Major Steel Makers Beginning Shipments

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Call Thousands Back in Drive for Peak Output

But Full Production Not Possible for Weeks; Consumers Clamor

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Major producers edged the first small shipments of finished steel into delivery pipelines today — two days after an 80-day Taft-Hartley Injunction halted the longest strike in steel industry history.

The early shipments — gatherings of what was left behind when the 116-day strike began — meant little to customers already hurt by shortages. It still will be weeks before newly produced steel moves in significant amounts.

Thousands of the half-million strikers were called back to work over the weekend. Thousands more expected recalls early this week. Steel firms were reluctant to state figures—changes occurred too fast.

Most big companies began heating ironmaking blast furnaces and steelmaking open hearths 24-hours after mill gates swung open. Some expected to get iron from blast furnaces yet today.

Throughout the industry there was a gigantic effort to get all facilities producing as quickly as possible. Customers—many closed because of steel shortages — pressed for speedy deliveries.

NEW WALKOUT IN 80 DAYS?

Producers could count on only 80-days of operations. If the labor dispute is unsettled when the injunction expires Jan. 26, workers could renew the strike.

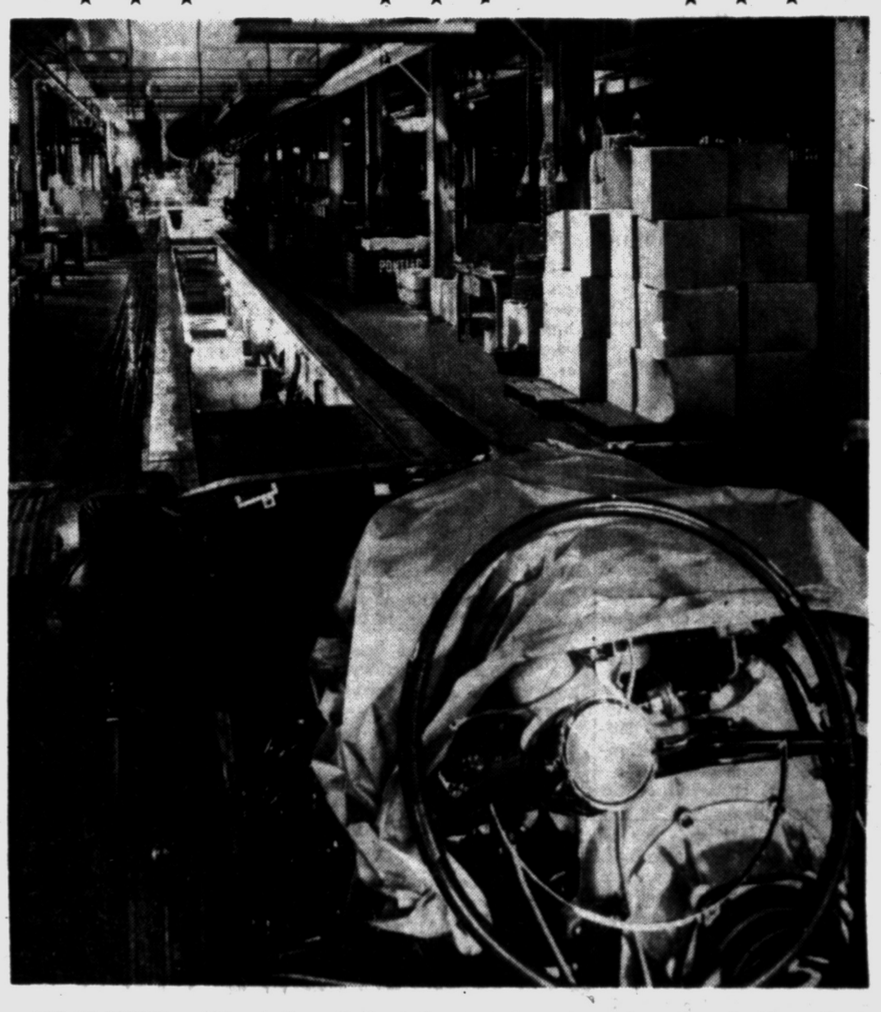

The U. S. Supreme Court figuratively struck the match that rekindled mill furnaces. The court by an 8-1 vote Saturday upheld the injunction that had been stayed more than two weeks by United Steelworkers appeals.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, in a television appearance, Sunday said it will be up to Congress to keep the mills operating beyond Jan. 26 if a labor agreement still is beyond reach.

Mitchell said President Eisenhower would be ready promptly with recommendations to the lawmakers if the strike is resumed.

NEW YORK (AP)—Buying orders poured into the stock market today, sending prices sharply higher, in the wake of resumption of steel production. Gains of around $1 a share were posted by leading steels, motors, rails and metals. (See market page, 25, for details.

ALL IS QUIET — Although the nation's steel mills were fired up for the first time since mid-July over the weekend, assembly lines at Pontiac Motor Division today remained quiet. The chassis assembly in the foreground, with its big V-8 engine covered for protection against dust, waits on the now empty final assembly line for a body that cannot be made until steel mills production gets back to normal and deliveries start. Some officials were predicting a wait of several weeks, some longer. Some 11,000 local workers have been laid off since Oct. 30 because of the 116-day strike.

R. J. ALEXANDER

Pick Alexander for Works Post

Mayor of Oak Park Was Deputy Director to Harold K. Schone

The Oakland County Board of Public Works today named R. J. Alexander, former deputy director, to the post of director of the Department of Public Works.

Alexander's appointment becomes effective Dec. 1.

At the same time, the seven-member governing body of the DPW accepted with regrets the resignation of acting director Harold K. Schone, who has held the $17,500 post since the creation of the department in 1957.

Schone, former city manager of Oak Park and Birmingham, tendered his resignation last week to become city manager of Arcadia, Calif.

In learning of his appointment, Alexander, 52, said he would resign his post as mayor of Oak Park because he said many felt there would be conflicts between the two jobs. He said he would probably do this at a Dec. 7 meeting.

Alexander's appointment, expected in most circles as Schone recommended him as his successor in his letter of resignation, was by a 6-0 vote of the Board. Member Harry Horton was the only absentee.

Alexander, of 13141 Northfield Blvd., was Schone's choice also as deputy director when Schone left his Birmingham city manager's job to direct the DPW. The department was the first of its kind in Michigan, and was created by special legislation.

The new director has been a councilman in Oak Park for seven years. He was elected mayor last April.

★ ★ ★

Alexander spent 11 years as metropolitan project engineer with the State Highway Dept., as planner in the Detroit area of public works projects for the National Resources Planning Board, and in private industry with a sewer and water construction company before taking his deputy's job.

Ravaged Oil Tanker Claims Eighth Victim

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The tanker Amoco Virginia, its plates buckled and ripped by fire and explosion Sunday, claimed an eighth victim today when city fireman D. H. Chandler drowned aboard the ship. Twenty-five persons suffered injury.

The fire aboard the 12,000-ton tanker threatened the heart of the nation's largest oil refining and petrochemical center for 19 hours Sunday.

The vessel's captain, R. R. Combs, and six of the 40 crew members perished.

Chandler, 28, apparently stepped into a hole in a submerged portion of the ship.

★ ★ ★

Investigators climbed over the buckled plates in search of clues as to the cause of the fire. Groups probing the destroyed hulk were the FBI, Coast Guard, the American Oil Co., and Hess Terminal, where the ship is tied up.

The fire broke out less than four hours before the American Oil Co.'s 12,000-ton tanker was to sail for Albany, N. Y.

The flames, feeding on 135,000 barrels of high test gasoline and fuel oil in the vessel's bunkers, threatened the heart of the nation's biggest oil refining and petrochemical center for 19 hours before firemen brought it under control.

WALL OF FLAMES

"It spread like a prairie fire," said seamen Joseph R. Daley, 37, Seattle. "As it spread, a solid wall of flames 100 feet high swept the ship."

Daley was among the loading crew when the fire broke out.

"During the time I was loading there was a strong odor of gasoline all over the ship, even back to the crew's quarters," he said.

★ ★ ★

Daley told Detective A. E. Rockwell he reported to a ship officer.

"They kept wanting to push it out," he said, referring to wanting to load the ship so it could sail. "They continued to smell

Winds were southwesterly at 10 m.p.h. at 10 this morning. The humidity was 75 per cent.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 31. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 45.

MSU Officials Rap Fraternity Hazing Stunt

EAST LANSING (AP)—A fraternity hazing stunt in which paint and shellac were dumped on two 18-year-old Michigan State University pledges was denounced today by faculty and fraternity officials.

The victims were freshman students Michael Kukes and Martin B Schutzer, both of Detroit. They were confined to Olin Memorial Hospital for treatment and observation.

The two were grabbed Saturday by six or seven members of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity near the campus and dumped in a car which took them along M78 across the Genesee County line. Tape was fastened over their eyes and mouths and their hands and legs were taped together.

Then brown, yellow, black and red paint and shellac was poured over their heads and bodies. They then were abandoned along the highway.

Kukes chewed the tape off Schutzer's wrists and they hailed a passing motorist who called the sheriff's office.

The two were treated with paint solvent compound at the hospital, where their condition was described as good.

Production Lines Still GM Plants Await Steel

All General Motors officials in Pontiac could do today was to keep their eyes peeled on the once-again fired up steel mills and hope that steel supplies would soon be on their way.

Spokesmen for the three GMC plants in the city — Pontiac Motor, Truck & Coach and Fisher Body Divisions — agreed that when their production would once again return to normal depended entirely upon how soon steel started arriving.

A corporation spokesman in Detroit referred to the company's third quarterly report, released before steelworkers resumed work over the weekend, in which it said it would be "some time" before GM plants and those of its suppliers had enough steel to once again begin fabricating.

The statement said it would "take still longer" to once again fill the normal pipelines of production.

Most officials were cautious in predicting when production would pick up. Some said several weeks, some said longer.

★ ★ ★

The auto industry, however, said it hopes to obtain sufficient steel to build another 900,000 cars during the 80 days a strike-ending Taft-Hartley injunction remains in force against the United Steelworkers Union. But this buildup won't begin until at least Dec. 1.

Some industry officials said they expected even more than the 210,000 hourly workers, most of them General Motors employes, previously laid off to be out of work despite the return of work of the nation's steelworkers.

Layoffs in Pontiac due to the 116-day strike reached 11,000 Oct. 30 with the idling of 1,000 light truck production workers at the Truck & Coach plant. However, some other 6,400 hourly rated employes remained at work.

These workers, a division spokesman said, would remain on the job as long as steel supplies last.

Production halted entirely at Pontiac Motor and Fisher Body Division plants here nearly two weeks ago when their steel supplies were exhausted. Some 8,000 workers were laid off at Pontiac and another 2,400 at Fisher.

Cranberries Hold Cancer Danger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American buying public was warned today — three weeks before Thanksgiving — that the 1958 and 1959 cranberry crop in Washington and Oregon is contaminated with a cancer-producing residue from a chemical weed killer. The warning was issued at a press conference by Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, who said the public must use its own discretion about buying cranberries at this time.

Flemming said the weed killer known as aminotriazole produced cancer in the thyroid of rats in laboratory tests. There is no definite scientific evidence yet that it produces cancer in humans.

Master Your Tensions

Certainly You're Harried, but There's a Cure

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles condensed from an important new book by a former president of the American Psychiatric Association and his collaborator, also a well known writer on mental health.

By GEORGE S. STEVENSON, M.D. and HARRY MILT

Why are people so tense today?

Because, for one thing, we are much worse off than our ancestors insofar as psychological safety is concerned.

Our ancestors fought and worked to make life better, and suffered and grieved as we do today, but had a feeling of faith that things would come out all right, and resignation when they didn't. Whatever happened — good or bad — they viewed as God's will.

In the past 100 years, however, the philosophy has developed that man's fate is largely in his own hands, and that if things don't work out well, each person has only himself to blame. Today when misfortune occurs, we suffer not only because of our loss but also from a feeling that somehow it was our fault.

Psychological security also depends on the feeling of safety we get out of being familiar with—and not scared of—the people and things which make up our surroundings. Today a person can live on one street years without even knowing his neighbors.

Pressed by loneliness, many men and women demand that their wives, husbands and children make up for all the love and feeling which is missing in other human contact—that each person be mother, father, brother neighbor, friend, companion—all rolled into one. No human being can fulfill so vast a demand.

Part of the great turmoil of the past half century has been caused by an unprecedented search for new knowledge. In the long run, humanity will no doubt be better off, but in the meantime many who are living through the process find it extremely disturbing.

Take, for instance, baby care. Up to about 1925, the traditional rules still held: Feed him when he's hungry and pick him up when he cries. They came a new set of rules: Feed only on schedule. Don't pick him up; let him cry it out. Start toilet training at six months—certainly no later than a year. Teach him to talk and walk and read as soon as you can, even if you have to push him.

MOMS GO 'MODERN'

So, millions of young mothers threw away common sense rules and started to bring up their babies according to "modern" theories. Then in the middle forties reaction set in and a new set of rules began to emerge resembling those tossed out the window 15 or 20 years before. Who knows when the rules will change again? Meanwhile, just think of the anxiety a mother suffers.

Not only are the rules and values of yesterday no longer any good, but those of today don't hold for every situation. At home you're permitted, to speak your mind.

"Be frank, be honest, be sincere," parents tell you, echoed by pastor and teacher. But just try this in school or on your job sometimes, or even with friends and neighbors, and see how well you come off.

When threatened by a wild animal, primitive man felt terror and fled, driven by nature's most powerful instinct—the instinct for survival. When attacked he felt anger and sought to destroy his enemy. Now wild beasts are caged in zoos and wild men exist only in Borneo and such. But your fight for survival goes on.

There are still holdups, illnesses, fires, hurricanes, floods, auto collisions, plane crashes and other accidents. Knowing that these tragedies can happen to you is enough to keep you slightly tense, although you may hardly be aware of it.

PSYCHOLOGICAL SELF

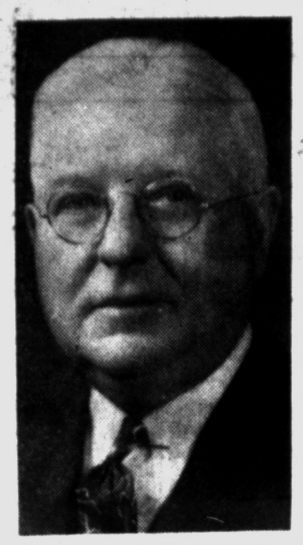

But there is much more to man than his physical self. There is the psychological self—the mind, spirit, soul, psyche, ego. It is that part of us to which we refer when we say "I want to live 100 years," "I want to be happy," "I resent that," "I am scared."

We act to protect our ego with as much vigor as we do to protect our bodies, and in the same way—by running or by fighting. Just recall your anger—the knotted up feeling in your stomach, your dry mouth, pounding heart, flushed face, trembling voice, clenched fists—the last time someone criticized you unjustly. Psychological threat is a normal part of life and we all face it.

But suppose you know you're tense and still can't see any unusual amount of threat in your life. Then the place to look is in the past.

It is not at all uncommon for well-to-do people to become terribly upset about a minor financial reverse, or even about misplacing a $5 bill. The reason it takes on the emotional sig-

BATTLE FLAMES — Smoke billowed up from the tanker Amoco Virginia for a fourth time early Sunday morning in the Houston ship channel. Firemen on shore and the crew of the fireboat Captain Crotty fought to control the flames. A series of explosions Saturday trapped and killed the captain and six crewmen. Twenty-five were injured.

Fair and Cool Is the Word in Much of Country

By The Associated Press

It was fair and a little cool in most of the nation today, with the weather pattern showing only minor changes from Sunday.

Light rain sprinkled scattered sections of the Atlantic Coast and snow flurries flecked the Dakotas and western Great Lakes region. Generally clear skies were the rule elsewhere.

gas, but they kept on loading and kept on and kept on.

More than 300 firemen who came from as far away as Lake Charles, La., battled the blaze. A blizzard of foamite finally smothered a main fire in the tanker's forward bunkers—which had held 90,000 barrels of aviation gasoline.

★ ★ ★

Small fires continued to flicker on the vessel's supersturcture and a pier alongside. The blackened hulk's deck plates buckled and its seams ripped.

FIND BODIES

Firemen found the body of Captain R. R. Combs of Kill Devil Hill, N.C., at the foot of a ladder leading to his quarters. The bodies of four crewmen were found in their quarters. Two others were found on deck.

Memories of the 1947 Texas City disaster that killed more than 500 persons prompted civil defense officials to alert the Texas State Guard and order evacuation of the immediate area.

★ ★ ★

Fire fighters ashore and aboard a lone fire boat applied water in early stages before chemical extinguishers arrived. There would have been no hope for them if the ship had exploded with force enough to touch off dozens of big oil storage tanks lining the north shore scant yards away.

Five explosions did rock the 540-foot tanker docked at the Hess Terminal in suburban Galena Park. The first came about 12:30 a.m., only minutes after the fire broke out.

Flames towered more than 200 feet high. Black, oily smoke mushroomed over the vessel and cast a pall over this Gulf Coast city of more than 900,000.

The final blast almost 12 hours later shot flames skyward just as firemen appeared to have it under control. It pushed heat waves around the storage tanks on shore containing more than a million gallons of highly explosive fuels.

Series Shows How to Conquer Tension

nificance of a catastrophe is that earlier in the lives of these people the loss of a few dollars actually did amount to disaster.

★ ★ ★

Some people are literally terrorized by a scowl, a harsh word or reprimand from a supervisor, husband or wife because it brings back—without one's being aware of it—the terror of severe discipline in childhood. Grown men with no cause whatever to be worried about their jobs are known to suffer panic when they get the message that "the boss wants to see you." Often it may take deep psychoanalytic probing to spot the cue to anti-threat reaction.

CAUSES PHYSICAL ILLS

Tenseness may actually cause a person to become physically ill.

When the body mobilizes internally for emergency action in preparation for anger and attack, the blood pressure rises. Subject a person to repeated threats which provoke anger and you have the beginning of a case of "psychosomatic" high blood pressure.

Instead of demobilizing after each anger-provoking situation, the body tends to remain on a "stand-by" alert, and the mobilization, including the heightened blood pressure, tends to be triggered off with little cause. The time may come when the heightened blood pressure fails to subside even when threat is no longer present.

Again, the threat may not actually be a current one. It may be a situation in the present that carries an ugly reminder, consciously or unconsciously, of an anger-provoking threat of the past.

Since so many bodily organs, in addition to the heart, play a part in this mobilization against psychological threat, they're likely to be affected too. Millions of cases of psychosomatic gastric ulcers, ulcerated colitis, constipation, urinary disorders, skin allergies, asthma, migraine headaches, rheumatoid arthritis, hyper-thyroidism and others can be traced back to phychosomatic causes.

Seek Area Committee to Aid Senior Citizens

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission at tonight's meeting will be asked to consider the formation of a committee to assist senior citizens in recreation, income maintenance, and acquiring cultural opportunities and housing.

In a letter to Mayor Carl F. Ingraham, the chairman of the State's Commission on Aging, James E. Brophy, states that many Michigan communities are taking the initiative to form local committees to help older persons.

Brophy said that before 1961 Michigan will have 11 regional conferences and a state conference to study and report on the needs of older people in Michigan and arrive at recommendations to solve some of their problems.

Brophy said the commission could contact Miss Emile Sargeant, regional committee chairman, for further information in forming the committee locally.

Long-Awaited Steel Moving to Industry

DEADLOCK UNBROKEN

There was no indication that either the industry or the union was in a mood to make major concessions. No negotiations were scheduled.

The union continued to press for wages and fringe benefits that steel executives said would be inflationary. Workers were earning an average of $3.11 an hour when the strike started.

The companies held on to demands for contract changes that would give management more say over working conditions in the mills. The union has fought this proposal since it was first made.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation Service, said he soon would contact both sides regarding new negotiations. The injunction specifies collective bargaining must be continued.

Probably the biggest delay in getting mills back to peak production would be damaged equipment. Brick linings in some furnaces easily could have cracked during the long shutdown. It would take time to make repairs.

Most steel companies expect to be at least six weeks getting mills up to pre-strike production levels.

For the miners and railroaders among the 350,000 furloughed workers in allied industries, the work resumption was good news. They almost are assured of being recalled quickly. Many already have returned.

But for thousands of others—in the auto and appliance industries and others—the wait for recalls will be a long one. Many may not get back to their jobs during the 80-day period.

The steel shortage, in fact, is expected to get worse before new production gets rolling.

Japan Wins Praise for Birth Rate Cut

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Japan has won praise of an American population expert for performing the "Miracle of Asia" in checking its population growth with voluntary birth control.

★ ★ ★

David Cushman Coyle of the Population Reference Bureau, a private research organization, said Japan's intensive effort to spread contraceptive practice and legalized abortion and sterilization should help stabilize its population by 1980.

The world, especially Asia, Coyle said, should be encouraged by Japan's preliminary success in dealing with "the century's gravest problem—the unprecedented acceleration in the multiplication of people."

The report said Japan's birth rate fell 34.3 per thousand population in 1947 to a low point of 17.2 in 1957.

Most women are determined to be beautiful. They'll even dye for it . . . A reckless driver is one who passes you, no matter how fast you're speeding . . . A fellow felt conspicuous at a Hollywood Party — he was the only bachelor there who hadn't married before. —Earl Wilson.

U.S. Claims Russia Balking on Air Pact

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American officials report that the long-discussed New York-to-Moscow commercial air service is being delayed by Soviet refusal to negotiate a civil air agreement.

Washington sources said yesterday they expect an agreement eventually would be worked out with Russia but that it was up to the Soviets to make the next move.

It is estimated that an average American consumes upwards of 42 bottles of soda pop per year.

Ore Carriers Ready for Fearful Trips

By The Associated Press

Freed by the Taft-Hartley injunction that sent striking steelworkers back to the mills, the Great Lakes ore fleet readied to resume interrupted deliveries today in the face of savage gales that lash the treacherous lakes in November.

Sailors fear the sudden fury of the lakes these autumn days when cold polar winds clashing with warm moist air from the southwest roil the waters.

Then, the block-long ships—their wheelhouses and gallies separated by tons of rock—are pounded mercilessly by the walls of water that pour over the decks and hammer steel hulls.

November is a savage month on the lakes.

In November 1968, 97 ships were lost or ripped apart in a four-day hurricane. The storm of November driven on the rocks. The known dead was more than 235.

Great Lakes seamen, distinct from the ocean sailor, have over the years adjusted their methods to meet as best they can the character of the lakes—Superior, the coldest and deepest; Michigan, a tunnel of heaving seas, and Erie, shallow and easily aroused to titanic anger.

★ ★ ★

Striving to beat a mid-December freeze, just about everything that will float will be pressed into service to get ore deliveries moving again.

There are 241 ore carriers in the 1950 caused the greatest dollar damage in Great Lakes history. Seventy lives were lost in November 1940 when four ships went down.

★ ★ ★

And only last November, the ill-fated Carl D. Bradley, battling northward in a heavy Lake Michigan gale from Gary, Ind., to Roger City ripped apart and sank. Thirty-three of her 35 crewmen were lost.

But the worst storm of all hit Lake Superior on Nov. 8, 1913. When it was over after 16 hours of winds at 60 miles an hour or more, at least 11 ships were sunk. Twenty-six others were fleet and some operators have said they hope to have their first vessels moving within two days. All expect to be back in service in a week. Some, loaded with ore when the mid-July steel strike hit steelworkers union crew members, will first have to complete heldup deliveries.

★ ★ ★

The Army Corp of Engineers, which controls the locks at Sault Ste. Marie, said that if traffic warrants, the Great Lakes shipping season will be extended beyond the normal Dec. 15 closing deadline.

★ ★ ★

C. A. Aune, area engineer for the corps, said, however, he doubts if ore boats will operate after Jan. 1.

Teamsters Defy Monitors, Nominate Hoffa President

DETROIT (AP)—The home local of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa has defied the Union's court-appointed monitors by nominating Hoffa for a new term as president.

★ ★ ★

The monitors, appointed by a federal court two years ago to supervise the Union, have objected to Hoffa serving simultaneously as president of Local 299 in Detroit and international president.

In renominating Hoffa as its president without opposition, the local urged the Teamsters' executive board to resist interference in the local's affairs.

The action was taken by about 700 of the local's 17,000 members at a nominating session in the University of Detroit Fieldhouse yesterday.

TURNOUT DISAPPOINTS HIM

Voicing disappointment at the small turnout, Hoffa said, "I wish this hall was jammed to the rafters. I would like to be able to show those who are attacking this union that we are running a free, democratic trade union and that we do submit questions of policy to the membership."

The local renominated Hoffa and his entire slate of officers. Officials of the local said all members were notified by postcard of the meeting in accordance with monitor rules.

A meeting will be called later to elect Hoffa and other officers by secret ballot to comply with the new federal labor reform law.

★ ★ ★

Frank E. Fitzsimmons, who was fa's local, offered a resolution opposing the monitors.

He asserted an attempt was being made to destroy the solidarity of the Teamsters so that "other forces" could get control and use the Union for political purposes.

The resolution was adopted unanimously by voice vote.

BRENNAN, TOO

In a separate meeting, about 250 of local 337's 10,500 members renominated Owen B. (Bert) Brennan, an international vice president and Hoffa's chief aide, as president of the local.

Brennan burst into tears on accepting renomination. "Excuse me for a moment," he told his followers. "You're the greatest."

Hoffa has served as president of his local since 1938. Brennan has headed his local since 1937.

Laud Plan to Use Parking Lots for Play Areas

NEW YORK (AP) — The originator of a plan to use supermarket parking lots as youth play areas during off-shopping periods said today he is getting an enthusiastic response from supermarket owners.

Richard F. Tomlinson, executive vice president of Food Topics, food industry publication, who conceived the idea to curb juvenile crime, said he would discuss his plan at a conference of the President's Council on Youth Fitness in Washington Nov. 23.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Shane MacCarthy, executive director of the council, already has commended this suggestion and said "Successful execution of the idea will pay rich dividends of good will to all those enterprises which make recreational spaces available and will identify them among community service organizations."

Mapai and Ben-Gurion Retain Power in Israel

In Israel's fourth general election in its 11 years of statehood, Prime Minister DAVID BEN-GURION's Mapai Party again won the biggest bloc of seats and again will head a ruling coalition.

★ ★ ★

Members of the Knesset (Parliament) are chosen by proportional representation from party lists. Voters indicate party preference only but candidates are not elected by constituents. The order in which names are placed on the list is decided by the parties. BEN-GURION failed in his efforts to scrap this system and to force the members of parliament to run on their own records.

★ ★ ★

The Mapai Party with 40 seats was only one of 24 in Israel with 1,290 candidates for 120 seats. General Zionists came next with 15 seats. New immigrants from Oriental countries are on other party lists and Arab Nationalists have two seats. Since 1950 the great majority of Israel's immigrants have been Oriental and Arab speaking and the bulk of the population comes from Eastern Europe and the Orient.

★ ★ ★

There have been charges that Oriental Jews are being discriminated against by Jews from Western countries and the recent riots in Haifa reflected the ill feelings. The chances are that Western Jews are better educated and more able to take part in the government.

Israel is fortunate in having the able and astute Ben-Gurion as its leader in its formative years. There is no doubt of his continued influence on a fast growing and prospering Israel.

Tidelands Oil Measure Before Supreme Court

In 1953 Congress passed and President EISENHOWER signed the tidelands oil bill giving states the right to lands out to "historic boundaries."

All Gulf states claim oil and other resources in the Gulf of Mexico beyond the three mile limit. Texas says its historic boundaries are 10.5 miles off shore, while Alabama and Florida claim theirs are 21 miles out.

★ ★ ★

Despite President EISENHOWER'S championing of their cause the Justice Department is questioning that right. The Department argues that the United States recognizes the three mile limit as the international boundary and that states joining the Union had to accept Federal boundaries. Therefore, states cannot exploit resources beyond the three mile limit; otherwise they will be under Federal control.

★ ★ ★

If the Supreme Court rules that state ownership does extend beyond the three mile limit, it will raise an interesting question. Can states control international areas when international affairs are the sole prerogative of the Federal Government?

Oil or other resources beyond the recognized three mile limit should be used to benefit the whole country, not just a greedy segment of it.

European Nations Much Better Off Financially

Will wonders ever cease?
Expect the millenium.

★ ★ ★

The London Times has just suggested editorially that European nations start accepting less military subsidies from the United States and start paying a bigger share of their own bills. The British publication calls attention to the fact that these countries are better off financially than they were, and therefore, they have a financial obligation to shoulder a bigger share of their own burdens.

Glory be.

U. S. taxpayers will cheer.

★ ★ ★

Of course, there must be two more definite steps taken before this comes about. First, the nations themselves must endorse the idea. Secondly, the do-gooders in the U.S. must have these facts rammed into their stupid craniums so they will agree to cut down our "foreign aid."

★ ★ ★

Anyway, the poor suckers that foot the bills over here—the taxpayers — can have a momentary thrill and permit a pleased expression to cross their well lined faces.

The Man About Town

Saving the Trees

Many Being Cut in North Woods for Thinning Out

The beautiful: What some deluded poet called snow.

Following this column's story Thursday about Christmas trees, several phone calls have been received. They protest the "wanton slaughter" each year when thousands of trees are cut in excess of the market's demand. The surplus goes up in bonfires about Dec. 26.

However, this is not as serious a matter as it seems. Most of the trees from the northwoods are "thinners out," cut in order to give other trees a better chance to grow. Their harvest is regulated by the conservation officers, and most of them would be cut anyway.

On account of this trimming, many of these trees are not symmetrical, but are one sided and quite out of proportion. The best plan is to get a tree grown for the purpose.

Sunday's tie game between the Detroit Lions and Pittsburgh Steelers leaves seven entries remaining in our football contest. As nobody had predicted a tie, these carry over to next Saturday's game, on which they all favor Princeton, none picking Yale to win.

David Lawrence Says:

Steel Decision Boost to Economy

WASHINGTON — A "shot heard around the world" came from the judicial guns of the Supreme Court of the United States over the weekend. For the order to resume steel production in America is of worldwide importance.

LAWRENCE

It means that the American dollar will stand firm among the currencies of international exchange.

It means that the wage-price spiral which has threatened the economic future of the United States has at last felt a powerful force of restraint.

It means that an era of stability in industrial prices is at hand which makes it possible for foreign as well as domestic trade to be carried on with some degree of confidence.

It means that inflation has been checked. A sound dollar, of course, gives the treasury an opportunity to refinance its enormous debt at reasonable rates of interest.

Most Americans have not been aware of the far-reaching implications of the steel strike and the attention it has attracted abroad. Europeans have been nervously watching the battle, wondering if the whole price structure would become inflated still further and if steel would set a precedent for wage and price levels in many other industries in America.

The attitude of the customers of the steel companies throughout the United States has been especially significant. They have privately urged the steel companies to adhere to the position they have taken.

This was because buyers of steel foresaw possible increases in prices which would, in turn, force them to increase their own prices, and this might bring resistance by the general public to the purchase of fabricated products.

WORKERS OBJECT

Even among the workers many voices have been raised against the needless prolongation of the steel strike. This is because the union leadership mistakenly carried to the courts a case that was clearly a waste of time and thereby forfeited three weeks of wages which the union members would otherwise have received.

Indeed, the Supreme Court's decision by a vote of 8 to 1 was really no surprise. Even a layman like the writer predicted flatly a week ago in these dispatches the ruling the Supreme Court would surely make, based on previous precedents and decisions.

Certainly the Supreme Court now has emphasized that the Congress can deal legislatively with strikes, and thus the courts are duty bound to enforce by judicial order the will of the people's representatives in the national Legislature.

The decision does, to be sure, clarify some major points. It says that the Taft-Hartley Act is constitutional. It says that an injunction requiring an 80-day "cooling-off" period is but one of the many devices that Congress may put into effect constitutionally in dealing with labor troubles in an emergency or threatened emergency.

NEW LEGISLATION

Concerted action by labor has led to concerted action by management, and it seems clear now that the public at large — sometimes called "the party of the third part" —will make itself heard in favor of new legislation at the coming session of Congress, designed to break up monopolistic power in labor as it has in management.

This doesn't mean breaking up unions, but it could mean putting a brake on their hitherto unrestrained power to force prices up and inflate the dollar in total disregard of the interests of the people as a whole.

But, it will be argued, the strike isn't settled yet. A settlement will occur, however, before the 80-day injunction period has run its course. Some observers have thought that the steel union leaders would want to wait until a secret ballot is taken after 60 days, as provided by the Taft-Hartley law, to determine whether the workers wish to accept the final offer made by the employers.

If the controversy is to go that far without a final settlement, the companies are prepared to carry on a nationwide campaign of education to put their case before the public.

Even if the vote turns out to be for rejection, there might be recorded a substantial vote for acceptance. This would be damaging to the prestige of the leaders and too big a risk for them to take.

The Country Parson

"We make pessimists out of a lot of good optimists by behaving worse than they expected us to."

Dr. William Brady Says:

These Drugs Are Useless (Unpronounceable, Too)

Unless there is a serious gap in my knowledge of materia medica and pharmacodynamics, I can say without fear of contradiction, that not one of the bewildering array of synthetics, steroids or bacteriostatic agents has proved a cure for anything, and you can count on your thumbs the new medicines that merit the name of wonder drug. In fact, as I count 'em, one thumb is enough — Orinase is really wonderful, for two or three tablets a day, by mouth, unquestionably control diabetes in adults and relieve them of the onus of insulin injections.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

How Do You Rate as a Worker?

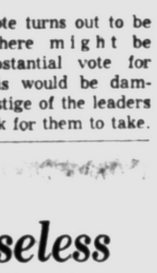

Joseph Sunnen is typical of business heads who now realize you can prevent a lot of labor trouble and inefficiency by the wise selection of workers at the very outset. You readers be the jury and mark your own answers to the questions below. In each case, one worker is definitely superior to the other.

By GEORGE W. CRANE

Case C-491: Joseph Sunnen, aged about 58, is a prominent manufacturer, as well as a staunch YMCA rooter, at St. Louis.

★ ★ ★

Recently he visited by Bible Class at the Chicago Temple, and we dined together afterwards.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," he began. "I have worked out a quick telephone technique by which I can weed out 75 per cent of the undesirables who want executive jobs with my company.

"For example, I tell about a couple of concrete cases and then ask them how they'd handle those actual problems.

★ ★ ★

"Obviously, this doesn't give them much time to think, as I realize, but I like to see how they will approach the problems.

"What else can an employer do to check on a prospective worker?"

TEST FOR EMPLOYES

Well, let's parry that question and let you readers vote. Assuming that other things are equal, which of the two men below will usually make the more reliable worker:

The married man or the bachelor?

The fellow who earned his own money by carrying a newspaper route during high school or the boy whose parents simply gave him an allowance?

The man who carries adequate life insurance or the improperly insured applicant?

The man who smokes or the non-smoker? The man who uses liquor or the teetotaler?

★ ★ ★

The man who is in hock to the short loan companies or the fellow who lives within his budget?

FROTHY OR STABLE?

Many people have frothy personalities whereas others are stable and reliable. Which of these men is usually more dependable?

The active church member or the non-church member?

The Sunday School teacher or the non-teacher? The Boy Scout or YMCA worker vs. the non-worker in such youth groups?

The home owner or the renter?

The parent vs. the non-parent?

The fellow who originally came from the farm or a city man?

★ ★ ★

The high school graduate vs. the non-graduate?

The oldest child vs. the middle (or youngest) child?

The divorced man or the one who is happily married?

The fellow who takes his recreation with his family vs. the one who runs off with his male cronies?

The former operator of a farm or other private business vs. the fellow who has always punched a time clock for a living?

The man who tells vulgar jokes vs. the one who does not?

★ ★ ★

The fellow who bets on the horses vs. the non-gambler?

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE

Anyone who has graduated from an accredited or large high school has usually proved his intelligence, without other expensive I. Q. tests.

So the answers to the questions above are then of tremendous value in weeding out the less efficient.

In each query cited, one man is generally superior to the other.

We psychologists have also found that the fast worker is actually more accurate than the slower worker, too, so the old doctrine about "slow but sure" is malarky.

Another Comments on Barn Party

I agree with Despondent Mother all the way. If no one was observed drunk, how could it be called a "teen-age binge?" I was at this party and if there was a lot of drinking, it must have been outside in the cars.

There are always those who'll try to act big and bring a bottle with them. Anyone who saw a lot of drinking must have had quite a few and were seeing double. And if drinking had been intended ahead of time, there sure wouldn't have been maps printed for the public or authorities to find out about it.

Maybe this exaggerated event will open the public's eye to show that if there were completely organized, chaperoned entertainment, teen-agers wouldn't have to plan their own parties and have them ruined by a few spoilers.

'Local Merchants Are Best Bet'

I can't imagine anyone being taken in on this carpet deal. Just like the first letter said, you pay $600 to $800 for carpeting you can buy in our own local stores for $300. I've checked the quality and price.

★ ★ ★

The so-called company says it will give you $50 for each customer that buys. This is their "advertising cost." Why don't they advertise in the local paper like all the other legitimate carpet stores?

★ ★ ★

I, for one, am sure glad I didn't get roped in on that easy money scheme.

Argentines Raid Armed Camp

Police Say Peronistas Had Planned Guerrilla Warfare Like Castro's

TUCUMAN, Argentina (AP)—A raid on an armed camp in the mountains, police say, has uncovered a plot by followers of Juan D. Peron for a Castro-type guerrilla campaign to restore the exiled dictator to power.

Three youths were captured in the raid Saturday on the completely outfitted, well-armed camp 6,000 feet up in the mountains near this trading center 665 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

★ ★ ★

The youths said they were recruited by a newly organized "National Peronista Recuperation Movement" which has plans to wage guerrilla warfare against the government of President Arturo Frondizi.

The police believe the youths were only guards, and that most of the conspirators escaped. They arrested several well-known admirers of Peron in Tucuman Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Peron's followers have been blamed for terrorist activity, but this was the first sign they might be preparing for guerrilla warfare. Peron was overthrown in September 1955. Now in exile in the Dominican Republic, he has proclaimed he will eventually come back.

Pro-Western President Re-Elected in Tunisia

TUNIS (AP) — The republic of Tunisia, a struggling North African nation the size of Louisiana, has enthusiastically renewed the mandate of pro-Western President Habib Bourguiba.

★ ★ ★

An estimated 93 per cent of the country's 1,099,577 registered voters cast ballots Sunday for Bourguiba, who was unopposed in Tunisia's first nationwide presidential election.

The Tunisians also elected a 90-man National Assembly made up entirely of members of Bourguiba's Neo Destour party. All 13 Communist candidates suffered crushing defeat.

STORY BOOK CHARACTERS — Something different in book fairs is being planned at the Hudson Covert School in Waterford Township. Story book characters will come to life at the school's fair Nov. 16-20. Here, "Little Bo-Peep" (Connie Pohlman) listens as Martha Frick reads from a book. Mark Fries, as "Curious George," is an interested bystander. Some 300 books in 10 categories will be on display for children in the kindergarten through the sixth grade.

Argonaut to Cost $26,000

Luxury Car Due in April

CLEVELAND (AP) — Argonaut Motor Machine Corp. has announced its plans to introduce the first of seven body styles in a new line of luxury cars for public sale next April.

Company officials say the initial line will be called the Argonaut "Smoke," with the sports model selling for about $26,000.

★ ★ ★

The "Smoke" body, first to reach production, was in the design for 14 months, exclusive of body engineering, the company said.

The Argonaut line later will include a sedan, convertible, hardtop coupe, formal coupe, limousine and another sports model.

Who will buy the high-priced "Smoke" and subsequent models?

The company says it is directed toward the person who prefers a "personal machine with a design integrity that will not be outmoded by fashion."

★ ★ ★

All models will be guaranteed for four years, the company said, and will be inspected semi-annually by an Argonaut engineer.

★ ★ ★

A feature of the first model in production is a cockpit canopy, which engineers claim was made necessary by aerodynamics and vision requirements.

Wheel disk covers are locked to the sheels by a flush brass bolt at the center point. The cockpit is finished in stainless steel, aluminum and leather.

The 7½-liter V-8 engine is hand-finished and precision balanced. Connecting rods, crankshafts and other components are machined over their entire surfaces.

Air Car Demonstrated; Rides Over Any Terrain

NEW YORK (AP) — A new wheel-less auto that can breeze over the roughest terrain was demonstrated before thousands in Rockefeller plaza Sunday.

The big square vehicle, the Curtiss-Wright model 2500 air car, moves about half a foot off the ground on a cushion of air sucked in through fans on the top and blown out through vents underneath.

Roy T. Hurley, president of Curtiss-Wright, said a smaller design of the model would go on the market for $6,000.

Average Cuban Takes Turmoil in His Stride

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP)—Weaned on political turmoil over the last half century, the average Cuban appears to be taking the present unrest in stride.

Jails are filled with "counter-revolutionaries" awaiting trial or investigation.

The atmosphere is thick as pro-government radio commentators spew anti-Americanism and hate for vested interests, for imperialist exploiters, for the large landholder.

★ ★ ★

Military tribunals and their firing squads have been restored.

But like a cork at sea, the average Cuban seems to sail well through storm and calm.

Movie houses are filled. Dance halls do a brisk business. The seawall drive is crowded every night by Cubans seeking respite from heat. Attending them is any army of peddlers of coffee and refreshments.

The casino belt and luxury hotels are hurting, but Joe Cuban doesn't go there anyway. He can be found in the East Havana bistros, dark, gay and jumpy. The city's two biggest department stores report "business slightly better than last year."

★ ★ ★

By official estimate, some 700,000 Cubans are unemployed, nearly half of them chronically jobless. Private capital investment is virtually nonexistent. A decline in dollar and gold reserves has resulted in sharp restrictions on imports.

But today, when he isn't cheering Fidel Castro at some public demonstration or looking at him on television, the average Cuban is cheering his favorite baseball club. An overflow crowd at the 30,000-seat Gran Stadium cheered the Havana Sugar Kings' triumph over Minneapolis in the Little World Series.

Daring Divers Will Seek to Move Lethal Gas Shells

KIEL, Germany (AP) — A handful of daring men are donning diver's suits, adjusting helmets and descending to the bottom of the Baltic Sea these days for a deadly job — retrieving 80,000 German nerve gas shells.

The lethal projectiles were dumped at the entrance of Kiel Harbor by British Occupation authorities after World War II.

They contain tabun gas, which Hitler's Chemists discovered while developing an insecticide. Minute amounts can paralyze the central nerve system and kill a human within minutes.

Recently it was found that the salt water had eaten into aluminum fuses, creating the danger of a giant underwater blast.

Such an explosion could kill fish and endanger humans near contaminated waters.

Divers descend to the cold, dark waters and carefully pack the projectiles into steel baskets. These are hauled into a ship and masked workers in heavy rubber suits pack the shells into concrete-filled steel barrels. These barrels are to be taken into the North Sea and dumped into great depths.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles". It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without suggery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as *Preparation H. Ask for Preparation H suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Absolute satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Would Have Final Say

Proposes Labor Court to Spare Nation Strikes

WASHINGTON (UP) — A powerful new court to settle nationwide labor disputes before they can lead to costly strikes like the steel walkout was proposed Saturday by Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla).

Smathers suggested five members for this court, which he would designate the United States Court of Labor-Management Relations.

Such a court, he said in a statement, would have jurisdiction over all national industries and would be used when collective bargaining reached an impasse.

"It would be in the nature of a Supreme Court on labor-management relations, whose findings and judgments would be final and binding on both parties—a court of last resort in this field—so to speak," he said.

★ ★ ★

Members of the court would be selected in the same way as other judicial appointments are made. Nominations would be made by the President, subject to approval by the Senate. Cases would be exclusively labor-management.

The proposed court's authority should come into play, he said, when it becomes obvious that a collective bargaining impasse has been reached.

He said either side should have the right to call in the court to end the deadlock. The five judges then would hear the testimony and hand down a decision from which there would be no appeal.

★ ★ ★

Somewhat similar proposals have been advanced before, and have run into heated criticism. Opponents contend the issues are too complex in a free economy. Some Latin American and European countries do have labor courts.

The critics say among other things a settlement invariably must raise the question of price fixing, and that price fixing except in wartime is repugnant to the American way. They also speak of political pressures to which such a court might be subjected.

Smathers, however, said the public is entitled to the protection he believes his plan would provide, and that both employers and employes would benefit.

No Relief Seen for Auto Industry

GM Doesn't Plan to Call 200,000 Workers Back to Jobs Yet

DETROIT (UP) — The auto industry, with more than 250,000 of its workers idled by a steel shortage, expected little immediate relief from Saturday's Supreme Court decision which will send the nation's steelworkers back to their jobs.

General Motors, hardest hit by the 115-day strike, said it plans no immediate recall of some 200,000 workers who have been idled by the strike.

GM spokesmen said the company would await further developments before making a statement regarding future production schedules.

Ford which produces 50 per cent of its own steel, also said it planned no immediate production changes. Some 50,000 Ford workers have been idled as dwindling steel stocks hit suppliers.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler said it plans normal production into the second half of November. But company officials said it appears likely Chrysler's steel supplies will run out before the nation's steel mills can make new deliveries.

Chrysler said it has been told it will take four to six weeks of full steel production before it can expect normal deliveries.

Interest Mounts When He Sees Car Burning

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP) — County investigator Sherman Wagoner was inside a garage chatting when a man entered and asked for a fire extinguisher, explaining a car outside was burning.

Wagoner walked out to watch the excitement. His walk increased to a run when he saw that the burning vehicle was his own. Damage was slight.

Studies Quizzes at Ike's Behest

Justice Department Is Seeking Solution to TV Deceptive Practices

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — U.S. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said Saturday his department is making a study of the television quiz show scandal at the request of President Eisenhower.

"Our study will deal not only with TV programs but the general problem of deceptive practices in TV and what can be done about it," said Rogers, here for a vacation.

He said the investigation had not yet reached the point where any definite solutions had been proposed.

"I saw the heads of NBC and CBS before coming to Florida, he said, "And also have seen the head of ABC, though the latter network has no quiz shows.

★ ★ ★

"I also expect to confer with the Federal Trade Commission which policies fraudulent practices and the Federal Communications Commission which has charge of licensing programs."

He said the department will have a report on the investigation ready for the President "before the first of the year."

He said he hoped the government would be able to rely on voluntary action in handling the situation.

★ ★ ★

"Everyone recognizes the necessity of not only preventing a repetition of this sort of thing but the necessity of preventing misleading advertising in general. We hope that such corrective action as may be taken will be taken by the networks themselves."

City Lions Club Uses 'Mr. X' to Boost Attendance

The Pontiac Lions Club has come up with an idea to boost attendance at its weekly luncheon meetings at the Waldron Hotel.

★ ★ ★

Each Wednesday, when the club meets, one member is secretly designated as "Mr. X" and some lucky member who shakes his hand will win a dollar.

The idea is to make the rounds and shake hands with all fellow members. Mr. X picks a number at random before the meeting.

If he chooses 10 and you're the 10th man to shake his hand, the dollar is yours.

★ ★ ★

The winner each week is announced after lunch.

The addition of "mystery" to Lion luncheons is paying off in rising attendance and plenty of friendly handshakes, according to Art Selden, publicity chairman.

This Wednesday's meeting will feature a special Armistice Day program by Lions Ralph Carr and Raymond McDonald.

Frisco Mayor's Election Cheered by Khrushchev

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —Mayor George Christopher got the usual batch of congratulatory messages last week — including one from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

In his cablegram, Khrushchev, who endorsed Christopher for re-election when he was here in September, said:

". . . Had I been a citizen of your beautiful city I would undoubtedly have voted for you. I am very glad that my opinion coincided with that of the citizens of San Francisco."

6-Cylinder Comes Back as 'Burial Date' Nears

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT—The six-cylinder engine, once scheduled for oblivion by 1962, is making a comeback that would warm the cockles of any old vaudevilian's heart.

Not too many years ago the auto industry was openly discussing plans to convert all automobiles to V8 engines for 1962.

But the current resurgence of popularity of the economical workhorse has led Chrysler Corp. to invest thousands of dollars to design a completely new six-cylinder engine.

The new slanted six is the first major revision in the design of a six-cylinder engine since 1952, when Ford brought out the short-stroke six, and only the fourth major change since Chevrplet first pioneered the basic design of the engine back in 1929.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler's work on the new six-cylinder engine shows that company's confidence in the future of six-cylinder power plants. In effect Chrysler is betting thousands of dollars that the current trend towards sixes will continue for quite a while in the future.

Although the new slant six was designed specifically for Chrysler's new Valiant, Alan G. Loofbourrow, director of engineering, said it was designed so it could be used in the company's larger cars too.

Loofbourrow said the slant six weighs almost 100 pounds more than the engines on the other economy cars, largely because it was built with the future in mind.

He said the drive shaft of the slant six, for example, is almost twice as thick as that of the Ford Falcon engine.

★ ★ ★

Because of the added sturdiness built into the slant six, it can be pored out to develop up to 175 horsepower for use in the bigger cars.

No Negotiations Set in Boston News Strike

BOSTON (UPI) — The apparent absence of any effort to reopen negotiations in the four-day-old Boston newspaper strike prompted fears today that it might last longer than the 21-day walkout in 1957.

Publishers of the newspapers and the striking union printers said they made no effort to contact each other over the weekend. Neither had any statement on the status of the dispute.

Mother Loses Four Children as Home Burns

GOULD, Ark. (AP)—A stunned Negro mother of 12 stood in a dirt street and pointed toward the charred remains of her two-room frame shack.

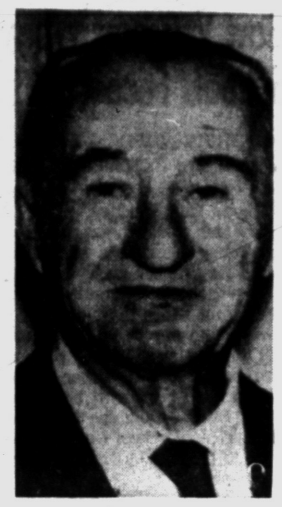

"Right there," she whispered tearfully Sunday night. "Right there inside that door is where my children died."

Four of her 12 children died in the roaring flames that consumed the building in eight minutes. The mother, Mattie Lacy, 35, was away at a nearby grocery. Her common-law husband, Lucious Williams, 39, was in an outbuilding, authorities said. The cause of the fire was unknown.

The woman's mother, Nancy Lacy, 65, who lives nearby, picked up two other children and threw them into the yard as flames licked her face. She was walking by the house when she saw the fire.

"I was reaching for Brenda Faye," Mrs. Lacy said. "I almost had her hand. Then the fire just beat her down."

Will Offer Bill Requiring Secret Ballot on Strikes

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A bill to require secret ballot voting by union members before all strikes will be introduced in Congress next session by Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz).

Goldwater, in making the announcement, said he had not introduced the bill before because he did not think it would pass, but now believes "the temper of the steelworkers and their wives is such that it would have a good chance of passing."

Sylvan Lake City Manager David E. Firestone announced today that the night of the November City Council meeting has been changed to Thursday.

The meeting, which usually falls on the second Wednesday of each month, will be held Thursday due to Veterans Day, Wednesday, a national holiday, he explained.

The meeting begins at the regular time, 8 p.m., in the city hall, and the major order of business will be reorganization of the council.

Councilmen will elect a mayor and mayor pro-tem. The terms of Mayor William B. Taylor and Mayor Pro-Tem Anthony Kreps have expired.

Russian Delegation Sees Fermi A-Plant

MONROE (AP) — Nine Russians, headed by Soviet Administrator for Utilization of Atomic Energy V. S. Emelyanov, toured the Enrico Fermi atomic power plant at nearby Lagoona Beach Friday.

The Russian officials are on an information exchange tour of United States atomic installations devoted to the peaceful use of nuclear energy.

A group of American scientists headed by John A. McCone, Atomic Energy Commission chairman, recently toured similar installations in Russia. McCone accompanied Emelyanov on the Fermi inspection trip.

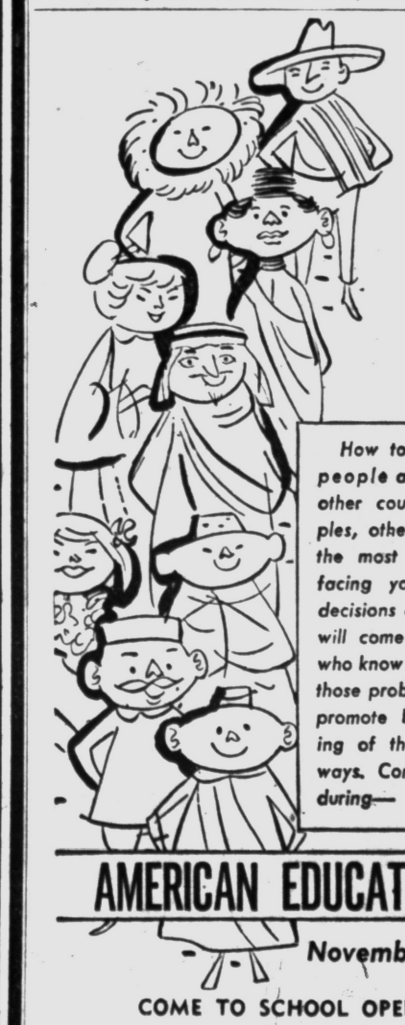

Emelyanov and his party were met by officials of Detroit Edison Co. for the tour of the Fermi installation.

The Russian scientists said the U.S.S.R. had some small experimental breeder reactors but none of the size of the Enrico Fermi with its rated capacity of 100,000 kilowatts.

Both McCone and Emelyanov expressed hope that further development of atomic power for peacetime use by both Russia and the United States may aid in thawing the cold war.

Gov. Williams Warns Schools Face Chaos

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan schools face "40 million dollars worth of chaos," Gov. G. Mennen Williams said Sunday.

Williams made the statement at the Young Democrats annual Williams Day dinner here.

"Our schools will suffer a setback from which they may not recover in years," Williams said. "In some places it might jeopardize school credit. Other schools will have to borrow at bulging interest rates — and the terrifically high price of school financing will have to be paid by local property-tax payers."

Their 'Great Day' Almost Here

Now They Call Edyie Mrs. Lawrence

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme, ordinarily a couple of sweet and cooperative kids, are about to contribute their share to the world's problems. Specifically, to add to the burgeoning overpopulation crisis.

As Eydie puts it, "I have a weight problem at the moment, had you noticed?"

As Steve puts it, "But I like her this way. She's funnier than Phil Silvers."

Eydie: "Being pregnant is fun. If there's a line outside the ladies' room at the theater, they let you through right away. I may just buy maternity clothes and wear them the rest of my life—for privileges."

Steve: "And they call her 'Mrs. Lawrence' now, instead of 'Miss Gorme.' That in itself is a tremendous compliment."

This little glimpse into the secret life of a pair of famous newlyweds ("Not that new, for gosh sakes," reminds Steve) is by way of celebrating Mother's Day.

STEVE LAWRENCE EYDIE GORME

Mother's Day, of course, is not till next spring but Eydie, being in her eighth month, can't wait. And what's more, she has some explaining to do about the television show they are doing for this coming Thanksgiving Day.

★ ★ ★

The show, called "The Golden Circle," will be presented as an ABC spectacular. It was taped four months ago, when the little lady singer from the Bronx was neither obviously "expecting," nor still her sylph-like self.

'LET HERSELF GO'

"I was at the stage," she says, "where people looking in at me would say, 'Tsk, tsk, she's let herself go.' "

"Nonsense," grinned her baritone from Brooklyn, "people will just say, 'My, she's a fat little singer, isn't she?' "

★ ★ ★

Anyway, besides wanting to go on record as saying she hasn't let herself go and become a dumpy housewife, Eydie is worried about the way Steve may look on the show.

"He was so sympathetic—because I really was sick through much of the taping—that his face blew up like the moon. One eye was so swollen, it was almost completely closed." Looks like Eydie might have thrown him one.

"Actually," Steve interrupted pleasantly, "it's a sort of musical horror show."

He explained that the music was great, the guest stars terrific, the production fabulous. But the Lawrences just don't want people getting the impression that they are exchanging blows or eating candy all day.

★ ★ ★

In reality, since they were married in late December 1957, the young singers (both 24) are the most devoted of couples. They don't have to say it. It shows in their banter. And, if you don't go for banter, look at their eyes.

LIVE IN D.C.

Steve currently is earning $78 a month in the Army, and they have an apartment in Washington, D.C., 20 minutes by used car—"badly used, too"—from his post.

Some people, who were television stars just hitting their peak when the Army said cummon, might wish they'd never been called to serve. But the Lawrences are patriotic enough—and in love enough—to think it's great.

"On our honeymoon," Eydie says, "I was in California at the Cocoanut Grove, and Stevie was in Havana. The next year, the same thing. We embraced, occasionally, at airports in passing." She grinned.

"Now we're together, really for the first time—in peacetime service and pregnancy."

I hail them both.

Lawyer Seeks to Quell Judges' Intemperate Ire

CHICAGO (UPI) — John D. Randall, president of the American Bar Assn., has suggested that machinery be created to deal with discourteous or ill-tempered judges.

Randall, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, said at an Illinois Bar Assn. dinner last night that only impeachment on grave charges is provided in existing statutes.

"I propose that in each state a commission of elder statesmen be established," he said, "chosen perhaps from retired judges.

"It would be the function of this committee to hear, in secret, the complaint of an attorney who felt that he had been treated discourteously or unfaily by a judge while trying a case," Randall said.

★ ★ ★

"The commission, after hearing the evidence," he said, "would be empowered to discuss the matter with the judge, perhaps admonish him, and suggest improvements in the manner in which he conducts the court."

Plan to Transfer Accreditation

September 1961 Set for Switch to State Unit From U. of M.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A target date of September 1961 has been set for transfer of high school accreditation activities from the University of Michigan to the State Department of Public Instruction.

University Vice President James A. Lewis and State Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn Bartlett spelled out purposes of the plan following an all-day meeting of representatives of 21 education groups.

★ ★ ★

Bartlett said the transfer would be made only if funds are provided his department to handle the new function. He listed the aims of accreditation as follows:

To certify that accredited schools maintain minimum standards for excellence; to assist and encourage schools in maintaining increasingly higher standards of education; to provide assistance to schools for effective self-evaluation and self-improvement; and to offer evaluation service and consultative assistance to schools.

The program would cover both public and nonpublic schools, but would remain entirely voluntary in nature. Part of the cost of the program would be borne by participating schools.

ASKS ADVICE

Bartlett said he has requested advice from the state attorney general on the legality of spending public funds on a program which includes both public and nonpublic schools.

He said 45 other states now operate under a similar system and no major legal question appears to be involved.

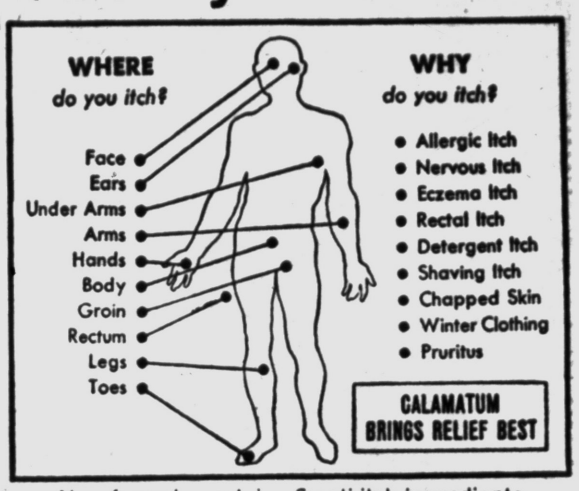

A 45-member interim committee, which will represent all interested educational groups, will be selected to work out details of the transfer, Bartlett said.

★ ★ ★

Lewis said the transfer would not have a major impact on the university's bureau of school services, which serves as the school's accrediting unit.

Michigan was the first state to permit women to serve as jurors. The legislation was enacted in 1915. The legislatures of Maine and Utah followed the example shortly after.

How long can they keep the home fires burning?

The average insured family has $11,000 worth of Life insurance. That seems to be a lot of money. It is.

But for the average family, $11,000 is less than two years' income. And think how much of your pay today goes for food, clothes, schooling and rent or mortgage payments.

How about your family? Just how long could your wife and children make out if left with the protection you have provided for them?

Divide your Life insurance by your monthly income and estimate how long it would last. How long can they keep the home fires burning?

It surprises most people to learn how much protection they can have and afford, when a tailor-made plan is worked out by a man trained to help families do the most practical kind of financial planning.

Your Metropolitan Man can chart and leave with you, such a plan. It will take into account not only your Life insurance, but your other assets—such as Social Security and the various forms of savings. And it will cover the particular needs and circumstances of your own family. It will give you a clear picture of the kind of financial security program that makes the most for you. Sculptress Is Town Hall Speaker

Chapters Celebrate Birthday

Two Delta Kappa Gamma Groups Have Luncheon

The Alpha Beta and Alpha Gamma chapters of Delta Kappa Gamma Society celebrated their annual birthday luncheon at Devon Gables Saturday with Alpha Beta members as hostesses.

Dr. Chandos Reid, assistant superintendent of Waterford Schools, spoke on the subject "Education for Tomorrow."

Formerly affiliated with Columbia University and the Horace Mann Lincoln Institute, Dr. Reid received her B.A. Degree from the University of Colorado and Ph.D from Northwestern University.

★ ★ ★

She has served as teacher, supervisor, consultant, curriculum coordinator and cooperative researcher in public school programs.

Acting as cochairmen for the luncheon were Mrs. Clare Hubbell and Mrs. Elsie Welch, assisted by Catherine Hartman, Mrs. John D. Kent, Mrs. Thaddeus Palmer, and Mrs. Cecil Myers.

★ ★ ★

Mildred Hobbs, president of the Alpha Beta chapter welcomed the guests and introduced the past presidents of both chapters.

FIORE DE HENRIQUEZ

Young British Artist Has Prolific Talent

Fiore de Henriquez, noted sculptress, will be the Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall series speaker Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

A woman of outstanding artistic energy, she has modeled more than 3,000 people, many of them of international prominence, in the past eight years.

Names of those who have sat for her include Sir Laurence Olivier, Igor Stravinsky, Noel Coward, Peter Ustinov, the Duke of Bedford and Vivien Leigh.

"I'm in Love With Clay" will be her topic. As she works on the stage, she will speak of the place of sculpture in modern life and how it can help to relieve tension or deepen joy in being alive.

★ ★ ★

The program will begin at 10:30 a.m. at the Oakland Theater.

Miss De Henriquez was born in Trieste of a Spanish father and a Central European mother. Her father's family traces its descent from the first king of Portugal.

She discovered she "was in love with clay" when she saw students in Venice modeling clay figures at the Academy of Fine Arts. That was it! She took some of the clay in her hands and started molding a small figure. Her creative output has not stopped since that moment.

★ ★ ★

She began her studies under the Italian sculptor Arturo Martini who taught her to be an artist, not merely a sculptress. After his death she went to the Dolomites where for three years she learned to work with wood.

ARRIVES IN FLORENCE

Feeling that she still had much to learn, Miss De Henriquez arrived in Florence just as the war was ending. A few photographs of her work tied in a red kerchief, she presented herself to Antonio Berti, master of marble and stone. She became his assistant and served a long apprenticeship.

★ ★ ★

Her first show was given in Florence and she sold all 70 pieces of sculpture in the show.

Moving to southern Italy where "I knew my Spanish blood would find the right environment," Miss De Henriquez won a competition for a statue of an Italian benefactor to be placed in the public square at Salerno. A week after the statue was dedicated, fellow students dynamited it because they could not tolerate a woman winning over them. She left Italy then and went to London, arriving almost penniless and unable to speak English.

ACCEPTED IN ENGLAND

The atmosphere for sculpture was right, however. Jacob Epstein and Henry Moore were much in vogue and the English accepted the young sculptress immediately.

Fiore de Henriquez has since become a British citizen and has had three exhibitions at the Royal Academy. She was commissioned to do the fountains at Cliveden, sculpture in Lord Ridley's private park and a statue of Sir Walter Raleigh to be placed in Trafalger Square.

This blackhaired artist with the glowing dark eyes and a ready laugh says meeting Augustus John, the English painter, was "the greatest moment of her life."

"From him I learned what genius is and what happens to your heart and soul when you create."

He was so impressed with the bust the sculptress did of him that at the age of 74 he began to study under her tutelage.

★ ★ ★

Miss de Henriquez came to America for the first time about five years ago under the patronage of Huntington Hartford who commissioned her to design a museum for him. Exhibitions of her work have been held in Rome, Naples, Milan, Venice, London, New York and many other cities in the U. S.

Go Lightly on Snacks at Bedtime

Going to bed on an empty stomach may prevent a person from easily falling off to sleep, according to some theories on the subject.

But eating too much before retiring can have an equal effect. The happy medium for a solution for this calls for bedtime snacks that are nutritious, but not too filling. Soothing snacks such as milk, puddings, cocoa and the like are generally helpful in bringing on a contented feeling so helpful to falling off to sleep.

There are some people who go for a stimulating cup of coffee to give them the proper mood for a good night's rest.

Whatever a person eats before retiring, however, is not as important to sleep as the mattress and springs on which the person rests.

Milady Will Look Sensible Again

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—Enter the Sexy 60s.

Buyers converge on New York this week from all sections of the country to order the clothes that American women will wear next spring.

★ ★ ★

As more than 3,000 dress, suit and coat manufacturers opened their spring showings, it became evident that fashions of 1960 will accentuate the feminine.

Natural curves, soft lines, featherlight fabrics and a ladylike look, are highlights of the new spring fashions. Women will look like women, in flattering clothes that avoid the grotesque, the bizarre and the shocking.

New shoulder width is the most pronounced general trend in the spring silhouette. This is achieved in many ways — by wide cape collars, wide sleeves, deep armholes, kimono and dolman cuts.

With the width at the top, the slender skirt is prescribed by most designers for daytime wear. But skirts are likely to have soft fullness at the top to give hip room, tapering toward the hemline.

★ ★ ★

Leading colors for spring will be black and white, pale beige and gray tones and, of course, navy. After the bright colors of winter fashions, the tendency is to go neutral next spring.

Of 3,943 manufacturers of women's coats and suits, dresses, blouses and sportswear in New York, 37 are members of the couture group of the New York dress institute, an organization which was formed in the early years of World War II to spread the name and fame of New York fashions.

★ ★ ★

This group sponsors a semi-annual National Press Week, during which members of the nation's fashion press are invited to come to New York and view the spring and fall fashion collections of the couture group.

The Press Week showings usually are held about two months after the buyer showings. For instance, the fashion press will view 1960 spring showings of the couture group next January.

Fabrics are airy, checks are important and the white town coat emerges as an important spring fashion.

★ ★ ★

The general picture of spring fashions for 1960 is one which should encourage American women to look thier best, in feminine, flattering clothes carefully geared to suit their busy lives.

★ ★ ★

Fashion is tagged by decades. We have had The Roaring 20s, The Depressed 30s, The Militant 40s, The Fabulous 50s — and now come The Sexy 60s.

Joanne Olsen Married in Double-Ring Rite

Joanne Catherine Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Olsen of Euclid avenue, married Dennis E. Hetchler, son of Mrs. Fred Hetchler of Melrose avenue and Fred Hetchler of Ohio, Saturday evening.

The Rev. Gerald Rapelje performed the double-ring ceremoney at Memorial Baptist Church.

★ ★ ★

The bride wore a floor-length gown of taffeta with a fitted bodice and a basque waistline trimmed with lace and iridescent sequins. A lace cap trimmed with seed pearls held her fingertip veil of silk illusion, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses centered with spider chrysanthemums.

★ ★ ★

Janet Marie Olsen, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of turquoise net over taffeta with a turquoise feather headpiece and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and bronze chrysanthemums.

Jill Olsen, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. She wore a gown of white nylon over satin with a satin cap trimmed with seed pearls and a veil. She carried a bouquet of baby chrysanthemums and pink rosebuds.

★ ★ ★

Jerry Olsen of Waterford, cousin of the bride, was best man. Joseph Falls of Waterford and Ronald Jones of Pontiac were ushers. Robert Olsen, another cousin of the bride, was junior groomsman.

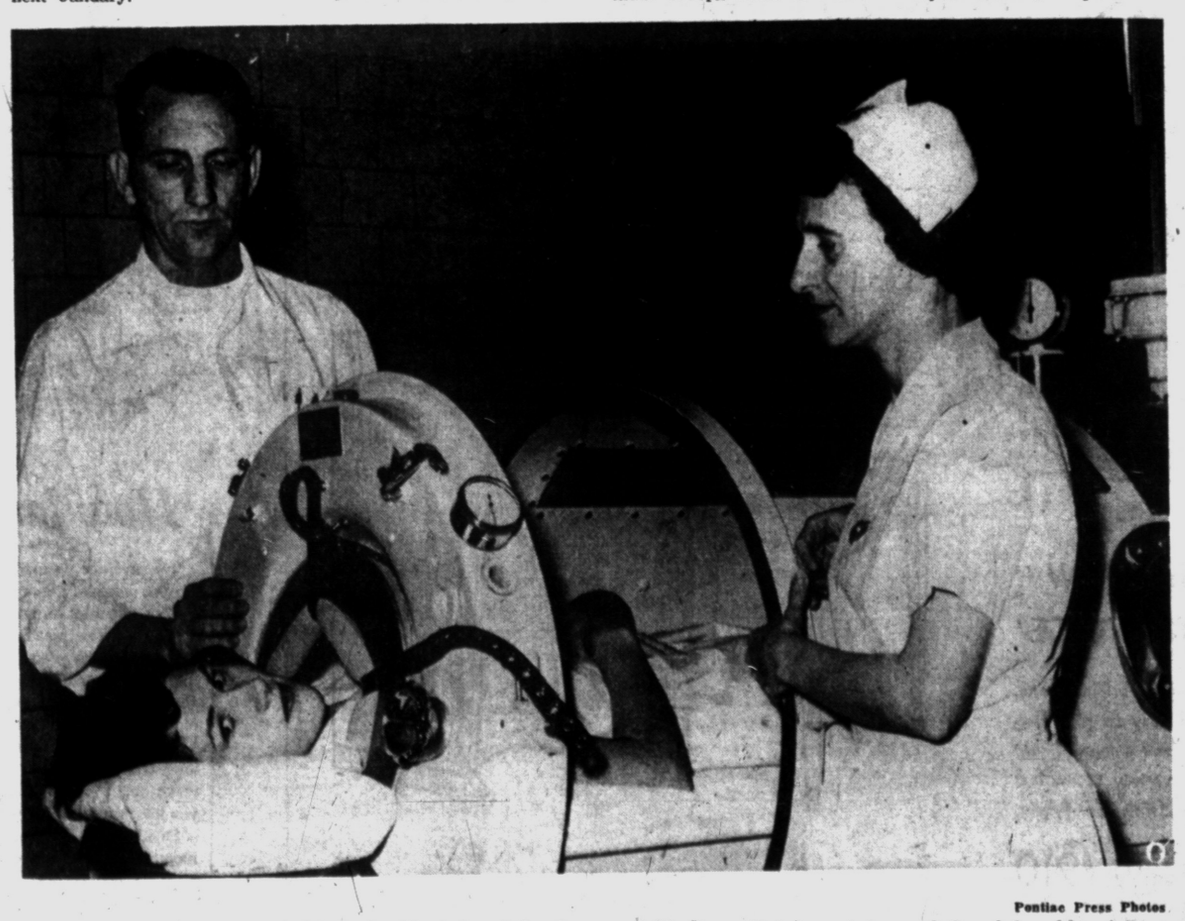

MRS. DENNIS HETCHLER

Mrs. Olsen chose a Kelly green dress with brown accessories for her daughter's wedding and wore a corsage of yellow roses and bronze crysanthemums.

Mrs. Hetchler wore a sky blue dress with black accessories with a corsage of white crysanthemums and pink roses.

Pontiac Press Photos

What Do You Think, Teen-Agers?

Bad Influence, Not Marriage May Justify Booting Student

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am writing this for all the girls in our high school because we all feel the same way about it. One of our 16-year-old junior girls ran away and married a 17-year-old senior boy. They had to announce it because she is having a baby pretty soon.

ABBY

Both the boy and the girl are still going to school here. We think the boy should be allowed to go to school. But not the girl. She brags about what she fixes Gary for breakfast and talks about things that only married women should talk about. We think married women don't fit into high school. Are we wrong in wanting to have her expelled?

Please answer in the paper as we'd like the opinions of other teenagers on this subject. Thank you.

GIRLS OF SOUTH HIGH

DEAR GIRLS: A student who is an unwholesome influence on other students does not belong in a public school. But to expel a girl simply because she is married is unfair and unlawful. Tell your parents how you feel and why. And ask them to take it up with the Board of Education. I welcome the opinions of teenagers, parents and educators.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am no silly kid. I am 32 years old and am old enough to know better than to be in a fix like this, but here's my problem:

Henry got me in a family way. I told him about it and he said he would marry me. He was unemployed at the time so I bought myself a set of rings on contract because I wanted everything first-class. I paid $20 down and made three payments of $2 each. Then I had a miscarriage. Henry says there is no sense in marrying me now. I am stuck with no husband and no baby and a set of rings I can't use. Can you tell me what to do?

VIOLET

DEAR VIOLET: You are well rid of a man who would marry you only if he had to. Ask the jeweler if he will take the rings back. (You will have to stand some loss.) Under the circumstances I think you came out ahead. And by the way, you need one.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend (he is 17) is going on a weekend hunting trip with his parents and he has asked me to go along. My mother said I couldn't go unless HIS mother called her up and told her what it was all about. I am dying to go, but I feel foolish asking my boyfriend to have HIS mother call MY mother. What should I do?

JANET

DEAR JANET: If your mother feels that the invitation should come through HIS mother, then trust her judgment and tell your boyfriend that these are the only conditions under which you can accept. If he's the right kind of boy, he'll understand. If he isn't, YOU can go hunting, too — for another boyfriend.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO KENNETH: For goodness sake, a 30-year-old man should be "dating." Hurry up. By the time you learn the game you'll be too old to make the team.

★ ★ ★

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Organize Club of GOP Women

Thirty Republican women met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Jean S. Greene in Birmingham.

Mrs. Greene is temporary chairman of the group which is making final plans for formation of the Birmingham-Troy Republican Women's Club.

Mrs. Allen A. Strom was chairman in the absence of Mrs. Greene. Mrs. Franklin Butler and Mrs. Clement Penrose were hostesses.

The group adopted a constitution and set Dec. 3 for their next meeting. Election of officers will be held.

The meeting will start at 10 a.m. at Showcase, Inc., in Birmingham and a nursery room will be provided for preschool children.

Republican women are asked to contact Mrs. Greene of Lake Park drive for further information.

Linen Shower Thursday Fetes Future Bride

Linda Lou Lankford, bride-elect of Douglas Brown of Going street, was feted at a linen shower Thursday evening. Sandra Arnold of Going street was hostess.

Guests included Patricia Smith, Delores Culvier, Joyce Mapley and Gwendolyn Hovis.

Others were Mrs. Porter McGinnis, Mrs. Henry Maery, Mrs. Eldon Montross, Mrs. Norman Hovis, Mrs. Harold Crawford, Mrs. James Hefner and Mrs. Noah Hefner.

Mrs. Edward Lankford, Mrs. Cecil Lankford, Mrs. Lon Brown and Mrs. Oliver Arnold completed the guest list.

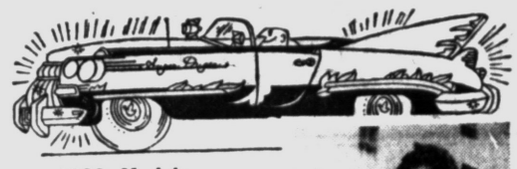

For an autumn evening, there's a satin clutch bag with outside eyeglass compartment. It's a clever idea, as gals who wear specs will recognize. Comes in colors of black, royal blue and mink.

Get Out of Rut

Why Should One Be Bored?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Here's a riddle for you. Want to see if you can guess it?

What is it that makes one feel tired all over, that settles down on one like a fog, that makes daily duties difficult and new adventures and accomplishments impossible? What is it that makes facial contour sag habitually, that makes everything seem not worthwhile, that causes eager interests to wane and usually leads to drooping posture?

Have you guessed it? BOREDOM! Boredom can throw a pall over your life and all of your relationships. It kills enthusiasm and perception. It makes you dull to others. It acts as a wet blanket on the fire of your vitality and theirs. I think boredom ruins more happiness than any other mental or emotional characteristic.

DON'T REALIZE IT

Lots of folks are bored and do not realize it or admit it to themselves. They take the day by day and year by year routine for granted, with no new interests added. They don't know what is wrong with them. The doctor finds nothing amiss physically. These folks just know that they are not very happy and are tired most of the time.

Boredom can affect more than our happiness. It can affect our health and our complexion. Our emotions have a direct effect on our glandular system, our rate of metabolism, heart beat and respiration. They also affect our blood pressure dramatically. They may even have an influence on hardening of the arteries. Our emotions can play a part in everything from a stroke to a skin rash.

Certainly if you are bored you should do something about it. I believe that there are more bored women than men because so many of them do not have the variety in their contacts and experiences which men have.

When we think of all of the things which need doing in the world, of all the people it is possible to know, the books waiting to be read, the music waiting to be listened to, and the funny and interesting things which happen all the time, it is difficult at first thought to see how anyone could be bored.

However, this state of mind and emotion can creep up on one because it happens very subtly. Folks gradually get caught in ruts without planning to do so. Only when looking back after a long time do they realize how limited their outlook and activities have been.

If you are bored, get some activity or interest into which you can throw your heart and mind with enthusiasm and you probably will find that the skies are bluer and you are happier. I feel sure that you also will find your energy zooming!

Friends Can Back Out of Yearly Visit

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Ever since I moved out to the suburbs (five years ago) I have invited a friend and her husband to come out and spend the Labor Day weekend with us. They always accepted in the past and we have always had a very enjoyable weekend. It was more or less a standing invitation.

"This year I wrote to my friend as usual and said that we were looking forward to having them spend the weekend with us. I received a telephone call from her a few days later saying that they would not be coming out this year; that they had accepted an invitation to stay with other friends.

"I was very hurt over this and felt that she was most discourteous to us. I would very much like to know what you think about this."

Answer: Your friend was not discourteous to you any more than you would have been discourteous to her had you decided not to invite her this year. Just because friends do the same thing together for four or five years in succession does not mean that they must continue doing it for the rest of their lives.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine has just recently been divorced and given the right to use her maidenname. When writing to her, do I address her as Mrs. Maidenname or Miss Maidenname? I have been told that I should address her as Miss, but in my opinion this would be wrong as she has two children. Will you please tell me what is proper?"

Answer: You should address her as Mrs.

Why the Visit to Afghanistan?

Ike's Stopover Aimed at Regaining Ground Lost to Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower's brief visit to Afghanistan next month is designed to help the United States regain some of the ground lost to Russia in that sensitive area.

★ ★ ★

Officials regard Afghanistan, which lies across the historic invasion route to India and Southeast Asia, as an outstanding example of Communist probing operations along the Soviet Union's southern periphery.

Although this country has provided Afghanistan with about 140 million dollars in aid over the past 13 years, Russia appears to be somewhat ahead in the vital battle of dollars versus rubles.

The Soviet successes are due mainly to their somewhat specular trade and aid drive during the past five years.

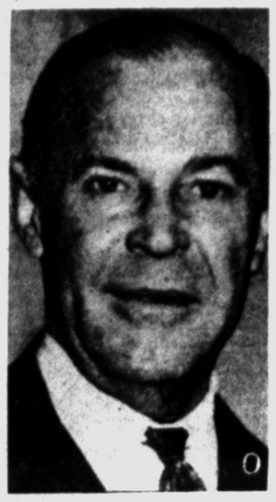

Nearly half of Afghanistan's trade is with Russia under long-term barter deals, compared with about 18 per cent in 1955.

King Mohammad Zahir still hopes to preserve the precarious neutrality of his strategic nation, however. He was said to be elated by Eisenhower's decision to stop briefly in the capital city of Kabul while en route from Pakistan to India.

The President's decision to include Afghanistan on his spectacular nine-country tour next month came as something of a surprise when first announced.

★ ★ ★

But diplomats said it may be one of the most important stops of the trip.

ENVOY TO BONN — Veteran career diplomat Walter C. Dowling has been named U. S. ambassador to West Germany by President Eisenhower. He is presently serving as assistant secretary of state and has been in the diplomatic service for the past 28 years. He succeeds David K. E. Bruce.

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev says Americans are beginning to understand Russians and this is easing the cold war.

★ ★ ★

"Some Americans say the only competition between us in the future will be economic, and I agree," he told reporters at a Kremlin party Saturday night celebrating the 42nd anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

The Soviet leader was in a relaxed mood and looked in good health after his travels to the United States, Red China and Romania.

Dr. Grayson Kirk, Columbia president, said Sunday the exchange will allow visiting professors to observe research at host schools, engage in research of their own, participate in seminars and conferences, and teach.

Airlines, Wayne Officials Will Discuss Transfer

DETROIT (UP)—A proposal to transfer seven airlines from Willow Run Airport to Detroit Metropolitan Airport under a 20-million-dollar improvement program will be discussed here tomorrow.

NOON BLAZE — Firemen are shown cleaning up after fire destroyed a garage and damaged an upper bedroom at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Van Norwich, 435 Wooddale Rd., Bloomfield Village. Bloomfield Township Fire Chief Ralph Hemmerly said damage was estimated at $10,000. The Van Norwich's are in Chicago. A 1959 Cadillac was saved when Leodegario Castillo, a landscaper working at a neighbor's home, and a unidentified bakery truck driver were able to push it out of the garage before flames reached it.

Board Also Planning to Discuss Three Other Projects This Evening

Action on several items of major importance is expected at tonight's Waterford Township Board meeting, according to Supervisor Elmer Johnson.

One of four projects postponed from previous meetings, the annexation of part of Waterford Township to the City of Pontiac will be considered.

Pontiac has requested land bounded by Telegraph road, West boulevard and the Grand Trunk Railroad for the new county building.

An amendment to the electric ordinance requiring that wiring in all commercial buildings be in metal conduits will be acted upon.

Permits for fuel oil tank installations will be discussed as an addition to the township heating code.

Recommendations from township engineers Johnson & Anderson regarding a new test well for Huron Gardens property owners will be presented. Four bids were submitted to the engineers at last week's meeting.

A report is expected from Clair Johnson on preliminary procedure for applying to the federal House and Homes Finance Co. for planning public improvement.

A summary of financial conditions of the Lorraine Manor and the Coleman Friedman sewer system will be discussed.

SWEARS BY HUNTING AT 75—Stricken with arthritis 13 years ago, Mrs. Nora Puckett, 75, of Clarkston has gone deer hunting each season since. She has her gear all set to leave Sunday for the north woods. Arthritis? "Never had a sick day in my life," said Mrs. Puckett.

Claims It Cured Her Arthritis

Enjoys Hunting Deer at 75

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

CLARKSTON — A great-grandmother who claims she cured herself of arthritis by tramping around the woods in northern Michigan is getting set for her 13th annual deer hunting expedition, come Sunday.

Seventy-five-year-old Nora Puckett of 5987 Dixie Hwy., has her bright red hunting apparel all laid out, and her trusty 20-gauge shotgun standing in the corner of her neat cottage.

Ever since the day that Mrs. Puckett was forced to give up her position as head cook at the Fisher Body plant cafeteria because of the crippling disease, she has walked.

For 12 years the little woman has walked several miles daily, stubbornly refusing to give in to the theory that stiffening joints are a part of old age.

★ ★ ★

"I've never had a sick day in my life—and I've never had to have the attentions of a doctor," Nora said as she continued to polish her hunting boots.

Early in Nora's married life, her husband taught her how to use a gun. The two would target practice in the field near their home, and soon Nora became a crack shot.

About the middle of summer for the last 12 years, Mrs. Puckett would begin to concentrate on that exciting date—Nov. 15, when she, with her son Lloyd's family join the trek of hunters headed upstate. She has been a widow for 25 years.

DOESN'T COOK

Nora has no time for culinary efforts once she gets settled in the cabin near Atlanta. Her companions respect her wishes — with regrets.

Only once did Nora "act like a chicken," she said. As she was returning to her original destination she came face to face with a huge black bear. Both froze in their tracks — Nora afraid to shoot and only wound the animal, the bear cautiously eyeing her.

After 10 minutes, the woman slowly began to ease away, and when she was at a safe distance, turned and ran as fast as she could.

Looking back, she saw the big bear still standing there. "He had a bewildered look on his face," she recalled.

★ ★ ★

For hunting togs, Mrs. Puckett slips a heavy union suit on over her regular underclothes, then comes the wool shirts, breeches, gloves and cap. Two pairs of wool socks go on before her oversized shoes, then comes leather, sheepskin-lined moccasins and boots.

"It doesn't matter how cold it is or how deep the snow, I never get a cold," Nora related.

★ ★ ★

So, about 5 a.m. Sunday, Nora Puckett will have selected her deer trail, set to get her buck, or just watch the bears go by.

Calls Monthly Check Sessions

Meeting on Saturday Shows McNutt Not at Fault Alone for Woes

SOUTHFIELD — A dispute among City Council members over municipal finances that goes back to 1958 reached a possible solution Saturday.

The Council voted unanimously to meet once a month to check the previous month's financial statement.

The meeting had been called to give City Administrator Robert J. McNutt a chance to explain his unauthorized spending of city funds.

McNutt was charged by Council President C. Hugh Dohany of "aggressive spending" in that the city's first-quarter audit revealed many budgeted accounts had been overdrawn.

Dohany had asserted McNutt was making expenditures never authorized by the Council.

★ ★ ★

The meeting indicated that Southfield's financial problems were not the fault of McNutt alone, but could be laid at the door of Mayor Donald L. Swanson, City Clerk Patrick Flannery, Treasurer Clara Lane and other Council members responsible for regulating expenditures, according to Dohany.

He said Flannery had been authorizing Miss Lane to make out checks knowing that they had not been approved by the Council.

McNutt was ordered by the Council to prepare a transfer affidavit to take care of unappropriated and overdrawn items.

WUERFEL RESIGNS

The Council has agreed to meet every third Monday of the month to check over finances and expenditures.

Councilman Robert J. Wuerfel tendered his resignation, effective at once. A Council member seven years, he gave ill health as his reason.

His resignation is being held in abeyance.

★ ★ ★

Dohany said "there are a few matters that Wuerfel with other councilmen had been working on and it is felt by the Council that he should be called on in an advisory capacity until these issues are wrapped up."

Dohany wouldn't say what the matters were.

Williams to Tour State on Taxes

Claims GOP Program Inadequate; Will Warn Schools to Suffer

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams will make an air tour of the state this week to "let the people know the truth" about the possible impact of the new Republican emergency tax program.

Williams said he and Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, will hit 10 cities from Detroit to Marquette on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

"If the Republican legislative caucus sticks to its plan to replace the 110 million dollar use tax with only 70 million dollars in new taxes, education will take the rap," the governor said.

"The schools will get about $20 less per child than they have been promised in the school aid law and all new construction at state colleges and universities will have to be postponed."

On Wednesday, the governor and Bartlett will visit Kalamazoo, Ann Arbor, Bay City and Flint, on Thursday Grand Rapids, Lansing and Detroit and on Friday Alpena, Traverse City and Marquette.

The Legislature returns tonight with a solution to the state's fiscal woes apparently still far off. The Democrats contend the state needs 110 million dollars in new taxes this fiscal year, but the Republicans contend 70 million dollars would be enough.

The Democrats have also refused to sign for introduction a batch of so-called nuisance taxes, although they say they will support them. The Republicans say this is a breach of faith in sharing responsibility.

Farmers Flood Government With Soil Bank Offers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department reported it has more applications for th 1960 conservation reserve than it can accept.

★ ★ ★

Nearly 103,000 farmers have offered to put 9,600,000 acres of land into the long-range phase of the soil bank program.

Officials said this was nearly twice the original national goal of 5,100,000 acres.

The department said it will be able to accept contracts on slightly more than its original goal but it still will have to turn many farmers down.

★ ★ ★

A priority system will be used in awarding contracts with first call going to farmers who offer the most productivity at the lowest rate.

There also will be a special priority for farmers who were turned down on the 1959 conservation reserve signup because the department didn't have enough funds to accept all comers.

Mercury Drops to Frigid -2 at Marquette

By The Associated Press

Michigan recorded its first subzero temperature of the season today when the mercury dipped to a minus two at Marquette.

Marquette, which has 13 inches of snow on the ground from storms last week, was the coolest spot in the state overnight. The warmest was Muskegon where it was 38.

Temperatures in other parts of the state were more in keeping with the season, ranging from 18 at Houghton to 32 at Detroit.

Young Dems Hail McNamara

UAW Vice President Defends His Voting for Labor Reform Bill

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Patrick V. McNamara (D-Mich) was given a standing ovation by Michigan's young Democrats Saturday night after his voting record was defended by an official of the United Auto Workers.

★ ★ ★

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock told young Democrats that McNamara helped take out what he termed "the 15 most vicious and repressive antilabor clauses" in the labor reform bill passed by Congress. Woodcock made his remarks in introducing McNamara as a guest at the banquet.

Earlier last week, McNamara was attacked by Teamsters President James R. Hoffa at a Teamsters conference here. Hoffa said the Teamsters will oppose McNamara for re-election in 1960 because he voted for the bill's final passage.

★ ★ ★

Woodcock said, "I am sure that McNamara and others were concerned with taking out that which was put in . . . to destroy the labor movement." Woodcock called the new law "an irritant and a nuisance" but he declared "if the trade union movement cannot live in a fishbowl, then it has no right to existence."

City Fire Officer Faces Court Today

A veteran of 13 years on the Pontiac Fire Department demanded examination when he appeared before Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback today on a charge of felonious assualt.

Lt. Raymond R. Fay, 35, was arrested Friday night after he allegedly went to the home of William H. Whitmire, 19, of 3715 Grafton St., Orion Township, armed with a 12-gauge shotgun.

Fay, 35, was scheduled to appear for examination Dec. 1 at 1:30 p.m. His bond was set at $500 by Stanaback.

Whitmire was cleared last week of guilt in the knife slaying of a Pontiac man, Louis Vanitvelt, 26, in an Auburn Heights brawl Oct. 25.

A coroner's jury called the knifing justifiable homicide, saying Whitmire acted in self defense. Fay is a friend of the Vanitvelt family.

Deputies picked up Fay when he lost control of his pickup truck near the Whitmire house and ran into a ditch. The shotgun was loaded, officers said.

Radio Network Just for Doctors Planned by NBC

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Broadcasting Co. announced yesterday it is setting up a special radio network to carry medical news, soothing music and pharmaceutical commercials to doctors' offices.

NBC said the service will start out running 12 hours daily on GM frequencies in 16 cities, and later will cover 70 cities and 90 per cent of all doctors in the nation.

★ ★ ★

Henry T. Sjogren, project manager, said the new system would aid doctors who do not have the time to keep up with medical news. He said the music, between medical bulletins and commercials, would be of a sort designed to put patients at ease.

A doctor will receive a multiplex receiver, speakers and a maintenance guarantee for $120 a year, NBC said. The network will be guided by a board of doctors, and will be called the medical radio system.

Feud Between Wilson and Parker Teams Ends in 10-10 Standstill

Detroit Misses Chances Galore in First Half

Lions Need Defensive Effort in Last Minute to Settle for Tie

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Nothing was settled in the feud which took place at Forbes Field between the Wilsons and the Parkers.

The Detroit Lions, after muffing numerous golden opportunities to score, had to display their best defensive effort in the final seconds to settle for a 10-10 tie with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

"We could have scored 32 points in the first half," said Lions' coach George Wilson, who again turned the signal-calling decisions up to the quarterbacks instead of using shuttle system from the bench.

"There's very little one could say about the game," was coach Buddy Parker's comment. "Both defensive teams did a good job, and the Lions really were charging Layne," he added.

★ ★ ★

Even the word "charging" was an understatement as far as Bobby Layne was concerned. "I thought I was going to get my head torn off couple times," said Layne afterward.

Ex-Lion Tom Tracy, who scored the tying touchdown on a 20-yard pass play, with 3:25 to play in the game, verified Layne's statement by adding, "Boy, Joe (Schmidt) really rattled my teeth a couple times."

"They were hitting hard and really charging," Tracy added.

In the first half, the Lions were in control all the way. The Steelers never got past their own 40 until there were only two minutes left in the half.

The secret practice sessions the Lions held at Briggs Stadium all last week proved to be a key factor in the first touchdown.

★ ★ ★

The Lions worked with Terry Barr running from an offensive position. On the third play after the opening kickoff, Barr took a reverse, and completely fooling the Steelers, he raced 37 yards to the Steeler 35. Six plays later Tobin Rote hit over from the one and the Lions took a quick 7-0 lead with Jerry Perry converting.

Throughout most of the first half, Layne had to feast on a diet of pigskin and muddy turf as Darris McCord, Alex Karras, Jim Weatherall took turns smearing him for losses.

In the second quarter, primarily on Nick Pietrosante's blasts through the Steeler line, the Lions got to the Pittsburgh 33, 17, 19, 12 and 26 yard lines but each time failed to hit pay dirt.

★ ★ ★

Perry's field goal attempt from the 19 and 26 were wide. Three of the threats were thwarted when Rote's passes were intercepted. Jack Butler grabbed two and Dean Derby the other.

Two of Layne's passes in the same period were intercepted by Gary Lowe and Joe Schmidt.

In the third quarter, starting with the opening kickoff, the Steelers started on their own 14 and moved to the Detroit 22. During this drive Lowe intercepted a pass and raced 70 yards to the Steeler 10 but it was called back for defensive holding and Pittsburgh got the ball back on the Lion 28.

Three plays later Layne booted a 29 yard field goal to make it 7-3 with 9:48 left in the third quarter.

With Earl Morrall doing most of the quarterbacking in the second haf after Rote sustained a leg injury in the 2nd stanza, the Lions made only two serious bids.

Just before the third quarter ended, Barr made a beautiful catch of Morrall's low pass for 45 yards on the Steeler 35. Ken Webb's running moved the ball to the 14, but Jim Martin's field goal attempt from the 21 was blocked by tackle Byron Beams.

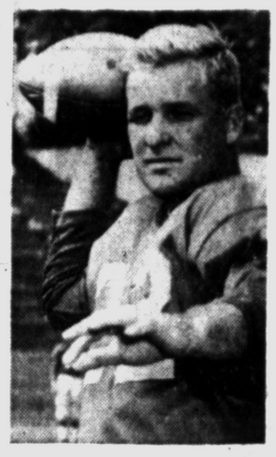

The Lions got a big break early in the 4th quarter when Tom Barnett's fumble was recovered by Yale Lary on the Steeler 16. Three plays netted only six yards and Martin finally made good on a field goal from the 17 to make it 10-3.

★ ★ ★

Layne then started getting the protection he needed and in six plays after the kickoff the Steelers marched 75 yards climaxed by the 30 yarder to Tracy to knot the score.

Rote came back into the game for the Lions, but with 1:46 the Steelers got the ball after Lary's punt and Layne again started a last ditch drive. His pass to Jim Orr got to the Detroit 38. The Lions stopped him on three passes and then Pat Sutherin's field goal try from 45 was blocked by Bill Glass.

There were only two seconds left at this point and Martin went in to try a 57 yard field goal. It was short and wide as the gun sounded.

FOILS LIONS — Bobby Layne foiled his former Detroit Lion teammates in their attempt to pickup a rare victory by directing an impressive last quarter drive which enabled his Steelers to gain a 10-10 tie at Pittsburgh yesterday. He passed to Tom Tracy for TD and booted the extra point. His field goal accounted for the other points.

Ingo-Patterson Bout in Detroit?

Michigan Boxing Boss Hunts Financial Help for Title Fight

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan Boxing Commissioner Floyd Stevens today was seeking a group of backers to finance a heavyweight title fight between Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Stevens said he would try to arrange the match for Detroit as soon as he got financial committments for the promotion.

A scheduled rematch between Patterson and Johansson was called off in New York because the state boxing commission there revoked the license of Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., which was to have staged the fight.

The ticket was lifted because the Rosensohn group had failed to reveal undercover backers.

★ ★ ★

If Stevens is able to arrange the bout for the Motor City, the most likely place to hold it would be Briggs Stadium — if outdoor — or the State Fair Coliseum if indoor.

However, Stevens said his plans were not definite enough to name a place, and he still needed "10 substantial businessmen to help me bring the bout to Detroit."

★ ★ ★

He said he would prefer to have some of them friends of Gustav Von Reis, a Rochester, Mich., businessman who is a friend of Johansson.

Layne, Hero of 1958 Hears Familiar Sound

The booing at Forbes Field yesterday must have seemed like music to Lions' Coach George Wilson's ears.

For a change it was the other team and not the Lions who were getting the raspberries from the fans.

Only a few short months ago in the final seven games of the 1958 season, Buddy Parker, Bobby Layne, Tom Tracy, all Lion exports were hailed as the heroes in the Steel City.

Yesterday, with a 2-4 record behind them, the Steelers, primarily Layne, were booed throughout the contest.

★ ★ ★

"We want Dawson," was the chant of the 25,000 fans as Layne was unable to move the Steeler offensive.

The blonde Texan later had the fans cheering as he engineered the tying touchdown drive, plus adding the field goal.

But in the locker room he was a picture of remorse and dejection. The booing he so often heard at Briggs Stadium had now followed him to Pittsburgh.

"I don't know if I'll be playing pro ball next year. I'll make a decision as soon as the season ends," said Layne.

Layne, who once used to single out Lion offensive linemen for lack of protection when passing, was hit hard on several occasions.

"I feel like a young man with an old man's aches and paints," he said, "maybe that's the handwriting on the wall."

Tom "The Bomb" Tracy, ex-Birmingham High star, who is living in Earl Morrall's house in Pittsburgh while Morrall is using his home in Royal Oak, said the Steelers were naturally disappointed with their season thus far, but commented that Pittsburgh was a real good team which just hasn't been able to recover from preseason game injuries.

Tracy, recently became the father of a boy. He has a four year old daughter.

Heart Attack Cause of Prep Gridder's Death

DETROIT (UPI) — William Finley Jr., 17-year-old Pershing High School football star who died the day after he played a full game, was the victim of a heart attack, according to an autopsy.

The youth collapsed and died Saturday after starring in a game Friday night. Wayne County medical examiner Edward Zawadzik ruled the attack was prompted by an enlarged heart.

He said the youth's condition might not have been pronounced enough to be discovered during a pre-season physical examination, but was probably aggravated by strenuous training sessions.

Finley's family said he complained of leg pains Saturday before he collapsed. Pershing football coach Mike Haddad said the youth did not tell him of any injury when other players were treated after the game.

Wings Unable to Mount an Offense

Scoring Punch Lacking in 2 Weekend Ties

Detroiters Twice Blow Leads in Sunday's 3-3 Draw With Rangers

DETROIT (UP) — Minus an offense to collect a windfall from their early season spurt, the Detroit Red Wings suddenly are in deep trouble.

★ ★ ★

The Wings twice dissipated leads in the final period last night and had to settle for a 3-3 tie with the lowly New York Rangers. Toronto had deadlocked Detroit 2-2 Saturday night and the two ties had coach Sid Abel moaning.

"Here we should have won two games and what did we get?" he grumbled after Andy Bathgate tied the game for the Rangers. "Nothing but two ties.

"It wouldn't be so bad. But we had lots of chances in both games. We just can't seem to get the puck in the net — not even when we're right at the corner."

★ ★ ★

The Red Wings have done little right since their good start shot them to the top of the National Hockey League.

★ ★ ★

They've won only once in their last eight games. But four ties in that span permit the Wings to retain a share of second place with the onsurging Boston Bruins.

The Wings have only 33 goals as a team in their 14 games — a futiltiy which supports Abel's statements.

But the defense shared in the Wings' downfall against the Rangers who snapped a three-game losing streak.

★ ★ ★

Defensive lapses aided all New York scoring.

Bathgate scored the winner — only his third goal after 40 markers last season — with less than three minutes left. It came from a scramble in front of goalie Terry Sawchuk after the defense left Bathgate clear.

Norm Ullman had sent the Wings ahead just seven minutes before on a picture play goal. Ullman, who assisted on Detroit's other two tallies, stole the puck from Red Sullivan and poked it past defenseman Bill Gadsby before shooting.

★ ★ ★

New York evened the score at 2-2 minute before Ullman's goal. The Wings, pressing with a man advantage, were trapped down ice when Jim Bartlett scored on a breakaway.

Detroit enjoyed a 2-1 lead entering the final hectic period. Warren Godfrey's 30-footer and John McKenzie's first goal this season had sent the Wings in front.

Gadsby tallied New York's first goal after stealing defensemen Marcel Pronovost's clearing pass.

★ ★ ★

The game was enlivened by two near fights involving the Wings' Gordie Howe. He had a shoving match with his old fighting foe of last year, Lou Fontinato, which the officials failed to notice. Moments later, Howe and Bartlett were penalized when they threatened to start a stick fight.

★ ★ ★

Sawchuk was struck over his right eye by Sullivan's stick in the first period. But the Detroit goalie continued after taking four stitches in the cut.

BLOCKED SHOT — Gump Worsley, Ranger goalie, flops to the ice to smother a shot by Detroit's Gordie Howe (9) in 1st period of Red Wing home game last night. Howe is tied up by two Rangers, Lou Fontinato (8) and Red Sullivan, who is almost hidden. Fontinato and Howe later got into a pushing battle in the 3-3 tie.

A Sad Weekend for Pistons

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—It was a bad weekend, but the Detroit Pistons' problems have just begun.

They face Bill Russell, Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain and Elgin Baylor on successive nights, starting tomorrow. Baylor yesterday broke the National Basketball Assn.'s scoring record with 64 points in Minneapolis' 136-115 trouncing of Boston.

Not even the long-awaited return of seven-footer Walter Dukes can bring much hope to coach Red Rocha's crew. Dukes will rejoin the Pistons for tomorrow's game with Russell and Boston at St. Louis.

The Pistons then meet 7-foot-2 Chamberlain and Philadelphia in Detroit Wednesday before going against Baylor and Minneapolis in New York Thursday.

★ ★ ★

It was pretty much a lost weekend for Detroit. The Pistons were dropped 118-107 yesterday by the Syracuse Nationals. Baylor scored 40 points Saturday in leading Minneapolis to a 113-111 double overtime triumph over Detroit.

In yesterday's other NBA game Chamberlain scored 32 points in leading the Warriors to a 134-106 conquest of Cincinnati.

The Pistons' trailed all the way in yesterday's game. The Nationals jumped off to a quick start behind ex-Piston George Yardley's hot shooting and opened an 18-4 lead. Yardley got nine of those points.

★ ★ ★

The Pistons closed the gap to 31-20 in the second quarter. But they never came closer.

Yardley finished with 19 points. But when he cooled, Dolph Schayes and Johnny Kerr took over. Schayes was the game's high man with 28 points and Kerr had 25. Earl Lloyd was the top Piston with 19 and Gene Shue followed with 16.

'My Dear Girl' Wins Turf Trophy Honor

By The Associated Press

Another turf championship trophy was marked for delivery today. It goes to Mrs. Frances A. Genter of Minneapolis as owner of the best 2-year-old filly in the land. The horse's name is My Dear Girl.

Of course there is the formality of voting, just as there is in naming Sword Dancer the Horse of the Year and the top 3-year-old, and Warfare the best 2-year old colt.

But My Dear Girl's nose triumph over Irish Jay in Saturday's $101,525 Frizette Stakes at Aqueduct gave the Florida-bred daughter of Rough'n Tumble-Iltis two straight triumphs over the best of her age and sex. Two weeks ago she won the rich Gardenia at Garden State Park.

Only one major 1959 title still is in doubt. That is the Handicap Division. Hillsdale and Round Table are the outstanding contenders.

Only 4 Major Schools Among 25 Who Have Not Tasted Defeat

Eight more teams, including major schools Louisiana State, Northwestern and Penn State, were lopped off college football's perfect-record list over the weekend, leaving 25 survivors.

Among the 25 are just four major schools — Texas and North Texas State, with eight victories, and Syracuse and Southern California each with seven.

Syracuse chopped down Penn State 20-18 Saturday while LSU, which had won 19 straight, fell before Tennessee 14-13. Northwestern lost to Wisconsin 24-19.

Cranes Buffalo Trip Brings Double Win

Saturday's jaunt to Buffalo resulted in a double victory for Cranbrook grid and soccer teams.

Jim Williams' first period TD after a long drive, and his successful run for the extra point edged Nichols Academy 8-6. Nichols scored in the 2nd period. Cranes close their season this Saturday against Gilmore at Cleveland. Saturday's win squared Cranes' record at 4-4.

Larry DeWitt's two goals marked Cranes' soccer win 3-1. The first was a free kick in the opener. John Plew gave an assist on the 2nd goal in the 3rd period, with Steve Brown scoring with an assist by George Martin in the same period. Nichols scored in the first period. Chatham Vocational closes the Cranes' season at Cranbrook Wednesday. The Cranes now stand 5-1-2 for the season.

All-Star Pin Points

PRACTICE FOR HIGH SCORES
By ESTHER WOODS

Given some natural ability, and after having mastered the fundamentals, how consistently your scores will be depends on practice.

★ ★ ★

Many top-flight bowlers roll from 20 to 100 games a week and even more in preparation for a big tournament. I average 25 practice games weekly, wish I could do much more.

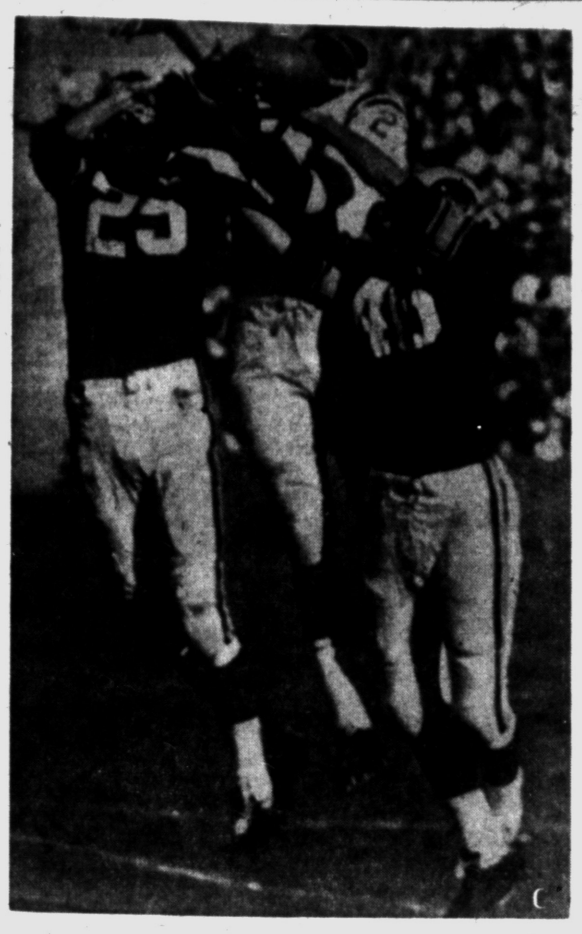

The temptation is to practice strong points and neglect weaknesses. If you have one or more faults that consistently crop up, point your practice toward eliminating them.

In this way, good form will become second nature to the bowler, who will not have to think in a mechanical way about each separate phase of the delivery.

★ ★ ★

Develop the confidence that is an important factor in making the right moves at the right time subconsciously and instinctively.

Practice will be rewarded by higher scores, perhaps earn you the title of champion.

It Might Be 49ers, Giants in Final

United Press International

Couple Abe Woodson's 105-yard run with clutch field goals by Sam Baker and Pat Summerall and you may wind up with the San Francisco Forty-Niners entertaining the New York Giants in the National Football League championship game.

★ ★ ★

Each of the 12 clubs has five more games and the staggering Baltimore Colts—defending league champions—will certify that anything can happen. But the Forty-Niners and Giants (both 6-1) top the division races and boast powerful defenses to smooth their stretch drives.

Baker's 46-yard field goal with only 11 seconds to play enabled the underdog Washington Redskins (3-4) to hand the Colts (4-3) their second straight defeat Sunday, 27-24. The Forty-Niners, with Woodson's 105-yard kickoff return the key play, took prompt advantage of Washington's help. They boosted their Western Division lead over the Colts to two games by downing the Rams (2-5) at Los Angeles, 24-16.

Summerall's field goals of 37, 49 and 20 yards provided all of New York's points in a 9-3 triumph over the Chicago Cardinals (2-5) and kept the Giants a game ahead of the Cleveland Browns. The Browns (5-2) started the day tied with Philadelphia for second in the East. They knocked the Eagles (4-3) two games off the pace with an easy, 28-7 victory at Cleveland.

★ ★ ★

The Chicago Bears (3-4) held twice on their one yard line in the second half at Chicago and downed the Green Bay Packers (3-4) in the other game, 28-17.

San Francisco's victory, only its second at Los Angeles in 10 tries, gave the team a fast start on its tough, four-game road swing. The Forty-Niners visit the Bears, Colts and Browns before finishing at home against the Colts and Packers. However, the Colts face a hard job catching San Francisco. After a game with the Packers at Milwaukee, the Colts entertain the California clubs before playing them on the West Coast, where they have won only one game.

In the East, the Giants have the easiest schedule, playing three home games. After entertaining San Francisco Nov. 29, the Browns visit the Giants.

★ ★ ★

Ollie Matson's one-yard plunge cut San Francisco's lead to 17-10 in the third period. But Woodson, who played a brilliant game at defensive halfback, shocked the Rams and 94,376 Los Angeles fans by racing 105 yards to score with the next kickoff. Al Carmichael of the Packers set the N. F. L. record of 106 in 1956.

The Colts made it 24-all in the final minutes at Washington. John Unitas guided them 89 yards in 66 seconds during the push with Lenny Moore passing 12 yards to Jerry Richardson for the tying touchdown. The champions got the ball again but Tom Braatz stole a Unitas pass, setting up Baker's decisive field goal on the last play. The Colts lost to the Browns last week.

New York's offense, with quarterback Charley Conerly sidelined with an ankle injury, made few dents in the Cardinal defense. But New York's defense was in charge as usual. It forced the Cardinals to punt from their end zone, Andy Robustelli recovered a fumble and Lindon Crow intercepted a pass to set up Summerall's three field goals.

★ ★ ★

Jim Brown scored twice, Milt Plum completed a short pass to Ray Renfro and Bobby Mitchell ran 65 yards for Cleveland's touchdowns against the Eagles. Norm Van Brocklin passed four yards to Bill Barnes for Philadelphia's score.

Coach Pop Ivy, whose Cardinals lost to the Browns twice, said he believed New York's defense was superior to Cleveland's.

"I believed New York's defense is better than Cleveland's," Ivy said. "Those four guys on New York's defensive line (Robustelli, Rosey Greer, Dick Modzelewski and Jim Katcavage) just killed us."

★ ★ ★

Buck Shaw, coach of the Eagles, said he rated the New York and Cleveland defensive units—probably the keys to the Eastern race—about even. "I think Cleveland's defense deserves to be compared with New York's," Shaw said.

Syracuse Now Listens to Offers From Bowls

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Undefeated, untied Syracuse and its latest victim, once beaten Penn State, both expect the football bowl boys to come courting.

Syracuse won the hard fought game between the two Eastern powers Saturday, 20-18. However, Penn State's final period rally that almost won the game left the loser in almost as good a position for a bowl bid as the winner.

★ ★ ★

The only bowl representative known to be on hand Saturday was from the Liberty Bowl, which will have its inaugural in Philadelphia Dec. 19.

Ambrose (Bud) Dudley, co-promoter of the Liberty Bowl, feels Syracuse, almost certain to win the Lambert Cup emblematic of Eastern championship honors, would be a perfect host in his December bowl for an outstanding team from another section.

★ ★ ★

Syracuse officials, according to Dudley, are definitely interested in his proposition, which could mean upwards of $150,000 for each team. Both the Cotton and Orange Bowls probably will be hot after Syracuse.

Although Dudley's reaction was luke warm, there was the possibility that a rematch of Penn State and Syracuse might make a good Liberty Bowl pairing. Dudley is anxious to match sectional champions if he can.

★ ★ ★

One factor that might rule out the Orange Bowl is that Kansas presumably will be the automatic Big Eight Conference representative, and Syracuse has already beaten Kansas.

Since Ernest B. McCoy, Penn State athletic director, is on the Liberty Bowl selection board, the Nittany Lions might figure to lend their prestige to that newst of the post season classics.

★ ★ ★

Syracuse officials said they planned no immediate decision about a bowl. Penn State officials likkewise refused to join in the speculation about the Nittany Lions' post season plans.

★ ★ ★

Penn State Coach Rip Engle said a bowl bid would be up to the university officials, but he commented that such an invitation "would do my boys a lot of good."

Editorial Asks Virginia to Become Ivy Leaguer

WINCHESTER, Va. (AP)—The Winchester Star suggested editorially today that the University of Virginia withdraw from the powerful Atlantic Coast Conference and seek membership in the Ivy League.

★ ★ ★

The newspaper said Virginia's dismal football record in the ACC —4 conference games won, 25 lost since the league was formed in 1953 — "indicates a change is needed."

Willard Schmidt of Cincinnati pitched in 16 games before he gave up a home run this season. Duke Snider of Los Angeles hit it.

Ryder Cuppers Head for New Conquests

BORREGO SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — The victorious United States and the hopeful Great Britain Ryder Cup players scattered to various sections of the world today, most of them hoping to meet again in 1961.

Most of the friendly rivals came to this blossoming desert resort, not too far from the palm desert setting of their matches, for a one day pro-amateur event yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Today some were headed for home, others to Australia for the Canada Cup matches later this month.

Ryder Cup Capt. Sam Snead put it this way:

"I've played in seven Ryder Cup matches and I'd like to play in some more, provided I play in enough tournaments to qualify for the team:"

★ ★ ★

The 47-year-old slammer from West Virginia actually was the hero of the just-concluded 13th biennial matches, which the U.S., won, 8½ to 3½ points in the four Scotch foursomes and eight singles play.

★ ★ ★

Snead routed one of Britain's best players, Dave Thomas—who is 20 years younger—6 and 5.

Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., was particularly happy over his 7 and 6 win over long-hitting Christy O'Connor.

★ ★ ★

"I was beginning to believe I was Great Britain's secret weapon," said Wall, America's "golfer of the year."

His victory, he pointed out, was his first in three matches. He lost in doubles matches in 1957 and 1955.

Capt. Dai Rees, the affable and able leader of the British, promised that "we will come back in 1961.

★ ★ ★ ★

"Rees is getting no younger," he said, referring to himself, "but we have some good young players coming up."

He singled out Peter Alliss, who halved his match with Jay Hebert in one of the most exciting events of the final day, and Norman Drew, "the baby of the team."

★ ★ ★

Drew tackled tough Doug Ford, one of the best of the Yanks. He held Ford to a one up margin for the first 18 holes and then battled him to an all-even decision at the finish.

★ ★ ★

The lone U.S. singles loss was suffered by Middlecoff. Eric Brown defeated the American star 4 and 3. Middlecoff, who complained of a bad back prior to the matches, rallied midway in the last 18 holes but couldn't close a 6-up gap Brown opened up after 27 holes.

★ ★ ★

In other matches Mike Souchak defeated Ken Bousfield, 3 and 2; Bob Rosburg defeated Harry Weetman, 6 and 5; Dow Finsterwald defeated Rees, one up.

LANGSTON, Okla. (AP) —Donald Lee Smith, who throws a football anyway he can, may be getting ready to re-write the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics record book.

The sophomore made his first serious bid for small college All-America honors Saturday night with a fantastic performance that gave Langston College at least a share of the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference title.

★ ★ ★

Smith passed 24 times and connected on 20 of them for 341 yards which apparently is an NAIA single game record. The listed leader was Tom Phillips of Baldwin-Wallace with 330-yards in a 1948 game.

With Smith pullong the trigger for 1,086 yards on 73 of 123 pass attempts, the Lions have forged a 6-1 record.

Smith tossed for 2 touchdowns Saturday — giving him 13 in 7 games — and has scored 5 others.

The youngster passes with an unorthodox side-arm motion and sometimes throws southpaw if tacklers crowd his throwing arm too much.

Bowl Picture Mixed as LSU, 'Cats Fall

By The Associated Press

Now that Cotton Letner's foot and Dale Hackbart's arm have booted and tossed the top echelon into a tizzy, what's next for this crazy, mixed-up past-time called college football

★ ★ ★

Seventy-two hours ago, Louisiana State was rolling monotonously along with 19 straight victories, 14 weeks of domination of The Associated Press poll and speculating on just who might be its opponent in another Sugar Bowl appearance. Right behind was Northwestern, whipping everything in sight in the Midwest, looking toward the Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl, and standing quietly in the wings ready to march up to the head of the national class should LSU stumble.

★ ★ ★

Ho-hum, and who do we beat next?

Then Letner kicked — two conversions and LSU fell to Tennessee 14-13 — and Hackbart passed —a pair of touchdowns and Wisconsin spilled Northwestern 24-19.

Now mighty LSU has no better than a three-way tie for third place in its own league, the Southeastern Conference. Three of the four either tied or ahead of the Tigers are bowl eligibles of the likes of Georgia, Mississippi and Georgia Tech, with Tennessee another half-length behind as a result of a tie to go with its single loss. Auburn, second at 4-2 to leader Georgia (5-0), is out of it because of NCAA probation.

★ ★ ★

Northwestern now faces the challenge of winning a couple of tough road games, at Michigan State and Illinois, in an attempt to grab back the roses from Wisconsin.

And when you consider a national leader, look at this partial roster:

Texas, with an 8-0 record and the Southwest Conference lead after a hair's-breath 13-12 escape over three-times beaten Baylor; Syracuse, 7-0 after holding off previously unbeaten Penn State's rally, 20-18; Southern California, 7-0 after thrashing much-thrashed West Virginia 36-0; Tennessee, Georgia, Mississippi, Auburn and LSU in the SEC; Northwestern and Wisconsin, both 6-1 and tied for the Big Ten lead; Clemson, the Atlantic Coast Conference leader, and others as dictated by your sectional preference.

★ ★ ★

It promises to be a wide-open scramble to the end of the season. If there's one thing last weekend seems to have proved it's what the old equalizer has been at work and there isn't a dominant team—or even a dominant two or three—in the nation.

It's a field day for the top ten pickers, and a case of supply far exceeding the demand for the key, plush spots in the major bowls. Three big weeks are left to unscramble the mess.

★ ★ ★

For example:

ROSE BOWL — Northwestern and Wisconsin tied for the Big Ten spot; Washington, Oregon and UCLA scrambling on the West Coast (Southern Cal is ineligible).

COTTON BOWL—Texas leading for the Southwest Conference host; pick your opponent from a dozen eligibles—Syracuse, Mississippi, LSU, Georgia, Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Clemson, etc. etc. to name a couple.

SUGAR BOWL—Georgia, Tennessee, LSU, Mississippi from the SEC, which doesn't commit its champ but usually sends it. For an opponent there is any of the four that don't win the SEC title, plus Clemson, possibly the Southwest runner-up, or Syracuse.

★ ★ ★

ORANGE BOWL—The Big Eight representative, could be Colorado, Iowa State, Kansas—just about anybody but Oklahoma (ineligible since it went last time), against: Syracuse, Penn State, one of the SEC teams, Clemson or one of the southwest clubs.

Gator Bowl, Liberty Bowl and Blue Bonnet Bowl—all the earlier named.

And whatever happened to that nice, clear-cut look football had just 72 hours ago?

Scores 64 Points

Baylor Sets NBA Mark

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Hard-driving Elgin Baylor, who dumped in 64 points for a new National Basketball Assn. scoring record last night, hopes he has "arrived" as a professional player.

The screaming crowd in the Minneapolis Auditorium knew he was already there as he led the Minneapolis Lakers to a 136-115 victory over the NBA champion Celtics of Boston.

★ ★ ★

"I figured something was up when the guys on the team started shouting at me in the closing minutes of the game," the 6-foot-5 former All-America from Seattle University smiled.

Baylor hit a side shot from 10 feet out with 31 seconds left in the game to set the new mark, shattering the 63-point record held by Joe Fulks of Philadelphia since 1949.

Last season's NBA rookie of the year, Baylor hit 25 of 47 field goal attempts and sank 14 of 19 free throws.

★ ★ ★

Baylor said he was just as happy about beating Boston as he was about the 64 points. It was the first time the Lakers defeated the Celtics in 22 regular season games over three seasons.

"I wanted to make the first meeting of the season with Boston a good one," he said. "I knew everyone would be fired up for the game."

His defensive game was his best of the season also. He led a Laker effort that kept the Celtics out of reach all night. Also, Baylor topped the Laker assist department with eight.

★ ★ ★

The Lakers swept to a 33-18 lead at the first quarter mark and were ahead 67-45 at halftime. They fattened the margin to 30 points at the end of the third quarter, 103-73, and rose to a 33-point lead in the final period at 110-77.

Baylor got hotter as the game progressed, scoring 13 points in the first period, 12 in the second, 17 in the third and 22 in the final period.

His production took the famed George Mikan out of the Laker scoring limelight for the first time in Minneapolis' NBA history. Mikan held the team point record of 61, set in 1952.

★ ★ ★

In other games Sunday, the Philadelphia Warriors romped over the Cincinnati Royals 134-106 in a nationally televised fray and the Syracuse Nats led all the way in whipping the Detroit Pistons 118-107.

★ ★ ★

Wilt Chamberlain sparked the Warriors to their fourth victory in five starts with 32 points and 35 rebounds. The 7-2 rookie has averaged 36.4 points per game.

Raven 11 Rolls to SCL Title; Mikes Also Win

Fighting St. Frederick Unable to Check Bens' Powerful Offense

Buried under an avalanche of touchdowns, Pontiac's St. Frederick football team Sunday afternoon suffered probably the worst defeat, point-wise in its gridiron history.

The Suburban Catholic League's powerhouse, St. Benedict, crushed the Rams, 73-0, in the season's final loop contest at Wisner stadium.

Led by the SCL's top pointmaker, Dan Donar, with four touchdowns, the Ravens from Highland Park crossed the Rams' goal line 11 times during a hectic afternoon. Mark Storen added seven PAT boots, along with a TD, to round out one of the biggest scores in SCL and St. Benedict grid annals.

Victory gave the Ravens outright possession of the league crown, and an unmarred season of seven straight wins. Sunday's total also boosted the Ravens' season scoring to better than a 40-per-game average.

While there was never any doubt regarding the final result, after a first-period 26-0 count, St. Frederick players never let up, were still in there fighting right down to the last second.

★ ★ ★

St. Michael and St. Clement tied at 13-all, while Orchard Lake St. Mary came through with a good, 26-6 victory at St. Rita. St. James dumped RO St. Mary 26-6 to retain its 2nd place finish.

The statistics show the tremendous power of the Ravens, whose 24 or more players who got in the game, accounted for some 570 total net yardage, compared to Rams' 168.

Art Massucci passed to Jerry Ciaravino for the opening tally soon after the game started. Dan Donar then began a scintillating afternoon of long runs for counters, with a 58-yard gallop following a Ram punt. A 63-yard Raven drive wound up with Eddie Everhardt going in from the eight, and Donar shot off on another 58-yarder under exactly the same conditions as his first great run. That really was the ball game, as far as winning was concerned.

Donar couldn't be denied, and after grabbing an errant Ram pass, went another 58-yards in the 2nd period. Mark Storen scored on a 16-yarder and Massucci tossed a "strike" to Everhardt for a 69-yard TD play.

Coach Art Massucci eased up in the 2nd half, sending in about every player on his bench. But they rolled along, with Donar again scoring, this time on a one-yard punch after a 68-year drive.

Rams only sustained drive came in the last period, when they moved to the Bens' 26.

★ ★ ★

Jim Kennedy, George Sharpe, Jim Sears, Chuck Guibord, Mettler, Bill Slabinski, among the Rams, played their hearts out.

Shamrocks lost a 13-point lead at Center Line, as St. Clements came back in the 2nd half to knot the count. But the Mikemen were victims of a penalty, in the finale, that robbed them of victory. Pat Campbell had counted Shamrocks' two tallies, and with only five minutes left, Tom Dabbs rolled out on the 20 and scored. A holding penalty nullified the TD and that was it.

In a wild finish, marked by several interceptions, one by Crusaders as Shamrocks were on the St. Clement five, the Pontiac club staved off defeat with seconds left. Bob Fortin set sail, but Campbell caught him 80 yards away as the game ended. Campbell was the game's outstanding player.

Glen Hass was the pacemaker for the Eaglets, with a pair of tallies, both at the end of long drives. Eaglets held a 20-6 halftime edge, coasted in the last half. Eight Eaglets played their final games, as seniors.

Anderson Harrier King; Maples Win Team Crown

First state cross-country individual championship, at least as far as Coach Dean Wilson knows, was captured Saturday by a Pontiac Central runner.

Joe Anderson concluded one of the most brilliant seasons for a PCH athlete with his 10th straight victory over the two-mile distance at Ypsilanti. Anderson finished at 10:24.8, far ahead of the field of runners from 15 Michigan Class A schools. He is unbeaten this year.

Anderson moved to the front at the first mile, led all the rest of the way. Chief's runners finished 5th as a team.

Birmingham's Seaholm was the winner with 73 points. Rest of the top 10 included: Ann Arbor 145, Ypsilanti Central 159, Dearborn 171, Pontiac Central 180, Muskegon, 200, Lincoln Park 203, Walled Lake 215, Flint SW 242, Lansing Sexton 243. Fifteen schools ran in Class A event.

Class B winner was Howell. Pewamo won in class C-D.

Bloomfield Hills was 3rd in Class B with 108.

Moore Wins '700' Honors

Monroe Moore dethroned Jay Lawson as the singles champion of the Ponitac 700 Club Sunday as he rolled 237, 159, 244—640 in the Club's annual National Singles Sweepstakes at Motor Inn. Moore's total was two pins better than runner-up Don Martell who posted 253, 197, 188—638.

Lawson, 1958-59 titlist, did not compete this year.

In the middle division for those with averages between 180 and 185, Rochester's Marvin Mieseler took top honors with a 589 series, including an opening game of 265, high for the tourney.

Lower division, 179 average and under, was won by Art Barnes of East Highland Recreation with a 630 effort on games of 244, 186 and 200.

In the Grand-daddy division, limited to those members over 55 years of age, Fred Russell stole the crown with a 551 set.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Angel Miguel of Spain won the Mexican National Open Golf Tournament Sunday defeating Tommy Jacobs of Whittier, Calif., by one stroke.

Miguel had a final round 33-37—70 for the winning total of 273, fifteen strokes below par.

Jacobs, who had a three-over-par 75 opening day, finished with a 66 that included five birdies and an eagle. He lost a chance for a tie when he went one over on the par-4 13th.

Miguel won $2,000 and Jacobs $1,500.

Howie Johnson, Meadow Lark, Calif.; Ernie Vossler, Midland, Tex.; and Roberto De Vicenzo of Mexico tied with 275 and divided third, fourth and fifth place money. They got $906 each.

BORREGO SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Three golfers who competed in last week's Ryder Cup matches have wound up tied for first place in the $7,300 pro-amateur tournament at De Anza Desert Country Club.

★ ★ ★

Finishing with four under-par 68's were America's Sam Snead and Julius Boros and Dave Thomas of Britain.

Boros lost a chance at undisputed first place when he missed an 18-inch putt on the final green. Snead had foot blisters and rode around the course in a cart.

U.S. Ryder Cup pros Jay Hebert and Bob Rosburg and U.S. Open champion Billy Casper shot 69s'. At 70 were Christy O'Connor of Ireland and Americans Doug Ford, Mike Souchak and Jerry Barber.

Spoiler Role Looms Again for MSU; Winning Year Goal at 'M'

Purdue Kayoed, Spartans Sight Northwestern

Duffy's Gridders Now Stand 3rd in Big Ten With 3-2 Record

EAST LANSING (AP)—Two passes and a field goal and Purdue was only an also-ran in the Big Ten title scramble.

The action went that fast in Michigan State's surprising 15-0 shutout of the Boilermakers Saturday. If a fan took a bite of hotdog at the wrong time he could easily miss the scoring sequences.

So now Michigan State, third in the Big Ten on a 3-2 league record, can play spoiler again this Saturday. Northwestern and Wisconsin are tied at the top at 4-1 each and Northwestern is the invader at Spartan Stadium.

"I think we can match them on speed," said MSU coach Duffy Daugherty. "If we play with the same bounce and enthusiasm we showed against Purdue, I think we have a good chance."

★ ★ ★

Daugherty called the Purdue win the best game Michigan State has played this season.

It also was the first time this year the Boilermakers have been scored on by passing.

"The play of our sophomores, in particular, continues to get better every week," Daugherty noted.

★ ★ ★

Michigan State's pass defense, a a fatal weakness in the losses to Iowa and Ohio State, allowed Purdue a collection of short gainers—16 completions for 156 yards—but all of the long throws were well covered.

The only unhappy note for the Spartans was the loss for the season of Carl Charon, promising sophomore fullback from Boyne City. Charon's right ankle snapped under him as he was making a good gain. A check showed a bad fracture of the ankle bone and Daugherty said he will be out for the season.

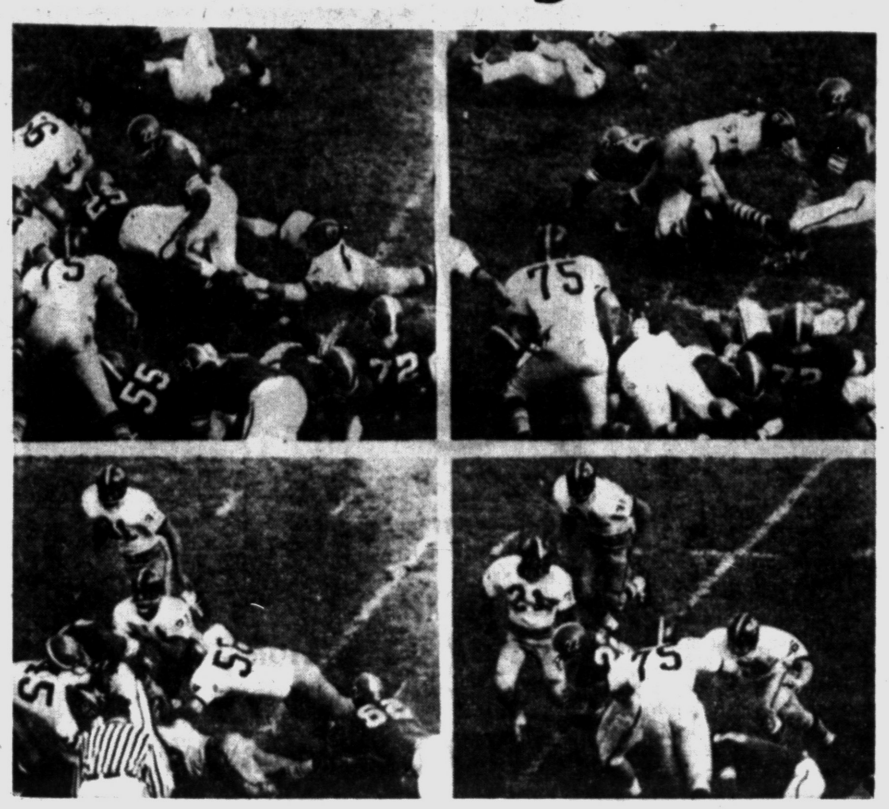

Charon was awarded the game ball by his teammates.

Quarterback Dean Look was the leading man as the script was played Saturday. Look hit only two passes in the first half but both went for touchdowns.

The first score came after a good MSU surge stalled. Art Brandstatter came in for an apparent field goal with Look holding. But Look grabbed the ball, ran left and pitched a 28-yard scoring pass to sophomore back Gary Ballman of East Detroit, who pulled it down just on the goal line.

Jim Corgiat, sophomore end from Bessemer, snared the second scoring pass from Look on the 17 and skirted the sideline to the goal line—a play that carried 48 yards.

Brandstatter made up for miskicks on both extra point tries by putting the game away with a 23-yard left-footed field goal in the third quarter.

Wolverines 2-3 in League After Beating Illinois

Can Collect More Wins Than Losses by Topping Indiana and Buckeyes

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A winning season loomed as a possibility today for Michigan's resurgent football forces.

Coach Bump Elliott's improving Wolverines, who stunned Illinois Saturday with a stirring 20 - 15 comeback victory, are perched in a two-way tie for fourth place in the Big Ten with a respectable 2-3 mark.

To post more victories than defeats this season, the Wolverines must whip Indiana and Ohio State.

Talk of a winning season at Michigan this year was unheard of a week ago. Even the most optimistic Wolverine boosters were willing to settle for just one victory in the final three games. But a football has a way of taking strange bounces.

★ ★ ★

At Champaign Saturday, the pesky pigskin fluttered Michigan's way enough times to spark Elliott's charges to their upset. As a result, Michigan already is assured of having a better record than last year and it can forget all about any dangers of posting the school's worst grid record in 23 years.

For a time Saturday, it appeared as if the Illini were going to run away from the Wolverines. A Michigan fumble set up an early Illinois field goal, and after a pass interception, fleet halfback John Counts sped 37 yards for a touchdown, boosting Illinois into a 9-0 lead at the end of the first period.

But Michigan — sparked by a light but hard-charging line, alert pass defense and the return to form of quarterback Stan Noskin—found itself late in the first half.

★ ★ ★

Noskin, who had a disastrous day against Wisconsin the week before, completed seven of 22 passes, with one going for a touchdown. The Evanston, Ill., senior also picked up 22 yards on 22 carries.

But it was center Jerry Smith and guard Alex Callahan, a pair of pass kickoff artists who stole four enemy throws between them, who ruined Illinois' slim Big Ten title hopes.

Smith, at 189 the lightest regular lineman in the loop, intercepted three Illinois passes. One set up Michigan's second touchdown, while the other two stymied Illinois' drives. Callahan picked off a fourth-quarter pass and returned it 44 yards, setting up the third Wolverine tally.

★ ★ ★

Fullback Tony Rio scored Michigan's first touchdown on a leaping grab of a deflected pass in the end zone late in the first half. Fred Julian added the second on a two-yard plunge in the third quarter, while Darrell Harper's seven-yard smash added the final score in the fourth period.

The victory was Michigan's first at Champaign in a decade, and only its third over Illinois in those 10 years. The Wolverines now lead in the over-all series with Illinois, 28-17.

Hillsdale Eyes Perfect Slate, Bowl Bid

By The Associated Press

Hillsdale has its sixth straight MIAA title tucked safely away and now can concentrate on a perfect season and earning a possible post-season bowl bid.

A victory this week over non-conference Northern Illinois will guarantee the first goal and just about cinch a chance at the second. Muddy Waters' mighty Dales, 48-7 victors over Kalamazoo (2-6) Saturday, are ranked second among the nation's small colleges. One more victory and they should qualify for the NAIA playoffs for the Holiday Bowl at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Hillsdale (8-0 overall and 6-0 in the MIAA, scored five of its seven touchdowns via passing. Chuck Redding threw three of the scoring aerials as the Dales broke the school passing record with 353 yards. Hillsdale gained a total of 504 yards.

Hope (7-1), loser only to Hillsdale, wrapped up second place in the MIAA, routing Olivet (2-5) 42-0. Jerry Hendrick and John Vandenberg each scored twice for the Dutchmen.

★ ★ ★

Jim Northrup passed for 281 yards and one touchdown while Alma (5-3) took third place in the MIAA with a 33-14 thriumph over Albion (4-4). Northrup scored two touchdowns on short ground bursts.

Northern Michigan (6-2) blended a grudging defense with a mighty offense for a 51-0 triumph over Wisconsin's Milwaukee Branch. Tom Schwalbach, Gene Valesano and Gordon Reid each scored twice as the Wildcats rolled up 582 yards.

Central Michigan's one-two punch of Walt Beach and Jerry O'Neill accounted for all four touchdowns in the Chips' 26-0 IIAC triumph over Eastern Illinois. Beach tallied three times and took over the state scoring leadership with 76 points. O'Neill's touchdown gave him 66 points for Central (7-2). All the scoring came on short runs.

★ ★ ★

Western Michigan (4-4) eked out a 7-0 Mid-American Conference triumph over Kent State. Lovell Coleman scored for the Broncos in the third period on an 11-yard run.

Jerry Milatz passed for one touchdown and ran for another in leading Ferris (3-3) to a 29-7 verdict over Indiana Central.

Dan Fears ran an interception 101 yards in leading Wayne State (4-2) to a 28-15 Presidents' Athletic Conference triumph over Thiel.

★ ★ ★

Adrian (2-6) carried a 2-0 lead into the final quarter when Findley's Ronnie Rahe exploded for three touchdowns in seven minutes and a 20-2 triumph.

Hapless Eastern Michigan (1-6), only team with less than two triumphs in the state, was crushed 34-0 by IIAC rival Northern Illinois.

Saturday's defeats marked the end of the season for Albion, Adrian and Kalamazoo.

Horvath Paces 5-3 NHL Victory

Bruins in 2nd Place Tie

By The Associated Press

If you are looking for one of the big reasons the Boston Bruins are tied for second place in the National Hockey League, stop when you reach the name of Bronco Joseph Horvath.

★ ★ ★

Bronco (his correct first name) leads the league in goals with 15. Seven of them have been in the Bruins last four games as they won all of them to move into a tie with Detroit, five points back of the pace-setting Montreal Canadiens.

Two came last night as the Bruins extended the Chicago Black Hawks' winless string to 12 games by a 5-3 score. Boston has scored 25 goals in the last four victories and 53 goals in 14 games overall.

The Hawks managed a 2-2 tie with the Canadiens Saturday night but still remained deep in the cellar as the New York Rangers snapped a three-game losing streak in tieing the Detroit Red Wings 3-3 Sunday. The Wings also were involved in a tie Saturday, a 2-2 affair with Toronto.

The Bruins and Hawks got mixed up in a wild third period. Boston's Charlie Burns received a head injury when he collided with Chicago's Pierre Pilote and had to be assisted from the ice.

★ ★ ★

The Hawks received a penalty shot, the first on Boston ice in more than five years, when Al Arbour threw his stick trying to stop Horvath from scoring. But not even the penalty shot, missed by Larry Leach, could help the Hawks.

BIG BOOT—Henry Christopher gives Southern Methodist kicking to match Don Meredit's clever passing.

NEW YORK — New racing surfaces at Laurel in Maryland and Aqueduct in New York will be one mile and a furlong on the main track and one mile on the turf course, according to plans for improvement.

Canadians Are Surprises of National Horse Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Elder and his slick mount, Isgilde, combined to win the Pennsylvania National Trophy at the National Horse Show Sunday night giving the surprising Canadians their third victory of the event.

During the afternoon session in Madison Square Garden, Argentina, which had a tough time of it the first five days broke the monopoly of the U.S. and Canada by picking up in the international jumping competition.

★ ★ ★

Elder, a 25-year-old businessman, went clean around the tough course, as did four other riders. But he was clocked in 38.4. It was just three-tenths of a second better than second-place Hugo Arrambidge of Argentina.

All three U.S. riders fared badly and never were in the running.

This marked Elder's second individual triumph.

★ ★ ★

In the open jumping competition, Windsor Castle, owned by Bob Ballard of Toronto won the night event and now has piled up 27 points to clinch the title. His closest rival, defending champion Snow Man, owned by Harry DeLeyer of St. James, N.Y., has 10 points with two events to go.

★ ★ ★

The afternoon international jumping test was a team event and two of the three Argentine riders — Arrambide and Pedro Mayorga on Stromboli — went around the 8-obstacle course without a fault. The third, Jorge Osacar, riding Mariguanero, knocked down one fence for a total of four faults.

Chest Rugs Can Fool Beachgoers

NEW YORK (AP) — Men, do you envy those hairy-chested hemen who stalk the beaches and pools?

Worry no more, hairless Joe. Toss away your turtle-neck beach sweater — they've come up with chest hair falsies for men.

The latest in chest tapestries was unveiled Sunday at the opening session of the National Barber Show.

Who wears chest rugs?

"Usually, little scrawny fellows," answers pretty Diana Tessler, president of a hair-making firm. "I never ask my clients why they want them. I figure it's their own business."

The preferred shade: Brown.

"The people at the barber show came to me and suggested we make up a chest falsie as a stunt," Miss Hessler said. "But I said, 'stunt? I have many customers using them already.' They seemed surprised."

Miss Tessler, whose main business is toupees — or toppers, as they say in the trade—uses real imported hair for the chest rugs. "They look like the real thing," she said. "We have no complaints."

Sen. Humphrey Flings Challenge at Sen. Kennedy

BISMARCK, N.D. (UPI) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey Friday challenged Sen. John Kennedy to a Democratic presidential primary test in Wisconsin if both decide to seek the nomination.

The Minnesotan said the Wisconsin primary would be his first test and Kennedy should join him for a fair show of strength.

Questioned at a news conference, Humphrey disagreed with Teamsters President James Hoffa that a liberal cannot be elected president. He said nobody but a liberal can be elected.

Asked about his feeling toward Hoffa, Humphrey said:

"One does not condemn a faith because of one Judas. I am proud of the support other Teamsters have given me even if Hoffa does not support me."

Organization Rigid, Avoids Violence

Genius London's King of Crime

LONDON (AP)—An organizing genius with the golden touch has made himself king of London's underworld.

His line is old-fashioned robbery on a big scale. His master stroke was a raid on four West End jewel shops that netted almost $600,000.

★ ★ ★

This followed a series of carefully planned bank raids, all with the stamp of a master criminal. His rules are simple: take no unnecessary risks and avoid violence.

After his fashion, he is a healthy influence, Scotland Yard men say.

His accent on "clean crime" means a switch from the protection racketeering which was the underworld's biggest business until two years ago.

LIKE HE'S IN THEATER

No longer are kickings and razor fights a nightly occurrence in Soho and Mayfair.

According to men who say they know, the successful crime king works like a theatrical promoter.

He picks the men he uses according to the role he wants them to play and pays them a share of the proceeds. His only full-time employes are casers—intelligence men who spy on likely targets.

★ ★ ★

A bank raid usually will need at least four men. One must be skilled with the blowtorch. Another must know locks, another dynamite. The fourth is lookout and getaway driver.

The team works weekends. It chooses suburban banks which do not have a full-time watchman but nevertheless carry heavy supplies of cash.

Once inside, the raiders settle in for at least 12 hours' work. They bring food and vacuum flasks of coffee.

If possible they cut into the vaults with the torch. If the going is unusually tough they risk dynamite. Their prize haul is used notes. New bills are dangerous because the bank holds their numbers.

October's great jewel coup was the product of patient intelligence work. It emptied the safes of four branches of the Goldsmiths and Silversmiths Assn., one of London's biggest jewel firms.

Scotland Yard's hope of a capture rests with the flying squad, 80 hand-picked detecitves who rely more on the methods of Sherlock Holmes than the mechanics of modern criminology.

★ ★ ★

A squad man's job is to mix with criminals in the spielers (gambling clubs) and drinking dens. He watches for any sign that a regular is unusually flush.

Squad men sometimes spend a year and more on a single job. They use disguises, sometimes move their whole home and family into a new district and work there, perhaps as milkman or postman.

Friars Honor Dean Martin, Raise $125,000

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dean Martin was honored by his fellow Friars Sunday night and $125,000 was raised for the show business club's charity work.

Most every big name in town was at the $100-a-plate affair.

★ ★ ★

Vice President Richard M. Nixon was listed as honorary chairman but had to return to Washington. There were congratulatory messages from Eleanor Roosevelt, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Dean's home state of Ohio.

To which Dean commented: "Back in Steubenville, they're still betting I'll get the electric chair."

Joey Bishop set the tone of the ribs with his opening quip: "I came here not to honor Dean Martin but to learn how to drink."

★ ★ ★

Bob Hope then followed with: "During the forest fire season Dean is not allowed to breathe going through Laurel Canyon" — scene of a major fire recently.

Special Education Helps Retarded

By NORMA GAUHN

DETROIT (AP) — Educators have a dull term for an emotion filled, heartbreaking — and sometimes heartwarming — field.

It's special education—an understatement for the work that enables 21-year-old Kathy to find a satisfying job in the community despite severe mental retardation.

It's the program that gives a day camp of play with others, similarly handicapped, for 7-year-old John, whose memory and understanding will never go beyond those of a child of three.

It's the special class in school where 12-year-old Tommy will learn, from specially trained teachers with endless patience, the simple sums his brother in first grade has already mastered.

And it's giving bright 9-year-old Hugh, bored to distraction in an ordinary third grade class, a chance to build a model transistor radio rather than spend his energies disrupting discipline among his slower companions.

The Associated Press has undertaken a survey of what Michigan has to offer in the field. With much public concern for education generally, there's a question as to what is being done for those youngsters who tie up work in normal classrooms because they need special education.

EACH END OF SCALE

These are the children at either end of the learning scale—the exceptionally bright and the mentally retarded—a special budget for this three per cent minority can be educaitonal insurance for the majority.

The problems of the mentally handicapped are more apparent, and because neglect poses an even greater problem in the field, there has been a greater degree of help at the state level for retarded children.

It's estimated there are some 27,000 youngsters of school age in the state who could benefit by special education, who could be helped to find a place within the community instead of on its conscience.

Some 10,000 are enrolled now in such programs, with the hope that more may be included as communities learn the value of helping the special child.

For educational purposes, the mentally retarded are divided into three groups according to I.Q. —the intelligence quotient which normally ranges from 85 to 115.

There are, first, children with an I. Q. of 50 to 75 who can be helped by special classes in school. They may learn to do simple tasks and as adults can partially or fully support themselves.

A second division covers children of 25 to 50 I. Q. who can be trained to take care of their personal needs and do some work about the house. But they do useful work under supervision only.

At the extreme end of the scale are custodial cases, of less than 25 I. Q. These are totally dependent. These youngsters require hourly, lifelong care—but make up only one of each 1,000 population.

THINK OF MARY

Mary is an example of a case that could be helped by special education. At 6, when most children start school, she was learning to feed and dress herself. At high school age she was just starting to recognize letters and words. At best her mind will be able to solve only problems that an 8 or 9-year-old child could handle.

Mary, with an I. Q. of 50, can learn to take care of her own needs, take orders, get along with other and do routine tasks which do not require reasoning or mental ability.

What might happen to her in today's world?

That's the problem. Educators say that too often people with no special, personal interest in the mentally retarded take a "sweep it under the rug" attitude.

Consider Mary. She should be happy for long hours at useful but monotonous jobs. But she may try school — and find she must learn words she cannot use, try to read and write—skills she is incapable of acquiring.

Called dumb or stupid by her schoolmates, Mary may strike back. A boy in a similar position, with more physical strength, might do serious injury. Mary could be sent home, a failure before she is 10.

Michigan, with corrective institutions crowded with people who never found a proper place in society, knows the implications of such failure.

It has some 12,000 in custodial homes—and some 1,000 on waiting lists—who need constant care. It offers a public school program for retarded children capable of learning.

* * *

But money, parents, community education and matters of general policy all play a part. And they add up to some complex problems.

Tomorrow: What do schools offer? Where can parents find help?

Grain Futures Rise Sharply

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures worked sharply higher again today with all prices up another cent or more in early transactions on the Board of Trade. The gains brought the total for some contracts to about 10 cents a bushel for some nearby contracts over the past two weeks.

Wheat also was strong, oats and rye steady to firm, corn easier. Sharply increased cash corn receipts over the weekend caused heavier hedging and demand slackened somewhat, too, on forecasts of more favorable harvesting weather.

The Department of Agriculture cleared almost a million bushels of corn for export on subsidy bids of 3 to 4 cents for a bushel, most of it for shipment during November and December. It was the sixth consecutive trading day of subsidy acceptances.

Wheat was ¾ to 1⅛ cent a bushel higher near the end of the first hour, December $2.00¾; corn unchanged 59½ lower, December $1.12¾; oats ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, December 76⅜; rye ¼ to ¾ higher, December $1.35; soybeans ½ to 1⅛ higher, November $2.23¾.

32 Climbers Safe in Himalayan Trek

KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI) — The Nepal Government announced today that 32 members of a Japanese mountain-climbing team feared killed in an avalanche actually "are safe and are returning to Katmandu shortly."

The team members were reported en route to this capital city of Nepal with all members in good condition.

The 32 climbers were reported missing while trying to scale the sheer slopes of 23,440-foot Gauri Sankar peak west of Mount Everest in the Himalayas on the Nepal-Tibet border.

If they had been buried under an avalanche, as feared, it would have been the worst tragedy in the history of mountain-climbing in the primitive Himalayas.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market celebrated the resumption of work at the steel mills today with a vigorous advance. Gains were trimmed in quiet trading early this afternoon.

Key stocks held advance of fractions to more than a point while more volatile issues were up 3 to 5 points.

The ticker tape was as much as three minutes behind transactions for a 37-minute period when the buying wave was at its height.

The Supreme Court's action over the weekend in sending the Steelworkers back to the mills for an 80-day cool-off period brought a rush of buying to the steels, rails and motors.

★ ★ ★

Rails, which have been lagging behind industrials in recent sessions, made an especially strong recovery.

The advance took in most major sections of the list. Losses began to appear after the first enthusiasm wore off and traders took profits.

★ ★ ★

Some professionals were said to have "sold on the news" at the best prices on the theory that the resumption of work under the injunction settled nothing and plenty of trouble lay ahead.

American Motors, which was up around a point at best, erased the gain and showed a net loss of more than 2.

Lukens Steel kept a gain of about 2 and Youngstown Sheet was up more than a point. Jones & Laughlin and Republic Steel held gains of about a point each while U.S. Steel and Bethlehem trimmed their top prices while trading fractionally higher.

New York Central and Southern Pacific remained more than a point higher while most other leading carriers retained advances of from fractions to about a point.

Texas Instruments about halved an initial rise of half a dozen points. Buy orders delayed the openings of Zenith and Motorola. Motorola was up about 5 and Zenith more than 3.

SEN. WILLIAM LANGER

Colorful Senator Succumbs at 73

William Langer Fought Many Battles; Opposed Ike, Benson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William (Wild Bill) Langer (R-ND), a colorful political maverick both as governor and as senator, is dead at 73.

He spent 45 turbulent years in politics, the last 19 of them in the Senate.

Langer died in his sleep of heart failure Sunday at his home. He had been ailing since his wife, Lydia, died of cancer Aug. 4. He recently spent three weeks in a hospital with pneumonia.

★ ★ ★

Langer steered a safe course through many a political whirlwind. In 1934 he easily won nomination for re-election as governor of North Dakota although he was under a federal indictment for conspiracy. Eventually he was acquitted.

Only last year he won re-election —without making a single campaign speech—in spite of the opposition of his own state Republican organization.

★ ★ ★

In the Senate Langer voted against the Eisenhower administration more often than with it. He opposed Eisenhower's foreign policy. Anything proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson was almost sure to bring Langer's opposition.

Langer was an orator of the old school, who emphasized his words with windmill gestures and much banging on the desk. His trademark was a cigar forever clamped in his mouth. He never lit one.

★ ★ ★

His sense of humor could be disconcerting. Once, while Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind) was making a Senate speech, Langer lounged in a chair in front of him. He began plucking cigars from Capehart's breast pocket.

The struggle was inequal. Capehart faltered, lost the thread of his speech and finally just sat down.

LEONARD L. LECLERC

Press Carrier Collects Stamps (and Coinage)

For the past 18 months Leonard L. LeClerc has been delivering the Pontiac Press to subscribers in Washington, northwest of Pontiac.

Chances are that when he isn't in school or at work on his route, the 14-year-old carrier is counting his money or his stamps.

★ ★ ★

The earnings from his route — have enabled Leonard to buy a bike and his own clothing and to start saving toward future education.

Since he is a stamp collector by hobby, his earnings have helped expand his collection, too, but whether he'd rather count money or stamps he won't say.

Leonard, who lives at 56710 Van Dyke Rd., Washington, is a student at Romeo Junior High School and plans to go to college.

He was one of 10 Pontiac Press carriers named by the Inland Daily Press Assn. to receive award certificates as outstanding newspaper boys.

Nixon Sees Nomination Battle; In Favor of High-Tone Contest

(Editor's Note: How does Vice President Richard M. Nixon view the 1960 presidential race and his chances in it? Following is the first of three exclusive dispatches on Nixon by the Chief of the United Press International Senate staff who has traveled extensively with the vice president.)

By WILLIAM THEIS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and his advisers now expect Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to seek the GOP presidential nomination in 1960. And they're convinced it's the New Yorker's own idea—not that of Thomas E. Dewey or someone else.

Nixon, the clear front-runner, will withhold his own formal announcement as long as possible. That probably means January, the deadline for entering the first-in-the-nation New Hampshire presidential primary.

But the 46-year-old vice president wants to keep any nomination contest on a high plane. He has instructed his supporters not to attack Rockefeller.

Just before leaving for California last week, he told this reporter:

"While it is too early to make a decision on seeking the nomination, my general philosophy is that it is a mistake to run for the nomination and take your eye off the election.

★ ★ ★

"If you're running for the election, you prove yourself worthy of the nomination. And I don't believe in tearing down party opponents. Even taking notice of them, except in a friendly way, is out."

In taking it for granted that Rockefeller has already decided to run, one Nixon aide said, "All the signs point to it. We have to assume that and we've assumed from the start there would be a fight for the nomination."

That belief was strengthened by Rockefeller's current speaking trip to Nixon's home state of California. It was beefed up further last week by Rockefeller's hiring of speech writer Hugh Morrow from the staff of Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY). Morrow, a former newsman and magazine writer, worked in the campaign for Keating when he was Rockefeller's running mate last year.

PUSHES SELF

The Nixon camp believes even more strongly that it is Rockefeller, rather than former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey or GOP state chairman Judson Morhouse, who is "pushing" the Rockefeller cause. The Nixon people base this on reports of personal political contacts made by the governor in his own behalf.

Nixon's overworked staff looks with envy on the manpower and money resources available to the multi-millionaire governor.

Still lacking a campaign headquarters, the vice presidential office force has had to carry the rising work load that accompanies an approaching political contest, Nixon, despite his $45,000 a year in federal pay, is not a wealthy man.

His office emphasizes that he accepts no fees for his many public speeches. Any honorariums that come along in spite of this rule are automatically relayed to some charity. The most recent have gone to a fund for the John Foster Dulles Memorial Library at Princeton University.

★ ★ ★

Nixonites still remember with mixed emotions the 1952 "expense fund" disclosure, which remains the basis for some anti-Nixon feeling.

Nixon went on television in mid-campaign and confirmed that a group of home state businessmen had chipped in more than $16,000 to help pay his political expenses as a senator.

His dramatic explanation that he used none of the money for himself turned what appeared to be a catastrophe into a campaign success.

For the Nixon of 1959-60, the "poor man" picture is still effective.

Nixon backers note that, except for Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), Nixon is the only presidential contender in either party who is "not a millionaire or close to it." They include Rockefeller, whose $100 million personal fortune tops the list, and Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), Stuart Symington (D-Mo) and Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), the Senate majority leader.

Nixon is known to feel that Kennedy would prefer Rockefeller as his opponent on the theory that this would wash out the "great wealth" handicap for the young senator.

'CAN'T STAY OUT'

What will the vice president do about the primaries?

His friends are telling him he "can't stay out" of the New Hampshire contest. Unless local GOP leaders work out some favorite son compromise, it now looks as if a Nixon-Rockefeller showdown is coming March 8.

There is a larger problem involved for the vice president, though. He feels he must balance his time carefully between any primary campaigning and attention to legislative business in Washington.

"The first six months of 1960 will write the record of the Eisenhower administration for the election campaign," he told a friend recently.

His reasoning is that although that record does not affect the nomination directly, "we could win or lose the election in those six months." Again, Nixon's eye is on the election.

Besides, what happens in the primaries is somewhat up to Rockefeller. As the man who must come from behind, he'll have to make his move, the Nixon leaders contend.

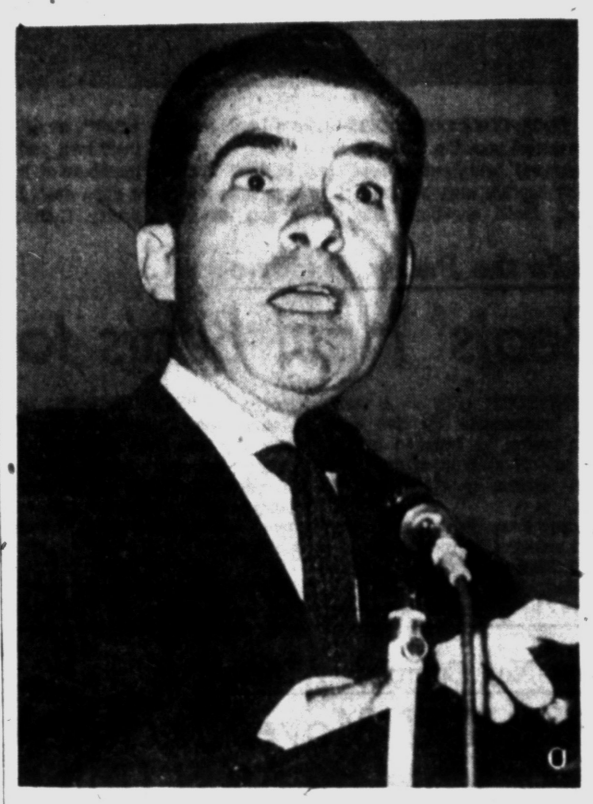

Most political observers agree that Nixon need not strain at this stage. An expert on pacing himself for a campaign, the vice president underscored his reluctance to jump early when he arrived in California last week.

"Once a man is a candidate his ability to handle a public office is seriously circumscribed," he said. He added that "it is generally believed difficult to sustain a campaign over a long period."

Nixon's relations with Rockefeller remain cordial, with apparent mutual respect. Each man has made it clear he wouldn't consider second place on the other's ticket. But both appear to have a genuine interest in avoiding a party-shattering fight.

Anything could happen.

(Tomorrow: What Nixon thinks about the 1960 issues.)

LONG TRAIL NEARS — Probably sometime before January Vice President Richard Nixon will formally announce his candidacy for the GOP nomination for President of the United States. Being in the front-running position, he can hardly avoid a battle in the New Hampshire primary. The filing deadline for the election is in January.

Compact Engine Evolves in Area

Walled Lake Company Develops Gas Turbine Size of Breadbox

Williams Research Corp. of Walled Lake today announced development of a compact, medium-horsepower gas turbine engine about the size of a breadbox.

★ ★ ★

Sam Williams, research engineer who heads the company on W. Maple road, said the turbine, using a heat-exchange principle, was developed at a cost of a million dollars.

It weighs about a pound per horsepower. Williams said this is one-third the weight per horsepower of other gas turbines with heat exchangers. He said a 75-horsepower prototype has been run successfully in a boat on the Detroit River.

"The turbine has immediate automotive, aviation and stationary applications in addition to the marine use," said Williams, a former Chrysler engineer who started his own research business five years ago.

MASS PRODUCTION USED

"The production cost of small turbine engines has heretofore limited their use to military applications. This engine was designed for manufacture by existing mass-production methods, making it competitive with medium-priced reciprocating engines.

"This gas turbine could easily be the answer for the small type cars now being produced by the American auto industry."

Williams said the turbine can be run on kerosene, aviation jet fuel, marine or automotive diesel fuels and gasoline.

★ ★ ★

"Simply stated," said Williams, "this turbine employs a new type of heat exchanger which uses the exhaust heat, normally wasted, by reintroducing it into the engine to make more efficient use of fuel.

In effect, the engine is partially powered by its own waste. The ultimate exhaust is cool enough to touch with the bare hand."

Oakland Teens Hurt in Commerce Smashup

Two Oakland County teen-agers were injured in a two-car smash-up Sunday night on Benstein road north of Chasteen street, in Commerce Township.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies identified the girls as Beth J. Schultz, 19, of 3492 Edgewood Dr., Commerce Township, the driver, and Marcene Schnitker, 19, of 9831 Crayview St., White Lake Township.

Both were treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released. Deputies said their auto smashed into a parked car occupied by Raymond Profitt, 24, of 3048 W. Maple Rd., Wixom. Profitt was parked in the roadway with no lights on, said deputies.

Cy Owens Planning Move to Oakland Avenue Site

An established local Ford dealer, Cy Owens, Inc., has taken the first step in a move to a new location.

Owens said he was expecting to complete purchase of more than 111,000 square feet of land at 630 Oakland Ave. and hopes to have a new building and used car lot on the property for grand opening in May.

Owens' dealership has been at 147 S. Saginaw St. for six years. Two houses and a building which houses Slaybaugh's Sporting Sporting Goods Store stand on the proposed site.

As soon as these structures are vacated, the land will be cleared and a new $200,000 building will be constructed, Owens said. The entire move represents an investment of about $350,000.

PLANNED ABOUT YEAR

In the planning stages for about a year, the new showroom and service department will offer much more space and the most modern conveniences, he said.

"The showroom will be three times larger than our present one and our service department will be able to handle a much larger volume as well as stock more car and truck parts," Owens said.

"We also will have parking space for 300 to 400 cars."

The showroom and service department together will have an estimated 25,000 square feet of floor space. A new used car lot adjacent to the building will hold some 125 cars as compared to the present 60-car lot.

Reuther Urges Union Offensive

Accuses Business, GOP, Southern Dems of Drive to Crush Labor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Auto workers President Walter Reuther called today for a new union offensive against work speedups and punitive legislation to prevent threatened "extinction" of industrial unions.

The union chief accused big business of joining forces with conservative Republicans and southern Democrats in Congress in a drive to crush organized labor.

"The antilabor coalition has as its objective the atomization of the American labor movement through destruction of effective national and international unions," Reuther said.

"Big business is greeting today's new industrial revolution with an attempt to restore the speedup in industry. We cannot and we will not permit this to happen," he added.

★ ★ ★

Reuther made the statements in a report to the third biennial convention of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department (IUD). About 400 delegates representing more than seven million members in 68 unions were expected Monday at the opening session of the two-day meeting.

Reuther also is president of the IUD, which consists mainly of the old CIO unions now in the merged federation.

The UAW chief also urged increased political activity by union members in the north and west to "get liberals nominated and elected."

COOL COPS COP BEATS—Like a herd, man, an uncool roundup. Gaze at these gumshoes getting beat beats out of cops' pad in New York. This captive audience had to answer questions, Dad, multi questions, like, "Are you on the junk?" Man, these lawmen beat the beats in their own pad. 'Beats' Haul Beats to Cool Pad

NEW YORK (AP) — A month-long masquerade by five detectives posing as bearded beatniks has set off a chain of dope raids from Harlem to Greenwich Village.

More than 100 persons have been arrested. Narcotics valued at one million dollars have been confiscated.

The beret - clad cops took such cool names as "Gorgeous George," "The Sailor" and "Jamie the Queer" to shuffle their way into beat circles.

They walloped bongo drums. They donned sandals and attended poetry-reading parties. One of them even wrote a poem, "Junkie's Woe."

★ ★ ★

They climaxed the plot by inviting a few of their new pals to a big party. The astonished guests learned on arriving early Sunday that the address they had been given was a Greenwich Village police station. Their arrest set off a chain of raids that involved 140 narcotics squad police.

STOMP IT UP

Some of the beatniks couldn't have cared less. One upended a wastebasket and beat out a rhythm. One sketched the cop who arrested him with horns above his ears. The others chanted and stomped their feet.

Bill Bailey, Negro tap dancing brother of singer-actress Pearl Bailey, was nabbed in a Harlem hotel room, where police said they found a deck of cocaine.

★ ★ ★

Others arrested included an assortment of village characters, an engineering student at New York University, a symphonic kettle drummer, a homeless artist and James (Foots) Stewart, tabbed by police as the chief Harlem dope wholesaler. Stewart, a meek-appearing little man with size 13 feet, feeds pigeons in a park between dope sales, police said.

One detective said he made an arrest while driving a car with a beatnik. The cop said he told the man he was afraid he might be arrested because he had a large quantity of dope in the trunk.

★ ★ ★

"Man, you don't have to be worried about the fuzzniks (beat talk for cops," the passenger assured him. "Why, I've got a whole pocketful of pot (dope), and you don't see me worrying, do you?"

"Start worrying, cat," said the detective." Like you're arrested."

Law Not Completely Upheld

Next T-H Moves Include New Vote by Steel Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — The only section of the Taft-Hartley Law involved in Saturday's Supreme Court decision in the steel strike provides for an 80-day back-to-work cooling off injunction.

The steel strike dispute was the first time the high tribunal was ever called upon to rule on the provision, section 208 of the T-H. It provides for an injunction when a strike affects an entire industry or a substantial part of it and its continuation would imperil the national health or safety.

Various other phases of the Taft-Hartley have been challenged since it was enacted in 1947. All other major provisions of the act so far have been upheld.

The emergency provisions of the law have been invoked 15 times. Each time a court has issued an injunction when the government requested it. The most recent occasion before the steel strike was halting the East-Gulf Coast dock strike earlier in October.

MUST SEEK SETTLEMENT

While the Steelworkers are back on the jobs for at least 80 days, both sides must continue to seek settlement, with the help of the National Mediation and Conciliation Service. The presidential fact-finding board appointed to deal with the strike, although not required to do so, sometimes has acted to mediate and in some cases has succeeded in gaining a settlement.

Sixty days after the injunction is issued, the fact-findng board reports to the Presdent on the position of the parties, including management's latest offer.

In the next 15 days the National Labor Relations Board takes a secret ballot of the employes on this last offer.

If the employes vote to accept the offer, they continue to work under the new contract. If they reject it, they can resume the strike. The injunction cannot be reimposed in any one strike.

The President is authorized to make a full report to Congress on the entire proceedings, including the findings of the fact-finding board, the results of the secret ballot, and any recommendations he may want to make for legislation.

Supreme Court Sidesteps Question

Should Strike Endanger Welfare?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has ended the steel strike for 80 days but has left unanswered a basic question: should a union-industry dispute in the form of a strike be permitted to endanger the national welfare?

★ ★ ★

Proposals for toughening the law against such a strike are piling up. Congress is apt to ignore them in the 1960 election year unless the strike resumes at the end of 80 days. If that happens, watch out.

The 1947 Taft-Hartley labor act opens with a policy statement which says its purpose is to protect the "rights of the public in connection with labor disputes" which "affect commerce" and endanger the "general welfare."

That sounds broad. But later, in the section authorizing the government to get an injunction against an industry-wide strike, the law says this should be granted only if the strike imperils "national health and safety."

Note that it doesn't say anything about a strike that imperils the general welfare, which would include the economic well-being of the country. The economy already has been hit by the steel strike.

In asking a federal court for an injunction in the steel istrike, the government argued it was needed to protect "national health and safety." To show what it meant by "safety,", the government pointed out how steel shortages injure missile and space programs and nuclear submarine building.

As for that vague word — "health"—the government said it meant economic well-being.

The union argued that national safety wasn't really in danger since only one per cent of all steel production is needed for defense. As for "health," the union argued this word strictly meant physical health, not economic health.

The court said it wouldn't—because in this case it didn't have to — give a ruling on the meaning of "national health." The court said it was satisfied "safety" was endangered and therefore the injunction was necessary.

So this case did not settle the question: has the government a right to an injunction to protect the general welfare or economic well-being of the country from a strike.

Urges Merchants Reply to Demand for Culture

NEW YORK (AP) — Merchants must awaken to the cultural explosion that is raising their customers' tastes, a retail industry executive said today.

"A customer doesn't ask for 'a green painting to go with my walls' these days," said Edward F. Engle, manager of the National Retail Merchants Assn. sales promotion division.

"The customer knows what is artistictally correct. In many senses, the people are ahead of the retailers."

The American public's "surging interest in creative fulfillment" demands that department stores take steps to satisfy their desires, he declared.

Discussing in an interview this developing interest in the arts, Engle said there are 5,000 community theaters, 700 opera producing groups and 1,100 symphony orchestras in the United States. Book stores' sales of reproductions of famous paintings and sculptures are "running away," he said.

★ ★ ★

What should major retailers do to satisfy these new wants of their customers?

"There are several levels where they can act," Engle said.

"On the lowest — the cash level — they should install or expand departments handling items in the cultural fields. Whole sections devoted to art books would be good.

"Reproductions of paintings and sculptures should be featured. A few pioneering stores have found sales of these exceptional.

"Then there is the higher and more important level. Usually, top executives of major stores are active in community affairs but only a handful have transferred their interest to cultural affairs. If store heads have not been active, volunteering to serve on boards of directors of cultural organizations, they should do so."

★ ★ ★

There are many other ways in which merchants can support the artistic activities of their cities, Engle said. He mentioned as examples the use of window displays and advertisements to salute the opening of the symphony season and of exhibits.

Waterford Man, 21, Shoots Brother, 23

A Waterford Township man was shot by his brother early Sunday morning as a result of a family quarrel.

★ ★ ★

Larry Robinson Jr., 21, of 6981 Mather Rd., Waterford Township, was arrested for investigation of assault with intent to do great bodily harm in the shooting of his brother, Jack, 23, in the back at 2 a.m. Sunday at the family home at 431 S. Hospital Rd.

The father of the brothers, Larry Robinson, took his wounded son to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment of a flesh wound. He was released.

★ ★ ★

Police said Larry Jr. also had a fistfight with his father before the shooting.

Let's Withdraw, China Suggests

Asks India to Join in Pulling 12½ Miles Back From Border

LONDON (AP) — Communist China has proposed to India that the armed forces of both countries immediately withdraw 12½ miles from their disputed border.

The Chinese proposal was announced by the official New China News Agency and broadcast by Peiping radio.

★ ★ ★

Premier Chou En-lai made the proposal in a note delivered in New Delhi Sunday to Prime Minister Nehru. Chou also proposed that he and Nehru meet in the immediate future to discuss relations between their two governments.

There was no immediate reaction from Nehru who, after the note's arrival, met until midnight with his Cabinet defense committee and the Army chief of staff, Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya.

Peiping's note was delivered to the Indian Foreign Office a few hours after India made public a sharp message sent Red China six days ago accusing the Communists again of aggression.

★ ★ ★

Chou's note proposed that the two sides still maintain civil administrative personnel and unarmed police there.

But the Chinese Premier warned that if an appropriate solution is not worked out, clashes on the border may occur again.

Sudan Will Get Most Saved Nile Water

CAIRO (AP) — Sudan will get the largest share of an estimated 22 billion cubic meters of water to be saved annually by construction of the Aswan Dam across the Nile.

Talks which began here early in October concluded Sunday with signing of an agreement. Sudan will get 14½ billion cubic meters and the United Arab Republic's Egyptian province will get 7½ billion. The water now flows into the Mediterranean.

Egypt will still get the bulk of the Nile's annual 84-billion-cubic-meter regular flow.

The U.A.R. last week agreed to pay Sudan for Sudanese lands in the Wadi Halfa area which will be flooded by the dam.

Dag Will Visit Laos to See for Himself

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold leaves Tuesday to visit Laos and to learn first-hand about the Indochinese kingdom's troubles with Communist rebels.

★ ★ ★

He plans to return toward the end of next week. Diplomatic sources said he might leave a representative to supply further information. This would give Laos a "U. N. presence" for an indefinite time.

★ ★ ★

In a Washington TV interview two weeks ago, Laotian Premier Phoui Sananikone said he thought such a presence would keep the rebels inactive.

Children, Matches Bring $2,200 Waterford Fire

Small children playing with matches caused $2,200 damage at 5 p.m. Saturday, according to Waterford Township firemen.

The blaze started in a bedroom of the one-story frame house of G. A. Rodrigues, 929 Lakeview Ave., and spread to the hall and dining room. Firemen fought the blaze over an hour.

Indicted '21' TV Producer Perjured to Protect Others

ALBERT FREEDMAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Albert Freedman, indicted for perjury because he denied that the TV quiz show "Twenty-One" was rigged, says he wanted to "protect the private lives of the many wonderful people who were contestants on the show."

"I felt that I had the same relationship to them as the doctor to his patient, as the newspaperman to his news source or the lawyer to his client," Freedman said in a statement given the New York Times in Mexico City, where he is now working as a TV producer.

★ ★ ★

Freedman defended "Twenty-One" and quiz shows in general as "a breath of fresh air" compared with the murder and violence that saturated television.

"There were times when a certain amount of control was necessary to sustain interest and suspense," he said.

"The quiz shows have been accused of perpetrating a fraud and deception on the public. I do not agree with that accusation. The entertainment field, from time immemorial, has been based on showmanship, spectacle and illusion. The only function of entertainment is to entertain.

★ ★ ★

"Everyone knows that the magician doesn't saw the lady in half —that movies supposedly filmed in Egypt are actually shot in Hollywood studios.

"Is it any surprise to the movie audience that the stunt men usually do the risky scenes for the Hollywood glamor men?

"Is it any great shock to learn that important national figures generally hire ghost writers to write their speeches, and in many instances even to write their books?

★ ★ ★

"In this context, it is quite obvious why I denied certain conditions of quiz show production. I did it, not only because I spent many years in the field of entertainment, but mainly to protect the private lives of the many wonderful people who were contestants on the show."

Capsule Catch Muffed Again

Power Failure Snags Ejection System; Short Life Seen for Satellite

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., (AP) — For the sixth time, something has gone wrong in the Air Force plan to make a flying catch of a space package over the Pacific.

★ ★ ★

The Discoverer VII satellite, launched here Saturday, was supposed to eject a heavily instrumented capsule Sunday after circling the earth 17 times. Planes equipped with trapeze-like catching devices were set to take off from Hawaii and try to snatch the 300-pound capsule as it came down on a parachute.

★ ★ ★

Discoverer VII achieved orbit, but the Air Force said power failure occurred in the electrical supply system that was to eject the capsule.

The Air Force also said the satellite was tumbling through space instead of following an even course. It is expected to remain in orbit only about two weeks.

★ ★ ★

Six of the seven Discoverers have been equipped with capsules. Two of the satellites failed to go into orbit and one ejected its capsule in the wrong place. Capsules in the other two satellites failed to send out radio signals, so were never recovered.

Such capsules are expected to carry animals aloft later in the Discoverer series.

Minneapolis-St. Paul Is Hit by Bus Strike

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A bus drivers' strike today left the Minneapolis-St. Paul metropolitan area of a million persons without public transportation for the first time in 25 years.

Negotiations between the Twin City Rapid Transit Co. and Transit Employes Division 1005, representing the firm's 1,260 drivers, mechanics and clerks, folded shortly after midnight and the workers struck at 4 A.M.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of persons stranded by the strike joined car pools reminiscent of the war days. Thousands of others walked to work or took their chances of locating taxicabs.

Extra police details were placed on duty to handle the flood of auto traffic. Parking lots at the city-operated parade stadium on the fringe of the Minneapolis downtown area were thrown open.

Will Leave Arundel Castle

Taxes Drive Out Duke

LONDON (AP) — The tax collector is driving the rich Duke of Norfolk out of historic Arundel Castle, which the duke is forbidden by law from selling or giving away. He says it costs $35,000 a year — too much — to run the ancient baronial mansion as a home, and "the moment has arrived to save some of the money for which at present we see no return."

★ ★ ★

With the duchess and their four daughters, England's premier nobleman will take up residence next fall in what he describes as "a small house" he's building on the castle's estate in Sussex. It will have only 12 bedrooms.

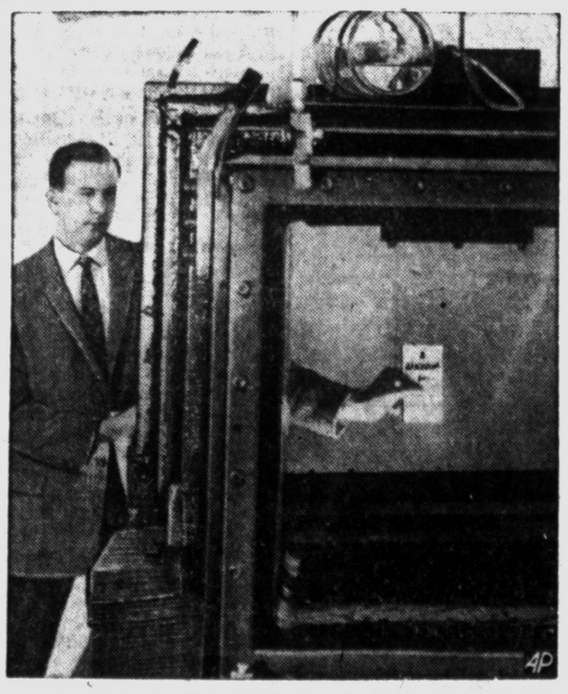

Arundel Castle, built nine centuries ago as a fortress in the time of William the Conqueror, will remain as a showpiece among England's stately homes, however.

The duke, who is in the 90 per cent tax bracket, says he will open it again next summer to tourists for a two-shilling—28 cents — admission fee.

★ ★ ★

The Norfolks got the castle, overlooking the River Arun, in 1581 and were bound by an act of Parliament against ever selling or giving it away.

Two years ago the duke offered to deed Arundel to the government — as long as he could still live there — but opposition developed in the House of Commons against letting him shed his burden.

Will Build Pipeline for Canadian Gas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Midwestern Gas Transmission Co. expects to begin laying pipe next spring to provide the first Canadian natural gas to Northern Central states for the 1960-61 heating season.

A spokesman for Midwestern said there is every indication that Canada will grant the necessary license to export 204 million cubic feet of gas daily for use in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and North Dakota.

The Federal Power Commission on Oct. 31 authorized Midwestern to build a $52,277,000 pipeline system to bring in the gas provided Canada approves its export and Midwestern files with the FPC satisfactory rates and details of its plan to finance the proposed pipeline.

Midwestern has a contract to buy the gas from Trans-Canada Pipelines, Ltd. and plans to build a 504 mile long 24-inch line from the Canadian border to Marshfield, Wis.

Resume Search for Plane of Castro Pal in Florida

MIAMI (UPI) — Air Force and Civil Air Patrol planes were to resume an aerial search of the Everglades today for missing Cuban army Commander Camilo Cienfuegos.

Some 31 CAP planes and an Air Force amphibian flew low over the swamps yesterday but failed to spot any sign of the missing soldier's small aircraft.

The Cuban government asked for the search Saturday after a ship captain reported seeing Cinefuegos' plane heading toward South Florida 10 days ago.

Waterford Police Wreck Vandals' Smear Effort

Vandals in Waterford Township were foiled in an attempt to ruin the outside of a trailer owned by Joseph Filka, 2922 Rowen St., at 2 a. m. today.

Police on routine duty noticed the trailer parked in front of the Filka home had a large quantity of white paint smeared all over one side and a window.

Upon investigating police found the paint still wet and aroused Filka before it had a chance to dry.

Doomed Cancer Victim Eats Way Back to Life

BREMERTON, Wash. (UPI) — Joseph W. Mayerle, given up to die seven months ago, today was looking for work and doctors were hoping that he may be a living cure for cancer.

Seven months ago the 37-year-old ex-bartender walked out of Seattle's Veterans Hospital after doctors had told him they couldn't do anything to save his life.

★ ★ ★

An exploratory operation showed his lungs were shot-through with cancer.

He weighed 126 pounds. He had only a few weeks to live, doctors told him.

As he cheerfully chopped wood yesterday, Mayerle said "I can break a leather belt around my chest right now." He weighs 158 pounds.

DOCTOR SHOCKED

Three months after being told he would die, Mayerle walked into his doctor's office, rosy-cheeked and bubbling health.

"When my physician saw me enter his office, he turned white as a ghost," Mayerle recalled.

"I had just been home a few days after they told me I'd die, when John Foster Dulles died of cancer," Mayerle said.

"I read that some doctor said people never died with cancer, but died of starvation because they couldn't eat.

"I decided I wouldn't die of starvation, so I forced myself, and the wife and kids kept at me, to eat, keep my stomach full."

Mayerle said he followed no diet, just ate what he wanted to.

GROCERIES MORE, BUT . . .

"We paid a little more for groceries than we would have ordinarily," he said. "But then, I guess we figured it was worth it."

Mayerle, who said he smokes cigarettes regularly now, and has smoked a pack and a half daily since he was 17, is hoping to find work to support his wife and three children. His third youngster was born just four weeks ago.

Doctors hope Mayerle may be a walking cure for cancer. They were unable to explain his recovery.

Examinations at the hospital two months ago showed his lungs completely free of any malignancy.

A pint of Mayerle's blood will be used with another cancer victim soon to discern whether a cure is possible.

Physicians said there are only about 40 known cases where cancer has disappeared after being judged hopeless.

Dem Delegates Could Become Literal Lobbyists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler has told state party organizations to pay up their campaign contribution quotas or face poorer accommodations at the 1960 convention.

★ ★ ★

Butler issued a list of slow payers Saturday, and said 30 states and territories had paid nothing on their 1959 quotas.

State delegations to the Los Angeles convention will be seated and assigned hotel accommodations, he said, on the basis of their states' record of financial support of the national committee during 1957, 1958, 1959 and up to April 1960.

African Tribes Fighting Bitter Spear Battle

BRUSSELS, Belgium, (UPI) — Bitter fighting with bows and arrows and spears has broken out in the Belgian Congo between the seven-foot-tall Watutsi warriors and the Bahutu tribesmen they have kept in virtual slavery, reports from the area said today.

★ ★ ★

The fighting is in the Belgian trusteeship territory of Rtiandaurundi in East Central Africa, governed by Belgium as part of the Belgian Congo. The reports said 40 tribesmen were killed in one clash near Rubengara, a town 200 miles north of the capital of Usumbura.

★ ★ ★

The Watutsis, the tallest race in the world, are among the best spearmen and bowmen left in Africa. But the average-size Bahutus who have done the Watutsis' work as serfs, now number about 4,000,000 and outnumber their masters 16 to 1.

Tragic Mistake Leads to Death of Girl, 15

NEW YORK (AP)—Susan Rosenfeld, 15, was going home from a date with a boy her parents had forbidden her to see. She was 30 minutes past the curfew they had set.

As he and Johnny Balsan, 18, hurried along a street in Astoria, Queens, early Sunday, they thought they saw her father. Susan hung back while Johnny walked ahead. She watched with terror while Johnny started fighting.

★ ★ ★

Panic-striken, she ran into a building.

Johnny found that it was not Louis Rosenfeld, Susan's father, but an unidentified teen-ager with whom Johnny had quarreled earlier, at a dance. After the fight, he found Susan gone and decided she must have run home.

Meanwhile, Mr. and Mrs. Rosenfeld became worried. Rosenfeld sought out Johnny. The two began a search.

★ ★ ★

About nine hours later, police informed them Susan had been found.

Her body lay crumpled in a courtyard below the five-story building into which she had run. Police said she plunged from the building's roof. They called it an apparent suicide.

U.S. and Russia to Duel in India

It'll Be a Propaganda Battle at New Delhi Agriculture Show

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Soviet Russia soon will lock horns again in a propaganda battle — in a show-case being set up in the Orient.

★ ★ ★

Each will be trying to convince millions in Asia that its respective way of life is superior as far as food and agriculture are concerned.

The setting will be the first world agriculture fair to be held in New Delhi, India, Dec. 11 to Feb. 14. With 16 countries participating, the fair will be the biggest ever held in Asia.

President Eisenhower announced Wednesday he will be on hand in New Delhi to help open the American exhibit, thereby focusing special attention on it.

SEE RED ADVANTAGE

U.S. officials are confident that this country's exhibit, which will cost two million dollars, will be a hit. But they acknowledge that the Soviets have an advantage.

The Russians know what the American exhibit will be like. Conversely, nothing is known in this country about the Russian exhibit.

Great importance is being attached by officials to the New Delhi fair.

★ ★ ★

The event is being held at a time when communism is on the march in the Far East and when influence of the democracies is being threatened in many areas.

It is being staged at a time when the peoples of the Orient are rising to demand better living and economic standards.

The attention of these peoples is being attracted by promises and progress being made by Communist rulers of both Russia and Red China.

Strike Hits Merged Columbus Paper

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus, a city with three daily newspapers until Sunday when a consolidation reduced it to two, faced the possibility today of reading just one temporarily.

The first press runs of the new morning paper, the Citizen-Journal, came off Sunday night, less than 24 hours after it was announced that the afternoon-Sunday Columbus Citizen and the morning Ohio State Journal were combining.

★ ★ ★

But hours after the early editions should have hit the street, none had been circulated.

A statement late Sunday night by the Dispatch Printing Co. said the Citizen-Journal was not being circulated due to a wildcat strike of the Columbus Mailer's Union.

★ ★ ★

The combination moved the Citizen's editorial staff into the offices in the Dispatch building heretofore used by the Ohio State Journal editorial department. The editorial policies of the new newspaper will continue to be those of Scripps-Howard Newspapers, which published the Citizen and continues in control editorially.

All other functions — printing, distribution, advertising and business management — will be carried out by the Dispatch Printing Co. That throws an undisclosed number of Citizen employes out of work as the Citizen plant closes down.

★ ★ ★

Mounting production costs was the dominant reason for the consolidation, which involves no change in ownership of the two newspapers involved.

SIX DAYS IN DARKNESS — Wilma Sanson, a graduate student at the University of Manitoba, was the first woman to undergo Canada's space research experiments. For six full days she was confined in a isolated chamber with only telephone contact to the outside world. She did not suffer hallucinations during the experiment as did four men who underwent the test before her.

But Odds Great Against Dem Nod

No Man Tries Like Humphrey

(Editor's note: Presidential politics is away to an unprecedented early start. Candidates whirl about the land. The Associated Press has been looking over and analyzing this abundant crop. Here Arthur Edson, who in his 15 years on the Washington staff has kept a lively, questioning eye on politicians, makes his report on his travels with Sen. Hubert Humphrey.)

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Officially the temperature was 13 degrees, but a fierce wind kicked up the snow, swirled it across the unprotected airport and made it seem far colder.

The hatless man in the salt and pepper overcoast, his high forehead a brilliant pink, ran full speed across the snow and ice toward the waiting plane.

This reporter, skittering alongside managed to ask; "It is always like this?"

"Yes," said Sen. Herbert H. Humphrey (D-Minn). As usual, he was the last man up the ramp, arriving seconds before the plane took off.

This scene coldly illustrates what Humphrey is up against in his effort to convince Democrats he is their logical choice for the presidential nomination at their Los Angeles convention next summer.

Since he's short on money, he has to run pretty much on his own.

The political climate also can be frigid and forbidding.

But no one is running or trying harder than Hubert Horatio Humphrey Jr., 48.

He knows the odds he faces. They're impressed upon him almost every moment of his day.

★ ★ ★

It's no accident that nearly everyone else who is making much of a preseason stir either is well heeled or has well heeled friends fathers.

"It takes a lot of money," Humphrey says. He reads with envy the stories about, say, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) traveling in a chartered plane, preceded by publicity men beating drums to herald his coming.

Humphrey has been traveling with one man, Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag of Minnesota, on regularly scheduled flights, which often means getting up early or leaving at inappropriate times.

One can stumble on the two of them, long before sunup, struggling with luggage in a cold and cheerless hotel corridor.

On this Humphrey is philosophical. "I don't need any personal valet," he says. "I can hang up my own suit." But he looks around the little feeder line plane, gamely fighting its way through harsh Dakota weather, and says wistfully: "Man, wouldn't I like to be able to charter this baby!"

Brazilian Star Laments Loss of U. S. Prestige

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Down in Brazil, they had a funny kind of a quiz show—it wasn't fixed.

★ ★ ★

"We had 'The $64,000 Question' there," said the shapely blonde singing star, Rosina Pagan, "but nobody ever won that much — it was on the level.

WILSON

"Nobody," Rosina told me, "ever got past the third question. We felt so ashamed of our stupidity, because up here in the United States everybody was so brilliant. We had always though the Americans weren't very cultured — but suddenly your shoemakers, bandleaders, preachers, English teachers and jockeys seemed to know everything about everything. They stayed on for weeks and weeks. We realized we were wrong about the American intelligence.

"'Ah, this proves how dumb we really are,' we said to ourselves.

"The harm that the TV scandal has done to this country is nothing to what it's done to American prestige in other countries," Miss Pagan continued. "Can you imagine what Russia'll say? It makes me very sad. I wish all those geniuses had got away with their lies for the good of America's reputation.

Russia has already been heard from. Told that headlines here were screaming. "Fix Discovered," Khrushchev ordered his press dept. to announce, "Russia Invented Fix and Baizeboll the same year."

★ ★ ★

Xavier Cugat's press agent Mal Braveman says it was this way: "The Saturday afternoon before Coogie was to go on '$64,000 Challenge,' he said he must have the questions in advance or wouldn't appear. He said, "I don't even know who worte 'The Star Spangled Banner,' and as far as I know, Irving Berlin was born in Lindy's.' I phoned the producing company and was connected with Mert Koplin, who listened and then said, 'Can I speak to Cugat alone? I gave him Cugat's private number. Later that day I talked to Cugat. He said, 'It's all right. He's coming over here at 6 o'clock.' Next night Cugat was on the program. I assumed when they met that Cugat wasn't giving him rumba lessons."

NBC Leaps Up Further, Puts Murder Into Space

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—While some TV shows are content to deal with the mechanics of getting into outer space and automating life on earth, NBC-TV's Sunday Showcase took the next logical step.

★ ★ ★

It presented an interesting philosophical essay, with dramatic trimmings, called "Murder and the Android," by Alfred Bester.

It might have been subtitled: "Whither Space Man?" for it dealt with the decadence of man as he forgets how to give love, kindness, service or knowledge, and lives only to absorb pleasures.

★ ★ ★

This developed with the creation of androids, laboratory-produced, chemically-created "men" who obey orders and are perfect servants.

★ ★ ★

The Bester story dealt with the one android that developed feeling and began killing women.

On a more subtle level, Bester also was dealing with contemporary and future attitudes toward minority groups, I thought, and this gave his story some added oomph.

The play, though short on drama, maintained interest with its futuristic sets by Ted Cooper.

Brendan Behan, the Irish playwright who makes our own Dean Martin look like Pat Boone, proclaimed the art of conversation long dead on CBS-TV's Small World last night and, after some boisterous barroom-style singing, vanished from the show during the middle commercial.

Jackie Gleason, who stayed on with John Mason Brown, explained that Behan had fallen victim, not to an act of God, but "an act of Guinness."

The show was more orderly without Behan. And duller too.

The Jack Benny CBS-TV special Saturday night used those ancient themes—Benny's thrift, his pettiness and high-pitched temperament—for comedy that was often hilarious, inspired, soaring and fresh-looking. It was truly a Jack Benny "special."

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Pianist Van Cliburn has been added to the guest roster for NBC-TV's special honoring the year's top recording artists on Sunday, Nov. 29 . . . Christopher Plummer, Ruth Roman and Don Defore join Mary Astor, Diana Lynn and Gig Young in the NBC-TV adaptation of "The Philadelphia Story," to be seen on Monday, Dec. 7.

"Beat" author Jack Kerouac visits the Steve Allen NBC-TV show on Monday, Nov. 16 . . . Julie London reports that the Jan. 8 CBS-TV Red Skelton show, on which she'll appear, already has been taped.

All Mum on Bradley Settlement Claim

CLEVELAND (AP) — Attorneys for both sides have refused comment on a report that survivors of crewmen who went down in the sinking of the freighter Carl D. Bradley were ready to settle claims for about 1¼ million dollars.

Lawyers for the Bradley Transportation Co. and those representing 36 claimants said Federal Judge Charles J. McNamee of Cleveland "has sworn us to secrecy." They met with the judge late Friday.

The Cleveland News reported Saturday that tentative agreement had been reached to settle the claims, which total $4,750,000.

Thirty-three of the Bradley's 35 crew members lost their lives when the freighter sank in stormy Northern Lake Michigan almost a year ago.

Say Strike Cost 6 Billion Dollars

Steel Production Losses Set at $5,000,000,000; Other Industries Hit

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The 116-day steel strike, longest shutdown in steel history, is estimated to have cost more than six billion dollars in wage and production losses.

Striking workers and the basic steel industry absorbed most of the loss, but other industries allied to steel also felt the effects.

The half-million strikers lost an estimated $1,160,000,000 in wages.

Lost steel production totaled nearly five billion dollars, based on prestrike operations.

More than 350,000 workers in steel-related industries were laid off, resulting in additional wage and production losses in the estimated millions.

Urge Yankus Into Aussie Politics

DOWAGIAC (UPI) — Stanley Yankus, the Michigan wheat farmer who quit the United States in a row with the government over wheat allotment payments, says he has been urged to run for public office in Australia.

★ ★ ★

Yankus, who took his wife and family to the "land down under" earlier this year, reported his impressions of his new life in a letter to Ed Bigelow, Dowagiac Daily News farm editor.

"I left the Declaration of Independence in the United States but I must have swallowed it because my mind revolves around liberty and freedom just like a wheel revolves around an axle," Yankus said.

"Since I have been in Australia I have made eight speeches on the subject of freedom to Apex Clubs, Rotary Clubs, Junior Chamber of Commerces and Agricultural Bureaus," he continued.

"The biggest fallacy in the world is that people believe that they can vote themselves something-for-nothing," he said. "Australia has a lot of socialistic laws and I have been criticizing them publicly in my speeches.

"The Australians seem to be eager to hear what I have to say. Quite a number of Australians suggested that I should run for public office when I become a citizen," he said.

Yankus, who must establish residency in Australia five years to be naturalized, is buying a house now under construction which will cost $12,500. He said he has a job for about $36 a week at Pope Products Ltd. in his adopted hometown of Kirkcaldy in South Australia. He plans to improve his employment when his family is settled in their new home, Yankus said.

★ ★ ★

"My life has been like a lone tree growing in a field," Yankus said. "I think I have been tested by storms that blow from every direction. When a man lives a good honest life he can look any man in the eye and then someone is sure to spit in it."

Ruling Pleases Co-Author

Lauds T-H Decision

ALEXANDRIA TOWNSHIP, N. J. (UP) — Fred A. Hartley Jr., co-author of the Taft-Hartley law, said Saturday he was "indeed pleased" that the U.S. Supreme Court upheld an injunction ordering striking steel workers back to the mills.

Hartley said that in so voting, the court took steelworkers' president David J. McDonald and Arthur Goldberg, attorney for the steelworkers, "off the hook."

"Had the decision gone the other way, the President would have been compelled to ask Congress or new legislation and I cannot imagine their enacting anything more moderate than Taft-Hartley," the former New Jersey congressman said in a statement from his home.

"I am glad the families of the steel workers will have a paycheck at Christmas rather than the prospect of singing 'solidarity' in the union hall," he said.

Hartley retired from Congress in 1949 after serving for more than 20 years. He is now cochairman of the conference of American Small Business Organizations, with an office in Washington.

Ike Appointee Was Ann Arbor Lawyer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Philip McCallum, former Ann Arbor lawyer, has been picked by President Eisenhower to become administrator of the Small Business Administration. He has been general counsel of the agency since 1956.

A White House announcement Saturday said a recess appointment would be made soon. McCallum will succeed Wendell Barnes who resigned this week to go into the investment business.

McCallum is a Republican. He was born in Sault Ste. Marie Nov. 9, 1914, and practiced law in Ann Arbor before entering the government service. He lives in nearby Bethesda, Md.
