.

Tech flew the coop last spring in a pique over athletic scholarships. "We would not have gone independent," said Dodd, "if we felt we could live within the rules of the SEC."

The conference has a limit of 120 boys on football scholarship in school at one time, and Dodd explained why it imposed a hardship on Tech:

ALL GRADUATES

"I'm a fanatic on graduating every boy who comes to Georgia Tech. Over the last four years we averaged 37 new boys each year. The other 11 schools averaged 48.

"But we don't run off boys because they're poor football risks. I don't even have some of them out for football, though they're still on scholarship.

"Mississippi and LSU have to admit every boy who has a diploma. If a guy's a moron they'll admit him."

The implication was clear. The other schools collect prospects in droves, then weed them out to retain an elite corps, and run the undesirables off to stay within the scholarship limit.

"It's rare that we lose a boy when he comes to Georgia Tech," said Dodd pointedly.

Dodd, 55, has been at Georgia Tech 34 years. He became head coach in 1945, the third in the school's football history. The other two were John Heisman and Bill Alexander, both legendary figures in Football's Hall of Fame.

He sat in his office overlooking Grant Field, wearing scuffed tennis shoes, dark glasses on his eyes to cover a recent cataract removal, and explained the power mechanics of college football:

"We have played Mississippi only twice in football, in 1946 when Charley Conerly was their tailback and in the Sugar Bowl in 1953. We beat them both times, but we don't want to play them, for a selfish reason.

"We bring Clemson in here every year and Frank Howard is glad to get the $100,000. If we have to go to Ole Miss, we don't make as much money and stand to get beaten more often."

Moving to national status, Dodd has scheduled more inter-sectional games. Notre Dame is on the docket for four meetings, Penn State will come to Atlanta; there are five games with Navy and two with Army. Also booked are Texas A&M, Texas Christian, Southern California and a home-and-home series with a Big Ten team.

Though Tech is committed through 1970 and will play Southern rivals of "our own academic ranking"—Georgia, Auburn, Tennessee, Tulane, Vanderbilt — the pattern is set to make the Yellow Jackets a national attraction like Notre Dame and the service academies.

"If other independents in our area like Miami, Florida State and Memphis State can do good," said Dodd, "we can do better. And that includes our 'rassling' team."

"I don't think being an independent is going to hurt Georgia Tech at all."

Not with 53,000 people in the stands every Saturday.

Branch Rickey, who gained fame in league baseball, was a football player for Ohio Wesleyan at the turn of the century.

BRANDON BOSS — Coach Ernie Mousseau enters his second season with the Ortonville Brandon gridders after a fine 6-2 record last year.

Spartan Squad Has Edge Over 3 Season Foes

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Michigan State holds all-time series leads over three of its 1964 football opponents, is even with another, and trails three more by the margin of one game in the won-lost columns.

The Spartans show advantages over North Carolina (2-0-0), Indiana (13-4-1) and Northwestern (5-3-0) and they're tied with Wisconsin (6-6-0). Ahead of State by one game are Southern California (0-1-0), Purdue (8-9-1) and Illinois (3-4-0).

Wider deficits exist with the two remaining foes, with Notre Dame up three (13-16-0) and Michigan ahead by 19 (16-35-5).

Plan to Probe Draft System

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government plans to analyze Selective Service histories of possibly 250,000 men as part of a massive study that could lead to a halt in the military draft.

Officials told the Associated Press today that Pentagon experts conducting the draft studies for President Johnson have asked the Selective Service System to take a 1 per cent sample of the records of all men in the draft pool.

This involves men between 18½ and 25. Selective Service headquarters said there are about 20 million men in that pool.

The purpose of the sample, authorities explained, will be to "get a more definitive view of the status of people within the pool," from which men are called for induction.

Among other things, the sample will seek to find out to what extent men have moved from one deferred classification to another, thus avoiding induction.

WHAT HAD HAPPENED

In the case of a man of 35, for example, a study of his file would trace what had happened over the years since he became draft-eligible.

Offer by Ford Said Similar to Chrysler Pact

Path Seems Cleared for Settlement With No Strike Pressure

DETROIT (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. has offered an economic package to the United Auto Workers Union similar to an historic agreement worked out last week between the UAW and Chrysler.

The offer appeared to have cleared the path toward settlement on a new contract covering some 125,000 Ford workers without the pressure of a strike deadline.

Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president for labor relations, said the company hoped and expected that the proposal "will lead to an early agreement."

"Our proposal would provide for wage increases and additional benefits for represented employees substantially equivalent to those already offered by Chrysler and accepted by the union," Denise explained.

Shortly after the proposal was handed to the union, UAW President Walter Reuther told newsmen the broad outline appeared to be equivalent to the basic benefits of the Chrysler package.

OTHER DEMANDS

Still to be discussed however, are the union's so-called non-economic demands, such as for improved working conditions — including additional relief time for workers on the assembly lines.

Chrysler already has agreed to increase to 30 minutes the present 24 minutes per day in relief time for production workers tied down to their machines.

In the economic package, the Chrysler agreement calls for pensions of up to $400 a month, early retirement incentive, longer vacations, two additional holidays and other benefits.

Ford negotiators kept the union's representatives standing by for about 11 hours last night while the company prepared its offer.

REUTHER STAND

Before getting the offer, Reuther said the UAW would take "nothing less than the Chrysler package" and implied that he might demand even more in the field of working conditions and other non-economic matters.

The three-year UAW contract with Ford originally was due to expire at the end of August, but has been extended by mutual agreement. If either side desires to terminate the pact, it must give 40 hours notice.

Police Lack Clues

Three Slain in Detroit

EXAMINING WRECKAGE — Jack Harrington (left), investigator from the Chicago office of the Civil Aeronautics Board, is heading an investigation of Sunday's plane crash in Waterford Township that killed three persons.

Barry Hits 2 Men, Woman Killed in School for Announcers

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater invaded the traditionally Democratic South today, accusing the Johnson administration of failure, mistakes and "unbelievably bad judgment" in handling the guerrilla war in South Vietnam.

He said the Democrats haven't told the people what the United States is doing in the Southeast Asian nation — or "what we hope eventually to accomplish there."

The Republican nominee for the White House hurled this challenge at President Johnson: "Set this record straight tell us what is happening or whether we even know what is happening."

Launching a four-day, eight-state swing through the old Confederacy, the Arizona senator said "this administration seems stuck dead, dumb and bled by the mounting crisis in South Vietnam."

"Every morning," Goldwater said in a prepared speech, "it seems we awaken to some new hint of disaster, to a new mistake, to a new policy or even a new government."

'NEW CASUALTIES'

"Tragically, we also awaken each day to the probability of new American casualties," he said.

Three Persons Killed Sunday Near Pontiac

A team of investigators from the Federal Aviation Agency and the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) expects to complete its probe today into the cause of Sunday's plane crash that killed three persons.

Headed by Jack Harrington of the CAB's Chicago office, investigators spent yesterday examining the fuel system of the single-engine plane that crashed just west of Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Further examination of the fuel system is slated today, Harrington said.

He indicated that it may be several days before a full report on the crash is completed and released from the CAB's Washington office.

Harrington said the only conclusions drawn so far from the investigation were that an explosion blew out the plane's windows and it was on fire prior to striking the ground.

ONLY SURVIVOR
This coincides with the account given by Roy S. McPhail, the plane's pilot and the only survivor of the crash.

McPhail is in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital with burns over 50 per cent of his body.

He said the plane was on route from Flint to Detroit when it smelled gasoline fumes in the cockpit and radioed Pontiac Municipal airport for an emergency landing clearance.

Momentarily the fumes exploded, blowing the windows out of the plane.

FIRE TRUCK
Lowell Grimschaw, an airport employee, arrived at the scene in the airport's fire truck just minutes after the crash.

Aided by two Waterford Township firefighters, Grimschaw had extinguished the fire except for some smoldering upholstery when Waterford Township firemen arrived.

McPhail had been thrown 40 feet from the wreckage. The bodies of the three passengers all were found inside the plane.

Pierre Paulin, Radio Personality, One of Murder Victims

DETROIT (AP)—Police, lacking clues and the killer's motive, pushed an inquiry today into the bizarre slayings of a woman and two men at a radio announcers' school.

All three victims, including onetime Detroit radio personality Pierre Paulin, 51, were found shot to death Monday at Paulin's private school.

Paulin's body, fully clothed, was found in a control booth room of his Detroit School of Announcing and Speech, Inc.

The nude bodies of Mrs. John H. Frazier, 40, mother of four children, and Clarence De Potie, 47, a father and used car dealer, were found in a soundproof lounge.

Police said "no proven motive" had been found nor was there any trace of the killer. The gun was not found.

BY SURPRISE

Police said the evidence indicated the killer had taken his victims by surprise.

Paulin, father of five, had operated his school on Detroit's northwest side since leaving the public radio field in the 1950s.

"We think that the killer or killers knew the victims," said Inspector Hiram Phipps, head of the Police Homicide Bureau.

He said some 20 persons, including relatives of the victims, were questioned last night, but emphasized that no arrests had been made.

SHOT 7 TIMES

Mrs. Frazier, wife of a railroad engineer, had been shot seven times and the men once each.

Their bodies were discovered by Art Laing, an announcer at CKLW, a radio station in neighboring Windsor, Ont. He is a teacher at the school.

Inspector Phipps said De Potie, father of three sons, was a friend of Paulin's and Mrs. Frazier's.

Police said Paulin's wife, Frances, 47, told them she and her husband recently separated. Detectives quoted her as saying that Paulin "had been drinking heavily for some time and had been very abusive."

'65 Models Unveiled by Cadillac

DETROIT (AP)—The Cadillac Division of General Motors Corp. gave newsmen a preview look at its 1965 line today amid predictions that the three million Cadillac "would be turned out this month."

Featured on the new Cadillac were a redesigned chassis, wider tires, an engine moved six inches forward, a new rear suspension, and an optional feature which keeps the rear of the car at the same level, regardless of load.

Cadillac General Manager Harold G. Warner prefaced the showing with an account of "the biggest expansion ever undertaken by Cadillac."

"We have added more than half a million square feet of new floor space and an additional 200,000 square feet has been converted to manufacturing space," Warner said. He said the expansion will create 600 Detroit-area jobs.

MODEL RUN

He said the division plans a model run about the same size as the 195,000-unit 1964 output. Warner predicted "a new calendar year sales mark of 165,000" for the 1965 if the current production rate continues.

Football Contest Gets Under Way

The Press Football Contest is again under way and readers are reminded that a $500 U.S. Savings Bond awaits the fan who submits the winning entry.

Fifteen games over 14 weeks is the bill of fare and whoever does the best job of picking the winning teams in high school, college and professional games will take home the prize.

Entry deadline is Sept. 19. The rules and list of games appear on The Press editorial page today.

Olds Shows Its '65 Line

DETROIT (AP)—Oldsmobile Division of General Motors showed its 1965 line at a press preview yesterday, with the emphasis on roomier and sportier models.

A new line, the Delta 88, was added to Oldsmobile's cars. In all, Olds will have 32 models and will feature more powerful engines.

Oldsmobile will feature a sharply sloping roof line as well as most GM cars this year. On the inside, the Oldsmobiles have been enlarged. Most of the interior dimensions have been increased, with shoulder room, nearly 4 inches greater.

TRUNK SPACE

The design of the automobiles has also allowed an increase of 3.9 cubic feet in trunk space.

The F85 models will boast a new grille, headlamps, bumpers and taillights.

Prices of the new cars have not been set yet.

LBJ Pleads for Unity in Florida Talk

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Johnson, appealing for national unity and support, said today prosperity must not be sacrificed to partisanship but progress made the victim of prejudice.

Flying to politically doubtful Florida for the second time in five days, Johnson sought to play the role of "candidate of all the people" in what he labeled a nonpolitical appearance.

The President, who flew to Miami Beach for the convention of the International Association of Machinists, added a second Florida stop — a 90-minute visit to Cape Kennedy — to his itinerary.

In the text prepared for his speech to the machinists, who have formally endorsed his candidacy, Johnson said: "Unity is our challenge... the prosperity of the many must not be sacrificed to the partisanship of the few... the progress of all the people must not be victimized by the prejudices of any of the people."

Johnson said Americans "can live as we live now — prosperously, progressively and unafraid — so long as we live together united, forward-looking and undivided."

Chance of Frost as Mercury Falls

There's a chance a few flowers and vegetables may be nipped tonight should the light frost forecast for Southeast Michigan come this way.

Temperatures are expected to fall to near 34 tonight and climb into the 40s tomorrow, the weatherman said. Partly cloudy and warmer with showers is the outlook for Thursday.

This morning's northeasterly winds at 15 to 25 miles per hour will diminish tonight.

A low of 44 was registered in downtown Pontiac at 7:30 a.m. today. At 1 p.m. the mercury stood at 60.

Districting Proposal Due for Vote Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate votes today on a legislative reapportionment compromise proposal.

Its acceptance would move the $3.3-billion foreign aid bill a step closer to passage and speed up the timetable for adjournment of Congress.

A battle over a proposal by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen — to force a delay of a year or more to Supreme Court-ordered reapportionment of seats in both houses of state legislatures on a population basis — has tied up the foreign aid bill for several weeks.

Claim Russia Harassment of Two U.S. Ships at Sea

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States charged today that twice in the past three months American ships were harassed by Soviet vessels at sea.

The charge was contained in a U.S. note to the Soviets rejecting a series of charges that American ships and planes had interfered with Russian ships.

The note said one of the alleged Russian harassments occurred last June 30 in the North Atlantic. It said the Soviet trawler Runda "maneuvered dangerously within 150 yards of the U.S.S.D.A. Joy causing the U.S. vessel to sound the danger signal and use emergency speeds to avoid collision."

The State Department also charged that on Aug. 18 the Soviet vessel Dubna located between Cuba and Haiti "maneuvered irresponsibly near the U.S.S. Dash and created a dangerous situation."

The note said: "The government of the United States assumes that the Soviet government will take the necessary measures to assure that Soviet pilots and masters do not violate international practices."

The Russian steamer Dubna was also the subject of one of Russia's charges. The Soviets said it was buzzed by American planes. The State Department replied that no U.S. planes were in the area at the time of the alleged incidents.

Men being drafted these days average about 22 years old. Roughly 100,000 men a year are inducted, all of them going into the Army.

A little-noticed request to Congress calls for $375,000 to finance the sampling job this fiscal year.

In another phase of the Johnson-ordered study, it was learned, the Census Bureau will make a special effort in its monthly survey of households to determine the attitude of young men toward military service.

ON REQUEST

This, too, is to be done at the request of authorities conducting the draft study.

About 300,000 households are likely to be touched by the Census Bureau survey, officials said today.

The draft study was ordered by Johnson last April. He said at the time it will consider alternatives, including "the possibility of meeting our requirements on an entirely voluntary basis in the next decade."

The draft became a campaign issue early this month.

PROMISES END

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate, promised to end, during his "as soon as possible." Goldwater said Johnson has used Selective Service for "political and social schemes."

To Act on Sewerage Extension

Formal action to extend Pontiac sewerage treatment service to a portion of Waterford Township immediately west of Telegraph will go before the City Commission tonight.

The area for which sanitary sewerage is proposed lies between Elizabeth Lake Road and Menominee, extending about three blocks west from Telegraph.

Storm drains are currently serving as sewers for the area under an old agreement with the township.

In turn, the drains feed into Crystal Lake in southwest Pontiac. City officials feel this is one source of pollution of the lake.

SLATED TO ACT

The commission is slated to act on a formal resolution at tonight's regular session.

In other business, a recommendation is expected on the awarding of a contract for site improvements in a portion of the urban renewal R20 project.

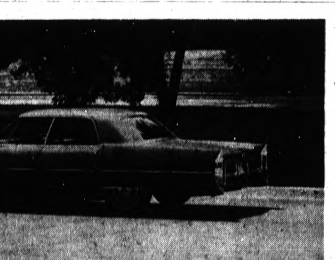

Slated to act

The Biltmore Development Co. has petitioned Troy for establishment of the special assessment district necessary for the work there.

The firm also has agreed to reimburse Birmingham for its share of the program if the boulevard is not extended to Big Beaver.

MOSCOW (AP) — Prime Minister Aly Sabry of the United Arab Republic arrived in Moscow today to discuss use of economic aid promised by Premier Khrushchev in Cairo last May. Sabry used $252 million. Sabry ($200 million) worth of long-term credit added by Khrushchev to previous Soviet aid for Egypt.

NEW DESIGN — This 1965 Cadillac Sedan DeVille shows the new thin pillar design that replaces the six-window body style in the DeVille and Calais series. The new Cadillac line will be on display at dealer showrooms beginning Sept. 24.

Most Extensive Changes in Cadillac

Cadillac for 1965, with the most extensive change in the division's 62-year history, was unveiled today by the General Motors Corp.

Eleven models in three series are offered for 1965, the same as last year. The series are DeVille, Fleetwood and Calais — a new series replacing the 'Sixty-Two' series designation.

The Cadillac will be on display Sept. 24 at Jerome Motor Sales Co., 280 S. Sagamore and Wilson Pontiac-Cadillac, Inc., 1550 N. Woodward, Birmingham.

Each series gets one new model. A new sedan with a thin pillar replaces the six-window body style in the Calais and DeVille series.

This is Cadillac's first use of a pillar since 1956 in models other than the Seventy-Five.

SIXTY SPECIAL

The new model in the Fleetwood series is the Sixty Special sedan with its own exclusive 133-inch wheelbase and an overall length of 227.5 inches, an increase of four inches which is realized largely in the rear passenger compartment.

All other models, except the Seventy-Five, retain a wheelbase of 129.5 inches. Overall length is 224 inches, up one-half inch over last year.

All Cadillac's upper structures are restyled and feature curved side windows. Both convertibles have tempered glass backlights.

New Cadillac comfort and convenience features for 1965 include a telescoping steering wheel, power door locks, and a leveling device which maintains the car at normal level regardless of passenger or trunk load.

Give Tentative Approval for Mile-Long Boulevard

An agreement to build a mile-long boulevard on Coolidge Road was given tentative approval last night by the Birmingham City Commission.

Troy commissioners, who also considered the proposal last night, tabled action on it until next week when they can weigh the changes suggested by Birmingham.

The latter has declared necessity for its portion of the boulevard, a half-mile strip running from Maple to Derby.

Alteration of the road is viewed as the answer to traffic problems expected with the construction of a $60-million Troy development on the east side of Coolidge.

County Unit Okays Budget

The ways and means committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has approved a tentative 1965 budget of $17,068,878, a record high for the 17th consecutive year.

The final figure represents an increase of $1,033,852 over the current 1964 budget.

Included in the committee's recommendations was a pay raise of $100 across the board for all county employees in 1965. This brings the total salaries allocation to $7,626,112.

The committee also recommended 60 new positions on the employee roster, which if approved will bring the county's work force to a total of 1,291.

OTHER FINDING

Of the more than $9.5 million allocated for operations, more than two-thirds will go for health and welfare, including direct relief and medical care.

The 5.26 mills allocated to the county for the coming year will raise $1,143,978 of the total budget, an increase of $12,655 over last year's tax receipts.

The rest will come from department receipts, such as fees, licenses and fines.

The committee's budget recommendations will be presented to the Board of Supervisors Sept. 21. Final action will be taken by the board Oct. 5.

One Change in Charter Will Go on April Ballot

BIRMINGHAM — At least one proposed charter amendment providing for initiative and referendum will be on the April ballot here.

City commissioners approved the proposition last night, including zoning ordinance amendments on the list of items which could not be initiated by or referred to the electorate.

The resolution to place the amendment on the ballot passed 5-2, with Commissioners David F. Breck and Charles F. Clippert dissenting.

Breck's suggestion that voters be given the choice between that and one including the zoning provision was voted down.

However, James H. Walker Jr. of 1555 Villa, who had criticized the action contemplated by the commission, said he hoped to have a similar amendment appear on the ballot.

WORKING HOURS

Commissioners also added the regulation of working hours, retirement and other benefits of city employees to the list of exclusions in the amendment as proposed by the League of Women Voters of Birmingham-Bloomfield.

Mrs. Garvin Bayden Jr., league president, said the commission's decision to place the amendment on the October meeting of the organization.

Breck and Clippert formed a losing combination on several suggested amendments to the resolution.

These included removing zoning from the list of exclusions and changing the number of signatures necessary on initiative and referendum petitions from 15 to 10 per cent of the electorate.

REFERENDUM

Breck also suggested that all commission resolutions should be subject to referendum and that too was defeated 5-2.

Among the additions which were approved was the provision that referendum petitions be filed no later than 90 days after the initiative action being questioned.

Initiative petition signatures are to be gathered within 90 days of the date a petition committee has declared its intent to the city clerk.

Commissioners also included

Birmingham Has New Chief

C. G. NUNNELLEY

C. G. Nunnelley, associated with the Birmingham Fire Department for 16 years, last night became its chief.

Promotion of the 41-year-old chief was approved by the City Commission upon recommendation of administrators.

Nunnelley succeeds George S. Scott, who was killed in a Troy airplane accident June 7.

The new chief began working as a full-time Birmingham fireman in 1948, was a mechanic and lieutenant before his promotion to captain in 1954. He has been working at Chesterfield Fire Station since 1954.

Nunnelley and his wife, Jean, have three children, James, Ruth and Stewart. They live at 1137 Holland.

New College Gets $415,560 in State Funds

Oakland County's new community college has received a $415,560 appropriation from the State Administrative Board. It was disclosed today.

The appropriation, restricted to capital outlay items, is part of a $4-million fund appropriated by the state for junior and community colleges.

A spokesman for the board of trustees said that no definite plans have been established for spending the state funds.

However, state regulations stipulate that the funds must be used on a matching basis for construction costs.

This would include planning, utilities, equipment, site development, remodeling and alteration costs.

The college board is currently interviewing architects for future construction and site acquisitions.

Hurricane Gladys Heads Up Atlantic

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Gladys, the seventh storm of a season already listing nearly a half-billion dollars in damages, barreled up the Atlantic today.

Springing up Sunday in an area of the tropical Atlantic near the birthplace of Hurricane Dora, the season's mightiest storm, Gladys followed a similar course.

The Miami Weather Bureau in its latest advisory located Gladys and its 90-mile per hour winds near latitude 20.5 north, longitude 55.2 west, or about 750 miles east-northeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

It was moving toward the west-northwest at about 16 m.p.h. and was expected to hold that course through today.

Would Be Rochester's Largest

Seeks OK for Apartment Complex

ROCHESTER — A rezoning application referred to the Planning Commission last week by the Village Council called for the largest apartment development ever conducted here.

Preliminary plans for a 16-building, 288-unit development on acres were presented to the council by developer Bernard H. (Bud) Gorman. Gorman also has this rezoning that the land be rezoned from a single family multiple dwelling classification.

Head of the rezoning department and a preliminary plan for the development, which is privately financed without government funds.

The site of the proposed development is bounded by Baldy on the west, the New York Central railroad tracks on the south, Meadow Street and Park, Davis & Co. property on the east.

Head told the council that if the rezoning application were approved, construction would begin in the area adjacent to curve is included in urban re-zoning proposal, the council tabled the matter until after the Sept. 28 public hearing on urban renewal.

In the meantime, the council agreed to install "Caution" or "Slow" signs there to increase safety.

In other action, the council authorized acting manager Arthur Cox to make sewer and water taps to vacant, privately owned lots in Parkside, to preclude the necessity for tearing up the asphalt for such taps in the future.

The taps will run to the property line from the mains now being installed.

RESOLUTION PASSED

The council passed a resolution giving D. S. Wiggins of Highland 45 days to clean up a garage and property he owns at 322 East Street, which was condemned by the council at a previous meeting.

Under the village charter, failure of the owner to clean up the property and structures thereon within 45 days would shift the responsibility for the cleanup to the village, which would then bill the owner for the costs of the action.

FASHION PREVIEW — Two models look over the clothes they will wear in the Ninth Annual Fashion Show and Luncheon to be staged by the Rochester Junior Woman's Club Thursday at Pine Knob. The two are Mrs. E. May (left), club member, and Sandy Rogers, house model for Alvin's of Pontiac, which is providing the fashions. Refreshments will be served at 11:30 a.m. with the luncheon to follow at 12:30.

Milford Seeks Federal Loan

Finances Desired for Sewage Plant Work

MILFORD — The village today is applying for a federal loan to finance part of a $440,000 addition to its sewerage treatment plant.

Village councilmen approved the move last night. The application for 30 per cent of the cost must be filed with the State Water Resources Commission by midnight.

Plans and specifications for the addition, paid for by a federal grant, have been completed by Hibbell, Roth and Clark, Inc., Birmingham engineering firm.

The council last night also joined other state, county and local officials in saluting Police Chief J. Stewart Brophy, who has served the village for 10 years.

A testimonial party Friday night was attended by some 60 persons.

Brophy received a gold-plated whistle and set of badges from the police auxiliary.

Arrestment Held in Wife-Shooting

Frank Mayes, 58, of 83 Jackson street, was in Circuit Court arraignment yesterday on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

A plea of not guilty was automatically entered for him by Circuit Judge James S. Thorn.

Mayes is accused of shooting his wife, Marie, 41, three times with a 22-caliber pistol in the bedroom of their home on Aug. 14. She was hospitalized with 11 bullet wounds in the stomach, neck and arms.

Mayes is still being held in the Oakland County Jail on bond which was $10,000. No date has been set for the trial.

Festival Set in Ortonville

ORTONVILLE — A turkey dinner with all the trimmings will be a feature of the annual Fall Festival at the Ortonville Methodist Church Thursday.

Booths will be set up by members of the Women's Society of Christian Service, sponsor of the event.

On sale at the booths, which will be open at 3:30 p.m., will be turkey, candy, baked goods and mystery packages.

A fish pond will be another attraction to appeal to youngsters of all ages.

The dinner will be served beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Half-Day School Sessions Draw Bias Charge in Utica

UTICA — The Utica Board of Education was accused of acting contrary to the new State Constitution in putting first and second grade students on half-day sessions in a stormy meeting last night.

Attorney Roy W. Rogensues of 8510 Walnut Hill said that the selection of those two grades for curtailed schedules was discriminatory and violated the equal protection statutes of the constitution.

"I don't think that the equal protection clause of the constitution is met by the school board putting part of the students on half-day sessions and the rest on full-day sessions," he said.

"In other words, it curtailment is necessary, it would be applied equally to all students," he continued.

"Fourthly," Rogensues added, "it is the duty of the board to encourage education by providing the necessary school facilities and educational program. I don't think the school board is doing this."

CRIMINAL OFFENSE

"The state makes it a criminal offense for parents to fail to send their children to school for any reason," Rogensues said. "If the school board thinks that it has the right to do so without the consent of the parents, it is in violation of the law."

He also urged the board to "adopt a positive, definite program to be conducted on a basis that puts aside any animosities and vindictiveness to increase bonding and obtain necessary funding to assure proper education for our children."

URGENT AUDIENCE

Rogensues urged the audience to "give the school board what they're requesting and then hold it accountable for results."

Superintendent Fred W. Atkinson said last night that he would attempt to make arrangements for a meeting with Department of Public Instruction officials with himself and others with different points of view.

"With regard to violation of the constitution with half-day sessions, Atkinson said that 'in my

Prosecutor Avoids Dem Fight

HOWELL (AP) — Livingston County's Republican prosecutor refused Monday to issue warrants against five Democrats in connection with a brawl which erupted at the Democratic county convention Saturday.

"I do not want to get involved in a political fight," said Prosecutor Charles B. Gatesman.

Ironically, one of the men against whom Gatesman was asked to issue a warrant was Martin Lavin, who will run against Gatesman in the November election.

The warrants had been requested by Edward Rettinger, the county Democratic chairman. After being turned down by Gatesman, Rettinger said he would seek warrants from the state attorney general's office if necessary.

REQUESTS WARRANTS

Rettinger also had requested warrants against Lavin's son, James Jack Shine, a candidate for county registrar of deeds, and two Teamsters union officials: Otto Wendell, Michigan director of DRIVE, the union's political arm, and Henry Hopkins, president of a Detroit Teamsters local.

State Police and sheriff's deputies cleared and padlocked the Livingston County building Saturday night about 90 minutes after the convention began. In the meantime, Rettinger and at least two others received minor injuries in the melee.

Witnesses said the fighting erupted when Gerald Skiby, treasurer of the county committee and chairman of the convention's credentials committee, read a report proposing to unseat some 80 Lavin-backed delegates.

Several men then charged the speaker's table and attacked Rettinger and others, witnesses added. Rettinger said at least six men were hitting him as he lay on the convention hall floor.

Observers said the fighting was another development in the power struggle within the county Democratic organization which began three years ago when Rettinger ousted Lavin as chairman.

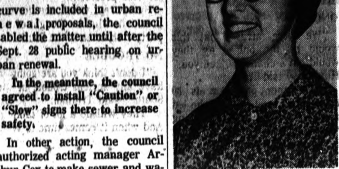

Th two factions ran opposing slates for all county offices in the Sept. 1 primary, and some of the races produced charges of vote fraud and other irregularities.

State Aide's Wife to Be Club Speaker

UNION LAKE — Mrs. James M. Hare, wife of Michigan's secretary of state, will speak at the Monday meeting of the Union Lake Business and Professional Women's Club.

Mrs. Hare will discuss "Art in a Woman's World," the 8 p.m. program to which Keego Harbor Club members also have been invited.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. V. J. V. 7138 Locklin, West Bloomfield Township.

KAREN EASTMAN

Rochester Church Adds Full-Time Staff Member

ROCHESTER — A full-time worker in Christian education has been added to the staff of St. Paul's Methodist Church, official church Board announced today.

The new staff member is Karen Eastman, 22, of 206 Second.

She will work with the church's division of the children's choir program and serve as teacher of the daily cooperative nursery sponsored by the church.

A June graduate of Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., Miss Eastman majored in Christian education. She has had wide experience in church camp experience the summer as program director of the Judson Collins Camping program.

Her official title at St. Paul's is that of educational assistant to the pastor.

To Hear Wife of VP Nominee

LANSING (AP) — Some 500 Michigan Republican women were to hear about campaign strategy today from a top-level woman campaigner—Mrs. William Miller, wife of the GOP vice presidential nominee.

Another major speaker was to be Mrs. Edly Peterson of Charlotte, who credits an almost all-female grass roots organization for her winning the GOP nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Gov. George Romney's wife, Lenore, who will address the luncheon meeting, to be followed by briefings on registering drives, fund raising drives and other campaign and election assignments.

Attending will be representatives of the Michigan Federation of Republican Women, the GOP Women's Advisory Committee, young Republican groups, members of special campaign committees and volunteer campaigners.

K. of C. Festival Will Start Friday

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The annual Knights of Columbus festival will get under way Friday night and continue through Sunday here.

Three meals — a fish fry, ham dinner and roast beef dinner — will be featured during the event.

Rides for children and games for adults will be available on the grounds of St. Francis Council No. 4401 at 21900 Middle Belt.

The festival will be served from 4 to 7 p.m. Friday. An old-fashioned square dance will be held after the 4-8 p.m. ham dinner Saturday. The roast beef dinner is scheduled for 1 to 8 p.m. Sunday.

Rochester Coin Club Sets Seventh Semiannual Show

ROCHESTER — There will be no shortage of coins in the Rochester area Sunday.

The Rochester Coin Club will hold its seventh semiannual coin show then, with several thousand people expected to attend.

The show will be held in the Gold and Sunset rooms at Oakland University, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The choice of the university as the site for the affair reflects the growth of the coin show since its inception.

The first show, held at the Avon Park Pavilion, drew a few hundred people. More recent shows at the Rochester Elks Temple saw attendance grow to 1,000.

3,000 ATTEND

Last spring, Oakland University was the site, and an estimated 3,000 people attended.

Highlights of Sunday's show will be many fine exhibits of coins ranging in age from before the birth of Christ to modern proof sets as well as gold, foreign and paper money.

The exhibitors will compete for awards in 10 classes, as well as the "Best of the Show" grand prize.

Dealers from all parts of Michigan, Ohio and Canada will be represented by 40 or more tables, where collectors can fill gaps in their collections.

SHOW PROCEEDS

Proceeds of the show are used to furnish subscriptions of "Coin World," a leading coin newspaper, to all Rochester area schools and the two area colleges.

The Rochester Coin Club meets at North Hill Lanes on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. The meetings are open to the public.

Township Set to Alter Junk Law

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The recently adopted junk and dismantled car ordinance is scheduled to be amended to night.

Trustees propose adding the word "or sales" and in the section which excludes "duly licensed and/or operable vehicles or trailers with substantially all main component parts attached."

The ordinance was adopted July 30 by Township Board members, who agreed that it should be amended shortly after going into effect.

The code became effective Aug. 30, two days after its adoption had been filed to place it on a referendum ballot.

However, township officials ruled the petition bearing 368 signatures was invalid. Robert P. Allen, Oakland County corporation counsel, had informed them he could find no statutory provision for a referendum vote on the matter.

CHIEF OBJECTION

The chief objection to the ordinance was that it gives township residents just 14 hours to repair their automobiles in their own yards.

According to Supervisor Edward Cheyz, the change expected to be made at the 8 p.m. session was the only one suggested at a July 18 meeting attended by some 45 persons.

Pretty Pickets Circle Capitol

LANSING (AP) — Some of the prettiest pickets ever seen at the State Capitol blocked the building entrance today, protesting a new law governing cosmetology.

Blondes in puff hairdoes and brunettes showing the latest hair fashions from Paris circled in the picket line.

Irving Goldman, vice president of the Michigan Nurses Assn., said the nearly all-girl picket line was protesting a newly enacted law he claimed would permit public schools to teach cosmetology — the art of hair-styling.

Goldman said some 400 pickets were from Metropolitan Detroit, Cheboygan, Flint, Saginaw, Ann Arbor, Marquette and Lansing.

William Weaver, secretary of the State Board of Cosmetology, said the group was misinformed.

AGE TO ENTER

The new law, he said, only specifies that no student can enter a school of cosmetology until age 16, although this will not apply to a student enrolled in a public school.

Only one school, Chadsey High in Detroit, has such a program at present and the board has given no indication it will allow others to offer such courses, Weaver said.

"Somebody apparently told them such courses might be offered in almost every high school in Michigan," Weaver said. "They are misinformed. The present board has not indicated it will approve any more."

Goldman said his group was planning to make a court test of the new law.

Kelley Rules on Eligibility

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley says members of local boards of education, school superintendents, teachers and community college administrators cannot retain those positions if elected to the State Board of Education.

In an opinion requested by Dr. Lynn Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, Kelley found the state board's jurisdiction over local boards, administrators and teachers means it would be incompatible for one person to occupy positions where he could be judged himself.

Kelley said instructors or administrators at state colleges and universities, granting basic baccalaureate degrees, can serve at the same time on the State Board of Education since the board does not oversee the four-year institutions.

Rates High on Boyle's 'Meader'

Praise for 'First Family' Star

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One act of courage put Vaughn Meader in the limelight. Another act of courage has kept him there.

It took a lot of courage back in 1960 for Vaughn to scrap his act. After all, it was paying him bread — and butter money — $45 a week.

"I was playing comedy piano and telling old mother-in-law jokes in Greenwich Village spots," he recalled. "One night I faced up to the facts and decided what I was doing was junk."

"I had discovered topical humor. That's what I wanted to do. So I sat down and wrote an act based on what was going on in the news."

2 YEARS

Within two years he became well-known as a night club performer and was beginning to hit the bigtime television shows.

His hour-long act including a five-minute skit on the inauguration of the late President John F. Kennedy. It caught the attention of a recording company. The skit was expanded into "The First Family" album.

In a year, five million copies of the album were sold. When Kennedy was assassinated last November, many in show business thought that the rifleman who killed him had also blasted the career of Meader. They figured his own image was too identified in the public mind with that of Kennedy.

HEARTSICK

Vaughn, who had never met the president or Mrs. Kennedy, was heartsick.

"We withdrew the album after the assassination, and I quit work for two months," he said. "I didn't want to make a dime out of such a situation."

"But finally I decided to go on doing what I had done before — and let time decide what would happen. After all, I am not basically an impressionist. I'm a topical humorist."

That was Meader's second act of courage — to prove that his success was no mere trick of mimicry.

MADE POINT

And within a year he has made his point. He has made two more albums. His new night club act is a headliner, bringing him in anywhere from $4,000 to $12,500 a week. This Friday he'll present a 90-minute spectacular on television, broadly satirizing different segments of America.

"I talk about Robert Kennedy a great deal in my act," said Meader, "but I don't imitate his voice. It would be too reminiscent of his brother, and I don't intend to do anything that's in bad taste."

Vaughn once worked as a waiter and an usher. He spent four years as a laboratory technician for the Army in Germany, where he met and married his wife, Vera.

At 28 — tall, dark-haired, hazel-eyed — he is as intense as a highly strung racehorse.

MIND BURSTING

"I like to perform, but more than to perform I like to create — to originate," he said. "My mind is bursting with 43 million things I'd like to do."

Coming September 23...three different new Ramblers THE SENSIBLE SPECTACULARS 65's most sweeping changes...in size...in style...in power

We can tell you this about the new automobiles coming to market for 1965:

No other new cars will be more dramatically changed, or better attuned to the new motoring age, than the '65 Ramblers.

These Ramblers are changed...but not for the sake of change.

They are changed to meet today's changing tastes, changing traffic, changing turnpike demands, changing car uses.

To meet the challenge of these changes, we designed three different kinds of Ramblers, in three different sizes, on three different wheelbases, in three different price ranges.

We powered these Ramblers with seven spectacular engines, Sixes and V-8s, including Torque Command, world's most advanced engine. Boosts both power and economy.

We put new brawn and brio into these Ramblers, new space inside, yet kept the famed easy handling, parking, maneuverability.

We added new features to the long list of extra-value features you get at no extra cost—added new sportiness and action—added new glamor models, including dazzling new convertibles in Ambassador and Classic.

These new 1965 Ramblers you will see next week are Ramblers through and through—the most sensible Ramblers we have ever built.

But they are also the most spectacular Ramblers in history—spectacular in looks, size, beauty, performance.

Thus, they named themselves. They are The Sensible Spectaculars. No other words describe them better, more honestly.

When you see the new Ramblers on Wednesday, September 23—sit in them, drive them—you will understand the honesty of the name—The Sensible Spectaculars.

We invite you to see the 1965 Ramblers yourself—at your Rambler dealer, next week. American Motors—Dedicated to Excellence

Ask Hubby's Forgiveness; Your Behavior Is Childish

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: About two years ago my sister told me that my husband never missed a chance to hug and squeeze a certain woman we both know. I asked my husband about this and he denied it. My sister has a habit of making a lot of nothing, so I let the matter drop.

I had really forgotten all about it until I saw this woman at our church picnic.

My husband didn't know I was watching him and he came up behind this woman, placed both his hands on her bare arms and gave her a squeeze.

She didn't seem surprised or angry, either. Since then, I told my husband not to speak to me.

I'd go to this woman's husband and tell him about it, but he's very jealous and might hurt my husband.

Am I making something out of nothing, or do you think I have a problem?

I've had men try stuff like that with me, but I've always given them such a dirty look that they never tried it again. I'd appreciate your advice.

DEAR TROUBLED: Start talking to your husband and ask him to forgive your childish behavior. Your sister is a troublemaker.

Avoid her. The woman probably knew your husband's "squeeze" was nothing more than an affectionate, innocent gesture.

Grow up and thaw out or you'll create more problems than can be solved in one letter.

DEAR ABBY: I am blonde, 5 feet, 3 inches tall, weigh 110 pounds and have a fairly good shape.

I live in a nice apartment which is beautifully furnished with my own things; in fact, I decorated it myself.

It's Another Girl

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Smith (Karen A. Levey) of Fairport Street announce the birth of their second daughter, Julie Ann, Sept. 2.

Grandparents of the new infant are Mr. and Mrs. Elbert W. Smith of South Marshall Street and the Galen W. Lavarys of Pioneer Drive.

I make a good living, do all kinds of art work as a hobby and have even sold some of my oil paintings.

I can put on wallpaper as good as any professional, also paint, lay tile and even repair my own car.

I am my own cook, housekeeper and I make my own clothes. When I go out there isn't a dance I can't do. Do you think I need a man?

MISS INDEPENDENT

DEAR MISS: Obviously you do, or the question would never have occurred to you.

DEAR ABBY: I still love this boy I went steady with. We broke up about two months ago.

I have tried everything to forget him, but it is no use because I loved him too much from the start.

I have called him up and all my girl friends have called him up, too, trying to get him to go back with me.

They all say we are perfect for each other. He always says he has something important to do. How can I get him back?

STILL CARES

DEAR STILL: If you want to get this boy back, your technique could hardly be worse.

You've probably wrecked your chances by now so you have nothing to lose by ignoring him entirely, which is what you should have done in the first place.

Family a Part of West and East

By MIRIAM NEAL

Weddings, after all, are normal events, important, only to those around them, usually indicating that one more pair has settled down and is ready to take in the pattern of babies, PTAs and eventually old age.

Eighteen years ago, under a large tree on Hadsell Avenue, a wedding took place that completely transformed the life of the young bride.

A graduate of Wayne State University, Portia Hoover had been teaching in Birmingham for almost five years when she met Aziz B. Akram through mutual friends.

The young man from India, a graduate of the University of Michigan, was getting a degree in mechanical engineering at the Lawrence Institute of Technology.

"ONION BULBS"
He was young, handsome and intelligent and spoke enthusiastically of the land of Rudyard Kipling and buildings with "onion bulbs" for tops.

His goal was to return to Bombay and set up an import-export business. He had planned to return alone, until he met Miss Hoover. On Aug. 9, 1946 they were married. In January 1947 he returned to his native land to set up his business and find a home for his new wife.

But the land he found was not the land he left. Since the 1930s, groups had been urging a free state for Muslims, separate from India. Now the rumblings could be seen and felt as well as heard.

Told that Bombay was no longer safe, Aziz fled to Lahore. He arrived just in time for the August split during which Muslims fled to Pakistan while Hindus fled to India.

THE EVACUATION
All his relatives evacuated to see the John 11:00 a.m. train. He took none of the family books or treasures except a sewing machine.

They thought they were going to return.

With Aziz's help they found a roof under which they could live. There were no homes left in Lahore. Then they started over.

FIRST DAUGHTER
Because of the turmoil and the living conditions, he couldn't send for his wife until January 1949. When she came, she brought a 15-month-old daughter he'd never seen.

They named her Aziz' Mahmooda.

Mrs. Akram moved into the Lahore house with 15 of her husband's relatives. Partly because it is against custom for a young man to choose his own wife and partly because she was from the West, the other women excluded her from the kitchen.

Though the house was large, there was a large number of people and each unit had to have its own section partitioned off. Says Mrs. Akram, "There wasn't much privacy."

Her daughter grew up learning the Punjabi dialect right along with her English. By the time she was 2½ she was translating for her mother.

VISIT HOME
By 1950 Mrs. Akram longed for her own home and her own way of life so Aziz arranged a business trip to the United States. He was able to stay 18 months, she, two years. With her on her return were Alice and a son, Johnny Khalid.

When she returned, population of the Lahore house had diminished and Mrs. Akram got "kitchen rights." She began to make her own impact on Lahore by teaching at a school for American children.

In 1953 she and her children again visited her parents. This time there were four grandchildren coming 10,000 miles to see the John 11:00 a.m. train.

Mrs. Akram and Susan, who had been born in Lahore, were visited for six months and returned to Lahore. They were American citizens and Catholic but their home was in Moslem Lahore with their father.

AMERICAN SCHOOLS
In August she came home again. This time she put her three younger children in American schools. In December, Alice, her oldest, and her husband will join them.

The parents agreed long ago that their children would attend American universities and Alice, now 17, will enter Oakland University in January.

In the meantime, Johnny, 13, is attending Avondale Junior High School and Mariana, 10, and Susan, 7, are attending Elmwood Elementary.

All the Akram children can speak Urdu and Punjabi, as well as English. Johnny is currently learning Arabic and plans to learn Hebrew.

TWO WORLDS
The family, in a sense, belongs to two worlds — the modern, advanced United States and the young, struggling Pakistan.

After Alice is settled at OU, the rest of the family will go back to Lahore. There Mrs. Akram will continue to be a living example of courage — the American woman, and her children who can live in two worlds and help both understand the other more.

It's a long way from Lahore to grandmother's house in Auburn Heights but through the years travel time has diminished and understanding has grown. All because of an everyday event 18 years ago.

Touring in East
Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Patterson of Dorset Ridge in Orchard Lake are on a two-week tour of Boston and Cape Cod. While in the region they will visit Mrs. Patterson's sister, Mrs. Olive Folson in Redding, Mass.

'Windswept' Is Scene of Reception

A reception at "Windswept," lars of Island Lane, followed the Royal Oak Artists Competition include Mrs. Maynard Cotcher, Mrs. Leslie Hearn, Mrs. Lewis Crew, and Mrs. Russell Foulkes.

Dr. Harold C. DeWindi performed the double-ring candlelight ceremony at Kirk in the Hills, Presbyterian.

Attenon lace embroidered with beads accented the Empire bodice and train of the bridal gown of white peau de rose. The bride carried white roses and ivy.

Valerie Hart attended as maid of honor.

BROTHER ATTENDED
Roger P. Donahue stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of Dr. and Mrs. Roy L. Donahue, New Delhi, India. Seating guests were the bride's brother Robert of Los Angeles and William T. Gillis, East Lansing.

After a honeymoon in upper New York State, the couple will return for fall term at Michigan State University. The bride is in her junior year and her husband is completing work on his master's degree in entomology.

Area Artists Enter Exhibit

Area artists exhibiting in the Royal Artists Competition include Mrs. Maynard Cotcher, Mrs. Leslie Hearn, Mrs. Lewis Crew, and Mrs. Russell Foulkes.

Mrs. Cotcher won the award for outstanding contemporary work.

Was Proper for Women to Sit Down

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: My husband, myself, and two maiden sisters and his brother went to a smorgasbord restaurant. We three women preceded the men in line to get our food.

When we had filled our plates we went directly to our table. After setting their plates down, my husband's two sisters stood at their places waiting for the men to come and seat them.

As the men were not following directly behind us, I sat down immediately. I thought they made themselves very conspicuous by standing there and that they should have sat down and not waited to be seated.

Wasn't this very strange behavior?

A: It was indeed strange. They should have sat themselves down as you did and not waited for the men to come to seat them.

Q: My mother and father are divorced. Neither has remarried, although my mother plans to soon. My mother would like her fiancé to sit in the first pew with her at my forthcoming wedding.

I think it will be both improper and embarrassing to my father to have this man sit in the front pew and that he should be seated with the other guests.

A: If your mother's engagement to this man has been announced, it will be proper for him to sit beside your mother in the front pew. If, however, her engagement has not been announced, he should not be seated with her.

Q: At a small informal gathering of friends, is it not rude for two of the guests to carry on a private conversation to the exclusion of others?

A: You are quite right. A private conversation of any noticeable length that excluded others in the room would be rude.

Get Going!

Hear ye! Hear ye! You women are as good as predicting the outcome of football games as the menfolk. Remember, the prize in the Pontiac Press annual Football Contest has gone to a feminine contestant several times.

Root for your favorite team. Decide on the basis of the colors of the players' jerseys. Let the baby mark your entry blank. But get your entries in by noon of this Saturday.

Entries submitted on contest form or duplicate should be addressed to The Pontiac Press Football Contest.

Decisions of the contest judges are final, but we're rooting for the women.

Friday, Luncheon

Youth Leaders to Meet

Some 75 leaders and members of the Pontiac Area Council of Camp Fire Girls will attend a luncheon Friday at Devon Cables. Summer day camp experiences will be compared and plans formulated for the coming year.

Mrs. Doris Beck, former executive director of the Council, will be a special guest.

Mrs. Virginia Loveland, head of the women's division of the Pontiac Area United Fund, will speak briefly on "The Importance of the Volunteer."

On the committee planning the affair are Mrs. William Foster, Mrs. Stuart Grandall, Mrs. Roosevelt Wells and Mrs. Howard Hissong.

Inflation Talk Revived

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The auto labor pact has been hammered out in Detroit have revived talk of possibly increased inflation but without conviction that anything like a boom and bust is in the making.

The entire record of the American economy since the end of World War II has been remarkable for its general stability of business.

More likely, it's respect for both the strength and moderation of the present business trend.

The victory goes instead to the Labor party, Douglas-Home will be succeeded as prime minister by Harold Wilson.

On that date, an expected 25 million or more voters will elect a new 630-seat House of Commons to legislate for this island kingdom for five-year term.

The Old Parliament will be dissolved Sept. 25.

If Douglas-Home's Conservative party will control of the House of Commons in the election, he will continue as prime minister, the executive head of the government.

The victory goes instead to the Labor party, Douglas-Home will be succeeded as prime minister by Harold Wilson.

Public opinion polls indicate the race may be close.

The Oct. 15 date was the one Douglas-Home was expected to pick.

BEFORE ANNOUNCEMENT

Before the announcement came from No. 10 Downing Street, Douglas-Home went last night to Balmoral, Scottish Highland residence of Queen Elizabeth II.

This morning, he told the queen of his decision.

Then he flew back to London in a special plane of the queen's flight, eating sandwiches and bananas on the way.

With the fixing of the date, Britain's political campaign went into high gear. The Conservatives, in power for 13 years, hope to win a fourth straight election victory. Wilson has expressed confidence that the Labor party will prevail.

Parliament is in recess and will not meet again before the election. Thus historic figures as Sir Winston Churchill and Harold Macmillan, both retired from politics, have been seen in the Commons for the last time.

Q "Due to a chronic job; now my husband is dying. We have three sons to raise. We will have to live on the children's Social Security while they are under age and possibly some Veterans' Benefits for them. I have $2,000 in cash and $2,000 in a savings account. Is there any way that I can get more income with possibly some growth in the future?"

A) In your circumstances, $2,000 is certainly the minimum to be held in savings for emergency. That leaves only $2,000 which you can invest. This is not going to help you very much either as to income or capital enhancement, but it may help your morale under the burdens you have to bear.

I suggest you buy 20 shares of General Motors yielding 4.7 percent - with a strong potential for growth, subject to cyclical interruptions.

Q I have been offered shares in Louisiana & Southern Life Insurance Company. They were offered at 14% and were supposed to have a good profit outlook. Would you advise me to buy this stock? I have no other investments - only savings accounts and credit union shares. J.V.

A) I advise you to hold some stock, since your present investment holdings are fixed as to principal and offer you no protection against inflation. I can't give you an opinion on Louisiana & Southern Life since the company was incorporated only last April and there are no figures available on which to base an opinion. The original offering was made at 10, and there has already been a good run-up.

For a man in your position, an unassured life insurance stock is too speculative. I suggest a 10% medium-price Commonwealth Life of Kentucky, which has compiled an excellent record of growth.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all personal questions but will answer questions possible in his column.

1961. Wholesale prices - the average of all commodities - are practically unchanged. Hourly earnings have gone up 1 per cent, and weekly earnings, counting in overtime, 1 per cent. Unemployment is down 1 per cent since the 1961 February count.

All of this was going on while the economy was expanding, with few hitches, at a steady if modest pace. Industrial production is up 30 per cent.

Add the Gross National product - total of all goods and services - up 10 per cent. The constant dollar, or 23 per cent, without adjusting to the decline in the purchasing power of the dollar from creeping inflation.

Instalment debt has risen 31 per cent, and the total of consumer debt 25 per cent. Mortgage debt is up 23 per cent. But personal savings have gone up 41 per cent.

Money is dearer, but still below the usual sharp in interest costs that accompany most boom times. The yield on three-month Treasury bills is at 4 1/2 per cent. But the yield on corporate bonds has risen only 3 per cent, and on taxable Treasury bonds 5 per cent.

Businessmen have chalked up a rise of 19 per cent on retail sales of nondurable goods, and of 34 per cent on durables.

The ratio of inventories to sales has dropped since February 1961. For manufacturers it's off 10 per cent, for wholesalers 5 per cent, and for retailers 7.5 per cent.

It is this record of vigor, and considerable stability, that the economy has shown that leads many observers to believe that the latest surges in wage scales and in prices of some goods can be contained. The hope is that the economy will grow enough to absorb the changes without setting off another wage-price spiral that could end the current upswing.

Britain Gets Election Date

Sir Alec and Queen Confer at Balmoral

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Douglas-Home met today with Queen Elizabeth II and then announced that the British general election will be held Thursday, Oct. 15.

On that date, an expected 25 million or more voters will elect a new 630-seat House of Commons to legislate for this island kingdom for five-year term.

The Old Parliament will be dissolved Sept. 25.

If Douglas-Home's Conservative party will control of the House of Commons in the election, he will continue as prime minister, the executive head of the government.

The victory goes instead to the Labor party, Douglas-Home will be succeeded as prime minister by Harold Wilson.

Public opinion polls indicate the race may be close.

The Oct. 15 date was the one Douglas-Home was expected to pick.

BEFORE ANNOUNCEMENT

Before the announcement came from No. 10 Downing Street, Douglas-Home went last night to Balmoral, Scottish Highland residence of Queen Elizabeth II.

This morning, he told the queen of his decision.

Then he flew back to London in a special plane of the queen's flight, eating sandwiches and bananas on the way.

With the fixing of the date, Britain's political campaign went into high gear. The Conservatives, in power for 13 years, hope to win a fourth straight election victory. Wilson has expressed confidence that the Labor party will prevail.

Parliament is in recess and will not meet again before the election. Thus historic figures as Sir Winston Churchill and Harold Macmillan, both retired from politics, have been seen in the Commons for the last time.

Q "Due to a chronic job; now my husband is dying. We have three sons to raise. We will have to live on the children's Social Security while they are under age and possibly some Veterans' Benefits for them. I have $2,000 in cash and $2,000 in a savings account. Is there any way that I can get more income with possibly some growth in the future?"

A) In your circumstances, $2,000 is certainly the minimum to be held in savings for emergency. That leaves only $2,000 which you can invest. This is not going to help you very much either as to income or capital enhancement, but it may help your morale under the burdens you have to bear.

I suggest you buy 20 shares of General Motors yielding 4.7 percent - with a strong potential for growth, subject to cyclical interruptions.

Q I have been offered shares in Louisiana & Southern Life Insurance Company. They were offered at 14% and were supposed to have a good profit outlook. Would you advise me to buy this stock? I have no other investments - only savings accounts and credit union shares. J.V.

A) I advise you to hold some stock, since your present investment holdings are fixed as to principal and offer you no protection against inflation. I can't give you an opinion on Louisiana & Southern Life since the company was incorporated only last April and there are no figures available on which to base an opinion. The original offering was made at 10, and there has already been a good run-up.

For a man in your position, an unassured life insurance stock is too speculative. I suggest a 10% medium-price Commonwealth Life of Kentucky, which has compiled an excellent record of growth.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all personal questions but will answer questions possible in his column.
